

Birmingham Clerk Lists 31 Per Cent Vote; Invites Registration for November

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM—City Clerk Irene Hanley's tabulations show that over 31 per cent of the city's registered voters availed themselves of the opportunity to vote in Tuesday's primary election. Votes cast numbered 3,832 out of a possible 11,971.

"But as always, some people were disappointed because they had neglected to register," Miss Hanley commented.

To those who did fail to do so, Miss Hanley stated they may register for the general election anytime between now and the Oct. 5 deadline.

She reminded that the city clerk's office (in the Municipal Building) will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. each Monday, for the convenience of those who do not work in Birmingham.

Registrations were halted for 30 days prior to this week's election.

In addition to the Monday evening office hours, the city clerk's office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

Meeting this week, the Zone Board of Appeals postponed a hearing over screening requirements for a portion of the Wake-Jacobson off-street parking lot, adjacent to property owned by Adolph Meyer, of Detroit.

The board will get an opinion from City Attorney Forbes Hasell on whether front, rear, or side-yard limitations apply in the set-back requirements, before issuing its decision.

Wake-Jacobson has requested a five-yard set-back, while Meyer is holding out for 12 yards.

In another case, Frank Pero, of 1491 S. Elton, won his appeal, since neighbors had no objections and may build a detached garage at the rear of his property. Because of the triangular shape of the lot, it would be impossible to maintain the set-back requirements of 15 feet.

Before permission is granted for an addition to be constructed at the rear of Forbes Printing Co., 415 E. Frank St., the board will discuss with the Fire Department the advisability of permitting a variance in the rear yard set-back requirement of 10 feet.

Iranian Oil Back on World Market

1957. (The figure is looked upon as more-or-less a "token payment" for the vast and valuable properties involved.)

7. The National Iranian Oil Co. (NIOC) which took over the nationalized industry will continue to operate the NAFT-I-Shan oil field and the smaller Kermanshah refineries for part of Iran's own oil needs and will handle all domestic distribution while the combine concentrates on the external world markets.

8. The Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. will have a 40 per cent holding in the operating combine and the Royal Dutch Shell Co., partly owned by British interests, will have another 14 per cent interest. The American companies involved are:

Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of California, Socony Vacuum Oil Co., Texas Co. and the Gulf Corp.

Together they will have a 40 per cent holding.

The Compagnie Francaise Des Petroles, a French company, will have the remaining six per cent.

The combine brings into the Iranian oil production five American companies. Previously Iran's oil had been a purely British preserve. The American companies are among the eight that formed the combine which negotiated today's end to the three-year-old dispute.

Iranian finance minister Dr. Ali Ammini and Howard Page, an American representing the eight-company western combine, announced the major agreement here.

"We are still waiting for more transcripts of our testimony," James Spencer, chairman of the board of inquiry investigating the actions of the fire and police departments at a June fire which cost two lives, said yesterday.

"The board will still meet this week, but there probably will be no more hearings," he said. Hoping to end the investigation soon, the board's final step will be to draft and file a completed report with the City Commission, he stated.

Birmingham Dog Owners Get Time to Quiet Pets

BIRMINGHAM—To give the defendants time to work out a method of silencing their two dogs, Justice John J. Gaffill yesterday took the disturbing the peace case against Mr. and Mrs. Irving A. Taylor under advisement until Sept. 8.

Complaint against the Taylors, who live at 756 Abbey, was brought by the Thomas Wagners of 660 Abbey, who charged that the dogs—a terrier and a collie—create a neighborhood disturbance.

Police said there have been 10 other complaints against the dogs.

Russian Churchman Succumbs in Soviet

MOSCOW (U)—Metropolitan Gernomen, 74, head of the Russian Orthodox Church in North America and the Aleutian islands, died yesterday at Krasnodar, church authorities here announced today.

Death was attributed to heart disease. The prelate was vacationing at Krasnodar, a south Russian city near the Black Sea.

Metropolitan Gernomen was born Vasily Ivanovich Kozhin Jan. 1, 1880. His home was in the Stalin-grad area.

He arrived in New York last Feb. 2 to take over the post vacated in 1953 by the death of former Metropolitan Makary. There was some delay in granting him a U.S. entry visa, but the State Department agreed to allow him in after the church in America stressed that he was needed there.

Church officials said they did not know when his successor might be named.

Starlings Squawk, Officials Shudder

birds was by eliminating their roosts. So foresters started thinning out trees.

They chopped down shade trees on West Ironquels road between Voorhees and Algonquin and routed the starlings. Instead of solving the problem, the bird nuisance became even more acute in other parts of the neighborhood.

The starlings flew away from the thinned-out area and joined their pals in other trees left untouched. Complaints poured into the city.

So officials abandoned the city-wide tree-thinning plan. Now they remove trees only when residents demand it.

