The Last Smile?

LAST KNOWN PICTURE BEFORE AMBUSH — About five hours before newly paroled Roger Touhy, center, and retired policeman Walter Miller, left, were shot, Wednesday night, this picture was made. With them in the Chicago Sun-Times Building were Ray Brennan, right, who helped Touhy write his biography, and a reporter. There appeared to be many motives but very few clues.

Suspect Capone Men, Mafia

Dead End in Touhy Probe?

CHICAGO (AP)—Slim clues, many theories and an apparent dead end marked the early police investigation for motives in the shotgun slaying of Roger Touhy, prohibition era gang chief.

As police intensified their search today for the killers of the 61-year-old ex-convict Wednesday night, there appeared many motives that might have prompted the assassination. There were not many clues.

Touhy was shot down by two men with 12 gauge shotguns only 23 days after he finished serving more than 25 years in Stateville Prison for kidnaping.

He was assassinated from ambush, in typical gangland fashion, as he and a companion, a retired policeman, mounted the steps of Touhy's home on the West Side.

The ex-policeman, Walter Miller, 62, was seriously wounded but before he collapsed he fired at the fleeing gunmen. He was in critical condition in a hospital.

Some investigators theorized that the remnants of the old Al Capone gang may be responsible for Touhy's murder. They were certain he became a target for crime syndicate vengeance.

Veteran policemen, who recalled the days when the rival Touhy and Capone mobs engaged in open gang war, said the killers waited more than 25 years to prove that the crime syndicate never forgives an enemy.

CAPONE GANG GRUDGE

"Touhy definitely could have been shot in vengeance by surviving members of the Capone gang," said Virgil Peterson, former FBI agent and now head of the Chicago Crime Commission. "They had a grudge against him. Nobody except Touhy ever stood up successfully to Capone."

Robert Tieken, U.S. district attorney, blamed the Touhy slaying on the Mafia.

"This killing fits into the Matia pattern of keeping members' lips sealed," Tieken said. "Touhy must have talked, at one time or another. They killed him to impress other members that no matter how long it takes, they will seal your lips with death if you talk."

Pick Up 2 Survivors of Ontario Air Crash

NORTH BAY, Ont. (AP)—Two survivors have been picked up from the wreckage of two U.S. Air Force planes which crashed in Northern Ontario.

The Air Defense Command today identified the survivors as Capt. Roy N. Minor of Manchester, Tenn., and Lt. Theodore C. Adams of Greenville, S.C.

Adams copiloted a B47 bomber which collided with an F102 fighter on training exercises yesterday. Minor was pilot of the bomber.

The other three men in the B47 were Lt. Lloyd A. Horn of Boise, Idaho; Lt. Carleton W. Hunt of Oklahoma City and an observer. The fighter pilot was Lt. Gaylor B. Treu of Garner, Iowa.

What? Snow? Well, Maybe a Little Bit

A few snowflakes may flurry around the Pontiac area tonight winds at 10-15 miles an hour.

The weatherman tells us temperatures will dip to 26 degrees tonight and rise to 34 Saturday.

★ ★ ★

For the next five days temperatures will average near the normal high of 26 to 33 and normal low of 10-20 with only minor day to day changes in temperature Sunday through Wednesday.

Little or no precipitation is predicted for the period.

★ ★ ★

Northerly winds at 20 miles an hour at 10:15 a.m. will continue at 10-20 miles through tomorrow. The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 29 degrees. At 1 p.m. the reading was 37.

Anti-Eastman 'Art' Rocks Pontiac Police

Vicious cartoons aimed at police officers supporting Public Safety Director George D. Eastman were being circulated through police headquarters today.

One cartoon contains obscene language.

The cartoons are unsigned. They were found on the walls of the patrolmen's recreation room this morning and quickly removed. Other copies were quietly being passed around the department. Their origin is unknown.

Appearance of the cartoons brought into the open the animosity existing between two groups in the department.

One camp contains supporters of Eastman; the other consists of officers sympathetic to Herbert W. Straley, whose court appeal for reinstatement as Pontiac police chief has been upheld.

Straley's firing by the Pontiac Civil Service Commission last spring ended—on the surface at least—feuding between the groups.

★ ★ ★

His victory in regaining his job appears now to have been the signal for a resumption of hostilities.

One of the cartoons shows a hairless man and a pair of hands holding a scalp. The name under the face reads "Sgt. Cooley"; the cartoon is entitled "Getting the Ax."

The scalped victim is quoted in the cartoon as saying: "But chief, I'm a full-blooded Cherokee. You shouldn't do that to me."

ONCE PPOA PRESIDENT

The cartoon is obviously a reference to Sgt. Herbert C. Cooley, one-time president of the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. (PPOA) which twice petitioned for Straley's ouster.

Another shows Sgt. Robert C. Gaines, Eastman's aide, in two poses.

The first marked "Before" shows him on a golf course; the other marked "After" shows

Hospitalize Dole Cases Without Pay

By PETE LOCHBILER

True to its principles, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital continued today to treat indigent patients — but without any county reimbursement.

Reimbursements — approximately $34 per welfare patient a day — halted Nov. 1 after the State Health Department refused to certify the 338-bed institution to the State Department of Social Welfare.

State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis said that under rules enforced for the first time this year, St. Joseph is too crowded.

Certification is required by welfare statutes. "Certification or lack of it has "nothing to do with the hospital's right to operate," Dr. Heustis emphasized.

★ ★ ★

The state's action left the hospital with two alternatives, neither of which it liked, said Sister Mary Xavier, administrator:

Cut down on the bed complement or turn away welfare patients. So far, the hospital has taken neither step.

"We refuse to turn away any patient we can care for," said

Czech Envoy Charged With Giving Poison

Army Says He Aided Red Agent in Plot at Radio Free Europe

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—The U.S. Army charged today that the Czechoslovak vice consul at Salzburg, Austria, provided a Communist agent with the poison found in salt shakers at the cafeteria of Radio Free Europe in Munich.

"The Army counterintelligence investigation shows that Jaroslav Nemec, a vice consul at the Czech consulate in Salzburg, Austria, on Nov. 16 gave a Communist agent salt shakers containing atropine for placement in the RFE cafeteria in Munich," an official Army statement said.

"The agent was told that the shakers contained a "mild laxative'," the Army said.

"Clinical analysis, however, proved that they contained atropine in sufficient quantity to cause serious illness, the degree of which would depend upon the age and physical condition of the individual and the amount of 'salt' consumed."

Disclosure of the plot against the private, American - financed station, which broadcasts anti-Communist propaganda, was made Wednesday by its European director, Erik Hazelhoff of Mount Kisco, N.Y.

★ ★ ★

He said he had notified U. S. and West German authorities after being tipped that the poison had been put in salt shakers at the station's cafeteria Nov. 21.

U. S. Army and West German officials at first denied they knew anything about the plot. But a spokesman later said the Army had been told about it.

Today's Army statement said the plot was discovered by counter-intelligence agents during "normal security operations."

Hazelhoff said in his announcement that a "foreign Communist power" was behind the alleged poisoning but refused to identify the country. He said only that it was planned by a Communist diplomat stationed in Western Europe.

Hazelhoff said an RFE employe, an undercover agent who

Bride: $10,000 —Cost of Loving Index Spiraling

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Nazareth Islamic Court Judge Sheikh Mussa has some advice for young men about getting married—Don't do it, the price is too high.

The Moslem judge advised a boycott of marriage yesterday to halt the spirafing cost of taking a bride.

★ ★ ★

By Moslem tradition, men buy their wives from their prospective fathers-in-law. By today's prices, a nice bargain in brides goes for as high as $10,000.

★ ★ ★

The judge said that was too much money and young men would be better off if they did not marry and run themselves into debt.

President Due in Paris Today

Special Train Carries Him to French Capital for De Gaulle Scrap

EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER (AP) — Fit and cheerful after his three - day Mediterranean cruise, President Eisenhower landed in France today for a Western summit meeting that may need a peacemaker.

An echoing 21-gun salute greeted the U.S. heavy cruiser Des Moines as she brought the President into Toulon harbor.

French sailors snapped to attention as the President stepped down the gangway to French soil.

★ ★ ★

French Minister of State Louis Jacquinot welcomed the President to France on behalf of President Charles de Gaulle.

"France first came to our aid in 1777," Eisenhower said in reply. "The underlying affection and respect of the two nations each for the other has never stopped."

★ ★ ★

A nine-car special train was assigned to carry Eisenhower and his party on the 530-mile trip north.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter is in Toulon to accompany the President to Paris.

Other leaders of the North Atlantic alliance awaiting Eisenhower in Paris looked to him to do something about President Charles de Gaulle's newly reaffirmed stand against putting French military forces under control of the NATO command.

But there was considerable doubt that even the U. S. President's much vaunted powers of persuasion would make much headway with the strong-willed Frenchman.

They Meet in Texas

ROCKY AND MR. SAM — New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller stands shoulder to shoulder with House Speaker Sam Rayburn as they met Thursday in the doorway of a gift shop in a hotel in Dallas, Tex. The governor had just purchased a handbag for his wife and three small stuffed kittens for his grandchildren while in the shop. In news conferences through the South, Rockefeller has stated he is not satisfied with the pace of desegregation.

Integration Slow, Says Rockefeller

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says, by implication, that the Eisenhower administration could have done more to speed up desegregation of the public schools.

He expressed this belief in Texas as he neared the end of a political fact-finding tour through seven states today.

"I won't be satisfied until we achieve our goal," he said.

He defined the goal as "ultimate equality for all."

In news conferences in the South, reporters questioned Rockefeller closely about his opinions on the bitter controversy over the schools.

He said he is not satisfied with the pace of desegregation. At the same time he counseled patience and said "understanding" is needed. He said parties of interest should be brought together. "A great deal can be done by a group sitting down informally not in the glare of public attention."

The following was an exchange in one press conference.

PROGRESS OK?

"Q. Do you feel that progress made since the Supreme Court decision has been at a satisfactory rate?

"A. I suppose satisfactory would depend on somebody's definition of the word. It's not satisfactory in terms of our goals of ultimate equality for all.

"Q. Are you satisfied then with the progress?"

