Harry Anderson Is Laid to Rest

Harlow Curtice Among 700 Mourners Filling Church in Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A small, quiet country cemetery—half-hidden in a pine and oak grove—became the final resting place yesterday of Harry W. Anderson, 67, retired General Motors vice president who died tragically in a hunting accident Wednesday.

Among the mourners was retired GM President Harlow H. Curtice, who accidentally shot Anderson as the two-long time auto industry associates hunted ducks on an exclusive reserve on Ste. Anne's Island between the United States and Canadian borders.

Nearly 700 persons, including many of the top executives of the automotive industry, business, labor and civic affairs, paid their final respects to Anderson during the modest Mormon burial service. Rites were held in the First Presbyterian Church in order to accommodate the huge gathering.

Anderson's wife, Veda, 40, though visibly dazed by the sudden death of her husband, maintained her composure throughout the two-hour ceremony. She was accompanied by a brother, Rulon Satterfield of Salt Lake City, and Dr. A. C. Kerlikowske, director of the University of Michigan Medical Center and a close personal friend of the family.

Anderson was eulogized by Mayor Minister Karl Richards of Detroit as having given "new stature to labor statesmanship" during his long and brilliant career with General Motors. Richards, a close personal friend of the deceased, told the church gathering that Anderson had won the deep respect of both his "fellow executives" and "the people."

It's Beginning to Look a Lot Like Christmas Downtown

It's getting Christmasy in downtown Pontiac. Going up are the first decorations in what the Downtown Merchants Assn. promises will be the biggest and brightest display ever.

Evergreen festoons were wrapped around utility poles on downtown Saginaw and Huron streets yesterday. They were to be followed by new, illuminated Christmas tree cutouts.

Later this month the association plans to unveil a $1,400 life-size nativity scene on the Courthouse grounds.

Next month, a 60-foot Christmas tree will be put up at Saginaw street and Oakland avenue, decorated with over 1,500 colored lights.

There won't be any colored lights hung across Saginaw this season, said George Richman, association president.

It is believed such lights are a traffic danger, easily confused with traffic signals, he explained.

The new decorations are being purchased through funds which in past years would have gone into the annual Christmas parade.

Free Fallout Shelter Can Be Yours---If

Want to have a free fallout shelter in your basement? Civil defense authorities are prepared to make such a gift to some Pontiac family if the family, in turn, is willing to do a favor in the name of civil defense.

Pontiac is one of four Michigan cities selected in a $3,000,000 national campaign to encourage construction of fallout shelters, Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager, explained today.

The Office of Civil Defense and Mobilization (OCDM) plans to build free prototype fallout shelters in selected cities across the nation with special funds from Congress.

It plans to build eight big school-hospital type shelters, 55 medium-sized 100-person shelters and 100 of the small, family-sized shelters.

In Michigan, it wants to build family-size shelters in Detroit, Grand Rapids and Saginaw, as well as in Pontiac.

"Fallout shelters are a major facet of the national civil defense program," Stierer said.

Having decided on types it figures will do the job, the OCDM is now setting out on the job of selling householders on installing shelters in their basements, he explained.

Stierer, assistant director of the Pontiac Office of Civil Defense, wants to find a Pontiac family that will volunteer for one of the square 5000 concrete-block shelters which the OCDM recommends.

Area Can Expect Snow or Rain by Sunday Night

The Pontiac area can expect some light snow or rain by Sunday night, the weatherman said. Skies will be partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow, with the temperature dipping to 25 tonight. A high of 38 has been forecast for Sunday.

Variable winds will become 8-12 m.p.h. southeasterly tomorrow.

The five-day forecast calls for only minor day by day changes in temperatures. Precipitation will total about one-tenth of an inch in a light rain or snow tomorrow and again about Tuesday.

Temperatures rose to 36 yesterday and the wind velocity at 10 a.m. today was westerly at 18 m.p.h. At 1 p.m. the thermometer stood at 38.

