PAPC Funding Viewed as Legal by City Attorney

The legality of the Pontiac Area Planning Council (PAPC) again was brought into question by the Pontiac City Commission at its meeting last night. It was held that the city could spend funds on the PAPC — under certain conditions.

The commission has been directing an investigation of PAPC operations for the past three weeks and requesting City Attorney Sherwin Birnkrant to advise the commissioners on several areas of activity.

Last night Birnkrant's opinion centered on funding of PAPC. The commission had questioned whether the city could legally turn over tax money for PAPC operations.

Birnkrant's opinion was that it could as long as control over appointments to the PAPC board of governors remained in the hands of the administration creating the body, the commission and the Pontiac School Board.

WITHIN PROVISIONS

The PAPC was formed in October 1967 to act as a planning and advisory group to the city and schools.

Last week Birnkrant informed the board that the PAPC, in his opinion, had not been functioning entirely in accordance with provisions of enabling resolutions.

One of his criticisms was that the PAPC had never submitted a budget to the commission. District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin again asked why no budget had been submitted. Irwin also asked for clarification of how the PAPC was set up as a nonprofit corporation.

The PAPC has not yet requested funds from either the city or the schools, but has been operating from donations from private and industry sources.

'DAY-TO-DAY BASIS'

David Doherty, PAPC director, told the commission last week that the PAPC had been operating on a day-to-day basis financially and that no budget for 1969 had yet been presented.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. continued his criticism of the group's activities and said "pressure groups" were attempting to dominate it. He also again added he felt the PAPC, as it was originally established, was very important to the community.

The PAPC next meets 7:30 p.m. Feb. 14 at the School Board office, East Wide Track and Auburn.

Mayor Taylor has explained his insistance on defining the legality of the PAPC is not to undermine the organization, but to be sure it is able to continue to function on a sound basis.

SAVED FROM MINE — Rescuers lift Joe Corelco into an ambulance after getting him and 11 other miners out of the Christopher Coal Co. Humphrey No. 7 mine yesterday at Mount Morris, Pa. All of those rescued except Corelco were able to leave the mine under their own power. Fire, which had trapped the miners, still is not under control.

Rocky Mulling Latin Mission

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, passed over for a place in the Nixon Cabinet, has been asked by his former presidential rival to head a fact-finding mission to Latin America.

ROCKEFELLER

The White House confirmed last night that Rockefeller had been contacted on the subject in recent days.

But news secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said no firm decision has been made yet on whether to even send such a mission.

Rockefeller, whose family has extensive interests in Latin America and worked on some of the area's problems in the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt, said he was "seriously considering" the offer.

Diplomatic sources said Nixon had decided U.S. policy toward Latin America needed a "thorough reexamination" in the light of a trend toward military dictatorships.

3 TAKE-OVERS

Power Failure Hits Huge Area of Florida

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A massive power failure blacked out in checkerboard fashion a huge section of Florida last night, including urban areas containing more than half the state's population.

The area affected by the blackout was the triangle from Daytona Beach on the north, southwest to Tampa-St. Petersburg and southeast to the Miami area.

Only Jacksonville of Florida's larger cities was spared the blackout.

The power failure occurred at a Fort Lauderdale generating plant.

CHECKERBOARDING

The intricate feeder system by which power moves from station to station caused a checkerboarding, an official said, leaving some areas blacked out while others had normal service.

The company reported full service was restored to all areas within half an hour.

Almost the entire tourist-filled Daytona Beach area was reported without power, and some 35 per cent of Orlando was blacked out in the center of the state.

On the opposite coast, St. Petersburg and Tampa reported pocket blackouts that were largely confined to residential areas.

Titusville, near the Kennedy Space Center, reported a 20 per cent outage. Lights went out at the Brevard County Courthouse, but remained on at city hall just two blocks away.

AFFECTED AREAS

The failure skipped down the coast, knocking lights out in sections of Melbourne, West Palm Beach, Jupiter, Delray Beach, Boynton Beach and Boca Raton.

Officials in the heavily populated areas of Fort Lauderdale, Hollywood, Dania and North Miami reported heavy traffic jams in their lightless sections.

THE EASY WAY — Pontiac Press carrier Timothy Giles, 12, of 3925 Athens, Waterford Township, found the best form of transportation for delivering papers yesterday on ice-covered streets.

Schools Closed by Weather

Freezing rain, drizzle and some sleet-slicked highways throughout the night in Lower Michigan caused many schools to close this morning.

The weather picture continues rather bleak with occasional light rain or drizzle until tonight when the rain may possibly change to snow.

Temperatures in the Pontiac area will fall from today's 40s to 27 to 33 tonight. Tomorrow's high is expected to reach 34.

Partly cloudy and cold is the outlook for Friday.

REPORTS ON ROADS

James H. Bradley, maintenance operation engineer for the Oakland County Road Commission, reported this morning that roads in the State Highway system and Oakland County primary system are generally clear.

Roads in the Oakland County local system for the most part are still ice-covered. All equipment that is available is working on the county local system, Bradley said.

The local system includes all subdivision streets—for which the Oakland County Road Commission is responsible.

All available personnel were out until midnight clearing roads. From midnight until 7 a.m. skeleton crews were on duty. Then shortly after 7 all available equipment and personnel started in again.

Dense fog shrouding southeastern Michigan closed Metropolitan, Detroit City and Oakland-Pontiac airports. Service is not expected to resume until the fog lifts probably late today, according to the local airport.

Among Oakland County schools closed today were Bloomfield Township, West Bloomfield Township, Keego Harbor, Brandon Township, Bloomfield Hills Day School, Sacred Heart, in Avon Township, Rochester, Ortonville, Walled Lake Consolidate, Oxford, Holly, Lake Orion, Huron Valley and Novi.

Schools in Waterford Township, Kingswood and Cranbrook Schools, Bloomfield Hills are open with no bus service.

School bus transportation is available only from main roads in Birmingham and Southfield and Avon and Farmington townships.

Thirty-seven was the low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury reading was 41 at 2 p.m.

South Viet Plans Short Tet Truce

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government indicated today that it would declare a truce for the lunar new year Feb. 17, but a far shorter one than the seven-day cease-fire announced by the Vietcong earlier today.

The Vietcong's National Liberation Front broadcast an announcement that the Communist military command "will stop all military activities" from 7 a.m. Saigon time Feb. 15 until 7 a.m. Feb. 22. The period is known as Tet, the festival of the lunar new year and the biggest holiday in the Vietnamese calendar.

The Vietcong broadcast said any military operations by the United States, South Vietnam and their allies, including air, naval and artillery bombardment, would be considered a violation of the cease-fire and "must be punished."

★ ★ ★

Four hours after the broadcast, a spokesman for the South Vietnamese government said: "The Vietnamese government is willing to have a truce because Tet is a solemn occasion and for the happiness of the Vietnamese people." But he added that the truce "will not last very long if there is any."

TO OBSERVE CEASE-FIRE

U. S. forces will undoubtedly observe any cease-fire declared by Saigon, as they have all such truces in the past.

A Tet truce last year had just begun when the Vietcong attacked more than 100 cities and towns including Saigon in their biggest offensive of the war. Although the government is expected to call some sort of cease-fire, it undoubtedly will try to avoid the wholesale relaxation which left its forces at 50 per cent strength or less when the enemy struck a year ago.

The Vietcong broadcast said government soldiers controlled by the Vietcong to visit their families or the graves of their ancestors "must go scattered, not by groups, and must not be armed."

U. S. forces and their allies, the announcement said, "are free to move and to participate in all Tet festivities" if they obey the cease-fire conditions.

ACTION BY VC

The anniversary of last year's offensive comes this Friday, and there has been speculation that the Vietcong may attempt some action within the next few days to mark the occasion. But no major enemy activity was reported today.

★ ★ ★

Army: Officer Shortage in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three years after the Vietnam buildup got started, the Army is trying to overcome a shortage of infantry officers.

The pinch throughout the Army is so tight that many regular infantry lieutenant colonels, including many World War II and Korean War veterans, are being denied retirement even though they are eligible through length of service.

The Army refuses to discuss numbers, but sources said there is a shortage of 799 lieutenant colonels, who command infantry battalions, among other assignments.

UNEXPLAINED DEARTH

Although more than 50 Army lieutenant colonels have been killed in Vietnam, this would hardly be the cause of the shortage.

But some Army sources said the loss of more than 670 majors and captains has had an important effect since their deaths took them off the promotion ladder.

Although more than 1,000 Army lieutenants have died in Vietnam, the Army cited other reasons for a lack of company grade infantry officers.

"The number of infantry officers gained from ROTC this fiscal year is smaller than expected, with many officers choosing other combat arms and services," the Army said.

COMBAT LAG

In other words, they did not want to serve with the rifle units carrying the brunt of the fighting.

"And a large number of infantry officers who entered active duty during the 1966-67 buildup are due to complete their service obligations this year," the Army said.

This referred to young officers who received their commissions through college ROTC or officer candidate school and were obligated to serve at least two years on active duty.

Recently, the Army has extended this obligation to three years for enlisted men picked for OCS.

Living Cost Rise Less in December

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rise in living costs slowed in December with an increase of two-tenths of one per cent, but 1968 still wound up with the sharpest annual hike in 17 years, totaling 4.7 per cent, the government said today.

The Labor Department's consumer price index ended the year at 123.7, meaning it cost $12.37 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, which supplied the figures, also reported the average weekly earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose 5.5 per cent last year but "increases in consumer prices eroded most of this gain."

Most of last month's increase was due to a six-tenths of one per cent rise in food prices and a five-tenths hike in housing costs.

'Big Plus for City'

Exec Boosts Stadium

Pontiac's proposed domed stadium for professional sports would be a "valuable asset" to the metropolitan area, according to a local businessman.

Harold S. Goldberg, president of Thomas Jewelry Co., Inc., and Joda Industries Inc., said the stadium, planned for possible construction near the intersection of I-75 and M59, "would be of tremendous benefit to the City of Pontiac" if economically feasible.

Goldberg of 1079 James K is a director of the Community National Bank and a trustee of Pontiac General Hospital.

A five-man stadium authority was recently created by the City Commission to handle negotiations with the Detroit Lions and Tigers, who have indicated willingness to move from Tiger Stadium in downtown Detroit.

Racial Report Causes Soul-Searching in City

By ED BLUNDEN

Reaction to the findings of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission (MCRC) on race relations in Pontiac continue with opinions appearing sharply divided on implications of the report, issued Monday.

The report called Pontiac a "city divided by racial and ethnic prejudices and fears" and described how hearings held last June uncovered racial prejudice at almost every level of community life.

The report specifically attacked public and police activities and was sharply critical of the county's social services, law enforcement and schools.

City officials have defended their record and pointed out that much progress has been made in racial relations in the 7½ months that elapsed since the hearings and issuance of the report.

'FAIR AND ACCURATE'

Many others, particularly in the black community, said they felt the report was fair and accurate and that the efforts made since last June only "tokenism."

Whatever the reaction, it appears evident to many that the MCRC report has sent the community into a period of soul-searching and reevaluation of goals.

Following are a sampling of community opinions on various aspects of the MCRC report:

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., had mixed feelings on the MCRC report and said he saw positive action taken and still to be taken if further progress was to come out of it.

"Though I don't agree with all aspects of the findings, nor the bad timing of the report, so long after the hearing the document can prove valuable in our future efforts providing the progress made is recognized by the MCRC.

"Perhaps the report did not give us enough credit for our determined efforts and accomplishments, but on the other hand it pointed out how far we have to go.

"I certainly hope this will not prove to be a dividing factor in the community. Rather it should represent our continued goal," the mayor said.

"And all should understand that, the same as the other goals of our city, we cannot accomplish everything overnight.

"There is a lot of work ahead of us in the area of good race relations and all those things that create a fine community. If we continue to work together, there's nothing we can't do," Taylor said.

Pueblo Court of Inquiry Has Many Options for Action

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The Medal of Honor.

Two years in prison and dismissal.

So far they're the best and the worst that could happen to the skipper of the Pueblo, a Navy source says.

But the court of inquiry investigating the Pueblo's capture might recommend no action at all, for or against Cmdr. Lloyd Wm. Bucher, one Navy lawyer said.

Instead, he said, the court might recommend investigation of outfitting, armament, explosives to destroy secret materials and what to do when an intelligence ship is attacked.

POSSIBILITIES OUTLINED

Lt. Les Osborne of the 11th Naval District Law Center outlined what actions the court of inquiry could recommend to Adm. John J. Hyland, commander of the Pacific Fleet.

★ ★ ★

On one hand, Osborne said, the court "can recommend any kind of lauditory action it deems appropriate, including a letter of commendation, early promotion . . . the sky's the limit."

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, he said, it could:

- Make no recommendation, letting the entire matter rest after the inquiry.
- Recommend no action whatsoever.
- Recommend nonpunitive actions such as investigations of outfitting or armament availability.

- Suggest a nonpunitive letter to Bucher or any crewman that "your action was found to be remiss, but the nature of that failure in judgment did not violate regulations.
- Recommend a punitive letter, or letter of reprimand, or admonition, saying "your conduct was found to violate regulations." Such a letter, Osborne said, could be considered when the recipient comes up for promotion. But Osborne said officers and crewmen have been promoted with such a letter in their files, if the rest of their records are clean.
- Call for a court-martial. The worst sentence Bucher could get from a court-martial, if he is found guilty of violating the only regulation he has been warned about so far, would be two years in prison and dismissal from the service, Osborne said.

The court has warned Bucher he is suspected of violating a Navy regulation saying "the commanding officer shall not permit his command to be searched by any person representing a foreign state nor permit any of the personnel under his command to be removed from the command by such a person, so long as he has the power to resist."

Hyland could decide not to act on the court's recommendation. If he feels too sympathetic with Bucher, or too adverse, he could give the recommendation to one of his senior officers for action.

Bucher or any of the crewmen could submit statements to Hyland by appealing the recommendations, Osborne said. And they could appeal any of Hyland's actions to the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

They could appeal any action by court martial to the court of military appeals.

Mortgage Rate Revision Poses Usury Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon's administration's new directive on government-insured mortgage rates presents the interest payments authorized by the several states with a peculiar problem — the interest payments authorized by the federal government violates their usury laws.

★ ★ ★

In a White House meeting yesterday, George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, reported the apparent conflict between the 7½ per cent federal allowances and the interest rate limits imposed by seven states.

Romney announced Friday, that federal rates were being raised to 7½ per cent in order to keep money flowing into the house market.

The states with laws forbidding interest as high as 7½ per cent are Michigan, where Romney was governor, Illinois, New York, Iowa, North Carolina, South Carolina and North Dakota.

UPPER LIMIT

No special action is planned on the matter, a Housing and Urban Development spokesman said later, since Romney's order set only the upper limit on rates.

The spokesman said mortgage lenders in states involved will not be able to charge the maximum interest.

Weather Again Delays Ski School Classes

Pontiac Press Ski School beginners' lessons scheduled for tonight and tomorrow have again been postponed due to the closing of Mt. Holly Ski Area.

Poor skiing conditions have forced the temporary closure of Mt. Holly.

The remainder of the January Press Ski School classes will be held the first two Thursdays in February, weather permitting.

The first class of the February sessions begins next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Mt. Holly, 13536 S. Dixie, Groveland Township. Classes for this session are filled.

THE BATTLE'S OVER — Spec. 4 William J. Lampi and his father, Leslie Lampi of 857 E. Walton, are reunited after the youth's discharge from the Army. His return from Vietnam climaxed a lengthy struggle by his father to convince Army brass and congressmen that his son's wounds were too severe for further combat duty.

Father's Crusade Results in Wounded GI's Discharge

Leslie Lampi's reaction to his wounded son's return from Vietnam Friday was "Thank God."

When Spec. 4 William J. (Billy) Lampi reached Pontiac after receiving his discharge from the Army, the homecoming climaxed nearly two months of crusading by his father.

Leslie Lampi, 47, of 957 E. Walton had spent hundreds of dollars on long-distance phone calls to congressmen, generals and Pentagon brass in an effort to keep Billy from being returned to Vietnam last month.

Billy, 20, holder of a Silver Star and two Bronze Stars for heroism in combat, had suffered eye wounds and was being treated in a Japanese hospital last month when his father's crusade began.

ORDERED TO RETURN

Though his vision was hampered, Billy was ordered back to Vietnam and the elder Lampi took to the telephone.

"It looked hopeless after I had contacted so many high-ranking people without results," said Lampi.

But he received a phone call from Billy Thursday and was told of the good news.

"As far as officials go, I don't know whom to thank," he said.

FILLING SANDBAGS

Billy admitted he didn't know who was behind the decision either.

"I was filling sandbags at Fire Base Long near the DMZ when an officer walked up and said, 'You're going home.' I couldn't believe it then or when I was on the way back or even when I reached the States.

"I still can't believe I'm really home."

He said plans include taking it easy for a while, then going to work with his father, an iron worker.

A LITTLE CURIOUS

"My dad's efforts did the trick," he said, but both father and son are a little curious about what member of "the brass" finally relented.

"It really doesn't matter too much any more though," said Billy.

"I'm home."

Fowler Critical of Harambee

Harambee Inc., a black community development organization, was criticized by City Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr. at last night's City Commission meeting.

Fowler, the sole Negro commissioner and the representative of District 1, accused Harambee of being black segregationist while at the same time seeking government funds for its housing and development plans.

William Jackson, director of Harambee, appeared at the close of the meeting to defend the group against the charge. He explained Harambee was formed by black citizens in the black community, "but the same rules (nondiscrimination) will apply as in other government housing projects.

He said others would be allowed to move into the developments if they desired. Jackson questioned Fowler on where he got his information on Harambee policies. Fowler said he read it in a Detroit area newspaper which stated Harambee was going to build a "beautiful black ghetto."

Jackson said, "This is not our policy" and pointed out such a plan would not be eligible for government funds.

Harambee has planning and operational grants from Detroit-area private sources totaling about $80,000 thus far. The group is now seeking to acquire property and, after the planning stage, expects to begin a varied program of housing development and rehabilitation, Jackson explained.

Ford in Dearborn to Close for 3 Days

DEARBORN (AP) — The United Auto Workers union said yesterday it had been notified by Ford Motor Co. that its Dearborn assembly plant will be closed for three days in February because of overproduction.

Abe Ellis, chairman of the Ford unit of UAW Local 600, said the union was told the shutdown will be Feb. 14, 17 and 18.

The Dearborn plant makes Ford Mustangs and Mercury Cougars.

Chrysler Corp. said Monday it intended to close between six and eight assembly plants for periods of one to two weeks because of overproduction.

Vote Reform Backed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Direct popular election of the president and vice president was proposed by a bipartisan group in the House yesterday as a modern substitute for the out-dated Electoral College.

Thirty-two Democrats and five Republicans joined Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., in introducing a proposed constitutional amendment that would make "the people" the direct electors of the nation's top two executives.

Birmingham Area

Public Hearing Set Tonight to Discuss Vacating of Alley

BIRMINGHAM — A public hearing on a request to vacate an alley west of Woodward between Quarton and Redding is scheduled for the city's planning board meeting tonight at 8.

The vacation request has been filed by A. L. Kassabian, 3481 Gunn, Lake Orion, owner of a new office building at Redding and Woodward and the vacant two-family house west of the alley.

The alley is presently unimproved. It is a 20-foot right-of-way that serves three businesses and two utility substations.

The city's police, engineering and planning departments have recommended that the alley right-of-way be maintained, "The city has been promoting a program of development and maintenance of alleys in commercial areas.

"Vacating the alley in question would be defeating the desires of the community. And it would also serve as a precedent for similar areas," William R. Brownfield, planning director, states in a letter to the Planning Board.

Public Hearing Held on Record Pontiac Budget

A public hearing on a record $10,177,620 city budget was held last night by the City Commission.

No comment was made on the document, and the commission proceeded with first reading of the appropriations ordinance. The budget is late this year due to installation of data processing equipment, it has been explained.

★ ★ ★

The commission also heard a request by Bloomfield Township to use the city's land-fill facilities. Township residents would be allowed to haul solid wastes to the sites and pay a per-cubic-yard fee under a proposed agreement.

Such an agreement now serves Keego Harbor, Sylvan Lake, and West Bloomfield and Waterford townships.

YOUTH OPPORTUNITY

The commission approved drawing up a contract for later approval.

The commission also heard a report from its Mayor's Executive Committee on Youth Job opportunity.

The report reported 2,034 jobs were obtained for youths last summer. The committee urged public and private organizations to support the program this summer.

Among other items, the commission:

- Approved preparations of plans and assessment roll for curb, gutter and paving on Kenilworth from Featherstone to University. Cost of the project is $105,000.
- Opened bids for sale of old incinerator site at Featherstone and East Boulevard. Two bids were received but decision was withheld pending a new appraisal of the property.
- Resolved to vacate an alley south of Montcalm between Blaine and Summit.
- Ordered a public hearing on Feb. 11 on an assessment roll charging property owners whose lots underwent weed cutting last summer.

Lawrence E. Creasy has been appointed assistant manager of Ford Motor Co.'s U.S. Tractor and Implement operation's North Central District, headquarters in Birmingham.

Creasy succeeds George K. McCutcheon, 2860 Whittier, Bloomfield Township, who has been named equipment marketing manager for Ford Tractor operations. Creasy has been agricultural sales manager since 1964. He resides at 6381 Alden, West Bloomfield Township.

The Birmingham YMCA will sponsor a ski trip for high school students to Breckenridge, Colo., April 5-12. The $245 charge includes round-trip air transportation, lodging, two meals per day and all tow charges.

John Dunning, YMCA program director, said slides and movies of previous YMCA Colorado ski trips would be shown on request.

TALUS Director Says Fund Lack Perils Program

Completion of the Detroit Regional Transportation and Land Use Study (TALUS), a study which has already taken 3½ years and $4 million, is in danger, according to its director.

Irving J. Rubin said reduction in federal funding, rising costs and technical delays will prevent the study from meeting an Aug. 8 deadline unless a "crash program" is undertaken and additional funds secured.

A review undertaken by Rubin's staff showed that unless $216,000 deleted by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) as a result of budget cutbacks is restored and supplemented by an additional $134,000 from other sources, TALUS will not be able to meet the deadline.

Rubin noted that Detroit has been promised a $2.6-million supplementary grant from the federal government under the Urban Mass Transportation Act. The grant is contingent, however, upon completion of the TALUS plan by Aug. 8.

ANOTHER $500,000

The grant constitutes one-sixth of the total cost of construction of a bus terminal facility and purchase of buses for Detroit, Rubin said.

Rubin further said that work to be done after the Aug. 8 deadline will require another $500,000. This sum, he said, would be needed to refine, finalize and make adjustments in the plan in response to public hearings.

Rubin advised the TALUS administrative committee that only an Act of Congress could extend the Aug. 8 deadline.

He recommended this be sought, but not relied on, and that the following steps be taken immediately:

- Seek restoration of the $216,000 from HUD.
- Seek an additional $134,000 from the State Highway Department, the State of Michigan or the U.S. Department of Transportation.
- Seek commitments for the additional $500,000 that will be needed after the deadline.
- Initiate a "crash" completion program immediately.

TALUS is a special project of the planning division of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

It is jointly financed by the Department of Transportation, HUD, the State Highway Department, by the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne and the city of Detroit.

Supervisors Slated to Fill 7 Positions

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors is scheduled to make seven appointments to various county committees and boards at tomorrow's 10 a.m. meeting at the courthouse.

Vacancies exist on the airport committee, the Department of Public Works board, the planning commission, the parks and recreation commission and the personnel appeals board.

Some discussion is anticipated regarding the adoption of permanent rules by the board, but no action is expected by either Democrats or Republicans.

The committee on committees was to meet this morning to further discuss the rules question.

Supervisors tomorrow will be issued questionnaires on which to state their views on their salaries. The questionnaires will be provided by the personnel practices committee, which met today and received results of a salary survey by the board of auditors.

No action was taken and none is expected until next week when the results of tomorrow's poll will be tallied.

Protests Ignored

Iraqis Trying More 'Spies'

By United Press International

Iraq today tried more accused spies despite international protests over the public hanging of 14 alleged Israeli agents including nine Iraqi Jews.

Middle East News Agency (MENA) reports from Baghdad said the second group being tried were "spies working for imperialism and (the American) CIA."

The reports said their trial began yesterday, 24 hours after the mass execution of the 14. No details were given. Israeli and Arab sources have said at least 60 persons face spy charges in Iraq.

In Cairo, where President Gamal Abdel Nasser today was addressing an Arab labor congress under the anti-Israeli slogan "All for Battle" with Kremlin guests in the audience, Egypt pressed its own spy hunt.

'WESTERN AGENTS'

The newspaper Al Ahram said the government, in the next 48 hours, will file indictments on spy charges against two arrested newsmen, Egyptians who have worked for Western agencies, and seek the death penalty.

In Jerusalem, vengeance fever is mounting. Mayor Abba Hushi of Haifa told a meeting last night honoring the nine hanged Jews, "We will find a way to make the Iraqis halt (the hangings) and a means of avenging ourselves." Israel's chief rabbi declared tomorrow a national day of fast and prayer in mourning for the hanged. Jerusalem students set mass rallies.

In Washington, the State Department said yesterday the U.S. Embassy in Tel Aviv had advised Israel not to retaliate against Iraq for the hangings.

"The position every U.S. administration has taken regarding the cycle of provocations and reprisals has been a consistent one. It should be avoided," a department spokesman said.

In Baghdad, according to MENA reports, Iraqi Information Minister Abdulla Salloum Sammarrai Tuesday scoffed at Israeli portests. Israel, he told newsmen, is shedding "crocodile tears."

CLOUDED HOPES

The Iraqi trials clouded the Middle East diplomatic effort to find peace between Arabs and Israel. But the peace hunt went on and searchers looked to the new Nixon administration for leadership.

California Neighbors Pitch In to Fight Mud

GLENDORA, Calif. (AP) — In the mud brigade were William Dutton, a 40-year-old schoolteacher, and two dozen of his neighbors.

★ ★ ★

Armed with a shovel or a wheelbarrow, each was attacking a sea of thick, oozy mud that covered the floor of Dutton's foothills home.

★ ★ ★

In a bedroom, chairs and a table were encrusted with mud. The brown gooey stuff was four feet deep in places.

★ ★ ★

Most of the couple's furniture and clothing had been stored in the garages of friends.

WALL OF MUD

A deluge of rain after eight days of downpours sent a wall of mud through the storm drain behind the Duttons' four-bedroom, ranch-style home in this Los Angeles suburb.

★ ★ ★

For two days Dutton, his wife Kay and neighbors with similar problems of their own have tried to get the sticky stuff out. There's still a mountain of mud in the back yard and mud 10 feet thick in the storm drain.

★ ★ ★

Volunteers have come here with shovels and offers to help in the digging out.

★ ★ ★

The Duttons had no insurance against mud damage.

Wayne Court Aide Awaits Ruling on Job

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit attorney Tom Downs got a new $25,000-a-year job a month ago, but he hasn't had a payday yet and he's carrying his lunch to work in a paper bag.

Wayne County's 27 circuit court judges appointed him as their legal adviser, but his salary, along with proposed funds to hire eight more law clerks and 10 additional probation officers, is being held up by a suit pending before the State Court of Appeals.

"As long as I can pack a lunch," Downs joked, "I think I can manage for awhile."

The Wayne County Board of Supervisors refused to make a $215,000 appropriation, pleading that the county's coffers were empty.

So the Wayne County jurists took their cause before Judge William J. Beer.

The supervisors countered by appealing Judge Beer's ruling to a higher court.

Apparently confident the appeals court will uphold Judge Beer's view, the Wayne judges decided to go ahead and appoint Downs.

Other Names Won't Do

They're Peace Talks---That's All

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP) — Sir, I am an American in Paris. Can you tell me what's going on here about Vietnam?

Well, we're gathering again Thursday around a round table to face issues squarely.

Q. Ah—a peace conference?

A. Absolutely not! The first thing a newcomer must learn is that you don't call this anything but talks.

Q. Why?

A. Well, if you call what goes on at the International Conference Center a conference, the Americans and South Vietnamese won't like it. A conference can mean that everybody present has the authority to confer. If you call it a meeting, the North Vietnamese and the National Liberation Front get mad at you. A meeting is an informal thing where anybody can throw in his two bits' worth. The NLF and Hanoi say its a conference.

★ ★ ★

Q. I've heard there'll never be a meeting—excuse me—talks on a Wednesday. Why not?

A. Because the Americans and the South Vietnamese think that would be too much like a continuation of the preliminary American-North Vietnamese talks, which were always on Wednesdays.

Q. So what?

A. People would get the idea these are "enlarged" or "expanded" talks. Expanded from two to four sides.

Q. Aren't they?

A. Well, the Hanoi-NLF people say they are, but the Washington-Saigon people say they aren't. If you say "enlarged," it might mean that it has been enlarged from two sides to four sides.

★ ★ ★

Q. Hasn't it?

A. The Hanoi—NLF people say it has, but the Washington—Saigon people say there are still only two sides, themselves and the others. They say the NLF is a "reality" but not a "political entity."

★ ★ ★

Q. What should one call the talks, then?

A. New, full-scale or substantive talks. But not enlarged or expanded.

Q. Aren't there four delegations here?

A. Yes and No. Hanoi and the NLF say there are. Saigon and the Americans seem to accept the fact that there are four negotiators, but to say there are four delegations would mean that the NLF is independent enough to have its own delegation.

Q. Why is the table round?

A. If it were square it would have four sides, and four sides looks like four delegations. A round table doesn't have sides marked off, so one group can say it has four sides and another can say it has two sides and both are right. The two rectangular tables, where the lesser staff sit, have sides. But if the rectangular tables are narrow enough, they can be said to have only two sides.

Q. When they go into the room, do four delegations go in or do two?

A. There are only two doors, so the Hanoi-NLF people use one and the Washington-Saigon people use the other. If there were four doors, there would have been the devil to pay.

Lake Orion OKs Participation in Big Sewer Plan

Lake Orion is the first of six communities to approve participation in the projected Paint Creek Sanitary Sewer Interceptor.

Following a briefing last week, the village council early this week okayed an agreement with the Oakland County Department of Public Works for the Paint Creek project, which will cost the village a total of $332,751.

The interceptor is an arm of the giant Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal system, which eventually will plug into the Detroit sewage treamtnet system.

Total cost of the Paint Creek arm is $8,461,339. The six participating communities — Lake Orion, Oxford Village, and Orion, Oakland, Oxford township and part of Avon Township — will pay about $4.7 million with the balance coming from state and federal grants.

55 PER CENT IN GRANTS

County DPW officials estimate grants will account for about 55 per cent of the interceptor's total cost.

Lake Orion Village Manager John Reineck said the DPW would also construct the village's internal sewer system. Total cost of the sewers to the average homeowner will be about $188 per year, for 30 years according to Reineck.

Lake Orion will account for about 7 per cent of the total cost of the Paint Creek arm. Other participatns and their respective costs: Avon, $12,491; Oxford Township, $1,214,425; Oxford Village, $577,443; Orion, $1,594,826 and Oakland $1,013,052.

Township Library Assets, Accounting Methods Are Questioned

Citizens Group Questions Avon Library Accounting

By TOM GRAY

AVON TOWNSHIP — A citizens' group has raised questions about accounting procedures of the Avon Township Free Public Library.

The library is located at 210 W. University, inside the city limits of Rochester, but has been operated for many years from township funds.

Since the incorporation of Rochester as a city in 1967, questions have arisen over division of the library's assets between the city and township.

Representatives from both governments have been meeting for some time in an effort to resolve the situation.

LETTER TO OFFICIALS

A letter concerning assets of the library has been dispatched to public officials of Rochester, Avon Township and Oakland Township by the Friends of the Woodward Memorial Public Library Inc. (another name by which the library is known).

★ ★ ★

The letter, signed by Friends corresponding secretary Mrs. David H. Evans, asks that assets, inventory and operating accounts for the library be made public before "business changing the ownership or operation" of the library is undertaken.

★ ★ ★

Representatives of the Friends were present at a meeting Saturday at which the township library board discussed its proposed 1969-70 budget, the letter states, and objected to approval of the budget.

★ ★ ★

"The appeal and objections were denied incorporation into the minutes," the letter says.

Mrs. Arnold P. Smith, secretary for the library board, said today that while members of the public may attend board meetings, they have no right to make motions as do board members.

★ ★ ★

"Mrs. (Bernhard W.) Vosteen (president of the Friends) tried to have a motion rescinded," Mrs. Smith explained, "and one of the trustees told her that she couldn't do that, because she wasn't a member of the board."

★ ★ ★

The letter also includes a library board treasurer's report made to the township for their evaluation in budget preparation?"

Indluded in the report are income from stock dividends and savings accounts which are not listed on the library board's proposed budget as submitted to the Township Board.

Library board members, however, explained that the income is from a private fund administered by them, and does not have to be listed on the budget.

"The treasurer's report is on monies entrusted to the board by wills under the Woodward Memorial Library," commented Howard L. McGregor Jr., library board chairman.

★ ★ ★

"We're allowed to use the income from stocks left to the library for the purchase of books. But this is a private fund, and doesn't have (anything) to do with the budget," he claimed.

★ ★ ★

McGregor suggested, as did Avon Township Supervisor Cyril Miller, that when the question of financing and future ownership of the library is resolved by the city and township, questions involving assets will be cleared up too.

County Slates Monthlong Series

Dog License-Inoculation Sites to Open

A monthlong series of clinics operated by the Oakland County Animal Welfare Division for dog inoculation and licensing will begin Sunday in the central garage in the county service center.

The clinics will again work in conjunction with private veterinarians in cooperation with the county health department, said Dr. F. Hugh Wilson, director of the department's animal welfare division.

In areas where there is no clinic, individuals are encouraged to obtain the service of private veterinarians, he said.

Licenses purchased through the county cost $1 for male dogs or spayed females and $2 for bitches until Feb. 23. Subsequently, the fees are $5 and $7.50 respectively.

RABIES FEE

In addition to the license fee there is a $2 charge for the rabies vaccination.

When innoculations are received through a private veterinarian he issues them a certificate enabling the dog owner to purchase a license.

Certain communities issue their own dog license. In these municipalities, proof of current innoculation also is required before the license can be obtained.

The treasurer's office in the following communities issue their own licenses: Pontiac, Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Rochester, Sylvan Lake, Troy, Waterford Township and Bloomfield Township.

THROUGH FEB. 23

County-operated clinics will operate throughout the county through Feb. 23.

Rabies vaccinations and licenses can also be obtained Monday through Saturday at the animal welfare division, located in the Oakland County Service Center and, of course, from private veterinarians.

Huron Valley Schools to Ask OK on Millage Issues, Building Loan

Huron Valley School District will ask voters for a renewal of its recently expired 15-mills and approval of an additional eight mills — all for operating expenses — in a special millage election March 26. Also sought will be a voter okay to borrow $10.5 million for building purposes.

Two of the eight mills will be used for further and improved education.

Three propositions will appear on the ballot — renewal of the 15 mills and six added mills for operating, two mills for "further and improved education" and permission to borrow $10.5-million for school construction. The two mills is linked to proposed special education programs.

★ ★ ★

This borrowed money would be used to furnish and equip a new elementary school, construct a new secondary school complex — including junior and senior high schools — at the northern end of the district, and build a new central maintenance storage building. Also included would be additions and remodeling of existing buildings, and the acquiring and improving of school sites.

MUST COVER DEFICIT

The district is currently growing by approximately 300 students a year.

The new millage will have to cover the deficit incurred during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1969. The deficit is expected to be between $80,000-$100,000, according to school officials.

New operating expenses will also include the cost of the increased number of students, increased personnel, the increased salaries won by area teachers and the two new elementary schools opening this year.

Union-Mobil Accord Tentatively Reached

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for the Detroit local of the striking Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers said yesterday they had reached a tentative agreement with Mobil Corp. and that 100 of 110 striking Mobil employees would return to their jobs.

The announcement with Mobil came after settlements with Sinclair Oil Co. and Gulf Oil Corp.

About 55 Sinclair workers returned to work Monday and 60 at Gulf were back yesterday.

Still out are workers at Boron, Shell and Texaco. Settlements had been reached earlier with Pure and Humble.

Troy Try to Get Golf Course Set

TROY — The City Commission has given its approval to the entering of condemnation proceedings to acquire Sylvan Glen Golf Course and operate it as a municipal facility.

City Attorney Stanley E. Burke was directed to represent the city in Oakland County Circuit Court.

A week ago, the commission approved a final purchase offer of $1.4 million, or $8,750 per acre, for the 160-acre course at 5725 Rochester.

★ ★ ★

However, Detroit developers Samuel S. Bankle and Myron Sheffman, who hold an option on the property, have not accepted the offer.

SALE ANNOUNCED

Sale of the land to Bankle and Sheffman, who reportedly plan a subdivision on the golf course site, was announced last month by the Jim Robbins Co., which is presently continuing to operate the course. The purchase price was reported as $3 million.