"A. No. I won't be satisfied until we get our goal but I understand why in many areas why the pace hasn't been faster and I think understanding is a very important factor in this field."

Answering another question, Rockefeller said "I think the executive, wherever it can, can bring together parties in cities and states, citizens who are in touch with these questions, educators and so forth."

In such conditions, he said "people can jointly seek the ways to achieve what I think we all have accepted as a national objective."

Use Trust Fund, Add New Taxes, Eye 1-Cent Levy

Williams Is 'Unhappy' Over Bunching of All Plans in One Bill

LANSING (UPI) — Relief was in sight for crisis-weary Michigan today as lawmakers stampeded to get in one day a fiscal settlement that has evaded them for nearly a year.

The House within hours could put Michigan on the road to solvency by accepting an 87-million dollar revenue plan that cleared the Senate in a one-hour blitz of legislative activity last night.

The Senate, long the graveyard of fiscal plans, breathed new life into hopes for settlement by voting:

— 18-12 with no votes to spare, for a long-mothballed House plan to ease the cash crisis with 10 million dollars from the veterans trust fund. (Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland County) voted against the bill.)

— 22-7 to raise 13 million dollars a year for two years with a one-mill increase in the corporation franchise tax that, along with the trust fund plan, would be linked to a 34-million dollar package of nuisance taxes passed earlier by the Senate. (Sen. Lodge voted for the bill.)

— 27-2 to send the House a resolution calling for a referendum on a constitutional amendment that would allow the Legislature to boost the 3 per cent sales tax to 4 per cent as a long-range solution.

DEMS HOLD KEY

House Republican leaders predicted passage but said Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Democrats held the key.

Williams, at a news conference shortly before midnight, said he was "not happy" with the Senate plan, which would provide 47 million dollars in new taxes the next 12 months instead of the 110 million he had sought.

However, he said, "Something is better than nothing."

"I will do nothing to block this Republican tax program because the alternative is another year of financial starvation," Williams said.

Williams was angered because

MSUO to Seek New Building

Asks Permission for Requesting $2 Million Structure in Future

Michigan State University Oakland officials yesterday asked the MSU Board of Trustees for permission to submit a request to the state budget director at some time in the future for a $2,000,000 engineering and science building.

MSUO also asked for $45,000 for three needs for the next school year. Of this, $13,000 was requested for movable partitions to provide additional faculty offices in the university's academic building, Foundation Hall.

Another $15,000 was asked for installation of an elevator in the classroom building, and the remainder to provide facilities for the recreation area in the Oakland Student Center.

Chancellor D. B. Varner said the request for permission to seek funds for an engineering-science building was a "legal technicality."

Such a request must be made before the university actually can ask for any capital outlay funds, he said.

Varner told the MSU Board of Trustees that the school would not be able to admit additional students without additional buildings.

He pointed out library and faculty office space were already crowded. Next year, he told Board members, some faculty members will occupy partitioned classrooms because of the office space shortage.

To Brewer's right are three other former board members who received similar gifts at a banquet last night. They are Harold B. Euler, how hospital administrator who served three years on the Board; Edward P. Barrett, 1½ years, and T. W. Bradford, one year. There also were plaques honoring three others who retired from the Board since it was organized in 1952. They are Charles E. Yaeger, 6 years; Joseph Jones, 5 years, and the late William F. Maybury, first chairman of the Board, 3 years.

Courthouse Statue Being Pondered

County courthouse planning supervisors have another problem. They don't know what kind of statue to place at the new building.

The question popped up for the first time yesterday when the Board of Supervisors' Ways and Means Committee met to discuss, among other things, site completion projects which will be necessary for the $3,000,000 building in the Service Center.

★ ★ ★

Supervisors must have attached some importance to the meeting, as it was unscheduled and, at one time, conducted behind closed doors.

Included among some $363,000 additional projects outlined tentatively by Joseph Drucke, assistant county engineer, was $10,000 for a statue.

And other improvements which will require additional funds will be the re-location of West boulevard, parking lot, sidewalks leading to the courthouse and surface drains.

Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the Board of Auditors, appeared confident more money would be available for the projects. He said with the lowering of the county's welfare caseload, it appeared an anticipated deficit would be one million dollars less next year.

★ ★ ★

It wasn't too long ago when supervisors wondered whether they'd have the funds to award construction contracts.

Now it's a new problem. What kind of statue should be placed in the plaza at the new courthouse?

had been working with the Communists, informed him of the plot. The director said none of the station's 1,200 employes was poisoned but that he ordered the cafeteria closed after the discovery. The cafeteria was reopened Thursday.

PASSED ON INFORMATION

The Army statement said as soon as it learned of the plot, it passed on the information to RFE "as a matter of urgent concern" and also informed the West German Ministry of Justice.

Atropine, the drug found in the salt shakers, is derived from the deadly nightshade plant. It is given in minute doses for certain forms of heart disturbances, asthma and intestinal colic. A dose of two-tenths of a gram causes death with 6 to 24 hours.

Rain Pelts East, South; Snow Thaws in West

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain pelted wide areas across the eastern third of the country today, with southern sections getting the heaviest downpours.

★ ★ ★

A storm center, which brought heavy snow and rain to south central areas earlier this week, moved into Alabama. Rains broke out in broad areas from eastern Texas and Oklahoma eastward across the Lower Mississippi Valley to the Gulf states and the Ohio Valley.

Generally clear weather prevailed in other parts of the country except for snow flurries near Lake Superior and cloudiness along the Pacific Coast.

★ ★ ★

Sunny skies and highway crews cleared much of the heavy snow from highways in east central New Mexico Thursday, paving the way for hundreds of stranded motorists to resume their trips.

Takes Welfare Cases Without County Aid

Sister Mary Xavier. "That would be against all our principles."

The hospital has admitted 15 welfare cases since Nov. 1, she said, with little expectation of any payment to offset costs of treatment — which average nearly $37 a day per patient.

Financial losses are regretable, said Sister Mary Xavier. "We simply have to try to make them up by cutting expenses elsewhere."

The administrator said a cutback in bed complilment — to meet State Health Department specifications — is being considered.

"But we do not want to do this, either," she said. "Our only purpose is to serve the community. We want to take care of as many people as we can.

"We believe there is a shortage of hospital beds here. We do not want to add to that shortage by cutting down on our beds."

But only when the hospital is back in the good graces of the State Health Department will it again be eligible for Social Welfare Department reimbursements.

"We would certify the hospital immediately upon learning that it meets the requirements," said Dr. Heustis.

The rule that St. Joseph is accused of violating requires that there be 80 square feet of hospital space for beds and 24 square feet for bassinets. The latter must also be three feet apart.

This was the first year that the Health Department enforced this rule, Dr. Heustis said.

It was among 200 rules and regulations for the improvement of hospital standards which Michigan hospitals and health agencies jointly adopted in 1951 and which have gradually been enforced since then.

The rule is a safeguard against the spread of infectious diseases among hospital patients, particularly the staphlococcus germ which defies miracle drugs, Dr. Heustis said.

"St. Joseph knew that enforcement of this rule was coming. Apparently, the hospital was in a quandry about what they think is the necessary quantity of care and the provisions we adopted concerning safety."

Heustis expressed sympathy with the hospital's dilemma. "I have great confidence in the management of the hospital and their ability to do the right thing," he said.

About 25 Michigan hospitals — including St. Joseph — were refused certification this summer. The State Department of Social Welfare granted several months grace period, then ordered county welfare departments to cease payments to hospitals that had not adjusted to meet rquirements.

Besides St. Joseph's, payments were also stopped to Ardmore Hospital in Ferndale, which was also jusged too crowded.

St. Joseph had made no secret about its crowded conditions. The hospital generally operates at more than 100 per cent capacity, squeezing extra cots into wards and hallways when unforeseen emergency cases increase the patient load above expectations.

Frisky Nuby Ready to Wrap . . .

Gift Woes? Give a Lion

Speaking of last minute Christmas gift suggestions, how about a lion?

★ ★ ★

For the man who already has everything else, for instance.

Hunt's Pet Shop at Miracle Mile Shopping Center has just the beast if you're in the market for a 140-pound kitty.

Nuby is only nine months old, yet he stands three feet tall and measures four feet in length. That's not including his tail.

GAINS 4 POUNDS WEEKLY

His size is explainable.

Nuby is gaining about four pounds a week on a daily diet of 4½ pounds of horsemeat. He likes it in chunks, raw.

Although it's not a very good selling point, the shop owner, Thomas Hunt, has to point out that Nuby's meal costs 33 cents a pound.

That comes to about $1.50 a day —or roughly $10.50 a week, $550 a year.

It's a figure that could rise or fall, depending on Nuby's bounding appetite and the price of horsemeat.

Circus-born Nuby's good for about 27 more months as a household pet—a dubious description at best—according to Hunt.

For instance, Nuby's attitude toward children rules out such pleasantries as patting "the nice little kitty" on the head.

★ ★ ★

Not fully comfortable in captivity, Nuby feels a "superiority" to children and small women, said Hunt. The lion is apt to claw or bite them, he admitted.

OCCASIONAL WHACKS

With Hunt, the beast is manageable.

"Of course, I've whacked him now and then, and he respects me now," the pet show owner allowed.

Hunt will have Nuby on display until tomorrow night.

At 7:30 p.m. the lion's owner, Peter Zylstra of Farmington, will put Nuby through a few simple tricks and wrestle with him a while.

"That's to show that you can have fun with a lion," explained Hunt.

Nuby's price? A mere $250.

Or how about a canary as a last-minute gift? They eat birdseed and grow old gracefully.

A LION FOR YOUR STOCKING — From Santa's cautious stance, it doesn't appear likely that Nuby the Lion will find a place in the old gentleman's Christmas pack. Pet shop owner Thomas Hunt is shown holding the big cat quiet.

OKs Area Study of Local Units' Services, Powers

DETROIT (AP)—The Southeastern Michigan Metropolitan Community Research Corp. has authorized studies of community services and powers of local governments.

The studies were approved yesterday by the corporation's board of directors.

The first study of the six-county Detroit Metropolitan area will compare services given by different communities within the area. The second will concern the powers of local government in Michigan.

Kettering Facilities Okayed in Waterford

Tentative plans for the home-making facilities, shops and gymnasium of the new Waterford Kettering High School were approved by the Waterford Township Board of Education last night.

