Study Group Asks Action by Local Chamber

Urges Conferences of Waterford Citizens and City Representatives

"Pontiac's Chamber of Commerce is happy to study the annexation problem of this entire community," declares President Ralph T. Norvell. "Frank Steere's proposal as outlined in Friday's Pontiac Press is very sound. We have an advisory committee on this general question," he said, "and the members are submitting a report to the Board proposing a general study of the whole problem."

"It was the unanimous opinion of this committee that the Chamber of Commerce should be vitally concerned with annexation, particularly with respect to Waterford Township," he said. "Any growing, thriving community such as Pontiac must have room for expansion to permit its future development, both from a population standpoint as well as business and industrial-wise."

A study of the area lying within Pontiac's present boundaries reveals that nearly all of the available land is now being utilized one way or another."

The committee makes the following recommendations to the Chamber's directors for their consideration:

1. In order to approach this matter of annexation intelligently, the need for consultation between the governmental units of Pontiac and Waterford Township is paramount. Therefore, it is suggested the Chamber of Commerce attempt to bring responsible officials and citizens of both communities together to discuss the many facets of the problem in question. Certainly, without a spirit of harmony and willingness to work together by these groups, nothing can be accomplished.

2. At such a meeting, it is suggested the Chamber propose to the respective governmental units that a qualified planning firm be engaged to make an impartial study and assemble facts relative to the costs, needs, benefits or advisability of such consolidation. The expense of such a survey should be shared by both governmental units. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Find Youngsters Walking Streets

Brother, Sister Seek Father During Trek After Midnight

A brother and sister, ages 3 and 5, are in Oakland County Children's Home, waiting for their parents to explain why the children were wandering on freezing city streets after midnight Saturday.

Buckley Lee and Charlotte Fraley told juvenile authorities: "Mommy works, and no one was home. So we went out to find Daddy."

Their father, Daniel R. Fraley, 289 Orchard Lake Rd., told police that the children were at home when he left at 2:30 a.m. to pick his wife up from work. She works at a drive-in.

But the children were found at a street corner at 1 a.m., police said.

The children were found by a Walled Lake man, Thomas O'Donohue, at the corner of Orchard Lake and Williams street. He took them to the Pontiac police station, where they were identified by a workers badge in Fraley's hat, which his young son was wearing.

The Fraleys are to appear before juvenile authorities today.

"HOW'S THIS, FELLOWS?"—That's what this young lad seemed to be saying to photographers as they snapped this picture while his mother held her compact mirror for him to check his haircomb. The lad is Billy Ziegemeier of New York, who was about to board a plane at Idlewild Airport for Ireland. The 14-month-old youngster left yesterday to visit his grandparents in Ireland for a few weeks.

Vatican Reveals Miracle: Pope Saw Vision of Christ

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican announced today that Pope Pius XII saw a vision of Jesus Christ during the most critical moments of his grave illness last winter. The recovery of the desperately ill pontiff began soon after.

The announcement was made by Luciano Casimiri, chief of the Vatican press office, upon authorization of the papal secretariat of state.

The secretariat normally would make such statement only with the personal authorization of the Pope. Casimiri told newsmen that they could state that "responsible Vatican circles" confirm the report of the vision published last week in Oggi (Today), the largest Italian weekly magazine.

Oggi said that on Dec. 2, 1954, when the Pope's illness from a gastric disturbance reached a climax, he began reciting the prayer "Anima Christi (Soul of Christ)."

When he came to the invocation "In horae mortis mea, voca me (In the hour of my death, call me)," the Pope saw "the sweet person of Jesus Christ at his bedside," said the magazine.

"In that moment," said the magazine, "the Holy Father believed that the teacher came to call him to himself, and serenely answering to the call, he continued the prayer: 'Jube me venire ad Te (Order me to come to You).' Jesus, however, did not come to take him, but to console him and give him the certainty that his hour had not yet come."

The announcement of the Pope's vision recalled the announcement three years ago by Federico Cardinal Tedeschini, archbishop of St. Peter's Basilica, that Pope Pius saw a vision of the Virgin Mary in October 1951.

