Thant Urges U.N.-Imposed Truce

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General U Thant proposed today that the U.N. Security Council issue a binding order for an Indian-Pakistani cease-fire and that the order be backed by the threat of penalties if the two governments fail to comply.

He also suggested that the council request the heads of the Indian and Pakistani governments to hold peace talks in a third country, with the assistance of a U.N. committee.

Only once in the 20-year history of the United Nations has the council authorized the possible use of economic and military sanctions. This was in the war between Israel and the Arab countries in 1948.

Thant proposed that the council declare that failure to comply with a new cease-fire order would demonstrate the existence of a breach of peace within the meaning of Article 39 of the U.N. Charter.

★ ★ ★

That article said that if a breach of peace exists the council shall decide what measures should be taken either in the field of economic boycotts or by actual use of air, sea and land forces to obatin compliance.

Thant delivered his personal report to the 11-nation Security Council 24 hours after his return from an unsuccessful effort to halt the fighting.

He made no mention of the new complication resulting from Red China's ultimatum demanding withdrawal of Indian forces from the Chinese border within three days.

Indian Minister of Education Mahomedali Currim Chagla, speaking after Thant, referred briefly to the Chinese threat.

"We are now threatened by invasion from China," he declared, adding that Pakistan is using U.S.-supplied munitions against India instead of for defense against the Chinese Communists.

He charged that Pakistan "wants China to stab us in the back."

Thant acknowledged that he had been unable to get agreement of India's Lal Bahadur Shastri and Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan for a cease-fire and declared that the situation was so grave it threatens world peace.

★ ★ ★

It would be inconceivable, he said, for the council to wash its hands of the issue despite his failure.

Jet Crashes; '30 Dead'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Pan American World Airways jet with 30 persons aboard slammed into the side of a mountain today on the small island of Montserrat in the British West Indies.

★ ★ ★

Ground rescue parties reported no survivors.

The Boeing 707 crashed into a mountain on the south side of the island, the Coast Guard in Miami reported. The wreckage still was burning when searchers reached it hours later.

The Coast Guard commander for the Greater Antilles reports that ground parties encountered difficulty in reaching the scene because of terrain and weather," a spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

The reference to the weather was not clear, but the Weather Bureau in Miami said scattered thundershowers were reported throughout the Leeward Islands in the Lesser Antilles this morning.

TOLD STATION

The administrator of Montserrat, Dennis Gibbs, told radio station WINS in New York by telephone that "it appears there are no survivors."

Montserrat, which means saw-toothed mountains in Spanish, is about 30 miles southwest of Antigua, in the chain of islands which form the easter border between the Caribbean and Atlantic.

The plane, one of Pan American's Clipper flights, was last heard from at 6:25 a.m., 10 minutes before it was due to land at Antigua, an airline spokesman in New York said.

To Defend Territory, Says Shastri

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Faced by an ultimatum from Red China, Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri declared today India will fight to defend its territorial integrity.

Replying in Parliament to Peking's demand that India pull out of a disputed Himalayan border area within three days, Shastri said India did not want to give Red China "any pretext" to attack and proposed that the two countries make a joint investigation of the border. Peking has rejected similar approaches in the past.

A spokesman for Shastri's Congress party said the prime minister also had contacted the big powers and members of the U.N. Security Council about China's ultimatum.

Shastri told top political aides it appeared Red China and Pakistan had been consulting on action against India from the beginning, the spokesman added.

★ ★ ★

On the war front, the Indian Defense Ministry reported heavy fighting in progress on the Sialkot sector in the far north. It described Pakistani defenses around Sialkot as Pakistan's Maginot Line.

MOPPING UP

About 80 miles south of Sialkot on the Lahore front, Indian troops were mopping up and engaged in vigorous patroling, the ministry announcement said.

Shastri told Parliament a joint investigation should take place as soon as possible to determine where Indian border posts are. Red China claims they are on its territory.

The offer was similar to other Indian proposals for settling the

Courthouse Wing Costs Blossom to $2.25 Million

Oakland County's already tight monetary situation was squeezed even more yesterday when the estimated cost for a new courthouse wing was upped to $2.25 million from $1.6 million.

A further complication is that rising construction costs might further inflate the total by the time bids go out next year.

Included in the revised cost estimate presented yesterday to the buildings and grounds committee of the County Board of Supervisors was an added $270,000 for 9,000 square feet of basement area not in the original plan.

The other major factor was $200,000 for remodeling the courthouse tower made necessary by relocation of some departments in the new wing.

Also included in cost estimates are a $102,700 architect's fee and $40,000 for site work.

★ ★ ★

The county had planned on $2.6 million in its building fund by 1968 including nearly $1 million from the sale of the TB Sanatorium.

ALREADY REDUCED

But this amount has already been reduced to $2.45 million by the transfer of $150,000 from the building fund to meet salary requirements in the 1966 budget.

Besides the courthouse project, the county has also committed $500,000 for the South Oakland Health Center.

Together, these projects exceed funds by $300,000.

★ ★ ★

Fires Sweep N. California; Winds Cause New Havoc

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A pall of smoke hung over much of Northern California today—as uncontrolled fires, pushed by high winds, crackled through tinder-dry forests, brush and grasslands.

The last rains fell six months ago, and the winds and low humidity made every new fire a potential disaster.

Two men were burned, one seriously, in fighting a blaze that ate its way into the outskirts of Vacaville, between San Francisco and Sacramento. Twenty homes were destroyed in Vacaville and damage was estimated there at $500,000.

Another blaze threatened Middleton, 100 miles south of San Francisco in Lake County. Another blaze caused the closing of a major interstate highway over the Sierra.

★ ★ ★

Winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour — with gusts up to 100 miles an hour — were reported throughout the fire area which stretched from extreme northern counties to south of the San Francisco Bay area and the San Joaquin Valley in the central part of the state.

TOPPLE LINES

Wind gusts toppled telephone and power lines, causing new fires and hampering communications.

In Richmond, across the Bay from San Francisco, the Daily Richmond Independent reported its newspaper plant had been without power since midnight.

Smoke from fires in Solano and Yolo counties where Vacaville, Fairfield and Vallejo are located, hung over San Francisco, some 50 miles away.

In Vacaville, Fire Chief Warren Hughes said the danger had abated this morning. But his men still bulldozed fire lines and cleared away brush.

Suit Seeking to Oust Chief of Insurance

LANSING (AP) — Ouster of State Insurance Commissioner Allen Mayerson for alleged conflict of interest was demanded today in a suit filed in the State Court of Appeals by a Detroit attorney.

The removal action was sought by Elliott Perlman, who said he was acting as a private citizen in seeking to force Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley to act.

Perlman said Mayerson is violating a state law which precludes the commissioner from engaging actively or inactively in the management of any company.

Mayerson concedes that he does actuarial work for an eastern insurance company, but says the firm does no business in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Contending that Mayerson nevertheless is violating state law, Perlman asked the Appeals Court to issue an order compelling the attorney general to act.

Quakes Rock Stormy Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Five earthquakes shook Tokyo and areas of northern and central Japan last night and early today as Typhoon Trix roared ashore on Central Honshu Island.

★ ★ ★

The typhoon, packing 111-mile-per-hour center winds and loaded with rain, was described as the year's most powerful storm.

★ ★ ★

The quakes occurred between 6 p.m. yesterday and 1:22 a.m. today. There were no reports that they had caused casualties or damage, although the latest one was quite a jolt and lasted more than a minute.

Program Due This Fall

Civilians to Get GI-Held Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new program set in motion by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara may lead eventually to wholesale shifts of civilians into noncombat jobs now handled by men in uniform.

The result would be a reduction of U.S. military manpower, now planned to reach close to 3 million, and a corresponding reduction in reliance on the draft to fill the ranks.

A top level manpower utilization board will convene this fall to monitor the first phase of the new program and to develop plans for enlargement of it in subsequent years.

McNamara told a news conference yesterday that in its initial phase the program calls for hiring some 60,000 civilians during 1966 to perform administrative, clerical, supply and maintenance, medical, transportation and similar jobs now performed by military personnel.

"This will release some 75,000 officers and enlisted men who are now required for those duties," McNamara said.

★ ★ ★

He added: "This program will not only permit acceleration of our military buildup but it will also enable us to decrease the number of draftees who would otherwise be required."

TAKE 18 MONTHS

He estimated that the drop of about 75,000 in inductions would span perhaps 18 months' time.

The draft recently was sharply turned upward, from about 17,000 men a month to a soon-to-be-achieved 35,000 a month, to help attain a 340,000-increase in the regular forces because of the war in Viet Nam.

McNamara explained that what he called the saving of 15,000 men is made possible by substituting 60,000 civilians who will hold their jobs for a long time in place of military men who would normally be expected to serve relatively short tours of duty and who would have to be replaced.

★ ★ ★

Authorities figure that even though the civilians may be expected to draw higher pay than the military men they replace, the operation will save money in the long run.

TRAINED ONCE

This, they said, is because civilians will have to be trained only one time, whereas military men whose tours run out have to be supplanted by other men who must go through the expen-

Chrysler Plant Move Is Due

Townsend, Romney Meet; Decision Final

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. president Lynn Townsend yesterday confirmed reports that his firm plans to move its machine shop operations from Highland Park to another location outside Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Townsend, after a meeting with Gov. George Romney, said no decision had been made where the plant would move but said the plant needs to be in a more central location in the Midwest.

About 3,500 jobs will be affected by the move.

The governor, who had sought the meeting met with Townsend for more than two hours.

★ ★ ★

Townsend told a news conference that many factors led Chrysler to the conclusion that the machine shop unit should be moved. He said seven or eight sites, including Maumee, Ohio, are under consideration. He declined to list the others.

EXPANSION NEEDED

Townsend said about 60 per cent of Chrysler's floor space is located in Michigan but that nationwide expansion is needed.

"The recent and future growth of our company has put a great strain on the capacities on our Highland Park facilities," he said.

Both Romney and Townsend told newsmen there was nothing adverse in Michigan's economic climate which had led to the decision to move the plant.

Warm but Wet Forecast for Area This Weekend

Summery temperatures will continue over the weekend with skies partly cloudy and dripping with rain.

Scattered showers or thunderstorms are predicted for late today and tonight with lows 65 to 72.

Occasional showers may be expected tomorrow with temperatures warmer, the high rising to 70 to 78.

A low of 50 was recorded at 2 a.m. today. The mercury had climbed to 82 by 2 p.m.

St. Joseph Hospital Is Held Up

Three men in derby hats and dark glasses held up the main billing office of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital last night and escaped with $2,900.

★ ★ ★

Hospital Controller Louis Kogan said both checks and cash were taken after two hospital employes were forced at gunpoint to lead them to a safe.

The men, described as neatly dressed and in their late 20's, first came into the lobby about 8:30 p.m. and asked about a friend they said was in the hospital, according to employes.

They then left, returning at 10 p.m.

★ ★ ★

"Get that headset off and do as I tell you," switchboard operator Gladys Meyers said she was told.

CARRIED GUNS

One of the men carried a 45 caliber revolver and another displayed a .38 according to a witness.

The three then demanded that Mrs. Meyers, of 3471 S. Rochester, Avon Township, and admitting clerk Alden Ryan show them "where the money is."

Ryan, of 115 State, showed the men a nearby cash register.

They ignored the register and said they wanted "the big money," he told police.

FORCED INTO OFFICE

Ryan was forced into an adjoining office along with bookkeeper Mrs. Josephine Genez.

Mrs. Genez, of 969 Lakeview, Waterford Township, was ordered to "get the money." She told police she balked at first, then turned over $2,900 in checks and paper money from an open safe.

The men took the money and left.

Kogan said Mrs. Meyers reported seeing the men at the hospital Wednesday night, some 24 hours before the holdup.

FIRST IN MEMORY

Police are investigating the robbery, said by Kogan to be the first at St. Joseph Mercy in the memory of hospital officials.

Hamlin Names 7-Man Group

Will Study Problems of Law Enforcement

A seven-member committee to study law enforcement problems in Oakland County was appointed yesterday by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

★ ★ ★

Named as chairman of the group was John B. Osgood, a Royal Oak attorney and member of the board of supervisors.

Also appointed to conduct the in-depth study suggested by Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore were two other attorneys, three police officials and the county prosecutor.

They are Robert A. Frye of Bloomfield Hills and John S. Slavens of Pleasant Ridge, both attorneys and both members of the board of supervisors.

★ ★ ★

Others are Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons, Pontiac Police Chief William Hanger, Birmingham Police Chief Ralph Moxley and Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson.

MAXIMUM EFFICIENCY

Purpose of the study will be to determine how police can perform their duties at maximum efficiency in the face of present restrictive laws.

In suggesting the study Sept. 1 to the ways and means committee of the board of supervisors, Moore cited the rising crime rate and said that the public is being left more and more unprotected.

He pointed out that the best way to protect the public is by aiding police enforcement officers.

★ ★ ★

Hamlin, who may later increase the committee to the maximum nine-member group authorized by the ways and means committee, will present the seven appointees at Monday's meeting of the board of supervisors for confirmation.

ASSEMBLE SOON

Osgood said that if the appointments are confirmed Monday, he hopes to assemble the committee before the end of this month to begin the study.

Planes Bomb Bridge in Viet Peace Zone

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A flight of planes bombed a bridge in the demilitarized zone dividing South and North Viet Nam, and a U.S. spokesman said today "it is believed" the planes involved were American.

He said the bombing Thursday night could be "assumed to be in error."

★ ★ ★

"If an investigation shows that the bombs hit in the demilitarized zone, this is clearly a departure from the rules. We have not previously struck the zone," he said.

The spokesman said in a statement:

"Initial reports from Vietnamese sources indicate that about 9 p.m. yesterday aircraft bombed the north end of the bridge crossing Ben Hai River on Highway 1 in the demilitarized zone. Further reports from the Vietnamese army indicate that there were three Vietnamese killed on the north end of the bridge. The bridge was reported destroyed.

ALLEGATIONS

"Observers allege the aircraft were U.S. An investigation is under way at this time but it is believed that the aircraft were U.S."

The bridge is about 80 miles north of Da Nang, the big U.S. airbase 380 miles north of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

The bridge straddles Route 1 and crosses the Ben Hai River where South and North Viet Nam meet.

It was not known if the dead were North or South Vietnamese but since they were at the north end of the structure it was belived they were North Vietnamese. About 40 planes made the attack, Vietnamese sources said. One informant said flares were dropped before the attack.

★ ★ ★

Troops of South and North Viet Nam are assigned to guard duty at the bridge. The three-nation control commission began an immediate investigation. India, Canada and Poland compose the commission.

In other air activity, two U.S. Air Force jets were shot down in North Viet Nam by automatic weapons fire during a six-plane F105 Thunderchief raid Thursday 80 miles northwest of Hanoi, a U.S. military spokesman reported. The pilots were listed as missing. The downings brought to 92 the number of U.S. planes shot down since air strikes began last February, the spokesman said.

County GOP Puts Woman in PR Post

A Beverly Hills woman has been named public relations director for the Oakland County Republican Committee, County Chairman Dale A. Feet announced today.

Appointed to the position was Mrs. Roderick H. Spann, 31725 Topper, state chairman of the Volunteers for Peterson in Elly Peterson's 1964 campaign for the U.S. Senate.

★ ★ ★

After coming to the area from San Francisco in 1962, she organized and directed a speakers bureau for the League of Women Voters in the campaign for the new constitution.

She was a member of the publicity committee for the Citizens Non-Partisan Committee for the New Constitution.

She was coordinator of speakers for the forum on county home rule produced by the Mott Center for Community Affairs at Oakland University last April.

Widen Hunt for Fugitive, Held Woman

ORRINGTON, Maine (AP) — A decorated Korean War veteran who escaped from a mental hospital and the socially prominent woman he allegedly abducted from her home were sought today in one of Maine's greatest manhunts.

Gov. John H. Reed ordered all law enforcement agencies to put their fullest resources into the search for Roger R. Haller, 31, of Bangor, and Lynne P. McGinn, 29, wife of a physician.

★ ★ ★

Police said Haller, armed with a pistol and rifle, forced the tall, slender blonde mother to drive away with him Thursday night in Dr. John F. McGinn's station wagon from their home in this Bangor suburb.

About 20 medical associates of Dr. McGinn joined the manhunt as volunteers.

AID SEARCH

They, with 100 law enforcement officers, were aided from the air by National Guard helicopters and a State Fish and Game Department plane.

County Atty. Howard M. Foley said Haller served with the Army's Special Forces in the Korean War and won the Silver Star and Purple Heart.

Haller broke out of Bangor State Hospital last Saturday with a companion who later surrendered. Haller was committed, after indictment on a bad check charge, on request of his lawyer, who said today he thinks "there's something wrong with him."

The attorney, James W. Lynch, added that he doesn't think Haller is insane.

Chlorine-Filled Barge Found

Lethal Cargo Is Safe; Salvage Plans Made

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Army engineers started making plans today to raise a barge containing lethal chlorine from the bottom of the muddy Mississippi River. It sank during Hurricane Betsy a week ago.

★ ★ ★

"The barge is safe and there is no danger of any kind," said Col. Thomas J. Bowen, Army district engineer in New Orleans.

The barge was located last night after a five-day search —ordered by President Johnson. It is in 60 feet of water near the Louisiana State University campus south of Baton Rouge.

Authorities scheduled a mid-morning briefing session with Gov. John J. McKeithen to discuss salvage operations.

Times Strike Brings Halt at 7 NY Papers

NEW YORK (UPI) — A strike against the New York Times and a retaliatory shutdown by other publishers today halted production of seven of the city's eight major newspapers.

New York's three morning newspapers failed to publish, and all but one of five afternoon papers were unable to meet today's early edition deadlines.

As the strike of 2,200 Times editorial and clerical workers went into its second day, only the afternoon New York Post was able to publish. About 17,000 employes of other newspapers were out of work.

Contract negotiations between the Times and the striking American Newspaper Guild (ANG) recessed early today, and were scheduled to resume a 11 a.m. EDT.

★ ★ ★

Prospects that settlement could be reached in time to publish today's late afternoon editions were considered remote.

JOB SECURITY

The key issue in the deadlock was union demands for job security protection against the effects of automation and possible future newspaper mergers.

★ ★ ★

The strike against the Times led to the retaliatory shutdown of the other six newspapers in a publishers' mutual aid pact. The Post is not member to the agreement.

In Northern Rockies, Plains States

Late Summer Snowstorm Tapers Off

By the Associated Press

A late summer snowstorm, with winter's bitter elements of blowing and drifting snow, cold, ice and blustery winds, diminished across wide areas in the northern and central Rockies and adjacent Plains states today.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said that snow tapered off in most areas, except in some mountain sections, during the early morning. Strong winds continued in the storm belt and in most other western sections of the nation. But forecasters said the worst of the wintry weather appeared ended. Clear skies were reported in Montana for the first time in a week.

★ ★ ★

The Weather Bureau said the storm was one of the worst in history for September. The wintry blasts struck in the fading days of summer and temperatures in the teens in some areas were in contrast to record-breaking heat in the southern Plains and south central states. The summer season ends at 1:06 a.m. EST Sept. 23.

★ ★ ★

The storm pounded areas in Montana, Wyoming, the Dakotas and Nebraska. Strong winds swept through the warm air across the southern Rockies and into a rain belt in Midwest areas.

NEAR BORDER

Snow piled up to 18 inches in the Whitefish, Mont., area near the Canadian border. The snow blanket measured 15 inches at Crawford, in western Nebraska, a record snowfall for the state in September.

At least five persons were killed in traffic accidents, three in Montana and two in Wyoming, on ice-covered highways.

★ ★ ★

Blowing snow caused four-foot drifts in central Montana. The Trail Ridge Highway, the world's highest continuous motor vehicle route in the Rocky Mountain National Park 80 miles northwest of Denver, was closed by drifting and ice glaze.

★ ★ ★

Temperatures dropped sharply as the storm spread southward through the central and northern Rockies. The mercury was in the teens and 20s in parts of the wintry storm belt and freezing in other sections.

As the storm front moved across northeastern New Mexico Thursday, the mercury at Raton dropped from 82 to 40 in six hours and from 92 to 51 at Tucumcari. Winds of 83 m.p.h. lashed Zuni, N.M. The cold air also spread into Gage, Okla., where the mercury soared to 103 Thursday.

