Plane Wreckage Is Sighted in New Hampshire

Hope Held Out for Survivors After Radio Call

Craft Carrying Seven Is Spotted in Wilderness —Rescuers Rush to Site

NORTH CONWAY, N. H. (AP) — Wreckage was sighted early today and a radio message was picked up which was identified as from a Northeast Airlines plane missing since yesterday. It placed the plane in wilderness about five miles north of the Berlin airport, its destination.

The radio message would indicate that there was at least one survivor of the seven persons aboard the plane.

Robert L. Turner, airline vice president, said the fragmentary message read:

"Emergency — down five miles Northeast of Field Hill but —." Here the message faded out.

Turner said the voice message was transmitted "blind," meaning it was intended for anyone who could pick it up. It was transmitted on an emergency frequency.

Rescue forces immediately rushed to the indicated locality.

Turner said the message was identified as from "792," the flight destination of the missing plane.

More than 20 search planes immediately converged on the area, which includes Bald and Black mountains, both more than 2,000 feet high.

Bald Mt., 2,370 feet high, one of the lesser mountains of the White Mountains range, is between Berlin and the Berlin airport, eight miles outside Berlin to which the DC3 was flying when it vanished yesterday noon.

Report of the wreckage sighting came almost simultaneously with reports from Northeast's Berlin office that faint radio signals had been picked up there.

The radio signal came about 8 a.m. from within a five mile radius of Berlin to which the plane had been flying from Laconia, 68 miles away yesterday in a Boston-Berlin flight with seven persons aboard.

Business Booming at City Parking Lot

Business is booming at the city's first municipal parking lot, Finance Director Oscar Eckman reported today.

"Weekly receipts are running a little over $300," Eckman said. "From the experience we've had, it will probably average around $400 a week."

Expected receipts from the lot, located at Pike and Parke streets, were estimated around $250 a week.

"The lot is a proved success," Eckman added.

Early December Snow Brings Hint of Christmas

Seek to Double Road Spending

Governors Ask That All Government Levels Join in Program

CHICAGO (UP)—The executive committee of the National Governors' Conference has recommended that expenditures by federal, state and local governments be doubled to meet highway needs for the next 20 years.

Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana, chairman of the Governors' Conference, said last night the federal government's share of these expenditures "should be about $25,000,000,000 during the next 10 years."

He said the other $25,000,000,000 would come from state and local governments to complete the $50,000,000,000 highway program proposed by President Eisenhower to the conference of governors last July 12.

Actually, Kennon said, the states should spend $40,000,000,000 in the next 10 years to keep up with increased highway use.

Governors here also recommended:

1. Financing of the proposed highway construction should be done in three categories: Through an interstate system, through "other federal aid systems, and through the state-local government system.

2. The federal government should assume primary responsibility for financing of the interstate system.

3. The necessary federal funds of $25,000,000,000 could come from these sources: General revenue, "and, or, the establishment of a roadroad financing authority."

4. Actual construction, maintenance, administration and policing of an interstate system would be the responsibility of state and local governments.

The recommendations of the governors were sent to President Eisenhower.

McCarthy Censure Vote Expected Today in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A vote to censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) seemed in the cards as the Senate approached the hour of decision today.

With voting slated to start late in the day, McCarthy himself predicted a "completely one-sided" verdict against him.

Democratic senators said privately they expected their ranks to hold virtually solid for censure. Republicans were forecasting a close division in their lineup.

Since GOP and Democratic strength in the 96-man Senate is about equal a Republican split could swing the majority vote needed for censure.

Michigan's two Republican senators are tight-lipped about how

DuPont Ruling Slated Friday

Federal Judge to Issue Decision Affecting GM and U.S. Rubber

CHICAGO (UP)—Federal Judge Walter J. La Buy will issue his long-awaited decision Friday on the biggest anti-trust case in history.

His decision could be of far-reaching importance. It could break up or keep intact a $5,000,000,000 industrial combine comprising three giant corporations—Du Pont, General Motors and U.S. Rubber.

The ruling is awaited by every large business concern in the nation, for its ramifications could affect them, too.

The government's historic civil suit, filed June 30, 1949, charges monopoly and conspiracy. It seeks to strip the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co. and the Du Pont family of their holdings in General Motors and U.S. Rubber.

The government has charged that the Du Ponts conspired to gain control of the other two firms to provide the Du Pont Company with a "protected" market for its products, such as paint and upholstering materials.

La Buy's ruling will come at a time when recent mergers, such as those in the automobile industry, have made "big business" bigger than ever. Against this background the decision gains added importance.

The defendants have denied the government charges that they conspired to stifle competition. They contend that the government is attacking "bigness" as if it were a crime in itself.

The suit seeks to force Du Pont to dispose of its holdings in General Motors, consisting of about 23 per cent of the outstanding stock.

French Search for Five Boats

Fear Storm Death Toll May Rise to 111; British Gale Already Killed 51

LONDON (UP) — French naval planes searched the stormy English Channel today for five fishing boats missing with 60 men aboard. It was feared the toll of death might rise to 111.

Forty-three persons were dead or missing in three shipping accidents in the waters around Britain and eight persons were killed on land. French officials feared the missing fishermen also perished in the storms.

The missing fishing vessels are the Alain-Yvon, Tourville, Berceau de Moise and Perle d'Arvor from the ports of Concarneau near Brest and the Tendre Berceuse from the nearby port of Douarnenez.

The little coastal steamer Ardglen docked in Milford Haven, Wales, today with the body of Capt. William Winters, 59, who survived three World War II sinkings only to drown in a gale yesterday with 23 of his men.

Captain Winters' ship Tresillian foundered in a 90-mile per hour hurricane. He gave the order "every man for himself" and then plunged into the sea.

The Royal Navy searched raging seas today for 20 missing men, but the admiralty said there was little hope they would be found. Four bodies were recovered and 16 men were rescued.

Winters, who planned to retire at the end of his voyage, was almost in sight of home when the cargo of grain aboard the Tresillian shifted and sent the 7,300-ton ship to the bottom.

Justice Convicts Self

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UP) —Justice of the Peace Clay E. Smith yesterday fined three men $25 and court costs for illegally hunting deer with buckshot. Smith was one of the defendants.

2 to Three Inch Snow Forecast

Pontiac Area Gets 1st Heavy Fall of Season Today

December came in style today, with an inch of snow covering the ground and promising more to come. The U. S. Weather Bureau says that by tonight from two to three inches will hit this area.

This is the first heavy snow of the season, following a comparatively mild November which averaged close to normal in all respects.

Fourteen days of freezing temperatures are normal for that month and this year November fell short by only one. The average high for the month was 47.3 degrees, compared to the normal of 47.1. Low averaged 33.7, just slightly above the monthly norm of 33.1.

Rain and snow fell short by quite a bit, however. Usually the average precipitation for November is 2.18 inches, but this year it reached only 1.36. The heaviest rainfall of the month was on the 18th, totaling .40 of an inch. On the first, .27 of an inch of rain mixed with snow fell.

The highest temperature of the month fell on the 17th, with the mercury reaching 67. However, this is a long way from the all-time high for November, 61 set in 1950.

On the 23rd, the thermometer reading dropped to 27 degrees, the lowest for the month. This,

Susan Testifies of Love Affair With Sheppard

Says Dr. Sam Talked of Divorcing Marilyn; Gave Her Ring

CLEVELAND (AP) — Susan Hayes testified today that Dr. Samuel Sheppard told her he loved her, gave her a ring and said he was "thinking of divorce."

These events took place in the latter part of 1953 and in January 1954.

Last March, she said, she and the murder trial defendant shared the same bed at the home of friends in California.

Testifying in a low, often semi-audible voice, and looking straight ahead, the attractive witness replied "yes" to a question as to whether Sheppard "expressed love for you on other occasions."

She said Sheppard gave her the ring while they were together in her home in January of this year. She said that the first mention of divorce, she estimated, was in the "early part of 1953."

"He told me he loved his wife very much, but not so much as a wife. He was thinking of divorce," Miss Hayes said.

"He said he wasn't sure if his father would approve."

Sheppard, accused of hacking his pregnant wife, Marilyn, 31, to death in her bed at their lakefront home last July 4, watched intently. Occasionally he bit his lip, made notes or clasped his hands in front of his chest.

After she went to California last year and before Sheppard came to Los Angeles last March for post graduate work in osteopathy, they exchanged about four letters, Miss Hayes said. He wrote to her first, she added.

Her eyes straight ahead and away from the defendant, the pretty witness told of going with

Wilson Outlines Pentagon Plans to Guard Nation

More Military Money Will Be Earmarked for Guided Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon plans soon to increase its spending for continental defense and guided missiles.

Secretary of Defense Wilson included those items among several he said would call for heavier outlays in the 35-billion-dollar expenditure budget he foresees for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Total spending at that level would be about half a billion less than docketed for the current year.

Wilson gave no details, but expenditures this year for continental defense—interceptor planes, antiaircraft weapons and radar warning networks in the United States, Alaska and Canada—are expected to be about 600 million dollars.

The Pentagon also will seek authority to build a fifth 60,000-ton supercarrier, Wilson said in answering questions at a news conference yesterday. Two of the huge carriers are now under construction and Congress already has authorized construction of two more.

In the discussion of supercarriers, reporters asked Wilson's opinion of an address by British Field Marshal Lord Montgomery this week in which he expressed the view that the day of the aircraft carrier is "approaching its end."

The U. S. Navy finally obtained approval to start the supercarrier program only after several years of controversy and over the objection of the Air Force. Obviously with this controversial background in mind, Wilson said of Montgomery's comment:

"He is a very brave and bold man to come into another country and give some advice."

Another query was prompted by an address last week in which Air Secretary Harold Talbott discussed the difficulties of continental defense, including the use of anti-aircraft guided missiles. Talbott did not specifically mention the Army's Nike missile, although in the text of his talk he spoke of a missile used against an obsolete propeller-type bomb.

Asked if he thought the Nike had been "oversold," Wilson replied that while on a recent inspection trip on the West he had seen the Nike fired, "and it looked like quite a weapon to me." He said the test was against a drone plane which he thought might have had a speed of 200 or 300 miles per hour.

In an address today, Gen. Charles L. Bolte, Army vice chief of staff, said the Army now is acquiring atomic weapons "in quantity."

Bolte referred only tersely to that point, without specifying what weapons he meant, in a speech prepared for the Washington chapter of the Armed Forces Communication Assn.

However, the Army now has at least four weapons capable of fir-

Germans Refuse Quality Ratings for Two Movies

FRANKFURT, Germany, (AP) — West Germany's film board was under fire today because it has refused certificates of quality to two of Hollywood's prize products, "On the Waterfront" and Walt Disneys "The Living Desert."

The board said the drama of waterfront crime, which stars Marlon Brando, was based on a "typical Hollywood cliche" and that Disney's documentary turned animal life into "an unnatural sensation."

The certificates refused for the pictures would have allowed 20 per cent tax rebates on their box office receipts.

Plan Is Drawn Up to Spur Investing in Latin America

QUITANDINHA, Brazil (AP)—Heading into its last 24 hours, the Inter-American Economic Conferenee gave preliminary approval today to a plan designed to swell U. S. investments in Latin America and at the same time save the U. S. investors millions in taxes at home and abroad.

The program, originally suggested by U. S. Treasury Secretary George Humphrey, calls for Latin America to eliminate discriminatory taxes on foreign investments.

The United States in turn would negotiate special treaties with the individual nations looking toward elimination of double taxation on income of U. S. firms from investments in Latin America.

At present the United States taxes corporate income even if taxes are paid on it elsewhere. The Latin Americans contend this

The Day in Birmingham

Activities Group Is Formed by Handicapped Residents

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — A very special group of people will gather at the local YMCA this Sunday at 4 p.m., when wheelchairs, crutches and canes are the order of the day.

For these persons and any others in the handicapped category 18 years old and up, are invited to meet with the newly-organized Metropolitan Activities Club.

Activity is what is being looked for by the club, but activity for only those who are handicapped. The club met last week, electing officers and setting up possible future activities which include wheel chair square dancing, bowling, archery, shuffleboard, basketball and swimming.

Anyone interested in any of these sports has been invited to contact a club member, and new ideas will be welcomed at Sunday's social get-together. Those faced with a transportation obstacle are asked to contact Jean Gibbs, president, Mrs. Mildred Littleson, second vice president, or Harriett Decker, recording secretary.

Other officers are: Marcel Bergerson, first vice president; Fred Nucci, chairman; Verna Pyykkonen, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Eula Jones, treasurer; and Charles Judson, historian.

A festive air will prevail at the Congregational Church tomorrow, when eight months of work is culminated with the Sleigh-Bell Fair of the Women's Fellowship. An array of handwork items from mission fields in India, South Africa and Israel will be one of the features of the fair opening at 10 a.m.

A snack bar will operate all day and a spaghetti dinner will be served from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Frank LeGrove is general chairman.

Auxiliary No. 9 of the Metropolitan Club will celebrate the holiday season with a Christmas party at 7 tonight at Wilkins Restaurant, Orchard Lake road. Members will exchange grab bag gifts and will also bring canned goods and staples to make up a Christmas basket for a needy family.

Christmas carols and group singing are planned for tonight's 8 o'clock Hammond Organ Society meeting at Grinnell's, when nominations will also be taken for new officers. Members will take part in a program of chord, spinet and concert organ playing and Floyd Bunt will lead the singing.

The last of 26,500 new telephone books were delivered to residents here yesterday, Albert H. Warner, local Bell Telephone Co. manager said today. Indicative of the area's growth is the fact that 1,500 more books were issued than last year, said Warner.

Included on the second page is an up-to-date list of direct long distance dialing points for local phone users, Warner noted that as of Nov. 23, some 1,100 Lincoln exchanges were added to the Liberty group, for a total of 2,000 Liberty numbers. This distributes the load between the Royal Oak and Birmingham offices to give better customer service, Warner stated.

ing atomic projectiles: the 280 m.m. cannon; two guided missiles, the Corporal and Redstone; and the big bombardment rocket, Honest John.

Bolte said the "advent of tactical atomic weapons has vastly increased the Army's firepower capabilities" but at the same time has posed new problems.

It must be assumed for purposes of planning, Bolte said, that an enemy would have the same atomic weapons possessed by the American Army. Therefore, he added, dispersion of ground forces must be greater than ever before to avoid presenting a concentrated target for enemy atomic fire.

This in turn puts a premium on improved communications equipment to maintain control of elements widely spaced over a battlefield, he said.

McCarthy Censure Vote Slated Today

they will vote on the censure issue.

Sen. Homer Ferguson, who is ending a 12-year career in the Senate, says he still hasn't made up his mind. Sen. Charles Potter refuses to divulge his attitude. Both decline to say whether they will "explain their votes" after they are known.

"This is an emotional issue," said Potter. "I think it perhaps may not be as intensely felt in Michigan as in some other places.

"When I look back and think of how much time I have spent on this subject since coming to the Senate, I'd like to vote soon and get it over with."

Sen. Ferguson said the Senate is "considering something in the nature of a criminal punishment of Senator McCarthy."

Under a unanimous consent agreement adopted at McCarthy's request, limits on debate start at 3 p.m. While this heralds some voting today, the final showdown of the extraordinary session begun Nov. 8 is not expected until tomorrow or perhaps Friday.

Yesterday's day-long debate saw Senators Brown (R-Nev), Mundt (R-SD) and Martin (R-Pa) taking the floor in McCarthy's behalf. Senators Fulbright (D-Ark), Lehman (D, Lib-NY) and Bennett (R-Utah) spoke for censure.

But McCarthy, who attended the session only late and briefly, indicated once again he doesn't think the speechmaking will change the vote.

"It will be a completely one-sided vote," he said in an interview. "Most of the Democrats and most of the left-wing or self-styled liberal Republicans," he said, will "vote for censure."

The special committee, composed of three Republican and three Democratic senators, held hearings on 46 charges filed against McCarthy and recommended he be censured on the grounds that:

1. He obstructed the legislative process by failing to cooperate with a Senate elections subcommittee that probed into his financial affairs in 1951-52, and by denouncing its members.

2. He unjustifiably abused Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, a decorated combat veteran, in questioning him at a one-man hearing last February.

These two specific counts have been offered by the special committee as amendments to the original, generalized censure resolution introduced by Flanders.

Another amendment, offered Monday by Bennett, would censure McCarthy for calling the Watkins committee the "unwitting handmaiden" of the Communist party and for describing Watkins as "cowardly" and "stupid."

Human ears can hear sounds produced by vibrations from about 20 to about 20,000 per second.

SEN. WAYNE MORSE

"Needed - Legislation for the Country, Not for Political Parties," is to be the subject of Wayne Morse, the Independent senator from Oregon, who will speak at 8 p.m. next Wednesday at the Birmingham Community House. Open to the public, the free lecture is sponsored by Birmingham's American Assn. of University Women. Morse will be introduced by Mrs. Charles Layman, AAUW program director and a former classmate of Morse at University of Minnesota law school. A discussion period will follow.

Predicts Morse to Run as Democrat Next Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep.-elect Edith Green (D-Ore) predicts that Sen. Morse, now listed as an independent, will run for re-election in Oregon in 1956 as a Democrat.

She said at a news conference yesterday "Morse would be welcomed with open arms by Democratic leaders in the state and rank-and-file party members."

him on a date to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller. Dr. Miller is a Los Angeles osteopath and a friend of Sheppard.

Miss Hayes described an evening which began with dinner. Later some friends of the Millers dropped in and she said, "some of the people played poker."

"Where did you spend that night?" asked Prosecutor Thomas Parrino.

"At the Millers' home," Susan replied.

"At the Miller home," the witness said.

"Did you share the same bedroom?" Parrino asked.

"Yes," Miss Hayes said.

"Did you share the same bed?"

"Yes," replied Miss Hayes.

The pert, freckle-faced laboratory technician took the stand after a relative of the slain Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard described a severe beating he said Dr. Sheppard gave the couple's 7-year-old son, Chip, two years ago.

Thomas Weigle, 26, one of the last witnesses for the state in its effort to convict the 31-year-old osteopath in the bludgeon-death of his pregnant wife, made the accusation.

It was the first time in the nearly seven-week-old trial that any witness has testified the defendant mistreated his wife or their son.

The 24-year-old Miss Hayes was wearing a plain black wool dress with a high neck and a small white fur collar. She walked into the courtroom with her hands folded in front of her and escorted by Inspector James Mc Arthur and Detective Sgt. Harold Lockwood.

She had arrived at the court an hour before the trial started and was shielded from newsmen and photographers.

Weigle described the beating in these words:

"My wife went into the kitchen with Marilyn. We were watching television, a cowboy and Indian picture. Chip was playing the part of an Indian. He was running around the room. I happened to see Sam's left arm over the arm of the chair. Chip playfully slapped him. Sam grabbed him, and pulled him up over his legs and gave him what I thought was an unmerciful beating.

"Sam became in a rage. He was red in the face. He landed a number of blows."

While they were in California together, Miss Hayes said, Sheppard bought a new car. She said she went with him on the occasion.

She said she did not see Marilyn Sheppard during this time in California, but that Sheppard told her his wife was in northern California visiting friends.

James Gerity Jr., is owner of the station. O. W. Myers is vice president and general manager of all Gerity broadcasting properties, David Norton is manager of the local station and Larry Payne is assistant manager and secretary-treasurer of the broadcasting company.

Gerity, of Adrian, is a Michigan manufacturer. He is president of Gerity - Michigan Corp., a chrome plating firm serving the automotive and home appliance industries.

He entered the radio field in 1948 when he bought an Adrian station, WABJ. He also owns a controlling interest in a Bay City television station, WNEM-TV, which began broadcasting this year.

Mr. Gerity is a trustee of Michigan Colleges Foundation and vice chairman of the laymen's Committee on Religion in American Life, a group devoted to encouraging regular church attendance.

Meyers has had experience in the advertising and merchandising field. He attended Wabash College and Northwestern University, and gained his radio and television experience in Toledo. He joined Gerity in 1948.

Payne has had 21 years of radio experience and will be program supervisor. His previous experience was with WJR in Detroit, and at Marquette, Jackson and Toledo.

A native of North Dakota, Norton first entered the broadcasting field in 1934 after attending the University of Michigan and the University of Minnesota. He later joined the University of Michigan Broadcasting Service as a technician.

During his 20 years in the field, Norton, married with two children, served on station staffs in Oregon, North Dakota and Minnesota.

The DC3 transport has been missing since noon yesterday.

The plane acknowledged at 11:15 a.m., a report on weather conditions at its destination, the Berlin Airport at Milan, about 10 miles north of Berlin.

Northeast Airlines in Boston said it "suggested" at 11:30 a.m. that the plane return to Laconia because of "deteriorating" weather conditions at Milan. That message never was acknowledged, the airline said.

The plane's crew were Capt. W. Peter Carey, 37, Swampscott, Mass.; Copilot George McCormick, 37, Boston; Stewardess Mary McKettrick, 23, Dorchester, Mass.; and Flight Supt. John McNulty, 39, Boston.

The passengers were listed as James W. Harvey, Watertown, Mass.; W. Miller, Philadelphia; and Daniel H. Hall, Montclair, N. J.

is keeping out private U. S. capital they need to develop their resources and economies.

The resolution was approved at a subcommittee session lasting until after midnight. The committee action amounted to approval by the conference since all 21 American republics were represented.

The plan was drafted by a working group composed of Brazil, the United States, Colombia, Mexico and Cuba. It consolidated proposals offered by Salvador, Peru, Brazil, Colombia, Chile and Ecuador.

Members of the U.S. delegation said no new U.S. tax legislation was contemplated because the complexity and variety of Latin-American taxes would require a different arrangement for investors in each country. Instead the treaties with the various countries would be submitted to the U.S. Senate for approval and be incorporated into law on ratification.

The conference resolution also calls for "some degree of preference with respect to taxation on the foreign income" of U. S. companies.

It also provides that where Latin-American countries give income tax exemptions to new industries established by U.S. capital, Washington by treaty will recognize these concessions. Latin America has contended that in the past Uncle Sam taxed the income they allowed the U.S. companies to keep as inducements to invest.

Doctor Extracts Two Teeth From Month-Old Baby

Just about Christmas time each year, seems there's a rash of lost teeth among youngsters.

Pontiac's youngest and most recent one to have and to lose teeth is Gary Michael Novak, born on Halloween and just one month old.

When the stork presented Mr. and Mrs. Michael Novak of 56 Kemp street with Gary, the old bird threw in a couple of teeth for good measure, something rather rare in a new baby.

Saturday, Mike's Mom and Dad had to take him down to the office of Pediatrician Dr. R. J. Cooper, who had to take out the lower central incisors.

Now, if the young fellow could speak, he'd probably say to Santa: "All I want for Christmas is my two front teeth."

Census Workers Boost Federal Payrolls Slightly

WASHINGTON (AP) — Employment of temporary census workers boosted government payrolls during October for the second time in 27 months, Sen. Byrd (D-Va) reported today.

Byrd, as chairman of the Senate-House Committee on Reduction of nonessential Federal Expenditures, said civilian employes—excluding foreign nationals working overseas—numbered 2,323,029 in October, an increase of 5,464 over September, but 47,716 less than in October of last year.

Federal employment has declined steadily since July 1952, except during July and October of this year.

$550 Cache Found by Three Teenagers

BIRMINGHAM—Three Birmingham teenagers turned what police think was a house break-in into an unprofitable venture for some thief last night.

James Elliott, John Carter and Mike McCarthy turned over to police a chest of silver, a man's pocket watch, a ladies gold wrist watch and a telescope, after finding them wrapped in a gray zipper jacket near the Grand Trunk and Western Railroad viaduct on Adams road.

Detective Lt. Merlin Holmquist valued the items at $550, and said they were hidden in some bushes. He added the coat was dry, indicating it had not been there long.

Holmquist said the items were probably taken in a break-in, and would be turned over to the owner presenting proper identification.

Two or Three Inch Snowfall Predicted

too, fails considerably to hit the record low of zero set in 1880.

Snow warnings for today have been issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau, along with warnings of slippery road conditions reported in many parts of the state. The State Highway Department included the Pontiac area in its report.

No injuries were reported in two traffic accidents on West Maple in Birmingham this morning, as slippery roads make driving hazardous there and in many parts of the Birmingham area.

Colder weather is expected in Pontiac tonight, with a low expected to be around 26 to 30 degrees. Snow will diminish to flurries.

Tomorrow's high will be from 28 to 33 and a 20 to 24 degrees low is predicted for Thursday night.

Yesterday in downtown Pontiac the mercury hit a low of 31 with a high of 36. At 8 o'clock this morning the thermometer registured 30 degrees, hitting 33 at 2 p.m.

Muscular Dystrophy Drive Hits $2,280

The local drive to aid the fight against muscular dystrophy has reached the $2,280 mark, it was reported today by Charles H. Moore, Pontiac chairman for the Muscular Dystrophy Assn.

"The firemen are still out and so are some of the mailmen," Moore said.

"But because of the bad weather and the promise of even worse to come, we would appreciate it if people would put their contributions in envelopes addressed to MDA, in care of the local postmaster.

The drive ends Friday.

Pontiac Deaths

Marine Pfc Tracy Monroe

Funeral service will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. from the Farmer-Snover Funeral Home for Pfc. Tracy W. Monroe Jr., formerly of 3310 Gilchrest Ct. Capt. Vernon Vie of the Salvation Army will officiate.

A military graveside service will follow at the Drayton Plains Cemetery.

Born in Drayton Plains Sept. 28, 1930, he was the son of Tracy W. and Kate Lucas Monroe of Tavernier, Fla. He was a member of the Salvation Army and attended the Drayton Plains School.

Surviving besides his parents are two brothers, Marine S. Sgt. William Monroe of Fostoria, Ohio and Kay Lynn of Tavernier, Fla. Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Lila Lee Stanek of Port Huron and Bonnie Lee Monroe of Tavernier.

Pfc. Monroe was killed in action Thanksgiving Day in Korea in 1950.

Rosella Webb

The Blessing of the Baby was given this morning at 10 o'clock at Melvin A. Schutt Funeral Home for Rosella Webb, infant daughter of Eugene and Rosella Ann La Barge Webb, of 3284 Joslyn Ave.

Rosella died at birth yesterday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. She is survived by a brother, John Wesley and a sister, Susan Marie both at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb are members of St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church.

Development of turkeys which are little larger than chickens has caused a boom in U. S. consumption of the birds.

Father of Blues Travels Back to Beale Street

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The blind old Father of the Blues is back on Beale Street, the onetime thoroughfare of wickedness where he created a "low-down" music with a mournful beat.