Later Vatican sources said privately that the Pope had not seen a vision of the Virgin but rather the same unusual rays of the sun which were reported to have accompanied the vision of the Virgin to the little shepherd children of Fatima.

You Think It's Funny? Wait Until Next April 15

STOCKHOLM (INS)—This may strike an American funny right now, but wait until next April 15. Anyway, a poultry farmer in northern Sweden recently was presented with an income tax demand for 5,000 crowns, about $971.

He promptly slaughtered 600 of his hens and later explained: "The demand made me desperate."

80 Relatives, Friends Attend Birthday Party

Some 80 friends and relatives attended an open house yesterday honoring the 100th birthday today of Jonathan A. Ferrier who lives with his son, Arthur, at 14 McNeil St.

Probably the oldest man in Oakland County, Ferrier weathered the afternoon's activities without signs of fatigue and was up at 7 a.m. this morning as usual. Ferrier attributes his longevity to a cheerful outlook toward life and the fact he's never used tobacco or liquor. He had seven children, four still living, plus 186 grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren.

Lapeer Woman Held for Murder

Bride of 3 Months Cited for Shooting Mate After Hassle Over Drinking

LAPEER (AP)—Mrs. Grace Tverstol, 29, a bride of less than three months, was held today in the shotgun slaying of her husband, Glendon, 35, at nearby Otter Lake yesterday.

Undersheriff William J. Porter said a first-degree murder warrant would be asked against her. Porter said the shooting climaxed a family quarrel involving Mrs. Tverstol's 11-year-old son by a previous marriage, religion and Tverstol's drinking.

It erupted, the undersheriff said, when Mrs. Tverstol called her son, Donald Lince, to come and clean up and dress for church. At the time he was helping his stepfather clean the basement.

Donald, his 16-year-old sister, Judy, and Mrs. Tverstol were to make formal statements to Prosecutor George E. Lutz today. Mrs. Tverstol was held in Lapeer County jail.

Porter said Mrs. Tverstol threatened at one point in the argument to kill her husband, whereupon he went to a bedroom and got a 20-gauge shotgun. After supposedly unloading the gun and putting the shells in his pocket, Porter said Tverstol walked into another room, handed the gun to his wife and dared her to shoot. She did, the undersheriff said, the hammer banging on a shell overlooked in the chamber.

Tverstol was employed by a Detroit construction firm on a project at Grand Blanc outside Flint.

'Electric Shop' Hired Graham

Plane Saboteur Stayed 6-Days on Denver Job, Colorado Paper Says

DENVER (AP)—John Gilbert Graham, accused of murder in a time-bomb explosion aboard a commercial airliner that carried his mother, was reported today to have worked in an electric shop shortly before the fatal crash.

The Rocky Mountain News said in a copyrighted article that Graham worked six days in October at the Denver shop. The paper said he told his employer he would make more money elsewhere but wanted to learn the trade.

The FBI, meanwhile, was checking a report of a storekeeper at Krennsmiling, Colo., 165 miles west of Denver, that he is "pretty sure" a man he sold 28 sticks of dynamite to Oct. 29 was Graham.

Graham, father of two children, is charged with murder in the death of his mother, Mrs. Daisie King, 54. She and 43 others were killed in the United Air Lines plane crash near Longmont, Colo., Nov. 1.

Graham, who has denied the act, was visited for a second time in jail last night by his wife, Gloria, who told reporters:

"I'll believe he's innocent as long as he's not proven guilty." Mrs. Graham, 22, in response to a reporter's question, said she would remain loyal to Graham. "As every wife should be toward her husband."

Putting on Pounds for Thursday

NO LOVE LOST — John Rose, 5, doesn't want to cuddle these turkeys. He is feeding them with visions of having stuffing in them, and gravy over them, come Thursday.

Thanksgiving Day Holding No Tears for Turkey Farmer Without Favorites

No tears will fall when the Thanksgiving gobbler loses his head at the Rose Turkey Farm at 3881 Livernois Rd. To Mr. and Mrs. Wendell A. Rose, turkeys are not pets; they're raised to be eaten.