The heavy snow and cold damaged some crops. The mercury dropped to 30 at Denver today, a record low for Sept. 17. John Orcut, Colorado agriculture commissioner, said unharvested crops were threatened by the cold weather. He said damage to crops could amount to "millions of dollars."

★ ★ ★

Thundershowers and drizzle continued in advance of the cold air from eastern Kansas to Minnesota. Temperatures were in the 30s in most of the Dakotas Thursday and dropped to freezing today.

Despite the heavy snow on the mountain passes in Yellowstone National Park, tourists by the hundreds entered the nation's oldest park after the east gate was opened late Thursday. Snow chains were required for motorists on Sylvan Pass and Dunraven Pass where snow was six inches or more deep.

NEAR FREEZING

In Kansas the mercury dropped to near freezing at Goodland, in the northwest, and the reading at Chanute in the southeast was 74.

In other parts of the nation, heavy rain splashed areas along the Middle Atlantic Coast. More than two inches fell at Salisbury, Md., and more than one inch was reported at Richmond, Va. Light rain fell in areas northward to New York.

★ ★ ★

Cool air spread into New England, with temperatures in the 30s in northwestern sections. Early morning readings ranged from 18 at Butte, Mont., to 85 at Wichita Falls, Tex.

Helps Study of Business in High Schools

Pontiac Motor Division and its dealers have initiated an educational program to promote the study of all phases of modern business among high school students across the country.

With the cooperation of the Distributive Education Clubs of America, (DECA) Pontiac Motor recently distributed specially designed record albums of sales marketing technology and personal motivation to each club chapter in 650 high schools selected by DECA.

Each album contains four recordings aimed at personal improvement of students who are training for leadership in the business world of tomorrow.

The recordings were created by W. Heartsill Wilson, a highly regarded marketing communications specialist.

★ ★ ★

"Pontiac and its dealers are very happy to have this opportunity to make this contribution to these fine young people in each DECA chapter and it is one of the highlights in Pontiac's continuing program of providing aides in the field of education," John Z. DeLorean, Pontiac general manager, said.

'Hope' Provides Hope for World's Hopeless

She was christened with the unlikely name of the Maine Walrus when launched in 1944.

The Navy commissioned her as the U. S. S. Consolation and used her to bring home hundreds of Allied prisoners from Japanese camps after the end of World War II.

During the Korean War she operated as a United Nations hospital ship.

In September 1960, after five years in mothballs, she was loaned to the People-to-People Health Foundation and renamed the S. S. Hope. It is under this name that she has performed her greatest service and gained the greatest renown.

"Hope" stands for Health Opportunity for People Everywhere. On five trips, the ship bearing that name has brought real hope to people in Indonesia, South Viet Nam, Peru, Ecuador and, most recently, the African nation of Guinea.

More than 3,000 foreign medical people have received training aboard S. S. Hope, reports the foundation. More than 800 American physicians, nurses and technicians have served with the Hope as volunteers, augmenting the permanent staff of 90 to 100.

★ ★ ★

The Hope is now heading to be outfitted for her sixth voyage in January 1966 — to Nicaragua. She'll replenish her supplies of drugs, medicines and equipment and take on a new complement of volunteers dedicated to the service of their fellow men and the proposition that there can be no hope for backward peoples of the world without the help of those more fortunate.

Acting Horses Laugh at Unemployed Bogy

The employment situation is good any way you look at it. One way to look at it is by means of the telly in the living room.

This summer, unemployment lines — as far as horses were concerned — tailed off considerably, reports the American Humane Association. In June, nearly 1,000 horses appeared in front of television cameras shooting a crop of hay burners—new and old—for the upcoming season.

The AHA is in a position to know because one of its representatives is present at every filming involving animals to make sure the creatures, whether they are horses, dogs or ocelots (there's one of those in a new series) receive proper treatment and handling.

This year, in fact, marks the 25th anniversary of this supervisory service, which began with an agreement with motion picture producers and was later extended to include the television industry.

★ ★ ★

So next time you see a redskin and his mount go down before the guns of the U. S. Cavalry, don't worry about the horse. He's all right.

Americans Air 'Whys' for Not Taking to Air

The airplane has been with us for nearly 62 years. Commercial flight has been around for well over a generation. The continents are now only hours apart and man is but a few short years from landing on the moon.

Nevertheless, the overwhelming majority of Americans have never gone further from the surface of Mother Earth than an elevator will take them.

To find out why this is so and to try to make a dent in this vast, untapped population of ground-huggers, an airline has been conducting "flightseeing" tours of New York City for $5.95 and asking passengers to fill out a brief questionnaire.

Fully 40 per cent of the first 1,105 persons who answered had never before set foot in a flying machine. Surprisingly, of these only 11 per cent said it was fear that kept them bound to the ground.

Another 11 per cent gave expense as their reason; 23 per cent said they had never had the opportunity before; and 4 per cent said they simply had no place to go.

★ ★ ★

The rest—51 per cent—could think of "no particular reason" why they had never flown.

Who was it said man is a creature of insatiable curiosity?

The reason a lot of people don't take advice is that they can't do so on an empty head.

Fulbright's Blast Added to the Fog

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON—Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas has denounced the Johnson administration's handling of the Dominican Republic revolt while practically excusing President Johnson of blame.

MARLOW

This just adds confusion to a situation which was already a little foggy. And Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, admits he is now talking from the "benefit of hindsight."

But Fulbright might have no complaint at all if Johnson could have waited for the benefit of hindsight before deciding it was necessary to send Marines into the Dominican Republic. Then he might have acted differently.

Briefly, this was the background:

A few days after the revolt began last April against a reactionary regime in the Dominican Republic Johnson announced he was sending in Marines to protect American lives.

Shortly afterward he gave another reason: Fear that Communists might try to take over.

★ ★ ★

But Johnson acted on the advice of the American "country team" in the Dominican Republic—members of various American agency and military groups there—and with the advice of Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

LEADERS WERE CALLED

When he made the decision to use troops, Johnson called leading members of Congress to the White House, including Fulbright, to explain his actions.

Sen. Russell B. Long, Louisiana Democrat who disagrees with Fulbright's speech of Wednesday, was at that White House meeting and says nobody, including Fulbright, raised a dissenting voice.

Later, when it turned out the Communists were not in control of the revolution, Johnson got some criticism on the use of troops but he said he'd rather be criticized for his action than not to have acted.

★ ★ ★

Now, more than four months later, with the revolt ended and a new provisional government established the Dominican Republic as a preliminary to elections in about nine months, Fulbright ripped into Johnson's decision.

ADDED STATEMENT

But Fulbright also said: "The reason for American intervention appears to be that very close to the beginning of the revolution U.S. policymakers decided that it should not be allowed to succeed."

The senator offers no proof of this charge, although his statement will be widely read in Latin America.

★ ★ ★

No American president can possibly sit back and do nothing if Reds attempt to take over any country in Latin America. As Johnson said later, he'd rather be criticized for his action than not to have acted.

Replies to Comment on Teens of Today

In reply to the letter stating that teen-agers want to be different, the Romans also wanted to be different. They mobbed the coliseum and screamed at the Christians who were being torn apart by the lions solely for their entertainment.

★ ★ ★

The Roman Empire was once the most powerful in the world. Where is it today? Rome fell because of such wickedness, and that's why I say there is real cause for alarm in this country when teen-agers act as they do. The Romans who screamed at the Christians were once teens. As the twig is bent so will the tree be inclined.

David Lawrence Says:

Union Contribution Curbs Sought

WASHINGTON — While it looks now as if organized labor may have the votes to get Congress to pass the bill which would legalize compulsory unionization throughout the country, a determined effort will be made in the Senate to amend the measure so that it will be unlawful for unions to use membership dues for contributions to churches and religious organizations or to political campaigns in state and local elections.

LAWRENCE

The Senate bill at present provides that a worker who is unwilling to join a union can, if the union agrees, give the equivalent of his dues to charity, but the union has certain rights to designate which charity.

Rep. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., who is one of the authors of the Landrum-Griffin Act, unsuccessfully sought to amend the House bill to prohibit unions from making any contributions out of dues money to religious as well as political organizations.

Griffin, at the hearings in June before the House Committee on Education and Labor, drew attention to a $200,000 gift made a few years ago to the National Council of Churches through a foundation set up by the CIO and its affiliated unions with subscriptions from union treasuries of nearly a million dollars.

But a representative from the council who was testifying in favor of compulsory unionization declared that his organization is in no way influenced by contributions it receives from labor unions or anyone else.

But while the national council has been active in advocating "civil rights" legislation, neither this organization nor any other of the "civil rights" groups has come forward to denounce the recent action of the National Labor Relations Board by which a union member was punished for filing a petition demanding a fair election for union representation.

★ ★ ★

The Wall Street Journal, commenting on the episode, says:

"Plainly there is something wrong when a citizen who happens to be a member of a labor union can be penalized for asking an election at the plant where he works to find out whether a majority of his fellow employees want the union to continue to represent them. It's even worse when his penalty is upheld by a federal agency which is supposed to protect him against abuses of union power.

"This employe filed a petition, as he legally was entitled to do, with the National Labor Relations Board asking an election to determine whether a majority of workers at the plant wished to continue their union membership.

"Affronted by this challenge to its position, the union suspended the petitioner's membership and, for good measure, fined him $500, the fine later being withdrawn.

"In turn the employe appealed to the NLRB, charging that his union was interfering with his right to file a decertification petition.

"The NLRB dismissed his complaint, on the ground that since such petitions are of serious 'union concern,' the unions must be able to protect themselves by penalizing employes who file them."

Yet, despite the arbitrary action taken to prevent an employe from getting a fair election, Congress is now being urged by President Johnson to repeal section 14-B of existing law, which has allowed the states to pass laws prohibiting employers and unions from making contracts that would force a worker into a union against his will.

Bob Considine Says:

Athlete Tells Own Story of Mentally Retarded Tot

NEW YORK—Sen. Robert Kennedy's shocking report on conditions at several of New York's institutions for mentally retarded children is a blow that makes us weep.

CONSIDINE

His findings prompt wonder and dismay over how little man has advanced in dignity and the humanities since Bedlam, the Black Hole of Calcutta and, for that matter, Belsen.

But there are always other sides, gentler people. Gentler persons such as Del Crandall, who catches for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Del, a fine athlete and first-class intellectual, and his superb wife, produced five children. Two were retarded. One of these two died.

★ ★ ★

Del, speaking both as father of the child and as a member of President Johnson's Council for Mental Retardation, recently talked about the problem.

DIFFICULT SITUATION

"It is a difficult situation to accept," Del acknowledged. "We first found out about our oldest boy, Del Junior, at age 3½. I know it seems like a kind of old age actually to find out about the problem, but he was our first child.

"We sensed he was slow, sure. But we always had the reassurances of other parents that they had known Johnny Doe, who didn't speak until he was 4, and somebody else who didn't walk until he was nearly 2.

"But finally we had to have the evaluation. The first reaction, of course, was grief and remorse. I think you are just about out of that when you can ask yourself, 'Well, now, what can we do for this child? . . . Where do we go from here?' But say it not in self-pity but with a desire to do something constructive that will affect this child's future."

★ ★ ★

Del's boy is now at St. Colette's School in Jefferson, Wis., where Sen. Kennedy's retarded sister labors. He is coming along fine.

Del has embarked on a program of finding other well-known athletes who have retarded children.

They'll devote a portion of each year to being with each child, performing their skills in some cases, coaching, talking to and, above all, making them know they are loved and wanted.

Proof Speaks

The Norfolk Ledger-Star

The motion picture industry's frequent response to criticism of widespread exploitation of sex and violence on the screen usually is, in effect: That's what the theatergoer wants.

But box office success of three current films shows that this answer is neither accurate nor fair.

★ ★ ★

The whimsical "Mary Poppins" had a lucrative four-month stand in Norfolk last winter and spring and has returned with its box office magic at Virginia Beach. "The Sound of Music" is likely to set a longevity record if the current attendance holds. These responses are examples of the success the two films are enjoying over the country. And "My Fair Lady" is a film of such audience magnetism that it will be the Christmas show for the second straight year at New York's Criterion, where it premiered.

★ ★ ★

Each of these three movies offers the content to make it acceptable for teen and pre-teen alike and yet contains the quality to entertain the most mature. Each is good, clean fun. Probably the fact that all three films reached theaters within so short a time is little more than a coincidence. But their concurrent financial returns cannot go unnoticed by the major Hollywood studios — a different one produced each.

★ ★ ★

It is well known that the movie producer is governed by box office traffic perhaps even more than the television sponsor is by the rating game. Indeed it was the panic-stricken industry's response to the competition of television that brought looser standards of morality on film.

★ ★ ★

But as these movie standards continue to head toward more daring bedroom scenes, fewer subject barriers and questionable taste, we can only guess that Hollywood is misreading today's box-office message. Or it is deliberately ignoring this overwhelming evidence that subjects other than sex, filth and violence do lure the American public to the movies?

Beforehand . . .

The Knoxville News Sentinel

That expression, "You can't fool all the people all the time" was written before highway interchanges were invented.

Brink of Chaos

The New York Journal American

As the fighting between India and Pakistan over Kashmir widens, so does the pressure increase on the belligerents to agree to a cease-fire before it is too late. And it is getting very late. The pressure was applied by the United Nations in the departure of Secretary General Thant on a mission of desperation to both countries. The UN has been powerless but Mr. Thant was in a favorable position to talk reason.

★ ★ ★

The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union — are also putting on pressure. Our Administration, deeply concerned because American military equipment is being used by both sides, is moving toward suspending all further assistance. Russia, which does not want a full-scale war because the only beneficiary would be Red China, has offered its "good offices" toward a negotiated peace. The "good offices" of Moscow are always suspect. But, disregarding that ploy, there is no doubt that Moscow is motivated by self-interest. Finally, Peking's announcement that it is strengthening its "defense" along the Indian border should cause some hard thinking in New Delhi.

As concerns India and Pakistan, this could be a suicidal war. The hope of most of the world is that they can be talked out of making that final jump.

Cairo Sources Report Aborted Coup Attempt in Iraq

CAIRO (AP) — An attempted coup in Iraq has been crushed, Iraqi sources in Cairo said today.

* * *

The bid to take over the government came while President Abdel Salam Aref was absent from the country attending the Casablanca Arab summit meeting.

It was put down by the president's brother, the sources said.

They gave this account: The coup was attempted Thursday when the newly installed prime minister, Brig. Aref Abdul Razzak, tried to take over the radio, highways, railroads and other key installations.

Gen. Abdel Rahman Aref, deputy chief of staff of the Iraqi army and brother of the president, heard of the plans and ordered troops to occupy key installations in advance of the attempted take-over by Razzak.

Razzak and aides were arrested when they tried to carry out the coup. Later Razzak, his wife six children and five aides were ordered to leave Iraq and were flown to Cairo aboard a special Iraqi plane.

Razzak arrived in Cairo unexpectedly Thursday night and was installed in Tahra Palace on the outskirts of the city, government residence reserved for visiting dignitaries.

Razzak could not be reached for comment and Iraqi sources would not permit use of their names in reporting the attempted coup in Baghdad.

Was Defense Minister

Strauss Looms Large in German Vote

BONN, Germany (AP) — A sturdy Bavarian who admires Charles de Gaulle is the most talked-about figure in the West German election campaign.

Franz Josef Strauss is the kind of politician who always seems to be in the middle of a fight.

★ ★ ★

He was forced out as minister of defense almost three years ago, but he has a powerful political base. He heads the Bavarian wing of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Christian Democratic party. This wing is indispensable to Erhard but not under his control.

Strauss is running for reelection to the Bundestag in Sunday's election and is sure to keep his seat. What happens afterward will depend on the election returns and horse trading among the parties. If Strauss and his friends do well, he will have a strong claim on a Cabinet post.

MADE APPEAL

Two rival parties, the Free Democrats and Social Democrats, have made a stop-Strauss appeal one of their election issues. A third group, professedly nonpartisan, is fighting him in newspaper ads. Voters may feel at times that their chief decision is whether Strauss should be in or out of the next government.

With ex-Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, another friend of de Gaulle, he often criticizes U.S. policy in Europe.

★ ★ ★

"You can't just say everything would be easier if that fellow de Gaulle weren't around," he told an American reporter recently. "It's not as simple as that. There are differences of opinion about vital matters of nuclear defense. We should all sit down together and try to work out a common concept."

Strauss has warned the Western Allies against barring his country from a share in nuclear defense. As he sees it, they ought to be able to realize that if they do anything like that, a new kind of Adolf Hitler would arise to find nuclear weapons for Germany.

SEVERAL FEUDS

Strauss feuds with Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder, Vice Chancellor Erich Mende and the newsmagazine Der Spiegel, a political force in its own right.

He lost his job as defense minister, his critics say, because he misled Parliament in connection with treason charges against the magazine's staff. The charges have since been quashed.

★ ★ ★

A cartoonist, thinking up gifts for Strauss' recent 50th birthday, suggested cushions for his elbows, a magnifying glass to help him choose his friends, and a muzzle to restrain his replies to hecklers.

"The Communists must enjoy seeing a bunch like you," he told one unruly audience in this campaign.

VEHEMENT CRITICISM

Criticism of Strauss is often vehement and he sometimes replies with legal action.

A magazine described Strauss as looking like a beer stein. He promptly got a court order to prevent it from repeating the statement. But he would be hard put to deny that he has the round features and well-developed midsection that go with the traditional Bavarian devotion to suds and sausage.

★ ★ ★

Among Germany's many colorless politicians, he stands out as brilliant, aggressive, energetic — and, his enemies would add, wily and dangerously ambitious. His witty, slightly accented English helped make him a Washington favorite when he was in office.

Strauss likes hunting and climbing in his native Bavarian Alps.

GETS IT OUT

"It gets the alcohol and the nicotine and the political foolishness out of your system," he says.

LBJ Signs Bill Adding to Kennedy Protection

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her children will have Secret Service protection for another two years under a bill signed Thursday by President Johnson.

The new law provides a lifetime Secret Service guard for former presidents and four years of such protection for the widow and minor children of any president who dies in office.

Soft Whiskey. The whiskey with a shock absorber.

Soft Whiskey coasts down real easy. In other words, it doesn't shake you up.

If you're wondering how we smoothed out the bumps, all we can tell you on that score, is that we do some distilling in small batches instead of large ones.

As concerns the rest of the formula, no comment. You see, other distillers have been trying to come up with a Soft Whiskey for years. And you can't blame us for trying to get as much mileage out of it as we can. Especially when you consider that even we failed in thousands of experiments before we hit it: an 86 proof that does what any 86 proof does. Only does it softer.

So, if you think for one minute that Soft Whiskey is weak whiskey—you're in for another kind of shock.

Draft Takes Only Half of Eligible Males

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of three-part series.)

By MYRON FEINSILBER
United Press International

Like death and taxes, conscription is unpopular. But it is only half as inevitable.

Only half of the 17 million draft-age males in America are likely to ever put on a uniform or pull KP.

Roughly one-third of the rest will be found physically, mentally or psychiatrically unfit to serve and the remainder will be deferred until they escape the draft or will be classified 1-A but never serve simply because they weren't needed.

Those are rough figures, based on past experience, but unless a war requires the military to lower its standards, the pattern is likely to prevail.

A 1962 study showed 1.1 million men reached age 26 — the usual draft cut-off age — that year. Only 58 per cent — 640,000 men — had served in the armed forces. Of the rest, 27 per cent were rejected as unfit, 11 per cent were fathers and deferred and four per cent were deferred for other reasons.

★ ★ ★

Even with a 340,000-man increase in the armed services caused by the Viet Nam war (bringing the military to over 3 million), the percentage of those who eventually serve is likely to remain relatively stab because the baby boom of the post-war years is providing a bigger manpower pool from which to recruit or draft soldiers.

In the 1950s, 1.1 million boys reached draft age every year; now 1.9 million do; by 1974, 2.1 million will.

DELAY IN SERVICE

Deferment is a delay of service, not an exemption from it. Its purpose is to serve the nation's interest, not the boy's. Educational deferment is granted so the nation will have enough engineers and doctors and teachers to meet the needs of the civilian economy.

But sometimes the effect of deferment becomes exemption. A boy deferred to complete his education marries while still in college and becomes a father; he then is deferred on grounds of fatherhood and escapes the draft.

The result, many critics believe, is that the draft remains a poor boy's burden. The boy whose family is well enough off to send him to college wins a deferment. Because college guarantees him a well-paying job, he can afford to take a wife and start a family.

