Look Out, Humpty

Supervisors Go to Secret Talks on Courthouse

By GEORGE P. TRUMBULL JR.

Courthouse-planning Oakland County supervisors went behind closed and guarded doors yesterday, hoping to iron out a ticklish situation.

When they came out about 45 minutes later, this reporter was told: "We have taken no final action on any of the courthouse bids, and we won't until next Tuesday."

It was learned, however, that supervisors were studying possibilities of awarding the general construction contract to a Pontiac firm instead of the low bidder from Detroit.

A spokesman for the courthouse architects, O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach of Birmingham, said under the specifications Oakland County could, if it wished, award the big contract to a firm other than the low bidder.

He said taking into account alternates, substitutions and the fact that the county has agreed to pay extra for the general contractor to assume supervision over the mechanical and electrical trades, the difference comes to about $2,085 between the low bidder — A. Z. Schmina & Sons—and the second low bidder—J. A. Fredman Co. of Pontiac.

Confronted with many legal blocks to building the new courthouse in the past, supervisors are being "most cautious" not to stir up another law suit, a source close to the Board of Supervisors disclosed.

Three committees of the Board settled on some preliminary courthouse business yesterday afternoon, and then David Levinson, Birmingham supervisor in charge of the Special Courthouse Building Committee, asked architects, county officials and this reporter to leave the room.

"We are now going into executive session," he announced.

$3 MILLION PRICE TAG

The Board of Supervisors has until next Thursday to accept or reject construction bids on the new building, which now has a price tag of $3,000,000, Levinson said.

He added that the same three committees would meet before next Tuesday's special meeting of the Board of Supervisors and decide on which general, mechanical and electrical companies would be recommended to the Board for the contracts.

Although there is some debate over who the general contractor will be, it is expected that R. L.

Showers Ahead Will Keep Grass Green and High

Frequent periods of showers and thundershowers may be expected tonight through the next five days, the weatherman said. Tonight will be about 60 degrees.

Thursday will be somewhat cooler with the high near 70 and occasional showers. Today's southwesterly winds at 15-20 miles an hour will be briefly higher during thundershowers.

Temperatures for the weekend will average near the normal high of 69-75 and normal low of 48-54.

Sixty-six was the lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The thermometer read 85 at 2 p.m.

To Sentence 3 in Conspiracy

City Policeman, Two Others Plead Guilty; Bribe Charge Dropped

Just as their trial was to begin in Oakland County Circuit Court, suspended Pontiac policeman Jess W. Quick and two other men yesterday pleaded guilty to conspiracy to obstruct justice.

Upon the motion of Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry Jr., a first charge of bribery against the trio was dropped following their pleas.

Quick, 43, of 502 E. Beverly Ave.; Charles B. Johnson, 57, of 26 W. Kennett Rd.; and Leslon S. Karnes, 63, of 822½ Baldwin Ave. will be sentenced by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams on the conspiracy charge June 11.

Quick is accused of taking $122 from Johnson, alleged operator of a gambling game in Pontiac, last fall to turn over to a Pontiac vice squad officer as a bribe.

Karnes was named later as a co-defendant when he refused to testify against Quick, a member of the Pontiac force for 14 years.

At the time of the arrest, investigators probed the possibility of a link between Quick and the torch death of Flint Teamsters business agent Frank Kierdorf. Police said Quick visited Leaun Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamsters, at his home the morning after Kierdorf was burned critically Aug. 3.

Quick said he was there to sell an advertisement in a police magazine.

Quick, Johnson and Karnes could receive maximum prison terms of five years for conspiracy. Judge Adams continued $500 bonds on each.

The Prosecutor's Office was confronted for awhile with a legal problem before the scheduled trial of the trio. The attorney for Karnes and Johnson had waived a jury trial, while Quick's attorney demanded one.

Utter Prayers for Late Father

DULLES CHILDREN AT CATHEDRAL — Two of the children of John Foster Dulles, Mrs. Robert Hinshaw of New York and the Rev. Avery Dulles, leave Washington National Cathedral. They attended a brief prayer service today for the late secretary of state. Mrs. Hinshaw is a Presbyterian minister, Fr. Avery a Roman Catholic priest assigned to Rome.

Thousands Pay Last Respects Before Services

World Leaders Follow Coffin to Burial Site in Arlington Cemetery

WASHINGTON (AP)—Even as the hour of the funeral of John Foster Dulles drew near, visitors continued to stream in.

At noon, the doors of Washington National Cathedral were closed to the public.

A few who did not get into the chapel turned away. Above the murmer of their hushed voices rang the clear tones of a 50-member men and boys' choir, practicing in another wing of the building.

There was no immediate word of the number of visitors.

But guards said that when the chapel doors were closed they were using the third large leather-bound book for names of those who wanted to sign that they had come to pay last respects to the late secretary of state.

There were 2,800 seats set up for the cathedral services, all occupied by invited guests, including the large representation from diplomatic circles around the world.

The front row of the nave, to the right was reserved for Dulles' family. The left hand row, across from them, was for President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

There were places too for representatives of 86 nations — all of those with which the United States has diplomatic relations.

Arrangements were made for only 21 of the most distinguished foreign visitors to join in the cortege to the cemetery. Limousine assignments for them were made in alphabetical order.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's place was in the 10th car of the foreign group.

The first 10 cars of the mile-long cortege were for the family, the President, vice president, and honorary pallbearers.

Many to Enjoy Time Off Over Memorial Weekend

As Pontiac pauses to honor its war dead, industry and government will give workers a brief respite from their daily activities while the nation observes its first long holiday weekend of the year.

City offices will be closed next Monday, giving workers a three-day holiday weekend. City offices are normally closed on Saturdays.

County offices, however, will be open for business Monday. Oakland County Personnel Director John Witherup said the only employes to receive a compensatory day off on Monday will be those who normally have to work on Saturday.

Others, he said, will not be affected by the holiday.

The post office will be closed Saturday with no windows open and no mail delivered, said Robert C. Miller, acting postmaster. Only special delivery service will be offered.

Box patrons with boxes in the main post office will be able to pick up mail on Saturday.

Workers at the Fisher Body and Pontiac Motor plants will be off Saturday and Sunday, while GMC Truck & Coach employes generally will be off Friday through Sunday.

Meanwhile, Michigan State Police prepared for what they fear will be a bloody holiday weekend on the state's highways.

Better weather after a bitter winter and more cars on the highway with an improvement in the economy have contributed to a sharp upswing in the number of traffic fatalities, Childs said.

The National Guard has assigned 129 men to work with State Police and 96 to aid sheriff's deputies throughout the state.

Last year, when Memorial Day fell on a Friday only 13 deaths were recorded. The high for a Memorial Day was 58 deaths in 1941 and the low as four in 1950.

Meanwhile, the National Safety Council said today that state and local plans for the greatest crackdown on traffic violators in history may cut Memorial Day holiday deaths below its estimates.

The Council has estimated 260 persons could die in traffic during the holiday weekend between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday. This compares with an estimated 225 traffic fatalities during a non-holiday period of a similar duration.

LANSING (AP) — A 146 million-dollar tax package keyed to a personal income tax, cleared the House Taxation Committee today and moved to the House floor for debate. It is the first income tax proposal to clear a legislative committee. The plan would require individuals to pay seven per cent of their federal income tax liability to the state. Corporations would pay 12 per cent of their federal tax and banks and other financial institutions 14 per cent.

To Begin Farmington, Evergreen Systems

Oakland Sewer Bonds Are Sold

A Detroit and New York bond buying syndicate headed by Halsey Stuart & Company Inc., yesterday purchased $12,667,000 in general obligation bonds from Oakland County to help finance construction of the Farmington and Evergreen sanitary sewer systems.

Sale of the bonds culminated seven years of planning for the much needed sewers.

Harold K. Schone, director of the County Department of Public Works which will build the long-awaited sewers, said he was satisfied with the interest rates the lowest bidder submitted, "in the light of today's bond market."

He said the average interest yield on the $6,919,000 eight-community Evergreen sewer will be 4.39946 per cent, while for the four-community $5,748,000 Farmington sewer it will be 4.39918.

Schone said the slight difference is because of the difference in costs of the two sewers.

The Halsey Stuart & Company and associates was the lowest of two syndicated bids submitted, Schone said. The second, approximately one-tenth of one per cent higher in interest rates, came from the First of Michigan Corporation of Detroit and 39 associates.

There were 39 associates, common practice for such large bond sales, Schone said, combined in the winning bidding syndicate.

Considering that each of the two syndicates is split into many different bonding houses which showed an interest in the bonds, Schone said he was satisfied here, too, with the number of bidders.

Because of many legal entanglements going back several years,

THOMAS F. WIETHORN

Pick Thomas Wiethorn, Fisher Body Manager, for Fund Post

Thomas F. Wiethorn, Fisher Body plant manager, has been named chairman of the Industrial Division campaign for the 1959 Pontiac Area United Fund Drive.

Wiethorn's appointment was announced today by Robert R. Eldred general chairman of this year's drive.

Wiethorn is chairman of General Motors' local Plant-City Committee and a member of the UF Board of Trustees.

He lives in Birmingham.

Last year the Industrial Division raised $371,594.37 of the drive's total amount of $584,370.61.

The Industrial Division includes 50 small plants in Pontiac and Waterford Township, and firms belonging to the Pontiac Manufacturers Assn.

These include American Forging & Socket, Baldwin Rubber, Consumers Power, Fisher Body, GMC Truck & Coach, Pontiac Motor, Jig Bushing, Pontiac Varnish, and Universal Oil Seal.

But Employment Continues to Lag

State Steadily Pulling Out of Recession

LANSING (AP)—Michigan is steadily pulling out of the recession.

There's an increase in production and industrial expansion.

Unemployment is on the wane and the direct relief case load is down.

But employment is still lagging behind despite these gains.

These were the findings of spokesmen for three key state agencies, reporting to Gov. Williams yesterday on Michigan's economic climate.

Practically all indicators point to a substantial improvement in the Michigan economy in 1959 compared with the corresponding months of 1958," reported Max H. Horton, director of the State Employment Security Commission.

"Statistics on retail sales, personal income and production all show substantial improvement," he said.

New unemployment compensation claims, he said, were down 72 per cent from April 1958.

"But a large part of the estimated reduction apparently has been due to retirements from the labor force and a migration of unemployed workers to other states," he added.

Horton said there also still is a large core of unemployed who have used up all their benefits.

"There is good productivity," he said, "but it isn't reflected in terms of employment. They seem to be doing it with less workers."

Paul A. Herbert, research chief for the State Economic Development Department, gave a similar picture.

"The single exception," he said, "is the lag in manufacturing employment."

Herbert said there is a gradual increase in industrial expansion in the state.

He said records "obviously incomplete" reported plans for 148 million dollars in industrial construction in Michigan so far this year against 109 millions in the entire 1958 year.

Notable expansion he cited were 100 million dollars by Great Lakes Steel Co. at Ecorse, 35 million dollars by the Ford Co. at Willow Run and six million dollars by Chrysler Corp. in Detroit.

Small car production by the automotive plants should help the Michigan economy, Herbert said.

He also noted a greater diversification among new industries starting up and moving into the state with less centering in the automotive field.

"I think we've seen the high point for our direct relief roles," reported W. J. Maxey, director of the State Social Welfare Department.

Maxey reported a gradual decline in direct relief cases this year from a high of 48,861 in February to 45,466 in April. Detroit has shown the slowest decline, he said, dropping only from 16,452 in February to 16,330 in April.

The governor said he would use some of the figures in urging the Legislature to back his proposed 140 million dollar bond issue for new state construction.

NL President Rules Final Score Is 1-0

CINCINNATI (AP) — The final score of last night's game in which Pittsburgh pitcher Harvey Haddix did not allow a hit in 12 innings, was 1-0 in favor of Milwaukee, instead of 2-0.

That was the ruling today of Warren C. Giles, president of the National League.

Milwaukee won the game in the 13th inning when Felix Mantilla was safe on a fielding error, moved to second on a sacrifice and after Hank Aaron was walked purposely, scored on Joe Adcock's blast over the left field fence.

Aaron stopped at second base and then ran across the pitcher's mound toward the dugout. Adcock passed him, but both quickly retraced their steps, and Umpire Frank Dascoli ruled Aaron's run valid, but ruled Adcock's hit a double.

Straley Battles City on 2 Fronts

Herbert W. Straley was fighting on two fronts today.

The ousted Pontiac police chief fired the first shot in a new skirmish at City Hall last night and today was given permission to take his battle for reinstatement out of the jurisdiction of Oakland County Circuit Court.

Portraying himself as financially stricken, Straley last night demanded from the City Commission reimbursement for 65 vacation days he said were due him at the time of his temporary suspension Feb. 18.

The demand touched off a sharp clash which ended with the Commission promising to talk the matter over privately tomorrow night and render a formal decision next Tuesday.

Today, the Oakland County Circuit bench granted Straley a change of venue in his appeal to reverse his April 4 ouster by the Pontiac Civil Service Commission.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, presiding, said the State Circuit Court commissioner had assigned Straley's appeal to the court of Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis, in Ionia County.

Straley had argued there was too much publicity here over his dismissal for him to get a fair hearing locally.

Straley angrily told city commissioners that Finance Director Marvin Alward had turned down his request for vacation-time reimbursement, amounting to about $1,500.

Alward said he acted on the advice of City Attorney William A. Ewart.

Ewart said there should be no payment until Straley's status is determined by the appeal.

Spitzley of Detroit, low bidder in the mechanical field, would receive a contract, while Schultz Electric Co. of Pontiac, the low bidder, would receive the contract for the electrical trades in the building.

Levinson yesterday also refused to release the detailed breakdown of some $3 million he told other supervisors "is or will be available" for the courthouse.

Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the Board of Auditors, yesterday disclosed that "sufficient funds will be available to meet the obligation for the first unit of the new courthouse."

Moore, too, refused to give out a breakdown of these funds, "if you're going to print it."

$2 MILLION NOW

In the open portion of yesterday's session, however, Levinson said $2,050,000 "is available right now to apply on contracts."

He said the balance of the $3 million would come from the following sources: $375,000 from levying for two years one-tenth of a mill for public buildings; $75,000 from interest on invested building funds; and $500,000 from the sale of county-owned properties, including the present downtown courthouse and site.

"Not a single welfare home where there is a family living will be sold," Levinson assured fellow supervisors.

His committee, in conjunction with the architects, is moving ahead although a spokesman for the protesting Oakland County Taxpayers League said he "understands" there is time left to appeal a decree in the law suit which had held up construction of the new courthouse since 1956.

This conflicts with what Norman R. Barnard, county corporation counsel, said yesterday. He said the county believes the deadline for such an appeal "is 'way past."

"The deadline was 20 days after the decree was signed (April 28)," he said. "We feel if they intended appealing, they would have served us notice by now."

STILL UNDER STUDY

Bruce J. Annett, secretary of the League, said attorneys were still studying "the legal aspects" of an appeal. He declined to say whether an appeal would be filed.

"All depends on what the attorneys find," he said.

Other action taken up in the open session yesterday included approval by the three committees that a project supervisor be hired to coordinate construction of the courthouse on Telegraph road in the County Service Center. Advisability of such a person was suggested by the architects.

It was also agreed that action would begin to annex to the city of Pontiac a certain section of Waterford Township, which the county needs to complete the plot where the courthouse will be built.

In a Supreme Court opinion handed down in February, the only adverse decision against the county was that the justices ruled the county had not in the past legally annexed this parcel.

The opinion came after the League three years ago sued the county, claiming the Board of Supervisors and Board of Auditors had padded budgets in order to build up surpluses to use for construction of the new building.

The Supreme Court said otherwise.

Jaycees Elect New Officers in Waterford

Drain Bill Wins Legislature OK

Oakland's Bid to Hike Maintenance Allotment Goes to Governor

Oakland County's proposal to liberalize maximum cleanout and maintenance expenditures on county and inter-county drains headed today for the governor's desk after getting through the Legislature.

The bill would permit spending of $300 a mile a year, or one per cent of drain cost. The existing limit is $800 per drain, regardless of size.

If we build a 10 million dollar drain we can't do much cleaning out for $800," explained Charles A. Davis, assistant county coporation counsel.

The county's representative in the State Senate, L. Harvey Lodge, said the present expenditure restriction has led to neglect of drain maintenance because funds legally available are insufficient to pay for the work.

The Senate passed the bill 25 to 7, and then approved 30 to 2 a bill to allow counties to contract for use of county or inter-county drains for transportation of sanitary sewage.

Both measures were given immediate effect.

ported Ewart but Commissioners Robert A. Landry and Milton R. Henry objected.

"By denying this pay, the Commission is scraping the boottom of the barrel," Landry said.

Alward and City Manager Walter K. Willman maintained it was city policy not to hand out reimbursement for more than 30 days of accrued vacation time.

"The city of Pontiac is no different from any other employer," Straley snapped back. "I was discharged and the personnel rules say that discharged employes should get all pay owed them immediately on discharge.

"There is a question whether you were fully discharged or are still under a state of suspension," observed Rowston.

"Nonsense. I was discharged. All the newspaper headlines and radio broadcasts testified to that," retorted Starley.

"I don't see any reason why Chief Straley shouldn't be paid right now—at least for 30 days of unused vacation time," said Henry.

The former police chief's appearance in the commission chambers was a surprise to commissioners. He introduced himself as "a Pontiac citizen and taxpayer."

"I have been unemployed and without income for almost four months and am in urgent need of the money," Straley said.

Agreeing to a week's delay on his request, Straley asked the Commission:

"Would you want to pay for one week the interest on the money I have had to borrow to live on?"

Straley's ouster was on charges brought by Public Safety Director George D. Eastman, including incompetency and insubordination.

The Civil Service Commission's upholding of the charges climaxed two year's of internal strife within the Police Department, a situation which led the city to put Eastman in the unfilled safety director's post last fall.

Road Assessment Course Gets Rockier

More protests over high assessments in arterial road improvements were fired at the City Commission last night, adding pressure for a revision in the city's special assessment policy.

Latest complaints came from residents of N. East boulevard, who are facing assessments of $4.50 a front foot for proposed widening of their street from 22 feet to 46 feet, between Mt. Clemens and Michigan.

"I think some adjustment in the assessment formula is necessary to ease the load for these people," said District 6 Commissioner Wesley J. Wood, who represents the area involved.

"The widening is designed to help through traffic, not the residents of the street.

'HEAVILY ASSESSED' BEFORE

"I don't want to stop progress, but these people were heavily assessed once already when the original pavement was constructed 10 years ago."

It's estimated that widening will cost $20,435 in special assessments and $101,838 in city funds.

After six residents voiced objections at last night's hearing on intention to widen the street this summer, commissioners voted to adjourn the hearing one week.

They plan to review the assessment policy on this street and on the proposed paving of Joslyn road tomorrow night at an informal discussion meeting.

The policy discussion was scheduled last week after Joslyn avenue residents protested assessment rates of $5.50 a front foot for paving their road from Walton boulevard to Collier road at the northern city limits.

Up to now, the city has had a rigid assessment formula, with rates for paving arterial streets higher than rates for blacktopping neighborhood streets.

CASS PROJECT UNOPPOSED

There were no objections raised last night on another hearing airing intention to proceed with another big widening project — Cass avenue, Oakland to Wisner Stadium.

Relatively few objections were raised at a hearing covering an assessment roll drawn up as a result of unpaid bills stemming from last summer's weed-cutting program.

Two property owners protested their assessments, far fewer than appeared last year or the year before. One property owner complained the city had assessed him for cutting three lots he cut himself.

Noting that property owners were generally undertaking to keep vacant lots trimmed of weeds themselves and considering the relatively small amount of unpaid bills — $1,145, several commissioners expressed belief that the weed-cutting program was proving a success.

There were no objections raised at hearings on assessment rolls covering four big recapping projects, involving Cass avenue, Pike to Orchard Lake; E. Huron street, Saginaw to Perry; Prall street, Huron to Washington; and Sanderson street, Oakland to Cass.

Hearings were set June 2 on intention to proceed with eight other public improvements, including:

Curbs and gutters on Harriett street, Adelaide to Baldwin — assessed cost $5,832; city cost, $1,172; cost for 50-foot lot, $250; cost per sewer stub, $72; and Arlene street, Madison to Second — assessed cost, $10,396; city cost, $7,484; cost for a 50-foot lot, $175.

SANITARY SEWER

A sidewalk on the north side of Columbia avenue, Carlisle to Walton Boulevard Park subdivision—assessed cost, $484; city cost, $475; cost for a 20-foot lot, $40.

And four grading and graveling projects, including Kettering avenue, between Madison and Baltimore — assessed cost, $1,570; city cost, $20; cost for a 50-foot lot, $75; E. Huron street, Douglas to Paddock — assessed cost $84; city cost, $4,407; cost for a 94-foot side lot, $84; Manhattan avenue, Emerson to Parkwood — assessed cost, $2,842; city cost, $4,644; cost for a 129-foot side lot, $110; and the alley north of Auburn avenue, Sanford to Ardmore — assessed cost (commercial), $803; assessed cost (residential), $113; city cost, $1,672; cost for a 40-foot commercial lot, $90; cost for a 129-foot side residential lot, $58.

These eight projects were all declared public necessities, as was construction of an alley north of Walton boulevard, Baldwin to University, for which the Engineering Department was asked to prepare plans.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said there is a possibility that the Huron street extension through Richardson Park may be curved, rather than straight, to add to the attractiveness of the drive.

At the suggestion of Commissioners Floyd P. Miles and William W. Donaldson, the manager said he would study the possibility of designing the Cass avenue widening to provide for angle parking at Wisner Stadium.

Referred to the Planning Commission was a petition calling for rezoning of the northwest corner of Perry street and Walton boulevard from residential to commercial. It was signed by 83 per cent of the affected residents.

On motion of Commissioner Miles, a petition protesting installation of curbs and gutters on Tennyson avenue, Hollywood to Bonnie Briar Bush subdivision, was returned to the circulator for signatures of more property owners.

The Assessor's Department said that only 29 per cent of those that signed the petition were property owners.

On recommendation of Willman, Ridge Associates, Inc. was given permission to sublease part of its land at Pontiac Municipal Airport to Fiesta Incorporates of Flint for a new hangar.

Solemn Rites for Dulles

the Bethlehem Chapel of the cathedral, where it had lain in state for 24 hours, to the main part of the cathedral. There, the coffin lay bathed in soft golden light at the foot of the steps of the choir.

At the request of his family, there was no sermon or eulogy for Dulles. There were prayers, readings from the Old and New Testaments, some of Dulles' favorite hyms sung by the cathedral's famous boys' choir with the congregation joining in, and a reading from John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" by Dr. Roswell P. Barnes of New York, U.S. secretary of the World Council of Churches.

More than 100 uniformed service men, representing all of the branches of the military, served as ushers.

The funeral service began with a processional hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past." Dr. Paul A. Wolf, pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church which Dulles attended when in New York, then read from the 27th Psalm and the invocation from the Presbyterian Book of Common Worship.

Dr. Edward L. R. Elson, pastor of the National Presbyterian Church here where both Eisenhower and Dulles worshipped, read from the New Testament. From John 14, he read: "In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you."

Ordinary citizens of his own country honored Dulles as they streamed by the thousands past his mahogany casket, lying in state in a chapel of the cathedral.

Through the night they came to see, to pause, perhaps to pray in the flower-banked chapel.

The nation shared in the final rites telecast at 3:30 p.m. EDT from the cemetery by at least two of the networks.

The Senate adjourned for the day so its members could attend as a group. House leaders announced a recess at the time of the funeral.

Top officials from many lands flocked to Washington to pay their final respects. West Germany's chancellor Konrad Adenaur arrived Tuesday night.

A plane from Geneva carried Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and Britain's Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd from the Big Four conference on Germany, adjourned two days for the occasion.

Trial Board Has Secret Session

Locks Doors to Discuss Recommendations of Mayor's Committee

At a secret City Hall meeting last night, the Police Trial Board discussed recommendations of the special Mayor's Trial Board Committee—recommendations designed to make the trial board setup palatable to rank and file police officers.

Presenting the recommendations to the seven member Trial Board was Harvey M. Johns, committee chairman.

The committee's recommendations were released shortly before Pontiac voters repealed Civil Service in April and reinstated the Trial Board system.

The study group urged more disciplinary authority within the Pontiac Police Dept., changes in the Trial Board's rules of procedures, and recommended generally that rules and regulations for the conduct of police officers be revised.

NO ACTION TAKEN

V. H. Ayling, Trial Board chairman, said no action was taken at the meeting.

He said the Trial Board plans to meet with Public Safety Director George D. Eastman some time next week.

"We feel it's his job to draw up police rules and regulations, and for us to approve or disapprove them," he said.

"It's sort of a touchy job.

"We naturally have our feelings on what these rules should consist of, and naturally we have some plans of our own."

He said the Trial Board felt Eastman "capable" of drawing up suitable rules for the Police Department's operation.

Explaining the closed-door policy, Ayling called the meeting "organizational as far as we're concerned."

"We want to find out where we're going and what we're doing," he said.

Miriani Raps 'Raiding' Party

Has No Welcome for Governor of Tennessee on Detroit Visit

DETROIT (UPI) — Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington left Michigan today but he left behind others from the Volunteer State to court discontented Michigan industries.

Ellington's visit to Detroit brought a complaint from Detroit Mayor Louis C. Miriani that he was trying to steal Michigan industry and an invitation from Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams to visit the Michigan capital to "talk over matters of mutual interest."

Miriani made it clear yesterday he did not welcome Ellington's visit to Detroit to talk to industries which might be interested in locating in Tennessee.

But Ellington made it just as clear he would not be diverted from his business in Michigan.

"This is a barefaced attempt to steal industry from Michigan," Miriani said of Ellington's visit despite assurances that "this is not a raiding party" from members of his own staff.

Ellington, meanwhile, told Williams he was too busy to meet with him.

WILLIAM L. BELANEY

Joins GMTC Credit Union

William Belaney Will Head Public Relation Department There

William L. Belaney will resign as assistant manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Monday to become director of public relations and education of the GMTC Employes Federal Credit Union.

Belaney's appointment to the credit union post was announced today by Harry J. Woodman, treasurer and general manager.

Belaney, who has held the Chamber of Commerce post 2½ years, previously was employed as sales manager at Radio Station WPON.

A graduate of Ohio State University, the 32-year-old Ohio native joined the radio industry in Bay City in 1953.

Belaney is on the board of directors of the Pontiac Lions Club, is a member of the Urban League of Pontiac, and is chairman of the Advisory Council of the Marketing Information for Consumers Program of the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

He has served as president of the board of directors of the Pontiac Co-op Federal Credit Union.

County Sells Bonds for 2-Sewer Project

Schone said construction probably would begin on both sewers within 10 days.

After the interest rates and bond buyers are printed on the bonds, Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, and Daniel T. Murphy Jr., county clerk-register, will fly to New York to sign the bonds.

The Farmington sewer will serve the city of Keego Harbor, the major portion of West Bloomfield Township, all of Farmington Township, and a small section of the city of Southfield.

The cities of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Lathrup Village, part of Troy, Southfield, the village of Beverly Hills, all of Bloomfield and part of Pontiac Townships will be served by the Evergreen sewer.

Mechanical equipment has been developed which is strong enough to pick up and carry a tree weighing as much as 40 tons, according to the Davey Tree Expert Co.

Kenny President Issues Warning

Aid to Disabled Labeled a Must

"A social and economic crisis of the first magnitude awaits the next generation unless disabled persons are fitted again for service to society."

This warning was issued by Howard N. Maynard, last night re-elected to the presidency of the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation at the organization's 12th annual dinner-meeting at Kingsley Inn.

Maynard said the flow of patients has been constant at the Rehabilitation Center in Ferndale. His progress report showed that the center has been averaging 485 treatments a month.

"Just about every crippling disorder is included in the outpatient list at Ferndale," said Maynard. "Arthritis, amputees, congenital deformities, cerebral palsy, Parkinsonism, hemoplegia, multiple sclerosis and polio are just some of the many.

"Most of the 30 million people suffering physical or mental impairment in this country can be restored to some degree of self-help and productivity."

He added that the best health experts see the possibility of another generation carrying the burden of one chronically ill, physically handicapped, non-productive person for every able-bodied American worker, unless rehabilitation endeavors are accelerated.

Other officers re-elected last night were D. C. Fisher, chairman of the board; J. P. Schaupner, Robert E. Forbes and Dr. John C. Montgomery, vice presidents; E. J. Rollings, executive vice president; Donald F. Carney, secretary; John R. Wilt, treasurer and S. Francis Mahoney, assistant treasurer.

Elected vice president was Richard S. Daley, who has served as a trustee since 1952.

A new member elected to the board of trustees for a three-year term was Robert J. Grow.

Re-elected to the board of trustees were Mrs. Philip A. Hart, Herman L. Weckler, Mrs. Marjorie Karker, D. C. Fisher, Robert E. Forbes and Arthur R. Hoffman.

Principal speaker at the meeting was Dr. Ronald C. S. Young, renowned lecturer, author and education consultant. His topic was "Our Heritage."

The Day in Birmingham

Little Change Expected in Transient Firm Laws

BIRMINGHAM — Few, if any, changes are contemplated in the city's ordinance regulating the so-called transient merchants.

Following a study, city attorneys have advised that the ordinance as it now exists provides full control of the licensing of local business.

The only possible change would be an increase in the license fee which would be returnable on personal property taxes after the business was established.

The study was made primarily to determine the number of persons who operated short-term commercial enterprises locally.

The Birmingham Police Department and the Chamber of Commerce, however, are warning householders against the door-to-door salesman-type enterprise.

Charles Mortensen, C. of C. secretary, said no payments should be made nor contracts signed until the article has been received and examined by the purchaser.

Householders were warned particularly against high-pressure salesmen by Police Chief Ralph Moxley.

He reminded residents that door-to-door salesmen must be licensed by the city. In the event that such a person becomes obnoxious and over persistent, demand to see the license or call the Police Department immediately, said Moxley.

Both Moxley and Mortensen pointed out that many of these firms are located far from Birmingham. They are serviced by transient crews whose only interest is in making a sale, they said, and the only way to safeguard purchasers is by their own alertness at the time of the interview.

Bloomfield Hills public schools were granted permission yesterday by the State Municipal Finance Commission to borrow $350,000.

The loans, backed by tax anticipation notes, will be used to meet construction and maintenance costs throughout the school system.

Residents of W. Lincoln avenue, between Southfield and Cranbrook roads, are being informed by city officials that little can be done to remove truck traffic from their street this summer.

Construction on Maple avenue will reroute many vehicles over Lincoln avenue, they said.

City Manager L. R. Gare reported, however, that a study will be made and every step taken to relieve the situation.

A news release from Washington D. C. states that Birmingham and Bloomfield area young men may apply for entrance to the U.S. Air Force Academy for 1960 by writing their congressman, William S. Broomfield.

Applicants to the academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., must be U.S. citizens, between 17 and 22 years of age and never married.

Preliminary examinations will be given July 13 with one to be chosen from this area.

Pfc. John Kelley

Service for Pfc. John Kelley, 22, of 659 Wallace St., will be at 9 a.m. Friday from Holy Name Catholic Church. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

Private Kelley died Sunday at Walter Reed Army Hospital, Washington, D.C., following surgery for the removal of a brain tumor.

He recently had been returned to Fort Bragg, N.C., after serving 32 months in Germany with the 82nd Airborne Division.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelley, two brothers, James and Richard, both at home, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Collins of Walled Lake.

3 Money Bills Slated for Vote

House Action Could Temporarily Put Cuts at $300 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House scheduled votes today on three appropriation bills which could boost results of the current money-cutting drive close to the 300-million dollar mark.

But all the claimed saving from the amounts President Eisenhower asked may be wiped out soon when bills financing the Defense Department and the foreign-aid program are considered.

Increases are in prospect also when the Senate acts on bills already passed by the House. The Senate Appropriations Committee already has approved increases in two of the bills sent to it by the House.

Formal roll - call votes today were scheduled to send to the Senate bills appropriating $651,896,700 to the State and Justice departments and the federal courts and $13,338,500 for the White House and other executive agencies. Both these measures were wek. Between them, thy call for cuts of about $30,700,000 from funds requested by the President.

On the six other bills passed by the House and pending in the Senate, presidential money requests haye been clipped by almost 200 million dollars.

A ninth bill which may clear the House today would cut $57,503,700 from new funds for the Commerce Department and related agencies. The Appropriations Committee has recommended $674,687,300 of the $732,191,000 requested by the President.

The first Community Chest charity drive in the United States was launched in 1899 by Msgr. William O'Ryan of Denver.

Is It Still Presbyterian Dogma?

Minister Who Questions Virgin Birth Gets Hearing

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A tall, nimble-tongued theologian's views about the virgin birth of Christ were under scrutiny today by his fellow Presbyterians.

It's not officially a heresy trial, but there were overtones of such a case in the expected airing of charges against the Rev. Theodore A. Gill.

The matter could bring a contemporary test on whether the United Presbyterian Church considers a rigid concept of the virgin birth as a prime essential to Christian faith.

Dr. Gill, 38, a bespectacled, quick-minded scholar and writer, is up for confirmation by the denomination's General Assembly as president of its San Francisco Theological Seminary.

A group seeking to block his approval, led by the Glendale, Calif. Presbyterian church, claims he has questioned the virgin birth teaching.

In it, he emphasized that the resurrection of Jesus was the cornerstone of Christianity, and that the virgin birth was peripheral, if not irrelevant.

He wrote: "What of us who, make the virgin birth no part of our personal confession, however often liturgical obedience involves us in its public repetition, yet who hang our whole hope on the resurrection?"

TRADITIONAL CREED

Belief in the virgin birth is expressed in all the traditional creeds, including the famed Westminster Confession, a basic doctrine of Presbyterianism.

Dr. Gill has argued that the great apostle, Paul, never mentioned the virgin birth in spreading Christianity, and the two gospels which mention it have conflicting accounts of Jesus' ancestry, by tracing the genealogy of Joseph, the husband.

"I draw a curtain of reverent mystery around the birth of Christ," Gill has said.

Presbyterianism has been known as a doctrinally stern faith, shaped by the strict teachings of John Calvin. But it also has spawned some of the great theological pioneers, and has a reputation for open-minded scholarship.

The last major General Assembly clash over the importance of the virgin birth belief was back in 1923, when the famed William Jennings Bryan was a candidate for moderator.

STRICT VIEW

Bryan, the Bible fundamentalist and oft-presidential candidate who later figured in the Scopes trial, insisted a strict view of the doctrine was required. He was defeated by the less dogmatic Dr. Charles F. Wishart, then president of Wooster, Ohio, College.

Dr. Gill, a graduate of Wisconsin University and Princeton Theological Seminary, was ordained in 1943. He has studied in Europe, and been a prolific writer of theological articles.

Tuesday, the Assembly heard recommendations from its committee on social education and action, headed by the Rev. Dr. Harold L. Bowman, of Chicago, that the 3-million-member denomination:

1. Approve birth control.
2. Condemn laws restricting such organizations as the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.
3. Oppose federal grants for any use in connection with racial segregation.
4. Deplore so-called "right-to-work" laws as harmful to labor-management relations.
5. Urge abolition of capital punishment.
6. Encourage "voluntary abstinence" from liquor.

7. Support fair housing legislation barring racial discrimination.

The Assembly ordered a new policy of "intellectual intercourse" with Moslems in the East, to bring better understanding, and launched a study on new ways to approach Jews.

Charitable Letter Arrives After Delay of 10 Years

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP)—The envelope had $1 in stamps enclosed with an unsigned note saying it was for "new St. Anthony's Memorial Hospital."