"We like to eat turkey," said Mrs. Rose. "We're glad to chop off their heads."

The Roses have four children and two dogs. They all love each other. They have a canary. Everyone likes the canary. But no one loves the turkeys—except when cooked.

"Turkeys aren't lovable," explained Mrs. Rose. "An occasional turkey may like to peck at your coat-button. But that's the limit of his affection," she said.

Without sentimentality, the Roses are raising 700 Empire Whites and Broadbreasted Bronzes for holiday meals this year. When young, the birds were fed a high protein diet to make them plump. They grew up in special pens to make them tender. During their last months alive, they get a combination of selected grains to make them tasty.

Naturally, one of them will be picked to grace the Rose dinner table Nov. 24. Mr. Rose will lop off its head, happily.

Hunters' Death Toll Reaches 24

Seven Die From Gun Wounds; Six Missing Presumed Dead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Seven Michigan deer hunters, an average of one a day, have died from gunfire since the 16-day season opened last Tuesday.

Eleven other hunters have died of heart attacks, two have frozen to death, one has died of exposure, and three have been asphyxiated sleeping in cars or tents. Another six hunters are missing and "presumed dead" by authorities.

Judson R. Montgomery, 21, of Ionia, died Sunday in a Traverse City hospital of wounds suffered Thursday while hunting in Kalamazoo County, high in the Lower Peninsula.

State police said Montgomery was shot in the right hip by Robert Sronk, 35, of Kalamazoo, who accidentally discharged his rifle while unloading it.

Latest heart attack victims include George Lee Howard, 53, of Kalamazoo, and Clarence Lucas, 63, of Flint.

Howard dropped dead on state ferry docks at St. Ignace Saturday night while awaiting transportation across the Straits of Mackinac from an Upper Peninsula hunting expedition.

Lucas suffered a fatal attack Sunday while hunting near Houghton Lake. Conservation and sheriff's officers renewed their search of Gratiot Lake today for four deer hunters who disappeared Wednesday en route across the tricky inland lake in a 14-foot, outboard-powered boat. Three of them were golf professionals in the Grand Rapids area.

These four have been listed as "presumed dead," as are two others missing in rugged Upper Peninsula woods since before a blizzard raked the area Wednesday night and Thursday.

Policy Makers Fly to Retreat for Conference

Foreign and Domestic Advisers Will Present Last-Minute Reports

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (INS)—President Eisenhower begins top-level conferences today with his highest advisers on foreign policy and domestic issues.

The Chief Executive was transferring his temporary White House for the next two days from his Gettysburg farm to closely-guarded Camp David, the presidential retreat in the Catoclin Mountains of Maryland, 25 miles away.

The President scheduled a meeting with the National Security Council, which formulates security and defense policies, at 2:30 p.m. EST.

He will meet with his Cabinet at 9 a.m. Tuesday. It marked the first time the President was to preside over both groups of his top policy advisers since he left Washington Aug. 14 for his Colorado vacation. He suffered his heart attack in Denver Sept. 24.

Eisenhower was to go by automobile to the Catoclin retreat with Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, super-secret scanning agency of global trouble-spots.

LAST MINUTE REPORT
Dulles planned to give the President a detailed up-to-the-minute report on the world situation to prepare him for the afternoon session of the NSC.

Many of the two dozen members of the Eisenhower "team" were to fly from Washington to the lodge near Thurmont, Md., by helicopter.

Among them was Vice President Nixon, who was flying to the nation's capital from Florida, and was to transfer to a small helicopter at National Airport.

Other NSC and Cabinet members were to board three "copters" at the Pentagon heli-port for the 65-mile "egg beater" lift to a special landing strip recently completed a short distance from the Presidential lodge.

REVIEW SOVIET ATTITUDE
The President will sit down with his advisers around a large table in Laurel Lodge, the retreat's dining hall.

Let's Help Save More Lives Mark December First! It's Safe Driving Day

WASHINGTON (AP)—The second annual campaign to promote traffic safety throughout the nation started today.

The campaign, involving a tally of all traffic deaths during the next three weeks, features S-D Day—Safe Driving Day—on Dec. 1.

