New Football Coach Appointed for PHS

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Jesse MacLeay, 36, of the University of Illinois athletic staff, has been named head football coach for Pontiac High School.

He succeeds Ed. Graybiel, who held the post four years until his resignation in December.

A committee made up of Dr. Dana Whitmer, superintendent of schools; Francis Staley, high school principal; Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent and Tom Dodson, director of athletics, has screened 48 applications from 10 states.

The list was cut to five prospects and this morning the executive council, with the approval of the board of education, decided on MacLeay.

MacLeay, a native of New Hampshire, attended Windsor High School in Vermont and competed in football, basketball, track and baseball. After his graduation in 1939, he stayed at the prep school for two years assisting his father, who was head football coach at Windsor.

In 1942 he entered the Navy and was trained as a PT boat operator. After his release from service, MacLeay attended Springfield College in Massachusetts, from 1945 to 1949.

At Springfield he participated in football, basketball and boxing, and he was graduated with academic honors and a B.S. degree.

He was awarded a scholarship to the University of Illinois where he received his master's degree in physical education in 1950. He taught in the physical education department and assisted in the coaching of the football and basketball teams.

From 1950 to 1952, MacLeay was instructor of physical education at Bimidji State Teachers College in Minnesota, where he also was head

Spring Hopes Grow as Mercury Climbs

Perhaps spring is succeeding in overthrowing winter and assuming a rightful place in the seasonal order.

With a balmy 45 to 50 high predicted today and a low of 35 tonight, the weather man has forecast little temperature change for the next two days.

Saturday's high will be near 50. The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 33. The temperature was 49 at 2 p.m.

Makes Demand During 5-Hour Dinner Session With U.N. Secretary

CAIRO (INS)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser is demanding 70 per cent of all Suez Canal revenues for Egypt.

His compromise gesture was to offer to put aside 25 per cent of Suez tolls for canal "development" and the other five per cent in an "emergency" fund.

Diplomatic sources said the Egyptian president laid these cold terms before U. N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjold last night during a five-hour dinner session marked by surface cordiality but frank, and sometimes even sharp, disagreement.

These sources also reported Nasser was "tough and unyielding" toward Hammarskjold's "eloquent arguments" that there should be some interim tolls splitting arrangement when the waterway reopens April 10 until a final settlement can be reached between Egypt and the major canal users.

United Nations sources said Hammarskjold is displaying infinite patience in trying to get Nasser to agree to re-open negotiations on the basis of the six principles adopted by the Security Council last Oct. 13.

The key principle, No. 3, would insulate the canal from the politics of any country.

Teamster Official Confers With His Attorneys

Tells Senate Probers of His Disapproval

Brewster Hits Beck's Borrowing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank W. Brewster, West Coast Teamsters kingpin, said today he personally disapproved of the union's national president, Dave Beck, borrowing several hundred thousand dollars in union funds without interest or security.

Beck has said that he borrowed $300,000 to $400,000 of union funds without paying interest or offering security, but has repaid the money.

Brewster came before the senators from U. S. District Court where he was arraigned on charges of contempt of Congress and entered a plea of innocent.

OWN BORROWING

Brewster was asked about the Beck borrowings from the Teamsters during questioning about his own borrowing of some $80,000 to $90,000 from the Western Conference of Teamsters and Seattle Local No. 174.

Brewster is chairman of the Western Conference, a job to which he was appointed by Beck, and also is one of a number of Teamsters Union vice presidents under Beck.

Arraigned with Brewster, and also pleading innocent was Einar O. Mohn, executive vice president of the Teamsters.

Two lesser union officials also were scheduled for arraignment. One showed up and the other didn't.

Nugent La Poma, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 174 in Seattle, Wash., pleaded innocent. Harry Reiss, welfare fund administrator of Local 227 in New York, failed to answer when his name was called.

Judge Charles F. McLaughlin ordered a bench warrant issued to bring Reiss into court.

TRIAL DATES SET

McLaughlin set the trial dates at May 20 for Brewster, June 3 for Mohn, and May 27 for La Poma.

Bond for the three was set at $1,000 each. Lawyers for all three were granted their requests for a 30-day extension in which to file motions.

Brewster, who also is a vice president of the 1,500,000-member Teamsters Union, was put at the top of the arraignment list in order to permit him to be on time for continued quizzing by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

Brewster and the others refused to testify, contending the subcommittee had no authority to explore labor union activities.

Subsequently the special committee was created to inquire into improper operations of labor and industry. Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) is chairman of both the investigating bodies.

CALLED FOR 5TH DAY

It was the fifth day that the rackets investigating committee had called Brewster to its witness chair.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said, meanwhile, the committee planned an executive session this afternoon to hear from Paul Dorfman, secretary of a Chicago Waste Handlers Union, and Allen Dorfman, Paul's son, an insurance executive.

The Dorfmans have been quizzed in earlier congressional probes into labor union affairs.

Searchers Fan Over Big Area in West Pacific

Craft Disappears Near Completion of Its Flight; 4 Die in Florida

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three air mishaps within the past 24 hours are believed to have claimed 74 lives. Seven are known dead in two crashes within the country.

Another 67 are aboard a military transport missing in the Pacific off Japan.

The domestic crashes were at Moline, Ill., and Orlando, Fla. The military transport disappeared early today as it neared the end of its transpacific flight.

Names of the dead were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The plane was taking off on a routine training flight when it crashed in a field about four miles south of the base, about half a mile from the home of Ed Barber.

Its left wing struck an oak tree and the plane spun to earth, digging a furrow across the field before it came to a halt, a mass of wreckage.

TOKYO (AP)—One of the greatest air-sea searches the Far East has ever seen swung into its second day today for 67 Americans on a U. S. military transport plane which disappeared just before reaching Japan.

More than 70 planes and about a dozen Japanese and American ships were poised to criss-cross thousands of square miles of the Pacific ocean southeast of Japan. Cloudy skies and rain squalls which limited visibility yesterday gave promise of lifting.

Hope dimmed after the first day's search failed to find the plane or survivors in the 120-mile wide corridor stretching 300 miles southeast of Tokyo where the plane was believed to have gone down.

Thirty-foot swells also hampered the rescue ships.

The search area was to be expanded today to cover approximately 75,000 square miles.

Recheck Fluoride

See New Value as Dental Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The value of fluoridating drinking water to prevent tooth decay is proving greater than expected, the National Institute of Dental Research says.

Government scientists also report that recent studies indicate the practicability of new chemical processes which cut by two thirds present costs of fluoridating public water systems.

The report on fluoridation studies was made to the House Appropriations Committee by Dr. Francis A. Arnold Jr., director of the Dental Research Institute — part of the Public Health Service.

Among other things, Arnold reported that fluoridation has been found to be of special value to children at the time they begin to lose their "baby teeth."

Earlier studies, he said, found that fluoridated drinking water is effective in preventing tooth decay if used from birth.

Arnold said additional evidence now shows that cavities also are prevented "in children who begin drinking fluoridated water just prior to or shortly after the eruption of their permanent teeth."

Among older persons who already have their permanent teeth, the reduction in tooth decay after drinking fluoridated water has been found to range between 25 to 30 per cent, he said, adding:

"In other words, the benefits of fluoridation have been shown to be increased over what was expected a few years ago."

Arnold said the cost of fluoridating public water systems can now be greatly reduced through a new process using less costly fluorspar, or calcium fluoride, on which pilot studies have been completed.

For farm families without access to public water systems, the institute has perfected a portable fluoridator now being tested in homes in Montgomery County, Md., and in Michigan.

The institute reported that more than 1,400 communities with a population totaling more than 30 million now fluoridate their water systems.

Mayor Flees Chicago Blaze

Fire Sweeps Sections of Loop Offices, Over 100 Put to Flight

CHICAGO (AP) — A fast-moving, spectacular fire swept through sections of the block square City-County Building in the Loop last night, routing more than 100 persons, including the mayor.

More than a score of persons were led or carried to safety, many of them down ladders, from the 12-story structure. Included were several women trapped in upper floors.

The fire was confined to the extreme northwest corner of the building on the second and third floors, the City Hall half of the structure.

Three firemen and a telephone repairman were injured, none seriously. The fire broke out shortly after 6 p.m. and was brought under control in less than two hours.

Damage was estimated at $250,000 by Mayor Richard J. Daley. The cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Heaviest damage was to the ornately paneled City Council chambers on the second floor, where officials said the fire was believed to have started.

MEMO TO CAESAR

Pilate Urges Vigilance

(Fifteenth in a Lenten Series)

Tiberius Caesar wrote to Pilate . . . .

My Dear Governor:

We have taken note of your report on the execution of this John the Baptist and are content to let the matter rest with your discretion — which, apparently, is to forget the whole business.

Livia has inquired whether you have more information on the man Jesus.

My compliments to you and your household.

(Signed) Caesar.

To this Pilate replied. . . .

I do, indeed, have more about the Nazarene preacher. He has selected 12 apostles who go about with him constantly to learn from him and to assist with his teaching. A number of women follow the group, arranging for food and lodging. They are a very devoted sect.

Among the women, Junius reports, is Joanna, the wife of Chuza who is Herod's steward. How Chuza has taken this quasi-desertion, I have not heard. But apparently he has made no great fuss or Herod's servants would have peddled the news to Claudia's maids.

Junius adds that Jesus and his followers were having a meeting the other day and the crowd was so large that when his mother and brothers came to see him they could not get near. So the word was passed along to Jesus that they were waiting, whereupon he said a very strange thing.

"My mother and brethren are these who hear the word of God, and do it," Junius reports him as remarking.

At first this seemed to me a cold, if not cruel, way of brushing off one's own family. The more I have thought about it, however, it impresses me as showing the extreme depth of the man's devotion to his cause.

I report it to you, therefore, in the spirit in which Junius gave it to me: as showing the man's fanaticism. Despite your earlier rebuke, I still think this is a man to be watched and watched closely. . . .

At this point, Tiberius was about to fling the letter aside in disgust but the opening of the next paragraph aroused his curiosity.

Bomber Misses 1 Record, Sets 2 With Round Trip

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Failing to set a Los Angeles-to-New York speed record, a twin-engine Navy jet bomber turned around and flew back to Los Angeles to establish a new round-trip record of 9 hours 35 minutes 48 seconds, and an east-to-west record of 5 hours 14 minutes 57.80 seconds.

The bomber left Los Angeles at 9:11 a.m. and was in New York 3 hours 59 minutes 14.80 seconds later. The best time, west-to-east is 3 hours 44 minutes 53.88 seconds set March 9, 1955, by Air Force Lt. Col. Robert Scott in an F84F Thunderstreak.

Three Psychiatrists Find Sniper Insane

Gary A. Taylor, Oakland County's confessed phantom sniper, today was found insane and committed to Ionia State Hospital at a sanity hearing before Circuit Judge Frank Doty.

At the hearing to determine whether Taylor was mentally competent to stand trail on a charge of assault with intent to murder, the 20-year-old Southfield Township factory worker was "pleased with the outcome."

"It's what I wanted," said Taylor. "It's all over now but the crying."

Taylor, who admitted to sniping at more than a dozen women throughout the county since Dec. 1956, would have faced a criminal examination Monday had he been found sane at today's hearing.

Doctors Abraham Tauber, Ivan A. LaCore and Clinton J. Mumby gave testimony today after giving him a two-hour mental examination two weeks ago. All concluded that "he is, and has for several years been, dangerously mentally ill."

All three psychiatrists advised the court as did Taylor himself, that he is "unable to resist impulses to hurt women." Taylor also told the court that he has had such impulses many times in the Oakland County Jail since his arrest Feb. 7.

"I had the impulse as recently as Monday night," said Taylor. "It's a good thing I am locked up or I would hurt people."

Dr. LaCore said in his testimony that Taylor "is extremely hostile and might kill a woman if allowed to go free. He is subject to impulses that he cannot control or resist."

County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said, "Should Taylor at some time be found by a court that he is restored to sanity, he will still face criminal conviction on a charge of assault with intent to murder. We will never drop our warrant."

Entries Grow, So Does Cash in Pot-O-Gold

Number of Pot-O-Gold entries is rising again, the total this week reaching 6,846 plus some that were disqualified, but none of them were winning solutions. That means your entry for Pot-O-Gold Puzzle 42 which appears on page 26 may bring you $400. The only thing you must do is be sure it contains all the right answers.

Carr Resigns Waterford Post

Carr has accepted a position as an administrative assistant with the Ann Arbor Public School System and will assume duties sometime this summer. He has been with Waterford Township High School for two years.

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, Local 1295, requested a salary increase and additional insurance for custodians and maintenance men. A special meeting has been set for next Thursday.

Board members reviewed the proposed financial budget of the Recreation Department and returned the report for reconsideration of the recreation board members.

The board also approved the hiring of an adult crossing guard for the Monteith School on Pleasant Lake road.

provides canal users the same guarantees.

Hammarskjold, who, according to carefully briefed briefing officer George Ivan Smith, "is playing everything by ear so far," will decide whether to go to Jerusalem to see Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion after a morning meeting with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi.

Whatever the decision, Smith said Hammarskold will be in Cairo through Friday and Saturday.

What Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, USA (Ret.), the U.N.'s salvage chief, predicting the canal will be ready to take full traffic in less than three weeks, here is how one top diplomatic source summed up the situation:

IN DRIVER'S SEAT

"Nasser is in the driver's seat and he knows it. He'll reopen the canal on Egypt's own terms and the shipping companies will come flocking, including the American and British.

"Egypt needs money and the shippers need the canal. It's that simple."

Already awaiting reopening of the canal at Suez are 12 ships of half a dozen nationalities.

If Nazzer can pull off his present proposal, Egypt stands to net more than ten times in hard currency what she used to get from the French-dominated old Suez Canal Company.

GROSS REVENUE

In 1955, for example, gross canal revenue was $98,200,000. The 1955 operating expenses were $52,000,000 leaving a net of $46,000,000. Out of this the company paid shareholders $30,000,000 in dividends. Egypt's share was $3,000,000.

Using the same gross revenue figures, Egypt now would collect nearly $69,000,000 under Nasser's 70-25-5 per cent formula.

Through economies the Egyptians could figure to reduce operating expenses to $42,000,000 giving Egypt a clear canal profit annually of nearly $30,000,000 in hard currency, since she is expected to demand all passage payments either in dollars or Swiss francs.

According to the Egyptian formula, this would still leave $24,500,000 annually for canal widening and development plus nearly $5,000,000 for an emergency fund.

Ike, Macmillian Study Means to Boost British Atom Power

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (AP)—President Eisenhower called in his top military and diplomatic advisers today to shape plans for assuring Prime Minister Macmillan that the United States will help Britain develop a streamlined army with atomic striking power.

The President and Macmillan turned to the problem of bolstering Britain's atomic military might after reaching what was called here a "gratifying measure of agreement" on the whole range of Middle East problems.

Officials said the military issues boil down to how much Britain is going to cut its forces and what can be done to increase the power of those remaining in uniform by providing them with atomic weapons.

Eisenhower was expected to assure Macmillan of U.S. help in developing a mightier force with fewer men under arms.

After four hours of negotiations in two sessions on the Middle East, spokesmen for the President and Prime Minister announced they had discovered a "gratifying measure of agreement."

U.S. officials stressed, however, that for the moment the United States is backing U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold fully in his Cairo talks with Egyptian President Nasser and that no final decision will be made until Hammarskjold has reported to the United Nations.

The Middle East ground covered in yesterday's opening sessions of the Big Two Bermuda meeting included consideration of a suggested formula for resolving the immediate problem of the Gaza Strip by getting U.N. Emergency Force troops spotted at key points on both sides of the Israeli-Gaza border. The plan also would make the U.N. force responsible for security inside the strip, with Egypt retaining civilian administration of the area.

Israel has in the past refused to agree to proposals for putting U.N. troops on its soil and has said the way must not be left open for Egypt to use Gaza again as a base for raids into Israel.

Also discussed were steps which may have to be taken in regard to the payment of Suez Canal tolls, a prime issue in the Hammarskjold-Nasser talks. Western nations using the canal had proposed that half the canal tolls be paid to an international agency for development and maintenance of the waterway. Nasser replied Egypt demand all the money but might be willing to put some of it into a development fund.

The plan to build up British military power by adding tactical atomic weapons while men are taken out of uniform is substantially what the Eisenhower administration called "more bang for a buck" when the streamlining of U.S. forces was undertaken several years ago.

Britain is reducing its armed forces to cut costs because of an urgent financial need.

Under the U.S. atomic laws, Eisenhower does not have the authority to transfer atomic weapons to any foreign government. But he does have power to supply weapons such as guided missiles which could be fitted with atomic warheads of British manufacture.

Officials indicated privately that the United States will supply missiles and possibly other weapons. While it cannot turn over atomic explosives to Britain, it can store supplies of them under American control on British territory for possible use in the event of war.

So far as is known, specific plans for any such action have yet to be worked out.

New Hospital Annex Operates at Loss

Pontiac General Hospital's new annex to relieve crowding lost $14,392 in its first month of operation.

The figure startled hospital trustees last night into a call for immediate action.

Members of the Board asked the finance committee and the hospital's executive committee of doctors to delve immediately into the situation. Board Chairman William P. Babcock said that "it's our number one problem."

The bulk of the deficit was seen to come from the fact patients for no apparent reason are shunning the annex in preference for crowded conditions in the hospital itself.

LESS THAN CAPACITY

The 85 beds available in the renovated space rented from the county in the former Contagious Hospital have been occupied only to 50-75 per cent of capacity during February, it was figured.

The Board believes 85 per cent of capacity is needed to break even. Other figures show the hospital proper is operating at 117 per cent of capacity.

"It doesn't make sense," Trustee Harold S. Goldberg said. "Here we've got beds available in nice spacious rooms at the annex, and yet patients insist on staying in the hospital, where we've got beds crowded in the halls."

ASK SUPPORT

The Board believed an educational program would help and called on Dr. Arnold Brown, Chief of Staff, to enlist support of hospital doctors.

"We've got to steer some patients out to the annex," said another Trustee, Harold Euler. "If we don't, we're going to have to close it." He pointed out this would mean taking a $11,161 loss in renovating expenses.

The city leased the entire facilities at 1075 N. Telegraph Rd. at $1,000 a month up to 18 months, to help alleviate the crowded conditions caused by construction of a new addition at the main hospital.

Twenty-five of the beds, in segregated wards, are for contagious patients, whom the city agreed to care for under the lease. The other beds are for regular patients past the acute nursing stage.

Board members felt the venture was not a profit - making one, but a humanitarian measure to provide as much hospital service as possible until the 200 - bed addition is completed.

Hardly Room to Milk a Cow

400 Farmers Jam Capitol

LANSING (AP) — There was hardly room to milk a cow yesterday in the statehouse corridors.

Some 400 dairy farmers crowded into the Capitol to buttonhole legislators and lobby for a milk industry control bill.

"It was a very orderly and determined group of farmers," said the leader of the delegation, Rolland Brengle of South Lyon, president of the Fair Share Bargaining Assn., which led a milk strike in Michigan a year ago.

"I hope we impressed somebody," he added. "Maybe next time we should bring some of our cows up there and let the legislators try to milk them."

Believe 74 Killed in 3 Plane Crashes

67 ABOARD

The Air Force said 57 passengers and a crew of 10 were aboard the plane, with the passengers including 27 Air Force personnel; 17 Army and 10 Navy men; 2 civilian government employes, both men; and a woman military dependent, presumably the wife of a serviceman stationed in Japan.

A partial list of names of those aboard the plane has been released. Apparently there was no one from Michigan.

The crew, which included at least one woman, all were members of the Air Force. The plane was operated by the Military Air Transport Service (MATS).

LAST POSITION

The plane's last reported position was 200 miles southeast of the big MATS terminal in Tokyo, at 12:15 a.m. (10:15 a.m., EST), Thursday. The radio report gave no indication of any trouble and the plane was expected in Tokyo on schedule, two hours later.

The Air Force said the plane had enough fuel for only about 3½ hours flying past its scheduled arrival time.

As soon as the plane was overdue, a sea and air search was launched in the predawn darkness. Life rafts aboard the plane were equipped with flares and flashlights and most rafts aboard transpacific planes carry emergency radio transmitters for broadcasting SOS signals.

NO SIGNALS

Throughout the day, however, monitors picked up no distress calls.

One expert said if the plane did ditch in 30-foot seas, it almost certainly cracked up and sank quickly, possibly before life rafts could be launched.

"Only God could ditch successfully in seas like that," he said.

The C97 was the eighth large plane to go down in the Far East since Feb. 22. In the seven previous crashes, 85 persons were listed as dead or missing, including President Ramon Magsaysay of the Philippines.

MOLINE, Ill. (AP)—Three men who climbed into a small plane to answer the distress call of another plane died yesterday in a collision of the two aircraft.

William Johnson, about 35, the pilot, alone in the distressed airplane, escaped unhurt. Only damage to his plane was a bent propellor and a few cabin scratches.

Johnson was putting a two-engine Cessna through routine tests when he noticed that a cockpit signal light indicated the landing gear was not functioning.

He flew over the Quad-City Airport and radioed the control tower.

A two-engine Aero Commander took off to help. It was manned by William Rissman, 34, Muscatine, Iowa, head of the Aerolines Flight Service; Chester Loose, 48, Davenport, Iowa, a CAA maintenance man at the airport; and Marvin Jones, Moline, Ill.

Authorities said the rescue plane attempted to maneuver close to the Cessna to examine the stricken plane's landing gear and apparently bumped into it. The Aero Commander crashed.

Johnson then found he was able to lower his landing wheels. He landed unhurt a few minutes later.

Both planes were owned by Deere & Co., farm machinery firm which maintains a fleet of five craft for use by company executives.

He comes to Pontiac highly recommended by head football coach Ray Eliot and other officials at Illinois and Springfield College.

"He has been recommended as an outstanding teacher, coach and counselor, with an excellent background in understanding of human relations," said Athletic Director Tom Dodson.

The Day in Birmingham

Second Effort Under Way for George Miller Fund

BIRMINGHAM — Tomorrow will be George Miller Day in Birmingham as 35 persons take to the area selling miniature newspapers. The papers will tell the "George Miller Story."

They will remind residents of his teaching career in Birmingham, of his accident while returning from an Educational Assn. meeting in Battle Creek, and of his 13 months of hospitalization and surgery.

The newspaper sale is the second major step in the fund-raising drive of a group of interested citizens headed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kass. Mrs. Kass said this morning that the papers will be sold throughout the entire school district including Walnut Lake and Franklin.

STUDENTS TO HELP

Adult vendors will be assisted by high-school students, each wearing the distinctive red and white apron bearing the words "For George Miller."

"We hope everyone will contribute generously when he purchases his paper," Mrs. Kass said. "We have been gratified by the response at the dinner earlier this week at the Community House and by the many contributions which have come in. Some have even been received from out-of-towners who have no connection with our popular young teacher.

"Contributions may be made directly to the George Miller Jr. Fund and sent to the Woodward-Hamilton branch of the Detroit Bank and Trust Co."

With $7,000 yet to go to reach the $50,000 Community House roll-call goal, the drive continues with special contacts. Personal calls are being made on business places and areas in the city, not thoroughly covered during the regular drive period.

"We are still confident we will make our drive," a spokesman said today. "We continue two things—contacts, and our plea that prospective donors mail their contributions promptly."

Nurse Bolsters Case for Crown

Testifies Adams Said He Wouldn't Let Widow Suffer at End

LONDON (INS)—A crown witness, nurse Caroline Randall, testified today that Dr. John Bodkin Adams'-alleged murder victim told her she had the doctor's promise he "would not let her suffer at the end."

Attorney General Sir Reginald Manningham-Buller, the prosecutor, promptly told the judge and jury he intended to show that Adams deliberately "accelerated" the death in 1950 of Mrs. Edith Morrell, 81, by heavy dope injections in her final hours.

Adams himself seemed startled by Miss Randall's outburst. He stared appealingly upwards, his lips moving as if in prayer.

ENDED QUESTIONS

The brilliant defense counsel, Geoffrey Lawrence, earlier had wound up about six hours of relentless cross-examination of the motherly-looking Nurse Randall.

He compelled her to admit her memory might be at fault about the circumstances of Mrs. Morrell's death seven years ago. Adams is accused of poisoning the aged widow in order to benefit from her will.

But Miss Randall's major contribution to the crown case remained.

After hours of cross-examination yesterday, Lawrence today compelled nurse Randall to go over, step by step, every moment of Mrs. Morrell's last day.

In response to the barrage of questions, Nurse Randall also denied she asked some fellow nurses to keep mum about one detail "or you will get me in trouble."

DENVER (INS) — Eleven naval airmen escaped death last night when a P2V Neptune, the Navy's largest patrol bomber, crashed and burned on landing at the Buckley Naval Air Station near Denver.

Oil Strike Hits 3 More Firms

Workers Walk Out at Shell, Texas Terminals in Detroit

The three-week-old strike of gasoline and oil workers today hit three more suppliers, bringing to seven the number of companies idled by the walkout of members of Local 11-389 of the Oil, Chemical, and Atomic Workers International Union.

The union walked out at Shell Oil, Texas Co. and Gulf. Other struck companies include Socony Mobil, Standard, Pure and Sinclair.

Negotiations between the union, companies and federal mediators were recessed yesterday for "two or three days."

Daniel M. Reese, 74, of 56 Jacokes St. was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital last night after police found him hanging by his neck from a rear porch of his apartment.

Nixon Stresses Importance of Africa

Arab Refugees Top List of Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon, back from a 22-day good will tour of Africa, is expected to urge strong American efforts to solve the Arab refugee problem.

Nixon returned yesterday from a 20,000-mile flying trip which took him to eight nations. He was tired and suffering from a head cold. But he perked up when he and his wife received an affectionate airport greeting from their two daughters, Patricia, 10, and Julie, 8.

After alighting from the big Air Force plane that brought him home, Nixon said he was "overwhelmed with friendship" in all the lands he visited.

But remarks he made to reporters during the 23-hour flight to Washington showed he regarded the refugee problem as of primary importance to any solution of the Middle East dilemma.

