Kennedy Confers With Ike

Three Win Coveted Jaycee Awards

Norman Dunn of Pontiac Motor Division's public relations department, who accepted the Outstanding Boss of the Year award on behalf of Semon E. Knudsen, General Motors vice president and head of the Pontiac Division; and University of Michigan's head swimming coach, Gus Stager, who led the U. S. Swim Team to success in the 1960 Olympics, guest speaker.

Receives Annual Trophy

Kratt 'Outstanding Young Man'

By DICK HANSON

The award was accepted by Norman Dunn of the Pontiac Division public relations department on behalf of Knudsen who was unable to attend the dinner.

Knudsen was selected for his efforts as head of the Pontiac Area United Fund Campaign last year in pushing the fund-raising drive over the top.

Jaycees and their bosses also paid tribute to Knudsen as the driving individual who led Pontiac auto sales out of the doldrums to its present position of leading the medium-priced field and for introducing the division's highly popular Tempest compact car in '61.

William Dean Jr. was named the Jaycees' Key Man of the Year for his spirit and determination in furthering the club's civic accomplishments during 1960.

Sgt. Kratt was chosen Young Man of the Year for the extra effort he put into promoting safety in the community. He was credited with saving countless lives as the result of the innumerable hours he has given to this worthy cause.

Aside from his duties as head of the safety division of the sheriff's department, he has never hesitated to further the cause on his own time. He has addressed at least 100,000 people in groups throughout Oakland County on how to protect lives by practicing safety.

In addition to promoting safety at the speaker's circuit, Sgt. Kratt has given much of his own time to raising the sheriff's safety division to where it is recognized as the best-equipped in the nation.

The Jaycees also presented special Merit Awards to The Pontiac Press, Radio Station WPON, and the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. in Pontiac for the assistance they have given the civic club during the past year.

Gus Stager, head swimming coach at the University of Michigan, who led the U.S. Olympic Swim Team to success in Rome last summer, was guest speaker at the banquet attended by 185 club members, their employers, and guests, including the boys' swimming teams from Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern high schools.

Introduced by toastmaster Glenn Griffin, member of the Pontiac Board of Education and a past president of the Jaycees here, Stager gave a well-received account of highlights in the 1960 Olympic swimming competition.

"If any one reason could be singled out for the U.S. team defeating the top-contending Australian and Japanese teams, and setting new world and Olympic records, it was a great team spirit," he said.

A note of humor was added when Stager described what happened when the U.S. swim team greeted their Russian opponents at poolside before the meets began.

With the best intentions, U.S. swimmer Frank Hall clapped his Russian opponent on the back.

Expect Frosty 14 Tonight; May Snow Saturday

Partly cloudy and a little colder is the forecast for tonight and Friday in the Pontiac area.

Temperatures will drop to a low of 14 tonight and rise to near 25 Friday. The outlook for Saturday is a chance of light snow and not so cold.

Morning winds easterly at five miles per hour opposite to community to northwesterly at 10 to 20 m.p.h. tonight.

Fallen was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 5 a.m. The temperature at 2 p.m. was 25.

Discuss Major Problem Areas at White House

WASHINGTON (UP)—

President Eisenhower and President-Elect John F. Kennedy canvassed the nation's major problems in a White House conference today lasting more than two hours.

When he came out of the conference, Kennedy told reporters that he and three of his top appointees had had "the opportunity to get the thinking of the President and the responsible officers of the government on some of the major problems facing the United States."

Kennedy, bronzed and smiling, was asked how he feels with his inauguration as president scheduled Friday.

"Very good," he replied. A reporter asked if he was excited.

"Interested," Kennedy replied with a broad grin.

A joint statement issued by the press secretaries of the outgoing and incoming presidents said that WASHINGTON (UP)—There began today in Washington this morning, and the weatherman gave the crowd a city this gloom news. Several inches of mist and snow will accumulate before the hour of President-Elect John F. Kennedy's inauguration Friday.

World areas discussed at the conference included the Far East, Africa, Western Europe and the Caribbean.

Eisenhower and Kennedy met alone first in the President's office.

Then they met in the cabinet room with the incoming and outgoing secretaries of state, treasury and defense for continuation of their discussions.

The statement said that during their discussions, the president-elect and the incoming cabinet secretary of state.

But Not Near Detroit

Rush to Suburbs to Continue

The exodus from Detroit to the suburbs will continue, but the major population increases in Oakland, Macomb, and Wayne counties will no longer be in the sections closest to Detroit.

Findings of the University of Michigan's Detroit Area Study (DAS) indicate that in Oakland County the population boom of the future will be in a central area of the county — a "belt" six to 12 miles distant from Detroit's city limits.

Census figures show that during the past 20 years the fastest rate of growth in Oakland was in a zone bordering on Detroit's city limits and running north approximately six miles. It included Birmingham.

DAS Director Harry Sharp predicted that rapid population increases would soon be recorded in Bloomfield, Farmington, Novi, Troy, and West Bloomfield Townships.

The outlying areas of the county — with the exception of Pontiac — will also claim an increasingly larger share of Oakland's residents, Sharp said.

News Flashes

WASHINGTON (UP)—President-Elect John F. Kennedy today appointed Najeeb E. Mahaly, West Coast electronics executive, as head of the Federal Aviation Agency.

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today voted tentative approval to day of the upcoming nomination of Chester B. Evans as under-secretary of state.

The DAS report showed: Between 1950 and 1960, the central Oakland zone far outstripped other areas of the county in rate of population growth, with an increase of 143 per cent.

The area near Detroit grew by 81.2 per cent and the outlying area — excluding Pontiac, which is growing at a markedly lower rate than its surrounding territory — by 74.8 per cent.

On the other hand, the area adjacent to and including Detroit (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Chrysler Denies Charges of Ex-President Newberg

DETROIT (UP)—Chrysler Corp. has flatly denied charges by its former president that he was fired for refusing to ignore alleged misconduct and incompetence in the 10-year administration of L. L. (Tex) Colbert.

After six months of silence, William C. Newberg charged Wednesday in a Wayne County Circuit Court action that Colbert, his long-time personal friend, and four others conspired in making him a scapegoat.

Newberg's suit seeks return of $455,000 he agreed to pay Chrysler after his resignation. Judge Thomas Murphy set a hearing for Jan. 27.

Newberg issued a statement saying Newberg's allegations were without foundation in fact.

The statement said the money settlement was proposed by Newberg and "was not the result of any duress or pressure on the part of Chrysler or any one associated with Chrysler."

SAYS THREATS 'IMPLIED' Newberg, of 1411 Kirkway Drive, Bloomfield Township, charged that implied threats of criminal and civil prosecution and imprisonment caused him and his wife Dorothy so much mental anguish and distress that he agreed to the money settlement.

Named in the suit were Juan Tripp, president of Pan American World Airways; W. Alton Jones, executive committee chairman of Cities Service Co.; Louis B. Warren, New York attorney and member of Chrysler's operating committee; and Francis B. Sennel of Kelley, Dryden, Newhall & Maginnis, New York attorneys who represent Chrysler, Warren is a partner in this firm. All but Bennett are Chrysler directors.

The mother told officials the blame began about an hour after her husband had put some wood in the stove which was in the living room. She said she was awakened by smoke.

The four older children slept on the second floor. The father tried to get up a burning stair to save them but was forced back when his clothing caught fire.

Inauguration Friday, But What's the Story?

The eyes of the world will be focused on Washington, D. C., Friday as John F. Kennedy is inaugurated president of the United States.

What is this thing called inauguration? For the answer, plus a color picture of our next president, turn to Page 17 of today's Pontiac Press.

Here are the inauguration events that will be seen on television Friday, together with the times for each event.

11:30 a.m.—President-Elect and Mrs. Kennedy arrive at White House to ride down Pennsylvania Avenue to the Capitol with President and Mrs. Eisenhower (televised on channels 2, 4 and 7).

Non-Official Inaugural ceremony, the Capitol (televised on channels 2, 4 and 7).

12:30 p.m.—President Kennedy attends invitation luncheon at the Capitol (televised on channels 2, 4 and 7).

1:30 p.m.—Start of inaugural parade down Pennsylvania Avenue to the White House (televised on channels 2, 4 and 7).

9 p.m.—Inaugural Ball, to be held simultaneously at four hotels and the National Guard Armory (televised at National Guard Armory on channel 2 at 11:25 p.m. and channel 4 at 11:30 p.m.).

Lion-Hearted Dr. Dooley, Age 34, Dies of Cancer

NEW YORK (UP)—Thomas Dooley, lion-hearted young doctor who battled disease in the Laos jungle even when he himself became ravaged by crippling cancer, died in his sleep Wednesday night at Memorial Hospital.

Death came just one day after his 34th birthday.

Dooley, brought to the hospital Dec. 27 wearing a brace from shoulder to hips, insisted he was going to continue his work if his "iron maiden" enabled him to get around — and characteristically added:

"I am not going to quit. I will continue to guide and lead my hospital until my back, my brain, my blood and my bones collapse."

Dooley's dedication to relieving the plight of the underprivileged and ailing began seven years ago while he was a Navy doctor.

He spent a year of premedical training at the University of Notre Dame before serving (1944-46) as a Navy medical corpsman attached to the Marines.

Upon leaving service, he studied at the Sorbonne in Paris for a year. A native of St. Louis, in 1953 he was graduated from the St. Louis University School of Medicine.

REJOINS NAVY Dooley rejoined the Navy as a lieutenant (j.g.) and took his internship first at the Naval Hospital, Camp Pendleton, Calif., and then aboard the attack transport USS Montague.

In 1954, at the end of the war in Indochina, his ship sailed in evacuation of refugees from Communist North Viet Nam.

Seeing—and feeling—the plight of the hundreds of disease-ravaged inhabitants of the area made up Dooley's mind. He had no money. But he had a fighting heart, boundless energy and a burning zeal.

The Past . . . The Future, Too

CENTENNIAL SEAL — This is the official centennial seal adopted by the Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission. Created by Arnold Niens, Pontiac Press artist, the seal symbolizes the city's past and future. Featured prominently is Chief Pontiac, the great Indian leader, whose likeness was adapted from the well-known painting which New York artist Jerry Farnsworth created for Pontiac Motor Division. A star within the outline of Lower Michigan indicates the geographical location of Pontiac. Circling the seal is a gear, indicating Pontiac's present and future industrial might. The copyrighted seal will be used prominently during this 100th anniversary year of Pontiac's incorporation as a city. Permission to reproduce the seal for commercial purposes must be obtained from the commission.

MSUC Taps Ex-Ike Adviser

Picks Dr. Kenneth Roose to Head Business Dept.

Dr. Kenneth D. Roose, former economic adviser to President Eisenhower, today was named to head Michigan State University's Oakland division of business and economics.

Roose, 41, now professor of economics at Oberlin College in Ohio, served as senior staff economist on President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers in 1956 and 1957.

His appointment was one of three approved by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees in East Lansing. The others were Dr. Ralph C. Mobley as professor of physics and Hollie L. Lepley as acting dean of students.

MSUC Chancellor D. B. Vainor said of Roose's appointment: "We are fortunate to have obtained in one person such an extremely able economist and teacher, combined with a rich background in the fields of government and business."

Dr. G. Lee Bach, director of Carnegie Tech's school of industrial administration and one of the specialists who helped in planning MSUC's curriculum, calls Roose "one of the real pioneers in real high quality education for undergraduates in the United States."

"He is an excellent choice for the task of creating a business administration program of the highest quality."

Vainor said MSUC will offer a business administration program to provide a broad education to future business leaders, rather than concentrating on technical courses.

Roose, a Kansan, was graduated from the University of Southern California in 1940, and received his Ph.D. degree in economics from Yale in 1948. He has won several awards and fellowships, and has served as a consultant to industry.

He was head of a group that attracted industries to the Oberlin area, headed the local PTA and the hospital board of trustees there.

At Oberlin College he headed a special committee to revise the academic program.

He has written a number of published scholarly articles, as well as a book on the recession and revival of 1927-28, and part of a textbook on the teaching of elementary economics.

He is married and the father of four children, ranging in age from 7 to 13.

FROM LSI: Mobley will come to MSUC from Louisiana State University, where he is associate professor of physics and director of the Neutron Scattering Research Project, a venture sponsored by the Atomic Energy Commission.

He was graduated from the Lawrence Institute of Technology and received a Ph.D. degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1956.

He has published more than a dozen research papers on his work in the highly technical area of atomic physics concerned with neutrons.

Lepley, 47, has been at MSUC as director of physical education and intramural athletics. He also is director of physical education for the Pontiac school system.

Previously he had been running coach at the University of Nebraska for 13 years.

CALIFORNIA GUNMAN Kills Grad Student

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — An intensive hunt was pressed today for a stocky gunman with bushy hair who killed a brilliant University of California graduate student and wounded an English professor late Wednesday.

Fatally wounded by a sawed-off shotgun blast in the back was Stephen Mann Thomas, 29, member of a pioneer ranching family at Ukiah, Calif.

He was a teaching assistant at the University of California at Berkeley.

Suburban Exodus to Continue

If those were excluded from the outlying area, however, the northern area's rate of growth would surpass that of the central zone from 1940 to 1960.

With the exception of Pontiac, all areas of Oakland recorded phenomenal growth as the county's population increased by 42.5% during the past two decades.

The area nearest to Detroit tripled in population, as well as the outlying area. The central area came close to a fourfold increase.

With the increased population has come a change in the pattern of distribution of the county's population.

In 1940, 41.8 per cent of the county's residents lived in the area adjacent to Detroit; by 1960 the percentage had risen to 49.1.

The outlying area had a significantly lower share of the county's population (35.3 per cent) in 1960 than 20 years ago (47.3 per cent).

Pontiac's failure to grow at a rate comparable to the rest of the county caused the decline in its share.

Over a quarter of the county's residents lived in Pontiac in 1940. By early 1960, little more than a tenth were in the city.

The central area has a small percentage of the total population of the county. It has grown, however, from 10.9 per cent in 1940 to 15.4 per cent in 1960. Its greatest growth has come in the past 10 years.

Speaking generally of the Detroit metropolitan area, Sharp said: "As of early 1960, the predominant pattern of movement has resulted in a fastidious rapid population accumulation for the ring directly surrounding the central city. More distant areas have also shared in this growth, but at least still more, to a lesser degree."

"Large shopping centers, readily accessible expressways, and other relatively recent innovations may function to continue this pattern of suburban movement."

The evidence indicates, Sharp said, that in the immediate future the area of greater population expansion will slip even further away from Detroit.

Pontiac General 'Can't Be Sued'

Appeals Court Upholds Earlier Rule Involving Sullenberger Surgery

The U.S. Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, Ohio, today upheld a lower court which had ruled that Pontiac General Hospital could not be sued for negligence.

U.S. District Judge Theodore Levin in Detroit had so ruled in 1959, pointing out that Michigan law prohibited such a suit.

Cecil J. Harrison, a former Pontiac resident, had sued the city, the hospital's board of trustees and its medical staff as a result of an operation performed on him in 1957 by Dr. Neil M. Sullenberger, former Pontiac General chief surgeon.

Harrison, 39, a former factory worker, claimed that the negligence occurred when a sponge was left in an abdominal cavity during an operation. He claimed 130,000 damages because a second operation was necessary to remove the sponge.

The operation on Harrison was one of those cited by the Pontiac General medical staff in its move to sue Sullenberger in 1957-58. He was ousted by the board of directors in August 1958.

FLOYD, INGO SIGN for Third Meeting

NEW YORK (AP) — Floyd Patterson, world heavyweight boxing champion, and challenger Ingemar Johansson of Sweden signed an agreement to meet in Convention Hall at Miami Beach, Fla., on March 13 before a battle of champions in a midtown hotel today.

The agreement differed from the usual fight contract in that it said only that the two would meet.

The Day in Birmingham

John Stevenson to Head Community House Drive

BIRMINGHAM — The appointment of John K. Stevenson as general chairman of the 1961 Community House fund drive was announced today.

The fund raising campaign will be held March 5-26. Said Eugene J. Barney, Community House president, in making the announcement:

"We are pleased and honored to have John Stevenson heading our drive this year. He is an outstanding businessman and a dedicated civic worker."

"With him at the helm, we're confident the drive will win broad support of residents throughout Birmingham, Highland Hills and the surrounding areas, and be a tremendous success."

Stevenson, who lives at 541 N. Gregory Road, is a partner in McKenney-Stevenson Co., manufacturers' representatives.

He is a member of the boards of the United Foundation of Detroit, William Beaumont Hospital and the Detroit Football Club.

The goal of the 1961 drive will be set later upon completion of a thorough study of present requirements and future needs, Barney said.

Barney emphasized that the scope of the activities of the Community House depends largely on the contributions of persons who use its facilities. The attendance last year was more than 150,000.

The Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold its annual meeting today at 8 p.m. at the church.

Included on the agenda will be acceptance of annual reports of all boards and committees, election of officers and changes in the bylaws.

All members of the congregation have been urged to attend the meeting.

The Mother's Club of Brother Rice High School will hold a card party Feb. 10 at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium of the new school, 1101 Lahar Road.

Program chairman is Mrs. Earle Houser. She will be assisted by Mrs. Harry Morris, Mrs. Robert Whiting and Mrs. Paul Butler.

Proceeds from the party will be used for the benefit of the school library.

Trustees at MSU Clash Over Post

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan State University trustees clashed briefly over whether to name a new secretary for the board today, but went on to other business without taking action.

The relatively obscure post has been vacated since the late 1940s because of partisan maneuvering surrounding it.

Filibuster Wins Again in Close Senate Vote

By a close vote the Senate has refused to strike a blow against unlimited debate. So the filibuster is still with us.

Opponents had tried to change Rule 22 under which debate can be stopped by a two-thirds vote of the Senators present. The change would have permitted three-fifths of those present and voting to cut off debate after 15 days.

Vice President Nixon had opened the way for reform by ruling that the Senate is a continuing body and can change its rules at the start of a session by a simple majority.

On the other hand Vice President-elect JOHNSON, who will be presiding over the Senate in a few days, put through an amendment to Rule 22 last year specifically blocking the closing of debate even on a rules change. His contention is that the Senate is a continuing body and that rule changes do require a two-thirds vote.

Sen. MANFIELD, new majority leader, says he will introduce rule changes later in the session to allow debate to be halted by 60 per cent of the Senators present. Liberals favor a simple majority.

The Senate vote could indicate fear of what a prolonged filibuster on rule changes would do to hold up the new Administration's program on civil rights and other meaningful legislation.

London Newspaper Praises Eisenhower

The London Sunday Express in commenting on President Eisenhower's leaving office Friday had this sound advice: "The verdict of many people today may not be the verdict of history."

The Sunday Express writes:

"What fantastic advances the world has made since he first took office! Never before has mankind advanced so quickly. And think not only of the vast material progress that has been made, but of progress in the matter of peace, too. And during the whole of this period of enormous progress Eisenhower has been in charge of the world's most powerful nation. Surely history will grant some of the credit to this sincere and likeable man."

Capable Ex-Presidents Unable to Assist Country

It has often been said that America is the most wasteful nation in the world. A great deal of this impression can be credited to our high plane of living and a surplus of commodities within easy reach of our citizens.

There is one place in our democratic system where we cannot afford the waste we are guilty of committing. That is in the field of leadership.

Next week we will have three ex-presidents, HERBERT HOOVER, HARRY TRUMAN and DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER—all put out to pasture. With all the vast experience that each of them has had they are not in a position to assist with the affairs of our country.

Why not put some of their know-how to work?

Only in America would a thing like this happen where three men, who were capable enough to rise to the highest post in the land, be suddenly reduced to Mr. Average Citizen.

We need not stop with ex-presidents. RICHARD NIXON has, during the past 14 years, had an enormous and valuable experience which, in almost any other country, would still be available. In Great Britain, for example, he would be a member of parliament, sitting at the head of the opposition party, holding such a position as HUGH GAITSKELL does at the present time. He would be consulted by those in power if the national interest required it.

Perhaps we need a revision in our government scheme to make room for such talent. Something like a permanent seat in the Senate.

We have no surplus of leaders in our country. We need each and every one of them.

The Man About Town

Another First We Take Lead in Michigan Winter Sports Attendance

Old age: When you have that morning-after feeling without the night before.

In Michigan's 83 counties, Oakland County now leads them all in attendance at its resorts of the followers of the ski and other winter sports. This craze has developed in a remarkable manner during the last couple of years, and has exploded us to top place.

Other counties, further upstate, may have better facilities (which I doubt), but they're too distant from the big concentration of population. They are not drawing the crowds that on some days do not even permit standing room for prospective skiers, at some of the resorts in the Pontiac area.

Equipped with snow making machines and other modern facilities, our resorts are not dependent on the whims of the weather. Improvements on all of them since last winter have greatly enhanced their ability to handle the ever-increasing crowds.

Since all are easily reached on paved highways, and have quite ideal natural settings, and a clientele picked from millions within easy driving distance, it is little wonder that Oakland County jumps to the top, as it has in many other classifications.

Their many friends in Pontiac and vicinity will be glad to learn that Major and Mrs. David M. Paton have been promoted to the command of Flint's Salvation Army Citadel Corps. They were formerly located at Royal Oak.

Word comes to me from Postmaster

Leroy G. Hohman of North Branch that a new post office building has been authorized for that neighboring Lapeer County village.

Usually the first to report pussy willow blossoms.

Mrs. Geraldine Feishaw of Oxford comes through with her 1961 glad tidings. They're on a bush in a swamp beside Oak Hill road, which always seems to beat the gun. Mrs. Feishaw sends me some samples.

A pair of robins are spending their fifth winter near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Arthur, just off Oakland Lake. They are always fed liberally by Mrs. Arthur who says she knows it is the same pair because one of them has only one foot.

Loading a free trip to the inaugural doings at Washington.

Donald Freemylee of Birmingham phones me that while he was a supporter of John F. Kennedy, his convictions were not strong enough for him to accept the challenge of a friend to pay all costs of the trip in a wager.

The family dog in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Feichman of Waterford will not eat bread unless it is buttered, or be seen a knife passed over it in buttering fashion.

Everybody, irrespective of political party, will heartily agree with Mrs. Grace Youngley of Rochester, who phones that she considers the farewell address of President Dwight D. Eisenhower to be the greatest classic of the ages.

Public Funds for Private Schools?

WASHINGTON—Nearly $10 billion for education—for schools and colleges, for buildings, for teachers' salaries—that's what a task force has recommended to President-elect Kennedy as an over-all program to be carried out in the next five years. This recommendation unwittingly raises certain aspects not even permitted standing room for prospective skiers, at some of the resorts in the Pontiac area.

ing, the board of regents of New York State announced that it had recommended to Gov. Rockefeller a plan whereby $18.2 million a year would be given by the state to private colleges and universities to help them expand.

To bypass constitutional difficulty about granting aid to private institutions which teach religious subjects, the plan would award $20 a year to each college student personally as a sort of scholarship.

President-elect Kennedy said during the last campaign: "Federal aid should only go to public schools. The principle of church-state separation precludes aid to parochial schools, and private schools enjoy the abundant resources of private enterprise."

Kennedy may not venture to back away from that position for fear of criticism, but it raises a question of whether, if Richard Nixon had been elected president, he might have urged the action that New York State now is considering. (Copyright 1961)

Dr. William Brady Says:

Calcium and D One Way to Combat Adult Tetany

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY
"Your suggestions have helped me in many instances—live cramps, pruritus greatly relieved, hunger pain stopped. But tetany does not seem to be helped, although I take 5 calcium capsules daily and make every effort to get a high calcium diet." (G.S.B.)

It would be interesting to know, sir, what symptoms and signs indicate that you have tetany.

A symptom is any change from the normal condition or function perceptible to the patient. A sign is any change from the normal condition or function discovered by the physician at his patient.

Dr. Brady's examination of the patient.

A heart murmur heard by the physician doesn't necessarily signify heart disease and neither does a complaint of weakness or breathlessness on exertion or sudden fainting or "attack."

Most pediatric textbooks give extremely brief descriptions of an infantile state called tetany. I have not examined every such textbook of recent vintage and I don't intend to. But I have studied enough of them to realize that those pediatric authorities have been led up the garden path by their predecessors.

It seems that an eminent pediatric back in the 19th century conjectured that tetany might be due to hypoparathyroidism (insufficient parathyroid gland hormone). This notion impressed the doctors deeply because they didn't know about the function of the parathyroid.

We don't know much about it today—yet. Please don't smile. Of course I mean physiologists and physicians know no more about the parathyroid gland than their 19th century predecessors did.

And so the pediatric authorities are still babbling about "disturbances in the function of the parathyroid glands and resulting tetany one of the mysteries of medicine."

In a pamphlet on Adult Tetany, available free for a limited time, I have personally emphasized the most familiar symptoms of adult tetany, namely, painful cramp in feet and legs, numbness in hands and arms, occurring in the night or perhaps on waking early in the morning, especially if one ventures to stretch.

What will relieve such a cramp is a medical question not in my province. But I CAN tell you with assurance gained from long study and experience, what causes adult tetany and what will prevent this and other manifestations of it.

So how should a fellow get ready for an exam?

HOW TO STUDY

It is best to begin the very first meeting of each new course.

If you can find out in advance the text that will be used, get your book even ahead of that first class meeting, for this is how the "A" students often "jump the gun."

