by 3 Teen Youths

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—A Winter Park family's holiday cruise turned into a 14-hour gunpoint ordeal when three teenagers boarded their yacht and demanded to be taken to Mexico.

Officials considered bringing charges of kidnaping and even the archaic crime of piracy against the youths, all from San Antonio, Tex.

The three youths, Mike Moore, 17, Tommy Edwards, 15, and Johnny Cox, 16, were to appear before Criminal Court Judge Thomas

FAMILY SHAKEN

Sias, 53, a packinghouse machinery manufacturer, his wife Phyllis, 50, sons, David, 14, and John, 10, and daughters, Jane, 15, and Bobby, 13, were shaken but physically unharmed.

The three youths boarded the sumptuous 40-foot power yacht Fiesta II at Craig in the Keys New Year's Eve. They pointed a .22-caliber rifle at the Siases and said, "Keep quiet, we'll tell you what to do," Sias related.

"They were polite and didn't use any foul language," he said, "but they kept the gun on me and my wife and made me do what they wanted."

TAKE ON FUEL

Sias said the boys first insisted they should take off right away for Mexico. He persuaded them it would be necessary to take on more fuel, obtainable only the next morning.

The Fiesta II went into Isla-morda for fuel and while it lay there, young David managed to slip ashore momentarily with a note which he handed to Murry Cribb, a docker. The note said:

"We are being held at gunpoint.

Cribb rushed to a garage nearby and telephoned the sheriff's department. Monroe County deputies borrowed a motorboat and gave chase about 10 minutes after the Fiesta II put to sea with David peering anxiously astern for signs of rescue and his mother frantically waving from a cabin doorway to watches who already were hurrying to the dock.

OVERHAUL YACHT

Deputies Norman Parker and John Hovey overhauled the yacht and as they came abeam, the Texas teen-agers dropped their guns overboard and surrendered.

Lt. Rene Raiole of the sheriff's department said the boys, before ordering Sias to sea, loaded his yacht with such a collection of goods that the Fiesta II actually took on a list.

Among the articles were auto tires, barbecue equipment, ammunition, blankets, food and motor oil.

Raiole said the lads told him they ran away from home Saturday and drove to St. Petersburg in an automobile owned by the parents of one lad. They spent Monday night camping on Miami Beach and then headed for the Keys. There they spied the Sias yacht and decided it would make a first-class craft in which to reach Mexico.

Flames Sweep Through Lowell Business Area

6 Buildings Destroyed and 2 Others Imperiled by Raging Blaze

LOWELL (AP)—Fire raged through the Lowell business district today, destroying at least six buildings and threating two others.

Damage is estimated at between $250,000 and $300,000.

Kent County sheriff's deputies said the flames were moving westward in destroying the frame structures fronting on M21 (Lowell's main street) and extending at the rear to the Flat river.

They reported buildings already consumed included Mel's Tavern, Wepman's Clothing Store (a double frontage building), two barbershops, an unoccupied former women's apparel shop and the Showboat Inn, which is connected with Lowell's Showboat — a summer tourist attraction.

Firemen from at least seven nearby communities have joined the Lowell department in the battle. They were reported concentrating efforts on Avery's Jewelry Store, in the western path of the flames.

The Levee Restaurant, at the eastern end of the flames, appeared out of danger, witnesses reported.

Firemen believed the blaze resulted after the explosion of a fuel tank at the rear of Mel's (formerly Neubecker's) Tavern. The alarm was turned in at about 7 p.m.

Employes of the Lowell Ledger, the community's weekly newspaper, said apartments above the tavern were evacuated, but were unable to say how many persons occupied the living spaces.

Lowell, a community of about 2,500 persons on the direct route between Grand Rapids and Flint, is located about 17 miles east of Grand Rapids.

Left homeless were Mr. and Mrs. John Pemberton, their two children, ages 5 and 4, and Clinton Meisner, Mrs. Pemberton's brother. They were evacuated safely from an apartment above one of the destroyed barbershops. Pemberton said the family was unable to save any of its possessions.

Government of Venezuela Reports Revolt Crushed

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The government of President Marcos Perez Jimenez announced before dawn today that it had crushed an air force revolt in less than 24 hours.

The army chief of staff, Gen. Romulo Fernandez, in a broadcast said the rebellious garrison at Maracay, center of the revolt, had been taken by government forces at 3:30 a.m.

Fernandez added, however, that scattered pockets of rebels were being mopped up.

The army chief repeated the claim by President Perez Jimenez in a broadcast last night that the rest of the country—the world's No. 2 oil producer—was completely calm.

Fernandez said that the rebel leaders fled by air. He reported that Aurelio Ferrero Tamay, commander of the Maracay garrison and governor of the state of Aragua, had been restored to his post along with his chief aide. Maracay is the capital of Aragua state.

Ferrero Tamay and other officials had been seized by rebel troops at 5 a. m. yesterday, Fernandez said.

At 4 a.m., this morning, Fernandez continued, 25 air force planes from bases at Palonegro and Boca del Rio in Maracay were at the main Caracas airport in the service of the government.

In Caracas itself, streetlights were turned on, ending the brownout imposed by the government as a defense against rebel planes.

Air force units at Maracay launched a sudden rebellion against the government early New Year's Day, sending jet planes 50 miles east from Maracay to Caracas, the capital, before dawn.

Perez Jimenez said antiaircraft fire hit one of the raiders and forced it to land at this skyscraper city's airport.

TOLD TO SURRENDER

The President told the nation in a broadcast that the rebels at Maracay were disorganized from lack of a single command and warned the airmen to give up their fight or be slaughtered. The nation's principal airfield is at Maracay.

The short, pudgy Venezuelan general won another five-year term only last Dec. 15 in a plebiscite which gave the voters a chance to vote only yes or no. He had no opponent.

The revolt caught the government during the early morning while New Year's Eve revelry was still going on. For hours the only countermeasures were the ack-ack fire and a steady stream of threats and cajolery by the government radio.

Governor Plans to Make Emergency Tax Proposal

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams said today he will make an emergency tax proposal to bail the state out of a growing financial crisis.

The governor said he has a specific idea in mind but refused to disclose, until further work is done, the nature of the new or additional tax or the amount of revenue it could be expected to produce before the current fiscal year ends June 30.

Williams said the proposal will be advanced to the committees at a special Senate-House taxation meeting he is calling prior to the opening of the regular 1958 legislative session next Wednesday.

The meeting is being called to lay the entire fiscal problem before the legislative groups. Williams said he would ask any alternative suggestions the legislative tax experts may have.

The governor said it now appears the state will run around 30 million dollars in the hole by June 30 and "it is quite probable we cannot meet obligations already incurred for this year without new revenues."

He said the general fund will probably run short by about 20 million dollars and that the school aid fund is expected to run a

Study Revision of Joint Chiefs

Senators May Shear Three Service Heads of Military Commands

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Preparedness subcommittee has under consideration a series of proposals that could lead to legislation shearing the Joint Chiefs of Staff of their military commands.

The subcommittee, headed by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, has heard contradictory testimony from military leaders and scientists about the amount of service rivalry that still exists under supposed unification of the armed forces.

Most subcommittee members now are convinced there has been so much confusion and bickering among Army, Navy and Air Force leaders in the Pentagon that the nation's missile and satellite programs have been seriously handicapped.

While there is no unanimous opinion, the prevailing impression among subcommittee members seems to be that it might be best to start at the top of the military structure in any recommended shakeup. This could take the form of relieving the Joint Chiefs of command duties.

The Joint Chiefs, consisting of the heads of the three services, have the dual role of over-all military planning and of operating the individual services. This has led to some suggestions that their loyalty to their individual services has interfered with their decisions on over-all military plans, although Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, has denied this in public testimony.

In exploring the situation, the subcommittee's staff has gone back as far as the 1949 Hoover Commission report. At that time, a minority of which former Secretary of State Dean Acheson was a member recommended that Congress create a single chief of staff over the Joint Chiefs. The present chairman of the Joint Chiefs has only an advisory role.

Traffic Deaths Slashed 12 Pct., Injuries Down

Michigan Roads Take Only One Life During New Year Holiday

LANSING (AP)—For a second straight year, Michigan posted a banner traffic safety record in 1957, cutting deaths an estimated 12 per cent.

It appeared that highway accidents and injuries also were down for the year, although comparatively little.

The year ended with only one traffic fatality reported for the 30-hour New Year holiday period from 6 p.m. Tuesday to midnight Wednesday. Last year 20 persons were killed in highway accidents in a four-day holiday period.

Twelve persons were killed in auto accidents in the 30-hour Christmas holiday period a week ago.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said, "I am more than gratified that the state achieved its goal of reducing traffic deaths by 10 per cent. I hope it's a good augury for 1958."

"The newspaper, radio and television have done a fine job in safety education and certainly are partly responsible for better driver attitudes," he stated.

Childs said State Police arrests for traffic offenses jumped about 22 per cent last year, mostly reflecting an increase in manpower. Arrests were expected to number about 270,000 for 1957.

Provisional figures showed 138 highway deaths in December, but delayed reports were expected to raise the figure another dozen or so. Fatalities in December 1956 totaled 158.

Michigan's only highway death during the 30-hour new year's holiday period was 47-year-old Clayton Droulliard of Ecorse Township, who was killed in a two-car crash Tuesday evening.

Traffic deaths in the United States hit a record postwar high for a one-day New Year holiday.

Final figures were not compiled,

Chill in Pontiac Air May Get Snappier

Pontiac area residents had better prepare for some cold, cold weather, the U.S. Weather Bureau reports.

Tonight will be cold and partly cloudy, with a chance of today's snow flurries continuing. The low will be 12-16 degrees.

The Oakland County Road Commission reported at 10 a.m. that local streets and highways were clear, but outlying roads were still slippery in spots.

Fifteen was the lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the mercury had risen to a chilly 19.

Starting Today . . . . Another Agatha Christie Mystery

By AGATHA CHRISTIE

Mrs. McGillicuddy panted along the platform in the wake of the porter carrying her suitcase. Mrs. McGillicuddy was short and stout; the porter was tall and free striding. In addition, Mrs. McGillicuddy was burdened with a large quantity of parcels, the result of a day's Christmas shopping. The race was, therefore, an uneven one, and the porter turned the corner at the end of the platform whilst Mrs. McGillicuddy was still coming up the straight.

Mrs. McGillicuddy and her parcels were buffeted to and fro, but she arrived eventually at the entrance to No. 3 platform, found her ticket and presented it. The man clipped it, murmured: "On the right—rear portion."

Mrs. McGillicuddy padded up the platform and found her porter, looking bored and staring into space, outside the door of a third class carriage.

"Here you are, lady."

"I'm traveling first class," said Mrs. McGillicuddy.

"You didn't say so," grumbled the porter. He retrieved the suitcase and marched with it to the adjoining coach where Mrs. McGillicuddy was installed in solitary splendor. The 4:54 was not much patronized, the first class clientele preferring either the faster morning express, or the 6:40 with dining cars.

She settled herself back on the plush cushions with a sigh and opened a magazine. Five minutes later, whistles blew, and the train started. The magazine slipped from Mrs. McGillicuddy's hand, her head dropped sideways, three minutes later, she was asleep.

She slept for thirty-five minutes and awoke refreshed. Resettling her hat, which had slipped askew, she sat up and looked out of the window at what she could see of the flying countryside. It was quite dark now, a dreary December day—Christmas was only five days ahead. London had been dark and dreary; the country was no less so, though occassionally rendered cheerful with its constant clusters of lights as the train flashed through towns and stations.

A train traveling in the opposite direction rushed by with a screech, making the windows rattle and causing her to start. The train clattered over the points and passed through a station.

Then it began suddenly to slow down, presumably in obedience to a signal. For some minutes, it crawled along, then stopped, presently, it began to move forward again. Another train passed them, though with less vehemence than the first one. The train gathered speed again. At that moment, another train, also on a down line, swerved inwards towards them, for a moment with almost alarming effect.

For a time, the two trains ran parallel, now one gaining a little; now the other. Mrs. McGillicuddy looked from her window through the windows of the parallel carriages. Most of the blinds were down, but occasionally the occupants of the carriages were visible. The other train was not very full and there were many empty carriages.

At the moment when the two trains gave the illusion of being stationary, a blind in one of the carriages flew up with a snap. Mrs. McGillicuddy looked into the lighted first-class carriage that was only a few feet away.

Then she drew her breath in with a gasp and half rose to her feet.

Standing with his back to the window, and to her, was a man. His hands were round the throat of a woman who faced him, and he was remorselessly strangling her. Her eyes were starting from their sockets, her face was purple and congested. As Mrs. McGillicuddy watched, fascinated, the end came, the body went limp and crumpled in the man's hands.

At the same moment, Mrs. McGillicuddy's train slowed down again and the other began to gain speed. It passed forward and, a moment or two later, it had vanished from sight.

Almost automatically, Mrs. McGillicuddy's hand went up to the communication cord, then paused, irresolute. After all, what use would it be ringing the cord of the train in which she was traveling? The horror of what she had seen at such close quarters, and the unusual circumstances, made her feel paralyzed. Some immediate action was necessary—but what?

The door of her compartment was drawn back and a ticket collector said, "Ticket, please."

Mrs. McGillicuddy turned to him with vehemence.

"A woman has been strangled," she said. "In a train that has just passed. I saw it."

The ticket collector looked at her doubtfully.

"I beg your pardon, Madam?"

"A man strangled a woman! In a train. I saw it—through there." She pointed to the window.

The ticket collector looked extremely doubtful.

"Strangled?" he said disbelievingly.

"Yes, strangled! I saw it, I tell you. You must do something at once!"

The ticket collector coughed apologetically.

"You don't think Madam, that you may have had a little nap and—er"—he broke off tactfully.

"I have had a nap, but if you think this was a dream, you're quite wrong. I saw it, I tell you."

The ticket collector's eyes dropped to the open magazine lying on the seat. On the exposed page, was a girl being strangled whilst a man with a revolver threatened the pair from an open doorway.

He said persuasively: "Now don't you think, Madam, that you'd been reading an exciting story, and that you just dropped

Police Officers Join Court Fight

3 Pontiac Sergeants File Motions in Suit Over Promotions

An attorney for three Pontiac police sergeants whose promotions have been held up by a Circuit Court restraining order has filed a motion to intervene in a law case.

Attorney Paul L. Merideth filed the motion for Sgts. William K. Hanger, Raymond E. Meggitt and Fred Goines who seek to become defendants with the Civil Service Commission in the suit brought by acting Lt. John DePauw.

The sergeants, who outscored DePauw on a recent civil service examination given for prospective lieutenants, want to be joined as defendants in the case so they can file their pleas, Merideth said.

They seek to quash the order restraining Police Chief Herbert W. Straley from reducing DePauw in rank or pay until a hearing. Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick issued the order Dec. 23 at the request of DePauw's attorney, Howard I. Bond.

Merideth said a hearing on the sergeants' motion would be held Monday before Judge Hartrick.

DePauw brought the suit against the commission after it ordered he be reduced to the rank of sergeant since he had placed fourth, below the three sergeants, in a list of 11 competing for lieutenant's rank.

The young miss, Theresa Buccilli of 1546 East 195th St. in the Cleveland suburb, was aboard the Doria when it sunk. She suffered no injures at that time, but collapsed three months later while witnessing the TV showing.

She sued the operators of the Doria and owners of the Swedish Liner Stockholm for $250,000 damages. Her attorney David L. Sidell said Miss Buccilli spent four months in a hospital following her collapse.

but the count for the 30-hour period from 6 p.m. local time Tuesday night to midnight Wednesday had reached 179 persons.

The toll was higher than the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate of 130. The Christmas traffic death toll was 225 as compared with 180 predicted by the council.

The council termed the New Year traffic toll "distressingly high," and as the toll mounted, it urged motorists to drive with extra care.

The previous high for a one-day New Year celebration since World War II was 110 in the 1947-48 transition. While the low mark for a 30-hour New Year holiday in the same period was 93 in the 1946-47 transition.

The all-time high in traffic deaths for any one-day holiday since World War II was 253 in Christmas 1946.

Icy and snowy streets and highways in much of the Midwest and rain in New England were considered added hazards to the heavy holiday travel.

The New Year traffic toll was far in excess of the total reported in an Associated Press survey in a nonholiday test period last month. In the 30 hours from 6 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 10, to midnight Wednesday, Dec. 11, 84 persons were killed in highway accidents. Fire deaths numbered 15 and 27 persons were killed in miscellaneous accidents for an over-all total of 126.

deficit of about eight million dollars.

RUN UP TOTAL

The need for deficiency appropriations in excess of anticipated lapses of appropriated funds probably will run up the total, he said.

Besides the general budgetary concern, "we're worried about the state's cash position—that maybe we will get in the position of not being able to meet current bills without unreasonable delay," Williams said.

As against the anticipated deficit, Williams said there was a prospect of picking up an offsetting amount of five million dollars at the most, through fund transfers.

FREE MONEYS

He said, for example, if the legislature agrees, moneys now in the hospital fund redemption fund and the World War I and Korean bond funds might be freed to apply against general state obligations.

In response to a question, Williams said at his news conference he had no thought of touching the 50 million dollar Veterans Trust Fund.

He refused repeatedly to name a figure as to the amount of emergency revenue needed. However, he said he would prefer entirely overcoming the prospect for a budgetary deficiency June 30 rather than merely getting enough cash in the treasury to assure continued payment of current state bills.

Williams refused to answer a question as to whether a stiffening of the tax on intangible property was under consideration.

The governor indicated only last week that he thought an "austerity" approach to state expenditures under appropriations authorized by the legislature might make ends meet for the balance of the fiscal year.

Previous to that, he ordered the state controller to explore areas in which it would be possible to hold down on authorized spending.

But he said today:

"The longer we look at it, the larger the deficiency appears. The more we look at possible savings through administrative action, the greater the insufficiency seems except through curtailment of services beyond what the legislature and the people would accept."

Talks Are Held by Ben-Gurion

Resigned Israeli Chief Attempts to Form New Coalition Regime

President Izhak Ben-Zvi asked the veteran Israeli leader yesterday to try to put together a new cabinet. After talking with leaders of all 10 political parties, Ben-Zvi urged Ben-Gurion to take the same five parties back into the government.

Ben-Gurion provisionally accepted the assignment. He said he would demand that the new ministers maintain complete secrecy on all Cabinet talks related to security and foreign policy.

The 71-year-old Mapai party leader quit with an angry accusation that two ministers of the left-wing Achduth Avodah (Labor Unity) party broke a Cabinet agreement to preserve complete secrecy in all matters of security and foreign policy and refused to promise not to do it again.

Ben-Gurion has also been feuding with the left-wing Mapam (United Workers) over Cabinet unity. Mapam and Achduth Avodah each had two ministers in the two-year-old, 16-member Cabinet. The old government is remaining on a caretaker basis until a new one is formed.

The Day in Birmingham

Registrations Accepted for Craft, Hobby Classes

BIRMINGHAM — Registration started today for the winter series of craft and hobby classes at the Community House. Miss Myra Showman, who is in charge of registration, has asked everyone planning to join a class to enroll as early as possible. Classes will begin the week of Jan. 20.

The series will offer four classes in bridge, two in ceramics, single classes in ballroom dancing for adults, design, enamel, advanced first aid, flower arrangement, gardening and interior decorating, two in millinery, three in adult painting, one in photography, three in sculpture, two in sewing and four in silver work.

In addition to the adult program, special youth classes will include a choice of three in painting and drawing and one class in puppetry.

Miss Showman said all registrations must be made in person. Materials used in the classes, firing charges for the ceramics group and any field trip expenses, will be in addition to the regular class fee.

Delbert Ayles, manager of the local Secretary of State Branch office, today urged motorists to obtain their 1958 license plates as early as possible.

"The change in licensing system going into effect this year is expected to slow down the issuing of licenses considerably," Ayles said.

"This applies when a person has purchased a new automobile. Under a new ruling, the owner retains the plates, and we are running into difficulty on proving ownership of these plates when application for re-issue is made," he said.

"At the time of trade-in, the title is surrendered. This often leaves the owner with no proof that the plates were issued to him.

"It is expensive in that the owner must pay for the tracking down of his license in Lansing. It is also time-consuming," Ayles stated.

Two Birmingham men Wednesday received major promotions at the Detroit Times.

William H. Mills, of 1155 W. Lincoln, was named the paper's general manager and Charles C. Obermeyer, of 884 Kennesaw, was made business manager.

Mills had been business manager and Obermeyer assistant business manager.

Mills joined the Times in 1936 as chief accountant after serving the Hearst organization in a similar capacity on the Washington Times and Herald.

Obermeyer was chief accountant on the Chicago Examiner, another Hearst paper, before going to the Times in 1937.

Beginning today, Christmas trees will be picked up during the regular rubbish collection hours. Tom Brian, DPW superintendent, said trees should be placed at the curb after all metal trimmings have been removed. He explained that the Forestry Department's wood chipper would follow the regular collection truck, putting trees through the chipper.

Lonely Elephant Decides to Make New Year's Visit

Mrs. Linley went to her front door early Wednesday when she heard loud noises. She found an elephant busily swishing his trunk through what was left of the door.

High Costs Hit Graves

BRIGHTON, Colo. (INS) — The grave is no escape from the high cost of living in Brighton. City fathers announced rates for opening and closing graves in the town's cemetery have been increased from $65 to $75 because of additional labor costs.

Russian Soldiers Guard East Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Russian soldiers have suddenly been called out for duty in East Berlin.

The soldiers are guarding border crossing points between East and West Berlin, and partolling main streets.

It was the first time since the 1953 anti-Cofmunist uprising of June 17 that Russian soldiers have patrolled the Soviet sector of Berlin.

West Berlin border guards told newsmen they had heard a rumor the Russians were called out to intercept several Soviet officers or soldiers who had deserted from their units somewhere in East Germany.

The Western guards said the Russians appeared on the Soviet side of the border last night. The Soviet side is normally guarded by German police.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Should home owners with houses on the shores of the Great Lakes expect the water to continue to rise for the next few years or recede?

The greater weight of evidence suggests that the water level of the Great Lakes will continue to rise for some years to come. But this is no certainty and is merely a calculated guess.

Nevertheless, the water level receded for a number of years and if the rise is to follow a forty-year cycle, or an even longer one, home owners may be in for a number of years in which the level will gradually return to a higher level.

This, the majority of experts seem to feel, is quite likely. It will be a slow process, of course.

Erratic Snows Hit Cleveland

Cold Pelts Eastern U. S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cold weather spread across most of the Eastern half of the nation today, with the icy air extending deep into Dixie.

Skies were clear in most of the cold belt, although a snowstorm hit the Cleveland area, dumping up to 8 inches of snow in some places.

But in parts of the Greater Cleveland area you'd have to scrape to get together a decent snowball.

The Weather Bureau said a narrow band of heavy snow extended from Avon Lake, west of Cleveland, through the downtown area and eastward along U.S. 322 into Geauga County.

In some of the higher eastern suburbs, 5 to 8 inches had accumulated before midnight. The storm tapered off into snow flurries by early morning. More flurries and a low of 10 degrees were predicted for today.

Squalls were forecast near the Lakes region of Pennsylvania and New York, with snow falls from 6 to 12 inches in prospect.

The arctic air which has gripped the Midwest for several days extended into the Atlantic Seaboard.

Temperatures in the Ohio Valley and from the Appalachians to the East Coast were from 10 to 20 degrees lower than yesterday morning.

The frigid blasts didn't reach the southern half of Florida, but Tampa's reading of 47 was 15 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier.

Readings were more than 20 degrees lower than yesterday in many southern cities, including Atlanta, which reported 26.