The trouble was, it came 10 years late. A fund drive was started in 1949 for the hospital. The new hospital has been operating several years.

It was impossible to distinguish the date on the letter's blurred postmark.

Their Barless Jail May Be Like All the Others

LANCASTER, Wis. (AP) — When the Grant County Jail opened here in 1958 it gained considerable publicity as one of the few in the Midwest without bars.

Recently a special Grant County Jail Committee was formed. Its purpose: to study the feasibility of putting bars on the jail in view of two attempted and one successful escape during the past year.

PAIR REUNITED — Spotty, an English setter, gets a warm welcome from Charles Rosebrook, 53, of LaRue, Ohio. Rosebrook, a patient in a hospital where he is recuperating from a broken neck sustained in an accident April 16, had not seen the dog since Spotty jumped from the truck Rosebrook was driving near Jackson. After an appeal in the area, a family in Otsego reported the missing dog.

Finds Debtors Follow Geographic Pattern

CHICAGO (AP) — Chronic debtors follow a distinct geographical pattern, says Dr. Eugene Barnes, a psychologist, after a study of 500 debtors selected from records of Cook County Credit Bureau.

Eleven per cent lived in only three square miles of Chicago, Barnes found, while 6 per cent were in a one square mile low income neighborhood. Individuals in the middle to the highest income levels were scattered throughout the higher income areas of the city.

People Follow Ants; They Can Sense Floods

TARAKAN, Borneo (UPI) — Ants act as weathermen on this small island off the coast of Borneo.

When the ants begin to move in droves toward the higher inland area, the population follows, with its personal property and cattle, according to local authorities.

The residents have learned that ants seem to sense floods several days in advance even if there is no indication of rain at all.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A 29-year-old Phoenix laborer awoke to find a burglar in his home. But Feliciano Carr told police he was unable to chase the fleeing thief. The burglar had stolen Carr's pants.

Restrictions Make It Hard to Be Protestant in Spain

MADRID (UPI)—An estimated 40,000 Spanish Protestants go quietly to church each Sunday, but their faith is not made easy for them in this Catholic country.

For the most part, they worship in externally unadorned churches. Some hold services in stores, offices or homes.

Technically, Protestants in Spain—outnumbered by Catholics by about 1,000 to 1 — are granted freedom of worship by the "Rights of the Spaniards"—"Fuero de los Espanoles." But their cause is always subject to the vagaries of Spanish law.

One of the great problems facing Spanish Protestants is the physical state of their churches, and the fact that they are forbidden to move them.

The government allows only those churches to operate which were built, and were being used, prior to the Spanish Civil War in 1936. Many were razed during the war and cannot be rebuilt.

Since the war, several have been closed by government order. Yet one or two, during the same time have been allowed to open. There was no reason given either for the openings or the closings.

Individuals belonging to Protestant faiths face problems in their private lives as well. Marriage is perhaps the most pressing of them.

One Protestant can wed another with only negligible paper work and a civil ceremony. But a marriage between a Protestant and a Catholic is almost impossible.

Only by having the Protestant join the Catholic Church can an inter-religious marriage be performed legally in Spain.

If a non-practicing Catholic and a Protestant wish to marry, the way is open, legally, but in practice it is difficult to carry through.

A 1955 law allows persons baptized as Catholics to marry outside the Church if they can prove they are no longer Catholics, but only a bishop may make this decision and what proof is needed has not yet been defined. Many couples have been kept waiting for years.

A career in the government is almost impossible for a Protestant. The military is out, too. In business, if the question of promotion rises between a Catholic and a non-Catholic, religion could be the deciding factor.

Entire World Mourns Death of John F. Dulles

A fine world figure, and a great American patriot has gone to his death. JOHN FOSTER DULLES was one of the best known men there is and few anywhere had as much global influence. Secretary DULLES was a "career man." He devoted himself and his life to his country.

Certainly next to DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, JOHN FOSTER DULLES probably exercised more influence on intercontinental affairs than anyone in the world. Some might argue that the Russians deserve the Number Two spot ahead of DULLES and perhaps they do. But DULLES wielded a vast amount of influence in every sector of this globe.

He won the complete confidence of the President of the United States and from that moment he stood as the Official Spokesman for the most important nation. Nor did the President ever have any cause for regretting this great confidence. Dulles stands as the "most traveled" great man in the world. Some pilots have logged more hours but no one ever filled out a pilot book with as many hours of flying time, considering the importance of the missions. He flew more than half a million miles. One could facetiously refer to him as "living in orbit."

That "infinite capacity for taking pains" and a willingness and spirit to work 16 hours a day are two outstanding characteristics.

Although he was on intimate terms with world leaders in every country, he never forgot—or let them forget—that he was an American first. DULLES kept his own nation's interests well in the foreground. Unlike predecessors who were vastly impressed by foreign diplomats, he let the foreign diplomats become impressed with him. He was the standard bearer and activities and decisions stemmed from him. He never "yes-yessed" anyone.

Yet with it all, JOHN FOSTER DULLES was essentially fair and honorable. He never let his own power and stature take unfair advantage as would have been the case had his position and that of the Russians been reversed.

A truly great American leaves the scenes he loved and for which he labored so ably. His funeral today attracts great figures from all over the world. JOHN FOSTER DULLES won and earned this recognition and respect.

Bird May Be the Answer to Baldness

For bald headed men who have faith, a bird may be the answer you're waiting for.

A bird that not only molts but actually can become bald, is now being studied in an effort to determine what causes baldness in man. The adult male wattled starling frequently loses its feathers from the top of its head in a manner similar to the balding process in man.

Dr. James B. Hamilton, department of anatomy at The State University of New York, in Brooklyn, reported this discovery at a conference on "Hair Growth and Hair Regeneration" sponsored by the New York Academy of Sciences.

The starling may provide the first opportunity for controlled laboratory experiments with natural baldness in an animal. It's entirely possible this could lead to many more haircuts.

Scientists still do not know what causes baldness, but some patients with the relatively unusual spotty baldness have responded favorably to corticosteroid treatment.

These persons were not completely bald, but had bald spots. Careful long term therapy with corticosteroids apparently corrected disturbances that contributed to hair loss in some patients and stimulated complete new growth.

More Time—More Money to Spend on Recreation

May rains: From which we reap our dividends later in the summer.

For people in the Pontiac area there's much to contemplate in the findings of a national survey just given out under the title of, "The Crisis in Outdoor Recreation."

Oakland County, with more outdoor recreational spots than any other similar area in the natoin, already finds that most of them already are crowded at the peak of the season. Such is the case in other sections.

This research shows that the U. S. population has more than doubled since 1900. In the same period the auto travel for the average person has increased from practically nothing to 6,000 miles per year.

And what also means much to outdoor recreation is that during the same period the disposable income per capita has jumped from $700 to over $2,000, and the work hours per week have decreased from 60 to 35.

A phone call Tuesday from
Mrs. Eva Felsman
of Birmingham said, "The Pontiac Press coverage on the death of Mr. Dulles was the best among the four daily papers that we read."

"This may be a late spring," phones
Mrs. Anna Orrison
of Oxford, "But the spirea bushes are in bloom for Memorial Day."

"Corporal punishment and gunfire will not do the trick," writes
Bronson Ransford
of Lake Orion, concerning what should be given our governor and legislators at Lansing. "We'll have a better weapon at our disposal on Nov. 8, 1960."

Here comes another report of loyalty to our state, as
Mrs. Alberta Dollman
of Cass Lake reports that her children's pet turtle crawled out a map of Michigan in their sand box during Michigan Week.

Thanks to my good friend,
Danes Drakes,
back from a trip to his native Greece, for some wonderful photographs of the Acropolis and other historical spots.

First sunflower blossoms of the year are reported by Mrs. Naomi Owendale
of Walled Lake. The plants were started indoors.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson Aldridge of Drayton Plains, now have bolls ready for picking.

David Lawrence Says:

Gromyko Wouldn't Fly With Herter

WASHINGTON — The spectre of Communist imperialism pursued John Foster Dulles to his grave. Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko arranged to attend the last rites at Washington, but the circumstances that preceded his departure from Geneva reveal how the monolithic system of the Soviets works even when simple amenities and international courtesies are involved.

LAWRENCE

When the news of the death of the former secretary of state came, the British and the French foreign ministers had no hesitation in announcing that they would attend the funeral. Foreign Minister Gromyko was silent. He had to consult his government, and it took 24 hours because Premier Khrushchev was traveling near Albania.

Finally permission came, but Gromyko, who first indicated he might travel on Secretary Herter's plane, found upon inquiry that there was only one vacant seat. The Soviet foreign minister sought two extra seats for his aides. When this couldn't be arranged, Gromyko decided to go on a commercial plane. Neither the British nor French foreign secretaries had to take anyone along.

Why did the Soviet foreign minister pass up an opportunity to sit down in privacy with the foreign ministers of Britain and France and the secretary of state of the United States? The answer is that he is not permitted to travel unaccompanied. He had to have a place for his No. 2 man. That's the Soviet method of watching everyone who occupies any post of importance under the dictator.

As for the return journey to Geneva, Secretary Herter arranged to have Gromyko, together with a Soviet adviser, ride with him on his plane. But this time the French foreign minister would not be along, as he found he had to go direct to Paris by another route.

There has been some suggestion that, if the four foreign ministers could sit down together away from the large number of persons who usually attend the formal sessions here, some real progress might be made in the negotiations.

Certainly on an airplane, with so few individuals present and no reporters or photographers waiting at the door, it might be imagined that the Soviet foreign minister would grab the chance for a candid discussion. But he operates under strict instructions from the premier. He can't even go to a social function alone. He is under constant observation. For, in the Soviet Union's hierarchy, nobody trusts anybody else.

Perhaps the real significance in the avoidance by Gromyko of a private session on the plane lies in the fact that the Soviet government was not yet ready for any really private confabs. They apparently had a purpose in prolonging the speechmaking here. The Soviets now say they will get down to brass tacks on Friday. They have delayed negotiations, believing the West would become impatient and that an agreement on some specific point might thereby be reached which would be sufficient to "justify" a "summit" meeting.

One of the purposes in the deliberate delay also has been to give time for propagandizing behind the iron curtain and especially in East Germany, where the Soviet radio stations are making a big play of the idea that there is to be a peace treaty granting "independence" to the so-called German Democratic Republic.

The Soviet propaganda doesn't always work efficiently. The East German stations, upon hearing of the death of former Secretary Dulles, issued long tirades of abuse about him. The Soviet stations themselves were silent for a while and then gave a bit of praise to Dulles as an individual. But in recounting his biography, they emphasized his career as a lawyer for large corporations—as if this could possibly have any bearing on the career being reviewed.

This contradiction between the East German and Soviet stations didn't last long, but it illustrates the difficulty the Soviets have in co-ordinating their many outlets of comment.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Gargling for Sore Throat? Try Mouth Wash Instead

Look in your throat with the aid of a hand mirror when you are holding your throat in the position for gargling. You will see that the uvula (tip of soft palate) and the anterior pillars (folds of mucous membrane in front of the tonsils) close together to prevent anything from reaching the tonsils or other parts beyond or behind the pillars.

DR. BRADY

In the treatment of tonsillitis, pharyngitis, laryngitis or other kinds of sore throat, gargling isn't worth the trouble.

Instead of going through the ridiculous motions and making the funny noises of gargling, it is advisable just to wash the mouth without stirring up the throat structures.

For this purpose any mild antiseptic solution will suffice, say five drops of mild (2%) tincture of iodine or weak solution of iodine in a half glass of water every two or three hours. Or a teaspoonful of hydrogen peroxide solution in the half glass of water every two or three hours. Or a good pinch of boric acid (five grains) in a half glass of water every two or three hours.

The most "powerful" germicide one can use for the purpose can do no more good than the simple agents mentioned.

Personally I'd use gargle, mouthwash or spray only if I consulted a doctor and the doctor ordered me to do so. Otherwise I wouldn't bother with any such "treatment."

QUESTION BOX

"Is bunion a growth or just an aggravated corn?" (P.G.)

Answer—Neither. It is essentially a partial dislocation of great toe joint capped with a bursa which is likely to become inflamed and suppurate. It is a mistake to apply a corn or callus remedy to bunion.

"Have carried my hernia eight years. Sought in vain for a doctor who gives ambulant treatment. Finally my dentist told me Dr. ——— does fine work in that field, and I found that he does. Nothing but praise for your teachings. . ." (F.D.)

Answer—Thank you. I'm sorry I am not prepared to give directory service. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for my FREE pamphlet on HERNIA—otherwise known as rupture or breach.

"How much sleep is necessary for a pre-school child and for a teenage child during school and during vacation?" (A.W.R.)

Answer—Child aged 4 requires 12 hours; 5 to 7 years, 11 hours; 8 to 11 years, 10 hours; 12 to 14 years, 9 hours in summer, 10 hours in winter. Over 15, not less than 8 hours sleep.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 300 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Recession Helped in This Way'

I don't know if it's because of the recent recession and now people are more willing to work, but recently I've noticed that clerks in stores everywhere are more courteous and more competent than they have been in years. Nothing is more aggravating than to meet a salesgirl who can hardly be bothered to ask you what you'd like, let alone help you find it. And there were plenty of that type around. I'm not for recessions, but maybe it's good for people once in a while to be jolted back to reality.

'We're Missing Boat With Water Safety'

We're missing the boat in water safety. Safety checks of boats are fine, but as long as people who can't swim are out on lakes and rivers, far too many drownings will occur.

The ideal program would be to require swimming in schools from the grades on up, but every time a pool is built into a new school, someone squawks "frills." Until people accept the idea that swimming should be a required subject, the next best thing is to make it against the law for anyone to board a boat unless he's a qualified swimmer. This would eliminate most drownings.

Dentist Describes New Type Drills

In Saturday's editorial you described the ordinary dental drill with a speed of 600 r.p.m. The ordinary drill runs between 6,000 and 8,000 r.p.m. and can be speeded to approximately 20,000 revolutions per minute.

The new turbines (dental drills), if run by water, have a speed of approximately 50,000 to 60,000 r.p.m. and if it's an air turbine, it has a speed of between 150,000 to 200,000, both necessitating a water spray to keep the tooth cool.

People enjoy their appointments because of the rapidity of the work, the lack of vibration without the old pressure.

'They Get Overtime While Others Sit'

Anyone working in the plants today can see just how much they care for the working man. While thousands walk the streets seeking work, those in the shops are working overtime.

These men would gladly share the work with others, but General Motors won't hire men because when work slackened off, they'd have to pay unemployment compensation, so the man on the street, who might be hungry, will have to stay that way.

Recommends Marriage Bureau

L. R. recently applied to our new non-profit Scientific Marriage Foundation. We soon found a very suitable man for her, and they will probably be married shortly. Since our women Applicants outnumber the men we can't guarantee happy marriage to everybody. So be reasonable and don't act act like "Indian givers." We warned you in advance about your chances.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

After a recent address at Pontiac, Michigan, under auspices of The Pontiac Press, I had a little visit with her.

"Dr. Crane," she began happily, "I certainly appreciate your helping introduce me to a suitable young man in Detroit.

"We seem very compatible and have had several jolly dates already.

"It must be wonderful to help people get acquainted with a view to possible romance and marriage.

"But do you ever have any problems or complaints?"

SCIENTIFIC MARRIAGE

Yes, for some people get the idea they should be ushered into happy marriage within a matter of weeks, even though they have gone unwed for 30 or 40 years previously.

For example, despite the fact we warn all applicants that women far outnumber men and we cannot guarantee anybody a happy wedding, a few still grumble.

And others use very poor psychology when we do introduce them to what seems like an eligible member of the opposite sex.

If the man's handwriting isn't perfect or a fastidious office secretary finds a misspelled word in her boy friend's first letter, she may refuse to meet him in person.

Actually, many college trained men are poor penmen and often guilty of simple errors in English grammar.

If the girl would meet the man, she might find him a very jolly, attractive person.

And many men, who may smoke or use liquor themselves, will deliberately warn us not to introduce them to a girl who smokes or drinks.

So we may have many girls of otherwise compatible nature, but if they are addicted to those bad habits, we cannot give their names to these eligible males.

DATING DILEMMAS

Some men object if we try to introduce them to girls who are of their own age but others grow irate if we don't do so!

A number of women likewise specify they want to meet men who are 3 to 5 years younger than they are. But many of the men in those categories specify they want younger girls, so our hands are often tied.

Some Catholic folks tell us to introduce them to anybody, Catholic or Protestant, but we never cross severe religious lines.

And a lot of modern girls are so tall that when we find men who are perfectly suited to them in other respects, the girls may be several inches taller.

All of our applicants have been personally interviewed by talented local clergymen who serve as official counsellors.

And the counsellors also check on the 3 personal character references cited by every applicant, so we screen out most of the undesirables.

a person of the other sex. The latter immediately reports to the home office and we record such data.

Mrs. Crane has generously donated her full time to this Scientific Dating Bureau for the past six months and I have had speaking fees donated to help out the budget, yet we occasionally find an applicant who wants his or her registration fee refunded because no marriage has occurred.

Please remember that this is like the Red Cross, a non-profit corporation. When you donate a pint of blood, do you demand it back in a few weeks? Then don't apply to this Scientific Marriage Foundation if you are an Indian giver!

Be Tolerant, Truckers Learn

Suggest Motorists Take Cue, Be as Considerate as They Are

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — This weekend when you nose out into Memorial Day traffic and see a big truck ahead, don't groan or say unkind things. The truck driver is just as interested as you are in seeing that you get where you're going.

At least that's the word from five of the nation's top truck drivers who were here this week to make a set of safety films.

"The main thing a truck driver must learn," said Leo Ford of Durham, N. C., "is to be tolerant. You can't get mad at another driver."

Hubert Kennedy, who wrestles the big ones around the streets of Cincinnati, says "I try to treat every car like it had my family in it. I try to think for them."

Their sentiments were echoed by Hayter C. Brown Jr. of Harrisonburg, Va.; Floyd Brown of Milwaukee and Bob Rudsill of Minneapolis—all five of them driving champions in some special class of big truck.

Of the five, H. C. Brown does the most over-the-road driving at the moment. He hustles from Newmarket, Va. to New York City and back three times a week —a 700-mile round trip—and drives 120,000 miles a year.

"Most car drivers on the highway are surprisingly good," he says, "but one of their biggest problems is to know just how to pass one of our trucks.

"Most of them creep up too close. Then they have to pull way out into the road to see around.

"Our trucks are supposed to stay at least 500 feet apart. A car wouldn't have to stay that far back, but the driver should stay back far enough so that he can pull out just a little and see around. He should make sure the road ahead is clear and of course he shouldn't try to pass on a hill or a curve."

The five drivers emphasized how much their companies now stress helpfulness. They are asked to stop and give assistance to a stranded motorist if he's out of gas or has a flat.

One thing they have been asked to stop doing is giving a wave of the hand or a blink of their lights to indicate the road ahead is clear.

"We found that sometimes the motorist got into trouble anyway and then he'd put the blame on us by saying we told him everything was clear," said one of the drivers.

"I think it would do every car driver good to drive out of these rigs a little bit," said Kennedy. "Then he might appreciate more what we are trying to do. As it is, some folks expect us to be able to thread a needle with one."

Brown who averages 35 miles per hour including all stops on his 10-hour run between Newmarket and New York, said he believes highway speed limits should be adjusted upward for highway trucks.

"It should be the same as for intercity buses," he said. "After all, we've got a lot more braking power than the buses and our drivers have to be just as well qualified."

Back to the holiday driver—the truckers say the companies are putting tremendous stress on helping the motorist. And, say these five, the average truck driver is getting the message.

Street Red—It's Catsup

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—When a truck driver had a minor accident here, the streets ran red—with catsup. About 25 cases fell from the passing truck and the driver spent two hours cleaning up the mess.

Nixons Will Start Off Virginia City Centennial

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev. (UPI)—Vice President and Mrs. Richard Nixon will light the fuse which touches off one of the wildest celebrations Virginia City, Nev., has seen since its heyday when the three-day silver centennial starts on the Comstock June 12.

Mrs. Nixon is a native Nevadan, having been born near Ely, another fabulous mining camp of another era. She has expressed great delight that she has been included in starting the observance of the discovery of silver which financed the Civil War for the Union and brought Nevada statehood.

While Virginia City will never be restored to its original glory, the silver centennial committee is making every effort to provide a proper setting for the observation and to provide the throngs which are expected with a party, the likes of which have never been seen in this generation.

Many events, which were popular during the time Virginia City was at its best and which have been forgotten during the machine age, will be presented during the three-day celebration.

There will be rock-drilling contests, complete with single jacks and double jacks and hand drills. This, in the early days of Virginia City, was the method used to drill blasting holes in the mines. The drills now have been replaced by pneumatic tools and the art of swinging a double jack has all but disappeared.

There will be real Indian dances, performed by native Nevada Indians. They will show the modern generation just how they whipped up the fury of the braves for the war foray or asked the weather gods for rain.

And there will be a great number of other attractions provided, one of which will be a giant pageant depicting the birth of Virginia City and the part of the Comstock lode played in the saving of a nation and the building of a great city—San Francisco.

Buildings, which were famous in the history of the entire United States, will be there for tourists to see. Buildings such as the Old Territorial Enterprise which housed the newspaper on which such worthies as Mark Twain, Dan DeQuille and Sam Davis worked.

There is the old St. Mary's of the Mountain Catholic Church which was erected after one of the disastrous fires swept Virginia City. It is the church which was erected with the money which flooded into the pockets of John W. MacKay and O'Brien, two of the big four of the Comstock lode.

Then there are the famous saloons of the era where the nabobs and peons gathered after their shifts in the mines to quench the big thirst brought on by working in the hot holes like the Savage, the Con Virginia, the Chollar, and the Hale and Norcross.

Saloons, such as the Sazarac, the Bucket of Blood and the others which, nightly, brought usually ended in gunfire and another corpse.

Available also for the view of the tourists will be the famous Pipe Opera House, where such stalwarts of the boards as Mazurka, Dickie Jose, Edwin Booth, Jenny Lind, "The Swedish Nightingale," and a hundred others performed as silver dollars fell at their feet as a token of appreciation from the "hot water plugs."

It will be an historic occasion that the Nixons—Vice President and Mrs.—touch off because it will observe an event which never will die so long as the history of the West is written and re-written.

Unlicensed Driver Says She Isn't Good Enough

DENVER (AP) — A 17-year-old girl charged with driving without an operator's license appeared before Municipal Court Judge Gerald McAuliffe Tuesday.

The judge suspended $15 of the girl's $40 fine and suggested she "see if she could get one."

UAW Chrysler Post Is Matthews' Again

DETROIT (AP) — Norman Matthews, United Auto Workers vice president, has resumed duties as head of the union's Chrysler Corp. department.

Matthews was taken off the job 11 months ago because of illness.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, headed the department during Matthew's absence. Reuther announced Matthew's return yesterday.

Reuther said the return "follows a report by his physician that he has regained his health and now is physically able to carry out his full responsibilities to the union.

During his absence from the Chrysler post, Matthews directed the American Motors, Budd, Bendix, Eaton, Allen Industries and Office and Technical Workers departments of the UAW.

Believe Gray Alley Cat Suffocated Baby Boy

NEWARK, N.J. (UPI)—A gray alley cat jumped into a baby carriage yesterday and apparently suffocated a five-week-old boy.

A medical examiner's report said little Antonio Jounas was suffocated either by the cat lying across his face or by the disarrangement of clothing inside the carriage.

The infant had been placed in the carriage by his mother, Cecilia, outside their home. When she left her household chores some time later to look at the child she found him unconscious.

Neighbors said they saw a gray alley cat leap from the carriage just before Mrs. Jounas returned to attend her son.

Favored Bill Would Cost $16 Million

Battle on School Aid Boost Looms

By TOM SHAWVER

LANSING (AP)—One of the biggest money fights of the 1959 legislative session appeared ready to break into the open today.

The House Education Committee could touch it off by releasing a bill to boost state school aid from $190 to $210 per pupils. Rep. Raymond C. Wurzel (R-Port Huron), committee chairman and the bill sponsor, said he would try to get it to the House floor this week.

The level of school aid will guide lawmakers in mapping the state's 1959-60 tax and spending programs—and necessarily play a vital role in attempts at compromise between Republicans and Democrats.

Republican leaders—particularly in the Senate—acknowledge any sizable increase almost certainly would lead to a bigger budget than their 108-million-dollar use (sales) tax program would allow, undermining their tax stand for the use levy increase and nothing more.

Legislative support appeared to be piling up for the Wurzel bill, endorsed by Gov. Williams and Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction.

Because of an expected 70,000 enrollment increase in public schools, state aid even at its present level will jump 13 million dollars to 314 millions next year.

Wurzel's bill calls for another 16-million-dollar increase. It would boost the per pupil payout from $190 to $210 but raise the deductible millage formula from 2¾ to 3½ mills, a concession to so-called poor districts with less than average tax-producing property.

"This is the barest minimum we could offer schools in view of higher teacher salaries and rising costs in the three years we have had the $190 formula," Wurzel said.

Support for the measure came from backers of two rival—and more expensive—school aid measures.

The so-called school aid equalization group swung behind it yesterday as a compromise, formally giving up on a $240-per-pupil, five-mill deductible proposal calling for total expeditures of 345 millions.

Its chief spokesman, Robert Hall, superintendent of Cement City schools, said the bill apparently offered a "practical" middle ground between "urgently needed additional state aid and the state's limited resources."

He criticized it, however, as "much less than adequate."

Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston), House GOP floor leader, said he too would switch support to the Wurzel plan "if we can find the money."

"I'll be even more likely to go for it if we can approve it on a two-year basis," he said. "This would help school superintendents in planning their budgets ahead and take some of the pressure off the Legislature as well."

Green, backed by the Michigan Education Assn., is chief sponsor of a 352-million-dollar school aid bill which would drop the $190-per-pupil formula and replace it with a concept known as the pupil-certified personnel ratio. At the start, it would be figured at 27 pupils for every teacher and full-time administrator, allowing $217 per child from state and local sources combined.

In a meeting of Senate and House tax compromisers yesterday, Green indicated House Republicans might support a nine-million-dollar improvement factor in school aid, about half of what Wurzel proposed.

His suggestion was taken as a concession to the GOP Senate view, which calls for no increase or, at most, three million dollars.

Green's suggestion would peg the aid level at $200 and boost deductible millage to 3⅛, halving the difference between the Wurzel bill and the existing formula, unchanged for three years.

Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee which will look over Wurzel's bill before it comes to a vote, talked of a five-million-dollar enrichment in the aid level.

'Frisco Board Banishes Beer From Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Board of Supervisors hunted through the fine print in a hurry Tuesday and struck the word "beer" out of a catering contract.

Marguerite Pratt, a citizen, pointed out the board was about to permit the sale of beer in four city parks patronized almost exclusively by teenagers. But Rose Schuman, who is to manage the four concessions, said it wouldn't have made any difference.

"I have no license to sell beer," she said, "and I wouldn't sell on a bet."

Hunt 3 Men Missing in 2 Boating Mishaps

By The Associated Press

Ground, air and water searches continued today for three men missing in boating mishaps on the St. Marys River and on Saginaw Bay.

Feared drowned are Bill Manchulenko, 21, and Peter Tropolinski, 23, both Ontario residents, and Oscar Cerney, 58, of Bay City.

Cerney went into Saginaw Bay early Monday to fish. His 26-foot cabin cruiser was found aground Tuesday near Bay City. There was no trace of Cerney.

Nothing Lost by Halt in Geneva Parley

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

More than 100 aides surrounded the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union at their meetings in the Palace of Nations.

Then the press officers of the Big Four reported on what was said. Even when the ministers entertained one another at night their conversations were reported.

This would have been fine if they had had something new to say. But after each had stated his position, they spent the rest of the time repeating themselves.

All four ministers played the unbudging iron man role—a pose that seemed clearly intended for propaganda but not for serious negotiating—with public avowals of where they stood and how they couldn't be moved.

It was the kind of performance that was a lead pipe cinch to lose respect for diplomacy or the serious intentions of the four governments to work out anything by peaceful negotiating.

There have been explanations out of Geneva that this has all been a kind of ritual dance through which diplomats go before getting down to serious and earnest bargaining.

If so, it's been a long dance.

But the death of former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave the four ministers a chance to knock off the conversation.

They finished up Tuesday and then took planes for Washington and the Dulles funeral. They'll all be back in Geneva Friday to start again.

Perhaps they had come to the conclusion that they had gone far enough with the kind of performance they put on and it was about time for a switch.

Just before they left Geneva the word was given out that they will go into secret sessions when they return.

That should mean fewer blow-by-blow accounts of what's said and maybe a little more progress.

It seems too much to expect that they will find any big or general or final solutions.

Perhaps the most to hope for is some kind of stopgap settlement on the Soviet demand that the Western Big Three get their troops out of West Berlin.

Denies Soviet Claim Corpses' Blood Good

DENVER (UPI)—Russian claims that blood from corpses can be used successfully in transfusions were poo-pooed during a recent postgraduate course at the University of Colorado School of Medicine.

Dr. J. J. Griffitts, Miami, Fla., blood specialist, said the latest evidence proves "that we are not likely ever to grow out of the need for blood donations—healthy people are still going to have to be blood donors for sick nes."

The freezing of rare blood types for future use was termed "interesting but impractical" by Griffitts. He said one objection is that the procedure for melting the frozen blood is extremely complicated.

Massachusetts and Rhode Island are the only two states in the U.S. that have been completely mapped.

Pan Am Airline, Unions OK Pact

Agree to Transport U. S. Military Forces, Cargo During Any Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Pan American World Airlines said today it has signed agreements with three unions—pilots, flight engineers and dispatchers—to continue the flight of military personnel and cargo during any strike.

The agreement will be made a supplemental part of contracts signed recently with the Airline Pilots Assn., the Flight Engineers International Assn. and the Airlines Dispatchers Assn.

S. L. Doepke, chairman of the Pan American pilots in the pilots' union, said prior to the meeting that the company originated the idea of the supplemental agreement assuring that defense flights would continue in a strike.

Doepke expressed pleasure over the agreement. He said he and other union officials "feel it will benefit the people of the United States and the country's defense possibilities." He said also it should "advance Pan American business" and foster "expansion."

He said he knew of no plans for such agreements between the union and other airlines.

As usual Mayor James Gravany and Councilman Martin Lohsen asked Collichio to turn the machine off. They've claimed the recordings can be edited to give a distorted picture.

Collichio kept the machine on. So Lohsen turned on an electric razor and held it by the microphone to drown out other sounds of the meeting. When the session adjourned, he used the razor to shave.

Shoes Go to Charity With Jewels in Them

SAN ANSELMO, Calif. (AP) — Hazel Smith Johnson, 55, said today she gave her shoes to charity but she didn't mean to include her jewels.

She asked police to help her recover a diamond bracelet, a diamond bar pin and a diamond ring. She explained she stuffs her jewelry in old shoes for hiding. The items in question disappeared with a lot of shoes she gave to a charitable organization.

She said the missing jewelry was appraised at $2,200 in 1920.

Air Force Couple Has Problem of Who's Boss

MAGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N. J. (AP)—It looks as though one husband and wife team will always have trouble deciding who's boss.

Recently, his wife, Grace, was promoted to the same new enlisted grade. They are the first senior top-kick team in the Air Force.

Poisoned Noosed Cords Good for Killing Flies

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Bothered with houseflies? You might try using a noose to string them up.

The suggestion, from Kentucky's Agricultural Experiment Station, doesn't refer to hanging the flies, but to using noosed cords saturated with deadly insecticides.

Experts say the flies are attracted to the nooses.

Mexico produces about half of world supply of sisal.

What's Behind Plan to Attend Dulles' Funeral?

Gromyko's Decision Puzzles U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's sudden decision to attend John Foster Dulles' funeral puzzled American officials today.

They are convinced Gromyko's decision was motivated by something other than a simple desire to pay final respects to the man who led the diplomacy of the free world against the Reds for six years.

Gromyko's trip, they said, might be another propaganda attempt by the Russians to show the world that Communists are not cold-hearted people after all.

The decision was believed to be part of the pattern that Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev has set up to try to convince world opinion that the Russians want to get along with everybody.

However, it was felt that the Soviets also must have been aware that the appearance of such a high-ranking Russian official and the attention it would attract could not help but detract from the somber tone and dignity of the funeral for Dulles.

TARGET FOR SOVIETS

U. S. officials remember that no one has taken more abuse from the Soviet Union and its satellites than did John Foster Dulles in recent years. The Communists called him the greatest war monger of the West.

With this background of Communist abuse, U. S. strategists admittedly were puzzled and surprised by the incongruous situation developed by the Gromyko visit.

They believe the fact that Gromyko waited a day and a half before announcing his intention to fly to Washington showed it was a typically calculated Soviet move that undoubtedly was cleared with Khrushchev.

Ironically, the last time Gromyko was in Washington was for a special visit with Dulles. The two discussed world affairs for nearly three hours at Dulles' home during the visit in the summer of 1957.

Though Dulles and Gromyko had battled each other for years in the diplomatic cold war, they had never sat across the conference table from each other for the give-and-take of hard negotiating.

The Russian foreign minister at the time of the last Big Four foreign ministers meeting in 1955 was V. M. Molotov, who has since been relegated to the minor diplomatic post of Soviet ambassador to Outer Mongolia.

Dulles, illness robbed him of the chance to match his diplomatic skill with Gromyko at the current Geneva Conference, which the former secretary did so much to help bring about.

There's Nothing Funny at Dentist's Office

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — Comic books are taboo in Dr. Bruce Higley's waiting room.

Dr. Higley, a dentist, decided the youngsters might as well have something worthwhile to read while waiting their turns.

So he swept out the comic books and put a set of encyclopedias in his waiting room. Now the children do their homework at his office. Some even show up when they don't have appointments just to use the books.

Minnesota Hunters Head Wyoming Lists

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — For the third consecutive year, Minnesota led the nation in the purchase of Wyoming non-resident hunting licenses in 1958.

Minnesota hunters purchased 4,205 deer license, 1,104 antelope permits and 82 combination elk licenses for a total of 5,391 non-resident permits.

Once Society's Playground

Newport Is Now Museum of Yesteryear Splendors

NEWPORT, R. I. (UPI)—Only vestiges remain of the splendor that once marked Newport as the exclusive summer hangout of the "400"—the select group which held forth in an era that knew no income tax problems.

Many of Newport's palatial mansions have been converted into schools and apartments, and some of the million-dollar estates have been sold for as little as $10,000 because of the expense of upkeep.

Perhaps most famous of the "convertibles" is the late Cornelius Vanderbilt's The Breakers, a summer palace whose original cost was estimated at $2,500,000. The 70-room mansion, built in 1895 by artisans from Italy, has been open since 1948 as a public showplace.

In 1948, Countess Laszlo Szechenyi, last survivor of the five children of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt, released the fabulous mansion to the Preservation Society of Newport as a museum.

It is rented to the society for a dollar a year, the proceeds being used to pay running expenses and cost of restoring many of the city's historic homes.

More than 400,000 people from every part of the world have visited The Breakers since it was first opened to visitors.

The house measures approximately 250 feet by 150 feet and the plan is the compact one common to the Italian Renaissance. The rooms are arranged symmetrically around the central hall and are distributed on four floors.

The first or main floor and part of the second floor are open to visitors. In addition, there is the children's "Cottage" and rare trees and shrubbery. At the foot of the sloping lawn are the cliffs offering an unobstructed sweep of the Atlantic Ocean.

The Breakers' stable, located nearby, has been maintained almost as it was 50 years ago when driving for pleasure was fashionable.

A common reaction of visitors to The Breakers is that they can't imagine anyone living in such a grandiose structure.

