Dems Offer to Meet Eisenhower Halfway

When a Mouse Turns

UPI Photo

SHOCKING! — When a mouse turns on his natural enemy, the results can be dreadful. This cross-eyed Siamese cat knows somebody mixed up the script. Of course, it may not have happened just this way, but photographer Gilbert Barrera, of San Antonio, Texas, refuses to reveal just how he staged the gag.

UF Is Still Short $226,000 of Goal

Time is running out on this year's tenth anniversary Pontiac Area United Fund appeal, which has reached the critical final three days of the campaign with $226,000 still to be collected.

Latest reports from the Fund's three divisions tabulated this morning at campaign headquarters indicate $275,000 or 54.8 per cent of the $501,000 goal has been raised.

The more than 4,500 volunteer campaign workers have been urged by Campaign Chairman Philip J. Monaghan to make every effort to put the drive over the top by next Tuesday, November 11.

The giant Industrial Division, headed by Semon E. Knudsen, has collected $165,000 thus far. This total includes the $115,000 General Motors firm gift for its three local plants.

The largest employe group total comes from GMC Truck and Coach Division which has turned in close to $50,000.

Pontiac Motor Division and Fisher Body Division will kick off their in-plant employe solicitations Monday.

Returns from the Commercial Division, led by Judge Clark J. Adams and Berkeley Voss continue to lag behind the other two divisions.

The Commercial Division has raised $89,000 or just under 50 per cent of its $179,371 quota.

The $179,371 goal is divided into two groups. A total of $66,371 is collected in the form of firm gifts by the Special Gifts workers under Alfred C. Girard. The remaining $113,000 comes directly from the employes of Commercial Division firms. This group has managed to raise only $29,162 or 25.8 per cent of its $113,000 share of the Division's quota.

The poor returns of the employe groups has prompted Adams and Voss to call an emergency meeting of Commercial Division leaders next Monday noon at GMC Truck & Coach.

The more than 1,200 workers in the Women's Division chairmanned by Mrs. Donald E. White, continue to bring in additional returns to United Fund headquarters. The Division now stands at 112.6 per cent of its quota with $23,407.86 raised against its quota of $20,790.

Detroit Tops Goal

The Detroit Torch Drive went over the top yesterday in its campaign to raise $15,700,000 to finance 195 community agencies. Officials announced that $16,[illegible] 000 was raised.

Scientists Rescued From Ice

RESCUED — George Cvikanovich, of East Orange, N.J., was chief scientist with the party of airmen and scientists rescued last night after spending five days isolated on a drifting ice floe in the Arctic Ocean.

FLOATING ARCTIC BASE — This picture of the Arctic Ocean ice island, known as Drifting Station A, was released in Washington today. Twenty men were rescued, after being marooned for five days when a violent polar storm split the tiny, exposed floe. The island was 960 miles northeast of Barrow, Alaska, when the storm broke.

Rescue 20 Men Marooned on Ice Floe Adrift in Arctic

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Drifting Station A's 20 marooned men were snatched to safety Thursday night in a dramatic Arctic rescue carried out by the light of flares.

All 20 of the rescued scientists and airmen were reported to be in excellent condition despite five days of isolation.

They were stranded Sunday on the Arctic Ocean 300 miles from the North Pole when an unseasonal polar storm ripped their mile-square ice floe apart.

The scientific station they were maintaining was an International Geophysical Year project.

A C123 from Thule, Greenland, guided only by flares set out by the men themselves, landed and hustled them aboard. There is no daylight during the arctic winter.

The 11 Air Force men and nine civilians will be flown to Thule and then to Ladd Air Force Base, Fairbanks, Alaska, the base of operations for most of the civilians and the home base for the Air Force personnel.

The 10-foot-thick ice floe, first manned as an IGY scientific station in the spring of 1957, was ripped into two 1,000-foot-square pieces by the storm.

The men were marooned on the campsite half. The runway used to supply the station was on the other half.

The marooned men were informed of the rescue plane's approach by radio. They made a dash by small boats across a mile and a half of open water to the runway half of the island.

Johnson Says Cooperation Vital in U.S.

Senate Majority Leader Pledges Support, Maps 12-Point Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) pledged victorious Democrats today to meet President Eisenhower at least halfway to avoid partisan warfare in the two years ahead.

The Senate majority leader said that a nation "cannot exist in the field of foreign affairs and defense when it speaks with two voices."

At the same time, Johnson sketched the broad outlines of a 12-point legislative program, some parts of which are certain to draw Eisenhower's fire.

Johnson also took obvious note of Eisenhower's campaign speeches calling some Democrats spendthrifts, radicals, boondoggiers and gloomdoggiers, but said his party would not seek revenge.

"Every campaign, of course, produces its exaggerations and its heated remarks," said Johnson, who with House Speaker Sam Rayburn will lead the next Congress.

Johnson's speech was prepared for a Texas Business Education Day at Big Spring, Tex. Copies of his address, his first since Tuesday's elections greatly increased Democratic congressional strength, were given out at Johnson's Capitol office.

"The Democrats will give the President the same type of cooperation that he has received from us ever since he came into office," Johnson said.

When the Democrats agree with the President, they will try to support him, Johnson said, and when they disagree, they will try to present constructive alternatives.

Some of the proposals Johnson outlined today appeared certain to win opposition from Eisenhower, who re-emphasized at a Wednesday news conference what he called the dangers of reckless spending.

Without specifying what he had in mind, Johnson called for a new farm program, saying, "There is something wrong when the government must spend 53 cents for

Antitrust Action Threatens GM

Sen. Dirksen Claims Dem. Proposal Based on Inaccurate Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—Possible government antitrust action to break up General Motors Corp., the world's largest auto maker, is recommended by Senate investigators.

However, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill) takes strong issue with this proposal by the Democratic majority

He described the majority report issues yesterday as being "handicapped by errors."

Recommending that the Justice Department consider court action against General Motors, the majority said:

"The hard core of the monopoly problem in the automobile industry is in the concentration of production and power held by GM."

The report said that GM accounts for about 55 per cent of the nation's auto production and "plays the key role in setting price levels for the whole industry."

In Detroit, GM spokesmen declined immediate comment.

The report, based on extensive hearings earlier this year, contended price competition has disappeared in the industry. And it criticized what it called overemphasis on high priced styling changes, advertising expenditures and misleading auto financing practices.

Substantial price reductions could be made without any sacrifice in profits, the report said, if auto makers curbed expenditures for styling, advertising and tooling in connection with frequent model changes.

BOSTON (UPI) — General Motors Chairman Frederic G. Donner today called a congressional subcommittee's report about a GM monopoly "speculative, conjectural and partisan opinions."

4 City Doctors Lose Suit Against General Hospital

Four Pontiac General Hospital doctors, who claim the hospital has no right to regulate their practices, lost their lawsuit today as Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams ruled that "controlled" medical staffs are necessary for the health and welfare of a community.

Judge Adams ruled that the city hospital had the right to establish regulatory practices for its doctors, because "hospitals owe a duty to their patients to supply them with the best possible care."

He said 94 per cent of the hospitals in the country, comparable in size to Pontiac General, have "controlled" medical staffs to assure this protection.

Doctors Leonard Blackwell, Douglass A. Haddock, Maolin Han and Roy V. Cooley Jr. claimed in the suit they filed last year that

Pontiac Concern Joins Syndicate

Management, Personnel Unchanged at American Forging and Socket

The American Forging & Socket Co., 150 Branch St., is now a unit of United Industrial Syndicate, Inc., of New York, it was announced today. The New York syndicate has been purchasing shares of individual stockholders and is now the majority stockholder.

Existing management and personnel of the American Forging & Socket Co. have been retained and operations in Pontiac will continue as usual.

Harry B. Frazier, who has been affiliated with United Industrial Syndicate, Inc., has become a member of the company's Board of Directors, replacing Hiland H. Thatcher, who has retired.

Continuing as members of the Board are Goodloe H. Rogers, president and general manager; William H. Graves, vice president, and Murray D. Van Wagoner and Edward P. Barrett.

Frazier has also replaced Fred G. Hawke as treasurer. Hawke, who has retired to Florida after 40 years of service to the company, resigned as secretary and treasurer. Edward P. Barrett succeeded Hawke as secretary.

In discussing the new affiliation, Goodloe H. Rogers, company president, said, "We believe that we have increased our opportunities to serve our customers and to strengthen the company.

"The United Industrial Syndicate, Inc. presently operates a number of companies throughout the United States and Canada, manufacturing widely diversified products. As a member of this group, we enjoy advantages not previously available to us."

Memories Tinged With Sadness

Gets Last Ride on Iron Horse

By SYLVIA COLE

There's something about a face full of dust, smoke, soot, steam and fresh air combined with the roar of the rails and orange-red fire that really brings memories tinged with a little sadness to a 54-year-old Oxford man.

Yesterday was a milestone in Marvin Boyce's life. He traveled from Pontiac to Durand and back in a train but his ride was different. He rode with the engineer and fireman in the cab.

Boyce, who has been a machine repairman at the Pontiac Motor Division since 1936 has always had the ambition of being an engineer on a steam engine train.

Several weeks ago he read in the Pontiac Press that the railroads were going to replace all steam engines with diesels by mid-December.

He immediately wrote to the Detroit Grand Trunk railroad authorities explaining his life's ambition and requested to ride in a cab "once more."

After permission was granted on Wednesday, Boyce made arrangements to leave work 45 minutes earlier yesterday.

He didn't listen to his wife who wanted him to get "dressed up." He wore denim trousers, shirt and cap just like his ideals wear.

When the train started out from Pontiac, Marvin's eyes beamed. He immediately introduced himself to the engineer and fireman and then quietly sat down, somewhat nervous.

Normally, Boyce is a quiet-spoken man, but soon he was shouting as loud as he could to the engineer and firemen, asking them questions and relating his experi-

Williams Names Higgins to Post

GOP Former Senator to Serve on Bipartisan Civil Service Board

Gov. G. Mennen Williams today named George N. Higgins, former Republican state senator, representative, and Oakland County party chairman, to the Michigan Civil Service Commission.

The governor's office said the 58-year-old Ferndale auto dealer will serve the unexpired term on the commission of Vernon J. Brown, who has resigned. The office said Higgins will serve as a Republican member of the four-member bi-partisan commission.

Higgins' appointment will take effect immediately. His term will expire Dec. 31, 1962. Confirmation by the Senate is not necessary, the governor's office said.

The former chairman of the now defunct Michigan Turnpike Authority refused to back Republican Congressman William S. Broomfield for re-election in Tuesday's election. Broomfield defeated Higgins for the GOP nomination for the county's congressional seat in 1956.

State House Deadlock Compromise Sought

LANSING (UPI)—Party leaders in the state house of representatives meet here Wednesday to see if a compromise can be worked out on the 55-55 deadlock in membership of the house.

In Tuesday's election, six Democrats won seats held by Republicans, giving Democrats an even break with GOP members in the house and resulting in the first tied-up house roll in history.

Both House Speaker George Van Peursem (R-Zeeland) and Rep. Louis Mezzano (D-Wakefield), house minority floor leader, said they would work together to find a compromise solution to organization of the house.

Rocket Knock Causes AF to Delay Shoot for Moon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A strange knocking noise inside the missile early today caused postponement of the latest Air Force attempt to shoot a satellite around the moon.

The huge Pioneer moon rocket glowed in the rays of floodlights for more than two hours in a driving rainstorm before the launching was called off at 12:34 a.m.

The Air Force has two more chances to shoot for the moon this month—in the early morning hours of Saturday and Sunday and then only within a critical time period of 18 to 20 minutes.

The time on a moon launching is critical because the planes of the earth and moon are in the opportune position for just brief periods each day.

If the missilemen fail to fire within the specified time, they will have to wait until early in December.

The launching was less than an hour away from zero when the noise was heard. The trouble apparently could not be pinpointed soon enough to get the rocket off during the critical time limit.

The Air Force announced only that "operations pointing toward an early flight of an experimental U.S. space exploration vehicle . . . were postponed due to technical difficulties."

Among the disappointed observers were Queen Frederika of Greece and her daughter Princess Sophia.

The last moon rocket attempt, Oct. 11, failed to go all the way, but it did reach an amazing height of more than 90,000 statute miles, the farthest man ever has penetrated into outer space.

More Brisk Weather in Store for Pontiac

Pontiac area residents can look forward to more of the brisk, fall weather they've been enjoying for the past few days. According to the weather bureau, there will be little change for the next five days.

Skies may be partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow, but temperatures will remain about the same and no rain is predicted until at least tomorrow night or Sunday when there may be slight showers. Rain is expected again Tuesday or Wednesday. Temperatures will average slightly above normal.

Yesterday's temperatures in downtown Pontiac ranged from a low of 36 to a high of 50. The lowest temperature recorded before 8 a.m. today was 32 degrees and the thermometer rose to 49 by 2 p.m.

Ready Cash in Treasury Dwindles

Michigan Is Nearly Broke

LANSING (AP)—The state treasury, down to its last few million dollars, is on the verge of going flat broke as far as ready cash is concerned.

That was the report given to Gov. Williams yesterday at a special meeting of his administrative board called to consider the state's cash situation.

Williams termed the cash problem "acute."

"We'll have to get through for awhile on a hand to mouth basis," he said.

Sanford A. Brown, state treasurer, reported that at the moment the state has only 11 million dollars in cash on hand.

PAYROLL FUNDS HELD UP

Five million dollars of this, he reported, was obtained by withholding October payroll money from the state's three major universities.

About two million dollars each was withheld from the University of Michigan and Michigan State University and around one million dollars was withheld from Wayne State University.

"We figured they'd be able to get along for a while by paying employes out of student fees," Brown said.

"They weren't too happy about it," added James W. Miller, state controller.

Brown reported that the next major outgo coming up is the state payroll due in two weeks. The payroll will take about four million dollars from general funds and roughly two million dollars from special funds.

Williams said there was no im-

Russia Fires 2 Nuclear Tests

U.S. Halt to Continue for Present, Says Ike, Despite Red Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States announced today that the Soviet Union has fired two nuclear weapons tests since this country halted testing. President Eisenhower said, however, that the American suspension will continue for the present.

Announcement of the new nuclear explosions in the Soviet Union was made by the Atomic Energy Commission.

There was an implication in the AEC statement that the Soviets might have thought the two tests would not be detected.

Eisenhower said that "this continued testing by the Soviet Union has occurred despite the fact that negotiations for the suspension of testing of nuclear weapons have, since Oct. 31, been under way at Geneva."

The United States, he recalled, announced on Aug. 22 that concurrently with the opening of the Geneva negotiations it would suspend the testing for a year "unless testing is resumed by the Soviet Union."

The Soviet Union suspended tests March 31 and had not yet resumed them in August. Soviet scientists started a new series at the end of September, Moscow arguing that this was necessary because the United States and Britain had not accepted the Soviet proposal in March to halt all testing permanently.

ences as a fireman "back in 1920 on a train which hauled logs from the woods to Cadillac," his home town.

The train had a half hour stop in Durand before it returned to Pontiac. In the middle of conversation, while sipping coffee, Marvin, still excited and enthused about the one hour ride, excused himself. "I want to buy those fellows some cigars," he said.

The ride back was in an open cab. Marvin had to stand all the way but from the look on his face he thought he was in his private heaven.

As he hung out of the cab opening while roaring down the track at 75 miles per hour, he seemed fascinated by the wheels. Frequently, he was on tiptoes.

"Smell them brakes?" he remarked as he took a deep breath.

Yesterday was a milestone for Boyce but it was sad as well as a happy one.

"When you get to be my age, you hate to let go of something," he explained as he referred to the passing of the steam engine.

He admitted it was progress just "like from the horse and buggy to the auto" but then, somehow it's a shame too.

Worst in Five Years

Quake Hits North Japan

TOKYO (AP) — A major earthquake spawned deep in the Pacific rolled over northern Japan in a thunderous wave today.

A tidal wave alert was flashed immediately across the main northern island of Hokkaido and northern Honshu but was canceled later.

The quake rumbled and jerked across Hokkaido for two terrifying minutes, beginning at 7:58 a.m. Lesser shocks surged as far south as Yokohama, a distance of some 600 miles.

The fact that the quake was born an estimated 60 miles below the ocean floor east of Hokkaido was believed to have saved Japan from extensive loss.

It was Japan's worst earthshake in five years.

In Kushiro and Rumoi, 600 miles north of Tokyo on Hokkaido's east and west coasts, power and telephone poles tumbled down, severing communications for several hours.

It smashed windows, broke power lines, tumbled crockery and wrecked chimneys.

No casualties or serious damage were reported, however.

Discuss Loss of City Sewage Bond Proposal

Pontiac city commissioners met briefly last evening to canvass the results of Tuesday's special election issue on the $3,300,000 sewage bond issue, and analyzed what they believed caused the defeat of the issue.

After commissioners checked the "yes" and "no" vote on the issue from each of the city's 44 precincts, City Clerk Ada R. Evans confirmed that a total of 6,356 cast "yes" votes, while 5,173 voters pulled down "no" pointers.

Despite receiving a majority margin for passage, the issue still lacked by just more than 500 votes the necessary 60 per cent to pass.

After the canvass, commissioners decided to defer action on what the city's next step will be toward construction of an auxiliary sewage treatment plant until an informal meeting.

every net dollar the farmer takes in."

Eisenhower told reporters Wednesday he contemplated no change in the administration's farm policy.

Johnson called for legislation to help areas of chronic unemployment. Eisenhower vetoed an area development bill passed at the last session which far exceeded his own recommended program.

And the senator called for stepped-up water development in the West, a lowering of interest rates he said are slowing down economic growth, a "bold housing program which will set as its goal a home for every American family" and an expanded airport building program.

"Our country is heading into one of the greatest expansions of history," Johnson asserted. "There just won't be time for the partisan bickering and the petty political warfare that the columnists fear."

The election, he said, was neither a mandate to disunite, divide or destroy nor a mandate to campaign in Congress for the 1960 election.

"Speaking for the Democrats, I can tell you that it will not be our purpose to spend the next two years preparing for 1960. It will be our purpose to carry out the will of the voters to the best of our ability."

In addition to housing, urban renewal, airport building, a new farm program, water development, depressed area help and lower interest rates, Johnson said Congress must face up to:

A review of foreign policy "so that bold, new, imaginative programs can be recommended to responsible officials."

A "consistent policy for Latin America which will help our neighbors to help themselves."

The need to breathe new life into the newly created space agency and launch a program to explore outer space.

The need for a program to develop the peaceful uses of the atom with emphasis on an atomic merchant marine.

Admits $1,400 Grand Rapids Theft

Bridegroom Tries Holdup to Pay for Wedding Ring

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A young newlywed took a flyer at a holdup here Thursday.

Then he chartered an airplane to Chicago, but two minutes after landing was captured by police.

The captive, Walter Molenkamp, 19, was carrying a revolver in a shoulder holster but he surrendered meekly when he saw four detectives, revolvers in hand, rush at him.

"I was desperate for money," he told Detectives James Riley and Mike McCarthy.

"I got married last Tuesday and I only make 90 cents an hour at my job as a car hop. I had just needed the money badly and thought I'd take a flyer at the holdup."

The pilot, Robert C. Gable, also was startled when the policemen surrounded the plane. He was unaware that his lone passenger, who had paid $69 for the 200-mile flight, was a fugitive.

"The only thing we talked about was how he could get a scheduled airliner to Clovis, N. M.," Gable said.

Police said they found $1,143 in small bills stuffed in Molenkamp's pockets.

"This is the first time I robbed anyone and I'm sorry I got caught," he told the detectives.

"I planned to go somewhere in Arizona. When I got there, I was going to send the money to my wife, Beverly, and then I was going to shoot myself."

Molenkamp, who said he would waive extradition, told police a finance company had threatened to repossess his wife's engagement and wedding rings. That, he said, prompted him to hold up the gas station where he took $1,200 from the cash register and $200 from the attendant, Ed Vanderwerf.

"Once you put a ring on a girl's finger you shouldn't have to take it off, should you?" he said.

His soft-spoken bride of one month appeared stunned today in the wake of word that her young husband was being held in connection with a $1,400 holdup.

Mrs. Beverly Molenkamp Jr., said she was anxious for word from authorities on whether she could go to her husband at Chicago or talk with him.

"The only word I've had so far was from local police who told me Walter was captured," she said.

Mrs. Molenkamp is employed as a surgical technician at Burton Heights Osteopathic Hospital in Grand Rapids. She is not a registered nurse and is paid $1.35 an hour.

She corroborated her mother-in-law's statement that the youth suffered headaches as the result of an auto injury and said "I know he needs help."

Molenkamp's employer said the youth had been working as a parking attendant since last Oct. 13 at the rate of 90 cents an hour, but had not measured up to requirements and a replacement for him was being sought.

Three alert Grand Rapids teenagers were credited with aiding police pursuit of Molenkamp.

David DeHoog, 18, was in another service station when a man entered and made telephone calls to the airport and a taxi firm. "He acted kind of funny," DeHoog said. "He misdialed the first two or three times and mumbled 'Whoops, I goofed again' or something like that."

Walking from the station minutes later, DeHoog came to the home of Dale Van Lee, a friend, and saw police checking Molenkamp's abandoned car. The two youths, along with 17-year-old Terty Peteham, discussed the station incident and reported it to police.

4 City Doctors Lose Suit Against Hospital

only the State Board of Registration in Medicine could impose any control on their practices.

The four charged medical staff bylaws violated this state control, and sought an injunction preventing the hospital from enforcing its surgical practicing rules.

Judge Adams, in denying this injunction, said he agreed with a Florida court decision which said, in effect, that a hospital has the right to know the experience of a doctor before he is granted the permission to perform any type of operation.

This, the judge ruled, is the major reason why hospitals can enact their own rules for surgery.

"They (hospitals) cannot be neglectful in their many services. In the event that hospital authorities permit surgical procedure in their institution, knowing it to be inadequate, they would in a very real sense be neglecting the best interests of their patients," Judge Adams' opined.

He said the four general practitioners had failed to "exhaust all provided remedies" of the hospital's medical executive committee in seeking increased surgical privileges. For this same reason, Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger, ousted last year from Pontiac General, lost out in his Circuit Court lawsuit to win reinstatement.

Procedure is established, hospital officials say, for a member of the medical staff to follow in the event he should desire to have his surgical privileges increased, and a method of appeal is provided also.

The four doctors, who last year had taken the case to the Michigan Supreme Court when it was tossed out of the lower Oakland court, had agreed to abide with the rules they claim are illegal when they were accepted on the medical staff, Judge Adams said in his opinion.

"They concede in degree that there is a need for supervision of surgical procedures, but they contend that in their individual situations they should be guided by their own consciences."

Killed While on Job at Ferndale School

FERNDALE — A 45-year-old Darin & Armstrong construction worker from Flint was killed instantly yesterday afternoon when he fell from the roof of Ferndale's new three-story high school on which he was working.

Robert Ryan apparently lost his balance while sweeping debris from the louvers, falling backward and striking his head on the concrete below, according to Ferndale Police.

The school is located on Pinecrest at Marshall street.

Miscellaneous Cargo, Ornithologist, Family Aboard Freighter

DETROIT (AP) — The Kristina, first Finnish freighter to sail into Detroit, carried what is known as diversified cargo.

When she docked yesterday her cargo included iron and carpets from Antwerp, rubber boots from Rotterdam, preserves and whisky from Scotland — and Jukka Koskimies and his family.

Dr. Koskimies studied his special field of ornithology at Michigan State University from 1950 to 1951 and is now returning to the North American continent for a year of research at the University of British Columbia in Vancouver.

The family left the ship here for East Lansing where the doctor plans to renew acquaintances and introduced his family around.

"I am, you might say, an old hand here," he said, "but this is the first time my family has traveled this far from home. It will be good to see my friends among the university faculty again."

Capt. Viljo Muuronen, skipper of the Kristina, said his firm, Nordlake Lines, expects to have four vessels shuttling between the Great Lakes and Finland when the St. Lawrence Seaway opens next year. The round trip takes 64 days.

mediate threat of the state not meeting its payroll.

LAST THING CUT

"That would be the last thing we would cut," he said.

The governor ordered state auditors to make a complete check of the situation and report within a week on the state's exact financial status. Another meeting will be held in about a week to discuss possible remedies and expedients for getting ahold of some cash.

"In the meanwhile, we'll just have to try to stuff any ratholes we can find," he said.

Williams also reported that state school aid payments are about 18 million dollars behind, but added that these come from special earmarked revenues.

Miller said the state's financial situation had been "gradually deteriorating."

Williams blamed the situation on the Republican-controlled Legislature.

NO FLEXIBILITY

"I told them last February this would happen unless they made adequate provisions for state income," he said. "But they squeezed all the flexibility out of our revenue setup."

The governor said he had ordered all state agencies to shave expenses six months ago.

"We're skinned down to our teeth now," he said, "and people already are complaining about curtailment of vital services."

The Day in Birmingham

Expanded YMCA Setup Shaped for Winter Months

BIRMINGHAM — An expanding winter program is rapidly taking shape at the new Birmingham YMCA, according to Owen Manchester, executive secretary.

The Friday family night programs will get under way next week. Through the new facilities it will be possible to hold suppers at the "Y." There also will be games at the "Y" and swimming at Barnum Junior High School pool.

Under the direction of George Ewing, youth work secretary, 10 Gray-Y groups have been organized for boys in the third through sixth grades.

There also are 18 Indian guide tribes of boys 6 to 9, with a total membership of 160. Hi-Y groups have been formed at Birmingham High School, and at Troy, high school girls are active in the Tri-Hi-Y Club.