Commissioners have said they intend to apply for a federal open space grant to finance about half of the purchase cost, with the rest to be paid by the city under a revenue bond.

In other business, the commission approved the extension of city water north along Crooks to the Chrysler Realty Corp. office, presently under construction at Crooks and I-75.

★ ★ ★

The firm of Hubbell, Roth and Clark Inc., 2709 Telegraph, Bloomfield Township, was authorized to begin engineering work on the project.

Assessment Roll OK'd for Sewer in Farmington Twp.

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has passed a resolution instructing the supervisor to prepare an assessment roll for the Springfield Sanitary Sewer special assessment district. Estimated cost for the sewer installations is $379,000.

★ ★ ★

After a public hearing for the Sunnydale Sewer special assessment district, prior to the township meeting, the board authorized the supervisor to prepare this roll. Estimated sewer improvement costs in this area will be $29,000.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the board appointed three members to the board of review. They are Douglas MacArthur of 21218 St. Francis, Edwin Oglesby of 28402 Herndon Wood, and Harold Rowe of 27536 Stansbury. They will serve one-year terms.

A junk yard license was also renewed for Bezesky Bros. of 25000 Haggerty.

The township has received approval from the State Municipal Finance Commission to sell $65,000 in special assessment bonds for construction of sewers on Medbury and Hemlock, near 10-Mile Road and Middle Belt.

Part-Time College for 8 at Utica Set

UTICA — A pilot program that will send an advanced group of Utica High School students to college on a part-time basis while finishing up high school studies has been approved by the school board.

Eight students have been enrolled at Macomb County Community college's Center campus in Clinton Township for the second semester, now begininning. Each student will take one course in areas ranging from dental technology to calculus.

Supt. of Schools Phillip Runkel explained the program will give students an opportunity to take courses the high school doesn't offer, accelerating their college studies or beginning vocational instruction. The students would receive both high school and college credit for the courses.

Runkel added that if the experimental program proves successful, as many as 100 to 150 students may be entered in the program next Fall. The school system is paying the tuition of $27 a semester hour for each student.

OFTEN A SAVINGS

A board spokesman said the school-sponsored tuition payment program would be often less expensive than having the good student remain in a high-school classroom.

He pointed out that since school operational costs are based on the number of students in each classroom per teacher, placing the student in the community college simply transfers the expenditure from the school system to the college. The college expenditure is then made up by the board's assumption of tuition costs.

★ ★ ★

The Walled Lake school district is reportedly the only other school system in the Greater Detroit area that is trving the experimental high school-college program.

★ ★ ★

Runkel noted the opening of the Monfort Elementary School this week marks the first time in five years there has been no split-shifting of classes in the school system. Opening of the new facility has enabled all students to attend on a regular full-time basis.

★ ★ ★

The Monfort school is the third school to be completed in the $15½-million building program appropriated in 1966. Plans call for six more elementary schools, two new junior high buildings and seven elementary school research centers to be constructed over the next several years.

★ ★ ★

The second meeting, to be held Feb. 17, will be entitled "Drugs and the Law" and will include information on commonly misused drugs and laws pertaining to their use.

LIGHTNING STRIKE — Damage to a United Air Lines plane from lightning is examined at Los Angeles International Airport today by Clarence Rees, assistant chief of maintenance for the line. The lightning, part of a new storm sweeping across southern California, hit the craft just before it landed. Radar equipment in the nose was knocked out of commission. No one was injured.

Death Toll Reaches 93

New Storms Hit S. California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rain, hail and snow lashed out again yesterday in California, particularly the southern half of the state already reeling from its most devastating weather disaster in 31 years.

Lightning hit four jetliners in the air, but no one was injured.

Two more bodies were found in the Los Angeles area, raising to 93 the number of storm-related deaths since Jan. 18. One person was found dead under a collapsed retaining wall. The other body was in a house crushed by floodwaters.

★ ★ ★

Unofficially, statewide property damage from nine days of torrential rains was estimated as high as $138 million.

REAGAN SEES TRAGEDY

On an aerial tour of the state, Gov. Ronald Reagan called it "a great tragedy." A spokesman for the governor said President Nixon has given his personal assurance that the federal government will do whatever is necessary to help the state.

★ ★ ★

Eight other persons believed lost under landslides or in torrents of water have been listed as presumed dead, and at least 20 others remain missing.

★ ★ ★

Inundated by 20 feet of snow, resort areas on the eastern slope of the High Sierras braced for more snow, and several lodges in the mammoth mountain area 250 miles north of Los Angeles were closed until further notice. Skiers trapped in the area for days were finally able to leave as another storm approached.

★ ★ ★

Rattlesnakes slithered among debris on some southern California beaches. The snakes were washed out of the hills in mudslides, taken out to sea then washed up on shore.

AIRCRAFT DAMAGED

One lightning bolt punched a hole in the nose of a United Air Lines DC8 arriving from San Diego with 115 passengers, who were transferred to another jet bound for Honolulu.

No damage was reported to the three other jets that reported being hit in the air over the Los Angeles area.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday's storm hit after a 24-hour respite from a nine-day storm while authorities were still assessing previous damage. Three-tenths of an inch of rain in Los Angeles brought the season's total to more than 17.25 inches, 2½ times normal.

★ ★ ★

And while residents looked for a respite, forcasters predicted half an inch more rain for today in the coastal areas, an inch in the foothills and similar weather through tomorrow.

The South Carolina Republican senator has long been known as a physical fitness devotee.

Movie Exec Skouras Honored on 75th Birthday

Spyros P. Skouras, the motion picture executive who began as a hotel busboy, was honored in New York last night on his 75th birthday in the chandeliered and candlelighted elegance of the Waldorf-Astoria's grand ballroom.

The board chairman of 20th Century-Fox, who after his stint as a bellboy in St. Louis, organized a chain of theaters there and began his climb in the movie industry, blew out the candles on a four-tiered pink cake, and the guests sang "Happy Birthday."

The $100-a-plate dinner attended by 1,700 also launched fund raising for the Skouras Center for the Creative Arts to be built at Hellenic College, Brookline, Mass. The dinner was organized by the college and United Greek charities, which Skouras founded.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew dropped in to offer his congratulations.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said that Skouras is "the living example of an old Greek proverb that tells us, 'The old age of an eagle is better than the youth of a sparrow'."

Romney Not Forgotten . . . While Stationery Lasts

MILLIKEN

Though he's gone, ex-Michigan Gov. George Romney will not be forgotten . . . at least until a big supply of official stationery decorated with his name is used up.

Gov. William Milliken, who took the job when Romney moved to Washington to become secretary of housing and urban development, has ordered the stationery used in an effort to "reduce the cost of government without sacrificing essential services."

"To the extent that it is convenient, please instruct secretaries to cross out Gov. Romney's name and type in mine," said Milliken's memo to department heads.

Bob Hope's Eye Ailment Treated Successfully

HOPE

Comedian Bob Hope's eye ailment was treated successfully yesterday but he probably will remain hospitalized for several days, his doctors said. Hope, 65, suffered eye hemorrhaging Sunday at his home.

Treatment consists of a powerful hot light which cauterizes ruptured blood vessels in the eye and stops the hemorrhaging. It is known as photocoagulation. Hope has undergone it twice before in an 11-year history of the ailment.

A spokesman said Hope was resting comfortably but has canceled all engagements for at least 10 days.

Unity Essential to PAPC and 'Parents'

The discord between the Pontiac Area Planning Council (PAPC) and the agencies which sponsored it late in 1967—the City Commission and the Pontiac Board of Education—that surfaced at last week's commission meeting and again last night, is both regrettable and illogical.

PAPC was charged in a report prepared by City Attorney Sherwin Birnkrant with:

- Failure to submit financial statements to the two City bodies.
- Giving consideration to a change in the method of selecting its chairman, vice chairman and other officers contrary to the organizational structure that made the mayor and school board president ex officio holders of the two offices.
- Not following functional guidelines originally set up. Reflecting this criticism was the assertion by Mayor William H. Taylor Jr.: "Things are not being done right . . . we are going off base."

If indeed things are going off base, which is far from a certainty, it is to be wondered why the mayor, Mayor pro tem T. Warren Fowler, the city attorney and the president of the school board, Monroe Osmun, have been so long and remiss in finding it out, since two of these functionaries are acting heads of the PAPC.

As for the failure to give financial accounting to the City Commission and Board of Education, PAPC Director David Doherty explained that since no public funds had thus far been involved, there appeared no reasonable need for such procedure.

Another point of divergence was the consideration by the PAPC of certain organizational changes recommended by the report of a Council study committee.

The City Commission referred these and other differences to the PAPC for consideration at its next meeting, Feb. 13.

Certainly the areas of disagreement between the two parent bodies and the PAPC—which in a short year and a half has established itself as a constructive and effective agency—are too minor to remain unresolved issues. There should be a speedy meeting of minds that will permit the PAPC to proceed unhampered with the important community functions for which it was organized and for which positive gains are being noted.

'Time' Recount Casts Shadow on Elections

We are in hearty accord with the writer of a recent Voice of the People letter who saw in the shifting course of the Daylight Saving Time recount cause to wonder about the validity of all elections.

Regardless of the outcome of the on-again off-again time issue, the discrepancies unearthed in the recount, both for and against Daylight Saving, is a travesty of our election system and one, as our correspondent pointed out, to create misgivings about the results of all close elections.

★ ★ ★

With the notorious exception of Chicago and Illinois' Cook County where, as a wag put it, election rigging is an academic major in the school of political practice, Americans have long held that the Country's elections on all levels of government accurately reflect the will of the voters.

★ ★ ★

And, for our part, we think they do. But the inaccurate vote tally on the time question, now coming to light, does little to strengthen the belief.

Certainly with the multitude of election officials and workers engaged in the conduct of elections, community by community and state by state, there is no reason why an exact and indisputable tabulation of votes cast on any and all issues should not be immediately forthcoming.

Artists Seen Benefitting From Copycats

Big news in the art world these days is the development of a printing process which makes possible the reproduction of paintings so faithful in tone and even texture that, to the casual eye, they are indistinguishable from the originals.

★ ★ ★

Besides bringing the price of "originals" down to within the budget of every man, it's said that the technique could mean that artists may begin earning royalties on every copy of their paintings sold, just as writers do from books or composers from sheet music or playwrights every time their plays are produced.

★ ★ ★

Who'd picture the time when an artist would no longer brush off copies of his works?

Dems Scurry to Meet Nixon Assault

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

The Democrats' leadership struggles in the new Congress become more understandable when it is made clear that President Nixon intends a massive assault on their control in the 1970 elections.

BIOSSAT

The President is thinking big on this matter, and the Democrats have all too little time to get their defenses in order and their image shined up.

The incoming administration, heartened that its Senate disadvantage in the 91st Congress is only 57-43, believes it can in 1970 go well beyond the pickup of eight additional seats required for outright control and gain perhaps 12 to 14.

The seats deemed most vulnerable which will be on the block in the next election include those presently held by Sen. Dodd of Connecticut, Hartke of Indiana, Tydings of Maryland, Hart of Michigan, McCarthy of Minnesota, Cannon of Nevada, Williams of New Jersey, Burdick of North Dakota, Young of Ohio, Moss of Utah, Proxmire of Wisconsin and McGee of Wyoming.

FLORIDA, TEXAS EYED

Nixon planners, perhaps dreaming a good bit, also are gazing covetously toward the seats now occupied by Sens. Holland of Florida and Yarborough of Texas.

If all that were achieved by the GOP in 1970, the Democrats would have lost 14 of the 25 Senate seats they have to put up then.

Meantime, only nine Republican seats are at stake, and Nixon strategists think it not unrealistic to argue that just two, the one in Alaska just filled by Theodore Stevens under appointment following the death of Sen. E. L. Bartlett, Democrat, and that of Sen. Charles Goodell, named to the post vacated by the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy, are truly vulnerable.

Factional squabbling in Texas since that state fell narrowly to Vice President Humphrey in the 1968 election may dim GOP dreams there. But Nixon sources still argue that the Democrats are rent by worse strife and that GOP Rep. George Bush could be a formidable candidate against incumbent Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

TOUGH PROSPECTS

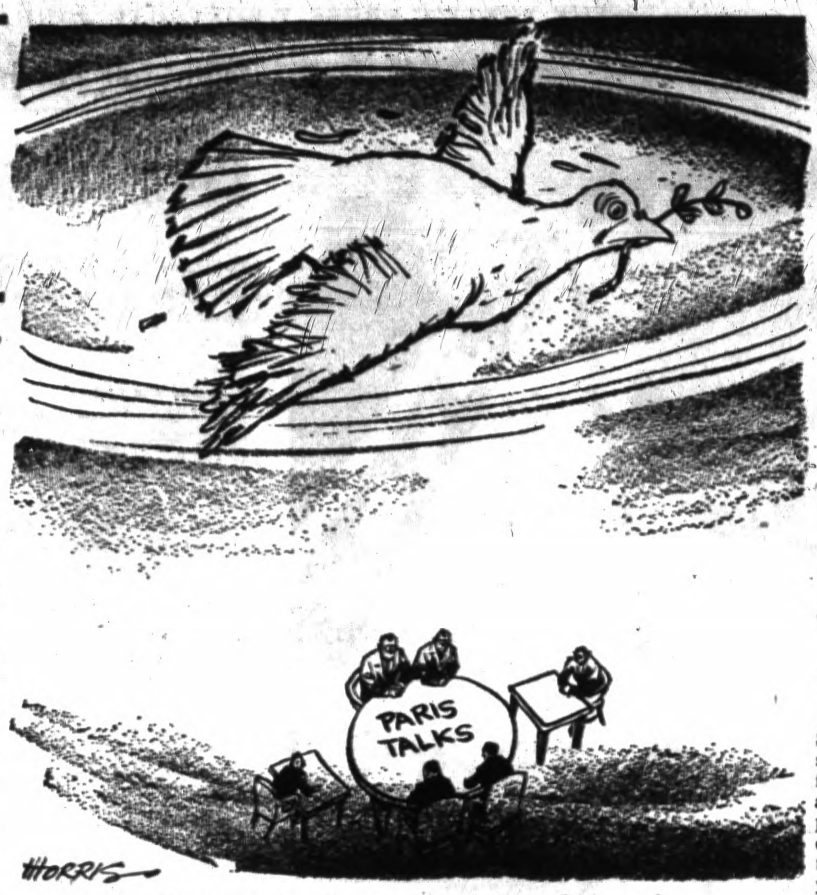

Florida is considered hopeful because Rep. Edward Gurney just won a Senate seat there and the aging Sen. Spessard Holland is felt to be a ready target in a state where party fortunes conceivably may be shifting more or less steadily toward the Republicans.

The other dozen targets, of course, contain some tough prospects. Should McCarthy adhere to his resolve to bow out in 1970 and Humphrey hold to current intent to seek his spot, Republicans might have to cross Minnesota off their list of hopefuls.

Hart is popular in Michigan, and Dodd, Williams and Proxmire appear fairly well-entrenched in their states despite some evident vulnerability.

The President's attack however, will take all this into account. He and his political lieutenants intend to play a decisive role in the fielding of Republican choices for these Democratic seats. They do not plan to sit idly by and see weak sisters thrown into the 1970 lists.

Trapped In A Long Landing Pattern!

David Lawrence Says:

Justice Dept. Morale Gets Boost

WASHINGTON — There is a new feeling of confidence inside the Department of Justice — a belief that at last the laws of the land will be enforced without worrying whether such a course will hurt the administration politically.

LAWRENCE

Members of Congress have received many complaints from their constituents asking why certain individuals who plot riots are not arrested and punished when they violate the federal laws which forbid the crossing of state lines to foment disturbances.

Morale in the Department of Justice itself has been sinking because of the attitude of the higher officials toward law enforcement and particularly the indifference to the explicit statutes on the books.

Federal grand juries should have been summoned to consider cases involving deliberate incitement of riots, but this wasn't done.

The demonstrations and resultant violence during the recent inaugural ceremonies were made possible by a permit issued prior to inauguration day when the leaders promised in advance that there would be no misbehavior.

SAD MOMENT

The police and the troops, of course, were able to reduce the disorder to a minimum, though it is deplorable to see "demonstrators" throw bottles and cans against the automobile in which a new president is riding. It was a sad moment for millions of people who witnessed over the television the deliberate disturbance.

The national government in recent decades has been assuming more and more police authority in cities and towns where racial discrimination occurs.

The federal government, moreover, has declared that it has the power, under the "interstate commerce" clause of the constitution, to restrain those who engage in racial discrimination in restaurants and hotels or in the sale or rental of housing facilities.

It would not be surprising if the new administration took the position that crime, too, is not altogether a local affair.

CAN BE PROSECUTED

Many of the instigators of disturbances and many who rob banks or attack citizens on the streets can be prosecuted by the federal government, since they cross state lines in order to interfere with the rights of American citizens to "equal protection of the laws."

There are plenty of Supreme Court decisions which have defined "civil rights" as they relate to racial matters. But there are many other civil rights which both whites and Negroes would like to enjoy and which are denied because criminals have grown in number and in boldness in recent years.

★ ★ ★

The key to law enforcement in America is in the Department of Justice as well as in the cities and towns across the country.

Bob Considine Says:

Cubans Surrender Much but Keep Coming to U.S.

MIAMI—In the 10 years that have passed since Fidel Castro took over, a half-million Cubans have fled to the U.S. by one means or another and an uspecified number have died in the attempt to find freedom in this country.

CONSIDINE

They have now spread to all 50 states and the District of Columbia. One and only one lives in Alaska. About 200,000 have taken roots in greater Miami. Cuban refugees continue to arrive here at the rate of about 1,000 a week abroad tired old DC7s chartered by the State Department from Airlift International.

Some of the newly arrived may have waited as many as five years for permission to fly out of the airport of no return at Varadero, one-time posh resort.

During that waiting period they may have been forced to live as vagabonds or semislave laborers in the cane fields because the day they announced they wished to leave, they forfeited their regular jobs and all their worldly goods with the exception of the clothing they happened to be wearing and their toilet articles.

INHOSPITABLE LABEL

Once here in Miami, snug in the embrace of weeping relatives who had made the break earlier, the person who gives up living in the one-time pearl of the antilles is given an inhospitable sounding label. In the eyes of the U. S. government he is now a "parolee."

As such he is not permitted to travel outside the U. S. without a most complex and thorough scrutiny of his intentions. After two and a half years he may apply for the status of "resident alien." After five years he can make application for U. S. citizenship.

Only about 17,000 of the Cubans who have remained in this area have become citizens.

TAXED, DRAFTED

Parolees, resident aliens and full citizens from Cuba are subject to city, state and federal taxes. They also can be and are drafted into the U. S. armed forces, but they cannot vote unless they are bonafide citizens.

The Cuban influx is one of the greatest immigrations of an oppressed people since the Irish came over in droves more than a century ago to escape the potato famine, religious persecution and the brutal denial of their civil rights.

The only Cubans who want to go back to Castro are the skyjackers, and they are relatively few and far between.

Castro once announced confidentially that any Cuban who wanted to leave the island could do so without strings, and he'd be glad to get rid of him for being unloyal to the people's paradise.

He was nearly trampled underfoot by a tidal wave of Cubans who took him at his word and made application to leave no matter what it cost them. Castro was said to be deeply shocked by this and for years he has made each departure terrifying.

Upper Michigan's deer herd is in dire straits due to an unusually severe winter. Everything is so snow-covered that only the very large deer can reach up and perhaps find some cedar. I fell in snow drifted to my shoulders while taking food out to them.

Hunters, cabin and cottage owners could help—and unless a few more do, there will be a lot fewer deer for hunters next fall. How about it, sportsmen?

Gives Views on Aid to Parochial Schools

After all the talk about parochiald, I don't see why the State should get involved. We have always had parochial schools, and independent from the government just as the framers of the Constitution intended it. Income tax deductions are allowed for church support and that takes care of that part; however, recent Supreme Court rulings have allowed deductions for atheists who spend money supporting the practice of atheism as a means of fair play. So, think twice before you jump. You may be forced to support an atheist school from the tax rolls — that is, as a means of fair play to the many taxpaying atheists.

Question and Answer

I'm told if one has a male calico cat it's worth a lot of money because they're very rare. Is this so, who can tell me about it?

RUBY BUTLER
WATERFORD

REPLY

It's true they're very rare, almost non-existent. And everyone we talked to said they would be valued only as an oddity, because they're no good to breeders. They probably wouldn't produce offspring. Mrs. Whitman Daly, LI 2-5762, can give you more information. She's had wide experience with cat breeding and showing of cats.

Question and Answer

Would you please explain what the Supreme Court's ruling concerning prayer and Bible reading in public schools says?

BRUCE KILMER
COLLEGE STUDENT

REPLY

On June 17, 1962, the Supreme Court ruled 8-1 that state and local regulations requiring recitation of the Lord's Prayer or Bible verses in public schools were unconstitutional. On June 25, 1962, the Court ruled 6-1 that reciting of an official prayer in the public schools of New York State was unconstitutional.

Waste . . .

Christian Economics

The Office of Economic Opportunity and its vast complex of projects and subsidiaries is costing the American people $1.7 billion this year. What benefit have we received for this enormous sum?

Some 18 months ago a Louis Harris poll showed that 51 per cent of the graduates and dropouts from Job Corps projects were employed. But 58 per cent of them were employed before taking Job Corps training. On that test the money seems to have been wasted.

The median wage at the time of the survey was $1.32 an hour, or only 15 cents an hour more than they were earning before their expensive training. Inflation and general wage advances would probably have carried their pay as high as it now is, even without Job Corps training.

About the same amount of fighting, drunkenness, assaults and sex crimes occurred among the Job Corps trainees as among nontrainees from the same stratum of society. The training does not seem to have made much difference in this respect.

Some Job Corps graduates have cost the taxpayer as much as $30,000. This has ranged downward to the generally accepted figure of about $13,000 each.

In some cases local action groups sponsored by O. E. O. have paid their directors as much as $25,000 a year, often considerably in excess of the salary drawn by the mayors of those communities.

In spite of the fact that LeRoy Jones called upon American Negroes to storm "American cities with furious cries and unstoppable weapons," saying, "We want actual explosions and actual brutality," his Black Guard Theater received $110,000 from New York City's Haryou, an O. E. O. project. Jones' theater was a veritable aresenal of deadly weapons, including meat hooks, knives, guns and ammunition.

Cost would be much lower and results much better if the Job Corps trainees were given on-the-job training by industry at apprentice wages, even though such projects were subsidized by the Federal Government. Unfortunately, unions do not want to sanction substandard wages for substandard people in training, and politicians like to have an apparently inexhaustible supply of well-paying jobs with which to reward their henchmen.

Railroad Worker Chalks Up Mark

FT. MADISON, Ill. (AP) — Not only did W. Ray Mayo serve more than six decades with the Santa Fe Railway, but during that time he chalked up an all-time company safety record.

The yardmaster went to work for the road 18 years after the first Santa Fe train operated between Chicago and Kansas City and retired recently after 61 years of service, all without a personal injury.

In honor of his record, he was presented a clock bearing his name in lieu of numbers, and his lantern was brass-plated with his name and years of service inscribed on it.

'Shelter Should Have More Feeling for Pets'

We had a part German shepherd until the animal shelter got hold of him. They promised we would get him back in ten days, but later called and said he died. When we asked why he died, they would just tell us, "We don't know, he just died." I think they should have more feelings, for they don't know how much it hurts people who lose their pets.

'Article Was Abuse of Power of the Press'

I have always enjoyed our local newspaper and feel it to be of quite high quality, but my opinion has taken a drop since I read the news story on the license bureau. May I respectfully suggest you use the power of the press in one or more of the many areas where it is not only needed but would prove more beneficial and worthwhile?

★ ★ ★

It is an abuse of the power of the press to vent one's frustrations in such a public-influencing media. To afford such an insignificant happening bold type and a front-page spot, while reducing more meaningful events and articles to mediocre coverage, is in poor taste.

Replies to Recent Comments on Freedoms

A recent "voice" is grateful for freedom of speech, etc. So am I. However, this voice grossly contradicts itself in commenting on Reverend Crabtree's statement anent Mrs. O'Hair and her atheist views, when he states: "but this is a typical reaction of those who want us all to pray to their God." Millions believe in Almighty God and yet have every respect for the theories of others.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. O'Hair has every right to believe what she will. However, I ask the grateful voice just who is imposing whose theories on whom, when one particular atheist decries to the world a denial of the privilege of a courageous astronaut to read an excerpt from his Bible at a time when he may have been in the very presence of his God and filled with his own personal gratitude that the mission had been fulfilled successfully up to the point of his reading.

Warn Children Who Damaged Property

To the children who shot out windows in the house we are building at 6810 Norton, Troy, the cost to replace the windows is about $500, which our insurance will not pay. Comments on Conditions at Dog Show

Did anyone get to see the recent dog show held at the newer, larger building on Watkins Lake Road? We got to see a full, muddy parking lot, approximately ten feet of the inside of the building, and then we couldn't get out the door we had barely stepped into. We finally managed to squeeze to a side exit. The screen doors opened in. It was suggested the entries are to be limited if the same building is used next time. I would imagine the entrants will do their own limiting if another larger building isn't found next time.

State School-Aid Bills Readied

LANSING (AP) — Michigan would give its school districts over $1 billion a year, the extra money coming from a near-doubled state income tax, under a set of bills to be introduced in the House soon.

Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica, said Tuesday his program would provide the $400 million needed "just to bring some of our lower-valuation districts up to the educational standards of some of our higher-valuation districts."

Spencer's complex school re-financing proposals would increase the state personal income tax from 2.6 to 4.6 per cent and the corporate income tax from 5.6 to 8.6 per cent, with the added $400 million in revenue earmarked for schools.

School districts would also be empowered to approve local personal income taxes of their own up to 2 per cent without a vote of the people.

It would also guarantee that each district levying a property tax for school operation of 12 mills would be guaranteed, by state subsidy, $550 per pupil in total revenue.

By voting millage above the 12-mill figure and using the local income tax option, a district could receive a total of $840 per pupil, Spencer said.

The $400-million state income tax increase would permit a $260-million reduction in property taxes, Spencer said, and still provide enough revenue to make possible a total state aid program of around $1 billion.

Under the current state school aid formula, he noted, a poor district with property equalized at $5,000 per pupil could levy 20 mills and take in only $100 per pupil, while a district with a state equalized valuation of $30,000 per pupil would net $600 on the same millage.

Under Spencer's proposal, either district could levy 12 mills and be guaranteed enough supplemental state money to put $550 behind each public school child.

Spencer said he was optimistic his proposals would be passed this year. "I think that a good many districts in this state are on the verge of collapse, and that would be a catastrophe," he added.

Multiple Sclerosis: Body Attacking Self?

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A University of Michigan neurologist said today that multiple sclerosis may be a disease in which the human body attacks itself.

Dr. Wallace Tourtellotte, Michigan professor of neurology, made the statement as he received a renewal grant of $30,218 from the National Multiple Sclerosis Society to continue research into ways to block the disease.

Tourtellotte said multiple sclerosis may be one of those puzzling chronic diseases in which the normally protective immunity machinery of the body attacks a healthy, important tissue of the body itself.

One of the more obvious biological changes in multiple sclerosis is the destruction of a nerve-insulating material called myelin, he pointed out.

SHORT CIRCUITS

Such destruction, he said, allows nerve impulses to leak out, short-circuiting transmission both of information from sense organs to the brain and of instructions from the brain to the muscles.

★ ★ ★

Sight, speech and movement are often impaired, he explained, and the disease sometimes progresses to complete paralysis.

Myelin is being destroyed by antibodies manufactured within the patient's own brain, Tourtellotte believes.

In his research, Tourtellotte and his associates are treating antibody-producing sites with radiation, such as X rays.

Localized exposure to the antibody-making areas of the central nervous systems of multiple sclerosis patients could lead to an eventual reduction in antibody count, he said, and if so it would indicate that these antibodies are manufactured there rather than elsewhere in the body.

Prosecutor's Aide for County to Quit

Leitman, 28, of 6555 Timber Ridge, Bloomfield Township, has been on the prosecutor's staff for two years. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School.

Leitman will be associated with attorney Stanley W. Kurzman of Pontiac in offices at 185 Elizabeth Lake.

Cavanagh Bid Blocked by 2

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit city councilmen Anthony Wierzbicki and Mary Beck have blocked Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh's request for $200,000 to supply emergency rent supplements to 8,200 families who must pay $19 per month extra rent for public housing starting Feb. 1.

Councilman Robert Tindal, a proponent of the rent supplements, then asked for a special council session Friday, just hours before the deadline, so councilmen can try to resolve their differences.

★ ★ ★

The request for additional funds came through housing commissioner Robert Knox. Knox said he would ask Congress to meet the rent crisis in federally supported projects, but didn't tell the council so in writing.

A zoological study on Timor, 400 miles north of Darwin, Australia, has revealed the existence of two species of bats hitherto unknown to man.

Romney-Meany Meeting Is Judged a Disaster

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Housing Secretary George Romney's first attempt to develop some sort of rapport with AFL-CIO President George Meany has been judged a disaster.

That was the general assessment today from both sides after it was revealed that the two men met 10 days ago at the federation headquarters.

Perhaps the kindest assessment came from an AFL-CIO official who said the atmosphere at the half-hour meeting could best be described as "correct."

Romney had appeared before the Senate confirmation hearing on his nomination that day and told the senators that he planned to stop by the AFL-CIO headquarters and talk to Meany about "the antiquated work policies of the building trades."

RACIAL POLICIES

He apparently also told the senators he wanted to discuss discriminatory racial policies in the craft unions.

They apparently discussed the building trade policies with regard to planned construction work in the Model Cities program, but an AFL-CIO spokesman said they never discussed the racial question.

But whatever the effect of the meeting on the two men, Romney apparently plans to try and meet with Meany again. A spokesman for Romney's office said the meeting 10 days ago was "purely preliminary."

AWOL Soldier Is Bound Over

Arrested in Waterford in Stolen-Car Case

A Dayton, Ohio, youth who led police on a 100-mile-an-hour chase two weeks ago was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday to stand trial for possession of a stolen car.

At the same time, Waterford Township District Judge Kenneth H. Hempstead dismissed another charge of felonious assault with an auto against the youth, Ronald Lee Hasty, 20.

Hasty, who is absent without leave from the Army, and a 16-year-old juvenile were arrested Jan. 15 after smashing into a utility police during the pursuit by State Police Trooper Roger Moore of the Pontiac post.

The juvenile first identified himself as a 21-year-old Dayton man.

LEARNED TRUE IDENTITY

When police later learned his true identity, he was turned over to county juvenile authorities.

The pair was apprehended by police from Waterford Township and Pontiac in a residential district in Waterford Township about an hour after the crash.

The felonious assault charge was issued for an attempt to force Moore off the road by bumping his patrol car during the chase.

According to Moore, however, the juvenile, and not Hasty, was the driver of the car. The car reportedly was stolen in Dayton.

★ ★ ★

Hasty is in the Oakland County Jail in lieu of $2,000 bond. He will be arraigned Feb. 7 before circuit judge Arthur E. Moore. Authorities have been requested to hold hasty for military officials.

He had been sought by the military since Dec. 21 when he left Ft. Meade, Md.

Out-of-Sight Thief Steals NY Police Patrol Vehicle

NEW YORK (AP) — Perhaps whoever drove away with a parked police car Tuesday night needs new eyeglasses. The vehicle is well-marked and has a flasher dome on the roof. But evidently his hearing is all right.

★ ★ ★

It all began when two patrolmen responded to a call at a restaurant on First Avenue near 79th Street. The officers left the keys in the auto when they rushed inside to settle a dispute.

★ ★ ★

When they came out—no car.

A citywide alarm was flashed to all police vehicles and apparently was heard by the thief via the two-way radio. The car was recovered on 85th Street near Madison Avenue, about 10 blocks away.

★ ★ ★

Officers are required to lock their vehicles when they park, and take the keys with them. There was no immediate indication of disciplinary action against the two officers—who were not identified.

Firm Hit on Pay

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The U. S. Department of Labor has filed an injunction suit in U. S. State Senate Gets Stop-and-Frisk Bill

LANSING (AP) — A "stop and frisk" measure which the sponsor says may be unconstitutional was introduced in the State Senate Tuesday with the backing of 11 Republicans and five Democrats.

The measure, if reported to the Senate floor, would require 20 votes for passage.

Sen. Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, sponsor of the bill, said it "might be too broad" to meet constitutional provisions. But, added Richardson—chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee to which the measure was referred — "We have a vehicle to work with."

Those who signed the measure, he added, were endorsing "the constitutional idea of stop and frisk."

The bill would allow a peace officer to stop a person whom he "reasonably suspects" is committing, has committed or is about to commit a felony and demand his name, address and an explanation of his actions.

When the peace officer has so stopped a person and "reasonably suspects" danger to himself or others, he may search the person.

If the peace officer finds a "weapon or any other thing ... the possession of which may constitute a crime," he may take it and keep it during the questioning.

The weapon or other thing" should be returned when the questioning is ended, if it is lawfully possessed, or the peace officer may arrest the person.

Richardson said committee changes might specify that such "stop and frisk" action take place in a public place, that the actions be taken by a police officer rather than peace officer or that only weapons may be seized in a search.

COURT DECISION

Such changes would be in an attempt to make the measure conform to a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision on "stop and frisk," he said.

A similar measure was introduced in the Legislature in 1967 and again in 1968, but failed to emerge from committee.

Meanwhile, Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, has asked for a probe of the state corrections system.

"Many people other than myself have been appalled for some time about the growing incident of street crimes in our major cities," Dzendzel said. "While I would like to see several more anticrime bills enacted into law, I feel there are now adequate tools to stop crime if proper enforcement procedures were carried out by our judges and parole and probation officials."

'WIDESPREAD FEAR'

Dzendzel said there is "widespread fear among our citizenry, and many no longer will venture out on the streets alone day or night.

"A goodly percentage of crime is being committed by ex-convicts who are graduates of the present correctional system," he said.

Dzendzel introduced a resolution calling for a special seven-member Senate committee to study the state correctional system and report its findings to the Legislature.

But Rep. Yeager Feels Slighted

Ryan 'Kind' on Posts for GOP

LANSING (AP) — Democratic House Speaker William Ryan rejected Tuesday a Republican request that a former appointee of ex-Gov. George Romney be named to the important House Labor Committee.

But otherwise, Ryan closely followed the wishes of the GOP House leadership in completing his list of committee assignments—saying he had been more kind to the minority party than is traditional.

Rep. Weldon O. Yeager, R-Detroit, recommended by House Minority Leader Robert Waldron for a spot on the labor committee, was passed over by Ryan in favor of Rep. Donald Holbrook, R-Clare.

Yeager, a freshman lawmaker previously served four years as Romney's director of the workmen's compensation department. He charged he had been slighted for political reasons.

'NO RECOGNITION'

"Somebody, either at Solidarity House (international headquarters of the United Auto Workers union) or from the Democratic caucus, has blown the whistle on me," Yeager said after trying unsuccessfully to persuade Ryan to change his mind.

"I suspect," Yeager said, "that part of it has to do with my being the only elected Republican from Detroit. I don't think they want me getting any recognition up here, especially on labor."

"I'm not sure what the political effects of my taking him off would be," Ryan retorted. "He may gain or lose on that."

He said Holbrook, with more seniority in the House than Yeager, also wanted a committee spot. Ryan added: "I'd just rather have Holbrook helping make labor decisions than Yeager."

NO COMMENT

Waldron declined to comment on the switch.

Ryan noted he had accepted nearly all of the Republican recommendations on filling the 137 GOP seats on the 31 standing House committees—terming the fact "historic."

He recalled that in 1958, when he came to the House, then GOP-dominated, as an outgoing UAW local president with a wide labor background, he tried for three terms to get on the labor committee and found himself appointed instead to the committee on agriculture.

"If the Republicans come in with five recommendations (for the labor committee) and I agree with them on four, I don't think I'm abusing the power of the speaker," Ryan said.

RECOMMENDED

Ryan also appointed Republican Reps. William Ballenger of Ovid, Dennis Cawthorne of Manistique, Quincy Hoffman of Applegate and Joseph Swallow of Alpena to the committee. All were recommended by the GOP leadership.

Ryan's committee appointments came following a brief House session during which only routine business was conducted. Bills embodying much of Gov. William Milliken's proposed $1.5 billion budget were introduced.

★ ★ ★

In other committee changes, Ryan named Rep. Alex Pilch, D-Dearborn, as chairman of the committee on drainage. He had previously said he would appoint Rep. John Kelsey, D-Warren, to the post.

Ryan added Republican Rep. Roy Spencer of Attica to the major taxation committee without consulting the GOP.

