Raiders Smash Horse Betting Ring in Pontiac

Full Delegation From Oakland at GOP Rally

By JOE HAAS

GRAND RAPIDS — When the nominating session of the Republican State Convention opened this afternoon, Oakland County was represented by its full quota of 141 delegates.

At county caucuses last night and early today nearly all delegates were present, and the few vacancies were filled by alternates, so County Chairman Arthur Elliot and Caucus Chairman John Wood are empowered to cast a full vote for the candidate for each of the four places on the state ticket.

This was assured when the delegates voted to observe the unit rule, and prevent the possibility of a divided vote, which has had a detrimental effect on Oakland County's prestige in some previous state conventions.

After listening to 10-minute talks from eight men seeking places on the state ticket, the Oakland delegates by a hand-raising vote decided to give its support to Arthur J. Hannah of Grand Rapids for Secretary of State. He is a brother of John A. Hannah, President of Michigan State College.

For State Treasurer, the Oakland County nod went to Julius Hansloski of East Lansing.

The delegation's choice for Auditor General was found to be Vincent Murray of Detroit, and in a four-cornered fight for the nomination of Attorney General they favored Jason L. Honigman of Detroit.

There was no derth of pep or enthusiasm in the Oakland County caucuses. It all seemed to simmer down to the matter of getting out the vote.

In talks that had a Billy Graham resemblance, Chairman Elliott and State Senator Lodge pleaded, begged and almost threatened the delegates and others if they fail in doing their duty in spreading the Republican gospel.

Congressman Broomfield was given the biggest ovation of all when he explained what he purports to call devious ways used by the opposition in Congress to put across legislation, with no regard for its cost to the taxpayers or its benefit to anybody outside of favored vote-getting ranks.

In all of its proceedings the Oakland delegation subscribed to the general atmosphere of the entire convention, in not considering for even one minute that the Republicans are to remain on the outs among Michigan's state officials.

Pontiac Motor Strike Settled

7,000 Men to Report Back to Work on Usual Shifts Tuesday

Strike at Pontiac Motor Division, which started early Tuesday and kept some 5,000 workers from their jobs, was settled last night.

A spokesman for the division announced this morning that a settlement had been reached and that operations would be resumed Tuesday morning, after the Labor Day holiday.

Union officials could not be reached for comment.

However, wildcat strikes still idled some 13,000 workers in other plants of the industry and after 23 weeks of negotiations, bargaining teams appeared to be no closer to a solution than when they started talks on new contracts.

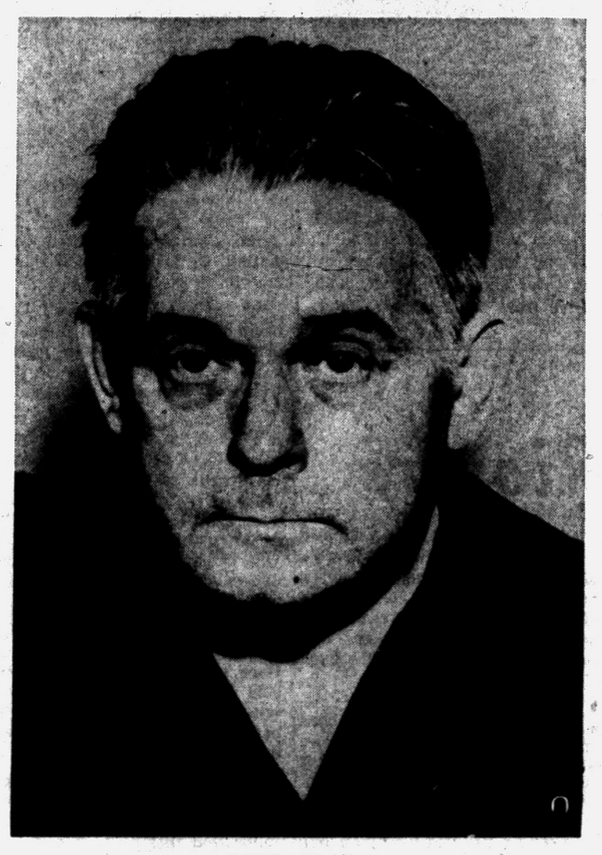

The walkouts hit plants of all Big Three auto makers. United Auto Workers spokesmen said they resulted from local disputes, mainly over the issues of time off the job allotted committeemen to handle grievances.

Chrysler accused the UAW of harassment tactics which it said if continued would seriously affect 1959 model production at three Detroit area plants.

General Motors plants were closed in several cities, but workers at two Fisher Body plants in Grand Rapids, returned to work, and UAW members at a Fisher plant in Hamilton, Ohio, also agreed to resume production.

Held for Questioning After Gambling Raid

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

What law enforcement officials describe as a horse betting ring doing an estimated million dollars a year business was apparently broken here yesterday afternoon in a series of raids by state troopers, deputies and police detectives.

Five persons, including the deputy city treasurer of Pontiac and his wife, were jailed for investigation of violating state gambling laws.

Lodged in the Oakland County jail were:

Basil W. Burke, 59, of 29 Salmer Ave.;

LaRue E. Gullett, 41, of 301 Dick Ave., Pontiac deputy city treasurer since 1955;

Gladys J. Gullett, 35, his wife;

James Pruzor, 54, alias "Chinaboy," of 4 S. Saginaw St.; and Charles D. Apley, 44, alias "Whitey," also of 29 Salmer Ave.

Taken into custody as the results of the raids, but released later, were Burke's wife, Patricia, 28, and a Pontiac factory worker, James Denisuik, 43, of 314 S. Marshall St.

The raids were staged by a well-coordinated team of 20 law enforcement officers, according to George F. Taylor, chief assistant prosecutor for Oakland County.

Directing the raids, which were the result of five months of investigation, was Lt. Carl W. Robinson, of the Redford State Police Post.

Behind the gambling investigation were 12 State Police detectives, five Pontiac police officers, one sheriff's detective, and an assistant county prosecutor.

Taylor said warrants were expected to be issued today against the five either for violation of gambling laws or conspiracy of same.

Conviction for violation of state gambling laws could result in five years in prison and a $5,000 fine for each.

He also said Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem possibly would ask an anticipated grand jury in the county to look into results of the raids, "If this is one that cannot be completely handled" under the jurisdiction granted his office.

Raided around 5 p.m. Friday were the Orchard Court apartments of the Burkes and Apleys, the Gullett home, an apartment maintained by Burke in Auburn Heights, and a gas station at 25 S. Perry St.

Gullett, a city employe since 1952, was arrested by two State Police detectives while at work at the City Hall, 35 S. Parke St.

Mrs. Gullett was arrested at home by detectives after they forced open the front door which she had hurriedly slammed on them when they presented a search warrant.

Burke was using a telephone when a five-man raiding party used a sledge hammer to batter in the door of his second-story, sparsely furnished apartment at 3292 Auburn Rd., in the heart of Auburn Heights.

Oakland Man Dies in Accident

Walled Lake Motorist First State Fatality of Holiday Weekend

A Walled Lake man became Michigan's first highway fatality of the Labor Day weekend last night.

George J. Paget, 40, of 8309 Dickert St., was reported dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital at 9:45 p.m.

Paget, driving alone, collided with a car driven by Kenneth R. Hughes, 18, of 18434 Annchester St., Detroit, according to Farmington Township Police.

Hughes was treated for minor injuries and released. A passenger in his car, Kenneth Rosseau, 16, of 18900 Westmoreland St., Detroit, is reported in fair condition with a fractured jaw.

The accident took place at 14 Mile Rd. and Halstead Rd. The Hughes car was going west on 14 Mile Rd. at an estimated 55 miles per hour, police reported.

Paget, driving north on Halstead, evidently failed to stop for a stop sign at the intersection, said officers.

The accident occurred at 3:20 p.m. According to state police it was the only holiday fatal reported in Michigan up to 11 a.m. today.

Fire Second Rocket to Test 'Exosphere'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) —The second of two test rockets fired within two hours soared aloft early today in an intense scientific effort believed aimed eventually at putting a man in space.

The Air Force said the rockets were of the same type as those fired Aug. 15 and last Tuesday. That meant they were five-stage vehicles sent up to explore the "exosphere," the thin part of the earth's atmosphere starting 400 miles up.

Primary purpose of the test series, the Air Force said, is to measure radiation with a view towards learning how to protect a human space traveler. The rockets were fired by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

3rd Car Sought in Accident Quiz

Deputies Say Witness Might Clear Up Crash Injuring 2 Policemen

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies investigating the "mysterious" traffic accident which injured two Orchard Lake Policemen last Sunday have come up with a partial explanation.

The department today made a plea for the driver of a third car, not directly involved in the collision, to identify himself.

The car was described as a late model, light colored Oldsmobile. The driver and three other occupants of the car are the only known witnesses of the accident.

One officer, Richard D. Venos, 30, of 33 Court Dr., is in Pontiac General Hospital with a fractured leg and internal injuries.

The other officer, Bruce P. Boyd, 29, of 1353 Locke St., was treated

Space Man Step Closer for Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — Moscow's "bring 'em back alive" rocketing of two dogs 281 miles into space has moved her a step closer to achieving the same feat with man. But Soviet scientists have stressed there is still a long way to go.

The Soviet government announced last night it had shot two dogs into space aboard a one-stage rocket and brought them back in good health.

This is more than twice the highest altitude achieved in similar experiments reported in the Soviet Union. But it is only another in a long series of tests which Russian scientists say must precede any Soviet attempt to risk human life by propelling man into space.

First reports from the latest experiment gave no indication that a similar attempt with a human being was in the offing.

Tass said the dogs, weighing 18 pounds each, were placed in a hermetically sealed cabinet. It did not indicate how they came down.

Flint Youth Is Burned in Holly Arson Attempt

A 17-year-old Flint youth was critically burned in Holly Township in an arson attempt early this morning, according to Flint State Police.

Detectives investigating the incident today identified the youth as William Mosley, of 3369 Whitney St. He is reported "near death" in Hurley Hospital, Flint.

Mosley and an accomplice, Robert Guth, 23, of 610 Patrick St., Flint, fired a vacant two-story, wood frame house shortly after midnight "as a prank," police said.

Guth was not injured. He reportedly ran from the house before fire reached him.

Authorities investigating the incident said the method used was the same as that used to burn a Flint Dry Cleaning firm Aug. 3, where Frank Kierdorf suffered fatal burns.

Guth flatly denied any connection with the Kierdorf case, police said. He told officers the house, located at 1370 Gage Rd., was a "hangout for local kids."

He said that he and Mosley were just "playing a trick." The gasoline used to set the fire evidently ignited before they had a chance to run from the house.

The house was owned by Lawence Kemboldt, of 2317 Belford Rd. Guth is being held for investigation of arson.

Formal charges are expected to be filed Tuesday, according to Flint authorities.

'21' Statement Shows:

Accuser of TV 'Fix' Contradicts Himself

NEW YORK (AP) — Producers of the television quiz show "Twenty-one" have released an 18-month old statement signed by Herbert Stempel, a former contestant, denying his recent allegations that the show was not on the level.

Daniel Enright, co-producer of "Twenty-one," yesterday turned over the statement, signed by Stempel March 7, 1957, to New York County Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan.

Enright quoted Stempel as saying in his written statement, "Any questions or answers which I gave were entirely my own and no aid or assistance were rendered to me by Mr. Enright Dan Enright, the producer nor any of his staff."

Stempel was quoted in newspaper this week as saying he was coached on answers before he went on the air and then was told to miss a question that enabled Charles van Doren to eliminate him.

A statement issued yesterday by Enright said that "other evidence is still being studied by the district attorney's office."

The New York Daily Mirror today quoted Stempel as saying: "Enright told me if I would sign the letter he would get me a job on the TV program 'Tic-Tac-Dough' at $250 a week."

The newspaper added that the job never developed.

A spokesman for "Twenty-one" said Stempel never was promisd a job. He said Stempel was used on two shows—after he lost out on "Twenty-one"—to warm up audiences but that he "froze the audience more than he warmed them."

The district attorney's office' investigation of TV shows stemmed from a complaint by a former contestant of the now defunct "Dotto" quiz program.

Hitting Tonight, Tomorrow

More Thunderstorms Due

Scattered thundershowers hitting the Pontiac area again tonight and tomorrow with temperatures turning cooler is the forecast of the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Tonight's low will be near 66-70 and the high tomorrow will reach 84-88. Southwesterly winds at 12-24 miles an hour will continue and be briefly higher during thundershowers.

Temperatures dipped four degrees during the morning thundershower shortly after 8.

No reports of damage have been reported in the Pontiac area but hail as large as golf balls was reported at Fremont in Newaygo County, in the west central part of the state.

Further east at Mount Morris, the U.S. Weather Bureau said the area was pelted by hail the size of chicken eggs.

The storm lasted less than a half hour but at Mount Morris trees, telephone and electric wires were knocked down. Some streets were flooded. A child struck by lightning at Mt. Pleasant was reported.

The Weather Bureau said thunderstorms struck such widely separated points as Escanaba, in the Upper Peninsula and Saginaw in the Central Lower Peninsula. Both cities had .8 inch of rain from midnight to dawn.

At Cheboygan, high winds and rain last night all but washed out the Northern Michigan Fair. Four large tents were blown down and an evening harness program was cancelled.

From a low of 70 degrees preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac, the mercury rose to 85 at 2 p.m.

Nationalist Islands Gird for Invasion

Red China Resumes Bombardment

From Our News Wires

TAIPEI, Formosa—Communist artillery opened fire against Nationalist outposts at both ends of the Formosa Strait tonight after a 13-hour silence during a typhoon that halted air and sea action in the area.

The Nationalist Ministry of Defense said Kaoteng in the Matsu group of islands at the northern end of the strait was shelled for the first time in several days with 16 rounds for 10 minutes not long after dark.

The Red guns also resumed shelling the typhoon-struck Quemoy Islands at the southern end of the strait at 8:15 p.m. (6:15 a.m. Pontiac time) with a bombardment against Little Quemoy.

There was no report of casualties in today's latest shelling, but Red guns were reported to have killed 695 Nationalist soldiers in earlier attacks this week.

The Red shore batteries zeroed-in key targets on the tiny outpost island long ago, making it possible for them to fire without visual observation through the torrential rains which blanketed the area.

A four-hour barrage before dawn dropped 390 high-explosive shells on Big Quemoy Island. There were no reports of casualties or damage.

The defense ministry said Chinese Nationalist counter-fire yesterday destroyed "many" Communist military positions on the Weitow Peninsula, seven miles northeast of Quemoy, where the Reds have mounted some of their biggest guns.

A heavy, two-hour Nationalist barrage knocked out more than 30 gun positions, setting fires at some points which burned for more than 30 minutes, the ministry said.

U.S. Army Secretary Wilbur Brucker arrived today to confer with President Chiang Kai-Shek and other Nationalist leaders on the Quemoy bombardment, which the Nationalists believe is a preliminary to an invasion attempt.

"I am anxious to be here at this

Local Gambling Suspect No Stranger to Trouble

Basil Burke, arrested Friday afternoon for investigation in raids on an alleged horse betting ring, is no stranger to gambling troubles.

Now 59 years old, Burke has a record of 16 arrests for petty swindles and gambling starting back in 1924.

His most recent conviction from Pontiac was an outgrowth of the 1946 one-man grand jury probe of the numbers racket here conducted by the late Judge George B. Hartrick. He entered State Prison for Southern Michigan at Jackson April 10, 1951 to serve a 1 to 5 year term.

While often in minor trouble his only other major conviction was in 1939 in Ohio for obtaining money under false pretense.

Burke was paroled from his 1951 sentence early in June of 1952, to Parole Officer Thomas King of Flint. He entered the University Hospital at Ann Arbor almost immediately for treatment of diabetes.

Leaun Harrelson, Pontiac Police Chief Herbert Straley, and William Watkins, a retired state police officer, all spoke favorably for his parole with the parole board.

Burke said Harrelson was a long-time friend from the days they worked together in the Yellow Coach plant; Straley told The Press he did not know Burke personally but was asked by his wife to intercede because of his illness. Burke said last night "If Straley interceded for me I never knew it. I

Labor Day Toll of Death Begins

Traffic Volume Grows Steadily Under Threat of Tragic Sceptre

Americans, bent on making the most of summer's last holiday, took to the highways this Labor Day weekend, and the toll in deaths began.

The number of traffic fatalities appeared modest as volume of cars on the move mounted. But the spectre of violent death appeared as drivers misjudged and crashed, and unwary pedestrians were hit by autos.

In Lynchburg, Va., three persons died Saturday when their car slammed into a tree. More typically, two cars collided on a road 20 miles northwest of Detroit Friday night. One occupant was taken to a morgue.

The National Safety Council forecast that it might be the last holiday for 420 persons. That's how many the NSC estimated will be killed in highway accidents in the 78-hour period from 6 p.m. local time Friday until midnight Monday.

The council also estimated 45 million cars will be on the move over the weeknd.

The highway death toll early in the weekend was widely scattered over the country.

The worst smashup reported during the first 10 hours occurred near Dayton, Ohio, where three men were killed when one vehicle tried to pass another and swerved into the path of an oncoming car. The driver of one of the cars was killed as were the driver and a passenger in the other car.

Illinois reported the weekend's first traffic death, which occurred at 7:59 p.m. (CDT) Friday. Police reported Frank Tiso Jr., 45 of Chicago, was struck and killed at a Galesburg, Ill., railroad crossing by a car driven by Robert Cirimotich, 19, of Galesburg.

Traffic Signs Disappearing in Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (UPI)—First it was shotgun shells made into home-made bombs to blow up mail boxes.

Now, it's missing traffic signs.

Police are mystified by a wave of vandalism that began last week with blasted mail boxes and now has switched to disappearing stop and other highway safety signs. Some 30 signs have been removed during the past few days. Sixteen signs were found in a dump in Ross Township yesterday.

Find 5 Lost on Cruiser

NEW YORK (AP) — The Golden Eye, a 47-foot cabin cruiser feared lost in Hurricane Daisy, was found safe but disabled today 250 miles off Norfolk, Va. The five men aboard, on what started a week ago as a trip from Bermuda to Brielle, N.J., were reported in good condition.

Huge Crowd at Fair

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan State Fair drew an opening day crowd of 54,464 Friday, second largest opening day crowd in history. Officials said the record was set in 1955, when 60,280 turned out.

Students, Oil Workers Stage 5-Hour Demonstration

Mexican Police Fire on Rioters

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Students and oil workers with separate complaints united in five hours of rioting yesterday before police quelled them with gunfire.

A bank employe was killed accidentally when a bullet fired at a mob smashed through a bank window. Hospital authorities said 33 persons were hospitalized with wounds, many from gunfire. Scores of others were known to have been injured by stones, clubs and tear gas grenades.

Most of the rioters were students ostensibly protesting poor bus service, and workers of Pemex, the government oil monopoly, who are involved in a union squabble that has no connection with the student complaints.

More trouble was feared at a student demonstration today that may attract sympathizing railway hands, telegraphers, teachers and oil workers. Student leaders predicted 100,000 persons would show up in a downtown plaza for the demonstration.

The leftist-led railway union, which has cheered all the dissident groups, raised the threat of another strike on the nationalized railways, paralyzed twice in recent months by wildcat walkouts. The Communist Party, blamed by many as prime instigator of the riots, endorsed action by both the students and oil workers.

One bright spot for harassed authorities was an announcement by city bus drivers that they were postponing their strike slated for tomorrow until after President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines' state of the union address Monday. The drivers voted to strike in retaliation for student action that caused the government to cancel a half-cent fare boost, costing them a promised salary raise.

The first fight broke out yesterday in front of Pemex headquarters when workers tried to break into the building and accused police of cruelty in tear gassing dissident workers in rioting Thursday. Two factions of oil workers have been fighting for control of their union.

Police and firemen broke up the Pemex crowd, which reportedly included students, railway workers, telegraphers and teachers. The demonstrators regathered, however, and students captured a bus and set it afire. Demonstrators hurled bricks against police tear gas. There was hand-to-hand fighting, with police using clubs.

Police arrested several persons for the bus burning. Then a youth of about 14 shouted: "We must rescue a companion held by the judicial police. Let's go and rescue him. Stones, sticks, clubs, bottles. Forward, companions!"

A mob of about 1,000 advanced on the federal district attorney's office. With tear gas and clubs unable to stop them, police fired about 100 shots into the crowd and laid down a heavy tear gas barrage. One of the shots hit the bank clerk.

Several other demonstrations swirled into clashes later as more troops were rushed into the center of the city. A meeting of about 2,000 workers turned into a riot and a police car was attacked. But by evening the situation had quieted.

