6-Month Car Sales Shatter '55 Record

New car sales continued upward for the first six months of the year to shatter the old mark set in 1955.

The record auto industry output of 4,013,836, compiled by Ward's Automotive Reports, put the half-year total above the same period last year by 328,536 units and over 1955's six month record of 3,851,900.

General Motors earned a 51.9 per cent share of the June car market, led by Chevrolet's half-year all-time high of 1,445,350 new cars and trucks and 218,720 car and truck monthly sales.

Pontiac Motor Division was GM's second leader, also with a record, of 389,326 sales. This is 22 per cent ahead of last year. June deliveries of 67,109 were well ahead of last year's 55,294.

GMC Truck & Coach Division sales for the first half of 1964 reached a 13-year high, with deliveries of 54,494 units, and 18.7 per cent gain over 1963.

★ ★ ★

The division also concluded its best second quarter sales in history with 26,855 trucks and buses sold domestically.

OLDSMOBILE RECORD

Oldsmobile recorded first half of the year sales of 282,834, while Buick made 260,891 new car deliveries.

Ford Motor Co. penetration of the June market was 27.7 per cent. Ford Division had sales of 155,452 cars while Lincoln - Mercury sales were 31,037, both ahead of a year ago.

Chrysler Corp. dealers garnered 15.5 per cent of the month's market. Chrysler-Plymouth Division recorded 59,546 June deliveries.

★ ★ ★

American Motors and Studebaker took a combined 4.9 per cent of the month's sales.

SECOND QUARTER

Second quarter of 1964 sales are also a record breaker with the industry reaching the 2,170,092 level, topping 1955's April - June figures of 2,081,400.

Skier Charged in Lake Death

Fisherman Drowns After Fall From Boat

A Wyandotte youth today was charged with the reckless operation of water skis following the drowning of a Detroit fisherman in Upper Straits Lake yesterday.

Oakland Drowning Toll in '64

Last Year to Date 10

In ordering the warrant, Senior Assistant Prosecutor Robert Templin said statements from witnesses showed that the wake created by skier Robert B. Deters Jr., 18, of 1484 23rd Street caused the fisherman to fall from his boat.

★ ★ ★

The drowning victim, William H. Hickmott, 68, of 5209 Trumbull was kneeling in his boat, reaching for fishing gear, when it began to rock and he lost his balance and tumbled overboard, according to his wife, Helen.

His body was recovered from the West Bloomfield Township lake by skin diver Lyle Wilcox of the Oakland County sheriff's office at 4:15 p.m., 45 minutes after the drowning was reported.

Templin said Deters was responsible for controling his actions on water skis.

★ ★ ★

The offense is a misdemeanor and carries a maximum sentence of 90 days, Templin said.

The operator of the boat towing Deters is a 16-year-old and under the jurisdiction of juvenile authorities. He was to be questioned by them today.

Lt. Donald Kratt, director of the sheriff's water safety division, said he has signed a negligent homicide complaint against the juvenile.

Witnesses told Templin that the skier came within 20 to 40 feet of Hickmott's boat.

The state's water law prohibits power crafts from coming within 100 feet of anchored boats, swimmers and docks.

Omits Mention of Rights Fight in Speech Text

Position Weakens Governor's Weapon to Derail Goldwater

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Michigan's Gov. Romney failed to line up today with Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton for a stop-Goldwater GOP platform declaration that the new civil rights law is constitutional.

In an advance text of his remarks furnished the convention platform committee for an appearance tomorrow, Romney did not mention the constitutional declaration Scranton's forces obviously had chosen as a vehicle for a convention floor fight they believe might torpedo Sen. Barry Goldwater's apparent grip on the Republican presidential nomination.

Scranton's backers also were reported in line for another setback in a ruling by Rep. Katherine St. George, R-N.Y., the convention parliamentarian, that rules of the House of Representatives will govern convention actions.

The platform committee adopted similar rules last night.

The parliamentarian's ruling would mean that Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., chairman of the platform committee, would control the time and designate

OPPOSES DECLARATION

Laird is opposed to any platform declaration about the constitutionality of the civil rights bill.

Goldwater, who has more than enough delegate votes to win the nomination unless they slip away, voted against the legislation in the Senate on the grounds that the public accommodations and equal employment sections were unconstitutional.

In Washington, Goldwater's campaign manager, Denison Kitchell, said there will be a fight if efforts are made to put the constitutionality issue in the platform.

"I'd welcome that kind of fight," he said.

Laird is understood to have argued with Romney against proposing action on the constitutionality question.

The governor's omission of any mention of it in his prepared statement was taken as an indication that he had abandoned the project.

He could revive it, however,

Barry Is Quoted; Johnson Unbeatable at Moment

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater is quoted as saying in a June 30 interview that at the moment he thinks no Republican can beat Lyndon B. Johnson in the U. S. president election.

The German weekly news magazine Der Spiegel printed today an interview it said was obtained with Goldwater in his Senate office June 30. It said its reporter, Hermann Schreiber, asked him:

"Do you believe you have a chance to win the elections against President Johnson?"

Goldwater was quoted as replying:

"As matters stand at the moment, the answer must be no.

"At the moment, I don't believe that any Republican has such a chance. But one thing is certain: No Republican can win against Johnson without support from the South. And in the South, neither William Scranton, Nelson Rockefeller nor Henry Cabot Lodge stands a chance."

Goldwater's office released a transcript of the interview which agreed substantially with the version printed by Der Spiegel.

However, a spokesman noted, the transcript also contained this statement by Goldwater:

NOT AS OF NOW

"I don't think I would be rash enough to say that I could beat Johnson in the South as of now. But come election day, there is going to be another horse race."

Asked why forces within the Republican party want to prevent him from getting the presidential nomination, Goldwater said:

"Opinion is widespread—and I never heard it contradicted—that the big banks, the money aristocracy of the East Coast, almost always manipulate the selection of a Republican candidate."

GOP to Hear Meany

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Meany, AFL-CIO president, reportedly will urge Republican platform-makers tomorrow to pledge strict civil rights enforcement and to repudiate Sen. Barry Goldwater's right-to-work views.

Meany, who is leaving today to appear before the GOP platform committee in San Francisco, will ask that the party campaign on the promise to put enforcement of the new rights law in the hands of "people who mean business," sources said.

Shaping the civil rights plank will be one of the committee's touchiest chores.

Although most congressional Republicans voted for the civil rights bill, Goldwater, who has the party's presidential nomination almost in his grasp, voted against it.

★ ★ ★

He argued that he believed some of its provisions were unconstitutional. But the Arizona senator has said he would enforce the law if elected president.

REPEAL OF SECTION

On another issue, Meany will ask the committee to pledge repeal of a section of federal labor law which permits the states to enact right-to-work laws, the sources said.

These laws, on the books in 20 states including Arizona, outlaw union shop contracts between labor and management.

Under the union shop, a worker must join the union after he is hired.

★ ★ ★

In the right-to-work states, he does not have to join even though the union bargains for him along with its members.

OPPOSED BY AFL-CIO

Goldwater has introduced legislation, sharply opposed by the AFL-CIO, to ban the closed shop except in states which permit it under their own laws.

This would reverse the effect of present federal law and put the burden on unions to campaign for the closed shop in all 50 states.

Under the closed shop, all persons employed must be union members.

★ ★ ★

In the event replacements are needed or new jobs open up, workers are obtained through the union.

★ ★ ★

Meany is expected to detail his views on international relations and the problem of high U.S. unemployment before the committee.

★ ★ ★

And he is expected to oppose the Democratic administration's policies of limited trade with Communist bloc satellites to exploit differences in the bloc.

★ ★ ★

Meany has argued that the United States should demand concessions, such as removal of the Berlin Wall, for any economic help to Communist nations.

Won't Dictate to GOP-Ike

NEW YORK (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower is quoted by Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review, as saying "The last thing in the world I wanted to do in my retirement was to try to run a political organization or give orders or pull strings."

Cousins wrote that Republican presidential aspirants and their supporters have beset Eisenhower in attempts "to capture the favor of a man who has no desire to direct or become enmeshed in partisan political warfare."

Eisenhower is quoted as saying:

"Trying to dictate who the man should be who would offer himself to the voters for the most important job in this country is completely out of keeping with what I want to do—or, indeed, what I believe anyone has the right to do."

Storms, Hail, Wind Forecast for Area

Severe thunderstorms with high winds and hail are forecast for the Pontiac area late today or tonight.

Storms are expected to bring temperatures tumbling several degrees by Thursday. The mercury will continue in the high 80s tomorrow.

Tonight's low will be near 62 to 70.

Sixty-nine was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. today. At 2 p.m., the recording was 84.

M59 Section Due to Open Next Month

Barring unforeseen problems, M59 in Waterford Township will open to traffic Aug. 1, according to William Atchison, State Highway Department project engineer.

★ ★ ★

The 3.4-mile road widening project from two to five lanes began last January between Elizabeth Lake and Airport roads.

Atchison said paving should be completed by July 15. Curb and gutter work will follow.

During the course of the widening project, M59 has been closed to through traffic. Local traffic has been allowed where possible.

★ ★ ★

The middle three lanes of the widened road will be blacktop. Both outer lanes are concrete.

FIVE-LANE BRIDGE

A principal part of the construction project is the five-lane bridge over the Clinton River which replaced the former two-lane bridge.

★ ★ ★

Avalanche Kills 14 on French Peak

CHAMONIX, France (AP) — An avalanche on Aiguille Verte — Green Needle — Peak in the Mont Blanc range today swept 14 Alpinists to a snowy death. Among them was Charles Bozon, world special slalom ski champion in 1962.

All of the victims were experienced mountain climbers. Four were professors from the French National School for High Mountains which trains and licenses mountain guides. Nine were students at the school. Bozon had joined the group for his pleasure.

Reports radioed from the scene said most of the bodies, including Bozon, had been recovered.

The avalanche occurred at about 9,000 feet at a place called the Couloir Coururier — Couturier Corridor.

★ ★ ★

'GREATEST SKIER'

Bozon, 31, was a native of Chamonix. Often called France's greatest skier, he had been skiing since the age of 3, racing since he was 9 and a member of French national ski teams for more than a decade.

Support for Board Voiced on Waterford Tower Issue

Waterford Township Board members last night received their first public vote of confidence on the Lake Oakland Heights water tower issue after months of constant criticism from subdivision residents.

* * *

William Shunck, former superintendent of Waterford Township Schools, commended the board's courage to stand on its decision in the face of pressure.

Shunck, presently superintendent of Wayne County Schools and a member of the township's planning commission, offered his comments after Lake Oakland Heights residents again attacked the board's stand on the tower.

"One of the greatest sins of governing boards is the sin of omission," Shunck said.

* * *

"It takes strength and guts to do what you think is right."

MORE CRITICISM

Earlier in the meeting, criticism of the tower location was renewed by Chalmer F. Calme, who lives at 3300 Main, directly across from the job site.

Calme noted that the board chose the Lake Oakland site, because it was the least expensive of several studied.

Then he said that the constant noise and vibration of the pile driver at the site beginning at 6:10 a.m. each day was taxing his wife's nerves.

* * *

"What price does the board put on a woman's sanity?" he asked.

LOST CAREERS

Maynard Peters, who is spearheading the campaign against the tower, said the water tower might cost some careers.

He referred to recall petitions now being circulated against Township Supervisor James F. Secterlin and Trustee John S. Coleman.

"I will work day and night for this cause," he added.

* * *

Mrs. William Crommett, 6021 Williams Lake Road, joined Shunck in siding with the board.

BOARD THANKED

"A 6-million gallon tank is to be placed near where I live," she said. "We thank you (the board) for progress."

In other business last night, the board approved extension of sewer service for a doughnut shop at Telegraph and Boston.

* * *

The resolution will be referred to the Pontiac City Commission for action at tonight's commission meeting.

* * *

Also last night, the board voted to pass along increased sewer service rates in the Huron Gardens area effective Aug. 1 when the City of Pontiac rate hike becomes effective.

OTHER ACTION

In other action the board approved a preliminary plat for a 60-lot residential development extending from Walton to Lake Oakland.

* * *

The board also ruled that in future proposed rezoning, notice of the zoning hearing be mailed to all persons with a 500-foot radius of the property in question.

FBI 'Says' Rights Man Held in Jail

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP)—A civil rights organization said today the FBI had determined that one of its workers was in jail at Walthall, seat of Webster County in north Mississippi.

* * *

Earlier, a spokesman for the student non - violent coordinating committee had expressed concern because his group had not been able to determine the whereabouts of James Brown, a 22-year-old Negro, after he was turned over to a Webster County deputy sheriff by the Leflore County sheriff's office in Greenwood.

Mrs. Billy Joe Bower, wife of the Webster County sheriff, said her husband was "out on a call" and she did not know whether Brown was a prisoner in the county jail.

The Leflore County sheriff's office said Brown, from Itta Bena, was arrested last night by Itta Bena city police on a warrant from Webster County charging him with a traffic violation last month.

* * *

The sheriff's office said Brown was then released to a Webster deputy about 10 p.m. for transportation to Walthall, the seat of justice for Webster County.

START SEARCH

Michael Sayer, a spokesman for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, said his organization had tried unsuccessfully to determine Brown's whereabouts.

* * *

Telephone calls to Webster County Sheriff Billy Joe Bowen at his home and offices at Eupora and Walthall went unanswered.

Soviet Shifting U.N. Policy?

Reported Proposal May Herald Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials studied evidence today that the Soviet Union may be shifting its policy toward the United Nations.

Deep interest has been aroused here by Tokyo reports that the Soviet government is proposing the creation of a permanent U.N. military force.

The reported proposal, said to have been made in a note to the Japanese Foreign Office, could be the beginning of a significant change of attitude in Moscow toward the world organization, officials here said, but the evidence is far from conclusive.

In the U.S. view, the Soviet attitude toward U.N. peacekeeping operations has generally been uncooperative.

The Soviet government usually has objected to the employment of U.N. forces under orders from the General Assembly.

ASSEMBLY ACTION

The practice of action through the General Assembly was developed by the Western powers more than a decade ago to get around the Soviet Union's use of its veto in the Security Council to paralyze action there.

One of the developing U.N. crises centers around the Soviet Union's delinquency in paying U.N. assessments for peace - keeping activities.

The Soviet Union faces a battle in the General Assembly session next fall over the loss of its vote there.

The Soviet memorandum to the Japanese government said the Soviet Union would be willing to "shoulder its due share of expenses" for an international peace force if it was under the sole control of the Security Council — where the Soviet Union has veto power.

Urges U.S. Suit in Baker Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., today urged the attorney general to bring suit in an effort to force Bobby Baker to turn over to the government the money he made while on the Senate pay roll.

"Bobby Baker can be compelled in a civil action to pay over to the United States every penny he has made through the use of his influence and the prestige of his office," Case said in a statement.

* * *

Case also renewed his attack on what he termed the "inadequate and timid" investigation of Baker's affairs by the Senate Rules Committee.

"The entire effort thus far has the ring of an investigation handcuffed before it started, kept that way no matter what, and now, hopefully, destined for the category of 'file and forget'," he said.

DISAPPOINTMENT

Disappointment with the investigation also was expressed by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., author of the resolution adopted by the Senate last October directing the Rules Committee to probe Baker's outside business dealings.

"The majority membership of the Rules Committee have backed down when confronted with a possibly embarrassing disclosure, and by their failure to pursue this investigation they are vulnerable to the charge of attempted whitewash," Williams told the Senate Monday.

* * *

Williams charged that Baker, before he resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, "apparently charged an estimated $3,000 in personal telephone calls to the government."

He protested the committee had dropped the matter after Baker, when called as a witness, invoked his Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination and refused to answer questions about his telephone calls.

TO FILE RECORDS

The committee's Democratic majority and the Republican minority are to file reports Wednesday on how Baker accumulated a claimed fortune of more than $2 million while on the Senate pay roll at $19,600 a year.

Case said the committee apparently feels "there is no way to call Baker to account unless violation of specific criminal statutes can be proved."

* * *

"There is another way," he said and then went on to contend that the attorney general could bring a civil suit to compel Baker to disgorge any profits he made from use of his official position or prestige.

"The time has come in the field of public affairs to put an end to all short cuts to big loot, to easy money, to the 'fast buck'," Case said.

'Saved U.S. $2.5 Billion'

McNamara Points Up Defense Economies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara reported today that his cost reduction program saved $2.5 billion last year. He won an approving note from President Johnson.

* * *

The saving is a billion dollars more than McNamara forecast a year ago would be saved in the 1964 fiscal year by "buying only what we need" and "buying at the lowest sound price."

* * *

Prospects for further cost cutting are so good, McNamara said, that he is boosting his long-range goal by $600 million a year, predicting annual savings of $4.6 billion by 1968 and every year after that.

ASSURED LBJ

"I want to assure you that these savings are being achieved without any adverse effect on our military strength and combat readiness," McNamara told the President in a memorandum.

* * *

Attached to copies distributed to newsmen was a note signed by Johnson. It said McNamara's report "gives me confidence that my pledge to get a dollar's worth of value from every dollar spent can be fulfilled."

McNamara's cost reduction drive began under the late President John F. Kennedy. It was embraced by Johnson soon after he entered the White House last fall.

* * *

In 1962 and 1963 McNamara issued similar cost reduction reports at about this same time. This year, the report comes as the Republicans are preparing to open their presidential nominating convention in San Francisco next Monday.

SEEMS LIKELY

It seems likely the McNamara report will find its way into the election campaign if the Republicans make an issue of defense spending, expected to total about $50 billion this bookkeeping year.

* * *

One major source of cost savings is the closing or reduction of bases deemed unnecessary.

McNamara reported that 126 new actions of this kind in the past fiscal year increased annual operating savings by $252 million, to $568 million as of June 30.

* * *

A total of 28,290 more jobs were eliminated, he said.

by departing from his text or bringing it up in response to questions.

* * *

The issue assumed added proportions because Scranton and Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., one of his principal advisers, made it clear they expect to carry it to the convention floor to add to the emotional atmosphere there.

Pennsylvania State Chairman Craig Truax, another Scranton strategist, told reporters he expects an emotional convention.

He said he anticipates that National Young Republicans will be on hand to attempt to pack the galleries to root for Goldwater.

He said there will be "some emotion on the other side, too."

Kent Courtney of New Orleans, head of an extremely conservative group backing Goldwater, said demonstrators would be on hand to greet Scranton when he appears before the platform committee Thursday.

A $3,049,700 operating budget was adopted following a public hearing.

Included in the $364,697 increase over last year's figure is $363,036 extra for instructional purposes.

OTHER INCREASES

Other increases are in transportation, up $38,316; administration, $21,780; operations, $18,350; and maintenance, $2,800.

Members of the PTO Council and representatives of the teachers will be asked to join board members in working on a salary schedule to be offered to voters. Trustees expressed the hope that a mill age issue proposal could be drafted by this fall.

Miller will serve as chairman of the committee. Other members are Mrs. Amylee Chamberlain and Donald Hyde.

* * *

David W. Lee was named chairman of the architectural committee, working with Bowers and Mrs. Martz.

EXPRESS INTEREST

Some 20 architectural firms have expressed an interest in the first phase of the $7-million building program approved by property owners June 8.

The board committee will interview various applicants.

BIRMINGHAM—Raises averaging between four and five per cent were approved for Birmingham Board of Education employes last night.

The salary increases for teachers, administrators, custodians and office workers were included in a 5.6-mill operational levy approved at the polls June 8.

The issue allotted some $800,000 for pay increases during the next five years. Those assigned by the board of education last night are expected to consume about $325,000.

Under the newly approved salary schedule, beginning teachers with bachelors degrees will earn $5,250 annually, compared to $5,100 on the old schedule.

Maximum pay in this category, given with 12 years of experience, was jumped from $8,200 to $8,600.

OTHER INCREASES

Holders of masters degrees will begin at $5,550 rather than $5,400 and their maximum after 12 years will be $9,600 compared to $9,200.

The third level, for those with 30 semester hours of college credit beyond a masters degree, was increased $250 for beginners to give them $6,950. Maximum salary in this category went up from $9,050 to $10,050.

Proportionate raises were granted the 15 classifications of administrators whose salaries are figured on a ratio with those of the teachers.

* * *

Secretarial and clerical employes received an average increase of $180 while custodians will get about eight cents an hour more.

The system's staff of about 1,300 includes some 700 professional employes.

Three board officers were reelected to their posts at the reorganizational meeting last night.

They are E. Ross Hanson, president; George W. Coombe Jr., vice president; and Pell Hollingshead, treasurer. Mrs. Louise Adams replaces Mrs. Mary Beier as secretary.

The board also changed its meeting night from the fourth to the third Tuesday of each month. Sessions are held at 8 p.m.

JUDGE F. L. O'BRIEN

Announces Candidacy for Court

Ann Arbor Municipal Judge Francis L. O'Brien today became the first candidate from that part of the state to announce for the Court of Appeals 2nd District.

The district is composed of 16 counties, including Oakland but not Wayne, in southeast Michigan.

Judge O'Brien was first appointed to the Ann Arbor court in 1949 to fill a vacancy and has been reappointed for three successive terms. He served as Washtenaw County chief assistant prosecutor for three years previously.

A 1930 graduate of Eastern Michigan University, O'Brien was a secondary school teacher before entering University of Michigan, where he received his law degree in 1938.

* * *

He engaged in private practice before and after World War II, in which he served with the Army Criminal Investigation Division working closely with European police forces.

PAST PRESIDENT

Judge O'Brien is a past president of Michigan Association of Municipal Judges and has played an active role in gaining legislation to improve the state's municipal court system.

He is a member of the State Board of Alcoholism and has supported alcoholism - control programs in Washtenaw County.

Pair Drowns While Fishing

A Farmington Township couple drowned yesterday after a boating accident on Hope Lake, about three miles north of Brighton.

Leo S. Serbynski, 50, and his wife Bernice, 55, fell from their boat while fishing in the small lake beside old M23, according to state police at the Brighton post.

The Serbynskis were alone on the lake at the time of the mishap. A passing motorist noticed their flailing arms and called police shortly after 6 p.m.

The bodies were recovered in 15 feet of water, about 200 yards from the east shore of the lake. Dr. Luke Cheng, Livingston County medical examiner, listed drowning as the cause of death.

Mr. and Mrs. Serbynski lived at 29316 Orchard Lake. He was a Chrysler Corp. employe, police said.

Pontiac Camera Bug Befriends Snakes

Snakes have had a bad name, sometimes justified, sometimes not, ever since the Garden of Eden. Their enemies are many, their friends few.

* * *

One of their staunchest friends is Tom Helfrich, owner of Expert's Camera Shop at 57 W. Huron.

Helfrich's hobby is collecting and photographing snakes and amphibians — turtles, frogs, toads, etc. He is preparing color slides of all Michigan species.

The amateur serpentologist has more than 100 preserved species of snakes in his home at 1109 Lakeview. The live ones he donates to a serpentarium near Clarkston.

Helfrich has been interested in snakes since the age of 12. His snake-hunting areas have included the Western deserts, the Florida Everglades, Georgia's awesome Okefenokee Swamp and nearly every bog and swale in Oakland County.

SEARCHED STATE

He has also covered most of Michigan in his search for native species.

He has captured many specimens of massasauga rattlers, Michigan's only poisonous snake, in Oakland County.

In all his experience with live snakes, he has been bitten only once—by a massasauga.

He said he was blinded and nauseated by the venom for about three hours but suffered no lasting effects.

USES DEVICES

Helfrich uses a snake hook, a heavy wire on a long handle, to capture poisonous varieties, but catches the harmless specimens with his hands.

He never wears gloves, Helfrich says, because the sense of touch is important in handling snakes.