W. C. Handy, bent with the weight of 81 years, flew here from New York yesterday to lend his presence to the Blues Bowl football game, a charity affair between two high school teams.

Blowing a horn is too much for the writer of "Memphis Blues" now. He said he had to rest several weeks to "store up" strength for the trip. But he'll try to manage one note in a minor key to start things jumping.

$420,000 Check Given Churchill

LONDON (INS) — Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill, honored and acclaimed as the "Lion of Britain," was presented with a check for 150,000 pounds ($420,000) yesterday on his 80th birthday.

The presentation was made by Lord Moynihan, treasurer of the Churchill birthday fund collected by popular subscription.

Britain's grand old warrior told Lord Moynihan he is forming a "Winston Churchill birthday trust" and added:

"It will be an enduring pleasure for the months or years that remain to me to guide the trust to the charitable purposes which command my allegiance."

7 Men Named to Drain Group

Will Draw Agreement Linking Five Oakland Communities to Detroit

Seven men were named last night to a committee which will work on a joint agreement that would link drainage systems of five Oakland County communities with an interceptor drain in Detroit.

Chairman of the committee is James Tennant, city manager of Farmington City. Other members are William Roeser, Southfield Township supervisor; Harlan Thatcher, West Bloomfield Township supervisor; Ernest Blanchard, Farmington Township supervisor; Fraser Staman, Novi Township supervisor; Russell Coltson, Oakland County sanitary engineer, and Ralph Main, Oakland County drain commissioner.

The committee appointment is intended to help solve the area's drainage problem, which has become acute with the rapid growth of population here.

Man Treated for Injuries

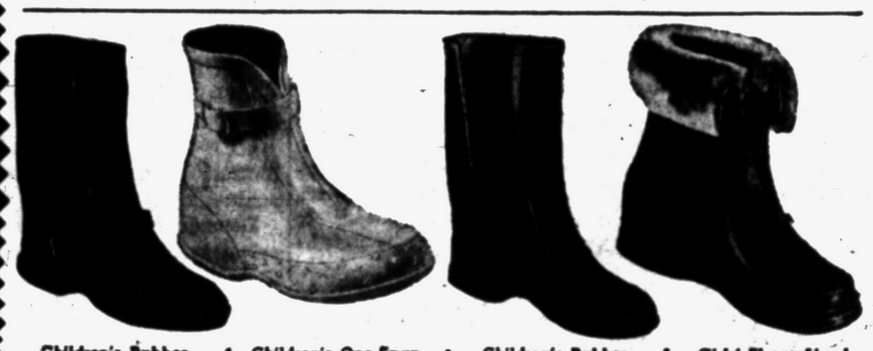

Benjamin C. Greenglass, 41, of 381 Central St., Lake Orion, was treated at St. Joseph Hospital for minor injury suffered when his auto was struck by one driven by James L. White, 30, of 291 Central St., Pontiac, Wednesday. Pontiac Police said they issued White a traffic violation ticket for driving with no operator's license. The accident occurred at S. East Boulevard and Midway avenue.

State Operating in Black for First Time in 5 Years

LANSING (UP)—Michigan legislators will find the state general fund in the black for the first time in five years when they start the 1955 session Jan. 12, State Controller John W. Lederle said today.

Lederle, reporting a $5,800,000 surplus in the general fund at the end of the 1953-54 fiscal year, said the fund's revenues increased $24,000,000 during the year.

Primarily responsible for the jump were increases of $16,700,000 in sales and use taxes and about $8,000,000 in other taxes, he said.

Revenue from the federal government dropped about $5,000,000 because of decreases in Social Security payments.

Lederle's report said:

General fund expenditures totalled $541,200,000 of which $112,000,000 or 21 per cent was for operating state agencies. The balance was disbursed to local units of government for capital outlay, to meet payments on the state debt and to aid the University of Michigan and Michigan State College.

All of the state's 16 operating and revolving funds combined collected a total of $747,300,000 and spent $709,300,000, an increase of $31,400,000 in revenue and $12,500,000 in expenditures.

The money spent included:

For operating all state agencies, $154,000,000

For capital outlay including $43,800,000 for highways and bridges, $52,200,000

For grants in aid and tax sharing distributions to local units and school districts, $426,900,000

For grants to the University of Michigan and Michigan State College and for state participation in limited access highways and veterans programs, $49,000,000

For debt service and retirement fund financing, $27,300,000.

Total transactions which passed through the department of administration, including those for numerous trust and agency funds, amounted to more than $1,500,000,000, a new all-time high, Lederle said.

The Buddhist temple of Horyuji, Japan, parts of which have stood since 739 A. D., is believed to be the oldest wooden building in the world.

U.S. Highway Plans Slashed

Gen. Clay Reveals Cut of 50 Pct. From Original Federal Aid Program

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay said today a federal program for a national highways system has been cut from a proposed 50 billion dollars to an estimated 24 billion dollars, which would be financed by revenue bonds over a 30-year period.

Clay, chairman of the President's Advisory Committee on a National Highway Program, told the American Municipal Assn. today two substantial changes from the original proposal to the conference of governors at Bolton's Landing, N. Y., last July had been made.

The first was the cut in the cost of the program. Clay said the 50-billion-doller figure was "desirable but not entirely practical."

The second was in the method of financing—from "a pay-as-you-go basis to a pay-as-you-use basis."

The new thinking, Clay said, is that a separate commission would be set up to issue revenue bonds under its own name. These would be secured by revenues from the federal tax on gasoline and other petroleum products.

Clay said this tax brings in a billion dollars a year and the federal government under the proposed program would allocate 550 million dollars a year to the states for construction of primary and secondary roads. He said the remainder of the funds, which he anticipates will increase over the years because of heavier gas and petroleum consumption, would support the revenue bond issue over a 30-year period, figured on a 3 per cent interest rate.

This represents a much more workable program than any proposed "pay-as-you-go policy which would be based on current revenues," Clay added.

Mumps Cases Jump Sharply for Week

The Oakland County Department of Health reported a sharp increase in new cases of mumps for the past week and only one case of polio, as compared with six polio cases the previous week.

Dr. John D. Monroe, Pontiac's acting director of public health, reported the first new case of polio in over a month here.

New mumps cases rose to 105 last week as compared with only 20 the previous week. Also showing an increase, chicken pox was reported at 85 new cases as compared with 66.

The county department's report follows:

	Past Week	Week Ending Nov. 20, '54	Nov. 28, '53
Chicken pox	85	66	13
Measles	0	6	60
Pneumonia (all forms)	0	3	2

Robert C. Miller Is Appointed to Weapons Board

Robert C. Miller, chief investigator for the Oakland County prosecutor's office, has been named to the county Concealed Weapons Board.

Miller will replace former Assistant Prosecutor Farrell E. Roberts who recently resigned to enter private law practice, according to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Other members of the board are Undersheriff Donald O. Menzies and State Police Detective Charles Leaf with County Clerk Lynn D. Allen acting as secretary.

The board meets once each month to rule on applications for permits to carry concealed weapons, said Ziem. Applications are submitted to Allen's office.

Biggest number of permits are issued to persons wishing to carry pistols for target shooting and hunting, the prosecutor stated. Others whose jobs require carrying large sums of money secure weapons permits for protection, he added.

GI in Germany Flies to Side of Dying Son

The 22-year-old airman flew in from Germany yesterday to be by his son's bedside before Genie's expected death.

The sergeant's mother, Mrs. Wavie Keenan, said at her home in Fort Thomas that the baby is "responding to treatment but the doctors give us no hope at all."

Keenan, stationed at the Hahn Air Force Base in Germany, was granted a 30-day leave after the Red Cross, Rep. Spence (D-Ky) and Sen. Clements (D-Ky) asked the Air Force for emergency leave.

"We really sweated it out until the sergeant arrived home," Mrs. Keenan said. "We were afraid the baby would die before he came."

Since World War II about 100,000 immigrants a year have entered Canada.

Viet Nam Police Defeat Troops

Pitched Battle Staged in Saigon; Apparently Not Political

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Vietnamese police and a company of national army troops fought an hour pitched battle in the heart of Saigon's crowded Chinese section early today. Four policemen and two soldiers were killed before the troops surrendered to fire from police bazookas and machine guns.

The fray reportedly started when soldiers refused to pay for items they took from sidewalk vendors. It apparently had no direct connection with the long feud between Premier Ngo Dinh Diem and Gen. Nguyen Van Hinh, who was fired from his post as army chief of staff this week.

Gen. Lai Van Sang, national police chief, said that during the shooting, some soldiers displayed banners reading "Long live Ho Chi Minh," the Moscow-trained leader of the North, and "Down with the puppet government."

Sang said police attempted to stop the soldiers from taking goods without paying. The troops retreated behind the walls of the military compound next to a refugee camp, which they were assigned to protect.

A full-scale battle developed as police mobile units blasted holes in the compound walls with bazookas and sprayed the area with machine-gun fire.

After several hours the soldiers raised a white flag over their barracks and marched out, leaving their arms behind them. They were turned over to army leaders for disciplining.

Saigon police are controlled by the Binh Xuyen, one of the many religious-military factions in Indochina. The Binh Xuyen is currently at odds with Premier, but Sang said he was carrying out his job without political bias.

Families to Continue Going to Formosa

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Dependents of U.S. naval personnel on Formosa will continue to come to this island despite threats of war between Nationalist and Communist China, a ranking naval officer said today.

Capt. John C. LaMade, a spokesman for Asst. Secretary of the Navy Albert Pratt, said transportation and housing were the primary reasons why months often elapsed before families could be sent here. He said Pratt planned to see what could be done to remedy the situation.

Pratt, touring naval establishments in the Far East, arrived today. He leaves tomorrow for Tokyo, with a four-hour stop in Okinawa.

Japs Want Payment for Gunboat Attack

TOKYO, (AP)—Two Japanese fishermen toay asked the Japanese govrnment to seek compensation from Nationalist China for the sinking of two Japanese fishing boats by gunboats in th East China Sea last week.

Kichitaro Yamada, owner of the boats, and radio operator Sadanaga Taiko reported details of the attack to the Foreign Ministry. But, Kyodo news service said, they did not positively identify the attackers as Nationalist.

The government lists the attacking gunboats as of unidentified nationality. Two fishermen were killed and four injured in the attack.

Buyers' Confidence Up

There is ample room for confidence in the future as a result of a survey made for Business Week magazine by the University of Michigan's Survey Research Center.

Condensed into a few words this report of consumer attitudes indicates an increase of confidence over that shown by SRC findings at the end of 1953. Of major interest in this automotive area is the news that the outlook for sales of cars and large household goods "for the next six or nine months . . . is better than at the end of 1953."

Readers are warned, however, that nothing in the report is to be construed as indicating a boom is on the way. Instead, the prospect is that the rate of consumer savings will continue quite high.

What is important, says the magazine in summing up, "is the direction of the changes." Hence, when the major tests are applied, it is apparent that consumers are in a buying mood that is slightly more buoyant than a half year ago, even more so as compared with a year ago.

As Business Week points out the salient business fact during the past year has been the "almost unshakable confidence of people generally in the underlying strength of the economy."

In our book that means continued good business.

Sooner or Later

One of the innumerable improvements this divided world urgently needs is a modern calendar.

Unfortunately, while this long has been recognized and there exists a World Calendar Association, Inc., to push the idea, relatively no progress has been made so far.

This in no way should diminish the standing of the association. It not only is backing a much simpler and more efficient calendar, but it isn't relaxing its efforts despite 25 years of discouragement.

Actually, the proposed new world calendar is so far ahead of the Gregorian system now in use, that there is no comparison. In fact, this newspaper was among the early supporters of the world calendar idea.

Under it the first days of January, April, July and October always would fall on Sunday. Each month would consist of 26 business days with days and dates the same from year to year. Beginning with January the months would follow a pattern of 31, 30 and 30 days each. The argument for such a system is that it would promote greater efficiency and more economy in the conduct of business affairs.

The World Calendar Association deserves commendation for persevering in this fight. Even though little progress is apparent, we believe that sooner or later the day will come when this better system will be used by all progressive countries.

Briton Warns West

Have we seen the last of global war?

In the opinion of Sir John Slessor, Marshal of Britain's Royal Air Force, the answer is a qualified "yes." But this distinguished fighting man who is credited with having found the way to beat Hitler's U-boats, doesn't stop there.

Writing in the December issue of Coronet, Sir John expresses his belief that total wars are no longer possible and that lasting peace will come much sooner than many people think. It also is his belief that peace must be based on two concepts.

First, he argues, the world must prevent instead of trying to avoid war. History, he contends, is littered with proof that war is never prevented by running away from it.

His second concept is that the West must build up and maintain the strength necessary to support its policies and that this can be done only by further development of atomic armaments.

Then Sir John sounded his warning against Western agreements on atomic disarmament. In his opinion that sooner or later would mean a third world war and quite possibly our defeat in that war.

In conclusion Marshal Slessor made two very important points. He stressed the necessity of the West educating its people to understand that continued existence of atomic weapons gives us an almost certain chance of preventing another world war.

But, cautioning against too much defense, he said it would be the height of folly to "arm ourselves into bankruptcy, than which nothing could suit the Kremlin better."

This is sound advice from a qualified expert.

Alas, with a Republican Administration and a Democratic-controlled Congress, we won't know which party to blame for nearly everything that goes wrong.

Survey for Schools Is Excellent Plan; Badly Needed in Pontiac, Says Reader

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

The Pontiac Board of Education and Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, are to be commended for planning a perpetual internal survey for our schools.

The hiring of Dr. Otto Hufziger as an administrative assistant who comes well recommended as a building specialist and a fine educator (Pontiac Press, Nov. 29) is sound business practice for a school district that has many buildings to locate and construct in the next decade.

Many other school districts in the state of Michigan instituted these surveys years ago to determine population trends. For instance, the Saginaw School district began its survey in 1934 with the help of Federal funds. It has built a series of schools, basing its sites on school survey, and has never misplaced a single building.

The very fact that Pontiac is having to condemn property to obtain school sites close to the children points up the need for this type of survey. The Pontiac Board of Education should see to it that future sites are designed and set aside for schools as soon as the survey determines where the children will be.

Give Curfew a Trial, Says W. J. Slingerland

In the past many of our citizens have advocated the need of curfew hours to deal with vandalism, property damage and various other things which we can recall.

How much abuse, evidence and wasted time is needed to convince our enforcement officers, officials and adult citizens before this need may become a reality.

To test results, place a curfew law at 9:30 p.m. or 10 p.m. for one or two years. If proven favorable as to results, then lift the curfew with the understanding that it will be resumed if necessary.

Case Records of a Psychologist

When Youngsters Fall Behind in School Any One of 6 Things May Be to Blame

If a child fails to make passing marks in school, it is not always due to a low "I.Q." Be sure you understand the six reasons why youngsters may fall behind in school.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case M-381: Randy L., aged 8, is a problem child who has his mother very much worried about him.

"Randy doesn't get along well in school," she stated, "and I am wondering if he is just naturally stupid, for I've tried to help him with his lessons at home.

"But instead of studying, he just wants to cut up and play. His teacher wrote me a note only last week saying that he is naughty and teases the other children.

"He failed last year and is taking the course over again, so he should really be able to make fine grades this year. But his school marks are scarcely any better than they were last year. He will be lucky if he passes into the third grade.

"I read one of your cases about the deaf child, Dr. Crane, so I have had his eyes and his ears checked, thinking they might explain his trouble. But there is nothing wrong with them. I am getting so discouraged. Is he just naturally stupid, or what is wrong, Dr. Crane?"

Randy's mother was wise to have the boy's eyes and ears tested in order to rule out defective vision or partial deafness as causes of low marks in school.

Even poor health, low vitality, infected teeth and adenoids, undernourishment—in fact, anything which reduces the health and therefore the curiosity of children, will tend to lower their mental alertness.

Even if Randy were entirely normal in all physical respects, he might be emotionally upset so that he could not do good work. There is, of course, the possibility that he might be of lower than average mentality—possibly even feebleminded.

One of the greatest landmarks in psychology was the publication in 1905 of the Binet-Simon mental tests. Later this set of tests was standardized in this country by Professor Terman. They now are called the Stanford Binet Tests.

With these excellent aids we can take a youngster aged two years or older and measure very accurately his mentality. Such measurements are a great help, too, for often the children who seem stupid or fail in school are not subnormal mentally.

Whenever we find a youngster who is not getting along well in his studies, we examine his eyes, ears, health, emotional and home environments, and then give him the mental test.

We can predict fairly accurately how much intelligence he possesses and how far he can progress in school. At the age of three or four years we can thus successfully predict that a child will never be able to graduate from grammar school, or that he has sufficient mental horsepower to easily carry the most difficult college courses when he grows up.

When I tested Randy, I found that he had an intelligence quotient or I. Q. of 112, which means that he is above average mentally, since normality is 100.

This I. Q. is obtained by dividing the mental age by his actual or chronological age. He possessed nine-year mental age, and was only eight by the calendar, so nine divided by eight gives him 1.12, usually stated as 112.

Within an hour, therefore, I knew that Randy's poor marks were not due to defective intelligence. His case turned out to be an only child's grandstanding for attention.

Moreover, he and his teacher had not harmonized well in the second grade. His naughtiness was an attempt to get awed admiration from his schoolmates and to compensate for the fact that he had dropped behind his original class.

If possible, never let a child fail in school or fall behind the playmates with whom he started out. Tutor him, coach him—do anything possible to keep him in step.

Aunt Het

Cousin Henry ain't a bad man or a good man. He's what you'd cal neutral—just too weak and flabby to be anything positive.

James Marlow Says:

Ike's Immense Popularity Probably Will Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has retained such immense personal popularity through the first two years of his term he probably will hold this public esteem to the end.

For a man two years in the White House, he has been almost amazingly free of personal attacks or abuse. For one thing, politicians who might like to take a crack at him may have felt it too risky to tackle a national hero.

But Eisenhower himself, although a novice in politics, has followed the one course best calculated to bring him a minimum of abuse: by making no personal attacks.

Perhaps the best example of this is his handling of Sen. McCarthy—he has treated Sen. Knowland of California very carefully too—who has repeatedly stepped on the toes of the administration.

Yet, before his term is up Eisenhower may think it necessary to take a far tougher position on matters affecting his administration. More than his own personal popularity is at stake these next two years.

In 1956 the voters will decide not only whether the Republicans should stay in office but perhaps even the future of the Republican party itself.

The Republicans as a whole cannot claim equal popularity with Eisenhower. There are two examples of that: He ran far in front of the party in 1952; and the Republicans lost control of Congress to the Democrats in last month's elections while Eisenhower's popularity rating was still regarded as high.

The Republicans will not present an enticing spectacle to the voters if between now and 1956 they show themselves split on domestic and foreign affairs, with some of them in steady opposition to Eisenhower or at least to his administration.

That Eisenhower can expect trouble from McCarthy seems a foregone conclusion. Even if he is censured this week, the Wisconsin Republican says, he will continue his search for Communists. His most likely searching ground is the administration, as it was these past two years.

McCarthy has a following, inside and outside Congress and in the Republican party. It may not be a majority following but it could create bad spirits which might ruin the party's chances in 1956.

Knowland, the Republicans' Senate leader and therefore a source from which Eisenhower might ordinarily expect a minimum of difficulty, has often differed with Eisenhower on foreign policy. He shows no signs of changing.

Knowland too will have some support among Republicans, often perhaps from McCarthy's followers.

In the end, if the Republicans spend their time and energy in splits and wrangles, Eisenhower may have to depend on the Democrats—who are slated to be in a majority when the new Congress opens in 1955—at least to push through his foreign policy plans.

Last year McCarthy called on Eisenhower to cut off aid to allies who traded with the Communists. Today in an interview he came back to the same theme again.

He suggested the Chinese Communists would be forced to give up the 13 Americans imprisoned as spies if the Allies would stop trading with them. This country, he said, should force the Allies to stop trading by shutting off American aid to them if they didn't.

Knowland wants Eisenhower to blockade the China coast to force release of the prisoners. McCarthy lined up with Knowland by saying he'd back the blockade idea if his own idea of stop-trade-stop-aid didn't work.

Even though Secretary of State Dulles publicly repudiated Knowland's blockade proposal as a warlike act, and Eisenhower backed up Dulles yesterday, Knowland came right back by insisting on blockade. He has taken a stand contrary to the administration's again and again.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

All the returns are in from the outlying Univacs and the elite are the elect.

When the shouting and the tumult had been tuned down below neighbor-annoyance the mechanical calibnater stuck to its geared estimates.

In spite of the numerous protests by defeated candidates Univac stood mute. It has no reverse processes.

It counted out the high, the low and the middle. Governors went into its hamburgering gullet. Its digestive juices dissolved senators. Its insatiate appetite for correct figures swamped congressmen and sent senators to the slag - heap of the limbo foundry.

Fiorello La Guardia said he didn't make many mistakes. But when he did make one it was a pip. Univac is as accurate as Jack Horner's thumb.

Among the extraneous clinkers shaken down into Univac's grate was young Franklin Roosevelt. The good-looking politico jettisoned his congressional seat to go for broke on attorney general of New York State.

Univac took a special transfusion of red ink for Franklin Junior. At midnight it looked like Franklin was in like the hay crop.

At dawn Univac coughed up the end figures and Franklin the Twice was out like yesterday's egg shells.

The papers said the kid broke down and cried. This is the first intimation we had that Franklin Two took politics seriously. We always thought he was in there for laughs like a putty nose.

It sort of made us feel a bit remorsish for figuring he was sleigh-riding on his old man's toboggan-tails. The kid was leveling all the time.

Politics is no place for a dilettante. That's an amateur with professional money.

Which is how we doped young Roosevelt. He blew the duke, he blew his congressional seat and landed jack-ways from Tuesday. But we're helping him next time out. We know a guy what knows a guy what knows a Univac.

Smiles

Make Merry

At the end of a sermon in a Scottish church an ardent prohibitionist was permitted by the entirely anti-prohibitionist parson to say a few words.

"Brethren," he said, "If I had all the whisky, brandy and champagne in the world I would fling the whole of it into the Tweed."

He sat down, and in the pause that followed the parson rose: "We shall conclude," he said, "by singing Hymn 157: 'Shall we gather at the river?'"

Encouraging?

She: "I hear your boy friend wants to settle down and get a home."

Her: "Well, he's got a good start. I gave him the gate last night."

Many People With Slow Metabolism Require 3 to 4 Miles of Walking a Day

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Now the melancholy days are come to offices, stores, schoolrooms, restaurants, public conveyances, churches, theaters and living rooms, the season when the selfish and domineering have their own way about regulation of temperature and ventilation, if they can impose their wishes on the benigh and the meek.

Canvass almost any group of three or more persons and you will find differences of opinion or preference in respect to the heating and ventilation of the room.

The individual's metabolism has a good deal to do with his or her sense of comfort, chilliness or excessive warmth. So one with slow, low, minus metabolism may feel chilly in an atmosphere which one with normal metabolism finds comfortable. And most persons have normal or nearly normal metabolism—oxidation or combustion rate, that is. Yet the exceptional one with low metabolism often insists on having the room temperature so high that nearly every one else in the room must endure discomfort.

The best way to regulate room temperature is with a thermostat, and the majority vote of occupants of the room should determine at what point to set the thermostat.

Namby-pamby persons, white collar workers, "brain" workers, business and professional persons who ride to and from office or store instead of taking advantage of the opportunity to get a few miles of oxygen on the hoof and people who don't know how to breathe—the poor ninnyhammers think one should expand the chest and hold in the "stomach"—generally have slow or low metabolism.

When you think of metabolism don't think of the comical gadget the trick specialist's near-nurse rolls out to give you a basal metabolism test when you go to the kli-NICK. I have yet to learn of a case in which a basal metabolism reading or test has enabled a real doctor to make a better diagnosis or give more effective treatment than does ordinary examination and study of the patient.

A good many individuals with slow metabolism, especially women 35 to 45, require a daily 3 or 4 miles of oxygen on the hoof and a daily iodin ration to restore their metabolism to normal. Too often these unhappy creatures, whose personality or disposition has changed from cheerful to glum, are persuaded by the fishwives that it is "change of life". That's for the birds—you know, the ninnyhammers.

I invite the chilly ones and the si—the gloomy ones to send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents for these two pamphlets:

The Iodin Ration
The Menopause

And don't forget that you must walk 3 or 4 miles every day if you want to maintain good metabolism.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Former Model and Gar Wood to Air Squabbles

Wood, 73-year-old millionaire boat builder, said Lucille Stiglich, a statuesque brunette, went to his home on Fisher Island and threatened to kill him. He charged she made a special trip to the island to threaten him and brought her mother with her.

Wood had Miss Stiglich placed in a $500 peace bond and she in turn charged him with assault. She said he kicked her and beat hr Nov. 13.

Miss Stiglich said over the phone that she was too ill to talk about the matter. Her attorney said she told him Wood was supposed to meet her but when she arrived she found him with another girl.

The attorney said Miss Stiglich, a divorcee, claims Wood has promised to marry her.

Plan for Reorganization of Immigration Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Retired Lt. Gen. J. M. Swing, commissioner of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, said last night plans to reorganize the service are nearly completed.

Swing, who declined to discuss details of the reorganization, said it "would make the service a little more modern."

The New York Times says the reorganization will involve closing of some offices and merging of others. In the process, the paper says, some jobs will be wiped out and others transferred to new locations.

Letter Outlines Jobless Policy

Mitchell's Message to Governor Gives Ike's Views on Benefits

LANSING (UP) — Gov. Williams made public today a letter from Secretary of Labor Mitchell which, Williams said, "redefines" President Eisenhower's views on unemployment compensation.

Mitchell said in the letter that unemployment compensation should be improved to the end that "the maximum benefit level should be geared to the average gross earnings of all workers covered by the program, not just those drawing benefits at any particular time. Weekly benefit amounts beneath this maximum should be at least 50 per cent of the workers' gross earnings in coveraged employment."

No state agency was able to say whether this phraseology proposed higher benefits than those voted or advocated in the hot 1954 legislative fight on the subject in Michigan.

In that dispute, Republican leaders said the President favored benefits equalling 50 per cent of take-home pay, while the Democrat-labor element argued the President favored 50 per cent of an individual's average wage.

Mitchell said the President advocated extending unemployment compensation to state and local governmental employes, as Congress recently extended it to federal employes.

Mitchell said President Eisenhower also proposed that the states provide 26 weeks of benefits to all claimants, instead of the present system of 26 weeks maximum.

Williams did not comment on the letter.