Voice of the People:

'Blue Cross-Blue Shield Rates Must Be Controlled'

The 3.5 million citizens of Michigan who are insured by Blue Cross-Blue Shield hospitalization insurance should oppose the proposed increase in premium rates which are already exorbitant.

If Blue Cross-Blue Shield is now operating at a loss, no they claim, how can they possibly offer more so-called "bringe benefits" for the proposed increase which is supposed to cover their current losses?

Each individual who will be affected should write Frank Blackford, Commissioner of Insurance, Lansing, stating his objections. If we deluge his office we may at least hold the line on rates.

'Parents Could Help Cut Down Taxes'

I find it hard to believe that school buses are to be used to transport children to bowling games. It seems a child's education is not complete unless he can bowl.

I am sick of paying taxes to send children to the things parents should. Because mothers are too busy or too stupid to teach their children to bowl, taxpayers must accept the responsibility. Parents can no longer provide recreation so the taxpayer must again assume the expense of Junior's playtime.

Let's do our job and let the government get back to the job for which it was created. Perhaps then we older people won't be forced out of our homes because we cannot pay taxes to support a top-heavy government.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Thursday, Jan. 19, the 19th day of the year with 346 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1738, James Watt, discoverer of the power of steam, was born.

In 1807, Robert E. Lee, commander in chief of the Confederate armies, was born at Stratford, Va.

In 1900, American writer Edgar Allan Poe was born.

In 1939, French painter Paul Cezanne was born.

In 1881, Jay Gould and William Vanderbilt organized the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Thought for today: American writer Edgar Allan Poe said: "Those who dream by day are cognate of many things which escape those who dream only by night."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Lists Good Study Methods

Terry is stressed, for he knows that a lot of smart students get confused and rate low grades just because they don't know the science of how to study properly. Scrapsheet this case and be sure to send for the booklet below. It can raise your grades on your next final exam.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Dr. Crane, T. aged 19, is a college freshman.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I'm scared about final exams, for here at the state university they try to weed out students at the end of the first semester."

"Although I read widely and study most of the night, I am never sure of myself, and often I get a lower mark just because I am confused and unsteady."

"So how should a fellow get ready for an exam?"

HOW TO STUDY

It is best to begin the very first meeting of each new course.

If you can find out in advance the text that will be used, get your book even ahead of that first class meeting, for this is how the "A" students often "jump the gun."

Most people figure it will be a week before the bulk of the class get their textbooks, so they don't even attempt to "bump up" on the book assignments the first few days.

But in modern colleges, the competition is keen. It is like that on the Olympic track field where two equally speedy runners may be lined up for a race.

The one who gets the jump on the other may then retain that advantage the full 100 yards!

So "jump the gun" by getting your textbook early. Then thumb through the entire book, taking 30 minutes just to turn the pages and get a general idea of its coverage.

ACTIVE vs. PASSIVE LEARNING

Keep a notebook at hand and compile a running quiz on your daily assigned reading. This involves "active" vs. "passive" learning.

For it will waken you at least once or twice per page as you take your pen and jot down a true-false statement or formulate a four-answer item.

You will also find that many long paragraphs lack specific dates, rules, laws or other factual data.

They are what we term "fluff." In the textbook "bacon." Your quiz items are the "bacon" or "lean." Sometimes an entire page is just verbal "fluff" without a single item you can phrase in a true-false manner.

As you compile each quiz item, list the correct reply in front. Then include in parentheses the exact page where the data is located.

And underline the key passages in your textbook with a red or green pen, so they will stand out from the page.

Suppose you are taking a course in applied psychology, using my college textbook, "Psychology Applied." Here are a couple of samples of the true-false and four-answer forms.

T-43 Aristotle was the greatest psychologist before Christ. (P. 5)

F-2 Dr. Doyle's survey of surgical operations showed that 60 per cent were totally unnecessary. (P. 712)

Fidel's Cabinet Needles U.S.

Cuban Employees at Guantanamo Must Get Special Permits

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's cabinet needed the United States today with a series of new decrees.

In a session lasting until after midnight, the cabinet:

1. Ordered all Cubans and foreigners employed on the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo and living outside the base to get special work permits from the Cuban government.

2. Ordered all other persons entering the base—entirely Cubans—travelling with it—to get special permits.

3. Ordered drastic changes in the Spanish-American War Memorial in Havana.

4. Decried Cuban citizenship for Laura Meneses de Alfoa Campos, wife of a Puerto Rican nationalist leader imprisoned by the United States for urging the overthrow of the U.S. government.

5. Decried Cuban citizenship for Juan Jaimes, another Puerto Rican nationalist leader.

6. Ordered dissolution of the Cuban American Cultural Institute charging it has been converted into a propaganda outlet for the State Department.

Nearly 1,000 Cuban nationalists work at the base and almost all of them live outside. In 1954, the last year for which records are available, they were paid nearly $7 million in wages. In addition, the base in 1954 bought $1.2 million worth of Cuban produce and other goods.

"Major interests in defense of the national economy and territorial integrity, evidenced by North American imperialism, aggression require adoption of all measures for protection of those interests," the cabinet declared.

Next Week at Cranbrook

Danish Envoy to Unveil Exhibit

Count Kjeld Gustav Knuth-Winterfeldt, Denmark's ambassador to the United States, will unveil the exhibit, "Two Centuries of Danish Deep Sea Research," at Cranbrook Institute of Science, Long Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills, a week from today. The public is invited to the 4 p.m. opening.

The exhibit, a survey of ocean studies made by Danish scientists, will continue at Cranbrook through Feb. 25.

It is sponsored by the Carlsberg Foundation of Copenhagen and the Smithsonian Institution and has been displayed at the Smithsonian in Washington, D.C., and Harvard University. Cranbrook is the third and final place selected for the exhibit's American tour.

From a modest beginning in 1821, at a time when many parts of the world remained unexplored, ocean study by Denmark developed into the first expedition by the oceanographic ship Galathea which circumnavigated the world in 1845-47.

In addition to the historical survey, the exhibit shows examples of deep sea animals. Some are from the ocean trenches, from depths of 20,000 feet to more than 30,000 feet, including the Mariana Trench in the Philippine Sea, deep-sea spot in all the oceans. Specimens from this and some from other great depths are the very first discovered.

Featured is a "missing link" in evolution, a mollusk called Neogitina galathea which belongs to a primitive group known before only as fossils in sediments more than 350 million years old.

"It ranks," says a Galathea report, "among the greatest zoological discoveries of this century" and may be considered a living fossil, one of the most remarkable known to science.

Patrons for the Danish exhibit include James A. Beresford, Marshall Fredericks, Alfred E. Grann, Harvey Hansen, C. B. Larsen, William A. McElhatte, Robert E. Nielsen and Robert Vanderkloot and their wives, and Stephen M. Stackpole and F. N. Takis. The institute of science is open daily, 2 to 5 p.m.

Following the public unveiling, Count Knuth-Winterfeldt will be honored at a dinner at the Kingsley Inn at 1:30 p.m.

For further information, residents have been asked to call the director Byron J. Merritt of 325 Asen St.

BALANCE It? You Can Hardly Even LIFT the Thing!What a Budget . . . Taxes Both Purse and Imagination

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Like eternity, infinity, relativity and bathroom plumbing, the federal budget cannot be comprehended by the finite mind.

At least, not by the male finite mind.

There may be a few women who can grasp it, with all of its implications and ramifications, but that is only because that female minds money tree, the Green Thumb is not as important as the green back.

I have been thinking mainly about its dramatic possibilities. There is an abundance of material available in the budget, provided the right medium is employed.

The legitimate theater, I believe, is out. I doubt any modern playwright could adapt it for the stage. Even a Shakespeare would have trouble with the third act.

It might be suitable for one of those wide screen, stereophonic, three-hour movies, if enough extras could be rounded up and Marilyn Monroe could be persuaded to play the part of the dollar mark.

But the ideal medium, it seems to me, is television. I visualize a series of 30-minute programs called "Playhouse, $80 billion." And let's do them live and in color.

Such a show would be almost certain to win an Emmy Award except for one thing. There might be enough gold left in Fort Knox to make the statuette.

Loves Clickity Clack

LEEDS, England (UPI) — Alfred Musgrave spent a whole week of his vacation—night and day—including British trains on a $1.44 ticket because the "clickity clack" is sweet music to me.

Tight Security for Inauguration

New President Will Be Protected by Force of 5,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Security precautions as rigid as any ever imposed in this security-conscious capital will be directed at thwarting any potential assassin in Friday's inaugural crowds.

About one million persons are expected. The total security force will top 5,000.

Secret Service agents will stand on every rooftop, peer down every manhole, and scan every human cluster along the inaugural route between the Capitol and the White House.

Other agents will be hidden beneath the special platforms on which the incoming president will stand—at the capitol where John F. Kennedy will take the oath and at the White House where he will watch the inaugural parade.

BEGIN EARLY

Preparations for inaugural security began under Secret Service coordination soon after last November's election. While fewer than 200 Secret Service agents will be involved, they will get help from several thousand Washington police, hundreds of servicemen and a team of plainclothesmen from Washington and other cities.

The Secret Service is also counting on spectators to help protect Kennedy.

"If anyone in the crowd should make a threatening move," said Chief Inspector Michael Tortina, "you can be sure someone nearby would have the courage and alertness to act."

HOLDS HIS HEAD — Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., a man with a sharp eye on government money matters, sits at his desk in his Capitol Hill office looking over a copy of the new budget, submitted Monday to the Congress by President Eisenhower. The federal budget calls for expenditures of $1 billion of dollars during the fiscal year 1962.

is itself an instrument that passes understanding.

For the rest of us, any lengthy period of contemplating the budget tends to overtax our credulity and undermine our sanity. This statement, I might add, is not based on any abstract theory but on personal experience.

I spent a couple of days this week immersed in the federal budget for fiscal 1962 and I began to get a touch of what the skin divers refer to as "rapture of the deep."

In this condition, the diver (budget reader) becomes dangerously fascinated by his surroundings and forgets to come up for oxygen. I made it back to the surface just in time.

COUNTLESS ADDITIONS

The budget, as you know, is as horticulture (in growing a the product of countless hours of preparation by countless numbers of government workers. No single individual could think of that many ways to spend that much money.

It is drafted by the Budget Bureau, which turns it over to the President, who hands it to Congress. The President knows that Congress doesn't want it either, but it gives him some good exercise.

I mean, the budget is not only difficult to understand but hard to lift. The popular paperback edition weighs in excess of four pounds.

There are many ways of looking at the budget. As literature (strong characterization but weak plot), as drama (good opening soliloquy but lacks suspense), and as horticulture (in growing a

Delay Examination of 2 Pontiac Men

An examination of two Pontiac men charged with assault with intent to rob while armed was adjourned in Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Patrick Daly's court yesterday as a report from the crime laboratory at Lansing had not arrived.

Edward E. Farnsworth, 24, of 83 Maines Ave., and William N.

Shubert, 27, of 41½ Baldwin Ave., have been accused of attempting to hold up Otis Pilbury, 63, of 166 Strathmore Ave. outside Bob's Chicken House at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads last Friday.

One of the men is said to have struck Pilbury on the head, and then the two fled. Pilbury said one of the men fired three shots at him when he gave chase.

Both of the men were arrested near the scene by Waterford Township police within minutes after the assault.

RETURNS TO SHOW BUSINESS — Barbara Frederick Crosby, the first of Bing Crosby's showgirl daughters-in-law to return to performing, gets some attention from Rock Hudson between scenes of the movie "Lover, Come Back." Husband Lindsay Crosby, one of Bing's four grown sons, occasionally tends their baby while Barbara is at the studio attending to her reactivated career.

Legal Aid Society Reports 879 Cases

In its first year of business the Oakland County Legal Aid Society had a booming business. Norman F. Kapcia, attorney for the society, opened a year ago Wednesday, said there were 879 cases opened during the year, of which 887 have been disposed of to date.

Kapcia made the first annual report to the society's board of directors Tuesday.

Established by the Oakland County Bar Association late in 1960, the society, with offices at 221 National Building, assists those persons with legal difficulties, only if they show they are unable to afford an attorney. No fees are charged.

Kapcia said the total number of cases opened were broken down into 733 with economic problem, 489 with family problems, 81 dealing with property matters, and 86 miscellaneous.

He said 353 cases were referred from other attorneys, judges or the Friend of the Court. There were 201 appearances in the officers after recommendations from social agencies, 16 came from employers, 1 from a previous client of the society, and 308 represented other referrals.

Kapcia said 538 cases required consultation only, 21 required con-

U.S. Keeping B52s on Alert Constantly

OMAHA, Neb., AP — Strategic Air Command now has B52 bombers on an around-the-clock airborne alert in keeping, its commander says, with United States policy of preparedness to reduce to an absolute minimum time required to respond to an attack on the nation.

Gen. Thomas S. Power, in announcing the airborne alert Wednesday, did not say how many bombers are in the air at any given time and SAC headquarters would neither confirm or deny the presence of nuclear weapons on the aircraft.

All combat ready crews are being utilized in the program that keeps each bomber in the air for a 24-hour period. Refueling is by KC-135 jet stratotankers. About two dozen bases scattered over the nation are being used.

Horse Throws Actress

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — TV actress Kathy Nolan, a star of the "Real McCoy" TV series, was thrown from a horse Wednesday during the filming of a sequence for the show. Miss Nolan, 26, was hospitalized for observation.

Giesler, 74, in Hospital to Rest 'Til Saturday

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood attorney Jerry Giesler, 74, taken ill again Tuesday, probably will remain in Mt. Sinai Hospital until the end of the week.

Giesler, troubled in recent years by a heart condition, was reported resting nicely Wednesday. The musky, or bog area, of northern Canada covers an estimated half million square miles.

Ike Won't Tell GOP What to Do, He Claims

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower said Wednesday he has no intention of lecturing Republicans on how to run the party.

Eisenhower told his final news conference in the White House, however, that later he may give the country the benefit of some of the ideas he has developed in the presidency.

The President said he regards the Republican party as a necessity for the country and said he believes in its general policies.

He said if the leaders want his advice he will be available. But he added firmly he won't be around trying to lecture them on how to conduct party business.

SHOOTS HIM FAMILY — Thomas B. Clark, 37, a GM engineer, shot five members of his family Tuesday as they slept in their Grand Blanc home, and then shot himself, according to Undersheriff Richard Shannon. Drost were his wife Janet, 37; Kathleen, 11; Karen, 6; Karl, 12; and Kurt, 8. He considered himself a failure.

Essay Contest Is Announced

Police Tell Prize Plan; Students May Write on Halting Delinquency

The second annual essay contest for Michigan high school students on the subject, "The Prevention of Juvenile Delinquency," was announced today by the Fraternal Order of Police, State Lodge of Michigan.

Essays from Pontiac area high school students are being accepted at the Public Safety Building by Pontiac Police Sgt. Eugene Hendren, president of the FOP Pontiac Lodge 122, for forwarding to the state organization.

"Through its statewide membership," Hendren said, "the FOP is constantly striving to prevent conditions that breed delinquency. It is our belief that students participating in this contest will be better able to avoid situations leading to breaking the law."

A total of $600 in cash prizes will be awarded the winners of the 15 best essays. The first place winner will receive $300, second place winner $150, and third place winner $50. There will be 10 prizes of $10 each.

All high school English departments have been mailed copies of contest rules. Essays must not exceed 1,500 words and must be submitted by March 1. Winners will be announced May 15.

Interested students may obtain information from Hendren at the Public Safety Building.

4 Committees in GOP Hands

Oakland's Sen. Roberts Chairman of Elections Group at Lansing

LANSING (U-P) — Four of five key Senate committees remained under the chairmanship of conservative Republicans today. With one exception, House committee assignments are still pending.

The sole Senate chairman not a member of the old guard Republican bloc is John W. Fitzgerald of Grand Ledge, who captured the leadership of the business committee in a showdown floor vote. Fitzgerald won his assignment in a power struggle between conservative Republicans who wanted the chairmanship of the business committee, and a group composed mainly of Senate newcomers.

Sen. Harold E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, who voted for Fitzgerald, was named chairman of the elections committee, the same post held by his predecessor, L. Harvey Lodge.

Chairmen of four other key Senate committees are veteran legislators. Sen. Elmer R. Porter, Blissfield, was named chairman of the appropriations committee; Sen. Carlton H. Morris, Kalamazoo, judiciary; Sen. John P. Smokey, Coldwater, labor; Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings, Holland, taxation.

Other Senate chairmanships: Agriculture—Sen. Harry Litwisch, Benton Harbor; Conservation—Sen. Charles T. Prescott, Prescott; Corporations—Sen. John H. Stahl, Belding; Education—Sen. Lynn O. Francis, Midland.

Health and welfare—Sen. Lloyd A. Stephens, Scottville; Highways—Sen. Haskell L. Nichols, Jackson.

Insurance—Sen. Clarence F. Graebner, Saginaw; Liquor control—Sen. Paul C. Younger, Lansing; Municipalities—Sen. Charles R. Feenstra, Grand Rapids.

Public utilities—Sen. Stanley G. Thayer, Ann Arbor; Retirement—Sen. Arthur A. Dehm, Unionville; State affairs—Sen. Perry W. Greene, Grand Rapids.

Veterans' affairs—Sen. William G. Milliken, Traverse City. In the House, Rep. Arnell Engstrom, R-Traverse City, was named chairman of the ways and means committee.

GOP Gentle to Swainson Program

LANSING (U-P) — Republican legislators have given a cautiously friendly reception to Gov. Swainson's record $482.2 million state spending program today.

"Generally not too far out of line except for his capital outlay bonding proposal," said Rep. Allan Green, R-Kalamazoo, House GOP floor leader.

"Within the realm of reason," said Rep. Russell E. Strang, R-Clare.

Most GOP leaders declined comment until they have had a chance to study the budget figures in detail.

The Democratic governor's proposal to finance a $38.5 million state building program with revenue bonds issued by an expanded public building corporation drew the heaviest fire.

"It would be a grab bag and remove responsibility from bond financing," said Rep. Rollo G. Conlin, R-Tipton, chairman of the House Taxation Committee.

Capital outlay, he said, should be financed only through general appropriations or bond issues approved by the voters and financing specific projects.

"The retirement costs would be higher than with general obligation bonds," he added. Green said Swainson should have allowed a $15 to $20 million contingency allowance to take care of unexpected financial obligations.

Practical Nurses Graduating Tonight

Pontiac General Hospital's latest class of practical nurses will graduate tonight from the Ann Arbor School of Practical Nursing.

Out of a class of seven, six will work at Pontiac General, where they received most of their field experience. They are:

Lavon Branner, 45, Earlewood Blvd.; Doris Hand, 1138 Edgewood Drive, Waterford Township; Adella Tynes, 67 Orion St.; Joyce DeWeese, 694 Joelyn Ave.; Irene Ennis, 76 N. Tassanilla St.; and Helen Zaremba, 5710 Winkler Mills Road, Oakland Township. Also graduating is Marjorie Spurber, 2020 N. Telegraph Road.

Elected Rail President
CLEVELAND — Harry A. Sanders has been elected president of the Detroit and Toledo Shore Line Railroad, succeeding F. A. Gaffney. Mr. Sanders is also vice president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad, with headquarters in Detroit.

Voice of America Set to Carry Inaugural

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A detailed description of John F. Kennedy's inauguration Friday will be carried to millions of persons around the world by U.S. Information Agency broadcasts, films, still pictures and radio-teletype dispatches.

The oath-taking ceremony and parts of other events will be broadcast live in English over 48 of the Voice of America's transmitters.

Most of the Voice's 35 foreign language stations also will carry portions of the events live or recorded.

Detroit Woman Says She Was Assaulted

DETROIT (U-P) — A 38-year-old woman told police she was raped last night by a man who threatened her with a knife.

The woman said the man approached her as she walked to her Detroit home and forced her at knifepoint into a vacant lot where he attacked her.

She said her assailant was a Negro, about 20 years old and weighing about 150 pounds. The woman is white.

Vehicle License Taxes Up in State

LANSING—During 1960 Oakland County vehicle owners paid $5,101,891.50 to register 327,572 units.

It was reported this week by Secretary of State James M. Hare.

"This total is $88,361.98 more than the 1959 figure," Hare said. "A year ago Oakland County residents paid $5,013,529.82 in weight taxes on 312,318 vehicles."

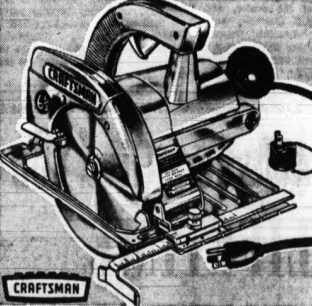

In releasing the Oakland County figure, Hare pointed out that weight tax collections in Michigan had increased $655,644.38.

THAT SHE BLOWS — California "whalers" took this photo recently off San Diego, Calif., on one of the frequent "expeditions" led by Dr. Raymond Gilmore. Dr. Gilmore is an authority on whales and for the past three years has been taking paying passengers out to the calving grounds nearby. So far this season

2,300 customers have made the three-hour trip and only once has Dr. Gilmore made a "dry run." The whales make a 12,000-mile journey south from the arctic each year, passing close to the California shore.

Count Basie to Play Jazz for Kennedy

By PHYLIS BATTLE
WASHINGTON — Count Basie is set to play at this year's inaugural doings, and there's no one happier for him than a tip veteran of the "big ball sound," fellow named Lionel Hampton.
"The Count's gonna play for Mr. Kennedy? Gee, that's great," cried the Hamp, who was a master of Truman's first inaugural and both of Eisenhower's.
Asked if he'd been invited to play again at this year's inaugural, he grinned and snapped his fingers in rhythm. "Ya, ma'am," he syncopated. "You see... this time... I was... on the other side."

Politically, yes. But morally and spiritually, Lionel is on the side of everybody except subversives and atheists.

For instance, while John Fitzgerald Kennedy is being sworn to the presidency, Hamp will be in Rome at the invitation of Pope John XXIII.

For 15 years, he has taken his big band to play benefits for the Catholic Church, raising literally millions of dollars through his artistry.

JFK's Success Is Laid to Firm Party Lines

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Party lines held firmer in the past national election than at any time since 1948 despite shifts by voters because of the religious factor, the University of Michigan Survey Research Center reports.

Prof. Angus Campbell, director of the center, and Prof. Philip E. Converse, the center's study director, discussed the November election at a campus political science roundtable. Campbell said incoming President John F. Kennedy was elected because fewer Democrats voted for the Republican candidates than when President Eisenhower ran in 1952 and 1956.

He said more Democrats defected to the GOP than Republicans to the Democratic party, as was true in the two previous elections, but there was a relative drop in defections. This made the election close.

One of the puzzles of modern living is what the children of today, when they become parents, will tell their youngsters they had to do without. Thousands of women could add years to their age — simply by telling the truth. — Earl Wilson.

Parking Meters Revenue Is Up

1960 Brings In Nearly $125,000 With Most From Downtown

Pontiac's parking meters brought in nearly $125,000 in revenues last year, according to figures from Finance Director Marvin Alward.

The 1,471 meters in parking district No. 1 brought in $106,285, Alward said. This compares with $105,305 the previous year.

District 1 embraces the downtown street meters and the municipal parking lots.

The 1961 payments on the 1956 revenue bonds for district No. 1 comes to $96,913, said Alward. This means that about $9,000 remains in the fund from last year.

Counted separately are the revenues from the 257 meters in the Pontiac General Hospital area. These totaled $17,171 last year. The Pontiac General Hospital lot was not financed through the revenue bond issue.

Police Lodge Elects Hendren President

Pontiac Police Sgt. Eugene Hendren has been elected president of the Fraternal Order of Police, Police Lodge 132, for the coming year.

Hendren, 39, of 449 E. Tompkins Ave., has been a Pontiac officer nine years. He succeeds Det. Robert M. MacNeil, who will serve as treasurer.

Other officers for the coming year are Sgt. Lawrence E. LaBar, vice president; Patrolman Gerald Savarre, secretary; Lt. William F. Nesbitt, conductor; and Patrolman William G. Davis, guard.

Veteran Newsman Dies in Battle Creek

BATTLE CREEK (UPI)—George B. Dulliver, Battle Creek newspaperman and publisher for 63 years, died here Wednesday.

Dulliver began his newspaper career at the age of 15 as a reporter for the former Battle Creek News.

In 1915, he and Nelson E. Gossie became publishers of the consolidated Moon Journal, which was purchased by the present Enquirer and News in 1940.

Dulliver continued with the Enquirer and News in various editorial capacities, and up until a few months ago was the newspaper's theater, music and art critic.

Catholic Board Pledges to Help in Aiding Youth

LANSING (AP)—The board of directors of the Catholic Charities of Michigan has pledged its support here to the Michigan Youth Commission and allied agencies in coping with social and economic problems affecting youth.

Bishop Joseph H. Albers of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Lansing, board president said.

"Society can make no greater investment than in providing proper care and treatment to the many children in our midst who find themselves in a disadvantaged position."

Compacts Fail Abroad, Ike Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. compact car — although it succeeds at home — apparently has been a bust abroad, President Eisenhower's 1961 economic report indicated Wednesday.

The report shows that in the January-October period of 1960 — just before the introduction of the major compact — U.S. exports of passenger cars and chassis were valued at $221 million.