★ ★ ★

Some would like to spread the burden so that every boy, excepting only the totally unfit, would receive six months' military training.

AT AGE 18

They would like the training to come at age 18, rather than at 22, the age at which a young man now is likely to be drafted.

That would alleviate the most common complaint of young men: their inability to plan their futures because of their uncertainty about the draft.

In 1956, Adlai E. Stevenson, as Democratic candidate for president, suggested ending the draft. His Republican opponent Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, called the proposal irresponsible.

★ ★ ★

In 1964, Republican candidate Barry M. Goldwater suggested ending the draft. His Democratic opponent, President Johnson, called the proposal irresponsible.

Yet the idea appeals, even to some in the Pentagon.

They recognize that the military's loss of half a million servicemen a year through normal turnover makes the armed forces nothing more than a huge training school, forever getting ready for defense but never fully ready.

★ ★ ★

The cost of constantly training new men runs into the billions. Yet it does have a big civilian payoff. The nation's airlines would be desperate for pilots if the Air Force didn't produce them. The services offer some of the best technical training to be had anywhere.

PROFESSIONAL ARMY

Besides reducing costs, eliminating the draft and creating in its stead a professional army of long-term volunteers would improve military morale and readiness.

There are those who still consider military service a shakedown school for adulthood. Many civilian judges still offer a juvenile delinquent a choice between the Army and reform school.

This sort of thinking carries its price, too: A study last year showed that one group of less than 200 "problem soldiers" in only one Army stockade had cost the Army a "minimum of $1 million to $2 million."

★ ★ ★

The Army needs the nation's best young brains, too, and the draft helps supply them. Modern war is complex and modern warriors handle machinery worth millions of dollars.

INTO ROTC

Yet ending the draft and the threat of being drafted and the inducement that sends many college men into ROTC would end. The Selective Service System candidly acknowledges that it probably induces more men into uniform than it inducts.

Abolishing the draft would remove some inequities — inequities which don't square well with American democracy.

They exist, President John F. Kennedy said in 1963, simply because "the growing pool of eligible manpower is far in excess of the needs of the armed services, short of a national emergency."

WON'T HIRE THEM

Because employers hesitate to hire the draft-eligible, the draft, in the view of former Congressman Robert A. Taft Jr., "most certainly contributes to the high unemployment rate found among young men in their late teens and early 20s."

The threat of being drafted is socially disruptive, too. Deferments for married men undoubtedly lead to hasty marriages which sometimes end in divorce courts. There was a rush to Las Vegas to beat President Johnson's Aug. 26 deadline on deferments for the married.

Among the advantages of maintaining conscription are that it does spread the responsibility of service and prevents the creation of a military class. It does maintain a vast pool of men with military skills who can be mobilized in a hurry.

★ ★ ★

The price to society of the alternative — a professional military establishment — is to make the military life as attractive and remunerative as civilian life and to remove the stigma still associated with life in uniform.

PROSPECT REMOTE

The prospect of abolishing the draft remains remote and this was true even before the buildup in Viet Nam — a war which proves again that machines, no matter how sophisticated, will not replace the soldier in fighting men's wars.

Trial Ordered in Knife Death

A 17-year-old Oxford Township youth was ordered yesterday to stand trial on a charge of second degree murder in a knifing last month.

★ ★ ★

Richard Hartwick, 167 W. Drahner, was released and his bond continued at $5,000 after he stood mute to the charge at his arraignment before Circuit Judge Philip Pratt.

★ ★ ★

No trial date was set.

Hartwick is accused of the Aug. 16 fatal stabbing of Russell Richard, 24, of 66 King Circle, Orion Township, during a fight outside a Lake Orion bar.

Junior Editors Quiz on WATER SKIING

QUESTION: Isn't water skiing dangerous?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: This sport certainly looks dangerous. What if the skier should lose his or her balance and fall? Couldn't she get tangled by the tow line or skis? Suppose a ski stunned her with a blow? Might she not sink before the boat could turn around?

All sports have a certain risk, but there is only a very slight chance of these disasters happening to a water skier.

First, they wear flotation belts which would hold them up in the water in case of accident.

Secondly, a skier lets go of the handle at once if she begins to lose her balance, so the rope is carried ahead out of her way.

Third, she falls over sideways, tending to avoid entanglement with the skis. Fourth, the skier pulls her feet out of the tough but flexible rubber boot attached to the skis.

Their shape, see illustration, means they stay snug around the foot in normal skiing position. But, because of the flexibility of the rubber heel part of the boot, the foot can be instantly pulled out, either backward or sideways.

Another precaution is almost always taken, having someone in the boat facing the skier, watching him or her at all times to be sure nothing dangerous is happening.

FOR YOU TO DO: There are likely to be plenty of pictures of water skiers in summer magazines. Go through some of them looking for safety measures we have mentioned. You probably won't see the rubber boots, but can detect the safety belt and someone on the boat watching the skier.

U.S. Arms Peddling Due Reappraisal

By STEWART HENSLEY
United Press International

The Kashmir war is likely to lead to an anguished reappraisal of the role of the United States as the world's leading arms merchant and donor.

The spectacle of India and Pakistan battling each other with arms they were supposed to use only for defense against communism has brought the problem into sharp focus.

The United States during the past 10 years has given away more than $20 billion in military equipment to more than 50 non-Communist nations, all of whom solemnly pledged it would be used only in self-defense.

Yet, a number of the recipients have shown that they fear their own neighbors, or, in some cases, their own citizens more than they do the Communists.

★ ★ ★

In addition, the Defense Department's office for international logistics negotiations — referred to by some diplomats as "the Pentagon's arms peddlers" — has sold foreign countries an estimated $9 billion worth of military equipment during the past four years.

AN ACTIVE ROLE

With this amount of U. S. military equipment scattered around the globe, American arms inevitably have figured to some extent in virtually every clash in the non-Communist world.

The Greeks and Turks supplied warring factions in Cyprus with U. S. arms they had received solely for use within the NATO defense framework.

France used U. S. arms in her futile effort to suppress the Algerian rebellion. Some right-wing Latin American dictatorships are alleged to retain power solely on the basis of their American armor and planes.

★ ★ ★

These and other examples are cited by some congressional and other critics of large-scale military aid as evidence to support their views.

CONSIDERATIONS

The administration, particularly the Pentagon, has counter-arguments which have to be considered.

It is contended that if the United Satates is to make certain its allies will be prepared to react at once against any Communist threat, the "calculated risk" of misuse of the arms must be taken.

In areas outside those covered by formal alliances to which the United States is committed, distribution or sale of American arms is defended on the grounds that, if Washington does not supply them, someone else will.

★ ★ ★

Finally, arms sales to allies such as West Germany have played a significant part in reducing the balance of payments deficit which has plagued three successive administrations.

Even economic aid contributes to the arms race, since it renders the recipient better able to use its hard currency to buy U. S. and other war material if they can't be obtained under a giveaway deal.

It is frequently noted that Pakistan, as a member of the Mideast and Southeast Asia Alliances, received $1.5 billion in American military equipment during the past 10 years, whereas India has been given only $200 million since the Red China attack in 1962.

However, India has received a total of $5.9 billion in U. S. economic aid since 1947, by far the largest amount given any country.

This has freed some of her dollar and pound sterling earnings ot purchase U. S., British, French and other arms.

SALES POLICY

A vehicle for a complete reappraisal of military aid and sales policy is available.

It is in the recently passed aid authorization bill which calls for a top-to-bottom review of the entire aid program.

The India-Pakistan war has made it almost a certainty that an extremely searching study will be made of the whole problem.

Two Zones Backed for Annexation

Two zoning classifications — both manufacturing — are expected to be recommended to the City Commission Tuesday for the property recently annexed by Pontiac.

The City Planning Commission, following a two-hour public hearing Wednesday night, voted to recommend that 35 of the 213 acres be zoned M-3, heavy manufacturing, with the remainder to be used for light manufacturing.

Henry Smith, city planner and secretary of the planning commission, said the M-3 zoning would permit a scrap reclaiming operation.

In effect, he said, the action gives support to the possible relocation on the site of the Sam Allen & Son scrap yard.

* * *

The firm has been sued by the city over its present operation at 22 Congress. Out-of-court negotiations, however, are in progress.

ZONE BOUNDARIES

The M-3 zone is bounded by Collier on the north, the Grand Trunk railroad on the west, the old city limits on the south and the balance of the new property on the east.

Presently, the property has no zoning.

Pontiac Township, from whom the property was annexed, described the area as an agricultural zone.

* * *

Smith said, however, that the master plan of the township shows the area being used as an industrial corridor.

About 60 persons living in the affected area attended the meeting to voice objections, according to Smith.

3 Elderly Persons Killed in Collision

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—Three elderly persons were killed in a two-car collision near here Thursday.

One car struck the other head-on while trying to pass another car on M139, the Berrien County Sheriff's Office said.

Edward R. Adams, 78, and his wife, Ethel, 75, of Stevensville, occupants of one car, and William Smith, 75, of Riverside, a passenger in the other, lost their lives.

Under Overcast Skies

Rochester Festival Opens

ROCHESTER — Cool weather and drizzle failed to dampen the spirits of more than 500 persons who showed up in the first two hours of the Art 'n' Apples Festival which opened yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The first biennial festival began under overcast skies with a parade and special ceremonies which featured award presentations, remarks by State Rep. Robert J. Slingerland, D-Lake Orion, and ribbon cutting by Mary Beth Boulton, Miss Rochester.

After the ceremonies, the crowds streamed across the newly constructed footbridge over Paint Creek to view the numerous arts and crafts displays.

Although cider and donuts were to be the main refreshments, the hot coffee stand did a brisk business as people tried to keep warm while moving from tent to tent.

★ ★ ★

On crossing the bridge, the first tent is devoted to work of children in the Rochester Community Schools whose art projects last year were directed toward the festival.

SECOND TENT

The second tent features arts and crafts, sponsored by the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

It features artists and craftsmen working at such crafts as china and porcelain painting, glass blowing, hooking rugs, weaving, pottery, and ceramics.

In the third tent, local residents with jobs or hobbies of an arts and crafts nature are displaying their work.

★ ★ ★

These include children's books, silver jewelry, art supplies, doll clothes, knitting, photography, plastic embedments, silk screening, ceramics, needlework, woodcutting, acrylic plastics and china dolls.

FINE ARTS EXHIBIT

Sunday painters display their work in the fourth tent while the fifth tent contains a fine arts exhibit by professional Michigan artists, sponsored by the Rochester Junior Women's Club.

Also drawing crowds of viewers are the Detroit Institute of Arts Mobile Art Van, a visual arts tent and the on-the-spot artists' tent.

Children who may not be interested in all the art work will find entertainment especially for them by Harold Ramm of Dearborn with his Punch and Judy "Fantasy with Strings" show.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the activities on the grounds behind the Municipal Building, an evening program was held last night and will be held again Saturday night at Central Junior High School.

LOCAL TALENT

The program, starting at 7:30 p.m., is a musical variety show of local talent, featuring the Utica-Rochester chapter of Sweet Adelines, the Tuesday Musicale, the Village Trio and local soloists.

The highlight of the evening is a one-act play, "The King's Mistress", by George W. Long of 202 East Third.

The Festival runs from 1 to 9 p.m. each day except Sunday when it will close at 6 p.m.

FESTIVAL FANFARE — Miss Rochester, Mary Beth Boulton, snipped a symbolic ribbon on the Paint Creek Bridge yesterday to open the first Art 'n' Apples Festival at Rochester. Guest of honor at the opening ceremonies was Robert J. Slingerlend (left), D-Lake Orion. Dr. John F. Solverson (right), general chairman of the four-day affair, was master of ceremonies.

SCULPTOR AT WORK—Hazel Nauman of 10420 Elizabeth Lake Road, White Lake Township, is one of several area artists in action this week at the Rochester Art 'n' Apples Festival. Hundreds of paintings and other works of art will be on display through Sunday evening in a "tent city" near the Municipal Building.

Area Barn Destroyed by Flames

LAPEER — An Oregon Township barn containing thousands of dollars worth of machinery and hay was destroyed by fire late yesterday afternoon.

Owned by J. & R. Investment Co. of Lapeer, the 40-by-60-foot building was located at 3310 Reamer. It contained construction machinery, a large quantity of baled hay and milking equipment.

Sgt. Edward Flynn of the Lapeer Police Department said the barn was being used only for storage.

The electricity in the building had not been turned off, however, and this was believed to have been the cause of the fire.

Flynn said some boys playing in and around the barn told him they noticed that the wires leading into the barn were smoking just before they discovered the blaze smoldering in the hay.

ANSWER ALARM

Lapeer and Elba fire departments answered the alarm, which came in about 5:15.

The blaze was out of control by the time firemen arrived, however, and they concentrated on saving another nearby barn containing seven horses. All were unharmed.

The firemen were on the scene nearly four hours.

Flynn said no damage estimate had been made as the owner of the construction machinery had not yet been contacted.

AREA NEWS

Transfer of Students Spurs Boycott at School in Utica

UTICA—More than 25 angry parents kept their children out of school yesterday in protest over a school boundary change which the board of education instituted Monday night.

To alleviate crowded conditions at Plumbrook School, the board shifted about 150 pupils in grades kindergarten through five to Auburnshire School about six miles away.

Thomas Breen of the school administration said the move was necessary because Plumbrook was built to accommodate 720 pupils and 1,017 registered.

He said more than 40 pupils were in each class while at Auburnshire the classloads were in the low 20s.

★ ★ ★

He said the move is only for this year or until three new elementary schools are built in the area with money from a recently approved bond issue.

DIDN'T PREPARE

"Part of this trouble is probably our fault because we didn't prepare the people ahead of time, other than a letter," said Breen, "but we really didn't expect any trouble."

He said the trouble began Wednesday night when a group of about 40 parents held a protest meeting, to which the administration was invited to answer questions.

Yesterday about 10 mothers showed up to picket the bus stops and the administration offices. Breen and Donald Bemis, also of the administration, rode the school buses to help the children "relocate."

★ ★ ★

"The mothers were quite angry," said Breen, "and many refused to let their children get on the bus."

RODE BUSES

Breen and Bemis rode the buses again this morning in case of more trouble.

Breen said two groups of parents held meetings again last night. Members of the administration were invited to answer questions at one of the meetings.

The area involved is in the southern part of the district near Utica and Dodge roads. The children affected are from two subdivisions, Sun Valley and one which is known as the "compact subdivision" because the streets are named after compact cars.

FASTEST GROWING

Breen said the area is the fastest growing in the district and that $7 million of a $8.5-million bond issue is being used to build three elementary schools all within 1½ miles of Plumbrook.

He said the defeat of three bond issues prior to December 1964, when the $8.5-million issue was approved, delayed school construction.

Rehearsals Begin for Avon Players

ROCHESTER — The Avon Players have started rehearsals for the new play "Send Me No Flowers" to be presented at West Junior High School Oct. 15 and 16.

The new playhouse on Washington Road will open its doors Dec. 3 for the first presentation of "Inherit the Wind."

The play will also be given Dec. 4, 9, 10 and 11.

"Annie Get Your Gun" will be presented March 16 to 20 and March 22 to 26.

The final play of the season will be "Sunday in New York" on May 13 to 15 and May 19 to 21.

Season tickets are now available at Hunter's Pharmacy or from any Avon Players member.

Chairman Is Chosen for '66 State Fair

DETROIT (UPI) — Cattle raiser William L. Brittain, 48, Williamston, yesterday was elected the new chairman of the Michigan State Fair Authority.

Brittain, owner of Mahogany Farms, the largest producer of beef cattle in Michigan, succeed Charley Figy, 72, of Morency, who served 10 years as chairman of the old Michigan State Fair Commission and has served on the new authority since 1963.

Figy's term on the authority expires in 1966, and the 20-member authority adopted a resolution asking Gov. George Romney to reappoint Figy and confer on him the honorary title of chairman emeritus.

Other officers elected at the authority's election of officers meeting were Delmont L. Chapman, South Rockwood, reelected first vice-chairman; Paul Scott, Northport, second vice chairman; Mrs. Allen A. Strom, Birmingham, secretary, Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., Detroit, reelected treasurer, and Leo Seide, Flint, assistant treasurer.

Committee Gambles on Lake Study

ORCHARD LAKE — A unique approach to establishing a lake level has been tackled by a group of residents here.

★ ★ ★

The Orchard Lake Conservation Committee is putting the cart before the horse in an attempt to lead the horse to water.

Unable to get a sufficient number of signatures on a petition two years ago, members of the group temporarily dropped plans to have the level of Orchard Lake established by Oakland County Circuit Court.

Identification of the correct lake level is the first step in having it raised.

★ ★ ★

It requires a preliminary engineering study to find methods of allowing more water to flow into the lake.

TO CONVINCE OWNERS

Members of the conservation committee are working on the assumption that the preliminary engineering report will convince two-thirds of the lake-front property owners to sign the necessary petition.

They now are collecting funds for the study, being conducted by Pate, Hirn and Bogue of Detroit.

Thus far they have raised about $1,800 of the $3,300 needed for the project, according to Dean J. Garrett, 4051 Commerce, committee secretary.

The consulting engineers have started their work on a pay-as-you-go basis.

★ ★ ★

The study is expected to be completed late in October.

"Then we'll have a general meeting and present the study to the public," Garrett said.

WILL ACCEPT STUDY

The Oakland County Drain office has indicated it will accept the preliminary engineering study if submitted with the lake level petitions.

According to unofficial estimates, the water is nearly five feet below its level of seven or eight years ago.

If a control project is undertaken, the money spent on the engineering report will be returned and the cost incorporated into a special assessment program.

★ ★ ★

Garrett said there are 115 to 120 persons who own property fronting the lake.

★ ★ ★

Farmer's Life Proves Highly Dangerous

It seems that life on the farm is not only idyllic, and that the farmer's wife runs a higher risk of widowhood than the wife of a taxi driver, or a policeman, or a worker on the airlines.

The National Safety Council estimates that in 1963 work accidents on farms in the U.S. caused some 3,300 deaths, for a fatality rate of 67 per 100,000 agricultural workers.

Among other major industries this rate is exceeded only by those for construction, mining, and quarrying. It is also about three times greater than the average accident death rate for all industries combined.

Chief risk farmers face is machinery — machinery compounded with recklessness. Machines may lack safety devices or may require special skills for safe operation.

★ ★ ★

The farmers themselves compound their own hazards. Usually they work alone, unsupervised, and often without adequate precautions against accident.

NO COMPANION

With no companion to call for help, an injured farmer may lie for hours without treatment. Severe weather sometimes hampers rescue efforts.

Tractors are by far the worst offenders. In Kansas, about fourth-fifths of all farm machinery fatalities involve tractors. Most accidents result from overturning, although falls from the driver's seat also cause many deaths. Usually, victims are run over.

The great majority of these accidents are traceable to high speeds and reckless driving.

★ ★ ★

Machinery accidents occurring in farm work areas are responsible for almost 900 deaths a year, one-half of all deaths attributed to machinery accidents of all kinds. This ratio obtains despite the fact that only 7 per cent of our population are farmers.

★ ★ ★

Other important causes of death in farm work areas are drowning (mostly among children and adolescents), firearms and various kinds of falling. Interestingly, more than 90 per cent of all fatal farm accidents are male.

Highway Beautification Bill Overwhelmingly Clears Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The highway beautification bill strongly backed by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson has cleared the Senate by an overwhelming 63-14 vote.

★ ★ ★

While the Senate remained in session Thursday night to pass the legislation, the House Public Roads subcommittee met at the same time and cleared a similar version.

The full House Public Works Committee scheduled a session on it today.

★ ★ ★

The bill passed by the Senate was a far cry from the one originally submitted by President Johnson.

FULLY ACCEPTABLE

But he told Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va., chief sponsor of the legislation in the Senate, that the revised version was fully acceptable to him.

About a month ago congressional leaders advised the President that many changes were essential if the measure were to be rescued this year.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Johnson said last week she would consider the bill "a step forward . . . even though we do not get all of the features we want."

The bill sent to the House by the Senate would ban billboards on much of the interstate and primary highway systems, require removal or screening of junk yards on the same routes, and provide $120 million a year in grants to the states for scenic enhancement and landscaping along all federal-aid roads.

REMOVE SIGNS

Perhaps its most far-reaching that signs be removed from the 225,000-mile primary system. This includes the nation's major routes, many of them four decades old.