Official's Father Dies

OWOSSO (UP) — Jay M. Terbush Sr., 65, father of Shiawassee County Prosecutor-elect Jay M. Terbush Jr., died Tuesday of a heart attack. The elder Terbush formerly ran a stock company which built the Hotel Owosso in 1928 and operated it for several years.

Plan Spending of Extra Funds

State Educators Eye Benefits From Court's Tax Ruling

LANSING (UP) — Some Michigan education leaders already were planning today on how to spend the extra money some schools expect to get as the result of Monday's Supreme Court decision on school property taxes.

The high court held that porperty for school tax purposes must be valued at state equalized figures which generally are higher than county equalized valuations.

Ellen Solomson, president of the Michigan Education Association, said "a better educational program for the children of Michigan is within our grasp.

"As the result of the decision, most school boards will be able to take the edge off teacher shortages by offering dollars that will attract teachers back to classrooms," she said.

Miss Solomson urged boards to make plans "for long-neglected building programs to get our children off half-sessions."

She said some counties will be required to raise school taxes by as much as 50 per cent, which will enable teachers to get salaries "closer to the association's goal of a $4,000 minimum and at least a $9,000 mixinum."

Wesley Thomas, MEA director of professional relations, said the decision was a "victory" for the association.

California produces 94 per cent of the nation's supply of grapes, 100 per cent of its rasins, and 90 per cent of the domestic wine supply.

Suggests Cobo for Federal Job

General Clay Indicates Detroit Mayor May Aid With Road Program

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay, head of President Eisenhower's advisory committee on highways, suggested yesterday that Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit might be offered a federal post in connection with the road program.

Speaking at a news conference, Clay said:

"Anyone with the best interests of the program in mind would certainly like to see Detroit's mayor in an active or advisory position."

Declining to say whether a post had been offered Cobo, Clay added:

"I have been impressed with Mayor Cobo since he appeared before my committee two months ago and more recently after my visit to Detroit last month.

"I feel his highway financing program is workable and good and I will recommend that the Detroit plan be given the utmost consideration."

In Detroit, Mayor Cobo said he had not been approached about a federal job.

Clay addressed the 31st convention of the American Municipal Assn. on plans for the huge federal highway expenditure.

The general said he will be ready to recommend financing of the program by the end of the year and that unless a better program can be developed he would recommend Cobo's plan.

Port Huron Bypass Due to Open Monday

LANSING (UP) — A 2.2-mile bypass of US-25 around the western limits of Port Huron will be opened to traffic Monday morning, the State Highway Department announced today.

The bypass will carry traffic from M-21 northeast to the Blue Water bridge, where it will connect with M-51 and US-25a.

Designed to route traffic away from downtown Port Huron, the bypass will eventually be extended south from M-21 to US-25 and M-29 in Marysville.

It was built by the Pierson Contracting Co. of Saginaw at a cost of 509.571.

Ford Co. Gives Town to College

Lumbering Community of Alberta to Be Used in Forestry Courses

HOUGHTON (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. Fund today turned over the entire lumbering community of Alberta and more than 1,700 acres of adjacent timberland to the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton.

The $273,000 gift was announced at a civic luncheon here by Allen W. Merrill, Ford fund vice president. Dr. Grover C. Dillman, Michigan Tech president, said it would be used to expand the school's forestry department facilities and its program of forest products research.

Alberta was developed by the late Henry Ford s a model lumbering settlement. It is situated on U. S. 41 about 10 miles south of L'Anse. Until recently, it and other facilities in the Upper Peninsula supplied Ford with lumber for station wagon bodies, automotive parts and defense products.

The village contains a dozen modern houses, two school buildings, a sawmill capable of cutting 15,000 feet of timber daily and a 22-acre artificial lake. The adjoining timberlands contain some 5.5 million feet of standing timber.

As the "Ford Forestry Center" of Michigan Tech, Dillman said it will enable the school to "cooperate with industry, education and governmental agencies in research on methods of timber management and utilization."

Enrollment in Michigan Tech's forestry department currently is 127 out of a student body of 1,700, including its branch campus at Sault Ste. Marie.

The ord Motor Co. Fund is a non-profit corporation organized for educational, scientific and charitable purposes. It is supported principally by contributors from the Ford company and is not related to the Ford Foundation.

Banjo Eyes First Performer to Play Carnegie Hall With Blackface Act

By EDDIE CANTOR

Classical artists have made Carnegie Hall famous. People like Paderewski, Jascha Heifetz, Marian Anderson, Toscanini. I never thought the day would come when a low comedian like me would play in a high-class hall like Carnegie!

As a youngster, I played New Henry Hall whenever they had weddings. It was located at 49 Henry Street on the lower east side.

The proprietor would tip me off that a swell affair was taking place. I was in on the ground floor because I lived next door at No. 47. Ground floor!—I was under it! We lived in the basement.

The minute I'd get the word, special steps were taken for my appearance. I'd wash my face—run our broken-tooth comb through my hair—and rehearse my opening line: "Ladies and Gents, I'd like to sing some of the popular songs of the day for you, if you don't mind, please."

The last notes would barely be out of my mouth, when I'd start passing the hat. To be more accurate—"cap." I had no hat in those days. With a generous crowd, I was good for anywhere from 75 cents to $2.

One of these evenings ended disastrously for me. My take was the largest it had ever been—almost four dollars. A rap game started in the check room and I was cleaning up—so much so that the groom delayed the ceremony because I had him stuck for eleven dollars. He finally got back his $11, and my $4!

All of these happenings in New Henry Hall passed through my mind as I stood on the stage of Carnegie Hall in March, 1950, giving my "One Man Show."

In the second half of my show, I worked in blackface. When I had taken my last bow, I put a towel around my neck and started out the door. The manager stopped me. "Eddie, where are you rushing?" he asked. "Back to the hotel," I replied, "you have no facilities for removing this black cork."

The manager smiled. "Eddie," he retorted, "in all the years I've been at Carnegie Hall, not once has Rubenstein or Paderewski ever worked in blackface!"

DOUBLE TALK WITH PENCILS

Here's some pencil fun to help you make all sorts of clever designs.

1. Fasten two sharpened pencils together with a rubber band. Top pencil should extend about one-half inch farther than the other, as shown.

2. Hold the pencils so both points touch a sheet of paper at the same time. Concentrate on the top pencil, and draw a series of waving lines and free-hand circles. You can write your name and the alphabet, draw trees and houses, and many more familiar things you know.

3. After learning how well you can do, try drawing designs with colored pencils. If you have some dark colored paper, try "double talk" with light colored crayons.

4. Now draw a big circle. Inside it, draw a design of smaller circles. When you have one pretty enough to suit you, color the spaces with different bright colors from your crayon box.

Kinsey Studies Sex Offenders

Third Book Is Nearing Publication Date; 3,000 Cases Detailed

BLOOMINGTON (INS) — The publication date of Dr. Alfred Kinsey's third book on sex is nearer than most people expect and apparently will be on the subject of sex offenders and sex laws.

The head of the institute for sex research said in an interview yesterday that his staff now has completed detailed studies of 3,000 sex offenders. The largest number covered by any already published study in this category is 103 cases.

Dr. Kinsey cautiously answered queries about the subject and the publication date of his third volume in a projected series of at least seven books by saying:

"The order and plans of publication are not clear at present."

But in the past, the gray-haired scientist has said that the institute's next book would deal with sex offenders and sex laws.

He and his staff have compiled in a comparatively brief time an incredibly large number of case histories about persons convicted of sex crimes, thanks partly to the cooperation given the research project by both officials and convicts in California prisons.

It took 15 years to get the some 16,000 individual sex histories upon which the first two books "Sexual Behavior in the Human Male" and "Sexual Behavior in the Human Female" were based.

But in four months time, nearly 1,000 cases of convicted sex offenders were added to the secret files of the institute at Indiana University.

Dr. Kinsey said four months ago in San Francisco that he had the case histories of nearly 2,000 sex offenders to be compared with the 16,000 persons not involved with the law who have been interviewed.

Revolution Against Reds Asked by Chinese Paper

Mailman Wins Crochet Award

200-Pounder Captures Title in Male Judging for Third Year

NEW YORK (INS)—A 200-pound mailman who thinks crocheting is a good cure for ulcers today won the male crocheting championship of the United States for the third time.

Anthony S. White of Portland, Ore., was named 1954 "King of Crochet." He was crochet king in 1950 and 1952, too. The letter carrier has been crocheting for 16 years.

Ladies' honors, plus the title of grand national champion in the 1954 nationwide crochet contest, went to a Los Angeles grandmother, Mrs. Theresa Blum. She got $500 prize money for a tablecloth it took her nine months to crochet. Like White, Mrs. Blum was a repeat winner. She was grand champion in 1941.

Teenage winner was 19-year-old Norma Jean Miller of Ensign, Kan. She crochets at home after day work as a practical nurse in a Garden City, Kan. hospital.

The three winners in the contest, which drew more than 100,000 entries through preliminary judging in local fairs, received their awards today. In addition to the cash, they got free trips to New York city.

British Probing Try to Sabotage U-Boat

LONDON (AP) — Security police questioned the 60 crew members of the 1,120-ton Royal Navy submarine Artemis today in an attempt to discover who tried to sabotage the craft's engines while en route to exercises in Scottish waters last Wednesday.

The admiralty, announcing the investigation, said no charges had been made against anyone. It gave no indication of how the sabotage try was made.

The Daily Express reported a hand grenade had been placed in the sub's engineroom. But a navy spokesman said: "As far as the admiralty is aware, no explosives have been found in the engineroom."

U. S. Pressing for Release of 13

Arousing World Feeling Is Plan

Others Support Tough Approach to Force Reds to Free Jailed Airmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Steady pressure aimed at arousing world feelings shaped up today as the main U. S. plan for winning release of 13 Americans jailed by Red China, despite new urging for more direct action.

Support for a tougher approach came from Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). He declared he is "in complete sympathy" with the proposal of Senate Majority Leader Knowland of California to blockade the China coast.

He said in an interview he doubted a single American warship would be needed to create a blockade. He suggested the United States could impose one by telling its allies they would get no more aid as long as they kept shipping goods to Communist China.

• • •

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said he is opposed to any blockade but the United States should "pursue Russia as much as we can to use her influence with the puppet Peiping government" to halt aggressive acts.

Secretary of State Dulles' short-of-war strategy for liberating the 11 U. S. airmen and two Army-employed civilians appeared to center on the marshaling of world opinion.

Dulles said during his Chicago speech Monday night that the United States would "exhaust peaceful means of sustaining our international rights and those of our citizens."

He ruled out, with backing from the White House made public yesterday, any "war action such as a naval and air blockade of Red China."

In any event, one problem facing U. S. officials was this: Should their actions be directed at seeking freedom for the 13 recently imprisoned or should they go whole hog and demand the release of all 69 American citizens believed to be held inside China against their will.

Estimate Cost of Lake Dredge

Channels for Seaway Would Cost U.S. Over $100 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. Army engineers estimated it will cost $108,027,000 to dredge Great Lakes channels to handle ocean traffic from the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The study was made at orders from Congress by the Army Corps of Engineers. The corps was expected to make its official report today.

The study said if the Great Lakes is to handle ocean vessels, channels must be deepened in the Detroit River, Lake St. Clair, St. Clair River, the Straits of Mackinac and the St. Marys River.

Advance word on the engineers' report indicated the new estimate is $20,000,000 more than one made by Army witnesses in seaway hearings in the House last year.

The study resulted from resolutions in Congress last year authored by Rep. Machrowicz (D-Mich) and Sen. Wiley (R-Wis). The study will be made into an appropriations request when the 84th Congress assembles in January.

The Great Lakes link with the seaway would be completed with the deepening of channels. Ocean going vessels would be able to move all the way to Duluth.

The report also was said to recommend that all channels be lowered to a depth of 27 feet, the same as the seaway.

Channels downbound from Duluth now are 25 feet and 21 feet upbound. Ships are limited to drafts of 22.3 feet downbound and 18 feet upbound at low lake levels.

The report was said to comment:

"Anticipated transportation savings to Great Lakes commerce economically justify the cost of this plan of improvement."

Reportedly the study adds that deeper channels would mean an added $200,000 a year in costs of maintenance of access waters between the lakes.

What Religion Means to Our Family

Beaver Family Finds Faith Common Meeting Ground

By LULA B. OGDEN

In a few words, the Beaver family expressed what their religion meant to them by saying "It is a tie that binds, a guiding light and a common meeting ground."

I felt that it was all this and more, when I met them and spent a few minutes in their home.

The story of a struggle in her earlier days was told by Mrs. Beaver who said that she was an orphan at eight. She said that neighbors cared for their family of six until finally after three or four years the four remaining children, as two had died, went to live with their grandmother.

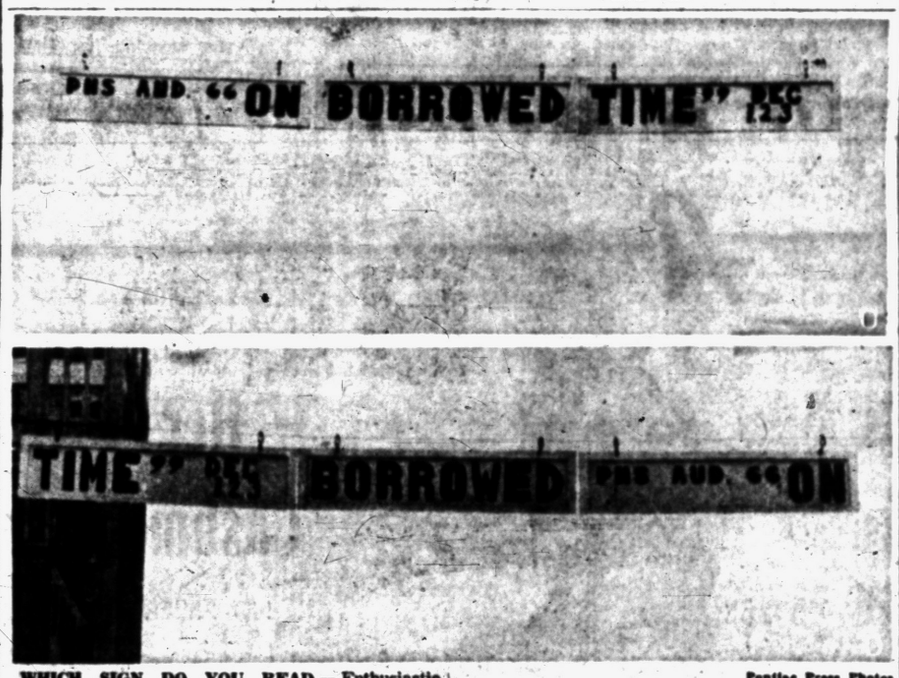

Mr. and Mrs. Beaver came to Pontiac from Hollandale, Miss. in 1920 so that their two daughters could have a better education and that they might have better working conditions to help provide it.

They joined Newman A. M. E. Church in 1923. Mr. Beaver says that he is interested in all phases of the church work.

Mrs. Beaver has been Sunday School teacher, class leader, spiritual adviser, stewardess, president of the Missionary Society, a member of the choir and an ordained deacon.

The Beavers have eight grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Mrs. McGlown is a teacher in the Pontiac School system.

Says Today's Youth May See Rocket Age

NEW YORK (INS) — The American boy playing in a space suit and dreaming of exploring life on the other planets is "on the right track," in the opinion of scientist Milton Rosen.

Rosen, rockets expert at the Naval Research Laboratory at Washington, DC, declared in an interview today he believes the "rocket age" could come in time to affect the lives of the boys who are now busy visualizing what is happening in the outer spaces.

"We are at the brink of an era in which the things boys are pass," said Rosen, who is at- dreaming about will come to tending the annual convention of the American Rocket Society at the McAlpin Hotel.

"In this coming era rockets are going to play an increasingly important part in all fields of transportation and exploration.

Asks $20 Million to Help Schools

State Official Requests Increase Over Present $200 Million Total

LANSING (AP) — Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, proposed today that the Legislature appropriate 20 million dollars more for the public schools next year than the 200 million dollars due them under state aid.

This was the first request for direct state school appropriations since the sales tax diversion amendment took effect.

Dr. Taylor, in his biennial report to the governor and Legislature, said the additional money should be used to hire 2,000 additional teachers, more service employes, more school busses, larger schools and a $200 pay raise for all public school teachers.

He asserted in his report "The way to secure the greatest return for dollars spent or invested is to invest money in youth".

Reporting that teacher salaries have been raised considerably, now reaching an average of $4,300 a year, Dr. Taylor said a state which pays its industrial workers the most in the nation must pay more for teachers to meet the competition.

He advocated a minimum teacher wage of $4,000 a year and the $200-a-year raise for all.

He urged the Legislature put Michigan on record as favoring federal funds for school construction.

Senators Say Congress to Extend Draft

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Four senators agreed today that the next Congress will extend the draft act but differed over other parts of the Pentagon's new military manpower plans.

Secretary of Defense Wilson outlined the program yesterday:

It will call for a four-year extension of the draft law, a modified form of universal military service that will provide for long and short-term draftees, more pay for long-service men and little change in the historic reserve and National Guard setup.

Wilson told a news conference that, while some details remain to be settled, President Eisenhower will present the plan in his State of the Union message to the new Congress in January.

Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) of the Senate Armed Services Committee and two committeemen, Senators Stennis (D-Miss) and Case (R-SD), agreed in separate interviews that Wilson would get a sympathetic hearing when he takes his case before the group.

"I heartily believe that an improved reserve program is necessary," Saltonstall added, saying he had "tried five times" to get the Pentagon to submit details on it during the current session of Congess. The current Draft Act, passed in 1951, is due to expire April 30.

While concurring with the other three senators that the selective service law should be extended, Sen. Long (D-La) said he doubts Congress would okay what he decribed as a new version of the universal military training program Congress has turned down several times in recent years.

"As one who previously supported UMT," he said, "I think it can't be done."

Wilson said the manpower program as now planned calls for a double system of induction through the selective service. Most young men — nearly 300,000 a year at the current rate — would be drafted for two years of active duty, then go into the organized reserve.

Then, to build up the reserve, another 50,000 to 100,000 would be inducted for a four to six-month basic training period and then automatically become members of the ready reserve.

There would be two major distinctions between the short and longer term draftees:

1. The short-termers would not classify as "veterans," according to the latest Pentagon thinking, and thus would not qualify for most veterans benefits.

2. The 24-month selectees would spend less time in the organized reserves while the short-termers would be on call for emergency active duty for a year or two longer.

Yoshida Tells Japanese of Chinese Red Menace

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, in stinging replies to his Diet (Parliament) critics, said today, "It is very necessary for the Japanese to know the real menace of the Communist offensive."

And he snapped at opponents seeking to oust him: "The Liberal party will decide when and whether I should step down."

"It is necessary to oppose communism," he said. "If that is called 'alignment with America only,' I say all the free world is aligned with America only."

To questioners in the Diet who urged expansion of trade with the Communists, he declared:

"The Communist radios pour sugar-coated words at Japanese ears," he said. "At the same time, the Communist radioes beamed to Southeast Asia tell them Japan is being rearmed for renewed aggression under American instigation. It is foolish to buy Communist words at face value."

"Russia and China," he said, "have been unable to export to earn foreign exchange. If they have no foreign exchange, how can we expect them to buy anything from us?"

Yoshida refused to give his critics any hint of his retirement plans. He has agreed to step down as president of his Liberal party, with the broad hint that this also would mean he would retire from the prime ministership in the near future.

Pontiac, County Youths in Race for State 'Posts'

A Waterford High School senior, Rodney Evans, 17, of 336 Dover, will be one of four candidates for governor when 200 youths from all over Michigan take part in the state-wide, YMCA-sponsored Youth in Government for Hi-Y members Dec. 2-5.

Sheldon Smith, 17, of 6450 Maybee Rd., Clarkston, also a Waterford senior, and Bob House, 17, of 1 Liberty Manor, Pontiac High senior, will act as representatives who will introduce two bills on traffic in the state legislature.

Another Pontiac senior, Joe Mills, 17, of 1498 Avondale, who recently was elected attorney general at a pre-legislative conference, will take over the state's legal division.

The annual event, during which students take over the capitol on all levels, serves to acquaint Hi-Y members with state government, explained T. N. Slosson, Pontiac YMCA executive secretary.

House, representing the Pontiac Y Phalanx Club with Mills, will offer the legislature a bill proposing a maximum highway speed limit for vehicles.

The bill specified speeds of 65 miles an hour during light hours and 60 at night. Smith's proposal will ask the legislature to consider the state's responsibility in removing wreckage from highways after traffic accidents.

The group, which has been supervised by George C. Balch, the Y's youth director, has held several pre-legislative meetings in preparation for the forthcoming event.

By FRED SPARKS
NEA Staff Correspondent

TOKYO — Twice in recent months the United States has considered but rejected the use of baby A-bombs to stop further Red Chinese expansion in Asia. The "hot-spots" were Quemoy and Dienbienphu.

The use against Red China of these junior-sized atomic weapons—which can destroy a particular part of a large city—may be considered again if Peiping grabs for somebody else's homeland.

(The above facts, revealed here for the first time, come when public indignation is at a high pitch in the United States because of the sentencing of 13 American airmen as spies by the Peiping government. At least one member of Congress has demanded a show of force.)

Despite any denials that might be issued, this correspondent has got the story nailed down—from those who planned the raids and those who would have made them.

The possibility of such an assault was known to the Moscow-Peiping duo. Accordingly, nothing here will assist the foe.

On both occasions it was President Eisenhower himself who ordered the proposed assaults canceled.

(Washington pointed out that Mr. Eisenhower would not have to cancel any such proposal formally but that failure on his part to accept such an idea would be tantamount to cancellation. The atomic energy act gives the President sole power to order the atomic arsenal unlocked.)

The first was during the siege of Dienbienphu. Our generals and admirals in the Orient were asked to suggest how the isolated fortress might be saved.

While some State-side politicians talked about sending American troops to Indochina, the men on the spot here realized that by the time GIs were unloaded the issue would have been decided.

They carefully developed a bombing pattern to ring Dienbienphu with baby A-bombs, makes the surrounding hills so radioactive a curtain would protect General deCastries.

They were so convinced of their ability to draw a circle around Dienbienphu without endangering the defenders that one leading Air Force officer offered to parachute before the raid as an "observer."

Mr. Eisenhower said: "No!"

One of the reasons offered by the President was that he feared a popular reaction against the use of any kind of an A-bomb—particularly in Japan, which was the recipient of the first two A-bombs dropped in history.

Since the President made the above point, Americans out here concerned with freedom's future in Asia have been urging the Pentagon to think up and advertise a new name for the baby A-bomb.

"They aren't A-bombs in the Hiroshima sense," an Air Force officer told me, "no more than a 1000-pound blockbuster is a firecracker, although all explosives grew up from the Chinese firecracker."

The second time a baby atomic attack was suggested was when the Reds began to pound Quemoy, Formosa's off-shore island, with artillery around the clock.

The advocates of radioactive muscle put their case this way: "Here is further proof Red China will settle for nothing but all Asia.

"There aren't anough American boys to make a ground attack on Red China; our allies aren't ready. Furthermore, traditional bombing would be costly and long ranged.

"Ours is a plan—via baby A-bombs—to knock out Red Chinese war potential in a matter of days without causing great numbers of civilian casualties."

Again Eisenhower said: "No!"—although the President was thus opposing a very large number of his military advisers.

But the A-bombs are still conveniently stored, the planes are available, and the heartland of Red China is mapped down to the last traffic sign.

Decorating for Children Is Pleasure

Piggy Bank Costs Produce Practical and Pretty Rooms

Prettying up a snug little domain for the small queen or king who rules the nursery is a favorite project with most doting parents. Perhaps it's because we can indulge our decorating fancy more freely than we dare in the rest of the house. Children seem to enjoy giddy effects and the cost can be kept to piggy-bank proportions.

Naturally, we have to be practical to a certain extent. A child's room should be easy to clean and there should be provisions for controlled ventilation and light during daytime naps. Provision for toy storage should be adequate, although this is the most difficult problem for me. About the time we get the toys neatly arrayed in one room, a troop of little friends march in and scatter the array to the four corners of the house.

With winter weather forcing more indoor play, a quick trick or two will make the nursery more inviting.

What can be gayer than a circus? Jolly circus characters romp across a new wallpaper that could be hung on one wall. And Venetian blinds, used in many children's room windows because of the ease with which light and air can be controlled, can be tricked up with more of the clowns cut from the leftover paper.

All you need to do is tilt the slats downward, as flat as they'll go, paste on the cutout or decal and slit the paper at the edge of each slat with a razor blade.

If the room is very small, fussy curtains may look rather overpowering at the window. Instead hook a ready-made ruffle around the window frame. The circus theme could be carried out by the addition of a striped chintz canopy across the top of the window.

If your little girl is utterly feminine, hunt up a mirror that can be hung on the closet door to give her the full benefit of her "dress-up" efforts. An extra chair, one that is low enough for a child to slip into, and yet strong enough for the room. It saves some of the wear and tear on the bed.

Maybe a fresh coat of paint on the walls is all that's needed to brighten up the playroom - nursery. Pink, yellow or a clear aqua are favorites, and are expecially cheerful on dreary days. But keep the colors on the bright side because pastels tend to look pallid and show up smudges more quickly.

Earl A. Kreps claimed Verna Courtney for his bride Saturday in First Presbyterian Church. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kreps of Garland avenue are his parents, and she is the daughter of the J. B. Courtneys of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Do You Have Permanent Problems?

Are you having trouble with your permanent waves! We are apt to think of a permanent as a mysterious something or other. Whereas it is a very scientific procedure. If a permanent wave isn't good, there is always a definite reason and by careful analysis, the reason can be found and eliminated. Only in a few cases is the permanent wave failure actually caused by poor hair structure. By this, I mean that there are a few heads of hair (about 1%) that cannot be waved successfully.

We would like to talk to you about your permanent wave problems.

Most Dangerous Room in House Is the Kitchen

NEW YORK (NEA) — Your kitchen, probably the most streamlined room in your house, is also the most dangerous room.

Take a look around it. (Not my kitchen, you think. I've all the newest appliances and everything is arranged for complete efficiency.)

A safety engineer would view the room differently. Checking your kitchen equipment and your working habits, he'd point out to you the unsafe conditions that threaten your daily existence. Last year, 5,000,000 men, women and children were victims of home accidents. According to the National Safety Council, the kitchen was the place where most of these accidents occurred.

What are the chances of falling in your kitchen? Last year, falls accounted for more than half the accidents in the home. Of these, 50 per cent proved fatal.