Arraign Detroit Man in Arson

Is Charged in Plot to Burn Pontiac Furniture Store Last Saturday

A Detroit man was arraigned today in Pontiac Municipal Court on charges of being the arsonist in a plot to burn the Lord's Furniture & Appliance Co., Inc., last Saturday.

Leonard Schultz, 42, of 18577 Meyers Rd., Detroit, demanded examination this morning before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan. Examination was set for Dec. 3.

He was freed under a $5,000 bond.

The two owners of the furniture store have admitted their part in the arson attempt. They are Sidney Cohen, 41, of 21190 Kipling St., and Irving Aaron, 50, of 24701 Church St., both of Oak Park.

They were arraigned Monday before Judge Finnegan, together with Nathan Wolfe, 45, of 18551 Northlawn St., Detroit, whom they furnished the arsonist. Wolfe has denied any knowledge of the blaze. Examination for the three also will be held Dec. 3.

The two owners said Schultz picked up a freezer, washing machine and living room set the day before the fire was set. Pontiac police learned the truck had been rented by Schultz, owner of a restaurant at the Alamo Motel, 2700 Woodward, from a truck rental firm in Detroit.

The two owners have identified Schultz through Detroit Police (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

U.S. Warned Steel Strike Likely to Restart

Government Urged by Union to Stockpile for Defense Needs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Steelworkers Union has told the government it better get busy stockpiling steel for defense needs because the steel strike is likely to resume in late January.

Arthur J. Goldberg, union counsel, said the union wants to make it "perfectly plain that should the strike resume, any peril to the national safety will not be chargeable to the United Steelworkers of America."

Goldberg sent his warning Friday to Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller, whose department handles government acquisitions such as steel. Mueller is currently visiting Poland and there was no word on when a reply to Goldberg might be expected.

The union struck most of the nation's steel plants for 116 days. Early this month they were forced back to work by a court order under the Taft-Hartley law. After 80 days they are free to strike again if a settlement is not reached.

Goldberg wrote, "While I have not abandoned hope that a settlement in steel will be reached before the 80-day injunction expires, I must advise you in all candor that at the present writing no settlement is in prospect."

"Surely the defense of this country should not rest on a gamble that hopes for a settlement in the 80-day injunction period will be realized."

Goldberg said a Nov. 17 order to steel companies to give priority to defense steel was completely inadequate. The order, he said, merely covers current orders for steel and makes no provision to ensure that essential steel "not currently needed, but required in the reasonably foreseeable future for defense purposes, will not be used for civilian production."

If no steps are taken, Goldberg added, defense steel "will be permitted to slip through the hands of the steel industry into the hands of private, nondefense consumers."

'Chutist Scared? I Was Too Busy'

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—Fiery-haired Joe Kittinger says his 15-mile parachute jump didn't scare him—he was too busy to worry.

Kittinger, a jet jockey turned space-age experimenter — with himself as a guinea pig — stepped out of a bucket-like balloon gondola at 76,400 feet over White Sands missile range this week.

Protected from 104-below-zero cold, he plummeted at nearly 450 miles an hour for about three minutes. Then, still 12,000 feet high, a parachute automatically opened, and he drifted the rest of the way to the desert in six more minutes.

It was another part in his continuing effort to help develop equipment to bring men back alive from emergencies on the edge of space.

"I didn't have time to worry," the well-knit, 155-pounder said. "I had so many things to do. This was a research job. I wasn't just sitting there thinking about the jump. I was trying to get data we didn't have already."

The Air Force captain said he kept track of the time and altitude "and physiological reactions" on which he did not elaborate.

COMFORTABLE SUIT

He said his pressure suit, equipped with an oxygen system, kept him comfortable "going up and coming down."

Is he in good shape after his big leap? Well, he flew an Air Force T33 jet trainer from his new station at Wright Air Development Center in Ohio to Holloman Air Force Base, just outside Alamogordo, Friday.

The Air Force missile development center at Holloman is where he was stationed until his move to Wright several months ago. Holloman and the missile center are on White Sands missile range.