Many tourists were reported leaving and a travel agency official said he feared cancellations by incoming tourists would begin soon.

Krushchev Favors A-Arms Ban Talks

LONDON (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev has agreed to East-West talks on banning nuclear weapons tests, but he indicated the Soviet Union might break its own ban and hold some more tests before an international suspension is arranged.

Moscow radio said last night the Soviet Premier accepted a week-old U.S.-British proposal to begin talks Oct. 31.

The Unittd States suggested holding them at U.N. headquarters in New York, but said Geneva would be acceptable. Khrushchev said Geneva would be most suitable.

The Western proposal was made Aug. 22, one day after Communist and Western scientists agreed in Geneva that a worldwide system of enforcing a ban by detecting nuclear explosions was "technically feasible." Khrushchev endorsed this scientific conclusion, which did not involve a political decision on actually banning tests.

Both the United States and Britain, who have nuclear test series going at present, offered to suspend their tests for a trial year from the beginning of political talks. They stipulated, however, that this would depend on Russia's continuing her own unilateral suspension of tests.

The Soviet Union announced March 31, shortly after ending a lengthy series of nuclear tests, that it had halted all nuclear explosions but would feel free to start again if the United States and Britain failed to stop also. Both nations had already announced test schedules.

Khrushchev said Russia "naturally cannot allow the security interests of the Soviet Union to be prejudiced" by Western tests. They "relieve the Soviet Union of the obligation it had assumed unilaterally," the Soviet boss said.

He did not elaborate with any indication that Russia might have more tests in the offing.

The U.S. government announced yesterday plans for 10 low-powered atomic blasts in Nevada before Oct. 31. Britain is currently conducting a nuclear test series in the central Pacific.

GOP Leaders Eye Candidates

Back Four New Faces for State Party Ticket as Convention Opens

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Four newcomers to statewide politics tentatively were approved by Republican leaders today for as many state ticket vacancies to be filled by the Michigan Republican convention.

While Jason L. Honigman, Detroit attorney, and Allen Weatherwax, Jackosn druggist, appeared sure shot choices, the possibility remained that the other two might be upset in delegate balloting late in the day.

On shakier ground were Arthur J. Hannah, Grand Rapids poultry breeder aspiring to the secretary of state nomination, and John Vaughan Clements, L'Anse insurance man, running for auditor general.

Honigman, 54, had the attorney general nomination all but wrapped up. Weatherwax, 51, was nearly as strong for state treasurer. Hannah, a brother of Michigan State University President John A. Hannah, is 53 and Clements 45.

At about 3:30 a.m., Bagwell told newsmen he would welcome all four to the state ticket he heads by virtue of nomination in the Aug. 5 primary, along with U. S. Sen. Charles E. Potter, seeking re-election, and Rep. Donald A. Brown of Royal Oak, GOP choice for lieutenant governor.

Bagwell also put the acceptable tag on Donald J. Addy, 33, of St. Claire Shores, bidding for the auditor general spot and said it was perfectly all right with him if Addy carried his fight to the floor.

As the formal convention opening neared, Vincent J. Murray of Detroit also kept alive a drive for auditor general, although it apparently lacked steam.

State Sen. Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma) declared he was still in the running for the secretary of state nomination. Mark Zarbock, 33, of Kalamazoo refused to give up his push for attorney general.

With the leading contenders averaging just over 50 years old, it appeared the revolt of youth heralded in some pre-convention speculation had fizzled.

As he had promised, Bagwell used his influence in the slate making sparingly through the trying early morning hours when agreeing on a suitable choice for secretary of state posed a knotty problem.

tious deliberation, yet always assuming that Michigan is going back to their party in November. As proof of this, they cite the keen rivalry for places on the ticket, quite mindful of the days when such a nomination always meant election.

With no candidate for any of the convention's nominations from Oakland County, we are in a good position to help pick a winner, as it eliminates most of the evils of political horse trading.

At the caucuses talks also were made by a number of the candidates who had been chosen at the primary. With all of them, the matter of getting out the Republican vote is the primary problem.

The Convention Resolutions Committee also got an Oakland County nod for its work. Our people seemed determined to present a united front in the campaign and election. They feel that divided factions in the party were the principal cause of its decreased vote in recent elections.

It can never be said that anything emanating from Oakland County will create an adverse Republican color in the vote on Nov. 4.

Beulah Bureau Is Caught Short

$1,250 Missing in Audit by Sec. of State Office After Branch Closes

LANSING (UPI)—A shortage of more than $1,250 in the Beulah branch office in Benzie County has been discovered by the Secretary of State's Office.

Deputy Secretary of State Bill Farnum said the shortage was found after an audit of the branch office. The audit was prompted by an unauthorized closing of the office.

Farnum said the office was closed last Friday and auditors checked the books on orders from the Detroit office.

The audit, completed yesterday afternoon indicated $1,251.05 was short and the secretary of state will confer with Benzie County Prosecutor Marion Paul next Wednesday on the question of possible prosecution.

The branch manager, Mrs. Donna Grandstaff, returned to Beulah Wednesday, Farnum said, and offered no explanation for the shortage. She said she and her husband were on a long weekend.

The Secretary of State's Office said if other reports were destroyed of mislaid, additional amounts may be discovered at a later date.

Horse Betting Ring Smashed by Raiders

building said Burke rented the apartment five months ago, and that he was unaware of what was going on. "He said he was going to use it as an office, that's all I know," the owner said.

Both Pruzor and Apley were taken at the service station Apley operated at the corner of Perry and Water streets. Apley was pumping gas when detectives drove up. Pruzor was arrested shortly afterwards when he was entering the station.

All those arrested were taken without a struggle, Lt. Robinson said.

The raids were carried out in a complete air of secrecy under State Police direction. Even Police Chief Herbert W. Straley did not know of them.

The raids came as such a surprise that detectives, after they had made their entrances, answered several calls from bettors wanting to know if their horse came in.

"We're out of business," Patrolman Richard A. Navarre, a member of the Pontiac police vice squad, told a caller to the Gullett five-room brick home.

Lt. Robinson, who led the raid on Burke's Auburn Heights hideout, reported several long-distance phone calls received there.

After the arrests, the persons were taken to the Prosecutor's Office for questioning. Those waiting to be questioned posed for photographers and chatted amicably with reporters.

Confiscated from Burke's apartment in Auburn Heights were two pads of bets officials said he had received over the telephone. One smaller scratch pad had 37 pages of bets, seemingly undecipherable to a novice.

Intermingled with these horse bets were a scattering of "numbers" bets, Robinson said. But he emphasized that horse racing bets made up the great majority of the ring's business.

Around $4,000 was taken from persons arrested in Friday's raids.

In addition, Robinson said that "every place we hit we got evidence of horse betting."

Four 37-page search warrants were signed late yesterday by Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum. They were also signed by State Police Detectives Stephen Galat, Thadeush Niewiada, and Charles V. Frank.

When the No. 1 apartment of the Apleys was raided, Mrs. Apley was ill in bed, and was not taken into custody. Betting slips were found in the bedroom and dining room.

Detectives entered No. 12 Orchard Court apartment occupied by the Burkes and discovered a cabinet drawer heaped full of betting slips, pari-mutuel tickets, and racing forms. Mrs. Burke, who sobbed hysterically during the search, was arrested in the apartment.

Pruzor, who was a star witness in the 1945 Aristocrat Club gambling trial in Pontiac, signed a confession admitting he has been a bookie since 1954.

"I'm a gambler," he told Taylor, who handled the questioning. "That's all I've ever been."

Taylor said Pruzor confessed to often "splitting" $50 bets with Apley, with each taking a cut of the bookie cost of placing the bet.

Apley also signed a confession, Taylor said, admitting he had been a bookie for the past five years.

Both Gullett and his wife refused to answer questions of detectives.

Both City Manager Walter K. Willman and Director of Finance Oscar Eckman expressed surprise when they learned of Gullet's arrest.

Eckman, who under the City Charter appoints all finance personnel for the city, announced "he'll be suspended until further notice.

"I never had any suspicions at all about him. He was always on the up and up as far as I ever knew."

Eckman said Gullett was moved into now City Treasurer Walter A. Giddings' old deputy job in 1955, when Giddings replaced Murray M. Ashbaugh as treasurer.

The Day in Birmingham

Churches Set Schedules for Increased Attendance

BIRMINGHAM—With the return of vacationers, Birmingham churches are preparing busy fall and winter schedules.

The First Methodist Church returns to its three service schedule tomorrow morning with sermons at 8:30, 9:45 and 11:15.

Beginning Sept. 7, the church will provide a nursery for tiny babies as well as pre-school children for the first time. Under the direction of Virginia Seger, the nursery will be open during the last two services each Sunday.

On Sept. 7, Embury Methodist Church will begin holding two morning services at 10 and 11:15.

The First Presbyterian Church will hold morning worship Sept. 7 at 8:30, 9:45 and 11:15.

Among the first of the church societies to reopen fall programs is the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church. Members will meet at 11:30 a.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Earl Bramblett, 161 Lone Pine Rd., for a buffet luncheon.

Dr. Emil Kontz will report on the annual Baptist convention held in Cincinnati, Ohio. Mrs. Kontz will lead the devotional hour.

Mary Jo Clark, founder of the Mack Laboratories in Detroit, has recently opened a branch at 256 Martin St. The firm is equipped to perform all types of clinical tests for hospitals, doctors and other laboratories.

Mrs. Catherine Rohrer of Harmon street and Miss Joann Charnawskas of Old Court are among the winners of the Michigan Needlework Competition conducted last month. The display may be seen through Sept. 6 in the auditorium of the J. L. Hudson Co., downtown store.

Third Car Sought in Accident Probe for minor injuries and released. Investigating the incident are Deputies Kenneth G. Hirt and Bruce Welch.

They said today that Venos and Boyd had agreed to meet at the White Lake Inn, Ormond Rd. and Jackson Blvd., in White Lake Township, after Venos got off duty at 11:30 p.m. Saturday.

They planned to talk over old times with a bartender there with whom they had gone to school, said deputies. After a short while an unidentified man recognized Venos as the officer who had arrested him at one time, Venos told deputies.

"When the man looked like he was going to make trouble the officers decided to leave rather than jeopardize their standing as police officers," said Hirt.

When outside, the officers said the Oldsmobile approached them and the driver asked directions to Elizabeth Lake road and M59. The officers offered to lead the driver into Pontiac.

About 1½ miles east of Ormond road on M59 the accident occurred. Boyd said that Venos was in front of him and the other car behind.

"I looked at the speedometer and it registered 55 miles an hour. Then I looked in the rear view mirror and saw headlights from the car behind," Boyd said.

"Suddenly there was a thud and the next thing I knew I was flying across the road."

Deputies believe Boyd's car struck the rear of Venos' auto, sending both out of control. Tire marks also show the possibility that a fourth car coming from the opposite direction may have caused the accident.

Venos' car skidded sideways and struck a tree upside down as it went into a roll. The rear part broke off and the front portion then struck another tree, throwing Venos seven feet into the air where he hit the tree and fell to the pavement, deputies reported.

Boyd was thrown from his car onto the road shoulder. The unidentified third car evidently wasn't involved but didn't stop.

Tire tracks show the fourth car swerved off the road and then crossed the exact point of impact. Deputies are trying to ascertain whether it crossed this spot before, after, or at the moment the impact between the cars took place.

Red China Pounds Offshore Islands

Brucker was accompanied to Taipei by Gen. I. D. White, commander of U.S. ground forces in the Pacific, who will sit in at most of his conferences. The secretary meets Chiang tomorrow.

In Washington, U.S. officials braced today for a possible Red invasion of the Nationalist offshore islands over the Labor Day weekend.

Such a move would bring a showdown on whether the United States intends to defend the islands and become involved in combat with Red Chinese forces.

The State Department, under the command of Undersecretary of State Christian R. Herter, kept its Far East experts working at their desks or on call at home during the three-day holiday.

Top officials were away as a new tenseness continued to build up in the Far East in the wake of Red China's heavy shelling of Chinese Nationalist offshore islands.

President Eisenhower was vacationing at Newport, R.I., Secretary of State Dulles was on a sailing holiday at Lake Ontario and Walter S. Robertson, assistant secretary of state for Far East affairs, was not expected back from vacation until Tuesday.

Eisenhower and Dulles have laid down a tough line for facing up to Peiping's threats to attack the offshore islands lying within sight of the China mainland.

Officials said the administration has decided to draw the line on any aggressive expansionism by Red China. But they refused to say flatly whether this meant the U.S. 7th Fleet, now on alert in the Formosa Straits, would fight to defend Quemoy, Matsu and other offshore Nationalist island outposts.

never saw him except once in 1951 before he was chief."

Burke also was offered employment with a Flint trucking firm upon his release, but he entered the University Hospital instead of taking the job.

Last night Burke, visibly shaken by his arrest six years and two months after being released from prison for the same offense, told police very little, saying he wanted to talk to his attorney.

Burke did break his silence long enough to say he sells foreign sports cars for Louis C. Linteau, former secretary-treasurer of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614.

He said he drives an Italian sports car registered in the name of Linteau's wife.

James Pruzor, who is charged by investigators with picking up bets and delivering them to Apley at his gasoline station on South Perry street, and referred to as "Chinaboy" was mentioned in testimony of Robert P. Scott before the Senate Rackets Committee this month.

Scott, former Teamsters official and now a bitter foe of the union's president, James R. Hoffa, said Pruzor had approached him and asked him to set up William Hoffa, James' brother, in the numbers racket in the county. Scott said he refused.

From Rockies to Great Lakes

Storms Hit Wide Area

By The Associated Press

Showers and thunderstorms tumbled across the northern tier of states from the Rockies through the Great Lakes today while the midcontinent sweltered under more hot and humid weather.

Hurricane Daisy blew itself out over the Atlantic south of Newfoundland and its diminishing effect on the north and middle Atlantic states was clear skies and warm temperatures.

The damp pattern along the Northern border area brought cooling temperatures, but the more pleasant readings were not expected to bring any immediate relief to the sultry central section of the country.

The rain area was expected to extend eastward into interior sections of the Northeast during the day with a few showers ranging southward into the mid-Mississippi Valley.

Rainfall was light for the most part, although some locally heavy thunderstorms Friday night produced high winds, heavy showers and hail at Winnebago and Pemberton, in south central Minnesota. Hailstones one to two inches in diameter were reported at Pemberton.

Showers diminished in the southern Rockies and in the Pacific Northwest. An unbroken belt of mostly clear skies covered much of the country's Southern half.

Most sections from the southern Plains to the Atlantic were expected to receive considerable sunshine today and fair skies were on tap for most of the area west of the Rockies.

Father, 3 Sons Burn to Death; 2 Escape

ROUND LAKE, Ill. (UPI) — A 46-year-old father and three of his four sons burned to death early today when fire swept their one-story cottage at nearby Round Lake Beach.

The dead were identified as James Olsen, a Libertyville, Ill., metal fabricator, his sons, James Jr., 16, Michael, 6, and Joseph 4. Olsen's wife, Ruth, was taken to St. Theresa's Hospital in Waukegan, Ill., in critical condition suffering from third degree burns over her entire body.

A fourth son, Robert, escaped by leaping to safety from his bedroom, and sounding the alarm.

Dag, Egyptians to Talk

CAIRO (UPI)—Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi said today U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold will meet leaders here, starting Wednesday. The talks, a part of the U. N. executive's Middle East peace mission, will be extended "as circumstances may determine," Fawzi said.

Little Rock Board Undecided

When Will School Open?

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Little Rock school board today pondered a question important to the South and the nation: When will Central High School open for the fall term?

School Supt. Virgil Blossom announced the board will decide Monday.

Wrapped up in this point is the question of whether Central High opens as a segregated institution with federal court blessing.

If it opens Sept. 8—the date previously set by the board—it will be under no court orders to integrate.

If the board sets the fall term's start at Sept. 15, the U.S. Supreme Court may have by that time ordered Central High to continue desegregation for a second straight year.

Figuring in the board's decision, Blossom said, is the Supreme Court's erroneous assumption school will not open until Sept. 15. For this reason, Chief Justice Earl Warren Thursday called for a second hearing Sept. 11 on whether Central High should integrate immediately or follow lower court rulings giving Little Rock a breather.

The school board itself asked the courts to permit the delay. Demonstrators rioted and federal troops were called in last fall when nine Negro children entered previously all-white Central.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus withheld his signature from a bill passed by this week's extraordinary session of the legislature which calls for a Sept. 15 opening.

Thus, if the board stands pat and Faubus does not sign the bill, the Supreme Court will be confronted with a segregated Central High before it can act.

In Richmond, Va. Virginia's pupil Placement Board, which by state law has all authority to assign pupils to public schoos, had indicated it may inject itself into the Norfolk and Charlottesville integration cases.

The board was in session here yesterday when school officials in Norfolk told Federal Dist. Judge Walter E. Hoffman they were ready to assign 17 Negro pupils to white schools. At the conclusion of its meeting, the placement board issued a statement saying:

"The Pupil Placement Board cannot voluntarily recognize as valid any assignment of any pupil to any school in Virginia not made by it, in accordance with Virginia law. It is prepared to act promptly in every case in which it has been properly supplied the necessary information to justify its actions under the pupil placement law of Virginia."

Separate Engine to Run Accessories May Be Available on Autos Shortly

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—A small separate engine to power all accessories independently of the main power plant may be available on conventional automobiles in the next few years.

Such a unit already has been tested by auto makers. Auto engineers say there is virtually no limit to what may be obtained from the smaller unit. In some instances those tested are driving a generator developing 110 volts of alternating current.

An eventual switch to alternating current generators in car ignition systems long has been predicted by automotive engineers. For most uses it will be necessary to convert the power output to direct current. However, the engineers explain, the production of alternating current is more dependable and can be done with a small overall package.

They say also that availability of 110-volt alternating current in millions of automobiles would be of incalculable value in cases of local or national emergencies.

The small engines so far tested do not depend in any way upon the car's main power plant. They have separate fuel tanks and operate at a constant level unaffected by the varying speeds of the car engine.

Car engineers do not promise the units for 1959. But some could come in 1960, probably as extra cost options. The probable cost has not been indicated.

The units should prove as great an engineering advance as automatic transmissions, power steering and power brakes. Some industry experts say the separate engines probably would be more quickly accepted by motorists than were fuel injection and air suspension systems.

Adoption of the accessories engine probably would switch all presently hydraulically-operated devices to electric operation. That presents no major problem. Automotive engineers have demonstrated that gear shifting and fuel injection can be handled electrically.

They also have shown that doors can be opened and closed, luggage compartments locked and unlocked with the push of a button and numerous other devices can be similarly actuated.

The industry's engineers have been working on a separate power supply for accessories for many years. With the growing accumulation of powered accessories tests began with separate hydraulic power sources. Right now electronics have supplanted hydraulic power in the experimental work.

Certainly future automobiles will make increasing use of electric power. A look at the operating mechanism of the experimental cars is somewhat bewildering. It resembles the inside of a huge calculating machine.

The major objective of the accessories engine has been to reduce the power drain on the main power plant. The drain has reached sizable proportions with the increasing number of accessories developed in recent years.

Parley Breaks Down on Fisheries Dispute

PARIS (AP)—NATO announced yesterday that efforts to solve the Iceland fisheries dispute had broken down, but it was hoped talks would be resumed later.

No date has been set for a resumption of talks although Iceland's threat to extend its territorial waters to 12 nautical miles goes into effect Sunday midnight.

Britain plans to guard its fishing fleet in the area with gunboats unless an agreement is reached. Iceland's present territorial limit is four miles.

LABOR DAY

J. L. VOORHEES

M. E. SIPLE

Monday, September 1st, is Labor Day. On this day all men in this tough, healthy, mighty force will wear the crown of achievement; they have made America a strong, enduring Nation, a Nation without economic barriers, without cast or color-line, where the most humble drive new automobiles, where their wives wear clothes equal in style to the richest in other parts of the world. Their homes have electronic wonders, their children attend schools models of beauty and efficiency; dignity, on the job, at home, on the street, covers these men like a blanket. They are the financial back-bone of this era; the Banker gladly lends them money, the merchant bids for their business, Tourist Resorts, Air Lines, Spaas in Europe welcome them, and the rest of us cheer you ever forward, ever upward to greater and greater achievements.

Our hats are off to Labor.

Vanguard Lands Near S. Africa

Navy Announces Rocket Soared for 7,500 Miles Into South Atlantic

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy said today the Vanguard satellite launched from Cape Canaveral, Fla., May 27, traveled 7,500 miles into the South Atlantic instead of going into orbit.

