Democrats Plead for 'Harmony' at Convention

Quimby Replaces Lacey

By JOE HAAS

CHICAGO—When the gavel fell at noon today it marked the opening of a Democratic national convention under circumstances that have not prevailed for 24 years. The party is on the outside of the White House and trying to look in.

HAAS

It was in a similar position in 1932, when Roosevelt was nominated against Hoover who was seeking a second term on the Republican ticket. The nation was in the throes of a depression which the Democrats claimed had been incubated by him and his fellow party members in office.

They made that claim stick with the electorate and the Democrats won the presidency which was to stay in their party until 1952. Then the Republican claim, "It's Time for a Change" prevailed, quite largely through the help of a new national hero whose star was in its ascendency. Ike was elected.

Now the Democrats must make their claim on what they assert is an impending depression, bad foreign policy, low farm prices and a few minor details, when the same hero is sure to again head the Republican ticket—and they find difficulty in putting any dimmers on his star.

It looked like a gentlemen's fight for the Democratic nomination until Truman took sides. That brought out the brass knuckles, sidetracked courteous politics and makes the convention quite unique for a party on the outs.

It must be remembered that this is Stevenson's home state, and the enthusiasm for him without doubt runs much higher than elsewhere. Harriman's home state of New York has 98 votes in the convention, Illinois has 64.

But Harriman opens his fight for those 64 this evening at a reception here, while Stevenson greeted the home folks Sunday at a house warming his boosters claim beat anything of a similar nature in Chicago's history. He had the advantage of a non-working day, while Harriman must buck a counter attraction—the first night session of the Democratic convention.

Weekend Rainy, Predictions Off

Weatherman Says Fair, Possible Rain Saturday; Drizzles for Hours

Along with a host of irate weekenders we think the weather man goofed again.

Friday's predictions for Saturday read:

Pontiac and Vicinity — Mostly fair with little change in temperature today, tonight and tomorrow but with a chance of a few showers or thundershowers tomorrow. High today 81-85, low tonight 63-67, high tomorrow 83-87. Saturday night partly cloudy, chance of scattered thundershowers before midnight. Low 62-66.

Saturday morning's papers carried the following:

Probably cloudy with possible showers by night. High 88-94.

You know . . . only too well

Saturday morning dawned with a heavy overcast that never relented. "Mostly Fair?" What a travesty! It was on the verge of a downpour for hours.

Then came one-thirty.

And the rain.

"The chance of a few thunder showers" became a steady rain that lasted several hours and even continued intermittently throughout the night.

The temperature was mostly in the middle seventies. The closest it got during the 24 hours between Friday noon and Sunday morning was a brief few minute spell of 82 degrees at 12:30 p.m.

One irritated lady phoned us and said: "Dial the weather bureau and listen to their silly record. It talks about 'cloudy,' and it has already been raining an hour. Don't they ever look out the windows?"

Lady, we don't know.

William Gossett, vice president of The Ford Motor Car Company remarked to some of our boys over the weekend: "Your account of the weather reports the other day was very accurate." And Graham John Graham, well known Bloomfield Hills resident added: "I thought it was an understatement."

Don't Wash the Car; More Rain Coming

The Weather Bureau predicts partly cloudy weather for the Pontiac area tonight, with thunderstorms expected. The low will be 60 to 64 degrees.

Cloudy weather will continue through tomorrow. High tomorrow will be 85 to 89.

In downtown Pontiac the low last night was 68. The thermometer registered 83 at 2 p.m.

The five-day forecast is for temperatures from two to five degrees below normal. Rain will average from one-half to one inch more with thundershowers throughout the week.

Joe Haas Takes a Bow on Behalf of John L.

CHICAGO—Joe Haas, Pontiac Press roving correspondent, drew a rousing round of applause when he entered the Democratic Resolutions committee hearing room. Then the crowd discovered the distinguished looking gentleman with white hair and bushy eyebrows was not John L. Lewis, as had been hastily assumed. As a consolation for Haas, an NEA Cartoonist in the room presented him with a sketch of himself, which the veteran Pontiac newspaperman modestly admitted was not as handsome as the original.

Furious Battle Raging Behind Rostrum Scene

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO—The Democratic National Convention opened today with pleas for "harmony" while a furious battle raged backstage between presidential nomination contenders Adlai Stevenson and Averell Harriman.

As National Chairman Paul M. Butler's gavel-rap echoed in the giant Chicago amphitheater — with some 12,000 boisterous Democrats already in or streaming in — Stevenson clung to his favored position, but Harriman supporters claimed the New York governor was closing the gap.

Last-minute developments before the solemn invocation, the stirring strains of the "Star Spangled Banner" and the "Call for the Convention" sounded by National Secretary Mrs. Dorothy Vredenburg, cleared the way for Butler's opening pitch included these:

Stevenson added three new votes to his total in the pivotal Pennsylvania delegation, pushing his strength to 61 out of a possible 74.

But Gov. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma, Harriman leader in the West, asserted that the 11 states in which he is leading the drive for Harriman showed a fast trend to the New Yorker. Gary predicted "a solid 120 votes" for Harriman for the first ballot from the 11 states.

EPOCHAL BATTLE

The hall where for the next four days one of the most exiciting and perhaps one of the most epochal battles in the long, strife-torn history of the party will be fought was festooned with banners and charged with drama.

The schedule of the convention included a keynote address tonight by Gov. Frank G. Clement of Kentucky.

Harry S. Truman pulled out all the tricks in his well-thumbed political book today in a bare-knuckle fight to wrest the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination from Adlai Stevenson.

Tornadoes Build Over Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Boiling thunder clouds spawned tornadoes and isolated cloudbursts over the Midwest today.

Heavy thunderstorms lashed the Mississippi and Ohio River valleys with tornadoes reported in Indiana at Monticello and Logansport. An unconfirmed twister struck near Moline, Ill.

No injuries were reported in the wake of the storms, but damage was widespread.

Violent winds that hit during a thunderstorm in Mokena, Ill., blew down three tents last night at the community's three-day carnival. One man was injured when a tent pole pinned his legs to the ground as he hurled a small girl to safety.

A severe thunderstorm accompanied by high winds hit the northern suburbs of Chicago last night, flooding streets, felling trees and plunging several areas into darkness.

One of the heaviest falls was reported at South Bend, Ind., where more than 2 inches fell overnight.

Arab Nations Issue War Threat

LONDON (AP)—The Arab League of nine nations warned the West today an attack on Egypt in the Suez Canal crisis would be considered aggression against all Arab States.

The League's Political Committee, meeting in Cairo, also pledged support for President Nasser's call Sunday for a 45-nation conference to write new guarantees for freedom of passage through the canal.

Nasser's proposal was a counter to the 22-nation conference called by Britain that is opening in London Thursday to consider international control of the waterway which Nasser nationalized July 26. Egypt refused to send a delegation.

In the face of Arab threats, Britain airlifted more troops into the Mediterranean to meet any emergency. In fact, it was a two-way airlift.

As giant planes landed troops in Britain's island outposts around Suez, two flying boats began ferrying British wives and children from the canal zone to Malta. They are dependents of British employes still in the zone.

In Bonn, the West German government said Britain is withdrawing some noncombat troops stationed in Germany and sending them home to strengthen the strategic reserve. Presumably they will replace troops being ferried to the Mediterranean.

In Tel Aviv, Premier David Ben-Gurion's passive policy toward the canal crisis drew criticism from Menachem Beigin, leader of the opposition Heruth party, second strongest in Israel.

Beigin told a news conference if Nasser "gets away with turning the Suez Canal into the Nasser Canal he will be ready for an all-out attack on Israel." He said Israel should make alliances with any anti-Nasser power.

The Arab League Committee's resolution said Arab countries "consider any aggression against any Arab country as aggression against all other Arab countries."

Members are Egypt, Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon, Libya, Saudi Arabia, the Sudan, Syria and Yemen.

Western diplomats in London said Nasser's counter-proposal would complicate deliberations at the London conference. They said it might force the Western Big Three to modify demands for international management of the canal.

Another Golden Chapter —

Will some lucky hero or heroine wander successfully through this week's maze of Pot-O-Gold words and come up with a winning combination?

We'll know next week when the Press closes the 11th chapter in its exciting summer word game. But you don't have to just read about it—you can be that hero or heroine by turning to Page 11 where the chapter begins with the first copy of Puzzle No. 11.

And to keep you close to the track, the following list of words includes all you'll need to win at least $100: bank, bog, cask, champ, chimp, chump, deck, desk, fail, fall, fog, flank, frank, haunt, kind, king, kink, know, past, pat, paw, pot, price, prize, sack, swain, tank, thank, throw, top, trap, waist, work, worth.

Williams Holds Sway in Chicago

Possesses Key to Bulk of State Delegate Votes Despite Union Pressure

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams, and to some extent the forces that organized labor may bring to bear on him, today seemed to hold the key to the bulk of Michigan's 44 national convention votes.

That Williams holds the balance of delegation power appeared supported by an Associated Press poll reaching 37 of the state's 144 delegates and alternates.

Twenty of them said they either were undecided which way to go after a complimentary first ballot vote for Williams or would follow the governor's lead to the end of balloting.

Seven delegates and three alternates spoke out for Harriman. Six declared for Stevenson, including August Scholle, president of the Michigan CIO Council, an influential figure in the delegation.

One, Joseph Manolfi of Saginaw, said he would switch to Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri after the courtesy vote for Williams. Manolfi said he knew at least two others who would do likewise.

In Michigan politics, Scholle often reflects the views of Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers union, numerically by far the strongest unit within the state CIO council.

Florida in Path of Hurricane

'Betsy' Only 530 Miles East of Miami Moving Northwest at 19 M.P.H.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—All interests on the Florida East Coast from Daytona Beach to Miami were placed on hurricane watch today as the season's second tropical storm aimed 110 mile an hour winds at this state.

At 11 a.m. EST the hurricane named "Betsy" by Weather Bureau forecasters, was 530 miles east southeast of Miami, moving northwest at 19 m.p.h.

"This is a small hurricane from the standpoint of size but it packs plenty of punch over a small area near the center," said the Miami Weather Bureau.

Easterly winds increasing to gales and hurricane force over some sections of the Florida coast were predicted for Tuesday. Gale winds extend 150 miles to the northeast 100 miles to the northwest and 75 miles to the south of the storm's center.

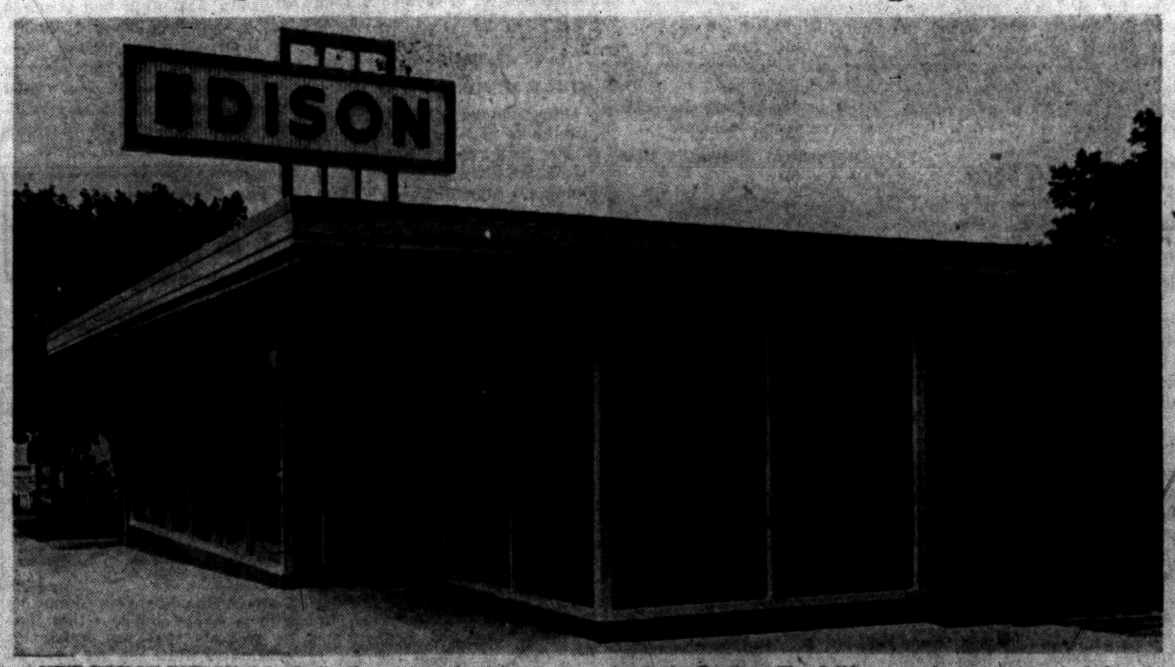

The storm was centered near latitude 22.7 north longitude 72.4 west or about 530 miles east-southeast of Miami. It had swept past Turks and Grand Caicos Islands in the Bahamas chain after swiping at Puerto Rico, where one person was reported killed.

Reports from Puerto Rico indicated there was wind and water damage in some parts of the island and transportation was halted, but resumed ifter the hurricane passed.

Harriman a Merry Man

CHICAGO (INS) — Averell Harriman, feeling the oats Harry Truman fed him, answered questions glibly today. Asked how many votes he'd picked up in 24 hours he replied: "I don't indulge in the numbers racket." . . . Queried whether President Eisenhower's health will be an issue in the campaign, he suggested: "If doctors can become politicans, politicians can become doctors."

Weekend Accidents Claim 3 Lives in Oakland County

The Oakland County area recorded three of the state's 24 weekend fatalities, as two area men died in a head-on auto crash and a Detroit man drowned in a county lake.

Dead are Sgt. Richard Gauche, 26, of the Utica Nike base, David Reid, 18, of Romeo, and Irvin Wissin, 44 of Detroit.

Gauche and Reid were drivers of cars which collided on M-59 a mile west of Utica. Both cars were reportedly traveling at high speeds.

Wissin was a Sunday afternoon drowning victim in Big Lake, 12 miles northwest of Pontiac in Springfield Township.

State Police reported Wissin and Earl Snyder, also of Detroit, were water skiing behind a boat operated by Detroiter Samuel Besner, when Wissin called out he was tired, and would let go.

Snyder said he dropped his tow rope and swam to Wissin, succeeding in getting him into the boat. Efforts to revive him failed.

Drainage Board OKs Estimates

12 Towns Relief Drain to Cost 25 Pct. More Than Expected

The Drainage Board of the Twelve Towns Relief Drain today approved final estimates for the project totaling $38,581,000 — more than 25 per cent higher than preliminary estimates made nearly 18 months ago.

* * *

Representatives of 14 South Oakland County communities involved in the project received in silence a schedule of their tentative allocations to pay for the drain.

The 14 communities will consider the allocations and may take definite action to approve or reject the setup before a board meeting next week.

County Drain Commissioner Ralph A. Main, chairman of the Drain Board, said approval of all communities should be registered before the formal hearing on allocations in order to avoid further delays in construction.

EXPLAINS SETUP

Consulting engineer Charles A. Harmon explained the allocations were worked out on a complicated formula which takes into account the "benefits" a community will receive from the drain and "credits" in the form of decreased payments for the community's share in constructing previous drains. He said:

"The city of Pleasant Ridge, for example, will be benefited by about two per cent. In other words, the drained area in Pleasant Ridge will be about two per cent of the total area drained.

"But Pleasant Ridge has joined in the cost of several previous drain projects. Since the Twelve Towns Drain is designed to relieve the previous drains, Pleasant Ridge is credited with its payments for those projects.

City GOP Club Seeks Members in New Drive

County Republican nominees and committeemen have planned a party tomorrow night in Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building to recruit new members for the Pontiac Republican Club, inactive for several months, temporary membership chairman Robert C. Miller said today.

"Music and refreshments are planned, and anybody interested is definitely invited," Miller said.

"We're especially looking for young blood, and we want to make this a social as well as political club."

Officers will be elected tomorrow night, he added, and State Rep. Richard C. VanDusen and John Emery, the county committee's chairman of organization, will direct the group's organizational drive.

NEWS OF MICHIGAN

The biggest Michigan caucus ever preceding a Democratic national convention was held last night—and through the early hours of this morning.

* * *

Governor G. Mennen Williams presided, and it was decided the unit rule will not be imposed upon the delegates in balloting for nominations for president and vice president.

Williams is sure of a unanimous favorite son vote from the delegation on the first ballot, after which he insists they are on their own. But they generally express a willingness to be governed by what he suggests from his insight into the proceedings as the balloting progresses. There is an assumption that Harriman will gain on every ballot.

The selection of the national committeewoman to represent Michigan for the next four years was easy. Mrs. Margaret Price of Ann Arbor, present incumbent, was named by acclamation.

But the choice of the national committeeman for the same period was different. Ernest J. Lacey of Detroit, who has held the job the past four years, refused to be a candidate for the place again.

QUIMBY WINS VOTE

The names of Thomas Quimby of Grand Rapids and James P. Dunnigan of West Branch were presented, and the roll call resulted in the choice of the former by a vote of 64½ to 24½. Neil Staebler, the present state chairman, refused to allow his name to be voted upon when it was presented. On the national committeeman vote, the Oakland County delegates divided, two for Quimby and two for Dunnigan.

William Hall was named delegation treasurer and Ed Carey as delegation treasurer.

In the roll call, it was found that only four of the 88 delegates were absent. Attendance among alternates was almost as good. All Oakland County delegates and alternates were present.

HONORARY LEADERS

For honorary vice president of the national convention, Dunnigan was named, and Phil Rahoi of Iron Mountain was chosen for assistant honorary vice president.

For honorary secretary of the national convention, Mrs. Helen Soloman of Detroit got the place, and for assistant honorary secretary, Mrs. Margaret Dawson of Ann Arbor was chosen.

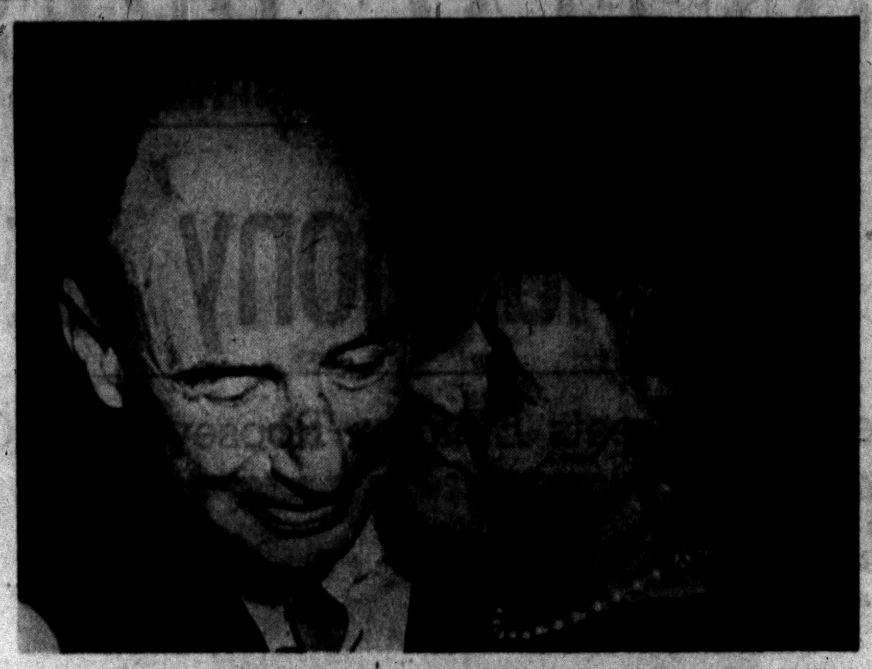

The caucus was open to the public and attended by several hundred Michigan people. It followed a press conference with Governor Williams at which time the newsmen were unable to get any information not already revealed in these columns, or gain an inkling on what he may advise the Michigan delegates to do after the first ballot.

CANDIDATES SPEAK

Averell Harriman and Adlai Stevenson each talked briefly before the public Michigan gathering. Harriman said, "The chips now are down. The only way we can hope to win is to renew the Fair Deal. The Eisenhower old Army deal has surrendered the country to big business. Four years more of it and labor is lost."

On civil rights he said we must renew the old pledges, "considering the changes in sentiment since 1952." He said his experiences in the Kremlin caused him to sound a warning 12 years ago, which then was not generally accepted, but now is proven true. He said he was humbled by and proud of Truman's endorsement.

Stevenson was accompanied by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt whom Governor Williams introduced as the "first lady of the world." She spoke briefly, saying the nation faces a new world crisis, which Stevenson, she feels, is best qualified to handle, so she favors him for the nomination.

City Court to Try State Cases

Starting today, Pontiac Municipal Court will shoulder more of the cases which have crowded dockets in Oakland County Circuit Court.

