Wheat Harvest Almost Finished in County

Pontiac Press Photos

Corn Leads the Parade

Good Crop Yield Reported by Farmers in This Area

By JOE HAAS

Wheat harvest is about completed in Oakland County. The yield compares favorably with former years, as does the quality. There was some loss on account of the ripening grain being lodged by heavy rains and winds.

This caused the wheat kernels to sprout and start growth on the moist ground, also making it difficult to harvest.

Oats harvest is about half done. This grain is better than an average crop in yield and quality, in spite of the difficulty at planting time on account of the wet grounds.

For the first time in our country's history, the grain harvest this year was done practically 100 per cent by combines. The grain binder is a thing of the past, succeeded by the combine just as the binder succeeded the reaper which came into use after the grains were harvested by scythe or cradle.

There is only a small acreage of rye, barley, beans or buckwheat in this area, our soils having been found to better produce other crops.

★ ★ ★

But the top 1957 crop here will be corn. Although planted at a late date, the good moisture conditions and recent hot weather brought it along in a manner that amazes even the older farmers.

It now is actually ahead of its schedule and promises a bumper crop.

★ ★ ★

Potatoes of the earlier varieties now are in bloom, and the later varieties are making good progress. All promise a good yield.

★ ★ ★

It has been a good season for alfalfa and other forage crops which were favored by cool weather last spring, which enhanced their growth. Pastures and meadows have largely been conducive to a better than average dairy yield which has become an important factor in local farming.

100 British Bombs Batter Oman Rebels

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP)—British Royal Air Force bombers today hit rebel strongpoints in Oman with more than 100 20-pound fragmentation bombs.

A ground controller reported having seen warriors of the rebellious Imam of Oman flushed from their well-prepared positions near Firq.

The combined ground force of British troops and supporters of the Sultan of Muscat and Oman was stalled yesterday by unexpectedly stout resistance at Firq.

Air Vice Marshal Laurence Sinclair announced the air raid. He said an attack on Firq was being prepared.

House Approves Pay Raise Bill

Senate Gets Measure Authorizing 11 Pct. Hike for Civil Employe Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has given strong approval to an 11 per cent pay raise for the government's one million white collar workers. The estimated cost: 530 million dollars annually.

The bill was passed late yesterday, 329-58, and sent to the Senate. There it joins another pay bill passed earlier by the House. This bill would give some 518,000 postal workers a $546 annual raise at a cost of about 317 million yearly.

But even if both measures should clear the Senate, there are predictions they might be vetoed.

President Eisenhower has said he could not recommend the pay boosts at present because of the increased inflationary pressure he said they would generate.

Rep. Halleck of Indiana, assistant GOP floor leader, predicted the bill passed yesterday would be vetoed if it went to Eisenhower in its present form.

Halleck said if the raises became law, Congress would have to increase the debt ceiling now at 275 billion dollars.

U.S. Authorities Look in Atomic Centers for Abel's Accomplices

NEW YORK (INS) — U. S. authorities pressed their hunt today—reportedly in atomic research and production centers—for accomplices of accused Soviet masterspy Rudolf Ivanovich Abel.

Abel, meantime, was held under maximum security in the U.S. House of Detention in New York City. Authorities said every possible precaution was being taken to prevent a suicide attempt.

The sharp-featured Russian national was ordered held without bail yesterday until next Tuesday to give him time to get a lawyer. The Russian Embassy has ignored him and he apparently was unable immediately to find an attorney to defend him.

In the absence of a lawyer, Brooklyn Federal District Court Judge Matthew J. Abruzzo entered a plea of not guilty for Abel, who faces a possible death penalty if convicted.

Abel later asked an officer to call attorney John J. Abt, who has served as counsel for accused Communists in Smith Act cases.

Abt, who held government posts during the New Deal years, is in Maine on vacation. He said he had never heard of Abel except what he had read in the newspapers. He added he had never defended anyone accused of military espionage.

FBI PROBLEM

In Washington, government officials expressed fear today that Abel may escape prosecution unless Congress safeguards the secrecy of FBI files before it adjourns.

★ ★ ★

The Supreme Court recently ruled that the defense is entitled to examine FBI records in preparing a case. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover was reported to prefer abandonment of prosecution rather than surrender the agency's files.

Manager Backs Officers on Major Grievances

The Pontiac Police Officers Assn. won a victory today in its effort to settle grievances against the department.

City Manager Walter K. Willman handed down a ruling involving four grievances brought before him by six officers. On all but one minor point, he agreed that the officers were justified in complaining and ordered the department to grant their demands.

The grievances and their settlement by Willman were:

1. Vacations are an administrative policy and should be scheduled by platoon commanders. This followed complaints by two officers that some men were being favored in such schedules by the police administration.

2. Officers who have been placed on probation and denied step pay increases on the charge they did not move their residences inside the city should be granted pay boosts. Two officers claimed they had made every effort to move into Pontiac within the stipulated time given them and that in any case the city charter has been changed allowing employes to live within a 10 mile radius of Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

A third officer complained he was denied a pay increase on the grounds that a six months probation given him for a rules infraction could not count on his service time. He said he was also given a penalty of loss of 20 leave days and these days alone should be subtracted from his record.

Willman ruled the officer was right and that only the 20 days counted against him which would make him eligible for the raise.

4. An officer who complained he was passed over on a promotion was told by Willman to take the civil service examination for the job he wanted and wait until there was an opening for promotion.

Herbert C. Cooley, president of the officers association, said his group was extremely pleased by the city manager's decisions.

Still pending before the Civil Service Commission, he noted, is the question of the promotions of

Farm Is Fort as Bandits Fight Police 24 Hours Before Surrendering

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Using the life of a terrified 9-year-old farm girl as their bargaining point, three youthful gunmen made an unsuccessful bid for freedom from 100 policemen who surrounded them last night.

"If one shot is fired into the house I'll kill the little girl," Peggy Lou Fenstemaker heard one of the men shout to the policemen who ringed her home.

Police answered with a barrage of tear gas. The three gunmen, who had robbed a grocery store and shot a policeman, fired random shots from the windows of the farm house near Louisville.

While all the excitement was going on, one of the robbers kept telephoning the sheriff's office in Canton, with threats that the women in the farmhouse would be harmed.

After a two-hour siege in which no one was injured the bandits surrendered.

It was an armored car that convinced them. Canton police backed their shielded car up to the house and hollered an ultimatum. It worked.

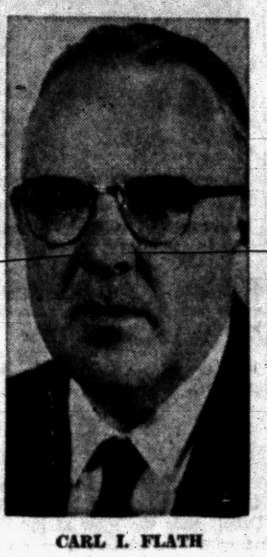

Just before the surrender one of the robbers handed a roll of bills to 14-year-old Connie Fenstemaker. It proved to be $306.

"Here, take this. We won't need it," he said.

The money was part of the pro-

Appointed

CARL I. FLATH

Carl Flath Set to Take Office in September

Has Extensive Record in Hospital Service in Other Cities

Carl I. Flath of Garden City, New York, was selected as the new executive director of Pontiac General Hospital at a special meeting of the hospital's Board of Trustees last night.

Announcement of the appointment was made today by Willis M. Brewer, chairman of the board.

The decision to appoint Flath was unanimous.

"We feel that we have made an outstanding choice," Brewer said.

His salary will be $18,500 per year. Flath is replacing Miss Lauretta Paul, who left the hospital in May. He will assume his duties Sept. 15.

★ ★ ★

For the past two years he has devoted himself exclusively to hospital consulting in matters of design, construction, equipment and organization of hospitals and nursing schools.

CANADIAN NATIVE

A native of Canada, Flath spent five years in the field of business and advertising before entering hospital management in 1936 as administrator of the Wellesly Hospital of Toronto, Ontario.

He came to Detroit in 1939 as assistant director of Michigan Hospital Service, the first statewide Blue Cross Plan.

Under his direction Michigan Hospital Service earned two national awards in hospital public education and more than 100 Michigan hospitals became participating members of the Blue Cross Movement.

Air Hero Has Another Run-in With C97 Engine

HONOLULU (AP)—Maj. Samuel Tyson, the Air Force pilot who nursed a crippled military air transport with 67 persons aboard for 1,000 miles to a safe landing Thursday, ran into more engine trouble yesterday.

Tyson, in another C97, was en route to Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco when engine trouble forced the plane to return to Hickam Field.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane had carburetor trouble which was quickly fixed. He said it was "routine" for Military Air Transport Service planes to return if anything went wrong, no matter how small.

'Fair' Tomorrow, Weatherman Says

Fair weather this afternoon will continue through tomorrow, with cooler temperatures expected this evening, says the U.S. Weather Bureau for the Pontiac area. The low tonight will be near 64.

Tomorrow will be pleasant with a high of 80-84.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceeding 8 a.m. was 68. At 2 p.m. the temperature reached 85.

Says Mother of Utica Youth in Moscow:

'My Boy Is Not Disloyal'

"My boy is not disloyal to his country. He is a fine American and believes there's no place like the good old United States."

These were the first words spoken by the mother of a Utica youth, Larry R. Schwartz, 22, of 6226 Auburn, upon learning that her son has accepted an invitation to visit Red China despite a U.S. State Department ban on travel behind the Bamboo Curtain.

BEWILDERED

"I just don't know what to make of the whole thing," said the mother, Mrs. Evelyn Van Hevel, 22413 Donald, of East Detroit.

Until yesterday she was not aware that her son was attending the Communist-sponsored World Youth Festival in Moscow.

"I received a letter from my boy last week," she said. "He wrote that he had been studying Russian and hoped to make a trip there with a group of students."

★ ★ ★

(News dispatches from Moscow revealed that Schwartz was among 40 American delegates out of 150 who will make the trip to Red China. Fifteen will be non-paying guests of the Peiping government. The others, including Schwartz, will pay a token $100 each.

"I will beg, borrow or steal the $100," Schwartz was quoted as saying.)

BRILLIANT STUDENT

"My boy was a brilliant student at the University of Michigan,"

LARRY SCHWARTZ

Mrs. Van Hevel said. "He wanted to travel about before he settled down to teaching. I'm sure that he wouldn't throw that all overboard for something like this."

After his graduation in 1956, Schwartz went to Europe and worked in England for the U.S. Immigration Service. His mother said that he was coming home in July, but then wrote about the trip to Russia. She said that he now plans to return in December.

"He's always hated communism," she said. "I only hope that he doesn't get hurt over there. You keep reading in the newspapers about what the communists do."

Mrs. Van Hevel said her son plans to write a book about his travels.

"I don't know what our government will do if he goes to China," she said. "But I'm sure that if Larry knew that the United States really were against his going that he'd come home.

"I know that my son is religious, Christian and a good American.

"Nothing can shake my belief in that."

Storm Bertha Ends Its Threat

One-Time Hurricane Fizzles Out as It Goes Inland Over Texas

NEW ORLEANS (AP)— Tropical storm Bertha ended its short-lived, threatened reign of terror along the Gulf Coast today and fizzled inland over eastern Texas.

The Weather Bureau's final bulletin on the storm at 4 a.m. (CST) today located it about 20 miles northwest of Beaumont, Tex., with highest winds estimated 30 to 40 m.p.h.

Bertha was moving northwestward at about 10 m.p.h., the bulletin said, and its remains would be in north-central Texas by tonight.

There was little threat of appreciable flooding, the Weather Bureau said, although locally heavy showers were likely near the center of the storm and in east Texas.

The bulletin said winds and seas along the Louisiana and Texas coasts would subside today, but warned small craft to remain in port.

Bertha emerged from infancy and grew into a full-blown hurricane for a brief period yesterday as it rumbled in from the Gulf of Mexico. The southwest Louisiana coast, where hurricane Audrey claimed more than 500 lives in late June, was evacuated in the face of swelling tides and buffeting winds.

Heavy rains and locally strong winds were predicted for the east Texas area as Bertha moved out of the gulf last night. The advisory said the storm would weaken progressively as it moved inland.

The area around Cameron, La., devastated when Audrey hit June 27, felt winds of 65 miles an hour, but most of the hardy coastal residents had fled at Bertha's first wanings to Red Cross refuge centers in Lake Charles.

Tides of five feet, about four feet above normal, washed the Louisiana coast, but diminished today with the heavy seas also subsiding along the Texas coastline.

2 Evils Threaten America, Says Hoover, 83 Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover, 83 today, sees two clouds on the horizon — "the cloud of possible war and the cloud of possible inflation."

★ ★ ★

He refused to prophesy on either at a news conference yesterday in his hotel suite.

Puffing at a pipe which went out twice in the half-hour interview, Hoover appeared hale and hearty. Reporters who have seen him frequently since he left the White House almost 25 years ago said they had not seen him looking so well in many years.

On war, Hoover said "the West has grown definitely stronger, but military values are changing. You can evaluate ground armies and navies, but you can't evaluate where nuclear weapons are concerned.

"Especially when we know nothing about our major enemy and that's Russia," he added.

Hoover said he views the current spurt of inflation as "very dangerous." But he commented: "The administration, the federal reserve and various financial agencies of the government are unquestionably bringing the thing to check."

Hoover said his greatest hope for the world was for peace . . . "everything that makes for peace is the overriding need right now."

The man who was president from 1929 to 1933 termed juvenile delinquency a "monstrous growth."

RAMPANT GROWTH

He said teenage crime is increasing faster than the teenagers themselves, with juveniles stealing 66 per cent of the stolen cars, committing more than 53 per cent of the burglaries, 24 per cent of the robberies, over 50 per cent of the larcenies and over 16 per cent of the rapes.

★ ★ ★

He blamed slums, broken homes, lack of moral and religious training, "and the constant romance of crime by the opinion making media."

Hoover said he still rises at 6:30 for breakfast and works from 7:30 to lunch. "I rest after lunch because that's the doctor's orders," he explained. His health, he said, is "fundamentally good."

He refused to comment on national politics and was a bit huffy when newsmen asked his ideas on the threatened 1958 battle for the Republican nomination for governor of California between Gov. Goodwin J. Knight and Sen. William F. Knowland. The latter has said he won't run for the Senate in '58 and many California Republicans think he'll try to unseat Knight as a step toward the presidency in 1960.

★ ★ ★

"I'm not going down that road," Hoover snapped. "You go down that road and you wind up in a mud hole." He did not elaborate.

Union Probers Summon Doria

Former Labor Official Will Be Quizzed About Dealing With Dio

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man who allegedly brought racketeer Johnny Dio into the labor movement has been ordered to appear Monday before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

The committee announced it has served a subpoena commanding Anthony Doria to appear for questioning about his conduct as secretary-treasurer of the old AFL Auto Workers Union, now renamed the Allied Industrial Workers (AIW). Doria has been ousted from his post with the AIW.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said he also intends to ask Doria about testimony that the AIW agreed to pay Doria $80,000 and buy him a big automobile in return for his resignation.

Earl Heaton, the AIW's retiring president, testified yesterday the union agreed to pay $80,000 to Doria to get rid of him. Doria was involved in welfare fund scandals.

Heaton said Doria has received $25,000 and a car but that Doria is suing to collect on union notes for the balance of the $80,000.

Doria sent word he intends to answer any questions the committee asks. Two days ago, Dio invoked the Fifth Amendment 140 times in refusing to answer committee questions, which included some about his alleged relationship with Doria.

★ ★ ★

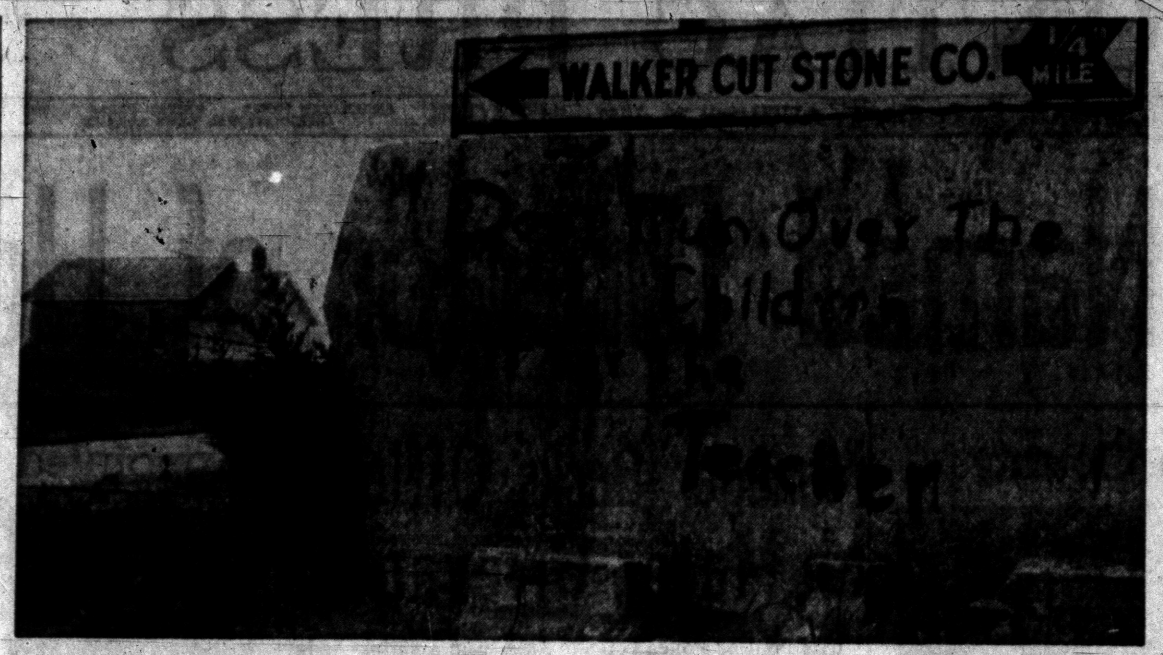

The committee is exploring particularly for evidence McClellan says will show that Dio and James R. Hoffa, Midwest Teamsters Union boss, entered into a corrupt alliance. McClellan says Hoffa hoped to use this alleged tie-up to gain new labor power and that Dio sought to fatten his income through racketeering.

Girl Runs Into Path of Car, Breaks Leg

A 17-year-old girl was injured yesterday evening when she ran in front of a car on Oakland avenue at Saginaw street.

According to witnesses, Wanda Flener, of 5240 Williams Lake Rd., Waterford Township, ran in front of a car driven by Richard J. Charboneau, 29, of 2799 Shimmons Rd., Pontiac Township.

She was taken to Pontiac General Hospital and treated for a fractured right leg.

TEACHING CAN BE THRILLING — Youngsters attending the little one-room schoolhouse near Junction City, Kans., have learned about safety as well as reading and writing, as the above sign proves. Exposed as Source of Confidential Scandal

Ex-Mrs. Cabot Stars at Trial

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Francesca de Scaffa, ex-wife of actor Bruce Cabot, stole the show at the Confidential trial yesterday — even though she wasn't there—when the magazine's former editor testified the beauty promised to have an "affair with any man" to dig up Hollywood scandal.

Howard Rushmore, a star witness for the state, said Miss de Scaffa told him and Confidential publisher Robert Harrison that she had "access to practically every home in Hollywood and an almost unlimited circle of friends and knew all their secrets."

He said Miss de Scaffa, named as one of the magazine's prime sources of information, promised to dig up scandal for the magazines "even if I have to have an affair with any man involved."

She is reported to be "in hiding" in Mexico City.

Rushmore, looking like a grim edition of comedian Slim Summerville, also told a jam-packed courtroom that he intended to injure subjects of stories he wrote for Confidential and Whisper.

★ ★ ★

"Do you mean," demanded defense attorney Arthur Crowley, "that you intended to injure the subjects of these stories?"

Rushmore replied flatly:

"I certainly did!"

NOT CLEARED UP

However, Judge Herbert Walker hastily adjourned the court session until 9:30 a.m. (PDT) Monday before Rushmore could explain whether or not he was referring to Communists or Hollywood personalities.

★ ★ ★

The black-browed judge said he called the recess 30 minutes early to allow time for attorneys to prepare "extensive arguments" over whether Rushmore's testimony is admissible as evidence.

At the end of yesterday's session, Deputy District Attorney William Ritzi said it is "highly likely" that movietown party girl Ronnie Quillan, will be the state next star witness.

"But," he added, "I imagine Rushmore will be on the stand for quite a while yet."

Rushmore, who once belonged to the Communist Party and edited the Daily Worker before breaking with the Reds, also said he contacted several prominent Hollywood news reporters as potential scandal writers but said most of them turned him down.

SIZZLING STORY

He revealed that he personally wrote the sizzling story "When a Cop Tried to Blackmail Marilyn Monroe" that later resulted in lurid "wrong door raid" headlines involving Joe DiMaggio and Frank Sinatra.

He said Los Angeles private eye Barney Ruditsky was paid $500 for the story and that Ruditsky also was paid $500 each for subsequent yarns involving past clients.

The former Confidential editor who quit the magazine in 1955 following an argument with publisher Harrison, added that he also wrote such hot exposes as "Batista's Eight Million Dollar Divorce," John D. Rockefeller's Secret for Long Life," and "Richard Carlson's Undercover Maneuver in a Cafe Booth."

Earlier in the day, Judge Walker refused to quash a defense subpoena for youthful actor Tab Hunter, whose attorney argued that the young blond star's appearance in court was "immaterial" to the case.

★ ★ ★

Horse Show Set on Last 4-H Day

County 4-H members are expected to enter more than 130 horses for judging today, the last day of the five-day 17th Annual Oakland County 4-H Club Fair held at the North Perry street and Walton boulevard fairgrounds.

Following the horse judging, expected to continue into the afternoon, approximately 1,500 county girls and boys will begin to pack up and haul away the thousands of exhibits, projects and animals they entered in the annual festival.

Total crowds attending the fair mounted over the 13,000 mark yesterday, the fourth day.

QUEEN WINS

Fair Queen Sharon Brodie, 15, of Birmingham and a team of three other 4-H members representing South Oakland, outwitted four northern county boys and girls in a 4-H quiz down last night.

Her team, consisting of Ralph Hoxie, Bloomfield 4-H Club, Birmingham, Mike Coe and Karen Wahamaka, Teen H-ers 4-H Club, Clarkston, won by a score of 95 to 90 of the total 100 possible points.

Representatives from the north were Larry Scramlin and Donna Ruggles, both of the Oak Hill 4-H Club, Holly and Lola Johnson and Paul Walker, both of the Sashabaw 4-H Club, Clarkston.

Glen Marble, 17, of the Think and Do 4-H Club, Milford, took top position in both the plowing and tractor operating contest.

In the beef showmanship judgings Fritz Lutz, 17, of the East Orion 4-H Club, Lake Orion, won the senior showmanship award and Stephen Smith, 13, of the Nu-Ly-Wix 4-H Club, South Lyon, captured the junior title in beef showmanship.

CHAMPIONS NAMED

Lutz's cattle were also named grand champions over all breeds. He had the Grand Champion Angus steer, and heifer.

Other grand champion winners in the steer beef category were: Ardis Storm, 12, short horn and Rita Spezia, 14; both of the East Orion 4-H Club, Lake Orion. Heifer grand champion winners were owned by Jim Anderson, 12, of East Orion 4-H Club, Lake Orion and Richard Mitchell, 18, of Ny-Ly-Wix 4-H Club, South Lyons.