New Year Starts With 3 Million More Residents

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States started the new year with three million more residents than it had a year ago.

The Census Bureau estimated the population as of today at 172,800,000, compared with 169,800,000 at the start of 1957.

Women outnumber men by about 1½ millions, the bureau reported.

Syria was occupied by the Ottoman Turks before World War One. It was under a French mandate between the two World Wars.

No Deaths in Kansas on New Year's Eve

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—The Kansas Highway Patrol said it had no reports of fatal accidents on New Year's Eve and the state apparently cut its death toll in 1957 by 107.

Claud McCamment, state safety director, said imposition for the first time of a statewide speed limit was a life saving factor. The limit is 70 miles an hour in the day time, 60 at night. Deaths were running 3 per cent above average when the limits were set in May.

Eye Witness to Death: An Agatha Christie Mystery

off, and awaiting a little confused—"

Mrs. McGillicuddy interrupted him.

"I saw it," she said. "I was as wide awake as you are. And I looked out of the window into the window of the train alongside, and a man was strangling a woman. And what I want to know is, what are you going to do about it?"

"Well—Madam—"

"You're going to do something, I suppose?"

"We shall be in Brackhampton in exactly seven minutes. I'll report what you've told me. In what direction was the train you mention going?"

"This direction, of course. You don't suppose I'd have been able to see all this if a train had flashed past going in the other direction?"

The ticket collector looked as though he thought Mrs. McGillicuddy was quite capable of seeing anywhere as the fancy took her. But he remained polite.

"You can rely on me, Madam," he said. "I will report your statement. Perhaps I might have your name and address—just in case—"

Mrs. McGillicuddy gave him the address where she would be staying for the next few days and her permanent address in Scotland, and he wrote them down. Then he withdrew with the air of a man who has done his duty and dealt successfully with a tiresome member of the traveling public.

Mrs. McGillicuddy remained frowning and vaguely unsatisfied. Would the ticket collector really report her statement? Or had he just been soothing her down? There were, she supposed vaguely, a lot of elderly women traveling around, fully convinced that they had unmasked communist plots, were in danger of being murdered, saw flying sabcers and secret space ships, and reported murders that had never taken place. If the man dismissed her as one of those . . .

The train was slowing down now, passing over points, and running through the bright lights of a large town.

Mrs. McGillicuddy opened her handbag, pulled out a receipted bill which was all she could find, wrote a rapid note on the back of it with her ball point pen, put it into a spare envelope that she fortunately happened to have, stuck the envelope down and wrote on it.

"The train now arriving at Platform 1 is the 5:28 for Milchester, Waverton, Roxeter, and stations to Chadmouth. Passengers for Market Basing take the train now waiting at No. 3 platform. No. 1 Bay for stopping train to Carbury."

Mrs. McGillicuddy looked anxiously along the platform. So many passengers and so few porters. Ah, there was one! She hailed him authoritatively.

"Porter! Please take this at once to the Stationmaster's office."

She handed him the envelope, and with it a shilling.

Then, with a sigh, she leaned back. Well, she had done what she could. Her mind went back to the scene she had witnessed. Horrible, quite horrible . . . She was a strong nerved woman, but she shivered. What a strange—what a fantastic thing to happen to her, Elspeth McGillicuddy. If the blind of the carriage had not happened to fly up — But that, of course, was Providence.

Providence had willed that she, Elspeth McGillicuddy, should be a witness of the crime. Her lips set grimly.

Voices shouted, whistles blew, doors were banged shut. The 5:38 drew slowly out of Brackhampton station. An hour and five minutes later, it stopped at Milchester.

Mrs. McGillicuddy collected her parcels and her suitcase and got out. In due course, she secured a porter.

"Taxi?"

"There will be something to meet me, I expect."

Outside Milchester Station, a taxi driver who had been watching the exit came forward. He spoke in a soft local voice.

Is it Mrs. McGillicuddy? For St. Mary Mead?"

Mrs. McGillicuddy acknowledged her identity. The porter was recompensed, and the car, with Mrs. McGillicuddy, her suitcase, and her parcels drove off into the night. It was a nine mile drive. Sitting bolt upright in the car, Mrs. McGillicuddy was unable to relax. Her feelings yearned for expression.

At last, the taxi drove along the familiar village street and finally drew up at its destination; Mrs. McGillicuddy got out and walked up the brick path to the door . . . The driver deposited the cases inside as the door was opened by an elderly maid. Mrs. McGillicuddy passed straight through the hall to where, at the open sitting room door, her hostess awaited her; an elderly frail old lady.

"Elspeth!"

"Jane!"

They kissed and without preamble or circumlocution, Mrs. McGillicuddy burst into speech.

"Oh, Jane!" she wailed. "I've just seen a murder!"

True to the precepts handed down to her by her mother and grandmother—to wit: That a true lady can neither be shocked nor surprised — Miss Marple merely raised her eyebrows and shook her head, as she said:

"Most distressing for you, Elspeth, and surely most unusual. I think you had better tell me about it at once."

That was exactly what Mrs. McGillicuddy wanted to do. Allowing her hostess to draw her nearer to the fire, she sat down, pulled off her gloves and plunged into a vivid narrative.

Miss Marple listened with close attention. When Mrs. McGillicuddy at last paused for breath, Miss Marple spoke with decision.

"The best thing, I think, my dear, is for you to go upstairs and take off your hat and have a wash. Then we will have supper—during which we will not discuss this at all. After supper, we can go into the matter thoroughly and discuss it from every aspect."

Mrs. McGillicuddy concurred with this suggestion. The two ladies had supper, discussing as they ate, various aspects of life as lived in the village of St. Mary Mead. Miss Marple commented on the general distrust of the new organist, related the recent scandal about the chemist's wife, and touched on the hostility between the Schoolmistress and the Village Institute. They then discussed Miss Marple's and Mrs. McGillicuddy's gardens.

"Peonies," said Miss Marple as she rose from table, "are most unaccountable. Either they do—or they don't do. But if they do establish themselves, they are with you for life, so to speak, and really most beautiful varieties nowadays."

They settled themselves by the fire again, and Miss Marple brought out two old Waterford glasses from a corner cupboard, and from another cupboard produced a bottle.

"No coffee tonight for you, Elspeth," she said. "You are already overexcited (and no wonder!) and probably would not sleep. I prescribe a glass of my cowslip wine, and later, perhaps, a cup of camomile tea."

Mrs. McGillicuddy acquiescing in these arrangements, Miss Marple poured out the wine.

"Jane," said Mrs. McGillicuddy, as she took an appreciative sip, "you don't think, do you, that I dreamt it, or imagined it?"

"Certainly not," said Miss Marple with warmth.

Mrs. McGillicuddy heaved a sigh of relief.

"That ticket collector," she said, "he thought so. Quite polite, but all the same—"

"I think, Elspeth, that that was quite natural under the circumstances. It sounded—and indeed was—a most unlikely story. And you were a complete stranger to him. No, I have no doubt at all that you saw what you've told me you saw. It's very extraordinary—but not at all impossible. I recollect myself being interested when a train ran parallel to one in which I was traveling, to notice what a vivid and intimate picture one got of what was going on in one or two of the carriages. A little girl, I remember once, playing with a Teddy Bear, and suddenly she threw it deliberately at a fat man who was asleep in the corner and he bounced up and looked most indignant and other passengers looked so amused. I saw them all quite vividly. I could have described afterwards exactly what they looked like and what they had on."

Mrs. McGillicuddy nodded gratefully.

"That's just how it was."

"The man had his back to you, you say. So you didn't see his face?"

"No."

"And the woman, you can describe her? Young, old?"

"Youngish. Between thirty and thirty-five. I should think. I couldn't say closer than that."

"Good-looking?"

"That again, I couldn't say. Her face, you see, was all contorted and—"

Miss Marple said quickly:

"Yes, yes, I quite understand. How was she dressed?"

"She had on a fur coat of some kind, a palish fur. No hat. Her hair was blonde."

"And there was nothing distinctive that you can remember about the man?"

Mrs. McGillicuddy took a little time to think carefully before she replied.

"He was tallish—and dark, I think. He had a heavy coat on so I couldn't judge his build very well." She added despondently, "It's not really very much to go on."

"It's something," said Miss Marple. She paused before saying: "You feel quite sure, in your mind, that the girl was—dead?"

"She was dead, I'm sure of it. Her tongue came out and—I'd rather not talk about it . . ."

"Of course not. Of course not," said Miss Marple quickly. "We shall know more, I expect, in the morning."

"In the morning?"

"I should imagine it will be in the morning papers. After this man had attacked and killed her, he would have a body on his hands. What would he do? Presumably, he would leave the train quickly at the first station —by the way can you remember if it was a corridor carriage?"

"No, it was not."

"That seems to point to a train that was not going far afield. It would almost certainly stop at Brackhampton. Let us say he leaves the train at Brackhampton, perhaps arranging the body in a corner seat, with the face hidden by the fur collar to delay discovery. Yes—I think that that is what he would do. But, of course, it will be discovered before very long—and I should imagine that the news of a murdered woman discovered on a train would be almost certain to be in the morning papers—we shall see."

But it was not in the morning papers.

Miss Marple and Mrs. McGillicuddy, after making sure of this, finished their breakfast in silence. Both were reflecting.

After breakfast, they took a turn round the garden.

"The garden is not looking at all as it should," said Miss Marple. "Doctor Haydock has absolutely forbidden me to do any stooping or kneeling—and really, what can you do if you don't stoop or kneel?"

Thre was a silence and then Mrs. McGillicuddy planted her feet sturdily, stood still, and turned on her friend.

"Well?" she said.

It was a small insignificant word, but it acquired full significance from Mrs. McGillicuddy's tone, and Miss Marple understood its meaning perfectly.

"I know," she said.

The two ladies looked at each other.

"I think," said Miss Marple, "we might walk down to the police station and talk to Sergeant Cornish. He's intelligent and patient, and I know him very well, and he knows me. I think he'll listen—and pass the information on to the proper quarter."

Accordingly, some three quarters of an hour later, Miss Marple and Mrs. McGillicuddy were talking to a fresh - faced grave man between thirty and forty who listened attentively to what they had to say.

Frank Cornish received Miss Marple with cordiality and even deference. He set chairs for the two ladies and said: "Now what can we do for you, Miss Marple?"

Miss Marple said: "I would like you, please, to listen to my friend, Mrs. McGillicuddy's story."

And Sergeant Cornish had listened. At the close of the recital, he remained silent for a moment or two.

Then he said:

"That's a very extraordinary story." His eyes without seeming to do so, had sized Mrs. McGillicuddy up whilst she was telling it.

On the whole, he was favorably impressed. A sensible woman, able to tell a story clearly; not, so far as he could judge, an over-imaginative or hysterical woman. Moreover, Miss Marple, so it seemed, believed in the accuracy of her friend's story and he knew all about Miss Marple. Everybody in St. Mary Mead knew Miss Marple; fluffy and dithery in appearance, but inwardly as sharp and as shrewd as they make them.

He cleared his throat and spoke.

"Of course," he said, "you may have been mistaken—I'm not saying you were, mind—but you may have been. There's a lot of horseplay goes on—it mayn't have been serious or fatal."

"I know what I saw," said Mrs. McGillicuddy grimly.

"And you won't budge from it," thought Frank Cornish, "and I'd say that likely or unlikely, you may be right."

Aloud, he said: "You reported it to the railway officials, and you've come and reported it to me. That's the proper procedure and you may rely on me to have inquiries instituted."

He stopped. Miss Marple nodded her head gently, satisfied. Mrs. McGillicuddy was not quite so satisfied, but she did not say anything. Sergeant Cornish addressed Miss Marple, not so much because he wanted her ideas, as because he wanted to hear what she would say.

"Granted the facts are as reported," he said. "What do you think has happened to the body?"

"There seem to be only two possibilities," said Miss Marple without hesitation. "The most likely one, of course, is that the body was left in the train, but that seems improbable now, for it would have been found some time last night, by another traveler, or by the railway staff at the train's ultimate destination."

Frank Cornish nodded.

"The only other course open to the murderer would be to push the body out of the train onto the line. It must, I suppose, be still on the track somewhere as yet undiscovered — though that does seem a little unlikely. But there would be, as far as I can see, no other way of dealing with it."

Reuther's Wage Demand Will Increase Cost Spiral

Senator JOHN MARSHALL BUTLER and HARLOW H. CURTICE have served a double notice on WALTER REUTHER in connection with wage negotiations in 1958.

Both fear more inflation.

Both fear a cheapening dollar.

Certainly it has been well established that wages are the predominate factor in the upward spiral of costs. They lead the way. Other costs contribute, but the largest percentage of increase over the past years lies in wage advances.

Corporate profits seem to be WALTER REUTHER's steady target in his economic talks. Yet the percentage of profits over all in the United States is probably not appreciably greater than it was several years ago. A business can make more total profit because of a greater volume of business, but the percentage doesn't vary tremendously.

Hence the profit per item sold isn't any greater than it was. If a grocer is netting four per cent on $100,000 annual sales, that means he has made $4,000. If he does $200,000 later, and nets $8,000, the amount of profit on each item is the same. The profits don't contribute to a greater cost in the price of selling a dozen bars of soap.

But wage schedules have bounded continually upward. The wage for manufacturing that same dozen bars of soap is hiked and hiked. This adds to the price the grocer must get from the consumer.

Reuther indicates he will ask for a four day week with no less take home pay. In order to hold the selling price the same, this would necessitate a 25 per cent increase in productivity.

Does anyone think this will come about?

Should industry pay time and a half for that fifth day?

What would that do to the selling price?

As President CURTICE of General Motors says:

"Union leadership professes to be disturbed over rising prices. But it has indicated it will exert all the pressure of which it is capable to enforce its demands. Should it succeed, the wage-cost spiral would be given a major push upward."

How could it be avoided?

Communist Newspaper Appears to Be Folding

This new year is greeted with one indication which will meet with universal approval.

The Communist Daily Worker is apparently about to fold. The ghost walks with a bad limp and funds are fading. The past list of suckers and angels is dwindling to a mere trickle — if that. The Sunday Worker once had 80,000 circulation. Now it's 12,000. The daily list has dwindled to 5,500.

There have been some years in the past when the Russian mouthpiece in this country spoke freely and with vigor. Whether the financing then was wholly from the United States or whether an appreciable part came from Moscow may never be known. It isn't important.

However, a very substantial portion did originate in the United States. Even during its so-called "hey-day," the Worker had its hand out continually, the palm upturned and a beseeching look in its two bleary eyes. But the total resources were enough to keep the thing floundering along.

Now it is issuing its dying gasps and is about ready to go under. The New York Daily News says it will miss the Communist mouthpiece which "is losing money faster than the party is losing members. It has been a reliable indicator of enemy thinking—though you often had to wait a day or two until the local traitors had got word from Moscow about some new shift in the party line."

The remaining Reds are the diehards, those that advocate violence and they're the foundation of the revolutionary movement.

The Hat That He's Talking Through

David Lawrence Believes:

Dulles Should be 'Man of the Year'

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — If ever a man should be loved for the enemies he has made, it is John Foster Dulles, secretary of state. He should be the "Man of the Year" in world affairs — not Nikita Khrushchev.

For, while it may be plausible to choose the Communist dictator as the "Devil of the Year" on the basis of the amount of evil he has been responsible for in making news throughout 1957, it is important that the man who has stood up for morality should be given even greater recognition.

The American secretary of state represents the conscience of the world today. He believes, for instance, that when the government of the United States drafts its youth for a defensive war in Korea —under the auspices of the United Nations—and then 142,000 casualties result, these young men who made the sacrifice should not be forgotten and that the aggressor—Red China—should not be rewarded by being given diplomatic recognition or a seat in the United Nations Security Council.

The critics sometimes call Dulles a "stern-faced Presbyterian," as if there were something wrong nowadays in being stern in dealing with gangsters and criminals in world affairs.

But the real story of the year is just why John Foster Dulles is the victim of such a worldwide barrage of criticism, and why so many Americans now begin to believe there must be something to it all:

1. Dulles is hated by the Communists because he has been unyielding. He refuses to surrender. He insists on international guarantees that mean something. He doesn't trust the men in the Kremlin. So the propaganda distributed every day and night throughout Asia and eastern Europe by shortwave radio stations controlled by Moscow keeps hammering away at him. Americans should be proud of a man who has earned this kind of enmity.

2. Dulles is disliked by commercial interests in Great Britain which maneuvered their own government into recognizing Red China and now want restrictions relaxed so they can get more trade. Americans should be proud of a man who puts moral principle above materialism.

3. Dulles was excoriated in the British press because he didn't let the British go ahead with their ill-fated military expedition into Egypt in 1956. He has never been forgiven for delivering a blow to British pride. It doesn't matter evidently that the British and French nearly went bankrupt and were ill-prepared for long years of guerrilla warfare in the Middle East, but Dulles is the scapegoat now. The refrain is that "he didn't let us finish the job in Suez." The truth is he prevented a global war, and privately many diplomats in Europe agree with him on that issue. A man who helped to prevent a big war should win worldwide acclaim, not denunciation.

4. Dulles is hated in the Middle East by Nasser, who played a double game—secretly negotiating arms deals with Moscow while negotiating for American funds to build the Aswan Dam. But Dulles exposed the duplicity of Nasser and steered a wise course in the United Nations to keep the Arabs from destroying Israel. Yet in New York City there are influential political elements which are antagonistic to Dulles because they feel he has not been a vehement partisan of Israel.

5. Finally, there are financial interests which stand to profit by the export of more dollars to the rest of the world in the form of grants and loans to carry on "bold and imaginative policies" in the "neutral" and "uncommitted" countries. Because Dulles has some regard for the limits of the American taxpayers' pocketbook, he is despised in certain financial quarters in New York, London and Paris. This is the kind of enmity an American secretary of state ought to be proud to have earned.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Expect Stomach Trouble If You Wolf Your Food

The title of one of my free pamphlets is "Yankee Stomach." That's the name I give to these familiar complaints: hyperacidity, sour stomach, heartburn, hunger pain, acid eructations, waterbrash, uneasiness from fullness after eating, bloating by gas, general crankiness and irritability engendered by these discomforts.

DR. BRADY

I do tell in the pamphlet about a simple remedy which countless correspondents have assured me is the most effective relief for Yankee stomach symptoms. The remedy doesn't cure anything, and it would be foolish to take it for any other purpose except as needed for present relief.

In Yankee Stomach, I tell also what I believe is the primary cause of Yankee Stomach in most instances—impairment of mastication by loss of teeth. Unquestionably American teeth are the poorest in the world, with the possible exception of English teeth.

Americans and Englishmen brush their teeth more than any other people. The credulous customers who practice the rite and make their children practice it harbor an idiotic notion that it prevents cavities, caries and decay—despite the obvious fact that cavities, caries and decay are at least as prevalent among tooth-brushers as among those who do not practice the rite.

IT'S UP TO YOU

True, mastication and insalivation of food and the swallowing of the bolus are under control of the will. That is to say, you can chew the food properly (if you are not a dental cripple) and give the ptyalin a chance to act upon the starch in your food—which is an important part of the digestive process; or, if you're a glutton, toothless or unteachable, you can wolf it down in a hurry, regardless of the consequent derangement of the gastric, pancreatic, hepatic (liver, gall bladder, bile) and intestinal stages of the digestive process.

All of these digestive functions, from the instant the food has been swallowed, are controlled by the autonomic (sympathetic, automatic) nervous system, just as breathing and the heartbeat are when you're asleep or unconscious.

The function of peristalsis (the rhythmic or wavelike movements which propel the digesting food or residues along through the bowel) are as subject to such derangement as is the flow of bile or the secretion of insulin.

So is constipation and colon derangement or, as the sophomorons like to call it, "mucous colitis."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Several Answer Earlier Question

In response to D.A.'s letter asking about used Christmas cards, people at Lapeer State Training Home enjoy them and use them to make things. Send them to the home, or to us and we will be glad to see that they are delivered. The people at Lapeer enjoy the littlest things, and we should try to make their lives a little happier when it can be done so easily.

D.A. wonders what to do with Christmas cards. We use and enjoy ours twice.

Next Christmas I will look them over and use them to make name tags and cards to attach to gifts. I cut some so they are folders, some square, oblong, etc., so I get several from each card with a pretty design on it. It's thrifty, easy and fun.

There's also another reason I'm glad I save cards. Twice recently in going through last year's cards I found one from a departed member of the family, and I was able to save it.

Has Resolution for Motorists

With the new year coming up, let's all resolve to be better drivers and cut down the terrible death and accident rate on the highways. Just a little extra care and concentration would do wonders if each and every driver were to observe it. Where can you find an easier way to save lives?

'Could Coffee Be Cause of Cancer?'

Doctors and scientists have done a lot of research on the effects of cigarets in producing cancer, but I wonder if they've ever thought about doing the same with coffee. With people drinking more and more coffee and the cancer rate rising so rapidly, it seems that there might be some connection there. Caffein isn't good for people, and when you see all the coffee some people drink, it might be possible that the caffein could upset the body's chemical balance.

Portraits

By JAMES J. METCALFE

If work seems hard to tackle when . . . The holidays are gone . . . Be grateful that you have your health . . . And life is going on . . . That God allowed your heart to beat . . . Into another year . . . To be with loving relatives . . . And all your friends so dear . . . Thank Him for home and hearth and for . . . Your opportunities . . . And for the inspiration of . . . Your treasured memories . . . Behold the newborn calendar . . . With holidays in store . . . That may be even happier . . . Than those you had before . . . So be sincerely grateful for . . . The task you have to do . . . As it is obvious that God . . . Is really good to you.

Soviet Sputnik I May Die a Lonely Death Today

By DON GUY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Sputnik I, which burst upon the world last Oct. 4 as history's first man-made satellite, may die quietly today unseen by human eyes.

American astronomers say the 23-inch, 184-pound sphere has been "lost" for the past month. They base their prediction of its death on orbit calculations carried forward from observations made in late November and early December.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, says it's impossible to pinpoint just where the final flaming plunge into the earth's atmosphere may take place.

The Smithsonian has alerted its 150 Moonwatch teams throughout the world to maintain a death watch for the Soviet satellite. Observation of its final dive, when it should look like a fireball or meteorite, is of the utmost scientific importance, the observatory says.

Russia has said they expect the satellite to end its orbit early this month. The Soviets have issued reports on the satellite's total revolutions but no information on its position. The number of trips since launching—over 1,350 this morning—can be calculated without any observations.

In its nearly three months the satellite has traveled approximately 35 million miles at upwards of 18,000 miles per hour. This is about equal to the minimum distance to Mars, more than enough to reach Venus and more than one third of the distance to the sun.

The dog-carrying Sputnik II, launched Nov. 3 in a much higher orbit, is expected to last several more months.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Tells Way to Improve Memory

Despite Mr. Wolff's facetious remarks below, there is a definite strategy for improving your memory. In a few weeks you can astound yourself by the hundreds of new names you can easily recall. And if you are slow to absorb material from your textbooks, by all means send for the booklet below and learn the shortcuts to more efficient studying.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-388: Maurice Wolff sent me the humorous message reproduced below.

But before quoting him, I must explain that I had earlier described some of the methods by which a person can improve his memory.

DR. CRANE

One of these consists of dissecting the name and linking all or part of it with other familiar ideas.

For example, Mrs. Crane and I recently drove across Indiana, passing through Logansport.

"I wonder how Logansport received its name?" she asked me.

"Well, I'd guess from some pioneer family named Logan," I replied.

"And because that early settler built his house here at a dock or port on the Wabash River, it probably was named Logansport.

"Remember, however, that General John A. Logan was head of the G. A. R. and first set May 30th as our nationwide Memorial Day. So maybe he might have been involved."