The 20 inch, 21½ pound sphere and the 50-pound third stage of the Vanguard rocket were intended to reach an altitude to 300 or 400 miles and then to go into orbit.

Instead, the second stage lifted the rocket to 368 miles, a naval research laboratory report showed.

The second stage engine failed to cut off properly, causing the rocket to fly with its nose at an upward angle instead of parallel to the earth.

The third stage, flying in a high arc, fired at the wrong angle and climbed to a peak altitude of 2,200 miles.

An impact predictor device showed that if the satellite successfully returned to earth it landed near the east coast of South Africa, u,500 miles from the launching site. However, the laboratory was unable to determine whether the sphere survived the heat of its re-entry into the earth's atmosphere, because radio signals from it failed before that point was reached.

The sphere flew 20 minutes, the laboratory said.

It added that even though the third stage was at the wrong orbital angle when it fired, the instruments in the satellite were placed "in the space environment" long enough to be of value.

The laboratory account of the firing was made available after the Baltimore Evening Sun reported that the satellite had made the horizontal trip instead of orbiting.

Legislators to Vote on Cleaning Suit

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI) — Among the weighty problems facing the Iowa Legislature next year will be the question of whether the state must pay for cleaning a suit smeared with lipstick.

Richard P. Fain of Allerton petitioned the Iowa attorney general's office to pay $2.50 for cleaning the suit. He said lipstick smeared on the walls of the spiral staircase leading to the top of the capitol building had rubbed off on his clothing.

Confident Living

Serious Reading Brings Mental Exercise, Insight

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Have you ever considered the number of decisions you have to make each day, both large and small alike? They may be trivial choices, such as what necktie or dress to wear —or they may be decisions that will affect your whole life, such as whom to marry, what job to take or which way to turn.

PEALE

Every day we must make decisions. And, if we are going to get along well in life, the majority of these must be successful ones.

Sometimes we try to delay or avoid decisions. But this is never the final answer because, ultimately, we must decide and we must decide right.

Actually it is good practice to toughen our mental abilities by reading and thinking about big problems—not only our own, but the problems of the world. Perhaps you are not a serious reader. You read the newspapers but do you do much more than scan the headlines, the columns and comic strips?

How long is it since you read and applied hard thinking to the editorial page or profounder articles on international affairs? It is important to take physical exercise but it is equally vital to exercise the mind's power to think.

Expose yourself to some serious reading matter on international affairs, politics, and philosophy. How long has it been since you wrestled with a tough book? And I mean a really tough one—so hard to understand that maybe even the author was straining his own understanding when he wrote it.

MIND MUST BE SHARP

A dull knife won't cut. Neither will a dull mind cut through knotty problems of life to reach answers that really answer.

The best book I know for sharpening your mind so that you can develop the mental power to make successful decisions is the Bible. From the Bible you get insight along with mental exercise.

If you will make a practice of reading at least a chapter of the Bible a day and really think about its meaning and let it soak into your mind you'll never have any trouble with making successful decisions.

A friend of mine works at one of the big international banks in New York City and his advice is constantly sought in arriving at complex decisions in high finance. Yet, although he is keen and sharp, with a truly penetrating understanding, he is a modest, self-effacing, humble man.

I once asked him how he kept his mind so keen. He told me that he arises each morning before seven. He reads the Bible until 7:30 and meditates deeply on what he reads.

He is an accomplished linguist and, so, one day he reads the Bible in English, the next day in French, and the next in German. He says he understands the different shades of meaning better this way. After this mental and spiritual exercise, he is ready for his office and day's decisions.

He likes best to read St. Paul because he thinks St. Paul is "one of the toughest minds that ever lived." He once said to me: "Do you remember, back on the farm, when you wanted to whet a knife? You laid it on a turning grindstone?

"Well, that is what I do with my mind. I whet on the great mind of St. Paul. I keep it sharp on one of the keenest minds that ever lived."

Keep your mind sharp—your insights keen and discerning. By such method you will be successful with life's decisions.

Churches on Okinawa Join Protestant Council

With the organization of the "Okinawa Christian Council of Churches" in the Ryukyu Islands, a new Protestant council has been added to the growing family of the ecumenical church around the world.

This "symbol of evangelical cooperation in Christian endeavor" brings into fellowship several denominational and interdenominational agencies in these Islands, scene of World War II struggles.

The largest of the participating groups is the United Church of Christ of Okinawa, with which as in Japan Methodists, Presbyterians, Reformed, Evangelical and Reformed, Disciples and other mission boards in the United States cooperate.

Other denominations with churches and evangelistic program in the Ryukyus now united for cooperation include the Episcopal Church which also has filial ties with "the Seikokwai," or Holy Catholic Church in Japan, the Baptists who are related to the American Baptist Missionary Society, and the Seventh Day Adventists.

A downtown Bible and bookstore in the capital city of Naha is rapidly becoming the recognized "Christian Center" for many types of activities in Okinawa and extending out to the various islands in the Archipelago.

The Rev. Chuzo Nakazato, pastor of the Shuri Church of Christ, and one of the veteran Christian leaders in the Islands is the chairman of the new Council.

Canon W. C. Heffner, of the Protestant Episcopal Mission, and the Rev. Walter W. Krider, of the Methodist Board of Missions, are officials in the organization.

Musicale, Tuesday at 8

Joe May, of Los Ageles, will sing at the Musicale at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Liberty Baptist Church. The affair is sponsored by the Reed Singers and board of trustees. The Rev. S. M. Edwards is pastor.

REV. CLARENCE L. CREWS

1-Act Comedy at Macedonia

Rev. Clarence Crews Speaker at 3:30 P.M. Sunday Service

"The Slabtown District Convention," a comedy in one act, will be presented at 7:30 tonight in the Macedonia Baptist Church, 510 Alton Ave.

Given by the Shavers Group, the play will benefit the building fund.

Mrs. Olivia Keel will portray the president of the convention and her husband, J. L. Keel, will preach a message. More than 60 persons make up the cast of delegates. Mrs. Alfrieda Shavers is director.

Sponsored by the Young People of Macedonia, the Rev. Clarence L. Crews, associate pastor of Tabernacle Baptist Church, will speak at the 3:30 p.m. service Sunday.

Macedonia Baptists will soon begin the construction of a new church at Motor and Pearsall.

At 8 p.m. Sunday, the Rev. Ford B. Reed, of New Hope Baptist Church, founder of the church, will preach. Reports will be given of the District Association meeting and Wolverine Baptist State Convention.

Mrs. L. B. Jackson is president of the association and the Rev. L. R. Miner, pastor.

National President, State Fair Preacher

Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg of St. Louis, president of the National Council of Churches, will be the guest preacher at 8 a.m. Sunday at the eighth annual Sunrise Service in the band shell at the Michigan State Fair.

Presiding will be Dr. Paul T. Rankin, president of the Detroit Council of Churches and assistant superintendent of Detroit schools. The program is sponsored by the Michigan State Fair Commission and the Detroit council.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams will bring greetings. Music will be provided by the Detroit Police Band and choir of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church.

Orchard Lake Pastor Speaker

S. O. Sarto Represents Men of Church Council at Synod Meeting

The Rev. Edward D. Auchard who has returned from a vacation in the Southwest, will preach on "Peter's Shadow" at both the 9 and 11 a.m. services in the Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian.

"Calvary Conquered My Heart," will be sung by guest soloist, Diane Elliott, at both worship hours.

The Christian Education Committee will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday with William Doggett in charge.

The Chancel Choir will start rehearsals on Sept. 11. At 8 p.m. Thursday the group will have a Fall party.

J. O. Sarto will represent the Orchard Lake Church Friday and Saturday at the Michigan Synod Council of Presbyterian Men at Alma.

Evangelist to Preach at Providence Baptist

The Rev. Sylvester Golden of Greenville, S. C., will conduct a revival next week at the Providence Missionary Baptist Church.

Services will begin at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow and continue through Sept. 5.

The Rev. Mr. Golden is a graduate of Benedict College in Columbia, S. C., and American Baptist and Union Seminaries of New Orleans, La.

David Johnson to Speak

Speaking Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in the St. James Missionary Baptist Church, 345 Bagley St., will be eight-year-old David Johnson of Ferndale. The Rev. V. L. Lewis is pastor of St. James.

A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another, even as I have loved you.

Sunday School to Enter Contest

Adults, Young People Working on Rockets, Songs, Skits, Signs

Robert Gavette, Sunday School superintendent, announces the Marimont Baptist Church will participate in the "Christian Life" international Sunday School Contest.

The six-week contest will begin on Oct. 12 and continue through Nov. 16.

Working out details for the local church are Mrs. Guy Poppy, E. A. Lundeen, Floyd Bartley, David Simpson, Bert Bexell, Mr. Gavette and the pastor, the Rev. Philip Somers.

The theme for the Marimont school will be "Orbit Around the Sun." The pastor's wife and Mr. Lundeen are concentrating on a theme song.

Working on promotional material and skits are Mrs. Wanda Smades and Mrs. Agnes Hassezahl.

Young people will assist in making rockets and signs.

The Sunday School has an average attendance of 350. A goal of 800 has been set to orbit and 1,000 to keep in orbit.

Congregation Marking Pastor's Anniversary

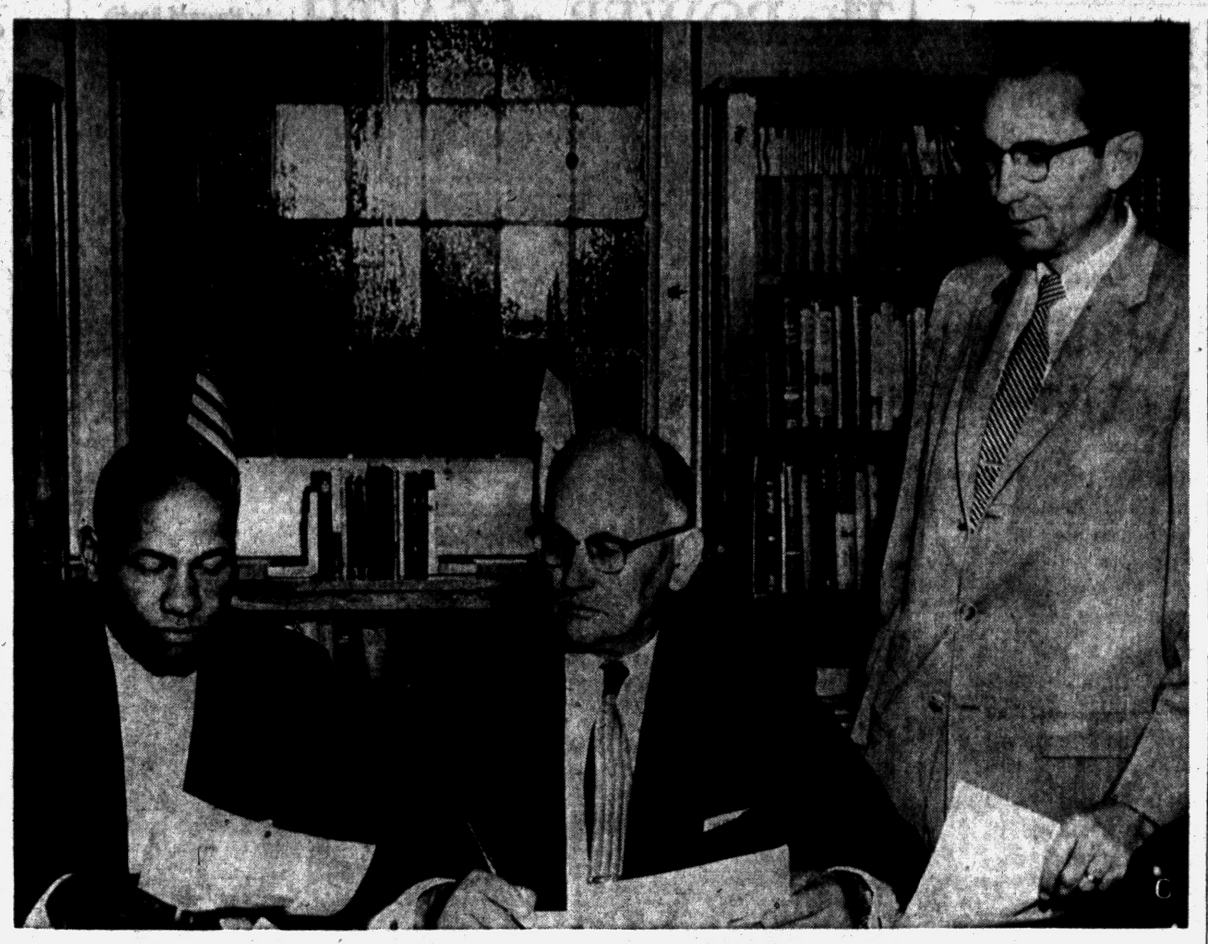

Dr. Richard H. Dixon Jr., pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, will preach at the 3:30 p.m. service Sunday in the Bray Temple CME, Rockwell and Bagley street. His choir and congregation will accompany him.

Members of the host church are observing the fifth year of the Rev. R. A. Britton as pastor. Special services were held all this week.

Preaching Is Free

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Oscar Capo, a Greyhound bus driver whose run covers the 160-mile overseas highway along the islands between here and Key West, starts the trip with a short gospel talk to his passengers, and ends the trip by reading them a verse of scripture.

PLANNING PROGRAM — Meeting at the First Presbyterian Church, yesterday, to plan activities of the Pontiac Pastors' Association were (from left) Dr. Richard H. Dixon Jr. of Trinity Baptist Church, the new president; Rev. Myron R. Everett of Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church, secretary; and the Rev. Galen E. Hershey who is associate pastor of the host church and retiring president of the organization. The first meeting of the year will be at 10:30 a. m. Friday in the First Presbyterian Church with lunch following at noon.

Teacher Training Course Offered Sunday Schools

Beginning on Sept. 16 and continuing through Nov. 4 the Evangelical Teacher Training Course in pedagogy will be offered at Christian Literature Sales, 39 Oakland Ave.

Classes will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. every Tuesday in the multipurpose room of the store. Anyone interested in a Sunday School training program may join.

The two sessions each evening will last 45 minutes with a 15-minute break. During these periods special features in audio-visuals will be introduced.

The contest of the 12-hour credit course will include the preparation of the teacher, aims, methods and aids in teaching, the laws of teaching, art of questioning, use of illustrations, making the application, testing and teaching, assembling and organizing materials, and maintaining order.

Mrs. Glora Luck of the Christian Literature Sales staff and a former youth director, will be the teacher.

"We urge leaders to link their Sunday School with hundreds of others that believe teaching is big business for God," said Mrs. Luck, an approved instructor.

Barbara Fellows, another staff member, will present two sessions in non-projected visual aids and the Rev. Don Bauer of Cathedral Films will conduct a course, one evening, on projected visual aids.

The course is one of six units of work, each 12 lessons, consisting of Old Testament Law and History, Old Testament Poetry and Prophecy, New Testament, Child Study, Pedagogy and Sunday School Work.

"The teacher training course introduced at our store this fall is just one of the many ways we are endeavoring to assist churches and Sunday Schools in this area," stated Floyd P. Miles, manager.

MRS. GLORA LUCK

46 Missioners to Go Abroad

Young People Leaving on Three-Year Service for Methodist Church

Forty-six young men and women will be leaving the United States this fall to begin three years of overseas mission service for the Methodist Church.

This is the twelfth consecutive year that the three-year missionaries, or "3's" as they are called, have gone out to overseas countries under the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church. The 3's will go to 18 countries of Africa, Asia, Europe and North and South America.

Representing 22 states, Hawaii and Canada, the group includes not only Methodists but members of the United Church of Christ (Congregational-Christian), the Evangelical United Brethren Church and the Disciples of Christ.

Among the 3's are Negroes, Niseis and a young man of Mexican descent. Most are 1958 college graduates.

The 3's will do varied types of work on the mission field, including evangelism, teaching from the kindergarten through university levels, agricultural demonstration, social work and youth and student counseling.

For six weeks ending July 31, the group studied and worked together in a special training course at the Scarritt College for Christian Workers, Nashville, Tenn. They attended classes in linguistics, anthropology, the Bible, basic Christian beliefs, arts and crafts, Christianity and communism, and the missionary heritage and vocation. All classes were designed to prepare them for missionary service.

Methodists Building Caribbean Mission

The first church building is under construction in the newest home mission field of the Methodist Church, the island of St. Croix in the Virgin Islands.

The new church is being built at a junction on the main road of St. Croix, and the first unit is to cost $35,000.

Land has been given to the Methodist Church by a Puerto Rican businessman, Felix Peterson, who donated the site because of his interest in Methodist work among Puerto Rican immigrants to the Virgin Islands.

Dating back only to 1951, the mission of the Methodist Church on St. Croix was established specifically to minister to 4,800 Puerto Ricans who have moved to the island in the last 10 years.

The work on St. Croix is the first and only mission of the Methodist Church in the Virgin Islands, which are a territory of the United States.

Church of God Pastors Invited Back to School

ANDERSON, Ind. — Church of God ministers in Indiana and surrounding states have been invited back to school Sept. 2-5 for the first Ministers' Week program sponsored by the Graduate School of Theology at Anderson College.

Dean Adam W. Miller calls the institute, "a new adventure in learning, fellowship and sharing." He and the School of Theology's faculty will lead courses in doctrine, church history, Christian education and Bible.

LUTHERANS BELIEVE THE BIBLE IS

That's really a startling statement. Would your friends believe you if you showed them an old letter and told them Shakespeare had written it to you? But now your Lutheran friends are telling you that the Bible is a whole series of letters God has written to you! That is hard to believe.

How could you be convinced? Perhaps by a handwriting analysis? Try it. God has written things about Himself in mountains and mines, in seas and scenery. Compare that divine writing with these letters, and find that the Bible tells even more wonderful things about the majesty and power of a tremendous Creator.

Another thing—read these letters from God and you find the author knows more about you than your closest friend. He knows things about you that you don't care to admit even to yourself! The things you have said and thought and done would make even your friends dislike you—how much more the holy God!

But read more! The letters say God came into the world in Jesus Christ—because He loved us, "while we were yet sinners." "God sent not His Son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through Him might be saved." (John 3, 17) These letters are love letters—from a Writer whose love is divine!

We can't prove to you that the Bible is God's Word. But even God didn't make that His first concern. He wants to convince you of His love and urge you to believe in Him for forgiveness. And when you believe that, you'll also know whose Word the Bible is! We do! We're sure that the Bible is God's Word—and we're mightly glad He wrote!

It Seems to Me . . .

City Welcomes General Motors Corporation's New Executives

Top management of Pontiac industry has undergone changes in which this community is vitally interested. Everyone in the area has a tremendous stake in the capabilities and actions of the top level men operating General Motors. In good times, some 30,000 people actually work for them directly or indirectly. And the livelihood of the rest of the community depends upon the success with which they make and market our goods.

FREDERIC G. DONNER becomes the Chairman of the Board. I've met him at press parties but he wouldn't know me from Mr. ADAM'S well known ox. However, I have a concept of Mr. DONNER through things the late CHARLES T. FISHER, JR. told me on several occasions.

"Chick" served with him on the finance committee and he always spoke in the highest terms of his ability and of the man personally. This affection and high respect, leaves me with the firm belief that GM's new boss must be a top flight citizen in all connections. He possesses a brilliant mind of his own and yet he is always ready to weigh the suggestions of others. This is vital in a corporation the size of GM. According to friends, he's a "financial genius."

When the Board of Directors agrees upon a man for the highest office, and therefore the highest industrial post in the land, that fact in itself is significant. This large group of capable citizens will never settle for a phony. They won't gamble or speculate.

Pontiac greets Mr. DONNER warmly. In no place in all the world is General Motors any more important, Mr. DONNER. Remember, this, Sir: each morning, if just one citizen from every home within the corporate limits of Pontiac went to work in our General Motors Plants, you would be several thousand workers short in good times. You employ that big a per cent of our people.

That's how vitally our community's interested in you.

No city is more completely dependent upon General Motors. It has been a good relationship, Mr. Donner. You've been real good neighbors throughout the years.

And we've tried to reciprocate.

When economic factors are on a more even keel, we want you to come here and say "hello." We'll roll out the red carpet and Chief Pontiac will greet you with all the neighborliness possible.

John F. Gordon, new President, is an Oakland County resident and an exceedingly capable and accomplished industrialist. His name had been bruited about a bit in the cloak rooms prior to his elevation, based on a general recognition of ability. Mr. Gordon lives a scant few miles from the center of town. When he has his feet firmly under the presidential desk and that new chapeau entitled "Chief Operating Officer" well adjusted, old Chief Pontiac will sweep out the far corners of the wigwam and prepare a tribal feast in his honor. All flags will fly as the peace pipe passes.