There already is a billboard control program for the 41,000-mile interstate system, based on bonuses paid to the states, but it has been ineffective.

★ ★ ★

The exceptions to the advertising-sign ban on interstate and primary highways under the new bill would be areas zoned or used for industrial and commercial purposes. In addition, businesses adjacent to the routes would be allowed on-premise signs.

The first home-sewing machine was introduced in 1856, and less than 10 years later commercially packaged patterns made their appearance.

Keep Cats From Baby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am expecting my first child in a few months. My problem is this: I have raised two cats since birth and they are very dear to me.

ABBY

My husband and my mother say that if the cats are still here when my baby comes they are likely to hurt, or even kill, the baby. They say that cats are naturally attracted to a baby's mouth because of the scent of milk on the baby's breath, and a cat will suck the breath out of a baby trying to get the milk.

I have talked to quite a few people about this and most of them say they never heard of a cat harming a baby. But one lady said she knew of a case where a cat jumped up into a baby's buggy and would have killed it but the mother got there just in time. Now I am worried. I would never put my cats above my baby, but I don't want to get rid of my cats unless I have to.

Any information you, or your readers, can give me on this subject would be greatly appreciated.

LOVES CATS

DEAR LOVES: What you have heard about cats harming babies is an old wives' tale. But cats are animals, and animals (like humans) are sometimes unpredictable. So keep your cats.

But while your baby is tiny, make sure the cats can't get to him.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Last Christmas I sent over 100 Christmas cards. One of my relatives returned MY card and scribbled "the same to you" on it, then signed her name.

I later learned that she had done the same to others who had sent her Christmas cards.

Has there been a new amendment to the rules of etiquette to include this practice? If so, I may do it myself this Christmas. I could save a little money.

"TEMPTED"

DEAR "TEMPTED": It's highly improper. You'd better think of another way to save a little money.

The season will have five concerts, beginning Oct. 5 with the leading exponents of the two-piano medium, Luboshultz and Nemenoff.

★ ★

All concerts start at 8:30 p.m. in the Pontiac Northern High School auditorium. Felix Resnick is the conductor.

Season tickets for the five concerts is $6.00, active membership $10.00, and patron membership $50.00.

Panhellenic Plans Year

First general meeting of the season for Pontiac City Panhellenic Association was held recently at the home of Mrs. Roland Ostrander of Edgewood Park Drive, Union Lake.

Future plans presented included a couples' card party, book sale and special guest lecturers.

Mrs. Raymond Wilhelm was cohostess for the social hour.

In October members will meet for a tour of Oakland County Courthouse.

Area women affiliated with a National Panhellenic sorority are eligible for membership in the association. Mrs. Robert Crandall of Grace K Street may be contacted for further information.

MSU Speaker Gives Hope to Extensionists

By MARGARET BROWN

Spirits were bolstered at Thursday's annual orientation meeting of area extension study group officers after recently announced staff cutbacks for Oakland County's Cooperative Extension Service.

Ruth Peck of Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service, discussing statewide reorganization stemming from legislative budget reductions, told the assembly in Central Methodist Church, "Don't be disheartened; change is ever with us. It just has been accelerated today."

★ ★ ★

Offering a folksy definition of education as ". . . reading the signs and knowing which way to turn," Miss Peck said, "that's all you're being asked to do in this reorganization: know which way to turn."

HERITAGE

Miss Peck told briefly of MSU's land grant heritage which paved the way for practical education on a higher level.

"Getting this useful unbiased information on agriculture and home economics to the common people ("That's you and me," she quipped) and encouraging its application is the work of the cooperative extension service.

"We're glad you in Oakland County have initiated a young homemakers' program."

★ ★ ★

Earlier in the program, Lyle B. Abel, Oakland County extension director, mentioning "considerable worry" about budget cutbacks, said, "Extension is a long way from being buried."

Mr. Abel said he feels state legislators might respond financially to extension workers' proposal of a sound ". . . educational program for young folks. I'd like to see you give it a try," he concluded.

Elaborating on a possible appeal to Michigan's legislature, Miss Peck advised the women, "Don't go to your legislators uninformed."

KNOW YOUR SUBJECT

"Lawmakers often plead to be informed by their constituents," she said. "We can't be too critical of them for voting down a proposal on which we've failed to enlighten them." Be prepared to give your representative a concise and comprehensive picture of how families specifically may be helped by extension work, she urged.

★ ★ ★

A talk by Mrs. Carol Kurth, home economist, on the young homemakers' program started two years ago for girls 15 through 22 years of age getting married also highlighted the meeting.

"Many young women marrying today have no professional source for guidance outside of their doctor or minister," she said, "and many do not even attend church.

"We want these girls to know we're here for any help at all. We don't ask them to become study group members; we just want to reach them in some way."

★ ★ ★

Instructing were Miss Peck, Mrs. Berle Dean, Mrs. William Tiberg, Mrs. Kurth, Anne Kinsel, Macomb County home economist and Mrs. Mary Hardy, Oakland County home economist.

★ ★ ★

Plumpness Is Stylish---for the Furniture

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

People may be getting slimmer, but furniture isn't.

Plumpness is back in style. 1965 styles may be overstuffed, but not in the same way as in the Twenties. Then, some of the furniture had such enormous arms and backs that they overpowered the room.

Today's stuffings usually are made of foam, either rubber or latex, sometimes a combination of both.

★ ★ ★

Sofas may look large, everything is easily moved, thanks to today's casters.

NEW FABRICS

Fabrics no longer look heavy or dull. Gone is the scratchy frieze and in its place are crush-proof velvets, synthetic and sturdy suedes and spot-resistant silks.

Arched steel springs are longer wearing and everything about the furniture is geared to today's casual living—even the most luxurious appearing upholstered chairs and sofas.

★ ★ ★

Best of all, color is here to stay. And with modern fabrics, and modern cleaning methods, it is no great chore to keep things bright and fresh looking.

Known as the "little" or "cocktail" chair, this type of chair was first popular during the Directore and Regency periods. Once again, such decorative chairs are stylish. They are amazingly comfortable, even for tall men. Deeply tufted in black silk, the upholstery accentuates the beauty of the highly figured wood. Use as a group around a little table or singly as an accent piece. By Thomasville Furniture Industries. Line available locally.

The appeal of Early American furniture continues from generation to generation. This chair in a wide array of appropriate fabrics invites both comfort and relaxation. By Broyhill. Line available locally.

A quilted linen print on the sofa is complemented by a correlated plain fabric on the Mr. and Mrs. chairs. From Flexsteel's Contemporama Collection, these pieces exemplify the 1965 padded look. All cushions are reversible. Sofa available in two lengths or as a two-piece sectional. Line available locally.

Bleach Bottle Use

DEAR POLLY — When I ironed the clothes it used to be a problem keeping the spray bottle from falling off the ironing board.

We made a holder for it out of a one-quart plastic bleach bottle. Cut it off at the top to leave a container about 8 inches deep but while doing this leave a flap at one side that is about 1½ by 2 inches in height.

Fasten this flap to the end of the ironing board and have no more problems or broken spray bottles. — KATHY

DEAR POLLY — Mrs. C. W. C. asked how she could remove red crayon marks from her sheets and other white things. I am a registered nurse and once I left a lipstick in the pocket of my uniform when I washed it.

Nothing would remove it until my husband suggested that I try packaged color remover and it worked like a charm.— E. L. R.

GIRLS — I have had very good luck using color remover but always remember there is an uncertainty with most any spot removal suggestions due to the length of time the spots have been in the fabric, past treatments and the content of the fabric. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — I work for one of the major cross country bus lines and would like to pass on some traveling tips for those who anticipate traveling by bus or other means of public transportation.

Always put your name and permanent address on the inside as well as the outside of your luggage; even the pieces you are not going to check. Most ticket offices will have such tags available to you.

It is not advisable to check small bags and never check jewelry, medicine, cosmetics and valuable papers. — JEAN

John Vogts Takes Vows in Troy

Sandra Kay Fosmoen and John Frederick Vogt III recently exchanged wedding vows in Troy's First Methodist Church.

Pincess lines styled a satin gown trimmed with seed pearls for the bride who is the daughter of the senior Alfred Fosmoens, Crooks Road, Avon Township.

Her headpiece of organza and seed pearls held a shoulder length veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white Sweetheart roses and chrysanthemums.

Rev. C. William Perrson performed the rites where Karen Fosmoen was maid of honor for her sister.

Bridesmaids included Sue Garner, Mrs. Alfred Fosmoen Jr. and Mrs. Gary Fosmoen.

Kenneth Vogt stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of the J. F. Vogts of Troy. Ushers were Thomas Hoskins, Alfred, Gary and Daryl Fosmoen.

Following a dinner in Devon Gables, an evening reception was held in A-Corn Hall, Royal Oak.

Tip for Quilting

To fasten thread when quilting, take a tiny back stitch, then sew three or four tiny stitches back along the line that you have just quilted and run the needle through into the padding for an inch or two. The end of the thread will be out of sight there.

Seek Tax Hike for State Roads

Official Asks Support of Municipal League

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michigan Municipal League support was sought today for increases in motor fuel and vehicle taxes to keep state highway building programs moving.

Wallace D. Nunn, State Highway Commission member, said the increases were needed because "the existing revenue structure ... for road building in Michigan will fall short ... by $3 billion."

★ ★ ★

He said the increases proposed by the Michigan Good Roads Federation and supported by the State Highway Commission, would boost revenues for cities and villages by 36 per cent to a total of $23 million annually.

Nunn said the proposed schedule would increase by one cent the state taxes on gasoline, diesel fuel and liquefied petroleum; set up a new license fee system with a minimum of $14 and a maximum of $29 for passenger cars; adjust fuel and vehicle tax distribution and reduce by one-half the sum which cities of more than 30,000 residents must contribute to trunkline improvements within their borders.

720 DELEGATES

Approximately 700 delegates and guests have attended sessions of the league's 67th annual convention which concludes today.

G. Stewart Francke, Saginaw councilman and former mayor, was elected president of the league Thursday to succeed N. G. Damoose, Battle Creek city manager.

★ ★ ★

Delegates elected six new trustees to the board, naming Grand Rapids Mayor Chris Sonneveldt, Benton Harbor Mayor Wilbert F. Smith, Royal Oak Mayor L. Curtis Potter, Marquette Mayor Edward Downey Jr. and Guy C. Larcom Jr., city administrator of Ann Arbor.

Rewritten Bill on Closing of Bases Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has signed into law a bill in which Congress loosened the ties it once tried to put on military base closings.

It was a clear victory for the President and he said at Thursday's signing: "Few measures I have signed this year have so refreshed my faith in our institution of government."

★ ★ ★

This was Congress' second authorization this session of $1.78 billion for military construction.

In the first, it forbade the closing of any military base until 120 days after reports of the planned closing were supplied to Congress. And it required that these notices be sent only between Jan. 1 and April 30.

VETOED BILL

Johnson objected to the structure on the Pentagon and vetoed the bill.

Congress then rewrote the objectionable provision to require only 30 days' notice. The Jan. 1-April 30 requirement was deleted.

★ ★ ★

The authorization is for military projects in the fiscal year that began July 1. Like all authorization measures, this one merely sets a ceiling on spending. The money is provided in Senate appropriations measure.

Paciorek, 6 Others Quizzed in Probe

DETROIT (AP) —Suspended Wayne County Sheriff's Sgt. Paul Paciorek was among seven persons interviewed Thursday in the offices of Grand Juror Edward S. Piggins in connection with the county's ticket fixing investigation.

★ ★ ★

It was Paciorek's fifth appearance before Piggins. Also interviewed were two members of the "Big Five" of the road patrol, Deputy Robert J. Jones and former Deputy Gene T. Baker.

The "Big Five" touched off the scandal Aug. 14 when they charged Paciorek had helped fix thousands of traffic tickets.

Auto Parts Spokesman Says Trade Pact Would Boost Big-Firm Domination

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for U.S. auto parts manufacturers testified Thursday that a pending trade agreement with Canada would lead to further domination of the market "by a few giant corporations."

Allan L. Levine of Lowell, Mass., was among several witnesses who urged the Senate Finance Committee to reject a House - passed bill to put into effect an agreement with Canada suspending tariffs on trade in new cars and original-equipment auto parts.

★ ★ ★

Testifying for the Automotive Service Industry Association, Levine contended the agreement would strengthen the competitive position of big automobile manufacturers at the expense of the independent parts manufacturers.

Although the administration is pushing for action on the legislation before Congress adjourns and hearings had been expected to end today, Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., announced that Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz will be recalled for questioning Monday.

LOWER LABOR COST

Levine said that under the agreement U. S. auto firms can be expected to produce in Canada at lower labor cost and import duty-free parts they now buy from American companies.

"The replacement parts manufacturers in the United States will be trapped," he said, and this will result in higher cost of U.S. replacement parts since the original equipment market will be lost to some extent at least.

O.R. Strackbein, chairman of the Nationwide Committee on Import - Export policy, said an international agreement of such importance "should have been negotiated as a treaty or convention rather than signed . . . by two heads of government as an executive agreement."

★ ★ ★

"There is great danger that undesirable precedent will be established if this executive agreement is implemented by simple legislation as proposed here," he said.

Dolphin Test Termed Partial Success

LA JOLLA, Calif. (UPI) — An "educated" dolphin and two aquanauts resumed a game of hide-and-seek today 205 feet beneath the ocean. It's all in the name of science.

The experiment involving Tuffy, the trained dolphin, and aquanauts John Reeves and Ken Conda began yesterday with partial success.

Tuffy, wearing a harness with a cable, was supposed to plumb the ocean depths and "rescue" two "lost" divers at the sound of a buzzer carried by the men.

In one series of dives from the surface, Tuffy responded to the buzzer. He came within "inches" of his aquanaut target, but paused and shot back to the surface without completing his mission.

Capt. George Bond, principal investigator for the navy's Man-in-the-Sea project, said Tuffy might have been frightened by the aquanauts' paraphernalia and sounds from Sealab 2, their 200-ton, 57-foot-long underwater laboratory-home.

WITHIN INCHES

Bond said Tuffy dove to within "inches of Reeves and about 18 feet from Conda," who were about 150 feet away from Sealab 2.

"He (Tuffy) hovered there for a few seconds and then he made a vertical departure," Bond said. "His actions were bizarre, as if he were leery of the lights and sounds."

Minutes later, Tuffy returned to the aquanauts, but failed to get close enough for the men to collect pliers and screwdrivers attached to the dolphin's harness.

★ ★ ★

Tuffy also was slated to serve as a seagoing mailman, delivering a letter from Conda's wife.

QUALIFIED SUCCESS

Yesterday's experiment was considered by project officials as a qualified success. But Dr. Samuel H. Ridgeway, research veterinarian at the naval Missile Center at Point Mugu, Calif., Marine Sciences Division, said "It didn't work as well as we hoped."

Time to Move House Plants

House plants that have enjoyed a summer vacation outdoors should be moved indoors in early autumn, at least several weeks before artificial heat is turned on in homes.

This will enable plants to adapt themselves to the indoor climate without being handicapped in their adjustment by the hot, dry air of heated homes.

Plants thrive in warm, moist weather, such as that outdoors in summer. If they are not moved indoors until late fall, when the weather turns cold and homes are artificially heated, the abrupt change in their mode of living most likely will harm them.

Plants that haven't thrived outdoors during the lush days of summer are not likely to improve indoors.

★ ★ ★

At moving time, discard these "weak-sister" plants in favor of new healthy plants.

SPRAY PLANTS

Before plants are brought indoors, spray them with an insecticide to rid them of any insect pests. Scrub with brush and water the outsides of all pots to get them clean.

Remove, down to the roots, the top soil of plants still actively growing.

For replacement, use a mixture of two-thirds garden soil, one-third thoroughly rotted manure and bonemeal, at the rate of one teaspoonful to each six-inch pot.

★ ★ ★

Place the plants near windows, at sunny or shady locations they prefer, and give them routine care during the winter months.

Fescues Excellent in Blends

Even fine fescues, notably drought-resistant, suffered in some eastern locations this year, so prolonged was the dry weather. Lawns that have thinned through summer should receive bolstering immediately.

Autumn is the best time to thicken the turf, get grass started where weeds would otherwise prevail.

Kentucky bluegrass blends containing some fine fescue, in varieties such as Chewings or Pennlawn, serve the all-purpose needs of most lawns. Kentucky bluegrass varieties weave a sod second to none, while the fine fescues perform ably in the shade and on drier, poorer soils.

The fine fescues are also an excellent "nursegrass," in the sense of sprouting quickly.

In most cases a thin lawn need not be remade. If the grass is just scanty, scattering a good seed mixture at half-rate, plus lawn fertilizer once or twice through autumn, should suffice to build a thick, weed-resistant turf.

If there are sizable bare patches, scuffing the soil surface will be worth the effort, so that lawn seed settles into the soil for better rooting. On smaller lawns a sharp-tined rake or cultivating fork suffices.

For larger properties the garden tractor may have a disk or harrow attachment, or powered "vertical mowers" that slice lightly into the soil and can be rented through many equipment and garden outlets.

★ ★ ★

Chief precaution is to sow good quality seed, consisting mostly of "fine-textured" kinds (as they are now grouped on the label). You won't want to thicken a lawn so important to your landscaping with coarse bunchgrasses!

Nitrates in Water Can Be Harmful

Nitrates in water may be harmful to people and to livestock.

The most common source of excess nitrates is decomposing organic matter.

Water percolating through soils where organic decomposition is taking place may carry nitrates with it.

Will Increase Container Plantings

United States' Awareness of Beauty

America's sudden awareness of beauty will increase the use of plantings in containers, a Pennsylvania authority told Michigan nurserymen recently at Michigan State University.

But Frank Curto, Pittsburgh city horticulturist, added a word of warning.

Unless the city or company contemplating the container plantings can afford continual professional maintenance, such attempt at beautification should not be undertaken, he advised.

Curto contends that the nurserymen has a responsibility to advise his clients of the necessity for professional maintenance and its approximate contractual cost.

★ ★ ★

"No planting should be performed without the client or owner being fully apprized of the necessity of professional maintenance once the planting job is finished," he declared.

"Rare, indeed, is the maintenance worker who has the knowledge or interest to properly care for plants," he warned.

"The plant container that is poorly or improperly maintained quickly becomes the object of the worst plant pest in the world—man!" Curto continued.

"A neglected container in short order will become filled with nearly every kind of debris that man can cast off," he said. The same container with an attractive growing plant will have nothing thrown in it, he contrasted.

Growing ornamental plants in containers is an art 5,000 or more years old, Curto related.

★ ★ ★

America's sudden interest, he said, is related to the fact that pollution and exploitation of natural resources were overlooked by the young nation in its haste to acquire material things.

"Today," Curto said, "we are willing to pay almost any amount to improve the appearance of our living, working and play areas." The use of containers offers a solution in the megapolis, he proposed.

"Nothing has been found which provides the beauty, charm, solace, and mystery inherent in living plant material," Curto told the nurserymen.

★ ★ ★

"Growing plants in containers is, and will be, the only solution to give comfort and joy amid the jumble of asphalt, concrete, masonry, steel, aluminum, glass and plastics," he concluded.

Air Cushion for Mowers

An intriguing, new idea in lawn mowers is here, — a mower that rides on a cushion of air rather than wheels.

It's much like the hover craft now being experimented with for use in roadless areas.

A rotor fan blows a curtain of air deflected downward by the turtle-like housing. This is sufficient to hold the mower slightly above ground level. In the "eye" of this "miniature hurricane" is the rotary cutting blade.

On level surfaces the air cushion mower glides easily; it can be pushed, pulled or slid sideways.

Present models do not adjust cutting height upward to more than about 1½ inches. For the best liked lawngrasses, Kentucky bluegrass-fine fescue, this is optimum only in cooler weather.

★ ★ ★

Where summers are difficultly dry and hot higher mowing may be preferred. Lawn bentgrasses such as Highland, customarily mowed no more than an inch tall, are not disadvantaged.

Although air cushion mowing is not likely to supplant the conventional sort with wheeled units, it is a fresh approach that has already stimulated new design.

It is best suited to well-kept lawns that are level and regularly tended.

Maturity Date Listed on Seed Packets

The maturity date on seed packets is the average number of days from the time the seeds are sown or plants are set in open ground until first harvest.