Makeup of the taxation committee had previously figured in a partisan squabble. Ryan's decision to give Republicans six votes on the 13-member committee brought Republican charges that Democrats planned to boost taxes and make them share the blame.

Ryan then said he would take away two of the seats he had offered the GOP, but compromised with the addition of Spencer. The committee named Tuesday will have eight Democrats and five Republicans.

Trudeau Is Unhappy at Press on Romance

OTTAWA (AP) — How far should the press go in reporting the romantic activities of a bachelor prime minister?

Canada's 49-year-old Pierre Elliott Trudeau sparked debate on the issue by accusing the press of exceeding the bounds of propriety during his recent London visit by prying into his private life. He called the performance of the press "crummy."

* * *

Nonsense, a number of newspapers replied. Judging by letters to the editors, at least part of the public was on Trudeau's side. One writer described some of the reporting from London as the work of a Peeping Tom.

* * *

Dennis Braithwaite, columnist for the Toronto Telegram, responded by saying "Nuts to you, Pierre." He said the ruling classes in sophisticated countries like the United States have learned to live with nosy and irreverent reporting of their activities.

CANADIAN TRAIT?

"Only in Canada," Braithwaite said, "do public figures indignantly holler that their privacy was being invaded."

The Ottawa Journal said Trudeau was not so naive as to think that an action-loving prime minister going to his first Commonwealth conference would not have all his actions reported.

"As prime minister," the Journal said, "Pierre the Swinger cannot have the fun of that reputation without the problems."

The Toronto Star said: "We believe his indigantion was largely misplaced." The Star blamed the trouble largely on what it called the indiscretion of one of his dates, a blonde divorcee named Eva Rittenhausen, who told reporters of "love at first sight"

OBJECTED TO COVERAGE

The prime minister appeared in public with the statuesque Miss Rittenhausen and twice with auburn-haired Jennifer Hales, a British actress. He objected mainly to press interviews with Miss Rittenhausen and with efforts to interview Miss Hales.

Bruce Phillips, Ottawa correspondent for the Southam News Service, said Trudeau's attack on the press was received by Ottawa newsmen with "amusement, indignation, but most of all astonishment." He said the prime minister's private life in the capital has been scrupulously respected by the press.

Trudeau's public dates are duly reported, but no effort is made to find out who goes with him to his lodge at nearby Harrington Lake or his modest cottage in the Laurentians. As far as Ottawa newsmen know, Trudeau has no steady girl friend.

Report Causes Soul-Searching

Elbert Hatchett, attorney and president of the Pontiac area chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), termed the city officials' defense of racial practices as "a facade, hiding lack of meaningful effort."

He said, "Their attitude does not address itself to the problems of the day.

"The NAACP is most concerned in the area of law enforcement," Hatchett said.

'ARBITRARY, CAPRICIOUS'

City and police officials at the MCRC hearing claimed special efforts had been made to hire more Negro policemen, but Hatchett disputed this. He said he had personal knowlege of men who had been turned down for "arbitrarary and capricious" reasons.

"The report is commendable, creditable, reliable and now the question is — What are we going to do about it?"

★ ★ ★

Regarding the recommendation made in the report, Hatchett said, "The NAACP is prepared to move along the lines indicated and will pursue whatever intelligent means is necessary . . . litigation is a possible avenue at this point."

Monroe Osmun, president of the Pontiac School Board, said the board has been faced with racially unbalanced schools due to the city's housing situation.

'AT MERCY OF VOTERS'

He said the board's role in eliminating this has been limited because they are an elected body, subject to the response of the voters.

He did point out the importance of the proposed Human Resources Center to be constructed southeast of the school district's office near East Wide Track and Auburn.

This center is to absorb several surrounding elementary schools and will accomplish a good measure of integration, he said. The new facility will have a 60-40 white-to-nonwhite ratio, he pointed out.

He also said the proposed new super high school will also bring about increased integration and added that in the planning stage is another human resources center for the western part of the city.

'LOTS OF CHANGES'

T. Warren Fowler Sr. Pontiac city commissioner, was not totally in agreement with the MCRC findings. Fowler, the only Negro on the commission, said, "There are some parts I agree with and some I don't. I feel it should have been updated before it was released.

"They should have given the city a chance. After all 7½ months went by and the city has made a lot of hanges in the area of police, hiring and housing.

"The way it was handled, for the time being, the report is going to do more harm than good. Some people will just see what is there and not what has been done," Fowler said.

"He added, "I'm not condemning the MCRC, but I wish the report were more up-to-date."

'IT'S SAME ALL OVER'

Claude C. McGruder, president of the Pontiac Area Board of Realtors, said the segregated pattern of Pontiac housing "is pretty much in the same pattern as everywhere else in the country."

He claimed that opposition to Negroes moving into white neighborhoods is fading.

"The people are accepting it in good shape," he said. "We have to operate under state laws on housing because we (realtors) are licensed by the state and if we don't we're in trouble," McGruder said.

He said that the Pontiac realtor group has a single Negro member but that others have been invited to join.

'POSITIVE FACTOR'

McGruder said he sees an improved outlook on racial relations in the city as a positive factor in encouraging new housing development.

Charles Tucker, a Pontiac real estate dealer and president of the Rema Club, a Negro business and professional group, said, "The report pointed out what the majority of the minority community has known for a long time.

"It would be unfortunate for our total community to engage in a public debate. Rather, realizing that some progress has been made and recognizing we all have much work to do together to bring about tangible results in the areas occurred, we all must reevaluate and work that much harder to make our community the best possible.

"It would be myhope the report will foster greater total community communication and cooperation and not a further breach in mistrust and racism," Tucker stated.

'AGGRESSIVE APPROACH'

Robert E. Lilly, vice chairman of the County Board of Auditors, replied to the MCRC findings on county government employment.

He explained final hiring is done by departments heads, such as the drain office, public works, courts, etc.

Lilly insists the department heads have been "aggressive" in hiring nonwhites. He said civil service rules prohibited taking of information on applications regarding race and that, because of this requirement, no authorized special program has been instituted on recruitment.

This action could be taken by the County Board of Supervisors only, Lilly said.

Hubert Price Jr., deputy minister of information for the Pontiac Organization of Black Youth (POOBY), expressed his contempt for the reactions of City Manager Joseph A. Warren and Police Chief William Hanger.

'TOKENISM, PACIFICATION'

The two officials offered rebuttal to the MCRC report during the Monday presentation and hearing and insisted progress had been made in hiring and racial attitudes.

Price termed the actions taken as "tokenism . . . pacification of the natives."

He insisted the racial climate in the city is worsening in regards to housing, schools and jobs.

Price saw the MCRC report as valuable, however. "The black people can look at it and see it for what it is . . . they'll realize the futility of dealing with this system.

'MUST WITHDRAW'

"This will show they must withdraw within themselves and accomplish these things for themselves. In the areas of schools, finances and housing this would be much more fruitful.

"We know what the deal is," Price said.

Dr. Robert R. Turpin, Pontiac dentist and Negro member of the school board, said; "Progress has been made. We have restructured the administrative setup." He added that, as a result, two black persons are assuming high administrative posts.

★ ★ ★

"We have finally started a little movement in this direction," Turpin said. But he added, "We have still not come to grips with the fundamental issue — integration of the system."

★ ★ ★

Turpin said he hoped all the recommendations made by the MCRC would be taken up for consideration by the school board.

Pickets Protest Superschool Site Choice

Pickets from Voice of Oakland County Action League (VOCAL) demonstrated for three hours at the Pontiac Board of Education offices yesterday in protest of the Pontiac State Hospital site selected for the proposed super high school.

About eight VOCAL members participated in the quiet demonstration, carrying signs that read: "We're up-tight about the school site," and "Integration: Always at the expense of the blacks."

The demonstration was short-lived, however, due to freezing rain covering both picket signs and picketers. A VOCAL member said they will picket again when the weather is more agreeable.

VOCAL members had presented petitions at the last school board meeting Jan. 16 protesting the selection of the hospital site for the $19-million school complex.

The hospital site was chosen by the board in November over a 55-acre center city site around Orchard Lake Avenue and Bagley.

On Jan. 17, VOCAL presented the petitions to Michigan Speaker of the House William Ryan, D-Detroit, in an attempt to block the sale of the state-owned hospital land to the school board. The Legislature must authorize the sale.

Ex-Congress Figure Dies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jesse P. Wolcott, one of the leading conservatives in the country during the quarter-century he represented Michigan in Congress, will be buried Friday in Arlington Cemetery.

The Republican from Port Huron who served 13 terms in the House of Representatives from 1931 to 1957 before becoming chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC), died yesterday at his home in nearby Chevy Chase, Md., following a long illness. He was 75.

Convinced the Democratic administrations of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman were leading the nation down the path of socialism, Wolcott, a native of Gardner, Mass., fought the programs of both Roosevelt's New Deal and Truman's Fair Deal.

City Fills Vacancy on Board of Review

Mrs. Marguerite Simson of 140 W. Brooklyn was appointed by the City Commission last night to fill a vacancy on the board of review.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Simson served the previous five years as a Pontiac representative on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

★ ★ ★

The board of review, a three-member body, meets in March and April to review the city assessment roll.

Mrs. Simson replaces Mrs. Clayton Rule, who reportedly moved from the city.

Parents Get Plea on Birth Records

The next school year is nearly eight months away, but Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen already is appealing to some parents to start thinking about it.

Allen's plea is directed at those who will have youngster attending school for the first time and will need a birth certificate when they're registered.

★ ★ ★

"Each year, May through September, the clerk's office is invaded by parents wanting birth certificates," said Allen.

He urged parents to make a search of their records now for the birth certificate.

'AVOID DELAY'

If it can't be found, Allen recommends that it be obtained immediately to avoid delay and lines that will start in his office in a few months.

"Those children who will start school this year were born in December 1963 through December 1964, and our records show their were 10,682 births during that period," said Allen.

"You can see the job we have before us," Allen said.

Space Expert Suggests U.S. Snag, Bring Back Mars Moon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. S. Fred Singer, long prominent in space research, says the United States soon should adopt a new goal of sending astronauts on flights past the planets—with possible seizure of a Martian moon.

The flights, which he says could be achieved within the next 10 to 15 years through improvement of space techniques and materials already developed, would last two to three years each. And he suggests they might even involve bringing back part—or all—of one of the moons that orbit Mars.

And he's dubious about extensive exploration of the earth's moon.

Singer now is Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Interior in charge of the department's programs to prevent water pollution and to improve environmental quality. He has presented his space views in a series of talks before scientific groups, most recently a forum at the Smithsonian Institution's National Air and Space Museum.

NO LANDING TRY

In the program as envisoned, the astronauts would not attempt to land on the planets. That is a goal for the more-distant future.

But Singer believes a single 700-day mission, using basic Saturn 5-Apollo hardware, could pass by Mars and Venus and launch probes into their atmospheres, orbit Mars long enough for a probe to pick up material from the surface and deliver it to the spacecraft, fly close to comets and asteroids, and launch probes to Jupiter and beyond.

Scientists are particularly interested in the two little moons that orbit Mars. The moons are so small that they probably never experienced volcanic action and thus are reasonably unmodified.

"They may provide an example of primeval stuff," Singer says.

ORIGINAL JUNK

"They offer us a unique chance to look at something from the very beginning of the solar system—at original junk. If they are cometary nuclei—well, it would be difficult to capture a comet anywhere else, but here this material would be held for us by the gravitational field of Mars, readily available for examination."

The moons were discovered in 1877. Deimos, with a diameter of about five miles, is more than 12,500 miles above the surface of Mars. Phobos, about twice the size of Deimos, is less than 4,000 miles from the planet.

"Astronauts in orbit around Mars could tie up to one or both of these bodies and take samples," says Singer.

"They could even bring Deimos back to earth, and thus rearrange the solar system."

Singer says it is possible, technically, to blast Deimos out of its present orbit and send it into orbit around the earth, where it could be explored at leisure — or it could be brought on down to the earth.

Tailored Femininity Is Theme of New Paris Spring Collection

By LUCIE NOEL
AP Fashion Writer

PARIS — Pierre Balmain combined perfect grooming and fun in his new spring-summer fashion collection Tuesday morning.

Sophisticated spring shades were masterfully blended with luscious colors, setting off a fun garment that incorporated a cape, dress and culottes.

For beachware it was gaily trimmed in red and white polka dots. For town, Balmain used discreet navy blue trimmed in white and worked in his new high button sleeve. The same idea in printed silk organza was shown for cocktail time.

Balmain selected king-size hothouse tropical flora for his spiral wrapover variant. It goes floor length and sweeps in line with fabulous angel wing sleeves floating along.

SLEEVES HIGHPOINT

Focus throughout is on sleeves. His newest is a deep corolla cuff inlaid with jeweled embroidery or eyelet broiderie for daytime.

Balmain makes a point of always designing feminine clothes and his tailoring is superb and immaculate.

Classic tweed, linen or shantungs and plain surfaced wools step forth in neat short jacketed suits, sometimes treated to a patent belt in the front only or placed all round.

He inserts interlaced circles or concentrated rings in the cut. Plain crepe shirts with ascot ties are in dark or light contrasts. They lend interest too on plain sleeveless wool or summer dresses.

Glace linen is shown on jeune fille dresses in deep cuffs topped by a full bloused sleeve. Astrakan is dyed blue for sports and swakara lamb steps forth for dresses.

Balmain also has the answer in the most luxurious furs. A sports coat in oyster nutria has a matching oyster crepe dress. Shaded boreal fox in black edged white has its own white crepe dress.

The evening dresses are carefully planned to reflect the mood of whatever country the designer has in mind—Iran, India, Portugal, Monaco or France. Styles range from young lady to those suited to royal courts.

Abby Still Standing Firm on 'Love Problem' Advice

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a minister who has gotten a lot of good ideas for my sermons from your column, but I must disagree with you. A woman wrote that she had "fallen in love" with her pastor, and couldn't keep from thinking some thoughts she shouldn't entertain while sitting in church. You advised her to transfer to a sister congregation without telling her pastor the reason.

Abby, we clergymen are aware that some of our parishioners do fall in love with us, and we are trained to cope with that situation. It happened to me, and with the help of a psychiatrist I was able to set the lady straight.

I would have suggested that the woman confess to her pastor how she feels a bout him. Then I would recommend that she see a psychiatrist, and together they can work her problem through. If she follows your advice and transfers to another congregation she will still have the same feeling.

NO NAME, PLS.

DEAR NO NAME: Unfortunately not every clergyman is trained to cope with the above situation. Neither would every woman who "falls in love with her pastor" agree to confess her feelings to him, then consult a psychiatrist and "work her problem through."

I still think the lady would do well to follow my advice.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for saying that some working mothers have better behaved children than some stay-at-home mothers — that it's the quality — not the quantity of time spent with children that counts.

★ ★ ★

I am not a working mother, but the daughter of one. I'm not bragging, but I think my brothers and sisters and I (there are four of us) are very well brought up. We are all proud of our mother and wouldn't do anything to upset or disappoint her. We each have our duties and do them without having to be reminded.

We see more of our "working" mother than some of our friends see of their mothers who are so wrapped up in their clubs and organizations that they don't have time for their own children.

One I know is so busy helping "underprivileged" children, that her own have run completely wild. I am 17, and the youngest of four, and I think we are all better off for having had a working mother. Sincerely yours, PAM

MRS. RONALD WALDRUP

Janet Poppy Is Wed to Mr. Waldrup

A reception Saturday at the Bloomfield Centre Hall feted newlyweds, the Ronald Mackey Waldrups (nee Janet Louise Poppy).

The daughter of the Cecil J. Poppys of Hatchery Road and the son of the Max H. Waldrups of Elmwood Street were wed that afternoon at Central United Methodist Church.

Attended by Mrs. William Hastie, the bride wore a satin A-line gown with lace and seed pearl accents. Her bouquet was comprised of white carnations and pom-poms and yellow rosebuds.

Sharon Poppy was bridesmaid with Wendy Cork as flower girl. Ushers were Randy Birckelbaw and Rick Waldrup with Randy Waldrup as ring bearer.

Best man was Dennis Darling with Russel Waldrup as groomsman.

Spray Foot Ease

Pamper your feet with cologne or mentholated powder before putting on your shoes. The aerosol type can be sprayed on right through stockings.

Starching lingerie straps helps them to stay flat and comfortable longer.

Soak Grease From Concrete

Here's help when removing grease spots from concrete patios: use an absorbent such as fuller's earth and lime. This acts as a blotter and may remove the summer's cookout stains without further treatment. Sprinkle it on, leave awhile and sweep it up.

Or scrub with a stiff broom dipped in thick detergent suds, remembering to put a little muscle into the scrubbing. If this doesn't work sprinkle dishwater detergent on wet concrete, let stand a few minutes and rinse with boiling water.

Air Dry Foam Items

Items of foam rubber or foam backing should not be dried in the dryer but air-dried. Under some circumstances they can cause fire by spontaneous combustion.

Old shaving brushes are good to use when dusting small and fragile pieces of bric-a-brac.

Fireplace 'Logs'

To burn newspapers and magazines in your fireplace, roll them and stand them in a cardboard box. When the box is full, place the filled carton in the fireplace and light from the bottom. They will burn completely, giving off a great amount of heat.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today a girl who wears glasses is likely to get passes. This is literally true. Haven't you known women who were prettier with eyeglasses than without them? I have. Of course, they were the right kind of glasses!

The shape and color of your frames are important. You should not wear round frames if you have a round face, or narrow straight-across ones if you have a wide face, or those with an upsweep if you have a long thin face. The color of the frame can be very flattering.

There are also other things to remember if you wear glasses. Try to avoid either an extremely severe or a very "busy" appearance in your hairdo and your clothes. In the first instance, glasses will tend to make you appear prim.

In the second instance, too much jewelry and too many furbelows and ruffles, along with the glasses, are just too much.

★ ★ ★

By all means, use eye makeup. Your false eyelashes cannot be too long but they are more natural looking, anyway, if they are just a little longer than your own. Make your brows a bit darker. Use eyeshadow in a color which is becoming to you. The frames and makeup can actually highlight your eyes.

★ ★ ★

Be careful about the application of rouge. Do not apply it so it outlines the lower rims of your glasses. Either blend it upward a bit or fade it out before it reaches the rims. Since rouge is usually applied at the center cheek, over the cheekbones, the effect of outlining the rims could easily occur unless you take care to prevent it.

Roll-back hats and those with soft ripply brims are flattering to the eyeglass wearer. Those with a one-sided effect are also flattering. These detract from the horizontal effect of the glasses. Veils are taboo.

Flower Talk

FLOWERS — A SYMBOL OF BEAUTY

The common flower has been the symbol of beauty in all of the civilizations since the beginning of time. The Romans even paid homage to Flora, who was the Goddess of flowers, with a festival each year. In very ancient times the men of wealth scattered roses lavishly about their reception rooms. They got this custom from the Greeks, who had gotten it from the people of Egypt.

During the times of the Renaissance, flowers were of great importance, as they were regularly cultivated in monastery gardens to be placed on the alters of churches.

But you do not have to be rich to enjoy the beauty of flowers today. Just come by or call us at FE 2-0127.

A reception at Bay Pointe Country Club, Walled Lake Saturday feted newlyweds, the Stephen Bradford Higbies (nee Dora Delarma Farley) following double-ring vows in Christ Church Cranbrook.

Attired in an ivory Empire fashioned skimmer with trim of Alencon lace, the bride held a bouquet of Stephanotis and orchids.

A floor length mantilla edged with matching lace and secured with a Camelot cap completed her look.

Performance Test Developed by California Educator

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — A University of California educator has developed a new performance test which he says may measure the learning ability of underprivileged children.

Dr. William D. Rohwer Jr. also believes his new testing method can be adapted to instructional materials for ghetto schools.

On standard intelligence tests, children from white, upper-income families ordinarily score higher than children from a deprived socioeconomic background — but these tests don't measure learning proficiency.

Using what he calls a paired-associate test, Rohwer found that lower strata ghetto children demonstrated notable degrees of learning ability and that the difference between upper and lower strata children narrowed as grade levels increased.

Rohwer proposed additional experiments with his method to determine if teaching itself can be changed sufficiently to help fulfill the potential of the ghetto student.

O'Neill Family Drama Next at Meadow Brook

Eugene O'Neill's masterpiece, "Long Day's Journey Into Night," will open a five week run at the Meadow Brook Theatre Feb. 6 at 8:15 P.M.

The play is based on actual family circumstances of the author when he was a young man.

The action covers one day in the life of the Tyrone family, living at a summer home in 1912. In that short span of time, O'Neill unloosed all the spectres that haunted his own family and those which may exist in any unhappy family situation.

The current play, "The Second Coming of Bert," will continue through Sunday.

Tickets for both plays may be purchased at the Meadow Brook Theatre box office or at any Hudson's store.

Contraceptives in Food

Everyone on the Pill?

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A University of Michigan scientist said Monday that it may be possible some day to put oral contraceptives into food just as vitamin D is now added to milk and chlorine to water.

Such a method of birth control might permit the stabilization of the population 20 or 30 years sooner than present methods, said Prof. John Platt, associate director of the Mental Health Research Institute at the university.

★ ★ ★

"There are no oral contraceptives today that can be used for general human consumption," Platt told the Educational Testing Service at Princeton. "But if there were, many an American community might gladly decide by democratic vote to replace their daily pills by such a convenient method."

Platt said the idea was first advocated by the late Dr. Homi Bhabha, head of the Indian Atomic Energy Commission.

PILL FOR ALL

Platt declared that the technical problem of finding a contraceptive that can be taken by all ages and both sexes without undesirable side effects will be difficult but not impossible to overcome.

"The payoff is enormous in terms of human hope, health, and happiness in the underdeveloped countries," he added, explaining that those who want more children could simply avoid using the contraceptive food.

Contraceptives in food was one of several intellectual urgencies for the next 10 years mentioned by Platt. Others were genetic copying of animals, regeneration of organs and automated clinical biochemistry.

Recent experiments with tadpoles and frogs have demonstrated that a single cell nucleus from a developed animal can be removed and then implanted in a fertilized egg cell then developing into an animal identical to the first, Platt said.

When this technique is perfected, he added, agriculturists can use it to develop "instant champions."

A whole herd of champions could be produced in a single breeding season by transferring body cell nuclei from the best chickens, hogs or cattle to fertilized egg cells, Platt said.

Meat production might increase so much, he said, that the revenues might equal that of rich oil fields.

★ ★ ★

Regarding the regeneration of organs, Platt said that if the full information necessary for the development of the whole organism is still present in every adult cell, it should be possible to regenerate a cut-off finger or hand.

Girl Meets Boy, Is News at Vassar

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Coeducation—spell that m-e-n—came to ivy-clad Vassar College this week and all sorts of social observers of both sexes are marveling at what the trustees have wrought.

- A professor said he noticed an immediate and remarkable improvement in the appearance of the girls.
- A young man newly admitted and enraged about curfews, borrowed a leaf from other protest movements and burned his seven-page rule book.
- An hour after the curfew one night a young woman, being interviewed over the telephone by a newsman, reported "two boys just tiptoed by my door."
- A young man who designates himself as usually conscientious said he has yet to pen a book. With girls down the hall, he explained, "you don't feel like cooping yourself in the room and studying."

Vassar, for the past 108 years the very name was virtually synonymous with private liberal arts education for correct young women, began the semester Monday with 80 men from three all-male schools—Williams College in Williamstown, Mass.; Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.; and Colgate University, Hamilton, N.Y.

The boys are living on two floors of one of the girl's dormitories. Visiting is permitted during certain hours but Miss Susan Whidden of Westport, Conn., said there is already a move afoot to liberalize the rules.

"There's been all sorts of revolutionary talk around here," Miss Whidden confided.

Revolution or no, one young man from Williams said he was happy to be at Vassar.

"You begin to feel like you're in a monastery," said Jack Murray of school life back in Williamstown, but added wryly, "So far I've met more newspaperwomen than girls."

How to Choose a College—7

Try Campus On for Size Before You Decide

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the seventh article in a series on the dos and don'ts to observe in selecting the right college for you.)

By ELLA MAZEL
NEA Publications

Decision 5: Size of School

For years I had seen panoramas of the Grand Canyon, but not till the day I myself stood at the rim did its true scale register on my consciousness.

By the same token, it's a good idea to take your own measure against whatever small and large colleges are within your immediate area.

* * *

Walk around their grounds and through their buildings, just to try them on for size. Regardless of whether the setting is urban or rural, the architecture classical or modern, the students active or lethargic, a small college has a different "feel" than a large one.

If a small-scale college seems to fit, you might not want to lose yourself in the mass of humanity at a large, more impersonal university.

COULD BE STULTIFYING

If you respond to the dynamic, people-in-motion atmosphere of a big school, you could find a little one stultifying.

A realistic appraisal of your own personality, of how you relate to others, will help determine whether for you it is to be the close contact with fellow-students and faculty inherent in the small-college environment, the utmost in diversity of facilities, activities, and people at a "megaversity," or something in between.

DECISION 6: Coed, Men or Women.

Are you going to opt for a coed college, or one for just men or women? The coed colleges must be doing something right, because the others are rapidly joining their ranks. This year has seen Sarah Lawrence (women) and Wesleyan University (men), among others, going coed.

* * *

Yale and Vassar were negotiating a merger that didn't go through, but each is planning to build a co-ordinate college for the opposite sex along the lines of the Harvard-Radcliffe setup.

* * *

Princeton will be turning coed before long. Kirkland had just opened as a women's college co-ordinate with Hamilton. And so it goes.

* * *

To the layman, the distinction between coed and co-ordinate seems a rather fine one. While the related men's and women's colleges maintain their individual identities, boys and girls take all their classes together and share many extracurricular activities as well, so they would seem to have the same social opportunities as in the straight coed arrangement.

Of the 1,220 colleges in The 1969 Guide to College Selection, only 7 per cent are men's (of which over half are church-related) and 15 per cent women's (almost three-fourths church-related).

If you limit yourself entirely to one of these categories, there's a good chance you won't find enough possibilities within your academic-cost-state combination which also meet your community and school size preferences. Of course, you can start out on this basis and then compromise on coed if necessary.

Male Student Is on His Own

CHICAGO (AP) — Kenneth Rogers says he can't believe it, but Monday he will become the first and only male undergraduate among 781 students at St. Xavier College.

The Catholic school announced last month it was going coeducational, but Rogers of Oak Lawn, was the only male applicant for the spring term.

School 'Drop-In' Passing Through

WOODSIDE, Calif. (AP) — A motorcyclist seeking to escape police roared through a doorway to Woodside High School and then sped up and down corridors Tuesday. Scores of students scattered or flattened themselves against walls, police said.

Allan D. Martin, 17, of nearby Palo Alto was charged with 12 traffic violations, assault and battery, and resisting arrest. Police said they originally wanted to stop him on charges of going the wrong way on a one-way street.

Junior Editors Quiz on PUBLIC SCHOOLS

QUESTION: Why were public schools started in America?

* * *

ANSWER: In the Middle Ages, there was little schooling available to ordinary persons. Colleges, however, were founded early to instruct young people of high social rank. By the 1700s, more general education became available.

When the colonists came to America, they brought the principles of education with them. The New Englanders were especially interested in education, using such devices as the hornbook (1) to teach letters and numbers.

Soon public schools appeared. In this enormous new country, where the movement of settlers westward soon began, people had to act and think for themselves. So the pioneer in (2) is symbolically shown carrying a book as well as an axe.

As towns and villages grew, more and more brain workers were needed (3). Furthermore, the whole American idea had grown to be that the people themselves should act as their own rulers.

Since this was and still is our underlying conception, all the citizens must be educated in order that they make good and wise decisions for the benefit of all. Such schooling, too, gives each person the best chance for individual success.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

2 Say 1st U.N. Chief's '50 Plan Could Have Averted Korea War

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Two former U.N. officials have concluded that the Korean war might have been averted if the Western powers had heeded Trygve Lie's appeals early in 1950 to seat Red China in the world organization.

They say that Peking's entry would have opened the way for a renewal of East-West talks and under such circumstances "It is hard to believe that the North Korean attack on South Korea would then have been permitted to occur at all."

The two are Andrew W. Cordier, now acting president of Columbia University, and Wilder Foote, a research associate in Columbia's School of International Affairs.

Their comments appear in the introduction and supplementary notes in the first volume of a series entitled "Public Papers of the Secretaries General of the United Nations" which they are editing. Volume I contains the papers of the first secretary general, Lie.

EXECUTIVE ASSISTANT

Cordier served as executive assistant to Lie as well as to his successor, Dag Hammarskjold, and was intimately acquainted with their day-to-day activities. Foote was press spokesman for Lie and Hammarskjold.

They blame the Korean war primarily for Lie's inability to win over the two votes needed in the Security Council in 1950 to seat the Peking government.

The 11-nation body was split down the middle, five recognizing Peking and five recognizing Taipei. The 11th member was Nationalist China. India, Britain, Norway, Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union were pro-Peking; the United States, France, Egypt, Ecuador and Cuba were against. Lie tried vainly to influence France, Egypt and Ecuador. Both France and the United States had ruled out the use of the veto, so only seven votes would have been required.

One of their general conclusions is that the correctness of Lie's unsuccessful political initiatives "has more often than not been confirmed by the course of subsequent events."

U.S. RESPONSIBILITY

They believe that much of the violence in the Middle East might never have happened if the United Nations had accepted a private proposal by Lie in 1948 for a U.N. military force to implement the Palestine partition plan. They blame U.S. 'vacillation" for the failure of the Lie proposal.

"One may wonder," they comment, "if the timely dispatch of an effective United Nations force in 1948 and establishment of a strong and permanent international presence in Jerusalem might not have led to a better answer than the bloodshed of three wars and countless border incidents, the tragedy and shame of more than a million Arab refugees, and the undiminished hostility we have witnessed in the 20 years since that time."

They say Lie was "grievously disappointed when the United States backed away from the use of force and then abandoned the partition plan entirely."

Cordier and Foote say of Lie: "When he ended his term the stature and public prestige of his office were well-established. This provided leverage and scope for further development by his successor."

Lie served as secretary general in 1946-53. He died last month.

School Turn-Off

COCHRAN, Ga. (AP) — Classes have been suspended at Middle Georgia College because a campus well pump broke Tuesday and students on second and third floors of dormitories were without water. College President Lewis C. Alderman said he expects day classes to resume Monday. He said the school began using water from the Cochran water system, but the demands of 1,800 students were too much and the city pumps failed.

Kennedy Takes His Liberalism Into Senate Power Circle

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON — Cautiously and circumspectly, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is carrying the banner of what he regards as Democratic liberalism into the center of power in the Senate.

The 36-year-old Massachusetts senator, looked upon by many of his colleagues as a potential bidder for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination, has joined the "inner four" of the inner circle that steers the Senate's course.

★ ★ ★

He meets regularly with Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, the president pro tempore, and Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, secretary of the Democratic Policy Committee.

News Analysis

Pending President Nixon's submission of his legislative program, the "inner four" have concerned themselves with matters affecting the Democratic majority.

HICKEL OPPOSITION

While it was an issue with many cross patterns, Kennedy helped organize and stage-manage a liberally oriented opposition to Nixon's nomination of Gov. Walter J. Hickel of Alaska as secretary of the interior.

Primarily their objection to Hickel was his attitude towards conservation, summed up by his statement that he is not for "conservation for conservation's sake." Many Democrats believe conservation of national resources will be a prime issue in 1972.

The "inner four" broke apart in this case. Kennedy was among the 16 who voted against Hickel's confirmation, and Mansfield was paired in opposition. Russell and Byrd supported the nomination.

When the Nixon bills start flowing from the White House, the "inner four" will be first to put their heads together over them. And when the time comes for Democratic alternatives, they will be in the vanguard of those proposing them.

TWO FACTIONS

Kennedy represents the liberal and youthful element of party members. Russell is the kingpin of the elder guard, conservative in its approach to welfare legislation. Byrd is in the same general mold.

Mansfield is interested primarily in foreign affairs, but inclined to be liberal on domestic legislation.

Keeping his promise to devote his talents primarily to the Senate, Kennedy turns up faithfully for Senate sessions, his homework well done in advance.

Mansfield is high in his praise of Kennedy, saying that he is "doing extremely well on the job," a sentiment echoed by many other Democrats.

As the last of the Kennedy brothers and one who might become Nixon's opponent in 1972, the Massachusetts senators has been avoiding criticism of the new Republican President.

When he urged recently that Nixon appoint a special representative to help bring peace in the Nigeria-Biafra civil war, he told the Senate:

"I do not wish to add to his burdens nor could I possibly be critical of him. But I am prompted in my remarks by the eloquence of Richard Nixon on the inaugural stand—he made a sacred commitment to use all of his energies and wisdom to promote the cause of peace among nations."

The senator added that in this endeavor "I offer whatever support and encouragement I can give, and wish him well."

But perhaps up only to a certain point.

SEN. EDWARD KENNEDY

Loyola Almost 100 Years Old

Chicago College Fete to Stress Intellectual

CHICAGO (UPI) — Loyola University, which has grown with Chicago, is preparing to celebrate its 100th birthday.

The anniversary observance, which will stretch through the 1969-70 academic year, will stress the intellectual with a theme of "knowledge in the service of man."

One of the Jesuit university's leading alumni, Chief Judge William J. Campbell of the U. S. District Court in Chicago, is general chairman of the centennial celebration. Under his direction a committee has scheduled five symposiums during the year.

On Sept. 5, 1870, a group of 37 students traveled more than a mile from town to attend Jesuit classes at St. Ignatius College at 12th and May streets. When the school moved to its Lake Shore campus in 1906, this building became a preparatory school, St. Ignatius High School.

LONGTIME PLAN

The Rev. Arnold J. Damen had begun planning the college in 1866 when Chicago's first Catholic college, St. Mary of the Lake, closed. The Dutch native first came to Chicago in 1856 to conduct a series of missions and, even then, newspapers said he had come to found a college.

The first faculty of four Jesuits gave the students a liberal education designed to educate the "whole man," a philosophy still evident in the university's 11 colleges and schools located on six campuses, including one in Rome.

Loyola boasts of a considerable contribution to the professional ranks in the Chicago area.

A&P

It takes an expert to grade beef!

In our great country we're lucky.
Our government trains and employs experts...men who inspect and grade beef at hundreds of locations throughout the nation. They protect you...and retailers, like us.

That's why A&P is happy there's a U.S. government inspector on the premises of our meat plant serving this area.

Also important are A&P's own beef experts.
Their job is to see to it that A&P Beef measures up to our own "SUPER-RIGHT" quality standards... standards which don't exactly fit
our government's grading categories.
For instance, some beef graded U.S. Choice
just doesn't meet our "SUPER-RIGHT" specifications.

No wonder we don't hesitate to guarantee that the "SUPER-RIGHT" Beef you buy will be as flavorful and tender as you think it should be,
or your money back.

So, you don't have to become an expert to choose great beef for your family... just shop A&P!

Chiefs Riddle Southwestern for Easy Win

Special to The Press

FLINT — Those streaking Chiefs of Pontiac Central are now riding along the basketball trail with a nine-game winning string.

The Chiefs came up with a strong first half here last night and rolled to an 82-54 decision over Flint Southwestern in a Saginaw Valley Conference game.

ONE GAME OUT

The triumph gave PCH a 7-1 record in SVC competition, but they still trail Flint Central (8-0) by a game.

★ ★ ★

OTHER GAMES

In other SVC games, Saginaw Arthur Hill romped past Flint Northern, 92-80, and Bay City Central pinned a 77-71 setback on Bay City Handy. In a non-leaguer, Midland downed Saginaw MacArthur, 73-61.

★ ★ ★

The win for the Chiefs was their fourth in a row over Flint Southwestern and they'll get an opportunity to make it five straight when they play host to the Colts Feb. 21.

The Chiefs have 2-1 edge over Flint quintets this season. Their lone loss was to Flint Central (89-75), while they dumped Flint Northern (82-69) before halting Southwestern

CHIEFS ROMP

After carving out a 23-17 lead at the first-quarter break, the Chiefs kayoed the Colts with a 17-6 advantage in the second frame to take a 40-23 lead at intermission. The big bulge enabled the Chiefs to coast in the second half.

★ ★ ★

NO. 1 CHIEF

Heading the list was sophomore Campanella Russell with 20 points — 14 in the second half — and the 6-5 jumpingjack helped the Chiefs control the rebounding phase of the game.

★ ★ ★

Monte Herring pitched in 15 points, Anthony Styles picked up 14 and Jerry Rafliff added 13 in helping Russell with the scoring chohes.

Mechanically, the game was one of the best this campaign for the Chiefs. While shooting a respectable 35 of 93, they committed only eight turnovers.

LEADS COLTS

Mike Davis led the Southwestern (1-9) attack with 20 points and teammate Robin Thompson added 10. Davis had 18 in the second half.

