Urban League Exec Warns of City Troubles

WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR.

Speaking at the 16th annual dinner meeting of the Pontiac Area Urban League at the Elks Temple last night, Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, warned an audience of more than 600 that "Pontiac has troubles."

Young said housing inadequacies here are as bad as any in the country, and many local schools are segregated to the point that neither white nor Negro children are given the opportunity of togetherness.

"We stand at the crossroads on race relations in this country. What happens to the American Negro?" Young asked.

"We are now in a test of the validity of our way of life."

"Are we a nation of hypocrites? Are we to continue living a lie? Are we going to keep the Negro low man on the totem pole?" Young queried.

dial education to bring the Negro up to so-called American standards.

Leaders of business, industry, education and service clubs were represented at the gathering.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. presented Young with a model Pontiac car and a key to the city. The key was broken.

Young said, "In the South they have given me keys. Then they changed the locks. This is the first time I have received a broken key, though."

Young cited the progress attained by a mixed group of people in producing the atom bomb.

"At no time in history can we point to great accomplishments by only one nationality. Fermi, an Italian, played a part in developing the atom bomb."

"Von Braun was instrumental, along with many others, for the feat."

"We should not exclude the Negro from taking a definite part in the destiny of America, any more than we should shut out any other of the peoples of the world," he continued.

CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE

He dwelt upon civil disobedience in remembering those whites who took part in the Boston Tea Party; Carrie Nation, in her assault on the saloons of the country, and the white women who brought civil disobedience to bear in fighting for equal voting rights for women.

"The Negro is now beginning to study his American history."

"He is now taking a look at the manner in which civil disobedience played a part in the labor movement."

"The Negro is now recalling Patrick Henry's famous words, 'Give me liberty, or give me death.'"

THIN LAYER

MSU Viet Project Said CIA Front

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University was charged today with having provided a front for Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) operations in Viet Nam.

But a spokesman for the university indicated the school was an innocent dupe.

The charge was made in an article in the monthly magazine Ramparts, which added MSU also bought guns and ammunition for security forces during the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem, who later was deposed and slain.

Branding the article as "full of distortion and plain fabrication," an MSU official said the university's Viet Nam project was undertaken merely to provide advice for setting up police organizations and establishing a civil service program.

"We did not knowingly hire any CIA men — and when we found out about their role, we dropped them," said James Denison, director of university relations and assistant to MSU President John Hannah.

GUNS AND AMMO

Denison denied guns and ammunition were purchased by MSU for the Vietnamese government.

However, in its capacity as adviser, the university sometimes made recommendations on what equipment might be needed by security forces, he said.

MSU's international programs have ranged around the world in such countries as Nigeria, Turkey, Brazil and Okinawa. Most of the overseas operations are designed to help governments in getting started on educational projects such as agricultural planning, police administration and school programs.

The magazine said by advising the Diem government on police and security measures, MSU violated the 1954 Geneva agreement which limited the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

A LAUGH AT THE PAST — President Johnson paid a sentimental visit to the campus of his old college, Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos, yesterday. While he was there, someone pulled out a copy of the school yearbook for 1929. When Johnson came across a picture he was in, he burst into guffaws. (See story, Page F-3).

By Critic Nader

Auto Industry Hit Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — The auto industry came under attack again today by Ralph Nader, one of its most publicized critics.

Nader, a youthful lawyer here, contended the industry and the government itself are impeding progress in reducing the highway accident toll by policies of secrecy.

Nader said Senate subcommittees in recent weeks have been scrutinizing "the vast, uncharted territory of manufacturers' notices of defects," what has been disclosed in aggregate form publicly for the first time has not been reassuring — in fact it has been frightening."

He quoted a letter he said that went from Buick dealers to "an undetermined number of Buick owners" in December 1965.

The letter called the owners' attention to a brake clip installation that "might prove to be troublesome some time in the future" and requested that the owners bring the cars in for checking and any necessary correction.

Nader called the letter "hesitant" and commented: OVER YEAR OLD "Some of these Buicks are over a year old. Why does it take so long to discover them (defects) and notify dealers? How many of these vehicles were, corrected? No public agency knows."

Nader also charged today that General Motors never notified owners of certain 1962 Pontiacs, Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Cadillacs that bearing defects could lock the steering.

Buddhists Hold Victory March

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Thousands of jubilant Buddhist demonstrators marched peacefully through Saigon today in a victory celebration after the military regime decreed elections for a civilian government in three to five months.

A ranking Buddhist leader said the junta's formal

'Dem Strategy Wrong in Viet'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford today charged the Johnson administration with "shocking mismanagement" of the war in Viet Nam.

It was the first direct criticism of the conduct of the war by the Republican leadership in Congress.

While not mentioning Johnson by name, Ford told a news conference "the shortage of bombs and the backup of ships in Viet Nam is a national scandal."

"When I read what is happening over there and how we are running short of bombs despite all the billions we have voted for defense, I wonder how long we can underwrite shocking mismanagement in the name of national unity," the Michigan congressman said.

Ford said recent disclosures by a Senate Armed Services subcommittee had shown "evidence of 'mismanagement' at the Defense Department, and that the nation was 'not prepared to adequately supply our Navy and the Air Force planes in that part of the world.'"

The willingness of the Buddhists hierarchy to accept the election pledge may mean the survival of the U.S.-supported military government until the nationwide elections.

On Sunday, the Buddhists had demanded the immediate resignation of the junta.

When the Buddhist leaders received word of the decree, they at first called off a planned antigovernment march into the city and decided instead to hold a "meeting of good will" on the grounds of the Buddhist Institute on the outskirts of Saigon.

But as thousands of their supporters flocked to the compound in a carnival atmosphere, the Buddhists decided to stage the march as a "victory celebration."

The marchers initially were only to go two blocks, but then the Buddhist leaders amended themselves again and let the huge throng walk on.

After walking through some main streets, the crowd made its way back to the Buddhist Institute at dark.

Outlay Is Up $1.2 Million Over 1965-66

Proposal Now Goes to County Tax Unit; Trimming Expected

A record $13.87-million estimated operating budget — up $1.2 million over the current fiscal year — was adopted last night by the Pontiac School Board for the 1966-67 school year.

Totaling $13,869,002, the budget was adopted for submission to the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board, which allocates the school district its portion of the 15-mill limitation.

School officials, however, anticipate the final budget will have to be cut with expenditures projected now to exceed income by about $1.1 million.

Despite the expected budget trimming, the equalized school tax rate is expected to be higher than the $25.55 per $1,000 assessed valuation levied for the current school year.

The debt levy is to be hiked from $2.39 per $1,000 assessed value to $3.43 for 1966-67.

The tax hike is necessary to make 1966-67 payments on two bond issues, sold to finance school site acquisitions and additions to eight elementary schools this year and in 1965.

U.S. Reveals Details of N-Detecting Tape

GENEVA (AP)—The United States disclosed today details of a revolutionary new wire tape which would automatically detect any world power violating an agreement to halt the production of material for nuclear weapons.

The chief U.S. delegate to the 17-nation disarmament conference, William C. Foster, challenged the Soviet Union to sign such an agreement and at the same time agree to the transfer by each of the superpowers of 100,000 kilograms — 220,460 pounds — of U235 enriched uranium for peaceful purposes.

Foster said the "safety tape," contained in a tube, would be passed through a nuclear reactor and collected by an inspection team.

Standard radiation detectors would then locate any resulting radioactivity which would show whether the reactor had been operating in violation of an agreement.

An agreement to halt production of fissionable materials for weapons purposes would, in effect, mean the destruction of "bombs and warheads of a class that have a death-dealing potential the world has fortunately not experienced," Foster said.

He added that as the result of the American wire tape development, it would be insured that plutonium production reactors shut down in compliance with an international agreement could not go on operating clandestinely.

American verification proposals were described by Foster as "simple, practical and unobtrusive" in reply to frequent Soviet charges that U.S. inspection methods would be used for spying.

Pontiac Press Photo

EXECUTIVE SESSION — For nearly five hours yesterday, Gov. George Romney (back to blackboard) listened to and answered a variety of problems and questions from citizens, civic and community leaders in the Pontiac area. The governor's conference at the Oakland Community College's Highland Lakes Campus was attended by more than 100 persons.

township supervisors, and political authorities.

The second part was attended by about 30 persons, primarily educators and representatives of labor unions, veterans' groups, and area chambers of commerce.

The governor skillfully handled a string of challenging questions posed by local officials, giving informative answers to some and promising in other instances to have state officials look into problems.

LIVELY DISCUSSION

Liveliest discussion came with introduction of the problem posed by drinking drivers.

One township official blamed for allegedly lenient treatment of drunk drivers on judges, whom he described as a "stumbling block" to adequate enforcement.

A Birmingham attorney—who said he had both prosecuted and defended motorists charged with drinking — contended the action of the judiciary "reflects the attitude of the public."

In response to an overwhelming show of hands in favor of stiffer penalties for driving under the influence, Romney urged citizens to support legislation providing for administration of blood tests.

State Names School Chief

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education, with two of its eight members abstaining, selected Ray Polley Wednesday night as state superintendent of public instruction.

The $30,000-a-year post had been vacant since last July 1, while the board considered nearly 70 applicants.

Polley, 48, is executive director of the Michigan Council of State College Presidents and secretary of the Michigan Coordinating Council for Public Higher Education. Previously, he served as state controller and as a university teacher.

Board members Donald M. D. Thurber and Peter Oppewall abstained from the formal vote. They said additional time with the necessary qualifications easily could have been considered without unduly prolonging the search.

NO DIFFICULTIES

Despite the less than unanimous vote, Polley said he anticipated no difficulties in working with the board. Thurber and Oppewall pledged cooperation.

Earlier, the board had been reported deadlocked 4-4 over whether to appoint Polley.

Alexander Kloster, former deputy superintendent, has been acting superintendent since Lynn Bartlett, Michigan's last elected superintendent, left last July 1.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer was elected president of the Pontiac Rotary Club today for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Crash Kills Iraqi Leader

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Mustafa Abdullah also were killed in the crash near the Persian Gulf port.

Ten persons were aboard the helicopter, and all died in the crash, the radio said. Among them was the governor of Basra Province and the secretary-general of the presidential palace staff.

Aref's helicopter vanished into the center of a sandstorm. The last word from Aref's pilot was: "I cannot see anything," Baghdad radio said.

SEARCH ORDERED

With the radio silence, desert troops were ordered out to look for the helicopter.

"The first man killed in the Civil War was a Negro. We want an active part in World War I and World War II. Our casualties were in excess, percentage-wise, of those of any other race."

"The same thing is true now in Viet Nam. A goodly share of the Negroes fighting in Asia are enlistees."

"Why should they feel the mire of the jungles often more than American society?"

"That is, however, how they

"Time and again, throughout this state," he said, "I keep hearing and from youth — this idea that our young people want more discipline and stronger direction."

"A letter from a 15-year-old girl up in Midland told of the wishy-washy reactions of parents to problems of behavior."

"When I was a kid, it was a big deal to sneak a cigarette or if you were really bad, get hold of a bottle of beer."

"That's nothing now," he said. "The major threats to our country are not communism or nuclear war or poverty."

"The menace is the decline in religion, moral character, and understanding of the fundamental responsibilities upon which this nation is based."

"This," Romney warned, "is a trend that cannot be ignored."

State School Aid Total

LANSING (AP) — The Department of Education said Wednesday it has loaned $37.5 million in interest-free advance payments to state aid to 310 Michigan school districts this academic year.

Award School Building Jobs

Board Extends Use of 'Police Counselors'

The Pontiac Board of Education last night awarded construction contracts for two elementary school additions and voted to extend the school district's use of "police counselors" in high schools.

Bundy Construction Co. of Pontiac submitted low bid of $338,892 for construction at Herington Elementary School, including 10 classrooms, a library, and a team-teaching center.

Garasala Construction Co. of Grosse Pointe Woods was awarded a $215,999 contract for construction of new classrooms at Rogers Elementary School.

Among work to be done at the latter school is installation of air-conditioning, which board members approved with an eye toward year-round use of the facility under increased governmental education programs.

Approval of the two projects was given by the board Jan. 27. The police counselor system now in use at Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern high schools was backed without exception by board members present.

Dr. Robert R. Turpin, however, arrived late for the meeting and was unable to vote on the proposal, expressed concern over use of plainclothes patrolmen in the school buildings.

Although action on the measure was formally completed, Turpin asked that the board "explore the system a little more thoroughly" for future reference.

"Perhaps it is necessary to have police in the schools," Turpin said, "but it does seem to be sort of a veiled threat toward the students."

Receives Majority of Votes in 3-Man Race

United Auto Workers Local 596, at Fisher Body Division's Pontiac Plant, yesterday reelected Donald Johnson to a second two-year term as president.

Johnson polled 1,579 votes. He was one of three men seeking the local's top office.

Lyman Cowley finished with 444 votes and Edward Johnson received 385 votes, according to a final tally by union officers and auditors.

Johnson, 40, of 540 Auburn, won two years ago in a runoff with Raymond Norman.

A candidate must get a majority of all votes cast for any given office in order to be elected.

For vice president, Carl Sexton received 897 votes, Albert Lighthall 689 and Marge Liddy 650. Since none received a majority a runoff will be held next month between the top two vote-getters.

William M. Hartman won the post of recording secretary with 1,322 votes. His opponent, Paul Harding polled 858 votes.

Leo Fiorer won the office of financial secretary-treasurer with 1,971 votes against 318 for William Liddy.

Gary G. Payne was unopposed for sergeant-at-arms. He polled 1,729.

But Dr. Ralph Smucker, acting dean of the university's international programs, commented:

"The International Control Commission (ICC) is the enforcement agency for the Geneva agreement. The ICC was aware of what we were doing in Viet Nam and never filed any complaints."

Although the magazine contends that the six-year Viet Nam project — which ended in 1962 — was worth $25 million to MSU, Smucker said the basic contract did not exceed $1 million in any one year.

The magazine described its article as a shocking documentation "of the degree of corruption and abject immorality attending a university which puts its academic respectability on lend-lease to American foreign policy."

Good-Neighbor Drive Tonight

Board Extends Use of 'Police Counselors'

The Birmingham-Bloomfield Council on Human Relations will kick off its "Good Neighbor Pledge" campaign tonight at the Community House.

The 8 p.m. meeting has been scheduled to give final instructions to several hundred volunteer workers who have agreed to solicit signatures door-to-door in churches, clubs and other organizations, according to general chairman Bruce B. Van Dusen.

"However, we welcome any residents of the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills school districts, the area covered by the council, who wish to volunteer to work in this campaign or simply want to learn more about it," he said.

At the meeting, council president Alan W. Joslyn will explain the purpose of the "Good Neighbor Pledge" campaign which will run from Friday through April 24.

Van Dusen will give a progress report on the work of more than 110 volunteers who attended an organizational meeting for the campaign March 8.

GET SIGNATURES

An estimated 500 signatures have been secured by these workers.

James E. Gibson, chairman of the door-to-door solicitation committee, said he hopes to have 500 volunteers soliciting signatures from their neighbors.

"From a purely geographical standpoint, it will be impossible to cover all of the homes in the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills school districts, or even a majority of them," he said.

"We urge those who are not contacted to ask for a pledge form at their church."

The pledge follows: "I, one of the undersigned, believe discrimination in selling or renting homes or apartments because of race, religion or national origin is contrary to religious, moral and democratic principles."

"I believe the long-range interests of the nation and the Birmingham-Bloomfield area will be best served by fair and open housing."

"I pledge to be a good neighbor to anyone who seeks to share with me the privileges and responsibilities of living in my community."

FUEL SAVER — Sharing a leading role in Oakland County's mounting construction activities are such vehicles as this GMC Turbo-Flow diesel truck. This tandem-axle dump provides operators with substantial savings in higher fuel mileages, better performance, and greater driver satisfaction. It is one of GMC Truck's medium diesel models, which are sales leaders in the under-five-ton diesel weight classification.

Juvenile Delinquency Worries Kremlin

MOSCOW (UPI) — An alarming number of Soviet youths are turning into juvenile delinquents instead of good Communists — and the nation's leaders are frankly worried.

Kremlin leader Leonid Brezhnev admitted before the recent 22nd Soviet Communist Party Congress that authorities must "pay greater attention to the upbringing of youth."

Any foreign visitor to this country can easily see evidence of this trend.

Walk into the bar of the Hotel National and you can see heavily misbehaved young girls with beehive hairdos and hip-hugging skirts who try to catch the eye of foreigners.

Or read the Soviet press and see stories of hooligans who commit crimes like robbery and muggings — often under the influence of vodka.

SMALL FRACTION

Admittedly, these wayward youth constitute only a tiny fraction of the population, but officials feel they affect the good name of Soviet young people far out of proportion to their numbers.

Then there is the less obvious but just as alarming number of youth who are not politically inclined and who slip up Western bourgeois culture, from dances to abstract art.

To combat the rising number of juvenile delinquency cases, Moscow authorities this year clamped a 10 p.m. curfew on unescorted children in public places.

During a recent graduation party in Red Square, a rumble developed between out-of-town youths and Moscow teen-agers. One was killed and several others were injured.

LONG-STANDING WEAPON

Authorities have a long-standing weapon to use on young people who aren't gainfully employed.

If warnings to them and their parents don't work, the youths can be hauled before special courts and banished for several years to remote areas under "antiparasite" laws.

Among the reasons for the admitted alienation of many members of the Soviet younger generation from Communist discipline, according to Mikhail Khaldyev, ideological director for the Russian Federation, are:

- Many youths born during or just after World War II have not experienced the wartime hardships that toughened moral fiber — let alone the revolutionary struggles of 1917, the '20s and '30s which spawned the Soviet state.

- The discrediting of Stalin and the period of the "personalist cult" has made many youth disillusioned generally with their elders and government leaders.

- The "corrupting" influence of Western culture.

Economic Unity Urged for New Englanders

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Cooperative action by the six New England states was stressed by Gov. John N. Dempsey at a seminar on the region's economic development.

He said the states must act as one region "if they are to maximize their industrial and economic potentials."

2 Nurses Fight Hopeless African Battle

TANAFÉ, Senegal (AP) — In need, Frieda said. "If only someone could come in and sink new, clean wells for them. Then they could stop drinking the swamp water. No health program will do much good here until that's done."

They are nurses sent by the League of Red Cross Societies, originally to care for refugees from the guerrilla war in Spain by Portuguese Guinea.

Cecile Baraby of Montreal and Frieda Tischhauser of Geneva long ago gave up trying to distinguish between refugees and Senegalese. All are in the same need, and many Senegalese pretend to be refugees just to get a bursary or a bit of dried milk.

Cecile and Frieda got out by jeep every day, in opposite directions, visiting villages in a 2,000-square-mile area between the Casamance River and the Portuguese Guinea border. Some 200,000 Africans in swampy land along the river are out of reach of any doctor and hardly ever see a white person.

WILD BEAUTY

The country has a wild beauty. White bighorn cattle graze amid huge mango and baobab trees scattered across the water, green landscape. But death lurks in the water, and in the tall elephant grass.

The area has one of the highest rates of malaria in the world. Sleeping sickness, yellow fever, leprosy, yaws, malnutrition and bilharzia — a blood parasite — are a constant menace.

It is rare to find an African lacking a disease. Many have several.

"We can't do much against all this," Cecile said. "We give aid where we can, but often we are helpless."

SMALL RATIONS

They give first aid, vaccinations, simple hygiene lessons and issue a small ration of dried milk for children, pregnant women, and nursing mothers. They often drive serious cases to the nearest doctor, 75 miles west to Ziguinchor or 50 miles east to Kolda, over rough dirt tracks.

For recreation, the girls read by oil lamps or discuss their day's work. Most evenings they are too tired to do anything but eat and fall asleep. The only other whites in the village are a Lebanese merchant and his family.

The village has no electricity, no running water, no drainage system, no mail service and no locally grown food except rice, bananas and peanuts. At that, it still is the best-equipped locality in the girls' area of operation.

"We'll see their greatest

A sign on the side of the truck says "A gift from the American people." It's a fully equipped miniature hospital. Only there is no doctor, and nearly all the roads in the area are too narrow for it to get through.

Once a week, Frieda runs the engine a few minutes to keep the battery charged.

"That's Africa," she said.

Senators Split on Whether Viet Discord May Force Pullout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many senators disagree on whether the political situation in South Viet Nam may force the United States to pull out of the war.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., told his colleagues Wednesday that if the South Vietnamese don't want to continue the war, "it's obvious the United States should not do it for them."

Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, felt that the possible fall of Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime may force a reassessment which could end with American withdrawal.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., expressed belief at a New York news conference that "intensified military action north of the 17th Parallel is not going to be a substitute for the right kind of political action south of the 17th Parallel, in South Viet Nam."

ALLUDING TO RAID
He obviously was alluding to the B52 bomber raid on a North Vietnamese mountain pass.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., back from a six-day visit to Saigon, predicted Ky's government "can survive if it moves carefully."

In the same vein, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen told reporters that the Buddhist-inspired turmoil may look more serious in Washington than in Saigon.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., said in an interview he could see down the road the possibility that a new civilian government might bring about negotiations with the Viet Cong that would end the fighting, even though the terms might not be acceptable to the United States.

SERIOUS PROBLEM

Cooper, former ambassador to India, said the political unrest poses serious military, as well as diplomatic, problems. He said the struggle will withdraw Vietnamese units from battle and make it more difficult for Americans to defend themselves from such attacks as that of the Viet Cong on Saigon's airport.

There may be merit, Cooper said, in a Buddhist suggestion for elections in areas free of the Viet Cong to set up a national assembly which could decide whether to continue the war with American help.

Javits, who has given general support to President Johnson's Viet Nam policies, told a Watertown, N.Y., news conference that political activity could produce "some government that is unwilling to carry on the struggle against the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong in the way it has been carried on with the aid of the forces of the United States."

In such circumstances, he said it would be no disgrace "to redeploy our forces elsewhere than South Viet Nam." Presumably he meant in Asia but he did not suggest a particular country.

Young cited in the Senate the recent statement of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the armed services committee that "Viet Nam is of no strategic importance to the defense of the United States and we should never have committed troops to combat there, but now that we have done that, we must see it through to gain an honorable settlement."

Each year, about 1,500 persons die from accidental poisoning in the United States.

Society Painting Self Into Corner?

As the American social structure becomes increasingly fragmented into self-seeking, pressure-wielding elements intent on promoting their influence and economic advantage, one could pessimistically wonder where the plain, unaligned, independent, Country-first citizen fits in.

Beginning with the skilled trades concept, we have seen unionism spread horizontally to every imaginable industry, occupation and profession.

Vocations recently to come into the organizational fold embrace educators, municipal employees and law enforcement personnel. There have been indications that professional athletes have lent a receptive ear to the voice of "solidarity," not long ago a preacher of the Gospel espoused the idea that men of God might well find good in organizing for mutual benefit and, as Medicare became reality, sentiment was heard among doctors advocating "boycott" of the program.

Other segments of the population are equally unified in their pursuit of government subsidies or outright philanthropy.

Progressive increase in the price of the labor represented or amount of preferment sought is inherent in the great majority of occupational or special-interest organizations. Inevitably, however, the accumulative cost of such increases, one after another, is borne by society as a whole—the organized members as well as the unorganized.

Have we here an economic dog chasing its tail? The answer is not yet at hand, but the portents are somber.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN spoke of a government "of the people, by the people, for the people." Today's need, we think, is an inclusive economic society with the same mutuality of outlook.

Why Not Join The Press 'Letter Writing' Club

That The Press "write a soldier" program is warmly received in the community is affirmed by the receipt of names submitted of those in the Armed Forces in Viet Nam to whom letters from home would be cheering and morale-lifting.

We who have not suffered disruption of our lives by being uprooted and dispatched to a battleground 10,000 miles away can little realize how all-important home ties of any description can be to our young men caught up in the maelstrom of war.

Whether or not you are acquainted with those whose names will periodically appear in The Press is immaterial. Letters from home, be they from relatives, friends or strangers, will serve as nothing else can to let our fighting men know they are not forgotten.

You can raise the spirits of American soldiers in Viet Nam and your own as well by picking pen pals from Press pages.

Reds' Maritime Power Afloat on Optimism

A new Soviet passenger liner, the 20,000-ton Alexander Pushkin, embarked recently on her maiden transatlantic voyage. The Pushkin's debut marks the emergence of the Soviet Union as a major maritime power. In less than a decade, the Country has risen from 12th to 7th place among maritime countries in terms of shipping tonnage. The Soviet fleet aggregates seven million tons at present, with an objective of 20 million tons afloat by 1980.

Why has Moscow plunged headlong into the shipping business? The Reporter in its February issue reasoned that Russia's ultimate goal is domination of world trade. "At some future date," the argument goes, "the Soviet Union could take over the market for, say, oil by selling below world price."

The Soviet Ministry of Merchant Marine pooh-poohs this idea, although it obviously is delighted that Western shipping companies "turn blue at the mention of the Soviet's success in developing its shipping."

Meanwhile, American shippers have another reason to turn blue, or perhaps slightly purple. The U. S. merchant marine has fallen into a parlous state, and the Federal government and the shipping industry can't seem to agree on how to revive it. A special government committee wants to abolish shipping subsidies, while the shippers want them increased.

The Kremlin doesn't have to worry about such matters; it owns the Soviet merchant fleet.

LBJ Wins Arguments -- Silently

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — President Johnson has a simple technique for staying out of a shouting match.

He stays out, unless getting in is necessary. Otherwise, he keeps quiet until the noise goes away or he has someone else, with his blessing, do the talking.

He has demonstrated the technique on some very crucial problems. Earlier this year, when Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and others rather loudly assailed Johnson's Viet Nam policy, the President played mum.

The storm blew harder. He let it blow, confident he had the support of most Americans. In time the storm pretty well blew itself out. But if Johnson had gone after Morse and Fulbright they would have obtained far more publicity for their views than they could hope to get by themselves.

Meanwhile, he kept right on with his Viet Nam policy.

He did the same thing last September when Fulbright made a Senate speech attacking the extent of Johnson's use of troops in the Dominican Republic when he,

ATTACK FORGOTTEN

Johnson kept quiet and Fulbright's attack was a one-day wonder, soon forgotten.

Johnson ran into a different problem with French President Charles de Gaulle who had been a pain to other presidents with his arrogance and his endless theme of French nationalism and independence.

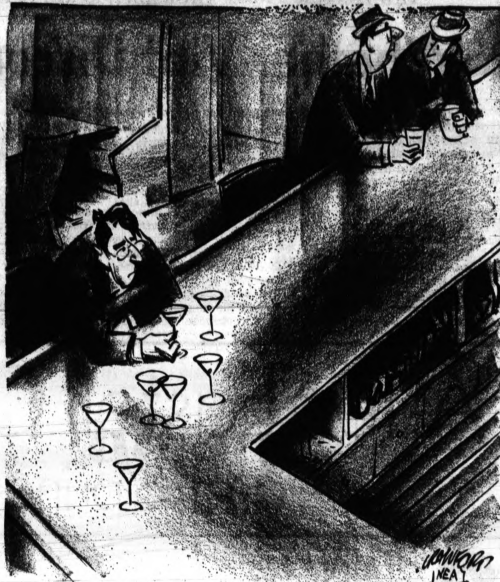

Last September de Gaulle first hinted he didn't see much reason for NATO any more. At that time, faced with the fear that French withdrawal from NATO might wreck it, Johnson made a mild speech about the need for it.

But, just as in September, Johnson avoided a head-on clash with the Frenchman. He hardly said more than that the United States and the other NATO allies were determined to keep the organization alive.

TOUGH TREATMENT

Further, this country warned France that French NATO units in West Germany stood to lose quickly their access to American nuclear arms. This was about the toughest treatment de Gaulle ever got from this country.

Still, Johnson himself was nowhere to be seen although de Gaulle knew that what Rusk and the State Department said had to be cleared with Johnson and could never have been said without his approval. This has been the Johnson style for years.

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Could Dun France on Debt

WASHINGTON—Maybe the time has come for the United States government to become as hard-boiled in its relations with the French government as President de Gaulle has revealed himself to be in his attitude towards this country.

He now insists that American forces get out of France within a year and scorns the LAWRENCE idea of bearing any part of the expense of their removal.

But the United States can become impatient, too, and ask France to pay back the money borrowed from this country in World War I and World War II. The unpaid bill runs as follows:

- World War I debts of France to the United States include $4.1 billion or original loans and $3.1 billion of interest charges. There has been a repayment of only $500 million, made mostly in the early 1920s. So the total bill to date is $6.7 billion.

- Of the foregoing sum, $4.8 billion is past due and in default, and $1.9 billion is to come due in the next 21 years.

- In the period after World War II ended, France borrowed $2.5 billion from the United States, most of it before 1950. Of this sum, $2.1 billion has been repaid. About $400 million still is owed.

Contrary to the general impression, the debts owed by France for money borrowed in World War I have never been canceled by the United States, though a deferment was granted during the Hoover administration because of the international financial crisis.

$3.9 BILLION

The last French payment on World War I debts was made in 1931. Up to that time, France had paid off about $182-million of its bonds, leaving nearly $3.9 billion still to be paid. There the situation has remained ever since.

France gave as the reason for nonpayment the fact that Germany had not paid up on its World War I repayments to France. The United States government, however, has always maintained the position that there is no connection between the two debts.

America now holds some $1.9-billion of French bonds which have not matured, but the rest—approximately another $1.9-billion—have matured and are past due plus interest. The United States considers this to be a valid debt.

It would help the balance-of-payments problem of this country if the French government paid its debts to the United States government.

MANY RESTRAINTS

Due to the lack of gold, all sorts of restraints are being placed nowadays on the export of funds by American businesses to Europe. Legally, France has the option of paying its war debts in gold or in any legal tender of the United States.

Very little was said here in government circles in the 1950s about the World War I debts, as it was considered more tactful to wait till the European debtors could get into a healthier financial situation. But France now has already reached that point.

Since President de Gaulle wishes to cast aside America's military assistance and desires to remain independent of any military alliance, it would, therefore, be logical for the United States to ask the French government to begin to pay its debts and help establish in the world a sounder financial condition.

For much of the French gold should flow to the United States, which is legally and morally entitled to it, especially since this country has lost most of its gold due to perhaps an excess of philanthropic interest in Europe.