Helfrich is 30 years old, married, and has two sons, aged 5 and 3. The oldest boy is already accustomed to handling small, harmless snakes, Helfrich says.

* * *

SCHEDULED LECTURES

He lectured on a regular schedule for five years at the serpentarium, which contains hundreds of species from all over the world.

Why such an unusual hobby?

"I've always been for the underdog," Helfrich says. "And the snake is certainly the underdog in the animal world."

RESCUE OPERATIONS — A group gathers around rescue operations at a destroyed house in the village of Goyuca de Catalan, state of Guerrero, Mexico, yesterday. At least 31 persons have been reported killed in the area.

Quake Kills 31 on Mexico West Coast

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The earthquake that rocked Mexico's Pacific coastal state of Guerrero took 31 lives, the government says, but no damage or casualties were reported in the crowded resort of Acapulco.

Some newspaper reports said more than 40 persons were killed and hundreds were injured.

The quake early Monday was felt both in Acapulco and in this capital city 175 miles to the northeast. Buildings swayed in Mexico City but damage was light and only one man was slightly injured.

Reports reaching the federal government from Guerrero State said most of the 31 victims were crushed under collapsing buildings in mountain villages.

RESCUE TEAMS

Raimundo Abarca Calderon, the state governor, joined rescue teams that flew into the stricken zone by helicopter.

* * *

Acapulco radio station XEBR said it had confirmed 18 deaths in Coyuca de Catalan, 100 miles north of the resort, and reported the village had been destroyed.

Another report said four persons were killed in Ciudad Altamirano and that 80 per cent of the buildings were destroyed.

Damage also was reported in the coastal resort village of Zihuatanejo, north of Acapulco. A number of other villages also were reported hit by the quake.

TOWN SHAKEN

Acapulco, packed with tourists, was shaken for about half a minute.

The tremor in Mexico City was the capital's sharpest since a 1957 earthquake that took 66 lives. Buildings swayed, walls cracked and frightened tourists rushed into the streets in their nightclothes.

* * *

A man who broke an ankle carrying a child out of a house was the only casualty reported in the capital.

The quake reached a grade of 6 on the Mercali scale of 12 at the Mexico City Observatory. The 1957 quake registered 8.

JFK Widow to Leave D.C. Memories

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy is leaving the capital — and its memories of great triumph and deep sadness — to live in New York, hoping the change will be beneficial to her and the children.

* * *

The widow of the assassinated president disclosed she plans to sell her two homes in the area and take up residence in New York in time to enter Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3, in school this fall.

* * *

"While she will always maintain her close ties in Washington," said the statement issued through her office Monday, "Mrs. Kennedy feels that the change of environment in New York, from Georgetown and its many memories, will be beneficial to her and the children."

5 Chicago Teens Die in Car Crash

CHICAGO (AP) — Five teenagers, three boys and two girls, were killed and one boy was critically injured Monday when their car veered off Lake Shore Drive and crashed into a tree.

Police said witnesses reported the car was traveling at from 60 to 70 miles an hour when it spun off an overpass, skidded 100 feet and partially wrapped itself around a tree broadside.

Fire department crews pried parts of the vehicle off to remove the victims.

'To Intensify Trade Regardless of Bloc'

Romanian Rejects Red Control

VIENNA (AP)—The head of a Romanian trade delegation to Austria said Monday night his Communist government will continue to reject economic domination by the Soviet Union and seek more business with the West.

First Deputy Premier Gheorghe Apostol told newsmen that Romania would "retain her position although our views differ from those of the Soviet Communist party."

* * *

Soviet concern over Romania's move toward closer Western ties was believed behind an unexpected visit to Moscow by Romanian Premier Ion Gheorghe Maurer. Bucharest radio called the trip a friendship visit but there was speculation in the West that Maurer was summoned to explain Romania's independent course.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev who had just returned from his tour of Scandinavia, did not meet Maurer at the airport on Monday.

ECONOMIC TALKS

Maurer went to Moscow 20 days before he is due in Paris to seek new economic arrangements with the West. Apostol said the premier's plan to visit Paris reflected "Romania's desire to intensify relations with France and all other countries, irrespective of their social system."

The deputy premier said his government hoped the Paris trip would prove an "useful and promising" as a Romanian mission to the United States in June. It produced a new trade agreement and prospects for normalizing diplomatic relations between the United States and Romania.

* * *

Apostol said Soviet efforts to bind Romania's economy to controls in Comecon, the Communist bloc's council for mutual economic assistance, "contradict the principles of Socialist cooperation."

BURNHAM, England (AP) — Stanley Smith, 28, stole a Rolls-Royce, then found its gasoline consumption was beyond his resources.

A magistrate passed the case on yesterday to a higher court for sentencing of the sailor for stealing both the limousine and gasoline.

New officers for the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills school boards are listed on Page 2, with the results of the latter's budget hearing.

AREA NEWS

School Budget Up in District

Farmington Board Okays $5.4 Million

FARMINGTON — New teachers, an insurance program for employes and transportation for parochial school students have brought a $619,551 jump in the amount of spending the Farmington Board of Education plans to do.

A $5,475,548 operating budget for 1964-65 was approved following a public hearing last night.

Most of the increase in expenditures will be used to hire new teachers and for regular salary increments, according to Schools Supt. Gerald V. Harrison.

The instructional allotment totals $4,230,740, Harrison said, while last year's figure was $3,741,344. This category includes the salaries of teachers, principals and directors of departments.

* * *

The board has agreed to pay 50 per cent of hospitalization and medical insurance for its personnel. The system will pay up to $15 a month for each employe.

TOTAL COST

School administrators have estimated the total cost of this program at $70,000.

Harrison also noted anticipated expenditures for transportation had jumped $20,000 to $171,154.

* * *

Property owners' share of the budget will be supported through a 21.71-mill tax levy.

PUBLICIZE FESTIVAL — The Romeo Peach Festival float made its first two appearances in area parades last weekend to advertise the 1964 celebration set for Sept. 5-7. It was in Utica on the 4th of July and in Algonac Sunday. Gracing the float in these parades and others on upcoming weekends throughout the summer are (from left) Marie Ojala, first maid of honor; Donna Worsey, second maid; and Pamela Cumming, Miss Romeo of 1964.

Avondale Board Passes School Budget for Year

The Avondale Board of Education last night unanimously adopted its $1,325,571 budget for the 1964-65 school year following a public hearing at which no questions were asked.

The expected spendings are up some $79,009 over last year's estimated budget of $1,246,562.

Instructional costs account for the largest amount in the budget. The elementary school allocation is $462,533 as compared to $427,910 during the past year.

Also hiked is the amount for secondary education. This figure, under the the new budget, is $472,572, up from the previous amount of $442,827.

Reason for the raises on both levels is the anticipated hike in enrollments expected next year. School projections show an increase of 104 students in 1964-65, bringing the total to 3,252.

NEW TEACHERS

Because of the additional students expected, seven new staff members will be added. This plus salary raises for present employes necessarily ups the budget figure for instruction.

The district still needs five more elementary school teachers and an industrial arts teacher for the high school.

Maintenance received an estimated $2,000 increase in the new budget and the transportation outlay will go up from the previous amount of $55,575 to $58,901.

* * *

The total operational millage the district receives is 23.18 with 14.9 voted by the district and 8.28 allocated by the county.

District allocation including delinquent taxes is estimated at $478,333. County funds should pay $12,100 while the state is expected to allocate $66,784 in school aid and $105,525 in hardship taxes.

Tomorrow Night in Lake Orion

Hearing Set on School Budget

LAKE ORION — A public hearing on the Lake Orion School District's tentative budget of $1,559,987, up $28,000 over last year's spendings, will be tomorrow night in the school board office.

* * *

The new budget provides for a 4 per cent increase in both enrollment and valuation.

The anticipated tax rate, based on 15½ mills, includes 8½ allocated, 6 mills previously voted in the district and 1 mill that could be needed of the four authorized by the electorate last summer.

"There is the possibility we may not even need the 1 mill because of increased state aid and valuation," said Schools Supt. A. A. Reed.

* * *

"We are including it in the budget just as a safety measure," he said.

TEACHERS' SALARY

Hikes in this year's budget allocations also cover increases in the teachers' salary schedule, approved by the board this spring.

Under the new schedule, teachers with bachelor of arts degrees will get from $5,100 to $7,300 as compared to $4,800 to $7,000 last year.

Pay for those with masters' degrees will be up from $5,000 to $5,300 at the lower end of the scale and from $7,400 to $7,700 at the top.

* * *

The new budget also provides for 11 teacher aids, and nine more elementary teachers due to the new classrooms being completed in the district.

NEW INSTRUCTOR

Also being added is a new junior high teacher, a new high school special education room and teacher and an additional high school counselor.

Under anticipated transportation expenditures, the figure is slightly higher because of the necessity to purchase one new bus.

The proposed budget also provides for increased salaries for administrators, clerks, custodians and bus drivers.

* * *

This raises the amount needed to pay administration personnel and nonteaching employes to $144,295.

LAST YEAR

The spendings in this category last year totaled $126,700.

A total of $12,000 is allocated in the budget for a new roof on Blanche Sims School.

The same amount also will be spent to build a bus maintenance garage behind Blanche Sims.

* * *

The 10 rooms being added to Carpenter School will be ready July 15.

COMPLETION DATE

Webber and Proper School additions are due for completion about Dec. 1.

* * *

The school board has authorized lighting for the athletic field. Funds to pay for the lights will come from a residue from the Blanche Sims school addition project and from building and site monies remaining after the second addition to Carpenter School.

The budget hearing tomorrow will begin at 8 p.m.

COLOMBIERE RECTOR — The Very Rev. Marshall L. Lochbiler, 69, former rector of the University of Detroit, has been named to head Colombiere College, Jesuit seminary in Springfield Township. Rev. Mr. Lochbiler will succeed the Very Rev. Ara F. Walker Sunday.

Improvements for Russian Citizens

Many Aspects of Soviet Life Like U.S.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — All in all, life is getting better for the Soviet citizen, who is demanding more and more from his government. Preston Grover, for five years Associated Press chief of bureau in Moscow, reports on aspects of life in the U.S.S.R., in the first of four articles.)

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP) — If you don't look too closely, this country is in many respects almost like the United States. In many others, it is not.

For more people go to the movies than to church. You buy your food in stores, meat from the butcher, bread from the baker and shoes, cloth, waste baskets and aluminum pots from the department store.

* * *

On Sunday you can go to the races in Moscow, and on Monday read another letter from an angry housewife demanding that the race betting machines be closed because "they are the ruination of Communist youth."

The boys and girls in college take to one another a little too freely, in the view of the elders, but when an order was issued at Moscow University prohibiting girls from visiting alone with young men in the dormitories, there was a loud outcry from the students. In a newspaper article they accused their elders of hypocrisy and insisted they didn't need to be coddled.

DIVORCE COURTS

Divorce courts function, far more simply than in America. Just as in America, the court tries to effect a reconciliation. The percentage is low. The baby? Grandmother will look after it.

In the five years I have been here, clothes have grown noticeably better. For the most part they still are shoddy as to material, and even far more shoddy as to design. Yet a style show just held displayed men's and women's things much better made. They haven't reached the stores yet. Prices of shoes and clothing are atrociously high, a suit often the price of two months salary.

* * *

Americans always have been liked, and envied, by a great body of the population which would like to have things here the way they are found in America. In spite of Premier Khrushchev's promises, it isn't going to be that way very soon, and Russians know it.

Some time ago a group of youngsters, teen-agers and younger, set out to distribute little pamphlets critical of the Chinese. A 9-year-old jammed one into the hands of an American boy, son of an embassy official. Instantly an older girl ran up to reprimand the youngster.

HATE CHINESE

"That's an American. It's the Chinese we hate, not the Americans."

There is a growing resistance to the constant nagging of the party and government. Some time ago one of the perennial "do-gooders" assigned to help police the streets tried to take a group of celebrating young men to the police station for singing too loudly in the streets at night.

In the fracas the youths bent the man to death. One was sentenced to be shot and another to 15 years in prison. But less violent resistance shows up often. The great Anglo-Saxon desire to be let alone is showing up here although it is contrary to all Communist party discipline.

Some of the bolder comedians in the theaters poke fun at persistent over-regulation. One of these, Arkady Raikin, put on a show in the local variety house. One of the actors, planted out in the audience, arose to protest that he wanted to read the books he wanted, to do other things he wanted, but mainly to be let alone. Raikin waved an admonishing finger at him and said:

"See here. Your read Pravda more seriously every day. Pravda will tell you what you want." Pravda is the paper of the Communist party.

AUDIENCE ROARED

The audience roared with laughter.

Despite Communist efforts to provide bread and circuses, life is drab for most people. In an organized sort of way, the Communist party tries to do something about it. The colorful church holidays and ceremonies have almost disappeared from Soviet life and there is a frantic effort to find something to replace them, for there is a slight drift back to religious ways.

"We invite you to create new holidays and make them gay and festive," said the labor paper, Trud, this spring. "Let there be new and beautiful rituals in factories, towns and mines," the paper said. It urged planting a tree by the father of a newborn.

The air force academy in Moscow has ways of celebrating special occasions. A graduate's badge is plunked into the bottom of a big glass of vodka, and the graduate has to drink to the bottom without taking a breath before he can put on his decoration.

NEW APARTMENT

A new apartment always is the reason for a wild party. That is easy to understand. Scores of thousands of families still live two to three families in a single room, with a common bathroom, and a common kitchen. Now it is practically forbidden to move into Moscow, while the city catches up with its housing.

The Soviet government still frowns on the more modern Western dances, such as the Twist. Dancers are likely to be stopped by a restaurant manager, but more often not. Americans here remember an episode in one Moscow restaurant where an overofficious maitre d'hotel stopped a quartet of Americans dancing the twist, and finally ordered them from the restaurant.

* * *

The Russian diners were furious at him. As the four walked toward the door, the orchestra began playing the first few bars of "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean." That is the radio call theme of Voice of America.

Civil Rights Approval Ends Long Struggle

The Civil Rights Bill is now the law of the land.

Given life by the hand of President Johnson one year and two weeks after its introduction by the Kennedy Administration, it spells out civil equality for Negroes and bans discrimination in areas long marked by contention between races.

The 14th Amendment to the Constitution, passed in 1868 — three years after passage of the 13th, abolishing slavery — theoretically established legal equality for all peoples in the United States.

★ ★ ★

But the approach took the form only of prohibiting states from passing statutes contrary to the spirit of the Amendment. It was in the legislative vacuum thus presented that personal and regional racial discrimination took root.

In becoming law, the racial Magna Charta set two records. A new filibuster mark was scored, and cloture was invoked for the first time in connection with civil rights legislation.

The inability to effect cloture, shutting off filibustering by Southern Democratic Senators, has in the past been the parliamentary roadblock to many attempts at passage of such legislation.

★ ★ ★

We welcome the successful outcome of the long struggle for legislative equality as signifying a better day ahead for interracial relations and tolerance in America.

But Civil Rights of itself cannot achieve its utopian end. Still needed for the salutary implementation envisioned by proponents is widespread acceptance of enlightened responsibility on the part of both Negroes and whites, and understanding cooperation toward the attainment of its inherent ideals.

Passman Leads Fight Against Foreign Aid

In the dim long ago, ANDREW MELLON earned the title of Watchdog of the Treasury because he actually REDUCED the national debt during his tenure as its secretary.

★ ★ ★

Today, Otto Passman, Democratic Congressman from Louisiana, could aptly be termed the Watchdog of Foreign Aid.

It is he who, with growing effectiveness, is scrimmaging to inject international realism and fiscal sanity into what has become a built-in Federal boondoggle. Under it, the Government has ladled out $100 billion since World War II, and plans during fiscal 1965 to dispense funds to 99 nations and nine territories.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-six different Federal agencies now distribute some type of foreign aid, with a payroll numbering 71,416 employes.

As Chairman of Foreign Operations Subcommittee on Appropriations, Passman last year cut the revised Kennedy Administration's foreign aid request of $4.4 billion to $3.6 billion. He vigorously opposed President Johnson's recent $3.5-billion aid request, which nevertheless was passed by the House with but a token cut of $200 million.

★ ★ ★

But the Louisianan makes the astounding charge that a laborious analysis of Aid's ambiguous bookkeeping indicates that $7 billion is still unexpended from past annual appropriations, and that NO additional funds need be appropriated now to keep our foreign aid commitments.

★ ★ ★

We think that foreign aid as a whole will one day be appraised as one of the most farcical policies in the history of the Republic. Polls currently show that 75 per cent of the people oppose it, with but 21 per cent indicating approval.

If you too see it as the pet of both Republican and Democratic Administrations, the spreading creation of bureaucracy, the fetish of a small hard core of starry-eyed do-gooders, make known your attitude to your representatives on Capitol Hill.

Congressman Passman needs all the help he can get in his continuous campaign against the wanton waste of taxpayers' dollars under the guise of Foreign Aid.

Barry Cautious in Drive for Bid

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry Goldwater has indicated that if he gets the Republican presidential nomination, his campaign against President Johnson will be rougher than those of recent years.

But he has been moving cautiously in his double task of trying to cool any opposition to him among Republicans while going ahead with his efforts to sew up the nomination.

MARLOW

If Goldwater gets the nomination, which looks likely, he will need not only all the Republican votes he can get afterward but also those of the usually Democratic Southern states. He has said a Republican couldn't win without them.

His votes against the civil rights bill angered a number of Republicans already against him. So far as can be seen it lost him none of his supporters. It probably endeared him to a lot of Southern whites.

His "no" vote gave Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, his leading opponent for the nomination, an issue at the Republican convention opening next Monday in San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

As the Republican platform committee gathered there Sunday for days of hearings before hammering the party's positions and promises together, the Scranton forces' strategy was obvious: How to create divisions at the hearings and come up with conclusions the Goldwater forces couldn't support.

HAD PLENTY OF TIME

The senator and his advisers had plenty of time to prepare for such a move. Equally obvious for him would be to compromise where he could to avoid party splits.

But there was a very sore point: How to compromise on a civil rights plank without alienating the South since, if elected president, Goldwater would be expected to carry through on whatever the platform promised? The Goldwater forces seemed prepared for this, too.

On a television show Sunday, the senator's chief spokesman on the platform committee, Rep. John J. Rhodes, an Arizona Republican, was asked about Goldwater's views on a civil rights plank.

★ ★ ★

He gave an answer which might pacify Republicans and soothe the South.

FOR PENALIZING STATES

He said Goldwater would go along with a plank, suggested by Scranton, which called for penalizing states that denied their citizens a vote. Under the 14th Amendment a state could be deprived of representatives in Congress in proportion to the number of people not voting.

But this could never be done without a tremendous fight in Congress.

Rhodes was also asked what Goldwater, as president, would do about enforcing the Civil Rights Act which he said is contrary to the Constitution.

Rhodes had an answer for that, too. "Sen. Goldwater as president of the United States would certainly require a reasonable degree of enforcement which I think would please anybody."

What's Another Slice Among Friends?

David Lawrence Says:

Protest Vote Could Be Decisive

WASHINGTON—Is President Johnson going to win the election easily, or is there a possibility that Sen. Goldwater, if nominated on the Republican ticket next week, might prove a surprise and bring either a close result or even a victory?

These questions are being discussed every day now not only by politicians but by those people generally who do not put too much faith in public opinion polls.

LAWRENCE

The truth is that the election will turn very largely on the extent of a protest vote throughout the United States.

It need not necessarily be a nationwide protest, but it could swing whole sections where there are large blocs of electoral votes.

What are the causes of the protest vote today?

★ ★ ★

There are factors such as unemployment which will influence local areas, but there are other issues even more active in producing negative votes—namely, the reaction of the people toward foreign policy, especially the casualties in Viet Nam, and toward governmental interference with what have always been considered to be private rights in American life.

UNKNOWN QUANTITY

The biggest unknown quantity today is over what is being called the "civil wrongs" issue.

Perhaps the most striking example of a protest vote that is building up rapidly is in what is known as the open occupancy issue.

Curiously enough, this does not involve something which Congress has done, but concerns laws passed in many cities and in such states as New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Colorado, Alaska, Oregon and California.

★ ★ ★

Just a few months ago voters in Seattle, Wash., emphatically rejected a forced-housing ordinance by a 2-1 margin in a referendum, and Tacoma, Wash., a month earlier crushed a similar proposal by a 3-1 vote.

DECISIVE MARGIN

The Rhode Island House of Representatives turned down a forced-housing bill by a 2-1 margin, and last December the Wisconsin Legislature voted down a similar bill with the same decisiveness.

There are important referendum votes coming up in November in Illinois and California on the same issue.

While the federal government hasn't anything to do with local housing laws, it is noted that the recently passed civil rights law grants to a federal commission authority to investigate racial discrimination of any kind, and if this information is not forthcoming, police powers may be used to obtain it.

The mere fact that such an investigating commission exists has served notice on many people that what the states have already tried to do might subsequently be accentuated by federal government action.

There are, of course, other factors of discontent in the electorate today, but the real estate issue is cited as an example of something that has been going on under the surface in many parts of the country.

There are evidences that the protest vote is larger than has hitherto been estimated, and this has given rise to a belief that maybe the election will not, after all, be a pushover for the administration.

U.S. Style of Politicking Needs to Be Revamped

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Win or lose in November, the presidential and vice presidential candidates nominated by both parties at this summer's political conventions will face a man-killing schedule until election day.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

The recent tendency for presidential nominees to hand-shake their way through every suburban shopping center and hamlet as if running for local sheriff is causing concern in both political parties.

Such techniques are not only increasingly expensive with the advent of jet planes and motorized caravans, but they take an appalling toll of strength and energy which could better be diverted to statesmanship.

Americans are becoming increasingly conscious of the health factor in national politics.

★ ★ ★

Franklin D. Roosevelt lived less than three months after taking his fourth-term presidential oath.

★

3 ILLNESSES

Dwight D. Eisenhower suffered three serious illnesses during his two White House terms.

John F. Kennedy was seldom without pain from a serious back injury.

Lyndon B. Johnson, although pushing himself relentlessly through eighteen-hour days, had a heart attack in 1955.

★

America has been fortunate in that no presidential nominee has died during a campaign, but such a possibility obviously exists.

PRESENT STAND

As the rules now stand, the national committee would name a substitute presidential candidate if the party's nominee died after election day but before the electoral college met in December.

If the president-elect died following the Electoral College balloting but before his inauguration on Jan. 20, the vice president would take the presidential oath, and his office would remain vacant.

Four times in the 20th Century the nation has been without a vice president, through the death of a president.

★ ★ ★

These vacancies occurred twice through assassination and twice from natural causes.

★ ★ ★

In this nuclear age, it is of paramount importance to assure smooth continuity of government, and Congress should act swiftly to solve the problem of succession to the vice presidency.

We hear so much about the misdeeds of teen-agers that I want people to know about the unselfish and brave actions of Lonney LeFever, 19, of Waterford Township.

While spending a day at Lotus Lake a teen-age girl backed into a mucky area and sank from sight. Upon our screams for help this young man responded immediately. We were complete strangers, but he went down anyway and managed to free her. He displayed courage and confidence. Another stranger, Mrs. Paul David, gave mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. The timely and unselfish actions of these two strangers saved this girl's life.

Moderates Have Lost Battle

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Republican moderates might as well face it — they've lost the battle.

Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania now has little prospect of doing more in the Republican convention than give his party's moderate cause a "respectable presence" in the face of an overwhelming Barry Goldwater tide.

BIOSSAT

★ ★ ★

This reporter has just completed a recheck of 20 states with sufficient delegate fluidity to have offered Scranton some hope of a breakthrough. There is no breakthrough.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Goldwater's California primary victory June 2 was the great divide. Once that result was in, the still stout resistance to his candidacy crumbled in many crucial quarters.