REDUCTIO AD ABSURDUM

There is a strategy in debate called "reductio ad absurdum." It is employed to disprove a proposition by showing the absurdity to which it leads when carried to its logical conclusion.

Well, Mr. Wolff was only being facetious in his comments, but they are clever, so I'll share them with you:

"Dr Crane," he began "your recent article on memory training carried the advice that we associate new or strange names with known similarities.

"Well, sir, that calls to mind a shoe shine boy who works at the golf club to which I belong.

"He seemed to use your psychological advice, but invaribly got mixed up in doing so.

"For example, he usually called me 'Mr. Fox,' though my name is Wolff.

"Another member of the club was named Plummer, so this boy generally addressed him as 'Mr. Carpenter.'

"The boy's boss, in charge of the lockers, was named Lester Moore, and he was known to us members simply as 'Less.'

"Obviously, his name was a real paradox for we addressed him as 'Less Moore.'

"And that stumped the bootblack boy completely. So you see, Dr. Goose, your system doesn't always work out as planned. Or am I wrong, Dr. Heron?"

MEMORY SLIPS

Recently I attended a party where there was another Mr. Wolf present. He had been introduced to a group of elderly men, including a rather jealous middle-aged husband.

The latter, when he left the group, expressed his pleasure in meeting the new people therein, but turned to Mr. Wolf and innocently said:

"I'm very happy to have met you, Mr. Skunk."

Why did he inadvertently say "skunk" instead of "fox" or even "dog."

Perhaps this is what we call in psychology a purposive accident. He may have associated a "wolf" with a man who tries to steal another's wife or sweetheart.

"Such a low character is a skunk in my estimation," may have been this man's thought.

So when he left the group, he made that slip of the tongue and thus bade farewell to "Mr. Skunk."

Memory improvement, however, is serious business and follows definite rules, so send for my booklet "How to Improve Your Memory & Study More Efficiently," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It is a great boon to high school and college students.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Debris Cleared

Million Spectators Line Streets in Pasadena to Watch Event

Bleacher seats which blossom annually for a few days on lawns and parkways are coming down. Paper, discarded lunch boxes, blossoms fallen here and there from the 62 floats symbolizing "Daydreams in Flowers" are being carted away.

Two women died of heart attacks at the parade, Mrs. Myrtle Markel, 72, San Diego, and Mrs. Cira Cardinal, 61, Daly City, Calif.

Before parade time an auto went out of control after a collision and plowed into the crowd, fortunately at only about 10 m.p.h. Five persons were hospitalized as a result and 13 others were treated at the scene, staying on to watch the parade.

Police Chief Clarence Morris, who surveyed the traffic situation from a helicopter, said that, considering everything, the 1,450 police officers on duty managed to keep things moving well. Morris said it was the greatest auto and pedestrian traffic onslaught in Pasadena's history.

While Ohio State was beating Oregon 10-7 in the Rose Bowl, there was a fire in the arena, as has happened before. Firemen said cigarettes dropped in cracks in the concrete stands caused the minor, smouldering blaze in wooden forms below.

The floats are on exhibition today and until tomorrow in Pasadena's Victory Park.

Safecrackers Rob Insurance Company

Safecrackers broke into Life of Virginia Insurance Co. office, 1080 W. Huron St., early yesterday and took $113 from the safe, Waterford Township Police said.

Police said they also broke into two adjoining offices, taking the tools from one and $4 from a cash box in the other.

A rear-door window in the Booth & Patterson Bookkeeping Co., 1090 W. Huron, was broken to gain entry into the building in which the three offices are located, police said. The tools were in this office.

Waterford Fire Hits Felice Barber Shop

The first fire of the new year in Waterford Township gutted the sales office and barber shop of Ernie Felice at 4823 Dixie Highway just after midnight yesterday.

The fire started in a bed located in living quarters at the rear of the building, firemen said. They estimated $4,000 damage to the $18,000 building.

The loss was covered by insurance, Felice said.

Name Ferndale Mayor to Head Exchange Day

FERNDALE — Mayor Bruce D. Garbutt of Ferndale has been named chairman of Michigan's Mayor Exchange Day, May 5.

A highlight of Michigan Week, May 4 - 10, the exchange finds nearly every Michigan city in the state switching chief executives for a day. Drawings for the exchange will be made in Lansing this month.

for '58 Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you want to be on the safe side, you'll start right now keeping records of what you receive and spend on expense accounts.

The detailed information will come in handy when you start making out your 1958 income tax returns 15 months from now.

The law requires that expense accounts be reported, but the law has been thoroughly ignored—and with impunity—by most taxpayers. The internal Revenue Service gave many of these a scare when it indicated in October that the 1957 returns would have a blank for listing the totals.

In the face of widespread protests that few taxpayers had the records they would need for such reports, the Revenue Service backed away from any major change for 1957 returns, but a spokesman added:

"The taxpayer is now on notice

Everybody Can't Like You, Says Sid Caesar

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—"Everybody can't like you—understand?" said Sid Caesar, trying to explain how it feels to be coming back on television after being bounced by a likes you, there's something wrong with you—understand?

"That's why I don't feel bitter. I feel sad. Sure, I feel sad sometimes. But it's a matter of I love television and I don't play games when I love something. That's it, that's it."

Mr. Caesar is a nervous man and a sensitive one. When his show was dropped from the screen last May 25, because it had fallen to a 17 rating, he thought he'd quit.

"I was hurt, sure. I thought I'd retire. But no. Because no matter what you take with you on the vacation—your socks, your shorts and slacks, your golf clubs—you've got to take this along too" (he tapped his forehead).

'TEN YEARS ENOUGH'

"My wife didn't want me to go back to work. She said 10 years is enough, but I say all right, I'm 35 now." He twitched a shy smile. "So where do I jump?"

The new ABC show, called "Sid Caesar Invites You," begins Sunday night, Jan. 26, and features his first and most popular partner, Imogene Coca of whom he says, "She's really a changed woman. She's had a lot of tragedy—wheeew, has she had trouble. But this thing picked her up again, and she's funnier and more, more fluid than she used to be."

ALMOST A VERBAL BLUSH

The man millions of fans believe to be the most masterful comedian in the world today has a way of talking that is almost a verbal blush. He gropes for words and philosophies that will convey what he means, yet hurt no one. For instance, when asked if he's "sticking his neck out" in accepting another comedy show in view of the publicized view that comedians are poison these days, he says: "Well, the main part of where I go against all these people who make trends is that I'm going on once a week. They think it should be no more than once a month. But I feel like, say, there's a shoe store that's open all the time, 24 hours a day, and say you break your heel. You know they're there all the time, and reliable, so naturally you go there, don't you?"

ALWAYS LOYAL FOLLOWING

Thus, if Caesar is easy to get to, and reliable, he figures he'll always have a loyal audience. And why, then, was his rating falling?

Caesar fought long before he captured the kindly words. "This I will venture to say—the ratings people take the ratings, and maybe they have a wonderful system I don't know about. But when you put 300 sets in a place where 8-million people live, well . . . I figure if you get a rating of 75 with 3-million sets, that's pretty good. But it would be even better coverage to get a rating of 15, with 60-million sets."

STRIVING FOR FRIENDLINESS

The new show has no format. "The premise is that there is no premise. But I can tell you that some of the comedy will be based on showing people they're not alone. Like you can't comb your part straight, I become your friend because I can't either.

"Or it's like if you put a wounded soldier in a private room, he's miserable. But in a ward, with other wounded soliders, it's much easier. Sure, he'll cry a little at night. But in the daytime, he's happier."

It's well known in the industry that Sid Caesar is a perfectionist and the greatest worrier among showmen. He concedes it. Undoubtedly he is crazy to go back to the scene of his greatest distress.

"Look, though. A woman has a child, and while she's giving birth, she says 'no more, no more.' Then she has another one, and another one . . ."

Hal Boyle Says:

Crystal Ball Indicates Fortunate Year in '58

NEW YORK (AP) — Once a year we try to be a fortune teller, and once again we must say: "This year is fortunate."

It is a welcome reading in a crystal ball too often cloudy. The usual things in 1958 will disturb the word pattern — things like earthquakes, people, weather and doubt.

The endless changing pattern of change itself will enforce our lives as always, closing doorways on the familiar by a pull, and by a push opening new doors to new and differing days and other ways.

A man will invent a doll which he will guarantee will not weep, close its eyes, walk, or wet its diaper. It will be called "Dumb Doll," and it will sell 12 million copies. Children will cry to own this strange toy, so different from themselves.

The Russians will throw a Sputnik toward the moon and miss it, but won't announce it.

The British will hit the moon—and if someone observes this and makes a complaint about it the British Home Office will force the British Foreign Office to come clean.

In the National League it is ha to fault Milwaukee, and in the American League after the Yankees it is hard to predict Kansas City less than a close last.

There are other possibilities.

In the year ahead thinking may replace bowling as the national pastime; it must also be considered that people, weary of outside entertainment, will look more into themselves for refreshment. This could build larger stadiums within the heart. Or it could happen in a further year. A gain will be made in 1958.

It will be observed that Khrushchev, somber with responsibility, is drinking less than he was known to drink before. This could be bad or good.

In France, a premier will remain in power longer than any other premier since the end of the last World War. This could be bad or good.

In the Middle East there is no question about what can happen. It is bad or good. These things are certain.

For the rest of it, the pattern of 1958 seems rasonably clear.

In North Carolina in March a lady driver will hear a strange buzzing in her car. On investigation it will turn out to be a snake. How did it get there?

In Minnesota in June another lady will hear a strange noise in her car, and it will turn out to be a baby alligator, and the question will be: How did it get there?

In California in September a wife will unexpectedly greet her husband returning from a business trip, and there'll be a girl in the front seat.

The big puzzle of 1958 will be not how the snake got aboard a car in North Carolina, or how an alligator achieved it in Minnesota, but how the girl knew the car was going to California. The solution will come in court in 1960.

The pack load a U.S. Army foot soldier will now have to carry on march is only 55 pounds, including 25 pounds of weapons and ammunition.

Distilling Human Skin to Make Better Oil

MADISON, Wis. (INS) — Two University of Wisconsin professors have devised a method of "harvesting" enough natural human skin oil so that large-scale analysis can be made to help in developing better skin lotions and oils.

Most printing inks are a mixture of certain pigments and a varnish.

Inject Brains of Rats to Change Personality

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (INS)—Evidence that personality traits may be changed or at least affected by injecting chemicals into the brain was presented this week at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Dr. Alan E. Fisher, of the University of Pittsburgh said a "wide range of response patterns," including male sex behavior in females and vice versa, have been produced by this method in his experiments with rats.

The youthful psychologist, who hopes to carry the experiments to the level of man by using portions of human brain removed in surgery, commented that it would be worth a million dollars if someone found a chemical that would produce intelligence.

This might be approached, he said, by injecting an ability to concentrate. He added that "possible implications of findings to human behavior and mental illness will be cautiously considered."

A second expert at the same meeting in Indianapolis disclosed evidence that Americans fear punishment much more than they seek rewards. A third said "rehabilitation" procedures are being applied too late in the treatment of the mentally ill.

Fisher, who began his experiments with rats at McGill University in Canada and continued them at the University of Wisconsin before joining the Pittsburgh staff, is working under a grant from the U.S. Public Health Service.

He said fear, rage, passion, tranquility and many other emotions and impulses have been produced in rats by simple injections of chemicals into the brain.

The animals have been made thirsty by injection of a salt solution and Dr. Fisher believes they can readily be made hungry by use of a serum from an animal that is starving.

Improvement of the human race and the prevention of horrible crimes by this method is an obvious possibility, he said. He cautioned, however, that nothing has been found as yet that is particularly effective against sex aberrations or other crime-connected ills.

The expert said the human brain should not be considered exclusively as a chemistry laboratory—that both environmental and organic factors are important.

Nevertheless, he said, amazing results are being achieved in the trend toward use of drugs and other chemicals. Although a few rats have had seizures and have died when injections were first tried, he said there is no evidence the method will be dangerous when procedures are known.

One major result already achieved, he said, is that in many institutions the mentally ill are being treated successfully with strong tranquilizer durgs. This has eliminated in these institutions the electric shock treatment that formally was approved.

Dr. Harold R. Martin of the Nebraska Psychological Institute contended that "rehabilitation"—which generally means allowing a patient to engage in a familiar activity—is being delayed too long.

Martin said that too often rehabilitation is regarded as "the last phase of treatment," whereas actually the patient during the acute stages of his mental illness may be suffering mainly from "separation from his normal function as a member of a home and and a community."

Dr. Arnold M. Binder, of Indiana University, described recognition tests which showed that the results were drastically affected when punishment was introduced. But he said offering rewards such as praise produced no effect at all.

The punishment was a mild electric shock. Subjects soon learned to avoid the choice of objects such as basketballs and tennis balls with which this punishment could be associated.

The reward was the experimenter's response of "good" when an object related to the reward category was chosen. Dr. Binder said that there was "no significant tendency for subjects" to name certain objects associated with approval.

One-fourth of the U.S. population living on farms in 1932 received only one-nineteenth of the U.S. income.

"The retail prices of a number of other industrial goods have been reduced," the radio said.

Asians, Africans Heading Home

Line of Communists Parroted by Many Who Attended Conference

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Delegates to the first unofficial Asian-African People's Conference headed home today with a wide range of propaganda resolutions, many of them parroting the Communist line.

The 42 nations and colonies at the weeklong conference which ended yesterday were not represented by official government spokesmen, but by 400 leaders of groups which in many cases are frowned on or outlawed at home.

A chief event of the conference was a Soviet offer of economic aid to all Asian and African countries.

A last-minute attempt to delete President Eisenhower's name from a resolution attacking the Eisenhower Doctrine and the Baghdad Pact failed at the final plenary session.

In other resolutions, the conference condemned imperialism "in all its forms," attacked military and political pacts and foreign military bases and condemned the European Common Market as a step to "strangle the aspirations of people for independence from colonial domination."

It called for the independence of Oman, which is now ruled by a sultan friendly to Britain, the unification of Korea and nationwide free elections to unify Viet Nam, Red China's admission to the United Nations, disarmament and a flat ban on nuclear weapon tests.

It recommended that Asian and African countries have more representation in the United Nations and decided to set up a permanent conference secretariat in Cairo to "popularize the decisions" of the Asian-African meeting.

Ship Raided by Pirates

JAKARTA (AP)—The Panamanian ship Stureborg today was reported pirated near Ampana, in the central Celebes of East Indonesia. Antara, the Indonesian news agency, said the 2,358-ton ship was bound for Celebes ports with a cargo of food. The report said the pirates escaped with considerable cash and rice.

Joins New York, Rhode Island Routes

Connecticut to Open 'Pike

GREENWICH, Conn. (INS) — Connecticut throws open its brand new $464-million super super-highway to traffic today with ribbon cutting ceremonies at both ends of the 129-mile turnpike.

The New York-Rhode Island connector is designed to relieve the heavy congestion, particularly along the Boston Post Road (Route 1), and speed traffic north from New York City along the coast.

To do this the state constructed the longest urban section of modern expressway in the nation. It built a six to eight lane highway through a dense coastal urban area from the New York state line to east of New Haven.

The turnpike passes through 28 towns along the entire stretch, and the cost of land alone came to $71 million.

Over all, the turnpike cost $3.6 million a mile to build—a national highwater mark for a project of its length.

One end of the turnpike will connect with the New England thruway via the Byram River Bridge at Port Chester, N. Y. This connection is expected to be completed by Dec. 1, 1958, but for the next 11 months Greenwich police face a traffic jam as vehicles are routed through the city.

On the Rhode Island end the turnpike, which narrows to four lanes east of New Haven, spills into Route 6, a two-lane road, about 23 miles from Providence.

The posted speed on the turnpike will be sixty miles an hour, the fastest in the state. However state officials point out the road will be the safest.

SAFER NIGHT TRAVEL

Grades run to a maximum of three per cent, the curves do not exceed three degrees, and 53 miles of lighted highway will make for safer night travel.

There will be eight toll stations and one toll bridge. A non-commuter will have to shell out $2.10 to drive a car the entire length of the pike, and a bus or four-axle truck will be charged $5.45 for the 129-mile ride. Some 40 million toll transactions are looked for in the first year.

The traveler will be well serviced 24 hours a day by fourteen service stations, and eight eating places.

Seven living ex-governors of Connecticut will be on hand for dedication ceremonies of what Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff has termed "one of the great accomplishments in Connecticut history."

Mrs. Elizabeth McConaughy, widow of the late Gov. James McConaughy, will cut the ribbon at the 16-lane interchange at Greenwich at 9:30 a.m. The huge official party will then journey the length of the pike to Killingly, Ct., where similar ceremonies will be held at 1 p.m., with John H. Trumbull, the oldest living ex-governor, cutting the tape.

At 2:30 p.m. state highway department crews will pull away the barriers at the turnpike's 90 interchanges and the traffic will begin to flow.

Denver Druggist Finds Customer of Integrity

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A Denver druggist has his own nomination for the world's most honest man.

Last December, a man entered the drug store, made a purchase and went away. Six months later, he turned up at the drug store again with a check for $5 and told the druggist:

"Last Christmas, you were confused and gave me five bucks too much change when I was here. I came to return it."

His Modesty Almost Causes His Death

Policeman Jack Whitehouse fought his way through smoke to rescue O'Neill, 50, from the latter's burning dwelling yesterday. O'Neill, sleeping in the nude, resisted rescue efforts, Whitehouse said.

"He insisted he couldn't go outside looking like that," the policeman reported. In fact, O'Neill even swung a pung before he realized the officer's intentions were only helpful.

During the struggle Whitehouse inhaled smoke, and after he got O'Neill out of the house the officer had to be taken to a hospital. His condition is fair.

Firemen blamed a cigarette for the fire.

Hunter's Body Found

DETROIT (AP) — A body identified as that of a missing St. Clair Shores duck hunter was found in Lake St. Clair yesterday. Police said he was Kenneth A. McGowan, 41, missing since Nov. 13. A hunting companion, Howard Frazier, 51, also of St. Clair Shores, also disappeared after their boat overturned. Frazier's body has not been found.

Almost one-half of the retail stores in the U. S. are so small that they need to hire no employes.

Famed Photographer Edward Weston Dies

CARMEL, Calif. (AP) — Famed landscape and nature photographer Edward Weston died yesterday at his studio in Carmel Highlands. He was 71.

Weston's creative camera work was recognized the world over. Critics had characterized him as "another Rembrandt."

Although in poor health for several years, Weston had recently begun publishing in color, a medium of photography he had seldom worked with.

He started his career when he was 16 after being given a camera by his father. He came to California on a vacation trip from his hometown of Highland Park, Ill., when he was 18 and stayed to open a commercial portrait studio in Glendale.

He gave up commercial photography in 1923 and later established his studio on Wildcat Hill. It was from this studio that he began roaming the west, taking the thousands of scenic photographs that gave him fame.

Deaths Elsewhere

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Retired Marine Corps Brig. Gen. Howard N. Kenyon, 59, who won the Navy Cross during World War II, died yesterday. Kenyon, who retired about five years ago, was decorated for his part in the Iow Jima campaign.

Two Meetings Scheduled Tomorrow

Ike Returns to Washington for Final Work on Budget

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower returns to the White House today to complete his work on the new federal budget and on his State of the Union message.

The President intends to return to Gettysburg for the weekend after meetings tomorrow with the Cabinet and with the newly constituted Civil Rights Commission.

Eisenhower virtually completed his budget work earlier this week at his farm home, but the White House said decisions still remain to be made on a few military items. There were indications these concerned the growing rocket and missile program.

The President put in some work yesterday on the State of the Union message, which will be mainly a review of the nation's defense posture with recommendations for improving it. Details of his program for home front legislation will come in his Jan. 13 budget message.

While the White House has declined to announce the anticipated budget total, it has been made plain the figure will be higher—perhaps two billion dollars higher—than this year's 72 billion dollars.

The final budget figures will come before the Cabinet tomorrow.

Eisenhower also will participate tomorrow in the organization meeting of the six-member Civil Rights Commission headed by Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University.

The civil rights group was set up by Congress last year on Eisenhower's recommendation, to investigate such matters as alleged economic and other discrimination against Negroes.

The President spent a quiet New Year's Day with his family. Besides working on the State of the Union message, he addressed to the leaders of the Soviet Union a promise that this country "will extend every effort" for better relations between the two countries in the coming year. He replied to a New Year's message from Russia's three top leaders expressing hope for more friendship and cooperation between the two countries in 1958.

Break-In Reported at Rochester Clinic

ROCHESTER — A physicians' and dentist's clinic, 411 and 413 Woodward St., was broken into New Year's Eve and $200 was taken from a combination file and safe in the dental office of Dr. James I. Arcure.

In addition, the offices of two physicians were ransacked.

The break-in and theft were discovered yesterday morning by Dr. Arcure, Rochester Police Chief Sam Howlett said.

Entrance was gained by breaking glass in the front doors of the divided clinic, the chief said.

No narcotics were reported missing.

Dog Saved From Lake by Waterford Firemen

The little dog, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Ettinger, 2831 Orangegrove St., ventured too far from the shore line and went down.

Red's Condition Serious but Slowly Improving

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Comedian Red Skelton's condition is described as slowly improving but still serious.

An attack of asthma and lung congestion carried Skelton to the brink of death Monday night.

"I can't honestly say that he is past the danger stage yet," his physician, Dr. Garth K. Graham, said last night.

DSR Collections Drop

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's street railway system (DSR) collected 191-million fares in 1957, a loss of over 61 per cent since the 1945 high of 492-million fares. DSR officials predicted the fares will drop to 183-million in 1958.

Head-On Crash Kills 9 in South Dakota

Two other members of the family were injured, including a 14-year-old boy listed in critical condition at Eureka Charity Hospital.

The accident, a headon collision, occurred just after midnight three miles south of Eureka in northern South Dakota. Dead were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beck and four of their children.

Three young teenage boys, riding in the other vehicle, also were killed. They were identified as Clyde Krein, Larry Wiedmeir and Marvin Neuharth, all of Eureka.

Officials said it required two hours to free the wounded and recover the bodies from the twisted wreckage. Eight of the nine died almost immediately, while a ninth died several hours later at the hospital.

One of the Beck's children, a 6-year-old girl, was only slightly injured.

Kalamazoo School Head Dies of Heart Attack

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Dr. Loy Norrix, Kalamazoo superintendent of schools since 1937, collapsed at his office today and died of a heart attack. He was 61.

Dr. Norrix was president of the Michigan Assn. of School Administrators and came to Kalamazoo from Houghton, Mich., where he was superintendent between 1931 and 1937.

He was a native of Carbondale, Ill., and attended Southern Illinois Normal there. Before going to Houghton he was superintendent at Gorham, Ill., and then at Phebes, Ill.

Survivors include two sons, Loy Jr., of San Diego, and James, of Salt Lake City.

The original painting of "Washington Crossing the Delaware" by Emanuel Leutze was destroyed in a 1942 Allied air raid on Bremen, Germany. German - born Leutze painted the picture in 1851 for the United States Congress. When fire marred the canvas, he sold it to the German Government. He did a copy for the Congress, but it was refused. The copy now is in the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

Still Tops Ferry Take

Bridge Revenue Drops

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Revenue from the new Straits of Mackinac Bridge dropped $252,100 last month but topped the ferry take for the same month of 1956.

In the first 30 days after the bridge was opened Nov. 1, 140,300 vehicles crossed the five-mile span connecting Michigan's two peninsulas, for a gross of $395,100.

The ferries carried only 98,000 vehicles across the straits in November of 1956 and took in $295,000.