Faye Tells Earthy Story About Customs Quandary

NEW YORK — Faye Emerson, who has been living abroad for the past few years, is back in New York for a brief stay. With the dirt.

The dirt is four sacks of soil she personally dug from the fair face of Majorca, where she has been in residence for some time.

An Arizona professor she knows asked her to bring it to this country for certain studies he is making of foreign soils subjected to much the same kind of solar exposure and lack of water as Arizona.

Faye decided to travel light on this trip. The heaviest item in her impedimenta was the bag containing the dirt. It cost her $60 overweight. Inevitably, it was the one bag the customs officer at Kennedy International Airport asked her to open.

"What's this?" he asked naturally.

"Dirt," Faye said.

"Dirt? Why should anybody bring dirt into the United States? We've got lots of it."

"I don't know why," the beautiful actress said steadily. It was just too difficult to explain that she was telling the truth.

Two Urge Pontiac Voters to Accept Jaycees' Offer

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has offered $700 to the new Civic Art Center if the citizens of Pontiac get a 50 per cent vote. You can always depend on the Jaycees to do a 100 per cent job. Shame on Pontiac voters if you don't do a 50 per cent job next Monday.

PONTIAC BOOSTER

If one half of the voters go to the polls on April 18, the Junior Chamber of Commerce will give $700 to an Art Center building that would be a fine asset for this City. All people who want better things for Pontiac should get out to vote and help build a better city. It doesn't cost a dime—just a few minutes of time.

'Residents Want Better Homes in District 1'

The residents of District 1 want to know if anything can be done to stop putting more precat homes in our area. Property that could be used to build modern up-to-date homes of more value is occupied by homes that are no longer in use, with broken or boarded windows. Why can't they get someone in these homes before building more?

Discusses Waterford Township School Vote

An open letter to Waterford Township Supervisor, Mrs. Dorothy Olson: It is time to stop mollycoddling the whims of our Board of Education and the educators in general. I believe in a fair wage for our teachers, the same as for anyone.

I am willing to help in any way to get the necessary funds for the educational needs of our Township, but I cannot see the necessity of recreation rooms, half-million dollar swimming pools and other facilities that we really can't afford. These items should not be put on the ballot in a package deal but should be separate from the educational needs of the people.

If we are to get additional funds for school operation from the taxpayers, we must let them decide what their money is to be spent on.

The Better Half

"I'm convinced you had a long line of ancestors who staged a deliberate rebellion against the process of evolution."

Von Luckner, German Sea Hero, Dies

MALMOE, Sweden (AP) — Count Felix von Luckner, who sank 14 allied ships in World War I without taking a life, is dead at 84.

Von Luckner's death Wednesday of an undisclosed illness ended a life of daring that earned him fame as the "Sea Devil."

During the World War I he commanded an innocent-looking windjammer which carried concealed guns and a powerful motor. Masquerading as a Norwegian freighter, Von Luckner's Seeadler (Sea Eagle) scuttled $25 million worth of allied ships, but he took their crews — and even their pets — off first and looked after them until he could put them ashore.

ROAMED THE SEA

His ship roamed the Atlantic and Pacific with a 64-man crew, 27 of whom spoke Norwegian. Since Norwegian captains customarily took their wives with them on voyages, he disguised a 16-year-old boy as a girl to pose as his wife.

After sailing 35,000 miles, the Seeadler was wrecked on a South Sea coral reef in August 1917. Von Luckner and five of his crew sailed a lifeboat loaded with ammunition for 48 days to the Fiji Islands, where they hoped to seize another ship. Instead, a British police officer and several native policemen captured them.

The British sent him to New Zealand, but he escaped in a motorboat and during six weeks of freedom seized a small sailing vessel. A British cruiser recaptured him and he spent the rest of the war in New Zealand. Between the world wars he conducted cruises and lectured 13.

In several countries, including the United States. Lowell Thomas wrote two books about him: "Count Luckner, The Sea Devil" and "The Sea Devil's Fo'c's'le."

WAS POPULAR

"He was one of the few men to come out of World War I with universal popularity," Thomas said Wednesday at his home in Pawling, N.Y. "His gift was having fun and making everyone else enjoy life."

The World War I hero was too old to be of use to Germany during World War II.

During the 1930s, he said he fell into disfavor with Nazis when he refused requests to renounce membership in the Free Masons and honorary citizenships that had been conferred on him by Bermuda, San Francisco, Miami, and North Dakota.

Von Luckner said he spent the latter part of World War II hiding in the Hartz Mountains. The descendant of a Bavarian soldier of fortune who became a Danish count, Von Luckner was born in Dresden, Germany, and ran away to sea when he was 13.

Canoeists Aid River Beauty

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A canoe trip to promote beautification of the Grand River from Jackson to Grand Haven is planned by Grand Rapids chiropractor Richard Schwaiger and three companions.

Beginning the first week in May, they would travel the 270-mile distance distributing tree seedlings and transplants to each of the 16 communities along the way.

State House Okays Wage Bill

LANSING (AP) — A minimum wage bill, which has prompted heated debate and the only known "sleep-in" in recorded State Capitol history — passed the House quietly Wednesday.

The measure, which broadens the coverage of the minimum wage law, passed and was sent to the Senate on a 66-32 vote. It still would be buried deep on a long House calendar of legislative business if majority Democrats had not given it preferential treatment Tuesday. They moved it up from the No. 128 spot for preliminary debate. Chief features of the bill would: —Extend coverage to every employer who operates 10 weeks a year, as opposed to the current law which, for all practical purposes, exempts a worker from coverage for the first 13 weeks of employment;

—Limit the amount an employer can deduct from the minimum wage for gratuities from 40 per cent to 25 per cent of the total; —Allow the state labor director to investigate complaints and prosecute for failure to comply with the law, while the current law allows the worker to file suit;

—Divorces the state wage standard from the federal law. The measure, however, does not affect the wage floor itself. The state is in the second year of a three-year step program; the minimum wage now stands at $1.15 per hour and will go to $1.25 next Jan. 1. SLEEP-IN Union leaders, clergymen, students and representatives of social action groups staged a sleep-in in the galleries of the State Senate April 1, to pressure the Senate Labor Committee into reporting the measure out. The House bill, however, was identical to that introduced in the Senate, and the two committees agreed to have the bill reported in the House.

Thief Gets Cool Profit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The "air conditioning repairman" walked into the building and went to work — rifling purses left by women office workers who were on a coffee break.

Police said the thief took $150 Wednesday and left without even looking at the disabled air-conditioning system.

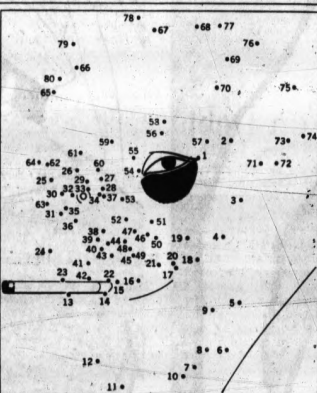

To make matters worse, officers shamefacedly reported, the scene of the crime was a gathering place for off-duty police — men and women — and firemen: the Police and Fire Protective League.

State College Is Due

Funds for Development

LANSING (AP) — Saginaw Valley College is scheduled to receive $923,000 for campus development and landscaping this year, State Sen. Jerome T. Hart, D-Saginaw, said yesterday.

Hart said a capital outlay bill now being drafted by the Senate Appropriations Committee includes $723,000 for construction of water and sewer facilities, road construction and lighting at the college, and $200,000 for landscaping.

Car Passenger Bill Rejected

LANSING (AP) — Traffic safety-conscious Michigan lawmakers reversed their field yesterday to turn down a bill that would have allowed passenger victims of auto accidents to sue the driver for damages.

The House of Representatives, after long and stormy debate, voted 69-33 against a bill that would have repealed the long-standing "guest passenger" provision in the state's vehicle code that bars passengers from attempting to collect damages from the driver unless he was guilty of gross negligence in the accident.

But in a surprise move, House members unearthed the "express consent" approach to dealing with drinking drivers, tacked it onto a pending blood-test bill and put off a final decision on the whole package until April 22.

Trust Gives Mirror for Telescope

By Science Service
HERSTMONCEUX, England
The gift of a 96-inch Pyrex dish mirror by the MacGregor Trust of Michigan has made it possible for the Royal Greenwich Observatory at Herstmonceux Castle here to build what will be the biggest optical telescope in Europe.

The mirror was originally made as an experiment before the 200-inch reflector was cast for the Hale telescope, now in operation atop Mt. Palomar, which was completed in 1948.

The experimental mirror was given to the British Admiralty in 1949.

The tower to house the Isaac Newton telescope, named after the famous mathematician who was one of England's first Astronomers Royal, is now a approaching completion.

The telescope, expected to be in use by the end of 1966, is now undergoing performance tests.

9,000 POUNDS
The concave mirror is 98.2 inches in diameter, 16.1 inches in thickness at the edge and has a central hole 13.3 inches in diameter. It weighs 9,000 pounds.

A reflecting coat of aluminum, evaporated onto the surface, reflects the starlight. The glass surface is polished to an accuracy measured in millionths of an inch.

The total cost of the instrument would have been about $1.5 million with all optical components, but the gift of the mirror resulted in a substantial savings.

"The immense strides made in radio astronomy have tended to overshadow the valuable contribution which can still be made by the optical telescope," Sir Richard Woolley, the Astronomer Royal, told Science Service.

END OF LINE FOR WHALE — Pokey, the piked whale, made it 70 miles up the James River in Virginia, but after three days of delighting sightseers, it was decided that he would have to be killed "before somebody got hurt." The whale was then lassoed, tied to a tree and shot 10 times with silver-tipped bullets. He now appears to be near death. This picture was taken when Pokey was first discovered stranded on a mud flat.

Air Dodd Quiz, Urges Morse

Senate Unit Probing Allegations in Secret

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Wayne L. Morse, D-Ore., a vocal critic of congressional action in the Bobby Baker case, demanded yesterday that the Senate Ethics Committee make public its investigation of charges against Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn.

Morse said the committee, which is now investigating in secret allegations made against Dodd by columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson, should hold public hearings and take sworn testimony if necessary.

"I don't see how they can avoid public hearings," Morse said in a Senate speech. "It may be that information is available to the committee which would justify a conclusion that there is no need for public hearings, but the record should be public."

Pearson and Anderson charged in a series of articles that Dodd carried out assignments for Julius Klein, who is registered with the Justice Department as a foreign agent representing West German businessmen. The columnists also accused Dodd of pocketing campaign contributions for his private use.

Dodd himself asked the six-man committee to investigate the matter. He also asked the FBI to find out how documents allegedly were taken from his files and turned over to the writers.

New Englanders Told How to Attract Tourists

BANGOR, Maine (AP) — The New England states are competing for tourists on a global scale, says James T. McFate, and should spend more money on advertising.

McFate, president of the American Hotel & Motel Association, also told the Maine Association another attempt should be made to legalize Sunday liquor sales in the state, which Maine voters rejected in February.

What's Four Roses doing with a Fifth?

Plenty. First we took our fifth size bottle and redesigned it. (All other sizes, too.) Gave it a clean, elegant, handsome look, right?

But most important is what we're doing inside the fifth. We've added a Fifth Rose—the great new taste in Four Roses. The honestly good taste of Four Roses. The kind of whiskey taste you don't just any you like, but you really do like.

(A bonus note: see how surprisingly reasonable a good-tasting whiskey can be. The fact is, Four Roses doesn't cost any more any more.)

Agreed?

Star Chief, POA Stallion, Is Ernest Young's Pride And Joy

A Compact With Horsepower

Pony Breed Has Area Booster

METAMORA TOWNSHIP—If you're not a horse breeder you probably never heard of Pony of the Americas. But horsemen throughout the country are beginning to take notice of this new breed of "compact" horse.

Established as a registered breed in Mason City, Iowa, in 1954, the Pony of the Americas (POA) is actually a scaled-down horse, bred for size, gentle disposition, stamina and color characteristics.

The breed originated as a cross between an Appaloosa mare and a Shetland pony stallion.

One of the newest exponents of the POA in Michigan is Earnest Young of 1573 Sutton.

Young, 65, sold his lumber business in Pontiac in 1962 and went into the horse business on an 8-acre spread known as the Y-B Ranch, located a mile west of M24.

NOT AS BRISK

Starting with grade Shetlands and stock horses, he became interested in POAs when he found the pony market isn't as brisk as it once was.

He now has five POA stallions, two registered mares and six colts, in addition to some 35 head of stock horses and ponies and three burros.

Reunion Will Fete Teacher

WALLED LAKE — The now-grown boys and girls who attended Ruth Bradley's Sunday school classes at Walled Lake Methodist Church will honor their former teacher at a reunion Sunday.

Miss Bradley, now Mrs. Loui Foster of 999 N. Pontiac Trail, taught Sunday school classes at the church from 1920 to 1946.

She will be honored at the church's 11 a.m. service and at a coffee hour following it.

Board Urges Citizen Interest on Troy School Bond Proposal

TROY — The board of education is seeking more participation on a citizens school election committee which is to make recommendations on a proposed bond issue.

The next meeting of the committee will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the board offices.

The committee is in the process of studying the district's needs and how much they will cost.

A bond issue is scheduled for the June 13 school election but the amount has not been set.

Schools Supt. Dr. Rex B. Smith has suggested a bond issue of $2 million for new school sites and development of existing sites.

He recommends five new junior high sites, three new high school sites and 17 elementary school sites.

In its meeting Tuesday night, the board postponed awarding of contracts on construction of a junior high and two elementary schools because of a city ordinance which states that the planning commission must approve all school sites.

"This has been on the books for years," said Dr. Smith, "and now they suddenly have decided to enforce it."

He said it will delay the awarding of the contracts for at least two weeks. Board members would meet with the planning commission on April 26 to have the sites approved.

Young says the popularity of the POA is due mainly to its gentleness, which it inherits from the Appaloosa side of the family.

Unbroken shetlands sometimes have a mean streak in them, Young said, but a POA can be broken and trained by a child who knows how to handle horses.

IMPORTANT FACTOR

The POA's size is also an important factor, Young pointed out.

"When a youngster gets to be 10 or 12, a Shetland is usually too small for him," Young said. "But a POA will satisfy him until he reaches the age where he's ready for a full-sized horse."

POA registry qualifications are strict. The horse must be no less than 46 and no more than 54 inches tall, and must be Y-B Ranch, located a mile west of M24.

A wide range of color characteristics is permitted, but definite guidelines have been established.

SPOTTED OR SHADED

The spotted or shaded characteristics of the Appaloosa are emphasized and no pinto, roan or albino types can be registered.

While stockings above the knees or a bald face which extends to the side of the head also disqualify a horse from POA registration.

Conscientious breeders refuse to cross their animals with stock that doesn't meet color qualifications. Even so, the majority of foals fail to qualify for registration, Young said.

Young, who regularly attends every horse auction for miles around, said good POA breeding stock is selling as high as $1,000, while Shetlands get the auctioneer's gavel for as little as $25.

DUE TO FOAL

He hopes to build up his POA herd to around 25 animals, Young said. One of his registered mares is due to foal any day.

Young welcomes visitors to his farm.

The popularity of the little horses is proven by the 38 Pony of the Americas Club chapters which have been organized throughout the country since 1954.

Meanwhile, other attempts to rehabilitate the lake are stymied in an Oakland County Circuit Court case.

Area residents, organized in the Wolverine Lake Rehabilitation Association, Inc., attempted to have the lake revitalized under the state Inland Lake Improvement Act, but problems developed about interpretation of the statute.

The rehabilitation association objected to the manner in which a board of determination was established in September and asked for a court opinion on the scope of such a board.

The case now is pending before Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore.

New-Type Forest Park Is Planned in State

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — A first-in-the-nation type of forest park is being planned near Hudsonville by the Ottawa County Road Commission which estimates the cost at $724,700.

Neal Van Leeuwen, road commission board member, said architects' plans for the "Hager Hardwood Arboretum" include classrooms, museum, meeting rooms, greenhouses, farm yard, band shell and astronomy center.

Well Use Eyed for Filling Lake

Village to Determine the Pumping Volume

WOLVERINE LAKE — The possibility of using a well to pump more water into Wolverine Lake will be explored in the continuing campaign to revitalize the shrinking body of water.

A test well is to be drilled to determine if a sufficient amount of water can be pulled from the ground.

The Village Council has appropriated $1,000 for the exploratory well, which will be drilled on Village property near the dam on the north side of the lake.

Village officials hope to determine how much water can be pumped from the ground and how fast it can be pumped into the lake.

They figure the project will require a well pumping 750 gallons of water a minute, according to Councilwoman Mrs. Clare Miller.

About one-third of this would be lost through evaporation and the amount necessary to dampen completely dry parts of the lake area, she said.

If the well proves suitable, councilmen then will be faced with determining how to finance such a project, Mrs. Miller noted.

Meanwhile, other attempts to rehabilitate the lake are stymied in an Oakland County Circuit Court case.

Area residents, organized in the Wolverine Lake Rehabilitation Association, Inc., attempted to have the lake revitalized under the state Inland Lake Improvement Act, but problems developed about interpretation of the statute.

The rehabilitation association objected to the manner in which a board of determination was established in September and asked for a court opinion on the scope of such a board.

The case now is pending before Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore.

Board Approves Budget, Accepts School Contracts

News of the Area

CLARKSTON — The Clarkston Board of Education has accepted contracts totaling $572,247 for construction of a new elementary school and has approved a preliminary budget of $2,378,000 for 1966-67.

The budget, an increase of about 10 per cent over the current $2,160,000 budget, will be submitted to the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board which will spread the 15-mill limitation to county government, school districts and townships.

"The budget is subject to revision depending on factors as they become known," said Supt. of Schools Dr. L. F. Greene.

Greene noted that representatives of the Clarkston Education Association (CEA) and school officials are in the process of negotiating for 1966-67 teacher salaries.

The increase in the preliminary budget is primarily for anticipated salary increases for professional personnel.

16.38 MILLAGE

Greene said he anticipates no increase in the district's present operating millage of 16.38 ($16.38 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation).

Contracts awarded for construction of the new school, to be located at Pine Knob and Maybee roads, were:

• Single-family residential, 10.2 acres.

• Multiple dwellings, 38.2 acres, with 2.1 acres retained as general farm to provide a recreational site for multiple-dwelling residents.

• Administrative and professional, 10.6 acres.

Approval was given to the single-family rezoning.

The multiple dwelling and administrative and professional rezoning proposals were denied because, according to board members, the land is in a floodplain area.

The board also received petitions from residents of the Hamlin-Avon Road area asking that 125; and electrical, Electrical Maintenance Service of Orchard Lake, $51,122.

Construction of the school — North Sashabaw Elementary — will begin immediately, according to Greene. It must be completed in 270 days.

SUPPLEMENTARY

school, it will supplement facilities at the existing Sashabaw School, located across the street.

According to Greene, six general construction, four mechanical and six electrical bids were submitted.

"We thought, in today's market, they were all good bids," said Greene.

The 40,000-square-foot one-floor building will include 20 classrooms, two kindergarten rooms, a music room, a health room, office space, a cafeteria-kitchen, a library, instructional materials center, conference room and a general purpose room.

Planned to seat 150 pupils, the general purpose room will be for large group and audiovisual instruction and will serve as a communication center for the area.

"It will not be a physical exercise room," said Greene.

Utica Seeking Vote to Up Pay

UTICA — The City Council will seek permission from the state to hold a special referendum to increase the salaries of city officials.

If permission is granted, voters will be asked to increase the salary of councilmen from $10 to $25 per meeting and the salary of the mayor from $1,000 per year to $2,500 per year.

They will also be asked to make the assessor's position an appointive one rather than an elective one.

In other action, the council tabled a resignation request from assessor Kenneth Tisworth.

Mrs. Kozietz said the council tabled the request because it has no replacement and it hopes to persuade him to reconsider.

The council also approved the rezoning of seven acres of the Keating farm on Sterritt between Lake and Messmore roads from general commercial to multifamily.

The rezoning was approved despite objections of several residents who felt it would create a traffic problem.

Only One of 3 Parts in Zoning Bid OK'd

AVON TOWNSHIP — The township board last night denied two parts of a three-part rezoning request for 59 acres on the northeast corner of Avon and Livernois roads.

The request from Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Crutcher of Birmingham asked that the land be rezoned from general farm to:

• Single-family residential, 10.2 acres.

• Multiple dwellings, 38.2 acres, with 2.1 acres retained as general farm to provide a recreational site for multiple-dwelling residents.

• Administrative and professional, 10.6 acres.

Approval was given to the single-family rezoning.

The multiple dwelling and administrative and professional rezoning proposals were denied because, according to board members, the land is in a floodplain area.

The board also received petitions from residents of the Hamlin-Avon Road area asking that

To Aid Beautification Drive in White Lake

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The beautification drive to be conducted in the township in May will get a boost Monday night from Mrs. John M. Kennedy, director of the Beautification Council of Southeast Michigan.

Mrs. Kennedy will address members of the White Lake Township Beautification Committee, who will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the Township Hall.

Vets Tax Bill Deal Likely

Deadline Tomorrow

LANSING (UPI) — The word "compromise" hung over Republican and Democratic legislators today as lawmakers moved to meet a deadline tomorrow for passage of the twice-vetted veterans homestead tax exemption bill.

The measure is tucked onto an essential $9-million supplemental appropriations bill which, if vetoed, could place some state agencies on the brink of a financial crisis.

Democrats in the Senate yesterday opened the door for a compromise with Gov. George Romney and Republican legislators by amending the bill to comply with demands by Romney that widows of disabled veterans receive the same $2,500 property tax exemption as senior citizens.

Disabled veterans, according to Democratic demands, would be eligible for a $3,500 exemption. Democrats have been holding out for a $3,000 exemption for widows.

Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, who introduced the amendment, said the item was a vehicle to permit House Democrats to work out an agreement with the governor.

SIMILAR BILL

As the amendment now stands, the measure corresponds to current Republican compromise demands.

Romney has proposed disabled veterans receive a homestead tax exemption on the degree of disability of the ex-servicemen instead of a straight exemption.

Lane said the veterans proposal was intended as a "one-shot deal" this year.

The measure must be passed and signed by the governor before tomorrow in order for the veterans to gain the increased exemption since tomorrow is the deadline for tax boards of review to issue property tax assessments.

W. Berlin Crash of Jet Gave West 1st Look at Soviets' Newest Fighter

BERLIN (AP) — The crash of a pontoon raft in the Havel River near the East German frontier lake gave the Western allies their first inspection of a new Soviet all-weather fighter.

The wreckage of the plane, which crashed eight days ago in the city's British sector, was delivered Wednesday to a Soviet.

the YAK28 type," the spokesman said, adding, "this is a most modern type of Soviet all-weather fighter."

CREWMEN KILLED

The plane's two crewmen were killed, and their bodies were turned over to the Soviets last Friday.

Informed allied sources said: "This was the first look we have had at such a plane in any circumstances." The sources added that they understood the plane had been outside the Soviet Union for only about three weeks at the time of the crash.

said, why the Soviets had brought such a plane so near to the West.

For two days after the plane was raised from 12 feet of murky water, a score of military and civilian experts pored over the wreckage on a British army badly battered, "specialists in this field can find plenty."

observers and newsmen were restricted to a high bank above the lake, the British having turned down Soviet requests to salvage and guard the wreck.

One informed Western source said that although the plane was salvaged, "specialists in this field can find plenty."

"You would prefer to have the plane in one piece," the informant said, "but even when it is in pieces much can be learned."

Sen. Edward Kennedy and Sen. Robert Kennedy are the first brothers to serve in the Senate together since 1903.

Grandiose Sukarno Projects Dropped

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In a southern suburb of Jakarta one day this week, student workers walked off the job on what was to have been a lasting monument to President Sukarno and demanded that the money be spent instead for the relief of the Indonesian people.

NEWSOM The student action had double significance.

It was symbolic of a new spirit emerging in an Indonesia attempting to regain its place in a world abandoned by Sukarno and determined through austerity to drag itself back from economic ruin.

It was a further rejection of Sukarno, whose vanity led him to construct monuments at the expense of the welfare of his 100 million people.

This was a fantastic project. It was designed to house what Sukarno in his own jargon called CONEFO, meaning the Conference of New Emerging People, a project enthusiastically endorsed by the Red Chinese and started with their aid.

PLANNED FOR AUGUST The conference was to be held this August and was to be the beginning of an organization rivaling the United Nations. Building plans called for a resemblance to the U.N. headquarters in New York.

Besides a secretariat and assembly hall, it was to include housing for delegates, six separate bungalows for heads of state, a chapel, shopping center, restaurants and a nightclub.

Courted for participation in CONEFO were Afro-Asian and Latin American nations, plus members of the Soviet bloc.

Once more in Sukarno's jargon, these were called the NEFOS, the emerging nations struggling to escape domination by the OLEFOS, the old established nations led by the United States.

NOT THE END This was not the end of Sukarno's grandiose plans to transform Jakarta into a world capital, nor the only place the money went while Indonesia's exports fell, industry and transportation facilities went to pot and the burden of hardship daily fell more heavily upon the Indonesian people.

form Jakarta into a world capital, nor the only place the money went while Indonesia's exports fell, industry and transportation facilities went to pot and the burden of hardship daily fell more heavily upon the Indonesian people.

Rising above Djalan Thamrin, Jakarta's main street, were the five-story Salirah Department Store being built by the Japanese and a 25-story skyscraper trade and travel center complete with a penthouse nightclub.

Also in Sukarno's plans for construction of the largest national theater in the world.

To critics of the high cost of national identity, Sukarno replied contemptuously:

Competition Is Getting Hot in Hovercraft Production

By TOM A. CULLEN
European Staff Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

LONDON—This summer, hovercraft will ferry passengers across the English Channel, while 6,000 miles away in Vietnam they operate as patrol boats on the rivers.

The hovercraft, a British invention, is neither a boat nor a land vehicle, strictly speaking, as it rides on a cushion of air.

But in less than eight years it has been transformed from an interesting freak to a commercial proposition with both civilian and military uses.

Plans exist to build hovercraft that will carry 600 passengers. There is also talk of hovercraft trains that will glide over the countryside without benefit of rails.

With a $900 million hovercraft market predicted in 20 years time, competition is already beginning to heat up among nations.

SHOULD BE LEADING

The British should be leading the hovercraft race, inasmuch as the air-cushion vehicle is their invention, and nearly all of the early development work was done here. However, the Americans and the Russians are rapidly catching up.

It is the old story of too little and too late, according to Christopher Cockerell, the 55-year-old electronics engineer who invented the hovercraft.

Cockerell recently resigned from the state-owned Hovercraft Development Ltd., claiming the government has mismanaged his invention.

He is hoping mad because the hovercraft patents have been sold in America and in Japan, "our worst competitors," he says.

STARVED PROJECT

He also accuses the government of starving the hovercraft project of funds, having spent less than $15 million in eight years to develop the craft.

"What was a British idea and one in which we could have led the world, is being allowed to slip away," says Cockerell, a balding scientist with a fierce mustache.

Actually Cockerell was not the first to think of the hovercraft idea — Lawrence of Arabia, among others, had a similar scheme — but he was the first to put it into action.

In 1950 he threw up his job as a radio and electronics engineer with Marconi in order to give his brain a rest and to work with his hands.

SAILING HIS HOBBY

As sailing was his hobby, he took over a run-down boat yard in Norfolk, and started turning out comfortable cabin cruisers.

It was while working out the problems that arose from the friction between a boat's hull and the water that he hit upon the hovercraft principle.

With a couple of biscuit tins that fitted together and a vacuum cleaner to supply the downward air thrust he successfully tested the air cushion theory.

Cockerell's scheme immediately hit a snag. Because the hovercraft invention had military potential, a "secret" classification was slapped onto it by the Defense Ministry and Cockerell was not allowed to build and test a full-scale model.

Beautification Month Begins

Emphasis Is on Litter Along Dixie Highway

The Greater Waterford Community Council (GWCC) has officially kicked off its second annual beautification month.

Much emphasis was placed on litter scattered on and along roads in the township, especially a 7-mile stretch of Dixie Highway.

Paul Van Roekel of the Oakland County Road Commission told the council this week that of $58,300 spent by the county last year for trash cleanup along roads, $800 was for that area of Dixie Highway in the township, according to a GWCC spokesman.

Jay Bastian of the State Highway Department reportedly said that he and a county official counted more than 50 pieces of litter on a quarter-mile stretch of Dixie Highway during an inspection Tuesday afternoon, even though a trash pickup had been conducted Tuesday morning.

It was also mentioned at Tuesday's meeting that the state is conducting a $6.6-million highway beautification program this year, largely financed through federal funds.

OTHER SPEAKERS

Other speakers were Fire Chief Lewis Goff, Police Chief William Stokes and Mrs. F. Sam Zilly, president of the Beautification Council of Southeastern Michigan.

In addition to cosponsoring a series of four weekly landscaping classes which started last night, the GWCC, in cooperation with the Township Building Department, plans to conduct a trash cleanup campaign during beautification month, April 12 to May 10.

With the assistance of Boy Scout and Girl Scout groups and the Boys' Club of Waterford Township, trash cleanup will be conducted along parts of the following areas:

Saginaw Trail, Pontiac Lake Road, Tubbs Road, Hospital Road, Crescent Lake Road, Yarney, Lochaven, Pontiac Mall, Drayton Plains parking lot off Fremont and the Foodtown Shopping Center at M59 and Williams Lake Road.

Base Closings Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Armed Services subcommittee said Wednesday it "seriously questions" Defense Department plans to close 140 military bases, including Kinchloe AFB near Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara announced plans for the closings last December.

The subcommittee said it "seriously questions the wisdom of proceeding with any significant base closures or reductions during this critical period of increasing demand on our armed forces, particularly with an unpredictable and growing conflict in Southeast Asia."

Health Service Grant Sought

James M. McNeely, executive director of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity, said yesterday that the commission had obtained its needed local requirement and has applied for a federal health services program grant.

Proposed two months ago as a $425,000 program, the total project cost estimate has been trimmed to $280,000.

McNeely said that over $50,000 in local funding is available and that the grant application is for $230,000.

The proposed health services program would provide medical and dental services for the poor.

Local funding sources in professional services and materials include $14,000 from the Oakland County Health Department's immunization clinic, $12,000 for the Oakland Community College dental clinic and $1,200 for dental care provided by Oak Park Schools.