The only rabbit award went to Joan Essenberg, 13, of Clinton Valley 4-H Club, Rochester. Floyd Upthegrove, 12, of East Orion 4-H Club, Lake Orion, received the highest award for swine showmanship and David Terry, 12, of Galloway Lake 4-H Club, Pontiac, won swine breed champion and took first place for his Yorkshire breed. Gloria Sanders, 16, of Clinton Valley 4-H Club, Rochester, was the winner of the goat contest.

Sheep winners include: Paulette Lorenz, of the Troy Live Wires 4-H Club, Troy, champion male and Lyle McLauchlan, East Orion 4-H Club, Lake Orion, champion female, both Oxford breed. Grand champion Hampshire male and female sheep were owned by Sally Taylor, Seymour Lake 4-H Club, Clarkston. Bud Williamson, of the Junior Homemakers 4-H Club, Waterford, won both male and female grand championships in the Southdown sheep classification.

Grand Champion male and female Corriedale sheep were owned by Charles Bennett, of the Rolling Acres 4-H Club, Milford. Donald Boyd, also of Rolling Acres, won grand championships in the male and female classes of Cheviot sheep.

★ ★ ★

Highest honors in the Shopshire sheep were awarded to Donald Campbell, Rolling Acres 4-H Club, Milford, male and grand champion and Michael Wixon, also of Rolling Acres, female grand champion. Robert Bormard, of the Troy Livestock 4-H Club, Troy, won both male and female grand championships in the Suffolks sheep classification.

★ ★ ★

Showmanship winners in sheep were Bud Williamson, Junior Homemakers 4-H Club, Waterford, junior division and Beverly Sanders, Clinton Valley 4-H Club, Rochester, senior division.

All of the above showmanship and grand champion winners are now eligible to enter the 4-H State Show held at Michigan State University August 27-31.

AFL-CIO Drops Miami in Favor of Atlantic City

DETROIT (INS)—The AFL-CIO began making plans today to hold its convention this winter in Atlantic City, N. J., instead of the originally proposed Miami Beach site.

★ ★ ★

No explanation for the sudden change in places for the Dec. 4-10 meeting was given. However, Thomas Smith, head of the Miami Beach Convention Bureau, said union sources had expected the move for some time.

★ ★ ★

Smith hinted the move was made to counteract recent exposes of mismanagement of union funds. Fear reportedly has been expressed that the rank-and-file members of the union might frown on officials meeting in sunny Florida as they plod to work during the cold Northern winter.

★ ★ ★

Another reason for the change in sites was believed to be the resentment still burning among hotel and restaurant workers over the prolonged strike not so long ago at Miami Beach hotels.

Formosa Honors Dead

TAIPEI (AP)—Memorial services were held on Formosa today for the millions of people said to have been killed by the Chinese Communists since they overran China in 1949. Chinese Nationalists put the number killed at 19,278,000.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Is the old saying — the higher the clouds the finer the weather—based upon any scientific knowledge or is it purely folklore and superstition?

This old belief actually has a scientific foundation, since clouds form when air is cooled and moisture particles become visible in rising, cooling air, with constantly lessening moisture capacity. Therefore, high clouds are a good sign.

This is mainly true in the summer . . . when cumulous clouds usually form every day. If there is a great amount of moisture in the air, the rising air forms clouds quickly.

Therefore, if you see low white cumulous puffs quite early on a summer morning, look for rain during the day.

If the clouds form high, or late, or both, that is an indication that the atmosphere contains relatively litle moisture, and rain will probably not occur during the day.

Child Held Hostage During Gun Battle

ceeds of a $400 holdup at a grocery store late Thursday.

In fleeing from the grocery the robbers shot and seriously wounded Louisville Patrolman Harris Lillie, 44. Then they took over the farm residence of Homer Fenstemaker and his family — six persons in all.

As they drove up, one man jerked the door open and ordered, "sit down and be quiet."

It was just over 24 hours later when the surrender came. All the while the men listened to radio reports, apparently worried whether Lillie was going to die.

★ ★ ★

The hostages were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Fenstemaker and three children — Connie, Dale, 12, and Russell, plus Russell's daughter Peggy Lou.

★ ★ ★

Roadblocks had been set up throughout northern Ohio and a manhunt organized to capture the fleeing bandits, later identified as William Rhodes, 25, of Anderson, Ind., Robert L. Kline, 25, of Phoenix, Ariz., and Walter J. Miller, 28, of Los Angeles.

A public hearing on three of the officers will be held Wednesday by the commission. The fourth promotion has already been ruled void by the city attorney.

Willman added that his decisions in no way reflect on the integrity of the police department and its administration. He "freely offered" to work with the Civil Service Commission in streamlining and smoothing out departmental operating procedures.

The Day in Birmingham

Schools Opening Aug. 19 for Registry, Conference

BIRMINGHAM—School Superintendent Dwight B. Ireland said today that offices in each new school would be open beginning Aug. 19, with principals available for registrations or conferences.

He added that, to complete the required number of school days, classes would start the day following Labor Day.

On Aug. 28, a coffee hour has been planned for 9:45 a.m. to welcome new teachers. Following this they will assemble in the little theater, where they will be greeted by the president of the Board of Education.

Dr. Ireland will speak on "Teaching in Birmingham; Privilege and Responsibility."

The American Assn. of University Women will entertain at a neon luncheon and a bus tour of the school district will complete the day.

Dr. Ireland added that all principals have reported for duty and that school offices are open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily.

New residents are asked to register children during August to avoid September 3 confusion.

An appeal also has been made to the public to notify school officials of apartments or single rooms which will be available to teachers next term.

Announcement was made this week that, with the new member of the Ford car family, the "Edsel," scheduled for appearance early next month, Jerry Robinson will handle the local agency.

Located at 408 South Woodward, former headquarters of the Sternal Auto supply, the new business will include display rooms and a complete service and repair department.

Robinson will head the firm with Donald Spikes as general manager; Richard Hogan, sales manager, and Robert Massey, service manager.

Mrs. Donald Brownlee has been named president of the Franklin Cemetery Assn. Auxiliary.

Mrs. William Brandenberg is vice president, Mrs. Kate Cook, secretary and Mrs. Kenneth Bristol, treasurer.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Leon Grogg and Mrs. Harold Grogg, ways and means; Mrs. Louis Henry and Mrs. Seba Bristol, sunshine; Mrs. Kenneth Green and Mrs. Russell Pickering, devotions; Ethel Bassett, house committee; Mrs. LeRoy Garside, publicity and Mrs. Herbert Masters, program.

East Maple Avenue, between Hunter Boulevard and Adams road has probably seen its last through traffic for about six weeks.

City Manager L. R. Gare said the break-up of existing pavement is ready to start, closing off the entire area. This phase of the program will include new curbing, relocation of service lines and sidewalks, as well as the wider street surfacing.

Gare said Park and Ferndale streets, between Oakland and Hamilton, will be next on the list.

Board Names Flath to Direct Hospital

Hospital, Charlotte, N. C. Flath went to the Queen's Hospital in Honolulu, Hawaii, in 1946, where he directed its expansion and redevelopment.

He returned to the United States in 1951 to conduct a similar program at Nassau Hospital in Long Island, N. Y.

SPEAKER, EDITOR

Flath has appeared regularly as speaker at regional and national professional meetings and has authored more than 50 articles and monographs for professional journals serving the field. He has served on editorial boards of leading hospital publications.

He received his B.A. degree at the University of Toronto, and has pursued graduate studies in special fields related to hospital administration at the University of Chicago, Yale, Penn State, Purdue and the University of Minnesota.

Flath is a fellow of the American College of Hospital Administrators and a member of the American Hospital Association.

He has served on numerous regional and national committees and commissions concerned with the improvement of hospital care and public health.

Flath and his wife, Grace, have three children. They are Mrs. John Schabacker, 25, the wife of retired Army captain Robert Schabacker, who lives in Tampa, Fla.; Mary M., 13, and a son, Sgt. C. Greg Flath 19, who is serving with the Third Armored Division in Germany.

"The prospect of returning to Michigan, where my family and I have such a wide and cordial acquaintanceship is a happy one to contemplate," Flath said.

★ ★ ★

Flath said that he plans to acquaint himself as quickly and comprehensively as possible with the operation of the hospital and will "institute whatever measures appear to be indicated to place PGH to its rightful place in the sun of confidence and respect of the public and hospital field."

Monthly Traffic Report Shows 'Typical' Victim

Have you ever thought of what a typical accident victim looks like? Few persons would consider any accident victim as "typical," but from traffic statistics for July compiled by the Pontiac Police Department, it is possible to outline such a person and the conditions under which he will be hurt.

WOMAN PASSENGER

Our typical victim is a woman, age 25 to 34, a passenger in an automobile of which the driver is either following another car too closely or fails to yield right of way.

The accident will occur between 3 and 4 p.m. on a Saturday in a shopping or business district, at an intersection.

The report from which this composite "victim" is taken shows that Pontiac suffered no fatal accidents in July, but there were 87 accidents during the month in which 69 persons were injured, 27 of them seriously.

This monthly report compared with 91 accidents in July, 1956 in which 51 persons were injured.

Through July this year there have been 697 accidents in which one person was killed and 391 injured, compared with 665 accidents for the same period of 1956 in which three persons were killed and 313 injured.

Group Backs Hoffa

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Executive Board of the 35,000-member Wisconsin Joint Conference of Teamsters yesterday announced approval of a resolution supporting James Hoffa for the presidency of the international union.

Dulles Claims U.S. Is Primary Concern

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says the State Department's aim is to look out for U.S. interests—"whether we make friends or not, I do not care."

★ ★ ★

And if a longterm U.S. loan causes friction in the future when a foreign country can't repay it, Dulles says, "that will be a problem for some other secretary of state, not me."

★ ★ ★

Dulles made these statements in closed-session argument with House Appropriations subcommittee members June 18 over the economic development loan fund proposed in the new foreign aid bill. Most of the proposed loans would be "soft," or repayable in local currencies rather than dollars.

Laurel Too Sick to Attend

Famed Film Comedian Oliver Hardy Buried

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The great and near-great of Hollywood's film industry paid final homage to Oliver Hardy yesterday but the famed comic's partner in more than 200 films, Stan Laurel, was unable to attend the funeral.

Ailing and grief stricken, 67-year-old Laurel was forbidden by his doctor to attend the last rites for the rotund Hardy who died Wednesday from effects of a severe paralytic stroke.

Laurel's wife, Mrs. Ida Laurel, mourned at the service with Hardy's widow, Mrs. Lucille Hardy.

Such screen stars as Adolphe Menjou, Wallace Ford, Andy Clyde, Jimmy Aubrey, Clyde Cook, Ed Dearing, G. G. Ligon and Glenn Cavender — all part of the era that brought fame to Laurel and Hardy a quarter of a century ago —attended the funeral.

The services were followed by cremation and private inurnment in Hollywood.

Promise Revealed in House Testimony

Chiang Pledges Not to Hit Reds

BY DON DIXON

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Nationalist Chinese government was disclosed today to have pledged in writing that it will not attack Red China's mainland without U. S. permission.

★ ★ ★

This was revealed with the publication of closed-door testimony by Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson before a House appropriations subcommittee.

Robertson also said that while the Chiang Kai-shek government would prefer U. S. support of a plan to recapture the mainland, most Chinese officials realize the administration is not in favor of such a move.

The State Department official, who testified in support of the administration's foreign aid request, said: "We have told them so over and over again."

★ ★ ★

Although Robertson did not say when the pledge from the Nationalists was given, it was presumably about the time the Formosan resolution was approved by Congress in the spring of 1955.

U.S. ON RECORD

That resolution, introduced by the administration at a time when the Communist Chinese threat against Formosa was at its highest peak, placed the U.S. on record pledging protection of the Nationalist island stronghold.

★ ★ ★

In exchange for free china's pledge of restraint, it was, reported that the U.S. privately informed Chiang Kai-shek that American forces in the area would come to his aid in event of an attack on the offshore islands.

However, President Eisenhower told a press conference in April that he had "never given any private assurance" to that effect.

Today's disclosure was the first official confirmation that there was "a written agreement with the Nationalist government that it will not take any offensive action against the mainland without our consent."

★ ★ ★

The 1,159 pages of hearings also disclosed that the U. S. may revamp its military support program to the Nationalist Chinese as a result of the demonstrations in Taipei last May in which U. S. Embassy and U. S. Information Agency offices were sacked by mobs.

TOO MANY YANKS

The riots flared after the acquittal of an American sergeant who was tried on charges of killing a Chinese civilian because he allegedly was a "peeping tom."

★ ★ ★

Robertson said that all who are familiar with the situation in Formosa agree that the 10,000 Americans living on the island constitute an oversized group and that some should be brought home.

He said that while the riot was a "shocking occurrance which cannot be taken lightly, the fundamentals of our relationship with the government of the Republic of China remain unchanged."

The assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs also confirmed what had been rumored in Washington at the time of the debate over the Formosa resolution.

He said that several of "our allies" tried to persuade the U. S. to give up Formosa because "you cannot get into a war over these offshore islands."

Robertson was one of dozens of witnesses, headed by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who appeared before the committee between April 2 and July 9 to back up President Eisenhower's request for foreign aid funds.

First House Move Is Due to Be Made Tuesday

Expect Early Break in Civil Rights Snarl

WASHINGTON (AP)—House leaders looked hopefully today for an early break in the logjam immobilizing civil rights legislation.

The first move is due to be made when the House reconvenes Tuesday. Rep. Keating (R-NY) announced he will move then to take the controversial bill off the speaker's desk and send it to conference with the Senate.

The main controversy revolves around a far-reaching jury trial amendment written by the Senate into a bill designed to protect voting rights. The House bill contains no such amendment. President Eisenhower opposes the jury trial amendment in the Senate bill on grounds it would endanger the power of federal courts to enforce their orders.

Keating said the bill ought to be sent to the House Rules Committee and cleared to conference immediately "so we can get on with it."

The Democrats had other ideas. They planned to try to bypass conference procedure and bring a compromise bill directly to the floor for a vote. The idea is to send the bill back to the Senate without a conference and thus eliminate the possibility of a lengthy deadlock.

While the confused parliamentary situation could snag the bill indefinitely, Rep. Celler (D-NY) predicted the jam would be broken—possibly quicker than anticipated.

"The situation is very confused," he conceded, "but I think the ice jam will break all right."

Backstage maneuvers, meanwhile, strengthened the belief that House Democrats expect the Senate to go along with a proposed compromise solution limiting jury trial guarantees to voting right cases only.

Both Senate and House bills would empower the attorney general to seek federal court injunctions to halt violations or threatened violations of voting rights. Anyone violating such an injunction could be prosecuted for contempt of court. The Senate wrote in a requirement that a person charged with criminal contempt can demand a jury trial.

Under the Senate amendment, the jury trial guarantee would cover not only voting rights cases, but a wide range of other federal cases in which judges now try violators of court injunctions without juries.

Strategy conferences yesterday included a meeting between Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Celler, author of a possible compromise on the jury trial issue.

The Celler compromise would confine authority for criminal contempt jury trials to cases involving only voting rights, and not extending into other areas of law.

It also would apply only to federal district courts, and not to the Courts of Appeals or the Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

This Celler proposal, while only partially satisfactory to Southern foes of civil rights legislation in any form, was designed to meet specific objections of the Eisenhower administration.

Americans Kept Out of Jap A-Test Area

TOKYO (AP) — American military personnel and their families were barred this weekend from a Japanese beach resort where antinuclear bomb demonstrations are scheduled.

U. S. military authorities ordered the ban in cooperation with Japanese officials.

An Army statement said, "No specific reason was given for the action taken other than as part of the program of maximum cooperation with local officials and to avoid embarrassing incidents."

The statement noted without comment that Japanese labor unions plan the demonstrations on the big Kamakura beach to publicize the antinuclear weapon convention now under way in Tokyo.

Kamakura beach, 30 miles south of Tokyo, was declared in "condition green," meaning no American military personnel or civilian employes or their families may enter. Up to a half million bathers normally swarm to Kamakura on hot weekends.

It Seems to Me . . .

Police Hassle Still Unsolved

Pontiac seems to be "marking time" in this police situation.

Most people think it's a bit of a mess and take a dim view of letting the thing fade away.

Let's face the issues.

★ ★ ★

Very often, hasty remarks lead to exaggerated statements and this is a human tendency the entire countryside is willing to forgive and forget. But there are factors in this police puzzle which should be resolved. Even though the seas subside, there could be breakers in the future and this is a good time to look the facts in the face.

★ ★ ★

The police are under civil service. Is this wisely drawn?

Is it wisely administered?

★ ★ ★

It appeared during one portion of the current imbroglio that the Chief of Police lacked the power to "hire and fire." If this be true, it should be corrected. A police chief cannot function capably if he lacks certain absolute rights. It's possible for anyone to make a mistake, including police chiefs and the Trial Board is designed to cover situations precisely like that.

But it can't run the police force.

The voters never intended that it should.

Rather, it occupies the position of a safety valve. It guarantees that the men will not be abused or become the victims of discrimination. However, this doesn't include everyday discipline or discharging incompetents.

No one ever contemplated a steady series of rushes to the Trial Board by disgruntled officers. The Trial Board hasn't the time nor the inclination to consider routine matters.

That's the duty of the Chief.

★ ★ ★

The Trial Board is now studying the duties of similar organizations in other cities. When this is completed, the Board will report. In the meantime, all concerned should await the next step, and there should be a next step.

The situation can't go by default.

Chief HERBERT W. STRALEY is a skilled and competent administrator. If his handling of the men in some circumstances is in conflict with the interests of the citizens, then the Trial Board should study the situation.

But the Chief must be the Chief. That's what he's for. That's why he gets the title.

★ ★ ★

An early clarification of the whole situation will serve a constructive purpose. Let's define the duties of all concerned. Let's know where everyone stands.

Civil Rights

This country has witnessed a stirring fight in Washington on the civil rights bill. At times, it has been bitter and uncompromising and now the Senate has weakened the measure to conform to the desires of the Southern Democrats.

They have been aided by a few recalcitrant Republicans, but always and forever, anything pertaining to black and white finds the Southern Democrats leading the battle for "white supremecy."

They challenge the Supreme Court. Integration remains a theory.

★ ★ ★

And yet, in spite of holding the colored people down, the nation witnesses a huge block of Negroes voting Democratic.

How come?

How do the Dems do it?

★ ★ ★

It would seem as though the Republican party should walk away with an unquestioned majority in all precincts that have large colored registrations. I wish some understanding Democrat would explain how his party leads the way in opposing black-white equality and yet talks the same people into supporting the Democratic standard at the polls.

★ ★ ★

For decades and decades, those overwhelmingly Democratic Southern states refused to let the Negroes vote at all.

In the North, the colored people know exactly what transpired in the South, and yet they "vote Democratic" in a percentage that is astounding.

★ ★ ★

By fighting hard for this civil rights bill, the GOP has shown the colored voters the way the wind is blowing. The current battle may be lost, but the Negroes have made the biggest advances they've ever made in the U.S. Congress.

And the Republicans led the fight.

'Peace' Move

Fortune magazine accepts the current Russian desire for peace as the real McCoy. It believes that the Reds want to ease off in the arms race.

Of course, no Communist motive ever springs from decency or kindness. The Reds haven't suddenly accepted God or become remotely honorable people.

★ ★ ★

According to the monthly magazine, they're in need of more employes in industry and on the farms. These programs are lagging. Hence, their desire to reduce the number of men bearing arms is predicated on their intent to switch soldiers to the fields and factories.

This country should look upon any sort of "peace" moves with suspicion, but they shouldn't necessarily be discounted because of the Russian plans.

★ ★ ★

Personal observation at close quarters has convinced some very astute American newspapermen that KHRUSHCHEV is essentially a "small" man in intellect and in general stature. His ability is far, far from the requirements of the position.

★ ★ ★

Russia is not in strong hands.

Her leaders are weak.

She's like a huge ship with inadequate supervision, careening uncertainly in a narrow channel. She may not hit anything intentionally, but still she may hit something through sheer impotence.

No one looks for any man-sized disarmament now. When Russia's internal problems are satisfactorily adjusted, she'll resume the "arms race" by fair means or foul. A current breathing spell would be welcome, but don't bank on anything decent, honorable or praiseworthy from the gutter pups of Asia.

The POWER of FAITH — by Howard Brodie

Michelangelo, called the Titan because of his tremendous achievements—not only was he preeminent as a painter and sculptor but also he was an architect, poet and military engineer—once wrote: "Nor have I, prompt for use, the needful power—my life, love, manners and my lot to change, without thy aid, enlightening and divine, Oh Lord."

Days of All Faiths:

St. Anastasia Relieves Upheaval

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

St. Anastasia herself is not much remembered or honored in these times, but when she was alive 1,100 years ago she had a hand, and apparently an important one, in the settling of an upheaval that tore the Christian Church apart for more than a century.

This great disturbance was called the iconoclastic controversy, which means a controversy about pictures and images in the churches. All of a sudden, in 725, the Emperor Leo outlawed images (icons, in Greek) after the Church had gone on taking them for granted for centuries.

A terrific outcry went up immediately. Icons were dear to the people and valuable to the Church's devotions. Their abolition would shake the foundations of Christian practice.

Nevertheless, Leo, and his successors in office for the next 115 years, went ahead with a program aimed at smashing every holy picture and statue they could find. Iconoclasm means "icon smashing." Resistance, of course, was strong, especially among monks. Many were persecuted and some even put to death in the struggle between Emperor and Church.

EACH HAD A CASE

There was a good deal to be said on both sides. Leo and the emperors who followed him were easterners, based in Constantinople, where Mohammedan influence was strong.

To the Mohammedans, as to the Jews, any picture or statue was an abomination, a violation of the commandment against making any graven image. The emperors were conscientiously convinced that icons were an obstacle to the conversion of Jews and Moslems.

The Church and the rank and file of her people, on the other hand, were used to the icons and found them a great help to piety. They did not worship the icons, any more than you and I give our love to the photograph of someone dear to us.

But the icons were, as we would put it today, important "visual aids" to worship, and the people could not lightly give them up. In this stand the Church supported the people. She called iconoclasm a heresy.

And so it went until 843, when two women got together and put an end to the argument. One of the women was Theodora the Empress, the other was St. Anastasia.

Anastasia was a Greek woman who had started obscurely enough as a quiet housewife. Married first to an army officer who was killed in battle, she married a second time and soon found both she and her new husband were primarily interested in the religious life. By mutual agreement they separated —he to become a monk, she to found and head a convent.

From that point on Anastasia's obscurity changed to the greatest prominence. Her reputation for wisdom and goodness spread and reached its peak when she was called to Constantinople to be adviser to Theodora. There she remained for seven years.

Does taking two aspirins three times a day help to eat or dissolve fat in arteries? (H. J. W.)

Answer — That's absurd! Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet CVD about heart and artery trouble.

Are aged steaks any better than ordinary steaks, except perhaps in tenderness? (A. S. C.)

Answer—No. Choicest steak, in my opinion, is a very thin round steak, fried, and served with hashed thoroughly browned potato. For one such steak, I'd give all the fancy cuts you can get out of a critter.