The question of the 900,000 Arab refugees from Palestine arose again and again in the Arab countries he visited in Africa.

Nixon told newsmen the refugee problem is "more important than I had anticipated" in connection with what he termed the "cancer" of the Arab-Israeli dispute.

Although Nixon did not specify what steps should be taken he indicated clearly he believes the American government must take the lead in drafting a plan, possibly including the donation of large funds to resettle the refugees.

The refugees, who left Palestine during the Arab-Israeli fighting have been living on bare subsistence in camps in the Gaza Strip, Jordan, Lebanon and Syria. The United Nations Relief Fund has been feeding and housing them for the past seven years. Arab governments have been demanding that they be allowed to return to their former homes, but Israel refuses to accept them.

On other matters, Nixon said Africa in the next 25 years will be a decisive battleground in the East-West struggle. Thus, he said a "higher priority" of importance must be assigned to that area.

Vaccine Cash Sought

LANSING (AP) — A $250,000 appropriation to carry on the state's polio vaccine program has been proposed by Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield).

The State Health Department recently announced that its supply of Salk polio vaccine is exhausted.

Porter said he had been informed by Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, that it would be impossible to obtain additional vaccine until April 15.

Tells Group Need for Highway Growth

Col. Peter C. Hyzer, Detroit District Engineer for U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, told memebrs of the Michigan Chapter of the Institute of Traffic Engineers Wednesday night the importance of highway development in keeping up with metropolitan growth.

He told 58 members and guests at the Rotunda Inn that better lake shipping facilities would necessitate more highways upon which to transport merchandise to various industries.

Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman and Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel attended the bi-monthly dinner meeting.

Temptation Wins: Guard Robs Safe

SELLERSVILLE, Pa. (UP)—Quakertown state police say night watchman Clarence T. Bergey told them he fought temptation for 15 minutes in front of an open safe but lost the battle.

Police have charged Bergey with stealing $3,000 from Forrest Lodge of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He was night watchman there for eight years.

Bergey told police he remembered on his night off that he had left $10 at the lodge. When he drove to the club to get his money, he said he noticed the safe was unlocked. He said he stood in front of it for 15 minutes before giving in.

KALAMAZOO (UP) — Mrs. Katherine M. Sauve, 44, waived municipal court examination on a charge of embezzlement in the theft of $12,390 from the firm of Orrin B. Hayes, Inc., where she was employed as office manager. She was bound over to circuit court and $2,500 bond continued.

Michigan Man Dies in Crash; Wife Hurt

CLAYTON, Ga. (UP)—A Michigan man was killed and his wife injured critically yesterday in a headon collision between their car and another auto about eight miles south of Clayton in the northeast Georgia mountains.

The state patrol said Donald B. Binns, 50, of North Adams, Mich., died in a hospital of internal injuries several hours after the accident on U.S. 23 and U.S. 441.

The patrol said his wife was in critical condition at Rabun County Hospital suffering from a broken leg, severe cuts and possible internal injuries. Binns was listed as the driver.

Mackie Says Foster Unqualified for Post

Mackie's statement follows allegations that he is not qualified to hold the post because he is not a registered engineer.

"Because the highway department is run by two men who are administratively unqualified for the job, the people have suffered," Mackie told Van Buren County audiences yesterday.

Mackie's Republican opponent is George M. Foster, deputy highway commissioner under Charles M. Ziegler. Ziegler is not seeking reelection.

The Michigan Society of Professional Engineers has questioned publicly Mackie's qualifications because he is not a registered engineer.

"There is a shocking lack of administrative leadership in our state highway department with the result that Ziegler and his chief deputy have utterly failed to build the roads the people need and are paying for," said Mackie.

Hal Boyle Says:

Zippy Disputes Betsy's Art Talent

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The new vogue for chimpanzee paintings—many collectors are now buying them as a hedge against inflation—has raised the question:

"Who is the real dean among the world's living anthropoid artists?"

Betsy, who has the same phone number as the Baltimore Zoo, drew press raves after viewers at her "one-chimp show" forked out $125 for some of her finger paintings.

Well, nothing has caused more consternation in the simian world since the revelation that bananas are fattening. Chimpanzees, like humans, are jealous of each other's success, and show world chimps all over the country have been denouncing poor Betsy as a fraudulent overgrown monkey.

The latest to get into the act is Zippy, 6 years old and the wealthiest ape in the television jungle. Zippy, challenging Betsy to a real "paintdown" contest on any TV show she cares to name, issued this statement through Lee Ecuyer, his business manager:

"Betsy is a johnny-come-lately at the art game. So she can paint with her little paws? Why even Pablo Picasso can do that. Let's see what she can do on real canvas, using real brushes and real oil paints. I'll even let human beings act as judges."

Zippy, who regards himself as both the Rembrandt and the Da Vinci among simian brush wielders, pioneered on TV with his palette more than three years on the Garry Moore show.

Some 100 of his paintings have been ordered by a department store here for his latest exhibit. They include "Mad Jungle," "Autumn Leaves in the Breeze," "Reflections in a Brook," "Depressed," "The Red Dragon," and "Every Successful Chimpanzee Throws a Long Shadow."

Zippy, who now earns $75,000 a year, came by and gave me a free lesson.

We used water colors and after aping him carefully for half an hour, I began to feel I had almost a born chimp's skill at the easel myself.

Zippy has only one defect as a water color artist. He's too crazy about yellow. Can't get enough of it. After carefully brushing yellow over the cardboard he was working on, Zippy lifted up the palette and poured all the rest of the yellow paint on his palate. Then he swallowed all the other colors, too—red, blue, green, orange, black and white.

If it could have been possible to frame the inside of his stomach, Zippy would have had a masterpiece beyond the power of Matisse to equal.

Zippy, who has authored four books, appeared in two movies, a dozen top TV shows, and currently is grinding out a series of comic strip adventures, is thoroughly democratic.

At the age of 2 months he adopted Lee Ecuyer, 32, a former schoolteacher; and Mrs. Ecuyer.

Zippy, who has 200 custom made outfits, lets the Ecuyers share his Freeport, Long Island, home. They have their own room and beds and eat at the same table with him.

"He's gentle as a child," said Lee. "We feel he is almost human."

A clean liver, Zippy takes regular exercise, watches his weight, doesn't drink or smoke.

But he has one bad habit. He chews his fingernails, an occupational ailment with most TV stars.

As I See It:

Women in Unique Spots

By DENIS N. HAWKER
Visiting Australian Journalist

The dear old ladies who chained themselves to iron railings on the streets of London town at the turn of the century would be mighty proud could they but see America today.

HAWKER

Those single-minded suffragettes would see the almost complete payoff for their fight for the emancipation of women. Nowhere else in the world could they find women with so much power and influence.

The National Manpower Council in a recent report to President Eisenhower on its two-year study of "womanpower" in the U. S. records an "explosive and unprecedented expansion" in women's employment as a result of World War II.

It would seem that the person who rocks the cradle also wears the trousers and holds the purse strings.

I have heard a lot "down under" about American women as a political force and their economic influence as directors of the home budget and their own incomes—and have been a little unnerved by the echo it is finding in Australia.

But I had no conception of the unique position women have in this country where they enjoy the best of both worlds.

They have virtual equality with men in their jobs and daily round and yet enjoy the privileges of their sex.

A similar situation is developing in Australia. Many married women work, but comparatively few continue to do so after they have children. Unlike Americans, Australian women seldom return to work after their families have grown up. Usually they find other interests.

The reasons for married women working are similar in both countries—the high cost of living and the desire to buy a home and outfit it with labor saving amenities once considered luxuries, not thought of as essentials.

There are many wise Australian men (and women) who, with good reason, see the working wife as a major contributor to juvenile delinquency and a slackening of home ties. That seems to make sense.

But to a mere male it would seem that if the process started by the suffragettes is carried to its logical conclusion men may come to accept the philosophy of the Australian aborigine—perhaps the oldest (in terms of man's evolution) and most primitive race in the world today.

That is an inviting prospect.

A century ago a working woman was an oddity and a disgrace to her sex and family. At the turn of the century fewer than half adult women ever entered paid employment.

But now in the U.S., according to the womanpower report:

About 28 million women work outside their homes in a year.

A fifth of the nation's $42 billion dollar wage and salary bill goes to women and they are responsible for a quarter of the work hours in a year.

Six of every 10 working women are married.

Three of 10 married women work as do two of every five women with school-age children.

Today's girls may expect to spend 25 years or more working outside their homes.

Women are expected to account for about half of the 10 million more persons to be drawn into the labor force by 1965. Their number is expected to reach 33,600,000 by 1975. (Total U.S. employment last month was 63,190,000).

That is the bald story statistics tell of women's place in the American scene.

But I see signs of revolt. A man does not automatically rise to give his seat to a woman in public transport and women are not ushered through doors with ceremony.

In plain terms the American male seems to be saying (in hushed tones in the presence of women): "If she wants equality, let her have it."

Traditional American chivalry is not dead, but it has received what may be a mortal blow.

Favor Sales Tax Hike

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Berrien County supervisors favor a half cent sales tax increase to raise money for schools. They approved a resolution calling on the Legislature to raise the present three-cent tax to 3½ cents on the dollar. They noted that the sales tax framework is already set up while other methods for raising school funds would require new administrative and enforcement staffs.

"HOW I LOST 15 POUNDS IN THREE WEEKS the CHEWING GUM WAY!"

by LAWRENCE TIBBETT
Star of the Broadway Musical Hit "FANNY"

I would never have thought it possible to lose so much weight...the chewing gum way. It may sound hard to believe, but I lost 15 pounds in 3 weeks by chewing FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71.

You see, I was asked to take the leading role in the Broadway Hit, "Fanny". But I discovered I would have to slim down before going on stage. I really had a problem! Like everyone else who has been overweight, I was anxious to lose, but I had all sorts of prejudices about how to go about it. I had ideas about reducing pills and special diets with calorie counting, that had to be watched all the time, and, personally, I don't work well when I feel hungry. I like to exercise. But when you are busy rehearsing for a play, there is no time for stringent exercise.

Then I heard of FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71... a pleasant tasting special chewing gum for reducing. It sounded impossible, reducing this chewing gum way. Still, I had to lose weight, and quickly...so I gave it a try. Surprisingly, it worked! And, fast, at that! Inside of three weeks, I had lost fifteen pounds! And the amazing part about it... I was not aware I was losing weight. I lived my normal everyday life.

This is how I went about it: Just before each meal, I would chew two pieces of FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71. When I sat down at the table a few minutes later, I had the feeling my appetite was satisfied. I enjoyed my favorite foods as much as ever... but I did not have the urge to overeat, which I usually had in the past. FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71 had curbed my appetite, yet allowed me to feel satisfied. And whenever I became hungry between meals... I would pop a piece of Formula 71 gum in my mouth to discourage snacking.

FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71 has done such a wonderful job in helping me to reduce, that I have recommended it to many friends. Believe me, FERGUSON'S FORMULA 71 is the answer for anyone and everyone with an overweight problem. I know that once you have tried it, you too, will be as pleased with its results as I am.

This newspaper is quite interested in one unexpected side light in the aftermath of Charles Van Doren's remarkable and sensational television experiences.

Along with all the Joe and Clarissa Doakes, we bow before the personable young man and express great delight in his accomplishments. However, one unusual angle is slowly emerging as the dust settles.

The United States Department of Internal Revenue already has its sights on the young man's take. Van Doren ran his amazing winnings to $129,000.

U. S. taxes gobble $95,000.

New York State claims $8,983.

This leaves Charles around $25,000 for his dazzling performance. The interesting factor lies in the number of loyal Americans who have arisen and protested against so large an assault on Van Doren's winnings.

The same people paid little heed when industrialists or other business people were gouged accordingly, but now that a popular hero faces the same fiddler, the tune seems excessive. Perhaps Van Doren is driving home a fact that has long been in existence but which people have simply failed to comprehend.

One letter writer to a New York paper cries out indignantly: "and for what reason does the Government take so crushing a bite from Van Doren? Do they intend to put TV sets in the Hottentot homes? One ticket to the moon, please."

The excessive and oppressive tax rates in effect today are discouraging and almost demoralizing. The Federal Government MUST cut down its expenditures.

The populace is fed up.
The people are not in sympathy.
They're ready to rebel.

Corn Bill Defeated Along Party Lines

An Administration backed bill to limit corn production and bolster prices was defeated in the House by a flareup of partisanship in the powerful farm bloc.

Urban members of both parties united against the corn subsidy proposal and farm Representatives split along party lines. Cotton belt congressmen felt that the Administration had poured soil bank money into the corn belt in 1956 to influence the farm vote.

Defeat of the bill, experts believe, will result in a big corn crop, low corn prices, heavy feeding of hogs and cattle and low livestock prices. This will mean low prices in the cities and low incomes on the farms.

House Republican whip Leslie C. Arends says that the Democrat majority has the responsibility for the almost impossible situation that confronts the corn farmer. Probably it is too late for any new legislation this year. Corn crops will be planted and growing in a few weeks.

The depressing effect of the bill's defeat will become apparent just before the 1958 election. Democrats no doubt hope to turn it to their advantage.

Reds' Goal Unchanged

At the request of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has submitted a report on the recent 16th Communist national convention in New York City.

Pointing out that the non-Communist press was barred from the convention, Mr. Hoover said that slanted reports of the proceedings later were released. From the detailed information given to the committee it is apparent that the FBI had sources of information at the Communist meetings.

Despite propaganda to the contrary the U. S. Communist party "is still responsive to the will of Moscow; still works for the destruction of the American way of life," reports Mr. Hoover. "Should it succeed in further hoodwinking certain people as it has with some success since the convention, then it will emerge stronger than it ever was and more dangerous to the peace and security of the United States."

The party's new look and program are designed to help the American Communists to regroup and develop a militant party to accomplish its "historic mission" of destroying American freedoms.

Mr. Hoover again has sounded a warning that our U. S. Communists are back in business with the very same bill of goods under a different label. Surely no one can think otherwise.

The Man About Town

Oakland Oddities

Items About Our County Out of Ordinary Trends

Committee: Often an uninspired group of the uninformed, doing the unnecessary for the uninterested.

Although Oakland County has 423 lakes, six of its 25 townships have no lakes.

It has no highway that runs directly all the way through it in any direction, neither has Pontiac any street that runs directly through the city in any direction.

Three of the county's rivers, the Clinton, Huron and Shiawassee, all rise within a mile or so of each other, all flowing in different directions, and all having their source from the profusely flowing springs in a single township, very correctly called Springfield.

Its other river, the Rouge has its source in at least 50 branches many of which do not have water the year round.

One fifth of the county's 25 townships have names of only four letters: Troy, Avon, Novi, Lyon and Rose. Waterford Hill is not in Waterford Township, but just over the line in Independence.

The county's terrain is so diversified that at least a dozen communities claim to be "Heart of the Hills" or Heart of the Lakes."

Our many lakes make straight highways quite unknown in a good part of the area.

Regarding the salt and calcium chloride that makes our icy roads safe, but raises the dickens with our chromium, County Highway Engineer suggests that it's better to have our fenders spotted up than knocked off.

New warning posted in many hotel rooms:

"Do not smoke in bed;
The ashes may be your carcass."

Speaking of land values in Pontiac's early days, we find that the records of show that the present side of Waite's was sold in 1822 for $100. Other transfers of 135 years ago included the present site of the postoffice (the whole block) for $125, the present site of the Community National Bank for $150, and lots on the present city hall site for $75 each.

"This gave promise of being a wonderful year," writes

of Clarkston, "until now somebody discovers that 1957 will bring a visit of the 17 year locust. What do you know about it?" We know very little, Blanchard, except that it first started the year we were born, 1877 (two bad events in that year), and if it runs truly in accordance with the 17-year schedule, the next visit will be in 1962. Figure it out for yourself and see if our mathematics is right.

David Lawrence Says:

Anxiety Hampers Allied Relations

WASHINGTON — This might be described as the era of fretfulness and irritation in Democratic countries. Whether it is Britain with her labor troubles and financial strain or America with her public complaining about high taxes and big budgets, the picture would be pleasing to the Kremlin were it not for the fact that Soviet Russia is having her troubles, too.

LAWRENCE

A well-ordered existence, free from anxiety and sacrifices of the fruits of one's labor, would be welcome everywhere, but the facts of modern life—not always understood by peoples generally—point to the danger of a devastating war.

Because every day's efforts to prevent it are not spectacular nor easy to explain too many people in the world go on blissfully thinking we can all get back to "normalcy" by merely wishing problems off the slate.

It is not, therefore, to solve in a few days the big thorny questions of the day but to explain each other's viewpoints on current matters that Prime Minister MacMillan of Great Britain and President Eisenhower have sat down together at Bermuda this week.

TALK FRANKLY

Immediate solutions of knotty problems that face Birtain and America will not come out of such a conference irrespective of how hopefully the official communiques may be worded. By personal contact, frank discussions are taking place that would require weeks of negotiation through ambassadors. The results will be apparent in the months ahead — for Britain and America will work together.

Britain is in deep trouble — financial, economic, military and political. An empire has dwindled as colonies have one by one obtained their independence. Manpower that can be summoned in wartime is available in smaller numbers than ever before. Britain is still a world power and the closest friend America has, but "leadership" in global affairs has passed to the United States, on the one hand, and the Soviet Union, on the other.

Many citizens of this country are totally unaware of and many are only superficially informed about the responsibility that has been thrust on the United States by the events that have followed the ending of World War II. Talk is still heard about "all the money spent overseas being wasted," about trying to "buy allies" and about "meddling in foreign countries."

HAS CHOICE

But the stark fact is that America has the choice of either letting the Soviet Union achieve a commanding position in Asia and Africa as well as in Europe and the Far East, and someday trying to fight alone a combination of Soviet satellites, or else preventing now the prevention of the Communists into the free world.

All this takes money for military purposes and for aid to Allies, but it could take more money and the lives of millions of Americans as well if a world war breaks out.

It isn't a time, therefore, to indulge in carping criticism, as so many British newspapers have been doing lately. Some of their attacks on President Eisenhower personally have been below the belt. This seems like a strange way to "win friends and influence people."

SHOW SYMPATHY

Americans are sympathetic with the plight of Britain and are concerned over the recent decline of the European countries in terms of military potential. Unquestionably there is still a feeling in London that America let both the British and the French down in the Suez affair. But the answer lies in waiting for the later acts to unfold rather than in trying to reach conclusions in the middle of the drama.

The United States is moving cautiously in the Middle East but, with the economic leverage possessed by this country, there are signs that the abuses of power by Nasser of Egypt can be cured without involving America or Britain in a shooting war.

Britain needs money. Her military expenses have to be cut because her revenues from overseas trade are being curtailed. Who will make up the deficit in manpower and weapons? Theoretically, it's the United States. But actually the American taxpayer will want to be assured that major responsibility for Europe's defense isn't being shifted to America without the manpower burden and costs being equitably shared abroad.

MacMillan and Eisenhower are old friends. They talk frankly to each other. But what is needed is some frank talk.

What's needed above all else today is a clear explanation of why nations that must have "guns" can't have all the "butter" they want, too.

Dr. William Brady Says:

How Can Medic Diagnose Disease He Can't Define?

In the good old days of horse and buggy practice, I thought I knew rheumatoid arthritis when I saw it. Not that I had the remotest idea as to the nature and cause of it or a plausible indication of treatment. I just followed the teachings of the medical authorities of the day.

BRADY

From my notebooks, I gather that I had not yet discovered that medical authorities sometimes become inebriated with the exuberance of their own verbosity.

To you with chronic joint disability, I say that no medical authority today can or will (1) define rheumatism or arthritis or (2) put his or her finger on or present a specific case for examination and study.

Surely one who prescribes or administers either standard treatment or miracle medicines for arthritis and-or rheumatism should be able to define what he is treating.

WRONGLY DIAGNOSED

I have told you over and over that the diagnosis of chronic arthritis is wrong in most instances for the simple reason that pathological and microscopic examination reveals no sign or evidence of arthritis—inflammation of joint tissues.

I hope it won't confuse you as much as it does me, to read this definition of rheumatoid arthritis given in the Fact Sheet of the "Arthritis and Rheumatism dation (1956)":

"Rheumatoid arthritis is a systemic progressive disease . . . cause unknown . . . onset insidious . . . strikes young and old alike . . . no specific cure has been found . . . About 40 per cent of the rheumatic patients who visit doctors . . . have rheumatoid arthritis. About 30 per cent of all rheumatic patients have osteo-arthritis, known also as degenerative joint disease . . . Nine out of 10 persons past 60 have osteo-arthritis . . . About 97 per cent of all persons who live beyond middle age come down with rheumatic disease . . .

But even though the cause of chronic joint disability is "not known" the businessmen of medicine will continue to string along with the latest wonder drugs and whatever trick diet the popular magazines are featuring this season.

'Don't Give Aid 'til Integrated'

If the Federal Government gives aid to schools, we certainly hope it doesn't include those states that resist integration. Why should our tax money go to a southern school that defies the Constitution and refuses to let Negro children attend the same school with the whites?

Why should our tax money be used to build two schools when one would do the job if all children were allowed to go? We don't do that up here.

If the southern states want to battle that out, that's their business, but we haven't any desire to provide the money to help them in their un-Christian attitude.

I sometimes wonder if people know what they're talking about. If you would visit many European cities you would see thousands of pigeons, and the cities are a lot cleaner than a lot of American big cities. Almost all people of our United States love sports of one kind or another. There are many people who still like fox hunting, but there are a few who seem to resent it and go to almost any lengths to prevent it, even shooting the dogs with deer rifles if they chase a fox across their farms.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

See What Compliments Can Do

Read Verna's final report. It offers the proof of the pudding. God expects us to help make our own dreams and prayers come true. So quit being a Doubting Thomas. Try the tested psychological prescriptions outlined daily in this clinical column. You can make Earth far more Heavenly in 30 days, so why not do so?

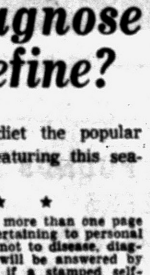

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-335: Verna W., aged 16, is the unhappy high schooler who said life wasn't worth living because of a little fuzz on her lip.

So I sent her forth with a new perspective, plus the specific psychological prescription of paying three sincere compliments per day for 30 consecutive days.

Three days later Verna telephoned me, as follows:

CRANE

"Well, Dr. Crane, I paid a compliment per day to each of three classmates," she added.

"It was very difficult the first day, for I hesitated to approach a boy and speak first.

"In fact, it was worse than having to make a talk in public speaking class. I couldn't get up my nerve the first day till lunch period.

"Then I sat across from one of the boys on our basketball team. He was wearing a pretty tie, so I told him I liked it very much."

REPARTEE FORMULA

"That's splendid," I praised her, "but what did the boy reply?"

"Oh, he blushed a little and just said 'Thanks'."

Next time go a little further and fade out with a question mark," I cautioned her. "Then he may return your cue so you can develop a dialogue and thus get better acquainted.

"For example, in addition to complimenting him on his tie, add the query: 'Where did you get it'?"

Verna thanked me for this new idea and must have applied it at once, for at the end of the first week, she telephoned me a second time.

"That some boy sat across from me at lunch Friday," she began excitedly.

"He was wearing a different tie, which had a very interesting design in it, so I complimented the design but this time I asked him where he got it.

And he said his younger sister had given it to him for his birthday. Well, I asked if she was in high school, and before long we were chatting like old friends.

"And what do you think, Dr. Crane?" she added delightedly. "He asked to take me to a movie tonight."

To make a quick summary, by the end of the 30-day period, Verna was dating this boy regularly. And other classmates were greeting her with smiles.

She was invited to join a girl's club and life had taken on a very rosy hue.

"Dr. Crane, I never would have believed it possible," she added. "Why everything is changed in just one month.

"I am not as shy or timid about speaking to strangers. And I have a lot of friends.

"And this boy is wonderful. I had never had a date before in all my life; yet your 'Compliment Club' got me a date the very first week."

Well, readers, it may not always work that fast in every case, but it will certainly produce a miraculous change in your social outlook, as well as your zooming number of new friends. So try it.

Many classrooms have adopted it en masse and some entire high schools have done likewise.

It is also ideal for a Sunday school project.

Some personnel departments have likewise used it to get rid of sourpuss faces and promote a sunshiny atmosphere.

So send for the "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It can be the starting point for a new life for you right here on this earth.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

African Nears Goal of Becoming Doctor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A young African who arrived here six years ago with 3 cents announced plans today to establish the first all-native hospital on the Dark Continent.

He hasn't got the money. But he has overcome one obstacle after another to go through Stanford University Medical School and to win the moral support of several prominent Americans, including Dr. Ralph Bunche, U.N. undersecretary, and Chester Bowles, former U.S. economic stabilizer.

This persistent young man is Mungai Njoroga, born 30 years ago near Nairobi, Kenya, East Africa. Mungai will get his M.D. degree in June and will intern for a year. Then he will be ready to begin work on his lifetime ambition.

PFC Wins Argument, General's Wage Enough

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)— Assemblyman Thomas M. Reese, a combat rifleman in Europe in World War II, objected when a bill came before the Assembly Ways and Means Committee to increase the salary of Maj. Gen. Earle M. Jones, state adjutant general.

Former Pfc. Rees said the proposal to increase Jones' National Guard pay from $15,544 to $17,244 a year "is out of line with the duties he has."

The committee refused to approve the bill.

1,200 Drug Firms

NEW YORK—There are about 1,200 drug manufacturers and distributors in the United States, serving close to 200,000 physicians and 53,000 pharmacies. The industry produces about $2,000,000,000 worth of medicines each year.

Expect Opening for Deer Season

Straits Bridge on Time

LANSING (AP)— The Straits of Mackinac Bridge will be open to traffic in time to accommodate hunters who will head for the Upper Peninsula for the November deer season, the chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority said.

In a letter to Gov. Williams and other state officials, Prentiss M. Brown said that "barring unforseen circumstances our contractors will have completed enough of their work to permit bridge operation" when the deer season opens Nov. 15.