Raymond C. Keller, city parks supervisor, admits he's stumped. "Frankly," said Keller, "we don't know what to do. We've tried about everything and have failed."

"Maybe we'll find a secret weapon. Until then, though, I guess our only weapon is patience."

Boy, 11, Suffers Bruises in Motorcycle Scrap

An 11-year-old Independence Township boy was treated at Pontiac General Hospital yesterday for face and foot bruises sustained when he was struck by a motorcycle on Dartmouth road near Whipple Lake road.

John Parks of 9556 Yale, the accident victim, dashed from behind some bushes into the path of a motorcycle driven by William Gerrow, 39, of 9881 Marmora, Clarkston, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Guatemalans Want Armas as Dictator

GUATEMALA (U)—Leading Guatemalans petitioned junta President Carlos Castillo Armas last night to oust his two partners in the governing group and take over the government alone.

The petition was presented during a rally of 25,000 persons demonstrating in front of the national palace after the suppression of a two-day rebellion by dissident units at an army base.

Sponsors of the petition said if the rest of the junta did not quit in favor of Castillo Armas, they would call a general strike.

The petition also demanded punishment of those responsible for the attack Monday by military cadets and troops of the Aurora base on the irregular "Liberation army," which under Castillo Armas lead sparked the overthrow of Communist-backed Es-President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman.

North Central Indiana Hit by Wind and Rain

INDIANAPOLIS (U)—Winds and torrential rains scattered soggy debris across north central Indiana last night and early today.

State GOP Throws Campaign Into Gear

in every county and polled 117,704 ballots.

This was about 50 per cent of the vote for the winner, Patrick V. McNamara of Detroit, whom the Democrats must now build up quickly to go against U. S. Sen. Homer Ferguson, renominated unopposed.

Republicans began buzzing at once about the chances of State Treasurer D. Hale Brake and Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary holding on to their present jobs after their defeat at Leonard's hands.

Brake's chances for a convention nomination seemed fairly good in view of his long vote-getting record and his second place run against Leonard.

He gulmly refused to discuss his political future, but politicians noted that he had carried 31 counties to 30 for Leonard, 12 for Cleary, nine for Dr. Eugene C. Keyes and one tied.

Brake men said the party's desire for a "glamor" candidate to rival Williams cost their chief the nomination, but they pushed for Brake to get a consolation nomination.

The big buzz was over Cleary's future. A former Republican state chairman and ruler of an empire of politically powerful branch offices, Cleary ran a poor third. He trailed Leonard by 90,570 and Brake by 16,762.

Cleary said he had not decided whether he would seek the secretary of state nomination again, but he added, "I've always been very responsive to the wishes of my party."

Politicians noted that Oakland county gave Leonard a whopping four-to-one, 14,000 majority over Cleary. The recalled that Oakland is the home county of Sen. George N. Higgins of Ferndale, who withdrew from the governorship race and made no secret of his hope to become secretary of state.

The noted also that Auditor General John B. Martin of Grand Rapids is supposed to be wanting the secretary of state post for a "stepping stone to higher things and they suspect Martin has convention strength."

They noted also that Upper Peninsula Republicans are demanding a spot on the ticket this year and traditionally the auditor general post has gone north of the Straits.

They wondered whether all this spelled a squeeze play on Cleary. Leonard refused to say whether either Brake or Cleary would be acceptable on the state ticket.

It was recalled that Leonard, in a Grand Rapids speech six weeks ago, promised to find a place in state government for both Brake and Cleary. Some wondered whether that implied he was thinking of an appointive job.

Charley Trips Alarm, Kids 15 Policemen

OKLAHOMA CITY (U)—Nine-year old Charles Tiger got locked inside of a big wholesale food warehouse last night and accidentally tripped a burglar alarm.

He crawled out from behind a packing crate to find 15 policemen facing him with guns drawn. "You caught me," he said. "Betcha can't catch the other six guys who are in here with me." A systematic search of the warehouse, lasting 45 minutes, produced no one. Officers decided to talk to Charley again.

The youngster broke down. "Ain't nobody here but me."

Rhee Talks Plenty Tough; Was This Setup Planned?

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
When President Syngman Rhee insists that the Korean War must be renewed, the question always arises whether he really thinks of starting the fighting himself if necessary.

The 79-year-old president of the Republic of Korea has talked pretty tough during his present visit to the United States.

He has said that Korea must be unified and that it can not be unified peacefully. He has urged that the United Nations attack North Korea instead of waiting for a possible Communist attack.

He has said that United States policy is short-sighted and that "Americans have not got common guts enough to face the problem."

Addressing Congress, Rhee even asked that United States planes and warships support an invasion of Communist China by a 2,000,000-man Asiatic army.