The figures were contained in a year-end report yesterday by Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

He predicted "straits traffic such as this area never envisioned" with the coming of spring and the bridge dedication celebration in June.

All money collected until January 1959 will go into a fund to give the bridge a cushion for future interest payments. The original construction funds included money for interest payments until that date.

When the bridge starts making its own interest payments of about $12,000 a day, any surplus will go into the cushion fund until it contains enough for two years of interest payments. After that, payments will start on retiring the bonds that financed construction.

Probers Map 1958 Inquiries

McClellan Will Summon Early January Confab to Set Dates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probers plan a quick start this month on another year of investigations dealing with gunplay, extortion, bribery and conniving in labor disputes.

The special investigating committee's chairman, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), has said he will call an early January meeting to set the dates and chart at least a tentative priority listing for the various inquiries planned.

The 1958 hearings will cap months of undercover inquiry into allegations against a half dozen or more labor unions, a variety of employers, a score or so of gangsters who became officials of unions and business firms, and racketeers allegedly masquerading as consultants to employers on labor problems.

The committee's 1957 hearings dealt largely with allegations of corruption in the Teamsters Union.

The committee has listed for scrutiny in the coming year violence in strikes involving Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers Union (UAW), and charges of corruption in carpeters, butchers, operating engineers, and hotel and restaurant workers and bartenders international unions.

It also will explore charges of improper practices in the steelworkers union's 1957 election, in which David McDonald was re-elected president.

The UAW probe — an offbeat affair in which no one has accused anyone of lining his pockets with union funds — is getting off to a stormy start, amid speculation that it could erupt into a partisan row among committee members.

The Senate created the special committee of four Democrats and four Republicans last January. Its double assignment was to explore for evidence of racketeering and other evils in labor and management circles, and propose new laws to help clean up the conditions.

Its half million dollar budget is virtually spent, and the committee is expected to ask the Senate for from a quarter to a half million dollars more to finance the second year's investigations. It has a staff of nearly 100 full and part time investigators.

Red China Fires Chief of Chekiang Province

HONG KONG (AP) — Red China has fired Sha Wen-han, governor of the important coastal province of Chekiang, and three other top provincial officials accused with him of being rightists.

Sha, Vice Gov. Yang Hsu-i, Provincial Public Prosecutor Peng Jui-lin and Trade Department chief Sun Chang-lu had been read out of the Communist party last month for questioning the actions of the Peiping leadership.

The sixth session of the Provincial Congress fired them from their government posts Dec. 30, a delayed dispatch from the New China News Agency reported today.

First federal tax on gasoline was imposed in 1932.

Nixon to Travel in Record Jet on Official Trips

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon will have a record-breaking Air Force jet transport available for his use on official trips.

The plane, a modified transport version of the Boeing KC135 jet tanker, is the same craft in which Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay set new records in November on flights to and from Buenos Aires.

Nixon will use the four-engine plane, which travels 600 miles an hour, as a time saver on his flights to various parts of the country. He also may use it if he flies to Europe later this year as tentatively planned.

The vice president heretofore has done much of his flying by commercial airline, often on coach flights. There have been reports that the Secret Serve contended the vice president needs greater protection.

Gives Away 1,000 Pairs of Shoes to Needy Tots

DALLAS (AP)—Brother Bill Herrod, the West Dallas minister who yesterday handed out nearly 1,000 pairs of shoes to needy children, is glad now that rain forced postponement of the shoe party, originally set for Christmas Day.

After the postponement was announced, one Dallas department store sent him 300 pairs of shoes for distribution at his combination clinic, mission and recreation center.

Herrod has announced that in the future shoe parties will be held on New Year's Day so that all stores will have an opportunity to donate shoes from their after-Christmas inventory.

Seized Britons Reported Safe

French Check on Six Who Had to Land DC4 in Red Albania

LONDON (AP)—The French legation in Communist Albania reported today that five men and a woman aboard a British cargo plane forced down by Red fighters are safe and well.

Britain has not had a diplomatic mission in the Soviet satellite on the Adriatic since 1946 and asked the French to investigate the downing of the plane. The Albanians accused the aircraft of trespassing.

Tirana radio said the plane entered Albanian air space in the Seman River area.

"The plane was informed by the air force of the People's Republic of Albania, using the established international signals, that it had violated Albanian air space and was forced to land on an Albanian airfield," the broadcast said.

The Vlone-Seman area of Albania projects westward to narrow the Adriatic at its mouth so that a plane flying down the sea would have to turn to avoid going over Albania.

Planetarium Educating Public on Constallations

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — With two satellites already circling the earth and as many as 15 more expected likely in 1958, the Fels Planetarium yesterday opened a new show to acquaint citizens with constellations.

"Knowledge of the stars and star groups or constellations can be of tremendous aid in tracking the paths of these man-made moons," said Dr. I. M. Levitt, Fels director, who gave the 15 figure for possible launchings in the coming year.

He said the lectures on constellations were part of a National Girl Scouts astronomy program for Janueary.

Church membership in the U. S. increased by about 22 million during the 1940's as compared with a five million gain in the 1930's.

Combination Was There, but Thieves Ignored It

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Hoping that burglars wouldn't damage the safe at his wholesale electrical goods firm here, Joe Barnett had the combination neatly taped on top of the vault.

Nevertheless, burglars worked at least two hours unsuccessfully trying to hammer the safe open.

They'd have been disappointed anyway, Barnett said. He kept business papers there, no cash.

Lake of the Woods, partly in Canada and partly in the U. S., has a total area of about 2,000 square miles.

Cement Record Broken

PARIS — French cement production last year totaled a record 11,190,000 tons, 6 per cent more than in 1955 and 214 per cent above the normal prewar year of 1938. Domestic consumption also increased, and only 630,000 tons were available for export.

Tornado Warnings Frequent; 2 Struck

1957 Set Records for Heat, Cold, Much Rain

Mother Nature was kept busy with headline and record breaking weather in the Pontiac area during 1957, as a summary of the major weather happenings reveals.

On the 10th of January, Pontiac was paralyzed by the first heavy snow of the year brought in on the winds of a blizzard.

Citizens reported snow drifts up to 14 inches on the outskirts of the city.

Not to be outdone by the snow, the mercury broke a 64-year-old record by plunging down to -5, three degrees below the record for the same day set back in 1893.

"Glen Groundhog" appeared Feb. 2, looked at his shadow and promptly reported six more weeks of winter. And unfortunately for winter weary residents, he was right.

The March lion padded into Pontiac on silent paws and on the 13th. Bermuda shorts and rolled-down convertible tops were the order of the day as the mercury broke an all time record with a high of 69 degrees.

Fair weather was short-lived as severe thunderstorms raged through the area on the 14th accompanied by tornado warnings.

SPRING SNOW

The first day of spring, March 20, was heralded in with ½ inch of snow.

April began uneventfully in Pontiac, while tornados slammed Texas causing death, injury and destruction.

Pontiac had its first breath of spring on April 19. At 5 p.m., the mercury had soared to 75 degrees and local citizens shed topcoats and scarves and took to the streets to enjoy the first warm weather of the year.

On the 24th a tornado and severe thunderstorm warnings came from the U.S. Weather Bureau. The 25th brought savage rains and black skies to the area. A "baby twister" hit on the 27th, lifting lumber from the Pontiac Lumber Company's yard, crashing it through the front window of the Father and Son Market and hitting nearby vehicles.

RAINS IN MAY

Outdoor enthusiasts found little pleasure in May's weather. It was wet! More than 3 and a half inches of rain fell in 15 days with more than two inches of it falling between the 17th and 18th. The showers extended from the 10th to the 25th.

June was wet and stormy.

A noon squall crashed into the county on the 13th. Winds up to 60 miles an hour tore down trees and wires, but the storm was over within 10 minutes.

Evening storms on the 14th were not as mild as the previous noon's. Rain driven by 60 mile-an-hour winds slashed into the area early in the evening, tearing down power lines, toppling trees and cutting off phone service. Black, swirling tornado formations were reported to the Sheriff's deputies throughout the county. Tornado warnings were issued between 8 p.m. and 10 p.m.

No twisters touched the ground in Oakland County, but they did strike Lapeer County, uprooting trees and barns.

On the 17th of June, the mecury soared to great heights reaching a blistering 94 degrees. This was one degree short of the record set in 1921.

Pontiac and the vicinity was threatened by floods on the 8th of July following severe thunderstorms. Two and a half inches of rain fell within 4 hours early in the morning.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. estimated more than 14,000 phones were out of service between Detroit and Saginaw.

The area blistered and burned the weekend of the 19th. The mercury reached 93 on the 19th and kept climbing, finally reaching a scorching 95 on the 21st. The heat relaxed somewhat during the week, but was up to 92 on the 28th and again hit 94 on the 29th.

21 DROWN

Twenty-one persons drowned in the state during the heat wave and the total number of deaths reported from accidents due to heat was 36.

August and September slipped by almost unnoticed as far as the weather was concerned. But by October, weather was back in the news.

The clear, autumn days of October lasting more than three weeks, caused a serious drought. Farm crops suffered and there was danger of forest and field fires.

The first frost of the season appeared on the night of October 11 and the morning of the 26th brought the first snow of the season. By afternoon heavy snow flurries had covered the area.

November came in dramatically, as heavy fog blanketed southern Michigan. Motorists were slowed while all air and water traffic was halted.

Icy air masses blustered into Pontiac on the 9th, bringing the first heavy snow fall of the season.

Gales up to 65 miles an hour lashed the vicinity blowing out plate glass windows at several local business places.

Beginning at 1 a.m., Nov. 19th, high, gusty winds up to 60 miles an hour swept through the area while the mercury dropped 25 degrees within six hours.

December was a month of extremes, hot an cold.

Old Man Winter bit into Pontiac early in the morning on the 11th, blasting the area with arctic winds and skidding the mercury to 8 degrees.

Nearly 200 tons of salt was used to relieve slippery roads and highways, the Pontiac Department of Public Works reported.

CITY NOT ALONE

Pontiac was not alone in its suffering. The cold snap extended from New England to the Northern Plains and down through Florida.

The coldest day of the month came on the 12th, as the city shivered at 7 degrees.

Mouse Named Rufus Goofs Up Experiment

Rufus and Goofus were two guaranteed male white mice. Rufus was placed on an unbalanced diet, while Goofus had meals which were a dietician's delight. This was to demonstrate the value of a balanced diet to the kids.

Goofus grew faster—for a while. Then Rufus breezed ahead with more weight and a nice smooth coat. Then Rufus produced 10 baby mice. Conclusion: Rufus is a she.

Crop Lands Treated

WASHINGTON — The Interior Department reports that during 1956 some 65,000,000 acres of crop land — one sixth of the nation's farm land devoted to crops — and more than 3,000,000 acres of forest were treated with three billion pounds of pesticides.

Queen Elizabeth Has Trouble With Mice

LONDON (AP)—The Queen of England has mice, and that's official.

The fact is disclosed in a new list of royal warrant holders — people who do business with the Queen and are entitled to advertise "By appointment to Her Majesty."

The list included the name of the British Ratting Co., a rodent control firm in East Grinstead. A company spokesman said his men catch mice for the Queen in her private houses, such as her country estate, Sandringham.

Security for You

Self-Employed Pay Higher Tax for 1957

By RAY HENRY

You self - employed persons should remember that your 1957 Social Security tax bill—due by April 15—is likely to be higher than it was last year.

You'll have to pay 3⅜ per cent of your net income up to $4,200 instead of the 3 per cent which you had to pay last year.

Thus, if you had a net income of at least $4,200 in 1957, your tax bill will be $141.75 (3⅜ per cent of $4,200). That's $15.75 or about 33 cents a week more than the tax you paid for 1956 if you had the same net income.

The tax has been raised to cover the cost of the disability payment program which was added to the Social Security system last year.

Employed persons started paying a higher tax on Jan. 1, 1957, in regular deductions from their wages as their part in financing the disability program.

But, you self-employed persons are just now being hit by the increase because you pay your Social Security tax only once a year along with your federal income tax.

The government form you must use to pay your self-employment tax will be sent to you with your regular federal income tax package. You should be getting it within the next few days.

The task of filling out the form is fairly simple once you've figured out your net earnings for the year. About all you have to do is to make sure you've correctly figured the amount of tax to be paid and have entered it and your net earnings for 1957 on the form.

Whatever the amount of the tax, you'll be expected to include a check, a money order or cash to cover it when you return your tax form to your district director of the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). This must be done by April 15.

Although you make the payment and send the special tax form to the IRS, both will be turned over to the Social Security Administration to become a permanent part of its record on you.

CHECK FIGURES CAREFULLY

It's from this record that your future Social Security payments are figured. So, if you make a mistake in your tax payment and it isn't caught by IRS or the Social Security people, the mistake is carried ove into the eventual computation of your payments.

Like your income tax, you have no choice as to whether you want to pay the Social Security tax. As long as you're covered by the Social Security law, paying the tax is compulsory.

If you're in doubt about whether some of your income should be considered as self - employment earnings for tax purposes, the nearest IRS or Social Security office will help you.

Find Teen Girl on Snowy Lawn

14-Year-Old Discovered in Near-Zero Weather After Leaving Party

FREEPORT, Ill. (AP) A 14-year-old girl was found unconscious early yesterday on a snowy lawn where she apparently had lain in near-zero weather for several hours after leaving a New Year's Eve party for teen-agers.

The girl, Georgia Stoessiger, was hospitalized with both legs and her feet frozen. Hospital authorities said she was in deep shock and unable to answer questions. They said it would be several days before it could be determined if amputation of the girl's legs would be necessary.

Police Chief Walter Marsh said there appeared no evidence of foul play. He said the girl's coat was missing but her shoes were found in the yard.

Marsh said Georgia had left home Tuesday night to visit a girl friend and had taken taxi fare for the trip home. When she failed to return home after midnight, her parents learned she had left her friend's home alone at 12:30 a.m. to go to a teen-age party.

More than four hours later Mr. and Mrs. John Rust, who live near the home where the party was held, found her lying in their yard and called police.

Noted Polio Fighters Set in 'Hall of Fame'

WARM SPRINGS, Ga. (AP)—Jacob von Heine, a German, first clearly identified polio as a medical target in 1840.

Today, he and 16 other polio fighters, including vaccine discoverer Joseph Salk, and a polio sufferer, Franklin D. Roosevelt, were honored in a Polio Hall of Fame.

In dedicating bronze busts of the 17, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis began a two-day celebration of its 20th anniversary.

Mrs. Roosevelt, widow of the President whose disability caused by polio dramatized the fight against the disease, said: "This 20th anniversary is the beginning of a new era in the control of disease—an era in which the National Foundation, supported by the American people, will go on to conquer other om mankind's ills."

About 300 doctors and other dignitaries attended the unveiling, including all except six of those honored in the Hall of Fame.

Guardsmen Back at Little Rock School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — Federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen were back on duty today at Little Rock's Central High School, where students return from the holidays to racially integrated classrooms.

The guardsmen returned to the school last night, entered the school building—apparently for a briefing, and then took up posts on the campus. They had been withdrawn since Dec. 19, when the school closed for the holidays.

The reappearance of the soldiers, part of the last 423 in federal service in connection with Central High's integration problems, ended speculation that the troops might not be replaced after the vacation pending further racial disturbance.

Move Up at Times

Korean Art Is Exhibited in America

U.S. Has Chance to See Culture of Asian Ally

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — A rare and exciting collection of Korean art, being shown for the first time outside the Far East, will give Americans who see it a chance to get acquainted with a field with which they are mostly unfamiliar.

The exhibition of masterpieces of Korean art from 200 B. C. to about 1900, now drawing enthusiastic throngs to the National Gallery of Art, was sent to this country as an "expression of gratitude to the American nation by the Korean people."

TO OTHER CITIES

After Jan. 12 the collection will be taken to other cities across the country and to the Honolulu Art Academy, after which it will be returned to Korea.

It was organized with the cooperation of the State Department, the Rockefeller Foundation, and the American-Korea Foundation.

Dr. Chewon Kim, director of the National Museum of Korea at Seoul, who accompanied the exhibit, says most of the 187 objects, including superb examples of the celebrated celadon (pale green) ceramic ware, "came to light" only within the last 50 years.

"So extensive has been the destruction of art in Korea's past," explains John Walker, director of the National Gallery, "that if it were not for excavations of the 20th Century, little would be known of her great artistic history and no such exhibition as the present one would be possible."

LOST TO REDS

"Even then," exclaims Dr. Kim, "almost all of our treasures were lost to the Communists.

"They even took most of the items we have here now to the north and almost succeeded to the last minute in making off with them."

"They had been packing many items in boxes ready to be moved," he went on. "Some of our employes delayed the packing, delayed getting trucks to move them, until the time when the Communists could stay no longer."

"With the help of Americans in Korea, we moved them through the dark back into our museum. Otherwise they'd still be in the hands of the Communists, or destroyed."

Skin Woes Can Spoil Coed's Fun

Give Complexion Extra Fine Care Before Party

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeature

There is nothing that can throw a popular coed for a loss like having skin trouble on the night of a big party.

It may be a full-scale breakout over all the face.

It may be a few pimples or blackheads.

CHAPPED LIPS

Or perhaps it is chapped lips that cause her to feel she does not know why it had to happen to her.

But sometimes the effect is to ruin her entire evening, even after weeks of plans.

A girl who has had the experience of having her skin break out at some crucial moment should avoid food and make up to which she is sensitive for days before a big event.

A dirty powder puff is a prime offender too, and the girl with skin trouble should make sure she uses a fresh cotton puff in her compact each day.

CAREFUL CLEANSING

The skin should be cleansed carefully too, as delicate skins often may be allergic to a brand of soap that is too alkali or the harsh abrasiveness of a turkish towel. Sometimes it is best just to pat the skin dry with a soft cloth.

Cold weather isn't the only cause of chapped lips, one reason why we may be caught uaware during a brisk autumn and before a big social season.

The dryness, cracking and parching that leaves your lips uncomfortable and lipstick impossible to apply may come from any temperature change.

Lips have no perspiration glands, the experts remind us, so they have no means of supplying their own moisture, one reason why a dry lipstick may feel particularly comfortable in fall.

START CARE EARLY

It's a good idea to start using a chap stick early in fall, continuing it through the winter when you spend a good deal of time outdoors. A thin layer of lip balm may be applied before your lipstick to help keep lips moist regardless of the type of lipstick worn.

At night when all traces of lipstick are removed with suds or cream, apply lip balm before going to bed, particularly for a week or so before a big date.

VIRGINIA MacLEAN

Mrs. Stewart MacLean of Bloomfield Hills announces the engagement of her daughter, Virginia, to Bruce Sanft, son of the Charles Sanfts of LaFay drive. The bride-elect, who is also the daughter of the late Mr. MacLean, is a student at Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing. Her fiance attends Wayne State University. An August wedding is planned.

Telephone Should Have Its Own Private Corner

NEW YORK (INS) — Telephones shouldn't be placed just anywhere—they should have a little corner all their own.

The telephone corner is simple to set up. All it requires is a phone, a small table, lamp, chair, ashtray and notebook of some sort, with sharpened pencils handy.

CONVENIENT ROOM

Pick a room that is convenient.

Then you set up your telephone corner. The basics are all there, although large families might like to set up a bulletin board on the wall for tacking up messages.

The screen affords privacy to anyone telephoning. And it is a good idea to place the phone set-up away from the television set to avoid conflict.

Telephones these days come in a wide variety of colors—gray, red, beige, brown, green, blue, yellow and ivory—so you can keep the phone corner in color with the rest of the room.

Make Sack by Knitting 'Sweater'

Chemise Costume Touches Body at Hips Only

PARIS (INS) — You can knit yourself into a "gunny sack." The simplest sack styles in Paris are dress-length "sweaters."

Lola Prussac, the Paris expert on hand-knitted garments, shows that if you're capable of knitting a slip-on or sweater, you can have a sack-like chemise sheath with just a few hours more work.

Instead of starting your garment at the hip hem, you begin to knit at the skirt hem. Once front and back are sewn together, your sack dress should be absolutely tubular from the skirt hem up to underneath the arms and touching the body around the hips only.

TWEED EFFECT

This expert has also an idea on how to give an old sweater a new look. Cut off the rib-knit edging on your old sweater, turn the edge in and trim it with a row of at least 4-inch-long wool fringes in a matching or sharply contrasting shade.

Worn over tight slacks, the sweater with the fringes around the hips becomes a new-looking and amusing tunic for lounging.

Danger Can Be Found Everywhere--- Especially in the Early Morning Hours

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Dear Abby: I read in your column where a milkman lost his job because he was invited in for coffee. That's nothing. My husband got shot at for going through a lady's bedroom at 6 o'clock in the morning and disturbing her and her boy friend.

ABBY

He was instructed to always put her milk in her refrigerator and he had to go through her bedroom to get to it. Lucky for him he wasn't hurt. I made him give up that job.

You wouldn't think a milk man's job would be risky, but I'd rather have my husband in the police force. At least he gets a gun issued to him and can protect himself.

An Ex-Milkman's Wife

Dear Wife: I never thought of a milkman having occupational hazards, but danger lurks everywhere—especially at 6 a.m.

Dear Abby: I am 15 years old and am engaged to marry this fellow in 1962. We love each other but both know we have to wait until we are out of school and he has his Army duty finished.

Over a root beer last night he said he thinks when he goes into the Army I had better go with others. This upset me because I don't want to go with others.

I think he meant that HE also should go with others and this makes me very nervous because I don't want to lose him. Please tell me if I should worry?

Evie

Dear Evie: Don't worry. Lots of root beer will pass under the bridge before 1962. Let nature take its course.

Dear Abby: I married this guy because he always said he wasn't the marrying kind and I wanted to prove to him he was wrong. Well, now I've got him and I don't know what to do with him.

He is 54 years old and acts like an old, old man—doesn't dance, doesn't care to go anywhere—just sits! I am 36 years old and would like to get out of this marriage.

His check is all cut up before he even gets it so he lives off me. What do you suggest? By the way, he is absolutly harmless. Have you ever heard of such a thing for a man of 54?

Stuck with Him

PHYLLIS A. MORSE

Mr. and Mrs. Winford G. Morse of Lake Angelus road announce the engagement of their daughter, Phyllis Ann, to Paul C. Willhite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Willhite of Genessee avenue. A June wedding is planned.

Dear Stuck: You sure won the booby-prize. I suggest you try to remember what you saw in him before you married him that made you so determined to get him. And hold the thought!

Dear Abby: I would like to know if it is proper to show people your engagement ring or should you wait until they notice it? Thank you.

Bothered

Dear Bothered: There is nothing wrong with "showing" people your engagement ring—but if you want to be more subtle, suddenly become "left-handed."

Confidential to Gorgeous George: If you have to use a headlock to get into wedlock—looks like a deadlock. Get off the mat.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Caravan Returns to Bloomfield Hills

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A four-car caravan headed back to Bloomfield this week over trails and highways leading away from Cranberry Ranch up near Mio.

The Karl E. Scotts and youngsters Cindy, Debbie and Scottie of Woodcrest Lakes were among the group who decided on a snow spree.

Additional passengers were Cindy's guests, Woody Morcock and Bill Smith, both of Atlanta, Ga., neither of whom had ever seen so much as a flake of snow. Debbie's great pal and neighbor, "Randi" Grant, was also along.

The other two cars, loaded with children and equipment, were those of the Frederick K. Codys, who joined the Scotts from their home on Lewiston road in Grosse Pointe.

Mary Lou, Ricky, Kip and Angela Cody had as their guests Patty Fitzgerald, daughter of the Tom Fitzgeralds; Susan Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sanders, and Johnny Murphy, son of Dr. and Mrs. John Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Cody returned from the North just in time to repack their bags and head for Willow Run. They took a plane over to Chicago, where they're staying at the Blackstone until the middle of next week.