* * *

The city court will assume jurisdiction over violations of state law within the city limits which bring penalties up to $500 in fines and one-year terms in jail.

The change was brought about by Public Law No. 184, passed by the Legislature earlier this year.

It affects municipal courts all over the state in counties with a population of 395,000 or more. Legislators figured that court work should be spread out more in crowded counties.

JUDGE BALKS

One city judge, Cecil McCallum, has objections to the change. He says it means more work at the city taxpayer's expense, and no additional income.

Fines collected by the court under state law will continue to go into the county treasury and not the city's. This has been the channel for such fines collected for the few violations of state law which the court has handled previously.

McCallum has criticized overcrowded dockets in Municipal Court, advocating a third judge. The main business of the court, he points out, is to handle jurisdiction over city ordinances. Fines collected under the ordinances go to the city treasury.

Here are some of the many crimes set by state law which the court will now cover:

Immoral advertising, aiding prisoners to escape, ambulance chasing, aggravated assault, possessing short-wave radios in autos without a permit, bribery and corruption of public employes, interfering with legal custody of children.

Accosting and soliciting, dueling, illegal voting, impersonating public officers, purchase or sale of fraudulent documents, adultery, indecent exposure, accepting a bet and selling goods with false labels to defraud.

The law empowers the court to issue all warrants and writs in the violations under its jurisdiction. Previously, the court could fine up to $100 or sentence to 90 days in jail.

Junior Achievement Unit Names Osmun Chairman

Appointment of Carroll Osmun, Community National Bank vice president, as chairman of the 21-member Pontiac Junior Achievement Committee was announced today by Wallace L. Fleming, JA executive director for Southeastern Michigan.

* * *

At the same time, Fleming disclosed six local businesses have pledged themselves to counsel "junior businesses" in the coming year. The group includes:

Community National Bank, Consumers Power Co., Fisher Body Division, Pontiac Exchange Club, the Standard Oil Co. and Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

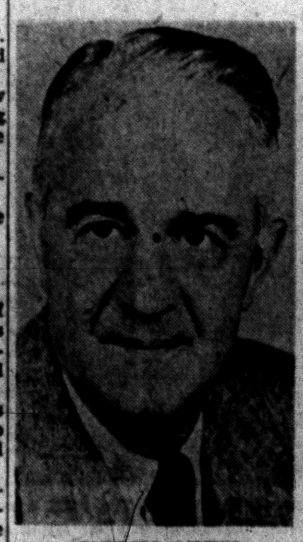

Osmun pointed out, however, that the six are only the first to make pledges. No limit has been placed on the number of sponsoring firms, he added, although the organization is seeking to rent space for from 12 to 16 JA units.

City to Study Purchases of Siren, Radar, and Truck

BIRMINGHAM — An air raid siren, a second traffic speed radar unit and a new rescue truck for the fire department are among purchases that the city commission is asked to consider tonight.

With Conelrad the only present method of warning residents of an attack, Civil Defense director Dana Whitman Jr., recommends the city provide one large or two small units, and allot $3,000 or less to cover half the cost of the siren.

Police report they can operate less than a day without repairs on their present radar equipment, purchased in 1951. They would place the present outfit on stand-by duty.

Rezoning of the Twining property on the east side of Adams just north of Bowers to Business C, and the Lambert property on the northeast corner of Woodward and 14 Mile Road, to Business A will be subjects of a hearing tonight.

Several objections of residents near each property have been received.

Restrictions on the properties the city wishes to sell at East Lincoln Avenue and Commerce Street will be discussed.

The proposed plat of the Mill Race Subdivision may be approved.

* * *

John Winston, whose family has just moved to 822 Suffield, reported to police yesterday that $244.88 had disappeared from the home between Aug. 2 and then.

* * *

A report tonight on the Twelve Town drain's share for Birmingham will be discussed.

Acting City Manager L. R. Gare reports that at Thursday's meeting of the Twelve Town drain board, the estimates of costs of construction received would increase Birmingham's share by about 23 per cent.

In a meeting this morning, he and other representatives of towns involved in the proposed drain project received detailed breakdowns of the total figure, with each town's allocation.

This will be in time for the council's discussion tonight, Gare says.

Huberta J. Gould of Birmingham, a student at Wayne, is among three Michigan college students who have been awarded scholarships by West Germany covering travel, maintenance and tuition in German universities.

Car mirrors missing were reported by residents at 1863, 1867 and 1821 Villa St., Saturday morning.

Kiwanians are meeting with other clubs this month, since their usual meeting place, the Community House, is closed for August.

This Wednesday they'll dine and play golf at Sunnybrook Golf Club with other area service clubs men.

Last week they joined Oak Parkers and next week they'll be in Rochester for 6 p.m. dinner. On Aug. 29th, it will be Southfield. Members are meeting at the Community House for transportation.

Jane M. Bearden

A polio victim who died Saturday in Oakland County Contagious Hospital after a very brief illness, Jane M. Bearden, 15, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bearden, 169 N. Glenhurst.

Born in Detroit, she came here with her family a year and a half ago. She was a sophomore at Birmingham High School and a member of the First Congregational Church and its Senior Youth Fellowship.

A memorial service was to be held at the Congregational Church at 2:30 p.m. today, but the body will remain at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co, until Tuesday noon. Private burial service will be in Roseland Park.

In lieu of flowers, the parents have asked that memorial tributes be addressed to any polio fund.

Gavel Crash Opens Chicago Convention

There were no outward signs to indicate Truman had led anyone to switch his vote thus far, but Truman's team of four political pros contended some previously uncommitted delegates were lining up for Harriman.

STEMMING THE TIDE

Truman is concentrating on trying to prevent a first-ballot nomination of Stevenson on the theory the front-running former Illinois governor will lose ground on later ballots while Harriman strength improves.

He took time out from his campaign to have lunch in a public coffee shop with Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, a Stevenson supporter.

Truman spent last night in a conference with Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Texas, the convention's permanent chairman, and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas' favorite son candidate.

TALK ON UNITY

Rayburn and Johnson insisted they talked mostly about keeping the party united.

"There's not going to be any row," Rayburn said, "and we are going to wind up this convention as Democrats, as united as ever."

Gov. Averell Harriman's headquarters contends that Stevenson is now on the defensive for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Lloyd Benefield of Oklahoma, Harriman's campaign director, said the New Yorker already is assured of about 400 first-ballot votes and predicted the number will climb by voting time Thursday.

Plane Crashes Field, Student Pilot Injured

Roy Hawver, 47, of 2032 Allendale, is facing the possibility of losing his left eye as the result of injuries suffered in the accident. He is being treated for a fractured nose, back injuries, and face cuts.

Hawver was reportedly practicing landings when the single engine plane stalled 25 feet above the runway approach. The aircraft struck the ground and skidded over 130 feet along the landing strip.

The student flier had completed 40 hours solo time and required only a few more hours to qualify for a private pilot's license when the crash occurred. The plane, a four-seater Cessna 170, was a total wreck, according to Airport officials. It was owned by Barber's Flying Service at the airport.

Museum Collects Old, Unusual Clocks

WUERZBURG, Germany—Clock watchers should be in their glory if they visit the Mainfrankische Museum in Wuerzburg, which has just acquired more than 500 old, unusual timepieces.

One of the rarities is the oldest clock ever built whose works were moved by wheels; this dates from 1350.

* * *

Included in the collection are showpieces from the royal courts of Austria, Prussia, Russia, and Turkey; sundials carried in walking sticks and hats; a gun that explodes a charge of powder at noon, set off by the sun's rays; and a clock that tells time by burning oil.

Japan will pay the Philippines, as World War II reparations, goods and services worth $550,000,000 over a 20-year period, Manila learns.

Australia Plans Building Large Radio Telescope

BRISBANE—A giant radio telescope to be built in Australia will provide coverage of the skies in the Southern Hemisphere to supplement that already planned in the Northern Hemisphere.

Construction of the telescope, undertaken by the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organization of Australia, will be added by a $250,000 Rockefeller Foundation grant.

Better Rephrase Question

LONG BEACH, N. J. (AP) — One of the questions in a statewide poll by the Parent-Teachers Assn. was: "Do you know where your children are right now?" But local PTA officials ran into trouble. One of them, Mrs. William Schlenger, explained: "On many of my calls, children answered who didn't know where their perents were."

Security Benefit Pay for Disabled to Start Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new program of payments to totally disabled workers, rounding out the series of basic protections for the nation's families envisioned when Social Security was set up 20 years ago, goes into effect next year.

* * *

The program is provided under the Social Security bill passed by Congress just before it adjourned late last month, and signed by President Eisenhower. The disability provision was sponsored by Democratic leaders.

Stringent requirements must be met before a disabled person can qualify. Experts in the Social Security Administration estimate 300,000 disabled persons will receive payments in the first year, and that in 25 years one million will be on the rolls.

* * *

Local Social Security offices will begin receiving claims for benefits Oct. 1. First checks will go out next July.

The applicant must be at least 50 and must meet this test:

"Inability to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or to be of long-continued and indefinite duration."

The monthly checks will not start until the disability has been in effect six months.

Finally, the recipient must meet all of three requirements of Social Security coverage in a job or in self-employed work for which Social Security taxes were paid. These are:

1. One and a half years of coverage in the last three years.
2. Five years of coverage in the last 10 years.
3. Coverage for half the time since 1950 or, alternatively, for 10 years.

* * *

A person in covered employment for the last five years thus would meet all three tests.

A worker disabled some time ago and now 50 or over can apply at once for the payments. In his case, the Social Security coverage requirements would run in the years preceding the date of his disablement.

The applicant must furnish proof of this disability. At the local Social Security office, he can find if he has the necessary coverage and if his disability is severe enough to make him potentially eligible.

If he passes these preliminaries, he will be given medical report forms which he can have filled out by his physician, a hospital, his employer and other sources.

* * *

When his file is complete, the local office will send it to the state agency which, under the law, has the responsibility for making the determination of disability. The Social Security Administration will then pass on the claim and notify the applicant of the final decision.

If this decision is adverse, the individual can appeal to a referee of the Social Security Administration, and has the right to go on to federal court.

* * *

In general, however, personality defects, alcoholism or drug addiction will not qualify an individual. Nor will blindness, if the sightless person is able to engage in "substantial gainful activity."

The monthly payments will be the same as the primary retirement benefit for the individual under Social Security, ranging from $30 to $108.50 a month. They are expected to average $70 to $80 a month.

The Social Security tax will be increased effective next Jan. 1 by ¼ per cent each for the employe and employer, and ⅜ per cent for the self-employed individual, to finance the disability payments. The proceeds will go into a separate fund for these benefits.

* * *

This will mean a $10.50 tax boost next year for the individual earning $4,200 or more, and the same for his employer. A self-employed person earning the same amount will pay $15.75 more.

Radiation Experts Say X Rays Affect Glands

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Radioactive luminous paint on watches, instruments, television sets, X-ray tubes and nuclear reactors are among the sources of manmade radiation which may contribute to an increase of genetic hazards.

This was the conclusion today of an international group of radiation scientists, winding up five days of meetings in Copenhagen under World Health Organization auspices.

One of the most important sources of radiation affecting sex glands is certain types of X-ray examination, the study group, on the effects of radiation on human heredity, agreed.

Jail Bird Plays Games

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Leon Ray Hayes escaped from the new city jail, played a few games of snooker and then walked back to the jail and gave himself up. "I just wanted to see what you guys would do," he told police.

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Russia's blast against the Western sponsors of the proposed London conference on Suez will tickle the whole Arab world.

Moscow's statement is ponderous and legalistically worded to rally "international law" opinion on the side of Egypt.

It might mislead many persons, even with the one cool phrase that "Egypt has done nothing at all to provoke" the "colonial characters" of Britain, France, and the United States.

If Egypt has done nothing to provoke anyone, then it might be asked what all the danger and crisis is about.

ARGUMENTS GIVEN

THE WEST: True, Nasser has a right to nationalize the canal. But he broke treaty commitments in doing it before the canal company concession expired in 1968. Furthermore, there is evidence that he had prepared to do so long before he did. American and British withdrawal of offers to help finance the Aswan Dam in Egypt merely made him act more quickly.

RUSSIA: Nasser has offered to compensate the canal company shareholders.

THE WEST: Yes, but his nationalization of the canal amounted to expropriation and was not legal. If it were to be in fact legal the expropriating authority must show it can actually pay fully and promptly.

Nasser cannot compensate the shareholders promptly. He says seizure of the canal will enable him to do three things simultaneously. He will take canal dues to pay for his billion-dollar dream of an Aswan Dam; he will compensate shareholders; he will improve the canal for bigger and more shipping. It simply cannot be done on the basis of the canal revenues.

RUSSIA: Nasser has pledged free navigation of the canal. So why all the fuss in the West?

THE WEST: Nasser already seized the canal for political ends when the Anglo-Americans withdrew their aid offer. When he discovers that canal revenue simply will not take care of all his avowed goals what is to keep him from hiking revenues, again purely for national ends.

RUSSIA: Why does not the West trust Nasser, who is trying to throw off a "colonial" yoke?

THE WEST: Nasser pledged friendly relations when the British agreed in the 1954 agreement to pull their troops out of the canal zone. He defaulted, turning loose the bitterest propaganda campaign against Britain.

RUSSIA: The West is by-passing the U.N. in the dispute.

THE WEST: Do the Egyptians really want the case tossed into the U. N., except for stalling purposes? Egypt already is under Security Council censure for blocking Israeli ships from the canal which is supposed to be free to all nations both in peace and war.

Detroit Football Player Dies on Saginaw River

The victim, Walter Gwiazda, a June graduate from Nativity High School, where he was captain of the football team last season, struck his head when the 10-foot outboard racer shot into the air after colliding with another boat driven by James Benson of Grand Rapids.

Harry Truman Makes Typical Announcement

HARRY TRUMAN is still — HARRY TRUMAN. And this connotes both praise and criticism.

In his Saturday announcement, he disclosed unquestioned loyalty to a fine old friend. Yet the cause of his party was probably injured at the same time.

There is no question but that the former President of the United States stands squarely behind AVERELL HARRIMAN and means everything he says. He pronounced HARRIMAN more able and better prepared than ADLAI STEVENSON. He asserted HARRIMAN already possessed know-how that "STEVENSON could only acquire by trial and error."

★ ★ ★

Certainly this bespeaks a loyal recognition of a fine, old time friend in whom he believes implicitly. But for the sake of the Democratic Party, he could have tempered his preference and left ADLAI unscathed. He could have endorsed HARRIMAN without reservation and at the same time spoken reasonably well of STEVENSON.

★ ★ ★

The world isn't all black or all white. There are many shades of gray. To STEVENSON'S everlasting credit, he accepted his unhappy lot philosophically and like a true-blue party man. He bowed before TRUMAN'S rejection and expressed his admiration for the former President. In doing this he acquires greater stature.

★ ★ ★

Even as these words are printed, the fate of the Democratic nominee may have been settled in the off-stage horse trading. We are left with these impressions of the Truman endorsement:

1—It was done entirely too late to be diplomatic or of the greatest advantage;

2—He stood by a man that previously stood staunchly by him when fair weather friends had deserted or merely shrugged Mr. Truman off;

3—He could have accomplished both of the above without smacking Stevenson amidships;

4—Stevenson's gentlemanly acceptance of the belt in the ribs, heightened his own general standing.

As we have said several times and repeat again, the months ahead will see a thrilling political battle all the way.

Japan's Social Changes

Life in Japan, habits, food and even clothing are changing and we think for the better.

This social revolution, in progress ever since the occupation, has been recognized widely. Now comes a detailed report on it from the Japanese Economic Planning Board. Its findings leave no doubt about the part American influence has played.

According to the report the Japanese are eating better than before the war. Rice makes up a smaller percentage of their diet and the amount of protein consumed has gone up 10 per cent. Food not only is more diversified but from a health standpoint is much improved.

The average Japanese now is making twice as many telephone calls as he ever did. Statistics of newsprint consumption show he is reading three times as much in his newspapers. He also is using three times as much electricity in his home.

There can be no doubt that the Japanese have taken social steps forward in spending more for clothes, travel and amusement. They also have progressed notably in that their medical service is much improved, their general standard of living raised and school attendance greatly increased.

Of all this, Japan has every right to be proud.

Virgin Isles Park OK'd

One of the bills recently signed by President EISENHOWER creates in the Virgin Islands the Nation's 29th national park.

The new park on the island of St. John is of interest to vacationers for reasons beyond the fact that it extends our magnificent system of recreation areas. Something over 5,000 of its 9,500 acres was donated to public use by LAURANCE ROCKEFELLER.

The area is unique among national parks because it covers most of the subtropical island and has plant life and scenery totally different from anything in continental United States.

It should not be forgotten that Mr. ROCKEFELLER'S generosity and public spirit have been mainly responsible for making this park a reality. Several others of our national parks also exist today because likeminded men have been interested in preserving beautiful areas.

Success: A journey, not a destination.

The auto age has caused the Michigan Horse Breeders Association

to disband. After activities of a half century, according to its Secretary, it is closing its books. The horse in its former generally accepted use has passed out, victim of the auto, truck and tractor.

Byron H. Good,

However, right here in the Pontiac area, center of the industrial progress that replaced hay with gas, and where for 40 years the horse population showed a a steady decline, it now is on the increase. There are nearly twice as many horses in Oakland County as there were five years ago. But they are not pulling buggies, wagons or farm implements. They are riding mounts. Old Dobbin dies hard.

Getting Harder to Get Into Your Own House

David Lawrence Says:

Harry Boosts Adlai's Chances

CHICAGO—Surprisingly enough, Adlai Stevenson's changes for election, if nominated here this week, were immeasureably improved by former President Truman's decision to support Gov. Harriman.

Truman ,of course, didn't plan it that way. For he is the last man in the world to accept the theory that the people voted against Stevenson in 1952 primarily because they thought he was too closely tied up with the Truman crowd in that "mess in Washington."

If it becomes evident now that Stevenson would not be the tool of Truman in the White House, many hundreds of thousands of independent votes could go to Stevenson in key states.

Examined from every angle that means sometimes in politics, Harry Truman's statement in behalf of Gov. Harriman was probably the worst political blunder he ever made. It's too bad he didn't show his statement in advance to a few experienced advisers. For they would have drawn his attention to the most flagrant blooper in his pronouncement—an unintentional boost for the re-election of President Eisenhower. The Republicans certainly will be quick to quote and re-quote the latest Truman doctrine as expressed in this sentence from his statement:

"But against the mounting crisis in the world, I know that this convention must name a man who has the experience and the ability to act as president immediately upon assuming office without risking a period of costly and dangerous trial and error."

There were other slips in the Truman statement. Why, for instance, though not believing in "political polls," does the former President disregard the millions of votes cast in the primaries for Stevenson? Also, if Harriman is so experienced in international affairs, why wasn't he Harry Truman's choice in 1952? For Harriman was much more closely identified with the Truman administration in Washington in the four years preceding 1952 than was Stevenson.

INCURRED DISLIKE

It turned out, of course, in the 1952 campaign that Stevenson was not as enthusiastic about the Truman administration as the former President, while Harriman, on the other hand, had helped immeasureably in 1948 at a time when a fellow needed friends—especially a friend who could finance the campaign.

Harry Truman, who has been talking loudly about "big business" and the Republican cabinet's identification with wealth, doesn't hesitate when it suits him to come out for multimillionaire Harriman for the presidency. Nor does he seem to care about the attempt of his own party leaders to preserve some sort of harmony with the South. Harriman is known as an "extremist" in the South. His alliance with Truman revives talk of a "states' rights" party. Stevenson is hailed as a "moderationist." So, while there were last week many uncommitted delegates in the South before the Truman statement favoring Harriman was issued, there are fewer today because many have just gone over to Stevenson.

Some observers think Truman is playing a shrewd political game—that he really doesn't favor Harriman but wants a deadlocked convention so he can get a complimentary nomination himself or bring out another henchman, Sen. Symington of Missouri, who also held various offices under Truman and was an integral part of his administration. It is considered odd, however, by many influential leaders here that Truman, by endorsing Harriman, deserted his own Missouri favorite son even before the first ballot.

A PROTEST

There are many members of Congress in the various state delegations. To them the contention is made that Stevenson ran behind the Democratic party's congressional ticket in 1952 in several states. But so did Harry Truman in 1948. Actually the people four years ago were protesting against Stevenson as the top of the ticket because he bore the Truman stamp of approval. The congressional candidates in 1952 were able in many cases to disassociate themselves publicly from the Truman regime, and they won.

Stevenson is today the front runner and, based on all precedents in similar situations, he should win the nomination. The South can beat him and deadlock the convention, but the Stevenson managers control the strategy of the resolutions committee and can keep out of the platform any language that could cause the South to secede.