But in the same months of 1960, when the compacts entered the market in force, U.S. exports of new cars had shrunk to $215 million.

"This decline in passenger car exports," the report says, "appears in part related to the fact that U.S. production has not been geared more closely to the types of cars demanded abroad."

Within the domestic market, it adds, "U.S. automobiles have improved their position relative to that of foreign cars." Imports of new automobiles in January-October 1960 were valued at $250 million, but declined to $244 million in the same months of 1960.

Anniversary Speaker

LANSING (AP)—Gov. J. Howard Edmondson of Oklahoma, who led the fight for the adoption of Civil Service in his state in 1950, will be the featured speaker at a dinner-line in South Australia runs 300 feet Jan. 25 marking the 20th miles without a curve.

Anniversary of the establishment of Michigan's State Civil Service

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The temperature reached a record 84 for the date in Los Angeles Wednesday. The previous mark was 82 in 1930.

Inaugural Day Wind Can't Top Two-Hat Jack

NEW YORK (UPI)—President-Elect John F. Kennedy Wednesday bought two black silk top hats to wear at his inauguration.

The president-elect selected the toppers at his Carle Hotel suite from among several brought by a fitter and hattermaker from the Cavanaugh Hat Co.

Fitter John Garstide said Kennedy chose two hats so as to have a reserve for emer-gencies.

"He was well cat-tailed and looked terrific," Garstide said. He said they had no trouble fitting the president-elect because his head "is as near a perfect oval as possible."

Newsman Stand and Clap Long

President Trim, Healthy as He Says Goodby

By RYMAN MORIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower smiled, waved, raised his arms in the double-V for Victory gesture, and disappeared through the door.

It was his last news conference as President of the United States.

And it was one of his best, a moving, meaningful final appearance before probably the biggest gallery of correspondents in all the eight years they have been gathered to question him.

In his physical appearance, he looked trim, ruddy, radiantly healthy.

WAS AUTHORITATIVE

In manner, he was resolute, concise, authoritative. Only once or twice did he pause to reach for a word.

The shy, almost effusive expression came into his eyes when he said, "I don't see what the reporters could do to a president."

He looked a little bit like an en-

First, some disappointment. He had not reached the goal he aimed for eight years ago — true world peace. He looked almost sad when he said this.

(Then, in a mercurial change,

Finally, he is going to take some time for "reflection" and to put his ideas into perspective. Then, he indicated, he will have things to say on governmental and political matters.

When his last word was spoken, the jam-packed correspondents rose and began clapping. They clapped until the door closed.

THEIR FAREWELL TALK — President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon talk Wednesday in the President's White House office following the President's last news conference. Nixon, who had been vice president throughout the eight years of Eisenhower's presidency, called for a farewell chat. They are seated close together on a sofa. Eisenhower looked completely relaxed.

terfater, delivering lines that he said with a wry grin.

But when he talked about the Cold War, what he called the "intransigence" of the Russians, and the problems of government, the fun faded from his expression. He became grave, emphatic. Once, he tapped sharply on the base of the microphones to stress a point.

From all that he said, three facts emerged.

Standards Rise; U. of M. Rejects Many Applicants

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — University of Michigan admissions standards are continuing to rise. Director of Admissions Clyde Vroman reports.

Vroman said that out of 9,000 applicants for admission as freshmen last year, only 3,381 were accepted.

In the current issue of the Michigan Alumnae, Vroman also noted that there has been a rise of 14 per cent in the proportion of U. of M. freshmen in the top 10 per cent of their high school classes.

"Here at Michigan we're getting a very serious-minded student body," Vroman noted.

Red Reforms Build Up Nikita

Khrushchev Gives Up One-Man Control, Tells of Farm Troubles

MOSCOW (UPI) — A week of startling statements by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev made it clear today that he is the unchallenged leader of the Soviet Union but is giving up one-man control of world communism.

Diplomatic observers said Khrushchev gained stature by bluntly exposing Soviet agricultural weaknesses before the powerful Communist Party Central Committee and ordering sweeping reforms to raise the standard of living of his people.

At the same time, he has proclaimed in a speech to Russian Communist leaders that all Communist parties are equal and that Moscow no longer claims leadership of the movement.

The central committee meeting on the Soviet agricultural problem ended Wednesday. Khrushchev's 20,000-word speech, dealing with the recent Communist summit conference, was published Wednesday night.

The observers pointed out that Khrushchev confidently acted from a position of strength in attacking incompetent and desiring officials during the committee meeting.

He added to his prestige by revising the grandiose steel production plans and ordering more rearmaments and consumer goods pumped into the villages.

Before closing his eight-day debate, the powerful central committee approved a Khrushchev plan for decentralizing the farm program in an attempt to boost production.

The plan is expected to shift control of agriculture from the central ministry to regional councils.

THE '61 CHEVY BRINGS

JET-SMOOTH TRAVEL DOWN TO EARTH

HERE'S WHAT GIVES CHEVY ITS JET-SMOOTH RIDE—

Full Coil suspension—Nothing cushions like a coil and Chevy's one of the few cars to give you a coil spring at every wheel. Precision-balanced wheels—Each wheel and tire assembly is precision-balanced before installation for smoother rolling with less vibration. Sound-tuning insulation—Roof, side walls, doors, instrument panel, hood, floor, and luggage compartment are carefully insulated against drumming and vibration. 82 built-in "shock absorbers"—The chassis is cushioned against shock and shakes at every vital point. Live rubber body mountings—The body is joined to the chassis by large butyl rubber cushions that further isolate the ride from the road.

Better just circle your dealer's block the first time you try a Jet-smooth '61 Chevy. Get anywhere near an open highway and he's liable never to see you again.

What we mean, Chevy's ride whets your yen to travel. Wins you over with its delightful coil-spring smoothness, its hushed comfort and light steering. You find yourself feeling sorry for people who buy higher priced cars, thinking they have to pay premium prices for a luxury ride.

That may have been true at one time, but not any more. Chevrolet's ride, its roadability, just doesn't take second place to anybody's. As for the other places people usually expect only from costly cars, nobody can beat Chevy's Body by Fisher for fine workmanship. Notice the roominess, too. Space to stretch out and relax, larger door openings, higher seats, and an easier loading deep-well trunk that handles suitcases as if they were handbags.

Unless you work for the manufacturer, can you think of a real good reason for buying a more expensive car? We can't.

Our Inaugural 'Doings' Democracy's Big Show

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The inauguration of a new U.S. President is democracy's biggest extravaganza.

It combines in one wildly colorful package the pomp and ceremony of a British coronation, the exuberance of a World Series crowd, the dazzling display of a Rose Bowl parade and the social whirl of a dozen debutante seasons.

All signs indicate that the inauguration of President John F. Kennedy, Friday, Jan. 20 will be the biggest and splashiest this capital has seen since Franklin D. Roosevelt took office in 1933 and told a depression-panicked nation that "the only thing we have to fear is fear itself."

The Inaugural Committee began by ordering construction of stands for 15,000 spectators along the 8-mile route of the inaugural parade. That figure was based on the demand for seats at Dwight D. Eisenhower's second-term inaugural in 1957. But the demand for tickets has been so great, from all parts of the country, that officials raised the seating order to 35,000 and then to 60,000.

In addition to the 60,000 persons who pay from $3 to $25 for the privilege of sitting on a hard wooden plank during the inaugural parade, upwards of 1 million others are expected to view the parade from office and hotel windows, rooftops, trees and standing room on the sidewalks.

Officials couldn't even estimate how many out-of-town visitors will pour into Washington for the three-day inaugural festivities, which started Wednesday.

But they were expecting, in the words of one harassed official, "a town-full—and then some."

Hotels are heavily booked and are requiring full cash payment in advance for these four days — Tuesday through Friday—from anyone who seeks to reserve a room at anytime during the inaugural period. The Inaugural Housing Bureau has lined up thousands of rooms in motels and rooming houses.

Railroads scheduled special trains, and airlines are laying on dozens of extra flights to accommodate the mass movement of loyal Democrats to Washington.

Disregarding the thousands of private parties which will be thrown in hotels, restaurants, homes and clubs, the first official event on the inaugural program was a "Reception for Distinguished Women" from 3 to 6 p.m. Wednesday. It was held in the National Gallery of Art, a palatial marble building facing Pennsylvania Avenue and the Mall.

Guests of honor were Mrs. John F. Kennedy and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson; President Kennedy's mother and sisters; Mrs. Kennedy's mother; the wives of cabinet officers; Democratic women members of Congress, and three former first ladies — Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Mrs. Harry Truman.

Three major events are scheduled for today. During the afternoon there will be a Governors' Reception.

CROWD HAS CHOICE

This evening, the inaugural crowd will have a choice. Those who like long-hair music at modest prices can attend the Inaugural Concert in Constitution Hall, featuring the National Symphony Orchestra with pianist Earl Wilde and violinist Mischa Elman as soloists.

Those who prefer Hollywood-style entertainment—and are willing to pay $100 per seat—will go to the vast National Guard Armory to see the Inaugural Gala, produced by Frank Sinatra, and featuring a large cast of stars including Joey Bishop, Harry Belafonte, Milton Berle, Nat Cole, Sammy Davis Jr., Ella Fitzgerald, Henry Fonda, Gene Kelly, Shirley Maclaine and Dean Martin.

The official swearing-in ceremony will take place at noon Friday in the great plaza of the U.S. Capitol building. This is the ceremony at which Kennedy takes his oath of office and delivers his inaugural address.

Relatively few of the inaugural visitors will be able to watch this historic event in person. The Secret Service doesn't like a crowd of standees at the outdoor ceremony at which the President will be exposed for more than an hour.

So admission to the ceremony is by ticket only, and there is room in the plaza for stands seating only about 8,000 persons.

Tickets to the ceremony are at a premium ("harder to get than 50-yard line seat at the Army-Navy game," according to one harassed congressman) and are being rationed on the basis of 12 for each senator, 8 for each House member.

But disappointed applicants will be able to watch the ceremony, along with millions of other Americans, on television.

The parade will begin immediately after the ceremony at the Capitol.

It's supposed to run for 2 hours and 25 minutes, but veterans of many inaugural parades laugh wearily at this optimistic time-table. They remember too many occasions on which the parade ran two or three hours overtime.

The main attractions, of course will be President Kennedy, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and their wives.

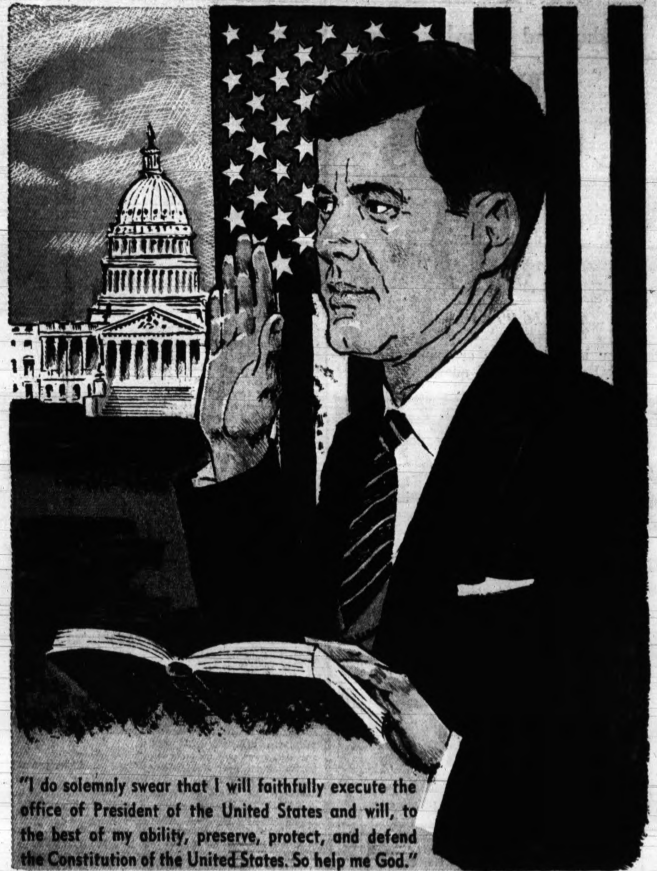

It has not been announced whether Dwight D. Eisenhower will ride in the parade with his young successor. But two other ex-presidents—Harry S. Truman and Herbert Hoover—have accepted invitations to share in the cheers of the crowd along historic Pennsylvania Avenue.

Kennedy, Johnson and their distinguished guests will ride in the first section of the parade, and will depart at a specially built reviewing stand in front of the White House, from which they will watch the remaining units go by.

Theme of the parade is "World Peace Through New Frontiers," and each of the floats will feature some aspect to the theme.

One of the military units in the parade will be a PT boat, last of its type in commission. Brought here from Panama City, Fla., it will be "floated" down Pennsylvania Avenue by veterans of the PT boat crew which Kennedy, then a Navy lieutenant, commanded in the Solomon Islands during World War II.

Each of the 50 states will have a section in the parade, led by its governor riding in a new convertible, and including "one band of not more than 100 members, one float, and one marching unit of not more than 200 persons," according to the official regulations.

Welcome Back, Dems; Capital Still the Same

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dear Democrats: Well, a lot of you have been away eight years but when you get back here Jan. 20 you won't find this old town changed much.

Same old pigeons in the park. Same old stables in the trees.

Same old traffic circles creating the same old confusion. We are building a new underpass at Washington Circle and have moved that statue of George on a horse until it's all over.

We've built about some new places—Gettysburg, Augusta and Palm Springs. We'll probably get used to Middleburg, Cape Cod and Palm Beach in time. And, speaking of words, we finalize, formalize and concretize things now, you realize.

JUST IN TIME

You're coming back just in time to get into the fuss stirring up about what kind of memorial to erect to Franklin D. Roosevelt. That seems appropriate for Democrats. We still haven't decided on the proper memorial for Teddy Roosevelt, but that's being left up to his children. We did erect one to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, a Republican. It's up on Capitol Hill.

There are a lot of new buildings around town and a lot of those old temporary "tempers" gone. Still a lot left, too. The government has been building great massive structures of stone and concrete with lots of windows in the modern manner. The new State Department addition down in Foggy Bottom is like that. The new airport 23 miles out in Virginia is a modernistic lulu, but it won't be ready for a while. It's named for the late secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, a Republican.

The old buildings haven't changed much. Since you left, we moved the east front of the Capitol out about 22 feet and cleaned it up. Makes the other buildings look dingy. There's a second Senate Office Building and the steel skeleton of a third office building for the House members.

Oh yes, we added a putting green to the White House lawn. But there's still plenty of boom for touch football out back. Most of the streets are gone, replaced by buses. But the tracks still run down Pennsylvania Avenue. We still call it "The Avenue"; the Capitol are is "The Hill." You remember. Snowflakes still throw us in a tizzy. Rain is almost as bad. And it's true about the man who said, "Just let somebody spit on the street in Washington, and traffic gets snarled."

Now, you remember the old town, don't you?

Expect Cash to Fill In at Inaugural

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Officials expect receipts from various inaugural events and souvenir sales to cover all costs, provide a $25,000 or $50,000 surplus for 1964 and leave a big contribution for charity.

Local merchants have put up $1,214,413 to underwrite the cost of the inaugural events. They will be repaid in full if inaugural chairman Edward H. Foley's forecast of a hefty surplus proves true. They lost $50,000 on President Eisenhower's 1957 inauguration.

The merchants also expect to reap a profit from the thousands of tourists flocking to the capital for John F. Kennedy's inauguration Friday.

The Democrats also hope to make money from their star-studded inaugural gala tonight, staged by Frank Sinatra and Kennedy's brother-in-law, actor Peter Lawford. Boxes are selling for $1,000 and the cheapest seat costs $100.

One of the biggest money makers for the inaugural committee will be the parade. All the 49-20 seats have been sold, bringing a top price of $25. More revenue will be collected from the five inaugural balls, all sold out.

Pay for Riding Floats Is Children's Insurance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Schoolchildren in the Washington area who ride floats in the inaugural parade are going to collect $1 apiece for the thrilling trip.

Inaugural officials explained that this would make the youngsters eligible for Workmen's Compensation Act payments in case of accidents.

Pope Puts Red Hat
on Four

By FRANK BRITTO

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today conferred the cardinal's red hat on Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter of St. Louis, Mo., and three other new prelates of the Roman Catholic Church.

The public consistory in St. Peter's Basilica, high point of four days of ceremony that swelled the College of Cardinals to 65 members, was attended by 29 previous cardinals, hundreds of bishops, archbishops and priests, and about 10,000 spectators.

Cardinal Ritter was the first to get his hat. As he knelt before the papal throne and two attendants held the broad-brimmed hat—or galero—over his head, Pope John intoned:

"For the praise of almighty God and the honor of the holy apostolic see, receive the red hat, the special badge of a cardinal's rank. By this you are to understand that you must show yourself fearless, even to the shedding of blood, in making our holy faith respected, in security peace of Christian people, and by promoting the welfare of the Roman church, in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

The same one-minute ceremony was performed in turn for the other new cardinals: Jose Humberto Quintero, archbishop of Caracas and Venezuela's first cardinal; Luis Concha Cordoba, archbishop of Bogota, Colombia, and Archbishop Giuseppe Ferrero, an Italian member of the Vatican Curia who is an expert on problems of the church in Latin America.

U.S. Project in Laos
Now Only a Stopgap

VIETNAME, Laos (AP) — The United States announced today its economic aid program in war-torn Laos is being changed to a stopgap operation with sharply reduced personnel.

John H. Tuhler, U.S. aid director for Laos, told a news conference a streamlined force of 60 American specialists will provide assistance in a small self-help projects.

At County Republican Meeting

Aid to Education Sparks Debate

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL, JR.

Only the controversial subject of federal aid to education sparked any sort of debate as Oakland County Republicans last night approved a package of 17 varied resolutions.

Meeting to elect delegates to the state convention next month, the local GOP closed out a four-hour convention by approving a plank favoring "limitation of federal aid to school construction and or the provision of equipment or other facilities."

After the resolutions committee, headed by C. Ray Ballard of Huntington Woods, urged striking it from the batch of resolutions, the delegation also agreed to restore

Bowles Would Keep Formosa

Tells Senators He Also Opposes Recognition of Red China

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of State-designate Chester Bowles told inquiring senators today the United States is "going to defend Formosa at whatever cost and whatever the risks."

Bowles also testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he not only opposes recognition of Red China as things now stand, but also sees no possibility that the United States would demand for such recognition.

The committee began its hearing on his upcoming nomination in a packed committee room. Scores stood outside unable to get in. Republicans forecast in advance a thorough exploration of his views on Red China.

Under questioning by Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., Bowles said the Chinese Communist leader, Mao Tse-tung, has imposed the condition that Formosa, Nationalist Chinese stronghold, must be a part of Communist China.

A proposal urging a study on a proposed 23rd amendment pulling the federal government from all business enterprises.

A setting point was that it might also eliminate the federal income tax.

Copies of the two pages of resolutions were distributed as the delegates filed into the Pontiac Central High School auditorium. Only corrections, additions or deletions were read by Ballard.

This touched off the debate on the subject of federal aid to education, climaxed by about three "stand-up" votes, one of which killed a motion to oppose all federal aid to education.

It went further to say that control and instruction should be the responsibility of state and local officials.

Ballard's oral report altered the first part to read that the limitation should be to "construction and/or the provision of equipment or other facilities."

Fred L. Morningstar, 4465 Major St., Drayton Plains, said this didn't express the opinion of those at the two public hearings at which the resolutions were drafted.

He moved keeping the resolutions as released to the delegates, believing this a "good realistic compromise."

Then Robert J. Henning of Avon Township lost in his move for the delegation to go on record opposing all such federal aid.

The convention, headed by the Gabrielle, formerly of New Orleans, for keeping their child in school in the face of integration turmoil in their city.

It was suggested that a committee be appointed at the state convention to analyze the law changes needed in the proposed constitutional convention, which again was biased by the local Republicans.

Another committee, one in study the state's educational system, was urged in the resolution on school financing.

Ballard's committee struck out a proposal to create a permanent labor-management committee to represent the public interest in collective bargaining sessions. No explanation was available.

Oakland Republicans urged a planned and equitable tax system to help restore the state's business climate.

In the remainder of the resolutions, past and present GOP candidates and party leaders were praised, including the endorsement of incumbent Supreme Court Justice John R. DeLoach and Harry Kelly, both up for re-election April 3.

Townpeople Aid
Family to Keep Control of Firm

NEW YORK (AP)—A struggle between corporate giants ended today with family management still firmly in control of Endicott Johnson Corp., the nation's No. 2 shoe-making concern.

The balance for victory was swung by rallying townpeople in Binghamton, Endicott, and Johnson City, N. Y., where company plants are located. In a massive demonstration of community loyalty, individuals and civic associations pledged dollars and cents to purchase the stock and support the family management.

Striking a seldom-heard note, such concerns, Albert A. List, head of the losing Glen Alden Corp., said he was "deeply moved" by the community and employee support that rallied behind E.J.

Auto Production
Stays Under 100,000

DETROIT (AP)—Auto production in the United States will slip below the 100,000 mark this week for the third time in four weeks, Automotive News reported today.

The trade paper estimated output of passenger cars at 99,925, a drop of almost 10 per cent from the 110,826 assemblies of a week ago. At this period a year ago production totaled 17,069 for the week.

Truck production was estimated at 18,469 units compared with 20,246 last week and 31,821 last year.

Arrest Youth for Arson in $100,000 Church Fire

RENSSELAER, N.Y. (UPI)—A 14-year-old boy was held for the children's court today for setting a $100,000 church fire, turning in the alarm and staying around to watch firefighters battle the general alarm blaze.

Police said the youngster, who was arrested at the scene of the fire at 85-year-old Episcopal Church of the Epiphany, had a record of past arrests. They said he admitted setting the church fire. Police said the boy, who came from a "very large family," had been given a warning on previous arson arrests.

Attends Texas Wing-Ding

Lyndon Goes Over Big

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson had the biggest reception of his political career Wednesday night—and he shook hands in double time to keep up with it. Thousands jammed the street outside and the corridors of the Statler-Hilton Hotel in a teeming crush to get to a big Texas wing-ding—the biggest thing so far in preinaugural partying.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn

and the Texas State Society of Washington invited 6,000 guests at $5 apiece to the affair. President-Elect John F. Kennedy got the party off to a good start with a 12-minute stint in the receiving line, flanked by yellow roses.

LOSERS WEIGHT
Johnson confided to the press-elect that he has lost 20 pounds since the election on a strict diet.

In the lineup were incoming Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, ex-President Harry Truman, his wife, Bess, and daughter, Margaret Truman Daniel.

Rusk was summarily ordered to move along by a policeman on receiving line duty who didn't recognize him. He got a shove as well, but took it all with a quiet smile.

Johnson shook hands for almost 24 hours, perspiring but game and smiling to the end.

Old Accident Cited in Murder-Suicide

GRAND BLANC, Mich.—A stunned and grieving mother believes the reason why her son killed his wife, his four children and himself, may be traced to a 1945 automobile accident which occurred 16 years ago.

Thomas B. Clark, 37, suffered a broken back in the 1945 mishap, his mother, Mrs. Azelle Osterander, 51, of Grand Blanc Township said Wednesday.

"Doctors always told me he should be careful of terrible pressure shock, not to have a job that would bother him," Mrs. Osterander said. "They told me to be prepared that he might have nerve trouble later in life."

Take New Stand on Red Talkers

Wayne Policy Toward Speakers Is in Accord With State Colleges

DETROIT (AP)—Wayne State University President Clarence B. Hilberry says Wayne's new policy on Communist speakers is in accord with those of Michigan's eight other state colleges and universities.

Hilberry told the WSU board of governors Wednesday that presidents of the state schools decided at a meeting Jan. 9 there was no need for a statewide policy on Communist speakers because present policies were virtually uniform.

Wayne's 10-year ban on Communist speakers was raised Sept. 14 to allow educators and others whose talks would be instructive to speak on campus. Protests led the board to direct Hilberry to seek a uniform policy.

In other matters, Leonard Woodcock, United Auto Workers vice president, was elected to his second straight term as board chairman, and the governors accepted gifts and grants totaling $12,000.

A new policy of admitting high school students on a provisional basis on completion of the 11th grade was announced. Under the new system, similar to those in effect at the University of Michigan and other schools, the students would have to maintain good grades through their senior year.

Smash Numbers Ring

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit vice bureau officers and Downriver officials raided 13 places Wednesday from Allen Park to Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. Police said they smashed a numbers ring doing a $3,000 daily business.

Gets Funds to Figure Out Where Male Lizards Are

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI)—Biologist Paul Maslin of the University of Colorado received a $9,000 National Science Foundation grant last night to find out where male whiptail lizards come from.

Maslin has been fascinated by whiptail lizards ever since 1958 when he collected 28 of them in Mexico and discovered all were females. He's still collecting, and his grant hasn't found a male.

Mrs. Howard M. O'Toole, Chapter CL, PEO Sisterhood, Pontiac (left) and Mrs. James Boaz, Chapter AW, Pontiac, chat with the three International Peace Scholarship students at the annual Founders' Day tea Wednesday in Birmingham Community House. Next to Mrs. O'Toole is Ujjwala Salve from India who is studying at Wayne University. Yurika Nakajima of Japan, a student at the University of Michigan, is at the right. Seated is Renuka Raghavan, also from India; she is studying at Merrill Palmer Institute.

