

NOVEMBER 28, 1972

Collegium Concert Proceeds To Replace Stolen Instruments

On Halloween night, six instruments used by the Collegium Musicum were stolen. Two of the instruments were covered by insurance, and two more have been returned for the $100 posted reward. A benefit concert is being held Nov. 28 to raise money toward a $2,000 goal needed to replace the remaining instruments.

The concert will be at 8 p.m. in Varner Recital Hall. Admission is by donation to the newly-created instrument fund. The concert will climax a month-long fund-raising drive launched by WQRS-FM. Carlo Coppola, asst. prof. of Hindi-Urdu, is also programming director at WQRS and is in charge of the drive. Checks (tax-deductible) should be made payable to Oakland University.

The concert itself will be a mélange of 16th century music from continental Europe. The Collegium Singers will perform two haunting motets by Tomas Victoria. Sackbuts and cornetto will accompany a funeral motet.

The Renaissance Ensemble will play German part songs during the second half of the program.

SU student deaths cause OU campus disturbance

Top: Demonstrators go to President O'Dowd's office after raising the African flag to half-mast.

Middle: African tribal mask vandalized in President's office.

Bottom: Papers and books left in disarray in the President's office.

Members of the Black Liberation Caucus (BLC) and other students demonstrated on campus last Monday, voicing their concern for the two students killed at Southern University in Baton Rouge, La.

The disturbance began Friday, Nov. 17, when the BLC and its supporters demanded that the University be closed Monday in memory of the two slain students.

President O'Dowd offered instead to schedule a noon (Nov. 20) memorial service and an extra (voluntary) day of teaching Dec. 2 devoted entirely to discussion of the Southern University disaster.

"The closing of universities is a denial of our main mission and a limitation of the rights of students who wish to attend classes," President O'Dowd said.

Most of OU's 8,100 students attended classes as usual and ignored the morning disturbance.

The demonstrators, however, began the morning with a 10 a.m. speech in front of the OC by Michael Ray, BLC spokesman, who again demanded the closing of the University.

About 150 of the University's 700 black students marched, chanting, through some classroom buildings and headed for the campus flagpole where they ran up the red, green and black African flag.

President O'Dowd's office was the demonstrators' next stop. They damaged an African tribal mask (given in memory of the late John Galloway, former Chairman of the Dept. of Art at OU) and threw papers and books on the floor. Earl Gray, Public Safety Director, alerted the State Police on a stand-by basis at this point, in anticipation of trouble that never developed. The police never took an active part in the morning's activities.

Cont. pg. 4 col. 3

Student Interns Chosen for 1972-73

Five OU students are working professionally to gain a deeper understanding of the administrative side of higher education.

They are participants in the Student Intern Program sponsored by the Office of Student Affairs. The students intern through the fall and winter terms.

Students are assigned to various departments within the Office of Student Affairs, (Student Organizations, Student Life, Commuter Services and Advising) and work an average 15 hours/week. Their room and board is their payment of wages through the University work-study program, explained Patricia Houtz, asst. vice-president for Student Affairs. The students also take regular University courses.

The program allows students to become directly involved with the concerns of the University, Miss Houtz said.

In addition to specific assignments, the interns are invited to attend staff meetings and other

Cont. pg. 4 col. 3

French Dept. Takes Drama, Skits to High Schools

French students and faculty are taking drama to the high schools.

A recently-formed acting troupe in the department is presenting the "Puissance Treize" ("Thirteenth Power") to local high schools. They began Nov. 14.

The program includes scenes from French dramas, student-written skits, puppet plays, folk music and slide-lectures on French culture.

Overwhelming response to a letter of inquiry sent to schools in September booked the program solid within a week.

Professors Norman Susskind, Dolores Burdick, Don Iodice and David Saint-Amour, together with a group of students (Michele Durivage, Michele Fuerch, Pam Harrington, Cheryl Jennings, Laura McCoy, Jim McDiarmid, Bob Sheardy, Julie Urla and Debbie Whipp) see the program as a way to build stronger interest in language programs in the surrounding high schools.

The Spanish section of the department is working up similar programs for presentation on campus and may launch a traveling troupe in the future.