Swimming classes for the 8-13-year-old group have 26 girls and 40 boys enrolled.

On Saturday morning about 50 boys are taken to Pontiac for swimming in the YMCA pool there. Other Saturday activities include boys' crafts and archery classes at the Birmingham "Y."

Manchester said the new building, dedicated three weeks ago, is attracting many outside groups. They include square dancers, bridge classes for high school girls and women and the Toastmaster's Club.

Birmingham Lions Club and the Bloomfield Hills Garden Club use YMCA facilities for special meetings, he said.

The Little Gallery, 915 E. Maple Rd., has announced an exhibit of new drawings by Charles Culver, Francis de Erdely and John S. de Martelly will open Sunday for a three-week showing.

Birmingham Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Assn., will meet Monday at the Community House at 1:30 p.m. for a program on holiday table arrangements.

Plans are being completed for the group's 21st exhibit of Christmas decorations to be held Dec. 3 and 4 at the Community House.

Bloomfield Art Association will hold a round-table discussion at 8 tonight at the association's hall on N. Woodward avenue.

Howard Preston, professor of architecture at the University of Detroit, will lead the discussion on "Artists — Why?" Also taking part will be Fred Mitchell, oil painter at Cranbrook Art Academy, and William Whitney, Birmingham silversmith and painter.

Arrest Producer of 'Twenty-One' for Perjury

NEW YORK (AP)—Albert Freedman, 36, producer of the defunct television show "Twenty-One," was arrested today on a two-count indictment charging that he lied in denying that he supplied questions and answers to contestants on the show.

Freedman, of New Rochelle, N. Y., became the first to be indicted in the probe of television shows after rigging charges were brought against them.

He is employed by Production Services, Inc., the corporate name of the firm owned by Jack Barry, a master of ceremonies; and producer Dan Enright, owners of "Twenty-One."

3-Year-Old Crushed Under Piano at Home

DETROIT (AP) — Three-year-old John Skrieck Jr. was crushed to death yesterday when a 600-pound piano toppled on him as he played in the basement of his suburban Roseville home.

The youngster was playing in a new recreation room as his mother, Susie, 37, worked nearby.

The upright piano had been placed on wooden blocks by the father who had finished tiling the floor only a few days ago.

Mrs. Skrieck, who had gone upstairs for a moment, heard the crash of the falling piano.

"It seemed only a second after I came upstairs that I heard it," she said. "I ran back down and saw the piano on Johnny."

The couple has three other children. Mrs. Skrieck was preparing decorations for a birthday party for the boy's sister, Suzette, 8.

Placement Director Offers Career Tips

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (UPI) — Philip L. Fjelstad, director of the St. Olaf College placement bureau, says the nation's banks and department stores are in the market for trainees.

For youths thinking of teaching careers, Fjelstad said shortages exist mainly in the sciences, English and women's physical education.

Government and social work are also good fields for American youngsters seeking careers. Fjelstad said that in both cases salary and personnel standards have been raised to the point where they compare favorably with teaching and industrial positions.

Cites Breaking of Pact

Maria Callas Is Dropped by Metropolitan Opera

NEW YORK (AP) — Soprano Maria Callas, whose fiery temperament has plunged her into hot water on two continents, has been dropped by the Metropolitan Opera.

Met General Manager Rudolf Bing Thursday canceled the singer's $18,000 contract for the 1958-9 season, citing her refusal to fulfill terms of the pact.

Bing, although extolling the 35-year-old Miss Callas as an artist, added that "the Metropolitan is nevertheless also grateful that the association is ended."

The Brooklyn-born star, of Greek parentage, now is appearing with the Dallas (Tex.) Civic Opera Company.

Bing accused Miss Callas of trying to force through a last-minute change of the repertoire agreed upon for the current season.

Miss Callas said she objected to signing two "Traviatas" or two "Lucias," both light roles, between performances of "Macbeth", a heavy part. She termed the alternation of roles "really dangerous technically."

The singer's contract also called for her to perform in productions of "Tosca" during the current season.

Bing said ample rest had been provided between the roles. He sent Miss Callas a telegram last Wednesday, asking her to abide by the existing agreement. The telegram said her contract would be considered canceled if she did not reply by 10 a.m. Thursday.

Miss Callas did not reply. In Dallas she said she was too busy with dress rehearsals for Thursday night's "Medea" to answer what she called Bing's "ultimatum."

Despite her tempestuous tendencies, Miss Callas has received tremendous public and critical acclaim throughout the world. She was cheered lustily in appearances last season at the Met.

In Dallas, a triumphant Maria Callas was given a six-minute standing ovation last night for her performance in the opera "Medea" just hours after she was fired from the New York Metropolitan Opera by Rudolf Bing.

She expressed pain and amazement at the action taken by the Met's general manager.

After her performance she announced: "I say to Mr. Bing that opera can be done outside the Met."

She denied Bing's statement that she planned to give up singing.

Miss Callas told newsmen that "I live for just two reasons. One is to please and content my husband. The second is for art. I have no children, no other interests."

She said one of the things that could have precipitated Bing's action was her refusl to sign a proposed 1959-60 contract with Bing. She said the program outlined by Bing was "too routine. I don't work for money; it's the art."

In 1955, Miss Callas broke with lyric opera of Chicago. In 1957, both the Vienna and the San Francisco operas dropped her. Last January Miss Callas walked out of the Rome Opera part way through a performance, attributing her quitting to voice trouble. Later she publicly apologized to Italian President Giovanni Gronchi, among those in the audience.

Last June she announced she was shunning Milan's famed La Scala because of a disagreement with the management.

State Truck Driver Found Dead in Cab

UTICA, N. Y. (AP) — A Michigan truck driver was found yesterday in the cab of an auto transport rig, apparently killed by carbon monoxide fumes as he slept.

The victim was William H. Willer, 42, of Allen Park, Mich.

The transport was parked behind a restaurant near the Westmoreland interchange on the New York State Thruway. Willer was stretched out in the cab with his shoes off. The truck's ignition switch was on and the gas tank empty.

Dr. Preston Clark, an Oneida County coroner, said Willer apparently had turned on the motor to keep warm while he took a nap, and the fumes killed him.

Henry Ford II Receives German Service Cross

BONN, Germany (AP) — Henry Ford II received the Grand Service Cross of the Federal Republic yesterday from West German President Theodor Heuss in a private ceremony at Bonn.

The motor magnate was in the West German capital for a day. He is touring Ford Motor Co.'s worldwide operations.

The brief announcement gave no indication why Ford had been awarded the nation's highest civil decoration. However, informed sources said it was in recognition of the work of the Ford Foundation and its assistance to German cultural projects.

10 Millionth Call to AAA

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Marguerite Overbeck Thursday became the 10-millionth motorist to call Automobile Club of Michigan for road service since the club's towing service was inaugurated in 1922. Mrs. Overbeck, shopping in Detroit, called because of a flat tire.

The Army figures that it costs about $7,700 a year to support an American soldier overseas.

3 Plead Theft Guilt

DETROIT (AP) — Three men pleaded guilty in Recorder's (Criminal) Court Thursday to charges stemming from the theft of $25,000 worth of boats anod motors. Fred G. Klann, 40, of Wayne, was charged with conspiracy in the case. Norman Merglewski and Frank Less, both 31 and of Detroit, pleaded guilty to misdemeanor charges. A dozen boats and motors and oother equipment were found in Klann's back yard in a police raid last July. Klann's 14-year-old son drew a gun on the raiders and police quoted the father as telling the boy to shoot. He was disarmed before anyone was hurt.

Heads U. of M. Drive

ANN ARBOR (AP) — James C. Zeder, vice president of Chrysler Corp., has been named chairman of a fund-raising campaign for the University of Michigan's Memorial-Phoenix Project of research on the peaceful uses of atomic energy. The goal is two million dollars.

Reds Celebrate Revolution Day

Stress Peace at Parade Noting 41st Anniversary of Bolshevik Uprising

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union placed the accent on peace today in a Red Square parade celebrating the 41st anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

The display of military equipment contained nothing new. The equipment rumbled past the reviewing stand atop the Lenin-Stalin Tomb in seven minutes.

Marshal Rodion Malinovsky called the tune in a speech hailing the "fight for peace," which he said is "meeting stubborn resistance from the ruling circles of the United States and Britain."

"Thanks to the tireless concern of our people, of the Communist party and the government," the Soviet defense minister said, "the Soviet armed forces have everything necessary to deal a destructive counterblow at the aggressors should they dare to unleash a new world war . . .

The sun broke through clouds just at the start of the parade. Military academy cadets led the way.

Rocket launchers equipped with rockets, scores of motorized artillery pieces, mortars and personnel carriers swept through the square in jig time before Premier Nikita Khrushchev, other Soviet leaders and the visiting Polish Communist party boss, Wladyslaw Gomulka.

When the military procession ended, swarms of sportsmen in vivid blues, reds and greens strutted in front of the reviewing stand. Then came the people. They carried pictures of Lenin, Khrushchev, President Klementi Voroshilov and Presidium members.

Huge gas-filled balloons in the shapes of blimps and rockets were floated during the parade, which launched a three-day holiday.

Malinovsky's order of the day, published in Soviet papers, called for "revolutionary watchfulness"—indicating a need for alertness against espionage as well as maintenance of military security.

Damage Too Great, Heart Sufferer Dies

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Raymond E. Van Dyke, who was massaged back to life a week ago after his heart stopped died Thursday.

"There was so much damage to his heart he just couldn't make it," a hospital physician said.

Van Dyke, a 34-year-old appliance worker, suffered a massive coronary occulsion on the job. A nurse said his breathing and heart action stopped during the ambulance trip to the hospital.

Van Dyke seemed to be recovering slowly although his memory was cloudy, doctors said.

Judge, Sheriff Save Boy From a Jail Sentence

Many of us are unaware of the fine cooperative spirit shown by some of our elected officials. Far too frequently these little known facts go unnoticed.

It is service such as this, above and beyond the regular routine job, that exemplifies the true character of elected officials:

The following brief account involves Judge CLARK J. ADAMS and Sheriff FRANK W. IRONS.

The story: a boy 18 years old in trouble.

Location: Pontiac.

Offense: breaking and entering in the nighttime.

Sentence: three years probation.

Now comes the crux of the story, the boy was not living up to his probation. This fact was pointed out to the Judge and in turn he investigated the case.

The boy had no family and consequently was living in local flop houses. He was caddying at a golf course and earning sufficient money to live. But the nighttime environment was not conducive to clean living.

The boy was intelligent and worth saving After reviewing the case, Judge Adams made arrangements to have the boy admitted to Camp Pugsley (Western Michigan) to serve out his probation period.

Like many of our state institutions, overcrowded conditions plus red tape prevented his admittance for 30 days. Where could the boy spend the nights under supervision for the next 30 days?

Judge ADAMS contacted Sheriff IRONS, explaining the situation and an arrangement was made to board the boy for the 30-day period. The boy reported at the County Jail each evening at seven and remained until 6:30 in the morning when he left to caddy.

This joint cooperation between the Sheriff and Judge undoubtedly saved this boy a jail term.

Batista's Man Victor in Quiet Cuban Voting

Despite rebel threats on the one hand and strict press censorship and police tactics by the government on the other, the Cuban election turned out to be a quiet affair.

President Batista's hand-picked candidate to succeed himself, Andres Rivero Aguero, won easily over a badly split opposition. Because of Rebel Leader Castro's threats of violence an estimated 20 per cent of the voters stayed away from the polls.

CASTRO has been operating for nearly two years in Eastern Cuba. He has the sympathy of many responsible Cubans who resent BATISTA's cruel dictatorship but apparently they also feel that the rebel leader is not the man to overthrow the regime and govern the country. By his terroristic tactics and kidnapings of Americans he has alienated whatever goodwill he may have had in the United States.

President-elect RIVERO will not take office until Feb. 27 and if CASTRO does not manage a big offensive push during this interval, his rebellion is likely to peter out.

The election will not bring democracy to Cuba but we can hope that Rivero will end some of the more outrageous oppressions of of the Batista regime.

West Africa Prepares for Full Independence

Britain set the pattern by recognizing the sovereignty of Ghana, which includes British Togoland, in 1957 and by promising full independence to Nigeria in 1960. Under Premier DE GAULLE's new policy, Guinea won immediate freedom with French Togoland and the Cameroons to follow in 1960.

Many leaders of these countries who had formerly been called "subversives" or "revolutionaries" are working closely with Britain and France in building firm foundations for nationhood. They are asking continued financial assistance from these powers as well as U.N. technical assistance to ease the transition period.

The Cameroons and Togoland once were German protectorates but in World War I French and British forces took possession. After that war the Cameroons became League of Nations trusteeships, five-sixths coming under French mandate and the rest under British. These mandates became U.N. trusteeships after World War II.

The coming independence of these states is a tribute to the trusteeship system and to enlightened colonial policies which prepare dependent peoples for full self-government.

who in Tuesday's election was the only Democrat to unseat a Republican in Michigan's Congressional delegation at Washington. His victory reduced the Republican majority in the Michigan delegation from 12-6 to 11-7.

After a hectic recount and deliberation of five weeks, O'Hara won the nomination by a margin of five votes. In the election he won over the Republican incumbent, by a vote of 87,334 to 84,472. He will represent the seventh Michigan district, comprised of Macomb, Lapeer, St.Clair, Sanilac, Tuscola and Huron Counties.

He lives on the Macomb side of Dequindre Road which is the line between Oakland and Macomb Counties. His postoffice address and phone exchange both are in Oakland County—at Rochester.

Like our own very competent and aggressive Congressman,

William S. Broomfield

he's a young man in the Washington field, being 33, and a Detroit attorney. On a mileage basis, he lives closer to Pontiac than does Bill. Here's hoping for a chummy time between them, in their official duties and otherwise.

Establishing quite a record is 83-year-old holder of many county and other offices during the past half century. When he cast his ballot at Davisburg, it was the 62nd year that he had voted in the same township.

Howard Hillman,

David Lawrence Says:

'Modern Republicans' Out of Favor

WASHINGTON — The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt used to say that congressional elections — when presidential candidates are not running — are essentially "local." He meant that differing personalities and local issues determine the outcome.

LAWRENCE

This same theory could to some extent explain why Sen. Barry Goldwater, conservative, won in Arizona, while Gov. Knight — the "liberal" — was defeated, along with the conservative, Bill Knowland.

Each of these two Republican candidates in California got approximately the same number of votes. It might explain, also, why Rep. Keating, Republican, of New York, staunch supporter of President Eisenhower's policies, won a seat in the United States Senate on the same day that Nelson Rockefeller won the governorship by what was generally interpreted during the campaign as a deliberate maneuver of disassociation from the national administration in Washington.

But the significant news of the election is what happened as between two factions of the Republican Party and what this may mean for 1960.

Already the claim is being made that "Modern Republicanism" won and conservatism lost. It doesn't explain the defeat this week of ever so many "Modern Republican" nominees for Congress.

President Eisenhower says the "spenders" in the Democratic Party won. "Modern Republicanism" may be understood by some observers to mean only a middle-of-the-road philosophy, but to many conservatives it means "New Dealism," excessive spending, and Federal control of almost everything that has been local before, and a surrender to the labor union bosses on the "right to work" issue as voiced during the last campaign by Secretary of Labor Mitchell of the Eisenhower cabinet.

This is too early to make a prediction for 1960, but, as sure as day follows night, if the Republican Party advertises its nominee as a "Modern Republican" next time, it will increase the stay-at-home Republican vote, and surely elect the Democratic presidential nominee.

This correspondent has received many thousands of letters during the last two years from conservative Republicans. The refrain of the dissenters is the same: "I'm fed up with 'modern' stuff, which to me means radicalism and bankruptcy. If I want a radical, I'll vote Democratic, or else I'll stay home on election day."

The idea that the Republican Party can win an election by alienating the biggest single bloc of votes within its ranks is fallacious.

Nelson Rockefeller has a big future in American politics. He has the warmth of personality and fairness of an Eisenhower. But the governor-elect was ill-advised when he disassociated himself from the national administration during his campaign.

He would have won anyhow, even if he had discussed national issues. Now he is faced with the handicap that conservatives throughout the nation will suspect him of being a "Modern Republican," which to conservatives is like waving a red flag at a bull.

Nelson Rockefeller is being already heralded in the press as anti-Nixon, which is a further way to alienate conservatives in the Republican Party. For, Vice President Nixon has shown himself to be an Eisenhower Republican who knows how to win conservatives to his side.

Mr. Eisenhower was right in announcing on Wednesday his firm adherence to conservative doctrine on the "spending" issue. That is the way to begin at least to win back the millions of Republican voters who helped to commit "political suicide" by staying away from the polls this week.

It's the way to get the support of those "unmodern" Democrats, like Sen. Byrd of Virginia who have stood up against their spendthrift brethren from the North.

The budget is unbalanced by 12 billion dollars — will more spending ever balance it? To go broke in government isn't "modern" — it's as old as the debacles of ancient Rome.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.—II Timothy 2:15.

The best evidence of the Bible's being the word of God is to be found between its covers. It proves itself.—Charles Hodge.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Attention All Iatrogenists, Here's Heart-Felt Advice

"In March 18 article, you said use of digitalis for weak heart or heart failure is based on ignorance or the ineptitude of the doctor. (H. J.)"

I said for publication March 18, 1958: "A considerable number of cases of heart disease are iatrogenic. This isn't just another piece of my sarcasm. It is the observation of physicians of acknowledged skill and experience."

(You won't find "iatrogenic" in Webster, but Dorland's Medical Dictionary states that it means doctor-produced, a disorder produced by suggestion, as when the doctor mumbles about "murmur" or "a weak first sound" while listening to the heart.)

"Popular credulity in regard to 'weak heart,' 'heart murmur,' 'heart attack' and 'heart failure' is based . . . not only on popular ignorance, but upon the ineptitude of the doctor who first betrays by word or manner that he suspects the heart is at fault."

Reader H. J. continues:

"I had rheumatic fever in childhood. Without my daily dose of digitalis I would be in the other world. The 'inept' doctors who told me I must take digitalis every day if I want to remain alive were of the — clinic, the — clinic and other doctors of repute.

"Your article is dangerous to the average reader. You could kill people instead of helping them keep well. (Signed) ——"

I suspect the name H. J. signed is fictitious because he or she did not give an address.

He or she evidently believes that a doctor employed by a well advertised "clinic" automatically has more skill than one who practices under his own name.

Granting that digitalis may be beneficial at times, as many good doctors believe and I do not, I still think the doctor who tells a poor soul that he or she must take digitalis every day to keep alive is a blasted, blooming iatrogenist.

I invite readers who know or suspect they have heart trouble to drop 35 cents in my little tin cup and send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my booklet CVD which deals in an honest way with common heart and artery troubles.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Urges Residents to Write to Prevent Mining in UP

There are already plans afoot by certain individuals to exploit our beautiful Upper Peninsula for mining purposes. If they're allowed to do this, other industries will move in. The Upper Peninsula has always been our pride in its virgin beauty. Let's keep it that way.

Anyone interested in preserving our vacation land is urged to write to the State Conservation Commission in Lansing and Gov. Sends Open Letter to Paul Bagwell

This is an open letter to Paul Bagwell: To have pulled the vote you did, against the well-oiled, highly organized, supremely confident opposition is to me the most outstanding thing that has occurred in the Republican party in Michigan in considerably more than a decade.

I'm not discounting the loyal and in most instances the highly effective work of the party organization in the current campaign. It is the beginning of a much larger and certainly inspired future volunteer organization.

It is my suggestion that you begin now, today, the campaign for 1960, accepting the mantle of leadership and constituting yourself, with competent organization assistance, the vocal symbol of a very large opposition.

You've brought the hopes of the Republican party in Michigan from its lowest ebb to a point of resurgence. You and Michigan have really electrified the country with the results you produced at the polls. It was an overwhelming personal victory and a decided moral victory for the party based on the issues which you espoused. Cheerio.

'Maybe PTA Isn't So Bad After All'

I'm the father of three children and have attended PTA meetings for eight years. During the years, they've lost some of their appeal and I've been somewhat less than eager over the prospect of attendance this current year. If New and Embarrassed Vice President would give me the name of her school, I think my enthusiasm for PTA meetings might be revived. Sounds as though her members might view the coming meetings with interest.

'Hart Can't Top Trout and Dean'

I was interested in the letter about Leon Hart's broadcasting and his dubious English. I agree with the writer and he made other mistakes, but he isn't the champion. Dizzy Trout holds the record for mistakes and bobbles in our area, but Dizzy Dean is the real American champion. One of his lines is still famous " . . . but Jones was safe when he slud into second." Dean was so bad he became "celebrated" for his "diction."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

'Honor System' Fails at College

If you think the "Honor System" is successful in college exams, just listen to Henry, who offers a 1958 report on the skill with which cheaters are pulling the wool over the eyes of "ivory tower" profs on American college campuses. And Henry hasn't even scratched the surface!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Z-365: Henry B., aged 19, is enrolled in a Big Ten University.

DR. CRANE

"For you had written a column on the evils of the 'Honor System.' You said that it simply plays into the hands of the dishonest students and penalizes the honorable pupils.

"This professor of mine argued that the 'Honor System' was one of the greatest innovations in college administration.

"Naturally, we students couldn't argue with him for, despite his talk about liberalism, he knocks down our grades if we ever express a different view from his own.

"He employs the 'Honor System' and it is a disgrace, for about 40 per cent of the students in his courses use their books during exams and cheat every minute he is out of the room.

"And that hampers the rest of us who try to rely solely on our memory. For they have access to all the facts. Since our grades are based on the curve, these sluggards often rate higher marks than we honest students.

"Why, cheating is so widespread in our university that I personally know two of my frat brothers who actually hire graduate students to take their places in class and write their exams for them!

"They pay the graduate student $5 or $10. And the prof is so gullible, he not only thinks his 'Honor System' works, but would insist I was crazy if I dared tell him about these paid stooges.

"I also know several profs who take the roll every morning by use of a seating chart. The first week of school they assign every student his definite spot in the classroom.

"The rest of the term, they simply record absences on the basis of vacant chairs.

OUTSMART PROFS

"Well, when the courses are dull or scheduled at 8 o'clock in the morning, a lot of upper classmen don't like to show up.

"So they make the freshmen fraternity pledges take their places. These substitutes just occupy their seats and study for some later class, so it isn't too bad for the freshmen.

"Meanwhile, their older frat brothers get to sleep late or lounge in the Union Building with some cocoa over a cup of coffee.

"Another prof is victimized by students who say they are sick at the time of the exam.

"Then they arrange next day to take the final quiz, realizing that this prof lets them have the very same exam that the bulk of the class took the day before.

"Naturally, they have learned from the other students what was asked, so they have prepared full answers in the meantime.

"Dr. Crane, some of our modern profs are so stupid or so lazy they don't know or seem to care what goes on during exams.

"Why, I know of a case where a student, not of my own frat, dated a girl in the administration office where one of our profs had his final exams mimeographed.

"This fellow got her to salvage the cardboards on which the stencils are cut, for it showed the typing faintly.

"She then passed it along to this frat man, who used it to help 6 or 8 of his frat brothers keep their averages high in that course.

"If you ask me, Dr. Crane, a little FBI work is needed to help clean up the cheating on collage exams and I'm not kidding."

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Kangaroo Flouts Boxing Rules

Animal Apt to Sink Teeth Into Opponent During a Clinch

WASHINGTON — Kangaroos like to square off and trade flurries of blows, like boxers. Trainers have even taught them to box with men at exhibitions.

A good referee needs to be on hand when a kangaroo hops into the ring. Bracing on his massive tail, the long-eared pugilist may lash out with both legs. In a clinch, he may dismay rule-sticklers by sinking his teeth into his opponent.

But disregard for the Marquis of Queensberry is not the reason Australians are complaining these days about their famous kangaroos. The trouble is simply that there are too many of them.

Reports from some areas indicate the animals have reached plague proportions. Bouncing ahead of cattle and sheep, they gobble up vegetation, and quench their thirst with water needed for stock. Desperate farmers are now raising bounties to attract more hunters.

At birth a young kangaroo or "joey" is about the size of a bumblebee, the National Geographic Society says. The blind and hairless creature, guided by instinct, scrambles through his mother's fur into her pouch. There he clamps his tiny mouth over a nipple and remains attached for weeks.

Occasionally peeping out from his pouch, the joey waits about three months before venturing into the outer world. He may try his legs and sample tender young grasses and leaves. But at the slightest sign of danger he dives back into the pouch.

If the mother kangaroo becomes alarmed, she may throw the baby into a thicket. This improves her chances of escaping and returning later to pick him up. If she is killed, he still has a chance to live.

Scientists have counted more than 50 species of kangaroo, ranging in size from one to seven feet tall. Some are called by other names — wallaroo, wallaby, euro, and pademelon. Their closest relative in the United States is the opossum, another marsupial.

Laughter Called Secret of Happy Marriage

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Claudette Colbert, wearing green velvet slacks, a white-on-white shirt and a delicious gleam in her eye, looked too young a chick to be doling out advice on long marriages. Her 53 years show on nothing but her birth certificate.

Yet here she was, saying, "Well, I don't discount sex appeal. It's number one, meaning it comes first chronologically, in a marriage. But after 15 years . . . well.

"This I know for sure. Of all the marriages I've seen where the husband has love for his wife after 15 years, the wife has the ability to make him laugh. She is gay when he comes home in the evening. She doesn't bore him with her petty ills.