PEO Sisterhood Group Holds Tea on Birthday

Oakland County Cooperative Group of PEO Sisterhood celebrated PEO's 52nd birthday Wednesday with a tea at the Birmingham Community House. It was also the 11th birthday of the cooperative which is made up of the 11 PEO chapters in Oakland County.

Mrs. J. W. Keasey of Chapter CL, Pontiac, chairman of Oakland County Cooperative, presided. She presented the guest speaker, Mrs. James N. Livermore of Chapter BA, Pleasant Ridge, who spoke on "More Stately Mansions." Mrs. Livermore is a past president of the Michigan State Chapter and at present is a member of the supreme finance committee.

Music was provided by Mrs. Victor Lindquist, Chapter CL, Oakland.

Honored guests included state board members, past state presidents and three International Peace Scholarship students who are studying in Michigan.

Since the end of World War II International Peace Schol-ships have been given each year to qualified foreign women students who want to attend colleges in the United States. At present, there are 74 such students in this country. In addition, PEO Sisterhood also maintains an educational loan fund to enable high school girls to borrow funds for their college education.

OWN COLLEGE

PEO owns and operates Cutty College in Nevada, Mo., a junior college for girls given to the Sisterhood by one of the seven founders. This is the only college in the United States so owned and operated. It is fully accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Founders Day arrangements were made by Mrs. Neil E. Warren and Mrs. L. S. King, Chapter P, Pleasant Ridge. Assisting these general chairmen were Mrs. W. A. Anderson, Chapter AK, Mrs. A. M. Colville, Chapter AV, Mrs. W. J. Teeuwissen Jr. and Mrs. Webster S. Francis, Chapter AW. Others were Mrs. Rodkey Overghied and Mrs. L. C. Van Boven, Chapter BO, Mrs. Seth Clawson, Chapter AX and Mrs. C. R. Colville, Chapter CO.

The PEO Sisterhood was founded on Jan. 22, 1869 by seven girls attending Iowa Wesleyan College in Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. Philanthropic and educational in character, PEO's primary objectives are cultural and educational. Membership in the group is by invitation and internationally numbers more than 120,000 in the United States and Canada.

Guest speaker for the 92nd birthday of the PEO Sisterhood, celebrated Wednesday, was Mrs. James N. Livermore (left), Chapter BA, of Pleasant Ridge. With her are Mrs. J. W. Keasey, Chapter CL, Pontiac, President of Oakland County Cooperative Group, Mrs. Webster S. Francis and Mrs. Paul Snover, both of Chapter AW, Pontiac.

'Forty' Help Celebrate Birthday

By MARY ELLEN MEAD
What started out as a small family dinner honoring Edward E. Wilson on his birthday last night suddenly snowballed, according to chic and peppy Mrs. W. into "40 people for his 40th."

The party took place in the Wilson home on Beach Road and among the guests were Mrs. Wilson's brothers-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Banks of Rochester, N.Y., who will remain in town over the long weekend.

Others included Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wilson and the C. E. Wilsons Jr. and Mrs. William B. Hargreaves, Mr. and Mrs. E. Curtis Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Klingler of Ann Arbor, the Gordon Crisingers, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer J. Bundy of Davisburg, Mr. and Mrs. James Sterling and the C. N. Rays of Meridian, Mr. and Mrs. John Emery, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Crisman of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Engstrand, Mr. and Mrs. William Brech, the Maynard Andrees and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Oglesby.

Mrs. Brech, Mrs. Andree and Mrs. Oglesby, along with their hostess, spent a portion of the evening enthusiastically planning a theater party to take place the end of the month at The Vanguard. All three are on the theater's executive committee and currently find this their most rewarding extracurricular activity. This month's show is "The Lady Not for Burning."

Preceding St. Duranton's formal dinner dance in the Pavilion Saturday night, President and Mrs. John H. Warner of Lakeside will be hosts at cocktails in their home. Among the guests will be board members James Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. Templeton Licklider, Mr. and Mrs. David Raymond, Mrs. Wes Wright, the Albert Remingtons, Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders and Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. M. Loid. Other St. Dominicans who'll also be cocktail hosts include Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Nelson of Henrietta, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Saunders of Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. O'Reilly of Pine Street and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tree of Kimberly.

With an eye to swelling its scholarship fund, American Field Service will sponsor an evening of six films Feb. 25 at Bloomfield High School. John Jay, internationally famous still photographer and at one time photographer for the Olympics, will come from his home in Williamstown, Mass. to show his breath-taking movies.

Mrs. G. H. Pitts of Wincroft Club is general chairman of the evening, and Birmingham women assisting her are Mrs. Charles Gruen, Mrs. Jerome Fink, Mrs. Ralph Heiler, Mrs. Howard Hallas, Mrs. Joseph Paenza, Mrs. David Dobson and Mrs. Mitchell Deeb.

Mrs. Philip DeBauten of Cranbrook Road entertained at cocktails and luncheon Monday honoring Mrs. Frank E. Egan of Franklin who, with Mr. Egan and Margaret Ann, have recently moved back from Bronxville, N.Y. Guests included Mrs. Bethel B. Kelley, Mrs. Donald S. Hutson, Mrs. William A. Reid, Mrs. H. Stuart Maise and Mrs. Charles H. Mayne.

White, With Floor-Length Cape

Jackie to Wear Simple Sheath

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy's gown for Friday night's inaugural ball is in sharp contrast to the usually fussy, full-skirted gowns worn by first ladies at inauguration balls.

It is a floor-length sheath with a simple, sleeveless and extremely blousy top.

The dress—which eventually may wind up among the memorabilia at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington—was made public today by the president-elect's press secretary, Pierre Salinger.

The very slim skirt is made of white silk peau d'ange in sheer silk veiled with white chiffon. The collarless, sleeveless bodice, richly embroidered in silk and brilliants, is fitted, but it is covered by a transparent, very full overblouse that puffs out like a cloud at the hipbone.

A Tango Could Lead to a Tangle

By The Emily Post Institute

Question: I've never had a date with a boy and I'm almost 17. A girl friend is coaxing me to go with her to a local dance hall because she thinks there we may meet some boys.

My mother says it would be improper for us to go alone to a dance hall and that it would place us in a very bad light.

I would like very much to have your opinion on this.

Answer: Your mother is absolutely right. What opinion do you think any boys you meet will have of you, after "parking you up" in a dance hall?

QUESTION: I would very much like to have my friend and her husband and my fiancé as my guests at dinner and the theater. The theater tickets will be bought in advance, but I do not know how to go about arranging to pay for the dinner without causing embarrassment to either of the men.

My name is not known in the restaurant where we will be dining. Is there any way I can present having the bill rendered when the others are present?

ANSWER: Give the money to your fiancé beforehand and ask him to be banker for you. There is nothing either unusual or improper in this.

QUESTION: When visiting in a strange house for several days, it is customary in this country to make the bed on the final day (there is no help, or should one leave the bed in good order but unused)? I have always chosen the latter for it appears to me that one is assuming that the bed will be slept in if made.

Answer: You are right. Should you make the bed it will only have to be unmade again so that the sheets can be laundered.

The Emily Post Institute is sorry it cannot answer personal mail.

Date for the 18th District, Women's Christian Temperance Union's cooperative district, Chapter BO, Mrs. Seth Clawson, Chapter AX and Mrs. C. R. Colville, Chapter CO.

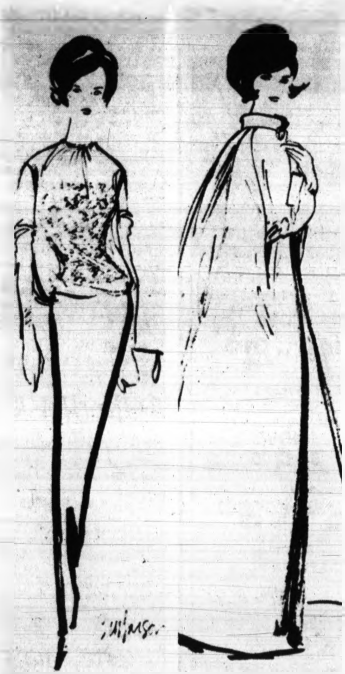

The program will begin at 10:30 a.m. in First Baptist Church, Mrs. Margaret Lusk, cum. reporter for the group, has added a request that members bring a sack luncheon.

"Mental Health in Industry" will be the subject for discussion by the Michigan State Association of Industrial Nurses at the day-long annual meeting Saturday in Detroit's Statler-Hilton Hotel.

Business meetings, luncheon and dinner programs and announcement of new officers are also on the program.

Dr. Alexander H. Hirschfeld, Detroit psychiatrist and lecturer, will speak on "What to Do Until the Psychiatrist Comes" at the morning conference session. In the afternoon Dr. Frank Campbell, director of off-campus programs and professor in guidance and educational psychology at Wayne State University, will speak and lead a discussion of two documentary films.

John W. Reedy, manager of field relations activities on the public relations staff of General Motors Corp., will discuss the subject "Norman or Placebo" at the evening banquet.

These are sketches of the gown and floor-length cape of Mrs. John F. Kennedy's inaugural ball costume as designed by the Bergdorf Goodman Salon. The dress is a full length sheath of white silk peau d'ange veiled with white silk chiffon and features a hip-length bodice embroidered in silver and brilliants. Arch-shaped, the white silk peau d'ange cape is veiled in silk triple chiffon.

While traveling to and from the three or four locations of official inauguration celebrations in the capital Friday night, Mrs. Kennedy will button a floor-length cape around her gown. It is made of the same white silk peau d'ange and is completely veiled in silk triple chiffon.

The cape arches from shoulder to hem with soft waves to the back. It is fastened by twin embroidered buttons under a ring collar.

The new first lady, highly regarded for her high fashion sense, is expected to wear 20-button white glove kid gloves with her ensemble and carry a matching white tailored clutch purse. Peeking from the hemline of her stride-limiting slim skirt will be white opera pants, medium high.

The designer, Ethel Frankau of Bergdorf Goodman's, left for Europe without waiting to see Mrs. Kennedy wear her creation at the ball.

The store, which had been guarding the costume sketches as if they were a top secret, refused to comment on the cost.

Serve Dinner to Bible Class

A cooperative dinner was served to 30 members and guests for First Baptist Church's Fellowship Bible Class meeting Tuesday in the church educational building.

Solos, duets and trios were on the program. Heard were Clayton Murphy, solos; the George Underwoods, duets; and the Underwoods' three daughters, trio selections. Piano accompaniment was by Mary Frances Hodges.

The dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. Basil Vermer, Mrs. Gordon Grubb, Mr. and Mrs. John McCormick and the George Crismans.

Robert Egan showed the film "Beyond a Doubt." The group's vice president, Mrs. John Cave led the business meeting.

Keep Trying, You'll Make It

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 15 and have gone with my boy for two years. I didn't realize until reading your column that boys like to be seen in public only with girls they respect. I sure hit home to me. Boys would ask to meet me "later." They would take me out to park, but I never ask me to go any place where we could be seen. Your warning came too late for me, but it woke me up.

I am trying to improve my reputation. But how can you refuse to park with a boy, once you've parked with him? Am I hopeless?

TRYING TO IMPROVE

DEAR TRYING: You are certainly not "hopeless." You've already conquered the first two steps in self-improvement: (1) Recognizing the need for improvement; (2) Determining to improve. Now, flatly refuse to park. If the boy seems surprised, tell him you've changed your way of living. Then look ahead to a rosiest future. Rome wasn't built in a day, and neither is a good reputation.

DEAR ABBY: In a December column you quoted "A.R.K." who said, "more wild birds and game starve to death or are killed by weather or other wild animals than by hunters. If an arrow or a bullet is a mercurial death." Following that logic, more people are killed by automobiles than by hunters. If an arrow or a bullet is a mercurial death, the hunters should shoot one another. And I hope they do.

DEAR ABBY: My husband shaves before he goes to work in the morning. But in the time he gets home in the evening his whiskers are a quarter of an inch long. By bedtime they have grown another quarter of an inch and are still as needed. How does a wife get affectionate with a paragon?

FREDDA

DEAR FREDDA: Very, very careful.

DEAR ABBY: Our problem

may sound trivial to you, but it is driving us wild. Our neighbors are nice people, but they have ten teen-agers who play basketball between their house and ours. They have a net on their garage which is only a stone's throw from our window. My husband is retired and he and I are home all day.

As soon as the boys come home from school, all we hear is "thump, thump, thump." When it gets dark, they turn on the yard lights and play at night. They know no season. They should for baskets and dribble 12 months of the year.

It may seem like a foolish person to sell a house, but what else can we do? We hate to let go of this house.

THE NEIGHBORS

DEAR NEIGHBORS: Ask the boys and if they can't find another place for their net, suggest they use it as a goal and even to put it up for them. Teen-agers respond quicker to direct, frank complaints than to those routed through their parents.

Envy of Child May Make You Too Harsh

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
The crash sounds like breaking china.
We call "Larry?" and rush to the living room. There, Larry doesn't have to explain what's happened. All the elements of his disastrous disobedience are before our eyes.

On the mantel is the box of peanut brittle reserved for his after-supper treat. There's the pillow on the sofa arm with which he has tried to reach it. Beside it the end table from which he has knocked your china lamp.

We look from his shattered pieces to our 7-year-old's face and in it see such shock and dismay that we forget the lamp.

We take him in our arms; he bursts into tears; we say, "Sh-sh, it's all right." And it is all right. We have seen the remorseful soul of our son in his eyes and have given it comfort.

The next day we are unaccountably irritable with Larry. With a horrid suspicion that we are "spoiling" him, we make a big scene over his failure to change his school pants.

We are suffering from jealousy of Larry. We are furious that he has received a comfort from us that we did not receive.

In this strange envy of the kindness we ourselves have given to children is the root of the parental "inconsistency" of which child guidance experts are always complaining.

YOU'LL FIND IT
Examine yourself for this queer after-effect of hostility toward the youngster to whom you've given warmth and understanding. Usually you'll find it.

When you find it, recognize it as jealousy. If you do, meanwhile of your own uncomprehending childhood will flood back.

You will recall the time Mother said, "Don't make a mountain out of a molehill" when you brought her the pain of a stub by a friend. You'll remember the loneliness of judgments and the goodness of refusal to see your remorseful soul in your eyes.

When you've collected enough memories of the uncomprehending of your own childhood, you'll know what I say is true. You'll know that your after-resentment at the child to whom you have given acceptance is not fear of "spoiling" him at all but jealousy of the forbearance nobody gave to you.

With this knowledge, your "inconsistency" can end.
We'll be able to give love to Larry unalloyed by the envy that makes us kind today and mean tomorrow. And know ourselves a little better, too.

Make Minutes Meaningful

Don't Waste Valuable Time

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today I am bringing you some old thoughts for the new year. "Old time to whose bank we deposit our notes, is a miser who always wants guineas for groats. He keeps all his customers still in arrears. By lending them minutes and charging them years."

O. W. Holmes
How deceptive time really is! We do not think of minutes as especially important and spend them without giving them much thought. We do think in terms of years, yet years and life are made up of minutes.

It seems to me that the most successful and the happiest folks are keenly aware of the importance and the potentialities of the minutes and hours through which they are passing.
Another old thought for the new year.

"Time, to the nation as to the individual, is nothing absolute: its duration depends on the rate of thought and feeling."—John William Draper.

Some people live more in 40 years than others do in 80. How long we live depends much more on the quality of our thought and feeling than on the number of years we have breathed.

Some folks just go through the motions of living without ever sensing the excitement and adventure of life.

Another:
"Oh, how much good time we lose over a bad matter."—Seneca.

This is probably our worst abuse of time; to waste it in unhappiness or tears over matters which are not truly important or which cannot be changed.
Also tremendous amounts of energy can be spent in petty emotions, such as self-pity, jealousy, envy, irritability and sensitiveness. Time is of the essence and it is made up of minutes.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 64 "Worry" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Four Groups Hold Church Meetings

Committee chairmen were named at the meeting of the Saybrook group of the first Congregational Church. Mrs. Dora Dawson and Mrs. Helen Teligen were hostesses at their home on South Tilden Avenue.

Mrs. Grady Smith will have charge of devotions for the year; hostess cochairmen are Mrs. Carl Weber and Mrs. C. Wales Goodwin.

Mrs. Leslie Cross is chairman of voluntary help; Mrs. William Vance, missionary; and Mrs. William Miller, program.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Vance and Mrs. Nellie Williams. Mrs. Carmi J. Odell presented a program on the origin of names.

COLONIAL GROUP
Mrs. E. R. Bigler opened her home on West Iroquois Road to members of the Colonial Group of First Congregational Church.

Mrs. E. C. Russell was chairman of the luncheon committee, assisted by Mrs. Allan Denham. Mrs. Eugene Gump and Mrs. J. B. Jewell.

Devotions were read by Mrs. Phillip Vierich.

The Rev. and Mrs. Howard R. Clegg were guests of the group. Mr. Clegg spoke on "Prayer and Devotions."

PILGRIM GROUP

Members of the Pilgrim Group were luncheon guests of Mrs. Leon F. Cobb in her home on Maplewood Avenue, West Bloomfield Township. Mrs. Harold V. Lankey assisted the hostess.

Mrs. William Travis, president, appointed committee chairmen and announced plans for the new year.

Guests were Mrs. Malcolm Burton, Mrs. C. A. Bondurant and Mrs. William Thomas.

STANDISH GROUP
The Standish Group served a luncheon meeting in the Van Wagoner room of the church.

Visitors were Mrs. T. A. Engle and her daughter, Mrs. Stanley E. Kipp.

Mrs. Peter Vanderhook was hostess, with Mrs. Harry C. Manus assisting.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Roy Bennett.

1,022 Answer Quiz on Overindulgence

'Spoiled Brats' Strike Back at Most Parents

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

The older generation is quick to complain that this younger generation "is overindulged and overprotected. But, as you might have guessed, the older folks aren't converting too many teenagers to their way of thinking.

Still, there are youngsters who say, "Yes, they're right."

We asked 1,022 teenagers for their views on parental overindulgence and overprotective.

Only 22 per cent said they are given too much and shielded too much by their parents.

The percentage went up, but only a little, when they looked at their friends. About one in every four said their girl friends are overindulged and overprotected.

As for the boys, 29 per cent said they are overindulged but only 17 per cent said they are overprotected.

"Some parents don't let their children grow up," complained Marsha Picketts, 16, of Los Angeles.

And 16-year-old Laura Swan of Charleston, S.C., said frankly, "I am spoiled and lazy."

Some of the young people wisely understand the cause of their overindulgence. "Since my brother is in the Air Force, my parents try to please me in every way, being the only child at home," said Gloria Kazarian, 17, of East Norwalk, Conn.

But the majority agree with Sandra Nelson, 17, of Lakeside, Conn., who said, "I don't get everything given to me and I have to work for what I want."

Overprotected? "Yes," said Elaine Spector, 15, of Detroit, but the fault isn't her parents. "I cling a little too much to my parents, but they try to have me do things of my own," she said.

"Yes," said Sheila Morrison, 14, also of Detroit, but not by her parents. "If my brother hears something bad about me, he'll beat them up. He did it before," she said.

"No," said Drew Petelin, 17, of Pomona, Calif., who spoke pretty much as the majority viewed the question. "I am allowed to go most of the places I wish, if I ask them a little in advance."

In judging their friends, the youngsters divided into easily discernible groups.

Takes the "that-other-sex-has-it-better-than-we-have" group, or "if you'd rather — the girls in the 'I hate boys' stage and the boys in the 'I hate girls' stage."

SPOLIED BRATS

Richard Bordo, 17, of Oklahoma City, says girls are overindulged obviously because "they're all spoiled brats."

Laura Swan, 16, of Charleston, S.C., says boys are overindulged and offers as evidence, "They have more, large allowances and just about everything they want."

And then you have the enamored ones.

Boy friends overindulged? No, sir, says 15-year-old Condi Dermer of Los Angeles. "They all think of someone else before themselves."

Girl friends overindulged? No, says Doyle Christian, 16, of San Saba, Tex. "I only have one and she's perfect."

As for overprotection, most agree with Joanne Green, 17, of Pomona, Cal., who said: "The girls I know come from average homes with wise parents. They have been taught to do their own things, but when the time comes for the parents to step in, they do."

In judging whether boys are overprotective, most agree with Harvey Watnick, 16, of Detroit who said, "They're treated as adults," or with Drew Petelin of Pomona.

And in Drew's argument, there might be ammunition for the critical older generation, for he says: "The boy of today gets away with murder. He gets in his car and drives around all hours of the night and his parents don't pay much attention to him."

Week for Complaints Could Clear Up Air

By RUTH MILLETT

Just read a magazine article called "Why Don't We Complain?" which hammers home the point that Americans are getting so anxious to be unobtrusive that we're getting downright meek-mouthed. Those aren't the authors' words—but they're their sentiments.

Come to think of it maybe we don't complain as often as we should. Maybe we ARE so anxious to be inconspicuous, to be considered pleasant and easy to please that we don't cry out in outraged indignation when we really should.

Need. After a week of standing up for our rights we might find it is so much more fun and so much more rewarding than going around meekly trying not to offend anyone that we would be confirmed complainers.

For so long everybody has been so intent on winning friends and not irritating anyone that asserting ourselves might prove so exasperating we wouldn't give it up after a week's trial run.

Things might not be so peaceful. But they would be a lot more interesting if more of us would exercise the right to say, "I protest."

Maybe what we need—along with all the other special days and weeks we celebrate—is a Complaint Week.

During that one week of the year all of us—Miss, Mr. and Mrs. Milquetoast—could make a special effort to overcome our shyness and reluctance to stand up for our rights and complain at the top of our lungs whenever we feel we have been put upon.

Instead of mild grumbling or philosophical shrugs we could, during Complaint Week, register our complaints where they might do some good.

During C Week we wouldn't say "Why doesn't someone do something about such-and-such?" We would do it ourselves.

During C Week we would stand right up in meeting and speak our minds, instead of sitting meekly by and voting with the majority even though we don't think with the majority.

C Week could be so successful that one week would be all we James St. Louis and Ernest Gys-

At Town Hall Lecture

Golden Serves Integration Fare

By MARJORIE EICHER
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

Author Harry Golden disbed meaty morsel of plain talk on integration Wednesday to members of Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall. He gave it to his audience "for 2 cents, plain" with a dollop of mustard—and on pumpernickel yet!

Heart of his no-holds-barred address was the converse view that "one man is nothing, yet one person is everything." Golden stressed with great variation the theme that only in America does an individual have an opportunity to enter the open society without obstacles.

"There is no parallel to this," he emphasized, "even in our sister democracy, England, social and economic classes are still stratified. 'In our country there is great mobility,' he continued. 'A boy can be almost anything.'"

"I do not want to rule out the pin pricks at the social level in America," he said. "But these are irrelevant."

Golden considers the problem of integration and racial discrimination the most important problem facing America today—he even gives it priority above the atom bomb.

Pointing out to the capacity audience that packed Central Methodist Church that two-thirds of the world is colored, he said, "They are watching the United States like hawks to see if we have the intellectual integrity to lead the free world."

"People are people," said Golden. "The Negro is not pushing, he is escaping—just as the Irish and Polish immigrant in our past. He wants better things for his children, even as you and I."

"The first thing people ask abroad is 'what about the Negro in America?' The solution is a question of public right against private preference. There's a clear line between the two and where we're not sure, the courts will decide."

Defining a public right as the use of public facilities, the right to move about as a free citizen, the right to vote and equal pay for equal work, the speaker said bluntly, "There are places I cannot go by the hundreds because I am a Jew—but I am not excluded from public rights."

He cited the efforts of the Southern Negro for integration as "a marvelous example of putting to effective use the Christian's Christianity, laugh at him by the white man."

Visitors for the day were Mrs. Lyman Hedden, Mrs. James Anderson, Mrs. Julie Arkin, Mrs. Raymond Matuzak, Mrs. William Fryer and Mrs. Claude Sprunk.

Others were Mrs. John A. Rozieson, Mrs. G. E. Bowles, Mrs. Elmer Boch, Mrs. Carl Nikkula, Mrs. Kenneth Hedger and Mrs. Harry Gervais.

At a celebrity luncheon which followed at Devon Gables, Golden, he confided, as the subject and the author. Questioned by a Southern defender, the speaker's straightforward but diplomatic response elicited hearty applause from the largest luncheon crowd of the summer is as unconventional a season.

We are challenged as a people We are summoned as a nation

Together we face the urgent problems of worldwide unrest and precarious peace. Individually we are called to join our private efforts in public purpose during the decade of decision ahead. The guidelines are set in a timely new Report on National Goals.

WE ARE CHALLENGED, each of us, to make a single choice; live our freedoms or lose our liberties. We are challenged to this task by a world split in three upon a storm of continuing crisis and change. One-third is militant imperialist. One-third struggles to shed centuries of degradation. One-third stands guardedly free.

We are challenged by the first: Communism pursues the tyranny of man with zeal and ruthlessness, by force and guile. Powering its purpose is the mushrooming growth of Soviet and Red Chinese might. Both are hugely skilled in political subversion and propaganda. Both are dedicated to their ideology and our downfall. Both offer unrelenting and mounting competition in industry, science, commerce, education, arts, athletics, and above all in ideas.

We are challenged today by the iron discipline and dedicated zeal of militant world Communism.