But Vice President Nixon, urging all citizens to drive safely "365 days of the year," said S-D Day "does not mean that we try to drive safely that day alone."

"It should mean to all of us," he said in a statement yesterday, "that we will not only avoid accidents on that day, but that we will try to avoid them every day."

The success of S-D Day will be measured by comparing traffic fatalities that day as compared to the 81 on the corresponding day in 1954 and for the comparable three weeks last year when 2,144 lost their lives.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dwight David Eisenhower II, grandson of the President, has been used as a model to illustrate a poster in connection with the nationwide observance of Safe Driving Day Dec. 1.

Copies of the drawing, distributed by the Ohio Highway Safety Department, were sent to 419 television stations throughout the country, said U. C. Felty, department head.

The poster shows young Dwight seated in a soap box "auto." He's saying, "Grampa says we should make EVERY day Safe Driving Day."

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Indiana's traffic death toll, which reached 1,000 on safe driving day last year, appears certain to pass that figure sooner this year, even though S-D Day is two weeks earlier.

Eight deaths during the weekend—including two in an intersection crash and three at railroad crossings—brought the unofficial total for the year to 995.

Patrolman Hits Teen Vice Probe

'No Cause for Alarm,' Officer Delbert Hunt Says in Letter

Oakdale Gardens Patrolman Delbert Hunt, in a letter to a Detroit newspaper, today said there is "no cause for alarm" at alleged juvenile vice activity in Royal Oak Township.

Hunt, who said the one and one-half square mile township is "an economic jungle, not a vice jungle," quoted the negative findings of the 1952 Grand Jury probe into alleged corruption there.

He called the police department "capable, but inadequate," and claimed "less delinquency and vice than similar low-income and densely populated areas."

Lt. William Ware, acting chief of police in Oakdale Gardens, said he had no comment on Hunt's letter.

Widespread press interest in the Oakdale Gardens housing project developed last week when police disclosed a formal statement from an unidentified high school student charging that organized gangs were making the project a juvenile "vice jungle."

Police, said to have been skeptical of the youth's statement, allegedly were convinced of its reliability when he accurately predicted a burglary attempt Nov. 1. Oakland County prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem has announced he is investigating the charges.

Search Intensified for Missing Detroiters

DETROIT (U)—The discovery of apparent blood stains in an abandoned car led police today to step up their search for a missing Detroit-area man.

David William Velandra, 26, of East Detroit, was last seen Friday night when he left his home to "close a deal on a car."

His wife, Doris, 27, said he had about $300 with him and expected to get another $200 for his car.

The vehicle was found Sunday in Hazel Park. A six-inch section of lead pipe was on the rear floor. Velandra's horn-rimmed glasses, snapped at the bridge and with one lens smashed, were found on the front seat.

Police said spots which appeared to be blood were found in the vehicle.

Velandra is assistant manager of a suburban finance company.

Grand Jury Awaits Ann Woodward Talk

NEW YORK (INS)—Ann Woodward is scheduled for release today from Doctors Hospital in New York where she has been hospitalized since Oct. 30 when she killed her wealthy socialite-sportsman husband.

The blonde mother of two young sons is expected to appear later in the week before a Nassau County grand jury probing the death of William Woodward Jr. at his plush Long Island estate.

Mrs. Woodward told police she fired two shotgun blasts at her husband when he mistook him for a prowler.

Her attorney said she would leave the hospital "via the front door, like any other patient," and not try to avoid newsmen and photographers.

Mrs. Woodward's physician, Dr. John M. Prutting, said his patient "is a bit nervous about going home," but he added that "any patient would be after a stay in the hospital."

Ready of Arab War

NEW YORK (INS)—Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett said in New York yesterday that his country is ready to slow down or even paralyze its economic development if necessary, to protect itself against a possible Arab attack.

Believe Tongay Will Surrender

Jailbreaker Informs His Close Friend of Plans to Return to Prison

LOS ANGELES (U)—Police say they have indirect information that Russell Tongay, swimming instructor who escaped a week ago from a Florida state prison agent, plans to surrender here today.