Friend informs me that you recommend cinnamon oil for removing warts . . . . (P. B.)

Answer—I do not. I recommend excision under local anesthesia, fulguration (electric sparking), electro-desiccation, electrolysis, iodine, salicylated collodin (corn remedy), castor oil or flicking some of grandmother's pork and burying it in a graveyard at midnight. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet Cosmetic Blemishes.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Compliments Promote Good Will

Sister Benita shows how effectively modern teachers can combine practical psychology with moral principles. Over 80 of her pupils have completed the famous "Compliment Club" project and I have signed their official diplomas. You can also combine the "Golden Pen" project with theme writing in English classes.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-360: Sister M. Benita, O. S. B., is a very beloved teacher in the Catholic school at St. Marys, Pennsylvania.

DR. CRANE

And I used that adjective "beloved" advisedly, for although I haven't met Sister Benita personally, I have corresponded with her.

But what is more important, over 80 of her pupils have already joined the "Compliment Club".

I have personally signed the diplomas for these 80 youngsters, and I hope you realize what that diploma indicates.

It means those girls have paid three compliments per day for 30 consecutive days without a break.

They have meanwhile written down the names of the people whom they have praised and have then composed a little essay on the changes they have noted in their own personalities, as well as in their greater number of friends, that result from such membership.

Thousands of you readers, as well as former students of mine at Northwestern University and in various Sunday school classes, have also started out upon the "Compliment Club" experiment.

★ ★ ★

But most of you fall by the wayside. Although it may seem easy to pay a bit of praise to three different people every day for 30 consecutive days, just try it:

ABOUT 90 PER CENT FAIL

It is my guess that 90 per cent of those who start, fail to finish the 30-day experiment.

They do very well for the first week or 10 days. But about the 15th to 17th days, they forget and break their chain of consecutive days with three compliments paid to their companions.

So these 80 pupils of Sister Benita deserve unusual commendation. And Sister Benita herself is setting such a superlative example that I wish to call attention of all other teachers to her excellent combination of practical modern psychology with Christian ethics.

Jesus told us to apply the Golden Rule. That means, among other things, that we should verbalize our thanks and appreciation.

★ ★ ★

We should praise our friends for their virtues and good deeds, instead of taking them for granted.

We should express gratitude to our parents, as well as our brothers and sisters.

"A compliment a day keeps divorce far away," is also a practical rule for married couples.

Compliments thus reduce a great deal of quarreling among children in their homes, as well as on the school playgrounds.

CHRISTIAN PSYCHOLOGY

Sister Benita thus taught her students to pay closer attention to the social hungers of their companions.

And she has now stimulated the good habit of having those children state their thanks and appreciation in words.

"Man shall not live by bread alone," Jesus stated, and the greatest unsatisfied hunger of modern Americans is for appreciation; not for bread or meat and potatoes.

Too many cultured parents nowadays furnish plenty of groceries for their children but starve those same youngsters for love and its expression in the form of compliments.

Other teachers can profitably follow Sister Benita's example and also combine the "League of the Golden Pen" project with English theme writing. Let the pupils write "Golden Pen" letters as classroom assignments.

★ ★ ★

For further advice about this subject, send for the "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c (non-profit).

It contains a section on the "Golden Pen" experiment, too. Both make ideal school and church projects.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Readers Reply to Letter About City Zoning Policy

Mr. Blackwood's recent letter criticizing zoning policy intrigues me. He accuses the Plan Commission and City Commission of placing business ahead of homes.

Have you recently had a change of heart, Mr. Blackwood? The facts you testified to in the recent Grand Trunk trial do not imply that. Or perhaps your sympathies lie only in one direction.

However, I doubt West Huron residents will mind too much a nice, shiny super gas station or two, since welfare shacks, a city dump, a trailer camp and a proposed switch yard only increase the value of residential properties in the north end area.

Progress must go on, as we are so often reminded, and always a few must be hurt for the benefit of many. We still are convinced there are other locations for the switchyard which will affect fewer people.

Mrs. George W. Gray

Come, come, Mr. Blackwood. The situation on the west side can't really be so bad the whole zoning principle should be abandoned. Remember when you said, "Progress must go on," so very patriotically? Did you mean only if it didn't bother your own property valuation?

It's different now when west siders' rights are being walked on, but when we north siders protested the switch yard at our doors, we received sneers from those who lived across town. Many pleaded their cases, but we got little consideration.

All Pontiac has the same civic authorities, but if you expect them to sit in one case of residential rights and to stand in another, both involving the same principles, they should, as long as they are already standing, start walking—right out of town.

Franklin M. Williams
68 W. Colgate Ave.

★ ★ ★

The shoe is on the other foot now that west side residents are the ones that have a possible rezoning to contend with. Are you the same Mr. Blackwood who thought the switch yard in the north side would be an improvements? If so, stick to your guns.

Two Send Letters About Courthouse

Oakland County has been striving to get a new courthouse. If the taxpayers, supervisors, etc. would look into the way county money is being spent, we might have the courthouse sooner. An examination of the work and time put in by county employes might prove beneficial. We should get what we pay for.

Mrs. L. H. Davis

The judge's opinion that the courthouse site can be sold seems to be based on the idea that as long as other authorities have committed violations of trust, the Board of Supervisors can do the same.

I would like to know why a fund wasn't set aside over the years to pay for the new courthouse. It's been known for 20 years we would need one.

'Why Put It Off Until Too Late?'

Why put a traffic light on the corner after someone has been killed? Why don't lawmakers approve more money for mental hospitals and professional help now? Sending people who need help to overcrowded prisons is not the solution.

A society in which indecent stories and foul language seems to be commonplace helps to aggravate symptoms of those with even slight abnormal tendencies. The next victim may be a neighbor, a friend or loved one. Why wait until someone is killed? See that these mentally sick persons can be helped before they commit a crime.

If we were asking money for foreign aid there would be little question, but ask it for members of our own society, for mental hospitals and professional help and it's a different story entirely.

Cites Example of Teen Dances

The Westacres Women's Club has sponsored weekly dances with live orchestra and guest entertainers for two summers. They sell refreshments, provide chaperones and get the use of the club house each week. Each dance has a teenage chairman and committee to set the theme, make posters, decorate, etc. Admission is 50 cents. Kids are there from as far away as Farmington, Birmingham and Lake Orion.

We've talked to 13 "civic-minded" organizations in other communities, and we've gotten replies like "too busy," "our kids are too busy" or "there must be a catch to it." What's wrong with such organizations.

Won't they take this opportunity to look into this set-up? Their kids will appreciate the effort. We'll welcome other groups to look in at Westacres. The dancers are the busiest and happiest kids in Oakland County.

State Schools Get U.S. Cash

Public Health Service Okays $26 Million for Research Grants

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service today announced approval of grants of $26,501,643 for expansion of health research facilities.

The program, as authorized by Congress, is to receive 30 million dollars a year for three years "to assist in the construction of facilities for research in medicine, dentistry, osteopathy, and public health and fundamental and applied sciences when related thereto."

Today's grants, for the second year of the program, include:

Michigan State University — building and equipment for biological research, $235,000.

University of Michigan — mental health research laboratory, $600,000; equipment for previous construction award for medical research, $3,390; equipment for previous construction award for research in school of public health, $57,570; alteration & renovation of medical research bldg., $57,013; remodeling present building and equipment for tissue culture research, $22,548.

Wayne State University—expansion of life science research center for research in microbiology and organic chemistry, $500,000.

U.S. to Fight Pine Moth in Western Michigan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Forest Service plans to spend $41,000 in fighting the European pine moth in Michigan, Reps. Ford and Griffin, Michigan Republicans, report.

Ford and Griffin are from the western part of the state, where the effects of the insect have been most devastating.

They said $25,000 will be used for research and about $16,000 for control.

Plan Button Control on '58 Cars

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — More makes with pushbutton controls, fuel injection systems and air suspension will reach the automobile market in 1958.

Along with power steering, power braking and automatic transmissions these are among the major postwar engineering advances in automobile design.

Credit for the introduction of pushbutton control, of course, goes mainly to Chrysler. It is fairly well understood that Ford's new Edsel model will have this advance with the buttons located in the center of the steering wheel.

Pushbutton control, of course, has been adapted mainly with automatic transmissions. Fuel injection was loudly proclaimed as the outstanding engineering advance for 1957 when Chevrolet announced it would be an option on its models.

However, the device was introduced with a high price tag and it was accepted on a somewhat limited scale this year. With additional makes offering it as an option next year industry sources expect a more substantial demand to develop and bring a lower installation charge.

Right now air suspension is being described as probably the outstanding engineering advance for 1958. But excepting for the higher priced, so-called "prestige" models, the cars offering it next year will have an extra cost tag on it.

The device, requiring an air storage tank and a leveling device, involves considerable mechanism, under the hood as well as at the point of suspension. How much extra it will cost as an optional item on cars in the medium price bracket is yet to be indicated.

Speculation among industry analysts is that air suspension will be offered as an option by Buick and Oldsmobile and some of the Ford cars in the same price area. That would include the forthcoming Edsel model.

The system is standard this year on Cadillac's Eldorado brougham, the industry's top priced car. There are guesses that it will also be included as standard equipment on the new "prestige" model Ford reportedly has designed at the top of its Lincoln line for 1958.

Chrysler which had outstanding success with its 1957 model engineering and styling is not making major engineering changes for 1957. Most trade sources expect it to continue favoring the independent springing it obtained with front-end torsion bar suspension.

Despite the announced intention of the industry to de-emphasize horsepower, several makes will have larger engines. These were in the making long before the industry called off the emphasis on power and speed.

Some more minor gadgets will be offered with the 1958 model cars. But if any producer has developed any other major engineering advance he is keeping it a closely guarded secret.

Months before the industry disclosed its ban on power and speed promotion it was learned several 1958 car engines would have higher power output and compression ratios than those currently in use.

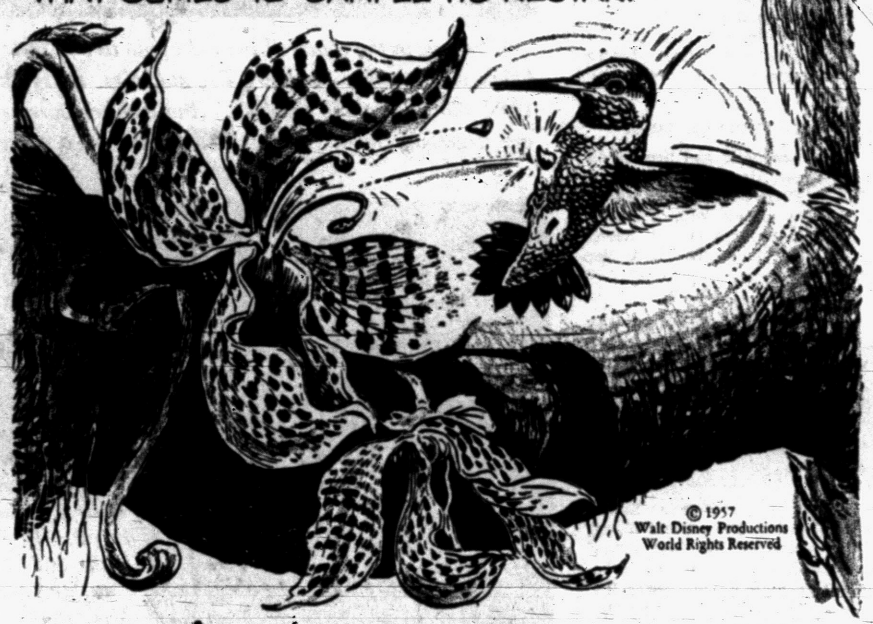

It has been taken for granted by many industry authorities that the introduction of higher quality fuel was in anticipation of further power and compression ratio increases.

There are several 300 and a couple of 325-horsepower engines in use now. Top compression ratio currently is 10.1 to 1. Top power output could go to better than 34.0 horsepower and the compression ratio maximum to 10.5 to 1.

Retirement and Pensions

Questions, Answers on Social Security

By RAY HENRY

From Mrs. G. O. of New York City: "On account of my health, I'm planning to go to Norway to live. I also plan to draw my Social Security payments over there. May I apply in Norway for the payments? If so, where"?

You may apply for Social Security payments in Norway at any United States counsular office.

From Mrs. L. K. of Mobridge, S. D.; "My husband is an engineer on the C. M. St. P. Railroad. He will retire in three years. I am a retired school teacher and by the time my husband retires, will be drawing Social Security. May I draw the full amount of both my own Social Security payments and payments from Railroad Retirement as a wife?"

No. Your payments as the wife of a railroad retiree must be reduced by the amount of your Social Security payments, then you can draw the difference plus your Social Security payments. If your Social Security payments are larger than what your payments would be as the wife of a railroad retiree, you get no Railroad Retirement payments.

From A.C.H. of St. Petersburg, Fla.: "I am a World War I veteran. I have a yearly income of $2,400, plus Social Security income of $936 a year. Am I eligible for a World War I pension with this amount of income?"

Chances are you're not, but I can't tell you for sure without knowing the sources of your $2,400 income. As you no doubt know, you're not eligible for a pension from the Veterans Administration unless you are considered totally and permanently disabled and have a yearly income of less than $1,400, if you have no dependents, or less than $2,700, if you have dependents.

The VA has its own rules as to what is considered income under these limits. I suggest you get in touch with the nearest VA office to see if the money you receive puts you over the pension income limits.

From B. V. of Pittsburgh, Pa.: "Last December, my daughter got a divorce from her husband. My wife and I plan to adopt the two small children which the court put in my daughter's custody when he granted the divorce. If we should adopt them, would they be eligible for Social Security survivors payments if I should die before they reach 18?"

Yes.

From F. T. of Emporia, Kan.: "My husband died several years ago at 58. I have never worked and now have a serious back condition which won't allow me to work. I'm 57. Is it possible for me to draw Social Security disability payments on my husband's record?"

No. Only the wage earner or self-employed person and disabled children of eligible wage earners may collect disability payments.

From J.S.R. of San Bernardino, Calif.: "I will be 65 in October. I'm told that I haven't worked under Social Security long enough to draw retirement payments at that time. Will I get back the money I paid into Social Security?"

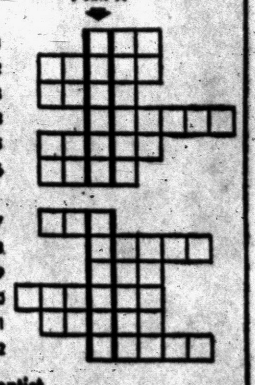

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Perle Mesta to Rough It in Style

WASHINGTON (INS) —"Call Me Madame", Perle Mesta, who used to delight staid Luxembourgers by her vigorous onslaught of trout streams in wading boots, is off this weekend for a taste of the luxurious wilds.

★ ★ ★

Ex-Prexy Truman's one-time diplomatic envoy will be visiting rival Washington hostess Marjorie Merrimeather Post at her plush mountain retreat in the Adirondacks.

★ ★ ★

The oil-steel heiress does not yet know whether the Post Toasties Heiress provides facilities for fishing. If so, she's as game as the fish.

Otherwise, although she's no chicken in point of years, the sexagenarian will spend two weeks riding horseback, swimming, and playing a mean game of canasta.

FILL VOID

The childless millionairess, who dotes on poodles, hopes that the fun-packed vacation will help fill the void created by the absence of Fifi, her white toy who is being bred this month to White Swan, the poodle that captured Madison Square Garden dog show honors last spring.

★ ★ ★

To prepare for the blessed event, Fifi was flown from the West Coast to Long Island, where she is currently in resplendant residence.

★ ★ ★

Perle, after the Adriondacks respite, will visit in Southampton—and perhaps in Newport while the first family Eisenhowers are there—before returning with Fifi to Washington.

PLANS LECTURE TOUR

As energetic and tireless as her good friend, Eleanor Roosevelt, Perle launches her winter lecture circuit with a travel talk in Chicago Oct. 2. Seven or eight others are also in the offing.

★ ★ ★

Madame Hesta reports that the Hollywood filming of her life story has, however, been indefinitely postponed "because 40,000 people saw the television version this spring."

Public tastes, it seems, are fickle.

First Lady Mamie Eisenhower chose the current Washing dog-days for her minor operation so that she could be in fine fettle for hostessing the Queen of England, come October.

★ ★ ★

It required courage to ask Elizabeth and Philip to bed down at the White House, since the next two heads of state due for official visits — the Sultan of Morocco and President Rene Coty of France — may mistakenly anticipate similar red carpet treatment.

The first British Monarch to visit America since her own mother and father came to the Rooseveltian White House 19 years ago, the youthful queen is unlikely to request the heated bricks which were installed — by official English request — in her mother's bed on one of the hottest June nights in Washington history.

★ ★ ★

The Roosevelts, determined to show the King and Queen authentic "Americana," had provided such after dinner entertainment in the White House East Room as hillbilly renditions of "Get Along, Little Dogie" and "Buffalo Gall."

HAD TO BE REVIVED

In the middle of the latter ordeal, her majesty became so "exhausted" that she had to be taken to the airless south portico to revive from the stifling heat of the then on-air-conditioned executive mansion.

★ ★ ★

A few days later, at a "picnic" on the grounds of the Roosevelt estate in Hyde Park, First Lady Eleanor served the now-famous hot dogs which set off a culinary tempest around the globe.

Not for 19 long years were the British able to "retaliate." Last month at Buckingham Palace, however, Queen Elizabeth II — with what must have been a tongue-in-cheek sense of fun — served the self-same kind of hot dogs to the startled members of the American Bar Association who had thought they were being asked to tea and crumpets.

Spadafore-Young Nuptials Read Today

Altar vases of white gladioli decorated St. Benedict Church at 11 a.m. today when Dorothy Jean Young became the bride of Frank P. Spadafore. Rev. John J. Hoar performed the ceremony before 400 witnesses.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Floye Lillian Young of Murphy avenue, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Domenic Spadafore of Lark drive, Watkins Lake.

IN SILK AND LACE

The bride's gown of white silk peau de soie was fashioned with a scoop decolletage which was appliqued with pearl-embroidered French Alencon lace. The lace also formed small cap sleeves.

A bouffant skirt fell from the deep V basque into a full chapel-length train and was accented with matching lace appliques which formed a garland encircling the skirt. A three-tiered fingertip veil was secured by a shell cap of peau de soie.

A chapel bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis and a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, completed the bride's costume.

★ ★ ★

Mary Jo Young served her sister as the maid of honor. Therese C. Spadafore, another sister of the bride; Helen Coyle, Sandra Johns, and Betty Jane Spadafore were the bridesmaids. Catherine Ann Bommarito was the flower maid.

The attendants wore crystal blue floor-length gowns of silk organza. Back interest on the gowns was a half butterfly bustle centered with a velvet rose, same shade as the gown. Picture hats of crystal blue matched the dresses.

★ ★ ★

The maid of honor carried a crescent bouquet of white edged with blue Fuji mums, while the bridesmaids carried cascade arrangements of white feathered Fuji mums. The flower girl wore a short dress of blue silk organza and matching hat. She carried a white basket trimmed with blue roses.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Best man was Frank J. Spadafore, a cousin of the bridegroom. Ronald M. Holland, Louis Sesti, James Puterbaugh of Lincoln Park and Ernest Karvelis of Vernon, Conn., were the ushers. Gary Mazza was the ring bearer.

A reception will be held this evening at Carpenter's Hall in Berkley.

Mrs. Young wore a dress of dusty rose silk organza and Alencon lace with matching hat, white accessories, and a pink orchid shoulder corsage. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Spadafore chose a pink linen sheath with inserts of Italian lace embroidered on marquisette with white accessories and carried a pink orchid on a white linen bag.

For a wedding trip to Florida the new Mrs. Spadafore will change to a two-piece ensemble of transition cotton in shades of beige, brown and black, with black patent accessories and the white orchids from her bridal bouquet.

★ ★ ★

The couple will live on Homestead drive.

MRS. FRANK P. SPADAFORE

St. Benedict Church was the setting for the wedding today of Dorothy Jean Young and Frank P. Spadafore. She is the daughter of Mrs. Floye L. Young, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Domenic Spadafore.

Reunion Planned at State Hospital

Pontiac State Hospital Nurses Club will sponsor a reunion for former employes, Aug. 17 beginning at 2 p. m.

General chairman of the event, which will be held on the hospital picnic grounds, is Mrs. Davy Gilpin. She is being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Vanderlind, registrations; Don Milbourn, David Duval and Duncan McVean, equipment, and Mrs. Oswald See, food.

Mrs. Clair Young and Mrs. Clarence Hickmont will handle publicity.

According to Mrs. Gilpin, the nurses club will attempt to re-establish annual reunions which began during the time Dr. Edward A. Christian was medical superintendent of the hospital. The gatherings were discontinued during the war years.

MRS. KENNETH SCIPIO ROGERS

To reside in Lafayette, Ind., are Martha Louise Bemis and Kenneth Scipio Rogers, who were married this afternoon in Christ Church Cranbrook. Martha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Bemis of Birmingham. Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rogers of Chalmers, Ind., are parents of the bridegroom.

Martha Bemis Becomes Bride of Kenneth Rogers

Martha Louise Bemis and Kenneth Scipio Rogers were married at 2:30 p.m. today in Christ Church Cranbrook. The Rev. William Norvell performed the ceremony.

Martha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Bemis of Birmingham. Kenneth's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rogers of Chalmers, Ind.

★ ★ ★

The bride wore a white lace dress with a full flared ballerina-length skirt, fitted bodice, scoop neck and three-quarter length sleeves. A hat of matching lace had beaded cording around the brim, and she carried a full bouquet of white roses, lilies-of-the-valley and English ivy.

Catherine Bemis of Birmingham was her maid of honor, and Berenice Smith of Kent, Ohio and Suzanne Jay of Indianapolis, Ind., were her bridesmaids.

★ ★ ★

All three were dressed alike in gowns of white nylon lace over deep blue-green taffeta, with sashes and narrow head bands of matching taffeta. Flared ballerina-length skirts, scoop necklines, and short sleeves were features of the gowns.

The attendants carried bouquets of dark red happiness roses, pink and white sweetheart roses and English ivy with white streamers.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

Serving as best man was Frank Sterner of Lafayette, Ind. Ushers were Monte Juillerat and George Byers, also of Lafayette.

★ ★ ★

For the reception at Christ Church Cranbrook dining hall, Mrs. Bemis chose a pink, gray and white printed voile dress with pink accessories and corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Rogers wore a light blue crepe dress and corsage of white Amazon lilies.

A powder blue linen dress with blue and white accessories was the bride's choice for traveling to New Hampshire. The newlyweds will reside in Lafayette, Ind.

★ ★ ★

Martha is a graduate of Kingswood School Cranbrook and Purdue University. The bridegroom was graduated from Purdue University and will continue graduate study for his master's degree there in the fall.

For Children

Are Books Too Virtuous?

PARIS (INS) — A noted New York psychoanalyst fears that children's books may become too virtuous.

★ ★ ★

In a report submitted in Paris to the 20th International Congress of Pychoanalysis, Mrs. Lili Peller said that tales of violence, besides frightening a child, sometimes bring relief. She said the child "discovers that he is not the only one in the world who harbors hatred and spite — emotions which are socially unacceptable.