Stevenson is still the best bet for the nomination, and Truman—being a loyal party man—would, of course support him and campaign vigorously for him if nominated.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Come near, ye nations, to hear; and hearken, ye people: let the earth hear, and all that is therein; the world, and all things that come forth of it.—Isaiah 34:1.

* * *

There are times in the history of men and nations, when they stand so near the vale that separates mortals from the immortals, time from eternity, and men from their God, that they can almost hear the beatings, and feel the pulsations of the heart of the Infinite.—James A. Garfield.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Doctor Cautions Parents: —Don't Kiss a Sick Baby

"Our 9 months old baby has just recovered from a serious illness." (Just say an illness. Any illness in such a young baby is serious.) "Members of my wife's family insist on kissing the baby on his hands, cheek, and even on the mouth. The doctor warned us that this is dangerous to our baby or any baby, for the germs transferred in that way may be deadly to a baby, who has not yet developed any immunity such as protects adults. Wouldn't it be a blessing for all young babies if you could make people understand how wicked it is to subject the unprotected infant to such danger just to express their love for the little guy? We're afraid we'll offend them if we raise any objection." (A. M. K.)

Even at that risk, you should protect your baby, and the heck with your wife's relations if they choose to be unreasonable about it. Tell them it is doctor's orders. Tell them what the doctor said. If they really love the baby, of course they will understand and in future govern themselves accordingly.

Your query reminds me that I once suggested that the place to kiss a young baby is on the sole of the foot, but that was a mistake because immediately after you plant a sample of your pneumococci on the foot, the baby may put his foot in his mouth.

Lest I seem to take baby-kissing too seriously, let me cite an outbreak of syphilis in a group of young girls about three weeks (incubation period) after a birthday party where a kissing game was played. A youth at the party had syphilis in the highly communicable secondary stage, and the girls he kissed developed the initial lesion (chancre) on lips, cheek or tongue. The youth had the characteristic copper-colored rash, but it didn't show on his face.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Learn to Like Good Things in Life

"Dad, I dare you to eat some fried grasshoppers," our younger children said when they were home during college vacation. Read my answer to them, for the sooner you learn to control your appetite by logic, the quicker you will be started on the road to success and fame. The winners in life teach themselves to like the good things.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, why do some people go to the dogs while others make something out of themselves?" Larry began.

* * *

"In my class at high school, for example, there are two boys from the other side of the tracks.

"One smokes and drinks and is a hot rod driver. He gets fresh with girls and talks big. And his grades are always low.

"The other boy works hard. He carries a big morning paper route. And yet he is in the top 10 per cent of our class in scholastic standing.

"And he is also a leading athlete. He doesn't smoke or drink and he is very popular.

"What makes the difference in people? I really think both these boys have about the same I.Q., but one will probably flunk out of school next term."

RULE YOUR APPETITES

Successful people learn to rule their appetites. And they also cultivate a liking for good things.

For example, almost everything we now enjoy, was not pleasant to us at the outset.

* * *

A baby doesn't like steak or hamburger or bread or anything else in the food line except sugar and maybe a mild salt solution.

Yet it ultimately learns to eat many things. But some pampered adults still turn up their noses at good foods which they should eat.

"I don't like it," they exclaim, petulantly.

So what? They never liked anything but sugar in the food line at the start.

* * *

If you wish to be a winner in life, cultivate a liking for the things which are good for you, and learn to abhor those which are bad.

FRIED GRASSHOPPERS

Last Christmas my sister Mildred, who lives in Gary, bought a can of French fried grasshoppers. Our kids then brought them home and dared me to eat one.

They acted nauseated at the very thought, but I reminded them that our liking for food is a matter of habit.

The first time my wife saw fresh shrimps, she couldn't stomach them because they looked so much like the grub worms she had used as fish bait in her girlhood.

In the Philippines they relish roasted dog and snake meat. But they think we Americans are heathen because we eat rabbits. They regard rabbits as very repulsive and in the menu category of rats.

So I ate several of the fried grasshoppers. The Japanese introduced them during the war to help furnish calories during food shortages.

These French fried grasshoppers were crisp and well salted, but they tasted about like salty straw.

"But you are eating their entrails," my children protested in horror as they tried to nauseate me.

HOW TO BE A WINNER

If you wish to be a winner in life, then sit down and confront the problems that you'll face.

Brushing your teeth is good for you, so learn to use a toothbrush regularly.

Good English moves you ahead rapidly, so be sure you learn to speak your native tongue with a fair degree of exactness before you leave high school.

Liquor, cigarets, gambling and illicit behavior of all sorts are bad, so act like an adult and abhor such juvenile habits.

You'll enjoy anything when you learn to be an expert at it, so grit your teeth and become expert in worthwhile actions.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Opponents Explain Views on Capital Punishment

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

During the past two weeks the Press has expressed, editorially, the conviction that the State of Michigan should have capital punishment for certain crimes, notably murder as a result of a criminal sex act. The point has been well made by the Press and the letters in response to the editorials have indicated a rather wide approval of this position. We have been surprised that the other point of view has not been expressed, and we believe sincerely that there is a valid case on the other side.

The Press has given three reasons for advocating capital punishment for one convicted of murder under such circumstances. One, the crime is so heinous that no other punishment is adequate. Two, the death penalty for such a crime would reduce the incidents of such criminal acts. Three, the cost to the state for incarcerating a person over an extended period is not justified.

It would be difficult to imagine a crime more heinous than a criminal sex slaying, but the best thinking and effort of current penology is constantly directed toward reclamation and away from a policy of punitory retribution. It would be a brash person, indeed, who would say that any person, regardless of the gravity of the crime he may have committed, is beyond the possibility of rehabilitation. This is no way to plead for soft or sentimental approach to convicted criminals. Society must be protected from one who has committed such a criminal act until such time, if ever, that the convicted individual is unquestionably reclaimed. Obviously, the death penalty eliminates the possibility of reclamation.

Whether the severity of punishment ever directly effects the incident of crime is a question which has been endlessly debated by legal minds, but in this particular case we are dealing not with legal concepts, but with psychological motivation. To believe that capital punishment would radically deter a sex slayer is to suppose that the crime was perpetrated when the individual was in full command of his rational faculties. This is seldom, if ever, the case. Almost certainly, such an act could be committed only under the most severe emotional tension at which time a rational appraisal of the situation would be impossible.

That life imprisonment imposes an unwelcomed financial burden on the taxpayers is unquestionable, but to us it seems unworthy of civilized people to reckon the life of a man in terms of dollars and cents.

A final point which has not been voiced either by the editorials or letters to the Press, but which seems to us of greater importance than the other points discussed, is this: Does any person or group of people have either the duty or the right to take a person's life? We believe not. We believe that life is God given and to eliminate that life, when there is any possible alternative, is a gross usurpation of power and authority.

The Rev. C. George Widdifield
All Saints Episcopal Church

* * *

It's to be expected that some politician who wants a free ride into office will now strike while the iron is hot and come out for capital punishment in the state of Michigan.

I would like to offer an amendment to this bill and have it made compulsory that the sponsor also has to act as executioner.

It is claimed that there would be more vegetarians if everyone had to kill his own meat.

If it's the financial responsibility that's bothering us, why don't we just shoot off all the unemployed, mentally ill, etc., so we can send more overseas to rehabilitate those in foreign lands?

It's my opinion that all men are not equal in the eyes of the law, and without social equality, this bill will backfire and become a stumbling block in our road to progress.

'Convert' Requests Scotch in His Water

I just read a letter in your paper advocating putting alcohol in the drinking water. Let's go a step further and put in Scotch. Whatta life. Come home from work, turn on the tap, add ice and you're in business, not only quickly, but free.

I've heard of giving chorus girls a bath in champagne, but I never heard of giving a whole city shower baths in Scotch. Whoopee!

New York Lawyers to Act as Special Masters; Won't Make Judgments

NEW CITY, N. Y. (AP)—Federal Judge Lawrence E. Walsh has selected four prominent lawyers to act as special masters in suits stemming from the Andrea Doria-Stockholm disaster.

The masters will have full power to hear pretrial testimony and pass on motions. They will not make judgments.

* * *

Walsh said the masters were picked to expedite proceedings. The move will also save court fees for the litigants because the masters have agreed to serve with out pay.

Most of the suits have resulted from injuries and loss of life and cargo in the July 25 collision off Nantucket Island, Mass. The crash sent the Doria to the bottom and seriously damaged the Stockholm.

Simon H. Rifkind, former U.S. judge; Louis M. Loeb, president of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York; Benjamin A. Matthews, president of the New York County (Manhattan) Lawyers Assn.; and Mark W. MacLay, an admiralty law specialist. All are of New York City.

* * *

All suits will be heard in Federal Court, Southern District of New York. Sept. 19 was set as the opening date for a pretrial examination of the suits.

Testimony will be used later in the federal court trial that will try to fix blame in the collision that left 50 persons dead or unaccounted for.

Runaway Red Just Swedish Farm Worker

HUSUM, Germany (AP) — Police say a man who claimed he escaped from a Communist freighter carrying arms to Egypt is just a runaway farm hand.

* * *

The man touched off an international police probe last week by recounting a bizarre cloak and dagger tale when he was found stranded on the North Sea beach near this Frisian town.

He told German authorities he was Rene De Marsou, a Swedish national from Stockholm serving as first officer on the 1,200-ton East German freighter Lenin. He said two companions were lost after the rubber boat in which they escaped sank in a hail of bullets from the Red crew.

* * *

Police got suspicious when they learned the Stockholm city registry did not list "De Marsou." Nor did Lloyd's registery list any East German ship named Lenin. Finally, police said, the man admitted he was a farm worker who ran away from his last employer.

Three Inches of Air Saves State Motorist

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — James Zylstra, 22, of nearby Marne, breathed in an air space of three inches for two hours yesterday while police worked to free his overturned car from an Ottawa County creek.

* * *

Sheriff's deputies said they had worked for an hour trying to remove the car from the creek before they were aware that Zylstra was inside.

* * *

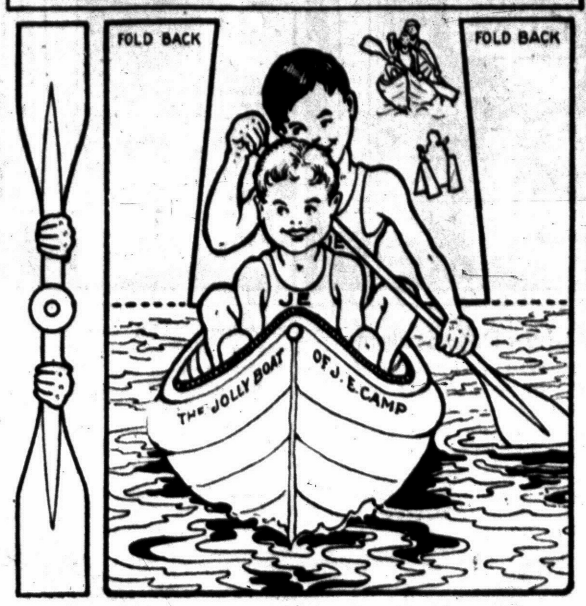

Zylstra said he held his head near the floorboard of the overturned car with the water level within inches of his nose and mouth. He was treated for a slight head cut.

Zylstra said he lost control of his car on a county road 10 miles east of Grand Haven and shot over a 20-foot embankment.

AT CAMP — 1
Canoeing

Canoeing is a favorite pastime for summer campers if a lake or stream is near the camp. At the Junior Editors camp all canoers must know how to swim. When they go out, an experienced boy pairs off with a younger one. Here Dick is teaching Tommy.

Their canoe has an air compartment along each edge of the canoe from stem to stern. This makes the canoe difficult to overturn, and much safer for beginners.

Dick at the stern has a single blade paddle which he used to steer. Tommy makes the canoe go with a double paddle that dips into the water first on one side, then on the other.

For a summer camp series, color this picture with your crayons and paste it down on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully.

Cut through the dotted black line along the prow of the boat and slip the double paddle behind the prow. Attach it to the canoe through the indicated holes with a brass fastener or a bent pin. Then you can move the paddle up and down.

Fold back the top panels on the dotted lines and they will make the canoe stand up in the water.

(Jean Anne Mallag, Saginaw, Mich., first sent us this idea. If you have a suggestion for Junior Editors send it in care of this newspaper and it may be worth $10 to you. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Marilyn Shows Britain Her Form - - - on a Bicycle

ENGLEFIELD GREEN, England (AP)—Sheathed in a formfitting blue slack suit, Marilyn Monroe took her first bicycle ride in the English countryside yesterday. Hardly a British eylid fluttered.

Marilyn pedaled along beside her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, for an hour through country lanes near the home they have rented while she makes a film here.

Her bike ride, which she announced was one of her dreams when she arrived here three weeks ago, went almost unnoticed. There were no fans, no autograph hunters.

"Don't worry about that," Miller replied. "She's far better on a bike than I am."

Modern-Day Scalping

TUCSON, Ariz (AP)—Officers began to speculate—but not very seriously—that the Indians were back on the warpath when what appeared to be a scalp was found on the desert. It turned out be a toupee. Undersheriff Waldon Burr said, yes, the hair was human—"But the glue holding it on wasn't."

The Waves, women in the U.S. Navy Service, were established by an act of Congress on July 30, 1942.

There were "yeomanettes" in World War I, but they didn't have the enlisted status of Waves.

Seaway Half-Ready; Target Date: 1958

TORONTO, Ont. (INS) — The St. Lawrence Seaway power project today reached the halfway mark. It was started two years ago and the proposed finish is in August 1958.

Project Director Gordon Mitchell said 4,100 workers are engaged in the 1,640,000-kilowatt power project being undertaken by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission. The power Authority of the State of New York is tackling the U. S. end of the job.

The face of the St. Lawrence area has changed since the undertaking began.

The north channel of the St. Lawrence River was diverted through a channel south of Barnhart Island. Some 650 million gallons of water were drained from a 2½-mile stretch sealed off by cofferdams.

To date 380,000 tons of concrete have been poured for the powerhouse. More than 1½ million cubic yards of earth have been taken from the river bed. The seaway end of the project is scheduled to be ready for shipping in 1957.

Bob Considine Says:

It's Pepsi vs. Coke at Dems' Convention

CHICAGO (INS) — Most gruelling contest in the week before the convention opened was the sloshing duel between Coca Cola and Pepsi Cola for the parched affections of delegations, reporters and free-loaders in general.

* * *

"Pepsi has infiltrated our corridor," a Coke man white with rage announced to newsmen at the Conrad Hilton the other day. There followed 48 hours of intensive shoring up of this breakthrough.

Pepsi's high command, headed by Bernard Relin, issued a statement saying that after an agonizing reappraisal of the situation, massive retaliation was the only course.

He hired two midgets to motivate big papier mache Pepsi bottles and a couple of full sized people to be a horse.

Malcolm Johnson, Coke strategist, may mine the Chicago River near the pier where Pepsi tankers tie up.

When you call the headquarters of Adlai Stevenson on the phone, a brisk voice sings out, "Stevenson-for-President Headquarters;" call Gov. Harriman and you get "Harriman-for-President Headquarters;" call Happy Chandler and it's "Chandler-for-President Headquarters." That goes for all the favorite son's headquarters, too.

* * *

But when you call Estes Kefauver's headquarters the phone rings for a time and then a glum voice says:

"Hello."

Cong. Charles Diggs of Michigan, liberal Michigan Governor Soapy Williams' representative on the platform committee, asked Harry S. Truman a basic English question on civil rights the other day.

What guide would Truman offer to the committee in the writing of a 1956 civil rights plank?

Truman looked him in the eye and replied:

"I thought the 1948 and 1952 planks were good. I preferred the 1948 one because I ran on it and got elected.

"In 1945 at Potsdam I suggested to those fellows—argued with them for two days — that we internationalize the Panama Canal, Suez Canal, Kiel Canal, Rhine-Danube Waterway and all the other places like that."

We braced Diggs later and asked him how he liked the former President's answer.

"It contained a number of inferences," the solemn young man said.

Truman brought a blanch to Atomic Energy Commission security officers, and added fresh statistics to the atomic age, in the course of his lecture to the platform committee.

"You'll recall," he said to New Mexico Sen. Clint Anderson, "that we spent $2,600,000,000 in order to touch off that first 13-pound bomb in your state. That bomb cost us $200,000,000 a pound."

Truman hurt business at Washington Park Saturday,

His news conference to announce his choice immobilized hosts of reporters and delegates who had planned to go to the races as guests of Col. Jack Arvey, the man behind Adlai Stevenson.

It may have cost the Democratic Party the pari-mutuel vote.

Young colored worker in Democratic National Committee headquarters at the Conrad Hilton has a nice name: George Washington. Probably a federalist spy.

Shocking Story

LONDON (INS)—Arthur Johnson paid his $70 fine for attempted theft cheerfully. In his own mind he was lucky to be alive. Police said Johnson tried to steal a length of electric cable by cutting it with a hacksaw. The cable carried 11,000 volts.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drugstores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

*Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

P.S. DOCTORS PRESCRIBE SPECIAL LAXATIVE TO EASE PAINFUL ELIMINATION WHILE SHRINKING PILES

The makers of Preparation H also make Petro-Syllium®, a special type laxative prescribed by doctors for hemorrhoid sufferers. Softens hard dry stool and assures easy elimination without pain. Ask for Petro-Syllium.

Special Pencils Emerge as Tools for Beginners

Learning to write is one of the first forms of academic discipline a child encounters.

* * *

But as soon as a child is handed a pencil and starts painfully to draw the letters of the alphabet, the former "toy" becomes a difficult tool to master.

First recognition of this occurred more than 50 years ago, when school authorities of Worcester, Mass., invited the Eagle Pencil Company to help them cope with the problem.

It was noticed that small children could handle a large item like a block with ease. But give them something small to hold, like a toothpick, and they had difficulties.

* * *

The reason is that the average first-grader has not fully developed finger coordination and dexterity.

Awareness of these problems prompted the industry's first education dpeartment to aid in developing special pencils for the pre-school, first and second grade students.

The "primary" pencil developed for kindergarten children was the first. Nearly one-half inch in diameter, it is about twice the thickness of a standard pencil. It has a smooth, thick, heavy black lead for legible marking and will not crumble or snap off if the child bears down.

Eagle followed the "primary" with the "Alpha" and "Practice," oversized pencils for first and second graders, and then introduced Black Eagle," with an extremely heavy black lead for its sight-saving qualities.

* * *

Only a Youngster

American lads who year after year invent new ways to burn down the schoolhouse have to tip their hats to a schoolboy from Australia. The champ school-hater of all times, this boy smuggled a bottle containing 40 termites into the school—hoping that they would eat down the building.

Pick 16 Words and Win Cash in Puzzle No. 11

On the track again after a week's derailment, POT-O-GOLD presents the 11th puzzle in its summer-long series of twisted word games. The Press wants a cash winner (the least you can get is $100), so read the rules carefully, consult the dictionary and fill in the blanks below after carefully studying the clues. Good luck!

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Cirle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

Straits Bridge Dedication Set

State Tourist Council Selects June of 1958 for Formal Opening

BLANEY PARK (AP) — Formal dedication ceremonies for the Mackinac Straits Bridge have been tentatively set for mid-June 1958.

The Michigan Tourist Council, in its annual meeting at this Upper Peninsula resort, set the date after conferring with Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority. The bridge is expected to open to traffic in November, 1957.

The council also approved a budget request of $575,000 for the fiscal year of 1957-58. Its current budget is $445,000.

Robert W. Budd of Detroit, council chairman, said the increase is necessary because of rising costs.

The council said it expects to conduct a vigorous selling campaign in the Midwest, stressing the advantages of year-round vacations in Michigan.

Rebel Vet, 113, Beats Illness; Awaits No. 114

FRANKLIN, Tex. (AP)—Old Soldier Walter Williams appeared to be fully recovered today from his latest illness and said he is looking forward to his 114th birthday next Nov. 12.

"I'm starting all over and there will be only 14 candles on the cake," the Confederate veteran said.

"I've got no time to go to the hospital. I'm too darn busy," he said, adding that he wanted to read the big stack of mail he received during his illness.

Viking's Helmet Plus Blue Tint Yield—Hairdos

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Don't shoot, men—that blue-haired Viking in the kitchen may be your wife.

The California Cosmetologist Assn. at its annual convention displayed the hairdos of nearly 150 hair stylists—and something called the bouffant emerged as the dominant new style.

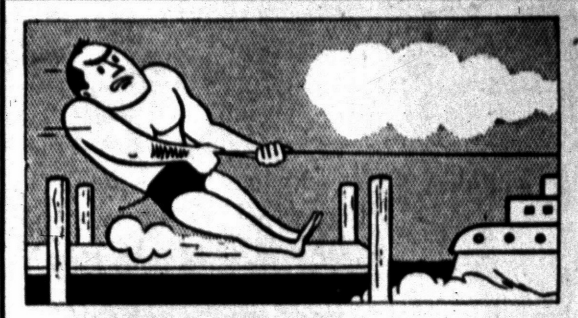

The bouffant was described as the flaring out of hair on the sides into the shape of an old Viking warrior's helmet. It's the fashion of 1912, but with a modern touch, one expert said.