★ ★ ★

Costing some $2,500,000, the second senior high school in the school district will be constructed on a 55-acre site on Bender street off Hatchery road. It is scheduled for a 1961 opening.

In other business, Assistant Superintendent James Denherder presented a report on the high school football field lighting bond issue. Of the original $25,000 issue, $16,350 is still owing, he said.

The building and site committee reported on possible future school areas in the Huntoon Lake and Beaumont - Pontiac Lake school areas.

Principal of the Stringham School, Donald Smith, has been authorized by the Board to participate in a teacher-recruitment program for the 1960-61 school year. He was granted a leave of absence from his present position in order to serve in the new position. An acting principal for Stringham School will be named at the January Board of Education meeting.

MORE BOOKS, TEACHERS

The Board approved an added expenditure of $12,000 for library books and supplies for the current school year for all schools in the Waterford Township district.

Two new teachers were awarded contracts for the 1959-60 school year. Mrs. Grace Bates of 2445 Jones Rd., Waterford Township, will be the new kindergarten teacher at the Jayno Adams School, and Mrs. Mary Poag of 2503 Ivanhoe St., Waterford Township, will be the new kindergarten teacher at the John Monteith School.

Through the Student Council, a request from the student body of Waterford Township High School to meef with the Board of Education regarding the renaming of the high school was presented.

In the request, the council said it had met to evaluate student opinions and would like to ascertain the reasons for renaming the school, and to "see if the Board could possible alter its decision."

★ ★ ★

A meeting date will be set following the holiday season, according to Superintendent William Shunck.

Cash Relief Looms Up; House May Vote Today

"Republican senators are still holding the trust fund cash as a club in their game of politics. They have tied the release of this money to the passage of their nuisance tax program in the House."

★ ★ ★

Williams said last night he was undecided on whether to ask House Democrats to support the plan.

"It will go through," predicted House GOP floor leader Allison Green (R-Kingston). "I don't think there are that many Democrats stupid enough not to buy it."

Green urged news media to spread word that House members were being urged to return for today's session.

There was only a shred of hope for settlement last night when the Senate convened. The corporation franchise fee had been defeated by a 7-21 vote Wednesday and the trust fund had been shelved in committee since June 3.

But Senate majority leader Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) mustered new GOP strength.

"This is an important day in Michigan history," Beadle said. "This puts us back on the road."

Lawmakers were expected to be on the road home this weekend for a recess until Jan. 4, no matter what the outcome of House action. The 1960 session starts Jan. 13.

Key developments in Senate action:

Trust fund: This stop-gap financing plan, which passed the House March 24, was amended by the Senate to include a schedule for restoration of the fund by 1971. The fund in effect would be liquidated, with the money going into the general fund to pay long-overdue bills.

Restoration would start in 1961 with payment of one million dollars to the fund account. Another million would be paid in 1962 and more would be added each year.

The House would have to agree to the amendments and to the linking to the nuisance tax package before the fund could be used.

Franchise fee: The current 4-mill levy would be increased to 5 mills. The first collections would start in May.

The nuisance taxes on beer, cigarettes and other items would go into effect Jan. 1 and would expire June 30, 1961.

Sales tax: Although nearly lost in the shuffle of action on immediate financing plans, the measure to call for a vote on boosting the sales tax cleared a major hurdle on the way to becoming the major political in Michigan in 1960.

Oakland County juvenile authorities and sheriff's deputies today were looking for an Independence Township couple in connection with a child neglect charge.

★ ★ ★

Aroused by complaints of neighbors, deputies yesterday found the four small children of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Whiteagle in their ranch-type home at 5582 Dvorak St.

They had bee nalone with a 15-year-old baby sitter "for several days," said deputies. The baby sitter is a sister of the children's mother, Mrs. Shirley Whiteagle, 21.

Their 32-year-old father works at a Detroit freight transport company and "gets home about once a week," deputies said.

'FILTHY' CONDITIONS

The mother's whereabouts are unknown. The four children, Mark, 2, Debbie, 3, Shirley, 1, and a six-month-old baby Marie Rose, were living in conditions described by deputies as "filthy."

All were taken to the Oakland County Children's Home as was the babysitter.

Officers said the baby had "sores on its body and a swollen ear." The infant was found sleeping partially clothed in a large basket.

★ ★ ★

"There were clothes, dirt, papers and diapers strewn all over the house," deputies said.

The only food in the house, they said, was some dried beans, hot peppers, relish, two ounces of deviled ham, a pint of milk and two tablespoons of hominy grits.

Neighbors h ad previously given the children some canned food. One noticed the older children playing in the cold early yesterday and invited them in for breakfast.

COULDN'T GET IN

The tots said they were trying to get into their house. The baby sitter was asleep, deputies reported.

Their mother was last seen Monday afternoon, according to deputies.

Arizona, Utah, New Mexico and Montana are generally ranked as the most important copper-mining states.

Goodfellow Trial Attracts 500

Police Sergeant First to Go Before the Bar in Royal Oak Twp.

The trial of the first of 10 persons charged with pocketing money from Royal Oak Township Goodfellow newspaper sales continued this morning before Township Justice Lonnie C. Cash.

Again, as was the case yesterday when the trial opened, a large crowd estimated at well over 500 pushed its way into the Royal Oak Township Center's gymnasium to watch proceedings.

First to be tried is Police Sgt. James Gatewood. The charge is larceny by conversion, a misdemeanor. Conviction on the charge carries a maximum sentence of 90 days in jail plus $100 fine and two years," probation.

But the community reaction has created the atmosphere of a first degree murder trial. The alleged theft of money which was to be used for underprivileged children at Christmas has aroused the residents of this small but densely populated South Oakland County township.

State Police Sgts. Eugene Dinkel and Robert Neigebauer testified they gave Gatewood a marked five-dollar bill for a paper Monday. It was not in the $110 Gatewood handed in that night.

The prosecution said Gatewood couldn't have given it in change since he would have done so only for a larger bill and there were no larger bills in his collection.

Justice Cash is expected to hand down a verdict today. The trial of all those charged, including five policemen and three firemen, may last a week or more.

King's Arrival Stirs Up Orgy

Drunken Parties, Riots Rouse Fear for Belgian Monarch in Congo

STANLEYVILLE, Belgian Congo (UPI) — The arrival here of King Baudouin of Belgium has touched off such an orgy of happy drunken parties and fights between his loyal subjects and nationalists that officials today feared for the monarch's safety.

Rival groups of Africans staged drunken parties throughout the city because of Baudouin's presence.

Police moved in on the parties, whacking away with batons at drunken natives and confiscating banners with such diverse slogans as "complete independence for the Conga" and "long live the King."

Baudouin arrived here yesterday on a hastily-planned tour designed to pacify nationalist demands for immediate independence.

AIRPORT BATTLEFIELD

Many persons were injured in rioting at the airport, which resembled a battlefield.

The landing strip was strewn with the injured as well as drunks sprawled out with banners, spears and broken beer bottles beside them.

Police used tear gas to break up a mob of nationalists that got dangerously close the the King's party.

Baudouin said in a radio address yesterday that the legitimate aspirations of all Congolese inhabitants, including those who want independence and those who don't, will be considered by his government.

He said the transformation from colonial status to independence would take time and "we need your good faith and your desire to build a solid and durable country."

The Day in Birmingham

Sets Exam for 2 Women Charged With Shoplifting

BIRMINGHAM—Muncipal Judge John C. Emery has set Jan. 8 as the examination date for two Oakland County women charged by Birmingham police with shoplifting more than $1,000 in merchandise from area stores.

★ ★ ★

June Kulaga, 35, of 3964 Hillcrest Dr., Highland Township, and Louise Larue, 37, of 3840 Maiden Dr., Waterford Township, were arrested together as they left the Village Store, 250 Pieree St., by two Birmingham patrolmen and a store detective.

More than $250 in stolen merchandise was found on them when they were arrested by patrolmen Gordon Baker and Douglas Marble, police said.

The police were called when the store detective, employed by another Birmingham store, became suspicious of the two women and followed them into the Village Store.

★ ★ ★

He told police it was there that the actual shoplifting was seen.

Police said a good deal of the merchandise found on them included costume jewelry, and other items from Himelhoch's and Danby's and merchandise from Northwood Shopping Center in Royal Oak.

A check by Birmingham police of the women's homes turned up more than 1,000 in stolen goods from stores in Oakland County, police said.

★ ★ ★

"Name anything imaginable and we found it at their homes," Lt. Merle Holmquist said. "Everything from jewelry to a tricycle."

"Most of the items still had price tags from the stores where it had been taken," Holmquist said.

The two women at their arraignment before Judge Emery stood mute and asked examination. They were released on $1,000 bond each.

Revenue Service Wants 150 to 170 More on Staff

A recruitment drive has been started by the local district of the International Revenue Service for added strength for its enforcement staff.

★ ★ ★

Detroit District plans call for adding from 150 to 170 revenue agents, revenue officers and special agents by next August, according to Director R. I. Mixon.

Of these, some 10-12 persons who qualify will be assigned to the Pontiac Branch Office.

★ ★ ★

The candidates will first be schooled and then given practical training in the audit, collection and intelligence activities.

Information may be obtained locally from Lyle D. Russell, administrative supervisor of the Pontiac Branch, 65 Oakland Ave.

But the Killing Goes On in Algeria

De Gaulle Once Promised Peace

By FRED SPARKS

PARIS (NEA)—At five minutes before eight every television screen in France went briefly blank. Then focused on a clock with large second hands. Each tick-tock was amplified, like a heart beat, as the minutes slipped away. At exactly eight, a cryptic announcement:

"Sixteenth September 1959. Elysee Palace, General De Gaulle, President of the Republic, addresses the nation . . ."

LEGIONNAIRES AND REBELS: Terror is malignant.

The General, ever conscious of history, spoke:

"In the name of France and the Republic! If God will let me live and the people will lend me their ears. I propose . . ."

He proposed that the Algerian rebels come to see him, De Gaulle, to arrange a cease-fire, to stop the killing. Then, when all was peace, he would ask Algeria to determine its own tomorrow: independence, integration with France, or a state under French protection. He would notarize such a document with his honor.