INCREASE GUILT-FEELINGS

"Thus the recent well-meant endeavors to purge stories of all cruelties, of all mean feelings and of vengeance, may actually increase a child's guilt-feelings and the burden he carries unaided."

Mrs. Peller, originally from Vienna, has been studying the ways and the worlds of children for 35 years. A former schoolteacher and student of Freud, she now practices psychoanalysis in New York city.

UNIVERSAL DAYDREAM

Why is the story of Peter Rabbit such a steady favorite with children? Mrs. Peller said it's because the story is related to the child's daydream of "loss and return." She said a "universal daydream" is at the heat of all children's stories.

★ ★ ★

"Peek-a-boo," the child's first game, is an earlier representation of the fantasy of "loss and return." The infant, by crawling behind a chair or merely covering eyes with hands, can experience the excitement of being "lost", and at the same time know he'll soon experience the joy of reunion.

Two Are Feted at Stork Shower

Mrs. V. K. Mason and Mrs. Rex L. Parker were feted Friday evening at a pink and blue shower given by Mrs. T. L. Stickney in her Chippewa road home. Cohostess for the event was Mrs. James E. Dearing.

★ ★ ★

Among the guests were Mrs. Russell E. Grubbs Mrs. John J. Coyle Mrs. Paul R. Gardner, Mrs. James H. George, Mrs. Rudy H. Mazza, Mrs. Louis G. Grogan and Mrs. Richard S. Troxell.

★ ★ ★

Others were Mrs. William J. Mason, Mrs. Phillip J. Keith, Mrs. Robert Vaillancourt, Jean Sheridan, Mrs. Charles Visinore, Mrs. Carl J. Smith Jr., Mrs. John Clendenin, Rita Flicker, Mrs. Phillip Theisen, Mrs. Jay E. Ford and Frances Ford.

Board Meets

Central Volunteer Board met Thursday morning at the YWCA. Mrs. Raymond Meggett reported on requests for aid from the board. Mrs. William Shunck discussed fall methods of recruitment and new policies for motor aid volunteers were established. Central Volunteer is a bureau of United Fund.

Shower Honors Jackie Garbin

Jackie Garbin, bride-elect of Richard Bennett, was feted Thursday at a bridal shower given in the Keego Harbor home of Carole Malsom.

Among the guests were Mrs. Garbin, the bride's mother, Mrs. Donald Hoseney, Mrs. Wayne Brause, Eunice Collins, Mrs. Jack Malsom, Mrs. Bud Hewitt, Dona Kyle, Mrs. Lynn Rickel, Jane Chatterton, Mrs. Dorie Jenkins, Mrs. Henry Wessinger, Mrs. Ethel LaValley, Mrs. Louis Macklin and Mrs. Frank Pfeiffer.

The couple will be married Sept. 14 in First Presbyterian Church.

Rattle Is New

A new clothespin rattle, 4½ inches long and designed to fit comfortably in baby's hand, was inspired by the ordinary clothespin. It is molded of plastic, hand-decorated with attractive comic faces that are done in non-toxic color.

Slick Trick for Desk

An easy slick-up trick for your favorite scholar's battered desk is to give it a gay new rubber tile topping. Resilient rubber is easy to cut in any desired pattern. It's a perfect choice for junior's desk top as well as the floor in his room because ruber is easy to keep clean, resists dents and is an effective noise deadener. Sand top of desk before applying rubber tiles with rubber flooring adhesive.

Betty Offers Bouquet for Her Boss

By ANNE HEYWOOD

I get so many letters complaining about employers that it's a real red-letter day when I come across a bouquet for the boss.

★ ★ ★

Here is a letter, from Betty L., which is a tribute to a really grand employer.

YEARNED TO WRITE

"I'm secretary to the sales manager of a company," Betty writes, "but I've always wanted to have a job which involved some writing.

★ ★ ★

"When I spoke to my boss about it, he said it might work out that way, but that I'd have to stay put for quite a while and do a good secretarial job. So I've been doing just that — for about three years.

"The details of the secretarial stint were deadly dull and involved charts and statistical typing and all that kind of thing.

"I did my best," she continues, "but I had to take breaks, periodically, to relieve the monotony.

ALL THE GOSSIP

"So when the salesmen would return from their calls I used to chat with them. I soon knew all the gossip — whose wife was having a baby, who was studying painting on the side and so forth.

★ ★ ★

"One day my boss called me in and said I seemed to be an expert on office gossip. At first, I thought he was angry. So I explained that I couldn't face statistical charts all day long without a break and that I took time out to chat with the men.

"He grinned and said he was glad.

★ ★ ★

"Then he told me that the sales department was planning to start a little company paper, a newsletter to be mailed to the salesmen and their families all over the country.

"An assistant editor was needed to help put it out and he had recommended me for the job!

YOU'LL BE REWARDED

"He said that the fact that I knew the staff so well and that they all seemed to like me would help in gathering material. The rest of the job he thought I could learn, given time.

★ ★ ★

"I am so pleased and I can hardly believe it has happened!"

The moral is not that some bosses are good — we all know that some bosses are good.

The moral is that if you do your work the best you can, even when it's distasteful, you'll be rewarded — not just in heaven, but here and now!

'The Windows of the Soul'

Makeup Enhances Woman's Eyes

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

If you have no light in your eyes
Pull the lids down and forget this column.

★ ★ ★

Beautiful eyes can transform an otherwise plain face into one of fascination. A woman's eyes and mouth are her most expressive and dearly remembered features.

Even eyes which are not outstanding because of their shape, size or color can be immensely enhanced by clever grooming and makeup of brows and lashes.

I had a friend who was so attractive in personality that I never really thought about whether she was pretty or homely. BUT, one day she suddenly looked pretty.

I said, "You look wonderful! There is something different about you. You always look wonderful but you look different and even more wonderful." She laughed and said, "I have had my eyebrows dyed and am using some mascara."

She didn't have unusual eyes except that they always had a sparkle in them — and that's really better than makeup — but the pickup she had given her eyes made a great difference in the way she looked. I think this was due to the fact that eyes really are "the windows of the soul."

I do not mean to become syrupy, but the truth is that the expression in our eyes has more to do with the way we affect others than anything else, except maybe our laughter. Laughter is remembered much longer than tears.

Of course, if you have no expression in your eyes this is not for you — and I have not met anyone like you. If you have no light, no expression, then you might as well pull the lids down and forget this column.

★ ★ ★

BUT, if you have a glimmer you should use eye makeup. Here are a few tips:

The most usual fault in applying mascara is having the brush too wet and getting too much mascara on it. If you do either of these your lashes will look beaded and matted.

Use a very little water and then cover the bristles very lightly with mascara. Brush this on from roots to tips of the lashes. Go easy! You may have to repeat the process again.

Another tip — if your lashes grow in bunches, as many women's do, separate the lashes with a fine hairpin or tootnpick before applying the mascara.

You also can make your eyes look lovelier by drawing a very fine line with a very sharp eyebrow pencil at the base of the upper lashes.

Some experts say that with certain type eyes you should draw a line along the lower lid also. I disagree! I think this looks artificial and hard and ghoulish.

Play up your eyes but with subtlety!

You can make your eyes look lovelier by careful eye makeup. Don't, however, overdo. You will only look cheap and artificial.

Here's the Trick for Good Iced Tea

Want to know how to make good iced tea? Pre-measure ⅓ cup tea or 15 teabags. Bring 1 quart of freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from the heat and while the water is still bubbling, add the tea at one time. Stir.

Brew 5 minutes, uncovered. Stir and strain into pitcher holding an additional quart of Serve in ice-filled glasses Sherved in ice-filled glasses with sugar and lemon.

One Little Word---Oval---Sums Up Fall Silhouette

If there is one word to sum up the fall silhouette, and from all reports there is only one, that word is OVAL.

Seen in clothes for every time of day, it is at its effective best in party dresses where natural curves above the waist are left to themselves, and the exaggeration takes place only in the skirt.

This model by Herbert Sandheim for you to make from the exclusively designer - sized pattern is a perfect case in point. The bodice with its peek-a-boo neckline has a cross-over piece which is slightly on the bias.

★ ★ ★

The skirt, which curves out over the hips in front, has side pleats that taper into the knees in the accepted manner.

★ ★ ★

Choose fabrics that have a certain mobility to add to the suppleness of this look such as crepe, peau de soie, satin, faille, taffeta, brocade.

From this cahart select the one size best for you:

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
10	34	24	35	16⅛
12	35	25	36	16⅝
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17⅛
18	40	30	41	17⅜

Size 12 requires 2⅞ yards of 39-inch material for dress. To order Pattern 1320, state size, send $1. For new jumbo 96-page Pattern Booklet 14, send 50 cents — for Herbert Sondheim label, send 25 cents.

Neighbor Lets Query Hang in Air

Does Not Answer Friendly Question About Illness

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other day I met a neighbor of mine on the street and asked her how her family was. She told me that her husband was ill and when I asked her what was wrong with him, she completely ignored the question.

"I was quite embarrassed over this and have been wondering ever since whether I was wrong to ask the nature of his illness. I would appreciate your answering this question for me so that I won't make the same mistake again—if I did make one."

Answer: You didn't make a real one because it is the natural thing to say. To one you do not know intimately, the safest thing to say is "I hope it is nothing serious" and then she would tell you or not tell you, and if she doesn't you would not press the question further, but simply say that you hope he will be better soon.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My sister and her husband have separated after a brief marriage. Her mother-in-law is insisting that she return the wedding and engagement rings. She also claims a large portion of the wedding presents. Is my sister obliged to return the rings? Also, what about the wedding presents?"

Answer: Having actually been married, all of these gifts are hers to keep. Certainly they do not belong to her ex-mother-in-law.

If her husband asks her for the return of the wedding presents given by his family or friends, it would be no more than fair to let him have them—even though they were addressed to her and quite definitely belong to her.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct way for the bridesmaids and ushers to walk up the aisle in church? That is, is there a special step that they use? Someone told me that they use a hesitation step."

Answer: They use a slow walking step—on no account the hesitation.

Stuff With Cheese

Many top-notch cooks stuff celery with cheddar cheese, but have you tried it with cottage cheese. It's good by itself, but better sprinkled with paprika, and extra-special with a topping of caraway seeds.

Building Values Help in War on Delinquency

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) —Build a social sense of values in a child to prevent juvenile delinquency.

That is the recommendation of the California Juvenile Officers Association at its Oakland meeting to create an international body.

The "perfect prevention program — building good citizens" was outlined by Dr. Lois Higgins, director of the Crime Prevention Bureau of Illinois and Association speaker.

"Parents, know your children. Know where they are and what they are doing. Know their companions.

"In the home, concentrate on building a social sense of values in the child. In the school, be certain that the child's social education keeps pace with the rest of his education.

"In the community, maintain the influence of good adults throughout the child's recreational hours."

Pontiac Pastor Serves Omena

Young People Attending Senior High Conference at Greenville

Dr. and Mrs. William H. Marbach of the First Presbyterian Church are on vacation at Omena, where Dr. Marbach will again give pastoral service to the Presbyterian Church during the month of August.

At the two worship services tomorrow morning, the Rev. Galen E. Hershey, associate pastor, will preach on "The Yes and No of Christianity."

Royce Everett will sing Van de Water's "The Publican" at the early hour and at 11 o'clock he will be heard in "The Penitent."

The women's prayer group will meet Tuesday morning at 9:30 in the home of Mrs. Edna D. Covert, 111 Oneida Rd.

Attending Senior High Conference this week at Greenville are Al Brewer, Karen Burnworth, Sandra Hilderley and Linda Enderhill.

First Presbyterian is one of four teams in the play-off for the Church League Softball championship. The games begin at 6 p.m. Monday at J. C. Park.

Confident Living

Bible Throbs With Power and Vitality for All of Us

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I spoke to the cadets at the Naval Training Center at Pensacola, Fla., and found them — all 1,800 of them — a most challenging audience. I commented to that effect later, at dinner, to the wife of the commandant.

DR. PEALE

"I have heard every speaker who has come here during my husband's tour of duty," she said. "The speakers who really get through to the cadets all have certain qualities in common." She didn't tell me whether I was one of them or not. "The speakers who reach these men have enthusiasm, energy, a definite goal.

"They are speakers who enjoy life and are full of optimism and hope," she declared.

Of course, it is obvious why such qualities get through to the cadets. They are young, filled with life and the whole world lies fascinatingly before them. They are not interested in talk of dullness and depression. They don't go for negatives. Life, vital and dynamic, is what they want.

★ ★ ★

That is an important reason Christianity has held such a grip on people for almost 2,000 years. It deals with great subjects: The greatness of God, the sovereignty of God, the immortality of the human soul, and the infinite possibilities in personality.

But the most important thing it teaches is life — life here and life hereafter. The Bible is a book literally alive with life. It throbs with vitality and power.

GLORY IN EACH PAGE

How can any man preach from such a book and ever be dull, for there is the wonder and glory of life in each of its pages! When, with enthusiasm, a preacher tells people what is in the Bible, then preaching comes alive and men find new life.

How can people be sleepy and apathetic in the presence of this astonishing message of life? Yet some are.

★ ★ ★

A teacher in Alabama sent me a theme written by one of her students on the topic, "Going to Church." Here it is, spelling and all:

"Mos allus my mother, my daddy and me goes to church. Mos every time we all goes to sleep. So we knows nothing atall what the preacher says. We allus gets woke up when the preacher says amen. Then we all gets up and goes home."

Now, I ask you, how can any church be so dull? The church isn't a place to sleep, but a place to be awakened. There are simple methods for having energy, enthusiasm and a continuing sense of well being.

★ ★ ★

Jesus Christ said, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." And that's for you and me, for all of us. That one statement can change your life. You can really become alive, vibrantly so.

ABLAZE WITH LIFE

I do not know what is in your mind as you read this — how depressed, discouraged, or just plain down you may feel. But I can tell you that if you draw upon the life-giving spiritual force that surges in and through and around your being, you can go forward vigorously, your head thrown back, a light in your eyes, new vitality in your bloodstream, new power in your mind and your whole soul alight and ablaze with life.

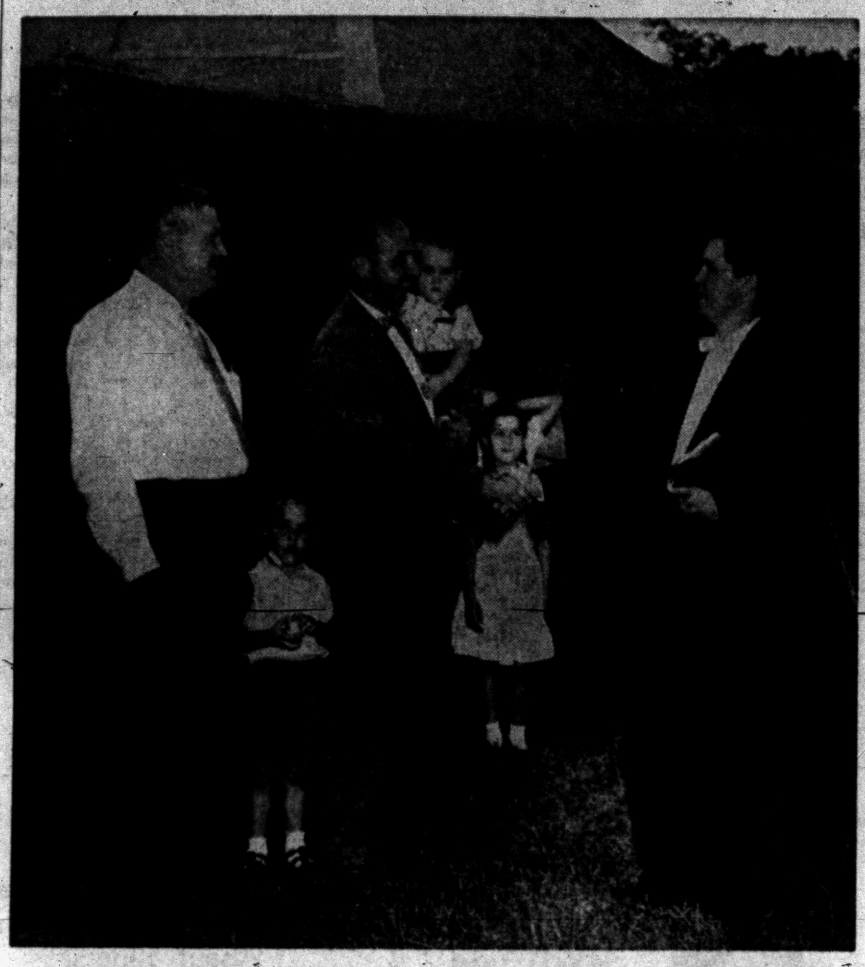

★ ★ ★

That is what religion does for us if we open ourselves to it and let it in. When we let faith into our lives we find that we have let life in.

Summer is more than half over now and you are probably making your plans for fall. Be sure to include a daily reading of the Bible and regular attendance at church.

Put God at the center and you will find for yourself just what religion can do for you. Let's really learn to live.

Robert Hammond, director of Alcohol Education of the Michigan Temperance Foundation, will speak at the 10 o'clock morning service Sunday in First Methodist Church.

★ ★ ★

Stressing the necessity of a scientific and factual approach to the problem of alcoholism, Mr. Hammond maintains that such approach must of necessity deal with the preventative phase of alcoholism as well as the rehabilitative.

★ ★ ★

In his opinion "Our problem is similar to the road that dangerously winds around a steep mountain.

"It is more important to build a fence at the dangerous cliff that it is to maintain an ambulance service at the bottom. Any successful alcohol education must do both.

Welcome News on Haiti Treaty

Pact of Controversy Returned to President for Renegotiation

News that President Eisenhower has asked that a controversial treaty with Haiti be returned to him for renegotiation was welcomed this week by the National Council of Churches.

★ ★ ★

Commenting on the action, Dr. Claud Nelson declared: "The National Countil of Churches has long recommended such action in its concern for religious liberty for all people." Dr. Nelson is executive director of the Council's Department of Religious Liberty.

The proposed treaty of friendship, commerce and navigation with Haiti drew opposition from Protestant and other groups because it failed to contain a guarantee of religious freedom for Americans residing aboard, which is customary in such treaties.

"We welcome the initiative of President Eisenhower," Dr. Nelson said, "for the return (from the Senate) of the proposed Haiti treaty."

★ ★ ★

And he added: "In the light of changed conditions in Haiti, we are expressing our hope that renegotiation will bring about a treaty in keeping with our American heritage, providing for the observance of religious liberty."

Lutherans List Gains

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gains in membership in the American Lutheran Church during 1956 were the highest since the denomination was organized in 1930, the church reports. Its baptized membership rose to 937,512, a gain of 38,434 or 4.27 per cent over the previous year.

Migrant Toilers Need the Church

More Are Determined to Have Families Settle Down in One Spot

"It's not the mass of a million and more agricultural migrant workers whom we see as we look at the churches' Migrant Ministry," a vice-president of the National Council of Churches pointed out recently.

"It's boys swinging baseball bats, girls learning to sew, children playing games, singing songs, listening to Bible stories," declared the Rev. Dr. Purd S. Deitz, of St. Louis, Mo.

The annual nationwide survey of the Migrant Ministry revealed by Edith Lowry, national director of the program for the National Council, shows that more migrants than ever are determined to settle down in one spot. Vast shanty-towns are the result.

The survey also shows that the influx of Mexican and Puerto Rican seasonal farm workers is increasing.

On the brighter side of the picture, Miss Lowry said that, as a result of church concern for migrants, Federal and state governments are speeding legislation to assure them safer transportation, better housing and workers' benefits.

Public and church education departments are also setting up remedial classes for migrant children, and local hostility to migrant workers is slowly disappearing in some places.

"This progress is encouraging," she said, "but only the churches can give these people the security of Christian fellowship and individual help when needed."

Five religious leaders, including Dr. Gerald E. Knoff, have been named by President Eisenhower to membership on the new 50-member President's Advisory Committee on the Fitness of American youth. Dr. Knoff is executive secretary of the Christian Education Division of National Council of Churches.

He is a Detroit correspondent for the Christian Century and a contributor to interdenominational journals.

Baldwin Pastor Attends School

Men, Women Become Licensed Preachers at Garrett Institute

The Rev. C. Warren Wilson, pastor of the Baldwin Avenue Methodist Church, is attending the School for Approved supply pastors of the Methodist Church in the North Central Jurisdiction, which is meeting at Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill., July 29 to August 23.

This is the second combined school in this area, which includes North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, and Ohio. Four women and 131 men are registered.

At this school, students will be able to complete a full year of the four year course of study which is prescribed by the Methodist Church for all supply pastors.

These are men and women, not theological school graduates, who have entered the ministry in middle life, after successful business and professional careers.

Once approved by a Conference, they become licensed preachers, and ultimately are ordained as local elders. Every member of the present group at Garrett is serving as a minister of a Methodist Church.

The faculty is headed by Dr. William Case, dean, and Professor Alvin J. Lindgren of Garrett.

Congregation Welcomes New Rabbi to Temple

Rabbi and Mrs. Nathan Hershfield were welcomed to Pontiac and Temple Beth Jacob Wednesday evening at a reception held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Irving Gordon, 1041 James K Blvd. Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Nosanchuck were co-hosts.

★ ★ ★

Born in 1923 and educated in the public school system of New York, Rabbi Hershfield was graduated from the University of Cincinnati in 1944. He was the recipient of a Taft Scholarship for further graduate study.

In 1947, he was ordained by the Hebrew Union College of Cincinnati and awarded the degree of Master of Hebrew Letters.

During student days, the rabbi served as the Jewish Chaplain of the Veterans' Hospital in Danville, Ill. under the sponsorship of the Jewish Welfare Board. In his senior year, he served as replacement rabbi at Temple Beth Israel in Jackson.

Upon ordination, Rabbi Hershfield became assistant rabbi of Congregation B'nai Jehudah for three years in Kansas City, Mo. He was a member of a special Mayor's committee in making a study of community problems.

For the past six years, he has served congregations in Charlotte and Gastonia, N. C.

During this time, he served on the board of the American Red Cross, was a member of Rotary Club and participated in all interfaith and community endeavors.

In addition to congregational duties, Rabbi Hershfield has been professor of Old Testament at Livingston College and Hood Theological Seminary, Salisbury, N. C.

Ceremonies at St. Trinity

New School Started Last Week; Old Building to Be Torn Down

Ground consecration ceremonies will be held at the conclusion of the 8:30 and 11 o'clock worship services tomorrow morning at St. Trinity Lutheran Church, Auburn at Jessie, for the first unit of a new $150,000 Christian Education Building.

The Rev. Ralph C. Claus, pastor, will conduct the ceremonies with the St. Trinity Choir singing under the direction of Paul J. Stohlman.

The church has begun a construction project which eventually will consist of five classrooms, a multi-purpose room and a kitchen.

The building was started last week on this first unit which will cost around $60,000. It is expected to be completed by Oct. 31. The entire project is being built by Schoolmaker Inc. and Daniels Associates, architects of Ann Arbor.

The Schoolmaker system is a modular unit type of structure in which two rooms compose a unit. Each will have its own heating system, custodian and rest room facilities.

The acoustics are engineered for teaching. Insurance rates are low and construction costs are minimized through the use of standardized materials, such as panels, doors and windows, according to the pastor.