Cadillac

Feels Even Better than He Looks!

Ever notice how a man looks when he takes the wheel of his new Cadillac and heads for his favorite highway?

Take a good look the next time you have a chance—and we think you'll see a happy man!

There's just no mistaking the pride and satisfaction that show in his face . . . or the happiness and contentment that reside in his heart.

And, as any experienced Cadillac owner can testify, he feels every bit as wonderful as he looks! For a journey in the "car of cars" is both a marvelous tonic for the spirit . . . and a wonderful opportunity for physical rest and relaxation.

It starts, in fact, the instant he slips into the driver's seat and rests his hands on the wheel. Those deep, soft cushions hold him in perfect comfort . . . and he is literally surrounded by beauty and luxury.

Even before he sets the car in motion, some of life's care and worry seem to go out of his day.

And then comes the miracle of Cadillac performance. It's an inspiration just to sit at the wheel . . . to look out over that graceful hood . . . and to watch the miles flow gracefully by.

And how easy it all is. Just a gesture of his hand on the steering wheel and the car follows effortlessly and obediently. Just a touch of his toe to the accelerator and the car answers instantly to the command. Just a nudge of his foot on the braking pedal and the car comes to a smooth, safe, silken stop.

Sound wonderful? Well, we sincerely urge you to come in at your first convenience—spend an hour at the wheel—and see for yourself.

We'll be happy to give you the keys . . . and the car . . . and some wonderful news about the cost and delivery advantages that you will enjoy if you make your decision for Cadillac today.

Swimmin's Fine at Sylvan Lake

This was a happy family scene at Sylvan Friday afternoon. Mrs. Mathew Lingenfelter (left) of Ferndale avenue and Mrs. Charles Hall of Edgefield avenue had their youngsters at the beach for the afternoon. The young men in the foreground are (left to right) Danny Lingenfelter, Johnny Hall and Randy Lingenfelter. Susie Hall and Wendy Hall are in the background.

Somebody got dunked just after this picture was snapped at Sylvan Lake. Looking for summer swim time shots for the Press, our photographer happened on this scene and shouted "hold-it." Mike Clark dropped Gary Hullman the instant after the shutter snapped. Both boys live on Oakwood drive. As Gary's towel-draped figure plopped into the water, a plaintive female voice from the beach said, "And that was MY towel."

Mayo Keeps in Top Shape Effortlessly

No Diet Required to Hold Actress to 36-23-36 Form

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The plaster model of Virginia Mayo's torso, which dress designers use to fit her with gowns for her screen roles, has not had a single curve altered during the eight years that she has been emoting at Warner Brothers.

Virginia's 36-23-36 measurements haven't changed a fraction of an inch since she first got her start in pictures at the Valley Studio.

She reported back to the lot after a two-year absence to make movie love to Alan Ladd in "Buffalo Grass." The dress designers measured Virginia with the tape and then just dusted off the plastic torso in order to go to work on her costumes.

Virginia said that she makes no effort whatsoever to keep her classic figure. She stated that she eats what she wants and never counts the calories. Declares the curvaceous blonde:

BORING SUBJECT

"I was born with my figure. I didn't have to work to attain it. I don't diet to keep it. I see it every time I look in a mirror and I get bored talking about it."

Back in Virginia's days as a Goldwyn girl, the actress bulged the tape measure no more nor less.

"I don't take any special care of my body," the actress revealed. "Just 10 minutes every day in bending and rolling exercises.

* * *

"I eat lots of meat and eggs and few desserts. I don't like sweets. I get nine hours sleep a night, don't worry, and love my husband."

Virginia's hubby is Michael O'Shea. The two have a daughter, Cathy, who will be 3 years old Nov. 12.

1938 Amendment Saved Women's Skin

Thank Drug Act for Safe Cosmetics

American women can be heartily thankful for the Pure Food and Drug Act, which is fifty years old this year, and for its amendment, in 1938, to include cosmetics.

Just how much of their families' safety and health women owe to this law is pointed up in a 50th anniversary exhibit at the New York Historical Society.

Patent medicines from before the law were discovered to contain sufficient alcohol to intoxicate a baby in one dose. A handbook for grocers recommends reviving tainted meat with a good soak in beer.

Not all of the antique products shown are impure by any means. A common fault in most of them is the labeling.

Many are so grandiose and nebulous as to make a woman wonder whether the product was intended to cure liver diseases, rejuvenate the liver or eradicate it altogether.

Turn of the century cosmetics on display are few: eau de cologne and a little rice powder. It was because of this very smallness of the industry and small demand that no need was felt to include cosmetics under the law.

But as the cosmetics industry grew to its present one-billion-dollars-per-year size, abuses began to appear.

Some of the samples on display include an ad for an electric hairbrush that claims to do what no modern hair treatment would attempt, and quack cures, mostly alcoholic, for every blemish known to women.

During this era, some cases became notorious. Mascaras caused eye diseases, hair dyes caused hair to fall out for good, lipsticks were in some cases inedible, weight-reducing pills destroyed many women's health.

So, in 1938, the law was amended to close loopholes and include cosmetics under coverage.

LAW'S PROVISIONS

Products, under the present law, must be:

Free from ingredients that might be harmful when used as directed.

LaLone-Harding Rites Are Read

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Harding Jr. of Fremont, Ind., announce the marriage of their daughter, Marilyn Corrine, to Richard D. LaLone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Felton of Chandler avenue.

For the June 29 wedding held at St. Charles Catholic Church, Coldwater, the bride wore a gown of blush pink nylon tulle with a portrait neckline and lace appliques on the floor-length skirt that extended into a chapel train.

Anthony Renne Claims Bride

Dolores Evans became the bride of Anthony Renne, Saturday noon in a service performed by Judge Cecil McCallum. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Matthews of Harper Woods and he is the son of Mrs. Addie Murray of Farmington.

Joyce Whitener Weds H. E. Hall in Church Rite

Married in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening were Coreta Joyce Whitener and H. Eugene Hall. The Rev. D. P. Pawley of Collier Road Church officiated at the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Andrew Whitener of Hill road are parents of the bride. Eugene's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hall of Hill road.

For her wedding, the bride choose a gown of slipper satin. The sweetheart neckline was trimmed with Chantilly lace and iridescent sequins. A bouffant skirt fell from the fitted bodice.

She wore a fingertip veil of illusion, secured by a tiara of white satin and trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a mother-of-pearl Bible with an arrangement of white roses and stephanotis.

THREE ATTENDANTS

Patricia Skrine was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Helen Wood, and Nanalee Painter. The maid of honor wore a ballerina-length gown of yellow organdy styled on princess lines.

Gowns worn by the bridesmaids were identical to the maid of honor's in a shade of light blue. They wore white picture hats and gloves and carried white clutch bags with carnation corsages pinned to them.

* * *

Mrs. Hall wore a dusty rose lace dress with white accessories and her corsage was also of Happiness roses.

When the couple left on a tour of the southern states, the bride had changed to a light blue dress with white accessories. She wore the corsage from her bouquet.

They will reside on Second avenue on their return.

Need Fosters Lucrative Sideline

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Do you ever find yourself thinking, "There ought to be a better gadget for doing this" or "There ought to be a better-looking product for such and such a need?"

Many of the most successful people I know are those who, when they felt a need themselves, realized that probably a lot of others did, too. And they set to work to fill that need.

* * *

In their mid-thirties, this couple recently bought a new, modern house. They had spent most of their money on the house, so their problem was to furnish it as inexpensively as possible.

Also, since there weren't too many rooms, it was necessary that the guest bedroom double as a study.

NEEDED BUREAU

"We had to have a bureau there, of course," they told me, "but we didn't want the room to look a bit bedroomy. We saw some lovely bureaus, but they cost a fortune.

"We shopped and shopped without success. In making the rounds, we met one young couple busily trying to furnish a one-room apartment.

They, too, complained about the difficulty of finding an inexpensive chest, good-looking enough to be a living room piece."

Mr. and Mrs. L. thought it over, when they went home, and examined the old bureaus they had brought with them from the old house.

"They were pretty beat-up," Mrs. L. told me. "But we went to work on them. We cut them down, changed the hardware, scraped and bleached the wood, and they came out perfectly beautiful.

"Everybody commented on them and friends began to ask us to do theirs. Meantime, we studied up on refinishing furniture and kept a file of pictures and new ideas.

"We got to the stage where we could remodel any old bureau and make it really attractive. And for pennies, too."

The last I heard, Mr. and Mrs. L. had fixed up their basement into a workshop. They buy up all kinds of old bureaus, the kind most people throw away, transform them into good-looking modern pieces and sell them at a nice profit.

FASCINATING SIDELINE

"We advertise in the paper," they told me, "and, of course, we have many new customers by word-of-mouth.

"It's a fascinating sideline for us and lucrative, too—and all because we couldn't find what we wanted ourselves!"

If you are thinking of making some product at home, make a list of things you could use, a list of the things you say, "There ought be a . . . " about. It'll give you a real clue.

Also, if you'll send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of this newspaper, I'll send you my pamphlet, "Marketing a Home Product."

Joan Ellen McLeod became the bride of Robert A. Hutton Jr. Saturday evening in Central Methodist Church. Joan's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. McLeod of Old Orchard drive, and his parents are the Robert A. Huttons of Romeo.

MRS. ROBERT A. HUTTON JR.

Hutton-McLeod Nuptials Read in Candlelight Rite

Central Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding Saturday of Joan Ellen McLeod and Robert A. Hutton, Jr. The 7 o'clock candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Mulder of Walled Lake Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. McLeod of Old Orchard drive are the parents of the bride, and Robert's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Hutton of Romeo.

For the double ring ceremony, witnessed by 200 guests, the bride wore a floor-length gown of lace and tulle over satin, with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and an illusion neckline. Her bouffant skirt was fashioned with side panels of lace.

Jean McLeod, twin sister of the bride, was her honor attendant. She was gowned in sea foam crystalette with a scoop pleated neckline in a ballerina-length. For flowers she carried a natural straw basket with deep pink and white roses.

* * *

Jane Baker was the bride's other attendant. She was gowned identically to the maid of honor and carried a straw basket with light pink and white roses.

Serving as best man was Arthur Olson of Pandora, Ohio. Ushers were James Bates of Farmington, Thomas Dezelsky of Saginaw and William Gordon of Birmingham.

For the reception held in the church parlors, Mrs. McLeod wore a mauve corded organza and lace inserts over taffeta, with matching accessories and a pink orchid corsage.

* * *

Mrs. Hutton wore a gray silk organza dress with gray-blue accessories and a pink orchid corsage.

For traveling to Williamsburg, Va., the bride change to an aqua linen suit with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal arrangement. The couple will reside in Rochester on their return.

Record Number of Women Attend Dem National Parley

AP Wirephoto

665 Delegates, Alternates, Top Speakers Spotlighted

By VIRGINIA KACHAN

CHICAGO (INS)—Political conventions, once heavily drenched with thick cigar smoke and pungent words, are getting sweeter all the time.

In halls and in meeting rooms at the Democratic National Convention, salty politicians are toning down their language and even taking off their hats.

It's all come about because more women than ever are present in an active, rather than a spectator role.

Mrs. Katie Louchheim, the party's director of women's activities, proudly reported today that there are 665 women delegates and alternates to the convention. "That's a record number for Republicans or Democrats," she asserted.

CALIFORNIA IN LIMELIGHT

California takes the limelight in having the largest number of women in its delegation—44 out of 136. It's the only one, too, that is headed by a woman, pert Mrs. Liz Snyder of Los Angeles. She is the first in her state to be named to the post by either party.

Women are represented on every committee and each has a feminine co-chairman. Three women have been singled out to be part of a 15-member committee that will write the party platform—the campaign program for the November election.

They are Congresswoman Gracie Pfost of Nampa, Ida.; Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller, national committeewoman from Slippery Rock, Penn., and Mrs. Grade Hudlin, state co-chairman, of Wagner, Okla.

But the best key to how important women have become in the Democratic party is the convention itself.

WOMEN SPOTLIGHTED

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late president, is the main speaker on Monday night—the first day of the convention. This is by no means the first time that Mrs. Roosevelt has been given featured billing at Democratic conventions.

However, the next day—Tuesday—is given over to more women speakers than ever before.

Mrs. Louchheim and seven congresswomen will address the convention on the theme "Our American Home and the People in It."

In order of appearance, here are the congresswomen and their backgrounds:

Mrs. Edna F. Kelly, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a widow now in her fourth term in Congress as a representative from the 10th District. She served on the House Foreign Affairs Committee during the last session of Congress.

Mrs. Leonor K. Sullivan of St. Louis, Mo., the widow of a congressman and now in her second term. The first woman sent to Congress from Missouri, Mrs. Sullivan was a member of the Banking and Currency Committee and the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee during the last congressional session.

Mrs. Gracie Pfost of Nampa, Ida., who is serving her second term in Congress and, in the last session, was a member of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee. Her husband, John, operates a real estate business.

Mrs. Edith Green of Portland, Ore., a former school teacher, who is serving her first term. She has been a member of the House Education and Labor Committee and the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee.

Mrs. Martha W. Griffiths of Detroit, a former judge and state lawmaker who is serving her first term in the U. S. House.

She is a member of the Banking and Currency Committee and the Government Operations Committee.

Mrs. Coya Knutson of Oklee, Minn., a high school teacher for 14 years before she entered the State Legislature. She was elected to Congress in 1954 and served on the Agriculture Committee.

Mrs. Iris F. Blitch, wife of a druggist in Homerville, Ga., who served in the state Senate and became, in 1954, the first woman to be elected to a full term in Congress from Georgia.

Some Cotton Frocks Better Dry Cleaned

It is not always desirable to wash cotton dresses, even though it's the most washable of fibers. Dressmaking details, dark colors and more tailoring may make it necessary to have some cottons dry-cleaned.

Now's the time to check your supply of fuses, before winter's storms set in.

Why Not Keep a 'Party Shelf' Set for Action

NEW YORK (INS)—It's a good idea to be ready for unexpected guests dropping in during weekends by establishing a "party shelf" in your kitchen.

Stock it with the makings for snacks and quick meals, as well as those tidbits so popular with afternoon tea, cocktails or any long, cold drink.

Canned meats, fish and spreads are a good idea as they can be teamed up with crisp crackers or rounds of toast.

Tiny canned frankfurters or sausages or little coldfish balls can be heated in a chafing dish for quick serving.

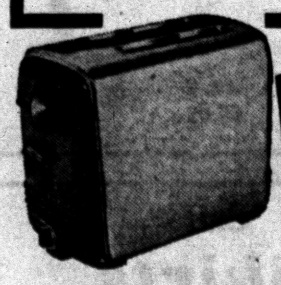

Supper-time arrivals can be dealt with if you have a canned ham, or ready to serve stews, chili con carne with beans or chicken ala king on hand. Canned or frozen vegetables and fruits will round out the meal.

Ankle strap sandals are not for mature women. And sandals of any kind are not for women with a weight problem. The sleek pump is the answer in both cases.

One Rule for Any Problem: Correct It Now

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It would be impossible to imagine the great variety of questions which pour into my office. Over and over again I say to my secretary, "Now I have been asked everything." But soon a brand new question comes along.

* * *

Women want to know about how to reduce the abdomen and waist and hips, how to correct round shoulders or increase the bust measurement, what to do about a double chin or crows feet, sparse eyebrows, fat noses or flat feet, short height, large hands, bow legs, overweight and underweight. These are just a few of the questions.

Then there are questions in the emotional realm, problems in boredom, frustration, loneliness, the worry habit, irritability, fear, marital trouble, stresses of all kinds.

My contact with my readers is one of the things I like best about this column. I send them information when I have it. If I don't know the answer I refer them to the proper authorities. I am consoled when I cannot be of help by the thought that maybe I was a safety valve anyway.

RESULTS AMAZING

The results which can be obtained from diet and exercise are truly miraculous. However, when a problem entails bone structure, I am no magician!

* * *

A great deal can be done with exercise in correcting a spinal curvature, if it is arrested soon enough, but such exercises should be taken under the direct supervision of an expert in this line. Round shoulders can be greatly improved, too. So can general posture. With these I can be of help.

One question which comes over and over again is what to do about fat across the shoulders and under the arms. I have recently given corrective exercises for fat across the back. Today we will consider fat under the arms.

TWO EXERCISES

1. Stand erect, arms hanging at your sides. Raise your arms overhead with stiff elbows, the backs of your hands turned toward one another so that you toucth the backs of your hands together high over your head. Reach up as high as you can and feel the pull. Return arms to sides. Continue.

2. Stand with your left side toward the wall, with your feet about two feet away from it. Place the left hand on the wall. Raise your right arm up by your head. Bend toward the left, touching the fingers of your right hand to the wall. Raise trunk to erect position and lower right arm to side. Continue.

After awhile turn your right side to the wall and raise your left arm when bending to the right. This is also a good waist slimming exercise.

If you would like to have my tested exercises which will take a few inches from your waist measurement in a few weeks time, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 6, "Don't Go to Waist," to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

It is easy to dream about what we will do and then to put off the painful process of beginning today. Procrastination, more than any other characteristic, is the one which causes us to get wrinkles, to age before our time, to fail to accomplish the things we most want to.

Fat under the arms? This will help. Reach up as high as you can so that you can feel the pull. Return arms to side. Continue.

Our failures are not often due to lack of opportunity, to too little money, to poor inheritance, to bad luck, to lack of time. They usually can be credited to procrastination.

It is only human to put off until tomorrow what we don't have to do today and what we don't really want to do anyway, except for the long range results. However, we simply have to pay the price for the prizes we win.

* * *

Everyone with common sense knows that we must give the body good daily care if we are to remain vital in older years. Most women know that skin lubrication is necessary if we are to avoid wrinkles. We all know that we must work intelligently and diligently if we are to succeed at our work.

WHAT WE KNOW

We know that our tissues will become flabby if we do not exercise, that we cannot build a circle of friends unless we treat them with courtesy and do our share, that overeating is going to make us fat, that we won't lose weight until we diet, that loss of sleep will give us circles, that we must study a language before we can speak it.

We know all of these things but we dream and wait for tomorrow to come and it never does! It doesn't come because the future is made up of todays, and today's tomorrow rapidly turns into a today. We are building our future with our todays.

If we cannot begin today the chances are we never will. Perhaps we should say this to ourselves every morning:

"This is today and life is made up of todays. Actually my todays are all I can be sure of, ever. If I cannot do what is essential for my health and good looks and happiness today, I will miss them entirely."

Women are always asking me how they can stick to diet and exercise, how they can stick to this or that, in other words they want help in reinforcing their will power.

This is my answer. Cut this out and tack it onto your bedroom door and read it every single morning. At any rate, save this article and re-read it every day. I believe you will find it helpful.

If you would like to have my calorie chart send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Write Son's Girl Friend Simple Note

Let First Invitation to Strange Lass Be Informal, Warm

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "While working in another city, my son met a young woman he has become quite fond of. He returned home recently and has asked me to write to the girl and invite her to our house.

"I would like to do this very much, but never having done so before I am at a loss as to know what to say. Will you please help me? Also, will you tell me how to sign the note?"

Answer: You write to her and say something like this:

"Dear Mary, I feel as if I know you very well from John who so often speaks of you. Won't you come to stay with us this following weekend from Friday to Monday? Looking forward with pleasure to meeting you. Sincerely, Jane Jones (no account Mrs. Jones)."

Dear Mrs. Post: "The other evening neighbors of ours dropped in for a visit. We spent the evening in conversation. At 10 o'clock Mr. Neighbor asked if he could turn on the television to look at the fight.

"Not feeling that I could refuse, I said he could turn it on. Neither my husband nor I care to watch the fight and I'm sure Mrs. Neighbor was bored with it, too, but we were all forced to sit and watch it.

"Isn't it wrong for a guest to ask the host, or hostess, to turn on the television, and if so, can a hostess refuse to turn it on without being rude to a guest?"

Answer: It would not be rude for a very intimate friend to ask this of you and you could not refuse so long as you and your husband were the only ones there. If there had been other guests who did not care to see it, then you could have refused.

Powderpuff Dirty?

How's the powderpuff in your compact? Clean? If it isn't, now's the time to discard it. Good idea is to keep replacements always on hand so that your face is never touched by anything but a clean laes.

Keep Secrets From Mate if You Would Keep Charm

Clever Gal Will Spare Husband Details of Beauty Care, Conflicts, Inner Doubts

By RUTH MILLETT

For instance, it's much better for a wife to quietly and unobtrusively keep her weight under control than to make her diet one of her main topics of conversation.