Finishing touches, such as cable-wrapping and painting, he said, will be continued through the summer of 1958.

Original target date for opening of the 100 million dollar bridge was Nov. 1.

Brown said the authority does not plan any elaborate dedication ceremonies for the Novermber opening.

DEDICATE LATER

"The weather at the Straits is not generally conducive to that type of activity at that time of the year," he said. "However, dedication ceremonies will take place in late June of 1958 at which time we plan appropriate ceremonies to dedicate the linking of Michigan's two peninsulas."

Accompanying Brown's letter was the 12th quarterly progress report on the bridge. It showed that 80 per cent of the major work on the bridge has been completed and on schedule.

Since the last report, the report said, cables have been spun and mounted with cable bands; truss bands from both shores have been erected to within 325 feet of the main anchor block, and concrete for roadways and sidewalks has been placed on the truss bands for nearly half the length of the bridge.

The suspension span will be erected this summer when both the anchor blocks and the decks also are scheduled for completion, the report said.

Foundations for approach viaducts on both sides were erected last year and the steel superstructure and decks will be placed this summer.

Construction of approach highways from both the north and the south is moving ahead on schedule, the report said.

Brown said the authority has agreed to give employes on the straits ferry service the first crack at jobs on the bridge. However, he added, even during peak operation the authority can employ only a small fraction of the ferry workers.

Teamster Official Crosby on Bond for 5 Indictments

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Clyde C. Crosby, top Teamster Union official in Oregon, was free on $5,000 bond today after his arrest on five indictments returned by a vice-probing grand jury last summer.

The fifth accuses him of swearing falsely before the previous grand jury that he had seen Joseph P. McLaughlin, Seattle cardroom operator, only twice and believed he had not had any dealings with him.

The others accuse him of accepting a bribe from Portland gambler Big Jim Elkins, of conspiring to commit a felony, of extortion and conspiracy to extort.

The bribe and conspiracy charges stem from Crosby's former position as a member of the city commission which was to select a site for Portland's proposed eight million dollar sports center. He is accused of planning to use his influence to make a profit by placing the center at a certain site.

Nine Precincts Added in County

Expansion in Oak Park Causes Larger Number in April 1 Election

There will be nine new Oakland County precincts in the April first election.

They occur in rapidly-growing Oak Park, where the total number of precincts now is 20, the county clerk's office said.

However, one precinct was lost last election in Troy Township, which no longer is a governmental unit.

The figures raise the total number of county precincts from 249 last November to 257.

The clerk's office figured this spring's registration will be about the same as last fall's record 312,731 voters.

Increases in registration since last November probably have been offset by clearing of the rolls, it was figured.

To Reign at Jackson

JACKSON (AP)—Marilyn Lytle of Munith, Stockbridge High School student, was selected from a field of 11 candidates as dairy princess of Jackson County.

Bob Considine Says:

Jock Whitney Takes Job Seriously

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (INS)—John Hay Whitney, United States ambassador to the Court of St. James, got what he considers some excellent advice from a Laborite member of Parliament the other day in London before flying to Bermuda in the same plane as British Prime Minister Macmillan.

"You are a politician now," the MP told the 52-year-old multi-millionaire. "It is not enough for you to keep your nose clean as a standard ambassador. You must get out into the country and get your hands dirty."

Whitmey intends to do just that as soon as he attends to the considerable burden of meeting his opposite numbers in London's almost endless list of embassies.

This ritual began less than two weeks ago when he presented his credentials to Queen Elizabeth II, whom he found gracious in the extreme. Then he began making formal calls on his fellow ambassadors beginning with the Norwegian dean of all the diplomatic corps there.

With return calls this will involve well over 100 formal meetings which could spread over weeks or months. But to attempt to avoid this ancient practice would be diplomatically catastrophic.

GREAT SERIOUSNESS

Whitmey takes his job with great seriousness. "I studied at the State Department for several months before going over," he told us between the Eisenhower - Macmillan meetings.

"I'm still studying," he added. "There's so much you've got to know daily. The studying phase of the job will never end I guess."

Whitmey takes over his new role in life hitherto devoted to business, banking, the film world jand thoroughbred racing at a touchy stage in Anglo-American relations. We asked him if he had personally noticed any of the press.

"They couldn't treat me better," he said. "But there's no use denying that on some basic issues our two countries no longer see eye to eye. That breach must be healed."

Whitmey described his new day for us. It begins before 9 when the night's decoded cables are laid before him. Five or six will need immediate action involving a call to Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd or conferences of Whitmey's embassy staff.

EMBASSY ROUNDS

He is trying to meet as many people as quickly as possible so there is always a business luncheon, after which he must make the rounds of the other embassies by pre-arranged schedule.

Then back to work at the embassy until dinner, which also affords him the opportunity to meet people he feels he must know better in order to do his job well.

"We just haven't had time to start on the social bit yet," he said, not without a look of relief.

Ambassador Whitney, although away hardly a fortnight, was hungry for New York news. He learned to his sorrow from this reporter that his friend Toots Shor had been knocked prone on the "$64,000 Challenge."

"No!," Whitney said. "It doesn't seem possible that somebody beat Toots on baseball." We gave him the question on which Toots had lost. He pondered a bit, then said with a sigh, "That would've cost me 16 thousand too."

YALE REUNION

Several members of Yale's Whiffenpoof Singers here on a spring vacation concert tour dropped by to shake hands with Yaleman Whitney. He recalled they had sung at a party given for him just before he took off for London.

"Will you sing with us tonight like you did at that party?" a crew cut boy asked earnestly. Jock Whitney, ambassador, smiled sadly and said, "I guess those days are over."

No Free Rein Seen for Ike

Sen. Sparkman Predicts Congress Won't Loosen Aid Fund Authority

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators Sparkman (D-Ala) and Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said that Congress is not likely to give President Eisenhower any freer hand in his new foreign aid program than he now has.

Administration leaders have said that Eisenhower's forthcoming $4,400,000,000 foreign aid message will carry a request for greater flexibility in dispensing funds abroad to meet changing world conditions.

But Sparkman said he doesn't believe Congress is interested in giving the President any sizable "blank check."

"I assume he will get about the same kind of authority that he has under the current authorization," Sparkman said.

Eisenhower asked and obtained freedom from many restrictions in spending a special 200-million-dollar fund to help stabilize the Middle East. That authority continues until June 30. Eisenhower is expected to ask a similar 200-million-dollar Middle East fund for the coming year.

He also has discretionary use of a 100-million-dollar fund and the power to transfer up to 150 million dollars more to it.

Hickenlooper said that while Congress may provide equal flexible funds for the year beginning July 1, he does not look for any increase in authority.

With its 2,200 employes, the Austrian State Theater Administration in Vienna now constitutes the world's largest theatrical concern, it claims.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

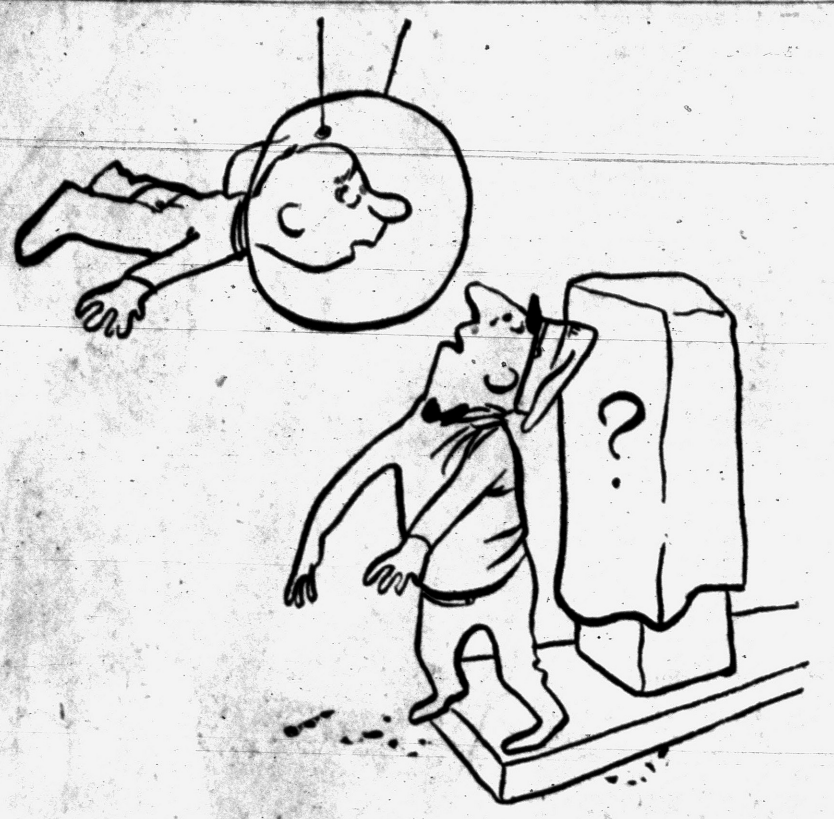

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Widely Separated Quakes Rock Earth for 3 Weeks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Seismologists insists that earthquakes do not come in bunches, but heavy tremors in widely separated parts of the world have made a lot of large black headlines in the past three weeks.

Furthermore, they have occured in quick succession after three years of what the experts call a below-normal period of quake activity.

The sudden flurry began March 1 with a quake in Jamaica which rated as the heaviest there in half a century. On March 4 the San Francisco Bay area, sitting on top of the world's best known earthquake fault, got a mild to moderate shaking.

A big quake hit Greece March 8, destroying 20 villages. The next day another one visited that country, which reported one person killed, scores injured, 350 houses wrecked and 10,000 people homeless.

The Aleutian Islands got the most violent treatment. On March 9 a temblor about the magnitude of the one which destroyed San Francisco in 1906 convulsed the Aleutian trench, a long, deep gash in the bottom of the North Pacific.

Although this quake centered well offshore, the islands of Adak and Umnak were badly shaken. It generated a seven-foot high wave which lapped threateningly at Adak. This wave traveled southward at 500 miles an hour and caused damage in Hawaii, 2,000 miles distant.

Since then the Aleutians have had at least 14 major aftershocks — every one of them big enough to have caused enormous damage if it had hit a heavily populated area.

The earth there is still quivering. And it has been quivering also in southern California. On March 18 a moderate quake shook Ventura and Oxnard, between Los Angeles and Santa Barbara.

To the experts, all this means is a little bulge in the total picture of earthquake activity.

"It is true," said Don Tocher, assistant research seismologist at the University of California, "that there has been about three years of relative quiet so far as big quakes are concerned. But we still have quakes all the time, and when you add up their total energy from year to year the results do not vary significantly."

To all the experts the quiet periods mean only this: "The farther you are away from the last big quake the nearer you are to the next big one. But nobody can figure out where or when the next one will come."

Prentiss M. Brown Reported Recovering

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Prentiss M. Brown, former U. S. senator, was reported by his physician, Dr. Herbert E. Hamel, to be recovering "very well" from a heart attack which he suffered Feb. 6.

Brown's condition is good, the physician said, and he is able to be up and about his St. Ignace home and to go for short rides. He was released from a St. Ignace Hospital March 9.

The council of East London, South Africa, is opposing compulsory pasteurization of milk.

To Vote on Bond Issue

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Mayor Claude VerDuin, explaining a proposed $1,300,000 storm sewer bond issue on the April 1 ballot, says it will cost Grand Haven taxpayers $3 per $1,000 assessed valuation. The project would mean a tax hike of $12 a year for the average home owner on a 25-year bond issue, he said.

Waterford Plays Host to Six Exchange Students

By SANDY WHITE

Waterford Township High School is host this week to six Arthur Hill High students from Saginaw.

These Saginaw students have been guests of six Waterford students, who will represent Waterford in Saginaw for the week of April 1.

During the week the exchange students attended regular class periods and also some of the many activities that took place. Monday afternoon, there was a welcoming reception held to give all students a chance to meet the new guests.

Saginaw exchange students are Mary Day Spadafore, Ray Fischer, seniors; Janet Gage, Tom Evans, juniors; Joan Nash, Roger Olney, sophomores.

Representing Waterford will be Joanne Doyle, Lyndie Salathiel, seniors; Jane Martini, Bill Cole, juniors; Marlene Haviland, Tony Hiller, sophomores.

This program was developed to promote school relations and exchange school ideas.

Committee chairman for "A Date With Sadie" are: Jane Dovletian, Paula Zisman, Judy Moran and Milton Meilke.

This is a sophomore dance scheduled for tonight when the girls take the fellows. A prize will be awarded to the couple with the most original "Dogpatch" costume.

Future Social Workers voted to "adopt as a sister" a young girl at the State Hospital to provide her with spending money.

Yesterday, Ester Middlewood, director of the State Department of Mental Health Education, and other guests conducted a panel for the social workers' club.

Y-Teens will be out gathering paper for their paper drive tomorrow. Mrs. Edwina Isaacson and Mrs. Mary McGeehee are sponsors of this club.

Discussing to topics of alcohol and narcotics before the Home and Family Living classes last Tuesday, was Police Chief Frank Van Atta. The function of the mind and conditions of the body after the first dose were points discussed.

Coming March 28, 29, 30 is the mystery, "Guest in the House," a dramatics production.

WELCOME TO VISITORS — Waterford High School's Jo Anne Doyle and Bill Cole greeted Saginaw students Tom Evans and Mary Day Spadafore Wednesday. The Saginaw youths are among six who are spending a week as guests of Waterford students in an exchange program. Six Waterford pupils will go to Saginaw, for the week of April 1.

PHS Chooses Honor Students

Groups Sift Candidates to Pick 65 Seniors for National Honor Unit

By JACK HENDRICKSON

This week the new members of the National Honor Society from Pontiac High School were announced. Sixty-five of the 433 June seniors were chosen.

The constitution of the National Honor Society provides that a definite percentage of the Senior Class may be elected to membership from candidates submitted on the basis of scholarship. The percentage does not exceed 15 per cent of the senior class membership.

A list of the eligible students was given to each teacher. From this list each member of the faculty nominated candidates for the final elections. These nominations appeared on the separate nominating ballot.

Along with each nomination the faculty member was requested to make a comment stating a definite reason for nominating particular candidates.

They were also requested to rate the candidates whom they nominate on the three essentials that provide for election to membership: Service, leadership, and character.

A faculty committee representing the varied activities of the school, such as Quiver, Tomahawk, Y-Teens, Hi-Y, cast the final vote on these nominations in a special meeting.

The final vote of this committee was by secret ballot after an informal discussion of the candidates who had been mominated. This vote was either "yes" or "no."

The purpose of the nomination by comment was to give a more definite basis upon which to select candidates. The comments about the students were considered as careful, thoughtful recommendations from the faculty members.

Tots, Teenagers Share in High Style

'Fair Lady' Influences Young Set

Dallas Designers Feature White for Children

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE

Fashions for tiny tots and teenagers take no back seat to mother's high fashion mind down in Dallas. Designers of children's wear have incorporated the latest "Fair Lady" look for their favorite age group.

There's as much white shown for children as there is for women this season. The pastel colors combine with white for "Alice in Wonderland" pinafore costumes.

Capes, which are a spring fashion favorite, are found in miniature versions, too. Drip and dry cottons, so important to mothers, are important children's fabrics.

Facho of Dallas showed big and little sister pinafores of daintiest organdy with dotted swiss pettiblouses and organdy over organdy.

The tiny models walked their way right into the hearts of the visiting editors as they paraded in bustle-backed dresses of dotted swiss, organdy and the wonderful cottons associated with Dallas.

The shirtwaist dress for big sister, mother and little sister had the new sissy look for a more dressy appearance. The slate-and-pencil set wasn't overlooked by this firm which designs many sundresses in polished checked gingham and crease-resistant cottons.

'SHORT' SHORTS

Srader's sportswear features dip 'n' dry cottons and still holds out for the "short" short. These well-fitting shorts are topped with calypso wonder jackets of sailtone cloth.

The calypso look seems to interest the young fry, but we doubt that it will be the "look" for the mature woman. However, one designer maintains that the calypso will replace the sissy look in both women's and teenage styles.

Teenagers' dress lengths are not determined by Dior, according to one manufacturer, they're decided by the teenager. Most of the dresses shown were midcalf length.

Johnston of Dallas showed interesting children's fashions featuring the same wearability which is woven into all Dallas labels. An especially pretty dress featured a removable cape of cotton satin. The dress was of floral printed cotton.

Editors are always delighted with the Green Brothers collection of "fancy pants" and all types of children's lingerie. Ed Green, who narrates the show, talks in an honest-to-goodness Southern drawl about the durability and good looks of Green Brothers "britches and drawers."

FANCY NIGHTIES

The firm designs pegnoirs and fancy nighties of nylon for the wee tot, so she can look "just like mother." There are well finished seams on all of the underthings, and, as Mr. Green says, "You cain't tell the inside from the outside."

This treatment is true of their clothing whether the fabric is nylon, cotton plisse or gingham. And every time you buy a pair of Green's fancy pants for your daughter, her dolly gets a pair, too.

The cape, a spring fashion favorite, comes in miniature versions, too. Here Johnston of Dallas teams a removable cotton satin cape with a floral-printed dress of satin striped cotton. A high midriff matching the cape has an adjustable half belt in back.

Fluffy rows of delicate angel nylon lace provide a fanciful back interest on Green Brothers' "Dolly-and-Me" nylon rumba set. A matching pair for dolly is included as a gift bonus to make a pint-sized mother and daughter coordinate.

TV Will Take Close Look at Lizzie Borden's Story

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS) — Agnes DeMille, Joseph Welch and Lizzie Borden sound like an odd combination, but the choreographer, the lawyer and the ax-murderess will make "trio" on television.

The show is ABC-TV's "Omnibus" and the date is Sunday. The plan is to discuss Lizzie Borden, portray her life and her trial and wind up with Miss DeMille's "Fall River Legend" ballet about the Borden case. Lizzie was accused of chopping up her parents with a hatchet on a hot day in August of 1892.

Miss De Mille explained the Borden - to - Welch - to - De Mille triple play by saying that both she and the Boston attorney, who achieved national TV prominence as the Army's lawyer during the Senate-Army - McCarthy hearings, were "fascinated" with the case.

"Joe Welch," she said during an interview, "is interested in it from the legal point of view and the way the trial was conducted. It's an unsuitable crime for a woman. Women are poisoners by inclination. They'll shoot if necessary, or even push, but they don't like to chop.

AUDACIOUS CRIME

"What absorbs me is the audacity of the crime," Miss De Mille continued, explaining that the details were things they might not have time to televise. "Any number of things could have happened to trap the murderer. It was the luck of the devil.

* * *

"Lizzie lived in that little New England town until her death, but after she was acquitted, nobody in that town ever spoke to her again."

Miss De Mille explained her artist's interest by saying:

"I'm interested in how she did it—I take it for granted she committed the murder. Joe Welch can't, with a legal mind, but I couldn't have done the ballet about an enigma, and I keep wondering what made a decent, God-fearing woman do such a brutal crime."

The show will open with Miss DeMille sitting on a stool next to Welch's stand-up desk. After discussing the crime, the morning of the murder will be reenacted, with life in that house of locked-doors and silent inhabitants brought to the screen.

Then the trial will be reenacted, with Lizzie accused of dealing her 5-foot-tall, 200-pound mother 19 blows with a one-handed, razor sharp hatchet. The actual hatchet used as "Exhibit A" during the trial will be shown on TV.

Then the ballet will provide the summation, with talented ballerina Nora Kaye dancing the lead in the role she made famous.

Reference to such talented dancers as Miss Kaye led to the subject of the ballet in general and whether Miss De Mille would advise youngsters to enter the field.

"I wouldn't advise anyone to go into ballet," Miss De Mille insisted. "It pays nothing and in this country it's a rotten life. But if it's your way of expressing yourself, it's a wonderful life."

Woman Ready for Spring When She's Selected Hat

Instinct Instead of Calendar Tells Her That It's Time to Blossom Out

By RUTH MILLETT

The coming of spring reveals itself in all sorts of ways.

One day she looks in a full-length mirror and thinks, "I ought to lose 5 pounds because I won't be able to use a coat for a cover-up much longer."

Suddenly everything in her wardrobe begins to look drab and dull. She realizes it is because store windows are beginning to blossom with color like the first flowering shrubs.

The postman leaves a fat catalog from a seed house and, even though the day is dark and gloomy, turning its pages she can visualize red roses against a white fence, a new flower bed in a corner of the backyard, and window boxes spilling over with blooms.

A day of sudden, bright sunshine reveals a room needing paint, a slipcover that needs to be replaced, a lampshade that has a droopy look.

HURRIES NATURE

Suddenly she feels the urge to get behind spring and give it a push, to hurry nature a little.

Keeping her fingers crossed against a late freeze she decides to plant a few packages of flower seeds, and that leads to pruning the shrubbery, raking the yard and dragging out the lawn furniture to see if it needs a fresh coat of paint.

She then decides her hair looks terrible and makes an appointment for a permanent. And the permanent calls for a look at the new spring hats.

It's not until she has the hat selected that she feels ready for spring.

Then she has done her part and is impatient if spring lags along, taking its time. Every gray day becomes a personal affront.

The slate-and-pencil set can now turn to drawing pictures and summer fun in Westway's one-piece sundress made of polished checked gingham and broadcloth. Big carpenter-type pockets reveal a flash of white in the half-belted skirt.

Dad Slaps Carelessness, Not Boy

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Bart had broken the light bulb in his train's new signal tower, and his father had promised to bring him home another one.

Accordingly as dinnertime approached Bart went out to the front steps to watch for his father's car turning into their street. When he saw it coming, he couldn't contain his eagerness.

Running to meet it, he dashed down the steps and into the street just as the truck behind his father's car decided to pass. There was a scream of brakes—and by inches, Bart darted to safety, followed by the truckman's curses.

His father got out of his car. He didn't speak. But he struck Bart two sharp slaps across the face.

Then, still silent, he pushed his shocked son up the driveway into the house where he shouted, "Ella, get this boy to bed! Get him out of my sight where I don't have to look at him!"

Later, when his panic had subsided, he did not apologize for what he had done. But he did explain it.

Sitting down on Bart's bed in the darkened room, he said, "What I hit tonight wasn't you, Bart—it was carelessness in you. If that truck hadn't had good brakes, that carelessness could have lost me my boy. I hated it for scaring me. So I hit it. Can you understand that? Can you understand that I was hitting the carelessness that might have hurt you badly?"

DRAWN TOGETHER

After a minute, Bart said, "Yes."

His father said, "O.K. Here's your new light bulb. Where's your signal tower? Let's see if it fits . . . "

Though the blows had put distance between Bart and his father, the revelation of the feeling behind them drew them together again.

For healthy parents, the feeling behind the blow we give a child is usually fear for his safety. We find him playing with matches—and fear of his hurting himself strikes out at his heedlessness.

But it is never the child we hate; it is his inexperience. We love the child His safety is precious to us. We hit him because it seems less precious to him.

Children readily understand this fear when it's explained to them and forgive us the impulsive blow. When they don't forgive us, it's because we have tried to justify the blow as reasonable instead of frightened.

Excess Probably Caused by Glands

Ask Physician About Hair Growth

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Lately I have noticed a new growth of hair on my face and thighs where I have never had any before. Could this be due to a vitamin deficiency? I would like to know how to correct this before it gets any worse."

A. This probably is due to a glandular change which is natural at your age. You might ask your physician about it. He may feel that you need hormones or that you are taking too many. You can have unwanted hair removed permanently by electrolysis.

Q. "Are chin straps effective in any way or are they just a waste of time?"

A. There is a difference of opinion. Good posture and good muscle tone are most important, but chin straps may help, too. They really do not waste time since you can wear one while you sleep or around the house while you do your work.

Q. "I have been tempted to use a cream to enlarge my bust but I fear it may be harmful. What do you think?"

A. I suggest that you ask your doctor before using one.

Q. "I have been told to use a vinegar and water rinse to lighten my hair but all it did was to ruin my permanent. Why is this?"

A. I think the failure of your permanent must be due to some other factor. I never have heard of a vinegar rinse ruining a permanent. In fact, I myself have used this rinse for years without ill effect on my permanents.

Q. "I am 13 years old, 5 feet 5 inches tall and weigh 113 pounds. My bust measures 34 inches, waist 27 and hips 36. I know I am out of proportion in my waist and hips. I can't wear a tight skirt because it makes me look awful. How much should I lose?"

A. You should not lose much although you are a little on the chubby side. Lose 5 or 6 pounds by leaving off the extras such as candy bars and soda fountain foods and drinks and cookies for a little while. Eat fresh fruit in between meals.

Your figure is really not out of proportion for your age. Your bust will increase and your waistline will slim down as you grow older.

Q. "How old should a girl be before she wears a bra? I have a 34-inch bust but do not wear a brassiere."

A. I think it depends more on the size of your bust than on your age. You will look better with a well-fitted brassiere if you have a 34-inch bust.

Q. "This is very important to me. I am a girl who is going to be 14 soon. I would like to know if I am underweight, and if so, how much? I am 5 feet 4 and weigh 80 pounds."

A. You are 25 to 30 pounds underweight and should gain for the sake of your health as well as your looks. I think you should see a physician for a checkup and follow his suggestions.

Tomorrow: "Watch Your Back View, Others Do Constantly."