OTHER FUNDS

Also included is $9,500 provided by various state health agencies, the salary of a health educator and $5,000 from the Well Child Conference.

Space costs earmarked as local funding in the application include $4,500 for the county health department and $5,500 for the Well Child Conference.

At its monthly meeting yesterday the commission approved three education-related recommendations of its executive committee.

The first was aimed at determining to what extent the

POPULATION SERVED

It instructed McNeely to investigate the population being served by Title I funds allocated to school districts in the county and to report to the commission at its May meeting.

Another calls for integrated activities in the summer Head Start program for preschoolers by planning field trips which include racially different groups.

The commission also approved an executive committee recommendation that county schools be notified in writing that the commission's guideline for hiring teacher aides for Head Start is to hire the resident poor.

Referral Practice of OEO Unit Is Criticized by Two Members

The need of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity to defer some decisions to the committee level because of deadlines yesterday drew the criticism of two members.

Mrs. Barbara Mitchell and Walter Koch, both of Royal Oak, questioned the referral practice after the commission sent two proposals for committee action yesterday.

"We're becoming a rubber stamp group," Mrs. Mitchell said of the commission.

One of the items sent to committee was a proposal to provide legal service for the poor through a contractual arrangement with the County Legal Aid Society.

The society would provide lawyers who would be paid by commission funds.

FEDERAL GRANT

An application for an estimated $100,000 federal grant to operate the legal assistance program must be filed by the end of the month.

Since the commission won't meet again until the fourth Wednesday in May, it had to empower its legal committee to act on the application.

Another proposed program, Project Find, was also referred to the committee level due to a deadline problem for a decision on the feasibility of filing an application for a grant of $130,700 to aid the aged poor.

"The commission has no opportunity to evaluate these programs," Koch said.

He called for the staff and the commission's executive committee to consider the problem and report to the commission at the May meeting on possible solutions.

OCC to Honor 130 Students

Oakland Community College will honor 130 students at the college's first honors convocation Monday at 3 p.m. at Christ Church Cranbrook.

A total of 90 students from the two OCC campuses will receive academic awards for averaging above 3.0 during the fall semester and 40 students will be presented student activity awards for distinguished campus services.

Arthur W. Jalkinen, dean of student personnel, will welcome the honor students and OCC President John E. Tirrell will speak to the group.

The Oakland Community College Chorus will sing.

Local Boy, 3, Struck by Car

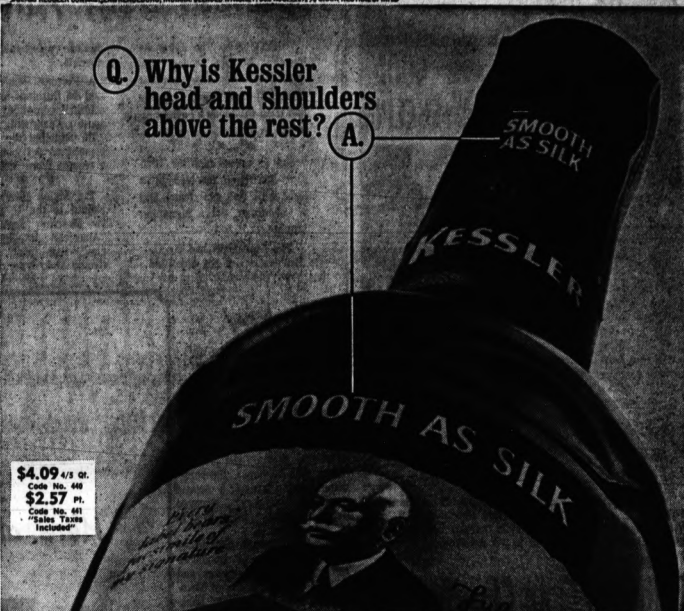

A 3-year-old Pontiac boy, struck by a car last night on Rapid near Motor, is listed in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital.

The injured boy is Reginald T. Anderson, son of Ivory and Elizabeth Bush, 445 Kuhn.

The driver, Henry L. Brown, 23, of 434 Howard McNeill told city police the boy ran from behind a parked car into the path of his vehicle. Brown was not held.

GOOD NEWS — Victor C. DiStefano, 34, a nurse and father of 4, received news from his Brooklyn, N.Y. draft board yesterday which boosted his morale. His draft board may reclassify him from 1-A to 3-A deferment.

Father of Eight Classified 1A May Receive Draft Deferment

DETROIT (AP) — The news from Brooklyn, N.Y., boosted the morale of the Victor C. DiStefano family of 10 yesterday. DiStefano's draft board may reclassify him from 1A, immediate availability, to 3A deferment.

"Well, that sounds fine," said DiStefano. "I'm glad to hear it."

DiStefano, 34, a nurse, received the news shortly before hustling from one to the other of two jobs. "Oh, that's good," exclaimed his wife, Genevieve, also a nurse, at their suburban Allen Park home.

CHILDREN HAPPY

Both said the children would be happy.

As a nurse, DiStefano would get special treatment under the draft laws.

A Selective Service spokesman said DiStefano would receive two or three months advance notice of his induction date and also be informed on how he could apply for a commission in any military branch.

A commission would provide a further advantage of three or four months leave before being called to service, the spokesman said.

RECONSIDER CASE

A spokesman for the Brooklyn draft board said the board would reconsider DiStefano's case later this month and likely would reclassify him 3A because of his children.

Earlier this year the board made DiStefano 1A. But that was possibly because he may have neglected to keep the board up to date on his growing family.

At the same time there has been a growing need for nurses in the services.

DiStefano is studying to become an X-ray technician as a student-worker at Annapolis Hospital in suburban Wayne. He is employed as a nurse at a General Motors plant in Detroit.

Japanese Deny Americans Tried to Kidnap Soviet Diplomat

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese Foreign Ministry today dismissed Soviet charges that American intelligence agents had tried to kidnap a Soviet diplomat in Tokyo.

The Japanese said the Russian had been involved in a fight with two Americans and a Colombian, not a kidnapping attempt.

The Americans and the Colombian were not identified, but one report said they were tourists.

A Foreign Ministry official said the Russians had not made a formal complaint to the Japanese government.

He indicated the government planned no action unless it got a request from Moscow.

The Soviet government complained to the U. S. Embassy in Moscow yesterday that "American intelligence agencies" had tried to kidnap Georgy Pokrovsky, first secretary of the Soviet Embassy in Tokyo.

INVOLVED IN FIGHT

Japanese Foreign Ministry officials said the police had informed them Pokrovsky and several other Russians were involved in a fight with two Americans and one Colombian on the night of March 17.

"We know of no kidnapping attempt," Japanese officials said.

They said the fight took place in Pokrovsky's apartment building, the Seifu (Clean Breeze) Mansion, a mile from the Soviet Embassy.

"The fight was the result of a misunderstanding. It was a simple quarrel," a spokesman said.

NO ARRESTS

He said the police made no arrests.

Pokrovsky's landlord said there were several American tenants in the building, but he declined to identify them or to say whether any of them were involved in the incident.

Monkey Fetus Lives in Test Tube

RENO, Nev. (AP) — For more than 30 hours, the sometimes-kicking fetus of a maula monkey, removed from its mother's body, lived in a test-tube world.

The breakthrough experiment was conducted by Dr. Donald E. Pickering, a pediatrician and head of the University of Nevada's Human Development Laboratory.

Scientists could view, for the first time, the development of a living, but unborn, animal whose reproductive cycle is virtually identical to a human's, Charles Armstrong, university president, said.

"It has the greatest scientific application for human development," he said.

For instance, Pickering said, experimenting with such a living fetus could have shown the deleterious effects of the drug Thalidomide before it was given to expectant mothers.

The first sign of disease might be spotted in a visible fetus when it might not turn up in the living animal until years later, he said.

The fetus was removed by Caesarean section Monday, 106 days after conception and about 60 days before normal birth. It continued to receive nourishment from the mother by the umbilical cord.

Pickering ended the experiment late Wednesday night, saying the fetus had lived longer outside its natural world than he had intended.

"If we can go 22 hours, we can go 22 days," he had said earlier.

Further experiments will go longer — until the fetus is sustained until birth, Pickering, 42, said.

WIDE TRACK OR NARROW MIND?

Here are some questions we would like answered:

WHY?

WHY should we tolerate a city commission which has cost the taxpayers millions of dollars in uncollected federal funds most other cities are eager to use?

WHY should we put up with a city commission which has been notorious for its lack of foresight and imagination in city planning and most other areas of municipal administration?

WHY should we re-elect a city commission which has driven the small businessman out of the downtown area but lets valuable land lie unused for years?

WHY is the present city commission more interested in passing an income tax than in expanding the tax base by using the urban renewal land for a rejuvenated downtown?

WHY, in a period of high prosperity, are there so many vacant stores?

WHY does the city commission talk only during an election campaign about housing for retirees?

WHY must our citizens suffer from a lack of decent housing when federal funds are available for this purpose? Why is 53 per cent of all Pontiac housing sub-standard?

WHY does the city commission hide its urban renewal plans behind a veil of secrecy? Aren't the people entitled to know what's going on? What last-minute deals are being cooked up here?

WHY is only one downtown development plan being pushed when others are available but are completely ignored?

WHY is our street lighting so poor and our police department so skimpy?

WHY is our public library open only part-time when even the smallest Oakland County villages have full-time libraries?

WHY can't our children have neighborhood playgrounds and recreation areas such as are provided by most other cities, big and small?

WHY doesn't the city commission take some interest and some action on the proposed sports arena auditorium?

WHY won't our present city commission represent all the people of Pontiac instead of just a few?

These are just a few of the questions we have been asking ourselves for some time which the present city commission has failed to answer. That is why we decided to endorse the candidates for city commission.

While YOU are waiting for the city commission to answer the above questions, be sure to vote for the following candidates next Monday, April 18.

NOTICE OF REFUND TO GAS CUSTOMERS

With the approval of the Michigan Public Service Commission, Consumers Power Company will refund to its gas customers during the next few weeks a pro rata share of refunds recently received by Consumers Power from its suppliers of natural gas. Refunds are to be made in the form of credits on customer bills mailed after April 4, 1966.

To be eligible for a refund, the customer must have received gas service from Consumers Power Company during October, November and December, 1965 and must have been a customer of the Company on March 25, 1966. The amount of individual refunds will be based on each customer's gas usage during the last three months of 1965. Customers using gas to heat their homes during that period will receive refunds averaging $1.50; non space heating customers will receive refunds averaging 30 cents.

Customers who moved since December may not receive the refund automatically in the form of a credit on their next bill, because of their change of address. To obtain their refund, these customers should apply to their nearest Consumers Power Company office no later than July 1, 1966. The Company urges these customers to contact Consumers Power Company as soon as possible.

For Culturally Deprived Tots

Can You Give Three Spare Hours?

Operation Headstart will begin its second year of operation on Monday and more volunteers are badly needed.

Last summer, the program began in a number of Pontiac schools. Four-year-olds who were considered culturally deprived were enrolled and provided with new play experiences, trips and much individual attention.

With this sort of preparation, their chances of succeeding in school are better.

Mrs. Richard H. McGraw of Sodon Lake Drive is looking for more women to help in the program. The professionals are hired, but each group needs "extra hands" for the teacher.

JUST BE WILLING

Women need not be teachers, need not have any special kind of education to qualify.

They should be "willing to be nice to, talk and listen to, work and play with and just plain be interested in four-year-olds who have had very little of this kind of treatment," says Mrs. McGraw.

Many of the youngsters in the program have never had a story read to them or seen an educational toy. They have had little opportunity to participate in creative activities and cooperative group effort.

Mrs. Pearlina Butler, principal of Bagley School is head of the program.

She pioneered it in a small way here in Pontiac before the federal government took it over. A group of women at All Saints Episcopal Church ran a similar program during the spring of 1964. Mrs. Butler is adviser to that effort.

TWO SESSIONS

The first phase of Operation Headstart is from Monday to June 17. There will be a second program this summer.

Women who are willing to give three or more hours a week may contact Mrs. McGraw, Mrs. H. C. Mehlbacher of Sodon Court or Lee Hastings at the Pontiac Board of Education.

Britisher Is Club Subject

"Waterford Great Books" group plans a meeting at 8 p.m. Friday in the CAI Building.

Mrs. Karl Kutz will be author's advocate and present facts concerning the life and times of David Hume, British philosopher and historian.

Members will discuss Hume's "An Inquiry Concerning Human Understanding."

Discussion topic for a meeting in two weeks will be Nietzsche's "Beyond Good and Evil." Any interested person will be welcome.

Sorority Group To Meet This Month

Members of Kappa Alpha Theta Alumnae Club of Birmingham will gather in the Bloomfield Village home of Mrs. Montague Miller at noon on April 21.

New alumnae living in the area may contact Mrs. Robert Doran or Mrs. William H. Pierce of Birmingham for luncheon reservations.

Recent Vows Unite Pair in Pontiac

An evening ceremony in the First Assembly of God Church marked the recent marriage of Grace Louise Bannister to Darryl George Kuivinen of Loehaven Road.

Their parents are the Joe Bannisters of Cameron Avenue and the George Kuivinen of Lewiston.

A shoulder corsage of pink carnations and matching whimsy complemented the bride's two-piece dress of champagne wool.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bannister attended the couple at the rite performed by Rev. Arnold Hashman.

After the reception in Bemis-Olsen Armvets Post 112, Mr. and Mrs. Kuivinen left for a honeymoon in Upper Michigan.

Best of Both: Job, Home Possible

NEW YORK (AP) — A Columbia University professor said today most employers still prefer "dumb men to smart women."

The professor, Dr. Eli Ginzberg, a manpower expert, sounded a call for sweeping changes to help educated women overcome what he said are prejudices against them and live a more balanced life.

Ginzberg, who heads the President's National Manpower Advisory Committee, contended modern society hasn't faced up to the potential of married women in a man's world.

He debunked a view held by some social critics — many of whom are women — who argue that women today are torn between the home and the outside world and don't know which way to turn.

IMAGINARY CONFLICTS

"All those people who have been harping about women's problems and conflicts have made this up largely out of their own imagination," he said in an interview. "Many women nowadays are able to have the best of both worlds and there is no reason why they shouldn't."

Ginzberg presents evidence for his thesis in a book released Wednesday entitled "Life Styles of Educated Women" in which he examines the views of 311 women who pursued higher education at Columbia University over a six-year period.

"Three-quarters of these women did not regard their lives as being full of frustrations," he said. "In fact they were willing, given the chance, to fulfill their potentiality outside of the home."

But, Ginzberg suggested, shortightedness on the part of employers, the federal government and universities in their attitudes is hampering women in attaining such a goal.

SUGGESTIONS

Ginzberg made these proposals:

- Congress should liberalize tax laws to permit deductions for the expense of household help for women engaged in professional employment outside the home.

- An organized effort should be made to provide reliable household help to free married women for outside employment.
- Universities should show more flexibility in permitting married women to complete graduate studies.

- End the rules that prohibit husband and wife from working together in the same company or campus.

Ginzberg pointed out that 24 million women are now employed each day on a fulltime or part-time basis.

"And, if the war in Viet Nam continues to mushroom," he added, "the only significant labor force available may be women."

Set Evening of Elegance for Fashions, Music, Art

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

"Elegance and the Arts" is a Bloomfield Art Association benefit fashion show featuring world famous designers—gowns for afternoon and evening—and Sidney Krandsall and Sons' fabulous jewel collection.

Musical selections from the coming opera season and a preview of the BAA student art exhibition, are also highlights. The time is 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the association headquarters, South Cranbrook Road in Birmingham.

Mrs. Robert A. Thom is general chairman; assisted by Mesdames Louis R. Dean and Hugh Acton.

Mrs. Richard H. Harbeck is hostess chairman, Mrs. John

C. Emery Jr. ticket chairman Mrs. Harry W. Calvert is in charge of refreshments and Mrs. C. A. Hall is handling publicity.

BENEFIT PARTY

The event is a benefit to raise money for the acquisition of equipment for the educational department at the BAA. About 600 students take 1000 yearly classes at BAA. We find fused glass, cast bronzes, contemporary weavings, all kinds of painting and drawing.

Mrs. Herbert H. Gardner Jr. and Mrs. Meyer O. Cantor are co-chairmen of the exhibit. It will be juried by Larry Barker, head of the department of graphics at Cranbrook Academy of Art.

Jacobson's of Birmingham will show fashions, with comments by Mary Morgan. Among name designers included in the show are Christian Dior, Mignon, Pauline Trigere, Jobers, Pat Sandler, B. H. Wragge, Adele Simpson and Teal Trains.

The jewelry collection will include some of the diamonds, sapphires, emeralds and rubies

WSU Event for Women

The Women of Wayne have scheduled their seventh annual campus day for April 30. This event is a return to the campus.

The first phase of Operation Headstart is from Monday to June 17. There will be a second program this summer.

Women who are willing to give three or more hours a week may contact Mrs. McGraw, Mrs. H. C. Mehlbacher of Sodon Court or Lee Hastings at the Pontiac Board of Education.

Included in the day's activities will be a bus tour of the main campus and the new Medical Center area.

Reports Given to Auxiliary

Mrs. Dixie White, president of the City of Pontiac Auxiliary to Post 1376, Veterans of Foreign Wars, called a meeting Wednesday for submission of annual reports. Members met in the VFW Hall on South Saginaw Street.

Chairmen attending the special meeting were: Mrs. Robert Almas, Mrs. C. D. Birdsell, Mrs. Hazel Burns, Mrs. Donald Moore, Mrs. Clell Morse, Mrs. Virgil Vandecar and Mrs. William Vandecar.

"Do Not Disturb" Sign Applies to Mother Also

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: After one year of marriage, my husband was drafted into the United States Army. He has been in basic training camp for four weeks.

Next weekend I plan to fly 1,200 miles to visit him. He will get a pass for the weekend days, but he'll have to spend the nights on the base. My mother-in-law wants to go with me.

This would make it very awkward since my husband and I would probably be spending quite a large part of the day in our hotel room. How can we explain to his mother that we'd rather be alone?

We are both so afraid of hurting her feelings that we would almost rather have her make the trip. But if you can think of a nice way to tell her to stay home, I would certainly appreciate it.

IRISH EYES

DEAR IRISH: You can't tell your mother-in-law to stay home. She knows how much time her son will have off the base, and also that you will want time alone together.

If she goes anyway, she'll have to be satisfied with whatever time she has with her son.

DEAR ABBY: My mother is the moodiest person on earth. She can wake up feeling fine, and then if anyone does one thing wrong, she's mad for the day.

I am 16 years old, and I am sick and tired of her actions. I realize that some women have a difficult time at a certain age, but enough is enough. Could you please give me some advice on how to enjoy living at home with her? (Thank you.)

DENISE

DEAR DENISE: Yes. Just for one day, refrain from doing any of the things you know will irritate her. And try to do all the things you know will please her. Such as, cleaning your room, doing your homework early, limiting your telephone conversations, keeping the radio and TV low, desisting from complaints about what you don't have, or can't do, remaining silent when you'd like to talk back or argue, and finally keeping the peace with your brothers and sisters.

You will then find that living with your mother is so much more enjoyable, you'll think you're in the wrong house. (You're welcome.)

DEAR ABBY: How can you get out of eating at someone's house when they keep on asking you, but you just don't have the stomach for it? Here is why.

They let the dogs and cats have the place. The cats are into everything and up on everything. They jump into the cupboards, onto the drainboards, and into the refrigerator if the door is open.

They sleep on the kitchen table. They are also fed from the same dishes the people eat from. These dishes are usually all over the kitchen floor and out in the yard, and have to be collected and washed before there are enough to set the table.

Sweet Adelines Schedule Program

Several area residents will participate when South Oakland County Suburbanette Chapter of the Sweet Adelines, Inc., presents a barbershop harmony program April 23 at Detroit's Cass Technical High School.

Taking part in the 8:30 p.m. "Around the World in Harmony" show will be regular chorus singers: Mrs. Billy Vaughn, Estelle Ronaldson, Mrs. Arthur Dewberry of Orchard Lake and Mrs. Gerald Starkweather, Union Lake.

bie. Pots and pans the same way.

They even let the cats clean them up first so they will be easier to wash. These folks are kindhearted and all, but I just can't stand to take a drink of water in their house. Do you blame me?

WEAK STOMACH

DEAR WEAK: No. Politely decline all refreshments with a courteous, "No, thank you, I don't care for anything just now," which would be putting it delicately.

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I'd be writing a "DEAR ABBY" letter, but I must defend the teacher who had a show and tell time in her classroom.

Why does the mother blame the teacher because the child took a pair of 44 falseies to school? See, it's always open season on school teachers. A mother who has a real interest in her child will know more about the child's school than this mother appears to know.

Show and tell time is, in my opinion, one of the most constructive ideas ever to be brought into the classroom. It helps the shy child express himself, and it allows him to be the center of attention in a pleasant way.

No matter how uncooperative and incorrigible a child is at other times, during show and tell he is an "angel."

K. C. TEACHER

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THE HUSBAND OF A JOINER." The woman who feels she must belong to everything would be much happier if she felt she "belonged" to her husband.

of Edgar Road and Mrs. William Dean Jr. of Clayburn Street. Seated on his great-great-grandmother's lap is young Jeffery Lynn Dean.

Choral Reading Set for Luncheon

The annual birthday luncheon for the women of the Orchard Lake Community Church Presbyterian will be at noon, Wednesday, in Fellowship Hall. Priscilla Circle members will be hostesses.

In the program coordinated by Mrs. Earl Thornton, Mrs. Harold Welch will lead a group in a choral reading titled, "How Far to Nineveh?"

Portraying Jonah will be Mrs. Fritz Radford along with a cast which includes Mrs. E. Shields Dierkes, Mrs. Walton Weiss, Mrs. Gene Stanley and Mrs. John Morris.

Others are Mrs. Eugene Zipp, Mrs. Frank J. Dickie,

Mrs. William Jones and Mrs. Peter Unick.

SOUND EFFECTS

Alfred Moses, audio-visual coordinator at Oakland Community College will handle sound effects. Mrs. Walter Johnson is responsible for scene changes.

Those attending will choose their seats from tables centered with a cake portraying their birthday season: spring, fall, summer or winter.

Mrs. Fred Fuller's showing and narration of slides during a recent trip to Japan will close the program.

The church office is accepting reservations until noon on Monday.

Where to Put 20 TV Sets?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Where would you place 20 television sets around the house? Mrs. David Sarnoff, wife of the board chairman of Radio Corp. of America and "father of television," has that problem.

She devised a decorative answer. The faces of the 20 sets are concealed behind original paintings.

When viewing on a particular set is in order, a button is pressed and the picture slides away from the television face.

Clicking Happily, Computer's Eye Takes In Curves

"36-24-36?" Not bad," muttered the computer as it started tracing a swim-suit pattern to fit the measurement. The curve tracer took over, enjoying its job immensely, and 25 minutes later out came a pattern.

Cutting patterns from the standard size model to make clothes for the mass market has always been a cut-and-fit, hand-done job that took great skill. But one manufacturer now claims that a computer and a digital plotter machine can do the job better and faster, electronically.

Here's how it works, according to International Management: A specially developed curve tracer moves along the edge of the original pattern, its electric eye clicking off line co-ordinates to the computer. Ninety seconds later the computer is ready with a line of sizes, which the curve tracer plots as new patterns.

Of course, the machines don't really talk, but they probably do whistle every now and then.

Reds Buy New Bullets in U. S.

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — Thirty rocket-type bullets for a newly developed pistol were purchased by two Soviet military officers at a San Jose gun shop last week, it was disclosed yesterday.

The ammunition is used in a gyrojet pistol, available to sportmen, which fires silently. The bullets are propelled by rocket fuel and can pierce a steel plate from 30 feet.

The Russians were identified as Col. Vsevolod S. Tovna and Lt. Col. Nikolai A. Burmistrov, military attaches at the Soviet Embassy in Washington.

They visited the gun shop last week during a vacation, but declined to tell a police officer their reason for buying the ammunition.

U. S. Adviser in Liberia Expelled After Mishap

ACCRA, Ghana (UPI) — Edward Park, labor affairs adviser to the American aid mission in Liberia, has been declared persona non grata and expelled from Liberia, sources close to the U. S. Information Service said today.

The sources said the expulsion followed a traffic accident in Monrovia March 28. The State Department is investigating the accident, they said.

State Political Brew Odd Mixture

By the Associated Press
One candidate got endorsement from some nonvoters, one noncandidate got endorsement from the speaker of the Michigan House, and three would-be U. S. senators made observations about Viet Nam.

That's how the Michigan political picture shaped up Wednesday.

G. Mennen Williams, former six-term governor and assistant secretary of state for African affairs, now seeking the Democratic Senate nomination, won praise from nonvoting African students at Michigan State University.

Democrat State Chairman Zolton Ferency, who's expected to announce his candidacy for governor next week, was endorsed and praised by House

Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit. In Washington, meanwhile, Rep. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., "rapidly deteriorating situation" in Asia and the possibility of a "massive national tragedy."

Williams met with the executive board of MSU's 119-member African Students Association and heard these words of praise from its president, Yinka Asseez of Nigeria: "Africans do not feel as badly as they had felt (toward the United States before your assumption of office (as assistant secretary). This is surely a feather in your hat."

Speaker Kowalski's endorsement of Ferency followed similar announcements by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley and Neil Staebler, Democratic national committeeman.

U.S. Marines Launch New Cong Hunt as Jets Strike in North

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Several thousand U.S. Marines opened a new search operation today in the rice paddies overlooking the South China Sea, while Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs caught a dozen trucks near the entrance to North Viet Nam's landslide-clogged Mu Gia Pass.

The Leathernecks killed 14 Viet Cong, captured five and took 67 suspects in tow at the outset of a multibattalion search and destroy operation 23 miles south of Chu Lai. The area has been in Viet Cong hands for years.

Ten Marines stripped to the

160 Boats Scheduled to Hunt Red Vessels

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Navy has started river patrol boat warfare in South Viet Nam and plans to have 160 machine gun-equipped craft ready to run down Viet Cong vessels by July.

Indications are this is only the beginning of a large-scale operation — the first of their kind for the Navy since the days of the American Civil War.

The first two of the Navy's new 31-foot fiber glass, water-jet-propelled PBR's patrol boat, began operating Sunday in river waters about 30 miles southwest of Saigon. They halted and inspected 19 junks.

By summer the Navy will have scores of the high speed craft skimming along rivers which wind seaward through the rice-rich area below Saigon. The boats have a speed capability of 25 knots.

JUNKS SAMPANS
Thousands of junks and sampans traverse canals and streams interlocking the rivers — and many are Communist vessels hauling food and, to a lesser extent, arms northward to Viet Cong strongholds.

In an effort to choke this many-veined pipeline, the Navy is embarking on "game warden" patrols.

and moved with pistols and flashlights through a network of tunnels where they seized 15 Vietnamese suspected of being Viet Cong. Some pajama-clad fighters were seen fleeing the maze beneath the hamlet of An Hai a short time before.

The Air Force jets returned Wednesday to the strategic pass on the Laotian frontier, 230 miles south of Hanoi, where B52s dropped 1.4 million pounds of bombs on Tuesday in the first raid by the stratofortresses on North Viet Nam. Military sources in Washington said some of the big bombs were rigged with delayed-action devices to explode days later, thereby discouraging Communist road clearing work.

The Thunderchiefs spotted 12 trucks on Route 15 at the entrance to the bottled-up pass. At least four were destroyed, an Air Force spokesman said. He also said aerial photographs confirmed that the pass was completely blocked by landslides.

The mountain roadway links up with the Ho Chi Minh Trail in neighboring Laos, the major infiltration route to South Viet Nam.

In the south, Air Force and Navy jets set off three secondary explosions followed by 11 more blasts in 90 seconds against what appeared to be a Communist ammunition dump 65 miles northwest of Saigon.

For the first time in the war, the number of South Vietnamese troops killed in a week of fighting dropped below American battle deaths. This was considered a reflection of the diminished activity of government troops during the political crisis.

The U.S. military command announced that 95 Americans were killed, 361 wounded and four missing in action in the week of April 3-9 compared with 101 killed, 690 wounded and nine missing the week before.

The new casualty report increased American combat deaths to 2,505 and the number of Americans wounded to 15,228 since January 1961.

A Vietnamese spokesman said 67 government troops were killed and 204 missing last week compared with 155 killed and 26 missing the previous seven days. The government does not disclose its wounded figure.

Chlordane

APPROVED Chlordane has a U.S.D.A. label registration for the control of wireworms and other soil insects in potatoes, based on an FDA residue tolerance of 0.3 ppm.

PROVEN Chlordane, through years of testing and commercial use, has proven to be the most effective insecticide that is so permissible to use for soil insect control in potatoes.

PROFITABLE Chlordane gives your crop complete protection for just a fraction of the increase in yield and quality that result from its use.

CHLORDANE CONTROLS: Wireworms • Mole crickets • Cutworms • Seed corn maggots •

Tuber flea beetle larvae • White grubs • European chalcid larvae • White striped beetle larvae • Earwigs • Other insects.

Big Jets to Begin New Air Era

NEW YORK (AP) — A new flying at less than the speed of sound. era in long distance aviation will be ushered in by the end of the 1960s, carried at 45,000 feet on the wings of jets seating up to 490 passengers, some in sleeper rooms.

Pan American World Airways Wednesday ordered 25 Boeing 747s at a cost of $525 million, a figure the companies said represented the largest commercial aviation order ever placed.

When completed, the aircraft could become immediately competitive with maritime shipping in transporting some cargoes from continent to continent. But the announcement heralded also a future day of greater competition for the domestic passenger with rail and highway transportation.

The impact of the order, on which deliveries will begin in September 1969, was vast. Trans World Airlines, the only other United States transoceanic carrier, said it too is considering the Boeing 747.

The new craft is expected to sharply cut the cost of air travel. Pan Am chairman, said cargo and passenger costs would be reduced as much as 35 per cent.

The 747, about 2½ times the size of today's largest jet, will cruise at 633 miles an hour, 10 per cent faster than present cruising speeds. It is subsonic — capable of handling "highway size" shipping containers which have become standard on ships, rails and trucks.

A spokesman for a large ocean shipper said "over the horizon we can see that this will certainly be competitive with maritime shipping."

IMMEDIATE EFFECT

The immediate effect on domestic transportation seemed slight although spokesmen for rail and shipping companies declined to discount future competition.