Slippery floors often account for sliding falls and these are the most serious. Excess wax can cause slipping so the old adage about less wax and more rubbing is a good one to follow.

There's only one really safe way to reach high shelves. And that's with a sturdy kitchen ladder. Never use a chair, box or small table as a substitute.

There are two simple steps in preventing a kitchen explosion. Be sure to open the oven doors to ventilate it before lighting it and always apply the match at the same moment you turn on the gas.

The electrical appliances of which you're so proud aren't actually life-savers if the cords are frayed or loose. Always keep electrical connections away from the sink and have a towel handy to wipe your hands before you switch on an appliance.

Have a stand for your iron and if you're leaving the kitchen (even for what you will will be a short length of time), switch off all appliances.

Never allow the children's toys to clutter up the kitchen floor, just waiting to trip you. And teach your youngsters not to touch electrical appliances, stove burners or pots and pans. Always turn the handles inward so that children can't grab for them.

There should be a place for a first-aid kit in your kitchen. And doctors recommend that [illegible] a kit contain a clinical thermometer, sterile absorbent cotton balls, sterile gauze pads, roll bandages in several widths, adhesive bandages, an antiseptic, aromatic spirits of ammonia, a burn remedy, rubbing alcohol, medicine dropper, tweezers and a pair of scissors.

Still feel like going out to the kitchen to get dinner?

Restraint Needed

Sure you can make a fine skirt of felt with pretty appliques. But if it's for anything just joking wear, restrain yourself to a one-colored applique, streamlined leaves, an abstracted flower pattern.

At Second Concert Dec. 7

Symphony Features MacDowell Male Chorus

The Pontiac Symphony Orchestra will present its second concert of the year Tuesday evening in Lincoln Junior High School. Featured guests will be the MacDowell Male Chorus.

This year is the 25th anniversary of the founding of the MacDowell chorus, the purpose of which was to bring men from all walks of life together for fellowship of song and relaxation.

It was the outcome of a quartet of singers, Harold Clark, first tenor, living in upper Michigan, Albert Glockzin, now living in Appleton, Wis., formerly in charge of the vocal department of the Pontiac High School, Glenn Williams, baritone and Edgar Thomas, bass, well-known singers here.

The chorus now has 50 members, including Ivan Long, Leland Dennis and Oscar Schmidt, who have remained active since its founding in 1929.

It has sung under several directors as it has grown into a permanent, cultural asset of this community, with but one accompanist, Oscar Schmidt, who also serves as assistant conductor, to George Putnam, choral director.

A strong desire to express words in effective, dynamic songs, regular rehearsals, and sacrifice for a cultural aim, make it possible for this organization to sing about a dozen concerts each year.

Some are for the joy of the Christmas season to hospitals, some to church groups and civic clubs. One formal concert in the spring requires serious studied preparation, adding to their proficiency.

The year the Michigan Male Chorus Association held its competitive sing in Pontiac, the $800 profits were donated to the Pontiac Civic Auditorium Fund. This chorus is also a member of the National Association.

Now another distinction has come to it, particularly so because only a limited number of singing groups can participate. The Pontiac chorus has been asked to sing a solo number at the International Sing in Rochester, N. Y. in 1955.

At the forthcoming concert, the symphony orchestra under the direction of Francesco DiBlasi will play four famous compositions, and the MacDowell Chorus will sing songs, all of which will herald the Christmas season.

Christmas Dance Set by ESA

Mrs. Alex C. Morris has been named general chairman of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority annual Christmas dance to be held Dec. 18 at Twin Beach Country Club.

Assisting with arrangements are Mrs. Frank Jalosky Jr., chairman of orchestra; Mrs. John Doherty and Mrs. Donald Moore, tickets; and Mrs. Benjamin Sweeney, and Mrs. Fred Baumgardner, decorations.

Mrs. Reginald Rippberger and Mrs. Robert Earl are handling publicity, and Maxine Miller is in charge of patrons.

Simplicity Essential to Table Dress

During the Christmas holidays, everyone wants his home to glow with friendliness and gay decorations throughout the home are right in keeping.

Then, too, during this season, everyone does more than the usual amount of entertaining, so the holiday table should be as special as the food you serve and should show the warmth and hospitality you feel.

The best ingredients for a pretty table are -- simplicity, good taste, and a bit of imagination and ingenuity on your part. You will find that various linens can be used to change the entire feeling of your setting.

A rich damask type is perfect for formal entertaining; while Festival, the plain textured tablecloth can be used for either formal or informal; and the homespun is ideal for informal dining.

Dramatic effects can be achieved by bold contrasts in texture and colors . . . for instance, a plain green textured cloth with napkins of a contrasting bright red; red and white used for a centerpiece; and simple white china or pottery would make an attractive setting.

The centerpiece should always be related to the tablecloth — either to make a bold contrast against it — or, when using a multi-colored patterned cloth, to highlight one of the colors in the tablecloth.

In Everyday Living

Silver Leads Double Life

One delightful thing about silver holloware is that each and every piece can lead a double or triple life in your everyday living.

Bread-and-butter plates, for instance, make beautiful ash trays when extra are needed while entertaining. A compote dish does quite as well for bonbons, nuts mints or candy. A vegetable dish is attractive for serving hot rolls or holding fruit and it also makes an impressive container for a flower centerpiece.

As adaptable as it is useful, a classic silver bowl makes a gracious centerpiece filled with flowers. Large ones make handsome punch bowls or wine coolers, and smaller bowls are useful around the clock for serving vegetables, sauces, desserts or potato chips.

Your silver water pitcher is ideal for iced beverages or punch, and for cocktails as well. try using it for long-stemmed flowers or leaf arrangements, too.

It is an additional touch of luxury to use and enjoy your silver as often as you can and in as many interesting ways as may be devised. Silver has recently been described as America's most beautiful necessity, and its gleaming beauty adds an air of distinction to your home.

Americans spend about $300 million per year on eye care.

Holiday Collections Have Festive Look

The gleam of gold and the lustre of silk is combined for real beauty in this costume by Anthony Blotta. Ivy and floral golden designs entwine in gleaming embroideries against burgundy.

To usher in this enchanted season, Adele Simpson designs the costume of pure silk brocade in pale grayish green. The dress has back-swept fullness.

Do-C-Do Has 'Roundup'

Members and guests of the Do-C-Do Square Dance Club danced among wanted poster signs, camp fires, a covered wagon and rustlers when they gathered Tuesday evening at Waterford High School for "The Rustler's Roundup."

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Schmiel, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rooney, Mr. and Mrs. George Lampman, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Howard McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Donaldson and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Holcomb.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Herb Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. John Kline, Mr. and Mrs. John Fritcher, Mr. and Mrs. John Rothchilds, Mr. and Mrs. James Prevett, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rowston.

Decorations were arranged by the John Hatherills and the William Browns, and refreshments were served under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Powers and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vieriech.

Callers were George Harkless, Sam Joan, Gordon McLeod, John Streit, Stanley Hutchinson and Enar West. The Christmas dance will be held Dec. 9 at Webster School.

Gay Christmas Parties Call for Glittering Gowns

Suddenly it's Christmas — fabulous wonderland season of dressing up for gay parties and many a "command performance" under the mistletoe.

Beautiful silks are guaranteed to star under that famous branch in short jewel-sparked dance dresses, yard-on-yard ball gowns, princely evening ensembles with dramatic coats swept around glittering gowns, brightly colored cocktail dresses and costumes and all-jewel sheaths glimmering like Christmas lights.

The glow and gaiety of Christmas is matched by shimmering silk fabrics for budget bargains or ball dresses.

Outstanding textures are pastel satin, changeable organza in billowing layers, regal brocades, colorful silk taffeta in regular, sheer, parchment or soft finishes, peau de soie in a riotous palette of pale and vivid colors, faille and wispy plain or painted chiffons.

Richness of detail brings a wealth of elegance to party clothes. Bands of pink satin form a neck and hip yoke used together with embroidered silk organdy.

Silk cord or braid is scrolled in and out of thick encrustations of beading and jewelling on bodices, extending into full or easy skirts.

Rows of fine crystal pleating are insets for silk parchment taffeta or organza and sometimes looped with velvet ribbon for "little girl" charm.

More covered silhouettes than last year provide new-looking demureness to even the most formal ball dresses.

Wide and string-thin straps, halter necklines, draped one-shoulder bands, high-cut bateau or square necklines and fichus or stoles are some of the artful devices that are effecting a fascinating cover-up.

Long tight sleeves, brief shirred ones or softly pushed up are other variations that make a point of rounding the shoulder tips. Junior dresses too, have run for cover with bodices cut in shallow scoops and tiny cape-like sleeves.

The attenuated look of the eighteenth century figurine is accomplished with bodices elongated to extend in a sculptured skintight line from a high bosom to midhipline, swathed in silk with pleats, shirring or folds released from that point.

Jewelled or embroidered bodices further define the line. Bands of velvet ribbon or seed pearls is still another way that the longer, lithe line is delineated.

Helene Sizer, Charles Harbage Speak Vows

Making their home in Key West, Fla., are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frank Harbage. She is the former Helene Thelma Sizer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bogue of Norwich, Conn.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer B. Harbage of Lenox avenue.

A gown of pure white French imported rose point lace was worn by the bride as she approached the altar of Christ Episcopal Church in Norwich for the 10 o'clock ceremony Nov. 20.

Mrs. Marlene Cormier and Madlyn Maruzo of Norwich and Carol Marquette of Baltic attended the bride.

Wilson J. Harbage of Birmingham served as best man and Paul Wilczek of Norwich and Henry Marquette of Baltic seated the guests. Bonnie Jean Harbage of Birmingham acted as flower girl and Gregory Harbage of Birmingham was ring bearer.

When the couple left for a honeymoon in Washington, D. C., Ormond Beach and Miami Beach, the bride was wearing a black faille dress with red accessories.

Barbara Boegehold became the bride of 2nd Lt. Lee Hardy Shay, Friday evening in Westminster Church of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lindley Boegehold of Erie drive and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hardy Shay of Birmingham are their parents.

MRS. LEE HARDY SHAY

Bride Wears Palest Pink Lace Gown

Attendants Wear Ballerina Gowns for Detroit Rite

A gown of palest pink Chantilly lace and French net was worn by Barbara Boegehold when she became the bride of 2nd, Lt. Lee Hardy Shay.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lindley Boegehold of Erie drive, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hardy Shay of Birmingham.

The bodice of the bride's gown was draped and accented with an off-shoulder portrait neckline and short sleeves, appliqued with lace.

The bouffant skirt fell gracefully in tiers of net and lace, blending into a chapel train. A coronet of matching lace leaves secured her veil of French illusion and she carried a crescent shaped arrangement of stephanotis and pothos vines, centered with a white orchid.

Dr. John Arthur Visser officiated at the 7:30 ceremony which took place Friday evening in Westminster Presbyterian Church of Detroit.

Anne Kathryn Boegehold attended her sister as maid of honor and other attendants were Mary McAlpine of Detroit, Mrs. Howard O. Christenson of Port Huron, Mrs. Alan Boegehold of Cambridge, Mass., and Mrs. John Boegehold of West Point, Ky.

The attendants were gowned in ballerina gowns of blue spun silk. Tiny matching hats completed their ensembles and they carried crescent bouquets of Scarlet King carnations and rapture roses.

The maid of honor's bouquet was distinguished by loops of pink velvet tubing forming a bow in the center.

William Goodwin of St. Clair Shores served as best man and Alan and John Boegehold, brothers of the bride, and Jack Gettinger and Clayton Chapman of Detroit seated the guests.

A floor length gown of sweetheart blue with a bodice of imported lace and full flowing skirt of chiffon was worn by Mrs. Boegehold as she greeted her guests at a reception held in Hotel Statler. She wore a matching hat of blue sequins.

Mrs. Shay chose a mauve silk taffeta floor-length gown with matching accessories. Each mother pinned a white orchid on her purse.

Couple Wed in Saginaw, Reside in East Lansing

Margaret Ruth Schroeder and Christopher E. Boyle Jr. spoke their marriage vows Saturday evening in St. Johns Episcopal Church of Saginaw.

The bride is the daughter of the Elmer W. Schroeders of Saginaw, and his parents are the Christopher E. Boyles of Cameron avenue.

For the seven o'clock ceremony the bride wore a floor length gown of white lace featuring a satin bustle. Her headpiece held a fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Robert M. Jereau of Lakeville wore a gown of coral lace over coral taffeta and carried a bouquet of coral and white chrysanthemums for her duties as matron of honor.

The bride's other attendants were Mrs. Edward Johengen of Mt. Pleasant, Mrs. Robert Mehoke, Mrs. Donald Mudeking of Lansing and Jean Treat. They all wore gowns of blue lace over navy taffeta and carried bouquets of coral chrysanthemums.

Brian Boyle, the bridegroom's brother was best man. Seating the guests were Roderick Boyle, Dallas Cargill of East Lansing, Robert Rakafield of Kalamazoo and Mr. Mehoke.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Schroeder wore a dress of sky blue lace with a corsage of white roses and gardenias. The reception was held in the church parlors. The newlyweds will reside in East Lansing.

She is a graduate of Central Michigan College where she was affiliated with Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, and he is a senior at Michigan State College.

Introvert Should Face an Audience

Timidity Can Be Helped With Jobs in Demonstrating

KANSAS CITY (INS) — If you're a shy, introvert type of gal, take a job demonstrating a product or service before an audience in stores.

It's a sure cure for the timid, says 24-year-old Kaye King.

After being a demonstrator one year, Kaye says she now (1) never lacks for conversation, (2) welcomes meeting new people, and (3) has twice as much fun out of life.

Kaye tours department stores over the country as a gift wrapping demonstrator for a greeting card manufacturer. She stays in each city about three days, and makes three or four appearances daily before groups of shoppers.

"I was terrified at first, even though it was exactly what I had made up my mind to do," she says. "But after my first shaky experiences, I gained confidence.

"I found out that simplicity and sincerity are probably the two most important qualities in a demonstrator. You have to believe in what you are doing and remember that the women in your audience are there to learn something."

A Kansas City girl, Kaye attended the University of Kansas at Lawrence, worked as a retail store clerk, then joined the company as a gift wrapping demonstrator and stylist last year. Before audiences of 100 or more women, she explains how to wrap gifts attractively and neatly, how to make various ribbon bows and create decorative effects, and how to treat odd-size and unusual presents—as unusual as a live parakeet, a golf club, a bass oboe.

"Anything can be gift-wrapped I've found," she declared, "and it's stimulating to solve the wrapping problems an audience gives you."

Demonstrating is a comparatively uncrowded career field for young women, she said, and many companies are constantly looking for likely applicants . . . even shy ones.

"You don't stay shy very long," she said. "And after that it's fun."

Use Right Cleaner

There is a special product for cleaning the inside of an automatic coffee maker—several in fact. Do use one instead of a gritty cleanser. The cleanser will take the chrome off and leave a copper coat that gives coffee a funny taste.

Fashions come and go and the darling of the current season is the demure "little girl" collar. A hand-crocheted collar and belt set of sparkling white, for instance, will enhance the richness of dark wool dresses and blouses.

Gold Star Mothers Sew Cancer Pads

Mrs. H. C. Hight was hostess Tuesday to 14 members of American Gold Star Mothers, Chapter Nine, when they met at her Whittemore street home.

Mrs. Joseph Mras and Mrs. Zetha DeWitt were guests at the cooperative luncheon. During the afternoon the group sewed 200 cancer pads for the American Cancer Society. Several members will attend the department board meeting at Lansing on Thursday.

Youthful Looking Lips Attained With Makeup

Full, soft lip lines are something every woman desires. And with careful study of their individual lip problems, together with the correct method of applying lipstick, any woman can have pretty, youthful-looking lips.

Most women think that applying lipstick merely means adding color to their lips. Many overlook completely the possibility of reshaping their lips to more flattering lip lines.

Your lips may be too thin. The small, thin-lipped mouth adds years and a harsh, severe look to the face. Lipstick applied in generous curves will give thin lips a softer, more supple look.

Before you start practicing for a prettier lip line, you'll need some beauty tools. The first and most important is a lipstick brush.

A brush can reach into the corners of your mouth so much easier than your lipstick tube. A long-handled camel's-hair brush is best for the beginner.

You'll also need a well-powdered puff and a tube of lipstick. Keep some facial tissues and cold cream handy, too, to blot your lips and "erase" any mistakes you may make.

First, powder your lips well to absorb any moisture. Then, saturate your brush well with your lipstick. Hold the brush between your thumb and fingers, and if you want to steady your hand, place your smallest finger against your chin.

Outline your lips, starting at the corners of the upper lip and working toward the center. When you have completed one side of the upper lip, outline the other side, starting again at the corner of the lip.

Use small curving strokes. Resaturate your lipstick brush with lipstick as you stroke it on your lips.

If you feel your lips are just a rifle too large, making them appear smaller is a simple procedure. When applying your foundation base and powder, cover the outer edges of your lips generously.

Then, using the lipline created by the base, apply lipstick with your brush. Remember not to go all the way out to the corners of your mouth, in order to have a smaller effect.

When Buying Toys, Keep Children's Ages in Mind

In buying toys and games for children—not infants—the Toy Guidance Council suggests that you shop for the child and not for what will amuse you. It goes this way:

From 2 to 4, youngsters go for—kindergarten blocks, simple puzzles, trucks on wheels, crayon sets, dolls, airplanes cowboy sets, doctor-nuse sets, simple housekeeping toys, tricycles, doll carriages, outdoor gym toys and inflatable toys. Things that carry over from nursery school or kindergarten will satisfy children who enjoy their lives there; a doll with diapers, a tea set, a big wooden box, a little chair, all stimulate learing activity.

When they're 4 to 6, they like simple games, doll houses and furniture, kitchen equipment, telephones, crayon and paint sets, fingerpaints, roller skates, scooters, dressed dolls and wheel toys of all sorts.

At 6 to 8, children enjoy simple sporting equipment, electric trains, construction sets, hobby crafts, sewing kits, dolls with varied wardrobes parlor games, carpentry, model building.

Children 8 to 10 will be delighted with advanced craft sets, simple chemistry and electronic outfits, painting equipment, electric trains, hobbies, educatongal games and puzzles, magic sets, books and bicycles.

Greeting Hint Suggested to Delight Special Friend

Starred on every Christmas card list are names of friends to whom we'd like to send a little something more than the standard greeting. I check off the old school pals, for example, who live so far away we don't see each other from one year to the next.

We all have friends who are particularly delighted by the novel or the unusual surprise. Or perhaps we just want our greetings to stand out from the bundle of cards a popular family will receive.

Pictures of your family certainly tell an eloquent story of growth and change to long-distance friends. And you don't need special shots taken in seasonal surroundings. Why not cull all the snapshots taken in the last few months to find the best likeness of each family member?

You can mount these effectively in simple folders and use bright-colored gift-wrap tape to frame them and add the Christmas motif. For folders, use heavy white paper or construction paper.

A star or tree-shape cutout on the face of a folder makes a frame for pictures mounted inside. Outline the cutout with tape. Or fold the construction paper, travel-folder style, and plant a tape-framed closeup on each page.

Easy to assemble and fun to display is a family snapshot mobile. For this, you trace around a coin, cutting out the pictures in circles. Fold heavy white paper in half.

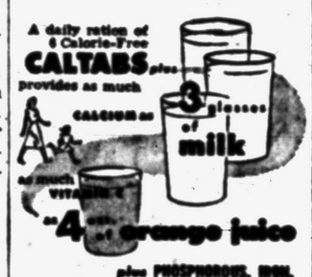

Poke a couple of holes in the crease and thread a piece of fine wire through them. Bend the wire at the top of the card to allow about two and a half inches to protrude from the fold. Tape the pictures to a thin black thread. Tie thread to wire. Tape imprinted with "Merry Christmas" can be stuck on as-is, or the individual letters can be cut out and applied in a pattern.

A new, ready-made novelty is a shiny, red-glass Christmas tree ornament with an unglazed white space for penning your greeting. gaily decorated in white, these balls are ready to hang on the tree. Conveniently packed in two cardboard containers for safe and easy mailing, these individualized greetings offer a bright answer to the quest for "something different."

Companion to these tree ornaments is a new, inexpensive kit which contains eight multicolored glass balls, small bottles of paint and a brush to enable you to decorate to suit yourself.

Decorated and personalized with names, these could be used to carry greetings, brighten a Christmas-wrapped package or be fastened to a tree or wreath. And what an easy and festive placecard favor a hand-painted ornament would be for a holiday dinner party!

A cigar box painted or paper covered and tricked up with shiny tape, stickers and your Christmas card on the cover makes a pretty and most practical way to send your greetings. Use the box as a container for the Christmas card envelopes that carry the latest addresses of friends.

Useful Hints Are Given on Art of Interviewing Prospective Employers

'Rehearsals' Can Lessen Fears of Hunting a Job

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I have never had to look for a job before," a young woman writes, "because my first job after school was just dumped in my lap, really, and I stayed in it for six years. Now the firm is closing, and I must look for another job.

I am a good secretary, and I love the food field, which is what I was in before. I have a list of about thirty-five companies in the field, and have prepared a good resume of my experience.

"Because I am shy, I plan to write a note asking for an interview, enclosing my resume. I plan to send about ten a week, so I won't get too many interviews in any week.

But I am scared to death of the interview. I know I am good at my work, but the thought of being ushered into the man's office and having to "sell" myself almost paralyzes me. I plan to start with the top companies in the field. Have you any suggestions that would help me?"

First of all, remember that everybody hates job hunting, and is nervous and terrified. Also, bear in mind that the Great Man who interviews you may have some of the same feeling himself.

He is charged with the responsibility of hiring a good secretary and, not having a crystal ball, he may make a mistake. So he is as anxious for you to be a good bet as you are. And many of his gruff questions and discomforting mannerisms may be due to the fact that he is shy, too, and nervous.

Secondly, don't start with your favorite companies. Most people approach the blue chip ones first, and then, failing to land there, work their way down to the lesser companies. Instead, you should "rehearse your act," so to speak, on the lesser firms. This enables you to get the bugs out of the act; and rehearse your dialogue, so that by the time you hit the dream company, you'll know what you're doing. Job hunting, like everything else, improves with practice.

And third, try to approach the interview as if you were a reporter—"case" the place, study the surroundings, and, if the Great Man has to answer the phone while he's talking to you, spend the time looking at the pictures on the walls of his office, the books, the furniture. Try to figure out what kind of man he is. You probably won't succeed, but at least it gives you something to do instead of staring at your manicure or wondering if your seams are straight.

Keep Moths Out

A knitted wool suit is doomed if it gets even the smallest mothhole, for it's practically impossible to mend. For this reason, the minute it gets a spot, especially food, get it cleaned. Nothing attracts the wool-munchers faster than a food spot in wool.

Prosperity is the time you accumulate the bad debts you are unable to pay off during the depression.

Insurance Will Protect Your Home

By HUBBARD COBB

We have just invented a new guessing game. It's called "Guess the Value of Your Home" and it works something like this: Shut your eyes and guess the value of your home and its contents. Now take out your fire insurnce policy and compare the amount of coverage you have on your house and contents with what you guessed the amount should be.

Now sit down with all the members of your family and make a detailed list of every single item of clothing, furniture, toys, sporting equipment, appliances, books and so forth. After you have this list made up and found out what it totals up to, call your local real estate broker and ask him what's the present value of your home—what it would cost to replace it today. Now comes the fun. Compare your guess and the amount of your fire insurance policy with the real value of your home and its contents.

Chances are that the actual value of the house and its contents are way more than what you guessed them to be or what you have them insured for. This is pretty common for most people don't have any idea of what their homes are actually worth and even when they do start out with adequate insurance, they forget to increase their covering as they add either to the house or to the contents.

One thing about fire insurance that we've found is that it costs just a few dollars more for adequate coverage than for inadequate covering. Another thing we've found is that if you sho have a fire, inadequate covering won't do you much good. It's like having only half a pair of shoes.

DON'T WAIT, do it now! Dial FE 2-8181 to place your Want Ad.

Black Tweed Good

Black tweed is in the lush class for a winter suit. This is no knock-about suit, but rather a beautifully fitted one that will be the very best for years to come. With a straight skirt and a jacket fitted down over the hips, it might be Paris brought to life.

Now you can say, "Merry Christmas" to all your friends with personalized Christmas tree ornaments inscribed with a white space on which to write a message. All you need is a red or green pen or pencil.

Right Way of Dress for Visit Asked

Best to Observe Conduct of Hosts, Go On From There

By EMILY POST

The following letter is from a young woman: "I have been invited to spend several days with my boy friend's family over the Christmas holidays. I have never met them before and am anxious to make a good impression. I would like to know if it is proper to come down to breakfast in a housecoat or must I be fully dressed?

same. Even so, on no account

By all means be fully dressed the first morning you come down. After that if you find that other members of the family breakfast in housecoats, then you may do the same. Even so, on no account come down with your nightgown showing below your housecoat.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When accepting or declining an invitation to a party given by more than one hostess, must a separate answer be sent to each one, and if not, then to whom is the reply sent? I have to acknowledge such an invitation and am completely at a loss as to how it should be done.

When the names of two or more hostesses appear on an invitation, the envelope is addressed to the one at whose house the party is to take place; or if it is to be at a club or hotel, to all the names exactly as in the invitation. For example:

Mrs. John Jones
accepts with pleasure
the kind invitation of
Mrs. White and
Mrs. Black and
Mrs. Grey
date

If, however, only one of the hostesses is known to you, it would be quite permissible to accept "your kind invitation for Tuesday the tenth" and address the envelope to whichever hostess happens to be your friend.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what color and type (bow or four-in-hand) tie the ushers in the wedding party should wear with their dark blue business suits?

A blue and white tie, either bow or four-in-hand is proper. All, of course, should wear the same.

Furniture scratches and scars sometimes can be darkened with a Brazil nut, black walnut or butternut. Cut the nut meat in half and rub well into the scratch. Iodine also is helpful on mahogany and brown shoe dye on walnut.

IF furs conform to size—

Cropped a few inches below the waist if you are 5'3" or less; longer and fuller if of medium height or tall.

Mrs. T. S. — The box silhouette dominates in fur jackets and that makes its length very important for your personal height. Scaled to your height, the fur jacket has style and not just the last word in fashion.

Schiaparelli Is Confusing to McBride

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

Twenty per cent of the women she has dealt with have inferiority complexes, estimates Elsa Schiaparelli, Italian-born Paris dressmaker who has set many an American style. Seventy per cent of these women have illusions, adds Schiap, as she calls herself through most of "Shocking Life," her autobiography.