"Jack and I were laughing about this just the other day—remembering the time when I had a fractured skull. Did I complain about it? No, of course not. He was in Philadelphia at a meeting."

Claudette laughed with genuine delight. "Wasn't that clever timing?"

Miss Colbert has been married nearly 23 years to Dr. Joel Pressman. She has, true to her advice, never brought her career troubles home. In fact, she says, "He never knew what picture I was in, from one year to the next, and had very little interest in it.

"The last premiere I took him to—it was years ago—I heard a loud snore. That was it. A surgeon has a hard day. Must he have to suffer at night too?"

Miss Colbert's present commitment to Broadway, playing the lead opposite Charles Boyer in the delightful hit comedy "Marriage-Go-Round," is her first big job on the Great White Way since 1929. Two years ago, she replaced ailing Margaret Sullavan in "Janus" for eight weeks, but that doesn't count. "The role wasn't really mine."

For almost 30 years she had rejected the idea of a long Broadway run because she and husband didn't want to be separated. "But it's been several years since I've been in a movie, and I was getting very restless," she said. "Finally the doctor said, why don't you do it and get it off your chest, and here I am."

She finds the stage, which she left for movies, "much more fun, really," than films. "Believe me, I enjoyed movies," she explains, "but I didn't enjoy the mechanical, technical quality of making them. You know—you've been on a movie set—you put on your best performance and a dog barks, or a light goes out, and you have to do it over.

"But there are two things that pictures do for you: It's a thrill to go to a little hamlet in the mountains of a foreign country and realize that everybody knows you. And—well, let's put it this way — you enjoy the money."

Surrounded by an aura of Lily of the Valley and a bouncing poodle named "Lulu Belle," Claudette Colbert seemed not to have aged a month since her award-winning "It Happened One Night" performance in the '30's. It was easy to visualize her, especially with the Broadway hit behind her, rushing back to do romantic leads in Hollywood.

When she stopped laughing, Claudette explained that it wasn't so easy. "You see, you hit an age," she said, "where you're just in between.

"I'm there."

86-Day Strike Ends at Canada Steel Co.

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — Furnaces roared into operation again at Canada's biggest steel plant last night. Key workers began reviving production lines of the Steel Company of Canada after an 86-day strike.

Formal end of the walkout came yesterday when nearly 6,000 of the 8,077 union workers voted to accept an agreement drawn up by negotiators Tuesday.

The contract provides a package increase of 27.8 cents an hour, spread over three years. There is an immediate wage increase of five cents an hour, an additional seven cents Aug. 1, 1959, and 10 cents Aug. 1, 1960. Welfare benefits and job classification increments make up the rest of the deal. Starting rate under the old contract was $1.73 an hour.

Speeder Compliments Officer After Arrest

Beckwith arrested a speeder on the Connecticut Turnpike. The motorist complimented the officer for his fine handling of the case, saying, "his behavior was beyond reproach in the performance of his duty."

Dogs Will Stand Sentry Duty at U.S. Nike Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army plans to buy 1,000 German shepherd dogs for sentry duty at Nike and other missile bases in this country.

The dogs will be purchased in the United States, with prices based upon the merits of the individual dogs, an announcement said today.

Dog owners interested were advised to get in touch with the office of the quartermaster general, D.C.

General specifications call for dogs from 9 months to 3 years of age, males preferred; minimum height at shoulder 22 inches, maximum 28 inches; minimum weight 60 pounds, maximum 90 pounds; any inconspicuous color but no white dogs.

Reasons Differ Sharply From State to State

Many Factors Explain Tuesday's Election Results

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—A candidate's flashing smile...a lingering memory of past scandals...a worker out of a job...a boss who hated unions...a candidate who worked around the clock, another who sat on his chair cushion...split party organizations...John Foster Dulles.

Put them all together, add your own reason for voting as you did, throw in a couple of other factors at random and you have the kaleidoscopic explanation for Tuesday's election results.

Unquestionably there were some tides of opinion felt throughout most of the nation: the normal midterm wish for a change; some dissatisfaction with the Eisenhower administration's leadership or lack of it; strong union activity.

But in hardly any two states or congressional districts was the story the same. Sometimes identifical factors produced opposite results.

This is shown by on-the-spot reports from Associated Press Bureaus in nine states which had contests of more than usual interest. The reports point to local men and local conditions more than to national issues as the determiners of victory or defeat.

Running down the list of these states:

NEW YORK—Biggest single factor undoubtedly was the emergence of Nelson A. Rockefeller as a spectacularly popular figure, a millionaire with a million-dollar smile, who came down from his skyscraper office, mingled with the voters, patted babies' heads, and beat the daylights out of his Democratic opponent, Gov. Averell Harriman.

"Rocky" — a nickname that would have appalled grandfather John D.—whisked Rep. Kenneth B. Keating into the Senate on his coattails. Ample campaign funds didn't hurt, of course.

CALIFORNIA — Edmund G. (Pat) Brown is well enough liked, but no glamor boy on the Rockefeller scale. Still, he won the governorship overwhelmingly for the Democrats, in large part because (1) his opponent, Sen. William F. Knowland, favored a right-to-work law and the unions mobilized to beat him, and (2) there was widespread resentment of the political bigplay which forced GOP Gov. Goodwin J. Knight to abandon reelection hopes and run for the Senate instead. Knight lost too — to Rep. Clair Engle. A Knowland-Knight feud hurt both men.

ARIZONA—Much union activity here too—against conservative Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater. But a lot of it came from outside the state and a good many voters resented it. Besides, Goldwater waged a far more vigorous campaign than his opponent, Gov. Ernest McFarland. Result: Goldwater won and the Democratic tide was washed back again.

WISCONSIN — Democratic Sen. William Proxmire, who never stops campaigning, beat Republican Roland J. Steinle, who never really started campaigning. It was almost as simple as that. Another factor: Some people just plain wanted to vote against Republicans.

OHIO—Another case of a governor, this time Republican C. William O'Neill, who antagonized too many voters. They replaced him at the first opportunity with Democrat Michael V. DiSalle. Ohio has been hard hit by unemployment and there was a widespread feeling O'Neill dragged his feet on special aid to the jobless. On top of that, O'Neill took the stump for a right-to-work amendment. The voters buried it and him too.

INDIANA—All sorts of factors: recession; unease over foreign affairs and weapon development; echoes of a highway corruption scandal in the previous Republican administration; state tax increases. A typical Hoosier GOP split. All these added up to defeat for Harold W. Handley in his bid to leave the governorship in midterm in favor of the Senate. The winner: Democrat Vance Hartke.

NEW JERSEY—The idea that one candidate can ride in on the coattails of somebody else has been disputed lately, since President Eisenhower's coattails have shown little pulling power. But it happened in New York and in some measure in New Jersey, where Democrat Harrison A. Williams benefited in his Senate fight from aggressive campaigning on his behalf by Gov. Robert Meyner. Williams' youth, he's 38, his liberal views and his personality also helped in his victory over 65-year-old Rep. Robert Kean. So did the state's strengthened Democratic organization.

MINNESOTA — Another who gained coattail support was Rep. Eugene McCarthy. His 50,000-vote margin over Sen. Edward Thye for a Senate seat was helped along by the personal popularity of Gov. Orville Freeman, who won reelection by 125,000 votes. But McCarthy, 42, also was helped by his own 10-year record as a representative from St. Paul where he scored heavily.

Dog Lolling in Luxury After Losing Freedom

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — The monsters finally got him—then it turned out they were more like angels.

That's the way it was with Maverick, the stray Doberman pinscher who eluded baited traps and nets for four years. He almost drove the dogcatcher crazy before he was shot down with a tranquilizer dart.

He went to sleep and woke up in a cage. The two-legged beings who had harassed him all those years came to look and marvel and bid for the right to own him.

One day the cage door opened and Maverick was driven away to a place that must be pretty close to a dog's idea of heaven.

He has his own bedroom, with an oil painting over his king-size bed. A veterinary prescribes his diet—all he can eat, three times a day. And he has two king-size playmates, Afghans Sheba and Sahib, to teach him the ways of civilization.

"Not that he needs much teaching," says his mistress, Mrs. Doris Crown, who paid $130 for Maverick at an auction last month. "It's not training that he needs, but pampering, and he's getting it."

Life with Doris and Harry Crown is quite a change for Maverick, who used to sleep in alleys and raid garbage pails.

On the other hand, life with Maverick is quite a change for the Crowns.

"It's almost grounds for divorce," says Doris, a tall, attractive blonde. She said her husband sometimes pays more attention to the dog than he does to her.

Despite some inconveniences, however, the Crowns figure Maverick is worth far more than he cost.

"We've had to give up our social life," says Doris. "You can't imagine how much money we've saved that way! And Harry has had to give up cigars because Maverick doesn't like them."

Doris and Harry have found they are healthier since Maverick came. Every morning and evening they take the dog for a stroll around their 2½-acre estate. It's the only way they can get him to exercise.

Maverick has attached himself to Harry like a leech," says Doris. "He doesn't know how to play by himself or with the other dogs. All he wants to do is stay right at Harry's side. If Maverick needs a walk, Harry has to take one too. So, to avoid losing Harry completely, I join them."

Eddie Rickenbacker Predicts:

Planet Travel in 25 Years

(This is the second of two dispatches in which one of America's most famed figures in aviation predicts what the future holds for air travel—in this world and out of it.)

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

NEW YORK (UPI)—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, noting that it's now only a 7-hour plane jump from the United States to Europe, said today he believes space flights—to such planets as the moon, Venus and Mars—will be available in the next 25 years.

"Atomic power," he said, "is going to have a tremendous effect on future flights. Some day we'll be reaching for the moon, and the other planets. There must be habitation on them."

Declaring that aviation's future defies the imagination, he remarked:

"Buck Rogers is out of date."

Today, he went on, aviation is applying atomic power all the time and is studying how to adapt the lessons being learned from space exploration.

It's quite likely, in his opinion, that Mr. Average American will be making space flights a quarter of a century from now.

'IN 1ST GRADE NOW'

"We're in the first grade now," said Rickenbacker. "So far, the knowledge gained about space ships and the rest of the universe is in its infancy. Now it's the universe. And there's no limit to the universe. We can hardly imagine what's in store for us.

"Today, even with jet planes, you have to use thousands of gallons of gasoline, or special fuel, to get anywhere. Atomic power, using a handful of fuel, can go around the world a dozen times."

Asked how many passengers will be carried on future flights to cities throughout the world, Rickenbacker replied:

"That will depend entirely on the community of interest. Today the greatest density of interest, and community of peoples, is between the United States and Europe.

"Consequently, the greatest travel is between those two regions.

"But as time goes on, and as aviation progresses, this reciprocal contact between peoples will grow. It will continue to increase and widen out. In the years ahead, air transportation will be about the only transportation over oceans and land areas.

"Eventually, the big oceanic passenger ships will be passe for passenger travel. They will be used for carrying of heavy freight.

RAILROADS EVIDENCE

"You can see what's happening to the railroads in America. They are trying to get out of the passenger business. Could you imagine years ago that they'd take off the 20th Century Limited? Or that ferries would cease carrying passengers?

"Future travel will be predominately by air. Think what this will mean as peoples of various countries begin to know and understand each other! Politics could be solved. Surely, world problems would be easier to grapple with."

Rickenbacker said future air travel will also have a tremendous effect upon the economics of nations, and result in an improved standard of living.

"With atomic power being steadily developed, can you imagine the great progress that can be made everywhere? Take Red China, for example. It would mean a great buildup of that country's economy and standard of living."

Ike Hunts Ducks Along Lake Erie on Way West

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower flies to Ohio today to hunt ducks after hunting first for ways to cut federal spending.

Before leaving, the President arranged to confer with Budget Director Maurice Stans on the government spending program for the fiscal year starting July 1.

At the exclusive Cedar Point Club on the Lake Erie shore near Toledo, Ohio, Eisenhower will be the guest of George M. Humphrey, his first secretary of the Treasury.

The President is stopping there for an afternoon of duck shooting on the way west to Tacoma and Seattle, Wash. He will spend the rest of the weekend at the home of his brother Edgar, an attorney in Tacoma.

On Monday, Eisenhower will address a meeting of the representatives of the Colombo Plan nations in Seattle. He intends to set forth recommendations for economic development of South and Southeast Asia.

We All Make Mistakes

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A thief broke into the automobile of salesman William Lutz of Mount Vernon, Ohio, stole 30 sample dresses and suits, then discarded them in downtown alleys. The garments were the backless type used by undertakers in dressing corpses.

Lake Levels Dip Below Average

Further Drop Expected in February Except for Lake Ontario

DETROIT (AP) — Levels of the Great Lakes and Lake St. Clair all are below their average for the last 98 years and all, except Lake Ontario, will continue downward into February.

A sharp upturn in the Ontario level is expected to begin in January, but only Lake Superior is expected to reach its average level in the next six months.

This is the outlook as contained in a new six months forecast being issued in graphical form by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Although all lake levels are below average, none is dangerously close to dipping into new all-time low areas.

While Superior is the only one expected to reach its average in the next six months, its rise isn't expected to start until March.

The October difference between levels and average was greatest in Lakes Huron and Michigan. The average is about 581 feet above sea level (mean tide at New York). The October level was approximately 578.3 feet.

The new forecasts show lake levels for the last year, the 98-year average, and all-time highs and lows and what the engineers expect levels to be over the next six months.

Dutch Official Due

HOLLAND (AP) — A new consul-general of the Netherlands, Gijsbert C. D. Hoott Graafland, will assume his duties in Chicago next week, it was announced here by the midwest division of the Netherlands Information Service.

But Now She's Out for Count

Knows Taste of Victory

ALTADENA, Calif. (AP) — Somebody pushed the wrong button on a tabulating machine and for a few hours Rudd Brown, the granddaughter of William Jennings Bryan, thought she was a congresswoman.

But the next morning she was awakened by a reporter and informed that because of a 10,000-vote counting error she is still just Mrs. Brown, private citizen, and her Republican rival, veteran incumbent Rep. Edgar W. Hiestand, was re-elected in the 21st District.

"I'm disappointed, naturally," said Mrs. Brown with a yawn, "but I knew it was possible, even last night. I know there always can be an error."

It was suggested that she was being quite philosophical about the sudden switch in her political fortunes and she responded with a laugh: "For heaven's sakes, somebody wins and somebody loses."

Shortly before midnight, Mrs. Brown, a Democrat, went to bed thinking she had a 2,600 vote lead. But in the final election bulletin today, with all the precincts in, her tally was 116,687 to Hiestand's 124,104.

County Registrar of Voters Benjamin Hite said Hiestand should have been credited earlier with 33,000 votes at a time when he was given only 23,000.

"Somebody," said Hite sadly, "pushed a wrong digit."

Mrs. Brown was asked if she will try for public office again.

"Well," she said with a sigh, "I'll have to think about that for a couple of days."

Mrs. Brown, an attractive 38-year-old brunette, is the wife of Harrison Brown, a well-known scientist at nearby California Institute of Technology. Her mother was the late Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, who was congresswoman from Florida in 1928 and this nation's first woman envoy, appointed by President Roosevelt in 1933 as minister to Denmark.

Mrs. Brown said that during the campaign, her first for public office, she had to overcome a fear of speechmaking.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — If you're worried about snake bite, see Tucson City Purchasing Agent William Bray. He is peddling surplus snake bite kits.

The city has had the kits in stock for the last 10 years with little demand. Bray has seven left and he'll sell to the highest bidder. The kits originally were bought to aid city workers bitten by snakes while sweeping the streets.

Greyhounds Run as Strike Ends

Buses Operating Again After 1-Day Walkout Halts Service

CLEVELAND (AP)—Eastern Greyhound Lines returned to normal operations today following a one-day wildcat strike which halted bus service in 20 northeastern states.

The end of the strike came after tentative agreement on a two-year contract to replace one that expired last Friday. It affects 3,400 drivers, terminal and maintenance employes represented by 12 local unions of the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes.

A delay in announcing the agreement delayed resumption of operations for several hours yesterday.

Terms of the agreement are subject to ratification by the membership through a referendum. It provides for raising the mileage pay rate for drivers from a scale of 9.85 and 9.80 cents per mile to 10.30 and 10.50 cents per mile the second year of the contract.

The agreement also includes increases of 8 cents an hour each year for hourly-rated drivers plus wage hikes for hourly-rated terminal and maintenance employes of 10 cents the first year and 8 cents the next year. The latter class of workers averaged about $2.54 an hour.

Other benefits are improved holiday pay and sick leave and health and welfare, plus a fourth week of vacation for employes with 25 years service.

THE COW AND I — Holley James hoists a glass of milk, naturally, to toast her crowning as "Miss Missouri Maid of Milk" in Springfield. The 20-year-old University of Missouri junior will try for the title of National Dairy Princess at the National Dairy Show in Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 10-13.

Countesses Honor Petoskey

Give Rare Manuscripts

PETOSKEY (AP)—If two French countesses have their way this northern community on the shores of Little Traverse Bay may blossom into a cultural center.

Manuscripts signed by Chopin and Puccini are among works presented to the Petoskey library this week by the Countesses Elfrida and Kathleen de Jaffa. The sisters, who are in their 70s, visited this northern Michigan area 10 years ago and made it their home.

Most valuable of the items they've given the library are the autographed first editions, including Frederic Chopin's "Library of Musical Classics" and Giacomo Puccini's "Madame Butterfly." Other compositions include works by Schumann, Schubert, Gounod, Grieg and Donizetti

The countesses, who spent most of their early days in Paris, share an apartment here furnished with family heirlooms and treasures. There's a shawl and some of the diaries of Queen Victoria, a friend of their mother; a parchment of fine needlework by Polish nuns that's more than 300 years old; a Rembrandt original and other art masterpieces.

The countesses inherited their titles from an ancestor who was dubbed the first Count de Jaffa back in the Crusades. They came to the United States when World War I began.

Kathleen became a translator for the Metropolitan Opera in New York. Elfrida held a similar post with a New York bank.

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP) — "That's my grandma."

Ten-year-old Bobby Summers held out his small arms and for the first time in nearly two weeks a smile crossed his face.

Mrs. Else Otto of Lichtenfels, Germany, moved to the edge of Bobby's bed in the Portsmouth Naval Hospital and gathered Bobby into her arms. Her visit was the answer to the first of two great wishes expressed often by Bobby.

The second wish will not come true. Bobby wants to be out of the hospital and home with his parents, M. Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Summers of Ft. Monroe, Va., in time for Christmas. But doctors say cancer of the bladder will take his life within a few weeks.

Bobby doesn't know he has such a short time to live. He was stricken in May and after a period of hospitalization returned home. But he had to enter the hospital again Oct. 27 and this time the doctors said he would not leave alive.

Bobby's mother and father were married while Summers was stationed in Germany. After his father was reassigned to the States, Bobby often expressed the desire to see his grandmother.

For the past two weeks that has been one of his biggest wishes. But after paying for the doctors and medicine, his parents didn't have enough money left over to send for Mrs. Otto.

The Newport News Daily Press reported the plight of the lad and radio station WGH conducted a drive to raise funds to have Mrs. Otto brought here.

In no time at all $4,000 was raised and Mrs. Otto was on her way. She arrived in New York and was met by Bobby's parents. They arrived at the hospital Thursday.

"It is wonderful to be here, but I wish it were under happier circumstances," Mrs. Otto said. She added that she would stay in America as long as her daughter needs her.

Bobby grinned broader from his bed as someone told him: "Not every little boy's grandmother comes all the way from Germany to see him when he is sick."

Sailor Who Jumped Ship Sought by Border Patrol

A pickup order has been issued for Alexander Juhas, 31. The border patrol said Juhas does not have a visa.

The trouble aboard the Norwegian vessel, Ingrid H., stemmed from a protest by several crew members about the food served them.

Reds Shell Quemoy, Gas Masks Issued

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Communist coastal guns fired sporadically today on the Quemoys, where Nationalist defenders began carrying gas masks as a precaution.

Military headquarters said the Reds ended a 27-hour lull by peppering the offshore islands with 55 shells before dawn. Shooting between 6 a.m. and noon brought the total to 177.

Nationalist troops were ordered to carry gas masks as an indirect result of Red China's charge — denied by U.S. and Nationalist authorities — that the Nationalists used gas shells in an artillery duel Monday.

Nationalist commanders figured that the Communists might have made the charge as a propaganda preliminary to using poison gas themselves against the islands' deeply entrenched garrisons.

U.S. agriculture uses more electric power in a year than do the cities of Chicago, Detroit, Houston, Baltimore and Boston combined.

She's on Trial for Her Life

Starkweather Incriminates Girl, 15

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Killer Charles Starkweather says he doesn't care whether his ex-sweetheart Caril Ann Fugate lives or dies.

But testimony of the 19-year-old; himself condemned to death, stood today as the most damaging to date against Caril, 15, charged with first-degree murder on the identical counts on which Starkweather was convicted.

Starkweather completed a dramatic two-day appearance at Caril's trial Thursday. Prosecutors expected to rest their case today after introduction of a statement taken from Caril after her capture. Its contents have not previously been divulged.

Starkweather pictured Caril as his willing accomplice on a killing spree last January.

He disowned as "a bunch of hogwash" his earlier statements which portrayed her as an unwilling helper.

He lied to protect the girl, he said.

In fact, he related, some stories he told were fabricated jointly by Caril and himself while they lived together for several days at Caril's home after Starkweather killed three members of Caril's family.

Of his present reelings toward Caril, Starkweather said, "I don't dislike her" but "it don't make no difference to me" whether she is alive or dead.

In response to a question, he acknowledged, "I would hate to have her convicted on false evidence."

Conviction could bring the death penalty or a life sentence.

For the first time since her trial began, Caril broke down and cried Thursday.

Defense lawyer John McArthur was then reading from a Starkweather statement relating the killing of Caril's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Bartlett, and Caril's half sister Betty Jean, 2.

Caril's eyes remained fixed on Starkweather, but tears ran down her cheeks.

Report Urged on Tax Study

Chairman Wants Facts on State Survey Ready Early in December

LANSING (AP) — The head of a full dress legislative study of the state's tax structure says he's pressing for a report of conclusions by the first week of December.

Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), chairman of the study group and of the house general taxation committee, said he thinks it is "imperative" that recommendations be formulated by then.

Working closely with the legislators is a 28-member citizens committee headed by Frank Seideman, Grand Rapids accounting firm executive and tax authority.

The object of the study when it was launched more than a year ago was to take apart the entire structure of Michigan taxation, described by Seidman as a "patchwork of ill-fitting pieces," and come up with an altogether new integrated design.

Jointly, the lawmakers and citizens have received and discussed about two dozen bulky research reports on various specific taxes and matters relating to taxation.

An informal subcommittee representing a cross section of interests of the combined groups then was entrusted with the job of drawing up an "agenda," or tentative new tax pattern, to present as a basis of working toward final decisions.

Conlin said yesterday he thought the subcommittee would reach agreement fairly soon, and toss the ball to the bigger group.

Favor School Vote in General Elections

LANSING (AP) — Local elections officials are in favor of holding school board elections on the same day as general elections, a legislative committee has been told.

City, county and township clerks appeared yesterday before a committee on school elections procedures headed by Rep. Robert E. Waldron (R-Grosse Pointe).

"They felt it would eliminate confusion and make for a better turnout at school elections," Waldron said. "Under the present system, some school elections only attract about five per cent of the voters."

The local officials also favored putting school elections under the secretary of state's office, he said.

Present law sets no definite date for the school elections and they are held at various times during the year at the discretion of the local school boards, Waldron said.

Don Mann, president, is in charge of the prom. The other officers that will assist him and head other graduation time committees are: Jeanette Ohanesian, vice president and Senior Class Day chairman; Margaret Murphy, secretary and in charge of caps and gowns, and Sandra Lilliquist, treasurer and head of the announcement committee.

The dramatics department of Pontiac's two high schools will be the first in the nation to cast the play "The Bad Seed," according to Garth Errington, director.

Casting for the production, slated to be held in the Pontiac Central High School auditorium Dec. 12 and 13, was held this week.

Since several of the faculty members are protesting the selected play, a decision as to whether it will or will not be produced will be made by the end of next week, Errington said.

Cast members include Sherri Everett, Tom O'Brien, Bruce Bishop, Bill Kath, David Lenunske, Sandra McDowell, Sally Warren, Lynn Walker, Red Ledesma, and Carol Ferigson.

Judy Kenny will portray Rhoda Penmark, the little girl who inherits a murderer's personality and kills while she eats her lunch. The story was written by Maxwell Anderson, Pulitzer Prize winner.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

The Capitol people showing some good sense with their current jazz release "Parade of The Pennies" (T-1051) by Red Nichols and his Five Pennies. The Nichols name is a great one in jazz annals. Many collectors vie for copies of his great records of the late 1920's, and this LP is designed as a "re-creation" of those hallowed arrangements.

It is a huge step forward from the recent Capital LP pairing the Nichols horn with strings (a waste of time).

But it is still a little too stiff to be "one of the greatest jazz packages ever assembled" as Capitol labels it and, will someone tell me, why does it take 11 men today to do the same things that six or seven did better 30 years ago?

In other current Capitol LPs I would rate "Bobby Hackett At The Embers" (T-1077) as excellent; "Voices In Love" (T-1074) by The Four Freshmen as good; and "Rodgers and Hammerstein Ala Dixie" (T-1065) by Pee Wee Hunt as poor and I'm getting tired of this Pee Wee Hunt jazz (this LPs sound like a Frankenstein series).