We are challenged by the second: Millions of people are roused from ancient sleep. They waver between chaotic conflict and orderly development. Communism exploits their confusion. We seek to bring them into a world of individual freedom under law. We seek this not merely for our security. The world is grown too small for anything less than moral kinship.

We are challenged by the third: The problems of our free society demand exceptional attention today. Our freedoms exist in a twilight world of neither peace nor war but constant tension. Overhead hangs a nuclear question mark. Without first solving our own problems and strengthening our own freedoms we cannot meet any of our challenges. We cannot withstand tyranny, nor inspire mankind, nor gain safe disarmament. We cannot survive.

We are challenged today by the plight of impoverished millions who waver between chaos and progress.

HOW MUST WE MEET OUR CHALLENGES?

A timely new Report titled "Goals for Americans" provides inspiration for our thoughts, our hopes, our actions. Underlying its proposals—detailed below—are these fundamentals:

To meet our challenges we need to prove that we deserve to survive; to realize that democracy is not a gift but a task and that our rights and responsibilities are inseparable.

To meet our challenges we need to strike a balance between purpose and comfort in our private lives; to pair the pursuit of happiness with the pursuit of excellence; to reject mediocrity and seek greatness in the exhilaration of meaningful achievement.

To meet our challenges we need continually to set ourselves new goals for new endeavors; the first being to know as individuals who we are, what we are, and where we are going; the second being a renewal of faith in the value of the individual, because ideas come only from individuals, and progress comes only from ideas.

To meet our challenges we need to view our public goals as our private goals. The summons of the times is a sharply personal one. It is addressed to the nation. If we are the nation. We as individuals decide—not just our own future, but the nation's future.

We are challenged today by a world neither at peace nor at war but fraught with constant tension.

WE ARE SUMMONED

We are summoned, each of us, by an eventful new report titled "Goals For Americans." It has been prepared by a non-partisan commission of distinguished Americans acting under Presidential directive. Both President Eisenhower and President Kennedy urge that you read it and think about it now.

The Report is a beginning, not a solution. It is constructive, yet necessarily controversial. You may agree with it. You may not. You will however recognize that there is much to be done—and much that you can do.

The report is available in either hard cover, paperback or digest form. Get a copy today. Read and consider it carefully. Discuss it. Circulate it. Within it you will find a summons to personal and national greatness based on these central themes:

We are summoned to build a nation and a world in which all are free to fulfill their destiny. That is our central goal. To gain it, the Report sets these major objectives:

At home we must—

1. Improve education so that every child is educated to his full capacity.
2. Reduce the last barriers to full respect for every individual—especially that of race.
3. Reduce unemployment and achieve an economic growth rate that will assure the U.S. the maximum competitive strength.
4. Enlarge our knowledge through pursuit of the arts and sciences.
5. Bring high quality medical care within every American's reach.
6. Strengthen the workings of the democratic process at every level.

Abroad we must—

1. Thwart communist aggression and subversion throughout the world. Extend the opportunities for free choice and self-determination to all mankind.
2. Seek safeguarded arms stabilization immediately, complete disarmament ultimately.

3. Confine outbreaks of violence anywhere in the world.
4. Strengthen the United Nations through increased support.

And to extend freedom throughout the world community we must—

1. Demonstrate to the uncommitted nations that they can best attain their own goals by free world methods.
2. Increase free world trade.
3. Join our allies in increased total aid to the less developed peoples.
4. Above all, strengthen our own sense of dedication to democracy's traditions and ideals.

HOW TO MAKE OUR NATIONAL GOALS YOUR PERSONAL GOALS

- Work to give everyone an equal chance—regardless of race, color or creed.
- Give time and your best thought to improving schools in your community. Give education your fullest financial support.
- Live part of your time to solve some of our problems. Welcome civic responsibility. Seek local and public office. Form a boys' club to combat delinquency. Pursue adult education. Serve a tour of duty with government. Stay informed. Stay alert.
- Hold yourself and others to the highest standards of honesty and excellence.
- Consider your country's needs as well as your own when deciding on a course of action—your choice of a career, your children's choice, your business decisions, family habits, your vote. Your actions affect everything from local government to foreign policy.
- Live your freedom. Believe and act upon the dignity, worth and power of the individual.

Automakers Are Certain '61 Won't Be Another 1958

By BEN PHILGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — With layoffs up and sales down one question being asked around the auto industry is: Could 1961 turn into another 1958? Make such an inquiry in the sales offices of the auto companies and you might get tossed out. The disaster of 1958, when less than 4.3 million American-built cars were sold, is too recent to be forgotten and too horrible to remember.

The automakers, in fact, have convinced themselves it can't happen again. They had difficulty believing it at the time. For example, exactly three years ago this month they were saying:

"Given a return of confidence there could be a substantial upturn in retail auto sales during the second half of the year."

William F. Hestler, General Motors.

"We think the business is there. We are going out on a very aggressive campaign to stimulate the auto business," — Ed Cole, general manager, Chevrolet.

"All the evidence indicates that more people have money to spend and are in a good credit position," — Benson Ford, Ford Motor Co.

David J. Wilkie, then automotive editor of the Associated Press, in summarizing the viewpoints wrote: "It should be noted, however, that there is no gloom among the car makers at this time."

This appears to be the current situation in the industry — not too much gloom but various disturbing factors. These include:

Sales for the first 10 days of January were slow — about 14,000 a day compared with an average 16,000 for the first 10 days of the past seven years.

Inventories are at record highs. Stocks of unsold new cars total slightly more than one million, the equivalent of more than 60 days' supply. Many dealers try to limit their stocks to 30 days; few want more than 45 days' supply.

Used cars are sluggish. The average price of all used cars sold at auction in early January was $38 under the year-ago figure, according to an automotive news tabulation. The average price at which one-year-old models were sold has dropped $299 to a year. The average for three-year-old models (the time cycle the industry aims for) has dropped $179.

These factors have brought sharp cuts in production and the consequent layoffs of both production and salaried employees by the auto companies. Ward's Reports estimates indefinite layoffs of hourly workers since the start of 1961 model production at 30,000. Chrysler and Studebaker-Packard also have cut salaried staffs. Other workers have been subjected to temporary layoffs or four of every five new car sales involve trade-ins.

If a dealer is having trouble reselling these trade-ins, he has to cut the amount he can offer on a new car deal.

Sales contests, providing extra incentives to dealers and salesmen, have been dotted off and put into effect by several companies. Usually these are held back as long as possible.

Dodge lowered prices of its compact Lancer by making certain equipment optional instead of standard. Ward's suggests some similar move may be in the offing for the Buick Special and Oldsmobile F83, two of the other smaller cars introduced last fall.

No general price cuts are apt to be announced although rebates and bonuses from factories to dealers provide the means of shaving last price figures or offering higher trade-in allowances.

The used car market directly affects the new car sales because new car dealers sell about two-thirds of all used cars. Roughly

JFK to Receive Own Senate Chair as Gift
WASHINGTON (AP) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy will receive as a gift the well-worn cushioned leather chair he occupied in his private office as a senator.

The Senate Rules Committee on a sentimental gesture voted in closed-door session Wednesday to present the 32-year-old chair to Kennedy, for delivery to his home or to the White House as he may choose. The gift was paid for from Senate funds.

"His real name is Pluto," Ronnie went on. "He was trained by the same man who provided (two for 'People's Choice.' Franklin is the trainer, and he bought Pluto from the pound for only $2."

The big pooch gets the full treatment of Desilu Studios where the series is filmed. He has three stand-ins, and makeup artists spend more time with him than they do with Ronnie. It takes a half-hour for them to paint eyes on Pluto and to darken his ears.

Another added element to the show is a new voice for the child — actually played by a pair of 2-year-old twin boys — David and Steven Born.

BARNS TALKING
"The kids are beginning to talk for themselves now," Burns said. "It ruins the scene when they do, and we have to start the take all over again."

Ronnie's youth is evident in that he would allow himself to start in a show featuring a shaggy dog and a dimpled nippel.

No old trouper would think of such a suicidal move.

"It's not easy playing straight man in the dog and the baby. They're both the world's greatest scene-stealers," he grinned.

"The average viewer, like me, won't look at anything or anyone else if a dog or a baby is hanging around. When I'm in a scene with them I might as well be in Omaha."

"That crazy dog! He's the kind of pooch you're glad you don't own — a mixture of Airedale and Irish wolfhound. But I have to admit, he's the funniest dog I ever saw."

Hospital Group Backs Increase

Says Blue Cross Hike of 22 Per Cent Needed by Institutions

LANSING (UPI)—The Michigan Hospital Association today announced its full support of the 22 per cent rate increase asked last week by Blue Cross, and indicated that further increases will be needed in the future.

Dr. Robert B. Nelson, M.D., as association president, called the rate hike "absolutely necessary."

"Otherwise every community hospital in Michigan will be in financial chaos, since half their income comes from Blue Cross," he said.

Nelson cited the expense of operating a hospital and the increased cost of hospitals "for sicknesses of all kinds and persons of all ages" as major reasons why low insurance plans are in financial trouble.

He said that about 70 per cent of hospital costs go for wages and salaries, but even at that the average hospital employee gets only half the pay of the average construction or factory worker.

He predicted that although hospitals continue to strive for efficiency, hospital costs will rise even higher in the future.

Nelson is associate director of the University Hospital at Ann Arbor.

Adrian Plant's Sale to Coast Firm Urged

LANSING (AP)—A special Stinson committee was set up Wednesday to urge reconsideration by the federal government of proposed bids in the sale of a surplus plant at Adrian. The action came about 36 hours late.

The resolution establishing the joint committee urged acceptance by the General Services Administration of a bid that would put the plant in operation and provide some 2,500 jobs for Adrian.

It pointed out that the highest bidder, Strom Machinery Co. of Hammond, Ind., planned to sell the machinery, equipment and plant.

The second highest bidder, the Harvey Aluminum Co. of Torrance, Calif., promised to operate the plant, however.

Members of the joint committee were assigned the task of seeking to get the GSA to renegotiate the sale of the plant with the Harmon Co. and respect the Strom firm's bid.

The Army will use TV cameras for Inaugural Parade.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army will use a battlefield-type closed-circuit TV network to keep the inaugural parade moving and to guard for unruly crowds.

A train of command post, huge army van just off the Pennsylvania Avenue parade route. Signal Corps officers will be able to monitor the entire line of march.

A radio and telephone network will enable the command post to flash the word back to control units along the route in case a vehicle breaks down or the spectators get out of hand.

The elaborate setup, with eight TV camera locations and 12 radio control points, is designed to keep the parade rolling smoothly.

Fire Threat Closes Port for 7 Hours

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Coast Guard today reopened the Port of Philadelphia which had been closed for seven hours as a precaution against fire after 7,000 gallons of a flammable chemical spilled into the Delaware River from a pipeline shattered by a ship.

Chief Petty Officer William Fox announced the port was reopened at 11 a.m. after an inspection showed that the chemical, orthoxybenzene, had evaporated, was absorbed by the water or went out with the tide.

He said, however, that Philadelphia fire officials reported there still was a concentration of the chemical in the areas of two piers here.

Smoking was prohibited in pier areas and vessels were asked to proceed with caution.

The SS Dueset, a 10,000-ton freighter carrying lumber from Vancouver, B.C., to Philadelphia, smashed into the pier and cut the pipeline while trying to dock in a strong tide Wednesday night.

Laos War Hard to Find, Natives Just Shrug It Off

By CHARLES B. SMITH
BAN PHONG HONG VILLAGE, Laos (UPI)—The dense, steamy Laotian jungle is definitely no place for a foreign correspondent to report on a war.

The food is bad, the water is muddy, the transportation is archaic and the communications are impossible.

Last week I had a hard time finding the war. This week I had an even more difficult assignment—trying to locate someone who knew what the war was about.

The most startling fact about the war in Laos is that the average Laotian has no idea what the fighting was about.

In fact, few even knew who was fighting. When I asked them if they knew what the Pathet Lao is, most just raised their heads and asked, "Who?"

SAW A LITTLE.

During the past week, or so, many of the villagers in this vicinity saw some fighting because the government task force that recaptured Vang Vieng Monday marched up this road in the drive to the left-hand city.

But there was little damage to the houses and only a few villages fighting in his country is all about—and couldn't care less.

The only thing he wants is for the fighting to stop and to be left alone to live a quiet, peaceful life.

I stopped to talk to Laotians in at least a score of villages in the combat zone and got the same answers.

Typical of the replies were those I received from the people in this village, located along the road leading from Vientiane to Vang Vieng.

Not one of the 80 or 90 villagers I interviewed here knew what the fighting was about.

When they were asked if they wanted American troops sent to Laos to aid the government, most of them quickly replied "Yes."

But when told it might result in Communist countries sending troops, they all answered, "Then, no. There should be no American troops."

More of the villagers had heard of Viet Minh (Communist North Vietnamese) than of the Pathet Lao, who are the Communist Laotian guerrillas. Most of them said they only heard vaguely of the reported Viet Minh invasion of Laos.

showed any signs of intense fighting.

Many of the villagers said they wanted the government to win the civil war.

Some said they did not want either side to win and added, "We just want the fighting to stop and both sides to get together and live in peace."

Those who favored the government gave this simple reason: "It's easier to make a living and make money if the government wins."

When they were asked if they wanted American troops sent to Laos to aid the government, most of them quickly replied "Yes."

But when told it might result in Communist countries sending troops, they all answered, "Then, no. There should be no American troops."

More of the villagers had heard of Viet Minh (Communist North Vietnamese) than of the Pathet Lao, who are the Communist Laotian guerrillas. Most of them said they only heard vaguely of the reported Viet Minh invasion of Laos.

Red China Famine Is Growing

LONDON (AP)—Communist China's famine is assuming alarming proportions and there is no sign of appreciable Russian help, diplomatic sources said today.

They said the Chinese Communist, through a mixture of pride and political considerations, have not appealed for aid and the Kremlin has not offered it.

The diplomats said the agricultural catastrophe which has befallen China has dealt a severe blow to its ambitious plan for a big leap forward that was to bring it into the front rank of industrial powers.

The Russians, having agricultural troubles of their own, may have shipped some wheat directly to some Chinese distress areas, but there is no indication of organized help on a large scale.

Communist China now is buying grain from Australia—a reported 300,000 tons of wheat for early shipment. Peking also is said to be looking for emergency shipment of Canadian wheat.

Peking's official press has only hinted at the details of the famine but diplomatic reports say the situation is grave and millions of people are facing near starvation.

Citrus Fruit Brightens a Meal

By JANET ODELL
Poniat Press Home Editor
Aren't you glad you can get as much citrus fruit as you want in the winter? It must have been dull eating when oranges and grapefruit were rare treats and the only winter fruit came in cans.

Hurricane Donna did extensive damage to some of the Florida orchards, but not enough to cut our supplies of citrus fruit in any great quantity. In fact, I have been surprised to find this year's prices comparable to those of other years.

Many of us have used lemon juice on vegetables like broccoli and spinach. But the idea of serving grapefruit sections with the vegetable is new. It should look good and taste better.

ing 1 cup sugar in large saucepan. Stir in orange juice and water. Place over medium heat. Bring to boil; boil 10 minutes. Gently add peeled whole oranges. Bring to boil; simmer 10 minutes, turning frequently.

Unmold rice on serving dish, surround with warm oranges. Spoon sauce on rice mold and oranges. Yield: 6 servings.

Another orange sauce is excellent to keep on hand for pancakes and waffles. No reason why it couldn't be used on ice cream if you like.

Florida Orange Sauce
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup Florida orange juice
1 Florida orange, sectioned

Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt in saucepan. Gradually blend in orange juice; stir in orange rind. Place over medium heat and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add Florida orange sections; heat one minute longer. Yield: Approximately 1 1/2 cups.

Fresh grapefruit sections molded into a creamy gelatin makes a delightful dessert. Use whipped dessert topping instead of whipped cream if you want to cut calories.

Grapefruit Cream Mold
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup water
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup milk
1 cup Florida grapefruit juice (strained
1/2 cup Florida orange juice
1 cup dried fresh grapefruit sections
1/2 cup cream
1 cup sugar
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Soften gelatin in cold water and set aside. Combine sugar, salt, milk and egg yolk in the top of a double boiler or saucepan. Cook over hot water (not boiling) or very low heat until the mixture coats a metal spoon, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in softened gelatin. Add grapefruit juice and mix well.

Chill until the mixture begins to thicken. Blend in drained grapefruit sections and lemon rind. Beat the whites until they stand in soft stiff peaks into which beat the remaining 1/2 cup sugar. Fold into the mixture along with whipped cream. Turn into a 1-quart mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm and ready to serve.

Just before serving, unmold onto a serving plate. Garnish with fresh grapefruit sections and small clusters of fresh grapes. Serve as dessert. Yield: 6 servings.

"One who slows down as he passes a stop sign."

Yogurt's Popularity High With Dieters
Part of the tremendous rebirth in popularity of yogurt in recent years is due to the nation's dieting trend.

Dieters frequently substitute yogurt for sour cream, which has four times as many calories, according to Danmott Milk Producers of New York, one of the country's leading yogurt producers. One serving of this cultured milk food contains all of the solid nutrients of a cup of milk, with only half the fat.

Yogurt is considered by many to be a more balanced food than sour cream, since its composition follows more the ideal pattern advocated by dietary experts.

Utica Will Ballot on School Millage Saturday

PTAs to Boost 5-Mill Proposal

Dresden Village After Approval of Voters on Operational Tax

UTICA—Parent-Teacher associations in the Utica School District's largest precinct will be campaigning on election day in hopes of getting approval on a five-mill operational tax proposal.

A motecade of parents and teachers in the Dresden Village precinct will tour the district in order to publicize Saturday's special school election.

They will inform the district's voters that free rides to the polls may be obtained by calling the schools during the time when the polls are open from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday.

The operational millage proposition was defeated in an election here Dec. 5, but a $3.98 million bond issue on the same ballot drew enough votes to pass.

School Supt. Fred M. Atkinson and Board of Education members expressed surprise over the outcome of the December election.

The bond issue will finance construction of five new school buildings in the district. When the new buildings are built, the school officials said, then the operational millage will be needed to pay more teachers to staff the new schools.

Atkinson said the five-mill increase requested by the board is only a two mill increase over the present operational tax levy.

The district's current three mills for operation expires in June.

Therefore, the superintendent explained, three of the five mills asked for operation will actually reduce the current levy. The other two mills would be necessary to staff and maintain the new buildings.

The five-mill levy would be in effect for five years of operation in Saturday's election.

Voters in the Dresden precinct, which will cast their ballots at Dresden Elementary School, have consistently backed issues in previous school elections in the six-square-mile district.

It was the Dresden precinct which helped put the bond issue for construction of the new buildings over the top last month. The $3.98 million proposal was approved by 50 votes.

Other polling places in the district are located at Wiley Elementary School, Disco Elementary School and West Utica Elementary School.

Launch Drive for New Church Funds

ROMEO—Members of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, which was destroyed by fire Dec. 27, last night launched a drive for funds to build a new church.

The parish members have decided to erect their new edifice on the site of the old church, which was destroyed by fire Dec. 27, last night.

The former church property is located across W. St. Clair Street from the new high school at the west end of town.

In making their decision to build on the donated site members took into consideration the small size of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, which was destroyed by fire Dec. 27, last night.

Also they learned last night that the building had been destroyed by fire Dec. 27, last night.

Landowners Get Month's Grace

Keego Harbor Extends Deadline for County, School Taxes 31 Days

KEEGO HARBOR—Property owners here have been given a month's grace in which to pay their county and school taxes without penalty.

City officials extended the deadline 31 days as a consequence to taxpayers. Normally the last day for filing without paying a 4 per cent penalty is tomorrow.

The revised date for paying the winter taxes is Feb. 15, City Clerk Elmer Van Horn announced today.

If after that date the taxes are not paid the 4 per cent penalty will go into effect. If the taxes aren't paid by March 1 the 4 per cent plus half of 1 per cent of the levy will be charged.

The city receives the 4 per cent, the county the fraction.

Taxes that are not paid by March 1 must be paid directly to the county and the errand taxpayers will be required to have an affidavit from the city showing the amount to be paid.

The clerk said that approximately half of the $10,000 to be collected in county and school taxes has been received.

West Bloomfield Township Names New Attorney

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Joseph T. Brennan of Farmington has been named township attorney here. He replaces A. Floyd Blackie who resigned Dec. 31.

Brennan lives at 2649 Eastfield St. with his wife and their two daughters. A University of Detroit graduate, he has lived in the county five years.

He is a member of the law firm of Waldron Brennan, Brennan and Maher of Detroit.

Brennan is also attorney for Farmington Township, Quakertown Village and Brighton Township in Livingston County.

KAREN I. PAULSON

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard J. Paulson of 5815 Dvorsk St., Clarkston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Louise to Richard E. Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Arnold, of 1041 S. Williams Lake Road, Commerce Township. No date has been set for the wedding.

All teachers of conservation including 4-H club leaders, scout leaders and school teachers are invited to attend the meetings, according to Jack Worthington, county 4-H agent.

There will be a scheduled program by the speaker during each session, and the remaining time will be spent answering questions of those attending.

New conservation movies will be shown and various projects explained. Teaching aids particularly valuable to junior and senior

MSU Man to Train Area Youth Leaders

An extension specialist in conservation education at Michigan State University will spend Tuesday in Oakland County to provide local youth leaders with training in conservation activities.

Robert W. George will be the featured speaker at three sessions at Walton Fairgrounds on M24 at Walton boulevard. They will be from 10 a.m. to noon, 1 to 3 p.m. and 8 to 10 p.m.

It covers all phases of the "use of natural resources." These are air, animals, plants, soil, minerals and water and their use, appreciation and understanding by human beings.

The project includes a large picture to be colored by the group which, when accompanied by the story, unfolds good conservation practices in a novel way.

Other 4-H safety projects consist of wildflowers, soil and water, nature study, wildlife, insects, gun safety, trees and even archery.

State PTA Official to Talk in Rochester

ROCHESTER—R. A. Ambrose, chairman of the State Parent-Teacher Association legislative committee, will be guest speaker at the Jan. 31 meeting of the Rochester Community Council of PTAs.

Ambrose, who is superintendent of the Oxford Community School District, will outline the way in which school legislation is formulated, sponsored and passed through the legislature.

The Oxford school official also will discuss pending school legislation at state and national levels. The meeting, slated for 8 p.m. in the home economics room of Rochester High School, is open to the public.

Trying to please every sports fan is something we try to do.

We struggle with headlines, deadlines, space, copy, coaches, and unhappy sports fans, trying to find a happy medium to make everyone happy.

The fact remains, we always lose,—well, at least most of the time.

Now for example these two letters were written on the same day, and arrived on the sports desk at the same time.

DEAR SPORTS EDITOR:

I am writing this letter in regard to the basketball articles about area basketball teams. All this season, Holly hasn't lost a game, yet you haven't given them a good write up. . . . I do believe they are entitled to a good story.

Yours truly
Jack Hillman

DEAR SIR:

I would like to take a minute to sincerely thank you for the fine coverage your paper has afforded not only our Holly basketball team but also the other Oakland County teams as well. Many of the boys in our Wayne-Oakland League have become friends and look forward to each other's writings in your paper. It is interesting to note how in the last two years, in the tournaments that Holly and Pontiac basketball fans would join forces to bring their teams through. I personally feel that when our young stars are given recognition, the community gets well deserved recognition and the players become known to various scholarship grantors. Thank you and keep up the good work.

Respectfully,
Bill Fagan

We would just like to say that in the first seven games that Holly has played, there have been six good sized headlined stories on the game results, plus others in advance of the games.

The two letters are exactly opposite of each other.

We thank both writers, certainly for taking the time and interest in writing the letters. It makes us wonder which side of the viewpoints the Holly basketball team itself would support.

Pistons Easily Handle Royals, Without Big 'O'

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)—Without had only three before the injury forced him out of action.

The Pistons won the game on the four line, making good on 46 of 57 free throws. The Royals scored the night before, was scored by a 144-128 victory in their National Basketball Association contest with the Royals after an injury forced Oscar Robertson out of the game.

Robertson's, named the most valuable player in the NBA All-Star game at Ayrault, N. Y., the night before, was scored by a 144-128 victory in their National Basketball Association contest with the Royals after an injury forced Oscar Robertson out of the game.

Dr. George Raub, the examining physician, said Robertson's injury, a hemorrhage of the pelvic blade, was more painful than serious and estimated the Royals' star would be sidelined two or three days.

Gene Shue placed the Pistons at attack with 41 points, tallying with 29 Ralph Davis, who took over for Robertson, scored 25. Robertson

By Dee Purcello

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

As I said a couple of installments ago, lifting the ball at the point of release is essential to rolling an effective hook ball. I also mentioned that lofting, or bouncing, the ball far out in the lane would make for a nothing ball.

The reverse of this is equally as bad. Dumping the ball on the approach side of the foul line will rob the ball of its correct direction and working stuff.

Here's how I teach my students to overcome this fault. I place a towel, folded to about five inches in width, just over the line on the lane. I tell the bowlers not to look directly at the towel, but at their target as they normally do. I know from experience that if the bowlers do what I tell them, they will see that white object out of the corners of their eyes and almost without any conscious effort, try to get the ball onto the lane without having it come in contact with the towel.