With each passing day Goldwater's delegate position seems more impregnable. Barring some tremendous emotional explosion that could shake the whole delegate structure, Goldwater will win going away at San Francisco.

This means that for his one busy month of campaigning Scranton may be honored only for conducting a caretaker operation for the Republican moderates. He may roll up a presentable 400 to 450 votes in the convention, just enough to permit the moderates to persuade themselves Goldwater did not win by default.

But the blunt fact is, without taking anything away from Goldwater and his hard-working delegate rustlers, that the moderates in 1964 did default.

Scranton's late entry into the battle does not absolve them of this charge.

More than a few observers believe that his entry is explained in considerable part by his wish to escape the personal damage done him by the indecision he exhibited at the Cleveland Governors Conference.

But the portrait of indecision which embraced not just Scranton but all the moderate leaders at Cleveland was merely the dramatic exposure of a condition with deep and distant roots.

As leaders, the moderates do not necessarily constitute a majority in the Republican party. Yet they think of themselves as leading a clear majority of the party faithful.

★ ★ ★

This is how they "led":

After John F. Kennedy's assassination they failed to take Goldwater's conservative candidacy seriously. A quick glance, however, would have shown them he still stood to capture at least 250 Old South delegates, the bulk of the mountain area's 108, at least a third of the Midwest's whopping 324.

Knowing full well they had no rival horse, these moderate chieftains rarely if ever talked among themselves, never coordinated their ideas, never planned, never realistically appraised possible alternative candidates.

They dreamed fancifully of lucking it through. They counted on Goldwater to beat himself or, fall before New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, whom they all demeaned. They spoke of nomination for Scranton or Richard Nixon with a certainty which bore no relation to reality.

At nearly all times, they were ill-informed. Much of the time they behaved and thought unprofessionally. Some kept excusing their rudderless, desultory performance on the ground a GOP nomination in 1964 "would not be worth much" against a soaring President Johnson.

No true professional in a major party thinks — at least not on company time — of giving away the presidency. But this year the GOP moderates have acted, except for this last frantic dash by Scranton, as if both the presidency and their own cause were worthless.

★ ★ ★

Barry Goldwater may not be to their taste. Nevertheless, his backers have played the game as if it were worth winning. If the moderates are to be no more than a "presence" at San Francisco, they have no one but themselves to blame.

U.S. Rebuffs Castro on Peace Offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has given the cold shoulder to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's latest bid to improve U.S.-Cuban relations.

Castro was quoted in an interview with the New York Times as saying Cuba would cease its material support of Latin-American revolutionaries if the United States and its allies would agree to withhold material support of subversive activity against Cuba.

★ ★ ★

A State Department spokesman said Monday that the United States is standing by its position that neither Castro's ties with the Soviet Union, "which are tantamount to Soviet domination," nor Cuba's "promotion of subversion" can be a subject of negotiation.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson was back in the White House today after a Fourth of July holiday at his Texas ranch.

★ ★ ★

He and the First Lady returned to the capital shortly after 10 p.m. Monday night, flying from Austin to Andrews Air Force Base in the 10-passenger Jet Star and thence to the executive mansion by helicopter.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate approved and sent to the House Monday a bill tightening controls over lobbying in this country by agents serving foreign interests.

★ ★ ★

Among other things, the measure would prohibit these agents from using funds from foreign employers to make political contributions and would require the agents to report political contributions from their own pockets.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson is sending two former Southern governors on a quiet mission back to Dixie.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, former governor of North Carolina, and LeRoy Collins, former governor of Florida, will explain the Community Relations Service of the new Civil Rights Act during a tour of Southern state capitals beginning next week.

Johnson appointed Collins director of the Community Relations Service which will be organized in Hodges' Commerce Department.

Officials said the Hodges-Collins tour is being conducted without fanfare because its purpose is to gain understanding among Southern executives and not to arouse antagonism or generate publicity.

State Road Toll Termed Tragic

State Police Chief Cites Multiple Deaths

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan's Fourth of July highway toll of 38 deaths was termed "a tragic experience" by State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs.

★ ★ ★

Childs said some unusual statistics helped account for the high toll.

"The unusual number of multiple deaths helped push the figure up," Childs said. "We had 20 persons killed in just seven accidents.

"There five killed in one single accident," he said, three persons killed in each of three other accidents and two deaths each in three more accidents.

MULTIPLE DEATHS

Childs said multiple deaths must be expected over a holiday period, however, because more people are likely to be traveling in one car.

★ ★ ★

In addition, the state police commissioner said, an above average five pedestrians were killed in Detroit over the weekend.

Childs said he hoped this did not necessarily mean that the high accident trend would continue through the summer.

"The best advice I can give to drivers is to slow down and take it easy," Childs said. "We don't know how much drinking had to do with the fatality and accident toll but are sure the hustle-bustle had something to do with it."

Childs noted that highway fatalities currently are running an average of about 150 ahead of last year. Unless there is some reversal of the trend, Childs said, the death total for this year will run ahead of the 2,016 killed in 1955, the high for recent years.

CONVENTIONS AND CRISES/ The Republicans

by Don Oakley and Ed Kudlaty

The World War had been over for a year and a half; a Republican Congress was still debating the Versailles Treaty; President Wilson, after a futile appeal to the Nations, was dying; the Prohibitionists had finally made the country dry; women had finally won the vote.

★ ★ ★

The nation had retreated back into its isolationist shell. The people were satisfied.

Election year 1920 was going to be a Republican year and the Republicans knew it. The fact that they had no candidates of outstanding caliber didn't bother them as they assembled in Chicago in June.

Out of nearly a score of mentioned candidates, the most prominent were Gen. Leonard Wood, Gov. Frank Lowden of Illinois, Sen. Hiram Johnson of California, Food Administrator Herbert Hoover, Massachusetts Gov. Calvin Coolidge and Warren Gamaliel Harding, senator and newspaper publisher from Ohio.

Shrewd Harry Daugherty, Harding's campaign manager, prophesied: "The convention will be deadlocked and after the other candidates have gone their limit, some 12 or 15 men, worn-out and bleary-eyed from lack of sleep, will sit down about two o'clock in the morning in a smoke-filled room in some hotel and decide the nomination. When that time comes, Harding will be selected."

ENTERS VOCABULARY

That is exactly what happened, and the phrase "smoke-filled room," entered the vocabulary.

After eight ballots, neither of the deadlocked front-runners, Lowden and Wood, could be persuaded to step down.

The convention adjourned and into a hotel room went the Republican leaders. For two hours, amid the burning cigars, they talked to Harding.

When voting resumed, he was nominated on the 10th ballot.

TAKES CHANCE

Harding had taken a chance and won, for he had had to decide between trying for the presidential nomination or refiting for the Senate.

(These were the days before presidential hopefuls covered their bets by running for Congress at the same time.)

Harding campaigned from his front porch in Marion, Ohio, on the slogan, "Back to normalcy."

★ ★ ★

His vice presidential mate, Calvin Coolidge, chopped wood at Plymouth Notch, Vt. In November, they won handily — 16 million to 9 million — over their Democratic opponents, James M. Cox and Franklin Delano Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the Navy.

The people had chosen "normalcy," which, apparently meant the least government by the least capable.

STAND GUARD — A police officer and his dog take position shortly after a riot in which about 500 persons bombarded police with rocks, bottles and cans last night just west of downtown St. Louis.

9 Injured in St. Louis Suburb

Police Answer Call, Find Negro Riot

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—About 500 cursing, screaming Negroes pelted police officers and police cars with bricks and bottles Monday night after two officers answered a sick call.

Nine officers were injured, two believed seriously.

It was the second riot in the area since Friday when crowds estimated at 400 demonstrated in the streets of Kinloch, a predominantly Negro suburb. Three buildings were set on fire during that disturbance which started over a fight between two Negroes.

Police fired four tear gas grenades to break up Monday night's incident just west of downtown St. Louis. At least eight persons were arrested in the hour-long riot.

ATTACK STATION

About 50 youths later marched on the nearby Ninth District police station, tossing pieces of brick through windows before officers dispersed them. However, a number of Negroes stayed to picket.

The incident began when patrolman Gilbert Tissot answered a call on a heart case in the Negro neighborhood. He found a woman reported sick. Her two teen-age sons were fighting.

★ ★ ★

Tissot went downstairs to call for aid and "before you knew it, people were coming from two and three blocks away, gathering in front of the house, screaming and cursing," he said.

Patrolman James Ramsey was first to arrive. He said the two sons attacked Tissot and him.

About 40 policemen, including members of the Canine Corps and their dogs then arrived at the scene. The crowd began a steady bombardment on the officers with bricks, rocks, bottles and cans.

N.Y. Weapon Law Causes Dilemma

NEW YORK (UPI) — A secretary who used a switchblade knife to protect herself from rape violated a 53-year-old New York State law which makes it a felony to carry a concealed weapon without a permit.

★ ★ ★

Article 1897 of the state code —America's model weapons law popularly known as the "Sullivan Law" —was written in 1910 in the backwash of public outrage following the fatal shooting of prominent citizen David Graham Philips on the steps of the Princeton Club.

The deranged killer bought the gun in a pawnshop.

It was framed by George F. LeBrun of the city medical examiner's office and by legislator Tim Sullivan whose name it bears. The legislature enacted the precedent-setting law on May 10, 1911.

★ ★ ★

Its intent is to keep dangerous weapons out of the hands of felons, but its strict enforcement occasionally puts a private citizen defending his life or property in jeopardy of imprisonment.

EXAMPLE CASE

Such is the case of pretty brunette Arlene Del Fava who used a switchblade knife to fend off a would be rapist near her Queens apartment Saturday night.

A switchblade, which ejects its blade at the push of a button, and a gravity knife, whose blade snaps open with a flick of the wrist, are specifically cited in the Sullivan Law.

Technically speaking, Miss Del Fava couldn't have been in more clear-cut violation of the law if she had been carrying a submachine gun in a violin case.

★ ★ ★

Rigorous application of the law — which in this case is highly unlikely — could send her to prison for 10 years for violating the law which also prohibits the sale or possession of handguns, blackjacks, brass knuckles, bombs and grenades.

ANOTHER CASE

An elderly Queens grocer, Frank L. Felicetti, also ran afoul of the same law last June 7 when he shot two burglars who broke into his store.

★ ★ ★

He is awaiting grand jury action for illegally possessing a revolver. Legally, he could have shot the burglars with a shotgun.

More Students Arrive in Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana Radio says five more American students have arrived in Cuba to join 75 Americans already there despite a U.S. State Department ban on travel to the island.

★ ★ ★

They were identified as Susan Rotolo, 20; Robert Collier, Steve Newman and Geoffrey Goldstein, all from New York, and Allan Low of California.

QUOTED STUDENTS

The broadcast quoted the students as saying they were determined to learn the Cuban way of life and the Socialist form of government, and were prepared to face any difficulty upon return to the United States.

The 75 other Americans have toured Cuban farms, factories, educational centers and resorts.

Whistle-Stop Long, Loud

SLEAFORD, England (AP) — Locomotive 61210 shunted into a siding and her whistle blew. It blew and ble-e-w and ble-e-e-e-e-w — for 90 minutes nonstop while the townspeople were trying to get to sleep.

★ ★ ★

Station master Leonard Rook apologized today. Something wrong with the whistle, he explained, and nothing could be done until 61210 ran out of steam.

State Intake, Outgo

LANSING (AP)—State Treasury income during the month of June was $167 million and outgo was $217.2 million. The treasury balance at the end of the month was $196.1 million.

SHORTY A 2-Minute Short Story

Copyright 1964 by Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

By HELEN GRACE BREMNER

Our fishermen husbands will go to any length to get us to stay home.

For instance, Big Bossy Ernie, Marge's fisherman, will start talking to my Herb and it comes out something like this, "The reason I don't like women on a fishing trip is they can't bait a hook, can't row a boat."

Then Herb says, "Can't even catch a fish."

"Fishing Widows," Marge whispers to me.

★ ★ ★

And I answered her, for I had seen it coming for some time, "Well, why not? They took us golfing one year and before we learned how to hold a club—zing—we were sitting at home. Golf Widows."

GROUSE WIDOWS

"Then before that it was Grouse Widows," Marge went on.

"And I know the very day that we became Grouse Widows," I reminded my sister. "It was the day you stepped into a hole and bagged a grouse without firing a shot."

"We became Bowling Widows because we argued that it was much harder to make a gutter ball than a strike. We proved it to them, too. Yet to this day those fellows have never made a gutter ball that I know about, have they, Marge?"

★ ★ ★

Shaking her head, Marge answered, "Never."

FISH WIDOW

"One consolation, sis, we can't get any lower than a Fish Widow." I tried to comfort her as we walked outside to watch.

Have you ever watched as your fisherman prepares to go on a trip to his favorite fishing spot — without you?

The ritual is as solemn as a heathen rite. No Druid or Aztec or South Sea cannibal could be more inspiring and the mystics are as compelling as a witch doctor's.

★ ★ ★

He'll sort his magic lures, look at the calendar to determine the phase of the moon and do other things wonderful to see.

RECITES POETRY

First of all, he will get that far-away, lost-in-the-wilds look. My Herb will recite poetry. Now, he is looking at me and he says gently, "Take this kiss upon thy brow, And in parting from you now, This much let me avow — All that we see or seem Is but a dream — within a dream." Edgar Allan Poe said that.

I suppose it is nice that Herb thinks that way because, believe me, Sandusky Bay is not like the fishing spots in Florida.

And the fish are not enormous. Not the beauties one would have his picture taken standing beside and smiling.

★ ★ ★

But somehow to our fishermen the dead old stumps and high weeds become their Forest Primeval.

MOBY DICK

And the solitude does their souls heaps of good. So as long as Moby Dick is still haunting the bays and little rivers around the place — fishermen will fish.

Now the car was packed and with a kiss thrown in the direction of the house they were gone. But not forgotten.

"Do you have the panel truck all packed for our trip?" I asked Marge, and she said, "Yes."

★ ★ ★

Marge and I, lacking the intestinal fortitude it takes to find a new place to fish, picked a spot across the bay from our breadwinners.

We spread a big piece of canvas on the ground with two oil cans to use as operating tables for our bait.

I took a small shovel from the truck and dug down deep. Up came a night crawler so big and ugly I could see why it only came out at night.

"I dug," I told sister, therefore you pick it up."

★ ★ ★

"I'd rather die," said Marge.

DROPPED IN WATER

Since our current mission in life was to fish, I found some gloves in the truck and picked the wriggling thing up, put it on the table and after some very unpleasant maneuvering, got it on the hook. Finally I dropped it in the water.

Almost immediately I felt a tug and pulled up a beautiful fish. It was big, green as grass and had long, pearly white teeth.

Marge screamed with ecstasy. She overcame her distaste for night crawlers and baited her hook. To make a long story short, we pulled in 22 of these flopping monsters.

★ ★ ★

Naturally we were delighted with the thought of how we would show up our lubberly husbands. And then, as we were at the point of exhaustion, they appeared. Their reaction was not what we expected.

DOGFISH

"Ye gods!" said Ernie. "They're dogfish!"

I might explain that a Lake Erie dogfish, according to the dictionary, is a bowfin, not the shark-like beast that lives in salt water.

But Herb pointed out that they are not good to eat, and they destroy other fish.

★ ★ ★

They didn't want to throw them back, and they couldn't keep them, so they buried them in a hole on the shore.

★ ★ ★

One good thing came of it. They take us fishing with them now. They even bait our hooks. They can't trust us to go fishing by ourselves. They are afraid we'll catch Moby Dick.

(The End)

Some 150,000 executives will move this year as the result of company transfers, statisticians predict on the basis of past records.

There Is Now Greater Hope for the Sick

The most reassuring fact about modern medicinal pills is that, while most diseases are now curable, the comparatively few that are not now can be lived with under physician supervision.

"But," warns the F.D.A. "Beware the medicine man, who peddles his wares door-to-door, by mail, over radio or television, writes books, or even rents a hall to hold health lectures. Don't fall for his con game. Save your money — maybe your life." You are safer when you depend on your physician and pharmacist.

Unknown Factor in Politics

New Negro Party May Pull Dem Votes

DETROIT (AP) — A newly-created Freedom Now Party—dedicated to electing Negroes to public office—has become an unknown factor in Michigan's political balance of power this year.

* * *

The third party qualified officially for the ballot when it filed some 22,000 signatures requesting certification last May.

Since then, Freedom Now leaders have announced plans to put up at least 28 candidates for Congress, the state legislature and other offices.

The organization has caused some concern to Democratic Party officials, who realize that any major shift of the traditionally Democratic Negro vote could be disastrous in tight elections. In the past, some Negro precincts have given Democratic candidates as much as 80 per cent of their vote.

NEW CHAIRMAN

Chairman of the new party is the Rev. Albert Cleage Jr., pastor of Detroit's Central Congregational Church, who claims the Freedom Now candidates will capture at least 100,000 votes this fall.

Democratic state chairman Zolton Ferency scoffs at the estimate, but he admits there is some concern about just how many votes will be siphoned off by the new party.

*

Democrats recall with a shudder that former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who held office for six consecutive two-year terms, squeaked in one year with a margin of only 8,618 votes and on another occasion won reelection by a 1,154-vote edge.

Although Cleague hopes the Freedom Now slate will draw enough votes to encourage Negroes to put up their own candidates in other states, formation of the all-Negro party has stirred up mixed emotions among leaders of the colored community.

SOME PRAISE

Some have praised the movement's avowed goal of "independent, black political action." Others have denounced it as a Negro parallel to the segregationist philosophy of the White Citizens Councils of the South.

Herman McGee, chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality chapter in Battle Creek, said he doesn't believe the Freedom Now Party has the backing of the majority of Negroes.

An all-Negro party, McGee said, "only adds fuel to the already heated atmosphere that exists between white and colored."

* * *

Cleague, however, insists that his party is the only answer to what he feels is the denial to Negroes by both major political parties of the recognition and representation they deserve.

Ex-Con Stars in Crime Farce

Comedy of Errors Puts Man Back in Prison

DETROIT (AP) — Ex-convict Clarence Ross Doris, 37, who was released from Southern Michigan Prison less than a month ago, is back behind bars again today.

* * *

According to police, a comedy-of-errors bank robbery put him there, awaiting arraignment on a federal bank robbery charge.

* * *

Investigators said Doris told them he decided to rob a bank in suburban Redford Township Monday. But he took the wrong bus, and ended up five miles away in Dearborn.

* * *

Because it was handy, police charged, he held up a Guaranty Federal Savings Association ranch instead.

POCKETS STUFFED

With his pockets stuffed with $2,175, Doris ordered a customer, Lloyd Williams, 54, of Dearborn to drive him away.

* * *

Police said Doris described ensuing events this way:

Confused about directions again, Doris ordered Williams to drive south, taking him away from downtown Detroit, where he wanted to go. After 15 miles of driving, he told Williams to let him out "so I can get my signals straight."

* * *

Doris ran into a large park. Williams called police. Within minutes, FBI agents, local and state police surrounded the park.

* * *

Doris, meanwhile, walked into a bar.

WARNS BARMAID

Police had warned barmaid Sue Molyneaux, 33, of Livonia, to watch for suspicious customers. When Doris offered a patron $100 for a ride downtown, Miss Molyneaux called police.

* *

As detectives made the arrest, Doris shouted: "Oh, my God! How did you ever get me!"

PACIFIST SENTENCED — A 5-year prison term was ordered for Russell Goddard, 20, of St. Louis, Mo., yesterday for refusing to serve in the armed forces. After U.S. District Judge Roy W. Harper pronounced sentence, two of the youth's companions caused a disturbance in the courtroom and were sentenced to six months in jail for contempt of court.

Car Production in High Gear

Aim for Model Run of 7.8 Million Autos

DETROIT (AP)—Auto assembly lines moved in high gear today after a Fourth of July recess as auto makers headed towards a goal of 7.8 million cars by the time the 1964 model run ends this month.

* * *

Car output last week hit 158,861 units, an all time high for the Independence Day week. Last week's output compared with 179,030 the preceding week and 126,687 in the year ago week. The former record for the week was set in 1955 when 134,401 cars were built.

* * *

Output for the model year has already passed the former mark —7,840,014—set last year and with nearly four weeks more of production to go, auto makers are confident they will hit about 7,893,000 cars for the run. They passed the 1963 mark last week.

* * *

General Motors apparently will wind up with about 53.6 per cent of the 1964 model production, almost the same total it had last year. Ford's share will run about 26.3 per cent, again almost identical with last year. Chrysler at 14.4 per cent is up from 12.8 per cent a year ago and American Motors apparently will wind up with 5.2 per cent, down from the 6.3 per cent of a year ago.

* * *

Truck makers also rolled towards a possible record year as 887,536 have been built, compared with 767,568 in a like span a year ago.

Drill Team Wins Honors

The Rae-Vens, well-known girls' drill team from Pontiac, captured their third first place award in as many weeks last night at the Detroit suburb of Riverview's Carousel of Colors.

* * *

The 48-member marching unit recently won VFW and Amvets state championships. In August, the unit will take part in national competitions sponsored by the veterans organization.

Ask Family If Sending Check OK

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: One of the girls in our office lost her father very suddenly. Whenever an employe of the company or a member of his or her family dies, we we take up a collection and send flowers.

I happen to know that this girl's family are having a rather hard time financially and I suggested that we send a check to her instead of flowers.

* * *

They will undoubtedly be receiving many floral offerings, and I am sure they could put the money to good use.

Would it be proper to send a check in lieu of flowers?

* * *

A: Many people are very sensitive about money.

Before sending a check, I would advise you or someone else in the office who knows her very well, to call and say that you know the family will be receiving many flowers and if instead of the office sending a floral piece too, would the family prefer a check. Be guided by her answer.

Q: The other night my sister and I had dinner in a restaurant. The waiter brought my coffee before I had finished my dinner.

As I like my coffee with dessert, I took the saucer from underneath the cup and covered the coffee with it in order to keep it hot until I had my dessert.

My sister took me to task for this and said it was not good table manners. Can you see anything wrong in this?

A: Your sister is right, covering your cup with the saucer was not good table manners, and you should have asked the waiter to bring your coffee later.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Convention Director—a Woman!

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

It's an impressive title — executive director of the Republican National Convention — but Josephine L. Good leaves it to others to boast that she's the only woman to hold such a post.

* * *

A cool, blonde, seemingly imperturbable woman, she's too busy right now even to think of patting herself on the back. Anyway, this is her second time around.

* * *

At the 1956 convention she understudied William J. Denald, who had done the work for three decades.

When he died two years later she succeeded to the position, running the 1960 affair with aplomb and not anticipating trouble with this one.

"But when you're behind the scenes, it doesn't seem to you to be going smoothly at all," she admits.

Jo, as her colleagues call her, is a great lover of cats, sports, and music.

* * *

She was born in Denver, served in the Coast Guard Women's Reserve during World War II with rank of chief yoeman and became a capitol secretary in 1946.

In 1953 newly - appointed Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield asked her to serve as his confidential and administrative aide. Within three years she was caught up in convention work.

DETAIL WOMAN

"It's not as bad as people think — if you know what you're doing and have a knack for detail," she says. "I had good training from Mr. Donald.

"You find that the basic problems are always the same. The things you think about and prepare for haven't changed much."

* * *

One problem that keeps growing, she says, is "the increased activity of the part of the news media; 3,000 covered the '56 convention; 5,000 last time and we anticipate 7,000 in San Francisco.

"That means more to take care of in hotel and convention hall, more tickets and badges."

* * *

Coverage by the foreign press has increased a lot too, she says, and many more foreign students and diplomatic corps members will be swelling the crowd.