Braced for New School Crisis

Blockers of Teacher Purge in Little Rock 'Just Getting Started'

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A citizens committee which stopped a purge of Little Rock school teachers stood ready today to meet any new school crisis.

"STOP is just getting started," said Dr. Drew F. Agar, chairman of the Committee to Stop This Outrageous Purge.

STOP, formed only three weeks ago, scored a smashing victory Monday when voters backed its effort to recall three school board members who fired 44 teachers, mostly for "integrationist sympathies."

Agar said STOP would remain as a "loosely formed organization to handle any school developments." This could mean an effort to open four closed high schools for next year's term.

Segregationist leaders said they had no intentions of giving up because of the defeat.

The three recalled board members were militant segregationists who had the outspoken endorsement of Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who shut Little Rock high schools against integration last September.

Tattoo Zoo Animals

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP)—The U.S. Quarantine Station for animals is now tattooing animals entering the country to keep track of them in the event they are transferred from one zoo to another. Numbers are tattooed on the animal's ear with an ear punch and permanent ink.

Fees May Pass for State Parks

Measure Could Raise $2 Million Each Year for Improvements

LANSING (AP)—A state parks admission fee bill that may go the route where predecessors failed was off the ground today in the Senate.

Among other things, it authorizes a five-million-dollar bond issue to finance improvements at parks—but not any land acquisition. The appropriations committee approved it unanimously yesterday.

The bill, by Sen. Elmer R. Porter, would levy a $2 annual fee in the form of an auto windshield sticker. Casual park visitors could gain entry on a daily basis for 50 cents a carload.

Proceeds would go into two special state treasury funds, one for bond interest and retirement and the second for appropriation by the Legislature for park projects.

A somewhat similar measure, but without the bonding and fund restriction features, failed in 1958. Another passed in 1957 but was vetoed by Gov. Williams.

The governor then objected there was no guarantee that sticker proceeds would go for the benefit of parks.

If the pending bill wins quick passage, Porter said, an estimated one million dollars could be collected in the season just starting.

In a full season, revenue might hit $1,500,000 to two million dollars, the State Conservation Department estimated.

Hawaii's civilian population is about equal to that of Seattle, Wash., spread out in an area equal to Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Technicalities Delay Firing Discoverer III

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif (AP) — Technical difficulties have forced a third postponement of firing of Discoverer III into north-south orbit with four mice passengers.

The postponement came Tuesday after six hours and 15 minutes of delays blamed on the weather and technical troubles.

State law permits a sterilization operation to be performed with consent of the patient or without his consent if officials obtain a court order.

Dr. Terrell O. Carver, state health administrator, said the state's mental institutions would submit names of candidates for the operation to the State Board of Health, which would hold hearings and review each case.

Dr. Carver said the candidates would be limited to those who "by reason of mental deficiency, sexual perversion or mental illness, are considered to be a menace to society," and who likely would transmit their condition to their children.

New York Audience Puzzled

Japanese Ballet Troupe Presents Odd Spectacle

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—The oddest of all the dance spectacles which veteran balletomanes here have seen — and they know companies from Bali to Moscow — was presented Tuesday night by the Japanese Imperial Household troupe.

It was the company's formal American debut in City Center, where it appeared as guest of the New York City Ballet.

Wearing fantastic costumes and masks, the visitors imitated the crane, the warrior joining battle, and the Mongol hunting a snake, devouring it to cure his illness and then rejoicing at his recovery.

An orchestral interlude was played by a dozen kneeling men, also elaborately costumed. The entire performance was called "Gagaku," a millenium-old art form associated exclusively nowadays with court ceremony and deriving from imported as well as native musical forms.

This is essentially a religious expression, if not actually a kind of worship, and in Japan it is to be seen only in the royal household or at important shrines.

For a performance that was only a few blocks off Broadway, this had no theatrical appeal at all. The contrast with the American ballets on the same bill, among them such sterling secular works as "Serenade" and "Stars and Stripes," was even more drastic.

The dancers' movements are painfully slow—a hitch, a squat, a hop, a shuffle, a deliberate turn, an arm raised and later, much later, lowered. The music, matching it perfectly, is painfully thin, pure and also slow. The ensemble is something the Western ear will take a heap of getting used to before it ever learns to enjoy it.

But this is not to deny the awesome solemnity of the visitors' curious offering. They pray, perhaps, rather than dance. If we can't like, at our first experience, something so alien, we can like very much the chance to see it.

The company will be here two weeks; and also tour to Washington, Boston, Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles. It was brought here under the sponsorship of the City Ballet and the Japan Society.

Youngsters Swallow Poison Tabs; Critical

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two small brothers were reported in critical condition today after swallowing insect poison tablets. Parrents of 150 other youngsters were warned to be on the lookout for 29 poison-tablets still missing.

Gary, 5, and Michael Nieburger, 4, went into convulsions yesterday shortly after returing home from a playground. They were taken to Morningside Hospital suffering from strychnine poisoning.

Officers said the boys were playing with about 150 other children at the playground. A near-empty box which originally contained 40 insect tablets was found in the play area. All but 29 of the strychnine tablets have been accounted for.

Cheaper to Buy It!

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's mental institutions are going out of the bread baking business. It would be cheaper for the institutions to buy bread from commercial bakeries than continue making their own, state controller James W. Miller told Gov. Williams. Comparative costs were figured by Michigan State University technicians.

Crew-Cut for Highways

LANSING (AP) — State highway and county road department crews started mowing the highway edges this week. About 325 sickle-bar mowing machines will cover some 40,000 acres of right-of-way on Michigan's 9,300 miles of trunkline highways. The first mowing job is not expected to be completed until around the Fourth of July.

Monkeys Share Ulcer Pattern of Executives

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Monkeys are about the same as the average American business executive whe it comes to ulcers.

Dr. Robert W. Porter of the UCLA Medical School has found that simians get ulcers and develop artery disease when subjected to experimental pressures roughly equivalent to those of the businessman.

In the experiments, monkeys constantly met new situations involving electric shock and had to make decisions on how to avoid shocks. The monkeys, under continuous stress of this type, developed stomach ulcers, Dr. Porter said, and there is some indication that hardening of the arteries is developing.

Couple to Walk Aisle Behind Leader Dogs

GRANDVILLE (AP) — Leader dogs will escort Herbert C. Dubois and Carol Medemar down the church aisle for their marriage June 4.

Dubois and Miss Medemar are blind. Their dogs are from the Leader Dogs for the Blind School at Rochester. Dubois and Miss Medemar met at the school.

The wedding will be at Hope Christian Reformed Church.

Visits Home Briefly to Extend Vote String

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Arthur J. Ringer hadn't missed voting in a city election for 18 years, and he wasn't going to let a little thing like jury duty spoil his record.

He cast his ballot without talking to anyone. Then the jurors drove off to eat dinner and resume deliberations in a drug theft case which already had lasted five days.

A forlorn spectator was Ringer's wife, Lee. She could only stand and watch.

Judge Doesn't Believe Rock 'n' Roll Will Last

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Three teenage rock 'n' roll singers got court approval of their contracts with Walt Disney Productions Tuesday after the judge noted: "Rock 'n' roll is selling, and there's no law against making money."

But, Judge John Gee Clark warned, "Save your money because you may need it some day."

LEG CRAMPS?

So says a famous doctor and widely-read newspaper columnist, formerly with the Mayo Clinic, and other well-known health authorities

When meals, consistently deficient in calcium, are fortified with DYNA-CAL Calcium Tablets, tormenting calcium-deficient muscle cramps can be promptly relieved. But don't confuse DYNA-CAL Tablets with ordinary calcium-phosphorus products. DYNA-CAL Tablets contain no phosphorus which frequently interferes with the absorption of calcium. And DYNA-CAL Tablets contain a special ingredient which helps to put calcium into the blood stream quicker—bringing faster relief to cramping, calcium-starved muscles. Pleasant-to-take DYNA-CAL Tablets with calcium, glutamic acid hydrochloride, and vitamins D and C contain no drugs. They are safe, harmless, calcium food supplements. If you are suffering miserable muscle cramps, and suspect you are not getting enough calcium, ask for DYNA-CAL Tablets, today. Bottles of 90 tablets, $1.50.

West to Huddle as Nikita Rants

Policy Review Due Soon After Khrushchev Again Threatens Berlin Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tough talk by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Albania appeared certain today to force a quick Western strategy review of prospects for easing the Geneva conference deadlock on Germany's future.

Such a Western huddle was reported likely after the Western Big Three foreign ministers and West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer attend John Foster Dulles' funeral this afternoon.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, accompanied by British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville arrive this morning by Air Force plane from Geneva.

Herter arranged to report to President Eisenhower on futile efforts at Geneva, thus far to persuade the Soviets to offer enough concessions to provide a compromise settlement of the Berlin and German problems.

In an off-the-cuff speech in Albania where he is now visiting, Khrushchev lashed out anew at Western policies and threatened to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

Khrushchev reinforced this oft-repeated theat by warning that the Soviets will set up missile bases in Albania if American missiles are stationed in Italy and Greece.

It marked the third time in three weeks that the Soviet leader has publicly sought to pressure the West into agreeing to Soviet demands under the threat of taking single-handed action if the Allies refuse.

Khrushchev's remarks clearly irritated top American officials. They came only one day after the State Department bluntly advised him in effect to shut up unless he wanted to ruin prospects that friendly talks at Geneva could lessen Berlin tensions.

Florida Adopts Law to Shore School Bias

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — County school boards in Florida now have authority to segregate pupils by sex to deal with integration problems, when they come.

The bill passed by the Florida Legislature was signed into law Tuesday by Gov. Leroy Collins without comment.

The sex segregation plan is merely a permissive law, and there are no immediate plans for using it anywhere in Florida.

It was the second segregation bill to become law during the current legislative session. Collins earlier approved a bill to allow groups of citizens to set up private schools.

Said to Favor Johnson, Symington

Truman, Rayburn Have Made Choice

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman and House Speaker Sam Rayburn are reported to have decided between them that one of two men should be the Democratic presidential nominee. The two are Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) or Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo).

"One thing the two Democratic warhorses could not agree on was a preference between the two senators, Truman favors his fellow Missourian, Symington, while Rayburn favors his fellow Texan, Johnson. But both senators now have the stamp of Truman-Rayburn approval."

The Life article says:

"The decision was reached on May 5 after a dinner party in the Washington home of Sen. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma. Neither Johnson nor Symington was present.

"At 11 p.m. the 77-year-old Rayburn turned to the 75-year-old Truman and said, 'Harry, let me give you a ride downtown.' In the back seat of Rayburn's black Cadillac, the two old friends drove off together to the Mayflower Hotel where Truman was staying.

"Riffling the list of candidates like a deck of cards, they discarded one after another:

"Sen. John Kennedy was rejected both because of his youthful appearance and because Truman and Rayburn felt that Kennedy's Catholic faith would hurt him more than it would help him (Kennedy was not, however, rejected as a possible running mate).

"Sen. Hubert Humphrey was found not to have the bearing of a presidential candidate. They also remembered Humphrey's poor showing in his race for the vice presidential nomination three years ago and they doubted whether he would be acceptable to the South in 1960.

"Adlai Stevenson was discarded largely because he had twice been overwhelmingly defeated by Dwight D. Eisenhower. Truman and Rayburn also had other reasons: both want a new face, both want a candidate who is eager to run. Rayburn considers Stevenson somewhat indecisive.

"As far as Truman and Rayburn were concerned, these discards left only Johnson and Symington as real contenders, and they agreed that either one would be acceptable. Although they decided not to speak out for some months to come, they are convinced that only Johnson or Symington can save the Democrats from a party-splitting fight.

FAA Starts Intense Drive to Find Warning Device

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) launched an all-out drive yesterday to develop a successful collision warning device for civil and military aircraft.

FAA announced formation of a special "collision prevention advisory group" drawn from six major civil and military aviation fields.

The special "task force" will include representatives from the Army, Navy and Air Force, and the Air Transportation Assn. (representing the scheduled airlines), Aircraft Owners and Pilots Assn. (representing private pilots) and National Business Aircraft Assn.

The Civil Aeronautics Board and the Airline Pilots Assn. were not represented on the group, an ommission almost certain to draw a protest from the pilots' union.

The group will be headed by Robert M. Buck of FAA's bureau of research and development.

Government and industry experts have spent more than three years trying in vain to come up with a device that would warn pilots of collision dangers. They are searching for these two devices:

—A proximity warning indicator (PWI) which merely alerts a pilot to the presence of another aircraft. Electronics specialists have been seeking a PWI which would have a detecting range of two miles. A longer range might set off too many "alarms" when planes approached airports.

—A "collision avoidance system" which would not only detect nearby planes, but would tell whether a collision course is involved. It would even advise the pilot of the correct avoidance maneuver.

At one time, nearly 70 companies were engaged in collision avoidance research, but many dropped out with the conviction that the task was too great for present knowledge in the field to overcome. One authority has estimated the market for such a device at a minimum of 20 million dollars.

The new advisory group also will work on a third field of collision warning — "conspicuity enhancement." This includes high-visibility paints, exterior lighting and possible use of smoke generators.

The FAA has been experimenting for more than a year with a fluorescent orange paint. All 92 FAA aircraft carry the bright orange markings on their wing tips, tails and fuselage bellies. Tests have shown the "blaze orange" makes aircraft easier to see under most light conditions.

The airlines, which naturally prefer to retain their present distinctive color schemes (such as TWA's red and white and United's red, white and blue), have shown the most interest in an inexpensive PWI device.

They have tested one promising PWI which measures the heat given off by nearby objects such as aircraft engines and metal, thus flashing a warning to the cockpit.

It gives a pilot about 25 seconds warning of an approaching aircraft—10 seconds to determine location and 15 seconds to get out of way. But the device's chief bug is its present habit of also picking up the sun's heat and warmth from large objects on the ground, which set off false alarms.

By road, the state of Maine has a shore line of more than 2,400 miles. But as the crow flies, the shore line is about 250 miles.

The five tribes of Indians in Oklahoma are the Creeks, Cherokees, Choctaws, Chicksaws and Seminoles.

Science Prolongs Life Span

Leukemia Death Rate Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — The death rate from leukemia has been increasing faster than that of any other form of cancer except lung cancer but medical progress has increased the life span of the leukemia victim, the American Cancer Society said today.

The society said in a special report on the disease that the leukemia death rate among males of all ages had risen from 2.5 per 100,000 population in 1930 to 7.4 in 1956. Among females, the death rate increased from 1.8 to 5.1 during the same period.

The report said the increase in incidence of the disease was greater among persons 50 years and older, and still greater among men than women.

The society attributed some of the increase to improvements in techniques of diagnosis and reporting and to the higher proportion of older persons among the population.

"However," the report said, "the steadily increasing incidence of leukemia cannot be entirely explained by improvements in diagnosis and by increased longevity."

Leukemia often is thought to be primarily a children's disease, but it strikes many more adults, the society said. The annual death rate in the United States now stands at about 11,000, of which fewer than 2,000 are children under the age of 15.

Integration Battle Cost Little Rock Its School System, New Industries

NEW YORK (AP)—The man in the middle of Little Rock's school integration crisis says the Arkansas capital paid dearly to rid Central High School of Negroes.

Virgil T. Blossom, superintendent of Little Rock public schools until he resigned last November, says the school system was wrecked, the influx of new industry into the area halted, business was affected adversely, and industrial development bond sales were cut in half.

Blossom writes in a new book coming out Wednesday: "Perhaps the greatest damage of the integration crisis at Little Rock was in the field of human values. The formerly good relations between the races collapsed during a year of controversy and were replaced by bitterness and suspicion."

Blossom discusses the integration crisis in "It Has Happened Here," a book being published by Harper & Bros.

Blossom details in his book how he drew up the original plan for gradual integration of Central High beginning in the autumn of 1957.

After savage rioting at the outset, a few Negro pupils completed that school year with the aid of federal troops sent in by President Eisenhower. But the following year, Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed Little Rock's public high schools rather than permit integration to continue. They still are closed.

Blossom tells of personal threats against him, including bomb threats against his home. He says once he was shot at, the bullet missing him but striking his car.

"During this time, I became keenly aware that bigotry is a weapon that cuts in all directions. As the anti-integration propaganda increased, so did the propaganda of an anti-Communist and anti-Semitic character until the result was an outpouring of hatred and venom, with all kinds of crackpots and hate peddlers trying to horn in," he wrote.

Of the failure of integration in Little Rock, Blossom writes: "I believe the basic reasons for failure must be found in the vacillation of political leaders at state and federal levels — all tried to authorities and against the abusement—and in a deliberate plot by segregationists all over the South to force a finish fight in Little Rock in an effort to delay or prevent a showdown on their home grounds."

FAUBUS WAVERED

Blossom describes Faubus as wavering under segregationist pressure until he was maneuvered into a political corner. The author offers it as his opinion that Faubus wanted the federal government to act and thus relieve him of responsibility for enforcing integration.

But Blossom says the federal government offered no leadership. Of President Eisenhower's dispatch of troops to Little Rock, Blossom writes: "If the use of armed force in the controversy over integration of Central High School proved anything, it was that America's civil rights problems cannot be solved with bayonets."

What of the future of integration in the South? Blossom says leadership will be required for vigorous enforcement of integration through civil, rather than military processes.

"To assure successful integration of Southern schools, I believe there should be stronger federal civil rights legislation designed to crack down hard against bombing or destruction of school property, against scurrilous propaganda attacks on the courts and on school authorities and against he abuse of the right of peaceable assembly near school grounds," he writes.

"The Department of Justice should be given power to initiate injunctive proceedings against those who interfere with law enforcement instead of leaving it to school officials to assume the untenable position of seeking court restraint of their neighbors."

Republican Wins in N. Y. District

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Charles E. Goodell, 33, a Republican was chosen to succeed the late Rep. Daniel A. Reed in Congress in a special election Tuesday.

Goodell, Chautauqua County GOP chairman, drew about twice as many votes as his Democratic opponent, Robert E. McCaffery, in the 43rd District, which is predominantly Republican.

The turnout of about 44,500 was half that for a regular congressional election.

Complete unofficial returns gave Goodell 27,779 votes to 14,309 for McCaffery. The Liberal party candidate, John R. Steinbroner, 41, of Salamanca, drew 522 votes.

Goodell will fill the unexpired part of Rep. Reed's term, which runs until Dec. 31, 1960. Reed died in February after serving 40 years in the House.

Public Streams Past Coffin

Never Knew Dulles, but Pay Respects

WASHINGTON (AP) — A seven-year-old boy stood on tiptoe to sign the condolence book in the chapel where John Foster Dulles' body lay in state today in a closed, flag-draped casket.

His grandmother said they were great admirers of Dulles, whom they had seen and heard only through television and radio.

They were a sample of hundreds who carefully wrote their names in the book as a steady file of men, women and children came to pay tribute to a great man.

A little Negro woman almost seemed disappointed as she asked: "Are they going to open the casket?" A stern military guard shook his head.

KNOWN AS PERSONALITY

Most of those who came to Gothic-style Bethlehem chapel, oldest wing of Washington National Cathedral, knew Dulles as a personality in the news—not as a man.

His lying in state was an added stop on a Washington tour for several busloads of high school students.

But the outpouring was the largest the cathedral had seen since President Woodrow Wilson's funeral in 1924, according to verger Edward Marr. The count late Tuesday night had passed 10,000.

The Episcopal cathedral, an imposing structure on a hilltop not far from many of the embassies in Washington, was first envisioned by George Washington. It is dedicated to promote religion, education and charity and may be used by various denominations.

Dulles himself was a lay Presbyterian leader and his funeral was to be performed according to Presbyterian rites.

His casket was set in the middle aisle of the arched and vaulted chapel, in the center of rows of columns and atop a slab of marble marking the entrance to a burial crypt below where Navy hero Adm. George Dewey is entombed.

BATHED IN LIGHT

The mahogany-colored casket—the Stars and Stripes spread over it—was bathed in light from nine overhead lamps. On the carved white altar burned six candles flanked by two baskets of delicate white flowers.

All around the room were floral tributes. A great cross of white carnations came from the White House.

It was strangely quiet in the chapel. Sometimes the visitors whispered among themselves. Once a baby cried in a nearby corridor.

Periodically there was the sound of military heels on stone as the five servicemen honor guards shifted from parade rest to attention or changed posts every half hour.

Nikita's Son-in-Law New Izvestia Editor

MOSCOW (AP) — The youthful son-in-law of Premier Nikita Khrushchev is the new editor of Izvestia, and professionals expect him to brighten the pages of the Soviet government's staid newspaper.

Alexei Adzhubei, 34, married Khrushchev's youngest daughter. He has a reputation for injecting human interest into stories—something rare in Soviet journalism.

Adzhubei, lively and rotund like his father-in-law, gets along easily with Americans and other Westerners. He moves from the editor's chair at Komsomol Pravda, the Communist youth organ, where he gained a reputation for trimming long speeches of second-string politicians to make room for more lively news.

General Threads Needle With Tiny Light Bulb

Maj. Gen. August Schomburg, Army deputy chief of ordnance, said the tiny bulb, designed for use in miniature computers, is believed the smallest in the world. It is .035 of an inch in diameter and less than 1-10th of an inch long.

UP Advised It Needs More Than Mackinac Bridge

HOUGHTON (AP)—It will take more than the Mackinac Bridge to bring the Upper Peninsula business needed for a generally improved economy, an advertising executive said yesterday.

Greg Manchester, advertising director for Cross Co. of Detroit, told a business management forum at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology that "although tourism has become a multi-million dollar business in the Upper Peninsula, only the surface of this gold mine has been scratched."

"With the mines running out," Manchester said, "the Upper Peninsula must look to its future. Tourism offers the most significant opportunity for immediate return, but a unified program of all out sales promotion, advertising and public relations is needed to meet the terrific competition of other vacation areas."

Monroe A-Plant Given Go-Ahead

AEC Okays Building, Rejects Plea of Unions Concerning Safety

WASHINGTON (AP)—The builders of the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant at Lagoona Beach near Monroe, Mich., have been given the go-ahead by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The AEC yesterday affirmed its issuance of a construction permit for the 100,000 kilowatt nuclear power plant.

The order continues a permit which has been in effect since 1956, but which has been attacked by three labor unions on grounds the proposed plant would endanger the surrounding area.

The Power Reactor Development Corp. (PRDC), a combine of privately owned utilities headed by Detroit Edison Co., will complete the 44 million dollar plant by December 1960 at the latest, AEC said in its opinion yesterday. Earliest possible completion date would be December this year, it said.

The 101-page resume of the case released by AEC emphasized that no operating permit would be granted PRDC until the commission is fully satisfied that the reactor can be safely operated.

Hearings on a license for operation of the plant "shall be held at a time later to be determined, after the completion of construction," the commission said.

Unions opposing construction of the reactor are the United Auto Workers, United Paper Workers and International Union of Electrical Workers.

The opinion said, "We believe the public interest in the development of the fast breeder reactor, the time to be saved in proceeding with construction while the remaining technical and safety problems are being solved, and our responsibilities under the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 are better served by continuing the permit."

It was signed by commissioners Harold S. Vance, John F. Floberg and John S. Graham. Chairman John A. McCone and Commissioner Willard F. Libby did not participate in the case.

Bless You, Sonny . . . Abby

Little Man, You've Had a Busy Day

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy eleven years old. I didn't have anything to do so I took our tools next door and cleaned up the neighbor's yard. They are two old people and he is lame and she works out. He came out on crutches and made me take two dollars. Abby, I didn't want the two dollars. He said he would be mad at me if I didn't take it, so I had to take it. It took all the fun out of doing it for me. Do you think I should go back and try to get him to take his two dollars?

ABBY

CUB SCOUT

DEAR CUB: Keep the two dollars. His "pride" might suffer if you tried to return it. Just keep right on doing those nice things for people who can't do for themselves and I predict a very happy life for you. Bless you, Sonny.

DEAR ABBY: I met a man at work and we fell in love at first sight you might say. He says he has no family or friends and doesn't like to talk about his past. I am 20 and have been on my own for four years, but I don't have much experience with men. I live with my grandparents and work at a factory. This man is handsome and treats me nice but he seems to have come from out of nowhere. Do you think his past is important?

NOT EXPERIENCED

DEAR NOT: A man's past is very important—especially if he doesn't like to talk about it. People who seem to have "come from out of nowhere" usually end up the same place. Find out where he's been all your life or lose him.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young widow who has a nice business which my husband left me. All my friends warn me to watch out for men who are interested in marrying me for my money. I have met a few men who seem interested in me for myself, but how can you tell? My friends say it would be foolish of me to waste my time with a man who has less in assets than I have. I can't ask a man for an accounting of his assets, can I? I know one man in particular whom I suspect doesn't have as much as I have, but I like him. I am lonesome but I don't have to buy a man yet. What is a woman in my position supposed to do?

STELLA

DEAR STELLA: Look for a man who is decent, treats you right and is good company. If you reach the point in your relationship where marriage is discussed, lay your cards on the table and ask him to do likewise. If he couldn't possibly marry you without your money, then you can safely assume that your "assets" created his urge to merge.

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if you had a brother who was 12 and he loved model airplanes? When I am trying to get dressed he comes into my room with a model airplane and shoots it over my head and wrecks my hair and scares me to death. What do you do with a brother like that?

MAD

DEAR MAD: Lock your door and tell your brother to go fly a kite (outside)!

Takes Oath by Toadstool

Princess Anne's a Brownie

LONDON (AP) — The circle of little girls stood around the toadstool in one of the Buckingham Palace gardens, their song trilling across the spacious lawn.

"We are the Brownies, here's our aim,
"Lend a hand and play the game."

Princess Anne, 8-year-old daughter of Queen Elizabeth II, was formally introduced Tuesday into the revived Buckingham Palace Brownie Pack.

The Brownies is a junior Girl Scout organization dedicated to instructing moppets in the rudiments of womanly tasks and instilling a zest for good deeds. The Buckingham Palace pack has been out of action since Princess Margaret outgrew it. The Queen ordered it revived for Anne.

The inaugural meeting brought about a dozen little girls from nearby Holy Trinity Church — including the daughters of a cabdriver and a hotel servant—and as many children of palace employes.

Anne's first lesson included instructions in the Brownie salute, setting the tea table and washing up afterward. She took the oath:

"I promise to do my best to do my duty to God and the Queen and to help other people every day, especially those at home." She chose to join a sub-group of the pack called the Pixies.

"It was a lovely meeting," reported 11-year-old Sally Lews. "Princess Anne met us at the door of the summer house. We had singing and made a fairy circle around a toadstool."

Hide Lip Lines

Little Makeup Tips Helpful

If you have the habit of pursing the lips or pouting or if you whistle a lot, this may cause little lines on the upper lip around the mouth.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today I want to give you a few special hints about makeup.

Those little lines which extend out from the lips are most discouraging to women. Many develop these as they grow older — and these lines do much to make a woman LOOK older.

I am not speaking of lines from nose to mouth or from mouth to chin, but the little lines which sometimes appear on the upper lip around the mouth.

Of course mannerisms can develop these. If you have the habit of pursing the lips or pouting, or if you whistle a lot, this may cause the lines. If you have a habitually happy expression which lifts the corners of your mouth and your facial contour in general, you will be less apt to develop them. Of course sometimes they appear anyway.

This condition creates a difficult makeup job since lipstick is likely to run into the fine lines. In the first place be sure to select a lipstick which is not too oily — one which has a bit more body. Stretch the skin of the lips before applying lipstick. Then powder over the lips. This fills the creases and sets the coloring.

Also many women do not make their lower lips full enough. If you add a little more fullness, it seems to lift the corners of the mouth and makes one look more youthful.

Many women do not know what a natural effect can be created by using a little eyebrow brush after using an eyebrow pencil. You use the pencil in light, feathery strokes and with the brush you blend the strokes of the pencil.

Most women use rouge which is too dark or too bright. The general rule is to choose a very light color. Then dilute it by mixing it with a bit of your liquid foundation. Use the palm of your hand for this.

If your skin is not good and you need a foundation base to camouflage defects, it is better to use one coat of a heavier foundation than several coats of a thinner one.

Do not apply makeup heavily under the eyes. This makes any lines more noticeable. Leave this area until last and if you use makeup apply it very lightly. Your base probably will be best without powder. In this way there will be no color line but neither will the powder collect in the wrinkles.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Clear the Way for Beauty" (pimples, blackheads, freckles etc.) send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 48. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Says 'Hazel'

Here's One Investment That Always Pays Off

By MARIE DAERR

Miss Hazel F., 67-year-old retired school teacher, considers being in demand as a speaker to groups all over her home town just one of the returns on "the best investment I ever made."

Miss F.'s investment, made three years after she retired from a 46-year teaching career, was a 92-day, 20-country air tour.

DREAM FULFILLED

"I had dreamed about a trip around the world since I was nine years old," said Miss F. "I'll never regret making it

"In fact, it was such a thrill, I'm starting off early this year on a 73-day trip to Africa."

How can a retired schoolteacher afford trips that supposedly belong in the caviar class?

"I'm not rich," said Miss F. "But all my life I've done without things a lot of other people consider essential, so that I could have what I wanted.

"I've never owned a fur coat or seen the inside of a beauty parlor. I never buy liquor. When I travel, I don't stay in expensive hotel rooms, or load up with souvenirs.

FAITHFUL 'PRUDENCE'

"For 22 years I drove a 1934 car that took me on vacations to every state in the Union. It didn't bother me a bit that 'Prudence' looked a bit old-fashioned. And I consider my 1956 model decidedly inferior to 'Prudence,' so far as reliability is concerned.

"With the help of a few nest eggs I put aside—not all in one basket—I'm now doing what I've wanted to do for years. It's been so wonderful, I can hardly believe this is Hazel."

Clubs, PTA's, former fellow faculty members and friends are getting very real evidence of Miss F.'s thrilling experiences in her illustrated lecture, "Around the World With Hazel."

"I rode camel, pony, burro and elephant," said Miss F. "On the Nile, I was transported in a felucca, a shallow boat crewed by native boys. On the desert in Egypt, I slept in a tent whose walls were appliqued with Egyptian and Turkish designs."

BIG LESSON

What thrilled Miss F. most on her journey was the realization that "there's no difference between the peoples of the world except that of language."

"Learning that fact was worth the whole price of the trip," said Miss F.

School Bell Belles

Little girls will go back to school in dresses with big bell sleeves and wide cape collars. They are young versions of the old-fashioned look which turned up this year in mama's clothes.

Mrs. Alexander Feted at Shower

Mrs. John Alexander was honored at a pink and blue shower Friday evening at the home of Mrs. John Blacker on Gingell court. Mrs. George Cram was cohostess.

Guests included Mrs. Ray Lowe, Mrs. Frank O'Conner, Mrs. Pearl Alexander, Mrs. William Alexander, Mrs. Jack Felix, Mrs. Fred Giddings, Mrs. Jesse Withey of Peck, Mrs. William McNeil, Mrs. Ray Heuer, Mrs. Albert Pence, Mrs. Alvin Lundgren and Mrs. Ethel Lundgren, both of Flint, and Mrs. Charles McCormick of Goodrich.

Project Provides Special Piano

Sorority Aids Pontiac State Hospital

Last September the Birmingham Eta Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority voted unanimously to adopt Pontiac State Hospital as its "Service Project" 'for the year.

Upon contacting the hospital's director of recreational therapy, Dorothy Roe, members learned of a serious lack of equipment for the music therapy department, particularly a portable Wurlitzer electronic piano to be used as a teaching aid and to provide music for confined ward patients.

The instrument, it was explained, featured head phones for individual monitoring. They were told that music is thoroughly enjoyed by the emotionally disturbed and mentally ill and is considered a valuable form of therapy in attempting to restore the patient to reality.

LAUNCHES 'TALENT FUND'

To amass necessary funds for the goal, Eta Iota Chapter's ways and means committee, headed by Mrs. Lee Griffith, launched a "Talent Fund Project."

Each member was asked to raise a minimum amount of money by employing some individual effort or talent.

As an incentive to the group a contest was initiated with several local merchants donating prizes for members earning the most money.

Methods chosen for earning the amount were both varied and engaging. One woman baked and sold apple pies; one made fancy cakes; and still another worked as an election inspector.

Some sold products, baby sat, and one member planned gift raffles which were held at the monthly meetings. Another member donated her commission earned for doing art work for Detroit's new nephrosis clinic.

HIGHLY PROFITABLE

The "Talent Fund Project" proved so profitable that, not only has it been possible to purchase the piano which was accompanied by the ear phones and a "Library of Music" donated by Weigand's Music Center, Miracle Mile Shopping Center, but also a large Webster's International Dictionary for the hospital's library group.

The piano was presented just last week, and a hospital spokesman has reported the patients are making good use of it.

The dictionary was given at a party for patients on Tuesday. Throughout the year members have made it a point to visit the patients regularly bringing homemade treats. The hospital staff feels faithful outside contacts are vital to a patient's rehabilitation.

The sorority hopes other clubs and organizations will take on the hospital's needs as a project.

Donations are being accepted by Miss Roe for two funds: One, for a bus in which to transport patients, and the other, a Hammond organ for the patients' chapel where a piano is now in use.

Michel Goma Carita has created this hair style called "The Legionnaire" to complement the soft, natural and feminine look so popular this summer. An artificial topknot accents the youthful softness and eyes of this girl's ethereal face.

Local Girl to Get Degree at U. of M.

To graduate from University of Michigan with a degree in Business Administration is Phyllis Law, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Law of Miami road.

A member of Iota chapter of Delta Delta Delta sorority, she served as vice president of her pledge class, service projects chairman, rushing chairman and this year as house president.

She plans to work in Chicago next year.

TO TAN . . . OR TO BURN!

Once again it's time to warn against too much sun to quickly. It is very tempting to spend the complete holiday week-end out in the sunshine. Especially this first of the summer holidays so that we can dispose of hot nylon hose and replace them with sun-tanned legs.

By all means if the sun comes out . . . enjoy it but use discretion. Remember a golden tan is attractive but a burn can be dangerous.

At a cost of less than one dollar in materials, the spirit of the circus parade may be captured in a colorful and imaginative "stitch picture," ideal for decorating a child's bedroom.

Sew a Fabric Picture for the Children's Room

With today's versatile sewing machines, it requires less than a dollar's worth of percale and organdy, plus some sewing scraps, to create original pictures for your children's room. In this case you don't need paint, brush or canvas. Suppose you would like to create a composition with a circus motif, always a favorite.

The first step is to cut pictures you like from a newspaper or magazine. Then follow these directions.

Cut a square of fabric somewhat larger than any one of the pictures. Back each piece with organdy or a similar stiff fabric to make the material lie flat.

With thread of a contrasting color, sew even rows of embroidery stitches across the fabric, using the width of the presser foot of your machine to space the rows.

A different stitch may be used for each square.

Trace or draw your animal or clown on the stitched square and cut out the design. It can then be appliqued to a beige or gray linen background, using fine zigzag stitches.

Press on the wrong side under a damp cloth. As a final step, mount it on heavy cardboard and place in a frame of proper size.

Similarly, ballet figures would be cut from stitched squares using the same technique. When framing, the fabric must be drawn tightly over the cardboard and stapled at the edges.

There are almost unlimited sources for patterns in magazines, seed catalogs and children's crayon books.

The end result is an imaginative "stitch picture" that will act as a main conversation piece among the small fry—all at less cost than one round of ice cream sodas.

"Most of our sales should be called rescue operations," notes the jewelry buyer of a top department store. Need to Find Wonder in Commonplace

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Do you feel uneasy about reading fairy tales to your child?

If so, you may be struggling under the influence of overzealous educational theorists and child psychologists who condemn fairy tales as bad and "unrealistic" for children.