After two months the rebels said De Gaulle should confer with five Algerian leaders who have been guests of the French since 1956—in jail. While some considered this a slap it's more likely a stall. De Gaulle said he wouldn't meet the quintet. The killing continues.

It is hard to stop regular armies from shooting, as we found in Korea. We negotiated two years before achieving a cease-fire. Old men talked as young men died.

★ ★ ★

It's harder to stop guerrilla war. The cannon of organized armies can be silenced by a commanding general's radio signal. The "armies" bleeding France in Algeria are small primitive bands, seldom more than 50 strong, operating in wild terrain with no true central control.

★ ★ ★

Their connection with the rebellion's political GHQ—the Algerian FLN "shadow government," in Tunis—is frail. Like juvenile delinquent gangs, the guerrilla band's loyalty is first to local warlords.

Even if the FLN desired immediate cease-fire, it would take weeks to contact all bands. Contact is by runner who must slip through the electrified barbed wire fence the French erected along the Tunisian border.

It's doubtful every rebel leader would approve peace. They see strings attached to De Gaulle's offer. And what if the General died or lost control? Wouldn't power return to right-wing colonialists who say: "The only good Arab is a dead Arab!"

Many warlords are convinced Paris can't crush their insurrection. The struggle should grind on until France evacuates all or part of Algeria. They know Indo-Chinese rebels ignored several cease-fire offers and eventually won.

And there is division between FLN's political leaders, living in Tunisia's Mediterranean - side villas, and guerrilla leaders who sleep in caves. Guerrillas are not convinced the politicos won't sell them down the desert.

★ ★ ★

Rebel extremists also are clouding cease-fire hopes. Sixty citizens of a tiny hamlet near Constantine, who signed a petition urging acceptance of De Gaulle's offer, were rooted from their beds one night, marched to a lonesome field and strangled with their own belts.

I heard De Gaulle himself recite figures showing that in the year since he took office casualties have doubled preceding years. French dead, 7,200; rebels, 77,000.

And the daily ticker taps out an endless dirge . . . French helicopter shot down, crew beheaded . . . Algerian band, caught in open desert, slaughtered by jets . . . 14 French civilians crippled in Algiers movie when grenade, rolled under seat, exploded . . .

De Gaulle, the man in the middle, knows well the forces delaying cease-fire. He pleads with the colonialists:

"If a page has been turned by the great wind of history it is up to you to write another one."

He offers rebel leaders dignified safe conduct, free air-passage to Paris, and once there excellent hotel accommodations.

God has let him live. The people have lent him their ears. But the guns are still firing. Terror is malignant. There is no peace.

The birth of military aviation is said to have taken place at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio, Texas, on March 2, 1910, when Benjamin Foulois, then a lieutenant in the Signal Corps and later a brigadier general, tested a Government-purchased Wright biplane.

Chambers Endorse Tax Cut Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Council of State Chambers of Commerce has endorsed a bill providing for a gradual reduction in federal income and corporate taxes over a five-year period.

John L. Connolly, chairman of the council's federal finance committee, said the proposal would raise the national income and provide "the high level of employment and price stability required for national prosperity."

The bill would reduce income taxe rates over five years from their present range of 20 per cent to 91 per cent to minimum-maximum level of from 15 per cent to 47 per cent.

President Plans to Visit Brazil

Will Stop Off in 4 or 5 Other Latin Countries; No Schedule Set Yet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — High administration sources said Thursday that President Eisenhower is definitely planning to visit Brazil and four or five other Latin American countries next spring.

No definite dates have been set for the journey, it was learned, but April is considered a likely time if it does not conflict with the proposed Big Four summit meeting.

There had been persistent reports that the President was considering extending his good will travels to the areas south of the border before leaving office.

The President's brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, is known to have urged the Chief Executive to make the South American trip. Dr. Eisenhower has visited the area as a personal representative of the President and has been his adviser on South American matters.

★ ★ ★

No announcement of the Latin American trip is expected until after Eisenhower returns Dec. 22 from his current trip.

It was reported no definite decision has been made on whether the President will attend dedication ceremonies April 21 for Brazil's new capitol, now under construction at Brasilia.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said at his news conference last week that a South American trip was very much under consideration by Eisenhower.

Clothing Workers to Ask for 25-Cent Increase

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) — The Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America Union said yesterday it will ask for a 25-cent-an-hour package increase from the men's clothing industry when new contract negotiations begin next February.

The announcement was made during the second day of the union's three-day executive board meeting. The present contract expires next June 1.

Sen. Kennedy Says No '60 Decision Yet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy's office says he has not yet made decision on whether to seek the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960.

★ ★ ★

The Massachusetts senator's office issued the statement Thursday after United Press International carried a report about a letter dated Dec. 28 saying Kennedy would announce his candidacy on Jan. 2.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy's office explained that several letters had been drafted "covering all possible eventualities concerning the senator's decisions." The letters all are unsigned, the statement said, and some are dated Dec. 28 and some have different dates. Kennedy is out of the country and won't return until after Jan. 1.

His office said the draft letters were prepared by his staff "because of the problem involved in sending a letter to a number of his supporters."

Auto Output to Reach Record

This Week Will Be 2-Year High as Plants Back to Normal

DETROIT (AP) — Auto production in the United States, booming back to normal a full week faster than expected, will set a two-year record this week, Automotive News reported today.

The trade paper said domestic factories will assemble 150,600 cars in the six days ending Saturday. Last week's total was only 86,566.

This is the first time since the week ended Nov. 5, 1957, that the industry has topped the 150,000 mark.

Chevrolet Division of General Motors reports an all-time production record this week of 47,000 cars including 8,700 Corvairs. Chevrolet's previous high was 45,866 regular cars in the same week last year.

Over-all production a year ago this week was 135,961 cars.

Automotive News said truck output this week also shows a sizeable increase, from 12,200 to 19,707. A year ago this week 23,395 trucks were built.

This week's high production came as all lines of all auto companies returned to action for the first time since steel production resumed.

In Canada 7,405 cars and trucks will be built this week compared with 5,036 last week and 9,037 a year ago.

More to 'Badness' Than Meets the Eye

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

It's raining — and the baby has a bad cold. What with her fretfulness, my worry and broken sleep, I feel very tired and depressed.

In the kitchen I am preparing more juice for her when my 4-year-old grabs the unsqueezed half of the orange on the table, and runs out with it into the pelting rain. I follow. When I catch him, I bear him back into the house and there spank him as hard as I can.

I am unjust. I am behaving badly. I am using my little boy's outburst of jealous feeling as an excuse to explode my own frustrations.

Now, in my action, a person who did not love me would see only bad-tempered abuse of my little boy. But a person who loved me would see something else. He would say:

"You wanted more consideration from Bobby, and spanking him was the only way you could think of to get it."

★ ★ ★

And because the loving person would see through to the original meaning of my bad action, I might burst into tears of gratitude to him, and seek reconciliation with Bobby.

Grownups are not the only people whose bad actions have good meanings behind them.

Children's do, too. When Betty lies to us, her bad action is self-protective as well as cowardly. When Jimmy disobeys the rule against riding his bike in traffic, his misbehavior is enterprising as well as defiant. When Paula is rude to us before guests, her bad action is brave as well as impudent.

All these bad actions contain a good meaning that it is productive to discern.

If we see the original goodness behind them, and credit the children with it, they will cling to us in gratitude and relief as I cling to the friend who sees the truth behind my mistreatment of Bobby. And they will not lie, disobey or insult us so readily again.

★ ★ ★

The idea that we are sinners without any relieving grace in our sins has been a most profitable one for our moral authorities. Yet the Jesus they claim to follow never dealt in total sinfulness.

In the act of the prostitute who presented herself to Him, all the respectable people around Him saw only outrageous insolence. But in it, He saw something else. He saw humility.

So we have top authority for seeking the original virtue behind the misbehavior of children. We have it for seeking it in our own.

Cooperative Probation Sought in Kent County

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Five Kent County communities today were studying a proposal to set up a cooperative probation program to work for the rehabilitation of juvenile offenders.

Involved in the plan are the cities of Wyoming and Grandville and the townships of Paris, Byron and Gaines. Cost of the program was set at $10,000.

Of the five communities, only Wyoming now has a rehabilitation program of its own. Under the new plan, a fulltime probation officer would work with referral cases in all five communities.

In New 'Christine' Musical

Maureen O'Hara Sings

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Maureen O'Hara — the only woman in town whose face can stand out between the joint distractions of vivid red hair and a creamy mink greatcoat — is beginning a new career. At least the public thinks it's a new career. Bigtime singing. Like in a broadway musical.

★ ★ ★

"You know, I cannot understand why people are so surprised," Maureen said, unwrapping the mink and the delicious Irish brogue. "I've been singing since I was a child. My mother was an opera singer. I've sung in every third or fourth picture I've ever made. I've had a voice coach nearly all my life.

"And yet now everybody stops and says, 'Listen, did you hear? O'Hara's going to sing!' "

The actress, who is scheduled to begin rehearsals in February for her first Broadway musical, "Christine," (book by Pearl Buck, music by Sammy Fain and Paul Francis Webster) added, "Further proving my desire always to sing, I was heartbroken, utterly heartbroken, when I lost the lead in 'The King and I' to Deborah Kerr.

★ ★ ★

"Of course, I must admit that if I were Rodgers & Hammerstein, and somebody said 'Who do you want to play the lead in your movie, Deborah Kerr or the Pirate Queen?' I'd have done exactly just what was done."

Hollywood Headlines

Bob Wagners Still Bill — Coo, Too, After 2 Years

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Togetherness reached its zenith in the celluloid world during the past two months when Natalie Wood and husband Bob Wagner costarred in a new movie.

Natalie and R. J. (as she calls him) come to work together in the morning. They act together. They have lunch together in his dressing room. At night they go over the script together.

You'd think when two people spend that much time in one another's company they'd also have some dandy battles.

But no. R. J. and Natalie are all the fan magazines say they are.

★ ★ ★

Between scenes and during lunch the pair bill and coo like a couple of newlyweds. By Hollywood standards they are an old married couple. They celebrate their second wedding anniversary next week.

Natalie has appeared in 33 pictures, R. J. in 35, but this is the first time they've managed to land in the same movie.