Miss Good has been working on the convention "pretty much for two years, beginning with answering inquiries of cities about requirements for becoming the convention site.

"Well, the minimum requirements are 10,000 first class hotel rooms, a hall that seats 14,000 at least and financial arrangements with the city."

Arranging for the convention headquarters telephone number is one of her minor but vexatious headaches.

PHONE EXCHANGE

Customarily the last four numerals are the year. In the absence of any suitable-sounding exchange — in 1956 they were happy to get NAtional — she even tried for ELE (for elephant plus the 1964.

She got elephant jokes from her staff, no encouragement from the telephone company.

If it had to be a number then, she said she wanted 711 or 777.

So she got 434.

Everything else she has under firm control.

Fall Fashions Flaunt Furs

You'll Need Full Wallet for These

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — Look what they're doing with fur these days.

There are floor length leopard coats for evening, sleeveless white mink pullovers or jackets for at-home trousers, fur dresses, fur jumpers, fur scarves, fur skirts, fur sweaters, and floor length fur capes.

There are fur linings for suit jackets, coats and shawls, and fur borders making even more opulent the rich brocades and satins of the new season's feminine apparel.

To go with the multitude of uses for furs are the addition of skins a woman never would have thought would one day compete with mink. Sable, ermine, and chinchilla are there of course.

FUR VARIETY

But the list for Fall 1964, as shown last night by the Fur Information and Fashion Council, Inc., included Australian opossum buffalo, calf, deer, fitch, guanaco (relative of the llama), Indian lamb, jaguar, hare, kangaroo, ocelot, raccoon, tiger and zebra.

The Council listed such "newcomers" as unplucked nutria, Mongolian lamb, Japanese marten and Himalayan fox.

* * *

And on the comeback trail — Persian lamb. This sturdy fur, which has been in the background for several seasons, gets a strong boost for fall and winter from Leo Ritter, one of the pacesetting designers of the industry.

The Council and Ritter were among the organizations or individual designers participating in a fortnight of fall and winter previews for out - of-town fashion reporters.

SECOND WEEK

This, the second week running through Friday, is sponsored by the New York Couture Group and its auxiliary members.

Furs go to all lengths. There are brief shrugs, fingertip, seven - eighths, regular dress and floor length.

Among the more opulent furs:

Pauline Trigere's floor length leopard coat fitted through the waist with flared skirt; her white llama fur coat over a green and white plaid dress; her jumper-like dresses in white or black mink gills convertible from day to evening with removal of sweaters or blouses and the addition of rhinestone belts;

Donald Brooks' enveloping, floor length cape designed for Coopchik - Forrest, done in black Russian broadtail and lined in white mink;

Ritter's floor length white broadtail evening wrap with sable collar and his empress chinchilla evening cape with the skins worked both vertically and horizontally.

Beige and pale blue French tweed suit with a wrap-around jacket that features a standaway collarless neckline. For a touch of elegance—the overblouse and jacket lining of mole; for a touch of whimsy—a cloth flower of wine jersey is beautifully placed at the waistline. Leather hat by Mr. John.

A long evening cape that's enough to make you believe there never was a Russian revolution! Done in a beautiful white silk twill, its luxurious hood is trimmed in sable. The matching evening gown underneath has a deep scoop neckline. Costume by Ben Reig, photographed in the New York penthouse apartment of Mme. Helena Rubinstein.

Restrained elegance is seen in this costume by Anthony Blotta. The swinging top jacket is edged with golden amber fox which goes glamorously over a wesket overblouse and a front-pleated skirt.

Leave Girlfriend at Home; Don't Listen to 'Everybody'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please save my sanity and tell me if I am wrong. I refused our 17-year-old son permission to invite his 16-year-old girl friend along on our family vacation to the New York World's Fair. (We live in Colorado.)

ABBY

There seems to be a new fad taking root these days. Parents are trying to "prove" to their teen-aged children that they "trust" them, so they are letting them invite their steadies on family trips.

Our son claims that everybody else is doing it and now he is shame-faced because his girl has already obtained her parents' approval, and I won't let him ask her.

I would like your opinion of this whole idea.

NOT THAT MODERN.

* * *

DEAR NOT: Picnics and one-day-family outings are one thing, but family vacations are for families.

I think your judgment was sound. Don't back down.

Of all the weak-kneed reasons to do something, that old standby "everybody else is doing it" is by far the poorest.

Troubled? Write to ABBY, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Attendants were Barbara Meadows, sister of the groom; Don Eyllsizer, Raymond Rowson and Michael Montgomery.

Colorful chart is practical as well as decorative.

Bridal Veil Turns Tail, Is Changed

The bride who makes the traditional journey to the altar with a veil dragging behind her is truly an old-fashioned girl.

Fashion designers here and abroad have concocted so many ways to accessorize the bridal gown, still keeping within the bounds of dignity and elegance.

The most widely publicized of these is Yves St. Laurents bridal braid entwined with flowers. After forming a coronet around the head it falls almost to the floor. A big satin bow is tied at the end.

Actually big hair bows for brides are quite the thing, sometimes tied at the nape of the neck with a whisp of veiling from there, other times tucked rakishly at the side of the head.

This is designer Coco Chanel's idea of how a modern bride should look.

More of that little-girl look is achieved by the bride who wears a baby doll cap, beruffled, beribboned and tied snugly under the chin.

Marc Bohan of Christian Dior in Paris makes it in organdy.

For the sophisticated bride is the African turban, a mound of vanilla custard winding round and round. Indeed a girl could still have her hair in curlers and not even the bridegroom would be the wiser.

Mystery Blasts Rock Firm in Pennsylvania; 5 Vanish

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — Teams of workers combed a blast-scorched American Cyanamid Co. tract near this Western Pennsylvania city today, seeking some trace of five men missing in a series of fires and explosions.

A spokesman said the company would continue to list the men, all American Cyanamid employes, as missing until some trace could be found.

The scorched area of the blast, which occurred yesterday, is about 1200 by 600 feet. About 20 men took part in the search.

They also were collecting small fragments to try to trace the path of the blasts and their cause.

A company spokesman said the investigation so far is being handled by American Cyanamid employes, but that state investigators were expected later today.

MISSING LIST

The five men listed by the American Cyanamid Co. as missing are Eugene Rudesill, 45; Gerald Wingard, 30; Donald Schenker, 38; Wilbur Robinson, 49; and Clarence Claypool, 63, all of New Castle.

Four explosions — all within an hour — ripped through American Cyanamid's 535-acre tract, located five miles west of New Castle and 80 miles northwest of Pittsburgh.

The cause had not been determined. There was no immediate estimate of damage.

* * *

At least 11 persons — two of them housewives — were injured. A police officer suffered a fatal heart attack while directing traffic.

James Miles, assistant plant manager, said the first blast occurred about 10:30 a.m. in the nitroglycerin house.

AREA ALERTED

The blasts knocked out windows, disrupted telephone service and started several fires. Residents were urged to stay off the streets in New Castle, Edinburg, a community of 450 three miles from the plant, was evacuated for five hours.

All roads leading into the plant were closed off. Only ambulance crews and fire fighters were permitted in the area.

More than 100 workers were reported in the operating area at the time of the blast. The plant employs about 250.

1-Hour Talks by GM, UAW

Union Presents Seven Additional Demands

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for the United Auto Workers and General Motors met for less than one hour today as the union presented further demands, including an objection to foremen stepping in on minor work duties.

* * *

The demands were served in the form of seven more so-called position papers outlining in detail the UAW's proposals for a new contract. The union now has presented 21 of 38 such papers.

Talks were, in full swing today with all of the Big Three auto makers after a holiday recess. Chrysler resumed Monday, GM and Ford today. American Motors opens its contract discussions Wednesday.

EXPRESSED SURPRISE

Louis Seaton, GM's chief negotiator, expressed surprise at the shortness of today's session, but a UAW spokesman said the union schedule called for presentation of only seven papers today.

In its paper on foremen, the UAW declared:

"It is quite obvious some local managements still are firmly wedded to the idea that there is nothing wrong with a foreman doing a little work just to keep his hand in....

"It is no wonder people in the bargaining unit are demanding from this time forward foremen will no longer retain and accumulate seniority during the period they are supervisors."

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, will head his union's team at American Motors as he did for similar opening round talks at Ford, Chrysler and GM.

NEW BENEFITS

Monday, the UAW called on Chrysler for broad new medical and life insurance benefits—including company-paid doctor bills.

Douglas Fraser, UAW Chrysler Department director, said the union proposals would increase worker protection against sickness and accident costs if they were written into the company union contract.

Says America Losing Conservation Battle

RENSSELAERVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Stewart Udall, secretary of the interior, says, "We are losing — rather badly — the battle to keep America beautiful."

He spoke last night at the opening convocation of the Rensselaerville, N.Y., Institute and urged scientists and conservationists to promote "the science of controlling science, so that America can control and direct her future."

2 Women Aid Stork in Delivery

Two neighbor women yesterday assisted in an emergency childbirth en route to Pontiac General Hospital with prospective mother Mrs. Donald Knudson, 23, of 5806 Shetland Way, Waterford Township.

* * *

When it became apparent that the race against the stork was futile, Mrs. Howard Rummell, 5821 Shetland Way, stopped the car at Pontiac Lake Road and Elson.

She and Mrs. Larry Sowter, 5794 Shetland Way, then delivered a girl.

An unidentified passerby called the fire department which referred the call to the police department. Patrolman Jerry St. Souver arrived at the scene just after the baby was born.

* * *

Both mother and daughter were transported by ambulance to the hospital where both are reported in good condition.

Lady 'Plugs' Pipe for Sneaky Snake

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Mrs. Brenda Pagel, a young South African housewife, plugged a drainpipe outside her farmhouse full of bullet holes — and then dragged out a very dead, five-foot long cobra.

* * *

Mrs. Pagel said she opened her front door and nearly walked into the snake which reared to full length only about a foot away.

* * *

She rushed into the house to get her husband's revolver and returned to find the cobra disappearing up the drainpipe. Despite the fact she had never fired a gun, Mrs. Pagel managed to pull the trigger, filling the pipe, and the snake, full of holes.

Red China Radio Says Formosa U2 Downed

TOKYO (AP) — A Nationalist Chinese high-altitude U2 plane was shot down over east China by Communist Chinese armed forces today, Peking radio said.

* * *

The broadcast did not describe how the plane was shot down.

It was the third U2 plane claimed shot down by the Communist Chinese since Sept. 9, 1962.

Two Get Positions on Waterford Unit

Norman Cheal and Donald Porter last night were designated as the Waterford Township Board of Education representatives on the township's recreation department board.

Cheal was elected by the school board to the recreation board post and Porter will serve by virtue of his position as treasurer of the school board. Both will serve 1-year terms.

The school board and township board, which jointly contribute to the support of the recreation program, both have two members on the recreation board.

Representing the township board are Clerk Elmer Fangboner and Trustee Charles Evans.

Mrs. Clare Novess recently was elected to a 3-year term on the recreation board as a member-at-large.

Pontiac Board Okays Raises

School Unit Seats One New Member

Salary hikes for three Pontiac school administrators were okayed last night at the organization meeting of the Pontiac School Board.

In addition to the pay increases the board's business included the seating of newly elected board member James L. Howlett, 104 E. Iroquois.

Howlett succeeds Glenn H. Griffin, who did not seek re-election. Griffin was presented with a plaque last night commending him for his 14 years service on the school board.

The school board gave approval to salary adjustments for the school district's two assistant superintendents and Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

* * *

The assistant superintendents were raised from $15,800 in 1964-65 to $16,300, and $16,400 in 1965-66 to $17,500.

SALARY HIKE

Whitmer's salary was hiked to $22,500 for the 1964-65 year. Previously, it had been scheduled at $21,500. In addition, the superintendent's expense allowance was increased from $2,000 to $3,000 per year.

In the only other action, the school board gave tentative approval to the promotion of Bertram C. Van Koughnett, Mark Twain School principal, to acting director of elementary education.

Van Koughnett will replace Gerald E. White, who has requested a leave of absence for one year.

MOOD MUSIC — The strains of classical music fill Maureen Mack's room at Anibal House as she contemplates the canvas on her easel. Maureen, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Charles C. Mack of Alexandria, Va., is a first semester junior in the liberal arts school. An honor student since she entered Oakland University in the fall of 1962, Maureen is attending the summer semester so that she may enter graduate school sooner.

By JODY HEADLEE

If it takes a "heap o' livin'" in a house to "make it home," it takes even more to turn a university resident hall into a "home away from home."

It requires give and take on the part of the students and planning on the part of the college administration.

Both groups at Oakland University are meeting their challenge well as the young people study their way through summer.

Eager to get to the business of living, J. W. Annesser of Royal Oak said, "I didn't want to waste the summer." The son of the Jack W. Annessers, Jim is anxious to obtain his degree from the liberal arts school.

* * *

For the sooner he gets his degree, the sooner he can enroll in law school. And the sooner he finishes law school, the sooner he can establish his career.

HOUSE ASSISTANT

A resident assistant at Fitzgerald House, he is a second semester sophomore. There are four resident assistants in each of the three dormitories on campus.

Usually upperclassmen, the "R. A.'s" exchange their time as counselors and helpmates of fellow students for a private room and $150 remuneration per semester. All must earn a 2.0 average or better to qualify for the job.

Resident halls open during the summer months are Anibal House for the girls and Fitzgerald House for the men. Pryale House, a coeducational dormitory, is closed until the fall semester.

* * *

Hill House, the newest housing addition, is under construction. When completed, it will include five stories plus a basement.

HEAD RESIDENTS

Each of the resident halls has a head resident. Mrs. Evelyn Norup is the executive leader at Anibal House and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Cornellier share honors at Fitzgerald House.

When asked how it felt to be the "mother" of 63 men, young and attractive Mrs. Cornellier replied, "It's positively wonderful! Though I'm afraid I'm getting spoiled.

"The boys are always so willing to help. My husband and I have a little garden east of Pryale House and they spend many hours wielding a hoe or sprayer.

"And as an example of their all-out generosity, this hot spell with its lack of rain brought on a problem. How to give the plants a much-needed drink.

"We had one length of garden hose and no matter how we stretched it, it just wasn't enough. One afternoon when I returned to the apartment, there on the desk was a neat round of new hose with a note, 'The Green Thumb strikes!'

"It helped but even the two hoses weren't enough to water the entire patch. So another hose appeared mysteriously with a similar note, 'The Green Thumb strikes again!'

"Our dilemma solved, to say thank you in a small way, I put a note on the bulletin board, 'The Brown Thumb invites all Green Thumbers in for coffee and cake.'

* * *

"Almost all of the boys came and I never saw cake go so fast in my life. So you see when our work's done we have a lot of fun at Fitzgerald House."

SENIOR STUDENT

Cornellier, in addition to his official duties, is a senior in teacher education.

Next door at Anibal House, the cool reception lounge serves as a meeting place for the girls and their guests. The individual rooms open off closed corridors.

Most of the young women take the starkly furnished rooms and create cozy, comfortable retreats.

* * *

The university provides each room with two single beds, two desks, two desk chairs, two desk lamps, two 8-foot tack strips for picture hanging, overhead lighting and a bulletin board. The rest is up to the residents.

COLOR ACCENTS

Carole Wilson and Betty Zimmerman have chosen blue, aqua and green for their room's color accents. Striped bedspreads, a throw rug and an occasional chair add to the room's convenience.

Circling the base of the black pole lamp are a collection of dolls. Both girls have stuffed animals on their beds.

Carole is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilson of St. Charles.

Betty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Zimmerman of Fowlerville, is a first semester sophomore in elementary education. Her first summer session, she states, "It's awfully hard to study when it's so warm."

She added that the professors seem to make allowances for the heat by requiring less written work though still providing adequate foundations for future study.

Like her colleagues, Betty is in a hurry. "I want to teach," she said. "And the quicker I get through school, the quicker I can."

The responsibility of cleaning and maintaining order in the rooms is solely that of the students.

Laundry facilities are available to those who wish to care for their personal clothing. Included in the compact laundry rooms are an automatic washer, dryer, iron and ironing board.

* * *

The new Hill House will also offer its residents a kitchenette for fudge and popcorn parties. The existing dormitories have no such arrangements though the resident heads often open their apartment kitchens for impromptu snack get-togethers.

FOOD CENTER

Resident students are required to eat their meals at the Oakland Center. Generous time schedules allow for sleeping in should class hours permit.

Breakfast is served Monday through Friday from 7:15 to 9 a.m., with lunch from 11:15 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and dinner from 5:15 to 6:45 p.m. Weekend hours differ slightly.

Though present dormitories do not feature basements, students can seek safety in the nearby Oakland Center's lower level should an emergency such as a tornado or air raid alert arise.

* * *

During the current semester 120 students live in the two resident halls, 57 girls and 63 men. Each of the two houses are equipped to handle 96 persons at capacity.

TOTAL EXPERIENCE

Director of the Residents Program, Mrs. Alice Haddix, points out, "Dormitory living is part of the total college experience.

"We are happy to welcome the students and urge them not to be frightened of this new experience.

"It is important to the development of their adult independence and we hope they will not misuse this opportunity to become well-rounded citizens."

FITZGERALD HOUSE — J. W. Annesser stops to chat with Liz Wollenberg in the spacious lounge of Fitzgerald House. Future travel plans have spurred Liz to seek an earlier graduation date. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wollenberg of Detroit, she is a psychology major in the liberal arts program.

In this lounge of the male dormitory tables of plastic laminate, finished to resemble oiled walnut, are able to stand the gaff and still come up shining. Orange occasional chairs add spice to the predominately blue and green color scheme of the room.

ANIBAL HOUSE — Francine Libera waits patiently as Betty Zimmerman catches up on a few last-minute details before class. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Libera of Lansing, Francine is enthusiastic about the summer session. "I like it," she said, "though the heat makes it a little hard to study at times and the classes are somewhat larger." A resident of Anibal House, Francine is a first term sophomore in secondary education.

Taylor in Viet Nam, Says 'We'll Prevail'

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor arrived in South Viet Nam today, declaring that the war programs already under way are sound but need "vigorous implementation and execution."

"I am sure that in the months to come we will see that vigorous implementation," Taylor said at Saigon Airport as more than 100 police and security agents stood guard.

"I have no illusions about the tasks that face your country in the days ahead," Taylor told the Vietnamese. "The fight against tyranny and injustice is never easy; the road to success is always long. But your brothers in the free world stand with you, and together—with determination, patience and resourcefulness—I know we shall prevail."

Taylor, former chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, was greeted by his deputy ambassador, U. Alexis Johnson; Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, and Vietnamese protocol officials.

Taylor said his presence in South Viet Nam testified to the determination of President Johnson," and to the determination of the American people, that freedom, independence and peace will prevail in South Viet Nam."

"I am here to assure you of our unstinting support in your struggle against the forces of aggression — there is no time limit in that commitment," he added.

Taylor saluted the "great contribution of my distinguished predecessor," Henry Cabot Lodge.

* * *

Tight security prevailed along Taylor's route into Saigon, where terrorists made two bomb attacks Monday, one against the U.S. Embassy. The bomb at the embassy did not explode.

Hundreds of police lined the road from the airport keeping it clear of traffic. Fighter planes roared overhead.

The Viet Cong liberation radio warned Taylor to stay out of Viet Nam or his life would be in danger.

To Honor Eisenhower

BOSTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, a Negro, has been asked to present a gold convention badge to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower following Eisenhower's address at the Republican National Convention, Brooke's office announced last night.

New British Guiana Violence Is Feared

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—A new upsurge of racial violence was feared in this tense British crown colony today after the bombing of a river launch carrying about 70 Negroes.

At least 10 laborers were reported killed in the blast from a time bomb Monday and another 23, including 8 children, were missing.

(A shortwave broadcast from British Guiana, heard in Miami, said at least 20 persons were killed in a bombing Monday night. Details were not given, and it was not clear whether the broadcast referred to the bombing of the launch or another attack.)

British army helicopters, police launches and private boats combed the muddy waters of the Demerara River for survivors from the launch.

RACIAL CLASHES

This colony of 600,000 on South America's northern coast has been wracked for months by racial clashes between East Indians and Negroes. The East Indians slightly outnumber the Negroes.

The launch was blown up 25 miles from Wismar village, opposite the bauxite town of Mackenzie. Survivors said the explosion came from cargo bags 12 feet from the engine room.

* * *

Fearing reprisals by the Negro population at Mackenzie, police put East Indians in the area under protective custody. Gov. Sir Richard Luyt ordered all arms seized in the area.

Frank Fontaine Is an Expert on Subject

TV Star Says Teens Face 'Tangled Age'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some parents find one teen-ager hard to handle.

What do you do if, like Frank Fontaine, you find you have five of your 11 children in the teen-age bracket?

BOYLE

"You go nuts," ansiled Frank, who stars as Crazy Guggenheim on Jackie Gleason's television show.

* * *

Then Fontaine, to whom family life is the keystone of living, quickly became serious.

"No, you don't really. Actually, the so-called teen-age problem isn't so much a problem to the parents as it is to the kids themselves.

FOOT IN CHILDHOOD

"I call it the teen-age dip. Their bodies are changing, their minds are changing. They are trying so desperately to be like grownups, and yet they still have a foot in childhood.

"It's a tangled age. They're in a split personality period. The role of the parent is to be more understanding—to help guide them through it."

* * *

Frank's teen-agers are Peter, 19, Lawrence, 17, Alma, 15, Paul, 14, Christopher, 13. He now is ferrying them in shifts to see the New York World's Fair, along with other members of his big family.

The big blond actor and singer feels strongly that children need help both at school and at home to tide them through the difficulties of adolescence.

BUILD CHARACTER

"That is when they must build the character to last them the rest of the way," he remarked. "What happens to them the rest of their lives is often determined by what they do in that period.

"Some youngsters adjust. Others get in the habit of ducking the problems of life. If they goof-off, they don't blame themselves—they blame their parents and teachers.

* * *

"Films should be made and shown in the schools—films showing teen-age kids who ducked problems and the disasters that overtook them later.

"The problem of the teen-ager is to stay out of the whirlwind. A major error made then is hard to correct later.

"And this isn't a problem just of the slum kid. Children of middle-class and wealthy parents can get just as mixed up, and need just as much help."

What about punishing children?

"I give out lickings once in a while," admitted Frank, mildly lifting a ham-sized hand, "but I find that a good family discussion every two weeks does more good. Sometimes I have to hold two meetings."

* * *

Fontaine, now appearing at the Hotel Americana's Royal Box, is riding a popularity wave created by his success on television. His four record albums have hit the best seller lists, and the money is coming in a golden shower.

The number of workers holding white collar jobs rose 43 per cent of total employed civilian workers between the 1950-60 censuses.

In discussing so-called single suit plays a bridge teacher is careful to point out that the correct play is likely to depend on how many tricks needed in the suit.

JACOBY

South is in a three no-trump contract, but has only seven sure tricks. He needs two more for his contract which means that he must get three club tricks, not two.

There is no sure way to get three club tricks, but there is a best way to try for them.

The correct way to try for three club tricks is to lead low from the North hand.

If East plays an honor, you win with the ace. If East plays low, you finesse your jack. If West wins with either the king or queen, you will play your ace the next time and hope to drop the other honor.

Specifically, this line of play will produce three club tricks for you any time East started with king-small, queen-small or king-queen-small of clubs or either opponent started with king-queen

This isn't too good a play. Your chance of success is only a trifle over 27 per cent, but it is still your best chance.

Dress Works Magic Charm

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — There's no witchery of stitchery about the dainty baby dresses made by Mrs. Alvin T. Lewis, but for 31 times a dress suitable for a girl has worked its magic charm when the mother-to-be hoped for a girl.

Even the obstetricians are beginning to wonder.