TO REPLACE OLD

The new school will replace the old structure, now at the corner of Jessie and Judson streets, which has been in use as a Christian Day School since 1928. It will be torn down or moved after completion of the new school.

Members of the building committee include L. W. Hannewald, chairman, B. H. Ehlers and Bruce Burmeister.

Walter H. Kresge, finance chairman, has as his assistants, Ernst Mar and Leslie Jansen.

Paul J. Stohlmann, minister of education, works with Catherine Zessin and Marian Zollman, members of the teaching staff.

Grades from kindergarten through the eighth grade are taught in the school, one of a system affiliated with The Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod.

Teamster Tries to Drop Weight From 370 to 230

DES MOINES (AP) — A Detroit Teamsters Union official is going through a dieting routine at a hospital here in an effort to lose 100 pounds or more.

He is Barney Baker, 45, of Detroit, international organizer for the Teamsters.

Baker weighed 370 pounds when he came to Des Moines 10 days ago. His goal is to cut down to 230 pounds.

On the recommendation of a New York City physician, Baker was put under the care of Dr. Louis Goldberg of Des Moines. Goldberg put him in an air-conditioned room at Mercy Hospital where he is on a diet of 700 calories a day.

State Lays Out Road for Blocked-In Farmer

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Frank R. Ross' plight has ended. He now can get to his farm across the road without driving 2½ miles.

The State Highway Department laid out a temporary cross road between Ross' farmhouse and his 17 acres of farmland in Northfield Township. The old homestead and the farmlands were divided when the new U. S. 23 opened last week.

Ross previously had to travel a circuitous route to reach his farm a stone's throw away.

Carry Pails on "Truck"

Mount a board or piece of plywood on casters, attach a cord to one end and you have a small truck on which to load cleaning supplies. Make the truck large enough to hold two pails, one for soapy water and the other for rinse water.

Summer dust and perspiration play havoc with your head. Frequent, thorough shampoos will keep your hair gleaming. Try two lathers and several rinses.

Michigan Sells Timber, Nets $823,410 for State

LANSING (AP)—Michigan sold 131 million board feet of timber from its state forests in the fiscal year ended June 30 and netted $823,410 for the state treasury.

The money is earmarked for reforestation work and forest management.

Sales topped the 100 million board feet mark for the first time, and revenues exceeded income for the preceding year by 22 per cent.

Marketing of aspen and other so-called inferior species continued to pace the state's climb back toward a position of prominence in timbering. Aspen accounted for 47 per cent of total sales volume.

New pulp manufacturing methods have created an increased demand for Michigan forest products.

A cheetah, the hunting leopard, can run at a pace of 70 m.p.h. but only for about 500 yards. In India they tame the cheetah for use much like an American bird dog.

Car Year Nears End but Output Strong

DETROIT (INS) — Ward's Automotive Reports said today production in the auto industry is still going strong as the end of the 1957 model year nears.

Production for this week was estimated by the trade publication at 120,908 units, marking a 1.3 per cent rise from last week's figure. Ward's said this high production figure points to a "robust 500,000 completions for August."

The reports said Chrysler Corp. dealer new car sales jumped to 22.5 per cent of the industry's total in July from 19.2 per cent in June. Chrysler customer deliveries topped the 100,000 unit mark for the fifth consecutive month.

Meanwhile, the big three auto makers scheduled five-day operations this week. American Motors Corp. remained idle due to annual vacations and model changeover. Studebaker-Packard Corp. will close next week for the same reasons.

Children Tear Up Bill

YUMA, Colo. (AP)—Mrs. Betty Jo Seedorf is careful now about what she tells her son, Ricky. Not long ago, she handed Ricky a dollar bill and told him to "share it with your sister, Cheryl." Ricky did. He and Cheryl turned up moments later, each clinging to half of the bill.

Dorothy Collins Tells Lie She Lived on TV

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Dorothy Collins is a lady to her filter-tips, but she now confesses that for seven years she lived a lie on TV.

"Little Dorothy," of the shirt waists and high necklines, held a certain cigaret in her hand and airily told TV audiences, "Friends, if you want a cigaret that just naturally tastes better . . ."

WILSON

Actually, Dorothy never smoked that cigaret or any other.

"We never told anybody until now that I don't smoke," Dorothy broke down and admitted the other day. "I don't drink, either. "So my next sponsor'll probably be a beer."

★ ★ ★

It's a story with an ironic twist. After all those years of satisfying the sponsors of "Your Hit Parade," Dorothy and the other regulars got fired. Now, as a penalty for being so good, she's got to live down her seven-year indentification with one cigaret.

"They used to think of me as 'Little Dorothy Collins' and I got fan mail from people who asked why I wore such high necklines," Dorothy remembers.

"Somebody wrote in and asked me to settle an argument. One person said I wore those dresses because I had a ship tattoed on my chest. The other person said it wasn't a ship, it was a sailor."

A few weeks ago the Hit Parade crew was suddenly fired.

"Now we know why—they were going to sponsor a new cigaret and we were too closely identified with another."

She's also won freedom from the rock 'n' roll songs familiar to Hit Parade audiences.

"I liked rock 'n' roll at first—it was very happy music," Dorothy says. "Then it got happier and happier until it didn't make any sense.

"How can you make any sense out of 'Ooouh, Ooouh, Ooouh'?"

So Dorothy figures that when the "Hit Parade" gang got fired, she got a break.

"I now feel excited about a career for the first time," she says.

Banyan Tree Adds to Hawaiian Scene

By International News Service

The Hawaiian Islands are covered with scenic majesty, ranging from volcanoes to black sand beaches, but true nature lovers are bound to be fascinated by the huge, very Oriental-looking banyan trees.

A "double" tree stands at the doors of Honolulu's Iolani palace, the only royal palace standing on U. S. soil. Once native kings drove their carriages between the trees, but today they have interlaced branches and balance the tree while it grows outward more than upward.

★ ★ ★

A similar Hawaiian banyan has sneaked in this manner over an entire city block near the courthouse at Lahaina on the Hawaiian Island of Maui. Another, big but not spectacularly large tree, spreads over the outdoor court and dance area at the Moana Hotel on Waikiki Beach.

Bright Children Shine

ANN ARBOR (AP)—You can't keep a bright child down.

Warren Ketcham, associate professor of education at University of Michigan, says "it's about as possible to stop a cannonball as to stop a gifted child when he's going some place."

Prof. Ketcham reported, "Bright children have burning curiosity about things They have a persistence and a drive toward their own goals that are just wonderful to behold."

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

CHICAGO — There were some bright stars in Chicago last night despite heavy rains which drenched 75,000 football fans watching the 24th annual All-Star game at Soldier's Field.

The professional champion New York Giants were figured 10 points better than the collegians and that's the way it turned out, 22-12, but not without fight from the spunky All-Stars.

Even with the rain which came down six different times, both teams still took to the air 51 times. Both Giant touchdowns came through the airlanes with quarterback Chuck Conerly and end Ken MacAfee teaming up for 38 and 10-yard tallies.

Stars, with quarterback John Brodie of Stanford leading the way, hit pay dirt first. After recovering Alex Webster's fumble on the All-Star 45, a 55-yard march ended with halfback Billie Ray Barnes of Wake Forest going the final two yards after six minutes of the first period. Paul Hornung's point attempt was wide.

With less than two minutes left in the quarter the Giants scored when Ben Agajanian kicked a 34 yard field after getting possession of an All-Star fumble.

Starting on their own 12-yard line, it took the Giants only five plays to make it 10-6 early in the second stanza. Two big plays were a 33 yard aerial from Conerly to Webster and the 38 yard touchdown pass to MacAfee. Agajanian made the point.

The college crew fought back after the kickoff. On four straight first downs with Brodie, passing and Barnes going 29 yards on one play, the All-Stars got to the 12 from where Paige Cothren of Mississippi booted a field goal to make it 10-9 at intermission.

In the second half after the Stars were unable to move, Giants took over on their own 23 and in 10 plays MacAfee again went over with Conerly's pass. Key play in this series was a 35 yard interference penalty against Clarence Peaks of Michigan State who played on the defensive unit. With Agajanian's point it was 17-9.

Again the Stars were on the march with Hornung doing the passing. He completed five straight, but the drive ended on the Giant 25 and Cothren failed in his 33-yard field goal attempt.

Late in the period, the All-Stars, with Brodie back in the lineup after getting shaken up, put on another drive which netted four first downs.

The ball was on the 18 as the fourth quarter started and on fourth down Cothren kicked the three-pointer to make it 17-12.

Final Giants' scores came on Agajanian's field goal and a safety when Woodsen was trapped in his end zone by Dick Nolan. The All-Stars did not threaten rest of the way.

All of the All-Stars got into the game except the injured Mike Hudock of Miami who did not dress because of an injury.

Barnes was one of the leading stars. He led the individual rushing department with 60 yards for the All-Stars while Mel Triplett gained 74 for the Giants.

In passing, Brodie made 8 of 20 and Hornung had five complete in seven. Conerly hit on eight of 17 and Heinrich three of six.

Jim Brown of Syracuse was impressive in returning kickoffs, and the Lions' draft choice, Steve Junker, did very well at the defensive end post.

All-Stars were not effective on the long pass, possibly because of the wet ball, and there was no doubt that there would have been even better passing on a dry evening.

The downpour first came just 15 minutes before game time sending the huge crowds under the stands. There was a 10 minute delay in starting.

Sammy Still in Front

CHICAGO (AP)—Will Sam Snead blow golf's biggest money tournament?

Some of the pros in the field of 100 think that the only way Sam will be kept from carting off $50,000 in cash and a $50,000 exhibition contract will be by beating himself.

Snead today entered the third round of Tam O'Shanter's "World" jamboree with a two-stroke edge. He slammed a 69 to go with an opening 65 and pulled up at the half way junction yesterday with a 10-under-par 134.

Al Balding, a lanky 33-year-old Canadian, wheeled into second place with a 69 for 136.

Asked if he would rather have any player except Snead setting the pace, Balding said:

"It doesn't make much difference to me. I remember last winter at the Mayfield Open in Sanford, Fla., Snead led after the first two rounds with 64-70 and I was second with 69-66. I was teamed up with him for the last two rounds. I passed him like he was standing still, finishing with 66-68 for 269 to win. Don't even remember how Snead came out."

★ ★ ★

While Balding wasn't figuring on a Snead blowup to beat him, some of the other pros were thinking it would take just that. They recalled how he had soared out of the lead in other tournaments and also how he could return strongly after being behind.

★ ★ ★

Four strokes behind Snead with 138 were Shelley Mayfield and Mike Souchak. Bunched at 139 were Ed Oliver and Tony Holguin while Bob Rosburg and Arnold Palmer were bracketed at 140.

Other "world" sections looked this way:

Women pros — Louise Suggs, twice a runner-up, with 4-under-par 148 for a two-stroke lead over Joyce Ziske and Fay Crocker.

Women amateurs—All-American winner Clifford Ann Creed of Opelousas, La., with 159 for a six-stroke edge over Sandra Clifford of Mexico City and Lois Drafke, Chicago.

Men amateurs — Defending champion Ward Wettlaufer of Buffalo, with 144 and a one-stroke margin over Howard Everitt, Northfield, N.J.

Competition Unharmed

By BRUNO KEARNS

CHICAGO — Members of the National Football Writer's Association meeting here in conjunction with the 24th All-Star game, heard Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, commissioner of the Big Ten, defend the conference's new financial aid plan.

"Contrary to belief, there is firm indication that the quality of competition in the Big Ten will not suffer at all by the plan, but will be strengthened," said Wilson.

In presenting the five page report to the writers, Wilson said "It is our intention to police the program vigorously with rigid adherence expected from all members."

"The recent disciplinary action by the conference against Indiana coach Phil Dickens has spotlighted our enforcement procedures," he said.

In releasing the statistics of the number of boys contacted under the new aid plan, Wilson pointed out that a total of 911 tenders were extended to 776 boys, 92 of whom received tenders from more than one school.

This was an average of 91 tenders per school. One school offered 139 tenders and the lowest was 57, but no school can accept more than 100 tenders at any one time.

After the tenders were offered after June 15th, the highest number accepted by one school was 97. The lowest was 47.

To show that athletic prospects have not been discouraged from attending Big Ten schools because of the aid plan, Wilson reported that of 15 players, named to the All-America high school team, who were tendered financial assistance on need, 14 of the 15 accepted.

The essence of the aid plans rules that once a boy signs a tender to go to one Big Ten school he cannot be accepted at any other conference school. If he leaves school he will have to go somewhere outside the league.

It also demands the financial status of the boy's family and after it is decided how much need is involved for a school to cover, the parents must make up the difference.

"I am sincerely optimistic about our program, and certainly our moral position, and I am gratified at the manner in which it has worked out," Wilson finished.

Chisox Hand Tighe Birthday Loss

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox, with Nellie Fox leading the way, made it an "unhappy birthday" party for Detroit Tiger manager Jack Tighe yesterday.

Tighe, celebrating his 44th birthday, watched his club take a 3-0 lead in the sixth inning, saw Fox's ninth inning single tie it up at 3-3 to send the game into extra innings, watched Detroit take a 4-3 lead in the bottom of the 11th and saw Fox score the winning run following Lary Doby's single to end the game, 5-4.

The Tigers, apparently tiring in the late innings, held a 3-2 edge going into the last of the ninth but starting pitcher Paul Foytack hit pinch-hitter Fred Hatfield in the back. When Ted Beard, running for Hatfield, was bunted to second and took third on a passed ball by Red Wilson, Fox singled to score him.

Detroit appeared to have ended the game in the 11th when Wilson took a pass from Chicago's third pitcher, Dixie Howell. He stole second and scored on pinch-hitter Dave Philley's single.

★ ★ ★

But in the last of the 11th, with Lou Sleater pitching, former Tiger Walt Dropo, a pinch hitter, singled. Beard, who ran for him, was bunt to second, took third on a wild pitch and scored on Fox' single.

Again it was tied, but this time Fox took second on an infield out and ended it when Doby hit clean to center.

Sleater took the loss while Gery Staley was credited with the victory.

Frank Lary (4-15), who hasn't won a game since June 15, will attempt to end his eight-game losing streak tonight in the second game of the series. He will be opposed by rookie southpaw Jim Derrington, a 17-year-old bonus baby in his second start of the year. Derrington failed to last the first inning in his first try against Washington.

Crawford, Rodgers Work Out at Wisner

Stage Set for Ring Battle

BY BILL CORNWELL

The principals have arrived and the stage is ready for next Tuesday night's five-event boxing show at Pontiac's Wisner Stadium.

Saginaw's Mickey Crawford and Sammy Rodgers of Benton Harbor, opponents in the 10-round feature attraction, pulled into town Friday and set up shop at the stadium, taking light workouts in a ring erected on the Cass Avenue side.

Crawford's nose, severely cut in his bout with Pat Lowry three weeks ago at Saginaw, looked completely healed and the promising young welterweight fought a couple of rounds with Enoch Mapp, former Detroit Golden Gloves champion.

Mickey came here from Detroit's Motor City Arena, where he had been training for the past 10 days.

Rodgers arrived in the city late yesterday afternoon after a long, hard drive from Chicago, where he has done all of his fighting since turning pro.

Jimmy McCoy, who will meet John Powell in a five-round welterweight preliminary, accompanied Rodgers. Obviously tired from the lengthy trip, Rodgers and McCoy sparred briefly, then retired for an early shower.

Crawford and Rodgers will continue their drills today and tomorrow at Wisner, then take Monday off before reporting to the commissioner's office in Detroit on Tuesday for the noon weigh-in.

Osee Groom, eager young heavyweight from Detroit, also arrived on the scene yesterday and his entrance got laughs all around. Osee and Al DeNapoli, his trainer-manager, wheeled up to ringside in Al's tiny pizzeria delivery wagon.

Groom, scheduled to face New York's Bill Pickett in another preliminary, had a short sparring session with veteran Marty Marshall, ex-Michigan heavyweight champ. An imposing physical specimen, Groom is seeking his 5th professional win following a successful Golden Gloves career.

A pair of fistic notables watched Friday's workouts. Chuck Davey, who retired for the 2nd time nearly two years ago, and light-heavyweight Chuck Spieser were both at ringside.

Spieser, now living on Union Lake Road, has not fought since he was kayoed by Tony Anthony last April at Detroit's Olympia. He is hoping for a September bout with Frenchman Yvonne Durelle in the Motor City. Davey, looking (heavier) but contented, is an insurance salesman in the Pontiac area.

Johnny Palmer, underfeated lightweight from Dayton, O., tangles with Detroit's Edgar Gregory and light-heavy Ducky Dietz of Detroit battles Huey Rader, also from Dayton, in other preliminary bouts.

Tuesday's program, sponsored by Iraq Grotto and promoted by Julius Piazza, gets under way at 7 p.m. The Crawford-Rodgers main event begins at 8:30.

Crawford fights Sammy Rodgers of Benton Harbor here next Tuesday night in a 10-round welterweight bout. Spieser, a big contender for the world's light-heavyweight title, and Davey, former TV ring idol, were distinguished visitors to the Crawford-Rodgers training camps on the Cass Avenue side of the stadium.

Rothbarth Defends Title

City Golfers Start Firing

There's both the experience of years and the ambition of youth in the annual City Medal Play golf championship, which began its 36-hole route today at Pontiac Municipal course.

On the experience side of the ledger, for example, are Walt Latozas and Joe Burgdorf. Both are seasoned campaigners, along with a few other veterans like Glenn Harding and Hud Powers.

Latozas was the No. 1 qualifier last Saturday at the Municipal links with an even par 69. Burgdorf was runner-up on a card of 70.

Representing golf's younger set are 19-year-old Jack Reynolds, former ace at Waterford High and now a sophomore at MSU, and 17-year-old Sammy Coleman, Pontiac High golfer.

The 26-man field started leaving the 1st tee at 12 noon today in search of the city championship now held by Ron Rothbarth.

Rothbarth, who took the 1956 title with a dramatic overtime victory over state amateur champ Lloyd Syron, is back to defend his honors. Syron did not enter this year's tournament.

For other previous city champions are also in the field — Mike Andonian, Paul Bada, Ed Wasik and Harding.

Eighteen-hole rounds are scheduled today and Sunday over the par 34-35 city layout. Tomorrow's round also begins at 12 o'clock.

Oxford, Tigers Win City Titles

Oxford annexed the city Class E junior baseball title and the Tigers won the Midget crown in tournament finals here Friday.

The two winners join Class F Boys Club as Pontiac entries in junior district tourneys next week. Cranbrook and Pontiac Police will decide the Class D title today on the Jaycee Park diamond.

Oxford struggled with Clarkston for 11 innings yesterday before squeezing out a 2-1 victory in a thrilling 'E' final. Two errors handed Oxford the winning run to break up a dazzling pitching duel between Oxford's Mike Dodge and Bob Porritt.

The Tigers scored six runs in the 1st two innings and coasted to a 10-8 win over Boys Club in the Midget playoff final.

Pontiac's Midget champion opens district play Monday while the D and F winners wait until Tuesday, all at Dearborn. The Class E Wednesday at Saginaw. There is no district tourney in the Midget division, which was won by LeBaron.

Detroit in Legion Semis

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Unbeaten Benton Harbor plays once-defeated Detroit today in the finals of the state American Legion Junior baseball tournament.

Detroit eliminated Escanaba 6-5 and Owosso 8-6 in yesterday's round. Benton Harbor trounced Alpena 12-2.

Leads Michigan Skeet Gunners

(Special to Pontiac Press)

RENO, Nev. — Billy Drown Jr., Birmingham (Mich.) boy yesterday led the Michigan delegation in the 2nd round of shooting for the 250 targets national all-gauge skeet championship. Bill, 15-years-old, fired 100 straight.

Title round is being fired today and the Michigan team of Chet Crites, Ains Borsum, Ken Sedeckly, Howard Confer and Pontiac's Bob Thiefels lead the California team by four targets. It looks like a cinch to grab the title.

Among other Michigan leaders were — Florence Schmidt (Hazel Park) 188; W. A. Brown (Birmingham) 188; Leland Brown 196; Eddie Brown 194; W. A. Ellis (Mt. Clemens) 183; Bill Brown Jr. 193; Borsum 199, Confer 198, Sedlecky 196, Thiefels 194, Crites 197, Steve Cory 180, Frank Keefer 178

City Loop Opens Playoffs Sunday

Griff's Grill and CIO Local 594 will clash Sunday afternoon at Wisner Field in the opening game of the City Baseball League playoffs. Starting time is 1:30.

The winner of the best-of-three series meets Shaw's Jewelers in a 3-out-of-5 playoff for the city Class A championship.

Runner-up CIO and Griff's, which finished 3rd, play the 2nd game of their 1st round series on Monday at 5:30 p.m. If a 3rd contest is necessary, it will be held Wednesday.

Shaw's, regular season champion, sits idly by until Sunday, Aug. 18, when the final series begins. The playoff champ enters the state tournament at Battle Creek.

Caswell New Batting King

Marv Caswell of Griff's Grill is the new City Baseball League batting champion for 1957. Official averages are based on 40 times at bat.

Putting on a late-season surge, Caswell wound up the regular schedule with 25 hits in 50 trips to the plate for an even .500 average.

Dave (Boots) Kringe of Shaw's Jewelers finished 2nd with a .436 figure while defending champion Judge Booker of the Pontiac Jets took 3rd with .433. Shaw's Terry Thomas batted .423 for 4th place.

League champion Shaw's boasted the two best pitchers in Jerry Taylor, who won four games in as many starts, and Steve Kebler, with a 3-0 record. In the slugging department, five different players hit two home runs apiece.

Yankee Lead Cut to Four Games

Orioles Jump Into First Division

BALTIMORE (AP) — The brash Baltimore Orioles were perched in the American League's first division today after another game-saving performance by one of the team's two relief pitching specialists.

It was righthander George Zuverink's turn to shine last night as he blanked the New York Yankees on one hit over the last two innings to nail down a 4-3 victory for Bill Wight.

When Zuverink isn't stemming late inning rallies, lefty Ken Lehman is likely to be on the firing line.

Baltimore has won seven of its last eight games to reach fourth place—its loftiest late-season peak since returning to the league in 1954. During that stretch, Zuverink and Lehman each has appeared four times in relief.

★ ★ ★

The Washington Senators shut out the Boston Red Sox, 8-0, behind the six-hit pitching of Pete Ramos. Homers by Vic Wertz and Roger Maris were wasted as the Cleveland Indians bowed to the Kansas City A's, 3-2, in 13 innings.

Milwaukee's Braves have taken a 3½-game lead in the National League, the biggest bulge yet, and they've done it with a five-game winning streak — all against contenders.

In fact, the Braves have lost only one of their last seven games, dropping one of three with Brooklyn, then sweeping three from Cincinnati before clobbering second-place St. Louis 13-2 last night.

While righthander Bob Buhl was breezing against the Cardinals to become the first 15-game winner in the NL, third-place Brooklyn junked its three-game losing streak and stayed within five games of the top with a 4-2 victory at Pittsburgh. Cincinnati rallied all night long and came off with a twi-night doubleheader sweep that left the Redlegs in fourth, 6½ back, with 9-7 and 6-4 victories over the Chicago Cubs, who had won five in a row.