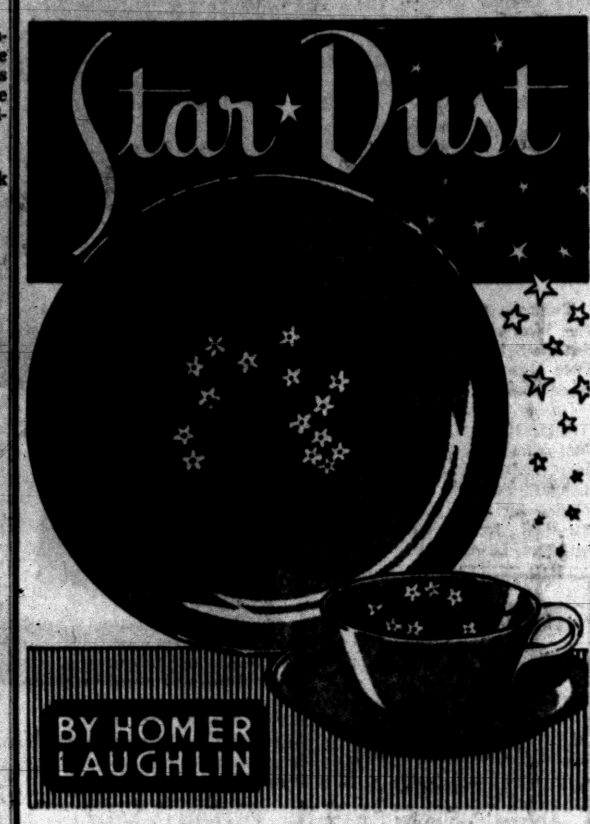

When you should first begin wearing a brassiere depends more on the size of your bust than on your age.

Cabbage Crop Small

Plan Room Decor Wisely

MADISON, Wis. (INS) — Instead of wasting time and straining muscles, have a definite plan before you go rearranging the furniture in a room.

Large pieces of furniture should follow the lines of the room—be parallel to the walls. You can place smaller chairs at angles to the walls, but not directly across the corners of the room.

The furnishings used in a room will harmonize better if they are similar in type. A bulky, heavy chair combines better with a sturdy end table than with a very delicate one.

In planning furniture groupings, remember to keep traffic lanes clear and provide space for opening windows and doors easily—without moving furniture.

Balance is important between the areas of the room. The heavy furniture in the conversation area can be balanced by a large chair, a book case and a lamp in the other end of the room for a reading area.

Quick Bread Can Become a Dessert

Mrs. Mansfield's Date Loaf Sugared for Easy Cookies

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Cake—cookies—or bread: this recipe can become any one of the three. Mrs. David Mansfield's Date Nut Cake can be a simple cake. If baked in a bread tin, it becomes a tea bread. If cut into squares and rolled in confectioners sugar, it can be called a cookie.

The Mansfields have four children, and at times Mrs. Mansfield takes care of another child. Both she and her husband are active in PTA, church and civic affairs. She loves to bake.

DATE NUT CAKE
By Mrs. David Mansfield

1 cup boiling water
1 cup cut up dates
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1¾ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup nuts, cut up

Add dates and butter or margarine to boiling water. Let cool. Add sugar and beaten egg, then sifted flour and soda. Add nuts last.

Pour into greased loaf pan. Bake 45 minutes in 375-degree oven. Use as desired. This is excellent with cream cheese.

Fashion Hint

Taking care of your wardrobe is half the answer to having a wardrobe at all. Make minor repairs at once, have your clothes dry cleaned frequently, keep your shoes polished and in repair.

Shop Must Cater to Public Taste

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The capacity for seeing the other fellow's point of view is not only necessary for a happy social life, but it is equally necessary for success in business.

This is a lesson which Mr. and Mrs. S. learned the hard way.

"We always liked traditional furniture," Mrs. S. told me. "In fact, we used to think that it was the only kind of furniture to buy.

"That was all right as long as we remained private individuals, but it almost caused the failure of a long-cherished dream.

"We had planned to have a business of our own, when Joe retired, and had a pretty good idea what it would be—making and selling lamps.

"Joe is wonderful at making them out of old bottles and vases and I'm pretty good at making the shades. Our own house is beautifully equipped as far as lamps are concerned.

A LITTLE HOME SHOP

"We had to begin our venture in a small way. So since we live on a street which allows businesses, we set up a little shop in our dining room.

"Joe made a lot of different lamps and I fitted them with perfect shades. But there was just one hitch—they were all traditional.

"We had some customers, of course, but more and more people began asking where the modern lamps were. When they found we hadn't any, they would leave.

"At first, we refused to make modern lamps. But then one day we realized our venture was beginning to fail. We had to admit that it was all right to have definite tastes in one's personal life, but that business required a more open-minded approach.

"We went out and shopped the market and studied modern lamps and modern furniture to get ideas. Believe it or not, we found that some modern things are most attractive!

BUSINESS BOOMING

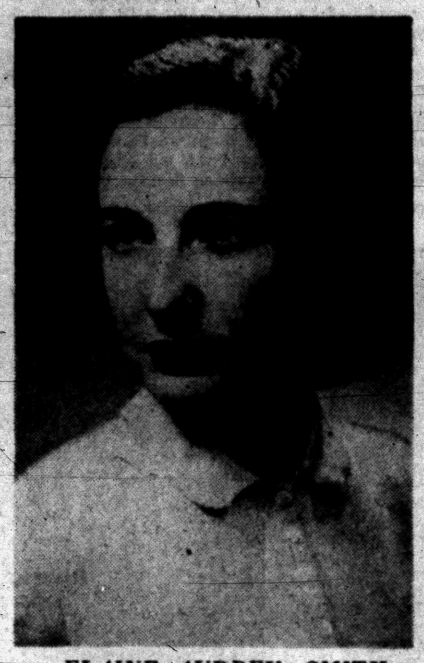

"Now we carry all kinds of lamps, modern as well as traditional, and our business is booming!"

If you are contemplating selling a home product, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my pamphlet on the subject.

Here's How to Wash Foam Rubber Pillow

Foam rubber pillows should be washed in lukewarm soap or detergent suds, using a squeezing motion to circulate suds through the millions of little air cells.

At least three rinses are needed to be sure that no sudsy residue remains. Next, place each pillow between two large bath towels, kneading it to squish out most of the moisture. Then let it dry in an airy place away from heat.

Bathroom Problem?

Here's a suggestion for improving household cleanliness and alleviating a family traffic problem—install an extra wash basin in the bathroom. A father-son or a mother-daughter duo would work out just fine in the morning rush hours. Futhermore, adults could better supervise the soap-behind-the-ears department.

Pupils Display Dramatic Talent

Students with a flair for dramatics were busy this week at area high schools.

The cast of the West Bloomfield High Junior Play was announced last week. They are:

Mary Law, Mother; Sharon Simoneau, Aunt Mary; Sybil Simmons, Connie; Delma Sullivan, Betty Lou; Gloria Miller, Bernadine; Terry Kelly, Wilbur; Barny Goodrich, Hercules; Skip Doyle, Father; Sharon Fuller, Gladis Gooch; Phil Hargrave, Charles "Brains" Burke; and Buddy Domrath, Dr. Jeffrey Gooch.

The play, entitled "If Mother Only Knew," is a situation comedy in three acts. April 4 is the date.

AT WALLED LAKE

The Walled Lake Teen Club held its first rally in the junior high gym March 17.

The meeting was opened by John Westerdale. Police Chief Al Decker gave a brief outline of the need for a teen club. Lloyd Sappington told the group what the teenagers want.

Mayor Charles Riffenburg also told of the need and Frazer Stamen, supervisor of Novi Township, offered his support.

Bob Williams, treasurer of the teen club, gave a report. The club now has $598.

Judy Weaver and Pat Hart did a wonderful job on their dramatic readings, but failed to place because of terrific competition.

AT LAKE ORION

Tryouts for the exchange assemblies were Tuesday night and some fine talent has been discovered.

Seniors received their composite pictures and are having their names on the back. Plans for the senior trip beginning April 7 are complete, and the students are taking care of the financial obligation this week.

Wednesday was Juvenile Decency Day, with all the students showing that courtesy is still a virtue in today's youth.

AT AVONDALE

Avondale High School juniors are holding rehearsals for the Junior Play, "We Shook the Family Tree," to be presented Tuesday, April 9, in the high school auditorium according to Margaret Rose, director.

Members of the Bible Club are soon to receive chorus books. Each member contributed 35 cents for the books.

Girls softball tryouts were started this week with the first practice held last Tuesday night, according to Jacqueline Le Beau, the girls athletic director.

Separation of Powers in Question

Senate Debates Subpoena on Solons: No Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Should a senator respond to a court subpoena in a contempt of Congress case? Should he appare voluntarily?

The issue arose when Federal District Judge Luther Youngdahl granted a defense request for a subpoena for Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) in the contempt trial here of Seymour Peck, New York newsman.

Peck was charged with contempt of Congress after he refused to answer some questions at a Senate Internal Security subcommittee hearing on Jan. 6, 1956. Eastland is chairman of the subcommittee, as well as of its parent body, the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Eastland said he wished to testify and requested the Senate's permission to do so.

Although the subpoena was issued at the request of the defense, Eastland said he expected to appear as a witness for the government.

The senators seemed in general agreement that a senator cannot, under the Constitution, be compelled to respond to a subpoena during a session of Congress.

No one dissented when Sen. Lausche (D-Ohio) said he was sure that there was not a single member of the Senate who was not prepared to give testimony in the interest of justice.

But sharp differences developed over whether the Senate should agree to let Eastland respond to a subpoena.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, said that although he offered a resolution when Eastland told him he desired to appear as a witness, "I can see this could open a very dangerous field."

Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said the "very integrity" of the Senate was at stake. He cautioned against setting any precedent under which the Senate might be "immobilized" by the issuance of subpoenas for its members.

Sen. Morse (D-Ore) called the subpoena issued for Eastland a "challenge" to the constitutional division of powers among the legislative, executive and judicial branches of the government.

In contrast, Sens. Watkins (R-Utah), Stennis (D-Miss) and others contended that when the Senate initiates court cases, it ought not to deprive defendants or the government of any information senators have.

Lloyd, Ideal British Official, Pursues Course Doggedly

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

The proper British public servant blends perfectly into the background, speaks well but not too glibly from the rostrum and seems to have infinite patience with the theory of "muddle through."

Selwyn Lloyd, British foreign secretary, fits this formula nicely. But he has one additional attribute that has served him well in recent months—a trial lawyer's training that helps keep him from being trapped when his case caves in.

When Sir Anthony Eden came under fire for his handling of the Suez crisis, Lloyd was a natural secondary target of the attacks. It was freely predicted that if Eden resigned as prime minister, Lloyd, the man he had appointed foreign secretary would leave office with him.

But three months after Eden's resignation Lloyd remains in the job and is in Bermuda for the conference between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

One of the explanations for his continuation in the office is a doggedness he has displayed throughout his career, a career that might be portrayed on a graph by a long, slowly rising and sudden, vertical upsurge.

Born John Selwyn Brooke Lloyd, he came from a middle class family, was hard-working and ambitious, won scholarships that took him through Cambridge University. From 1930, when he became a barrister, until the war he practiced law and held minor local government offices.

During the war Lloyd became a colonel on the general staff of the British Second Army and before the end of the war he had been elected to the House of Commons. And in 1951, to everyone's surprise, including his own, Sir Winston Churchill appointed him minister of state in the foreign office.

Why do most Americans brush their teeth?

Brushing our teeth has become an everyday habit with most Americans. But did you know that it is not a habit with most of the rest of the world's people? And did you ever think why not?

Through advertising, manufacturers of dentifrices and toothbrushes have for years been urging the beauty, cleanliness and health benefits of their products. Today most of us brush our teeth as a matter of habit — and are better off for doing so.

Advertising — like the advertising you see in the pages of your newspaper — keeps telling people about new or improved products, whether it be dentifrices or dishwashers. Nowhere else in the world is advertising used so effectively and extensively as in the United States — and nowhere else is there so high a standard of living. You are the one who profits most from the good job advertising does so well.

Warts, Migraine, Ulcers Yield to Hypnosis

By JOSEPH R. MARSHALL
INS Staff Writer

"Just as it's midnight you back up against the stump and jam in your hand and say: 'Barley-corn, barley-corn, injun-meal shorts, spunk-water, spunk-water, swaller these warts.'"

That's the way Tom Sawyer successfully cured warts by suggestion. An English doctor did better by "purchasing" warts from children. Now doctors often use suggestion at its strongest, under hypnosis:

"Johnny, will you think about those warts on your hand that you want to get rid of . . . they are going to start disappearing soon. I don't know how long it will take, maybe two weeks. Just nod your head if you think they can disappear in two weeks. No? Well, how about three weeks? All right in about three weeks they will completely disappear." And they will.

Medical hypnosis is perhaps most useful for the general practitioner who must deal with everything from harmless warts to cancer and obesity. "After all," said one G. P., "Like it or not, we have to be psychologists. And every patient is more than just a body. He's a sort of intermingled mind-body with a mental factor in just about every ill."

Medical men almost to a man believe full hypnoanalysis-psychoanalysis augmented by hypnotic techniques—should be used only by trained psychiatrists and psychologists. How then does the G. P. draw the line between hypnosis in psychoanalysis and hypnosis in general medicine?

First he is trained to recognize those suffering from deep-seated mental ills—where psycho-analysis is needed—and he simply doesn't treat them. On other patients—"We are all neurotics to some extent"—he uses many, many variant methods of direct suggestion and symtom switching on a strictly permissive basis.

Thus the vicious cycle, from psychological cause to symptom which produces anxiety and thus adds to the psychological cause, is broken. In many cases just breaking the cycle is enough. When it isn't the patient's unconscious need is permitted another, non-disabling symptom.

Dr. Seymour Hershman of Chicago lectures on the use of hypnosis in general practice in "seminars on hypnosis." He is on the attending staff of Garfield Park Community Hospital.

These are some of the ways he and other general practitioners are using medical hypnosis:

Ulcer sufferers learn in hypnosis how to relax in the face of those problems that create tension and cause ulcers. Result: No more ulcers.

Migraine and nervous headache sufferers have found relief by learning under hypnosis how to control duration of the headache, how to have some other sensation instead of a headache, and finally how to have no headache.

Some terminal cancer patients have learned to produce an anesthesia or analgesia, thus living their last days neither in pain nor in the half-life fog of drugs.

Heavy smokers have learned, subconsciously under hypnosis, to associate smoking with something particularly unpleasant. The result: No more smoking. So also have obesity patients learned to associate overeating with an unpleasant taste or distasteful scene, or become convinced they will be thin. Result: No more overeating.

Children who wet their beds learn to think in new ways about why they wet, to limit or partially control the bed wetting. The eventual result: An end to the bed-wetting.

Women suffering from hypertension—often told to relax but never told how—learn to relax under hypnosis, how to use autohypnosis for the same relaxation at home, and finally, after relaxing when feeling tense, find they don't need to relax for they are relaxing unconsciously.

Patients with bad itching conditions—scratched, picked, disfiguring and painful—learn under hypnosis to change the temperature of the skin, to cool the skin when it begins to itch. Unscratched, the itch clears up.

A boy who bites his nails learns under hypnosis to wonder about which nail he should bite, to control which nail he bites, and finally that nail biting is no longer—subconsciously—important.

Allergy sufferers find relief by learning they can relax when they want or particularly when faced with those things that cause tensions for them. Result: Less allergy.

(Next: Hypnosis, tool of the psychiatrist)

Hard Training Ordered for 'Flabby' Red Troops

LONDON (INS) — Russian soldiers are too fat but they are going to sweat that excess lard off on orders from the Soviet Union's No. 1 military man, Marshal Georgi Zhukov.

Radio Moscow reported today that the Soviet defense minister told a military conference Red army troops are "flabby, physically untrained . . . unable to stand up to the great physical strain of battle."

He ordered intensive physical exercise programs set up for the troops.

U.S. 'Fed Up' With Egypt

WASHINGTON (INS) — Administration officials say the U. S. has "drawn a line of patience" for dealing with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

This means, they said, that any one of three actions by the soldier-dictator would bring the U.S. into action against him. They are:

1. If Nasser marches his troops into the Gaza Strip.

2. If Egyptians resume commando raids across the border into Israel.

3. If the Egyptians attempt to bar Israeli vessels from using the Gulf of Aqaba.

Bitter comments about the Egyptian leader by U. S. officials have increased sharply since Nasser sent civil authorities back into the powderkeg Gaza Strip last week — despite assurances that he would not press this issue.

Some officials said the possibility even has been discussed that Nasser might provoke an "explosion" of anger within the administration if he continues his diplomatic offensive.

CALL SESSION

U. S. strategists did not disclose a definite plan of proposed action, but it was believed the first step would be to call an emergency session of the United General Assembly.

At this session, the U. S. would propose strengthening the U. N. Emergency Force already stationed in Gaza. Then these troops would be ordered — if the Assembly agreed — to take over administrative control of the strip from the Egyptians and put the disputed area under complete U.N. jurisdiction.

Despite this increasing dissatisfaction with Nasser, some U. S. officials still hold out small hope that he will compromise on Gaza, the Gulf of Aqaba and the Suez Canal.

NASSER SYMBOL

This group feels that Nasser is merely the figurehead of Arab nationalism in Egypt and, in some ways, is a prisoner of the political forces represented by the street crowds.

It is hoped Nasser will be able to find a compromise between what the nationalistic forces demand and what the U. N. and the U. S. think are Egypt's obligations.

U. S. officials believe the fragile Middle East peace now rests on Nasser's shoulders.

If he compromises during his discussions with U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold on Gaza, Aqaba and Suez, then a period of stability might be predicted.

If, however, Nasser does not cooperate with the U.N. — officials fear the parade of crisis will only quicken — with another Israeli-Arab war almost certain.

Red Tape Battle Registers Gain

Army Supply Sergeant Buys in Supermarket Style, Only as Needed

FORT LEE, Va. (AP)—The army supply sergeant—a man concerned with bathroom accessories and badminton sets and the thousand and one items in between — has scored a big break-through in the Battle of Red Tape.

A new and simple attack is a key to the break-through. The supply sergeant now picks up his items supermarket style. With no guff and no fuss, he wheels them to a checkout counter in a shopper's cart and puts his purchases on the cuff.

His weapon is a charge-a-plate, much like the one you may use at a department store.

The big quartermaster post and school pioneered the self-service plan more than a year ago. Now 30 or more major Army installations are dispensing low value, high items via the supermarket system.

"About a 75 per cent improvement over the old system, I'd say," was the evaluatiion of an old campaigner in the red tape jungle, M. Sgt. Victor J. Rollins of Jacksonville, Ala.

"What we need we buy now without delay and it's always available, You buy what you want and forget about those things that used to be mandatory for everybody. That means you save the government money in the long run."

By "mandatory for everybody," the sergeant perhaps referred to the old Army-wide custom of drawing supplies up to the allowed hilt and stockpiling them in your organization against leaner times or less accommodating warehouse operators.

The supermarket self-service system has knocked off most of those procedures. Each outfit still has its prescribed allowances but the allowances are in money credit, not specific items.

At the end of each shopping trip, a machine at the checkout counter totals the cost of the sergeant's purchases and subtracts this amount from his outfit's credit balance.

Thomas A. Edison closed down his storage battery plant in Glen Ridge, N. J., because he didn't think the battery was yet perfected. At the time he was doing a landslide business. He worked on the battery for another six years before he allowed the plant to go back into production.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

But How Much Longer Can Patience Last?

U.S. Parries Headstrong Nasser

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Let's keep our shirts on and hope for the best.

That's neither a very positive nor a very imaginative policy, but it seems the only one the Eisenhower administration has had for four years in handling the Middle East.

Through it the United States has avoided a showdown with Egyptian President Nasser while he made threats, seized the Suez Canal, brought Egypt closer to Russia and inflamed Arabs against the West.

There's no reason to think it won't continue to be American policy.

The United States has not yet taken a firm stand on Nasser anywhere along the line except for blocking Egyptian assets in the United States and imposing some minor economic restrictions.

The administration can give several reasons for its use of patience:

It wants to avoid any action which might precipitate war, to keep Arabs generally friendly to the West and away from Russia, and to achieve good ends by reasonableness, no matter how long it takes.

But this policy of patience and no firm stand so exasperated Britain, France and Israel, all three of which wanted action against Nasser, that they invaded Egypt.

It is a policy which will turn out all right in the end if Nasser decides to play nice or if he makes himself obnoxious to his fellow Arabs and Egyptians by needless arrogance or dragging them into new crises.

There's no evidence at this time that either will happen. Nasser's doing all right. He has the support of Egyptians, Arabs and Asians. Since the invasion and closing of Suez he has been under economic pressure but it isn't killing him.

All he had to do for months — after the British-French-Israeli invasion — was sit tight, keep his mouth shut, promise nothing, and watch the United States struggle to get its three friends out of Egypt.

Because Israel was the invader, the United States took the position it was in no position to demand or get guarantees against future aggression by Nasser. By this reasoning, the United States could make no demands on Nasser.

This left him free, once the Israelis cleared out, to resume where he had left off. He started pushing his luck at once. When the Israelis quit Gaza, which the U. N. had assigned to Egyptian administration, the United Nations troops took over there.

Right away Nasser argued the U.N. had no right to run Gaza. He sent in his own administrators—but not troops—to do that, thus starting to push the U. N. forces up to the line which seperates Gaza from Israel.

The U. N. troops are supposed to stay there indefinitely to prevent invasion across the line by Israelis or Egyptians. If Nasser feels strong enough to push his luck futher, he may demand the U. N. troops get out of Gaza altogether.

Small Type in Contract Results in Legislation

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Ever wonder what inspires a law?

Assemblyman S. C. Masterson told his colleagues his eyes aren't as good as they used to be.

He said he recently found the type on a conditional sales contract too small and had to get his law partner to read it.

The Assembly then passed Masterson's bill to require type on such documents to be at least six point in size—about the size usually found in newspaper classified ads.

Would Pare $3 Million From Proposed Foreign Aid Expenditure

Cut Budget Sharply or Face Inflation, Says Sen. Byrd

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va) says President Eisenhower's budget, unless cut sharply, will begin "another spending spree which will continue inflation and increase the cost of living."

Denouncing the Eisenhower budget as "dangerous in the extreme" and "the worst yet," Byrd told the Senate yesterday it represents "a complete reversal of the retrenchment policy to which this administration pledged itself."

Byrd, who previously had called for a five-billion-dollar budget cut, upped that figure to 6½ billions.

In general, he said three billions from foreign aid and 1½ billions from military-atomic projects.

He said 1½ billions of the foreign aid cuts should come from economic assistance funds and half a billion from military aid.

Eisenhower's record peacetime budget contemplates spending of $71,800,000,000 and new appropriations of $73,300,000,000.

Byrd said the 1½-billion-dollar saving in defense-atomic appropriations could be accomplished by "squeezing out waste." He said such a cut still would leave $39,000,000,000 in new appropriations for these programs, plus over 40 billions in unspent balances from previous appropriations.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview he hopes growing demands for budget cuts will not lead to what he termed "reckless raids" on Eisenhower's $4,363,000,000 foreign aid program.

Smith said that if Congress swings a "meat axe" on foreign aid "our own national security might be jeopardized."

Byrd's call for a slash in defense funds was echoed today by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. In testimony prepared for a House Appropriations subcommittee, Perry M. Shoemaker said at least 1½ billions can be cut from the defense budget without "in any way impairing our national security."

Shoemaker, president of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, also suggested that another 235 millions could be cut from the Navy's shipbuilding program. The biggest item he criticized was a Navy proposal to spend 200 millions on another supercarrier. Such a vessel, he said, may be vulnerable to air or submarine attack.

Cutback Caused Polio Shot Shortage, Surgeon General Tells House Group

WASHINGTON (INS)—The head of the U.S. Public Health Service testified today that production cutbacks have exhausted manufacturers' stocks of Salk polio vaccine.

Surgeon General Leroy F. Burney added that vaccine companies that prospects for the coming are new stepping up production but months are "not good enough."

Burnery admitted before a House subcommittee that he knew last fall of the production slowdown, but said that demand had fallen off and "we did not disagree."

The surgeon general added: "It would have been difficult, if not impossible, to forecast the current shortage."

GIVE PRIORITY

The public health official, describing the situation as a temporary "crisis," urged postponement of plans to encourage inoculation of young adults in the 20-39 age group. He said priority should be given to youngsters under 20 and expectant mothers.

Burnery was reminded by subcommittee Chairman L. H. Fountain (D-NC), of his statement March 6 that vaccine supplies were plentiful. He replied that there was 'a sudden step-up in demand around mid-February.

On Jan. 15, he testified, manufacturers had on hand about 15 million doses of unused vaccine, but in the following three weeks they sold out completely. Since then, he said, 10 million, 500 thousand doses of new supplies have been sold, leaving manufacturers with virtually no inventory.

HALF SUPPLY

As of March 17, he testified, states still had about half of this supply on hand.

Burnery told the subcommittee that about 45 million doses of vaccine will be produced between now and Jan. 1. Asked whether this meant prospects for the future are good, he replied, "not good enough.'

The surgeon general said that about 77 million doses of vaccine were shipped throughout 1956 and that between 75 and 80 million shots will be available for the first six months of this year.

SUPPLIES LOW

But he added that "the situation as of today can be summed up briefly—supplies low, demand heavy."

Physicians say the first of the three-shot series must be taken before April 15 in order to provide immunity by the time the epidemic season arrives.

The veteran public health officer said that as of March 15, only about 11.5 million men, women and children have had the full recommended course of these Salk shots. There are about 108 million persons in the priority age group.

Police Reckon Formula, Throw Book at Driver

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—One traffic light pole, one electric light pole, one mailbox, a set of stone steps, a store front (on three occasions), two parked cars — all were knocked down or otherwise displaced by 18-year-old Lovey Berger.

He gave police this formula: a spat with his girl, remorse, a bottle of wine, a half-gallon of beer, a pint of whisky and a 1947 automobile.

Pick 'Miss Orion of 1957'

The queen is the daughter of the Howard Sanfords of 600 Longpoint Dr. During the evening she wore a jeweled coronation robe and rhinestone tiara crown.

ANNOUNCE GIFTS

Announcements of gifts to the Community Center were made. They include a gift of 40,000 bricks by the Fred Ruge Real Estate; all the glass by Joseph Benz; $200 from Artoco Co.; $25 from Lake Orion Motor Sales; $10 from Oxford Motor Sales and $5 from the M. C. Manufacturing.

The fashion show began in a chapel scene, complete with altar and trimmings. Bridal parties representing the simplest to the most elaborate wedding costumes were presented.

After an intermission, the scene was converted to a patio. It was complete with beach chairs, umbrella table, and huge potted daffodils. From this setting the remaining models appeared, wearing bathing suits, casual beachwear and vacation clothes.