The mother of two sons, Mrs. Lewis made her first version of the dress more than twenty years ago.

Combining gossamer material, Valenciennes lace, pink ribbons and cobweb stitches, she included the dress in a layette suitable for a girl and gave birth to a daughter — her only daughter.

* * * *

She made no fancy wardrobe when her two sons were born.

SECOND DRESS

One time a friend was told to expect twins.

* * * *

Mrs. Lewis hurridly completed a second dress. Twin girls arrived on schedule.

* * * *

Mrs. Lewis claims no special magic is involved, but adds, "I wouldn't make a dress for any woman who has her heart set on a boy."

But 'Little Billy' Made It Big

Says Midgets Have Tough Life

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — His legs dangled over the edge of the bus stop bench. His face, shaded by a blue fedora, resembled a dried quince. A natty suit covered his beach-ball figure. His voice sounded as if it came from an old gramophone.

THOMAS

Billy Rhodes is by his own definition a Lilliputian.

"I realize the word is a hard one for most people to say, so they call us midgets," he remarked. "Well, that's all right. They can call us midgets if they like. We people of the little world have a tough road to follow."

Little Billy, as his billing reads — the ring on his tiny finger spells L. B. in diamonds — was resting on the bench on Las Palmas Avenue during one of his daily promenades down the Boulevard. Sitting in the midday sun like a miniature Buddha in a blue suit, he reflected on his 69 years in the little world.

"I was born in Lynn, Mass.," he said. "My parents were both normal size. When my father took a look at me and saw how small I was, he said goodbye to my mother and she never saw him again.

"I grew up in awful poverty, simply awful. Mattress on the floor, that sort of thing. I helped my mother by selling newspapers — I was so small I could only hold three at a time. One day I wandered up an alley which happened to be a stage entrance. Out came a guy in a beaver - collared overcoat with ivory - tipped cane and English bowler.

"He not only bought all three of my papers, he gave me a ticket to the show."

Little Billy joined the repertory company and was later adopted by the manager, Jerry Grady. Billy played all the child roles. He chortled at how he would die as little Willie in "East Lynn," then return in aftershow for a rousing rendition of "Mommy Wouldn't Buy Me a Bow-Wow."

ON TO VAUDEVILLE

Billy moved on to vaudeville and Broadway, appearing with Marilyn Miller in "Peter Pan" and in George M. Cohan's "Review of 1916." In 1928 he was brought to Hollywood for his first movie, "Side Show," with Marie Dressler. He has been around the Boulevard off and on ever since and still works in movies and television.

He lives alone and hangs out with the normal-size actors at the Masquers' Club rather than with the colony of little people.

"I don't like midgets; they're too damned smug," he muttered. "I've lived with big people all my life, and I prefer them."

Georgia City Puts Curfew Hour Earlier

WINDER, Ga. (AP) — Bedtime apparently is going to come an hour earlier for the 8,000 inhabitants of this northeast Georgia city.

* * *

Noting large gatherings of whites and Negros during integration attempts, the city council voted Tuesday to impose a 10 p.m. curfew. Councilman Boyd Garner said the council "was just trying to enforce the peace."

* * *

Winder had an 11 p.m. curfew on the books that was used Sunday night when whites barred Negroes from a theater.

Hobo Ruler to Abdicate

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jeff Davis says he's abdicating as king of the hobos and emperor of the Knights of the Road.

"I'll be 81 years old in August and I'm worn out," he said last night in Cincinnati. "I need some privacy."

* * *

He said he'll turn over the reins to Al Kersey, a retired Toledo, Ohio, railroader, who is to be crowned next June at the hobo convention in Pittsburgh.

Sinatra Has Wild 'Blast' in France

PARIS (UPI) — Singer Frank Sinatra went out on the town last night and tossed firecrackers while his bodyguards scuffled with photographers.

Two lensmen claimed they were roughed up. There were no arrests.

The running skirmish started when photographers mobbed Sinatra as he emerged from his Paris hotel with film agent Irving Lazar, friends, bodyguards and fashion models.

"Get the — out of my way," Sinatra shouted. He pulled two baby firecrackers from his pocket, lit and tossed them.

* * *

Sinatra livened up the dinner party at a Left Bank restaurant with more firecrackers, causing one Frenchwoman at a neighboring table to fume, "he thinks it's the 14th of July" (Bastille Day).

FLASH BULBS POP

Sinatra was engulfed by popping flashbulbs again when his car pulled up outside a Left Bank night club after midnight.

* * *

"Clear them out," he cried, and bodyguards went into action. Nearby residents flung open their windows and shouted for the police. The photographers left.

* * *

Less than 24 hours earlier Sinatra had been bedded down in a Stockholm hotel suffering from "overstrain."

Bite by Snake Puts Curator in the Hospital

CLEVELAND (AP) — The 31-year-old curator of the Cleveland Aquarium was reported in good condition today at Mount Sinai Hospital after being bitten by a poisonous water moccasin he was feeding.

* * *

The curator, Dan Moreno of Willoughby, was bitten yesterday by the 3-foot-long adult moccasin, one of three he was feeding fish in a double-glass case.

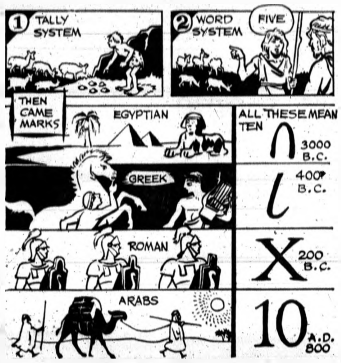
Moreno applied a tourniquet, cut open his right index finger with a razor, then apparently sucked out much of the venom before it could enter his bloodstream.

Youths he summoned from a nearby play area rushed him to the hospital, to which antivenom was brought from the Cleveland Zoo.

* * *

He was alone in the aquarium, which is closed on Mondays.

Junior Editors Quiz on FIGURES



QUESTION: Where did numbers come from?

* * *

ANSWER: It is probable that numbers came from the tally system which is thought to have been used by prehistoric men to keep track of their possessions.

If such a man had 5 sheep, he might have picked out 5 stones to represent them; if a lamb was born, he would have added another stone.

A big step was to use a word instead of the group of stones. Gradually, a group of "counting words" was formed.

As civilization developed with its need for written records, men searched for marks or symbols to stand for the counting words. Such symbols became known as "numerals," and we show how they appeared in different civilizations in regard to the number 10.

Notice that today we use the same two symbols for 10 which the Arabians used. The other nine symbols also are the same. Exactly how the Arabs arrived at their counting system we do not know, but it has been one of the most important inventions in history.

The nine symbols and the important one for zero probably originated in India, before Arabian adoption.

The great value of this system was in the placement of digits so those to the left would have a higher value, such as by ten times, or a hundred times.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Take a large sheet of paper and a pencil. Pretend you're living in the world before the Arabic number system. Invent a symbol for 1. Suppose you had to express 900 by writing your symbol 900 times. It would be quite a chore, wouldn't it? Instead, just write down the Arabic symbols for 900. See how much easier that is?

Will Defend Districting, Says Kelley

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has announced he will fight an attempt to upset Michigan's Democrat - drawn legislative apportionment plan at a later date.

Gov. George W. Romney announced Monday that a group of attorneys acting as advisers unanimously recommended against applying to the U.S. Supreme Court for a stay of the plan.

Romney said, however, they recommended that an appeal be taken later and promised it would be "vigorously prosecuted at the earliest possible date."

Romney said he was advised that steps needed to ask for a stay "would take too much time to be of practical effect this year."

Kelley said he was pleased to hear that "the Republican leadership has abandoned the idea of upsetting this year's election by attempting to obtain a stay of the implementation of our new apportionment in Michigan.

"Their announced intention of attacking the plan at a later time, however, will require a vigorous response by the State of Michigan," he said. "This office will prepare that response and defend the apportionment plan as approved by the Michigan Supreme Court."

N-Sub Sent on Patrol Over July 4 Weekend

The Woodrow Wilson, packing 16 nuclear-tipped rockets with a range of 1,725 miles, went on patrol in the Atlantic over the July 4th weekend, it was learned.

Hayes Jones Atop Express for Tokyo

– Pontiac's own Hayes Jones (irrespective of whatever Illogical counter claims are advanced by the Big Village down at the end of our main street) dropped in at The Press, Hayes is very, very comfortably ensconced atop the Tokyo express for the Olympic games.

He "has it made."

* * *

The rest of the wonderful U.S. hurdlers can fight it out for the second and third spots. A smashing victory in the finals last week when he ran 13.4, the fastest race of his life, cinched the Big Prize.

* * *

A curious reporter asked him timidly: "Hayes, how long since you've jumped the gun?"

Hayes grinned, "Last week."

"What!"

"Really, in the semifinals the starter held us an interminable period and I was so anxious I couldn't stand it any longer."

* * *

"What was the last time you jumped before that?" Hayes reflected. "I think I was in the seventh grade." And, oh, yes. Jones won the heat in which he jumped.

The penalty is one mark against you. Two marks and you're out — out. Hence, after one false start, most contestants sit on their haunches and wait for the gun. Hayes said he relied on the experience of years and started normally the second time and was away well.

* * *

In the finals he broke like a shot, was never headed and won by three yards — a right, smart "piece" in so short a dash.

Possible Shift No Concern to Milwaukee Stars

Managers Hard-Pressed

All-Star Pitchers 'Tired'

NEW YORK (AP) — The rival All-Star managers, hard pressed to select a rested starting pitcher for today's mid-summer classic between the National and American Leagues, advocated a wider range of pitchers to choose from for future All-Star games.

* * *

American League Manager Al Lopez, after much deliberation, picked Dean Chance of the Los Angeles Angels as his starter although the right-hander pitched Sunday against the Boston Red Sox. All eight AL pitchers worked over the weekend.

National League Manager Walter Alston's choice was cut and dried. He named Don Drysdale of his own Los Angeles Dodger team partly because Don was the only right-hander on the NL All-Star staff who had not pitched over the weekend. Four of the seven NL pitchers worked Sunday.

Both managers said they preferred right-handers because of the predominance of right-handed hitters in the two starting line-ups.

ONE INNING PLUS

"I know Chance pitched Sunday but so did four of my other seven pitchers," said Lopez. "I was debating using Camilo Pascual, who pitched Saturday, but Chance worked only an inning and two-thirds and I figured he could come back stronger because he is younger than Pascual."

* * *

Originally, Alston had four right-handers to choose from but the nomination became automatic when Jim Bunning pitched Saturday and Juan Marichal and Dick Farrell worked Sunday. Drysdale turned back the New York Mets 6-2 Friday night.

* * *

"At the moment I have no idea who will be my second pitcher," said Lopez. "It depends on which one is more rested, and the line-up the National league uses. I could use Pascual, a right - hander, or Gary Peters, a left-hander, depending upon the situation. And I've always got Dick Radatz and John Wyatt. Both are great relief pitchers and both have proven they can go every day, if necessary."

Alston said that in all probability Bunning, Philadelphia's perfect game pitcher, would be his second choice, followed by Philly southpaw Chris Short, the most rested of the 15 All-Star pitchers. Short has not pitched since Thursday.

* * *

While neither manager agreed with Casey Stengel's suggestion that a rule be passed prohibiting an All-Star pitcher from working the Sunday before the game, both agreed that a change was desirable.

"It's this way every year," said Lopez. "Managers fighting for a pennant are going to arrange their rotation so as to get their best pitcher to work Sunday. In this way, he can have him ready to pitch again after the three-day All-Star break.

* * *

"If we were to enlarge the staff by two or three pitchers, we'd be more likely to come up with two or three sufficiently rested pitchers for the All-Star game. I know I'd like to have Dave Wickersham of the Detroit club on my team right now."

Braves' Plans Fail to Worry Ball Players

Team Must Attract 1,200,000 Fans, Atlanta Beckons

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Joe Torre, the Milwaukee Braves' National League All-Star catcher, has pasted an "A" over the white "M" on his uniform cap. "A" is for Atlanta.

"You can see I'm ready for peach tree street right now," cracked Torre Monday before heading for New York and today's All-Star game.

* * *

He and other Braves had been asked to comment on reports that the Braves will be in Atlanta in 1965. And while the Braves' management has not said flatly that the National League team will be in Milwaukee next season none of the players would go out on a limb.

NOT WORRIED

"The fellows kid about it a lot but they're certainly not worried about it," said second baseman and player representative Frank Bolling. "Besides, the players are the last to know about such things anyway, so why worry?"

* * *

The "A" was the second attached to a cap by Torre. He did the same when the reports of a shift had their first run last year. Asked if he had worn the cap on the field, Torre said, "No, and I'm not going to. I don't want to be fined for being out of uniform."

One of the players, who didn't want his name used, said, "Everything I own is tied up in Milwaukee, but I can't blame the management for wanting me to move. We have to draw 1,200,000 persons to actually make it a million paid because of the special ticket programs offered to boost baseball as well as attendance.

* * *

"We dicker for every last dollar possible at contract time and we can't blame management for trying to do the same thing."

NATIVE SON

Batting star Hank Aaron, a native of Mobile, Ala., said he feels "like practically a native son" in Milwaukee. "I'd be foolish to say I'd like to go somewhere else, but I've got to go where the club goes."

"Where the club goes, I go," said veteran Billy Hoeft, a native of Oshkosh, Wis. "All I'm interested in is being with the club."

* * *

Relief hurler Bob Tiefenauer said that when he and pitcher Bob Sadowski were playing in Atlanta "we were kings. But if I had a choice, I'd sooner stay here because of the climate. It can get pretty hot in Atlanta. And we didn't have too many fans in the stands."

A sampling of public reaction turned up the contractor whose firm built County Stadium, Frank Hunzinger. "They're not moving," he said.

* * *

But on the other end of the scale was Dr. Carleton Werthwein, who said, "Let them move—who cares."

Favor 'Late' Jack Nicklaus

* * * * * * * * * *

St. Andrews Rough Course

Whitemarsh Triumph Delays U.S. Star

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus remained the betting favorite to capture the British Open golf championship today although he just had a passing acquaintance with the famed old St. Andrews course.

* * *

Nicklaus himself admitted that his late arrival here would work against him in the tournament which starts Wednesday.

He didn't regret the fact, however, that he had stayed over in the United States to pick up the $24,000 first prize for winning the Whitemarsh Open at Philadelphia last weekend.

"It would be great to win because this is one of the world's great tournaments," said Nicklaus, the 7-2 favorite.

"But I'm a little handicapped by having to arrive so late. Well, we'll just have to find out what it takes to beat this great course."

FIRST LOOK

Nicklaus arrived Monday with Gary Player, Tony Lema, Doug Sanders and Doug Ford and immediately took a good look at the St. Andrews course, which he will be playing for the first time.

Eight Americans in all are entered for the British Open on the 6,926-yard, par-72 layout.

The others besides Nicklaus, Lema, Sanders and Ford are Phil Rodgers, Johnny Bulla of Phoenix, Ariz., Bill Johnston of Phoenix, Ariz., and amateur Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md.

* * *

Single rounds will be played Wednesday and Thursday with the top 40 qualifying for the final two rounds on Friday.

British Golf Open Finally Becomes Spectators' Game

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) —They crowned a new king today for the 1964 British Open Golf Championship at the birthplace of the game.

He's a character known as the spectator.

* * *

Off the printing presses rolled enough tickets to accommodate 30,000 people to watch the 104th Open title play which starts Wednesday and endures 72 holes over the most impolite 6,926 yards of trouble in existence.

In 1873 Tom Kidd won the championship here from 25 competitors and a bibulous gallery of 50.

As late as 1949, Reg Whitcombe beat Harry Bradshaw of Ireland at Sandwich in a playoff which attracted exactly 20 spectators.

As the American challengers, led by Jack Nicklaus, Doug Sanders, Tony Lema and Doug Ford, and others arrived, the spectator fever hit the Old Course. Golf fans by the hundreds wandered around, sporting their spectator tickets.

The spectator is the king nowadays," said George Simms, press officer for the Open.

Simms, a golf writer in Britain for years, is by his very existence a sign of the times. The Royal and Ancient Club once permitted the press to come to the tradesmen's entrance to see something posted on the wall.

This currying the favor of the public has been adopted from the Americans.

NEW PATHS

Consequently, this time the paying golf spectator is being given new paths to walk alongside the nine holes out and nine holes back which distinguish the Old Course.

Parking lots have been created. A road was built to the turn so it is now possible to drive to the ninth green. Mounds were bulldozed at the second green, the third and fourth tees, the fifth and 13th greens and at the 14th and 17th greens. Stands have been erected at the first and third greens and at the 12th 13th and 14th. A mobile score board was built.

They are charging spectators $4.20 for the entire week of golf until the last shot is fired Friday.

* * *

By American standards that's not very much. But you can play the Old Course, without introduction since it is publicly owned by the town, for $1.40.

The open prize is only $4,200. The top Americans who have lifted the open into the biggest prestige title abroad don't scorn it.

They fly all night without sleep to try for it and they are always favored in the betting. The spectator who might want his own choice to win nevertheless respects the great shotmaker enough to pay to see him. And that's what has made him the real king of the Royal and Ancient, at last.

Approval Sought

Umps Agree on Pension

NEW YOR K(AP) — The National League's Executive Council, meeting with representatives of the league's umpires association, has reached a verbal agreement on an increase in the umpires' pension fund.

The agreement, which came after three hours of closed door meetings Monday, must be approvel by the league at the summer meeting, tentatively scheduled Aug. 10 in Chicago.

John Reynolds, attorney for the umpires' group, said he would present the agreement to the association and NL President Warren Giles would present it to the league.

"We met for three hours in a very friendly atmosphere conducive to good relations," said Reynolds. "I feel the umpires association will approve the verbal agreement."

DEMANDED MORE

The umpires, who on May 26 threatened a strike unless the pension plan was improved, currently receive $200 per year for each year of service upon retirement at age 55. They rejected a league offer boosting the figure to $250 in May, and demanded $300.

Details of Monday's agreement were not announced.

Long, Hot Summer Run

Baseball's Big Debate Resumes

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's Great Debate may be in for a long, hot summer run if New York's magnificent cripple stays as healthy as his current batting average.

The Mickey Mantle-Willie Mays squabble, a pick-em tavern talkathon for more than 10 years, has been showing signs of wear—as have Mantle's tender legs—in the past few seasons.

* * *

But Mickey, virtually counted out after missing 97 games in 1963, is again convincing people —particularly American League pitchers — while Willie has cooled considerably after a torrid 1964 getaway.

Mantle vaulted into the thick of the AL batting race last week with an eight-game clip of .406. The Yankee star had 13 hits in 32 official at-bats, lifting his season mark to .332, four points behind Minnesota's Bob Allison, whose league lead dipped from 10 points to one over rookie teammate Tony Oliva. Third place Mantle was fifth at .319, last week.

AVERAGE DROPS

Mays held his runner-up position in the National League race while Billy Williams of Chicago, last week's leader, and Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente, third a week ago, swapped places. Mays' average, however, fell eight points to .339 as the San Francisco slugger went 5-for-21 in seven games.

Clemente dropped from .348 to .345 while Williams tumbled 16 points, to .330, after a 3-for-22 week.

The Mantle-Mays figures aren't far apart in home runs and runs batted in. Mays has 23 homers and 55 RBI, both league-leading totals, in 77 games. Mantle has 17 homers and 54 RBI in 10 fewer contests. Each hit .314 a year ago, but Willie poled 38 home runs to 15 for Mantle, who suffered a series of injuries, including a broken foot, and played in only 65 games.

Harmon Killebrew of the Twins appears a shoo-in for 1964 slugging honors. Killebrew hit three homers last week for a total of 30 in 76 games, just off Roger Maris' record pace of 1961. The Killer has driven in 64 runs, three more than Dick Sturt of Boston, for the majors' top production mark.

Other winners were Mary MacDonald and Paul Armstrong, junior dance; Diane Scofield, novice ladies singles; Ron and Gail Robovitsky, intermediate pairs.

* * *

Placing second was the senior four teams of Dennis Horrall, David Downing, Cecelia Darimont and Miss Grassi. Mike Leineke, Horrall, Miss Wagner and Miss Hirnelsen were second in the mixed relay.

Also a runnerup was Miss Wagner in intermediate ladies speed.

Gerry McNeive and Miss Darimont were third in free dance and Peggy Gardner placed the same in junior girls figures.

Rain Could Cause Netters to Move

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The 75th Western Tennis Tournament faced the possibility of moving some matches to hard courts elsewhere in Indianapolis today because of muddy footing at Woodstock Club.

* * *

All of the men's singles matches scheduled for Monday were postponed because of a downpour that started at noon. Seven women's singles matches were played before the rain came.

* * *

Three seeded favorites in women's singles swept through the first round against Indianapolis opponents by 6-0, 6-0 scores. They were Judy Alvarez of Tampa, Fla., No. 1; Alice Tym of Peoria, Ill., No. 3; and Jean Danilovich of Jackson, Calif., defending champion and seeded No. 4.

PBI Surprises Huron-Airway

2-1 Defeat Brings End to Streak

Pontiac Business Institute, a team that wouldn't fold in the clutch, now is the hottest squad in the city Class A baseball league.

The men's league's only new entry stopped league-leading Huron-Airway, 2-1, last night at Jaycee Park in a tense contest that delighted one of the season's largest crowds.

The victory was the sixth straight for scrappy PBI after a 1-3 beginning in May, and solidified its hold on second place. Huron-Airway lost its first game in 11 decisions.

The losers held a 1-0 lead after Bob Bogert walked Bob Rabaja with the bases loaded to force in an unearned run in the second inning.

KNOT SCORE

PBI got that tainted tally back in the fourth when Dan Greig scampered home on a passed ball. He had doubled with one out and moved up on an infield error.

The winning run came in the fifth frame and was only the third earned run permitted by losing pitcher Don Sackett (6-1) in 48 innings of pitching.

With the bases loaded on a hit batter and two walks, Bob Smith bounced to second and pinch - runner Ed Sparkman beat the throw to the plate.

Sparkman then moved to centerfield and promptly saved Bogert's third win without a loss by throwing out the tying run at the plate in the sixth inning and making two fine catches in the seventh.

Huron-Airway left eight runners stranded in the game as Bogert had the right pitch in the clutch. Tonight at 8 o'clock Talbott Lumber and Cranbrook will resume their battle for fourth place, the final playoff berth.

Seminar-Meeting Scheduled by UFL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—The United Football League will hold a three - day meeting and seminar here beginning Friday, during which a number of matters will be discussed.

The league officials will discuss the UFL's waiver system, the player identification clause covering anyone going from one team to another or going major league, and territorial rights.

Also to be considered is a charge filed by Charleston against Wheeling, alleging the Ironmen violated a league by-law in publicizing a team action.

Olympic Torch Parade

TOKYO (AP)—The torch for the October Tokyo Olympics will be relayed by a total of 100,696 runners including 876 foreigners, the Tokyo Olympic Organizing Committee said Tuesday.

The sacred flame will be lit in Olympia, Greece, Aug. 14 in the presence of Greek King Constantine and TOOC chairman Daigoro Yasukawa and related through 11 countries. It will arrive in Tokyo Oct. 9. The Olympics opens Oct. 10.

USSR Coach Notes Improvement

Russian Trackmen Stronger

MOSCOW (AP)— The Soviet men's track and field team that opposes the United States at Los Angeles July 25-26 will be stronger than the one that put up a strong battle against American trackmen here last year, according to Russian coach Gavrill Korobkov.

But Korobkov squelched an anticipated broad jump duel between Russian world record holder Igor Ter-Ovanesyan and U.S. ace Ralph Boston Monday by disclosing that Ter-Ovanesyan will not make the trip.