The 747 will be capable of carrying 490 passengers in thrift class or 378 in mixed economy and first class. It will have a cruising range of 6,000 miles.

The enormous plane will cruise at 633 miles an hour, 10 per cent faster than present cruising speeds. It is subsonic —

GIANT INTERIOR — The inside of the new Boeing 747 airplane shows two aisles and seating nine abreast in economy class.

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

LOS ANGELES — Medical travelogues — X-ray movies of an injected gas bubble's journey through veins into the heart — were credited today as a promising new tool in diagnosing a major form of cardiac disease.

The University of Southern California called the technique developed by three radiologists "an overnight success" in detecting trouble in the pericardium, a thin tissue sac enclosing the heart.

The technique was developed by Dr. A. Franklin Turner, Dr. Harvey L. Meyers and Dr. George Jacobson of the school's department of radiology.

Injection of the air into the circulation is dangerous because it can expand and block the flow of blood. The USC team uses carbon dioxide because it dissolves within a few seconds, allowing just enough time to film the travelogue.

School Bus Drivers Strike; Hearing Set

DETROIT (AP) — Asked to declare a strike by school bus drivers illegal, Circuit Judge Horace Gilmore planned a hearing today.

The suburban Van Buren School District Wednesday asked Gilmore to order the strike ended and to award punitive damages of $12,000 a day while it continued.

Some 45 bus drivers, members of Council 23 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees AFL-CIO, threw up picket lines Wednesday morning. District officials said the strike cut school attendance almost in half.

April's Plentiful Foods Appear in Appetizing Recipes

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Each week the United States Department of Agriculture sends out food information and recipes. Each month they list the plentiful foods.

With that list in mind I plan food articles. When a food is in heavy supply, I want to help our readers with recipes.

Among April's plentiful foods are honey, raisins, grape juice and peanuts and peanut products.

HONEY-FRUIT UPSIDE DOWN CAKE

- 1 1-pound, 1-ounce can fruit cocktail
- 2 tablespoons melted butter

- 1 navel orange, peeled and sectioned
- 1 9-ounce package (single layer) yellow cake mix
- 1/2 cup honey

- 1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 cup honey
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 2-ounce package dessert topping

Drain fruit cocktail, reserving syrup. Put melted butter in bottom of a 9-inch cake layer pan. Pick cherries from fruit cocktail and arrange in center of pan; place orange sections, pinwheel fashion around cherries.

Spoon drained fruit cocktail around outside edge of oranges. Sprinkle 2 tablespoons dry cake mix over fruit; drizzle with 1/2 cup honey.

Prepare remaining cake mix as directed on package, cutting the water by 2 1/2 tablespoons. Pour cake batter over fruit. Bake in a 350 degree oven for 45 to 50 minutes.

Loosen edges of cake and let stand a few minutes. Invert on a serving plate.

Topping: Combine cornstarch, cinnamon and nutmeg in a small saucepan; blend in the reserved fruit juice. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat and add lemon juice and 2 tablespoons honey.

Cool; fold into prepared whipped dessert topping. Serve over warm cake. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Grape juice is a pleasant addition to the plentiful foods list. How about tapioca made with it instead of with milk? This, incidentally, would be ideal for the person who cannot have milk. You'll have to omit the whipped cream garnish, of course.

GRAPE TAPIOCA

- 3/4 cup quick-cooking tapioca
- 3/4 cups grape juice
- 3 tablespoons sugar

- 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
- flaked coconut

In saucepan, mix tapioca, grape juice, and sugar. Cook, stirring over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Cool 30 minutes.

Stir well and spoon into dessert glasses. Chill. Top with whipped cream and sprinkle with flaked coconut. Serves: 4

Raisin cookies take on a new look when they're card cookies. Frosted, they're trimmed with cookie card symbols and raisin numbers. They'll be fun for your next card party.

COOL RAISIN CARDS

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 cup light brown sugar (packed)
- 1 egg
- 1/4 cup honey
- 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 cup chopped raisins
- 2 teaspoons cocoa

Raisins

Blend together shortening, sugar, egg and honey. Blend in flour sifted with soda and salt. Set aside 1/2 cup dough. Add spices and chopped raisins to remaining dough. Chill dough.

Then roll on lightly floured board to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut into 5 1/2 x 3 1/2-inch rectangles. Place an inch apart on lightly greased baking sheets.

Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F) about 10 minutes. Cool 5 minutes on baking sheet then remove to rack until completely cold.

For card symbols, blend cocoa into half the reserved dough, roll 1/2-inch thick and cut with small club and spade cutters. Color remaining reserved dough red with food coloring. Roll as before and cut in hearts and diamonds. Bake about 5 minutes on greased baking sheets.

Frost and decorate cookies with raisins and card symbols. Makes 9 large cookies.

PEANUTS AND ONIONS

- 1 1/2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 1/2 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 cups cooked sliced onions
- 1/2 cup finely chopped salted peanuts
- 1/4 cup fine dry crumbs mixed

Melt butter or margarine, blend in flour and seasonings. Add milk and cook slowly until thickened, stirring constantly.

Make alternate layers of onions, peanuts, and sauce in a baking dish. Sprinkle crumbs over the top. Brown at 400 degrees (hot oven) about 20 minutes.

Or serve as a creamed dish, omitting the crumbs and heating over low heat or boiling water. Makes 4 servings.

Make Supper Dish

Tear crisp western iceberg lettuce and fresh spinach into bite-size pieces. Toss with herb and garlic dressing. Sprinkle with crumbled cooked bacon and crumbled blue cheese.

A delicious go-along for grilled egg salad sandwiches or cream of tomato soup and crusty hot bread.

Grown Ups Treat

More popular than popcorn are buttery roasted almonds sprinkled with coarse salt and curry powder and mixed with a combination of plump dark and golden seedless raisins. This for the grown-ups hors d'oeuvres board.

HONEY FRUIT UPSIDE DOWN CAKE

Is Full of Vitamins

Thaw 12 ounce package frozen, sliced peaches, and 14 ounce can frozen pineapple chunks. Drain well and pour juices into a bowl. Add 2 tablespoons lemon and 2 tablespoons orange juice to other juices and mix well. Blend well. Stir in peanuts and oats. Drop by heaping teaspoons onto ungreased cookie sheets.

Bake in preheated moderate oven (375 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 4 dozen.

Oranges Come North

The first seedless navel oranges grown in the United States were from a dozen budding saplings brought from Bahia, Brazil in 1871. A horticulturist with the Department of Agriculture brought the saplings.

Pare and section 3 seedless oranges and 2 seedless grapefruit. Place all fruits in serving bowl and pour combined fruit juices over all.

Add Healthful Rolled Oats to Peanut Drop Cookies

Rolled oats contain the highest quantity and quality protein of any pure-grain cereal. Oats also provide valuable amounts of other necessary nutrients—thiamine, riboflavin, iron, phosphorus and manganese—all for just 107 calories per serving!

Versatile rolled oats add chewiness and toasty-good flavor to breads, delicious nut-like flavor and interesting texture to cookies and in meat loaves and other meat dishes, oats lock in flavorful meat juices.

Peanut Cookies

- 1/2 cup shortening, soft
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1 cup firmly-packed brown sugar

- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1 cup salted peanuts
- 2 cups quick or old fashioned, oats uncooked

Beat shortening, sugars, eggs and vanilla together until creamy. Sift together flour, salt, soda. Add to creamed mixture. Blend well. Stir in peanuts and oats. Drop by heaping teaspoons onto ungreased cookie sheets.

Bake in preheated moderate oven (375 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 4 dozen.

POPCORN STRING-ALONGS

These are interesting sweet "kabobs" to serve for a picnic dessert. Make tiny caramel popcorn balls before you leave home; melt 25 caramels with two tablespoons hot water in a double boiler. Stir until smooth. Pour over two quarts popped corn and toss until well coated. Moisten hands slightly with cold water and shape popcorn into small balls. At the picnic, string the caramel popcorn balls, marshmallows and gum drops on long skewers.

CONTINENTAL BREAKFAST — Spring comes streaming in to the breakfast table where hot, fragrant coffee and warm, golden brioche are waiting. Well, anyway, spring is inside.

Buttery French Rolls Make Breakfast a Real Treat

With the most delectable breads and cakes sending their fragrance from patisseries on every street, it's a wonder any Parisian woman ever bakes at home.

Baked treats greet the French at continental breakfast each morning and lure them into the cafes for coffee and pastry every afternoon.

The French touch can invade your home at breakfast time with these delicious Petites Brioche. The dainty, fluted yeast rolls are so rich they hardly need be buttered, though of course, butter makes them extra good.

Each brioche has a golden brown dome, created by inserting a separate piece of dough into the folds of the rolls before baking.

And the coffee? To be very, very French, serve fragrant cafe au lait. In separate pots, prepare steaming milk and hot coffee, then pour together simultaneously into cups.

Petites Brioche

1 package active dry yeast
¾ cup warm water (105 degrees to 115 degrees)

¼ cup milk
¼ cup soft butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
4 cups sifted all-purpose flour (about)

3 eggs
2 egg yolks, divided

Melted butter

1 tablespoon milk

Sprinkle yeast on warm water; let stand 5 to 10 minutes.

Scald milk. Combine butter, sugar and salt; add hot milk; let stand until lukewarm. Stir in ¾ cup flour. Stir softened yeast; add; mix well. Beat in ¼ cups flour.

Add eggs and 4 of the egg yolks one at a time, beating well after each addition. Beat in enough of the remaining flour to make a soft dough. Beat for at least 5 minutes.

Turn into large greased bowl; brush top with melted butter. Cover. Refrigerate 12 hours or overnight.

Turn out on lightly floured surface. Shape ¾ of dough into 1½-inch balls. Place in small greased brioche pans or 2-inch muffin pans. Shape an equal number of small balls from remaining dough.

Roll each small ball into a cone-shape. Make a shallow dent in center of each large ball; insert tips of cones. Cover with towel. Let rise in warm place until doubled.

Combine remaining egg yolk and 1 tablespoon milk; brush over surface of brioche. Bake at 400 degrees for about 15 to 18 minutes, or until deep golden brown. Makes 18.

Uncle Sam Keeps Eye on Tea Imports

NEW YORK (UPI) — The authenticity of the tea you buy is insured by the U.S. Pure Food and Drug Law.

The National Association for the Specialty Food Trade Inc. reports that all tea arriving in the United States is put in bonded warehouses until approved by the Tea Examiner at the U.S. Customs. The standard of tea allowed into the country is determined once a year by a board of tea experts.

Outdoor Cooking Has Its Rules for Safety

Whether your equipment is as simple as a foil-lined hole in the ground and clothes hanger skewers, or a portable grill with metal skewers, follow the basic rules of fire building and barbecue cooking.

Line the fire bowl with heavy duty foil for easier cleaning. Then add a layer of gravel to serve as a base for the fire. The gravel will absorb the drippings as well as provide a draft for the fire.

Pile charcoal briquettes in the fire bowl. Two pounds are usually sufficient for the average grill. Next, soak the charcoal with lighter fluid.

Never use fuel oil, kerosene, or gasoline.

After the charcoal is thoroughly saturated, light it. It takes 20 minutes of burning before a charcoal fire is ready for cooking.

When the charcoal is about two-thirds covered with grey ash, spread the briquettes about one-inch apart over the cooking area.

Use a string for neat results if a cake must be cut while it is hot.

SPECIAL VEGETABLE DUO—Combine one can condensed cream of mushroom soup, one can or jar (1 lb.) whole onions, two cans (1 lb. each) cut green beans with three tablespoons chopped nuts, one-fourth cup pimiento strips and one-half cup grated cheese. Put into baking dish and sprinkle with another one-half cup grated cheese. Bake in 350-degree oven 30 minutes, or until hot and cheese is melted. Makes six servings.

Pie Made With Convenience Foods

No question but that the right no woman alive can help feeling dessert is a spirit-lifter that brings a kind of glow into the family circle.

When they happily push back their chairs and say complimentary things about the cook because the final touch of the dinner was particularly pleasing.

Check Carton Date for Egg Freshness

When you buy eggs, your best assurance of getting the quality you pay for is to make sure they have been graded according to USDA standards.

And check the date of grading. If they've been federally graded, each carton will be marked either with the date and month or the day of the year — like, "70" is March 11, the 70th day of 1966. If they were graded more than 10 days before you buy them, be wary; expect some loss of quality from the original grade.

Prepare pie crust according to package directions. Use pastry to line a 9-inch pie plate, fluting a high edge. Prick heavily with a fork. Bake in a preheated hot oven (425 degrees) for 12 to 15 minutes or until crust is golden brown. Cool on a rack.

Prepare custard according to package directions. Stir in orange rind and nutmeg. Pour custard into baked pie shell. Chill until firm.

Spoon blueberry pie filling over custard. Garnish top of pie with whipped cream mixed with confectioners' sugar. Garnish each mound of cream with a fresh orange section. Chill until ready to serve.

The pie filling and the custard are chilled, not baked, and the touch of orange and nutmeg gives a special touch. You'll be happy if you're never without the makings for this blueberry pie again.

Blueberry Custard Pie

1 package pie crust mix

1 package (2½ oz.) egg custard mix

Grated rind of 1 orange

1 teaspoon ground nutmeg

1 can (1 lb., 5 oz.) blueberry pie filling

¾ cup heavy cream, whipped

2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar

Fresh orange sections

Fry Cereal Biscuits

For a breakfast treat, melt 3 tablespoons of butter or margarine in a large fry pan. Lightly brown 6 round shredded wheat biscuits in butter, turning to brown both sides. Top each biscuit with a poached egg. Makes 6 servings.

Turn into large greased bowl; brush top with melted butter. Cover. Refrigerate 12 hours or overnight.

Turn out on lightly floured surface. Shape ¾ of dough into 1½-inch balls. Place in small greased brioche pans or 2-inch muffin pans. Shape an equal number of small balls from remaining dough.

Roll each small ball into a cone-shape. Make a shallow dent in center of each large ball; insert tips of cones. Cover with towel. Let rise in warm place until doubled.

Combine remaining egg yolk and 1 tablespoon milk; brush over surface of brioche. Bake at 400 degrees for about 15 to 18 minutes, or until deep golden brown. Makes 18.

LAMB STUFFED PEPPERS—Green peppers stuffed with moist, tender milk-fed spring lamb are a pleasant change from more conventional fillings. Sweet pickle relish enhances the flavor, while canned tomato sauce with cheese provides the topping.

Jellied Dessert Has Flavor of Wine

This dessert may be prepared the day before your party.

Jellied Wine Molds

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup each cold water and boiling water
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup pineapple syrup (from canned pineapple)
1/4 cup lemon juice
2 1/2 cups medium - sweet red wine

In a bowl, sprinkle gelatin over cold water to soften; add boiling water and stir to dissolve gelatin. Add remaining ingredients; stir to dissolve sugar. Turn into eight 1/2-cup molds; set in a large pan; chill until set; cover pan.

At serving time, unmold. Garnish with canned pineapple, if you like. Makes 8 servings.

Spicy Lamb Mixture Fills Pepper Halves

A homemaker at the helm in the kitchen can always satisfy her family's tastes by steering a conventional course with familiar foods. Much more exciting is to steer off that course from time to time with a touch of the new injected into the old.

Take green peppers as an example. Stuff and bake them? Of course, but this time let's use milk-fed spring lamb as a base for the filling.

The butcher will accommodate your wish for ground lamb by grinding boneless lamb from the neck, breast, shanks and flank . . . all fresh and moist for your use.

With the lamb as a base you'll continue on with familiar ingredients much like those used in making lamb loaf. For a real pick-up add sweet pickle relish. This tangy addition will mingle with the meat and enhance the over-all flavor of the filling.

Lamb Stuffed Peppers

Water
1 pound ground lamb
4 eggs
1/2 cup sweet pickle relish
1 small onion, finely chopped
2 tablespoons dry bread crumbs
1/4 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon oregano leaves
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce with cheese

Have green peppers lengthwise; remove seeds and membrane. Cook in boiling salted water 3 minutes; drain. Mix together lamb, egg, pickle relish, onion, bread crumbs, milk and seasonings.

Fill pepper halves with lamb mixture. Place in shallow baking pan. Bake in 350 degrees (moderate) oven 35 minutes. Heat tomato sauce and serve on stuffed peppers. Makes 4 servings.

Bean Rabbit Is Cheese Sauced

Whether you spell it "rabbit," or "rarebit," you'll find "Blue Lake Rabbit" a wonderful luncheon, supper or after-the-show dish. It's made in moments, and the recipe can easily be doubled or tripled for a crowd.

Blue Lake green beans in meatless casseroles such as this one or in ground-beef or lamb casseroles contribute unique flavor and inviting spring-green color.

Blue Lake Rabbit

1 can (1 lb.) cut green beans
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
Dash cayenne
1/2 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 cup diced American cheese
Paprika (optional)
Toasted, buttered English muffins

Drain beans. Melt butter in saucepan. Blend in flour, salt, mustard and cayenne. Add milk and Worcestershire; cook, stirring, until thickened and smooth. Add cheese; cook and stir over low heat until cheese is melted. Spoon mixture into 3 individual casseroles. Dust with paprika. Serve with English muffins. Makes 3 servings.

Transit Dept. OK Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce John Connor predicted Wednesday that Congress soon will approve the creation of a Department of Transportation.

Connor, addressing the Highway Transportation Congress here, said such a department "is good for our country, is good for the transportation industry and it is good for highway transportation."

"I anticipate early and favorable congressional action," he added.

President Johnson recently proposed the new department to assume the responsibilities for the federal-aid highway program and other transportation programs now in the Commerce Department.

Roy Abernethy, president of American Motors Corp. and of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, told the congress the proposed traffic safety act would require a "cabinet officer" to make detailed judgments that only experts in vehicle design have the capacity and training to make."

IRS Lists Points for 11th-Hour Filers to Double-Check

WASHINGTON (AP) — One million to file their returns in the last two weeks.

However, as of April 8, the last day a count was made and only one week before the deadline, 43.8 million taxpayers had sent in their return, leaving an estimated 22.3 million still doing their figuring the last week.

Arithmetic — make sure it's right.

Social Security number — be sure you put it on your income tax form and get it right.

Name and address — type or print it clearly; if you have a refund, the Internal Revenue Service — IRS — doesn't want it coming back to them.

MOST COMMON
These are the most common causes for faulty returns, a tax man said today.

The IRS expects to collect 66 million individual income tax returns this year — roughly 2 million more than last year.

Knowing from experience the habits of the American taxpayer, er, IRS expected one-third, or 22 million to file their returns in the last two weeks.

However, as of April 8, the last day a count was made and only one week before the deadline, 43.8 million taxpayers had sent in their return, leaving an estimated 22.3 million still doing their figuring the last week.

Returns must be postmarked by midnight Friday.

The hardest job is not filling out the tax return, IRS Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen says.

"It is the maintenance of reasonably good records so that you can have the information available at the end of the year," Cohen told a House Appropriations subcommittee recently.

As for that arithmetic, Cohen said the new master file system "enables us to verify more completely than ever before the mathematical accuracy of returns filed and to recompute the taxes or refunds due."

It's a curious psychological factor, Cohen said, that the number of errors in arithmetic runs 2 to 1 in the taxpayers' favor.

Last year, refiguring of mathematical errors brought in an additional $194 million to the government and about $84 million in refunds to taxpayers who had not expected them.

Abandoned Cars Major Problem in Suburbs

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Abandoned cars have always been a problem for police departments. But since the state's uninsured motorists law went into effect, the problem has increased and in some areas the taxpayer is shouldering the burden.)

DETROIT (AP)—Old, beat up cars, too expensive to repair or pay $35 dollars to operate, are being junked on the streets of Detroit's suburbs.

The problem, suburban officials say, is a continuing one but has been on the increase since the uninsured motorists law was passed by the State Legislature.

Under the law, a motorist must show proof he has liability insurance when he purchases new license plates or pay the state $35. The $35 goes into a fund to pay damages to motorists whose cars are involved in accidents with uninsured drivers.

"People aren't going to pay $35 to the state to drive an uninsured car that isn't worth that much," said Police Sgt. Lee Yoozo of Center Line. "They're going to leave the car in the street and let somebody else worry about what to do with it."

COSTS TAXPAYERS
Yoozo said it costs Center Line taxpayers $10 every time an abandoned car is towed to the city pound.

The problem is just as bad in other suburbs but his multi-planned since the new insurance law took effect this year.

Officials in River Rouge and Wayne say the number of improperly licensed vehicles parked on private property at this year's changeover to new plates tripled over a year ago. Wyandotte Police counted 30 improperly licensed cars parked on private property or in the street in the past month.

Center Line and Madison Heights police say they have towed away twice as many abandoned cars in March as they did in the same month last year. The amount tripled in Warren.

FOUND FILLED
Pontiac, Ecorse, Lincoln Park, Iola.

Royal Oak, Wyandotte and Inkster report their car pounds are filled.

"We have a lot of vacant lots down here and people just bring their cars here and leave them," said Police Sgt. Elwin Duhaudway of Ecorse. "I have a pound that holds 150 cars. As fast as I get rid of one I can put another one in the same hole."

"Our yard is full and our barn is full and we are trying to get a temporary piece of property to take care of all the cars we haul the car away."

Oak Park and Lincoln Park have amended city codes to give police power to haul away improperly licensed cars left on private property.

NO PUBLIC AUCTION
East Detroit has stopped holding public auctions, one way police departments get rid of unclaimed cars left in the police pound. Police say they break even by having the cars hauled away by a salvage firm.

Dearborn has adopted an ordinance making it a crime to abandon a car. The fine, on car market and the price of junk has contributed to the problem.

Most police and city officials agree the new law has increased the number of abandoned cars, but that a decline in the use of junk has contributed to the problem.

"This has been coming for a long time," said Arthur Grieg, director of building safety for River Rouge. "This new law has just made it worse. You can't give junkers away."

Roseville Police Chief Charles Brazel agrees in part.

"Now the junk yards want to be paid for taking the cars."

The cars are piling up faster than they can be hauled off, but says there were 404,918 motor vehicle accidents in Massachusetts last year. The association used the figures to back up its support of a bill to establish minimum tire safety standards in the state.

Oak have adopted a plan where, if the car owner will turn over his title, the police will haul the car away.

Portuguese Holding Ship Hauling Oil for Rhodesia

BEIRA, Mozambique (UPI)—Portuguese authorities today took control of the Greek-owned tanker Ioanna V and its crew, saying the ship was carrying oil for Rhodesia. The ship was en route to Rhodesia's oil refinery. The tanker's Greek registry was switched to Panamanian flag lowered.

It was not immediately clear what would now happen to the ship or its 18,000 tons of crude oil. But it appeared unlikely that any oil would be unloaded at this Portuguese port, the seaward end of a pipeline to Rhodesia.

Beira Port Captain Fragata Antonio de Rocha Calmonda and an official from the Panamanian consul boarded the vessel this afternoon and announced it was being placed under control of Portuguese authorities.

The action came only a few hours after a special Portuguese government envoy arrived in Salisbury for talks with Premier Ian Smith's breakaway regime. The Lisbon envoy is Jorge Jardim, director of the Portuguese oil company Sonap. Jardim often acts as Premier Antonio Salazar's personal troubleshooter in Africa.

BRITISH EMBARGO
The Ioanna V defied a British embargo on oil shipments to Rhodesia Monday and slipped into dock here only a few feet away from the pipeline leading to Rhodesia's oil refinery. The tanker's Greek registry was switched to Panamanian flag lowered.

Crews were reported ready to begin unloading the tanker's oil within 30 minutes of any official notice. All that remained to be done was to complete the pipelines from the ship to those of the refinery.

Independence to Force Issue

Who Will Be Swaziland's First Lady?

LOBAMBA, Swaziland (AP)—Independence, with social functions coming up that will require the presence of a woman at the king's side, choice of a first lady assumes importance.

Which of his uncountable tribal wives gets the title of Swaziland's first lady?

Down at the mud-hutted royal kraal — village — of Lobamba a lot of wifely bickering is going on. Some of the king's elder spouses maintain that tribal seniority gives them first choice for the coveted title. But few of the wives can agree on who is the senior.

King Sobhuza, like most African chiefs, has been practicing the age-old tribal custom of polygamy for nearly 40 years. That adds up to a lot of wives.

DIDN'T MATTER MUCH

And, according to tribal law, the senior wife doesn't necessarily have to be the oldest.

During the years of traditional tribal rule it hasn't seemed to matter much which wife was singled out for priority rating. But as Swaziland moves into the 21st century, the choice of a first lady is a status symbol. The more wives a Swazi can boast the higher his social standing.

Sobhuza at 67 ranks about tops on the political and social ladder. Swaziland's 270,000 tribespeople refer to him as the "Ngunyama" — Lion.

He heads the ruling all-black Imbokodo — King's — party in this Connecticut-sized protectorate.

Sobhuza's frequent wife-taking over the years has proved better than any high-power electioneering campaign. He has acquired a wife in most major towns and villages. Their sons automatically became royal chiefs and the daughters mostly married upper-crust tribal chiefs and headmen.

IMPOSSIBLE TASK

Enumerating his wives and royal offspring is an impossible task. Birthdays and wedding anniversaries don't count for much.

"He has scores of wives and hundreds of children," ventured one royal courtier. "The king certainly doesn't remember many of their names — who would with a family of that size?"

The final choice of first lady will probably be left to the elderly queen mother and the country's top political advisers.

Voice of McNamara Detractors Growing at Capitol

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Seen through the eyes of the congressman who shape the Pentagon budget, Robert Strange McNamara is either an astute manager or an arrogant boss of military affairs.

Which view you get depends on who you talk to on Capitol Hill.

It has been five years since the former "whiz kid" and president of Ford Motor Co. took on the Pentagon job, one that some consider impossible. And now criticism of his tenure is growing.

McNamara is no stranger to criticism, but today the voice of his detractors is growing at the Capitol.

Recent developments have been interpreted by some to suggest that the congressional fire may be intense enough to impair his effectiveness.

SHARPLY CRITICAL

Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Services Committee has been sharply critical of late, and there is a definite coolness between Rivers' important committee and McNamara.

Rivers recently suspended hearings on the new defense budget, complaining that McNamara had failed to supply data the committee sought.

On the Senate side, Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the preparedness subcommittee has an equally chilly view of the defense boss.

Stennis recently charged McNamara disregarded the intent of Congress when he deactivated Army Reserve units after Congress adjourned last fall.

HAVE BEEN NETTLED

Other members of Congress have been nettled by McNamara's closing of defense bases and controversial contract awards.

Even more irritating to some of his critics is what they call the "McNamara style." Some of them call it arrogance.

It is doubly exasperating to some lawmakers because McNamara is rarely caught with his facts down.

More than one legislator took satisfaction in a McNamara admission in a recent Senate committee hearing that he had made a mistake in estimating helicopter needs.

For some lawmakers, it was the first time in five years that they could remember McNamara admitting he had made an error.

The critics' views are bel-lanced, however, by the views of men of equal stature, congressmen as important to the Pentagon chief as Stennis and Rivers.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee is one. His subcommittee on military appropriations gets the first look at the Pentagon budget.

In the past Russell has said the nation will always be grateful for McNamara's reshaping of the Pentagon structure.

Nowadays Russell tells newsmen he does not care to comment on the secretary's performance or his troubles with others in the Senate and House.

Teacher Enters Race

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—F. Lange Montfort, 34, a Grand Rapids Junior High School teacher, announced his candidacy Wednesday for the Republican nomination as state representative from the 2nd District. The incumbent is Rep. Stanley J. Davis, D-Grand Rapids, former mayor.

POWER PACKAGE — American Motors has announced a new sports-type Rambler American hardtop featuring an all-new 290-cubic-inch V8 engine as standard equipment. The power package includes a choice of "four-on-the-floor" and a special handling feature. It is the first time the American has been available with other than a six-cylinder engine.

Protein Study May Be Cancer Cure Step

By Science Service

ATLANTIC CITY—Why should a man need tons of meat and other high-protein food during his lifetime when the food only breaks down into a complex of chemicals anyway before it can be used by his body?

Why not eat the chemicals called amino acids, directly?

The answer to these questions, now partially solved, may be an important step toward curing cancer.

Dr. George L. Tritsch, a biochemist of Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, said,

N.Y., has for the first time seen large portions of unchanged proteins taken up directly by human cells growing in cultures. Such incorporation of "foreign" protein seems to be essential to cell growth, he told scientists attending the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology meeting here.

If this is the case, it may be possible by making the small chemical changes to introduce separate amino acids needed for the normal process of developing new protein and new cells.

In his research Dr. Tritsch used both hamster and human cells incubated with the purest proteins that can be taken from human blood-serum albumin. After a week's incubation the cells were cracked open to reveal the fate of the "foreign" proteins.

About a third of each albumin molecule had become attached to the cells. These sections had never broken down into the separate amino acids needed for the normal process of developing new protein and new cells.

Atomic Clocks Could Be Used to Test the Theory of Relativity

By Science Service
NEW YORK — Einstein's general relativity theory could be tested now by comparing how atomic clocks at sea level keep time with those placed atop Mt. Everest.

The comparison would give the second earthbound clock on the validity of Einstein's theory.

It can be made because man can now measure time with an accuracy of fifty ten-trillionths of a second.

The variations caused by Einstein's theory would amount to only one second in every million million, or trillion.

However, by using several atomic maser clocks at each location, the test could be made now.

ATOMIC CLOCKS

Within a few years, atomic clocks accurate to within one-tenth of a second for each quadrillion seconds should be developed.

With this accuracy, one atomic maser clock in each location would give an easy test of Einstein's general theory of relativity.

The suggestion was made here in Physical Review Letters by Dr. W. J. Cooke of Aerospace Corp., El Segundo, Calif.

The first attempt to measure the effect of gravitational attraction on earthbound objects was made in 1960.

PREVIOUS CHECKS

Previous checks had been made only by astronomical observations, for which the precision is not as high as some scientists would like.

The Einstein effect to be checked is known as the gravitational red shift. It is a test of the principle of equivalence, one of the basic assumptions of general relativity theory.

The equivalence principle is that no detectable difference exists between the force of gravity and the force produced by acceleration outside a gravitational field.

Another effect, also predicted by Einstein as part of his special theory of relativity and then made part of the general theory, could be tested by atomic maser clocks.