It would be logical to conclude that the Wagner family is ecstatic. However, into this most perfect of movieland worlds there is one black note. The name of the picture is "All the Fine Young Cannibals," a fact which provokes fits in the handsome young couple.

Why Does State Lose Industry?

High Wages and Taxes Blamed by Michigan Businessmen

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Michigan manufacturers are moving out of the state because of high wages and high taxes, a group of businessmen maintained here yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The group testified before a special Senate committee studying Michigan's job picture.

"We moved our production lines to Kansas and Kentucky because we would not meet union demands in Michigan," said Carl J. Wagner, president of Marvel Industries.

Until recently the company manufactured equipment for mobile homes at Sturgis and employed 168 hourly workers.

HITS LABOR CLIMATE

"The threat of higher taxes, and the labor climate established by the labor unions, are poor ways to increase job opportunities," said George Rowan, a Jackson industrialist.

Laurence W. Love, president of the Battle Creek Steel Fabricating Co., said lower state taxes on industry in Indiana cost him the loss of a steel contract for a Battle Creek school to an Indiana competitor.

Love testified that a study by the Citizens Alliance to Build Michigan, which he helped organize, employed a committee to compare Michigan taxes with other states.

★ ★ ★

"We found," he said, "that the attitude of public officials and their programs in the field of taxation, and the general treatment of the business community, was a major element in the industrial expansion of other states."

PCH Quintet Gets Big Test at Flint Central Tonight

Chiefs Seeking Second Triumph in SVC Action

Indians Big Stumbling Block in Defense of League Title

By BILL CORNWELL

FLINT—There should be at least two good reasons for the Pontiac Central basketball team to desire victory here tonight when the Chiefs tangle with Flint Central at Ballenger Fieldhouse.

The first reason alone should be incentive enough.

It was on this same court last February that the Chiefs lost their only decision of the 1958-59 season, a heartbreaking 53-52 overtime setback at the hands of Flint Central in a game apparently all wrapped up.

PCH blew an eight-point lead in the final two minutes. The Indians tied the score on two foul shots with one second remaining, then won the contest in overtime and the Chiefs finished their regular schedule with a 14-1 record.

★ ★ ★

The second reason is no less important.

Coach Art Van Ryzin's cagers are gunning for their 2nd consecutive Saginaw Valley Conference title and 3rd in the last four years. Flint Central could be a big stumbling block to their ambitions.

Tonight's game will be their final outing until after the holiday's when they resume Saginaw Valley warfare on Jan. 8 at home against Bay City Central.

★ ★ ★

A triumph this evening would enable them to relax on a 2-0 Valley record during the vacation and rest up for the grind still ahead.

Flint Central, which handed Bay City an 82-58 pasting last Friday on opening night in the SVC race, would like to lean back on the same 2-0 record during the holiday recess.

The Indians, PCH and Saginaw currently share the Valley lead with 1-0 records. Like the Chiefs, all other league teams will enjoy a vacation layoff after tonight's action.

★ ★ ★

Saginaw High invades Bay City Central and Saginaw Arthur Hill entertains Flint Northern to complete this evening's SVC schedule.

Joe Dowdy's Indians will spot PCH an advantage in both height and experience, but they always have been troublesome for the Chiefs and particularly on their own floor where their fast-break attack often works to perfection.

Pontiac, which won its Valley opener last week at PCH with a 56-55 squeaker over Arthur Hill, will be risking a perfect 3-0 record against the Indians. Flint Central's over-all mark is 1-2.

★ ★ ★

Flint's starting quintet is expected to be Dick Kucharski and Dick Horning at forwards, Bob Hudson at center and Jack Rashleigh and Jim Copeland at guards. Van Ryzin probably will start Bill Hayward, George Fed, Bill Pritchett, Booker Hurner and Phil Rabaja.

The main event begins at 8 p.m.

Pontiac Press Photo

READY TO FIRE — Gary Wikoff, left, Bill Allen, center, and Ken Johnson will be ready to fire away for Walled Lake when the Vikings entertain thrice-beaten Southfield tonight. The trio has accounted for most of the Walled Lake points led by Allen with 57 while winning one of three.

Area Matmen Start Tourney

Waterford Grapplers Dual Losers Thursday Night

Waterford went into the Southeastern Michigan Wrestling tournament today along with Pontiac Central, Northern, Walled Lake and several others after a Thursday night trouncing.

The Skippers took a 47-5 home beating at the hands of powerful Dearborn Fordson winning only on a forfeit. Don Morgan, 127, was the most impressive of the losers bowing, 7-3. Waterford's reserves went down to a 17-12 defeat.

★ ★ ★

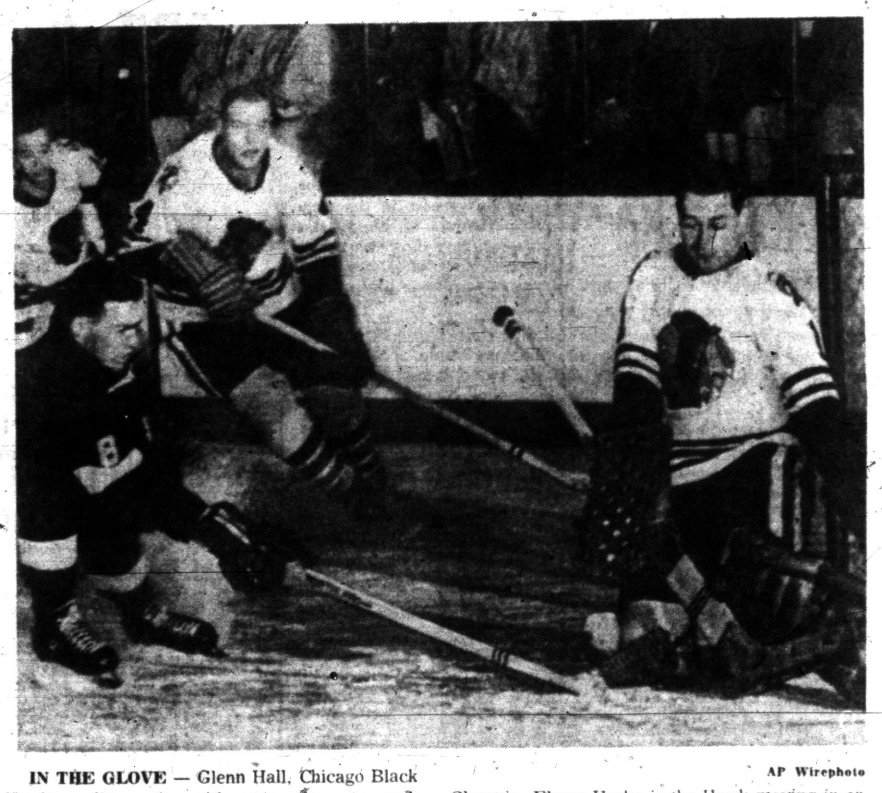
Hazel Park, Berkley, Oak Park, and Southfield were some of the other Oakland County teams on hand when the big tourney got rolling this afternoon at Allen Park. Dondero and Kimball of Royal Oak entered individuals.

About 521 matmen from 30 schools will take part in some 900 matches in the two-day session. Six matches will be going simultaneously.

★ ★ ★

Today's afternoon and evening schedule called for preliminaries. Finals will begin at 7:30 Saturday night with medals to be awarded the top four in each weight class following the meet. No team scores will be recorded.

Surprise Oliver Paces Wing Win



AP Wirephoto

IN THE GLOVE — Glenn Hall, Chicago Black Hawk goalie, waits with open glove to grab this shot by Red Wing Barry Cullen (8) for a first period save in their game last night at the Olympia. Elmer Vasko is the Hawk moving in on Cullen. The Wings defeated the Hawks, 3-2, for their 4th straight victory.

Scores Twice in 3-2 Victory Over Chicago

Aldcorn Starts Rally From 2-0 Deficit Late in 2nd Period

DETROIT (AP) — Murray Oliver was good enough as an infielder to get a baseball contract from the Cleveland Indians' organization, and good enough in hockey to make the Detroit Red Wings' club after only one year in the minor leagues.

Baseball's loss was Detroit's gain as far as the 22-year-old forward is concerned. Oliver never quite got over a broken arm suffered while playing in the Cleveland farm system, so gave up the game in favor of hockey.

When he clicked for a pair of goals in last night's 3-2 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks, it marked the second time the youngster has come through with a two-goal performance.

He is only 14 games out of the minor leagues, but already has scored seven goals. He got the tying goal and the winning goal last night, enabling the Wings to run their unbeaten string to six.

Oliver turned pro a year ago and in his first full season, scored 61 points for the Edmonton Flyers, Detroit's top farm club. He came to camp this year but coach Sid Abel and general manager Jack Adams felt he needed more seasoning.

"He played well in camp," said Abel, "but we just didn't feel he was quite ready. Back at Edmonton he was terrific. He was a crowd-pleaser and was scoring well, and we hated to take him away from that club. But the Red Wings needed a lift and we thought maybe Oliver could provide it. We're not sorry now."

Oliver described by Abel as a smart hockey player who diagnoses situations and anticipates his teammates' moves, is fast becoming a favorite with Red Wing fans. The Detroit club is running a surprising second in the National Hockey League race and the fans know Oliver has been a key man in the recent surge.

Abel talked about Oliver's "hockey sense" and his knack for being in the right place at the right time. Veteran Gordie Howe didn't elaborate that much.

He's just a good hockey player, that's all," said Howe.

Oliver's first goal tied the game at 2-2 at 8:30 of the final period. He took a pass from Gary Aldcorn and scored from 12 feet.

Eight minutes later, taking another pass from Aldcorn, the rookie swept past the Chicago nets and tossed a shot into the far corner, past the surprised Glenn Hall.

The Hawks had rushed out in front 2-0 on goals by Bobby Hull in the first period and Eric Nesterenko in the second. The Hawks outplayed the Wings decisively in the first two periods.

It was a bouncing goal by Aldcorn that shook some life into the Detroit club.

Loop Play Features Final '59 Cage Slate

By CHUCK ABAIR

An all-out effort before the annual holiday layoff is expected tonight as the prep basketballers around the Oakland County area take part in the last big schedule of 1959.