Two Goals by Peters Leads Junior Wings

WINDSOR, Ont. (UPI)—The Detroit Junior Wings rolled to their 11th straight win last night downing Windsor 6-2.

The Wings now have a 20-4 record for the season and lead the border cities hockey league by 10 points.

Michigan's No. 1 Prep Cage Power Here Friday

Van Brocklin Embarks on New Grid Career

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—The restless Dutchman embarked today on a new career as head coach of the Minnesota Vikings, bringing with him the prestige of a great quarterback and the prospect of fireworks.

Norm Van Brocklin, named Wednesday to direct the fledgling National Football League club under a three-year contract, made no pledges of radical offenses or forecasts of quick success.

But he made this point: "We'll use the orthodox T formation with most of the variations. You can get, too, that we'll throw that football plenty if we have to."

None of that throwing will be by Van Brocklin, for 12 years one of the premier marksmen in the NFL, and the guiding hand last season behind the Philadelphia Eagles' ascent to the league championship.

Van Brocklin, 34, is through as an active player, "with no regrets," he said. He starred for nine years with the Rams, quit, abandoned retirement plans to join Philadelphia and quit again rather than be a playing assistant coach.

In the Dutchman's view, George Shaw—the quarterback acquired

Jones to Head West; Returns to Get Diploma

This is a big week of the new year for Pontiac's Olympic star Hayes Jones.

Jones leaves Friday for the coast where he will participate in the annual Los Angeles Indoor track meet which will be held Saturday. It will be his first meet of the season.

He will return early Sunday morning, put on his mortarboard and be graduated by Eastern Michigan University at 3:00 p.m. Sunday afternoon with a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education.

His plans for the future? Hayes said frankly, "I'm looking for a job."

He complimented the club on drafting such college stars as Tommy Mason of Tulane, Ed Sharron of Pittsburgh, Rip Hawkins of North Carolina and Francis Turkenton of Georgia.

"I haven't seen a man come out of Georgia yet who wasn't a good football player."

President E. W. Boyer explained why it took so long for the Vikings to hire a man, "Van Brocklin," he said, "kept wanting more money. We still haven't agreed on final terms."

Van Brocklin plans to name four assistants, two for defense, one as offensive line coach and one as end coach. Not surprisingly, he will handle the offense himself. "But Shaw will be calling most of the signals on the field," he added.

There will be a great added incentive for the basketball team of St. Frederick and St. Michael tomorrow night when they clash at the Pontiac Northern gym.

The new boost will be in the form of a handsome, 24-inch trophy made of bronze and mahogany which will be retained by the winning school of each future hoop contest. Three victories will be needed for permanent possession.

Known as the "Jim Brown Memorial Trophy," the award has been donated by city residents William and John Brown in the memory of their brother who was an ardent local sports fan and active in recreation work. The donors were star athletes at St. Fred through their brother's help.

Bill's son Bruce is on the St. Mike team and was a football starter. John's boy Tim is a freshman cager with the Rams. Cousins of the brothers have been standouts at the rival schools.

Mrs. Olive Brown will present the award honoring her late husband to the 1st winner after Friday's game. It will be a companion prize to the Steve Griffin football trophy which has been in existence for several years.

Besides the trophy and eye iting title, the game could have great hearing on the suburban Catholic championship race with the Rams currently sharing 1st place with Royal Oak St. Mary with a five-game victory streak.

St. Mike has divided six hoop starts.

Little Mike Reed heads the St. Fred offense. He has a 17.1 scoring average for seven season games. Ted Dobski looked at 10.8.

At Tunny is the Tom Shamrock at 14.4. Charlie Daul has 10.8 and Art Robak 10.7.

Coach Gene Wright's Red and White holds the team point edge with a game average of 36 to 33. Jim Nibbelius's "Big Blue"

Another crucial SCL battle is on tap at Orchard Lake as the Eagles try to stay alive in the race by beating strong RO St. Mary. St. James goes to St. Rita in the only other tilt.

Both St. Fred and ROSM are slight favorites. The showdown could likely come up Jan. 27 when the southern county school comes here to try to repeat a five-2 conquest of the Rams.

Duby Almost Matches Team; Kuhn's Losses

Pontiac Northern Jayvee hoop coach Joe Duby almost matched an entire team last night with 24 points as his Spencer Fjorson contingent whipped Tom Thumb 73-26 in Waterloo Class A play.

In "B" action, Drayton Drive whipped George's Service 72-41 as Wayne Gika of the winners and Dave Draper hit 30 each. Johnson and Anderson landed Kuhn's Auto Wash its initial set-back, 67-63. Tom Whirl paced J & J with 21. Jim Potest canned 19 in defeat.

The Lake Orion Hornets dropped their 1st game in the Detroit Senior "B" Hockey League last night bowing to the Knights 32-20. The locals lead for two periods on streaks ever seen in the finals of goals by Chuck Young and Thompson, the tournament, Welo shot a record by failing.

There will be a great added incentive for the basketball team of St. Frederick and St. Michael tomorrow night when they clash at the Pontiac Northern gym.

The new boost will be in the form of a handsome, 24-inch trophy made of bronze and mahogany which will be retained by the winning school of each future hoop contest. Three victories will be needed for permanent possession.

Known as the "Jim Brown Memorial Trophy," the award has been donated by city residents William and John Brown in the memory of their brother who was an ardent local sports fan and active in recreation work. The donors were star athletes at St. Fred through their brother's help.

Bill's son Bruce is on the St. Mike team and was a football starter. John's boy Tim is a freshman cager with the Rams. Cousins of the brothers have been standouts at the rival schools.

Mrs. Olive Brown will present the award honoring her late husband to the 1st winner after Friday's game. It will be a companion prize to the Steve Griffin football trophy which has been in existence for several years.

Besides the trophy and eye iting title, the game could have great hearing on the suburban Catholic championship race with the Rams currently sharing 1st place with Royal Oak St. Mary with a five-game victory streak.

St. Mike has divided six hoop starts.

Little Mike Reed heads the St. Fred offense. He has a 17.1 scoring average for seven season games. Ted Dobski looked at 10.8.

At Tunny is the Tom Shamrock at 14.4. Charlie Daul has 10.8 and Art Robak 10.7.

Coach Gene Wright's Red and White holds the team point edge with a game average of 36 to 33. Jim Nibbelius's "Big Blue"

Another crucial SCL battle is on tap at Orchard Lake as the Eagles try to stay alive in the race by beating strong RO St. Mary. St. James goes to St. Rita in the only other tilt.

Both St. Fred and ROSM are slight favorites. The showdown could likely come up Jan. 27 when the southern county school comes here to try to repeat a five-2 conquest of the Rams.

Duby Almost Matches Team; Kuhn's Losses

Pontiac Northern Jayvee hoop coach Joe Duby almost matched an entire team last night with 24 points as his Spencer Fjorson contingent whipped Tom Thumb 73-26 in Waterloo Class A play.

In "B" action, Drayton Drive whipped George's Service 72-41 as Wayne Gika of the winners and Dave Draper hit 30 each. Johnson and Anderson landed Kuhn's Auto Wash its initial set-back, 67-63. Tom Whirl paced J & J with 21. Jim Potest canned 19 in defeat.

The Lake Orion Hornets dropped their 1st game in the Detroit Senior "B" Hockey League last night bowing to the Knights 32-20. The locals lead for two periods on streaks ever seen in the finals of goals by Chuck Young and Thompson, the tournament, Welo shot a record by failing.

Saginaw Comes to PCH for Key Valley Struggle

Chiefs Are Underdogs in State's Top Game; 1st Place at Stake

By BILL CORNWELL

The city of Pontiac will be host to Michigan's No. 1 high school basketball team Friday night when undefeated Saginaw invades the PCH gymnasium for an all-important Saginaw Valley struggle with defending champion Pontiac Central.

First place in the best-of-three conference race is at stake and Art Van Rykel's PCH eagles find themselves in the unaccustomed role of underdogs against the high-scoring, fast-breaking Trojans of Larry Landrum.

Propelled by the T.N.T. boys, Jerry Tillman and Ernie Thompson, the high-powered Trojans have swept past seven foes, four in the exciting SVC campaign.

Pontiac Central, which has won two straight Valley titles and three in the last four years, is currently tied with Arthur Hill for second place on a 3-1 record and the Chiefs can do so by scoring an upset victory tomorrow.

PCH, with an overall 6-2 mark, was rated No. 9 in this week's prep poll. The Trojans were ranked No. 1 in the same poll and their battle with PCH must be considered Friday's top schoolboy attraction in the state.

The Tillman Thompson scoring punch has been more than any Trojans in opponent could handle thus far. Tillman, a senior, and Thompson, a junior, are presently running away from every one in the SVC scoring race, both in conference and all games categories.

Tillman has piled up 161 points in seven games for an average of 23 per contest. Thompson boasts 154 points over the same span for a 22-per-contest average. Both are also strong rebounders. Tillman measuring 6-4 and Thompson 6-3.

Saginaw will have additional height in its starting lineup. Forward Tom Brown stands 6-4 and guard Bruce LaBrecche is 6-1. Guard John Jacobson is the shortest starter at 5-10. Tillman plays the other forward spot and Thompson is the center.

The Chiefs, now riding the crest of a five-game winning streak after a slow and shaky start, will need to pull out all the stops in this do-or-die game to keep alive their hopes of capturing another SVC crown.

One more league loss and the Chiefs' title chances are virtually dead.

George Ford, Central's 6-3 jumping Jack forward; 4-1 forward Paul Brown and 6-4 center Brad Pittchett will really have to work overtime to get them on the backboards in this crucial scrap.

Saginaw and the Chiefs are scheduled to tip off at 8 p.m., with the actual tip-off preliminary beginning at 6:30.

Another very important Valley game tomorrow evening pits Flint Central against Arthur Hill on the PCH floor.

Railroads Pull Mart to Upside

NEW YORK (U)—Rail hauling an irregular stock market to the upside on balance early today after a heavy trading.

Continued excitement over Baltimore and Ohio stock—both of the merger affections by the Chesapeake & the New York Central—continued the big feature of trading.

A buying rush delayed opening of B.O. issues for more than an hour when they started to higher levels, then trading was halted again under a wave of advance.

Other rail shares followed suit, posting moderate gains for the day. The rest of the list was ragged. Steels, motors, chemicals, oils, and metals and others were mixed. Utilities nudged ahead. Airlines and aircraft-missile stocks were a bit higher.

The overall market seemed to be consolidating some of its gains of Wednesday.

Persistent rumors—lacking official confirmation—were that New York Central, its holding company, Allegheny Corp., or interests friendly to the Central bid for merger with B.O. were behind the huge buying of B.O. stock.

B & O common finally opened on a huge block of 35,000 shares, up 3 1/2 at 47. Wednesday it rose 1/2 as most active stock. B.O. common "stamped" stock—conceding to the share exchange offer—was bought by C & O with an eye for merger—spurred 4 1/2, also to 47, on an initial transaction of 40,000 shares. The "stamped" stock rose 5 1/2 as second most active issue Wednesday.

Herb Gives Up Jokes About Hoosier State

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Draftsman Herb Shriner, the Hoosier comedian, said he was giving up Indiana.

Well, not exactly Indiana—just Indiana jokes.

Herb was coming offstage at the Garry Moore pinch-hitting of the Red Skelton TV show at CBS. He hung his head and said, "Nope." For the first time in his life he hasn't told any jokes about events back home such as the turkey contest that nobody won. And how things were so lively that on Saturday night it was nothing for us to go down to the barber shop and watch a few haircuts.

"I've decided to use topical material for a while," Herb said.

His wife, Pixie, a Chicago gal, nodded approval. A show business friend said that was probably the correct decision.

"If you just keep using Hoosier jokes, you might sound sane," the friend said.

Herb told me a couple of topicals he couldn't squeeze into his monologue.

He said the Eisenhoweres were leaving their helicopter behind at the White House because it would "be so handy to dry diapers on." Jackie Kennedy, he said, had just been figuring to use the Senate for that purpose because of the hot air.

Marilyn Maxwell was on the program, too, and she like Herb came from Port Wayne. They said they used to do amateur contests together when they were kids.

"Marilyn was well-developed... even then," Herb said, stealing a shy look at her figure. "She always won. She always beat me. When I got a little older, I understood why."

Herb now has a home in Fort Lauderdale as well as one in New York but I figure he won't be denying Indiana jokes to those who demand them. How could he? Herb, the guy who says, "I was born in Ohio but I moved to Indiana as soon as I heard about it," can never really abandon that wonderful Hoosier corn.

Usually calm Frank Sinatra exclaimed in Washington, "I'm so excited, I'm shaking!" Cash collected from ticket sales for his pre-Inaugural Gala had just passed $1,000,000. Betty Davis had been added to the formidable program: "It looks like there won't be a seat left in the joint!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL...

No kidding, Jimmie Durante busted another Hollywood heart all to pieces when he married Margie Little... Brigitte Bardot's designing and manufacturing handbags, gave one to Diabhan Carroll.

Singer Dinah Washington and her young groom, Raoul Campos, rushed to Chicago; her plush apartment there was wrecked by fire.

EARL'S PEARLS: Monday morning. That's when we look back wistfully on the good old days—Saturday and Sunday.

Catholic Digest

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Milton Berle described a miserly character: "He's the only man I know with a shiny 1940 penny."

Cleverness consists of thinking of a bright remark (1) just in time to say it and (2) just in time not to say it... That's earl, brother.

TV News and Reviews

'Zenda' Offered Nothing to Sink the Teeth Into

By FRED DANZIG
 NEW YORK (UPI)—"Prisoner of Zenda" put viewers on a diet of bread and water last night.

The 50-minute "Show of the Month" on CBS-TV lacked the meat and potatoes appeal of Anthony Hope's swashbuckling family classic.

A large, serious-minded cast led by Christopher Plummer was enlisted in the cause of Sumner Locke Elliott's adaptation of the British classic.

It was the cast's serious approach to the cornball palace intrigues that gave the production unnecessarily long stretches of dullness.

To match the frothy story, more buoyant performances were needed. The telescoping of the plot and subplot, to fit the requirement of time, caused confusion and a lot of loose ends.

Thanks to videotape Plummer portrayed a dual role. He was the king of Ruritania, a hard-drinking playboy, named Rudolph, and he was the king's look-alike cousin from England, Rudolph Rassenfelm.

Plummer's usual charm wasn't enough this time. He lacked the proper pick of playfulness. Only once did the show pick up in tempo and spirit.

That was in a brief scene where

Hike Production at Pontiac Plant

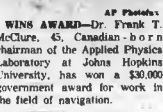

7,934 New Cars Are Manufactured for Week Ending Jan. 14

Combined production of Pontiac and Tempests last week was 7,934, an increase of 1,559 cars over the week ending Jan. 7, the Automobile Manufacturers Association reported today.

AMA figures showed that for the week ending Jan. 14 Pontiac Motor Division's output consisted of 6,000 Pontiacs and 3,934 Tempests.

The division's total output the previous week was 7,335 cars.

Both the number of Pontiacs and Tempests produced increased the week of Jan. 14.

WINS AWARD—Dr. Frank T. McGure, 45, Canadian-born chairman of the Applied Physics Laboratory at Johns Hopkins University, has won a $30,000 government award for work in the field of navigation.

William R. Bartlett WW I Vets' Head

William R. Bartlett of 56 Florence Ave., has been installed as the new commander of the Veterans of World War I, succeeding Harry E. Sisson.

Other newly-elected officers are:

Ayers M. Miller, senior vice commander; Noah J. Batten, junior vice commander; Harry H. Middleton, Sr., judge advocate; Loren L. Beach, chaplain; Leo R. Milwaukee, quartermaster; Arnold M. Miller, trustee for one year; Carl J. Shindler, trustee for two years; and Allen W. Hersee, trustee for three years.

Appointed to new posts were:

Past Commander: Thomas J. Adams; George W. Danah, legislative director; Casca O. Adams, sergeant at arms; Carl E. Court, assistant sergeant at arms; and Robert A. Fernandez, guard.

Chaplain Beech also was appointed service officer, and Judge Advocate Middleton, who performed installation ceremonies at a past department senior vice commander, was appointed historian.

Middleton also was selected as a delegate to the Oakland County Council of Veterans along with Commander Bartlett, Trustee Hersee and Adjutant Sisson.

Altman delegates are Senior Vice Commander Miller, Quartermaster Milwaukee, Assistant Sergeant at Arms Court, and Harry W. Moran.

With All Due Modesty

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former President Harry S. Truman said today that John F. Kennedy's inauguration is the "best thing that has happened to the country since 1949"—when a president named Harry S. Truman was inaugurated.

TWO IN ONE

The story, briefly, called for indulgence on the part of the viewer but didn't deserve it. Here was the king, hereafter known as Rudolph the red-headed ringer, hungover so badly that he couldn't make the coronation.

The Englishman, otherwise known as Rudolph, the red-headed ringer, cubbed for first and hung around to fraternize with the king's fiancée, Nancy Wickwire as the solemn Antelope, John Williams as loyal Col. Sept and Philip Boero as the duke of Stroupa, evil brother of the king. They all paddled around the fine line with too much solemnity.

The aforementioned Philip Boero, incidentally, was stabbed to death by Farley Granger in the play's final moments—a gruesome touch it was, too.

But Boero bounced up minutes later on CBS-TV's "Circus Theater." This time, he was the hero, a Fred and Fred Administration investigator who solved a wire-cure racket.

The play, "The Medicine Man," was straightforward and undisturbed except for Carroll O'Connor's performance as Doc Turner, the callous con man.

THE CHAMBERLAIN: "NBC White Paper No. 3," scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 14, will survey relations between the United States and Panama.

Andre Previn will be the musical director for ABC-TV's 30-minute "Classical" special on Monday, April 17.

CBS-TV's "Family Theater" series abandons its "continued tomorrow" format starting with its presentation Monday, Feb. 13, of a one-hour version of "The Grapes of Wrath" starring George, Julia Harris and Farley Granger will star.

The grand parade of the St. Paul winter carnival will be carried by NBC-TV on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 21, starting at 10 a.m. and ending at 10 p.m. with the participation of the festivities.

Reports Pistole Stolen

James Kligor, 3032 E. Walton Blvd., Pontiac Township, reported to Oakland County sheriff's department yesterday that his home had been burglarized and a 45-caliber pistol stolen.

You Can't Buy a Better Mattress at $39⁹⁵

80th Anniversary mattress or box spring
Twin or full size

Here's what you get:

- Button-free top gives smooth sleeping surface
- Exclusive flanged construction reinforced edges, keeps cover taut
- Beautiful flaked ticking in grey with white fleur-de-lis design
- Sealy's famous comfortably firm construction for healthful support.

Sleeping on a Sealy is like sleeping on a cloud

These nationally known authorities checked quality, durability, and value of this Sealy 80th Anniversary Mattress.

Famous Willmark Research Corporation has shopped and checked competitive mattresses in a nation-wide survey. On the basis of these findings, Sealy rates this mattress your best value at $39.95.

The American Standards Testing Bureau made extensive torture tests for rugged wear... found the 80th Anniversary mattress remarkably durable.

Good Housekeeping Institute reviewed the results of these tests. This mattress earned its famous Money-Back Guaranty Seal.

JFK Huddles With Like Over 2 Hours

But Not Near Detroit

Suburban Exodus to Continue

The exodus from Detroit to the suburbs will continue, but the population increases in Oakland, Macomb, and Wayne counties will no longer be in the sections closest to Detroit.

Findings of the University of Michigan's Detroit Area Study (DAS) indicate that in Oakland County the population boom of the future will be in a central area of the county — a "belt" six to 12 miles distant from Detroit's city limits.

Census figures show that during the past 20 years the fastest rate

The DAS report showed:

Between 1950 and 1960, the central Oakland zone far outstripped other areas of the county in rate of population growth, with an increase of 143 per cent.

The area near Detroit grew by 81.3 per cent and the outlying areas — including Pontiac, which is growing at a markedly lower rate than its surrounding territory — by 75.9 per cent.

On the other hand, between 1940 and 1950, the area adjacent

Chrysler Says Charges Untrue in Newberg Suit

Ex-President Claims He Was Fired for Refusing to Shut His Mouth

DETROIT (U)—Chrysler Corp. has flatly denied charges by its former president that he was fired for refusing to ignore alleged misconduct and incompetence in the 10-year administration of L. L. (Tex) Colbert.

After six months of silence, William C. Newberg charged Wednesday in a Wayne County Circuit Court action that Colbert, his long-time personal friend, and four others conspired in making him a scapegoat.

Newberg's suit seeks return of $455,000 he agreed to pay Chrysler after his resignation. Judge Thomas Murphy set a hearing for Jan. 27.

Chrysler issued a statement saying Newberg's allegations were without foundation in fact. The statement said the money settlement was proposed by Newberg and "was not the result of any duress or pressure on the part of Chrysler or any one associated with Chrysler."

SAYS THREATS 'IMPLIED'

Newberg, of 1411 Kirkway Drive, Bloomfield Township, charged that implied threats of criminal and civil prosecution and imprisonment caused him and his wife Dorothy so much mental anguish and distress that he agreed to the money settlement.

Named in the suit were Juan Tripp, president of Pan American World Airways; W. Alton Jones, executive committee chairman of Citicorp; Louis E. Warren, New York attorney and member of Chrysler's operating committee; and Francis E. Bonnell of Kelley, Drye, Newhall & Magness, New York attorneys who represent Chrysler. Warren is a partner in this firm. All but Bonnell are Chrysler directors.

Luis Munoz Marin during his visit to New York. Early today, the president-elect had a conference with President Eisenhower, their last meeting before inauguration ceremonies Friday.

Discuss Major Problem Areas at White House

Kennedy Says Talks Hit Far East, Africa, Europe and Caribbean

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower and President-elect John F. Kennedy canvassed the nation's major problems in a White House conference today lasting more than two hours.

When he came out of the conference, Kennedy told reporters that he and three of his top appointees had had "the opportunity to get the thinking of the President and the responsible officers of the government on some of the major problems facing the United States."

Kennedy, bronzed and smiling, was asked how he feels with his inauguration as president scheduled Friday.

"Very good," he replied. "A reporter asked if he was excited."

"Interested," Kennedy replied with a broad grin. A joint statement issued by the press secretaries of the outgoing and incoming presidents said that world areas discussed at the conference included the Far East, Africa, Western Europe and the Caribbean.

Eisenhower and Kennedy met alone first in the President's office. Then they met in the cabinet room with the incoming and outgoing secretaries of state, treasury and defense for continuation of their discussions.

The statement said that during their discussions, the president-elect and the incoming cabinet members "were brought up to date on a number of matters affecting the security of the United States."

SECOND MEETING

It was the second time Eisenhower and Kennedy met for preliminary discussions. They conferred for nearly three hours Dec. 6. Today's meeting lasted about two hours and 15 minutes.

Kennedy told newsmen the two conferences will make the transition from a Republican to a Democratic administration easier.

Kennedy was reminded that Eisenhower had said Wednesday that the transition was going smoothly.

Kennedy agreed with this and praised the cooperation of the Eisenhower administration mentioned particularly by William B. French, Eisenhower's chief aide. "I don't think we have asked for anything that they haven't done," Kennedy said.

TOUCH ON GOLD WOES

Among the problems touched upon today, Kennedy said, was the outflow of gold. He said this was touched on briefly.

Kennedy said, in reply to a question, that the talks were very frank. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Fire Claims 4 Children

TAWAS CITY (U)—Four children died today when fire swept their home in Alabaster Township, about two miles south of here. Their parents and two other children were injured.

The victims were Thelma Mae Benson, 13, her brother Douglas Lee, 11, and her sisters, Deborah Anne, 9, and Christine Louise, 8.

Hospitalized at Tawas City were the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert P. Benson, and their other two children, Frederic J., 1, and James E., 6.

The 20-year-old mother and the children were reported in fair condition. The 20-year-old father was reported in critical condition.

Firemen said the blaze apparently was touched off by a defective wood-burning space heater.

Frederic and James were carried to safety from the blazing farm home by their parents. The father was burned critically when he ran back into the house in a futile effort to save the other children.

TV Will Cover the Inauguration Day and Night

Here are the inauguration events that will be seen on television Friday, together with the times for each event.

11:30 a.m.—President-elect and Mrs. Kennedy arrive at White House to ride down Pennsylvania Avenue to the Capitol with President and Mrs. Eisenhower (television on channels 2, 4 and 7).

Noon—Official inaugural ceremony, the Capitol (television on channels 2, 4 and 7).

12:30 p.m.—President Kennedy attends inaugural luncheon at the Capitol (television on channels 2, 4 and 7).

1:30 p.m.—Start of inaugural parade down Pennsylvania Avenue to the White House (television on channels 2, 4 and 7).

9 p.m.—Inaugural Ball, to be held simultaneously at four hotels and the National Guard Armory (television at National Guard Armory on channel 2 at 11:25 p.m. and channel 4 at 11:30 p.m.).

Receives Annual Honor

Deputy Is Top Young Man

By DICK HANSON
Sergeant's deputy Sgt. Donald Kraft, 22, was named Pontiac's Outstanding Young Man of the Year last night for his services to the community beyond those necessitated by his being a law enforcement officer.

The much-coveted Distinguished Service Award and Trophy was presented to Sgt. Kraft at the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce's annual Boozes Night held at Devon Gables.

A nonmember of the Jaycees, he was chosen for the distinction by an independent panel of judges.