And though she doesn't say what per cent, she hints that some of them are extravagant, foolish and even delinquent about bill paying.

In reviewing her life, Schiap, thank goodness, avoided the curious mumbo-jumbo that I had begun to believe was the stock in trade of mistresses, masters and slaves of fashion. Then on the very last page, almost as if as an afterthought, Madame couldn't resist any longer and delivered herself of 12 Commandments for women in search of chic.

Since Schiaparelli has been dealing with women fashion-wise for 25 years, I'm not in a position to disagree with her pronouncements and I go along with her in most cases. A great many women, she says, do not know themselves but should try to get acquainted.

A woman who buys an expensive dress and then remodels it more nearly to her heart's desire is extravagant and foolish. A woman should shop alone or with a man—never with another woman who might try to sabotage her because of jealousy.

You should buy little, and that either the best so it will last or the cheapest so that you can throw it away with qualms. You should buy in one place where you are known and respected, not rush around trying new fads. And finally, women should pay their bills.

I guess the truth is that I agree with Schiap when she's talking of things that I know something about I believe in paying bills promptly, for instance, because I feel guilty if I have any outstanding debts. I never run around from store to store looking for new fads, chiefly because my feet aren't up to it. And I feel pretty sure that other women are a drag when you're shopping though I'm not certain men are any better.

I should like, however, Madame's explanation as to what she means by one of her commandments: "Never fit a dress to the body, but train the body to fit the dress." Those are her exact words, and I haven't the slightest idea what she means.

I, for one, wouldn't have any notion about how to start training a body to fit a dress. I can imagine, of course, falling inlove with a size 12 garment and I can even stretch my imagination to a dieting bout that would bring it within reach of me. Except that by the time I was down to a 12, the dress would be long since sold or out of style. And suppose I were size 12 and adored a size 18 dress? How would you train the body to fit that?

Dear charming, exciting Schiap, I guess I'm one of the 20 per cent with an inferiority complex, and you certainly heightened it with your cryptic 10th Commandment, which has really got me stopped. Tell me, just how DO you train the body to fit the dress?

The new importance of casual clothes that have an elegant air is offered here in a smart costume by Spectator, Ltd. of California. The suit with its bloused-back, front buckled jacket and slim skirt is in imported Lesur chiffon wool, with a dyed-to-match silk honan blouse that ties high at the throat in a soft bow.

When a friend tells you she wants to be sure that you meet a visiting relative, that is your cue to extend an invitation, or ask when you may call. The ball has been thrown to you.

Don't fumble it with some half-hearted comment like "I hope we can get together."

This Is Easy as Pie to Make!

Mrs. Ray Freebury Shares Recipe to Make Rich Dessert

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

The new pecan crop is on the market. What better excuse could you have for making pecan pie? (As if one needed an excuse to make that delicious treat!) Mrs. Raymond Freebury shares her preferred recipe with us today. She says it is very easy to make.

Sharing her husband's interest in hunting, Mrs. Freebury accompanies him to the north woods each year for deer season. No luck this year! Traveling throughout the state is another interest they share. On her own, Mrs. Freebury bowls each week and loves to read.

PECAN PIE

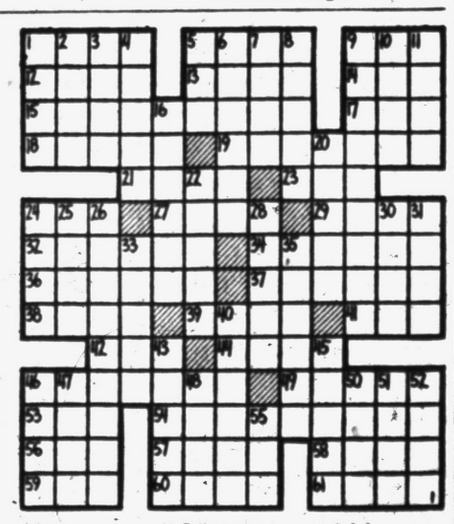

Mrs. Raymond Freebury

3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup dark corn syrup
2-3 cup white sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup pecans

Mix all ingredients together and pour into an unbaked pie shell. Bake 10 minutes at 410 degrees, reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 40 minutes longer.

'Other Girl' Routine Can Hurt Most

Magic Spell Won't Help, She Should Repair Her Pride

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Of all the excuses a boy can use for breaking up with his girl, the "other girl" routine is the most shattering. Even if he doesn't like her any more, you'd think he could avoid hurting her with that crushing blow. You'd think he could keep the information that he likes somebody else to himself while he tries out any of a dozen break-off excuses. It's enough to break a girl's heart.

Which is exactly what has happened to this girl.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I went steadily with Dan for nearly a year — and when he told me there was another girl it nearly broke my heart. I know the particular girl and found out he never cared for her. I've tried awfully hard to forget him. I've tried to find his faults and "despise" him — but it doesn't work.

"I've even tried going steady twice and when I'm out on a date all I can think about is Dan. My friends think I'm silly to love him still after four months. I'm losing confidence in all my work. Is there any way I can get him to see me again?"

You thought your heart was broken. But actually it was your vanity. That he could possibly prefer any other girl to you after all you'd done for him!

You seethed with wondering how long he'd been interested in that other girl before he told you about her. You tried to match up that bit of information with little things that happened. And you still can't stand the thought of his going with anyone but you. You keep on seeing his face and hearing his voice in the silences.

You can't believe he stopped liking you. You're sure he never liked her. You cling to the hope that something can yet come of it if you can only see him again. You'll cook up some magic spell!

But where's your pride? Can you really go on pining for a boy who dealt you that blow? After four months aren't you convinced that it's really over for him?

Carrying the torch is sure proof that you're very sorry indeed for yourself. And the record proves that you've no real reason to be. Had your dating career been permanently blighted, maybe you'd have some cause to lose your self-confidence.

But two different boys have liked you enough to want to go steady with you. (That they didn't last was undoubtedly your fault. You didn't try.) Their interest in you should be a real shot in the arm and give you reason to hold your head high.

Seeing Dan again won't do your self-confidence one bit of good. In fact, it might set it back. Forget that chapter and begin writing a completely new one for yourself.

Gals Like Shrimp

Women order twice as many shrimp cocktails when dining out as men do. The reason is that women are more calorie-conscious than men. Shrimp caloric count is small. Women order more shrimp in all forms than men.

Jury Probing Remington Case

Government Seeks Full Story Behind Murder in Federal Prison

SCRANTON, Pa., (AP)—A federal grand jury was called to session here today to investigate the slaying of William W. Remington, former government economist convicted of perjury in a Communist espionage case.

Two physicians who tried vainly to save the 37-year-old economists's life at Lewisburg (Pa.) Federal Penitentiary last week, were slated to testify on Remington's injuries. They are Dr. Charles Tomlinson, prison physician, and Dr. Leon Witkin, of Milton, Pa.

Dr. Witkin was called to the prison when Remington's condition became critical after he was beaten with a half-brick encased in a sock Nov. 22. He died of a skull fracture Nov. 24.

Three convicts are charged with Remington's death. They are Lewis Cagle Jr., 17, Chattanooga, Tenn.; George Junior McCoy, 34, Grundy, Va.; and Robert Carl Parker, 21, Washington.

Remington, a former Commerce Department official, was accused of lying when he denied he ever passed secrets to a Communist spy ring. He was serving a three-year term.

James V. Bennett, director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, has said more than one motive may have been involved in Remington's death.

There has been speculation that the attack may have been a protest against the release of Alger Hiss, paroled Saturday from the prison, or against communism in general. But prison officials denied both theories.

Cagle was quoted by prison officials as saying the motive was strictly robbery.

Bennett said the suspects occupied a room across from Remington's. But commenting on the possibility of the robbery motive, he said prisoners are restricted in commissary purchases and don't have much of value in their possession.

He said "all the facts are going to come out" during an investigation by the Bureau of Prisons. The FBI is also probing the case.

CRUSADER—Harry Oliver, who loves the desert so much that he publishes a newspaper about it, has started a one-man campaign to keep it beautiful. He posts appropriate signs wherever he finds beer cans and pop bottles littering the ground. Above picture made at Thousand Palms, Calif.

Door's Forced Open to Thwart Suicide Attempt

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Police and firemen, using an iron battering ram, smashed into a 10th - floor hotel room yesterday and rescued a woman who had threatened to jump from the window.

She was talking to a priest on the telephone when the door was battered down. Police had requested the priest, who declined use of his name, to help.

The woman registered at the Claridge Hotel in downtown St. Louis Monday as Mrs. Ruby Hall, about 38, of New York City. She gave police the name of Mrs. James Marcus of Milwaukee.

Firemen held a net on the street below as several hundred spectators watched the activity which consumed an hour and 40 minutes. The woman perched on a window ledge for a time.

She was taken to City Hospital.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL By Charles Dickens

Weak with fright, Scrooge climbed into bed as soon as Marley's ghost had fled.

But Scrooge had slept hardly a wink before he was awakened by a strange apparition. "Who are you?" gasped Scrooge. "I am the ghost of Christmas Past—your past," said the visitor.

"Rise and walk with me!" commanded the Ghost of Christmas Past. Reluctantly, Scrooge obeyed.

Hal Boyle Says:

Regrets of Yuletides Past Also Part of Holiday Spirit

NEW YORK (AP)—I approach the Christmas season reluctantly.

It opens many wounds in my lifetime. Christmas gives scars as well as pleasures.

I was one of five children and cannot remember that as a child at Christmastime I ever gave a present to make my mother happy. Big scar to me. None to mother.

When I was young, there was no real poverty. The tree was strung with cranberries and popcorn, the gift of love was an orange — how strange an orange was then — and a few nuts from Brazil to make the day strange and merry.

There was also a gift for us all, something like a sled we could all use and fight over.

But it was all for us. At my age I still can't recall when the idea first came to us that we should also give a present to our father and mother — that this was also part of Christmas.

We were used to taking things — and there were many of us, and our parents were so used to giving and expecting nothing that we rather grew up and never knew quite what we owed. And perhaps our debt grew beyond our realization.

One of the torments of a grown-up is that he realizes his obligations too late. What gift can I give my father, 17 years dead, except a mellowing remembrance?

He infected my heart beyond repair — he and his love of everybody — and so, if I lived by his strength, nobody would ever be friendless utterly.

As I said before, I approach the Christmas season reluctantly.

It isn't that I don't enjoy glad times, because I do. But where my father sowed the seeds of charity in his time with complete good will, I feel that now in trying to do the same thing I am but his echo, and never himself indeed.

Some of the other four boys in the family say I dream my father too high, now that he is gone, but my sister, Dolores, who has two children of her own, says:

"There'll never be another man like dad."

Nor will there ever be.

He still is the king of our Christmas tree. Bitterly the family regrets he isn't there to ignite the holiday — just by the warm light of his presence.

Certainly a lot of other people miss a lot of other people — just thinking of Christmas.

MR. AND MRS. STUDY—Howard Duff, studying the dialogue of his latest movie, "The Yellow Mountain," was aided by his wife, producer-director-star Ida Lupino, who held to the old saying "two heads do better than one." "Yellow Mountain" stars Duff, Lex Barker and Mala Powers. (Recent reports from Hollywood said that Miss Lupino would seek a divorce.)

Meteor Rips Through Roof, Strikes Woman

SYLACAUGA, Ala. (AP)—A woman was injured yesterday when an exploding meteor hurled a nine-pound fragment through the roof of her home.

The fragment hit Mrs. Hewlett Hodges, 32, on an arm and hip as she lay on a couch in the living room.

The object was identified as a Sulphide meteorite by George Swindle, field representative of the U.S. Geological Survey.

A "bright flash" across the sky followed by explosions was reported about 2 p.m. simultaneously in Atlanta, Newnan and Columbus, Ga., Sylacauga and Birmingham in Alabama, and as far away as Greenville, Miss.

Customers Comedians at Unusual Night Club

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Alan Gale runs New York's most remarkable night club—he lets the customers be the comedians.

"There's a young man," Alan said the other night when I saw his show, "who asked for a good table because he was just out of uniform. What branch of service were you in, young man?"

"I am a bellhop!" replied the young man.

★ ★ ★ ★

At his big club on 8th Av. near Madison Sq. Garden, he's sometimes performing for 3 hours.

Down in front, a woman hopped up and changed seats.

"What's the matter, lady? You getting bad cards?" Alan asked her. Over on the side, a man arose. Alan asked him why. He said he was looking for a late-arriving friend, a doctor.

"A doctor doctor or a dentist doctor?" Alan asked him.

"A veterinarian doctor!" replied the customer.

Alan claims the public's funnier than a comedian can ever be. Often, to get new material, he mingles. He heard one man tell another in the lobby he was buying a new car.

"What kind?" asked the second man, and the first answered:

"What else?"

★ ★ ★ ★

He didn't even have to say "Cadillac."

ALAN GALE

Gale, who comes from Brooklyn and operated a big club in Miami, has an astonishingly devoted following.

"You'd be surprised," he tells them, "how many people go out not to enjoy themselves."

"So enjoy! Maybe you wouldn't wake up tomorrow. Make believe this is your last night. Spend what you got. Not that I want your money. Forty-seven nights in a row I had only 3 people in here. Then business fell off."

★ ★ ★ ★

Two nights a week—Monday and Thursday—Gale doesn't even open. He wants to rest a little himself. Other nights, he does only one show.

"I can't drink a toast, but I wish you health," he says at the end. And then to the medical men present, he says:

"You'll forgive me, doctors."

Marlon Brando Being Paged for 'Ben Hur'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Marlon Brando is being paged to play Ben Hur in MGM's eight-million-dollar epic. This will be filmed in Rome, just as was the first "Ben Hur," and since Brando loves Rome, Sam Zimbalist, the producer, believes he'll accept.

Let me tell you that Bing Crosby's performance as the weakling song and dance man fighting alcohol in "The Country Girl" will knock you right out of your theater seat — that's how great Der Bingle is in his most dramatic role.

"Country Girl" has three fine performances, the other two contributed by Grace Kelly and William Holden.

Have no fears that Bing's popularity will suffer because of playing a drunkard. Art is art, and our Bing has completely lost himself in a characterization foreign to his own personality.

"Honeybear" Warren, daughter of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Earl Warren, is having a visitor. Hugh O'Brien leaves for Washington from New York tomorrow to visit the Warren family. I asked him if he is going to marry "Honeybear."

He said, "I wish I could be that lucky. I am crazy about the whole Warren family."

He comes back to Hollywood from Washington to appear on the Loretta Young TV show and later goes back East for a stage play.

Rosalind Russell telephoned to invite me to the Flamingo in Las Vegas when she starts there on "Girl Rush," her next picture.

"What about your playing the school teacher in 'Picnic' with Bill Holden?" I asked her.

"I haven't said yes—but I haven't said no, and I really want to do it. I like the part."

"Beach House," the book by Stephen Longstreet which pictured Hollywood in such a miserable way, is being put on the stage. And here's the laugh: Ralph Rose, the playright, is changing the locale from Hollywood to a community outside of Detroit. Well, maybe the automobile industry can take it!

It's the story of an independent automobile manufacturer bucking the big combines. Marvin Miller, who was the announcer on my radio show for seven years, is being sought for the top role.

John Wayne's actor son, Pat, fell off his horse and suffered a sprained back.

Gregory Peck gets in town in about a week, at which time he will discuss settlement with Greta who's now holding out for more. She's no longer as heartbroken as she was when they parted.

Vincent Price has been offered the Charles Laughton role in the road company of "Don Juan in Hell."

Betty (Mrs. Robert) Young and the four daughters were on the telephone for an hour after father received the Sylvania award for the best family entertainment for his TV show, "Father Knows Best."

Allan Jones is back from his Australian tour, and he has been seeing his ex-wife, Irene Hervey — but Irene says it's no reconciliation.

Second Cinerama Date Still Not Announced

If you are thinking of writing for reservations for the second Cinerama, you might as well save your postage, according to advice from the Music Hall in Detroit. The successor to the current production, "This Is Cinerama," to be titled "Cinerama Holiday" was planned for fall release, but is not expected until a much later date which has not yet been announced. Music Hall Manager George Santer says all requests for reservations on the new show must be returned at present.

GEORGE CHANNING

Lectures in Detroit on Christian Science

The largest audience ever to hear a Christian Science lecture in Michigan is expected to fill the 9,000-seat Michigan State Fair Coliseum in Detroit Saturday evening, Dec. 4.

The lecturer will be George Channing of San Francisco, former manager of committees on publication of the Christian Science organization, also former editor of its weekly and monthly publications, and a noted religious writer. Channing will discuss "Christian Science: Its Constructive Mission."

Tourist Trade Slips Past Year in Canada

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's tourist business has slipped a little this year compared with 1953.

Officials blame a variety of factors. Weather is one. Another is that the Canadian dollar holds at a premium of 3 to 5 cents over the U.S. dollar, and U.S. tourists don't take kindly to the idea.

Officials concede that the lure of Florida—and of Europe on a pay-later basis—is a challenge to Canadian tourism. Noting that major U.S. airlines offer vacations in Europe for $35 down, a Canadian travel official commented:

Wilson Relates New Dog Story

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, displaying his sense of humor, worked a couple of side stories into his news conference yesterday — including another about dogs.

This one, however, didn't seem likely to cause the trouble his last one did.

Remarking he felt handicapped in being outspoken because of his official responsibilities, Wilson said at times he felt like a dog who slipped through the Iron Curtain one night to see a pal on the free world side.

After listening to the Iron Curtain dog complain, the free dog asked: "What are you complaining about, you say you get enough to eat?"

Whereupon the Iron Curtain dog replied: "I'd just like to bark when I want to."

In a recent political speech, Wilson said while speaking on employment relief that bird dogs were better than kennel dogs. His critics accused him of comparing unemployed humans with dogs. Wilson said he never intended this.

Wilson's other story followed his comment that talk of ruling the world from a satellite in space "sounds a little dreamy to me." He said he liked to keep his feet on the ground—both figuratively and physically.

Wilson related a story about a truck that was passing an insane asylum when one wheel fell off. One of the inmates suggested to the driver that he fasten the wheel with one lug from each of the other three wheels.

When the driver did, he called back to the inmate: "Why are you in a place like this?"

The patient called back: "I may be crazy, but I'm not stupid."

Immediate Sale of Bonds OK'd

Williams Asks Brake to Lay Groundwork for Veterans' Bonus

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today authorized State Treasurer D. Hale Brake to go ahead with the sale of $80,000,000 in bonds for the Korean War veterans bonus.

Sale of bonds was overwhelmingly approved by voters during the Nov. 2 general election.

Brake, who lost out in his bid for re-election to Democrat Sanford A. Brown, had asked the governor whether he should handle the bond sale or leave it to his successor.

The governor told Brake he thought the Administrative Board should proceed with sale of bonds "as speedily as possible" in view of a currently favorable bond market.

The bonds will be sold as general obligation bonds. The Legislature will decide during its next session whether the bonds will be retired from general funds or whether a special tax should be adopted to pay off the debt.

Officers of the military establishment, which will handle payment of bonuses to veterans, say it will probably be February before veterans start receiving checks.

Actors Young at Heart... Never Worry About Age

By MARGARET LATROBE

Call it typically feminine and foolish if you will, but the best news to come the way of all who resent aging — gracefully or regretfully—is that Marlene Dietrich is a nifty fifty.

This happy talk comes from a new book by a fellow columnist, Hy Gardner, who figures that show business makes folk young in heart. In looks, too. Mae West, Joan Bennett, Katharine Cornell, Gloria Swanson and scores more are not only sporty forty, nifty fifty. A few of them are on the shady side of sixty. And the rest of us should look so good!

Within memory, an aging matriarch of forty-five was consigned to the rocking chair in a black trilled bonnet. Her life was over, though not ended.

Although I don't believe women of the theater have given it a thought, they are primarily responsible for blowing the roof upward on the age question. To them, age is a state of mind—and uninteresting. Beauty comes either from within or from a good cosmetician — but it's there. Youth comes from within.

Whoever thinks of Ethel Barrymore as old? She wrote her autobiography with the greatest reluctance, according to Hy Gardner, because the "best part of her life is yet to come."

Even Jack Benny, who looks exasperatingly 39, isn't. He's 59, "going on 40." And the sure-fire boys in the romance department, Gable, Cooper, Grant, Taylor, Tracy — all have that touch of gray at the temple.

Even young Marlon Brando, the movie industry's answer to TV, will be sheer poetry at fifty if he doesn't just vanish into thin air, meanwhile.

How does all this apply to you and me? It's proof that the years needn't make us look stodgy and think stodgy, that's all. Maybe it's a bit late for most of us to try out for the chorus line or read ingenue parts in the hometown theater group, but we can still team up with living whether at flirty thirty, naughty forty, nifty fifty. Maybe life really does begin at eighty.

Pass the cortisone pills and that tray of lipsticks. The PTA theater committee hasn't picked the lead for Peter Pan yet, and . . . somehow I feel just right for the part.

Dies on 103rd Birthday

SPRINGFIELD, Maine (AP)—Mrs. Nora Coffin smiled happily at her 103rd birthday cake in a Lincoln Hospital room yesterday, then slipped away in death. She had been hospitalized recently with infirmities of age.

In 1948 Oslo, Norway's capital, underwent one of the largest city expansions on record. On New Year's Day it bulged out to 26 times its former size by annexing 175 square miles.

Church Council to Set Up New York Headquarters

BOSTON (AP) — Action establishing headquarters of the National Council of Churches in New York City gets formal sanction today — barring a countermove by those who have favored a Midwest site.

A recommendation by a special "committee of ten" that the headquarters be permanently located in New York has been approved by the Council's 125-member General Board, which holds its action is final under the constitution.

The Rev. Edwin T. Dahlberg, St.Louis Baptist, heads the committee which puts the conclusions before the Council's biennial assembly, representing 30 Protestant and Orthodox denominations with 35½ million members.

For a time, there were strong efforts to shift the headquarters to the Midwest — with Columbus, Ohio; Cleveland, St.Louis and other cities putting in bids. The University of Chicago offered space on its campus.

In New York, where the main Council offices now are scattered in eight different buildings, John D. Rockefeller Jr. has offered a grant — reportedly around a million dollars — for building a center in the Morningside Heights section near Columbia University.

Availability in New York of mass communications media, the nearness to numerous denominational headquarters, and the eastern preponderance of population were factors cited in the choice.

It also was decided to establish a major Midwest office in Chicago. Other offices are maintained in Washington, D.C., Atlanta and Fort Worth.

New Fish Discovered

TOKYO, (AP)—A Japanese scientist has found a new fish off Shikoku Island. It is yellowish-red, about four inches long and has a big head. The scientist, Dr. Tushiharu Kameara, 53, named it "Frangia Fasciata" or — for home consumption — "Sujihana-Dai."

Explorer Scouts Plan Program Convention

All Pontiac District Explorer Scouts will meet for a "Program Convention" at 7:45 p.m. Thursday in Lincoln Junior High School's little theater.

First district convention ever held for local Explorers, the session will enable Scouts to elect and plan their own events for 1955, it is announced by William J. DeGrace, district vice-chairman and coordinator of activities.

Prior to a general vote on proposed events, the boys will attend meetings of four committees for discussion and nomination of possible projects.

John E. Ostrander of ship five will head the social committee, Robert N. Webb of post four, the vocational committee; J. Robert Gallagher, the outdoor committee; and Charles Pettit of post 56, the service committee.

Unit ballots already have been distributed for voting on a slate of events proposed by the district committee.

District Chairman John A. Riley pointed out that this convention keynotes an intensified campaign to boost Explorer activities and membership in Pontiac units. He also announced that special round-table meetings for Explorer adult leaders is to begin in February.

Denies Relationship of Smoking, Cancer

BALTIMORE (AP) — "Go ahead and smoke — moderately is the recommendation of Dr. William F. Reinhoff, noted Baltimore surgeon, who discounts the idea smoking causes lung cancer.

Dr. Rienhoff, who also is a member of the Scientific Advisory Board of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee, told members of the Baltimore Rotary that he doesn't believe smoking has "anything whatever to do with causing lung cancer."

He called recent articles concerning the relation of cigarette smoking and lung cancer "irresponsible and unprovable."

Formal Opening of Oakland County Market Saturday

Unusual Design Feature of Unit

$65,000 Building Set for Produce Trade on Thrice-Weekly Basis

By WILMA GREENWAY

The formal opening of the Oakland County Market Saturday morning will bring to the farmers and buyers of this area a market modern in conception and unique in design.

The streamlined, $65,000 structure, which offers farmers an unusual truck drive-in facility, will present a harvest scene of color and abundance as growers bring their truckloads of produce for the 8 a.m. opening.

Supervisors of all cities and townships in the area, along with the public, have been invited to visit the market Saturday and participate in the festivities. The market is located on Pontiac Lake road between Telegraph and M-59, a quarter mile west of Telegraph road, in Waterford Township.

Officiating at opening ceremonies will be Floyd Andrews, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors; Supervisor Harry Horton, head of the county Building and Grounds committee; Supervisor Norman R. Barnard, chairman of the County Market Committee; and E. Emmett DeConick, West Bloomfield Township farmer and chairman of the Producers Committee.

Doughnuts, cider and coffee will be served to all-comers until the 1 p.m. closing time. Produce on sale will include apples, potatoes, cabbage, onions, squash, carrots, celery, cabbage, cauliflower, live and dressed poultry and rabbits.

Honey, baked goods, Christmas wreaths, evergreen blankets and a wide variety of flowers will also be on hand.

The new market, which is the only one in the county except for the Royal Oak Market, will be open from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday until the end of the year.

Architectural design for the two-building market was completed only after months of research on the part of Architect W. Bradford Edwards and the supervisors' Market Committee.

Both Edwards and the supervisors culled the ideas of farmers and growers and met and compared notes repeatedly before finished drawings were approved.

Final result is the modern 178x41 foot block main building which incorporates the facility of an outside door for each stall, so that customers may load bushels of produce directly from the market to their cars. Farmers will back their trucks right up to the door and unload directly into their own stalls.

"As far we have been able to discover, no other farmer's market has this type of drive-in design," said Market Committee Chairman Norman Barnard.

"The farmers are enthusiastic in their praise of a feature which should eliminate wasted time in unloading, and make for greater efficiency. In the old type market, growers had to drive their trucks inside, which caused congestion."

A second open-shed building with room for 32 stalls and featuring a roof overhang to provide shelter from rain, will not yet be in use at the Saturday opening.

The 40 sellers stalls in the glass-enclosed main building have all been rented, officials disclosed. The building also includes rest rooms, offices and a snack bar. A parking lot to accommodate 300 cars is included in the specious grounds.