JAMES E. GOODMAN, who succeeds GORDON, is one of the most affable men in industry and has friends all over the place—every place. He has attended several of our Chief Pontiac industrial pow-wows and stands in highest favor locally. If the phrase, "self-made man" ever applied to anyone, it does him. His pathway to the top has been hewn from solid rock and he reaches the pinnacle on sheer merit and ability. He's another GM star. I assume he will leave his beautiful office and journey down to the General Motors Building.

And so, some of the top cards in the deck are shuffled. But always it's a stout pack and one that takes a host of tricks—forever—unceasingly—and without let-up.

I'd like to quote a remark of W. A. P. JOHN who declared 20 years ago: "General Motors is lousy with brains."

The words of the advertising agency brother are even more applicable today than they were then. Fortunately for Pontiac and GM employes everywhere, the corporation has a strong bench with a host of capable replacements on every managerial level. The big outfit is always prepared for the future and the development of replacements is a definite and well established policy.

And in Conclusion . . . . . .

The GOP and I are scorched by a withering fire from one R. E. HUMPHRIES, my severest critic. He says: "If IKE moved to Michigan and stayed until election day, and you wrote distorted and twisted editorials in bold type every day, CHARLES POTTER and a lot of state and county Republicans will be unemployed after Jan. 1, 1959." And then, after lesser attacks, he concludes: "POTTER has voted wisely often and is the nearest thing to a good Republican in the whole motley gang." Mr. HUMPHRIES' castigations aren't as sweeping or biting as usual. It must be the benign and leavening influence of the summer sunshine.

An advertisement for a Rolls Royce in London says: "At 60 miles an hour, the loudest noise comes from the electric clock." O.K. smarty pants, and at 70 miles miles an hour in a Pontiac, the loudest noise comes from the happy twinkle in the passengers' eyes . . . . . Sam Goldwyn is losing his international reputation for garbled speech to Casey Stengel. Casey's latest: "I wish that there Goldfine has sent me one of them petunia coats." . . . . . Many New Yorkers believe if Nelson Rockefeller is elected Governor of New York, he may land the Presidential nod in 1960.

Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive young woman: AUDREY MILLS . . . . . TV experts say "just a freak" in explaining how the LEVESQUE family in North Bay, Ontario suddenly started getting the closed circuit broadcast of the PATTERSON-HARRIS fight. They saw four rounds without sound . . . . . The Shenandoah Herald runs a cartoon of Chief Pontiac standing before a sign which reads: "Pontiac Labor Racket Burning Case." And the Chief is saying: "And they used to call us boy savages." But listen, Shenandoah, that was a Flint deal. They just used our hospital . . . . . .

Phil de Beaubien, publisher of the Detroit Times attended PHS for two years. "I still remember that big Harper," says he. "What an athlete he was." . . . . . Good wishes to "Pat" Pettengill who leaves us to act as Assistant Sales Manager of Pontiac in New York. No one in all industry ever had as many friends downtown . . . . . Archie Barnett tells me he just stayed in the "best room in the Waldorf in New York." And in the next breath he tried to tell me business was bad ? ? ? ? ? ? ? ? ? ? My old pal, announcer Harry Wismer, is reportedly angling for more radio stations in addition to the five he just acquired around Washington . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's — the 1959 Pontiacs; the J's: Alfred Hitchcock's stupid personal appearance on his TV shows.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

The poems of William Blake, who was buried in a Lendon pauper's grave in 1827, are still an inspiration to the world, and his vital drawings influence art.

Born in poverty, he was self taught as artist and writer. The Bible was a major source of his work, which strengthened through the years and culminated in masterpieces just before his death. Some of the books that he engraved, printed, decorated and bound have been called the most wonderful ever made by one hand.

His wife Catherine was his principal aid. He taught her to read and write, to copy his manuscripts and color his books. Often she held his hand as he wrote such lines as "I am in God's presence night and day, And He never turns his face away . . ."

Days of All Faiths:

Services Feature Labor Message

DAYS OF ALL FAITHS
By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

"Responsibilities in Daily Work" is the theme of this year's Labor Sunday proclamation by the National Council of Churches. Requested to be read in all member churches tomorrow the statement refers not only to the responsibility of workers themselves but also to that of management and of the churches.

The worker is "not merely to give a fair day's work to his employer but to work with a sense of vocation — of responsibility to God for work well done."

Employers and all Christian people have a duty to protect our economy against unemployment. Christians must "bring all economic life under critical analysis and creative transformation in the light of the Gospel."

St. Giles, abbot of a monastery near the mouth of the Rhone, went to Rome to see the Pope on behalf of his monks. The Pope, much impressed with the saintly man, not only granted his requests but also made him a present of two cedarwood doors for the monastery. To anyone else the matter of getting two huge doors back to France might have been a problem — but not to Giles. He simply tossed them into the Tiber and they floated down the river, across the Tyrrhenian Sea and part of the Mediterranean, and up into the Rhone. They were waiting for him when he reached the monastery.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Cites Facts of Fluoridation

Harley asked for some frank facts, and I am giving them to him. Be grateful we have a free press in America to help puncture hysteria and check dangerous notions that would otherwise cause mob stampedes. Memorize Jefferson's motto below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, what are the facts about fluoridation of drinking water?" he began.

"I have been asked to oppose it when our city council meets next month.

"And I have been flooded with literature saying fluorine is a deadly poison and that the idea is inspired by Communists to undermine the health of Americans."

MOB HYSTERIA

Fluorine belongs to the halogen family in chemistry, which includes chlorine, iodine and bromine, as well as fluorine.

All of them are deadly poisons, if used in large doses.

But chlorine has been added to our city water supplies regularly to kill bacteria and thus purify drinking water.

Yet chlorine was a deadly poisonous gas for use in warfare!

Iodine is swallowed by people who wish to commit suicide. But we began adding iodine to our table salt in 1924 to check the large tumors of the throat (goiters) which afflicted men as well as women.

So iodine, which is a deadly poison in big doses, is a great medical aid to human health when consumed in small quantities.

The same thing is likewise true of fluorine.

Down in Deaf Smith County in Texas, the water supply has as high as eight parts of fluorine per 1,000,000. And the folks there have been drinking it for hundreds of years with no significant ill effects, except for discoloration of the enamel of the teeth.

But their teeth meanwhile have been free from decay and almost as hard as rocks.

FLUORINE FRENZY

Indeed, that's where we got the idea about adding a little fluorine to drinking water, so it wasn't the Communists who inspired the plan.

Remember, Deaf Smith County residents drink 8 parts per million down in Texas!

Elsewhere, we add only ONE part per million. And nearly 1,200 cities are using fluorine in their water, for it cuts down decayed teeth by about 65 per cent.

If fluorine is such a deadly poison as frenzied opponents would have us believe, then why aren't the people of Deaf Smith County in Texas dead or maimed or all afflicted with cancer and the other dire results alleged to result?

"HORSE SENSE" NEEDED

Before you go off half cocked or lend your influence to any cause, be sure you have heard both sides of the issue threshed out freely.

Don't be "headline" thinkers, who are easily stampeded by such mob inciting terms as "Deadly poison" or "Communists."

Alas, one of New England's greatest clergymen became obsessed with the belief that people were becoming sick because of the magical influence of witches.

So he personally led the attack that terminated in the Salem witchcraft blot on American history.

Yet this clergyman was an educated, Christian clergyman! So don't think hysteria and mob action are limited just to morons and nitwits.

The newspaper's greatest function is to puncture false notions and spike stupid rumors that otherwise produce dangerous mob reactions.

"Where the press is free," said Thomas Jefferson, "and every man is able to read, all is safe."

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'Teach Youth Faith in God to Destroy Communism'

Communism is applied Godless materialism. It first states positively there is no God. Communists are proudly and unashamedly atheistic in theory and practice. They claim man is a material machine, only matter in motion and nothing more, with no soul, no spirit, no individual value and no continuity of life.

You cannot deal with them because they're absolutely dishonest and won't keep their word. The only way to fight them is to have absolute faith in God and live according to God's laws. We must educate our young people and college students in an absolute faith in God. The responsibility should not be delegated to the schools and churches alone, but must reside essentially in the home.

When enough people do this and live according to His laws, we can stop communism and maintain our liberty under our Constitution. We must constantly renew our faith in God, the Brotherhood of Man and the dignity of the human being, and we should turn to God at once and stop communism before it's too late.

Ralph T. Keeling

Says Overtime Is Only Part of Gripe

You say you know the character of the men running Pontiac Motor Division. And I know the character of my neighbors who work there. They tell me the overtime grievance is only part of the issue.

Maybe Pontiac Motor Division would like to break the union. If they could, think what it would mean to them. More production with less men in less time and more profit. And half of Pontiac would have to move to California to work in missile plants.

Real George

Satellite to Circle Sun Proposed by Engineer

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

AMSTERDAM (AP) — A man-made satellite orbiting around the sun was proposed today by Dr. R. P. Haviland of Philadelphia.

He said it is feasible now with present equipment to put it as close to the sun as the planet Mercury.

With greater power, it could come within four to five million miles of the blazing sun, fountain of all life on earth.

Haviland, a General Electric Co. engineer, in a report to the International Astronautical Federation meeting here, envisioned a 2-foot long cone weighing 50 pounds. It could discover vital new information about the sun, he said.

A main task would be remarkable new analysis of the sun's vast gaseous atmosphere, which now seems to stretch 93 million miles to the earth and beyond in tenuous form. The sun satellite could make close-up measurements of the density of the solar atmosphere.

The two-foot-wide base of the cone would always be kept pointing toward the sun through use of photoelectric cells. There would also be a sunshade on this end. The sides of the cone would always be in shadow to keep them relatively cool despite the tremendous heat.

Special coatings would also help reduce the heat along the sides. Special measuring instruments would be placed on the shadowed sides.

Haviland said calculations show that instruments and components — such as bearings, transformers, wiring, generators and tubes — could survive the heat. They have various temperature limits, ranging up to 700 degrees centigrade.

Instruments could measure the intensity of ultraviolet light, electrons and protons, and meteor hits. The information would be telemetered back.

"If we want more corn, we plant more — if we want to have more love, we must sow more."

Explorer V Components Collided

AMSTERDAM (AP)—A high altitude collision betweens parts of its rocket units ruined the launching of Explorer V, Dr. Wernher von Braun reported to world astronauts today.

The first stage booster rocket had separated after burnout when gases and liquids remaining in it expanded in the vacuum of space and gave it a little extra thrust, Von Braun said.

This sped it up so it hit the instrument part of the rocket, knocking the final stages off in the wrong direction from an orbit. All three remaining stages of the rocket had fired perfectly.

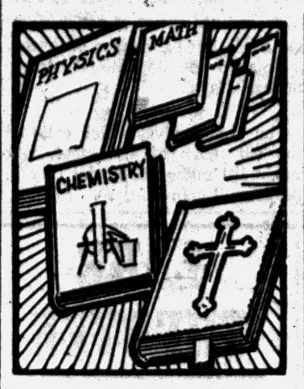

Von Braun, the German-born director of U. S. Army rocketry, said special precautions were being taken to avoid recurrences of "this most unlucky incident."

Students Study Religion

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religious Writer

Religion is assuming a larger place today in the American educational process.

When schools open this fall, millions of pupils will not only resume study of geography and math—but also of faith in God.

"There's been a growing trend to provide such courses by some means," said Mrs. Alice Goddard, an authority in the field.

"It has resulted from the strong feeling in the churches that religion is as much a part of knowledge as history or science."

At the grade school level, as well as in institutions of higher learning, the subject has become an increasing part of regular study.

Altogether, about nine million youths—almost a fourth of the school population—are expected to have such classes on their schedule when the new term opens.

The method and means of instruction takes various forms—depending on the circumstances.

But the big modern development in this country for restoring religion to the educational realm — where it was firmly established until the mid-1800s—has been through weekday "released time" classes.

"It's the answer to a need that a vast majority of people have felt for a long time," said Mrs. Goddard, director of weekday religion education for the National Council of Churches.

"Public schools can't teach religion as such, but the weekday program can fill that niche. It's a way, at last, by which religion can be given the place it should have in any whole, rounded education."

An estimated 3,500 community school systems, with about 3½ million pupils, have launched such programs, and the number has been rising steadily.

Three years ago, the total was about a third what it is now.

Under the formula, local Protestant, Jewish and Roman Catholic organizations each provide teachers for separate classes, which are held in facilities off school premises.

Usually one hour a week is allotted from school time, during which children of all parents who authorize it are excused to go to their respective religion classes.

"This allows for diversity and respect for all," Mrs. Goddard said. "It is essential to safeguard these relationships."

Development of the procedure has not been without friction, in and out of the courts, the opposition based on claims that the system encroaches on the traditional separation of church and state.

However, the U. S. Supreme Court has upheld the formula as legal, so long as school facilities classes. This decision came in 1952, after lengthy litigation and readjustments.

Much of the program's growth has come since then, with its greatest expansion in the New England states, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Virginia.

It also is spreading through many other states, including the plains region and far West. But it has found little usage so far in the deep South.

James V. Eastin, Farmington
Harold H. Falk, 631 Joslyn Ave.
William J. Kennedy, 206 W. Fairmount St.
Phillip L. Lunde, Milford
Gary L. McDowell, Farmington
Clifton W. Scott, Farmington
Kenneth J. Stoops, Farmington
Peter G. Vance Jr., 43 Court Dr.
James R. Winterbottom, 43 Fairgrove

Stanley A. Kreski, 107 Draper St.
James Lemmon, Birmingham
George McDaniel, 303 Perry St.
Ronald Schweitzer, 219½ Auburn Ave.
Peter M. Verbruggen, Birmingham
Willie M. Whitney, 299 Orchard Lake Rd.
Robert D. Wright, Rochester

Other residents who had their licenses taken away included: Roy S. Healander, 107 Calvert, driving while license was suspended; Carl Hess, Walled Lake, unable to pass tests; Anthony U. Holleran, Farmington, unlawfully driving away a motor vehicle; Lewis J. Langtry, Oxford, violated license restriction, and Quitmon McBride, 304 Crystal Lake Dr., habitual negligence and failure to appear for re-examination.

Quemoy Blocks Red Harbor

EDITOR'S NOTE — Heavy Communist shellings of Quemoy have once again turned attention to that Far Eastern trouble spot. In the following story AP reporter Relman Morin, who visited the Nationalist Chinese bastion last March, described the life of the islanders under the unremitting threat of Red guns.

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Staff Writer

In the sky, suddenly, there was an unmistakable sound, like rustling silk, the sound of a high-arching shell.

Incoming or outgoing?

This is Quemoy Island.

Even the children on Quemoy have learned, as soldiers learn, to tell from the sound of a shell whether it is incoming or outgoing. The shells go both ways.

Artillery fire has become a life on the island, like the storms that come from the South China Sea. It is an incredible little world.

Quemoy is a chunk of rock, bleak and forbidding, sitting smack in the center of the harbor for the mainland port city of Amoy. This city, and Swatow, used to be important ports — and the Chinese Communists would like to have them open to sea traffic again.

But there, a bare 2,000 yards from the shore, heavily armed and honey-combed with passages in the living rock, is Quemoy. The Chinese Nationalists hold it primarily to cut off the shipping.

They are so close to the mainland that the Communists can reach them with machinegun fire. From time to time, they get heavy bombardments. Communist airfields are only minutes in flying time away. They live continually under the threat of invasion, the "human wave" attack of the Chinese Reds.

You must see this life to believe it.

The high school, the hospital, and the airfield are all at the eastern tip of the island, at the furthest point from the mainland.

It is still well within range of Communist guns.

Nevertheless, the children go to school every day. They play games on the athletic field and stand around, talking on the grounds.

Only there are shelters inside the buildings, and slit trenches outside.

Nearly 50,000 civilians live on Quemoy. They are farmers and fishermen. The farmers go into the fields every day as though the big guns on the mainland did not exist.

They have built new roads since the Nationalists came to Quemoy when the Reds took over the mainland. They planted rows of acacia.

From the main Nationalist stronghold on Formosa, planes brought nearly 8,000 saplings and tons of bamboo for planting. The work of cutting more gun positions in the rock, more barracks, and storage chambers, goes on constantly.

In short, the Nationalists seem convinced they are on Quemoy to stay.

The civilians on the island are capable of feeding themselves with their crops and the fishing.

But everything for the armed forces — which include frog men, intelligence agents, and navy crews —has to come from Formosa by air.

The plane, coming in, dips down to within a few hundred feet of the water. That is to hide from Communist radar and the off chance of Red fighter planes.

Some of the officers and soldiers have families in Formosa. Once every six months, they get leave to visit them.

On the observation post, a naked spire of rock, there was a captain from Syiyuan province, on the edge of the Gobi Desert, deep in northwest China.

I told him I had once had a job up there, driving a truck, and knew his village.

"We will meet there again soon," he said.

In a concrete-and-steel bunker, on the edge of the beach, there were two infantrymen. One comes from a village on the border of Thailand, the other from the mountains of Fukien.

"Some day we will go back," they said.

In other words, far from doubting that they can hold Quemoy — although any island can be taken if you want to spend enough men— the Nationalists look on their island, a kind of baby Gibraltar, as the hopping off point for the mainland, some day.

Quemoy has another name "kin men."

It means "golden gate."

They look across the short stretch of water, watching the people in Amoy, even reading the street signs, and hope for the day when they go over there, through the "golden gate."

British Church Papers Support Birth Control

LONDON (UPI) — British church newspapers hailed the decision of the Lambeth Conference of Anglican bishops to approve of birth control.

The British weekly said, "We welcome the realistic and powerful statement of the reasons for regarding family planning as duty-bound to be the result of thoughtful and prayerful Christian decision."

The Baptist Times said the conference report was a "courageous statement."

Once Retired, Arquette Has Great Comeback

By EARL WILSON

WILSON

Cliff Arquette — that's his honest name —was the original old-timer on the once-famous "Fibber McGee and Molly" radio program.

"One night I ad libbed a thing — 'That ain't the way I heerd it'—that got fairly well known in radio," he said the other night at the Paar show as he looked back across 33 years in show business.

Only 52 now, he enjoys many a blast at what he calls "the Palace Old Men's Home" next door—that being the famous Palace bar. Perhaps wishing he were there at the moment instead of with me in his dressing room, he recalled working with John Barrymore on radio, and performing in "Glamour Manor" and "Point Sublime," typical small-town comedy shows he did in Los Angeles.

He played Jack Benny's father a few times on TV—before Jack Paar rediscovered him recently and made him a celebrity.

"I'd retired three years ago," he said. "I had dreamed this guy 'Charlie Weaver' up for TV. But people said an old man is dirty and he's not funny."

Cliff was going to open a museum at Gettysburg called "Cliff Arquette's Soldiers" and sell souvenirs and live quietly.

WEAVER

ARQUETTE

Born in Toledo, he'd organized a band in Cleveland at 15 called "Cliff Arquette and His Purple Derbies." (Somebody gave me a whole bunch of purple derbies.") He'd been a caddy, frycock, butcher, map draftsman—and $5-a-week radio actor in radio's early days. And a few months ago he was pretty sure he'd had it.

But Jack Paar, who used to be out of work a lot in California and had time to listen to and watch shows, remembered Cliff's "Dave and Charlie" off-beat program with Dave Willock.

One night in California while in retirement—it was about 8:15 p.m.—he wrote a telegram to Jack Paar suggesting he be tried out on the show.

"I forgot to send the wire," he says. "When the kinny of Jack's show came on in California, three hours later due to the time difference, there was Jack Paar asking if anybody could find Cliff Arquette. He had been asking that question while I was writing the telegram!"

An immediate success, "Charlie Weaver" came back to life. He got around 100 offers, including three overtures for Broadway shows.

"I'm not a stage actor, and besides, I got too much goin' on at Gettysburg," he says.

"I'm right next to the battlefield," he adds, "and it's kind of a nice life—four days of country livin' and then three days in here."

He considers Paar "one of the warmest guys I ever worked with."

Cliff's been married twice, but is eligible again.

In case you wondered, there isn't any Mt. Idy, Ohio, but there is one in Arkansas. I also asked Cliff—as many have—where he got that collapsible tincup such as we used to carry in school.

"Gettysburg," he grinned.

"What are you going to charge to get into your museum?" I asked Cliff.

"It varies with the season."

"You mean it varies with the number of suckers?"