The enterprising student employees of News Services took advantage of the year's first snowfall.

Dean of Freshmen -- A Busy Job

Yes, there is someone who cares-- about student needs, study habits, counseling programs, legal rights and personal problems.

Judy Keegan, dean of freshmen and asst. dean for Student Services, tries to be a friend to students. "What matters to the students," she says, "is that someone cares if they make it."

There is a special meeting of twenty freshmen every week with Ms. Keegan, where students get together to let each other know how they are progressing.

The main complaint from students at these sessions, Ms. Keegan said, is the lack of big name entertainment and competitive (commuter vs. resident) sports.

Another of Ms. Keegan's duties is to help students brought up before the Academic Conduct Committee prepare their defense. The Committee deals with cases of plagiarism and classroom cheating.

Counseling students in serious academic trouble involves group talks, working on motivation and creating good study habits. "Sometimes we sit down and write out a study schedule for the student to follow," Ms. Keegan said. "Other times," she said with a grin, "the student may admit that too much partying is ruining study habits."

Ms. Keegan feels that she is at a comfortable level of administration-- she is able to help students, but can also keep in touch with them on a personal level. She serves as a reference source for freshmen who have not yet discovered the ombudsman or other channels of information.

"I have noticed a new feeling of privatism among students today," Ms. Keegan commented. "They attend only the functions relevant to themselves, instead of going with a group as in the past."

Ms. Keegan also works with parent orientation, the Upward Bound program and the Senate Teaching and Learning Committee.

"U" Forum on Women Coming

"Women: New Reflections" will be the University Forum offered to the OU community this winter. The Forum will be a series of talks with noted lecturers and discussions on how women stand in society today.

"Sexuality," "The Feminist Movement" and "Women In Law" are some topics to be offered in the series which begins Jan. 9 and goes through Apr. 17.

Speakers, films, dialogues and slide shows are planned on Tuesdays from 2-4 p.m., followed by discussions on Thursdays also from 2-4 p.m.

The Forum can be taken as a 2-credit class (UC 004), or can be attended by anyone in the University community who is interested.

OU Music Sophomore Gets First Lee Grekin Scholarship

Sharon Kelm, a 19-year-old OU sophomore from Southfield, was named recipient of the first Lee Grekin Memorial Scholarship in Music.

Miss Kelm was selected by the OU Dept. of Music on the basis of her exceptional music talent and academic record. She resides at 16070 Crescent in Southfield.

The $500 scholarship will be awarded annually and is made possible through a gift from Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Grekin, 18699 Muirland, Detroit, in memory of their son, Lee. The young man did not attend Oakland, but his parents have a high regard for the OU Dept. of Music and are personal friends of David Di Chiera, department chairman.

Miss Kelm, a violinist who is studying for a B.S. in music education, said she likes the OU Dept. of Music and its emphasis on composition and music education. She also likes the smallness of the institution and the personal attention which students receive.

She is a member of the Oakland University Symphony Orchestra and a member of a string quartet organized by Leroy Fenstermacher. He is a violist with the Detroit Symphony and her current teacher. She has been a member of the OU Collegium Musicum and the Southfield Junior Symphony.

"A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum" was a tremendous success," says Tom Aston, general director of Student Enterprises.

"We did well financially and the Barn stayed relatively warm for the whole run."

SET's next production will be "The Serpent" scheduled for March, 1973.

Analysis, Parapsychology Sessions Planned

THE GAMES PEOPLE PLAY will be explored in a two-day transactional analysis workshop Dec. 1 and 2 at OU. Jerome D. White, a member of the International Transactional Analysis Assoc., and his wife Terri will conduct the workshop in two levels.

For beginners, the Whites will review TA concepts, demonstrate concepts in individual and group situations and identify ego states and permission techniques.

Transactional Analysis is a theory of human behavior which can be utilized as a treatment technique, a counseling approach or for self-improvement.

PARAPSYCHOLOGY will be discussed at a conference on the paranormal Dec. 9 at OU.