Sellers stalls in the main building are rented on a yearly basis at $10 per month for regular sections and $12 per month for corner stalls.

Both supervisors and producers are betting that the market will be a sure-fire success.

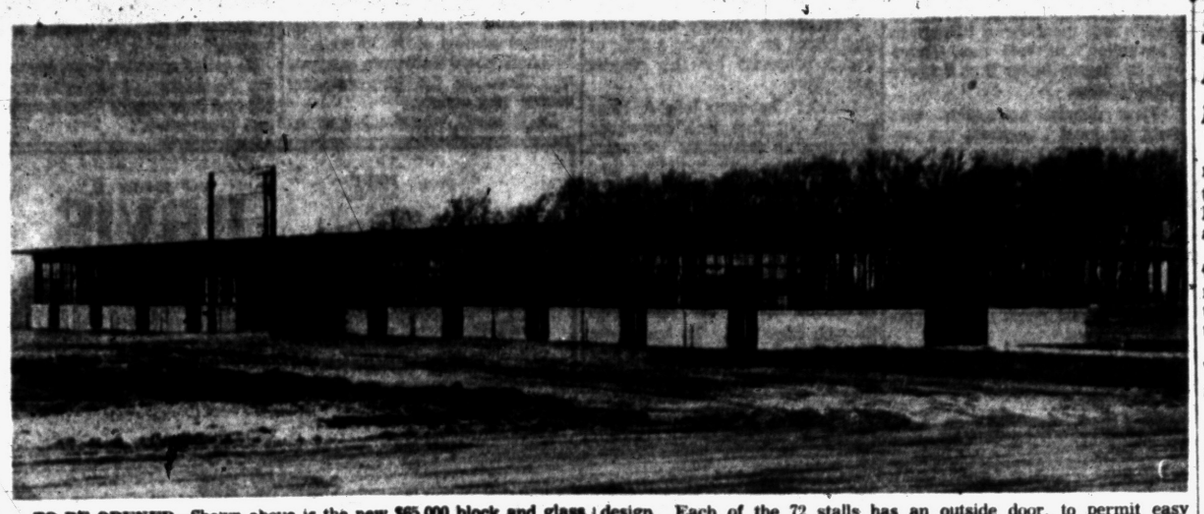

"It's in a good location and we expect plenty of customers," said producer DeConick. "We farmers have fought a long time to get this market."

"The whole arrangement and construction setup is a new idea in marketing," Barnard stated, "and it looks like it's going to be a big success."

The big problem, Barnard said, may be that facilities will not take care of the demand.

"We had 114 stalls in the old Pontiac market and they often overflowed onto the sidewalk. This market has 72 stalls.

"But we've gone as far as we can with the funds we had. And the site is large enough to allow for expansion if the need arises."

TO BE OPENED—Shown above is the new $65,000 block and glass Oakland County Market, scheduled for formal opening ceremonies at 8 a. m. Saturday. The market is located on Pontiac Lake Road, Waterford Township, near Telegraph Road, and features an unusual design. Each of the 72 stalls has an outside door, to permit easy loading and unloading of produce by farmers. The market will be open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from 7 a. m. to 1 p. m. until the end of the year. Pontiac Press Photo

Hearing Slated on Street Lights

January 12 Meeting of Waterford Board to Discuss Plans

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A public hearing on street lights for Marion street and Lincoln Heights has been scheduled for Jan. 12 by the township board.

The board has also approved of a petition to repair the Drayton Plains drain, as proposed by the Oakland County Road Commission.

The township trustees have approved the zoning board's recommendations of rezoning land at the corner of Hatchery and Williams Lake roads from agricultural to commercial zoning.

The remainder of the section was rezoned from agricultural to residential.

Other commercial rezoning, from residential land, were lots 32-35 of section four, on Dixie highway.

The plat of Whitfield Estates number one at Williams Lake road and Pirrin street was approved, subject to changing lot numbers, and changing easements from private to public.

Township clerk Louis Barry was authorized to advertise for bids on test well at the Drayton ball park. Bids will be opened at 9 p.m. Dec. 20.

Merchants Warned of Check Passers

Pontiac Police today cautioned merchants about carelessly accepting checks during the holiday shopping season and to be on the alert for shoplifters.

Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of detectives, said that bogus checks usually flood the city during the Christmas shopping period. He added that two persons have been arrested already for shoplifting and other reports of stealing from stores were received by the bureau Tuesday.

"Don't accept customers' checks without identification," said Wheaton. "Know your endorser well."

He explained that customers should be able to show complete identification and sometimes a photo of themselves. He also said that merchants should require customers to sign checks in the clerk's presence and signatures should be compared with handwriting on identification papers.

Veterans Group to Give Awards Thursday Night

State and county officials of the American Legion will be present to take part in awards ceremonies at 8:30 p.m. Thursday at the Oakland County Council of Allied Veterans meeting.

The meeting will be held at the American Legion Home of the David E. Cleary Post 167, in Clawson.

State commander Michael J. Mccalla, junior vice-commander J. Conner Austin, and adjutant William H. Balkwill are slated to attend.

Best of Steers at Livestock Exposition Raised by 2 Teenage Iowa Farm Girls

CHICAGO (AP) — Two Iowa farm girls, novices in big time competition, now own the international live stock exposition's most coveted awards — the steer grand and reserve championships.

They competed yesterday with more than 800 adult exhibitors. It's like saying they raised the finest eating animals in the nation.

For Janice Hullinger, 16, of Manly, Iowa, and Barbara Clausen, 15, of Spencer, Iowa, it was the biggest thrill of their lives.

It was the first time in the 55 year history of the exposition that two girls won the big prizes in open competition. For both, it was their first test against tough, veteran competition.

Both girls are 4-H members, sophomores in high school — Janice at Manly High and Barb at Spencer High — and proud of setting a precedent at the International.

The girls talked of arduous hours preparing their steers for the big show but said the effort "was worth it."

Janice wept happily when "Shorty" was selected and was soon swamped with well-wishers. Later, more composed, she said the money she would get at auction would be used to put "inside plumbing" in the 13-room Hullinger home on a farm three miles northwest of Manly.

Told that last year's champion brought $20,100 at auction, Janice said she had no idea how much "Shorty" might bring when auctioned Thursday.

"Oh, golly, I love him so I'll hate to sell him," she said.

The Clausen girl said money she gets from the auction of "Salty" will be used to finance nurses training after she graduates from high school.

Voice of America Opening Studios in Capital Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Voice of America, which beams radio programs on both sides of the Iron Curtain, officially unveils today its plush new Washington broadcasting center.

The Voice, operated by the U.S. Information Agency, thus completes a move from New York to Washington one month ahead of schedule.

From its new headquarters in the Health-Education-Welfare Building, near the Capitol, the Voice expects to beam more than 70 million words a year. . . . its 24-hour operation features more than 75 daily programs in 38 languages, with more than three fourths going behind the Iron Curtain.

The shift from New York was ordered by Congress when USIA was made independent of the State Department last year.

Local Man Suffers Cuts in Two-Car Accident

Taft Patterson, 51, of 196 State St., was treated for cuts at Pontiac General Hospital Wednesday when he was involved in a two-car accident when a passenger in an auto driven by Norman E. Winter, 25, of 119 State St., according to Pontiac Police.

Patrolman John Lyons quoted the other driver, Donald L. Justus, 27, of 180 E. Huron St., as saying Winter's auto attempted to pass a truck on N. Johnson avenue and drove into oncoming traffic.

Lyons said he issued Winter a traffic violation ticket, charging he was driving with no operator's license.

U.N. Resumes Korean Debate

Western Powers Rally to Oppose Inclusion of Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Assembly's top Political Committee turned to the stormy Korean question today. The Western Powers rallied to oppose expected Russian demands that Red China be given a voice in the debate.

As the 60-nation committee prepared to take up the controversial question, American sources said U.S. Delegate James Wadsworth would call for inclusion of South Korea in the debate but would stand firm against any bid to Peiping or North Korea.

For the past four years the United States has opposed Soviet bids to include the Chinese Reds in the Korean debate.

It has been the Kremlin's policy to let Peiping take the initiative on the Korean question. Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, one of the three chairmen of the abortive Geneva talks on Korea, let Red China's Premier Chou En-lai carry the ball all during the Korean phase of those negotiations. The talks finally broke down last June after weeks of fruitless bickering between the Reds and the West.

The United States has been sounding out delegates on a proposed resolution which would accept the report on the Geneva conference submitted by the 15 U.N. allies. It would also have the Assembly reaffirm that its objective is peaceful achievement of a unified Korea under a representative government.

Dystrophy Clinic Opens

DETROIT (AP)—A muscular dystrophy clinic held its formal dedication ceremonies today with Mrs. G. Mennen Williams, wife of Michigan's governor, attending. Mrs. Williams is chairman of a state drive to raise muscular dystrophy funds. Dr. Max Karl Newman will direct the clinic, which is located in the Detroit Memorial Hospital.

Big 10 Dominates All-Midwestern Team

UCLA Is Given Four Berths on All-PCC Team

Larson, Shaw, Crow, Davenport Make Up Backfield

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The unbeaten Bruins of UCLA, as might have been expected, dominate the 1954 All-Pacific Coast Conference football team as selected by The Associated Press.

Champion of the conference for the second straight year, UCLA placed four players on the AP first team and four more on the mythical second team.

The overall selections, released today after a tabulation of votes by AP member football writers up and down the West Coast:

The backfield:

Paul Larson, California; George Shaw, Oregon; Lindon Crow, Southern California, and Bob Davenport, UCLA.

The line:

Ends — Jim Hanifan, California, and Bob Long, UCLA.

Center — Matt Hazeltine, California.

Eight of the players selected were top-heavy choices, and in the instances of Larson, Shaw, Davenport, Hanifan, Ellena and Salsbury, they were practically unanimous.

Michigan's End Kramer Named to Honor Squad

Ohio State, Sooners, Notre Dame Land Two Berths Each

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Undefeated Ohio State and Oklahoma and once-beaten Notre Dame, each landed two players on the 1954 All-Midwestern football team named today by the Associated Press.

Eight schools are represented on the No. 1 lineup and seven positions are awarded to players from the Big Ten.

The only repeaters from the 1953 team are fullback Alan The Horse Ameche, who set an all-time NCAA rushing record in his career at Wisconsin, and guard Calvin Jones of Iowa, an aggressive, ironman performer who nursed a broken hand throughout the season.

Ohio State, Big Ten kingpin that will take its top national ranking into the Rose Bowl against Southern California, placed halfback Howard Hopalong Cassady, game-breaking runner and pass interception demon, and 213-pound tackle, Dick Hilinski, on the honor team.

Representing Oklahoma's Big Seven champions and third-ranked nationally are Max Boydston, rugged, speedy end, and Center Kurt Burris.

From Notre Dame are quarterback Ralph Guglielmi, one of the best field generals in the school's history, and brawny Frank Varrichione, 220-pound tackle. Notre Dame wound up No. 4 in The Associated Press poll.

All also are seniors in the line except Iowa's Jones, a junior, and sophomore Ron Kramer, Michigan end who is regarded the greatest for the Wolverines since the playing days of the school's present coach, Bennie Oosterbaan.

Spartans Open Cage Campaign

Tonight's Tilt With Marquette Is First for New MSC Coach

EAST LANSING (AP)—Coach Forddy Anderson, recruited from Bradley University to bolster the Michigan State basketball fortunes, makes his debut against Marquette tonight.

Anderson will provide MSC fans with a marked contrast to the style favored by Pete Newell, whom he succeeded.

Newell taught a tight, controlled-ball game. Anderson has been racing the Spartans in practice during the past month, getting them accustomed to a galloping, free-shooting style of play that puts all the emphasis on the offense.

Michigan State, which finished 8th in the Western Conference last season, has six non-league contests before meeting Ohio State for its first Big Ten game Jan. 3.

BALTIMORE, (AP)—Pimlico announced today it will name a stakes race for Native Dancer next year.

The track hasn't decided what kind of a race it will be or whether it will be run in the spring or fall.

Double-Edged Career

Ex-Dale Grid Star Now Mixes Football With Art Work at Wittenberg College

By H. GUY MOATS

Someone mentioned recently that a former Oakland County grid star was pursuing an interesting career at an Ohio college.

When a check was made on the hint it developed an unusual story—about how Jerry Gillikin, former Ferndale football ace is still playing football, and at the same time studying painting, and raising a family!

Jerry played 4 years of varsity ball at Ferndale's Lincoln High School. He captained the Dales his last year. When he went to Wittenberg College he naturally turned out for the grid sport. He has held down a regular tackle job with the college team for 3 years and is reputed a fast and effective lineman.

When he's not on the football field, Jerry can usually be found at his drawing board, or easel, in his home or in a Wittenberg painting studio.

The unusual combination of football and painting began back in high school for Jerry. He had his 1st art instruction at Lincoln High where he also met Patricia Thomas, who is now his wife and mother of their son, Mark, just 8 months old.

Gillikin's paintings have won considerable acclaim. Some have been exhibited in several important shows. One was shown at an Akron, Ohio, art museum show. Another won honorable mention in Springfield.

Power-Laden East Looks Tougher for 1954 Season

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—The power-laden East, which monopolized college basketball last season by capturing the Sugar Bowl, National Invitation Tournament and NCAA championship, figures to be tougher than ever this year. The East has a half-dozen teams that may rate among the top 20 in the nation.

Lasalle, NCAA champion, should be even better. Holy Cross defending NIT and Sugar Bowl champions, is just as strong despite the loss of Togo Palazzi. Duquesne appears strong enough to knock off both the Explorers and Crusaders. Niagara and Fordham are definite threats for eastern honors.

Those are the big five in the East—LaSalle, Holy Cross, Duquense, Niagara and Fordham. Not to be taken lightly are Seton Hall, St. John's of Brooklyn, Villanova, Connecticut and St. Francis of Pa. Penn State, Syracuse, Manhattan and Temple are capable of pulling off a few upsets. Cornell is expected to retain its Ivy League crown despite the loss of Lee Morton, the league's most valuable player last season.

Lasalle, of course, will be spearheaded by Tom Gola, perhaps the nation's best college basketball player. Explorers lost only co-captain Frank O'Hara but have back Jackie Moore and Joe Gilson, a pair of 6-5 sharpshooters who were ineligible last season.

Tom Heinsohn, the spectacular 6-7 sophomore of last year may make Holy Cross followers forget Palazzi who broke all Crusader scoring records. Penn State has a standout in Jesse Arnelle and St. Francis of Pa., has one of the East's most prolific scorers in Maurice Stokes.

Harkness' 5 Looms as Best of Independents

Editor's note: This is the last in a series concerning the basketball prospects for Oakland County's high schools.

By JACK SAYLOR

Jean Harkness molded an undefeated football team this fall in his first effort as grid coach. Now he turns his attention to his first love—basketball—with much of the same material on hand.

While nobody would predict, or expect, an undefeated campaign, it would appear that the Wildcats are headed for a fine season on the hardwoods. Oxford looms as the class of the area's independents this winter.

Harkness has four starters back from last year's team that broke even in 16 games. The club also has the necessary height and bench strength.

The Spiker brothers, Dale and Dwight, 6-footers, and Mike Benedict are returning forwards and big Fred Bergin, 6-4, is back at center. Larry Spencer, 5-10 guard, also returns.

Forwards Dave Thomas and Duane Wildey also hit the 6-foot mark, while a pair of junior prospects are Dave Sweeney, and Ken Witherspoon, a transfer from Birmingham.

Rochester and Romeo were virtually wiped out by graduation. Only returning member of last year's great Rochester team, which won 19 out of 21, is guard Earl Kitchen.

Arian Stone, Oakland County's leading scorer, is gone, along with Max Powell, Rogert Forbush, and floor-leader Don Robertson. Filling the gaps around Kitchen will be seniors Pat Nunn and Dick Gray and sophomore Dave Peters, all 5-11.

Bill Dean, 6-foot junior, has the edge at center, and Ron LeBarre, 6-foot junior, and Bill Bellas, 5-5 senior, will be Kitchen's running mates at guard. Other prospects include Dave Arscott, Bob Powell, Jim Purdom and Jack Hill.

Romeo graduated its first seven players with only three lettermen back. They are Bill Krohn, 6-2 guard, Jack Markey and Dick Roth. Bill Schmidt and Dean Teller, a pair of 6-2 candidates, are up from the jayvees.

While these teams have no league affiliation, they nevertheless have interesting schedules. Among Oxford's foes will be Clarkston, Ortonville, Milford, Troy, and St. Mikes, along with regulars Lake Orion, Lapeer, Romeo and Rochester.

Rochester will meet Fitzgerald, Utica, South Lake, Keego Harbor and Grand Blanc among others.

Rochester's Gene Konley, Bob Hutton of Romeo and Harkness are back as coaches, but Orion and Lapeer have new leaders. Hal Carlin of Pentwater has taken the Orion job. He has four lettermen back, including Dick Johnson, Lynn Hazlett, Ed Leach and Rod Wiley.

Burt Jackson, who previously handled the Lapeer reserves, takes the varsity job from Lloyd Osborn, who moved to Midland along with Orion's Len Visser. Jackson will build around Ted June, Gary Sanford and sophomore Tommy Wilson.

Of other county schools, prospects look best for Cranbrook and Shrine. Owen Fett (6-3), Dave Turner, Pete Bedford and Jim Knapp furnish a good nucleus for the Cranes, while Shrine has a pair of 6-4 sharpshooters in Hugh Kirtek and Ron Troy, along with 5-11 John Burkart.

Parlo Is Selected 1954 Champion Filly

NEW YORK (AP) — Parlo, a chestnut daughter of Heliopolis, was voted the champion 3-year-old filly of the 1954 season Wednesday by the Thoroughbred Racing Assn.'s board of selectors.

The sophomore filly, bred and owned by the Foxcatcher Farms of William du Pont Jr., of Delaware, received 33 of the 39 possible votes from the racing secretaries of TRA tracks.

Earlier the board had chosen the Wheatley Stable's High Voltage the champion 2-year-old filly by a 19 to 18 decision over the Claiborne Stud's Delta. High Voltage is owned by Mrs. H. C. Phipps.

Spartan Coach Named on UP's Rating Board

NEW YORK (UP)—The 35 outstanding coaches, five from each section of the nation, who will rate the nation's college basketball teams weekly for the United Press were announced today.

This will be the 5th year the United Press has used the coaches to rate the top teams and their rankings generally are regarded as official.

All but two of the coaches are holdovers from the United Press board of last season. Newcomers are Tom Blackburn of Dayton and Polk Robinson of Texas Tech. Blackburn replaces Pete Newell who left the Midwest section of the board from Michigan State to go to California. Newell will be one of the five coaches representing the Pacific Coast in the new board. Robinson replaces Byron Brannon of Texas Christian. Forrdy Anderson of Michigan State is a member.

The coaches will start their weekly ratings next week beginning Dec. 5.

Orioles Plan to Trim 'Farms' to Seven Clubs

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles have annouced plans to trim their farm system from 12 to seven clubs next year.

Farm Secretary Jim McLaughlin, making the annoucement Monday said the move was a "natural step to weed out players who will never make the big league grade. It means merely that we have progressed a year."

Attendance Mark

U.S. Tracks Attracted 30 Million Fans in '54

NEW YORK, (AP)—An all-time record attendance of 30 million persons at American race tracks for the 1954 season was estimated by the president of the Thoroughbred Racing Assn. However, a slight drop in wagering was noted.

"Once again thoroughbred racing is the country's top-ranking spectator sport," John A. Morris of New York told the TRA's 13th annual meeting which opened Wednesday. The TRA has 39 member tracks, including most of the major plants in the country.

"When the final count is in, it is estimated that attendance will total 30,000,000. This is an increase of 7½ per cent over the all-time high attendance recorded in 1953."

Morris said the pari-mutuel turnover would be approximately $2,050,000,000 "of which approximately 87 per cent was returned to the public and $137,000,000 went to the states sponsoring racing as their share of the takeout."

There are more than 80 race tracks operating in the country, and Morris said it was significant that over 73 per cent of the attendance and 78 per cent of the mutuel handle was recorded at the 39 TRA courses.

Tulsa Coaching Staff Is Fired

Bernie Witucki, Aides Dismissed After Worst Season in 69 Years

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Head Football Coach Bernie Witucki and his four-man staff were paid in full and dismissed Tuesday by the University of Tulsa which just completed its most dismal season in 69 years.

Witucki's 3-year-contract — reportedly calling for $10,500 annually — was due to expire after next season. His assistants' one-year contracts were to run out at the end of this month.

Dr. C. I. Pontius, university president, said the school would continue with a full sports program including football. He disclosed the faculty athletic committee has met to discuss a replacement for Witucki, who took over from Coach J. O. Buddy Brothers Feb. 1953.

Top Equipment, Coaching Key to New Records

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK (INS) — Not long ago we asked Dan Ferris, veteran secretary-treasurer of the AAU, if he would dare put a ceiling on any record now in the books.

The white-haired Ferris laughed and said:

"Not I. I've watched records broken in every part of the world for more than half a century, and every time I thought the absolute limit of speed and endurance had been reached along came some youngster to set a new mark.

"I always have thought that we would see a 4-minute mile before we'd see a 9-second century and in that, at least, I was right.

"I suppose some day somebody will do nine seconds or even better for the century, because the boys—and gals—see mto be growing bigger and faster and stronger all the time.

"There was a time when any fellow weighing 250 pounds was considered something of a freak. But look at some of our football players today. Some of them weigh 275 pounds, and they are not only big but they are fast and mobile.

"We have many great basketball players who are close to seven feet tall, and don't imagine for a minute that a fellow like George Mikan isn't fast and nimble.

"Of course, modern equipment has helped a lot, but new techniques an dmore and better coaching have played a big part in the setting of new records."

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The tournament sanctions department of the American Bowling Congress is having its biggest year. With the bulk of the tournament season still ahead, the department has sanctioned 50 per cent more team tourneys than last season.

Van Brocklin Keeps Lead Among Pro Grid's Passers

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—With the National Football League season moving down the home stretch, Norm Van Brocklin of the Los Angeles Rams maintained his passing leadership in statistics released Wednesday.

Cleveland's Otto Graham, defending champion in the passing department, moved up from fifth to second. Van Brocklin now has an average gain of 10.34 yards with 124 completions out of 229 passes attempted and has tossed for 11 touchdowns. Graham has connected with 121 out of 207 and the same number of touchdowns.

Third spot among the NFL passers is held down by Tom Dublinski of Detroit with an average gain of 7.94. His teammate, Bobby Layne, is fourth with 9.92.

Philadelphia's Adrian Burk has thrown 19 touchdown passes with Charley Conerly of the New York Giants second at 17.

Bobby Walston of Philadelphia's Eagles is top scorer in the loop with 98 points, a 7-point lead over Doak Walker of Detroit.

Herb Johnson of New York leads the punt returners with a 13.3 average, with Jack Christiansen, Detroit, second at 12.6.

The Cards' Dick Lane has pulled in eight enemy passes, one more than Detroit's Jim David.

Navy's Welsh Named as AP 'Back of Week'

Daring Play Call Earns Honor for Middie Over Rice's Moegle

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy quarterback George Thomas Welsh, who was named The Associated Press Back of the Week for his play in the victory over Army Saturday, was tabbed "a right-handed Frankie Albert" today by his coach.

"You never knew what Frankie was going to do," Erdelatz said, "and he had lots of guts." This is the reason for the parallel with the former great of Stanford and the professional San Francisco 49ers.

"Welsh not only is a good player, but he has the respect of the other players," Erdelatz said. "When he calls a play, they know it's right. For example take the play Saturday with fourth down and one to go. He took a shot at it," Erdelatz said.

Welsh's reaction to the latest honor was "My Gosh."

Modesty is one thing Welsh has. Another thing is perseverence.

As a sophomore last year he broke in as a starter late in the season, supplanting Weaver at the quarterback spot. Then early this year after Dick Echard took the job from Welsh while he was out with an injury, the little Pennsylvanian came back to win his starting assignment again.

The crucial play mentioned by Erdelatz drew special praise from experts who picked Welsh over Rice's Dick Moegle for the weekly back honor. Navy was leading 7-6 at that point and went on to score its second touchdown after Welsh's sneak for the first down.

In the Army game, Welsh outclassed Army's highly touted Pete Vann by passing for three touchdowns and running for the other after setting it up with a pass.

Ameche Given Heisman Award as Top Player

Badger Star, Burris of Oklahoma, Bucks' Cassady Honored

NEW YORK (INS) — Wisconsin All-American Alan (The Horse) Ameche has been named winner of the Heisman Memorial Trophy as the outstanding college football player of 1954.

The Badger fullback received 1,068 points in the 20th annual balloting by 1,318 sports writers and sportscasters throughout the country.

Oklahoma center Kurt Burris was announced last night as runnerup with 838 points, with Ohio State All-America halfback Howard (Hopalong) Cassady 3rd with 810.

Ameche set a national collegiate athletic association record of 3,212 yards in 673 attempts during his four years at Wisconsin.

He holds all Badger records for rushing in a game and for a season, scoring more touchdowns and points than any other player in the school's history. Ameche averaged 4.8 yards per carry in collegiate competition and scored 25 touchdowns.

2 New Champs Top Ring List

Wholesale Shuffling of Ratings Is Revealed by Publication

NEW YORK (INS)—The appearance of two new world champions headed the list of changes in the monthly boxing ratings released today by Ring Magazine.

Jimmy Slade of New York tumbled from 5th to 8th in the heavyweight ranks after his beating at the hands of unranked Floyd Patterson. Dan Bucceroni was dropped from the top ten with England's Johnny Williams taking over the last spot.

Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., has been upped from the welterweight division to 10th-ranking middleweight.

Golfer of Year Title to Furgol

ST. PAUL, Minn. (INS) — Ed Furgol received the golfer of the year award at the president's dinner of the annual PGA convention last night in St. Paul and predicted that the tourney record of 60 strokes would soon fall.

Furgol was honored for winning the National Open championship last summer.

Another award, election to the Golf Hall of Fame, was made in behalf of the late MacDonald Smith.

Oosterbaan Will Be Back on Job for '55 Season

DETROIT (AP) — Bennie Oosterbaan says he will be back as head coach of Michigan's football team next season.

"I'll keep going as long as my health is good," Oosterbaan said at the annual bust honoring the Wolverines. "I honestly feel much better this year than I did in 1953. I'm looking forward to next season."