★ ★ ★

Season, altitude, type of soil, rainfall and other factors can cause it to vary considerably, however.

Mixing about 10 to 20 pounds of ground corn (medium grind) per 100 pounds of grass seed helps get the seed into the ground evenly without drill plugging.

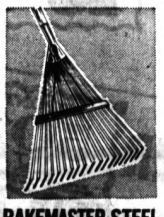

It requires seven gardeners to care for Rockefeller Center's extensive gardening program which uses 30,000 plants a year; 20,000 of them in the Channel Gardens.

Acre Yields 1,000 Pounds

A pound of Kentucky bluegrass seed contains over two million seeds.

Top-notch growers can achieve yields of 1000 lbs. per acre.

Indoor-Outdoor Living With Back Yard Patio

It's indoor-outdoor living the year around with a patio that extends from your rear picture window or wall.

With the hottest part of the summer ahead you still have time to plan and build a patio that will increase your living space during those hot days when you need extra room, says Joe Cox, Michigan State University extension specialist in landscape Architecture.

You'll find your patio just as enjoyable during the winter months if you plan an artistic composition that creates an ever changing mural from November to March.

Cox suggests pacing out the area in your yard that is used for outdoor activities. It will probably be bigger than your living room. "And it should be," exclaims Cox.

* * *

OUTDOOR LIVING

And you'll want shelter, privacy, shade and convenient access to the kitchen or living room for your outdoor living area.

Cox suggests you study your family's way of living and develop your landscape plan around this pattern.

If you expect to use your patio frequently you will want a ground cover other than grass. Brick, flagstone, concrete, concrete blocks or field stone make good paving.

* * *

Remember that the most beautiful home grounds are those that blend naturally with the surroundings. Take advantage of natural setting and native flowers and shrubs, Cox advises.

But he recommends that home owners curb their desires for a great variety of plants and shrubs. Too many plants complicate the care and do not add to the overall effect.

Select plants for their mature effect. Avoid substitutions which give the temporary effect right now. You will also be wise to select plants which are slow growing, since the maintenance requirements are lower.

When planning your patio keep its year around effect in mind. Use textured surfaces, artistically branched plants and weathered art objects for a serviceable summer living area and a pleasing winter scene.

State Conservationist Honored at Meeting

The Michigan State Association of Soil Conservation Districts, Inc., honored Allan J. Collins, State Conservationist, U.S. Soil Conservation Service, at its recent annual summer meeting held at Camp Ketf near Dustin.

The Association's Soil Conservation Certificate of Merit was awarded to Collins for rendering outstanding service in furthering the cause of soil and water conservation.

The National Chrysanthemum Society's 22nd annual flower show is scheduled at Morristown, N.J., Oct. 23-24. The theme will be "Colonial Heritage."

Two Films on Loan List

Two beautiful, informative films, one of interest to home gardeners and the second to those decorating their home interiors, are being offered free on a loan basis to women's and garden clubs, church groups, PTA's and schools.

"A Green Thumb for Macauley," a 16mm, 14 minute film in color, depicts planning, planting and maintaining a garden.

The second film, "Home Decorating Made Easy," is filled with decorating ideas.

Part of this 16mm, 14 minute color film is devoted to showing how easy it is to lay a resilient tile floor.

Both films were directed by leading authorities.

They are available from the American Society of Interior Design, 331 Madison Avenue, New York, New York 10017.

Children Learn Care of Flowers

At the Charles Andrews School in Syracuse, N. Y., the children do not trample the lawns or flower beds. They have helped teach themselves not to.

A grimy thumb is a prestige symbol. Youngsters who beautify the schoolgrounds are given recognition.

The Syracuse Men's Garden Club last year gave the pupils an award for beautifying the city.

This year club members have been invited to talk to the pupils about trees and seedlings.

They've also been invited to lend their spreaders, and knowledge of potting and dividing plants.

Rose Society in Washington

October is rose convention time in our nation's capital. The American Rose Society's Fall Convention with the Potomac Rose Society as convention host, will be held in Washington, D.C. October 2, 3, 4 and 5, 1965.

* * *

Convention headquarters will be the Shoreham Hotel and Motor Inn, located at Connecticut Avenue and Calvert Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., overlooking the Rock Creek Park.

Many interesting and informative speakers, panels, meetings and banquets for and about the rose will liven the four-day convention. Panels that may be of particular interest are "What's New in the Rose World," headed by Dr. R. C. Allen, Treasurer of the American Rose Society.

Dr. Cynthia Westcott, renown plant pathologist and Trustee of the American Rose Foundation will be moderator for a panel of research specialists that will discuss "Rose Problems and Latest Information."

"Tests conducted in 1965 by the Texas Rose Research Foundation" will be the topic of a speech to be given by Dr. Eldon W. Lyle, Plant Pathologist for the Foundation.

HIGHLIGHTS

One of the highlights of the convention will be the National Rose Show. The show will be dedicated to "Our Country — America The Beautiful."

Trophies will be awarded on the national, district and local rose society levels.

The rose show is being held October 2 and 3, at the United States Botanic Gardens, Maryland Avenue between First and Second Streets, S. W. Entries for the show will be received between 8 and 11 a.m. on Saturday at the Botanic Gardens.

Bitterweed Hunt Launched in South

They're searching for bitterweed at Florida State University. Werner Herz a plant chemist, has sent out an urgent call for help in locating the plant which is being used in research.

* * *

It is being used, according to Herz, to fill a request by the Cancer Chemotherapy National Service Center, for tenulin, a substance which has been found to inhibit growth of some tumors.

* * *

Herz volunteered to take a group of graduate students out to harvest the crop if anyone could help him locate a large patch near Tallahassee.

When Herz first began his study with bitterweed in 1956, he was able to find it in large quantities, but it is no longer so plentiful.

The Door to Higher Education—5

Choice Should Cover More Than Size, Prestige of Institution

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth article in a nine-part series designed for those planning to attend college. The series is written by John C. Hoy, dean of admissions at Wesleyan University in Connecticut.)

By JOHN C. HOY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Americans receive a great deal of training in buying on the basis of "name" and size.

Whatever its value in everyday life, this procedure just does not make sense in selecting a college.

There are more than 2,200 accredited, four-year colleges and universities in this country. An unparalleled dimension of choice is open to prospective students and their parents.

Nevertheless, the thinking of far too many students and parents is obscured by the feeling that perhaps 50 of those 2,200 institutions are the "in" places to go.

* * *

At Wesleyan University we face this problem to some degree. My advice to students who seem to be applying because of Wesleyan's "prestige" is to think again and decide what they really seek in a college education.

NO SUBSTITUTE

Basking in supposed "prestige" is no substitute for an education.

Furthermore, in entirely practical terms, many who first go to a college or university for superficial reasons eventually wake up and become very unhappy. Some are so disillusioned that they drop out.

The naivete of this "prestige" business can easily be demonstrated. Consider the case of current and recent presidents of three renowned universities, Brown, Duke and Harvard.

All three were formerly presidents of Lawrence University in Appleton, Wis. The energy and leadership that these distinguished men have so impressively displayed for their "name" institutions was earlier matched by their service at one small Wisconsin college.

MANY UNKNOWNS

In fact, an extraordinary number of distinguished university presidents, professors and researchers have attended and taught in comparatively unknown institutions.

A Knapp - Goodrich study, "The Origins of American Scientists," reveals that on a scale of the "production" of scientists, 40 of America's top 50 institutions are small liberal arts colleges. Many of these are of limited reputation.

Most are located in the Middle and Far West. Only three large, well-known institutions — Johns Hopkins, Chicago and Wisconsin — were listed at all among the top 50.

* * *

Similar studies of the collegiate background of business and industrial leaders indicates that the better known institutions have no corner on the market when it comes to producing unusually successful men and women.

DISTORT THINKING

Size is another factor that often distorts the thinking of prospective students as they consider the colleges and universities to which they will apply.

The current bias seems to be against "bigness." Needless to say, we of Wesleyan have a well-developed awareness of the advantages offered by a relatively small campus and a high ratio of faculty to students.

But no one of us would agree with the exaggerated fears that an education at a large institution reduces the students to being "just another number."

* * *

In fact, because of their size many larger institutions are able to offer a great deal more individualized attention to students.

ROUNDED STAFFS

Personnel services at many state universities have well-rounded professional staffs working in vocational guidance and planning, job placement, psychological testing and counseling, psychiatric clinics, complete with medical and health services as well as academic counseling.

The problem facing prospective students, their secondary school advisers and their parents is to choose the school for which the student is best suited.

Any student with initiative to seek out the multiplicity of services offered at large universities can enjoy a very complete education at such an institution.

* * *

Dad's "alma mater" can be a real problem. How many dads who went to Siwash feel their sons ought to go there, too? In such instances, Junior is forced, unwittingly, to support dad's enthusiasm although he has severe reservations about practically all of his father's old college buddies.

All that can be said here is that alumni sons, above all others, should be critical of dad's college. They should be permitted to measure the place as objectively as possible.

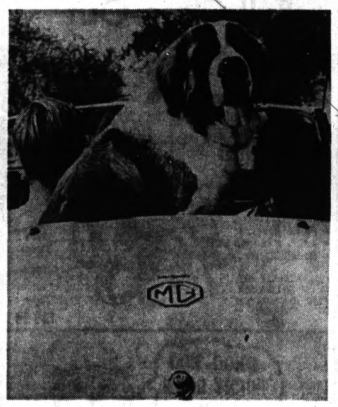

The parent truly interested in his son — rather than his own reincarnation — will encourage the young man to recognize that the education he is seeking is for himself.

Besides, after 25 years, Siwash really isn't the same old place anyway.

'MY CAR'—Many dogs like to chase automobiles when they get the chance, but Heidi Bel, a 100-pound St. Bernard from Denver, feels she owns this one. She lets her owner, Gary Wayne (left), 21, drive and his girlfriend, Pam Zarit, ride in it.

Police Get Confession

Priest Hears Murder Denied

DETROIT (UPI)—The Wayne County prosecutor's office was expected today to ask for psychiatric examination for a 43-year-old man who confessed he beat his mother to death three years ago, then told a priest he did not commit the crime.

Alfred Tracz told assistant prosecutor Max Silverman he was confessing the slaying of Mrs. Angeline Tracz, 64, to "get it off his conscience."

He said they quarreled over money she demanded he give her for support.

After confessing, he asked for a priest, and when the priest arrived, he said he did not kill his mother.

* * *

Silverman said a murder warrant would be sought today, but that he also would ask a sanity commission to examine Tracz.

WAGON AXLE

In his confession, Tracz said he killed his mother either Sept. 12 or 13 by beating her to death with an axle from a child's wagon.

At the time, he told police he found his mother's body when he went to the house after being unable to reach her on the telephone for three days.

Tracz is married and the father of seven children. He has been separated since July from his wife, Catherine, after he allegedly beat her and his oldest son, Tommy, 15.

* * *

The wife and other relatives, questioned by the prosecutor's office, said they believe Tracz confessed to his mother's murder in an effort to get his wife and family to return to him.

Mrs. Tracz said her husband had told her he would confess if she did not return.

LOW BRIDGE — Oriskany Creek bridge near Utica, N.Y., collapsed yesterday under the weight of a truck, and it and its cargo of lime fell into rocks and water. Driver Kenneth L. Hazzard, 53, of North Brookfield, N.Y., escaped with minor abrasions to the face. The sign limiting weight to six tons had been removed (his load was eight).

Lansing Soldier in Line to Be 1st GI to Adopt Viet Tot

LANSING (AP) — He almost had to leave her, but now there is a good chance that when Spec. 4 William Kendall comes home from the Viet Nam war Sept. 29, he'll become the first U.S. soldier to adopt a Vietnamese child.

Kendall thought he already had adopted 9-month-old Michele Marie, one of 38 abandoned children in a Vietnamese orphanage.

But federal officials wouldn't recognize the adoption and thus would not let Kendall bring the little, dark-eyed girl back with him to Lansing.

The reason: Kendall's wife, Sandra, never had seen the girl.

Camille Sam Abood, Lansing attorney representing Mrs. Kendall, said Thursday that U.S. Rep. Charles Chamberlain, R-Mich., arranged for a temporary visa to allow Michele Marie to enter the country.

The news reached Mrs. Kendall on her 28th birthday. "It's the biggest and best birthday present I ever got," she said.

The Kendalls, married seven years, have no children of their own. Abood said Mrs. Kendall had been contemplating going to Saigon to see the girl so U.S. authorities would recognize the adoption.

"This isn't a complete ending," Abood said. "We have to formalize the adoption now in Michigan. We hope that will just be a matter of procedure."

Earlier, Mrs. Kendall reported "My husband said he's not about to come home without her (Michele Marie). He's seen too much of what goes on there. He had intended to reenlist, but decided against that since he might be reassigned and lose the baby."

Chamberlain first introduced a private bill in Congress to help the girl. It still is pending. Then he interceded with the State Department to obtain a temporary visa for the girl.

Abood said Chamberlain also has cabled Saigon to confirm travel arrangements for Michele Marie and Kendall, who has been stationed in Viet Nam 13 months.

Briton Sees Threat to European Industry

ROME (AP) — British Defense Minister Denis Healey was quoted today as saying European members of the Atlantic alliance must build more of their weapons or become "an industrial protectorate of the United States."

The weekly magazine Vita quoted him as saying Britain would try for a larger share of the western European weapon market.

"Either the Europeans decide to cooperate more between themselves and jointly build their airplanes, cannons, armored car, or the European industries must resign themselves to closing down in the not too distant future," Vita quoted him as saying.

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Police continued the search today for 28 pounds of deadly potassium cyanide stolen from an African messenger in downtown Johannesburg.

Press reports said the poison was enough to kill 100,000 persons on contact.

The poison was stolen Wednesday when a messenger was on the way to deliver it to a firm for use in a chrome plating process.

The messenger parked his bicycle with the package outside a shop while he made a purchase. When he came out, both package and bicycle had gone.

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet housewife complained to Izvestia today that her husband makes too much money and squanders it carousing with fellow coal miners.

"On Monday, they go to work with hangovers," she wrote to the government paper.

The wife complained that miners get a bonus on Saturday for overfulfilling production quotas, and treat it as a windfall. If the money were included in the regular salary, they might appreciate its value, she said.

LONDON (AP) — Keepers at the Regent's Park Zoo came up with a large problem today: an elephant that eats coats.

The mixed-up beast is a 14-year-old Indian elephant named Lahksmi.

Recently, Lahksmi snatched out a child's coat from a shopping bag and ate it and has been slyly grabbing every loose coat ever since. Keeper Stan Smith has been hard put to keep more pieces of haberdashery from winding up in Lahksmi's stomach.

House Dems Postpone Tax Decision 5 Days

LANSING (AP)—House Democrats have postponed all tax decisions for five days.

The postponement came in the face of a choice between a $150 million fiscal reform plan backed by Gov. George Romney and a $60 million business profits plan supported by House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit.

* * *

A Democratic leader, meanwhile, said he could not detect any signs of possible success in the move for immediate fiscal reform as the legislature adjourned for a long weekend Thursday.

"There will be no fiscal reform this fall, according to my tally of the votes — especially now that we have this plan from Kowalski," said Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, caucus chairman.

A Democratic position on fiscal reform was to be made at a caucus Tuesday, Kowalski said. The Senate voted Thursday to put taxes on the autumn agenda, but House approval of all agenda items is required.

A few hours after Romney pleaded for immediate fiscal reform in order to prevent deficit spending by 1968, Kowalski proposed his plan, to be presented to the 1966 session.

In a special message to a joint session of the legislature Romney told lawmakers that "only an income tax can provide the revenue needed for both tax reform and financial responsibility."

* * *

He pleaded for support for a bipartisan plan worked out earlier between him and a group of Republican and Democratic lawmakers. It includes a 3 per cent personal income tax, a 5 per cent levy on corporations and financial institutions, repeal of some intangibles taxes, a 12.5 per cent credit on property taxes and a 3-cent-per-pack hike in the cigarette tax.

NOT NOW

Kowalski told the Democratic caucus later:

"It is possible that some time in the future, Michigan will need and have an income tax. But Michigan doesn't need one now, and if we can even postpone for a time the day of a state tax on people's incomes, I think that is what the people want us to do."

* * *

Kowalski said his plan called for a 5.5 per cent levy on business profits, a reduction of about $11 million on the beer tar and repeal of the business activities tax which would cost the state about $104 million in revenues annually.

Kowalski later retracted the figures, saying, "they are yet to be determined." Factors in determining the business tax, he said, would be the state's revenue needs and the corporate income tax rates now levied in 38 other states.

NEXT FEBRUARY

Such a determination, he added, probably would be made "about next February."

* * *

A Democratic spokesman said later that "the plan originally called for a 5.5 per cent rate—but we may decide to peg it right at the national average, which is 5.25 per cent, or even below it, say at 5 per cent.

* * *

"This, coupled with the business activities tax repeal and a $10 million to $11 million reduction in the beer tax would net the state $55 million to $60 million a year in new revenue," he added.

The plan, he said, "is somewhat similar to one that has been proposed by Gus Scholle (state AFL-CIO president), but as it stands it is all Kowalski's."

GROWING DEMAND

Kowalski also repeated the growing Democratic demand for a graduated, rather than a flat-rate, income tax. Included in his proposal is a joint resolution calling for a popular vote on the repeal of the constitutional prohibition against a graduated income tax.

* * *

Romney talked down the idea earlier, saying, "If further improvements (in the state's tax structure) are needed, they can be made later. But as leaders we cannot expect the people to tell us ahead of time what to do in meeting critical problems such as these."

* * *

The House Democratic caucus agreed to most of the 22 items on the fall session agenda approved by the Senate but ignored the fiscal reform item for the time being.

House Democrats struck county home rule and regulation of second mortgages from the Senate-approved list of topics. They added Mackinac Bridge refinancing. Among subjects mutually agreed upon are welfare department mergers and milk pricing legislation.

* * *

House Republicans backed the Michigan Bridge addition, but said they would fight for legislative consideration of topics listed by Romney in his morning speech.

They include a $125,000 allocation for a water-use study, implementation of the federal Medicare program, reorganization of the Michigan National Guard and further implementation of the government reorganization bill, including the setting of salaries for top administrators.

* * *

They will be able to wage their fight in the House Policy Committee and on the floor of the House—but they are in a minority in both places.

Unwelcome Guests Finally Discovered

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — For several mornings in a row, secretaries in an airlines office at Love Field noticed that things had been disturbed during the night — a flower pot was overturned, paper clips were scattered about and a set of filing cabinet keys, ordinarily kept hidden beneath a typewriter, were found tossed under a desk.

The culprit was discovered when secretary Lois Groenink opened a stationery cabinet and came face to face with the prowler, who was clad in a gray fur coat and wore a black face mask.

The unwelcome visitor, a raccoon, was taken into custody by workers from the city animal shelter.

He apparently had entered the office through an open air vent.

Pentagon Tells Cause of Missile Silo Blast

WASHINGTON (AP) — An explosion in a Titan missile silo near Searcy, Ark., last month was caused by a welder's torch bumping against a line carrying inflammable fluid, Pentagon investigators have reported.

The Aug. 10 blast killed 53 civilian workers, presumably including the unnamed welder.

Romney Asks Enabling Law on Medicare

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney Thursday urged the legislature to move speedily to allow Michigan to take fullest advantage of new benefits allowed under the federal Medicare program.

It was the second special message to the legislature of the day for the governor. Unlike his tax plea, made in person, the Medicare message was delivered to the desks of the legislators.

* * *

Romney said he already has appointed an interdepartmental committee to work with federal authorities on a comprehensive medical program for Michigan. Information available at the present time is incomplete, he said.

"At this time," said Romney, "there are approximately 4,300 mentally ill patients in state hospitals in Michigan 65 years of age or older.

"Available data indicates a major percentage of these will qualify for either old age assistance or medical aid assistance and that the state will be entitled to an estimated $4.5 million annually in federal funds."

Youth's Plastic Ball Survives Ocean Trip

SEABURN, Ireland (UPI) — Keith Mackey, 6, recently let a red plastic soccer ball get away from him and watched hopelessly as it floated away in the ocean.

However, the ball had his name and address stenciled on it. Several days later, it was mailed to him from a coastal town 200 miles away.

Europe covers 3.8 million square miles and has a population of 550 million. It is the world's smallest continent.

HOLLYWOOD—For funnyman Lou Holtz, that two-week booking in Minneapolis a dozen years ago seemed like the end of the trail.