Police here said Florida authorities notified them that Tongay twice telephoned a friend in Florida yesterday and said on the second call he planned to surrender to Los Angeles police, accompanied by a lawyer.

CONVICTED IN TRIAL

Tongay was convicted of manslaughter in the death of his "Aquator" daughter Kathy, 5, who was fatally injured in a 33-foot exhibition dive. He was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Florida authorities asked Los Angeles police to search for Tongay. They said he telephoned William Burrell Jr. at Coral Gables, Fla., saying he was in Los Angeles to obtain medical care.

Tongay told his friend to call the Florida governor and ask permission for him to stay here for treatment, the Florida officials told police here. Miami authorities said he may be using the name Tom Gay.

7 Midshipmen Decorate Signs at West Point

WEST POINT, N.Y. (U)—Seven Annapolis midshipmen invaded West Point this weekend to let the cadets know how they felt about next Saturday's Army-Navy football game.

Early yesterday the Midshipmen painted "Beat Army" in big red letters on the West Point skating rink and on the walls of Michie Stadium.

On fortress walls over the Hudson River a "Beat Navy" neon sign was altered to read "Beat A."

Army precautions to protect their mascot mule thwarted the midshipmen's principal advance objective. The animal, they later reported, was kept in a locked pen inside a locked barn, with two guards stationed beside the pen.

The midshipmen were on weekend leave and dressed in civilian clothes. They reported they entered the academy grounds around 2 a.m. and avoided detection by numerous Army guards during a two-hour stay there.

After a long silence on the matter, a West Point spokesman commented: "Anyone in civilian clothes could have come in. This is an open post. If they had been in uniform it would have been different."

3. In addition to the above recommendations, it is our feeling that the Pontiac Planning Commission should study other areas adjacent to the city. Only in this way can so-called "wart" annexation requests, such as recently occurred, be handled properly by our City Commission.

The Chamber's Annexation Advisory Committee consists of: Howard L. Canfield, Milo J. Cross, William B. Hartman, William H. Knudsen, Edward J. Novak, Louis H. Schimmel, Robert J. St. Clair and James F. Spence.

"Let me go on record for the committee in stating that we will be very happy to assist in every way possible on the matter under discussion," said President Norvell.

Arabs Spring Raids in Israel Territory

JERUSALEM (U)—Armed raiders based in Jordan ambushed traffic on an Israeli highway and dynamited houses in a border village early today, an Israeli army spokesman charged.

In the first raid, he said, an armed unit fired on two trucks traveling the highway south of Megiddo toward the Jezreel Valley.

The spokesman said a "sabotage unit operating from Jordan" subsequently laid three explosive charges in the village of Avuka, blowing up one building and damaging the water pump.

The Israeli source charged Arab countries bordering Israel were allowing Egypt to maintain bases on their territory for commando squads.

Burglar Finds Money in Soda Bar Basement

A burglar finally found $165 hidden in a potato-chip box, after he ransacked a soda grill at 98 S. Francis St. early Sunday.

The thief found the money in the basement, which he entered after prying open the basement door, police said. The money was hidden so that cash would be on hand in the morning, police were told.

Red Chief Urges India Progress

Khrushchev Advises Youngsters to Prepare for Real Independence

NEW DELHI (INS)—The outspoken first secretary of the Russian Communist Party advised Indian youth today that if they wanted real independence they should prepare themselves for the quick development of their nation.

Balding Nikita S. Khrushchev found a ready audience for his words at a boy and girl scout rally held to honor him and Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin.

The seemingly tireless Ukrainian party chief declared that a large country like India with a vast population could meet its needs only by the mechanization of agriculture and industrialization.

Khrushchev told the gathering of young people that independence could be defended not only by arms but also by economic strength.

It was the second day running that the visiting Russian party leader had referred to the necessity of India's developing her economy.

Khrushchev also expressed the hope that Soviet-Indian friendship would last forever. He added that the present friendly relations had been established on firm foundations "by Indian's great leader Nehru."