Also, at last night's banquet, Jaycees and their bosses also paid tribute to Knudsen as the driving individual who led Pontiac auto sales out of the doldrums to its present position of leading the medium-priced field and for introducing the division's highly popular Tempest compact car in '61.

William Dean Jr. was named the Jaycees' Key Man of the Year for his spirit and determination in furthering the club's civic accomplishments during 1960.

Sgt. Kraft was chosen Young Man of the Year for the extra effort he put into promoting safety in the community. He was credited with saving countless lives as the result of the innumerable hours he has given to this worthy cause.

Aside from his duties as head of the safety division of the sheriff's department, he has never hesitated to further the cause on his own time. He has addressed at least 100,000 people in groups throughout Oakland County on how to protect lives by practicing safety.

In addition to promoting safety on the speaker's circuit, Sgt. Kraft has given much of his own time to raising the sheriff's safety division to where it is recognized as the best-equipped in the nation.

The Jaycees also presented special Merit Awards to The Pontiac Press, Radio Station WPOP, and the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. in Pontiac for the assistance they have given the civic club during the past year.

Gus Stager, head swimming coach at the University of Michigan, who led the U.S. Olympic Swim Team to success in Rome last summer, was guest speaker at the banquet attended by 125 club members, their employees, and guests, including the boys' swimming teams from Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern high schools.

CENTENNIAL SEAL.—This is the official centennial seal adopted by the Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission. Created by Arnold Niensstead, Pontiac Press artist, the seal symbolizes the city's past and future. Featured prominently is Chief Pontiac, the great Indian leader, whose likeness was adapted from the well-known painting which New York artist Jerry Farnsworth created for Pontiac Motor Division. A star within the outline of Lower Michigan indicates the geographical location of Pontiac. Circling the star is a gear, indicating Pontiac's present and future industrial might. The copyrighted seal will be used prominently during this 100th anniversary year of Pontiac's incorporation as a city. Permission to reproduce the seal for commercial purposes must be obtained from the commission.

Lion-Hearted Dr. Dooley, Age 34, Dies of Cancer

NEW YORK (U)—Thomas Dooley, lion-hearted young doctor who battled disease in the Laos jungle even when he himself became ravaged by crippling cancer, died in his sleep Wednesday night at Memorial Hospital.

Death came just one day after his 34th birthday. Dooley, brought to the hospital Dec. 27 wearing a brace from shoulder to hips, insisted he was going to continue his work if his

"iron maiden" enabled him to get around — and characteristically added:

"I am not going to quit. I will continue to guide and lead my hospitals until my back, my brain, my blood and my bones collapse."

Dooley's dedication to relieving the plight of the underprivileged and ailing began seven years ago while he was a Navy doctor.

He spent a year of premedical training at the University of Notre Dame before serving (1944-46) as a Navy medical corpsman attached to the Marines.

Upon leaving service, he studied at the Sorbonne in Paris for a year. A native of St. Louis, in 1953 he was graduated from the St. Louis University School of Medicine.

REJOINS NAVY

Dooley rejoined the Navy as a lieutenant (j.g.) and took his internship first at the Naval Hospital, Camp Pendleton, Calif., and then aboard the attack transport USS Montague.

In 1954, at the end of the war in Indochina, his ship aided in evacuation of refugees from Communist North Viet Nam.

Seeing and feeling the plight of the hundreds of disease-ravaged inhabitants of the area made up Dooley's mind.

He had no money. But he had a fighting heart, boundless energy and a burning zeal.

Expect Frosty 14 Tonight; May Snow Saturday

Partly cloudy and a little colder is the forecast for tonight and Friday in the Pontiac area.

Temperatures will drop to a low of 14 tonight and rise to near 25 Friday. The outlook for Saturday is a chance of light snow and not so cold.

Morning winds easterly at five miles per hour will become northerly to northwesterly at 10 to 20 m.p.h. tonight.

Fifteen was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The temperature at 1 p.m. was 24.

4 Committees' in GOP Hands

Oakland's Sen. Roberts
Chairman of Elections
Group at Lansing

LANSING (U)—Four of five key Senate committees remained under the chairmanship of conservative Republicans today. With one exception, House committee assignments are still pending.

The sole Senate chairman not a member of the old guard Republican bloc is John W. Fitzgerald of Grand Lodge, who captured the leadership of the business committee in a showdown floor vote.

Fitzgerald won his assignment in a power struggle between conservative who wanted the chairmanship of the Senate Committee on Labor and Human Resources, R-Grand Rapids, and a group composed mainly of Senate newcomers.

Sen. Carroll E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, who voted for Fitzgerald, was named chairman of the elections committee, the same post held by his predecessor, L. Harvey Lodge.

Chairmen of four other key Senate committees are veteran legislators. Sen. Elmer R. Porter, Blissfield, was named chairman of the appropriations committee; Sen. Carlton H. Morris, Kalamazoo, judiciary; Sen. John P. Smekens, Coldwater, labor; Sen. Clyde H. Geertlings, Holland, taxation.

Other Senate chairmanships: Agriculture—Sen. Harry Litwack, Benton Harbor.

Conservation—Sen. Charles T. Prescott, Prescott.

Corporations—Sen. John H. Stahlin, Belding.

Education—Sen. Lynn O. Francis, Midland.

Health and welfare—Sen. Lloyd A. Stephens, Scottville.

Highways—Sen. Haskell L. Nichols, Jackson.

Insurance—Sen. Clarence F. Graebner, Saginaw.

Municipalities—Sen. Charles R. Feenstra, Grand Rapids.

Public utilities—Sen. Stanley G. Thayer, Ann Arbor.

Retirement—Sen. Arthur A. Dehnert, Livonia.

State affairs—Sen. Perry W. Greene, Grand Rapids.

Veterans' affairs—Sen. William G. Milliken, Traverse City.

In the House, Rep. Arnell Engstrom, R-Traverse City, was named chairman of the ways and means committee.

GOP Gentle to Swainson Program

LANSING (U)—Republican legislators have given a cautiously friendly reception to Gov. Swainson's record $62.3 million state spending program today.

"Generally not too far out of line except for his capital outlay bonding proposal," said Rep. Allan Green, R-Kalamazoo, House GOP floor leader.

"Within the realm of reason," said Rep. Russell H. Strange, R-Clare.

Most GOP leaders declined comment until they have had a chance to study the budget figures in detail.

The Democratic governor's proposal to finance a $38.5 million state building program with revenue bonds issued by an expanded public building corporation drew the heaviest fire.

"It would be a grab bag and remove responsibility from bond financing," said Rep. Rollo G. Conlin, R-Tipton, chairman of the House Taxation Committee.

Capital outlay, he said, should be financed only through general appropriations or bond issues approved by the voters and financing specific projects.

"The retirement costs would be higher than with general obligation bonds," he added.

Green said Swainson should have allowed a $15 to $20 million contingency allowance to take care of unexpected financial obligations.

Practical Nurses Graduating Tonight

Pontiac General Hospital's latest class of practical nurses will graduate tonight from the Ann Arbor School of Practical Nursing.

Out of a class of seven, six will work at Pontiac General, where they received most of their field experience. They are:

Lavon Bonner, 45 Eastmoore Blvd., Doris Hand, 1158 Edgewood Drive, Waterford Township; Adeline Tyms, 67 Orton St.; Joyce DeWeese, 694 Joslyn Ave.; Irene Ennis, 76 N. Cassman St.; and Helen Zaremba, 5710 Winkler Mills Road, Oakland Township. Also graduating is Margie Sparber, 20200 N. Telegraph Road.

Elected Rail President

CLEVELAND — Harry A. Sanders has been elected president of the Detroit and Toledo Shore Line Railroad, succeeding F. A. Gaffney. Mr. Sanders is also vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad, with headquarters in Detroit.

Voice of America Set to Carry Inaugural

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A detailed description of John F. Kennedy's inauguration Friday will be carried to millions of persons around the world by U.S. Information Agency broadcasts, films, still pictures and radio-teletype dispatches.

The oath-taking ceremony and parts of other events will be broadcast live in English over 48 of the Voice of America's transmitters.

Most of the Voice's 35 foreign language stations also will carry portions of the events live or recorded.

Detroit Woman Says She Was Assaulted

DETROIT (U)—A 36-year-old woman told police she was raped last night by a man who threatened her with a knife.

The woman said the man approached her as she walked to her Detroit home and forced her at knifepoint into a vacant lot where he attacked her.

She said her assailant was a Negro, about 20 years old and weighing about 150 pounds. The woman is white.

Vehicle License Taxes Up in State

LANSING—During 1960 Oakland County vehicle owners paid $5,101,891.50 to register 227,572 units. It was reported this week by Secretary of State James M. Hare.

"This total is $68,301.58 more than the 1959 figure," Hare said. "A year ago Oakland County residents paid $5,013,589.62 in weight taxes on 312,518 vehicles."

In releasing the Oakland County figure, Hare pointed out that weight tax collections in Michigan had increased $68,644.38.

KESS BUT DON'T MAKE UP — Actress June Allyson greets her husband, actor Dick Powell, with a witty kiss at the International Airport in Los Angeles Tuesday night on his return from Europe. Their children, Pamela, 12, and Richard, eight, 10, look on. Despite the airport greeting, Miss Allyson said she and Powell have not reconciled. She has filed a suit for divorce on charges of mental cruelty.

Ford Receives Army Contract

$4.5 Million Awarded to Continue Production of Jeep's Replacement

—DETROIT (UPI)—The Army Wednesday awarded Ford Motor Co. a $4.5-million contract for continued production of the M51 utility vehicle—successor to the Jeep.

The Army called the contracts a "partial funding" for 3,114 of the 14-ton vehicles. Ford presently is under contract to build 4,950 of them.

The Army said it hopes eventually to replace all jeep-type vehicles in the field with the new M51.

Production of the new order will continue through October 1961, at Ford's Livonia automatic transmission plant and will provide jobs for 25,000 people in 20 Michigan plants.

Lighter and shorter than the jeep, the M51 can carry four men and their combat equipment. It is powered by a four-cylinder engine and is designed to be air-droppable.

Detroit firms supplying parts for the M51 are Holley (carburetor), Bendix Aviation, Mackenzie Axle, Comfort Cushion and Ray White Electrical Products. Outside supplier firms include Continental Motors, Muskonongue Stamping, Saginaw; Gensler Manufacturing, Marysville; Pulter Manufacturing, Jackson; Mitchell-Bentley, Ionia; and Berkeley Machine, Berkeley.

Container Firm to Open Grand Rapids Branch

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Allied Corrugated Container Co., a division of Crandon Paper Mills, Inc., Wednesday announced it will start a Grand Rapids operation Feb. 1 and employ about 40 persons initially.

The firm operates plants at Detroit and Holly and at Chicago. It is the second new industry for Grand Rapids in less than two weeks.

Its Sisseton, Minn., plant manager estimates its employee roster will increase to 200 by the year-end.

Fat Ann Arbor Wakes After Long Sleep

By RICHARD PYLE
ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Three years ago some leading local citizens sat down around a table and took a long, hard look at their city and its future.

Some months later, as a result of that meeting, a large billboard arose south of the city, proclaiming it to be the "Research Center of the Midwest."

Today, with the combined energies of private interest, city government and the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor is waging a successful campaign to prove that self-assumed title is no misnomer.

Situated in the picturesque Huron River valley 44 miles west of Detroit, Ann Arbor has a past manifested in its weathered wooden homes and the dignified permanence of the sprawling university campus.

But its pattern for the future is just as clearly defined by the burgeoning, in the last few years, of the one modern research facility after another in and around the city.

The biggest of these are the landscaped laboratories of Bendix Corp's systems division and Parke, Davis & Co., both located near the university's growing

Inaugural to Be Showcase for New Overture

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The world premiere of a new orchestral overture will be a highlight of tonight's inaugural concert in Constitution Hall.

The program for the concert was chosen by President-Elect John F. Kennedy, who planned to attend with his wife. The emphasis is on serious music by American composers.

The overture, a musical salute to America entitled "From Sea to Shining Sea," was written especially for the concert by John J. Montano, a young American composer and Pulitzer Prize winner.

It will be played by the National Symphony Orchestra of Washington under the baton of conductor Howard Mitchell.

Metallurgical research is being conducted by American Metal Products Co. in its recently-completed building south of town, not far from Mitrometrical Development Corp., a small independent research firm recently purchased by Bendix.

EIGHT OTHER FIRMS

Ann Arbor has at least eight other firms of small size engaged wholly in research or combining it to some extent with manufacturing.

A $125,000 office-laboratory building housing the Great Lakes-Midwest regional unit of the U.S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries is slated for completion in June 1961.

Two other firms recently announced plans to locate in the Ann Arbor area—Conductron, Inc., a Paramount Pictures subsidiary doing research in semi-conducting and ferrite materials, and Electronic Assistance Corp., an electronics research firm.

All of this is symbolic of Ann Arbor's awakening from what one local citizen called "a slumber of complacency to an awareness of its need for a share in the future."

Until the "awakening," the city gave little thought to such a need. Generally free from economic crises, content with a conservative political climate and able to rely on the omnipresence of the university's 25,000 students, Ann Arbor had few worries.

"We were fat, dumb and happy," said William J. Root, director of the Chamber of Commerce. "We never had any chaos—and nothing progressive program like chaos."

Seated around the table, the leading citizens decided a little progress might be a good thing—and they organized a committee to investigate Ann Arbor's potential.

The committee found a stable population of about 60,000, growing at a moderate rate, a healthy intellectual climate with an abundance of professional and technical people; three airports, a major railroad and a busy expressway close at hand.

"Our first thought was industry," recalled Bott, "but the word had a bad connotation. People immediately thought of smoky factories. And the labor market was only about 5,000 people, earning Detroit-scale wages. That seemed to hold little appeal for industry."

All of these things added up, eventually, to a more-or-less obvious conclusion as to what was Ann Arbor's key to the future: Research and development.

MEN! Robert Hall announces!

Spending money and saving money is a serious business

"Robert Hall makes and sells for cash, more men's suits and coats than any other clothier in America."

Why?

Because... we save—you save.

- No credit charges
- No service charges
- No fancy fixtures
- No show windows
- Out of the high rent locations

In other words, it makes plain common-sense. Why pay for something you cannot wear?

Therefore, our reasons for saving you money are just as sound today, as when we first introduced these savings to the American public twenty years ago.

Just one more important fact... Our men's suits and coats are made in America by skillful tailors—your assurance of quality.

You will find this "MADE IN THE U.S.A." label only at Robert Hall on every man's suit and coat

Make Minutes Meaningful

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today I am bringing you some old thoughts for the new year. "Old time in whose bank we deposit our notes, is a miser who always wants guineas for groats; He keeps all his customers still in arrears."

By lending them minutes and charging them years."

—O. W. Holmes

How deceptive time really is! We do not think of minutes as especially important and spend them without giving them much thought. We do think in terms of years, yet years and life are made up of minutes.

It seems to me that the most successful and the happiest folks are keenly aware of the importance and the potentialities of the minutes and hours through which they are passing.

Another old thought for the new year.

"Time, to the nation as to the individual, is nothing absolute; its duration depends on the rate of thought and feeling."—John William Draper.

Some people live more in 40 years than others do in 80. How long we live depends much more on the quality of our thought and feeling than on the number of years we have breathed.

Some folks just go through the motions of living without ever sensing the excitement and adventure of life.

Another.

"Oh, how much good time we lose over a bad matter," — Seneca.

This is probably our worst abuse of time; to waste it in unhappiness or tears over matters which are not truly important or which cannot be changed.

Also tremendous amounts of energy can be spent in petty emotions, such as self-pity, jealousy, envy, irritability and sensitiveness. Time is of the essence and it is made up of minutes.

If you would like to have my booklet No. 64 "Worry" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Four Groups Hold Church Meetings

Committee chairman were named at the meeting of the Saybrook group of the first Congregational Church. Mrs. Dora Dawson and Mrs. Helen Trigg were hostesses at their home on South Tilden Avenue.

Mrs. Grady Smith will have charge of devotions for the year. Business representatives are Mrs. Carl Weber and Mrs. C. Wales Goodwin.

Mrs. Leslie Cross is chairman of voluntary help; Mrs. William Vance, missionary; and Mrs. William Miller, program.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Vance and Mrs. Nellie Williams. Mrs. Carmi J. Odell presented a program on the origin of names.

COLONIAL GROUP
Mrs. E. H. Bader opened her home on West Ingham Road to members of the Colonial Group of First Congregational Church.

Mrs. E. C. Russell was chairman of the luncheon committee, assisted by Mrs. Allan Henahan, Mrs. Fatsue Gump and Mrs. J. B. Jewell.

Devotions were read by Mrs. Philip Varvack.

The Rev. and Mrs. Howard H. Clegg were guests of the group. Mr. Clegg spoke on "Prayer and Devotions."

PILGRIM GROUP
Members of the Pilgrim Group were luncheon guests of Mrs. Leon E. Cobb in her home on Maplewood Avenue, West Bloomfield Township. Mrs. Harold V. Lankey assisted the hostess.

Mrs. William Travis, president, appointed committee chairman and announced plans for the new year.

Guests were Mrs. Malcolm Burton, Mrs. C. A. Boudurant and Mrs. William Thomas.

STANDISH GROUP
The Standish Group social center, following a luncheon meeting in the Van Wagner room of the church.

Visitors were Mrs. T. A. Eggleston and her daughter, Mrs. Stanley E. Kipp.

Mrs. Peter Vanderlock was hostess, with Mrs. Harry C. Magnus assisting.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Tony Benett.

Old Vienna Dessert Ideal With Coffee

Many times we have heard ex-uberant vacationers talk in glowing terms about Vienna. For most travelers, Vienna is synonymous with gaiety, music and delicious things to eat. It is the heart of a land that has given us, among other treats, coffee with Schlagobers (a drizzle of whipped cream) and the delectable strudel, now as much at home in this country as in its motherland.

In Austria, the strudel may be filled with meat, vegetable or cereal fillings as well as fruits or other sweet mixtures. But in the United States, the Apple Strudel is undoubtedly the one most people know. In many homes, strudel has become as much a part of the slice of homemade strudel!

APPLE STRUDEL, STRUDEL

Pastry
1 cup short margarine
1 cup sugar
1 egg yolk
2 cups flour
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup walnuts
1/2 cup almonds
1/2 cup apples
1/2 cup cinnamon
1/2 cup nutmeg
1/2 cup vanilla
1/2 cup salt

Mix and sift flour, 1/2 cup sugar and salt. Cut in butter. Stir in egg yolks, milk and wine. Mix rapidly.

Chill 1 hour. Roll dough into oblong (about 17" x 13"). Place apple slices lengthwise along center. Sprinkle apples with 1/2 cup sugar, raisins, almonds, lemon peel and juice. Fold 2 sides of dough over apples, sealing with egg white.

Place on baking sheet. Paint top with egg white. Bake in hot oven 400 degrees, 1/2 hour or until

Future Salad Dressing May Be Stored at Zero

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Department of Agriculture is at work on a salad dressing that will not separate when frozen and thawed.

USDA said the basic mixture includes oil of safflower, a thistle-like herb, a waxy rice flour, and fresh egg yolks.

Tests show the mixture remains stable at temperatures as low as -10 degrees F, but researchers hope to work out a formula which will remain stable at zero, the temperature at which frozen food should be held. USDA said the research is under way at its laboratories in Albany, Calif.

She Froze at Wheel, Postponed Her Test

ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—Minnette Ernst pushed in the wrong place upon arriving at a state drivers' license office for a driving test. She nervously reversed the car to back up a short distance.

With a companion giving advice from the curb, Miss Ernst froze at the wheel and stepped on the accelerator.

The car shot backward across a busy street, knocked down a fence and string of electric lights, and crashed through a pony corral. It finally stopped against a church.

Miss Ernst postponed her driving test.

Ordinary Sweet Potatoes Appear in New Form

Sweet potatoes, or yams, as they are known in part of the country, usually appear on the vegetable platter. Here's a variation featuring them in an elegant, flavorful dessert that's the favorite of most families—ple.

Lemon-Sweet Potato Pie

1/2 cup butter, room temperature
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup cream
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup lemon zest
1/2 cup vanilla
1/2 cup salt

Adjust rack 4 or 5 inches above pan. Bake at 450 degrees for 15 minutes or until edge of crust is about 10 minutes before baking.

Make pastry. To add special 300 degrees and bake 15 minutes. Pour mixture into pastry lined pan. Bake at 450 degrees for 15 minutes or until edge of crust is about 10 minutes before baking.

Best scrubbed potatoes until soft, from 20 to 25 minutes. Drain potatoes, skin while hot, and put through strainer to remove lumps. Cool slightly. Beat in butter, then egg yolk, (reserve whites for meringue) honey, salt, nutmeg and baking powder. Beat until smooth and creamy. Stir in lemon juice and vanilla extract. Pour in crushed pecans.

Copy Fire Fighters' Soup to Chase Away Chills

After a stint of tough duty on chill days, heroes of the firehouse have a special law, which boils the cycles in their veins—it's a spicy hot tomato soup. Try it on your family when they come home with chattering teeth.

For two or three servings, take a can of condensed tomato soup from the cupboard; blend with milk or water. Heat to simmering but do not boil. Pour into the handsome mugs that Santa left under the tree and serve with a stirring stick of cinnamon. Chills will disappear like vapor on a sunny day.

Iraq Wants Teachers; to Get 'Em From India

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Iraq has asked India to supply 25 teachers for employment in Iraqi technical schools. According to Education Minister K. L. Shrinani, 24 Indian teachers have been recruited. They will go to Iraq, subject to the approval of the Iraqi government.

Van Brocklin Embarks on New Grid Career

MINNEAPOLIS-STE. PAUL (AP)—By the Vikings from the New York Giants last week—is a man of tremendous ability.

Vikings' owners were aglow over the acquisition of Van Brocklin. They needed a man of national stature to lend his reputation to their inaugural year in the competitive league of the NFL. They also needed the savvy of a NFL vet to help them pick the 36 players from the league pool who will form the core of the Vikings' roster.

Van Brocklin, of course, is untested as a coach. Yet general manager Bert Rose expressed confidence that he has the ability to make it.

"Among his greatest qualities is his demonstrated leadership," Rose said. "Through his long association with the NFL, he has a keen insight into the complex of offenses and defenses of the league."

The way was cleared for Brocklin's appointment after Bud Grant of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, his last series rival, pulled out of the running.

The Vikings declined to reveal salary terms. It was assumed, however, that Van Brocklin stands to make a sum where around $75,000 in the three years.

The exact figure depending on attendance, year-to-year improvement and other factors.

President E. W. Boyer explained coyly why it took so long for the Vikings to hire a man, "Van Brocklin," he said, "kept wanting more money. We still haven't agreed on final terms."

Van Brocklin plans to name four assistants, two for defense, one as offensive line coach and one as defensive line coach. Not surprisingly, he will handle the offense himself.

But Shaw will be calling most of the signals on the field," he added.

He complimented the club on drafting such college stars as Tommy Mason of Tulane, Ed Sharrock of Pittsburgh, Rip Hawkins of North Carolina and Francis Tarkenton of Georgia.

"I haven't seen a more complete package yet who wasn't a good football player."

His plans for the future? Hayes said frankly, "I'm looking for a job."

He will return early Sunday morning, put on his master's robes and be graduated by Eastern Michigan University at 3:00 p.m. Sunday afternoon with a Bachelor of Science degree in physical education.

SPORTS

NEW INCENTIVE — St. Frederick and St. Michael basketballers will have added incentive when they meet at Pontiac Northern Friday. A huge award known as the "Jim Brown Memorial Trophy" has been donated for the cage rivalry by William and John Brown in memory of their brother.

Known as the "Jim Brown Memorial Trophy," the award has been donated by city residents William and John Brown in memory of their brother who was an ardent local sports fan and active in recreation work. The donors were state athletes at St. Fred through their brother's help.

Bill's son Bruce is on the St. Mike team and was a football starter. John's boy Tim is a freshman cager with the Rams. Cousins of the brothers have been standouts at the rival schools.

Mrs. Olive Brown will present the award honoring her late husband to the 1st winner after Friday's game. It will be a companion prize to the Steve Griffin football trophy which has been in existence for several years.

Besides the trophy and city title angle, the game could have great bearing on the Suburban Catholic championship race with the Rams currently sharing 1st place with Royal Oak St. Mary with a five-game victory streak. St. Mike has divided six loop starts.

Little Mike Reed heads the St. Fred effort. He has a 17.1 scoring average for seven seasons games. Ted Dobaki follows at 10.8. Al Tunney is the top Shamrock at 14.4. Charlie Daul has 10.8 and Art Robak 10.7.

Coach Gene Wright's Red and White holds the team point edge with a game average of 56 to 33 for Jim Niebauer's "Big Blue."

Another crucial SCJ battle is on tap at Orchard Lake as the Eagles try to stay alive in the race by beating strong RO St. Mary. St. James goes to St. Rita in the only other tilt.

Both St. Fred and ROSM are slight favorites. The showdown could likely come up Jan. 27 when the southern county school comes here to try to repeat a Dec. 2 conquest of the Rams.

The women's race was as close as the men's was onceided. Helen Shabla of Detroit, who won her first six games, held only a 1.03 point lead over LaVerne Carter of St. Louis.