LAUGH DEPT: Columbia has come up with a real wingding. For this you've got to be on your toes (and elsewhere in no time at all). The object of our chuckles is a late release, "Good Housekeeping's Plan For Reducing Off The Record" (HL-7143).

The Bob Prince Quartet supplies music, Julie Conway is calling the plays, and some of the appropriate titles are "Undecided," "Little Brown Jug," "The Hot Canary," and "All or Nothing At All." Keep laughing —several Pontiac record shops list it as a "best seller." Lotsa fat people around these parts.

One notch in the rope behind is "Topsy" by Cozy Cole, still selling strong. Third spot goes to "It's Only Make Believe" by Conway Twitty. "Queen Of The Hop" by Bobby Darin, has jumped to fourth spot and "Chantilly Lace" by Big Bopper is tied for the much better disc "Lonesome Town" by Ricky Nelson in fifth slot.

LENNI MILLS, Pa. — A new gardening aid consisting of squares of black polyethylene film cut so they can be placed like a bib around the stalk of a plant has been developed by a Lenni Mills concern.

Breakfast for Giants

MOSCOW—In olden times quantity rather than quality seemed to be the distinguishing mark of feasts. For instance, a Russian czar and his 21 guests consumed a whole sheep, a lamb, 10 pullets, 12 chickens, 144 eggs, 3 quarts of brandy, and 6 gallons of mulled wine—all for breakfast!

Stolen Airliner Reported Safe

28 Aboard Plane Held by Cuban Rebels at Air Strip in Oriente

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—The rebel capture of a Cuban airliner and its 28 occupants may have been aided by arms-packing women.

This possibility was raised today with the disclosure by a qualified informant that the 15 men passengers, but not the 10 women, were searched for arms before the Cubana Airline DC3 took off from Havana Wednesday for interior points in Oriente province.

Radio messages from the plane Thursday reported that it had landed at a rebel air strip in Oriente and that all aboard were safe.

The passengers, including U.S. Navy Airman Robert M. Montgomery of Miami, would be returned through the International Red Cross as soon as possible, the radio message said. Presumably the rebels will hold the three crew members, their customary tactic.

Cubana announced Thursday night that it is stopping flights over rebel territory in the eastern province of Oriente, the center of activity by Fidel Castro's insurgents. The airline plans to continue its flights to Santiago de Cuba, the capital of Oriente; Camaguey, the capital of the province west of Oriente, and to overseas points.

Since Oct. 31, three of Cubana's passenger planes, a fourth of its fleet, have been captured in flight by gunmen. Seventeen persons were killed in the crash-landing of one. The rebels are holding the other two planes, along with their 36 passengers and 6 crewmen.

Eastman Gives Pay Raises to 2

Officers First Denied Increases by Straley as Troublemakers

Two Pontiac police officers described by Chief Herbert W. Straley as causing "friction, ill feeling and low morale" on the force were given in-grade pay raises yesterday.

The boosts for Police Lts. Donny E. Ashley and William K. Hanger were approved by Public Safety Director George D. Eastman.

Eastman said that after reviewing reports and files on the two officers he felt that the increases were justified.

Ashley was to have received his in-grade increase on Aug. 3 and Hanger on Aug. 17. Eastman said that the increases will be retroactive to those dates.

Chief Straley had denied wage increases to the officers. He told Eastman that they and Police Sgt. Hugh T. Stimson were inciting subordinates into thinking disrespectfully of the chief.

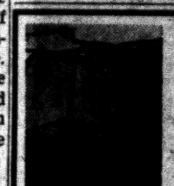

Eastman said he is still reviewing the case of Sgt. Stimson.

County Guidance Agency Supported by UF

Pontiac Press Photo

NO EASY-SHORT-CUT — A staff psychiatrist, Dr. Morris Weiss, works patiently with a child at the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, a United Fund supported organization. The period of treatment in this case may be several months, or several years, since there seems to be no easy short-cut in modifying human behavior. Through United Fund aid, the clinic serves the community constantly attempting to prevent, diagnose, and treat the behavior disorders of youngsters who in most cases have been labeled "problem" children.

Eight-year-old Sarah was classified by her parents as a "problem child."

They were worried about emotional disturbances in the child which manifested themselves in the form of withdrawal and failure at school.

Actually, Sarah had been getting poor grades for a period of about 1½ years. The grades had been getting worse instead of better. Recently she had displayed a "nobody likes me" attitude both at home and at school.

Her parents became increasingly irritated and concerned. They had come to think "she doesn't try" and "she's just feeling sorry for herself."

In an effort to remedy the situation, they forced her to study harder and chided her for whimpering about every little thing that didn't go her way.

TALK TO TEACHERS

After talking to several of Sarah's teachers, they came to one that had more to say than "she's got a good brain if she'd only use it."

This understanding teacher wisely suggested that the parents call the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, a United Fund Agency.

The clinic is set up to diagnose and treat the habit, personality, and behavior disorders of children who find it difficult to adjust to school, home or community. The clinic also works toward preventing maladjustments in children before they become too serious.

Following the initial telephone interview with Sarah's parents, and receipt of their written application, the staff began collecting all possible information about Sarah from sources approved by her parents.

Separate first interviews with both parents were then scheduled. Arrangements were made for several psychological tests and psychiatric interviews necessary for evaluating Sarah's intellectual ability and personality.

Upon completion of all diagnostic studies, the case was discussed by the clinic staff, leading to disposition as to clinic treatment, suggestion of other plans or referral elsewhere.

PROBLEM NOT ACUTE

In Sarah's case, the modifying of her behavior problems was of an easy nature, since the problems were not yet acute. Treatment was carried out through a series of weekly interviews with the parents and child.

Through the establishment of mutual trust, Sarah and her parents came to share their real feelings with their professional staff therapists, all of whom had adequate training and experience in this field.

After a few months, continuing help within the clinic was no longer necessary. The staff advised outside help for Sarah. This was directed mainly at her parents.

Staff workers suggested several changes in the method of handling Sarah. They advised the parents not to "scold" Sarah when she seemed moody or withdrawn, but encourage her to be happy and eager to do things.

They were told to try and get Sarah's mind off herself and on something else.

The parents were also advised not to "work" Sarah too hard, or punish her for not "making the grade" as they set it.

GIVE HER GOAL

Rather, they were encouraged to give Sarah a goal or reward for doing better.

Sarah is now proceeding well both at home and school. What is more important, a growing behavior problem which might have become very serious in several years time has been overcome through better undrstanding between Sarah and her parents.

Most of all, Sarah is now happy and well adjusted. The Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, through United Fund contributions, has been the answer to many such families in the Pontiac area plagued by problems that need professional as well as paternal guidance.

Missing Man Needed to Ask for Recount

URBANA, Ohio (AP) — Champaign County Democrats want a recount, but the man who has to demand it is off on a secret mission.

He's William Gregg, Democratic candidate for county auditor. An Army Reserve lieutenant Colonel, Gregg was called to six weeks' active duty Oct. 3 and wasn't around when he lost Tuesday's election to incumbent Carey Barger by only 19 votes.

He isn't expected back until Nov. 14. The Democratic Executive Committee chairman says Gregg is on secret maneuvers in the Pacific, and no one knows how to get in touch with him.

Neither the chairman nor the party can file for a recount. The request must originate with the candidate within five days after official tabulations are completed.

The Champaign County tabulation starts today and may only take a day. That would make the deadline Nov. 12.

Key to Effective Foreign Policy

Dulles Needs Dem Help

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles will have to seek much closer cooperation with Democratic leaders of Congress if he is to run foreign policy effectively during his last two years in office.

Aides said privately today they had no doubt he would take such action, although it was still too early to say what specific steps might be necessary.

Although Congress has been under Democratic control for the last four of the Eisenhower administration's six years, a shift in power over the conduct of foreign affairs now seems certain to come about for two reasons:

1. Tuesday's election gave the Democrats such overwhelming control as virtually to vest them with a new degree of authority and confidence not only to criticize what is being done but to say how it should be done. Or so it appears to many observers in the State Department.

2. Regardless of what happens in the 1960 elections, the Eisenhower administration as such is limited to two more years in office. The leadership authority of the President and secretary of state therefore must be expected to decline, relative to the reinforced Democratic leadership at the Capitol.

But the record of the last four years of working with Democratic Congresses encourages Dulles aides to believe that close cooperation will be obtained.

They look for continued support on major issues of foreign aid appropriations and problems involving firm stands against expansionist moves by the Communist bloc countries.

The first test may involve United States support for Nationalist China's continued strong defense of the Quemoy and Matsu islands off the Chinese mainland.

The administration may have to ask early next year for a supplemental appropriation to finance plans for modernizing the Chinese Nationalist army and to make up for the approximately 300 million dollars spent in supplies for the defense of Quemoy against the Communist artillery assault which began in late August.

Many Democrats, including Chairman Theodore F. Green of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, were outspoken in criticizing the administration's policy regarding the coastal islands. A request for funds arising out of this policy could precipitate a major debate on the whole issue.

Furthermore, if the Chinese Communists gradually ease off their pressures, Democratic congressional leaders will probably insist on a policy more in line with their own ideas and the ideas of many Allied countries. These come down to saying that the United States should defend Formosa but should try to get Chiang's forces out of the offshore islands.

Set Fire to Cottage

PETOSKEY (AP) — Two boys have been turned over to Charlevoix Probate Court on a charge of burning down a summer cottage at Lake Charlevoix. Police said they admitted starting the $5,000 fire when they were playing with matches.

Little Cars to Get Big Reduction in Parking Fee

The move is a switch from the recent talk in such places as New York and St. Louis about special high rates for the longer and wider American 1959 models.

"Pure economics," said L. B. Doggett Jr., president of the Washington Parking Assn., in announcing that the small machines will have specially reserved space and rates about a third less at one of his 17 parking facilities. He has plans to extend the system to other lots.

Doggett figured 40 of the little fellows will fit into the space needed for 28 of what are now considered normal-size American cars.

No car larger than 6½ by 14 feet qualifies.

Deficit Called Bigger Than Williams Said

LANSING (UPI) — Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) said the operating deficit in the state's general fund is 19.5 million dollars greater than Gov. G. Mennen Williams has said.

Smeekens, in a letter to State Liquor Control Commission Chairman Joseph L. Wisniewski, said Williams gave a June 30 deficit figure of about 21.5 million dollars but a previous letter by Wisniewski to Smeekens "shows nearly 19.5 million dollars owed for liquor inventories, making the deficit about 40 million dollars, Smeekens said.

"Why," Smeekens asked, "in the face of the declining liquor consumption in Michigan, has the commission built up an inventory almost five times that of two years ago?"

Girls in New Guinea in the South Pacific really are enthusiastic about "beauty marks." They rouge their whole faces—forehead, chin, and all.

Mighty Mac Queen Plans Honeymoon Trip to Span

To the straits bridge, naturally.

That's the plan of Georgia Cotsikas, the Ingham County queen for the bridge dedication last June.

"I was so busy at the time, I hardly got to see the bridge," she explained.

Their parents have announced that Georgia and James Archer of Round Lake, employed at Michigan State Police headquarters, will marry at the Michigan State University chapel Nov. 29.

Georgia, who wears her ash blonde hair in a pony tail, has been seen by thousands attending Spartan football games in her role as a cheer leader.

Any Shelter Aids to Reduce Effects of Atomic Fallout

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Even a small degree of protection against a nuclear blast can spell the difference between life and death — even near ground zero.

According to Harry Lake Bowman, Dean of the Faculty of Drexel Institute of Technology and Consultant on Weapon Effects and Protective Construction for the Atomic Energy Commission, there is a ring around ground zero where even a little protection would help reduce the effects of an atomic explosion.

Bowman said a poor shelter would be better than none. "In a fallout field," he said, "a poor structure will cut the radiation dosage in half, and the below-ground basement of a good structure may reduce the dosage by a factor of a thousand."

The scientist said much of what we know today about shelter design, thermal effects, blast biology and decontamination was learned from nuclear tests in the Pacific and Nevada.

He added: "This knowledge, if heeded, may save more lives than will ever be lost as a result of the fallout from the tests currently being carried on."

Colossal Monument Honors Spain's Dead

MADRID — Spain has opened a colossal new monument in honor of the nearly a million people who died during Spain's Civil War between 1936 and 1939. The monument is at Valley of The Fallen, which covers a 46,000-acre estate at Cuelgamuros, 36 miles from Madrid. This will be the final resting place for many war dead.

A 5-mile-long Way of The Cross leads to the monument itself, a granite mountain out of which in 16 years' work, has been hollowed a basilica larger than most cathedrals.

Atop the mountain rises a 492-foot cross. An elevator takes visitors from the floor of the church up through the shaft of the cross to an observation platform on its arms.

Tragedy Averted in Bus Collision

21 Youngsters Escape Serious Injury Coming Home From School

CARSONVILLE (UP) — Twenty-one youngsters escaped serious injury yesterday in a near-tragic collision of two school buses on the outskirts of this Thumb Area community.

Most of those hurt in the crash were treated and released at nearby hospitals. Two of the 21 declined treatment.

State Police said the students of Carsonville's combined elementary and high school escaped for the most part with "black eyes, chipped teeth and assorted bruises."

Both vehicles went into a ditch after the crash.

The buses were taking the students home after classes when the collision occurred on M46, about one mile east of here.

Trooper Jack Young of the Sandusky State Police Post said a bus driven by Theodore Wrubel was making a turn onto a side road when it was rammed in the rear by another driven by Frederick Falk. Both bus drivers are from Carsonville.

The first bus ran into a ditch and turned over on its side. The other also went into the ditch, but stayed upright.

Falk told State Police his brakes failed. He was ticketed for failure to have his vehicle under control, Young said.

Smugglers Costly to Italy

CHIASSO, Italy (UPI) — "Sunday Smugglers" have created a five-and-a-half million dollar a year problem for Italian authorities.

Every Sunday during the summer, at least $14,000 worth of contraband merchandise is smuggled through this border town from Switzerland into Italy, nearly all of it by normally honest middle-class Italians.

With an average of 30,000 Italians making excursions into Switzerland every Sunday, customs officials frankly admit they are fighting a losing battle against the contraband trade.

Among the items smuggled into Italy are coffee, sugar, chocolate, cocoa, tobacco, candy and soap. But perhaps the most popular of all is gasoline, which costs 40 cents a gallon in Switzerland, compared with 89 cents in Italy.

Many Italian motorists who habitually visit the Alpine land have befriended farmers within a mile or so this side of the frontier. There, they deposit a couple of cans.

The cosely Italian gasoline, except for a pint or two, is siphoned out of their cars into the cans. The motorist then drive into Switzerland, fill up their tanks with the cheaper Swiss gasoline and return to Italy with it.

Italian customs guards say this system is generally used by "frontalieri," or small-scale professional smugglers who make two or three excursions a day. Each trip brings back into Italy a tankful of Swiss gasoline.

The audacious "frontalieri" also smuggle in additional items, choosing busy period to pass through customs. Their chances of getting through are fairly good.

Italian companies have demanded a revision of import regulations to help stem the "Sunday smuggler" traffic. They claim it is costing them about $3,600,000 worth of business a year.

Nursing Unit Set for Tours

Open House will be held in McAuley School of Practical Nursing, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday. The community is invited and a special invitation is extended to women interested in nursing to see the building and ask questions about the nursing program.

Students in uniform will conduct tours through the school and a film, "Nurse, Please," will be shown. Members of the faculty will discuss nursing education and opportunities.

McAuley School was organized in September 1953 under the direction of the Sisters of Mercy of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Practical nurses take a one-year program, and then if they pass the state board examination, they may work in hospitals, doctors' offices, clinics, visiting Nurse Associations industrial plants and private homes.

McAuley School is open to women between the ages of 18 and 50. Selection is based upon qualifying examinations and admission interviews.

Purpose of the open house is to familiarize the community with the school and its work and to discuss its program with all interested women. Mrs. David McInnes (left) and Susan Miller will be among students conducting tours through the building and answering questions about the nursing education program.

Drooling Dieters Give Girl a Hard Time

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem in my office. Everyone but myself is either on a diet or is talking about food and weight. It is driving me batty. When I bring a piece of cake with my lunch they make me feel like a criminal. One girl told another girl I brought fattening things on purpose to make her drool. I am inclined toward being slim and can't help it if she is a fat slob. These girls are ruining what was once a pleasant job. Any suggestions?" THE GIRL AT UNITED.

ABBY

DEAR GIRL: People who are fighting the battle of the bulge need all the help they can get. Slip away and eat the sweets in private like a good girl.

"DEAR ABBY: In our school we have a teacher who has gotten away with slapping children across the face, the back and shaking them good and hard. She has taught school for many years and all the children dread going into her class. Parents have gone to the principal about her but nothing ever happens.

"The children of the parents who complained have been mistreated all the more. She makes no bones in class about not liking children but is smooth as they come when talking to parents. Let me add, the children are only seven years old. We mothers would truthfully like to know what to do about it."

ANGRY PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: Get up a petition of complaints with as many signatures as you can secure (Don't forget the Dads) . . . A representative of your group should make an appointment with the Superintendent of Schools and present it personally.

"DEAR ABBY: This may sound terrible but it is true. I have lost all respect for my mother. She will tell me to do something and I know she won't say anything if I don't do it, so I don't. I have been asked to clean up my room but I keep on letting it go because my mother will do it if I wait long enough.

"I am 15 years old and admit I am spoiled because I get just about anything I want, but I am not happy. My girl friend does the family laundry on week ends, has to do dishes every night and doesn't even get an allowance and she is happier than I am. I can't figure it out, Abby, can you?"

UNHAPPY

DEAR UNHAPPY: The child who is given responsibility at home, and is made to toe the mark, is always much happier. Children NEED to be disciplined to feel secure.

"DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago a fellow named DANNY wrote to you asking how to meet a nice woman. Object—marriage. I was in his boat a few years back and I tried for two years, after my wife died, to find a nice woman, but the result was zero. Finally I advertised in a newspaper for a housekeeper. Did I get answers! About a hundred of them. To make a long story short a nice, single lady, age 40, got the job. She has been here ever since. I married her and no two people have ever been happier." GUY

"DEAR ABBY: My problem is my lazy sister. She married a worthless bum and eight years later she presented my mother with eight children to raise for her. My mother is sickly and old and lives on a widow's pension. She raised her own family and I don't see why she should have to raise my sister's eight.

"Sometimes I feel so sorry for mama I could cry. I'd take the load off her myself but I have seven of my own to raise. Will you please tell me what can be done about this problem?"

SAD SISTER

DEAR SAD: A sickly grandmother on a widow's pension cannot do justice to raising eight children. If your sister is neither willing nor able to raise her own children the Family Service should be called in.

Second Request Indicated

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Last Christmas I wrote to several relatives and suggested we stop exchanging gifts. I explained that what little money we had we wanted to spend it on our three small children. In spite of this they all sent very lovely gifts and I felt very badly. I know they can well afford this generosity but I was embarrassed inasmuch as I couldn't give in return.

"I suggested in my note of last year that perhaps we could give gifts this year but I find we are still unable to do so. Is it necessary that I write again and tell them I regret not being able to exchange gifts again this year? If so, can't I say something about their not giving us presents?"

Answer: Tell them that much as you loved the gifts they sent you last year, you must really beg them not to give you any this year. Explain that you are no better able to return their generosity this year than you were last Christmas and that it will make you very unhappy to continue receiving presents until you are able to make some return.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know the proper name to use when referring to a woman with whom I have been going for the past six months. She is a woman in her forties and it doesn't sound right to refer to her as my 'girl friend,' and as we are not engaged I cannot call her my fiancee. Would it be proper to say 'lady friend?' "

Answer: Please don't say "lady friend." You refer to her simply as Miss Jones, or as Mary.

"Dear Mrs. Post: At a small informal gathering of friends, is it not rude for two of the guests to carry on a private conversation to the exclusion of others? Shouldn't the conversation be general at all times?"

Answer: You are quite right, a private conversation of any noticeable length that excluded others in the room would be rude.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon and have been told that I should get someone to "stand in" for me at the wedding rehearsal as it would be very bad luck for me to take part myself. I have never heard of this before and would like to know if it is true that the bride does not take part in the rehearsal."

Answer: What you have been told is correct. You direct your wedding rehearsal but it has always been supposed to be bad luck for the bride to take part in it herself.

Have You Tried This

Glamor Touch to Food Takes Only Imagination

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Mrs. N. S. Clayton of Essex, Massachusetts is one of our favorite out-of-town visitors. She has such a vivid personality that just being with her is a pleasure.

Having run a restaurant for some years, Mrs. Clayton is interested in food—and gardens—and books—and nature—and people. But it was food we set out to discuss. Here are a couple of suggestions she brought us from New England.

Chocolate Peppermint Pie
By Mrs. N. S. Clayton

Make a graham cracker crust. Bake briefly to set. Make up some plain butter frosting and flavor it with peppermint. This should be a little stiffer than usual.

Spread the frosting over the cracker crust, saving a little for garnishing. Pour chocolate pudding into the frosted shell and garnish with dots of frosting. Rich and yummy.

SPECIAL BAKED APPLES

Pare baking apples halfway down and core. Enlarge top of the hole so that it is cone shaped. Stick cloves in the apple inside this hole; add sugar. Bake until apples are half done. Pour cranberry jelly over apples and finish baking.

Another trick with baked apples is to stuff a thin slice of unpeeled orange in the core cavity and to "pin" a second orange slice to the top with cloves. Sweeten and bake as usual.

'Do It Now' Creed Will Save You Time

By RUTH MILLETT

The best-organized woman I know, the one who seems to do things with the least fuss and bother and worry, claims there is only one trick to being a good manager of time and energy.

"Do each job that has to be done just as soon as it appears that it must be done eventually."

Sticking by that simple rule, she says, keeps her ahead of her work instead of behind it. It also makes life easier in other ways.

She doesn't have time to dread the tasks she dislikes, because she never puts off doing the... So, instead of depressing herself for days with the thought, "I've got to clean closets," or "If I don't wash the windows soon, we aren't going to be able to see out of them," she gets at the job and gets it done.

The other extra dividend she gets from never putting off a job is that when unexpected demands on her time come along, or when she has to meet an emergency, she isn't bogged down by a lot of things she could have done last week or last month—but which finally can be put off no longer.

The woman who passed along her philosophy for making housekeeping as light as possible has kept house for a good many years.

With a large family her load has been heavier than most women carry, but she's managed it not only well but happily—thanks, she says, to sticking firmly by that one rule.

So if you are sitting right now thinking of all the things you have to do and wondering how in the world you'll ever get them done, quit worrying and get at the job that should be done first.

Keep at those nagging jobs until you are caught up—or as caught up as a housewife is ever allowed to get. And then make it a rule never to put off until tomorrow what could have been done last week.

Can't Hide Them

Weight Gain May Help Large Veins

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "I hope you will answer my questions in your column. I am 30 years old, 5 feet tall and weigh 108 pounds. Right under my bust I have fat which looks like a stomach. This makes me appear heavier. What can I do for this and for my other measurements? My bust measures 31 inches, waist 24½ and hips 34.

"Another thing which embarrasses me is the large veins in my hands. These are very large and extend all the way up to my elbows. I am very conscious of how old they make me look. Otherwise I look youthful. I am ashamed of my hands and am always trying to hide them."

A. You are on the light side and could stand a gain of about seven pounds. This might also help the veins a little. Often these appear in thin people. These are usually inherited, but do not let them damage your personality or make you appear awkward because you try to hide your hands.

STRETCHING BEST

Take exercises to increase your bust size and also some for the diaphragm. The best ones are the stretching exercises such as the front bend, but remember that the important part of these exercises is the stretch, not the bend. Lift your rib cage and reach for the ceiling.

Q. "Is there anything you can suggest that will help me to remember to hold my back straight during the day? I am taking exercises but forget and slump when I sit or stand."

Stretching exercises are the best for the diaphragm and to increase your bust size. The important thing is the stretch, not the bend. Lift your rib cage and reach for the ceiling.

A. This is a suggestion from a reader which she says helped her greatly. She had someone stick a 2-inch adhesive tape from shoulder blade to shoulder blade. She said that she found this to be a wonderful reminder.

The only trouble with this is that it would sooner or later become irritating to the skin. However it is a good idea for a starter.

Q. "I have trouble getting to sleep. Can you give me some suggestions?"

A. There are lots of suggestions and I have written a column about this fairly recently. Today I am going to give you one which one of my readers has found most helpful.

She says the word "hemlock" over and over again, and says that it is impossible to think or concentrate on any vexing situation or problem while saying it.

Of course this uses the old idea of repetition. Perhaps some other word would be just as effective but I suspect that the exhalation which the H requires may be an aid. Also this is a soft word.

Leather Apparel Needs Special Cleaning Care

If that leather jacket or coat you take out of the closet for fall wear needs cleaning, here are some tips and some warnings.

Most important thing to remember is that leather cannot be cleaned by ordinary dry cleaning methods good for textiles. The reason is that leather is a "living" product. Methods that have a stamp of approval utilize a process called "fat liquoring," which restores natural oils to the skins. Even the newer leathers, containing additives to make them "dry cleanable," need this treatment.

Leather garments should always be dried at room temperature. Never hang them near radiators, especially when wet. They should be brushed occasionally with a rubber sponge to remove dust.

When hung in closets, do not crush leather garments between others, but allow space for air to circulate freely. Keep leather away from excessive dampness.

Spot cleaning is rarely successful and should be avoided. An ugly ring is almost always the result of amateur spot cleaning, and never try to scrape a spot from leather. Scratching the surface will surely leave a mark that cannot be eradicated.