* * *

Boston topped the Russian's world mark of 27 feet, 3¼ inches with a wind-aided leap of 27-5½ last Friday at the U.S. Olympic Trials.

Korobkov told the official Soviet news agency, Tass, that Ter-Ovanesyan was sick. He missed the Znamesky Brothers Memorial Meet in Moscow last weekend.

BETTER RESULTS

The Russian pilot said the Moscow meet showed better results than the 1963 meet.

"This does not mean, however, that we are bound to repeat last year's success," he said. "We are clearly aware of the fact that in Los Angeles we shall meet a team of much higher class than we received in Moscow.

"There is going to be a close struggle."

* * *

Korobkov said he considers the Russian distance runners—1,500 to 10,000 meters—superior to those of any other nation, pointing out that Pyotr Bolotnikov, Olympic champion at 10,000 meters in 1960, could do no better than sixth in the Memorial meet event won by countryman Nikolai Dutov.

* * *

"Rein Telp (800 meters), Vasily Savinkov (1,500 meters), Dutov, Kestutis Orentas and Mart Will (long distances) are runners on whom we count very much in the Olympic year," he said.

LESS PROGRESS

"There is less progress in the short distance (from 100 to 800 meters), But the Soviet team wil be very able in the 400-meter relay race, and it appears that we will have a strong team in the 1,600-meter relay for the first time."

In the 1963 meet in Moscow, American men defeated the Russians 119-114 while the Russian women trounced the American women 75-28.

Tough Course Has 6th Ace

Highland Hills Golf Course, no soft touch for hole-in-one shooters in past seasons, gave up its sixth of the season Saturday.

The first five came on par 3 holes, but Eddie Powell of 1071 Bielby, Pontiac, picked on a tricky par 4 Saturday.

* * *

Using a driver, Powell rapped the ball into the blind dogleg, 295-yard No. 2 hole. Playing with him were Ken Siebert, Lee Pearsall and Tom Allen.

Californian Foils Foes

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Mrs. Janice Romary of Woodland Hills, Calif., won the national women's individual foils crown in the 1964 National Fencing Championships here Monday night.

Bork's Weighty Problem Worries Canadian Coach

JULIETTE, Quebec (AP) — Everybody is worried about George Bork's weight except George Bork.

Bork is the young man who broke American collegiate passing records while playing quarterback for Northern Illinois the past four years, and is now the prize rookie quarterback for the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League.

★ ★ ★

Coach Jim Trimble, however, thinks Bork is too skinny at 179 pounds to take the poundings of the pros. He would like to see his rookie add 15 pounds or so to his six-foot frame.

"I know that the extra weight helps a quarterback absorb the pounding he takes on the rush, and makes him less prone to injury," Bork said none too happily Monday at the Alouette training camp here.

HE'S TRYING

"I suppose, with the extra weight, I'd be able to throw stronger too.

"Well, I know all that and I'm trying to put on weight. Everybody seems to be worried about it, but I'm not really too concerned. I've been playing football for nine years, and I've had some success."

Bork's eyes lit up when someone recalled that Sam Etcheverry, the great Alouette quarterback of a few years ago, weighed only 174 pounds when he first reported to the club.

Bork, whether he fattens up or not, figures to provide Montreal with a pretty fair passing game once he learns to handle the rush. His favorite receiver at Northern Illinois, Hugh Rohrschneider, who broke all the pass-catching marks on the end of most of Bork's aerials, also is with Montreal.

Quits Baseball for Pro Grid

Tom Brown Inks Pact With Green Bay 11

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Tom Brown, who pulled out of professional baseball after two seasons with the Washington Senators, signed with the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League Monday.

Brown, the Packers' No. 2 draft choice in 1962, was fighting a losing battle with a .200 batting mark when he told manager Jim Lemon of the York, Pa., team of the Eastern League that he was quitting baseball.

TOP PROSPECT

He is considered an excellent prospect for either flanker back or defensive back in professional football. Terms of his contract with the Packers were not disclosed.

Brown will join Green Bay when the team opens training camp at West de Pere, Wis., July 15.

The 6-1, 190-pounder was a football as well as baseball star at the University of Maryland and was sought by both the pro football clubs and major league baseball teams. He is 23.

MONDAY'S FIGHTS

LOS ANGELES—Masahiko Tenjinbal Harada, 130, Japan, submitted to Ray Asis, 120½, Manila, 10, Ismael Laguna, 130, Panama, knocked out Kid Americo, 122, Mexico City, 8.

Spartan Roster Has 37 Sophs on Grid Team

EAST LANSING (UPI) — A squad composed of nearly half sophomores would greet MSU Football Coach Duffy Daugherty in September, if the tentative roster released Monday holds true.

The squad list shows 37 sophs among the 78 candidates who will fight for berths on the 38-man traveling squad for the opening game at North Carolina.

Daugherty has indicated he will take advantage of rule changes for 1964 and try to overcome some Spartan weaknesses by two-platooning.

Employment Picture Clouded by Youths

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Finding a job is tougher this summer. That's so despite a gain in the number of jobs. A record number of nearly 72 million Americans is at work.

DAWSON

The job scramble is rough because there are more students looking for them. There are always a lot when school lets out. This year there are more.

* * *

But beyond that, there are more adults entering the labor force just now. This happens whenever times are good and the number of jobs expands. That pulls a lot of off-and-on workers into the labor force. Since they usually have skills from earlier periods of employment, they are likely to get the jobs at the expense of the newcomers without experience.

POPULATION GROWTH

The population growth by itself, and its specific manifestation of more students looking for summer work, would have pulled about 1.2 million more people into the labor force this summer than last. The Labor Department says that this time the force increased by 1.5 million over last year to a total of 79.4 million.

* * *

It reports that while employment went up by about 850,000 in June as outdoor jobs and recreational work opened up, unemployment advanced by 1.1 million.

The economy is running fast, but not fast enough in the job sector to hold even with the demand.

Some 800,000 of the unemployed are teen-agers, or 15 per cent of the youngsters looking for work.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADS

The Labor Department indicates that high school graduates had better luck this year in finding jobs than did college graduates.

Disturbing to the department was the rise in unemployment among adult men. The teen-age problem was expected. Washington had hoped that the older men were in for better days.

* * *

The rate of unemployment among all men over 20 rose to 4 per cent of the labor force, compared with 3.6 per cent in May. The rise among adult women was only to 5.1 per cent from 5 per cent.

When the rate of unemployment for all ages dropped in May to 5.1 per cent, many had hoped that the long struggle to bring this down by an increase in economic growth was at last bearing fruit. In June the rate was 5.3 per cent. The June rise in unemployment of 1.1 million brought the total to 4.7 million.

* * *

The long struggle to get the jobless rate down to around 4 per cent of the labor force still is a tough one. The number of jobs increase. But those who want to fill them increase even faster.

New Mental Health Chief

Favors Near-Home Care

LANSING (AP) — Programs under which mentally ill persons are cared for by facilities located close to their homes are favored by Michigan's new mental health director, Dr. Robert Kimmich.

Dr. Kimmich, who took over his post July 1, said Monday he is aware of a national trend away from the concept of large state hospitals where patients live, and toward locally oriented facilities where they can be treated as day patients or out-patients.

* * *

He also said he sees one of the State Mental Health Department's roles as that of coordinating the functions of various agencies providing services to mentally retarded and mentally ill.

One suggestion he put forth was for a "comprehensive" mental health center where persons could go for a variety of services near their homes.

'ONE REASON'

"This department exists for one reason—to help individuals who are having emotional difficulties. We have a major job to do in coordinating a variety of operating agencies and services, to make them of maximum benefit to patients who have a mental disorder or are about to develop one," Kimmich said.

The new director, will make a tour of some state mental institutions with Gov. George W. Romney later this month. But he said he does not yet know what the state needs in the way of new hospitals, if anything.

$ $ $ Successful Investing $ $ $

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "What is your opinion on Carson Pirie Scott & Company, the Chicago department store? The stock sells for around 10½ but doesn't move much. I've not a great deal to invest and need income but can't afford to take chances. I have been taking care of my invalid mother for 9 years and she comes first." J. L.

(A) Carson Pirie Scott seems to be a sound investment. Earnings in the fiscal year ended February 1964 rose to $1.05 a share from $0.64 a year earlier. Assuming a dividend rate of $0.37 annually, the current yield on the shares is only 3.5 per cent.

But with your need for income, you would be better off with fewer shares of Libby-Owens-Ford Glass, which yields 4.7 per cent, and has better marketability.

(Q) "I bought many E bonds a long time ago, some as early as June 1942. I know that the Government changed the maturity dates and interest accruals at least twice, but I'd appreciate a clear explanation, so I'll know where I stand. Should I convert my older bonds to a different series? If I do, must I pay accrued income tax on my accumulated interest?" F. M.

(A) E bonds bohght from June, 1942, to May, 1949, accrued interest at 2.9 per cent and matured in 10 years. The first extension period was 10 years at 3 per cent. It remained the same until June, 1959, when 0.5 per cent was added to bring the rate up to 3.50.

On May 1, 1961, the accrual rate was increased to 3¾ per cent — where it now stands — on extended maturities and new purchases.

If you need current income, you can exchange your Series E for Series H, and your tax liability on accruals may be deferred until the Series H bonds mature.

5 Are Killed in Virginia Plane Crash

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP)—A twin-engine airplane carrying three Du Pont employes and two crewmen crashed on takeoff here today, killing all aboard.

Four of the persons aboard were killed in the crash and a fifth died later at Martinsville General Hospital.

Authorities identified the victims as W. R. Lycan, 40; Jack Combs, 33, and Carl C. Larson, 35, all employes at the Martinsville Du Pont plant; John E. Pace Jr., 43, Martinsville, the pilot; and Virginia Paarfus, 40, of Stuart.

Mrs. Paarfus was the wife of Dr. Edward C. Paarfus of Stuart.

TRIED TO RISE

The Lockheed 12A plane attempted to take off at 6:20 a.m. today at the Martinsville airport at the eastern limits of this southside Virginia city.

The plane crashed into a wooded area a half-mile from the airport and burst into flames.

Authorities said the plane was bound for Wilmington, Del., headquarters of E. I. du Pont de Nemours.

Hair-Raising: That's His Job

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— Nathan Passen is getting used to hair-raising events since becoming a partner in a wig company here.

* * *

As he entered his shop recently he collided with a man who was running out with an artificial hairpiece in each hand. In the struggle the thief dropped one wig but escaped with the other.

* * *

A few hours later another man walked into the store and snatched a wig from a dummy's head but dropped it as an employe shouted at him.

Several days before a black hairpiece had been lifted from a mannequin and six weeks previous on the eve of the firm's opening, 16 wigs valued at $1,300 were stolen from the store.

Ostrich Takes Ride to Escape Pressure

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — An ostrich in South Africa's Addo National Park, a game preserve, was trapped. So he did what any self-respecting ostrich would do: he decided the best defense was a good offense and attacked.

* * *

The ostrich was trapped by a fence on his left, a row of bushes on his right and a closed gate behind him. In front of him a car was approaching.

He jumped onto the hood of the car and started pecking the windshield. When the motorist stopped the car, the ostrich slipped off, breaking the side mirror on the way. After thus damaging the car, the bird found a hole in the bushes and bounded off.

Odd Otter Causes Stir

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — When M. L. Steyn of Choma, Northern Rhodesia, led his pet named Stinker through the streets near here, he caused quite a stir. Stinker is an otter.

According to Mr. Steyn, Stinker was one of a litter of three pups sold to him for $1. Otters however, are very difficult to rear, and Stinker was the only survivor. Steyn claims Stinker is the only pet otter in the Southern Hemisphere and says that despite his name he is playful, inquisitive and clean.

Potent Drug Quiets Rhino

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—A drug said by officials to be "a thousand times more potent than morphine" was used in a game reserve near here to out a three-quarters grown white rhino bull.

Veterinary surgeons wanted to treat the rhino for an old wound.

When injections shot at it from a crossbow had no effect they administered by means of a dart gun two milligrams of the new tranquilizer, M99.

After five minutes the rhino began to "goose step" and then lay down quietly 11 minutes after the dart was shot at it.

After dressing the wound, veterinary surgeons gave it an antidote.

77 MINUTES LATER

The rhino got up 77 minutes after lying down.

During the night it recovered gradually and showed no ill effects the next morning.

Keys to Wait for Diploma?

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Here's a proposal which probably will meet the approval of parents, but vociferous opposition from the younger set: Withhold drivers licenses from teenagers until they are graduated from high school.

The idea was advanced by Birmingham insurance man Liston A. Corcoran as a panel member at a meeting of the Alabama School Board Association.

He blamed automobiles as a key reason for school dropouts.

Indonesia Official Says No Need for U.S. Aid

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Deputy Prime Minister Subandrio said today Indonesia should be able to develop its economy without U.S. aid.

Subandrio, who also is foreign minister, addressed a conference of Indonesian economists now being held here. "We should develop our economy with our own strength without United States aid," Subandrio said. "The United States needs Indonesia, not otherwise."

Soviet Law Enforcers Report Crime Rate Dip

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet law enforcers today reported a steep drop in the crime rate in the Soviet Union.

Pravda said the Plenum of the Supreme Court had disclosed that convictions in 1963 were down 16.4 per cent from 1962. The report gave no breakdown of crime statistics but said the crime rate in 1962 was the lowest in the Soviet Union in 30 years.

Wild Hares Shipped Out

NOVI SAD, Yugoslavia (AP)— The first shipments of Yugoslavian wild hares for France and Italy have left here on their way.

* * *

Each crate in the shipment contained three hares — one male and two female — with two ears of corn and one beet for meals while traveling.

* * *

The first consignment of the hares, which are abundant in Yugoslavia but scarce in western Europe, consisted of 1,200 animals for Italy. Altogether some 20,000 hares will participate in the long hop.

Smokes Profit Government

CHICAGO (AP)— Smoking, despite its physical hazards on humans, turns a sizeable profit for the Internal Revenue Service.

Revenue from tobacco taxes rose to a record $2.1 billion during 1963.

* * *

The 47 states which levy a tobacco tax collected an additional $1.1 billion during the year for a new record amount.

The federal government's collections from tobacco taxes were $400 million higher than in 1953.

* * *

New York collected $123.8 million last year and more than doubled its decade-ago tobacco tax figure of $61.6 million.

California didn't tax tobacco in 1953. It took $70.5 million from this source in 1963.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear son and brother, Allan M. Hessell who passed away 9 years ago today, July 7th, 1955.
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well;
And while he sleeps a peaceful sleep,
His memory we shall always keep.
So dearly loved and sadly missed by his mother, Marian Thomas; sisters Doris and Gail, brothers, Charles and Harvey.

IN MEMORY OF CHARLES A. Adams, who passed away July 7, 1962.
Your presence is ever near us,
Your love remains with us yet;
You were the kind of husband and father,
Your loved ones would never forget.
Sadly missed by wife Ermie and children

Soprano Leontyne Price to Tour Soviet Union

NEW YORK (AP) — Leontyne Price, Metropolitan opera soprano, is to appear with Milan's La Scala Opera company on a tour of the Soviet Union in September.

It was announced yesterday in New York City that she will sing in two performances of Verdi's "Requiem."

Tour NY World's Fair

NEW YORK (AP)— Secretary of State Dean Rusk and his wife made an unannounced visit to the New York World's Fair yesterday.

They toured the Indian Pavilion and then went to the Better Living Center for an art show, cocktail party and dinner.

Hurry Plant at Cuba Base

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civilian contractors are working night and day to complete assembly of a water desalting plant at the Guantanamo naval base in Cuba by Aug. 1, the Navy said today.

Conceivably, they could have the plant producing about 750,000 gallons of fresh water a day by July 28.

* * *

That could be symbolic of U.S. determination to hold the base, since July 26 is the date Fidel Castro reveres as the anniversary of the day he started his drive to unseat the Batista regime.

The Navy said 168 civilian workers are on 16 and 18-hour shifts assembling a saline water conversion plant shipped to Guantanamo from Point Loma, Calif., after Castro turned off the base's fresh water supply within his territory last February.

FISHERMEN HELD

Castro acted, he said, because the United States had seized some Cuban fishermen inside U.S. waters. Later, Castro offered to resume supplying fresh water to the base. He had been receiving $14,000 a month for the water before he cut it off.

The United States spurned the offer. Rear Adm. John D. Bulkeley, Guantanamo's commander, cut the pipeline leading from Cuba. The United States announced its intention to make the base self-sufficient.

* * *

In addition to moving the water desalting plant from California, the Navy arranged for construction of two additional units and a power generating plant at Guantanamo.

The Navy reported these two units, being built from the ground up, will be operating by December.

Estimate Half Million Dollars

Costs High for GOP Hopefuls

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It will be no surprise to the Goldwater and Scranton camps if between them they spend a half million dollars on the San Francisco battleground for the Republican presidential nomination.

The advance guards for both Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, front-running contender for GOP choice, and Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, his chief rival, are now setting up headquarters high in the Mark Hopkins Hotel atop San Francisco's Nob Hill.

Other campaign offices are springing up around town and at the Cow Palace, the site for next week's convention meetings, about six miles from downtown San Francisco as the crow flies.

Goldwater press aide Ed Nellor estimated today that the outlay for Goldwater operations in San Francisco could total perhaps $250,000 — "not any less than that."

SCRANTON EXPENSES

Scranton press man Howard Burnett figured expenses at around $200,000.

These are just ballpark estimates at this point. The actual bills can't be totaled up until after the convention ends next week.

* * *

The budding headquarters are a-bustle with political activities contrasting with the normal serenity of the hotel suites overlooking the Golden Gate Bridge.

Two of the Goldwater rooms have been converted into dormitories for staff members sleeping where they work. Each room—one for men, one for women—will now sleep eight.

SCRANTON SUITES

The Scranton suites display such businesslike identification signs as "Control and Operations"—meaning the master control center — "Press," "Research," and "Itinerary." Other rooms are earmarked for contacting delegates and arranging transportation.

Both headquarters abound in electronic - age gadgets ranging from multiline telephones to walkie - talkies and television gear.

* * *

The Goldwater quarters appear to be larger. Nellor indicated this would be due to the combining of sleep and work areas for the staff. He said there would be a staff of 40.

Burnett said about 60 would man the Scranton operation, plus 70 to 80 who are coming to San Francisco to contact delegates. Pro-Scranton volunteers will also have a headquarters on Market Street downtown, he said.

PRIVATE POLICEMEN

Both Goldwater and Scranton headquarters have hired private policemen to keep out unwanted visitors. Both are setting up separate rooms for news media many floors below.

As plans now stand, the Goldwater and Scranton press rooms are so close that a wrong turn could put a newsman in the middle of one news conference when he's trying to get to the other.

Woman's Son OK, but She's Too Light

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

A Kentucky reader says she has raised her 9-year-old son by the teachings of a health columnist . . . and the lady has never insisted the boy bundle up more than he wants to, winter or summer, and boy never has a cold. Well?

Furthermore, the boy has never had any kind of laxative or physic or "aid," as his mother did when she was a child, though she has not had a laxative in the past eight years and does not need anything of the sort at any time.

To her this is wonderful, as she was plied with so many laxatives when she was a child, by her well-meaning mother.

The lady eats green vegetables and meat and never takes less than four glasses of milk per day. She also eats some kind of cheese every day. She is 30 years old, 5 feet, 2 inches tall and weighs — hold onto the rail there, this wind is pretty strong — 96 pounds.

* * *

"I am small-boned and look as if I weighed more," says the little girl, "but wish I could gain as much as 10 pounds."

I sometimes wonder how to measure bones to determine whether they are small, medium or large.

"I try to eat rich foods, such as pie, cake," the reader continues, "but do not like them and cannot eat enough of them to matter. I feel tired most of the time, though I work hard anyway, and frequently get weak, shaky and short of breath . . ."

Come, come, now, this is no laughing matter. What this young woman needs first of all is a physical examination by her physician, plus such laboratory or special tests as the physician considers necessary, but certainly a test for sugar in the urine.

* * *

Such examination may or may not reveal the hidden cause of the tiredness, weakness, shakiness and shortness of breath. Anyway it would be folly for her to drift along without it.

RIGHT WEIGHT

A woman, aged 30, 5 feet and 2 inches tall, should weigh about 120 pounds.

Statistics compiled by Anna M. Baibrath, M.D., author of "Personal Hygiene and Physical Training for Women," indicate that the average or ideal measurements of the woman at her best in every way are as follows

Height	65 inches
Spread of arms	65 inches
Weight	138 pounds
Bust	34 inches
Waist	29 inches
Hips	40 inches

On written request, I'll send any reader the free pamphlet "How to Gain Weight" or one "How to Lose Weight."

A variation of 6 or 8 pounds one way or the other matters little.

* * *

What does matter, for health, functional efficiency, vite and longevity, as well as for personal appearance and good looks is muscle tone, the firmness of the muscles acquired and maintained by a reasonable amount of general exercise every day, such as two miles of oxygen on the hoof three times a day, or the equivalent in dancing, skating, mowing the lawn or doing all your own housework.

* * *

Muscle tone or lack of it affects not only skeletal or voluntary muscle but also involuntary muscle such as the heart, the muscle coat of the arteries and that of the stomach and intestine.

So I'm not just beating my gums when I say a suitable daily ration of oxygen is the best tonic one can take for the circulation or the digestion.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Bullish on 'Frisco Spots on Cow Palace Preview

By EARL WILSON

SAN FRANCISCO — I sneaked up here to preview the sin spots the Republican delegates will visit . . . and I don't want to offend Barry Goldwater, but the night clubs on San Francisco's Broadway are hoping the party'll turn out to be "liberal" . . . in fact, downright anticonservative with its money.

WILSON

Long ago somebody defined a Republican delegate as a man who arrived with one shirt and one $10 bill and never changed either.

Broadway's got some swingin' shows to change conservatives into liberals . . . one burlesque house advertises:

"The Nude Look. The Bottomless, Topless Bathing Suit. All in Flesh Color."

From that you get a hint of the artists' line of work.

I also visited "The Galaxie" where kids do "the swim dance," which is very big in the West but hasn't reached New York.

* * *

With their hands and arms, they do breast strokes, the crawl and other maneuvers, never touching each other, while shaking their feet and hips, as in the twist.

It adds up to sort of a windmill trembling in an earthquake. A couple of high schools banned "the swim" — but I didn't find it vulgar. I just don't want to have to dance it at my age.

* * *

San Francisco's Broadway has grown greatly since that last trip we made out to Cow Palace.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN NEW YORK

Broadway theaters are divided about naming veteran attorney John Wharton "czar" of stage shows to erase the "ice" image. Some say that even if he'd accept it, why bother, since Broadway's having its best year since '56? . . . Nancy Walker, hearing her father, vaudeville vet Dewey Barto, was critically ill in L.A., flew from the Virgin Islands to join him . . . Frank Sinatra invited Joe E. Lewis to Europe, and he accepted, for one week only. Joe E.'s for Goldwater; he thinks it's that new amber-colored scotch.

Benay Venuta's a grandmother: her daughter Mrs. Donald Hart had a daughter at Lying-in Hospital . . . Comic Jackie Vernon's wife had a daughter while he was performing in Chicago at Mr. Kelley's. He flew in to kiss his wife and the baby, and whipped right back.

EARL'S PEARLS: A local man has smoked five packs of cigarettes a day for ten years, but he claims it could be worse — he says it might have become habit-forming.

Dialogue from "The Carpetbaggers": Carroll Baker, sexily: "Who'd you like to be stranded with on a desert island?" . . . George Peppard: "With the world's greatest shipbuilder." . . . That's earl, brother.

Widows of Officers to Receive $8,000

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga. (AP) —More than $8,000 was to be presented today to the widows of three policemen slain April 17.