The jump was Kittinger's 41st since 1936.

The Air Force said this not only was the highest parachute jump on record but was the highest man ever rode in an open balloon gondola. The sides of the bucket were about four feet high, and it was about 4½ feet in diameter. There was a gap in the wall for Kittinger to take that first big step.

Kittinger, who has a German-born wife, Pauline, and two boys, Joe III, 7 and Mark, 4, at home in Dayton, Ohio, is attached to the escape section of Wright Air Development Center. He more or less commutes by jet fighter between Wright and Holloman for test work.

Work Progressing on New Courthouse

UP SHE GOES — There're plenty of sidewalk superintendents these days among Oakland County officials and residents watching the progress on the new courthouse going up in Telegraph road County Service Center. George F. Kimber, county engineering supervisor, said work, which began the second week in October, is about three weeks behind schedule due to the cold weather. A March 15, 1961 completion date has been set. In this photograph you're looking east from West boulevard into the basement of the building. Kimber said walls are about seven-eighths completed up to ground level. When it reaches grade, the size of the building will stretch farther north and south than shown in this picture.

New Agreement Includes Joint Atomic Projects

Sets Up Discussion for Direct Air Routes; Provides TV Swap

By A. I. GOLDBERG
MOSCOW (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union signed a new, two-year cultural exchange agreement today that includes joint projects in peaceful uses of atomic energy.

It also sets up discussions for direct Moscow-New York air links, provides for radio and TV program exchanges, and paves the way for the ultimate sending of the Red army chorus to the United States in view of the U.S. Marine Band playing here.

The Marines are expected to be here during President Eisenhower's visit, it was indicated.

The agreement, second of its kind, provides for potentially thousands of Americans and Russians to exchange visits in 1960 and 1961 in art, education, agriculture, industry and science fields.

Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson signed for the United States in a ceremony at the headquarters of the Soviet State Committee for Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries, Georgi Zhukov, chairman of the committee, signed for the Soviet Union.

Both said the agreement of the past two years worked out well and the new pact is expected to fulfill hopes of bettering relations between the two countries.

In answer to a question, Zhukov said he is flying to London Sunday and later to Paris to talk about similar cultural exchanges with those capitals.

Both sides made the point that the signed agreement — actually negotiated for the United States by a State Department team headed by Frederick Merrill — makes provisions for continuing negotiations and adding plays, films, radio and other specific in at least 15 categories.

Try to Snare Capsule Tonight

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Air Force crews make another stab today at man's first midair catch of an object from space—a capsule hurled from a satellite.

On their success—now or later — hinges the first American venture of a human being beyond the earth's atmosphere.

The 300-pound capsule will be ejected from the satellite Discoverer VIII which rocketed into orbit from this West Coast base Friday.

Planes are poised for a snag attempt as the capsule parachutes over the Pacific Ocean. Ejection is set for the satellite's 17th orbital pass (between 7 and 8 p.m. EST).

Frustrated on four earlier attempts, Air Force officials said they will keep trying until they clear this hurdle. Once a catch is made, the next logical step would be to send a monkey up in a satellite, then try to bring him back alive.

Bloody Scene All Too Real for Stage Actor

PETOSKEY (AP)—The script in a Little Theater production here called for a fight.

Tom Paxton Sr. tangled with Lex Potter, a former Golden Gloves boxer. Potter was supposed to swing at Paxton with the butt of a revolver, just missing Paxton's head.

Potter swung, but didn't miss.

Paxton collapsed on the stage, blood spurting from a cut. The audience was a bit baffled by the realism but accepted it as stage trickery.

A physician treated Paxton back-stage and he went on with the show. But in the next act spoke his lines from a couch, with an ice pack on his head.

Parcel Post Rate Boost Likely After Christmas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Parcel post rates will go up soon, but most likely after the Christmas mailing rush is over.

An 88-million-dollar-a-year increase was approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission Friday. This averages to a 17.1 per cent boost over current rates.