THOMAS

He had been a top comedian in vaudeville, Broadway shows on radio, but suddenly he didn't feel like making people laugh any more. His wife had just divorced him, and he was admittedly carrying a torch. As if that were't enough to depress him, he had also lost half of his $700,000 fortune in the settlement.

* * *

Holtz had accepted the appearance, hoping to catch some baseball games that might cheer him up. He gazed out his hotel window morosely. The month was May, and it was snowing.

"I came back to California figuring I would quit the business," he recalls, "and I did."

BURSTS OF ACTIVITY

Today he is experiencing a burst of activity with his joke-telling career. And at 72 he is the father of two sons, 2 years and 5 months. His wife is 34, and he says of his marriage: "Compared to us, Romeo and Juliet were mad at each other."

* * *

Holtz is continuing a career that began when he was 16 and singing in a roadhouse at the beach near his native San Francisco. Elsie Janis caught his act, liked it and his style and invited him to come to New York. She worked him into a singing trio that toured vaudeville.

* * *

The trio later trimmed down to a double, and Lou had a brief marriage with his partner. He moved on to his own act, spacing out his songs with jokes. The laughs were only tepid until Max Gordon advised him to try blackface because he looked too young for a comic.

* * *

"From then on, the audiences were with me all the way," he said.

$1,000 A WEEK

By 1921 he was earning $1,000 a week in George White's Scandals. In 1931 he played the Palace for 13 weeks at $6,000 per. The next year he headed his own vaudeville show on Broadway, clearing $13,000 a week. Such earnings helped replenish the million he had lost in the Wall Street crash.

Then came radio.

* * *

"I was invited to appear on the Rudy Vallee Hour, which was then the biggest show on the air," said Holtz. "I was such a smash they kept asking me back. After five or six weeks I started running out of material. I asked all my friends for stories I could tell, and I did them in dialect — French, German, Italian, Jewish.

* * *

"John Reber, the head of the advertising agency on the Vallee show, heard me tell a story about Sam Lapidus and he said, 'From now on, nothing but Lapidus stories.'

Miss America's Mother Easy to Spot

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — In the American history classroom at the University of Missouri, it was easy to spot the mother of Miss America. Not because she was older than the others, but — wow!

Mama is a knockout.

At 43, the mother of two children, Irene Bryant has a figure that could rival that of her daughter— Miss America of 1966. And those statistics read 36-23-36.

"When I was a freshman at Kansas University in 1939, my sorority asked me to compete in a contest, but I didn't win," says Mrs. Bryant. "That was as close as I ever got to a beauty crown. And I've even forgotten what contest it was."

LEFT COLLEGE

She didn't finish college and last summer, because of a divorce and grown children, she enrolled at the University of Missouri's Kansas City campus.

Mrs. Bryant is finishing work for a bachelor's degree in education. She is a senior and will continue after graduation next summer for a master's in speech pathology.

★ ★ ★

Miss America wants to be a pediatrician. Mama America wants to do speech therapy with children.

How goes it as a student?

"Let me put it this way," she says. "I'm much better than I was 25 years ago. In summer school, I had an A in four hours and a B in another four. It's not quite as good as Debbie's. She had only one B-plus and the rest A's in her two years at Christian College.

'KEEN MIND'

"She has a keen mind. I wouldn't begin to take the courses she does."

Every turn of the conversation came back to Debbie. Does this indicate Mrs. Bryant is the stereotype of the pushy mother who nudges her daughter to success.

★ ★ ★

"I don't feel like a stage mother," said Mrs. Bryant, "because I didn't encourage her in dancing and dramatics. I've never greatly valued a career in the arts for her. In fact, Debbie's registered complaints because I didn't give her those lessons.

"I think she has the type of beauty that radiates from within and that's the real kind of beauty."

NOT SO CHUBBY

In an interview, Debbie had said she was chubby at 12. It wasn't so, said Mrs. Bryant.

"She always thought that because her brother was always teasing her. And her pediatrician used to kid her that he was going to put her on a diet. But when she was 15, he didn't say it any more."

★ ★ ★

The brother, Douglas, is 21 and has been in the Army for two years. He is stationed at Ft. Devens, Mass. Debbie's father, whom Mrs. Bryant divorced in June 1964, is a civilian fire prevention engineer assigned to the 13th Air Force at Clark AFB in the Philippines, but has recently been in Viet Nam.

Mrs. Bryant doesn't expect to see much of Debbie in the next year.

NOT WORRIED

"I saw at Atlantic City how well she is chaperoned an I'm not worried. It has been of some concern to me how she would react to all the fuss that's made over a Miss America.

"But she received similar honors in the past and she's remained the same sweet, unaffected girl.

"It makes you feel kind of presumptuous to even enter something like the Miss America contest. And then you begin to think 'someone has to win.' Why shouldn't it be us."

Horrified Mother Watches Bus Drag Son Down Road for Mile

OREGON CITY, Ore. (AP) — As his mother watched in horror, 7-year-old Clay Moncrief was dragged down a rural highway for a mile by a school bus filled with his classmates.

The bus driver, unaware of the boy's plight, continued on to his next stop before the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Truitt Moncrief, caught up.

★ ★ ★

Clay was standing beside the front tire, dazed and in shock. His feet and legs were raw and bleeding, his cowboy boots were burned off and his clothes were in shreds.

From his hospital bed, where his condition today was satisfactory, the boy said: "I kept hitting the pavement and it hurt. Once I almost got caught under the wheels."

RETURNING HOME

Mrs. Moncrief reconstructed the accident which occurred as the children were returning home from school Wednesday afternoon.

"I was standing in the kitchen when the bus drove up in front. Then the bus pulled away and I heard Clay scream. His fingers were caught in the front door of the bus.

"I screamed for my husband, grabbed my glasses, and ran. In the front yard I tripped and fell. Then we were both in the car, chasing the bus, and I could hear Clay screaming."

There were 38 first- and second-grade children in the bus. Driver William Dickman said he couldn't hear the boy's screams and that he was in a spot that didn't show in the rear view mirror.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Moncrief said all the skin was burned off Clay's heels and knees and that a skin graft might be necessary on the left knee.

Inmates Want Stripes Traded for Army Duds

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — A number of Utah State Prison inmates tried to trade uniforms, but the military said no.

★ ★ ★

Joyce Gray of Salt Lake City said Thursday 105 prisoners signed a petition offering to serve with the armed forces in Viet Nam if they were given their freedom. Mrs. Gray's brother, Donald Buck, an inmate, helped initiate the petition.

★ ★ ★

But Navy Lt. Robert F. Lenhartz, induction officer at Salt Lake's Ft. Douglas, said the armed services won't accept volunteers with prison records.

And Warden John W. Turner said the plan was not feasible.

Student Is Failing to Think as He Studies

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: I am 16 years of age and a junior in high school. I have a study problem. When I do homework that takes me a long time, I get the same results the next day as though I had never opened a book. I.Q. tests show I am not stupid. I do well in math and science. Foreign languages give me trouble, and this summer I repeated French II for the second time.

I class myself as a "mystery" because something is wrong and because my parents can't seem to help me despite their efforts.

Please try to give me some advice.

N.F.J., Syracuse, N. Y.

You obviously have the ability to read and understand, since you do well in math and science. Your satisfactory results on I.Q. tests substantiate this assumption.

In some things, you are failing to think as you study. In languages, you must learn to think in the language; that is, as you read, get a mental picture of what is being said without translating into English. This may take several readings of each paragraph before you proceed to the next. In all of your studies, stop and think over what was said in a section of material before proceeding to the next.

Dear Dr. Nason: I have a problem that has now reached a point where I must do something to correct it. The base of all my failures seems to be my lack of ability to remember.

During my 12 years in school, I found it hard to retain the material in my mind and, therefore, received low grades. I can read a newspaper item and a few minutes later am unable to repeat what I have read.

Advancement on my job in a department store seems doubtful because I cannot remember the names of the materials used in the business. My friends say I should go to school again but what would be the point if I could not remember the work?

Is there any hope that I can ever solve this problem?

H.D., Clifton, N. J.

You must give up the habit of not remembering. You can develop the ability to remember if you go about it systematically and expend enough effort. Immediately after reading a newspaper article think to yourself what was said. Expect to remember it.

On the job, pick out two or three materials the names of which you have difficulty remembering. Think about the names. Associate them with something that you know very well and recall the whole idea five minutes later. As you get a few names firmly fixed in your memory and associated with other ideas so that you can readily recall them, other names can be added to your memory.

By JACOBY & SON

Any list of the greatest bridge players of all time would find the name of John Crawford at or very near the top. Johnny burst on the tournament scene at the age of 18 and now approaching 50 he claims to have retired from tournament competition.

JACOBY

We hope it is one of those retirements that won't stick. He has usually been an opponent, but recently he sat South as Oswald Jacoby's partner in an all-expert rubber bridge game.

Like all top players Johnny is slam-minded and planned to bid a slam as soon as North raised his two-heart bid to three.

There was nothing sensational about this decision. Any good bridge player would want to be in a slam also. The difference between Johnny and most bridge players is the way that Johnny got the slam. Ordinary players would have used Blackwood immediately over North's three-heart call. Johnny wasted one round by bidding four clubs on the way up.

The bid looks pointless indeed. In fact, it looks worse than pointless. The one lead Johnny wanted was a club. Why should he bid clubs and stop that lead?

The answer is that Johnny knew his West opponent. Sure enough West reviewed the bidding carefully and asked himself, "Why did Johnny bid the club suit at all?"

Then West came to the conclusion that Johnny was trying to stop a club lead. West opened a club and the slam made.

Of course, only a diamond lead would beat the slam and if Johnny had bid the hand simply there is no telling what West would have opened. All we can point out is that Johnny got West to make the lead that Johnny wanted him to make.

♥♦ CARD Sense ♠♣

Q—The bidding has been:

What do you lead?

A—This is a really tough problem. Any lead is likely to be bad, but we favor the irregular lead of the four of hearts. If partner can produce the nine of hearts this lead may beat the contract.

Surnames (Like Bugg) Don't Mean What They Seem

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — If your last name is Belcher it doesn't mean you had an ancestor renowned for burping. It comes from a word meaning someone pretty—bel-chere.

★ ★ ★

If your name is Allbones, be proud of it. It derives from Alban, the first British martyr. And if your name is Onion, don't despair. It's from the good and ancient Welsh personal name, Enion.

★ ★ ★

Shacklady—and there are lots of them in England—comes not from some onetime refined lady reduced to living in a hovel. Shacklady is a variation of Shakerley, a hamlet in Lancashire.

★ ★ ★

James Pennethorne Hughes discusses these names—and hundreds more—in his just published book: "Is Thy Name Wart? The Origins of Some Curious and Other Surnames."

SOME ARE CURIOUS

"Some surnames which appear ordinary are in fact curious," says the author. "Others which appear grotesque are, when allowances have been made for medieval spelling, almost universal illiteracy, the error of copyists, and the vagaries of English dialect, straightforward enough."

With hints and a number of source book suggestions, Hughes has written a 128-page book full of fascinating facts about surnames, many of them found in the United States.

★ ★ ★

As he emphasizes, the great majority of them are not what they seem. Take the last name Bugg.

"One thing the surname certainly does not come from," says the author, "is the insect. The bug proper was not known in this country in the Middle Ages."

SCANDINAVIAN ANCESTRY

Hughes says Bugg may come from an old Scandinavian name meaning deity, or from burgh or borough.

The Normans apparently introduced last names to this country. The recording, by parishes, of all births, marriages and deaths was required. This was unpopular and many refused to comply.

★ ★ ★

The surname business was so haphazard, that until 1910, in Yorkshire, the Rev. Sabine Baring-Gould found many men born with a name in one spelling, who were married under another, and buried under a third.

★ ★ ★

Bridges, Briggs and Burgess, Hughes says, can all be from some ancient emigrant from Bruges who settled in England. Cullen can be from Cologne. Pickard and Packard came from Picardy across the English Channel.

HOUSE OF STONE

Newbold, he reasons, comes from a man who built a rather grand house, for bolt means a house of stone or timber when most homes were fashioned from wattle.

★ ★ ★

Wade, he says, is a synonym for Ford, or a person who lived near the spot where a creek or river was forded. Bellows is from bell house.

★ ★ ★

Calvert may not be as elegant as it sounds. The author finds it comes from the occupation of calf-herding, a man who looked after a pack of calves.

★ ★ ★

Lush and Lusher are not from hitting the bottle, but from the honorable office of Usher. Horn, he says, is a name of great antiquity, coming from a parish in Kent.

NOTHING FUNNY

There's nothing f nny about the origin of Snodgrass and the good old English name of Sneezum.

★ ★ ★

In the dialects, Snod meant smooth, or pruned, and so it meant residence at a well kept lawn.

Sneezum comes from Snet which means wise.

Preps Kick Off Season With Full Schedule on Tap Tonight

Waterford Contest Closest Tonight; Only St. Mike Plays Home

Numerous opening game rivalries—some perennial, others recently developed — and four league contests highlight the 33 area high school football tilts today.

Three kickoffs are 3:30 p.m. Four more area gridiron teams will play tomorrow and 10 more will start Sunday.

Ironically, although 43 prep games will be played in the Pontiac area this weekend, the last one is the only one within the city boundaries.

St. Michael will light the Wisner Stadium playing field when it entertains Detroit St. Bernard at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. The closest game this evening is the West Bloomfield - at-Waterford affair on the township gridiron.

Reviewing today's schedule:

SAGINAW VALLEY

The only full league slate has Pontiac Central at Saginaw Arthur Hill, Flint Southwestern at Bay City Central, Bay City Handy at Flint Northern and Saginaw at Midland.

The home team is favored in each, although the PCH tilt could be the closest of the four SVC 8 p.m. clashes.

TRI-COUNTY TEAMS

Defending Tri-County League champion Kettering will play Lake Orion in the annual non-league opener for each. Both are unknown quantities, but the edge should lie with the Waterford eleven.

Romeo, the pre-season favorite, has a visit to Richmond, a definite underdog. Lapeer travels to Flushing and Oxford will be host to Clarkston. Clarkston is a solid favorite.

OAKLAND A TEAMS

Rochester, an Oakland A League underdog, is a slight favorite to take perennial foe Utica. The two teams have averaged better than five touchdowns per game in their meetings.

Avondale isn't favored, however, to surprise host Milford as it did last September. Clawson could have its hands full with Lamphere and Madison may not enjoy its overnight trip to Oscoda, a 1964 unbeaten.

Pontiac Northern of the Inter-Lakes League hopes to spoil Troy's opener, while both Warren O-A entries, Fitzgerald and Cousino, may have problems entertaining Hazel Park and Warren, respectively.

NORTHWEST SUBURBAN

Afternoon games involve two of the Northwest Suburban League squads. Oak Park is at Bloomfield Hills, and North Farmington plays host to Livonia Clarenceville.

The other 3:30 p.m. contest has Livonia Bentley at Farmington of the I-L.

SOUTHEASTERN MICHIGAN

The night's largest crowd should fill Seaholm Stadium for the Maples' encounter with crosstown rival Birmingham Groves.

Other SEMA squads opening are Ferndale which is picked to top Royal Oak Dondero, Southfield (favored over Detroit Thurston), and Berkley (a toss-up tilt with East Detroit).

OTHER CONTESTS

Other area schools' opening games tonight see Almont at Hartland, Dryden at Mayville, Holly at Flint Bendle, Ortonville Brandon at Lakeville, South Lyon at Brighton, Plymouth at Northville Emmanuel Christian at Linden, Fenton at Howell, Vassar at Millington and Capac at Imlay City.

★ ★ ★

Saturday morning Country Day will entertain Webberville at 10:30 in Birmingham. Mount Clemens L'Anse Creuse will play at 2:30 p.m. in Fraser.

The annual Walled Lake Kimball season opener is tomorrow night in Royal Oak. A full schedule of Catholic League activity is set for Sunday.

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS

Los Angeles Unit Has Weight Advantage

Lions 'Fearsome Foursome' vs. Rams 'Ferocious Four'

FEARSOME FOURSOME — Long time known as the "Fearsome Foursome" of the NFL, the Lions defensive front line made up of (left to right) Sam Williams, Roger Brown, Alex Karras and Darris McCord, will tangle with the LA Rams Sunday afternoon in the season opener of National Football League teams.

LA Quartet to Be Minus Lamar Lundy

Coast Team Favored in Season Opener at Tiger Stadium

By BRUNO V. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

It will be the "Fearsome Foursome" against the "Ferocious Four" when the Detroit Lions and Los Angeles Rams tangle Sunday at Tiger Stadium in the opening day of the National Football League.

Five years ago, this writer tagged the front four of the Lions with defensive ends Darris McCord and Bill Glass and tackles Roger Brown and Alex Karras as the Fearsome Foursome.

Sammy Williams since has replaced Glass at one of the end positions but for years the tough Lions' front four were regarded as the best in the league.

Other teams, such as the Giants and Packers, have used the tag "Fearsome Foursome" to describe their front four, but the most evident successors to the Lions' quartet are with the Rams, regarded as the biggest unit ever in history of the NFL.

RAMS' BIG FOUR

The big four include ends Lamar Lundy, 6-7, 275 and Deacon Jones, 6-5, 260; tackles Merlin Olsen, 6-5, 275 and Roosevelt Grier, 6-5, 285.

Lundy will be missing Sunday from the Ferocious Four due to recent minor surgery and his spot will be taken over by "little" Tim Powell who stands 6-3 and goes 250 pounds.

★ ★ ★

Powell played with Canton in the United Football League as a Rams redshirt in 1964.

The smaller "Fearsome Foursome" of the Lions have McCord at 6-4, 250 and Williams at 6-5, 260; Karras at 6-2, 245 and Brown at 6-5, 300.

Besides playing football, three of the Rams' front four are contracted in the record making business.

★ ★

As part of the singing unit, offensive lineman Charlie Cowan has replaced Grier and along with the other three defensive linemen, Capitol records has released a tune called "Fly in the Buttermilk."

If the talent of the four Rams is as good on the record as it is on the field, it might lure them into the music business and this would be good news for names like Milt Plum and John Unitas.

The two defensive units staged big battle against the ground attacks of the respective offensive teams last year and the Rams' four allowed Detroit only 40 yards, while Los Angeles runners picked up 118 yards.

The game was rough and marred by numerous personal foul penalties before it ended 17-17.

FEROCIOUS FOUR — General Manager Elroy Hirsch of the LA Rams conducts the quartet of Merlin Olsen (74) Charlie Cowan (73) Lamar Lundy (85) and Deacon Jones (75) through a singing session. Cowan is not a member of the Rams' front four, he replaced Roosevelt Grier only to be part of a recording made recently.

Orchard Lake Golfer Qualifies in National

By The Associated Press

Pete Green of Orchard Lake was the lone Michigan amateur to qualify for the final two rounds of the National Amateur Golf Championship over the par-71 Southern Hills Country Club course in Tulsa.

Green, with rounds of 76-76—152, was 10 strokes behind leader Robert Murphy, a 22-year-old Florida University student.

The cutoff was at 155 for the final 60 and ties, State amateur champ Bud Stevens soared to an 80 after a 76 and finished 156.

Other Michigan scores included Earl Burt, Ypsilanti, 78-81—159; Dave Reniger, Lansing, 78-82—160; Dave Cameron, Birmingham, 82-80—162 and Tom Draper, Birmingham, 85-78—163.

Murphy chewed a cigar nervously all through his two-under-par 69 second round that gave him a two-stroke lead over defending champion Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., University of Houston flash Jim Grant, and Walker Cupper Don Allen of Rochester, N.Y., grouped at 144.

Charley Coe, a two-time former champion playing on his home course, was alone in fifth place at 145.

The cut included all the U.S. 10 Walker Cuppers and five of the eight British Walker Cup members. Three-time British Open champion Joe Carr, Rodney Foster and Sandy Saddler just made it, at 154. Clive Clark, 160, Ronnie Shade 156, and Peter Townsend, 161, missed.

Penalty—Two Strokes

Defending champion Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va. didn't do anything. He's just honest. He was addressing the ball on the 12th green, and had just started to place his club in front of the ball. The ball rolled a fraction of an inch.

★ ★ ★

His playing partner didn't see it, swore it didn't happen. An official on the spot didn't see it, swore it didn't happen. But Campbell saw it and called it on himself.