Jim Bushman, proprietor of Ellens Shop, which presented the fashions, was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Catherine Birch announced the models and pointed out highlights of the costumes. The program coordinator was Mrs. Harry Shoup with Mrc. Bernice Hinz as organist.

Refreshments were donated by S & W Products, Sheldons Restaurant and Walthams Bakery. It was announced that proceeds from the queen contest and ticket sales totaled $866.

To Pay Tribute to Area Canal

Historical Commission to Cite Ill-Fated Spot Near Rochester

A canal which would have made Pontiac a Great Lakes port will receive a tribute.

Sometime this summer the Michigan Historical Commission will erect a large cast aluminum map-type marker in Bloomer State Park No. 2 near Rochester, showing the route of the ill-fated Clinton-Rochester Canal from Mt. Clemens through Pontiac and across Michigan to the Kalamazoo River's mouth.

The canal, begun in July, 1838, at Mt. Clemens, was completed only as far as Rochester in 1843. Work was slowed down and finally ceased as a result of difficulties in selling bonds to finance it. These difficulties were largely the result of hard times, historians recall.

Plans had called for enlarging the bed of the Clinton River through Pontiac and through a chain of lakes to the Huron River, thence westerly across Michigan.

The death of the Clinton-Kalamazoo Canal represented the end of the ambitious scheme for having the state underwrite such internal improvements as canals and railroads. Private enterprise came to the fore in the form of privately-owned railroads, and today only weed-grown gulleys and embankments remain of a scheme which all but ruined a new state.

Prexies Push for Tuition Hike

But State Legislators Balk at Proposal by 3 School Heads

EAST LANSING (AP)—Heads of the three largest state universities tried last night to barter a 25 per cent tuition increase to legislators for a sizable boost in state treasury appropriations.

Their bargain was received with skepticism.

Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City), House Ways and Means Committee chairman, said:

"I don't like the 'deal' intimation and we don't know whether that is the way we are thinking."

Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, spoke for his own institution, along with Michigan State University and Wayne State University, after sitting down to dinner with the lawmakers.

GROUP MEMBERS

Representing the legislature were members of Engstrom's committee and the Senate Appropriations Committee, headed by Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield).

In his bid for an understanding, Hatcher first proposed agreement on the proposition that a formula be fixed providing for the universities to provide 20 per cent of operating costs out of fees.

The legislature would dig up the other 80 per cent.

For the 1957-58 budget year, he said, the universities were willing to jump tuition rates by one fourth, assuming a meeting of minds.

Plan $1,250,000 Center for Lawrence Institute

SOUTHFIELD — Plans for a Student Activities Center, including fieldhouse facilities, are announced by the Lawrence Institute of Technology. This will be the second group of buildings on the college's new 65 acre campus on Northwestern highway and Ten Mile road.

The cost of the Student Activities Center, a four unit group, will be approximately $1,250,000 according to Dr. E. George Lawrence, president. There will be a two-story unit 280 feet by 60 feet containing offices, classrooms, library, lounges and an auditorium seating 300. This and a gymnasium, 120 feet square, will form the two basic units. The smaller connecting units will house ticket offices and lobby, lockers, showers and storage.

Dr. Lawrence, already faced with a capacity enrollment of 2800 students in the present facilities, said that the new student center would enable Lawrence Tech to almost double its enrollment to approximately 5,000.

Design and detailed drawings have been completed by Earl W. Pellerin and James Bennett Hughes, associated architects, who are faculty members of Lawrence Tech's department of architectural engineering.

The dome of the gymnasium will be constructed of thin shell concrete resting on four piers making it an absolute clear span roof. The gymnasium will have a seating capacity of 2000 for basketball games and for 3500 when it is converted into an auditorium with a stage at one end.

Student Activities Center will be 500 feet north of the present Lawrence Tech buildings. Entrance will be on Northwestern highway, with the gymnasium unit adjoining the present large parking area to the north.

Dr. Lawrence said the schedule calls for construction to begin early in 1958. A drive to complete fund raising for the Center is being carried on by students, alumni and faculty under the direction of Don Ridler.

Lawrence Tech, now celebrating its twenty - fifth anniversary, moved from its quarters in Highland Park to its new campus and buildings in September, 1955.

Land Purchase Snarl Continues

Violation of Department Hiring Rules May Be Fault of Right-of-Way Buyers

LANSING (AP) — Two state right-of-way buyers may be called to restate their case on a $90,000 land purchase deal today in the wake of an admission by their boss that they might have violated department rules in the transaction.

Attorney Barnard Pierce said yesterday he would ask to cross-examine Everett A. Wells, assistant director of the highway department's right of way division, and Frank T. Kennedy, assistant to the chief right of way buyer. The two men were the first to testify in an investigation ordered by Gov. Williams to learn why the highway department agreed to pay $90,000 for a 2½ acre plot near Grand Rapids that was appraised two years ago at $11,800.

Pierce, attorney for Deputy Highway Commissioner George M. Foster, said he wanted to question the pair in an effort to untangle differing testimony on an appraisal made in the deal.

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler said yesterday that on the basis of their testimony, Wells and Kennedy conceivably had broken a department rule. The rule, he said, states that appraisers employed by persons whose land is to be taken for highway projects may not be employed by the department for an appraisal on the same property.

Wells and Kennedy testified under oath last Friday they had hired Harry F. Fuller of Grand Rapids to appraise the disputed property knowing he had been hired by Darling Freight Lines, Inc., the owner, to do the same for the company. The property was to be traded by the highway department to Consumers Power Co. for land which lies in the path of an expressway project near Grand Rapids.

Fuller's original appraisal came to $141,650, considerably more than those of two other appraisers hired by the state. One, William T. Broersma of Grand Rapids, set the property's value at $11,800 in December, 1954, and at $16,500 last January. The other, Ward S. Van Deusen of Detroit, came up with a $31,200 figure.

Ziegler, testifying during the fifth day of a hearing called by Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski, said he had little knowlenge of details of the case "since I can't personnally investigate the thousands and thousands of land appraisals that we must make."

But he said he had been told that the two land buyers had not hired Fuller for an appraisal but had merely asked him for a copy of his appraisal.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Joseph A. Sullivan got Ziegler to admit that in that case they would have violated another department rule which forbids the state to pay more for land than the highest valuation placed on it by a state-employed appraiser.

Sullivan said he expected to hear today from the last of more than a dozen persons subpoenaed to testify in the investigation. They include Fuller, Foster and L. E. Brillhart, director of the right of way division.

ANCIENT ROME

5. A Roman Game

Wrestling, races and rough games were favorite pastimes for a Roman boy.

Pictured here is a form of Roman wrestling that we learned about from carvings on stones and decorations on walls. It is similar to the game we call Indian wrestling.

Two boys stood toe-to-toe with a laurel branch on the ground between them. Each grasped the ends of two heavy sticks fastened together with a short length of rope. They tugged and pulled at these joined sticks, each trying to knock the other off balance. If one stepped over the laurel branch, he lost the match.

Although the game was all in fun, each boy took it seriously and did his best to win.

Paste this picture on cardboard and color with crayons. Cut out the parts carefully. Attach the figures to the base with a brass fastener pushed through the indicated holes. Fold back the ends of the base and rock the boys back and forth as if they were pulling each other in the game.

Illinois Gets 2nd Bid on Hodge's Hotel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. portion of the St. Lawrence Seaway is 30 per cent complete, officials say.

The St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., the agency created by Congress to construct and maintain the 27-foot-deep waterway, said the overall completion figure is based on contractors' earnings and government costs through February.

The corporation said excavation and pile driving were major items of work performed last month. Additionally, about 285,000 cubic yards were excavated for both the Eisenhower and Grasse River locks and about 310,360 cubic yards on the main portion of the long Sault Canal.

Lock contractors, the corporation said, are making preprations to resume concrete work as soon as warm weather returns to the International Rapids section of the St. Lawrence River.

The new Governor of West Bengal, India, Miss Padmaja, declares that military training should be made a compulsory part of education there.

Pot-O-Gold Still Waiting for Solution

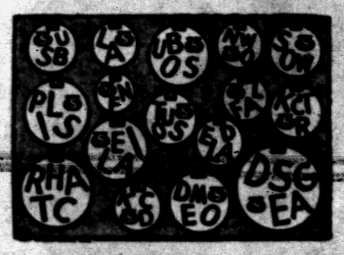

Here's another chance at the money in Pot-O-Gold, this week worth $400 if a winner isn't found for Puzzle No. 41. Get the whole family busy on ideas for the solution, and yours may be a winner. Just be sure to read the rules and clues carefully. You don't want your right answers disqualified.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

Time Has Come to Start Plans

Careful Research Gets Best Garden Results for Enthusiast

By HENRY PREE
Written for NEA Service

With garden activity restricted to the easy chair and supervision of house plants there is little the home gardener can do but read catalogs, make plans for next year's garden or feast his eyes on the buds of rhododendron, lilac, mountain laurel, pieris, and, possibly, a few pansies which fortunately were placed in a sheltered spot of the garden.

However, a real touch of spring can be achieved with the brilliant yellow of the forsythia. You can cut forsythia branches that show plenty of buds and place them in a pail of water in the basement. Within a week or two the buds will start swelling and showing green.

Then bring them upstairs and in a few days they will open into full bloom. In February, bring in branches of flowering apple, peach, plum, almond, and magnolia stellata, and treat them in the same manner. With a few flowering branches, spring is not far behind.

Immediately after heavy snow, use a broom or pole to shake the snow off of evergreens to prevent their being broken down by the weight. Shake the branches from beneath. Do not pull them down so they will break.

If, however, the snow has frozen on, leave them alone, for the brooming or shaking can prove disastrous.

The finest garden is not the one with the greatest variety of plants. Actually, one dozen varieties of perennials and a half-dozen varieties of annuals will prove adequate in even the largest garden.

If climbing honeysuckle has nowhere to climb, it trails along the ground and makes a solid mat. For this reason it is ideal for bank and spots where only weeds flourish. It roots itself as it grows and eventually kills out all other growth. Blossom, berry and leaf are appealing to man, bird and bee.

Most commonly grown is Hall's honeysuckle, lonicera japonica halliana, a vigorous grower which can become a pest. Recommended where space is unlimited.

More adaptable for the home garden is the everblooming honeysuckle, lonicera heckrotti with large, bright, yellow and purple flowers appearing throughout the summer from June until frost.

Equally good, but more rampant in its growth, is the trumpet honeysuckle, lonicera sempervirens. Its orange to scarlet trumpet-shaped flowers appear several months in the summer.

Most Important Plants

Trees are the most important plants of any country, says the National Arborist Assn. They give shade and beauty to the land, provide lumber and chemicals, prevent soil erosion and give shelter to thousands of different birds and animals.

Cutting Gardens Are Advantageous

By EDNA KING MANDEVILLE

It seems to me every year more and more flower gardeners are enjoying the many advantages of a cutting garden. As the name implies, a cutting garden is one in which varieties most suitable for bouquets, vases and bowls are grown. This means sturdy stems of some length and an ability to live for several days in water. Six or eight well chosen varieties will supply ample flowers all summer long for your own home, with some left over for friends and neighbors.

Though a cutting garden is not usually part of the landscaping plan, it can still be a beauty spot. One of the very nicest things about flowers is their natural beauty under all circumstances, whether planted to a carefully considered landscaping plan, or "just planted". This doesn't mean, of course, that a plan is inadvisable, but it does mean that if your flowers are vigorous, with lots of blossoms, you can never go really wrong — and your well tended cutting garden can add beauty anywhere.

Try to locate your cutting garden where there is plenty of sunshine — a plot about 12' by 15' where the seeds may be planted in rows for easy cultivating and picking. If possible, the rows should run north and south, to allow sunshine on both sides, but this is not too important.

In the landscaped garden area, one does not like to pick too many flowers for fear of detracting from the beauty and color arrangement. But in a cutting garden one picks at will with the satisfying knowledge that the picking will actually encourage the plants to bear more flowers. Often varieties are chosen for the cutting garden with the idea of transplanting some of them in the landscaped area.

Most rows must be thinned out when the plants are an inch or two high to insure healthy plants with ample room for normal growth. Thus there'll be plenty of seedlings for both gardens. Transplanting is a lot of fun, and with a little care will produce astonishing results. Later this season, I'm going to devote a whole column to the art of the transplanter, and I hope it will be helpful to beginners and experts alike.

Now a word about the varieties to plant. There are so many possibilities that the matter of choice may seem a little confusing. If you've never tried a cutting garden before, let me recommend the special "Cutting Garden" collection of varieties that you will find at most stores where seeds are sold. This is a giant packet that contains smaller individual packets of six excellent cutting garden varieties: Giant Zinnias, Pampas Plume Celosia, Sensation Cosmos, Sunset Giant Marigold, Pacific Beauty Calendula, and Bells of Ireland.

These six varieties have the distinction of being both colorful and packet features many helpful instructions on the back, including a diagram of a cutting garden. The suitable varieties are by no means limited to the above six, however, and here are some others that I can recommend without reservation: Blue Perfection Ageratum, Blue Bird Anchusa, Aster, Blue Lace Flower, Lemon Beauty Calendula, African Daisy, Larkspur, Marigold, Nasturtium, Petunia, Drummond, Phlox, Scabiosa, Mardi Gras Snapdragon, Sweet Wivelsfield, Verbena, and Giant Hybrid Zinnia.

None of these varieties are difficult to grow, and they are all profuse bloomers. They can all be transplanted when thinning out. Each one is worthy of attention for your cutting garden this year.

It occurs to me that some of you may be interested in the rapidly growing hobby of flower arranging. This can be real art, and many gardeneras find in it their greatest satisfaction. I could not begin to tell you here even a little about it — the subject is a very broad one — altho sometime I may devote a column to the basic principles. However, the following books are among many good ones that should be available at any bookstore or library. A thorough study of one or more of them can go a long way toward sharpening up the natural talents that you may have.

Officer Wants Change in Horse, Buggy Laws

FARMER CITY, Ill. (AP) — Horse and buggy traffic laws still prevail in this country town and patrolman O. W. Reinke wants 'em changed.

The 1915 traffic ordinance set fines at not less than $3 and not more than $50 with collections going to the county treasury. He asks the city council to fix it so traffic fines would be from $1 to $100 and held in the city treasury.

The old law set the speed limit when rounding a corner at six miles an hour, and vehicles moving slowly must keep close to the curb to allow free passage for faster moving vehicles.

Experts Give Pruning Hints for Trees, Shrubs

By WAYNE SIEFERT

A great many of you have at least one apple tree on your grounds, and have wished it were more attractive and more fruitful. We all realize that pruning is only one of the orchard practices which contribute to fruitfulness as well as beauty. But pruning well done is a tremendous stride. It increases fruitfulness by preventing over bearing on alternate years. It reduces the number of small apples because fewer branches are left which can bear fruit. And it allows more exposure of the fruit to sunlight, which makes fruit more brightly colored.

Pruning should be done every year, but these principles apply equally well if you have trees which have not been pruned for some time. The main objectives are to keep the tree low to the ground so it may be easily sprayed and the fruit can be easily picked; to remove unproductive branches which are crowded, shaded and weakened; and to remove broken or dead branches.

The height of trees can be reduced, or kept down by removing a part or all of the vertically growing branches. If they are large (over three inches) you should remove about one-half the first year, the remainder the second or third year, making each cut close to the main branch to avoid stubs. Remove water sprouts, leaving only those which might produce horizontal branches near the same level as the main branches.

Unproductive branches are those which are shaded, crowded, and often growing in a downward direction. Again, cuts should be close to the main branch. After the vertical branches, weak, shaded or crowded branches, and broken and dead limbs have been removed, all cuts over three inches wide should be painted.

Commercial tree wound paints are preferred, but a household paint is certainly better than none at all. Your county agent can help you with a spraying and fertilizing schedule, and hints on pruning of pears, plums and peaches.

Pruning can be done during the summer months, but isn't often practiced because of the leaves and new growth.

Many home owners have either spruce, fir or pine trees planted in their yards as landscaping plants or as specimen trees.

Vigorous, well managed plantings soon outgrow their purpose or become poorly shaped because of large spaces between the branches. Pruning not only increases the beauty of these plants but prevents them from outgrowing their usefulness by becoming tall trees.

The spruce or firs must be pruned during the dormant season. The terminal or main shoot should be cut back to a length of eight inches. Side branches and laterals should be cut back to give the tree a symmetrical outline.

Pines should be pruned only during the candle stage of growth, which varies from mid-June to early July. After the new terminal, or main growth has reached its spring growth, the terminal should be clipped off to eight to twelve inches in length. The lateral candles around the terminal should be evenly clipped to be at least two inches shorter than the terminal. The lateral branches should then be sheared lightly overall, confining the cuts to the new growth.

Any sharp tool may be used for pruning. However, a pair of hedge shears is very effective.

Narrow leaf evergreens such as arborvitae, junipers, hemlocks, yews, and retinosporas (false cypress), are probably a part of every home owners landscaping, and deservedly so, because of their adaptability, hardiness, and variety of habits.

Evergreens should be plucked and not sheared in order to develop their natural beauty. Any of these evergreens may be pruned at any season. A very common, and effective practice is nipping off about one-half of the new growth in June. If these evergreens have not been pruned for two or more years, more severe pruning may be necessary, but never should extend back to the dead needle area. If extensive pruning is necessary to renovate a large overgrown plant, it will require at least two years of pruning. The first season, prune back every other branch to an active growing shoot. The following year, the remainder of the branches may be so pruned. A several stage pruning program may be advisable on very large plants to avoid unsightly portions being visible before new growth fills the space.

With pyramidal evergreens, such as arborvitae, it is advisable to take out the top leader as soon as the desired height is reached. On an arborviate that has grown ten to fifteen feet in height, two or more feet of the top may be removed during May or June and some of the laterals tied together for terminal leaders. Much of this will be filled in by the end of the first season.

Flower Show to Open at State Fair Grounds

DETROIT (INS) — Michigan's annual Flower and Home Show opens officially tomorrow at the State Fair Grounds in Detroit.

Sixteen of the state's leading landscape and nursery firms are providing gardens of 500 square feet each. They will compete for prizes in four classifications, with public and professional judges determining the winners. The show will run through March 31.

SIGNS OF SPRING — People of the Pontiac area are looking forward to seeing the approaching seasonal foliage, animals and sandal-footed children: just a few of the many signs of spring. However, the people of San Mateo, Calif. already have these things, it seems. Here, little Nancy Susan Spurling, 3, and surroundings make a perfect portrait of spring. Her newly acquired friend "Snowflake" seems happy too.

Colorful Catalogues Give Hint of Spring

Reading rose catalogues on a frosty winter's day can be almost like getting a preview of the warm color and beauty of summer.

Through the lavishly illustrated pages of the dozens of new catalogues just off the presses, there is a continuous parade of hundreds of blooms, each with a charm of its own. This individual loveliness, of course, has made the rose a symbol of beauty throughout the ages. But while the individual rose still has great appeal today, rose varieties now are planted in varying combinations to solve difficult landscaping problems and to provide a stunning impact.

With the wide variety of contemporary roses available, no individual taste need go begging. Floribundas, a comparatively recent class, provide a broad stroke of color for foundation plantings, hedges and border edges, especially when the most modern varieties as the All-America Rose Selections Award winner for 1957, White Bouquet, and the 1956 winner, Circus, are used.

Grandifloras, the new class perfectly represented by the 1955 All-America prize rose, Queen Elizabeth (clear pink), combine the regal delicacy of the Hybrid Tea with the profuse flowering and bushy growth of Floribundas.

Other delightful Floribunda choices are Jiminy Cricket (coral orange) and Ma Perkins (coral-shell pink). Hybrid Teas, such as Tiffany (orchid-pink), Chrysler Imperial (crimson - red) and Mojave (apricot-orange), are traditional favorites for formal beds, but are also seen now in "natural" plantings against a dramatic background. Their long stems and attractive foliage make them ideal for cutting as well.

The second 1957 A. A. R. S. winner, Golden Showers, a daffodil-yellow climber, will soften abrupt building lines, add interest to bare exterior walls and bring riotous color to terrace banks, fences and trellises.

Of course amateur gardenrs can expect the qualities of beauty and strength only from the best roses. A good safeguard of quality is to deal only with reputable nurserymen.

Bleeding Maple Shouldn't Alarm Home Owners

This is annual "worry time" for home owners with trees that appear to be bleeding to an untimely end.

The bleeders are maples but they should offer no cause for home owners' when conditions are right.

"Icicles" often form on branch ends from natural or man-made wounds. These are unsightly but not harmful to home grounds maples. R. J. McWilliams, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. points out the stately sugar maple remains healthy and productive for decades although it may be tapped for gallons of sap for boiling down each year.

Apply Dormant Sprays to Ruin Scale Insects

Now is the time to strike the heaviest blow to stop nature's tree panzer divisions cold in their tracks.

This month temperature is right for applying dormant sprays to destroy scale insects. These are the hard-shelled sap sucking malefactors that multiply in such numbers they can seriously weaken even the biggest trees.

The living "pillboxes" come in a large assortment of shapes and sizes. A heavy infestation on home grounds may reduce vigor to such an extent that trees fall prey to bark beetles and other pests, as well.

The dormant spray is the ideal opening shot for protecting most deciduous trees, according to John H. Pike, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. Some kinds, like sugar maple, Japanese maple beech, black walnut, butternut, hickory, redbud and juniper, are oil sensitive. Their treatment will have to await the scale's emergence when it can be handled with contact type insecticides during the short periods when scale insects crawl.

Dormant spraying is so basic the tree men term it the "annual sanitary bath." It's the most obvious way of curbing the scale population, some of which have overlapping broods. Unfortunately, in most climes the season is extremely limited — only three or four weeks in the Eastern and Central states. Dormant sprays strong enough to kill all the scale undoubtedly would damage trees, too. So some manage to survive. Crawler sprays should be used as "follow ups" during the growing season.

Says Post Office No Mortuary for Wilted Plants

Pontiac's post office doesn't want dying plants idling in its storage rooms this spring.

That's why Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean urged vacationing home gardeners to take steps to aid delivery of shrubbery and plants by mail.

Dean said the shipping season for nursery stock orders is about to begin. "Much of the stock is perishable, and without cooperation of the purchasers, it'll die on our hands," he said.

Prompt delivery is essential, Dean said. To insure this, he urged:

m

Homeowners away on vacation should make arrangements for neighbors to accept shipments, or contact the post office with instructions as to where plants can be delivered.

A cool basement, garage or porch is always better than a mail room for dormant plants, Dean said.

Spare Hollow Trees, Conservation Men Plea

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The drought has killed thousands of trees in Oklahoma, and the Game and Fish Department is asking woodsmen to spare the hollow ones.

Dave Ware, director of the department, says that the hollow trees "may not look like much to the casual observer, but from the conservation's point of view they are among the most important trees in the woods."

He pointed out they provide homes for some animals and food for others.

Try Scientific Tree Feeding

Good Diet Is Useful for Breathing Roots, Aerating Soil

Well fed trees usually have an air about them. And the air is that present in the soil over the entire root system.

Scientific feeding is not only good for the tree's diet, but is also fine for aerating the soil and helping the roots to breathe. J. A. Paine, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., says the value of aeration often is overlooked in most treatises on tree feeding.

Roots need an adquate air supply to operate efficiently. Around older trees air conditions may be especially poor. Feeding by the perforation method will help to supply air to tree root systems. Perforation holes that are close together and about 18 inches deep over the entire root area are required for uniform distribution of fertilizer.

After a handful of chemical fertilizer high in nitrogen content is inserted, the hole can be filled with loosened soil or you can use a mixture of fertilizer and some humus-forming material, if you prefer. In either case, an area of loose soil will be formed to channel in greater quantities of air and water.

On the home grounds, soil is constantly being impacted from tramping over lawns and the use of mowers and trusty lawn rollers. This reduces the supply of vital air and moisture available to roots and some trees are apt to decline from this, along with hunger.

June Bride is the first white Grandiflora rose ever developed. It grows with greater vigor than other roses of this super class, because of its breeding.

This rose is disease resistant with holly-like foliage and produces hundreds of fragrant blooms throughout the season. It can be trained to cover a fence or a pillar or can be pruned for bushiness, according to the Bosley Nursery, Mentor, Ohio.

When the 1960 Olympic games get under way in Rome, one name on the list of U. S. prospects may be that of former Pontiac High School track ace Hayes Jones.

That is what veteran track coach George Marshall at Eastern Michigan College figures at least.

"He is definitely an Olympic prospect," said Marshall, "he'll be ready in another year."

Marshall, who has been at Eastern Michigan College (formerly Michigan Normal) since 1937, and as head coach since 1942, went through the list of all the great speed merchants he had coached, but in his opinion Jones is destined to be the best.

"He is the fastest boy I ever had going over the hurdles," said Marshall, "and yet only a freshman. You can be sure he will break Norbert Badar's low hurdles record here at Ypsi."

At the recent AAU Meet in Chicago, Jones finished second only to Indiana's Milt Campbell who tied a record in the hurdles.

"I think Jones would have stayed right with him, in fact he led Campbell until he hit a bar," said Marshall.

Marshall says Jones' form in the low hurdles is perfect, but he has to iron out a few faults in the high bars.

"Hayes is handicapped with height and he has to take the high hurdles without hitting them," said Marshall, "but he will correct that."

As far as the high jump and broad jump, the latter of which Jones holds the state high school mark, he has been used sparingly.

"He will be a great hurdler, I wouldn't want to hurt him by too much high or broad jumping," Marshall explained.

While at Pontiac there was talk of Jones being a good decathlon possibility, but Marshall does not favor the idea. "He would do well in the 100 meter, but I definitely would not advise the decathlon. He is too light for the shot put, and I'd be worried sick for him in the pole vault, "the coach continued.

Marshall commented on recent rumors that Eastern is considering entry into the President's Conference with Wayne. "I wouldn't favor it, we try to give our boys the best competition in track, and the league is weak in that respect."

With all the offers hanging over Jones' head, many wonder why the ex-Chief ace selected a school where he received no scholarship aid whatsoever.