GUESTS IN HILLS

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Eynon of Brookside road have had as their guests for several days her sister, Mrs. Harold Tarbell of Easton, Pa., and the four Tarbell children, Jim, John, Jack and "Dodo."

The Eynons were hosts to another out-of-towner New Year's Eve when they entertained at late supper for Mr. and Mrs. Wayne A. Andreae and their houseguest, Mrs. Virginia Kunkle of Portsmouth, N. H.

Ginny plans to remain in these parts for two or three weeks, other dates on her calendar including a dinner to be given by Dr. and Mrs. John L. Wiant, a luncheon at which Mrs. James B. Bragaw will be hostess, and a subscription dinner and theater party planned for Tuesday evening. "Most Happy Fella" is the incentive.

Sooner or Later All the Girls Will Be Trying Sack Dresses

PARIS (INS) — Sooner or later we'll have to take to the sack dress.

During early fall in Paris only fashio models, starlets with an itch to be noticed and a handful of avant - garde socialites wore the new sack styles.

But now you can spot two or three sack dresses per day in chic restaurants, at smart cocktail parties and fashionable nightclubs. At the rate the sack craze is growing, there are chances that by spring everyone will have at least one sack in the wardrobe.

Besides being the biggest fashion revolution since the New Look in 1947, the sack fashion is just as much psychological as a style matter.

It's a woman's nature to want to try something new — even if it's just for fun and hidden in a fitting booth.

'IN THE KNOW'

Second, wearing the sack style gives a woman the means to prove in a stunning and obvious manner that she is "in the know" on the latest fashion styles.

The most popular sack style in Paris is the loose, tube dress. It represents the compromise between the spindle or peg-shaped styles which still may seem spooky to us, and the firmly waisted clothes which look more and more outdated.

To get used to the new sack styles you can start out by cheating a little. On a tube dress open the seams on each side just enough to slot through a belt which you wear outside the dress in front and invisible inside the dress at the back.

This will look smartest if the belt is of the sack dress fabric and long enough to be knotted in front bathrobe fashion.

OVERBLOUSE LOOK

You also may get used to the new waistless look by wearing all your sweaters overblouse style outside your skirt.

All Paris fashion designers show two-piece outfits composed of an overblouse and a matching straight skirt in their collections for daytime as well as evening wear. The overblouse should be loose around the midriff and waist but fitted to the hips.

There are, however, two danger points in the new sack styles.

The first is the length. To look chic, a sack, tube or chemise dress must be shorter than your old clothes. A sack that is too long really looks like a potato bag.

The sack style must look pegged with the base at the shoulders or it must look at least pipe straight.

LOOK SLIMMER

This has nothing to do with weight. The biggest Paris mannequin, modeling styles for outsized women proved to look slimmer in the new sack style than she did before in a flaring skirt and with a belted waistline.

When looking for your first sack-dress consider these points:

Short - sleeved or sleeveless sacks are more fashionable and easier to wear than waistless styles with long sleeves.

Pick for your sack dress a dark shade first, until you get used to the new fashion, and play around with bright colors and patterns later.

Bridegroom May Claim Leftovers

Guests Not Entitled to Liquor Unused at Reception

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon and it is the custom of this community to put a bottle of liquor on each table at a sit-down wedding reception. This is supplied by the bridegroom.

"I would like to know if it would be proper for the bridegroom to assign someone in his family to take charge of any leftover liquor after the reception is over, to be saved for him. Or is it proper for one of the guests at each table to take it home if not used, or only partially used?"

Answer: The guests should certainly not take it home. Since it is the custom in your community for the bridegroom to supply the liquor, it will be quite all right for him to assign one or two of his personal friends to take charge of gathering any leftover bottles and taking them to his house.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I bought gold cuff links for my fiance for his birthday and had them marked with the initial of his first name. The salesman assured me that this was entirely correct.

"When I brought them home and showed them to my family they told me they were incorrectly marked and that they should have been marked with the initial of his last name. Will you please tell me what is correct?"

Answer: The cuff links should have been marked with the initial of his last name rather than of his first. In the most correct form, the initials of his first, middle and last name should all appear.

"Dear Mrs. Post: If there are a John Sr. and a John Jr. in a family, is the next person to be given this same name John II or John III? There has been quite a big disagreement in our family over this and we would like to have you clear up this matter."

Answer: If he's the son of Jr., he is "third." If he's a cousin or nephew, he would be "second."

Margaret Neil Marries in St. Vincent Ceremony

Vases of white carnations banked the altar of St. Vincent de Paul Church for the Saturday wedding of Margaret Neil and C. Keith Young.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Neil of Willard street, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Arda Young of Livonia.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin enhanced with seed pearls and featuring a scoop neckline and long pointed sleeves. A seed pearl crown held her fingertip veil. The bride carried a white orchid on a prayer-book which belonged to her maternal grandmother.

Janet Kimmel was maid of honor and May Lou Sandberg and Marylyn Henry of Grand Rapids were bridesmaids. All wore blue silk organza gowns and blue feather hats. Each carried a cascade arrangement of pink carnations.

Bridge Winners

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Small were first place north and south winners when Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club met at the Elks Club. Second place winners were Mrs. Thomas Hollis and Mrs. Aug Haack. Tying as first place east and west winners Monday evening were the Frank Ferrymans and Mrs. Ernest Guy and Mrs. Kendall Clark.

Restore Fluffiness

If your thick cotton flannel table padding is clean, but wrinkled and matted, allow it to tumble in your automatic clothes dryer for 5 to 10 minutes. When removed from the dryer, the "silence pad" will be restored to its original soft fluffiness.

Reply Not Needed for Cocktail Invite

It usually isn't necessary to answer a printed invitation to a cocktail party unless a reply is requested. Or, of course, unless you aren't going to be able to attend. If you do answer it, a written reply is better than a telephoned reply.

Skin Woes Are Blamed on Tensions

English Authority Claims Daily Care Offsets Stress

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Today's woman can blame many of her skin problems on the hectic times.

"Modern tensions do more damage to the skin than climate or other exterior forces," says a beauty expert with 35 years in the skin care and makeup field.

Miss Lillian Mayle, American president of an important British cosmetic firm, developed this philosophy on world travels to explain the complexion secrets of famed British beauties.

"Intelligent daily treatment can counteract the stresses that cause our skin troubles, but it must be applied with regularity and common sense," says this possessor of the traditional fine English complexion.

Miss Mayle happily spreads the gospel of "The Art of Being Lovely" — a booklet she has written — to women of all ages, but she particularly enjoys giving young girls advice.

DAILY ROUTINE

"If they start with proper skin care, it will become as much a part of their daily hygiene as brushing their teeth — and it should," she emphasizes.

Skin care requires nothing startling or sensational but it must be daily, she explains in a visit to her San Francisco salon.

Thoroughly wash with soap and warm water, using a soft sponge to obatin abundant lather to cleanse and free pores of excess cream. Rinse with cold water.

POWDER BASE

Apply a liquid non-greasy powder base to give a fine mat surface for powder without clogging the pores.

The woman with a dry skin should also massage with the skin cream after her night cleansing. When the face becomes warm, wipe off excess cream and leave overnight.

"We emphasize natural loveliness and this comes from the inside. Gentle massage brings blood to the surface, stimulates circulation to carry away impurities, builds new tissue and keeps the skin young," the cosmetic executive says.

Miss Mayle considers herself fortunate to have been trained by her firm's founder, the late Frances Hemming, who developed her skin treatment for ladies of Queen Victoria's court.

"But they had to creep in and out as if they were going to an opium den," she reports.

THE BEST SYSTEM

Your Bright Tots Not So to Others

No matter how wonderful you think your children are, when it comes to conversation with acquaintances, you can figure that your children won't be one-tenth as fascinating to them as they are to you.

The strength and toughness of brass and bronze can be increased by adding relatively small amounts of nickel to these alloys.

Vacuum Rugs First

For extra-fluffy results, vacuum shag rugs to remove loose lint and dust before tossing them into your washer and automatic clothes dryer. Allow them to dry completely. Rugs will be thick-piled, soft and fresh when removed from dryer.

Mom Can Stretch Her Budget by Making Over Worn Clothes

Husbands may not agree, but it's a fact that most women are pretty thrifty.

When Mom turns up with a new hat, chances are she's earned it. By her own brand of feminine accounting, the hat probably cost her nothing, for she has saved so much money by mending and making over the family's clothes that she can afford to splurge.

This, of course, is strictly woman's logic and few men can understand feminine methods of budget juggling.

Makeover tricks are among the most popular methods of stretching the household budget, and here are a few suggestions from local sewing center experts.

Men's shirts offer many possibilities. As a rule, the collar wears out long before the body of the shirt. After Dad has decided a shirt is ready for the rag bag, Mom can find many uses for it.

MANY GARMENTS

By trimming off the collar and tail and cutting the sleeves, she has the basis for a number of garments.

The blouson, for instance, is in fashion now and requires only a casing and drawstring or elastic at the bottom of the shirt. Rickrack or bias tape may be applied around the sleeves and neckline for a trim finish.

By letting the shirt hang loose, with perhaps a little added decoration, she has a practical maternity blouse. By cutting a scoop neck and chopping the tail to hipbone length, she has a blouse to wear with skirts or slacks.

She can merely cut off the collar and shorten the sleeves of an old shirt, add lace or rickrack trimming down the front and at sleeves and neckline, and have a gay shorty nightgown.

By cutting the shirt apart entirely, she will have ample fabric for a child's sunsuit or smock.

CAN BE SALVAGED

Mom's own blouses often wear out first in the underarm area, but they can still be salvaged. The simplest trick is merely to cut out the sleeves, and have a sleeveless blouse. Or the collar and front yoke can be used for a dickey to wear under an open-necked dress or sweater.

A dress is seldom completely worn out. Often the skirt may be cut off and teamed with a contrasting top to make a new outfit. With a waistband added, it becomes a separate skirt.

In the case of a wool dress, a smart trick is to cut it apart to make a separate skirt and use scraps from the worn bodice to trim a sweater, making a handsome skirt-and-sweater costume.

If the skirt is worn and the bodice is good, a separate blouse or jerkin may be made. If the underarm area of a dress is worn, cut off the sleeves and have a jumper.

NEW SUN DRESS

If it is a cotton dress, she can cut out the sleeves, deepen the neckline and have a sun dress.

When all else fails, there almost always is enough good fabric left to make an apron.

When Dad's suits start getting too tight for him, Mom can have a field day making the trousers over into slacks and Bermuda shorts for herself or the girls of the family.

There also is enough material in a pair of men's trousers to make a smart straight skirt.

As for the coat of the old suit, it may be made into such things as weskits or jerkins to wear with the matching slacks, shorts or skirt.

---

Nature has her reasons for changing seasonal colors. Skin tone of a person also changes through the years. For this reason, using the same shade of makeup year after year should be avoided. Check your beauty salon or cosmetic experts to see if you need to switch to another shade.

If They All Call, the Line Will Burn

Memo to teen-agers: If the friend you telephone isn't at home and the parent who answers offers to have him call you back, don't say "I'll just call him later." By the time several teenagers say that to the parents, they know the telephone will be ringing for hours.

Quick Word to Pal Better Than Halting

If you see a friend having lunch with a group you do not know, it is better to speak in passing than to stop at the table and talk to the friend, since he will have to introduce you to the others at the table.

Baked Dish Has Garlic and Thyme

Mrs. Forbes' Recipe Calls for Browning Chicken and Rice

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

With chicken still on 'be' budget list of foods, you should be able to include this chicken and rice casserole in your menus. The recipe comes from Mrs. William Forbes who brought it to the Midwest from New England.

Mrs. Forbes is new in this area. With her husband and five children, she concentrates on family activities. The whole family is water minded so is happy with Michigan living.

CHICKEN & RICE CASSEROLE
By Mrs. William Forbes

1 cup rice
2 tablespoons cooking oil
1 clove garlic (stick with toothpick if you want to find it)
¼ cup chopped onion
3 pound frying chicken
¼ cup flour
1½ teaspoon salt
Pepper
3 tablespoons cooking oil
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
¼ teaspoon ground thyme

Place rice in 3-quart casserole. Cut up chicken in serving-size Pieces. Roll in seasoned flour. Brown in 3 tablespoons oil. Add to rice.

Mix milk, salt, sugar, green and black pepper and thyme. Pour over chicken-rice. Bake 1 to 1½ hours in a 350-degree oven, or until chicken is tender. You may add more milk if necessary while casserole bakes. Serves 6.

In a small town everyone knows what everyone else is doing, but they read the paper to see who got caught at it.

Don't Cast Shadow of Gloom Over Life

Be of Good Cheer for Self, Others!

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Another old thought for the new year:

"He makes a July's day short as December,
And with his varying childness cures in me
—Winter's Tale.

As those of you who have read this column for some time know, I long have believed that monuments should be built for those who give our hearts a lift when we meet them, who encourage rather than discourage, who are tolerant instead of critical, who ease the tensions of daily living with their warmth. Even those who just make us laugh render us a great service.

If you know any of these wonderful people who love life and people and show it as naturally as a bird sings, cling to them!

You may also know that I do not think that all of the cardinal sins have been listed. Perhaps our greatest obligation is not to stand in another's light, not to dampen his mood, or destroy his ideas. Yet people all over the world are doing this every day, and often to those they love most.

It may seem such a little thing to be critical or cross We are all human and the elbows of our love of life sometimes rub raw because of the stresses of daily living. BUT, this is not unimportant!

We never can know what a far-reaching effect our moods and the things we say or do not say may have on the happiness and success of others.

SELFISH PHILOSOPHY

In case this may sound too noble for your stomach, let us think of it as a selfish philosophy for a moment. Listen to what Shakespeare wrote in "Love's Labor Lost."

"Had she been light, like you,
Of such a merry, nimble, stirring spirit,
She might have been a grandam 'ere she died;
And so may you; for a light heart lives long."

Cervantes said, "He who sings frightens away his ills."

With what we now know about psychosomatic medicine, or the effects of the emotions on health, cheerfulness becomes not only an obligation to others but a necessity for our best health, for beauty, for prolonged youthfulness and vibrant living.

So be of good cheer!

Tomorrow: "Exercise for Four Weeks — You'll Change Your Shape!"

Rooftop Adds Space

City dwellers with little or no yard space can enjoy outdoor living on a garage rooftop. A louvered wooden fence built up five feet high will give privacy and let breezes through. It need be built only on sides near street or neighborhood homes.

Cedar planters, benches and tables add attractive utility. The roof can be decked with two by fours of durable Douglas fir, spaced one-quarter inch for rain runoff.

Press Blackheads —but Don't Squeeze

Be gentle when working to rid your face of blackheads. A steamy washcloth applied to the blackhead area will open the pores.

With a soft towel over your fingers, press, but don't squeeze, the blackhead out and apply rubbing alcohol or witch hazel

Round Table Is Favorite for Dining

Modern Furniture Designers Turning Out Light Versions

The round dining table has emerged from the Victorian era into the sleek modern interiors of today. Young married couples search the attics for Grandma's round walnut table with its pedestal base and give it the place of honor in their living-dining area.

Contemporary furniture designers are turning out lighter versions of the round table, with tapering brass-tipped legs. The silhouette is the same, however, whether the table is old or new. And the bright mood of modern dinner parties demands table settings that are gay, unusual and imaginative.

Local serving center experts suggest making a round tablecloth, to fall to the floor in graceful swirls. Select a multi-colored stripe for gaiety, such as one new fabric designed in decorator widths by Schiaparelli. Even if you're not a whiz at geometry, you'll find a round tablecloth easy to make if you follow these simple instructions:

First find center of table and run tape measure from center over edge to a point about one inch from the floor. This will give you the radius of your circle.

Cut a strip of fabric twice as long as the radius measurement, plus two inches for hem allowance. Lay strip across table so it falls to the floor on either side. Cut two more strips of fabric of equal length. Each strip should be wide enough so that the length and the width of the fabric are equal when all three strips are laid out together.

Pin selvages together, matching stripes. Stitch seams. Press open. The resulting cloth should be a large square, all sides equal. Lay fabric flat on floor. Fold fabric in half lengthwise. Find center of folded line. Tie piece of string to thumbtack, and insert tack at center part of fold. Measure off length of string equal to radius measurement and tie chalk to other end of string. Use string as a compass and draw a half circle on fabric with chalk. Cut, allowing an inch extra all around.

A round tablecloth does not require a deep hem and is most effective with a narrow one. A satin stitch is easy and attractive, if you own one of the new slant-needle automatic sewing machines or an automatic zigmachine set for a wide bight and close satin stitch, simply zigzag around chalked outline. Cut away excess fabric.

Make linen napkins in assorted colors to match the stripes. Plain white plates are best when the tablecloth is as gay as this. Shining silver and crystal add the finishing touch to a happy table setting.

Makeup Trick

As tan fades it tends to make the complexion look blotchy. Cover up the light spots by using a darker foundation than normal. Before applying foundation, pat the skin gently with a mild skin freshener.

Negative Attitude Taints Everything She Touches

Tense, Fearful Woman Spreads Doubt and Gloom Instead of Pleasure

By RUTH MILLETT

She's nice—but she's negative.

If she tells you about something she is planning to do, she always ends up by saying, "It probably won't work out," or, "I'm not at all sure I can do it."

If you meet her when she is shopping she will tell you how she can't find anything, or if she has bought something she will say she isn't sure that she likes it and may take it back.

If she is describing a person she wants you to meet she finishes by saying, "I don't know whether you'll like her or not."

When she has a trip to look forward to she worries out loud over all the things that might go wrong.

If you are a guest in her home, she is sure that the room is either too hot or too cold, and is so busy trying to convince you that you aren't comfortable that, sure enough, you aren't.

Even when she talks about her children, she doesn't mention the things about them she is proud of or finds funny or endearing. Instead, she talks about their faults or how she is worried over this one's cold and that one's grades in school.

If her husband starts to tell a joke, she is sure you've already heard it and says so.

No one is more anxious to please, or tries harder. And yet she doesn't really please, because she isn't pleased with herself or her life or anything, just as it is.

There are too many women like her today—tense and nervous and afraid, spreading gloom and doubt instead of laughter and gaiety.

In 1957 the Turkish Navy received fourteen destroyers and mine sweepers from the British and Canadian Navies.

Taffy Flavored Eggnog

Taffy-flavored eggnog is a heartening beverage of a winter night. Its spicy flavor comes from unsulphured molasses and nutmeg. For one serving, beat an egg yolk with 1 tablespoon unsulphured molasses. Stir in 1 cup milk. Beat egg white, and stir in the molasses-milk mixture. Sprinkle with nutmeg.

Put a sheet of waxed paper between each layer when you are storing cookies.

Quick Gelatine Salad

Winter fruit salads take on design with unflavored gelatine. Follow the basic salad recipe given on an envelope of unflavored gelatine. Then chill the gelatine mixture until it is slightly thickened before adding up to two cups of diced fruit . . . for example, grapefruit, orange and avocado sections.

Spice Shrimp Liquid

Add a bay leaf, a few whole cloves and whole allspice, celery leaves and thin carrot slices to the water in which you are cooking shrimp. Save the cooking liquid, after you've drained the shrimp; strain it and use as the base for a delicious shrimp bisque.

Ever braise young leeks in a little consomme? Add butter or margarine, salt and pepper and serve with meat or fish for a different vegetable dish.

Corned Beef Dressing

A hearty salad for hearty eaters is tomato aspic with corned beef dressing. Cut chilled canned tomato aspic into slices. Top with a dressing combination of chopped stuffed olives, celery, onion, cubed canned corned beef and mayonnaise. Garnish with crisp salad greens.

Using an old-fashioned recipe that gives gill measurement? Remember that 1 gill is the equivalent of ½ cup.

Career Girl Special

A cup of hot and hearty cream of chicken soup makes a fine drinkable breakfast, especially when you've overslept and are 'way behind schedule. Rich with milk, smooth, comfortably warming and stimulating, the soup chases the last traces of sleepiness.

Everyone likes ice cream — and ice cream served with a variety of toppings is like a new dessert each time. Try vanilla ice cream bedecked with canned boysenberries.

Sausages Add Heartiness

Hashed browned potatoes are quickly given main dish status by adding diced luncheon meat or slices of Vienna sausage while the potatoes heat. First, saute a little diced onion and green pepper in a skillet. Add the cut up, cooked potatoes and canned meat, and cook until the potatoes are delicately browned and the meat heated.

Flavor With Quick Coffee

Keep a jar of instant coffee handy for flavor when you're baking. Here's an instant coffee icing that is delightful on spice cake. In a pint bowl, combine 1 teaspoon instant coffee with 2 tablespoons whole milk and ½ teaspoon vanilla. Mix well. Stir and beat in 1½ cups sifted confectioner's sugar, or enough to make the icing thick enough to spread.

Watch the Thermometer

Beef, cured pork, veal, and lamb are roasted in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) while fresh pork cuts are roasted in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Roasts cooked at a low temperature show less shrinkage than roasts cooked at a high temperature. They are also more tender and juicy.

When there's just a little baked or boiled ham leftover, chop it fine and add it to scrambled eggs to be served at breakfast.

HONEY-GLAZED BONED HAM — A sparkling addition to any meal is this honey-glazed and clove-studded boned and roll-shaped ham. Available in cook-before-eating and fully-cooked styles, the ham is an excellent choice for family meals as well as those planned for guests.

Glaze Boned Rolled Ham for Scrumptious Eating

One of the handsomest of all hams — and one that's easily cooked and served—is the boned and roll-shaped ham. Every bit edible, these hams boast the lean trim—more meat and less fat per bite. Whole boned and roll-shaped hams run from 6 to 14 pounds in size, and wear a clear, skintight wrapper that peels off for cooking and serving. The ham is available by the piece from most retailers, and they are marketed fully-cooked as well as cook-before-eating.

Honey Glazed Boned and Roll-Shaped Ham

1 boned and roll-shaped ham
Cloves
1 cup strained honey
3 tablespoons orange juice
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
Orange slices

Remove wrap from boned and roll-shaped ham. Insert a meat thermometer so the bulb rests in center of meat. Place ham, fat side up, on a rack in a shallow roasting pan. Bake at 325 degrees until the thermometer registers an internal temperature of 160 degrees for a cook-before-eating ham, allowing 20 to 30 minutes per pound depending upon size of ham.

Half an hour before end of cooking time, remove ham from oven, score, and stud with cloves. Pour over the meat the glaze made by combining honey, orange juice and rind. Return to oven to finish cooking, basting at 10 minute intervals. Allow ham to stand 15 minutes before serving, then arrange on heated platter and garnish with orange slices.

French Fries Can Be Perfect

Would you like to have the best looking, best tasting French fried potatoes you ever set before your family? With potatoes so popular and so plentiful, you may want to try these few tricks to help insure French fries of top quality; be sure the potatoes are dry; fry a single layer at a time; fry 'em twice.

These tips come from a new bulletin of the U.S. Department of Agriculture "Potatoes In Popular Ways." The Government agency's expert cooks point out that too much water in any form cools the fat too much, makes the potatoes cook slowly and absorb too much fat.

So, when you've peeled the potatoes and cut them into strips about ⅜ inch thick, wash them quickly in cold water and then dry them on a towel. Have the deep fat heated to the boiling point and put in the raw potatoes a few at a time, just a single layer in the frying basket.

Again, the reason is water, for potatoes contain almost 80 per cent water. Putting a big batch of potatoes into a pan of hot fat is about like pouring in a glass of cold water. The result is likely to be spattered grease and soggy potatoes.