A man appreciates having a slim, trim wife. But no man cares about hearing what an ordeal it is for her to stay that way.

It's also a mistake for a woman to run to her husband when she has a misunderstanding with her best friend. The friends are almost sure to make up and let bygones be bygones.

* * *

But the husband may not forget the things his wife said in anger about the friend and may forever wonder how she could be through with her forever one week and back to bosom friendship the next.

KEEP ROMANCE

A woman's beauty secrets ought to be secrets even — or maybe especially — from her husband. He is interested in the finished product, not the less-than-romantic routines that serve to accomplish the miracle.

* * *

If a woman ever has any doubts about her husband's love, that too is best kept quiet.

Whether she is sure of her husband's devotion or not, she ought to hold her head high and act as though she is. An uncertain, do-you-really-love-me attitude is most unbecoming.

Another time a woman ought to keep a secret is when her husband makes what she considers an unwise decision and, sure enough, it turns out that she was right. "I was afraid you were making a mistake" are hardly words that endear a woman to a man.

* * *

And it is just as well if a wife who is a good manager isn't always calling attention to the fact. A man will appreciate her scrimping and saving far more if he just sees the results.

Keeping some secrets from a husband fall under the heading of charm — rather than deception.

These lovely initial day-of-the-week towels will add beauty to the kitchen. The attractive floral-and-letter designs are quickly embroidered in simple stitches and blending colors.

My Mailbag Brings Me 'Vital' Information

* * *

That warm weather addicts who complain this has been too cool a summer might be happier if they lived on the sun. The temperature there ranges from 10,000 degrees on the surface to 36,000,000 degrees in the center.

That it takes the sun about 27 days to rotate on its axis. The heat makes it lazy.

That the popular impression tuberculosis has been whipped just isn't so. In the United States one person died every 27 minutes of this disease in 1955.

That nine ounces of beef a day will provide all the protein you need, and—goody, goody!— there are 917 million cattle in the world.

* * *

That singer Frances Langford, who had been a lyric soprano, earned fame and fortune with her voice after a tonsilectomy changed her into a contralto. But when I had my tonsils out all I got was a sore throat—and a bill.

HAVE NO IDEA

That most people have no idea how busy their bodies really are. Every second—even when you're sleeping—three million of your red blood cells die, three million new ones are born.

That some nerve impulses travel up to 300 m.p.h. Well, we always knew it doesn't take long for a woman to feel hurt.

That tornadoes took 1,766 lives in America between 1954 and 1955.

That if the ticking of a clock in your bedroom keeps you from sleeping, you can silence it by covering it with a glass bowl. Yeah, but where does that leave the goldfish?

That the Leningrad radio has announced many schools in the Soviet Union won't hold their usual history examinations this year. Wonder why?

MANTLE SAGGING

That songbird Teresa Brewer, whose records sell in the millions, doesn't own a piano and never sings a note at home.

That mighty Mickey Mantle has a long way to go if he wants to catch up with Ty Cobb, who hit .300 or more for 23 straight seasons and was still a star at 40.

That about 1 in 600 youngsters has a form of brain damage, often undetected, which prevents him from learning to read well.

That Hollywood has lost its monopoly of private swimming pools. Americans all over the country bought 26,500 backyard pools last year at a cost of 78 million dollars.

BUZUCKIE TWANGS

That the buzuckie is a Balkan instrument similar to the Russian Blaika and has three strings, a triangular body and a long neck. Bet you smart-elec, know-it-all neighbor never suspected that!

* * *

That Napoleon during his invasion of Egypt thought of building a waterway similar to the present Suez Canal. He dropped the plan because of his erroneous belief that the Mediterranean was 30 feet below the Red Sea level.

That Robert Q. Lewis, the bespectacled television humorist, has received proposals from 324 leap year lovelorn ladies. Some 22 per cent of the girls confided they wore horn-rimmed glasses, too.

That while we're on the subject of love a poll of 3,000 ladies showed 65 per cent believed men who smoke pipes are more attractive than those who don't. But one girl — bless her honest heart— wrote: "Any man is attractive no matter what he is doing."

That actor Walter Slezak gives this definition of blood money: "When you have to hire your brother-in-law."

Get Christopher Award Plaques

Herbert Hoover, Others Honored by Catholic Principles Group

NEW YORK (INS) — Former President Herbert Hoover and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) were among 15 authors, reporters and cartoonists named today as Christopher Award winners in New York.

Hoover was honored for an article which pointed out that man's progress is measured by his faith in the principles of Jesus Christ. Sen. Kennedy was cited for his recent book, "Profiles in Courage."

Winners in the newspaper field also included Sand Bologna of the Waterbury (Conn.) Republican; Jean Barrett of the Philadelphia Bulletin; William B. Harwood of the Baltimore Associated Press Bureau, and Leo Cherne whose prize-winning article appeared in the New York Times magazine.

Book awards also were presented to Adele Comandini for "Doctor Kate," Thomas Dooley for "Deliver Us From Evil," and George Mardikian for "Song of America."

Magazine writers cited for the semi-annual Christopher Awards were Christy Brown, Alice Hogan, Dorothy Park Clark and Donald Robinson. Eldon Pletcher was honored for a cartoon that appeared in the Sioux City (Iowa) Journal, and H. M. Talburt for one that appeared in the New York World-Telegram and Sun.

Each winner received a bronze plaque engraved with the Christopher motto: "Better to Light One Candle Than to Curse the Darkness." The Christopher movement encourages each individual to make his powers for good be felt in all fields.

And Did You Find the Knock, Stupid?

John Riley Jr., 19, who was driving, told police his vision was blocked by the hood. He ran into the rear of a parked car. Holton suffered two broken legs.

Although the French occupied French Somaliland in 1862, the Egyptian garrison refused to withdraw until 1884. Not a shot fired.

ADLAI-ELEANOR — Adlai Stevenson links his arm through Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's and has a serious word for the former First Lady as they attend a Colorado delegation reception yesterday in Chicago. She leaves no doubt as to whom she's backing for the Democratic presidential nomination.

AVE-INDIA — Gov. Averell Harriman of New York listens to Mrs. India Edwards, a campaign worker, make a report today in the hallway of Harriman's hotel. Mrs. Edwards has long been prominent in Democratic party activities.

HST Says Plank 'May Gag a Bit'

By ROSE McKEE

CHICAGO (INS)—Southern Democrats lost a little of their unity as they embarked on a new convention strategy today. And disunity crackled and popped within the delegation that has sparked Southern union—South Carolina.

* * *

Former President Harry S. Truman said today the Democratic Party's civil rights plank "may gag the Southerners a little, but I think they will eventually support it."

The new strategy became clear as state delegations caucused in Chicago hotel rooms after arrival at the convention yesterday. Former South Carolina Gov. R. M. Jeffries put it this way before his state caucus:

"Let's don't get in the bag for any candidate until the platform matter about civil rights is clarified."

SUPPORTS ADLAI

Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama and North Carolina caucuses went along with that idea, even though Gov. Luther Hodges spoke eloquently before his Carolina delegates in support of Adlai Stevenson. Tennesseeans, who have been champions of Stevenson, began talking of putting up Gov. Frank Clement as a favorite son candidate.

Louisiana wouldn't go along however. They decided by a 46-2 vote to cast their 24 votes, as a unit, for Stevenson on the first ballot.

Later on, Democratic platform writers shelved the tough civil rights issue to polish up a farm plank which reportedly calls for 100 per cent parity prices and a revival of the disputed Brannan Plan.

* * *

But before putting aside the question of racial segregation, the 16-man drafting subcommittee heard Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt speak behind closed doors. She declined to tell reporters the nature of her talk, explaining, "It is nobody's business but the committee's."

However, House Democratic Leader John McCormack, of Massachusetts, said the former first lady spoke, among other things, on civil rights "in a general way." McCormack, Platform Committee chairman, disclosed also that her appearance before the unit was suggested by Truman.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who has taken a moderate stand on the potentially party-splitting civil rights issue, was understood to have bid for harmony.

NORTH MAY FIGHT

Meanwhile, several northern state delegation leaders promised an all-out floor fight if the proposed platform fails to mention the Supreme Court desegregation ruling. Pledges of support were received at a meeting presided over by Roy Wilkins, secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

* * *

The direct payments would be a revival of the controversial plan proposed by Charles Brannan when he was agriculture secretary in the Truman cabinet. The plan never was adopted.

Michigan Millionaires Outshine New York's

Scribblings From Our Convention Reporter

By JOE HAAS

Hotel lobby gossip among the Democrats is mostly about Ike's operation. They're all sure it was worse than reported. If not before that time, they set the date for the services as Nov. 6.

Harriman tells me we have millionaires in Michigan that make the New York City "Millionaires Row" look like a flop house line.

A nationally known Republican was encountered in the Conrad-Hilton crowds Friday night. He said he was "slumming."

Inside information tells me nobody has a full claim on the Michigan delegation after the first ballot which of course goes to Gov. Williams. The delegates are not governed by the unit rule—unless it is changed Monday.

It's a wide open proposition on vice president, I'd pick Kennedy, Kefauver, Humphrey or Symington. It largely depends on the horse trading on the head of the ticket.

Even some leading Democrats agree the principal thing the matter with the farmers is only an outgrowth of political monkeying with their business.

* * *

"Soapy's cleaned," is the heading on a Chicago paper's story about his threatened stand on civil rights, the same as in the 1952 convention.

* * *

"Where does all this money come from?," is a common question in speaking about the excessive spending that surely accompanies the publicity stunts in connection with the two top contenders. Harriman's got it, but we're as dumb as anybody else beyond that.

It seems the best straddler on the civil rights and farm questions has the nomination in the bag.

Talking to leading Democrats from many other states, I find that next after our governor, Michigan's most widely known Democrat is an Oakland County man—Murray D. Van Wagoner. And in third place is another Oakland County man—Phil A. Hart.

* * *

Don't expect to see anybody on convention TV who is not affiliated with the party. The arrangement isn't like it was four years ago.

A clever gadget is a toy donkey that walks, and made so it can easily be changed to an elephant, so the leftovers can be on sale in San Francisco next week.

A big banner at Stevenson headquarters says:

* * *

"Adlai Stevenson: he's our man: If he can't make it, who-'n-'ell can?"

Oakland County delegates assure me they wish to vote on both president and vice president in accord with the wishes of their constituents. They are open for suggestions. You can reach any of them at the Congress Hotel.

Speakers before the Resolutions Committee warn its members they have a big job on their hands if they hope to hold the labor vote, and get the farmer vote, the Negro vote, the White Southern vote, the woman vote and the first voters' vote.

The principal charge I hear against Dick Nixon is that he's rather blunt in saying things about people, that they didn't know he knew so well.

* * *

Chicago needs both national conventions in order to go all out in entertaining them. It isn't putting forth the effort it did in 1952.

There's no denying that the paid demonstrators here (and most of them are in that class) do not put the wholehearted cheering into the thing that we do as a pure community gesture in Pontiac.

Near panic at a Stevenson demonstration in the Conrad-Hilton Hotel. A prematurely lighted match book set off a packetfull of celluloid campaign buttons in a woman's handbag. The matches and buttons were souvenirs of different candidates.

Arabs See Nasser as Another Mohammed

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The Arab crisis is 1,300 years old.

* * *

For more than a dozen centuries the Arabs, their civilization cradled in the scorched Arabian Peninsula, have conquered and been conquered until the tides of history scattered them over a vast area now loosely known as "the Arab world."

Today the heart and center of that world is Egypt, and Egypt has set the Western world's nerves on edge. Nationalization of the Suez Canal, focus of the immediate crisis, is not the only Western worry. Arab ambitions, tempers, frustrations and hatreds have spread ferment from the Persian Gulf to the Atlantic.

* * *

Egypt's President Nasser, central figure in the latest crisis, calls this whole area "the Arab nation." His spoken aspirations make it plain he considers Egypt the leader of an Arab world which one day will be united.

It is far from united now. It is not really one world but at least four, linked loosely by ties of common religion and the Arab language. Nasser speaks for pan-Arabism, and Arabic speaking peoples are pulled strongly toward the dream. But national, racial, geographical and ideological rivalries keep the Arab lands disunited.

* * *

The 10 million Arabs who inhabit the Arabian Peninsula are an isolated world to themselves. Only the thin veneer of a modern civilization, induced by the flow of foreign oil royalties, covers centuries-old feudal systems.

The so-called fertile crescent — the area formed by Syria, Lebanon, Iraq, Jordan and Palestine and the great Western religions, is yet another world of some 12-million Arabs.

The almost 30 million Moslems of Egypt and Sudan, occupying a big patch of east Africa, are a third world, often described by fertile crescent people as more African than Arab. And about 20 million people who call themselves Arab occupy Morrocco, Tunis, Algeria and Libya in North Africa. Their religion is Moslem but in the mists of centuries many of the cultural ties with the Eastern Arabs have been lost.

* * *

All these countries have their own cultures, some tied to Europe. Many Arabs are Christians, particularly in Lebanon and Egypt. Some are Jews.

The new Egyptian constitution calls Egypt an integral part of "the Arab nation," meaning the vast area in which at least 70 million who might be described as Arabs are linked by religion and language.

The common history and language stem from the militant religion founded by the prophet Mohammed, who was born in Mecca, on the Arabian Peninsula, in 570 A.D. The sword of Islam knifed East and West. In about 642, 10 years after Mohammed died, Arabs seized Egypt. By 683 they reached Morocco and in 1061 Moslems overran Spain. Islam spread eastward to what is now Soviet Central Asia.

* * *

But in the 13th century this power began to wane. The Arabs lost Persia and the eastern part of their empire to the Turks and Mongols. They lost Spain to Christians. Their empire split itself in fierce rivalries.

* * *

The rise of a hero like Nasser inflamed the deep-rooted desire among Arabs to regain their ancient grandeur after centuries of want and oppression. They sensed their latent power. They inhabited one of the most important sectors of the globe, the source of life-giving oil for Europe's industry and the crossroads of the world's trade. If Nasser could defeat the great powers in a spectacular show of defiance, there was a chance that the great pressure of millions of Arabs might overthrow rulers who failed to bury their old rivalries in the quest for a second empire of the Arab world.

GATHER AT PICNIC — Members of Baldwin Rubber Local 25 (AFL-CIO) and their families line up for one of the events during the organization's annual picnic at Walled Lake Amusement Park last Saturday. The nearly 2,000 who attended were forced to abandon the outdoors to heavy rain and move inside during the afternoon portion of the outing.

U. S. Army Unit in Japan Wages Battle With Truth Over the Bamboo Curtain

TOKYO (INS) — Asian Communists are finding out that the truth hurts—especially when it's dished out by a small group of Americans in Tokyo.

A U.S. Army unit is carrying on a long-range battle against Communism with a strangely unaggressive arsenal of weapons. It consists of radio transmitters and printing presses, the standard equipment for psychological warfare.

It is a pretty safe bet that the Army's continuous campaign of truth in broadcasts, pamphlets and leaflets is badly damaging Communist prestige in Asia.

The evidence lies in a violent counter-drive the Reds have launched. One Communist pamphlet picked up in Tokyo described the Tokyo "Psywar" unit as a "sinister organization, which employs murder, forgery, and other common law crimes . . . to carry out its missions."

Col. William R. Robinette, Psywar officer, declared: "This kind of tirade usually means that our work is hurting them."

The colonel described his mission as two-fold:

"First we work to tell the facts about the free world to captive nations. We explain our ideals and our concepts of freedom."

"Secondly, we strive to expose the aggressive nature of Communism, to reveal the truth about its slave labor camps, its purges, the loss of individual human rights under its fist, and its government by tyranny."

Communist Chinese and North Korean audiences heard the news of Stalin's death broadcast by Psywar stations 24 hours before it was announced officially by the Red governments.

And the Army was first to break the stories that Malenkov had been ousted and Beria purged.

These broadcasts, well in advance of official announcements, have built up confidence in Psywar's newscasts on the part of Communist listeners.

He warned them in their native tongue that Peiping might later attribute this to guerrilla action. Actually, exhorbitant taxes on crops had driven the farmers to revolt, he declared.

The Chinese people have no other access to the truth. Without such broadcasts, they would be forced to swallow whatever line Peiping was using.

Such broadcasts are a daily routine in Psywar's campaign to open the eyes of Asian people under Communist rule to the truth about themselves.

Shirley Booth Slips Disc When Making 'Desk Set'

By DOROTHY MANNERS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Just when everyone on the "Raintree County" location at Danville, Ky., was convinced the long-standing friendship between Elizabeth Taylor and Montgomery Clift was warming into romance word came that his former girl friend, Libby Holman, is heading there to visit him.

The arrival of Liz and Monty in Danville was really something. They were welcomed by a brass band and a committee headed by Mrs. "Happy" Chandler. She put off going to the Democratic Convention earlier in order to play hostess to the MGM company.

Shirley Booth has been in so much pain from a slipped disc a dressing room has been set up for her just off-stage of "Desk Set" at the Carthay Circle. Treatment for the slipped disc is also the reason Shirley was on the MGM lot last week. She's seeing the physician there and not talking about a movie. Hal Wallis, who holds her contract for two Paramount pictures, will be glad to learn this.

However, Shirley was at Columbia last week looking at the old hit "Lady for a Day" which starred May Robson, in a projection room. There is talk Columbia wants Shirley for the remake. P.S. She liked it.

Twenty-five — count 'em — 25 gorgeous and unusual gowns are being designed by Marusia and Travis Banton for Rosalind Russell's "Auntie Mame" show on Broadway.

"This is a clothesmakers' fiesta," Marusia told me. "The clothes are actually part of the plot of the comedy. They have to reflect the actual changes of mood and events in the life of the zany heroine."

Meanwhile, Roz who stands patiently for fittings every day, has dropped four pounds readying the largest single wardrobe ever worn in one show.

The separations of the Bob Crosbys and the Gene Kellys really shook up the town. Of course, there will be the usual "insiders" claiming they suspected as much, but the 17-years marriage of the Crosbys and the 15-years-wed Kellys were considered pretty solid.

Coming on top of the divorce last week of the Edward G. Robinsons after 20 years, and the admission of the Frank Lossers they are calling it quits after 20 years—well, it's been rough going for marriages of long duration between movie couples.

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS: The Irving Ashers' daughter, Jill, announced her engagement to Lewis Morgan, young Beverly Hills businessman, at a family dinner Saturday night. When Louella Parsons hears about this she will feel very sentimental. The Ashers have lived across the street from her in Beverly Hills ever since Jill was a little girl.

HUSBAND WANTED — That's what 22-year-old Vida Hutto, of Houston, Tex., advertised in a local paper. She wants "a man I can depend on." Specifications are "six feet tall, likes to fish, must be between 25 and 35 years old, and earn at least $400 monthly. Applicants should telephone Hilcrest 23780, Houston."

National Guard Starts Training

10,000 State Soldiers Pitch Camp for Annual Field Exercises

GRAYLING (AP) — Some 10,000 troops from the Michigan National Guard began their annual two-week summer training program with reville at 5 a.m. today.

The men got off to a soggy start over the week end as they pitched between 1,200 and 1,500 individual tents in a steady downpour.

Officers said only two minor non-injury accidents made the move north to the shores of Lake Margethe one of the safest in Guard history despite the heavy rains. The troops move to camp for the first time by motor vehicles alone.

Weather added to further safety factors. Frequent rain this summer has left the countryside green and wet, minimizing the constant threat of fire. Last year troops on several occasions helped fight fires that raged through several thousand acres of timberland.

'WE MUST BE ABLE'

The camp's commander, Maj. Gen. Gordon A. MacDonald, met with officers and top non-commissioned officers of the 46th Infantry Division yesterday. He told them "more and more the National Guard is being regarded as the nation's No. 1 standby force and more is being expected of us in the way of all our preparation of possible mobilization.

"We must be able to fight, if the need arises, on much shorter notice than ever before," he said. "We are doing much more than we are being paid for, and we probably will continue to do so."

Two rather pleasant surprises awaited enlisted men.

For the first time beds, mattresses, white sheets, pillows and pillow cases were issued instead of straw ticks and Army blankets. The long-standing bars of GI soap have been replaced by detergents.

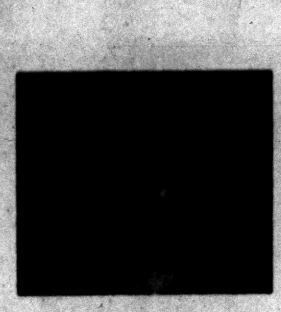

Wilson Sends Reports About Chicago Capers

By EARL WILSON

CHICAGO—Everything's back to abnormal in Chicago.

Some Democrats think it's all over but the partying. So, "Now is the time for all good men and true to go to the party"—if they can get an invitation.

Perle Mesta's bidden us to her great Quadrennial Party even though she hasn't found an excuse for it yet.