Leather garments should never be hung in the sun or any other strong light. This dries natural oils and fades colors. Clean frequently to avoid excessive, deep-set soiling from perspiration or face power.

Tell your cleaner what caused the spot, if you know. There are special treatments for specific types of stains. Blood, paint, and ink spots are especially difficult to remove. If your cleaner knows about these, he may be able to get them out.

If your new suede or highly colored garment begins to "crock" — lose its fine surface nap — bring it in for an immediate cleaning. This removes excess nap, while preserving the appearance of the garment as a whole.

Cucumbers Make Good Astringent

Always keep a chilled cucumber close at hand if your eyes get tired from overwork or lack of sleep.

Take a tip from top fashion models; just two pieces of the vegetable peel can change a dim view into a clear-eyed you. Here's all it takes:

Massage area around your eyes gently with petroleum jelly for one minute. This will relax tired muscles and offer a beauty bonus of lubrication for sensitive skin near the eyes.

Peel off two slices of cucumber skin large enough to cover your eyes fully.

Lie down, eyes covered with cucumber peel, legs slightly higher than head.

Five minutes will make a difference; twenty will find you feeling like a new person. It's a combination of the soothing massage and the natural astringent qualities in the cucumber that does it.

Famous fashion models—men and women—use this trick before facing the cameras; many well-known photographers have chilled cucumbers handy for their subjects' use.

Called to Illinois

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Anderson of Cass - Elizabeth Road and Horace Morrill of Garland avenue were called to Rock Island, Ill., by the death of Mrs. Emma Morrill, mother of Mrs. Anderson and Mr. Morrill.

Height With White

Low ceilings will seem higher if painted white. Add to the illusion by painting baseboards the same color as the walls. Too-high ceilings will appear lower if covered with dark paint.

This short evening dress in the new pyramid shape is of antique silk satin with a shantung effect. The wide skirt falls from a demi-sash that attaches to a floating low-cut back. The high waisted bodice features a low slashed neckline.

Steady Dating Is Group Acceptance

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

"Our daughter who just turned 14 has started 'going steady' with an older boy," writes Mrs. F. "We don't particularly like him and feel she's too young for his kind of relationship. Her father wants to send her to boarding school to break it up. Somehow I feel that this would be a mistake. What do you think?"

Generally speaking I think it's as risky to try to organize a child's friendships for him as it is to manage his digestion.

Not that I'm for "steady" dating by young adolescents. I'm not. But we parents ourselves have asked for this distasteful custom.

We are the people who bought the idea that "group adjustment" is the big test of a child's value, aren't we?

Of course we are. Then what happened was that we found our cities and suburbs weren't coming up with "groups" to which Patty and Billy could "adjust." So we started manufacturing them. We sent Patty and Billy to nursery school groups, after-school groups, summer camp groups and any other kind of group we could dig up in the fond expectation that "acceptance" by other children contained the answer to all our problems.

Is it any wonder that children themselves now measure their importance by this acceptance? Or that in early adolescence they should crave "steady" dates as security against group disapproval?

We mustn't blame ourselves for this artificial state of affairs. The days of Tom Sawyer-Huck Finn friendships are over. We'd have had to be marvels of stability to resist the temptation to create synthetic friendships for Patty and Billy in a world that feeds them processed food, substitutes TV viewing for climbing haystacks and offers chlorinated pools in place of the old swimming hole.

Now the thing we've got to remember is that friendships made for security pourposes are not lasting.

For children still grow, despite our mistakes. As Mrs. F.'s daughter becomes assured of her desirability, she'll begin to lose her need of "group acceptance" and the boy who gets it for her. If we interfere, we may delay this development. Having fallen for this "acceptance" business, we can't now walk out on its consequences.

'Coat' Pin to Accent 'New Look'

Jewelry has come "out in the open" in a most literal sense this season, a fashion institute reports, and for the first time in several decades is being used to accessorize fall and winter coats and hats.

The key to this sparkling new jewelry trend is found in the revolution that has taken place in coats, the institute points out. The new coats, with their fresh, new lines, high waistlines, huge, untrimmed collars, bright colors and unusual textures are true costume pieces.

The fashion "look" of these new coats seems quite naturally to call for jewelry, says the institute, which reports that this jeweled coat look first turned up in Paris durin the recent showings.

Big, bulky, beautiful pins are worn on the lovely, huge collars or smaller pins are worn, seveal at a time, in a scattered touch across the collar. "Coat" pins have new depth and dimension, some rising as high as two inches from their base. Others feature special metallic textures to complement the deep, rich piles of the new coats.

Thus today's woman wears her fall and winter coat as a real costume piece and has come to accessorize it with jewelry as carefully as she accessorizes her dresses.

Virus Growth Self-Limiting

Fast Multiplying Leads to Overcrowding, Cuts Down Potency

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Writer

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Some viruses have a built-in handicap which causes them to crowd themselves to death, says a Rockefeller Institute researcher.

When they invade a cell and multiply in great numbers, only a scattered few of them retain the power to multiply and perpetuate the disease they have started, he said. This probably explains, he added, why humans and animals seldom die of virus disease alone.

The self-limiting feature of virus growth was reported in a paper before the National Academy of Sciences Thursday by Frank L. Horsfall Jr.

Dr. Horsfall reported on tests with two types of human influenza virus, a swine influenza virus and the viruses of mumps and fowl plague. He planted these viruses in living chick embryos and measured their growth.

When only one or two viruses were injected into an egg cell, they multiplied into large numbers quickly and a high percentage of them were infective. But when more than two viruses were injected at the start, the number of their progeny still was large—up to 1,000 viruses per cell—but the great majority of them were unable to multiply further and keep the disease process going, Dr. Horsfall said.

Dr. Horsfall did not know why the majority of the viruses become impotent but said he suspects that when they occur in great numbers some of them fall to pick up sufficient nucleic acids from the wreckage of the cells they have invaded and then die because they are misfits.

Last Body Dug From Coal Mine

Final Disaster Count in Nova Scotia Stands at 74 Dead

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (AP)—Two weeks of digging for dead and survivors has ended in the wrecked Cumberland No. 2 coal mine.

The last body was removed Thursday night from the mine in which 74 men lost their lives. Of the 174 trapped by the Oct. 23 upheaval, which shook up the workings and closed many passages, 100 were saved. Twelve men were rescued after 6½ days underground, and another seven were saved two days later.

Sixteen of the 19 "miracle' survivors are leaving by plane Nov. 18 for a free vacation in Georgia as guests of Gov. Marvin Griffin. The other three are still recovering.

A royal commission will investigate the disaster. Upheavals, or humps, have occurred before in the area, and the mining company has announced it will not reopen the colliery. Springhill's other mine, Cumberland No. 4 was closed two years ago after an explosion killed 39 miners.

About 900 miners were employed at No. 2. Mining is the major industry in the town of 7,000. The Nova Scotia ministers of mines and labor planned to discuss the town's rehabilitation today.

Meanwhile, the miners and their families are being helped by a national disaster fund which has passed the $700,000 mark.

Mexico Completes 1st Accurate Map

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The maps of Mexico confuse most tourists. The government has come up with one which in time may keep 'em rolling in the right direction.

The country's first "technically complete" map will be used at first by the various ministries. Later it may serve as a basis for a general map.

The map, based on aerial surveys and photographs, shows every town with over 500 population, the major highways, lakes, rivers, forests, lowlands, ranches and farms.

Current maps are contradictory and confusing. Distances differ, names of towns vary, highways shown as incomplete may be beautiully paved or vice versa, and terrain is sometimes up when it should be down.

One traveler on a recent trip carried six maps, all different.

A murder charge was dropped after the prosecution said it could not prove premeditation.

Bob Considine Says:

3 Soviet Intourist Officials See New York

NEW YORK — Comrades Alexei E. Erokhin, Leonid P. Khodorkov and V. M. Spiridonov, Intourist officials, are in New York these days sampling such capitalistic wonders as the food at "21," the native vodka, the Broadway theater and the question of Americans visiting the Soviet Union.

In the order named, the three young English-speaking Russians liked the "21" grub (they were introduced to the scrambled hamburger, which is a regular hamburger hit on the head with a mallet), didn't like our vodka, had tickets to "My Fair Lady" ("in Russia we know that story; we call it "Pygmalion," Erokhin revealed) and felt optimistic about attracting more U. S. travelers.

There were about 500,000 tourists in the U.S.S.R. this year, reported Spiridonov, the representative of Intourist in the U.S.

Of this half-million, the vast majority was from Scandinavian and satellite countries. Some 5,000 Americans made the trip. There are now hotel accommodations for 10 times that number, said Erokhin, who is vice president of the board of directors of Intourist.

Only a few hundred Russians reached the U.S. as visitors this past year, he said, and his explanation was that economic factors were involved. "The Russian husband and wife does not have the money for such a great trip," Erokhin said, but he hoped that as time goes on there would be much more travel back and forth.

"Will the American tourist in Russia be held to one drink a day, now that Khrushchev has put a blast on drinking?" we asked.

U. S. MISINTERPRETED

Leonid Khodorkov, who speaks quite good English, laughed and said that no such restriction exists.

"Mr. Khrushchev's statement was misinterpreted here," he said. "There is no Prohibition in Russia.

"He just thinks there should be less drinking and eating at our public functions—our diplomatic receptions. He says one drink on the state should be enough, and don't go from one function to another, picking up a free drink each place. Buy it yourself."

The boys were too busy Tuesday night to watch the U. S. election returns on TV. Something resembling skepticism appeared on their faces when we told them that in some places in the United States—not New York, naturally—some poor men had been elected. The silence that began creeping over what had been a pleasant enough meeting was a familiar one. Soon it would be complete. So the talk swung back to vodka.

"We have many vodka stories in our country," Erokhin said. He turned the floor over to Leonid.

HEARD THIS ONE?

"There is this man who comes into a place where vodka is and he drank much," Leonid said, pleased and ready. "He sees another man. 'Robinson,' he said (somehow it was a startling name) 'Robinson, you've changed the color of your hair from blond to brunette. You have made other changes. You are shorter than you were, fatter.'

"'My name is not Robinson,' the man said to the vodka drinker.

"'Ah,' says the vodka drinker, 'so you changed your name, too!'"

There were several other stories when order was restored at the table, including one where the drunk says to a general, "Let me pass." The general must have had a heat on himself. "All right, but one at a time." And "There is an old Russian proverb: If vodka interferes with your work, give up working."

A reporter who had known Leonid in Moscow complimented him not only on getting seats to "My Fair Lady" but seats to the Bolshoi Ballet at a particularly difficult time a few years ago. "You're the George Solitaire of Russia," he said, a reference to the Boardway ticket agent.

"Maybe," Leonid smiled wisely, "but I have never told my chauffeur to run over a photographer." That stumped the beefy capitalist, you can bet.

Bob Kriendler, the distinguished keeper of the inn, came by the table. I said to Erokhin, a complete stranger to Kriendler, "Here is a man who buys cavier in your country not by the pound but the ton."

Erokhin extended his hand, but with a kind of reservation. "Why didn't you buy our canned crab?" he asked. He had been briefed. It was a direct question. U.S.-Russian relations teetered until Comrade Spiridonov commented, "Seventy per cent of our schoolchildren are now learning to speak English."

"What American star is most popular in Russia now?" we asked.

Nancy Williams Comes Home From Hospital

LANSING (UPI) — Nancy Williams, wife of Gov. G. Mennen Williams, came home from the hospital yesterday.

She was taken to the hospital two months ago with a virus infection. As an after effect of the virus infection, she got a rare muscular disease called "Gullian-Barre syndrome, which causes muscle pains and nerve inflammation similar to the effects of polio.

Mrs. Williams will have to continue to rest at home, her doctor said.

Denies Death Confession

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Police said an illiterate 23-year-old man questioned in the slaying of Sandra Washington, 10, confessed the murder Tuesday and then repudiated the admission Wednesday. He was described as a "publicity seeker" by police, who scheduled a lie detector test for him.

Charge Township Official With Embezzling $1,700

ROMEO — William M. Oming, Washington Township treasurer and former Romeo village clerk, is in Macomb County Jail today charged with embezzling at least $1,700 in township tax receipts.

Oming, a 36-year-old bachelor who has been crippled since birth, was arrested by Center Line State Police.

Macomb County Prosecuting Attorney Cecil A. Byers said the township official is charged with embezzling the money given him in checks by four township residents in payment of their 1957 property taxes.

Oming also has failed to explain what happened to $750 he withdrew last summer in unauthorized checks on which he was payee, Bayers said.

The accused official stood mute when arraigned yesterday before Macomb County Justice Francis A. Castellucci in Mount Clemens. Oming was unable to furnish the $2,500 surety bond set by Castellucci.

Oming admitted the shortage of about $700, but denied embezzeling the money, Byers said. He did say, however, that he had been showering gifts on his tall red-headed girl friend, a former Pontiac barmaid, to the tune of about $250 a month.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Attorney Roy W. Rogensues said Oming's explanations "are not consistent." "He obviously diverted monies from one account to another to make them balance," he said.

Oming's salary is $200 a month as township treasurer, and his basic expenses per month for himself and girl friend total $418, according to Rogensues.

Oming has been her sole means of support for the past two years, the former barmaid told him, Rogensues said.

The township treasurer was Romeo village clerk for two years before being defeated for re-election last April. Prior to the election he had been censured by the Romeo Council for failure to adopt bookkeeping procedures recommended by a Detroit auditing firm hired by the village.

The Washington Township Board met in special session and authorized R. Eugene Inwood, township supervisor, to order a complete audit of township books.

Oming makes his home with his mother and sister at 260 E. St. Clair St., Romeo.

'AFFAIRS OF STATE' IN REHEARSAL — Lee O'Connor, as the would-be senator, and Merle Pedicini, as his best friend's niece, discuss the problems of a marriage of convenience that involves them in the Township Players production of "Affairs of State." Toasting the candidate's success in the coming election are William Raynes and Marcia Frazer, who play the Secretary of State and his wife. Directing them is Gerald Cohen (left). The play will be presented Nov. 28 and 29 at West Bloomfield High School.

BARBARA SUE ROCKWELL

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rockwell of 11 S. Holcomb St., Clarkston, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Sue, to Robert E. Bentley, son of Mrs. Oscar Haaland of Charlotte, and the late Stanley Bentley. The wedding date hasn't been set.

Milford Sewer Expansion Halted by State Engineer

MILFORD — With one exception, there will be no additional sewer installations made in the village of Milford until water laboratory testing equipment has been installed and a full-time operator hired at the sewage disposal plant.

This was the ultimatum given the Village Council at a special meeting at the Village Hall last night by Wallace J. Benzie, Michigan State Health Department engineer.

The one exception was for new installations in the Council-approved Fairview Hills No. 3 subdivision on Milford-Highland road.

The state made the exception providing no occupancy permits are issued for homes there until specified plans have been guaranteed.

SEEK VILLAGE MANAGER

No immediate plans for laboratory equipment, which would cost an estimated $2,500, to test sewage disposal has been made.

Council members are in the process of looking for a qualified village manager who might help solve the problem.

It has been necessary for the state to send operators to the Milford plant to make periodic water pollution tests because of the Huron River which flows down to Kensington Metropolitan Park.

Benzie told the Council that although the Milford plant setup is equipped to handle its present load, only continued tests could determine overload capacity.

The notice from the State Health Department to Milford officials stipulating that test equipment be installed and a qualified operator be hired was based on a series of tests made last summer by state chemists.

Milford's rapid population growth was given as the reason for state action.

Bids to Widen M24 Slated

Work no Area Road From Oxford North One of 4 Projects

Widening of M24 along a 5½-mile section from Oxford north to Brauer road in Lapeer County will be one of four state trunkline highway construction projects on which the State Highway Dept. will determine low bidders for the work Nov. 19.

The latest proposed widening of M24 is another leg of the reconstruction and conversion of the road to a dual highway from Pontiac north to Oxford. The Lake Orion to Oxford section was recently completed, as well as the section from Pontiac to Opdyke road.

The existing M24 north of Oxford will be reconstructed, widened and resurfaced to provide the northbound lane of the new divided highway. A new 24-foot pavement will be built for the southbound roadway.

Completion date for the project is Dec. 31 next year.

Another Oakland County project on which the low bidder will be decided in Lansing Nov. 19 is the grading, drainage structures, and surfacing at the intersection of U.S. 10 (Dixie Highway) and Scott Lake road in Waterford Township.

Passes New Heat Ordinance

Waterford Will Control Unit Installation With Examiners, Inspector

A new Waterford Township ordinance, controlling the installation of heating units, was approved at a special meeting yesterday by the township board.

It is now illegal for any person, firm, or corporation to install, alter or service any oil or gas furnaces without a $25 license and permit according to the law.

A five-member board of examiners will be appointed, and a full-time township heating inspector hired to check installations of heating units before an occupancy permit is issued. The law takes effect immediately.

The board of examiners will meet twice a month and will include two representatives of the township government, two from the heating business and one citizen at large who must be a mechanical engineer, under provision of the new law. The board will serve without compensation.

Duties of the board will be to examine the qualifications of license applicants. They will interpret charts, blueprints and heating installation plans.

With the adoption oft he new heating ordinance, Waterford Township contractors may now work in other communities that have adopted the same code published by the National Reciprocal Heating Council.

To Open Medical Center

NORTH BRANCH — The North Branch Medical Center, recently completed on North Branch road, one mile west of the village, will be formally opened for public inspection on Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. Office suites are occupied by Dr. C. Greavu, M. D., and Dr. Lewis Graham, dentist.

Rochester Man Held in Jail to Wait Trial

ROCHESTER — Tom Fink, 22, of 1131 Burgoine St., Rochester, waived examination yesterday in Rochester Justice Court and was bound over to Circuit Court to stand trial on a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile.

Unable to post bond of $1,000 set by Justice Luther C. Green, Fink is being held in the Oakland County Jail.

He is accused of taking a car owned by Claude H. Shepard, 322 Fifth St., Tuesday night while it was parked behind Shepard's tavern.

Fink and a companion, Donald Frank of Lake Orion were arrested early Wednesday morning after a chase by Oxford and Lake Orion village police.

Labor Troubles Kill His Bakery Business

DETROIT (UPI) — A Monroe bakery company president, plagued by labor troubles, was job hunting today — his business of 27 years in bankruptcy court.

Dick Drabbe, 40, told of receiving five threatening telephone calls, including two this week, and of having a beer bottle thrown through a window of his car. He said he sent his children, Jean, and Neal, to Florida to live with relatives because he feared they might be harmed.

"It amounts to being driven out of business," Drabbe said, admittedly bitter.

Drabbe headed Drabbe Bakeries and Candies, with headquarters in Monroe, six departments in Detroit area stores and three in Toledo, Ohio. He filed for bankruptcy in Federal Court, listing $135,000 in assets and $132,000 in liabilities.

Four union locals represented his 78 employes.

Hussein Says He Will Return

Departure of Jordan King Called Vacation, Not Fearful Escape

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jordan's King Hussein has assured Western diplomats he definitely will return to his country after what is billed as a brief vacation in Switzerland and other European countries.

Responsible officials made this known today to scotch rumors that Hussein is actually fleeing Jordan to escape a pro-Egyptian uprising which the rumors say is due to explode in the next few weeks.

These authorities said there is no evidence any such revolt is brewing. Nor is there any sign, they said, that Hussein intends to abdicate his throne while in Europe.

The 23-year-old monarch's mother, brother and daughter already are vacationing in Switzerland. They left Jordan last summer at a time when Hussein's grip on the country appeared shaky in the face of pro-Egyptian demonstration.

Diplomatic officials said Hussein will stop in Italy, Spain and Britain in addition to resting and undergoing a medical checkup in Switzerland.

During the King's absence, Jordan is to be ruled by pro-Western Premier Samir Rifai and a three-man regency council.

Authorities said they anticipate no trouble in Jordan during Hussein's absence. But they stressed that considerable tension exists in the country, fanned by diehard pro-Nasser elements.

On balance, however, Hussein has strengthened his position during the past few weeks, they said, mainly because of vigorous American-British backing for his pro-Western government.

The United States has been pouring financial aid into the nearly bankrupt Jordan treasury at the rate of about 50 million dollars a year.

Holly Student Elected Head of Senior Class

HOLLY — Donald C. Vance, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Vance, 8023 Grange Hall Rd., Holly, has been elected president of the senior class at Tri-State College, Angola, Ind., where he is a student in the Department of Electrical Engineering.

As class president, he heads the nearly 250 students in the December and March graduating classes who will participate in commencement ceremonies on Dec. 18.

Vance is currently serving as president of the Electrical Engineering Society and as secretary of his fraternity, Alpha Sigma Phi. He holds appointment as a student director, one of several honor students selected to aid the Dean of Students in campus activities.

Mrs. Vance, the former Gloria Duke of El Paso, Texas, is an assistant in the office of the treasurer of the college.

Bloomfield Players Pick 'Affairs of State' to Open

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — To open their election year season, the Township Players of West Bloomfield have selected the timely play, "The Affairs of State," a sophisticated comedy by Louis Verneuil, which had a two-year run on Broadway starring Celeste Holm.

The play involves a marriage of convenience set against a background of Washington politics during election time.

Rehearsals are under way at West Bloomfield Town Hall under the direction of Gerald Cohen. The play will be presented Nov. 28 and 29 at the auditorium of West Bloomfield High School, Orchard Lake road near Commerce road. Curtain time each evening will be 8:30.

The Players again will demonstrate their zeal and enthusiasm by using a new and unusual set designed by the play's director, according to Betty O'Connor, publicity chairman.

The little theater group, formed in January 1956, is open to new members.

Anyone interested in acting, directing or in the numerous backstage jobs, involving such tasks as make-up, costumes, props, scenery, may call John Onken, chairman.

In addition to their three-act plays presented to the public, the Players conduct a monthly workshop where members with little theatrical experience can test their wings before trying out for a major production.

Pontiac Check From State Biggest in County

City's Tax Receipt Share Is $134,686.15

Pontiac again was tops among the 46 Oakland County incorporated cities and villages, and nearby communities, which will soon receive their checks from the State Highway Dept. as their shares of the third-quarter state gas and weight tax receipts.

Pontiac's check will total $134,686.15.

Berserk Father Slays 2, Self

Shoots Wife, Knocks Down Mother-in-Law; 2 Children Spared

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—A 54-year-old man went berserk early today and killed his wife and mother-in law before taking his own life, police reported.

Louis Morphy, believed to have been a Hollywood stuntman, apparently killed his mother-in-law by pushing her down when she tried to stop him after he had shot his wife.

Dead were Mrs. Kay (Boots) Morphy, 54, her mother, Mrs. Sophia Rosenski, 70, and Morphy.

Morphy's two children, Valerie, 12, and Louis, 5, were in the home at the time of the shooting.

Police said they were called by neighbors who said Valerie ran to their home crying, "Mommy's dead, mommy's dead and my daddy is bleeding."

Police said Morphy's in-laws, Mrs. Rosenski and her husband, Martin, 71, apparently lived at the Morphy home.

Church Youth Unit Plans Auction to Raise Funds

ORTONVILLE — The Methodist Youth Fellowship organization of the Ortonville Methodist Church has set $1,000 as its goal for the building fund of the new educational unit now under construction.

An auction sale is scheduled for 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Trading Post, according to Counselor Roger Shively. The W.S.C.S. will provide refreshments.

Auctioneers are John Wenger and Wilmer Kilbourn with Ernie Burt acting as clerk. New and used merchandise has been solicited from townspeople and businesses by the young people for this event.

Sec. Benson Under Fire

Oppose Cutting Milk Aid

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Milk Producers Assn. opposes any further reduction in federal price supports for milk.

A resolution putting the organization on record was adopted at its 42nd annual meeting yesterday.

Delegates criticized Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who ordered a lowering of the support level early this year and reportedly is considering a further reduction.

The resolution said any further drop in supports would make an already unstable and inequitable dairy farm income situation more perilous.

Glenn Lake of North Branch, MMPA president, said the organization's milk volume, although up this year as measured by fluid pounds marketed for members, was down dollarwise from 1957.

Members this year received $93,727,000 for 2,223,047,135 pounds of milk compared with $97,235,654 for 2,161,970,044 last year.

Lake said there were a lot of empty barns on dairy farms in the state as total milk income per farmer has gone down hill.

He said MMPA membership had declined from more than 17,000 to under 15,000.

Man Run Over, Killed by Own Car in Owosso

OWOSSO (AP) — Andrew F. Smith, 83, and almost blind, was run over and killed by his own car yesterday. The car, parked in Smith's driveway, rolled down an incline and ran over him. He was enroute from his barn to his house.

A 13-year-old granddaughter, Linda Smith, tried unsuccessfully to push him out of the way. She was walking with him when she looked up and saw the driverless car rolling forward toward them.

Fatal Words—'Let's Save It'

Junk Piles Up for 20 Years

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

"Let's save it—it might be valuable someday."

They seem like harmless words, but don't let that fool you. We've been saying them in my family for the last 20 years—ever since we bought that big house in the country and acquired an acre of attic space.

So everything not in immediate use went into the attic — the fancy dress costumes from old masquerades, the broken toys, the outgrown baby clothes, the antique chair with the broken arm, and all the old furniture that migrant friends asked us to store.

Came then the day of reckoning. The house was sold. We were faced with the problem of reducing 14 rooms of furniture, bric-a-brac and the residue of years into what would fit into a moving van and then into six rooms.

The forgetful friends suddenly remembered their priceless heirlooms in the attic. They sent itemized lists and closed by saying: "Just pack them up and send them to us here. And be sure you don't break anything."