Council Seeks Youth Groups at Meetings

The Greater Pontiac Advisory Council desires to get a list of all youth groups in the Pontiac area which would like to be represented in the deliberations of the council. Elected representatives of these youth groups will be ex-officio members of the council's executive committee.

Any group interested in participating is urged to notify Mrs. Forrest Brown, 101 Osceola, of the name of its representative. When the list of representatives is complete, they will be called together and will then elect the representatives who will serve as ex-officio members of the executive committee.

'Girls Just Having Fun,' but They Weren't Funny

WINNETKA, Ill. (AP)—What two young girls "thought was real fun" turned into an extended nightmare for a middle-aged couple in this exclusive North Shore suburb of Chicago.

For nearly four months, the telephone had been an instrument of torture for Maurice R. Franks, 56, and his wife, Violet, 47.

There were seven to 10 anonymous calls a day. Once there were 30.

Sometimes the callers, who sounded like women, would hang up. Other times they would tell Franks or his wife of a delivery being made to their home.

THE DELIVERIES

Once Franks came home to find a load of sand. Another time, a load of gravel.

A truck rolled up with 80 folding chairs; another arrived with 350 cement patio slabs.

A rug cleaner's truck arrived to take away the Franks' rugs for an unneeded cleaning. At 7 o'clock one morning, a piano tuner showed up to tune the family piano.

To add to the family woes, Mrs. Franks was bedridden most of the time with a spinal injury. When her husband and son, Maurice Jr.,

13, were not home, she got up laboriously from bed to answer the calls.

A month ago, the callers threatened, Franks said, that they would "grab the boy." Franks started escorting his son to and from school.

Finally he reported the calls to the telephone company. A round-the-clock tap was put on the Franks' phone.

Most calls were too short to be traced. But Friday, one of the mystery callers talked to Mrs. Franks for 22 minutes.

The call was traced to another Winnetka home. Police took into custody Saturday a 12-year-old girl.

Lt. Frank Birkenheier said she admitted making the calls and implicated another girl, age 13.

The girls, whose names were not disclosed, were questioned and released to their parents without formal charge. A hearing is scheduled Friday.

"We did it just as a prank," Lt. Birkenheier quoted them as saying. "We didn't have anything against Mr. Franks. We just picked him at random."

"We thought it was real fun."

Holly Youth Injured as Auto Rolls Over

Robert Letson, 15, of Holly, who was injured slightly Sunday when his car rolled over on Grange Hall Road near Fagon Road, was issued a ticket for traffic violation by Sheriff's deputies who arrived at the scene.

They said Letson was driving without a license, and going excessively fast.

Agreement Averts Possible Walkout

A walkout was averted late Saturday evening at the Fisher Body Division plant here when management and officials of Fisher Body Local 596 (UAW-CIO) reached agreement on a matter of speedup cases and related issues.

William McAulay, Regional Director of the UAW-CIO, said today that the threatened walkout was averted when members of Local 596 met yesterday and ratified agreements that management and local officials had agreed to Saturday.

The weekend meetings concluded more than seven days of bargaining during which the local requested that the union's international executive board authorize a strike.

Some pasture soils are generally poorer because they are too acid for the best growth of pasture legumes or the better pasture grasses. Their improvement usually requires lime.

Voice of the Supreme Court Goes Hi-Fi

By KENNETH O. GILMORE
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Hear ye! Hear ye! Eight Justices of the U.S. Supreme Court have ruled in favor of the public address system. The opinion came from their quiet-voiced master of ceremonies, Chief Justice Earl Warren. He started the whole thing a year ago by deciding the court needed better acoustics.

Seems nobody but the Justices themselves could hear what went on. During court sessions visitors to the gallery had to strain to catch weighty sentences during historic debates.

Members of the press used to write different stories depending upon what side of the chamber they sat on. Finally they resorted to comparing notes.

Now each word is crystal clear. For both the Justices and the lawyers speak through microphones. The system was just officially adopted after being used experimentally last year.

A DISSENTER

One dissenting opinion against this mechanical tradition breaker has been cast by big-voiced Justice Felix Frankfurter. He has no need for the gimmick and refuses to use it. There's a mike ready to be plugged in if he changes his mind, however.