Among the featured speakers are Dr. Lawrence L. LeShan, Ayer Foundation, Inc.; Charles Honorton, William C. Menninger Dream Laboratory, Maimonides Medical Center; Dr. Richard Brooks, OU Dept. of Philosophy; and Ruth Reva, instructor of parapsychology courses.

Topics include a general theory of the paranormal, ESP and altered states of consciousness, healing, philosophical implications of parapsychology, dreams as related to ESP and a psychic's point of view.

For registration information on both conferences, call the University's Conference Dept. at 377-3272.

From The Faculty Pen

SLAWSKI PUBLISHES ARTICLE ON NEWSMEN

Edward J. Slawski, Jr., instructor of Sociology, will have an article in the forthcoming Winter 1973 issue of Public Opinion Quarterly titled "Newsmen's Images of Professional Responsibility," written in collaboration with Prof. John W. C. Johnstone, Dept. of Sociology, University of Illinois.

SMITH PUBLISHES ARTICLE, SCHEDULES WORKSHOP

David G. Smith, visiting asst. prof. of Education, had an article, "Employability Development Team Leadership" published in the Journal of the National Employment Counselors Association. Co-author of the paper, which appeared in the September issue, is Dr. Rex Stockton of Indiana University.

James Schmidt and Smith will present a skill-building workshop at the annual meeting of the North Central Association for Counselor Education and Supervision. The workshop is entitled: "Practice in Development of Performance Objectives for Counselor Education."

WHITE, ROSEN PUBLISH BOOK ON THE SONNET

Professors Gertrude White and Joan Rosen of the Dept. of English have just had published their book A Moment's Monument: Development of the Sonnet.

SHANTZ PAPER PUBLISHED IN PSYCHIATRIC JOURNAL

David Shantz is publishing a research paper together with a student, Mr. Klotz, entitled "Cooperative Behavior of Emotionally Disturbed Boys as a Function of Contingent Application of Social Approval." The article will appear in Journal of Behavior Therapy and Experimental Psychiatry.

MARSHALL SPEAKS AT ASSOC. OF COLLEGE STORES MEETINGS

Bill Marshall, director of the Bookcenter and the Oakland Center, was the principal speaker at three recent National Association of College Stores regional meetings. He also attended a meeting of the Assoc. of American Publishers and the National Assoc. of College Stores Joint Committee, of which he is a member, in Oberlin.

campus calendar

Extension
73180

Tuesday
November 28	8AM-4:30PM	Registration
	2-5PM	Meadow Brook Art Gallery exhibit
	7:30-8:30PM	Meadow Brook Art Gallery exhibit
	8:00PM	SEFS, LA DOLCE VITA, 201DH
	8:30PM	Meadow Brook Theatre, INHERIT THE WIND
Wednesday
November 29	8AM-4:30PM	Registration
	12 noon	Dick Tracy film series, Abstention
	2:00PM	Meadow Brook Theatre matinee, INHERIT THE WIND
	2-5PM	Meadow Brook Art Gallery exhibit
	7:00PM	Lecture and Discussion, Venereal Disease, Hamlin
	7:30-8:30PM	Meadow Brook Art Gallery exhibit
	8:30PM	Meadow Brook Theatre, INHERIT THE WIND
Thursday
November 30	8AM-4:30PM	Registration
	12-4PM	Christmas Walk at Meadow Brook Hall
	2-5PM	Meadow Brook Art Gallery exhibit
	4:00PM	Last Lecture Series, Mel Cherno, Gold Room
	5:30PM	JV Basketball, OU vs. Shaw College, home
	7:30PM	Basketball, OU vs. W.Va. State, home
	7:30-8:30PM	Meadow Brook Art Gallery exhibit
	8:00PM	Concert, Oakland Singers, 200VH
	8:00PM	Shoo-bee-doo concert, Abstention
	8:15PM	ADA, DIARY OF A SCOUNDREL, Studio Theatre
	8:30PM	Meadow Brook Theatre, INHERIT THE WIND
Friday
December 1	12-4PM	Basketball, Taylor Tournament, away
	12-4PM	Christmas Walk at Meadow Brook Hall
	2-5PM	Meadow Brook Art Gallery exhibit
	7:00PM	Swimming, Notre Dame Relays, away
	7-11PM	Ski Club free films, Barn Theatre
	7:30-8:30PM	Meadow Brook Art Gallery exhibit
	8:00PM	SEFS, HELLO, DOLLY!, 201DH
	8:15PM	ADA, DIARY OF A SCOUNDREL, Studio Theatre
Saturday
December 2	12-4PM	Basketball, Taylor Tournament, away
	12-4PM	Christmas Walk at Meadow Brook Hall
	2:00PM	Swimming, Michigan Collegiate Relays
	2-6PM	Meadow Brook Art Gallery exhibit
	6:00PM	Meadow Brook Theatre, INHERIT THE WIND
	8:00PM	SEFS, HELLO, DOLLY!, 201DH
	8:15PM	ADA, DIARY OF A SCOUNDREL, Studio Theatre
Sunday
December 3	12-4PM	Christmas Walk at Meadow Brook Hall
	2-6:30PM	Meadow Brook Art Gallery exhibit
	6:30PM	Meadow Brook Theatre, INHERIT THE WIND
	6:30PM	ADA, DIARY OF A SCOUNDREL, Studio Theatre
Monday
December 4	12-1PM	Ski Club meeting, 126-70C
	6-9:30PM	Shuttle service to Oakland Mall