After a week of frantic labor and the continuous services of three junkmen and three trucks, we're finally digging out from under all these carefully saved castoffs of the years.

I'm writing my column at one desk, up to my knees in discarded wastepaper. My husband is cleaning out the drawers of his desk. He asks:

"Should we save this 1953 baseball schedule?"

Williams Lauds Gains by Dems

Points to Increase of Power in State Since 1948 Start

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams, elected to round out a dozen years in office, has issued a nose count of the gains made by the Democrat party since he first took over at the state capitol.

It was in the form of a letter congratulating Neil Staebler, state party chairman, all candidates and all party workers.

"For the first time in history," he said, "Democrats have won all top state offices and both Michigan seats in the U. S. Senate.

"The election demonstrates very clearly that the Democratic strength among voters is solid and unshakeable."

Williams said the contrast between the situation today and of the party in 1948, when he first took office, "makes the scope of this victory really clear."

Ten years ago, he said, Democrats had:

Neither U. S. Senate seat, only three of 17 congressmen, four out of 32 state senators, five out of 100 representatives, no members of the administrative board, no members of any of the higher education boards and only two out of eight state Supreme Court judges.

As a result of the election he listed:

Two U. S. Senators, seven out of 18 congressmen, 12 of 34 state senators, 55 of 110 members of the House, all eight members of the administrative board, four out of six members of the Board of Agriculture, four out of eight regents of the University of Michigan, one out of three seats on the Board of Education and five Supreme Court judges.

Kennedy Asks Court to Throw Out Suit

DETROIT (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy has asked U.S. District Court to throw out suits totaling five million dollars filed against him by William E. Bufalino, president of Teamsters Local 985, and the union.

Kennedy is chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee.

Kennedy's attorney, Selden S. Dickinson of Detroit, contended Kennedy never was a resident of Michigan and the only service of papers on him was made in Boston last month. Therefore, Dickinson contended, the court here has no jurisdiction.

Judge Clifford O'Sullivan set a hearing on the motion for Nov. 17.

Bufalino filed suit in September, asking two million dollars damages for himself and two million for the union. He charged Kennedy with making a "vicious, calculated, unfounded and calloused attack" on his personal and professional reputation.

Later he filed supplemental complaints asking an additional half-million dollars for himself and an additional half-million for the union.

LANSING (UPI) — Douglas Kelley, 29, administrative assistant to the lieutenant governor, Monday will take over as an assistant professor at Michigan State University, helping set up a new statewide program on adult education in world affairs.

By U. of M. Researchers

Rheumatism Studied

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A disease older than the beginning of man is occupying the attention of researchers at the University of Michigan—osteorathritis.

It's also known to sufferers as chronic rheumatism, lumbago or just plain creaky joints.

Dr. Charles W. Denko, one of the researchers at the University Medical Center, said the disease leaves an indelible trademark on the skeletons of men and animals who have had it—and this includes pre-historic dinosaurs of 200,000,000 years ago.

"Today it's especially prevalent in dachshunds," he said.

The disease—which takes the form of a hard overgrowth of cartilage and bone at knee, hip or spine joints—was first known to have bothered humans about 500,000 years ago. It also has been noted in Egyptian mummies and in the remains of pre-historic American Indians.

Dr. Denko said research has shown the most prominent feature of the disease is pain and aching which begin with motion and are relieved by rest. He added:

"The disease is annoying but not serious. Except for cases involving hip joints, little crippling or incapacity results and joint function remains adequate."

Investigation is being concentrated on variations in the blood supply to the joints and the effects of age, weight and weather on victims.

May Try for Governor Next

Chicago Mayor Emerges as Top Big City Boss

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley has emerged as the apparent top big city political boss in the nation and headed for a possible try for the governorship in 1960.

As head of the nation's second largest city and chieftain of the Illinois Democratic Party, Daley's political future could also include a bid for the party's vice presidential nomination two years hence.

Two other top big city political leaders, New York's Carmine Desapio and Pittsburgh's David Lawrence, suffered setbacks in Tuesday's election, but Daley came out of the fray stronger than ever.

In Pennsylvania, Lawrence was successful in his race for the governorship, but his running mate for the U.S. Senate, George M. Leader, was defeated.

In New York, both of Desapio's handpicked candidates, Gov. Averell Harriman and New York District Attorney Frank S. Hogan, for the U. S. Senate, were soundly beaten, trimming his influence in party circles.

Daley's organization, on the other hand, functioned smoothly in taking control of the Illinois congressional delegation from the Republicans, putting the first Democratic officeholder in the statehouse in 10 years and capturing control of the Illinois house of representatives.

Daley's first job will be to win reelection next April, and he is expected to do so handily. The portly mayor, who doubles as Cook County Democratic chairman, survived an intra-party battle and opposition by three of Chicago's four newspapers to win over a strong Republican candidate in 1955 and he has been busy strengthening his hand ever since.

Daley will control the powerful Illinois Democratic delegation in the 1960 Democratic National Convention and may well use his influence to plump for his old friend, Adlai Stevenson, for a third try at the presidential nomination.

There also has been talk of Daley as a vice presidential candidate, but he has not openly encouraged such speculation and, at the moment, his chances of gaining the nomination appear slim.

Williams Has Doubts of Special Session

LANSING (UPI) — There will not be a special session of the legislature unless there is an "overwhelming emergency," Gov. G. Mennen Williams said today.

Williams indicated pleas for a special session on problems of education and mental health would not be met with "great enthusiasm" by a legislature that will convene in January anyway.

Williams said a review of requests for a special session will be one of the first things he will tackle now that the election campaign is over. He indicated there would be meetings soon of his committee on Michigan's economic future and of his science advisory board.

The first atomic explosion in history occurred in Tularosa Basin in New Mexico on July 15, 1945.

Who Wanted Beer?

Poisons Killed Geese

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. — An estimated 2,500 geese were killed early this year in the Klamath Basin of California and Oregon by poison grain scattered by farmers to combat unusual numbers of mice. The dead birds, part of a migratory flock, were found at Tule Lake National Refuge, White Lake, Lost River, and other points.

Yale Scholarship Meant as Parody Gets Gift of Cash

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — A fanciful scholarship at Yale providing funds for "any student who shall possess an elephant of good character and unquestioned need, with qualities of leadership, outstanding ability and promise of future usefulness" has received an unexpected endowment.

The endowment came from a vested interest group of Darien, Conn., mothers whose children have come into possession of an elephant. The elephant, named Shakuntula, was a gift from the children of Mercara, India.

Mrs. Joel Brooke of Darien wrote Yale that she had heard of the F. Wells Hodges Scholarship Fund. She was told that the fund had been dreamed up but not endowed as a parody on several legitimate scholarships.

Thereupon, Mrs. Brooke passed the hat and came up with an English shilling, an Indian piece, a New York subway token, five green stamps and $2.68 in American currency.

Earl Learns Business of Song Writing – Fast

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Irving Berlin's a pretty good song-writer, too . . . and as for Rodgers and Hammerstein . . . well, some people like them.

WILSON

But I'm going to be everybody's favorite composer, sort of an international idol, the pet of three continents, a talented Cole Porter, as soon as my first song gets moving. To out it pithily, I'll be Tin Pan Alley's "latest Cinderella."

"First thing you gotta do is cut a demo," they told me at Brighton Music after my son Slugger, Leonard Whitcup and I dashed off a sure-fire ballad with a beat titled, "It Happened Last Night."

"A demo," they patiently added, "is a demonstration record."

Of all the crazy businesses! You don't mail in sheet music. You bring your demo record to the record companies. They give it a listen. It it's any good, they ask an artist to "make a master" with a full orchestra.

Inasmuch as millions of people are trying to write songs today and mostly doing it wrong, I thought I would try to show how they do it in Tin Pan Alley—how much work is done by experts to get a song recorded and to start it "making noise."

So one recent afternoon I went nervously to the Dick Charles Recording Studios on 7th Av. and tremblingly shook hands with Jerry Wayne who was going to sing the demo——the Jerry Wayne of the London "Guys and Dolls."

"My son likes your song very much," he said.

"So d-oes m-my s-s-on," I stuttered. "He helped write it."

"Well, let's put one down!" yeled Dick Charles from the control booth. They were off—Jerry singing, Gloria Shayne pianoing, Eddie O'Connor guitaring, Irv Rothman drumming. It was flawlessly beautiful if I do say so myself and it looks like I've got to.

"You're playing it too pretty," somebody said. "It should be more rock 'n' roll."

"That's right—a little more beat, you cats," I said, as I had learned the business very fast.

These pros perspired for half an hour making little changes and then—wondrous moment—a girl typed my name on the label of a demo.

I played it maybe a dozen times. A porter looked in and said, "Hey, that's cool, man. I dig that. What is it?"

"Merely the next two-million record," I replied.

"Who's kidding?" I retorted. I wonder what the royalties would be on 2,000,000 records. If they give you a gold record for 1,000,000, what do you get for 2,000,000—platinum or diamonds? And then I wrote—

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Frank Sinatra's dates here included Louise O'Brien, the singer, and Nan Whitney, the model . . . Joe E. Lewis bet $5,000 on Harriman . . . Starlet June Blair's ready to wed but Lindsay Crosby isn't . . . Lady Docker got stares at the Forum restaurant by casually dragging her 9 grand ermine coat on the floor . . . Grace Metalious' publisher complains he hasn't seen any of her new novel yet (despite reports of a movie sale).

LOUISE

EARL'S PEARLS: A man is never so weak as when a pretty girl is telling him how strong he looks.—Ham Park.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Many a child is spoiled because it isn't nice to spank grandparents — L. S. McCandless . . . That's earl, brother.

Parents Who Escaped Hungary Greet 2 Girls at Windsor Airport

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Two young girls clutching dolls ran down an aircraft ramp at Windsor Airport into the arms of parents they had last seen during the freedom fighting in Budapest nearly two years ago.

For Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rezbanyay it was the day they had been longing for ever since they eluded the border patrols and slipped into Austria to escape Russian retribution for their part in the uprising.

Far behind at the Budapest home of their grandmother, they had to leave daughters, Gabrielle, 9, and Katalin, 5.

"Five times the government refused to let them out," said Rezbanyay, who is continuing his engineering studies at Assumption University. "We got in touch with a Hungarian politician and he helped to get permission. The sixth time they said 'yes,' and here they are."

The Hungarian government's reluctance to please the wishes of the Rezbanyays is understandable —side-by-side they helped fight Russian tanks in the bullet-whining streets of Budapest.

"We fought hard alright," said Rezbanyay. "But it was too much. My wife went into hiding and I was put in jail. Later I was released and I slipped over the border into Austria.

"But the youngsters had to stay behind. Once the Communists tried to take them into custody.

"But my mother," said Mrs. Rezbanyay, "she was too strong for them. She wouldn't let them go."

Right-to-Work Outlaw Asked

AFL-CIO Demands End of Issue, Overhaul of Taft-Hartley Act

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO today demanded that Congress repeal the federal sanction for state right-to-work laws and give the Taft-Hartley Act a general overhaul.

The federation's Executive Council also said it will press the new Congress to pass "the necessary and needed social welfare legislative improvements for which the voters of America spoke so strongly on Tuesday."

President George Meany said the AFL-CIO will seek high priority for a major revision of the Taft-Hartley Act and "adoption of constructive labor reform legislation."

Meany declined to comment in any detail on the election results but said there will be fewer, at least, of what he called "cynical politicians" in the next Congress.

Meany told a news conference that the large voter turnout Tuesday was partly due to balloting on the right-to-work issue in six states.

Voters in Kansas approved a right-to-work law but the same proposal was defeated in California, Ohio, Colorado, Washington and Idaho.

Kansas joined 18 other states already having right-to-work laws, which ban arrangements that require workers to be union members.

Crowds Watch Tidal Wave Hit Hawaii Beaches

HONOLULU (AP) — Authorities called off a tidal wave alert Thursday night about an hour and a half after a weak wave hit Hawaii beaches. There was no report of major damage.

Foot-high waves hit Oahu and Kauai islands about 7:30 p.m., observers said.

The Coast and Geodetic Survey alerted the islanders three hours after a heavy earthquake rocked northern Japan and after unusual wave action reports came from Wake Island, about 1,000 miles west of here.

British Credit Buying Spree Worries Dealers

LONDON (AP)—Britain's stampede to buy on the cuff has businessmen worried.

Government relaxation of controls on credit buying Oct. 29 started a nationwide rush for washing machines, autos, television sets and similar items.

In just five days, retail auto and household appliance sales rose 30 to 50 per cent.

One of London's biggest auto dealers slashed terms to 5 per cent down, 50 months to pay — a far cry from old restrictions requiring a third to a half down and a maximum of two years to pay it off.

War Babies to Cause Building Boom in 60s

NEW YORK (AP) — Statisticians figure that the crop of war babies of the 1940s will cause a building boom in the '60s.

Statisticians for Allied Chemical's Barrett Division say the army of more than 13,700,000 children will reach the home-buying stage between 1965 and 1970. During that period, builders will be completing more than 1½ million homes a year.

Hollywood Headlines

Carrol Baker and Mate Buy Novel for Screen

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — The manner in which so many newcomers to this industry are looking out for their own future is very intelligent. Take Carroll Baker, for instance, who certainly got off on the wrong foot through no fault of her own with "Baby Doll." Carroll then went into "The Big Country," and is now in "The Miracle" at Warner Bros.

She does a bit of everything —comedy, tragedy, song and dance, and all excellently. My admiration for her is the enterprise that she and her husband, stage director Jack Garffin, are revealing.

They have purchased all rights to a new novel "Miss America," which tells the story of what happens to a beauty contest winner after the contest is over. Carroll and Jack leave for New York soon where Jack will stage the new Sean O'Casey play "Shadow of a Gunman." Once they get that launched, they return here to put "Miss America" into work, probably at Warner Bros.

This I know is true. Frank Sinatra is kicking up his heels about doing "Paris by Night," in Paris, with Brigitte Bardot. Raoul Levy, who has produced most of her pictures, is here now conferring with Columbia.

If Frankie does the picture he will only spend 10 days at the most on location in France. He is not eager to go to Europe again, so Levy is having conferences with Columbia executives to see what can be done about it.

Much as Sinatra hates to go to Paris, just that much does Bardot hate to come to Hollywood. So how are they going to make a picture with La Belle Bardot in France and La Belle Frankie in Hollywood?

It is very seldom that a man obtains great prominence in this or any other business without making enemies. But Sam Zimbalist, who died suddenly in Rome last Tuesday of a heart attack, was one of them. Sam had the record of many fine films behind him all the way from "Boom Town" to the current "Ben Hur." Yet he was always able to combine both force and kindness. He was never too busy to be courteous, never too preoccupied to be thoughtful of others.

Winthrop Rockefeller, whose brother Nelson just landslided into the governorship of New York, is in town at the Bel Air Hotel.

Although visitors are forbidden to see Jerry Lewis at Mt. Sinai Hospital, Y. Frank Freeman and Cecil B. De Mille, both of whom had bouts with illnesses were able to get in to cheer Jerry.

Rita Hayworth turned cook on the "They Came to Cordura" set and cooked a Spanish dinner.

Next night Richard Conte came up with a spaghetti feed, and not to be outdone, Jack Entratter motored up from Las Vegas and brought some steaks — no, he didn't cook 'em.

They'll Be Sorry

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo. (UPI) — Pemiscot County voters turned down a $250,000 bond issue to build a new jail. Last night, 10 prisoners slipped out of the 63-year-old jail.

Petoskey to Annex Land

PETOSKEY (AP) — City Attorney Howard Campbell says steps have been taken for annexing property along Bear River to extend the Petoskey city limits. The land is to be developed for potential industry, he said.

During the administration of Theodore Roosevelt, the area of national forests was increased from 43 million to 194 million acres.

2 Escape, 2 Die in Rock Slide

Oregon Crew Trapped Clearing Debris From Earlier Downfall

SILETZ, Ore. (AP)—A hillside covered with logs and huge rocks rumbled down Thursday on four men clearing an earlier slide from a mountain logging road.

Two workmen were caught and killed by the slide. Another was buried but dug his way out. The fourth was pelted with rocks but scampered to safety.

The giant slide — 300 feet wide and 800 feet long — buried and killed Harley Norton, 50, and Peter Jacobs, 44, under three feet of mud and debris.

Ronnie Olman, about 30, jumped under his tractor. The tractor was buried, but he dug his way out.

Jim Bergen, about 30, was working when he saw the slide.

"I slapped Jacobs on the shoulder and said 'Let's go — run,'" Bergen said.

Bergen said he, Jacobs and Norton began running along the road.

"I ran 100 yards," he said. "I heard a big roar behind me. And then I was pelted with small rocks. When I looked back I was the only one there. The slide had just missed me."

Five hours later a crew of men found the bodies of Jacobs and Norton.

Rocket-powered sleds mounted on tracks and weighing seven tons are capable of going up to 1,700 miles an hour. The sleds are used to test the reaction of humans, aircraft and missile parts to sudden acceleration, deceleration and wind blast.

Shutouts Mark Weekly Action for PTTA Loop

Four of five matches for Pontiac Table Tennis Association, last night, wound up as shutouts, all by the same count of 6-0. The 4-2 win for L. H. Cole over Arnold Signs spoiled a clean sweep.

Highlighted encounter of the night, however, was the victory for Lila Kitchen over Bonnie Fuchs in the singles division for women. Lila won the first game 21-19, then Bonnie reversed the score, but couldn't stave off Lila in the final game, that went to 22-20.

Thursday's winners were: Nutrilite over Huron Cleaners; Newberry over Pankeys Hanger; Capitol Barbers defeated Dorris & Son; A & W over Poole Hardware and Cole over Arnold (4-2).

Troubled Minor Loops Face Many Problems

MEMPHIS (AP) — Baseball's troubled minor leagues were right back where they started today after a two-day realignment conference that went down swinging.

The radical realignment proposals fathered by Bill DeWitt of St. Louis, baseball coordinator and administrator of a half million dollar emergency fund, never got to first base.

The first step—a deal involving the AAA American Assn. and the AA Texas League—fizzled. That blocked everything else in the proposed chain reaction shuffle.

The only thing the two-day session produced was the transfer of the American Assn.'s Wichita franchise to Louisville, Ky. That bookkeeping shift left the American Assn. a little better off, but not much.

The Wichita franchise replaced an American franchise at Louisville, where the Colonels were giving up the struggle. It left the Association with only seven clubs instead of the normal eight.

In an effort to complete its lineup, the American Assn. scrambled the realignment conference with a new proposal: It offered to buy the Fort Worth club of the Texas League.

The TL said it could only agree to the original proposal—that the Association take over Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth and pay a total of $120,000 damages.

Dick Butler, president of the Texas League, said he didn't consider the American Assn. offer a realignment move.

"It would help them but nobody else," he said. "We came here for realignment. We wanted to cooperate. Sure, we wanted to help ourselves, but we were looking out for the benefit of all leagues concerned, too."

The snagged deal apparently ended—for the time being, at least — all hopes of solving some of the problems facing several minor leagues.

The American Assn. had hoped to acquire a healthy eighth member. The Texans had hoped to ease its money troubles by selling three clubs, then rebuilding by adding three clubs from the suffering Western League.

The class A Western has a bare treasury and, worse yet, no hope of acquiring working agreements with major league clubs that would provide higher caliber players. The loop is expected to fold.

Coleman Nearing WMU Point Mark

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — Lovell Coleman is in sprinting distance of two Mid-American conference records but the Western Michigan back will have to wait another week to do anything about them.

Western hosts Western Reserve of the Presidents Athletic Conference tomorrow in an attempt to reach the .500 mark. The Broncos have a 3-4 record. Reserve is 3-2 against lighter opposition.

Coleman is only four points off the scoring record held by Tirrel Burton who marked up 54 points for Miami in 1955 and he's 111 yards away from the 600-yard rushing record established by Kent State's Lou Mariano in 1954.

1959 Game, Fish Tags Going Out to Dealers

LANSING (AP) — Some 1,500,000 1959 Michigan fishing licenses and fish law digests will be mailed out to the state's 4,200 dealers this month, the state conservation department said today.

The 1959 license can be purchased after Dec. 1. This year's licenses expire Dec. 31.

The department said a change in the format of the fish law digest will eliminate the trout lake supplement which accompanied last year's edition.

DETROIT (UPI) — University of Detroit freshman Frank Marano scored the two quickest touchdowns of his career yesterday while the Titan frosh whipped Central Michigan's junior varsity, 34-6.

The Titans built a 28-0 lead before the Chips' Paul Weber connected with Bill Dixon on an 85-yard pass play but Harry Herman sprinted 85 yards with an intercepted pass to get it back for Detroit.

Big 10 Cellar in View With Loss

MSU Attempts to End Skid

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI) — Michigan State's skidding Spartans returned to the favorite's seat for tomorrow's game with "new" Indiana, a must game if MSU is to escape the Big Ten cellar.

Six weeks ago the Hoosier game would have been thought of as an easy victory for State but the Spartans go into the game winless in four conference starts and losers of their last three games.

Even Indiana, a second division team since Bo McMillan left, has one conference victory and a 3-3 overall record to MSU's 2-3-1.

"They're a charged-up outfit," Spartan scout Bill Yeoman said. "They've got good personnel and there's no telling what they'll do now that they beat Minnesota."

Exchanging the compliment, Hoosier coach Phil Dickens said "Minnesota had no speed advantage over us but against Michigan State it's a different story. We're giving away speed again."

While MSU is favored, there's no belief the Spartans will rack up a score like the 53-6 and 54-0 victories of the past two seasons. MSU has won eight straight from Indiana, the last Hoosier victory coming in 1940.

Dickens said he would keep Ted Smith, a 164-pound senior, at tailback and use Tom MacDonald on defense. Smith joined with fullback Vic Jones in the 88-yard march that gave Indiana its 6-0 victory over Minnesota.

Duffy Daugherty made two changes in the Spartan starting unit, restoring Mike Panitch to quarterback and promoting Larry Cundiff to tackle in place of sophomore George Perles who is sidelined by a knee injury that required an operation. It will be the first start for Cundiff, a 6-foot, 2-inch, 236-pound junior from Honolulu.

At the present, Michigan State's 0-3-1 conference record puts the Spartans in ninth place, a half-step ahead of Minnesota which is 0-4 and has to face Iowa tomorrow followed by the Spartans and Wisconsin.

The schedule is in MSU's favor but regardless of whether State wins tomorrow and in its final conference game next week at Minnesota, the Spartans still will finish with their second poorest season since entering the Big Ten.

And a member of the "poorest" squad is on the Hoosier coaching staff — Jerry Planutis who was a junior fullback when Daugherty's 1954 club won only one conference game and that was over Inidana.

Planutis has been Dickens' scout at MSU games and with his Spartan background, he should know every MSU play. The only thing the Hoosiers have to do now is to know when they're coming up and stop them.

McLean Will Not Drop Axe Until After Sunday Game With Bears

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The ax hanging over the heads of some of the Green Bay Packers probably will remain in the air until Sunday when the National Football League club shows what it can do in the return engagement with the Chicago Bears.

Coach Scooter McLean hit the roof earlier this week when he led the criticism of his club, handed the worst licking in its 40-year history when smashed by the Baltimore Colts 56-0 last Sunday. It was the fourth beating for the Packers who have won once and played a tie.

McLean refused to add comment last night except to say he hasn't changed his mind about eliminating "bad roots." He brought up the root situation Monday, indicating 6 or 7 veterans might get the sack. He refused to name the roots that might be hacked off.

He did say, "new rules have been established," and added:

"The players know what the results will be if they don't abide by them. That's all I have to say."

He refused to say whether the squad has looked any better in drills this week. He also said the responsibility for the club's showing was his and that there was no blame due the club's 47-member board of directors or 12-man executive committee, the policy making unit.

WAIT FOR COLTS — After handing the Cleveland Browns their first loss of the pro season last week, the New York Giants now try to live up to their "Giant" nickname by doing the same to the unbeaten Baltimore Colts this Sunday and these are the defensive linemen who could do it. Left to right are end Andy Robustelli (230), tackle Roosevelt Grier (270), middle guard Sam Huff (230), tackle Dick Modzelewski (260) and end Jim Kateavage (230).

'Remember 1957' Is Cleveland Theme

Browns Await Lions

The Detroit Lions have always been a thorn in the side of the Cleveland Browns.

Going into Sunday's game at Municipal Stadium the Browns have never won a regular season contest from the Lions. In four championship games the Browns were victorious only once, in 1954.

And who can forget that 54-14 pasting the Lions handed the Browns in last year's National Football League championship game? Certainly not the Browns.

On the wall of the Cleveland dressing room at the League Park practice field is a clipping describing the Lions' runaway championship victory. Specially marked is a paragraph quoting Joe Schmidt, Lions linebacker and captain, which says:

"Cleveland isn't a hard team any more. They're not as tough as they used to be when they had Otto Graham and some of those guys."

"They don't hit as hard."

But, the Lions must gear their defense to stop the powerful Jim Brown, and they are also faced with the possibility of being "burned" by the lightning-like bursts of either Bob Mitchell or diminutive Leroy Bolden.

Mitchell has a better per-attempt average than Brown, 7.3, and ranks second in the NFL with 479 yards on 66 tries.

The Lions will have to come up with one of their better all-around performances to halt the stampeding Browns, who currecently boast a record of five victories and one loss. A solid team performance, such as one turned in against the Los Angeles Rams on the Coast, could bring the Lions the second victory of the 1958 campaign. Detroit gained 152 on the ground and 170 passing, and at the same time intercepted seven enemy passes, in gaining a 41-24 decision over the Rams.