PERLE

DiSALLE

Michael DiSalle's allowed us to call him "Governor" though Ohio hasn't elected him yet. Evidently we'll have fun as well as sore feet covering the Chicago convention, watching the Outs trying to get In.

* * *

"You must come to my party," Madame Mesta said from her suite at the Sheraton-Blackstone when I phoned.

"It's at the Mayfair Room at . . . " She mentioned the time. "Who's it for? Just for my friends."

Probably it'll only be 300 or 400, inasmuch as Perle's busy on her life story which she sold to Playhouse 90 for buckets of boodle.

"You have to get a lot," Madame Mesta explained, "when you're giving them a peek into your life."

The once roly-poly Mr. Di Salle—who has conceded the Ohio gubernatorial election to himself—is very popular at Chicago because he's a lovable gent.

* * *

'Twas Mike who once said of a certain politician, "He makes a great speech . . . but then he should . . . he's been making it for 30 years."

He apologized to a fellow for not inviting him to a party with these salient words: "I'd have asked you but I was afraid you could make it."

So it shouldn't be boring. The CBS TV crowd got so many memoranda about how to behave in Chicago that it got up a return memo to the memo-writers.

"Please," it implored, "avoid referring to Chicago by the nickname 'Frisco. The natives do not like to have it called that. For one thing, it is the appellation most often given to San Francisco and, of course, the natives there do not like it, either."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Joe Louis will enter a Chicago hospital for another cardiogram. He'll undergo minor surgery next month . . . Eddie Fisher's birthday gift to his mgr., Milton Blackstone, was a Cadillac . . . Jackie Gleason will bring Stan Ross, his "I'm with yew-w-w" stooge, back for his first show . . . Doris Johnstone, who was an orange-haired dancer at Ben Maksik's, switched to summer stock.

Flash From Rome: Farouk's disappeared! He feels Nasser may be deposed and he or his son Fuad might return to power. He dropped out of sight fearing Nasser's crowd might assassinate him . . . Jack Benny picked coins out of the Trevi fountain for his TVer . . . Ted Straeter was singing in Bricktop's. An American went over and said, "You look amazingly like a NY bandleader named Ted Straetor" . . . Marc Lawrence'll do an Orson Welles—producing, writing, directing and starring in "Ex-Gangster," which he'll cast in NY.

DORIS

Martha Raye's estranged husband, Ed Begley, is back with his old flame, singer Sylvia Syms . . . The Paramount will open its long-closed loge sections during Frank Sinatra's personal appearance . . . Pianist Ahmad Jamal quit after his first night at The Embers; said he wasn't happy, "And the Moslem law says you must be happy" . . . P. J. Clarke's saloon is still buzzing about the Chinese customer who kept lighting $10 bills.

Earl's Pearls . . . The average person who looks under the hood of a car doesn't know any more about it than the guy who used to look in a horse's mouth.—Lawrence (Kans.) Journal-World.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Lou Brecker tells of the TV quiz show with a budget so low that it gives away IOU's.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bob Olin introduced Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom at a dinner and asked him, "Do you want to stand up and be seen, or lie down and be recognized?"

Comic Mickey Freeman reports that business is so bad at some resort hotels that the owners are stealing towels back from the guests. That's earl, brother.

Motorboat Explodes; 6 Hurt, 3 Seriously

FLINT (AP)—Three of six passengers aboard a 16-foot inboard speedboat were seriously injured yesterday when the boat blew up as the driver tried to start it after taking on gas. The other three passengers received minor injuries.

Police said H. Campbell Lynch, 29, the owner and a Flint restaurant proprietor, was trying to start the boat when it backfired and exploded on Lake Fenton, 12 miles south of Flint.

Lynch; his 35-year-old wife, Rosemary, an expectant mother; and one of the three Lynch children, Debora, 3, were in fair condition in a Flint hospital. The couple's other two children and Mrs. Lynch's mother were in good condition.

THE POWERHOUSE
By JIMMY POWERS

There is no excuse for repeated bad manners on the part of a public hero. Especially a hero who is well paid. Ted Williams unquestionably was guilty of a series of almost incredibly childish tantrums at Fenway Park Tuesday. He was very likely warned. It is doubtful he was told his next infraction would bring a $5,000 fine.

Ted knew that in recent years a prominent manager had fractured the jaw of a GI heckler under the stands of his park while a so-called security officer held the victim's arms.

He knew the air waves were scorched by a howling insane tirade of obscene words that almost blew out every receiving set in a radius of 100 miles of the metropolitan area.

★ ★ ★

Hundreds of shocked parents, sitting in the front boxes well within ear shot of most dugouts, will tell you of disgusting experiences far worse than Williams' sophomoric expressions of contempt.

Let's face it, baseball is not a pretty world of good manners, clean language and kind deeds. We have a pitcher recently intent on winning at the expense of a possible fracture of the skull of his opponent.

We see that pitcher flinging the ball at his victim and running in craven flight to the safety of his comrades. We see repeated spikings at second base. Billy Martin has been an exciting player and a highly explosive storm center.

In kindergartens, children stick out their tongues. Children go through the mockery of expectorating in the general direction of the object of their disdain. Does all this fall into the $5,000-fine class? Aren't we being a little childish and holier-than-thou?

BABE DID THINGS IN A GRAND MANNER

Babe Ruth did things on a more magnificent scale. When the Babe went on a toot, it was an all-time, all-America wing-ding. There is still some debate over the actual payment of the Babe's $5,000 fine. Babe's conduct at the time was interpreted as causing the loss of ball games.

In the Ted Williams case, the former war hero and flyer had just won a game. Previously, he had misjudged a fly in a windswept field. He came back to make a circus catch on Yogi Bera.

Then, with nerves steady on a 3-2 count, and the bases loaded, his famous eyes watched the pitch sail toward the plate and in a fraction of an instant they judged the pitch correctly—a ball, and victory. Naturally he was elated. The hated Yanks were beaten. Up went the bat—50 feet into the air.

I have the feeling a psychiatrist should be writing our sports pieces these days. And he would have plenty of customers on both sides.

CHICAGO (AP)—Ted Kroll, golf's Purple Heart hero, today went after and captured the game's richest prize, the $50,000 top swag of the "World tourney."

There was more than poetic justice as the 37-year-old Kroll, long seeking a major title, hit the jackpot with a sizzling 15-under-par total of 273 at Tam O'Shanter yesterday and prepared to pocket another $50,000 in exhibition money.

* * *

Kroll, who is short at 5-8½, compact at 152 and iron-nerved (he was wounded four times in World War II), indicated he would sign today with Promoter George S. May for a minimum of 50 promotional exhibitions at $1,000 per appearance.

Kroll fine string of 67-69-71-66 rounds matched the 1951 "World" record aggregate of 273 by Ben Hogan.

* * *

The $50,000 first prize made Kroll the year's top money winner with $72,835, but fame and fortune have been elusive to this native of New Hartford, Conn., up until the world show.

In finishing three strokes ahead of Fred Hawkins (276) with his bristling 32-34—66 finish through a crowd estimated at 61,000, Kroll finally won his "big one" after 18 years as a pro.

* * *

Kroll won the Tucson Open with a 265 effort and the Houston Open and was defeated by Jack Burke in the National PGA finals this year. That had given him third place in PGA money-winnings entering the World meet, for his best showing since turning pro.

Hawkins, who closed with a 67 for his 276 collected $10,000, still a lot more money than the top prize in the average tourney, was followed by Roberto de Vicenzo of Mexico City. De Vicenzo had the best closing round, 65 for a 277 and third money of $5,000.

* * *

Fourth prize went to another foreigner, Australia's Peter Thomson, winner of the past three British Opens, who folded on the last nine for a 71 and a 278 total, good for $3,000.

Anne Richardson, of Columbus, Ohio, finished with 309 to win by 10 strokes over Jackie Yates of Honolulu in the women's amateur division.

Kroll accepted the $50,000 check from Promoter May and then fled to his motel to see how his two ailing youngsters, Deborah, 3, and Donna, 1, were faring.

He had to be summoned, through a torrential downpour which hit Tam O'Shanter shortly after the tourney ended, to the press room for an interview.

Asked how he felt playing through the huge galleries streaming from the 61,000 persons scattered over Tam, Kroll replied: "I guess the crowd was with me. They cheered just about everything I did."

Walter Burkemo, who had shared the 54-hole world lead with Kroll and Thomson, wound up in a four-man tie for fifth place at 280, good for $2,050 apiece. His companions were former U.S. Open champions Ed Furgol, Jack Fleck and Pete Cooper.

Hoeft Gains 14th Win, 5-2

Tigers Trim White Sox

DETROIT (AP)— Most important 10 games remaining on the Detroit Tiger schedule are the ten they will play against the Chicago White Sox.

The Tigers took the rubber game of the weekend series in Detroit yesterday, 5-2, behind Billy Hoeft's strong 8-hitter and Frank Bolling's extra base hitting. Detroit defeated Chicago Saturday 5-1 after dropping Friday's opener.

The triumph moved the Tigers to within six games of the 4th place Pale Hose and the Detroiters now face a 16-game road trip during which they will face every American League club except Kansas City.

"Even if we hold our own against the other clubs," said shortstop-captain Harvey Kuenn, "we'll have to do a lot of damage in those 10 games with Chicago."

Detroit moves into Cleveland for night games Tuesday and Wednesday and a daylight contest Thursday before moving to Chicago for a four-game set next weekend.

Southpaw Bill Hoeft had to beat the American League's finest yesterday in the Sox' ace lefthander, Billy Pierce. The difference was that Hoeft was able to pull out of his early-inning tailspin and Pierce was bothered by control trouble that he could not shake.

Hoeft won his 14th game against nine losses. He faced nearly as many batters during the first three innings as he did over the final six.

Although 16 batters came to the plate in the first three frames, the Chisox could score only twice. They got one in the first when Larry Doby's double scored Luis Aparicio, who got a triple when his line drive dropped off centerfielder Bill Tuttle's glove.

It was Bolling's 4th home run that sewed up the contest and spiraled Pierce to his fifth loss. The little lefty has won 17—tops in the league.

Paul Foytack probably will open the Cleveland series and Early Wynn is the choice to oppose him. Foytack has beaten every club in the league at least once and is 1-1 against the Indians.

Olympic Stars Sparkle During Water Carnival

Although rain delayed the start of the Oakland Hills annual Water Carnival Saturday night at the club pool, the program was carried out completely for a most entertaining evening.

Swimming and diving stars from the recent Olympic trials in Detroit combined with club natators to provide the colorful feature.

Jack Wardrop showed the free style technique; Dick Hanley, U. of M. swimmer, demonstrated the new dolphin stroke. Record-breaker Shelley Mann of Washington, demonstrated the type of training Olympic performers go through in preparation for the big events. She also showed the butterfly and free style strokes.

Others included Jeanne Stunyo, Olympic diver who did the brilliant final dive at Detroit that won her a place on the 1956 Olympic squad, and Dougie Gray, free-styler.

A relay, with the Olympians teaming with OH swimmers, and comedy diving were other features.

Pontiac Bows in Double Bill

Clawson, Berkley Win Here Sunday, Rochester and B'ham Victors

The home town representative in the District Junior American Legion baseball loop took it on the chin twice Sunday. But the double loss didn't pull Boys' Club off the league's top spot, where they have a 7-2 mark.

First game went to Clawson 3-2 while Berkley who had lost earlier in the day to Birmingham took the nightcap, 4-2. In the last tilt a new Berkley player, Bill Arno, hit a homer with one on, in the 5th, to break a 2-2 tie and win the contest.

Birmingham dumped Berkley at Birmingham 8-1, with Dick Cloonan pitching a 3-hitter. He fanned 11 in the 7-inning game and drove in two runs with a 2nd inning double, to win his own battle.

Rochester blanked Milford 6-0, with a superlative mound job by Evans. Evans allowed only two hits, struck out 9 in his 1st game as a hurler. He was formerly an outfielder.

Set Three Records

Midwest Ski Meet Colorful Affair

Three new records were hung up, and some of the finest water skiing performances in many years, in this area, were turned in during the weekend Midwest Water Ski Assn. regional tourney at Walled Lake.

Rain interferred with the Saturday competition to the extent that some events were carried over for completion on Sunday. On the whole, however, WL Chamber of Commerce officials said, conditions were perfect for what was regarded at the biggest Midwest tournament ever held.

While the gallery was held down by weather on Saturday, the audience for the Sunday show was estimated to have reached about 2,000.

The Walled Lake C of C hopes to land the meet for 1957. An immediate bid will be made, Riley said today. "If we get it again it will have to be run off as a 3-day affair. There were too many entries this time, for a 2-day meet", he said.

New records were set by Edward Welter of Elkhard, Ind., in the junior boys' jumping, with a 63-foot effort. Former mark was 57 feet; by Janie Dorwin of Minocqua, Wis., in the women's jumping with a leap of 54 feet to wipe out the former Midwest mark of 49 feet, and by 18-year-old Tommy Tuttle of Syracuse, Ind., who sailed 94 feet for a spectacular try, that erased the former 85-foot mark.

Only one untoward incident occurred. And that was not concerned with the actual competition. Saturday, making a "dry run" for photographic purposes, Tom Dorwin, Minocqua, Wis., brother of Janie and Cassie Dorwin, fell on a ski after a jump. He was cut and bruised about the face, and ran his tourney competition all done up in adhesive tape.

Performer who stole the show was a 14-year-old from Goshen, Ind. Nancy Scheid, pretty and capable, won the girls under 17 division with firsts in trick, jumping and overall rating. Cassis Dorwin won the slalom.

Other winners:

Junior boys—David Eckrich, 15, of Syracuse, Ind. Hoosier club, 1st in trick; Ed Welter, 16, of Elkhart, 1st in jump (63 feet, new record); 1st in slalom and 1st overall, William Vesey, 17, Ft. Wayne, Ind. State Ski club.

Women—Janie Dorwin, Minocqua, Wis. 1st all the way, (set new record in jump at 54 feet).

Men—Bud Erickson of Culver, Ind., 1st slalom; Tom Eckdich of Syracuse, Ind., 1st in trick; Tom Tuttle, Syracuse, 1st in jump (new mark 94 feet), in first year in men's division. He is the former Midwest boys' champion.

Rothbarth Wins Title

By BILL CORNWELL

Ron Rothbarth, a Fisher Body employee, owns his first city golf championship today, and he owes it all to a phenomenal closing round and the ability to produce under pressure.

* * *

In one of the most dramatic tournaments in City Medal Play history, Rothbarth annexed the crown by defeating Lloyd Syron on the 2nd hole of a sudden-death playoff Sunday afternoon at Pontiac Municipal Golf Course.

Trailing the other leading contenders most of the way during the 36-hole weekend tourney, Rothbarth fired a sensational six-under-par 29 on the southside layout to eat up the deficit and deadlock the youthful Syron at 136 strokes.

Rothbarth's tremendous closing surge had all the aspects of a Frank Merriwell finish—and then some. His sizzling 29, a new city tournament record, tied Syron and forced the playoff. The 29 included six birdies, the last five in a row.

With one of the largest galleries in city tourney annals following the pair, Rothbarth parred the 212-yard 2nd hole on the north nine to win the title as Syron took a bogey four. Rothbarth had let the Notre Dame star off the hook on the 1st hole of their playoff by blowing a four-foot birdie putt.

Rothbarth, a veteran city golfer who has been a strong contender for many years but never a champion, preceded his red-hot 29 with rounds of 35-35-37. Syron carded rounds of 34-32-35-35. Rothbarth and Syron were both two under par for the regulation distance.

Only one other golfer in the 28-man field was able to successfully battle par over the tricky Municipal acreage. Mike Andonian, Pontiac High School math instructor who won the Michigan Publinx title this summer, finished 3rd with a 138, even par. Andonian posted 34-33-36-35.

Following the three-time city titleholder in a three-way tie for 4th place were Charles Barker, defending champion Ed Wasik and Butler Cooper, all with 140. The deadlocked trio staged a sudden-death playoff of their own, with Barker and Wasik shooting birdies on the 1st hole to oust Cooper, who parred.

Rothbarth, the newly-crowned titlist, and Syron, Andonian, Barker and Wasik will represent Pontiac in the Michigan Recreation Association tournament at Grosbeck in Lansing on Saturday, Sept. 8.

Festival Unsuccessful

Soviet Times Called Poor

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia made it official today. The Soviet Spartakiad sports festival is not a success, and any hopes of matching the United States in track and field in the coming Olympics can be laid to rest for another four years.

Speaking in Pravda, the Communist Party newspaper, K. A. Andrianov, second in command of Russia's vast sports program, said:

"The level of achievements scored in track and field events cannot be considered satisfactory."

Andrianov is a member of the International Olympic Committee and has been acting as chief referee of the Spartakiad, Russia's unofficial Olympic tryouts.

Also the subject of critical words from Andrianov were the Soviet swimmers and even the boxing referees.

* * *

Andrianov had a backer in chief Russian track and field coach, Gabriel Korobkov, although the latter wasn't quite so bitter. He merely opined that he was disappointed in the results here.

In his Pravda article, Andrianov recounted the main accomplishments in the big festival. They came primarily in weightlifting, a sport with 300,000 participants here.

* * *

Then after taking the runners to task, he was especially displeased with the 100 and 400-meter results, he turned his attention to the swimmers.

"They have not yielded especially good results," he thundered.

Start of City "A" Playoffs

Griffs, Buick Nines Score Wins

Griff's Grill and Oliver Buick scored opening round victories Sunday afternoon in the Class A City Baseball League playoffs. The CIO Local 594 bowed to Griff's, 3-1, at Wisner Field while the Buick club disposed of Elks No. 723 at Columbia-Joslyn, 6-1.

* * *

Singles by Hal Trott, Jim Day and Kim Conroy handed the CIO a 1-0 lead in the 1st inning, but Griff's wrapped up the decision with a 3-run outburst in the 3rd. Two errors, a walk and Ted Wharry's single, aided by pitcher Jim Wagner's balk and wild pitch, gave Griff's the necessary counters to win.

It was a heartbreaking setback for Wagner, who mowed down the opposition the balance of the contest. He struck out 12 batters and Wharry's hit was the only one he permitted. Zeke Morris, who was credited with the win, and relief pitcher Jim Jones, who took over in the 5th inning, scattered eight CIO safeties.

Oliver Buick bunched its runs in the 4th and 5th stanzas to defeat the Elks. Hits by Walt Honchell, Duane Sheffer and Jim Berg tallied two runs in the 4th and 10 batters strolled to the plate in the 5th as the Buick squad scored four times on four safe blows.

The Class A playoffs continue tonight with two games. Griffs face Oliver at Wisner and the CIO battles the Elks at Columbia-Joslyn south. Both tilts start at 5:30 p.m.

Clarkston Gains 10th Win

All of the scoring was recorded in the 1st inning Sunday afternoon when Clarkston defeated Montrose, 6-4, in a Tri-County League baseball game at Montrose. It was the 10th victory in 15 starts for the runner-up Clarkston team.

Wildness aided Clarkston as two runners were forced home by walks before pitcher Joe LePard cleared the bases with a double to boost his own cause. Pete Thompson made three hits in four times at bat for the winners.

Clarkston meets league-leading Gaines Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at Durand in the opening round of the Tri-County playoffs. New Lothrop will host Clarkston Sunday afternoon for a 2 o'clock encounter.

Nashua Forced Out by Colic

Famous Horse Suffers Stomach Attack Before Atlantic City Race

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Nashua, the millionaire horse, was scheduled to leave here for Saratoga Springs, N.Y., today with his future plans somewhat unsettled as the result of a stomach ache which forced his withdrawal from last Saturday's $100,000 Atlantic City Handicap.

* * *

Leslie Combs II, who headed a syndicate which paid $1,250,000 for Nashua last fall, said the 4-year-old cold would skip the $40,000 Whitney Stakes at Saratoga next Saturday.

And "we'll await the weights for the Saratoga Handicap," he added. The $50,000 handicap will be raced Aug. 25.

Nashua apparently has fully recovered from the sudden case of colic but he was due for another examination today before being placed aboard a van for the trip to Saratoga.

* * *

Meantime, Dr. George Palmer Jr., one of the two veterinarians called to Nashua's barn when groom Alf Robertson found the colt in severe pain about two hours before Saturday's rich race, has lessened the amount of food to be given the big colt.

All of Nashua's food in trips is brought along from New York and he drinks only mineral water from Arkansas. It was thought the illness may have been caused by the heat.

Luedee Meets Troy in 10-Round Fight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Monday show from St. Nicholas Arena in New York has the airways all to itself this week with the Wednesday and Friday fights shut down because of conflict with the political convention at Chicago.

Jerry Luedee of New Haven and Willie Troy of Washington, D.C., are rematched in a 10-round middleweight battle to be seen on TV, DuMont, in some sections of the country. Troy beat Luedee on a split decision, July 10.