This, of course, is only talk. At the time of Rhee's departure for the United States, dispatches from Korea said he seemed to be reconciled to waiting for a further development of the world situation before taking any action.

But in Korea, during Rhee's absence, things have started to bubble up.

Last Friday Lt. Gen. Won Yong Duk, provost marshal of the South Korean army, who is called Rhee's "hatchet man," demanded that the Polish and Czechoslovak Communist members of the Armistice Supervisory Commission leave the country at once. He says they are really spies.

Won threatened "appropriate measures," which he did not specify, if they remained. Won is quite capable of following up his threat. It was he who, before the armistice was signed, turned loose more than 27,000 anti-Red Chinese prisoners.

On Saturday, South Koreans fired two pistol shots at four Communist truce inspectors while they were entering their mess hall in Pusan. The same day, American military policemen turned back 250 South Koreans who tried to enter the billets of the Communist truce inspection team at Incheon, near Seoul.

On Sunday, three crudely made bombs were thrown into a truce inspection team enclosure at Kusan, on the west coast.

There have been demonstrations against Red truce team members in Kangnung, Pusan and Taegu.

The American military police guard for the inspection teams has been heavily increased.

Dispatches from Korea suggest the Won Yong Duk's threat, the shooting, the bombing and the demonstrations were planned in advance to coincide with Rhee's visit to the United States.

So far, no damage has been done. But such incidents always are dangerous. One day, if Rhee is serious enough about trying to unify Korea by force, something really serious might happen.

FBI Checking Victim's Identity

Dead Gunman May Be Last of 7 Who Escaped From Marquette in '53

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Sheriff's officers awaited an FBI report today on whether the gunman they killed Tuesday was one of the nation's "10 most wanted men." They feel sure he was.

They believe the man known in this area as Raymond M. Kidd, 35, was really Lloyd Reed Russell, 33, who wounded an officer while fleeing from a Michigan prison two years ago.

Carl Zibulka, the sheriff's fingerprint expert, said an examination of the dead man's prints checked on 28 points with those of Russell. The Federal Bureau of Investigation said, however, it could not confirm the identification immediately.

Kidd and his companion, Norman J. Wyatt, 22, were both wearing stocking masks when found in a stolen Cadillac Tuesday night. They fired when the sheriff's deputies approached, and Kidd was killed in the resulting battle.

Wyatt, who was charged with robbery, said he had known Kidd only a year and knew nothing of his past.

Russell was one of seven inmates who cut their way out of Marquette Prison in 1953. He had been serving a 9½ to 10-year sentence for assaulting a Michigan State Police trooper in 1950.

The seven escaped by overpowering two guards and taking an acetone torch to cut their way out of the cellblock.

Most of the men were recaptured within 48 hours. Russell and others fled into dense woods near the prison and were reported at various points in the Upper Peninsula.

The escape was the first from within the prison proper since 1938.

Pan Peddler Hits Balky Customer With Merchandise

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—This salesman literally beat his prospect over the head—with the merchandise.

Erwin E. Hunter told police the salesman came to his door yesterday and sought to interest Hunter in some pots and pans. Hunter said he declined politely, whereupon the pot merchant banged Hunter on the noggin with a pan.

Hunter said that, when he recovered from his surprise, he floored the peddler with a right to the jaw. The salesman got up and fled, taking his wares with him. Police are looking for him on an assault charge.

Teen Contest Victors Take World Jaunt

NEW YORK (AP)—A couple of French teen-agers have arrived from South America on a trip around the world in 80 days to commemorate the 80th anniversary of the Jules Verne novel.

The pair, Francoise Hauje, 16, and Jean Francois Bernede, 14, won a soap company contest.

They confided last night that language difficulties sometimes make things confusing.

In Peru, for instance, they asked for a deck of playing cards and got peanuts.

"But the peanuts were good," they said.

Inexperienced Driver Killed in Auto Mishap

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Anna Sommer, 55, driving on a learner's permit, was fatally injured yesterday when her car went out of control.

The car hurtled onto a sidewalk, grazed a tree, knocked over 15 feet of wooden fence, smashed through a closed metal garage and plunged down a 35-foot embankment.

In the car with her was her husband, Edward. He suffered a head bruise.

Russian Vodka Stands Closed

Communist Bosses Tell Ivan Only Capitalists Should Imbibe

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communists have coined a new name for drunkenness—"the worst survival of the capitalist past." Temperance lecturers are going about saying heavy drinking "cannot be tolerated in our Socialist society."

The campaign against excessive drinking—especially among young workers in the city and collective farmers who indulge in illegal home-brewing—has been taken up by Pravda, the Communist party organ, by the Literary Gazette and other publications.

The closing of drink-and-run street, vodka stands, especially around the factories, had made it harder to get drunk in Moscow. But no full-scale prohibition appears intended.

Pravda recently took up the campaign against the "worst survival of the capitalist past—alcoholism" with a prominent report of a lecture on the subject given at the all-union society on spreading political and scientific knowledge.

The lecturer said people who drink excessively "violate the rules of Socialist life, disorganize work, damage the interests of our society, poison the rest and cultural life of workers, undermine family life, spread moral corruption." Not only that, they ruin their health and cause accidents.

Literary Gazette printed a complaining letter from a Donbas miner who charges that drinking among miners around Rutenko in the Don basin is causing absenteeism, inefficient work and reduced production. He also blamed drinking for brawls in the mines.

U. S. Renting Melon Land

Florida Farmers Plant Crop in Forest Areas Before Reclamation

WASHINGTON (INS) — Scarcity of good watermelon growing land in the South has led Florida farmers to rent land in national forests to grow their crops.

Under the plan, watermelon growers help improve the Florida national forests by clearing non-productive scrub oak lands for planting.

The land is used for one year for watermelon production. Then it is planted to pine trees.

Watermelon growers have paid fees for the past three years to clear out suitable national forest land for their crop. Included in growth cleared from the land were scrub oak, black jack, palmetto and gallberry.

The Agriculture Department reports that good watermelon growing lands have been scarce for some time in sections of the South.

Reasons for this scarcity are:
1. Land can be used only once in seven years for most watermelon varieties because the spores of fusarium wilt stay in the soil for that long a period; and ruin any new crop.
2. After watermelons are harvested, the land often is planted to citrus trees.

2 New Potatoes Recently Bred

Disease-Resistant Saco and Merrimack Grow Easily in New England

WASHINGTON (INS)—Farmers in New England have a break in the development of two new varieties of high-yielding and disease-resisting white potatoes. The varieties are known as Saco and Merrimack.

They were developed by plant breeders of the agriculture department and the Maine and New Hampshire agricultural experiment stations.

The department says cooperating certified seed producers now are increasing production, and limited quantities of seed stock will be available to New England growers next spring.

Saco is said to be superior in many ways to standard Maine varieties, while Merrimack is ideally suited to growing conditions in New Hampshire. Both can be grown successfully, however, throughout New England.

Both also take the form of large, spreading bushes, and their late-maturing potatoes are short, round, smooth-skinned and shallow-eyed.

The department reports Saco is immune to the common race of late blight fungus, to mild mosaic, latent mosaic, and is highly resistant to net necrosis.

The Merrimack variety is practically immune to the common late blight fungus and to mild mosaic. It also is highly resistant to net necrosis and ring rot, and is moderately resistant to early blight.

Farm Legislation Vote Uncertain

Flowing Oratory Stalls Senate Action on Plan for Price Supports

WASHINGTON — A bumper crop of election-year oratory made it uncertain today how soon the Senate would get around to voting on controversial new farm legislation.

Sen. Young (R-ND), floor leader for a bipartisan group of senators who are backing the Eisenhower administration plan for flexible farm price supports, said in an interview:

"If we can pick up three more votes we can win."

Young favors a one-year extension of present rigid supports on five basic crops — cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts. He said a long list of speeches probably would prevent any major votes today.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), floor manager for the administration proposals, insisted in a separate interview that the Senate would back flexible supports when the show-down comes.

"We've not lost a vote," Aiken added.

Both Aiken and Sen. Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture and a longtime backer of flexible supports, said they hoped for a vote before the Senate quits tonight.

In a speech prepared for Senate delivery, Young recounted repeated statements by Secretary of Agriculture Benson in opposition to continued rigid price supports, and he added:

"This is not what we promised to farmers two years ago during the election campaign."

"I challenge anyone in the Senate of the United States to point to a single speech by President Eisenhower during his campaign two years ago in the Midwest where he ever mentioned flexible price supports."

Matsumoto ate the octopus and reported the money to police. If no one claims it, he can have it.

Trailer-Camper Demands Billing for City Taxes

LINDEN, N.J. — Stephen Sember was a tax collector's dream come true today.

Sember, who lives in a trailer, lodged a formal complaint with the City Council demanding to know why he hasn't been billed for taxes.

Sember said yesterday he had lived in trailer camps in various parts of the country for the past 10 years and always had been obliged—and happy—to pay his taxes.

Why, he asked, should it be any different in Linden?

The Council's tax committee promised to look into the matter.

Swimming Pool Sinks, Kids Safe

LONGMEADOW, Mass. — No body sank in the swimming pool when the swimming pool sank yesterday.

Swimming instructor Vernon Cox guided 20 children out of the pool when he noticed the water begin to "bubble and flutter as if there was terrific pressure." Shortly afterward the pool sank in several feet of earth.

Authorities said the concrete pool was built over the foundation of an old ice plant and there was a filling of loose dirt between the foundation and the bottom of the pool.