There had been reports, during the recent season, that Oosterbaan would step down at the end of the campaign. But the 48-year-old coach ended speculation by saying:

"I want to stay on the job as long as I feel up to it. I'm thinking of my health and my wife's health. And now we are both feeling good."

It's Time Out!

"Quit stepping on my toes . . . that hurts!"

C-D-E All-Staters Led by Set of High-Scoring Backs

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — One hundred points per player!

That's the fantastic backfield average of the Associated Press Class C-D-E All-State high school football team, announced today.

This light but lethal unit—which rolled up 406 points this season — is composed of Bob Urshalitz of Jackson St. Mary, Jerry Mitchell of Eau Claire, Tom Saunders of Traverse City St. Francis and Chuck Greenlund of Stambaugh.

Averaging only 161 pounds, this foursome ran wild all fall and drew solid backing from coaches and sports writers from every section of the state who assisted in selecting the team.

It is an all-senior team, with the accent on speed. Even the linemen gained recognition because of their unusual mobility.

Life consists of ends Leon Treichel, Standish, and Phil Regan, Wayland; tackles Frank Vettraino, Detroit St. Charles, and Paul Wilson, Clinton; guards Dale Slee, Laingsburg, and Dick Takala, Crystal Falls, and center Virgil Horton, North Branch.

In the backfield, Saunders compiled an amazing record for Traverse City St. Francis. An exceptionally fast runner, he gained 1,570 yards from scrimmage and scored 18 touchdowns.

Mitchell, who led Eau Claire to a perfect season, gained more than 1,100 rushing while scoring 20 touchdowns.

Greenlund, a broken field wizard, led the entire Upper Peninsula in scoring He totalled 110 points, accounting for 25 in the final game of the season to nail down the title.

Minors' Meetings Hatching Major Deals

By JOE REICHLER

HOUSTON (AP) — Don't let that itsy-bitsy Frankie Baumholtz deal fool you. This minor league convention is giving signs of being the incubator for a number of eye-opening major league player trades.

Every big league manager here is talking trade — and not just to make conversation. They really want to make deals. There isn't a single club that doesn't have at least one or two outstanding weaknesses and the boys are trying to do something about it.

Maybe there won't be any real big trade news stemming from this meeting. That doesn't mean none will be made. The announcements may not come until next week during the major league sessions in New York. The minors are a bit touchy about the majors hogging the spotlight at their convention so the big boys may hold off any announcements — unless a leak forces them to change their plans.

Chicago's White Sox are almost certain to complete a man-sized trade with either Washington or Kansas City real soon. General Manager Frank Lane denied one that involved Washington and such big names as Minnie Minoso, George Kell, Eddie Yost and Mickey McDermott. But he and Manager Chuck Dressen of the Senators have another deal cooking that will be almost as big when, and if, completed.

Baltimore isn't through dealing. The Orioles, who were to announce the completion of their gigantic 18-player trade with the New York Yankees sometime Wednesday, are close to another swap with the Athletics.

In the only business done Tuesday, the Chicago Cubs sold outfielder Frankie Baumholtz to the White Sox for $20,000 and the Cleveland Indians sent outfielder Gale Wade to the Cubs as part of last month's Ralph Kiner deal.

It came to light Wednesday that the Cubs got more than just money — $60,000 — from the Indians for Kiner. Pitcher Sam Jones, who reportedly was sold by Cleveland to the Cubs, actually was part of the Kiner transaction. Now comes Wade, who batted .273 at Indianapolis last season.

Even Leo Durocher, victorious manager of the world-champion New York Giants, is after help. He is trying to swing a trade for a starting pitcher.

"We are not looking for just another pitcher," Leo said. "We are willing to give up plenty for a pitcher like Robin Roberts, Warren Spahn, Gene Conley or Curt Simmons. We're after another starter to go with Johnny Antonelli, Ruben Gomez and Sal Maglie."

Gronik Takes Bout, but Fans Protest

DETROIT (AP) — Allie Gronik, the Detroit welterweight who loves free swinging, was forced into a brisk in-fighting position last night before he took a unanimous eight-round decision over Bob Stecher of Pittsburgh at Motor City arena.

There were no knockdowns, but Gronik's left eye was nearly closed when the decision was announced. The capacity crowd of 1,600 watched Gronik come in a two-round flurry at the end of the fight for the decision.

Many fans booed and threw newspapers and programs into the ring when the decision was announced.

TOPS—Larry Morris, Georgia Tech's smashing linebacker, was named lineman of the week in the Associated Press poll for his tackling in Saturday's game against Georgia. He set a Tech record with 24 tackles as the Engineers gained a 7-3 victory and a bid to the Cotton Bowl.

HONORED—Navy's George Welsh, whose quarterbacking was a key factor in Navy's defeat of Army last Saturday, was designated "back of the week" for the last big week of the 1954 grid season today. His passing accounted for three Navy TDs and he scored the other touchdown after setting it up with a pass.

LaStarza, Rocky Meet Sluggers

Face Norkus and Ward in Cleveland 'Toyshop' Boxing Card

CLEVELAND (AP) — Roland La Starza and Rocky Castellani, a pair of handsome boxers with lost championship bids in their memoirs, meet two powerful sluggers tonight on the Cleveland News' annual toyshop boxing card.

La Starza, of New York, once the top-ranked heavyweight contender, will be opening a comeback drive in a 10-rounder against a crude but hard-hitting opponent, Charlie Norkus of Port Washington, N.Y. That bout will be televised from the Cleveland Arena (CBS-TV, 10 pm, EST).

Cleveland's Castellani, like La Starza a fancy boxer, meets Moses (No Clinch) Ward of Detroit, another middleweight who counts more on punching power than footwork skill. That fight also is scheduled for 10 rounds.

The experienced La Starza was a 3-2 favorite over the wild-swinging Norkus while Castellani was favored over Ward, 9-5.

Deer Kill Expected to Fall Below '53 Total

Lincolns Edged Cadillac

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP)—Lincolns won first and second places in the big stock-car division of the Pan-American road race, with a Cadillac third. The race ended Nov. 23. The first Associated Press dispatch on the finish incorrectly stated that a Cadillac was fist in the division.

Today's Special Any-Deer Season to Attract Only About 35,000 Hunters

By JACK PATTERSON

Incomplete tally on the 1954 deer season which ends at sunset today indicates that the total kill will probably be somewhat smaller than last year's. Upper Peninsula score, which can be rather quickly and accurately checked by observers at Straits ferries, appears to be about the same as a year ago. Lower Peninsula hunters probably won't have done quite so well. Today's special "any-deer" season is expected to attract only about 35,000 hunters and the total bag is not expected to exceed 15,000 deer.

PATTERSON

Many LP hunters are convinced that legal killing of does the last couple seasons has raised havoc with the herd. There is a movement afoot in the Kalkaska area to have hunters write the Conservation Commission and declare their intent not to buy another hunting license until special doe and fawn seasons are eliminated.

Deer are not as plentiful in that area this year, but whether doe shooting is the reason is problematical.

That there are still many does in some localities, anyway, can be attested to by a group of Pontiac hunters who spent the weekend at our Alcona County diggings. Bob Nelson, Weldon Fritch, Ed Doughty, Ed Alexander, Bob Snow, Ken Stoltenberg and Vern Shea spent a couple of days fighting their way through throngs of does but failed to spot a single buck. Maybe a little doe-thinning is what that area needs.

There's a growing suspicion among local hunters that the place to get a buck probably is right here in Oakland County.

Good example of why they think so: Jim Clarke spent 10 days in a remote area of the UP and failed to get a single buck in his sights. When he returned to his home near Holly, he practically had to beat a path through 8-pointers to get from the gate to the house. Well, maybe not beat a path, exactly, but he saw a lot of deer, including bucks, around the place.

And that's just one instance. We'll venture a guess that it would be pretty hard to look over any rural Oakland County area carefully, and fail to come up with deer sign. At least we've not been able to in the last few years.

Violations Up, Fewer Hunters, in Deer Season

State's Nimrods Get Last Chance Today at Bagging Venison

LANSING (UP) — There were more violations but fewer hunters, deer, and accidents during the 1954 deer season, game officials said today in reporting widesprad "apathy" to hunting in Michigan this year.

Disinterest is expected to continue through today's "any deer" kill despite prospects of good hunting conditions.

An estimated 40,000 Michigan deer hunters took to the woods today for one last crack at the 1954 venison crop.

Hunters who hadn't already killed a deer and who had received special licenses were permittd to shoot any deer — fawn, doe or buck — in most of the northern lower peninsula.

Although 73,000 permits were issued for the one-day season, the conservation department estimated only about 40,000 hunters would take advantage of the permits. This estimate was based on the records of previous years.

Both the estimated deer kill of 55,000 and the estimated hunter turnout of 350,000 during the regular deer season were down 20 per cent from the same Nov. 15-30 period last year.

At least 1,544 game law violators were arrested as officers reported "desperation hunters shooting at whatever they saw."

The regular season claimed 18 lives, but only 10 were the result of gunfire and at least one of these was listed as murder. Eight died from heart attacks.

Conservation enforcement chief Everette E. Tucker had predicted 15 gunfire deaths and 60 non-fatal accidents.

Only 37 non-fatal accidents were reported.

Michigan's safest hunting was in 1931, 1932 and 1935 when only four hunters were killed by gunfire each of the years.

Youngster Warned

Aussies' Lew Hoad, in Miserable Slump, Called on Carpet by ALTA President

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MELBOURNE (AP) — Lew Hoad, individual star of Australia's Davis Cup victory last year, reportedly was called on the carpet today and warned he may be benched for the 1954 challenge round unless he snaps out of it.

Concern over the youngster's attitude and performance even reached Sir Norman Brookes, president of the Australian Lawn Tennis Assn. who has taken a personal interest in the case, acording to Ken Archer of the newspaper, Truth.

Archer wrote that Brooks told him measures are being taken to restore Hoad to the proper frame of mind before the challenge round at Sydney Dec. 27-29.

Hoad, in a miserable slump, almost lost his opening match in the Victorian championships here to England's Roger Becker. Tuesday he was jeered as he lost two sets to Sweden's Sven Davidson before awakening to score a 2½ hour five-set victory.

Afterwards Hoad said: "I was just fed up. I did not care whether I won or not."

At first it was believed Hoad may have broken with Harry Hopman, captain of the Aussie Davis Cup team and manager of the touring Australian squad.

This Hoad denied. "I am mad at nobody," he said. "I'm just tired of tennis and I get so I do not give a hang."

Australian Davis Cup selectors, greatly concerned, held an emergency meeting Tuesday night. It lasted until the early morning hours. No comment was made afterwards.

Brundage Warns U.S. of Soviet Sports Prowess

CHICAGO (INS) — Avery Brundage warned the United States today that it is losing not only its athletic supremacy but its international prestige to the countries behind the iron curtain because of its "take-it-easy, spending" philosophy.

Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, reporting to the Chicago Rotary Club on his three-week visit to Russia and the Soviet satellite countries last summer, said:

"Russia and its satellites have stolen the ball from the U.S. in the propanganda field. . .

"The countries behind the iron curtain are doing it in sports and may get away with it unless we have a real awakening."

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese flyweight boxer Yoshio Shirai has been in seclusion three days nursing a head contusion received when Pascual Perez of Argentina dethroned him from the world championship Friday. Shirai's manager said Wednesday night.

Four Players Added to Shrine Contest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Four more players have been added to the West squad for the Shrine East-West football game here Jan. 1. Two East players also were named.

The West selections:

George Maderos, end, Chico (Calif.) State; Bennie Sinclair end, Texas A&M; Carroll Hardy and Frank Bernardi, halfbacks, Colorado.

The East:

John Allen, center, Purdue; Gene Lamone, guard, West Virginia.

Seixas, Trabert Reach Victoria Test Finals

MELBOURNE (AP) — America's top Davis Cuppers — Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert — powered their way into the doubles final of the Victoria Tennis championships today. They fought an uphill struggle to defeat Australia's Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall in five fierce sets 10-12, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Seixas and Trabert now will meet Rex Hartwig and Mervyn Rose, Australia's Wimbledon champions, in the doubles final.

Imlay 5 Wins Prep Opener

Clarenceville Victor in Non-loop Tilt; Gibbard Nets 27 for Spartans

Imlay City, tabbed as the team to-beat in the South Central Conference, roared to a 73-52 victory over Almont in a non-league opener that got the prep basketball season rolling Tuesday night.

Clarenceville of the Wayne-Oakland also opened non-league and downed Taylor Center, 58-34. South Lake, expected to be a Bi-county contender, whipped Romeo, 64-40.

Leon Gibbard utilized a jump shot well in bagging 27 points in Imlay's triumph. Owen Whitkopf added 17, while Spencer had 22 for Almont. Capt. Glen Reed paced the Clarenceville victory with 24 points.

Black Hawks Draw 4,506 at Omaha

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The lowly Chicago Black Hawks, who finished in the National hockey league cellar last year, were looking to the future "big nights" in their home-and-away-from-home games for financial aid.

Last night the Hawks drew 4,506 fans at Omaha where they played to a 3-3 tie with the league-leading Montreal Canadiens. Last week Chicago and Montreal attracted 10,273 at St. Louis in a 4-4 deadlock. The game was the 2nd in six games that the Hawks will play on the home-and-away-from-home basis.

Long Coaching Career

The late Pop Warner coached college football for 46 years, producing powerhouses at Cornell, Georgia, Pittsburgh, Carlisle, Stanford and Temple before his death.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

Case—Topping the Ball.

The term "floating right elbow" applies to bowling as it does to golf. The elbow gets away from the body; doesn't hug the side, as it must to function properly.

It is caused by one of two things: (1) No push-away of the ball at the start to put the arm into a grooved swing, close to the body, or (2) a rush to the foul line and a quick, forced twist of the arm and wrist in trying to put extra hook turn on the ball.

The arm, as sketch shows, then turns to the left instead of following the straight line indicated by the arrow. Some call it pulling the ball; some term it topping the ball. Correct it by concentrating on push-away, timed with the first step.

Allow the weight of the ball to swing the arm loosely, freely, close to the body, like a pendulum, back and forth, and all the way through for a full reach-out at the pins.

Prep Cager Dies in Practice Session

NEWTOWN, Pa., (AP)—A 16-year-old basketball player at George School died Tuesday night during a varsity practice session.

Dr. William L. Goldfarb, deputy Bucks County coroner, said John M. Allen of Riverton, N. J., suffered a rupture of a small blood vessel in the brain.

Coach James Ailer said Allen was playing very well a few minutes before the tragedy.

Niles Hunter Shoots Doe Carrying Antlers

NILES (UP) — Ted Pollock of Niles bagged the second doe with antlers killed during Michigan's deer season this year.

Pollock said he got his doe, bearing a six-inch antler and a two-inch spike, while hunting in Lake County. A Grand Haven woman killed an eight-point doe earlier in the season.

NFL's Leading Scorers Meet in Sunday Tilt

Philadelphia's Walston, Detroit's Walker Lead Teams Into Clash

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

The 180-pound Walston, a native of Columbus, Ohio, where his father is a barber, has scored 98 points this season on 9 touchdowns, 32 conversions and 4 field goals. Walker, the fine halfback from Texas, has totaled 91 points, but Walston has played 10 games and Walker nine.

General Manager Vince McNally of the Eagles recalled Wednesday that he and former Coach Earl (Greasy) Neale selected Walston, a star end at the University of Georgia, for defensive purposes and as an extra point and field goal-kicking specialist. They had no idea that the 6-foot-1 Walston would turn out to be one of the finest offensive wingmen in the NFL.

Walston was Rookie of the Year in 1951, when he caught 31 passes for 512 yards and 8 touchdowns. Additionally, he converted 28 of 31 extra-point tries and kicked 6 of 11 field-goal attempts for a total 94 points.

This is unquestionably Walston's finest year and if it hadn't been for a broken jaw suffered in the fifth game of the season, against Pittsburgh, he might have threatened Don Hutson's all-time pro scoring record of 138 points in 1942 for Green Bay. Walston had 70 points in his first four games. Then came the jaw break.

But he swung back into part-time action against the New York Giants three weeks ago, catching a touchdown pass and kicking a pair of conversions.

Pontiac Press Photo

Veteran PHS 5 Expects Tough Tryout Friday

Van Ryzin's Quintet Beat Acorns in '53-54 Opener

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High's basketball team opens its 1954-55 campaign Friday night in a non-conference game at Royal Oak.

Acorns, who will match the Chiefs in over-all height and have the advantage of playing on their home court, should provide the veteran Pontiac quintet with a stiff opening test.

PHS took a 58-35 victory over Royal Oak in the 1st game of the 1953-54 season and both teams went on to compile nearly identical marks.

Pontiac won 8 of 19 starts before losing to Highland Park, 53-31, in quarter-final tournament action. Royal Oak had an 8-10 record and bowed to Highland Park, 58-39, in regional tourney play.

Sparkplug of the Acorn attack is expected to be Capt. Roger Sides, a 6 foot 3 forward. He will team with 1953-54 regulars Bob Kelly (6-4) at center and Bill Breauninger and Bob Grundeman at guards. Other forward slot will go to Art Bromley, who saw limited action last year, Larry Rightler or Jim Ellertson.

Both teams will average slightly over 6-1 in height.

Pontiac has its entire starting five back intact, including 3rd-year men Bob Johnston, Walt Poe and Marv Caswell.

Game is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Tech's Larry Morris Is Named 'Lineman of Week'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When a player tackles his team right into a bowl game, he deserves some sort of special recognition. And that's just what Larry Morris did for Georgia Tech to earn the nomination as Lineman of the Week.

Morris, a smashing 202-pound linebacker, who played fullback his freshman and sophomore years and was converted to center last year, wrecked the Georgia attack with his tackles Saturday. He set a Tech record by making 24 tackles.

As a result, Georgia Tech squeezed out a 7-3 victory to take second place in the Southeastern Conference and was invited to play Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl.

Ed Danforth, veteran Atlanta Journal writer, offered this comment on Morris: "I believe he gave the greatest individual performance against Georgia I have ever seen. Georgia couldn't seem to go anywhere that the ball carrier didn't run into Morris."

Danforth added that guard Franklin Brooks was almost as good, making 20 tackles and recovering the fumble that led to Tech's score.

Perfect 300 Helps Fazio's Big Total

DETROIT (AP) — Buzz Fazio of Detroit bowled a perfect 300 game early Tuesday and posted a series of 802 — second highest in the nation this season.

Township Loop Draws 7 Teams

Seven teams have entered Waterford Township Recreation Basketball League to date.

They are Manny's Ringside Bar, Johnson & Anderson Engineering, Waterford High Faculty, Phligas of Keego Harbor, Poole Lumber and Drayton Drugs. Seventh team is not yet sponsored.

An official practice is scheduled tonight from 7-9 o'clock at the high school gymnasium.

Any unsigned Waterford area adult player wishing to play on a team in this league is invited to attend the practice.

Holmes Now a Pilot

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Tommy Holmes, former major league outfielder and once manager of the Boston Braves of the National League, today was named manager of the Fort Worth club of the Texas League.

Current Boxing Hearings Should Wind Up Friday

NEW YORK (AP)—The state athletic commission expects to wind up its current boxing hearings in a final session Friday morning but that may not be the last word in the investigation of charges and countercharges made by two rival managers groups.

Commission Chairman Robert Christenberry said much of the information gathered at the five sessions will be turned over to the district attorneys office along with any other spicy bits that may have been picked up by the commission's investigators.

"We're going to eliminate undesirable activities tending to bring the sport into disrepute," thundered Christenberry at the end of the fourth session Tuesday.

He then announced that a new rule aimed to control the "booking" of fights by managers' representatives would be put into effect immediately. From now on any manager who negotiates for another manager's fighter and the promoter with whom he deals, will have to disclose all details, including financial facts, in a commission form.

This regulation was added after Manager Al Braverman, president of the Metropolitan Boxing Alliance, had his indefinite suspension lifted. Braverman had admitted "booking" matches for many preliminary boxers for out of town managers.

The commission also reinstated Manager Cus D'Amato, collector of the $100 television "donations" for the New York Boxing Managers Guild. Christenberry said the commission had found no evidence that payments were made under duress.

End Darwyn Hepler and tackle Wallace Cleaver received all-state mention at Hazel Park a year ago. The Northville gridder is Al Iversen.

Other familiar names among the award winners included Bob Failing and Frank Held of Flint Central, Bill Luke of Flint Northern, and Bob Maturen of Saginaw from the Saginaw Valley League; Jim Ninowski and John Soave of Detroit Pershing, Bob Handloser of Catholic Central and former all-staters Dave Kaiser of Alpena, Marcus Cisco of Morenci, and Glenn Burgett of Sparta.

My Big Break

By TED KLUSZEWSKI

Sometimes one decision can mean the difference between a success or an unknown.

In my case, it happily worked out for the best.

The decision that proved to be easily my crucial break in baseball was made in 1944. In the summer of that year, my wife and I intended to be married the following September.

I was approached by an official of the University of Indiana, however, and he said I would be able to attend that institution on a scholarship.

It was a case of choosing between college and marriage. We decided that I should attend Indiana and postpone our marriage.

This proved the perfect decision. I was able to do well in athletics, especially in baseball, and while at Indiana was signed by the Cincinnati Reds.

If we had selected marriage at once, I might well have gone into something else and never have had the opportunity of a college education and a major league career.

Slayer of Five to Die in Sing Sing Jan. 10

NEW YORK (UP)—John Francis Roche, confessed slayer of five persons including a 14-year-old schoolgirl, was sentenced to death yesterday at general sessions court.

Judge Jonah Goldstein set Jan. 10 as the date for Roche's electrocution at Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, N.Y.

An automatic appeal by Roche's attorneys, however, was expected to delay the execution date.

Roche, a 27-year-old plumber's helper, stared impassively ahead when Judge Goldstein passed the sentence.

Roche was convicted Nov. 9 for the murder of Dorothy Westwater, a Manhattan schoolgirl. The death sentence for Roche was mandatory because the jury made no recommendation for mercy.

Roche also confessed to the murders of waitress Marion Brown, 17; taxi driver Alexander Jablonka, 43; Mrs. Rose Chronik, 85, and sailor Edward Bates, 22.

Second Slide Dooms Trapped Coal Miner

ST. CLAIR, Pa. (AP)—A second rock slide has forced rescue crews to abandon hope of reaching a trapped coal miner alive in a 280-foot-feep anthracite shaft here.

Crews of 16 men each were working in alternating shifts around the clock until the second rock fall yesterday in the shaft where Frank Pescavage, 37, of Gilberton, was trapped Monday.

Mine Inspector Timothy Ryan said it might be a month now before Pescavage could be reached.

Japanese Hunt Boat Carrying Four Americans

TOKYO (AP)—The Japan coast guard today ordered a search for a small sailboat carrying an American doctor, his wife and two young children, which left Oct. 28 on a world cruise and had not been heard from since.

The coast guard said the two-masted, 35-foot Phoenix had not arrived at its last Japanese scheduled port of call. The ship also carried a Japanese crew of three.

The owner, Dr. Earl Reynolds, 44, an anthropologist from the University of Iowa, worked for the Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission in Hiroshima for three years before leaving on the cruise.

With him was his wife Barbara, son Ted and daughter Jessica, Kyodo news agency reported.

Bob Considine Says:

Murder Contrasts Sharply Against Christmas Season

CLEVELAND (INS)—From here on, the trial of Sam Sheppard on the charge of sordidly eliminating his wife will be conducted against a background of life rather than death—the life inherent in the feast of the Nativity.

The contrast was sharp and not a little poignant last night. If you'll bear with me during a spell of shadow-boxing, I'll try to explain.

Sam had been braceleted to his keeper, Jim Kilroy, and led off to his fourth floor cell-block. There he took off his neat charcoal gray suit (which his family keeps pressed for him) and his inevitable white shirt with the buttoned down collar and the black knit tie that gives him the air of a somewhat overly-detached Princeton post-grad.

He replaced these with his gray athletic sweatshirt and slacks, and set about the ordeal of another night in prison.

Downstairs in the makeshift press room the reporters beat out their stories. Sometimes the typewriters struck back. The stories had to do with blood. Add to all the complications of the case the normal functional activities of a lady dog named Koko, the Sheppard pooch. It is the defense's contention that much or most of the blood flung about the Sheppard place was Koko's.

A witness named Mary Cowan, a mild woman who appeared freshly separated from a Salvation Army band, had this day called a good sampling of that blood human — and she was prepared to match it up with Sam's type and the poor wife's type. So there was much to write about. She is in the blood game.

In time there was only one reporter in the press room—this one—and a man with a broom was circling the place not unlike a vulture cleaning up a field of carnage.

He'd lower and hold open the maw of a burlap bag and with the broom sweep into it all the literary litter of the place. Gave a fellow pause. Full many a trial-strained wretch had said secretly to himself (herself) as those words were completed, "Well, what'll I do with all that Pulitzer Prize money?"

Now the man was stashing the stuff in burlap and from there it would go to the incinerator, if it were lucky. He waited until I finished my last sentence and it was sent, then he added my story to the others—and to the half-empty paper coffee cups—and I wondered about how enraged would be the first folio people a generation hence.

It is black and abandoned and inexpressibly gloomy at night along the street in front of the criminal courts building, which contains both courtrooms, chambers and (aloft) cells.

Sometimes, at this hour, relatives and friends of inmates will gather in the traffickless street, holding leather-lunged conversations with the imprisoned, appearing at barred windows high above. This night was cold and peppered with snow, and the silhouettes at the windows above, surrounded by a sickly yellow light, were without visitors.

I wondered as I looked up if Sam's was one of those silent heads. Probably not. He has been described as an ideal prisoner, content to eat the grub that is offered him, friendly with the assorted muggs and misfits of his block, and amenable to retiring to his little cell without urging—to listen to his radio and observe now and then his son's crayon drawings which he has stuck to steel walls with scotch tape.

Anyway, I made it to Terminal Square, where sits the Hotel Cleveland, and in melodious, colorful and quite unbearable contrast the area was alive with Christmas. There were lights strung about, a huge Santa on the marquee of Higbee's Store, softly-lighted creches, wreaths, red ribbons, and a public address system singing "Silent Night."

It's a bad time of year for a lengthy discussion of death.

Spectators See Double With Twin Majorettes

MT. PLEASANT, Tex. (AP) — Max Murphy, director of the Mt. Pleasant High School band, has drum majorettes who are identical twins —Joan and June Ball.

The dark-eyed brunettes, each 5-feet-6, step through precision routines as one. Split-second reactions that give football fans a "seeing double impression" breed from 18 years of doing everything together. June and Joan have handled batons since elementary school days. Murphy can't tell them apart any more than the fans.