Cook the potatoes until they're done, but not browned. This means frying several batches if you're feeding several people. The first cooking, called "parfrying" can be done in advance, several hours ahead if it's more convenient. Then, just before serving, give the cooked potato strips a final frying to put on that mouth watering golden brown finish.

Ham-Nut Dip Teen Favorite

Future homemakers—and most young party givers—want dips and spreads and canapes and chafing dish ideas that they themselves can prepare. That means that party ideas should be geared to teenage ability as well as to teenager appetites.

If there's a budding hostess in your family, she can start her hostessing career with dips — they're easiest to do, and they're fun to serve. For example, here's a dip idea that was developed for teenage party planning. It combines the pantry shelf staples of deviled ham and peanut butter with still more favorite foods—potato chips and appetizer crackers.

Red Devilish Dip

1 4½-oz. can deviled ham
1 3-oz. package cream cheese
½ cup peanut butter
3 tablespoons milk
Potato chips
Pizza appetizer crackers

Empty deviled ham into mixing bowl. Add cream cheese and blend thoroughly. Add peanut butter and blend again. Add milk, one tablespoon at a time, blending each well until dip is thin enough to coat potato chip or cracker when dipped. Makes about 2 cups.

Decorate a plain layer cake by sifting confectioners' sugar over a lace paper doily (with an uncomplicated pattern) placed on top of cake.

Corn Oil Processed for High Temperature

Corn oil now on the market is processed so that it does not smoke or burn up to 440 degrees and that is a higher temperature than you will use for frying any food.

Recommended temperature for frying any food in corn oil is 375 degrees and the fried food has a golden brown color.

Buttered Nuts Top Fish

Fish fillets win new appreciation with a Brazil nut garnish. To make the nut sauce, melt ¼ cup butter in skillet over low heat; add ½ cup sliced Brazil nuts, and cook slowly 5 minutes. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice; heat. Serve over broiled fillets.

Funnels Are Necessary to Well-Kept Kitchen

What's a well-equipped kitchen without a funnel? You use it to transfer vinegar and oil to the decorative cruets that go to the table. You use it for filling the baby's bottles and the vacuum jugs. A funnel, also, is indispensable in saving the corn oil left over from frying.

A funnel is handy, it makes for a neat kitchen and a thrifty purse. In shopping for one, look for the kind with a removable strainer.

Golden Sauce Tops Asparagus

Hubby has been at the office all day; he's tired and wants to get home to a good ol' home cooked meal. But, you've had a busy day, too! Still it's not impossible to cook dishes in short order that have the flavor and apperance of long hours spent in the kitchen, for the canning industry offers a selection of foods that makes cooking a meal simple.

Begin the menu with canned asparagus topped with a golden sauce made from canned cream of celery soup. Parsley buttered canned potatoes are another quick item. Brown and serve rolls, a tossed green salad, and a canned ham put in the oven earlier to heat through, with cup cakes for dessert round out the menu.

Asparagus with Golden Sauce

3 slices bread
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can or jar (14½ oz.) green asparagus spears
½ cup condensed cream of celery soup
1½ teaspoons prepared mustard

Remove crusts from bread and cut into small cubes. Brown cubes in butter. Heat asparagus; Combine soup and mustard in a saucepan; heat. Just before serving, fold in bread cubes. Serve sauce over hot drained asparagus. Three to four servings.

Public Underestimates Farmers' Share of Profit

The U.S. public underestimates the price paid to farmers for a quart of milk, it was reported in the survey. Forty-two per cent of those interviewed estimate the farmer's share of a 25-cent quart of mik to be 10 cents or less, while 47 per cent have no idea.

A recent study of milk distribution costs by an Indiana University professor showed that farmers got 50 cents of the milk sales incomé dollar received by fluid milk dealers, or more than 12 cents a quart, in 1956. Milk dealers spent about 12 cents for processing and distributing a quart of milk and kept slightly more than one-half a cent per quart for profit.

Liver Sausage Canapes

Mash liver sausage and combine with corn flakes, minced onion and horseradish. Mix well and shape into patties. Wrap each with a slice of bacon, fasten with a wooden pick and broil.

Jubilee Sauce New as Topping on Ham

Such a delicious sauce for ham!

Jubilee Cherry Sauce

2 tablespoons flour
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground allspice
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
1 can (1 pound) red sour pitted cherries (water pack)
½ cup orange juice
2 tablespoons cooking sherry
¼ teaspoon red food coloring

In a medium-sized saucepan, mix together thoroughly the flour, sugar, salt, allspice and cloves. Drain cherries; mix cherry liquid and orange juice; gradually stir mixed liquid into flour mixture so sauce is smooth after each addition. Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until thickened and boiling. Stir in sherry, food coloring and cherries. Reheat. Serve with ham. Makes 2½ cups.

Tom and Jerry Pie

Tom and Jerry pie: Use your favorite chiffon pie recipe but substitute 2 cups of commercially prepared egg nog in place of milk for the liquid. Flavor with brandy and freshly grated nutmeg, garnish with candied cherries, angelica and almonds.

Cloves Spice Soup

Prescription for a pleasantly lazy Sunday afternoon: A good book, or the latest magazine, and a cup of warming savory soup. Tomato soup, made with milk and a dash of spice, is likely to be everybody's favorite sip-while-you-read beverage. To make it, empty a can of condensed tomato soup into a saucepan; add a soup-can of milk and a discreet pinch of cloves. Heat to simmering; don't boil. Makes 2 generous cups.

Beef Stroganoff

Cook tender thin strips of beef filet in butter or margarine. Combine with paper-thin strips of onion that have been cooked until tender in butter. Add sour cream and season with salt, pepper, a little tomato paste (or catchup) and Worcestershire sauce. Reheat but do not boil—so sour cream won't curdle, beef won't toughen.

Don'ts of Meat Cooking

A roast should never be covered . . . water should never be added . . . meat should be roasted fat side up to eliminate basting. Searing does not keep in the juices but actually increases the cooking losses

Crunchy Toasted Pecans Good in Rich Rice Ring

Pecans and rice combine in this truly delightful dessert. (If desired, other kinds of nuts may be used.) Prepared in a ring mold and filled with assorted frozen fruits (partially thawed until separated), Toasted Pecan Rice Cream is rich in texture. Dark brown sugar adds caramel flavor to the creamy-rice, toasted-nut combination for a dessert too tempting to pass by.

Toasted Pecan Rice Mold

½ cup chopped pecans
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1¼ cups cold milk
⅔ cup dark brown sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup whipping cream
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
2 cups cold cooked rice
1 package assorted frozen fruits

Toast chopped pecans in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 5 minutes. Soften gelatin in ¼ cup of the milk.

Combine remaining milk, brown sugar and salt and heat to scalding, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill until partially set. Beat until smooth.

Combine whipping cream and vanilla and chill thoroughly. Beat until stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture together with rice and toasted chopped pecans. Pour into one-quart ring mold. Chill until firm.

Housewife Now Can Buy New Type Frozen Meat

The housewife will now be able to purchase all her favorite cuts of meats completely frozen as the result of a revolutionary new process in the freezing and packaging of meats called Seal Fresh, which is being introduced for the first time.

This new freezing and packaging process was developed after three years of research by Herman Friedman, General Operations Manager of Wrigley Supermarkets and Morey Rosenthal, President of the Seal Fresh Company.

Careful trimming of the fresh meat is the first step in the Seal Fresh process. The meat is placed in a freezer where it is blast frozen by directing a stream of cold air on the meat, lowering the temperature to approximately 20 degrees below zero.

After the meat is completely frozen, each piece is encased by the Seal Fresh method. This method provides the meat with a transparent crystal-like casing which seals the meat from the air. This process also insures that there will be no shrinkage at any time. It also prevents condensation and makes the meat easier to handle. The casings are non-toxic and maintain the flavor and color of the meat.

The meat is placed in the freezer after it is encased. All cuts are weighed on an electronic scale before the encasing process so that the housewife does not pay for the weight of the casing.

The introductory price of Seal Fresh meats will be the same as fresh cuts. The transparent casing, which eliminates cellophane cartons and containers, makes all sides of the meat visible to the customer.

The housewife may leave the Seal Fresh meat in her freezer almost indefinitely without fear of impairing the flavor or discoloring it. During experiments with this process, meat was frozen for one year without loss of flavor, moisture or weight. If the meat should defrost, it may be safely refrozen since the casing prevents air from coming in contact with the meat.

It is recommended that when she is ready to use the meat, the housewife remove it from the freezer and let it stand at room temperature for approximately 30 minutes, although this is not essential. The casing is removed by cutting with a sharp knife. It comes off readily without the meat sticking to the casing.

One of the most important features of this packaging process is that the meat retains its natural color and its original moisture and flavor. The casing prevents freezer burn, shrinkage and dehydration with no frost formation between the casing and the meat.

Herbs Add Zest to Italian Soup

Italian Tomato Soup

1 can (10¾ ounces) condensed minestrone
1 cup water
1 cup tomato juice
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons sugar
1 bay leaf
¼ to ½ teaspoons dried crumbled basil
¼ teaspoon garlic powder

Mix minestrone (undiluted) with water, tomato juice, salt, sugar, bay leaf, basil and garlic powder in a saucepan—1 or 1½ quart size. Simmer, stirring occasionally, for 10 minutes or longer. Remove bay leaf. Makes 4 servings.

Chiffon Cake With Pumpkin Is Different

A golden color and moist sponge-cake type texture distinguish this new recipe.

Pumpkin Chiffon Cake

½ cup milk
6 egg yolks (beaten until thick)
2¼ cups sifted cake flour
1½ cups sugar
3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon ginger
½ cup corn oil
¾ cup canned pumpkin
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon cream of tartar
6 egg whites

Heat milk to boiling; pour over beaten egg yolks gradually, blending as you do so; cool. Sift together the cake flour, sugar, baking powder, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg, and ginger into a medium-sized mixing bowl.

Make a well and add in this order the corn oil, pumpkin, vanilla, and cooled egg mixture. Beat gently with rotary beater (hand or electric) until smooth. Add cream of tartar to egg whites; with clean beater, beat whites until they form very stiff peaks; they should not slide in bowl when it is tipped over. Gradually fold egg-yolk mixture into beaten egg whites until blended.

Turn into an ungreased 10-inch tube pan. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 55 minutes. Increase temperature to moderate (350 degrees) and bake an additional 10 or 15 minutes or until cake springs back when lightly touched with finger. Immediately invert pan. When cool, loosen sides and bottom of cake with spatula and turn out. Nice with lemon frosting.

Certain Herbs Are Best to Bring Out Meat Flavor

How is one to know what spice or herb is best for what type of meat dish? Keep this in mind.

ALLSPICE is a favorite when cooking pot-roasts. THYME is an herb best suited for flavoring beef, veal, pork or lamb.

SAGE is an herb especially good with pork. This seasoning is also used in sausages and ground beef dishes. BAY LEAVES are a member of the herb family most frequently found in seasoning variety meats.

Nikita Renews Call for Talks

Red Boss Would Limit Negotiations to Russia, U.S., Omit Allies

In a New Year's toast to President Eisenhower, the Communist party boss last night renewed Soviet efforts to negotiate with top U.S. officials and without America's allies at the table.

Khrushchev told foreign diplomats at the big Kremlin New Year's banquet: "If the Soviet Union and the United States can get together and can reach agreement, most of the world's problems would be solved."

The United States has rebuffed earlier proposals for such talks, preferring to include at least some of its allies in top-level conversations with Russia.

U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson and his wife went to Khrushchev's table after the toast and drank with the party boss, Premier Nikolai Bulganin and President Klementi Voroshilov.

The three top Russian leaders had earlier dispatched New Year's greetings to the world's chiefs of staff and government heads. The apparently similar messages called for peaceful coexistence and an end to what one note called "the fear which the people in all lands feel for the future."

* * * *

The message to President Eisenhower asked him to "accept personally and to transmit to the people of the United States of America best wishes" from the three leaders and the Russian people.

State Trooper Turns In Badge After 36 Years

From Horses to Helicopters in One Police Career

By TOM SHAWVER

EAST LANSING (AP) — A tall, lanky, baldheaded man strode into state police headquarters here and regretfully handed over a .38 caliber revolver, several sets of uniforms and his gold badge of office.

Thus ended the career of Capt. Earl Hathaway, who has worn the uniform of the Michigan State Police longer than any other man.

Now 63, Hathaway has commanded State Police District seven from Traverse City since 1932 and, been a member of the force since two years after its inception in 1919.

"From horses to helicopters that pretty well describes my career," he said. "When I came to the force we had about 100 men and 60 horses. The only automobiles we had were confiscated from moonshiners or other lawbreakers.

"Now we've got nearly 1,200 men, airplanes, hundreds of squad cars and every kind of modern scientific equipment.

Hathaway's 36 years with the force, most of them spent in Michigan's rugged north country, also can be counted in terms of some 30 murder investigations, several exciting bank robber captures, scores of moonshiner arrests and countless traffic fatalities and other routine investigations.

His citations included 12 honorable mentions, 7 meritorious service awards and one citation for bravery for personally collaring a drunk-crazed gunman who had killed his son and wounded a neighbor girl in Filer City.

START IN BIRMINGHAM

Hathaway was 27 years old, a World War I veteran and half of the two-man police force in Birmingham, Mich., when he saw a state trooper ride up gravel-covered Woodward Avenue one day.

"He was a smart-looking officer, and I liked the way he took care of his horse," he said. "I said to my pal, Bill Hansen, 'I think I'll look into the chances of joining that outfit.'

"Not long after, I was a trooper in a 12-man mounted unit here at East Lansing, working for $60 a month." Bill Hansen joined him a few months later, and retired two years ago as captain and commander of the uniformed division.

It was tough going for Hathaway and his fellow troopers in the early days of the force. Long established sheriff's departments and local police forces looked down at them as green and inefficient, with their manpower too widely distributed to do much good.

Soon after enlistment, Hathaway, a motorcycle courier with the Army overseas, was assigned to man one of the first three motorcycles acquired by the state police.

DISTRICT COMMANDER

After transfer to several outstate posts, he ended up in Manistee and took over as district commander in 1931 with six men under his authority. The district now covers 20 counties and contains eight posts and 116 uniformed men.

"Just as traffic safety is the big thing now, bank robberies and bootleggers got most of our attention in the early days," he said. "We had as many as 21 bootleggers coming up for trial in one term of court, and I remember one year in the 30's when there were 36 bank robberies in the state.

"We had special bank patrols ready to go into action whenever we got word of a robbery."

Hathaway played a big role in the notorious Kaleva bank robbery of 1933 when four bandits held up a bank, killed the cashier, took their loot and fled.

USED RIVER BLOCKADE

Hathaway directed the chase, putting into use for the first time his river blockade system, which cut off all avenues of escape by setting up blockades at every bridge along the Muskegon River.

The gang was surrounded in a swamp southeast of Kaleva and captured four days later. Three of them still are serving life prison sentences.

Six-feet-four and wiry, Hathaway has been known to pick up criminals bodily and heave them into a squad car. But he's also known for his quietly persuasive manner in drawing out confessions from criminals.

"I play it fair and square," he said. "I have never betrayed a trust. I never promise anyone anything I can't fulfill."

Testimony to his method of fair play is contained in a pack of letters from men in prison, thanking him for the way they were treated.

A paper he prepared still is used in training young law enforcement men on methods of extracting confessions.

Hathaway also pioneered in helping to develop the state police radio communication system.

His retirement this week was mandatory under a new opinion of the Attorney General, holding that state law requiring a state policeman with 25 years service to bow out when he reaches 56.

They include Det. Lt. Joseph M. Sheridan, a plainclothesman and oldest on the force in point of service; Sgt. Nicholas H. Modders, commander of the Manistique post, and Sgt. Harry J. Demorest, radio laboratory engineer at East Lansing.

Heads Union Running New York Subways

Michael Quill's Specialty; Keeping Millions Jittery

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Keeping New York's millions of subway riders—and municipal officials—on edge has long been a specialty of chunky, blustery Transportation Workers Union President Michael (Mike) J. Quill.

Quill has played that familiar role for the past several days, breathing defiance of city and state, court injunctions and threats of jail, to back up his demands for a new contract carrying hefty wage increases.

Fifty times in the past 20 years Quill has moved toward shutting down the city's sprawling 228 miles of subway and city-operated bus lines used by 5,000,000 daily.

In each instance, helped by behind-the-scenes political pressure, dramatic last-minute settlements for the 38,000 transit employes prevented paralyzing, all-out city-wide strikes.

The happy ending that New York strap hangers have come to expect from Quill and the City Transit Authority was reached this week during a marathon negotiation session.

That is only one-half cent less than the total hourly wage Quill was paid when he started working on the subway system as a 33-cent-an-hour ticket taker.

LOW PAID CHIEF

He now earns $14,820 annually, one of the lowest salaries paid any labor chief, as international president of a union of some 130,000 members who run or work on the nation's major airlines and railroads, bus and trolley systems.

In 1948, Quill, whose enemies dubbed him "Red Mike" because of his lusty backing of Red causes, broke with the Communists, and ousted them from control of the union.

Quill, whose stock in trade is fiery invective in thick Irish brogue, is seldom seen without his owl-eyed horn rimmed glasses, and thick blackthorn stick.

He can and does turn his shrill flood of vituperation on and off like a water spout, replacing it at will with a fine sense of humor.

Quill, president of the N.Y. City CIO Council, has used his "war of nerves" tactics through the years to solidify his union's position.

He is a master of change of pace, too.

Only two weeks ago, when the opposing Motormen's Benevolent Association pulled a strike, Quill deplored what he called the "lawlessness" against the transit authority.

Then, with his own union's contract up for negotiation, such talk was forgotten by Quill, who thundered:

"No contract, no work."

Tourists Set Record

KINGSTON, Jamaica — Tourist arrivals during the first three months of 1957 set a record in Jamaica, the 57,810 tourists in the period representing a 12 per cent increase over the like period of 1956.

Wrong Number Led to Numbers Racket

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — She just couldn't understand it, his mother told Patrolman E. H. Melson, men kept calling up and asking: "What's a good number today?"

On the advice of her policeman son, she asked the next caller what number he was trying to get. It was one digit removed from hers. Police checked the number and went to the address listed for it.

Officers said they found 21 numbers slips in the man's house. He was charged with possession of gambling paraphernalia.

War Trials Doctor Swallows Poison

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP) — Dr. Douglas McGlashan Kelley, chief American psychiatrist at the Nuernberg war criminal trials, is dead at 45 of the same poison which killed Nazi Air Marshal Hermann Goering.

Police said Kelley apparently was worried over ill health yesterday afternoon when he swallowed a small souvenir vial he had brought back from Nuernberg.

Dr. Kelley built an international reputation as a criminal psychologist and had been professor of criminology at the University of California since 1949. He had been under medical treatment for a severe stomach ailment, Police Lt. John A. Lundquist said.

A UC graduate who took advanced work at Columbia University, Kelley was psychiatric consultant to the Army's European Theater during the latter years of World War II and headed the Graylyn Psychopathic Hospital at Bowman-Gray School of Medicine in South Carolina before coming to UC in 1949.

Recording on Phone Tells of Negotiations

KANSAS CITY (UP) — The 1,060 Kansas City members of Local 6450 of the Communications Workers Union and anyone else who wants to, can get the union's latest word on contract negotiations with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. in New York by dialing a number.

The negotiations involve workers who man the AT&T's long distance lines across the country.

Local 6450 in Kansas City leased an electronic recording and replay gadget developed by the telephone company and hooked it to a set of telephone lines. By dialing the number, you can listen to a recorded message about the negotiations.

Clarence West, president of the local, said the recording is changed whenever there is new word from New York.

Apples originiated between the Black and Caspian Seas. Peaches and oranges came not from Georgia, Florida, or California but from China, where they were cultivated 4,000 years ago. The Near and Middle East gave us lettuce, carrots, peas, and spinach. The Andes produced the "Irish" potato.

Audrey Hepburn to Star in Love-Story 'Forever'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — At last Mildred Cram's beautiful haunting love story, "Forever," is coming to the screen with Audrey Hepburn in the star role — and the credit for the script of this much-loved story goes to the new MGM producing team of Sidney Franklin and writer Karl Tunberk.

As far back as when Janet Gaynor was an active star, she bought "Forever" intending to make it herself. But the subject of reincarnation presented a poser and she sold it to MGM.

Many MGM producers attempted a workable script, but no luck until Franklin and Tunberg took over. Franklin, one of our most sensitive directors (He directed "Smilin' Through," "Dark Angel," "Good Earth," etc.), and Tunberg, a fine writer, will first put Nany Mitford's "The Blessing" before the cameras, with Deborah Kerr in the top role.

Claire Bloom is being called back to her native London by Vivien Leigh to play one of the top roles in Vivien's new stage play "Lucrece," by Giradoux.

"Will you be remaining in London?" I asked Claire.

"Oh, no, indeed," said Claire, "I had such a wonderful year here working in 'Brothers Karamazov' and 'Buccaneer' I'm keeping my apartment and will return after the play closes."

"Lucrece" opens Feb. 1, and Claire has yet to finish "Buccaneer" and a TV commitment before she leaves for London.

Looking mighty well, John Ford is back from Honolulu, getting ready to go into action at Columbia studio. He starts "The Last Hurrah" on Feb. 7, with Spencer Tracy in the role of the mayor of Boston.

At first Mayor James Michael Curley, who was supposed to be the "Skeffington" of Edwin O'Connor's book, was very upset and talked about lawsuits. Later, he was pleased with the whole thing, but then he turned around and wrote his own book, "I'd do it again." Spencer Tracy is Irish enough to play the character, and a good enough actor, and you know John Ford will get a fine picture.

I think part of Red's troubles are due to his worry over his young son, Richard, who has a serious blood disease. He adores the boy and each time Richard shows any symptoms of feeling worse it's like a knife in Red's heart.

Red's business manager, Bo Roos was in Mexico and had been in New York negotiating a new deal for the red-haired comedian, and Red is going to be all right now. The electrocardiogram showed no thrombosis.

Popular director Walter Lang is bedded with a bad case of flu, and Harry Brand has been sick for a week at his Palm Springs home. Two of our best loved citizens.

They're still talking about Betty Grable's great show at Wilbur Clark's Desert Inn. She does an act highlighting moments from her best motion pictures. I hope to get to see her before she closes.

Her last date of the old year Esther Williams had with Ben Gage at the Tail o' the Cock — They were with their legal representatives.

Wonder why both Jan Clayton and Robert Lerner denied they were separating when they were queried?

On Johnny Grant's first night home after entertaining the service men in Europe, he had dinner with Lita Milan at the Captain's Table.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Detroit Editor Named Pulitzer Prize Juror

NEW YORK (UP) — Lee Hills, executive editor of the Detroit Free Press, is one of 22 editors and a cartoonist who will serve as Pulitzer Prize journalism jurors for 1958.

The jurors will pass on nominations for Pulitzer awards in eight categories based on works published in 1957. Deadline for submitting nominations and supporting exhibits is Feb. 1.

Family Discovers Mother in Dark About Onions

BIRMINGHAM, England (UP) — Mrs. Murial Bennett does not know her onions. So four of her family came down with severe stomach aches yesterday, and a number of her husband's daffodills will not bloom in the spring, tra la.

Mrs. Bennett was fixing a meal of liver and onions when she ran out of onions. She went down to the greenhouse to get a handful from a reserve supply.

The meal was served. Mrs. Bennett, her 17-year-old daughter, Pauline and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens, promptly came down with severe abdominal pains.

They returned from treatment at a hospital to find Mrs. Bennett's husband, just home from work, complaining bitterly. Somebody had made off with a bunch of the prize daffodil bulbs he had been nursing in the greenhouse.

will drive for new gains in wages, hours and working conditions. It will be threatened by new scandals and a move in Congress for restricting federal legislation.