Pontiac area fans can have their choice of games with Northern Waterford, St. Michael, St. Fred, Birmingham Seaholm, Clarkston, Lake Orion, Bloomfield Hills and the new Birmingham-Groves playing at home. The latter team met Country Day this afternoon at the Seaholm gym.

All but Groves will be involved in league games. Many of the contests will carry considerable importance although it is still early to tell how races are going to wind up.

Northern, with only one good showing for four starts, seeks its second Inter-Lakes victory at home against winless Berkley. Waterford, now 2-1 after Tuesday's walloping, tries to advance to 2-0 in the loop by beating Southfield at home. Walled Lake entertains favored Farmington in a make-or-break tussle for the Vikings.

★ ★ ★

Seaholm will be starting Eastern Michigan play following a split of outside games by playing Hazel Park. Ferndale and East Detroit will tangle in a big one while Port Huron vs Royal Oak Kimball rounding out that schedule.

Clarkston is 0-3 including two at home where the Wolves are supposed to be unbeatable. The Wolves will host Milford, also off to a slow start. Bloomfield Hills seeks an upset of Northville in the other local Wayne-Oakland tussle.

Pontiac Press Photo

SET SHAMROCK — Art Robak will be setting his aim on the hoops at Madison Junior High tonight as St. Michael hosts St. Benedict in an important SCL contest. Each team is 2-0.

Livonia where Holly and Clarenceville match 2-0 records. West Bloomfield attempts to pull another surprise at Brighton.

★ ★ ★

Troy has moved into the driver's seat for Oakland B honors and should finish this part of the season 3-0 by whipping Oak Park. Lake Orion tries to keep its hopes alive at home against Clawson. Fitzgerald should have too much for Madison. Orion, Fitzgerald and Avondale currently share 2nd. The Jackets are through until January.

Ortonville fans will learn how good their team is tonight when perennial South Central champion Imlay City visits the Blackhawk court. Ortonville has showed excellent scoring punch in three triumphs. North Branch meets Millington in the other league affair.

Anchor Bay and Armada share the Southern Thumb lead, but will have trouble staying unbeaten. The Bay boys will be guests of tough Dryden while Armada is at home against Brown City. New Haven goes to Memphis and Almont travels to Capac.

★ ★ ★

In other games, up-and-down Rochester plays at Lakeview, Romeo and Oxford do battle at the Wildcat gym. Lapeer could get initial win as host to Davison. Royal Oak Dondero takes on Monroe, Shrine entertains Redford St. Mary. Lamphere plays its faculty, Farmington OLS is at Ann Arbor St. Thomas and Roseville vs Mt. Clemens.

★ ★ ★

Rochester has dropped two straight after a good opening showing. Romeo has yet to win. Lapeer keeps improving. Another Dondero victory could give the Oaks momentum for a big year.

★ ★ ★

Except for one or two games, the remaining prep cage action for 1959 will be in several area holiday tournaments. Bloomfield Hills, Holly, Brighton, Troy, Fitzgerald, South Lyon, L'Anse Creuse, Milford, Clawson, Farmington and Southfield will be among the schools taking part in meets between Christmas and New Year's.

10 Penalties Follow Fight

Canadiens End Slump, 8-2

By The Associated Press

Bedlam broke out in Montreal last night with referee Eddie Powers assessing 24 penalties—including 10 after a second-period free-for-all that involved all the players on the ice except the goalies.

After the brawl was over, the Canadiens had drubbed the Toronto Maple Leafs 8-2 to snap a six-game National Hockey League winless streak.

Billy Harris of Toronto and Jean-Guy Talbot of Montreal ignited the big fracas. Then football player Gerry James, playing his first game of the season for the Leafs, and the Canadiens' Dickie Moore joined in.

Toronto's Tim Horton and Montreal's Jean Beliveau started swinging and scuffling. Both went to the ice along with linesmen Dave Clutsam, who was trying to separate the combatants.

Horton and Beliveau drew major penalties for fighting. Harris, Talbot, James and Moore, along with Johnny Wilson and Allan Stanley of the Leafs and Boom Boom Geoffrion and Tom Johnson of the Canadiens, all received minor penalties for roughing.

All 10 players were bunched into the overcrowded penalty box. The mass banishment were believed unprecedented in the league.

Of the 24 penalties over-all, 13 went to the Leafs. The record for more penalties in a game is 36, set by Montreal and Toronto on Dec. 9, 1953—26 coming in the third period.

Eight different players accounted for the Canadiens' goals as league-leading Montreal posted its first victory since Nov. 29. The Leafs went down to their fifth straight setback.

Ted Williams Shows Income of $83,000

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams knocked $40,000 off his reported 1959 salary of $100,000 in court testimony yesterday.

The 41-year-old home run star said the Sox paid him only $60,000. He said his income from all sources was $83,000.

The Miami Herald asked Red Sox General Manager Bucky Harris about Williams' salary statement and quoted Harris as replying: "Well, I guess he knows what he was getting."

Williams said he hadn't received a 1960 contract and doubted whether injuries and age would let him play.

Harris told the Herald Williams would receive a contract for the coming season.

Williams made his statement during an appearance before Circuit Judge George Holt, in opposing an increase from $100 to $250 per month in support for his daughter.

OCSC, Great Lakes Three Points Apart

They can't shoot 'em much closer than the split finish in last night's OCSC-Great Lakes rifle match. The Oakland County club marksmen fired a winning 938 actual side, but dropped by one point the handicap section, 999-998. The visitors had 936 actual.

Top gun for the match, both divisions, was Elvis Henry with 193-203.

The scores:

OCSC—Henry, 193-203; Bob Waggoner, 190-200; Merrick Guy, 185-198; Milt LaPorte, 185-198; J. Forstrom, 199 (hcp); Cash Bond, 185 (actl); John Farnam, 163-177; Ken Farnam, 181-194; T. Hiltunen, 175-182.

Great Lakes Steel—Stephenson, 187-197; H. Zmyewski, 186-200; Ed Turner, 190-203; A. Blakely, 183-200; C. Blakely, 171-192; J. Kormendi, 190-200.

All-Star Pin Points

COUNTER - CLOCKWISE — Billy Welu's wrist turn produces a wide-breaking curve.

By BILLY WELU
THE CURVE

There are those who will argue about the sameness or difference between the hook and curve.

Some say a hook is a small, sharp-breaking curve. Others say it's only speed that constitutes the difference.

The curve is a slower delivery and rolls more. The curve covers more alley than the hook, because of the wide arc. You deliver it from a different position on the approach.

To roll a curve, the thumb has to be held in a 9 o'clock position, instead of 10 or 11 o'clock for the hook. It must be delivered from a stance closer to the center of the approach, although as in the hook, aim is taken at a spot or line about 10 to 12 inches in from the right.

The chief difference is in the degree of speed that causes the slower curve to roll and the faster hook to turn, and in the angle.

You can argue, too, about which delivery is better. I like the hook because it is easier to control. You can hold a tighter line with a hook ball, and don't have to worry about bringing the ball back from way out. An effective hook need only break the width of three or four boards on the lane.

The curve requires tremendous accuracy and knowledge of alley conditions. It will "take" on some alleys and fail on others. It is not as easy to adjust to alleys as a hook because it has a tendency to lose the working stuff needed to drive through for those important strikes.

I do not recommend a curve for the beginner or average bowler.

He or she is better off starting with a straight ball and working up to a hook delivery.

KC Keg Tourney on Tap Tomorrow at Motor Inn

Fifty doubles teams are set to compete tomorrow in the first Knights of Columbus Mixed Doubles Jamboree at Motor Inn.

Squad times are 4:30 and 6 p.m. for the Council 600 event with the awarding of prizes held at a gathering of the contestants at the KC hall immediately following the bowling.

City commissioner Robert Landry will be master of ceremonies for the post-tourney session. Ted Klimowicz will play piano for a community sing.

Big Second Halves Decide 'C' Games

A 26-point 2nd half and a 25-point 3rd quarter produced victories for Field's Insurance and Town & Country, respectively, in Class C City League basketball games Thursday night at Pontiac Central.

Field's pulled away from Smith's Fuel Oil in the 3rd and 4th periods for a 38-25 triumph after trailing at halftime, 14-12. Bob Becker led the victors with 16 points while Don Scott made nine for Smith's.

T&C held only a 21-18 halftime lead, but went wild in the 3rd stanza and then coasted to a 57-39 victory over Eastside Shopping. Earl Mudge scored 15 points for the winners while Dexter Jarrett had 12 to top Eastside.

Saturday Last Day for 'Gang' Entries

Saturday is the final day for registrations in Pontiac YMCA gang basketball tournament to be held Dec. 29-30 in the "Y" gym.

The tournament will have two divisions, for 10-12 year olds and 13-14 year olds.

Official entry blanks can be picked up at the YMCA on Mt. Clemens street.

Any group of boys desiring to enter must have adult sponsorship. There is no entry fee.

Trophies will be awarded by the North Pontiac Kiwanis Club.

Interested groups should contact Bob Wisdom at the Y.

Girls' Basketball Monday

Celtics Make It 10 Straight

Boston Trips Knicks by 137-126 to Lead by Five Games

By The Associated Press

The rampaging Boston Celtics are riding the crest of a 10-game winning streak in the National Basketball Assn., but they're still a long way from the record for most consecutive victories.

The Celts kept their skein intact by defeating the New York Knicks 137-125 in the only game played last night. In gaining its 23rd victory in 27 starts, Boston opened up a five-game lead over runnerup Philadelphia in the eastern division.

The Washington Caps of the old Basketball Assn. of America, the forerunner of the present NBA, set the mark of 17 in a row in the 1946-47 season.

Tommy Heinsohn and Bob Cousy supplied most of the scoring impetus as the Celts beat the hapless Knicks for the fifth consecutive time. Heinsohn sank 32 points and Cousy 31, but New York's Richie Guerin captured individual laurels with a 42-point harvest.

Eight Big 10 Quintets Play

Unbeaten Illini Meet Ohio U; Indiana Host to Detroit

CHICAGO (UPI)—Eight Big Ten basketball teams, including unbeaten Illinois, meet non-conference opposition tomorrow night.