MATTER OF OPINION — It's apparent that Duke Snider of the Brooklyn Dodgers and home plate umpire Augie Donatelli don't see eye to eye in this discussion in yesterday's game with Philadelphia at Ebbets Field. Snider had just struck out and argued that he broke his swing. Shortstop Pee Wee Reese and catcher Dixie Howell join the dispute. Dodgers won, 7-3.

NY Racing Boss Asked to Resign by Assemblyman

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y. (AP)—State Assemblyman Wilson C. Van Duzer, Orange County Republican, has written a letter to State Harness Racing Commissioner George P. Monaghan telling him he should resign.

* * *

There was no immediate public comment by Monaghan, former New York City police commissioner who was appointed the one-man harness racing commissioner by former Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Van Duzer who made the letter public yesterday, said he had sent copies to Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman and Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits, a Republican.

Aims for 72 Homers

Minor Leaguer Hits 56th

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Ken Guettler, stocky outfielder of the Shreveport Sports who plays Class AA baseball despite a shortened right arm that handicaps him on defense, hit his 56th home run yesterday to better one of the oldest records in the Texas League.

Now he's aiming at the all-time record for organized ball, the 72 homers Joe Batman clouted at Roswell in the Longhorn League in 1954. And he has 30 games in which to get the necessary 17.

* * *

It was quite an occasion when the bespectacled Guettler looped a 1-1 pitch from the arm of Houston's Billy Muffett over the left-field fence. It smashed the record set in 1924 by Clarence (Big Boy) Kraft at Fort Worth. It also brought his season total in runs batted in to 131, his runs to 101, his hits to 121 and his batting average to .304.

* * *

Guettler is having his greatest year after knocking around in minor league ball no higher than Class A for 11 seasons. He came to Shreveport for nothing. Guettler managed Portsmouth, Va., in the now defunct Piedmont League last year, piloting his team to fourth and losing in the playoff finals. Because he was the manager, he became a free agent. So he caught on here.

* * *

Shreveport is happy he did. He's the bright spot in a somewhat drab season for the Sports, struggling down in the Texas League second division. And he should bring the club a nice sum although even Guettler himself doubts that he can get to the big leagues because of the crooked arm that hinders his throwing. But he might go to Class AAA. The arm was injured in a childhood hockey game in his native Bay City, Mich.

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—The All-Army golf and tennis tournaments start here today, with open and senior divisions for men, and an open division for women.

The 150 entrants are from the six Army areas in the United States, as well as from commands in Europe, the Far East, the Pacific and the Caribbean.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mexico City trimmed the San Francisco All-Stars today 6-4 to win the Pan-American Polo Tournament.

Title Game Tonight

Elks Enters Softball Finals

Elks No. 810 moved into the finals of the men's American League softball playoffs with a 6-2 decision over Bicmar Inn last night at Beaudette Park.

* * *

The Elks will clash with Royal Bar tonight on the Beaudette diamond at 7 o'clock to determine the city's Class B champion. The winner will enter the B district tournament here Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Pete Mihay twirled a masterful 2-hitter Sunday night to eliminate Bicmar. Rival pitcher Hank Dudzinski's single scored one of Bicmar's two unearned runs in the 5th inning and Ray White made the other safety, a 1st stanza single.

A 4-run uprising in the 4th inning iced the decision for the Elks. Bill Almas, Dick Allen, Yarbrough and Ralph Alee each hit safely. Back-to-back triples by Almas and Russ Hester registered two more runs in the 6th stanza.

* * *

Once-Beaten in the double elimination playoff, the Elks must whip Royal twice tonight to win the Class B title. If a 2nd game is necessary, it will be played at 8:30.

Thrilling Race for Hardtops

In one of the most thrilling modified hardtop finishes of the season, Chuck Partello nosed out three other drivers to win the 25-lap feature race Sunday night at Pontiac Speedway.

It was virtually a dead-heat windup as Partello streaked across the finish line. Barely trailing him were Rusty Kelly in 2nd place, Dick Price in 3rd spot, and Benny Howell in 4th position.

Rocky Armstrong captured the 15-lap semifinal, with Don Graham taking 2nd and Cluster Davis 3rd. Partello gained another honor by winning the four-car dash and Kelly grabbed the pursuit race in addition to posting the best qualifying time. Heat winners were Randy Jones, Chuck Allen, Partello, Price and Armstrong.

Hardtops and old models will run Wednesday night in a double-header program on the M59 track. Time trials begin at 7 o'clock, with the 1st race at 8:30.

Frisch Not Yet Off Hospital's Critical List

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. (INS)—Baseball great Frankie Frisch, though still on the critical list, was reported today to be in "satisfactory" condition following the heart attack that felled him last week.

* * *

Frisch, a member of baseball's Hall of Fame, was stricken last Thursday after completing a television show from the Polo Grounds, scene of some of his greatest triumphs.

He was removed to New Rochelle Hospital, where officials said he was resting comfortably today.

Richardson Takes Eastern Grass Court Net Tourney

* * *

Richardson a Rhodes Scholar from Westfield, N. J., was seeded second behind Australian Davis Cupper Ken Rosewall, but the tourney ratings were made before the young American's latest triumph.

Richardson won the Eastern Grass Court championship yesterday by overwhelming Neale Fraser of Australia, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2, for his fourth straight victory over the Aussie tourists.

Before his straight-set triumph over Fraser, Richardson defeated Aussies Roy Emerson, Rosewall and Ashley Cooper. It was Richardson's first Eastern grass court title.

Richardson's victories in the Eastern Grass Court competition at South Orange, N. J., bolstered America's hopes in his upcoming interzone final with Italy and the anticipated Challenge Round against the Aussies in Australia in December.

* * *

Later, Ham and Vic Seixas, veteran member of the U. S. Davis Cup team, teamed in the doubles, but lost to Fraser and Rosewall. The Aussies were hard-pressed before gaining a 6-4, 8-6, 3-6, 4-6, 6-4 victory.

Detroiter Wins Handicap Event for Publinxers

Carding a 67 over Sunnybrook's rolling layout Sunday, Detroiter Bill Montgomery took down the top place in the annual Michigan Public Links golf association handicap tourney. Montgomery had a six stroke handicap to give him a net 61, three under Dick Preston, who had 67-3—64.

Flaherty Finds Mayo Is His Lucky Star

SAUGUS, Calif. (AP)—Actress Virginia Mayo's presence added glamour and possibly a bit of Irish luck for Pat Flaherty at yesterday's stock car race at Saugus Stadium.

Flaherty won the 200-lap event in a 1956 Chevrolet, then collected a kiss from the screen beauty, a duplicate of one he received from her after his victory at Indianapolis this year. Afterwards he quipped:

"I ought to pay her way to all my races, I've won both times she's been around."

6-Run Blast Produces Victory for Drug Nine

A six-run explosion in the 4th inning enabled Drayton Drug to defeat Associates Discount, 8-5, in the 1st round of the Waterford Junior League softball playoffs last night at Drayton Plains.

* * *

Gary Mellema and Willie Wilton each delivered a triple in the husky stanza. Drayton and Associates will resume their 2-out-of-3 payoff Wednesday night.

Detroit Boat Winner

Lions' Line Shows Well

YPSILANTI (AP) — Little wonder that coach Buddy Parker has that gleam in his eye when he looks at his Detroit Lions line bumping heads on the practice field.

Take a look at the center of his line:

* * *

In the middle stands Charley Ane, who has sparkled both on offense and defense at center. His blocking is especially good in the secondary where it counts.

* * *

New in the lineup this year is rookie Gene Cronin, who has been playing next to Miller and Krouse. At 220 pounds, the 6-foot-2 tackler is expected to pressure passers on defense with his speed.

* * *

Yanks Increase AL Margin

Nats Hurt Red Sox Drive

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the Boston Red Sox fail in their drive to overtake the American League leading New York Yankees, as it now seems likely, they can blame it on the Washington Senators.

* * *

The lowly Nats, waging a season-long struggle to stay out of the cellar, have been plain poison to the Red Sox. On the other hand, the team from the Capital City has been little more than a doormat for the Yankees.

Washington has won nine games in 13 meetings with Boston, the best record of any team against the Red Sox. In sharp contrast, the Nats have won but two of 16 engagements with the Yankees. There is one reason why the Yankees today were in first place, 10 games in front of the third place Red Sox.

* * *

While New York was increasing its margin over runner-up Cleveland to 8½ games yesterday by sweeping a doubleheader from Baltimore, 6-2 and 4-2, Washington was whipping the Red Sox 8-2. The Indians widened their lead over Boston to a game and a half by defeating Kansas City 6-3. In the remaining American League game Detroit thrashed Chicago 5-2.

* * *

Milwaukee maintained its game and a half bulge on Brooklyn by overpowering Cincinnati 8-2 as the Dodgers were beating Robin Roberts and Philadelphia 7-3. The defeat dropped the third-place Redlegs three games behind the Braves.

Pittsburgh whipped the Giants 3-2 and 11-3 while Chicago played a scoreless nine-inning tie with St. Louis after defeating the Cardinals 6-2 in the first game of the doubleheader. Darkness halted the second game.

Outfielders Jim Lemon and Roy Sievers, who have been hitting practically everything Boston pitchers have thrown at them this year, were the offensive stars again as Washington knocked starter Willard Nixon out of the box in the first inning.

* * *

Lemon blasted his fourth home run in the three-game series with Boston and drove in two runs. His batting average against the Red Sox in the 14 games is .373 with 4 homers and 11 runs batted in. Sievers collected three singles and drove in a run. He has a whopping .489 mark in the 14 games with Boston, including five home runs and 17 RBIs.

* * *

The Yankees' one-two punch of Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra did it again. Mantle smashed his 41st home run and drove in three runs in the opener as Don Larsen went the route for his seventh victory. Berra's two-run triple proved the difference in the second game. Mantle is now 13 games ahead of the 1927 pace of Babe Ruth when he set his record or 60 homers.

* * *

Herb Score struck out 14 batters and his Cleveland mates supported him with three home runs to enable him to post his 12th victory. Bobby Avila, Rocky Volavito and Al Smith homered as the Indians swept the three-game series from the Athletics.

NFL Exhibition Season Starts

Five Games Scheduled for Next Weekend in Pro League

The National Football League exhibition schedule gets up a full head of steam this weekend with five games listed.

* * *

The top clash probably will be between the champion Cleveland Browns, who already have had one outing, and the San Francisco 49ers Sunday in San Francisco.

The Browns, who stampeded the College All-Stars in their first start of the season last week, will be favored. They appear further advanced in their training than other NFL teams.

* * *

Other action puts Detroit against Pittsburgh at Toledo and Los Angeles against Washington in Los Angeles, both on Friday; the Chicago Cardinals against the Chicago Bears at Jacksonville, Fla., and the Philadelphia against the Green Bay at Milwaukee, both on Saturday.

* * *

Baltimore and Los Angeles made auspicious debuts last Saturday night. The Colts, with George Shaw tossing two touchdown passes, whipped Philadelphia 24-13 and the Rams rode over Fort Ord 62-7.

Hugh Devore made his debut as Eagles' coach and found his team couldn't hold onto a 13-10 halftime lead. The Colts struck for 14 points in the last period to sew it up.

Maryland Cyclist Wins 25-Mile National Title

* * *

Fuller collected 46 points in eight sprints for first place in the best all-around rider competition. Dave Walker of Windsor, Ont., was second with 35 points. Dick Cortright of Buffalo, N.Y., was third with 31.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Putts aren't dropping

TREATMENT: Putting comes as close to being an exact science as any part of golf, despite different techniques employed by various players.

It's the putt that pays off, as any tournament golfer well knows, and nowhere else on the course are practice, concentration and form more important than on the green.

Grip and hand action are the key to accurate putting. May I advise that you grip the club so that both thumbs point down the shaft. The grip should be firm, but not tight. That's because putting is pretty much a sense of touch, combined with a smooth, grooved swing of the clubhead.

As the sketch shows, I use the reverse overlap grip, with the index finger of the left hand overlapping the third and little fingers of the right hand. Make sure the back of the left hand is toward the hole throughout the stroke so that

The blade, as you see in the sketch, is kept in line by not breaking the wrists, although some prefer to break the wrists. Practice will show you which gets the best results. Train yourself to think positively believe that even the longest putts are likely to find the cup, and more of them will.

Hammermen Meet in Special Event

PEMBROKE, Mass. (AP) — The three members of the U.S. Olympic hammer throwing squad participated in a special competition sanctioned by the AAU yesterday —but things went wrong.

Cliff Blair, former Boston University star now representing the New York AC, got off a heave of 204 feet, 6 inches—then learned his hammer was a half-pound under the regulation 16 pounds.

Roadwork Foretells Tree-Lined Drive

By REBA REINTZLEMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD — As workmen put the final touches to the newly blacktopped Wixom road, residents are making plans to beautify the seven-mile stretch of road connecting the towns of Milford and Wixom.

For more than five years people living on the road have literally "fought" to get the controversial road blacktopped. Heavy week-end traffic to and from Kensington Park, Proud Lake Recreation Area and Camp Dearborn more than tripled, as heavy clouds of dust rolled into homes in the area.

With the organizing of the Wixom Road Improvement Assn. in 1952, delegations were sent to Lansing; meetings were held with the Oakland County Road Commission and finally in 1955 orders for blacktopping three and a half miles of the road was authorized by the commission.

A new, $60,000 bridge has been constructed across the Huron River at the Proud Lake Recreation area and with completion of the road this week, total cost of the project is $193,455.91, according to Commissioner Lee Brooks, $24,427 was Federal Aid, and the balance came from the Road Commission funds, he said.

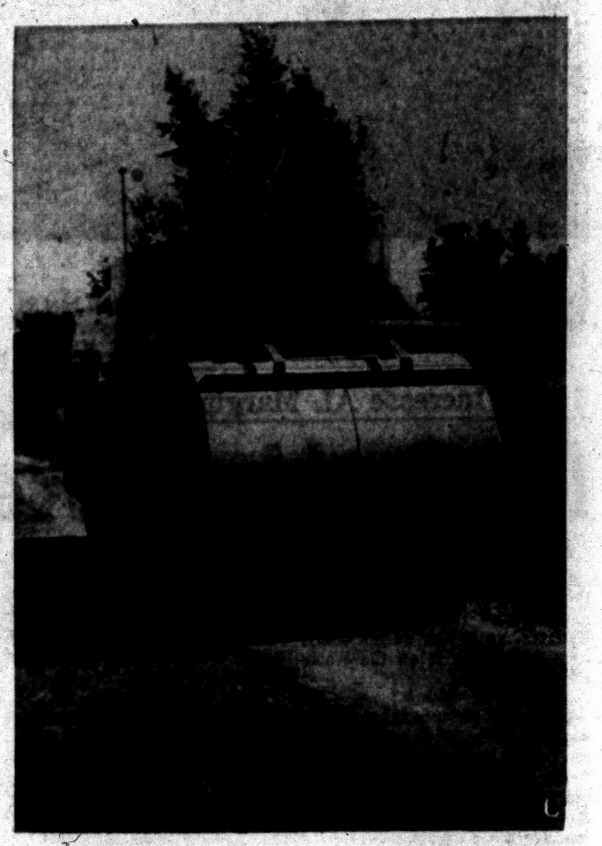

It was necessary for workmen to remove some 400 century-old trees for widening of the road, and it is these trees that residents plan to replace.

People living along the Wixom road plan to order the Michigan State Tree, the white pine for re-forestration and wind-breaks, as soon as orders are taken at Lansing, for fall planting.

Al Masini, Proud Lake Recreation manager stated that the Conservation Department will cooperate fully in planting-instructions, and will supervise the installation of the trees.

Arthur Burklund, Elementary Supervisor has indicated that sixth grade students of the Huron Valley school system will help plant trees as part of their Science and Conservation study.

"The Wixom road is the only gravel road in the county to have been blacktopped within the last five years," Lee Brooks said. "Many concrete roads have been re-surfaced, however," he added.

ROAD TO BE BEAUTIFUL—Heavy rollers smooth down Wixom road, as part of the extensive project, which is going to include beautiful shade trees along the street's length. New blacktopping and widening required taking out many older trees, and community groups are working towards their replacement, along with others.

Still No Trial Jury in Brink's Robbery

BOSTON (AP)—The Brink's trial moved into its second week today with an empty jury box and little hope that the jury will be selected shortly.

Counsel for the eight men charged with the $1,218,211 robbery of Brink's headquarters on Jan. 17th, 1950, still have 162 of their original 262 premptory challenges.

Chief defense counsel Paul T. Smith has indicated he will continue to challenge jurors as long as his premptroy (without cause) challenges hold out.

He has maintained that the eight men charged with the nation's largest cash robbery cannot get a fair trial because of the wide publication given a statement by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover that the case was "solved" with the arrest of six of the defendants last January.

Board Determines Need for Sewage Processing in Friday Confab

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—The Board of Determination, meeting at Beverly and Pierce roads to study the Acacia Park Drain, has decided that some mechanical means of processing sewage is necessary.

Some form of disposal plant, filtration beds or other mechanical method should be used, before the drain waters enter the Rouge, the members voted. They were Floyd Andrews, Lloyd Anderson, and James L. Gardner.

The city of Birminsham recently took a stand against such a treatment plant, resolving that the drain commissioner should intensify efforts to construct the Evergreen interceptor rather than construct small sewage treatment plants along the Rouge Valley.

The Acacia drain has earlier been found by the Michigan State Health Department to be polluted.

A petition on July 28 asked an abatement of the menace to public health resulting from improperly purified sewage carried by a discharge from the Acacia Park Drain.

Will Open for Business Wednesday

Detroit Edison to Dedicate District Office Building

The Detroit Edison Co. will signal the completion of its new combined Oakland District headquarters and customer office in dedication ceremonies tomorrow night.

The 5,400 square-foot one-story structure, located at the corner of Huron and Pine streets in Pontiac, will be open for business Wednesday, according to District Manager Howard L. Canfield.

The building's outstanding feature, Canfield points out, is a heating-cooling apparatus consisting of five pumps which require no combustion but use the principle of electric refrigeration.

In cold weather heat is circulated over the unit's outside coil, absorbed by a refrigerant and passed through the unit. The heat is then released to the interior of the building by a second coil.

The building's designers have made extensive use of glass and aluminum on the front part of the structure. Interior features are highlighted by modern office furniture and fixtures, specially-designed lighting and decorative photomurals.

Detroit Edison currently serves more than 577,000 customers in the Oakland District, according to Canfield who also noted that the offices in the new building are expected to serve 850,000 area consumers by 1970.

Pontiac Press Photo

NO SWELTERING HERE — Among the building's main features is this compact heating-cooling unit which keeps temperatures even the year around without the help of combustion. Looking over the apparatus is Jack Zeunen (left), local office manager, and George Hesketh, Pontiac representative. Heat is either absorbed or expelled by the unit, depending on the temperatures outside.

CENTER OF ACTIVITY — Detroit Edison Co. staff-members gather around the counter over which Oakland District customers will transact their business after the firm's new office building is opened Wednesday. Extensive use of photomurals is made throughout the 5,400 square-foot structure.

4-H Attendance Set at 60,000, Below Prediction

Attendance was estimated at 60,000 for last week's five-day 4-H Fair, said Fair Manager John Trocke, this morning.

This falls short of the 100,000 expected attendance, Trocke said, but last week's continual rain dampened a few of the less hardy spirits. Last year's attendance reached the 80,000 mark.

Reserve champion in the halter class was Janet Porath of Northville who placed the same a year ago.

MSU Chiefs Accept Half Million in Grants

EAST LANSING (AP) — Gifts and grants totalling $573,763 were accepted for Michigan State University Friday by the State Board of Agriculture, MSU governing body.

A major gift was $125,587 from the National Institute of Health of the U.S. Public Health Service for a five-year study of hospital-community relations.

A scholarship in the college of engineering will be established through a fund made available by Mrs. Ellen E. Fox, widow of the late William R. Brown of Chicago. Brown, a manufacturer, was a 1903 engineering graduate of MSU.

The Board was told half the income from investments of $182,000 will be available for $600 engineering scholarships to be awarded on the basis of ability and need.

There is $22,500 available for the purpose, the Board was told.

Grain Demand Up on Market

CHICAGO (AP) — Demand for all grains except wheat became quite excessive on the Board of Trade today, forcing prices fractionally to around two cents higher.

* * *

Buying followed issuance of the agriculture department's Aug. 1 crop report after the market closed last Friday. Wheat tended to lag because of profit taking, plus the fact the department's wheat forecast was a little higher than a month earlier.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ lower to one cent higher, September $2.19⅜; corn ⅜ to 1½ higher, September $1.48⅜; oats ¼ to ⅜ higher, September 74¼; rye 1½ to 1¾ higher, September $1.39¼; soybeans one to 1¾ higher, September $2.45¾; and lard 17 to 35 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $12.10.