The Post Office Department said it would announce next week when the new rates go into effect. Reports were that officials would give the public at least a 60-day notice.

The increases will vary according to the size of the package and the distance it has to go. Small items going a short way will shoulder the biggest boosts. And there will be reductions for some of the biggest packages heading for long trips.

Under the law, the postmaster general has to ask for an increase in parcel post rates whenever that aspect of the postal business is in the red.

Free Fallout Shelter Can Be Yours—If

and other necessities, such as a shelter could offer a family protection during the time it takes for radio active fallout to disappear, the OCDM believes.

The family that gets the free shelter must have a big basement and a basement door leading directly outdoors, Stierer said.

This latter qualification reflects the fact that the OCDM wants the public to be able to view the shelter.

The OCDM wants to lease the shelter for a one- or two-year period, during which time it plans to open the basement to public inspection about four hours every week.

In the lease arrangement, it is also stipulated that the OCDM can experiment with the shelter for two 15-day periods.

FAMILY TO LIVE INSIDE

During these periods, it plans to have a volunteer family live in the shelter under simulated civil defense conditions.

But there won't be any actual radio activity in the experiment, Stierer emphasized, and the people who own the house won't be asked to take any active part.

More details about the shelter offer are available at City Hall, Stierer said.

Final decision on the construction site will be made by the regional office of the OCDM.

Eleanor Powell Granted $40,000 Yearly Alimony

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Eleanor Powell will receive $40,000 a year for six years and then $30,000 a year for the rest of her life from actor Glenn Ford after their divorce, her lawyer said Friday.

Attorney Robert A. Neeb Jr. said the former dancer is also scheduled to receive half the community property and adequate support for their son Peter, 14.

Northwest Gets Dunked for the Fifth Day

By The Associated Press

Rain drenched the Pacific Northwest for the fifth straight day today.

Civil Defense units began evacuating farm families from lowland areas northeast of Seattle where the Homish River roiled five feet above flood stage.

Fifteen families were moved to high land in the Arlington, Wash., area, north of Seattle, when the Stillaguamish River spilled over a dike. Flooding also was reported in lowlands in western Washington.

Authorities counted one death in a rock slide touched off by the downpours.

Elsewhere in the nation, a patchwork of weather ruled. And there was a general warming trend.

Truman after the two active party leaders blasted the GOP for standing pat in domestic and international affairs. Humphrey called them a bunch of old fogies. Mom, Kidnaped Tot Home

'Back in Pontiac to Stay'

Mrs. Marilyn Vickers and son released last year from the Women's Federal Reformatory at Alderson, W. Va., where she served three years for an Amarillo, Tex., kidnaping.

The 19-year-old mother arrived in Pontiac yesterday with her four-month-old son, James, who had been kidnaped by his baby sister, Mrs. Diane Varner, 27, from a Chicago hotel room Wednesday night.

The blond, blue-eyed baby was found in a Gary, Ind., hotel room the next day by FBI agents. Mrs. Varner was arrested in a nearby bar and charged with kidnaping. The kidnap took the baby while Mrs. Vickers was at work.

Mrs. Vickers, separated from her husband James, had moved to Chicago seven weeks ago. She was supporting herself and the baby.

"I left home because I didn't want to depend on anyone for my support," Mrs. Vickers explained. She will live with her mother, Mrs. Martha Dietrich, 85 Henry Clay St., a nurse at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

MONDAY? JOB HUNTING
The first thing she plans to do Monday morning is go job hunting.

"But there will be no more baby sitters," she declared. "Mother will watch my child for me."

Mrs. Vickers called her mother the minute she learned the baby was safe. Mrs. Dietrich then drove to Chicago for her grandson and daughter.

They did an immediate about-face and headed back to Pontiac. By 11 a.m. yesterday Mrs. Vickers and James were home.

"I was never so happy and relieved in all my life," Mrs. Vickers exclaimed when asked how she felt when she learned her youngster had been found.