Like most zealots, they see only what they want to see. The truth is, fairy tales are profoundly realistic.

A fairy tale is something that changes the commonplace into what is rich and strange and wonderful — what the commonplace always is if we have the eyes to see.

Aladdin inadvertently rubs an old, taken-for-granted lamp — and his cave is filled with the mystical presence of the Genii. The Little Lame Prince is given an ordinary cloak, and it carries him through his window up to the stars. In a fairy tale your breakfast egg argues with you in the voice of Humpty Dumpty and your governess spreads her respectable umbrella to sail away over the trees.

For a child, Hans Christian Andersen changes a battered old toy into a heroic tin soldier. In the same way Maurice Maeterlinck, friendliness of bread, milk and by turning the jewel of insight in light by giving these taken-for-Tyltyl's cap, awakens his young granted presences in his life new hero's abrupt awareness of the meaning and new importance.

The realization that what we have taken for granted is not commonplace but wonderful is an experience of love.

When we fall in love, a person who has seemed ordinary to us stops being ordinary. When we make a friend, another human being is transformed with new meaning for us just as Aladdin's old lamp revealed unsuspected qualities to him — and light flared from the cottage lamp to turn into a lady of radiant grace for Tyltyl.

If this sudden vision of unexpected power and beauty in the taken-for-granted isn't love, what then is love?

I don't like adults who frown on fairy tales. I think they must be awfully grim people who've given up expecting anything strange and rich to happen to them.

Since fairy tales teach children to look for wonder in the commonplace, I think such people want to deny them this experience in love. I think they must want children to be as bored and unexpecting as they are. And that their "realism" is hopelessness calling itself another name.

Bake Chicken Breasts With Cream in Casserole

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Chicken is still a good buy. Now that it is so easy to buy any part of the bird we desire, this dish doesn't mean you purchase a whole chicken.

Mrs. Jerry Fillmore of Oxford is today's cook. She loves to experiment with unusual recipes. Gardening is her hobby.

CHICKEN CASSEROLE
By Mrs. Jerry Fillmore

4 chicken breasts, cut in half.
1 large can mushrooms, drained.
3 cups hot cream.

Brown chicken breast in butter or margarine. Season to taste. Can use seasoning salt. Put into deep casserole.

Pour mushrooms over chicken, then cream. Bake 1-½ hours at 350 degrees. Cream will be thick. If all the cream cooks away, add more cream or milk. This dish will keep in a slow oven if your guests are late.

If you like dumplings, put them on top of the chicken. Bake 10 minutes in the oven with the cover off, then an additional 10 minutes with the cover on. Serves four.

Guest Drops Something on Carpet

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: While attending a bridal shower recently, a buffet luncheon was served. One of the guests happened to drop some soft frosting on the living-room rug. The hostess saw this and immediately took a wet sponge and started to wash the rug in front of the guest. I thought this was in very bad taste and most embarrassing to the guest and that she should have waited until her guests left to do this. What is your opinion of this?"

Answer: There is no reason why the hostess should have pretended not to see the frosting and let it be ground into her rug under foot. She might have said something like, "Oh, did you spill any on your dress? the rug is nothing. I'll show you, it comes off instantly with a wet cloth (or sponge)."

"Dear Mrs. Post: A number of my friends have daughters in the late teens, away at college and with whom I correspond. They always begin their letters 'Dear Mrs. . . .' which is the way they also speak to me. I, on the other hand, have been signing these letters simply by first name. Is that correct?"

Answer: You should sign your full name — Dora Jones —unless you would like them to call you by first name. Your first name signature is certainly an invitation to do so.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter lives in a distant city and is being married there. We are the only ones from here who will be present at the wedding and only announcements are being sent. May we use a return address on these — that of the bride and groom's new home so that any who want to send them gifts will not mail them here to us?"

Answer: If you enclose an "at home" card of the bride and groom with their address on it this will show those who want to send a gift where to send it. Others can list their address for future use.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have a very lovely bone china tea set which was given to me many years ago but as I entertain very seldom I do not have occasion to use it very often. The daughter of a friend of mine is going to be married soon and, as she has always admired this tea set, I was wondering if it would be proper to give her this as a wedding present, or might she be insulted at receiving a second-hand present?"

Answer: Under the conditions you describe, I am sure the bride will be delighted to receive your lovely tea set and will not think of it as being "second-hand."

Mrs. Dulles Devoted to Husband, His Career

WASHINGTON, (UPI) — The slight, gray-haired widow of John Foster Dulles was once credited by her diplomat husband for "anything good I may have accomplished."

This is strong praise, but those who know Janet Pomeroy Avery Dulles say she deserves every bit of it.

For 17 years she was an inseparable companion for her husband. During Dulles' final illness she kept a constant vigil at his bedside. She was with him when he died of cancer last Sunday morning.

Mrs. Dulles' exceptional devotion to her husband and his demanding public career began nearly half a century ago. She met Dulles shortly after returning from Europe in 1911.

She had attended a girls' finishing school in Paris. Dulles at the time was a $100 a month lawyer in New York City.

They were married June 26, 1912, at Auburn, N. Y., the home of the bride's parents.

She bore him three children, two sons and a daughter.

An unpretentious woman, she largely sought to remain in the background even when her husband became a national figure. But she flew with him to the four corners of the world during the long trips he had to take as secretary of state.

During one two-year period she and "Foster" logged 300,000 miles together. Whenever the diplomatic meetings he attended were open to the public Mrs. Dulles was among the spectators.

She delighted in the travel and the new people she met during the trips. She spoke fluent French and some Spanish.

Mrs. Dulles tried to ease the burden of her husband's demanding duties by creating in their home a haven from the world's turmoil. The present Dulles home in Washington is a French provincial at the edge of Rock Creek Park.

She also took the pressure of social affairs on her own shoulders by attending the endless embassy receptions to spare the need for her husband's presence.

Mrs. Dulles' loneliest hours with her husband were those spent at Duck Island, an isolated retreat in Lake Ontario. Mrs. Dulles did the cooking and housekeeping chores, and her husband the dishwashing.

Dulles' death, even though anticipated for some days, came as a grievous blow to his wife. But friends said she was bearing up well in her grief.

EVELYN KUMMETH

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Kummeth of Owatonna, Minn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn Kummeth, to Paul H. Sefton of Goshen, Ind. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Sefton of St. Clair drive. Miss Kummeth, a registered nurse, is residing in Goshen. The wedding will take place June 27 at Sacred Heart Church, Owatonna.

Church Group in Meeting Here

The Marbach Study Group of the First Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. Richard Irwin on Iroquois road. Mrs. Guy Duffield and Mrs. Ann Wagoner were hostesses.

A presentation of the Charter for Christian Action was given Mrs. Gordon Cox, Mrs. Donald McColl and Mrs. William Belaney.

Mrs. Lowell Good gave the social education lesson and Mrs. George Beauchamp presented the Bible study.

Friends Honor Future Bride With Shower

Miss Hampton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert T. Hampton, will marry Duane B. Lau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orle E. Lau of Auburn Heights, Sept. 5.

Attendants for the wedding will be Jeanne Swindell, maid of honor; Mrs. Charles Miller, Kathy Brinkman, Patricia Hadden and Willa Jean Wolfe of Detroit, bridesmaids. Luann Looney, niece of the bride-elect, will be flower girl.

Washing the kitchen walls will yield more satisfactory results if you wash from the bottom up, thus avoiding the hard-to-remove streaks caused by water dripping down a soiled surface.

Chitchat

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

If you kept house during and/or before the war years, you probably appreciate household paper products more than the June brides of this year will. You know how much they simplify housekeeping.

Have you ever thought what the installing of additional racks for paper towels will do to help you? Put up one in the bathroom. Maybe Junior will grab a paper towel when he mops up the floor after his bath. Maybe he will use it to wipe off the dirt he didn't WASH off his hands.

PLEASE DAD, TOO

A second holder mounted in the basement will be gratefully used by your husband. Wiping grease or dirt off pieces of machinery he's working on is one use he'll find for the towels. And having his own cleanup corner will please him.

Paper napkins can be lifesavers, too. In addition to their normal use, have you ever used them to:

. . . polish mirrors?
. . . wipe fingerprints off silver, china or lamp bases?
. . . pick up bits of broken glass?
. . . wipe out greasy pans?
. . . drain bacon or french fried potatoes?

We like to use toilet tissues to wipe the tops of the seasoning and herb jars we keep on the stove. They do get greasy. We moisten a tissue and clean the leaves of plants that are dusty.

EASY FIRST AID

Have you seen the new first-aid item, a cotton-tipped swab pre-dipped in Isodine? Isodine is a stingless, stainless iodine complex. You just moisten the tip of the little stick and apply it to cuts, bruises or other minor skin abasions. Wonderful to carry in the car, in the picnic basket or even in your purse.

If you're debating about installing air conditioning and want to get the pros and cons, here's just the booklet for you. It's called "Milady's Climate" and is published by the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, 2753 4th Ave. S., Minneapolis, Minn.

Harm Your Setting Hairbrushing Won't

However, after a setting is dry, brush it before combing. This loosens the curls but doesn't destroy the setting. Follow this with a combing to bring the curls into place.

Won't Put Memories to Test of Time

By RUTH MILLETT

My college class is celebrating its 25th reunion this year. I was pleased to get an invitation to the festivities, but I'm not going.

I've lived long enough to know that one thing you can never do in life is go back.

Those college years were happy years. The friends made then will never be forgotten. But because they live in memory, they never changed, never grown up, never lose their young enthusiasms, never meet tragedy, never settle for less than they say they will.

The college campus belonged to us then, and in memory it still belongs to us. Now it belongs to another generation, perhaps a more serious generation, a better generation, a smarter generation.

But it is still a generation that is bound to be strangers to us who finished college 25 years ago. Their talk, dress, and even their dreams are different, for we dreamed of success while they dream of security.

And to them we would be just so many old grads coming back, trying to convince them that we, too, were once young. We would insist on telling them stories which they would only listen to with polite attention.

And what would we talk about to each other, those of us who used to sit up half the night discussing life? After a few "Do you remember when . . ." and "Whatever became of . . ." conversations what would we find to talk about?

No, you can't go back because nothing ever remains the same. And happy memories are best kept as happy memories.

Ask City Engineer to Study Report

Car Storage Battle Rages

City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn was called upon last night to enter into the battle over construction of a storage lot for new Pontiac automobiles in a residential neighborhood next to the Pontiac Motor Division plant.

Wrenn was asked by the City Commission to study an engineering report that indicated the proposed location was unsuitable for homes.

The city engineer was told to report on his findings next week, when the commission is to decide whether to kill plans to rezone the area from residential to manufacturing or refer them to the Planning Commission.

Owner of the property—24 lots on both sides of Second avenue, Highwood to Laurel—wants to sell to the Contract Cartage Co., a haulaway firm, said Arthur Kollin, a Pontiac attorney representing the property owner.

The haulaway company proposes to blacktop the area, install a fence and floodlights, and store cars there, said Harcourt S. Patterson, legal representative for the firm.

"We don't think it would be a nuisance or cause a neighborhood racket," he told the commission.

Kollin submitted to Wrenn a report by the Michigan Drilling Co. of Detroit, which indicated, he said, that the swampy nature of the area made the construction of houses there economically prohibitive.

"There would be extra expense involved in construction of their foundations," he explained.

District 5 Commissioner John A. Dugan, who represents the area, and several residents of the neighborhood disagreed.

"Your land is no worse than the surrounding area," Dugan said. "We've never had any complaints about leaky basements in that neighborhood.

"I've read the report, but not being an engineer I'm still not sure that houses can't be built there. And we have no guarantee that the cartage company might not sell the rezoned land to a factory someday."

In answer, Kollin raised the possibility that the terminal area could exist under a commercial zoning classification, eliminating the possibility that the land might eventually be used for manufacturing.

Three residents of the neighborhood told the commission that their basements did not leak.

Commissioner Milton R. Henry agreed with Kollin that the residential zoning should be changed if the land was not suitable for homes.

"We're asking for rezoning in order to put this vacant land to a useful purpose, one that would be beneficial to the city's tax base," said Kollin.

Kollin asked the commission to send the proposal to the Planning Commission for a hearing, even though a 51 per cent majority of the affected residents have signed a protest pefition against it.

Strong neighborhood opposition to the change over the past month led the commission to shelve the proposal indefinitely last week.

But the matter was reopened last night when Kollin appeared in person for the first time, saying he had waited for completion of the engineering tests before showing up to explain the proposal in full.

Faubus Doesn't See Rebuff

Says Issues Not Clear in School Board Vote at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he did not feel results of Monday's school board recall election indicated the people of Little Rock wanted him to keep hands off their public school affairs.

"There was no clear-cut issue in the election," Faubus said.

Three militant segregationists backed by Faubus were recalled from the board in Monday's balloting and three moderates he opposed kept their seats.

Faubus met newsmen today for the first time since the election. He issued a statement but most of his views were drawn out in a question-and-answer session.

Faubus pointed out that a citizens' committee opposing his faction on the board campaigned solely on the issue of dismissal of 44 teachers by the three segregationist board members.

The governor said he would be willing to interpret any vote as a vote for integration only if the question posed on the ballot was "for or against total integration."

Former Lawyer Here Takes Oath With Florida Bar

A former Pontiac area attorney and Sylvan Lake official has been sworn in as a member of the Florida Bar Association before the Florida Supreme Court.

Formerly associated with Pontiac attorney Milton F. Cooney for 25 years, Estes served as president of the Sylvan Lake City Council and was Sylvan Lake city attorney.

No Frantic Hiring, but Job Prospect for College Graduates Still Good

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Job prospects for this year's college graduating class are somewhat better than they were a year ago. But the frenzied, frantic hiring that marked the mid-50s has disappeared.

The outlook is good for high school graduates, too, but if at all possible they should plan to continue their education, either at college or in a vocational or technical school.

That's the word from experts in the U. S. Department of Labor. They're optimistic, but with reservations. This is the way they see the situation:

There is a strong demand for college graduates with good records in science, mathematics and engineering. Those with poorer grades should be able to get jobs, but they may have to look longer and settle for less.

Job prospects are also good in such fields as accounting, law, the health services, teaching, business administration, journalism, home economics and secretarial.

Straight liberal arts graduates, with no training in a particular field, may have some trouble. The day is past when a college degree alone is enough to guarantee a good job. They may find their best job opportunities in banks, department stores and insurance companies.

The darkest outlook seems to be for geologists. Industry is cutting down on its exploration activities.

ACCENT ON QUALITY

The Labor Department points out that emphasis in recent years has shifted from quantity to quality, particularly in the scientific field. Industry is being more selective in its hiring.

And in every field, the department says, local conditions will be a big factor. The June graduate may have to go far from home before he gets the job he wants.

An estimated 370,000 college students will get their degrees in June. The department says it believes jobs will be available for all, but all of them won't get the exact job they want, at the salary they want, in the city they want.

Teaching is a field where the supply isn't expected to catch up with the demand for many years. The National Education Assn. recently forecast a shortage next fall of 135,000 teachers.

The traditionally low salaries, which have steered many college graduates away from teaching, have been increasing at about 6 per cent a year in the past decade. Next fall, the average teacher salary in this country will be about $5,000.

WOMEN'S OUTLOOK GOOD

Women would appear to have the best of it in this summer's job hunting. The Labor Department says there is a great demand for women graduates with stenographic skills and broad college backgrounds who can advance to administratice positions. There also are many jobs available for home economists and librarians.

Overall, the prospects for this year's graduates are good. But what about the 1,663,000 high school graduates who will enter the labor market this summer? That's a worrisome problem, getting worse every year.

The percentage of Americans who graduate from high school has more than doubled in the past 30 years, from 30 per cent to about 66 per cent. And, just as it's getting more difficult to get a job without a high school diploma, it's getting hard to get into a skilled occupation without training or education beyond high school.

At the below-college level, the greatest opportunities for employment today are for technicians. Men—and women, too—with skill and training in such fields as electronics, engineering and drafting are having no trouble getting good jobs.

Such jobs usually don't require a college education, but they do require post-high school work in junior college, or technical or vocational schools.

Sl Swerdloff of the Labor Department suggests that high school graduates who can't afford or don't want to continue their formal education might find the best training of all in the armed forces.

"A survey a few years ago," he says, "showed that more than half the nation's television servicemen got their start through training i nthe armed forces. There is a real opportunity there for training in dozens of fields, all the way from electronics to truck driving."

Last year more than 3¼ million high school students held summer jobs, and the number is expected to be even higher this year. College students, too, will be seeking extra money during the summer months.

Twelve Rapped on Drunk Counts

22 Lose Drivers' Licenses

Twenty-two Pontiac area residents had their driver's license revoked or suspended recently, according to the Michigan Secretary of State's Office.

Mathew Egres of 27 Whittemore St., Pontiac.
Eugene English of 30 Deland Ct., Pontiac.
John A. Green of 33209 Shiawassee, Farmington.
Melvin D. Guthrie of 30900 Orchard Lake, Farmington.
John A. Hutchinson of 6817 Longworth St., Waterford Township.
Floyd J. Mathews of 718 Cottage St., Pontiac.
Roger K. Moody of 11330 S. Dixie Hwy., Holly.
Charles F. Patten of 207 Rexton, Walled Lake.
William M. Patterson of 8212 Cherrywood, Clarkston.
Manton W. Perry, 1200 Wabasso St., Walled Lake.

Hugh E Black, 3145 Oakhill St., Birmingham.
James R. Tressler of 1300 Oxford Rd., Birmingham.

Those accused of unsatisfactory judgment were:

Wally J. Barber, 9412 Beechcrest, White Lake Township.
David G. Kershner, Auburn Hotel, Pontiac.
Annabel McDaniel of 21001 Parker St., Farmington.
Milton McDaniel of 21001 Parker St., Farmington.
Robert L. Williamson of 397 S. Jessie St., Pontiac.

The license of Darce A. Paschall of 1917 Bowers St., Birmingham, was taken for an unsatisfactory driving record and for failure to appear for re-examination.

CRESSY B. LARSON

Boys' Club Head Now Attending National Meeting

Cressy B. Larson, executive director of the Boys' Club of Pontiac, is attending the 53rd annual convention of the Boys' Clubs of America at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago.

The four-day conclave ends tomorrow.

More than 1,000 lay and professional youth leaders, representing more than 530 Boys' Clubs and nearly 600,000 boy members, are participating in a wide variety of forums, workshops, clinics and training sessions planned to increase the effectiveness of BCA's youth guidance program.

The convention is placing special emphasis on the role of laymen and volunteers in BCA's growing contribution "to the development of Juvenile Decency among the nation's youth," according to John F. Gleason, national director of the youth organization.

Nationally known youth leaders, educators, sociologists and industrialists will participate in some 50 sessions especially designed to interest and inform volunteer workers.

Berlin Deadline Arrves, but No Trouble Is Likely

BERLIN (AP)—The day the Soviets once set for the Western Allies to get out of West Berlin dawned today with no trouble likely.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev has postponed the deadline indefinitely. The Soviet Embassy in East Berlin assured the West that the Kremlin wouldn't renege.

The U.S. Army said it planned no special alert for American troops in West Berlin.

But all the talk of May 27 apparently acted as a magnet for tourists. West Berlin was thronged with a record number of foreign visitors.

NO BRAVERY MEDALS

"I must disappoint those who expect to get bravery medals," said Mayor Willy Brandt smilingly. "May 27 will be like any other day."

Six months ago today—on Nov. 27—the Soviet premier called for an end to the World War II occupation of Berlin and withdrawal of the Allied military garrisons from West Berlin.

He said that in six months the Soviet would give East Germany's Communist regime control over Allied military traffic between West Germany and the Communist-surrounded Western half of the city.

The East Germans have controlled civilian traffic to and from Berlin since 1955.

The Western Allies, who refuse to recognize or deal with the East German government, rejected Khrushchev's demand. There was talk of an armed convoy or a new airlift to challenge any transfer of traffic control to the East Germans. Fear of war was widespread.

The fears subsided when the West and the Soviets agreed to negotiate. Khrushchev said he wouldn't try to alter Berlin's status while negotiations were in progress.

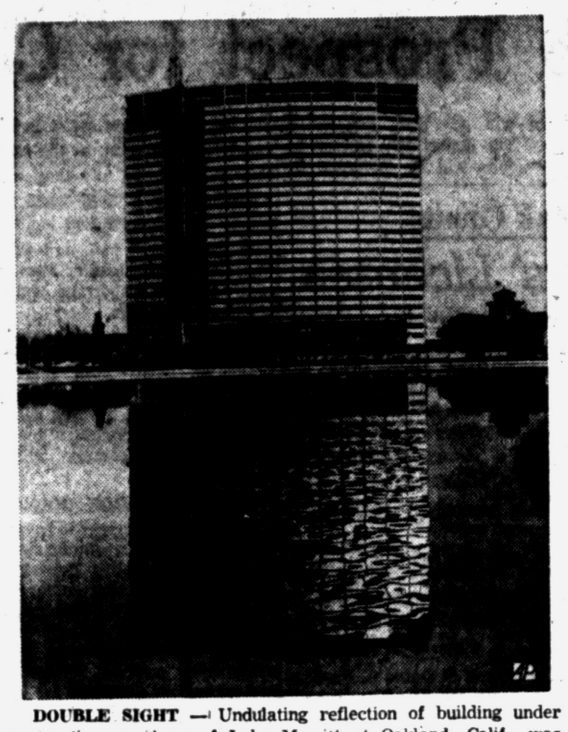

SETTLEMENT DELAYED

The foreign ministers of the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France began talks on Berlin and Germany in Geneva last week. Any permanent settlement apparently must wait for the summit conference expected in August.

Despite Soviet assurances that May 27 was no longer D-Day, some suspicion lingered that the Communists might try something today just to remind that they still want an end to the Western Allies' protection of the 2,200,000 West Berliners.

But post-midnight inspections showed the Soviets still manning the checkpoints on the rail and road routes to West Berlin.

"All's quiet on the Eastern front," said one of the American soldiers on duty at Helmstedt, western end of the 110-mile highway between West Germany and the divided city.

DOUBLE SIGHT — Undulating reflection of building under construction on shore of Lake Merritt at Oakland, Calif., was caused by high humidity over area.

Vienna Expected Choice as Summit Meeting Site

GENEVA (UPI)—The Western allies have abandoned San Francisco as the site for a summit conference in favor of Vienna, it was reported today.

The Western powers have just about made up their minds to holding a heads-of-state parley in Vienna, probably in the first 10 days of September, reliable conference sources said. Russia is expected to go along with the choice.

A final decision will not be made until the end of the present Geneva foreign ministers' conference.

The San Francisco-for-the-summit boom reached its peak about three weeks ago. Nikita Khrushchev was known to want to visit the United States. New York was ruled out on grounds of security difficulties. The Soviets had indicated they did not object to San Francisco.

But the French and Western Germans raised strong objections centering mainly on the difficulty of summit press coverage faced by European newspapers in San Francisco.

Gen. Charles De Gaulle announced flatly that if a top level meeting were held on the American West Coast, it would be attended by Premier Michel Debre rather than himself. That apparently killed the idea.

Geneva, with its ample hotel and communications facilities, also has been considered seriously as a site. But many diplomats felt it would not provide an atmosphere conducive to successful negotiations. They cited the Swiss city's long record of diplomatic failures, including the 1955 summit conference.

British Prime Minister Macmillan had suggested half jokingly that summit talks take place at the Scottish highland resort of Glen eagles. It was pointed out that Gleneagles has a golf course.

Lack of communications appeared to rule that out.

Missile Pick Not Urgent

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is no need for an immediate choice between the Army's Nike-Hercules and the Air Force's Bomarc missiles, President Eisenhower has told top Republican congressional leaders. Relative merits of the two missiles have been debated openly by military leaders in recent congressional hearings.

Can 'Spot-Weld' Retinas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Medical scientists have developed a way of "spot welding" damaged retinas, a key organ of human sight. Dr. Alson E. Bradley of the State University of Iowa medical school told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee about it. He urged increased funds for research.

Gromyko Lauds Late Foe Dulles

Soviet Foreign Minister Arrives in Washington for Today's Funeral

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko arrived in Washington today full of praise for John Foster Dulles, the old adversary whose funeral he came to attend.

But he was mum as to the prospects for success in the Geneva conference, interrupted for the rites for the former U.S. secretary of state.

He ducked a question as to whether he would see President Eisenhower during his two-day stay in the American capital.

Gromyko strode to waiting microphones and said: "I arrive to the United States to attend the funeral of the former secretary of state, Mr. Dulles.

"I knew Mr. Dulles for a long time, I think for about 15 years.

"I attended with him many international conferences.

"Of course we had differences on many international problems, including important ones.

"But I cannot but recognize that he was an outstanding statesman.

Then the Soviet visitor went quickly to a waiting limousine and hurried away with Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov to the Soviet Embassy.

He had been met in behalf of the State Department by Foy D. Kohler, assistant secretary of state for European affairs. The first thing he asked after he stepped off the plane was whether he had beaten the other three foreign ministers of the Big Four to Washington.

Gromyko made the trip by commercial airliner, flying here from New York on the last leg.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville were flying in a few minutes behind him in a Military Air Transport plane with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

"You beat him here after all," Kohler said as Gromyko grinned.

"I don't think this is the time to go into any political question," Gromyko said.

Soda Pop Lures Violet the Bear Back to Owners

FLAT ROCK (AP)—A bottle of soda pop was Violet the bear's undoing.

Violet, a nine-month-old baby who tips the scales at 75 pounds, escaped from the Huron Township farm of her owners, Mr. and Mrs. John Newton, last Wednesday.

The Newtons, who planned to raise Violet as a pet, notified police and told them Violet loved pop.

State Police heard yesterday Violet was seen in a patch of woods about six miles north of here. Trooper Albert Gerber grabbed a bottle of soft drink and sped to the scene. Other officers notified Newton.

When Newton arrived, he found Violet standing on her hind legs drinking from the bottle held by Gerber. Newton collared the animal and took her home.

Panic Contributed to Boating Tragedy

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—A coroner's report says the five young people who lost their lives in Lake St. Clair Monday were victims of exhaustion and drowning.

"I think panic played a large part in the tragedy," said Dr. Raymond G. Markel, Macomb County coroner.

Three youths and two girls drowned. The only survivors, three girls, were released from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The survivors, Detroit residents Mary Lou Gonyea and Marilyn Cily, both 17, and Nancy Benedetti, 20, of Harper Woods, may be called to testify at a Coast Guard investigation.

After a Coast Guard examination of the craft yesterday, Haley Ensign, Macomb County deputy sheriff, said "It's a good boat, but not for eight people."

Dems Urging Spending Cuts

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)— Congressional Democratic leaders reportedly are urging reluctant colleagues to pare down housing and airport spending bills. They want to avoid presidential vetoes.

Wrapped up in these two measures is the core of the political controversy between the majority of Democrats and President Eisenhower—budget balancing.

The two bills now are before Senate-House conference committees.

Democrats from the big cities particularly want Congress to enact large-scale housing and airport programs to which they can point in their 1960 re-election races. If Eisenhower vetoes these bills and his action is sustained, these Democrats think Republican candidates will suffer.

On the other hand, Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas were reported arguing that the Republicans thus far have developed budget balancing as the only major issue for 1960.

As reported by some of their colleagues, their argument is that if the Democrats trim the bills to minimum amounts they may be able to blunt this issue by getting presidential approval for the expenditures involved.

If this means less housing and airport development than some of the Democrats think is necessary, the leaders were said to have pointed to what they regard as the likelihood that their party will elect a president next year who would be willing to support an expansion of the programs in 1961.

For practical purposes, the committees trying to reach a compromise must stay within the framework of the different versions passed by the two houses.

As an instance, in passing the housing bill, the Senate approved an urban renewal program authorizing commitments of 350 million dollars a year for six years. That totals $2,100,000,000 in eventual expenditures. The House voted for a three-year program geared at 500 million dollars annually.

If the compromise committee listens to Democratic leadership suggestions, it could agree on a three-year program authorizing 350 million in annual commitments. This would bring the long-range total down to $1,050,000,000, compared to the $1,350,000,000 Eisenhower asked for a six-year program.

OKs Farm Aid Limit

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate Appropriations subcommittee has approved a $50,000 limit on the total price supports that can go to any one farm or farmer. The House has passed a similar provision.

Godfrey Urges Speedup in U.S. Cancer Research

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur Godfrey, who recenty underwent surgery for lung cancer, asked today for a stepped-up national program of cancer research.

"Surely, a crash program of cancer research is as important today to America as similar projects now being pursued by nuclear fission, missiles and space scientists," the television and radio entertainer said.

Godfrey, in a request prepared for Congress, made it clear that "I ask this in the interests of millions of our fellow Americans, not for myself."

Godfrey made his plea in a letter to Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala), chairman of a Senate Appropriations subcommittee. The letter was dated for reading at today's hearing.

"Personally," Godfrey wrote, "I am now dedicated to the dissemination of information so that the general public will understand that semiannual examination is the only guarantee of early discovery and diagnosis now available. All the intricate and miraculous surgery that man can devise is utterly useless when discovery and diagnosis are made too late."

Two widely known doctors asked today in prepared testimony for a $110,203,000 appropriation for the Cancer Institute. They were Dr. I. S. Ravdin, a professor of surgery at the University of Pennsylvania; and Dr. Sidney Farber of the Harvard medical school.

Model Agency Loses License in Fee Tiff

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry Conover's modeling agency — one of the best known in its field — has lost its license.

Commissioner of Licenses Bernard J. O'Connell said the license was canceled because of nonpayment of fees to models.

Conover and his wife, Candy Jones — a former model who married her boss — were ordered to appear in court today to answer a back pay claim against the Conover Agency.

The claim, for $2,200, was brought by Lorna Gillam, a 17-year-old blonde model for the agency.

Meanwhile, the district attorney's office disclosed it had subpoenaed the books and records of the Conover Agency and the Conover Career Girl School.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said he acted after receiving many complaints from the parents of child models who said they had not received fees due them.

Harry, Sam Say Article Wrong

Truman, Rayburn Deny They've Hand-Picked 2 for Presidential Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman and House Speaker Sam Rayburn say they didn't put their heads together and decide that one of two senators — Lyndon B. Johnson and Stuart Symington—should be the Democratic party's 1960 presidential candidate.

Life magazine reports that they did just that about three weeks ago in Washington. Rayburn and Johnson, the senate majority leader, are both Texans. Symington and Truman come from Missouri.

In Washington Tuesday, Rayburn called the story far-fetched. He said he had no recollection of ever having discussed presidential candidacies with Truman.

Truman said "it is a mystery to me how any one can claim to know what is in my mind about 1960 when, in fact, I have not come to any decision."

"I intend to keep an open mind for some time to come and until I feel certain in my own mind about who will be best among so many good and able men in the Democratic party," Truman said.

The article says in part that "Sen. John F. Kennedy was rejected both because of his youthful appearance and because Truman and Rayburn felt that Kennedy's Catholic faith would hurt him more than it would help him.

"Sen Hubert H. Humphrey was found not to have the bearing of a presidential candidate. They also remembered Humphrey's poor showing in his race for the vice presidential nomination three years ago, and they doubted whether he would be acceptable to the South in 1960.

"Adlai Stevenson was discarded, largely because he had twice been overwhelmingly defeated by Dwight D. Eisenhower. Truman and Rayburn also had other reasons: Both want a new face, both want a candidate who is eager to run. Rayburn considers Stevenson somewhat indecisive.

"As far as Truman and Rayburn were concerned, these discards left only Symington and Johnson as real contenders, and they agreed that either one would be acceptable."

Carey Calls Reuther Brave, Courageous

Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, had minced no words in saying Reuther, head of the Auto Workers Union, has "no brains, no guts," and had hid out from Detroit picket line battles in the 1930s.

Reuther ignored the comment.

Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, came to the defense of his fellow AFL-CIO leader. He noted in a telegram to Reuther that it was the 22nd anniversary of the "battle of the overpass" outside the Ford plant at Detroit.

Carey said it was on that occasion that Reuther and other auto unionists "were viciously beaten and bloodied by Ford Motor Co. goon squads."

"I am sure that you, like us, are only amused by twaddle that issues from publicists for phony strong arm-boys and dead-end kids who operate dues collecting agencies," Carey wired Reuther.

Checks, Finds Husband Likely Sober After All

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP) — At the height of a snowstorm that snarled traffic for miles around, a woman telephoned the sheriff's office and asked about the condition of the roads.

She got the stock reply: "Miserable."

Boys Get Their Goat as Policemen Chip In

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Three youths, ages 11, 12 and 14, were caught as they led a goat from a farm near Tucson.

The boys said they wanted the animal for a pet. They had saved $2, but the goat cost $5.

Admirals Chagrined as New Ship Stuck

KELLEYS ISLAND, Ohio (AP) — A new 10-million-dollar Navy LST, the USS Wood County, got stuck on the beach here for 8½ hours Tuesday while making its first landing.

Two rear admirals were among the 200 persons aboard when the embarrassing situation occurred during the two-day shakedown cruise on Lake Erie. The landing ship-tank strained its engines trying to get loose from the beach.

As is customary, the crew let out the stern anchor when the LST hit the beach. Normally, drawing in the anchor line with a winch would pull the ship off the beach. Red-faced crewmen soon learned, however, that the anchor was not firmly embedded in the lake bottom.

Had Much Self-Confidence

Dulles Served U.S. to End

(This is the last of three articles on the life and times of John Foster Dulles, whose unparalleled career as secretary of state was cut short by cancer. The writer, Ed Creagh, knew Dulles as an international lawyer and later as a senator and cabinet member.)

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Foster Dulles thought in big terms and often talked in big terms.

He did not underestimate himself. He had, and radiated, a serene confidence that the ship of state would sail well if he was in charge of the navigating.

"When is Dulles going to quit?" was a question frequently put to State Department correspondents in the middle years of Dulles' regime.

"When they carry him out in a coffin," was the usual answer. It was as accurate as it was callous.

Dulles didn't quit until he knew he was too ill to go on. And even from his sickbed he continued to counsel President Eisenhower, who visited him frequently, and State Department officials who also came to see him.

Dulles came to power—and it was real, H-bomb era power that he wielded, not just advice to the White House—on a tide of optimism.

Think back to 1953. The Korean War was till going on, to nobody's satisfaction. Harry Truman's secretary of state, Dean Acheson, was under attack from all sides. The cold war was smouldering like an imminent volcano. It could have been argued—and was—that the time had come for a change.

Dulles was in the thick of the 1952 presidential campaign. He blasted the Truman-Acheson policy as negative and even immoral. He said "containment" of communism behind its existent borders was not enough. There had to be, he said, a new "dynamic" approach. And he was eager to supply it.

NO SHOOTING WAR

Political sides may change but the cruel facts of life go on. Impartial observers have noted no great shift of American foreign policy since Dulles took office. With the one big exception that, since 1953, no American soldier has been involved in a shooting war.

There have been near misses. Dulles has been assailed by Democratic critics for "brinkmanship"—for bringing his country dangerously close to war. Some of these same critics have accused him of dithering—of failure to provide the firm foreign policy he once promised.

This is nothing new. No secretary of state within memory has escaped the fate of being damned if he did and damned if he didn't. Dulles may have come to have some sympathy for Acheson, who came in for more abuse than most.

Dulles' ambition, dating back to his youth, was to be secretary of state. He didn't make it until the age when most men are thinking about retirement. The word retirement never seemed to cross Dulles' mind. He was always thinking ahead, planning ahead. He knew, naturally, that someday he would have to turn over the reins to someone else. But he wasn't going to until he had to.

PICKED SUCCESSOR

And when the time came he hand-picked his successor, former Massachusetts Gov. Christian A. Herter, who had picked up what he could from Dulles—not always a man to share his thinking with others—as undersecretary of state.