"I suppose," smiled Cliff Arquette, "you could put it that way."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Why is it that a woman who complains about being cooped up in a three-room apartment doesn't mind spending hours in a phone booth? . . . That's earl, brother.

Atomic Sub Ends Visit in Norway

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The U.S. atomic submarine Skate left Oslo today after a five-day visit.

The commanding officer, Cmdr. James F. Calvert, sent a message thanking all Norwegians for the reception they gave him and his crew at Bergen last Saturday and at Oslo on their first landings after a voyage under the arctic ice cap.

Calvert said earlier he would sail nonstop from Oslo to New London, Conn.

August Ends With Rush of Weddings, Engagements

JOSEPHINE H. OSMUN

At a family dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll L. Osmun of Woodland avenue announced the engagement of their daughter, Josephine Helen, to Richard Conrad Swanson, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Swanson of Vassar. Miss Osmun is a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Nursing where she was affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta Sorority. Her fiance is a graduate of Albion College. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. He is now attending the University of Michigan School of Dentistry. A November wedding is planned.

Give Ride if It's Possible

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband often comes for me when I go to a women's party. He usually sits outside in the car and waits until I come out. I always tell him approximately what time I intend to leave.

"Sometimes one or two of the other women leave with me. When this happens, is it rude not to offer to drive them home, or may we quite properly say good-night and drive off, leaving them to go home alone?"

Answer: It is not actually rude to leave them alone, but if they live somewhere in your direction I think you should offer to drive them home.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like your opinion on the use of silver nail polish for daytime wear. Is it in good taste? I think it should be worn only in the evening but some of my friends disagree with me and say that it is quite proper to wear it at any time of the day. What is your opinion?"

Answer: I would not personally use silver nail polish because I think it is ugly, but if you like it and think it is becoming there is no reason why you should not use it in the evening or in the daytime. After all when the now almost universally used red nail polish first appeared it shocked many of those with conservative taste.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What is a widow supposed to do with her engagement ring and wedding band of her first husband when she accepts a new engagement ring?"

Answer: She should permanently remove her wedding ring but she may quite properly transfer her first engagement ring to her right hand if her new fiance does not object. Or she may perhaps put both of these rings away for one of her children.

MRS. ROGER A. MAISON

Married this morning at St. Benedict Church were Karen Rae Tollenaar and Roger Arthur Maison. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Tollenaar and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Maison.

Maison-Tollenaar Vows Said in St. Benedict Rite

A 10 a.m. Nuptial Mass at St. Benedict Church today united Karen Rae Tollenaar and Roger Arthur Maison in marriage. The Rev. Richard W. Thomas performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of 250 witnesses.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Tollenaar of Starr avenue, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Maison of Illinois avenue.

IN LACE AND TULLE

A gown of lace and tulle featuring a fitted basque waist and long tapered sleeves was chosen by the bride. A mandarin collar and insert of tulle accented the lace yoke of the dress. The floor-length skirt was decorated with lace appliques.

Matron of honor Mrs. Lawrence Johnson wore a maize ballerina length dress of dotted nylon sheer over taffeta with a chiffon cummerbund and Grecian drop panel for back interest. A maize Venice lace cap trimmed with rhinestones held her nose veil, and she carried yellow carnations on a white satin fan.

Bridesmaids Penny Upchurch and Joanne Dembinski wore gowns identical to that of the honor maid in powder blue and carried a similar bouquet.

BROTHER ATTENDS

Lawrence Maison, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Attendants were George Courtney and Lawrence Johnson. Seating the guests were John Rehm and Leslie Stone.

Mrs. Tollenaar was gowned in a pale turquoise lace dress featuring pearls and rhinestones and wore a corsage of pink rosebuds for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Maison was gowned in powder blue chiffon over taffeta and also wore a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony the bridal party was entertained at breakfast at the home of the bride's parents. A reception was held at the Eagles' Hall on Montcalm street at 3 this afternoon.

Reveals Wedding Details

Bonnie Allen, bride-elect of Hugh Parks, announced her attendants at a linen shower given Wednesday evening by Lee Patterson of North Hammond Lake drive.

Kathleen Rouse is to be maid of honor, with Nancy Jackson and Stephanie Jones as bridesmaids.

Parents of the engaged couple are Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Allen of Oliver street and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Parks of Lowell street. The couple will be married Sept. 13.

Others were Mrs. Donald Jauss of Birmingham; Carolyn Hickman, Mrs. Loren Hickman, Marilyn Hiscock, Nancy Jackson, Stephanie Jones, Mrs. Floyd Jones, Karen Lanpher of Rochester, Virginia Lewis, Joy Notch of Oxford and Jeanette Ohanesian.

Secretaries to Attend Institute

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Thirty women secretaries from some of the nation's largest firms will gather Monday for a two-week session of literature, the arts and philosophy at the 32-acre W. K. Kellogg manor house at Gull Lake near Battle Creek.

The women, some of them coming at an expense of more than $1,000 to their employers, will be attending a Liberal Arts for Secretaries Institute co-sponsored by Michigan State University and the National Secretaries Association.

Dr. Mary V. Moore, director of the institute, said "professional secretaries play an increasingly significant role in the business and professional world. Surely, it is as important for the professional secretary to understand herself and her heritage . . . as it is for any other business or professional person."

This will be the third institute.

When adding fruit to basic gelatin salads, use 1 cup of fruit for each cup of liquid. Sugar is counted as part of the liquid.

Margaret Delores Atkins and Terrence R. Erb were married this morning at St. Benedict Catholic Church. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leo P. Atkins, and Mrs. Nelson Erb and the late Mr. Erb.

MRS. TERRENCE R. ERB

Pontiac Couple Wed

St. Benedict Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding this morning of Margaret Delores Atkins and Terrence R. Erb. The Rev. John J. Hoar officiated at the ceremony before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leo P. Atkins of Cherokee road and Mrs. Nelson Erb of North Johnson street and the late Mr. Erb.

IN ORGANDY GOWN

Her circular veil of silk English illusion was held by a scalloped headpiece of fine seed pearls and illusion. On a mother-of-pearl prayer book she carried a bouquet of white roses, and ivy.

Nancy Clifton was maid of honor and Mrs. Lonnie Whitlow, the bridegroom's sister, was bridesmaid. They wore silk organza dresses of Copen blue with modified Sabrina necklines and cap sleeves. The full ballerina-length skirts ended with harem drapes. Their headbands were of blue flowers and they carried cascade bouquets of delphinium blue crysanthemums.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

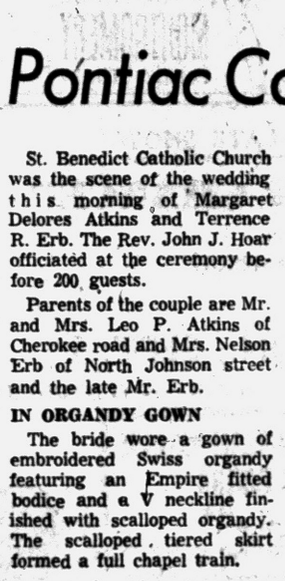

Peter Erb, the bridegroom's brother was best man. Ushers were Clinton Lippard, Thomas McMahon and the bride's brother, William Atkins.

To receive guests at a reception held in the church hall, Mrs. Atkins chose a Grecian style mauve sheath with matching accessories. Mrs. Erb was dressed in a seafoam green shath with beige accessories.

The couple will live on DeSota street.

MRS. LOIS L. BROWN

To graduate from Bronson Methodist School of Nursing is Mrs. Lois L. Brown. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Don Bartles of Oliver street.

Fall Colors Call for Hose Tint

You'll hear and see less of "chemises" and "trapezes" this fall. Designers have given us a modified silhouette they term "easy," "relaxed," "fluid" or "free form," which means there's a hint of SHAPING to new styles.

But the shape's not the thing. It's the intense royal and sapphire blues — the wide array of "neon" pinks and blue-flame reds — the old gold, bronzy and sage greens — the "harvest" pumpkin, squash, russet, reddish and deep brown tones — as well as the high-fashion teal and ultra-violet that flash the TOP fashion news in every fall collection.

The hemline, though, remains status quo. And whether the new relaxed silhouette boasts a waistline placed at the top of the knees or the top of the bustline—or is bloused, semi-belted or indented — it naturally follows, with such overwhelming color in every phase of ready-to-wear and so much leg in view, there's no fashion alternative except to clad the legs in nylons with a hue. Otherwise, they'll be as passe and dowdy as ankle-length skirts of a long-past-era.

Gals Study Each Other in Survey

GRINNELL, Iowa (UPI) — Studies of women made by men are not uncommon, but studies of women by women are quite rare. A recent one made by a Grinnell woman revealed that almost half of those interviewed felt women were "too passive."

The women were asked to rate the influence of American women and life in the United States today.

About 18 per cent of them replied they thought women were too "dominant," 48 per cent said women were too "passive" in their influence on life, while 34 per cent thought everything was "just right."

Judge Will Speak at State Hospital

Macomb County Probate Judge Donald J. Parent will speak when members of the Oakland County Citizens' Committee for Pontiac State Hospital meet at the hospital Tuesday evening, Sept. 9. His subject will be "Duties of a Probate Judge."

The group is planning a rummage sale to be held from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m. Oct. 11 at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Margaret Johnson Speaks Marriage Vows Today

First Methodist Church, Birmingham, was the scene of the wedding this afternoon of Margaret Elizabeth Johnson and Robert William Plaskett. The Rev. Allen E. Wittrup officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. F. Dwight Blinn of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Elden M. Plaskett of Jackson.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white embroidered organdy featuring a fitted bodice with round neckline and short sleeves and a bouffant skirt. Her silk illusion fingertip veil fell from a Juliet cap of matching organdy and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisies, stephanotis and ivy.

SISTER IS HONOR MAID

The bride's sister, Nancy Ruth Johnson, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Patricia Small of Detroit, and Patricia Hughes of Redford.

Victoria Gallagher of Detroit was flower girl. She was dressed in a white organza floor-length dress with a blue sash. On her head she wore a band of ivy with blue delphinium and she carried a basket of white daisies and blue delphinium.

Walter L. Plaskett of Lansing was best man. Ushers were William S. Fay of Franklin, Carl H. Johnson of Birmingham, Richard A. Buseth and Nicolai A. Todoroff, both of Jackson.

For a honeymoon trip to northern Michigan, the bride had selected a peacock blue paisley print two-piece dress with a blue feather hat and the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing. The couple will live in Ann Arbor where the bridegroom is attending the College of Engineering at the University of Michigan.

Dear Abby . . .

Outnumbered in Battle to Keep Bullfighting Out of United States

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: May I congratulate you for your open criticism of bullfighting. Yours was the first derogatory comment on this sadistic sport I have read in a long time. I've become alarmed at the tremendous amount of favorable propaganda concerning bullfighting assailing us from books, movies, TV and even interior decorators feature it as their favorite theme.

ABBY

"It seems there's a movement afoot to legalize this brutal sport in the U. S. The idle rich or so called "smart set" consider this cruel sport 'sophisticated' and call those who voice disapproval 'square.' Thank you, Abby, for allowing me to express my gratitude to you for your civilized and humanitarian views."

SARASOTA

DEAR SARASOTA: I hold firm to my opinion although I fear you and I are outnumbered for I received many more letters which reflect the following opinion:

DEAR ABBY: Will you please confine your writing to subjects you know something about? Your remarks about bullfighting revealed your ignorance. Bullfighting is neither sadistic or brutal. It takes great grace, skill and courage to face a bull in the ring. You owe your readers an apology. Now, be a good sport, Abby, and admit you are wrong."

SAN DIEGO

"DEAR ABBY: I have been married two years and my husband and I get along fine. We went together a long time and he talked my head off. Now he never talks to me. He isn't rude, he just doesn't like to talk when he is at home.

"Outside of the house he really talks up a storm and is the life of the party. When I ask him to talk to me and he says there is nothing to say, I feel hurt. Do you think he has lost interest in me or am I being sensitive?" LONELY

DEAR LONELY: A man's home is his castle, and he shouldn't be nagged, pestered or expected to be the court jester when he feels like being silent. Add your silence to his and you'll have an appreciative husband.

"DEAR ABBY: Isn't there some law against a mother who is a split-shift waitress and a father who is a cross-country truck driver going away and locking children in the house? My neighbor does this and thinks nothing of it. It got really serious when all four of her kids had the measles and she locked them up and went to work.

"She said they weren't really SICK, they just had measles. Isn't measles supposed to be a sickness anymore? I worry about what could happen if their house caught fire with those kids locked up in there. Who should I report her to?" NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: Report her to CHILDREN'S PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION. They will investigate the case and take it from there.

"DEAR ABBY: I was never crazy about the idea of living in a duplex, over my in-laws, but now I can't stand it. Ever since I brought my baby home from the hospital my mother-in-law practically lives with me. She wants to do everything for the baby like she did 30 years ago and I want to carry out my doctor's orders. We can't move because my in-laws own this house. I am ready to blow my top. I don't have red hair for nothing."

RED

DEAR RED: Ask your doctor to tell your mother-in-law that he wants things done HIS way, and preferably by the baby's own mother. She can't argue with doctor's orders.

CONFIDENTIAL TO IRV: When she runs her fingers through your hair, it means she's after your scalp.

5 Garden Clubs to Stage 2-Day Waterford Exhibit

A flower show "'Autumn Splendor" sponsored by five garden clubs, will be held Sept. 6 and 7 from 8 a. m. to 9 p.m. at the Waterford Community Activities Building, Williams Lake road.

The five clubs are Better Home and Garden, Dirt Gardeners, and the Pontiac, Sylvan and Waterford branches of the National Farm and Garden Club.

Mrs. Vivian Tubbs, general chairman, invites the public and all members of local garden clubs and other organizations to enter classes, especially in the specimen divisions. She may be contacted at her home on Tubbs road for further information.

The show will be judged on the merit system by a panel of six to eight out-of-town judges. More than one blue ribbon may be won in a class.

All entries must be in place by 11 o'clock next Saturday morning.

Only one entry is accepted in a class. All horticulture specimens are to be grown by the exhibitor and the variety correctly named.

There will be six different sections in the show with several divisions in each. The sections are: artistic designs, table settings (by invitation only), horticulture, house plants, junior gardeners, and collections.

Antibiotic to Be Woven in Clothing

Sweaters, skirts and other clothing of the future will have an antibiotic woven into the fabric.

Textile mills are able to weave the antibiotic — called neomycin — into both natural and synthetic fibers. In addition, the antibiotic will remain in the fabric through countless launderings.

Leola Jacques, director of the Pontiac Area Day Nursery, has retired and returned to her Wisconsin home after serving this community for 33 years. Here Miss Jacques poses with African Violet plants, a gift from her to her beloved nursery school.

Day Nursery Director Leola Jacques Retires

By LYDIA ROTHMAN

After 33 years of dedicated service to the community and particularly the children of Pontiac, Leola Jacques has retired as director of the Pontiac Area Day Nursery and returned to her home in Delefield, Wis.

Miss Jacques will be greatly missed, not only for her long and devoted service to the community, but for her warmth and great humanitarianism as well.

CAME HERE IN 1925

She came to Pontiac in 1925 as an employe of the Rotary Clubs of Oakland County. In 1927, she was instrumental in organizing the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children.

An orthopedic class was opened at the Bagley School in September 1927 and she supervised treatments given at the school following physicians' examinations.

In 1943 she studied the Sister Kenny method of treating poliomyelitis at Northwestern University, and has given many hours of valuable service to polio victims.

Miss Jacques helped organize the Pontiac Day Nursery in 1929, a joint project of the Zonta Club and the Rotary Clubs.

The Day Nursery was organized to care for children who, because their mothers were forced to work during the day, were in need of care. Appointed to the board of directors in 1944, she became director in 1945.

Miss Jacques has been a five-day-a-week mother to the hundreds of children who have attended the nursery over the past 29 years. She recognized and provided the warmth and affection these children would otherwise have been deprived of while their mothers were working.

Miss Jacques will be living in Delefield with her sister, Jessie Jacques, where she plans to devote much of her time to her hobby of raising African Violets.

Married Friday evening at First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, were Barbara Jean Stinson and Dan Cornila Jr. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Stinson, Mrs. Leona Cornila and Dan Cornila.

MRS. DAN CORNILA JR.

Barbara Stinson Becomes Bride of Dan Cornila Jr.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Stinson of Birmingham, Mrs. Leona Cornila of Birmingham and Dan Cornila of Dearborn.

The bride selected a princess style gown of peau de soie featuring a Sabrina neckline, short sleeves and an Empire waistline, all trimmed with Alencon lace and seed pearls. The skirt formed a chapel train.

ATTEND BRIDE

Judith Anne Buehanan was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Gail Synder of Flint, Patti McNab and Susan Aldrich, both of Birmingham, Barbara Borglin of Detroit and Donna Shell.

The maid of honor wore a crystalette gown of rose and pink with an oval neckline and short sleeves. The Empire waistline was accented with inserts of pink crystalette. The bouffant skirt was ballerina length and she wore a picture hat.

The bridesmaid's dresses, styled like the maid of honor's, were of pink crystalette with rose inserts. All the attendants carried bouquets of rubrum lilies and ivy.

Nancy Stinson, the bride's cousin was flower girl. She wore a pink nylon organdy dress with rose streamers. In a white basket she carried pink rose petals and pink sweetheart roses.

Ronald Cornila, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Seating the guests were Jerry Heintselman of Milford, Bruce Johnson of Birmingham, Charles Mandable of Flint, Richard Cornling of Flint and Thomas Stinson, the bride's brother. Thomas Howting of Birmingham was junior usher.

To receive guests at a reception held in the church hall, Mrs. Stinson wore a street-length sheath of white lace over cotillion blue taffeta. On her purse she pinned a corsage of white album lilies. Mrs. Cornila was dressed in a powder blue lace sheath with white accessories. Her corsage was white album lilies.

Keep Up Summer Health

The beauty benefits of summer can carry over into autumn. True, days at the beach are over but the habit of being out in fresh air can stay.

To get both the exercise and fresh air that you'd get at the beach, walk. Resist the temptation to take the car or a bus.

Remember that water is soothing to the nerves and that a relaxing bath, like the seashore, can do much to relieve insomnia.

You can't go about in the lightweight, porous clothing of summer but you needn't weigh yourself down with layers of clothing just because the air has a snap in it.

You can pick lovely, lightweight woolens that are flattering and a pleasure to wear. If you formed the habit of shampooing your hair often during the heat of the summer, remember that it's a good habit to carry over into fall.

And so is the habit of drinking at least six glasses of water a day.

Nearly all foot defects are preventable. Since the foot is not completely formed until after the age of 18, growing feet are flexible and can be easily misshapen by socks and shoes.

Louvered Shutters Give Privacy

Tiny bathroom windows will take on new importance if you use louvered shutters in place of the usual little curtains. These are a great aid to privacy when the window faces the street or a nighboring house.

And to make the shutters even more practical and useful, finish them with washable paint so that they can be sponged often with soap or detergent suds.

Air Force Fires Snark 6,000 Miles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Snark guided missile blazed skyward early today on a 6,000-mile flight across the Atlantic.

The Air Force announced only that a Snark was launched. The results of the test usually are secret.

The Snark will soon become an operational missile across the nation. The first Snark launching site is scheduled to be set up at Presque Isle, Maine.

Michigan to Get $90 Million in SS Benefits Yearly

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's benefits from the Social Security revisions signed into law today by President Eisenhower will be about 50 million dollars a year, bringing the state's total to 90 million.

The figure came from Prof. Wilbur J. Cohen of the University of Michigan, a former director of research and statistics for the Social Security Administration. He worked on the bill that was signed by the President today.

Cohen said Michigan residents will receive an additional 40 million dollars a year in Social Security benefits, about 6 million in matching funds for public assistance programs, and about 4 million for other activities.

He estimated that 650,000 Michigan residents will benefit directly by the revision.

ANTIQUE FINDS — When they travel, the McGraths like to stop at antique shops. They have bought numerous things, like the walnut table at the left, in such shops. Antique in design, but modern in construction is the platform rocker. The walnut chest under the open shelves is a family heirloom. It has a beautiful grain.

Your Neighbor's House

Roomy 'Little' House Has Fir Exterior

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We pass this house every day on the way to work. We saw it go up, board by board. Then we saw it lose its raw look, softened by grass and landscaping. Finally, we talked with the owners, the Donald McGraths, and made a date for our photographer.

It was the Saturday after Thanksgiving, nearly two years ago that the McGraths moved into their new home on Cooley Lake road. They have a 50x150 foot lot with 50 more feet across the road on the lake side (and 500 feet out into the lake).