This is the time dilation caused by the earth's rotation on clocks located at widely separated places on earth's surface.

Dr. Cooke's calculations show that the relativistic drifts cancel each other out, no matter how far apart the clocks are located on the surface.

Puppy Love Just Ain't What It Used to Be

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—"Him? I didn't think you even knew he existed, Ellen."
"Really, Jason, I don't think you even know what love means."
These are a couple of remarks I heard my daughter, Tracy Ann, make recently over the telephone, an instrument which has become so firmly attached to her ear that I am thinking of having it removed by surgical means.
I am not a parent who believes in eavesdropping but kids today bellow their secrets into a phone so loud you can hear them all over the house.

BOYLE

I remembered then in my own case of puppy love in the seventh grade. I wrote not six names on a blackboard, but one in my heart.

wocky over the telephone between small fry amounts to, it isn't puppy love.
Not real puppy love, anyway. Real puppy love isn't noisy and carefree and gossipy. Real puppy love is solitary, silent, soulful suffering—the spirit laid bare and shuddering and helpless to cure its own agony.

I remembered then in my own case of puppy love in the seventh grade. I wrote not six names on a blackboard, but one in my heart.

She was a girl half a head taller than I, and I sold newspapers on the streets for days to save up enough to buy her a box of Valentine candy, and she promptly gave a piece to the tallest boy in the class.

BEST FRIEND

This boy was my best friend and I sat in the row between him and her, and I had to pass back and forth the notes they wrote each other, and I never read a line. I have had to do some bitter chores in my life since then, but none that ever degraded me more or left me more forlorn.
Well, he grew up and died, and she grew up and married, and I grew up and moved away, and I never really told her that I loved her, and I never will.

All this happened back in 1918, and so far as I know puppy love has been going downhill ever since. They don't have men back in the seventh grade anymore who can stand up to its torture. Six names on a blackboard—Hal Child's play. But I guess it's better that way.

New Lives in U.S. for Cuba Refugees

MIAMI (UPI) — The journey was only an hour to "The Magic City." To the passengers, that Miami slogan was no tourist come-on. To them the magic of Miami was the magic of freedom. And the wait had been long.

The big silver transport came down from a mottled sky. It was the morning flight, one of two daily from Varadero, Cuba, about 85 miles east of Havana, into Miami International Airport.

Down the landing ramp they came, 32 Cuban refugees, set feet on solid American asphalt, nodded hopefully to two U.S. Immigration Department girls who waved them into three buses.

Among them was one of the handsomest little girls alive.

She was Viviana, 6 years old. She wore a yellow jacket and in one hand she carried a doll. The other hand grasped that of a 39-year-old Cuban with a broad, flat nose and full black wavy hair, a very special man. To the passengers, that Miami slogan was no tourist come-on. To them the magic of Miami was the magic of freedom. And the wait had been long.

Generoso Rodriguez Guerra, a Havana street-cubicle vendor of women's clothing, was the 13,000th refugee to come in on the Cuban airlift since it began last Dec. 1.

He was arriving with Viviana this St. Patrick's Day to join his wife and younger daughter.

Down the ramp ahead of them had come dark and beautiful Clara Eusebia Muina, nearly 18, bound to join her family in Newark, N.J.

These two family arrivals were cases in point. Generoso and Viviana were to go to Miami, in those environs some 100,000 refugee Cubans live.

Clara represented a recent trend — now nearly 75 per cent of those coming to Miami are resettled outside Dade County (Miami and surrounding municipalities).

Where do they go? Where have they gone? What do they do? For one thing, they've impinged on the culture and economy of Miami — a city of great good tolerance and resilience — to a point that is immediately visible and audible and food-smellable to a visitor.

You come into Miami and are struck first by the signs. On the highway toll station: "Espera Luz Verde" (wait for the green light). On a storefront: "Sandwiches Cubanos." At an airport booth: "Seguros de Viaje" (travel insurance).

OUTSIDE SETTLEMENT

All this is far outside the big Cuban settlement and its main street.

The airlift brings in 300 to 1,000 refugees a five-day week — averaging 3,600 a month. It's a relative-to-relative program — a relative in the U.S. must claim those in Cuba.

So they go to relatives — those 75 per cent who are resettling — hopefully where there are jobs.

Generoso Rodriguez Guerra cares little about being the 13,000th in a list of statistics. He's thankful he got out. The bus took him and his daughter 11½ miles to Opa Locka, a Miami suburb.

There at the Cuban Refugee Center's compound he registered for a job. Any job.

More than 10,000 job offers from around the country have come to the "Freedom Tower" offices of the center since President Johnson made his "Asylum for the Oppressed" speech, last Oct. 3.

As for jobs, and human types, the Opa Locka processors say the refugees are "a pretty good cross-section" of Cuba.

At the Opa Locka compound, Rodriguez Guerra and Viviana were met by his wife, Carmen, 30, and they drove home to see Grisel, 3½, who came out with her mother in August 1962.

Steers Snack at Midnight

By Science Service

ATLANTIC CITY — Cattle like midnight snacks, but, unlike humans, they eat better if all the lights are on.

Dr. Paul A. Putnam, a Department of Agriculture scientist, reported that cattle do about one-fourth of their feeding at night with or without lights.

However, continuous lighting prompts the steers to space their feeding more evenly throughout 24 hours.

Possibly spacing the eating improves the conversion of feed to meat.

If so, it would explain why lighted feed lots often raise the financial returns on beef, Dr. Putnam told the annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology here.

HONORED — Greek Ambassador to the United States Alexander A. Matsa (right) presents Socrates V. Sekles, 185 Ottawa, with a decoration from the King of Greece, the Commander of the Royal Order of King George the First. Given for "meritorious service to the ideals and principles of Greece," this is the highest award that Greece can bestow upon a noncitizen. Sekles also was given the Order of Great Archon Referredenthoru of the Greek Orthodox Church. Both presentations were made recently in Washington, D.C.

Some Living Things Tell Time Without a Clock

WASHINGTON—Flowers, potatoes, bees, bats, and oysters are among living things that can tell time without a clock.

A flower placed in a dim room with unchanging temperature continues to open at sunrise, the National Geographic Society says.

How the flower unfolds on schedule has become the subject of spirited debate among biologists.

Bees that find nectar on a flower may return the following day at the same time to pick up a new supply; they seem to know that a plant exudes nectar at fixed times of day.

A night-flying bat does not need to check the entrance of its cave every few minutes to see if evening has come. Instead the bat sleeps peacefully through the day, relying on a biological clock to wake it at the proper time.

FOR A TIME

An oyster taken from the Atlantic Ocean to a laboratory in Illinois continues for a time to open its shell to eat at the time of the Atlantic tides.

Eventually the oyster resets its clock in accordance with the time a tide would occur if there were tides in Illinois.

Scientists speculate that the oyster senses the gravitational pull of the moon, which creates tides.

CONSTANTLY RESET

Biological clocks are constantly reset, biologists find. The buds of some plants do not open until the length of night shortens to about eight hours, then a mysterious signal flashes to the buds and they burst into bloom.

A plant's clock can sometimes be reset or upset by exposing the plant to a flash of light lasting less than a second.

Staying on time may be more than a convenience for an animal or plant.

Some biologists believe that proper timekeeping is a matter of life or death. Hence, scientists are eager to learn what might happen to a plant or animal traveling far away from earthly influences.

Small Civilian Teams Treat Sick in Viet

LONG XUYEN, South Vietnam (UPI) — Small teams of Vietnamese of the nature of serious illness. There is no sewerage out here in the back woods. Many people have never seen a hypodermic, much less received inoculations against even the simplest diseases.

The doctors and nurses came here from the U.S., Australia, Korea and the Philippines.

There are not nearly enough of the units and most of those here are not getting the support they need.

Here in Long Xuyen, 75 miles southwest of Saigon, is a team of 10 Australian doctors and nurses led by Dr. Desmond Hurley of Melbourne.

At Truc Giang, in the Mekong Delta paddy fields south and east of here, is an Iranian group of 20 led by an army colonel.

SIX COLLEAGUES

At Tay Ninh, along the Cambodian border in the foothills of the Annamite Mountains, Dr. Paterno Marquez of the Philippines has six men working with him.

All of these teams are located in lonely country, and all of them see their share of war. But their real interest lies in helping the sick rather than the wounded.

"Battle casualties are easy," says Hurley. "They're either as good as dead and there's nothing you can do, or there's nothing that will kill them."

Typhoid and tuberculosis are two of the biggest problems. Infections are another. So is a simple lack of knowledge among Marquez says his laboratory can do no more than determine the blood group of a patient. He is unable to obtain blood supplies and even if he could he has no refrigeration to store it.

He has an X-ray machine, but it is not delicate enough to pick up small fragments of shrapnel that may be embedded in a patient's abdomen. He has asked time and again for a new one, but had had no response.

Junior Editors Quiz on BUTTERFLIES

QUESTION: What happens in the lives of butterflies and caterpillars?

ANSWER: Many interesting things happen, the most remarkable being a complete change, or metamorphosis. Butterflies' eggs are generally laid singly or in groups on the underside of the leaves (1).

These leaves serve as food for that queer little creature, the caterpillar, one of which emerges from each egg, looking not at all like their fluttering winged mothers.

Caterpillars may seem a bit repulsive, but are most interesting to watch and study. They have heads with chewing mouth parts which can bite into leaves.

Underneath are six small legs, and further down a set of false or unjointed legs. Caterpillars have an amusing trick of standing on these and rearing up the front of the body (2).

After eating enormously and changing its skin several times, the caterpillar becomes a "pupa" or "chrysalis." A hard case forms around it, generally hanging from a twig or leaf (3).

Inside, an amazing change has taken place. The body becomes soft, like cream, and inside this a differently-shaped insect begins to form.

Finally, the shell of the pupa cracks and out comes that glorious creature, a butterfly. For a while, the butterfly rejoices us with its brilliant colors; then it lays its eggs, and the cycle begins again.

FOR YOU TO DO: Color our monarch butterfly a rich red orange. And keep an eye open for a pupa hanging from a leaf or twig. Take it inside and watch what happens after a while.

People's reaction: "You look great!"

To dress well—and spend only a reasonable amount of time and money doing it—select your clothes where the selection itself reflects good taste. Then, trust fitters who alter the suits you choose to fit you with easy perfection.

Two Municipal Judges Unopposed in Election

Pontiac Voters to Pick 7 Commissioners

The immediate political fate of 15 candidates for City Commission will be decided Monday by Pontiac voters.

Paired off by districts, 14 candidates have been nominated for voter consideration. A 15th candidate has been drafted and agreed to run as a write-in.

Ballots in all seven of the city's election districts will have 14 names on the commission portion of the ballot.

Two other names will appear on the ballot (located at the extreme right side). These are the names of Pontiac's two municipal judges, Maurice E. Finnegan and Cecil B. McCallum.

The veteran members of the local bench are unopposed for new six-year terms.

NO PRIMARY

District 3 voters will be turning out Monday for the first time this year. The west side district did not have a primary when only two candidates filed for the commission seat.

Adding two votes

for the municipal judges, each elector Monday may cast a total of nine votes while behind the election booth curtain.

Each elector may cast seven commission votes for seven different individuals - voting for one candidate from each of the city's seven election districts.

In District 7, three candidates are seeking election. However, only two candidates were nominated in the March 7 primary.

The third individual is a write-in candidate.

In order to cast a write-in vote, the voter must lift the metal tab on the slots provided across the top of the machine above the write-in candidate's home district.

One of the metal slots above the names of that district's nominees must be raised and the name of the write-in candidate written on the exposed paper.

A write-in candidate

carries an obvious handicap into the battle for votes, but election is not impossible.

The late Emmett S. Wellbaum, who finished out of the running in the primary, beat out the then-incumbent as a write-in candidate in the 1964 general election.

Based on candidacies comments, the issues of the current election campaign include: (1) public housing, (2) downtown and urban renewal redevelopment, (3) the police and firemen wage dispute, and (4) related city service and financial problems.

On this page and the facing page, you will find background material on candidates in each district as well as a list of polling places and map showing where the city's election districts are located.

District 1

T. WARREN FOWLER SR.

His statement: "I pledge continuation of harmony and cooperation on the City Commission for continuing progress in every district of the city."

"Continue to work toward total and logical redevelopment of downtown Pontiac. Completion of long-needed sewer and water projects now underway. Continuation of the greatly improved street lighting installations to aid in the protection of our citizens."

"Further increase the number of policemen to protect our citizens."

"More city-sponsored recreation facilities and playgrounds throughout the city."

"Insure full and equal employment and upgrading opportunities in all phases of city employment."

"I pledge to uphold every citizen's right to equal protection and fair enforcement of the law."

Two businessmen, T. Warren Fowler Sr. and Charles M. Tucker Jr., are opponents for the District 1 seat on the seven-member City Commission.

Fowler, 55, is the incumbent, seeking a second two-year term, while Tucker is seeking his first city post.

A city resident for 38 years, Fowler is president and founder of the Warren Fowler Electric Co. and founder of Fowler Heating and Cooling Co.

He was a member of the police trail board, 1956-64, and was elected to the commission in 1964.

Fowler is a former director of the Pontiac Area Urban League and serves as a trustee of Newman A.M.E. church.

THREE CHILDREN

He is married and has three children. He resides at 50 Lake.

Tucker, 33, of 161 Earlewood made an unsuccessful bid for a seat on the Pontiac School Board in 1958.

A real estate broker, Tucker is vice chairman of the Oakland County Planning Commission on Economic Opportunity.

He is a member of the city's and the school district's human relations committees. A member also of Newman A.M.E. Church, Tucker services on the Oakland County College Advisory Board.

CHAPTER HEAD

He is president of the Oakland County Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Tucker attended Highland Park Junior College and Wayne State University. A Korean War veteran, he is married and has two children.

CHARLES M. TUCKER JR.

His statement: "In the general election two years ago, the present incumbent from District 1 was defeated in his own district over 2 to 1 (1,300 to 625). In the recent primary election, District 1 had the highest vote of any district in the city. Nearly 1,000 persons voted against the incumbent."

"It is obvious the voters in District 1 are very much concerned about their representation."

"There must be community centers for all our young people. We must give the firemen, police and municipal employees the job and wage security equal to industry."

"We cannot continue to be divided by racial friction, mistrust and uniformed citizens. I will work cooperatively and intelligently in solving the many problems of our city with all of our citizens."

Kenneth H. Cumberworth, 50, of 32 Newberry has challenged incumbent Robert C. Irwin, 36, of 345 W. Iroquois.

Cumberworth, a Pontiac resident for 24 years, is one of the owners of Bob-Kay's Bar & Restaurant, while Irwin is associated with the real estate and insurance firm of John K. Irwin & Sons.

Cumberworth, who previously worked 24 years at Fisher Body Division, has been in business in downtown Pontiac for eight years.

He attended Pontiac schools and is active in fraternal affairs. He is a member of Masonic Temple 510 and Pontiac Elks Lodge No. 810 and last year headed the city's Michigan Seeking public office for the first time, Cumberworth is mar- local realtor are matched in the District 2 runoff Monday.

Irwin is seeking his second commission term. He was first elected in 1964.

A former citizen-member of the City Planning Commission for two years, Irwin is a graduate of Pontiac Central High School and Michigan State University. He has continued as a commission representative on the planning board.

Past president of the Pontiac Board of Realtors, Irwin has been active in fraternal affairs. He is married and has two children.

District 3

Political opponents in the District 3 race for the City Commission are William H. Taylor Jr. and William J. Winters.

WILLIAM H. TAYLOR

His statement: "In asking for the support of the citizens of Pontiac for reelection, I pledge to dedicate my time and efforts, with God's help, to programs and projects which will benefit all our people and for the good of the entire community."

"Momentum and continuity will play an important part in completing major projects already started and ready to be finalized. The biggest of which is the downtown development."

"We must continue the program initiated by your present commission. It has changed the image of Pontiac by giving stability to city affairs. Presenting a favorable climate has encouraged outside business, industry, commerce, developers and residents to consider Pontiac as a good place to live and work."

"The team effort has proven its effectiveness. Working together can accomplish our dreams for a better city."

Taylor, 50, of 247 Ottawa and Winters, 39, of 233 Ottawa did not engage in a primary contest since they were the only candidates to file for the District 3 post.

Taylor, Pontiac's mayor for the past two years, is seeking his fourth term on the City Commission.

He is assistant advertising manager at Pontiac Motor Division and was first elected to the commission in 1960. He was reelected in 1962 and 1964.

Active in the Pontiac Area United Fund and Junior Achievement, he is married and has three daughters.

PONTIAC SCHOOLS

Taylor attended Pontiac schools, Wayne State University and completed LaSalle Institute extension courses.

He was deputy chairman last year of Michigan Week in Oakland County.

Also last year, Taylor was named to a five-year term as member of the board of trustees of the Michigan Osteopathic College Foundation.

Winters has served three years on the City Planning Commission. He was first appointed in 1962.

DISTRICT MANAGER

A lifelong resident of Pontiac, Winters has been district manager of the Michigan Universal CIT Credit Corp. for 15 years.

A graduate of St. Frederick High School, he attended the University of Detroit. He is married and has one child.

Winters has been active in the Pontiac Elks Lodge 810, the American Legion, Eagle Aerie 3887, and the Knights of Columbus.

He has been a sponsor of the Pontiac Arrows football team and is a member of St. Benedict's Catholic Church.

WILLIAM J. WINTERS

His statement: "I am astonished at the present condition of the so-called urban renewal program. The downtown district of Pontiac begins to look like Hiroshima, with long vacant non-tax-producing land, disruption of revenue producing businesses and driving money out of town."

"I, without malice, oppose the present Mayor of Pontiac for spearheading and nearly succeeding in putting an income tax burden on the citizens of Pontiac, without a pretense of study, evaluation and report to the people, nor consideration of asking the people's approval."

"I am amazed at the flow from City Hall of secret decisions arrived at in secret meetings. It's time for a change."

"The housing situation in Pontiac is deplorable. I cannot perform magic, however, I would use federal funds now available to change this bad situation and would oppose ordinance 1270, I am for low income housing to aid the senior citizens."

District 4

GEORGE GRBA

His statement: "Our society will never be great until our cities are great. To have a great society we must solve the important problem of human dignity, the protection of family life. Without it there will be no great society, no neighborhood, no warm home life to remember!"

"The city of Pontiac lacks protection for the family-way-of-life. The people of Pontiac deserve a housing policy that lifts it out of despair."

We must make sure that no more Lakeside ghettos are built again. First it is necessary to rid the city of its 'third class' thinkers and return to quality housing, neighborhoods, and representative government."

"Pontiac needs a family plan. Comprehensive community plan, established residential, commercial and industrial districts. If you are interested in justice and not what sells, vote the family plan."

Two familiar faces are exhibited in the District 4 City Commission contest involving George Grba, a 1964 candidate, and incumbent Leslie H. Hudson.

Both men were on the primary ballot two years ago. Grba lost out in the primary, while Hudson went on to win election to the commission.

Grba, 35, of 28 Kimball is an employee of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

A native of Pontiac, he is a graduate of Ferris Institute and an Army veteran of the Korean conflict.

He is married and has two daughters.

TOPPED PRIMARY

Grba was the top vote-getter in the primary. This is his second try for the commission.

Incumbent Hudson, 43, of 215 Gallego who served as mayor pro tem for the past two years, is a hardware dealer and real estate broker.

He was a Democratic nominee for delegate to the 1961 Constitutional Convention, served as Waterford Township clerk, 1947-51, a county supervisor in 1952, and a state legislator, 1955-58.

Hudson was an unsuccessful congressional candidate in 1958. He is married and has four children.

The District 4 race is expected to be a close one. In 1964 Hudson topped Grba and other candidates in the primary, but in this year's primary, Grba's victory showed strength.

The north side district has one of the largest number of registered voters, with 5,858 on the city clerk's election rolls.

LESLIE H. HUDSON

His statement: "Working together as a City Commission, we have accomplished the following for the city of Pontiac since April, 1964:

"The Taubman proposal will revitalize our entire business district, the sanitary landfill problem has been solved for the next 25 years with the purchase and annexation of 235 acres to our city."

"The 489 new street lights are a defense against accidents and crime prevention, salaries in Pontiac are equal to or better than surrounding municipal employees."

"The Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine will be built in our city, and senior citizen apartments will become a reality in Pontiac."

"Solutions must yet be found for railroad grade separations, storm drainage and sanitary sewers, longer library hours, clean up pollution problems of the lake, and expand water and sewer services, additional police and fire protection."

K. H. CUMBERWORTH

His statement: "What kind of impression does our downtown area give to a city blessed with the industrial advantages that we enjoy?"

"Our urban renewal project was a creative brainstorm in its conception; but, how long must it remain a pregnant mass of unshapely ugliness and unproductive nothingness?"

"Why is the morale of our city employees at an all time low? Why has an unfair labor practice complaint been filed against Pontiac? Why a city income tax, when redevelopment alone will bring over $600,000 to our city budget annually? Why are over fifty percent of our homes listed as sub-standard? Why must we lack decent housing? Why does our city commission hide behind a veil of secrecy? Why is business and money leaving town? Why must we lack the benefits of a civic center? Why no answers instead of excuses?"

ROBERT C. IRWIN

His statement: "Two years ago the city of Pontiac was exposed to a situation which offered chaos, dissension, lack of direction within and without the city, and an image in the state of Michigan and the nation which none of us were proud of."

"Today, the city of Pontiac can be proud of the giant strides that have been taken. We have a working commission which is dedicated and determined to bring Pontiac back to its high position of respectability which it held in the past. The commission has worked diligently to attempt to encourage development in the downtown area and now we can see definite possibilities of a tremendous commercial development in the downtown area."

"There are, of course, many, many unsolved problems and we must continue to attempt to overcome each problem as it comes up. I feel that with my business and educational background I am qualified for reelection."

For Absent Voters

Ballot Deadline Near

Voters expecting to be absent from the city on election day may apply for an absentee ballot.

City Clerk Mrs. Olga Barkley said those eligible for absentee ballots have until 2 p.m. Saturday to make application at her office at City Hall.

An absentee voter ballot counting board has been established at City Hall to tally the absentee ballots.

In addition to being absent from the city, three other reasons can be the basis for voting an absentee ballot.

The reasons include a voter physically unable to get to the polls (illness or disability), a voter 70 years of age or older or a voter that cannot vote on election day due to his religion.

District 5

JOHN A. DUGAN

His statement: "After several years of a divided commission and another two years of complete chaos the present City Commission has proved to be one of the most progressive, energetic and honest commissions to serve our city."

"I feel I am obligated to help further the accomplishments which the present commission has planned and started for the future development of Pontiac. Unity on the city commission must be kept. The progressive and honest standards of the last two years must be maintained."

"I will always consider and try to solve the problems of our city workers, but will not be pressured or dictated to by paid officials of unions who live outside our city."

"Low-rent housing for elderly citizens must be built as soon as federal money becomes available."

The race for City Commission in Pontiac's large District 5 pits incumbent John A. Dugan against William B. Hine.

District 5, located mostly east of Baldwin, has the largest number of registered voters with 7,587 spread over eight precincts.

Dugan, 57, of 363 Nelson is a veteran at City Hall, while Hine, seeking his first public office, is a relative newcomer to city politics.

Dugan, an early member of the labor movement here, has served 10 years on the City Commission. A member of United Auto Workers Local 653, he is a Pontiac Motor Division employee.

He is a gear seat man in the axle department.

WON IT BACK

After losing his commission seat in 1962, Dugan returned to win it back in 1964.

He is married, has two sons and is a member of Oakland Park Methodist Church.

Hine, meantime, is a 32-year-old employee of GMAC Truck & Coach Division. He formerly worked for the Baldwin Rubber Co. and was financial secretary there of the United Rubber Workers Local 125 (AFL-CIO).

Hine of 400 De Sota has been endorsed by the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council and the Pontiac Democratic Club.

An 11-year resident of Pontiac, he is an army veteran. He is married and has two children.

WILLIAM B. HINE

His statement: "Being interested in good honest city government that will provide active leadership, I have become a candidate for City Commissioner. Pontiac has not received active concern nor planning for community improvements. The poor community relations, the lack of decent housing for our elderly and low income families and the stillness behind our urban renewal program will bear this out."

"Three important questions need answering concerning urban renewal: (1) Description of land to be acquired privately, (2) cost and methods of financing acquisition of urban renewal lands and non-urban renewal lands, and (3) when do we move to restore our city."

"I have participated in contract negotiations. I know the necessity of both parties negotiating in good faith."

District 6

Of the 15 candidates soliciting votes in Monday's election of a City Commission, only one is a woman. Mrs. Charles W. Nel-dreit has challenged incumbent Wesley J. Wood for the District 6 commission post. Mrs. Neldreit, 54, of 63 Mariva teaches classes for Wayne State University and is a business office manager.

She is a past president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, 1957-60, has been a board member of that group for 12 years.

She served three years on the board of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

She has been a Pontiac resident since 1925.

Active in local, state and national youth organizations, Mrs. Neldreit is a charter member of the League of Women Voters of Pontiac.

She served as chairman of the group's study of the central business district and urban renewal projects.

She is married and has three children. Wood also has been a city resident since 1925.

FOURTH TERM He is 59, lives at 11 N. Sanford and will be seeking his fourth two-year term. He is employed at GMC Truck & Coach Division as a service follow-up man.

Active in church affairs, Wood is a member of First United Methodist Church. He is married and has two children.

A veteran on the commission, he was first elected in 1958, won reelection in 1960, was defeated in 1962 and won again in 1964.

A native of Rapid City, he attended schools in Yale, Brown City and Port Huron.

Wood served on the City Planning Commission, 1960-62, and on the city employees pension board for the past two years.

WESLEY J. WOOD

His statement: "I believe that my experience in City Government qualifies me for reelection. Many accomplishments have been made in District Six as well as in the other six districts.

"I have always been honest and sincere in my dealings for the city and will continue that policy.

"I believe that experienced commissioners are needed at this time in order to continue a program of orderly city development. The city has made much progress during the last two years such as downtown urban renewal planning, returning the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine to Pontiac, improved street lighting, and raising wages and salaries of all municipal employees. An experienced commission will be able to do greater things.

"I truly solicit your support in my endeavor to continue to serve the people of District Six with respect to the city as a whole."

MRS. CHARLES NELDREIT Her statement: "Pontiac needs a Library Board of Trustees; a better library will be the result.

"Pontiac needs a Water Resource Commission to rid our lakes of pollution, working closely with Lansing and Washington to receive aids and services that are ours if we ask.

"Pontiac needs better housing for citizens. This problem should be attacked by whatever measures necessary to do the job.

"Pontiac citizens need and have a right to know about any downtown development plan. Citizen taxes will pay for these developments. Citizens should be able to express their opinions about Pontiac's future.

"Pontiac needs city-wide representation on all committees and boards.

"Pontiac needs an independent commissioner, one not committed to any group, to work toward these goals. I am that person."

District 7

Squaring off in the District 7 term on the commission. He was defeated in 1964. SEVEN CHILDREN Employed as a senior clerk at the Fisher Body Division Livonia Plant, he is married and has seven children.

He is a member of St. Vincent de Paul Church and is past grand knight of the Knights of Columbus.

Landry attended St. Joseph's College, Lowell, Mass. He came to Pontiac in 1928.

Marshall, the incumbent in the three-way race, was appointed in 1964 to fill out the commission term of the late Emmett S. Wellbaum.

AFTER 40 YEARS Retired from GMC Truck & Coach Division after 40 years, Marshall was an unsuccessful commission candidate in 1960. He came to Pontiac in 1919.

He is married and has three children. He is a board member of Christian Temple.

Facing an uphill fight as a write-in candidate, Singleton, 30, of 365 S. Marshall was drafted to run in the general election after finishing a strong third in the primary.

He is vice president and branch manager of Saunders & Wyatt Realty Co.

PCH GRADUATE A Pontiac Central High School graduate, he has attended Highland Park Junior College and the Meinzinger School of Commercial Art.

Singleton's bid for the commission is his first effort at seeking public office.

He is married and has three children.

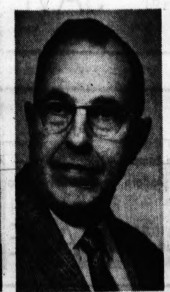

ROBERT A. LANDRY

His statement: "My main interest in this election is a strong desire to help our people enjoy the benefits of a progressive community.

"The lack of decent housing for all segments of our citizenry is appalling.

"Minorities have no representation, labor has no representation, and the unfortunate needy have no representation.

"Pontiac today needs commissioners with intestinal fortitude. Commissioners who will have strong and determined convictions, and commissioners who will serve the common good of all the people."

JAMES H. MARSHALL

His statement: "I would like to ask the voters of District 7 to take a long look at the accomplishments of the present progressive Pontiac City Commission as compared with past City Commissions. This Commission reaped the harvest of devastation and tearing down and have made an effort to rebuild Pontiac.

"The plans are well advanced toward making downtown Pontiac one of the very best shopping malls. Modern low-rent apartments for senior citizens are also planned. The Osteopathic College is started, and a 200-unit apartment complex on Auburn, is about to start construction.