The mother was reunited with the child at Gary's Methodist Hospital.

"He's all right," Mrs. Vickers said. "Just listen to the noise he makes, there's nothing wrong with him."

"I was very lucky and have a great deal to be thankful for," Mrs. Vickers said.

"Of course I didn't know it then, but that was the second time that woman had kidnaped a baby," Mrs. Varner told police she was

After working hours, she stayed at the restaurant.

"I couldn't go back to my room. I didn't want to be alone."

"All kinds of thoughts—the worst imaginable—went through my mind. Was my baby hungry? Would she be good to him?"

She was at the restaurant when Chicago police called to tell her the happy news.

"I knew that I'd return to Pontiac if my baby was safe," Mrs. Vickers said. "I'm here for good."

All day Thursday Mrs. Vickers stayed at the restaurant where she worked. Early in the morning she toured Skid Row saloons with detectives, then went to work.

But, ask puzzled health and police agents, where is the poison coming from?

Mary Holt, 27, started suffering stomach cramps, leg pains and a high temperature—the symptoms of arsenic poisoning—last May, five months after they bought the house. After three weeks in a hospital she came home cured.

Now she's ailing again. One by one, the children have come down with the same thing, sheriff's officers say. They are Ben Jr., 10; Mary Darlene, 7; Cynthia, 5; and Constance, 4.

Holt, 31, is a baker. Officers said his system was found to contain 30 milligrams of arsenic, compared with 300 milligrams in his wife's body.

"It's awfully strange," Holt said, "especially when we can't get the Health Department or sheriff's office to really check. If I was trying to kill somebody, they'd be out here with both feet."

The County Health Department and sheriff announced a full-scale investigation after the family's plight was made public Friday. The Health Department checked the family's pots and pans without success.

Authorities recalled the arsenic poisoning of Clare Boothe Luce in Italy three years ago. The arsenic was traced to paint on her bedroom ceiling.

A physician said Mrs. Holt and the children are not in any immediate danger from the poisoning.

Sheriff's officers said they have no reason to suspect foul play but are not ruling out the possibility. Holt said he knows of no enemies.

He admitted picking up the items from the store but said he paid the owners. He denies any knowledge of the fire.

The arson attempt fizzled when Pontiac firemen reached the blaze before it went out of control. They found sticks of phosphorus planted in the building.

Sheriff Warns Area Residents to Stay Off Ice
"We are now entering the most dangerous 30-day period on county lakes," Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons warned today.

Irons appealed to area residents to "stay off the ice until it is thick enough to hold a human being. This may take a full month or only a few weeks, depending on the weather, he said.

Parents have been urged to keep their children away from the lakes just beginning to freeze over around the shoreline.

Irons said, "low temperatures at night do not mean fast ice formation if the thermometer goes into the 30's and 40's during the day."

Last winter the lakes were frozen over by Christmas, but this is not the case every year, he said.

'Explosion' in County Probably Jet Boom
State Police and Oakland County sheriff's deputies say an explosion reported by many residents in the eastern half of the county yesterday afternoon was believed to have been a sonic boom caused by jet aircraft.

Two sharp claps were heard at about 5:30 in an area from Utica as far north as Almont. Police cars in many communities were sent out looking for a possible explosion.

Romeo State Police reported 25 calls into their switchboard.

Oil Firms Hit by Castro Law

Must Start Working Cuban Claims or Face Loss of Property

HAVANA (AP)—The Cuban government today aimed another blow at foreign business interests by passing a stiff law that will force oil exploration and exploitation companies to work their claims or lose them.

The legislation, which follows a tough new minerals law, also sets production quotas for petroleum refineries. Affected primarily will be the three big foreign operations—the American-owned Standard Oil and Texaco companies and the British-owned Shell, Ltd.

During a seven-hour session, Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cabinet also:

• Ratified a ban on the immigration of Chinese and non-Chinese Asiatics.

• Created a new tourist institute with authority to start proceedings to expropriate any property deemed necessary for tourist development.