Tighe Blasts Tigers After Loss to Hose

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Jack Tighe has threatened another crackdown on the Detroit Tigers.

"I've been too easy with you," Tight told the club after its 5-4 11th inning defeat last night by the Chicago White Sox. "I've tried to treat you like I know you wanted to be treated. But from now on, it's going to be different.

"I personally am going to check every player every night to be sure you're not breaking our curfew. I'm not saying that you are but the way you have been looking, there's something wrong with you."

★ ★ ★

It was the second time this season Tighe had criticized the team for "indifference and slipshod play."

Jewelers Play Twin Bill

Shaw's Jewelers, city Class AA softball champions, will tune up for next week's regional tournament by meeting Shively's of Flint Sunday night in an exhibition twin bill at Beaudette Park. Game times are 7 and 8:30. Shaw's opens regional play next Thursday at Roseville.

'Pal' Falls From Grace

BY REBA HEINTZELMAN

MILFORD — Most dogs dislike thunder storms — but for "Pal," a big German Shephard dog living near Milford, it is sheer terror.

During a recent storm, when his owners, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Stafford were away, the dog set off a series of chain reactions that changed his whole life.

"Pal was tied up on a long chain in the Stafford breezeway when the storm hit the area. As the thunder and lightning gained momentum, he could stand it no longer, and leaped right through the aluminum screen, into the kitchen sink.

As he landed, he accidently turned on the hot water faucet, then, in jumping out of the hot water, the drain-plug was dropped shut.

From the sink, Pal landed on the breakfast bar, sending the kitchen radio crashing to the floor, along with the glass silex coffee maker, a big cake plate and a thermos bottle.

When the Staffords returned home later in the evening, the entire house was flooded with water from four to five inches deep from the still open tap in the sink.

Pal was crouched up on the breakfast bar, shaking all over from the ordeal. The tie-up chain was still attached to his collar, and Stafford said that if the animal had tried to leap to the floor, he would have 'been a goner.'

The big dog was marched out to the back of the lot and securely tied to a tree — and there he remains.

★ ★ ★

Stafford has built a strong dog-house on the spot, and when there is a storm, Pal goes meekly inside to try and control his powerful impulses.

REALLY IN THE DOGHOUSE — Pal, fallen pet of the Calvin Stafford family, near Milford, created havoc in the home during a recent thunder storm, and is now confined to the rear of his owner's property for his own good.

Freighter Saves Downed Flier

Drifting Flint Man Lifted From Sinking Plane in Bay

SAGINAW (UP)—A passing freighter rescued a 65-year-old Flint man yesterday after he drifted in Saginaw Bay more than an hour on the pontoons of his sunken seaplane.

Seymore H. Wright survived the crash in his single-engine plane with just a slight scratch on the nose.

He was flying back to Flint from his Canadian cabin 60 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie when the weather closed in over Saginaw Bay.

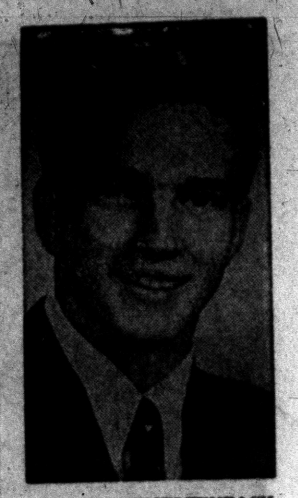

Wright brought the plane down to an altitude of 100 feet and was flying completely on instruments when the seaplane plowed into the water, shearing off the pontoons, about a mile off Charity Islands.

He could not open the jammed door and the cockpit rapidly filled with water. With only a little air space remaining at the top of the cockpit, Wright managed to break off the door handle and kick free of the plane.

He swam to the floating pontoons 100 yards away and lashed himself to them with a cable.

The freighter Carrollton, captained by Roald Hanssen, passed by an hour later and put a boat over the side to pick up Wright.

The Coast Guard station at East Tawas was notified by radio. Mrs. Wright and their son, Charles, were on hand when the Carrollton arrived at the Chevrolet Foundry dock in the Saginaw River last night.

Johnny, 4, Takes Bus Trip From Toledo to Detroit

DETROIT (UP) — The parents of little Johnny McGee hope the youngster finds a better way to beat the summer heat the next time.

The 4½-year-old youngster was in the Juvenile Detention Home today waiting to be returned to his home in Toledo after an adventurous trip here alone.

Johnny wandered away from his home to the Greyhound Bus Station some eight blocks away in downtown Toledo yesterday.

Joining a group of passengers, the boy slipped onto a Detroit-bound bus. The bus driver, thinking Johnny was a straggler from one of the families boarding the bus, didn't ask any questions.

Johnny arrived in Detroit at 9:30 p.m. last night. The other bus passengers disembarked, but Johnny, clad only in blue swimming trunks, didn't.

Bus station officials couldn't get any information out of him.

Police called Toledo. Shortly afterwards, the boy's mother, Mrs. Bonnie Mc Gee, called Toledo police to report her son missing. Police matched descriptions of Johnny and Mrs. McGee's missing son. They fit.

Mrs. McGee said her husband was out of work and sick and she couldn't afford the bus trip last night to pick up Johnny. She said she hoped to get a friend to drive to Detroit today to pick him up.

Quiz Fruehauf on Beck Fund

Grand Jury Questions Detroiter on 1954 Loan of $200,000

TACOMA, Wash. (UP) — Dave Beck's financial dealings with Roy Fruehauf, Detroit trailer-manufacturer, were probed yesterday by a federal grand jury investigating the Teamster president's income tax returns.

Fruehauf took the stand when the jury convened and was to be followed by his Washington, D.C. attorney, Alfons B. Landa. Also waiting to testify was Frank W. Brewster, president of the Western Conference of Teamsters.

The jury is inquiring into Beck's income tax returns for 1951 and subsequent years. A previous grand jury indicted the labor leader on a charge of evading $56,000 in income taxes in 1950. Beck pleaded innocent.

Beck loaned Fruehauf $1,500,000 of Teamsters' union funds in 1953 to aid the truck executive in a stock proxy fight. When Beck needed money the next year, Fruehauf, with the help of B. M. Seymour, a New York trucking executive, loaned Beck $200,000.

Seymour, president of Associated Transport Inc., testified for an hour Thursday.

The Senate rackets investigating committee has said Beck used the $200,000 from Fruehauf and Seymour to make a part repayment to teamster bank accounts in Seattle from money borrowed beween 1948 and 1953.

Congress Boosts Monroe A-Project

WASHINGTON (UP) — A proposed nuclear project in Michigan to be built primarily with private funds received a boost from Congress yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The House in effect restored to the atomic authorization bill $4,200,000 in research funds for a proposed fast breeder reactor near Monroe, Mich. It voted to earmark $1,500,000 for the project this year and to make available an additional $2,700,000 for future years.

★ ★ ★

The reactor would be built by Power Reactor Development Co. (PRDC), a combine of 16 privately owned utilities headed by Detroit Edison.

Bridge Workman Files $1,250,000 Suit

CHICAGO (UP)—A workman is asking $1,250,000 damages for injuries allegedly suffered in 1955 during construction of the Mackinac Straits Bridge in Upper Michigan.

The suit was filed yesterday by Douglas De Mars, 29, of St. Ignace, Mich. DeMars named his employer, Merritt-Chapman, Scott Corp., the Coffing Hoist Co., and Duff-Norton Co. as defendants.

DeMars charged in the suit he suffered disabling skull and brain injuries Sept. 30, 1955, when a crane, mounted on the boat he was operating, broke and struck him.

★ ★ ★

The suit said the Merritt-Chapman Scott Corp. was negligent in maintenance of the boat and the other firms with selling defective equipment.

Michigan Births Hit New Peak for Half Year

LANSING (UP) — Michigan has set another record in baby production, the State Health Department reported today.

The department said that 95,754 births were registered in the state during the first six months of 1957 to set a new half-year mark.

This was 3,362 more births than during the same period of 1956, the previous high for a six-month period.

New one-month records also were set during four of the first six months. Only January and February failed to shatter previous records.

New marks for individual months were 17,609 in March, 16,309 in April, 16,658 in May and 17,957 in June.

The department said births in Michigan have been increasing yearly since 1948 and that figures for the first six months indicate that a new 12-month record is in prospect for 1957.

Mother, 2 Girls Killed by Train

Engine Hits Baby Buggy as Woman Tries to Free Wheel Stuck in Track

HURON, Ohio (UP)—A speeding train hit a baby carriage here yesterday, killing a woman and two children, while her husband and three other children watched.

The dead were Mrs. Ernest Ball, 42; Mary Ann, 3, and Ruth Arlene, 8 weeks, all of this Lake Erie resort and fishing town.

★ ★ ★

"We figure that when she heard the train, she tried to turn the baby carriage around and the wheel got stuck in one of the crossing planks," said Police Patrolman Sylvester Duty.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ball was taking her five children across the six-track crossing to where her husband was helping a friend wash his automobile. Ruth Arlene was in the baby carriage.

★ ★ ★

Conductor J. R. Freeman of the New York Central's Chicago-to-Cleveland mail express and passenger train, said they were moving at the limit of 80 miles per hour when the engineer, U. F. Moylan saw Mrs. Ball and her brood crossing the tracks.

★ ★ ★

Fireman S. J. De Falco said he saw Mrs. Ball struggling with the carriage while the other children stood and watched. Just before the collision, one child—Mary Ann—ran to her mother's side and was killed too.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ball's husband looked up when he heard the screech of the train's brakes, but there was nothing he could do.

"HOLD ON!"

J. L. VOORHEES

Hold On is an interjection that has been the turning point in the lives of many men. Eddie Cantor's mother used it when things were blackest: "Son," she told Eddie after they had postponed several meals, "we can't have less; we'll hold on!——" Randolph (Randy) Wellsford escaped from a German prison camp, crawled (a bullet had penetrated both legs) to a refuge. An orphan of the war brought him food, and friendship. They couldn't understand each other but the boy tied a knot in a string, grasped it in tightly closed fists. Randy got the idea—Hold On, smiled his thanks. A few days later patriots carried him to a doctor, sent him home to England. Near the scene of his rescue you will find a string of homes for War orphans; they are called HOLD ON HOMES. Randy, rich, legless, in a wheel chair is dad to hundreds of children and the boy who saved his life is their Big Brother.

REDWOOD TRIM — This white clapboard house is trimmed in stained redwood. Located on Irwindale drive in Waterford Hills subdivision, the Loy Bennett house is about two years old. Their lot is 105x500, extending down to Fiddle Lake at the rear. Herbert C. Davis of Pontiac was the builder; stock plans were used for this attractive five-room house. It has a complete basement.

Your Neighbor's House

Small Scale Furniture Fits Small Home

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Ever hear of Waterford Hills Subdivision? It's nowhere near Waterford Hill and it isn't even very hilly. It's a small area south of M59, east of Pontiac Lake road, and fronting on Fiddle Lake.

The Loy Bennett family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, Margaret, aged 18, and Michael, aged 10, live in a small white clapboard house with redwood trim. Their lot is 105 feet wide and extends 500 feet down to the lake. The house has a terrace at the rear and a full basement.

There is a great deal more room inside the house than the outside would indicate. Living room, dining room and kitchen take up most of the floor space, have open planning. At the other end of the house are three bedrooms.

At one end of the living room the wall is paneled in knotty pine. This wall extends through the dining room area. A simple fireplace of reused brick with a pine mantel takes up nearly all the living room section. The hearth is raised.

Other living room walls are light tan, while the ceiling is white. The polished oak floor is covered with a tan rug. Cafe curtains are cream colored.

The furnishings are Early American with pine and maple the predominant woods. There are two sofas, one under the front windows, the other directly across the room. One is covered in a blue-green homespun type fabric; the other is rusty red. There is a pair of matching wing chairs, upholstered in a colonial design tapestry.

Next to the fireplace is a maple arm chair with bright padded cushions. One lamp table is the drop leaf type. On one wall there are three unusual round plaques. The centers are ceramic bird pictures, while the frame is blue tone brass.

The dining room furniture is Willett maple with Windsor chairs. The fixture above the table is black and copper. Beyond the table there is a long window that shows a wooded view.

The kitchen opens directly into this dining area, but is hidden completely from the living room. It is large and sunny. Appliances and working space are concentrated on two walls, with the working space under the windows. Counter tops are yellow Formica.

There are short yellow cafe curtains at the windows. Cupboards are knotty pine with black hariware. The lighting fixture is copper. Floor linoleum is tan with a multicolored spatter pattern.

On the wall nearest the dining room there is a maple hutch cabinet. The top shelf is a planter. On the lower shelf Mrs. Bennett displays yellow and blue Stengel pottery — the blueberry pattern.

With the exception of one bedroom which has green walls, walls throughout the house are the same color as the living room. This makes decorating a unified job. The bathroom has gray tile walls and a white floor. Curtains are black and white.

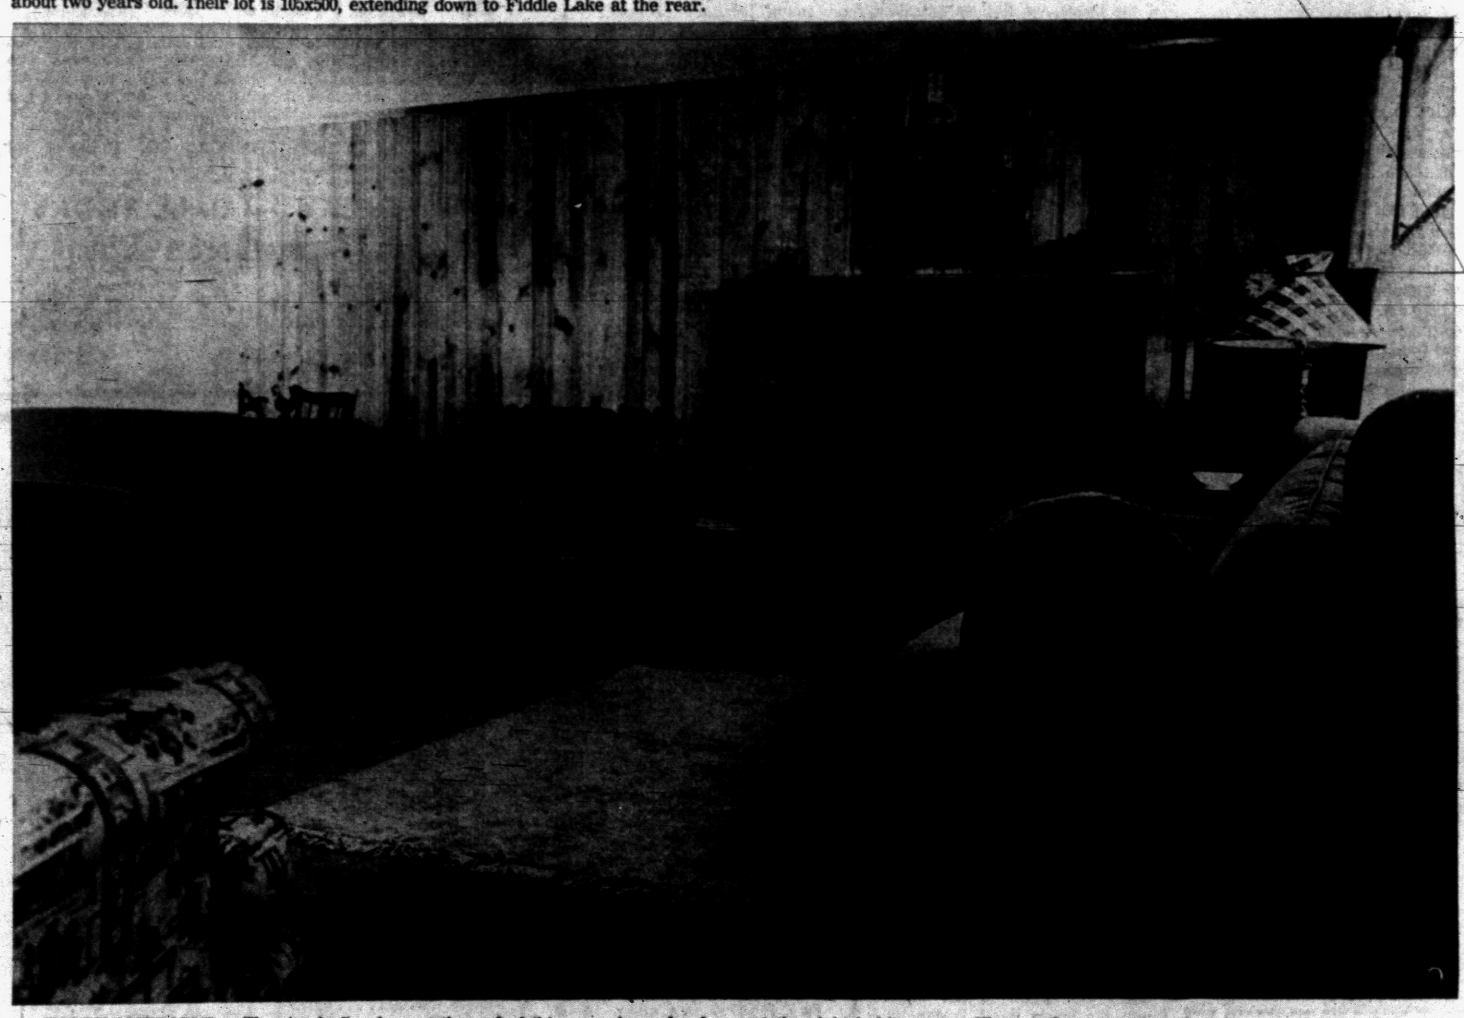

The Bennetts' bedroom has Drexel pine furniture with an heirloom type spread on the bed. Curtains match those in the living room. Lamps are brown and white Early American.

Mike's room has one complete wall of shelves and storage cupboards. An indication of his interests is the pair of boxing gloves hung on one wall. He has a maple bed. Curtains are red and green in a leaf print.

Margaret will be going away to college this fall. Until then she has been occupying the largest bedroom at the front of the house. Her parents will take it for their room after she leaves.

Pink is the main color in this room. Scatter rugs, the tailored spreads and the comfortable armchair are all pink. Bed skirts and curtains are a harlequin pattern in pink, gold and black. There are black and gold threads in the chair covering. The room is decorated with her large collection of dolls and stuffed animals. For storage she has a large limed oak chest.

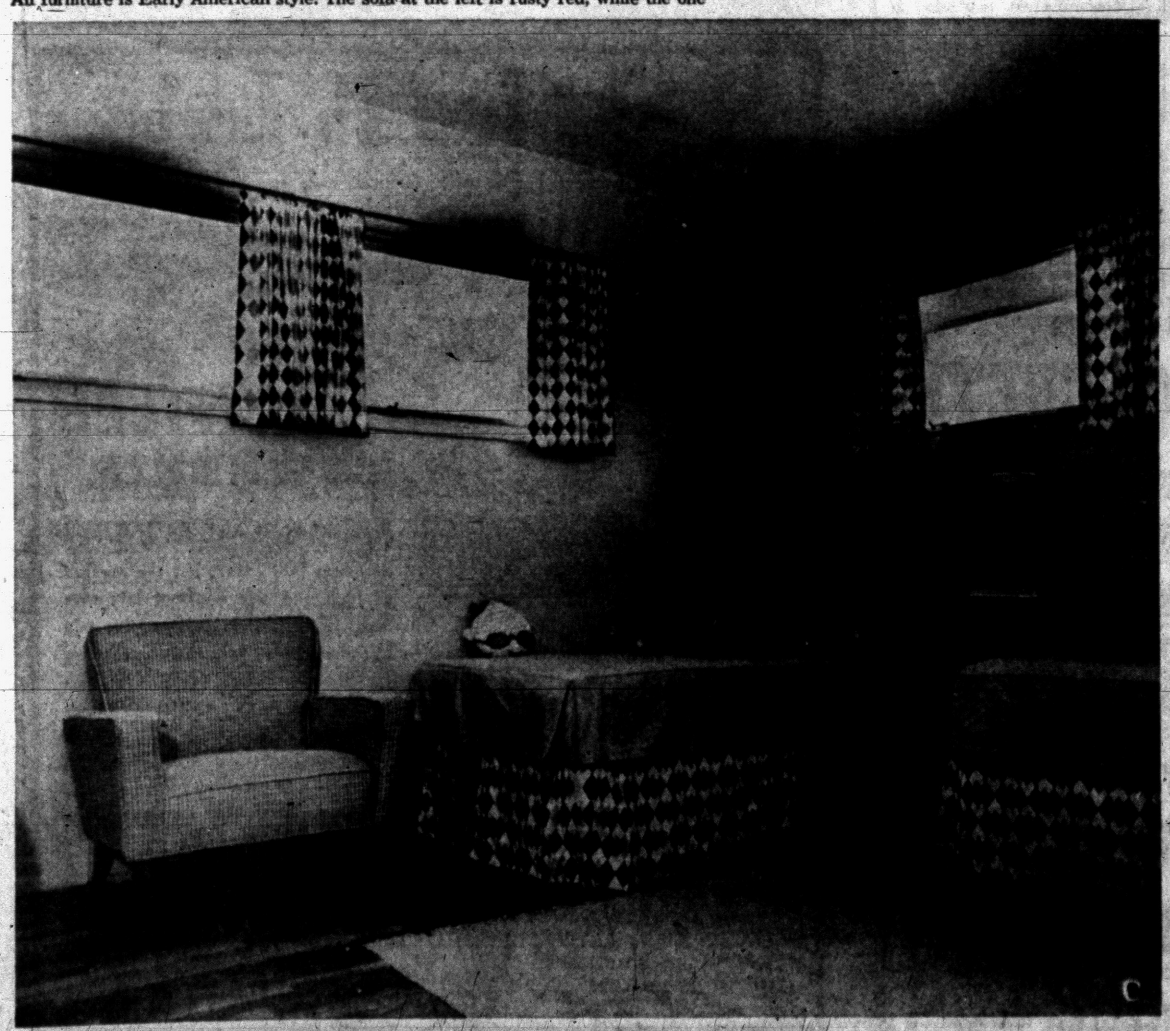

The Bennetts have lived in their home just about two years. It was built by Herbert C. Davis of Pontiac from stock plans.