★ ★ ★

Southwestern's downfall came early in the second frame when the Chiefs moved from a 23-17 advantage to a 33-19 lead. The Colts came back at the start of the third, hitting on five in a row to cut the lead to 42-30, but PCH quickly regained the upper hand.

The Chiefs are idle now until a trip to Saginaw Feb. 7.

B. Hills' Tim Wood Among Favorites in National Event

From Our News Wires

SEATTLE, Wash. — Tim Wood of Bloomfield Hills is favored to continue his reign as men's champion when the 1969 National Figure Skating Championships open here today.

Chief threat to Wood's title is John Misha Petkovich of Great Falls, Mont., and the decision in the senior men's event will come Friday night.

Wood, 20, is a junior at John Carroll University in Cleveland, while Petkovich, also, 20, is a sophomore at Harvard.

NEW QUEEN

Headlining the four-day event will be the crowning of a successor to pretty Peggy Fleming as queen of American ice. Miss Fleming abdicated her positions of U. S., world and Olympic champion by turning professional.

★ ★ ★

Fifteen-year-old Janet Lynn of Rockford, Ill., is expected to give Tina Noves of Colorado Springs a battle for Miss Fleming's title. Miss Noyes has been runner-up to Miss Fleming for four of the past five years and beat out Miss Lynn for second place a year ago.

Top finishers here go on to the North American Championships Feb. 6-8, in Oakland, Calif., and the World Championships Feb. 25-March 1 in Colorado Springs.

Huskies Post 78-59 Decision

PNH Too Strong for Improved Titans

By FLETCHER SPEARS

The Titans of Pontiac Catholic are closing the gap in their bid to rise among area prep basketball powers.

"We have a ways to go," conceded coach Mel Larsen after watching the Titans absorb a 78-59 setback at the hands of the Huskies of Pontiac Northern.

DIFFERENT NOW

"It wasn't like last year," said Larsen, referring to the initial meeting between the two in which PNH prevailed, 83-52.

★ ★ ★

So, from a number standpoint, the Titans have closed the gap. Over-all, it was a better game than their '68 contest.

ALL BACK

Larsen's lineup is made up of underclassmen so they'll be back for another shot at the Huskies in 1970. "It could be a little different next year," added Larsen.

★ ★ ★

And while the Titans are closing the gap, it must be said the Huskies had too much manpower last night.

SPUR VICTORY

With guards Joe Bradley, Rob Clancy and Eddie Williams pressuring the Titans on the outside, and Chuck Moncrief, Ernie Crawford, Marcus Cummings and Mike Chapman sharing the work around the basket, the Huskies broke away from a 9-9 tie late in the first quarter, and with one exception, made it a relatively easy decision.

★ ★ ★

The victory raised PNH's record to 7-2 while the Titans were suffering only their second loss in 13 contests.

TOO MANY GUNS

Larsen admitted the Huskies just had too many guns and the biggest gun in the PNH arsenal was Moncrief, a 6-1 forward, who flipped in a career high 31 points and helped the Huskies to a 59-54 edge in rebounds.

★ ★ ★

And while he led the offense, Moncrief also had a hand in defensing the Titans' top gun—6-4 forward Sam Brady.

PACED TITANS

Brady, who hauled down 20 rebounds, contributed 20 points. He went into the game with an average of 25.4.

Sharing the scoring load with Moncrief were Williams and Bradley with 12 apiece.

Williams ignited a PNH spurt near the end of the first quarter as the Huskies broke that 9-9 deadlock and led at the end of the frame, 15-9. Williams sent a long one-hander through the basket just as the buzzer sounded.

WIDENS GAP

Williams quickly made it 17-9 opening the second frame and then Moncrief took charge. He socred 12 points in the quarter as the Huskies opened up a 37-24 lead at intermission.

★ ★ ★

The lull in the PNH attack came late in the third when Moncrief left the game after picking up his fourth foul. The Titans went to work and cut a 49-34 lead to 49-40 before the Huskies regained the upper hand.

Brady collected 11 of his points in that third stanza.

The fourth was Northern's. The Huskies outscored their hosts, 26-19, and coach Dick Hall had his bench cleared midway in the fourth.

★ ★ ★

Northern, 5-0 in Inter-Lakes League play, will journey to Livonia Stevenson Friday evening for a conference game, while the Titans have a date at Ferndale St. James.

Senators' Owner Hedges on Talk of New Manager

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Bob Short, the new owner of the Washington Senators, didn't say yes and didn't say no Tuesday but he did say it's "not impossible" that Bob Kennedy could be the club's new manager with George Selkirk and Jim Lemon being offered other jobs in the organization.

★ ★ ★

"It's not impossible but at this point it's merely speculation," Short said when asked for comment on a published report that he plans to relieve Selkirk, the general manager, and Lemon, the field manager, of their duties.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy, who was fired as manager of Oakland in a surprise move by owner Charley Finley at the end of last season after he had piloted the 'A's to a sixth place finish, is supposed to be in line to replace Lemon. Kennedy was hired by the St. Louis Cardinals as a scout after he was fired by the A's.

★ ★ ★

Contacted at his home in Mesa, Ariz., Kennedy said he knew nothing about any report that he would become the new manager. He said he just received an invitation from the Cardinals to join them this spring in their training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Lions Hope for 'Sleepers' in Draft Picks

CHICAGO (AP) — While everyone worried about how much money O. J. Simpson can extract from the Buffalo Bills, the Detroit Lions waited until the 34th pick in the professional football draft before they quietly chose a back they hope will be another "sleeper" like Lem Barney was two years ago.

Albie Taylor, unknown to most Lions fans, is a 5-foot-9½, 195-pound back who runs the 50-yard dash in 4.5 seconds, slightly slower than last year's National Football League rookie-of-the-year flanker Earl McCullouch.

★ ★ ★

"He's a game breaker," said Lion coach Joe Schmidt, in Chicago for the draft. "We can use him a number of ways and he'll put some points on the scoreboard."

Detroit also took 6-foot-7 270-pound tight end Jim Yarborough in the second round, a choice that ends a complex deal which sent tackle Roger Brown to the Los Angeles Rams.

Yarborough could be used immediately as a backup man for Charlie Sanders. Eventually, he is expected to move to offensive tackle, replacing Charlie Bradshaw, who is approaching age 34.

DEFENSIVE ASSIGNMENT

Detroit's other early choice, flanker Larry Walton of Arizona State, chosen in a third-round pick the Lions got from New Orleans for quarterback Karl Sweetan, will probably wind up as a defensive back.

A 9.4-second 100-yard dash man, Walton picked up 494 yards in 91 carries last year, scoring seven touchdowns from scrimmage and three on punt returns.

But it was Taylor whom the Lions really wanted. Scout Jerry Neri said "He's got the best acceleration" I've seen in some time. He rates right in there with Mike Garrett and Dick Bass, two other short, muscular running backs."

Garrett, now a standout with the American Football League's Kansas City Chiefs, was Simpson's predecessor at the University of Southern California.

COMPUTER RATING

The Lions said their computer ratings tabbed Taylor as one of the top five backs in the country. Michigan's Ron Johnson and Houston's Paul Gipson were considered better, but both were gone before the Lions choice came up.

Taylor, from Pittsburg, Calif., gained 1,644 yards in 362 carries in a two-year career at Utah State. He scored 12 touchdowns last year.

"Along with Mel Farr and Nick Eddy, Taylor will give us some versatility in our running game," said Detroit general manager Russ Thomas.

The Lions wanted a big, defensive lineman badly, but there were no big-name big men available when their turn came up.

Actor James Garner Enters 2 Fast Cars in 24-Hour Case

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — James Garner has rounded up a four-wheel posse that could well head off the favorites in the car-killing 24 hours of Daytona.

Garner, who climbed to success with a television cowboy role and then worked his way into a Formula One racing seat in the movie Grand Prix, will pace the pits nervously Saturday and Sunday. It won't be an act.

The tall, handsome actor, who has lately sported a bushy beard, heads up the racing division of American International Racing Inc., (AIR) a Sunset Boulevard-based firm typical of the monied new breed of racing entrepreneurs.

AIR, with two big, five-litre new Lola-Chevy T70s, could well have the two fastest cars in the race over the high-banked Daytona International Speedway where gleaming white Porsches finished one-two-three last year.

Dollar Talk Next for Bills, Simpson

NEW YORK (AP) — The Buffalo Bills, hoping to turn pro football's worst record into one of its best, looked ahead to signing O. J. Simpson today while they and 25 other teams completed the two-day draft of college players.

The Bills, whose 1-12-1 record earned them the right to draft first Tuesday, selected Simpson, and both parties promptly agreed they anticipated no trouble in reaching an agreement.

"I think we'll be able to sign him all right," Buffalo owner Ralph Wilson said.

"I don't contemplate any trouble in coming to terms," said the Heisman Trophy running back from Southern California.

Following the Bills' initial selection, the American and National leagues waded through seven rounds of their third common draft, selecting a total of 182 players in 12 hours, 11 minutes.

OTHER STARS

They had 10 more rounds today before turning their attention to contract negotiations.

There were, of course, other college stars besides Simpson drafted.

For example, there were four other running backs picked in the first round—Leroy Keyes of Purdue by Philadelphia, Larry Smith of Florida by Los Angeles, Ron Johnson of Michigan by Cleveland and Calvin Hill of Yale by Dallas.

Smith was one of three Los Angeles choices in the opening round, the others being split end Jim Seymour of Notre Dame and tight end Bob Klein of Southern California, while Hill was one of two Ivy League players to be taken, the other being quarterback Marty Domres of Columbia, who now belongs to San Diego.

Quarterback Greg Cook of Cincinnati also was drafted in the first round, by the Cincinnati Bengals, but All-American Terry Hanratty of Notre Dame was left until Pittsburgh grabbed him in the second round.

30th PLAYER

The failure of Hanratty to go early was reminiscent of Gary Beban's plight in last year's draft. Beban, the 1967 Heisman winner from UCLA, had been expected to go early in the first round but went to Los Angeles as the 30th player picked. Hanratty was the 30th this time around.

The Bills, of the AFL, intend to convince Simpson he's going with a good organization, too. O.J. had said repeatedly during the season he wanted to go with an NFL team.

Asked about that feeling following his selection, he said, "I prefer the NFL because I think it's a stronger league over-all. But the Super Bowl showed the AFL is not that far behind."

He also was asked about the $600,000 he reportedly wants to sign.

"I haven't heard of that particular figure, and I don't believe that is it," replied the man who smashed the major college rushing record last season by gaining 1,709 yards.

DIFFERENT VIEWS

In drafting for needs, the 26 teams obviously saw different weaknesses than they had last year at this time. In the 1968 draft, 13 of the first 26 picks were linemen, offensive and defensive.

This time nine linemen were selected in the first round—tackles George Kunz of Notre Dame by Philadelphia, Rufus Mayes of Ohio State by Chicago and Dave Foley of Ohio State by the New York Jets; defensive tackles Bill Stanfill of Georgia by Miami, Richie Moore of Villanova by Green Bay, Joe Greene of North Texas State by Pittsburgh and Art Thoms of Syracuse by Oakland, guard John Shinners of Xavier and defensive end Fred Dryer of San Diego State by the New York Giants.

BABY SITTER — O. J. Simpson, Heisman Trophy winner and Southern Cal's All-American, was first draft choice of the American Football League Buffalo Bills yesterday. But he was just plain 'dad' to his 7-week-old daughter Arnelle. Simpson was in San Francisco visiting relatives when he got the word of the draft.

Browns Take Ron Johnson

Spartans' Al Brenner Drafted by Giants

CHICAGO (AP) — Ron Johnson wound up with Cleveland, Tom Stincic with Dallas and Al Brenner with the New York Giants.

That's how it went Tuesday for Michigan's top college football players in the professional football draft in Chicago.

Johnson, the 6-foot-1 196-pound All American running back from the University of Michigan, was Cleveland's first choice. Stincic, a 6-foot-3 217-pound Michigan linebacker, went to Dallas in the third round.

Meanwhile Michigan State's Al Brenner, all-Big Ten as an offensive end and a defensive safety, wasn't chosen in the top three rounds.

SEVENTH ROUND

Brenner was thought to be the only member of last year's Spartan team with a chance to go in an early round. He finally was drafted by the Giants in the seventh round.

The only other player with a Michigan connection to go in an early round was Notre Dame's Jim Seymour, an All-American end from Royal Oak Shrine who went to the Los Angeles Rams.

Johnson rambled for 1,391 yards and 19 touchdowns in 1968, finishing sixth in collegiate rushing. His 347 yards and five touchdowns were the top in a single game this year in the Big Ten.

Stincic was an all-Big Ten selection in his junior year, but coach Chalmers "Bump" Elliott revised the Wolverine defense to a 4-3 from a 5-2 and Stincic had fewer chances for individual heroics.

Seymour, a 6-4, 205-pound split end who burst upon the national scene spectacularly as Terry Hanratty's favorite receiver, grabbed 53 passes for 736 yards last season to eclipse a fistfull of Notre Dame receiving marks.

CHICAGO (AP)—Having turned back Illinois' threat, Ohio State's Buckeyes head for Purdue and undisputed possession of the Big Ten basketball lead.

The Buckeyes hammered Illinois 76-67 Tuesday night in its own back yard and advance to Purdue Saturday in an effort to shake off the undefeated Boilermakers.

Ohio State, led by Dave Sorenson's 30 points and a late spurt by Jim Cleamons, boosted its Big Ten record to 4-0, one-half game ahead of Purdue at 3-0, and shuffled back seventh-ranked Illinois to a 2-2 rating in conference competition.

Ohio State led 37-34 at the half and led by anywhere from one to five points throughout the second half to match Illinois' overall record of 12-2 for the season.

CLOSING RUSH

However, with four minutes to play, Illinois crept within one point at 62-61 before Ohio State outscored Illinois 10-2 with Cleamons supplying six of the points. Cleamons was second to Sorenson with 14 points while Jody Finney and Steve Howell chipped in with 12 and 11, respectively.

While the Buckeyes were taking charge of the conference lead, Wisconsin's hustling Badgers defeated 16th ranked Marquette 56-50 in one of the lowest scoring games of the season.

Wisconsin's triumph gave Big Ten teams a 65-30 edge over outside opposition. Jim Johnson led the Badgers, who went into the game favored by two points, with a 24-point splurge and Marquette senior George Thompson set a school record by scoring 14 points to lift his career record to 1,509 and eclipse the previous record of 1,504 by Don Kojis.

★ ★ ★

It'll be a busy and meaningful weekend in the Big Ten as Ohio State invades Purdue in a regionally televised game Saturday and Illinois takes on Wisconsin. In other games, Michigan State will be at Indiana and Northwestern travels to Minnesota.

Iowa returns to action to face fourth-ranked Davidson in a Chicago Stadium doubleheader which also finds Michigan meeting Loyola.

Lakers Notch 5th Win Over Class A Rival

Ferndale, Berkley Register Victories; Ice Cuts Schedule

The Lakers of West Bloomfield continue to impress area Class A oppostion.

The Lakers, No. 8 in the state Class B poll, made it five victories in six starts last night against Class A foes by downing Walled Lake, 73-63.

The win raised the West Bloomfield record to 8-1, overall, while the visiting Vikings suffered their eighth (2-8) loss of the campaign.

SLIM SCHEDULE

In other games on a schedule curtailed somewhat by the icy weather that hit the area yesterday, Berkley downed Oak Park, 69-53, and Ferndale pinned a 78-67 setback on East Detroit.

The Birmingham Groves-Bloomfield Hills Lahser game was delayed until tonight. Waterford Mott's wrestlers meet Cranbrook this afternoon while the Corsairs' cage game with Lapeer will be rescheduled for a later date.

★ ★ ★

"They shot well from the outside," said coach John Oswald of the West Bloomfield Lakers, who broke away from a tight game at halftime to make it an easy win.

WIDEN GAP

Ahead at intermission, 31-29, the Lakers gained a 23-11 advantage in the third frame and held a 60-42 lead with 6:45 left in the game. Sophomore Don Johnston triggered the Laker surge in the third with eight of his 12 points.

★ ★ ★

Setting the pace for the hot-shooting Lakers was Dave Karlson with 20 points. Guard John Crowder added 17, canning 13 in the second half. Karlson hit on 10 of 14 tries from the field.

TOP PRODUCER

Bob Serra led all scorers with 22 markers for Walled Lake, while teammate Greg Wendell added 14.

Ferndale (8-2) cracked a two-game losing streak in knocking off East Detroit (5-5).

Tyrone Lewis provided the punch for the Eagles with his biggest night of the season.

BIG NIGHT

Lewis pitched in 30 points and hauled down 17 rebounds to lead both clubs in both departments.

★ ★ ★

Ferndale nursed a 39-35 lead at halftime and led all the way in stopping the Shamrocks. The Eagles hit a hot 54 per cent (31 of 57) en route to the decision.

POINT SUPPORT

Helping Lewis with the scoring were Bill Screws (15), Dennis Milton (13) and Gary Brandt (10). Dave Srot tossed in 19 to pace East Detroit.

Ahead 42-38 after three periods, Berkley blew the game open against Oak Park with a 27-15 edge in the final frame.

Jack Benning triggered the Berkley (4-7) assault with 25 points with help from Tom Pheister (12). Larry Sherman tossed in 20 points for Oak Park (4-6).

Chiefs Avenge Mat Reversal

Walled Lake Beaten 23-18, in Wrestling

Pontiac Central's Chiefs gained a little revenge in knocking off one of the state's top wrestling squads last night.

Back in December, the Chiefs were ranked No. 1 in the state Class A high school wrestling poll. Then came the Oakland County wrestling tournament and the Chiefs finished well down the list in the event won by Walled Lake.

Last night, Walled Lake's arrived at Central with the No. 5 ranking among Class A teams, and the Chiefs sent their visitors packing by posting a 23-18 verdict.

It was the seventh dual-meet decision in a row for the Chiefs, who entertain Flint Central tomorrow night.

Leading 20-18, PCH's Roggie Rodriguez preserved the win by gaining a 3-0 decision over Pat Callan in their heavyweight match.

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Andy Scheinman and Mike Eikenberg, teammates at the University of Virginia, met today for the championship in the Concord Hotel's annual intercollegiate indoor tennis tournament.

Boston 'Robs' Hawks in 108-96 Victory

By the Associated Press

The Atlanta Hawks had reason to cry "we wuz robbed" after John Havlicek, the thief, stole a basketball game out of their hands.

The quick-handed Havlicek swiped the ball four times in 83 seconds and the Boston Celtics collected the loot, a 108-96 victory over the Hawks in the National Basketball Association Tuesday night.

Boston led only 76-73 when Havlicek snuck up on the Hawks, setting up two baskets and scoring two himself to put the Celtics out of danger.

Clutch baskets by Rudy LaRusso and Jim King turned off Cincinnati and gave San Francisco a 107-100 victory over the Royals; the New York Knicks struck early and never let up in a 121-88 rout over Philadelphia, and Los Angeles trimmed Chicago 125-118 in other games.

Atlanta had made up a 17-point deficit in the second period with a 17-4 spurt for a 58-58 deadlock in the third quarter before Havlicek went into his act.

Don Nelson scored 22 points for Boston and Lou Hudson and Zelmo Beaty each had 21 for the visiting Hawks.

FIFTH STRAIGHT

San Francisco was breezing along with a 10-point lead before Cincinnati climbed within 98-96 with 3:19 left. But LaRusso and King connected and the host Royals had their fifth consecutive defeat. LaRusso finished with 39 points.

★ ★ ★

Willis Reed led the Knicks to the first 10 points of the game and the 76ers never came closer than eight again. Reed totaled 30 points and 18 rebounds, along with numerous blocked shots as New York made it 19 victories in 23 games and 15 in a row at home. Philadelphia had a four-game winning streak ended.

Los Angeles built its Western Division lead to 2½ games over Atlanta as Jerry West, Wilt Chamberlain and Elgin Baylor combined for 80 points, 28 by West and 26 each by Baylor and Chamberlain.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Shortly before he was to wrestle in Minnesota's match against the Colorado School of Mines Tuesday night, the Gophers' heavyweight wrestler, Dick Enderle, was called away by a long-distance telephone call.

★ ★ ★

Enderle was informed by the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League that they had selected him during the seventh round of the professional football draft.

★ ★ ★

When he returned to the wrestling match, Enderle learned that his place had been taken by Pat Pentz. Pentz pinned his opponent Steve Humphrey as the Gophers won 38-5.

Gal Outduels Male Riders

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Barbara Jo Rubin has created more interest as a rider than any woman who has climbed aboard a horse since Lady Godiva by winning her first professional race at Hobby Horse Hall Track.

★ ★ ★

But unlike Lady Godiva, Barbara Jo wore blue and white silks and pig tails.

Breaking from the number two position in the five-furlong sprint Tuesday, Barbara Jo rode low on Fly Away, in contrast to the high riding style of the Bahamian jockeys.

"I pushed her to the front right off, and she was running well and there was no reason to use the whip," Barbara Jo said.

The 109-pound, 19-year-old exercise girl-turned jockey won by three lengths. Fly Away, a heavily favored sorrel quarter horse, paid $2.90, $2.45 and $2.20.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By John Carter

Now, here's a tough quiz for you to test your knowledge of pro football . . . Listed below are five teams that won the championship in the years indicated . . . See if you can name the starting quarterbacks each of the teams used to reach the championship . . . Here are the five teams: 1948 Eagles . . . 1951 Rams . . . 1953 Lions . . . 1955 Browns . . . 1960 Eagles . . . Now, who were the starting quarterbacks on these teams? . . . For the Eagles it was Tommy Thompson . . . 1951 Rams Bob Waterfield . . . 1953 Lions, Bobby Layne . . . 1955 Browns, Otto Graham . . . 1960 Eagles, Norm Van Brocklin.

★ ★ ★

How's this for an oddity . . . The man called by many the greatest college football player of all-time — Jim Thorpe — never really went to college! . . . How is that possible? . . . Thorpe played his college football for Carlisle and even though Carlisle played against college teams, it was NOT a college itself . . . Carlisle actually was an industrial high school established to train Indians.

★ ★ ★

Did you ever stop to think that even the greatest hitters in baseball fail to get hits more than 6 out of 10 times they bat; and even the greatest passers in football fail to complete almost half the passes they throw!

★ ★ ★

I bet you didn't know . . . that sometimes you never know if you've made a good tire buy until the tire is worn out. Some tire buyers get the news a lot sooner than they expect — 6,000 — 10,000 miles. If you don't care for bad news like this — drop in — we've got some 40,000 and 50,000 mile answers.

BOWLING

Autobahn Motors climbed within five points of league-leading Herks Auto Supply last Friday despite Doug Swords' 235-244—695 to lead the Huron Bowl Classic men.

Still within striking distance are Hartford Roofing & Siding in third place and Jim Joyce's Standard Service in fourth.

Last week's high game honors went to Art Pearson of the Oxford Merchants for his 264. Posting 245s were Bob Chamberlain (217—675) of Gniewek's Trophies, Joe Foster (221—670) for Pontiac Janitor Supply and Walt Ruebelman of North Hill Lanes.

Ray Brancheau of West Side Lanes hit a 246. Hartford's Bill Pointer bowled a 231-225—642, and Lou Matich had a 219-241—641 for Dixie Construction.

The 264-219—662 pinspilling of Dick Chambers featured last week's Collier Lanes House League. Bill Kirby posted 243-205—649 totals, Joe Holland had 244-230—628, while 226s were recorded for Tom Brittain (616), Ken Willhite (609) and Jack Marceau.

6 Church Teams Alive

The list of survivors was reduced to six last night in Pontiac Church League basketball playoffs.

Northeast Community reached the semifinals with a 74-64 victory over Pontiac Free Methodist, while two other winners last night moved to the quarter-final round.

TWO WINNERS

In those two, Northside Baptist downed Emmanuel Baptist, 81-71, while Oxford turned back United Missionary, 66-48.

★ ★ ★

Owen Edwards threw in 25 points and Bill Foster added 24 to provide the spark in the Northeast attack. Jack Neidrick flipped in 31 and George Holdworth 12 for Pontiac Free Methodist.

TOP SCORER

Steve Cobb's 25 markers and 16 by Don Fugate gave Northside its edge. The winners trailed at one point in the second half but came on strong last in the third to take command. Frazer Vipond pitched in 37 points for Emmanuel.

★ ★

Oxford broke away from a 42-all deadlock after three quarters with 24 points in the final frame to down United Missionary. Ray Wilson led the winners with 28 markers, while Tom Mora paced United Missionary with 16.

★ ★ ★

In games Thursday night, Drayton Heights Free Methodist will meet Gethsemane at 6:15, Trinity Baptist will duel Lake Orion Baptist at 7:45, while Oxford will take on Northside in the 9:15 nightcap. Semifinals will be Friday and the finals Saturday. All games are at Pontiac Free Methodist.

ABA Star Returns in All-Star Win

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — "My knee is fine," says Rick Barry. "It's my body that's in bad shape."

Showing the effects of a month long layoff because of an injury, the Oakland superstar wasn't much help, but his West team still captured the second annual American Basketball Association All-Star Game Tuesday night, defeating the East 133-127.

"It's hard to say whether we would have won any bigger with Rick in good shape," said Alex Hannum, Barry's coach and also the coach of the West team.

"At Oakland, we've been winning as well while he was out as when he was playing. And in a single game like this, you never can tell."

The West team didn't shoot well, and couldn't hold on to leads that it built up several times. With 3:30 to play, the West had a 16-point margin, but the East whittled it to three with 59 seconds remaining.

Refs Hand Win to Fla. State

S. Carolina Coach Too Loud

By the Associated Press

South Carolina's Frank McGuire made the big noise in college basketball Tuesday night.

Things turned sour for McGuire when the officials slapped him with two technical fouls and finally awarded Florida State an 87-76 triumph over No. 19 South Carolina, stopping the contest with just under two minutes left.

In other games involving The Associated Press' Top Twenty teams, fourth-ranked Davidson drubbed George Washington 94-74, La Salle, No. 9, downed St. Francis, Pa., 107-95, 10th-rated Villanova whipped Fairfield 66-45 and No. 16 Marquette lost to Wisconsin 56-50.

South Carolina's McGuire got his Irish up when the officials called a charging foul on John Roche. The officials, Reggie Copeland and Bobby Brock, warned him three times they would stop the game if he didn't return to the bench.

Two of the warnings brought technical fouls. The third time, the Southeastern Conference officials handed the ball to Florida State's Jeff Hogan, who made both shots, and declared the game over.

Davidson pulled away from George Washington in the last six minutes to run its record to 15-1, six straight in the Southern Conference.

La Salle's Ken Durrett pumped in 40 points, two short of the school record, as the 15-1 Explorers turned back St. Francis. Durrett got able assistance from Bernie Williams with 27 points.

Golfer Lotz Tops Pro-Am

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Pro Dick Lotz of Oakland, Calif., grabbed first place in the opening pro-am event of the Andy Williams San Diego Open Golf Tournament, carding a two-under par 70 in the rain and hail.

★ ★ ★

The low card Tuesday was worth $250 to Lotz, who toured the soft south course at Torrey Pines. Carding 69 to win on the easier, but also par 72 north course were John Jacobs, Bold Boldt and Al Balding.

★ ★ ★

A driving hailstrom hit the course in the afternoon and several foursomes picked up and came in.

Depth of Snow Recedes; Deer Still Yarded

DNR Making Plans to Aid Beleaguered Whitetail Herd

The snow in northern Michigan has settled to about half its depth of a week ago, but little relief is seen for the deer herd.

In the Gaylord and Mio districts a crust has formed over 20-24 inches of snow. Department of Natural Resources game men are hopeful the deer will be able to move out of yarding areas.

Even if the crust becomes sufficient to allow the whitetails to roam in search of food, game officials point out that the deer will be reluctant to leave the yards.

They say that another big snowfall could add to the expected high starvation losses. And with at least two months to go before breakup in the U. P. the likelihood of no additional major storms in remote.

CLUB LANDS

DNR men are privately saying that deer losses on club properties in the northern Lower Peninsula probably will run much higher than on public lands.

They point out the reluctance of club members to shoot antlerless deer and to initiate any habitat improvement such as selected cutting mature trees to promote new growth.

These practices have been in operation on state lands for a number of years. Extensive cuttings are continuing this winter above and below the Straits.

Orders have gone out to DNR field men in the north to make intensive surveys of known deer yards and pinpoint the areas where starvation threatens. A few such areas already are known, and many more undoubtedly will be found.

The department is stepping up its programs of bulldozing and handcutting cedar, aspen and other browse species in critical areas and is trying to accelerate commercial logging operations in such places. Logging has been hampered by deep snow and plugged roads.

SURPLUS SOUGHT

Necessary paperwork is being done to get the federal government to release supplies of surplus corn for emergency feeding.

Sources of high-quality alfalfa hay—the only kind of hay of any value as deer food—are being sought. The department does not have funds to buy but private individuals and groups may do so.

The problem is getting the food into the yards in large enough quantities over a long enough time span. A deer needs three to four pounds of nutritious food a day to stay alive, and it must be taken to where they are.

ANTI-CHEW BUCKET — A Tampa, Fla., veterinarian fastened this bucket around the collar of Tang, owned by Anthony H. Schleman, to keep the pup from chewing on an ailing foot. Tang's head has to stay in the bucket until the foot heals. This will be in about a month.

Government Gives Feed for Wildlife

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — More than 70,000 bushels of government corn and oats have been released to state conservation departments in Michigan, Minnesota and South Dakota to feed storm-distressed wildlife, the Federal Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife reports.

The largest allotment of Commodity Credit Corp. grain went to South Dakota to feed starving pheasants, the bureau said.

Harness Officials Meet

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — The 15th annual meeting of the Harness Tracks of American opened here today with more than 125 officials of 38 North American tracks on hand.

Remedy Is Prescribed

New Affliction---City Jitters

DETROIT (AP) — Are you tired, run down, full of vague ailments, maybe even considering robbing a bank?

If so, you may be suffering from a disease named urbophrenia.

This is no gag.

Dr. Iglio Hart Kornbluegh, of the University of Pennsylvania, reported recently there is such a disease. The name he has given it means literally "city jitters."

INDOOR CLIMATE

At a symposium on biometerology of the American Academy of Science in Philadelphia, the doctor said that human beings crowding into big cities and suburbs has changed the climate in which we live into an artificial climate which is too much indoors.

This fosters "a peculiar greenhouse existence," bringing on new and poorly understood health problems, Dr. Kornbleugh said.

By the way, biometerology is the study of the effect of weather and climate on life.

"The weary monotony of an immured existence within the confines of residence and the place of employment," the doctor said, "leaves its mark on the physical and mental capacity of humans."

"Too many people fail to seek the relaxations and physical activity to be found in outdoor recreation or don't have a chance to do so," the doctor added.

SOCIAL DISORDERS

Such a "life-long, sheltered vegetation, punctuated only by periods of vacation may lead to urbophrenia," and result in physical and social disorders, he concluded.

All these big words were put together by a man who is medical director of the Department of Physical Medicine at the University's Graduate Hospital.

So, you can see he knows whate he is talking about.

★ ★ ★

But a writer, for the popular press he isn't.

All he means, really, is that if you don't get outdoors more often than a couple of weeks in the summer, you're going to get sick or maybe even turn into a criminal.

If you have a case of urbophrenia, Dr. Kohnbluegh has volunteered a free prescription for you — get more outdoor recreation.

BEST TIME

Probably this is the best time time of the year to start getting outdoors more, because it is not crowded. There is a popular myth abroad that it is uncomfortable out in the open in the cold and the snow at this time of year.

It isn't if you dress for it.

No matter where you live in Michigan, you are not far from a frozen lake where you could start ice fishing the day you read this.

★ ★ ★

Rabbit hunting is all around you, legal in Michigan through this month. And there is no closed season on things like foxes, coyotes and crows.

You don't have to go hunting and fishing to get outdoors. It's amazing what can be seen in a walk through the nearest patch of woods.

Another Misguided Bird Residing at Proud Lake

Last week it was a veried thrush from the West Coast. This week it's a bittern that should have flown south long along.

The bittern, a wading bird of the heron family, is wintering in the Proud Lake recreation area. Park personnel are being kept busy during off duty hours rounding up enough minnows to satisfy it.

Before yesterday's ice storm fishing had been fair to good in the Pontiac area.

Pike were hitting tipups on Lake Orion and bluegill fishing was good on Pontiac, Union, Lakeville, Orchard, Davison and Hart.

CASS LAKE

Cass Lake was reported to be very good for crappies off Dodge 4 and on Pontiac in the evening. A few good perch were taken at Bald Eagle and Union.

Lake St. Clair no longer is considered safe for cars. Two broke through the ice last week. So did a snowmobile. Crappies are hitting in Anchor Bay and a few pike are being speared.

Perch fishing at Saginaw Bay depends on whether the anglers can get out to the fish. Conditions vary and around Oak Point the ice has blown out.

All snowmobile trails on state lands in Oakland County are closed. Four inches of snow is needed before they will be reopened. The snow machines are able to run in Northern Michigan since last week's thaw settled the snow.

Launching Fees Established for New State Ramps

Fees have been established by the Michigan Waterways Commission for use of major boat launching facilities on the Great Lakes to cover the cost of operating and maintaining these installations.

The commission voted to charge 75 cents per car and another 75 cents per trailer as daily fees at its proposed Stronach launching site on Manistee Lake.

The fees will be in effect during the facility's peak period of use, approximately from the end of August through the first week of October.

Comparable charges will be made in 1969 by local communities which have operational and housekeeping responsibilities for larger boat launching facilities stretching along Lake Michigan from Grand Haven to Frankfort.

Class Planned in Conformation

The all-breed dog conformation class arranged by the County 4-H Canine Club will open Tuesday with a demonstration and registration at the block building on the 4-H fairgrounds at 8:30 p.m.

Open to anyone interested in learning how to show a dog in bench competition, the class will run for eight sessions. Additional information is available by phoning FE 5-7296.

Camp Show Slated at Artillery Armory

The Detroit Camper and Trailer Show will be Feb. 15-23 at the Detroit Artillery Armory near Northland.

This is the second year for the show and the entire floor space will be used by exhibitors, doubling the size of the 1968 event. There will be 135 displays.

Hours will be noon to 10 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays and 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays.

State's New Lake Dweller

Tigers Just Beginning to Roar

Just how loud Michigan's lake dwelling tigers will roar has yet to be determined.

Before anyone gets the idea that he will need a special hunting license to go fishing, it should be pointed out that these tigers are a different breed of cat from those found in Southeast Asia.

They are tiger muskies which have been stocked in a dozen or so lakes on an experimental basis. Lake Nepessing near Lapeer was planted with the northern pike-muskellunge hybrid three years ago.

Ice fishermen report taking some legal — 30 inches or better — tigers this winter. Bill Mason, district fish biologist at the Imlay City office of the Natural Resources Department, said he has seen one tiger muskie from Nepessing that weighed six pounds.

Just how large the hybrids will get is unknown.

NOT DETERMINED

"This is one of the undetermined points in the program," said Henry Vondett, regional fish manager for the Upper Peninsula. "The project still is in the experimental stage."

Several lakes in the U.P. have been stocked with tiger muskies.

"Wisconsin started the program," said Vondett, "but results there aren't too conclusive. We are just getting into it in Michigan."

★ ★ ★

The hybrid is being used to stock lakes which have poor pike spawning grounds. A predator fish, the Tiger has a faster growth rate than a muskie. This makes it effective much quicker on lakes hit by overpopulations of panfish.

★ ★ ★

However, a pike grows just as fast. So, why the hybrid?

"We hope that it will average larger in size than the northern when it matures," Vondett pointed out, "and that it will have the fighting characteristics of the muskie."

CROPPED TOO SOON

Mason said one of the problems with the program is that a "lot of the tigers get cropped by fishermen before they are legal size."

Many fishermen can't tell the difference between a pike and muskie and with the hybrid having characteristics of both, it becomes all the more difficult.

"We suspect this might be happening on Nepessing," Mason said. "The lake also has a good pike population."

★ ★ ★

Test nettings of the lake last spring yielded tigers in the 26-inch range. Most of these probably have reached the required 30 inches by now, according to the fish biologist.

★ ★ ★

Should the tigers eventually take hold, but not reach a mature size comparable to a muskie, then the legal length limit probably will be reduced.

There are no tiger muskies in Oakland County lakes.

Blue Marlin Record for Women Broken

KAILUA-KONA, Hawaii (AP) — Sally Rice of Naalehu, Hawaii beat the existing world record for women Sunday when she landed a 583½-pound Pacific Blue marlin.

Mrs. Rice, using a 130-pound test line, fought the huge fish for four hours. It measured 10 feet 3 inches.

The previous record was held by Mrs. Ruth Bowen, who caught a 580-pounder at Kailua-Kona in 1966.

Sunday's catch was made aboard the charter boat Malia, owned by Mrs. Rice's husband, Fred. The Rices, are veterans of the International Billfish Tournament.