CAMPUS TICKET OFFICE

SEFS membership cards	Hilberry and Bonstelle
American Youth Fare cards	Masonic Temple events
Metro Passbooks	ADA tickets
Entertainment '73	These Days mini-passbook
OU Recital Series

It's Flu Shot Time

Flu shots will be given Nov. 27, 28, 29 and 30 and Dec. 1 from 1:30-4 p.m. in the Health Center for all faculty, staff and students. Charge is $1.50/students and $2.50/faculty and staff.

OU Catalog Arrives

Copies of the Oakland University 1972-73 general catalog are now available and may be picked up at the registrar's office. There is no charge.

O'Dowd to Serve On Exec. Council For Science Fair

The Science and Engineering Fair of Metropolitan Detroit has invited President O'Dowd to serve for a third year on its executive council.

The 17-year-old Fair is co-sponsored by the Engineering Society of Detroit and the Detroit News and reaches over 30,000 area young people.

There are six suburban Fairs held throughout March, topped by the exposition at Cobo Hall, which includes the winning exhibits from the Fairs.

DISTURBANCE Cont. from pg. 1

A little after 11 a.m., the demonstrators met in the Gold Room of the OC and barred the door to all outsiders. Shortly before the meeting, Charlie Brown's desk in the OC was vandalized. After the meeting the crowd dispersed, refusing to talk to media representatives.

INTERNS Cont. from pg. 1

faculty and administrative meetings, Miss Houtz stated. Students are interviewed in advance by Office of Student Affairs personnel.

Interns who have already served in the relatively new program have shown their enthusiasm by often volunteering to take on additional tasks and to work extra hours, Miss Houtz said.

New interns for the fall term and their assignments are: Ted Cwiek, Garden City, student life; Greg Janks, Pontiac, student organizations; Debra Kalcevic, Midland, advising and orientation; Gail Page, Detroit, student organizations; and Elaine Petz, Detroit, student organizations.

Campus Recruiters

The following employers will be interviewing on campus the week of Nov. 27.

Tues., Nov. 28 -- PRUDENTIAL: December, April and June grads, all majors for 3-year training program in field of sales and sales management. Metro-Detroit area.

S.S. KRESGE -- December grads only, with B.A. or B.S. in economics, management, English, math, psychology or sociology for Kresge management training program. Ohio, Michigan and Indiana areas.

Wed., Nov. 29 -- NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL: December, April and June grads, all majors for life insurance sales positions. Southfield area.

COMPUTER PERIPHERAL (formerly Control Data): December grads only, with B.A. or B.S. in economics or management for management positions in purchasing functions. Rochester area.

OU, an official publication of Oakland University, Rochester, Michigan is published weekly during the school year and distributed free within the university community. Its content is under the editorial control of the Office of University Relations, which is charged with exercising editorial judgment over all articles. Kathie Burke, ed.