Approved a decree giving prosecutors in military tribunals the right to appeal the decisions. The Cabinet recently re-established Army tribunals, to combat growing opposition to the revolutionary government. When the tribunals were active during the first six months of Castro's regime, 555 persons were sent to death before firing squads.

Publisher Will Revive Old Brooklyn Eagle

NEW YORK (UPI)—A magazine publisher said Friday he would revive the Brooklyn Eagle, the 114-year-old newspaper which ceased publication in 1955.

Robert W. Farrell, who had been a columnist for the Eagle, said he had purchased the newspaper's name, good will and files for $25,000.

Farrell said he expected to begin operations next year.

The Eagle ceased publication during a long strike by editorial employees, members of the New York Newspaper Guild. Its former publisher, Frank D. Schroth, recently settled back pay and severance claims clearing the way for Farrell to purchase the newspaper's assets.

The Day in Birmingham

City Commission Studies Water Authority Proposal

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission will consider a request to furnish water from Birmingham to the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority in case of emergency.

No decision was reached several months ago when the authority first submitted the proposal due to difficulty in determining a method of measuring flow of water under such an arrangement.

City Manager L. R. Gare has been notified, however, that the water authority has installed a new type of meter at the 14 Mile-Elon road connection between the authority and Birmingham.

Gare will report to the City Commission at its meeting Monday in the Municipal Building that it is now feasible to measure accurately the flow of water which would be supplied from Birmingham.

Gare said he will recommend to the Commission that a stand-by charge not be levied.

"By the elimination of a stand-by charge," the city manager said, "we would not be under obligation to the authority and could make our own determination of how much water to give them, if and when it was required."

His statement was an endorsement of the recommendation of Assistant City Manager R. S. Kenning.

In his report, Kenning stated: "We should sell the water at the current rate being charged us by the authority and not use an annual stand-by charge to the authority."

"The control of our water usage in an emergency would be greater because we would not be under obligation to share it with the adjacent area."

McGregor's Will Includes $25,000 for Area Church

St. Philips Episcopal Church in Rochester is listed for a $25,000 bequest in the will of the late Howard L. McGregor, Rochester area industrialist who died Nov. 7.

McGregor, 72, was board chairman of National Twist Drill and Tool Co. near Rochester and owned Good Oaks Farm in nearby Avon Township. His will was filed yesterday in Probate Court.

The bulk of the estate was left to a son, Howard L. McGregor. The farm and its Aberdeen Angus cattle were left to Robert W. Williams, who managed the farm for McGregor for many years.

Four lesser bequests of $25,000 apiece went to close friends and a granddaughter, Helen McGregor.

McGregor's son is president of National Twist Drill and Tool Co.

PLYMOUTH, Mass. (P)—Some 300 new pilgrims to America—displaced persons from foreign lands—gathered here today where the first Pilgrims landed in 1620.

The refugees from 30 countries were guests at a day-long program commemorating the first Thanksgiving.

Ford to Step Up Falcon Output

Will Switch Production to Free Jersey Plant; Comet Due in Spring

DETROIT (P)—Ford today disclosed preliminary plans for increasing production of its compact Falcon and for initial production of the new compact Comet.

The first step will be to increase Mercury production by 90 per cent at St. Louis and by 40 per cent at Wayne. This will free the Metuchen, N. J., assembly plant for conversion to compact car building.

Falcons now are built at Lorain, Ohio, and Kansas City, Mo. The Metuchen plant should begin building Falcons by mid-February. The Comet will be marketed by Mercury dealers. No introduction date has been announced other than it will be sometime in the spring.

Ward's Automotive Reports said 12,000 Comets are scheduled for production in the first quarter of 1960.

Ford said the increased Mercury production will begin as early as December as steel supplies permit. It added that overall Mercury production will climb 15 per cent above current rates which include the Metuchen plant.