A year ago Chief Justice Warren persuaded Congress to let him have $5,000 to solve the acoustics problem caused by drapes and thick rugs in the high-ceilinged chamber.

Engineers of the Radio Corporation of America undertook the job. In addition to small mikes they put in a master control panel off to the side of the chamber. It is operated by an engineer who tunes in the Justices and lawyers rules.

when they speak.

A recording system also has been installed which puts on tape everything that is said during the sessions. This will come in handy for judicial review.

Although the Justices have gone modern with mikes, they still stick with the ancient custom of not allowing their pictures to be taken in court. That's why the pictures of the new amplifying gadgets are without people. It's against the

Ex-Ball Player Held in Hatchet Slaying

TAVERNIER, Fla. (AP)—Conklyn Meriwether, 37-year-old carpenter and former baseball player, was held without bond today in the hatchet slaying of his paralyzed mother-in-law and the wounding of two other persons.

Meriwether, who was on the St. Louis Cardinals roster in 1946, was taken to the Monroe County Jail at Key West after the killing in his modest bungalow home at Tavernier yesterday afternoon. No charges have been filed.

Peace Justice Ralph Cunningham said Meriwether killed Mrs. Martin Ellen Mills, 49, a paralytic for nine years, and injured his father-in-law Charles N. Mills, 55, and his brother-in-law Paul Mills, 15. Both men suffered head wounds.

Meriwether's wife Ruth, 28, fled to a neighbor's home with their three small children.

Youngsters Demand Loving Care

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I am stuck at home all day with my children," women will frequently write me. "It is nerve-racking and boring but there's nothing I can do about it. I've decided that, since I'm stuck here anyway, I might just as well take in some more kids and at least make money from it."

They don't even realize that, feeling as they do about children, they could never in a million years embark on a successful project involving children.

Approaching it as a distasteful, boring business, how in the world would they attract the children, let alone the mothers?

Children, particularly, are very sensitive to people. They can tell in a minute the adult who really loves them and the one who is just going through the gestures.

If you are bored with children, please, for your own sake, drop all thought of making money at home by child care.

It won't work, no matter how large a yard you have, nor how much you need the extra money. Search, instead, for an activity you like.

PUT SKILL TO WORK

If you are one of the many mothers who find children, all children, perfectly fascinating; if you speak their language, have infinite patience and love, then by all means think in terms of putting this skill to work.

You might begin with a small play group one day a week, at a low fee which any young mother can afford.

If you take enough children, you can charge a bare 50 cents for a whole afternoon and still make a profit. You might tell them stories, play piano and teach them songs, do painting or basket weaving or whatever.

Your love for children will shine through any activity you take up, and your business will grow and grow.

Many mothers I know are doing this with happiness and success. It is good for them, giving them creative outlets. It is good for their children because it gives them companionship and a chance to learn how to get along with others. It's also a boon to overworked young mothers who can get respite from the children once a week, have some time to themselves.

If you really love children and would like to make pin money, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I will send you my pamphlet, "Playing With Children for Profit."

Wall Paper Gets Shells

NEW YORK (INS)—The latest substitute for wallpaper is oyster shells.

Oyster shells, in the form of mother-of-pearl, have been pressed and processed so you can buy sheets of them in from one-fourth to three-fourths of an inch thickness to paste on walls or to cover table and counter tops.

The sheets can be mounted on plywood or can be applied directly to the wall. They are finished in a sealer that is supposed to make them impervious to heat, cold and spilled liquids.

The oyster-walls, called "kappa shell," sell for about $8 a square foot.

You can transform your plain plaster walls to resemble wood paneling with another new wall covering which consists of interwoven strips of hardwood veneers mounted on a heavy canvas backing. It is available in a diamond or parquet weave, and retails for $1.32 a square foot.

Wallpaper, if you insist, is being shown with a lot of wide open spaces. Dadoes—a very low pattern uncluttered—are popular in the traditional field, and James Seeman has produced an orange, yellow, black and white abstract on a cocoa background that will make modern design enthusiasts happy.