Mr. McGrath did the designing and rough building of the 30x44 foot house. Professionals came in to do the paneling and utility work. It was a six months' job.

The house has no actual basement; but it does have a three foot concreted space underneath. The utility room is on a level below the rest of the house. There are outside doors in the utility and living rooms, both at ground level.

This utility room has a high ceiling. Walls are painted sandalwood color. The tile floor is rust. This room, says Mrs. McGrath, saves her much cleaning. All the outside dirt is left there before people come upstairs to the kitchen.

CAN SEE TWO LAKES

From the windows in her kitchen Mrs. McGrath has a view of two lakes. While she washes the dishes she can see fishermen on Crescent Lake. The drop leaf table is set in front of a large window that looks out on Elizabeth Lake.

The floor is covered with one of the oldest and most popular linoleum patterns, the one that looks like red tile. Walls are Philippine mahogany. All cupboards are natural birch. Counter tops are yellow linen weave vinyl.

The built-in oven is free standing. Over the range top stove is a copper hood. All accessories are copper, even the light switches. Trivets decorate the soffit above the sink. On one side there is a white lavebo while on the other is an antique lamp.

The copper light over the table is on a pulley. Under the cupboards there are more lights. The curtains are complementary to those in the living room, with an aqua, gold and beige print on white.

Between the kitchen and living room, next to the door, there are open shelves. Colored glassware and little plants make it a gay spot.

The walls of the living room are interesting in color and texture. Two of them are like the exterior of the house—horizontal fir panels. The other two are Philippine mahogany. A red brick fireplace is centered on one of the fir walls.

On either side of the fireplace are high windows. In the front is a picture window. All are curtained in white antique satin with a leaf design in beige, gold, black and a bit of aqua. Valances are ruffled.

The fireplace hearth is slab rock, while the mantel is a birch plank. In addition to the usual fittings the McGraths have a pair of bellows that actually work. This they picked up on one of their forays in an antique shop.

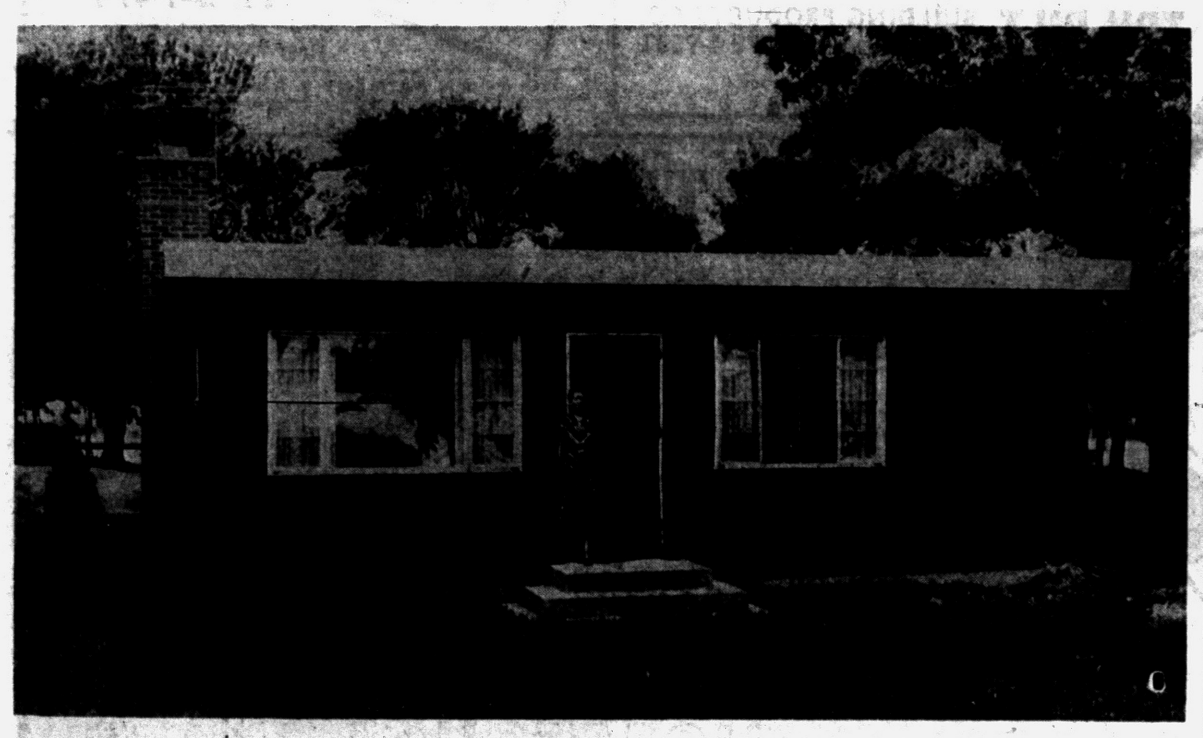

The ceiling is beamed, with insulation board between the beams. This, explained Mr. McGrath, is ceiling, insulation and roof. Three inches thick, it is tarred, then covered with crushed limestone. Very satisfactory, say the owners.

The floor is carpeted in brown tweed. The sofa and matching armchair are gray. Bright pillows accent the sofa. A maple Boston rocker, several antique tables and numerous accessories lend an air of antiquity to the otherwise modern room.

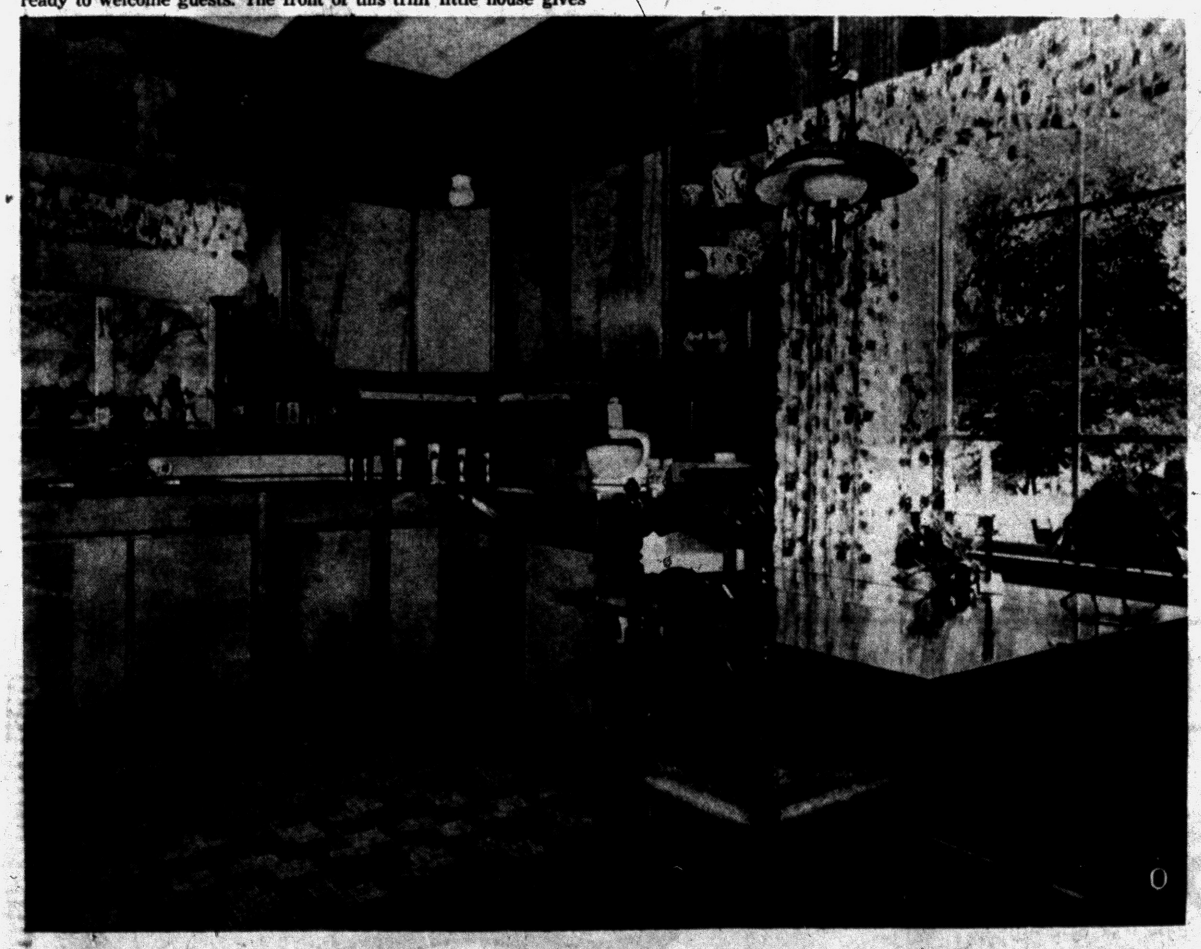

WALNUT CHEST

IT'S MADE OF FIR — The Donald McGrath home on Cooley Lake road looks as if it were made of redwood; but the exterior boards are fir, stained red. Mrs. McGrath stands at the front door, ready to welcome guests. The front of this trim little house gives no hint of the roomy interior. Mr. McGrath designed the house and did the rough building. Former Delaware drive residents, the McGraths have lived in their new home just under two years.

HOMEY KITCHEN — A deep red floor, warm paneled walls, brass accessories and little colorful decorations make the McGrath kitchen a homey place. The drop leaf table and ladder back, rush-seated chairs are in keeping with the rest of the room. That lamp over the table can be pulled out to the center of the room when the table is used out there. Mrs. McGrath has a way with African violets. Hundreds of blossoms cover the numerous plants.

Use Wall Space to Store Tools in Garage

In a one-car garage, laek of space may not permit floor storage.

If the walls are open, shelves can be set between the studs. Make shelves from scraps of wood. Fasten them in place with small angle irons. Space shelves so that they'll hold objects of many sizes.

They're ideal for small cans of paint, jars of nails and screws, and other oddments.

One or more peg boards nailed to studdings will give you an area on which to hang outdoor tools. If small fry freqeunt the garage, take precautions that will prevent them from pulling tools down on their heads.

A short piece of leather, webbing or chain should be secured to the wall so that tool handles can be slipped behind it.

McGraths Like Wood as Wall Material

mother's farm and was hers during her childhood. After removing three or four coats of colored enamel, the McGraths discovered the good wood underneath.

There are storage closets in the bedroom hallway. At the far end there's a tall chest of drawers.

The bathroom is a divided one. Walls are tile and plastic "marble." There is a sink in each section of the room. At the window is a slatted bamboo shade.

In the alcove between the twin double door closets there is a builtin vanity. Mrs. McGrath has pinned colorful bunches of flowers on the walls at irregular intervals. Take note, you readers who like unusual ideas.

IN NEW SUBDIVISION — Open for inspection this weekend is this house at 170 Westway Dr., in the newly opened Clinton Heights Subdivision, off East Boulevard. The house is one of two completed by the Newton Building Co. Several others are under construction. The houses have three bedrooms, tile baths, full car ports and gas heat. City water and other urban improvements are included.

Plastic Finish Walls Add Bathroom Color

Interior decorators report that "glamor" bathrooms can now be included in most new and remodeled homes because modern building materials and techniques enable contractors to deliver more value for the buyer's dollar. Decorators point out that only a few tasteful accessories are needed to complete a bathroom that has been designed for both style and service.

Many of the leading designers have introduced distinctive marble patterns, and even handsome woodgrains, into bathroom decor. These same decorative themes can be incorporated into almost any home plan by using predecorated hardboard paneling which is available at lumber dealers in 10 "companion colors," seven woodgrains and six marble patterns.

These plastic-finished wall panels, whose marble and woodgrain patterns are authentic reproductions of selected natural materials, provide a "permanent decor" because they never need refinishing. Their smooth surface resists moisture, heat, stains, acid and other hard wear. The panels may be cleaned with an occasional damp wiping.

Among the most interesting bathroom treatments that have been introduced by leading interior decorators are rooms with a marble-patterned wainscot or accent wall. Rich cherry, natural walnut or striped mahogany woodgrains also are gaining popularity as a bathroom wall paneling.

Factory Primed Siding Gains Popularity

Factory-primed siding is gaining in popularity for a number of reasons, according to J. B. Palmer, manager of siding sales for Masonite Corporation, the leading producer of hardboard.

The uniform light gray appearance appeals to home owners and contractors, as it provides a smooth base for the finish coats and gives the houses an almost-finished appearance even before a paint brush is lifted on the job.

Equally important is the low cost of factory-primed hardboard siding. It retails at about 2 cents a square foot more than the unprimed board. In many cases, this is less than the cost of the paint needed to prime the siding on the job, exclusive of labor.

Palmer pointed out also that since the initial cost of paint is important to the appearance and wearing qualities of later coats, a good smooth foundation is essential. This is assured with the factory-primed hardboards.

Lumber dealers can furnish the primed hardboard sidings, Palmer said.

Education means developing the mind, not stuffing the memory.

Here's the Answer!

Question: In putting down linoleum over a concrete floor, is it necessary to use felt under the linoleum?

Answer: Felt should not be used under linoleum being put down on a concrete floor. Furthermore, the linoleum itself should not be placed on concrete unless you are absolutely sure the concrete is completely dry and will remain that way.

Question: After making a patch in a plaster wall, what should be done to the patch to keep it from bleeding through the paint that is to be put on?

Answer: You can neutralize the alkali in the new plaster by applying a solution containing from 2 to 4 pounds of zinc sulphate to one gallon of water. Or you can seal in the alkali with a coat of pigmented sealer or shellac.

Question: I have a concrete project coming up in which it will be necessary to use wooden forms. I know the inside of the forms should be oiled so they will separate easily from the concrete after it has hardened. Is there a particular kind of oil that should be used?

Answer: Almost any kind of oil or grease will do. One man I know, who does a considerable amount of this type of work, saves the old crankcase oil from his car and uses it just for lubricating the inside of wooden forms for concrete jobs.

ROMAN INFLUENCE — This is an overhead view of the "Roman Atrium" house. The private terrace in the foreground is off the master bedroom. The opening in the roof marks the location of the atrium which is an open interior court exposed to the sky. The front-to-back arrangement makes this an ideal house for a narrow lot.

Avoid Shocks From Your Tools

With so many electric tools being used outdoors these days, it becomes more important than ever that they be properly grounded.

A tool or appliance is grounded when it has an eventual electrical connection with the earth.

This is a safety feature that could save your life, or at least prevent a severe shock.

When a tool is properly grounded and a short circuit occurs, the charge will go into the ground and not through you.

Most power tools are equipped with a third insulated wire at the plug end or a three-prong plug. Look for such wiring when buying a power tool.

When using the third wire, the screw holding the cover plate of the electrical outlet is removed, a special screw substituted and the grounding wire is slipped over its end. Some grounding connections come with a threaded end and can be threaded into a receptacle plate.

Newer tools come equipped with a three-prong plug and require a special outlet or an adapter unit for use with conventional outlets. The third prong is round, to prevent making a wrong connection.

Using either connection will work only if your wiring system uses BX cable. Metal cable and conduit are grounded. If the outlets are not so equipped, the grounding connection will only give you a false sense of security.

If your wiring is not up-to-date, it's a good idea to have an electrician install an outlet that will take a three-prong plug. Have him make sure that the outlet itself is properly grounded.

How to Stretch Small Bedroom

You can stretch that small bedroom to make it serve double duty and keep the floor area free of most furniture, one prominent western small homes designer advises.

Design a full wall of built-in cabinets so they will come flush with the window frame on both sides and the top. They need not be over 20 to 24 inches deep. Don't close in the space below the window; instead, just install a desk top at the window level and you can have a couple of suspended drawers on either side of an adequate kneehole.

Presto, you have a desk and you have storage space for wardrobes, full chests of drawers for all your clothes and accessories, and even for occasional storage in the harder-to-reach space above the window.

To make this installation look like a custom built piece of furniture, build it entirely of one of the attractive, neutral-toned softwoods, such as west coast hemlock or Douglas fir. Then take your choice of finishes, clear lacquer to retain the beauty and grain of the woods, or paint to suit your color scheme.

About all you will need in such a room besides the bed is a chair or two, for the wall built-in replaces dressers, chiffoniers and other such furniture and at a considerable saving in cost and room space.

About 75 per cent of the air-conditioning equipment sold last year was installed in new houses.

EXPERT PLAN — This is the floor plan of House of the Week design X-21. All rooms are on one floor. There is no basement and no attic. Slab or crawl space construction may be used, a major cost-cutting feature.

Live Like the Romans in Modern Ranch Home

Taking its theme from ancient Roman architecture, this contemporary, one-story House of The Week features an atrium as an attractive, patio-like area inside the perimeter of the plan.

In early Roman homes, the atrium became the core of family living because it served so many important functions. In this modern adaptation, the atrium has both functional and esthetic appeal.

Designated X-21 in the House of The week series of outstanding American homes, the plan is especially suitable to a narrow lot because of its front to back arrangement. The overall width of the house, with its seven rooms, is only 48 feet and it can be built on a 65 by 100 foot lot.

The family room, the living room and the kitchen all abut the atrium, creating a feeling of outdoor-indoor living. The atrium is open to the sky. Thus the position of the sun creates different shades and shadows within the atrium and reflects light in such a way that it results in changing color nuances in the house itself.

In this plan, created by Architect Samuel Paul, the atrium fits the modern concept of living. It creates a warm, welcoming atmosphere upon entering the house and it gives light to the surrounding rooms.

ABUNDANT FEATURES

There are many other features in design X-21:

The living room has a fireplace with a wrought iron hood, and a hearth which continues beyond the fireplace proper. The hearth intersects the exterior glass wall and continues into the rear terrace. The entire fireplace wall is of natural brick.

In warmer climates, the fireplace may be eliminated.

There is a covered rear terrace off the living and dining rooms, suitable for dining, entertaining and lounging.

The kitchen, designed with a side entrance for deliveries and extra convenience, is equipped with a dishwasher, counter-top range, built-in refrigerator and built-in oven.

Off the family room and separated from it by a folding partition is a small laundry with washing machine and dryer.

The bedroom wing has three ample-sized bedrooms, two full baths and abundant closet space. Adjacent to the master bedroom is a private terrace which is sealed off at the front by a decorative, garden wall.

The exterior of the house is a combination of wood, glass and brick. The roof is of white marble chips, which reflect sunlight.

CONSTRUCTION COSTS CUT

Design X-21 has no basement and no attic. The house can be built on slab over grade or with crawl space—a major cost-cutting feature.

The vital statistics of the house, as a handy guide for estimating the cost of construction in your area, follow:

The overall dimensions are 48 by 62 feet 4 inches.

The habitable area has 1,551 square feet. The atrium has 185 square feet. The two-car carport has 515 square feet.

The plan has three bedrooms, two baths, dining room, living room, kitchen, family room and atrium.

The Ancient Atrium

The atrium used in the days of the Romans was an important requirement in dewllings. Basically, it was an open court exposed to the sky and it served many functions. Guests were received and welcomed in this area. Business affairs were conducted and general family living took place in the atrium. The ancient atrium always included a little pool called the impluvium which caught rainwater. Often a hearth was included, creating a feature similar to the outdoor fireplace of today. In this adaption of the atrium, a pool is used to collect the roof drainage, thereby making the pool functional as it was in the days of the Romans.

Leave Room for the Guest

You wouldn't think of greeting your guests without first making sure you look your best, so why put a bad foot forward by allowing the guest closet to become a tangled catch—all for everything from a porch mop to a broken umbrella?

The guest closet should be the neatest and best arranged closet in the house. It can be with little effort. One simple way is to install pigeon hole type storage facilities in the closet.

These can be built of hardboard or peg board in an egg-crate type of construction. They should be built for both the overhead shelf and the floor.

On the shelf, they can accommodate hat boxes, purses, and similar items. Bulkier articles, such as boots and rubbers, can be kept neatly arranged in pigeonhole shelves placed on the floor.

Quarter-inch hardboard panels, available at any lumber yard, are suitable for these shelving units. Slots, the thickness of the panel, are sawed half way through each panel where it interlocks with another panel. The completed shelf section is then self-supporting.

Each section may be of any height, best suited for your particular closet, and each may contain two or more shelves. However, they should be at least 12 inches deep and should extend the entire width of the closet.

It can be helpful sometimes to install a vertical divider in the closet. In this way, one side of the closet can be kept exclusively for guests while the family's outdoor clothes and seldom-used items are kept in the other section.

A single panel of quarter-inch hardboard or peg board, framed with one by two-inch lumber and slotted so it fits around the clothes bar and storage shelf, is ideal for this type of installation.