Liberia claims that the iron ore found there is the highest grade in the world.

Armed Forces Want Trainees With Math Knowledge

Editor's Note: This is the third and last in the series of the Michigan High School defense information program. Waterford High School principal Ray Larmee and teacher Donald Arsen took part in the recent air tour of military training centers. Waterford is the "pilot" school for this new program for Oakland County.

By ARTHUR P. GALLAGHER

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The armed forces want a trainee with two hands and two feet, but next to that they want him to have some knowledge of mathematics.

That was the message brought home from a tour of Army, Navy and Air Force bases by a group of Michigan educators who plan to set up defense information and orientation courses in Michigan high schools to help youths solve problems involved in compulsory military service.

Inadequate background in mathematics was not the only complaint of the armed forces. Military personnel who work with new trainees said many youths sent to them lack training in citizenship and don't even know why they are in service.

Col. Henry C. Newton, director of instruction in the Armored School at Ft. Knox, Ky., perhaps best expressed the sentiment of those who commented.

"We should not have to inculcate in men 19 to 22 years old a love of country and the responsibilities of citizenship," he said.

Officials at Ft. Knox made the point that few of their trainees were from Michigan, that many had dropped out of school in their early years and that a divergence in the type of school training or general educational background was indicated by testing results checked as to geographical area.

Even greater stress on already emphasized mathematics in high school was urged by military officials, particularly in the Air Force and Navy, where so many men must become experts in handling electronic devices.

Industry and government, it was pointed out, have been asking for more advanced students in science and mathematics for several years.

As an example of what the armed forces find it necessary to teach in the field of citizenship, this is the list of subjects in the citizenship course of basic indoctrination at Great Lakes Naval Training Station: the Constitution, Bill of Rights, freedom of religion, communism and totalitarianism, citizen control of government, geopolitics and individual responsibility to group and country. There also is a character guidance program conducted by naval chaplains.

Michigan educators got assurances from military officials that high school records (not just grades) of trainees would be welcomed in classifying boys as to aptitudes and leadership abilities. The services asked in turn that high schools help them in various ways. The Navy, for example, wants lists of boys who drop out of high school. Lt. Cmdr. T. E. Houston, recruiting officer at Great Lakes, said the Navy would try to persuade them to return and finish high school. Only if they refused would an effort be made to enlist them, he said.

1. Students should be urged to finish high school and college (if they plan on college) before enlisting.
2. Even greater emphasis on mathematics courses is desirable —for the students' benefit and the services'.
3. Youth should be helped to take a positive attitude toward military service, to regard it as a responsibility of citizenship and to make it a worthwhile experience.
4. Students and parents should be given all available information on each branch of the armed forces.

The school officials who visited service bases, traveling approximately 4,000 air miles and talking with several hundred officers and trainees, not only will set up pilot programs in their own schools — some have been started — but will transmit their findings to other Michigan communities. It is their hope that the Michigan courses may set a pattern that other high schools of the nation may wish to follow.

Each of the pilot schools in the state is designing its own program. Some will make defense information and orientation a full course for boys, with girls participating to a limited extent.

Other schools are studying the possibility of integrating some of the material into several courses, such as social studies, geography, science, mathematics and physical education.

Supt. S. C. Mitchell of the Benton Harbor schools was one of those who saw the need for such a program early. As a result Benton Harbor High School has been doing something in that line for several years. Principal Charles Semler indicates the present thinking there is to tie the program in with several courses but to have a separate unit also.

Burman Misnar, teacher in Marysville's pilot school, is doing a doctoral thesis on the program. A course is being set up for the second semester at Marysville, and an evaluation plan is included.

Misnar pointed out that the defense department and the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges have recommended the instruction be included in a social problems class.

It will be required for all 12th grade boys, with senior girls tentatively included for part of the course.

At East Grand Rapids, Supt. Roy Featherston said the program probably will be set up in two phases for social problems and international relations classes, with senior girls brought in on some of the instruction and counseling.

John Allison, who directs the program at Ann Arbor High School, said the present plan of holding one class a week with the students divided into four sections of 60 each, will be expanded next semester. A faculty committee is working on the planning, and teachers see an opportunity to help with defense information and orientation in several fields, he said.

Films, lectures and visits by representatives of the various services have been a part of the current program in Ann Arbor.

The present Selective Service law expires next June 30; new legislation may change the picture, but in view of the present world situation the educators don't believe any change will be drastic. In any event, they are convinced their tour of military bases and subsequent activities will pay handsome dividends in helping Michigan youths make a smoother transition from civilian to military life and in easing the minds of parents of sons who must be trained to defend America.

Police Called Off Billingsley Hunt; Says Girl Wed

NEW YORK (AP)—Sherman Billingsley, owner of the Stork Club, has called off a police search for his 18-year-old daughter Barbara after learning she eloped with a New York photographer.

The girl had been missing since Saturday but her father waited until yesterday before asking police to try to find her. Then last night he telephoned police and said "we know where the girl is. We don't want any more police action."

Barbara telephoned home to confirm the family's suspicion that she had run away to marry John Rogers Christoffers, 28, a commercial photographer who uses the professional name of John Rogers. The couple met three weeks ago at a party.

Christoffers' brother Alfred said they were married Monday at Folkston, Ga., and are honeymooning in Florida. He would not tell where.

Printer Is Not Impressed by Newspaper Opinions

JACKSON, Miss (UP) — Leo Love, a Linotype operator for the Jackson Daily News, was asked by court officials yesterday whether his newspaper affiliation would have any effect on his decision as a juror in a murder trial.

"When you work around a newspaper for a while,' Love replied, "you get to where you don't pay any attention to what they write."

He was accepted as a juror.

One Wife Apiece Now for Mentolk of Arizona Town

KINGMAN, Ariz. (AP)—A year-long probation ended yesterday for nine residents of once polygamous Short Creek, Ariz.

Superior Court Judge Robert S. Tullar, who passed the original sentence against the men in 1953, turned down a petition to revoke the probation and send them to jail. The state claimed the men had resumed practice of plural marriages.

Each of the men testified he had not practiced polygamy during the past year and did not intend to practice it again.

The tiny Short Creek community was brought to national attention July 23, 1953, when officers raided it and arrested virtually the entire population.

Police in New Orleans Go In for Rough Sports

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — Police Sgt. Jared Rankin was under suspension today because he failed to take action after a shooting in the sixth district police station.

Marie Dionne Leaves School

Frailest of 4 Surviving Quints Returns Home 'Very Tired'

MONTREAL, (AP)—Marie Dionne, frailest of the four remaining quintuplets, has given up her second venture into the world beyond her home. Her sister said last night the 20-year-old girl is "very tired" and has returned to her parents from a Roman Catholic college here.

The quints' elder sister Mrs. Maurice Girouard, of Waterloo, Quebec, said Marie went to the family home in Callander, Ontario, for the Nov. 1 All Saints holiday and had not returned to her domestic science studies at Marguerite Bourgeoys College.

School officials said the girl had left because of ill health. Her father Oliva said in Callander Marie was not sick but had come home because she didn't like the school.

Mrs. Girouard gave this explanation:

"When she got home, Marie saw Mum was lonely and decided to stay for awhile. . . . She has gone home to get a good rest. She is not ill but she needs peace and quiet."

Shortly before her sister Emilie's death last summer, Marie ended her first try at life away from her family. Reportedly homesick and in ill health, she quit the Quebec convent of a cloistered order where she had been a postulant for eight months.

Mrs. Girouard said the girl's health had improved steadily at home and she had felt well enough to start school last September.

Transit Strike Averted by Pact in Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, (AP) — Transit workers voted 490-60 last night to accept a Kansas City Public Service Co. contract proposal, averting a streetcar and bus strike scheduled for midnight.

The rest of the union's 1,400 members vote on the offer today.

Rex Bradley, assistant dispatcher for the transit company, said, "I feel certain the offer will be accepted by the whole membership."

Exact terms of the proposal were not disclosed.

Grains Climb Moderately

CHICAGO, Dec. 1 (AP) — Grains moved ahead after an irregular opening on the Board of Trade today. Dealings were fairly active on the advance.

More flour buying stimulated demand for wheat. Snow and cold weather in parts of the midwest brought buying into feed grain. Soybeans lagged, being subjected to mild hedging pressure.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅝ to ⅞ higher, December $2.29⅛; corn ¼ to ⅞ higher, December $1.58⅞; oats ⅛ to ½ higher, December 83; rye unchanged to ¼ higher, December $1.26; soybeans ¾ lower to ¼ higher, January, $2.85¼; and lard unchanged to five cents a hundred pounds lower, December $14.05.

Detroiters Hold Part of School Land Site

Willis M. Brewer today amplified an article appearing in Tuesday's Pontiac Press. It reported authorization by the Pontiac Board of Education for reopening of condemnation proceedings on 12 acres of land sought for the site of a proposed elementery school.

The article listed Brewer as owner of the land.

"I am still the owner," said Brewer today. "However, I sold part of this land on a contract a year and a half ago to Max Migdoll and Louis Blumberg of Detroit and others. I sold the rest of it to them on a contract this last July. They are planning to build some 300 homes there and my firm is going to sell them."

Waite's Blaze Dies Out Before Firemen Arrive

Firemen from Pontiac's main station were right on the job this morning when a spark from welding equipment started a small blaze in the rear elevator shaft at Waite's Department Store.

But by the time the firemen arrived, the fire was already out and no damage was reported.

Market Rallies After Low Start

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (AP) — The stock market rallied today after a lower start.

The opening downtrend soon gave way to a mixed condition as more and more plus signs appeared, and then the entire market swung forward.

Aircrafts were out in front of the advance, and they had good help from the railroads, steels, motors, utilities, oils, coppers, rubbers, distillers, chemicals, airlines, and radio-television.

Mercury Price List Revealed

Both Reductions and Increases Announced by Division

Price reductions up to $20 and increases as much as $31 were announced yesterday for 1955 Mercury cars.

The cars will go on public display throughout the nation tomorrow.

The Lincoln-Mercury Division of the Ford Motor Co. said the Sun Valley and convertible models formerly sold as the Monterey series will be available only in its new top-priced Montclair series for 1955.

Listed below are factory list prices for 1955, compared with 1954 models:

Custom Series—Two door sedan, $2,015, down $10; four-door sedan, $2,070, down $8; sports coupe, $2,130, down $8, and station wagon, $2,450. (No station wagon offered in custom series in 1954.)

Monterey Series—Four-door sedan, $2,185, up $31; hardtop coupe, $2,245, down $20; and station wagon, $2,597, up $31.

Montclair Series — Hardtop coupe, $2,400; Sun Valley, $2,475, and convertible, $2,475. (Since series is new, company says there are no comparable prices for 1954.)

A $30 reduction in the price of power steering was announced, bringing it to $100. The price of radios was cut $9 to $89.50.

The multi-luber power lubrication price was set at $40, dual exhausts for the custom series at $40, and air conditioning at $550. Dual exhausts are standard on Monterey and Montclair series.

Death of Atomic Scientist Comes as Personal Blow

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS) — "Mrs. Fermi won't be able to meet you today after all," a voice said. "Her husband just fell ill, and she canceled her trip from Chicago."

That was on a Friday morning, Oct. 8th, and I was disappointed. Not at being "stood up" for an interview, but at missing a personal talk with the author of a marvelous new book that was to be published 10 days later, a book so warm, so amusing, so human I knew I'd love its author at sight.

"Atoms in the Family" was it's name, and its author, Laura Fermi, had quite a subject to write about, Enrico Fermi, his life and work.

For her world - famous husband was the nuclear physicist who had directed the work on the first atomic pile in Chicago and there achieved the first chain reaction mankind had ever known.

I had been sent an advance copy of Laura Fermi's book; I had read several chapters whole and then bits and pieces all around those chapters.

I knew 15,000 copies were already in print, and that its publishers said it would surely hit 50,000 by Christmas—a shattering figure for a biography about a scientist.

A few days after our broken appointment a 4-inch news item in the papers said, "Dr. Fermi in hospital. . .satisfactory progress after surgery—reported to be exploratory in nature."

"An exploratory operation," I said aloud, "that's just what the papers said about Sen. Taft at first."

I prayed that if it were cancer it would be at the early stage where cure is possible.

I thought of isotopes, I thought of cures for cancer which would undoubtedly be developed in a few short years, perhaps as a result of the new knowledge Enrico Fermi and his colleagues had opened up so recently to the whole world.

And then, as with most outsiders, I forgot that small news item until the moment, just this Sunday night, when a broadcaster said, "Dr. Enrico Fermi, father of the atom bomb, is dead at 53."

It hit me almost as hard as if I'd known him personally.

So vividly alive had he become, in his wife's witty and loving book, so alive had all his "nuclear colleagues" become with him, that I felt as if the loss of his genius was my loss as well as the nation's.

And now, hours later, after that first shock has worn off, I still think it's the loss of all Americans who care about greatness, and all Americans who still remember and cherish our old great tradition of asylum to the oppressed and persecuted of the world.

For Enrico Fermi was a refugee. Like Albert Einstein, like Lise Meitner, like Niels Bohr, like Leo Szilard—nuclear physicists every one, and refugees every one—he came to America as to a haven of safety, of freedom and of human dignity.

That was after he had won the Nobel Prize in physics in 1938. It was the prize money that enabled him to take his family out of Fascist Italy forever and start life anew in the United States, a citizen as fast as he could become one, a free scientist for all time.

Now he is dead—years before his gifts of new research and further knowledge could all be laid at his country's feet.

Tomorrow, it just happens, is an anniversary in the history of Enrico Fermi—and of the atomic age itself. His wife opens her book by telling of a plaque on the outer wall of a soot-streaked old building in Chicago.

"On December 2, 1942," it reads, "man achieved here the first self-sustaining chain reaction and thereby initiated the controlled release of nuclear energy."

Michigan Auto Club Now World's Biggest

DETROIT (UP) — The Automobile Club of Michigan's board of directors were told at their annual meeting yesterday that the AAA now has more than 418,000 Michigan members and is the largest auto club in the world.

President Clarence E. Otter of Detroit was reelected as the board chose its 1955 officers. He said the AAA now has 42 offices throughout the state.

Other officers elected were: Henry S. Hulbert, first vice president; Charles L. Wilson, second vice president; Frank J. Howlett, third vice president; Ralph Thomas, secretary; and J. Lee Barrett, treasurer. All are Detroiters except Thomas, who lives in Lansing.

GIs' Off-Duty Mishaps Worry Military Brass

WASHINGTON (UP)—An Air Force doctor says increasing numbers of automobile and other off-duty accidents that kill or injure servicemen are "posing a serious threat" to the over-all effectiveness of the military forces.

Col. T. C. Bedwell Jr., of the Air Force surgeon general's office, yesterday told the annual convention of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States:

"Service personnel have one of the worst accident records of any group in the nation. Automobiles driven by young servicemen are 'an undesirable insurance risk.'"

Detroit Firm Gets Fine in Anti-Trust Decision

CLEVELAND (UP) — Federal Judge Emerich B. Reed Monday fined 12 metal abrasive manufacturers and distributors a total of $54,000 on anti-trust charges.

Lawyers for the defendants pleaded no contest to the charges. The amount of the fines was recommended by the justice department.

Penalties totaling $30,000 were levied against a combine consisting of the Pittsburgh Crushed Steel Co. and five subsidiaries. Pittsburgh Crushed Steel was fined $15,000. Fines against its subsidiaries included Clayton - Sherman Abrasives Co. of Detroit, $3,500.

Edison Hits Peak Load

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit Edison's generating electrical system carried an all-time peak load of 2,049,000 kilowatts Nov. 23, from 5:30 to 5:45 p.m., the company said Tuesday. Edison said the peak was hit because of a need for industrial power brought about by the Thanksgiving holiday. It said the peak was 13.9 per cent above the same week last year.

Packard Claims Endurance Run

Firm Says Stock Car Averaged 104 MPH in 25,000 Mile Test

A four-door Packard sedan powered with a pre-production 1955 V-8 engine has completed a 25,000-mile endurance run at an average of 104.737 mph., Studebaker-Packard Corp., Detroit said yesterday. The company said in a statement that the run "eclipsed any stock car performance now on the record books." It said the speed included pit stops for fueling and servicing.

The endurance run, said the company, was observed and timed by the contest board of the American Automobile Assn., but that the test did not qualify for official AAA records because it was conducted on Packard's private proving grounds.

Packard said the car "exceeded every national closed car record in existence from five miles to 25,000 miles and every world unlimited record, regardless of type of car, from 10,000 to 25,000 miles."

The company said the world unlimited record for 10,000 miles was set by a European sports car at 100.65 mph. It said existing national closed car records were broken from 6 to 36 mph through the entire 25,000-mile run.

Red Cross Forms First Aid Committee

At an organizational meeting of the Oakland County Chapter of American Red Cross last night, a First Aid Advisory Committee for the chapter was named. This is the first such committee Oakland County has ever had.

Treasurer is Mrs. Orren Brown Jr., of Pontiac, with Mrs. Lester Hummel of Clawson named as secretary.

Working with the new program chairman, Mrs. LeRoy Buttorph of Royal Oak, will be David Warrilow, Dr. Maurice Thome, Leon Bumgardner, all of Pontiac, and Lester Hummel of Clawson.

The committee's first meeting is slated for Jan. 10 at the chapter house and will include all first aid instructors.

T. E. Wilsons Purchase Farm at Metamora

The 120-acre Theron Van Dusen farm at Metamora has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Wilson of Birmingham.

Located on Barber road, the farm includes a large colonial home and several stock and grain barns. The purchase price was not disclosed.

Roy Annett of Roy Annett Realty, Inc., handled the purchase for the Wilsons and Mrs. Sue A. Stall of Snyder, Kinney and Bennett represented the sellers.

Many animals pass part of the year in sleep, the process being called hibernation when it occurs in cold weather and aestivation when it takes place in hot, dry weather.

June Havoc Is Animal Lover

Star Feels at Home Playing Wife of Vet in Television Show

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Actress June Havoc credits at least 85 per cent of the success of her new video show to pig squeals and puppy dog tails.

"But cats," she shrugged, "are just the worst actors in the world."

June, who with hubby William (March of Time) Spier, is producing the comedy, Willy, for TV, thinks animals are better Hamlets than people.

"So far," she grinned, "we've had a goat, six dogs and two baby pigs on the show and they've all been great, especially the pigs."

"I don't mean to brag," she added pridefully, "but I do have a way with animals. Nobody could keep those pigs quiet but me. I remember one of them fell asleep in my arms after I rocked him and sang to him. He was so contented I had to pinch him to make him squeal on cue."

June, the animal lover, complained, however, that cats are the living dismal end.

"They always put on a great floor show at home," she said, making a face, "but they're terrible flops in front of the camera. They slink and crawl on their bellies and act like positive idiots."

But kitten-hearted June relented long enough the other day to land an acting job for a stray, white feline with three legs and yellow eyes.

"I felt sorry for him," she confessed.

The blonde actress got a reproachful glance from Timothy Troll, her tiny Yorkshire terrier who was waiting patiently for his second helping of a three-inch steak.

"Timmy knows what I mean about cats," she said. "He's had to fill in a couple of times for kittens that scratched out."

June, who plays the sweetheart of a veterinarian in Willy, admitted her devotion to the animal kingdom dates back to the affectionate age of two, when she won a $5 gold piece in a dancing contest and promptly invested it in a guinea pig.

She swears the animal brought her more luck than a rabbit's foot, or even a horseshoe, because it wasn't long afterward that Anna Pavlova hired her as a member of the famed ballerina's dance company and brought her to Hollywood.

A short time later June was made a real honest-to-goodness movie actress by Hal Roach.

"He signed me up because I looked so thin and hungry," June laughed. "The truth was I liked that guinea pig so much I fed him most of my meals."

Drunk Driver Makes Contact at Right Place

MEXICO CITY (UP)—Police said today Raul Islas got 15-year-old Enrique Urbina drunk yesterday and then decided to give the boy a driving lesson.

Enrique promptly smashed Islas' auto into two parked cars belonging to the department of the control of alcoholics.

New Book, New Slant

Washington 'Not to Blame' for Pearl Harbor Disaster

WASHINGTON (UP)—The long controversy over who was to blame for the 1941 Pearl Harbor disaster rages again this week.

Retired Capt. T. B. Kittredge, a Naval historian, concluded in a new study that no important information "was ever withheld" by Washington from the U.S. commanders in Hawaii.

Kittredge's findings, published in a copyrighted article in the U.S. News and World Report, sharply contradict conclusions drawn by Rear Adm. Robert A. Theobold in a book published earlier this year.

Theobold's book charged President Roosevelt wanted the Japanese to attack Pearl Harbor to give the United States an excuse for entering World War II and therefore kept important information from Pearl Harbor commanders.

Kittredge said such a claim "fantastically misrepresents what actually happened."

He said basic strategic policy followed at thetime was to avoid war in the Pacific if hostilities in the Atlantic threatened. Far from wanting Japan to attack, he said, the chief aim of U.S. planners was to prevent it.

He also said the War and Navy departments "kept Army and Navy commands in the Pacific as fully informed as possible, throughout 1941, of developments in the rapidly changing world political and military situation, and of action being planned by the administration in Washington.

"No definite information available in Washington . . . was ever withheld from the commands in the Pacific," he said.

"If the actual presence and sighting of Japanese submarines and planes in the vicinity of Pearl Harbor failed to warn the Hawaiian commands and staffs of immediate danger—one is entitled to wonder whether a new verbal warning message from the War or Navy departments . . . would have had any greater effect."

Despite a "war warning" dispatched Nov. 27, just 10 days before the Pearl Harbor attack, the defense plans "were not ordered placed in efefect," Kittredge said.

Theobold's views were endorsed in part by retired Adm. William H. Standley. According to U.S. News and World Report, the conclusions reached by Kittredge are shared by Gen. George C. Marshall and Adm. Harold R. Stark, Army chief of staff and Naval chief of operations, respectively, at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack.

Slag Crushes Man in Rescue Attempt

LORAIN, Ohio (UP)—Caught in a collapsing slag pile, the general manager of the Lorain Slag Co. was crushed to death yesterday while trying to rescue a trapped employe.

William F. Miller, of suburban Bay Village, had tried to save Henry Kraemer, 23. Kraemer was in serious condition in St. Joseph's Hospital with back injuries and possible fractured ribs.

The slag had become caked over a 15-foot pit opening into a conveyor system that led to a freighter on which it was being loaded. Kraemer stepped onto the pile and it collapsed. Miller rushed to his rescue but dropped from sight.

Kraemer, whose head was visible, was pulled out first by workmen who later extricated Miller.

Actress Seeks Divorce

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Cuban actress Estelita Rodriguez, 26, has sued Grant Withers, 51-year-old movie actor, for divorce on the ground of cruelty. They were married in 1953.

Nehru's Party Losing Ground

Congress Group Slips in Elections; Commies Gain Strength

NEW DELHI (UP)—India's Congress party is in the throes of an internal crisis which must be a joy to the country's Communists. The Congress, Prime Minister Nehru's party, is losing members and elections—and its internal cohesion.

The Congress is still the giant among Indian political parties. It is riding along on its prestige as the rallying point in the fight for Indian independence and on Nehru's popularity. Congress members hold about 70 per cent of Parliament.

However, since the national elections two years ago things have not gone well for the party. Earlier this year it lost its majority in Travancore-Cochin state. More recently it slipped in Delhi municipal elections, while a Congress government in Andhra state was ousted with a no-confidence vote. The party's Executive Board recently heard a report indicating membership was dropping.

Meantime, Communists were gaining electoral ground in Delhi and Travancore-Cochin. In Andhra, Reds played an important role in the coalition which ousted the Congress government.

A third party, the People's Socialists, led the forces defeating Congress in Travancore-Cochin. But the Socialists were having troubles of their own, with their leadership seriously divided and apparently unable to give the party a platform.

While Congress was united in seeking the goal of political independence from the British, it has been unable to push a program for bringing Indians "economic and social independence." The party insists it is aiming for a "welfare state," and Nehru pleads for domestic reforms in land and industry. However, Congress leaders have not been able to enact this program because important elements within the party—industrialists, landowners and Hindu extremists—have been opposed.

Thus some of those turning to communism likely are doing so because of impatience with the Congress party.

U.S. Cities Need Billions to Untangle Traffic Jams

By ROBERT ZIMMERMAN

NEW YORK (UP) — American cities are locked in a monumental traffic jam and it is going to cost billions of dollars to untangle it.

A staggering sum already has been spent on expressways and parkways, underpasses and overpasses, new bridges and viaducts, and municipal parking lots. But city streets still are choked with automobiles. Finding a parking place is still a lone-shot proposition in the business district of most U. S. cities.

A survey of 20 major cities indicates traffic officials are trying frantically to keep up with the demand for more parking space and faster and smoother traffic arteries. But almost everywhere the cities are running behind.

Only one city—Indianapolis—reported any kind of satisfaction about the traffic problem. There, the city has kept pace with its growth by invoking one-way traffic on certain streets, by use of parking meters, by providing private and public parking lots as the demand arose.

But in other metropolitan areas these formulas have been thrown out of kilter by traffic bottlenecks that couldn't be eliminated by simple one-way streets and increases in auto registration that caught planners off guard.

Motorists creep like snails through downtown Boston. Atlanta admits its traffice problem is bad and growing worse. Los Angeles and Pittsburgh describe their dilemma as "acute." Philadelphia wants to get rid of its trolleys...but then what will happen to the people who ride trolleys?

In 1945, 31,035,000 cars and trucks were registered in the United States. This year the registration stood at 54,495,000.

The auto industry expects to produce 5,800,000 new cars and trucks next year. About 3,000,000 old vehicles will be wrecked or junked, according to industry estimates, and the result will be a gain of more than 2,000,000 in the number of cars in operation.

Chicago has spent $27,500,000 for downtown parking facilities in the past two years. New York's traffic commissioner is asking for $10,000,000 next year for city parking lots and garages. Pittsburgh is spending $200,000,000 on expressways, bridges and other projects, and Boston is building a "belt" highway encircling the city at a cost of more than $400,000,000.

The problem is on of too many cars and not enough streets, but it falls into two principal fields—how to keep traffic moving and where to put cars when they're parked.

Retrieving Hat Delays Train for Two Minutes

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Jo Hasson wailed in anguish yesterday when her new $12.50 hat blew off and fell under the second car of a Long Island Railroad train.

Money Flows Easily, but Hard to Hold Onto

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Swedish actress Lili Kardell, 18, had this advice today from a Superior Court judge:

World rice production is approximately 7.6 billion bushels.