Things are different around that vast state department building now. Herter is a team man. He doesn't lack confidence in himself but, with a staff of specialists at his beck and call, he relies less on his own knowledge and intuition than Dulles did.

Dulles seemed to thrive on crises. And his six years of tenure gave him much to thrive on. The Communist offensive appeared to slack at times but always pressed onward—to new gains in Indochina, the Near East and elsewhere.

Also it was Dulles—more than anyone else, probably—who had the job of holding the Western alliance together against the constant Red threat.

This didn't always make him a popular figure in Europe, any more than it did in all circles at home. He came frequently under attack in Britain, for instance, especially when this country put its foot down on the British-French-Israeli invasion of the Suez Canal zone.

SCORNED FAILURE

Dulles was not the most modest of men but he bore up under this and many another tornado of criticism. As a highly successful international lawyer, he was not accustomed to failure—or even to acknowledging it when it happened. Besides, he had the unswerving support of his boss, Dwight D. Eisenhower, who repeatedly called him the world's foremost expert on international affairs.

By appointment of New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Dulles served in the Senate for a time before becoming secretary of state. He decided against running for election to the post but changed his mind—to his later regret—and lost resoundingly.

One reason for his defeat may have been an offhand remark he made in upstate New York during the campaign. He referred to some of the big city voters who were pretty solidly lined up against him, and told his audience in terms which later were interpreted as contemptuous:

"I only wish you could see their faces."

Whatever Dulles meant by this, it did not go down well with New York City minority groups. They voted solidly against him, and he never sought elective office again.

But to achieve his ambition, being secretary of state, Dulles didn't need to run for office.

He did campaign for Eisenhower in 1952 and it was no surprise to anybody when Eisenhower announced Dulles as his first cabinet appointee.

Dulles loved his job, worked at it day and night, traveled some 100,000 miles a year.

Of him it could be said, to use the Woodrow Wilson campaign slogan: "He kept us out of war."

It is for the future to determine whether his policies, frequently taking into account the risk of war, were as sound as he and Eisenhower thought they were.

Bank Bandit Changes Subject of Conversation

EDWARDSBURG—Ben Clark, a Michigan Economic Development Department field representative, was at work talking with Banker Joseph Herremans about industrial development in the Edwardsburg area when an armed bandit walked into the bank.

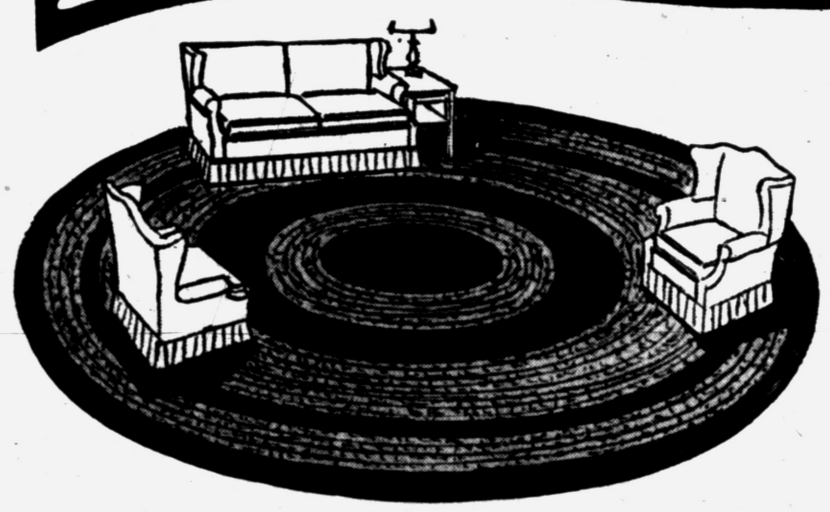

The robber ordered them into a vault where they did not, Clark reports, continue their conversation on how Edwardsburg might build a plant for lease to an industry. The bandit was captured later.

Now Say Labor Bill Not Tough Enough

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate-passed labor bill is on the receiving end of some more punching bag treatment—this time from major business organizations.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Assn. of Manufacturers said Tuesday the measure doesn't go far enough.

The AFL-CIO earlier had called the measure a mess and a monstrosity. Independent unions had joined in denouncing it.

Passed by the Senate 90-1, the bill now is before the House Labor Committee along with several alternative anticorruption measures.

The NAM again asked provisions to put unions under antitrust laws, to bar any form of compulsory union membership and to tighten picketing and boycott banns.

The chamber said the bill, if passed, would fool people into thinking an effective anticorruption measure had become law.

14 Red Soldiers Flee

MACAO (AP) — Fourteen Chinese Communist soldiers have fled to this Portuguese colony during the last two weeks, reliable sources said today. Some reportedly swam across the narrow channel separating Macao fro the China ainland. Others commandeered a sampan. The Chinese Nationalist government office here reports between 100 to 200 refugees monthly, but deserters from the Chinese Red army are rare.

The Trans-Canada Highway now under construction will stretch 5,000 miles from St. John's, Newfoundland, on the Atlantic to Vancouver and Victoria on the Pacific.

All Witnesses Must Stand Up, Judge Orders

HONOLULU (UPI) — When you take the stand in Federal Judge J. Frank McLaughlin's court you do just that.

You stand because McLaughlin says you will. He has ordered the chair removed from the witness stand.

McLaughlin ruled witnesses must stand up because the more the jury sees of a witness the more it can judge whether he is telling the truth, he said.

And the bannister around the witness stand under the old system hid everything but the witness's face. Besides, the use of the word "stand" makes it clear what was originally intended, the judge said.

McLaughlin said witnesses would stand as long as he remained on the bench in Honolulu.

Reward Spurs Hunt for Thugs

$165,540 Looted From Untended Armored Car in Less Than Minute

DENVER (AP) — A $5,000 reward offer spurred officers searching today for two swift thieves who looted an unattended armored car of $165,540 Tuesday.

The theft took less than a minute.

One man—described by the lone woman witness as about 45 and short and fat — opened the locked car with a key. He pitched four sacks of currency into a stolen car driven by an accomplice.

They sped away before Maudie Moore, the only witness, could get a good description. The car was found abandoned in a shopping center a few blocks away.

The Armored Motors Service car was raided in a parking lot outside the Jefferson County Bank in suburban Lakewood. The reward for recovery of the money, covered by insurance, was posted by Armored Motors Service.

John Jeffery, 54, driver of the armored car, has been with the firm 15 years and R. K. Peterson, 49, guard assigned to the car, has 12 years with the company.

Leonard Delue, president of Armored Motors Service, said the two men were following proper procedure.

"They had about 20 sacks of silver to take into the bank," Delue said. "The truck was locked—the door locks automatically — and they were only a few yards away for just a very few minutes."

Officers said they were convinced the thieves used a key because of the speed of the raid and the recovery of a broken key chain at the scene.

The $165,540 was the biggest theft in Denver since five armed men stole $200,000 from a Federal Reserve bank truck near the Denver Mint Dec. 18, 1922.

9 Injured, Homes Destroyed

Twisters Strike 5 States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another outbreak of stormy weather lashed the central part of the country Tuesday night and more showers and possible storms appeared in prospect today.

Tornadoes struck areas in five states, injuring at least nine persons and destroying or damaging several homes. The twisters which skipped across areas in southern Oklahoma and northwestern Wisconsin were the worst. Smaller tornadoes struck sections of Indiana, central Kansas and in suburban areas northwest of Chicago. No injuries were reported.

The tornadic storms were part of a wet belt extending from Oklahoma northeast through the middle Mississippi Valley into the Great Lakes.

Eight members of two families were injured and their homes destroyed by a tornado that hammered the small towns of Graham and Clemscot, in southern Oklahoma.

Three twisters raked northwestern Wisconsin. One pounded the Fairchild area, injuring one person. Another struck 60 miles south at Trempealeau, while a third flattened a grain and storage shed near Eau Claire.

Heavy rains fell throughout the storm belt.

Thunderstorms also erupted in the Gulf Coast states northward into Tennessee, with heaviest falls in northern Alabama.

Cool air from Canada extended southward through the Dakotas into northwest Minnesota and Nebraska and was expected to reach into the great lakes region during the day.

Showers were indicated across wide areas from the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley into western sections of the Atlantic Coast states. In the South, showers were forecast from eastern Texas across the Gulf Coast states and into the southern Atlantic Coast states.

Debate State Spending

Tax Compromisers Closer

LANSING (AP)—Bipartisan legislative tax compromisers representing the House drew closer together today on a level of spending for 1959-60.

Republican Senate spokesmen, whose agreement is vital to any tax-budget settlement, seemed to want no part of the give and take.

After another session of the bargaining Committee yesterday, newsmen got conflicting opinions as to whether headway was being made in the talks, sparked by an appeal nearly three weeks ago from Gov. Williams.

Rep. Wilfred G. Bassett of Jackson, assistant Republican floor leader, said there was next to no discussion of specific tax measures.

Meanwhile, House Taxation Committee members, led by Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), prepared to strike out on a new tangent that might change the complexion of the dragging discussions—or even break them up.

Conlin hoped to send to the floor quickly a 140-million-dollar compromise tax package pegged to a personal income tax that would ride piggy-back on the federal income levy.

The bite as the bill stands now would be 5 per cent of federal tax liability.

Reds to Counter West's Missiles

Nikita Tells Albania Bases in Italy, Greece Will Be Like Magnet

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev says the Soviet Union is ready to set up rocket bases in Albania and Bulgaria to match any the United States may establish in Italy or Greece.

The Soviet premier, visiting Albania, repeated an earlier Soviet proposal for a ban on nuclear weapons in the Balkan peninsula to make it "a peninsula of peace without any missiles or nuclear weapons."

He warned Italy and Greece that U.S. rockets bases on their territory "will attract our rockets as a magnet."

"These bases are clearly spearheaded against the Soviet Union, against Albania and other Socialist (Communist) countries," he said in a speech Tuesday in Tirana, the Albanian capital.

If Italy and Greece go ahead with NATO plans to locate bases for American-supplied missiles on their territory, Khrushchev declared, "it will compel us to build up forces for a worthy reply.

"Perhaps," he said, "we shall have to reach agreement with the government of the People's Republic of Albania to put something here to counter them."

Albania has a common frontier 50 miles across the Adriatic from with Greece and is only 100 or Italy. The Italians have agreed to accept American intermediate range missiles which can carry nuclear warheads and are expected to begin getting them by early July.

There has been no word of a similar agreement between the United States and Greece, although the two nations have agreed the Greek army will get American training in the use of nuclear weapons.

The Soviet Union, said Khrushchev, could establish bases for intermediate and even close-range missiles in neighboring satellites that could "blanket" both Italy and Greece.

Highway Crews Face Big Lawn Cutting Job

LANSING (UPI) — A lot of lawn will be mowed as soon as Highway Department crews begin cutting grass on Michigan's 9,300 miles of trunklines.

About 325 machines of state and county crews should wind up the job of the spring by July 4, the department said.

The schedule for cutting will include a trim halfway between the highway and the edge of the right-of-way by July 4, another halfway trim just before Labor Day and a final full-width trim after Labor Day to cut down danger from grass fires.

The job of cutting 45,000 acres of right-of-way costs more than $800,000.

Two Elderly Women Hurt in Auto Crash

Miss Gertrude Richardson, 77, and Mrs. Mary A. Todd, 90, both of 99 Norton St., were returning from their monthly Golden Age Group luncheon at the Pontiac YWCA in a taxi cab driven by Fred L. Tippett, 46, of 150 Starr Ave.

As Tippett stopped on West Huron street to make a left turn onto Norton, a stake truck driven by Willie A. Newton, 24, of 4565 Bangor, Detroit, smashed into the rear of the cab, police said.

Miss Richardson, who is blind, according to Ockerman, is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital, Mrs. Todd was treated and released. Neither driver was injured, police said.

An Example of Modern Religious Architecture

Novitiate Nearing Completion in Pontiac Township

By LEE WINBORN

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — An outstanding example of modern religious architecture is the new St. Basil's Novitiate rising on the wooded slopes of an 80-acre site at the corner of Giddings and Lake Angelus roads.

Moving to the Pontiac area from Rochester, N. Y., the Roman Catholic novitiate will be housed in a three-unit building connected by an enclosed cloister. The site for the building was chosen by the Basilian Fathers and their architect, Charles D. Hannan, A.I.A., of Farmington because it is one of the highest points in Oakland County.

The property offers a panoramic view to the south, including the city of Pontiac. It also is assured of complete privacy, being located in an area heavily wooded with hardwood and pine trees.

Construction of the building was started in June, 1958. It will be turned over to the owners next month.

The focal point of the Y-shaped structure is the chapel unit, which is centrally located and also contains the library, classrooms for student use and parlors for visitors.

The design of this unit was achieved, the architect said, by leaning precast concrete panels together in the form of a teepee and securing them at the ridge and base by welding steel plates cast into the concrete.

The window which will fill the triangular space at the south end of the chapel is being executed by the world famous stained glass artist, Gabriel Loire, of Chartres, France, in the new technique know as "mosiac glass."

The glass is the same as the kind used in early medieval cathedrals — the only difference being that instead of using lead to hold the glass together, the thick slab glass is cast in a special concrete.

When the window is installed this summer, it will be the first of its kind in this part of the country, Hannan said. He added that it will be visible from Walton boulevard at night.

The other two units, the residence and refectory wings, are functional, plain and even austere. The residence wing has private rooms for 49 students and six priests, plus a small gymnasium.

The refectory wing includes facilities for student and teacher dining, with a modern kitchen, laundry, all utilities and accomodations for lay help.

The novices themselves will do the final landscaping.

The Rev. F. S. Ruth, C.S.B., rector of St. Basil's said the novitiate is to a young man desiring to be a Basilian father what "basic training" is to the recruit embarking on an army career.

The Catholic Church prescribes that a candidate for the religious life (life in a religious community) spend at least one year in a novitiate before professing his vows of chastity, poverty and obedience.

The young man lives this single year in an atmosphere of "prayer and solitude apart from distractions of the world".

The Pontiac Township location was found to be ideal in location, beauty and suitability for the spiritual life and physical health of the novices, Father Ruth said.

NEW ST. BASIL'S NOVITIATE — This is an architect's model of the new St. Basil's Novitiate now nearing completion in a secluded, hilly section of northern Pontiac Township. Moving here from Rochester, N. Y., the novitiate will have facilities for 49 students and six priests, plus a chapel and refectory wing in the three separate units, which are connected by an enclosed cloister. The building is scheduled for completion next month.

Did Measure Pass or Not?

Pontiac Twp. Board Plans Action Tonight on MSUO Sewers

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — A special meeting of Township Board has been called for 7:30 tonight to discover if the Board has adopted a resolution allowing the Oakland County Department of Public Works to start construction of a sewage disposal system for Michigan State University Oakland.

If the resolution was not passed early this year, Board members will vote on the proposition tonight so that work on the sewage disposal and treatment facilities may proceed on schedule.

Another item on tonight's agenda is the fire dispatchers' request for a pay hike from $1,850 to $2,500.

A new zoning board member also must be appointed to fill the unexpired term of Lester F. Axford, who resigned recently.

Other topics to be discussed are the position of Irene Bates, part-time clerical employe who was not rehired at last month's regular meeting, and mileage for Supervisor Leroy Davis.

Lake Orion Queen Contest Deadline Extended to July 3

LAKE ORION—Persons interested in learning "Miss Orion's" identity—including the six candidates for the crown themselves—will have to wait until the opening of the Lake Orion Centennial Spectacular July 3.

"Miss Orion's" name originally was to be revealed at a fashion show tomorrow night. But in order to give the village and township residents a longer time to vote, the contest deadline has been extended, Charles B. Starrs, centennial cochairman, said today.

Canisters with the names of the six candidates have been placed in 20 stores in and near town. The public will vote during the coming month for their favorites. Each vote costs a penny.

Farm Support Limit Sought

Ceiling of $50,000 Set on Payments Starting With July 1

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate appropriations subcommittee today set a $50,000 ceiling on 1960 farm price support payments to any one farm or farmer despite opposition from farm leaders and some of its own members.

The limit was written into the Agricultural Department money bill for the year starting July 1. The subcommittee completed work on the bill today.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the appropriations subcommittee, predicted the limitation would be approved by the full committee when it takes up the money bill Thursday. However, he indicated the $50,000 ceiling might not be the final figure.

In another farm development, all but one of 12 Republican members of the House Agriculture Committee went on record in opposition to a Democratic plan for curbing wheat surpluses. The committee approved the proposal last week.

The GOP opposition, in the form of three separate dissenting reports, foreshadowed difficulties for the Democratic plan when it reaches a house showdown, possibly next week.

The Senate price support ceiling would apply to all support loans, purchases, and purchase agreements to one farm or farmer on all crops. The House had fixed a similar ceiling in passing its version of the agriculture money bill last week.

Three Pull Out of School Board Race in Romeo

ROMEO—Three of seven candidates for two positions on the Romeo Community Schools Board of Education in the June 8 election have withdrawn from the race, they announced today.

Swinging their support to two of the remaining candidates are Conrad J. Friedemann, George Burns and M. T. Cummiskey. They said they are backing Ruby Wills of Ray Township and Ray Wilson of Washington for election to the Board.

The other two men still in the race are local attorney Edward A. Jacob, who was defeated for re-election to the Board in 1953, and the incumbent, Clyde Hotchkiss of Davis.

The other incumbent whose term expires this year is Allen Rush, who did not file for re-election.

Names of the three men who have withdrawn will still appear on the June 8 ballot although they are no longer candidates.

Lake Orion Methodist Men's Club Dinner Set

Walter G. Hampton, club president, will have charge of the meeting. Devotions will be given by Martin Crothers.

Czech Pilot Soars Away to Freedom in Glider

VIENNA (UPI) — A Czech pilot literally glided to freedom Sunday, it was disclosed today.

Austrian police said Jiri Kinski, taking part in a glider performance near Bratislava, decided to make a break for the nearby Austrian border in his motorless craft.

Speaking in broken German, he told them he fought adverse winds for four hours before crossing the Iron Curtain and setting the glider down at Viennas Schwechat Airport.

Kinski said he left Czechoslovakia because of "desolate living conditions." He was held by police while Austrian authorities considered his application for asylum.

The engagement of their daughter, Joann, to Emerson McIntyre is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Moore of Kingston. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John McIntyre of 2410 Adams Rd., Lake Orion. No wedding date has been set. Both are attending Owosso College.

The Walled Lake auxiliary won first place recently in state competition for having the best scrapbook in the "Assistance to Jaycees" division.

Five New Post Offices Being Built

Oakland County is slated to have five new post office buildings this year, according to Postal Director Robert R. Justus, Chicago, head of mail operations in Michigan and Illinois.

The buildings now under construction, where bids are now being accepted, or where options on building lots are held include:

Lake Orion, a February approximate completion date.

Of 63 new post office buildings constructed in Michigan last year, seven were erected in Oakland County.

Rented on long term leases, they were Pontiac, Farmington, Keego Harbor, Romeo, Troy, Wixom and Milford.

Broader County Political Base Nixed

LANSING (UPI) — Unsuccessful on their first try, backers of a proposal to broaden the base of participation in county political affairs will try to win House approval again tomorrow.

House members flaunted the platforms of Republican and Democratic party conventions yesterday with a 47-42 vote for the bill, nine votes short of passage.

It would allow delegates to county political conventions in all but Wayne County to share with legislative and county candidates the selection of party officials in the county. Two-thirds of the legislature and county candidates could join to put up their own slate and all automatically would be delegates to county conventions.

Currently, county candidates elect party officials in all but Wayne County.

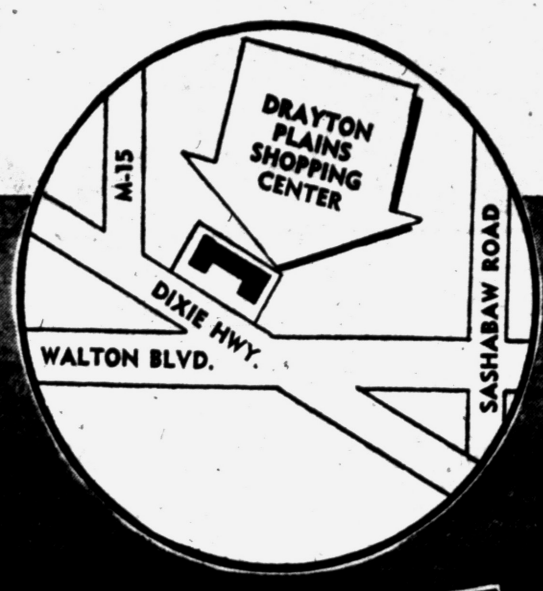

The same measure cleared the House last year but died in the Senate.

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—If you are one of the many who make firm resolutions to save money and then find that for some reason or other you don't—it may be a consolation to know that bankers say the most changeable of all is your Uncle Sam.

Individuals—taken as a whole, not as isolated instances—tend to save at much the same rate year after year. Business savings go up and down, but that's tied closely to whether times are good or bad.

The federal government is the most changeable. It alternately pours money into, or takes it out of, the economy by saving or going into debt.

And the total savings of all three elements determine to a large degree whether money is easy or tight, whether a new expansion of the economy can be financed or not without planned inflation.

At the moment, demand for credit is rising faster than is the supply of investment funds — savings.

INTEREST ROLE RISING

Money is getting tight. Interest rates are rising.

The demand for funds is rising because business is getting better and looks to loans for expansion of plant or activity, because home construction has picked up and mortgage money is needed, and because consumer spending has increased and more instalment credit is sought.

The supply side is this: for two years now personal saving has been at an annual rate of 20 to 21 billion dollars. This was affected only slightly by either the recession or the recovery.

Retained earnings of corporations are on the rise again, the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis believes. It thinks they are well above the low of the recession when many companies maintained dividend rates in the face of declining profits.

Corpofate savings last year, lowest since 1946, are put at 5½ billion dollars by economists of the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York. To this they add capital consumption allowances at a record 39½ billion dollars. These are the deductions from the income stream to allow for the depreciation of plant, equipment and housing.

These three sources of savings add up to around 66 billion dollars a year. And in one way or another they can all be tapped by business as it expands its activities or its plant.

But federal, state and local governments have been running up deficits—taken care of by borrowing and thus tapping this supply of savings. Economists say about 15 per cent of the savings supply has been absorbed by government borrowing.

The St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank thinks the demand for money by the federal government is due to decline as it comes closer to balancing the budget.

Chase Manhattan economists note that federal spending appears to be leveling off—but at a very high level. And they add:

"The most volatile element in the savings picture is the federal government. Since World War II, there have typically been large deficits in recession years and surpluses in years of high prosperity. These deficits and surpluses have alternately absorbed private savings and released additional funds for private investment."

That sort of leaves the savings outlook up to the citiezns—as consumers or voters.

Math Expert Named Teacher of the Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — A math teacher who works as a part-time mailman has been named teacher of the year by the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

He is Reino M. Takala, head of the mathematics department of Hinsdale Township High School, Hinsdale, Ill.

An authority on mathematics and teaching methods, Takala established accelerated classes in math at Hinsdale High, which enable advanced students to complete 1½ years work each year for three years. This gives top students a chance to study college calculus in their senior year.

The federation will make its award to Takala June 2 during its 68th annual convention in Los Angeles.

Along with the title of teacher of the year, Takala—married and father of a 15-year-old daughter—will get a trip to Europe. He plans to visit Finland, home of his parents.

Land Reform Not Answer

Cuban Joblessness High

HAVANA (AP)—Now that Fidel Castro has taken the big jump into agrarian reform, many Cubans are asking when he will make smaller steps toward reviving a stagnant general economy.

Unemployment continues to be a major problem here, and the long-range program of giving land to the landless shows no immediate promise of giving either farm or industrial workers regular jobs soon.

Cuban workers are crying more and more loudly for measures which will help solve their economic needs next week or next month rather than large-scale programs to help Cuba's economy years hence.

Best estimates here are that at least 90 per cent of Havana's 100,000 to 140,000 workers in construction and allied fields are completely idle, while unemployment on a national basis is placed at anywhere between 350,000 and 700,000.

Fears and uncertainties evidently have led to much of the unemployment.

"The jobless run through all strata of society from farm and construction workers through the small business and white collar posts," one veteran observer said.

"People who have money here are hanging on tight to it, waiting to see what's going to happen. Those from outside are not yet convinced that Cuba is the place for either long or short term investments."

Walk down Havana streets any day in the area where construction workers unions have their headquarters and you will see them filled with men, talking, arguing, conferring. Most of them say they haven't worked in weeks. Just living, they complain, has become a major problem.

The Castro government has attempted some stopgap measures. WPA-type jobs have given work and pay to many Cubans both in Havana and in other areas. A cleanup campaign ordered by Castro provides subsistence for others.

"Underemployment is almost as serious a problem here as unemployment," said one economist. "Besides the huge percentage of totally unemployed, there are thousands who work only seasonally, or one or two days a week."

Students of Cuba's economy listed among problems Castro's government must solve: revival of construction work; a workable system of imports by which essentials including spare parts and replacements will become available; restoration of the tourist trade, badly shaken by fears of fresh political disorders here and by personal searches of incoming tourists by government agents seeking currency smugglers.

House Limits Funds of Seaway Corporation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee has fixed a $414,200 limit on administrative expenses of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The limit is the same as last year but $800 less than requested by corporation officials.

The committee denied a corporation request to boost entertainment expenses from $1,000 to $2,000. A similar request was rejected last year.

Lewis G. Castle, corporation administrator, said $1,000 isn't enough to entertain foreign guests at seaway locks. He said the corporation has been embarrassed several times because it didn't have enough money to treat some of them to luncheon.

Bullets Ricochet Okay and Don't Hurt Actors

NEW YORK (UPI) — Technicians working on a TV series called "Naked City" have developed a special gun that can make "bullets" ricochet off walls without endangering the actors.

The gun fires a plastic pellet filled with chalk. When the pellet hits a wall, it creates a realistic impression but if it should accidentally hit someone, it would do no harm. Since the gun is almost noisless, the gunshot sound must be dubbed in.

milk is the only practical source of calcium

Recent nutrition research studies reveal that millions of Americans, regardless of income, are getting less than the minimum daily amount of calcium recommended by the National Research Council.

How calcium starvation affects you.

Lack of calcium in the diet has a slow degenerating affect which may remain hidden for years. It can result in: Premature wrinkles and "leathery" skin that add years to your appearance. Excessive irritability, tense frayed nerves. Shorter "prime of life" that reduces your span of active, vigorous years. Brittle bones, teeth, hair. Lack of calcium can also cause improper functioning of heart muscles.

How much calcium do you need?

National Research Council recommends 800 milligrams of calcium daily for adults, 1000 to 1400 milligrams of calcium daily for children, depending upon their age. This is the amount of calcium supplied by three to five glasses of milk.

Most foods supply only slight amounts of calcium.

In order to get the calcium provided by 1 quart of milk you would have to eat: 7½ lbs. of carrots, 39 eggs, 27 lbs. of potatoes, 28 oranges or 6¾ lbs. of cabbage. Milk is the only practical source of calcium.

Children (up to age 12) . . . 3 glasses daily
Teen-agers (age 13 to 19) . . . 4 glasses daily
Adults (age 20 and over) . . . 3 glasses daily
Expectant mothers . . . 4 glasses daily
Nursing mothers . . . 6 glasses daily

Why milk is nature's most nearly perfect food.

In addition to calcium, milk contains more of the essential nutrients—including proteins, vitamins and minerals—than any other food. Far from being fattening, milk is recommended for reducing diets because it supplies more nourishment per calorie than other foods. Whole, fresh milk also supplies more nourishment per dollar than other foods. From the standpoint of nutritional value, nutritional balance and simple economy, milk is nature's most nearly perfect food.

Reader Request Is Answered

One of our readers wrote in asking for a recipe for a Pineapple Upside Down Cake. We are happy to print it.

We should like to say that if requests were signed with a name, we could mail or, telephone the recipe, thus giving quicker service. But when the only signature is "A Subscriber," there is nothing to do but print the recipe as soon as possible.

UPSIDE-DOWN PINEAPPLE CAKE

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (No. 2) pineapple tidbits or crushed pineapple
Maraschino cherries
Walnut halves
⅔ cup brown sugar
⅓ cup shortening
½ cup granulated sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1¼ cups sifted cake flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt

Melt butter or margarine in 9-inch round pan. Drain pineapple, reserving ½ cup syrup. Arrange cherries and nuts in bottom of pan. Cover with brown sugar, then pineapple.

Cream together shortening and granulated sugar. Add egg and vanilla, beating until fluffy. Sift together dry ingredients and add alternately with reserved syrup. Beat well after each addition.

Spread over pineapple. Bake in 350-degree over 45-50 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes; invert on plate.

Fill Finger Rolls With Olive Spread

No slight of the hand abracadabra created Black Olive-Cream Cheese Rings. The party hostess, aided by culinary wizardry, made them herself by following this formula. Using an apple corer, hollow out French finger rolls.

Make a filling from cream cheese, chopped ripe olives, chopped pimiento, mayonnaise and a dash of salt. Into each roll, insert 3 tablespoons of filling, forcing it in from each end with a spatula. Wrap rolls in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator. To serve: Cut each roll, crosswise, into 12 slices.

1959 Picnic Season Is Starting

Pontiac Press Home Editor

By May 30 we are fairly sure of nice weather—picnic weather, that is. For most of us it is the opening of the picnic season. Parks will be crowded, some beaches used by the hardier souls, and thousands of back yards will give off the fragrance of charcoal grilled meat.

Out in New England Estates, a suburban development south of West Long Lake road and west of Middle Belt, the A. K. MacKeans will have their backyard cookout. Mr. MacKean will be home for his usual weekend rest (he travels five days a week); and the four children will enjoy having him participate in their fun.

For year-old Andrew Robert picnics are a new thing. When we took the picture, he toddled happily around from person to person, flailing the air with a pancake turner (they took the fork away from him!) The blond pup — Freddy — a newcomer in the family, was around to catch any toothsome bits that might fall his way.

Instead of the usual hamburgers serve a Hamburger Longjohn. Cheese filled meat patties are alternated with tomato in a sliced loaf of Vienna bread.

Hamburger Longjohn

1½-2 lb. ground beef
¼ cup crumbled bleu cheese
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup milk
¾ cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)
1 loaf Vienna bread
2 tomatoes, sliced
¼ cup butter
1 clove garlic, minced

For hamburgers, combine first six ingredients thoroughly. Shape into 8 flat patties. Wrap in foil; pack in portable cooler to carry to picnic grounds.

Slice Vienna bread and tomatoes. Melt butter; add garlic. Spread bread with butter; wrap in foil. Warm over grill.

At picnic, cook patties on grill to desired degree of doneness. To serve, place a tomato slice and a hamburger between two slices of warm Vienna bread. Reassemble loaf in bread basket.

Kidney bean salad served on ruffled leaves of crisp leaf lettuce will be something new. It's best made several hours ahead of serving time when all the flavors have had a chance to get together.

You may like this Pronto Salad

Kidney Bean Salad

1 can kidney beans (1 lb. 4 oz.)
1 cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped sweet pickle
2 hard cooked eggs, chopped
Pronto Salad Dressing

Drain beans thoroughly, then mix together with other ingredients in a large bowl. Pour salad dressing over and toss lightly until ingredients are well coated. Cover and chill thoroughly before serving. Makes 4 servings.

Pronto Salad Dressing

¼ cup evaporated milk
¼ cup salad oil
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon chili powder
1½ teaspoon minced onion
2 tablespoons vinegar

The easiest dessert for a picnic is a cake served right from the pan. We suggest you make one from your favorite mix or your best do-it-yourself recipe and top with a broiled icing. The fresh lemon juice in the icing below keeps it from being too sweet.

Broiled Lemon Coconut Icing

¼ cup butter or margarine melted
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup shredded coconut
¼ cup fresh lemon juice

Mix all ingredients together and spread on a baked 8- or 9-inch square cake while still in the pan. Pop under broiler for melting and light toasting. Serve warm or cold. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

DRESS REHEARSAL — The A. K. MacKean family of Blackburn drive took advantage of a nice day recently to prepare for the 1959 picnic season. Mr. MacKean, who travels during the week, is home only on weekends. He'll be on hand for a backyard picnic on Memorial Day. Mrs. MacKean brings out the paper plates and napkins while 16-year-old Roger starts the fire. Bruce, the 11-year-old, shines up the wiener toasting forks. Fourteen-year-old Suzanne keeps young Andrew Robert from getting into trouble.

Knowing Beef Grade Helps With Cooking

Beef grades are one of your best guides when selecting beef cuts for your family, says the MSU Marketing Agent. Beef grades are a clue to what you can expect in tenderness and flavor.

Tender cuts of U.S. Prime or U.S. Choice beef can be broiled or roasted in dry heat. All cuts of U.S. Good, U.S. Standard or U.S. Commercial will be less tender than cuts from the higher grades. You might broil steaks from U.S. Good beef, but you could not expect them to be as tasty or tender as steaks from U.S. Prime or Choice beef.

Steaks from U.S. Standard or U.S. Commercial beef will not broil tender. These might be pan braised so they cook in moisture. Roasts from lower beef grades need long slow cooking, low temperature, and moisture to be tender eating.

Some fish live in a depth of water which man cannot reach, while others swim in waters more than 12,000 feet above sea level.

Treat Friends to Candy You've Made

There's always a unique significance to a gift that is fashioned by the giver's own hands; that's why homemade candies are especially appropriate.

Today we have for you three wonderful confection recipes. Candy-making chocolate is used for each — and two of them can be combined to make a fudge caramel roll that's downright wonderful.

Marshmallow Pecan Treats are colorful with miniature marshmallows and, except for sauteing the pecans and melting the candy-making chocolate, require no cooking.

Chocolate Caramels and Creamy Fudge are mouth-watering by themselves, but if you'd gain fame as a candy-maker par excellence, we suggest you combine them into a Caramel Chocolate Roll. That's certain to stop the show.

Marshmallow Pecan Treats

½ cup broken pecans
1 tablespoon butter
32 miniature marshmallows, plain or colored
2 squares (1 package) candy-making chocolate
32 colored miniature marshmallows

Saute nuts in butter over low heat 3 to 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Line bottom of 9x4x3-inch loaf pan with waxed paper, letting paper extend in 2-inch tabs at each end. Arrange marshmallows in pan and fill spaces between marshmallows with nuts.

Heat chocolate over hot water until partly melted. Then remove from hot water and stir rapidly until entirely melted. Pour chocolate evenly over contents of pan, using fork to distribute chocolate throughout. Tap pan several times to settle chocolate. Decorate top with colored marshmallows.

Let stand in cool place to harden. Run a sharp knife around sides of pan and lift out candy with paper tabs. Cut in 2x1-inch bars. Makes 18 bars.

Caramel Dot Roll

1 recipe dot chocolate caramels
1 recipe creamy fudge

Dot Chocolate Caramels

1 cup sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
3 squares candy-making chocolate
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups heavy cream

Combine sugar, corn syrup, chocolate, salt, and cream. Place over low heat and stir constantly until sugar is dissolved and mixture boils. Continue boiling over low heat until a small amount of the mixture forms a firm ball in cold water (or to a temperature of 246 degrees F.), stirring constantly after mixture begins to thicken. Pour into two slightly greased 8x8-inch pans. (Do not scrape pan.) When cold, remove from pans.

Creamy Fudge

3 squares candy-making chocolate
½ cup water
½ cup evaporated milk
1 cup granulated sugar
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
Dash of salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup broken nuts

Add chocolate to water and milk and place over low heat. Cook and stir until mixture is smooth and blended. Add sugars and salt and stir until sugars are dissolved and mixture boils. Continue boiling, without stirring, until a small amount of mixture forms a very soft ball in cold water (or to a temperature of 232 degrees F.).