"Hayes is happy on a small campus, his grades are good, and he has every opportunity with the facilities and the schedule," explained Marshall.

Bradley, Memphis State Move Into NIT Finals

NEW YORK (AP)—When the pressure is toughest give the ball to Bob Swander of Memphis State and Yorktown, Indiana. Three times this season he has won basketball games with last second points.

He showed how he did it last night scoring a field goal with less than one second left to give Memphis State an 80-78 overtime victory over St. Bonaventure in the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament.

The victory put the "dark horse' Tigers in Saturday afternoon's TV final against second-seeded Bradley which crushed Temple 94-66 in the other semi.

A howling turnout of 16,731 saw Swander sink the crusher against the valiant Bonnies who had come from behind to tie the regulation game at 76-76 and go ahead in the overtime on Larry Weise's layup. Jack Butcher tied it at 78-78 then Memphis State went into a stall.

The Tigers called time out with 52 seconds to go. They continued to freeze the ball until only a few seconds were left. Then they shot and missed. The rebound came to Swander in sidecourt. He wrestled it away from a horde of Bonnies and flipped in the jump shot that won the game in dramatic fashion.

Vanatta attributed much of his team's showing to Wilfong who scored 29 points, grabbed 16 rebounds and made three assists. "He was somewhat off against Utah and Manhattan; but he showed his true ability this time."

The Bradley-Temple game was a letdown after the exciting first game. Temple stayed close at 37-33 until near the end of the first half. Then Bradley broke the game wide open the same as the Braves did against Xavier of Ohio Tuesday.

Davis Quintet Wins Playoff

Davis Machinery of Ortonville won the championship of the Waterford League basketball playoffs Thursday night with a 63-59 victory over Drayton Drug at the Isaac Crary Junior High gym.

Drayton, regular season league champion, trailed most of the way. Bob Mills and Ken Harrison paced Davis with 19 points apiece while Mike Hanes scored 14 for the losers.

The traveling trophy, emblematic of playoff supremacy, was presented to the Ortonville quintet after the game. Drayton received a trophy for winning the league title.

Tom Gould of Boyle-Stone Front of Milford was given the high scorer's award and Bob Hobson of Philgas was honored as the league's best sportsman.

KEY ROLE — Tiger pitcher Paul Foytack is a big key for Detroit's American League hopes this year. Foytack to date in the Grapefruit League has been hit hard, but the Tigers feel he will be ready for the regular season.

Meet Harper Woods Today

Vikings Resume Title Drive

By BILL CORNWELL

EAST LANSING — Walled Lake, Oakland County's standard-bearer in the 1957 state high school basketball tournament, resumes its bid for the Class B championship here today.

The Vikings collide with undefeated Harper Woods this afternoon at 5 o'clock on Michigan State's giant Jenison Fieldhouse floor in the semifinal round of the MHSAA tourney.

Negaunee, giant-killer from the Upper Peninsula, and Lansing Resurrection square off tonight at 6:30 in the other 'B' semifinal. The survivors meet Saturday afternoon at 3:30 for the state title.

Walled Lake, Inter-Lakes Conference co-champion and proud holder of a 21-1 record, joins 15 other title hopefuls in this basketball-mad city for the weekend windup of the annual schoolboy extravaganza.

The "sweet 16" will be reduced to an eight-team field Saturday. Four schools will emerge from tomorrow's finals as state prep kings in their respective classes.

Coach Bill Ullenbruch's hustling Lakers will have their work cut out for them today. They are facing a squad which has both height and scoring power.

Harper Woods, coached by Robert Johns, has raced to 22 straight victories this season, including several routs of astronomic proportions.

If further proof of the Woods' ability is required, a check of Wednesday's quarter-final results should do the trick. The Pioneers eliminated Melvindale, regional conqueror of tourney-wise River Rouge.

Four of the Woods' starters measure six feet or better.

Frank Osojnicki, the team's No. 1 point-maker, is a slender 6-foot-3 forward. Center Bill McHale stands 6-4, Bill Maier is 6-3 and Ron Scott measures an even six. Guard Chuck Pleus is the "midget" at 5-10.

The Pioneers like to run and their racehorse offense carried them to an easy conquest of the Southeast Suburban Conference crown.

A well-balanced attack has characterized their play. McHale and Scott give Osojnicki the most scoring support, but all five are talented marksmen.

Walled Lake's vaunted defense will be tested to the limit by the offensive-minded Pioneers. Larry Hughes and his Viking teammates will also have to hold their own on the boards to stay alive.

This is Walled Lake's furthest state tournament advance in the school's history. The best previous effort came in 1947 when the Vikings lost to East Lansing in the quarter-finals.

Today's Class A and B semi-finals will be held in Jenison Fieldhouse while the C-D semis are scheduled at the new Civic Center in downtown Lansing. All finals Saturday take place on the Jenison court.

Pontiac School Officials Pick Jesse MacLeay

Football Pilot Chosen After Screening of 48 Candidates.

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

One of the most desirable and yet one of the most challenging prep football coaching jobs in the state confronts Jesse Cash MacLeay, who today was chosen as the man who will attempt to lift Pontiac High School out of the grid doldrums of the rugged Saginaw Valley Conference.

The 36-year-old New England native who has a Doctor's Degree in Physical Education, however, isn't swayed by the big task facing him.

"I like the challenge and the area," said MacLeay, "and I'm happy for the opportunity of trying to help Pontiac's football situation."

For the past five years as a member of the University of Illinois athletic department, the new Chief pilot has been engaged in coaching, scouting, counselling, teaching and supervising of athletes and student teachers in training.

With MacLeay come numerous comments from his associates, past and present.

Illinois coach Ray Eliot said, "I would be high on him as a head football coach. He is conscientious and a student of the game with the desire to win."

"He has a keen mind with terrific ability to analyze," said Ralph Fletcher, assistant coach at Illinois.

Arthur Esslinger, Director of Physical Education at Springfield College, where MacLeay received his B. S. Degree, said, "Jesse was one of the most versatile athletes and best all-around physical education majors we've had in college."

"The most outstanding quality I have observed in MacLeay is his persistence to master a technique and to do a superior job," said John Dunn, Director of Athletics at Springfield College.

These and many other favorable comments were bestowed on the new Chief grid pilot.

The Pontiac job has been considered by many as one of the most lucrative prep head coaching postions in the state. The coach's salary is ranked high in the top 10 per cent of Class A school in Michigan, and the enrollment of 2,600 gives opportunity for a large drawing power of athletes.

MacLeay will probably have the chance to bring in at least one new assistant and also to make a choice of his staff.

Since entering the Saginaw Valley Conference in 1932, Pontiac's league and overall record has been non-impressive. From 1932 to 1943 Chief grid teams posted an overall 35-54-9 mark including a 17-40-4 SVC record.

In 1944, when the Junior High football program was instituted to help the varsity program, through 1956 the overall record was 49-62-5 with a 24-48-1 SVC mark.

The poor success of the Junior High program to help the varsity situation has prompted Athletic Director Tom Dodson to attempt to setup coordinating plans with the new football coach as an instrumental figure in the overall program.

MacLeay will arrive in Pontiac next weekend for a short stay before making permanent resident arrangements.

Tigers Whip Senators Led by Lary, Bolling

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The appearance of Frank Lary has been heartening for the Detroit Tigers this exhibition season.

The little righthander has given up only 11 hits and two runs in the 16 innings he had pitched.

Lary, who was the American League's winningest pitcher last season, with 21 victories limited Washington to three singles yesterday as the Tigers walloped the Senators, 9-2. The six-inning workout was Lary's longest of the Grapefruit season.

He walked only one, struck out two and let just a single runner get as far as third.

The Tigers backed up Lary with five runs before rookie Larry Donovan took over on the mound.

The Nats did their scoring off Donovan who gave up four hits in the last three innings.

Frank Bolling drove across five Detroit runs with a three-run homer in the 8th and a two-run triple in the 4th.

Harvey Kuenn, Ray Boone, Mel Clark and Bill Tuttle each had a pair of hits for the Tigers. All told Detroit got 12 hits in chalking up its fourth win against eight defeats.

Detroit opened the scoring in the first inning on Kuenn's double and Clark's single.

The Tigers were two down in the fourth before Larz's double, a walk by Tuttle, Bolling's triple and singles by Kuenn, Clark and Boone brought across four runners.

An error by Washington third baseman Harmon Killebrew opened the gates for four more Detroit runs in the 8th inning.

Tiger Manager Jack Tighe again juggled the lineup. Tuttle, playing center field led off, followed by Bolling, Kuenn and Clark. Bob Kennedy started in right field and was hitless in three at-bats, each time failing to get the ball out of the infield.

Detroit plays Cincinnati at Tampa today.

Sluggers Go Wild in Exhibitions

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

If the spring exhibition season is any indication, this will be a bigger and better sock-'em year for major league sluggers.

Take yesterday for example. Wes Covington, who hit only two all last season, smashed three home runs for Milwaukee and was matched by teammate Johnny Logan.

The homer histrionics accounted for all of Milwaukee's runs as the Braves beat the Chicago White Sox, 10 to 7, at Tampa.

Each hit solo homers off Dick Donovan in the second inning. Then Jim Derrington became the target. Logan, who had 15 last year, slammed his second with two on in the fourth. Covington homered with one on and Logan followed with another solo in the sixth. Covington walloped his third homer off Jim Wilson in the eighth after Joe Adcock had doubled.

Cincinnati, meanwhile, continued to make life miserable for the pitchers. After riddling Don Larsen in his first start since his World Series no-hitter for the Yankees, the Redlegs roughed up ace righty Robin Roberts and the Philadelphia Phillies, 13 to 10, on a 22-hit barrage.

The Reds now have clubbed 47 hits good for 33 runs in their last two games. Roberts was ripped for seven of the runs before going to the showers in the sixth inning.

Johnny Kucks, whose three-hit shutout clinched the World Series for New York, got tagged for seven St. Louis hits and four runs before walking off on the losing end of a 9-to-2 decision at St. Petersburg. No help to Kucks were three Yankee errors and five-hit pitching by Herm Wehmeier, Larry Jackson and Hoyt Wilhelm.

Over at Mesa, Ariz., Ernie Banks banged out two home runs and Gene Baker one to give the Chicago Cubs a 5-to-4 victory over Cleveland.

Indoor Open Starts Today

NEW YORK (INS) — The first National "Indoor Open" Golf Tournament, a glorified hole-in-one contest for $15,000 in prizes, opens a nine-day run today in New York's 71st Regiment Armory.

The tourney is a five-shot affair for amateurs and pros, including stars like Jimmy Demaret, Jackie Burke, Sam Snead, Peter Thomson, Tommy Bolt and Alice Bauer.

The pro with the best total distance from the hole on five shots from a regulation tee to a "live grass" bent green will drive off in a $5,000 sports car. Amateur prizes will be awarded in various classes including business execs, entertainers, models and newsmen.

Wings Select 10 Minor Leaguers for Cup Battles

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings have picked 10 minor leaguers they'd like to have for the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The 10 aren't available until their teams have completed league and playoff play.

Under National Hockey League rules each Stanley Cup contender is allowed to carry 25 men.

Tigers Set 26 TV Games

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Tigers will collect $450,000 for the rights to telecast and broadcast their baseball games this season.

That's fourth in the major leagues, behind only the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees, who will get $750,000 each, and the New York Giants, with $600,000.

A survey by the magazine Television Age said today only Milwaukee and Kansas City, which have no game telecasts, will be out of the video payoff.

Detroit will have telecasts of 26 home games and 19 away games.

Altogether, the magazine said, TV and radio revenues will total a record $9,300,000 this year, an increase of 50 per cent or $3,100,000 over 1956.

The survey showed 883 games will be aired this season compared with 860 in 1956. More road games also will be shown with 331 this year, 27 more than last season.

Bruins Shutout Red Wings, 2-0

Boston Battles Into 2nd Place Tie by Victory

Beantown Sextet Holds Jinx Over Detroit on Olympia Ice

DETROIT (AP) — The Boston Bruins are carrying their battle for second place in the National Hockey League right down to the final wire.

By whipping the champion Detroit Red Wings for the 7th time, 2-0, Thursday night, the Bruins pulled abreast of the Montreal Canadiens. Each club has one game to play.

A Boston victory over New York and a Chicago win over Montreal Saturday night would help the Bruins' cause, but it wouldn't necessarily mean second place for the Bruins, who haven't finished as high as second since the 1948-49 campaign.

If the two clubs end up with the same number of wins, losses and ties, the runnerup spot will be decided on the number of goals scored. The Bruins currently trail the Canadiens in that department 207 to 193.

"We'll need quite a performance," said coach Milt Schmidt after his club had dumped the Red Wings for the 4th time in seven meetings on Detroit ice. "Whatever happens, though, we're pretty happy about the season. We've come a long way."

The Bruins scored in the first period with only 24 seconds elapsed when fiery Leo Labine shoved a quick pass from Don McKenney into the Red Wing nets. In the second period, Real Chevrefils got his 31st goal on a fast-breaking play from center ice, the key passes going from McKenney to Labine to Chevrefils.

The Red Wings had plenty of scoring opportunities but failed to cash in on them as rookie goalie Don Simmons hung up his 4th shutout. Turning back 29 Detroit shots, Simmons was especially strong in the final period.

While the Bruins were shorthanded because of Leo Boivin's tripping penalty, Simmons blocked John (The Beast) Bucyk's blast from short range and then stopped shots by Ted Lindsay, Metro Prystal and Alex Delvecchio during a determined Detroit rush.

Dutch Reibel flicked the red light with a third period shot but officials disallowed the goal.

Keg Meet Resumes

Another big weekend of bowling is on tap at the Dixie Recreation alleys in Drayton Plains as the annual Women's Tournament goes into its 3rd session. Champions will be decided March 31.

Team, doubles and singles play will make up the busy schedule Saturday and Sunday in the event sponsored by the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association.

Entries from Pontiac, Rochester, Milford, Utica, Clawson, Clarkston, Drayton, Keego Harbor, Birmingham, Davisburg, Oxford and Lake Orion will be competing during the 5th and 6th days of the tournament.

It is the biggest tournament in the 24 years it has been staged by the PWBA which will also mean a record prize list. Cash awards will be presented in handicap play for team, doubles and singles and for actual and handicap scoring in all-events.

The top 15 finishers in team and doubles will finish in the money, as will the 1st 26 in singles and 87 places in all-events. There will also be prize money for high games.

It gives those keglers still in contention plenty to shoot at in the final two weekends. All last year's champions are slated to defend their titles on the last two days.

The Bucks and Does of Drayton Plains are the current leaders among teams with 2951. Mary Toles - Greta Swanson of Pontiac pace the doubles with 1259 posted on the 2nd day of the tourney. Lake Orion's Ruth Smith has the best single total of 662.

Mrs. Toles and Opal Ward hold leads in different all-events divisions. A 1036 by Pontiac is high team game. Royal Cabinets of Utica have the best actual team series of 2236.

The 2nd place doubles duo of Nancy Buffmyer of Walled Lake and Wixom resident Tressie Ramsey has the high doubles game of 451 and Jean Bergeron of Warren, who last week gained a tie for 2nd with previous leader Mary Shepherd of Pontiac, has the leading single score of 254.

Favor Muskegon Heights

See Torrid Battle in 'A'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The stage is set tonight for a battle between Benton Harbor and Muskegon Heights, a pair of torrid high school basketball rivals, whose last contest less than a month ago broke up in a fist fight.

They meet now in the semifinals of the state high school basketball tournament with Muskegon Heights seeking its 26th straight victory and its second straight class A crown.

The winner of their battle will face the winner of the East Detroit-Detroit Austin Catholic game Saturday night in the Class A finals.

Tonight's game is one in which you can throw out the records and measure incentive by the pound. They've met twice this season. The first time Benton Harbor lost 67-44. The second time they lost 53-49.

The four point margin is the smallest the Heights squad has allowed in building its long winning streak.

In other semifinal play tonight, Chassell will seek its 37th straight victory. The smoothly working class D champion from upper Michigan faces Parma (19-2) but has already felled its toughest foe, Gaylord St. Mary, in quarterfinal play.

Unable to keep up the pace, the class B champion Stephenson and class C titlist Crystal Falls, both upper Michigan teams, have already fallen out of tournament play.

Higher Fishing Fees Are Asked

By The Associated Press

In 27 states, fish and game officials are asking legislatures to increase the license fees for hunting or fishing.

Fifteen of these states are seeking fee boosts for both.

Six more states, possibly seven, when the time comes, plan to ask such increases at the next within two year.

Five other states have had increases within the past two years.

Thus the high cost of wildlife management is brought suddenly home to whatever portion of the nation's outdoorsmen remain unaware of it.

And this, as the fellow said when he missed the charging rhino, is only the beginning. State officials have known for some time they were in for the inevitable storm that accompanies a sharp upgrading of license fees.

New York Group Plans to Build 'Dream' Track

ALBANY, N.Y. (INS) — The New York state assembly today passed two bills designed to help in the financing of a $25,000,000 "dream track" at Aqueduct.

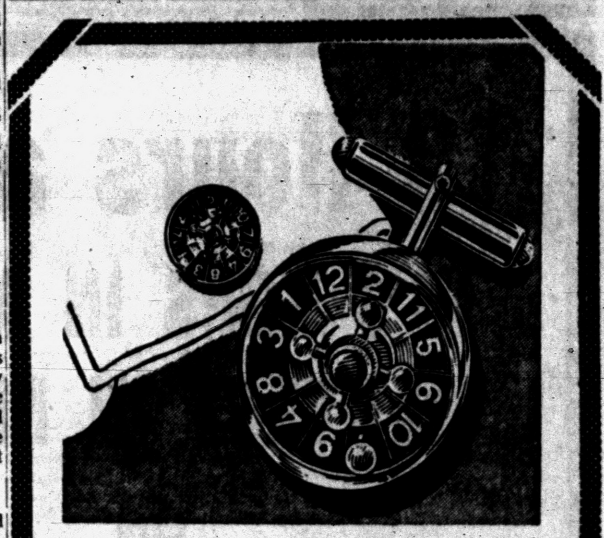

The first bill grants the Greater New York Association, Inc., which is committed to the modernization of its Saratoga and Belmont tracks and to the construction of a new plant at Aqueduct, a one per cent increase in its share of the parimutuel handle.

The other extends the racing season at the Metropolitan New York tracks an additional two weeks.

Nineteen school records were tied or broken during the 1956-57 San Jose State basketball season.

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—The foster father of Detroit Lion quarterback Bobby Layne died yesterday.

Layne said his real father died when he was about five and he was adopted by Hampton.

Cleveland Team Far Below Form in ABC Tourney

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Telco team of Cleveland, Ohio failed to live up to advance billing in its initial bid in the open team division of the American Congress Bowling tournament.

The Telcos, first nationally prominent club to appear in the big 51-day tenpin tourney, rolled a tepid 3-game total of 2,793 last night.

The Peter Hand Reserve team of Chicago holds the open team lead with its tremendous 3,126 posted March 18. Telco is not among the top leaders.

Ralph Nicol of Lansing, Mich., shot a 9-game total of 1,885 to take over second in the all events currently led by John Crimmins of Detroit with 1922. Nicol rolled series of 655, 637, and 623.

Baseball Clan in Session

BELLEAIR, Fla. (AP)—Baseball's executive clan, voicing mixed emotions over pending congressional inquiry into whether they are sportsmen or businessmen, met in a closed-door, special session with Commissioner Ford Frick today to draft future policy.

While no announcement of what takes place at the meeting is expected, it was learned that organized baseball will set up a three-man committee to meet with congressional leaders to discuss what baseball must do—or stop doing—to remain free form anti-trust legislation.

Three bills now are pending in Washington as outgrowths of the recent Supreme Court ruling which declared professional football a business. Baseball, twice previously declared a "sport" and not subject to monopoly laws, now is under study by the lawmakers.

Two of the bills introduced in Congress would define baseball as a business and within reach of anti-trust laws. The third would make baseball, pro football and basketball, and boxing exempt from such statutes.

Some baseball men look upon all three bills as being unfavorable in that baseball already is exempt by Supreme Court decision. They don't particularly care to be lumped together with the other professional sports.

At least one club owner, however, feels that the situation isn't as serious as some believe. Robert Carpenter Jr., president of the Philadelphia Phillies, said before today's meeting, "No one is going to shut down baseball. I don't think legislation, if any comes of all this, will be detrimental to the game. Baseball will still be around long after we all are gone."

Walt Heads Home After Course Record 68 Takes Coral Ridge Event

A $7,500 two-day open follows the Miami Beach pro-am.

Burkemo indicated he would not compete, but fly home Sunday.

Burkemo set a three-under-par competitive course record yesterday in taking $700 first money with a 68 on the Coral Ridge Country Club's 6,579-yard layout at Fort Lauderdale. His round was 34-34.

The Franklin Hills, Mich., star was two strokes under his deadlocked nearest competition, Ed Furgol of St. Andrews, Ill., and Jay Herbert, of Sanford, who pulled down $450 each.

Bunched at 71 strokes and prize money of $237.50 apiece were Dow Finsterwald of Tesquesta, Fla., Sam Snead of Boca Raton, Fla., Julius Boros of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., (AP)—Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles dropped the first set again and then powered his way to a 3-6, 6-1, 6-4 victory over Ken Rosewall of Australia last night.

Aragon Gets Prison Sentence for 'Fix'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Art Aragon's colorful boxing career was apparently ended today as he faced a prison term of one to five years for trying to fix a fight.

His attorneys said they would appeal the decision.

The heavy blow to Aragon's hopes was delivered by Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker, who rejected a defense plea for a new trial and an official recommendation for probation.

Aragon, a hard-hitting crowd pleaser nicknamed the Golden Boy, was found guilty a month ago of offering Dick Goldstein $500 to fake a fourth-round knockout in a bout scheduled for last Dec. 18 in San Antonio, Tex. The fight was called off when Aragon turned up ill.

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — Though spring is still in its infancy, seven of the dozen or so 3-year-olds likely to run in the $30,000-added Governor's Gold Cup at Bowie Saturday will be sniffing the air for the scene of roses.

The seven are Kentucky Derby eligibles and will be getting another of several chances to prove to their owners they are worthy of the "run for the roses." The Gold Cup is a seven-furlong test.

State Confident of Upsetting Tar Heels

KANSAS CITY (AP)—North Carolina's all-winning, indefatigable iron men and Kansas, with a 7-foot giant who stuffs rather than shoots the ball into the basket, are favorites to gain the final round of the NCAA major college basketball tournament tonight.

North Carolina, ranked No. 1 in the nation on its 30-0 record, tangles, with Michigan State in the opening semifinal game at Municipal Auditorium at 8:30 EST.

Kansas sends its celebrated ace, Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain, against San Francisco's defending champions two hours later.

The presence of Chamberlain, the most exciting basketball player of the generation, has made Kansas the choice for the title.

The star-spangled lineup raised tournament interest to an all-time pitch. North Carolina and Kansas finished the season one-two in the national Associated Press basketball poll. San Francisco has won the tournament the past two years. Michigan State is the "Cinderella team," having knocked off third-ranked Kentucky in the eliminations.

Reaves Peters, tournament director, said he easily could have sold 50,000 tickets. But the auditorium seats only 10,500 for basketball. NCAA officials still were scrambling today to get part of the show on TV. The final Saturday night is set to go on a small midwest regional network in Missouri, Kansas and Iowa. Tonight's clash between North Carolina and Michigan State will go to some Carolina stations.

The four coaches all appeared highly confident.

"We feel we can beat anybody," said Forddy Anderson, the little wizard who masterminded Michigan State to a blazing finish of ten straight wins in the regular season.

"We have balanced scoring—no individual stars like Kansas and North Carolina," he said.

"We have a strong bench, a sound defensive team and most of all we have an extra desire to win. That may sound corny but it's the truth.

"In eleven years of coaching I've never seen the fire that's inside the heart of this ball club."

The Spartans use what Anderson calls a "continuous motion offense." They have strength and drive but lack exceptional height. Their tallest men are Johnny Green and Larry Hedden at 6-5. Jack Quiggle and George Ferguson are 6-3 and Pat Wilson is a 6-footer.

North Carolina boasts height, speed and shooting strength but lacks reserves. It usually plays five men all the way. The star is Len Rosenbluth, a 6-5 marksman with a deadly eye. He had adequate support from such all-around operators as Tom Kearns and Pete Brennan. Joe Quigg, 6-9, is as close as they can come to Chamberlain.

"Our boys are trained to run 40 minutes," said Coach Frank McGuire. "They don't get tired. We only substitute when a boy fouls out, which isn't often.

"We walk when the other team runs and we run when they walk. We use the zone defense but can shift into a collapsing defense or man-to-man.'

McGuire said his boys feel no pressure from their long winning streak and are relaxed and confident.

Phil Woolpert, who coached San Francisco's great national champs last year when he had Bill Russell for a star, called the present squad "comparable in defense but not in offense—we have no counterpart to Russell."

He said he doesn't figure Kansas and The Stilt constitute an insurmountable obstacle.

"They have been beaten,' he said. "I hope I can find the same formula.'

San Francisco is depending on Art Day, a 6-9 sophomore from Chicago, to stop Chamberlain. If it becomes a two-man job, Mike Farmer, 6-7, gets the call.

Strong Field Entered in K. C. Track Meet

CLEVELAND (AP)—Five defending champions will be back, but only one of them is favored tonight when a field including national winners and collegiate conference champions as well as Olympic champions competes in the 17th annual Knights of Columbus Track Meet.

The meet at the Cleveland Arena winds up the indoor track season.

LOOKS IT OVER — Al Lopez, new manager of the Chicago White Sox, ponders prospects of his club and rival teams as he looks over rosters of the American League in the Red Book. Lopez was in Tampa, Fla., where the Hose does spring training. He replaces Marty Marion, after six years as pilot of the Cleveland club where he won a pennant in 1954.

Celtics, Hawks Win Openers in Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics, who had been eliminated in three of four previous playoffs by the Syracuse Nationals, were 1-up today on their New York rivals as they awaited the second game of the National Basketball Assn.'s best-of-five Eastern Division semifinal playoff series.