Bob McGarity, manager of a Lawrenceville radio station, said the money was collected in an appeal started the day after the officers were killed.

The policemen, Jesse Gravitt, Ralph Davis and Jerry Everett, were found handcuffed together and shot through their heads on the outskirts of Atlanta. The slayings have not been solved.

Underwater Test Proves Man Can Operate on Ocean's Floor

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "If a man can live and work 600 feet under the sea, he can conquer a frontier as big as the African continent and rich in oil, minerals and food."

This statement was made by Edwin A. Link, 60, a pioneer of underwater exploration, three weeks ago—shortly before he left for the Bahama Islands in his research vessel, Sea Diver.

* * *

Now, Link is back with proof that man can operate with efficiency at that depth.

For two days and nights, under Link's watchful eye, Jon Lindbergh and Robert Stenuit worked, ate and slept on the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean 430 feet below the surface.

Lindbergh, 31, son of aviation's famous pioneer, Charles A. Lindbergh, said "we felt fine all the time."

Link immediately began preparations for a November expedition that will send divers to the 600-foot level, probably in the same area near Great Stirrup Cay in the Bahamas.

* * *

"We could have stayed down indefinitely," a smiling Lindbergh said Monday after he and Stenuit, 30, Belgian author and underwater explorer, emerged from a decompression chamber.

"There was never a moment of fear, only some concern about the equipment — but everything worked perfectly. We remained mentally alert and physically capable at all times."

Lindbergh and Stenuit were conditioned to the 430 foot depth in a compression chamber on the deck of the Sea Diver.

* * *

They were lowered quickly to the bottom in a pressurized elevator, to a depth where pressure of 194 pounds per square inch collapsed but did not burst cans containing food and water.

* * *

They wore suits made of foam rubber, sandwiched between double layers of latex and inflated with compressed air.

At the bottom, they lived in an inflatable rubber chamber, nine by four feet in diameter, and equipped with bunks, communication instruments, food and its own air supply of 97 per cent helium and 3 per cent oxygen.

While Link watched on closed circuit television, they swam outside frequently. Three hours a day was spent exploring the sand and coral bottom and taking pictures.

Romney Move Is Blow to Scranton

6-Month Car Sales Shatter '55 Record

New car sales continued upward for the first six months of the year to shatter the old mark set in 1955.

The record auto industry output of 4,013,836, compiled by Ward's Automotive Reports, put the half-year total above the same period last year by 328,536 units and over 1955's six-month record of 3,851,900.

General Motors earned a 51.9 per cent share of the June car market, led by Chevrolet's half-year all-time high of 1,445,350 new cars and trucks and 218,720 car and truck monthly sales.

Pontiac Motor Division was GM's second leader, also with a record, of 388,228 sales. This is 22 per cent ahead of last year. June deliveries of 67,100 were well ahead of last year's 55,294.

GMC Truck & Coach Division sales for the first half of 1964 reached a 13-year high, with deliveries of 54,404 units, and 18.7 per cent gain over 1963.

★ ★ ★

The division also concluded its best second quarter sales in history with 20,855 trucks and buses sold domestically.

OLDSMOBILE RECORD

Oldsmobile recorded first half of the year sales of 282,834, while Buick made 260,891 new car deliveries.

Ford Motor Co. penetration of the June market was 27.7 per cent. Ford Division had sales of 155,452 cars while Lincoln - Mercury sales were 31,637, both ahead of a year ago.

Chrysler Corp. dealers garnered 15.5 per cent of the month's market. Chrysler-Plymouth Division recorded 59,546 June deliveries.

★ ★ ★

American Motors and Studebaker took a combined 4.9 per cent of the month's sales.

SECOND QUARTER

Second quarter of 1964 sales are also a record breaker with the industry reaching the 2,170,092 level, topping 1955's April - June figures of 2,081,400.

Charge Skier in Lake Death

Fisherman Drowns After Fall From Boat

A Wyandotte youth today was charged with the reckless operation of water skis following the drowning of a Detroit fisherman in Upper Straits Lake yesterday.

In ordering the warrant, Assistant Prosecutor Robert Templin said statements from witnesses showed that the wake created by skier Robert B. Deters Jr., 18, of 1484 23rd Street caused the fisherman to fall from his boat.

★ ★ ★

The drowning victim, William H. Hickmott, 68, of 5208 Trumbull, was standing in his boat, reaching for fishing gear, when it began to rock and he lost his balance and tumbled overboard, according to his wife, Helen.

His body was recovered by skin diver Lyle Wilcox of the Oakland County sheriff's office at 4:15 p.m., 65 minutes after the drowning was reported.

Templin said Deters was responsible for controling his actions on water skis.

★ ★ ★

The offense is a misdemeanor and carries a maximum sentence of 90 days, Templin said.

★ ★ ★

The operator of the boat towing Deters is a 16-year-old and under the jurisdiction of juvenile authorities. He was to be questioned by them today.

Omit Mention of Rights Fight in Speech Text

Position Weakens Governor's Weapon to Derail Goldwater

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Michigan's Gov. Romney failed to line up today with Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton for a stop-Goldwater GOP platform declaration that the new civil rights law is constitutional.

In an advance text of his remarks furnished the convention platform committee for an Wednesday appearance tomorrow, Romney did not mention the constitutional declaration Scranton's forces obviously had chosen as a vehicle for a convention floor fight they believe might torpedo Sen. Barry Goldwater's apparent grip on the Republican presidential nomination.

Scranton's backers also were reported in line for another setback in a ruling by Rep. Katherine St. George, R-N.Y., the convention parliamentarian, that rules of the House of Representatives will govern convention actions.

The platform committee adopted similar rules last night.

★ ★ ★

The parliamentarian's ruling would mean that Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., chairman of the platform committee, would control the time and designate the speakers on both sides for convention debate on any proposed amendments to his committee's platform recommendations.

ROMNEY IN CALIFORNIA — Michigan's governor is shown after his arrival in San Francisco last night for the Republican Convention. When questioned by reporters he said he would take no position on candidates until the party platform has been completed.

On Rights, Labor Views

Meany to Urge Barry Rebuff

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Meany, AFL-CIO president, reportedly will urge Republican platform makers tomorrow to pledge strict civil rights enforcement and to repudiate Sen. Barry Goldwater's right-to-work views.

Meany, who is leaving today to appear before the GOP platform committee in San Francisco, will ask that the party campaign on the promise to put enforcement of the new rights law in the hands of "people who mean business," sources said.

Shaping the civil rights plank will be one of the committee's touchiest chores.

Although most congressional Republicans voted for the civil rights bill, Goldwater, who has the party's presidential nomination almost in his grasp, voted against it.

★ ★ ★

He argued that he believed some of its provisions were unconstitutional. But the Arizona senator has said he would enforce the law if elected president.

REPEAL OF SECTION

On another issue, Meany will ask the committee to pledge repeal of a section of federal labor law which permits the states to enact right-to-work laws, the sources said.

These laws, on the books in 20 states including Arizona, outlaw union shop contracts between labor and management.

Under the union shop, a worker must join the union after he is hired.

★ ★ ★

In the right-to-work states, he does not have to join even though the union bargains for him along with its members.

OPPOSED BY AFL-CIO

Goldwater has introduced legislation, sharply opposed by the AFL-CIO, to ban the closed shop except in states which permit it under their own laws.

This would reverse the effect of present federal law and put the burden on unions to campaign for the closed shop in all 50 states.

Under the closed shop, all persons employed must be union members.

★ ★ ★

In the event replacements are needed or new jobs open up, workers are obtained through the union.

Meany is expected to detail his views on international relations and the problem of high U.S. unemployment before the committee.

★ ★ ★

And he is expected to oppose the Democratic administration's policies of limited trade with Communist bloc satellites to exploit differences in the bloc.

Meany has argued that the United States should demand concessions, such as removal of the Berlin Wall, for any economic help to Communist nations.

Soviet Shift in U.N. Policy? U.S. Studies Red Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials studied evidence today that the Soviet Union may be shifting its policy toward the United Nations.

Deep interest has been aroused here by Tokyo reports that the Soviet government is proposing the creation of a permanent U.N. military force.

The reported proposal, said to have been made in a note to the Japanese Foreign Office, could be the beginning of a significant change of attitude in Moscow toward the world organization, officials here said, but the evidence is far from conclusive.

In the U.S. view, the Soviet attitude toward U.N. peacekeeping operations has generally been uncooperative.

The Soviet government usually has objected to the employment of U.N. forces under orders from the General Assembly.

ASSEMBLY ACTION

The practice of action through the General Assembly was developed by the Western powers more than a decade ago to get around the Soviet Union's use of its veto in the Security Council to paralyze action there.

One of the developing U.N. crises centers around the Soviet Union's delinquency in paying U.N. assessments for peace - keeping activities.

The Soviet Union faces a battle in the General Assembly session next fall over the loss of its vote there.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet memorandum to the Japanese government said the Soviet Union would be willing to "shoulder its due share of expenses" for an international peace force if it was under the sole control of the Security Council — where the Soviet Union has veto power.

Avalanche Buries 14 on French Peak

CHAMONIX, France (AP) — A snow avalanche rumbled down Aiguille Verte Peak in the Mont Blanc range today, reportedly carrying 14 persons to their deaths.

★ ★ ★

Charles Bozon, world slalom ski champion in 1962, was reported among the victims.

Four professors from the National School for High Mountains, which trains mountain guides and ski instructors, and nine student guides were believed to have been in the party.

Bozon was said to have joined the group as a volunteer. Often called France's greatest skier, Bozon won the special slalom event at the World Ski Games here on Feb. 13, 1962.

★ ★ ★

The group was going up the 12,000-foot Aiguille Verte Peak when caught by the avalanche.

IDEAL CONDITIONS

An hour before the party started out, a professor from the school flew over the area in a helicopter and reported that weather was clear and conditions ideal for the excursion.

★ ★ ★

Reports received in Chamonix said that the body of Bozon had been recovered.

Won't Dictate to GOP - Ike

Tells Magazine Editor He's No Kingmaker

NEW YORK (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower is quoted by Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review, as saying "The last thing in the world I wanted to do in my retirement was to try to run a political organization or give orders or pull strings."

The July 11 issue of the magazine carries an account of an interview that Cousins had with the former president at his Gettysburg, Pa., home June 26.

Cousins wrote that Republican presidential aspirants and their supporters have beset Eisenhower in attempts "to capture the favor of a man who has no desire to direct or become enmeshed in partisan political warfare."

Eisenhower is quoted as saying:

"Trying to dictate who the man should be who would offer himself to the voters for the most important job in this country is completely out of keeping with what I want to do—or, indeed, what I believe anyone has the right to do."

★ ★ ★

Cousins reported: "He said he was not a kingmaker. He didn't believe the party was a one-man affair. One-man rule of anything was obnoxious to him."

M59 Section to Open Aug. 1

Waterford Widening Began Last January

Barring unforeseen problems, M59 in Waterford Township will open to traffic Aug. 1, according to William Atchison, State Highway Department project engineer.

★ ★ ★

The 3.4-mile road widening project from two to five lanes began last January between Elizabeth Lake and Airport roads.

Atchison said paving should be completed by July 15. Curb and gutter work will follow.

During the course of the widening project, M59 has been closed to through traffic. Local traffic has been allowed where possible.

★ ★ ★

The middle three lanes of the widenened road will be blacktop. Both outer lanes are concrete.

FIVE-LANE BRIDGE

A principal part of the construction project is the five-lane bridge over the Clinton River which replaced the former two-lane bridge.

★ ★ ★

Drysdale vs. Chance in All-Star Game

NEW YORK (UPI) — Don Drysdale started for the National League today against Dean Chance, a 23-year-old American Leaguer with the face of a choirboy and the temperament of a pirate, in the 35th annual All-Star Game.

A crowd of 50,000 at Shea Stadium, a Taj Mahal located across the street from the World's Fair, turned out early to see the National League attempt to draw even in the series which began with an American League victory back in 1933 and has produced some of baseball's greatest moments.

After years of disappointments — the Americans once led in the series, 12 games to four — the Nationals were 13-10 favorites to win this renewal and bring about a 17-17-1 tie in the history of the classic.

If anything, the selection of Chance might lengthen the odds in favor of the National League by the time the teams take the field at 1 p.m. (noon, Pontiac time).

★ ★ ★

Manager Walt Alston of the Nationals did the expected when he chose Drysdale, a 6-foot, 6-inch, 230-pound right-hander with a wicked fast ball and temper to match, to start for the Nationals, but manager Al Lopez of the Americans sprang a surprise when he nominated Chance over thoroughly rested two-time 20-game winner Camilo Pascual.

Gift for OU Theater

Announcement is made today of a gift of $20,000 to Oakland University covering the cost of the theater in the intramural building. The money comes from Mr. and Mrs. Graham John Graham of Bloomfield Hills.

"The University is most happy to have this necessary project so handsomely financed," said Chancellor D. B. Varner. "It's an indispensable part of undergraduate life in any American university, and we're fortunate to have this utility free and clear so early in our life."

Support for Board Voiced on Waterford Tower Issue

Waterford Township Board members last night received their first public vote of confidence on the Lake Oakland Heights water tower issue after months of constant criticism from subdivision residents.

* * *

William Shunck, former superintendent of Waterford Township Schools, commended the board's courage to stand on its decision in the face of pressure.

Shunck, presently superintendent of Wayne County Schools and a member of the township's planning commission, offered his comments after Lake Oakland Heights see a machinist Lake Oakland residents again attacked the board's stand on the tower.

"One of the greatest sins of governing boards is the sin of omission," Shunck said.

* * *

"It takes strength and guts to do what you think is right."

MORE CRITICISM

Earlier in the meeting, criticism of the tower location was renewed by Chairmer E. Calme, who lives at 3300 Main, directly across from the job site.

Calme noted that the board chose the Lake Oakland site because it was the least expensive of several studied.

Then he said that the constant noise and vibration of the pile driver at the site beginning at 6:10 a.m. each day was taxing his wife's nerves.

* * *

"What price does the board put on a woman's sanity" he asked.

LOST CAREERS

Maynard Peters, who is spearheading the campaign against the tower, said the water tower might cost some careers.

He referred to recall petitions now being circulated against Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin and Trustee John S. Coleman.

"I will work day and night for this cause," he added.

* * *

Mrs. William Crommett, 6021 Williams Lake Road, joined Shunck in siding with the board.

BOARD THANKED

"A 6-million gallon tank to be placed near where I live," she said. "We thank you (the board) for progress?"

In other business last night, the board approved extension of sewer service for a doughnut shop at Telegraph and Boston.

* * *

The resolution will be referred to the Pontiac City Commission for action at tonight's commission meeting.

* * *

Also last night, the board voted to pass along increased sewer service rates in the Huron Gardens area effective Aug. 1 when the City of Pontiac rate hike becomes effective.

OTHER ACTION

In other action the board approved a preliminary plat for a 60-lot residential development extending from Walton to Lake Oakland.

* * *

The board also ruled that in future proposed rezoning, notice of the zoning hearing be mailed to all persons with a 500-foot radius of the property in question.

'Saved U.S. $2.5 Billion'

McNamara Points Up Defense Economies

WASHINGTON (AP) —Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara reported today that his cost reduction program saved $2.5 billion last year. He won an approving note from President Johnson.

* * *

The saving is a billion dollars more than McNamara forecast a year ago would be saved in the 1964 fiscal year by "buying only what we need" and "buying at the lowest sound price."

* * *

Prospects for further cost cutting are so good, McNamara said, that he is boosting his long-range goal by $600 million a year, predicting annual savings of $4.6 billion by 1968 and every year after that.

ASSURED LBJ

"I want to assure you that these savings are being achieved without any adverse effect on our military strength and combat readiness," McNamara told the President in a memorandum.

* * *

Attached to copies distributed to newsmen was a note signed by Johnson. It said McNamara's report "gives me confidence that my pledge to get a dollar's worth of value from every dollar spent can be fulfilled."

McNamara's cost reduction drive began under the late President John F. Kennedy. It was embraced by Johnson soon after he entered the White House last fall.

* * *

In 1962 and 1963 McNamara issued similar cost reduction reports at about this same time. This year, the report comes as the Republicans are preparing to open their presidential nominating convention in San Francisco next Monday.

SEEMS LIKELY

It seems likely the McNamara report will find its way into the election campaign if the Republicans make an issue of defense spending, expected to total about $50 billion this bookkeeping year.

* * *

One major source of cost savings is the closing or reduction of bases deemed unnecessary.

McNamara reported that 126 new actions of this kind in the past fiscal year increased annual operating savings by $252 million, to $568 million as of June 30.

* * *

A total of 28,290 more jobs were eliminated, he said.

School Board Approves Budget, Elects Officers

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The board of education last night elected new officers, adopted a 1964-65 operating budget and set up two study committees.

One of the Board groups will meet with architects on the district's building program. The other will review teachers' salaries before formulating a millage question for fall balloting.

Richard H. McGraw, former board secretary, succeeds Dr. Charles L. Bowers as president. Dr. Bowers, who headed the board for two years, was elected vice president.

Max Miller was reelected treasurer and Mrs. Jean B. Martz named to replace McGraw as secretary.

* * *

A $3,049,706 operating budget was adopted following a public hearing.

Included in the $354,597 increase over last year's figure is $363,038 extra for instructional purposes.

OTHER INCREASES

Other increases are in transportation, up $38,316; administration, $31,750; operations, $18,350; and maintenance, $3,900.

Members of the PTO Council and representatives of the teachers will be asked to join board members in working on a salary schedule to be offered to voters. Trustees expressed the hope that a millage issue proposal could be drafted by this fall.

Miller will serve as chairman of the committee. Other members are Mrs. Aimylee Chamberlain and Donald Hyde.

* * *

David W. Lee was named chairman of the architectural committee, working with Bowers and Mrs. Martz.

EXPRESS INTEREST

Some 20 architectural firms have expressed an interest in the first phase of the $7-million building program approved by property owners June 8.

The board committee will interview various applicants.

Raises averaging between four and five per cent were approved for Birmingham Board of Education employes last night.

The salary increases for teachers, administrators, custodians and office workers were included in a 5.6-mill operational levy approved at the polls June 8.

The issue allotted some $900,000 for pay increases during the next five years. Those assigned by the board of education last night are expected to consume about $225,000.

Under the newly approved salary schedule, beginning teachers with bachelors degrees will earn $5,250 annually, compared to $5,100 on the old schedule.

Maximum pay in this category, given with 12 years of experience, was jumped from $8,200 to $8,600.

OTHER INCREASES

Holders of masters degrees will begin at $5,550 rather than $5,400 and their maximum after 12 years will be $9,000 compared to $8,200.

The third level, for those with 30 semester hours of college credit beyond a masters degree, was increased $250 for beginners to give them $6,050. Maximum salary in this category went up from $8,650 to $10,050.

Proportionate raises were granted the 15 classifications of administrator whose salaries are figured on a ration with those of the teachers.

* * *

Secretarial and clerical employes received an average increase of $180 while custodians will get about eight cents an hour more.

The system's staff of about 1,200 includes some 700 professional employes.

Three board officers were reelected to their posts at the reorganizational meeting last night.

They are E. Ross Hanson, president; George W. Coombe Jr., vice president; and Pell Hollingshead, treasurer. Mrs. Louise Adams replaces Mrs. Mary Beier as secretary.

The board also changed its meeting night from the fourth to the third Tuesday of each month. Sessions are held at 8 p.m.

FBI 'Says' Rights Man Held in Jail

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP)— A civil rights organization said today the FBI had determined that one of its workers was in jail at Walthall, seat of Webster County in north Mississippi.

* * *

Earlier, a spokesman for the student non - violent coordinating committee had expressed concern because his group had not been able to determine the whereabouts of James Brown, a 22-year-old Negro, after he was turned over to a Webster County deputy sheriff by the Leflore County sheriff's office in Greenwood.

Mrs. Billy Joe Bower, wife of the Webster County sheriff, said her husband was "out on a call" and she did not know whether Brown was a prisoner in the county jail.

The Leflore County sheriff's office said Brown, from Itta Bena, was arrested last night by Itta Bena city police on a warrant from Webster County charging him with a traffic violation last month.

* * *

The sheriff's office said Brown was then released to a Webster deputy about 10 p.m. for trasportation to Walthall, the seat of justice for Webster County.

START SEARCH

Michael Sayer, a spokesman for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, said his organization had tried unsuccessfully to determine Brown's whereabouts.

* * *

Telephone calls to Webster County Sheriff Billy Joe Bowen at his home and offices at Eupora and Walthall went unanswered.

Hearings Open on Death Cost

Mortician Testifies on Funeral Abuses

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee opened hearings today into the "high cost of dying" and heard witnesses from the funeral industry tell of abuses in prices and selling, and unveil a proposal for correcting them.

* * *

Wilbur M. Krieger, managing director of the National Selected Morticians, Evanston, Ill., told the Senate subcommittee that his trade association had suggested 27 rules to the Federal Trade Commission "for the elimination of abuses in the funeral field."

* * *

He said some of the criticisms and charges against the funeral industry—which he noted had triggered such headlines as "Death Cost Too High" and "The Undertakers' Racket"—are justified.

"But," he added in his statement, "there are many criticisms which are based only on isolated instances of abuse and misrepresentations of fact."

REPUTATION HURT

He said it is a fringe minority which preys on the elderly and the bereaved" and damages the reputations of other funeral directors.

The rules that the trade association has proposed, he said, would strike at such sales pitches as these:

* * *

"Stating that the law requires a deceased to be embalmed when such is not the fact.

"Stating that the law requires the use of a burial vault when such is not the fact."

He said the rules would also cover such practices as:

* * *

Paying secret kickbacks to hospital and coroner employes for steering "a prospective customer" to a mortician.

ESCALATOR PRICES

Saying that a complete funeral costs $750, for instance, when there are additional charges or services not included.

"Price-fixing agreements, or other combinations or conspiracies which restrict competition."

* * *

The hearings by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, under Chairman Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., are aimed at uncovering any possible restraint of trade and antitrust aspects in the burial industry.

Urges U.S. Suit in Baker Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., today urged the attorney general to bring suit in an effort to force Bobby Baker to turn over to the government the money he made while on the Senate pay roll.

"Bobby Baker can be compelled in a civil action to pay over to the United States every penny he has made through the use of his influence and the prestige of his office," Case said in a statement.

* * *

Case also renewed his attack on what he termed the "inadequate and timid" investigation of Baker's affairs by the Senate Rules Committee.

"The entire effort thus far has the ring of an investigation handcuffed before it started, kept that way no matter what, and now, hopefully, destined for the category of 'file and forget'," he said.

DISAPPOINTMENT

Disappointment with the investigation also was expressed by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., author of the resolution adopted by the Senate last October directing the Rules Committee to probe Baker's outside business dealings.

"The majority membership of the Rules Committee have backed down when confronted with a possibly embarrassing disclosure, and by their failure to pursue this investigation they are vulnerable to the charge of attempted whitewash," Williams told the Senate Monday.

* * *

Williams charged that Baker, before he resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority, apparently charged an estimated $3,000 in personal telephone calls to the government."

He protested the committee had dropped the matter after Baker, when called as a witness, invoked his Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination and refused to answer questions about his telephone calls.

TO FILE RECORDS

The committee's Democratic majority and the Republican minority are to file reports Wednesday on how Baker accumulated a claimed fortune of more than $2 million while on the Senate pay roll at $19,600 a year.

Case said the committee apparently feels "there is no way to call Baker to account unless violation of specific criminal statutes can be proved."

* * *

"There is another way," he said and then went on to contend that the attorney general could bring a civil suit to compel Baker to disgorge any profits he made from use of his official position or prestige.

"The time has come in the field of public affairs to put an end to all short cuts to big loot, to easy money, to the 'fast buck'," Case said.