Fine 2 County Tavern Owners

Selling to Minor Costs $150; Bad Conduct Other Charge

The owners of two area taverns were fined and another warned at a recent hearing of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

Eric Cooper, owner of the Little Brown Jug, 2325 Union Lake Rd., Commerce Township, was fined $150 for selling alcoholic beverages to a minor and allowing a minor to drink on the premises.

A seven-day suspension of Cooper's license was waived due to the nature of the appearance of the minor. The fine is due and effective Dec. 14.

Edward M. and Edna Kroetsch, owners of the Golden Rule Tavern, 3162 Orchard Lake Rd., Kego Harbor, were charged with improper conduct and allowing intoxicated persons to loiter at their establishment.

They were fined $100 for the first charge. The second charge was dismissed due to insufficient evidence. The fine is due and effective Nov. 30.

A letter of warning was issued to Charles Haas, of the Roosevelt Hotel Bar, 125 N. Perry St., who had been charged with selling to an intoxicated person.

Hunter Is Mute About Shooting Ex-Oxford Man

A deer hunter who police said has admitted the accidental fatal shooting of Jack Williams, 62, of Mullet Lake, stood mute yesterday in Cheboygan Justice Court on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Police said Roy Bauers, 52, of Carp Lake, admitted firing the fatal shot Wednesday which struck the former Oxford Township potato grower in the back of the head.

Both were hunting in woods 10 miles west of Cheboygan. Police quoted Bauers as saying he fired at some moving branches while hunting deer.

He was released on $1,000 bond to await pretrial examination.

Earp's Nephew, Western Legend Himself, Dies

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP)—Virgil Earp, survivor of many an Old West shooting scrap, has died peacefully in his sleep at the age of 80.

Virgil was a nephew of famed Western lawman Wyatt Earp and the only living offspring of Wyatt and his five brothers. Virgil's father was Newton.

Virgil died Friday at the home of a niece, Mrs. Frank McKenzie of Vallejo. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Alice Wright of Kelseyville, Calif.

In 1958 he appeared on television's "The $64,000 Question." He won $32,000 answering questions about the Wild West.

He was asked recently during the uproar over rigged television quizzes whether he had been coached. Earp snorted an indignant "no," and asked, "Who could tell me anything about the West?"

He was a sheriff at 18 and had three notches in his gun—for three men killed—at age 21.

Indonesia Frets at Soviet China

Tension Builds Up Over Trade Ban and Trouble on Border

TOKYO (UPI)—Communist China is at odds with another of her former neutral friends. First, it was India. Now, it is Indonesia.

It's no surprise that Indonesia and Communist China are at each other's throats.

Even the most naive political observers in the Indonesian capital saw the big blow-up in Sino-Indonesian relations coming weeks—even months—ago.

The tension had been building up rapidly since last May when the government, in a move to curb the Chinese economic influence, decided to ban all alien retailers in rural areas. This ban goes into effect at the end of the year.

It will affect an estimated half-million Chinese, all presumably under the direct control of Peking because Indonesia has no relations with Nationalist China.

The big blow-up finally came this week. The Indonesian foreign ministry charged the Chinese Embassy in Jakarta with urging Chinese to defy the ban. It termed such action "provocative."

Indonesia also hinted broadly at the possibility of uncontrollable anti-Chinese sentiments developing.

Anti-Chinese sentiment in Indonesia, long directed against the Nationalists, began to switch to the Red regime early this year. This sentiment began to find its way into the press and public statements more with the Tibetan situation. It became widespread after Peking began opposing the ban. It became intense when the Chinese began causing trouble along the Indian border.

America Grants More for Refugee Year

GENEVA (AP)—The United States announced a new million-dollar grant Friday to the U. N. World Refugee Year. This brought its total contribution to $3,200,000.

More than half the new contribution is to go to the relief of refugees who have fled from Red China to Hong Kong, bringing total U. S. expenditure for this purpose to $800,000.

THANKSGIVING

The life of the Pilgrims was hard, gruelling with hazards of wind, rain frost, and sudden death; their harvest was insurance against want during winter; their prayer was a fervent, sincere "Thanks" to Him.