The Illini, who have beaten Butler, Western Kentucky and Marquette, try for their fourth straight as hosts to Ohio University.

Indiana, sporting a 3-1 record, has a tough assignment on its home floor when Detroit, an 87-63 victor over Purdue, moves in.

Iowa, which breezed to four straight wins before losing 76-68 to Colorado Monday night, will entertain Oklahoma, and Michigan State will continue its tour westward with a stop at Wyoming.

★ ★ ★

Minnesota with a 2-2 slate in the tune-up campaign, and Northwestern (1-2) both are at home. The Gophers meet Missouri, the Big Eight team which defeated Indiana last week, and the Wildcats, who lost to Notre Dame in double overtime in their last outing, face Boston University.

Wisconsin will seek its second victory in five starts in a clash with Marquette on the Warriors' court.

Dallas Signs Guard

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Bill Krisher, former All-America guard at Oklahoma, has signed a contract with the Dallas Texans of the American Football League.

Krisher played with Pittsburgh in 1958 but this year asked for and got his release because of injuries. He was assistant coach at Oklahoma.

TOP BILLING — Hailed as the best basketball player to come out of Detroit prep ranks in 20 years, Dave DeBusschere, sophomore star on the U. of D. unbeaten cage team, is getting top billing in collegiate ranks this year. New York writers called DeBusschere the best sophomore they had seen in Madison Square Garden since Oscar Robertson. The Titans, with a 5-0 record, meet Big Ten favorite Indiana at Bloomington Saturday night and then play Boston College, Sunday afternoon at the U. of D. fieldhouse.

Lawrence Tech Romps

DETROIT (AP)—Gene Lawson and 'Cap' Pethers each pitched in 27 points last night for Lawrence Tech as it handed winless Detroit Tech its 10th straight loss 105-92

Tournament Set Dec. 28-29 at Detroit Court

Western Michigan Seen as Contender Against Titans for Title

DETROIT (UPI) —The proverb says "Youth will be served," but it's the youngsters who will do the serving in the eighth annual Motor City basketball tournament set for Dec. 28-29 at the University of Detroit fieldhouse.

Two of the four teams entered—Western Michigan University and the University of New Mexico—don't even have a senior on the roster.

The host school has two seniors on the squad list, but it is a pair of sophomores on the starting five that provides most of the scoring punch. Fourth entry in the tournament, Valparaiso University, lists four seniors but seldom starts them all.

Powerful Detroit, winner of five straight games this year, ranks as the favorite this year.

But the young Western Michigan squad, high scoring at times even though slightly erratic, could be the most exciting team in the tourney. The Broncos, after a loss to Northwestern to open the season, scored 106 points in each of their next two games for runaway wins.

Western has the tallest team in the tournament with four men standing six-feet six-inches or better.

Sam Key is the top returnee from last year, averaging 14.5 points a game, but several of the top scorers from the 1958-59 season are gone. However, a crop of promising sophomores led by 6-7 Ron Emerich and 6-5 Ron Robinson could take up the slack.

Valparaiso has what looks like the solidest team entering the tournament with five lettermen back and three of them sporting double-figure averages for last year. But the Valpos have lost to Purdue, 70-57, while Detroit beat the Boilermakers easily 84-63.

Detroit, which if early games mean anything could wind up among the nation's top quintets this year, will command the Lion's share of attention.

Dave De Busschere and Charley North, two of the most sought-after prep players in Detroit schoolboy history, wound up right at home and Titan coach Bob Calihan is more than happy they did.

Area Hunters Enjoy Missouri Quail Shooting

Five Pontiac area quail hunters recently enjoyed an unusually successful jaunt in southeast Missouri returning with a bag of more than 200 quail, plus some fat mallard ducks.

The hunting was done in the vicinity of Poplar Bluffs where Fred Edwards, 100 Moreland, reports the quail population was up more than 50 per cent.

Others in the party were Al Norman, 1660 Giddings Rd., Joe Norman, 110 Raeburn, Ron Sutton, James Jarrell, Jones St., Waterford township.

The party worked with a pair of 17-months old English setters owned by Bill Harrington of Waterford.

Votes to Appeal Drain Verdict

County Board Will Go to State Supreme Court With 12-Town Case

The three-member Oakland County Drainage Board yesterday voted to appeal Circuit Judge William J. Beer's adverse ruling against the 12-town storm relief drain to the State Supreme Court.

The appeal immediately had even more people asking the old question: "Will that sewer ever be built?"

"The appeal means just another delay in the long, tortuous road," said Daniel W. Barry, county drain commissioner.

Barry, Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, and Robert Y. Moore, Board of Auditors chairman — all members of the Drainage Board—voted unanimously for the appeal.

'LAW ON OUR SIDE'

"We feel we have the law on our side by a 13 to 1 majority," Barry declared.

He referred to the fact that only Madison Heights filed a lawsuit against the new costs, while 13 other southeastern Oakland County communities, which will benefit from the $47,102,000 drain, did not.

Judge Beer Wednesday ruled the county had failed to take into consideration benefits to Madison Heights from the drain, and how the city contributed to the conditions making the drain necessary.

6 Persons Hurt in 4-Car Crash

Six persons were injured in a four-car crash at the 16-Mile road-John R intersection in Troy at 6:15 p.m. yesterday.

Taken to William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, were John J. Knight, 67, of Algonac, and his wife Sarah Jane, 65; John Sahs, 35, of 1336 Marc St., Clawson; Harrison Ganey Jr., 33, of 353 N. Rochester Rd., Clawson, his wife, Johnnie B., 33, and their four-year-old son, Gary.

Mrs. Knight suffered two broken knees and a fractured hand, and Ganey lacerations of the scalp and neck and a severe concussion. Both were listed in fair condition today.

The others were treated for cuts and bruises and released.

SAYS HE STOPPED

Knight told Troy police he stopped at the corner, did not see any other cars and drove on into the intersection.

He hit Ganey's car, ramming it into two others waiting for traffic to clear.

No tickets were issued.

Add Three Teachers to MSUO Faculty

The addition of three faculty members to the teaching staff of Michigan State University Oakland was approved yesterday by the MSU Board of Trustees, meeting in East Lansing.

The appointments of Dr. Donald D. O'Dowd, 33, and Dr. David C. Beardsley, 35, as associate professors of psychology, and of Dr. Robert E. Simmons, 34, as assistant professor of languages will become effective Sept. 1, 1960.

O'Dowd and Beardsley are currently at Wesleyan University (Middletown, Conn.). O'Dowd is acting dean of freshmen and Beardsley an assistant professor of psychology.

They are engaged in a five-year research project for the U. S. Office of Education, compiling data for a study of stereotypes that students hold about various occupations. The project is also being supported by the National Science Foundation.

★ ★ ★

O'Dowd obtained his Ph. D. at Harvard University and was awarded a Fulbright fellowship for study at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. He has taught at Wesleyan since 1955.

Beardsley was awarded his Ph. D. degree from the University of Michigan. He has taught at Wesleyan since 1953.

Both of the psychology professors have had numerous articles published in scholarly journals.

Simmons is currently an assistant professor of German at Marquette University. He received his Ph. D. from Stanford University and taught there from 1952-56.

★ ★ ★

He has taught at Marquette since 1956. He has also taught courses in world literature and the history of ideas. He was awarded a Fulbright fellowship for research at the University of Munich.

★ ★ ★

The Board of Trustees also approved the appointment of Mrs. Louise B. Landon, 135 Dwight St., as manager of the university bookstore. She has been serving as executive secretary to Roy J. Alexander, dean of students.

To Name Sackett Chief in Southfield

SOUTHFIELD—City Administrator Robert J. McNutt said today he will appoint Acting Police Chief Milton G. Sackett as chief at Monday night's City Council meeting.

The appointment is subject to Council approval.

★ ★ ★

Sackett has been with the Southfield police force for the past five years and became acting chief in April when Phillip LaVigne resigned from the post.

★ ★ ★

The City Council will again consider the state-proposed east-west expressway route between Inkster road and Northwestern highway.

Stocks Lean Up —Just a Bit

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market managed a slight bulge to the upside in moderate early trading today.

Gains of most pivotal stocks were fractional. A few small losses appeared.

★ ★ ★

Gains of a point or so among some secondary issues relieved the drab pattern of trading.

Newport News Shipbuilding advanced more than a point on wider publication of yesterday's news it had received a $44,500,000 ship construction contract.

Hupp Corp. continued active and fractionally higher on Wall Street estimates of better 1959 earnings.

★ ★ ★

Universal Oil Products rose ⅝ to 26 on a large opening block of 18,000 shares, followed by a 2,000-share block at the same price.

Most leading oils stocks were up slightly. The Interior Department proposed to let West Coast companies import more unfinished oil.

The Chase Manhattan Bank issued a moderately optimistic report on the oil industry.

★ ★ ★

The Big Three motors edged ahead while the independent automakers did little.

Steels, coppers and rails were narrowly mixed. Utilities were unchanged to a bit higher.

A slightly lower trend prevailed among airlines and tobaccos. Rubbers showed scant change.

The opening was fairly active. The ticker tape lagged briefly then trading slowed appreciably.

Opening blocks included:

★ ★ ★

Fruehauf Trailer up ⅜ to 30¼ on 3,500 shares; Royal Dutch up ⅛ at 42½ on 2,500; Servel up ⅜ at 16¾ on 2,000; and Studebaker-Packard off ⅛ at 23½ on 2,000.

Gag Rule Called Very Dangerous

U.S. Judges Attacked in Newspaper Editorials for Suppression OK

DETROIT (UPI) — Federal judges here came under sharp attack today for their so-called "gag rule" that keeps certain cases from the press and public until they hit the open courtroom.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Thomas H. Hennings Jr., (D-Mo), chairman of the Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights, said he has ordered his staff to "look into" the new rule that cloaks some suit records in secrecy.

Judges Theodore Levin, Ralph M. Freeman, Thomas P. Thornton and Clifford O'Sullivan issued the order Wednesday "in the interest of justice."

A front-page editorial in the Detroit News yesterday said that paper would violate "their brand new gag rule" the first chance it has.

★ ★ ★

The editorial, titled "We Give Notice," advised the federal district court of Eastern Michigan to ready a contempt of court citation because "we will challenge it with all the energy and by all the means at our command."