Scranton Hurt by Romney Rights Move

win the nomination unless they slip away, voted against the legislation in the Senate on the grounds that the public accommodations and equal employment sections were unconstitutional.

In Washington, Goldwater's campaign manager, Denison Kitchell, said there will be a fight if efforts are made to put the constitutionality issue in the platform.

"I'd welcome that kind of fight," he said.

Laird is understood to have argued with Romney against proposing action on the constitutionality question.

The governor's omission of any mention of it in his prepared statement was taken as an indication that he had abandoned the project.

He could revive it, however, by departing from his text or bringing it up in response to questions.

* * *

The issue assumed added proportions because Scranton and Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., one of his principal advisers, made it clear they expect to carry it to the convention floor to add to the emotional atmosphere there.

Pennsylvania State Chairman Craig Truax, another Scranton strategist, told reporters he expects an emotional convention.

He said he anticipates that National Young Republicans will be on hand to attempt to pack the galleries to root for Goldwater.

He said there will be "some emotion on the other side, too."

Kent Courtney of New Orleans, head of an extremely conservative group backing Goldwater, said demonstrators would be on hand to greet Scranton when he appears before the platform committee Thursday.

Collects, Photographs Reptiles

Pontiac Camera Bug Befriends Snakes

Snakes have had a bad name, sometimes justified, sometimes not, ever since the Garden of Eden. Their enemies are many, their friends few.

* * *

One of their staunchest friends is Tom Helfrich, owner of Expert's Camera Shop at 57 W. Huron.

Helfrich's hobby is collecting and photographing snakes and amphibians — turtles, frogs, toads, etc. He is preparing color slides of all Michigan species.

The amateur serpentologist has more than 100 preserved species of snakes in his home at 1109 Lakeview. The live ones he donates to a serpentarium near Clarkston.

Helfrich has been interested in snakes since the age of 12. His snake-hunting areas have included the Western deserts, the Florida Everglades; Georgia's awesome Okefenokee Swamp and nearly every bog and swale in Oakland County.

SEARCHED STATE

He has also covered most of Michigan in his search for native species.

He has captured many specimens of massasauga rattlers, Michigan's only poisonous snake, in Oakland County.

In all his experience with live snakes, he has been bitten only once—by a massasauga.

He said he was blinded and nauseated by the venom for about three hours but suffered no lasting effects.

USES DEVICES

Helfrich uses a snake hook, a heavy wire on a long handle, to capture poisonous varieties, but catches the harmless specimens with his hands.

He never wears gloves, Helfrich says, because the sense of touch is important in handling snakes.

Helfrich is 30 years old, married, and has two sons, aged 5 and 3. The eldest boy is already accustomed to handling small, harmless snakes, Helfrich says.

* * *

SCHEDULED LECTURES

He lectured on a regular schedule for five years at the serpentarium, which contains hundreds of species from all over the world.

Why such an unusual hobby?

"I've always been for the underdog," Helfrich says. "And the snake is certainly the underdog in the animal world."

Pair Drowns While Fishing

A Farmington Township couple drowned yesterday after a boating accident on Hope Lake, about three miles north of Brighton.

Leo S. Serbynski, 50, and his wife Bernice, 55, fell from their boat while fishing in the small lake beside old M23, according to state police at the Brighton post.

The Serbynskis were alone on the lake at the time of the mishap. A passing motorist noticed their flailing arms and called police shortly after 6 p.m.

The bodies were recovered in 15 feet of water, about 200 yards from the east shore of the lake. Dr. Luke Cheng, Livingston County medical examiner, listed drowning as the cause of death.

Mr. and Mrs. Serbynski lived at 29318 Orchard Lake. He was a Chrysler Corp. employe, police said.

Only 2.8 per cent of Army personnel inducted through the draft procedure have reenlisted this year, according to Senator Kenneth B. Keating of New York.

Unknown Factor in Politics

New Negro Party May Pull Dem Votes

DETROIT (AP) — A newly-created Freedom Now Party—dedicated to electing Negroes to public office—has become an unknown factor in Michigan's political balance of power this year.

* * *

The third party qualified officially for the ballot when it filed some 22,000 signatures requesting certification last May.

Since then, Freedom Now leaders have announced plans to put up at least 25 candidates for Congress, the state legislature and other offices.

The organization has caused some concern to Democratic Party officials, who realize that any major shift of the traditionally Democratic Negro vote could be disastrous in tight elections. In the past, some Negro precincts have given Democratic candidates as much as 80 per cent of their vote.

NEW CHAIRMAN

Chairman of the new party is the Rev. Albert Cleage Jr., pastor of Detroit's Central Congregational Church, who claims the Freedom Now candidates will capture at least 100,000 votes this fall.

Democratic state chairman Zolton Ferency scoffs at the estimate, but he admits there is some concern about just how many votes will be siphoned off by the new party.

* * *

Democrats recall with a shudder that former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who held office for six consecutive two-year terms, squeaked in one year with a margin of only 8,618 votes and on another occasion won reelection by a 1,154-vote edge.

Although Cleague hopes the Freedom Now slate will draw enough votes to encourage Negroes to put up their own candidates in other states, formation of the all-Negro party has stirred up mixed emotions among leaders of the colored community.

SOME PRAISE

Some have praised the movement's avowed goal of "independent, black political action." Others have denounced it as a Negro parallel to the segregationist philosophy of the White Citizens Councils of the South.

Herman McGee, chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality chapter in Battle Creek, said he doesn't believe the Freedom Now Party has the backing of the majority of Negroes.

An all-Negro party, McGee said, "only adds fuel to the already heated atmosphere that exists between white and colored."

* * *

Cleague, however, insists that his party is the only answer to what he feels is the denial to Negroes by both major political parties of the recognition and representation they deserve.

$3,442 Taken From 2 Banks

2 Gunmen Involved In Detroit Area Holdups

DETROIT (UPI) — Two separate bank robberies within 15 minutes of each other netted gunmen $3,442 yesterday afternoon.

An FBI spokesman said a slightly built gunman wearing light blue trousers and a light sport shirt walked into the Guaranty Savings and Loan office at 136 N. Telegraph in Dearborn about 2:20 p.m. Monday and pulled a nickel-plated, snub-nosed revolver on a teller.

The man, described as between 35 and 45 years old, with grey hair and tattoos on both arms, then escaped with $1,825 and a hostage, Lloyd Williams, 220 S. Silvery, Dearborn, a customer in the bank.

Williams drove his own car and let the bandit out at Telegraph and Fenkell. The bandit was believed to have escaped on foot into the Eliza Howell Park area.

* * *

At 2:35 p.m., a man brandishing a brown revolver held up the National Bank of Detroit No. 2 branch at West Seven Mile and Winthrop and fled with $1,617.

'ACT NATURAL'

The FBI spokesman said he handed a teller a hand-written note which read: "Don't turn your head, act natural. Fill bag with $50's, $20's, $10's and $5's. Hurry up, no noise, no alarm til 10 minutes after I leave or I'll get you first."

The man escaped south on foot through an alley off Seven Mile.

He was described as between 38 and 40, 6 feet, 170 pounds and neatly dressed.

Both gunmen were white, the FBI said.

PACIFIST SENTENCED — A 5-year prison term was ordered for Russell Goddard, 20, of St. Louis, Mo., yesterday for refusing to serve in the armed forces. After U.S. District Judge Roy W. Harper pronounced sentence, two of the youth's companions caused a disturbance in the courtroom and were sentenced to six months in jail for contempt of court.

Car Production in High Gear

Aim for Model Run of 7.8 Million Autos

DETROIT (AP)—Auto assembly lines moved in high gear today after a Fourth of July recess as auto makers headed towards a goal of 7.8 million cars by the time the 1964 model run ends this month.

* * *

Car output last week hit 158,861 units, an all time high for the Independence Day week. Last week's output compared with 179,030 the preceding week and 126,687 in the year ago week. The former record for the week was set in 1955 when 134,401 cars were built.

* * *

Output for the model year has already passed the former mark —7,340,014—set last year and with nearly four weeks more of production to go, auto makers are confident they will hit about 7,893,000 cars for the run. They passed the 1963 mark last week.

* * *

General Motors apparently will wind up with about 53.6 per cent of the 1964 model production, almost the same total it had last year. Ford's share will run about 26.3 per cent, again almost identical with last year. Chrysler at 14.4 per cent is up from 12.8 per cent a year ago and American Motors apparently will wind up with 5.2 per cent, down from the 6.3 per cent of a year ago.

* * *

Truck makers also rolled towards a possible record year as 887,536 have been built, compared with 767,568 in a like span a year ago.

Drill Team Wins Honors

The Rae-Vens, well-known girls' drill team from Pontiac, captured their third first place award in as many weeks last night at the Detroit suburb of Riverview's Carousel of Colors.

The 48-member marching unit recently won VFW and Amvets state championships. In August, the unit will take part in national competitions sponsored by the veterans organization.

Youth, 14, Drowns

CONCORD (AP)—Terry Findlay, 14, of Homer drowned Monday while swimming in Swains Lake near here. The youth apparently stepped off a dropoff into 15 feet of water.

Mystery Blasts Rock Firm in Pennsylvania; 5 Vanish

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — Teams of workers combed a blast-scorched American Cyanamid Co. tract near this Western Pennsylvania city today, seeking some trace of five men missing in a series of fires and explosions.

A spokesman said the company would continue to list the men, all American Cyanamid employes, as missing until some trace could be found.

The scorched area of the blast, which occurred yesterday, is about 1200 by 400 feet. About 30 men took part in the search.

They also were collecting small fragments to try to trace the path of the blasts and their cause.

A company spokesman said the investigation so far is being handled by American Cyanmid employes, but that state investigators were expected later today.

MISSING LIST

The five men listed by the American Cyanamid Co. as missing are Eugene Rudesill, 45; Gerald Wingard, 30; Donald Schenker, 33; Wilbur Robinson, 49; and Clarence Claypool, 63; all of New Castle.

Four explosions — all within an hour — ripped through American Cyanamid's 535-acre tract, located five miles west of New Castle and 80 miles northwest of Pittsburgh.

The cause had not been determined. There was no immediate estimate of damage.

* * *

At least 11 persons — two of them housewives—were injured. A police officer suffered a fatal heart attack while directing traffic.

James Miles, assistant plant manager, said the first blast occurred about 10:30 a.m. in the nitroglycerin house.

AREA ALERTED

The blasts knocked out windows, disrupted telephone service and started several fires. Residents were urged to stay off the streets in New Castle. Edinburg, a community of 450 three miles from the plant, was evacuated for five hours.

All roads leading into the plant were closed off. Only ambulance crews and fire fighters were permitted in the area.

More than 100 workers were reported in the operating area at the time of the blast. The plant employs about 250.

1-Hour Talks by GM, UAW

Union Presents Seven Additional Demands

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for the United Auto Workers and General Motors met for less than one hour today as the union presented further demands, including an objection to foremen stepping in on minor work duties.

* * *

The demands were served in the form of seven more so-called position papers outlining in detail the UAW's proposals for a new contract. The union now has presented 21 of 38 such papers.

Talks were in full swing today with all of the Big Three auto makers after a holiday recess. Chrysler resumed Monday, GM and Ford today. American Motors opens its contract discussions Wednesday.

EXPRESSED SURPRISE

Louis Seaton, GM's chief negotiator, expressed surprise at the shortness of today's session, but a UAW spokesman said the union schedule called for presentation of only seven papers today.

In its paper on foremen, the UAW declared:

"It is quite obvious some local managements still are firmly wedded to the idea that there is nothing wrong with a foreman doing a little work just to keep his hand in.

"It is no wonder people in the bargaining unit are demanding from this time forward foremen will no longer retain and accumulate seniority during the period they are supervisors."

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, will head his union's team at American Motors as he did for similar opening round talks at Ford, Chrysler and GM.

NEW BENEFITS

Monday, the UAW called on Chrysler for broad new medical and life insurance benefits—including company-paid doctor bills.

Douglas Fraser, UAW Chrysler Department director, said the union proposals would increase worker protection against sickness and accident costs if they were written into the company union contract.

Says America Losing Conservation Battle

RENSSELAERVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Stewart Udall, secretary of the interior, says, "We are losing — rather badly — the battle to keep America beautiful."

He spoke last night at the opening convocation of the Rensselaerville, N.Y., Institute and urged scientists and conservationists to promote "the science of controlling science, so that America can control and direct her future."

Patrolman Aids Stork in Delivery

Waterford Township Patrolman Jerry St. Souver yesterday assisted in an emergency childbirth en route to Pontiac General Hospital.

Mrs. Donald Kushlon, 23, of 5808 Shetland Way, Waterford Township, was delivered of a daughter at 1:51 p.m. at Pontiac Lake and Eason where she had stopped her car while driving to the hospital.

An unidentified passerby called the fire department which referred the call to the police department.

Both mother and daughter are reported in good condition at the hospital where they were taken by ambulance following the birth.

Lady 'Plugs' Pipe for Sneaky Snake

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)— Mrs. Brenda Pagel, a young South African housewife, plugged a drainpipe outside her farmhouse full of bullet holes — and then dragged out a very dead, five-foot long cobra.

* * *

Mrs. Pagel said she opened her front door and nearly walked into the snake which reared to full length only about a foot away.

She rushed into the house to get her husband's revolver and returned to find the cobra disappearing up the drainpipe. Despite the fact she had never fired a gun, Mrs. Pagel managed to pull the trigger, filling the pipe, and the snake, full of holes.

The broadcast did not describe how the plane was shot down.

It was the third U2 plane claimed shot down by the Communist Chinese since Sept. 9, 1962.

Find Answer for Those Who Disobey Signs

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — "Road Closed," said the sign on a rural byway near Birmingham. But people don't always believe in signs. In this instance, they should have. The road is torn up around the bend.

And for those dis-believers, someone has placed this sign on the return trip: "Stupid."

Pontiac Board Okays Raises

School Unit Seats One New Member

Salary hikes for three Pontiac school administrators were okayed last night at the organization meeting of the Pontiac School Board.

In addition to the pay increases the board's business included the seating of newly elected board member James L. Howlett, 104 E. Iroquois.

Howlett succeeds Glenn H. Griffin, who did not seek re-election. Griffin was presented with a plaque last night commending him for his 14 years service on the school board.

The school board gave approval to salary adjustments for the school district's two assistant superintendents and Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

* * *

The assistant superintendents were raised from $15,000 in 1964-65 to $16,300, and $16,400 in 1965-66 to $17,300.

SALARY HIKE

Whitmer's salary was hiked to $22,500 for the 1964-65 year. Previously, it had been scheduled at $21,500. In addition, the superintendent's expense allowance was increased from $3,000 to $3,000 per year.

In the only other action, the school board gave tentative approval to the promotion of Bertram C. Van Koughnett, Mark Twain School principal, to acting director of elementary education.

Van Koughnett will replace Gerald E. White, who has requested a leave of absence for one year.

Employment Picture Clouded by Youths

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

DAWSON

NEW YORK—Finding a job is tougher this summer. That's so despite a gain in the number of jobs. A record number of nearly 72 million Americans is at work.

The job scramble is rough because there are more students looking for them. There are always a lot when school lets out. This year there are more.

* * *

But beyond that, there are more adults entering the labor force just now. This happens whenever times are good and the number of jobs expands. That pulls a lot of off-and-on workers into the labor force. Since they usually have skills from earlier periods of employment, they are likely to get the jobs at the expense of the newcomers without experience.

POPULATION GROWTH

The population growth by itself, and its specific manifestation of more students looking for summer work, would have pulled about 1.2 million more people into the labor force this summer than last. The Labor Department says that this time the force increased by 1.5 million over last year to a total of 79.4 million.

* * *

It reports that while employment went up by about 850,000 in June as outdoor jobs and recreational work opened up, unemployment advanced by 1.1 million.

The economy is running fast, but not fast enough in the job sector to hold even with the demand.

Some 800,000 of the unemployed are teen-agers, or 15 per cent of the youngsters looking for work.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADS.

The Labor Department indicates that high school graduates had better luck this year in finding jobs than did college graduates.

Disturbing to the department was the rise in unemployment among adult men. The teen-age problem was expected. Washington had hoped that the older men were in for better days.

* * *

The rate of unemployment among all men over 20 rose to 4 per cent of the labor force, compared with 3.6 per cent in May. The rise among adult women was only to 5.1 per cent from 5 per cent.

When the rate of unemployment for all ages dropped in May to 5.1 per cent, many had hoped that the long struggle to bring this down by an increase in economic growth was at last bearing fruit. In June the rate was 5.3 per cent. The June rise in unemployment of 1.1 million brought the total to 4.7 million.

* * *

The long struggle to get the jobless rate down to around 4 per cent of the labor force still is a tough one. The number of jobs increase. But those who want to fill them increase even faster.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "What is your opinion on Carson Pirie Scott & Company, the Chicago department store? The stock sells for around 10½ but doesn't move much. I've not a great deal to invest and need income but can't afford to take chances. I have been taking care of my invalid mother for 9 years and she comes first." J. L.

(A) Carson Pirie Scott seems to be a sound investment. Earnings in the fiscal year ended February 1964 rose to $1.05 a share from $0.64 a year earlier. Assuming a dividend rate of $0.37 annually, the current yield on the shares is only 3.5 per cent.

But with your need for income, you would be better off with fewer shares of Libby-Owens-Ford Glass, which yields 4.7 per cent, and has better marketability.

* * *

(Q) "I bought many E bonds a long time ago, some as early as June 1942. I know that the Government changed the maturity dates and interest accruals at least twice, but I'd appreciate a clear explanation, so I'll know where I stand. Should I convert my older bonds to a different series? If I do, must I pay accrued income tax on my accumulated interest?" F. M.

(A) E bonds bohght from June, 1942, to May, 1949, accrued interest at 2.9 per cent and matured in 10 years. The first extension period was 10 years at 3 per cent. It remained the same until June, 1959, when 0.5 per cent was added to bring the rate up to 3.50.

On May 1, 1961, the accrual rate was increased to 3¾ per cent — where it now stands — on extended maturities and new purchases.

If you need current income, you can exchange your Series E for Series H, and your tax liability on accruals may be deferred until the Series H bonds mature.

New Mental Health Chief

Favors Near-Home Care

LANSING (AP) — Programs under which mentally ill persons are cared for by facilities located close to their homes are favored by Michigan's new mental health director, Dr. Robert Kimmich.

Dr. Kimmich, who took over his post July 1, said Monday he is aware of a national trend away from the concept of large state hospitals where patients live, and toward locally oriented facilities where they can be treated as day patients or outpatients.

* * *

He also said he sees one of the State Mental Health Department's roles as that of coordinating the functions of various agencies providing services to mentally retarded and mentally ill.

One suggestion he put forth was for a "comprehensive" mental health center where persons could go for a variety of services near their homes.

'ONE REASON'

"This department exists for one reason—to help individuals who are having emotional difficulties. We have a major job to do in coordinating a variety of operating agencies and services, to make them of maximum benefit to patients who have a mental disorder or are about to develop one," Kimmich said.

The new director, will make a tour of some state mental institutions with Gov. George W. Romney later this month. But he said he does not yet know what the state needs in the way of new hospitals, if anything.

"It's clear we need more treatment centers but just what their character should be, and whether they should be state or local, or who will administer them, will require more study."

Kimmich said there may also be a need for replacement or modernization of some of the state's older institutions without increasing their patient bed space.

NEW DIRECTOR

The new director is a 42-year-old psychiatrist who came to Michigan from a post as director of the mental health program for the city and county of San Francisco.

Hair-Raising: That's His Job

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Nathan Passen is getting used to hair-raising events since becoming a partner in a wig company here.

* * *

As he entered his shop recently he collided with a man who was running out with an artificial hairpiece in each hand. In the struggle the thief dropped one wig but escaped with the other.

* * *

A few hours later another man walked into the store and snatched a wig from a dummy's head but dropped it as an employe shouted at him.

Several days before a black hairpiece had been lifted from a mannequin and six weeks previous on the eve of the firm's opening, 16 wigs valued at $1,300 were stolen from the store.

Ostrich Takes Ride to Escape Pressure

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — An ostrich in South Africa's Addo National Park, a game preserve, was trapped. So he did what any self-respecting ostrich would do: he decided the best defense was a good offense and attacked.

* * *

The ostrich was trapped by a fence on his left, a row of bushes on his right and a closed gate behind him. In front of him a car was approaching.

He jumped onto the hood of the car and started pecking the windshield. When the motorist stopped the car, the ostrich slipped off, breaking the side mirror on the way. After thus damaging the car, the bird found a hole in the bushes and bounded off.

Odd Otter Causes Stir

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — When M. L. Steyn of Choma, Northern Rhodesia, led his pet named Stinker through the streets near here, he caused quite a stir. Stinker is an otter.

According to Mr. Steyn, Stinker was one of a litter of three pups sold to him for $1. Otters however, are very difficult to rear, and Stinker was the only survivor. Steyn claims Stinker is the only pet otter in the Southern Hemisphere and says that despite his name he is playful, inquisitive and clean.

Potent Drug Quiets Rhino

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — A drug said by officials to be "a thousand times more potent than morphine" was used in a game reserve near here to out a three - quarters grown white rhino bull.

Veterinary surgeons wanted to treat the rhino for an old wound.

When injections shot at it from a crossbow had no effect they administered by means of a dart gun two milligrams of the new tranquilliser, M99.

After five minutes the rhino began to "goose step" and then lay down quietly 11 minutes after the dart was shot at it.

After dressing the wound, veterinary surgeons gave it an antidote.

77 MINUTES LATER

The rhino got up 77 minutes after lying down.

During the night it recovered gradually and showed no ill effects the next morning.

Keys to Wait for Diploma?

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Here's a proposal which probably will meet the approval of parents, but vociferous opposition from the younger set: withhold drivers licenses from teenagers until they are graduated from high school.

The idea was advanced by Birmingham insurance man Liston A. Corcoran as a panel member at a meeting of the Alabama School Board Association.

He blamed automobiles as a key reason for school dropouts.

Pravda said the Plenum of the Supreme Court had disclosed that convictions in 1963 were down 16.4 per cent from 1962. The report gave no breakdown of crime statistics but said the crime rate in 1962 was the lowest in the Soviet Union in 30 years.

Wild Hares Shipped Out

NOVI SAD, Yugoslavia (AP) — The first shipments of Yugoslavian wild hares for France and Italy have left here on their way.

* * *

Each crate in the shipment contained three hares — one male and two female — with two ears of corn and one beet for meals while traveling.

* * *

The first consignment of the hares, which are abundant in Yugoslavia but scarce in western Europe, consisted of 1,200 animals for Italy. Altogether some 20,000 hares will participate in the long hop.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear son and brother, Allan M. Hassell, who passed away 9 years ago today, July 7th, 1955.
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell,
Of the loss of one we loved so well;
And while he sleeps a peaceful sleep,
His memory we shall always keep.
So dearly loved and sadly missed by his mother, Marion Thomas; sisters Doris and Gail, brothers, Charles and Harvey.

IN MEMORY OF CHARLES A. Adams, who passed away July 7, 1962.
Your presence is ever near us,
Your love remains with us yet;
You were the kind of husband and father,
Your loved ones would never forget.
Sadly missed by wife Ermie and children

May we serve YOU!

Without obligation, see and talk with Mr. Merle Voss or Mr. Buckner, who have been loaning money to hundreds of people in Pontiac during the past 40 years. All our borrowers will testify to receiving fair, honest, and courteous treatment. (Do not take a chance dealing with strangers or fly-by-night lenders).

When you deal here, you receive the full amount of your loan in cash at once. No papers to sign until the loan is closed. No charge for inspection, appraisal or survey. No charge for abstract, title search or title insurance.