Remove from heat and add butter. Cool to lukewarm (110 degrees F.) and add vanilla. Then beat until mixture begins to thicken; add nuts and continue beating only until mixture loses its gloss.

Spread evenly on sheets of caramel, using half of fudge for each. (If fudge becomes too firm, knead until soft and creamy.) Roll tightly as for jelly roll and wrap in waxed paper; let stand several hours to harden. Cut crosswise in ¼-inch slices. Makes 64 slices.

Chicken Price Makes Stew Economical

Quick way to stew a tender chicken.

Brown Chicken Stew

1 broiler-fryer (cut into serving-size pieces)
3 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup chopped (2 small) onion
1 clove garlic (crushed)
2 chicken bouillon cubes
2 cups boiling water

Wash and dry chicken. Mix together the flour, salt, paprika; coat chicken thoroughly with mixture. Melt 1 tablespoon of the butter in a 10-inch skillet; add onions; brown lightly and remove.

Add remaining 3 tablespoons of butter to the skillet; when very hot add chicken; sprinkle chicken with any leftover flour mixture. Brown chicken on both sides. Add browned onion and garlic to skillet.

Dissolve boulion cubes in water and add. Cover and simmer until chicken is tender — about 30 to 45 minutes. Any small amount of fat may be skimmed off gravy if desired; it should be only slightly thickened. Makes 4 servings.

Holiday Outdoors Is Fun and There's Food Aplenty

According to the Michigan State University marketing agent, ham will be the featured meat in most stores. Spareribs, bacon and the popular frankfurter are other pork items marked to attract your attention.

A thick ham slice has added smoked flavor when grilled over hardwood charcoal with a few added hickory or cherry chips. And you can cut barbecuing time for spareribs to one-third by partly roasting them in the oven first.

Hamburger at 49 to 63 cents a pound may be your family's favorite meat for barbeque. If you choose a steak to grill, select one that grades U.S. Choice or better, that stands at least 1½ inches thick. This will be tender and juicy.

Several retailers report that the wholesale lamb market is high, but a shoulder roast at 49 to 69 cents a pound will make several shishkabobs for barbecuing. For special flavor, cut the shoulder into 1½ to 2 inch cubes and marinate in the refrigerator overnight. A good cook book will have a recipe for a marinade or you might use a garlic flavored salad dressing.

POULTRY A BARGAIN

Yes, poultry continues at very tempting prices. Will you want a broiler at 29 to 49 cents a pound? And you might ask "Why such a price difference?" The size of the bird, its maturity, its breed, the amount of meat in proportion to bone, and whether it is whole or cut into pieces makes a difference in price.

You can have barbecued turkey, one of those small 4 to 5 pound sizes, for 35 to 49 cents a pound. A small frozen turkey takes about a day to thaw in its original wrap in the refrigerator. That's the safest thawing method. Treat it like a broiler at the grill, but expect it to take longer to get tender.

Or choose a larger size turkey for kabobs. Cut the meaty breast and legs into 1 to 1½ inch cubes. Use a fine skewer arranging one cube of turkey, then a thin slice of orange and repeat until the skewer is filled.

Will your picnic be complete without a dish of deviled stuffed eggs? If it's a bargain you like, you'll choose an extra dozen of large size eggs for protein value at other meals that breakfast.

Keep the family happy with easy-to-fix vegetables and dessert.

California is the chief source of potatoes now, but you might prefer an Idaho potato for wrapping in foil and baking on the coals.

What could be easier than cooking a frozen vegetable on the grill during the last 20 minutes while finishing the meat? Remove the frozen vegetable from its container and rewrap with seasonings in a double thickness of plain foil or heavy duty foil. Seal tightly before placing on the grill.

You'll find a good supply of carrots, lettuce, peppers, asparagus, green beans, celery, greenhouse tomatoes and dry onions to add the variety you need in all your menus this next week.

What's for dessert? What could be easier than a bowl of polished apples and brown flecked bananas?

Or you might like a tray of fresh sliced pineapple; mounds of washed strawberries dipped in powdered sugar; orange and apple slices and chunks of bananas. The center of the tray might be filled with bite-sized pieces of your family's favorite cheese.

Onions in Your Juice

Good for a before dinner party or as a first course at a dinner is Tangy Tomato Cocktail. Add a bit of juice drained from sour pickled onions to canned tomato juice. Serve chilled with a pickled onion in each glass.

Flecks of Color Dot Sour Cream

The smooth texture of avocados and the crisp texture of shrimp make a taste-tempting combination. And the soft green of the avocado contrasts beautifully with the pink of the shellfish, to make an attractive dish. Nutrients of the two foods complement one another, too, with shrimp supplying generous amounts of high-grade protein and minerals, and avocados supplying Vitamins A, B and C. Therefore, filling avocado halves with shrimp makes a satisfying main-dish salad, to be served with a special dressing of sour cream and pimientos.

Prepare the shrimp by cleaning it and cooking it three minutes in boiling water to which pickling spices have been added. (For each pound of shrimp, add 1 heaping teaspoon pickling spices to 1 quart of water.) Halve ripe avocados and carefully remove the seeds. Fill each half with three shrimp, and serve with Pimiento-Sour Cream Dressing, made this way:

Pimiento Sour Cream Dressing

1 cup commercial sour cream
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 pimiento, diced

Combine ingredients and chill. Makes 1 cup. Garnish with extra bits of diced pimiento.

PIMIENTO SOUR CREAM DRESSING — It's an attractive dish to set before your guests. The pink shrimp look even pinker against the pale green of the avocado. There's added color in the sour cream dressing you may spoon over the salad ahead of time or pass.

Start Dinner Casserole With French Fries

Salmon, ham, chicken, or sausage—you'll like this quick-change casserole with four flavor variations at your finger tips. Choose the meat your family likes best—then make this thirty-minute quickie for dinner, tonight! It's a one-dish, whole-meal casserole, filled with meat, mushrooms, peas, and French fries, smothered with creamy celery soup from a can.

Here is skip-a-step cooking at its best! You save time by using cream of celery soup instead of making white sauce. Because the potatoes are ready-peeled and precooked, you save even more time by using frozen French fries. You already know the convenience of keeping frozen French fries on hand, ready to crisp in a hot oven for a quick meal or snack.

Cooking with French fries, however, may be new—and time-saving—experience for you. So try our Quick-made Salmon supper — use the meat you prefer—and see how many minutes you save by using frozen French fries. Soon you'll be using them in other casseroles—even in soups and salads.

Quick-Salmon Dinner

1 10½-oz. can undiluted cream of celery soup
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon celery salt
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 4-oz. can mushroom pieces and stems, drained
1 10-oz. package frosen peas
1 1-pound package frozen French fries
1 1-pound can salman, drained, boned and flaked

Combine and heat soup, milk, and seasonings. Stir in mushrooms and peas. Spread half of frozen French fries and salmon over bottom of shallow 2 quart baking dish (11¾x7½x1¾ in.) Cover with half of sauce. Top with remaining salmon, potatoes, and sauce. Place in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 20 minutes, or until heated through. Yield: 4 servings.

Individual Casseroles Star Gourmet Crab

For a delectable supper dish, serve this Spanish-inspired crab mixture in individual casseroles. First "toast" 12 coarsely chopped almonds in 2 tablespoons butter and ½ tablespoon olive oil. Add 1 package frozen Alaska crab, cut in chunks, and 2 tablespoons amontillado sherry, simmer 1 minute.

Smooth in 1 tablespoon flour, ½ teaspoon salt, cook until smooth, then slowly add 1 cup milk or light cream, 2 pimientos, diced, and 2 sliced hard-cooked eggs. Makes 4 servings. Best beverage to serve with it is a very dry Spanish sherry, a "fino."

Pretty and good. Heat canned pears in their syrup and drain. Arrange the pears around broiled lamb chops and fill each pear cavity with canned whole cranberry sauce mixed lightly with a lot of grated lemon rind.

Pineapple Rings Circle Tops of Sweet Rolls

Here's another tempting combination for brunch, mid-morning coffee break, luncheon or dinner. You'll find these quick pineapple sweet rolls will add an element of specialty to any meal, any time or day.

Quick Pineapple Sweet Rolls

Butter split hamburger buns and toast until golden under broiler. Remove from oven and top with granulated sugar, then lightly with nutmeg. With a sharp knife, cut a pineapple slice through the midring on a bun. Mix together 2 tablespoons butter and ¼ cup sugar. Fill centers with a teaspoonful of this mixture and sprinkle top with chopped nuts. Broil until sugar is bubbly and nuts are toasted.

Bacon strips may be placed on a rack in a shallow pan and cooked on the top shelf of a hot oven for about 10 minutes. Good method when there are a lot of Sunday brunch eaters at hand.

Tiny Spicy Shells Made From Cereal

Spiced Tart Shells

40 spoon-size shredded wheat biscuits
⅓ cup soft butter or margarine
½ cup light brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup finely chopped walnuts or pecans

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Roll shredded wheat biscuits into fine crumbs. Cream butter and sugar together until fluffy, then stir in wheat crumbs, cinnamon, salt and nuts. Mix thoroughly. Press mixture over bottom and sides of lightly greased two-inch muffin tins.

Bake in preheated oven for seven to eight minutes. Remove from oven and set on rack to cool. Loosen edges with point of paring knife and lift out. Put back in cups to fill — with fresh fruit, berries or custards, made with extra milk solids. Yield — 12 shells.

Date Nut Loaf Uses Rye Flavor

Date-Nut Rye Loaf

1 cup sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups stone-ground whole rye flour
1 large egg
½ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
1 cup liquefied non-fat dry milk or skim milk
1 cup pitted dates (sliced)
1 cup coarsely broken walnuts

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt; stir in the whole rye flour. Beat egg until foamy; add brown sugar; beat until thick; beat in milk. Add dry ingredients; stir until moistened; fold in dates and nuts. Turn into well-greased loaf pan (8¼ by 4½ by 2¾ inches); allow to stand 20 minutes.

Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 50 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out on wire rack; cool. May be sliced about ¼-inch thick when cool or thinner if stored in tightly-covered container overnight.

Lining of Food Cans Triumph of Industry

We should bow and salaam every day of our lives to the geniuses in the paint, varnish and lacquer industry, who have made containers safe for food. We now take it for granted that any tin can or other container can be placed in the refrigerator after it has been opened, with no fear of deterioration or poisoning.

We seldom think of the gigantic task involved in making formulae to suit the chemical personality of all the different foods. The can linings are literally tailored to the job. One type of coating will not suffice for all types of food. Less than one thousandth of an inch thick, these usually unnoticed linings make our lives safer and pleasanter.

Instead of boiling your eggs, simmer them. They will be much tastier. This is also true of hard-boiled eggs.

It Pays to Be Fussy About Frozen Food

Temperature control is very important in keeping frozen food quality advises the Marketing Information Agent. While you may not know how your food store handles frozen food in backroom storage, there are a few points you can check.

Check the temperature of frozen food cabinets. These should be zero degrees or lower with easy-to-read indicators. All frozen food needs to be kept below the "fill" line on the cabinet.

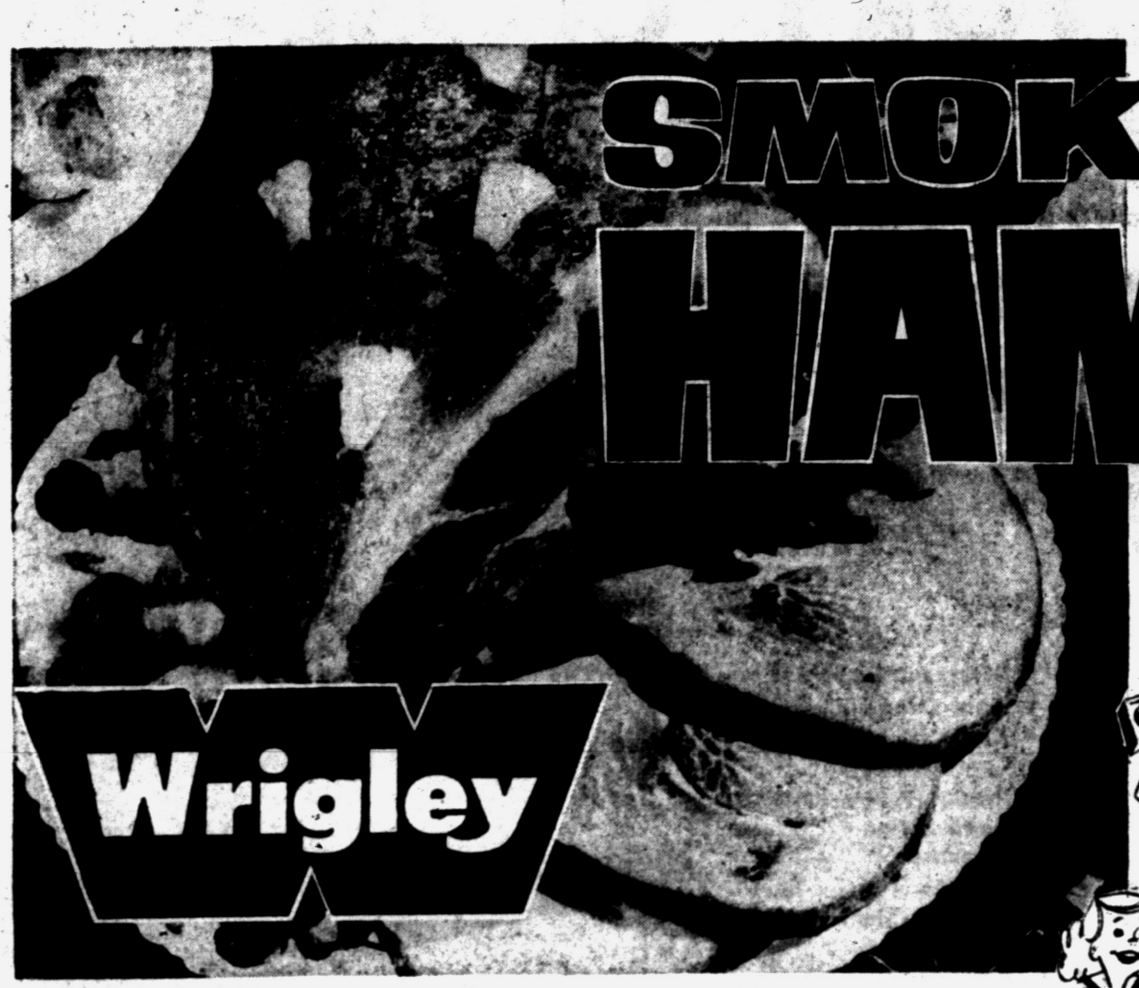

Avoid frozen food packages that feel soft or have been stained.

Buy frozen foods last when shopping and ask that they be put in double thickness or insulated bags.

Keep frozen food at zero degrees until ready to use. If you must keep it in an ice cube compartment use the frozen item within a week.

Fuller now has 18,000 plates and he's not satisfied yet. He wants a complete series of auto tags from every state.

Battles Sen. Douglas, Own State Officials

Jenner Wants Seaway Port for Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) and ex-Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind), who rarely saw anything eye-to-eye when in the Senate, today were locked in still a new battle: This time over a sand pile.

At issue was Indiana's drive to establish a major seaport in the dunes area of Lake Michigan.

Jenner, who said he left the Senate last fall to return to the peace and quiet of private life, suddenly found himself a director of the newly formed St. Lawrence Seaway Corp., a group of Indiana businessmen who set up a land developing and speculating firm hoping to cash in on the land boom sure to follow the building of a seaport in the Gary area.

It soon became known, however, that the group was loaded with top Indiana Republican political figures.

Against the seaport is a relatively small but sinewy group calling for a movement to "save the dunes" for nature lovers. Leading these nature lovers is Douglas.

CHARGES SMEAR

Jenner, though, charged the adverse publicity was a "political smear perpetrated by enemies that have never forgiven" him for his "beliefs."

Jenner said appointment of the political figures to land firm's board of directors was an "emergency measure" designed to keep the young corporation from floundering after it was revealed one of its promoters had been in violations of federal regulations.

Jenner blamed many of his current difficulties on Douglas, who has introduced a bill in the Senate to make a national park of the very dunes area Jenner wants for a private seaport.

"Douglas is using our corporation to attempt to delay a decision," Jenner said. On July 1, the National Steel Co., a key figure in the port development project, wants to know whether the land will be used for a port — or a park.

National Steel is planning to build a 100 million dollar mill on the Lake Michigan shoreline in Porter County, if the land is available.

"Douglas is fighting to keep Chicago the center of industry and cut Indiana's throat," Jenner said. "The press is playing right into the hands of the bleeding hearts, those ADAers (Americans For Democratic Action) who want to keep the port in Chicago.

PLAYS GAME

Jenner said Sen. Vance Hartke (D-Ind) and Indiana Secretary of State John Walsh also were "unwittingly playing the game of Douglas who is trying to hold all industry for the St. Lawrence Seaway in Chicago."

Walsh, a Democrat, has said he wanted to know what land in northern Indiana the corporation controls, how much it paid and when the land was purchased. Hartke told a Senate subcommittee studying Douglas' bill that it should get full information on the Jenner company.

"When Indiana men try to give the little people a chance, someone tries to make it look bad and sinister," Jenner said. "Must I be persecuted because my name is Bill Jenner?"

In Congress, Jenner had been an outspoken foe of the United Nations, reciprocal trade agreements and government spending. He once introduced a bill to limit the powers of the U.S. Supreme Jenner also led the fight against the St. Lawrence Seaway.

"But now we've got it," he said.

Jenner, a close friend of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis), never forgave his Senate colleagues, when they voted to censure McCarthy. It was one of the reasons that led to his retirement from the Senate.

"It is a good time for me to be leaving," he said at that time. "I am so completely out of sympathy with what is going on that I feel my protesting is just a waste of time."

Jenner said his only apparent "crime" now is that he wants to engage in a legitimate private business enterprise, "just like any other ordinary citizen."

"You know that is the story of my life," he said recently. "Trouble follows me."

Presbyterians Will Ask Permanent Rights Unit

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — The supreme governing body of the United Presbyterian Church in the United States will be petitioned today to ask Congress to make the Civil Rights Commission a permanent agency with "such additional powers as may be needed to increase its effectiveness."

In a proposal to be put before the 171st general assembly of the denomination, the church's Social Education and Action Committee charged that "a most serious pattern of injustice in our social order is to be found in racially discriminatory practices of church society and government."

DULLES LIES IN STATE — An honor guard from the five branches of the armed forces stands guard around the flag-draped casket of John Foster Dulles in Washington National Cathedral's Bethlehem Chapel. The former Secretary of State is to be buried today in Arlington National Cemetery. (AP Wirephoto)

'Physiological Starvation' Probably Caused Dulles' Death

By DELOS SMITH
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Medical science knows a great deal about the kind of cancer which ended the career of John Foster Dulles. Usually the direct cause of death is not cancer but is either pneumonia or "physiological starvation."

Dulles' personal physician, Dr. A. D. Daughton, said in his opinion the latter was the direct killer. Multiplying cancer cells use up all the nutrition which medical science can put into the bodies of the gravely ill by one means or another, and none is left with which to maintain the vital functions of healthy body cells, he said.

However, there will be no final answer in Dulles' case. Daughton said there would be no autopsy. Experts on colonic cancer, interviewed by this reporter, said it "seeds" itself throughout the body, and a usual site of "seeding" is the lungs.

There the growing colony of cancer cells interferes with the work of the lungs which is to put oxygen into the blood and take carbon out of it, and then, in the words of one expert, "a condition follows which resembles pneumonia and is often called pneumonia."

Daughton said that in Dulles' case, pneumonia had not contributed to death. His pneumonia had been detected early and he had "a rugged constitution." When death came he was "nearly recovered" from it, Daughton said. He added that Dulles' case was "not different from hundreds of other cancer cases and there was a generalized dissemination of the disease."

Cancers of the colon and rectum are considered one disease because the two organs form a continuous tubular structure. Last year approximately 58,000 new cases were discovered, in 30,500 women and 27,500 men, according to statistics of the American Cancer Society. It is not an uncommon cancer and less than one-third of the victims survive five years.

Those who do owe their "cure" to early detection followed by surgical removal of the cancerous tissue. Dulles underwent such surgery Nov. 3, 1956. As subsequent events demonstrated so tragically, the surgeons did not get it all. The chances were that cancer cells had spread away from the original colony at the time of the surgery, the experts said.

The cells first get to the joints of the lymph channels near the primary site, usually those joints or "nodes" around blood vessels. They go from theer to nodes farther removed, but still in the abdominal cavity. By then, they often have gotten into the blood stream which means they can be carried to any organ of the body where they may lodge and establish new colonies.

The liver is a common site for a new colony, because the liver is a filter organ for the blood. Meanwhile, they may get through the intestinal walls and enter the abdominal cavity as "free cells." Such "free cells" were discovered in Dulles during a hernia operation last Feb. 13.

An expert told this reporter that he and other colonic cancer specialists knew then that Dulles was doomed. The discovery of "free cells" could only mean colonies probably were established on the surface of the intestines and on the top of the bladder, and probably had been carried to a number of sites remote from the abdomen.

On April 14 it was revealed that a colony had been found in a segment of the spine at the base of the neck. The experts suggested perhaps this was a sign that the cancer had spread to the brain where it could have interfered with nerve functions governing the lungs and general body nutrition. That wouldn't have been unusual in this kind of cancer.

Colonic-rectal cancer is of unknown cause, like most other cancers. Scientists who specialize in tracking down the causes of cancer are puzzled by the fact that whereas this one is common in human beings it is most rare in other mammals with alimentary canals very similar to the human. For that reason they have sought clues in the differences between the food of human beings and of animals.

Human food is cooked, for one thing. It has been suggested that some foods might contain specific cancer-causers which after a very long time turned colonic tissue toward the malignant. Burned meats, super-heated fats, addiction to purgatives, and chemical food preservatives and coloring agents all have been suspected, but nothing has ever been proved.

Approximately 90 per cent of the victims are over 45. But in the last few years, there has been an increase of cases among younger people.

RUSSIA GROWS — Russia has recently announced results of her 1959 census. Figures claim nearly 209 million people, an increase of 18 million since 1939. The ratio of 11 women for every 9 men is blamed on World War II deaths. The 98 million persons living in Russian cities is an increase of 40 million since '39. Red claim of low death and high birth rates is coupled with boast of the highest marriage rate in the world—12 marriages a year for each 1,000 residents. Newschart compares U.S.S.R. with recent U. S. figures.

Russians Invent Clock That Runs for Centuries

MOSCOW (UPI) — An exact "clock" that is not expected to skip a second in hundreds of years has been developed at the U.S.S.R. Academy of Sciences, according to the newspaper, "Izvestia."

The inventors, Drs. N. G. Basov and A.M. Prokhorov, have been nominated for a Lenin prize.

Their "clock" actually is a "molecular generator," a device in which ammonia molecules emit radio waves. As molecules never wear out, Izvestia noted, their "waves" are always accurate.

A major authority on controlling forest fires is Kenneth P. Davis, a former University of Michigan "smokechaser" who served 18 years with the U.S. Forest Service in his native Montana.

Just Part of the Act, Police Find on Arrival

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Police rushed to a beach amusement center to investigate a report that two men were fighting on top of the roller coaster.

They were, all right, but no arrests were made. It was a scene for a motion picture film being shot there.

Donald Cook, star of many Broadway stage plays, says he once found himself in Emporia, Kan., without a dime in his pocket. He sang in a local movie house to earn his railroad fare to Kansas City.

Magazine Sees Workers' 'Utopia'

Poverty to Be Rare in 10 Years

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fortune Magazine said today that in another 10 years real poverty will largely disappear in the United States, millions of Americans will be "making a living" without actually working and nearly half the families will be in the upper income brackets.

An article by Sanford S. Parker and Lawrence A. Mayer in the June issue of the magazine said the nation was "now entering an astonishing new phase of the great income revolution that has transformed U. S. society — and the U. S. market — in the last few decades."

By 1970, Parker and Mayer said, "the ancient image of work as something manual and tedious will be fading rapidly" and most workers will be in white-collar or highly skilled blue-collar jobs.

"A vast number of adult Americans, perhaps 25 million, will be 'making a living' without actually working," the article said. "Most of them, of course, will be retired, and retirement income will be substantial enough so that Americans will be largely free of the old fear of destitution in their late years."

Families now in the lower income brackets will be moving up the economic ladder in the next decade.

The magazine likened U. S. economic scales to a pyramid, with the broad base formerly comprised of families in the lower (under $4,000 a year) income group and scaling upward through the middle ($4,000 to $7,500) class to the narrow upper $7,500 and above) peak.

By the 1950s, the pyramid had begun to assume a diamond shape, the article said, and by 1970 it will be an inverted pyramid, with 45 per cent of all families earning $7,500 and more, 39 per cent earning $4,000 to $7,500, and only 16 per cent in the lower income group.

Meantime, as families move up the economic scale, their "discretionary," or luxury, spending will increase.

"As they move over the $4,000 line, they have extra income with which they can exercise a number of options," the article said. "They can buy better food and drink, or better furniture, or they can take a small flyer in the stock market; or, conceivably, all of the extra income may go for one big fling in the luxury market (e. g., the $5,000 family that saves for years to take a trip to Europe)."

Fortune warned, however, that such a boom might have "moral implications."

"It is at least conceivable that the opulent masses might develop a kind of moral flabbiness over the years, and that endless preoccupation with problems of consumption might turn us into a race of people poorly equipped to cope with the realities of the thermonuclear age," it said.

Streetcars Pull Mules

ONTARIO, Calif. (UPI) — Way back in 1880 or so, mules alternated with gravity in providing streetcar power here. The car operated on a route which had a slight grade. The car was hauled up the grade by mules which then boarded a small flatcar attached to the streetcar for the return trip downhill.

New Hospital Strike Looms

Seven More Institutions Threatened; Walkout at Six in Third Week

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike of nonprofessional workers at six hospitals neared the three-week mark today, while another union hospitals.

The strike continued despite 15-day jail terms given two top officials of the union on contempt charges of violating an injunction against the strike. The pair has not yet been jailed.

The State Supreme Court sentences were in connection with th strik against one hospital in Brooklyn. The five other hospitals obtained a similar injunction in Manhattan.

The new strike threat came in a telegram to the seven private hospitals from Local 144 of the Hotel and Allied Service Employes Union. The union threatened to strike if the hospitals failed to negotiate.

The strike against the six hospitals was called by Local 1199 of the Retail Drug Employes Union.

The threatened hospitals said they would bargain if the union is certified by a National Labor Relations Board election as official bargaining agent.

The six struck hospitals have refused to recognize the union, claiming that as nonprofit organizations they are exempt from being required to recognize a union.

Knows Cemetery Well

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP)—Undertaker Ed Gaskill, who has buried some 11,000 persons, says eventually a funeral home operator knows more people in cemeteries than outside.

Three Bank Thieves Stalled at Curb

REPUBLIC, Mo. (AP) — Three rookie robbers attempted a big league bank robbery Tuesday but were stalled at the curb when their borrowed getaway car would not start.

The three men, who robbed the Farmers State Bank of $7,680, were captured shortly after they attempted to flee in a car borrowed from a Springfield used car lot for a demonstration ride. One bandit was caught in the car. The other two were caught in a wheat field.

Sheriff Glenn Hendrix of Green County identified the three as Bill Lee Thompson, 29, and Eugene Welch, 49, both of Clever, Mo., and Jim Robinson, 35, of Republic. He said all three had minor records of petit larceny and assault.

At the turn of the 20th Century, the total motor vehicle production in the United States was only 4,192 cars.

Singapore Set to Vote Saturday

Expect Leftist Victory as Internal Self-Rule Due to Begin

SINGAPORE (AP) — Singapore's 140 years of British administration takes a new turn Saturday in an election that will bring internal self-government. Voters will choose either a moderate or an extreme leftist government.

With the election Singapore becomes a self-governing state. The British Government retains controls of foreign affairs and defense.

The strongly leftist People's Action Party (PAP) is expected to walk off with the major share of tthe 51 legislative seats in the balloting. It has put up candidates for all 51 but the question is: Will it get the 26 seats needed for exclusive control?

If not, the PAP might still form a coalition government — but so might its opponents. For the anti-PAP factions the situation offers an outside chance in what was previously considered a sure defeat.

As the final week of election campaigning started in this 210-square mile strategic island there were signs of a subtle swing to the right.

In some ways PAP was making its own troubles. Threats to use an antisubversion law against the conservative British-owned Straits Times was causinig concern over the future of civil liberties if this strongly leftist group comes to power.

Beg Pardon, Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle jokingly says he's careful not to bump into any of the 10 prison trusties who staff his mansion here. Says he doesn't want to give them the opportunity to say "pardon me."

Are You a Pill-Saver, an Unguent-Hoarder?

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Americans are not exactly hypochondriacs. They just like to have medicines around. They find it comforting. Sort of like money.

In Scotland they take exercise, in France they take wine, in Russia they take orders; in America we take aspirin.

The average American medicine chest—as any powder room party-snooper could tell you—is loaded with the latest, as well as the old faithful, get-betteries.

Inherited from great-grandma's estate are honey and glycerine, castor oil and rock and rye. Less dusty are the bottles of antibiotics, reducing pills and tranquilizers.

For rainy days there are rubbing alcohols and sedatives, and for the sake of that father-faced announcer on Channel 4 there's the pleasant flavored, non-staining, non-narcotic mouthwash with the phenomenal ingredient DHO glycerol. It's more soothing.

This being spring housecleaning time, we recently decided to weed out the medicinal unnecessaries, and to get rid of the drugs which had lost their efficacy—the powerless pills, the elixirs with no licks left.

This is a job that requires ruthlessness, similar to discarding books, and should be accomplished by the housecleaner alone. Husbands, it will be found, develop sentimental attachments to unguents which soothed their poison ivy in summer, 1948, and they balk at throwing away a bottle of anything, however decomposed, which cost over $1.50.

An immense help in this odorous job is Chapter 27 of a new book called "Kiplinger's Family Buying Guide," which takes up the inventory of the medicine cabinet.

BIG QUESTIONS

It states that before making any decisions, one should ask oneself: When did I last use this medicine? And, is it safe to keep?

Then it offers this guide to help the cabinet cleaner along:

Antiseptics — last two or three years if tightly stoppered. Tincture of iodine, an alcohol solution, evaporates especially quickly. You can tell a bottle of antiseptic has been around too long by the solid residue formed in the bottom and the cloudiness of the solution.

Ointments, salves and drops—throw away any ointment if the color has darkened, if ingredients have separated and have watery spots, or if holes have appeared in the tube.. Burn ointments have pretty long lives. Vaseline lasts virtually forever. Butargyrol, under usual conditions, lasts only about three months.

Painkillers and sedatives — aspirin likely to decompose if it becomes moist; keep cap on tight. When aspirin goes bad, needle-like crystals form on the tablets or inside of bottle. Barbiturates in tablet form last one to two years; bromides deteriorate in about a year. They are not dangerous in age, but lose potency.

Laxatives and digestives — are quite stable. Over a long period of time milk of magnesia may form a cake in the bottom of the bottle—but even then it is all right.

Cold Remedies — cough syrups can become bitter or overthick with time, but they probably do just as much good. Nose drops usually good for more than a year, but throw solution away if it is not crystal-clear. Antihistamines, usually, last a year to 18 months.

REFRIGERATE VITAMINS

Vitamins—in general, keep all of them in the refrigerator unless they will be used up in 30 days. Vitamins A, B-1, C and to a lesser degree D, are the ones most likely to lose potency; in tablet form they last only six months, in capsules about a year.

Stability of a vitamin elixir depends on ingredients, but it is generally not good economy to buy large containers of Liquid B-1, C or A.

Wonder drugs — crystal salts of penicillin in solution last only a few days. Procaine penicillin in water keeps about one year at room temperature, two years in the regrigerator. Penicillin ointments keep one to three years, depending upon formula.

In capsule or tablet form aureomycin, terramycin, achromycin or tetracyn will last about four years. In powder form to which water has been added, keep only two weeks. The sulfas are all quite stable.

GOP Launches Victory Drives

Aims 2 Campaigns at Insuring Sweeping Wins in 1960 Election

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Senator Thurston E. Morton (R-Ky), chairman of the Republican National Committee, said last night the party was launching two programs aimed at "insuring a sweeping Republican victory in 1960."

Morton, in an address here before the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's Organizations, said the GOP was seeking to mobilize two million more party workers between now and September of 1960.

"I am counting upon Republican women's organizations such as yours to recruit most of those workers," he said.

Morton explained that the mobilization is part of the party's "Recruit Now for '60" program, which is aimed at strengthening the Republican Party at state and local levels.

'BELL RINGERS'

He then went on to explain that a "Republican Bell Ringers" campaign, inaugurated by Assistant Chairman Mrs. Clare B. Williams provides the means of reaching people directly—by personal contact and by telephone.

"If, between now and November of 1960, every Republican worker would ring at least one new doorbell and one new telephone number each day, the way would be paved for a certain victory," Morton said.

The chairman then went on to sing the praises of the present administration.

"This nation has enjoyed six and one-half years of unparalleled prosperity and progress under the present administration," he said.

"Measured by virtually every yardstick, they represent the best years of our history.

"Currently there is a tremendous upswing in employment and general business activity which seems certain to carry over into 1960. New records are being established on virtually every economic front," Morton said.

CITES JOBLESS DROP

He then cited the fact that unemployment dropped by 735,000 in April and at the same time employment rose by nearly 1.2 million to a total of more than 65 million.

Target-Seeking Super Bomarc Gets First Test

The Air Force announced the purpose of the flight was to test the air frame, booster system and general aerodynamic behavior of the new missile — called the Bomarc Model .

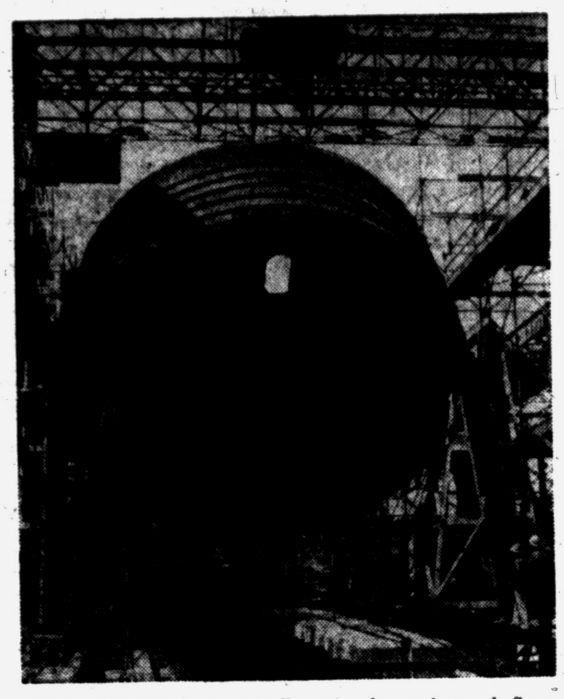

The weapon was not schedule to be flown its full range and was not fired at a target, the Air Force said.

The earlier liquid-fueled Model A Bomarc has a range of some 250 miles. The model A has successfully intercepted a variety of swift targets in more than 50 launchings from the Cape.

Boat Capsizes on Fishing Trip

Father, 3 Children Drown, Mother, 3 Others, Saved

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP)— Two men rescued a mother and three of her six children from Lake Marian Tuesday but the father and three other children drowned.

Drowned with Miller were Lethroy 9, Shirley Jo, 7, and Andy Wallace, 4.