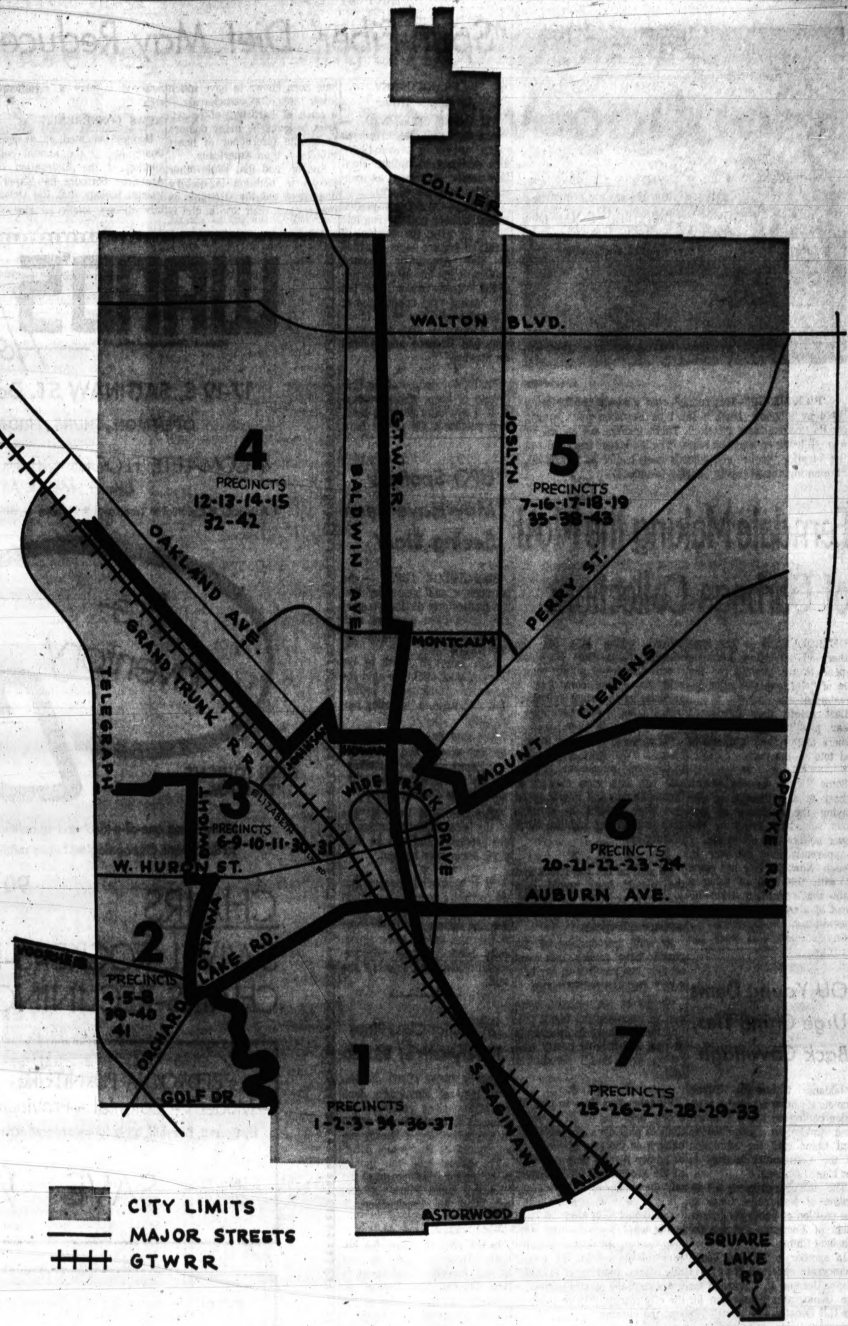

"With the support of the voters on April 18, I will continue the forward look by the construction of more streets, lighting, sewers, storm drains, and housing for all income groups. Let us all join together to clean up Pontiac."

JOSEPH SINGLETON

His statement: "I accepted a draft by a group of citizens in District 7 to run as a write-in candidate because I do not feel that our district has been adequately represented in the last several years — and it does not appear that the present candidates are offering constructive programs which are necessary to solve the problems of District 7 and the city."

"The pressing problems which should be considered are: lack of citizen participation in local affairs (which includes urban renewal), housing for elderly and low-income families, downtown development, recreation for young people, and human relations. "In order to completely solve the housing problem for senior citizens and other low-income families, ordinance 1270 should be repealed and a complete housing survey should be conducted."

You Can Vote Until 8 P.M.

Precincts Open at 7 A.M.

Selection of a City Commission from the field of 14 nominees and one write-in candidate will begin at 7 a.m. Monday.

Polling places at 43 city precincts will remain open until 8 p.m. Everyone in line at closing time will be allowed to vote.

An estimated 32,320 voters are eligible to cast ballots, according to City Clerk Mrs. Olga Barkeley.

There are 14 candidates on the ballots. They are arranged in pairs, one pair per district.

Voters are urged to remember that they have seven choices, but they must be made on a one-vote-per-district basis.

JUDGESHIPS Also on election ballots Monday for consideration will be two municipal judgeships. The two candidates are unopposed.

Listed below are the polling places and their location. To see what district your precinct is in, consult the map above.

Local JCs Set Bonus for Turnout

A $100 prize is being offered every election district that turns out 50 percent or more of its registered voters Monday.

The Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce has put $700 in a bid to "Get Out the Vote" for the City Commission election.

The Jaycees will pay $100 to the Pontiac Creative Arts Center for each election district that has more than the 50 percent figure voting.

The arts center is to be located in the old city library at West Lawrence and Williams.

Louis H. Schimmel Jr., chairman of the "Get Out the Vote" drive, said that the donation to the arts center is being offered as an inducement for voters to vote.

FINANCIAL BOOST Dr. Harold A. Furlong, arts center director, hailed the Jaycees proposal, citing it as a financial boost for the projected center and an excellent promotion of good government.

'PICK-UP'—This rubbish and garbage trailer being lifted by a loader truck is the type Ferndale may acquire for its "refuse train system." These trailers are hauled by a small truck on a pickup route. The big loader truck follows the 3-trailer "train" and unloads each trailer as it fills up, eliminating the necessity of trips to unload.

Ferndale Making the Most of Garbage Collections

DETROIT (AP) — The town fathers of suburban Ferndale appear to be hiding for the title of "Garbage Collection Innovators of the Year."

Last month they introduced clear plastic bags for home owners to put their garbage in and tote to the curb.

Some home owners were aghast at the thought of displaying the evidence of gracious suburban living — like liquor bottles — for all to see. Apparently they got over it, though. Now the city has come up with the idea of using a train—that's right, a train—instead of a truck to pick up the plastic bags.

City officials this week approved taking bids on the wheeled trains. Roy F. Goodspeed, director of public works, said the trains consist of a garbage tender truck and three trailer units of four cars each.

"If it works we'll get more," he said. "We figure it's cheaper in time and manpower. A train will use two men instead of three like now and they'll spend less time picking up garbage with one driving and the other picking up."

He said he felt the trains and the plastic bags would help greatly in reducing the $50,000 Ferndale spends each year on garbage collections.

He said introduction of the plastic bags earlier this year already had resulted in savings.

SORT OF APPREHENSIVE
Some of the citizens were sort of apprehensive about putting their garbage in clear bags at first but they've pretty well gotten over that," Goodspeed said.

"It takes less time to pick up a bag and toss it in a truck than to pick up a garbage can, bang it on the side of the truck to empty it, and then return it to the ground and put its cover on," he said.

Goodspeed said that on one street with 41 plastic bag pickups "we saved eight minutes over the old system. In a year this means a saving of $15,000."

Although the plastic bags save the city money, they're going to cost the citizens.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — Promising results were reported today with a "spun-fiber" diet designed to reduce blood fats under suspicion as contributors to heart attacks.

The diet — made up of predigested soybean protein spun into fibers to give the product a meatlike texture — is designed to give Americans deemed needing the low-fat properties of the average Oriental diet, but one having "the appearance of Western food." The wisp fibers are compacted into tiny morsels, and flavored and colored for serving.

Dr. Robert Hodges of the University of Iowa, who described it at a scientific meeting here, said people in the Orient have

'UFO Spotters' May Have Been Seeing Stars

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — An astronomer said yesterday that two particularly distinctive stars may have been confused with unidentified fly objects in recent weeks.

Prof. Hazel M. Losh of the University of Michigan said the stars are Arcturus, an orange star, and Vega, a "dazzling bluish star."

She said Arcturus, "reddish in appearance and twinkling... may easily be mistaken by the person unfamiliar with the skies as a foreign object."

Miss Losh said Vega is "one of the most beautiful stars in the heavens" and can be seen along the eastern horizon.

"It is of special concern that we recognize some of the bright stars, especially as they come over the horizon, for lately some of the best known have apparently been confused with reported unidentified objects," she said.

'M' Senior Class Plans Library Gift of $3,500

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — The University of Michigan's June graduating class yesterday announced it would donate $3,500 to the school for a library development as its "senior gift."

The school said the money would go for development of the "Library South Plaza" project scheduled for construction in 1969.

In the past 18 years, the bubonic plague has taken 20 lives in this country, 13 of them in New Mexico. The disease apparently was transmitted by the bites of plague-carrying fleas.

lower rates of atherosclerosis — a form of hardening-of-the-arteries believed by many doctors to be the forerunner of heart attacks — than Americans. And he said that while other factors in addition to dietary ones may aid the Orientals in that respect, their low-fat diet is believed to play a significant role. NEWS CONFERENCE Hodges indicated at a news conference at the annual convention of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology that the Orientals' dietary staple — rice — might serve the same purpose as the new diet. But he said the latter "is far more acceptable to Americans than rice." Patients treated with the soybean diet eat the usual constituents of the American diet, Hodges said. But, in addition to make-believe "ham" and "beef" the spun-fiber diet comes in simulated forms of "fish" and "poultry." A measured amount of fat is incorporated. Hodges said "profound decreases" in levels of blood fats, especially cholesterol, were achieved by giving the diet to some Iowa State Prison volunteers and some University of

'Up Front' Is Everywhere in Viet Nam

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

SAIGON, Viet Nam — Nobody ever said war was fair. For every man who goes off to one, a hundred remain behind. For each who uses a weapon in one, a dozen help only to reload. For every fellow who is killed in one, whole cities of others continue to live.

Viet Nam is no different. Only a portion of Americans are committed here.

And only part of that portion is waging the hot war.

Of the more than 215,000 United States soldiers in the country now, the estimate is that less than a fourth fire rifles at the enemy... a dozen who are engaged in day-to-day contact with the other side number less than 30,000.

SUPPORT MEN

All others are support troops clerks, transport pilots, doctors, military policemen, mechanics, truck drivers, etc.

They take a ribbing here, these guys. They have in all the wars.

The dogfaces call them safe commands and paper pushers. The 25,000 GIs stationed in and around South Viet Nam's capital, for example, are snickeringly referred to as Saigon Warriors... knights of the night.

It's a professional joke everybody chuckles at.

NOT PROTECTED

Until a bomb explodes in a bullet, a Jeep driver is torn in two by a grenade, or a sergeant is found mutilated in an alleyway. Then nobody laughs much for awhile.

It is, of course, true that a Saigon trooper has it inflated.

ly easier than the kid scratching leeches in War Zone D.

He sleeps on a cot instead of the ground, he eats food rather than tinned starch, he shaves, bathes, brushes teeth, trims clothes, and polishes boots.

But what of it? For some it only means they die well-groomed.

FEARSOME FOE

Saigon, certainly, is as much at war as any place else in this country, and the combatants garrisoned here are fighting perhaps the most fearsome foe of all — the terrorist.

He is the hoodlum of these hostilities, an indiscriminate killer who acts not with reason but with senselessness.

In the past year these Viet Cong cutthroats have initiated over 1,200 warlike incidents within Saigon's city limits. In one recent week they averaged eight each day.

They have exploded bombs in restaurants.

They have hired prostitutes to lure drunken victims.

They have tossed tortured bodies into rivers.

And they have gripped this town in terror.

No street is exempted, no time of day excluded, no act of savagery too barbaric. Recently, they circulated rumors that the American government was sucking blood out of schoolchildren to supply plasma for its forces.

INNOCENT VICTIMS

Often they have beheaded innocent civilians as warnings to others who assist the allied forces.

And they are growing bolder. Early in 1966 the average weekly rate of incidents was 19 or 20. Now it's triple that or worse.

Part of the reason may be that the VC have resorted to putting prices on the heads of Yankee personnel. The scalp of a sentry may be worth $10, that of a surgeon as much as $50.

It's money, not medals that motivates many, and the result is that kids, women, and draft-dodging young men are daily discovered with weapons in their possession.

It's a hell of a feeling for a guy. The bootblack may be an informer, the barmaid an agent. The bicycle on the corner may be wired, the box on the sidewalk a Claymore mine.

More Negroes Serving on Southern Juries

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Civil rights leaders have urged a change in the method of selecting juries because of complaints of "all-white justice" in the South. Here is a report on the situation.)

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A trend apparently has begun to place more Negroes on juries in the South under the pressure of appellate court rulings and move for congressional action dealing with jury selection.

There are, in fact, systematic efforts in some areas to include Negroes on juries, particularly those trying racial cases.

Nowhere has the change been more dramatically evidenced than in the little town of Ellaville, Ga. — population 900-1,000 — which recently had its first jury case in five years and its first murder trial in 20 years — and the first Negro jurors in anyone's memory.

Two Negro brothers, 15 and 19, were charged with the murder of a white policeman last November. After lawyers went through the jury panel, a jury of 11 — eight and one white man — was picked. The trial of the younger brother resulted in a 10-year sentence for voluntary manslaughter, and the older brother got the same sentence when he pleaded guilty.

MOVE EXPLAINED

How did a predominantly Negro jury turn up in Schley County?

Sheriff W. M. Ellis said: "You just have to abide by the law." He said the jury list was taken from the tax rolls and that was it. But the list was revised two weeks before the trial.

C.B. King, Albany, Ga., a Negro, who for 11 years has been fighting exclusion of Negroes from juries in southwest Georgia defended two Negroes for the slaying of a white man in Americus, Ga. A jury with two Negroes on it returned a verdict of life imprisonment for the first defendant, who admitted firing into a crowd, and the other Negro drew five years on a guilty plea to a lesser charge.

The Negroes on the jury meant the difference between a life sentence and the Georgia electric chair, said King, who also defended the brothers in the Ellaville case.

MOONSHINE CASE

Almost at the same time, a federal court jury in southeast Georgia was returning a verdict in a nonracial case involving moonshine liquor. There were two Negroes on the jury. Negroes have served on federal juries for years in that county, but last year there were Negroes on the state court juries.

"Politics definitely are part of it," one man said. The growing Negro vote has its effect on jury commissioners.

The trend is noticeable in Georgia, South Carolina, Arkansas, Mississippi and Virginia, men voters, most Negroes were excluded prior to enactment of the federal voting rights law.

A three-judge federal court in February directed the jury commission of Lowndes County, Alabama, to make up a new jury list without regard to race. The court also invalidated the Alabama prohibition to women jurors.

DECISIONS REVERSED

Mississippi's Supreme Court has been reversing convictions of Negroes in criminal cases because of systematic exclusion of Negroes from juries. Since says attorney Lincoln C. Jenks, the state law limits jury duty to whites of Columbia, a Negro.

James Felder, 26, appeared "contrite and penitent after he learned he had violated a judicial edict by kissing his wife in a Chicago courtroom. So Judge Herbert H. Friedman of the Criminal Court yesterday lifted a one-year jail sentence he had imposed for contempt.

Felder and his wife, Anita, 19, face robbery charges. They had not seen each other for two months before they met in court last Thursday.

Felder said he kissed his wife because he had been "carried away by emotion."

The rule is intended to prevent passage of narcotics or other contraband, the judge said.

Felder has been held in lieu of $10,000 bail on the robbery charge. His wife was released in $2,500 bail.

Hedy Lamarr's Shoplifting Trial Tuesday

Next Tuesday is the date for actress Hedy Lamarr, 51, to be tried on a shoplifting charge in Los Angeles.

The case was postponed yesterday when her lawyer told the judge he was occupied with other cases.

A department store security officer arrested Miss Lamarr in the store's parking lot last Jan. 27 and she was charged the next day for allegedly shoplifting $66 worth of merchandise.

'Dollar Intake
Down in Cuba'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fidel Castro's commercial attaché in London, who defected and came to Miami, says Cuba's dollar intake is about "one-seventh of former levels."

The exile, Miguel Tarrab Miranda, told a news conference Wednesday that Castro's sugar and molasses sales on the world market will bring him about $50 million this year. About $50 million more may come from other exports including nickel and tobacco, Tarrab said.

In 1966, the year Castro took over, Cuban exports obtained $700 million, the defector said. Tarrab, who was Castro's permanent delegate to the International Sugar Council, added: "This inability to obtain hard currency leads to ever-growing shortages of goods, where people lack meat, eggs, shoes, coffee and other essentials."

U.S. Staring at Smut Gap

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You might think from all the obscenity cases that have been in the news lately that the U.S. pornography industry was in sound condition financially. Postal officials told Congress not long ago that some individual porno-graphers have annual incomes of more than a million dollars. They said when newstand sales as well as mail orders are considered "it could be a billion-dollar business."

There are indications, however, that the economic outlook for domestic pornography is not as rosy, or rather as off-color, as the present boom might make it appear.

According to testimony given a House subcommittee by the Customs Bureau, the importation of foreign pornography recently has been growing by leaps and bounds and four-letter words.

The bureau said the cost of copying with pornographic material brought into this country from abroad is now running about $200,000 a year. Not to mention the smut that slips by undetected.

This, of course, bodes ill for domestic pornographers. I think it can already see the handwriting on the restroom wall.

Quiet! Apples Are Sleeping

By Science Service

ITHACA, N. Y. — More than 14 million bushels of apples were "put to sleep" in gas storage across the country, this past winter, reported Dr. R. M. Smock, New York State College of Agriculture.

Fresh, tasty apples can be eaten all year round with the controlled atmospheric storage, said Dr. Smock at a symposium on "Frontiers in Food Research" at Cornell University here.

Levels of oxygen and carbon dioxide are manipulated in the storage room.

The low oxygen level retards respiration, softening and quality changes in the fruit, while the relatively high amount of carbon dioxide slows down the development of decay.

The technique, initiated in England in the late 1930s, was first used in New York State in 1940.

OTHER FRUITS

Studies of gas storage are being conducted on avocados, citrus fruits, strawberries, bananas and pineapples.

This method of storage does not seem promising for stone fruits, such as peaches, cherries and plums.

Baseball Caught in Court Squeeze

'New Team or Return Braves' Wisconsin Judge Orders NL

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert said Wednesday night he would take Judge Elmer Roller's decision under advisement and make a comment today.

Eckert telephoned The Associated Press after a statement on his behalf had been issued earlier by his spokesman. The Commissioner asked that this statement be withdrawn.

"I have no comment now," Eckert said in the telephone call. "I will take it under advisement and make a comment tomorrow."

The statement he withdrew said: "I have been informed that the Braves and the National League and the other clubs of the league intend to take an immediate appeal from this order of the Wisconsin Supreme Court."

"I am also aware that in early February, a Georgia court, permanently enjoined the Braves from playing their home games elsewhere than in Atlanta through the term of their 25-year lease of Atlanta Stadium and also enjoined the National League and its members from playing their road games with the Braves elsewhere than in Atlanta."

"My counsel advises that these orders of the Georgia and Texas courts, which were issued before the Milwaukee order, are binding upon the clubs and the league."

EXPRESSIVE VIEW

"I have previously expressed my view that expansion of the major leagues by court decree is a violation of the antitrust laws and regulation of the national league to the playing of Braves home games in Atlanta."

completely undesirable from baseball's standpoint.

"I hope and expect that the outcome of this vexatious litigation will be a determination that baseball's long established system of self regulation may continue."

The state also asked Roller to reserve jurisdiction to allow the court supervision of the stocking of the proposed expansion team under the state's so-called Little Sherman Act, closely paralleling similar suit pending in U.S. District Court here under the federal act.

Before the disclosure of the decision, Judge Roller came down from his chambers and told newsmen that baseball had offered to settle the suit before and during the trial.

The white haired jurist, ruffled and with a gray stubble on his face, said that he had "always been in hopes of a settlement."

New High School League Discussed

City, Township, Prep Officials at Conference

Flint, Pontiac Area Schools Listen to League Proposals

The end of the Saginaw Valley Conference as it now exists may be in sight.

Along with the SVC, add the Wayne-Oakland, Inter-Lakes and Tri-County. They'll all look different in a few years.

Principals and athletic directors from 12 Oakland and Genesee county Class A schools huddled in Waterford yesterday to exchange ideas on the possibility of forming a new league.

On hand for the session were officials from Pontiac Central, Pontiac Northern, Waterford Township, Waterford Kettering, Clarkston, Grand Blanc, Flint Ansonville, Flint Southwest, Flint Central, Flint Northern, Flint Northwestern and Owosso.

Francis Staley, principal at PCH, emphasized that the meeting was of an exploratory nature and was not held to spite other members of the SVC.

LEAGUE MEMBERS

PCH and three of the Flint schools are members of the SVC, and recently the four found themselves in disagreement with the other five — Midland, Bay City Central and Handy, Saginaw and Arthur Hill — on admission of new members.

"Of course, no action was taken," said Staley. "Those attending the meeting will report back to their respective schools and we'll meet again June 22."

One of the proposals put forth at the meeting was a league with two six-team divisions.

With two divisions, the two Waterford schools could be separated; the Pontiac schools separated; and it would enable officials to put two Flint schools in each division.

"In this way," Staley said, "the local schools (PCH, PNH, Kettering, Waterford) would be in different divisions, but they would still have their traditional games."

NO COMMITMENTS

In general, those attending the meeting were eager to discuss the question of realignment of schools, although none were committed to any singular proposal.

Waldo Ashley, athletic director of Waterford schools, made it clear that Waterford, a member of the Inter-Lakes League, is going to retain its association with members of the loop.

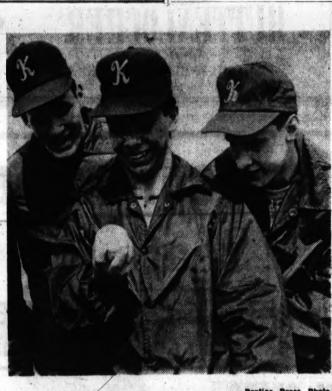

The I-L now has four teams — Farmington, Walled Lake, Pontiac Northern and Waterford. "We've had our hat in the ring so long with Farmington and Walled Lake, we want to keep it there," said Ashley.

Ashley said realignment was also discussed last week by area athletic directors who met in Royal Oak.

Everything is still in the talking stage, Ashley said, adding, "There's really no decision one way or another on anything."

Ashley pointed out that there are now Class A and B teams mixed in local leagues. Wayne-Oakland and Oakland A leagues have both 'A' and 'B'. He suggested a meeting to bring the schools together for a look at realignment.

Select Honor Roll

On or off the course, Melvin 'Bud' Stevens of Western Golf Country Club is a winner.

Stevens, winner of the three top amateur golf titles in Michigan last year, earned the top spot on the 1966 Honor Roll announced by the Golf Association of Michigan (GAM) at a Rotary luncheon in Detroit yesterday.

The stocky, long-hitting Stevens won the Michigan State Amateur, the GAM

Championship and the Michigan Medal Play.

Tom Draper of Birmingham grabbed the No. 2 spot on the Honor Roll, and Orchard Lake's Peter Green earned the No. 3 ranking.

Draper won the North and South Amateur title.

Wings 'Home Ice' Advantage Missing

DETROIT (AP) — With all the talk about the home ice advantage in the Stanley Cup playoffs, one would have thought the Detroit Red Wings would go wild after their 7-0 thumping of Chicago on the Black Hawks home ice last Sunday.

But the Black Hawks, who handled the Red Wings without much trouble through the regular season, bounced back and won the first game on Detroit ice Tuesday to take a 2-1 lead in their best-of-7 Stanley Cup playoff semifinal series.

The two met for the fourth game this evening at 8:00 at Olympia Stadium.

The triumph moves the Black Hawks back into the favorite's role if only because of the fact that they'll have the home crowd in back of them for one more game should the series go the full route.

ONE REGULAR WIN

Detroit's only regular season victory over the Black Hawks in 12 games came on home ice, a 3-1 verdict last December 18. But they scored only 10 goals, while the Black Hawks collected 23 in the seven games in the Motor City. And, they've been held to one goal in the last five games here, including Tuesday's 2-1 setback.

At Chicago, the Red Wings were outscored 28-17 and managed only a 4-4 tie.

Two of the victories the Black Hawks fashioned in Detroit came with Dave Dryden in the Chicago nets. He played the first two games in streak which saw the Red Wings held to a single goal.

Glenn Hall, who was the victim of all seven Detroit goals Sunday, came back and made 29 saves to preserve the victory Tuesday.

He robbed Norm Ullman twice and stopped Gordie Howe on a clear, close-in shot early in the game.

In Doubleheaders Tigers Eying Reverse Form

NEW YORK (AP) — Denny McLain and Bill Monbouquette turning after recovering from a heart attack, saw them split a pair with the Yankees his first day back. They finished with a 5-11 record in doubleheaders.

YANKS PAIR

Yankees named Johnny Kanne named Mel Stottlemyre and Bob Friend as his starters and said Mickey Mantle would play center field in the first game and rookie Roy White in the nightcap.

Keane also named Elston Howard to catch Stottlemyre and rookie Jake Gibbs as Friend's receiver.

Monbouquette, acquired from Boston in an off-season trade, will be making his first start. He has a 14-14 career record against the Yankees and is four wins shy of the 100 career victories mark.

The Tigers, under Coach Bob Swift, lost their first five double-headers in 1965. Dessen, re-

'M' Closes Grid Drills

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's spring football drills will be done. We know we have a come to a close with the annual group that's willing to work to hit hard," Elliott said.

Freshmen Tom Sincic and Eliot felt one of the team's major strengths will be in line-backing.

"The Wolverines, who started drills March 14, have been blessed with near-perfect weather for their drills. Only two practice sessions were held indoors."

"We've made progress, and him up."

McLain, the Tigers' top win-ner last year (16-6), is 3-3 against the Yankees.

Dessen plans to send Dave Wickham against Washington in the home opener Friday, Wickersham, 9-14 last season and 7-4 over the Senators in his career, got the nod ahead of Joe Sparna.

The move, Dessen said, does not mean that Wickham will move out of the bullpen permanently.

"We can't use Joe Sparna yet," Dessen said. "He's a little behind because of the finger injury he suffered in camp."

Sparna smashed the index finger of his pitching hand in a car door.

Dessen's pitchers for the other two games of the weekend series will depend on how many games are played before Saturday.

Cooper-Cassius Clay Title Scrap Planned

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Negotiations are in progress for Cassius Clay to defend his heavyweight title against British champion Henry Cooper next month in London.

The likely date for the fight is May 21, said Gordon B. Davidson, an attorney for Clay's Louisville sponsoring group.

Caddy Chiefs Elect Prexy

The Caddy Superintendents of Michigan yesterday elected Jim Dewling of Birmingham Country Club as president for the 1966 season.

Also elected were Jim Hawks of Detroit Golf Club, vice president and Larry Wilkinson of Red Run, secretary-treasurer.

The district caddy championship would be played on the first Monday in August at either Orchard Lake or Birmingham, it was also made known.

ment" in the case but that the defendants' offers were what he termed unacceptable.

During the long delay Wednesday night, there were reports that last minute effort was being made to reach a settlement, but at Cincinnati, National League President Warren Giles said, "There was no offer made by baseball."

READ DECISION

Giles said he would "have to read the whole decision and talk to the attorneys" before making any statement on the decision.

Wisconsin Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette, who brought the suit challenging baseball's traditional immunity to antitrust statutes, said that "Wisconsin will have the benefit of a major league franchise operating in full compliance with the laws of this state."

But he declined to say how the state would seek compliance. "This lawsuit was conceived and prosecuted," La Follette said, "with one purpose in mind: To prevent the abuse of monopolistic corporate power by vigorous enforcement of the antitrust laws of the state."

Roller had arrived at his office at about 9 a.m., EST, Tuesday and remained at work despite pleas by his staff members and even his family, to rest until his ruling finally was announced shortly before 10 p.m. Wednesday night.

San Diego's Faison Talks to Argonauts

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Earl Faison has partially confirmed a report that he and Ernie Ladd are negotiating with the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League.

Faison, an end, and Ladd, a tackle, are playing out their options with the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League and will become free agents May 1.

"I've been talking to the Toronto people," said Faison Tuesday, "but other than that I have nothing to say."

Oriole Foes Dance to 'Robinson Rock'

By the Associated Press

Baltimore is doing the Robinson Rock, a swinging new step that could make a lot of American League pitchers look like monkeys before this season is over.

It's really a simple step. First Frank Robinson works over an opposing pitcher. If the hurler still shows any signs of fight, Brooks Robinson steps in and finishes the job.

The Robinson boys continue their steady tattoo against the Boston Red Sox Wednesday as the Orioles completed a two-game sweep 8-1. In the only other American League game played, Minnesota used an eighth inning home run by Tony Oliva to get past Kansas City 5-3.

POSTPONEMENTS

Rain and cold weather postponed Cleveland's game at Washington and Detroit's date at New York.

In the National League, Houston edged Los Angeles 7-4, Pittsburgh whipped Atlanta 6-0, San Francisco defeated Chicago 4-0 and Philadelphia nipped St. Louis 3-2 in 12 innings.

The Robinsons practiced their dander and lightning routine on Dave Morehead after the Red Sox starter had struck out the first two batters he faced. Then Frank pounded his second homer of the season and Brooks followed with his No. 2.

That was enough for Jim Palmer, who limited the Red Sox to five hits and walked a two-run homer of his own in the second. Paul Blair ripped a bases-loaded double for three more runs in the eighth.

The homers brought the Robinsons' two-day haul in Fenway Park to a combined 7-for-18 including four homers and six runs batted in.

Minnesota was trailing Kansas City 3-2 with Athletics' rookie Paul Lindblad working on four shutout innings of relief in the eighth when the Twins bullpen in right center field, 420 feet away.

Valdespino had connected with a mate aboard for Minnesota's first two runs in the first inning.

Kansas City had taken advantage of some shoddy Minnesota fielding for two runs against starter Camilo Pascual in the fourth. Ken Harrelson singled and came all the way around on Ed Charles' hit when Harmon Killebrew let a throw from the outfield skip past him. Charles then stole third and scored when Earl Battey's throw went into left field.

Champions Tee Off

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer tee off today in the first round of the $100,000 Tournament of Champions golf classic with 24 other PGA titleholders hoping to break their four-year monopoly on the crown.

Palmer won it in 1962 and last year while Nicklaus, fresh from winning the Masters at Augusta for the second year in a row, was the T. C. champion in 1963-64.

But the field this year is one of the strongest in a decade with such stars as Gary Player, Doug Sanders, Gay Brewer, Tony Lema and Billy Casper.

In fact, nine of the 11 leading money winners of 1966 were in the starting field.

The 72-hole tournament is played over the par 72, 7,209-yard Desert Inn Country Club course which is the kind of a layout that favors long hitters such as Palmer and Nicklaus.

But Player can't be ruled out even though in three tournaments so far this year he has been something less than a standout. In a practice round Wednesday, the little South African carded a solid four-under-par 68.

Ex-AFL Chief Accuses NFL

Get Open Pacts

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Foss, who resigned as commissioner of the American Football League last week, says that the rival National Football League plans to sign college players for the league "and allow them to play pretty much where they choose, as long as it's in the NFL."