Aussies Want Open Cup Tennis

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — The Australian Lawn Tennis Association wants the Davis Cup open to professionals body will grant its wish.

The association's annual conference today adopted a recommendation from last month's four-nation tennis summit in Adelaide to press immediately for open Cup matches.

Opening lead—♣10

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

Here is another hand that shows bridge expert Jake Winkman getting a match point top score. The bidding is so normal that every pair in the field would reach the same four-spade contract but while some went down one trick and others made exactly four odd, Winkman managed to make an overtrick.

It is easy enough to go down after the 10 of clubs opening. You play the queen or jack from dummy. East takes his king and plays ace and another heart. West is in with the king and if he leads a second club, South will have to lose a diamond in addjtion to the three tricks already taken by the defense.

★ ★ ★

If West shifts to the king of diamonds, South will make his contract by simply running off all his spades. The last spade lead will squeeze West out of either his club protection or his high diamonds and South won't have to lose a diamond trick.

Here is how Winkman made the overtrick. It isn't a matter of anything except ability to make an unusual decision at trick one. Winkman ducked the 10 of clubs in both hands.

His reason was that he had decided that West would not have led away from the king of clubs into North's club bid. Therefore the king of clubs was marked in the East hand and Winkman wanted to let West stay in lead.

West could have held declarer to 10 tricks by shifting to a heart or just continuing with clubs but West wasn't looking at his partner's cards. The one thing West was sure of was that his partner was holding the unguarded king of clubs and that it would drop on the next club lead. So West shifted to the king of diamonds.

Winkman drew trumps; ran off dummy's clubs in order to discard both his losing hearts and conceded a trick to the queen of diamonds.

What do you do now?

A—Your partner's bid is Blackwood. Even though you have been cue bidding, he has asked about aces. Bid five hearts to show two of them.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You do bid five hearts. Your partner bids five no-trump. You respond six hearts to show two kings and he bids six no-trump. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

By SIDNEY OMARR
For Thursday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Not wise to press issues where standing, property, security are concerned. Be flexible. Make revisions. Be receptive — go with the tide. Hold back on plans for expansion. Wait

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Take special care with written messages. Ideas change. So do attitudes. Don't tie yourself to losing cause. Confusion exists in connection with promises made to relatives.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Study TAURUS message. Money conditions are not stable. Your judgment apt to be colored by emotion. Know this and wait for additional information. Doing so could prevent loss.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Cycle continues high—but be wary of one who is overly confident. Accent on family, home and property. Key is diplomacy. Like many today you must proceed with care. Take it easy.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Avoid tendency toward self-deception. Face facts. Hiding, postponing does no good. Realize this and be forthright. Key is to perceive subtle meanings. Visit one confined to home, hospital.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Be self-reliant. Friends may mean well but lack assets, credentials. Aid comes when you take first step toward self-help. Your own experience comes to fore. Be confident.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You have chance to capitalize on unique abilities. Stress on career, personality. Publicity, recognition due. See beyond immediate indications. Spread message, influence.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Some opposition is healthy—boomerangs in your favor. Accent original approach. Lead the way. Some behind the scenes may be envious. Realize this and protect your interests.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Obtain hint from SCORPIO message. Your assets need special protection. Day features payments, collections. Overcome tendency to brood. Look to future rather than past.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Check promises made to mate, partner. One close to you is apt to be supersensitive today. Find ways of pleasing loved one. The more you give of yourself, the more you receive.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You may have been neglecting exercise, physical well-being. Today correct that situation. Check diet and medical instructions. Catch up on routine tasks. Then you benefit.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Don't play with emotional fire. Romance highlighted. Sweet talk is fine — but you have to face yourself in morning. Exercise restraint.

★ ★ ★

IF THURSDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have delightful sense of humor. Appreciation of art is indicated. You are inventive and currently restless. Break you seek is forthcoming sooner than you might anticipate.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Lunar position favorable for fishing, planting. News today highlights agreements between nations. People want to build toward greater security.

Apollo 9 Astronaut to Become 'One-Armed Paperhanger'

BETHPAGE, N.Y. (UPI) — For six hours during the upcoming Apollo 9 space flight, astronaut David R. Scott will be alone at the controls of a ship normally flown by three men.

His fellow crewmen, James A. McDivitt and Russell L. Schweickart, will be away piloting a moon-landing craft for the first time in a crucial earth-orbital rehearsal of moon flight rendezvous maneuvers.

On later moon missions, the Apollo command ship will be flown single-handedly for a day in lunar orbit while two men explore the moon's surface.

For Apollo 9, McDivitt and Schweickart will fly up to 100 miles away from their command module, and Scott must be ready at all times to maneuver to their rescue if the lunar module landing craft were disabled.

'WILL BE BUSY'

"He has to be ready at any time to take over, in case we have problems, and rescue us," Schweickart said at a news briefing last week at the Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp., plant where the lunar module was built.

★ ★ ★

"Dave will be busier than the proverbial one-armed paperhanger."

Apollo 9 is scheduled for launch into earth orbit Feb. 28, and all three crewmen will ride into space in a command module identical to the one the three Apollo 8 astronauts flew around the moon in December.

The four-legged lunar module will be carried aloft in a tapered shell between the command craft and the top stage of Apollo 9's Saturn 5 rocket. Once orbit is achieved, the pilots will turn their command module around and hook up to the lunar module.

TOGETHER FIRST TIME

It will mark the first time the complete, tandem spacecraft will be together in space. Only one lunar module has flown in orbit and it went up alone and unmanned.

After thoroughly checking the Apollo 9 lunar module for four days in orbit, space veteran McDivitt and Schweickart, who will be making his first flight, will break their link with the command ship and fly off using the lunar module's landing engine.

"Jim and I will be leaving Dave in a three-man spacecraft that takes three men to run," Schweickart said, noting that Scott must monitor the command module's systems while constantly preparing to speed to the lunar module's rescue.

For each maneuver the lunar module makes, Scott will be ready to fly the command ship along a mirror image of the lander's course to complete the rendezvous.

CAN NEGOTIATE CHASE

The lunar module was specificially designed to carry out the vital rendezvous operations, and it has radar and computers to do it. The command module does not have radar but, as proven when Apollo 7 rendezvoused with its orbiting rocket stage, it can negotiate the tricky space chase.

The separation of the two manned spacecraft will be the riskiest part of the entire 10-day Apollo 9 mission. The lunar module is not capable of returning to earth and its pilots must get back to the command ship to get home.

"He has the heat shield and that's added incentive to get back," Schweickart quipped.

If a catastrophe blocked the return of the two lunar module pilots, one man could pilot the command module back to earth. The ship could even make a solo flight home from the moon if necessary.

Britain's manufacturers of automobiles, motorbikes and bicycles lost 678,000 working days through strikes in the first eight months of 1968, up from 285,000 days in the comparable 1967 period.

Old Papers Reveal Sidelights of Britain's Slide Toward War

LONDON (AP)—When Adolf Hitler was working on his grab of Czechoslovakia that led up to World War II, he took time out to throw a tantrum over Joe Louis' one-round flattening of Max Schmeling for the heavyweight boxing title in June 1938.

When the fuehrer came to sign the final agreement at Munich with Neville Chamberlain that September—which the British prime minister mislabeled "peace in our time"—Hitler's inkwell turned out to be dry and the proceedings were delayed.

Sir Nevile Henderson, British ambassador to Germany and an apostle of appeasement, wrote the same month of a meeting with Herman Goering, No. 2 Nazi and ardent huntsman:

"He hoped to goodness the Czechs wouldn't upset his shooting plans by starting trouble in the middle of them. I don't think he was trying to fool me."

Hitler, not known to history as a humorist, told the French ambassador when asked if he could give a favorable forecast:

"What about? The weather? The weather forecast is always wrong."

Sidelights like these litter the inside history—recently released—of the tragic days when Britain was coasting down the toboggan slide toward war. It is contained in stacks of old Cabinet papers and other archives opened to public view under a government rule freeing state papers from secrecy after 30 years' lapse.

The 1938 documents on Chamberlain's three fateful visits to Hitler in an effort to stave off war at the expense of the Czechoslovaks do nothing to enhance the prestige of the British government.

'BUMBLING TO WAR'

Chamberlain and his Cabinet—with a few exceptions—are shown as bumbling their way along the road to war in a belief that it was possible to do business with Hitler on a basis of mutual trust.

After his second meeting with Hitler in September 1938, a Cabinet minute shows Chamberlain reporting to the ministers that he thought he had "established an influence" over Hitler and that the latter trusted him and was willing to work with him.

★ ★ ★

"If that were so, it was a wonderful opportunity to put an end to the present horrible armaments race," it says.

Chamberlain rationalized Hitler's tough talk:

"The tone was not as courteous or considerate as one would wish, but it was worth remembering that Germans were apt to express themselves curtly."

NO DECEIVER

Undertaking to explore Hitler's mind for his colleagues, Chamberlain said he had concluded that the fuehrer would not deliberately deceive a man with whom he had been in negotiations:

"When Herr Hitler announced that he meant to do something, it was certain he would do it. The crucial question was whether Herr Hitler was speaking the truth when he said that the object of his policy was racial unity and not the domination of Europe.

"The prime minister believed that Herr Hitler was speaking the truth."

He was soon proved wrong. The Munich agreement of September 1938, among Britain, France, Germany and Italy, ceded Germany the Czechoslovak Sudetenland with its Germanic minority.

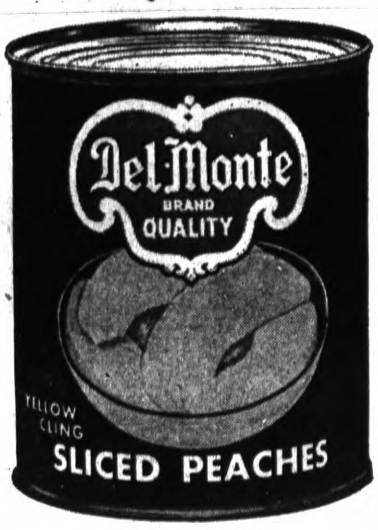

★ ★ ★

This was to be Hitler's last territorial demand in Europe Chamberlain thought—but six months later he walked over the rest of Czechoslovakia.

Chicken Should Be Economical

GOLDEN GLAZED CHICKEN

CHICKEN MOLE

BIRTHDAY CHICKEN

MACARONI DRUMSTICK CASSEROLE

By Janet Odell
Food Editor, The Pontiac Press

Broiler-fryers are on the best buy list for the second month in a row. And the holidays are far enough behind us now that we can relish the thought of poultry again.

If you have a freezer, it might be a good time to stock up on chicken. After all, it's not too many months until the outdoor cooking season will be with us once more.

Be sure to wrap chicken properly before placing in your freezer. Thus prepared, it will retain its high quality for as much as eight to 12 months.

Fresh poultry is perishable. Keep it in the refrigerator loosely wrapped, and use within two to three days. Rinse in cold water before cooking.

Look for chicken that has grade and inspection marks on it.

The grade mark, in the form of a shield, tells the grade or quality of the product (U.S. Grade A, B, or C). It is used on ready-to-cook poultry that has been officially graded for quality, but it may be used only if the inspection mark, denoting wholesomeness, appears also.

The inspection mark, in the form of a circle, denotes wholesomeness only. It is used on ready-to-cook poultry (A, B, or C) that has been officially inspected and passed as wholesome food.

Golden Glazed Chicken

- 1 broiler-fryer, 3½ lbs, cut in serving pieces
- ⅓ cup flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- ¼ cup solid all-vegetable shortening
- ¼ cup orange gelatin
- ¾ cup pineapple juice
- 1 cup pineapple slices
- 2 oranges, cut in wedges or pineapple slices for garnish
- Parsley sprigs

Wash chicken, pat dry. Combine flour, poultry seasoning, salt and paprika in paper bag. Place chicken in bag; shake. Heat shortening in pan; brown chicken lightly. Place chicken in casserole; bake 30 minutes.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling pineapple juice. Pour over chicken; arrange pineapple slices around edge. Bake about 40 minutes until golden and tender, basting with pineapple juice and jello mixture. Arrange on platter.

Garnish with either orange wedges or pineapple slices and parsley. Serves 5-6.

Chicken Mole, (molay) one of the most delectable and elegant Mexican dishes to wend its way north of the border, is perfect party fare. Its distinctive taste is a result of the grated chocolate in the sauce. Don't knock it if you haven't tried it.

Chicken Mole

- 2 chickens 3-4 lbs. each
- 1 onion, whole
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ½ cup olive oil
- 3 green peppers
- 2 tablespoons sesame seeds
- 6 cloves of garlic
- 1 slice dry white toast
- ½ cup almonds
- ¼ cup salted peanuts, shelled
- 8 tomatoes
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- Chili powder to taste
- 2 ounces unsweetened chocolate, grated
- ½ cup coffee liqueur

Cut chicken into serving pieces. Cook the chicken pieces in water to cover, together with the onion and 1 teaspoon of the salt. Simmer until almost tender, about 1 hour.

Drain, reserving ½ cup of stock. Dry the chicken. Heat ¼ cup of olive oil in frying pan. Add chicken and brown on all sides. Remove chicken and place in a heavy pot.

GRIND MIXTURE

Grind together the green peppers, sesame seeds, garlic, toast, almonds, peanuts, and tomatoes. Add the cinnamon, remaining salt, pepper, chili powder, and chocolate, and blend well.

Heat the remaining oil and add mixture to it. Cook over low heat.

Combine the ½ cup of stock with coffee liqueur. Mix thoroughly and pour over the chicken. Spread the chocolate mixture over the chicken.

Cover and cook for 1½ hours. Baste occasionally. Serves 8.

Birthday Chicken

- 3 large chicken breasts, split or 2 broiler-fryers
- ½ cup flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ cup vegetable oil
- 2 cans (8 ounces each) or 1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce with tomato bits
- 1 can (8 ounces) whole onions, drained
- 1 can (4 ounces) mushrooms stems and pieces, drained
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- 4 cups hot mashed potatoes
- ½ cup shredded Cheddar cheese
- 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh parsley

Coat chicken with flour mixed with salt and pepper; brown in oil in skillet. Remove chicken to baking dish.

Combine tomato sauce with tomato bits, onions, mushrooms and curry powder; pour over chicken. Bake, covered, at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

Meanwhile, beat potatoes, cheese, egg yolks and parsley together until cheese melts and mixture is smooth and fluffy. Force potatoes through pastry tube or spoon atop chicken. Broil about 5 inches from heat until potatoes are lightly browned. Makes 6 servings.

Make Sure of Bargain

The pricing of chicken by the piece may be set so that, on a cost per pound basis, favored breasts or thighs are actually less costly than whole birds. The following table shows some price comparisons.

ORIGIN IS MYSTERY

Try Macaroni Drumstick Casserole made with elbow macaroni and given added flavor with the use of canned chopped broiled mushrooms — a luxury touch for little cost.

Macaroni Drumstick Casserole

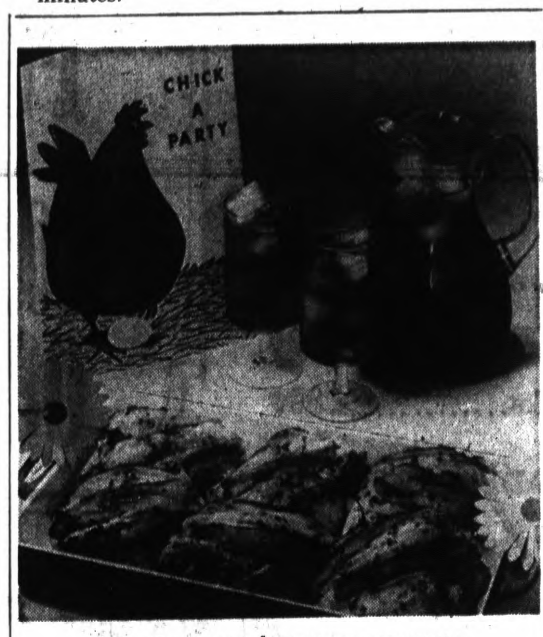

(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

- 8 chicken legs
- Salt and pepper
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 quarts boiling water
- 7 ounces elbow macaroni
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- ⅓ cup chopped celery
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ¼ cup flour
- ½ teaspoon marjoram leaves
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup chicken bouillon
- 1 can (3 ounces) chopped broiled mushrooms, drained
- 1 can pimiento, diced

Sprinkle chicken legs with salt and pepper and brown in 2 tablespoons butter in large skillet. Cook covered over low heat 20 minutes, reserve drippings.

Meanwhile, add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Saute onion and celery in ¼ cup butter until crisp-tender. Mix in flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper and marjoram. Gradually add milk and broth; cook, stirring constantly until sauce boils 1 minute. Add mushrooms, pimiento and chicken drippings. Combine with macaroni in 2-quart casserole. Top with chicken legs. Bake in 375 degree (moderate) oven 20 minutes.

MOTHER'S HELPER BAKED CHICKEN

Browned by Bacon, Butter

Top chicken breasts with strips of bacon, then cover with a creamy mixture of butter mixed with Worcestershire sauce and chopped chives. A bit of basting, bake until chicken's tender and brown — and you're ready to give a "Chick-A-Party."

MOTHER'S HELPER BAKED CHICKEN

- 4 whole chicken breasts, split
- 8 strips bacon
- ½ cup butter
- 4 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 4 tablespoons chopped chives

Split chicken breasts. Cut 2 slashes across each half of chicken breast. Place ½ strip of raw bacon into each slash. Cream butter. Beat in Worcestershire sauce and chopped chives. Spread mixture over chicken breasts.

Bake at 375 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes, or until breasts are tender and brown. Brush chicken breasts with pan drippings 4 to 5 times during cooking. Serves 4.

Oven Dishes Simple to Fix

The story is that a superior chicken dish was served several years ago to Queen Elizabeth during a U.S. visit. Both as a mother and homemaker, the unconfirmed rumor has it, she was so pleased with its palatable falvor that she asked for the recipe. From that day on the dish has been known as "Chicken Elizabeth."

CHICKEN ELIZABETH

- 4 chicken breasts cut in half
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 medium white onion, chopped
- ½ fresh green pepper, chopped
- 3 oz. dry vermouth
- ½ pint sour cream
- ¼ cup blue cheese (about 1¼ ounces, crumbled)
- ½ tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- Dash tarragon
- Dash paprika

In 10" skillet, saute chicken (in butter) turning several times until lightly browned. Place chicken in 1½ qt. casserole, meat side up. Retain juices in pan. Heat oven to 350 degrees.

In a blender, combine the remaining ingredients and pan juice. Pour over breasts and bake in covered casserole for one hour. Makes 4 servings.

★ ★ ★

Here's a pleasant surprise using an old favorite.

ASPARAGUS AND CHICKEN

- 4 boned half-chicken breasts
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- ⅛ cup coarsely broken walnuts
- 1 cup ginger ale
- ½ cup soy sauce
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 stick butter
- 4 tablespoons parsley flakes
- 1 teaspoon minced onion
- 1 cup grated sharp cheese
- 3 cups* cooked asparagus cuts and tips

Cut uncooked chicken into generous pieces. Brown in skillet 10 minutes, stirring often. Sprinkle with salt and pepper; add nuts stirring until golden brown.

Add ginger ale, soy sauce, lemon juice and pour mixture into large baking dish; top with butter, parsley flakes, onion and grated cheese.

Bake for 30 minutes at 350 degree remove from oven and pour asparagus on top and bake another 15 minutes. Serves 6.

* Equivalent of two standard (No. 300) cans, glass containers or packages of frozen.

Boiling Water Removes Stains

Wine stains may be removed from tablecloths, napkins, and other cloth surfaces by stretching the stained portion over a large bowl, securing with a rubber band, sprinkling with salt, and pouring boiling water from a height of 2 or 3 feet.

★ ★ ★

It is also wise to sprinkle a little salt on the wine stain at the time of the spillage.

History of Chocolate, Its Change to Candy Interesting

NEW YORK (UPI) — Americans are a candy-loving people and their per capita consumption of sweets is among the world's largest. Of a variety of confections, the products made of chocolate seem to be favored.

The story of where chocolate comes from and how it is made into a confectionary is a fascinating one.

Cacao (pronounced ca-cow) is the Spanish word usually accepted as the name for the chocolate tree and its beans — though the English version, cocoa, is commonly used.

Columbus first brought cocoa beans back to Spain from the New World, where chocolate was the royal drink of the Aztecs, and the Incas of Peru.

A later Spanish explorer, Hernando Cortez, introduced chocolate as a hot beverage, sweetening it with cane sugar and vanilla.

The drink soon became a favorite with the Spanish court and eventually spread, first to France, then to England and the rest of Europe.

A pioneer in the introduction of chocolate into the United States, was Domingo Ghirardelli, a merchant of Italian ancestry, who came to the New World and settled in Peru.

Enticed by the Gold Rush of 1848, Ghirardelli went to San Francisco and set up a store to supply gold miners with flour, lard and biscuits. But he also put on sale a product he had found in ancient Lima — chocolate—and by the 1960s was selling it almost exclusively.

Year by year, the Ghirardelli business grew, and a series of red brick buildings near San Francisco Bay became its factory headquarters.

Today, the original factory is gone, but visitors to San Francisco can delight in a miniature chocolate factory which has been installed on the premises, where the various steps of chocolatemaking may be seen and sampled.

The best macaroni.

Jet Deal Could Give Congo Powerful Black African Air Force

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP) — The Congo is negotiating with Italy for 17 Macchi jet fighters, informed sources report. If the deal comes off this year as the Congolese hope, it would give the Congo one of the most formidable air forces in the newly independent areas of black Africa.

There has been a general purchase agreement but price and terms are still under discussion, the sources said. Italy would train Congolese to fly the two-place aircraft, basically trainers, compared by veteran fliers to the American T37 and the French Fouga-Magister.

* * *

The Congo now has only six T28 propeller aircraft and a half-dozen transport planes, the biggest of them DC4s. Three more T28s are en route to replace two which crashed.

The Italians also have more than a dozen T6 trainers here in which 50 Italian air force personnel train Congolese pilots. The first Congolese instructor trained in Italy has recently returned home to teach his countrymen to fly the T6s and T28s.

President Joseph D. Mobutu said recently that in the coming year, his army would be backed by 17 jets. He gave no details.

Still pending is a year-old bid to obtain C130 transport aircraft from the United States.

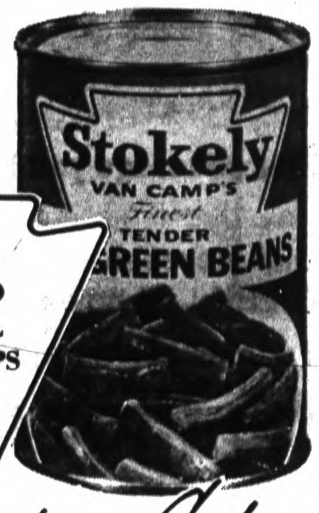

* * *

Ghana and Uganda are among the few nations in emergent black Africa with jets. Ghana has Macchis, but less than 17, informed sources say. Ethiopia, hardly a new nation, has a powerful jet force. Sudan, basically an Arab nation, has jets.

Nigeria, with a war on, has a fleet of Russian and Czech jets.

Aircraft are important to the Congo, with the eastern border as far away from the capital as Paris is from Moscow. Poor, often impassable, roads make parts of the country inaccessible except by air.

★ No age limit—no medical examination required

Just 25¢ enrolls your entire family for the first month

ACT NOW—YOUR ENROLLMENT FORM MUST BE MAILED BY MIDNIGHT SAT., FEB. 1, OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

One out of two families will have someone in the hospital this year! It could be you — or some beloved member of your family tomorrow...next week...next month. Sad to say, very few families have anywhere near enough coverage to meet today's soaring hospital costs. These costs have tripled in just a few short years. They are expected to double again in the few years ahead.

Stop for a moment. Think how much a long stay in the hospital will cost you or a loved one. How would you ever pay for costly, but necessary, X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? What would you do with your pay check stopped, but living expenses still going on the same as ever? The same rent, phone, food, all the day-to-day expenses that never stop.

What is the average breadwinner to do? We believe we have the answer in the famous Presidential Extra Cash Plan that ...Pays you $100.00 a week tax-free cash when you go to the hospital.

What a blessing it is when you know you have an extra $100.00 cash coming in every week—beginning the very first day you enter the hospital.

Now, Presidential's economy plan enables you to enjoy this protection at once. Because it will NOT cost you $20.00. It will NOT cost you $10.00 — or even $5.00. Your special low price is just 25¢ for the first month's coverage. Then continue at low Presidential rates.

Your cash benefits increase each year — at no extra cost to you!

And what peace of mind not to worry about rising costs. Your protection automatically increases $3.00 a week each year. The first year you get $100.00 a week. You get $103.00 a week in the second year. $106.00 a week in the third year. $109.00 a week in the fourth year. By the eleventh year, your policy will be worth a full $130.00 a week in benefit payments...at no increase in cost to you! This generous cash reserve protection will belong to you for as long as you keep the policy. You can see that your insurance will be worth much more than the present "face value" of the policy. Certainly, our increased payments to you will help keep pace with rising costs and — best of all...

...The increasing benefits come to you at no extra cost. You still pay the regular low Presidential premium!

What other Plan protects you like this today? What other Plan keeps protecting you against rising living costs in the years ahead without increasing your premiums? And that's not all. This special Presidential Extra Cash Plan (#HP 18L-1067)...

PAYS Up to $10,000.00 CASH for each accident or illness, starting the very first day in the hospital.

PAYS $100.00 A WEEK CASH — If you need a full-time registered nurse when you come home from the hospital — up to 50 weeks.

PAYS $1,000.00 EXTRA CASH for accidental death.

PAYS Up to $2,000.00 CASH for accidental loss of limbs or eyesight.

PAYS $100.00 A WEEK CASH for each pregnancy, when you go to the hospital, assuming both husband and wife have been enrolled in the Family Plan With Maternity.

PAYS Up to $5,000.00 when a child goes to the hospital for any accident or illness when you are enrolled in the Family Plan.

PAYS you cash benefits that increase each year... to a maximum of $130.00-A-WEEK...at no extra cost to you.

PAYS all cash direct to you (not to doctor or hospital).

IF YOU ARE 65 OR OVER YOU WILL COLLECT IN ADDITION TO MEDICARE

Why are smart folks over 65 now hastening to protect themselves with the Presidential Extra Cash Plan in addition to what Medicare will do for them?

Even though Medicare is a great boon to folks over 65, it will not, of course, pay all the bills that quickly pile up as a result of illness or accident.

Regardless of your age, you still need additional health protection.

We have designed this plan as the important addition to what you receive from Medicare — or any other health insurance you may have. Remember, all checks will be sent directly to you (not to the doctor or hospital), to give you that "extra" help just when you need it most. Use the tax-free cash any way you see fit. And you will be glad to know the checks will be big ones! In addition to what you receive from Medicare, Presidential pays you $70.00 a week...EVEN FOR 100 WEEKS if necessary! You can receive as much as $7,000.00 for each illness or injury when hospitalized!

...Pays you $100.00 a week CASH for a registered nurse at home.

Yes, in addition to the $100.00 weekly checks we send you during your hospital stay, we pay you an extra $100.00 a week if the doctor says you need a full-time registered nurse to take care of you at home.

How comforting it is to know that — after your stay in the hospital, if you've been there three days or more, you can return home to recuperate and yet not be a burden to your loved ones. Yes, if your doctor says you need a registered nurse full time within 5 days after you come home, we'll send you checks for $100.00 a week — for as long as you need the nurse — even up to 50 weeks. It's like having a reserve of $5,000.00 cash to draw on when you need it. These benefits also increase each year by $3.00 a week. Another exceptional feature you have with Presidential...

...Pays you $100.00 a week cash maternity benefits

Ordinary hospital insurance may take care of part of your expenses when you go to the hospital to have a baby. But what policy can you think of that gives you cash to buy all the things you need for the new baby? Now, if both husband and wife are insured in the wonderful Family Plan With Maternity for the entire period of the pregnancy, you get extra cash to use any way you want. If a pregnancy, childbirth or even miscarriage puts you in the hospital for one day, five days, 10 days — as long as necessary — you get $100.00 a week for every day of your confinement, up to 100 weeks.

All these added cash benefits.

Yes, in addition to $100.00 a week for hospitalization or $100.00 a week maternity benefits and $100.00 a week for a registered nurse at home...you get all this:

Added cash benefits: $1,000.00 cash to your family if death occurs within 90 days from any accidental injury. Think of how handy the cash can be in time of loss. It can take care of burial expenses without burdening your loved ones.

Added cash benefit: Up to $2,000.00 cash for accidental loss of limbs or eyesight, when the loss occurs anytime within 90 days of the accident. The loss of a limb or eyesight is a terrible thing. Nothing can replace the loss, but a check for $1,000.00 or $2,000.00 brings peace of mind during the period of adjustment.

Added cash benefit: Choose either Family Plan...and your children will be covered too! Presidential pays up to $5,000.00 any time your youngster goes to the hospital...for tonsils, appendicitis, or any other illness or injury! Yes, you will receive $50.00 cash, week after week — for as many as 100 weeks, if necessary.

We pay your premiums when you are not able

As a special consideration to you — if you are hospitalized just 6 weeks or more, all premiums that come due while you are still in the hospital after this period will be paid by Presidential. And your protection continues as if you were paying the premiums yourself! Then if you leave the hospital and must return for the same condition before you have resumed full normal activities for 90 days, Presidential will again PAY ANY PREMIUMS WHILE YOU ARE IN THE HOSPITAL — TO A MAXIMUM OF 100 WEEKS per confinement! This means you pay no premiums, yet your full protection remains in force — you collect up to $10,000.00 for each confinement!

THIS LIMITED ENROLLMENT OFFER ENDS SOON

Only 25¢ for First Month — Money-Back Guarantee

You can now have your first month's protection for your entire family for only twenty five cents! But you must act immediately. Your request for this wonderful Income Protection Plan must be mailed on the convenient form below NOT LATER THAN MIDNIGHT of the date in the Enrollment Form.

This midnight expiration hour cannot be extended. If your enrollment form is mailed later, it cannot be accepted.

These are the ONLY exclusions!

Your Presidential policy covers every conceivable kind of sickness or accident except conditions caused by war or any act of war; mental disorders; intoxicants and narcotics; pregnancy except as provided under the maternity benefit provision; and expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your policy...during the first 2 years only.

This last item is a real help if you already have a health problem. If you are sick before you take out this policy, you will still be covered for that condition after the policy has been in effect for 2 years. Of course, meanwhile every new condition is immediately covered.

How can 25¢ buy so much?

You can buy ordinary insurance at any time and pay the regular rates, if you wish. But Presidential can now provide you and your entire family with $100.00 a week tax-free Income Protection for just 25¢ the first month only because we enroll a large number of people at one time — direct by mail! This highly efficient "Mass Enrollment" method cuts costs to the bone — and the savings are passed on to you!

Make your decision carefully

Think how costly a hospital confinement will be. Imagine paying for those indispensible x-rays, doctor bills, medicines and drugs that are not covered by your present insurance.

Would you be able to afford the quiet and privacy of a private room and a private nurse, should you so desire? Or a telephone to keep in touch with loved ones? Or the rental of a TV set to help pass the lonely hours? Who would pay your bills that keep on coming in at home? Many folks have lost their life savings, their cars, even their homes trying to meet such expenses. And no one knows whose turn it will be next.

Why you must act before the deadline date shown in the enrollment form — just a few days from today

Why do we give you so little time to apply for your insurance policy — only a few days? Because, as mentioned above, we must receive your Enrollment Form the same time as all the others in order to pass on to you the savings that come from processing many policies at one time.

We mail you the policy as soon as we receive the Enrollment Form. When the policy arrives, examine it in the privacy of your own home. Take all the time you need. It's a very short document, and you'll be pleasantly surprised to discover there is NO FINE PRINT. Then — show it, if you wish, to someone you trust. Perhaps your lawyer, accountant, or banker. Better still — show it to your own insurance man...even though he may very well be working for another insurance company! If he is a personal friend, he has your best interests in mind. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better bargain available anywhere — at any price!

Money back guarantee—in case you change your mind

Even after you mail your Enrollment Form below...even after you examine the policy in your own home and talk it over with anyone you wish...even after all this you are still free to return the policy within 15 days and your quarter will be refunded at once. There will be no obligation whatever.

Meanwhile, all during the 15 days you are making up your mind—you'll be protected by $100.00-A-WEEK extra cash benefits just as if you had already said "yes." That's right, you will be fully covered all this time for any accident which puts you in the hospital, even if you finally decide to return the policy.

However, after you've seen the policy for yourself, you will surely agree that this is a tremendous value and you'll want to continue this $100.00-A-WEEK extra cash protection under the Plan that's best for you.

PLAN I — INDIVIDUAL(S) ONLY PLAN:

If you want to cover yourself — or yourself and one or more adult dependents (including your spouse) — then this is the Plan for you. Each person must be 18 or over, and shall pay (per person) the rate applicable to his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium
18-39	only $3.95
40-49	only $4.95
50-59	only $5.95
60-74	only $6.95
75 and over	only $8.95

PLAN II — FAMILY PLAN WITH MATERNITY

This plan is for the family that is still growing. To the total of the monthly premium for the adults to be insured, just add $5. This entitles you to all maternity benefits. It also covers all your unmarried, dependent children between the ages of 3 months and 19 years who live at home. Future dependent children will be covered when they reach 3 months of age and without any additional charge.

PLAN III—FAMILY PLAN WITHOUT MATERNITY

This plan is for the family that is no longer growing. To the total of the monthly premium for the adults to be insured, just add $3. This covers all your unmarried, dependent children between the ages of 3 months and 19 years who live at home.

NOTE: The regular Monthly Premium shown here (for your age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next. Once you have enrolled, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us — or because of advanced age — but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state.

Act now—"later" may be too late!

TIME IS PRECIOUS! Act quickly (No salesman will call.) Get your enrollment form into the mail today—because once you suffer an accident or sickness, it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any cost. That's why we urge you to act today—before anything unexpected happens.

THESE 23 QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tell you how Presidential's COST OF LIVING INCOME REPLACEMENT HEALTH AND ACCIDENT PLAN gives you the protection you need — at amazingly low cost!

1. How much will my policy pay me when I go to the hospital?
The full amount! You are paid $100.00-A-WEEK cash every single week. And it starts the very first day you are in the hospital. (If you are over 65, you are paid $70.00 a week, in addition to any Medicare benefits you receive.)

2. Will I be paid if I am hospitalized for less than a full week?
You certainly will...regardless of whether you are in the hospital for as short a time as one day...or as long a time as a week, month, year or more.

3. Does this Plan pay you from the first day of hospitalization?
Yes! You receive full cash benefits of $100.00 a week starting the very first day you enter the hospital. The coverage begins when we accept your completed Form and 25¢ — that is the day you and your loved ones are covered for any accidents. Sickness coverage begins 30 days after the effective date of the policy.

4. How much do I receive for a Registered Nurse at Home?
$100.00-A-WEEK for up to $5,000.00 after you have been hospitalized for 3 days or more, and your doctor has you employ a full-time registered nurse within 5 days after you leave the hospital. Ten years from now it will have increased to $130.00 a week in benefits...at no extra cost to you!

5. Are there any accidental death benefits?
Yes. $1,000.00 cash is paid to your estate when death occurs any time within 90 days of an accident.

6. Will I be paid extra if I lose a limb or eyesight?
Yes. Presidential pays $1,000.00 for complete accidental loss of one hand or one foot or sight of one eye; $2,000.00 for loss of both hands or both feet or sight of both eyes...when dismemberment occurs anytime within 90 days of the accident.

7. How much do we receive for pregnancies?
If you have the Family Plan With Maternity, you receive $100.00-A-WEEK for each pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in hospital confinement when both husband and wife are enrolled under this plan for the entire period of pregnancy.

8. Suppose I am paid benefits for any sickness or accident. What happens if I am again hospitalized for the same condition?
Don't worry. You still collect $100.00-A-WEEK for a total of 100 weeks. And if you have already resumed full normal activities for just 90 days, it's considered a new confinement, and you can collect for an additional 100 weeks. Of course, any new condition is covered immediately for a full 100 weeks.

9. How may I use these benefit payments?
You may use them in any way you wish — for hospital and doctor bills, rent, food, household expenses, or anything else. This is entirely up to you.

10. May I apply if I am over 65?
Yes, you may. Folks any age are welcome to apply—there is no age limit! Members over 65 are paid $70.00 a week plus all Medicare benefits.

11. Can I collect from Presidential even if I carry other insurance?
Of course. This plan will pay you in addition to whatever you may receive from any other policies, including Medicare for folks over 65.

12. Why do I need this Presidential Plan in addition to my other hospital and health insurance?
While hospital costs have tripled in recent years, very few people have tripled their insurance. The chances are one in seven that you will need money to take care of all your other expenses, as well as your hospital bills. Your Presidential checks are rushed to you by air mail to use as you see fit.