Mrs. Miller and the other children—Jimmy, 8, Donnie, 6, and Randell, 2—were brought ashore by O.L. Williams and R.J. Nasworthy, who noticed the boat in trouble while working on a dredge at the lake on the outskirts of this central Florida city.

The Millers had gone most of the way across the lake, half - mile wide, when wind roughened the water and they decided to head back.

The boat swamped and went down, stern first. Mrs. Miller and three of the children clung to the boat but the father and other children disappeared in the water. Their bodies were found an hour later.

Charges Job Agency in 'Form of Bondage'

DETROIT (UP) — An employment agency was accused by a Michigan Employment Security Commission referee yesterday of holding job-seeking clients in "a form of bondage."

Referee Charles Rubinoff made the charge against Manpower Inc., an agency with headquarters in Columbus, Ohio, in upholding a client's appeal for $285 in unemployment compensation.

The refree's ruling reversed a prior examiner's decision rejecting the claim.

Rubinoff said that only persons "on the brink of starvation" applied for jobs through Manpower Inc.

He sai dmen and women seeking jobs through the agency signed an the right to collect as fees one-third of their wages.

Rubinoff acted in the appeal of Hgward Gerst, 44, member of a labor pool at Manpower Inc. He voided an agreement signed by Gerst.

Manpower Inc., had contended Gerst was not eligible for compensation because he had not regularly reported for work.

Great Lakes Haulage Showing Big Increase

CLEVELAND (UP) — Great Lakes bulk carriers hauled more than twice as much iron ore, coal and grain this year to May 1 than they did in the recession-slowed 1958 shipping season start, the Lake Carriers Assn. said today.

Tonnages, with 1958 tonages in parentheses, were:

Iron ore 3,335,386 net tons (70,067); coal 5,051,600 (2,990,514); grain 573,484 (1,023,978).

The total tonnage of 8,960,470 for the three bulk commodities this year to May 1, compares with 4,084,559 in 1958 and 12,437,412 in 1957.

Broomfield Hits Highway Bills

Charges Two Proposed Measures Would Hike U. S. Debt $17 Million

A pair of budget-busting highway bills which could increase the National debt by $17 billion threaten to steamroll through the House of Repreesntatives soon, warned Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) today.

The first of these bills—reported out of the House Public Works Committee last week without hearings would "sound the deathknell to pay-as-you-go financing of the 41,000-mile Interstate highway system."

The second, due for early consideration by the Public Works Committee, would result in a $4.3 billion give-away of Federal Funds to buy up existing state toll roads and freeways, Broomfield said.

The deficit financing bill now in the hands of the House Ways and Means Committee is an "open invitation to pay for new highways out of the general fund rather than the highway trust fund which was set up for the construction of these roads," he said.

Passage of the bill by Congress would be a "breach of faith" with the American people and could lead to $13 billion in deficit spending before the program was completed, Broomfield charged.

The highway trust fund is "all but bankrupt. We don't have one red cent of uncommitted funds for new interstate highway construction in fiscal 1961," he said.

The trust fund was to spend $2.5 billion in that year and another $2.2 billion in 1962. Total revenues for the highway fund through special gasoline and tire taxes will bring in only $500,000,000 (million) during 1962, however, Broomfield pointed out.

Total cost estimate of the interstate program have risen from $27 billion in 1956 when the program started, to $36 billion at present. Revenues to finance construction have only amounted to $23 billion.

"We are now faced with a difference of $13 billion, an almost 50 per cent increase over the original estimated cost," said Broomfield.

Bob Considine Says:

Dulles Had Deep Faith in God and Country

WASHINGTON—John Foster Dulles was a man who:

Memorized the Gospel according to St. Luke.

Urged every new foreign ambassador who presented credentials to him at the State Department to "get out into the country." He also presented each ambassador with a copy of the Federalist Papers.

Voted Democratic only once in his life—and then for his mentor and intellectual ideal, Woodrow Wilson, who had taught him at Princeton.

Worked quietly for many years to bring about a reunion of all Christian faiths.

Played bridge so well that he sometimes urged opponents to play specific cards, having sensed they must hold them.

Blew his top at the Washington Police Department for assigning a patrolman to the Dulles home. The officer, he learned, had stood guard throughout a very cold night. "I wouldn't be able to sleep if I knew a man was suffering discomfort because of me," he told the department. "See that this never happens again."

Stubbornly held out for Ngo Dinh Diem as premier of Viet Nam, despite heavy opposition from France and the Pentagon. Dulles succeeded in having playboy Premier Bao Dai banished from that land, and in a rare burst of purple language explained, "I want somebody in there who doesn't depend on bawdy houses to survive!"

Would continue working aboard a plane that developed engine trouble, though sometimes he'd get up from his air-borne desk, go up to the cockpit where the crew was sweating out a feathered prop, and softly suggest that the delegation waiting to greet him at his terminus be informed by radio that he would be a bit late.

Never worried over the occasional surliness of some of our allies. Once he told me, "My experience through the years dating back to the 1907 Hague Convention has convinced me of one thing: Friendship cannot be bought.

"I wouldn't spend a plugged nickel to buy the friendship of any nation. George Washington said something about that in his Farewell Address. You can't expect gratitude—utter gratitude—from any nation. It's folly to think that money alone forms fast ties. Our foreign aid program is devoted to producing in the beneficiary countries something of use to the United States—air bases, let's say, or greater security for those countries and therefore for the free world."

Scoffed at charges that U. S. prestige was dimming overseas. "If I don't fly to London tomorrow the (Suez Canal) conference will collapse," he said in the midst of that crisis. "There is unprecedented approval overseas of what our people stand for. Democracy may not be embraced everywhere, but it's looked up to and respected."

Defined "democracy" as "it's made up essentially of two things—religion and education. Religion teaches people self-restraint, self-control, and illuminates the spiritual nature of man, with the attendant love of neighbor, respect of rights, conscience, hope of a hereafter. Education is equally important because if you don't have enough education to understand the issues, you can't have democracy."

Said of the dictators he encountered through life, "They are as sensitive to public opinion at home as any elected official in a democracy. Consequently, they try to create an ersatz public opinion intended to replace or supplant the normal opposition they'd have at home and abroad. The Soviet Union spends a billion dollars a year trying to sell its self-portrait to its people."

Said, "If I'm remembered I guess it will be chiefly for three things: 'Brink of War,' 'Agonizing Reappraisal' and 'Massive Retaliation.' I'd be prepared, however, to go to court to defend each statement, but there's no court in my calling."

Was dumbfounded by the furor caused by his "brinkmanship." The day I asked him about it he fairly leaped across the room of his study, pulled down a book and read: "The world has been on the verge of war, or at war, most of its history. From 1480 to 1941 England engaged in 78 wars, France 71, Netherlands 23, Spain 64, Austria 52, Germany 23, Italy 25, China 11, Denmark 20, Sweden 26, Poland 30, Russia 61, Turkey 43, Japan 9 and the U. S. 13 . . .

"War is a recurrent phenomenon we haven't found a way to take care of as yet. . . . The only way to avoid war is to perceive the danger signals at an early date and marshal forces that will prevent it from occurring by denying that it can happen, you entice it."

Burns Bear's Nose to Free Boy at Zoo

The boy had crawled under a guard rail and thrust his hand through a two-inch mesh screen into the bear's cage.

Thomas Cole, 19, heard the boy's mother, Mrs. Melvin J. VanDam, scream. He rushed to the cage Cole reached through the screen and burned the bear's tender nose.

Russell was treated at a hospital and kept overnight for observation. His condition was reported good today.

Baby Boom in April

LANSING (AP) — Michigan had a baby boom in April, the state health department reported today. April was the first month this year with more births than the corresponding month a year ago—16,620 this year, or 276 more than April of 1958. Despite the gain in April, births for the first four months of the year were still running behind 1958.

Retail Sales Increase

DETROIT (AP)—Substantial gains in retail sales were reported in Detroit during April by the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. All divisions reported increases led by jewelry stores with a 23 per cent boost in sales over a year ago. Department stores and men's apparel were up 15 per cent; women's apparel up 8 per cent; and appliances and furniture up 6 per cent.

Chicago Paper Reports FBI Success

Negro Lynching 'Solved'

CHICAGO (AP)—The Tribune said today the Federal Bureau of Investigation has solved the Mack Charles Parker lynching and has turned the names of the asserted killers over to Gov. James R. Coleman of Mississippi.

The Tribune, in a copyrighted dispatch from Washington, said it learned from "informed sources on Capitol Hill" that approximately 10 men were involved.

All are reported to be from communities and the rural area surrounding Poplarville, Miss. The story did not identify the men.

The FBI declined comment on The Tribune's story. The Department of Justice announced at Washington Monday it had withdrawn from the case because no evidence had been found of a federal law violation.

Parker, 23, a Negro truck driver, was kidnaped from the jail the night of April 25, two days before he was scheduled to go on trial on charges of raping a 24-year-old pregnant white mother. His body was found in a river 20 miles from Poplarville on May 4.

ONLY NEWSPAPERS SELL TOILETRIES FROM CHEMIST TO CUSTOMER!

TOILETRY MANUFACTURERS spent over $34,000,000 in 1958 in newspapers to reach their millions of men and women customers. This kind of spending, year after year, helps to pay off handsomely for the toiletry business whose sales according to the Bureau of the Census, are highest ever.

Retailers of toiletries, too, know the value of steady, strong newspaper advertising on the local scene. They can easily see the effects—their sales of toilet preparations are up, also. Most local advertisers are firm believers in the retailers' number one medium, the Total Selling daily newspaper. That's why they invested an overwhelming $2,375,000,000 last year in newspapers—six times as much as in radio; nine times as much as in television.

Put the combined national coverage and local impact of the Total Selling daily newspaper to work on your products. It sells goods—at all levels at the same time and in the same medium.

Elizabeth Taylor Insists She'll Quit Movies Soon

LONDON (UPI) — Elizabeth Taylor arrived in Britain yesterday with her new husband, Eddie Fisher, and her three children by previous marriages and said she soon would give up her movie career to become a "plain housewife."

But first, she said, she will make three or four more films.

Fisher said little except to interrupt reporters who called his wife "Miss Taylor."

"Her name is Mrs. Fisher," he reminded the newsmen throughout the interview.

TO USE QUEEN'S MANSION

The Fishers will set up housekeeping in a mansion owned by Queen Elizabeth at Englefield Green, about 15 miles from London, while Miss Taylor is working in a new film.

The actress, dressed in an ermine-lined purple coat and a low-necked dress, faltered when reporters reminded her she had said she would quit the movies shortly after her marriage to her third husband, the late American producer Mike Todd.

There were certain circumstances about that time," she said. "I don't want to say any more."

There were 44 pieces of luggage, which cost $300 in excess weight, aboard the plane that brought the Fishers from the French Riviera after a two-week Mediterranean honeymoon.

The newlyweds shared the last days of their honeymoon with Miss Taylor's children: Christopher 4 and Michael 6, by her second husband, Michael Wilding, and Elizabeth Todd, 12 months.

The Fishers will live in a "Hollywood-style" 15-room house, which a crew of workmen has been readying for the new tenants.

$14,000 OPEN STAIRCASE

The mansion now boasts a $14,000 open staircase in a wood-paneled hall, a chartreuse mahogany marbelized dining table and a gold-and-black "wallpapered" main bathroom. The former stables have been converted into a ballroom.

A special police guard has been detailed to keep "unknown callers" away from the house.

Some of the neighbors were puzzled.

"We cannot understand what all the fuss is about," said Olive Young, who lives across the street. "Even the tradesmen have to have passes to get in—it is ridiculous."

Space Goggles Will Measure Brain Pulse

MOSCOW (AP)—The first man in space may wear special goggles to measure blood circulation in his brain. They would warn him—and medical observers on earth—if he was about to black out or lose body control.

He may also wear a tiny wrist device resembling a wrist watch that will monitor his general blood pressure.

The new instruments were described by Martin Decker, president of Decker Crop. of Bala-Cynwyd, Pa., in a paper presented today at a preliminary meeting of the annual conference of the International Aeronautic Federation.

Decker's firm is working on a number of scientific study contracts for military and civil space organizations.

Decker said the brain pulse meter would resemble a pair of welder's goggles. Tiny drums over each ear would record the pulse rate for relay to the pilot and by radio from the space ship to earth.

The device is under consideration for use by the Mercury astronauts since it provides a minimum obstruction to the vision, he said.

Such devices are essential for the safety of the astronaut.

"He could bleed to death, unaware he is in danger unless warned through such devices," Decker said.

Hollywood Headlines:

Careful, Spencer Tracy, Sidney Poitier's on Way

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — Spencer Tracy, who usually dominates his pictures, will have to look to his scene-stealing in "The Devil at Four O'Clock" now that Sidney Poitier has been signed by Sam Briskin to co-star with Spence. Everything Poitier touches these days seems to turn into a big success for the Negro star, including his current Broadway hit, "Raisin in the Sun."

While I'm on the subject, the next four Poitier films bear the Columbia trademark — "Porgy and Bess" (Sam Goldwyn's production releasing through Columbia), "All the Young Men," "Raisin in the Sun" and now "Devil at Four O'Clock."

Freddie Kohlmar has made arrangements to produce "Devil" at Martinique in February with Peter Glenville directing. Need I add it will be one of Columbia's big ones coming up.

Since "Compulsion" did so well at the Cannes Film Festival, and received so much praise, director Dick Fleischer's stock has soared high. He's just bought "Trouble in July" by Erskine (God's Little Acre) Caldwell. This will be made for 20th Century-Fox and Orson (the plump one) Welles has one of the top roles.

Dick is trying his best also to sign Carol Lynley and Bob Wagner, and since they are both at 20th this shouldn't be too difficult. Earl Tilton is writing the screenplay, and it's a suspense story about the Deep South.

After seeing and thoroughly enjoying "The Young Philadelphians," I am not in the least surprised that Barbara Rush's stock is sky high. "Bramble Bush" is not yet finished, but I hear she gives another fine performance. Being in love with Warren Cowan has certainly helped her, plus her beautiful new slim figure and her acting ability.

Milton Sperling would like to get Barbara and Richard Burton to team in "The White Rajah" which starts in late September. She was so happy with her last two pictures at Warner Bros., it seems more than likely she'll give them her "John Hancock" for this thriller about the first white man in Borneo.

Five will get you ten that Louis Prima and Keely Smith abandon ship and leave their new 45-foot yacht for other transportation to New Orleans. The first day the radio went on the blink, one of the motors conked out, a small lifeboat fell into the ocean during the middle of the night, and Louis went searching for it in the rough waters.

Moreover, they ran into fog, but they are trying to stick it out. Keely's brother is first mate on the trip that originally was to be on the inland water routes. How they ended up in the ocean, no one but Capt. Prima seems to know, and he isn't close enough to ask.

Columbia to Make Movie on Wernher von Braun

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A movie about Wernher von Braun will feature Curt Jurgens as the famed German rocket scientist.

Milestone for College

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—Central Michigan College will hold its first commencement as a university June 7. The change is effective June 1. Among those receiving honorary degrees will be Dr. David H. Morgan, director of college relations for the Dow Chemical Co. of Midland; Republican House floor leader Allison Green of Kingston, and Marcillene Barnes, director of instruction in Grand Rapids Public Schools.

To Draft Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois says the Senate Judiciary Committee, of which he is a member, will begin drafting a civil rights measure next week.

Haddix Loses After 12 Innings of Perfect Pitching

Baseball's Great Show—'Heartbreak in 13th'

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Nobody's sure yet what the final score was, but one thing is certain—Harvey Haddix pitched the greatest game in history and lost.

Haddix' 12 perfect innings for the Pittsburgh Pirates last night ended in heartbreak in the 13th inning when big Joe Adcock of the Milwaukee Braves slammed a three-run "homer" and then was called out for passing teammate Hank Aaron on the basepaths.

Chief umpire Frank Dascoli ruled that the final score was 2-0, but National League President Warren Giles indicated that probably would be changed to 1-0 after he studies the official reports.

But the final score is just a technicality as far as dead-game Haddix is concerned. The big thing was the wrecking of his great game.

Haddix, utilizing a fast ball and curve which hopped and cut the corners of the late, in the end was charged with only one hit, the double given to Adcock after his home run was taken away.

The 33-year-old native of Medway, Ohio, struck out eight, while Lew Burdette, who received his eighth win due to the crazy ending, was allowing 12 hits but walking none and striking out two.

Nine innings was the longest previous stint of perfect pitching, the most recent such feat being that of Don Larsen of the Yankees against the Brooklyn Dodgers in the 1956 world series.

Other pitchers also have pitched more than nine innings of hitless ball. The longest of this type in the modern era was in 1906 when Harry McIntyre of Brooklyn pitched 10⅔ innings of hitless ball against Pittsburgh, but lost in the 13th, 1-0.

An error by Pittsburgh third baseman Don Hoak finally broke Haddix' spell as Felix Mantilla led off the 13th. Hoak picked up Mantilla's grounder and threw in the dirt in front of first baseman Rocky Nelson, who couldn't hold it and Mantilla was safe.

Eddie Mathews sacrificed Mantilla to second, and Henry Aaron was purposely passed. Next up was big Joe Adcock.

Adcock hit a fly that just cleared the wire fence in right-center field. Then the confusion began.

For a moment no one was sure it was over the fence, until two boys wriggled under a barrier and grabbed the ball. The base runners also were unsure.

The fans went wild and players streamed onto the field, thinking the Braves won, 3-0. But as the last of the fans were leaving, chief umpire Frank Dascoli ruled the score was 2-0, because Adcock was out for running past Aaron between second and third. He ruled that Adcock would get a double and Mantilla and Aaron crossed the plate with the two winning runs.

Giles still later announced in Cincinnati that the score probably will be officially changed to 1-0 on grounds that if Adcock hit only a double, only Mantilla's run was needed to win the game.

Aaron said later he thought the ball had not left the park and stopped running, thinking Mantilla's run was all that was necessary. Adcock saw the ball go over and simply galloped past Aaron en route to the plate as Aaron walked across the diamond.

Haddix, who will take over a special niche in baseball records, was philosophical. After asking a reporter to wait a minute while he opened a can of beer, he said, "I made a mistake. I guess I was tired."

"I wanted to come in low, and the ball came in high, and Adcock clobbered it. Maybe I should have walked Adcock, too.

The Pirate hurler, who came to Pittsburgh via Cincinnati after breaking in with St. Louis in 1952, would have had his perfect game victory if the Pirates had been able to capitalize on the 12 hits off Burdette.

The Pirates bunched three hits in the third inning, but failed to score as two of them were scratch singles in the infield. They got two hits in the ninth inning, but again failed to push across a run when Bob Skinner lined out to first baseman Adcock with men on first and third and two out.

The Braves also turned in three double plays to erase three other hits by the Pirates.

Tigers Trip A's for 3rd in Row

Foytack Gets 2nd Win, With Morgan's Help

Maxwell, Morgan Turn in Home Runs for Hefty Assistance

KANSAS CITY (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers seem to have the double whammy on the Athletics this season.

The Tigers whipped the A's last night, 9-5, for the fifth straight time. It was also the third straight victory for Detroit, and pushed the Bengals to within a game of fifth place, held by Kansas City.

Ned Garver was the starting and losing pitcher for Kansas City and gave up six runs in the first three innings before giving way to Murry Dickson.

Paul Foytack, who lost a two-hitter to Cleveland last Friday, recorded the win but needed help from Morgan in the seventh. It was Foytack's second victory against six defeats.

The Tigers got three runs in the first inning when Eddie Yost was hit by Garver, Maxwell walked, Al Kaline singled and Preston Ward, the A's first baseman, threw Gail Harris' grounder into the dirt when he tried to start a doubleplay.

The Tigers picked up three more in the third when Kaline singled, Harris was safe on an error, Lou Berberet singled and Rocky Bridges tripled.

Maxwell's homer led off the fifth and then singles by Kaline, Harris and Bridges added another score in the inning. Morgan's home run came in the eighth and went over the left centerfield wall.

Kansas City broke the scoring ice in the fourth on Whitey Herzog's single and William's home run. In the sixth, Herzog led off with a single and Ward followed with a single but Bob Cerv popped up. Williams then drew a walk to load the bases.

Frank House popped up but Terwilliger drew a walk to force in a run and Joe Demaestri singled in two more.

When Bill Tuttle opened the seventh with a hit, manager Jimmie Dykes waved in Morgan from the bull pen and he let the Kansas Citians down without a safety the rest of the way.

HAPPY BRAVES — Lew Burdette (left) and Joe Adcock of the Milwaukee Braves were the spoilers who caused heartbreak for Pittsburgh pitcher Harvey Haddix in the 13 innings. Adcock's hit in the 13th brought home the winning runs, and Burdette won even though he gave up 12 hits.

Pinch-Hit Grand Slam Beats Dodgers

N.L. Has Its Dramatics

By The Associated Press

There was nothing to approach Harvey Haddix' heart-breaker, of course, but the other two games scheduled in the National League had their moments of drama, too.

At San Francisco, the Giants clung to second place by beating Los Angeles 6-4 on Leon Wagner's pinch-hit, grand-slam home run with one out in the ninth.

Wagner's homer, his first major league slam, came off Dodger reliever Art Fowler. Losing starter Sandy Koufax (0-1) had held the Giants to four hits for eight innings, then loaded the bases with two walks and Felipe Alou's single. Gordon Jones (2-2) was the winner in relief of Stu Miller.

Newk (4-4) capped a two-run fourth inning for the Reds with a deciding, RBI single off loser Ruben Gomez (1-3).

Newcombe, who won 27 games as baseball's No. 1 pitcher in 1956, but has won only 22 since, blanked the Phils on three hits until Harry Anderson homered in the seventh, and finished with a seven-hitter.

The Reds' first run scored on a two-out error by catcher Carl Sawatski as Frank Thomas slid home.

Winning Start for Jets, 2-0

City Champs Shut Out Shaw's Behind McGuire in Class A Opener

McGuire silenced the bats of Shaw's Jewelers on just two hits, both singles, as the Jets scored a 2-0 victory in the opening Class A game of the 1959 season.

The Jets socked a dozen safeties off veteran Herm Bishop and tallied single runs in the 1st and 6th innings. They wasted numerous scoring opportunities, getting at least one hit every inning and stranding 11 men on the base paths.

Louie Seay singled home Gene Cox with the 1st run, then Cox delivered McGuire with another single. Cox paced the Jet attack with three safe blows in four attempts.

There was a forfeit in the Class B City League for the 2nd straight day. Don Nicholie couldn't put a team on the field at Jaycee Park and forfeited to Talbott Lumber.

Too Enthusiastic Fans 'Sentenced' to Church

BALTIMORE (AP) — Chet and Sam Weaver, a couple of too-loyal Baltimore Orioles baseball fans, tipped over trash cans on a downtown street.

Chet, 18, and Sam, 17, told the magistrate in court Thursday they were mad because the Chicago White Sox beat the Orioles Wednesday night and they wanted to let off steam.

Magistrate Joseph Kolodny sentenced them to go to church each Sunday for six months.

COOL TOWEL FOR HOT ARM — Harvey Haddix shows strain and fatigue in the dressing room after pitching 12 perfect innings of baseball only to lose in the 13th to the Milwaukee Braves. He gets a cool towel wrapped around his history making arm.

History Making Haddix Only Knows He Lost, 2-0

By The Associated Press

Harvey Haddix laughed when told he had made pitching history against the Milwaukee Braves Tuesday night.

"Who, me?" asked the 33-year-old Pittsburgh Pirate left-hander. "All I know is we lost, 2-0, in 13 innings. What's so historic about that? Didn't anyone else ever lose a 13-inning shutout?"

Wait a minute. Wasn't he aware that although he was beaten, he had turned in the greatest pitching performance in baseball history? That he has hurled 12 innings of perfect baseball, a dozen innings in which he faced 36 Milwaukee batters and not one of them reached base until an error by Don Hoak permitted Felix Mantilla to reach first in the 13th inning?

"Yes," Haddix replied. "Sure, I knew it. And I knew I had a no hitter and perfect game from the third inning on. I couldn't remember walking a batter and I sure knew nobody had gotten a base hit off me."

Well, did he know that no pitcher, dating back to baseball's first big league season, in 1876, had ever pitched more than 27 batters in a row, let alone 36; that no one had pitched 13 hitless, let alone perfect innings, in all that time?

"You're kidding," Harvey said. "You mean nobody? Not even guys like Cy Young and Walter Johnson and Christy Mathewson or any of those old fellows? Well, what do you know about that?"

The genuinely modest little southpaw from Springfield, Ohio—he stands 5-9 and weighs 160 pounds — was slowly beginning to realize his accomplishment.

"I know I was really sharp," he admitted, "and it was one of my good games. But that doesn't change things. It's just another loss. Any defeat gives me a let-down feeling. I'd probably have been thrilled if we won. But you never feel good when you lose, no matter how you've pitched."

Only five pitchers including Haddix ever have accomplished more than nine innings of hitless ball in major league history — and only two have been winners.

In 1906, Brooklyn's Harry McIntire pitced 10 hitless innings against Pittsburgh, but the Pirates won 1-0 in 13.

In 1884, Brooklyn's Ed Kimber pitched 10 hitless innings in a scoreless duel wit Toledo in the old American Assn., in a game called in the 11th inning because of darkness.

Only two pitchers ever hurled 10-inning no-hitters and won. George Wiltse of the New ork Giants did it for a 1-0 decision over Philadelphia in 1908, and Fred Toney of Cincinnati, who had a double no-hit duel with Jim Vayghn of the Chicago Cubs for nine innings, won 1-0 in 1917.

ANOTHER YANK-A's TRADE — Players (from left) involved in the New York Yankee trade with the Kansas City Athletics were infielder Jerry Lumpe, pitchers Tom Sturdivant and Johnny Kucks for Kansas City pitcher Ralph Terry and infielder Hector Lopez. Lopez is expected to play third for the Yanks. Terry went to the A's from New York two years ago.

Yank Trade Sets Tongues Wagging

KANSAS CITY (AP)—"Well, I see the Yankees have recalled Ralph Terry after farming him out for a couple of seasons with the junior varsity," said the office cynic.

That jaundiced view is typical of many fans who look down their noses at the cozy trading record of the New York Yankees with the Kansas City Athletics. The swap of Hector Lopez and Terry by the A's for New York's infielder Jerry Lumpe and pitchers Tom Sturdivant and Johnny Kucks set these critical tongues wagging again yesterday.

And one of the most taciturn of the Athletics' coaches, Johnny Sain, called the turn with a few words prior to the swap.

"The Yankees," said Sain before he knew of the trade, "have made most of their deals for pitching with second division clubs. The reason is that they can afford to keep starting a pitcher even though he's getting beaten to death. If he has any brains and ability he'll finally learn something and he'll start getting the batters out. The Yankees have never been willing to wait."

Have the Yankees decided Terry, who came here in a deal two years ago at the age of 21, is ready for the big club? Frank Lane, Cleveland general manager and Yankee critic, said so.

Our office cynic says he hopes Sturdivant and Kucks do well here. But, he adds fatalistically, if they do, Casey Stengel will recall them.

Sain's assessment of the Yankee pitching plans comes from a man who pitched for them before being shunted to the A's in the third of 14 deals between the two clubs.

The Yankee pitching staff lists five former Athletics pitchers: Art Ditmar, Bobby Shantz, Rhyne Duren, Duke Maas and Terry. Two others, Virgil Trucks and Murry Dickson, were released this spring.

In addition, Don Larsen and Bob Turley served their apprenticeship with the Baltimore Orioles. Only Whitey Ford and rookie Jim Coates are products of the famed Yankee farm system. By contrast, only three players other than pitchers came from outside the system. They are Lopez, Enos Slaughter and rookie Cletis Boyer—all former A's.

Sain's words recall Stengel's remark when the Yanks traded for Ditmar, who had lost 22 games with the futil A's of 1956:

"You can be sure," said old Case, "he won't get a chance to lose 22 with us."

Midgets Invade Chicago

Take Me to Your Leader!

CHICAGO (AP) — A helicopter landed behind second base at Comiskey Park prior to the Chicago White Sox-Cleveland game Tuesday night and four midgets dressed as spacemen stepped out.

They went to the Sox dugout and captured Nellie Fox and Louis Aparicio, the "midgets" of the American League.

The only thing Gaedel was overheard to say was:

Vikings Edge Cranes in 11 Innings, 2-1

Harvey Sanders' triple followed by Tom Joner's single produced a 2-1 victory for Flint Northern, yesterday over Cranbrook. The game went 11 innings and was knotted at 1-1 in the top of the 11th.

Vikings scored in the 1st, then Cranes tied it up with a 4th frame tally. The game was a pitchers' battle all the way with Bob Hamilton the winner, on his 11th inning relief of starter Charley Gondol, who gave up only 4 hits, Cranes' total. Loser was Rog Rothenburger, who went the distance, also allowing four blows.

Cancer Claims Big Ed Walsh at Age of 78

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Hall of Fame pitcher Ed Walsh is dead at 78 of cancer and the spitball pitch has lost a great advocate.

Big Ed—they called him the "Ironman" in his prime—opposed the ban on the spitter as long as he lived. Spitball pitching was his forte and he used it in the early 1900s to win 40 games one season for the Chicago White Sox.

His biggest year was 1908. That's when he won 40 games. He pitched three complete games in succession for the Sox.

Of the members of the first NBA All-Star game in 1950, six were still active in the 1958-59 season.

Good Weather Could See New Classic Marks

Builder of Fastest Lap Car Is Prepared for Better Speeds

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — The man who built the fastest car in Saturday's 500-mile Memorial Day race predicted today "we're on the threshhold of 150 miles per hour laps" at the speedway.

Actually, said little Lujie Lesovsky of Los Angeles, such speeds were a possibility this year, but the weather was too cold and too windy.

"A lot of the fellows say no 150 mile speeds are possible with present equipment," said Lesovsky, "but on a perfect day I think it's possible."

Johnny Thomson won the pole position in Lesovsky's brand-new "side-wheeler," a low-slung roadster with its 4-cylinder engine laid over. His average speed of just under 146 m.p.h. topped the 33 starters.

It took Lesovsky about three months to build Thomson's race car. He left a big hole in the middle for the cockpit, which was designed and made after Thomson made a flying trip from Pennsylvania to Lesovsky's Los Angeles workshop to be measured.

"We took into consideration such things as heat, vibration and fatigue," said the man who has built race cars for 21 years. "We built the auto exactly for Thomson's needs and comfort."

Lesovsky said because he paid particular attention to Thomson's comfort and knows his man's reputation as a race driver, he believes the car's possibilities in the race "are greater than anyone else's."

Lesovsky predicted that "quite a few" cars next year may be patterned after Thomson's, but he said the racer of the future will have a smaller engine and the cars themselvse will be smaller and lighter.

Mayer Blanks Moose in City Softball Loop

Gene Mayer's shutout pitching for Big Bear Construction highlighted last night's City League softball card at Beaudette and Northside parks.

Mayer allowed only two hits as the Bears defeated the Moose, 2-0, in National League action at Beaudette. John Vinette led the winner's six-hit attack against Dick Vivian with two doubles and a single in three trips to the plate.

Harrison's Grill tallied twice in the 4th stanza to break a 2-2 tie and gain a 4-2 verdict over Buttercup Drive-In. Carl Pace delivered the big blow, a two-run single.

In National loop activity at Northside, Huron Bowl scored four times in the last two innings to trim Autos of Europe, 5-2, and Wright's Upholstery popped up with two runs in the 6th frame for a 3-2 conquest of Arro Realty.

Coe Upset in British Amateur

Captain of U. S. Walker Cup Team Beaten, 1-Up by Murray Lawrence

SANDWICH, England (UPI) — Murray Lawrence of England produced the greatest upset of the 1959 British Amateur Golf Championship today when he eliminated Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City, Okla., 1-up, in the third round.

Lawrence, almost unknown in British golf circles, surprised Coe by winning the first two holes and hit the turn with a 4-up lead.

Coe got three of those back. The lanky American then took a double-bogey 6 on the 13th that dropped him two behind. He won the 15th but then bowed out by halving the last three holes.

"I missed a lot of opportunities but Lawrence played some great golf, especially on the front nine," Coe admitted at the conclusion. "He was unscared and deserved to win."

Lieut. Bob Magee of Newton Highlands, Mass., turned back England's Fred Binns, 1-up, but Lieut. Bill Gibson of Louisville, Ky., lost to Michael Bonnalack, a member of Britain's Walker Cup team, on the 19th hole.

Other U. S. losers yesterday were Col. C. C. Kenworthy of Luverne, Ala., Peter Grant of Phoenix, Ariz., Ken Foster of San Francisco, Dr. Ernie Vandeweghe of Rockville Centre, N.Y., Sgt. Fred Stratman of Leon Grove, Calif., W. S. Brown of Salem, Mass., Jack Penrose of Miami, Fla., Lieut. R. L. Swansiger of Youngstown, Ohio, and Lieut. Tom Sutter of New Orleans.

Pearson Goes to Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—Albie Pearson, American League Rookie of the Year in 1958 for Washington and a favorite of the capital fans, will be on the opposite side of the field when the Senators play here tonight.

Pearson was obtained by the Orioles in exchange for Lenny Green, another outfielder. The deal was announced after last night's 6-5 victory by Baltimore over Washington.

Last year Pearson hit .275, led the Washington club in singles (113), doubles (25) and stolen bases (7) to edge Yankee pitcher Ryne Duren for rookie honors.

A groin injury and a touch of influenza set Pearson back this spring and he lost the centerfield job to power-hitting rookie Bob Allison. Pearson has played in only 24 games and is hitting .190.

Green likewise has been a part-time performer for the Orioles. He is hitting .292 for 24 at bats. Twice before he has had tryouts with the Orioles but finished last season with Rochester.

Yankee Coach Hit in Temple by Batted Ball

Houk, 39, regained consciousness while being treated in the dressing room. He was taken to a hospital, where X-rays determined the extent of the injury.

He is to remain under observation for two or three days and may be hospitalized for two or three weeks.

Another high school spring sports season is nearing the end of the line with only a few major events left on the docket.

Since state officials feel it is too much of a task to determine champions in baseball, the only remaining titles left to be decided are in tennis. Birmingham and Cranbrook will give Oakland County strong representation when the top netters collide June 5-6 at Kalamazoo College.

That opening weekend in June rings down the curtain on the athletic year for the preps.

League-wise there are still some interesting events on tap for those fans who hate to see it all end. St. Michael and OL St. Mary are participating in the big annual Parochial Track Championships at U. of Detroit today and tomorrow. The Eaglets will begin play Thursday in the Catholic baseball playoffs.

The busiest league from here in will be the Eastern Michigan. Three titles are yet to be settled. Port Huron will host the baseball tourney starting June 1 and the golf match the next day. Track teams will vie June 3 at East Detroit.

Several area schools have scattered events remaining in the various sports.

In the Wayne-Oakland golf meet yesterday, West Bloomfield took the title with a 349 total, followed by Holly 357, Bloomfield Hills and Northville 368, Brighton 374, Clarkston 406, Milford 439 and Clarenceville 452.

Medalist honors went to Mike Eastland of Northville with an 80 over the Birmingham Country Club course. Jon Shaw of West Bloomfield had an 84 with teammate Don Cole at 85.

In a track meet at Bloomfield Hills, the Barons defeated Oak Park 63-four-fifths to 45⅘ despite three victories by Charles Miles of Oak Park in the high and low hurdles and in the pole vault.

Grosse Pointe University School defeated Cranbrook in tennis 4-1 with Ron Rieder and Tom Roeper getting the lone Crane point in the number two doubles team.