Nurse Told to Call Mate 'the Doctor'

Couple Should Not Use First Names in the Office

By EMILY POST

"My fiancée is a doctor. I am a registered nurse. After our marriage I expect to assist him in the office. Do I address him as 'John' or as 'Dr. Smith' before patients? And how should he address me?"

Answer: In office hours, you would call him "Doctor" and speak of him to patients as "the doctor." During office hours he would call you and speak of you to patients as "Mrs. Smith."

To your friends and social acquaintances you would of course speak of him as "John" and he would speak of you as "Mary."

It is always in bad taste to hear first names used between the head of any office and his assistant, and this lack of dignity would be particularly flagrant in a doctor's office—no matter who the assistant might be.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently, while I was at the house of a friend along with several other good friends of the hostess, a relative of the family who did not know the others present dropped in. Before the hostess could introduce her, she walked up to one of the women and introduced herself in this way: 'I am Mrs. John Smith.'"

"First off, wasn't she wrong to introduce herself? Secondly, I think she was wrong in having introduced herself as Mrs. and that she should have used her given name and surname."

"Later this person alleged that no matter what or where, a married woman introduces herself as Mrs. in order to let people know her status. I will appreciate your opinion on this matter."

Answer: Calling herself "Mrs. John Smith" was proper. The hostess should have introduced her but as she didn't, it was perfectly proper for her to say, "I'm Mrs. John Smith."

Local MOMS Hear Report

The Thursday evening meeting of Zone Eight, MOMS of America, Inc., was held at the home of Mrs. L. R. Naugle on Churchill Road.

Mrs. E. K. Vanderlind conducted the business meeting and a prayer of thanksgiving was given by Mrs. Naugle.

Mrs. William Jones reported on the recent Michigan State Board convention held in Grand Rapids.

The December meeting will be a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Arthur Burgess on Joslyn Road.

Sleepers Have Feet

New sleepers for infants and children are equipped with safety-step, plastic feet which have saved many a child from a nasty fall.

The soles can be wiped clean with a damp cloth. There's extra fabric and an extra row of snaps at the waist for easy automatic "let-out" as the child grows. The cotton-knit sleepers are machine washable.

Be sure wax is thoroughly dry before polishing if you use an electric floor polisher.

School Crowd Runs Boy's Dating Routine

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I went steady with her for about three months, then we decided to quit the steady part but still go together. That was okay until I went out with another girl.

"Now my old girl is mad at me and so are all the kids in school! They all dislike the particular girl I took out. So to please everybody I go out with both of them.

"But ever time I take out my new girl they're all mad at me until I make a date with my old one. It's a pretty pickle. What shall I do?"

Answer: Why, you can dance to the tune that your ex-steady girl and the rest of the crowd pipe for you—or you can make up your own rules for yourself. It's normal that you should care what the kids in school think, and that you should react to their friendliness or their chill. But they're really asking too much in insisting that your dating should suit them. Buck them completely and you'll wind up in the permanent doghouse.

So, why not confuse them? Date so many different girls that they can't keep score! Were there a third girl in the picture, for instance, your old girl couldn't expect a date to match each one you have with your two other girls.

Were there a fourth, how much more complicated it would get everybody. But maybe they'd give up—and leave you to it. Then you could date whomever whensoever it suits you.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 14 and Mother and I don't agree on things. When I go downtown on Saturday I think I should come home when I want to, just so long as it isn't 1 or 2 o'clock. "But Mother thinks she should set the time for me to come home. I'd be glad if you'd help us iron this out."

Answer: You know mothers have the house pretty much all to themselves during the week. They get their husbands off to work and their children off to school, and for many mothers the days are lonely.

They look forward to having their families around over the weekends. They make plans for things to do, places to go, things to talk over.

Your mother can appreciate your wanting to see what's going on downtown. But she also wants to see you. Lunch is ready at a certain time and she wants you there.

She doesn't like wondering where you are and what you're getting into. She doesn't care for your wandering on the loose, with no definite plan. Can't you see her point of view?

And can't you cooperate willingly—for her sake as well as your own?