Foss' assertion about the NFL's scouting and signing system, reported in this week's Sports Illustrated, were labeled untrue by the NFL.

"I happen to know," Foss was quoted by the magazine as saying, "that in the last 30 days the NFL had a meeting of 100 new scouts to tell them about a new program under way right now for signing college boys for the coming season."

"One of the scouts made the mistake of writing down the instructions, and I saw them. They intend to sign the kids to open, undated contracts that allow them to play pretty much where they choose, as long as it's in the NFL."

Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the NFL was not available, but a league spokesman said "There is no truth in Mr. Foss' statement."

Atlanta Crowds Satisfy Bragan

ATLANTA (AP)—Pittsburgh Manager Harry Walker is elated over the Pirates' fast start but the native of the South hopes twin victories over the Braves didn't hurt baseball in Atlanta.

"As Pittsburgh manager, I'll do everything to beat Atlanta," he said, after the Pirates blanked the Braves 6-0 on Vernon Law's pitching and Willie Stargell's hitting Wednesday night.

"But I'm for baseball in the South. I want Atlanta to be the best town in baseball. "I was terribly disappointed in the turnout, because this is my town, too," said Walker, an Alabama native, who used to manage the Atlanta Crackers in the International League.

The crowd for the second big league game played in the South was 12,721, after 50,671 turned out for the Tuesday night opener won by the Pirates 3-2 when Stargell homered in the 13th inning.

"There should have been more people out," Walker added. "They should have showed everybody what a great town this is."

"I want Atlanta to be the best town in baseball," Bobby Bragan, manager of the Braves, was discouraged by the setbacks on the field but

Trainer Charged With Stimulation at Akron Track

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Suspension of a trainer in an alleged stimulation case and the injury of an apprentice rider marked the racing program at Ascot Park Wednesday.

The stewards suspended Chester Wayne Westbrook of Ponca City, Okla., and all horses owned and trained by him were banned from the track.

The track officials acted following a report from the veterinary clinic at Ohio State University that the saliva specimen taken from the horse, Pyrrhus, after he won Saturday showed the presence of a material identified as amphetamine.

Urge Ford Tests

Auto Rules Discussed

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — The Southern Motor Sports Press Association offered Wednesday to mediate a disagreement between Ford Motor Co. and the sport's two sanctioning bodies.

Hank Schoolfield, editor of Southern Motor Racing newspaper, and president of the press group, said the board of directors adopted a resolution urging that Ford continue its racing program, and that the company conduct tests of a new engine before impartial judges to determine whether new rules announced last week are unfair.

APPROVE REQUEST

The National Association of Stock Car Auto Racing and the United States Auto Club approved Ford's request to use a new overhead cam engine in stock car racing.

The two sanctioning bodies stipulated, however, that the cars would have to race with a handicap of about 400 pounds.

Ford contends the handicap is unfair and last week withdrew its factory-supported cars from three races with the announcement that its future plans for racing would be determined in a "period of consideration."

Schoolfield said the press group's nine-man board of directors voted 8-1 in favor of the resolution, which also recommended that NASCAR and USAC adjust their rules if there was a need for changing the rules "to render competition more equal."

The resolution, Schoolfield said, also offered the press association's services, if desired by the parties involved, "as sist in arranging the details for obtaining impartial judges" and other details of the tests.

Schoolfield said the approval of the resolution was reached in a telephone poll of the directors and that the results were communicated to Ford and USAC and NASCAR.

Hobbyist Gives Portraits of GIs to Families

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Roger Wetmore, a Chicagoan whose parents live in Kalamazoo, recently painted the portraits of two Kalamazoo men killed in Viet Nam and presented them without charge — to the parents. Kalamazoo Gazette writer Rick Richards interviewed Wetmore on a visit home and found what seemed to be a single act of kindness actually is a hobby.)

Using Kalamazoo Gazette photographs for models, Roger Wetmore of Chicago painted full color portraits of two Kalamazoo men recently killed in action in Viet Nam.

Wetmore clipped the photographs from the Gazette on a recent visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wetmore of Kalamazoo.

The paintings of Capt. Konstantin Lubav and Spec. 4.C. Ronald Hobbs were sent to the Kalamazoo Gazette with a letter saying:

"Since pictures which appeared in the Gazette were the source for these, I thought you might see that they were delivered to their boys' parents."

PLEASED

Mrs. Edna Lubav, Konstantin's mother, and Mrs. Alice Segobia, mother of Hobbs, said they were pleased and grateful.

"You don't know how much it means to me," said Mrs. Segobia, who has no other picture of her son.

Lubav, 25, and Hobbs, 20, were killed within a week of each other in early February while on separate combat missions. They were the first Kalamazoo men killed in Viet Nam.

CARED LITTLE

Wetmore said he cared little about Viet Nam two years ago. But draft card burners and a professor who admitted he was a Communist victory in South Viet Nam changed his mind, he said.

He began his oil portraits using pictures in Chicago newspaper clippings as models. In many cases, Wetmore hasn't met the parents to whom he gives the portraits. He usually asks the newspaper in which the photographs appeared to deliver them.

His 18 oil paintings include soldiers who were wounded or are still fighting in Viet Nam.

Last year, he presented one of Joseph F. Morris, the late superintendent of the Chicago Police Department, to Morris' family.

In gratitude for a portrait of their dead son, Bernard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Masny of Chicago gave Wetmore a dozen picture frames. Two of the frames were used for the portraits of Lubav and Hobbs.

ACCEPTED FRAMES

Wetmore said he accepted the frames but emphasized he would not accept payment for the paintings.

"I've already gained a large measure of satisfaction out of doing these," he said. "God was very generous. And, besides, I sleep a little better nights."

In the fiscal year that ended on June 30, 1965, a total of 786,582 overnight campers had used the Florida state parks, an increase of more than 165,000 over the previous fiscal year.

Big Business Willy on Price Increases

(EDITOR'S NOTE - This is the second in a four-part series on the government economic guideposts, written by business writer John T. Cummins.)

One result is that certain freight charges previously borne by the producers will be passed on to buyers, thus giving the producer a greater return for his product.

The higher cost to the buyer could now be reflected in the price of sulfuric acid, one of the most widely used chemicals, thus forcing up prices on many other products also.

But it is not in the immediate conflict business has been the loser. But there is evidence business learned quickly how to get its way while apparently observing the guidelines.

This has been done by mixing price cuts with price advances by making increases small, by making no announcements of increases, by dealing with customers individually, by maintaining the old price list but putting more of the transportation burden on the buyer and by eliminating discounts.

In addition, an attempt at a price or wage freeze, publicly announced, has a good chance of attracting no reprisal from Washington. The administration has been selective. Some increases get by.

PRICE CUTS
Early in March, U.S. Steel Co. boosted prices on a big tonnage of steel plate, by an average of $2.02 a ton. At the same time it cut prices on another product it said could be substituted.

U.S. Steel called the net result of "standstill." And Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, commented:

"In the council's judgment, relative price adjustments are a framework of price stability." But was it a standstill? Although the increase-decrease arrangement could confuse an electronic computer - U.S. Steel used away its price list for some time, and a type of wire word and decided to negotiate prices instead - some observers now feel the full impact was an increase. For one thing, the increase in the total price of steel seems to be the same magnitude as would have been caused by Bethlehem Steel Co.'s abortive attempt to raise prices Jan. 1.

COSTLY MACHINERY
For another, the price decrease on sheet steel - which U.S. Steel hoped could be made without the purchase of costly new machinery - was a loss.

Late in March major producers of sulfur made price adjustments that varied widely, were made without a great deal of publicity, and were generally dusty that price lists are merely to be handled on an individual by guides.

The net result of aluminum's most recent pricing policy - called "resting" prices rather than "raising" prices - has been to give it some of the raises that last fall were judged to be beyond the guideposts.

Wages also have gone beyond the guideposts. The Labor Department said major 1965 wage increases averaged 3.9 per cent, the highest since the guideposts were established.

Some evidence exists, then, to suggest that the power of the guideposts isn't as dramatic as exhibited in the dramatic roll-back of prices in aluminum and steel.

The effect, in fact, may be more psychological than actual. (Next: Criticisms.) (Sam Dawson is on vacation.)

Students, Officer See Object for 20 Minutes

KALAMAZOO (UPI) - An unidentified flying object visited a college campus again, this time at Western Michigan University here yesterday.

Several students and a policeman watched the object in the sky for more than 20 minutes after 1 a.m. and described it as starlike.

They said it moved in angles around two stationary stars.

Matt Kurz, a freshman from Chicago, watched the object through binoculars and said it looked like an elongated football with an orange tip, like on a cigarette.

Other viewers described the colors as red, green and white.

KEPT MOVING
They said it kept moving around the two stars and then suddenly shot straight up and disappeared.

A UFO sighting was also reported at Iron River in Northern Michigan near the Wisconsin border.

A farm couple who refused to be identified told a local radio station WIKB they saw a "huge, orange oval-shaped object" on a country road as they drove home from church services last week.

They said the object blocked the road but shot to the tops of nearby trees when their car approached.

HOVERING OVER TREES
They said they went back later to check and the object was still hovering over the tree tops.

They said they did not report the sighting until they were afraid of publicity.

'Value-Added' Tax Is Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) - A privately supported research organization of businessmen, economists and educators has called for a reduction of the corporate tax and its partial replacement by a so-called "value-added" tax.

A value-added tax is a levy on the increase in value of a product as it passes through successive companies in the stages of production and selling. Announcing its proposals Wednesday night, the Committee for Economic Development said the new tax could be adopted as an immediate revenue producer and a substitute for part of the corporate tax.

Not all members of the committee agreed with the proposals. One called the value-added tax "a general federal excise which would tend to raise prices."

2 Boys Killed by Car After Close Call

FERDALE (AP) - Five-year-old James Sutherland and his 4-year-old neighbor, Mark Snow, were playing yesterday in a yard near their homes in this Detroit suburb.

Suddenly, both boys darted into the street. There was a screech of tires as an oncoming driver managed to stop his car just in time.

Witnesses said the unidentified motorist got out of his car, grabbed the boys and scolded them for running into the street. Then he drove away.

Only seconds later, witnesses added, the boys ran into the street again. This time, both were struck and killed by a second car. The driver was not held.

Stock Mart Rallies Vigorously

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market rallied vigorously early this afternoon on the heaviest trading of the week.

The ticker tape on the New York Stock Exchange ran nine minutes late as traders and investors clamored about a market which was showing strength not only in the glamour group but also in some of the bread-and-butter stocks which have been relatively neglected.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.9 points at 350.3 with industrials up 4.0, 2 on the Big Board, National Video and Syntex were up about 5. Up about 4 were Tecton warrants, Rogers Corp. and Simmonds Precision when issued. Up about 3 were Conduction, Solitron Devices, Valley Metallurgical and Xira Inc. Gains of a point or more were posted by Astratoda, Baker Industries, GCA, and Molybdenum.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

Ex-S. Oakland Officer Guilty

Admits Taking Bribes for Drivers' Licenses

A Royal Oak Township ex-police officer pleaded guilty yesterday in Circuit Court to bribery in the selling of driver's licenses.

The charge was brought against Edward L. Watkins by Oakland County Grand Juror Philip Pratt last November and was the first indictment ordered in the investigation.

Watkins, a sergeant at the time of his arrest and at one time, police chief, entered his plea before Judge William J. Beer.

Watkins, an 11-year police veteran, is no longer with the department.

Beer is scheduled to sentence Watkins, 41, on May 11.

Facing a maximum one-year jail term for the misdemeanor offense, Watkins was released and his $1,000 bond continued pending his sentence.

END CHARGE
In recommending the guilty plea be accepted, Asst. Prosecutor Patrick Oliver told Beer that a second charge of conspiracy to bribe, would be dismissed against Watkins.

Had Watkins been convicted by a jury of conspiracy, a felony, he could have been sent to prison for up to five years.

Oliver said that the prosecution had six witnesses ready to testify that they had paid Watkins from $14 to $150 for driver's licenses.

Watkins, according to investigators, said Watkins accepted the money while he was in charge of the licensing bureau, and that the particular incidents he was charged with occurred between August 1963 and July 1965.

Pickets to Mass at Pontiac City Hall
A mass picketing demonstration was planned for today at City Hall as area labor unions expressed their support of the Pontiac Firefighters Association (PFA).

The PFA has been picketing city hall for more than a month with meetings with the association and the city administration were being held with a state labor mediator.

Jack Douglas, PFA president, said that representatives of the 105 locals of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council have been invited to participate in the demonstration.

Douglas said he didn't know how many pickets might actually participate in the one-day demonstration slated to end at 5 p.m.

Another mediation meeting was scheduled for this morning.

Pontiac Scout Unit Installs New Officers

ley Council, Boy Scouts of night at Madison Junior High Home, held annual election.

Norton R. Graham, 177 Les-dale, Troy, was elected district chairman.

Harry J. Reed, 100 Osceola, was named vice chairman.

Kenneth H. Goff, 241 Douglas Bloomfield Township, was named second vice chairman.

John E. Stepleton, 41 Miller, was appointed district commissioner. The appointment was made by Edward H. Leland, Clinton Valley Council Scout executive.

The adult "Faithful Service to Boys" awards were given to Khamph; Glenn Lackey, 11
Graham; and Lester G. McKinney, 1149 W. Huron.

Fred W. Reed of Detroit Edson presented a film, "Interesting and Unusual Effects of Light," to conclude the program.

Senate Tentatively OKs County Districting Plan

LANSING (AP) — The Senate gave preliminary approval
Wednesday to one-man-one-vote districts for county boards of supervisors, keeping a lively campaign for the measure which could be elected from new districts next November.

In a compromise with Republicans, majority Democrats agreed to allow the boards of supervisors in counties under 30,000 population 30 days in which to do their own redistricting. This would apply to all but Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Genesee counties.

In the large counties, and after 30 days in the smaller counties, districts would be drawn by a commission composed of the county treasurer, clerk, prosecutor, chairman of the board of supervisors and senior probate judge.

Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, said Democrats would accept a Republican proposal to include a section banning districting plans intended to give either party an advantage.

GOP PROPOSAL
But Democrats turned down the Republican proposal that the bill set at 10 per cent as the maximum by which district populations could vary from the average.

After final passage, the bill is certain to go to a conference committee for resolving of differences between House and Senate versions.

The House version did not include the Republican compromise nor the anti-gerrymander provision. It provided for only a three-member appointment commission, leaving off the clerk, chairman and the probate judge.

As moved to the final voting stage Wednesday, the Senate version calls for not more than 13 board members in counties under 425,000 population and from 20 to 35 members in larger counties.

Man Reports City Robbery

An Okemos man told Pontiac police he was robbed at knife-point this morning by two women who fled with $100 and a ring and watch valued at $720.

Allan Knoll, 51, told police he had met the women last night.
They robbed him in his automobile on Baxter Street. Knoll managed to escape and summon police.

Handicapped children will be of special interest to school census-takers this year, according to Oakland Schools officials.

"We are particularly concerned with identifying deaf and hearing-impaired preschool children and mentally retarded children of all ages," said Dr. Paul Thams, director of special education for Oakland Schools.

"Some parents may not be aware of special education programs for which their children might qualify and neglect to report handicaps to

Thams.

New programs for trainable mentally handicapped will accommodate approximately 150 children not in school this year.
Deaf and hard-of-hearing children are eligible for special training after their first birthday.

TO BEGIN MAY 11
The annual child count will begin May 11 and will be conducted by local school districts in cooperation with Oakland Schools.

Preprinted census cards will carry the names of all children counted last year.

Census-takers will verify names and ages of children who have not moved and will make new cards for children born since last May and for those who have moved.

Cards of children with reported handicaps will be sorted out on Oakland Schools data processing machinery for a cross-check against names of children enrolled in special education classes and those known to be on waiting lists for classed for the trainable mentally han-capped.

School Census to Focus on Handicapped Children

MAKE OVER PAGES

Over 100 Pontiac area citizens, government officials and educators aired their views on a wide range of local problems yesterday at a two-session conference with Michigan Gov. George Romney.

The meetings got under way with the governor's arrival at Oakland Community College just before 1 p.m. and continued for about five hours.

Present at the first session from 1:30 p.m. were some 75 city and county officials, township supervisors, and police authorities.

The second part was attended by about 30 persons, primarily educators and representatives of labor unions veterans' groups, and area chambers of commerce.

The governor adroitly handled a string of challenging questions posed by local officials, giving informative answers to some and promising in other instances to have state officials look into problems.

LIVELY DISCUSSION

Liveliest discussion came with introduction of the problem posed by drinking drivers.

One township official pinned blame for allegedly lenient treatment of drunk drivers on judges, whom he described as a "stumbling block" to adequate enforcement.

In response to an overwhelming show of hands in favor of stiffer penalties for driving under the influence, Romney urged citizens to support legislation providing for administration of blood tests.

"Whether consent to these tests is implied or expressed," the governor said, "their effectiveness is about equal."

A city councilman who described the state traffic safety program as a "hodgepodge" was instructed by the governor to write state officials involved and send a carbon copy to Romney.

"By golly," the governor pledged, "if you don't hear from them, let me know."

Juvenile delinquency, the purported moral decline of American society, and the need for rebuilding "family life" were chief subjects in the second half of the conference.

High school teachers, students at the college, and some senior citizens offered opinions on the topics for most of the session until the governor stepped into the exchange with the fervor of a convention address.

"Time and again, through-

Tentative Boost for OU Outlay

The Senate Appropriations Committee has proposed adding $474,500 to Gov. Romney's $3.7-million budget recommendation for Oakland University.

However, there were indications today that the total higher education package — up $15 million from Romney's recommendation — would be scaled down by next week.

The proposal for $203.6 million was branded as too high by Committee Chairman Garland Lane, D-Flint.

Other committee members indicated privately they expected the package to be trimmed by $5 million to $8 million.

The package devised by the committee is based on an overall cost of so much per fiscal year equated student.

In OU's case, the recommended figure for 1966-67 is $1,100, marking a $12 jump over the current rate per student.

The bill "certainly represents a very substantial improvement" over Romney's recommendation, OU Chancellor Deward B. Varner said today.

He said the governor had ignored the fact that the university's enrollment is currently 429 above the number provided for in this year's budget.

UAW Local Reelects Chief

Receives Majority of Votes in 3-Man Race

United Auto Workers Local 596, at Fisher Body Division's Pontiac Plant, yesterday re-elected Donald Johnson to a second two-year term as president.

Johnson polled 1,579 votes. He was one of three men seeking the local's top office.

Lyman Cowley finished with 444 votes and Edward Johnson received 385 votes, according to a final tally by union officers and auditors.

Johnson, 40, of 540 Auburn, won two years ago in a runoff with Raymond Norman.

A candidate must get a majority of all votes cast for any given office in order to be elected.

NO MAJORITY

For vice president, Carl Sexton received 80 votes. Albert Lighthall 689 and Marge Liddy 650. Since none received a majority a runoff will be held next month between the top two vote-getters.

William M. Hartman won the post of recording secretary with 1,322 votes. His opponent was Raymond Norman.

Record Budget OK'd by Local School Board

Up $1.2 Million Over '65-66; Proposal Now Goes to County Unit

A record $13.87-million estimated operating budget — up $1.2 million over the current fiscal year — was adopted last night by the Pontiac School Board for the 1966-67 school year.

Totaling $13,869,692, the budget was adopted for submission to the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board, which allocates the school district its portion of the 15-mill limitation.

School officials, however, anticipate the final budget will be cut with expenditures projected now to exceed income by about $1.1 million.

Despite the expected budget trimming, the equalized school tax rate is expected to be higher than the $25.35 per $1,000 assessed valuation levied for the current school year.

The debt levy is to be hiked from $2.39 per $1,000 assessed value to $3.43 for 1966-67.

PROJECTED INCOME

Supt. of Schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer projects 1966-67 school district income at $12,797,695.

Whitmer estimated income on the basis that the school district tax base would increase some $13 million over last year, state aid would remain the same and the county allocation would also remain the same.

The record budget provides $730,521 for staff studies (new programs) and teacher salary increases.

Whitmer said $250,000 was allowed in the $13.87 million budget for salary increases.

NEGOTIATIONS DUE

Negotiations are to begin with teacher representatives after an election next Wednesday to determine a collective bargaining agent.

Ten of these are teaching positions to accommodate an expected enrollment increase of 203 pupils, while, of the balance, seven are new administrative posts and other staff improvements in line with long-range planning.

Executive of Urban League Warns of Pontiac Troubles

WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR.

Speaking at the 16th annual dinner meeting of the Pontiac Area Urban League at the Elks Temple last night, Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, warned an audience of more than 600 that "Pontiac has troubles."

Young said housing inadequacies here are as bad as any in the country, and many local schools are segregated to the point that neither white nor Negro children are given the opportunity of togetherness.

"We stand at the cross-roads on race relations in this country. What happens to the American Negro?" Young asked.

"We are now in a test of the validity of our way of life."

"Are we a nation of hypocrites? Are we to continue living a lie? Are we going to keep the Negro low man on the totem pole?" Young queried.

He said that after 350 years of discrimination, we now must exert special effort and remedial education to bring the Negro up to so-called American standards.

Leaders of business, industry, education and service clubs were represented at the gathering.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., presented Young with a model of Pontiac car and a key to the city. The key was broken.

Young said, "In the South they have given me keys. Then they changed the locks. This is the first time I have received a broken key, though."

SIX AWARDS

Mrs. Leslie Seay, on behalf of the league, handed out six awards to individuals and organizations.

Mrs. Robert Roberts, president of the Cinderella Club, accepted a certificate of appreciation for outstanding service.

The same recognition was given Mrs. Fannie Potter, president of the Pontiac Choir Union.

Mrs. Pecola Burns, first vice president of the Negro Professional and Business Women's Club, accepted the certificate for her group.

Awards of appreciation also went to Leon H. Hubbard, local attorney; Dr. Harry L. Riggs, and Charles R. Harris.

2 Boys Killed by Car After Close Call

FERNDALE (AP)—Five-year-old James Sutherland and his 4-year-old neighbor, Mark Snow, were playing yesterday beside a busy street near from their homes in this Detroit suburb.

Suddenly, both boys darted into the street. There was a screech of tires as an oncoming driver managed to stop his car just in time.

Witnesses said the unidentified motorist got out of his car, grabbed the boys and scolded them for running into the street. Then he drove away.

Only seconds later, witnesses added, the boys ran into the street again. This time, both were struck and killed by a second car. The driver was not held.

MSU Viet Project Said CIA Front

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University was charged today with having provided a front for Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) operatives in Viet Nam.

But a spokesman for the university indicated the school was an innocent dupe.

The charge was made in an article in the monthly magazine Ramparts, which added MSU also bought guns and ammunition for security forces during the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem, who later was deposed and slain.

Branding the article as "full of distortion and plain fabrication," an MSU official said the university's Viet Nam project was undertaken merely to provide advice for setting up police organizations and establishing a civil service program.

"We did not knowingly hire any CIA men — and when we found out about their role, we dropped them," said James Denison, director of university relations and assistant to MSU President John Hannah.

GUNS AND AMMO

Denison denied guns and ammunition were purchased by MSU for the Vietnamese government.

However, in its capacity as adviser, the university sometimes made recommendations on what equipment might be needed by security forces, he said.

MSU's international programs have ranged around the world.

Military Junta Pledges Vote in 3 to 5 Months

U. S.-Backed Regime May Survive Until Nationwide Elections

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Thousands of jubilant Buddhist demonstrators marched peacefully through Saigon today in a victory celebration after the military regime decreed elections for a civilian government in three to five months.

A ranking Buddhist leader said the junta's formal pledge "satisfies our main demands."

The willingness of the Buddhist hierarchy to accept the election pledge may mean the survival of the U.S.-supported military government until the nationwide elections.

On Sunday, the Buddhists had demanded the immediate resignation of the junta.

When the Buddhist leaders received word of the decree, they at first called off a planned antigovernment march into the city and decided instead to hold a "meeting of good will" on the grounds of the Buddhist Institute on the outskirts of Saigon.

CARNIVAL ATMOSPHERE

But as thousands of their supporters flocked to the compound in a carnival atmosphere, the Buddhists decided to stage the march as a "victory celebration."

The marchers initially were only to go two blocks, but then the Buddhist leaders amended themselves again and let the huge throng walk on.

After walking through some main streets, the crowd made its way back to the Buddhist Institute at dark.

Scores of the marchers carried antigovernment banners they had brought out before the character of the demonstration was changed.

GENEVA (AP) — The United States disclosed today details of a revolutionary new wire tape which would automatically detect any world power violating an agreement to halt the production of material for nuclear weapons. Chief U.S. delegate to the 17-nation disarmament conference, William C. Foster, challenged the Soviet Union to sign such an agreement.

EXECUTIVE SESSION — For nearly five hours yesterday, Gov. George Romney (back to blackboard) listened to an answered variety of problems and questions from citizens, civic and community leaders in the Pontiac area. The governor's conference at the Oakland Community College's Highland Lakes Campus was attended by more than 100 persons.

State Names School Chief

Two Board Members Abstain in Selection

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education, with two of its eight members abstaining, selected Ira Polley Wednesday night as state superintendent of public instruction.

The $30,000-a-year post had been vacant since last July 1, while the board considered nearly 70 applicants.

Polley, 48, is executive director of the Michigan Council of State College Presidents and secretary of the Michigan Coordinating Council for Public Higher Education. Previously, he served as state controller and as a university teacher.

Board members Donald M. Thurber and Peter Oppewall abstained from the formal vote. They said additional men with the necessary qualifications easily could have been considered without unduly prolonging the search.

NO DIFFICULTIES
Despite the less than unanimous vote, Polley said he anticipated no difficulties in working with the board. Thurber and Oppewall pledged cooperation.

Earlier, the board had been reported deadlocked 4-4 over whether to appoint Polley.

Alexander Kloster, former deputy superintendent, has been acting superintendent since Lynn Bartlett, Michigan's last elected superintendent, left last July 1.

Brennan said in a statement for the board Polley "knows Michigan education and the educational potential of the state."

SUPPORTS POLLEY
"Ira Polley," he added, "is acquainted with the processes of state government and other public bodies whose support for education is vital if we are to build the best education system in the United States."

Thurber and Oppewall, while acknowledging Polley's "many abilities and broad background in government and administration," declared:

"In our opinion Michigan needs an outstanding educator, with demonstrated qualities of leadership in as many areas of education as possible, including K-12 (kindergarten through the 12th grade) programs."

As at a news conference about his familiarity with K-12 education, Polley cited his experience as budget examiner for education from 1956 to 1959.

NARROWS FIELD
In selecting a superintendent, the board narrowed its field to seven or eight men for final interviews.

Brennan said House Speaker Joseph Kowalski's recent criticism of the board's delay in appointing a superintendent did not influence Wednesday's action.

Crash Kills Iraqi Leader

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Mustafa Abdullah also were killed in the crash near the Persian Gulf port.

Seven persons were aboard the helicopter, and all died in the crash, the radio said. Among them were the governor of Basra Province and the secretary-general of the presidential palace staff.

Aref's helicopter vanished into the center of a sandstorm. The last word from Aref's pilot was: "I cannot see anything," Baghdad radio said.

SEARCH ORDERED

UFO Sighted at WMU Campus

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — An unidentified flying object was sighted at a college campus again, this time at Western Michigan University here yesterday.

Several students and a policeman watched the object in the sky for more than 20 minutes after 1 a.m. and described it as starlike.

They said it moved in angles around two stationary stars.

Matt Kurz, a freshman from Chicago, watched the object through binoculars and said it looked like an elongated football with an orange tip, like a cigarette.

Other viewers described the colors as red, green and white.

KEPT MOVING
They said it kept moving around the two stars and then suddenly shot straight up and disappeared.

A UFO sighting was also reported at Iron River in Northern Michigan near the Wisconsin border.

A farm couple who refused to be identified told a local radio station WIKB they saw a "huge, orange oval-shaped object" equated on a country road as they drove home from church services last week.

They said the object blocked the road but shot to the tops of nearby trees when their car approached.

Job Training Funds Sought

MESC Will Ask for $2 Million From U.S.

An application for federal funds for a proposed $2-million program to attack unemployment will be filed by April 22.

The program, which will enroll a maximum of 300 adults and youths, has been developed and will be administered by the Pontiac Board of Education.

The application will be filed by the Michigan Employment Security Commission Pontiac office.

Included in the cost will be renovation of buildings, hiring of a teaching staff, equipment and training allowances for students.

THE PROGRAM WILL BE OPEN TO ALL COUNTY RESIDENTS.

FLEXIBLE PERIOD
It calls for a flexible period of training, extending to as much as 72 weeks, with training to be provided for jobs ranging from low skill to highly skilled occupational classifications.

The center will be located somewhere in the downtown Pontiac area. Bids are currently being considered for the exact location.

Training will be conducted on an eight-hour per day, 40-hour week basis.

A fundamental part of the program will be a 28 week basic education course. Enrollments will have one week of orientation during which they will be tested to determine aptitudes.

JOB TRAINING
Occupational training will be offered in auto mechanics, health services, clerical skills, food service, domestic skills, building services and maintenance.

Employment needs in all these categories have been certified by MESC.

The proposed training program also has been endorsed by the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity.

The program was first proposed over two years ago by Pontiac school officials.

Birmingham Area News

Good-Neighbor Drive Tonight

The Birmingham-Bloomfield Council on Human Relations will kick off its "Good Neighbor Pledge" campaign tonight at the Community House.

The 8 p.m. meeting has been scheduled to give final instructions to several hundred volunteer workers who have agreed to solicit signatures door-to-door, in churches, clubs and other organizations, according to general chairman Bruce B. Van Dusen.

"However, we welcome any residents of the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills school districts, the areas covered by the council, who wish to volunteer to work in this campaign or simply want to learn more about it," he said.

At the meeting, council president Alan W. Joslyn will explain the purpose of the "Good Neighbor Pledge" campaign which will run from Friday through April 24.

Van Dusen will give a progress report on the work of more than 110 volunteers who are attending an organizational meeting for the campaign March 8.

GET SIGNATURES
An estimated 500 signatures have been secured by these workers.

James E. Gibson, chairman of the door-to-door solicitation committee, said he hopes to have 500 volunteers soliciting signatures from their neighbors.