AGAINST IT

The chairman of the freedom of information committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors called the rule dangerous and unnecessary.

Sevellon Brown, editor of the Providence (RI) Journal, said the rule is "susceptible to all kinds of abuse."

He said the rights of litigants against "irresponsible publication of charges in court suits are already amply protected."

★ ★ ★

On still another front, Fred S. Siebert, director of the division of mass communications at Michigan State University and an authority on freedom of information, said:

"The judges seem to have a new doctrine that action between private parties has no public interest . . . if people want to keep their affairs private, they should carry on their negotiations privately, not in a public court."

Siebert said he was afraid the "gag rule" which permits a judge to suppress records of a suit before trial, "might be extended to cover cases involving public money or public officials."

★ ★ ★

Judge Frank G. Fitzgerald of the Wayne County Circuit Court where they have had a similar rule for many years agreed with Federal Judge Levin that suppression of cases was "an inherent power of the court."

Fatal $100,000 Fire Caused by Sparks

The cause of the $100,000 Monday morning fire in Royal Oak that claimed a man's life was revealed today by Royal Oak Fire Chief Wilfred C. Speas.

★ ★ ★

Having completed his investigation yesterday of the blaze that swept the business corner at Rochester and 13-Mile roads, he blamed it on an overloaded electric circuit.

"Sparks from the circuit ignited wastepaper and cardboard boxes at the rear of the Sherman Drugstore, 3301 Rochester Rd.," said Chief Speas.

"The flames spread quickly through a hallway to apartments above."

★ ★ ★

Victim of the blaze was Patrick Seward, 27, who roomed upstairs. Another resident in the building escaped the early morning fire.

Loving Owners Keep It Wound

Old Clock Is Evicted

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Why would anybody want to own a 52-year-old clock standing on a 20-foot pedestal in front of a downtown store?

Jeweler Homer L. Carroll, who owns the store, would like to know.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Black, who own the clock, say they just like owning it—that's all.

The three took their dispute before the Board of Public Works here Thursday.

"That clock is just an old junker," said Carroll. He demanded it be removed because it doesn't fit in with his shiny new optical store.

★ ★ ★

"I've tried," said Carroll, "but I can't understand why he likes the clock so well. And why does it have to be on the street? Why doesn't he take it home and put it up in his back yard?"

Said Black: "Different people put values on different things."

Black, an electronics firm worker, said he and his wife bought the clock six months ago "for the simple pleasure of owning it." They paid $25 to a former jeweler, who had tried earlier to sell it to Carroll. Carroll wouldn't buy.

★ ★ ★

Once a week, the Blacks pack their two children into the car, pick up a friend, and drive downtown to wind their clock.

"We're just sentimentalists," said Mrs. Black. "It's a lot of fun."

SHOP GETS FACELIFTING—Scarlett's Bike and Hobby Shop got a facelifting last week after 18 years in the building at 20 E. Lawrence St. Ernest R. Scarlett and his son Laird are partners in the store that has been in business in Pontiac for more than 30 years. The modern aluminum remodeling was done by the Hartford Roofing Co. at a cost of approximately $1,700 to owner of the building, Gordon Van Camp.

Four Children Abandoned in Darkness

Sheriff Trips Up Delinquent Dad

CENTERVILLE (AP) — St. Joseph County Sheriff Fred E. Lincoln played a hunch.

As a result, William Curtindale, 31, was held in jail here today for authorities in Chicago where he is wanted on a charge of abandoning his four children.

The sheriff said Curtindale, a house painter, admitted leaving the children on a lawn in Chicago because he couldn't find a home for them.

An appeal went out from Chicago yesterday to Michigan police to help locate the parents of the children after the oldest, Karen, 8, said they came from this state.

Sheriff Lincoln recalled that Curtindale, who lives near Sturgis, took two children to welfare officers here recently and asked help. Apparently he was turned down because he is not a legal resident of the county. He has no fixed address, the sheriff said.

DIVORCED 8 MONTHS AGO

"I put two and two together and started looking for Curtindale around Sturgis," the sheriff said.

Undersheriff George Dalman arrested Curtindale at the home of Mrs. Marie Frances Beers, 20, near Sturgis. He said Curtindale gave this account of the children:

Curtindale and his wife were divorced eight months ago. He was awarded custody of the children. They had been living in Arkansas and Oklahoma. He got acquainted with Mrs. Beers through a lonely hearts club while he was working in Brigham, Utah. He brought the children to Sturgis Dec. 4.

Mrs. Beers accompanied him on a trip to Chicago where police said he abandoned the children Wednesday night. He said he was looking for a comfortable place to put them when he saw several homes with lights on and decided to leave the children in the yard of one home. He said Mrs. Beers was asleep in the car and didn't see him abandon the youngsters.

. . . AND STAY THERE'

Karen knocked at the back door of the Albert Losiniecki residence. Mrs. Losiniecki answered, and the girl said:

"Mommy and daddy told us to go into that yard (the one behind the Losiniecki home) and stay there."

The Losinieckis found three little boys huddled in the darkness — Rocky, 6, Rusty, 4, and Danny, 2.

Police took them to a children's home. Karen wasn't able to give any definite information where she lived except to say she and her brothers were driven to Chicago from Michigan and the children thought Mrs. Beers was their mother.

Dalman also questioned Mrs. Beers, but she was not held. He quoted her as saying she and Curtindale, with the children, had driven around Gary, Ind., before arriving in Chicago and that he told her he was looking for an adoption home. She said she was asleep in the car when the children were left behind in Chicago and Curtindale told her he had found a home for the children.

She said she is separated from her husband and has been living with her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Murdick. She is the mother of three children.

Hope to Shed Curse

Sewer Project Renamed

Apparently hoping to remove the curse of past legal delays, county drain officials yesterday renamed the Eight Mile road storm drain sewer project the "new" South-Oak drain.

They also set a Jan. 19 hearing when residents of Southfield and Oak Park can air pros and cons of new plans. Protests seem unlikely, officials said.

Yesterday's meeting of the three-member County Drainage Board was the first to set in motion new machinery for the $4,760,000 sewer since a settlement was reached in Circuit Court on old plans which resulted in a lawsuit.

The new name was agreed upon only after several officials were reluctant to have their names attached to the project on the suggestion of Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry.

★ ★ ★

"At least now if that group is going to sue us again it'll have to incorporate under a new name," Barry said.

SUIT FILED IN AUGUST

The Eight Mile Road Storm Drain Special Assessment District Taxpayers' Assn. filed suit against Barry in August, claiming assessments for the drain were prohibitively high. They blocked further plans.

The Southfield residents were later joined by Oak Park in agreeing to drop the suit if Barry agreed to start new proceedings for the drain under a 1956 drain code which permits assessments against the two cities at large. Previous assessments were fixed by Barry against individual property owners.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer last week signed the decree tossing out all new proceedings and ordering Barry to restore $432,000 already collected from the state and communities.

Under the new arrangement, Southfield and Oak Park will determine how their total assessments levied by the county will be collected.

Barry said he believed previous opposition from citizens might be relieved as the two cities probably will pay a share of the assessment and thus lower the costs to property owners.

The sewer, designed to stop flooding in the two municipalities, will stretch along Eight Mile road from a point 500 feet east of Greenfield road westerly, emptying into the Rouge River.

Navy's Adm. Wright Will Retire March 1

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — The Navy Thursday announced the retirement of Adm. Jerauld Wright, commander of the vast Atlantic fleets of the United States and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

★ ★ ★

Atlantic Fleet Headquarters said Wright, 61, would step down March 1, 1960. No reason was given for the admiral's retirment. The Navy said Wright's future plans were not known.

Wright's position is second in the Navy only to that of Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, the Atlantic fleet said.

Romeo Girl, 17, Lauded for Mural

ROMEO—During last night's annual Christmas Concert, the Romeo High School band presented a gift to Judy Engel, 17, a senior, in recognition of her work in making a 10- by 12-foot mural on plastic used as the backdrop for the program.

★ ★ ★

The mural, depicting the Nativity scene with life-size figures in oil, took Judy 120 hours to complete.

★ ★ ★

It will remain on display in the local high school gymnasium for several days, then be transferred to a local store for week-long public viewing.

Jack Must Talk to Grand Jury

To Tell About 'Loan' for Fixing His Harlem Apartment

NEW YORK (AP) — Manhattan Borough President Hulan E. Jack goes before a grand jury today to tell about the much-publicized remodeling job on his seven-room Harlem apartment.

Jack admitted Thursday that the $5,500 renovation bill was paid for by real estate operator Sidney J. Ungar, who had been seeking sponsorship of a city slum clearance project.

He considered the transaction as only a loan not yet repaid, Jack said.

The jurors want to determine if the deal was intended as a political fix.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Robert F. Wagner said "it was not a proper act and it is now up to the district attorney to see if there is any violation of the law."

★ ★ ★

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the only official who can relieve a borough president, has asked the district attorney for a report on the situation.

At a joint news conference Thursday, Jack and Ungar gave the same version of the remodeling deal.

Ungar said Jack voted against him three times on the clearance project, once as late as two weeks ago.

Jack, as borough president at a salary of $25,000 a year, is the highest paid Negro official in New York.

Finch Would Admit to Shooting of Wife

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dr. R. Bernard Finch's attorney has offered to stipulate Finch fired the shot that killed his estranged socialite wife.

★ ★ ★

The prosecution, however, refused to join in such a stipulation during a meeting of opposing attorneys in Superior Judge Walter R. Evans' chambers.

The proffered stipulation and rejection came to light yesterday when the murder trial of Finch, 42, and his red-haired mistress, Carole Tregoff, 22, was recessed without a seating of a jury until Dec. 28 for the Christmas holidays.

Grant B. Cooper, Finch's attorney, said his proposal Wednesday to stipulate that Finch fired the gun which killed Barbara Finch 33, July 18 in no way contradicted with Finch's plea of innocent.

★ ★ ★

Although Cooper refused to elaborate on his plans to defend Finch court observers took the proffered stipulation to indicate Cooper would plead the shooting was accidental or in self-defense.

The prosecution said its reason for rejecting the stipulation was that it would prefer to let a jury decide on all the facts of Mrs. Finch's death.