Penalty—One Stroke

Contender Bob Dickson, Muskogee, Okla., was in a trap on the second hole when he went for his wedge. He found two. That gave him 15 clubs, one over the maximum allowed.

The club didn't belong to him. He'd never seen it before. It belonged to William Whitaker III of Fort Worth, Tex., a man he'd never met. No one knows how the club got in his bag.

Score Cards Hit Hard by Rule Book

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — You couldn't tell the players without a rule book Thursday in the second round of the National Amateur Golf Championship.

Bob Douma of Tulsa blasted a shot off a tree on the 12th hole. The ball rebounded and struck his bag.

Penalty—Two Strokes

Bob Lowry Jr., Huntsville, Ala., picked up his ball on the 17th green to clean it. He was bent over, his hand about eight inches off the ground then he froze. He hadn't marked the spot.

Cross-Wind Helps Golfer

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Is it worse for the wind to blow into your face or sideways across the fairway when you play golf?

"Id' rather have it sideways, then I can use it a bit — curve the ball into it or maybe let the wind take it some," says Dave Marr.

★ ★ ★

The Professional Golfers Association champion proved his point by shooting a three-under-par 33-36—69, just one stroke off the pace in the first round of the Portland Open Thursday.

"I don't think the wind makes that much difference," said Jack Nicklaus, the year's big money winner, who had a 34-35—69.

Hanover Horse Wins Jug Trial at Hazel Park

DETROIT (UPI) — Bret Hanover sped away from his rival Adios Vic in the final quarter Thursday night to win the $19,500 Brown Jug Trial at Hazel Park Raceway and tied the track record of 1:57.3.

Adios Vic made a break in the stretch and wound up in fourth place, behind Tuxedo Hanover and Rivaltime.

★ ★

The winner paid $2.60 and there was win-only betting.

Adios Vic, who beat Bret Hanover twice two weeks ago in Indianapolis, was no match this time, although he pressed Bret for three quarters and then faded out of contention when he broke in the stretch.

★ ★

It was the 40th victory in 43 starts for Bret.

Dayton Hopes to Halt Arrows

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Pontiac's Arrows top almost every statistical department in the Midwestern Football League and they'll be trying to pad their individual leads when they take on the Dayton Colts tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Wisner Stadium.

★ ★ ★

The leading passer in the league just happens to also be the loop's leading runner—Pontiac's quarterback Karl Sweetan.

And it's a safe bet that the Colts will be stacking their defense against the speedy Sweetan, whom the Arrows obtained two weeks back from the Detroit Lions.

In his first outing, a league encounter against Flint, Sweetan connected on nine of 13 passes for 150 yards and two touchdowns.

★ ★ ★

And he also picked up 42 yards in six trips with the ball.

17 COMPLETIONS

Those totals added to the non-league contest with Sturgis last week, give the 6-1, 198-pounder 17 completions in 30 attempts for 271 yards and eight touchdowns.

★ ★ ★

On the ground, Sweetan has picked up 95 yards in 12 attempts, although he lost 18 yards in two plays trying to pass.

Passing and running against the Colts may be a little more difficult.

The Colts also have a leader in one of the statistical departments in safetyman Roy Kronenberg, a 6-0, 170-pounder who picked off six tosses in Dayton's 26-7 season opening win over defending champion Lansing.

★ ★ ★

Sweetan and his backup man, Bill Harrington of Pontiac, haven't lost a pass to the enemy in two outings.

FAST DEFENDER

Kronenberg is fast and covers a lot of territory, so Sweetan will have to be at his throwing best to beat the tall, slender defender.

★ ★ ★

A few linemen who'll be on hand to try and rough up the Arrows' passers and runners are tackles Leonard Webb (280) and Charles Sneed (245) along with defensive ends Bob Lasch (255) and Bill Sealey (245).

The Arrows' defense is also expected to get a stiff workout.

The Colts' Pete Mikalojewski (6-0, 190) is a scrambling-type quarterback with a rifle arm, and the team boasts one of the league's top runners in Chuck Malloy, a 5-10, 190-pounder who played halfback for four years at the University of Dayton.

★ ★ ★

The game is slated to start at 8 p.m. Tickets are available at several locations in Pontiac. Downtown, they may be obtained at Griff's Grill and Osmun's Men's Stores. Tickets will also be on sale at the gate.

U-M Coach Hopes for 1964 Repeat

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan Coach Bump Elliott wants to see history repeat itself when the Wolverines meet North Carolina at Chapen Hill Saturday.

Last year, Elliott had a number of quarterbacks vying for the starting assignment and was undecided until the last minute as to who to start in the opening game.

Finally, he gave the job to Bob Timberlake who had more experience. Timberlake led the Wolverines to the Big Ten and Rose Bowl titles and gained All America and other honors.

★ ★ ★

It's much the same for Elliott this season although, admittedly, none of the candidates this year appear to have Timberlake's all around ability.

LEAVE TODAY

As he prepared to depart for the trip south today, Elliott was still undecided whether to go with Wally Gabler, who has five minutes game experience, or Dick Vidmer, who has none at all.

Rick Volk, currently holding down one of the defensive halfback posts, is ready to step in if either falter.

★ ★ ★

Gabler showed particular poise in the last team scrimmage. He ran fast and was accurate with his passes.

Vidmer, however, is regarded as the better passer, and Elliott has said he would not be surprised to see the Wolverines pass more this season despite the loss of four veteran ends.

★ ★ ★

This will be the first meeting ever between the two schools. North Carolina, 5-5 last year, is rated strong defensively and has two talented passers in Danny Talbot and Jeff Beaver.

One of North Carolina's five victories last year was a 21-15 victory over Michigan State.

Top Tennis Stars Sent to Sidelines

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Giant slayer Frank Froehling took on Chuck McKinley today as the Colonial Tennis Tournament rolled into its quarter-finals minus a favorite and a defending champion.

It was a bad day at the back court Thursday for Australian great Roy Emerson and reigning champion Rafael Osuna of Mexico, neither of whom survived their opening matches.

Froehling, firing in blinding serves and repeatedly unleashing smashing forehands, mowed down Emerson, the No. 1 seed. Veteran Davis Cupper Ham Richardson knocked out Osuna.

Battle Creek Wins in Musial Tournament

BATTLE CREEK (UPI) — Battle Creek handed Waterbury, Conn., its first loss in 24 games Thursday by taking a 7-3 win in one of four games of the opening round of the Stan Musial Amateur Baseball World Series.

In other games, Waterloo, Ind., drubbed Portland, Ore., 11-3, Riverton, Ill., defeated Knoxville, Tenn., 4-2, and Beloit, Wis., edged Dallas, Tex., 2-1, in the double elimination tournament.

WBA Will Discuss Clay-Patterson Bout

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — World Boxing Association President James Deskin of Las Vegas, Nev., will call a meeting of the WBA executive board to discuss the Cassius Clay-Floyd Patterson heavyweight fight.

Deskin said Thursday the site and date of the meeting will be announced by Monday.

Clay and Patterson are scheduled to fight Nov. 22 in the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Boston Hurler Fires No-Hitter

AP Photofax

PITCHING GEM—Jubilant Dave Morehead is shown in the dressing room after the Boston Red Sox hurler fired the American League's first no-hitter in three years yesterday. He walked only one batter as the Bosox downed Cleveland, 2-0.

Indians Lose to Morehead

First AL Mound Jewel in Three Seasons

BOSTON (AP) — Herbert Hoover High School in San Diego, Calif., produces some pretty fair baseball players. It sent Ted Williams to the Boston Red Sox and now Dave Morehead.

The 22-year-old Morehead fired the first American League no-hitter in three years Thursday as he allowed only one man to reach base in the Red Sox' 2-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Morehead, who earned a job with the Red Sox in 1963 though only two years out of high school, barely failed to match Sandy Koufax' perfect game for the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League last week.

WALKS ROCKY

The Boston right-hander walked Rocky Colavito on a 3-and-2 pitch at the start of the second inning. Then he struck out Fred Whitfield, Chuck Hinton and Pedro Gonzalez.

There was little doubt that Morehead was nervous as he took the mound for the ninth inning. And Cleveland Manager Birdie Tebbetts, an old pro as player and manager, made sure the kid earned his no-hitter.

* * *

Morehead, who struck out eight, was called up to face three straight pinch hitters. Larry Brown lined to shortstop Eddie Bressoud and Lou Clinton, a former Boston outfielder, hit a liner directly to center fielder Jim Gosger.

Morehead, who received an estimated $50,000 bonus after graduation from Herbert Hoover High, had won only nine of 25 previous decisions, while posting an unimposing 4.27 earned run average. He said he used a recently acquired slider with his fast ball and curve.

* * *

"Dave had everything going for him," said catcher Bob Tillman, who caught Earl Wilson in the last Fenway Park no-hitter in 1962. "His fast ball was hard and his curve was big and going down."

BOSOX' 10TH

Morehead's no-hitter, the 10th for a Boston Red Sox pitcher, earned him a new contract with a $1,000 raise. Owner Tom Yawkey congratulated his young hurler and offered the contract, explaining baseball rules ban a bonus.

FIRED—Mike Higgins (above), executive vice president and general manager of the Boston Red Sox, was fired yesterday by owner Tom Yawkey.

Giants Triumph as Mays Rests

By The Associated Press

The only thing Willie Mays did was get egg on his shirt but the San Francisco Giants took another long stride toward tucking the National League pennant in their back pocket.

Playing without Mays for only the sixth time this season, the Giants reeled off their 14th straight victory by beating Houston 5-1 Thursday night and stretched their lead to 4½ games over Cincinnati and Los Angeles.

Mays took part in a pre-game egg-throwing contest and finished out of the money after one of the eggs broke in his hand and splattered. Then he sat down on orders from Manager Herman Franks, his day's work done.

It was the 15th time this season Franks had decided to give Mays a rest but only the sixth time he was not forced to use him at some point in the game.

REDLEGS LOSE

The Giants, meanwhile, made the most of Cincinnati's loss to the New York Mets, tacked one full game on their lead and assumed a commanding position with time running out on the Reds and Dodgers.

The Reds, who lost to the Mets 7-3, are at home for a three-game set against Houston and the Dodgers, who downed the Chicago Cubs 2-0, open a three-game series at St. Louis.

* * *

In other NL games Thursday, fourth-place Milwaukee slipped seven games back after an 8-6 loss at Philadelphia and fifth-place Pittsburgh fell 9 ½ games behind, dropping a 2-1 decision to St. Louis.

* * *

Johnny Stephenson did most of the damage against the Reds. The Mets catcher, who had only one homer going into the game, hit a three-run shot in the third inning and a solo homer in the eighth. He also beat out a bunt for a single in the sixth and scored on a squeeze bunt by pitcher Al Jackson.

Red Sox Go Shopping

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox, winner of only one pennant in Tom Yawkey's 32-year ownership, shopped around for a player personnel director today after firing Mike (Pinky) Higgins as executive vice president and general manager.

* * *

Yawkey's sudden break with a long-time friend, who helped the Red Sox to the American League flag as a player in 1946, and the promotion of business chief Dick O'Connell to over-all command of the Boston organization was announced Thursday.

PACKS BAGS

Higgins, told of the action a few hours earlier, still appeared shaken when reached late in the evening. He was contacted while packing his bags to return to his home in Dallas, Tex.

"I have nothing to say," the soft-spoken Texan said. "I wish them well...but they were too impatient."

O'Connell, a member of the Red Sox organization since 1946 after discharge as a Naval intelligence officer, said that a baseball man from outside the Boston clan will be hired to handle player personnel.

Regains First Place

OYSTER BAY, N.Y. (AP) — Defending champion Ernest Fay of Houston regained first place in the U.S. 5.5-meter sailing championship Thursday as the 17-yacht fleet struggled through aggravating wind conditions on Long Island Sound.

Fay, sailing Pride, finished seventh in the fourth race of the five-race series, which concludes today.

Arrowhead Open

New Links Are Ready

Two new golf courses will be in full swing locally when the snow departs next spring.

The two are Arrowhead, located just off Walton in north Pontiac, and Holly Greens, situated just off I-75 between Holly and Clarkston.

Arrowhead, owned by Nevin Hummon of Farmington, opened last week.

Hummon started laying plans for next year by naming Jack Corbett of Royal Oak pro-manager of the club.

* * *

Corbett, 31, has served as an assistant pro for the past 11 years, the past four under Tommy Shannon at Orchard Lake Country Club.

WATERED FAIRWAYS

The 18-hole course has watered fairways and the clubhouse is in the finishing stages.

* * *

The club is accepting league reservations for the 1966 season.

Officials at Holly Greens are also taking league reservations for next year.

* * *

The 18-hole course, with three different tees, will play from 5,985 to 7,009 yards. Par is 72.

Draft Choice Quits Camp

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Basketball star Tom Van Arsdale, who bought a law dictionary on his way to the Detroit Pistons' training camp, quit the pro team and came back to Indiana University to enroll in law school Thursday.

Van Arsdale registered and bought his books Thursday and will start classes Friday.

* * *

"It was the roughest decision I ever had to make in my life," he said. "It's hard after playing for 16 years to quit all at once."

Referring to pro basketball, he said:

"I wasn't sure it was what I wanted, but I felt I had to go, that it was more or less an obligation. I went up and got the contract worked out, but I just didn't feel right."

Clarkston Harriers Win

Clarkston swept the top five places yesterday to record a 15-40 cross country win over Rochester.

Neil Stalker placed first in 12:02 followed by teammates Mark Adams, Greg Stalker, Scott Embrey and Mike Dougherty.

MSU Thinks of Roses

EAST LANSING (AP) — "Haven't I met you some place before?" Michigan State is likely to say to UCLA Saturday.

The answer is "Yes, but long ago"—in the 1954 and 1956 Rose Bowl football games at Pasadena, both won by Michigan State, in 28-20 and 17-14 thrillers.

There's been no meeting since those years of glory for the Spartans. Neither team currently is considered more than a dark horse for another Rose Bowl entry, although the Spartans are favored on their home ground.

Both teams will bear down on passing and will be trying out promising runners.

Michigan State has a proven quarterback in senior Steve Juday who set several team passing records last year despite the lack-lustre 4-5 season and a sixth in the Big Ten.

The Bruins are banking on sophomore quarterback Gary Beban. Coach Tommy Prothro is so high on his entry he is talking of letting the quarterback call his own signals.

His receivers include split end Karl Altenberg, a 6-foot-2 sprinter who set a school record with 31 receptions last year; flanker back Dick Witcher, a 6-foot-3 entry, and right end Byron Nelson, a six-footer who is returning to the offense after a season of defense.

* * *

Main target for Juday has been Gene Washington, a 6-foot-2 end who was touted as a prime pro prospect even as a sophomore. Washington has been operating with a finger in a splint lately, however, and has been dropping some of the passes he generally pulls down.

USC's Prized Back on Display

By the Associated Press

Southern California's nationally ranked Trojans put prized halfback Mike Garrett on display tonight as they kick off the first big weekend of the 1965 college football season against Minnesota at Los Angeles Coliseum.

Garrett, a quick and powerful 185-pound senior, is on his way to becoming Southern Cal's all-time rushing leader. He ranked sixth in the country last year with 948 yards and was seventh as a sophomore with 833.

★ ★ ★

The Trojans, No. 7 in The Associated Press' pre-season poll, are solidly favored over the Gophers, led by passing star John Hankinson.

Saturday's program is dotted with other attractive intersectional matches, with virtually all the country's major teams in action.

AFTER RATING

Nebraska will be out to make its No. 1 national rating stand up, Arkansas will try to extend the country's longest winning string, Notre Dame will see how well it can do without Heisman Trophy winner John Huarte, and Army opens on the road for the first time in its 76-year football history.

★ ★ ★

Nebraska entertains Texas Christian in its opener. The Cornhuskers are big and seasoned, as pointed out by the fact that they'll have only one sophomore starter—Wayne Mehlan, a guard that goes a mere 238 pounds.

Arkansas, termed by Coach Frank Broyles as "anxious," goes for its 13th successive victory in a night game at Little Rock against Oklahoma State. Arkansas placed sixth in the AP poll.

★ ★ ★

Notre Dame, minus Huarte, plays at California against the Bears, who also lost an ace quarterback, Craig Morton, through graduation. The Irish rank third in the pre-season ratings.

Army's departure from tradition takes the Cadets to Tennessee. Meanwhile, Navy stays in the East and plays host to the team regarded as the best in the region, Syracuse.

★ ★ ★

In another Eastern highlight, Oregon takes on Pittsburgh. Oregon has won nine straight against intersectional opponents but only one West Coast team has ever won in Pitt Stadium—UCLA last year.

A brief bowling report on noteworthy summer happenings is concluded with congratulations to Ed Szot, Monroe Moore, Paul George and Ray Giroux who won $50-$150 apiece for their efforts in Chicago's annual Petersen Classic.

Michigan Mile Set Tomorrow

DETROIT (UPI) — The Michigan mile, with hardly any horses connected with the state, but with a national look will be run Saturday at Detroit Race Course.

Only Peter Pumpkin of the 11 horses entered in the field has run at DRC so far this season.

★ ★ ★

Another horse, Lemon Twist, owned by track director T.D. Buhl, has run most of his races in Chicago this summer.

To top it off, neither local horse is among the favorites in the 17th running of the Mile, despite Peter Pumpkin's win last Saturday in the $7,500 Test Handicap over candidates for this week's race. Peter Pumpkin is owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore, of Port Huron.

The leading contenders, all from out of state, were Old Hat, Viking Spirit, Aurelius II and Take Over. The other horse entered in the field were Tibaldo, Quita Dude and Moss Vale.

Buffalo Skipper Takes 4th Heat With Lightning

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Tom Fallon of Buffalo, N.Y., skippering Bull II, won the fourth heat Thursday in the six-day world championship for lightning class yachts in the Gulf of Naples.

Alan Raffee of San Diego Calif., in Shazam, finished fourth and moved to the top in the over-all standings. However, his position was challenged by Catello Russo of Italy, who protested Raffee's sailing tactics to the jury. Details were not announced.

Fallon sailed the 8.68-mile course in 2 hours, 3 minutes through a choppy sea. His triumph moved him into seventh place in accumulated standings.

The field was cut by one when Guido Tulli of Italy, the 1965 European champion, withdrew.

Late Model Drivers in Annual 50-Lap Race

DETROIT — Michigan's ace late model drivers will meet in their annual 50-lap championship race at Flat Rock Speedway Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

The top 24 drivers in the point standings will start "straight up" in the gruelling feature race. This means that Joy Fair, winner of the track point championship, will be on the pole and Danny Vyrd, his season long rival, will be on the outside of the front row.

State College Gridders Start Play

By The Associated Press

Central Michigan gets the jump on the rest of the state's college football teams on the first big weekend of the season when it plays at Youngstown tonight.

Western Michigan plays host to Louisville Saturday.

Ferris State is at Michigan Tech and Grand Rapids J.C. at Northwood in the only face-to-face meetings between state teams.

Stevens Point, Wis., is at Northern Michigan, Wheaton at Albion, Hillsdale at Marietta, Adrian at Manchester, Alma at DePauw, Olivet at Anderson and Hope plays Ohio Northern at Lima, Ohio, in the others.

Wayne State, Eastern Michigan and Kalamazoo do not start until next week.

Albion holds the nation's second longest winning streak — 11 games. The Britons edged Wheaton, 12-7, on their way to an 8-0 season and the MIAA championship.

★ ★ ★

Central Michigan will be playing its second game of the season. The Chippewas bowed to Wisconsin State, 35-13, in the annual Red Feather game at Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

Western Michigan coach Bill Doolittle expects his team to have another close game with Louisville. A 25-yard field goal by WMU's Milt Waters gave the Broncos a 10-7 verdict last season.

★ ★ ★

Ferris State was the only team in Michigan without a victory last season—the Bulldogs tied twice. Ferris faces a Michigan Tech team which finished with a 4-4-1 over-all mark after copping the Northern Intercollegiate Conference title in 1963.

White House Order Brings a Steady Flow of Press Releases

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's aides have passed the word to the administration's corps of public relations men: If there's something to be announced, let the White House know about it first.

* * *

The result, a check of Cabinet agencies showed today, is a steady flow of proposed or prepared news releases for appraisal at the White House.

* * *

"We want first refusal on anything that should appropriately come from here," one White House assistant said.

But at the same time, he said the White House probably will exercise more selectivity in choosing what will be returned to the executive agencies for release there.