Stagger Fence to Provide More Privacy

No privacy! This is the legitimate complaint of many folks whose homes are located so close to the street that passers-by can stare right into their living room.

One architect has fashioned attractive paneled fences which are built in separate sections with alternate sections staggered to give additional illusion of depth. The panels are about eight feet or more in length.

One is installed directly in front of the entrance door, but close to the sidewalk line. Others follow along the sidewalk line. The staggered effect is attractive and provides a shadow line effect.

By this method you prevent people looking directly into your home and you form a miniature courtyard which, thanks to the fence, can even be used as an outdoor living area. The fences can be built of western red cedar boards and dimension lumber or Douglas fir. Either is inexpensive and both take stain and paints very well.

New Bug Repellents Made More Pleasing

ITHACA, N. Y. (UPI)—Insect repellents, once nearly as repelling to people as to insects, are much more pleasant to use nowadays, the New York State College of Home Economics is happy to report.

Noting that some are as agreeable as hand lotion, the school reports that one of the newcomers—developed through U. S. Department of Agriculture research—is non-greasy and possesses a fresh, delicate fragrance. This repellent, diethyltoluamide, is very effective against mosquitoes and numerous types of biting insects, ticks and mites and gives protection for several hours.

BRIGHTEN BASEMENT — Using a glass-block window is an easy and effective way to brighten the basement. This simple installation brings both natural daylight and ventilation into basement utility and recreation areas. The specially designed glass block ventilator has an inside screen and is gasket-sealed to assure added protection during bad-weather days. These maintenance-free glass block provide an insulation equal to an eight inch masonry wall. So fair days or foul, it's fairer weather every season when a basement is brightened with natural light and ventilation.

Feathers Get Around

Bundles of chicken feathers have been carried into a luxurious hotel salon, a veterans' meeting hall and even a television station to prove it's now possible to burn them and other combustibles without nuisance. The demonstrations of smokeless-odorless gas incinerators also include such unusual props as onion parings, beef bones and egg shells.

Prefinished oak flooring is favored in home modernization by many families because it permits a room to be re-floored and put back in service the same day.

If the directions on a can of odorless paint call for the use of a thinner, be sure to use a thinner of the odorless type, or the paint will lose is odorless quality.

The gutter on the roof of a house would be installed so that the outer edge of the gutter is below a line that would be formed by an extension of the roof slope.

Make Doors Behave Right

Are you bothered by a door that won't stay closed because the latch doesn't catch? This can usually be taken care of by removing the metal strike plate and inserting behind it a cardboard shim. Make the shim by tracing the outline of the strike plate on a piece of cardboard. Then cut the shim out with a sharp knife.

Perhaps your problem is a door that stays closed, but that rattles annoyingly. Though the latch may catch, there is probably a gap between its flat side and the strike plate. Remove the plate and use a sharp knife or chisel to widen the mortise so that the plate can be replaced with the flat side of the latch fitting snugly against it.

The crews that hold the strike plate won't go back in the old holes, so fill these with plastic wood and let harden overnight before replacing the strike plate. Use a little more of the plastic wood to fill any exposed area of the mortise. Sand smooth when hard and touch up with paint to match surrounding wood.

If a door scrapes the floor, sanding may be the answer. To sand without removing the door, lay a fairly large sheet of sandpaper, abrasive side up, on the floor where you can work it in under the door. Hold the sandpaper in place with one hand; with the other swing the door slowly back and forth across the abrasive surface.

Degrees for Plumbers

Plumbers usually go through long training as apprentices, journeymen and finally master plumbers. But college degrees are now given in plumbing science. The National Assn. of Plumbing Contractors says such degrees are now awarded by the State University of Iowa and by Los Angeles City College.

Vinyl Wax Is Childproof

Keep your bath and powder room floorings bright enough for guest inspection with water repellent self-polishing vinyl floor wax. Because it's made with vinyl, this new floor wax childproofs floorings against spills from shower, tub or sink. You can mop up without dulling its shine. And it's safe for all types of flooring, according to the manufacturer.

Most complaints of noises in the piping system in a house can be traced to the rubbing of pipes on floors, joists, or other structural members. Clearance should be provided so that the pipe does not touch a structural member at any point.

Heat Pump Does 2-Season Duty

The Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute explains that the heat pump works in summer by removing heat from the air in a house and pumping it outside.

In winter, the process is reversed. The unit actually extracts heat from outside air at sub-freezing temperatures and discharges it into the house at a comfortable temperature level.

As a form of electric heat, the heat pump is most practical for complete winter heating in areas where electric rates are low, and in homes thickly insulated with mineral wool so that little heat is lost. The insulation helps greatly in summer, too.

A room-unit heat pump can be used to warm a room in late spring or early fall when the central heating system is shut down.

The ARI predicts that heat pumps will "come of age" when electric utility companies realize that the heavy demand for electric power for air conditioning in summer needs to be equalized in winter.

Heat Add-on Projects

Vented gas heaters that do not require vent pipes are assuming an important role in add-on building projects and conversions of garages and breezeways into living quarters. Models are made to fit into walls or windows. They draw air and expel products of combustion directly to the outdoors through a hole cut into the wall or through the window opening.

Make Sensible Contracts

If a borrower with size 14 feet signs a mortgage in which he agrees to wear size 13½ shoes, the agreement will be as binding as the shoes. George F. Anderson, Chicago legal expert for the National Assn. of Real Estate Boards, says a contract may be unreasonable or silly, but so long as it is not illegal, impossibility of performance is no defense.

FOUR-WAY UNIT—NuTone, first to introduce electric ceiling heaters, has just revealed a deluxe four-way ceiling unit that combines a heater, a circulating fan, a light and exhaust fan. While the fan is circulating gently heated air to every corner of the bath, the exhaust fan automatically shuts off preventing any loss of warm air. The heating element is the enclosed type for maximum safety and long, trouble-free operation. A super-silent exhaust fan quickly carries off all steam and odors. The lens on the 100-watt light is hinged for easy removal and is especially designed to illuminate the entire bathroom. NuTone has equipped the unit with a back draft damper which is flanged for use with standard 4" duct.

Portable Saw Introduces New Features

The seven ampere Remington Model 66 offers precision features not found in many medium-priced saws. One of these is a sawdust blower. A strong jet of air, blown by the turbine-type cooler fan through a roofed port, clears the sawdust away from the line of cut and keeps it out of the operator's face.

Other special features are the locknut thumb levers for adjusting both depth of cut and bevel, cartridge-type brush holders which simplify inspection and specially designed motor ventilator slots for more efficient cooling.

The saw weighs only seven pounds, has a cutting depth capacity of 2 1-16 inches, self-lubricating bearings, a telescoping blade guard with retracting lever, a blade speed of 4,000 r.p.m. and an AC-DC 25-60 cycle motor of 7 amperes. It can bevel cut 2x4 lumber at 45 degrees.

The saw is equipped with 6½-inch combination rip and cross cut blade, a wrench and an eight-foot cord. It has a die-cast aluminum alloy housing and a sturdy wide steel shoe for more positive control and accurate cutting.

Takes as Much Fact as Fancy

Kitchen decoration takes more than imagination.

Common sense is just as important—maybe more so. Of what use is a pretty new paint job if the paint is inferior in quality?

Imaginative common sense, though, is just about the best bet for the homemaker bent on a kitchen remodeling job. Her plans must afford both beauty and practicality. Colored glass splashbacks are nice—but for how long?

Here are four ways to add a new decorative touch to your kitchen—permanently and practically.

1. Surface your kitchen range splashback area with a durable, fireproof, stainproof material like ceramic tile whose wide range of colors, sizes, shapes and textures offer infinite decorative possibilities. Unique decorative tiles are also available from your local tile dealers.

2. Match your materials carefully for the desired effect. For instance, brick and copper suggest a country atmosphere. Colorful (but quality-made) accessories introduce informality. Matching wallpaper and ceramic tile gives your kitchen unity.

3. Let the outdoors come inside. Widen windows or put a bigger door through to the terrace. Let terrace greenery and flowers grow their way right into the kitchen. However, make sure to take care of your "garden."

4. Concentrate on natural textures. Stone, brick, wood, quarry tile, for instance, blend beautifully to produce a simple, down-to-earth kitchen combining both beauty and practicality.

New Use for Hardboard

Home handymen have found that a small bar in the family room or basement is handy for entertaining. A bar exterior of Masonite Seadrift, a rugged woodgrain pattern embossed into one surface, can be finished either in flat tones or striking tone-on-tone colors.

Sixty per cent of today's home buyers are seeking their second or even third home, report housing statisticians of Allied Chemical's Barrett Division.

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The 37-year-old signal caller, oldest player on the field at Briggs Stadium, found out what it was like to be caught in a den of Lions. Aided by Conerly's off-target passing and an alert defense, the Lions whipped the Giants 26-7 before 33,000 fans last night.

Yale Lary and Jimmy David raced for touchdowns with interceptions of two of Conerly's passes and a safety was added when Roger Zatkoff smeared Frank Gifford in the end zone after taking a pitch from Conerly.

On a field goal attempt which probably would have been an easy boot for veteran Jim Martin, rookie Wayne Walker was given a chance and he failed from the 26-yard line.

Other rookies, including Ken Webb and Ralph Pfiefer on the offensive unit and Dave Whitsell on defense saw plenty of action.

Whitsell again did an outstanding job and made it clear he wasn't going to give up without a battle for a job.

"He makes mistakes we expect rookies to make, but he has been doing a good job," said Wilson.

The Giants scored first after Bobby Layne's pass was completed to Steve Junker who fumbled on his own 31. From here the touchdown was scored six plays later with Triplett going over from the two. Pat Summerall converted.

During the series Layne completed four passes to Jim Doran and Gene Gedman and the march was also aided by a personal foul penalty on the Giants.

Walker's try for the field goal came late in the second period to end the last scoring attempt in the first half.

In the third quarter Martin booted a 23-yard field goal to make it 10-7 and a moment later Lary grabbed Conerly's pass on the 34 and went the distance standing up to make it 17-7 with Layne's conversion.

Then came the safety where Zatkoff broke through fast to hit Gifford in the end zone.

After Detroit punted New York had the ball on its 13 and three plays later it was David's turn to intercept just as the 4th quarter started. David raced 54 yards for his touchdown and Layne's conversion made it 26-7.

Gene Cronin was banished from the game in the first quarter. Cronin said one of the Giant players was standing on his foot and when he went to push him off, the official thought he was swinging. The Lions took a 15 yard penalty and Cronin was tossed out.

Wilson said he would take 43 players on the two week trip to Dallas and Norman where the Lions will meet the Bears and Eagles.

Bob Friend Halts Braves, Pirates Trail by 6½

Battling Bucs Gain Ground

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Friend finally has won 18. Dick Stuart is no flop. And the Pittsburgh Pirates? Man, they're blowin' the foam off the beer in Milwaukee.

The barreling Bucs got off running in their week-long showdown with the Braves by winning 3-2 at Milwaukee last night, trimming the champs' National League lead to 6½ games again.

The second place Pirates trail the Braves by six games in the lost column—and they have six left to play with 'em, single games today and tomorrow at Milwaukee and four in Pittsburgh next weekend.

Friend, the workhorse of the Buc staff, needed some relief help—and got plenty of it from Don Gross — at the end, but he had enough to out-duel southpaw Warren Spahn and move out all alone as the NL's top winner.

The Pirate right-hander, whose best previous winning total was 17 when he had a .500 year in 1956, now is 18-13. Spahnie, firing for his ninth season of 20 or more victories, is 17-10.

Los Angeles knocked off third place San Francisco 4-2 and retained fourth place over the St. Louis Cardinals, who defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-5. Cincinnati rapped Philadelphia 5-3.

In the American League, Pete Ramos blanked the New York Yankees on six hits for a 3-0 Washington victory. The Chicago White Sox belted Detroit 3-0 on Dick Donovan's four-hitter. Boston beat Baltimore 5-2 and Kansas City defeated Cleveland 8-7.

And Casey Stengel says, "I'm worried." But it's not quite as preposterous as it sounds.

Stengel reportedly has another two-year contract waiting for him as manager of the New York Yankees at $80,000 a year. And he has a still breezy 10½-game lead en route to his ninth American League pennant.

But, at the moment, he doesn't have Whitey Ford.

The Yankees' stubby southpaw ace (14-7) is on the shelf with a sore arm. Ford is no loss for what's left of the AL season, but he could be a real blow in the World Series.

Unable to throw a curve without pain since a hurried warm-up August 10, Whitey gave his arm a test last night at Washington and it flunked. He faced only two men, got them out, then quit.

Ford, winless in two decisions and unable to complete any of four starts since his bullpen blunder, figures his arm trouble is "the same thing I usually get in spring training. I think if I get a rest for about a week, it will be all right."

He had a five-day rest before starting last night, but when he went to the curve, he still felt the pain in the crook of his elbow.

Wilson Calls Out PCH, PN Harriers

Members of the combined Pontiac Central and Northern High School cross-country squad have been called for 1958 season preliminaries. Track and harrier coach Dean Wilson today asked the boys to pick up their insurance blanks and physical cards at the school office any time Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

"We expect to begin active workouts by Thursday or Friday," Wilson stated.

Donovan Hurls 4-Hitter Over Ex-Teammates

Kuenn Fails to Muster a Hit in Bid for AL Batting Crown

CHICAGO (AP)—Now the second-guessers can add Dick Donovan to the list of deals that have backfired on the Detroit Tigers.

Donovan blanked Harvey Kuenn in four trips and the Detroit center fielder gave up the American League hitting leadership, at least momentarily, to Boston's Pete Runnels.

The lumbering Donovan appeared in only two games with Detroit in 1954 and went back to Atlanta in the Southern Assn. There, according to Donovan himself, he turned into a pitcher good enough for the big leagues—all because former Brooklyn pitcher Whitlow Wyatt taught him how to throw a slider.

Whatever Donovan was throwing last night, it was more than enough. He kept four singles well scattered and his mates, who got only five, made them count for three runs.

The White Sox, who picked up Donovan from Atlanta, are enjoying his latest string of successes. Since the All-Star game, Donovan has won 8 of 10 decisions and his record now is 11-12 after a faltering start. Two of those victories have been easy ones over his former teammates —and going into the 1958 season Donovan had a 7-4 mark against Detroit.

Coupled with southpaw Billy Pierce—whom the Tigers dealt off for Aaron Robinson in one of the most-disputed deals in Detroit history—Donovan gives the Sox two fine pitchers who frequently cause Tiger hitters a lot of trouble.

The Sox started off in the first inning with a rush. Luis Aparicio led off with a fly to short left field which became a double when Tiger shortstop Inman (Coot) Veal couldn't hold on to it while running with his back to the infield.

Lollar singled, moved along on a sacrifice, and scored on a single off Billy Goodman's bat, Sam Esposito was sent in to run for Goodman. He moved to third on a single by Don Mueller and scored when Bubba Phillips grounded out to Frank Bolling.

Sally Completes Golfing 'Triple'

Miss Sharp 5-4 Victor in Match Play Finals of WDGA Tourney

The 3rd player in history and the 1st in 27 years to win the "triple crown" of women's golf in a single season—that's the distinction held by Sally Sharp of Forest Lake.

Miss Sharp completed her sweep of 1958 honors Friday at Knollwood Country Club with a 5-4 victory over Mrs. S. E. Gawne of Bloomfield Hills in the finals of the Women's District Golf Association match play championship.

The 21-year-old MSU senior began her conquest of the "triple" last June by winning the WDGA 54-hole medal play tournament. She took the next step in July by taking the Michigan Amateur title for the 2nd time and completed the task yesterday.

Mrs. Gawne, a surprise finalist, won only one hole in the showdown match. Sally was just one stroke above par when the match ended on the 14th green with 13 pars and one bogey. She won five of the first eight holes.

Prep Gridders Set to Start

By CHUCK ABAIR

Another Labor Day swings around on the calendar Monday, and with it will come the annual beginning of football workouts for prep schools around the Pontiac area and throughout Michigan.

State rules prevent any teams holding practice sessions before the final holiday of the summer season.

The opening games for most schools are set for Sept. 19 which does not leave too much time for the coaches to prepare their charges for the rugged going ahead —especially those who have big rebuilding jobs.

Most schools start classes Sept. 4 which will make it possible for them to hold two sessions a day for the first three days which will get some of the conditioning and routine opening work out of the way.

Pontiac Central will be heading into its 2nd year under head coach Jesse MacLeay with some experienced players returning. Depth will be the major problem as the Chiefs try to improve on last year's 3-5-1 record.

PCH will practice from 9 to 11 a.m. and 2 to 4 p.m. daily until school begins.

This year, the new Pontiac Northern will not field a varsity football team because Northern's facilities are not scheduled to be completed until November. Present Central backfield coach Ed Heikkinen will direct the PNH eleven nevt fall.

St. Michael and St. Frederick are expected to be in the thick of things in the Suburban Catholic race again and Orchard Lake St. Mary could cause some surprises.

The Shamrocks lost eight lettermen but have seven back from a team that won six and lost two. Jack Lyon, Oakland County scoring champion of 1957, should lead the Rams again, while Orchard Lake is a darkhorse.

Waterford and Walled Lake will be out to dethrone Southfield but won't find it easy. Farmington also must be reckoned with in the Inter-Lakes loop.

Waterford should better its 1-6-1 record, while Walled Lake can start a veteran in each position featuring breakaway flash Frank Fink. Eight lettermen from Southfield's unbeaten team will be on hand. Farmington could go all the way is Jack Hayes can develop a solid line.

The Wayne-Oakland looks well balanced with some coaches giving Northville the nod as a repeat winner. Holly could upset the dope with 11 lettermen. Many new faces will make up the other contingents. John Lucadam of West Bloomfield is one of the few 1957 stars returning.

A wide open scramble may develop in the Oakland B where graduation wrecked champion Lake Orion. New Dragon coach Frank Kowiacki could still turn out a strong enough starting unit though, if his conversions work out. The transfer of Troy standout Bill Jennings and Larry Douglas' recovery from an injury will greatly boost Avondale.

Rochester has lost three players before the reason even starts due to various reasons but gained one in Clare Gillespie, a giant transfer from Rockford.

Ortonville and Oxford will need considerable help from young players in order to become threats in the South Central.

Emily's Pride is Pride of Local Stable

By H. GUY MOATS

This week's record-time victory for Emily's Pride, in the famed, no-betting Hambletonian trot at DuQuoin, Ill., recalled to Pontiac area "horse people" the long-time part the Dodge Stables have played in show-ring and on the racing strip.

Emily's Pride is half-owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Lennep of Detroit. Mrs. Van Lennep is the former Frances Dodge whose harness and gaited ponies and horses have been among top winners for many years. Mr. Van Lennep is president of the Wolverine Harness Raceway, and the Van Lenneps operate the well-known Castleton Farm at Lexington, Ky., where their saddle horses are maintained and trained. Walnut Hall farm, at Lexington, is the other half-owner.

King of the saddle horses is the beautiful Wing Commander who won more than 200 honors and for years prior to his retirement at the Kentucky farm, was America's top show horse.

The Van Lenneps have six hackney ponies under training at the Rochester farm, headed by the veteran showring performer, Cora's Mite, and Pilot Model, being prepped for fall and winter appearances. Veteran trainer Henry Johnson has them in charge, along with Red Letter (6-year-old chestnut stallion) and Karen (4-year-old mare). Both Red Letter and Karen have been show-pieces at the Wolverine track where they appear as parade horses prior to the start of the races. Johnson has been with the Dodge Stables for 20 years.

Emily's Pride set a Hambletonian mark of 1:59 4-5 for the final heat of the nation's top harness race. She started in the second rank of sulkies. Driver Flick Nipe stayed back for a time, then moved to the center of the field, from where he went out on the stretch to win by a half length.

Pride won the first heat in 2:00 1-5, fastest for a filly up to that time. She came close to disaster in the second heat where she finished 12th. During a move to overtake Sharpshooter (1957 winner), Pride hit a foot against Sharpshooter's sulky.

Former Hambletonian record was set in 1947 by the great Hoot Mon, a product of the Castleton farm, purchased in 1946 for $50,000, and sold in 1948 for the same amount, to Hanover Shoe Farms, Hanover, Pa.

Jets 8-0 Victor at Battle Creek

Herman Bishop, veteran Pontiac pitcher, hurled the Jets to an 8-0 win over Saginaw yesterday in the opening round of the Michigan Amateur baseball tournament at Battle Creek Stadium.

Bishop twirled a four-hit shutout and aided the Jets' lusty 14-hit attack with three safe blows at the plate.