It looks back ruefully on an old year in which it took the worst beating in trade union history as the Senate Rackets Committee unfolded a chain of scandals, many of them involving the 1,500,000-member Teamsters' Union, largest in the nation.

However, the AFL-CIO expelled the Teamsters, and also the scandal-tainted Bakery Workers and Laundry Workers.

MEMBERSHIP SLIPS

The result was that it slipped from more than 15 million members to about 13,500,000, and suffered a cut in its income of $900,000 a year.

Out of the storm emerged a resolute leader, AFL-CIO President George Meany. It was Meany who engineered the disciplinary measures against unions charged with corruption. Meany demonstrated his complete control of the labor movement at the AFL-CIO convention in Atlantic City, N. J., in December.

The difficulties that rocked the Teamsters boosted to top place in the union a strong man against whom corruption and racketeering charges have been hurled, James R. Hoffa. This giant union faces an uncertain future course, largely because of federal court cases involving Hoffa.

Despite adversity, the labor movement is going into the new year with an air of optimism. Leaders recall that unions were born in industrial strife and are confident of their destiny.

UAW SEEKS CONTRACTS

The first major push on the collective bargaining front will occur in the automobile industry when the United Auto Workers, headed by Walter Reuther, seeks new contracts for 1,250,000 members.

The union will hold a convention in Detroit in the latter part of January to make plans for its campaign.

It is sure to ask for a substantial wage increase, and for a full guaranteed annual wage, now confined to 26 weeks of unemployment. Indications are that Reuther also may seek shorter hours. A point that takes on greater importance from his viewpoint as a result of the unemployment in the auto industry.

AIRCRAFT TO PUSH

A drive for new gains in the aircraft industry also is expected. Participating in the aircraft negotiations will be the auto workers and the machinists.

Although no big battle in the steel industry is scheduled for 1958, there will be thousands of contract negotiations as unions reach out for more money and a variety of other benefits.

In the investigative field, the Senate Rackets Committee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), is ready to continue the hearings that reverberated so widely in 1957.

The first picture the committee intends to unfold in the new year involves the strike of the auto workers against the Kohler Co., Sheboygan, Wis., which has been going on for nearly four years.

Charges to be aired reportedly include violence said to have been perpetrated by the union and unfair labor practices attributed to the company.

TO PROBE CARPENTERS

In addition to the Kohler inquiry, the committee is said to have scheduled investigations involving the Carpenters' Union, the Operating Engineers and the Hotel and Restaurant Workers.

Additional situations involving use of labor consultants by management to try to break up unions are slated for inquiry. In the 1957 hearings, one of the highlights related to union-busting operations charged against Nathan Shefferman, Chicago.

New hearings are expected to point up situations in a number

phia, St. Louis and Miami.

AFL-CIO officials say that if further hearings uncover additional cases of domination of unions by corrupt officials, the same procedure will be followed as in the case of the Teamsters. That is, either they clean up or out they go.

The 1957 hearings caused such an impact on public opinion that AFL-CIO organizing campaigns were paralyzed. However, the drive to bring in new union members will go on, as will the effort to elect sympathetic public officials. Labor intends to be active in the 1958 congressional elections.

NEW LAWS MAY RESULT

As a result of the Senate investigations, strong pressure is expected at the coming session of Congress to enact legislation placing severe restrictions on unions. Proposals that are being advanced include a federal "right to work" law which would extend anti-trust laws to labor and outlaw the union shop and other forms of union security.

The AFL-CIO will fight such proposals bitterly as union-busting measures. Labor Secretary Mitchell has said he will oppose them.

Boxer, Dancer, Scientist on Queen's Honor List

LONDON (AP)—A ballerina, a biologist and a boxer were among those singled out for recognition in the New Year's honors list announced Wednesday by Queen Elizabeth II.

They were listed with some 2,200 others for performance of duty, faithful service and good works.

Ballet dancer Alicia Markova, 47, one of Britain's finest dancers currently at the New York Metropolitan Opera House, was named a Commander of the British Empire.

Dr. Julian Huxley, 70, biologist and writer, and brother of novelist Aldous Huxley, was included in the new list of knights.

Field Marshal Sir John Harding, 61, who retired last October as governor of strife-torn Cyprus, was elevated to the peerage as a baron along with the noted 73-year-old jurist Sir Norman Birkett.

Viscount Nuffield, 80, retired motor magnate who is reputed to have donated 28 million pounds ($78,400,000) to charities and to further medical and scientific research, was made a companion of honor.

Golfer Dai Rees, 44, who led a team of British professionals to victory over the United States in the Ryder Cup match at Lindrick last October, was made a Commander of the British Empire.

However, the AFL-CIO is expected to place at the top of its own legislative program a bill providing for public disclosure of the operations of all health and welfare funds, which have now swollen to more than 30 billion dollars.

INSURANCE FIRMS HOT

This legislation is being opposed by insurance companies and other powerful business groups. However, it also tops the list of the administration's proposals to combat labor and management abuses. The battle over the proposal may logjam other legislation directed at corruption in unions.

The administration is sponsoring a number of other proposals in this general area, as well as curbs on some forms of the secondary boycott and picketing. Some of these proposals the AFL-CIO will oppose.

No labor war has developed as yet as a result of the ouster of the Teamsters from the AFL-CIO, although there have been forebodings of trouble. Teamster leaders say they will not start a war. The old union after its ouster, and there have been threats of warfare as a result.

Also smouldering is a bitter jurisdictional fight between the AFL-CIO Building Trades Unions, headed by Richard Gray, and the industrial unions headed by Reuther. The building trades have set Feb. 28 as a deadline for settlement of this dispute, and are threatening to walk out of the AFL-CIO if it is not.

OKEMAH, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. J. G. Bruton said a friend wrote a Texas motel for a reservation and asked if he could bring along his dog.

The reply said:

"We have never had a dog fall asleep in bed smoking and burn anything up. We have never had a dog spill alcoholic drinks all over the furniture and ruin it. We have never caught a dog leaving the premises with a bath towel or pillowcase in his suitcase. Sure, the dog is welcome."

Cotton Pickin' Navy Eats Rice

Tom Forrestal passed and piloted the Middies to a 20-0 lead by the early part of the third period yesterday. Then Navy hung on as Rice surged to one touchdown and powered on a 95-yard drive against Midshipman reserves behind quarterback Frank Ryan to the Navy two as time ran out.

Navy, Eastern champion, now has a victory in the Cotton Bowl, one in the Sugar Bowl and a tie in the Rose Bowl in post season play.

It was the first bowl loss in five appearances for Rice.

Forrestal passed for 153 yards and ran for 34 in leading the Middies. Ned Oldham and Harry Hurst chipped in 50 yards and a touchdown each for Navy. Second stringer Roland Brandquist picked up 36 yards for Navy and recovered the Rice fumble which set up the first Middie touchdown.

Rice's touchdown came on an eight-yard pass play from Ryan to Ken Williams. Ryan vied for stardom with Forrestal with 151 yards passing and 69 running. King Hill, Rice's All-America quarterback, showed little gaining 13 yards passing and 14 running.

Brandquist covered a Ryan bobble for Navy on the Rice 33 and the Middies went to their first score just before the end of the first period.

Forrestal's passing really started clicking in the second period. He hit Pete Jokanovich regularly on a 66-yard TD drive with Hurst scoring on a run from the 13.

Another sticky fingered Navy end, John Ruth, recovered a fumble by Ray Chilton on the Rice 20 and Oldham scored from the 19 to make it 20-0 Navy early in the third period. Brandquist missed the first Middie conversion try, but Oldham hit on the other two.

Late in the same period, Bobby Williams of Rice intercepted a Forrestal pass on the Navy 36. Ryan's passing to Buddy Leal and Ken Williams put the ball on the Navy 8. Ryan then hit Ken Williams on the one and he dove over. Hill converted.

Navy drove to the Rice 10, but a penalty kicked the Middies back in the final period. Oldham tried a field goal with the ball placed on the 20, but missed. Earlier, Bob Reifsnyder had missed a field goal try from the 36.

Ryan guided the team to midfield, but fumbled and Navy took over and drove back to the Rice three, where the Owls held. Ryan's passing and running led the Owls all the way to the Navy two, where time ran out.

"I think it's the greatest team I've ever been associated with," Erdelatz, in coaching since 1936, said of his squad. "In all ways: drive, desire, and fun." Erdelatz has coached at St. Mary's and with the pro San Francisco 49ers.

Sutherin Kicks Field Goal to Defeat Oregon

Fired Up Ducks Give Big Ten Champs Scare Before Losing

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes, if they want to be fair about it, should chip in to have third-string halfback Don Sutherin's right shoe gold-plated as a going-away present.

The 194-pound senior came off the bench to boot a fourth-period field goal from the 24-yard line yesterday, giving the nation's second-ranked team a squeaky 10-7 verdict over Oregon's underdog Webfoots before 98,202 in the 44th Rose Bowl game.

Without the kick the Bucks, clean-record winners of the Big Ten title three times in the last four years, could have been tied by the thrice-beaten 19-point underdogs.

As it turned out, Coach Len Casanova's Pacific Coast Conference co-champions were given pecks of praise for their showing against what appeared to be unsurmountable pre-game odds. The shaky coast conference, which has seen its representatives drop 11 of the 12 games with Western Conference foes since the pact was signed in 1947, figured this one was a moral victory.

And it came close to being more than that as the Webfoots outgained Woody Hayes' stalwarts 351 to 294 yards and had 21 first downs to Ohio's 19. It was the most first downs scored against the big, bad Bucks this season, and the Ohio point total was its lowest of the campaign.

Even Hayes, who after his 20-7 win here over Southern Cal in the 1955 game roused coast fans' ire with some free-hand criticisms of this and that, reversed his field and added his plaudits to the performance of the losers.

The scoring was short and sweet. The Bucks took the opening kickoff 79 yards in 13 plays for their first touchdown, quarterback Frank Kremblas sneaking for the counter after throwing a 37-yard "third and 18" pass to sophomore end Jim Houston on the one-yard line. Kremblas converted.

The Ducks marched 80 yards in 10 plays, in a drive which bridged the first-second quarter intermission, with halfback Jim Shanley taking a pitchout from quarterback Jack Crabtree and circling end for five yards as halfback Charley Tourville swept Kremblas out of the scoring path with a bowl-shaking block. Jack Morris, balding fullback, booted his 14th conversion in 19 attempts to tie it.

In the third quarter, Morris, who had kicked four of five field goal attempts in the 10-game regular season, missed by inches a three-pointer from the 24-yard line. The Bucks took over on the 20, and in 13 plays, all on the ground, battered their way to the Webfoot 17.

With only 58 seconds gone in the final period, Sutherin came off the bench, and with Kremblas holding, angled a 24-yard placekick between the uprights for the winning margin. It was a thrilling career finish for the Toronto, Ohio, senior, who has been unabe to practice kicking for weeks because of a lame back.

Oregon's sharpshooting quarterback, Crabtree, was voted the game's outstanding player, and Hayes concurred that the 191-pound senior was as good as any who graced the rugged Big Ten this season. Crabtree completed 10 of 17 passes for 135 yards and picked up 48 yards in 16 rushing tries.

Strong Passing Attack Defeats Air-Minded Drake

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The University of Louisville stole Drake's thunder in the Sun Bowl yesterday by taking a 34-20 football victory on an attack built around long and accurate passes.

Drake had been expected to use the aerial route. The Bulldogs did pass frequently but they were able to complete only 10 of 33 and most were for only short gains.

Louisville hit 6 of 10 and three went for touchdowns.

Drake took a 7-0 lead at 7:10 of the first period. The Bulldogs moved 50 yards in 12 plays and quarterback Roger LaBrasca ran over from the 7 after failing to find a receiver on an intended pass play.

Louisville tied the score in the same quarter on a 40-yard pass play from freshman back Pete Bryant to halfback George Cain.

Louisville end Ed Young snagged the first of his two touchdown passes early in the second quarter. He stumbled while running downfield but regained his footing in time to grab the toss from Dale Orem.

Brown Puts On One-Man Show as Ole Miss Wins

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Quarterback Raymond Brown gave one of the greatest one-man performances in Sugar Bowl history to end Mississippi's frustration in the New Year's Day football extravaganza.

The Rebels' 39-7 victory over Texas yesterday was a tribute to Brown's driving power, his masterful passing and his deceptive faking. He scored two touchdowns, one on a record-smashing 92-yard run, passed for one and set up another with a pass interception.

The 190-pound senior won the Warren V. Miller Trophy as the outstanding player as Mississippi avenged frustrating Sugar Bowl losses to Georgia Tech (24-7) in 1953 and Navy (21-0) in 1955.

"He played better against us than any other quarterback this season," said Darrel Royal, whose team beat Rice and its All-America quarterback King Hill by a 19-14 margin.

Brown gained 137 yards running, completed three passes for 24 yards, intercepted three Texas passes and managed a 34.7 yard punting average although aiming for the sidelines. He had one kick go out on the seven.

The rugged quarterback, who hasn't had a professional offer, wasted no time in showing Texas how Mississippi earned the No. 7 spot in the final AP rankings and posted the nation's eighth best offensive mark.

Texas halfback Rene Ramirez fumbled midway through the opening quarter and linebacker Ken Kork recovered for Mississippi on the Longhorn's 34. A 15-yard personal foul penalty helped Mississippi move to the one, from where Brown hit tackle for the first score.

In the second quarter Mississippi drove 45 yards for a touchdown, with Brown running 24 yards on four plays and passing twice to end Don Williams for 16 yards. The final toss of three yards produced the score. Tackle Robert Khayat booted the first of three conversions.

Mississippi took a 19-0 halftime edge after Brown intercepted a pass by Texas quarterback Bobby Lackey and returned it seven yards to the Texas 20. On the fifth play halfback Kent Lovelace sprinted nine yards on a scoring slant across left end.

Mississippi added a touchdown in the third period on a 52-yard march before Texas could get its offense clicking against the nation's 10th best defense. The Mississippi score was on a three-yard sweep by reserve quarterback Bobby Franklin.

The Longhorns, No. 11 in the final AP ranking, moved 33 yards for their touchdown, with halfback Max Alvis smashing the final two. Lackey converted.

Duke Bobbles Orange Bowl Game

Sooners Romp, 48-21

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A tricky play worked up at halftime backfired on Duke and launched an Oklahoma touchdown avalanche which gave the Sooners a 48-21 Orange Bowl football victory.

"Sometimes they work, sometimes they don't," Duke coach Bill Murray said. "This time it didn't."

"The things that happened to Duke normally don't hapen . . . I've never had so many touchdowns given to me," he said.

Lady luck joined the Sooners early. With Duke threatening, Oklahoma quarterback David Baker stole a pass from third unit quarterback George Harris and raced 94 yards for a touchdown before the game was 11 minutes old. It was the longest sprint in Orange Bowl history, surpassing the 90-yard kickoff return by Tulsa's Camp Wilson in 1945.

Six of Oklahoma's touchdowns resulted from breaks and luck had a hand in the seventh. Four of the Sooner scores were packed into a hectic fourth quarter and that tricky play of Duke's started the steady end zone parade.

Duke coaches had noticed Oklahoma players dropping back swiftly on quick kick situations, so at halftime Murray and his staff whipped up a play they hope would work for big yardage. The Blue Devils got a chance to use it early in the fourth period when Oklahoma was leading only 21-14.

With third down at its 26 and 12 yards to go, Duke faked a quick kick. The ball was supposed to go to quarterback Bob Brodhead for a pass down the middle to end Dave Hurm. But in a mix-up in signals on the new play, the ball was snapped to halfback George Dutrow, who had stepped into quick kick position. Caught by surprise, Dutrow fumbled and Dennit Morris recovered for Oklahoma on the Duke 24. Five plays later Jakie Sandefer swept three yards for a touchdown and after that almost everything Duke did seemed to go wrong.

"It was a coaching error," Murray insisted, shouldering the blame for the foul-up.

Another Duke fumble—also recovered by Morris—another intercepted pass, a punt blocked by Ross Coyle and a high snap from center led to four other Oklahoma scores.

Even more dazzling than Baker's record run in the first period was a long pass interception play that gave Oklahoma its final touchdown. Third-stringer Bennett Watts grabbed a Brodhead pass about the Sooner 32, dashed to the Duke 30 and lateraled to Dick Carpenter, who went the rest of the way.

While Oklahoma was cashing breaks for points, the Blue Devils had to get theirs the hard way—driving 65, 70 and 85 yards for their touchdowns. The Blue Devils outgained the Sooners 231 yards to 165 on the ground. Oklahoma had an edge in passing—114 yards and two touchdowns to 97 yards for Duke.

Aside from the long interception returns, the longest distance Oklahoma had to march for a touchdown was 29 yards—and on that one the Sooners did it in just one play, a pass from Brewster Hobby to Baker. Other Sooner scores came on a 13-yard double reverse by Clendon Thomas, a 1-yard sneak by Dodd and a 9-yard pass-run from Baker to Hobby.

Cotton Bowl Mascots Are Brushed Off

Rice's 5-foot-tall owl, made of fiber glass, disappeared right in the middle of the game in full view of 75,504 fans. It was discovered minutes later being carted away by a group of Midshipmen.

After a sharp tussle and a tug of war, the bird was returned to the Rice rooting section where it was guarded for the rest of the game by two policemen.

Texas Bill, the white billy goat given to the Navy here after the Midshipmen couldn't bring their own mascot from Annapolis, finished the game with even less glory.

Just before the final gun, his two handlers sold him to a small boy for 50 cents. But the lad changed his mind and the Navy had to return the 50 cents and take Texas Billy back.

Stiff Schedule for 'Y' Tankers

First of the new year's swimming tests for Pontiac YMCA's natators is set for Saturday, when the city's Red Triangles face a strong Lansing "Y" squad. Saturday's meet is not only the first for 1958, it is the first of the winter for Pontiac.

Pontiac's teams will be away from home also, on Jan. 11 at Flint, then returns the following Saturday at 2 p.m. for its first home showing, against Saginaw. On Jan. 25 Pontiac goes to Detroit Northern YMCA to round out the first month's program.

Three Southwest 11's Strike Out in Bowl Efforts

DALLAS (AP) — There was no joy in these parts today—the mighty Southwest Conference had struck out.

For the first time in history the Conference had teams in three major bowl games—and lost them all. No other conference could make that statement or wanted to.

Last Saturday Texas A&M started the slide by losing to Tennessee 3-0 in the Gator Bowl.

Yesterday Rice and Texas completed the rout. Rice took a 20-7 hammering in the Cotton Bowl from Navy and Texas absorbed a 39-7 shellacking from Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl.

Chief Wrestlers Meet Strong Ypsilanti Friday

Pontiac Central jumps the gun on the 1958 portion of the area wrestling schedule tomorrow night when the Chiefs travel to Ypsilanti to meet one of the state's annual mat powers.

Pontiac has beaten Fitzgerald and lost a close verdict to Cranbrook in two regular season starts and made an impressive showing in the Southeastern Michigan tournament.

The rugged Friday match will be the 1st of a heavy list of 13 scheduled for the Chiefs during the next two months. Two with the yet untested Waterford team are included.

Most of the other Oakland County wrestling teams resume action next week. One exception is Cranbrook which will remain idle until Jan. 14.

Field Goal Win Rose Bowl's 3rd

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Three times a field goal has won the Rose Bowl game for a Big Ten team, twice for Ohio State.

Don Sutherin's 34-yard boot did it yesterday for Ohio State over Oregon, 10-7.

Once before Ohio State did it, in 1950, with a 17-yard field goal by Jim Hague to win from California, 17-14.

And in 1956 Dave Kaiser's 41-yard kick brought victory to Michigan State over UCLA, 17-14.

Confederate Flag Pilfered

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Losing a flag 90 feet long and 60 feet wide and weighing 400 pounds may not be easy to do, but the University of Mississippi did it.

The mammoth Confederate flag was displayed yesterday during halftime ceremonies at the Sugar Bowl game in which the Rebels walloped Texas 39-7. Then the banner disappeared.

The flag was found last night in Hattiesburg, Miss., home of Mississippi Southern College. Lyle Babcock, director of the Mississippi band, said Mississippi Southern band members, who had taken part in the halftime show, apparently had induced a porter to put the flag on the wrong bus.

Babcock dismissed the incident as a prank and said arrangements had been made with Mississippi Southern officials to return the flag to the university.

While the search was being made Babcock was asked if Texas pranksters might have taken the flag.

"I doubt it," he replied. "I don't think they'd want to be reminded."

Jimmy Skinner Quits Because of Poor Health

Howe's Two Goals Go for Nought as Wings Lose to Chicago, 4-3

DETROIT (AP)— Jimmy Skinner unexpectedly resigned today as coach of the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League and Sid Abel was hired to succeed him.

Skinner said he was quitting on advice of his physician, Dr. Milton L. Kosley, who has been treating him for migraine headaches. He had been Detroit coach 3½ seasons.

Abel, a Red Wing star from 1938 through 1952, coached the Chicago Black Hawks two seasons after retiring from active play. He has been a manufacturer's agent in Detroit and a radio and television commentator on hockey for three years.

Gordie Howe opened the new year last night just like he closed the old one the night before—with a pair of goals. But the all-star right winger's 18th and 19th tallies of the season couldn't pull the Red Wings from behind a 4-3 defeat by the Chicago Black Hawks.

Big Eddie Litzenberger broke a 10-game scoring drought with a pair of goals in spoiling Howe's effort. Gordie's two goals on New Year's Eve gave the Red Shirts a 3-2 triumph over the Hawks at Olympia Stadium.

The loss kept the Wings in a 4th-place tie with idle Toronto in the National Hockey League standings. The Hawks are in last place—23 points behind the front-running Montreal Canadiens who defeated the Boston Bruins 4-3 in another NHL encounter at Boston.

OLD AND NEW — The Detroit Red Wings announced this morning that Jimmy Skinner (left) has resigned as coach and Sid Abel (top) was immediately named to succeed him. Skinner was named to coach the Wings in 1954, taking the post after Tommy Ivan went to the Chicago Black Hawks. Reason given by Skinner for quiting was due to illness. Abel was a member of the NHL All-Star teams of 1948-49 and 1949-50 as a center with the Wings.

Full Inter-Lakes Schedule Friday Resumes Cage Play

The ambitious Inter-Lakes Conference jumps the gun on post-vacation high school basketball action in the Oakland County area with a complete three-game schedule Friday night.

Berkley, defending Inter-Lakes co-champion and title favorite this season, will be a strong choice over the Skippers.

Waterford dropped its loop opener to Farmington and has neither the overall height nor scoring balance to match the Bears, who started their I-L campaign by downing Southfield.

Both teams lost their I-L openers. The Vikings, who show occasional flashes of brilliance, were shaded by Van Dyke while Southfield fell before Berkley.

Southfield, figured to be Berkley's top contender for the I-L crown, had its troubles with the Vikings in the Farmington tournament and could stumble at Walled Lake's hostile gymnasium.

STRIKES AND SPARES
By Joe Wilman

How long has it been since you bought a new bowling ball? If your hand hasn't been measured for several years or more, you may need a new ball or at least new holes drilled in your old ball. Young bowlers, in particular, will find themselves faced with changes in their span as their hands and fingers continue growing.

In choosing a ball, most bowlers have a tendency to choose one with too narrow a span. The finger holes and the thumb hole are too close together for effective delivery. That's why it's important for a qualified person to measure and fit you for your bowling ball.

When your hand is measured incorrectly and your span is too narrow, extra strain is placed upon your thumb and fingers. They are holding the weight of the ball themselves.