Watu started unpretentiously and was fifth after the first round he won three and lost one in his match with Jimmy Curman of Dallas, youngest bowler in the match, finished at 22. Welu won the match in pinfall, 84 to 85.

ZBily then started to string strikes as though it were as simple as dropping a 16-pound bowling ball out of a window. He rolled 300 against 816 by Joe Joseph of Detroit in the second round to win three games and move out front.

Topping one of the hottest streaks ever seen in the finals of the tournament, Welu shot a record before faltering.

Orion Hornets Bow

The Lake Orion Hornets dropped their 1st game in the Detroit Senior 'B' Hockey League last night bowing to the Knights. The John and Anderson handout took the Hornets' initial 6-2 with 21. Jim Poiet scored 19 in 67:43.

In "B" action, Drayton Drayton dropped George's Super Service 7-5 as Wayne Glick of the winners and Dove Draper hit 20 each. The John and Anderson handout took the Hornets' initial 6-2 with 21. Jim Poiet scored 19 in 67:43.

Two Goals by Peters Lead Junior Wings

WINDSOR, Ont. (UPI)—The Detroit Junior Wings pulled to their fifth straight win last night downing the Wings 6-2.

The senior now have a 20-4 record for the season and lead the boarder cities hockey league by 31 points.

Jimmy Peters Jr., son of the team coach, paced the junior attack with two goals and an assist.

TAKING AIM — Sports celebrities at the Father and Son Banquet at the Elks last night took aim for the new year of sports ahead in their respective athletic endeavors. Saginaw Comes to PCH for Key Valley Struggle

Chiefs are Underdogs in State's Top Game; 1st Place at Stake

By BILL CORNWELL

The city of Pontiac will host to Michigan's No. 1 high school basketball team Friday night when undefeated Saginaw invades the PCH gymnasium for an all-important Saginaw Valley struggle with defending champion Pontiac Central.

First place in the hectic conference race is at stake and Art Van Ryn's PCH cagers had themselves in the unaccustomed role of underdogs against the high scoring, fast-breaking Trojans of Larry Leeding.

Preceded by the T.N.T. boys, Jerry Tillman and Ernie Thompson, the high-powered Trojans have swept past seven foes, four in the exciting SVC campaign.

Pontiac Central, which has won two straight SVC titles and three in the last four years, is currently tied with Arthur Hill for second place on a 3-1 record and the Chiefs are looking for the racehorse Trojans for the league lead by scoring an upset victory tomorrow.

PCH, with an overall 6-2 mark, was rated No. 9 in this week's prep poll. The Trojans were ranked No. 1 in the same poll and their battle with PCH must be considered Friday's top schoolboy attraction in the state.

The Tillman-Thompson scoring punch has been more than any Troja a opponent could handle thus far. Tillman, a senior, and Thompson, a junior, are presently running away from every one in the SVC scoring race, both in conference and all-games categories.

Tillman has piled up 181 points in seven games for an average of 26 per contest. Thompson boasts 134 points over the same span for a 22-per-contest average. Both are also strong rebounders, Tillman measuring 6-4 and Thompson 6-3.

Saginaw will have additional height in its starting lineup. Forward Brian Best stands 6-4 and guard Bruce LaBrecche is 6-1.

Guard John Jacobson is the shortest starter at 5-10. Tillman is the other forward spot and Thompson is the center.

The Chiefs, now riding the crest of a five-game winning streak after a hiatus and ably aided, will need to pull out all the stops in this tough fight to keep alive their hopes of capturing another SVC crown.

The more league loss the Chiefs' title chances are virtually dead.

George Ford, Central's 6-3 jumping Jack forward; 6-2 forward Paul Brown and 6-4 center Brad Pittel will really have their work cut out for them on the backboards in this crucial scrap.

Saginaw and the Chiefs are scheduled to tip off at 8 p.m., with the annual rivalry preliminary basketball game.

Trying to please every sports fan is something we try to do.

We struggle with headlines, deadlines, space, copy, coaches, and unhappy sports fans, trying to find a happy medium to make everyone happy.

The fact remains, we always lose,—well, at least most of the time.

Holly Shows Class, Buries West Bloomfield

Holly Cagers Beat Barons

Holly Gains First Place Alone in W-O

Sashimi, Fendale, Holly Win Cage Contests

Only Millard Stands in Holly's Way in W-O

Now for example these two letters were written on the same day, and arrived on the sports desk at the same time:

DEAR SPORTS EDITOR:

I am writing this letter in regard to the basketball articles about area basketball teams. All this season, Holly hasn't lost a game, yet you haven't given them a good write up. . . . I do believe they are entitled to a good story.

Yours truly
Jack Hillman

DEAR SIR:

I would like to take a minute to sincerely thank you for the fine coverage your paper has afforded not only our Holly basketball team but also the other Oakland County teams as well. Many of the boys in our Wayne-Oakland League have become friends and look forward to each others' writeups in your paper. It is interesting to note how in the last two years, in the tournaments that Holly and Pontiac basketball fans would join forces to bring their teams through. I personally feel that when our young stars are given recognition, the community gets well deserved recognition and the players become known to various scholarship grantors. Thank you and keep up the good work.

Respectfully,
Bill Fagan

We would just like to say that in the first seven games that Holly has played, there have been six good sized headlines stories on the game results, plus others in advance of the games.

The two letters are exactly opposite of each other.

We thank both writers, certainly for taking the time and interest in writing the letters. It makes us wonder which side of the viewpoints the Holly basketball team itself would support.

Pistons Easily Handle Royals Without Big 'O'

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)—Without had only three before the injury the "big O" of the Cincinnati Royals forced him out of action.

The Detroit Pistons proved that they were the team to watch last night as they rolled to a 144-121 victory in their National Basketball Association contest with the Royals after an injury forced Oscar Robertson out of the game.

Robertson, named the most valuable player in the NBA All-Star game at Syracuse, N. Y., the night before, was accidentally kicked in the left hip and had to leave the game after only six minutes.

Dr. George Raab, the examining physician, said Robertson's injury was a hemorrhage of the pelvic blade, was more painful than serious and estimated the Royals' star would be sidelined two or three days.

Gene Shue paced the Pistons attack with 41 points, trailed only teammate Bailey Howell with 32. Ralph Davis, who took over for Robertson, scored 25. Robertson had 14 rebounds and 11 assists.

Welu Threatens Runaway in All-Star Pin Classic

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—Pin 988 series in the third round.

—Big Billy Welu of St. Louis, Mo., threatened to run away and hide. Welu, who recorded a creditable 15 in the first round of the 988 series, four times.

Welu's games of 249, 207, 257 and 215 broke the old record of 168 set by Ralph Smith, Los Angeles, in 1949. Welu slipped to 825 in his last round of the day, but still won two games from Stan Marvut, Paramus, N. J.

Billy's statistics at the close of the sensational day read: 12 games won, 4 games lost, 8237 points and 3337 pins for a 22.91 average.

The women's race was as close as the men's was onceided. Helen Shabla of Detroit, who won her first six games, held only a 1.03 point lead over LaVerne Carter of St. Louis.

Watu started unpretentiously and was fifth after the first round he won three and lost one in his match with Jimmy Curman of Dallas, youngest bowler in the match, finished at 22. Welu won the match in pinfall, 84 to 85.

ZBily then started to string strikes as though it were as simple as dropping a 16-pound bowling ball out of a window. He rolled 300 against 816 by Joe Joseph of Detroit in the second round to win three games and move out front.

Topping one of the hottest streaks ever seen in the finals of the tournament, Welu shot a record before faltering.

Orion Hornets Bow

The Lake Orion Hornets dropped their 1st game in the Detroit Senior 'B' Hockey League last night bowing to the Knights. The John and Anderson handout took the Hornets' initial 6-2 with 21. Jim Poiet scored 19 in 67:43.

In "B" action, Drayton Drayton dropped George's Super Service 7-5 as Wayne Glick of the winners and Dove Draper hit 20 each. The John and Anderson handout took the Hornets' initial 6-2 with 21. Jim Poiet scored 19 in 67:43.

Two Goals by Peters Lead Junior Wings

WINDSOR, Ont. (UPI)—The Detroit Junior Wings pulled to their fifth straight win last night downing the Wings 6-2.

The senior now have a 20-4 record for the season and lead the boarder cities hockey league by 31 points.

Jimmy Peters Jr., son of the team coach, paced the junior attack with two goals and an assist.

Saginaw and the Chiefs are scheduled to tip off at 8 p.m., with the annual rivalry preliminary basketball game.

Ford Motor Co. Names General Asst. Controller

DETROIT (AP)—Fred G. Secretan today was named general assistant controller for Ford Motor Co.

Stanley N. Kuryla and John M. McBride were named assistant controllers.

Secretan and Kuryla previously served as assistant treasurers. McBride was manager of the budget analysis department.

They Were All for Elliott

County GOPers Neutral Now

Among eight Republican candidates for statewide offices who came to the auditorium to sell their political wares were John R. Stiles of Grand Rapids and Robert J. McIntosh of Fort Hare.

Some 450 delegates, alternates and friends sat and listened. In Stiles' address the local blot of votes by saying he believed in many of Elliott's policies for party leadership, and then to McIntosh urging a "crash program" of party housekeeping to map strategy for the April election.

But after both had moved on to other congressional delegations meeting in Detroit, the Oakland delegation backed on a resolution which read:

"Mindful of the grave responsibility and the far-reaching implications of the national, state and local elections, and of the selection of our next state chairman, that this convention hereby instructs the Oakland County delegation to refrain from any action which might be construed as a commitment to any potential candidate."

Two men who desire to fill the shoes of retiring Lawrence B. Lindemeyer trooped into Pontiac last night in search of the county's 16th votes which the delegation had all wrapped up for Elliott. It will be the largest at the Feb. 4 convention in Detroit.

Lawrence B. Lindemeyer was re-elected to the credit committee.

Report Detroit Sales Climbed 2 Per Cent

Detroit retail sales climbed 2 per cent last week over the same week a year ago according to Women's Wear Daily.

The publication reported that plus figures in the nation's comparative retail sales as specials and clearances made up for the generally slow and spotty "regular" business.

It cited good, normal weather in most parts of the country, and noted coat sales were a leader throughout the North. Pittsburgh hit the comparative high among cities with 20 per cent increase over last year. The national average was a 6 per cent increase.

Two Area Sisters To March for JFK

Two Orchard Lake sisters fly to Washington tomorrow morning to take part in the inaugural parade for President-Elect John F. Kennedy.

They are Adele and Sharon Dreyer, daughters of the Wayne State marching band which will lead the Michigan representation in the parade. Adele is a sophomore and Sharon a junior. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Dreyer of 3117 Ward's Point Drive.

Name E. E. Fisher Director of Bank

Everett E. Fisher of Thimble Farms, Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills, has been elected a director of the National Bank of Detroit.

He replaces his father, Charles T. Fisher, a founder of the Fisher Paper Corp., as a director. The older Fisher has been a director since 1933.

Everett's late brother Charles T. Fisher Jr. was president of the bank from 1933 until his death in 1958. Everett is also a director of Fisher & Co., Inc.

Cafeteria to Move Into Vacant Store

The Saginaw-Lawrence street corner store of the Lawrence Building, vacant several months, has been leased to a company planning a light lunch cafeteria combined with the take-home sale of doughnuts.

Formerly occupied by a Cunningham's drug store, the shop has been leased by Mrs. Rose Stern of Detroit and will be operated as the Dount Center by her husband, William.

Store said remodeling and equipping should get under way in about two weeks, with a March 15 target date for opening.

The Sterns have operated similar doughnut centers in Highland Park and Ferndale for many years.

Pontiac State Bank Re-Elects All Directors

The Pontiac State Bank Board of Directors re-elected all its members and reappointed all officers at the annual board meeting Tuesday.

Harold H. Keith, manager of the Baldwin Avenue Branch, was elected an assistant cashier, the only change in bank officers.

In its annual statement of condition, the bank reported deposits up $1,500,000 at the end of 1960.

The net addition to capital and reserve accounts for the past year was $75,114.92, according to Milo J. Croas, president.

Earnings before a $1 cash dividend paid on outstanding common stock were $4.51 per share.

At County Republican Meeting

Only the controversial subject of federal aid to education sparked any sort of debate at Oakland County Republicans last night after a package of 17 varied resolutions.

Meeting to elect delegates to the state convention next month, the local GOP closed out a four-hour convention by approving a plan favoring "limitation of federal aid to school construction and the provision of equipment or other facilities."

After the resolutions committee, headed by C. Ray Ballard of Highland Woods, urged striking it from the batch of resolutions, the delegates also agreed to restore a proposal urging a study on a proposed 23rd amendment pulling the federal government from all business enterprises.

A selling point was that it might also eliminate the federal income tax.

Copies of the two pages of resolutions were distributed as the delegates filed into the Pontiac Central High School auditorium. Only corrections, additions or deletions were read by Ballard.

This touched off the debate on the subject of federal aid to education, climaxed by about three "stand-up" votes, one of which failed a motion to oppose all federal aid to education.

The distributed sheets took the stand that there should be a "limitation of federal aid to the program in effect during the past several years."

It went further to say that control and instruction should be the responsibility of state and local officials.

Ballard's oral report altered the first part to read that the limitation should be to construction and/or the provision of equipment or other facilities.

Fred L. Morningstar, 4465 Major St., Drayton Plains, said this didn't express the opinion of some of the candidates.

Others who came to Pontiac were Charles A. Rogers, Dearborn attorney for the University of Michigan Board of Regents; Paul M. Chandler, candidate for the same post; former Michigan State University student John P. Pinnell, bidding for his alma mater's board of trustees; and William Butt of Mt. Pleasant, also a candidate for the MSU Board of Trustees.

Dr. E. B. Miller of Pleasant Ridge spoke for Charles S. Kennedy Jr., of Detroit, who's seeking to take his father's place on the board of regents.

None of the candidates was endorsed.

Elliott's meeting with McIntosh was the second of the day. The former congressman and postmaster paid a visit to Elliott's Royal Oak office in the afternoon, telling Elliott that he hoped "Oakland County would look upon me favorably," Elliott said.

Neither McIntosh or Stiles sought immediate endorsement last night, they said.

A surprise visitor to the convention was Congressman William B. Brockmeyer, D-Oakland County, who said the delegates that he, too, was "disappointed" that Elliott declined to run for Lindemeyer's job.

Brockmeyer, who said he'll skip tomorrow's inauguration of President-Elect John F. Kennedy, wouldn't choose between Stiles and McIntosh.

Both candidates for state chairman received about the same crowd reaction.

"I promise you that if you feel you want to support me, my policies will follow very much those that Art Elliott believes in," Stiles said.

Herb Gives Up Jokes About Hoosier State

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Drawn! Herb Shriver, the Hoosier comedian, said he was giving up Indiana.

Well, not exactly Indiana—just Indiana jokes.

Herb was coming offstage at the Garry Moore pinch-hitting of the Red Skelton TV show at CBS. He hung his head and said, "Woe!" for the first time in his life he hasn't told any jokes about events back home such as the beauty contest that nobody won. And how things were so lively "that on Saturday night it was nothin' for us to go down to the barber shop and watch a few haircuts."

"I've decided to use topical material for a while," Herb said.

His wife, Flicia, a Chicago gal, nodded approval. A show business friend said that was probably the correct decision.

"If you just keep using Hoosier jokes, you might sound like a friend said."

Herb told me a couple of topical he couldn't squeeze into his monologue.

He said the Eisenhower were leaving their helicopter behind at the White House because it would "be so handy to dry diapers on." Jackie Kennedy, he said, had just been figuring to use the Senate for that purpose "because of the hot air."

Marilyn Maxwell was on the program, too, and she like Herb came from Port Wayne. They said they used to do amateur contests together there when they were kids.

"Marilyn was well-developed... even then," Herb said, stealing a shy look at her. "She always won. She always beat me. When I got a little older, I understood why."

Herb now has a home in Port Lauderdale as well as one in New York but I figure he won't be leaving Indiana jokes to those who demand them. How could he? Herb, the guy who says, "I was born in Ohio but I moved to Indiana as soon as I heard about it," can never really abandon that wonderful Hoosier corn.

Usually calm Frank Sinatra exclaimed in Washington, "I'm so excited, I'm shaking." Cash collected from ticket sales for his pre-inaugural gala had just passed $1,000,000. Bette Davis had been added to the forthcoming program, "It looks like there won't be a seat left in the joint!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL... No kidding, Jimmie Durante busted another Hollywood heart all to pieces when he married Margie Little... Brigitte Bardot's designing and manufacturing handbags, gave one to Diabhan Carroll.

Singer Dinah Washington and her young groom, Rafael Campos, rushed to Chicago; her plush apartment there was wrecked by fire.

EARL'S PEARLS: Monday morning: That's when we look back nostalgically on the good old days—Saturday and Sunday—Catholic Digest.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Milton Berle described a miserly character: "He's the only man I know with a shiny 1940 penny."

Cleverness consists of thinking of a bright remark (1) just in time to say it and (2) just in time not to say it... That's, Earl, brother.

'Zenda' Offered Nothing to Sink the Teeth Into

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI) — "Prisoner of Zenda" put viewers on a diet of bread and water last night.

The 30-minute "Show of the Month" on CBS-TV lacked the meat and potatoes appeal of Anthony Hope's swashbuckling family classic.

A large, serious-minded cast led by Christopher Plummer was enlisted in the cause of Summer Locke Elliott's adaptation of the Rudinow novel.

It was the cast's serious approach to the cornball palace intrigues that gave the production unnecessarily long stretches of dullness.

To match the frothy story, more buoyant performances were needed. The telecasting of the plot and subplot, to fit the requirement of time, caused confusion and a lot of loose ends.

Thanks to videotape Plummer portrayed a dual role. He was the king of Ruritania, a hard-drinking playboy named Rudolph, and he was the king's look-alike cousin from England, Rudolph Rassendyll.

Plummer's actual charm wasn't enough this time. He lacked the proper pitch of playfulness. Only once did the show pick up in tempo and spirit.

That was in a brief scene where Plummer, as Rudolph Rassendyll, rehearsed for the coronation. His stately took on a puffed-up pomp in the Peter Liszinski manner.

Otherwise, Plummer handled his role in warm, throat-warbling and sleep-inducing tones.

TWO IN ONE
The story, briefly, called for indulgence on the part of the viewer but didn't deserve it. Here was the king, presiding over a coronation, and being asked to be a straw man with the king's face. After all, if the king's own brother couldn't fill the role, what chance did the clock have?

Also wandering around in the gloom of the play, directed by Alex Segal, were Farley Granger, Inger Stevens as the fiance, Nancy Wickwire as the scheming Antoinette, John Williams as legal Cal, and Philip Bosco as the king of Strislaw, evil brother of the king. They all added around the fine sets with too much solemnity.

The aforementioned Philip Bosco, incidentally, was strangled to death by Farley Granger in a gruesome touch it was too.

But those bunched up minutes later on CBS-TV's "Circle Theatre." This time, he was the hero, a Ford and Drug Administration investigator who saved a miracle cure racket.

The play, "The Medicine Man," was straightforward and undistinguished except for Carroll O'Connor's fine performance as Doc Turner, the calous son of man.

THE CHANNEL NEWS "NBC White Paper No. 3," scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 14, will survey relations between the United States and Panama.

Andre Previn will be the musical director for ABC-TV's 80-minute "Oscar" special on Monday, April 17, a one-hour version of "The Heiress" starring Elizabeth Taylor and George C. Scott.

The grande parade of the St. Paul winter carnival will be carried by NBC-TV on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 28, Laraine Day, Pernell Roberts, Lorne Greene and Paul Anson will participate in the festivities.

William R. Bartlett
WW I Vets' Head

William R. Bartlett of 58 Florence Ave., has been installed as the new commander of Pontiac Veterans of World War I, succeeding Harry E. Sloan.

Other newly elected officers are:

Ayers M. Miller, senior vice commander; Noah J. Balm, junior vice commander; Harry H. Middleton Sr., judge advocate; Lorne L. Beach, chaplain; Leo K. Minersweaver, quartermaster; Ayers M. Miller, trustee for one year; Carl J. Minkler, trustee for two years; and Alvin W. Herwer, trustee for three years.

Appointed to new posts were:

Past Commander Sloan, adjutant; George W. Danak, legislative director; Caser O. Adams, sergeant at arms; Carl E. Court, assistant sergeant at arms; and Robert A. Fernandez, guard.

Chaplain Beach also was appointed service officer, and Judge Advocate Middleton, who performed installation ceremonies as a past department senior vice commander, was appointed historian.

Middleton also was selected as a delegate to the Oakland County Council of Veterans along with Commander Bartlett, Trustee Herwer and Assistant Sison.

Alternate delegates are Senior Vice Commander Miller, Quartermaster Minersweaver, Assistant Sergeant at Arms Court, and Harry W. Moran.

Hike Production at Pontiac Plant

9,394 New Cars Are Manufactured for Week Ending Jan. 14

Combined production of Pontiac and Tempest last week was 9,394, an increase of 1,659 cars over the week ending Jan. 7, the Automobile Manufacturers Association reported today.

AMA figures showed that for the week ending Jan. 14 Pontiac Motor Division's output consisted of 6,000 Pontiacs and 3,394 Tempests.

The division's total output the previous week was 7,735 cars.

Both the number of Pontiacs and Tempests produced increased the week of Jan. 14.

Oldsmobile, Pontiac's major GM competitor in the medium-priced field, reported production of 8,178 cars last week. The figure included Oldsmobile and the company's Oldsmobile and Oldsmobile.

To date Pontiac Motor has produced 17,124 cars this year—10,844 Pontiacs and 6,280 Tempests.

For the corresponding period last year, the division produced 10,350 passenger cars.

GMC Truck & Coach production last week was reported at 1,335 units, up from 1,057 for the week ending Jan. 7.

For the entire industry, motor vehicle production last week totaled 131,652 units.

Cumulative output for 1961 through Jan. 14 totaled 221,408 units. In the same period last year, 208,842 vehicles were produced.

HAULING PONTIACS — With its fleet of 245 GMC Trucks & Coach vehicles, Motorcar Transport Co. of Pontiac has the job of hauling Pontiac and Tempest cars to dealerships in a 10-state area. The fleet, quartered at 1280 Joslyn Road, carries an average of 465 cars daily.

Transport Firm Hauls 76,742 in 1960

Pontiacs and Tempests Go for Ride

Where any one Pontiac or Tempest car is going from the factory is anybody's guess, but it's no puzzle as to how it'll get there. It's more than an even bet that it'll be transported by Motorcar Transport Co., one of the largest car haulers in the Midwest.

Headquarters in Pontiac at 290 E. Tenneyson Ave. the firm's fleet of 245 vehicles has the job of hauling Pontiacs and Tempests to dealerships in a 10-state area.

Thinks Judicial Reform Is Due

Oakland Bar Prexy Sees Merit in Changes in the State System

There's merit to a proposal for sweeping reforms of the Michigan judicial system, said Jack W. Hutson, president of the Oakland County Bar Association.

The Royal Oak attorney said the system often "entangles" because of some direct ties with politics was "due for a change."

He declined to elaborate in any detail until he received a copy of a report designed to divorce the system from politics.

Drives Appeal Board Serves 14,663 in Year

LANSING (AP)—The secretary of state's office reports that some 14,663 drivers whose operators' licenses were suspended made use of the driver appeal board in 1960.

Of these, 1,672 had their licenses restored and 2,067 received licenses with restrictions. Another 2,198 had the period of restriction or restriction modified.

Michigan is the only state that gives drivers who exceed their "quota" of traffic violations another chance through the department.

If They Aren't Born?

EAST LANSING (AP)—There is no such thing as a born salesman, executives attending a Michigan State University sales management conference were told.

Recently the company took delivery of 12 new GMC Trucks & Coach Division V8 powered highway tractors.

Sealer checks fuel consumption records on its fleet by use of carefully plotted graphs on consumption of one out of every 10 trucks.

FUEL RATE GOOD
"It gives us a good profile of our average fuel consumption," he said. "Our new vehicles have certainly lived up to our expectations."

"In our entire fleet I doubt if we have had more than 10 trucks out of service over the past year. And those that were out came back in a hurry."

President of the firm is Ralph C. Wilson Jr., of Detroit. His father, Ralph C. Wilson, also of Detroit, is chairman of the board.

Herdick's Pontiac headquarters the company maintains a terminal in Chicago. Fourteen tractors there deliver from five to six loads of cars daily to dealerships in the surrounding area.

While most of the Chicago men left for us to make a greater load are in four-car lots, tractor-trailer combinations leaving Pontiac means we must eventually think the haul five standard-size cars of ways to improve our shop and or six compacts.

In addition to purchasing trailers from an outside concern, Motorcar Transport builds its own in its welding shop in Pontiac.

At stake is the seat of Sen. William E. Milos, Democrat from Escanaba.

Miron, who is starting his third term, defeated Kent T. Lundgren of Monroeville by 124 votes in his third successive contest with the same opponent.

The Senate committee, headed by Sen. Clyde Geering, R-Holland, will start the rebuttal Monday in Monroeville. Geering said the job probably will be completed in three days.

Victory for Lundgren would give Republicans a 23-11 domination in the upper chamber, almost enough for the two-thirds majority required to give a bill immediate effect or override a veto by the governor.

Lawmakers will assemble again in Lansing Jan. 30.