While the Celtics were rallying after a poor first period to clobber the Nats 108-90 at the Boston Garden last night, the Hawks had to hustle at St. Louis to take their Western Division opener from the Minneapolis Lakers, 118-109.

Real Comeback Story

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Knickerbocker rookie Ron Sobieszczyk failed to make the basketball team at St. Mel High School in Chicago.

But he scored 500 points as a senior at St. Bonaventure Academy in Sturtevant, Wis., and won Catholic High School All-America recognition.

Some of the area's leading keglers will be participating in the clash of clubs. Bowling will be divided between the Motor Inn, West Side Recreation and Elks alleys.

Hollywood Headlines

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The very popular Pat Boone comes back to Hollywood in June to make a musical based on "Home in Indiana" for 20th Century-Fox. Buddy Adler fast-talked the likeable young singer into a conviction that Boone's best interests lie with the film company.

So Pat has cut down his personal appearance tour to two months—April and May. He will rent a house in Beverly Hills for Shirley and the three children.

Then in September Pat returns to Columbia University to finish his education and to keep his date with ABC on his million dollar TV show.

"Home in Indiana" was Jeanne Crain's first picture, and the new version will have a flavor of "State Fair."

Even Elvis Presley doesn't know this yet—but the beauty who will be his leading lady in the musical he'll make at MGM is Barbara Lang. She's the courageous blonde who battled back from a serious attack of polio to take up her career again and win herself a movie contract.

In fact, the top brass at the studio are so high on Barbara (who looks so much like Jean Harlow) that she has been taken out of Bob Taylor's "Tip on a Dead Jockey," because the part is too small. Barbara will have a much bigger role opposite the teenagers' idol than in the jockey epic.

ITCHING TO ACT

I just knew when I watched James Cagney directing "Short Cut to Hell" that he was itching to get into the picture himself. Well, he finally worked out a compromise.

He will appear in a prologue to his picture in which he'll be seen directing his two unknown stars, Robert Ivers and Georgann Johns in a scene. He will then turn around and introduce them to the audience.

I have a feeling Jimmy is going to have a mighty good picture, judging from the way he was going at the direction when I visited his set.

The letters Barbara Graham wrote in prison have been turned over to Walter Wanger for the picture he will make with Susan Hayward. He gave me quite an argument on the innocence of Barbara who was executed with two miserable murderers.

Said Walter, "It's going to take us until fall to get it ready for Susan Hayward. But let me tell you something. A crime reporter on the San Francisco Examiner, who was most bitter against the Graham girl, completely changed his mind when he talked with her in prison. She had no social advantages and many people think she wasn't at the scene of the crime."

"But the fact remains," I said to Walter, "that she associated with these desperate characters."

WEDDING RUMOR

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Word from Rome is that Bruce Cabot wants to marry Olga Villa, widow of Prince Raymond Lanza di Trabia. I had a postcard from Bruce but it said nothing about his romance, only about a picture he is making.

Friends of Mrs. Rock Hudson, now in St. John Hospital, are worried about her condition. She has hepatitis. Rock's mother was there to see her a few days ago.

Mrs. Burt Lancaster and the children came out of the matinee of "Red Balloon" today looking like they had been to a carnival. All five children were carrying red balloons.

Cute wire from Greer Garson inviting me to a party at the Club Seville for Mr. and Mrs. Steve Allen. She says, "If you dig Latin music, filets, fun and fandangos please join us."

Jerry Lewis, on location with the "Sad Sack" company in Yuma, took off in a Scorpion jet plane before the startled eyes of his boss, Hal Wallis, his wife, Patti and the children.

Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer have checked into the Bel Air Hotel before leaving for Mexico for "The Sun Also Rises."

Ask U.S. OK on Grant for Addition to Hospital

LANSING (UP) — Federal approval has been requested for a grant of $228,795 for completion of a 60-bed addition to the Holy Cross hospital in Detroit, the state office of hospital survey and construction said today.

The grant will enable the hospital to complete an unfinished East wing and to equip a South wing. The total cost of the project will be $653,700, the remainder to be contributed by the Franciscan Sisters, who operate the hospital.

Radar is a contraction of terms meaning "radio detecting and ranging" which also describes its purpose in the location of unseen objects at various ranges of distance.

Deal With Relatives as if They're Going to Die Tomorrow

Levenson Finds Families Full of Fun

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Sam Levenson, the world's foremost authority on how to love and laugh at your crazy, irritating relatives, was sitting at a dinner table pondering.

The remark had just been made that "it was intra-family conflicts which started the necessity for psychiatrists," and obviously Levenson was searching for a polite way to say oh-yeah?

Finally it came out. "My philosophy of life," he said, "is that the brotherhood of man begins with aunts and uncles. Depending on how you look at them, they can drive you crazy or make life wonderfully amusing."

And how do you adjust your own thinking, so that aunts and uncles—and cousins and mothers-in-law—make life interesting rather than intolerable, Mr. Levenson?

"Well, I have almost a Biblical attitude about that," said Sam. "Life is such a short trip; as they say, you'll never come out of it alive. So look at people, and deal with them, as if they're going to die tomorrow . . .

YOU'LL LOVE 'EM

Morbid, maybe. But oh, how you'll love 'em, when you think they might not be around you long."

Mr. Levenson, whose gentle humor is aimed at family characters ("some people keep their skeletons in the closet—I decided to bring them out and get them sponsored"), was being feted at a New York supper club at a party marking the return of his "Two For the Money" quiz show. He looked slimmer than last season, but his wit was full-bodied as ever.

"Everybody's got relatives that should either be laughed at or hit it the head. They're types. There's stingy old Uncle Charlie and your crying Aunt Maude—you know her, no matter what the news is, even if it's good, she's slobbering," said Levenson.

"And then there are the kids. Kids are very difficult now that the child psychologists are getting big fees to tell us how to run their lives.

"Mother now has a maid. She goes to meetings on child psychology to learn how to bring the kids up, so she can keep the maid up on how to do it." Levenson shook his head, grinning.

You let these things worry you and you're a psychiatric patient. You open up and talk about them, laughing as you go, and you're maybe a successful TV star.

Speaking of success, Sam believes philosophically that it's the "characters" in a poor or middle-class family who make life worthwhile and amusing.

"The richer you get, the more you depart from being an amusing 'type' — a 'type' being a 'character' who's well rounded. Wealth makes you think and worry, and breaks down the mind."

Though he has never turned away monies offered him in the last seven years of success, Levenson still lives in a modest house in Brooklyn with his wife and two children, a son, 14, and daughter, 4.

"I fight it (wealth) off in myself and my kids. The boy still gets $1 a week, and the girl gets a penny if she's lucky.

"I don't believe they need everything I never had in life. In fact, even I don't need it."

1st City Scout-O-Rama Opening on Saturday

Over 1,000 cub, boy and explorer scouts of the Pontiac District are expected to actively participate in held at Lincoln Jr. High School Saturday.

Purpose of the six hour exhibit, from 3 to 9 p.m., is to show scouting in action. A continuous booth type display show will be exhibited.

Demonstrations of rope making, fire by friction, emergency communications, Cub Scout handicraft, Indian lore and camping will be presented by the 27 various packs, troops and units.

One of the highlights of Scout-O-Rama will be an Indian pageant presented by Cub Scout Pack 10, sponsored by McConnell School.

Two showings, 5 and 7:30 p.m. have been scheduled for this Indian entertainment.

Following the pageant, streamers will be presented to each group participating in the first Scout-O-Rama. Boys who have sold 10 or more adult tickets will also be awarded a red leather scout neckerchief in remembrance of the 1957 Scout-O-Rama, according to Van R. Braidwood, Pontiac district executive.

"We have hopes that our first attempt of Scout-O-Rama will be successful enough to make it become an annual affair," Bradiwood added.

Marilyn on Prospect of Baby—No Comment

NEW YORK (AP)—Marilyn Monroe has refused to confirm or deny reports she is expecting a child. She says she considers that part of her life a private matter.

A newspaper story out of Hollywood said the blonde actress had turned down the role of Grushenka in "the Brothers Karamazov" because she is expecting a baby.

Representatives of Miss Monroe said she "is available for work if the proper vehicle comes along" and quoted her as saying she still would like to play the role of Grushenka.

The actress and her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, have been confined to their Manhattan home with virus. Through a spokesman yesterday, Miss Monroe said of the report she is pregnant:

"I have nothing to say at this time. I'm sure that everyone will agree that some things are private matters. I just feel that this is one of them."

City Name a Slogan? All Out Against Polio!

PROTECTION, Kan. (AP) — Protection will try to round up all residents 40 and under on April 2 and give Salk polio vaccine to all those who haven't had it.

Mayor Harris B. Powell, whose brother, daughter and grandson have been polio victims, proclaimed the project.

"It is practically criminal negligence to fail to get polio protection," he said.

Infant's Corneas Provide Aid for 2 Sightless Ones

NEW YORK (AP) — Two New Yorkers are seeing through the eyes of a baby who died last Friday.

The infant, Philip J. Horton Jr., died of an incurable spinal condition at Riverhead, N.Y. He was 34 days old.

The parents, who reside in Cutchogue, N. Y., were determined that their dead son should benefit the sightless. Corneal transplants must be used within 48 hours after death.

When no means were found to get their child's corneas to New York in a hurry, Mr. and Mrs. Horton drove the 75 miles by car to the Eye Bank for Sight Restoration in Manhattan.

The eye bank announced the successful corneal transplants yesterday, but did not disclose the names of those who received them.

Thief Fishes for Loot

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—A thief cut a 3-by-4-inch section from the window glass in an auto supply store and, using a twig and bent pin, hooked $200 worth of minature boats, hobby tools and boat parts. He left his fishing tackle on the pavement.

West Germany hopes to have 1,000,000 licensed TV sets by April, 1957, Bonn reports.

Army to Hang Soldier: Murder, Rape in Korea

FT. LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP) —The Army has set April 3 for the execution of Ernest L. Ransom, 26-year-old Jackson, N. C., soldier convicted of slaying a Korean guard and raping a 14-year-old Korean girl while he was stationed in Korea in 1953.

Ft. Leavenworth's information office said Ransom will be hanged at its disciplinary barracks, where he has been held during review of the case by Army legal authorities and the White House. He was convicted and sentenced by a court-martial in Korea.

Smoking Said Cancer Factor

Georgia Paper Reveals Claim by Scientists in Study of Disease

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Constitution said today, in a copyrighted story that a scientific study group has found that cigarette smoking "beyond a reasonable doubt is a causative factor in the rapidly increasing incidence' of lung cancer.

The newspaper said it had obtained exclusively a "highly confidential and not yet officially released" copy of the report which, it said, "establishes the most positive cause-effect link between cigarette smoking and lung cancer by a scientific group to date."

The scientific study group was set up by the American Cancer Society, the National Cancer Institute, the American Heart Assn. and the National Heart Institute, and was made up of seven scientists, including Dr. Rolla E. Dyer, director of research at Atlanta's Emory University.

The scientists found no convincing evidence that smoking is a cause of heart disease, the paper said.

The report stated:

"Lung cancer occurs much more frequently (5 to 15 times) among cigarette smokers than among nonsmokers, and there is a direct relationship between the incidence of lung cancer and the amount smoked.

"It is estimated that on a lifetime basis, one of every 10 men who smoke over two packs a day will die of lung cancer. The comparable risk among nonsmokers is one out of 275."

Student Center Planned

DETROIT (AP) — A student activities center with a field house will be built on the new Lawrence Institute of Technology campus in northwest Detroit. Cost of the project, including classrooms, library and an auditorium, is $1,250,000. Construction will start early in 1958.

Fewer U.S. Workers?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) of the Senate Civil Service Committee has proposed a ceiling of 2,125,000 federal workers—a reduction of about 300,000 from present totals.

Hollywood Headlines

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The very popular Pat Boone comes back to Hollywood in June to make a musical based on "Home in Indiana" for 20th Century-Fox. Buddy Adler fast-talked the likeable young singer into a conviction that Boone's best interests lie with the film company.

So Pat has cut down his personal appearance tour to two months—April and May. He will rent a house in Beverly Hills for Shirley and the three children.

Then in September Pat returns to Columbia University to finish his education and to keep his date with ABC on his million dollar TV show.

Even Elvis Presley doesn't know this yet—but the beauty who will be his leading lady in the musical he'll make at MGM is Barbara Lang. She's the courageous blonde who battled back from a serious attack of polio to take up her career again and win herself a movie contract.

In fact, the top brass at the studio are so high on Barbara (who looks so much like Jean Harlow) that she has been taken out of Bob Taylor's "Tip on a Dead Jockey," because the part is too small. Barbara will have a much bigger role, opposite the teenagers' idol than in the jockey epic.

ITCHING TO ACT

I just knew when I watched James Cagney directing "Short Cut to Hell" that he was itching to get into the picture himself. Well, he finally worked out a compromise.

He will appear in a prologue to his picture in which he'll be seen directing his two unknown stars, Robert Ivers and Georgann Johns in a scene. He will then turn around and introduce them to the audience.

I have a feeling Jimmy is going to have a mighty good picture, judging from the way he was going at the direction when I visited his set.

The letters Barbara Graham wrote in prison have been turned over to Walter Wanger for the picture he will make with Susan Hayward. He gave me quite an argument on the innocence of Barbara who was executed with two miserable murderers.

Said Walter, "It's going to take us until fall to get it ready for Susan Hayward. But let me tell you something. A crime reporter on the San Francisco Examiner, who was most bitter against the Graham girl, completely changed his mind when he talked with her in prison. She had no social advantages and many people think she wasn't at the scene of the crime."

"But the fact remains," I said to Walter, "that she associated with these desperate characters."

WEDDING RUMOR

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Word from Rome is that Bruce Cabot wants to marry Olga Villa, widow of Prince Raymond Lanza di Trabia. I had a postcard from Bruce but it said nothing about his romance, only about a picture he is making.

Director John Sturges, who has been in St. Joseph Hospital, was dismissed just in time to welcome Anna Magnani who comes here to star in "Obsessed."

Friends of Mrs. Rock Hudson, now in St. John Hospital, are worried about her condition. She has hepatitis. Rock's mother was there to see her a few days ago.

Mrs. Burt Lancaster and the children came out of the matinee of "Red Balloon" today looking like they had been to a carnival. All five children were carrying red balloons.

Cute wire from Greer Garson inviting me to a party at the Club Seville for Mr. and Mrs. Steve Allen. She says, "If you dig Latin music, filets, fun and fandangos please join us."

Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer have checked into the Bel Air Hotel before leaving for Mexico for "The Sun Also Rises."

Ask U.S. OK on Grant for Addition to Hospital

LANSING (AP) — Federal approval has been requested for a grant of $228,795 for completion of a 60-bed addition to the Holy Cross hospital in Detroit, the state office of hospital survey and construction said today.

The grant will enable the hospital to complete an unfinished East wing and to equip a South wing. The total cost of the project will be $653,700, the remainder to be contributed by the Franciscan Sisters, who operate the hospital.

Radar is a contraction of terms meaning "radio detecting and ranging" which also describes its purpose in the location of unseen objects at various ranges of distance.

Deal With Relatives as if They're Going to Die Tomorrow

Levenson Finds Families Full of Fun

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Sam Levenson, the world's foremost authority on how to love and laugh at your crazy, irritating relatives, was sitting at a dinner table pondering.

The remark had just been made that "it was intra-family conflicts which started the necessity for psychiatrists," and obviously Levenson was searching for a polite way to say oh-yeah?

Finally it came out. "My philosophy of life," he said, "is that the brotherhood of man begins with aunts and uncles. Depending on how you look at them, they can drive you crazy or make life wonderfully amusing."

And how do you adjust your own thinking, so that aunts and uncles —and cousins and mothers-in-law— make life interesting rather than intolerable, Mr. Levenson?

"Well, I have almost a Biblical attitude about that," said Sam. "Life is such a short trip; as they say, you'll never come out of it alive. So look at people, and deal with them, as if they're going to die tomorrow . . .

YOU'LL LOVE 'EM

Mr. Levenson, whose gentle humor is aimed at family characters ("some people keep their skeletons in the closet—I decided to bring them out and get them sponsored"), was being feted at a New York supper club at a party marking the return of his "Two For the Money" quiz show. He looked slimmer than last season, but his wit was full-bodied as ever.

"Everybody's got relatives that should either be laughed at or hit it the head. They're types. There's stingy old Uncle Charlie and your crying Aunt Maude—you know her, no matter what the news is, even if it's good, she's slobbering," said Levenson.

"And then there are the kids. Kids are very difficult now that the child psychologists are getting big fees to tell us how to run their lives.

"Mother now has a maid. She goes to meetings on child psychology to learn how to bring the kids up, so she can keep the maid up on how to do it." Levenson shook his head, grinning.

You let these things worry you and you're a psychiatric patient. You open up and talk about them, laughing as you go, and you're maybe a successful TV star.

Speaking of success, Sam believes philosophically that it's the "characters" in a poor or middle-class family who make life worthwhile and amusing.

"The richer you get, the more you depart from being an amusing 'type' — a 'type' being a 'character' who's well rounded. Wealth makes you think and worry, and breaks down the mind."

Though he has never turned away monies offered him in the last seven years of success, Levenson still lives in a modest house in Brooklyn with his wife and two children, a son, 14, and daughter, 4.

"I fight it (wealth) off in myself and my kids. The boy still gets $1 a week, and the girl gets a penny if she's lucky.

"I don't believe they need everything I never had in life. In fact, even I don't need it."

1st City Scout-O-Rama Opening on Saturday

Over 1,000 cub, boy and explorer scouts of the Pontiac District are expected to actively participate in held at Lincoln Jr. High School Saturday.

Purpose of the six hour exhibit, from 3 to 9 p.m., is to show scouting in action. A continuous booth type display show will be exhibited.

Demonstrations of rope making, fire by friction, emergency communications, Cub Scout handicraft, Indian lore and camping will be presented by the 27 various packs, troops and units.

One of the highlights of Scout-O-Rama will be an Indian pageant presented by Cub Scout Pack 10, sponsored by McConnell School.

Two showings, 5 and 7:30 p.m. have been scheduled for this Indian entertainment.

Following the pageant, streamers will be presented to each group participating in the first Scout-O-Rama. Boys who have sold 10 or more adult tickets will also be awarded a red leather scout neckerchief in remembrance of the 1957 Scout-O-Rama, according to Van R. Braidwood, Pontiac district executive.

"We have hopes that our first attempt of Scout-O-Rama will be successful enough to make it become an annual affair," Bradiwood added.

Marilyn on Prospect of Baby—No Comment

NEW YORK (AP)—Marilyn Monroe has refused to confirm or deny reports she is expecting a child. She says she considers that part of her life a private matter.

A newspaper story out of Hollywood said the blonde actress had turned down the role of Grushenka in "the Brothers Karamazov" because she is expecting a baby.

Representatives of Miss Monroe said she "is available for work if the proper vehicle comes along" and quoted her as saying she still would like to play the role of Grushenka.

The actress and her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, have been confined to their Manhattan home with virus. Through a spokesman yesterday, Miss Monroe said of the report she is pregnant:

"I have nothing to say at this time. I'm sure that everyone will agree that some things are private matters. I just feel that this is one of them."

City Name a Slogan? All Out Against Polio!

"It is practically criminal negligence to fail to get polio protection," he said.

Army to Hang Soldier: Murder, Rape in Korea

FT. LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP) —The Army has set April 3 for the execution of Ernest L. Ransom, 26-year-old Jackson, N. C., soldier convicted of slaying a Korean guard and raping a 14-year-old Korean girl while he was stationed in Korea in 1953.

Ft. Leavenworth's information office said Ransom will be hanged at its disciplinary barracks, where he has been held during review of the case by Army legal authorities and the White House. He was convicted and sentenced by a court-martial in Korea.

Infant's Corneas Provide Aid for 2 Sightless Ones

NEW YORK (AP) — Two New Yorkers are seeing through the eyes of a baby who died last Friday.

The infant, Philip J. Horton Jr., died of an incurable spinal condition at Riverhead, N.Y. He was 34 days old.

The parents, who reside in Cutchogue, N. Y., were determined that their dead son should benefit the sightless. Corneal transplants must be used within 48 hours after death.

When no means were found to get their child's corneas to New York in a hurry, Mr. and Mrs. Horton drove the 75 miles by car to the Eye Bank for Sight Restoration in Manhattan.

The eye bank announced the successful corneal transplants yesterday, but did not disclose the names of those who received them.

Thief Fishes for Loot

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—A thief cut a 3-by-4-inch section from the window glass in an auto supply store and, using a twig and bent pin, hooked $200 worth of minature boats, hobby tools and boat parts. He left his fishing tackle on the pavement.

Smoking Said Cancer Factor

Georgia Paper Reveals Claim by Scientists in Study of Disease

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Constitution said today in a copyrighted story that a scientific study group has found that cigarette smoking "beyond a reasonable doubt is a causative factor in the rapidly increasing incidence' of lung cancer.

The newspaper said it had obtained exclusively a "highly confidential and not yet officially released" copy of the report which, it said, "establishes the most positive cause-effect link between cigarette smoking and lung cancer by a scientific group to date."

The scientific study group was set up by the American Cancer Society, the National Cancer Institute, the American Heart Assn. and the National Heart Institute, and was made up of seven scientists, including Dr. Rolla E. Dyer, director of research at Atlanta's Emory University.

The scientists found no convincing evidence that smoking is a cause of heart disease, the paper said.

The report stated:

"Lung cancer occurs much more frequently (5 to 15 times) among cigarette smokers than among nonsmokers, and there is a direct relationship between the incidence of lung cancer and the amount smoked.

"It is estimated that on a lifetime basis, one of every 10 men who smoke over two packs a day will die of lung cancer. The comparable risk among nonsmokers is one out of 275."

Weathered Writer Salutes Rainmaker Ike

By RANDOLPH CHURCHILL

UCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda (INS)—President Eisenhower, who is probably the luckiest man ever born, pulled it off again. He brought Eisenhower weather with him to Bermuda.

Golden sunshine when he arrived and torrents of rain that first midnight. Which is exactly what the islanders have been praying for.

There is an acute shortage of water particularly at the Castle Harbour Hotel, where all the newspaper correspondents are staying. It is impossible to have a bath—only showers are available.

And many old journalistic hacks have been compelled, in the public interest, to drink whisky at six shillings a glass rather than trench upon the limited water supplies of the island.

USE SALT WATER

Some of them have even plunged into the hotel's swimming pool (salt water) rather than put the natives and tourists to any added inconvenience.

But at midnight there was a spectacular thunderstorm, just like there was at Geneva nearly two years ago when President Eisenhower attended the famous and misleading "parley at the summit" with Sir Anthony Eden and Comrades Khrushchev and Bulganin.

Forked lightning then played over the lake of Geneva. This night it was sheet lightning accompanied by buckets of rain of which Bermuda really stood in need.

"Typical Eisenhower weather" was the comment of the secret service men accompanying the President.

Only last January when the President visited the drought area of Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Kansas and Texas the heavens opened shortly after his visit, and his second inauguration was blessed by millions of grateful citizens who in a bipartisan manner blessed the great if insufficient rainmaker.

All the talk here at first was about the health of the various participants. I thought that Eisenhower looked in the pink but under strain, MacMillan was relaxed but rather pallid; Selwyn Lloyd, a bit below par.

I have not yet seen John Foster Dulles but credible witnesses have reported that his usual exuberance and vitality seem at least temporarily to have deserted him.

Eisenhower was saluted on his arrival by two guards of honor, a detachment of the U. S. Marines and by a batallion of the Duke of Cornwall's light infantry.

I wish the President had seen the latter march on and off in parade. I have never seen troops march so proudly and smartly since I saw the Artylle and Sutherland Highlanders at the victory parade in Tunis in 1943.

That was a high moment in the personal relations of Harold Macmillan, at that time British minister-resident in Algiers, and of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Both of them are perceptive men with a sense of history: I fancy that the military parade here must have evoked memories which have a topical application.

Scientists Work on TB Vaccine

Report New Process May Provide Immunity Against Disease

By EDWIN DIAMOND
INS Science Writer

WASHINGTON (INS) — U.S. scientists today reported developing a "promising" new, safe tuberculosis vaccine and brewing "antibiotic beers" for possible use against cancer.

They also reported a new disease-spotting technique: fluorescent dyes that light up in the presence of infectious organisms and thus quickly identify the disease type.

These developments were made public for the first time by U.S. national institutes of health scientists in testimony before a House appropriations subcommittee.

Other testimony reviewed previously-published research highlights at the seven institutes during 1956, including development of new arthritis drugs, the taming of viruses for use against human cancers and advances in heart disease treatment.

NO SAFE MEANS

The new TB vaccine was described by Dr. Victor H. Haas, director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases. Dr. Haas said there is at present no safe and widely-effective means of immunizing persons against TB, a disease which annually causes some 16,000 deaths.

Dr. Haas reported that institute scientists were using the antigen fractionation method of producing a vaccine. This consists of opening bacterial cells and removing the mass, leaving only the empty shell or capsule.

The cell mass is discarded. The capsule, however, is chemically cleaned and prepared for use in a vaccine. The idea is that while the mass is a useless irritant, the capsule is "antigenic"—has the ability to stimulate the body's production of disease-fighting antibodies.

Dr. Haas called the work "quite promising" and said the TB vaccine would be tried out on human volunteers.

Quakes Cause Heavy Damage on Aleutian Isle

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The series of earthquakes last week in the Aleutians caused heavy damage on Adak Island and left children so frightened they awakened screaming at night, an observer reports.

Ward Wells, Anchorage commercial photographer, toured the Aleutian island chain where more than 80 aftershocks have been felt since the heavy March 9 quake that caused Pacific tidal waves. He made the trip last weekend.

Wells said most of the damage was on Adak, midway in the island chain. He said some roads there have splits 15 feet wide and 8 feet deep, some buildings are damaged and road guardrails "look like they had been put in by some drunk."