Jim Berg also made three hits, Ben Robinson and Colie Hunt each collected two safeties and Hurston Avery and John Flesser drove in two runs apiece. Fletcher Davis was the only Jet player who failed to hit safely.

Other first round scores Friday: Wyandotte 10, Dearborn 1; Lansing 4, Lincoln Park 0; Battle Creek 22, Monroe 0; Detroit 18, Cedarville 2; Muskegon 1, Wayne 0; River Rouge 6, Grand Rapids 1; Jackson 5, Kalamazoo 2 (10 innings).

'Shoe' Pairings Are Announced

Pairings are all set for the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's open horseshoe tournament on Labor Day at Oakland Park. Pitching begins at 1 p.m.

Competition will be held in men's singles and doubles with trophies going to the winners. Eighteen players will participate in the single knockout event.

There are eight teams in the doubles tourney with the 1st round slated for 2 out of 3 games and the semis and finals on a best-of-5 basis. In singles, the first three rounds are 2 out of 3 and the semis and finals a best-of-5. All scoring will be 25 points per game.

SINGLES

1st Round Matches

Frank Cook vs. Phillip Frank, Paul Davis vs. Bill Hedding.

2nd Round Matches

DOUBLES

1st Round Matches

Mitchell Sparks Browns

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Doesn't matter what suit he's in, Bobby Mitchell — the ex-Illinois halfback—likes to run against the pros.

The running star for the College All-Stars against Detroit two weeks ago is keeping it up now that he's joined the Cleveland Browns. Last night, he gained 114 yards in nine first-half carries alone as the Browns snapped Los Angeles' exhibition streak at two with a 13-10 victory before 41,387 in Los Angeles.

Lou Groza's field goal with 15 seconds eft decided the game but in this case it's probable Coach Paul Brown was more interested in Mitchell's performance than in Groza's patented heroics.

Scrappy Bronzeback Puts Up Hard Fight

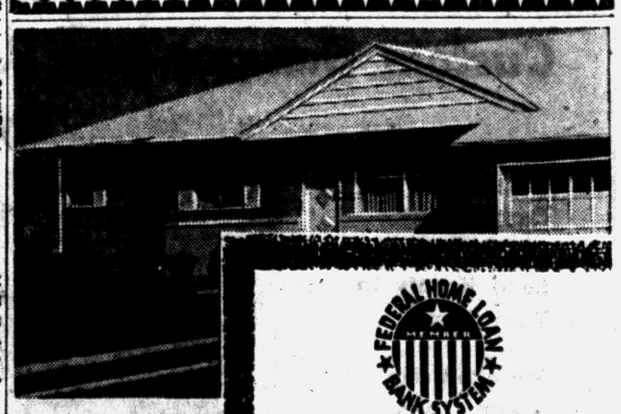

Walter Kinney, resident of Sault Ste. Marie, who spends part of his summers at a place on Walters Lake near here, had a lot of admiration and respect for the husky bass he boated Thursday, under the light of a bright moon.

"That largemouth," Kinney reported, "gave me a real battle for about eight minutes." It weighed 4 pounds, 12 ounces and was his biggest bass. He took it on a 6-poind test spin rig line, with a surface-action jitterbug.

American Dads Amaze Germans

FRANKFORT—American fathers positively amaze Germans. To hausfraus they are unbelievable, and to German social workers they are shee marvels. Reasons? They actually play with their children.

Germans discovered this phenomenon approximately ten years ago when, with the aid of the U. S. air lift during the blockade of Berlin, they launched a unique charity program called "Hilfswerk Berlin."

Because Berliners occupy a tiny "island" in the center of the hostile Russian zone, the children can never stroll into the country to discover the delights of nature on a farm. As a consequence, a private foundation undertook to place the youngsters of impoverished Berlin parents with West German families during the five-weeks summer vacation period.

Somewhat to their own surprise, the project is proving such a hit that 175,000 moppets have enjoyed free holidays in West Germany since 1948, and this year's total of 32,875 is more than double the number of children who participated last year.

East West German who offers to take a youngster for the summer must pay all of the expenses except transportation, yet, always there are more willing hosts than available children. In fact, pandemonium reigned for a time this summer when a woman who had volunteered to take one child went to the terminal to meet the group, and took two instead. A friend who accompanied her also took one, on the spur of the moment, without prior request.

The two prospective "foster" mothers for whom the little visitors had been intended raised such cries of disappointment that two other children had to be hurriedly rounded up in Berlin.

Americans stationed in Germany have enthusiastically embraced the modern-day Pied Piper program. Their women's groups not only raise money to help support the foundation, but more than 500 U. S. families take West Berlin moppets into their homes here every summer. That is how Germans learned about American fathers.

Local social workers have long been vexed by the fact that 90 per cent of all German families who offer to "borrow" children, or even to adopt babies, invariably specify that they want blonde, blue-eyed girls. Boys need homes or vacations, too, but few Germans are willing to take them.

However, when the children's airlift program began, the "incredible" Americans in Germany volunteered to take "any" children. Boys were as welcome as girls, and frequently more so.

"At first we could not understand," a social worker confided. "Then to our utter delight we discovered that American men actually play with the children. They even seem to enjoy tossing balls with the young boys."

Dr. George Schwarz, director of the foundation, said it is a heartrending scene each August as the "foster" parents take their little visitors to the terminal for their return to Berlin. The women cry, and so do the moppets who are going back to their cheerless slums.

Many times, because of the summer attachments formed, West German hausfraus request the same children over and over each year, until they reach the age limit of 15. Some 500 of the youngsters whose fathers are ill, or too poor to care for them properly, have in fact been permanently adopted by the kindly people who originally opened their doors to them only as visitors.

For those lucky youngsters, the slogan of the foundation—"Voyage to Happiness"—has truly become a reality.

Unique Agency Helps Students

80 Per Cent of Loan Backed by Corporation in Massachusetts

By JOSEPH B. KELLEY

BOSTON (AP) — The adage that nothing is surer than death or taxes could be amended by adding a phrase "and the continued increase in college tuition."

The costs of education continue upward everywhere but are probably more noticeable in Massachusetts with its many colleges and universities. In addition to a variety of state maintained or encouraged loan and scholarship programs, this state has a unique agency called HELP—Higher Education Loan Plan.

Lapse of the GI bill led to the statute establishing HELP, which does not itself loan money.

Applicants must be upperclass students or graduate students in good standing. They may obtain $500 annually, with some modifications.

And they must be Massachusetts residents but may attend any approved college or university.

Last spring the agency's reserve fund, contributed by corporations, foundations and individuals, reached $100,000. Directors of HELP aim for a constant reserve of $500,000—not one penny from public treasuries.

The first HELP loan was approved in March of 1957 and in less than a year the corporation had guaranteed 1,760 loans with a total value of $809,962.

Of those, 24 have been repaid in full—$8,145.

Not a delinquent has been reported.

British Missile Tested

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — A major new weapon, the 2,000 m.p.h. air-to-air rocket Blue Jay, has been tested successfully at the British-Australian Woomera Range, an authoritative source said today.

The Blue Jay was developed in Britain and is for use by fighter aircraft to shoot down either enemy planes or attacking guided missiles.

"You bought yourself a packet of trouble," the judge replied, fining Thornton 44 pounds 15 shillings ($125.30).

U. S. Monitor Entire World?

Representative Asserts Gadgets Will Use Moon in Picking Up Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—Has the United States developed electronic gadgets which can use the moon to monitor what's going on all over the world?

Rep. James G. Fulton (R-Pa) made that claim yesterday in Holland.

But the Pentagon, hours later, would only say:

"Published reports attributed to a congressman do not coincide with any available information concerning current Depatment of Defense projects."

But this appeared to conflict with remarks made last April to a special House space committee by Rear Adm. John T. Hayward, the Navy's research chief.

Hayward then replied affirmatively when Fulton asked whether this country has it "within our power soon to monitor the whole world . . . the capability through electronic means to use the moon as a reconnaissance satellite . . .?

The admiral said then that both possibilities resulted from breakthroughs in electronic development achieved at naval research laboratories.

Kock Home Open for Floral Design

The club, formed about six months ago, is seeking to learn all it can about gathering appropriate materials and making floral arrangements for its entry in the Inter-Garden Club Flower Show. The show will be held Sept. 6 and 7 from 2 to 9 p.m. in the Waterford Community Activities Building the theme being "Autumn Splendor."

Mrs. Leroy Small, publicity chairman of the show, and Mrs. Charles Furler assisted the Pine Lake group in practicing various designs and also gave it many helpful hints as to how to make their entry in the novice field, members said.

The flowers used for the work shop were furnished by Mrs. Lawrence Keller and Mrs. Kock.

HERE WE ARE! — Bursting with anticipation, these youngsters arrive for the first day of school in Dayton, Ohio. Intelligent handling by adults will make every day just as much fun.

First Day as Pupil Is Milepost

By FRANCES HAMILTON
Executive Secretary, Assn. for Childhood Education International

Being 6 has a special significance for almost every child. This is a great turning point, because he steps into the larger world of the school and the community.

On the first school day in September each 6-year-old brings with him factors which help determine the kind of first grade adjustment he will make. His own particular pattern of growth is an important consideration.

First-grade teachers can count on a great range in sizes and builds: short and plump or short and slight, sturdy, frail, awkward, dainty. All this indicates uneveness and sudden spurts of growth.

VARIATIONS NATURAL

Just as such variations in physical growth are natural, so are variations in other kinds of maturity to be expected. Mental, emotional and social development will be irregular and uneven among children. Most of them, whatever their rate of maturity, will have the necessary potential for realizing successful adjustment.

Another factor which helps determine the type of school adjustment for a first grader is his home experience. If he has had a warm, friendly home with stable, affectionate parents, he brings with him an expectancy and readiness for a similar satisfying experience at school.

The organ's and framework of the 6-year-old's body are growing and changing. They may try hard to sit still but they are not able to do so for long, because it is difficult for them to control their motions voluntarily.

Intellectually, these children are ready for school. Eagerness to learn is one of the most endearing traits of 6-year-olds. Theirs is the age of WHY. How the questions of these children are answered and how their curiosity is stimulated and encouraged determine their subsequent attitudes toward learning.

Emphasis on academic achievement can destroy a first grader's confidence. Grades or marks should not be mentioned, but each child should be helped to read, write and do numbers when he is ready—and not all first graders will be ready at the same time.

If we wait for the point of readiness, the child will pass on more smoothly and efficiently from the years of early cihldhood into the more demanding school age period.

TIME OF TRANSITION

He wants to be a grown-up, but at the same time he feels very small and dependent upon the affection of adults about him. Rigid discipline or a severe atmosphere at school or home holds him back. He wilts under criticism and disapproval and becomes discouraged easily. His explosiveness and violent changeability are normal and must be expected.

Affection, warmth, friendliness and a sense of humor can all help teachers and parents live happily with 6-year-olds. These children need praise, encouragement and understanding.

Sell-Musson Vows Said at Rochester

ROCHESTER—St. John Lutheran Church in Rochester was the scene Saturday evening of the marriage of Diana Jo Musson and Arnold L. Sell. Performing the rite was the Rev. Walter Gerken.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Musson of 418 Castell St. and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Emil E. Sell, 322 Mary Knoll.

For her wedding the new Mrs. Sell chose a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and peau de soie. It featured a Sabrina neckline, fitted bodice and bouffant skirt.

Maid of honor was Marcia Ballagh of Rochester. Bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sister, Diane, and Jo Stanley, both of Rochester, and Mary Barrett of Saginaw. Tammie Tucker of Britton and Sylvia Kirkton of Rochester were flower girls.

David Mackley of Rochester was best man. The bride's brother, Lee; David Thomas and Donald Thompson, all of Rochester, were ushers.

MRS. ARNOLD L. SELL

KATHRYN RAE SMITH

Graduating from the Bronson Methodist Hospital School of Nursing, Kalamazoo, at commencement exercises Monday will be Kathryn Rae Smith, daughter of Mrs. Sam T. Smith of 41300 14 Mile Rd., Walled Lake. A graduate of Walled Lake Senior High, Miss Smith plans to work in the pediatrics department of William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Hynds Appointed JP at White Lake

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Joseph F. Hynds has been appointed by the White Lake Township board to serve as justice of the peace.

Hynds, who held the office previously and was the first chief of the township fire department, will fill the vacancy of Justice Fred R. Stephan who died recently.

'Witness' to Close Series

METAMORA — A. Bocksch, a representative of the Watchtower Society, will speak at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Metamora Township Hall. This is the last in a series of five meetings conducted here by the society.

Lerita J. Jencks Marries in Hand-Fashioned Gown

MRS. A. G. WAITMAN

ORTONVILLE—Lerita J. Jencks wore a gown designed and made by her mother Saturday when she was wed to Albert G. Waitman in the Ortonville Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Jencks of 179 W. Mill St., Ortonville and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waitman of Fremont, Ohio.

The gown of lace over taffeta had a bouffant skirt fashioned in tiers of lace, short gathered sleeves and a Sabrina neckline trimmed with sequins. Her fingertip veil was held by a tiara of pearls and was trimmed with lace, sequins and scattered roses.

Bridesmaid was Margaret Ann Cates of Pontiac, cousin of the bride and Jane Ridley of Pontiac was junior bridesmaid. Mary Sue Ridley of Pontiac, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Following their honeymoon in northern Michigan, the couple will live in Clearwater, Fla., where the bridegroom is attending Trinity College.

Mary Glanville, John F. Moore Exchange Vows

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Following their Porcupine Mountains honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Moore will make their home in the Upper Peninsula community of Kenton where the bridegroom is employed with the U.S. Forestry Service.

They were married recently at the First Congregational Church in Hancock. Dr. Robert Bentley performed the rite in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride, the former Mary Susan Glanville, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul P. Dennis of Hancock. Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Moore of 4882 Cass-Elizabeth Rd. Waterford Township, are the bridegroom's parents.

Mary Lou Fulton of Hancock was the maid of honor and best man was David Crawford of Pontiac.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Moore is a graduate of Soumi College, Hancock, and her husband is a graduate of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology in Houghton.

Couple to Celebrate Golden Anniversary

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Guttentag of 1704 Crescent Lake Rd. will be celebrated at 7 p.m. Sunday at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kanarek of 18481 Hartwell St., Detroit, who on the same date will be celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary.

The Guttentags' other children include Clarence Guttentag and his family and Mrs. Albert Bleifeld, both of Detroit, and Sydney Guttentag and his family of Los Angeles, Calif. There are eight grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Guttentag have been residents of Waterford Township for the past 20 years.

Metamora Students Will Register Tuesday

METAMORA — Registration will be held for Metamora students Tuesday and regular classes will begin Wednesday. Kindergartners who have not yet enrolled may do so Tuesday.

Men's Club Will Meet

MARLETTE—The first fall meeting of the Marlette Methodist Men's Club will be held Tuesday in the church. The Rev. Joseph Dibley of East Tawas will be the guest speaker.

Attacks on Quemoy Violate U. S. Pact?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mme. Chiang Kai-shek says she believes President Eisenhower views an attack on Quemoy and Matsu islands as "an attack on the Sino-American security pact."

She told a radio interviewer yesterday that "Quemoy and Matsu are the eyes of Taiwan Formosa. In our mutual security pact the fend Taiwan."

The wife of the Nationalist Chinese leader said the U.S. Congress left to the President "discretionary powers to take whatever steps necessary for the protection of Taiwan."

Mme. Chiang came to Los Angeles to speak before the American Bar Assn.

News in Brief

The Auburn Coffee Shop, 462 Auburn Ave., will remain open until 3 a.m. Fri. & Sat. Home cooked meals

About 85 per cent of Americans lived on farms in colonial days compared with only 13.5 per cent of the U. S. population today.

Seeks Bids to Buy School in Kile District

METAMORA TOWNSHIP — The Metamora School District No. 4 is seeking bids to purchase the Kile School buildings and site at Baldwin and Kile road, Metamora Township because the Kile district is now annexed to Metamora.

Bids are to be presented to Arthur Stimson, secretary and Frank Best, treasurer, before 8 p.m. Sept. 8.

Stiles PTA Schedules Get-Acquainted Meeting

AVON TOWNSHIP — Stiles School PTA will sponsor a "Get Acquainted" meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday at the school for parents, teachers and board of education members.

Five new teachers have been added to the faculty and this will be an opportunity for parents to meet them.

Tours of new classrooms and other additions to the school also will be made. Board members will serve refreshments.

At 7:45 p.m. Tuesday, the Avondale Parent-Teacher-Student Assn. executive board will meet.

OUTWARD TO THE STARS

(12) — Robot Scouts

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

(1) At the same time that men are undergoing simulated space trips in sealed capsules on Earth, and edging ever further into the fringes of space in rocket planes like the X-15, progress in unmanned vehicles, or robot scouts, will continue to advance. Not too many months should see the launching of a television-equipped satellite which will relay a picture of what the Earth looks like at an altitude of some hundred or thousands of miles. Vehicle at left is going into orbit, its television device and antennae already extended.

(2) In the first Moon shoot, scientists had a choice of three possible methods: a rocket to orbit around the Moon, or both Moon and Earth; a "hard" landing (crash) against its surface; and a "soft" landing upon it, the most difficut of all.

(3) A robot scout will undoubtedly precede men to the Moon, and probably the other planets. Here, automatic devices have positioned such a rocket tail-first to the Moon's surface as it approaches. Its landing pads have been let down, as a radar altimeter triggers its braking rockets. An atmospheric altimeter and wings would be useless on the airless Moon.

(4) Successfully landed, panels on the sides of the robot fall away, exposing instruments which will measure temperature, atmospheric density (if any) and make other measurements. Solar or battery-powered radio beams this information back to Earth. A loney sentinel on the Moon's forbidding landscape, it will perform an invaluable service, paving the way for the first venture of man himself to the Moon.

Next: Man Into Space.

WE WISH TO THANK OUR MANY friends and neighbors for their kindness shown us during our recent bereavement. Special thanks to the Rev. Luther for his comforting words and to the Pursley Funeral Home. Son, George T. Paulson, brother Vincent and sister Ann Strom.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear husband & father, Andrew Johnson, who passed away Aug. 30, 1956
It's not the tears at the moment shed
That tell of the hearts that are torn;
But the lonely tears in the after years
And the heartaches sadly borne.

TV's Gunslingers Head for Trouble This Fall

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Wyatt Earps and the Mavericks are heading for trouble this fall-and not with gunslingers.

A new film TV network is slinging young sex appeal at the adult cowboys, currently riding high on TV's rating ranges.

Comics fell by the laughtrack in a futile attempt to knock off the Western series. But no one until National Telefilm Associates ever thought of throwing three pretty girls in front of the stampeding mustangs.

The new series, which will be seen on 115 independent stations throughout the laod, is "How to Marry a Millionaire." The same title once was used for a successful movie.

The movie starred Lauren Bacall, Marilyn Monroe and Betty Grable, three New York career girls looking for millionaire husbands. It was made by 20th Century-Fox, the same company that has made the television series.

Presuming that the TV series may have a long run, three younger girls have been cast. In the Bacall role is red-haired Merry Anders, a shapely actress who was believably cast as a beauty contest winner in her last movie. The Monroe role goes to Barbara Eden and the Grable part is played by Lori Nelson, once one of Universal-International's most promising young actresses.

Merry had a bit part in the original movie. She got into the movies when she asked Bob Hope for his autograph. Hope, who has a good eye, told Merry that she should be giving autographs instead of asking for them.

NTA, partly owned by 20th Century-Fox, is a new idea in networks. It calls itself a "non interconnected" film network. It delivers films individually to its stations, not via coaxial cable.

It will present the independent stations with a blockbuster night to compete with the three major networks.

Besides "How to Marry a Millionaire," it will deliver two other half-hour shows — "This is Alice" and "Man Without a Gun." In addition, it has 39 first run movies, starting off with Jimmy Stewart in "Call Northside 777."

NTA started four years ago on a prayer and now has assets of 36 million dollars.

Saddest Minutes in Life Busting Cases of Booze

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The "saddest 45 minutes of my life," smashed with a sledge more than 50 cases of assorted liquors.

Mikalow, a salvage diver, recovered more than 600 bottles from the hulk of the Showboat. The State Alcoholic Beverage Control Department said estuary waters have contaminated the liquor and ordered it destroyed.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

'Face the Nation' Spotlights Faubus

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas will be interviewed Sunday, Aug. 31, on the Columbia Broadcasting System television network program "Face the Nation."

A CBS spokesman said the 4:30 p.m. EST program will originate from studios of KTHV-TV in Little Rock, Ark.