13. What benefits do my eligible, dependent children get?
If you choose a Family Type Plan, your dependent eligible children, ages 3 months to 19 years, would receive 50% of all the cash benefits of the basic Plan and 100% of all its other benefits and features (excluding Waiver of Premium).

14. May I add future dependent children to my policy after it is in force?
Yes, indeed, if you have the FAMILY PLAN WITH MATERNITY. Just notify us when they are 3 months old and they will be covered without evidence of insurability and without any additional charge.

15. Will my protection be cancelled because I have too many claims?
No, definitely not! Presidential guarantees never to cancel your protection because you have too many claims or because of advanced age. We also guarantee never to refuse to renew your policy unless the premium is not paid before the end of the 31-day grace period, or unless renewal is declined on all policies of this type in your entire state. (Of course, if deception is used in making application, the policy may be ineffective.)

16. Will my rates be raised as I grow older or if I have too many claims?
No matter how many claims you have, or regardless of how long you keep your policy, your rate will remain the same as it was for your age when you applied. Presidential guarantees never to adjust this rate unless the rates are adjusted on all policies of this type in your entire state.

17. What is not covered by this policy?
The only conditions not covered are those caused by: mental disorders; intoxicants and narcotics; where care is in a Government hospital; expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the policy Effective Date (during the first 2 years only); act of war. EVERYTHING ELSE IS COVERED—Including pregnancy when both husband and wife have been enrolled in the FAMILY PLAN WITH MATERNITY for the entire period of pregnancy.

18. What are the requirements for membership in one of the Presidential Plans?
You must not have been refused any health, hospital or life insurance; and, to qualify during this enrollment period, you must enroll before midnight of the date in the coupon.

19. Why is this offer good for a limited time only?
Because, by enrolling a large number of people at the same time, underwriting, processing and policy issuance costs can be kept at a minimum—and we can pass these savings on to you.

20. Besides the savings, are there other advantages to joining Presidential during this enrollment period?
Yes, there certainly are. A very important one is that you do not need to complete a regular application — just your brief form in the lower left hand corner of this page. Also, during this enrollment period there are no other requirements for eligibility — and no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your policy!

21. Can other members of my family take advantage of this special offer?
Yes, as long as they can meet the few requirements listed under Question 18.

22. How does the money-back guarantee work?
Examine your policy carefully in the privacy of your own home. If for any reason you are not completely satisfied, return it within 15 days and we will promptly refund your money. Meanwhile you will be fully protected while making your decision!

23. How do I join?

Long Island RR Has a Passel of Problems

By JOE WING
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — New York is a great place to visit — unless you have to visit it five times a week via the Long Island Rail Road.

As railroads go, the Long Island is something special. Only a minor portion of its revenue comes from freight, and each day on its 343 miles of track it hauls a quarter of a million commuters.

The road pulled out of bankruptcy two years ago through its sale by the Pennsylvania Railroad to the state of New York for $65 million.

In bankruptcy and under the supervision of a hot railroader named Thomas H. Goodfellow, the Long Island spruced up the morale of passengers and crews. Trains seemed to run more nearly on time. Passengers could ride in engine cabs on occasion, borrow umbrellas on rainy days, choose the color of their stations. They were even kept advised by loudspeakers about the causes of delays.

MOVES BACKFIRED

Then the Metropolitan Transportation Authority took over under Dr. William J. Ronan. He figured he would have remaining problems straightened out in a year or two. But some of his moves backfired.

New trains ordered are not yet in service. Maintenance was cut on old trains, and union men walked out because they said the trains weren't safe. Passengers complained they were dirty and decrepit.

There was a "whisky rebellion" when some of the trainmen balked because road officials were seen cocktailing, while the trainmen weren't supposed to touch the stuff at lunch. There were strikes and slowdowns and delays in opening doors and shutting doors.

Finally there wes rebellion. Passengers began to organize and one group demanded a 10-point "bill of rights." Another bunch, after weary delays in a cold car, refused to offer their tickets to the conductor. Others here and there followed suit.

HAULED TO JAIL

Two young women and a man were hauled off to jail in one such incident. The judge was not amused. "It's a shame to submit helpless passengers to arrest and harassment," he said, and dismissed the charges.

Meantime the road was saying that passengers would have to pay $16 more a month for commutation tickets if the union's current demands were met.

I suppose I could get away from it all by joining one of those car pools that keep forming and breaking up. But then, how would I read my paper, or make new friends, or kibitz bridge games, or order a scotch in the bar car? It's hard to do things like that in bumper-to-bumper traffic.

Bad Advice Is No Barrier; He's Teacher

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Brother Thomas O'Brien hasn't been able to accept failure since the day he was told he wasn't smart enough to enter college.

Those words of faculty advice came from a guidance counselor in high school, and young Tom O'Brien ignored them.

He finished high school and college, earned an advanced college degree and for the past 12 years has been a college teacher and now a high school teacher.

Brother Thomas says: "All too often you become what people tell you you are. Tell a kid he is stupid, and you are presenting him with a self-fulfilling prophecy."

AVOID THE MISTAKE

Brother Thomas remembers the bad advice given him in high school and is determined to avoid the same mistake with his own charges.

"We teachers have to break this self-defeatist image that many kids have picked up from adults," he said.

★ ★ ★

He teaches industrial arts, mathematics, religion and reading at Providence Junior High School and is codirector of a summer and Saturday program to broaden the cultural background of youngsters in poor neighborhoods.

The cultural program is currently helping about 350 youths under the age of 16. About 75 high school students serve as volunteers in the program.

Reporter Tests Detector of Drunks

By JIM NICHOLS

EAST LANSING (AP) — "I only had one beer, and that was about an hour ago," I said. The sheriff's deputy glanced at me suspiciously.

"A lot of them say that," grinned laboratory instructor Jerry Stemler, an expert in the use of the drunk-detecting machine called a breathalyzer.

Stemler, who works for Michigan State University's Highway Traffic Safety Center, was testing the deputy who was testing me. The center, along with the State Public Health Department, was recertifying some of the 952 policemen trained to use the breath-testing instrument.

He generously offered to have the deputy being checked give me the test, which is designed to see whether the subject is too intoxicated to drive.

GETS 'WARNING'

"I should warn you," Stemler added, "That if you come out with an excessively high reading, we'll have to arrest you."

I think he was kidding.

"But if you really had only one beer and if it really was an hour ago, we probably won't be able to detect anything," he said.

I offered, in the interest of science, to go out and drink a little more.

Like one of the 14,181 people arrested in the first 10 months after Michigan's "implied consent" law took effect in November 1967, I watched the deputy run through the complex routine of readying the chemical breathalyzer.

Stemler watched him, too, making notes on his test pad as the officer remembered nearly every step in the process.

PASSING TEST

The deputy obviously knew his stuff and was passing the test. I wondered if I would be able to do the same.

The implied consent law requires every driver arrested for driving under the influence of liquor to submit to a chemical test or lose his license. Results of the tests may be admitted in court.

The Traffic Safety Center says that of the 14,181 arrested in the 10-month period, 10,729 were found to be impaired or drunk. Only 420 were cleared by the complicated little machine; the rest refused the test.

Not very good odds, I thought.

"Do you have any more questions about the breathalyzer?" Stemler asked.

"Just one," I said. "How do you beat it?"

'DON'T DRINK'

"There's only one way I know of," he said. "Don't drink. The instrument itself is sound. The only thing you can do is fool the operator, and we take steps to prevent that."

The deputy handed me the tube leading into the machine and invited me to blow steadily into the wafer-shaped plastic mouthpiece. Then he opened a little door on the front of the breathalyzer.

★ ★ ★

"That way he can hear you," Stemler said. "Sometimes a guy will try to fool you by just puffing his cheekd up and not really breathing."

"Hmmmm," I said. I had thought of that.

I yielded up my breath to the machine. The deputy made some mysterious manipulations. I watched the red-tipped needle on top.

ALCOHOL PERCENTAGE

The needle swings across a dial that registers the percentage of alcohol in the subject's blood. Under state law, a reading of 0.05 per cent or less requires acquittal of a drunk charge.

If the percentage is between 0.10 and 0.15, the jury is instructed to presume the defendant's abilities were impaired. A reading of 0.15 or more give rise to the presumption he was under the influence of alcohol.

★ ★ ★

The needle only twitched a little. "When the reaction is that small," Stemler said, "We just ignore it."

The technician and the deputy agreed: I was sober.

The deputy passed his test, too, and was recertified as qualified to give breath tests to suspected imbibers for another year.

MOST PASS

Most of the officers being tested do pass, says Dr. Edgar Kivela, chief of the Health Department's Crime Detection Laboratory. There are a few who don't, he said, and they are given a chance to brush up and try again.

The annual recertification of breathalyzer operators is recommended by the National Highway Safety Bureau, Kivela said, adding, "No matter what you do or how much you learn, it's always a good idea to go over it again."

By Theater Failure

Atlanta's Pride Stung

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The collapse of Atlanta's municipal theater company two months after its glittering opening was a stinging slap to the pride of a city that had supposedly "arrived" in the arts.

The closing of the theater, hailed as the only one in America combining resident professional companies in theater, children's theater, opera and ballet, is a dream shattered for many patrons of the arts.

And it leaves the sparkling new $13-million Atlanta Memorial Arts Center, which opened only last autumn, half empty.

The center was built as a memorial to 105 Atlanta residents killed in a plane crash in France in 1962. Its governing body, the Atlanta Arts Alliance, remains in operation with its three members, the Atlanta Symphony, the High Museum of Art and the Atlanta School of Art. Charles Jagels, president of the alliance, says these three "are not in financial difficulty."

The municipal theater was a tenant at the new center. It had been expected to become a member of the alliance.

Christopher Manos, general director of Municipal Theater, said: "Our projected income in our deficit budget was overly optimistic. The flu scare and epidemic cut deeply into our anticipated revenues for December.

★ ★ ★

"I must say in all honesty," he added, "that we have been criticized for being overambitious, for attempting to open, full-blown, four major art companies. If I had to do it over again, I would still try."

The theater appealed to local and national foundations for financial support. None came. "We just ran out of time," said Manos.

★ ★ ★

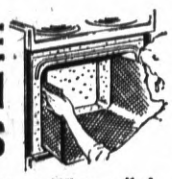

Some feel the failure is due, in part, to a widespread attitude in Atlanta that culture is an exclusive club — for black tie and mink coat audiences.

Wallet-Size Plastic Device

Pontiac Employes Get New ID Badge

Pontiac Motor Division's 17,000 hourly rate employes are now carrying new wallet-size plastic badges designed to become one of the most useful identification cards an employe can have.

Director of Personnel, Thomas C. Dorais, explained that the new badges are a handy, individualized type of identification which will have many uses.

In contrast to the metal badge which had been in use at Pontiac for at least 40 years, the new badge has its owner's name and Social Security number embossed on it.

This means that the badge itself will not change with the person's assignment because the permanent Social Security number is the key to positive identification. It should also better serve the employe in outside transactions like cashing pay checks.

TRULY SIGNIFICANT

"I think that the meaning of the new-style badges for the individual can be summed up in saying that they provide a modern, more attractive and easy-to-use piece of identification," said Dorais.

Subsequently, the time clocks and time cards now used in the plants will disappear and will be replaced with new "badge readers" which, in effect, are time clocks.

At that time, an employe will use his new badge as a personalized time card by inserting it in the badge reader. This machine will instantly record the time and provide errorproof information for figuring his pay check.

Thus, the badge also will become a personal key to assure each person of an accurate and more private record of his attendance hours and pay.

VERSATILE ADJUNCT

The badge is designed so that it can be carried in the billfold or, if a person wishes it, he will be given an alligator clip so that he can clip the badge to his clothing.

The top of the badge carries a hood which will be color-coded for different plants and will feature a revised numbering system to designate plant, department, group and shift.

★ ★ ★

This is the only part of the badge that would need to be changed in the event of transfer to another department.

The new badge also features Pontiac's official "V" crest emblem and the official colors of the division.

IDENTIFIES PONTIAC EMPLOYES — Instead of the old-fashioned metal identification badge, the 17,000 hourly rate employes at Pontiac Motor Division are now carrying this handy, wallet-size plastic badge. Not only designed to carry the owner's name and Social Security number, the badge will later become a personalized time card as well.

Trade Moderately Active

Stock Mart Moves Unevenly

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved unevenly early this afternoon in moderately active trading.

Gains held a lead of about 60 issues over losses on the New York Stock Exchange, cutting an initial advantage of around 175.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon fell 1.49 to 936.91.

Gradual weakness developed in blue chips as the session wore on.

General Motors was down more than a point, while other major auto stocks held on a fairly even keel. Wall Street was concerned over the first major production cutbacks in the industry for two years. GM, however, was not cutting production.

Some of the international oils were wobbly because of tension in the Middle East. Royal Dutch lost 1, and Jersey Standard was off a fraction. Standard of Indiana, however, gained 1.

Armour paced the list on volume and advanced 2. General Host revised its offer for Armour shares. General Host lost more than a point.

Ling-Temco-Vought rose a couple of points. The company was reported to be looking for a sharp rise in 1969 results.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange.

City Man Hurt in 2-Car Crash

A Pontiac man is hospitalized in poor condition following a two-car collision in the city early today.

Jimmie D. Polston, 23, of 4 Liberty was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after the car he was driving collided with another auto in front of the GMC Truck & Coach Division parking lot A on South East Boulevard at about 2 a.m.

The other driver, David E. Collier, 23, of 384 S. East Blvd., and his passenger were not injured, according to police.

★ ★ ★

Police said the Polston car was pulling out of the parking lot when it collided with the Collier car going west on South East Boulevard.

★ ★ ★

Police ticketed Polston for failure to yield the right of way and Collier for not having a driver's license in his possession.

WSU Head Asks Confab on Cities

DETROIT (AP)— Dr. William R. Keast, president of Wayne State University, has asked President Nixon to call a White House conference to spark a program for revitlizing the nation's cities by 1976.

★ ★ ★

Keast and Bertram Gross, newly appointed director of the WSU Center for Urban Studies, plan to outline the need and goals of the proposed conference at a news conference today.

New Detroit Unit to Seek Aid to Bus 50 to OCC

The New Detroit Committee has promised 50 black Detroit inner-city students who attend Oakland Community College through a special program that the committee will seek money for buses to transport the students to the college.

About 30 persons picketed yesterday at the Detroit Bank and Trust Co. where committee offices are housed, urging New Detroit Committee's further help for bus transportation.

The committee had contributed $6,500 for bus transportation for the inner-city students for the first semester of the program. However, it was revealed last week that funds for transportation were running out.

★ ★ ★

The program was started in September in an attempt to recruit black students for OCC this year. The 50 students were selected by the Higher Educational Opportunity Committee of Detroit, and the college's board of trustees waived the tuition for them and sought government program assistance.

MSU PROJECT

A cooperative agreement has been made with Michigan State University that if these students successfully complete two years at OCC with at least a C average, MSU will accept them and seek appropriate funds to finance them.

Black students from Oakland County will be sought for the program next September.

"We didn't intend to let the program drop, due to lack of funds for buses," an OCC spokesman said.

"Funds were being sought through private donations," he said.

SHORT OF FUNDS

"The committee has been very helpful in the program and had no further committment after the $6,500 donated for the first semester. The second semester started in January, and OCC was running out of money to finance the buses," he said.

The New Detroit Committee did not promise the students its own money, but indicated it will try to get money from other sources.

★ ★ ★

Committee President William T. Patrick Jr. said, "Under no circumstances will these 50 students not have buses available daily for classes."

Hospital Funds

DETROIT (AP) — A $153,000 grant from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development will be supplemented by a $300,000 grant from the Wayne County Board of Supervisors in remodeling the pediatric and dental facilities at Wayne County General Hospital, a hospital spokesman said Tuesday.

29-Year First

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Four men wearing bandanas robbed a neighborhood grocery store of $1,000 at gunpoint late Monday. The owner reported it was the first time he had been robbed in 29 years.

Dem Delegate Complaint Filed

Actions at Meeting of Wayne Part of 19th Hit

The method by which State Democratic Convention delegates were picked at the Jan. 17 Wayne-19th District convention has been challenged by several Redford and Livonia precinct delegates.

The complaint was filed Friday with State Democratic Chairman Sander Levin of Berkley and the party's credentials evaluation committee.

It is charged that nominations from the floor were not permitted, individual nominations were not honored, delegates were not elected on an apportioned basis among urban areas, that the two elected state representatives from the Wayne-19th District were denied delegate status, and that the chairman would not allow consideration of alternative election procedures.

WAYNE CHAIRMAN

Ron Mardiros of Livonia, a Congressional candidate defeated in the Democratic primary, is the newly elected chairman of the Wayne County portion of the district.

Nineteenth District Chairman Aldo Vagnozzi of Farmington said he was "deeply concerned over reports . . . It certainly doesn't sound as if the Mardiros faction favors the open-party concept to which we are all committed."

The credentials evaluation committee is expected to hear the protest is expected to hear ning meeting. Prior to that time the committee will seek a compromise settlement.

The committee could recommend that a delegation or a delegate not be seated and not vote in the district caucus until the challenge is resolved.

Man Faces Trial in Pair's Death

DETROIT (AP) — A 35-year-old Livonia man whose car crashed into a home in Livonia in December, killing the couple who lived there was bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court Tuesday after waiving preliminary examination before a Livonia district judge.

Neil Gardner will stand trial for manslaughter as a result of the incident in which his car, traveling between 70 and 90 miles per hour, crashed windshield-deep into the bedroom of Charles and Jacqueline Oja.

Officer Slated for Viet Fights 'Bad Leader' Report

DETROIT (AP) —An Army prosecutor, criticized for his handling of a case, now faces the prospect of leading troops in Vietnam with a record which states he is "untrustworthy, a bad leader."

Army Lt. Thomas McGuire, 26, of Niles, Mich., leaves this weekend for Panama and two weeks of jungle training, a prelude to a tour in Vietnam where he would presumably be a tank unit commander. While serving at Ft. Meade, Md., he received a bad efficiency report.

★ ★ ★

McGuire claims the bad report stemmed directly from his reluctance to push prosecution of an enlisted man who was to be court-martialed for possession of marijuana. McGuire maintained the marijuana was taken from the soldier's car in an illegal search.

"I think we have the Army in an untenable position," said McGuire's attorney, George C. Edwards.

UNRESOLVED CONFLICT

"On the one hand they have a fitness report that spells out that he's a bad leader, untrustworthy. And on the other we have them sending him to Vietnam to lead young Americans into battle."

McGuire referred all questions on the case to his attorney.

Named in the suit filed in the military court of appeals in Washington were Capt. Paul Adamowski and Lt. Col. Deforrest Ballou III. Adamowski, it was alleged, wrote the report and Ballou endorsed it as McGuire's squadron commander.

Adamowski, reached at his Laurel, Md., home, declined comment.

'REPORTS RELATIVE'

Ballou said, "These things (efficiency reports) are relative. It's my job to rate a fellow like this. I do it."

Ballou said he could not divulge the contents of the report he endorsed and declined further comment.

Edwards said McGuire also alleges in his suit that Col. Clayton Gompf, commander of the 6th Armored Cavalry Regiment when he was assigned to prosecute the marijuana case, evoked undue command influence in his handling of the case against the trooper.

McGuire's attorney said today that Gompf was angered when McGuire suggested the marijuana case against the soldier should perhaps be dismissed because of the probability of an illegal search. McGuire is a member of the Michigan Bar Association. He has done much of the preparation of his own case.

SEQUENCE OF EVENTS

"He was fired from the marijuana case," Edwards said. "The bad report followed."

The marijuana case against the young soldier was later dropped, Edwards said, because a reviewing authority decided the search of the car had been illegal.

OCC Winter Enrollment Is Put at 8,900

Oakland Community College student enrollment for the winter session is expected to total roughly 8,900, according to S. James Manilla, executive director for educational services.

Student enrollment by campus shows Auburn Hills in Pontiac Township has 1,287; Highland Lakes in Waterford Township, 868; and Orchard Ridge in Farmington Township, 2,806.

Preapprentice technical program students number 833; about 1,110 are expected to be enrolled in off-campus extension courses.

High school co-op programs are offered with Walled Lake, North Farmington and Farmington high schools. About 200 high school students will be enrolled in data processing and food service technology programs at the Orchard Ridge Campus, and medical office assisting, dental assisting, automotive technology and electronics technology programs at Highland Lakes.

Another 1,700 are enrolled in technical vocational programs.

12 PER CENT DROP

"We are quite pleased with the enrollment which indicates only a 12 per cent drop from the fall enrollment of 10,024," said OCC President Joseph E. Hill.

"The September enrollment is always the peak, and normal declines for the January session generally approximate 20 to 25 per cent. For that reason the 12 per cent drop we have experienced is a most encouraging development," he said.

Oakland Community College is presently in its fourth year.

Time for Upjohn

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The Upjohn Co. said Tuesday it had received a 120-day extension from the Food and Drug Administration to allow the firm to reply to an FDA notice of intention to delete certain of the company's products from an acceptable list. Upjohn said the products Panalba and Albamycin-T and other tetracycline-novobiocin antibiotic combination products would be affected.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF Lois M. Dodd who passed away 5 years ago January 28th. Sadly missed by husband, parents and friends.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Robert J. Braid, who died January 29, 1966.
It broke our heart to lose you,
But he did not go alone,
For a part of us went with him,
The day God called him home.
God gave us strength to bear,
The courage to take the blow,
But what it meant to loose him,
No one will ever know.
When the evening shadows are falling,
And we sit here all alone,
To our hearts there comes a longing,
If he could just come home.
Sadly missed by his children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren.

Reviewers Toss Cold Water on Shelley's Bathroom Wit

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Broadway's a bunch of hicks.

"New Yorkers are very provincial, very insular," claims Shelley Berman, Whose bathroom joke routine at the Americana Royal Box irritated some Big Town reviewers, and started a new angle in the controversy over what's dirty and what's decent in today's entertainment.

WILSON

"This material was created in San Francisco. It played the Bible Belt. It brought no adverse comment in Chicago, Dallas, Oklahoma City or Indiana. I did it in London on TV. Nobody objected. Because some columnists in N.Y. knock it, I'm not cutting it.

"RCA decided to record my toilet routine. Are they without taste? Jean Kerr's show 'Mary, Mary,' had such jokes. If you're surrounded by the exalted proscenium of the theater, does that make it O.K.?" He said some of the critics were "stiffnecks" and if they couldn't use the right word for powder room, they couldn't face themselves. This little controversy is helping him do top business and he's got more TV demand than ever.

"I'm not with the hip crowd that thinks Lawrence Welk is wrong, and I also think the Liberace is a great entertainer," Shelley added. "I'm just trying to make a buck and make people laugh."

There's a rumor that Gov. Rocky's cousin, ex-councilman Richard Aldrich, might run for mayor if Lindsay doesn't. "But Mayor Lindsay's going to run," I mentioned to Mrs. Lindsay at a party hoping to get an announcement out of her. "Oh, is he?" she answered.

Joyce Mathews flew to Switzerland with the announced purpose of divorcing Ivor Schmidt, No. 6 among her wedding partners counting Billy Rose and Milton Berle twice each, but flew back without doing it.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Bob Tish and Charles Gillett, chieftains of the NY Convention Bureau, are trying to get more wives to attend conventions in NY with their husbands. Wouldn't that make conventions a little unconventional?

They play lively basketball in Las Vegas. The showgirls team, the Desert Inn Pzazzes, lost to the Fontier Air Line Jets by a score of 3-2 . . . We think the Broadway theater might improve if Richard Rodgers and Irving Berlin got up off their fortunes and started writing again.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Jack E. Leonard, slimmed down a bit, told a hefty ringsider, "Good evening, sir, I see you're using my old stomach!"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Nowadays there are more people going to Havana by accident than used to go on purpose.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The less a man says, the more he doesn't have to apologize for."

EARL'S PEARLS: A sign in a London church warns: "Not everybody who enters here has been converted, so watch your hat and coat." — Oren Arnold's "Steeple Stories."

Dick Cavett introduced Playboy's Hugh Hefner as "the publisher of the only magazine that people start reading from the middle." . . . That's earl, brother.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

The Generation Gap Is a Sound Barrier

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Students of the "generation gap" generally agree that widest part of the canyon is music.

On one side stands the older generation, whose members are driven up the wall by all that raucous caterwauling on the transistor sets.

WEST

On the other side stands the younger generation, which stubbornly refuses to appreciate the brilliant artistry, subtle harmonics and thrilling dynamics of Artie Shaw's recording of "Star Dust."

I was aware that the chasm existed, of course, but I didn't realize how deep it was until I picked up a copy of a new paperback book titled "The Poetry of Rock."

GREAT ROCKS

Published by Bantam Books, and edited by Richard Goldstein, it is a compilation of lyrics from some of the great rock hits of yesteryear (14 hours ago).

Goldstein concedes the lyrics lose something when divorced from the music. But he insists that even in cold type they have poetic qualities worthy of preservation.

★ ★ ★

The book came as a revelation to me, the reason being that I have never been able to hear the lyrics of rock songs distinctly.

The only two words I can catch with the naked ear are "yeah" repeated 237 times and "baby" pronounced bay-ay-ay-ay-uh-bee-e-e-e.

AN UNDERSTANDING

Seeing the lyrics in print gave me a new understanding of rock, and I can now comprehend the full extent of the musical gulf between the generations.

Let us consider, for example, the lyrics of a rock hit that goes "sha da da da" for eight lines, switches to "yip yip yip yip" for two lines and then branches into "mum mum mum mum mum mum."

★ ★ ★

A member of the older generation is going to be hard pressed to recognize the poetic qualities of that.

The ear of the older generation is attuned to the beautiful cadences and versifications employed by earlier songwriters who cast their lyrics in the pattern of classical poetry.

WON'T STAND UP

Viewed apart from the melody, and regarded from the standpoint of pure poetry, a string of "sha das," "yips" and "mums" simply will not stand up alongside such lyrics of yore as "Down in the meadow in a itty bitty poo' swam three itty fishes and the mama fishee too."

"Sha das," "yips" and "mums" might conceivably be construed as poetry, using the term in a loose sense. But compared to the stately couplets which spawned the "itty fishes," they sound downright childish.

3 From Yale Killed in Fall Down Slope

GORHAM, N.H. (AP) — Three Yale University students, on a mountain-climbing expedition during semester break, tumbled about 1,000 feet down a steep, ice-covered slope to their deaths.

The three were found Tuesday, linked together by their climbing rope, in Huntington Ravine on the side of Mt. Washington by an avalanche patrolman, Ranger Rene La Roche.

State police identified the victims as Charles Yoder, 24, of Hartford, Wis.; Scot Stevens, 19, of Cucamonga, Calif.; and Robert Ellenberg, 19, of New York City.

Packs were torn from their backs and climbing irons ripped from their feet, apparently as they were battered in their descent, police reported.

La Roche said he passed the ravine Monday about 10 a.m., but saw nothing. He said he found the bodies during an afternoon patrol Tuesday.

Kelley Enjoins Firm on Dumping

LANSING (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley ruled Tuesday the Calumet and Hecla Inc. Mining Co. may not dump waste water into Hills Creek in Houghton County because it would result in "destructive pollution."

★ ★ ★

The water contains chloride and would result in "the total loss of fish and aquatic habitat" in the creek, Kelly said. The seven-mile-long creek empties into Lake Superior.

Discovery of a multi-million dollar deposit of manganese on the floor of Green Bay in Wisconsin was disclosed recently. It lies in relatively shallow water and should be readily recoverable.

Snow: 200 Inches

HERMAN (AP) — The tiny Baraga County community of Herman got its 200th inch of snow this season Tuesday, putting it in sight of the record for seasonal snowfall in the Upper Peninsula. Delaware, a nearly abandoned mining community in Keweenaw County, was hit with 294.5 inches in 1964-65.

A Look at TV

Hoffer Spews Out Views

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Eric Hoffer came into our homes for a second visit Tuesday night—full of ideas, of love for simple people, of scorn for what he calls intellectuals and bursting with vitality and excitement about the orldw around him.

★ ★ ★

As in his previous TV conversation, Hoffer was talking with Eric Sevareid. But conversation with the ebullient, self-educated San Francisco dockworker-turned - philosopher consists mostly of tossing a question and then leaning back to hear the ensuing torrent of words — good words, wise words, words that show a lot of thinking went into them.

Seated comfortably in his San Francisco home, Hoffer ranged in his discussion from big subjects to small. He slashed away at his critics, scorned the pretentious, told stories, swore like an infantryman—and nobody blipped one salty word from the tape.

Some Hofferisms:

"Fame means to be known by people who don't know you. Now, how in the hell are you going to get excited about that?

TOP OF MOUNTAIN

"Any time somebody comes around and tells me that he has to go to the top of a mountain to think, I feel like telling him, brother, you'd better sit right where you are. You ain't got nothing to think about."

"To me, an intellectual is a man of some education who considers himself a member of the educated elite with the God—given right to direct affairs. . . He can be highly educated like Toynbee or like Schlesinger. And he can be illiterate like Lee Oswald—Lee Oswald read one book, Das Kapital, and he became an intellectual. . . Hitler was an intellectual, too."

Hoffer had nothing but scorn for Sen. Eugene T. McCarthy.

McCARTHY DOUBTS

Sevareid told him that McCarthy had said he didn't think Hoffer was much of a philosopher. Hoffer had said he had nothing but affection and admiration for Lyndon B. Johnson, who invited him to the White House after the first broadcast.

The 67-year-old retired longshoreman suggested that rebellious youth be handled by giving them a college and letting them run it or even giving them a state—he suggested Nevada.

He dismissed suggestions he was a racist with the same casual impatience with which he brushed aside the finding of the Kerner Report—"The only way the Negro is going to achieve something is by Negroes accomplishing something together on their own. All that we outsiders can do for the Negro is wish them well and give money."

There was more—much more—crowded into the hour. Altogether it was a breathless, highly stimulating 60 minutes whether one agreed or disagreed with the man.

POLAR SPECIAL

Earlier NBC had a rather slow moving special showing the adventures and mishaps of the David Humphreys polar expedition of last year when the Australian explorer tried in vain to reach the North Pole during the long winter night.

The ivewer's principal reward was some dramatic color shots of the Arctic iceland. It defeated the efforts of narrators and film editors to make the adventure seem more than a purposeless journey beset by frustrations and physical hardship.

Navy Officer Victor Over a Computer

PEARL HARBOR (UPI) — Navy Lt. Cmdr. Bob Baril boasts an accomplishment few men can claim—he is the victor in a hand-to-hand battle with a computer.

In doing so, he has played cupid in a love affair between the electronic brain and a U. S. Navy warship.

It began last May when Baril was transferred from the USS Walker to the destroyer USS Haverfield off the coast of Vietnam.

"You see, I have a checking account with the Fort Worth National Bank in Texas," Baril said. "Before we sailed from Pearl Harbor for Vietnam, I wrote to Fort Worth to have the address changed."

TRIED AND FAILED

But his bank statements kept arriving aboard the Walker, Baril said, and several attempts to get the matter straightened out did no good.

"I thought about it a lot," he said. "How can you get through to a computer?"

★ ★ ★

Finally he decided to write to the machine itself.

The letter began, "Dear computer.

★ ★ ★

"Having tried several times unsuccessfully to get your human 'masters' to correct my address for all correspondence and dealings with the bank, I now turn to you for assistance."

TRULY YOURS

He signed the letter, "with fondest personal regards I remain very truly yours, 329102."

Within two weeks, a reply came back from the computer, who signed himself "Big Red."

"Dear 329102," the letter began. "Please do not think me presumptous if I should call you by your self-check digit, VIZ, Dear 2. How delighted I was to receive your thoughtful letter . . ."

The letter went on to apologize for the mixup and signed itself, "infalli-$?VKP& . . . cancel . . . infallibly, big red, SYS 360-30."

END OF BATTLE

That was the end of Baril's battle with the computer, but the start of the technological romance. Because in his first letter, Baril had enclosed a photo of the Haverfield (DER 393).

"Say, 393 really turns me on," the computer wrote. "I am receiving signals from her superstructure 5x5. Also my partner, Old Blue, wonders if she had a friend, maybe 394?"

Baril answered:

"You indicated that your fellow computer, old blue, might be interested in a blind date with a friend of the Haverfield. How about our sister ship USS Camp (DER 251)? While she may be a little older, and perhaps not quite as good looking or well built topside, she has a wonderful personality."

And while love blossomed between the computers and the warships, a further element was added to the long-distance drama.

4 LOVELY MAIDENS

Included in the photo Big Red sent of himself were four lovely young maidens. And the men of the Haverfield have expressed as much interest in the four ladies as Big Red did in their ship.

They have sent off a letter asking for their own set of statistical information.

U.S. Apparently Headed for Another Baby Boom in the 70's

WASHINGTON (UPI) — However the 1960s go out, the 1970s are likely to come in with a squall.

★ ★ ★

The United States, it appears, is headed for another baby boom.

★ ★ ★

This won't, of course, be an unmitigated disaster. It won't be anywhere near as bad, say, as a nuclear war or the finally irreversible pollution of air and water and soil toward which some prophets of doom say we are rushing.

★ ★ ★

But, says David M. Kiefer, a baby boom in America like the one that occurred after World War II might make life less pleasant for all concerned.

EXPERTS DISAGREE

Kiefer, senior editor of Chemical and Engineering News, noted in a recent series of articles that experts disagree among themselves about the consequences of population increases.

★ ★ ★

Some say rapidly rising populations will lead to "social disorder and starvation." Others contend that fears of overpopulation are unfounded—that "Population growth is an incentive for progress and a necessary stimulus to economic development."

Since 1961 the U.S. birthrate has been declining. But, according to William H. Chartener, assistant secretary of commerce, "a turnaround in births" is imminent.

Kiefer makes the same point. Women in the 20-to-29 age bracket are the most fertile. In 1935 there were 11.1 million of them. In 1968 the number had risen to 14.3 million. In the next 15 years there will be 21 million of these especially fertile women, a 46 per cent upswing.

LINKED TO WAR'S END

So, obviously, another baby boom is on the way—"unless there is a compensating drop in fertility." Moreover, an end to the Vietnam war "might trigger another rash of births similar to that which took place at the end of World War II."

The birth rate, Kiefer said, "will influence the course of American development in the next 15 years more than any other broad factor now at work."

★ ★ ★

My 1985 it may be necessary almost to double spending for housing, highways, factories, and recreational facilities. Just adding 20 million children to the population probably would increase the cost of education by "much more than $300 billion."

★ ★ ★

Kiefer concludes that "the quality of American life could be much improved if a lower birth rate prevailed."

PAPC Funding Viewed as Legal by City Attorney

The legality of the Pontiac Area Planning Council (PAPC) again was brought into question by the Pontiac City Commission at its meeting last night. It was held that the city could spend funds on the PAPC — under certain conditions.

The commission has been directing an investigation of PAPC operations for the past three weeks and requesting City Attorney Sherwin Birnkrant to advise the commissioners on several areas of activity.

Last night Birnkrant's opinion centered on funding of PAPC. The commission had questioned whether the city could legally turn over tax money for PAPC operations.

Birnkrant's opinion was that it could as long as control over appointments to the PAPC board of governors remained in the hands of the administration creating the body, the commission and the Pontiac School Board.

WITHIN PROVISIONS

The PAPC was formed in October 1967 to act as a planning and advisory group to the city and schools.

Last week Birnkrant informed the board that the PAPC, in his opinion, had not been functioning entirely in accordance with provisions of enabling resolutions.

One of his criticisms was that the PAPC had never submitted a budget to the commission. District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin again asked why no budget had been submitted. Irwin also asked for clarification of how the PAPC was set up as a nonprofit corporation.

The PAPC has not yet requested funds from either the city or the schools, but has been operating from donations from private and industry grants.

'DAY-TO-DAY BASIS'

David Doherty, PAPC director, told the commission last week that the PAPC had been operating on a day-to-day basis financially and that no budget for 1969 had yet been presented.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. continued his criticism of the group's activities and said "pressure groups" were attempting to dominate it. He also again added he felt the PAPC, as it was originally established, was very important to the community.

The PAPC next meets 7:30 p.m. Feb. 14 at the School Board office, East Wide Track and Auburn.

Mayor Taylor has explained his insistance on defining the legality of the PAPC is not to undermine the organization, but to be sure it is able to continue to function on a sound basis.

SAVED FROM MINE — Rescuers lift Joe Corelco into an ambulance after getting him and 11 other miners out of the Christopher Coal Co. Humphrey No. 7 mine yesterday at Mount Morris, Pa. All of those rescued except Corelco were able to leave the mine under their own power. Fire, which had trapped the miners, still is not under control.

Rocky Mulling Latin Mission

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, passed over for a place in the Nixon Cabinet, has been asked by his former presidential rival to head a fact-finding mission to Latin America.