'Russian Flier' Held for Murder

Gives Robbery Motive for Shooting Soldier, Kidnaping Woman

HADDAM, Conn. (INS) — The sham "Russian Flier" who shot an Army sergeant and kidnapped his wife Friday night was held today for a self-confessed lovers-lane murder last month.

* * *

Everett Tom Cooley, 24, told police last night that he shot John H. Davis, 22, in Durham July 28. He implicated his brother, Milton Leroy Cooley, 29, whom he claimed drove the murder-car in an attempted robbery.

Both men have been charged with murder. They are being held without bail at Haddam Jail.

Davis was parked in a gravel pit with Carol Brookes, 19, who was wounded in the arm.

* * *

Cooley, garbed in a fake Nazi uniform, was captured Saturday afternoon after forcing Mrs. Grace Drepperd, 29, on an all night trek through the woods surrounding her Northford home.

Cooley shot her husband, Albert, 26, prior to the kidnapping. He has recovered from a bullet wound in the face. Their 19-month-old son was uninjured.

Police said Cooley gave robbery as the motive in both crimes but at arraignment in Durham last night, the frail, intensely nervous man said:

"All that I want to say, I don't know why I done it. I don't remember doing it. Then after I done it, I remember. It all sounds crazy or silly."

Caution Prevails on Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Caution prevailed and trading was quiet as the stock market dipped slightly early today.

Fractional losses peppered the list of leading stocks but there were occasional wide movements in special situations.

Among the latter was Gulf Oil which broke by 3⅜ to 129 on an opening block of 5,000 shares but quickly regained almost two points of the loss. Royal Dutch was ahead more than a point.

* * *

Both of these stocks were heavy losers in Friday's decline as uncertainty about the Suez Canal crisis continued. Today's flurry of news about the troubled Middle East where they have huge oil resources seemed to react in contradictory fashion upon them.

Motors were unchanged to higher while leading rails showed a slight upward tilt. Coppers were generally higher as Anaconda and Kennecott gained major fractions.

Among other opening blocks were General Dynamics off ⅜ at 73¾ on 1,000 shares, Dow Chemical off ¾ at 70¼ on 1,000, Standard Oil (New Jersey) off ¾ at 57¾ on 2,700 and United Aircraft up ½ at 82 on 1,000.

U. S. Steel, Republic Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube lost fractions.

* * *

Sears Roebuck, Caterpillar, Boeing, Westinghouse, American Tobacco, Allied Chemical, Texas Co. and Eastern Airlines were other losers.

On Friday the stock market declined as International Oils again took losses. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off $1.00 at $189.50.

In the American Stock Exchange prices were mixed. Gainers included Mesabi Iron, Molybdenum and Creole Petroleum. Among losers were Pacific Petroleum, New Jersey Zinc and Fairchild Camera.

Corporate bonds were mixed.

Gimmicks Litter Campaign Trail

CHICAGO (INS) — Democrats are opening the campaign with everything from cookie cutters to do-it-yourself donkey doily kits.

* * *

* * *

In handing over a tiny pink plastic donkey, she invited "a peek through its eye." The reported did and saw a house. The committee worker said, "That's the home of Joan of Arc—no political significance; it will be replaced with candidates' pictures."

The donkey remained in true form in cookie and sandwich cutters; in prints on table cloths and dish towels, in toys and novelty soaps and in earrings, cuff links and other jewelry.

But the party mascot went askew in the paper weight category—and the aide was the first to admit it. Handling one, she said "It looks more like a cow." Picking up another, she said, "This one looks like a reindeer." Defensively, she mumbled, "They are handcarved and come from Mexico. The Republicans get Indian elephants and we get Mexican donkeys."

The donkey doily kit has fabric in which donkey shapes are outlined, embroidered or trimmed with sequins, and then cut out to dress up a table or to be glued to a waste basket.

The committee worker showed off a "mutinous mule" ashtray of chrome with two braying donkeys back-to-back in the middle. You put put cigarettes in the donkey mouths. (Confidentially, she added, Republicans will have something similar featuring an "elfin elephant."

Then she modeled an apron—designed to hold kitchen tools or clothes pins, she said. They are taken from a design worn by girls who make change in Las Vegas gambling casinos.

Women can have felt potholders in the shape of donkey heads which can double as hand puppets to entertain the kiddies. To amuse papa and bemuse mama, the same felt and donkey shape is available in covers for bottles of hard likker.

Besides charm bracelets, earrings and other jewelry, there is a "party line" compact—it has a telephone dial with the letters S-T-E-V-E-N-S-O-N spelled out, but the committee worker quickly stressed that the letters can be changed to H-A-R-R-I-M-A-N—depending on the convention's choice of a presidential candidate next week.

For men, there are suspenders with "Vote Democratic" printed in big letters; party-slogan socks and T-shirts with either a big portrait of Stevenson or the donkey party mascot.

All items—and they include all-day suckers and even donkey-shaped toothpick holders—are aimed at convicing the public "to stick with Democrats." That last phrase, incidentally, comes on a sticky party prop—adhesive cellophane tape.

Sea Adventurers Enjoy Cruise, Hate Sailoring

DETROIT (AP)—Tommy Oleski and George Winegar, a couple of 11-year-old sea adventurers, don't care much for that first class cabin stuff. They wanted to sail stowaway class.

And they did until someone spotted their bare feet and dirty clothes aboard the SS South American about an hour out of Lake Erie steaming for Buffalo Friday on a weekend cruise.

Cruise director Harold Steager said, "We spotted them because they had no shoes and were in dirty clothes."

Then things happened. The boys were given free staterooms, passage and meals by the shipping line, which would have cost $43.45. Then Steager drove them to Niagara Falls when the boat reached Buffalo.

Two passengers — Mrs. Frank Wyman of Pearl River, N. Y., and Mrs. Martha Wilt of Nassau, N. Y. — gave money for new clothes.

When Tommy and George landed back in Detroit yesterday they were confronted by newsmen, who asked questions. One was: "Would you like to become sailors?"

"No!" Tommy shouted.

Why?

"Too boring," said Tommy.

College-Minded Kids Beat Dad at School

CLEMSON, S. C. (AP) — G. C. (Cleve) Gibson attended school for three weeks. His six children have 24 years of college.

Joe Gibson Saturday became the fifth son of the Greenville family to earn a Clemson College degree.

Harold was graduated in 1939; Frank in 1942; Ray, in 1949, and Carroll in 1953. A daughter was graduated from Winthrop College at Rock Hill, S. C.

Aim New Complaint at Detroit Hospital

DETROIT (INS) — The Detroit Times said today a Grosse Pointe insurance executive plans to make a formal complaint against Children's Hospital to City Health Commissioner Dr. Joseph G. Molner.

The hospital has been under fire since Mrs. Caroline McAbee, 27, said doctors and nurses at the institution neglected her dying 15-month-old son, Jimmie, Wednesday night.

The Times said the Grosse Pointer's complaint will tell of an alleged "runaround" he received last February when he took his critically ill four-year-old daughter to the hospital.

Woman Injures Head in 2-Car Collision

Margaret H. Tanner, 41, of 1777 Sheffield Rd., was treated for scalp cuts at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Saturday after a two-car accident in Waterford Township.

She was riding in a car driven by her husband, Charles F., 52. The other car was driven by William M. Szomaya, 47, of 2098 Paulsen Circle, Waterford Township.

Township police said a mixup in a turn signal caused the accident. The Tanner car went into a ditch and struck a tree.

GOP Leaders Arrive on Coast

To Arrange the Program for Convention Start There Next Week

By ALVIN SPIVAK

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Top-ranking Republican party officials arrived at San Francisco today to set up shop for committee meetings on platform, credentials, rules and arrangements.

* * *

But like just about everyone else, Republican chieftains kept watch on the big show the Democrats were staging at Chicago—if only to look for hints of what and what not to do.

The GOP high command was not exactly unhappy over the widened Democratic split occasioned by ex-President Harry S. Truman's endorsement of Averell Harriman for the presidential nomination.

Republican Chairman Leonard W. Hall said:

"Regardless of what happens in Chicago, President Eisenhower will be returned to office by an overwhelming vote of confidence by the American people."

PERISH THE THOUGHT

Hall and his lieutenants said some other things, too, but they had no thoughts of trying to steal page one play away from the Democrats. This week, that is.

The platform-writing Resolutions Committee headed by Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn) will begin public hearings Wednesday, and continue the sessions for two or three days.

Tuesday, there will be meetings of the committees on arrangements, contests and rules. Wednesday, the GOP National Committee will hold its first pre-convention session. Friday, the fund-raising Finance Committee gets together.

* * *

Saturday, Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts is scheduled to arrive with at least a rough draft of his nominating speech for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Herter is former Foreign Aid Chief Harold E. Stassen's choice to unseat Nixon, but Republican notables stepping down the ramp from their airplanes persisted in refusing to take Stassen seriously. Stassen will arrive later in the week.

Talk for the presidency, there wasn't a Republican in town who wasn't saying that Dwight D. Eisenhower would be the GOP nominee. That seemed to be the least controversial question at the moment.

Dow Shows Off Zefran —Latest in Synthetics

NEW YORK (AP)—Dow Chemical Co. has announced development of a new synthetic fiber called "Zefran." It can be dyed with ease and economy in the wide color range of cotton or rayon.

Dow directors have approved immediate construction of a plant to make the fiber on a 600-acre site near Lee Hall, Va., on the James River.

Dr. Leland X. Doan, Dow president, said the new fiber has unusual wear qualities, resistance to rot and chemicals, freedom from serious fuzzing and little or no tendency to shrink, even when washed in very hot water.

New York Boy Wins Soap Box Derby

Norman Westfall, 14-year-old Gates High School sophomore who likes to paint neighbors' automobiles and tinker with hot rods, triumphed yesterday afternoon over a field of 155 at Derby Downs before a record crowd of 65,000.

Watching him roll his lavender-colored racer down the 975.4-foot slope in 27.41 seconds in the championship heat was Richard Rohrer, of Rochester, winner last year. Rohrer, who had beaten Westfall in three previous local soap box derby races in Rochester, said:

For his victory, Westfall earned a $5,000 scholarship which he said he would use to study engineering at the University of Rochester. His father, Robert W., is an Eastman Kodak Co. engineer.

News in Brief

Pontiac firemen were called to extinguish a fire in an apartment at 297 Howard McNeil St., Sunday afternoon. Total damages were estimated at $50. The apartment is occupied by the Joseph Gonzales family. The fire apparently was caused by children playing with matches, investigators said.

A purse containing $42 in cash and personal papers was taken from a table in a home at 223 Whittemore St., sometime Saturday night, Pontiac police learned today. The purse is owned by Elizabeth Schuler, of 2174 Avondale Ave., Sylvan Lake.

Over 1200 pounds of copper tubing valued at $80 was taken from a plumbing storage yard in West Bloomfield Township sometime between Saturday night and Sunday morning, the Oakland County Sheriff's Department said today.

20 French Dead in Rebel Ambush

40 More Unaccounted for as Nationalists Open Attacks Near Algiers

ALGIERS (AP)—Twenty French soldiers were slain and another 40 disappeared or were wounded yesterday in the fourth major nationalist rebel ambush in the same area within six days.

* * *

The attacks, in which 47 troops have been killed and several times that number wounded or captured, have all occurred in a small area within about 40 miles of this capital city.

They coincided with a new series of individual rebel attacks in Algiers itself, where at least 22 persons were injured over the weekend.

* * *

The ambush yesterday occurred on the Beni Slimane Plain, about 40 miles south of Algiers.

Westward, unrest was evident in Rabat, Morocco. Some 300 unemployed workmen massed around the municipal employment office demanding jobs.

* * *

Court Orders Plan to Halt Pollution

LATHRUP VILLAGE—This community has been given until Aug. 31 to produce a workable solution to its pollution problem by Judge H. Russel Holland of Oakland County Circuit Court.

Administrator Leonard A. Watchowski said later, a meeting of consulting engineers and financial advisers will be held almost immediately.

Within a week there will be a meeting on it with the State Health Department, Water Resources Commission and the county drain commissioner, he predicts.

Button Dolls Having a Time of Their Lives

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

CHICAGO (INS) — Maybe it's just woman's natural suspicion of other woman, but I don't trust the dolls in the funny hats who sell "Adlai," "Ave" and "Estes" buttons.

* * *

If I were Adlai, Ave and Estes, I wouldn't trust them either.

There must be 500 of them, mostly pert and possessed of the kick of the donkey when the mood is upon them, mushing around the convention grounds stirring up support for their boys. Obviously they are having the time of their 16-to-23-year-old lives, and providing sugar and spice for the glassy eye of TV—but are their hearts really in their work?

"Well, I have never exactly met Stevenson," admitted a blonde in a straw hat who had just attempted to puncture us with the blood-drawing end of a "Win With Adlai" button on Michigan Avenue. "But I do admire his intelligence. He's cool. My dad knows him and he says he's cool, too."

This was an honest answer, at the time, but less than an hour later the same little lady was observed racing warmly after Averell Harriman as the handsome gent snailed his way down a hotel corridor from one conference to the next.

"Gee," she remarked, swooning enthusiastically against the shoulder of a girl frined, "How about that?"

Probably because of her father, this college freshman from Illinois is still peddling Stevenson buttons, but her heart is maneuvering toward the opposition, causing her button-peddling to slip into low gear. Last we saw her was at 10 p.m.

She was reclining on a hotel lobby lounge chair, mulling over her aching feet, life and possibly love with an "Honest Ave" type.

The Harriman harem is as upset as the Stevenson group. They are constantly being pulled aside by overpowerirg salesmen — young college boys — who impress upon them, over quick cigarettes, the need for Democratic party solidarity. And when a man of 22 meets a girl of 20 with a pitch that is ageless, politics become hazy.

The Kefauver girls in the coonskin millinery — they have two strikes against their pledge to remain utterly loyal. It's so hot they must dismantle their heads frequently, thus deploying the Estes strength. And Senator Kennedy, one of Kefauver's chief threats for the V.P. nomination, is so shaggily good-looking that the collective female loyalties are shaken.

* * *

It's just that they're young and susceptible and subject to ficklicity (which is, of course, that eternally womanly combination of fickleness and duplicity).

One who was better, God never made.
A wonderful worker, so loyal and true,
One in a million, that husband was you.
Just in your judgment, always right,
Honest and liberal ever upright.
Loved by your friends, and all who you knew,
A wonderful husband, that husband was you.
Loved and sadly missed by Mrs. Henry Gallardo.

Dial Twisters Enjoy Evenings

Club Members Pick Up Stations All Over U. S., Canada, Cuba, Mexico

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Should you readers wonder at the name of "The American Ionospheric Propagation Society," let's hasten to explain it's a brand new one on us, but that impressive title means simply a group of TV fans who have made a hobby and a study of long-distance TV reception.

In the old radio days they were called "DX'ers."

We heard about the AIPA after we wrote about receiving stations WTVJ, Miami, Fla., and KFEQ-TV, St. Joseph, Mo., while dialing around on a perfectly normal TV set at Hyannis, Cape Cod, Mass.

The reason we lured in such distant TV signals was a combination of atmospheric conditions—warm air meeting cold air and thus making the meteorological equivalent of a pool table cushion with the signals "banked" off this atmospheric wall along a trajectory permitting far more distant reception than the customary limitations of the horizon; and the fact that we used a motorized directional antenna with a "high gain."

On certain evenings when the atmosphere was right and the shows on the dull side, it was fun thus to doodle about the country luring in all sorts of unlikely stations. One man wrote us that he'd had the shock of his life in the dead of a winter afternoon in New England, to suddenly see appear on his set the unmistakable scene of a baseball game in progress, with spectators in the stands in shirtsleeves.

Before he could be convinced his TV set had total recall, he discovered it was a Cuban station flung his way on the wings of a friendly atmosphere.

In any event, Kingdon P. Schafer, of 360 Zimmerman Blvd., Kenmore, N. Y. (near Buffalo), wrote us about his AIPA organization, which has some 200 members in Canada, Mexico and the U. S. He described something called the "E-skip," and said it can be accomplished on anyone's set "as these types of signals sometimes are stronger than local outlets. "Bursts," he said, lasting from one second to 19, ground wave tricks and such, "require a TV receiver of good quality and a high-gain directional receiving antenna."

AIPA members verify their long-distance doodling by all manner of means such as photographing the call letters or communicating with the station and asking a reply by card or letter. Schafer alone has brought in some 185 stations in four countries, one station 2,176 air miles away, in Vancouver, British Columbia.

Sam Goldwyn Jr.'s most cynical memory of TV—the huckster who liked his first pilot film for a TV show but turned it down, shrugging: "It's not a question of your show being good—it's a question of whether I'll keep my job if I recommend it, it's bought, and then doesn't go over."

We hope that fairly customary attitude does not discourage Sam Jr. It's the psychology which foists onto TV so many imitative quiz shows, carbon copies of prior situation comedy successes, etc. The old frightened feeling won't change much, but always inside that hapless, helpless, unimaginative outer layer there is something new, brave and fresh trying to break through.

New Capitol Bells to Ring Long, Ancient Traditions

WASHINGTON—The clear tones of bells will ring over the nation's capital in the near future from two new carillon towers.

* * *

One, a memorial to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, will be built on the capitol grounds. The second is a new structure to house the 49-bell carillon presented to the United States by the people of the Netherlands.

Such carillons, brought to perfection in the low countries, represent what is undoubtedly the peak development of bells, the National Geographic Society says.

The history of bells in the West began, scholars believe, about 400 A.D. But thousands of years earlier bells figured in Egyptian religious observances, and in 2697 B.C. the Chinese Emperor Hoang-ti commissioned a set of bells to serve as an official standard of pitch.

Spread through Europe by close association with Christianity, bells have long called the faithful to church. A bell thought to have been used by St. Patrick is in the Irish National Museum.

* * *

In the middle ages bells marked many civil functions. A cathedral's largest bell often belonged to the town, not the church. Bells sounded the beginning and end of work or trading in the marketplace, and called men together to fight fire or invasion.

Control of the town's bells allowed a leader to gather and coordinate his forces quickly; it could mean control of the town itself.

Bell ringing has long been a symbol of triumph or tragedy. An example of both was the reaction to the triumph and death of Admiral Nelson at the Battle of Trafalgar. English bells spread the news with a merry peal interrupted by one deep toll.

* * *

In Japan and Germany during World War II, church bells were melted down for their metal content. Even the Nazis, however, carefully photographed and recorded the bills, many of them looted from occupied countries.

After the war those found unharmed were returned to their towers. In Japan, bells confiscated from Buddhist temples lay unmelted beside metal shops when the war ended. Sailors from the United States cruisers Duluth and Pasadena sent such bells as trophies to the towns their ships were named for. Years later, in a changing feeling toward Japan, both cities returned the souvenirs.

As bells have gripped the lives of men, from alarm clocks to funeral gongs, so they have inspired artists in many fields. The tintinnabulation of the bells sounds through poems and novels, plays, movies and songs.

Large bells such as hang in churches are made from an alloy of about 20 per cent tin and 80 per cent copper. Other bells, however, have been made of china, glass, bronze, porcelain, pewter, steel, ivory, silver, gold and wood.

Reduces His 'Rubles' to Highway Rubble

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A litterbug with a slightly different attitude was taken to Georgia Street Receiving Hospital for observation after he was seen tossing pieces of green paper from his car.

Police said William Clark, 39, had torn up about $200 to $300 in $20 bills and another $400 in travelers' checks.

Officers said the only explanation he gave was that he quit his job as a fountain clerk at a Hollywood drive-in three days ago and was "feeling bad."

Mercy Killer Finally Fulfills Suicide Pact

DETROIT (AP) — A 65-year-old Detroiter, convicted three years ago in the mercy killing of his wife, plunged to his death Saturday from the fourth floor of a downtown hotel.

He said he made a suicide pact with her after she begged him for six weeks to kill her. He failed to electrocute himself later. Still later a relative found him trying to hang himself.

• • •

The couple had been married 42 years. Mrs. Jones was suffering from diabetes. Both her legs had been amputated 10 years earlier.

Jones was convicted of second degree murder and sentenced to a year and a day. He was paroled Dec. 22, 1953, after serving about five months.

'Just Follow Me, Mac,' Gets Driver in Trouble

• • •

He asked Kenneth R. Pelkey 34, of Enfield, Conn., a motorist who was halted at a traffic light, for the road to East Hartford.

"Follow me," said Pelkey. Billings did.

Both got arrested for speeding, and were fined $15.

Everything but Hole Stolen From New Pool

DENVER (AP) — About the only thing burglars didn't take in a weekend job, the manager of a swimming pool construction firm said today, was the hole itself.