If the span is correct, your entire hand holds the ball, spreading the weight of the ball evenly. It also helps you get better finger lift with more stuff on the ball.

So, if you haven't had your bowling ball checked lately, you might be hurting your scoring chances.

Philadelphia Wants Navy-Irish Contest

"We know authorities in Baltimore are trying to keep the game there and we've heard New York is trying to get the game," said city representative Frederic Mann yesterday. "No decision has been reached but we have been told Navy is extremely interested in everything we have offered."

Mann said an agreement between the Naval Academy and Baltimore for the game to be played in Baltimore alternate years was the one hurdle for Philadelphia to overcome.

EAST LANSING — Michigan State and Harvard will meet for the first time in inter-collegiate hockey when they clash Jan. 4 at the MSU Ice Arena.

Tangerine Bowl Won on Kick

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Neal Hinson booted a longshot field goal that overhauled Mississippi Southern and gave East Texas State a 10-9 victory in last night's Tangerine Bowl football game.

Mississippi Southern appeared to dominate the New Year's Day game until Hinson, Lions senior fullback, kicked his 31-yard three pointer from a difficut angle midway in the fourth period. At the close, East Texas State was pounding on Southern's goal from one yard out.

The Lions scored first on a two-yard end sweep in the first quarter by halfback Gary Berry.

Southern knotted the score on a quarterback sneak by George Sekul in the second period. Late in the third, a Lions snap from center sailed high into the end zone and was grounded for a safety that gave Mississippi Southern two points and a 9-7 lead.

Except for Poor Grid Season

'57 Was Good to 'M'

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan athletes racked up a highly successful year in 1957, capturing two national championships and a Big Ten title.

But all three crowns were earned in lesser sports. Winning in the so-called major sports — football, basketball, hockey, track and baseball — became increasingly difficult.

The Wolverines took national titles in tennis and swimming. The Conference crown also was won in tennis.

It was the third straight Big Ten title for coach Bill Murphy's netters. They are unbeaten in 3½ years in dual meets and have won 43 consecutive matches. The team's No. 1 man, Barry Mackay, won the national singles championship.

This victory foreshadowed a brilliant international campaign for the Wolverine tennis star. Mackay last week won a Davis Cup match in Australia. He's now being heralded as the United States' top tennis ace of 1958.

Gus Stagger's swimming squad was a surprise victor in the NCAA meet after losing the Big Ten crown to Michigan State.

They were the hockey, wrestling, baseball, gymnastics and swimming teams.

"We'd trade all this for one championship in football."

The Wolverines came in sixth in the gridiron standings. It was their lowest finish since 1936. But Michigan had the conference's leading scorer and ground gainer in All America Jim Pace and the leading passer in Jim VanPelt.

Michigan again led the nation in football attendance. Michigan stadium was filled with 101,000 fans twice and 504,879 fans saw the Wolverines in their six home games. This averaged to 84,146 a game.

Table Tennis League to Resume Friday

Howard Heckman currently leads the standings with 89 points. D. Bartow ranks 2nd with 75, M. Hersacker has 71, R. Beckman 45 and D. Heyman 44.

The league plans to hold a handicap doubles tournament Jan. 17. Everyone who has taken part in at least one night of loop play will be eligible for the tourney.

Tournament information may be obtained by calling Heckman any night at FE 8-8539.

Denver Skaters Bow

DENVER (AP)—Pace-setting Denver's six-game winning streak in the western Intercollegiate Hockey League was snapped last night by Minnesota, 2-1.

The Minnesotans hustled throughout the first period to build the 2-1 score and stood off Denver's efforts to score in the last two periods.

Full Schedule of Five Games Set Saturday

Michigan State Visits Ohio State; Michigan Goes to Iowa

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio State's basketball team has broken the ice, winning its first game of the season just in time to get a lift for the start of the Big Ten title chase Saturday.

The Buckeyes remained a mystery of the warm-up campaign as they lost game after game when they were supposed to be one of the conference's powers.

After dropping seven straight decisions, they edged Yale last night 69-67, after blowing a 40-26 halftime lead. Yale spurted from the intermission deficit to a 47-47 tie with 11 minutes remaining. But OSU went ahead and managed to hold on.

Ohio State opens the Big Ten championship drive at home Saturday against the preliminary leader, Michigan State (7-1). Other games send Michigan (5-3) to Iowa (5-2), Purdue (5-3) to Minnesota (4-2), Illinois (6-1) to Wisconsin (5-3) and Northwestern (5-3) to Indiana (1-6) for an afternoon regionally televised contest.

At Ohio State the Spartans will be meeting one of the two teams generally bracketed in pre-season estimates of conference strength as co-favorites along with Michigan State for the league title. The other was Indiana, with whom State shared co-championship honors last season.

The early record means nothing in the Big Ten race. Ohio State, in the opinion of Spartan Coach Forddy Anderson, at least, must still be counted one of the Big Ten's best.

"The Buckeyes started slowly, for some reason," said Anderson. "But they have the personnel and the coaching, and when the 'for Keeps' conference games start they'll be ready. Anyone counting them out because of some exhibition game losses is crazy."

Top Hoop Powers in Action Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

West Virginia and Kansas — the nation's top two ranked college basketball teams—go into action tonight as the deluge of holiday tournaments dwindles to the vanishing point.

West Virginia, No. 1 in The Associated Press poll, entertains Canisius in its first game since shattering North Carolina's 37-game winning streak in the championship final of the U. of Kentucky Invitational on Dec. 21. The unbeaten Mountaineers hope to make Canisius victim No. 9 and revenge their 64-56 loss to the Buffalo, N.Y. quintet in the first round of the NCAA tourney last March.

Kansas, also unbeaten, goes after its 11th in a row by entertaining Oklahoma State. Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain led the Jayhawks to a 63-56 victory over the Hank Iba-coached outfit in their opening game of the season a month ago and they hope to be more convincing this time. Kansas is fresh from beating previously undefeated Kansas State, ranked No. 3, in the championship final of the Big Eight tourney Monday night.

The Senior Bowl tourney at Mobile, Ala. and the New Hampshire Invitational at Durham, N.H. also wind up tonight. The Citadel plays Spring Hill for the Senior Bowl championship while Harvard tangles with Amherst in the New Hampshire final.

Both The Citadel and Spring Hill won their first round games last night in the final seconds. A long field goal by Ray Graves with 10 seconds left gave The Citadel a 59-57 triumph over Florida State. A one-handed shot by Jim Carney that went into the net just as the final whistle blew gave Spring Hill a 69-67 victory over Georgia.

Harvard overwhelmed New Hampshire 78-56 and Amherst nipped Springfield 51-45 in the first round games at Durham. Bill Warren led Amherst with 27 points. Bob Repetto was high for Harvard with 17.

In non-tourney games last night Ohio State ended a 7-game losing streak and chalked up its first victory of the season by nipping Yale 69-67 and North Carolina State, ranked 11th nationally, walloped Virginia 84-70 in an Atlantic Coast Conference tilt.

The Murray, Ky. Thoroughbreds pulled away in the second half to whip Louisville 75-61 and Miami of Ohio downed Toledo 63-50 in other games last night.

Southern University came from behind to score three safeties yesterday and earn a 6-6 tie with Prairie View A&M in the 30th annual Prairie View Bowl.

Texas Southern's offensive ma-

The first two-pointer came in the second period when a bad snap sailed over the head of quarterback David Webster of Prairie View. The ball went into the end zone for an automatic safety.

James Scorey, 257-pound Texas Southern tackle, downed halfback William Stell in the end zone for the second safety in the third period.

A bad punt by Prairie View halfback Calvin Scott traveled only five yards, then bounced into the end zone where Frank McKee covered it for a third Prairie View safety.

Reopen Talks About Dodgers Using Coliseum

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Memorial Coliseum Commission will be asked today to reopen negotiations for use of the Coliseum by the Los Angeles Dodgers.

County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, a commission member, says he will ask for reconsideration of the rental plan which was defeated by a 4-4 vote at the commission's meeting last week.

Commission President Jim Smith offered the plan which, in essence, called for the Dodgers to pay an annual rental of $175,000. Credited against this payment would be income from concessions all of which would go to the commission.

When the plan was defeated the Dodgers pursued negotiations with the city of Pasadena for use of the Rose Bowl, and these are pending.

Lakers Lose Third Game in 3 Nights

Even though Dick Garmaker scored 33 points in the National Basketball Assn.'s only game last night, Mikan saw his Lakers go down to their third defeat in as many nights. They dropped a 120-109 decision to Syracuse as the Nats posted their eighth straight home court victory.

The triumph moved Syracuse to within six games of front running Boston in the Eastern Division.

Dolph Schayes paced the Nats with 21 points as he sank all seven of his free throws to run his strong to 45 straight for a club record. The league mark of 55 is held by Boston's Bill Sharman.

Airline Safety Rate Almost Unparalled

WASHINGTON (AP)—Although 67 persons were killed in scheduled airline accidents in 1957, the Civil Aeronautics Board says the industry ended the year "with a safety rate practically unparalleled in modern transportation history."

The fatality rate was 0.2 per 100 million passenger miles flown.

By comparison, the board said, highway travel had a fatality rate estimated at nearly six per 100 million passenger miles. A passenger mile is one person traveling one mile.

Aircrafts Active

Prices Higher in '58 Debut

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made its 1958 debut with higher prices and aircrafts in demand early today.

Leading issues rose from fractions to more than a point. The opening was active, then turnover slowed as a spill-over to reinvestment demand from the big new year's eve session petered out.

News of a 100 million dollar fighter plane contract for Chance Vought, announcement that Grumman had submitted the winning design for a new jet plane and that Sylvania Electric had been authorized to develop anti-missile missiles boosted these stocks to gains of well over a point apiece.

Weeks Sees Pickup in Business Activity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Weeks says he expects the nation's present business slowdown to give way to a high level of business activity in 1958.

"1957 was spurt then sag," he said in a statement yesterday. "1958 looks more like mild dip then climb."

The secretary added the administration will "act vigorously with every means at its disposal" to promote prosperity.

"The immediate economic situation may not be as rosy as we all want," he said. "But from where I sit the 12-month outlook is far better than nail-biting pessimists think. The shower isn't over yet, but the sun shows signs of breaking through the clouds.

Weeks said 1957 was the most prosperous year in the nation's history, and that no new year ever started with the over-all economy on such a high level as it is today.

Rackets Probers to Discuss UAW

Auto Union Subject of Sharp Controversy in Senate Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Investigating Committee will meet next week to discuss a subject of sharp controversy within the group—the planned probe of the United Auto Workers Union.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said yesterday the committee will hold a closed meeting "as early as we can" after Congress convenes Tuesday.

At that time, the chairman added, the group will take up a letter from UAW President Walter Reuther, who has accused some of the committe members of being prejudiced against labor. Reuther also has said John McGovern, chief counsel to the committee's Republican members, tried to smear the UAW.

McLellan said he has only acknowledged Reuther's letter of protest.

The McClellan committee was organized a year ago and given a half million dollar budget to hunt for evils in the fields of labor and management. The chairman said a series of closed sessions will be held to work on findings and recommendations based on the first year's work.

A preliminary report now is being drafted, for revision in these work sessions. McClellan also said the group will ask permission to continue the investigations through 1958.

France to Be Offered Plans for A-Subs

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States is planning to provide France with designs and fuel for atomic-powered submarines if Congress permits, the New York Times said today.

In a Washington dispatch by John W. Finney, the newspaper said eventually similar data would be supplied to other members of the Atlantic Pact.

The Times added:

The plan is one tangible example of scientific and atomic cooperation among the Allies to emerge from the recent meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Paris.

Secretary of State Dulles offered the submarine information to all NATO nations at the Paris conference, but only France so far has indicated interest.

The country also was said to be particularly interested in obtaining the highly enriched uranium used as fuel in the United States-type submarines.

Under the atomic energy law of 1954, the United States is prohibited from supplying enriched uranium to foreign nations for military purposes. The administration now plans to ask Congress to relax this prohibition.

Sweden Tries Out Pleasant Prison

STOCKHOLM—If Sweden's newest prison, an ultra-modern jail, doesn't "pamper convicts and encourage crime," as some suggest, it may prove to be a great forward step in penology, Stockholm reports.

Prisoners will have bedside phones in their cells, sleep on foam rubber mattresses—and be guarded by TV cameras watched by one warden. It will have 15 single-story pavilions to accommodate 230 prisoners. The unbreakable window panes in each cell cost about $160 each.

The TV watching system will reduce staffing costs. Cameras are placed in each corridor and in the grounds, to relay pictures to central screens. The phones can be connected with the prison radio. The cells will be brightly furnished.

Hundreds of Scots Search for Brides

GLASGOW—Hundreds of young men in Glasgow are looking for wives, said Mrs. Irene Anthony who runs a marriage bureau in the Scottish city.

Young men in their 20s and 30s are on her books but she can't find brides for them. It costs $14 to "register" with the bureau and another $14 if a marriage results. One well-to-do business man had 10 introductions made for him and didn't like any of the 10 girls he met.

He was on the bureau's books for two years before he finally met the girl he married. Most of the applicants say firmly that the man or woman they marry MUST have a sense of humor, Mrs. Anthony said. "A surprising number of girls also want a man with a car," she added.

Lady Baden-Powell Undergoes Operation

Doctors at Portland District Hospital, about 200 miles from Melbourne, refused to disclose the nature of her ailment but said the 68-year-old widow of Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the scouting movement, will be in the hospital for at least three weeks.

Israel Completes Drainage System

TEL AVIV—Over the protests of Syria, Israel has completed its great Huleh drainage project in northern Galilee.

It represents the clearing of malarial swamps and reclamation of up to 15,000 acres of new rich arable land, Tel Aviv reports. The Huleh basin, in the northeastern corner of Israel, is a narrow triangular valley covering about 45,000 acres, in which three rivers merge to form the Jordan.

It was covered with a 7,000 acre marsh and the shallow 3,500-acre Lake Huleh. Work started in 1950. First task was widening and deepening the Jordan south of Lake Huleh. Canals 22 miles long were dug by two giant dredgers. Since 1951 Syria has tried to block the reclamation project, either by complaints to the U. N. or by outright armed attacks on workers, Israel claims.

Producers Won't Close Shirley Booth Show

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Oscar Winner Shirley Booth's producers decided to "make a fight for it" with "Miss Isobel"—Leonard Sillman and John Roberts are spurning suggestions for a quick closing and will gamble that it'll run.

WILSON

I took my middle western mother, who wept—evidence, maybe, that it's an audience show. I asked Shirley if she minded playing a woman of 74, who gets sort of senile — plays with dolls — has a second childhood.

"All my life I've wanted to be a character actress. These are the gravy parts," she said.

She added that she wasn't saying this due to alcohol because somebody'd taken her drink and she didn't want another one. "'One-Drink Booth,' they call me," she said.

In Russia, claimed Peter Ustinov at the Foreign Press dinner, you can always distinguish between men's and women's voices: "The women's voices are lower than the men's."

Three Westport, Conn., garbage men have been whiling away their time on the garbage truck acting out "The Second Mrs. Burton" radio script. Ethel Owen, star of the show for many years, discovered this recently when one of the garbage men, picking up the script from among discarded papers, asked what it was. Miss Owen's wealthy husband, Jack Almy, explained that it was his wife's radio show. "What does she play?" asked the garbage man. "The Second Mrs. Burton," Almy said. The garbage man grinned and said, "That's the part I play!"

Far from being displeased about Elsa Maxwell's hell-raising on Jack Parr's show, NBC seems to be secretly tickled and isn't chastising her a bit. Parr's bringing "Charlie Weaver"—formerly Cliff Arquette of the "Fibber McGee" show — in to guest star here permanently.

Somebody Due to Eat Very Tough Steak

TUSCOLA, Ill. (AP) — Somebody is going to bite into a very tough steak this fall.

Deputy Sheriff Gene Miller was enroute to investigate a complaint when he saw a 700-pound black steer struck broadside by a motorist. The force of the impact tossed the steer into the air and over the car.

Miller stopped to drag the animal off the highway. When he nudged it with his foot, the steer jumped to its feet, glared balefully at Miller and raced off to join his 12 companions along the road.

RICHARD BOONE

New Character Outrates Medic

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — When Richard Boone was announced as the star of the telefilm series, "Have Gun—Will Travel," the TV editor of a national magazine wired him in shocked wonderment:

"Please advise why you are giving up a great show like 'Medic' for a Western series?"

The star who was kindly Dr. Conrad Styner one season and the gunman Paladin the next sent back the laconic reply: "I prefer doing a show that's on the air."

Or as Boone laughed to me: "I changed characters for the simple economic fact that actors have to eat, too."

After the filming of 60 stanzas the "Medic" budget got in the way of the program's dedication to integrity with no compromise and the show was pink-slipped.

GRATEFUL TO 'MEDIC'

"But I'm grateful to 'Medic' for making me known and because I believe it contributed something to the stature of TV."

But as the star of "Medic," Richard Boone contributed very little to Richard Boone compared to what the elegant, suave and deadly Paladin of "Have Gun" is doing for him today on the CBS network, which telecasts the Western at 9:30 p.m. Saturdays.

"It's fantastic," he grins. "They say women in the audience outnumber men three to one and I can believe IT. I walk into a Hollywood restaurant today and the dolls get all excited. I'm the same fellow, but believe me they never looked twice when I was playing Dr. Styner."

"We deliberately set out," Boone confided, "to create an elegantly deadly character as different as possible from any other Western series. The curled-up mustache was sort of the spice in the stew.

EDUCATED GUNMAN

"We gave him an education with a knowledge of foreign languages and the classics so he wouldn't appear to be just another guy who had spent his entire life on the main street of Dodge City.

And that he is, as soaring ratings indicate.

But you should hear all the trouble Boone went through before he started to carry a gun — and the ball. After "Medic" he was offered all kinds of TV shows — lawyers, doctors, sportswriters, private eyes, etc. "Junk, just junk," he describes them.

Then came "Have Gun." CBS network officials in New York didn't think Boone was right for the role though.

A DOCTOR TYPE

So Boone put on a Western outfit for a film test and the boys in New York took a look. "He's the Western type," they wired back.

The pilot reel was made, sent to New York and was sold three hours after CBS unwrapped the film.

Biggest surprise for Boone since becoming Paladin was a fan letter from a minister who liked the frequent references to the classics and Boone's English.

"It is as elegant," he wrote, "as your clothes."

Hillary's Party Only 70 Miles From South Pole

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Sir Edmund Hillary's party of New Zealanders is now only 70 miles from the South Pole after covering 28 miles last night, radio messages from him said today.

A British party approaching the U.S. polar station from the opposite direction is still about 300 miles away. The Britons, led by Dr. Vivian Fuchs, plan to continue to Hillary's camp near McMurdo Sound to make the first overland crossing of the continent.

Hillary reported yesterday that deep snow had slowed his tractors to only 22 miles on New Year's Eve in 28-below-zero weather. At one time "it appeared as if the tractor train had reached the end of the road," he said. But by dumping some supplies to lighten the load he was able to continue.

The Dream of Cape Canaveral

Missiles Can Mend, Build World

By FRED SPARKS

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (NEA) — It is a sorry but historic truth that the by-products of war research or war itself benefit more people than they cripple and kill.

That is the hope one finds in the studies associated with the military rocketry here at Cape Canaveral, where I have been spending a week or so.

Millions have been saved by hospital methods developed in the Civil War's primitive pain. Malaria prevention learned during the Spanish-American War freed whole continents of disease. Aviation as basic transport began in World War I. Nuclear power to improve living came from the exacting experiment that made its awful debut at Hiroshima.

Tragically, only the fear of invasion motivates a nation to exert fully its collective energies. Without fear scientists could never have obtained the billions needed for atom-splitting.

Let us pray that knowledge from our present feverish drive to lead in missiles and outer-space exploration will not have to be used to kill and destroy. Let us examine how it will be used to mend and build.

GEOGRAPHY:

United States scientific satellites will be propelled into orbit by an intercontinental ballistics missile created for conflict. The satellite's wizard gadgets will radio enough data to clog bookshelves.

Is the earth really round—or egg shaped? How accurate is present knowledge? For example: In the last war our Navy found Guam 50 miles from its position on accepted maps.

WEATHER:

An instrumented ICBM or satellite will forge missing links in our understanding of climate. Today's cloud seedings to coax rain are puny. With sufficient know-how man might move to control his seasons.

Brutal hurricanes and tornados will be rocket-blasted off their courses, broken up or detoured to unpopulated areas. Bone dry deserts, irrigated by science-shifted storms, will be rich with crops. Those who now exist a mouthful from starvation will be nourished, reborn.

MEDICINE:

Rockets will hold a stethoscope to the heavens. When we solve and tap cosmic rays we might have, God willing, a weapon to dissolve cancer. Thousands who die of malignant growths will live: the rest of us will no longer cringe every time we finger a suspicious lump.

Researchers analyzing space survival are amazed by the potential of artificial gravity-eliminators. Man's internal organs, when weightless (as on the moon) would not be pulled downward. Such a simulated condition might permit delicate surgery now impossible. A patient would literally float on the operating table.

POWER:

With our coal, gas and oil reserves fast being consumed, solar energy will be harnessed by space stations. When you go to your stove you'll turn on the sun.

Citizens in backward lands like India, Arabia and Africa who can't afford electricity will have homes lighted, plants driven, by rays captured 1,000 miles up. Rays strong enough to give you a beautiful tan in a split second. The sun, unlike anthracite, will never wear out.

TRAVEL:

Using braking and landing features already sketched, a converted passenger ICBM will cruise from Los Angeles to New York in 20 minutes. New York to Rome—25 minutes.

It will arch from airfield to space to airfield with such rapidity stewardesses won't worry about sticky dinner trays; there'll be hardly time for coffee.

If you visited Cape Canaveral, saw our rockets climb into the unknown, spoke to our engineers — as hard-headed as croupiers — you'd know, as I do, that all these things will come to pass. Today a realist is a man who believes in miracles.

What is the dream? That progressing science, turned into foodstuffs and commodities, will eliminate want. With no true haves and have nots the threat of war will diminish. Why fight over Mideast oil if you don't need it?

Deer Enters School

MILTON, Pa. (AP) — Add a new advantage of higher education: A deer frightened by hunters near this Central Pennsylvania town took refuge in the Milton Area Joint High School building. The buck leaped through a window and made a tour of the trade shops before departing through another window when officials came to open the school for classes.

Auto-Death Claims Rise

NEW YORK — Motor-vehicle fatalities in the first half of 1957 resulted in a record 22,000 life-insurance death claims, representing $54,000,000 in death benefits, or $9,000,000 more than in the like period of 1956. Some 1,000 more claims were received than in the 1956 period.

Sweden Builds Hotels

STOCKHOLM—Eight new hotels and motels were built in Sweden last year and four new hotels will be opened this year. Together they number 1,163 rooms, with 618 of them being in Stockholm.

Solon Predicts Alaska as State

Miller Also Forecasts Democratic Gains in 1958 Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Miller (Neb), senior Republican member of the House Interior Committee, predicted today that Congress will admit Alaska as the 49th state during the coming session.

At the same time, Miller said he felt "doubtful" that statehood would be voted for Hawaii this year.

The Alaska statehood bill was reported out by both the Senate and House committees during the past session, but neither house has acted. The Hawaii bill came out of the Senate committee.

Miller, who said he will vote for admission of both Alaska and Hawaii as states, made his predictions in a forecast he makes each year before Congress begins action.

Miller also forecast, as he has before, that the Democrats will increase their majority in Congress in this year's election. He said Democrats will benefit from Russia's two satellites, actions of Secretary of Agriculture Benson, and the Little Rock racial situation.