The Lions' passing game fell down to only 41 net yards against the San Francisco 49ers and as a result the West Coast club was able to come away with a last quarter 24-21 decision. Continuing their alert defensive play, the Lions picked off four 49er aerials to bring their total to 11 in the last two games and 15 for the entire season.

The biggest "shot in the arm" that the Lions' offense could receive would be for the return to 1957 form of fullback John Henry Johnson. Johnson has been troubled by a damaged knee during the early stages of the season but accounted for 53 yards last week and should bolster the ground attack more this week. Last year, Johnson was the league's fourth leading ground gainer with 621 yards. In six games to date, Johnson has been able to contribute only 104.

Cards Welcomed, Then Beat Hosts, 6-3

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—The touring St. Louis Cardinals Thursday received a rousing welcome in this atom-bombed city and then battered the Japan All-Stars, 6-3, to the cheers of 16,000 fans. The crowd included 5,000 American marines and sailors.

Backed by a ten-hit attack, Ernie Broglio pitched all the way against the All-Stars. He limited them to six hits and fanned nine. One of the hits was a two-run homer in the ninth by Shigeo Nagashima, $60,000 bonus baby of the Yomiuri Giants.

The Cards now have a 7-2 record. Despite this advantage, the American major leaguers have been out-homered by the All-Stars, 8 to 5.

Maxwell Fires Record 64

ATLANTA (AP) — Texan Billy Maxwell hoped to keep rolling in those putts today as he began the third round of the $25,000 Atlanta Open golf tournament with a two stroke lead.

The stocky 29-year-old professional from Odessa moved out in front yesterday with an amazing eight-under-par 64 over the 7,004-yard par 72 Cherokee Country Club course. He chopped three strokes off the course record.

Maxwell carded eight birdies, four of them in a row. He had 26 putts, 14 on the front nine and 12 on the back side. The 64 and an opening round 72 gave him a 36 hole total of 136.

Bill Collins, a long-hitting pro from Baltimore who shared the first round lead with Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., and J.C. Goosie of Knoxville, Tenn., at 68, hung on gamely with a 70 for a two round total of 138.

Harbert and Goosie weren't so fortunate and slipped to five-over-par 77s for 145 totals.

Four strokes off Maxwell's blistering pace with a 140 was Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., seventh ranked PGA money winner for the year. He had a solid 66 to go with a first round 74.

The field was cut at the end of the round to include players who shot 152 and better and ties and the 10 amateurs. There will be no action Saturday to avoid conflict with the Georgia Tech-Clemson football game. Finals will be played Sunday.

Expect 58,000 to Watch 44th Game in Series

Illinois Takes Role of Favorite Against Wolverines

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Illinois and Michigan meet tomorrow in the 44th struggle of a time-honored series that once claimed the national spotlight.

Only about 58,000 fans are expected to attend their Big Ten game, leaving massive Michigan Stadium almost half empty.

It's a battle between two conference also-rans. The former grid giants are buried in the second division, both suffering through poor seasons. These factors, and because the game is being regionally televised (NBC) throughout the midwest, have caused the scant attention.

If no more than 58,000 attend, it'll be the smallest crowd for an Illinois game in Michigan Stadium since 1944.

The injury-plagued Illini are favored by three points, a tribute to the comparative score system of judging rivals.

Minnesota and Michigan State have been common foes.

Illinois beat the Gophers 20-8 and the Spartans 16-0. Michigan defeated Minnesota 20-19 and tied Michigan State 12-12.

Ray Eliot's fifth-place Illini will be laboring without several first stringers who were injured in last week's 31-8 loss to Purdue.

Sixth-place Michigan is much closer to top strength. Only end Walt Johnson is troubled. But he should start despite an injured knee.

Easterbrook will be giving away 57 pounds to Bob Ptacek his Wolverine quarterbacking counterpart.

The series, which shot Red Grange into the limelight in 1924, has been dotted by upsets, most of them by Illinois. The Illinois upended the favored Wolverines 20-19 last year. But the most memorable upset occurred in 1955 when Michigan traveled to Champaign, Ill., unbeaten and ranked as the nation's No. 1 team. Illinois, led by Bobby Mitchell, now with the Cleveland Browns, won 25-6.

Michigan holds a 27-16 edge in the series started in 1898. But Illinois has won six of the last eight games. None of the previous 43 meetings has been tied. The Wolverines have a 2-3-1 season record. Illinois is 2-4.

Baylor Hits 26 to Pace Lakers

Minneapolis' 103-101 Win Against Warriors Good for 1st Place

By The Associated Press

The National Basketball Assn. season is just over two weeks old. But already Elgin Baylor, the former college All-America from Seattle, has grabbed a headlock hold on rookie-of-the-year honors.

Baylor scored 26 points last night to lead the Minneapolis Lakers to a 103-101 victory over the Philadelphia Warriors. The triumph gave last season's tail-enders sole possession of first place in the Western Division with a 4-2 record.

Baylor collected 13 of his points in the fourth quarter as the Lakers fought off a closing rush by Philadelphia. The Warriors dropped into the Eastern Division cellar with a 2-3 mark. Dick Garmaker also helped the Lakers with 24 points while Tom Gola had 22 and Joe Graboski and Jack George 20 each for Philadelphia.

Baylor has scored 126 points in six games for a 21.0 average. He is fourth in the individual scoring race, trailing only George Yardley of Detroit 170 points, Bob Pettit of St. Louis 146 and Jack Twyman of Cincinnati, 129.

It's Polar Route or No. U.S. Visit for Johansson

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP) — Swedish heavyweight Ingemar Johansson, the European titleholder, will not go to the United States if he cannot fly the shorter distance over the North Pole, Edwin Ahlquist said today. Ahlquist is a boxing promoter and former manager of Johansson—now his advisor.

"The American sponsors who invited Johansson to visit Seattle have changed the travel plans three times, which is a little too much. Now they want us to go via New York which nearly doubles the travel distance compared with the North Pole route. This is impossible because Johansson will not have time for that. He has his program here in Sweden with exhibition matches which he promised long ago."

Coach Dies Amidst Glee

Title Too Much for Him

NORTON, Va. (AP)—When Norton High won the District 8 football championship Thursday night by defeating Appalachia, 13-8, Norton players were exultant.

They hoisted their new head coach, Bill Fitchko, to their shoulders and carried him to their goal posts.

Back on his feet, Fitchko, 39, shook hands with well-wishers, walked about 10 steps and collapsed. Minutes later, at a Norton Hospital, he was pronounced dead of a heart attack.

Fitchko, a former end and back at the University of Pittsburgh, had just completed his first season as head coach here.

New York Pro Cagers Take Olympia Streak Into Tilt Tonight

DETROIT (UPI) —The Detroit Pistons, after four days off, return to action tonight when they entertain the New York Knickerbockers.

The Pistons, in their second season in Detroit, seem to have finally found a liking for Motor City courts, winning both of their home games. Last year the Pistons did better on the road than they did at home in the first few months of the season and then wound up with a 14-14 home record.

The Knicks have a six-game winning streak going at the Olympia and won seven of eight played in Detroit. Four of the games were played against other teams as part of a doubleheader and the only Knick loss was a two-pointer when Gene Shue sank the winning basket with three seconds to play.

The Pistons host the Boston Celtics Sunday afternoon in the NBA's nationally televised game.

Perhaps the most unique touchdown of the 1958 football season involving Oakland County area high school teams was the one scored by Brighton last week in a Wayne-Oakland League game against Clarenceville at Brighton.

Brighton halfback Sean Lavan performed the novel feat of catching his own kickoff and racing 45 yards for a six-pointer as the Bulldogs romped to a 46-6 victory over Clarenceville.

How did this stunt come about? Lavan kicked off for Brighton and tried an onside boot. The pigskin landed on the Clarenceville 45-yard stripe and bounced high into the air.

Lavan, following his kick, grabbed the ball on the first hop and galloped across the goal line as the startled Clarenceville gridders, caught flat-footed, gave futile pursuit.

That's the most unusual touchdown yours truly has heard about this year. If there have been any other scoring tricks or freak TDs in county aea circles this fall, the prep corner would welcome the information.

ODDS AND ENDS

Undefeated-untied prep teams in the Oakland County area this season are scarcer than hen's teeth. There are only three entering tonight's games.

Inter-Lakes Conference champion Farmington is the lone Oakland team with a perfect record—7 wins, 0 losses—and the Falcons should have no trouble ending a spotless campaign tonight at Clarenceville.

Northville and Lapeer are the two unbeaten-untied county area squads, both with 7-0 marks. Howell and Clarenceville block a flawless slate for the Mustangs while Flint St. Michael and L'Anse Creuse remain on Lapeer's schedule.

Burt Smith, assistant grid coach at Michigan State University, will be the guest speaker at West Bloomfield's annual fall athletic banquet on Wednesday, Dec. 3, in the high school cafeteria at Keego Harbor.

Football and cross country athletes will be honored with grid coach Art Paddy and harrier coach Don Bradford presenting the awards to their respective charges. Banquet tickets must be secured in advance and the deadline for reservations is Nov. 26.

Ferndale's 32-13 win over Hazel Park last Friday was victory No. 100 for Ted Meister as head football coach of the Railsplitters. The first 100 wins are the hardest, Ted.

Gelding Leads at Horse Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Two years ago, a sad-eyed grey gelding without a name was packed into a pen at a suburban horse auction doomed to be killed.

Today, that same horse carries the proud name of Snow Man, a jumping fool and the favorite for the coveted open jumping championship in the National Horse Show.

Snow Man, saved from execution by Harry de Leyer of St. James, N.Y., is tied for first place with First Chance, owned by the Oak Ridge Farm of Pittsford, N.Y. Each has 11 points.

Snow Man is far ahead in the year's work, however, having won seven championships in the past six months. He is leading in the race for the Professional Horsemen's Assn. championship and the American Horse Shows Assn. high score award. These are the year's two premier awards for jumpers.

And Snow Man, who still is sad-eyed, ungainly but as gentle as a puppy, cost de Leyer just $80.

Colavito Selected 'Man of the Year'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Outfielder Rocky Colavito has been selected as the Cleveland Indians' "Man of the Year" by the Cleveland Chapter of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America. He will be honored at the chapter's annual dinner Jan. 19.

Colavito, whose strong finish helped the Tribe win fourth place, barely edged pitcher Cal McLish, who had a 16-8 record for the season. Colavito got eight votes to six for McLish. One writer voted to honor the pair together as men of the year.

Rocky led the Indians in home runs with 41 and runs batted in with 113. His home run production was second only to Mickey Mantle's 42 in the American League race.

Colonels Happy Over Becoming Braves' 'Farm'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—"Absolutely the best thing that has happened to Louisville baseball."

So said Bruce Dudley, former president of the Louisville Colonels, after learning the Milwaukee Braves are moving their Wichita baseball franchise here.

The Colonels' franchise was returned to the American Assn. to expedite the move.

The Braves' decision, announced yesterday, transformed the baseball picture here. It gave Louisville a team which will be supported and managed by Milwaukee. The Colonels had no firm league tie.

Grid Fireworks Start in Big Ten

By The Associated Press

The weekend football activity begins tonight on a paradoxical note with Syracuse up and Miami down.

Syracuse, an eastern independent not picked to do much before the season, meets Boston University in another step up the ladder to a bowl bid. The Orange is ranked 12th in the current Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters on the basis of its 5-1 record, and last week's 16-13 victory over Pitt.

Boston (3-3) has been up and down all year and faces the nation's seventh ranked team in rushing defense and top scoring outfit with 26.7 points per game.

Down south, Miami University, ranked 15th before the season, has won only once in five starts and has scored a meager 31 points. The Hurricanes play a tough Florida State team, with a 6-2 mark.

Alabama, winner of its last two and 3-3 for the season, plays Tulane at New Orleans in a Southeastern Conference game to wind up Friday's major activity.

But tomorrow, the fireworks begin in the Big Ten, while the rest of the conferences are comparatively quiet, with a number of intersectional games occupying the stalwarts.

The top game in the Big Ten pits fourth-ranked Northwestern against Wisconsin (No. 7) on the Badgers' homecoming day. Dick Thornton and Ron Burton, who led the Wildcats to their 21-0 victory over Ohio State last week, will face a Wisconsin defense that has allowed only 6.7 points a game in running up a 4-1-1 record. Northwestern is 5-1.

Iowa conceivably can take all the Big Ten marbles and a spot in the Rose Bowl if it defeats winless Minnesota, if Ohio State loses to Purdue, and Wisconsin beats Northwestern.

Iowa, second-ranked, has a 4-0 conference record and sends the nation's second-ranked team in total offense against a Gopher team that hasn't won in nine games, going back to November, 1957. It is the longest current losing streak among major colleges.

Purdue (No. 8) meets Ohio State's potent offense with a defense ranked second overall, but which is third in rushing and first in pass defense. The Buckeyes, 16th ranked, have ace halfback Don Clark for duty while the Boilermakers' star fullback Bob Jarus is hobbled by a twisted knee.

Top-ranked Louisiana State sends Billy Cannon & Co. against Duke of the Atlantic Coast Conference as the Tigers from the SEC are just three games away from a perfect season. They have a 7-0 record.

Third-ranked Army travels to the southwest for the first time, to meet Rice (No. 13) in the top intersectional game.

The nation's top defensive team, Auburn (No. 5) has an SEC game with Mississippi State, which has lost two in a row but ranks 10th in total defense. Oklahoma (No. 6) has a Big Eight conference date with Iowa State, a team ranked second in total defense. The Sooners go after their 69th straight conference game without a loss.

Ninth-ranked Mississippi plays non-SEC member Houston, but the game is counted in the SEC standings since Ole Miss could not schedule the required minimum of five conference games.

The Air Force Academy (No. 10), with only a tie against five victories, plays Denver (2-5). Texas Christian (No. 11), winner of its last four, plays Marquette in an intersectional tilt, while Notre Dame (No. 14) has an intersectional date with Pitt (4-2-1) in Pittsburgh.

Jim Tatum goes after his 100th victory as a head coach when North Carolina (No. 15) plays Virginia in the day's only ACC game. The Tarheels have won five in a row, while Virginia has lost its last five.

The day's television attractions find Illinois at Michigan in the midwest regional telecast, Nebraska at Kansas in a Big 8 telecast and Stanford at Oregon in the far west regional telecast.

The Pacific Coast Conference also has its leader, Oregon State (5-2) meeting Washington State (4-3) while runnerup California (4-3) faces UCLA (2-5), Cornell (5-1) attempts to remain atop the Ivy League against Brown (3-3), with Princeton meeting Harvard in the first of the Big Three games.

Detroit Hopes to Pull Upset

Pass-Run Combination Needed by Titans at Boston College

BOSTON (UPI) — If Lou Faoro and Bruce Maher can get together tomorrow, the University of Detroit might spring an upset on Boston College.

The Eagles are favored by 13 over the Titans to take their eight victory in the 13-game series.

Faoro and Maher hold the key to the Titans' chances. Maher, who will become Detroit's busiest back since 1945 with two more rushing attempts, is the nation's 11th leading rusher.

Faoro, while not among the country's top passers, is better than the average. But the Titans just haven't been able to put together both phases of their attack for one big afternoon.

In the loss to Villanova, Detroit gained 215 yards rushing but only 43 passing. The next week, while beating Xavier, the Titans passed for 224 yards and gained only 88 on the ground.

The inconsistency has led to Detroit's 3-3-1 record, still best among Michigan's three major colleges, but off last year's pace of six victories and three losses.

Didn't Rap Ewbank on Unitas' Injury

Bell Denies Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post reported Thursday what it called an "oral rebuke" by pro football's commissioner to the admission by Coach Weeb Ewbank of the Baltimore Colts that he wanted to keep quiet the extent of an injury to his star quarterback, John Unitas.

However, Commissioner Bert Bell said in Philadelphia Thursday that he hadn't rapped Ewbank. "I have never criticized Ewbank or the Colts," Bell told a reporter.

Bell added that under league rules a club doesn't have to disclose injuries to players until the Friday before a game. He said that rule is "to protect the public against going to a game to see a star and then being disappointed when the star doesn't play because of an injury known beforehand by the club."

The Post's story, published this morning, said it had reached Bell by telephone and that he had called "ridiculous" a statement by Ewbank of hopes that news wouldn't leak out of the injuries to Unitas.

News did come out Tuesday that Unitas suffered several fractured ribs in the Colts' game last Sunday with the Green Bay Packers. Unitas will be out of action for three or four weeks.

The Post's story also quoted Bell as noting the league rule that injuries must be disclosed by Friday before a Sunday game.

The newspaper said Ewbank said from Baltimore: "We had no intention of not announcing Unitas' injury later in the week. I'm well aware of the league rule. We couldn't or wouldn't want to pull anything about not saying Unitas wouldn't be able to play Sunday.

"But we did hope we could let the Giants work, say Tuesday and Wednesday, thinking they'd have to stop Unitas rather than Shaw."

George Shaw is Baltimore's No. 2 quarterback. The Colts play the New York Giants Sunday.

Chiefs Battle Bay City Tonight

MacLeay Makes a Few Changes in PCH Lineup

BAY CITY — Pontiac Central coach Jesse MacLeay has announced a few changes in his starting offensive lineup for tonight's Saginaw Valley Conference game against undefeated Bay City Central.

Fred Staley, last year's No. 1 quarterback who has missed most of this season with a shoulder injury, will start at the signal-calling post here tonight when the Chiefs take the field in Bay City Stadium for the 8 o'clock kickoff.

Other changes will find Jim Pritchett replacing brother Bill at left end to team up with right end Gerry Andrews, Ronald Jenkie at right tackle in place of Tom Nichols, Isaac Jones at fullback in place of Joe McCauley, and Dick McCauley at left halfback, replacing Bill Ratcliff who has been dropped from the squad for disciplinary reasons.

TROUBLE FOR LAKERS — West Bloomfield, enjoying one of its best seasons in many years, will have to be on guard tonight when it faces Holly. The Holly team could upend the Lakers and halfback Bill Hayes could be one of the troublemakers. Other Holly backs include Dale Coggins, Darrell Kinney and Don Rounds.

PCH Gridders Big Underdogs in Valley Game

'Will to Win' Needed to Topple Wolfpack at Bay City Stadium

By BILL CORNWELL

BAY CITY — Raw courage, all the desire in the world and 48 minutes of football at its best are the requirements here tonight for Pontiac Central High to spring the greatest upset in the school's history.

Even those lofty demands may not be enough to win as the Chiefs lock horns with unbeaten Bay City Central, the defending champion of the Saginaw Valley Conference, at Bay City High School stadium. Game time is 8 o'clock.

It's doubtful that any Pontiac team has ever been such an absolute underdog before a kickoff as the Chiefs are this evening. If ever a PCH grid squad needed moral support and home loyalty, now is the time.

The Chiefs have some talented players of their own like Charlie Brown, guard and linebacker who is a strong candidate for All-State honors, but on paper they are completely outclassed from the standpoint of depth and performance.

They have nothing to match quarterback Jerry Gross, who has thrown 76 passes, completed 44 for a 58 per cent average, 945 yards and 11 touchdowns plus kicking 16 extra points.

Gross booted eight straight conversions for a new school record last Friday as the Wolves crushed Saginaw, 56-0. He is also a skilled runner and has gained 181 yards in 31 attempts on rollouts and options for an average of almost six yards a try.

Pontiac cannot equal the balanced attack of the Wolfpack, which has enabled 14 different gridders to break into the scoring column at least once this season.

The Chiefs have nobody to compete with halfback Butch Kokaly, a 10-second speed demon who has tallied nine touchdowns and two extra points, or fullback George Archer, Bay City's top ground gainer who has scored nine TDs and one PAT.

Bay City's entire backfield is averaging nearly six yards per carry. Besides Kokaly and Archer, the Wolves boast flashy runners such as halfbacks Bob Auman, Dick Asman and Dick Post.

Coach Elmer Engel owns a rangy pair of ends in Bob Bishop and John Young and they, along with Kokaly, have been the favorite targets for Gross and his deadly arm. Bishop is the Wolfpack's 3rd leading scorer this year with seven touchdowns.

Coach Jesse MacLeay's Chiefs enter tonight's contest with four wins and three losses. They conclude their 1958 season one week from tonight against Flint Central at Pontiac's Wisner Stadium.

Troy Bars Path to Oakland B Grid Title

Avondale Reaches Last Roadblock

Avondale's Cinderella football team reaches the last roadblock tonight in its amazing bid for the Oakland B League championship.

The final hurdle is a big one. Troy, the only team with a chance to gain a slice of the crown, collides with the Yellow Jackets this evening in a showdown struggle at Avondale.

Avon is the league's lone undefeated team with a 4-0 record and the Jackets clinched at least a share of the championship last week by coming from behind to defeat Clawson, 14-12.

Clawson's setback eliminated the Trojans from the race, but the Jackets still have to contend with runnerup Troy whose Oakland B record is 3-1. The Colts can become co-champs with Avon by dumping the Jackets.

A co-title is the best that Joe Bechard and his Colts can do, but an outright championship is the sole thought and aim of Frank Crowell and his surprising Jackets.

The Auburn Heights school has been the big football shocker in county prep circles this season. Figured to finish somewhere near the Loop cellar, the Jackets have improved rapidly and now boast an overall 5-2 record.

In pre-season analysis, Crowell himself felt that his squad would be lucky to win two games. But the skilled workmanship of quarterback Dick Smith, the shift of Gary Acker to fullback and the great running of first-year halfback Dennis Shaw have paid handsome dividends.

Another potent factor in Avondale's rise to stardom has been tackle Bill Jennings, a bruising lineman who will be playing against his former teammates tonight after transferring from Troy to Avon this fall.

Also at stake in this evening's Avon-Troy battle will be the Little Brown Jug, held by Troy since its inception two years ago. The two teams fought to a 7-7 tie a year ago when Avon finished in the league basement without a win.

League activity elsewhere on the prep front tonight is relatively quiet. Most conference championships are either already settled or practically in the bag.

Three Wayne-Oakland games and a like number of Southern Thumb contests form the heaviest league action in the county area.

Wayne-Oakland tilts are Clarkston at Bloomfield Hills, Holly at West Bloomfield and Brighton at Milford. Defending champion Northville is idle. The Thumb schedule sends Dryden to champion Almont, Capac to Armada and New Haven to Memphis. Ortonville plays Imlay City in a South Central game at Imlay.

Saturday high school outings in the county area are Rochester at L'Anse Creuse in Tri-County League play, Ferndale at Royal Oak Dondero, Gilmour Academy at Cranbrook and Port Huron at Grosse Pte.

Pontiac Northern Sophs Win, 13-12

Pontiac Northern sophomores finished the season with a weird record of one win, two defeats and three ties, after scoring a 13-12 decision over the Grosse Pointe Jayves, Wednesday evening.

Northern tied the count at 6-6 in the second quarter when Bob Hocking raced 60 yards over tackle, and in the third quarter the Huskies took the lead 13-6 when Larry Bland went three yards and also added the point.

Grosse Pointe missed the try for point after going 50 yards on passes in the final quarter.

Easter KOs Wills

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP)—Luke Easter, squat San Francisco lightweight, exploded a right to the jaw to stop Johny Wills of Oakland last night in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-rounder in Richmond Auditorium. It was Easter's 13th win in 17 fights. Wills now has a 13-2-1 record. Easter weighed 136, Wills 139.

300,000 Set for Deer Season Start Nov. 15

Heavy Hunting Pressure Seen

LANSING (AP) — Hunters by the hundreds of thousands will strike out for Michigan's north woods next week to be ready for an early crack at a deer when the season opens Nov. 15.

Because of the Saturday opening, hunting pressure on the weekend almost certainly will be the heaviest in years.

Of roughly 450,000 hunters expected to buy licenses, well over 300,000 will be on hand opening day.

Before the season ends Nov. 30 in all but Allegan County:

Six or maybe a dozen of them will die of gunshot wounds, more with heart attacks or in traffic accidents.

The average hunter will spend between $75 and $100, counting equipment, for a whopping total probably in excess of 40 million dollars (which figures out to $7 or $8 per pound of edible venison).

Game specialists in the state conservation department foresee a pretty good season, as good as last year when the total kill came to about 80,000. Lack of severe weather in most sections of the state last winter left the deer herd, about 600,000 strong, in good shape generally.

This year for the first time special seasons designed for a fawn and doe harvest will run concurrently with the Nov. 15-30 buck season in all but one "any deer" area. In Allegan County, where deer are a nuisance to farmers, a Dec. 1-10 season is set.

Nearly 56,000 hunters from about 187,000 who applied drew special season permits. It's hoped they'll take about 22,500 does and fawns under the conservation department's long-range program to keep the deer herd and the food supply in balance.

"Any deer" areas in the Lower Peninsula cover about the same acreage as last year. Total in the Upper Peninsula is about three times as much.

"Ideally, we'd like to set up the season so that the kill of antlerless deer would be about equal to the buck kill — perhaps 50,000 of each," said C. S. Whitlock, assistant chief of the conservation department game division.

As it is, the ratio is better than 4 to 1.

The concurrent seasons, he said, were recommended largely because "the hunters like them" and because game men figure they cut down on the number of does and fawns supposedly "shot accidentally" and left to rot in the woods. Hunters with special permits are most likely to salvage such kills.

With auto factories recently returned to full production, the number of plant workers buying licenses may drop somewhat, Whitlock said. This, however, should be offset by the increase expected because of the Saturday opening, he said.