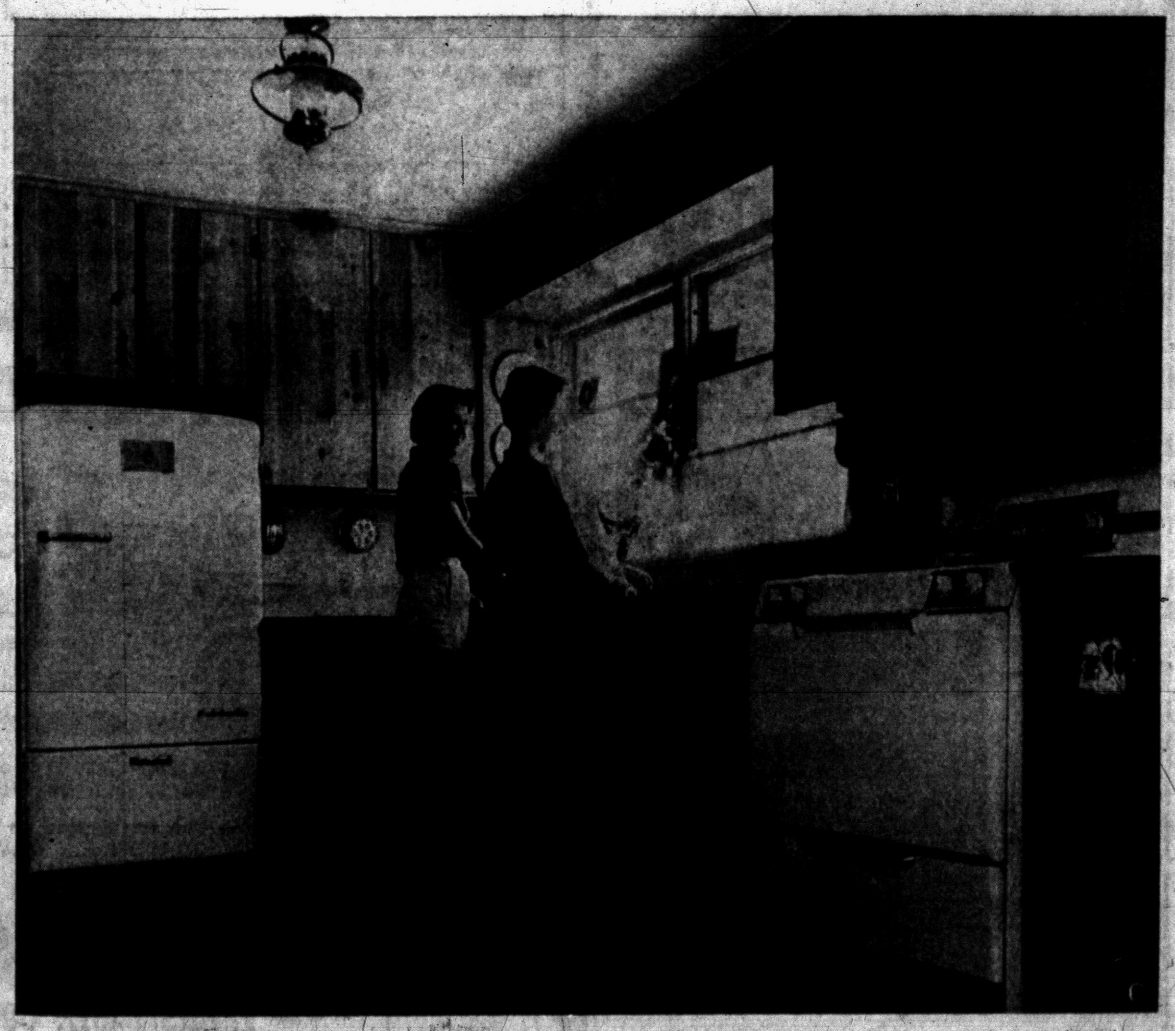

EARLY AMERICAN — The simple fireplace at the end of this room is made of reused brick. The mantel is pine. There is a braided rug in front of the raised hearth. All furniture is Early American style. The sofa at the left is rusty red, while the one at the right is blue-green. Floor and rug are tan. Curtains are creamy white, cafe type.

BEST FRIENDS—Mike and his dog, Jiffy, are the best of friends, as only a boy and a dog can be. Jiffy is part St. Bernard and part collie. Mike is all boy, aged ten. Jiffy was given special dispensation to enter the house for this picture. Mike is sitting on the blue-green sofa in front of the living room windows.

FOR A TEENAGER — Harlequin print bed skirts and short curtains make Margaret's room a gay one. There are pink scatter rugs on the polished oak floors. The chair is covered in pink with black and gold threads in the material. Margaret's amusing collection of stuffed animals and dolls is scattered all over the room for decoration.

HELPING HANDS — When two get at the job, dishes don't take long. Mrs. Bennett and Margaret have a pleasant place to work in this sunny kitchen. They can look out the windows and see woods. The kitchen has knotty pine cupboards with black hardware. The floor is spatter print linoleum. Counter tops and splash backs are yellow Formica.

Monotone Color Scheme

A large living room seen recently in a western city was done in a delightful monotone of pale greenish gray, carpets, walls and woodwork and most of the upholstery, all matching. A mixture of furniture had inspired the owner to use several chairs and small tables finished in Chinese red lacquer. The shade of paint used on the walls picked up the red in a delicate Chinese screen used as a divider.

RANCH HOME WITH PATIO — This compact ranch home is of clapboard and fieldstone combination. Note the wide handsome chimney that adds distinction. Overall dimensions, including the garage, are 73 feet by 32 feet 6 inches.

AREAS CLEARLY DEFINED — Play, work and sleeping areas are cleverly separated in this charming home. You can get to the bedroom wing without going through a single room, either from the front door or the patio.

Kitchen Steals Show in New Ranch Home

By ANDREW C. LANG

A modern version of the Keeping Kitchen of Colonial days is one of the high spots of this three-bedroom, two and a-half bath ranch house, designated as HW-64 in The House of The Week Series.

They called it the Keeping Kitchen in those days because it was the center of much of the family's activities — because, in effect, it helped to keep the family together. But you don't have to go back to the Colonial era to remember when the kitchen was an "active" room, more than just a place to prepare meals. It occupied that same role not too many years ago, probably when you were a child.

In designing a delightful adaptation of the Keeping Kitchen, Alan Frazer has turned back the clock. It has the bigness, the brightness and the airiness of the old-time kitchen, plus the convenience and the work-saving traffic pattern of a well-planned kitchen of today.

Notice the way the range in the island counter is just a few steps from the wall oven on one wall, the refrigerator at the side wall, and the sink at the rear. This "work triangle" is recommended by kitchen experts for maximum efficiency with the least effort.

The snack bar side of the island counter is adjacent to the dinette to make that corner of the room a comfortable, inviting area for adults and children alike. There are three windows looking out to the rear and two looking out to the large patio.

The charm of this kitchen is further enhanced by a barbecue fireplace for grilling, a practical adjunct to family get-togethers indoors. The hood over the range helps to give a contemporary look to this "old time" room, and there are cabinets built in under the counter and snack top for convenient storage.

A 29-foot living area incorporates the living and dining rooms of HW-64, with the bay at the front setting the rooms apart effectively without need for any room dividers. A flagstone fireplace wall and a wide hearth highlight the living room. The barbecue in the kitchen backs up to this, so that one chimney takes care of both.

In the alcove to the right of the fireplace there is space for TV and Hi-Fi. Behind this alcove is a wood trellis wall through which you can look out at the gallery and patio, adding to the feeling of openness.

When the weather permits the sliding glass doors to be opened, the indoor and outdoor spaces combine for a pleasing effect. Even when the glass doors are closed, you can look right out to the patio, through the center hall, as you come in the front door.

The bedroom wing has two baths. One has a twin washbowl vanitory and is easily accessible from two bedrooms or from the foyer or hall or patio. The other, for the master bedroom, is a stall-shower bathroom.

The two bedrooms at the rear share a closet wall, with a slid-door closet for each room. The master bedroom has a walk-in closet, with over 30 square feet of space. And you can get to the bedroom wing from either the front door or patio without going through a single room.

Moving over to the other side of the house, we find an excellent space arrangement behind the garage. By placing the laundry there, the architect has made it possible for mother to handle the wash day chores without going down into the basement. Since the lavatory also is in this section, with a door to the rear, young children can go in and out without tracking mud or other dirt through any of the rooms.

This setup, convenient even if there is a basement, is absolutely essential if it is decided to build without a basement.

Should that decision be made, it would be possible to place heater - air conditioning equipment in the area of the cellar stairs, but that would necessitate another chimney.

The architect suggests, instead, a horizontal heater-air conditioning unit in the attic, under the eaves, if gas is available. If the furnace is oil-fired, an 8-foot by 10-foot excavation could be made, with the balance of the area under the house left as air space.

The full basement version calls for a 25-foot recreation room, a three-way fireplace and a built-in bar. A deep closet is provided near the fireplace for the storage of toys and games. An areaway at the back makes it possible to have three big windows for plenty of light and ventilation. The basement stairs are conveniently placed for entry to the lower level from the rear door.

There are 1,552 square feet of living space in HW-64, not including the garage and patio. The overall dimensions, which include the garage, are 73 feet by 32 feet 6 inches. A handsome, wide chimney adds to the smart, homelike exterior of this interesting house.

Regarding Patio

This latest House of The Week is suitable in all climates. Since the patio is set right into the house itself, it can be glassed in to make an extra Florida room of the type which is becoming so popular. In areas where this might not be practical, the patio can be enclosed with screens — or, of course, it can be left as is.

Prefab Kits Cut Building Costs or Remodeling

Families planning to build or remodel a home would be wise to investigate prefrabicated building kits now on the market.

These components range from patio kits and packaged bathrooms to complete wood window and door units plus knocked-down closets and cabinets. Complete roof and wall assemblies also are available.

The value of these components to the homeowner and builder is two-fold:

1. The units come assembled or are pre-cut and can be put together quickly, saving hours of expensive labor.

2. Components such as the ponderosa pine pre-hung panel door units and ponderosa pine windows with frame and sash fitted together, are made of parts machined for each other with factory precision. They work better and fit tighter.

Most of these components can be obtained from building-material dealers.

Manganese Mines Started in Brazil

RIO de JANEIRO — After nine years' preliminary research and construction, manganese mines in the Amapa territory of northern Brazil have started operations.

A concession to exploit these reserves — estimated at 30,000,000 tons, with a metal content of 46 per cent—was granted to a company formed by a Brazilian firm and a United States steel concern.

Present plans call for annual exports of 600,000 to 700,000 tons of ore, valued at $35,000,000. This would treble Brazil's manganese exports and make this nation one of the world's largest exporters of this ore.

Lower or Raise Ceiling

Want to give the illusion of a low ceiling in your old high-walled room? You can lower it by painting the ceiling either a dark color or the color of the carpet. Or horizontally striped draperies or wallpaper will do the same trick.

Must Be Weatherproof

Gayly enameled furniture for terrace and patio is accepted as necessary as the furniture in the house. Whether the finished pieces are metal or wood, they must withstand the weather. Chairs, tables and benches that rub up as bright as new after a hard rain, are the delight of the householder.

Air Conditioning Study Reaches Halfway Point

Owens - Corning Fiberglas has reached the halfway point in a significant nationwide test program in which it seeks to determine the average monthly heating and air conditioning costs of the typical American home when properly designed and adequately insulated.

This week the company announced it has compiled preliminary figures on 120 of the 172 houses entered in the program and these statistics indicate an average cost of heating and cooling of $10.64 monthly.

Owens-Corning began its Low Cost Comfort Program to determine the correctness of a statement made by Robert Thulman, former engineer of the U. S. Housing and Home Finance Agency. Mr. Thulman said the average American home of 1,000 square feet should be heated and air conditioned all year for an average cost of $10 a month.

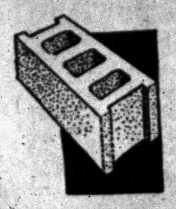

Intrigued by this statement, Owens - Corning engineers under Tyler S. Rogers, the company's technical consultant, began a study of American dwellings basing their calculations on 1,200 square feet of floor space, today's national average, and concluded that the target figure of $10 might be achieved if the houses were built to conform to "comfort engineering" principles instead of FHA minimum property requirements.

These "comfort engineering" principles include: use of maximum insulation; adequate attic ventilation; outside shading of sunny windows and, whenever possible, design of the house so that large glass areas face north and south.

Some 65 utility companies and 160 builders in 81 cities in 29 states are cooperating in the program. The builders submitted their house plans to Owens-Corning's engineers who made suggestions, as necessary, to insure that the plans would conform to "comfort engineering principles. The utility companies agreed to install submeters so that costs of heating and air conditioning could be isolated.

In the study of the first 120 homes, Owens - Corning has also predicted heating and cooling savings averaging more than 25 per cent for the "comfort engineered" dwelling when compared with those constructed to meet only FHA minimum property requirements.

This Is an AUTOCLAVED Concrete Block

Which Has Been High Pressure Steam Cured

They have been subjected to 350 steam at 100% humidity under 125 p.s.i. This produces a superior lightweight block which is stronger permanently. It stabilizes the strength of the block and reduces shrinkage and expansion . . . eliminating cracked walls. Remember Boice is the place in Oakland County that gives you high pressure steam cured blocks.

Nation's Color Taste Improving, Stylist Says

Mel Grau, one of the West Coast's leading color-stylists, says a trend toward "low key" colors means that the nation's tastes are improving.

"Low key," says Grau, who color styles thousands of new development homes in California every year, "means soft pastels in a monochromatic scheme, such as an asphalt shingle roof in a quiet brown, with harmonizing beige or gentle yellow siding and trim."

FOR RECREATION — This is the porch that is part of the garage the Owen W. Keys of Warwick built onto their house. Although as yet, there is no heat in this room, it is completely glassed and screened in and is serviceable for many months of the year.

Put Daylight in Home With Skylight

Today's improved skylights have opened new planning and living possibilities never enjoyed before in homes.

Skylights pour daylight into shut-in rooms, into dark pockets of space that have little or no outside exposure. But they make all sorts of other things possible, says an article in a recent issue of a home magazine.

★ ★ ★

Now available are ready-made skylights, complete with frame, flashing and fasteners. They are down in cost, more efficient, and easier to install. These new skylights are made of various materials—plastic, glass-fiber, and insulating glass. Most are shatter- and weather-resistant, some open and close for ventilation, and one type permits desirable winter sun to enter, but rejects the heat and glare of the summer sun.

★ ★ ★

With them you can plan on the costsaving shape of a square house and still get daylight into every room, even rooms on inside walls. By reducing outside wall area, you'll reduce the length of a house. Thus, you get lower building costs.

You can take advantage of the savings in a "service-core" plan where the kitchen, bath, and laundry are centralized for the most efficient and economical layout of water connections, vents, and drains. Skylighted core rooms have mechanical ventilators that are more efficient than the usual small windows, the magazine says.

With this service-core plan it is possible to overcome the hidebound planning restrictions of having every room on outside walls, especially the bathroom and laundry; where outside exposure is not important, but privacy is. Exterior walls can be given over entirely to living, sleeping, and working space.

Skylighting makes rooms of

wasted space, too. You can skylight a large inside closet or pantry for a half-bath when re-doing or adding to an old house. Or you may find space in some otherwise wasted nook that can be put to use. Skylights can also substitute for costly attic dormers, according to the article.

This furniture is built in flat sections, of stock widths of lumber, and may be taken apart for storage. Patterns 292 chair, 293 tables and 294 bench show every construction step which contains five patterns for porch and terrace furniture including this set, is $1. Orders under $1 add 10 cents service charge.

Gold Adds Glint to Iron

If you are looking for some ideal furniture to use on an outdoor quarry tile terrace, take some old-wrought iron pieces, paint them and sprinkle a little gold metallic powder on the newly painted iron surfaces before the paint has a chance to dry. Wrought-iron, like quarry tile, is perfect for outdoor living since it is rust-proof and doesn't have to be rushed inside every time the sky clouds up. The furniture can be painted in any number of colors to blend or contrast with the floor.

Takes Time to Mature

Ponderosa pine trees grow 100 to 150 years before they reach saw-timber height. The lumber from these stately trees is easily machined and products manufactured from it can be made to accurate dimensions. It is used for most wood windows and panel doors in the U.S. today.

Scrub Marble, Dry Well

Marble table tops, fireplace mantels and stairways can be cleaned easily by wetting with plenty of hot water, then using a scrub brush to work in thick soapsuds. Use two pails: one filled with soapy water and the other with rinse water. After rinsing thoroughly, dry the marble carefully to prevent water marks.

Summers of Yore Had Cool Knights

In medieval times, knights and fair damsels lucky enough to live in stone castles weren't bothered too much by hot weather. The thick walls kept out heat as well as warlike invaders.

Today, man could escape heat in much the same way by building his home with walls of equally massive stone, brick, or concrete. Instead, science provides him with modern insulation that fits neatly in thin wall spaces and in ceilings.

The fact is that a four-inch thickness of mineral wool insulation will stop as much heat penetration as 12 feet of concrete or 74 inches of brick.

This is because mineral wool is composed of mineral fibers surrounding millions of dead air spaces.

NEWS VIEWS

I guess the path of progress is always bumpier than a jumping kangaroo with one short leg. You take television, for example. Even though we've only had it around for a few years, a Chicago doctor claims he's already discovered a couple of new complications. I have an idea the Doc may be kidding, but he says we now have to worry about "telesquat" and "telecrane."

"Telesquat" is the thing viewers get when they slump back in their chairs while watching the TV screen. "Telecrane" attacks the impatient observer who is stuck in the back part of the room and cranes his neck to peek. Like a pretty girl at a busy intersection, these may be hazards . . . but you can't blame television. It's all in the way you look at it.

A Detroit dentist fixed up the chipped teeth on a bulldog with gold inlays. This doesn't necessarily mean the dentists are going to the dogs.

It can be worse than a toothache, trying to find the right buyer for that piece of property — and obtaining the right price for it. But, with our experienced staff of live-wire real estate salesmen to do the job for you, you'll find it's a perfectly painless operation . . .

ADDED GARAGE — The Owen R. Keys of 1729 Warwick did a smooth job when they added a 10x22 double garage on their brick home. Note the way the roof line has been extended downward in front to make the addition an integral part of the original structure. A porch was included at the rear of the garage.

Stirring and Straining Helps Prepare Paint

Always stir the contents of a paint can before using. When stirring enamels especially, be sure to stir the pigment thoroughly, but not too vigorously. The best procedure is to pour the top two-thirds into another container and stir the remainder carefully. Then, continuing the stirring, return the poured-off liquid back into the original can.

If a skin has formed on top of the can remove it all before stirring. Should any part of the skin remain, pour the entire quantity through a strainer you obtain from your paint dealer You can also use a piece of wire screen or an old section of hosiery for the purpose.

Firm Completes 300th Subplat

According to figures released by Francis H. Phelps, president of the Houseman-Spitzley Corporation, 406 Washington Boulevard Building, this pioneer land development company has just completed its 300th subdivision.

Organized in 1914 and known since that time for outstanding work in developing the suburban areas of Greater Detroit, Houseman-Spitzley Corporation has compiled an enviable record during this 43 year period. Francis H. Phelps joined the company in 1919 and has been its president since 1929.

The corporation has subdivided 12,000 acres, approximately 20 square miles, for a total of 48,000 lots in the Greater Detroit area. It is estimated that these lots are sufficient to provide living space for more than 192,000 people. This is considerably more than the population of Dearborn.

The company is particularly proud, according to Mr. Phelps, of its work in the Bloomfield Hills area where such well-known subdivisions as Charing Cross Estates, Bloomfield Heights, Brookfield Highlands, Hammond Lake Estates, Upper Long Lake Estates, Long Lake Shores and New England Estates, have been developed.

These developments have proved especially attractive because of the rolling nature of the terrain, many lakes available to residents, and the cultural and educational advantages of this district.

At the present time, because of the present population trends, in the Detroit area, northern Oakland County and especially Bloomfield and West Bloomfield Townships are being rapidly developed.

Francis H. Phelps, president of Houseman-Spitzley Coroporation.

Clean, Smooth Wood Takes Better Paint Job

Any brick home will look better if the window sashes and other woodwork are clean and bright. Before applying a fresh coat of paint to seedy-looking woodwork, clean the surface so that the paint will cling better.

First, scrape away any loose or peeling old paint. Rub the wood with sandpaper to even the surface. Then scrub both the sill and sash with a scrub brush and thick soapsuds to wash away surface dirt and grime. Use two pails to save time. Fill one with soapy wash water and the other with clear rinse water.

Shutter Ideas Add Interest to Bedrooms

Interested in a novel, attractive, low-cost bed headboard? Here's an idea that has all those features and is in step with the current return to louver doors and shutters to smart modern interiors.

★ ★ ★

Use an ordinary stock shutter, slightly longer than the width of the bed (a double-bed mattress is 54 inches wide). Attach the shutter to the spring frame by metal braces, or by a wood framework. The shutter also can be screwed or bolted to the wall.

★ ★ ★

Stock shutters generally are made of ponderosa pine, an almost-white wood that is an excellent base for any paint or stain-and-varnish finish that you need to go with the bedroom decor.

★ ★ ★

A variation of this idea is to use a shutter as a headboard for a youth fed, and a pair of shutters for the sides, to keep the youngster from falling out. Saw the side shutters in half and hinge the sections together and to the headboard so they swing back as shown in the sketch. At night, each side is moored to the bed with a hook-and-eye.

Ancient Mineral Still Used to Protect Roofs

Asphalt, one of the oldest known minerals, was used for waterproofing Noah's Ark and for waterproofing the basket in which Moses was found. It served as cement in the building of the Tower of Babel, and waterproofing for the walls of the Hanging Gardens of Babylon.

One of the modern uses is to protect roof surfaces. Roof coatings with an asphalt base are serving an important function in the American economy by keeping watertight the roofs of many factories.

Panel Wall Matches Bed

A leading furniture manufacturer is now marketing a bed that comes complete with wood paneling for the wall behind it. The wall paneling is in the form of an illuminated canopy headboard made of alternating bands of teak and walnut plywood. Purpose of the design is to lend extra warmth and charm to bedroom walls.

Paint Room According to Sun Exposure

If you want a room to have a quiet, restful effect, or if it is in the hot side of the house, use cool colors in large areas, with perhaps a warm color for contrast and accent. If your room is on the cool side of the house, or is a big oversized room, pull it together with large areas of warm color.

Warm colors include: Red, red-orange, yellow and yellow-orange. Cool colors such as blue, blue-green, or violet suggest a forest, a lake or winter. Remember the darker the warm color, the more intimate the room will appear.

Arranging a room? Remember to: arrange for a purpose such as reading, conversation or music; keep traffic lanes open; choose one center of interest; and distribute color and size of furnishings.

Adequate insulation of walls, roofs, ceilings and floors, to repel warmth, will minimize the size of equipment needed and operating costs.

Room Dividers Solve Many Problems

If the absence of interior walls in a modern, open-floor plan is a mixed blessing — adding spaciousness but subtracting privacy — a room divider can help solve the problem.

★ ★ ★

Room dividers in all shapes, sizes and materials can be called on. They can completely screen an area or merely create the illusion of separateness. Many different kinds, from sliding or folding panels to eye-high screens, are now available in a variety of synthetic and natural materials.

There are ceiling-to-floor metal or wood bars rising from a planter box by the door. Fitted with plants and vines (real or fake), they partially screen the view into an open living room.

For more privacy, folding doors of wood, vinyl or woven synthetic may be used in natural doorways or installed on ceiling tracks where you wish to separate two areas at times. This is particularly good where one part of a room doubles as guest room.

Where only an illusion of separation is desired, as in the case of a dining area, one of the most inexpensive space breakers is bamboo. It can be found in folding doors, roll-up shades, portable folding screens. Bamboo won't impede the circulation of air.

PANELED WALL — In the Loy Bennett home, the wall which the dining room and living room share is paneled in knotty pine. Floors are natural finished oak. Both the dining room furniture and the hutch cabinet in the kitchen are Willett maple. Chairs are Windsor type. The ceiling fixture is black and brass.