ROCKEFELLER

The White House confirmed last night that Rockefeller had been contacted on the subject in recent days.

But news secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said no firm decision has been made yet on whether to even send such a mission.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller, whose family has extensive interests in Latin America and worked on some of the area's problems in the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt, said he was "seriously considering" the offer.

Diplomatic sources said Nixon had decided U.S. policy toward Latin America needed a "thorough reexamination" in the light of a trend toward military dictatorships.

3 TAKE-OVERS

Three have taken over in the past four months — in Peru, Brazil and Panama.

Power Failure Hits Huge Area of Florida

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A massive power failure blacked out in checkerboard fashion a huge section of Florida last night, including urban areas containing more than half the state's population.

The area affected by the blackout was the triangle from Daytona Beach on the north, southwest to Tampa-St. Petersburg and southeast to the Miami area.

Only Jacksonville of Florida's larger cities was spared the blackout.

The power failure occurred at a Fort Lauderdale generating plant.

CHECKERBOARDING

The intricate feeder system by which power moves from station to station caused a checkerboarding, an official said, leaving some areas blacked out while others had normal service.

The company reported full service was restored to all areas within half an hour.

Almost the entire tourist-filled Daytona Beach area was reported without power, and some 35 per cent of Orlando was blacked out in the center of the state.

On the opposite coast, St. Petersburg and Tampa reported pocket blackouts that were largely confined to residential areas.

Titusville, near the Kennedy Space Center, reported a 20 per cent outage. Lights went out at the Brevard County Courthouse, but remained on at city hall just two blocks away.

AFFECTED AREAS

The failure skipped down the coast, knocking lights out in sections of Melbourne, West Palm Beach, Jupiter, Delray Beach, Boynton Beach and Boca Raton.

Officials in the heavily populated areas of Fort Lauderdale, Hollywood, Dania and North Miami reported heavy traffic jams in their lightless sections.

THE EASY WAY — Pontiac Press carrier Timothy Giles, 12, of 3925 Athens, Waterford Township, found the best form of transportation for delivering papers yesterday on ice-covered streets.

South Viet Plans Short Tet Truce

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government indicated today that it would declare a truce for the lunar new year Feb. 17, but a far shorter one than the seven-day cease-fire announced by the Vietcong earlier today.

The Vietcong's National Liberation Front broadcast an announcement that the Communist military command "will stop all military activities" from 7 a.m. Saigon time Feb. 15 until 7 a.m. Feb. 22.

The period is known as Tet, the festival of the lunar new year and the biggest holiday in the Vietnamese calendar.

The Vietcong broadcast said any military operations by the United States, South Vietnam and their allies, including air, naval and artillery bombardment, would be considered a violation of the cease-fire and "must be punished."

Four hours after the broadcast, a spokesman for the South Vietnamese government said "The Vietnamese government is willing to have a truce because Tet is a solemn occasion and for the happiness of the Vietnamese people." But he added that the truce "will not last very long if there is any."

TO OBSERVE CEASE-FIRE

U. S. forces will undoubtedly observe any cease-fire declared by Saigon, as they have all such truces in the past.

A Tet truce last year had just begun when the Vietcong attacked more than 100 cities and towns including Saigon in their biggest offensive of the war. Although the government is expected to call some sort of cease-fire, it undoubtedly will try to avoid the wholesale relaxation which left its forces at 50 per cent strength or less when the enemy struck a year ago.

★ ★ ★

The Vietcong broadcast said government soldiers controlled by the Vietcong to visit their families or the graves of their ancestors "must go scattered, not by groups, and must not be armed."

U. S. forces and their allies, the announcement said, "are free to move and to participate in all Tet festivities" if they obey the cease-fire conditions.

ACTION BY VC

The anniversary of last year's offensive comes this Friday, and there has been speculation that the Vietcong may attempt some action within the next few days to mark the occasion. But no major enemy activity was reported today.

A Vietcong force which American soldiers had tried to encircle near Saigon apparently slipped through U.S. lines, field reports indicated today.

The enemy force, estimated at 50 to 150 men, opened fire Monday on troops of the 199th Light Infantry Brigade who were moving into an area 19 miles southwest of Saigon. About 1,000 American soldiers poured into the marshlands by mid-evening in an effort to surround the enemy, but an officer said, "It looks as if some of them slipped through before we could complete the cordon."

After two nights of heavy air and artillery bombardment, only 17 dead Vietcong were counted. But on the fringes of the battlefield the American forces captured 18 tons of rice and a huge stockpile of munitions.

Army: Officer Shortage in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says a shortage of infantry officers has developed in Vietnam since the big U. S. troop buildup in the war area three years ago.

The shortages are primarily among lieutenants and captains, the Army said. Figures were unavailable.

★ ★ ★

But the shortage extends to field grades as well. The pinch is so tight among infantry lieutenant colonels that many, including World War II and Korean War veterans, are being denied retirement.

The Army refuses to discuss numbers, but sources said there is a shortage of 799 lieutenant colonels, who command infantry battalions, among other assignments.

UNEXPLAINED DEARTH

Although more than 50 Army lieutenant colonels have been killed in Vietnam, this would hardly be the cause of the shortage.

But some Army sources said the loss of more than 670 majors and captains has had an important effect since their deaths took them off the promotion ladder.

Although more than 1,000 Army lieutenants have died in Vietnam, the Army cited other reasons for a lack of company grade infantry officers.

"The number of infantry officers gained from ROTC this fiscal year is smaller than expected, with many officers choosing other combat arms and services," the Army said.

COMBAT LAG

In other words, they did not want to serve with the rifle units carrying the brunt of the fighting.

"And a large number of infantry officers who entered active duty during the 1966-67 buildup are due to complete their service obligations this year," the Army said.

★ ★ ★

This referred to young officers who received their commissions through college ROTC or officer candidate school and were obligated to serve at least two years on active duty.

Recently, the Army has extended this obligation to three years for enlisted men picked for OCS.

Stolen Art Recovered

GENEVA (AP) — Police last night recovered a small painting attributed to Rembrandt which was stolen from the Geneva Museum of Fine Arts two months ago. The police said they arrested a Swiss who tried to sell the painting and believe that he is the thief. The painting is a portrait of Rembrandt's mother.

Schools Closed by Weather

Freezing rain, drizzle and some sleet-slicked highways throughout the night in Lower Michigan caused many schools to close this morning.

The weather picture continues rather bleak with occasional light rain or drizzle until tonight when the rain may possible change to snow.

Temperatures in the Pontiac area will fall from today's 40s to 27 to 33 tonight. Tomorrow's high is expected to reach 34.

Partly cloudy and cold is the outlook for Firday.

REPORTS ON ROADS

James H. Bradley, maintenance operation engineer for the Oakland County Road Commission, reported this morning that roads in the State Highway system and Oakland County primary system are generally clear.

Roads in the Oakland County local system for the most part are still ice-covered. All equipment that is available is working on the county local system, Bradley said.

★ ★ ★

The local system includes all subdivision streets—for which the Oakland County Road Commission is responsible.

All available personnel were out until midnight clearing roads. From midnight until 7 a.m. skeleton crews were on duty. Then shortly after 7 all available equipment and personnel started (AP) again.

Dense fog shrouding southeastern Michigan closed Metropolitan, Detroit City and Oakland-Pontiac airports. Service is not expected to resume until the fog lifts probably late today, according to the local airport.

Among Oakland County schools closed today were Bloomfield Township, West Bloomfield Township, Keego Harbor, Brandon Township, Bloomfield Hills Day School, Sacred Heart, in Avon Township, Rochester, Ortonville, Walled Lake Consolidate, Oxford, Holly, Lake Orion, Huron Valley and Novi.

Schools in Waterford Township, Kingswood and Cranbrook Schools, Bloomfield Hills are open with no bus service.

School bus transportation is available only from main roads in Birmingham and Southfield and Avon and Farmington townships.

Thirty-seven was the low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury reading was 41 at 12:30 p.m.

'Big Plus for City'

Exec Boosts Stadium

Pontiac's proposed domed stadium for professional sports would be a "valuable asset" to the metropolitan area, according to a local businessman.

Harold S. Goldberg, president of Thomas Jewelry Co., Inc., and Joda Industries, Inc., said the stadium, planned for possible construction near the intersection of I-75 and M59, "would be of tremendous benefit to the City of Pontiac" if economically feasible.

Goldberg of 1079 James K is a director of the Community National Bank and a trustee of Pontiac General Hospital.

A five-man stadium authority was recently created by the City Commission to handle negotiations with the Detroit Lions and Tigers, who have indicated willingness to move from Tiger Stadium in downtown Detroit.

Racial Report Causes Soul-Searching in City

By ED BLUNDEN

Reaction to the findings of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission (MCRC) on race relations in Pontiac continue with opinions appearing sharply divided on implications of the report, issued Monday.

The report called Pontiac a "city divided by racial and ethnic prejudices and fears" and described how hearings held last June uncovered racial prejudice at almost every level of community life.

The report specifically attacked public and police activities and was sharply critical of the county's social services, law enforcement and schools.

City officials have defended their record and pointed out that much progress has been made in racial relations in the 7½ months that elapsed since the hearings and issuance of the report.

'FAIR AND ACCURATE'

Many others, particularly in the black community, said they felt the report was fair and accurate and that the efforts made since last June only "tokenism."

Whatever the reaction, it appears evident to many that the MCRC report has sent the community into a period of soul-searching and reevaluation of goals.

Following are a sampling of community opinions on various aspects of the MCRC report:

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., had mixed feelings on the MCRC report and said he saw positive action taken and still to be taken if further progress was to come out of it.

"Though I don't agree with all aspects of the findings, nor the bad timing of the report, so long after the hearing the document can prove valuable in our future efforts providing the progress made is recognized by the MCRC.

"Perhaps the report did not give us enough credit for our determined efforts and accomplishments, but on the other hand it pointed out how far we have to go.

★ ★ ★

"I certainly hope this will not prove to be a dividing factor in the community. Rather it should represent our continued goal," the mayor said.

★ ★ ★

"And all should understand that, the same as the other goals of our city, we cannot accomplish everything overnight.

'A FACADE'

"There is a lot of work ahead of us in the area of good race relations and all those things that create a fine community. If we continue to work together, there's nothing we can't do," Taylor said.

Pueblo Court of Inquiry Has Many Options for Action

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — The Medal of Honor.

Two years in prison and dismissal.

So far they're the best and the worst that could happen to the skipper of the Pueblo, a Navy source says.

But the court of inquiry investigating the Pueblo's capture might recommend no action at all, for or against Cmdr. Lloyd Wm. Bucher, one Navy lawyer said.

Instead, he said, the court might recommend investigation of outfitting, armament, explosives to destroy secret materials and what to do when an intelligence ship is attacked.

POSSIBILITIES OUTLINED

Lt. Les Osborne of the 11th Naval District Law Center outlined what actions the court of inquiry could recommend to Adm. John J. Hyland, commander of the Pacific Fleet.

★ ★ ★

On one hand, Osborne said, the court "can recommend any kind of lauditory action it deems appropriate, including a letter of commendation, early promotion . . . the sky's the limit."

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, he said, it could:

- Make no recommendation, letting the entire matter rest after the inquiry.
- Recommend no action whatsoever.
- Recommend nonpunitive actions such as investigations of outfitting or armament availability.

- Suggest a nonpuntive letter to Bucher or any crewman that "your action was found to be remiss, but the nature of that failure in judgment did not violate regulations.
- Recommend a punitive letter, or letter or reprimand, or admonition, saying "your conduct was found to violate regulations." Such a letter, Osborne said, could be considered when the recipient comes up for promotion. But Osborne said officers and crewmen have been promoted with such a letter in their files, if the rest of their records are clean.
- Call for a court-martial. The worst sentence Bucher could get from a court-martial, if he is found guilty of violating the only regulation he has been warned about so far, would be two years in prison and dismissal from the service, Osborne said.

The court has warned Bucher he is suspected of violating a Navy regulation saying "the commanding officer shall not permit his command to be searched by any person representing a foreign state nor permit any of the personnel under his command to be removed from the command by such a person, so long as he has the power to resist."

Hyland could decide not to act on the court's recommendation. If he feels too sympathetic with Bucher, or too adverse, he could give the recommendation to one of his senior officers for action.

★ ★ ★

Bucher or any of the crewmen could submit statements to Hyland by appealing the recommendations, Osborne said. And they could appeal any of Hyland's actions to the Bureau of Naval Personnel.

They could appeal any action by court martial to the court of military appeals.

Mortgage Rate Revision Poses Usury Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon's administration's new directive on government-insured mortgage rates presents the interest payments authorized by the several states with a peculiar problem — the interest payments authorized by the federal government violates their usury laws.

★ ★ ★

In a White House meeting yesterday, George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, reported the apparent conflict between the 7½ per cent federal allowances and the interest rate limits imposed by seven states.

★ ★ ★

Romney announced Friday, that federal rates were being raised to 7½ per cent in order to keep money flowing into the house market.

The states with laws forbidding interest as high as 7½ per cent are Michigan, where Romney was governor, Illinois, New York, Iowa, North Carolina, South Carolina and North Dakota.

UPPER LIMIT

No special action is planned on the matter, a Housing and Urban Development spokesman said later, since Romney's order set only the upper limit on rates.

The spokesman said mortgage lenders in states involved will not be able to charge the maximum interest.

THE BATTLE'S OVER — Spec. 4 William J. Lampi and his father, Leslie Lampi of 857 E. Walton, are reunited after the youth's discharge from the Army. His return from Vietnam climaxed a lengthy struggle by his father to convince Army brass and congressmen that his son's wounds were too severe for further combat duty.

Father's Crusade Results in Wounded GI's Discharge

Leslie Lampi's reaction to his wounded son's return from Vietnam Friday was "Thank God."

When Spec. 4 William J. (Billy) Lampi reached Pontiac after receiving his discharge from the Army, the homecoming climaxed nearly two months of crusading by his father.

Leslie Lampi, 47, of 957 E. Walton had spent hundreds of dollars on long-distance phone calls to congressmen, generals and Pentagon brass in an effort to keep Billy from being returned to Vietnam last month.

Billy, 20, holder of a Silver Star and two Bronze Stars for heroism in combat, had suffered eye wounds and was being treated in a Japanese hospital last month when his father's crusade began.

ORDERED TO RETURN

Though his vision was hampered, Billy was ordered back to Vietnam and the elder Lampi took to the telephone.

"It looked hopeless after I had contacted so many high-ranking people without results," said Lampi.

★ ★ ★

But he received a phone call from Billy Thursday and was told of the good news.

"As far as officials go, I don't know whom to thank," he said.

FILLING SANDBAGS

Billy admitted he didn't know who was behind the decision either.

"I was filling sandbags at Fire Base Long near the DMZ when an officer walked up and said, 'You're going home.' I couldn't believe it then or when I was on the way back or even when I reached the States.

★ ★ ★

"I still can't believe I'm really home."

He said plans include taking it easy for a while, then going to work with his father, an iron worker.

A LITTLE CUIROUS

"My dad's efforts did the trick," he said, but both father and son are a little curious about what member of "the brass" finally relented.

"It really doesn't matter too much any more though," said Billy.

"I'm home."

Fowler Critical of Harambee

Harambee Inc., a black community development organization, was criticized by City Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr. at last night's City Commission meeting.

Fowler, the sole Negro commissioner and the representative of District 1, accused Harambee of being black segregationist while at the same time seeking government funds for its housing and development plans.

William Jackson, director of Harambee, appeared at the close of the meeting to defend the group against the charge. He explained Harambee was formed by black citizens in the black community, "but the same rules (nondiscrimination) will apply as in other government housing projects.

He said others would be allowed to move into the developments if they desired. Jackson questioned Fowler on where he got his information on Harambee policies. Fowler said he read it in a Detroit area newspaper which stated Harambee was going to build a "beautiful black ghetto."

Jackson said, "This is not our policy" and pointed out such a plan would not be eligible for government funds.

Harambee has planning and operational grants from Detroit-area private sources totaling about $80,000 thus far. The group is now seeking to acquire property and, after the planning stage, expects to begin a varied program of housing development and rehabilitation, Jackson explained.

Ford in Dearborn to Close for 3 Days

DEARBORN (AP) — The United Auto Workers union said yesterday it had been notified by Ford Motor Co. that its Dearborn assembly plant will be closed for three days in February because of overproduction.

Abe Ellis, chairman of the Ford unit of UAW Local 600, said the union was told the shutdown will be Feb. 14, 17 and 18.

★ ★ ★

The Dearborn plant makes Ford Mustangs and Mercury Cougars.

Chrysler Corp. said Monday it intended to close between six and eight assembly plants for periods of one to two weeks because of overproduction.

Vote Reform Backed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Direct popular election of the president and vice president was proposed by a bipartisan group in the House yesterday as a modern substitute for the out-dated Electoral College.

Thirty-two Democrats and five Republicans joined Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., in introducing a proposed constitutional amendment that would make "the people" the direct electors of the nation's top two executives.

Birmingham Area

Public Hearing Set Tonight to Discuss Vacating of Alley

BIRMINGHAM — A public hearing on a request to vacate an alley west of Woodward between Quarton and Redding is scheduled for the city's planning board meeting tonight at 8.

The vacation request has been filed by A. L. Kassabian, 3481 Gunn, Lake Orion, owner of a new office building at Redding and Woodward and the vacant two-family house west of the alley.

The alley is presently unimproved. It is a 20-foot right-of-way that serves three businesses and two utility substations.

The city's police, engineering and planning departments have recommended that the alley right-of-way be maintained, "The city has been promoting a program of development and maintenance of alleys in commercial areas.

"Vacating the alley in question would be defeating the desires of the community. And it would also serve as a precedent for similar areas," William R. Brounfield, planning director, states in a letter to the Planning Board.

Public Hearing Held on Record Pontiac Budget

A public hearing on a record $10,177,620 city budget was held last night by the City Commission.

No comment was made on the document, and the commission proceeded with first reading of the appropriations ordinance. The budget is late this year due to installation of data processing equipment, it has been explained.

★ ★ ★

The commission also heard a request by Bloomfield Township to use the city's land-fill facilities. Township residents would be allowed to haul solid wastes to the sites and pay a per-cubic-yard fee under a proposed agreement.

Such an agreement now serves Keego Harbor, Sylvan Lake, and West Bloomfield and Waterford townships.

YOUTH OPPORTUNITY

The commission approved drawing up a contract for later approval.

The commission also heard a report from its Mayor's Executive Committee on Youth Job opportunity.

The report reported 2,034 jobs were obtained for youths last summer. The committee urged public and private organizations to support the program this summer.

Among other items, the commission:

- Approved preparations of plans and assessment roll for curb, gutter and paving on Kenilworth from Featherstone to University. Cost of the project is $105,000.
- Opened bids for sale of old incinerator site at Featherstone and East Boulevard. Two bids were recieved but decision was withheld pending a new appraisal of the property.
- Resolved to vacate an alley south of Montcalm between Blaine and Summit.
- Ordered a public hearing on Feb. 11 on an assessment roll charging property owners whose lots underwent weed cutting last summer.

Lawrence E. Creasy has been appointed assistant manager of Ford Motor Co.'s U.S. Tractor and Implement operation's North Central District, headquarters in Birmingham.

Creasy succeeds George K. McCutcheon, 2860 Whittier, Bloomfield Township, who has been named equipment marketing manager for Ford Tractor operations. Creasy has been agricultural sales manager since 1964. He resides at 6381 Alden, West Bloomfield Township.

The Birmingham YMCA will sponsor a ski trip for high school students to Breckenridge, Colo., April 5-12. The $245 charge includes round-trip air transportation, lodging, two meals per day and all tow charges.

John Dunning, YMCA program director, said slides and movies of previous YMCA Colorado ski trips would be shown on request.

TALUS Director Says Fund Lack Perils Program

Completion of the Detroit Regional Transportation and Land Use Study (Talus), a study which has already taken 3½ years and $4 million, is in danger, according to its director.

Irving J. Rubin said reduction in federal funding, rising costs and technical delays will prevent the study from meeting an Aug. 8 deadline unless a "crash program" is undertaken and additional funds secured.

A review undertaken by Rubin's staff showed that unless $216,0000 deleted by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) as a result of budget cutbacks is restored and supplemented by an additional $134,000 from other sources, TALUS will not be able to meet the deadline.

Rubin noted that Detroit has been promised a $2.6-million supplementary grant from the federal government under the Urban Mass Transportation Act. The grant is contingent, however, upon completion of the TALUS plan by Aug. 8.

ANOTHER $500,0000

The grant constitutes one-sixth of the total cost of construction of a bus terminal facility and purchase of buses for Detroit, Rubin said.

Rubin further said that work to be done after the Aug. 8 deadline will require another $500,000. This sum, he said, would be needed to refine, finalize and make adjustments in the plan in response to public hearings.

★ ★ ★

Rubin advised the TALUS administrative committee that only an Act of Congress could extend the Aug. 8 deadline.

He recommended this be sought, but not relied on, and that the following steps be taken immediately:

- Seek restoration of the $216,0000 from HUD.
- Seek an additional $134,0000 from the State Highway Department, the State of Michigan or the U.S. Department of Transportaion.
- Seek commitments for the additional $500,000 that will be needed after the deadline.
- Initiate a "crash" completion program immediately.

TALUS is a special project of the planning division of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

It is jointly financed by the Department of Transportation, HUD, the State Highway Department, by the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne and the city of Detroit.

Supervisors Slated to Fill 7 Positions

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors is scheduled to make seven appointments to various county committees and boards at tomorrow's 10 a.m. meeting at the courthouse.

Vacancies exist on the airport committee, the Department of Public Works board, the planning commission, the parks and recreation commission and the personnel appeals board.

Some discussion is anticipated regarding the adoption of permanent rules by the board, but no action is expected by either Democrats or Republicans.

The committee on committees was to meet this morning to further discuss the rules question. The board is currently operating under Roberts Rules of Order with exceptions only as to the adoption of permanent rules.

A simple majority is all that will be required.

One permanent rule — serving to limit discussion of an issue to one hour — already has been adopted.

Protests Ignored

Iraqis Trying More 'Spies'

By United Press International

Iraq today tried more accused spies despite international protests over the public hanging of 14 alleged Israeli agents including nine Iraqi Jews.

Middle East News Agency (MENA) reports from Baghdad said the second group being tried were "spies working for imperialism and (the American) CIA."

The reports said their trial began yesterday, 24 hous after the mass executionof the 14. No details wee given. Israeli and Arab sources have said at least 60 persons face spy charges in Iraq.

'WESTERN AGENTS'

The newspaper Al Ahram said the government, in the next 48 hours, will file indictments on spy charges against two arrested newsmen, Egyptians who have worked for Western agencies, and seek the death penalty.

In Jerusalem, vengeance fever is mounting. Mayor Abba Hushi of Haifa told a meeting last night honoring the nine hanged Jews, "We will find a way to make the Iraqis halt (the hangings) and a means of avenging ourselves." Israel's chief rabbi declared tomorrow a national day of fast and prayer in mourning for the hanged. Jerusalem students set mass rallies.

★ ★

In Washington, the State Department said yesterday the U. S. Embassy in Tel Aviv had advised Israel not to retaliate against Iraq for the hangings.

"The position every U.S. administration has taken regarding the cycle of provocations and reprisals has been a consistent one. It should be avoided," a department spokesman said.

In Baghdad, according to MENA reports, Iraqi Information Minister Abdulla Salloum Sammarrai Tuesday scoffed at Israeli portests. Israel, he told newsmen, is shedding "crocodile tears."

CLOUDED HOPES

The Iraqi trials clouded the Middle East diplomatic effort to find peace between Arabs and Israel. But the peace hunt went on and searchers looked to the new Nixon administration for leadership.

Lake Orion OKs Participation in Big Sewer Plan

Lake Orion is the first of six communities to approve participation in the projected Paint Creek Sanitary Sewer Interceptor.

Following a briefing last week, the village council early this week okayed an agreement with the Oakland County Department of Public Works for the Paint Creek project, which will cost the village a total of $332,751.

The interceptor is an arm of the giant Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal system, which eventually will plug into the Detroit sewage treamtnet system.

Total cost of the Paint Creek arm is $6,461,339. The six participating communities — Lake Orion, Oxford Village, and Orion, Oakland, Oxford township and part of Avon Township — will pay about $4.7 million with the balance coming from state and federal grants.

55 PER CENT IN GRANTS

County DPW officials estimate grants will account for about 55 per cent of the interceptor's total cost.

Lake Orion Village Manager John Reineck said the DPW would also construct the village's internal sewer system. Total cost of the sewers to the average homeowner will be about $188 per year, for 30 years according to Reineck.

Lake Orion will account for about 7 per cent of the total cost of the Paint Creek arm. Other participatns and their respective costs: Avon, $12,491; Oxford Township, $1,214,425; Oxford Village, $577,443; Orion, $1,594,826 and Oakland $1,013,052.

Citizens Group Questions Avon Library Accounting

Township Library Assets, Accounting Methods Are Questioned

By TOM GRAY

AVON TOWNSHIP — A citizens' group has raised questions about accounting procedures of the Avon Township Free Public Library.

The library is located at 210 W. University, inside the city limits of Rochester, but has been operated for many years from township funds.

Since the incorporation of Rochester as a city in 1967, questions have arisen over division of the library's assets between the city and township.

Representatives from both governments have been meeting for some time in an effort to resolve the situation.

LETTER TO OFFICIALS

A letter concerning assets of the library has been dispatched to public officials of Rochester, Avon Township and Oakland Township by the Friends of the Woodward Memorial Public Library Inc. (another name by which the library is known).

★ ★ ★

The letter, signed by Friends corresponding secretary Mrs. David H. Evans, asks that assets, inventory and operating accounts for the library be made public before "business changing the ownership or operation" of the library is undertaken.

★ ★ ★

Representatives of the Friends were present at a meeting Saturday at which the township library board discussed its proposed 1969-70 budget, the letter states, and objected to approval of the budget.

★ ★ ★

"The appeal and objections were denied incorporation into the minutes," the letter says.

Mrs. Arnold P. Smith, secretary for the library board, said today that while members of the public may attend board meetings, they have no right to make motions as do board members.

★ ★ ★

"Mrs. (Bernhard W.) Vosteen (president of the Friends) tried to have a motion rescinded," Mrs. Smith explained, "and one of the trustees told her that she couldn't do that, because she wasn't a member of the board."

★ ★ ★

The letter also includes a library board treasurer's report made to the township for their evaluation in budget preparation?"

Indluded in the report are income from stock dividends and savings accounts which are not listed on the library board's proposed budget as submitted to the Township Board.

Library board members, however, explained that the income is from a private fund administered by them, and does not have to be listed on the budget.

"The treasurer's report is on monies entrusted to the board by wills under the Woodward Memorial Library," commented Howard L. McGregor Jr., library board chairman.

★ ★ ★

"We're allowed to use the income from stocks left to the library for the purchase of books. But this is a private fund, and doesn't have (anything) to do with the budget," he claimed.

★ ★ ★

McGregor suggested, as did Avon Township Supervisor Cyril Miller, that when the question of financing and future ownership of the library is resolved by the city and township, questions involving assets will be cleared up too.

County Slates Monthlong Series

Dog License-Inoculation Sites to Open

A monthlong series of clinics operated by the Oakland County Animal Welfare Division for dog inoculation and licensing will begin Sunday in the central garage in the county service center.

The clinics will again work in conjunction with private veterinarians in cooperation with the county health department, said Dr. F. Hugh Wilson, director of the department's animal welfare division.

In areas where there is no clinic, individuals are encouraged to obtain the service of private veterinarians, he said.

Licenses purchased through the county cost $1 for male dogs or spayed females and $2 for bitches until Feb. 23. Subsequently, the fees are $5 and $7.50 respectively.

RABIES FEE

In addition to the license fee there is a $2 charge for the rabies vaccination.

When innoculations are received through a private veterinarian he issues them a certificate enabling the dog owner to purchase a license.

Certain communities issue their own dog license. In these municipalities, proof of current innoculation also is required before the license can be obtained.

The treasurer's office in the following communities issue their own licenses: Pontiac, Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Rochester, Sylvan Lake, Troy, Waterford Township and Bloomfield Township.

THROUGH FEB. 23

County-operated clinics will operate throughout the county through Feb. 23.

Rabies vaccinations and licenses can also be obtained Monday through Saturday at the animal welfare division, located in the Oakland County Service Center and, of course, from private veterinarians.

Huron Valley Schools to Ask OK on Millage Issues, Building Loan

Huron Valley School District will ask voters for a renewal of its recently expired 15-mills and approval of an additional eight mills — all for operating expenses — in a special millage election March 26. Also sought will be a voter okay to borrow $10.5 million for building purposes.

The school board is also asking for an additional two mills to be used for further and improved education.

Three propositions will appear on the ballot — renewal of the 15 mills and six added mills for operating, two mills for "further and improved education" and permission to borrow $10.5-million for school construction. The two mills is linked to proposed special education programs.

This borrowed money would be used to furnish and equip a new elementary school, construct a new secondary school complex — including junior and senior high schools — at the northern end of the district, and build a new central maintenance storage building. Also included would be additions and remodeling of existing buildings, and the acquiring and improving of school sites.

MUST COVER DEFICIT

The district is currently growing by approximately 300 students a year.

The new millage will have to cover the deficit incurred during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1969. The deficit is expected to be between $80,000-$100,000, according to school officials.

New operating expenses will also include the cost of the increased number of students, increased personnel, the increased salaries won by area teachers and the two new elementary schools opening this year.

Union-Mobil Accord Tentatively Reached

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiators for the Detroit local of the striking Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers said yesterday they had reached a tentative agreement with Mobil Corp. and that 100 of 110 striking Mobil employees would return to their jobs.

The announcement with Mobil came after settlements with Sinclair Oil Co. and Gulf Oil Corp.

About 55 Sinclair workers returned to work Monday and 60 at Gulf were back yesterday.

Troy Try to Get Golf Course Set

TROY — The City Commission has given its approval to the entering of condemnation proceedings to acquire Sylvan Glen Golf Course and operate it as a municipal facility.

City Attorney Stanley E. Burke was directed to represent the city in Oakland County Circuit Court.

A week ago, the commission approved a final purchase offer of $1.4 million, or $8,750 per acre, for the 160-acre course at 5725 Rochester.

★ ★ ★

However, Detroit developers Samuel S. Bankle and Myron Sheffman, who hold an option on the property, have not accepted the offer.

SALE ANNOUNCED

Sale of the land to Bankle and Sheffman, who reportedly plan a subdivision on the golf course site, was announced last month by the Jim Robbins Co., which is presently continuing to operate the course. The purchase price was reported as $3 million.

Commissioners have said they intend to apply for a federal open space grant to finance about half of the purchase cost, with the rest to be paid by the city under a revenue bond.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the commission approved the extension of city water north along Crooks to the Chrysler Realty Corp. office, presently under construction at Crooks and I-75.

★ ★ ★

The firm of Hubbell, Roth and Clark Inc., 2709 Telegraph, Bloomfield Township, was authorized to begin engineering work on the project.

Assessment Roll OK'd for Sewer in Farmington Twp.

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has passed a resolution instructing the supervisor to prepare an assessment roll for the Springfield Sanitary Sewer special assessment district. Estimated cost for the sewer installations is $379,000.

★ ★ ★

After a public hearing for the Sunnydale Sewer special assessment district, prior to the township meeting, the board authorized the supervisor to prepare this roll. Estimated sewer improvement costs in this area will be $29,000.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the board appointed three members to the board of review. They are Douglas MacArthur of 21218 St. Francis, Edwin Oglesby of 28402 Herndon Wood, and Harold Rowe of 27536 Stansbury. They will serve one-year terms.

A junk yard license was also renewed for Bezesky Bros. of 25000 Haggerty.

★ ★ ★

The township has received approval from the State Municipal Finance Commission to sell $65,000 in special assessment bonds for construction of sewers on Medbury and Hemlock, near 10-Mile Road and Middle Belt.

Part-Time College for 8 at Utica Set

UTICA — A pilot program that will send an advanced group of Utica High School students to college on a part-time basis while finishing up high school studies has been approved by the school board.

Eight students have been enrolled at Macomb County Community College's Center campus in Clinton Township for the second semester, now beginning. Each student will take one course in areas ranging from dental technology to calculus.

Supt. of Schools Phillip Runekl explained the program will give students an opportunity to take courses the high school doesn't offer, accelerating their college studies or beginning vocational instruction. The students would receive both high school and college credit for the courses.

Runekl added that if the experimental program proves successful, as many as 100 to 150 students may be entered in the program next Fall. The school system is paying the tuition of $27 a semester hour for each student.

OFTEN A SAVINGS

A board spokesman said the school-sponsored tuition payment program would be often less expensive than having the good student remain in a high-school classroom.

He pointed out that since school operational costs are based on the number of students in each classroom per teacher, placing the student in the community college simply transfers the expenditure from the school system to the college. The college expenditure is then made up by the board's assumption of tuition costs.

★ ★ ★

The Walled Lake school district is reportedly the only other school system in the Greater Detroit area that is trying the experimental high school-college program.

★ ★ ★

Runekl noted the opening of the Monfort Elementary School this week marks the first time in five years there has been no split-shifting of classes in the school system. Opening of the new facility has enabled all students to attend on a regular full-time basis.

★ ★ ★

The Monfort school is the third school to be completed in the $15½-million building program appropriated in 1966. Plans call for six more elementary schools, two new junior high buildings and seven elementary school research centers to be constructed over the next several years.

School District Drug Talks Set

ROCHESTER — A three-session seminar on drug use and abuse among teen-agers and adults will be held during February in this school district.

Dr. Sonya Friedman, district psychologist, will coordinate the series, which will begin Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Rochester High School auditorium.

Ted Karla, director of youth protective services in Hazel Park, will speak at the first session entitled "Introduction to the General Area of Drug Use and Abuse."

The second meeting, to be held Feb. 17, will be entitled "Drugs and the Law" and will include information on commonly misused drugs and laws pertaining to their use.

DOCTOR, JUDGE TO SPEAK

Dr. Martin Barr of Southfield will discuss identification of drugs and their effect upon the body, while Oakland County Probate Judge Eugene Moore will speak on legal aspects of drug use.

Dr. Jerry Tobias, director of juvenile services for the Bloomfield Township Police Department, and psychiatrist Dr. Robert Underhill will speak at the third meeting, entitled "What Course for Parents?" to be held Feb. 25.

All meetings will run from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. and will be open to the public.

Unity Essential to PAPC and 'Parents'

The discord between the Pontiac Area Planning Council (PAPC) and the agencies which sponsored it late in 1967—the City Commission and the Pontiac Board of Education—that surfaced at last week's commission meeting and again last night, is both regrettable and illogical.

PAPC was charged in a report prepared by City Attorney Sherwin Birnkrant with:

• Failure to submit financial statements to the two City bodies.

• Giving consideration to a change in the method of selecting its chairman, vice chairman and other officers contrary to the organizational structure that made the mayor and school board president ex officio holders of the two offices.

• Not following functional guidelines originally set up. Reflecting this criticism was the assertion by Mayor William H. Taylor Jr.: "Things are not being done right . . . we are going off base."

If indeed things are going off base, which is far from a certainty, it is to be wondered why the mayor, Mayor pro tem T. WARREN FOWLER, the city attorney and the president of the school board, MONROE OSMUN, have been so long and remiss in finding it out, since two of these functionaries are acting heads of the PAPC.

As for the failure to give financial accounting to the City Commission and Board of Education, PAPC Director DAVID DOHERTY explained that since no public funds had thus far been involved, there appeared no reasonable need for such procedure.

Another point of divergence was the consideration by the PAPC of certain organizational changes recommended by the report of a Council study committee.

The City Commission referred these and other differences to the PAPC for consideration at its next meeting, Feb. 13.

Certainly the areas of disagreement between the two parent bodies and the PAPC—which in a short year and a half has established itself as a constructive and effective agency—are too minor to remain unresolved issues. There should be a speedy meeting of minds that will permit the PAPC to proceed unhampered with the important community functions for which it was organized and for which positive gains are being noted.

'Time' Recount Casts Shadow on Elections

We are in hearty accord with the writer of a recent Voice of the People letter who saw in the shifting course of the Daylight Saving Time recount cause to wonder about the validity of all elections.

Regardless of the outcome of the on-again off-again time issue, the discrepancies unearthed in the recount, both for and against Daylight Saving, is a travesty of our election system and one, as our correspondent pointed out, to create misgivings about the results of all close elections.

★ ★ ★

With the notorious exception of Chicago and Illinois' Cook County where, as a wag put it, election rigging is an academic major in the school of political practice, Americans have long held that the Country's elections on all levels of government accurately reflect the will of the voters.

And, for our part, we think they do. But the inaccurate vote tally on the time question, now coming to light, does little to strengthen the belief.