We will thank God for a bountiful harvest—the ability to think and act independently, to share in the prosperity of those around us, to give our surplus to those less fortunate, to bring comfort and peace to those next door and across the seas, to enjoy the marvels of ingenious men and the freedom that comes with independence.

We will thank God that we live under a flag with fifty stars everyone of which represents dignity of its individuals, who live without fear, worship according to their individual concept, cast secret ballots and abide by the majority's choice.

We thank God that we are part of the United States of America.

Says Citizens Bewildered Hare Advocates Agency for Consumer Protection

LANSING (AP)—The cranberry scare, hunter asphyxiations from defective gas heaters and other similar incidents point up the need for a Michigan Consumer Protection Office, Secy. of State James M. Hare said Friday.

"Although a number of state agencies are specifically charged with certain responsibilities for investigating violations of consumers' interest," he said, the average bewildered citizen does not know where to turn for help.

"In Detroit and Grand Rapids a victimized housewife can phone the local Better Business Bureau, but elsewhere in the state there are few organizations to which she can appeal."

Three women legislators this year introduced a bill to set up a consumer protection office, but it died in committee.

Hare noted a consumer council went into operation this year in California, empowered to represent consumer interests in coordinating existing governmental agency, making surveys and publishing information.

In view of the state's financial troubles, groups such as the Michigan Credit Union League have indicated they would contribute funds to help get a similar program started in Michigan, Hare said.

Rise Is Brought About by Increased Costs, Publishers Report

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Newspaper Publishers Assn. reported Thursday that 111 newspapers in this country were forced to increase circulation prices during the first 10 months of this year.

The ANPA said that of the total, 45 increased their single copy street sale prices.

The increases were brought about by steadily rising costs of labor, production, employee benefits and other materials and services, the ANPA said.

The newspapers, in announcing price increases to readers, usually explained that they had resisted increases as long as possible and that many improvements had been made to provide better papers, the report said.

During the 10 months, the number of papers making single copy street sales at 7 cents increased from 483 to 502, those being sold at 10 cents increased from 162 to 174, and at 8 cents from five to eight. Those being sold at 5 cents, meantime, dropped from 1,000 to 969, and 6-cent papers decreased from 51 to 48.

Denies Commitment on Panama Zone

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department denied Friday that President Eisenhower's brother had made any statement committing the United States to a particular course of action with respect to the Panama Canal Zone.

The reaction came after a report by Panamanian Finance Minister Fernando Eleta that Milton Eisenhower told him the United States would recognize Panamanian sovereignty over the Canal Zone.

Milton Eisenhower made a goodwill trip through Central and South America in mid-1958. The State Department said he visited Panama in July 1958.

Eleta told the Panama National Assembly Wednesday night that Milton Eisenhower told him in an after-dinner talk Sept. 13, 1958 that the United States would recognize Panamanian sovereignty over the Canal Zone in a statement issued by Nov. 3.

4 Mental Patients Drown in Florida

STARKE, Fla. (UPI)—Four young mental patients who slipped away from a Boy Scout outing drowned in a lake near here early today when the boat in which they were riding capsized.

Two other persons in the small boat were rescued. The victims were part of a group of 20 patients from the Sun and Training Center (for mentally retarded) at nearby Gainesville who had gone on a scouting trip yesterday to nearby Camp Montgomery.

Dr. C. H. Carter, the institution's medical director, identified the dead as Noah Stanley, 13, Charles Griffith, 15, Thomas Elmore, 21, and James Lewis, 31.

Oldest labor union in the U.S. is said to be that of the cigar makers.

West Virginia Turnpike to Help With Free Gas

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—From now on, motorists who run out of gas on the West Virginia Turnpike will get enough free fuel to get them to the nearest service station.

Turnpike Manager W. W. Stahl said Friday state police patrolling the turnpike are carrying extra cans of gasoline.

The government reports that listed in the United States during 111,000 new businesses were established in 1958 and 356,000 were closed.