$105,000 Paid for Yearling

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When Stanley Dancer stepped into the standardbred auction ring last night at Harrisburg, Pa., and paid a record $105,000 for a yearling he took one of the biggest gambles in sports history.

A check of the records show that very few high priced yearling trotters, pacers and thoroughbreds ever have performed to expectations.

The $105,000 paid for Dancer Hanover by a six-man syndicate, headed by the New Egypt, N.J. trainer-driver, was the highest ever paid for any yearling horse. Until the son of Adios from the Hanover, Pa., famous consignment was knocked down to Dancer, the record was $87,000 paid by Mrs. M. E. Lunn in 1956 for the runner, Rise N' Shine.

The previous highest priced yearling trotter or pacer was Imperial Hanover, who was knocked down to J. J. McIntyre of Hollins, Va., in 1949 for $72,000.

Connie Mack Leagues Set Dates for Series

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) —The Connie Mack League for 16-, 17- and 18-year-old baseball players will have its first world series next summer under the auspices of the American Amateur Baseball Congress, AABC president C. O. Brown said today.

The series was tentatively scheduled for Aug. 26-30 at a still undetermined midwest site, Brown said. The Connie Mack League has been in operation three years and had 600 teams in 20 states and British Columbia last season.

Believe Private Plane From State Crashed

CADILLAC (UPI) — A private plane carrying two Michigan men is down and believed to have crashed in British Columbia, according to word received here. Flares have been sighted in the vicinity of where the plane was believed to have crashed.

The men aboard the plane were Clarence Janik, vice president of the Kysor Heater Co., of Cadillac, and his pilot, Fred Royce, of Grand Rapids. They had taken off yesterday from Calgary, Alta., for Vancouver, B. C., with a refueling stop due at Kamloop, B. C.

Ray Weigle, president of the company, was notified by Royal Canadian Air Force officials this morning that the plane had not arrived at Damloop for refueling.

MSU Students Angered by Canoe Spying Plan

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Students reacted bitterly today to a move to curb "excessive displays of affection" by couples who canoe up the river winding through the Michigan State University campus.

A statement prepared by the 15-member editorial board of the State News branded "just plain ridiculous" a resolution by the student government which asked students to turn in the canoe numbers of anyone demonstrating "undesirable behavior" along the banks of the Red Cedar.

Ed Scott, a member of the editorial board said an editorial would be published next week.

The student newspaper said the action would prompt "the local gestapo . . . to dispatch a river boat of storm troopers up the Red Cedar."

One student, in a letter to the State News, suggested "a yearly award could be given to the student who discovers the most cases of 'undesirable behavior.'"

The controversial resolution was adopted by a 31-11 vote of the student government Wednesday night.

Dean of Students Tom King said he approved of the resolution.

The attempt to halt excessive displays of affection was just one factor in the resolution," Etheridge said.

"The resolution also was aimed at stopping vandalism along the river. It had several constructive aspects," he said.

SALINA, Kansas (UPI) — What happens to a jet pilot when his oxygen supply fails at 40,000 feet?

His fingernails turn blue, he loses his ability to concentrate and then his coordination. Then he lapses into unconsciousness.

A pilot cut off from his oxygen supply suffers what is called hypoxia, a shortage of oxygen in the cells of body tissue.

Hypoxia is often listed as a possible cause of crashes that are extremely costly to the Air Force — both in lives and in money. For this reason, an elaborate program has been set up to acquaint Strategic Air Command pilots and crewmen with its symptoms.

Schilling's Ninth Physiological Training Flight, commanded by Capt. Milton Bell of Worcester, Mass., takes airmen through a two-day course in the problems of altitude flight—including a simulated trip to 43,000 feet.

Bell and Staff Sgt. Jack Merwin of Kansas City, Mo., equip the class with oxygen masks, pack the 15 students into an altitude chamber and pump out most of the air.

Within half an hour, the ground level chamber might as well be 43,000 feet in the air.

At 40,000 feet, a crewman unhooks the hose from the oxygen mask of a "volunteer," namely me.

FOLLOW AT FIRST

The outstretched hands of the guinea pig (me) followed the first few of Merwin's commands to climb, descend, level off, bank right or left.

My hands stopped obeying after about nine commands. Maj. D. H. Lewis of Bellevue, Neb., another student in the chamber, said a quiver came over my arms and they began to droop. I didn't remember.

The oxygen was restored within a few seconds and once again Merwin's commands were being obeyed.

What did I remember? Only a tingling sensation through the hands, a chill and a dimming of the eyes. It had taken only 24 seconds to lose consciousness.

Meanwhile, several of those in the class were undergoing rapid decompression. Pressure at an elevation of 8,000 feet was simulated in a small cabin while an adjoining space "climbed" to 22,000 feet.

The small cabin suddenly lost its pressure — as if the canopy had suddenly been ripped from a jet fighter cockpit.

The program is a "must" for all SAC crewmen and pilots. They have to take it every three years to keep up their efficiency.

OTHER DANGERS

But hypoxia isn't the only thing that can sneak up on a flyer at a medium or high altitude.

A pilot or crewman "pressure breathing" at 40,000 feet or above regulates his own rate of respiration. When he breathes too fast, he can reduce the amount of carbon dioxide in his lungs and lapse into unconsciousness.

The expansion of body gases can cause severe pain, and rapid compression can cause nitrogen to bubble in the bloodstream, lodge in the joints and inflict a bad case of the "bends."

Fluctuations in pressure can bring about painful sinus or ear blocks.

Bell's unit also teaches how to check and operate oxygen equipment, how to bail out of a moving jet, how to give first aid and how to withstand terrific gravitational pull in severe turns or accelerations.

Fliers encounter many other problems in flight. Bell and company keep them acquainted with various methods for reckoning with them.

U.S. Industry Pays Big Tab

$25 Billion a Year Is Spent for Advertising at Retail Level

NEW YORK (UPI) — American industry is shelling out more than 25 billion dollars at the retail level in an effort to curry the favor of consumers.

Industry sources said the total consists of more than 10 billion dollars for advertising in newspapers and other media and more than 15 billion dollars for packaging of products.

The idea behind all this is to make Joe Smith and his family "brand-conscious."

The competition for your dollar carries right down to the retail counter itself, where companies back up colorfully packaged goods with flash signs designed to serve as that "last reminder."

Because of the trend toward self-service in merchandising, industry has been placing greater emphasis on "point-of purchase" signs. These signs become silent salesmen, reminding customers of brand names and often inducing "impulse buying."

The growing emphasis on point-of-purchase advertising has spawned a billion-dollar business. Oil companies, breweries, soft drink manufacturers, soap companies, auto manufacturers and dairy products producers are among the biggest users of this type of advertising.

Public May Get A&P Shares

18.8 Per Cent of Vote Rights Would Leave Family for 1st Time

NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly a century after its founding, the public may soon have a say in the management of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., more familiarly known as the A & P, the nation's largest supermarket chain.

Under terms of a plan approved by directors of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. (Maryland) yesterday, about 18.8 per cent of the voting stock in one of the last large, privately-held firms in the country will pass into public hands if stockholders give their approval at a Dec. 12 meeting.

Voting privileges then would go outside the Hartford family for the first time since George Huntington Hartford founded the company in a New York tea store in 1859.

Financial circles have talked of such a development ever since the death last fall of George L. Hartford, a cotrustee with his late brother John A. Hartford, after the founder's death in 1917.

Both sons willed their stock to the John A. Hartford Foundation, giving it 40 per cent control. The balance of the present voting stock is held by various descendants and members of the Hartford family.

The foundation and family together own all the stock of the New York Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., which owns all the voting stock of the Maryland corporation.

The common stock opened today at $485, up $40 on a block of 600 shares on the American stock exchange.

The opening was delayed one hour and 16 minutes as traders sought to make a market.

Interest was centered on the stock since directors authorized a 10-for-1 split late yesterday, paving the way for partial public control of the nation's biggest supermarket chain.

Warmer Air Due to Chase Frost Away

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was another frosty morning across wide areas east of the Mississippi River but some warmer weather appeared on the way.

Southerly winds fanned warmer air into the northern and central Plains, the central Rockies and Great Basin region. But it was fairly cool and wet in the Pacific Northwest eastward through the northern Rockies and intermountain regions.

It was a little warmer in the south Atlantic coastal region.

Grain Trading Turns Light

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures prices were steady to slightly higher today in early dealings on the board of trade but other grains and soybeans eased a bit.

Trade was light and dealers said there appeared to be none of the bullish feeling that had given the market its general firmness in yesterday's activity. Since India appears now to have fulfilled its present wheat requirements exports again have come almost to a standstill.

There was only a spotty domestic processor demand.

Near the end of the first hour prices were mostly lower with wheat and corn irregular. Wheat was ⅜ cent a bushel lower to ¼ higher, December $1.94⅛; corn ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, December old type contract $1.12⅝; oats ⅛ to ⅜ lower, December 65¼; rye ⅛ to 1¼ lower, December $1.30¼; and soybeans ⅛ to ½ lower, November $2.13¼.

Wilson Says Reds Past Peak, but Threat

TORONTO (AP)—Former U.S. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson says communism has passed its peak but will remain a grave threat to world peace for some time.

"There is evidence in a number of countries," Wilson said, "that people are beginning to think and that millions and millions of them are coming to realize that international communism is not the path of security, social justice, or happiness for individuals."

"At the same time," he continued, "we dare not follow the precedent that other countries have set in the past of dropping down to a weak military organization between wars. Such a policy, in itself, might precipitate a war and there would be no time to rearm."

"Nor is it the road to independence, prosperity and peace for any nation," he added.

Wilson also told the Empire Club here yesterday that history shows an all-out armaments race between great powers inevitably led to war.

Wilson said the west also must meet the threat of communism in the economic and social-political field or face the prospect of "losing our type of society and freedoms without a military showdown."

Market Mixed in Active Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market turned mixed in active trading early today.

Gains and losses of key stocks were mainly fractional. Some went to about a point.

Initial dealings were heavy. The ticker tape was behind transactions for a five-minute period as some big blocks changed hands. Then trading moderated.

Brokers saw a natural consolidation in progress following a three-session rise to record highs. Business news continued fairly good with rail carloadings above a week ago, but lower than the like period a year ago.

A slightly higher tendency was apparent among steels and motors. Chemicals were moderately lower following a burst of strength yesterday. Utilities, rails, oils, building materials and aircrafts were mixed.

U.S. Gypsum and Westinghouse Electric were about a point higher. Eastman Kodak erased an early loss of a point and Gulf Oil clipped a similar loss to a fraction.

General Telephone was up ⅛ at 55¼ on an opening block of 4,000 shares and Sylvania Electric made a fractional gain following news of a proposed merger.

Smog Has L.A. in Tears

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A pall of smog hung over Los Angeles yesterday and caused the fifth smog alert of the year. Another alert was expected today. The eye-irritating dirty air had been accumulating in the Los Angeles basin for the past several days because of a high pressure system that acted like a lid and prevented air pollutants from rising.

'My God, It's Wonderful'

Learns of Husband's Rescue Off Ice

YPSILANTI (AP)—"My God, it's wonderful," cried Rose Marie Cecil when she learned her husband, Airman 1.C. John M. Cecil and 19 others had been rescued from an ice island on which they were marooned in the Arctic.

"I haven't been in bed since I found out at 2 a.m. yesterday he was in danger and I'm going to stay up and hope he calls me from Thule," she told a newsman.

The 20 were flown to the Air Force base at Thule, Greenland. They had been isolated at the top of the world only 300 miles from the North Pole since an Arctic storm split their floating snow and ice island-base apart Sunday. The group included scientists and airmen making studies for the International Geophysical Year (IGY).

"I'd like to join him when he returns to his station she said, adding: "And if I can get enough money together, I will." Cecil's home station is Ladd Air Force Base, Fairbanks.

Mrs. Cecil said she called her mother-in-law, Mrs. Hazel Cecil, at Martinsburg, W.Va., when she got news of the rescue.

"I guess we cried over the telephone for 20 minutes," she said. "Then I tried to call Thule, but the operator said she would have extreme difficulty in raising the base, so I canceled the call.

"He called me from the iceberg last Monday. A radio operator in New Jersey picked up the IGY station and got me on the phone."

Mrs. Cecil said her husband had been in the Air Force seven years and planned to make it a career. He went with the IGY team to the Arctic because after a stay of six months there he could come home on leave, whereas he would have to remain in Fairbanks 18 months before getting back.

The Cecils, both 25, met when he was stationed in Ypsilanti and were married four years ago. They have a daughter, Debra, 2, and a son, John Jr., 7 months.

Lake Searched for Missing 5

Canadians Disappear as Drilling Rig Turns Over in Erie

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Search resumes today for five Canadians reported missing after a portable drilling rig collapsed in Lake Erie 15 miles north of here.

The U. S. Coast Guard began the search yesterday after a plane sighted what appeared to be the wreckage of the barge-supported drilling rig owned by Underwater Gas Development Corp. of Canada.

J. E. Wolfe, geologist for the Canadian firm which operates several natural gas drilling rigs in the lake, identified the missing men as Jack Goban of Ottawa, geologist; William Marsh Jr. and Leroy Bauwens of Bothwell, Ont., and George Mitchell and Walter Kozlof of Dresden, Ont.

A Coast Guard cutter out of Erie battled 15-foot waves to reach the scene, a spokesman said. The rig which towered 20 feet above the water, apparently capsized during a gale Wednesday night. The lake is 40 feet deep where the rig was drilling.

Two Canadian Air Force planes joined in the hunt for possible survivors. The cutter returned to port late last night to wait for daybreak before continuing.

The rig was reported missing by the American Steamship Sumatra which normally passed the rig on its route.

NEW LINCOLN FOR '59 — Ford Motor Company will introduce the 1959 Lincoln and Continental cars on Nov. 14. The Lincoln (shown above) will have an all welded unitized body. They will be a little shorter than previous models.

Ford Announces Continental, Lincoln Models

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co.'s 1959 Lincoln and Continental cars will be introduced Nov. 14 with styling refinements, redesigned front and rear grilles and more sculptured steel.

Both series are 227.1 inches long, nearly two inches shorter than in 1958. They are 56.7 inches high, 80.1 inches wide. Long, low lines are accentuated by the sculptured steel design extending from the front wheel area into the front door and a chrome spear along the side.

The Lincoln has a wraparound front bumper that protects a new one-piece grille. The rear bumper and lower deck moulding form an oval shape. A textured rear grille houses integrated running and stop lights, at either end.

The Continental will be offered in six models with the addition for 1959 of a town car and a limousine. Emphasizing the wide appearance is a front grille that curves upward into the headlamp area. Parking lights are recessed at the ends of the bumper.

Buildings costing $2,817,000 will be constructed at Selfridge AFB near Mount Clemens.

Improvements totaling $186,000 will be spent at Custer Air Force Station, Battle Creek, and $74,000 is earmarked for the Calumet Air Force Station.

Jack Paar Hurt After Hard Fall on TV Program

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A movie stunt chair shattered under Jack Paar on his coast-to-coast television show Thursday night. The comedian was thrown backward—hard—to the floor.

Paar lay there briefly, wincing, his left arm and elbow bruised, then was helped up by Harvey Parry, Hollywood stunt man he was interviewing. Comedian Cliff Arquette replaced Paar in the interview. But Paar returned for about 40 minutes more of the show.

Arquette took over for the last half hour of the 1-hour, 45-minute program after Paar told aides he felt nauseated and thought he might faint. He was taken to his hotel, where a doctor examined him and found only bruises.

The chair, of balsa wood and easily broken, was the kind used in furniture-smashing movie fight scenes. Paar will be back on the nightly show tonight.

Ballad Singer Rarely on TV

To Perform 20 Minutes Uninterrupted — Shuns Lesser Engagements

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Harry Belafonte, that superb singer of folk songs, will make his first American television appearance in more than a year Sunday on the Steve Allen Show NBC.

Allen will turn over an uninterrupted 20 minutes of his program to Belafonte, who returned recently from a successful concert tour of Europe. In the past year Belafonte has turned down numerous television offers.

"I simply won't consider going on television for 'three or four minutes,' Belafonte said the other day. "I'm not a singer pushing my latest hit recordings. I have to have an opening, build to a climax, and tie up what I have to say."

Belafonte was delighted with two half hour programs he did for BBC television in England—and BBC was so delighted with his performance that it wants him to do three TV engagements annually for the next four years.

"BBC has the advantage of not being under pressure to please so many diversified opinions as television in our country," Belafonte said.

"There's no froth about ratings and worrying about whether you'll be on next seas. Television, as presented by the B. C, is mature and meaningful.

"If it takes me four minutes to tell something I don't want somebody to insist on cutting 30 seconds out of it. The artist should not be butchered to meet the needs of the organization. This is the way I work."

Belafonte's last appearance on American television was in August, 1957 when he did a brief stint with Nat "King" Cole, a fellow Negro artist who had an excellent program for several months. No Negro now has a regular program on network television.

"If it were offered to me I wouldn't take a regular weekly television program," Belafonte said.

"It's impossible for an artist—or at least this artist — to go on for 26 consecutive weeks singing and performing and maintaining anything above the standard of mediocrity. A master of ceremonies can do it, of course, but a performer cannot."

Alibi Limited to British

LONDON (UPI) — General Sir Richard McCreery was fined $8.40 for speeding yesterday despite his excuse that "I was only trying to avoid keeping the Duke of Edinburgh waiting for his polo."

FUNSTERS ON THE RANGE — Comedians Hank Mann, Snub Pollard and Matthew McCue surround Audrey Totter with whom they will appear in "The Medicine Man" episode of the NBC-TV series "Cimarron City," 9:30-10:30 p. m., Saturday. These comedians have taken to appearing in many "Westerns" and feel as "at home" there as they did in the old pie-throwing comedies that were their fare not too long ago.

Woman Fasts Self to Death Before Mate

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—"We fast when God tells us to," said a retired newspaperman whose wife collapsed and died in the 14th day of one of their fasting periods.

Wright Welker, 50, told police that he and his wife Frances, 38, entered a hot bath at their home Thursday as part of a religious ritual. "She said, 'I am very tired,'" Welker told officers, "and slumped forward in the tub."

An autopsy did not disclose the cause of death.

Welker said he and his wife frequently fasted, taking "nothing more than water and juice." Two years ago, he said, they went without food 40 days.

Welker said his wife began her latest fast two weeks ago after quitting her clerical job and telling him: "The adherence to the principles of making money is destroying me."

Welker said he fasted to combat "the sin engulfing the world."

He and his wife belonged to the West Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints here. A Mormon spokesman said the church advocates a day of fasting each month but does not permit longer fasts.

The Welkers had four children, ranging in age from 2 to 13. Police said the family ice box was full and the children apparently were eating normally. Welker said they didn't take part in the feasts.

Me 'Spender'? Solon Denies It

Senator Moss (D-Utah) Calls for Fiscal Sanity as 'Liberal'

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Frank E. Moss, who upset a loyal Eisenhower Republican in Utah's Senate race, says sure, he's a liberal. But one of those Democrats President Eisenhower calls "spenders"?

Hardly, says Moss. He believes in "fiscal sanity" — another pet Eisenhower term.

The President told his news conference Wednesday many persons he would call spenders were elected to the new Democratic-controlled Congress.

Moss, 47, beat highly respected Sen. Arthur V. Watkins, 71, Tuesday in a three-man race that also included Maverick Republican J. Bracken Lee, a former governor. Before that, Moss was a political unknown not only nationally but in much of his home state as well.

He calls himself "a liberal tinged with a measure of caution and care" who believes, "certainly, in progressive legislative measures."

But he says such measures "must accompany fiscal responsibility and fiscal sanity."

There may be a difference in definition of fiscal sanity between Moss and the Republicans, but one of the points pushed by Moss during his campaign was that deficit financing must come to a halt.

Moss, Salt Lake County attorney the past eight years, says a liberal is primarily dedicated to freedom.

This means, he says, that sometimes the government must regulate business so that small firms can operate in a market that is free of control by large corporation.

Voters Insist on Man Who Won't Serve

CADILLAC (AP)—Wexford County Prosecutor James Herrinton believes his post "pays too little and carries too much work" at $3,400 a year. But he's having a hard time convincing the public he intends to quit.

Herrinton told voters before Tuesday's election that he wouldn't serve if reelected. They voted him into office again anyway. And once again he quit yesterday.

A few weeks back, the prosecutor's pay was boosted to $4,000. Came a squabble and it was reduced back to $3,400.

Herrinton, 29, says he's working for 62 cents an hour after expenses. "It just isn't a good deal" for a man with a wife and child, he contends.

Herrinton's decision to withdraw from office came after the election ballots were printed. Voters apparently didn't believe him.

The vacancy will be filled by appointment by Circuit Judge Howard L. Campbell.

The judge says he still hopes Herrinton will change his mind. Herrinton insists he won't.

Await Final Voting Count

California Dems Hoping to Get All 6 State Posts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Democrats, riding the crest of the biggest voting turnout in California's history, still held hope today for an unprecedented sweep of all six state elective offices.

Five—governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, controller and treasurer — were in the bag.

The only Republican incumbent left with a chance to survive the record deluge of more than five million ballots was Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan. He led by nearly 15,000 in the unofficial count of 26,611 out of 26,896 precincts over Democrat Henry Lopez, a Los Angeles attorney.

The bulk of the precincts still out—and not to be counted before Monday—were in Orange County, a Jordan stronghold. But still to be reckoned were some 80,000 absentee ballots.

The 80,000 absentee ballots put the vote total of Tuesday's off-year election beyond 5,100,000. That is better by 8,000 than the previous record vote cast in the 1956 presidential battle of Eisenhower and Stevenson.

After — State Treasurer Ronald Button conceded Thursday night to Democrat Bert A. Betts, Lemon Grove public accountant, making it five for sure.

Before—The State Senate was tied at 20-20; the Assembly was Republican by 43-37.

After—The State Senate was either 27-13 or 26-14 Democratic, the Assembly either 50-30 or 52-28 Democratic.

Before—Both U.S. Senate seats were Republican; the House delegation was 17-13 Republican.

After — Democrat Rep. Clair Engle won by more than 700,000 over Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight for the Senate; the House delegation was 16-14 Democratic.

With only a scattering of the state's 26,896 precincts uncounted, the victory margin of Democratic Atty. Gen. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown for governor over Republican Sen. William F. Knowland was 1,012,127. The vote for 26,611 precincts: Brown 3,031,407; Knowland 2,019,280.

Will Request Repeal of Presidential Limit

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Sen. John O. Pastore (D-RI) says he will ask the new Congress to repeal the 22nd Amendment, which limits presidents to two terms.

He said he is convinced the "lame-duck strait jacket" in which the amendment encased President Eisenhower was partly responsible for Tuesday's Democratic landslide.

Pastore, who was re-elected Tuesday, also said in an interview: "The only Republicans elected to the Senate were anti-Eisenhower Republicans like Barry Goldwater. Nixon even went to Boston and advocated a tax cut. The President can't keep anybody in line. Everybody's jockeying for power. A week before the election the whole Republican organization was in a state of confusion."

No Savvy FBI Talk

CHICAGO (UPI) — James T. Duddy, 28, who wrestles professionally under the name "Jungle Jim," was arrested yesterday on charges of possessing $60,000 worth of stolen furs despite his surprise when FBI agents opened the trunk of his car to find the furs. "Now how do you suppose they got in there?" Jungle Jim asked.

nite should have been achieved. But it turns out that those who inspired the revolution aren't at home in anything except change and turmoil, they aren't happy with anything that's on less than a world scale. For them, transitional periods, worlds in the making, are an end in themselves.

Russian's Novel Not Clearly Anti-Red

Hard to Pinpoint Pasternak's 'Treason'

NEW YORK (UPI)—This Russian novel, "Dr. Zhivago," the one that won the Nobel prize. What does it have to say that could cause such frothings of hatred and indignation in the Soviet Union?

Only 200,000 copies of Boris Pasternak's book have been printed so far in the United States so it figures that only about 1 out of 800 Americans have read it.

For those who haven't:

"Dr. Zhivago" is the story of a physician, a sensitive and well educated man, whose life disintegrated in the chaos that followed the Bolshevik Revolution in 1917.

Most readers will find it heavy going. It is a rambling book in the sweeping style of Tolstoy's "War and Peace" with a bewildering cast of characters. Its plot line is hard to follow; Zhivago's love of three women rather academic.

What must make it "reasonable" in Communist Russia is its absolute candidness, its honesty, its calm recital of shattering events and scenes from Moscow to the Urals in the years after World War I.

If the reader were not aware what a furore Pasternak's work has wrought in the Soviet Union, although never published there, he would be hard put to judge the book particularly anti-Communist.

When, for example, Zhivago returns to Moscow after being wounded in army service, Pasternak writes:

"His friends had become strangely dim and colorless. They had been much more vivid in his memory. He must have overestimated them in the past. Under the old order, which enabled those whose lives were secure to play the fools and eccentrics at the expense of others while a majority led a wretched existence, it had been only too easy to mistake the foolishness and idleness of a privileged minority for genuine character and originality."

But Zhivago's feelings later are summed up:

"I don't know a movement more self-centered and more removed from the facts than Marxism. Everyone is worried only about proving himself in practical matters, and as for the men in power, they are so anxious to establish the myth of their infallibility that they do their utmost to ignore the truth. Politics doesn't appeal to me. I don't like people who don't care about the truth."

And Khrushchev and Co. could certainly take exception to one of the final passages:
