U.S. Trying to Fit Red China Into Arms Talks

Harriett Phillips Winner

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

SMILE OF VICTORY—Mrs. Harriett Phillips (right) of Huntington Woods, flashes a victory smile as she is congratulated Saturday after being elected new vice chairman of the Michigan Democratic Party. First to wish her well at the state convention in Grand Rapids was Adelaide Hart, who is retiring as vice chairman. In background is former State Chairman Neil Staebler applauding Mrs. Phillips' acceptance speech.

Oakland Folk Play Big Role at GOP, Dem Conventions

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Two candidates from Oakland County were the bait Saturday as a band of dissatisfied Democrats at the state convention in Grand Rapids refused to take Gov. John B. Swainson's prepared slate of nominees sitting down.

At one end of the tug of war for votes was C. Allen Harlan, incumbent on the Michigan State University Board of Trustees from Bloomfield Township, and Johnny-come-lately politician Edward C. Pino of Royal Oak, an assistant superintendent of the Lamphere (Madison Heights-Royal Oak) School District.

Emerging unscathed from Swainson's first convention as chief executive was Mrs. Harriett Phillips. She was elected vice chairman of the state party by acclamation and will direct women's activities in the party for the next two years.

Only a few tired delegates — about 10 remained under the 18th District banner — were in their seats in the Civic Auditorium to hear Mrs. Phillips nominated to succeed former Vice Chairman Adelaide Hart. The nomination came from James M. Ginn, Oakland County chairman.

Far from the calm that marked the nomination of most of the Democratic candidates to oppose Republicans on April 3 was the floor fight which Pino waged against Harlan.

Harlan had caused discontent among some Democrats for opposing party policy in voting for higher tuitions at MSU and continuation of ROTC.

Few of the 142 Oakland delegates had heard of Pino, 32, a former campus leader, as his campaign troops marched from caucus to caucus trying to stir up unrest against Harlan, 54, of 3535 N. Adams Road.

The local delegation, however, had pledged its backing to Harlan at the county convention in Pontiac. Some delegates were quietly talking of trying to reverse the endorsement. They never did.

With the 6th District of Ingham, Genesee and Livingston Counties taking up the Pino banners and nominating Pino, Oakland stuck with the powerful Wayne County delegation to throw the necessary winning votes (1,296-462) to Harlan.

Oakland County's 149-vote delegation held the ace card as three candidates for Republican state chairman wheeled and dealt for votes at the state convention which closed in Detroit Saturday.

Former speaker of the House George M. Van Peursem, Zeeland attorney, came out on top with the $21,000-a-year job when the two other candidates withdrew. An 11th hour try to place John A. Gibbs, executive secretary of the county committee, fizzled before it began when a survey of other congressional districts showed no appreciable strength.

Oakland did, however, land three area men — one a veteran jurist and two political newcomers — on the GOP slate of 11 candidates who will go against Democrats in the April 3 election.

Unopposed for one of two University of Michigan Board of Regents spots was James C. Zeder of Bloomfield Hills, former director and vice president of Chrysler Corp.

Thomas B. Adams, 41, president of the Campbell-Ewald advertising agency and a resident of Bloomfield Hills, captured one of two Wayne State University Board of Governors nominations.

Before the two-day convention even began, Supreme Court Justice and former Governor Harry F. Kelly was assured of nomination for another term. Kelly lives in Birmingham.

BEGINS TO ACT

Van Peursem today began taking over the reins from former State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer amid some cries that the party has been returned to the so-called old guard conservative element once directed by Arthur Summerfield, postmaster general under former President Eisenhower.

Van Peursem moved quickly to assure delegates that he will

Mercury to Hover Just Above Normal

Temperatures for the next five days will average 2 to 4 degrees above the normal high of 33 and normal low of 19, says the weatherman. Precipitation will total one-quarter of an inch or less in showers or snow Thursday or Friday.

Tonight's low will be around 20 with a high of 32 expected Tuesday.

Morning winds north to northwesterly at 6 m.p.h. will become variable today and tonight.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 19 degrees. At 2 p.m. the reading was a warm 40.

East Trudges Back to Work

Business Will Stay Crippled Till Wednesday

New Snow Possible on Tuesday in Wake of Worst Since 1947

NEW YORK (UPI) — Public transportation struggled under its heaviest burden since the World War II gasoline shortage today as millions of Easterners straggled back to work through snowdrifts from the weekend storm, the worst since 1947.

Operation Cleanup was expected to delay business as usual until Wednesday in cities like New York, with 17.4 inches of snow, Boston, 14.4, Hartford, Conn., 14, Syracuse, N.Y., 30, Philadelphia, 10.3, and Newark, N.J., 22.6.

★ ★ ★

Adding to New York's headache was a U.S. Weather Bureau prediction of possible new snow Tuesday afternoon.

Private and commercial vehicles still were banned in some cities, including New York, and traffic elsewhere was seriously hampered by ice and drifts up to 10 feet.

A ban on use of private vehicles was lifted in Boston this morning but the snow cleanup was far from complete.

Air travel was resumed after a lapse of 48 hours during which more than 5,000 major airlines flights were cancelled. The first plane to land at Philadelphia's International Airport was, appropriately enough, an Alaskan Airlines plane.

Kennedy Seeks to Ease Gold Outflow

Cut in U.S. Tourist Buying Is Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today asked Congress to cut sharply the amount of foreign goods which American tourists can bring back to the United States without paying custom duties.

Kennedy proposed that the present $500 maximum be slashed to $100 in order to discourage tourists from buying costly souvenirs with dollars which foreigners could use to purchase American gold.

This was the most dramatic recommendation made by Kennedy in a 4,500-word special message on the gold problem which Kennedy said "justifies concern but not panic or alarm."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's news conference this week will be held at 10 a. m. (Pontiac time) Wednesday, the White House announced today.

While the President had been expected to make a request of this sort, some were surprised by the extent of the proposed cut in the customs exemption.

The move was certain to cause concern in some countries, particularly Canada which entertains more American tourists than any other nation but which normally doesn't buy U.S. gold.

Most other major proposals represented attempts to place new emphasis on policies adopted earlier by the Eisenhower administration. For example, Kennedy promised new efforts to expand exports, attract foreign tourists, limit military spending abroad and channel foreign-aid dollars to American businessmen.

One new idea: that Congress permit banks to pay foreign governments and central banks a higher rate of interest than Americans receive on savings accounts. The maximum rate now is three per cent.

Kennedy said action along this line "would enable American banks to make a maximum competitive effort to attract and hold dollar balances which might otherwise be converted into gold."

The effect could be significant since the foreign deposits involved total about $3 billion.

Kennedy also said the United States will seek an international review of the free world's monetary system, with the aim of ironing out some kinks. He hinted at possible tax law changes later to discourage some kinds of private American investment in Europe.

Kennedy said there is time to deal with the gold drain "calmly and deliberately" and declared it can be stemmed without erecting trade barriers or hamstringing military and foreign aid programs. He said the first requirement "is to take all possible steps to insure the effective performance of our own economic system."

He described the proposals outlined in his message as supplementary to that aim but said: "They are not for that reason any less important or less urgent."

He promised vigorous action where he has power to act and urged "early consideration and approval" of those measures which are subject to the will of Congress.

News Flashes

DETROIT (UPI) — A front wheel broke loose from a tractor-trailer on the John Lodge Expressway today, jumped the dividing guard rail and went through the front of an oncoming bus, critically injuring the bus driver and also injuring five passengers. The bus went a quarter of a mile without a driver before it plowed into a guard rail.

JFK Says Reinstate Used-Up Jobless Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy sent to Congress today legislation to reinstate exhausted unemployment insurance benefits for those whose benefits have run out. He estimated it will provide about $950 million for three million workers.

The President also sent to Congress a bill to provide assistance to children of needy unemployed parents.

And Tuesday the White House said, Kennedy will hand over to Congress a legislative formula for boosting the national minimum wage from $1 to $1.15 immediately, and to $1.25 within two years.

Kennedy also has suggested that minimum wage coverage be extended to several million workers now without it.

"The need for prompt enactment of this legislation is clear," the President said in identical letters to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

The formal submission of legislation followed through on Kennedy campaign pledges which have been repeated in various messages the President has delivered to Congress.

The chief executive spelled out in a message last Tuesday, proposing a "program for economic recovery and growth," what he has in mind for extension of unemployment insurance, and for aid to needy children.

USED UP BENEFITS

The message said that about 500,000 persons who have exhausted unemployment insurance benefits still are unemployed and that nearly 1.5 million more will use up their benefits during the first six months of this year.

Werner to Head City Committee

Calvin J. Werner, General Motors Corp. vice president and general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division, has been appointed chairman of the GM Pontiac Plant City Committee for 1961.

Gordon also named Frank O. Riley of Birmingham as chairman of the GM Detroit Plant City Committee for 1961. Riley, a former Pontiac president, is general manager of the GM Ternstedt Division.

In a separate move James M. Roche, GM vice president in charge of the distribution staff, today announced the appointment of Eugene D. Foley as manager of the dealer organization department of the sales section.

Foley, former sales organization manager and administration manager of Pontiac Motor Division, lives at 2290 Locklin Lane, West Bloomfield Township.

In Texas, Henry T. Brian has been named manager of the Arlington Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac assembly plant.

WERNER ACTIVE

Active in many civic endeavors, he was chairman last year of the industrial division of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Rusk Cautions Against Undue Cold War Hopes

Says State Department to Pursue a Policy of Candid Disclosure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk disclosed today that administration disarmament experts are studying the problem of whether and how Communist China can be brought into proposed disarmament schemes.

At his news conference, Rusk also warned the American people against being unduly optimistic, as he put it, about improvements in relations with the Soviet Communist bloc. He said serious days and hard work lie ahead.

Rusk discussed U.S. foreign relations issues and answered questions for about 40 minutes.

He said the State Department public relations policy would be one of candid disclosure wherever possible and declared he fully recognizes the importance of an informed public opinion.

In a statement, Rusk called for development of a U.N. plan to bring peace and unity to the strife-torn Congo, but he said the primary responsibility "rests with President (Joseph) Kasavubu and other Congolese leaders."

★ ★ ★

Rusk announced that Arthur H. Dean, New York attorney who has held some important diplomatic assignments in the past, will be chief U.S. negotiator when the nuclear test ban conferences resume at Geneva March 21.

On still another subject Rusk declared that the United States is "prepared to cooperate actively with the other American states to end tyranny, whether of the left or right."

★ ★ ★

He did not specifically mention Cuba in this connection but the reference seemed clear.

MUM ON DETAILS

Rusk declined to be drawn into a detailed discussion of his ideas about Red China, disarmament and related problems.

He said he could not say at what time or by what means the United States might believe China should be associated with work on disarmament.

But he declared that it will not be possible to maintain any disarmament plan unless all important nations can be brought into it.

Electrical Firms Fined $150,000

GE and Westinghouse Among Companies Hit by Federal Government

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Six large electrical companies, General Electric and Westinghouse among them, were fined a total of $150,000 today on the first of 20 federal indictments charging bid rigging and price fixing in violation of antitrust laws.

J. H. Chiles of Pittsburgh, a Westinghouse vice president, and W. S. Ginn, Schnectady, N.Y., a General Electric vice president, each were given 30-day jail terms, one of the few times defendants were sentenced to jail in any antitrust case. Chiles also was fined $2,000; Ginn $5,000.

The six companies, Chiles and Ginn all pleaded guilty to this particular count.

Chief Judge J. Cullen Ganey described the case involving 29 of the nation's biggest electrical firms as "a shocking indictment of a vast segment of our economy." He said the defendants "mocked the image" of the nation's free enterprise system.

Chinese Appeal to U.S. for Firmer Policy in Asia

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Nationalist Chinese Foreign Minister Shen Chang-huan urged the United States today to adopt a "more positive policy" in Asia.

In a specific reference to the Laotian situation, he warned that any attempt to set up a coalition government in the strife-torn Southeast Asia kingdom would be "tantamount to surrender by installments" to the Communists.

—The foreign minister, in an address at a memorial service honoring the late national leader, Dr. Sun Yat-sen, also struck out at "certain quarters of the United States and some of its European allies" who, he said, were "advocating appeasement in Asia and trying to persuade the new American government to adopt a compromise policy towards the Russian and Chinese Communists."

The Soviet Union converted various countries in Eastern Europe into satellites by means of forming coalition governments first," Shen said.

"If this lesson taught by history is not taken to heart, it will certainly bring greater disaster to the entire free world."

The Nationalist foreign affairs chief said Russia and Red China were "launching a strong offensive in Asia, Africa and Latin America" and added that of the three areas, "Asia is the most urgent and vulnerable."

The Republic of China hopes the United States "will take strong counter-measures to reassure its Asian allies of its continuing support to their resistance against Communist aggression in the Pacific region," he said.

At the same time, he said that all anti-Communist countries in Asia "should work in closer cooperation" with the United States.

community relations in Oakland County.

Riley was an engineer with Pontiac Motor Division until he joined the Fernstedt Division in 1939. He held many supervisory positions in engineering and sales prior to his appointment as general manager in April 1960.

Foley was with Pontiac Motor Division's Ohio sales staff until 1947, when he came to Pontiac as organization manager for sales. Promoted to manager of sales administration in 1954, he moved to GM's central office in Detroit three years later as assistant manager of dealer organization.

In his new post, Foley succeeds Rudolph F. Schreitmueller, who retired Jan. 31 after filling the position since 1933.

In 1932, Schreitmueller was manager of dealer organization for the former Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac Sales Corp.

New Sputnik Mystery Even to Muscovites

MOSCOW (UPI) — The status of Russia's new 7.1-ton Sputnik remained a mystery to Muscovites and to the Western World today amid speculation that its task was completed when it was launched.

There was no official word on the satellite's whereabouts or its radio frequency since it was put into orbit Saturday.

A Tass scientific correspondent noted, however, that "of the greatest interest, apparently, were the data of the Sputnik's radio-electric system."

He added that "one should not overlook the tremendous possibilities offered by the continually increasing weight of the Soviet Sputniks for placing living beings on board."

Auto Layoff to Be 70,000, Not 80,000

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry's layoff for inventory balancing was reduced by 10,000 today to a total of about 70,000.

Estimates earlier, from company and unofficial sources, had placed the figure at about 80,000 —part this week and the rest next week.

Some manufacturers are cutting production in order to balance output against the approximately one million new 1961 model cars that remain unsold in dealer showrooms.

A week's layoff began today for 20,000 American Motors Corp. workers in the company's Wisconsin plant. AMC makes the Rambler car.

Next week 45,000 General Motors employes in plants in Michigan and other states will be idle.

The Ford Motor Co. said it is laying off about 5,000 this week, including 3,800 on its Dearborn Ford assembly line and the rest in Kansas City. Ford said other possible shutdowns were found unnecessary. Ward's Automotive Reports, a trade paper, had said Ford would lay off 13,500 men this week.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Most of the nation between the Plains and the Appalachians will have precipitation tonight with snow in the north and rain in the south. It will be generally fair throughout the rest of the country except for the northwest where there will be snow flurries in the higher elevations and showers in the lower areas. It will be cooler in the Pacific northwest and the southern Plains; warmer just east of the Continental Divide from Canada to Colorado.

Jack Reveals Plans to End Gold Outflow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here, in brief, are the recommendations made by President Kennedy today to stem the outflow of gold and end the deficit in foreign exchange:

1. Studies of how to strengthen international monetary institutions to increase reserves to support a growing world economy.

2. International Monetary Fund —The United States has never used its right to draw on this fund to meet deficits in the balance of payments; if and when appropriate, this will be done.

3. Amendment of the law to permit setting of special interest rates for dollar holdings here of foreign governments to attract and hold dollar balances which might otherwise be converted into gold.

4. The recent order forbidding the holding of gold abroad by Americans will be maintained.

BETTER BALANCE

5. Senate action to approve the Organization of Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) as a tool for maintaining better balance of payments.

6. Promotion of U. S. exports by the Department of Commerce.

7. Efforts to make American goods competitive in price with foreign products.

8. Strengthening the role of the Export-Import Bank to further help American exporters.

9. Promotion of foreign tourist travel to the United States.

10. Expanding exports of U.S. farm products.

11. Maintaining restrictions on foreign economic aid to promote purchase of American goods.

12. Press for removal of remaining foreign restrictions against American exports.

13. Promotion of foreign investment in the United States through the Department of Commerce.

14. Legislation to prevent the abuse of foreign "tax havens" by American investors.

MORE FOREIGN HELP

15. Urge foreign nations to contribute more to assist underdeveloped countries, easing the load on the United States.

16. Reduction of the duty-free allowance for American tourists from $500 to $100; duties would be paid by returning tourists on value of goods exceeding $100.

17. Establishment of a centralized review of dollar outlays by the Bureau of the Budget.

18. New methods of reducing dollar outlays for U.S. military missions abroad, to replace the cutback of military dependents abroad, now rescinded.

Most of the delegates still were weighing the merits of other candidates — John R. Stiles of Grand Rapids and Robert J. McIntosh, former congressman from Port Huron — when the Oakland delegation emerged from a caucus and announced it would go "about 90 per cent" for Van Peursem. This, observers said, sewed it up for Van Peursem.

Captaining the Van Peursem campaign, along with other members of the legislature, was Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County.

Chad M. Ritchie, former county chairman and now treasurer, was in Van Peursem's camp, too.

When the subject of the constitutional convention came up for discussion, Arthur G. Elliott Jr., county chairman, lost in his bid to have the party take a strong stand for con-con in the April 3 election.

Some of the more liberal members of the party, not altogether satisfied with any of the candidates for Lindemer's job, sought to talk Elliott into the race.

He had been given top contender status for the position before he pulled out last month, saying "the press of personal matters and business" would keep him from being a candidate.

James C. Covert, superintendent of Royal Oak schools, was defeated in his bid for the state board of education nomination by Charles R. Rogers, associate director of the labor and industrial research center at Michigan State University.

tail. Just because there is a new administration in Washington or a change in the wording of Moscow statements, Rusk said, there should be no assumption that serious problems have disappeared.

There will have to be a great deal of work, step by step, to find out whether it is possible to improve relations and by what means, he said.

Americans should not be unduly optimistic at this stage that relations have changed, he continued, adding that the Soviet Union's release of two U. S. airmen simply removed an obstacle to talking.

Everyone must keep in mind, Rusk said, the new Communist manifesto of last December, and a new speech by Soviet Premier Khrushchev Jan. 6, both declaring Communist intentions to dominate the world.

Also Rusk said, there are specific crises — Laos, the Congo, Cuba. It was in this connection that he forecast serious days and hard work ahead.

Crash Kills Area Man

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — James N. Mahoney, 23, of 27091 Salem road, Huntington Woods, was killed early today when his car bounced off a guard rail, knocked down a road sign and crashed into two poles. He had been operating a hearing-aid business in Sheboygan.

His Bike Goes to Court

Professor Gets a Ticket

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — For 27 years, in blizzard and heat, the professor pedaled serenely from home to campus — a dignified familiar figure along the 2¼-mile route.

It was all very cozy and routine. Then the law stepped in. Overnight Professor Malcolm Dole and his bicycle became a cause celebre.

On three separate occasions Professor Dole was confronted at an intersection of Sheridan Road by a young police officer.

The last time they met, on Jan. 20 it went badly for Professor Dole, a silver-haired member of the chemistry department faculty.

"This young officer radioed into the station for a paddy wagon," he related. "When they brought it around, they loaded the bicycle inside, and then me.

"Over at the station they placed me under guard in the squad room."

In short order, the professor was ticketed for a traffic violation — for having driven down streets zoned exclusively for motor vehicles. He was ordered to appear at a hearing today in Evanston municipal court.

At the hearing, a technicality won acquittal for Prof. Dole.

Judge James M. Corcoran found that warning signs were absent from the street where bike riding is banned.

During the hearing, the legality of the ban itself was not an issue.

Considerable discussion of the philosophy behind the regulation came out in the informal session.

In the course of the wide-ranging argument Prof. Dole mentioned that busy Oxford Street in London has thousands of cyclists.

Pino refused to go along with a compromise move by party leaders who offered him the nomination to the Swainson slate. It was a sure bet for nomination to a state board of education slot.

Earlier, another political unknown, who described himself "as the only legitimate draftee since Stevenson," popped practically out of nowhere and landed on Swainson's "suggested" list of candidates drawn up during an all-night session of party and labor leaders.

Theodore R. Sachs, 32, 10101 Dartmouth St., Oak Park, was nominated for one of two positions on the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

Sachs, who hadn't made his intentions known to his own delegation, is attorney for State AFL-CIO President August (Gus) Scholle, of Royal Oak. He is handling Scholle's lawsuit trying to upset the apportionment of the State Senate.

Tossed in against Sachs was Dr. Thomas E. Barton of Howell, who promised 50-yard-line seats to University of Michigan-MSU football games.

Dr. Barton was nominated by the 6th District, which had become frustrated in an unsuccessful double bid to win Judge John W. Baker of Flint one of two Supreme Court nominations.

With the votes going heavily for Sachs, Dr. Barton withdrew and urged a unanimous ballot for Sachs. "You're a good sport," murmured retiring State Chairman Neil Staebler to the doctor on the platform.

"We're glad to see you go," Levin said as he stood nose-to-nose with Staebler. "You and your crooked deals, I'm surprised at you." Staebler moved on.

Other delegates quietly bemoaned how the slate was winning. There was laughter from the audience when one delegate nominated a candidate and referred to "this free and open convention."

Mrs. Phillips' election was assured when a delegate from the 7th District, home of her one-time opponent — Mrs. Lillian Barrett — urged "unanimous acclamation" for her.

Ginn told the delegates that Mrs. Phillips "has been in the forefront in the fight for the liberal program of the Democratic party from the precinct level to the national scene."

Elliott today scoffed at reports that the party was swaying from the liberal principles fostered by gubernatorial candidate Paul D. Bagwell to move in the more conservative direction.

"Van Peursem will make an excellent chairman and bring a balance that we haven't had in the past," he added.

Elliott said he foresaw a balance not only between the two wings—liberal and conservative — of the party, but also said the new chairman would tie closer together GOP State Central with the party legislators and fund raising groups.

His delegation was sold on Van Peursem, Elliott said, because "he had contact with the legislature which was completely foreign to the other candidates, and had a record of developing a program among the divergent views of the legislature."

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Now, here's a willing taxpayer!

Assessor Francis H. Kennedy says that when a woman in St. Louis County got a notice that the assessed valuation of her property had been raised to $20,000, she promptly sent in a check for that amount.

Commission Hearing Set on Improving Two Alleys

BIRMINGHAM — Public hearings on the necessity of improving two alleys will be held tonight by the City Commission.

The proposed projects include paving alleys on both sides of south Woodward Avenue and constructing the necessary drain facilities. The total cost of the projects is $85,400.

The entire cost of the project would be assessed against business property benefiting from the improvement.

On the east side of Woodward the project would take in a six-block stretch from Ruffner to Sheffield. The cost of the improvement is estimated to be $37,700.

Eight blocks would be improved on the west side of Woodward. The project would extend from Lincoln to Bird and would cost $47,700.

Individual assessments will not be computed until after the necessity has been determined and the assessment roll prepared.

Ruth Shain will be the guest speaker Feb. 13 at a dinner-business meeting of the Altrusa Club of Birmingham at the Community House.

An honorary member of the organization, Mrs. Shain will discuss "First Hand Impression of Foreign Lands" at the closed meeting.

On Feb. 27 the club will hold an open meeting to hear an officer from the Nike base speak on the importance of missile sites in national defense.

Offers Bill for Men to Retire at Age 62

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal to permit men to retire at age 62 with reduced Social Security benefits was advanced today by Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich.

Dingell said a bill he is introducing would alleviate hardship among those already "forced into effective retirement by loss of jobs, recession, health or other cause."

He said its passage "would be of enormous help to large numbers of unemployed facing desperate economic need with no other source of help to which they can turn."

Ike, Nikita Fail as Great Leaders, Claims Monty

LONDON (AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, out with a new book about leadership, indicated Sunday night he feels Soviet Premier Khrushchev and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower both lack essential characteristics of a great leader.

In a television interview recorded before the London critics got to his book, "The Path to Leadership," Montgomery also said President Kennedy "has got the power of decision" and French President Charles de Gaulle "has given France back her soul."

The critics were not happy with the book. Montgomery had been kinder to Khrushchev in his book than on television. And he wrote that Mao Tze-tung is "a great man" who has served Red China well.

Mrs. Benjamin Bobisuthi

Mrs. Benjamin (Stephanie) Bobisuthi, 78, of La Grange, Ill., died Sunday while visiting her daughter Mrs. Paul W. Thompson of 17503 Kirkshire Road.

Her body will be at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home until 10 p.m. today at which time it will be taken to Chicago for service and burial.

She was a member of the Morgan Park Congregational Church and the Morgan Park Women's Club in Illinois.

Surviving besides Mrs. Thompson is another daughter, Mrs. Fred K. Gartung of La Grange, a son Robert of La Grange and eight grandchildren.

Ross A. Hutchinson

Service for Ross A. Hutchinson, 81, of 664 Pierce St., will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mr. Hutchinson died Saturday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after a short illness.

A lifelong resident of Birmingham, he was a retired tool and die maker. He retired in 1952 after 40 years with the Hubbard Spring Co. of Pontiac.

He was a life member of the Masonic Lodge 44, F&AM, and a member of the Birmingham chapter of the Royal Arch Masons (RAM).

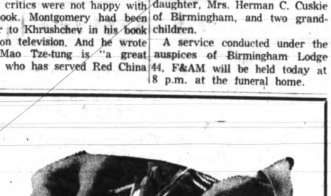
A service conducted under the auspices of Birmingham Lodge 44, F&AM will be held today at 8 p.m. at the funeral home.



MORE EVERYDAY CAN SAY

"CHARGE IT"

Everyday more and more people are opening charge accounts — for they realize the ease and convenience of being able to say "Charge-It" . . . no fuss with money, no waiting for change, and payments that can be made later. But there's something you should know and remember about that account — all payments should be made on or before the day they are due. Now don't let your charge account suffer through sheer neglect and carelessness. It's hard on your credit record. Don't let a mere oversight on your part cast a reflection on your honest ability to pay. The charge account has come in handy more than once and it will come in very handy in the future, so keep it in good standing.

Cubans Grab Water Company

Supplier to U. S. Navy Base at Guantanamo Taken by Castro

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban water company supplying the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay since 1939 has been taken over by Fidel Castro's government. So far, however, there has been no interruption in the base's water supply.

★ ★ ★

The naval base made arrangements some time ago to get an adequate water supply by tankers if necessary. But one of the new government administrators for the Yateras Aqueduct Co., Antonio Batista, said operations would continue as before.

SIGN CONTRACT IN '39

The Yateras Company, located on a river of the same name a few miles northwest of Guantanamo, first contracted to supply the base in 1939. The original 20-year contract is understood to have been renewed for a 10-year period running to 1969.

The company, founded by Henri Schueg, built an aqueduct and pumping station to send water to the base. The Navy expanded them in 1941 and 1942.

The government said it took over the company because the owners abandoned the property.

Weekend addresses by two top Castro aides revealed an intensified campaign to link the Roman Catholic Church here and the new Kennedy administration in Washington with Cuban counterrevolutionaries.

Remarks at a teachers' rally Sunday by President Osvaldo Dorticos and Education Minister Armando Hart also suggested a long - anticipated government move against private and Catholic schools is imminent.

60 Cars, Half Compact, to Enter Economy Run

NEW YORK (AP) — At least 60 cars will take part in the Mobilgas Economy Run from Los Angeles to Chicago March 11-16, the sponsor said Sunday.

They will make up about half the field in cross-country competition in fuel consumption thriftness. For the first time in seven years, "stick" shift cars will appear.

AFTER YOU, CHUM — These two baby chimpanzees may not have heard of the daring exploit of Ham, but they appear apprehensive as they eye a toy rocket. The 1-year-old females, not yet named, were worse off after a recent air trip to Cleveland than Ham was after his jolting ride 155 miles into space. Shipped from the French Cameroons, they were seriously ill upon their arrival in the states but have improved rapidly under the care of a veterinarian.

Kennedy to Aim for Aid Sharing

Mansfield Expects Dem Program to Urge More Foreign Participation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy may ask Congress soon to authorize a five-year foreign aid program aimed at inducing other free nations to share more of the burden, Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said today.

Mansfield, the Senate's Democratic leader, said he expects Kennedy to reshape the entire program. He will be surprised, the senator said in an interview, if Kennedy increases the $4-billion budget request of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in this field.

Mansfield said that as he understands it, the long-range program would be based primarily on development loans and technical assistance for countries which recently have gained their independence. He said he expects a cutback in military aid.

"Under this program there would be more sharing of the burden by the Western European nations and by Japan," Mansfield said. "These countries are amply able now to contribute to the development of their less fortunate world neighbors."

The State Department reported six months ago that the United States and 14 other industrialized countries of the free world had poured $18 billion worth of economic aid into underdeveloped nations during the previous six years. The American total was over $12 billion.

More Summer Jobs for U. of M. Students

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — University of Michigan officials say there will be more summer jobs available for university students this year than in 1960.

★ ★ ★

The university's Bureau of Appointments and Occupational Information has received 3,500 letters from business, industry, resorts and camps seeking 12,400 students for summer employment.

Last year, the office received requests for 9,500 summer workers.

The office said 9,000 camp and 2,000 resort workers are needed.

Industry and government summer jobs pay up to $446 a month, the office said.

County Traffic Death Toll Is Down in January

Oakland County's traffic death toll in January was sharply reduced compared to the same period last year, following the state trend.

There were five traffic fatalities in the county last month. During January 1960 a total of nine persons was killed on the road.

Compacts Top Field in Station Wagons

If you think you have been seeing a lot of compact station wagons around, you're right. In fact, they have grabbed the lead in the station wagon field.

In the 1961 model year through Dec. 31, says Ward's Automotive Reports, the compact wagons accounted for 200,121, or 51.6 per cent of the 388,100 wagons of all sizes produced.

This compares with the compacts' 34.2 per cent share of all body styles in the same period.

The Motor Trend Magazine Car of the Year Award to Tempest marks the second time in three years that the Pontiac Motor Division has received this honor. The editors who selected it are (left to right): Robert Ames, Associate Editor, James Miller, Managing Editor, Don Werner, Editor.

These men edit one of America's leading car magazines—Motor Trend. What they know about cars can help you buy your next new car with complete confidence. They study all the different makes. Compare. Drive. Then they make one award for the year. The Motor Trend Car of the Year Award. This year these editors voted solidly for Pontiac's newcomer—the Tempest. The one car that will give the car buyer top performance, ride and economy for his nickel. Read what these experts say!

Don Werner—"We studied the design features of 28 American cars. The Tempest pulled ahead of the whole crop of '61 cars. The flexible drive-shaft is a fantastic innovation. It's the most sensible, dependable power train we've seen."

Bob Ames—"Equalizing the weight on the front wheels and the weight on the rear wheels (with the front engine/rear transmission) gives the Tempest great traction and ride. Pontiac engineers scored a great breakthrough with the Tempest."

Jim Miller—"The Tempest 4-cylinder engine and the triple alloy steel drive-shaft team up as a smooth, going combination. I had to look under the hood to convince myself they hadn't sneaked in a V-8. And that 4-cylinder engine should do wonders for gas economy."

Take it from this group of sharp automobile experts. They don't throw roses unless they mean it. Tempest took the Car of the Year Award because it's a winner. Check the facts! 110 to 155 h.p. from a gas-saving 4-cylinder engine! Big car balance=big car ride! Independent wheel suspension. Rear transmission. 15-inch wheels at no extra cost! Priced with the compacts. See your Pontiac dealer.

Automakers Thinking of Smaller Compacts

By LLOYD NORTHARD

DETROIT (UPI) — Automakers are pondering the question of whether there is a big enough market for them to enter the compact-compact field.

The "Big Three" car companies, Ford, General Motors and Chrysler, bided their time before plunging into the compact car field.

But there is strong indication they would make a much more hasty entry into the compact-compact field if field studies indicate an adequate market.

Ford, in a magazine published for distribution to its car owners, hinted strongly that an auto even smaller than the compacts might be in demand in the next few years.

It listed potential buyers as retired persons living on fixed incomes who might require a two-passenger car in which style may not be the top consideration, and college students needing inexpensive transportation.

★ ★ ★

The magazine pointed out college enrollment is expected to double within three or four years, and the proportion of retired persons in the total population is increasing rapidly.

★ ★ ★

There have been many rumors in recent months that Ford was prepared to build, possibly overseas, a car smaller than the compacts for the U.S. market.

For has remained mum on the subject.

The article in the Ford magazine sought to explain why auto companies offer so many different models and why an even wider offering of models might be necessary in the years ahead.

★ ★ ★

The suburban movement was cited as the chief reason for increasing the number of models. Many one-car families became two or more car families when they moved to the suburbs.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

One Ford official said, "There no longer is just one right size car for a market as diverse as ours. America's auto buyers have different requirements, different wants.

★ ★ ★

The compact-compact field is about the only area not yet invaded by U.S. automakers. There's good reason to believe that market is soon to be tapped.

ATCHLEY SUPERNAW

Rex F. Supernaw has been made chief metallurgist; and two new sales staff promotions have been announced.

Lamb joined the firm in 1940 as a sales representative and has subsequently held various field sales positions and managerial posts in New York, Detroit and Rochester.

LAMB EASTON

★ ★ ★

Easton has been in field sales in Cleveland, Hartford and Philadelphia. Prior to his transfer to company headquarters in Rochester, he was Chicago district manager.

Atchley joined the company in 1945 as a salesman and has subsequently served as Detroit district sales manager, assistant general sales manager and sales manager for the firm.

A graduate of Syracuse University, Atchley resides in Birmingham. He is a member of the Recess Club and the Oakland Hills Country Club.

Supernaw joined the company in 1935 and has specialized in research, development and metallurgy.

★ ★ ★

He is a graduate of Michigan College of Mining and Technology and a member of the American Society for Metals.

Recommends Travel Cut for Secretary of State

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Senate staff report recommends that the secretary of state curtail travels abroad and spend more time in Washington advising the President and Congress.

The report, released last night by the staff of a Senate government operations subcommittee on national policy machinery, cited a "trend toward frequent high-level international meetings abroad" as having "exerted upon the secretary of state a magnetic pull away from his desk."

Series 'E' Savings Bonds Almost 20 Years Old

There are anniversaries which serve to date one. That is, for example, the "E" savings bond. In May of 1961 it will be 20 years old. The first one was sold to FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT on May 1, 1941, and Mr. ROOSEVELT explained in his always understandable semantics that they were savings bonds which permitted every American to help his country prepare against possible aggression. The smallest bond was $25 at maturity. It could be purchased for $18.75. There were $50 and $100 bonds. After that they climbed. There were bonds at $200, $500, $1,000 and $10,000.

★ ★ ★

But by and large, it was the first three which the average American took to his frugal heart. It is possible for every citizen to buy savings bonds and help himself and his country.

★ ★ ★

The "E" bond quite literally has become the way to make dreams come true for those who stay with the payroll or regular purchase plan. They will send children to college. They will provide a down-payment, or even half or full payment, on a home. They will help out with retirement. They will assist in purchasing something planned for in the years ahead. Or, they will be available for some undesignated or unknown need in the unknown future which, for all of us, rich or poor, is revealed one day at a time.

★ ★ ★

Some $75 billion dollars in Savings Bonds have already been invested in all these things — education, homes, retirement, and so on. Yet a record $43 billion still remains in the possession of thrifty Americans. It is estimated that "E" Bond sales will pass the $100 billion dollar total by the middle of this year. They remain the best way for the average wage-earning American to save. They pay 3¼ per cent interest when held to maturity. (The "H" Bond which pays interest by check each six months, is also a good buy, but the "E" holds it until you need it).

★ ★ ★

Anyhow, this is the 20th anniversary year of what is still a great plan —you save for your self, and also help your country. Where else can you find a deal like that? A Good New Year resolution is to join up.

Foreign Military Bases Not So Important Now

Spectacular development of long range missiles, nuclear submarines and earth satellites raises the prospect of a day when overseas bases will no longer play a vital part in our national security.

With this in mind President KENNEDY has asked Secretary of Defense MCNAMARA "to appraise our entire defense strategy . . . dispersal of our strategic bases . . . elimination of obsolete bases and installations . . . in the light of present and future dangers."

★ ★ ★

While the nuclear bomb may have reduced the likelihood of all-out war, say the experts, it increases the possibilities of limited war by indirect or local aggression. Readiness to fight these "brushfires" is expected to require a certain number of foreign bases as well as ground forces and stocks of non-nuclear weapons.

★ ★ ★

No doubt some are outdated. We already have given up one base in Morocco and three in the West Indies. But withdrawal in many other cases involves a great deal more than military considerations.

Some bases play an important economic role and giving them up would cause local distress and a psychological reaction which demagogs would exploit to our disadvantage. In such countries as South Viet Nam, withdrawal would be a military disaster as well.

Submarine based Polaris missiles provide much greater retaliatory threats than any existing land base. Five of the floating missile bases which can go around the world without surfacing, are expected to be in operation within a year. The great advantage over land bases is in mobility and concealment.

In the opinion of JOHN H. HERTZ, professor of government at New York's City College, "control of extended territories, systems of bases and allies would become unnecessary, indeed liabilities because of their vulnerability" in view of our missiles of unlimited range and power.

Obviously we should give up bases we don't need.

Troop Camping

Will Be in Vogue at Boy Scout Camp Agawam in '61

Slacks: What, when a fat woman wears, she displays more than poor judgment.

While this isn't exactly agreeable camping weather, the forehanded Boy Scouts of the local council and their parents will be interested to learn that Camp Agawam will be conducted next summer on the unit plan.

This means that the members of each troop will camp together under their own leaders. This will preserve the primary camp functions, and also make some routine changes, while possibly reducing the cost to each boy, besides having other advantages.

After a long and exhaustive study of the matter, the local committee appointed to pass upon the advisability of the change has recommended troop camping.

It has been found to work out advantageously in other similar councils, and should prove satisfactory to the thousand or more Scouts at Camp Agawam during the 1961 camping season.

It is usually quite difficult to imitate nature but, according to

An explanation of why mushrooms grow so well on the sites of the abandoned ice houses on the shores of many of the lakes in the Pontiac vicinity is given by

Suggests Method to Reduce Taxes

Many taxpayers would like to know why some of our huge government and state taxes could not be reduced by some of these methods:

Cities and towns are enough in need of manual work to let an able bodied man earn what his welfare check would be, when he is out of a job through no fault of his own. Secondly, men and women of child-bearing age who are incapable of taking care of children, either because of low mentality or habitual drunkeness, should be sterilized. The procedure would not cost much.

Will those who think this is wrong be willing to foot this bill alone?

Says United States Is Poorly Managed

The United States is the worst managed country in the world according to its wealth and size. We owe more debts than the rest of world put together.

In the U.S. there are 3½ million people unemployed. Each family will average three. This means that 16½ million people go to bed hungry and cold. We have $9 billion worth of surplus food stored up and pay another billion dollars a year to rent places to store surplus food, yet there are people starving.

Favors Teen-Agers Growing Beards

Why can't we grow a beard for the big fun festival? Other people are doing it. We'd look no worse than they do. Everyone else is preparing for the fun. Why not us?

You'll find high schoolers are not bad at all and should compete with other beard growers for the centennial. Let the pupils compete with teachers. Otherwise, everyone else should be stopped from growing a beard until two weeks before the centennial celebration.

By United Press International

Today is Monday, Feb. 6, the 37th day of the year with 328 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The evening stars are Mercury, Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1788, Massachusetts ratified the United States Constitution.

In 1952, King George VI of England died after a lengthy illness. He was succeeded to the throne by his daughter, Princess Elizabeth, who assumed the name of Queen Elizabeth II.

Thought for today: Henry Clay said: "The arts of power and its minions are the same in all countries and in all ages. It marks its victim; denounces it; and excites the public odium and the public hatred, to conceal its own abuses and encroachments.

David Lawrence Says:

JFK Popularity Could Wane Fast

WASHINGTON — Where does President Kennedy stand today in popularity throughout the country?

Many people who didn't vote for him are saying nice things about him. Their comment is that his television appearances thus far have made a good impression and that his statements on public policy have been restrained, cautious and prudent.

LAWRENCE

Indeed, while it is hazardous always to predict what a public-opinion poll on the popularity of a president will show in the future, it wouldn't be surprising to see the Kennedy percentage go up into the 70s or even the 80s.

It will be recalled, however, that in the early days of his first administration, President Truman reached a figure of 87 per cent—an all-time high for a president—only to drop to an all-time low of 23 per cent in November 1951.

This writer recalls that in the spring of 1945 the late Charles G. Ross, Truman's press secretary and a former newspaperman of experience, said privately that he was puzzled by the seeming lack of criticism and that things "look too good to be true."

ON A HONEYMOON

This often happens in what is described as the "honeymoon" period. Even President William Howard Taft was thrilled by it in 1909, only to find himself defeated three and a half years later.

President Kennedy got the votes of approximately half the American people last November. Presumably he has retained that support and needs only to make some inroads in the other half. Apparently he now has made some substantial gains there.

But the ups and downs of popularity polls show that, while public opinion isn't exactly fickle, it reacts sharply to the things that might be called "irregular."

Thus the Truman administration was hurt by the scandals that cropped up in various departments of the government and, though Truman personally wasn't in any way involved, the episodes nevertheless did turn public opinion away from him and helped bring about the defeat of the Democratic party in 1952.

Anything that touches integrity is a delicate issue which quickly influences the voters. The public doesn't like political fixing or political chicanery. One of the main reasons for Dwight Eisenhower's almost unbroken popularity—it averaged 66 per cent throughout his two administrations—was his aloofness from politics.

He was for such a long time in the military service that he didn't have a chance to learn the wiles of politics.

In fact, his environment and training led him to shun politics.

KEPT APPROVAL

He suffered some defeats in Congress because he didn't understand the art of "playing politics," but, on the whole, the country approved of him as a man who put the nation's interest above all else—even political gain.

Already whatever criticism has been heard about President Kennedy is that he is a practical politician who will make members of Congress "toe the mark, or else." The American people, it will be discovered in due time, don't like that kind of tactics.

If it should turn out that all the high-sounding and noble phrases of recent speeches are surface virtues, and that underneath is a political administration of the type from which the country has suffered in big cities like Boston, New York and Chicago, the popularity of Kennedy would drop precipitately.

There was, indeed, some raising of eyebrows when he put his brother in the Cabinet, but fortunately for him that same brother is a competent young man who is likely to do a good job if he can only suppress his natural instinct and affinity for being in on political operations.

On the whole, President Kennedy has made an auspicious start. He has surprised many conservatives by his disinclination to propose radical policies, though some of the reports from his numerous "task forces" are as theoretical as some of the ideas the New Deal "brain trust" brought forth—and equally unrealistic.

Certainly on world policy, the new President has made a favorable impression thus far at home and abroad.

The real test will, of course, come when eloquently phrased principles have to be implemented by necessarily harsh decisions.

Dr. William Brady Says:

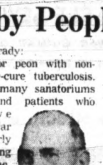
"Dear Dr. Brady:

"I am a poor peon with non-infectious bone-cure tuberculosis. As you know, many sanatoriums are closing and patients who would have stayed for a year or two formerly are now taking the cure at home. The doctors who know tuberculosis consider this the best way.



DR. BRADY

"I guess I could survive the social ostracism attached to the very word tuberculosis, but I have three little children who cannot understand why the neighbors' children no longer play in their yard."

Sincerely

Your letter, Ma'am, reminds me of the leper, Early, John Early if I recollect, who was so shamefully persecuted by the general public and public health officers at the turn of the century.

Early was suspected, or maybe known—it doesn't make any difference which—to have leprosy. So the poor fellow was treated with utter inhumanity—he was shipped from one state to another in a box car, because people and health officers were afraid the leprosy would spread.

The neighbors' children playing or attending school with your children, Ma'am, are in no greater danger of contracting tuberculosis than are children anywhere who play with or attend school with other children.

If your tuberculosis were active the doctors would not have sent you home. Inactive, closed or arrested tuberculosis is not communicable. In fact, even if you have active tuberculosis, your children cannot communicate the disease to any one.

It is only by prolonged, frequent, intimate contact or association with the person who has active tuberculosis that the disease may be contracted.

Casual social, business or professional meeting, occasional association or momentary exposure is not sufficient.

These facts apply to leprosy, too. The cruelties to which John Early was subjected by the ignorance of doctors and people only 60 years ago were the same as the cruelties to which your children are subjected by the ignorance of the parents of their playmates and, very likely, the ignorance of their parents' doctors.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"Life, like a highway, is not all exciting — but often the monotonous part is where we make the best progress."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Religious Leaders Use Psychology

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

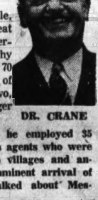
CASE H-401: Clark J., aged 24, is a seminary student.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "you have often called Jesus the greatest applied psychologist of all time.

"Can you offer any specific evidence to justify that viewpoint?"

JESUS USED ADVERTISING

Yes, Jesus was a past master of applied psychology and its foremost pioneer.



DR. CRANE

For example, he was a great believer in advertising. That's why he sent the 70 disciples ahead of him, two by two, to recruit bigger crowds.

That meant he employed 35 teams of press agents who were to go into the villages and announce the imminent arrival of this much talked about Messiah.

Today we find the very same technique employed by great religious leaders, such as Billy Graham.

When I visited Billy Graham and his team of brilliant co-workers during their Indianapolis revival a year ago, I learned that one of the team had been sent into that city a full year in advance to help get the vast program organized.

"But why did Jesus send the 70, two by two," you may inquire, "instead of one by one?"

Christ realized that a timid introvert may grow so fearful he often will try to evade making sales calls.

Thus, many a beginning salesman will actually duck his prospect for he hasn't the nerve to ring the doorbell or call at the man's office.

Such a fearful salesman may decide he needs an extra cup of coffee before he beards the lion in the latter's den.

Then he may walk around the block once more to get up his courage.

Well, Jesus realized that the 70 disciples would probably grow hesitant and fearful if they were all alone on their publicity mission.

But with a companion beside them, they wouldn't dare admit timidity.

When we now send people out for the church finance drive or the Community Chest, we also prefer to let them work in pairs.

Then they lean over backwards to act bold and brave, so they do a far better job.

Christ also indicated that he believed in vigorous salesmanship and business "creation" instead of "stagnation" (see Matthew 25:20-28).

For he cited the story of the 3 men with the talents. The 5-talent worker earned an additional 5 talents by his shrewd investments.

But the 3rd must have been a Communist for he didn't believe in private business, since he laxily buried his lone talent.

And the Communist was severely criticized for not having engaged in American "free enterprise."

"At least you could have put the money in a savings account at the bank and earned some interest thereon," was his master's criticism.

And Jesus apparently concurred, for that was the point of his entire parable, namely, that we should all invest our talents shrewdly.

Modern nations that advertise are noted for "creation" of higher standards of living and the more abundant life Jesus said he came to offer us.

The non-advertising nations are noted for "stagnation", not "creation."

Send for my booklet "New Psychology of Advertising & Selling," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. It will make you prouder of America!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

To Consider Retiree Plan for Ballot

A request from the Waterford Township Fire Fighter's Association to place Act 345, a retirement plan for police and firemen, on the April ballot will be discussed at tonight's Township Board meeting.

At present, neither department has any setup for retiring personnel. For some time the Township Board has been considering various kinds of "security" programs for the two departments.

Township engineers will be authorized to draw up plans for blacktopping two blocks of Tyrone Street.

From 7 to 9 p.m. there will be a hearing on the establishment of a special street lighting district on Meigs Street. There are 67 assessments on the street, and each would pay $3.04 annually for use of lights.

* * *

The board will be asked to review a permit submitted by Mary Vance of Detroit to operate a pool hall on Cooley Lake Road.

Wants ICBM Warnings

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., suggested today that the United States and the Soviet Union give advance notice of intercontinental ballistic missile firings as a means of preventing accidental war.

Move Wise Except for Two Factors

CARNEY, Md. (AP) — As the bus packed with school children pulled up to a rural restaurant, the cook put 60 patties of ground beef on the grill — so the hamburgers would be ready to serve when the boys and girls placed their orders.

Then somebody remembered it was Friday. Then somebody else learned the youngsters were from a Roman Catholic school.

Then — as the ground beef sizzled — the orders came in. Tuna sandwiches mostly. Hamburgers? Not a single one.

Banking Clan Member Dies After Long Illness

LONDON (AP) — Anthony Gustav de Rothschild, 73, a member of the famous banking family, died Sunday after a long illness.

Rothschild was a partner in the banking firm of N. M. Rothschild and sons, one of the major London dealers in gold on the free bullion exchange.

New $15,000,000 deep-water harbor was opened at Portland (southwest Victoria) to serve 250,000 people in district extending westward into south-east South Australia. Portland, already leading Australian cheese-exporter and Victoria's oldest (126 years) town, will now become outlet for 400,000 sq. mi. of dairying, farm and grazing country.

Joe's a Honey of a Bee Chaser

Even Saved a Sweet Young Thing From Woe at the Altar

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—When John Q. Public gets bees in his bathroom here he doesn't panic. He calls for Sgt. Walker F. Robertson.

The groom was en route to get his bride-to-be when he found a colony of bees had set up housekeeping in his car. But the groom called Robertson, who got rid of the invaders, and the young couple presumably lived happily ever after.

* * *

On other occasions, Robertson has chased bees out of mailboxes, attics, auto tail pipes, trees and theater box offices. He even had to smoke out one swarm from a family's bathroom.

"Bees are funny creatures. You're apt to find them anyplace at the most unexpected time," the veteran police sergeant drawled.

A native of Dalton, Ga., the 49-year-old Robertson has lived here with his wife and his own bee hives more than 30 years. He said he got the "bee fever" about 15 years ago when he bought his first hive. He had a grandmother who raised bees while he was a boy, but said he never was much interested in them then.

* * *

Now he estimates he owns 65 to 75 hives, with from 60,000 to 200,000 bees to a hive. He got many of his bees by answering calls for help from nonbee fanciers throughout the city.

"They get rid of the bees, I keep them. Works out fine for both of us," he said.

Eleventh Chapter . . . State's Role in the Civil War

Most Daring Plot Against North Was One to Seize the USS Michigan

(Editor's Note: This is the 11th of a 13-part series on Michigan's role in the Civil War, compiled under the direction of Dr. Philip P. Mason, archivist of Wayne State University.)

By PAUL PENTECOST
Wayne State University

Hollywood and television have dealt successfully with the Union raid into Georgia when U.S. forces seized the locomotive "General" and with the Confederate cavalry raid into St. Alvan's, Vt.

But overlooked has been the most daring plot of the Civil War, the plan to seize the USS Michigan and free more than 3,000 Confederate officers held prisoner at Johnson's Island, near Sandusky, Ohio.

The plot involved piracy on the Great Lakes, a fifth column insurrection, the seizure of the Michigan and the cooperation of Confederate sympathizers in Ontario.

Aware that long-lived Tories in Canada had not forgotten the Revolution, Michigan maintained during the Civil War on the home front six companies of the 2nd Regiment, three companies of state troops, a section of light artillery and 500 arms with complete equipment and ammunition at the armory in Detroit.

There was also a small force guarding the arsenal at Dearborn which contained 35,000 arms. Several armed tugs were also employed to patrol the river at various points.

But while Confederate sympathy in some areas of Canada ran high, it was the British minister, Lord Lyons, that first informed the U.S. about the proposed raid.

In November 1863, Lord Lyons notified the government that a telegraphic dispatch received by him from the governor general of Canada had informed him that there was a plot under way to take possession of some of the steamers on Lake Erie, to surprise Johnson's Island and set free the prioners there.

* * *

The prisoners and the USS Michigan were then to attack Buffalo and other Great Lakes cities. The War Department immediately sent the information to the governors of the states bordering Canada.

* * *

After lengthy preparations, the plot finally became reality on Sept. 19, 1864, when Bennett G. Burley, a master in the Confederate Navy, boarded the steamer Philo Parsons in Detroit. Burley asked that the steamer stop at Sandwich, Ont., to pick up three of his companions.

Three well dressed "Canadians" without baggage came on board at the stop in Sandwich. Burley said that he and his friends were taking a pleasure cruise and that they would probably stop at Kelly's Island, Ohio.

At Amherstburg, another group of more than 20 roughly dressed men boarded the steamer with one large trunk tied with a cord.

The steamer proceeded on its run and reached Kelly's Island at 4 p.m. Leaving the island it proceeded toward Sandusky and after getting two miles out, Burley and three others approached W. O. Ashley, the clerk and part owner of the steamer, drew revolvers and told Ashley that he would be shot if he offered resistance.

OPENED TRUNK

The rest of the group, numbering 28 to 35 by various accounts, opened the trunk and took from it revolvers and axes. Ashley and other officers of the Philo Parsons were ordered into cabins and the steamer was steered toward Middle Bass Island where another steamer, the Island Queen, was seized and the passengers brought aboard the Philo Parsons as prisoners.

The Island Queen was then set adrift with her pipes cut so that she would sink.

In the meantime, a Confederate spy, Major C. H. Cole, had been winning the confidence of the officers and crew of the Michigan at Johnson's Island.

His plan called for him to drug some of the officers and the crew and then to signal the Philo Parsons that everything was ready for the capture.

But a disgruntled member of the Confederate party had told all to Lt. Col. B. H. Hill, commanding the Michigan Military District, and Hill in turn had alerted Capt. J. C. Carter of the Michigan.

The military officers at Sandusky were also put on the alert and infantry and artillery reinforcements were promptly ordered to Johnson's Island from Cincinnati.

* * *

Capt. Carter's handling of the affair at Sandusky is quickly summed up in two dispatches that he sent to Lt. Col. Hill. He said in the first sent on Sept. 18, 1864:

"Thanks for your dispatch. All ready. Cannot be true in relation to the officers or men." He followed that up the next day with a 17-word telegram that read: "Your dispatch of the 19th received. I have Cole, and a fair prospect of bagging the party."

With Cole captured, the entire plot fell through. When the Confederates on the Philo Parsons failed to get the proper signals from the Michigan they promptly turned the steamer around and headed back across the lake to the Detroit River.

Showing their rebel enthusiasm, the raiders raised the Confederate flag on the Philo Parsons and then began to put the prisoners ashore at various points in the Detroit River.

A short distance above Amherstberg, two of the raiders landed in a small boat. At Fighting Island, D. C. Nichols, an officer of the steamer, and other members of the crew were put ashore and the boat proceeded to Sandwich where the rest of the Confederates abandoned her and made an attempt to sink her after plundering the ship.

Capt. Carter drew the ire of Lt. Col. Hill for not moving out into the lake to intercept the Parsons and capture the Confederate crew.

* * *

But he tempered his criticism by agreeing in a dispatch that "there had been so many rumors and reports here of rebel plots that it is hard to discriminate between those having some reality and those purely fabrications."

The aftermath of the plot was the capture of Confederate Master Burley in Ontario. Alfred Russell of Detroit, the U.S. district attorney for Michigan, was sent to Toronto with extradition papers and Burley was extradited in the face of much opposition.

* * *

The Confederate government entered the Toronto trial with its proof that Burley was a commissioned officer of the Confederate Navy, that he was obeying the instructions of the Richmond government and that he should be treated as a belligerent, and not as a pirate, robber or spy.

The attempt to forestall the extradition failed, but the U.S. government found itself with another problem when it became apparent that the law, creating such acts to be offenses triable in the U.S. courts, applied only to the high seas and not to the lakes.

So it became necessary to try Burley under the state law of Ohio for robbery committed in its waters of Lake Erie.

* * *

The trial took place at Port Clinton, the county seat of Ottawa County, with Russell and Mr. Root, the U.S. attorney at Cleveland, appearing for the prosecution. Sylvester Larned and Judge Ranney of Cleveland defended Burley. The case ended in a hung jury and Burley was returned to the county jail.

Russell later wrote that "through the aid of a class of persons, then called "Copperheads," Burley broke jail and escaped to Scotland." That brought an end to Civil War action on the Great Lakes.

Students on Mercy Trip Get Boot in Tennessee

BROWNSVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Four University of Michigan students, who said they were on a mercy mission to aid Negro families in this area, have charged that they were harassed and escorted from the county by police.

* * *

David Giltrow, 23, a staff photographer on the Student Daily, said the four had made the trip to deliver food and clothing to Haywood County Negroes who claim they have suffered economic reprisals for registering to vote.

* * *

Giltrow said the students were arrested, allegedly for running a stop sign. The driver, Andrew Hawley, denied the charge. The other two students were not identified.

The charges against them were dropped, Giltrow said, on the condition they leave Haywood County.

The student photographer said he was charged with resisting arrest after he reached for his camera when they were stopped, and was struck by a deputy.

He said his camera was taken from him and when it was returned after the students were taken to the county courthouse the film had been removed.

* * *

The bundles of food and clothing for Haywood and Fayette County Negroes had been donated by U. of M. students.

* * *

Giltrow said the four sent telegrams to Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington and U.S. Sens. Estes Kefauver and Albert Gore protesting their treatment.

Budget Deficit Seen by Sen. Mansfield

WASHINGTON (UPI)—"The revenues just aren't there. A too-rosy picture has been painted." With those words, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana forecast a $1-billion federal budget deficit.

* * *

Mansfield said Sunday that former President Eisenhower's prediction of a budget surplus this year was based on an overestimate of tax yields, which the Democrat said won't be available.

* * *

Hostage-Holding Escapee Is Felled

MONTREAL (UPI)—A 22-year-old convict who held a woman hostage for 14 hours and wounded another person in a desperate effort to make good a prison break, was held under guard today, his escapade ended by a police sharpshooter.

Donald Pollock was felled by police bullets while trying to reach a getaway car from the home of the woman he was holding hostage. The woman also was slightly injured.

* * *

Pollock, described as a claustrophobic prisoner, had less than three months to serve of his three-year term at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary when he escaped Saturday by leaving an outdoor hockey game under the pretense of returning to the prison yard.

Eight-Cylinder Engines Regain Registration Lead

DETROIT (UPI) — Eight-cylinder engines have regained the lead in total new-car registrations in the United States, R. L. Polk & Co. reports.

* * *

The statistical agency said that of the 543,042 new cars registered last November, 55 per cent had eight-cylinder power plants.

Decline in popularity of the larger engine reached its climax last September, Polk said, when market penetration of the "eights" fell to a three-year low of 47 per cent.

Six-cylinder engine cars fell to 38.9 per cent in November from 44 per cent in September. Polk said. Four-cylinder engines accounted for 6.1 per cent of November registrations.

African Aid Added by Ford Foundation

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Ford Foundation today added $5 million to its 1961 appropriation for aid to underdeveloped countries and said one reason for the increase was the need for skilled manpower in the new African states.

The increase was made with an eye to strengthening science teaching in East Africa, training administrators in the Congo and Nigeria and developing educational services in French-speaking Africa, a spokesman said.

He said the increase also will finance more aid to higher education in Latin America.

* * *

The foundation now has allocated a total of $20 million to its 1961 overseas development program, the spokesman said.

'Whip' Will Not Whip

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Republican whip Leslie C. Arends of Illinois has assured 22 GOP congressmen they would not be punished for siding with Speaker Sam Rayburn in last week's rules fight.

YOUR BEST INVESTMENT IS IN YOURSELF

Can you afford specialized business training? You can't afford not to have it. When you are young the best investment you can make is in yourself. One hundred dollars invested in a bond will bring you three or so dollars a year — unless something happens to the bond. But a hundred dollars invested in acquiring knowledge or skill will bring you dividends of pleasure and profit as long as you live. Your principal will be invested in a business you control. It will be where you can watch it. Booms can't inflate it and depression can't wipe it out. Thieves can't steal it. Relatives can't borrow it.

Child Behavior to Be Discussed

Wayne Professor to Describe Problems at Guidance Clinic

His investigation and treatment of some bafflingly difficult child behavioral problems will be described by Dr. Fritz Redl, professor of behavioral sciences, Wayne State University college of education, at an open meeting called by the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic.

* * *

The meeting will be held at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday in the Community House Auditorium, 380 South Bates St., Birmingham.

Dr. Redl is a graduate of the University of Vienna and came to the United States in 1936 in response to an invitation from the Rockefeller Foundation to work with the Adolescent Study of the Progressive Education Association in New York.

He moved to Michigan in 1938, becoming a consultant in the Guidance Department of Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills, and lecturer in mental hygiene at the school of education, University of Michigan.

* * *

Following 12 years' service with the school of social work, Wayne State University, he became chief of the Child Research Branch, National Institute of Mental Health, Bethesda, Md. He returned to Wayne in 1959 in his present capacity.

Dr. William Westmaas of Birmingham, president of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, announced this public meeting so that parents, educators and governmental officials could hear this eminent authority.

Dr. Redl will speak following the annual meeting of the clinic, at which the public also is welcome. That portion of the meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m., with Dr. Redl speaking at 8:30.

Going on 119, Social Security Recipient Says

POLK CITY, Fla. (UPI) — An egg-bald little man who says he grew up as a house slave in Texas may be the oldest working recipient of Social Security in the nation. He claims he is 118 years old, going on 119.

* * *

Charley Smith, who lives in a one-room shack at a citrus grove just outside this little Central Florida village, says he was born in Africa in 1842 and clearly remembers being shipped as a slave from Liberia in 1855 and being sold to his master in New Orleans at the age of 13.

* * *

He gets along on Social Security and what he earns selling soft drinks and candy to fruit pickers and children.

* * *

He doesn't remember his African name. He took the name of his owner.

Area Girl Involved in $6,000 Project

A Bloomfield Hills girl is one of 15 students engaged in a research project at Marygrove College, Detroit, that has won a $6,000 grant from the National Science Foundation in Washington, D.C.

Miriam Mohrhoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mohrhoff of 2750 Macki-tosh Lane, a junior at the college, is a chemistry major working on the project.

Marygrove was one of only 32 women's colleges of some 250 aided by the foundation. The Marygrove project concerned research on nutrition and aging.

Dr. William H. Marbach, minister of First Presbyterian Church, (left) greets Mrs. James Burke of St. Joseph Street, and Mrs. Marbach receives Mr. Burke at the farewell reception in their honor in the social rooms of the church Sunday afternoon. Dr. Marbach preached his last sermons as pastor of the local church yesterday after serving there 30 years.

Pontiac Press Photos

Retiring Minister Honored by 2,000

By MARY ANGLEMIER

It was like stepping into spring.

Roses, carnations and snapdragons, in shades of pink, graced tables and formed a background with palms where Dr. and Mrs. William H. Marbach received more than 2,000 guests at a farewell reception in their honor Sunday afternoon in First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Marbach is retiring from the ministry. With his wife he will leave this week for Bensenville, Ill., to make his home. The Marbachs will be near their two sons' families, Mr. and Mrs. William Marbach and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marbach with five grandchildren.

A steady stream of friends passed through the receiving line, many of whom had been baptized and married by Dr. Marbach. There were pastors and members of other churches, city and county officials, and members of other faiths and races.

The church was filled at the two morning worship hours with friends who came once again to hear their beloved pastor.

TELLS OF SERVICE

At the early service Elder James Burke told the congregation Dr. Marbach had made 36,000 home and hospital calls during his 30 years here as minister.

He also said Dr. Marbach had officiated at 1,184 weddings, 1,300 baptisms, and 1,295 funerals; and preached 2,000 sermons.

"On this day of glory and achievement it is impossible to evaluate the many gems of wisdom and kindness he has scattered or to measure the comfort and consolation given to those whose burdens have been heavy," Mr. Burke said.

In a message to his congregation Dr. Marbach said "As Mrs. Marbach and I come to the end of 30 years fellowship with members of our church and community, we feel deeply grateful for the enrichment that has come to our lives because of the privilege of serving together with you in the work of our beloved church.

"Many precious memories are embedded in our minds as we recall past associations. Together we have had many experiences of joy and sorrow, in your homes and in the church, by day and by night, in the sunshine and in the shadows.

"I am most grateful for the honorary title conferred upon me by our church, now becoming Pastor Emeritus, which translated means, that although I will no longer be active on the field as your pastor, I will still be regarded as having a pastoral relationship to you. Few ministers ever are given this honor, and as one of the few, I am happy to have been given the honor which carries with it your most generous "Honorarium."

★ ★ ★

"Borrowing the words of St. Paul, we would say to each of you, "We thank God upon every remembrance of you, always in every prayer of ours, for you all, making requests with joy."

MANY ARE INVOLVED

In charge of arrangements were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Van Dyke Jr., the Gordon Doules and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Abbott.

★ ★ ★

Assisting with the tea and coffee were Mrs. Charles Galloway, Mrs. E. G. Winn, Mrs. Don Robertson, Mrs. John McGinnis, Mrs. Edward Markham, Mrs. Clarence Senger and Mrs. Elmer Reynolds.

Others were Mrs. Gene Feneley, Mrs. L. B. West, Mrs. Clyde Herring, Mrs. Hugh Little, Mrs. C. J. Nephler, Miss Grace Clark, Mrs. Floyd Salow, Mrs. Basil Kimball, Mrs. James Graybiel, Mrs. R. E. Spurgeon, Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. George Beauchamp, Mrs. Norman Allen, Miss Jessie Axford, Mrs. Willis Brewer and Mrs. William E. Beattie.

Also participating were Mrs. M. M. Jones, Mrs. J. C. Covert, Mrs. William Washington, Mrs. Harry McGrath, Mrs. Floyd Salow and Mrs. Mallory Coleman, Mrs. William Hilderley and Mrs. S. E. Minard.

Altar Unit Plans Afternoon Affair

The Rosary Altar Society of Sacred Heart Church will sponsor a card party Tuesday afternoon at the rectory. Table prizes will be pillowcases.

Mrs. William Beaupre, Mrs. Alex Madek and Mrs. Paul Schovan are in charge of tickets. Proceeds will be given to the convent fund.

To Count Change Quite OK

By The Emily Post Institute

Question: A friend of mine was sent several books of chances on a mink stole that was being raffled off by her son's school. She asked me if I would like to take a chance and I said that I would take $1 worth. The chances were 25 cents apiece.

It so happened that the smallest bill I had was a $10 bill and I asked her if she had change. After she handed me the change, which was all single dollar bills, I counted it, and as I did so she said, "Don't you trust me?"

I thought at first she was joking but she was very serious about it and seemed quite hurt. Will you please tell me if I was wrong in what I did?

Answer: I see no cause for your friend taking offense at what you did. One is very apt to make a mistake when counting out bills, especially if they are new ones which have a tendency to stick together, and it was just as much for her protection as well as your own to count them. After all, she could have given you more change than you were supposed to get.

Question: For years I have been addressing formal invitations for my family and friends. On the inside envelope I have always written Mr. and Mrs. John Smith. However, I have received several formal invitations lately that were written by professionals and the inside envelopes just had Mr. and Mrs. Smith (no given name) on them. I have had several discussions about this and would like to know which way is correct.

Answer: The inside envelope is correctly addressed Mr. and Mrs. Smith, without the given name.

Question: Is it out of order to ask the waiter, or waitress, to make out separate checks when each one wishes to pay his own way? Maybe it's extra work for the waiter, but it is also confusing at the end of the meal to figure out who owes what on the check?

Answer: Many people ask for separate restaurant ly proper.

Mrs. Earle Van Dyke Jr. of East Iroquois Road signs the guest book at the farewell reception honoring Dr. and Mrs. William H. Marbach Sunday.

Organ Society Symposium on Tuesday

The Hammond Organ Society will conduct the February workshop and organ symposium Tuesday evening at the Grinnell Brothers Auditorium on South Saginaw Street.

Musical collaboration and chord progressions using other types of musical instruments combined with the organ will be featured in this processing session.

★ ★ ★

Various styles of organs will be used and Neale Hale of Farmington, chairman, has planned a program of exceptional interest to all teachers, students and professional musicians.

★ ★ ★

Gold membership certificates and membership cards will be distributed to any of the 400 members of the Pontiac Area Hammond Organ Society who have not received them.

All Oakland County organists, regardless of what type instrument they may have, are invited to this special session.

Ani Chapter Sets Fashion Showing

Plans for the annual spring fashion show and card party were completed when members of the Ani Chapter of Armenian Relief Society met with Mrs. Berj Gerjekian of North Marshall Street. Mrs. Robert Haroutunian was cohostess.

Abby Gives Warning:

Still Life in the Old Boy

DEAR ABBY: Some friends of ours own a resort. The wife interviews all the applications for jobs and does all the hiring and firing. If you saw that collection of maids and waitresses, you'd think it was an old ladies' home.

ABBY

A girl under 50 hasn't a chance to get hired there, and even a good-looking matron over 50 gets fired if she looks sideways at the husband.

★ ★ ★

It's true in his younger days this man was mixed up with some of the help and gave his wife a pretty bad time, but now that he's fat, bald and over 60, don't you think she should let the old goat run the business and quit worrying about him?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Your friend knows her husband better than you do. Just because there's chrome on the dome doesn't mean there's no power under the hood.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: When a boy kisses a girl, is the girl suppose to close her eyes and stop breathing?

NEEDS TO KNOW

★ ★ ★

DEAR NEEDS: She may close her eyes, but she isn't expected to stop breathing.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to bother my clergyman with a problem like this, and don't tell me to talk it over with my mother because she is the one I'm having the trouble with.

★ ★ ★

I am 16 and very mature for my age. I mean I could pass for 18. All my girl friends have started shaving their legs. Even the blondes.

I am a brunette and my legs look like a bear's. My mother says if I start shaving my legs now, in no time at all they will be as rough as a man's beard.

Don't suggest waxes or creams as they are too expensive. At what age should a girl start shaving her legs?

TALL, DARK AND HAIRY

DEAR T., D. and H.: When a girl takes on the appearance of a woman, it's time to shave her legs.

Especially if you are a brunette and your legs "look like a bear's." Once you start shaving your legs, you will have to continue, but the growth is rarely comparable to man's beard.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ALL MIXED UP": You will find many people will tell you what is good for you. Listen to them all—then do what you think is right.

★ ★ ★

Globewear Glamorous

It's Our Duty to Be Fit

Luxuries Making Us Soft

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

In a country like the United States of America, it seems almost unbelievable that Americans are becoming weaker rather than stronger physically. Consider these facts!

★ ★ ★

The interest in sports is so keen that verbal battles for one's favorite team are fought with the same vigor and enthusiasm with which politics is discussed; we have such a high standard of living and an overabundance of food; we have physical education courses in the schools and myriad playgrounds; our medical research is pushing back the onset of aging and nutrition has become a science.

★ ★ ★

Yet there is unrefutable evidence that our stamina and health are declining. This showed up in Selective Service examinations.

★ ★ ★

And the physical fitness tests which Yale University gives its freshmen every year have shown a steady decline in the physical stamina of young men.

In 1951, 51 per cent of the entering class passed this examination, and in 1960 only 38 per cent did so.

★ ★ ★

Not long ago Doctors Hans Kraus and Sonja Weber of the posture clinic of New York City's Columbia-Presbyterian Hospital reported the results of a 15-year study which showed that young Americans fall far below young Europeans in physical fitness. As a result of this and other evidence President Eisenhower formed his Council on Youth Fitness.

In the December issue of the magazine, Sports Illustrated, there was a most interesting article, by our new president, John F. Kennedy. In it he said:

"The knowledge that the physical well-being of the citizen is an important foundation for the vigor and vitality of all the activities of the nation, is as old as western civilization itself. But it is a knowledge which today, in America, we are in danger of forgetting."

Certain history has shown us what happens when a nation has too many luxuries and soft living leads to physical deterioration.

In these times of stress it is our patriotic duty to remain fit or to improve the state of our health.

Circle Is Hostess to Society Meeting

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Oakland Park Methodist Church met Thursday evening at the church with the Mary Martha Circle serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Irl Williams combined her program with the devotions given by Mrs. Frank Martin and Mrs. James Deeg.

The first cooperative Lenten dinner will be on Feb. 23.

Rebecca Circle will be hostess for the April 13 meeting and the Society will serve the father-and-son banquet on April 27.

Les Filles Club Reveals Pals

Officers selected for the new year are Susan Bird, president; Marilyn Brown, vice president; Jill Dearing, recording secretary; Diane Brown, corresponding secretary; Carol Gray, treasurer; Susan Steer, parliamentarian and Jean Livingstone, historian.

The club's charity project was discussed.

Pill Box Acts As Conscience

(UPI) — For pill-takers, there's a combination pill box and timing device which makes it easier to take prescribed medicine on time. The timer, designed by a Swiss watchmaker, sounds an alarm at any pre-set interval from five minutes to one hour.

Attached to its own key chain, the alarming pill box also can be used to signal when parking meter time has elapsed.

Heritage Club Hears Paper

Members of the Heritage Club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Edward Hansz on McLintock Drive. New member, Mrs. Emery Butler was welcomed.

Mrs. Jerry DuBois read a paper on Sandwich glass and displayed a rare blue dolphin candlestick among her examples of this early American pressed glass.

★ ★ ★

Tentative plans were completed for a membership tea in April. Mrs. James Youngblood and Mrs. A. K. MacKean were appointed as a telephone committee and Mrs. Franklin B. Read will handle publicity.

★ ★ ★

A paper on "Early American Ornamental Glass" will be given by Mrs. Youngblood and Mrs. Read at the March meeting with Mrs. Fred Hoenstine on Upland Avenue.

Baptist Church Gleaners Meet

The Wayside Gleaners of the First Baptist Church met Friday afternoon in the educational room of the church. Mrs. Harry Watts was hostess and Mrs. W. S. Freeman, second vice president, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Herbert Flemington of Birmingham chose for her devotional subject, "You in Christ." The Rev. James Savage presented two trombone numbers accompanied by Mrs. Ira J. Davis.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Emory Kalso and her committee.

Guard Young Dancer's Limbs

NEW YORK (UPI)—A child's feet can easily develop strain or muscle and ligament weaknesses from ballet lessons unless they are properly supervised, Dr. Edward Meldman, a foot specialist cautions.

Reporting on the subject in "Today's Health," the expert said children should not be placed on point—rising on the tips of the toes—until age 10 or 12.

Foamy Pudding Sauce Is Tops in Creamy Taste
By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Early in December the Colonial Group of the First Congregational Church published a small cookbook. As is usually the case with such cookbooks, this one contains some excellent local recipes.

Mrs. Mac T. Whitfield says this pudding sauce is the best she ever tasted. One male guest told her it would be good just on crackers. It is a recipe her mother, the late Mrs. S. A. Kessell, used often.

Mrs. Whitfield keeps actively busy with some church work, Tuesday Musicale, Pontiac Farm and Garden Club and reading.

FOAMY PUDDING SAUCE
By Mrs. Mac T. Whitfield
1½ cups confectioners sugar
¾ cup butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
½ pint whipping cream
Blend until dissolved in a double boiler the sugar, butter and egg yolk. Cook 5-10 minutes. Beat egg white and add. Cool until time to serve. Whip cream and fold into sauce. Serve on pudding, plain cake or gingerbread.

Delores Ann Shea Weds in Methodist Ceremony

Dr. Milton H. Bank solemnized the Friday evening vows of Delores Ann Shea and Harry J. Nicholie before a flower-banked altar in Central Methodist Church.

The parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Shea of North Anderson Street, were hosts at the church reception.

The circular veil of French illusion bordered with lace, was attached to a crown of crystals. The bride wore an heirloom gold lavaliere belonging to her great-grandmother.

Leaving for a brief honeymoon, the new Mrs. Nicholie was wearing a pale lavender wool sheath dress with purple accessories. The couple will reside in Spartan Village on the Michigan State University campus for the duration of their college studies.

★ ★ ★

Officers Elected at Club Meeting

Officers for the Griffin Proficiency Club, Order of the Eastern Star No. 228, were elected Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Baynes on Marquette Street.

Mrs. Bert Weddle, incoming president, will be assisted by Mrs. Mary Erickson, vice president, and Mrs. Baynes, secretary-treasurer.

Amvets Auxiliary Hears Students

The auxiliary of the Jimmy Dey Amvets met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Edward Pompeian on Mark Avenue. Sharing hostess honors were Mrs. Louis Hadden and Mrs. Richard Moore.

Foreign exchange students Rusli Maisa of Indonesia, who lives with the Walter Crawfords, and Grazi Massi of Italy, who lives with the Henry Helmkamps, spoke on their experiences at Pontiac Central High School.

Mrs. William Siegler is chairman for the annual card party in March at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Ski Injuries Result From Momentum?

NEW YORK (UPI)—A skier weighing 150 pounds, traveling at 30 miles per hour, develops a momentum of 6,600 foot-pounds per second.

★ ★ ★

If he stops within two feet, the stopping force is 2,250 pounds. The statistics reported in Missouri Medicine, a journal for doctors, are coupled with the comment that "it is not surprising, therefore, that about 80 per cent of the total ski injuries involve ankle, knee and leg."

Lengthen Line's Life

NEW YORK (UPI)—Before you string up a new clothes line, boil it for five minutes in sudsy water. This softens the rope and makes it more durable.

Rebekahs Host to Five Lodges

Pontiac Rebekah Lodge No. 450, IOOF, was hostess to five lodges of District 6 Friday evening in Malta Temple.

Mrs. Ervid Smith was appointed dining-room chairman and Mrs. Wilfred Brown, kitchen supervisor, for the benefit dinner Feb. 17 at the Temple.

Entertainment for the evening was planned by Mrs. Leonard Roberts, and Barbara Liskey served refreshments.

Mrs. Herman Wegner, chaplain conducted the closing candlelight ceremony.

Keep It Clean

NEW YORK (UPI)—The mouthpiece of your telephone should be wiped often with an almost-dry sudsy cloth. This washes away germs and helps to prevent the spread of common colds.

Gold Price Takes Dip

LONDON (UPI)—The free-market price of gold fell back again today in anticipation of President Kennedy's message on halting the drain on the nation's gold reserves.

Escapees Caught Quickly After Beating Ionia Guard

IONIA (UPI)—A guard was beaten unconscious and two convicts used his keys to escape Sunday night from the state medium security prison.

Freedom, however, was short-lived for Claude Holden and Stewart Richardson, both 20. They were captured two hours later two miles east of Carson City in Gratiot County. The pair had fled in the guard's car.

Officials said the escape was made shortly after 6 p.m. while part of the guard force was eating supper.

Sgt. Myron Procuneir, 53, was struck on the head by Richardson while the two of them were alone in Procuneir's office in the administration building, said prison authorities.

★ ★ ★

Richardson, who worked in the office, then called over the public address system for Holden to report to the office. The pair took keys to the prison gate and Procuneir's car keys. Procuneir sounded the alarm minutes later.

★ ★ ★

Capture came when Gratiot County Sheriff Robert Russell and a deputy, who were manning a road block on Michigan 57, spotted the stolen car.

The fugitives stopped alongside the road after a brief auto chase. One tried to flee across a field, but he was cornered by Russell and two Montcalm County deputies.

Richardson, sentenced from Calhoun County, was serving 3-4 years for larceny from a building. Holden was sentenced to 5-15 years for breaking and entering from Genesee County.

Says U. S. Should Plan Cotton Import Quotas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The president of the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute told Congress today the United States should impose country-by-country quotas on textile imports.

★ ★ ★

J. M. Cheatam of Griffin, Ga., head of Dundee Mills, Inc., made the statement in testimony at the opening of a two-day hearing by the Senate textile subcommittee.

Woman Calms Passengers on Sinking Ship

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP)—An American woman stood on the deck of a sinking ship in Tokyo bay Sunday night and sang "The Lord's Prayer" to calm the excited survivors.

The singer was Mrs. Victor Andrews of Laguna Beach, Calif., a passenger on the 6,419-ton Danish freighter Laust Maersk. The ship sank after colliding with the 6,419-ton American cargo ship Alcoa Pioneer.

The Japanese Coast Guard said two Danish crewmen died in the crash and three others were missing. Forty-three persons — including Mrs. Andrews and three other American passengers — were rescued.

The American ship docked under her own power, her bow ripped and tangled. The Laust Maersk went down in about 20 minutes.

U. A. R. Releases Spy

CAIRO (AP)—James Zarb, a Briton jailed as a spy in the United Arab Republic since the Suez war, was released today after serving nearly half of a 10-year sentence.

Candy Sellers Ask Right to Spike Their Product

LONDON (UPI)—The National Union of Retail Confections appealed to the government Sunday to permit candy stores to sell liqueur-flavored chocolates.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the group said "the alcoholic content of liqueured chocolates is never above 6 per cent, so there is hardly any danger of encouraging drunken orgies."

Xway Link 'Spadework' Near

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Large earth-moving machines were scheduled to roar into action sometime this week as the State Highway Department begins work on the first leg of the Walter P. Chrysler Freeway in Oakland County.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie broke ground Jan. 26 with county road officials signaling the beginning of the $75-million project in the county.

Officials of the department attached to the Pontiac regional office said that a contract was awarded last week to S. D. Solomon & Sons of Lansing for a small segment of the first section, that from M15 southeasterly to Baldwin road in Independence Township.

A department spokesman said a lawsuit has "temporarily" held up construction from Walton boulevard to Baldwin road. A hearing was scheduled in Circuit Court today.

The Lansing firm was the low bidder to construct the first 12.2 miles of the freeway starting just north of Walton Boulevard northeast of Pontiac and running northwesterly to M15 north of Clarkston. This work is being done at an estimated $10 million including right-of-way purchases.

Mackie said contracts for another 15 miles of Interstate 75 (Chrysler freeway) from M15 to the Oakland-Genesee County Line will be let Feb. 22 at an estimated cost of $9.2 million including right-of-way and engineering.

As it relates to Oakland County, Interstate 75 will be the substitute for U.S. 10 (Woodward avenue) for through traffic, thus bypassing downtown business sections such as Pontiac's.

The southern end of the freeway, that from Eight Mile road north to 11½-Mile road has been made a part of Mackie's second five-year construction program announced in Pontiac Jan. 27. This 4-mile leg will be placed under contract in 1963, Mackie said.

Weaves a Colorful Pattern of Knowledge

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

A charming individualist, Mrs. Lillian Holm is much more than an instructor at Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills. She is busy weaving the golden threads of creativeness, perseverance and moral integrity into the lives of girls at Kingswood School.

As head of the weaving department, the Swedish-born Mrs. Holm stimulates the imaginations of her teen-age students by encouraging them to create their own designs, colors and materials.

From there, girls in the 7th through 12th grades learn how to thread the big looms for making artistic tapestries, sports material, drapes and "just about anything that is made of cloth."

AND SHE STAYED

After receiving her master's degree in weaving and design at the University of Stockholm in 1934, the soft-spoken teacher was asked to go to Cranbrook to teach the age-old art, and she has been there ever since.

★ ★ ★

However, instruction has been only a small part of the fascinating woman's activities. She has gained international fame for her delicate tapestry and other types of weaving.

One of her works of art, a 7-by-9-foot tapestry, is hung in a University of Michigan building, and the frontal and vestments of a Pittsburgh Episcopalian church were woven by Mrs. Holm.

She has had exhibits in many parts of the United States and abroad. At the New York World's Fair in 1939, 17 of her colorful tapestries were accepted for decoration in the administration building.

When actress Katherine Cornell was starring in "Antony and Cleopatra," she had Mrs. Holm create a tapestry of linen and silk depicting the death scene in the play.

"It was a little difficult to get the similarity to her face," Mrs. Holm explained. She added that her big thrill came when, as she was working on it, one of her students—not knowing of the assignment—remarked, "Why that looks just like Katherine Cornell."

★ ★ ★

Every summer of her 28 years at Cranbrook, Mrs. Holm has toured Europe. Her husband Andrew died five years after the two were married. She has retained her estate in Sweden.

★ ★ ★

When she came to America, Mrs. Holm brought original blueprint designs for constructing looms. Forty of these now are in use at Kingswood. However, her latest creation—a metal loom—is more streamlined "and you don't have to crawl inside to thread it," she explained.

Mrs. Holm's girls are preparing for the 1961 Scholastic Art Awards show to be held at Crowley Milner's store in Detroit, from Feb. 25 through March 11.

The winners then will enter the National Show in New York, and in the past, Kingswood student-entries have averaged three winners out of some 1,000 every year, Mrs. Holm said. "This year could be the best," she concluded.

Would Let Teachers in Politics

Helping frame the hurriedly written resolution was Dr. William E. Rhode, assistant professor of political science at Michigan State University Oakland and delegate to the convention from Rochester. Rhode was named assistant director of the university's continuing education department Saturday.

He was also one of several MSUO faculty members who signed a newspaper advertisement last fall urging the election of then presidential candidate John F. Kennedy. The ad resulted in a rebuke the following day by Chancellor D. B. Varner.

When questioned whether the resolution, which he helped draft with Oak Park delegate S. Jerome Bronson, was a slap back at Varner, Rhode said "no comment."

As presented by Bronson to the sparsely attended county caucus before the convention, the resolution pledged support to Democratic nominees for educational posts in the April 3 election "with the full knowledge that they and each of them will carry high the torch of academic freedom."

★ ★ ★

"Student and faculty participation in politics is a part of academic freedom," Bronson said later, "and implicit in this resolution is its encouragement on the campuses of our country."

For 4-Day Lakes Cruise

C. of C. to Sail on June 4

Winter's frigid blasts have not chilled advance plans for the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce annual cruise in June.

Arrangements call for chamber members to sail Sunday, June 4, aboard the SS South American for a four-day Great Lakes cruise.

Stop-overs are scheduled at Sault Ste. Marie and Traverse City.

The chamber reported that two-thirds of the available staterooms aboard ship have been reserved. Reservations are being accepted at the chamber office.

Americans on 'Maria' Fly Home

RECIFE, Brazil (AP)—Thirty-eight Americans were scheduled to take a plane today for Miami, leaving far behind the Portuguese liner on which they wandered the Caribbean and the Atlantic as prisoners for 12 days.

The once-captive luxury liner lay at her berth in Recife for three more days of resupply and repairs. Her former captor, rebel Capt. Henrique Galvao, also stayed in Recife, restricted by police for a time, despite a promise of political asylum in Brazil.

Most of the Santa Maria's European passengers were on their way to Lisbon aboard the sister ship Vera Cruz—this time accompanied by a heavy guard to ensure no repetition of seizure at sea.

Gusts Turn Freeway Into Wind Tunnel

ONTARIO, Calif. (UPI)—A 75-mile-an-hour wind turned a three-mile corridor of the San Bernardino Freeway east of here into a giant wind tunnel Sunday, damaging cars, trucks and trees.

Wind-whipped sand reduced visibility for more than an hour and slowed traffic to a crawl. One driver, blinded by the sand, drove off the freeway into a ditch.

City Chalks Up Impressive Gain in Retail Sales

Pontiac department store sales during December were up 11 per cent over the same month of 1959, according to a survey by the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

The percentage gain for December over November was even more impressive, a whopping 64 per cent. It was one of the best in the state.

The year-to-year gain for December was the best among those cities in the state surveyed. Flint, with an 8 per cent increase, was second best. Some cities showed a December-to-December decrease. Port Huron and Muskegon, for example, were down 5 per cent.

Pontiac did much better in percentage than Detroit. That city had an increase of 50 per cent over November, but no gain at all over December 1959.

MAX E. STAMP

Waterford Grad Is Promoted to Plant Accountant

Max E. Stamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Stamp of 89 Clive Ave. and a former Pontiac resident, has been promoted to plant accountant at Crystal Falls, R.I., by the Corning Glass Works.

He was formerly stationed at the main plant in Corning, N.Y., in the Electrical Products Division. Stamp, 28 and single, joined the company in 1954 at Albion as a junior accountant. He later was promoted to budget analyst there.

He is a 1951 graduate of Waterford Township High School, and holds a bachelor's degree from Ferris Institute. Stamp spent two years with the Army in Europe before joining Corning Glass.

To Play Jazz at Funeral for Musician

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Some of the old-timers in this city that gave birth to jazz today planned a Dixieland-band send-off to give 82-year-old Negro clarinetist Alphonso Picou the kind of funeral he would have wanted.

Picou, a tinsmith by day and a musician by night who played with some of the early jazz groups way back in 1894, died Saturday after a lingering illness.

Riots Kill 4 in Portugal's W. Africa

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Four persons were reported killed and seven wounded Sunday during new rioting in Luanda, capital of Portugal's West African territory of Angola.

★ ★ ★

The Portuguese news agency Lusitania reported shooting broke out during a funeral procession for seven policemen and soldiers killed in a clash Friday between a mob and police armed with machine guns. Nine civilians also were killed in the battle.

★ ★ ★

Gov.-Gen. Alvaro da Silva Tavares of Angola said all of Sunday's victims were rioters. Da Silva was in the funeral procession but there was no indication that the firing was directed at him.

★ ★ ★

Da Silva claimed he has evidence the rioters were "partisans of a Communist-inspired movement" which is preparing "to implant sovietism on the Iberian Peninsula."

★ ★ ★

Acting Chief Koren Will Attend

MSU to Host Police Parley

Acting Pontiac Police Chief Joseph Koren will be among more than 100 chiefs from law enforcement agencies throughout the state attending the midwinter meeting of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police tomorrow at Michigan State University.

Legislation on police training standards and a police training academy will be topics of discussion.

Particular emphasis will be placed on the details and progress of state legislation regarding uniform standards of police training and the possible establishment of a law enforcement training academy at MSU.

Reports to be presented at the meeting in East Lansing will deal with similar laws now in effect in such states as New York, Illinois, California and Minnesota.

The police chiefs also will review subjects to be studied at a law enforcement administrators seminar March 8-10 at MSU.

Both meetings are continuing education programs of the MSU School of Police Administration and Public Safety.

Kuhlmann Uses No Contest Plea

Troy Firm Involved in Antitrust Case Hitting Climax Now

TROY—A Troy firm is involved in a huge antitrust case, called one of the biggest in American history by federal attorneys, which is being heard in U.S. District Court in Philadelphia.

Fines and possible jail terms face 29 of the nation's largest electrical equipment manufacturers and 45 of their employes as the case reaches its climax today and tomorrow.

There was a total of 72 guilty pleas and 89 of no contest to 20 indictments for price fixing and bid rigging at secret meetings allegedly held all over the country since 1956.

The nation's largest electrical makers — Westinghouse and General Electric — each were named in 19 indictments.

A total of $8.05 million could be imposed on the firms which allegedly took part in a conspiracy in violation of the Sherman Anti-trust Act of 1890.

All the defendents at first vigorously denied the charges, but later switched their innocent pleas as the government pressed for trial.

Following the sentencing, the net legal step could be civil lawsuits by governmental and private customers to recover damages for alleged overpayments for equipment used to generate, transmit and distribute electricity to almost every home in America.

The court hopes to complete all the sentencing by late tomorrow. But as a precaution Judge Ganey set aside Wednesday to dispose of any cases not handled by that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Nixon of 1760 W. Drahner Road, Oxford Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Kim Elaine to Clyde G. Sissons, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sissons of 986 Gill Road, Oxford Township. No date has been set for the wedding.

D. EUGENE SIBERY

To Discuss Hospital Thursday

ROCHESTER — Plans for the proposed Crittenton Branch Hospital, a $5-million facility to be built just south of here, will be discussed at 8 p.m. Thursday in an open forum at Woodward Elementary School.

Guest speaker for the session will be D. Eugene Sibery, administrator of Crittenton General Hospital, Detroit, which will be the parent institution of the new branch hospital.

Other panelists will be two officers of the Bertha Van Hoosen, Inc., an organization of local business and professional people who worked towards getting a community hospital to locate in the area.

Representing the Van Hoosen group will be its chairman, Dr. Edgar J. Geist Jr., and secretary, Mrs. Oscar J. Sorenson Jr.

Announcement of plans for the 200-bed hospital was made jointly Jan. 20 by trustees of the Van Hoosen organization and of Crittenton General.

The hospital forum is sponsored by the Rochester Area Community Council, which held an open meeting on roads and highways in September.

Like the road forum, which was attended by some 100 residents, the audience will be invited to take part in a question and answer session at Thursday's meeting.

Spring Planters Warned of Ads

Home owners should beware of misleading advertising claims in nursery catalogs while planning spring plantings, State Agriculture Director G. S. McIntyre said today.

Advertising campaigns with exaggerated claims regarding growth, production or tremendous bargains are carried on annually by "a few unscrupulous operators," he said.

"Before buying nursery stock, if the claims appear exaggerated, it is best to contact a reputable nurseryman, the Michigan Department of Agriculture or Michigan State University," McIntyre advised.

4 Nabbed in Vandalism — 6 and 7 Years of Age

Waterford Township police apprehended four 6- and 7-year-old juveniles yesterday when two boys were caught throwing stones through windows of the Italian-American Club at 60 N. Tilden St. Every window in the club had been smashed.

★ ★

Previously, 12 basement windows had been reported smashed, and when police checked, they found two of the four boys, who later implicated two more. All admitted the destruction and were turned over to their parents pendings further investigation.

Family Away on Visit as Fire Guts Home

ORION TOWNSHIP — A four-room frame home at 465 Heights Road was destroyed by fire yesterday while the family that lived there was away visiting relatives in Canada.

Orion Township Fire Chief Jack Caylor said his men were unable to save the home since flames already had burned through the roof of the building when they arrived at the scene at 4:24 a.m.

Caylor reported that two pieces of equipment from the township fire department, plus two from the Oxford Fire Department, were used to keep the blaze from spreading to other homes.

The house that was burned to the ground was on the rear of the lot on Heights Road. Jack Cedar, who owned the burned building, lives in a home at the front of the property.

Cedar said the home was rented to George Leland and his wife, who are in Canada awaiting the birth of their third child.

Caylor, who said firemen were at the scene of the blaze for four hours, estimated damage at $10,000. He said cause of the fire is still unknown.

OPENS TODAY — More than 500 elementary and junior high students move into the new Sayre School in Lyon Township today. Designed primarily as an elementary facility, the $615,000 school also will house junior high students for the next several years until a new high school is built. At that time the present high school will be converted into a junior high. The Sayre School, built on a 16-acre site, is adjacent to the Woodside Subdivision, east of Pontiac Trail and just south of the South Lyon city limits.

Lapeer Man Named VP of Association

LAPEER—Howard R. Gohlke, 436 E. Nepessing St., has been named vice president of the Michigan chapter of the International City Managers Association.

Elected president was Wallace G. Arrowsmith, city manager of Wayne. Other officers include William H. Lange of Grosse Pointe Woods, Fred Tholen of East Grand Rapids and Leonard Harris of Negaunee, all vice presidents.

John Huss, director of the Michigan Municipal League, was named secretary-treasurer. The elections were held at the 13th annual Management Institute at Ann Arbor.

Census Costs Increase $36 Million Since '50

According to the Tax Foundation, the cost of running the 1960 census was $127 million or 71 cents a person, against $91 million or 60 cents a person in 1950.

Get Resignation of Southfield's Inspector

SOUTHFIELD — The resignation of this city's building inspector is expected to be accepted by the City Council tonight.

B. Frank Gidley, 70, of 25805 Beech Court, is resigning because of ill health.

Gidley was building inspector for Southfield Township before it became a city 2½ years ago. His combined services with the township and city total 16 years.

He will remain with the city as building consultant until the end of the year. A new building inspector will be hired in the near future by City Administrator Donald V. Smith.

★ ★ ★

The appointment will be subject to the approval of the City Council.

Appoint Mayor to School Post

Milford Official New Business Manager of Huron Valley District

MILFORD — Village Mayor Joseph M. Gerrard has been named business manager of the Huron Valley School District, it was announced today.

Gerrard will take over the newly created $8,500 post immediately.

Mayor of the village the last six years, Gerrard has stated that he will not seek a fourth term in office.

As business manager of the large school district Gerrard will administer all school funds and be in charge of all personnel other than teachers and administrators.

The business manager's post will replace the office of assistant superintendent at the end of the school year.

At that time Supt. Harold Hanson is expected to resign and his post to be filled by Erwin Johanson, assistant superintendent.

Nature Program at Parks in '60 Used by 100,000

Over 100,000 persons used the services of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority nature program during the year 1960 compared to over 80,500 in 1959 and 72,000 in 1958.

Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, authority director, stated that these figures do not include individuals and family groups who take unguided hikes along the nature trails at authority parks.

The four major services included guided field trips, lectures given at the Nature Center, lectures to school and civic groups and visits by the general public to the center to view exhibits.

Bill Hopkins, chief naturalist for the authority, pointed out that during the past year new records have been set in the number of persons visiting the Nature Center at Kensington Park near Milford.

The same is true in the number of youngsters hearing lectures given at schools in the five-county area covering Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne counties, Hopkins said.

He also indicated that every year more persons are using the nature trails without requesting the services of a park naturalist. The nature program first was introduced by the authority in 1953.

Largest single iron mine in the world is an open pit in northeast Minnesota near Hibbing. It is 3½ miles long, from one-half to a mile wide, and 1,275 acres in area.

Offer Vegetable Training

4-H Session Is Planned

A training session in vegetables for 4-H leaders and junior leaders will be held during three periods tomorrow at the 4-H Fairgrounds on M24 just north of Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Chief consultant at the sessions will be Dr. J. Lee Taylor, extension specialist with the cooperative extension service at Michigan State University since last September.

A graduate with a B.S. Degree from Ohio State University in 1953, Dr. Taylor also holds a master's degree from MSU and a doctorate from the University of Illinois.

Tomorrow's meetings are designed to give more leaders the opportunity to attend training sessions and to provide a chance for them to get more personal answers to their questions, according to Jack Worthington, Oakland County 4-H agent.

The meetings will be from 10 a.m. to noon, 1 to 4 p.m. and 8 to 10 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Material to be covered will include project requirements, resource materials, experimental projects, cultural practices and judging and identification.

Fined After Fleeing Site of Car Collision

A 47-year-old Pontiac man who fled the scene of a property-damage accident on Auburn Road Friday has been ordered to pay $50 in fines and costs by Shelby Township Justice Joseph P. Plutter.

Found guilty of speeding and for failure to identify himself after an accident was Gilbert G. Sandage of 101 Auburn Ave.

Sandage left the scene of the accident and he escaped after being chased by Holder to Crooks and Adams roads. Sandage was picked up at his residence several hours later by Romeo state police.

Avon Girl Is Wed

Couple Says Vows

AVON TOWNSHIP — Now honeymooning in Northern Michigan are Mr. and Mrs. Merlin J. Doran Jr. who exchanged their nuptial vows in a recent ceremony at St. Andrew Catholic Church, Rochester.

The bride, the former Barbara Jean Brandt, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Brandt of 286 Wimpole Drive. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Merlin J. Doran of 8671 Sashabaw Road, Independence Township.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Harold Delaney of Madison Heights. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Courteau of Clarkston, Evelyn Rintz of Warren and Nancy Muster of Rochester. Ann Marie Courteau of Clarkston was the flower girl.

Richard Courteau of Clarkston was best man. Ushers were Edward Donald and Carl Tenuta, both of Pontiac, and the bride's brother Gary of Avon Township. Another brother Dennis was ring bearer.

Committees Set a Joint Meeting in RO Twp.

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — A joint meeting of the Town Hall Committee and the Block and Street committees will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Senner House, Pasadena St. and Senner Court.

Senner House is the township branch headquarters of the Area Service Association, which is working in conjunction with the urban renewal program.

Wade Brock, ASA consultant, said the agenda for the meeting has not been completed. A brochure also is being prepared to inform citizens who to see regarding their urban renewal problems, Brock said.

The Township Hall Committee met in late December, when citizens were informed of procedures of house rehabilitation and refinancing.

Taxpayers Get Clipped Figuring Deductions

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Internal Revenue Service says taxpayers often underestimate the amount they can deduct in federal income tax returns for state and local taxes.

Ohio State, Indiana in Big Ten Showdown

By The Associated Press

Indiana's Hurryin' Hoosiers, last team to beat Ohio State, get another chance at the Breezin' Buckeyes tonight in the first game of a home-and-home series with the defending NCAA champions and college basketball's No. 1 team.

The Bucks play the Hoosiers at Columbus, Ohio, seeking their seventh straight Big Ten victory and, overall, their 21st consecutive triumph since Indiana's 99-83 decision at home on Feb. 29, 1960.

Tonight's game, and the rematch at Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 20, should determine whether All-America Jerry Lucas and his capable Ohio State Co. will nail another Big Ten title and a chance at another NCAA championship.

Ohio State is 6-0 in the conference and 16-0 this season after crushing Michigan 80-58 in a minor road test Saturday. Indiana is 3-1 in the Big Ten and 10-4 overall after riding big Walt Bellamy's 34 points and all-around play to a 90-73 victory over Northwestern.

Indiana has given Ohio State fits throughout the Bucks' current reign. In their Columbus meeting last season, Ohio State trailed most of the game before pulling out a 96-85 victory on Larry Siegfried's last-second basket.

The Big Ten showdown triggers another big week on the college courts, heading a schedule packed with important tests for conference and independent teams alike in their push for places in the two March tournaments—the NCAA and the National Invitation. The tournaments are wide open with a month of heavy play remaining and only one team definite—second-ranked St. Bonaventure, which has accepted an at-large invitation to the NCAA in hopes of another crack at Ohio State, its only conqueror in 17 games this season.

★ ★ ★

The Bonnies, sky-high after beating third-ranked Bradley last week, play at home tonight against Tennessee State, the top-ranked small college team, then meet Boston College at Buffalo on Saturday.

Bradley, still leading the Missouri Valley Conerence despite a loss to surging Cincinnati last week, plays conference foe Drake at Peoria tonight.

Mississippi State, unbeaten in the Southeastern Conference, entertains Tulane, and Kansas needs only to beat Colorado to fall into a tie with Kansas State in the Big Eight.

The scrambled lead in the Middle Atlantic Conference race is up for grabs in a Philadelphia Palestra doubleheader that matches Temple with Muhlenberg and La-Salle with St. Joseph's in games put back 48 hours by the Eastern snowstorm.

In top independent matches tonight, Detroit (12-6) is at Xavier of Ohio (11-5), and Richmond at Memphis State (15-2).

Wednesday ahead to some of the other major matches:

★ ★ ★

Tuesday, fourth-ranked Duke (16-1) aims for its ninth straight Atlantic Coast Conference victory against North Carolina State. Wednesday, fifth-ranked North Carolina (14-3) is at South Carolina, Tampa at Bradley, and Providence (15-2 with 8 in a row) at Boston U. Thursday, Cincinnati (16-3 with 11 straight) is at St. Louis, Wake Forest at Duke, and NYU vs. West Virginia (16-3) at New York. And Friday, Big Five leader Southern California is at Stanford, and Idaho at Oregon (12-5 with a win streak of seven).

Ohio State hit 66 per cent in the first half, then let reserves get a workout against Michigan last Saturday. John Havlicek and Mel Nowell scored 18 points and Lucas 17. Duke, getting 36 points from sopht Art Heyman, snapped North Carolina's 12-game streak, 91-77. Cincinnati's streak went to 11 in a 77-60 rout of sixth-ranked Iowa. Mississippi State won its eighth straight, 77-61 over LSU, and Oregon's seventh in a row was 71-58 over Oregon State.

Several big streaks were ended, besides North Carolina's. Southern California's ended at eight, 86-83 to UCLA; Florida's at seven, 89-68 to Kentucky; Memphis State's at six (and 32 at home), 96-77 to Dayton; and Army's at nine, 86-72 to Boston College.

Wings Explode Against Montreal

Detroit Players Smiling Again After 7-2 Win

Olympia Jeers Turned to Cheers in Lopsided Hockey Game

DETROIT (AP) — Now the Detroit Red Wings can smile again. As a matter of fact, beating the Montreal Canadiens 7-2 entitles them to a belly laugh.

★ ★ ★

Gordie Howe said it was a good thing that Wings walloped the Canadiens last night at Olympia Stadium. "If we would have lost another one at home, they were going to schedule a game for us against the Junior Red Wings."

Howe is only partly correct. The game against the teenage Red Wing Junior club would have been scheduled only if the hometown fans permitted the senior Wings to escape the ice with their lives.

The jeers that the Red Wings have been hearing for two months turned to cheers in the biggest walloping the Detroit club has handed a Montreal club in more than four seasons. Not since Nov. 18, 1956—when the Wings beat Montreal 8-3—have the local redshirts handed the Canadiens such a drubbing.

"Now everone will want to know why we don't play this well all the time," said coach Sid Abel. "But recently at home, we've been acting like the puck is a hot potato. On the road, we've been doing everything fairly well. We've been tightening up at home because the boys have been so concerned over their failure to win before the home fans."

There were 13,563 fans on hand last night, many of them jamming the aisles. They had plenty to cheer about, and right away.

Val Fonteyne scored inside the four-minute mark, getting his first goal in 44 games when he nailed Jerry Melnyk's rebound. Ten minutes later, Alex Delvecchio got the first of two goals, hitting the 20-goal mark for the third time since he came into the National Hockey League.

Norm Ullman and Melnyk scored in the second period before Gilles Tremblay scored for the skidding Canadiens, who have only one victory in their last seven games. Delvecchio came right back with his 21st goal, and Len Lunde and Claude LaForge scored for Detroit in the third period before Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion got his 30th goal for the Canadiens.

Lunde's goal was his first since Nov. 26, a span of 26 games. It was the first goal of the campaign for LaForge, who joined the Wings late in the season and has played nine games.

It likely was Detroit's best of the season. Referee Frank Udvari penalized the Wings six times, Montreal four. The Wings were forechecking and stealing the puck from the Canadiens except for a lapse after they gained a 2-0 lead.

'Prestige' Games Hurt U-D, MSU

From Our Wire Services

University of Detroit and Michigan State Basketball teams had their prestige pierced Saturday.

★ ★ ★

MSU coach Forddy Anderson will probably think twice from now on before granting any favors.

Anderson granted one of his former pupils a favor and as result the Spartans were bounced 79-71 by North Michigan.

The Titans on the other hand had tournament hopes shining but an 83-82 loss to Loyola of Chicago has started those hopes flickering. A loss at Xavier tonight would just about kill any tournament bids.

So Forddy went out of his way to cram Northern into his crowded cage schedule and took his Spartans up to Marquette in order to give fans in the cold country a glimpse at a real, first-class college team.

They saw one. Albeck had his highly-skilled Wildcats ready and waiting and Saturday's ambush has the Upper Peninsula buzzing with glee. It was the greatest moment in Northern's basketball history.

Two quick baskets by Wayne Monson, who captured scoring honors with 23 points, shoved Northern ahead to stay, 72-69. Shortly after that, Northern dunked seven straight points to clamp the lid on the biggest victory of the year on the state's small college front.

It was the 13th win in 14 games for the rampaging Wildcats who are bound to improve their rating as the 13th-ranked small college quintet in the nation.

For the stunned Spartans, who have an unpleasant assignment at Notre Dame on tap for tonight, it was defeat number 12 — the last four in succession — against four wins.

The Titans, with Dave DeBusschere, Charlie North and Tom Villemure leading the way, moved to a 43-40 halftime lead and widened it to 62-50 in the first 10 minutes of the second half.

Then the Ramblers launched their comeback and pulled even at 77-77 with less than three minutes to play. Two baskets by Gerry Harkness gave Loyola an 81-78 edge and the Ramblers nursed it home.

Debusschere led all scorers with 35 points, North tossed in 23 and Villemure hit for 15. Harkness led Loyola with 25.

The Titans return home to play Notre Dame Saturday afternoon.

There were other highlights on the state scene Saturday.

Bradley, the nation's small college leader with a 32.9 average, broke a season school scoring record, also. His 46 points boosted him to a 651 total, cracking the old mark of 649 which was set in 1952-53. The Blue Devils' record is now 15-5.

Adrian slapped woeful Olivet with its 41st successive loss, 75-61, with Vince Giles, 25 points, leading the way.

And in other games, Aquinas won its 12th, against only three setbacks, downing Hillsdale, 86-72, Eastern Illinois dumped Eastern Michigan, 114-93, Southern Illinois battered Central Michigan, 104-70, and Marshall whipped Western Michigan 93-67.

Riot Ends Hockey Game

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A riot between St. Paul hockey players and spectators ended the Toledo-St. Paul International Hockey League game Sunday with one second left to play. St. Paul won, 6-5.

The wild melee was touched off after Gerry Moore of Toledo got his third goal at 19:59 of the final period, just as the buzzer sounded the end of the game.

St. Paul players, led by goalie Jacques Marcotte rushed to the scorers' table to protest that the goal was not scored before the buzzer.

A spectator heckled Marcotte, who then swung a stick at the fan. Spectators swarmed to the area and the entire St. Paul team rushed in, attacking the spectators with their sticks. One spectator threw a chair on the ice, and several others joined in. The St. Paul players retaliated by throwing chairs back at the crowd.

Police restored order by escorting the St. Paul players to their dressing room. Two spectators were injured slightly during the ruckus.

Cranbrook Matmen Lose

Cranbrook's lone earned victory was in the 112 class on a decision by Bill Barnes. The Cranes, who are 3-2 on the season, picked up their other points on a forfeit and three draws.

Pat Donner Hits 654 to Lead West Siders

Led by Pat Donner's 253-654 combination, West Side Lanes won three points from Team No. 5 in the West Side Ladies Classic. Jo Gohl had 212-547 and Marguerite Young 222-542 as Mrs. Donner's team rolled the 2nd best series of the season 2671. The losers had 2533 led by Gen Bradley's 202-535.

Michigan Babe Ruth League swept four points over Collier's Lanes 2602 to 2360 led by Jeanette Mihalak with 200-539 and Jackie Berzon 531. Motor Inn also got four points over Spartan Air Conditioning 2451-2302. Vi Cargal rolled 208-542 and Doris Lanktree 212-539 paced the winners.

Peg Carter had 200-501 helping Pizzuti's Lounge to a 2387-2377 three-point verdict over Lawyer's Collision. Dorothy White of the losers hit 246-514.

Area Skaters Win State Speed Crowns at Alpena

ALPENA (AP) — Mike Carey, 22, of Detroit, stood off a valiant challenge by 42-year-old veteran Terry Browne and captured the Senior Men's Class A title today in the 34th annual Michigan Speedskating Championships.

Browne all but stole the show during the windup of the two-day meeting in which some 200 top state skaters competed.

The flying fireman from Detroit won three events and placed in another of the total of four held on the final day, only to fail by two points in overhauling Carey.

Carey posted a total of 26 points and moved out to a commanding lead on the first day as Browne fell to the ice in the 220. Browne came back with victories in the three-quarter mile, the mile and the 5-mile events and placed second to Carey in the 2-mile.

Loretta Chapman of Pontiac successfully defended her title in the intermediate girls' class. Cheboygan's speedy Kathy Sullivan also had an easy time of it repeating as the junior girls' champion.

Five records went by the boards in the events staged at Alpena's sports park in near perfect conditions.

Miss Chapman set a record of 2:37.4 in the three-quarter mile intermediate girls. The old mark of 2:37.6 was set by Florence Wrona of Detroit in 1944.

In men's Class B, Larry Martin of Bay City set a mark of :37.2 in the 440, lowing the old standard of :37.6 set by Mel Dries of Detroit last year.

Eddie Bertrand of Detroit shaved six-tenths of a second off the juvenile boy's 440 mark. He was timed in :40.1, compared with last year's time of :40.7 by Dick Murphy of Midland.

★ ★ ★

George Chapman, Loretta's younger brother, established a pony boy's class record of :24.2 in the 220, displacing the 1959 mark of :25.0 set by Dan McDonald of Saginaw.

Bill Freeman of Farmington skated the junior boys' mile in 2:57, breaking the 1956 record of 3:09.2 by Chuck Bertrand of Detroit.

Top 10 Hold Places in Petersen Classic

CHICAGO (AP)—The top ten bowlers held their positions Sunday night in the $327,808 Petersen bowling classic.

Baylor Finds Pistons' Defense to His Liking

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Elgin Baylor could play all his games against the Detroit Pistons, his race with Wilt Chamberlain for the National Basketball Association scoring lead might not be so close.

Baylor has averaged over 41 points in 11 games against the Pistons this season, well above his figure for all games. He tossed in 45 Sunday as he led the Los Angeles Lakers to a 125-120 victory that trimmed Detroit's second-place margin to 1½ games.

So what happened to Baylor in the personal duel? He lost more ground as Chamberlain scored 55 points—11 in an overtime period—and led the Philadelphia Warriors to a 136-128 victory over the hapless New York Knickerbockers.

In other Sunday games, the Boston Celtics edged the St. Louis Hawks 123-121 as Sam Jones shot two seconds before the finish decided a thriller between the divisional leaders and the Syracuse Nationals trimmed the Cincinnati Royals 129-115.

Los Angeles now has won 8 of 11 games from Detroit, which had a string of six straight home court victories before Sunday. It was Baylor who put the Lakers ahead by scoring 21 points in the third period and he came to the rescue again with seven straight in the last quarter after the Pistons had cut their deficit to 119-117.

★ ★ ★

Chamberlain, reputedly a poor foul shooter, made 13 of 18 from the free throw line in the up-and-down Warriors-Knicks struggle.

Trailing at halftime, Philadelphia went ahead by 12 points in the third quarter only to have the Knicks tie it four times in the fourth.

The final tie at 119-all came when Richie Guerin made a free throw and Phil Jordon a field goal in the last 10 seconds. In the extra period the Warriors ran off nine straight points and 17 in all to hand the Knicks their sixth straight loss.

★ ★ ★

Boston called on its strong bench to pull out a game for the fourth straight time. Late in the game Bob Pettit, who had scored 35 points for St. Louis, fouled out and Tom Heinsohn sank two free throws to tie the score at 121-all. Boston got the ball and set up an out of bounds play. Jones, a bench warmer most of the time up to the last period, took the pass from Bob Cousy and banked in a line-drive shot to win.

PCH, PNH Collide Tuesday; Avon Beats Rochester

AP Photofax

VICTORY SMILE — Billy Maxwell has a smile worth $5,300 he gained by winning the Palm Springs Golf Classic yesterday. Maxwell also received the Eisenhower trophy which is a putter, once used by "Ike," based on a long plaque.

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern resume their crosstown basketball rivalry Tuesday night at 8 o'clock on the PCH court to highlight a small, yet attractive Oakland County area prep schedule.

Dick Hall's Huskies dropped a 73-48 decision to the Chiefs on the PNH floor during Christmas vacation and they have lost four times altogether to their intracity foes in a three-season span.

Full slates in the Eastern Michigan and Suburban Catholic circuits are on the docket tomorrow evening plus a couple of interesting non-conference features — Avondale at Roseville and Clarkston at Oxford.

Avondale squelched Rochester for the 2nd time this season with a 54-46 triumph over the Falcons Saturday on the Avon court.

The Yellow Jackets sorely missed the services of rangy Les Bourdo, who was absent due to illness, but a solid team performance plus standout individual work by Jim McDonald and Bud Peet carried them over the Rochester hump.

Rochester held a slim 25-24 halftime lead, but a prosperous 3rd quarter when the Jackets outscored their opponents by a 21-14 margin turned the tide for Dick Bye's quintet.

McDonald paced the Avon attack with 22 points, Peet contributed 15 and Tim Burt added 11 as the Jackets hiked their over-all record to 9-2. Dan Bird was tops for Rochester with 10 points.

Bourdo, Avon's leading rebounder, is sick with tonsilitis and may not be ready for Tuesday's duel at Roseville, Bye said.

In other prep action Saturday involving area cagers, Pontiac Emmanuel absorbed a 62-35 licking at the hands of Grosse Pointe University School, Cranbrook opened its Inter-State League campaign with a 55-48 victory over Shady Side Academy of Pittsburgh, Mt. Clemens handed Romeo a 90-60 thumping, and Royal Oak Shrine bowed to Wyandotte St. Patrick, 73-63.

Romeo was simply outclassed at Mt. Clemens where the Bathers piled up a 55-19 halftime bulge and "loafed" to victory. Bill Trieloff scored 23 points for Romeo and teammate Larry Leto netted 15. Larry Vann tallied 22 for Mt. Clemens.

Cranbrook pulled away from Shady Side in the 2nd half after being held to a 29-29 tie at intermission. Three Cranes broke into double figures with George Blanchard bagging 15 points, Jack Rollert 12 and Jess Fisher 10.

Emmanuel was no match for University as the Lancers lost to the Grosse Pointe team for the 2nd time this season, Tom Sutton swished 11 points in a losing cause.

St. Frederick, which wrapped up its first parochial crown in 19 years last Friday, concludes the SCL campaign with a meaningless contest at St. James of Ferndale.

Orchard Lake St. Mary, fighting to finish in 2nd place, plays host to St. Rita. St. Michael journeys to Center Line to meet St. Clement and RO St. Mary visits Highland Park St. Benedict.

Birmingham Seaholm goes to East Detroit to face the upsetty Shamrocks, who bounced Ferndale from the ranks of the undefeated last Friday.

Ferndale and Port Huron clash on the latter's floor and the big Reds can tie the Dales for the Eastern Michigan lead with a triumph. Mt. Clemens invades Hazel Park to round out the EML card.

Flint Central and Flint Northern renew their city feud in a Saginaw Valley game at the Flint-IMA Auditorium.

Other games of local interest Tuesday include South Lake at Utica, South Lyon at Howell, Ypsilanti St. Johns at Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes, Berkley at RO Dondero, Holy Redeemer at Shrine and Owosso at Lapeer.

Forge, Rangers Hockey Champs

Mountain View Finishes 2nd Unbeaten Season; Standard Also Repeats

Standard Forge and the Mountain View Rangers repeated as champions of the City Junior Hockey League in the finals of the annual double-elimination tournament Saturday at Northside Park.

The Rangers won the National loop title and completed their 2nd unbeaten season in the 13-15 age group by drubbing the North Woodward Heating skaters, 11-0.

Forge annexed its 2nd straight American division crown in the 16-18 age category with a 5-1 victory over the older Mountain View Rangers at the Northside ice rink.

Richard King was the shutout goalie for the "little" Rangers, who scored six times in the 3rd period to climax their successful drive to a 2nd consecutive championship and another perfect year.

Johnson, Bowdry Collide Tuesday for NBA Crown

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Harold Johnson of Philadelphia and Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis took limbering up workouts today with the knowledge that Tuesday night one of them would hold the National Boxing Association light heavyweight championship of the world.

The two meet in a 15-round bout at Miami Beach Convention Hall, warming up the place for the heavyweight title bout between Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson March 13.

Chris Dundee, promoter, said he expected the battle for the crown whisked from the brow of Archie Moore by the NBA to draw upwards of 6,000, with a gross gate of around $60,000. There will be no television or radio.

Western Edges Wolverines

MSU Relays Decide Nothing

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The question of whether Western Michigan University or the University of Michigan is the top college track power in the state remained unanswered today despite the outcome of the Michigan State relays here Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The WMU Broncos led the 21 schools entered with 52½ points.

Michigan, defending Big Ten champions, finished second with 48 points but the Wolverines were without the services of two conference champions, Steve Williams, high jump, and Tom Robinson, dashes, and stars Les Bird, broad jump, and Ergas Leps, mile.

On the other hand, Western Michigan competed without their outstanding dashman, Joel Johnson.

Western outperformed the Wolverines in the distance relay events sweeping the distance medley and the two-mile relays.

★ ★ ★

Michigan had one of the top individual performers in football halfback Bennie McRae, Big Ten low hurdles champion, who is wagered in battle with Kansas State's Rex Stucker.

Stucker, the Big Eight Conference outstanding hurdler, nipped McRae in the 75 yard high hurdles and anchored Kansas State's winning 240 yard shuttle hurdle relay team, beating McRae to the string.

McRae's revenge came in the 75 yard low hurdles when he crossed the line a split second before Stucker, who won the event last year.

Other Michigan Schools scoring in the unofficial point chase were: host Michigan State, fourth with 28 points; Central Michigan, 14 points and Detroit, five points.

Goldsmith Takes Racing Honors in '60 Pontiac

The nation's No. 2 stock car driver last year, Goldsmith made a virtual sweep with his 1960 Pontiac, picking up $1,000 in first prize and $500 in supplemental lap awards. His time was 1:14.19.

Royal Oak Ace Koteles Switches to St. James

Royal Oak St. Mary has lost star halfback and basketball starter Ron Koteles to rival Ferndale St. James. The chunky athlete will be ineligible for sports the rest of this school year under the state transfer rule but should be a big boost to the Dale football hopes next fall.

Wins Sports Car Race

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A foreign car dealer from Warrington, Pa., won the featured 35 lap Sports Car Club of America race after favored Augie Pabst had motor trouble and couldn't start.

Bob Holbert pushed his Porsche 61 at an average 96.80 m.p.h. around the 3.1 mile Daytona International Speedway course Sunday to take the feature.

One Hole of Golf Worth More Than Entire Tourney

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The Palm Springs Golf Classic was played for a local charity, but two Texans who live only three blocks apart made it even more of a local benefit by winning most of the prize money.

Of the two, plump Billy Maxwell of Dallas won more prestige, by playing 90 holes at golf in 345 strokes.

But slender Don January of Dallas won a lot more money by playing one hole of golf in one stroke.

Maxwell, who hadn't won a tournament on the PGA tour since the 1958 Memphis Open, got 55,399 for coming home ahead of 61 other pros in Sunday's final round.

January won a $50,000 bonus prize for scoring a hole in one—the first of his 24-year golfing career—three days earlier.

A non-Texan, handsome Ken Venturi, probably won the most sympathy by blowing a slim lead with a 4-over-par 6 on the fourth to last hole of the tournament. Venturi, of Palo Alto, Calif., wound up tied for fifth place.

★ ★ ★

The last 18 holes were played at Tamarisk Country Club, where the men in charge of pin placement accomplished their job in such a devilish manner that the course might have been the toughest of the five used during the five-day event.

Maxwell shot a 1-under-par 71 and finished two strokes ahead of Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif. Sanders, who covered the final 18 in 69, won $3,400.

Arnold Palmer, who won here a year ago with a final-round 65, finished with a flourish again, but his 69 left him with an over-all score of 348, a stroke behind Sanders. Palmer won $2,200.

Maxwell, Casper and Venturi had gone into the final round tied for the lead, a stroke up on Rosburg.

Venturi was one in front of Maxwell when their threesome reached the 15th tee. Before they knocked two balls out of bounds and himself out of contention.

★ ★ ★

"That," said Maxwell, "was the turning point—let's face it."

Doug Sanders, $3,400	68-73-71-66-69—347
Arnold Palmer, $2,200	68-68-70-72-69—348

No Change at Milford

One New Leader at Elks

There was only one change among the leaders at the Elks State keg tourney, Dixie Recreation Lunch held its ground atop the Huron Valley standings and the combination of Al Beegle and Davis Wallis got off and running ahead of the pack in the annual CMC Truck & Coach Doubles meet in local bowling action over the weekend.

Fred Voelker of Detroit featured the 2nd round of action at the Elks event hitting the top actual of the meet was highlighted by a 288 final game. He had 737 handicap for 2nd behind Al Demarest of Ann Arbor, who has 745.

Seven new teams moved into the top ten in handicap play but none could catch front-running Liberty Music Shop of Ann Arbor at 3131. A 3086 was the closest. Bob Trachet and Jack Buckley of Pontiac retained their good doubles edge at 1368.

Mike Apel of Ann Arbor still is the all-events actual pacesetter with 1877 and is 1st in doubles actual with H. Platt with 1223.

Fritz Five of Detroit rolled 3137 to move into 2nd behind a 3146 owned by Dixie in the Huron team battle at Fairgrounds in Milford.

Driveaway Garage of Detroit held its No. 3 ranking, Cadillac Motor of Detroit No. 10 took 4th at 3085, Lincoln Heat Treating, Warren, 5th with 3069 and Royal Oak entry Mally Heating Service ranks next with 3059. Benny Galfano of Detroit still has high individual scores of 279-699.

The GM tournament is based on pins over average. The Beegle-Wallis duo bettered their combined average by 238 with 1072 as the leaders on the 1st of two sessions at Motor Inn. Dennis Cheyne and Pete Messeman follow with 158 over average.

Beegle and Wallis had a 434 game to lead their average division in the race for special prizes in games and series. W. and K. Fry had 416 for the best middle group game with Cheyne-Messeman tops in series at 1070. K. Miracle and R. Frick rolled 427 and N. Ricketts-C. McBride 1149 heading the high average group.

★ ★ ★

Bob Frick hit 257 and R. Peters 615 in the race for individual men's honors. Alma Bennett was the best woman on 203-550.

Stock Market Wavers After Big Rise

What's Ahead? Investors Wonder

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market is striving mightily to make up its mind what's ahead.

Prices have been moving up almost steadily since October, although corporate earnings generally have been slipping since early in 1960.

But the large trading volume last week with little price change in the list as a whole shows how divided opinion is today.

Is business going to pull itself out of its downturn and boom? Or will it sink lower—or perhaps take a momentary spurt from Washington pump-priming and then slump?

Stock traders and the stock conscious public have a new flood of corporate earnings — thoroughly mixed — to interpret. The early reports indicate that cost cutting has put a stop to sliding profits for many companies, but far from all.

CONFUSED BY KENNEDY

The market also is trying to decide between conflicting Washington reports. It has President Kennedy's grim warning on what might happen and how he plans to forestall a real recession. It has President Kennedy's assurance that things are sure to get better fairly soon anyway. But the market also has to weigh the possibility of another ride on the rollercoaster of inflation.

★ ★ ★

Economists have tried to help the maret make up its mind. But they, too, differ. The majority has been saying that the traditional cycle is about to touch bottom, if it hasn't already, and start up again around mid year. But others warn that the postwar days of general expansion with recurring mild recessions have given way to a new and tougher era that business must learn to live with.

The earnings curve of U.S. corporations has been steadily down since the first quarter of 1960, when the Department of Commerce figures put net income after taxes at around $6 billion for the first three months of the year. By the third quarter it was down to less than $5 billion. The signs are that when the final three months are tabulated the earnings will be roughly the same.

But stock prices, as measured by popular indexes has been rising for several months. The Associated Press index of 60 stocks stood at 206 September 30, closed the year at 221, and last week was up to 236, for a gain of 1 point on the week.

The Dow Jones index of 30 industrial stocks closed 1960 at 616, but Friday stood at 653. The gain has been interpreted as due to some traders discounting an expected upturn in business in the second half of 1960, or of others expecting a big nudge to the economy from the Kennedy administration, or still others thinking inflation will be revived and with it rising stock prices.

Speeding No Longer Termed Main Highway-Death Cause

Speed on the highways no longer is the major cause of traffic accidents, Sgt. Mike Ahlgrim, commander of Pontiac's state police post, observed today.

"Reviewing the causes of these accidents, we can only conclude that most of the mishaps wouldn't have occurred 20 years ago, when road traffic was much thinner," said Sgt. Ahlgrim. "Then, speed was the main accident factor."

Looking ahead, there is nothing to indicate that the flow of cars and trucks will not continue to become even more concentrated.

Accident relief will have to come from the drivers, according to Sgt. Ahlgrim. He sees that relief ahead as more and more motorists will have undergone a driver education program.

"This program, such as is being conducted now in our high schools, is producing better drivers," declared the sergeant. "Most of those completing the course are excellent drivers.

"I am convinced the accident statistics will improve steadily in proportion to the number of today's youths who replace older motorists on the road.

"In the meantime, the best advice I feel I can give to the older generation of drivers still behind the wheel is: be alert and obey the rules."

TOLL RISES

Last year, traffic in Michigan claimed 1,594 lives, according to state police records. The year before 1,467 were killed.

By the end of January this year, 91 highway fatalities were recorded in the state — 46 less than during the same period in 1960.

The major death cause in last year's increasing traffic flow was attempting to pass without properly gauging clearance from oncoming vehicles, said Sgt. Ahlgrim. Proportionately, there were far fewer fatal accidents last year, he said.

"One thing about heavy traffic, it brings on more minor accidents rather than major collisions," the sergeant noted.

7,271 ARRESTS

In 1960, the 25 troopers assigned to the Pontiac post made 7,271 arrests for traffic offenses while recording 228,259 miles on highway patrol.

In addition to doing traffic work, the men investigated 14,394 complaints ranging from family quarrels to armed robbery. Those resulted in 113 arrests.

Troopers from the local post also assisted other police departments in 1,904 area cases, investigated 4,586 cars, conducted 23,880 property inspections and 1,381 liquor inspections, and issued 8,352 verbal warnings in 1960.

PET DOCTOR
By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Our new house has Japanese grasscloth on the walls. Our 2-year-old cat is shredding this paper. What can we do to keep him from ruining the paper? Judith Cohen, Commack, N.Y.

A. Walls covered with Japanese grasscloth, however beautiful they may be, offer a great temptation to your cat to demonstrate his claw power. You could try to distract him from the walls by giving him plenty of toys.

★ ★ ★

Let him play "Jack the Ripper" on a scratching post. If all else fails, the only course left is to have your veterinarian remove his claws. This operation is done frequently. There is no pain, since complete anesthesia is used.

★ ★ ★

However, it is well to bear in mind that a declawed cat should not be let out of doors, because he has little defense against stray cats and dogs.

90 Courses Offered by WSU Tech Center

Registration is under way for more than 90 courses to be offered this spring by Wayne State University's Applied Management-Technology Center. Classes will be held in Oak Park Center Line and Redford Township.

The semester begins Feb. 7.

It is the first time courses have been offered at Oak Park High School. Students may enroll in person at the center on the WSU campus or by mail.

The fee for most courses is $30. Classes also will be offered at the Chrysler Corp. Traning Center in Center Line and Lee Thurston High School in Redford.

Some of the new courses include basic principles of management, sound incentive systems, basic body drafting-geometric projection, industrial sales management, problems of managing a small business, inventory management, transportation law and electrical circuitry and components.

For enrollment forms or additional information call the center.

White House Reporters Are Relieved at Reprieve by President

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy has decided none too soon to revert to old-style press conferences, or at least to try them on for "new frontier" size.

JKF showed courage in being willing to face the press at "live" telecasts, and to risk talking over reporters' heads to Allies and cold war enemies abroad on a direct quotation basis.

The "hit" show was great for stay-at-home viewers, too, but the new prexy was suddenly face-to-face with two crucial problems: He was in danger of losing his visible audience, except for a few prima donna show-offs, and he was about to cause technological unemployment.

The live audience had fallen off by nearly 40 customers from his first to his second conference. Temporary screens were moved forward in the vast new State Department auditorium to shield the empty seats from the televiewers.

SEVERAL REASONS

After the novelty of a new president holding a new type of forum had worn off still further, the attending reporters would probably have dropped in half. The reasons for this were several:

* * *

For one thing, acoustics in the cavernous chamber are such that reporters can hear the questions and answers far better through a television set than while seated in the room.

For another, the extravagant new State Department building is in an out-of-the-way section of Foggy Bottom which cab drivers seem not yet to have discovered.

* * *

On one of the coldest days of the year, this correspondent and others plodded through a snow storm for nine blocks before coming within hailing distance of an empty cab.

* * *

The old treaty room next door to the White House, where conferences used to be held, was located only a couple of blocks from nearly all news bureaus; the new building is so far distant that, while a mile hike may be good for him, it consumes valuable time for a reporter on a deadline.

Even more serious is the "technological unemployment" aspect of live-broadcast press conferences. Since the founding of the great wire services — Associated Press, United Press and the late Iamented International News Service—many by-lines have become familiar household words through the writers' brilliant and rapid-fire coverage of presidential news conferences.

IT WAS FIERCE

The competition was tangy and full of zest. So jealously did wire service reporters guard their prerogatives that the distance from their aisle seats to their private telephone booths in the outside corridor was meticulously measured to insure than the competitor had no one-inch advantage for the sprint.

The moment that a conference ended with the familiar "Thank you, Mr. President," the reporters dashed for the phones and began bellowing: "Bulletin. The President today disclosed that . . ."

* * *

If by two seconds a UPI story beat an AP story onto the teletype machines and into newspaper offices across the land, that was the one that the on-deadline editors would use for the lead story of the day. The by-line went with it, and so did the prestige.

How sad have been the Kennedy conference by contrast! By sheer force of habit, the AP and UPI reporters still race for their telephones, but instead of a desk man breathlessly poised to take the lead bulletins from the White House correspondents, a bored voice comes on and drawls: "Yah, yah—we've had that lead on the wires for a half-hour."

The disheartened reporters suggest another lead, but the pitiless voice twangs: "Sure, sure, we used that 15 minutes ago."

The White House correspondents were so much excess baggage. Desk men had covered the conference from a television set in the office. The competition was gone, and so were the famed by-lines.

Now President Kennedy is bringing back the old days, at least for the next two weeks. Live broadcasts are not to be permitted. Some say it's like a reprieve. . . .

HARDY CHRISTIANS — A 3-inch sheet of ice and 20-degree cold did not deter a band of Free Will Baptists of Ironton, Ohio, Woodland Chapel from holding outdoor baptismal service following a revival meeting. A heavy ax was used to chop a pool in Storm's Creek, then 15 shivering converts were immersed. Here Evangelist Calvin Evans (right) and the church's pastor, the Rev. Bill Kearns, baptize a woman.

Keeps European Title

DORTMUND, Germany (UPI)—Erich Schoeppner of Germany retained his European light heavyweight boxing title Sunday night by stopping Paul Roux of France in the 13th round of a scheduled 15-rounder.

New York DA to Join Hunt

On Trail of Kennedy Kin

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Patricia Kennedy Lawford's apparent refusal to file a requested robbery complaint needed to prosecute four suspected hotel thieves will be brought to the formal attention of the New York district attorney's office today, a police official said.

The President's sister, wife of actor Peter Lawford, was sought by city detectives most of last week but did not make herself available.

Police said they contacted her business agents "several times" and knew she was staying somewhere in New York.

The four suspects — all Canadians — have been linked to the theft of $31,000 in jewels and cash from Mrs. Lawford's New York hotel suite three weeks ago, as well as a string of similar hotel break-ins across the United States and Canada.

Plunge Into Dispute Over Featherbedding

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A special White House commission began efforts today to settle a bitter dispute over proposals by the nation's railroads to end alleged "featherbedding" by train crews.

But the first issue before the 15-man commission concerned the status of its chairman, former Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell.

Some railroad officials have questioned whether Mitchell should continue to head the panel in view of the announcement that he would seek the Republican nomination for governor in New Jersey.

Mitchell, who has stated that he saw no conflict in his dual role, has said he would resign as chairman if other commission members objected.

Confiscated Warehouse Gutted by Fire in Havana

* * *

The two-story structure was American-owned until the government nationalized the tobacco industry last September.

Firemen brought the blaze swiftly under control. Cause of the fire was not known immediately.

Fairly Active Market Slips

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .50 at 236.00 with industrials down 1.30, rails down .40 and utilities up .20.

Losses of most key stocks went from fractions to a point or so. A number of pivotal issues bucked the down trend with gains of about the same size. Some wider moves were made among a group of specialty-situated stocks.

Turnover was considerably below the pace last week with the list achieving its sixth straight weekly gain. The turbulent Friday session marked a kind of climax to the long advance and today the weight was definitely on the downside.

The tone was generally lower for steels, autos, rails, rubbers, non-ferrous metals, chemicals and electrical equipments.

The market had a slight edge to the upside at the start, then faded into irregularity before heading lower.

The market was vulnerable due to its advance which put some averages at historic highs last week.

Layoffs in the auto industry continued to mount and there was no apparent change for the better in the general economic situation.

President Kennedy's message on the gold problem, prior to delivery, caused a degree of uncertainty.

Demand for the stock, which rose 9½ Friday, was due to publicity in a national magazine about the company's new adhesive mortar, reported to have unusual strength.

The stock soared about 13 points today before clipping the gain back to around 5.

Soybeans Futures Push Up Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybean futures led another steady to firm grain futures market today in early transactions on the board of trade with advances running to around three cents a bushel.

At the opening, the extreme gain was five cents on the May delivery but it held only briefly. The fairly active demand was related to stronger markets for soybean oil and soybean meal.

Brokers said the announcement by the government Friday that it will purchase 100 million pounds of refined vegetable oils in the open market for contribution to overseas welfare agencies in the food for peace program.

Snow and Sleet Skid Eastward

Storm Swirling Away From Missouri, Texas Into Ohio Valley

From Our News Wires

From Eastern Oklahoma across Arkansas and Missouri into the Ohio Valley and Tennessee, weather stations warned of heavy snow, sleet and more of the rain that drenched Southeastern Texas Sunday.

Another high pressure center in Indiana signaled snows in Illinois, Southern Wisconsin and Southeastern Minnesota with up to 3 inches expected in Eastern Iowa.

The storm dumped a foot of snow in the Texas Panhandle and brewed a rare winter tornado.

A Panhandle cattleman died of exposure in 15 degree weather after his truck stalled in a snowbank. Three freight trains were derailed in the snow-covered Panhandle plains and rain-slicked and ice-covered highways were factors in several highway deaths.

The tornado hit the Four Bluff area near Corpus Christi Sunday morning but damage was light.

Rains up to three inches sent small streams in Central and South Texas out of their banks.

Snow continued falling early today as far south as Dallas, Junction, Abilene and Midland with rains reported in a number of other sections of the state.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Chicago said the storm would gather force as it moves slowly toward the East Coast, where major cities are cleaning up from last week's fifth major weather onslaught of the season.

A count showed at least 107 persons in 22 states died last week of weather-blamed causes including over-exertion and exposure.

Busy Session Slated for State Legislature

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan legislature begins what may be its busiest week so far in the 1961 session when both houses convene tonight at 8 p.m.

Attention is expected to focus mainly on introduction of bills and committee work for this entire week.

Last week's session was cut short when lawmakers adjourned to attend Democratic and Republican conventions in Grand Rapids and Detroit, and the week before that was taken up with a senatorial recount in the Upper Peninsula.

Wilder of 'Apartment' Named Director of Year

Other directors honored Saturday night by the Directors Guild of America were Alfred Hitchcock for "Psycho," Richard Brooks for "Elmer Gantry," Jack Cardiff for "Sons and Lovers" and Fred Zinneman for "The Sundowners."

Thompson to See JFK

MOSCOW (UPI) — U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson, completing his second assignment in Moscow, flies to Washington Tuesday for his first personal report to President Kennedy.

REMODELING COMPLETED — Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home has been more than doubled in size with the completion of its remodeling. A three-story house next door was taken, built around and attached to the existing structure. A further addition was put on the back, and the front exterior remodeled. The building is now blue-gray with white trim and wrought iron columns. Bundy Construction Co. of Pontiac did the building. Joseph Dwersky of Birmingham was the architect.

9 Ambassadors Resign so Jack Can Fill Posts

This means that Kennedy will be naming new envoys to replace those resigning.

★ ★ ★

The President accepted these resignations: John Davis Lodge as ambassador to Spain; Scott McLeod, Ireland; William A. M. Burden, Belgium; Homer M. Byington, Malaya; Edward J. Sparks, Venezuela; A. Burks Summers, Luxembourg; Harry F. Stimpson Jr., Paraguay; Thomas E. Whelan, Nicaragua; and Whiting Willauer, Costa Rica.

Waterford Gas Station Burglarized Saturday

Sometime Saturday night the Lackie & Bigsby gasoline station at 45 S. Telegraph Road, Waterford Township was broken into and tires and tubes valued at $144 was stolen, according to township police.

Patrolmen on routine duty at 4:30 a.m. yesterday, discovered a smashed rear building window and notified the owner Clarence Lackie of 2570 Middlebelt Road. Entrance was gained when thieves reached through the broken window and unlocked it from the inside.

Reverses Dismissal of S-P Merger Suit

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, today reversed a District Court decision which had dismissed a suit brought against the Studebaker-Packard Corp. in a fight over proxies voted in a Studebaker-Packard merger with the Curtiss-Wright Corp.

★ ★ ★

The suit had claimed proxies were obtained by false and misleading methods and that the voting of them cause "waste and dissipation" of Studebaker-Packard assets.

★ ★ ★

In reversing U.S. District Judge Arthur F. Lederle of Detroit, the appeals court held, however, that while the federal courts have the authority to rule on the validity of the proxies they do not have the authority to rescind the results of the election. That, the appeals court said, is a matter for state courts in Michigan.

Say Sputnik Sounds May Be Human

TURIN, Italy (UPI)—A group of Italian scientists said today that sounds resembling breathing and heartbeats recorded here, apparently from somewhere in space, could have come from a man.

★ ★ ★

The scientists, led by space flight expert Prof. Schille Dogliotti, made a phono-cardiogram from the tape-recorded "heartbeats" heard last Thursday and Sunday by two Turin ham radio operators.

★ ★ ★

The scientists' announcement agreed with the radio operators' claim that they monitored sounds from a new, unannounced Soviet Sputnik that may be carrying a living being—possibly a man.

★ ★ ★

Dogliotti's statement said some sounds monitored by Achille and Giambatista Judica-Cordiglia "can be likely attributed to a human voice which was deeply changed, distorted and dephased by physical-mechanic factors."

NEW BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY

International Company with over 200 offices that furnish temporary office, industrial and technical workers desires representation in Pontiac. We offer an "Associate" program, that must be operated in conjunction with an established business. We bear all costs with the exception of office space, personnel and local telephone. This is not a "Get-Rich-Quick" scheme but a long range program. Your local promotional efforts are backed up by national advertising, direct mail, sales leads from Home Office and other offices. We supply complete know-how, comprehensive Home Office training and continual monthly direction. Local visitations made by our field personnel. Your growth is based on repeat business.
We will expect the same complete investigation to be made, that we will make of you. Personal inspection of any of our offices will be arranged. Write giving complete details of your present business to:

4, Possibly 5, Die in Traffic

State Weekend Count Includes Body Found on Road Near Port Huron

By The Associated Press

Weekend traffic in Michigan killed at least four persons. Police still sought today to determine whether a fifth was a traffic fatality.

Mrs. Annie Akiewenzie, 58, of Port Huron, was found dead on a road near Port Huron Sunday. Police said a Kimball Township woman thought she had run over a body in the road. Later, a Port Huron man said Mrs. Akiewenzie had jumped from his car as he drove along the road.

The Associated Press count started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Deaths included:

Robert A. Kryderman, 33, of Millington, who was killed Sunday when his auto hit a tree alongside M15 in Vassar Township in Tuscola County.

A Rochester boy, Lynn Schonebeck, 9, was struck and killed Saturday night when he dashed in front of an auto near his home.

An auto skidded on an icy street and hit a tree in Jackson Saturday, killing Merele T. Masqueiler, 28.

Ike, Mamie Depart for Sunny Cal

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Dwight and Mamie Eisenhower put Pennsylvania's severe winter behind them and headed for California today.

The former president and his wife left this state capital by train for Palm Springs where they will stay at the exclusive El Dorado Golf Club, probably for two months.

"I am going out to get a little sunshine," a beaming Eisenhower said.

The party, which includes several members of the former president's staff, is due in California Wednesday morning. The vacation-bound travelers are riding in two private railroad cars, equipped with dining facilities, supplied by Ernest March, president of the Santa Fe Railroad.

Clarkston Motorist Breaks Leg in Crash

Toboggan Slide, Skating Rinks Busy on Weekend

Despite afternoon thaws, Pontiac winter sports areas were busy over the weekend, the Parks & Recreation Department reported.

Ice deteriorated slightly on most of the rinks and the glaze was thawed off of the Murphy Park tobaggon slide.

But more than 500 persons used the Murphy Park sled run yesterday and another 250-300 showed up at skating rinks, city attendants said.

Heat From FBI Causes Man to Surrender

Cole escaped from a prison camp at Fort Myers, Fla., last Aug. 6 with six other prisoners. He was serving a life sentence for armed robbery.

Cole was put on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals last Thursday.

Today he telephoned an FBI agent at Pensacola, Fla., to say the "heat" of the FBI pursuit made further flight useless. The FBI quoted Cole, after he gave himself up, as saying "I'm glad it's all over with."

Retiree Association to Meet on Wednesday

Pontiac Chapter No. 7 of the American Association of Retired Persons will meet at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Community Service Building, 132 Franklin Blvd.

In Saturday's Pontiac Press the day of the meeting was inadvertantly listed as Tuesday.

Hard to Flee That Conflict of Interest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy has found out that it's hard for a U.S. President to employ his economic powers without affecting the value of his personal investments.

★ ★ ★

An economic message which Kennedy sent to Congress last Thursday prompted an unusually fast upward spurt in the price of U.S. government bonds.

★ ★ ★

Before assuming the presidency, Kennedy sold all of his personally held stocks and securities to avoid any possible financial conflict of interest.

★ ★ ★

He reinvested all of the proceeds in government bonds — federal, state and municipal. Published estimates of the value of his bond holdings have ranged from $500,000 to $3 million.

★ ★ ★

In his economic message, Kennedy said lower long-term interest rates were required to stimulate housing construction and the economy, and an increase in short-term rates was needed to retard the flow of gold from the United States.

★ ★ ★

He expressed confidence that these goals would be achieved with cooperation of pertinent government agencies.

★ ★ ★

Traders in government bonds apparently agreed. When the market closed Friday, U.S. government bonds of medium and long-term maturity were selling at prices that ranged from ½ of 1 per cent to 1 per cent above the price when the market closed Wednesday.

Guerrillas Attack Laos Army Convoy

★ ★ ★

The Army canceled a second convoy which was scheduled to leave here for Muong Kassy, site of the rear headquarters of a column that drove from Vientiane to Sala Phou Khoun.

Government forces have been bogged down by a shortage of gasoline in their drive on the rebel-held Plain of Jars with its strategic airfields.

Buck NAACP Because Schools Overcrowded

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Negroes who bucked the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to vote for a new segregated elementary school said they did so because of the problem of overcrowded schools.

Negroes in Sussex County, Delaware's southernmost county, voted 441 to 19 in favor of construction of a $543,000 school which must be segregated under state law, state officials reported. About 40 per cent of the eligible Negro voters were represented.

The NAACP had called for a "no" vote on the ground that construction would entrench segregation.

The school will have 367 pupils who now attend four schools which will be closed.

2 Area Men Receive Insurance Awards

Karl M. Fremuth of 592 Woodland St., Birmingham, and Harold J. Schenck of 6190 Old Orchard Drive, Bloomfield Township, received awards recently from the Leading Producers Roundtable of the International Association of Health Underwriters.

Both men are general agents for the American Medical-Hospital Benefit and the American Community Mutual Insurance Co. of Plymouth.

Fremuth is Birmingham general agent, Schenck, Allen Park general agent, also was recognized as a member of the newly created sales advisory committee of selected agents of the companion companies.

William J. DeGrace of the W. J. DeGrace Co., 2113 Yorkshire, Birmingham, spoke to the top representatives of the companies on public relations during the presentation sales conference held in Plymouth.

Oliver Spencer of 2460 Buckingham St., Birmingham, a sales representative and member of the Detroit Lions, also was on hand.

Woman Is Honored for Living Up to Name

LEEDS, England (UPI) — Mrs. Kitty Brushwood was awarded the British Empire Medal Sunday at a full dress royal army parade led by a general.

Mrs. Brushwood was honored for her 33 years' service as a scrubwoman in the local army barracks.

Hodges Asks Production Hike

Challenges Labor and Management to Meet Foreign Competition

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges has challenged labor and management to increase productivity to help U.S. industry compete with more efficient foreign businesses.

★ ★ ★

Hodges said some free world nations — notably Japan and West Germany — were "running rings" around the United States in modern production methods in some fields.

★ ★ ★

As a result, he said Sunday night in a television interview, U.S. firms already have been priced out of the export markets for such items as soft goods and electronics components.

To reverse this, he said he is "going to challenge labor for cutting out featherbedding and restrictive practices of other kinds, and doing a better job of productivity."

Hodges said he had this advice for labor: "You have some leaders and you have some people who are simply trying to get all they can for themselves and, their own groups without any regard for the good of the country."

He said that it was time labor cut out restrictive practices, and time that management cut out "undue practices of their own, or extraordinary profits while people are suffering elsewhere."

Watchdog Gets the Good and Bad Guys Mixed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Eric, a big black Doberman-Pinscher assigned to guard a trucking firm here, is in the doghouse. He seems unable to tell good guys from bad.

Burglars broke into A. L. Learner's trucking office while Eric was on duty Saturday night. They opened the safe with an acetylene torch and downed some of Learner's scotch before making off with an undetermined amount of money.

Eric must have taken a shine to the burglars. But he was a tiger when police came to investigate the theft Sunday morning.

Frank W. McCulloch Chairman of NLRB

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank W. McCulloch, administrative assistant to Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., has been chosen by President Kennedy to be chairman of the National Labor Relations Board.

★ ★ ★

"It's a terrific challenge and a great honor," McCulloch said when his nomination was announced Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

McCulloch replaces Boyd Leedom as chairman of the NLRB. Leedom, an Eisenhower appointee, will remain on the board. The recess appointment by Eisenhower of Arthur Kimball to a place on the board was withdrawn to make room for McCulloch. The chairmanship pays $20,500 a year.

Youth, 18, Bats Patrolman's Eye; to Be Sentenced

They arrived to find a heated argument in progress between the youth and his mother, Mrs. Mary Tuttle.

As for Davison, he was treated for the shiner at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Buenos Aires Voters Slap Down Frondizi

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Buenos Aires voters have defeated President Arturo Frondizi's senatorial candidate, favoring men from two other parties and killing Frondizi's hopes for a prestige showing.

★ ★ ★

The president's great majority in Congress remains unaffected, but Frondizi had hoped that victory for his choice in Buenos Aires' election would be a sign the people accept the government's austerity policies.

In Memoriam

IN MEMORY OF JERRY CONrad, who passed away February 6, 1960.
His memories are as dear today.
As in hours he passed away.
Sadly missed by mother, father and sister, Connie.

IN MEMORY OF WALTER A. Shafer, 217 Husband who passed away 2 years ago today. Do not ask me how I miss him for there is such a vacant place. Often I think I hear his footsteps or see his calling face. For no love was ever brokenhearted. Friends may think the wound is healed but they so little know the sorrow that is in my heart concealed. Sadly missed by his wife, Ruth Shafer.

Crackdown Is Ordered on Drivers

A crackdown on traffic violators in Oakland County was ordered today by Sheriff Frank Irons.

He instructed his deputies to issue more traffic tickets, particularly in certain high-accident areas where negligence has been a major cause.

These areas were revealed Saturday in an accident survey for January conducted by Sheriff's Capt. Leo Hazen.

There were 162 traffic accidents investigated by deputies last month, as compared to 130 for the same period in 1959.

* * *

Most of these were caused by excessive speed, according to Capt. Hazen. He explained that this does not mean necessarily that drivers were exceeding the legal speed limit, but were driving too fast for prevailing road conditions.

Sheriff Irons ordered deputies on patrol to be more alert for drivers failing to proceed with due caution and to ticket them for reckless driving.

* * *

According to the survey, the county's worst accident areas are Walton Boulevard, between Pontiac and Rochester, where seven accidents occurred in January; Commerce Road in Commerce Township (8 accidents last month); between Pontiac and Oxford (8 accidents); W. Maple Road, from Orchard Lake Road to Walled Lake (5 accidents); and M59 (10 accidents west of Pontiac and seven east of the city.)

Deputies issued 220 traffic tickets last month.

Employes Decide to Take Pay Cut

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Company and union officials today hailed the action of Bailey Co. Department Store employes, who voted to pass up a previously negotiated $3.50 weekly increase in wages and benefits.

* * *

Union members in five Bailey stores voted on the company proposal Sunday. The company figures it will save $110,000 a year by the unusual action.

* * *

For the 800 sales clerks, office workers, elevator operators and porters at Cleveland's only organized department store the alternative was a possible cut in many jobs.

New Party Chairmen, Candidate Slates Picked

Con-Con Turnabout at Party Conventions

DETROIT (UPI)—New party chairmen, slates of candidates for the April 3 election and a turnabout on constitutional convention were the fruits of weekend labors ffor Michigan Republicans and Democrats.

George M. Van Peursem, a conservative-backed former speaker of the State House of Representatives, was picked as chairman of the GOP State Central Committee after a three-way struggle Friday and Saturday at the biennial spring convention in Detroit.

Democrats, who met in Grand Rapids, voted in J. Joseph Collins, the hand-picked choice of Gov. John B. Swainson, as party chairman.

* * *

There were no surprises in either party in the candidates for highway commissioner, two positions on the State Supreme Court and seven spots on educational governing boards.

DIFFERENT STORY

But it was a different story on con-con.

Democrats went on record favoring a "yes" vote on whether to call a convention to revise Michigan's 1908 basic law in April, but Republicans noted only that they expected the con-con to be approved.

Swainson opposed measures to ease the way to con-con which were on the ballot last Nov. 8, though not all Democrats joined him in the position.

Paul D. Bagwell, the unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor, campaigned actively for con-con, and the GOP platform went along with him.

MOST DRAMATIC

By far the most dramatic event in either convention was Van Peursem's surge to leadership of Republicans.

The new chairman, who resigned the legislature shortly after being elected to a fifth term in the 1958 election, did not even announce as a candidate until five days before the convention opened.

It would be hard to tag Van Peursem with the conservative label, but he was looked to as the only candidate for chairman who could unite the State Central Committee and the legislature.

* * *

Van Peursem and his two opponents were neck-and-neck through Friday when appearances before congressional district caucuses by all three lasted far into the early morning hours.

A fourth candidate, Ypsilanti attorney Gordon Gable, withdrew early Saturday and his support went to Van Peursem.

An open fight for the chairmanship on the convention floor threatened until just before the voting was to begin, when Stiles and McIntosh met in a washroom, the only private place available, and then sought out Van Peursem to throw him their support.

State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, Pontiac, engineered a swing of the big Oakland County delegation to Van Peursem which triggered the ex-lawmaker's win.

He was nominated by McIntosh and elected by acclamation.

State Election Candidates

These are the Republican and Democratic candidates for the April 3 state elections:

	REPUBLICAN	DEMOCRATIC
Highway Comm.	Charles R. Bedwell	John C. Mackie
Supt. of Public Instruction	Hugh H. Holloway	Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett
State Supreme Court	John R. Dethmers	Ernest Boehm
	Harry F. Kelley	James H. M'Laughlin
WSU Board of Governors	Thomas B. Adams	Dr. De Witt Burton
	Charles E. Brake	Ralph E. Richman
State Board of Education	Charles A. Rogers	Frank Hartman
U. of M. Board of Regents	James C. Zeder	Allan R. Sorenson
	Paul G. Goebel	Theodore Sachs
MSU Board of Trustees	John S. Pingel	C. Allen Harlan
	Fred England Jr.	Connor D. Smith

Earl Gets Rough Time at Broadway Banquet

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Those Broadway murderers really butchered me at the March of Dimes dinner allegedly "honoring" the wife and me on our 25th anniversary.

Jan Murray protested to a dais that included Ethel Merman, Zsa Zsa Gabor and Carol Channing that "Man of the Year" dinners are fixed.

"They gave Wilson a dinner, while Dr. Jonas Salk eats pork and beans in a cafeteria," he exclaimed, bitterly. Comedienne Jean Carroll said, though, that she was happy to be there—"it means I didn't have to cook tonight."

WILSON

"I hadda be here," grumbled Jimmy Durante, on stage in the Astor grand ballroom, which somebody said was decorated like Sophie Tucker's bloomers. "Udderwise Wilson ain't gonna say I'm a hit at duh Copacabanuh!"

Ed Sullivan in a sweet speech said I'd made no enemies, that "Nice guys finish first."

Joey Adams, the AGVA prez who chairmaned the fund-raising event and was toastmaster, inquired whether columnists are newspapermen. He claimed that Arthur Brisbane, when asked that, said, "Would you call a barnacle a ship?"

Marty Allen and Steve Rossi then put me in my place with a supposed "interview" with me: Q—"What do you have on when you go to bed? A—"The Jack Paar Show." Q— "We understand you were responsible for Jack being a big success. In what way?" A— "I did the 'America After Dark' show that preceded him."

* * *

Personally I felt the wife stole the show with a little poem: "Oh, tis easy to be gay and pleasant/ With a lass and a glass and a song/ But the man worthwhile/ Is the man who can smile/ When he takes his old lady along."!

Police Pursue Spry Oldster

72-Year-Old Keeps Ahead of Law by Failing to Appear in Court

Officers arrested Charles Miller, 192 Luther St., Thursday for failure to appear in court or pay a speeding ticket.

At the time, they found number slips on him.

Miller paid his speeding ticket of $15 — plus $5 because it was overdue.

Miller was then taken before Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCallum on a charge of possessing the slips.

He pleaded guilty.

The judge ordered him to return the next day for sentencing.

He failed to appear, and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

Police were back at the same old stand. They were still searching for him today.

Theft of Safe Nets Only $2

Hardworking Burglars in Clarkston Get Little in Return for Efforts

Burglars who stole a safe from the Clarkston Cafe, 18 Main St., Clarkston, yesterday probably received a surprise.

According to cafe owner, Robert Parker, the 100-pound safe contained only about $2 in change, his bank book, and insurance papers.

The thieves obviously had rolled the safe on wheels out the rear door and lifted it into a car or truck.

Patrolling sheriff's deputies discovered the theft when they noticed a rear window in the cafe left open.

Patrolling deputies also found a break-in at Jay's Bar in Commerce Township early this morning when they heard the burglar alarm ringing.

Thieves had cut a hole through the roof of the bar at 363 Commerce Road to avoid sounding the alarm, but accidentally tripped it once inside the building.

They still managed to escape with $140 in change from coin machines and several bottles of liquor however.

Sheriff's detectives were investigating both cases today.

Insurance Hike Arguments Set for Cobo Hall

DETROIT (UPI) — Doctors, lawyers, educators and union men are among interested parties scheduled to argue for or against a boost in Blue Cross-Blue Shield hospitalization and medical insurance rates at a hearing Tuesday in Cobo Hall.

Another hearing on the premium hikes asked by Michigan Hospital Service (Blue Cross) and Michigan Medical Service (Blue Shield) has been scheduled Feb. 15 in Grand Rapids.

Blue Cross has asked for a 22 per cent hike in its rates and Blue Shield wants a 13.5 per cent increase.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Silver is following the flight of gold to Europe. Buyers in London are offering a price equal to nearly 93 cents an ounce compared with little more than 91 cents in this country.

Avalanches Kill 37 as Thaw Settles on Alps

ROME (AP)—Sunny, springlike weather coming after snowstorms has brought great masses of snow tumbling down from the high peaks in the Alps. Highways and railroads are blocked, mountain villages isolated and at least 37 persons were killed.

* * *

Many tons of snow smashed down upon the tiny village of Rochemolles, 6,100 feet up on Mt. Mellisse on the Italian-French border.

* * *

Sixty miles to the east, an estimated 10 million cubic feet of snow roared down the side of Great San Bernard Mountain.

"Bughouse Square" is the name of a small park in Chicago, situated on land given to the city with the stipulation that it was to be a place of free speech.

Critical Areas Top the News for Rusk Today

Reporters Hope to Hear Plans for Congo and Latin America

WASHINGTON (AP) Secretary of State Dean Rusk disclosed today that administration disarmament experts are studying the problem of whether and how Communist China can be brought into proposed disarmament schemes.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk was expected today to explain how President Kennedy plans to direct American foreign policy in critical areas.

The secretary, holding his first news conference since taking office Jan. 21, was reported prepared to disclose U.S. support for a broad new approach to the Congo crisis.

Diplomatic sources said Rusk also probably would explain the basic philosophy which will govern the Kennedy administration's approach toward the problems of Latin America.

The question of a possible meeting between Kennedy and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was almost certain to be raised. Laos, Cuba, nuclear testing, and disarmament were among the other issues likely to come up.

WHAT TOPICS?

Rusk conferred with Kennedy at the White House Sunday for an hour and 20 minutes. Informants said they went over, among other things, subjects expected to come up at the news conference.

★ ★ ★

Officials would not predict how many details of the new Congo plan Rusk would reveal because the reactions of all interested nations have not been received.

However, the plan in general calls for:

— Big power agreement to support the United Nations in "neutralization" of the five warring military forces in the Congo and freeing of all political prisoners, including former Premier Patrice Lumumba.

FIFTH-AVENUE FROLIC — A couple rides up New York's snowy Fifth Avenue Sunday in a horse-drawn sleigh, thereby avoiding Mayor Robert Wagner's ban on nonemergency motor vehicles moving within the city limits. The ban continues today as work crews struggle to clear the streets of almost 18 inches of snow.

Traffic Still Banned by Mayor

New York Struggles to Dig Out

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK—The nation's largest city today struggled from under remnants of its worst snow storm in 13 years.

The massive storm which struck the Northeast late Friday cast 17.4 inches of crippling snow over the metropolitan area, clogging streets, grounding air traffic, disrupting rail and bus transportation and causing untold distress.

The storm, the fifth to hit the city this winter and the worst since 1947, came at a time when the greatest number of the city's eight million persons were at home for the weekend.

Most went back to work today, many of them muscle-weary from shoveling. They were jammed in subway cars and buses in even greater numbers because of an emergency order banning use in the city of private vehicles.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced the ban on all non-essential motor traffic Saturday, after thousands of private vehicles became stalled and were abandoned, in some cases blocking off complete sections of the city.

Wagner said, "It is my expectation that by Tuesday we will be able to open our streets for commercial deliveries, but not for private cars."

Police enforced the order, handing out more than 220 summonses Sunday night. Drivers coming in from New Jersey and other areas adjacent to the city were met at entrances to the city and ordered back unless they could prove they had emergency business here.

AIRPORTS OPEN

La Guardia Field and Idlewild Airport and nearby Newark (N. J.) Airport resumed operations Sunday night. All were closed tight Friday night. It was estimated that 2,650 flights involving 183,000 passengers were canceled at Idlewild and La Guardia during the shutdown.

Suburban communities in New Jersey and Upstate New York declared similar emergency measures. Main roads were closed to normal traffic so buses, ambulances and other key vehicles could get through.

New England grappled with clearing up 15-foot drifts and ice-choked harbors and waterways that trapped at least one tanker bound for Vineyard Haven, Mass., to resupply the island via the Cape Cod Canal.

A plow bulldozer began clearing a path about a mile off a Connecticut road to reach a clergyman, a scout leader and six boy scouts stranded in a cabin near Woodbury.

Their plight became known when they called for help over a portable radio transmitter, but said they had enough food and logs to burn for warmth.

Urges Limiting Exempt Foreign Spending to $100

President Asks Slash to Ease the Drain on U. S. Gold Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today asked Congress to cut sharply the amount of foreign goods which American tourists can bring back to the United States without paying customs duties.

Kennedy proposed that the present $500 maximum be slashed to $100 in order to discourage tourists from buying costly souvenirs with dollars which foreigners could use to purchase American gold.

This was the most dramatic recommendation made by Kennedy in a 4,500-word special message on the gold problem which Kennedy said "justifies concern but not panic or alarm."

While the President had been expected to make a request of this sort, some were surprised by the extent of the proposed cut in the customs exemption.

The move was certain to cause concern in some countries, particularly Canada which entertains more American tourists than any other nation but which normally doesn't buy U.S. gold.

Most other major proposals represented attempts to place new emphasis on policies adopted earlier by the Eisenhower administration. For example, Kennedy promised new efforts to expand exports, attract foreign tourists, limit military spending abroad and channel foreign-aid dollars to American businessmen.

HIGH INTEREST RATE

One new idea: that Congress permit banks to pay foreign governments and central banks a higher rate of interest than Americans receive on savings accounts. The maximum rate now is three per cent.

Kennedy said action along this

Westinghouse, GE Fined $40,000 in Antitrust Suit

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Westinghouse and General Electric, the nation's biggest electrical products makers were fined $40,000 each today on the first of 19 counts of bid rigging and price fixing in violation of a federal antitrust law.

Chief Judge J. Cullen Ganey, in a presentencing statement, called the case a "shocking indictment of a vast segment of our economy." He said the defendants—the nation's biggest manufacturers of heavy electrical equipment — "mocked the image" of the nation's free enterprise sytem.

The judge said those who guided the companies "bear a grave responsibility for what happened. Accordingly, heavy fines will be imposed on the companies."

As for the individual defendants, Ganey said he would impose jail terms only on those responsible for corporation policy.

General Electric, like Westinghouse, was fined $40,000 on the first count of the indictment — involving the sale of power transformers.

Allis Chalmer Manufacturing Co. received a $25,000 fine on the same count.

Before sentencing began in the power transformer count, the government stated what it thought the fines and prison terms should be.

It recommended $50,000 fines

Harriett Phillips Winner

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

SMILE OF VICTORY—Mrs. Harriett Phillips (right) of Huntington Woods, flashes a victory smile as she is congratulated Saturday after being elected new vice chairman of the Michigan Democratic Party. First to wish her well at the state convention in Grand Rapids was Adelaide Hart, who is retiring as vice chairman. In background is former State Chairman Neil Staebler applauding Mrs. Phillips' acceptance speech.

Oakland Strong at Conventions

Oakland County's 149-vote delegation held the ace card as three candidates for Republican state chairman wheeled and dealed for votes at the state convention which closed in Detroit Saturday.

Former speaker of the House George M. Van Peursem, Zeeland attorney, came out on top with the $21,000-a-year job when the two other candidates withdrew. An 11th hour try to place John A. Gibbs, executive secretary of the county committee, fizzled before it began when a survey of other congressional districts showed no appreciable strength.

Oakland did, however, land three area men — one a veteran jurist and two political newcomers — on the GOP slate of 11 candidates who will go against Democrats in the April 3 election.

★ ★ ★

Unopposed for one of two University of Michigan Board of Regents spots was James C. Zeder of Bloomfield Hills, former director and vice president of Chrysler Corp.

Thomas B. Adams, 41, president of the Campbell-Ewald advertising agency and a resident of Bloomfield Hills, captured one of two Wayne State University Board of Governors nominations.

Before the two-day convention even began, Supreme Court Justice and former Governor Harry F. Kelly was assured of nomination for another term. Kelly lives in Birmingham.

BEGINS TO ACT

Van Peursem today began taking over the reins from former State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer amid some cries that the party has been returned to the so-called old guard conservative element once directed by Arthur Summerfield, postmaster general under former President Eisenhower.

Van Peursem moved quickly to assure delegates that he will follow a "moderate and progressive" course.

Most of the delegates still were weighing the merits of other candidates — John R. Stiles of Grand Rapids and Robert J. McIntosh, former congressman from Port Huron — when the Oakland delegation emerged from a caucus and announced it would go "about 90 per cent" for Van Peursem. This, observers said, sewed it up for Van Peursem.

Others in the delegation favored Stiles.

Captaining the Van Peursem campaign, along with other members of the legislature, was Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County.

Chad M. Ritchie, former county chairman and now treasurer, was in Van Peursem's camp, too.

CON-CON LOSES

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Two candidates from Oakland County were the bait Saturday as a band of dissatisfied Democrats at the state convention in Grand Rapids refused to take Gov. John B. Swainson's prepared slate of nominees sitting down.

At one end of the tug of war for votes was C. Allen Harlan, incumbent on the Michigan State University Board of Trustees from Bloomfield Township, and johnny-come-lately politician Edward C. Pino of Royal Oak, an assistant superintendent of the Lamphere (Madison Heights-Royal Oak) School District.

Emerging unscathed from Swainson's first convention as chief executive was Mrs. Harriett Phillips. She was elected vice chairman of the state party by acclamation and will direct women's activities in the party for the next two years.

Only a few tired delegates — about 10 remained under the 18th District banner — were in their seats in the Civic Auditorium to hear Mrs. Phillips nominated to succeed former Vice Chairman Adelaide Hart. The nomination came from James M. Ginn, Oakland County chairman.

Far from the calm that marked the nomination of most of the Democratic candidates to oppose Republicans on April 3 was the floor fight which Pino waged against Harlan.

Harlan had caused discontent among some Democrats for opposing party policy in voting for higher tuitions at MSU and continuation of ROTC.

Few of the 142 Oakland delegates had heard of Pino, 32, a former campus leader, as his campaign troops marched from caucus to caucus trying to stir up unrest against Harlan, 54, of 3535 N. Adams Road.

The local delegation, however, had pledged its backing to Harlan at the county convention in Pontiac. Some delegates were quietly talking of trying to reverse the endorsement. They never did.

New Sputnik Mystery Even to Muscovites

MOSCOW (UPI)— The status of Russia's new 7.1-ton Sputnik remained a mystery to Muscovites and to the Western World today amid speculation that its task was completed when it was launched.

★ ★ ★

There was no official word on the satellite's whereabouts or its radio frequency since it was put into orbit Saturday.

★ ★ ★

This led observers here to believe that the new Sputnik, man's heaviest object in space, may have served its purpose merely by soaring beyond the pull of gravity, a success for scientists interested primarily in launching a great weight on an "improved multistage rocket."

★ ★ ★

The observers said the world may hear no more about the satellite until it begins dropping back toward the atmosphere and burns up in friction, like a shooting star.

Driver of the car, Edwin N. Cooper, 38, of 326 Baldwin Road, Avon Township, told sheriff's deputies he caught only a glimpse of the youth just before feeling a bump on the right side.

Cooper stopped immediately, but the boy had already died from a broken neck. The driver was not held.

His speed at the point of impact was estimated at 40 miles an hour.

En route to a grocery store near his home, the boy was attempting to cross Auburn Road approximately a quarter mile west of the Rochester Road intersection.

For GM Community Relations

Werner to Head City Committee

Calvin J. Werner, General Motors Corp. vice president and general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division, has been appointed chairman of the GM Pontiac Plant City Committee for 1961.

Gordon also named Frank O. Riley of Birmingham as chairman of the GM Detroit Plant City Committee for 1961. Riley, a former Pontiac president, is general manager of the GM Ternstedt Division.

In a separate move James M. Roche, GM vice president in charge of the distribution staff, today announced the appointment of Eugene D. Foley as manager of the dealer organization department of the sales section.

Chinese Appeal to U.S. for Firmer Policy in Asia

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Nationalist Chinese Foreign Minister Shen Chang-huan urged the United States today to adopt a "more positive policy" in Asia.

In a specific reference to the Laotian situation, he warned that any attempt to set up a coalition government in the strife-torn Southeast Asia kingdom would be "tantamount to surrender by installments" to the Communists.

The foreign minister, in an address at a memorial service honoring the late national leader, Dr. Sun Yat-sen, also struck out at "certain quarters of the United States and some of its European allies" who, he said, were "advocating appeasement in Asia and trying to persuade the new American government to adopt a compromise policy towards the Russian and Chinese Communists."

The Soviet Union converted various countries in Eastern Europe into satellites by means of forming coalition governments first," Shen said.

"If this lesson taught by history is not taken to heart, it will certainly bring greater disaster to the entire free world."

The Nationalist foreign affairs chief said Russia and Red China were "launching a strong offensive in Asia, Africa and Latin America" and added that of the three areas, "Asia is the most urgent and vulnerable."

The Republic of China hopes the United States "will take strong counter-measures to reassure its Asian allies of its continuing support to their resistance against Communist aggression in the Pacific region," he said.

Pino Loses His Bid at Democrat Confab

With the 6th District of Ingham, Genesee and Livingston Counties taking up the Pino banners and nominating Pino, Oakland stuck with the powerful Wayne County delegation to throw the necessary winning votes (1,296-462) to Harlan.

Pino then tried his hand against another incumbent, Dr. Connor D. Smith, who had joined Harlan in the list of the disfavored. Pino again lost.

Pino refused to go along with a compromise move by party leaders who offered him the nomination to the Swainson slate. It was a sure bet for nomination to a state board of education slot.

Earlier, another political unknown, who described himself "as the only legitimate draftee since Stevenson," popped practically out of nowhere and landed on Swainson's "suggested" list of candidates drawn up during an all-night session of party and labor leaders.

Theodore R. Sachs, 32, 10101 Dartmouth St., Oak Park, was nominated for one of two positions on the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

Sachs, who hadn't made his intentions known to his own delegation, is attorney for State AFL-CIO President August (Gus) Scholle, of Royal Oak. He is handling Scholle's lawsuit trying to upset the apportionment of the State Senate.

Tossed in against Sachs was Dr. Thomas E. Barton of Howell, who promised 50-yard-line seats to University of Michigan-MSU football games.

BARTON WITHDRAWS

Dr. Barton was nominated by the 6th District, which had become frustrated in an unsuccessful double bid to win Judge John W. Baker of Flint one of two Supreme Court nominations.

With the votes going heavily for Sachs, Dr. Barton withdrew and urged a unanimous ballot for Sachs. "You're a good sport," murmured retiring State Chairman Neil Staebler to the doctor on the platform.

"We're glad to see you go," Levin said as he stood nose-to-nose with Staebler. "You and your crooked deals. I'm surprised at you." Staebler moved on.

Other delegates quietly bemoaned how the slate was winning. There was laughter from the audience when one delegate nominated a candidate and referred to "this free and open convention."

Snow and Sleet Skid Eastward

Storm Swirling Away From Missouri, Texas Into Ohio Valley

From Our News Wires

★ ★ ★

From Eastern Oklahoma across Arkansas and Missouri into the Ohio Valley and Tennessee, weather stations warned of heavy snow, sleet and more of the rain that drenched Southeastern Texas Sunday.

Another high pressure center in Indiana signaled snows in Illinois, Southern Wisconsin and Southeastern Minnesota with up to 3 inches expected in Eastern Iowa.

Three freight trains were derailed in the snow-covered Panhandle plains and rain-slicked and ice-covered highways were factors in several highway deaths.

RAIN TO 3 INCHES

The tornado hit the Flour Bluff area near Corpus Christi Sunday morning but damage was light.

Rains up to three inches sent small streams in Central and South Texas out of their banks.

Snow continued falling early today as far south as Dallas, Junction, Abilene and Midland with rains reported in a number of other sections of the state.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Chicago said the storm would gather force as it moves slowly toward the East Coast, where major cities are cleaning up from last week's fifth major weather onslaught of the season.

Jack Reveals Plans to End Gold Outflow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here, in brief, are the recommendations made by President Kennedy today to stem the outflow of gold and end the deficit in foreign exchange:

1. Studies of how to strengthen international monetary institutions to increase reserves to support a growing world economy.

2. International Monetary Fund —The United States has never used its right to draw on this fund to meet deficits in the balance of payments; if and when appropriate, this will be done.

3. Amendment of the law to permit setting of special interest rates for dollar holdings here of foreign governments to attract and hold dollar balances which might otherwise be converted into gold.

4. The recent order forbidding the holding of gold abroad by Americans will be maintained.

BETTER BALANCE

5. Senate action to approve the Organization of Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) as a tool for maintaining better balance of payments.

★ ★ ★

6. Promotion of U. S. exports by the Department of Commerce.

7. Efforts to make American goods competitive in price with foreign products.

8. Strengthening the role of the Export-Import Bank to further help American exporters.

9. Promotion of foreign tourist travel to the United States.

10. Expanding exports of U.S. farm products.

11. Maintaining restrictions on foreign economic aid to promote purchase of American goods.

12. Press for removal of remaining foreign restrictions against American exports.

13. Promotion of foreign investment in the United States through the Department of Commerce.

14. Legislation to prevent the abuse of foreign "tax havens" by American investors.

MORE FOREIGN HELP

15. Urge foreign nations to contribute more to assist underdeveloped countries, easing the load on the United States.

★ ★ ★

16. Reduction of the duty-free allowance for American tourists from $500 to $100; duties would be paid by returning tourists on value of goods exceeding $100.

17. Establishment of a centralized review of dollar outlays by the Bureau of the Budget.

18. New methods of reducing dollar outlays for U.S. military missions abroad, to replace the cutback of military dependents abroad, now rescinded.

Tourist Buying Cut Requested by JFK

line "would enable American banks to make a maximum competitive effort to attract and hold dollar balances which might otherwise be converted into gold."

The effect could be significant since the foreign deposits involved total about $3 billion.

Kennedy also said the United States will seek an international review of the free world's monetary system, with the aim of ironing out some kinks. He hinted at possible tax law changes later to discourage some kinds of private American investment in Europe.

Kennedy said there is time to deal with the gold drain "calmly and deliberately" and declared it can be stemmed without erecting trade barriers or hamstringing military and foreign aid programs. He said the first requirement "is to take all possible steps to insure the effective performance of our own economic system."

He described the proposals outlined in his message as supplementary to that aim but said: "They are not for that reason any less important or less urgent."

He promised vigorous action where he has power to act and urged "early consideration and approval" of those measures which are subject to the will of Congress.

Police Pursue Spry Oldster

72-Year-Old Keeps Ahead of Law by Failing to Appear in Court

A 72-year-old man is leading Pontiac police a merry chase.

Officers arrested Charles Miller, 192 Luther St., Thursday for failure to appear in court or pay a speeding ticket.

At the time, they found number slips on him.

Miller paid his speeding ticket of $15 — plus $5 because it was overdue.

★ ★ ★

Miller was then taken before Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCallum on a charge of possessing bet slips.

He pleaded guilty.

The judge ordered him to return the next day for sentencing.

He failed to appear, and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

Auto Plant Layoffs Beginning

DETROIT (AP)—A series of automobile plant layoffs that will affect nearly 80,000 workers started today in an inventory balancing program.

★ ★ ★

Approximately one million new 1961 model cars are unsold on the floors of car dealers. The plant layoffs are an attempt to adjust production against this.

★ ★ ★

A week's layoff started today for 20,000 American Motors Corp. employes in AMC's Wisconsin plants. AMC makes the Rambler car.

★ ★ ★

Next week 45,000 General Motors workers in Michigan and other states will be on furlough.

Ford said it is laying off between 5,000 and 7,000 men this week.

Crackdown Is Ordered on Drivers

A crackdown on traffic violators in Oakland County was ordered today by Sheriff Frank Irons.

He instructed his deputies to issue more traffic tickets, particularly in certain high-accident areas where negligence has been a major cause.

Most of these were caused by excessive speed, according to Capt. Hazen. He explained that this does not mean necessarily that drivers were exceeding the legal speed limit, but were driving too fast for prevailing road conditions.

Sheriff Irons ordered deputies on patrol to be more alert for drivers failing to proceed with due caution and to ticket them for reckless driving.

According to the survey, the county's worst accident areas are Walton Boulevard, between Pontiac and Rochester, where seven accidents occurred in January; Commerce Road in Commerce Township (8 accidents last month); between Pontiac and Oxford (8 accidents); W. Maple Road, from Orchard Lake Road to Walled Lake (5 accidents); and M59 (10 accidents west of Pontiac and seven east of the city.)

Riley was an engineer with Pontiac Motor Division until he joined the Fernstedt Division in 1939. He held many supervisory positions in engineering and sales prior to his appointment as general manager in April 1960.

Foley was with Pontiac Motor Division's Ohio sales staff until 1947, when he came to Pontiac as organization manager for sales. Promoted to manager of sales administration in 1954, he moved to GM's central office in Detroit three years later as assistant manager of dealer organization.

Some of the more liberal members of the party, not altogether satisfied with any of the candidates for Lindemer's job, sought to talk Elliott into the race.

He had been given top contender status for the position before he pulled out last month, saying "the press of personal matters and business" would keep him from being a candidate.

James C. Covert, superintendent of Royal Oak schools, was defeated in his bid for the state board of education nomination by Charles R. Rogers, associate director of the labor and industrial research center at Michigan State University.

Offers Bill for Men to Retire at Age 62

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal to permit men to retire at age 62 with reduced Social Security benefits was advanced today by Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich.

Dingell said a bill he is introducing would alleviate hardship among those already "forced into effective retirement by loss of jobs, recession, health or other cause."

He said its passage "would be of enormous help to large numbers of unemployed facing desperate economic need with no other source of help to which they can turn."

Ike, Nikita Fail as Great Leaders, Claims Monty

LONDON (AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, out with a new book about leadership, indicated Sunday night he feels Soviet Premier Khrushchev and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower both lack essential characteristics of a great leader.

In a television interview recorded before the London critics got to his book, "The Path to Leadership," Montgomery also said President Kennedy "has got the power of decision" and French President Charles de Gaulle "has given France back her soul."

The critics were not happy with the book. Montgomery had been kinder to Khrushchev in his book than on television. And he wrote that Mao Tze-tung is "a great man" who has served Red China well.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission Hearing Set on Improving Two Alleys

BIRMINGHAM — Public hearings on the necessity of improving two alleys will be held tonight by the City Commission.

The proposed projects include paving alleys on both sides of south Woodward Avenue and constructing the necessary drain facilities. The total cost of the projects is $85,400.

On the east side of Woodward the project would take in a six-block stretch from Ruffner to Sheffield. The cost of the improvement is estimated to be $37,700.

Individual assessments will not be computed until after the necessity has been determined and the assessment roll prepared.

Ruth Shain will be the guest speaker Feb. 13 at a dinner-business meeting of the Altrusa Club of Birmingham at the Community House.

On Feb. 27 the club will hold an open meeting to hear an officer from the Nike base speak on the importance of missile sites in national defense.

Mrs. Benjamin Bobisuthi

Mrs. Benjamin (Stephanie) Bobisuthi, 78, of La Grange, Ill., died Sunday while visiting her daughter Mrs. Paul W. Thompson of 17503 Kirkshire Road.

Her body will be at the Manley Baily Funeral Home until 10 p.m. today at which time it will be taken to Chicago for service and burial.

She was a member of the Morgan Park Congregational Church and the Morgan Park Women's Club in Illinois.

Surviving besides Mrs. Thompson is another daughter, Mrs. Fred K. Gartung of La Grange, a son Robert of Le Grange and eight grandchildren.

Ross A. Hutchinson

Service for Ross A. Hutchinson, 81, of 664 Pierce St., will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mr. Hutchinson died Saturday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after a short illness.

A life-long resident of Birmingham, he was a retired tool and die maker. He retired in 1952 after 40 years with the Hubbard Spring Co. of Pontiac.

He was a life member of the Masonic Lodge 44, F&AM, and a member of the Birmingham chapter of the Royal Arch Masons (RAM).

A service conducted under the auspices of Birmingham Lodge 44., F&AM will be held today at 8 p.m. at the funeral home.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Most of the nation between the Plains and the Appalachians will have precipitation tonight with snow in the north and rain in the south. It will be generally fair throughout the rest of the country except for the northwest where there will be snow flurries in the higher elevations and showers in the lower areas. It will be cooler in the Pacific northwest and the southern Plains; warmer just east of the Continental Divide from Canada to Colorado.

His Bike Goes to Court

Professor Gets a Ticket

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — For 27 years, in blizzard and heat, the professor pedaled serenely from home to campus — a dignified familiar figure along the 2¼-mile route.

It was all very cozy and routine. Then the law stepped in. Overnight Professor Malcolm Dole and his bicycle became a cause celebre.

On three separate occasions Professor Dole was confronted at an intersection of Sheridan Road by a young police officer.

The last time they met, on Jan. 20 it went badly for Professor Dole, a silver-haired member of the chemistry department faculty.

"This young officer radioed into the station for a paddy wagon," he related. "When they brought it around, they loaded the bicycle inside, and then me.

In short order, the professor was ticketed for a traffic violation — for having driven down streets zoned exclusively for motor vehicles. He was ordered to appear at a hearing today in Evanston municipal court.

"They treated me," he recalled, "like a child—even though I'm 67 years old and have been driving my bicycle to and from campus for 27 years."

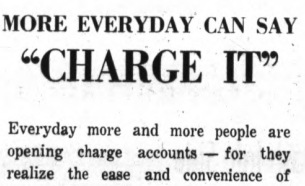
"When I went to church the other day, they called me a hero," Dole told a reporter.



MORE EVERYDAY CAN SAY

"CHARGE IT"

Everyday more and more people are opening charge accounts — for they realize the ease and convenience of being able to say "Charge-It" . . . no fuss with money, no waiting for change, and payments that can be made later. But there's something you should know and remember about that account — all payments should be made on or before the day they are due. Now don't let your charge account suffer through sheer neglect and carelessness. It's hard on your credit record. Don't let a mere oversight on your part cast a reflection on your honest ability to pay. The charge account has come in handy more than once and it will come in very handy in the future, so keep it in good standing.

Xway Link 'Spadework' Near

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Large earth-moving machines were scheduled to road into action sometime this week as the State Highway Department begins work on the first leg of the Walter P. Chrysler Freeway in Oakland County.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie broke ground Jan. 26 with county road officials signaling the beginning of the $75-million project in the county.

Officials of the department attached to the Pontiac regional office said that a contract was awarded last week to S. D. Solomon & Sons of Lansing for a small segment of the first section, that from M15 southeasterly to Baldwin road in Independence Township.

A department spokesman said a lawsuit has "temporarily" held up construction from Walton boulevard to Baldwin road. A hearing was scheduled in Circuit Court today.

The Lansing firm was the low bidder to construct the first 12.2 miles of the freeway starting just north of Walton Boulevard northeast of Pontiac and running northwesterly to M15 north of Clarkston. This work is being done at an estimated $10 million including right-of-way purchases.

Mackie said contracts for another 15 miles of Interstate 75 (Chrysler freeway) from M15 to the Oakland-Genesee County Line will be let Feb. 22 at an estimated cost of $9.2 million including right-of-way and engineering.

★ ★ ★

As it relates to Oakland County, Interstate 75 will be the substitute for U.S. 10 (Woodward avenue) for through traffic, thus bypassing downtown business sections such as Pontiac's.

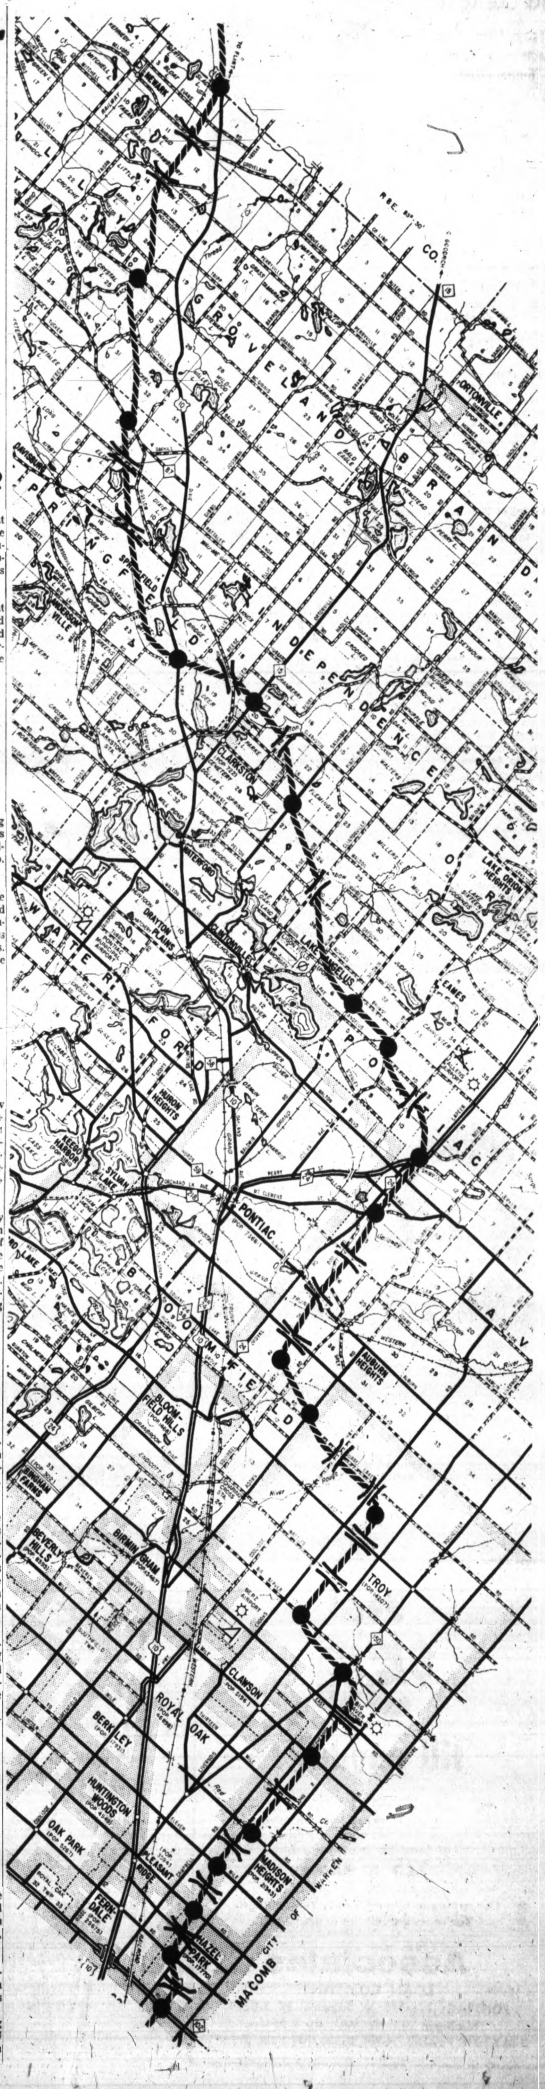
The southern end of the freeway, that from Eight Mile road north to 11½-Mile road has been made a part of Mackie's second five-year construction program announced in Pontiac Jan. 27. This 4-mile leg will be placed under contract in 1963, Mackie said.



Noted Artist Teaches Skills of Loom at Kingswood

Weaves a Colorful Pattern of Knowledge

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

A charming individualist, Mrs. Lillian Holm is much more than an instructor at Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills. She is busy weaving the golden threads of creativeness, perseverance and moral integrity into the lives of girls at Kingswood School.

★ ★ ★

As head of the weaving department, the Swedish-born Mrs. Holm stimulates the imaginations of her teen-age students by encouraging them to create their own designs, colors and materials.

From there, girls in the 7th through 12th grades learn how to thread the big looms for making artistic tapestries, sports material, drapes and "just about anything that is made of cloth."

AND SHE STAYED

After receiving her master's degree in weaving and design at the University of Stockholm in 1934, the soft-spoken teacher was asked to go to Cranbrook to teach the age-old art, and she has been there ever since.

★ ★ ★

However, instruction has been only a small part of the fascinating woman's activities. She has gained international fame for her delicate tapestry and other types of weaving.

One of her works of art, a 7-by-9-foot tapestry, is hung in a University of Michigan building, and the frontal and vestments of a Pittsburgh Episcopalian church were woven by Mrs. Holm.

She has had exhibits in many parts of the United States and abroad. At the New York World's Fair in 1939, 17 of her colorful tapestries were accepted for decoration in the administration building.

When actress Katherine Cornell was starring in "Antony and Cleopatra," she had Mrs. Holm create a tapestry of linen and silk depicting the death scene in the play.

"It was a little difficult to get the similarity to her face," Mrs. Holm explained. She added that her big thrill came when, as she was working on it, one of her students—not knowing of the assignment—remarked, "Why that looks just like Katherine Cornell."

★ ★ ★

Every summer of her 28 years at Cranbrook, Mrs. Holm has toured Europe. Her husband Andrew died five years after the two were married. She has retained her estate in Sweden.

★ ★ ★

When she came to America, Mrs. Holm brought original blueprint designs for constructing looms. Forty of these now are in use at Kingswood. However, her latest creation—a metal loom—is more streamlined "and you don't have to crawl inside to thread it," she explained.

Mrs. Holm's girls are preparing for the 1961 Scholastic Art Awards show to be held at Crowley Milner's store in Detroit, from Feb. 25 through March 11.

The winners then will enter the National Show in New York, and in the past, Kingswood student-entries have averaged three winners out of some 1,000 every year, Mrs. Holm said. "This year could be the best," she concluded.

GENIAL WEAVER — The beloved teacher of loom-weaving at Kingswood School for Girls, Cranbrook, is Mrs. Lillian Holm, known internationally for her artistic work—and her way with teen-agers. She is shown with a new streamlined version of the old Swedish loom, which she designed and had built for the school.

For 4-Day Lakes Cruise

C. of C. to Sail on June 4

Winter's frigid blasts have not chilled advance plans for the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce annual cruise in June.

Arrangements call for chamber members to sail Sunday, June 4, aboard the SS South American for a four-day Great Lakes cruise.

Stop-overs are scheduled at Sault Ste. Marie and Traverse City.

The chamber reported that two-thirds of the available staterooms aboard ship have been reserved. Reservations are being accepted at the chamber office.

Americans on 'Maria' Fly Home

RECIFE, Brazil (AP)—Thirty-eight Americans were scheduled to take a plane today for Miami, leaving far behind the Portuguese liner on which they wandered the Caribbean and the Atlantic as prisoners for 12 days.

The once-captive luxury liner lay at her berth in Recife for three more days of resupply and repairs. Her former captor, rebel Capt. Henrique Galvao, also stayed in Recife, restricted by police for a time, despite a promise of political asylum in Brazil.

Most of the Santa Maria's European passengers were on their way to Lisbon aboard the sister ship Vera Cruz—this time accompanied by a heavy guard to ensure no repetition of seizure at sea.

Gusts Turn Freeway Into Wind Tunnel

ONTARIO, Calif. (UPI)—A 75-mile-an-hour wind turned a three-mile corridor of the San Bernardino Freeway east of here into a giant wind tunnel Sunday, damaging cars, trucks and trees.

Wind-whipped sand reduced visibility for more than an hour and slowed traffic to a crawl. One driver, blinded by the sand, drove off the freeway into a ditch.

City Chalks Up Impressive Gain in Retail Sales

Pontiac department store sales during December were up 11 per cent over the same month of 1959, according to a survey by the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

The percentage gain for December over November was even more impressive, a whopping 64 per cent. It was one of the best in the state.

The year-to-year gain for December was the best among those cities in the state surveyed. Flint, with an 8 per cent increase, was second best. Some cities showed a December-to-December decrease. Port Huron and Muskegon, for example, were down 8 per cent.

Pontiac did much better in percentage than Detroit. That city had an increase of 50 per cent over November, but no gain at all over December 1959.

MAX E. STAMP

Waterford Grad Is Promoted to Plant Accountant

Max E. Stamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Stamp of 89 Clive Ave. and a former Pontiac resident, has been promoted to plant accountant at Crystal Falls, R.I., by the Corning Glass Works.

He was formerly stationed at the main plant in Corning, N.Y., in the Electrical Products Division. Stamp, 28 and single, joined the company in 1954 at Albion as a junior accountant. He later was promoted to budget analyst there.

He is a 1951 graduate of Waterford Township High School, and holds a bachelor's degree from Ferris Institute. Stamp spent two years with the Army in Europe before joining Corning Glass.

To Play Jazz at Funeral for Musician

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Some of the old-timers in this city that gave birth to jazz today planned a Dixieland-band send-off to give 82-year-old Negro clarinetist Alphonso Picou the kind of funeral he would have wanted.

Picou, a tinsmith by day and a musician by night who played with some of the early jazz groups way back in 1894, died Saturday after a lingering illness.

Riots Kill 4 in Portugal's W. Africa

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Four persons were reported killed and seven wounded Sunday during new rioting in Luanda, capital of Portugal's West African territory of Angola.

★ ★ ★

The Portuguese news agency Lusitania reported shooting broke out during a funeral procession for seven policemen and soldiers killed in a clash Friday between a mob and police armed with machine guns. Nine civilians also were killed in the battle.

★ ★ ★

Gov.-Gen. Alvaro da Silva Tavares of Angola said all of Sunday's victims were rioters. Da Silva was in the funeral procession but there was no indication that the firing was directed at him.

★ ★ ★

Da Silva claimed he has evidence the rioters were "partisans of a Communist-inspired movement" which is preparing "to implant sovietism on the Iberian Peninsula."

★ ★ ★

Would Let Teachers in Politics

A resolution which would allow faculty members as well as students to actively participate in politics — regardless of party — was adopted in Grand Rapids Saturday by the Oakland County delegation at the Democratic state convention.

★ ★ ★

Helping frame the hurriedly written resolution was Dr. William E. Rhode, assistant professor of political science at Michigan State University Oakland and delegate to the convention from Rochester. Rhode was named assistant director of the university's continuing education department Saturday.

He was also one of several MSUO faculty members who signed a newspaper advertisement last fall urging the election of then presidential candidate John F. Kennedy. The ad resulted in a rebuke the following day by Chancellor D. B. Varner.

When questioned whether the resolution, which he helped draft with Oak Park delegate S. Jerome Bronson, was a slap back at Varner, Rhode said "no comment."

As presented by Bronson to the sparsely attended county caucus before the convention, the resolution pledged support to Democratic nominees for educational posts in the April 3 election "with the full knowledge that they and each of them will carry high the torch of academic freedom."

★ ★ ★

"Student and faculty participation in politics is a part of academic freedom," Bronson said later, "and implicit in this resolution is its encouragement on the campuses of our country."

Acting Chief Koren Will Attend

MSU to Host Police Parley

Acting Pontiac Police Chief Joseph Koren will be among more than 100 chiefs from law enforcement agencies throughout the state attending the midwinter meeting of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police tomorrow at Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

Legislation on police training standards and a police training academy will be topics of discussion.

Particular emphasis will be placed on the details and progress of state legislation regarding uniform standards of police training and the possible establishment of a law enforcement training academy at MSU.

Reports to be presented at the meeting in East Lansing will deal with similar laws now in effect in such states as New York, Illinois, California and Minnesota.

The police chiefs also will review subjects to be studied at a law enforcement administrators seminar March 8-10 at MSU.

Both meetings are continuing education programs of the MSU School of Police Administration and Public Safety.

Kuhlmann Uses No Contest Plea

Troy Firm Involved in Antitrust Case Hitting Climax Now

TROY—A Troy firm is involved in a huge antitrust case, called one of the biggest in American history by federal attorneys, which is being heard in U.S. District Court in Philadelphia.

Fines and possible jail terms face 29 of the nation's largest electrical equipment manufacturers and 45 of their employes as the case reaches its climax today and tomorrow.

There was a total of 72 guilty pleas and 89 of no contest to 20 indictments for price fixing and bid rigging at secret meetings allegedly held all over the country since 1956.

The nation's largest electrical makers — Westinghouse and General Electric — each were named in 19 indictments.

A total of $5.05 million could be imposed on the firms which allegedly took part in a conspiracy in violation of the Sherman Anti-trust Act of 1890.

★ ★ ★

All the defendents at first vigorously denied the charges, but later switched their innocent pleas as the government pressed for trial.

Following the sentencing, the next legal step could be civil lawsuits by governmental and private customers to recover damages for alleged overpayments for equipment used to generate, transmit and distribute electricity to almost every home in America.

The court hopes to complete all the sentencing by late tomorrow. But as a precaution Judge Ganey set aside Wednesday to dispose of any cases not handled by that time.

William L. Maher, chief of the Justice Department's antitrust office in Philadelphia, disclosed that testimony by grand jury witnesses showed the conspiracy dated back to the 1930s.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Nixon of 1760 W. Drahner Road, Oxford Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Kim Elaine to Clyde G. Sissons, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sissons of 986 Gill Road, Oxford Township. No date has been set for the wedding.

D. EUGENE SIBERY

To Discuss Hospital Thursday

ROCHESTER — Plans for the proposed Crittenton Branch Hospital, a $5-million facility to be built just south of here, will be discussed at 8 p.m. Thursday in an open forum at Woodward Elementary School.

Guest speaker for the session will be D. Eugene Sibery, administrator of Crittenton General Hospital, Detroit, which will be the parent institution of the new branch hospital.

Other panelists will be two officers of the Bertha Van Hoosen, Inc., an organization of local business and professional people who worked towards getting a community hospital to locate in the area.

Representing the Van Hoosen group will be its chairman, Dr. Edgar J. Geist Jr., and secretary, Mrs. Oscar J. Sorenson Jr.

Announcement of plans for the 200-bed hospital was made jointly Jan. 20 by trustees of the Van Hoosen organization and of Crittenton General.

★ ★

The hospital forum is sponsored by the Rochester Area Community Council, which held an open meeting on roads and highways in September.

Like the road forum, which was attended by some 100 residents, the audience will be invited to take part in a question and answer session at Thursday's meeting.

Spring Planters Warned of Ads

Home owners should beware of misleading advertising claims in nursery catalogs while planning spring plantings, State Agriculture Director G. S. McIntyre said today.

Advertising campaigns with exaggerated claims regarding growth, production or tremendous bargains are carried on annually by "a few unscrupulous operators," he said.

"Before buying nursery stock, if the claims appear exaggerated, it is best to contact a reputable nurseryman, the Michigan Department of Agriculture or Michigan State University," McIntyre advised.

4 Nabbed in Vandalism — 6 and 7 Years of Age

Waterford Township police apprehended four 6- and 7-year-old juveniles yesterday when two boys were caught throwing stones through windows of the Italian-American Club at 60 N. Tilden St. Every window in the club had been smashed.

★ ★ ★

Previously, 12 basement windows had been reported smashed, and when police checked, they found two of the four boys, who later implicated two more. All admitted the destruction and were turned over to their parents pending further investigation.

Family Away on Visit as Fire Guts Home

ORION TOWNSHIP — A four-room frame home at 465 Heights Road was destroyed by fire yesterday while the family that lived there was away visiting relatives in Canada.

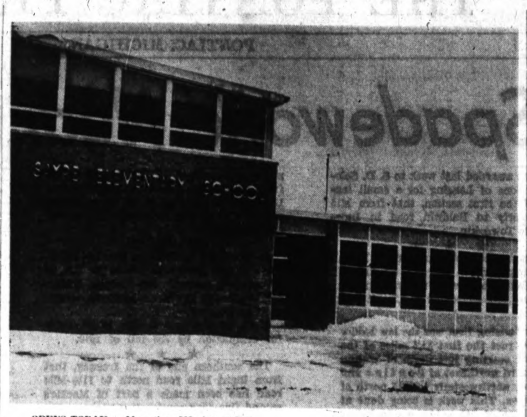
Orion Township Fire Chief Jack Caylor said his men were unable to save the home since flames already had burned through the roof of the building when they arrived at the scene at 4:24 a.m.

Caylor reported that two pieces of equipment from the township fire department, plus two from the Oxford Fire Department, were used to keep the blaze from spreading to other homes.

The house that was burned to the ground was on the rear of the lot on Heights Road. Jack Cedar, who owned the burned building, lives in a home at the front of the property.

Cedar said the home was rented to George Leland and his wife, who are in Canada awaiting the birth of their third child.

Caylor, who said firemen were at the scene of the blaze for four hours, estimated damage at $10,000. He said cause of the fire is still unknown.



OPENS TODAY — More than 500 elementary and junior high students move into the new Sayre School in Lyon Township today. Designed primarily as an elementary facility, the $615,000 school also will house junior high students for the next several years until a new high school is built. At that time the present high school will be converted into a junior high. The Sayre School, built on a 16-acre site, is adjacent to the Woodside Subdivision, east of Pontiac Trail and just south of the South Lyon city limits.

Elected president was Wallace G. Arrowsmith, city manager of Wayne. Other officers include William H. Lange of Grosse Pointe Woods, Fred Tholen of East Grand Rapids and Leonard Harris of Negaunee, all vice presidents.

John Huss, director of the Michigan Municipal League, was named secretary-treasurer. The elections were held at the 13th annual Management Institute at Ann Arbor.

Census Costs Increase $36 Million Since '50

According to the Tax Foundation, the cost of running the 1960 census was $127 million or 71 cents a person, against $91 million or 60 cents a person in 1950.

Get Resignation of Southfield's Inspector

SOUTHFIELD — The resignation of this city's building inspector is expected to be accepted by the City Council tonight.

B. Frank Gidley, 70, of 25805 Beech Court, is resigning because of ill health.

Gidley was building inspector for Southfield Township before it became a city 2½ years ago. His combined services with the township and city total 16 years.

He will remain with the city as building consultant until the end of the year. A new building inspector will be hired in the near future by City Administrator Donald V. Smith.

★ ★ ★

The appointment will be subject to the approval of the City Council.

Mart Can't Keep Initial Increase

Gains and losses of most key stocks were small, but here and there was a move of a point or 2.

Although steel industry sources saw a brighter outlook for February, steel shares were unchanged to easy. Most autos, rubbers, and electrical equipments were down. Rails showed a downside tendency.

Further profit taking seemed in order after the steady six-week advance capped by Friday's climatic session in which there was little trend.

★ ★ ★

Texaco ran into continued profit taking and lost more than a point. Other oils showed scant change. Honolulu Oil gained ¼ at 76 on a large block of 10,000 shares.

The excitement seemed to be temporarily over in the missiles and electronics. These showed minor changes. General Dynamics and Sperry Rand were up fractionally. Boeing, Radio Corp. and Raytheon lost fractions.

Avalanches Kill 37 as Thaw Settles on Alps

ROME (AP)—Sunny, springlike weather coming after snowstorms has brought great masses of snow tumbling down from the high peaks in the Alps. Highways and railroads are blocked, mountain villages isolated and at least 37 persons were killed.

Two giant avalanches 60 miles apart killed eight persons Sunday in Italy's northern mountains.

Many tons of snow smashed down upon the tiny village of Rochemolles, 6,100 feet up on Mt. Mellisse on the Italian-French border.

Theft of Safe Nets Only $2

Hardworking Burglars in Clarkston Get Little in Return for Efforts

Burglars who stole a safe from the Clarkston Cafe, 18 Main St., Clarkston, yesterday probably received a surprise.

According to cafe owner, Robert Parker, the 100-pound safe contained only about $2 in change, his bank book, and insurance papers.

The thieves obviously had rolled the safe on wheels out the rear door and lifted it into a car or truck.

Patrolling deputies also found a break-in at Jay's Bar in Commerce Township early this morning when they heard the burglar alarm ringing.

Thieves had cut a hole through the roof of the bar at 363 Commerce Road to avoid sounding the alarm, but accidentally tripped it once inside the building.

They still managed to escape with $140 in change from coin machines and several bottles of liquor however.

Sheriff's detectives were investigating both cases today.

Clarkston Motorist Breaks Leg in Crash

Insurance Hike Arguments Set for Cobo Hall

DETROIT (UPI) — Doctors, lawyers, educators and union men are among interested parties scheduled to argue for or against a boost in Blue Cross-Blue Shield hospitalization and medical insurance rates at a hearing Tuesday in Cobo Hall.

Another hearing on the premium hikes asked by Michigan Hospital Service (Blue Cross) and Michigan Medical Service (Blue Shield) has been scheduled Feb. 15 in Grand Rapids.

Blue Cross has asked for a 22 per cent hike in its rates and Blue Shield wants a 13.5 per cent increase.

News in Brief

Waterford Township superintendent of schools William Shunck reported to township police that he discovered at 6:30 p. m. yesterday a large rock had been thrown through a rear office window at the Board of Education. No attempt had been made to enter the building.

Aaron Soverinsky of Detroit reported to Waterford Township police that sometime during the past week thieves broke four windows in his cottage at 4065 Lawley St., and stole fishing equipment valued at more than $300.

Clarence M. Morgan, general secretary of General Motors Traffic Association has been selected chairman of the Automobile Manufacturers Association Traffic Committee.

Ellsworth Ogg of Ogg Cleaners & Shirt Laundry, 379 E. Pike St., attended American Institute of Laundering's 73rd Annual Convention in Philadelphia, Pa., last week.

Burglars took $1.50 from a cash register at Ray's Billiards, 352 Franklin Road, it was reported to Pontiac police Saturday.

The theft of three cans of anti-freeze from the Clark gas station, 157 Auburn Ave., was reported to Pontiac police Sunday.

Nancy Robison, 3022 Glenbroke St., West Bloomfield Township, reported to Pontiac police Sunday that her purse containing change and miscellaneous papers was stolen from the Amvets Hall, 570 Oakland Ave.

Omans Sunoco Service, 180 Orchard Lake Ave., was reported burglarized Sunday, according to Pontiac police. The intruders took $50 from vending machines and an undetermined amount of cigarettes.

REMODELING COMPLETED — Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home has been more than doubled in size with the completion of its remodeling. A three-story house next door was taken, built around and attached to the existing structure. A further addition was put on the back, and the front exterior remodeled. The building is now blue-gray with white trim and wrought iron columns. Bundy Construction Co. of Pontiac did the building. Joseph Dworsky of Birmingham was the architect.

Employes Decide to Take Pay Cut

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Company and union officials today hailed the action of Bailey Co. Department Store employes, who voted to pass up a previously negotiated $3.50 weekly increase in wages and benefits.

★ ★ ★

Union members in five Bailey stores voted on the company proposal Sunday. The company figures it will save $110,000 a year by the unusual action.

★ ★ ★

For the 800 sales clerks, office workers, elevator operators and porters at Cleveland's only organized department store the alternative was a possible cut in many jobs.

Toboggan Slide, Skating Rinks Busy on Weekend

Despite afternoon thaws, Pontiac winter sports areas were busy over the weekend, the Parks & Recreation Department reported.

★ ★ ★

Ice deteriorated slightly on most of the rinks and the glaze was thawed off of the Murphy Park toboggan slide.

★ ★ ★

But more than 500 persons used the Murphy Park sled run yesterday and another 250-300 showed up at skating rinks, city attendants said.

Reverses Dismissal of S-P Merger Suit

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals, Sixth Circuit, today reversed a District Court decision which had dismissed a suit brought against the Studebaker-Packard Corp. in a fight over proxies voted in a Studebaker-Packard merger with the Curtiss-Wright Corp.

★ ★ ★

The suit had claimed proxies were obtained by false and misleading methods and that the voting of them cause "waste and dissipation" of Studebaker-Packard assets.

★ ★ ★

In reversing U.S. District Judge Arthur F. Lederle of Detroit, the appeals court held, however, that while the federal courts have the authority to rule on the validity of the proxies they do not have the authority to rescind the results of the election. That, the appeals court said, is a matter for state courts in Michigan.

Waterford Gas Station Burglarized Saturday

Sometime Saturday night the Lackie & Bigsby gasoline station at 45 S. Telegraph Road, Waterford Township was broken into and tires and tubes valued at $144 was stolen, according to township police.

Patrolmen on routine duty at 4:30 a.m. yesterday, discovered a smashed rear building window and notified the owner Clarence Lackie of 2570 Middlebelt Road. Entrance was gained when thieves reached through the broken window and unlocked it from the inside.

Retiree Association to Meet on Wednesday

Pontiac Chapter No. 7 of the American Association of Retired Persons will meet at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Community Service Building, 132 Franklin Blvd.

In Saturday's Pontiac Press the day of the meeting was inadvertantly listed as Tuesday.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Silver is following the flight of gold to Europe. Buyers in London are offering a price equal to nearly 93 cents an ounce compared with little more than 91 cents in this country.

This forced U.S. industry to buy up to 20 million ounces of the metal from the Treasury, reducing stocks not used to back currency by 36 per cent.

The average hen in the United States lays 206 eggs a year, compared to 121 eggs per year three decades ago, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Tucson, Ariz., Municipal Airport has the longest commercial runway in the United States: 12,000 feet.

'Papa' John Gordy Dies

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — "Papa" John Gordy, 57, Dixieland orchestra leader and pianist, died Sunday of a chronic kidney ailment. Gordy and his band appeared regularly on radio and television shows in Nashville.

DIZZYING DRIVEWAY — A fascinating variation of the old spiral staircase, this novel parking ramp leads autos a merry chase in Wuppertal, Germany. 'Round and 'round goes the ramp, leading finally to a parking lot atop the roof of a large department store. The rooftop lot has space for 360 autos, whose owners can then go downstairs to shop at their leisure.

4, Possibly 5, Die in Traffic

By The Associated Press

Weekend traffic in Michigan killed at least four persons. Police still sought today to determine whether a fifth was a traffic fatality.

Mrs. Annie Akiewenzie, 58, of Port Huron, was found dead on a road near Port Huron Sunday. Police said a Kimball Township woman thought she had run over a body in the road. Later, a Port Huron man said Mrs. Akiewenzie had jumped from his car as he drove along the road.

The Associated Press count started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Deaths included:

Robert A. Kryderman, 33, of Millington, who was killed Sunday when his auto hit a tree alongside M15 in Vassar Township in Tuscola County.

A Rochester boy, Lynn Schoenbeck, 9, was struck and killed Saturday night when he dashed in front of an auto near his home.

An auto skidded on an icy street and hit a tree in Jackson Saturday, killing Merele T. Masqueller, 28.

Ike, Mamie Depart for Sunny Cal

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Dwight and Mamie Eisenhower put Pennsylvania's severe winter behind them and headed for California today.

The former president and his wife left this state capital by train for Palm Springs where they will stay at the exclusive El Dorado Golf Club, probably for two months.

"I am going out to get a little sunshine," a beaming Eisenhower said.

The party, which includes several members of the former president's staff, is due in California Wednesday morning. The vacation-bound travelers are riding in two private railroad cars, equipped with dining facilities supplied by Ernest March, president of the Santa Fe Railroad.

Frank W. McCulloch Chairman of NLRB

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank W. McCulloch, administrative assistant to Sen. Paul H. Douglas D-Ill., has been chosen by President Kennedy to be chairman of the National Labor Relations Board.

★ ★ ★

"It's a terrific challenge and a great honor," McCulloch said when his nomination was announced Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

McCulloch replaces Boyd Leedom as chairman of the NLRB. Leedom, an Eisenhower appointee, will remain on the board. The recess appointment by Eisenhower of Arthur Kimball to a place on the board was withdrawn to make room for McCulloch. The chairmanship pays $20,300 a year.

Woman Is Honored for Living Up to Name

LEEDS, England (UPI) — Mrs. Kitty Brushwood was awarded the British Empire Medal Sunday at a full dress royal army parade led by a general.

Mrs. Brushwood was honored for her 53 years' service as a scrubwoman in the local army barracks.

Hard to Flee That Conflict of Interest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy has found out that it's hard for a U.S. President to employ his economic powers without affecting the value of his personal investments.

★ ★ ★

An economic message which Kennedy sent to Congress last Thursday prompted an unusually fast upward spurt in the price of U.S. government bonds.

Before assuming the presidency, Kennedy sold all of his personally held stocks and securities to avoid any possible financial conflict of interest.

He reinvested all of the proceeds in government bonds — federal, state and municipal. Published estimates of the value of his bond holdings have ranged from $500,000 to $3 million.

★ ★ ★

In his economic message, Kennedy said lower long-term interest rates were required to stimulate housing construction and the economy, and an increase in short-term rates was needed to retard the flow of gold from the United States.

★ ★ ★

He expressed confidence that these goals would be achieved with cooperation of pertinent government agencies.

★ ★ ★

Traders in government bonds apparently agreed. When the market closed Friday, U.S. government bonds of medium and long-term maturity were selling at prices that ranged from ½ of 1 per cent to 1 per cent above the prices when the market closed Wednesday.

Guerrillas Attack Laos Army Convoy

★ ★ ★

The Army canceled a second convoy which was scheduled to leave here for Muong Kassy, site of the rear headquarters of a column that drove from Vientiane to Sala Phou Khoun.

Government forces have been bogged down by a shortage of gasoline in their drive on the rebel-held Plain of Jars with its strategic airfields.

Buck NAACP Because Schools Overcrowded

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Negroes who bucked the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to vote for a new segregated elementary school said they did so because of the problem of overcrowded schools.

Negroes in Sussex County, Del.-aware's southernmost county, voted 441 to 19 in favor of construction of a $543,000 school which must be segregated under state law, state officials reported. About 40 per cent of the eligible Negro voters were represented.

The NAACP had called for a "no" vote on the ground that construction would entrench segregation.

The school will have 367 pupils who now attend four schools which will be closed.

Jordan Buys of U. S.

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — U.S. Ambassador Sheldon Mills announced today that Jordan will purchase $20 million worth of American goods — equal to half the U. S. annual aid to Jordan to help ease America's balance of payments problem.

Hodges Asks Production Hike

Challenges Labor and Management to Meet Foreign Competition

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges has challenged labor and management to increase productivity to help U.S. industry compete with more efficient foreign businesses.

★ ★ ★

Hodges said some free world nations — notably Japan and West Germany — were "running rings" around the United States in modern production methods in some fields.

★ ★ ★

As a result, he said Sunday night in a television interview, U.S. firms already have been priced out of the export markets for such items as soft goods and electronics components.

To reverse this, he said he is "going to challenge labor for cutting out featherbedding and restrictive practices of other kinds, and doing a better job of productivity."

Hodges said he had this advice for labor: "You have some leaders and you have some people who are simply trying to get all they can for themselves and their own groups, without any regard for the good of the country."

He said that it was time labor cut out restrictive practices, and time that management cut out "undue practices of their own, or extraordinary profits while people are suffering elsewhere."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Eric, a big black Doberman-Pinscher assigned to guard a trucking firm here, is in the doghouse. He seems unable to tell good guys from bad.

Burglars broke into A. L. Learner's trucking office while Eric was on duty Saturday night. They opened the safe with an acetylene torch and downed some of Learner's scotch before making off with an undetermined amount of money.

Eric must have taken a shine to the burglars. But he was a tiger when police came to investigate the theft Sunday morning.

Finch Third Trial Now in 6th Week

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The third murder trial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 44, and his sweetheart Carole Tregoff, 24, moved into its sixth week today with the prosecution indicating it may conclude its case before Friday.

The defense then would have its chance to call witnesses, including Finch and Miss Tregoff, to testify about the July 18, 1959, gunshot slaying of the surgeon's socialite wife.

Still to testify for the prosecution were sheriff's chemist Clifford Crump and Dr. Gerald K. Ridge, former county autopsy surgeon, and several minor witnesses.

Buenos Aires Voters Slap Down Frondizi

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Buenos Aires voters have defeated President Arturo Frondizi's senatorial candidate, favoring men from two other parties and killing Frondizi's hopes for a prestige showing.

★ ★ ★

The president's great majority in Congress remains unaffected, but Frondizi had hoped that victory for his choice in Buenos Aires' election would be a sign the people accept the government's austerity policies.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF JERRY CONrad, who passed away February 6, 1960.

His memories are as dear today,
As in the hours he passed away.
Sadly missed by mother, father and sister, Conrad.

IN MEMORY OF WALTER A. Shafer, my husband who passed away 3 years ago today. Do not ask me how I miss him for there is such a vacant place. Often I think I hear his footsteps or see his smiling face. For he left me a brokenhearted. Friends may think the wound is healed but they do little know the sorrow that lies in my heart concealed. Sadly missed by his wife, Elinore Shafer.