Class B Preps Play '60 Title Tilt in Morning

Soo, Escanaba Ordered to Enter 'A' Tourney Bracket Next Year

The change was announced by the State High School Athletic Assn. today after a meeting of its representative council.

The basketball finals previously were staged with two games each in the afternoon and evening at Michigan State University.

Under the new setup, the B game will be at 10:30 a.m. The D and C finals will be in the afternoon. The A final will start at 8 p.m.

Charles E. Forsythe, state high school athletic director, said the change was voted to permit competing schools to obtain several hundred more tickets each for their followers.

Under another rule change, Sault Ste. Marie and Escanaba will have to meet Class A competition if they go into championship play.

The two schools competed in the B bracket last year. There is no other Class A competition in the Upper Peninsula.

It was decided any school with an enrollment of more than 900 pupils must meet Class A competition in the tournament regardless of geographic location. The rule of classification by enrollment previously had been waived for the two Upper Peninsula entries.

The association also voted to send a questionnaire to all high schools to sound out sentiment for establishing a date for the start of basketball practice.

Michigan 9 Beats Hurons in Finale

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A four-run inning iced a baseball game for Michigan yesterday as the Wolverines closed out their season with a 7-4 victory over Eastern Michigan.

Eastern collected eight hits off two Michigan pitchers but was able to score only once in the first inning and three times in the eighth. The Wolverines got nine hits off five Eastern pitchers, scoring once in the second, four times in the fourth and twice in the sixth.

Marcel Cerdan Jr. Will Test His Boxing Skill

CASABLANCA (AP)—Marcel Cerdan Jr., son of the former world middleweight champion who was killed in an airplane accident in 1951, leaves for Paris Wednesday to try his skill at boxing.

Young Cerdan, godson of French singer Edith Piaf and not yet 16, has never appeared in a boxing ring in public, but he wants to follow the career of his late father.

Indian Pitchers Also Hit

By The Associated Press

A winning blend of hitting and pitching has kept Cleveland on top in the American League pennant race, and when the hitters miss, the pitchers can do that job too.

Left-hander Don Ferrarese took care of the pitching and the punch for the Indians last night, combining with reliever Jim Perry for a four-hit shutout while driving two runs and scoring one with three consecutive doubles in a 3-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

That pushed Cleveland two games ahead of the second place White Sox and put Ferrarese in the record book as the fifth pitcher to hit three two-baggers in a nine-inning game—the first to do it in 36 years.

The White Sox second whitewashing in thre games left them just a half game ahead of Baltimore's third place Orioles, who defeated Washington 6-5. Detroit stayed on the move with a 9-5 victory over Kansas City, and Boston stopped its skid by pounding the New York Yankees deeper into the cellar 12-2.

Ferrarese, a month shy of his 30th birthday, had the only hit off Chicago right - hander Dick Donovan for four innings. Then he cracked the shutout duel in the fifth with his second double, scoring Woody Held, who had singled, and scoring himself when Jim Perisall followed with a double. Another single - double combination by Held and Ferrarese wrapped it up against Donovan (2-3) in the seventh.

Ferrarese (4-2) gave up only three hits and struck out four before calling it quits after issuing his sixth walk with one out in the seventh. Perry blanked the Sox the rest of the way on one hit, striking out three and walking none in his fourth save.

A three-run homer by Gene Woodling hauled the Orioles from behind in a four-run sixth inning, but a double by Willie Tasby and Bob Hale's pinch single scored the clincher in the eighth. Hector Brown (2-1), first of four pitchers, was the winner as Billy Loes barely managed to put away his eighth save.

The Senators had two men on with none out in the ninth when Loes relieved Billy O'Dell. A doubleplay gave Loes a quick edge, but Reno Bertoia and Bob Allison followed with RBI singles before Harmon Killebrew hit into a game-ending force out. Russ Kemmerer (4-4), who gave up a solo home run by Tasby in the fifth, lost his third in a row for the Senators, who took a 3-1 lead in the sixth on Faye Throneberry's two-run homer.

Right-hander Tom Brewer get up two runs in the first inning on three hits, then blanked the Yankees on four singles the rest of the way for his third victory of the season, second over New York. Bob Turley, 3-6, who now has lost three in a row for the first time since 1955, walked eight but gave up only five hits in his 6 2-3 innings. He had allowed just three hits, but trailed 3-2, before giving way in a five-run seventh.

RENDEZVOUS — Here's a suggested holiday affair for boating families. Hold a rendezvous at some spot on a lake, at the bend of a river, or other gathering spot. Several groups can join in fun and singing, adding zest to a boating holiday.

You're the Skipper

By JOHN BOHANNAN
Syndicated Boating Writer

Memorial Day, coming up this week-end, marks the beginning of the racing season for many yacht clubs, and everywhere boating becomes a colorful sport with flags flying and a spirit of companionship prevailing.

Some new boatmen may feel "left out," especially if they have not yet joined a club, and for those here's an answer — look up several friends who have boats and organize a rendezvous.

This can merely be a simple arrangement to meet at a certain time and place — at a bend in the river, in the lee of an island, or to make it extra easy, at the dock of one of those waterfront restaurants.

Or the rendezvous can be made more elaborate, with a contest to try out the navigating ability of the skippers and their mates. This will appeal particularly to those who have taken the excellent piloting course offered by the units of the United States Power Squadrons.

Just before leaving his home dock, each skipper receives sealed orders, giving a succession of courses to follow on the chart, all ending at the same destination. Each captain is asked to set the speed he wants to use for the entire trip, then give as exact an estimate as he can of his time of arrival.

The finish of the predicated log race can be made more exciting if the person charged with laying out the course problems for the various skippers allows them to select their own starting times to arrive at the destination exactly at noon. This makes for a photo finish if all are evenly matched.

Alternate plans can be announced if the weather turns bad, and in either case if the afternoon is to be a family picnic, keep the food simple and easy to serve.

On small lakes and rivers with point-to-point problems over known courses, the equipment can be reduced to bare essentials.

If the rendezvous proves a success, more skippers will want to join your group for the next event. It could even become a real club.

Questions and Answers

What are the correct flags to fly on a small runabout?

Fly your club burgee from the bow staff and the yachting ensign from the stern staff. If you are a Power Squadron member, the USPS ensign may be substituted at the stern.

What is the Coast Guard Auxiliary inspection, and how can I get one for my boat?

This inspection is voluntary on your part, and if your boat has all proper safety and navigation equipment, you will be given a decal for the windshield. Inquire at your boat club or yacht club for the name and address of the inspection officer of the nearest USCGA flotilla.

Is there any place where I can get help in forming an outboard boat club?

Teachers May File Bids for Outdoors School

LANSING — Applications are now being accepted by organizations sponsoring teachers who wish to attend the annual conservation scholarship school this summer.

Scholarships are provided by the Federated Garden Clubs, the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, Michigan United Conservation Clubs, Daughters of the American Revolution and other conservation-minded groups. Local chapters of these organizations select teachers to attend this school.

As in the past, each week-long session will be held at the Conservation Department's Higgins Lake training school. Inclusive dates for each school are July 12-18, July 26-August 1, August 9-15 and August 16-22.

Kalamazoo Holds 1st Outdoor Show

The 12th annual Kalamazoo Kennel club's all-breed dog show and obedience trial, June 6, will be the first outdoor dog show of the season for Michigan. That's what James Bobb, president, reported when he announced the show expected entries from 30 states, Mexico and Canada.

E. W. Averill of Birmingham is one of the judges, for the affair, set for County Center Building Recreation park, Kalamazoo. Entries close May 26, with Marion Webb, Auburn, Ind.

Raise New Family

A devoted pair of Canadian geese, back for the summer near the Otter lake home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lewis, have a new family—two bright yellow goslings. Mrs. Lewis says the geese have been returning to Otter lake each spring for years. Their last family was a 5-gosling array, two years ago.

The geese come to the Lewis lawn for bread and other food, Mrs. Lewis reports. "The gander never eats while the goose is eating. I think he's keeping watch to see that no enemy appears," Mrs. Lewis observed.

Yachts Take Part in Pan-Am Games

CHICAGO (NEA)—Yachting will play a major role for the first time when the Pan-American Games are held in Chicago, Aug. 27 - Sept. 7.

The increase in yachting competition is being made possible by United States yachtsmen who are providing boats for contestants from other nations. Three Olympic-type courses have been designated on Lake Michigan.

All five of the International Olympic classes-Stars, Dragons, 5.5 Meters, Finnmonotypes and Flying Dutchman — are to compete, in addition to Lightnings and Snipe classes.

Fishing Tackle Show

CHICAGO (UP) — The second annual national fishing tackle show will be held in Chicago Aug. 2 through Aug. 7. The show drew 945 jobbers in 1958.

Mrs. Nurenberg, Mary Novak and Florence Marsh of Pontiac, and Ann Novak of New York are vacationing at Miami Beach.

Game Experts Seek to Aid Preserves

LANSING (UP) — State game experts will ask the conservation commission next month for authority to give Michigan's 35 struggling shooting preserves a better break.

Proposed regulations would permit all preserves, public and private, to open at least three weeks before the Oct. 20 opening of the small game season. Currently, preserves can't open for business before the start of the season but don't have to shut down before March 15.

Game men also are likely to recommend a boost in the percentage of released birds that can be shot. Present regulations require that 50 per cent of the birds go free on adjoining lands, depending on the total released. These thereby become targets for other hunters.

Pike Is Cannibal

The walleye pike is a confirmed carnivor and its food consists chiefly of smaller fish, including other walleyes. Carp are bottom feeders. They root up the bottom of a lake or pond when they feed and keep the water roily so that plants can't grow. Brook trout feed mainly on insects, insect larvae and small fish.

Archery Ancient Art

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dr. Robert P. Elmer, one-time United States archery champion, is authority for the belief that the bow and arrow were first used by the extinct Aurignacian race about 25,000 years ago.

Rattler Gets Hooked

MCALSTER, Okla. (UP) — Mickey Davenport and a young companion, while walking in a game refuge with a rod and reel, saw something move in the grass. Mickey made a cast and hooked a four-foot rattlesnake.

The cave-salamander, confined to Sardinia and the mountains around the Gulf of Genoa, feeds on spiders and insects but will die if it swallows an ant.

Women Play Key Roles in U. S. Outdoors Life

By The Press Outdoors Editor

There's a lot of truth in a recent item from a national arms maker's public relations bureau regarding the part women play in the outdoors life of the country. The old Romans, it is pointed out, knew what they were doing when they named a patroness for the hunt. They selected Diana as goddess. The Greeks had a name for her, too. They had earlier called her Artemis.

It's a matter of history that the feminists have always played a vital part in the wresting of new lands from the wilderness in the nation's early days. When frontiers had disappeared, much of the contact with the hunt, for women, also was lost.

But today! There's a renaissance in outdoor sports that's been going on for some years and is now at a high level. Women have recently been among the finest shots at trap and skeet (remember Carol Mandel's feats in national skeet circles here several years ago?)

THAT HUNTER MAY BE A GAL!

The girls are also taking to hunting in a big way. They shoot alongside the males in quail, pheasant, grouse fields, even participate in rugged duck and goose shooting, and do all right at it, too. Many have a natural talent for hunting, shooting—and fishing.

And she is beginning to influence hunting equipment makers to provide special gear, like the new firearms, that offer models designed expressly for her smaller size. One such gun is the Winchester model 37 beginners' shotgun. There are also rifles and other shotguns in featherweight versions, all influenced by the feminine shooter's desires.

PRAIRIE DROUGHTS PERIL DUCK PRODUCTION

Current conditions affecting waterfowl breeding in the western Canadian prairie areas have been reported as "not very promising." An extreme drought has hit those areas, and many birds have been driven from customary breeding grounds. Reports from Manitoba and Saskatchewan show some 75 to 90 per cent of the normally producing potholes have dried up, or will be dry before nestings are completed. Only hopes for a change in outlook is for rains within a few days, and that birds can find satisfactory nesting spots further north.

A late carp spawning season has forced a change in dates for the annual Michigan Bow Hunters Assn. Carp Contest, this corner is advised by Vic Beresford. Contest is attracting attention from Ohio and Indiana bowmen, as well as the Michigan contingent, as entries may be made from outside the state.

MBH memberships may be obtained by sending $2 to MBH headquarters P.O. box 127, Flint. Many cash prizes and trophies are offered for men, women, boys and girls.

MICHIGAN ANGLERS WIN IN FLORIDA

Recent conclusion of the annual Metropolitan Miami (Fla.) fishing tournament found three Michigan angling enthusiasts among the winners. H. A. Mitzelfeld of Rochester, boated a 90-pound, 8-ounce sail to lead that class. Irene G. Kolowich, Detroit, took a 35-pound African pompano, and Craig Heath of Milan landed a winning 26-pound snook.

State Senate Approves U.P. Special Deer Bill

LANSING (UPI)—A special deer bill for the Upper Peninsula, defeated Monday night by a single vote, was revived and passed in the Senate yesterday.

The bill would permit any four persons in the Upper Peninsula to kill an extra deer of either sex even though they are not camping together in the sense that would qualify them for a camp license.

Sen. Philip Raboi (D-Iron Mountain), sponsor of the measure, said the conservation commission would not set "any deer" seasons in the Upper Peninsula if the bill is signed into law.

The bill was sent to the Senate, voted 31-1 for passage. It fell one vote short of passage on a 17-11 vote the day before.

Under present law, a camp deer is permitted but the hunters must be in a group.

Ask Congress to Ease Way for Refugees to Enter U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Eisenhower Administration has asked Congress again to increase immigration quotas and make it easier for Iron Curtain refugees to find haven in the United States.

The request was made by Attorney General William P. Rogers, who renewed proposals made by President Eisenhower in his State of the Union Message more than two years ago.

The proposals would increase immigration quotas by about 65,000 persons by basing them on the 1950 population of the United tSates rather than the 1920 census, and would permit from 10,000 to 68,000 refugees a year from Communist persecution enter the country on a "parole" basis.

Under the proposed quota changes, unused portions of quotas in one year could be used in the next year. Under existing law, unused quotas are not carried over.

The proposal would set up separate quota pools for Europe, Africa, Asia and the Pacific Ocean area. Unusued quotas would be distributed to aliens with a preferred status—those having certain special skills or close relatives in the United States—without regard to the country of birth within the area.

The proposal dealing with refugees would authorize the attorney general to parole into the United States refugees, selected by the secretary of state, who flee from communist persecution to any non-communist area. Parole status gives persons entering the country only temporary permission to remain.

Rogers said 10,000 persons could be paroled yearly under this provision and, upon a proclamation by the President, of an extraordinary refugee situation, as many as 68,000 could be admitted in a single year.

Another requested change would give the attorney general discretionary power to permit aliens paroled into the country to remain as permanent residents. Under the amendment, Congress would review and have the power to disapprove of a change in an alien status.

Rogers also again pressed a proposal to tighten up deportation procedures—long a sore point with the Justice Department.

He said that under the present system, aliens have been able to stall and delay deportation indefinitely by various appeals to the courts.

"Aliens clearly deportable, including many in the criminal classes, have been able to delay unduly their expulsion from this country," Rogers said.

He recommended that the law provide for a single review action of a deportation order to be filed in a Federal District Court. Under the tightening up procedure, an alien would have to challenge a deportation order in court within a six-month time limit.

Plane Zooms in House During Television Show

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—While several small children were watching television in Mrs. L. DeMarco's living room, a kind of un-guided missile hit the side of the house, smashed two windows and came to rest in the room.

It was a remote control model airplane which eluded radio signals, leaving the owner and controller standing confused in a field a half mile away. No one was hurt, and arrangements were made to take care of damages.

The National Geographic Society estimates that there are more than 200,000 different chemical by-products of bituminous coal, including material used in aspirin, phonograph records, laughing gas, vanilla ice cream, TNT, moth balls, embalming fluid and fingernail polish.

Air Conditioner Gives With a Special Scent

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP)—A skunk wandered into the Security Bank and was quickly disposed of by a broom-swinging custodian.

Unfortunately the animal got in some of his own scented licks before succumbing. He went down fighting next to an air conditioning inlet and perfumed the entire building.

Federal, state and local governments in the U.S. spent an estimated total of 131 billion dollars during the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1958, according to the Tax Foundation. This was an increase of seven billion dollars over fiscal 1957.

Little Change in Most Issues

NEW YORK (AP)—A hesitant stock market moved unevenly in fairly active early trading today.

Pivotal issues showed narrow changes mostly. The range to the plus and minus side was generally within a point.

Exceptions were few. Zenith rebounded another 3 points or so. International Business Machines added about 4 to its latest run-up. Du Pont was up about 2.

Chemicals were well ahead with gains of fractions to about a point but the trend was blurred in other groups. A number of leading issues showed no change.

Among those that did little or nothing were General Motors, Ford, Woolworth, Jones & Laughlin, American Telephone and International Telephone.

Despite some sharp increase in rail earnings there was slight action among the carriers, Baltimore & Ohio was ahead a fraction. Santa Fe eased.

The business and economic news was good. Retail, auto sales were up and a rising trend of construction contracts was reported.

Gains of around a point were made by American Tobacco, Eastman Kodak and Allied Chemical.

Slightly higher were Chrysler, Goodrich, Raytheon, Anaconda, Air Reduction, American Cyanamid, General Electric and Pfizer.

Down a bit were Texaco, Republic Steel, Douglas Aircraft, American Smelting, Bullard and Pan American World Airways.

Pontiac Starts 'Bonus Drive' Ad Campaign

Pontiac Motor Division is conducting a large advertising campaign inviting motorists to "bonus-drive a wide track Pontiac," it was announced by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Centered around Pontiac's now-famous wide track wheels the advertising is designed to impress buyers with the importance of driving one of the new models themselves to fully realize its many advantages.

The advertising program is scheduled for May 21 through July 31.

They're Also Brothers

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Five-year-old Patrick and Dennis McBride have known ever since they could talk that they were twins. After all, everybody called them "The Twins."

One day, though, the boys returned from school and exclaimed: "Mama! Do you know what we found out today? We're brothers!"

Futures Mart Suffers Setback

CHICAGO (AP)— Moderate selling weakened the grain futures market slightly all along the line today in early transactions on the Board of Trade.

Rye and soybeans again led the setbacks with losses running to major fractions of a cent within a few minutes. Brokers said however, there were no particular new bullish factors and that the pressure appeared to be mainly short selling, a hint that some traders were expecting prices to rally from present levels.

Wheat was ⅛ to ⅜ cent a bushel lower after about an hour, oats ⅛ to ⅜ lower, July 63¼; rye unchanged to ⅜ lower, July $1.20⅝; soybeans ¼ higher to ½ lower, July $2.27⅞.

'Stanley Yankus Amendment' Is Likely to Pass

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) predicts the "Stanley Yankus amendment" will become law if Congress passes any wheat legislation this year.

The amendment would remove a 30-acre restriction on wheat which can be grown for use on the same farm. It was tacked on a Senate wheat bill by Hart last week.

Troubles with such restructions recently resulted in Stanley Yankus, a Dowagiac, Mich., chicken farmer, selling his farm and moving to Australia in a glare of nationwide publicity.

Hart also told his weekly news conference yesterday he will support a Senate proposal to increase Internal Revenue personnel by 700 persons. Others, he smilingly remarked, would "help President Eisenhower balance the budget."

Several billion dollars in taxes are lost annually, he said, because Americans don't report about 25 billion in income.

Overturns on X-Way

DETROIT (AP)—A loaded tractor trailer driven by Donald B. Isbell, 35, of Muskegon, skidded and overturned Tuesday on the Willow Run Expressway in Allen Park. Isbell said another car forced him off the road. He was not injured but his load of 25,000 pounds of auto mufflers and tailpipes was scattered over the highway.

Ford Case Barb Still Sharp

State Tries Again to Free Temporary Jobless Checks

LANSING (AP)—The bell rang today for another round in the eight week legislative scrap over bringing Michigan under the federal temporary unemployment compensation program.

Meanwhile, 200,000 TUC checks averaging $37 each for 27,000 potential beneficiaries were stacked up awaiting a solution.

The focus in the dispute shifted yesterday to Democratic amendments advanced to counter some effects of the key point in the bill as far as Republicans are concerned.

With Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) spearheading, Republicans are seeking to prevent any future application of State Supreme Court doctrine laid down in the so-called Ford-Canton case last January.

The court awarded one million dollars in jobless pay benefits to 11,000 Detroit Area Ford Motor Co. employes idled as the result of a labor strike at Ford's forge plant in Canton, Ohio.

Smeekens contends the decision opens the way for labor unions to subsidize strikes out of unemployment compensation funds.

Sen. Garland B. Lane (D-Flint) said the Smeekens language goes too far, and offered proposed wording to limit its effect in these two ways:

1. Benefits would be allowed to workers idled by a strike at another plant of their employer if an impartial arbitrator found the dispute involved violation by the company of its contract or health or safety laws.

2. Benefits still could be paid if the employer was shown to have caused a lockout in a supplier plant.

The first provision, Lane said, was intended to exempt purely local controversies wholly unrelated to regional or national labor union policy or purposes, grievances over washroom facilities and the like.

Almost automatically, the Republican majority turned down Lane's proposal yesterday. Later, Sen. Lewis G. Christman (R-Ann Arbor) called for printing of the amendments and their reconsideration today.

Heretofore, Democrats have flatly opposed the Smeekens language without pressing for modification such as suggested by Lane, taking the position the bill should be limited to extending benefits.

A first TUC bill died in a House-Senate deadlock. The present bill is a second covering the same ground.

Promote Hazen to Sergeant Post

Will Head Detectives in Sheriff's Department, Irons Announces

An 11-year veteran of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, Leo R. Hazen, has been promoted to detective sergeant, Sheriff Frank W. Irons announced today.

Hazen, a resident of Wolverine Village, will assume duties as head of the detective bureau, filling the position left vacant when Donald Francis was named undersheriff earlier this year.

HAZEN

The new detective sergeant joined the department as a uniformed deputy on Jan. 1, 1948 and was promoted to desk sergeant in January, 1952.

A year later he became a plainclothes detective. He is a graduate of the FBI Police Course and attended Criminal Investigation Seminars at Michigan State University in East Lansing earlier this year.

A graduate of Walled Lake High School, Hazen is a World War II veteran, having served three years in the U.S. Marine Corps.

Solons Back Ford in Army Contract Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's 20-member congressional delegation is getting behind a Ford Motor Co. drive for a multimillion dollar Army contract to build 4,050 military trucks.

The contract, if landed by Ford, would provide about 1,300 new jobs in 16 Michigan localities, members of the delegation report.

Ford representatives told a meeting of the group yesterday that "a large majority of the manufacturing and all of the assembly would take place in Michigan" if Ford gets the contract.

They said Ford is the only Michigan-based bidder on the contract to provide 4,050 M151 quarter-ton vehicles.

Cities directly affected by the contract award would include Ann Arbor, Bay City, Berkley, Detroit, East Detroit, Ionia, Jackson, Livonia, Marshall, Marysville, Monroe, Muskegon, Oak Park, Van Dyke, Wyandotte and Ypsilanti.

Names of other bidders seeking the contract were not immediately available.

by Eager Little Girl Santa Claus Disabled

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Clarence Fiske was awarded $1,849 for injuries suffered while on duty as a department store Santa Claus last December.

Fiske told the court he was totally disabled from Dec. 25 to April 1 as the result of injuries received when a girl jumped into his lap.

Fire Damages Home

A fire at a house owned by Robert Elkins, of 3281 Coolidge St., Pontiac Township, caused an estimated $2,000 damage Tuesday afternoon.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies and members of the Avondale Fire Department reported the blaze was located in the kitchen of the house at 3283 Coolidge, directly behind Elkins' home.

Cause was listed as an overloaded wall socket. The kitchen was gutted and the rest of the structure suffered extensive smoke damage.

Business Notes

Five members of the Pontiac District Office of Prudential Insurance Company of America have received invitations to attend the company's 1959 District Agencies Leaders' Conference June 1-3 at the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, Canada.

Leading the delegation will be Clifford E. Maison, manager of the local office. The group will include agents Herbert Buchanan, Glen Harding, Chester Welch and staff manager William Banning. They were invited to the conference because of their outstanding sales accomplishments and service to policyholders in 1958, Maison said.

Blacktop Work Goes to Birmingham Firm

City Manager Walter K. Willman said actual cost of blacktopping and related work would be lower than the $105,882 figure.

Since the time A & A estimated blacktopping costs, 37 per cent of the proposed recapping work has been eliminated from this year's improvement program, Willman explained.

A & A will be asked to undertake blacktopping of the Pontiac General Hospital parking lot at the same unit price it is charging for other blacktopping, he said.

Paar Wants Only 3 Shows Each Week

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Paar understandably wants to do three midnight shows a week instead of five. NBC-TV understandably wants him to do five.

It may be settled any day now, with Eddie Albert and his wife Margo doing two a week from Hollywood and Paar three a week from New York. Then again, it may be settled quite differently.

In any event, Paar is what is known as an "invaluable property." During the past year he has become one of the most popular and unquestionably the most talked-about entertainers on television.

He probably has done more to rearrange the sleeping habits of more Americans than anything that has happened since pajamas superseded the old-fashioned night shirt.

This is no satisfaction to Paar because he has had to rearrange his own sleeping habits. He used to be an early-to-bed and early-to-rise man — and still would like to be. The chief reason why he has been taping some of his shows is that he hates to stay awake after midnight.

There isn't much point in a reporter interviewing Paar because five nights a week he interviews himself before several million people, candidly expressing what's on his mind.

I think the reason so many people stay up late watching the Paar show is that he keeps them breathlessly waiting to learn what he's going to say or do next — a characteristic he also likes in his guests.

He doesn't hesitate to show irritation or boredom or almost any other emotion on camera, and is not afraid of being outspokenly frank.

Paar takes his television job the way most people want to take their own daily jobs — and are afraid to — even to the extent of maneuvering for shorter working hours.

The number of civilians employed by the executive branch of the Federal government is now about 2.3 million. This is approximately the same as in fiscal 1947.

Measure Passes Senate

Seek More High Schools

LANSING (AP)—A bill to put every Michigan schoolchild in a high school district moved into the Senate today after clearing the House with unexpected ease.

Only moderate debate led up to the 66-36 vote of approval yesterday for what Rep. Robert E. Waldron (R-Grosse Pointe) called "one of the most far-reaching" bills of the year.

The bill would ablish the 1,828 primary school districts that don't offer education beyond the eighth grade and give them three years to form their own high school district or join an existing one. House amendments would put the so-called K-12 plan in full operation by the fall of 1962.

Seventy-seven per cent of Michigan's 2,375 school districts — but only 225,000 of its 1½ million public school children — would be affected.

Opponents claimed the program would set up the threat of school dictatorship by the state superintendent of public instruction, who would exercise supervisory power over the redistricting program.

The Michigan Farm Bureau, Michigan State Grange, Assn. for Rural Education and the Michigan Townships Assn. led a fight against the proposal. The climax came at a capitol hearing March 18 that drew some 650 citizens from across the lower peninsula.

Supporters argued stepped-up consolidation would assure every school child access to a high school education in his home district, ending the frustrating searches of some districts for facilities in other areas.

They also contend it would pave the way for a larger curriculum, give primary district voters a voice in running high schools their children attend, and save the state four million dollars annually in tuition costs.

Among the backers are The Michigan Education Assn., The Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the Michigan Assn. of School Boards.

Waldron quoted a letter from John W. Thomas, Flint attorney who represents 150 school districts in 24 counties, complaining the bill would "absolutely freeze" high school district boundaries.

County school boards would supervise the reorganization, with the superintendent of public instruction and the state board of education exercising final authority. Protesting districts could appeal.

Rep. Carroll Newton (R-Delton) lost a bid to tack on an amendment abolishing county school boards and county school superintendents. He said the plan would make boards and superintendents superfluous.

Also passed by nearly 3-1 margins were bills to give the state elections director and secretary of state supervisory power over school elections. They would cost the state about $20,000 a year for two more elections supervisors.

Said Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery:

"As it is now, we have more than a few cases of school boards who supervise their own elections, then retire behind closed doors to count the votes. This just shouldn't be."

Flu Bug in Australia; Graham Has It, Too

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Billy Graham went to bed with a cold today, just like a lot of Australians.

The American evangelist arrived by plane from Adelaide, where he had been holding revival meetings. He planned to stay in bed at his hotel all day, then sail tonight for Sydney. He takes a place there May 31 for Europe.

Australia has been hard hit by an epidemic of virus influenza for the past month.

Women Want Their Undies Canned for Sale

ATLANTIC CITY N.J (AP)—A marketing official says women go more for canned undies than those offered in flat transparent packages.

Donald Pionier of the Canco Product Marketing Division of the American Can Co. reported Tuesday on the results of a five week test in four Eastern supermarkets.

He told the Supermarket Institute that four different clothing articles sealed in opaque and rigid paper containers outsold those in flat packs by more than 2-1. The items were women's panties, brassieres, children's briefs and bobby sox.

Kentucky Vote Slaps Chandler

His Choice Trails at Half Way Point in Race for Dem Nomination

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Bert T. Combs had the door almost closed on Gov. A. B. Chandler's 1960 presidential hopes today by piling up a big lead for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Chandler's choice, Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield, was trailing by 31,842 votes with nearly half of the state's 3,784 precincts tabulated.

Waterfield said it was still a race, claiming he was ahead in the rural areas in Tuesday's election. Few ballots had been counted in his home area in extreme western Kentucky.

Offsetting this, however, was the fact that tabulations was equally slow in Combs' native eastern Kentucky hills.

It was one of the bitterest Democratic primaries in years. In many ways it resembled 16 years ago when Kentucky, normally in the Democratic corner, elected a Republican governor after a sharp split in the Democratic primary.

But a Combs victory could throw the votes behind Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, a close friend of former Sen. Earle C. Clements, chief sponsor of Combs.

With 1,724 of 3,784 precincts reporting, the vote was:

Combs, 168,979; Waterfield, 137,137.

Wyatt 145,929; J. B. Wells Jr., 32,536.

Both Combs and Waterfield lost previous bids for the gubernatorial nomination — Combs to Chandler in 1955 and Waterfield to Clements in 1947.

Although only 824 precincts had been counted in the Republican race for governor, Robsion — had rolled up a lopsided lead over two opponents.

Merman May Make Another Movie Soon

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I had a ball at Ethel Merman's "Gypsy" opening—spelled "bawl." I kept dabbing at my eyes . . . and now it appears that Miss Merman may be heading back to Hollywood eventually to film one of the great tear-wrenchers of modern times.

MGM's president Sol Siegel wants to film the tear-stained tale of Gypsy Rose Lee and her mother . . . and naturally, "The Merm" isn't any more eager to star in it than Dick Nixon is to send his laundry out from 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

WILSON

David Niven, Merle Oberon, Henry Fonda, Nancy Sinatra, Benay Venuta, Paulette Goddard, Gloria Vanderbilt Lumet and Mitzi Gaynor were just a few of the Slobber Set who got misty-eyed at the tender passages. Gypsy Rose Lee didn't stay tearful very long.

"I just told Ethel to drink a lot of milk and stay healthy — she's going to be my annuity," announced Gypsy as she breezed out.

(My favorite line in the show came when Ethel, spurning a fourth marriage, said, "After three husbands, it takes a lot of butter to get you back into the frying pan.")

ETHEL

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Erin O'Brien — who's having a trial separation from her husband — had a dinner date with comedy writer Jay Burton . . . The Steve Lawrences (Eydie Gorme) are expecting.

Van Cliburn says he may visit Moscow on his European concert tour . . . Errol Flynn didn't like the way Castro's aides were ignoring him, moved from Havana to Jamaica . . . Greta Garbo's new close friend: Sessue Hayakawa.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Some men need two women in their lives — a secretary to take things down and a wife to pick things up . . . That's earl, brother.

Dreary Mass of Reruns to Pack Summer Video

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—There is a joke currently making the television rounds which goes like this:

QUESTION — Why is summer TV like a bunch of radishes?

ANSWER — Because it's full of repeats.

It isn't much of a joke, but it does contain a large chew of truth. This summer TV will cast up its past product with the relentless monotony of a dyspeptic idiot.

It will be a summer for slummers — a hand-me-down season for those in the market for the shopworn.

I'd need a roadside billboard to list all the repeats, but here's a wee sample: December Bride, Wagon Train, Cheyenne, Sugarfoot, Steve Canyon, Gunsmoke, Have Gun — Will Travel, Maverick, Buckskin, Loretta Young, Ellery Queen, Walt Disney Presents, Donna Reed, Ozzie and Harriet, Lassie, Yancy Derringer, The Millionaire, This Is Your Life, You Asked For It (and why did you?).

When Steve Allen goes off June 8, he'll be spelled by repeats of Suspicion, Danny Thomas will give way to western repeats and there's a good chance that a nighttime slot will be arranged for repeats of I Love Lucy repeats, which is about as repetitious as you can get.

Our TV cup, as you can see, will rerunneth over.

As nearly as I can determine there will be only a sprinkling of new shows this summer: NBC-TV's summer Chevy Show, Perry Presents, Who Pays? and 21 Beacon St.; CBS-TV's Andy Williams Show and Brenner; and ABC-TV's Music for a Summer Night and an evening version of Pantomime Quiz.

There will be a few standard mint offerings around: the usual game shows, Ed Sullivan, the U.S. Steel Hour, Dave King, Jimmie Rodgers, Dick Clark, Lawrence Welk, Peck's Bad Girl and Markham. That's about it.

This sort of thing is an obvious disservice to the TV set owner, but I won't dwell on that — after all, who cares for him? The most curious aspect of the whole business, however, is the sponsor's angle.

When I look at repeat shows, I get the feeling the company backing the show is a dull, uncreative outfit whose product—soap, cigarettes, autos — is just about like everyone else's.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: One of the series that NBC-TV will throw against CBS-TV's Ed Sullivan next season is a series of high-budgeted live and taped dramas which will originate in New York.

NBC-TV is currently negotiating with such directors as Robert Mulligan, Del Mann, Alex Segal and Robert Stevens to helm the series which will be called Sunday Showcase.

Tantalum is such a rare metal that it usually is weighed in ounces or pounds rather than in tons.

Boating Career Over After 30-Minute Dunk

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Carl Milbourn's boating career lasted less than an hour. In fact, he never got his new outboard motor started.

While trying to start it, the boat drifted toward a barge on the St. Louis riverfront. A man on the barge threw him a rope as the boat was swept under the barge. Milbourn, fished out of the water 30 minutes later, said: "I think I've had enough."

Plastic House Proves Good Shelter for Chicks

The Robinson Substation built the house for chickens to determine its effect on poultry and egg production.

If the experiment is successful, the economical construction will allow more people to enter the poultry business, the substation reported.

Prize for Tax Workers Are Tools of the Trade

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—In one day, 46 Internal Revenue Service workers opened 76,000 income tax letters. C. W. Glotzbach, district director, was so pleased that he bought—out of his own pocket—prizes for the four top letter openers.

The prizes were leather-handled letter openers.

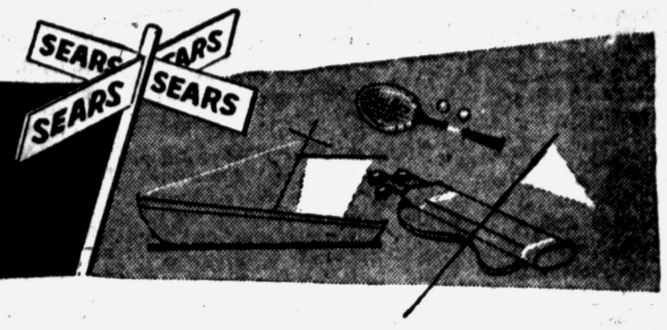

The Panama Canal was opened for service in 1914.