"From a purely geographical standpoint, it will be impossible for us to cover all of the homes in the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills school districts, or even a majority of them," he said.

"We urge those who are not contacted to ask for a pledge form at their church."

The pledge follows:
"I, one of the undersigned, believe discrimination in selling or renting homes or apartments because of race, religion or national origin is contrary to religious, moral and democratic principles."

"I believe the long-range interests of the nation and the Birmingham-Bloomfield area will be best served by fair and open housing."

Von Luckner, German Sea Hero, Dies

MALMOE, Sweden (AP) — Count Felix Von Luckner, who sank 14 allied ships in World War I without taking a life, is dead at 84.

Von Luckner's death Wednesday of an undisclosed illness ended a life of daring that earned him fame as the "Sea Devil."

During the World War I he commanded an innocent-looking windjammer which carried concealed guns and a powerful motor. Masquerading as a Norwegian freighter, Von Luckner's Seeadler (Sea Eagle) scuttled 25 million worth of allied ships, but he took their crews — and even their pets — off first and looked after them until he could put them ashore.

"I broke the British blockade with a clear conscience," he said. "No mother, wife, child or father lost a tear."

ROAMED THE SEA

His ship roamed the Atlantic and Pacific with a 64-man crew, 27 of whom spoke Norwegian. Since Norwegian captains customarily took their wives with them on voyages, he disguised a 16-year-old boy as a girl to pose as his wife.

After sailing 35,000 miles, the Seeadler was wrecked on the South Sea coral reef in August, 1917. Von Luckner and five of his crew sailed a lifeboat loaded with ammunition for 48 days to

COUNT VON LUCKNER

WAS POPULAR

"He was one of the few men to come out of World War I with universal popularity," Thomas said Wednesday at his home in Pawling, N.Y. "His gift was having fun and making everyone else enjoy life."

The World War I hero was too old to be of use to Germany during World War II.

During the 1930s, he said he fell into disfavor with Nazis when he refused requests to renounce membership in the Free Masons and honorary citizenships that had been conferred on him by Bermuda, San Francisco, Miami, and North Dakota.

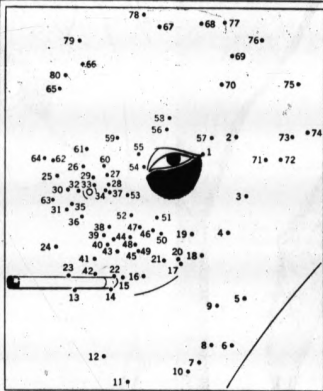

Von Luckner said he spent the latter part of World War II hiding in the Harz Mountains.

The descendant of a Bavarian soldier of fortune who became a Danish count, Von Luckner was born in Dresden, Germany, and ran away to sea when he was 13.

the Fiji Islands, where they hoped to seize another ship. Instead a British police officer and several native policemen captured them.

The British sent him to New Zealand, but he escaped in a motorboat and during six weeks of freedom seized a small sailing vessel. A British cruiser recaptured him and he spent the rest of the war in New Zealand.

Between the world wars he conducted cruises and lectured

Thief Gets Cool Profit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The "air conditioning repairman" walked into the building and went to work — rifling purses left by women office workers who were on a coffee break.

Police said the thief took $150 Wednesday and left without even looking at the disabled air-conditioning system.

State College Is Due Funds for Development

LANSING (AP) — Saginaw Valley College is scheduled to receive $923,000 for campus development and landscaping this year, State Sen. Jerome T. Hart, D-Saginaw, said yesterday.

Hart said a capital outlay bill now being drafted by the Senate Appropriations Committee includes $723,000 for construction of water and sewer facilities, road construction and lighting at the college, and $200,000 for landscaping.

Canoeists Aid River Beauty

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A canoe trip to promote beautification of the Grand River from Jackson to Grand Haven is planned by Grand Rapids chiropractor Richard Schwaiger and three companions.

Beginning the first week in May, they would travel the 270-mile distance distributing tree seedlings and transplants to each of the 16 communities along the way.

State House Okays Wage Bill

LANSING (AP) — A minimum wage bill, which has prompted heated debate, and the only known "sleep-in" in recorded State Capitol history — passed the House quietly Wednesday.

The measure, which broadens the coverage of the minimum wage law, passed and was sent to the Senate on a 66-32 vote. It still would be buried deep on a long House calendar of legislation if majority Democrats had not given it preferential treatment Tuesday. They moved it up from the No. 128 spot for preliminary debate.

Chief features of the bill would:

—Extend coverage to every employer who operates 10 weeks a year, as opposed to the current law which, for all practical purposes, exempts a worker from coverage for the first 13 weeks of employment;

—Limit the amount an employer can deduct from the minimum wage for gratuities from 40 per cent to 25 per cent of the total;

—Allow the state labor director to investigate complaints and prosecute for failure to comply with the law, while the current law allows the worker to file suit;

—Divorces the state wage standard from the federal law.

The measure, however, does not affect the wage floor itself. The state is in the second year of a three-year step program; the minimum wage now stands at $1.15 per hour and will go to $1.25 next Jan. 1.

SLEEP-IN

Union leaders, clergymen, students and representatives of social action groups staged a sleep-in in the galleries of the State Senate April 1, to pressure the Senate Labor Committee into reporting the measure out.

The House bill, however, was identical to that introduced in the Senate, and the two committees agreed to have the bill reported in the House.

Trust Gives Mirror for Telescope

By Science Service
HERSTMONCEUX, England — The gift of a 96-inch Pyrex dish mirror by the MacGregor Trust of Michigan has made it possible for the Royal Greenwich Observatory at Herstmonceux Castle here to build what will be the biggest optical telescope in Europe.

The mirror was originally made as an experiment before the 200-inch reflector was cast for the Hale telescope, now in operation atop Mt. Palomar, which was completed in 1948.

The experimental mirror was given to the British Admiralty in 1949.

The tower to house the Isaac Newton telescope, named after the famous mathematician who was one of England's first Astronomers Royal, is now approaching completion.

The telescope, expected to be in use by the end of 1966, is now undergoing performance tests.

5,500 POUNDS
The concave mirror is 98.2 inches in diameter, 16.1 inches in thickness at the edge and has a central hole 12.3 inches in diameter. It weighs 9,000 pounds.

A reflecting coat of aluminum, evaporated onto the surface, reflects the starlight. The glass surface is polished to an accuracy measured in millionths of an inch.

The total cost of the instrument would have been about $1.5 million with all optical components, but the gift of the mirror resulted in a substantial savings.

"The immense strides made in radio astronomy have tended to overshadow the valuable contribution which can still be made by the optical telescope," Sir Richard Woolley, the Astronomer Royal, told Science Service.

'A New You' by Emily Wilkens

Graciousness Is a Big Part of Charm

CHAPTER 22

"Please," "thank you"—three little words that could change the world. Why don't people use them? When you're polite, you set up a chain reaction.

Thank everyone who gives you service—elevator men, doormen, waiters, even grumpy bus drivers. A real lady treats people who serve her as considerately as she would a visiting dignitary.

Thank your hostess for a delicious meal—write a note, especially if you've spent a weekend at her home. Thank your grandmother for knitting you that beautiful sweater. Act as if you really mean it.

Mr. Bell didn't know what he was getting people into when he invented the telephone. When you call someone, you should have something to say, say it, and hang up.

I don't mean to make it sound as abrupt as all that, but giggling on the phone for hours just doesn't make sense—there must be something better to do.

It also ties up traffic because it prevents others from using the phone, costs money, and makes your parents tear their hair out.

When you call someone who's not at home, leave your name (and number if necessary). Either ask that you be called back or say that you will call again at a specific time.

If you're on the receiving end of a call, say "hello" pleasantly. If the call is not for you, take down the caller's name and number and ask if you can be of any help.

COWS CHEW

I suppose it's better to chew gum than to bite your nails, but do you really have to do either? Chewing makes you look like Elsie the Cow—she's pretty enough for a cow, but you're a girl.

If you have to chew, don't make a big thing out of it. Take one piece of gum at a time, and chew quietly, with your mouth shut—and in private, please.

When I was your age and curious about cigarettes, my father said, "You can smoke if you like, but first let me show you something."

He lit a cigarette, took a puff, and blew the smoke through a clean white handkerchief. One look at the yellow stains that remained and I decided never to take a cigarette for the rest of my life. I have too much respect for my lungs, teeth and fingers.

If you haven't started, don't. Think of all those medical reports. Think of all that money. Think of how hard it will be if you want to stop.

SMOKING MANNERS

If you've already started and nothing I can say will stop you, at least be neat about it. Don't make affected gestures or hold the cigarette in your mouth just dangling there. And don't smoke on the street—it looks awful.

If you're at a crowded lunch counter or restaurant, it's plain bad manners to puff away and ruin everyone else's lunch. And if you're with anyone who's offended by the smell of smoke—don't.

If you're dating a boy who likes to open doors, help you with your coat and out of a car, precede you down a crowded aisle, order for you in restaurants and the like—for heaven's sake hang on to him!

Encourage his gallantry by graciously letting him perform the thoughtful little things that make you feel feminine, even if some of your friends do think he's old-fashioned. (They're probably just jealous, anyway.)

If you're dating an antigallantry type who thinks that modern girls shouldn't expect to be waited on, perhaps it's partly your fault. Naturally, a girl who is "just one of the boys" won't bring out tender, protective feelings in a male.

BE TACTFUL

If a boy doesn't protect you by walking on the outside of the street, tactfully switch to the inside without his knowing it. Do it while you're talking or as you cross a street, and he'll get the idea after a while. Don't leap out of the car; at least wait and see whether or not he'll open the door.

He may really want to be gallant, but perhaps he's afraid you'll think it's silly. Give him a chance.

From the book published by G. P. Putnam's Sons. (C) 1965 by Emily Wilkens. Distributed by King Features Syndicate. Tomorrow: A "fun" quiz to test your femininity quotient.

And the Angels 'String'

GARLAND, Tex. (UPI) — Pat Roach is one of a kind among the 65,000 people of Garland—she plays the harp.

That means she is always being asked to bring the 200-pound instrument to churches and civic meetings.

It also means, she said, that people sometimes think her "a little bit odd," spending hours a day in practice and lugging the harp, draped in a cloth, around in her auto.

TWO REASONS

She figures the harp got to be associated with angels for one of two reasons—because of its "heavenly sound" or "because angels are the only people who have enough time to practice."

Remove Callouses

To help remove unsightly callouses from the hands, apply cuticle remover to them and let dry for 20 minutes. Rinse off the cuticle remover with clear water and rub the hands dry with a turkish towel.

The Type Of 490-Passenger Plane Ordered By Pan American

Big Jets to Begin New Air Era

NEW YORK (AP) — A new flying at less than the speed of sound in long distance aviation will be ushered in by the end of the 1960s, carried at 45,000 feet on the wings of jets seating up to 490 passengers, some in staterooms.

Pan American World Airways Wednesday ordered 25 Boeing 747s at a cost of $525 million, the figure the companies said represented the largest commercial aviation order ever placed.

The new craft is expected to sharply cut the cost of air travel. Juan Trippe, Pan Am chairman, said cargo and passenger costs would be reduced as much as 35 per cent.

The 747, about 2½ times the size of today's largest jet, will cruise at 633 miles an hour, 10 per cent faster than present cruising speeds. It is subsonic—capable of handling "highway size" shipping containers which have become standard on ships, rails and trucks.

A spokesman for a large ocean shipper said "over the horizon we can see that this will certainly be competitive with maritime shipping."

IMMEDIATE EFFECT
The immediate effect on domestic transportation seemed slight although spokesmen for rail and shipping companies declined to discount future competition.

The impact of the order, on which deliveries will begin in September 1969, was vast. Trans World Airlines, the only other United States transoceanic carrier, said it too is considering the Boeing 747.

The enormous plane will carry 214,000 pounds of freight, a capacity double that of existing planes. It will be the first plane faster than sound — aircraft on which Boeing and Lockheed aircraft have submitted plans to the government, nor the C5A military transport which Lockheed is developing.

The over-all length will be 226 feet 6 inches; the wingspan 195 feet 7 inches; the gross weight 680,000 pounds compared with 333,100 for the Boeing 707.

LARGER PLANES
In Los Angeles, a Douglas Aircraft spokesman said "we view the Pan Am order as further confirmation of our own belief in larger aircraft."

Douglas recently embarked on a program of "stretching" its DC-8-41 model to accommodate 251 passengers.

Douglas said it has received orders from 20 airlines for 72 of its big planes, the first of which is undergoing flight tests.

Power for the 747 will be supplied by a new fan-jet engine to be built by Pratt & Whitney Aircraft. Each of the four engines will deliver 41,000 pounds of thrust, almost twice the power of any jet engine in service today.

GIANT INTERIOR — The inside of the new Boeing 747 airplane shows two aisles and seating nine abreast in economy class.

In thrift class, seating will be 10 abreast. Total carrying capacity will be 490 passengers, or 2½ times that of existing aircraft.

There Is No Doubt

Why Lights Are Out

ANGLETON, Tex., (UPI) — The lights went out here yesterday when:

- A truck smashed into a utility pole.
- A power conductor failed a few hours later.
- A bird nest caused a short in a 12,000-volt power line.

Steel Firm to Expand

FREDONIA, N.Y. (AP) — Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp. says it plans to spend between $15 million and $20 million expanding its plants in nearby Dunkirk and Watervliet, near Albany.

X-Ray Movies to Aid Heart Disease Fight

AP Science Writer

LOS ANGELES — Medical travelogues — X-ray movies of an injected gas bubble's journey through veins into the heart — were credited today as a promising new tool in diagnosing a major form of cardiac disease.

The University of Southern California called the technique developed by three radiologists "an overnight success" in detecting trouble in the pericardium, a thin tissue sac enclosing the heart.

Star of the travelogue is a bubble of carbon dioxide, injected into a vein in the left forearm and filmed as it travels into the right upper chamber of the heart.

Measurements of how much the bubble is flattened by the squeezing motions of the heart tell how well the heart is functioning, and particularly whether it is being cramped by unwanted fluid between the heart muscle and the sac that envelopes it.

HEART PATIENTS

The school said in a report that evidence of pericardial disease was found in 68 of 90 heart patients examined.

In 33 of the 68 the diagnosis was proved correct during surgery or autopsy, "and there is no reason to doubt that the disease is also present in the other 35 patients," the report said.

The technique was developed by Dr. A. Franklin Turner, Dr. Harvey I. Meyers and Dr. George Jacobson of the school's department of radiology. Injection of the air into the circulation is dangerous because it can expand and block the flow of blood. The USC team uses carbon dioxide because it dissolves within a few seconds, allowing just enough time to film the travelogue.

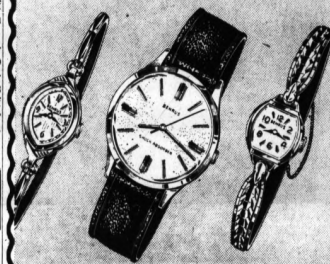

School Bus Drivers Strike; Hearing Set

DETROIT (AP) — Asked to declare a strike by school bus drivers illegal, Circuit Judge Horace Gilmore planned a hearing today.

The suburban Van Buren School District Wednesday asked Gilmore to order the strike ended and to award punitive damages of $12,000 a day while it continued.

Some 48 bus drivers, members of Council 23 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees AFL-CIO, threw up picket lines Wednesday morning. District of Cery or autopsy, "and there is no reason to doubt that the dis-

Two Municipal Judges Unopposed in Election

Pontiac Voters to Pick 7 Commissioners

The immediate political fate of 15 candidates for City Commission will be decided Monday by Pontiac voters.

Paired off by districts, 14 candidates have been nominated for voter consideration. A 15th candidate has been drafted and agreed to run as a write-in.

Ballots in all seven of the city's election districts will have 14 names on the commission portion of the ballot.

Two other names will appear on the ballot (located at the extreme right side). These are the names of Pontiac's two municipal judges, Maurice E. Finnegan and Cecil B. McCallum.

The veteran members of the local bench are unopposed for new six-year terms.

NO PRIMARY

District 3 voters will be turning out Monday for the first time this year. The west side district did not have a primary when only two candidates filed for the commission seat.

Adding two votes

for the municipal judges, each elector Monday may cast a total of nine votes while behind the election booth curtain.

Each elector may cast seven commission votes for seven different individuals — voting for one candidate from each of the city's seven election districts.

In District 7, three candidates are seeking election. However, only two candidates were nominated in the March 7 primary.

The third individual is a write-in candidate.

In order to cast a write-in vote, the voter must lift the metal tab on the slots provided across the top of the machine above the write-in candidate's home district.

One of the metal slots above the names of that district's nominees must be raised and the name of the write-in candidate written on the exposed paper.

carries an obvious handicap into the battle for votes, but election is not impossible.

The late Emmett S. Wellbaum, who finished out of the running in the primary, beat out the then-incumbent as a write-in candidate in the 1964 general election.

Based on candidates comments, the issues of the current election campaign include: (1) public housing, (2) downtown and urban renewal redevelopment, (3) the police and firemen wage dispute, and (4) related city service and financial problems.

On this page and the facing page, you will find background material on candidates in each district as well as a list of polling places and map showing where the city's election districts are located.

Statements by the candidates are below their pictures.

District 1

Two businessmen, T. Warren Fowler Sr. and Charles M. Tucker Jr., are opponents for the District 1 seat on the seven-member City Commission.

Fowler, 59, is the incumbent, seeking a second two-year term, while Tucker is seeking his first city post.

A city resident for 33 years, Fowler is president and founder of the Warren Fowler Electric Co. and founder of Fowler Heating and Cooling Co.

He was a member of the police trail board, 1956-64, and was elected to the commission in 1964.

Fowler is a former director of the Pontiac Area Urban League and serves as a trustee of Newman A.M.E. church.

THREE CHILDREN
He is married and has three children. He resides at 39 Lake.

Tucker, 33, of 161 Earlemore made an unsuccessful bid for a seat on the Pontiac School Board in 1965.

A real estate broker, Tucker is vice chairman of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity.

He is a member of the city's and the school district's human relations committees. A member also of Newman A.M.E. Church, Tucker serves on the Oakland Community College Advisory Board.

CHAPTER HEAD
He is president of the Oakland County Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Tucker attended Highland Park Junior College and Wayne State University. A Korean War veteran, he is married and has two children.

CHARLES M. TUCKER JR.

His statement:
"In the general election two years ago, the present incumbent from District 1 was defeated in his own district over 2 to 1 (1,300 to 625). In the recent primary election, District 1 had the highest vote of any district in the city. Nearly 1,000 persons voted against the incumbent.

"It is obvious the voters in District 1 are very much concerned about their representation."

"There must be community centers for all our young people. We must give the firemen, police and municipal employees the job and wage security equal to industry."

★★★
"We cannot continue to be divided by racial friction, mistrust and unified citizens. I will work cooperatively and intelligently in solving the many problems of our city with all of our citizens."

District 2

A downtown businessman and local realtor are matched in the District 2 runoff Monday.

Kenneth H. Cumberworth, 50, of 32 Newberry has challenged incumbent Robert C. Irwin, 36, of 345 W. Iroquois.

Cumberworth, a Pontiac resident for 24 years, is one of the owners of Bob-Ken's Bar & Restaurant, while Irwin is associated with the real estate and insurance firm of John K. Irwin & Sons.

Cumberworth, who previously worked 24 years at Fisher Body Division, has been in business in downtown Pontiac for eight years.

He attended Pontiac schools and is active in fraternal affairs. In 1963, he was named "Realtor of the Year" by the Michigan Real Estate Association.

He is married and has two children.

Irwin has been active in the West Pontiac Kiwanis Club and Elks Lodge No. 810 and last year headed the city's Michigan Week activities.

ROBERT C. IRWIN

His statement:
"Two years ago the city of Pontiac was exposed to a situation which offered chaos, dissension, lack of direction within and without the city, and an image in the state of Michigan and the nation which none of us were proud of."

"Today, the city of Pontiac can be proud of the giant strides that have been taken. We have a working commission which is dedicated and determined to bring Pontiac back to its high position of respectability which it held in the past. The commission has worked diligently to attempt to encourage development in the downtown area and now we can see definite possibilities of a tremendous commercial development in the downtown area."

★★★
"There are of course, many, many unsolved problems and we must continue to attempt to overcome each problem as it comes up. I feel that with my business and educational background I am qualified for reelection."

District 3

Political opponents in the District 3 race for the City Commission are William H. Taylor Jr. and William J. Winters.

Taylor, 50, of 247 Ottawa and Winters, 39, of 293 Ottawa did not engage in a primary contest since they were the only candidates to file for the District 3 post.

Taylor, Pontiac's mayor for the past two years, is seeking his fourth term on the City Commission.

He is assistant advertising manager at Pontiac Motor Division and was first elected to the commission in 1960. He was reelected in 1962 and 1964.

Active in the Pontiac Area United Fund and Junior Achievement, he is married and has three daughters.

PONTIAC SCHOOLS
Taylor attended Pontiac schools, Wayne State University and completed LaSalle Institute extension courses.

He was deputy chairman last year of Michigan Week in Oakland County.

Also last year, Taylor was named to a five-year term as member of the board of trustees of the Michigan Osteopathic College Foundation.

Winters served three years on the City Planning Commission. He was first appointed in 1962.

DISTRICT MANAGER
A lifelong resident of Pontiac, Winters has been district manager of the Michigan Universal CIT Credit Corp. for 15 years.

A graduate of St. Frederick High School, he attended the University of Detroit. He is married and has one child.

Winters has been active in Pontiac Elks Lodge 810, the American Legion, Eagle Aerie 2887, and the Knights of Columbus.

He has been a sponsor of the aid the senior citizens."

WILLIAM H. TAYLOR

His statement:
"In asking for the support of the citizens of Pontiac for reelection, I pledge to dedicate my time and efforts, with God's help, to programs and projects which will benefit all our people and for the good of the entire community."

"Momentum and continuity will play an important part in completing major projects already started and ready to be finalized. The biggest of which is the downtown development."

"We must continue the program initiated by your present commission. It has changed the image of Pontiac by giving stability to city affairs. Presenting a favorable climate has encouraged outside business, industry, commerce, developers and residents to consider Pontiac as a good place to live and work."

"The team effort has proven its effectiveness. Working together can accomplish our dreams for a better city."

Taylor, 50, of 247 Ottawa and Winters, 39, of 293 Ottawa did not engage in a primary contest since they were the only candidates to file for the District 3 post.

Taylor, Pontiac's mayor for the past two years, is seeking his fourth term on the City Commission.

He is assistant advertising manager at Pontiac Motor Division and was first elected to the commission in 1960. He was reelected in 1962 and 1964.

He was deputy chairman last year of Michigan Week in Oakland County.

Also last year, Taylor was named to a five-year term as member of the board of trustees of the Michigan Osteopathic College Foundation.

Winters served three years on the City Planning Commission. He was first appointed in 1962.

DISTRICT MANAGER
A lifelong resident of Pontiac, Winters has been district manager of the Michigan Universal CIT Credit Corp. for 15 years.

A graduate of St. Frederick High School, he attended the University of Detroit. He is married and has one child.

Winters has been active in Pontiac Elks Lodge 810, the American Legion, Eagle Aerie 2887, and the Knights of Columbus.

He has been a sponsor of the aid the senior citizens."

Pontiac Arrows football team and is a member of St. Benedict's Catholic Church.

WILLIAM J. WINTERS

His statement:
"I am astonished at the present condition of the so-called urban renewal program. The downtown district of Pontiac is looking like Hiroshima, with long vacant non-tax-producing land, disruption of revenue producing businesses and driving money out of town."

"I, without malice, oppose the present Mayor of Pontiac for spearheading and nearly succeeding in putting an income tax burden on the citizens of Pontiac, without a pretense of study, evaluation and report to the people, nor consideration of asking the people's approval."

"I am amazed at the flow from City Hall of secret decisions arrived at in secret meetings. It's time for a change."

"The housing situation in Pontiac is deplorable. I cannot perform magic, however, I would use federal funds now available to change this bad situation and would oppose ordinance 1270. I am for low income housing to aid the senior citizens."

District 4

Two familiar faces are exhibited in the District 4 City Commission contest involving George Grba, a 1964 candidate, and incumbent Leslie H. Hudson.

Both men were on the primary ballot two years ago. Grba lost out in the primary, while Hudson went on to win election to the commission.

Grba, 35, of 28 Kimball is an employee of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

A native of Pontiac, he is a graduate of Ferris Institute and an Army veteran of the Korean conflict.

He is married and has two daughters.

TOPPED PRIMARY
Grba was the top vote-getter in the primary. This is his second try for the commission.

Incumbent Hudson, 43, of 315 Gallego who served as mayor pro tem for the past two years, is a hardware dealer and real estate broker.

He was a Democratic nominee for delegate to the 1961 Constitutional Convention, served as Waterford Township clerk, 1947-51, was a county supervisor in 1952, and a state legislator, 1955-58.

Hudson was an unsuccessful congressional candidate in 1958. He is married and has four children.

The District 4 race is expected to be a close one. In 1964 Hudson topped Grba and other candidates in the primary, but in this year's primary, Grba's victory showed strength.

The north side district has one of the largest number of registered voters, with 5,958 on the city clerk's election rolls.

LESLIE H. HUDSON

His statement:
"Working together as a City Commission, we have accomplished the following for the city of Pontiac since April, 1964:

"The Taubman proposal to revitalize our entire business district, the sanitary landfill problem has been solved for the next 25 years with the purchase and annexation of 235 acres to our city."

"The 489 new street lights are a defense against accidents and crime prevention, salaries in Pontiac are equal to or better than surrounding municipal employees."

"The Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine will be built in our city, and senior citizen apartments will become a reality in Pontiac."

District 5

His statement:
"What kind of impression does our downtown area give to a city blessed with the industrial advantages that we enjoy?"

★★★
"Why is the morale of our city employees at an all time low? Why has an unfair labor practice complaint been filed against Pontiac? Why a city income tax, when redevelopment alone will bring over $600,000 to our city budget annually? Why are over fifty percent of our homes listed as sub-standard? Why must we lack decent housing? Why does our city commission hide behind a veil of secrecy? Why is business and money leaving town? Why must we lack the benefits of a civic center? Why not answers instead of excuses?"

District 6

His statement:
"After several years of a divided commission and another two years of complete chaos the present City Commission has proved to be one of the most progressive, energetic and honest commissions to serve our city."

★★★
"I feel I am obligated to help further the accomplishments which the present commission has planned and started for the future development of Pontiac."

"I will always consider and try to solve the problems of our city workers, but will not be pressured or dictated to by paid officials of unions who live outside our city."

★★★

JOHN A. DUGAN

His statement:
"After several years of a divided commission and another two years of complete chaos the present City Commission has proved to be one of the most progressive, energetic and honest commissions to serve our city."

★★★
"I feel I am obligated to help further the accomplishments which the present commission has planned and started for the future development of Pontiac."

"I will always consider and try to solve the problems of our city workers, but will not be pressured or dictated to by paid officials of unions who live outside our city."

★★★
"Low-rent housing for elderly citizens must be built as soon as federal money becomes available."

The race for City Commission in Pontiac's large District 5 pits incumbent John A. Dugan against William B. Hine.

District 5, located mostly east of Baldwin, has the largest number of registered voters with 7,597 spread over eight precincts.

Dugan, 57, of 363 Nelson is a veteran at City Hall, while Hine, seeking his first public office, is a relative newcomer to city politics.

Dugan, an early member of the labor movement here, has served 10 years on the City Commission. A member of United Auto Workers Local 653, he is a Pontiac Motor Division employee.

WON IT BACK
After losing his commission seat in 1962, Dugan returned to win it back in 1964.

He is married, has two sons and is a member of Oakland Park Methodist Church.

Hine, meantime, is a 32-year-old employee of GMC Truck & Coach Division. He formerly worked for the Baldwin Rubber Co. and was financial secretary there of the United Rubber Workers Local 125 (AFL-CIO).

Hine of 490 De Sota has been endorsed by the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council and the Pontiac Democratic Club.

An 11-year resident of Pontiac, he is an army veteran. He is married and has two children.

WILLIAM B. HINE

His statement:
"Being interested in good honest city government that will provide active leadership, I have become a candidate for City Commissioner. Pontiac has not received active concern nor planning for community improvements. The poor community relations, the lack of decent housing for our elderly and low income families and the stillness behind our urban renewal program will bear this out."

★★★
"Three important questions need answering concerning urban renewal: (1) Description of land to be acquired privately, (2) cost and methods of financing acquisition of urban renewal lands, and (3) when do we move to restore our city."

"I have participated in contract negotiations. I know the necessity of both parties negotiating in good faith."

For Absent Voters

Ballot Deadline Near

Voters expecting to be absent from the city on election day may apply for an absentee ballot.

City Clerk Mrs. Olga Barkley said those eligible for absentee ballots have until 2 p.m. Saturday to make application at her office at City Hall.

An absentee voter ballot counting board has been established at City Hall to tally the absentee votes.

In addition to being absent from the city, three other reasons can be the basis for voting an absentee ballot.

The reasons include a voter physically unable to get to the polls (illness or disability), a voter 70 years of age or older or a voter that cannot vote on election day due to his religion.

T. WARREN FOWLER SR.

His statement:
"I pledge continuation of harmony and cooperation on the City Commission for continuing progress in every district of the city."

"Continue to work toward total and logical redevelopment of downtown Pontiac. Completion of long-needed sewer and water projects now underway. Continuation of the greatly improved street lighting installations to aid in the protection of our citizens."

"Further increase the number of policemen to protect our citizens."

"More city-sponsored recreation facilities and playgrounds throughout the city."

"Insure full and equal employment and upgrading opportunities in all phases of city employment."

GEORGE GRBA

His statement:
"Our society will never be great until our cities are great. To have a great society we must solve the important problem of human dignity, the protection of family life. Without it there will be no great society, no neighborhood, no warm home life to remember!"

"The city of Pontiac lacks protection for the family-way-of-life. The people of Pontiac deserve a housing policy that lifts it out of despair."

"We must make sure that no more Lakeside ghettos are built again. First it is necessary to rid the city of its 'third class' thinkers and return to quality: housing, neighborhoods, and representative government."

"Pontiac needs a family plan: Comprehensive community plan, established residential, commercial and industrial districts. If you are interested in justice and not what sells, vote the family plan."