Certainly with the multitude of election officials and workers engaged in the conduct of elections, community by community and state by state, there is no reason why an exact and indisputable tabulation of votes cast on any and all issues should not be immediately forthcoming.

Artists Seen Benefitting From Copycats

Big news in the art world these days is the development of a printing process which makes possible the reproduction of paintings so faithful in tone and even texture that, to the casual eye, they are indistinguishable from the originals.

★ ★ ★

Besides bringing the price of "originals" down to within the budget of every man, it's said that the technique could mean that artists may begin earning royalties on every copy of their paintings sold, just as writers do from books or composers from sheet music or playwrights every time their plays are produced.

Who'd picture the time when an artist would no longer brush off copies of his works?

Dems Scurry to Meet Nixon Assault

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

The Democrats' leadership struggles in the new Congress become more understandable when it is made clear that President Nixon intends a massive assault on their control in the 1970 elections.

BIOSSAT

The President is thinking big on this matter, and the Democrats have all too little time to get their defenses in order and their image shined up.

The incoming administration, heartened that its Senate disadvantage in the 91st Congress is only 57-43, believes it can in 1970 go well beyond the pickup of eight additional seats required for outright control and gain perhaps 12 to 14.

The seats deemed most vulnerable which will be on the block in the next election include those presently held by Sen. Dodd of Connecticut, Hartke of Indiana, Tydings of Maryland, Hart of Michigan, McCarthy of Minnesota, Cannon of Nevada, Williams of New Jersey, Burdick of North Dakota, Young of Ohio, Moss of Utah, Proxmire of Wisconsin and McGee of Wyoming.

FLORIDA, TEXAS EYED

Nixon planners, perhaps dreaming a good bit, also are gazing covetously toward the seats now occupied by Sens. Holland of Florida and Yarborough of Texas.

If all that were achieved by the GOP in 1970, the Democrats would have lost 14 of the 25 Senate seats they have to put up then.

Meantime, only nine Republican seats are at stake, and Nixon strategists think it not unrealistic to argue that just two, the one in Alaska just filled by Theodore Stevens under appointment following the death of Sen. E. L. Bartlett, Democrat, and that of Sen. Charles Goodell, named to the post vacated by the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy, are truly vulnerable.

Factional squabbling in Texas since that state fell narrowly to Vice President Humphrey in the 1968 election may dim GOP dreams there. But Nixon sources still argue that the Democrats are rent by worse strife and that GOP Rep. George Bush could be a formidable candidate against incumbent Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

TOUGH PROSPECTS

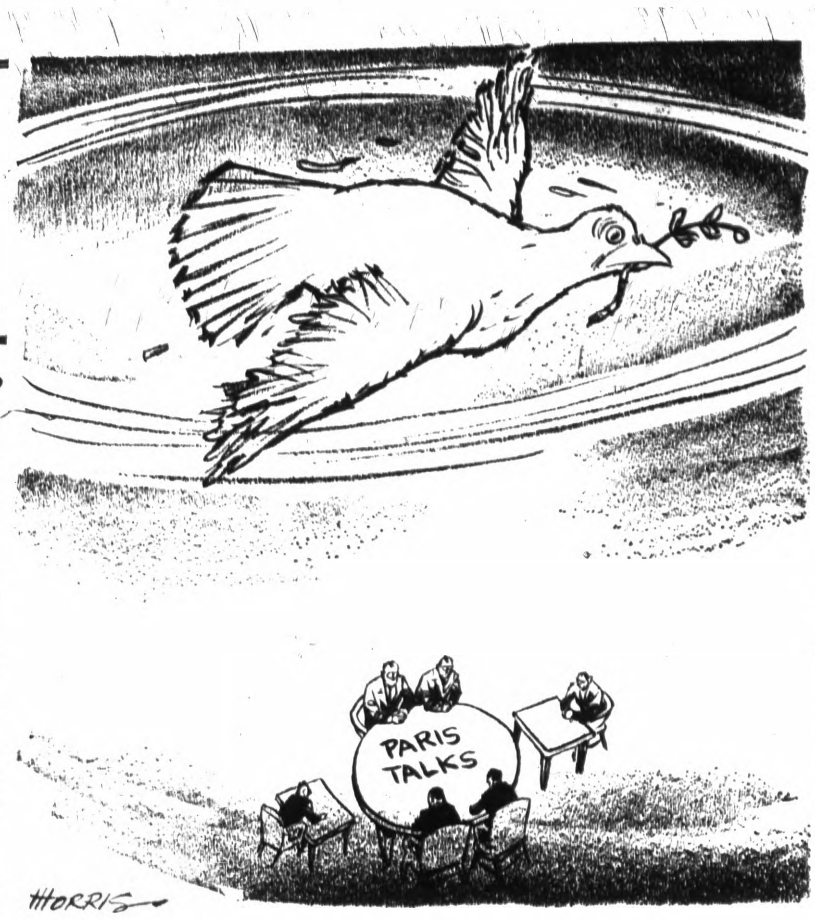

Florida is considered hopeful because Rep. Edward Gurney just won a Senate seat there and the aging Sen. Spessard Holland is felt to be a ready target in a state where party fortunes conceivably may be shifting more or less steadily toward the Republicans.

The other dozen targets, of course, contain some tough prospects. Should McCarthy adhere to his resolve to bow out in 1970 and Humphrey hold to current intent to seek his spot, Republicans might have to cross Minnesota off their list of hopefuls.

Hart is popular in Michigan, and Dodd, Williams and Proxmire appear fairly well-entrenched in their states despite some evident vulnerability.

The President's attack however, will take all this into account. He and his political lieutenants intend to play a decisive role in the fielding of Republican choices for these Democratic seats. They do not plan to sit idly by and see weak sisters thrown into the 1970 lists.

Trapped In A Long Landing Pattern!

David Lawrence Says:

Justice Dept. Morale Gets Boost

WASHINGTON — There is a new feeling of confidence inside the Department of Justice — a belief that at last the laws of the land will be enforced without worrying whether such a course will hurt the administration politically.

LAWRENCE

Members of Congress have received many complaints from their constituents asking why certain individuals who plot riots are not arrested and punished when they violate the federal laws which forbid the crossing of state lines to foment disturbances.

Morale in the Department of Justice itself has been sinking because of the attitude of the higher officials toward law enforcement and particularly the indifference to the explicit statutes on the books.

Federal grand juries should have been summoned to consider cases involving deliberate incitement of riots, but this wasn't done.

The demonstrations and resultant violence during the recent inaugural ceremonies were made possible by a permit issued prior to inauguration day when the leaders promised in advance that there would be no misbehavior.

SAD MOMENT

The police and the troops, of course, were able to reduce the disorder to a minimum, though it is deplorable to see "demonstrators" throw bottles and cans against the automobile in which a new president is riding. It was a sad moment for millions of people who witnessed over the television the deliberate disturbance.

The national government in recent decades has been assuming more and more police authority in cities and towns where racial discrimination occurs.

The federal government, moreover, has declared that it has the power, under the "interstate commerce" clause of the constitution, to restrain those who engage in racial discrimination in restaurants and hotels or in the sale or rental of housing facilities.

It would not be surprising if the new administration took the position that crime, too, is not altogether a local affair.

CAN BE PROSECUTED

Many of the instigators of disturbances and many who rob banks or attack citizens on the streets can be prosecuted by the federal government, since they cross state lines in order to interfere with the rights of American citizens to "equal protection of the laws."

There are plenty of Supreme Court decisions which have defined "civil rights" as they relate to racial matters. But there are many other civil rights which both whites and Negroes would like to enjoy and which are denied because criminals have grown in number and in boldness in recent years.

★ ★ ★

The key to law enforcement in America is in the Department of Justice as well as in the cities and towns across the country.

Bob Considine Says:

Cubans Surrender Much but Keep Coming to U.S.

MIAMI—In the 10 years that have passed since Fidel Castro took over, a half-million Cubans have fled to the U.S. by one means or another and an uspecified number have died in the attempt to find freedom in this country.

CONSIDINE

They have now spread to all 50 states and the District of Columbia. One and only one lives in Alaska. About 200,000 have taken roots in greater Miami. Cuban refugees continue to arrive here at the rate of about 1,000 a week abroad tired old DC7s chartered by the State Department from Airlift International.

★ ★ ★

Some of the newly arrived may have waited as many as five years for permission to fly out of the airport of no return at Varadero, one-time posh resort.

During that waiting period they may have been forced to live as vagabonds or semislave laborers in the cane fields because the day they announced they wished to leave, they forfeited their regular jobs and all their worldly goods with the exception of the clothing they happened to be wearing and their toilet articles.

INHOSPITABLE LABEL

Once here in Miami, snug in the embrace of weeping relatives who had made the break earlier, the person who gives up living in the one-time pearl of the antilles is given an inhospitable sounding label. In the eyes of the U. S. government he is now a "parolee."

As such he is not permitted to travel outside the U. S. without a most complex and thorough scrutiny of his intentions. After two and a half years he may apply for the status of "resident alien." After five years he can make application for U. S. citizenship.

Only about 17,000 of the Cubans who have remained in this area have become citizens.

TAXED, DRAFTED

Parolees, resident aliens and full citizens from Cuba are subject to city, state and federal taxes. They also can be and are drafted into the U. S. armed forces, but they cannot vote unless they are bonafide citizens.

The Cuban influx is one of the greatest immigrations of an oppressed people since the Irish came over in droves more than a century ago to escape the potato famine, religious persecution and the brutal denial of their civil rights.

The only Cubans who want to go back to Castro are the skyjackers, and they are relatively few and far between.

Castro once announced confidentially that any Cuban who wanted to leave the island could do so without strings, and he'd be glad to get rid of him for being unloyal to the people's paradise.

He was nearly trampled underfoot by a tidal wave of Cubans who took him at his word and made application to leave no matter what it cost them. Castro was said to be deeply shocked by this and for years he has made each departure terrifying.

Upper Michigan's deer herd is in dire straits due to an unusually severe winter. Everything is so snow-covered that only the very large deer can reach up and perhaps find some cedar. I fell in snow drifted to my shoulders while taking food out to them.

Hunters, cabin and cottage owners could help—and unless a few more do, there will be a lot fewer deer for hunters next fall. How about it, sportsmen?

Gives Views on Aid to Parochial Schools

After all the talk about parochiaid, I don't see why the State should get involved. We have always had parochial schools, and independent from the government just as the framers of the Constitution intended it. Income tax deductions are allowed for church support and that takes care of that part; however, recent Supreme Court rulings have allowed deductions for atheists who spend money supporting the practice of atheism as a means of fair play. So, think twice before you jump. You may be forced to support an atheist school from the tax rolls — that is, as a means of fair play to the many tax-paying atheists.

RUBY BUTLER
WATERFORD

REPLY

It's true they're very rare, almost non-existent. And everyone we talked to said they would be valued only as an oddity, because they're no good to breeders. They probably wouldn't produce offspring. Mrs. Whitman Daly, LI 2-5762, can give you more information. She's had wide experience with cat breeding and showing of cats.

Question and Answer

Would you please explain what the Supreme Court's ruling concerning prayer and Bible reading in public schools says?

BRUCE KILMER
COLLEGE STUDENT

REPLY

On June 17, 1962, the Supreme Court ruled 8-1 that state and local regulations requiring recitation of the Lord's Prayer or Bible verses in public schools were unconstitutional. On June 25, 1962, the Court ruled 6-1 that reciting of an official prayer in the public schools of New York State was unconstitutional.

Waste . . .

Christian Economics

The Office of Economic Opportunity and its vast complex of projects and subsidiaries is costing the American people $1.7 billion this year. What benefit have we received for this enormous sum?

Some 18 months ago a Louis Harris poll showed that 51 per cent of the graduates and dropouts from Job Corps projects were employed. But 58 per cent of them were employed before taking Job Corps training. On that test the money seems to have been wasted.

The median wage at the time of the survey was $1.32 an hour, or only 15 cents an hour more than they were earning before their expensive training. Inflation and general wage advances would probably have carried their pay as high as it now is, even without Job Corps training.

About the same amount of fighting, drunkenness, assaults and sex crimes occurred among the Job Corps trainees as among non-trainees from the same stratum of society. The training does not seem to have made much difference in this respect.

Some Job Corps graduates have cost the taxpayer as much as $39,000. This has ranged downward to the generally accepted figure of about $13,000 each.

In some cases local action groups sponsored by O. E. O. have paid their directors as much as $25,000 a year, often considerably in excess of the salary drawn by the mayors of those communities.

In spite of the fact that LeRoy Jones called upon American Negroes to storm "American cities with furious cries and unstoppable weapons," saying, "We want actual explosions and actual brutality," his Black Guard Theater receved $115,000 from New York City's Haryou, an O. E. O. project.

★ ★ ★

Cost would be much lower and results much better if the Job Corps trainees were given on-the-job training by industry at apprentice wages, even though such projects were subsidized by the Federal Government. Unfortunately, unions do not want to sanction substandard wages for substandard people in training, and politicians like to have an apparently inexhaustible supply of well-paying jobs with which to reward their henchmen.

Abby Still Standing Firm on 'Love Problem' Advice

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a minister who has gotten a lot of good ideas for my sermons from your column, but I must disagree with you. A woman wrote that she had "fallen in love" with her pastor, and couldn't keep from thinking some thoughts she shouldn't entertain while sitting in church. You advised her to transfer to a sister congregation without telling her pastor the reason.

Abby, we clergymen are aware that some of our parishioners do fall in love with us, and we are trained to cope with that situation. It happened to me, and with the help of a psychiatrist I was able to set the lady straight.

I would have suggested that the woman confess to her pastor how she feels a bout him. Then I would recommend that she see a psychiatrist, and together they can work her problem through. If she follows your advice and transfers to another congregation she will still have the same feeling.

NO NAME, PLS.

DEAR NO NAME: Unfortunately not every clergyman is trained to cope with the above situation. Neither would every woman who "falls in love with her pastor" agree to confess her feelings to him, then consult a psychiatrist and "work her problem through."

I still think the lady would do well to follow my advice.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for saying that some working mothers have better behaved children than some stay-at-home mothers — that it's the quality — not the quantity of time spent with children that counts.

★ ★ ★

I am not a working mother, but the daughter of one. I'm not bragging, but I think my brothers and sisters and I (there are four of us) are very well brought up. We are all proud of our mother and wouldn't do anything to upset or disappoint her. We each have our duties and do them without having to be reminded.

We see more of our "working" mother than some of our friends see of their mothers who are so wrapped up in their clubs and organizations that they don't have time for their own children.

One I know is so busy helping "underprivileged" children, that her own have run completely wild. I am 17, and the youngest of four, and I think we are all better off for having had a working mother. Sincerely yours, PAM

Tailored Femininity Is Theme of New Paris Spring Collection

By LUCIE NOEL
AP Fashion Writer

PARIS — Pierre Balmain combined perfect grooming and fun in his new spring-summer fashion collection Tuesday morning.

Sophisticated spring shades were masterfully blended with luscious colors, setting off a fun garment that incorporated a cape, dress and culottes.

For beachware it was gaily trimmed in red and white polka dots. For town, Balmain used discreet navy blue trimmed in white and worked in his new high button sleeve. The same idea in printed silk organza was shown for cocktail time.

Balmain selected king-size hothouse tropical flora for his spiral wrapover variant. It goes floor length and sweeps in line with fabulous angel wing sleeves floating along.

SLEEVES HIGHPOINT

Focus throughout is on sleeves. His newest is a deep corolla cuff inlaid with jeweled embroidery or eyelet broiderie for daytime.

Balmain makes a point of always designing feminine clothes and his tailoring is superb and immaculate.

Classic tweed, linen or shantungs and plain surfaced wools step forth in neat short jacketed suits, sometimes treated to a patent belt in the front only or placed all round.

★ ★ ★

He inserts interlaced circles or concentrated rings in the cut. Plain crepe shirts with ascot ties are in dark or light contrasts. They lend interest too on plain sleeveless wool or summer dresses.

★ ★ ★

Glace linen is shown on jeune fille dresses in deep cuffs topped by a full bloused sleeve. Astrakan is dyed blue for sports and swakara lamb steps forth for dresses.

Balmain also has the answer in the most luxurious furs. A sports coat in oyster nutria has a matching oyster crepe dress. Shaded boreal fox in black edged white has its own white crepe dress.

The evening dresses are carefully planned to reflect the mood of whatever country the designer has in mind—Iran, India, Portugal, Monaco or France. Styles range from young lady to those suited to royal courts.

Chiefs Riddle Southwestern for Easy Win

Special to The Press

FLINT — Those streaking Chiefs of Pontiac Central are now riding along the basketball trail with a nine-game winning string.

The Chiefs came up with a strong first half here last night and rolled to an 82-54 decision over Flint Southwestern in a Saginaw Valley Conference game.

ONE GAME OUT

The triumph gave PCH a 7-1 record in SVC competition, but they still trail Flint Central (8-0) by a game.

★ ★ ★

Flint Central, ranked fifth in the state Class A poll — just a notch ahead of Pontiac Central — also made it nine wins in a row last night by stopping improving Saginaw, 60-52.

OTHER GAMES

In other SVC games, Saginaw Arthur Hill romped past Flint Northern, 92-80, and Bay City Central pinned a 77-71 setback on Bay City Handy. In a nonleaguer, Midland downed Saginaw MacArthur, 73-61.

★ ★ ★

The win for the Chiefs was their fourth in a row over Flint Southwestern and they'll get an opportunity to make it five straight when they play host to the Colts Feb. 21.

The Chiefs have 2-1 edge over Flint quintets this season. Their lone loss was to Flint Central (89-75), while they dumped Flint Northern (82-69) before halting Southwestern

CHIEFS ROMP

After carving out a 23-17 lead at the first-quarter break, the Chiefs kayoed the Colts with a 17-6 advantage in the second frame to take a 40-23 lead at intermission. The big bulge enabled the Chiefs to coast in the second half.

★ ★ ★

NO. 1 CHIEF

Heading the list was sophomore Campanella Russell with 20 points — 14 in the second half — and the 6-5 jumpingjack helped the Chiefs control the rebounding phase of the game.

★ ★ ★

Monte Herring pitched in 15 points, Anthony Styles picked up 14 and Jerry Rafliff added 13 in helping Russell with the scoring chores.

Mechanically, the game was one of the best this campaign for the Chiefs. While shooting a respectable 35 of 93, they committed only eight turnovers.

LEADS COLTS

Mike Davis led the Southwestern (1-9) attack with 20 points and teammate Robin Thompson added 10. Davis had 18 in the second half.

★ ★ ★

Southwestern's downfall came early in the second frame when the Chiefs moved from a 23-17 advantage to a 33-19 lead. The Colts came back at the start of the third, hitting on five in a row to cut the lead to 42-30, but PCH quickly regained the upper hand.

The Chiefs are idle now until a trip to Saginaw Feb. 7.

B. Hills' Tim Wood Among Favorites in National Event

From Our News Wires

SEATTLE, Wash. — Tim Wood of Bloomfield Hills is favored to continue his reign as men's champion when the 1969 National Figure Skating Championships open here today.

Chief threat to Wood's title is John Misha Petkovich of Great Falls, Mont., and the decision in the senior men's event will come Friday night.

Wood, 20, is a junior at John Carroll University in Cleveland, while Petkovich, also, 20, is a sophomore at Harvard.

NEW QUEEN

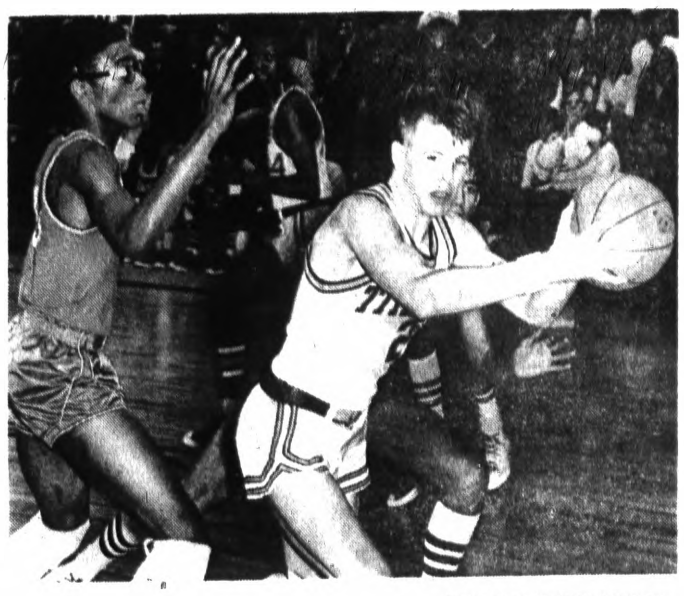

Headlining the four-day event will be the crowning of a successor to pretty Peggy Fleming as queen of American ice. Miss Fleming abdicated her positions of U. S., world and Olympic champion by turning professional.

★ ★ ★

Fifteen-year-old Janet Lynn of Rockford, Ill., is expected to give Tina Noves of Colorado Springs a battle for Miss Fleming's title. Miss Noyes has been runner-up to Miss Fleming for four of the past five years and beat out Miss Lynn for second place a year ago.

★ ★ ★

Top finishers here go on to the North American Championships Feb. 6-8 in Oakland, Calif., and the World Championships Feb. 25-March 1 in Colorado Springs.

Huskies Post 78-59 Decision

PNH Too Strong for Improved Titans

By FLETCHER SPEARS

The Titans of Pontiac Catholic are closing the gap in their bid to rise among area prep basketball powers.

"We have a ways to go," conceded coach Mel Larsen after watching the Titans absorb a 78-59 setback at the hands of the Huskies of Pontiac Northern

DIFFERENT NOW

"It wasn't like last year," said Larsen, referring to the initial meeting between the two in which PNH prevailed, 83-52.

★ ★ ★

So, from a number standpoint, the Titans have closed the gap. Over-all, it was a better game than their '68 contest.

ALL BACK

Larsen's lineup is made up of underclassmen so they'll be back for another shot at the Huskies in 1970. "It could be a little different next year," added Larsen.

★ ★ ★

And while the Titans are closing the gap, it must be said the Huskies had too much manpower last night.

SPUR VICTORY

With guards Joe Bradley, Rob Clancy and Eddie Williams pressuring the Titans on the outside, and Chuck Moncrief, Ernie Crawford, Marcus Cummings and Mike Chapman sharing the work around the basket, the Huskies broke away from a 9-9 tie late in the first quarter, and with one exception, made it a relatively easy decision.

★ ★ ★

The victory raised PNH's record to 7-2 while the Titans were suffering only their second loss in 13 contests.

TOO MANY GUNS

Larsen admitted the Huskies just had too many guns and the biggest gun in the PNH arsenal was Moncrief, a 6-1 forward, who flipped in a career high 31 points and helped the Huskies to a 59-54 edge in rebounds.

★ ★ ★

And while he led the offense, Moncrief also had a hand in defensing the Titans' top gun—6-4 forward Sam Brady.

PACED TITANS

Brady, who hauled down 20 rebounds, contributed 20 points. He went into the game with an average of 25.4.

Sharing the scoring load with Moncrief were Williams and Bradley with 12 apiece.

Williams ignited a PNH spurt near the end of the first quarter as the Huskies broke that 9-9 deadlock and led at the end of the frame, 15-9. Williams sent a long one-hander through the basket just as the buzzer sounded.

WIDENS GAP

Williams quickly made it 17-9 opening the second frame and then Moncrief took charge. He socred 12 points in the quarter as the Huskies opened up a 37-24 lead at intermission.

★ ★ ★

The lull in the PNH attack came late in the third when Moncrief left the game after picking up his fourth foul. The Titans went to work and cut a 49-34 lead to 49-40 before the Huskies regained the upper hand.

Brady collected 11 of his points in that third stanza.

The fourth was Northern's. The Huskies outscored their hosts, 26-19, and coach Dick Hall had his bench cleared midway in the fourth.

★ ★ ★

Northern, 5-0 in Inter-Lakes League play, will journey to Livonia Stevenson Friday evening for a conference game, while the Titans have a date at Ferndale St. James.

Senators' Owner Hedges on Talk of New Manager

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Bob Short, the new owner of the Washington Senators, didn't say yes and didn't say no Tuesday but he did say it's "not impossible" that Bob Kennedy could be the club's new manager with George Selkirk and Jim Lemon being offered other jobs in the organization.

★ ★ ★

"It's not impossible but at this point it's merely speculation," Short said when asked for comment on a published report that he plans to relieve Selkirk, the general manager, and Lemon, the field manager, of their duties.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy, who was fired as manager of Oakland in a surprise move by owner Charley Finley at the end of last season after he had piloted the 'A's to a sixth place finish, is supposed to be in line to replace Lemon. Kennedy was hired by the St. Louis Cardinals as a scout after he was fired by the A's.

★ ★ ★

Contacted at his home in Mesa, Ariz., Kennedy said he knew nothing about any report that he would become the new manager. He said he just received an invitation from the Cardinals to join them this spring in their training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Lions Hope for 'Sleepers' in Draft Picks

CHICAGO (AP) — While everyone worried about how much money O. J. Simpson can extract from the Buffalo Bills, the Detroit Lions waited until the 34th pick in the professional football draft before they quietly chose a back they hope will be another "sleeper" like Lem Barney was two years ago.

Albie Taylor, unknown to most Lions fans, is a 5-foot-9½, 195-pound back who runs the 50-yard dash in 4.5 seconds, slightly slower than last year's National Football League rookie-of-the-year flanker Earl McCullouch.

★ ★ ★ ★

"He's a game breaker," said Lion coach Joe Schmidt, in Chicago for the draft. "We can use him a number of ways and he'll put some points on the scoreboard."

Detroit also took 6-foot-7 270-pound tight end Jim Yarborough in the second round, a choice that ends a complex deal which sent tackle Roger Brown to the Los Angeles Rams.

Yarborough could be used immediately as a backup man for Charlie Sanders. Eventually, he is expected to move to offensive tackle, replacing Charlie Bradshaw, who is approaching age 34.

DEFENSIVE ASSIGNMENT

Detroit's other early choice, flanker Larry Walton of Arizona State, chosen in a third-round pick the Lions got from New Orleans for quarterback Karl Sweetan, will probably wind up as a defensive back.

A 9.4-second 100-yard dash man, Walton picked up 494 yards in 91 carries last year, scoring seven touchdowns from scrimmage and three on punt returns.

But it was Taylor whom the Lions really wanted. Scout Jerry Neri said "He's got the best acceleration" I've seen in some time. He rates right in there with Mike Garrett and Dick Bass, two other short, muscular running backs."

Garrett, now a standout with the American Football League's Kansas City Chiefs, was Simpson's predecessor at the University of Southern California.

COMPUTER RATING

The Lions said their computer ratings tabbed Taylor as one of the top five backs in the country. Michigan's Ron Johnson and Houston's Paul Gipson were considered better, but both were gone before the Lions choice came up.

Taylor, from Pittsburg, Calif., gained 1,644 yards in 362 carries in a two-year career at Utah State. He scored 12 touchdowns last year.

"Along with Mel Farr and Nick Eddy, Taylor will give us some versatility in our running game," said Detroit general manager Russ Thomas.

The Lions wanted a big, defensive lineman badly, but there were no big-name big men available when their turn came up.

Actor James Garner Enters 2 Fast Cars in 24-Hour Case

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — James Garner has rounded up a four-wheel posse that could well head off the favorites in the car-killing 24 hours of Daytona.

Garner, who climbed to success with a television cowboy role and then worked his way into a Formula One racing seat in the movie Grand Prix, will pace the pits nervously Saturday and Sunday. It won't be an act.

★ ★ ★

The tall, handsome actor, who has lately sported a bushy beard, heads up the racing division of American International Racing Inc., (AIR) a Sunset Boulevard-based firm typical of the monied new breed of racing entrepreneurs.

AIR, with two big, five-litre new Lola-Chevy T70s, could well have the two fastest cars in the race over the high-banked Daytona International Speedway where gleaming white Porsches finished one-two-three last year.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Toledo downed Columbus 2-1 in International League Hockey play here last night, snapping a six-game home winning streak for the Checkers.

Chicken Should Be Economical

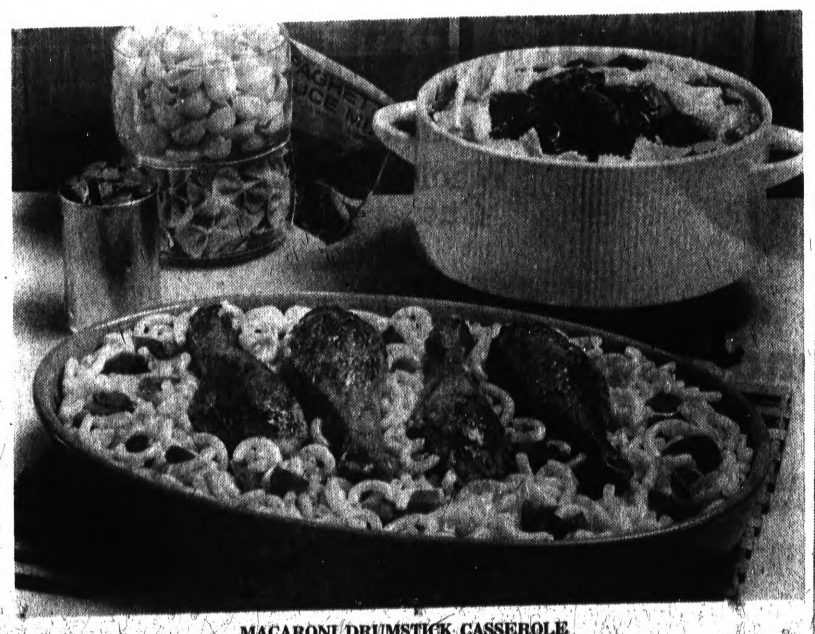

GOLDEN GLAZED CHICKEN

CHICKEN MOLE

BIRTHDAY CHICKEN

MACARONI DRUMSTICK CASSEROLE

By Janet Odell
Food Editor, The Pontiac Press

Broiler-fryers are on the best buy list for the second month in a row. And the holidays are far enough behind us now that we can relish the thought of poultry again.

If you have a freezer, it might be a good time to stock up on chicken. After all, it's not too many months until the outdoor cooking season will be with us once more.

Be sure to wrap chicken properly before placing in your freezer. Thus prepared, it will retain its high quality for as much as eight to 12 months.

Fresh poultry is perishable. Keep it in the refrigerator loosely wrapped, and use within two to three days. Rinse in cold water before cooking.

Look for chicken that has grade and inspection marks on it.

The grade mark, in the form of a shield, tells the grade or quality of the product (U.S. Grade A, B, or C). It is used on ready-to-cook poultry that has been officially graded for quality, but it may be used only if the inspection mark, denoting wholesomeness, appears also.

The inspection mark, in the form of a circle, denotes wholesomeness only. It is used on ready-to-cook poultry (A, B, or C) that has been officially inspected and passed as wholesome food.

Golden Glazed Chicken

- 1 broiler-fryer, 3½ lbs, cut in serving pieces
- ⅓ cup flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
- ¼ teaspoon paprika
- ¼ cup solid all-vegetable shortening
- ¼ cup orange gelatin
- ¾ cup pineapple juice
- 1 cup pineapple slices
- 2 oranges, cut in wedges or pineapple slices for garnish
- Parsley sprigs

Wash chicken, pat dry. Combine flour, poultry seasoning, salt and paprika in paper bag. Place chicken in bag; shake. Heat shortening in pan; brown chicken lightly. Place chicken in casserole; bake 30 minutes.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling pineapple juice. Pour over chicken; arrange pineapple slices around edge. Bake about 40 minutes until golden and tender, basting with pineapple juice and jello mixture. Arrange on platter.

Garnish with either orange wedges or pineapple slices and parsley. Serves 5-6.

Chicken Mole, (molay) one of the most delectable and elegant Mexican dishes to wend its way north of the border, is perfect party fare. Its distinctive taste is a result of the grated chocolate in the sauce. Don't knock it if you haven't tried it.

Chicken Mole

- 2 chickens 3-4 lbs. each
- 1 onion, whole
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ½ cup olive oil
- 3 green peppers
- 2 tablespoons sesame seeds
- 6 cloves of garlic
- 1 slice dry white toast
- ½ cup almonds
- ¼ cup salted peanuts, shelled
- 8 tomatoes
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- Chili powder to taste
- 2 ounces unsweetened chocolate, grated
- ½ cup coffee liqueur

Cut chicken into serving pieces. Cook the chicken pieces in water to cover, together with the onion and 1 teaspoon of the salt. Simmer until almost tender, about 1 hour.

Drain, reserving ½ cup of stock. Dry the chicken. Heat ¼ cup of olive oil in frying pan. Add chicken and brown on all sides. Remove chicken and place in a heavy pot.

GRIND MIXTURE

Grind together the green peppers, sesame seeds, garlic, toast, almonds, peanuts, and tomatoes. Add the cinnamon, remaining salt, pepper, chili powder, and chocolate, and blend well.

Heat the remaining oil and add mixture to it. Cook over low heat.

Combine the ½ cup of stock with coffee liqueur. Mix thoroughly and pour over the chicken. Spread the chocolate mixture over the chicken.

Cover and cook for 1½ hours. Baste occasionally. Serves 8.

Birthday Chicken

- 3 large chicken breasts, split or 2 broiler-fryers
- ½ cup flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ cup vegetable oil
- 2 cans (8 ounces each) or 1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce with tomato bits
- 1 can (8 ounces) whole onions, drained
- 1 can (4 ounces) mushrooms stems and pieces, drained
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- 4 cups hot mashed potatoes
- ½ cup shredded Cheddar cheese
- 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh parsley

Coat chicken with flour mixed with salt and pepper; brown in oil in skillet. Remove chicken to baking dish.

Combine tomato sauce with tomato bits, onions, mushrooms and curry powder; pour over chicken. Bake, covered, at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

Meanwhile, beat potatoes, cheese, egg yolks and parsley together until cheese melts and mixture is smooth and fluffy. Force potatoes through pastry tube or spoon atop chicken. Broil about 5 inches from heat until potatoes are lightly browned. Makes 6 servings.

ORIGIN IS MYSTERY

Make Sure of Bargain

The pricing of chicken by the piece may be set so that, on a cost per pound basis, favored breasts or thighs are actually less costly than whole birds. The following table shows some price comparisons.

- 7 ounces elbow macaroni
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- ⅓ cup chopped celery
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ¼ cup flour
- ½ teaspoon marjoram leaves

Gradually add milk and broth; cook, stirring constantly until sauce boils 1 minute. Add mushrooms, pimiento and chicken drippings. Combine with macaroni in 2-quart casserole. Top with chicken legs. Bake in 375 degree (moderate) oven 20 minutes.

MOTHER'S HELPER BAKED CHICKEN

Browned by Bacon, Butter

Top chicken breasts with strips of bacon, then cover with a creamy mixture of butter mixed with Worcestershire sauce and chopped chives. A bit of basting, bake until chicken's tender and brown — and you're ready to give a "Chick-A-Party."

MOTHER'S HELPER BAKED CHICKEN

- 4 whole chicken breasts, split
- 8 strips bacon
- ½ cup butter
- 4 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 4 tablespoons chopped chives

Split chicken breasts. Cut 2 slashes across each half of chicken breast. Place ½ strip of raw bacon into each slash. Cream butter. Beat in Worcestershire sauce and chopped chives. Spread mixture over chicken breasts.

Bake at 375 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes, or until breasts are tender and brown. Brush chicken breasts with pan drippings 4 to 5 times during cooking. Serves 4.

Oven Dishes Simple to Fix

The story is that a superior chicken dish was served several years ago to Queen Elizabeth during a U.S. visit. Both as a mother and homemaker, the unconfirmed rumor has it, she was so pleased with its palatable falvor that she asked for the recipe. From that day on the dish has been known as "Chicken Elizabeth."

CHICKEN ELIZABETH

- 4 chicken breasts cut in half
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 medium white onion, chopped
- ⅓ fresh green pepper, chopped
- 3 oz. dry vermouth
- ½ pint sour cream
- ¼ cup blue cheese (about 1¼ ounces, crumbled)
- ⅛ tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- Dash tarragon
- Dash paprika

In 10" skillet, saute chicken (in butter) turning several times until lightly browned. Place chicken in 1½ qt. casserole, meat side up. Retain juices in pan. Heat oven to 350 degrees.

In a blender, combine the remaining ingredients and pan juice. Pour over breasts and bake in covered casserole for one hour. Makes 4 servings.

Boiling Water Removes Stains

Wine stains may be removed from tablecloths, napkins, and other cloth surfaces by stretching the stained portion over a large bowl, securing with a rubber band, sprinkling with salt, and pouring boiling water from a height of 2 or 3 feet.

★ ★ ★

It is also wise to sprinkle a little salt on the wine stain at the time of the spillage.

The best macaroni costs no more.