Navy officials at Kodiak headquarters said they considered Adak suffered "extensive light damage."

Our money is printed in Washington and sent all over the country. Sooner or later, though, most of it finds its way back . . . The real old timer is the fellow who remembers when it cost more to run a car than it does to park it. Earl Wilson.

Jewel Weed Provides Poison Ivy Treatment

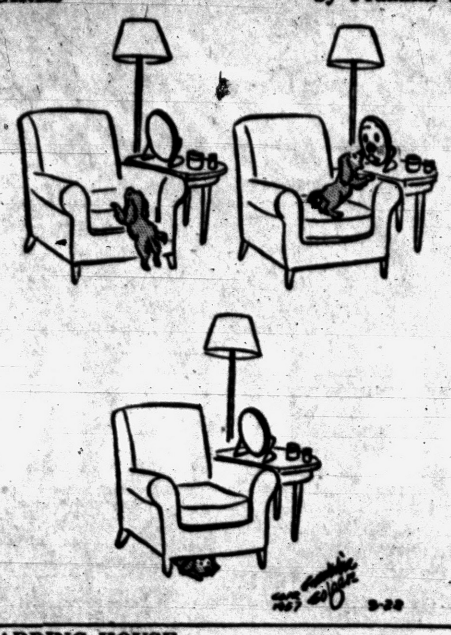

CHICAGO (AP)—An allergist said today that a solution obtained from the plant jewel-weed makes an "effective and inexpensive local mendicant" for treating poison ivy infections.

Dr. Roger A. Lipton of New York said all but 8 of 115 patients treated with the solution "responded most gratifyingly in a few days." He added that the commonly used drugs such as calamine lotion or Burow solution were effective in only 15 or 30 patients tried over a period of a week.

Soybeans Drop, So Does Corn

CHICAGO (AP) — Liquidation by longs continued in grain and soybean futures on the board of trade today and most prices continued to move downward.

Forecasts for further moisture in the winter wheat belt, and an estimate that the crop has been greaty improved by recent rains, caused renewed selling in wheat, although losses were not large.

Corn moved downward under influence of further government sales. Soybeans were off a cent or more at times on commission house liquidation brought about partly by a weak soybean market.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was unchanged to ⅝ lower, May $2.21⅜, corn ⅛ to ½ lower, May 1.31½, oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, May 70⅛, rye ¼ to 1½ lower, May $1.29¾. Soybeans unchanged to 1 cent lower, May $2.39¼, and lard 8 to 12 cents a hundred pounds ower, May $14.25.

House Vote Allows Deduction to Utilities

LANSING (AP) — Public utilities would be allowed to write off charitable contributions as operating expenses under a house-approved bill that moved to the Senate today.

The House passed the bill 72 to 25 yesterday, one of 11 measures okayed in a busy two-hour session.

Backers of the proposal, including its chief sponsor, Rep. Rollo G. Conlon (R-Tipton), said it merely would put utilities on the same basis as private corporations which now claim donations as a business expense.

Conlon, chairman of the Taxation Committee, said even now a utility can claim sums donated for welfare and religious purposes as a deduction in computing federal income atxes.

Opposition was sparked by Rep. Wilfred G. Bassett (R-Jackson), who said:

"Public utilities now are contributing at the expense of the stockholder—this shifts the burden of their generosity to the customer."

Bassett pointed out that rates paid by utility subscribers are fixed by the Public Service Commission, and that utility firms could, under the bill, use charitable contributions to build up its rate bases, and ultimately, charges to subscribers.

Prices Follow Jagged Pattern

It continued its series of narrow price movements which have left it virtually unchanged on average since last week.

Key stocks showed gains and losses ranging to about a point at the most. No vigorous buying or selling activity was apparent in any division.

Despite good earnings reports by oil companies there was indifferent response in this group of stocks. Cities Service aroused little demand in the wake of its record net income report. Gulf Oil rose a fraction as its sales were reported past the two billion dollar mark for the first time. Standard Oil of California was unchanged although its annual earnings climbed.

Wall Street analysts reported that continued uncertainty about the Middle East still dampened investor interest. In addition, normal reluctance of traders to extend positions prior to a weekend was evident.

Gaza Seethes Anew Over 39 Slain Arabs

GAZA (INS)—A new wave of anti-Israeli indignation swept through the Gaza Strip Thursday when the Egyptians dug up the badly decomposed bodies of 39 Arab males near the truce line.

All were clad in khaki overalls and were blindfolded, according to Arab officials.

The mayor's office said they were part of a group of Gazans rounded up by the Israelis and some had bullet holes in the skull.

(Last December, U.N. sources estimated that between 30 and 50 Arabs were killed in Gaza rioting, looting and unrest after the Israeli seizure of the Gaza Strip in November.)

This afternoon, a large wailing crowd of mourners followed four trucks which carried the bodies down the main street to the Martyr Cemetery.

Among those present were the Egyptian governor's deputy, the mayor and Egyptian army officers.

Boy Scout, 13, Rescues Child From Icy Lake

A 13-year-old Milford Boy Scout was credited with saving the life of 2-year-old Penny Mick, when she fell from a dock into White Lake at 6 p.m. yesterday.

Jeffrey Shade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shade, 3377 Harbor Ct., was fishing in the water in front of his house when he noticed an object floating in the water four houses east of his home.

He ran over and rescued the child, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mick, 2931 Maple Ridge Rd.

Penny had been in the care of her 7-year-old brother, Herbert, when she toppled into the icy waters.

Penny was covered with blankets and carried home by neighbors.

Ocean Liners Dock Unaided

Government Intensifies Efforts to Avert Strike of British Workers

LONDON (AP) — Ocean liners steamed into the vast port of Southampton today and berthed without tugs or mooring crews in a growing "beat the strike" campaign.

Government mediators, meanwhile, intensified a last-ditch attempt to crack a nationwide shipyard strike and head off an allied walkout of 2½ million industrial workers scheduled to start at noon tomorrow.

There were signs that Britain's other major strike threat, to the state-run railway system, might be averted by a wage compromise.

Southampton's tug operators and mooring men first blacklisted the Queen Mary after the shipyard strikers charged the Cunard Line had taken the big ship unfinished from a strike-idled repair yard. The strike was ordered throughout the port when navy tugs helped the liner sail for America early yesterday.

Helped by perfect weather, the 27,000-ton Capetown Castle eased into the Southampton quay with 600 passengers from South Africa.

A little later the 6,269-ton Norwegian cruise ship Venus repeated the operation to the applause and cheers of passengers on deck.

Others liners, including the 26,000-ton America, were expected to do the same when they arrive in the next day or two.

Labor Ministry peacemakers seeking to bring together shipyard owners and leaders of the 200,000 strikers reported "some progress."

American Motors to Seek More Products; Keep Cars

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors plans to expand and acquire new firms while continuing production of its established automotive lines.

George Romney, president of American Motors, outlined the diversification an dhe emphasized that he and the company's largest single stockholder, Louis E. Wolfson, were at "complete basic agreement" after talks in Miami, Fla.

Wolfson and his family had acquired some 350,000 shares of AMC, touching off reports that he would try to force the company to sell its automobile producing facilities. American Motors has 5,670,400 shares outstanding.

Romney, speaking at a news conference yesterday, said American Motors has completely tooled for production of its 1958 models and expects to be operating at a profit by early 1958. He said too that preliminary work on 1959 and 1960 models is underway.

He said that Wolfson was in complete agreement with him that "we should press forward with the completion of the tooling for our full line of cars for 1958."

Wolfson also agreed, Romney said, that American Motors should continue production of small compact cars and try to increase its penetration of the medium price field with its Nash and Hudson models.

Answering newsmen's questions, Romney said that he and Wolfson had discussed the expansion of American Motors and the acquisition of "consistently profitable companies producing products in growth industries."

School Boards Set Boundaries

Oakland Joins Other Counties in Ruling on Five Petitions

The Oakland County Board of Education, acting frequently in joint session yesterday with other county school boards, ruled on five petitions affecting the boundaries of school districts in the south western part of Oakland.

Included was an attempt by the Novi District to take the new Lincoln Motor plant from the Walled Lake District.

The Oakland, Wayne and Washtenaw boards approved transfering 8½ acres from the Novi to the Northville School District.

The same boards rejected a Novi appeal to transfer 560 acres from the Northville District to Novi. Northville objected to the change.

The Oakland and Wayne boards approved the transfer of 240 acres from the Farmington District to Novi to straighten out the boundary line.

The Oakland, Washtenaw and Livingston boards unanimously denied Novi's petition to take 1,530 acres from the Lyon School District. The residents involved objected to the change, partly because Novi does not have a high school.

Novi sought 2,500 acres from the Walled Lake District, including the new Lincoln plant. The change would have given Novi $5 million in additional tax base.

The meeting room was jammed with Walled Lake residents from the area involved who testified against the change. It was denied unanimously by the Oakland board.

State Extends Time for Filing Returns

LANSING (AP) — An extension to April 15 of the deadline for filing business activities tax returns was announced today by Louis M. Nims, state revenue commissioner.

Nims said that there had been numerous requests for the extension from Certified Public Accountants and other agencies who normally prepare their returns in conjunction with federal income tax returns.

The tax normally is due April 1.

All Michigan citizens who have received more than $575 in interest or dividends are liable for the tax unless the income came from state or federal bonds or obligations.

Board Considers Plans for School Site

How best to develop the site of the new high school was the major topic of discussion at last night's Pontiac Board of Education meeting.

A total site plan for the area north of the building was presented by Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent, division of busines who said the architect's estimate of cost is $196,725.

Monroe Osmun, board member, said he did not belive the board should try to develop the whole site this year. He proposed a splitting of the project into two parts with half of it to be done in 1958.

In the development are items for site clearing and grading, a driver training area, tennis courts, a football field with a cider running track around it, baseball and softball diamonds and lawns.

After considerable discussion the board agreed to authorize detailed working drawings of the entire project and to let bids separately for the major items.

The board felt it could then decide which items to complete this year after it has received bids and knows the cost of the new high school itself.

The board also gave the go ahead for working drawings of several rehabilitation projects at older schools.

These are: Fire alarm system at the high school, repair of the girls locker room at the senior high; repair of the boys locker room at Eastern Junior High, repair of the incinerator and air recirculation shaft at Crofoot Elementary, and replacement of boilers at the Wisner and McConnell schools.

In other action, the board heard a report given by Hufziger on behalf of a committee of teachers at the high school and Crofoot School on lack of parking facilities.

A committee of parents of children attending the Wilson School appeared at the meeting to seek relief from hazardous crossing conditions they said existed at the South Blvd. — Woodward — Paddock intersection.

They said more than 200 youngsters crossed the intersection at least twice daily.

The school principal, Glenn M. Husted, appeared in support of the parents who sought a school bus to transport the children and a guard at the crossing.

The board asked the parents and Husted to meet with the administrative staff to work out a solution.

The meeting concluded with the board picking May 21 as Business, Industry, Education Day in Pontiac.

Ditch Traps 2 Men; Screams Bring Aid

ALHAMBRA, Calif. (AP) — Two men were trapped in a cave-in for more than 45 minutes before rescuers, attracted by their screams, dug them out.

The men were in a 15-foot ditch laying pipelines when the banks caved in.

"We dug with our bare hands to uncover their heads," said Robert McWaters, a crane operator on the flood control project.

Firemen aided in the final rescue of Casey Dombrowski, 37, Garden Grove, Calif., and Raoul Morales, 41, San Gabriel, Calif. They were taken in serious condition to the White Memorial Hospital.

Julius to Guest on Como Show

Jackie Gleason Insists on Doing Straight Role if He Makes Movie

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—What's this about June Lockhart in the Myrna Loy role in a TV "Thin Man" series? With Peter Lawford in the William Powell part?

Julius La Rosa was added to Perry Como's March 30 show; that's the one with Lana Turner . . .

Ringling Bros. big top will do a CBS—TV hour April . . .

Jack Benny may not be getting older but he will get richer: He owns production rights to the new half-hour "live" Gisele MacKenzie show when it arrives in TV, probably CBS . . .

BEST RADIO SHOW

NBC radio's Biographies in Sound was voted "best radio show of 1956" by the National Association for Better Radio and TV, and it's not even sponsored . . . while some of the worst are . . .

Ex-NBC Chairman Pat Weaver now is reported set to start "his own TV network," with "Ding Dong School" as its first program . . .

Helen Hayes' son, James MacArthur, will be among the collegiate panel March 31 aboard ABC-TV's "College Press Conference" . . .

"Tell the Truth," with a brighter panel and future, was signed for another full 52-week CBS-TV year. .

Ella Fitzgerald's well enough to work again—on the Sunday Sullivan show . . . Julie London's on that bill, too . . .

BRIGHT MUSICALE

Lots of fresh and lilting little notions in it's comparatively cramped length, such as showing the "studio audience" as wildly applauding cartoon characters . . . And for males, there's always Abbe Lane . . .

The final four Ray Bolger NBC-TV shows of the season will switch from Sunday afternoons to various nights . . .

Variety recently had a "think piece" about what it calls the "great man era" in TV being finished — meaning the end of the comic period and the start of big things for singers (Como, Pat Boone, Sinatra, etc.) . . .

Bishop Sheen and ABC are parting amicably and the bidding is on.

Dennis James was signed for 13 weeks as emcee of "Club 60" . . .

Mom's Shoes Bring Tears to Lad at School

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A little boy who sat crying on a curb in front of a grade school the other day attracted the attention of policemen Hedrick Sheppard and William Savage.

Why the tears and why aren't you in school? They wanted to know.

The boy raised a wet and puffy face, and without a word at first, lifted his feet off the ground so the policemen could have a good look.

The youngster wore women's shoes, and it was plain that he was ashamed.

With a little patience, the policemen get the story. The boy's only pair of shoes was in a repair shop and his mother hadn't the money to get them out. But the mother wanted him to go to school anyway, in a pair of her own shoes.

Sheppard and Savage old the boy: "Stop crying and relax. Some of your troubles, at least, are over."

They took him to the shop and redeemed his shoes and had the others firmly wrapped so there should be no further humiliation. Then they squired him to school and explained it all to principal Gerald Amonitti.

Wayne Accepts Grants

DETROIT (INS) — Acceptance of gifts and grants totaling $85,850 has been announced by the board of governors of Wayne State University. Scholarship and fellowship contributions amounted to $5,902.

Don't Ask Eva Bartok About Gabor Family

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I reckon this Ohio apple-knocker is too naive. I asked Eva Bartok, the latest Hungarian glamor import, how many times she was married, and she said, "only once . . . really."

So our files say four times, so what? Miss Bartok, who's been called "the Quiet Hungarian," wishes people'd desist from asking her about the other Hungarian glamor dolls, the garrulous Gabors.

"Hungary has produced so many great people—why should we only hear about the Gabors?" Her eyes blazed under the white felt coal-scuttle hat.

EVA

Perhaps a secret about her romantic life would be easier?

"My last two escorts got me all that bad publicity," she flamed, referring, I gather, to the Marquess of Milford Haven and Kurt Jurgens, husband No. 4. "The same things are going on with them now—except the girls have changed."

Much later when I bade her a lunchtime goodbye she looked up at me and said, "Please don't write anything uncomplimentary about the Gabors. I don't know them. They're probably very nice."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Could Janette Davis and director Frank Musciello of the Arthur Godfrey morning show, be getting married? . . . Jane Russell's trying to get Mary Martin to head the East Coast WAIF (adoption agency) . . . Jackie Gleason and Jaye P. Morgan were a duo.

Diana Barrymore gets $5,000-a-year income on her autobiog . . . Mickey Mantle was offered $75,000 to appear in Abbott & Costello's next film . . . Borden Stevenson (Adlai's son) got one of the garters Bea Lillie tossed out at the Follies . . . Allison Hayes got her first starring role in the TV series, "Here Comes the Showboat." Grace Kelly and the Prince will see the Pope any week now . . . Mary Martin and husband bought a brownstone house near the UN . . .

EARL'S PEARLS . . . Television failed to kill movies, but some of those old movies may yet kill television.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The way traffic is in N. Y. nowadays, pretty soon we'll have none-way streets.

Larry Daniels heard this conversation about an ineffective TV vice president: "Sorry to hear he was fired. Who filled his vacancy?" . . . "He didn't leave any." . . . That's earl, brother.

Drainage Bill Gets Support

State Legislators Favor Project Aiding Areas Near Evergreen

Legislation favoring the Evergreen Interceptor Sewer received support yesterday in Lansing.

A bill enabling the six communities involved to contract with Detroit for disposal of sewage and drainage received favorable comment before the House Towns and Counties Committee.

Appearing before the committee were Birmingham City Manager Harold K. Schone and Rep. Farrell E. Roberts, of West Bloomfield Township, who introduced the measure.

Roberts said the bill allows several communities banded together legally to enter into contract with a large municipal corporation such as Detroit.

SEES APPROVAL

Roberts said he believes the committee will act favorably on the measure within two or three weeks.

Passage by the legislature would remove one of the last known stumbling blocks to construction of the drain along Evergreen road from Eight Mile road to Fourteen Mile road.

With the exception of Troy, the communities have been ordered by the State Water Resources Commission to stop allowing untreated wastes to flow into the Rouge River.

Criticizes Laws Aimed at Parents of Delinquents

"Such treatment puts parents on the defensive," the noted psychiatrist told a meeting of the Child Welfare League of America.

"It is a mockery of the work we are trying to do to help parents," he said. "We should be holding out the hand of sympathy."

"There are distinct cases when legal action against parents is necessary, but these are separate things," he said.

Teletype Hastens Solution to Theft at Local Jeweler

The swiftness of the teletype plus alertness of a Pontiac detective closed the case of the Sunday night theft of Shaw's Jewelry, 24 N. Saginaw St.

Detective Sgt. Raymond E. Meggitt said today four Selfridge Air Force Base men admitted they had broken the front display window and taken several watches.

Meggitt said the men were Donald Stewart, 21; Robert Gulliot, 19, James Mann, 20 and Donald Kinzer, 21.

He decided to question the men after he read a teletype from Mt. Clemens and Roseville police stating four men were being held in the Macomb County Jail accused of breaking and entering several other jewelry stores by the same method.

The quartet will be prosecuted in Macomb County. A detainer has been placed on them for the Pontiac Police pending the outcome of the Macomb County prosecution.

Watches were also taken from the Roseville and Mt. Clemens stores.

Probe No Bar to Union Plans, Says Spokesman

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A top official of the Teamsters' Union says the probe into the union's activities now under way in Washington will not hinder the Teamsters' plans "to spend million of dollars to start a vigorous organizing campaign."

Lawrence Steinberg, president of the Teamsters Joint Council 44 in this area and coordinator of the 89,000-member joint council 53 in Philadelphia, told a meeting of 500 teamsters officers and stewards: "As far as the teamsters are concerned, we are not going to be detoured one moment from our main goal — organizing the unorganized."

His audience here, representing 9,600 members of Local 20, passed a resolution to join in "any local or national defense committee that may be organized in the defense of our national leadership, and to support such a committee morally and financially."

Steinberg called indictment of Teamsters Vice President James R. Hoffa on charges of conspiracy and bribery "a perfect frameup." He said the Senate probe's main disclosure has been that the teamsters Union "is extremely active in political action, and that appears to be illegal in the eyes of this committee.

"Senators, congressmen and the present governor of this state have sat and accepted our support," Steinberg said. "No one denounced the Teamsters Union then, and we've got letters of thanks commenting on our being 'good citizens.'"

Riverview Blacks Out

RIVERVIEW (INS) — Detroit Edison repairmen worked throughout the night to restore street lighting to a section of Riverview. A defective transformer was blamed for the blackout.

Upholds Segregation of Negroes on Buses

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (INS)—The constitutionality of Birmingham's bus segregation laws was upheld in court yesterday.

Recorders court Judge Joseph E. Parker found Negro Lila Baylor guilty of violation of the segregation suit and applied his decision to 20 other Negroes arrested on the same charge.

The defendants were fined $50 each, assessed $5 court costs apiece, and ordered a day in jail for each two dollars of the fine cost not paid.

"There would be a state of emergency in the state of Birmingham," the judge said, if bus segregation was voided.

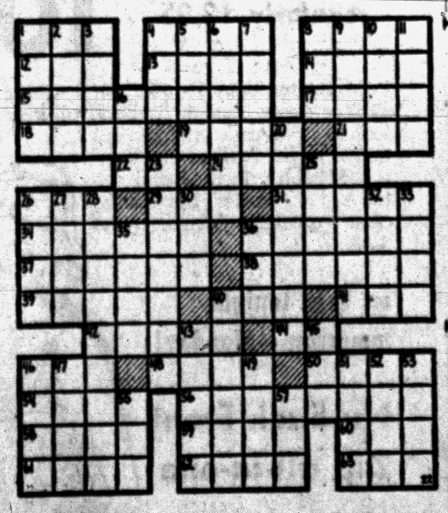

The decision will be appealed, Defense Attorney Arthur Shores said.

The following are the correct answers and explanations for Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 41 which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press:

1. BOLD is good. A cold attitude, either natural or assumed, is decidedly repellent. To say that it "can be" so is to imply that it also can be otherwise. This is untrue. A BOLD attitude can be repellent to people who dislike boldness; it can also be attractive to people who need or like boldness in a given situation.

2. KIT is better. The word "handy" goes better with KIT. A traveler in any country, hostile or not, needs a handy (ready or available) wit. In a hostile one, it would be difficult to get food and supplies. The handy KIT would help take care of this difficulty, in part.

3. WOOD is the choice, because the statement is a definite one. People who work at facing WOOD put a veneer on it, and this is a job for professionals. They will measure carefully. In regard to facing wool materials, however, much work of this sort is done by amateurs, many of them careless, so that our positive statement does not suit them as well.

4. FARE is correct. To say that faro (a gambling game) would be rough for a tenderfoot in the West, and to imply that FARO elsewhere might be easier, is to ignore the fact that gamblers can be tough customers anywhere. FARE (food, in the only applicable sense) could rather rough in the West, especially for a tenderfoot, who may be used to the service and refinements of the East or of Europe.

5. FUEL is better. If a quarrel is hot, a duel may be of use to the winner, if it ends seriously. If it is merely a token DUEL, in which honor is to be satisfied, then both parties can find it useful in bringing the quarrel to an end. It is FUEL that should not be added to a hot quarrel, for it only makes the situation hotter.

6. TOUCH, for sure. A really hot torch would make even a suspecting person jump, if it came in contact with him. With torch, you get no intimation of contact. With TOUCH, you are told of contact. A suspecting person could brace himself for a hot TOUCH (a moment's contact). An unsuspecting person would surely jump from sheer involuntary reaction.

7. FAN fits the situation, for only a devotee of baseball would get angry enough to shout insults at the umpire. FAN is the specific word here; an angry man is too vague.

8. GLADE is better. It would be too strong an overstatement to call one grassy blade (one blade of grass) verdant. Verdant means green with vegetation. This would be applied to a grassy GLADE, a clearing in the woods, with its multiplicity of grassy growths, and perhaps other green vegetation.

9. WILY is fine. An unctuous speech is naturally oily, as in this sense the two words mean much the same thing. Such speech may very well be WILY, as when it is designed to lull someone's suspicions. There is a possibility that it may be mere smugness, and this satisfies the slight element of doubt in the clue.

10. HOOP, for sure. HOOP is supposed to be a circular piece as around a barrel, etc. Any section of a circle, such as a HOOP, should be an arc. A certain section of a hook can be an arc, but not any section. The straight part would be far from an arc.

11. BAIZE is the choice. Maize, or corn, cannot be said to be green very often. All maize is green when it starts to grow, without exception, and is green until it is ripe. 'Very often' would imply that some maize is never green at all. So BAIZE is better. This cloth, such as is used on pool tables, is very often green, but it can be dyed other colors.

12. LADDER is better, for when a woman gets one in her stocking, she is at least temporarily annoyed. A riddle may well annoy some women, but the statement "always annoys" fits much better with the common irritation of the nylon LADDER.

13. SLABS or half-curved pieces cut from the outside of logs would be most useful for the walls of a cabin. Slats are laths usually used as a base for plastered walls, which most cabins do not have.

14. NOB is good. The NOB, or head, should contain the information a person needs. If the head can't contain it, a person could not do his work at all. The nub of anything would be actual information, the point or gist of something. We cannot say that information should contain itself.

15. HOLD is reasonable. It would be very unsafe to attempt to conceal smuggled goods with a hood, even an automobile hood, a cover that can easily be lifed to reveal the goods. A HOLD, as of a ship, could be equipped with secret places, not visible to one who does not know how to find them.

16. DICKER is good. With a ticker, you have figures that can be watched by an interested party. With a DICKER, you are quite sure there is an interested party. In a DICKER, business deal, it is essential to watch figures. All Wall Street transactions involve figures that require constant watch, for market flucuations.

U.S. Part of Seaway 30 Pct. Complete

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Orville E. Hodge's apartment hotel in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., shot up in value yesterday as a second bid—this time for $575,000—was received by the state.

Hugh Graham Jr., attorney for the trustee of the state, Wednesday asked the Circuit Court to vacate a Feb. 26 order authorizing the sale of the property for $522,000 to a Michigan firm.

The hotel and other Hodge properties were turned over to the state in partial restitution for the estimated 2½ million dollar thefts he committed as state auditor. Hodge is serving a 12-15 year prison sentence.

State officials said the new offer was made by Charles A. Pitts, a Miami, Fla., contractor. They said pitts offered to post $75,000 earnest money.

Graham asked Circuit Judge Dewitt Crow to hold a hearing next Tuesday on the motion to set aside the authorization of the sale of the hotel to the Michigan Typesetting Co. of Detroit.

Church Leader Dies

HOLLAND (AP)—Dr. Seth Vander-Werf, who served the Reformed Church in America 25 years as field secretaory of its Board of Domestic Missions, died Wednesday at Wood Haven Rest Home in Zeeland. He was 88. A native of the Netherlands, he moved to Grand Rapids in 1885 and graduated from Western Theological Seminary in Holland. Central College of Pella, Iowa, awarded him an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1926.