Wood May Be Safer

Wood homes give off considerably less natural radiation than homes of other materials, according to Swedish scientists. The figure for a wood house is 80 to 90 milliroentgens a year. This compares with 140 for brick and more than 200 for lightweight concrete with alum shale. What, if any, effect this may have on occupants is being studied by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Canvas Paints Preserve

Give your awnings, umbrellas, and chair seats a new lease on life, by coating them every few years with special water-proof canvas paints which are available at most paint and hardware stores. Fabrics will last longer if they are never folded when damp.

Color Works Wonders

In the case of an unattractive roof-line, cut up with too many unsightly gables, a good plan is to paint everything on the roof in a dark color. A house with too great a variety of shapes and sizes of windows, should never have contrasting paint used in the trimming as this merely adds to the already jumbled effect.

A high narrow house seems ungainly with a light-colored roof. The same house with a dark roof, seems to drop perceptibly and fits harmoniously into its surroundings. Contrasting doors and shutters will make even plain homes sparkle with a touch of individuality.

DAYLIGHT RESEARCH KITCHEN — Beautiful wood kitchen cabinets were selected for their natural light in the "Daylight Research House" in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Glass-block wall areas and three skylights emit the maximum amount of warmth and variety of appearance in reflecting natural light in the unusually well-designed kitchen. Backs of the factory-made wall cabinets are removed so that when the cabinet doors are opened, natural light illuminates the cabinet interiors. The kitchen is a long corridor-type room with base and wall units of wood lining the two long walls. The latest in built-in appliances completes the truly modern and convenient kitchen.

Color on Road and Water

While you pleasure-drive these fine spring days, your eye will be attracted by the colorful mobile homes that dealers in trailers have on display at their highway headquarters. These nomad dwellings are painted in countless combinations of beautiful colors. Boats are also being displayed in this fashion along the roads near water. They, too, present a colorful picture line up for the buyer's choice in a rainbow of hues.

Prepare House Now for That Fall Painting

Distributed by NEA Service

If your summer daydreaming as you lean on the lawn mower's handle includes thoughts of painting the house this fall, it's quite appropriate.

There's usually a warm, dry period during autumn that is ideal for painting. Temperature's perfect, humidity's right and the wood in your house has had a chance to dry out from summer's rains.

★ ★ ★

Don't waste those precious days on prepainting chores you can polish off during the summer. With preparatory work out of the way, you'll have more time to lean on the handle of the leaf rake come October to dream about pet workshop projects.

Examine siding for blistered paint. Use a wire brush to get rid of flaking, scaling paint and dirt. If the surface is in good condition, you should clean the surface, anyway, before you paint. Dirt clogs the brush and makes your chore that much more difficult.

If it's necessary to take the old paint off right down to the wood, in spots, cover exposed areas with a coat of primer. this will protect the wood until you paint in the fall.

Renail loose boards; replace rotted lumber. Calk spaces between boards, around doors and windows, in corners and joints of siding. Reputty windowpanes as required.

Check all boards for exposed nail heads. They rust in wet weather and will stain even the best paint jobs.

Set nail heads, prime with paint and fill over with wood putty. Sand smooth before painting.

★ ★ ★

Rainy day projects include repainting of shuters, flower boxes (after blooming season) storm windows and refinishing of outdoor lighting accessories.

Be sure to cover exposed wires and openings for fixtures with waterproof material, in case it rains while the hardware is down in your shop.

Metal trim—rails, gutters and flashings—can be painted now. Trim needs little drying time after a rain.

Before painting, use a stiff wire brush to clean off all rust. If it's necessary to work down to bare metal, be sure to use a metal primer before putting on the finish coat.

Check gutters and downspouts for leaks. Repair with one of the several patching materials in the market. They'll suffice except for large, rusted-away areas, where soldered metal patches may be necessary.

Among the tools you'll need are: Stiff wire brush, putty knife or scraper for larger pieces of scaling paint; sandpaper for finishing touches.

Don't use a blowtorch for paint removal. It's potentially a very dangerous instrument unless handled by a professional.

To speed rust removal on metal surfaces, you can use a metal bush attachment for a ¼-inch drill.

Drips Drive You Daffy? Here's How to Fix Them

Drippy faucets are so easy to fix that no homeowner should put up with sleepless nights because of them, claims the National Association of Plumbing Contractors.

Here in a few simple steps, is how the homeowner can get a better night's sleep — and save money on his water and fuel bills at the same time.

The first step of course, is to turn off the water. In most modern homes, a "shut-off" valve for both the hot and cold water faucets is located just under the fixture where the supply line comes out of the wall.

No "shut-off" valve? Then shut off the main water valve, usually located near the water meter.

Trying to take a faucet apart without turning the water off first produces some pretty spectacular results — and some mighty irritated housewives who have to mop up the mess!

After shutting off the water, open the drippy faucet far enough to relieve the pressure in the supply line.

★ ★ ★

The second step (Figure 1) is to loosen the "bonnet nut" by turning it counter-clockwise with a "flat-jawed" wrench. To prevent marring the fixture, line the jaws of the wrench with leather or adhesive tape and turn GENTLY.

For step three, gently turn the faucet handle in the "open" direction (Figure 2) until the valve stem comes out.

The "business end" of the faucet is a small brass cup containing a washer which is held in place with a brass screw. Remove the screw, as shown in step four (Figure 3) and replace the worn washer with one EXACTLY the same size.

Finally, replace the faucet handle the same way you removed it, being careful to tighten the "bonnet nut" firmly, but not forcefully.

Restore water service by opening the "shut-off" valve, then recheck the faucet. If water oozes out by the handle, try tightening the "bonnet nut" another half turn. If that doesn't work, call your plumbing contractor — the packing is probably worn out too.

If, after replacing the washer, the faucet still leaks, chances are that the valve seat is worn or corroded. Resurfacing the valve seat is a job for the plumbing contractor. It takes special equipment — and skills — to resurface the valve seat without permanently damaging the faucet.

★ ★ ★

Of course, the homeowner can save himself time and trouble — and the risk of damaging the drippy faucet — by calling his local plumbing contractor in the first place. For a very slight additional charge, the plumbing contractor will replace the washers in all the faucets in the home and check the valve seats at the same time.

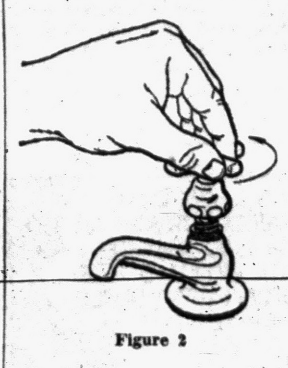

Figure 2

A little drip can waste a surprising amount of water — as much as 7,500 gallons a year. If the drip is from the hot water faucet, a substantial part of the homeowner's fuel bill is also going down the drain.

If one faucet starts leaking, others are sure to follow. By having all washers replaced at the same time by his local plumbing contractor, the homeowner can save himself the cost of additional service calls.

Figure 1

Plain Carpet Is Timeless

Plain-colored carpet can be used with furniture of any period. It is just as appropriate with Victorian heirlooms as it is with the new modern trends. And again, most figured upholstery and draperies have some color that ties into the plain carpeting, so if a new floor-covering is being considered, it might be well to bear this in mind. Wall-to-wall carpet makes a room appear larger and does away with the necessity for frequent treatment of any surrounding bare floor.

Blue, Green Best for Pools

Even the most modest swimming pool now-a-days is lined with one or another of the marine shades of green or blue. The paint used to give this fascinating effect must be a special mixture which does well under water. Chemists have perfected just the right formula for "paint for swimming pools."

Take Care of Tools

Now is a good time to perk up fireplace tools. Sandpaper marred spots and wipe them clean. Apply shellac to help prevent rust.

Australia is a federation composed of six states.

S-P Doesn't Plan Car Seat Belts

Auto Firm Says Public Has Not Yet Accepted Safety Device

WASHINGTON (AP) — Studebaker-Packard says seat belts won't become standard equipment on its cars until "ew can expect widespread public acceptance through knowledge of the proven benefits to be obtained."

Donald Schrum, a spokesman, told a House commerce subcommittee studying traffic safety yesterday that Studebaker-Packard does provide seat belts as optional equipment because various investigations have shown the belts cut down on injuries in case of accidents.

"We are in a trial and education period during which many people are using belts," Schrum said.

"Their experiences in accidents — are the test results that must be obtained before we can expect widespread public acceptance through knowledge of the proven benefits to be obtained."

A federal official took a similar view as to requiring seat belts on the quarter million motor vehicles the government owns.

J. B. Hanson, chief of the General Service Administration's (GSA) motor equipment division, said the value of seat belts has been demonstrated buy GSA is not yet making a recommendation on them because:

1. Many riders still "just won't or don't like to use seat belts."
2. Some belts have been insecurely attached or have been of "infrior quality and dubious reliability."

John O. Moore, director of automotive crash injury research for Cornell University Medical College, outlined his group's findings.

Moore said massive evidence has shown that seat belts are the most important single economical device available for cutting down auto accident injuries.

Derwyn M. Severy of the University of California's Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering, said tests there show a lap belt may prevent a motorist from being thrown about within a car or from being tossed out of a car but does not provide protection against all types of impacts.

Horses Saved From Extinction

Appaloosa War Ponies Have Written History Strange as Their Name

WASHINGTON—The polka - dotted Appaloosa has been rescued from the brink of extinction.

No figment from Lewis Carroll's "Jabberwocky," the Appaloosa is a horse with a history as strange as its name.

★ ★ ★

Splotched with tear-drop markings, the distinctive animal once carried war - whooping redskins, says the National Geographic Society. Chief Joseph of the Nez Perces mounted his hard-riding braves from a herd of about 3,000.

When General Miles defeated the Indian leader in 1877, the horses were scattered and for years their numbers ebbed. Only recently have horse fanciers started collecting and breeding them.

The Appaloosa's American background stretches back to the conquistadors. Spanish explorers and settlers introduced them to the New World in the 1600's. Frequently they ran wild and were appropriated by Indians.

TO LEWIS-CLARK

Shoshonis, who once owned thousands, turned some over to Lewis and Clark to help the white men across the continental Divide in 1805.

Their curious name refers to the Palouse country of eastern Washington, where Indians raised many of them. Westerners sighting one of the animals, would call it "a Palouse horse." This eventually became "apalouse."

Whatever they called it, cowboys and mountain men admired it. Appaloosas are comfortable to ride and have plenty of stamina. They have proved as useful in rounding up cattle as in swirling down on wagon trains. But few early ranchers could get an Appaloosa from the Nez Perces. The tribesmen wouldn't sell.

After Chief Joseph's defeat, the Indian herd dropped from sight. Twenty years ago there were probably only 50 descendants of the famed war ponies left in North America. A handful of horse lovers set out to restore the breed. By 1950, their numbers had grown tenfold.

UNDER WATCHFUL EYE of a warder in colorful Beefeater costume, archeologists dig for gold at the Tower of London.

British Controversy Boils as Gold Diggers Work

LONDON (NEA)—The Ministry of Works may soon wish it had never started digging for 300-year-old buried treasure at the Tower of London, scene of some of the bloodiest dramas in English history.

For if the treasure, valued at over a million dollars, is found and can be identified, claimants may involve the ministry in one of the weirdest and most tangled lawsuits on record.

The claimants are descendants of Sr. John Barkstead, 17th Century Governor of the Tower of London, who is said to have buried his fortune in gold in the Tower Precincts when he was forced to flee England in 1660.

If the treasure is not found, the Ministry of Works will catch the devil from British speleologists (cave explorers). A clutch of these cave men gather daily at the site of the treasure "dig" to criticize the methods employed by the ministry's archeologists.

NO. 1 SPELEOLOGIST

Among them is Charles Quarrell, Britain's No. 1 speleologist, who wears brown corduroys, a blue duffle coat and beret.

"Just look at them," Quarrell sniffs scornfully. "They're digging with a spoon. They're more interested in finding the remains of a Roman wall than they are in uncovering the Barkstead treasure."

A great favorite of Oliver Cromwell, Barkstead used his position as Tower Governor to extort money from the royalist prisoners in his charge, earning for himself the title, "Pimp of Tyranny."

With the restoration of Charles II in 1660, Barkstead fled to Holland, where he was captured by two royalist agents and smuggled back to England. He was hanged at Tyburn prison before anyone had time to learn the location of his wealth. His head was placed on a pikestaff and publicly exhibited.

★ ★ ★

Samuel Pepys, the famous diarist, made several futile searches for Barkstead's hoard, acting on information from Barkstead's mistress. The mistress disguised as a man, was actually smuggled into the Tower grounds to designate the spot where the treasure was hidden, a cellar below the Bell Tower.

The site of the present "dig" is an area four by six feet in the boiler room floor, where an electronics detector indicates the presence of non-ferrous metal objects. It may be necessary to dig down as far as 20 feet, as the floor level has been raised that much since the Tower was built.

News in Brief

James E. Adams, 24, of 499 Allen St., Clawson, pleaded guilty to driving with a revoked license, Friday, before Clawson Justice Harry R. McQuinn, and had his 15-day sentence raised to 35 days in the Oakland County Jail after he failed to pay a fine of $75 plus $4.30 costs.

James H. Leckenby, 24, 2007 Sunnyknoll St., Berkley, pleaded guilty to charges of drunk driving, Friday, before Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle, and paid a fine of $60.10 plus $4.90 costs.

Brush-Off Is Expensive

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Marion Hickam, 81, told police he got a polite but expensive brush off from two teenage girls. He said they stopped him on the street and asked: "My sakes, what have you been sitting on?" They brushed him off. He thanked them —then remembered what he had been sitting on — his wallet. It was gone, with $42.

Damage Suit Filed in Airport Slaying

PORT HURON (UP) — A $133,054 suit was filed in St. Clair County Circuit Court yesterday in the Christmas week slaying of LaVerne W. Wegener of Port Huron.

Named in the suit were the Airport Parking Co., which runs the parking lot at Willow Run Airport where Wegener was bludgeoned to death; the Airlines National Terminal Service Co., which operates the terminal for seven air lines, and the Gibbons Industrial Police of Detroit which patrols the lot.

Wegener's killers never have been caught.

He left a widow and four children.

Girl Suffers Bruises in Collision Accident

Joyce Stabley, 16, of 34 Collingwood Ave., was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital for bruises of the left arm after involvement in an auto accident at 3:35 p.m. yesterday.

Her car collided with one driven by Martin J. Burkhart, 16, of 675 Scottwood Ave., at the intersection of Baltimore and Scottwood.

Joyce was ticketed for driving without an operators license.

State, Illinois Officials to Debate License Issue

LANSING (UP) — Secy. of State James M. Hare will meet Aug. 23 in Chicago with Illinois Secy. Charles F. Carpentier to discuss truck licensing and reciprocity problems.

Here and other state officials are concerned about growth of the practice by Michigan common carriers to license truck-tractors in Michigan and trailer units in Illinois.

The state reciprocity board is trying to determine whether this legally can be done under Michigan law and the licensing reciprocity agreement between Michigan and Illinois.

Television Shows Reflect Country Music Popularity

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (UP)—A big development in entertainment recently is the widespread popularity of country music.

★ ★ ★

Word comes that Jimmy Dean's country music show, which moved into an important Saturday night slot for the summer on CBS-TV, will remain there next season.

CBS Radio recently launched a new "Country Music Show" on Friday evenings. NBC Radio presents "Grand Ole Opry" Saturday evenings.

★ ★ ★

ABC-TV is offering two country music shows: "Midwest Hayride" on Sunday evenings and "Country Music Jubilee" on Saturday evenings.

Cash Box, trade publication for the juke box industry, lists eight country music numbers among its latest top 35 most popular music box tunes. The Cash Box top 60 tunes, compiled from retail sales, lists even more.

What is country music and what is the source of its popularity?

Mike Foster of ABC-TV came up with a good description the other day:

"Country music is the only current form of folk music which from the beginnings of this country was the most important form of expression and communication. It was the means by which people could speak of the work they did, the things and places and people they loved, the needs they felt.

"Country music carries on this tradition. The unknown folk composers of yesterday have become the country music composers of today. In country music it is the song rather than the composition that reaches the people."

★ ★ ★

The fiddle followed closely behind the rifle as America moved west in the 18th Century. On the basis of old world folk tunes the settlers improvised their own music. Lyrical themes mingled with the melancholy induced by wilderness life.

★ ★ ★

But the country music of today has come a long way from "Turkey in the Straw" and "Little Britches." It's quite a hybrid.

Ira Howard, associate editor of Cash Box, believes that Elvis Presley, primarily renowned as a rock 'n' roll singer, was the most important factor in bringing country music into the limelight. He and others like him used basic country music themes and brought to it a beat which youngsters like.

Graham Says Adultery Is Nation's Great Sin

NEW YORK (UP) — Evangelist Billy Graham says adultery is the great sin of the nation.

Americans are breaking the Seventh Commandment, he said, "not only by act but by looks, thoughts, reading of obscene magazines, listening to obscene stories and repeating them."

★ ★ ★

"Not just the overt act but the intent will be judged by God," he added.

Graham addressed 14,000 persons in Madison Square Garden last night in the 77th night of his New York Crusade.

Graham's sermon was based on chapter 21 of Kings —— an account of Manasseh, a king of Israel. The evangelist said Manasseh was the "wickedest man that ever lived" and drew analogies from his life to the "sins of today."

Several Polish churchmen en route to the world Lutheran congress in Minneapolis attended the meeting.

★ ★ ★

At Graham's call, 335 persons stepped up to make "decisions for Christ." "Decisions for the entire crusade total 44,172. Attendance since the start of the crusade May 15 totals 1,460,800.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR son Jerry Ebey, who passed away 9 yrs. ago August 10, 1948.
God called him home, it was his will
But in our hearts we love him still
His memory is as dear today,
As in the hour he passed away.
Sadly missed by mother & daddy.

Pat Boone Hoping to Be 'Friend' of TV Audience

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "No doubt about it, some of us are going to fall by the wayside. I just hope it won't be me."

This was Pat Boone as he faced his first big leap into television with his own show. He starts a half-hour program this fall, and he knows what he's up against.

★ ★ ★

The 1957-58 season is the age of the vocalist. Harkening to the success of Perry Como and Dinah Shore, the networks have enlisted such stars as Frank Sinatra, Eddie Fisher, Dean Martin, Polly Bergen, Giselle McKenzie, Guy Mitchell and others for their own variety shows.

As Pat pointed out, the end of the season will see some of these stars with dropped options. But he plans to do his darnedest to avoid such a fate.

How?

"It may sound corny, but the thing I want most to do with the audience is to be a friend," he remarked between scenes of "April Love," his second movie. "I think the important thing I can do is to come across the screen as a personality in a friendly kind of way. If I can do that, I think the show will go over and I can make friends for the sponsor."

The Pat Boone show may be the first in TV history that has been adjusted to a school schedule. Pat will be winding up his last semester at Columbia University and rehearsals will have to fit into his free time from classes.

"Final exams are going to be a problem," he mused. "I may walk into the show with a book in hand and tell the folks I have to study while others do the performing."

Senate OKs Boost in Disability Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has approved benefit increases of about 170 million dollars a year for some two million disabled veterans and their dependents.

The measure, shouted through the Senate last night, now goes back to the House for consideration of some minor Senate amendments. The House passed the bill unanimously May 13.

The increased payments, which would be effective in 30 to 60 days, raise the total disability rate from the present $181 monthly to $225. A 10 per cent disability payment would rise from $17 to $19, 50 per cent disability from $91 to $100, 80 per cent disability from $145 to 160, with similar hikes in other categories.

Japanese Seek Help to Collect From Soldiers

KAGOHARA, Japan (AP) — Japanese merchants have asked the U.S. Army to help them collect 2½ million yen ($7,080) they say is owed by American soldiers in this area before the completion of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Division withdrawal.

Capt. Albert Rakas of Chicago, 8th Cavalry regiment civil affairs officer at Camp Whittington, said Japanese businessmen presented the bills at a recent meeting with Army officials.

Since the presentation, 360,000 yen ($1,000) of the debts has been paid and the Army is trying to collect more, Rakas said.

"However, we cannot help those merchants who operated without sound business practices," Rakas added.

He said many businessmen overextended credit despite Army warnings or recorded the debts with sketchy names like "sergeant Johnny."

Hoffa Is Involved in 3-Car Accident

Teamster Union Vice-President James R. Hoffa was involved in a three-car collision on Opdyke road, near Pontiac road, Pontiac Township Friday morning.

A car driven by Leroy F. Bailey of Lake Orion stopped quickly to let a dog cross the road. The car behind, driven by Robert L. Woolcox, 19, of Oxford, could not stop in time and hit Bailey's car. Then Hoffa, third in line, was unable to stop and plowed into Woolcox's vehicle.

No one was injured and no tickets were issued. Hoffa produced a driver's license which he was unable to show the previous time he was stopped in the county. He was driving a 1956 Cadillac belonging to Detroit Teamsters Local 299.

Hoffa earlier was fined $17 for speeding and carrying no operator's license.

Why is it that when a man retires and no longer has to worry about time, he is usually given a watch? . . . It's a wise father that knows as much as his child . . . Some women think they're practicing economy when they go on a five-day shopping week. — Earl Wilson.

Singer Is Released

NEW YORK (AP)—Singer Marion Marlowe was released last night from Doctors Hospital where she was treated for a virus infection of the chest.

Miss Marlowe and her husband, Larry Puck, will fly to St. Louis tomorrow to be with her family while she convalesces. She was taken to the hospital Aug. 3 with severe chest pains.

Hungarian refugees moving into their American homes report they like brown bread with their meat and vegetables. They regard white bread as something like cake.

Boston Lacks Papers

BOSTON (AP)—More than 1,250,000 news-hungry greater Boston residents were without local morning newspapers today as a wage dispute involving 300 mailers forced six of the city's seven dailies to suspend publication temporarily.

It was the first local newspaper blackout in the memory of veteran newsmen.

One newspaper spokesman said the suspension might be a long one for the six dailies involved—the Morning and Evening Globe, Morning Herald, the Hearst corporation's morning Record and evening American, and the evening Traveler.

BIBLE QUIZ

QUESTION: What happened when Moses struck the rock with his staff?

ANSWER: Water gushed out for the people of Israel to drink.

This happened during the Hebrews' wanderings in the wilderness, after they had fled from Egypt. The Bible tells how the people grumbled at Moses because they lacked water. "What shall I do?" Moses asked the Lord. "The people are almost ready to stone me."

Then the Lord told Moses to smite the rock with his rod, and there was ample water for all to drink.

It was during their period in the wilderness that the people of Israel received the Ten Commandments, written on stone tablets God had given him on Mount Sinai.

ALL IN THE EAR

What you see in this girl's ear is Sonotone's new hearing aid — complete. IT'S WORN ENTIRELY IN THE EAR — no cord, no extra "button." Weighs only half an ounce.

Women's hairdos hide it completely. On men, this amazing hearing aid is barely noticeable from any angle.

KNOW WHAT YOU PAY FOR!
You receive an itemized bill when your TV Receiver or other electronic equipment is repaired by a member of the Oakland County Electronics Association. This bill lists each part individually at the manufacturers' suggested price. The service charge is listed as a separate item to make sure you know exactly the charge for parts and service. This is part of the Code of Ethics of the OCEA and another effort to create a better understanding of what is required to properly service electronic equipment. To be sure of better service at honest prices call a member of the Oakland County Electronics Association and know what you pay for.