The stream of agency news releases to and through the White House apparently picked up after an August conference which brought agency public affairs officers to the office of Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary.

Johnson stopped in for what a White House assistant described as a pep talk.

At another point, people who were on hand reported, he lectured the public affairs men, demanding a better written flow of announcements about the administration.

He was quoted as saying if that did not come about, he would enlist some high school seniors from Johnson City, Tex., and count on them to do the job.

Officials in the Cabinet agencies and at the White House would not talk for attribution about the stepped-up flow of announcements.

A White House spokesman said the same kind of public relations operation has been conducted in past administrations.

But officials elsewhere in the administration said the effort has been stepped up under Johnson.

At the Pentagon, information office men joke about what some of them have come to call the Pedernales press service.

Pedernales is the name of the river that flows through Johnson's LBJ Ranch in Texas. And when he is there, the stream of White House announcements reaches a peak.

It is a practice that has been followed by presidential press officers for years. Pierre Salinger did it for John F. Kennedy at Hyannis Port, Mass., James C. Hagerty did the same for Dwight D. Eisenhower at Augusta, Ga.

The stream of press releases gives the impression of business as usual, or more than usual, during a presidential weekend off.

One Cabinet agency press officer pointed to that background in discussing the topic. But he added that his agency is sending more information for release at the White House than ever before.

He said a White House announcement often attracts more attention than would one issued by the agency involved. A White House official said the same thing.

White House Dinner Another in a Series

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson gave a dinner at the White House Thursday night for nearly 100 business, labor and science leaders.

It was one in a series he has held for private discussion of domestic and foreign problems.

Trading Slackens

Stock Mart Irregularly Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market settled irregularly lower early this afternoon as trading slackened.

It looked as if the day would fall well below yesterday's seven-million-share level.

* * *

A strike of major New York City newspapers deprived many investors of detailed financial news and thus put a crimp on the burgeoning enthusiasm displayed in the stock market this week.

Analysts also noted that preweekend caution was the usual thing, especially in view of the Pakistan-India clash and Red China's ultimatum to the latter. The Wall Streeters said that the market was "behaving well" in view of all circumstances.

MOTORS DOWN

Steels backed away from an early rise while Big Three motors were down from the start. Many of the red-hot issues in defense and electronics cooled off. Airlines declined. Rails were narrowly mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.0 at 340.6 with industrials down 1.7, rails off .1 and utilities off .7.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.78 at 927.40.

* * *

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Losses of more than a point were shown by Endevco, Technical Operations and Pyle-National. American Book rose more than a point.

Corporate and U. S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged. Trading was light.

Advance Eyed on School Aid

Official Underlines Savings on Interest

LANSING (AP) —Michigan's acting school chief has asked the Treasury whether it can advance state aid to needy school districts to save more than $1 million in interest charges on borrowings.

The suggestion was in a letter from Alexander Kloster, acting state superintendent of public instruction, to State Treasurer Sanford Brown.

Kloster said with the present prosperous condition of the treasury, it should be able to advance the money to needy school districts to save the interest payments.

A section of the State Aid Act allows such advances, Kloster said, and similar action was taken during previous high-level Treasury years of 1954-55-56.

NO COMMENT

Brown and his top deputy, who must pass on the idea, were not immediately available for comment.

School districts borrowed some $90 million in anticipation of state school aid and in anticipation of taxes last fiscal year, Kloster said.

The interest on such borrowings for the 1963-64 fiscal year, the last one available, amounted to $1,162,000 million.

School districts have borrowed more than $43.8 million in anticipation of state aid and taxes so far this week.

The average interest is 3.5 per cent and, at the rate of borrowings so far, it is anticipated more than $1 million could be saved, Kloster said.

Strike Cripples U.S. Spaceport

Building Tradesmen Honoring Picket Lines

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Striking missile mechanics turned away hundreds of space construction workers for the second day today, crippling key spaceport building for the eighth time in 20 months.

★ ★ ★

The building tradesmen were honoring picket lines set up by Boeing Co. missilemen, members of the International Association of Machinists (AFL-CIO), despite pleas from their union leaders to return to work.

By midmorning, with reports from several major jobs still missing, an Army Corps of Engineers spokesman said 590 of 1,683 workers were off the job.

"The picketing is still seriously affecting construction," he said.

★ ★ ★

More than half of the 3,600 man construction work force honored the machinists' picket lines at spaceport entrances yesterday.

SERIOUSLY AFFECTED

Some building projects were shut down and the rest of the construction at the Project Apollo moon base was seriously affected by the strike.

Nearly all of Boeing's 270 machinists refused to report to work but the company's vital Minute 2 intercontinental ballistic missile flight testing operations continued with supervisory personnel.

The Air Force said the ICBM's launch schedule would not be affected.

★ ★ ★

Boeing machinists also handled work on the Saturn 5 moon rocket project at the sprawling Merritt Island Apollo Base west of the Cape itself.

ALSO HIT

Boeing's rocket plant in New Orleans and its Saturn works in Huntsville, Ala., were also hit by the strike.

★ ★ ★

A few union members for other rocket contractors at the Cape honored the picket lines yesterday, but officials said the two-man Project Gemini launch set for Oct. 25 and other space launches would not be hampered by the strike.

Break Ground at Philly Site for New Mint

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Treasury Department broke ground today for a new mint in a major stride to overcome the nationwide coin shortage.

The new mint, near historic Independence Hall, will have machinery capable of turning out some coins at a rate 30 times faster than present machinery.

"The new Philadelphia mint is a prime example of what President Johnson is demanding throughout the government: more service, and better service to a growing country, at lower cost," said Under Secretary of the Treasury Joseph Barr in prepared remarks.

This will be the fourth mint in Philadelphia, which besides being the birthplace of American independence, is also the home of the first mint. In fact the new mint will be within a few hundred feet of the original mint. An 18th century distillery had to be torn down to make room for the first mint in 1792.

★ ★ ★

"The new mint that will go up on this site is scheduled for coin production by mid-1967. It is to cost $37 million. It will be the world's foremost mint — the world's biggest and the world's most productive," said Barr.

RUNNING ROUND CLOCK

Until the new mint is in production, other U.S. mints are running around the clock turning out coins to help curb a shortage attributed to a growing population, increasing use of vending machines and rapidly growing interest in coin collecting.

James Smithson of London, born 200 years ago, willed his property to the United States to establish the Smithsonian Institution. His birth is being honored this year by the Washington organization.

At Farmington Campus

2 Units Cut From OCC Plans

Oakland Community College will delete a proposed physical education complex and theater in its Farmington campus plan to put full emphasis on a basic educational program.

The college's board of trustees last night approved the change for the present but indicated these facilities may be included in later stages of development.

Architects were scheduled to begin work today on the second phase of the campus which was to include these facilities. Construction is slated to begin in March 1967.

Top priority for basic educational facilities, the fact that the college's two operating campuses have no theater or physical education plant and today's tight labor market influenced the board's decision.

In other business last night, the board authorized filing of the final application for a federal grant to aid in the first stage of construction of the Farmington campus.

TO RECEIVE LESS

James Hobson, college vice president, said that due to the state's total plan for apportionment of funds, OCC probably will receive $750,000 rather than $1 million previously expected.

Bids on the first phase will be opened Oct. 12 with construction slated to begin about the end of October providing the State Finance Commission approves the proposed bond issue.

Reports to the board last night on enrollment showed a grand total of 4,386 students as of the Wednesday night registration closing.

★ ★ ★

This includes 1-094 part-time students and 3,292 full-time.

OK PORTABLE UNITS

To relieve crowded conditions at the college's Auburn Hills Campus, the board authorized the leasing of four additional portable classroom units at $1,970 each with an option to buy.

The board also approved an expenditure of $32,727 to match the same amount of county funds for the paving of Featherstone at the Auburn Hills Campus.

Preliminary work will be completed by Dec. 1.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the board hired a mathematics instructor and six noninstructional employes.

284 EMPLOYES

This brings the college's employe total to 284 including 202 administrative and instructional personnel and 82 classified employes.

★ ★ ★

The board also awarded a contract for fire, theft and liability insurance to the Grove, Keller, Englebert and Freese Agency of Detroit.

The firm was selected on the basis of interview after five of the six bidders submitted identical low bids of $6,626 per annual premium.

OCC President Gets Pay Hike

Oakland Community College's board of trustees last night raised the salary of President John E. Tirrell from $25,000 to $27,000.

The pay boost becomes effective Oct. 1, exactly one year from the date the 39-year-old educator was named college president.

Trustee Vernon M. Fitch proposed the salary increase which was seconded by trustee Frederick A. Chapman and passed unanimously by the board.

In proposing the salary adjustment, Fitch said that Dr. Tirrell was the moving force behind the outstanding progress of the college which opened last week with the highest enrollment of any new community college.

★ ★ ★

Tirrell told board members he appreciated their vote of confidence.

Safe Sign Was True, Burglars Discovered

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)— Safecrackers refused to believe the sign on a large safe at Rental Uniform Service, Inc. here. The sign read, "Please don't tear open our safe. We keep only records inside."

The burglars decided to take a chance and found a small amount of money inside. They also took a small safe which was inside the large one, but it contained nothing but old records, as advertised.

Downs 56 Raw Eggs to Break Own Record

IPSWICH, England (AP) — Cecil Barham, a plastics worker claims he has bettered his own world record for eating raw eggs.

He put down 56 raw eggs in two minutes the other day. This if four more than his previous record claim.

Life Bleak for Widow of Viet Hero

DETROIT (UPI) — For Mrs. Barbara Ann Langford, life goes on from day to day.

Mrs. Langford stood at attention yesterday at a hangar at the Grosse Ile Naval Air Station near here as four military decorations were awarded posthumously to her husband.

Richard Langford, an engineman second class in the Navy, died April 23 on a Vietnamese shore as he tried to give protective cover to a patrol boat on a reconnaissance mission.

He answered numerous volleys of heavy fire before a Viet Cong bullet struck and killed him.

After the brief ceremonies, Mrs. Langford fondled the Bronze Star Medal with Combat Distinguishing Device, the Military Merit Medal and the Gallantry Cross from the South Vietnamese government and the Purple Heart.

Her husband died without seeing his son, Richard Jr., now six months old. His plans to adopt Debra, 9, Mrs. Langford's daughter by a previous marriage, never materialized.

Board Told Lack of Nurses Is Not Confined to Pontiac

The critical shortage of nursing personnel is a problem not confined to Pontiac General Hospital, the board of trustees was told last night.

★ ★ ★

The problem exists "all over," according to Aleck Capsalis, board chairman.

Capsalis offered this observation after attending a recent convention of the American Hospital Association in San Francisco.

Three Pontiac General trustees attended the confab.

★ ★ ★

Capsalis presented four methods that are being used to combat the nursing shortage, which last month forced Pontiac General to close its 12-bed intensive care unit.

SEEK AFFILIATION

Hospitals should seek an affiliation with a local school to train future nurses. Pontiac General has such a program beginning this year with Oakland Community College.

Capsalis said the American Medical Association will have to urge men to enter the nursing field, specifically former Army corpsmen who now go to work in factories and don't make use of their Army medical training.

Also, doctors shouldn't "prate" nurses for their private practices. Capsalis said this was a topic discussed by those at the convention.

Finally, the board chairman said that there have been some experiments with programs to train the wives of doctors to work as nurses during emergency situations.

ADDED TO PROJECT

In other business last night, Hospital Administrator Harold B. Euler reported that Avondale Nursing Center, 1480 Walton, Avon Township, has been added to the nursing home project.

Pontiac General Hospital has been engaged in a program whereby nursing homes are used to take care of patients who reach a convalescent status.

The hospital has been working with the Seminole Hills Nursing Home, 532 Orchard Lake. The Avondale home will give the hospital two homes to send patients to.

The board of trustees last night approved the purchase of a special tape recorder for $12,500 for use in connection with X-ray etulpment.

Spencer Tracy off Critical List

Complications Set In Following Operation

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Correction of a body chemical imbalance after prostate surgery has improved the condition of two-time Academy Award-winning actor Spencer Tracy, his doctor reports.

Tracy, 65, underwent surgery for removal of the prostate gland Sept. 4 and had been recovering successfully when complications developed Monday.

★ ★ ★

Tracy was placed on the critical list for 24 hours at Good Samaritan Hospital. The hospital said after treatment for an electrolyte imbalance that Tracy's condition was improved and was not considered serious.

Tracy has been plagued with illness for the past two years.

FORCED WITHDRAWAL

He collapsed in the summer of 1963 with pulmonary edema—lung congestion—and was confined for 13 days. In December of that year his health forced him to withdraw from a role in John Ford's Western film "Cheyenne Autumn." He was replaced by Edward G. Robinson.

Tracy also told friends he was troubled with diabetes.

Tracy's awards were for "Captains Courageous" in 1937 and "Boys' Town" in 1938. He has had eight other nominations.

'Atheists Have Right to Belief'

Author Tells Intent of Vatican Document

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Atheists are included by implication in the religious liberty document under debate in the Ecumenical Council, the Rev. John Courtney Murray, S. J., the principal author, said today.

Nonbelievers in God are not mentioned specifically because in some church quarters it would be considered excessive, the churchman from Woodstock, Md., said.

★ ★ ★

Father Murray said it does not seek to approach religious liberty from a theological point of view, and does not try to spell out what is truth and what is error in faith.

The heart of the document is that, right or wrong, what a man believes — or doesn't believe — should be no concern of civil authority.

REWRITTEN 5 TIMES

The document has been rewritten five times since the council began three years ago. Debate on the council floor since the final session began four days ago indicates it will be accepted by a majority of council bishops before the council closes for good by the end of the year.

Acceptance will mean the view that all should be free to believe as they wish will become a part of Roman Catholic Church doctrine.

Father Murray said inclusion of nonbelievers in the concept of the document was by implication, but a definite part of the scope of the document nonetheless.

Why is it this way? Because, says Father Murray, "it seemed rather off to some (of the bishops) that the Roman Catholic Church should get up and proclaim the religious rights of the atheist."

American and North European prelates have been pushing for acceptance of the declaration. Among those who have spoken out for adoption since the current session began were Joseph Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis, Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston.

State, Ohio to Celebrate Border Peace

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Michigan and Ohio will shake hands Saturday across a border that once almost brought them to a shooting war.

Things are still pretty cool in some areas—like competition to lure industry and the annual Ohio State-Michigan gridiron clash.

★ ★ ★

But the Saturday occasion bids well to be a very friendly affair.

Neither Michigan Gov. George Romney nor Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes will be there.

BE REPRESENTED

Instead, their lieutenant governors, Michigan's William G. Milliken and Ohio's John W. Brown, will represent them at the historical occasion.

Object of the meeting is dedication of a plaque commemorating the 50th anniversary of the final survey of the border just north of Toledo.

★ ★ ★

The states mobilized troops in 1835 and nearly went to war in a dispute over the border, finally settled by a federal survey. Before settlement, armed Michigan volunteers actually invaded Ohio.

★ ★ ★

The marker to be dedicated has the theme of "Good Fences Make Good Neighbors."

Life on Venus Said Possible

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A Johns Hopkins University scientist says it is too early to write off Venus as a planet that cannot support life.

Dr. John Strong, an astrophysicist, said it is premature to dismiss Venus as too hot and dry for life despite the report of the Marine 2 flyby that it has temperatures close to 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit on the sunlit side.

★ ★ ★

Strong discussed the question at the moon and planets conference Thursday at California Institute of Technology. He said he has concluded from "balloon astronomy," in which telescopes are taken above most of the earth's water vapor and atmosphere, that the sunlight reflected from Venus is being reflected from a dense layer of ice clouds.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Strong said this does not prove there is water below the clouds. But he said it is enough of an indication there is water on Venus to keep the question open. "The current idea of a hot, dry Venus is not yet proved," he said.

Appoints Self Press Agents for Cows on Jersey Isle

By EARL WILSON

BOULTY BAY, Jersey, Channel Islands—On the pleasant island of Jersey, which the world's tourists have suddenly discovered, a man has been known to say to his girl, "Darling, you have the face of a Jersey cow."

Jersey cows have great facial beauty. Their faces are Garboesque, intelligent, mournful . . . their eyes are liquid.

WILSON

"I would like you to look into a Jersey cow's face close-up," said one Jerseyite here in this island in the English Channel, 13 miles from the coast of France.

"I must decline," I insisted. "I met and milked many a Jersey cow face-to-face when I was an Ohio farm boy. Would you want me to tell Zsa Zsa Gabor she has the face of a Jersey cow?"

The Jerseyites then showed off to me their second great wonder — millionaire London industrialist Leonard Matchen, who's moved to this independent island frankly to save on inheritance taxes. He's death on death taxes.

At dinner he picks up a mike beside his plate and wittily introduces floor show acts at his Water's Edge Hotel.

As part of his tax-avoidance passion, he merged four of his companies into Cape Allman International . . . saving $750,000 in taxes . . . also engaging New Yorker Carle Erbe as his American public relations director.

"Son," he said to Erbe in hiring him—"and I don't know what kind of a son he meant," says Erbe — "I've fired more public relations men than you've ever known."

Draft Likely to Call Childless Husbands

LANSING (AP) — Michigan draft boards likely will start calling childless married men of draft age for physical examinations starting in November or December, officials said.

The call will come if the Viet Nam war continues as it is, said Lt. Col. Robert Lundquist, operations officer for Michigan selective Service.

Lundquist said it was hard to forecast whether the pool of single men of draft age would be adequate to meet draft quotas.

Whether married men who pass their examinations would be inducted into the armed forces would depend on a decision to be made on a national basis, he said.

"We probably won't induct any before the first of the year," Lundquist added.

Woman Recovering; Pole Pierced Skull

NEW YORK (UPI)—A secretary who was in critical condition for weeks after a metal-tipped pole pierced her skull in a freak accident in Times Square, is recovering at a rehabilitation center.

★ ★ ★

Frances Levin, 45, underwent lengthy surgery at St. Clare's Hospital following the accident last July 20.

★ ★ ★

She had been watching a disturbance in Times Square when an office worker accidentally knocked the window pole out and it plunged into her skull.

Officials said yesterday she had been transferred from St. Clare's to the New York University of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation for treatment.

Jetliner Disappears; 30 Persons Aboard

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A jetliner with 30 persons aboard disappeared in the Caribbean area today and a CAB spokesman said wreckage—with no sign of life—had been sighted on an island hilltop.

The plane was a Pan American Airways flight bound from Martinique to New York with stops in between. It was last heard from on a landing approach to Antigua in the British West Indies.

A Civil Aeronautics Board spokesman in New York reported that the wreckage was spotted on a hill on Montserrat.

The airline said it received an unconfirmed repot the Boeing 707, one of Pan American's famed clipper flights, crashed on the Island of Monserrat, about 30 miles southwest of Antigua.

The plane was last heard from at 6:25 a.m. (EST), 10 minutes before it was due to land at Antigua, an airline spokesman in New York said.

"He had to be within sight of the island," the spokesman added.

SWEPT OVER AREA

Three coast guard planes and one from the air force swept over the area where the big jet was last heard from, between Antigua and Montserrat in the chain of islands which form the eastern border between the Caribbean and Atlantic Oceans.

Coast Guard search and rescue headquarters at Miami said the last radio transmission from the plane was a routine request for permission to make its landing approach at Antigua.

Antigua is about 1,300 miles southeast of Miami and nearly 300 miles east-southeast of San Juan. It is one of the most northerly of the Leeward Islands in the Lesser Antilles.

Chrysler Plant Move Is Due

Townsend, Romney Meet; Decision Final

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. president Lynn Townsend yesterday confirmed reports that his firm plans to move its machine shop operations from Highland Park to another location outside Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Townsend, after a meeting with Gov. George Romney, said no decision had been made where the plant would move but said the plant needs to be in a more central location in the Midwest.

About 3,500 jobs will be affected by the move.

The governor, who had sought the meeting met with Townsend for more than two hours.

★ ★ ★

Townsend told a news conference that many factors led Chrysler to the conclusion that the machine shop unit should be moved. He said seven or eight sites, including Maumee, Ohio, are under consideration. He declined to list the others.

EXPANSION NEEDED

Townsend said about 60 per cent of Chrysler's floor space is located in Michigan but that nationwide expansion is needed.

"The recent and future growth of our company has put a great strain on the capacities on our Highland Park facilities," he said.

Both Romney and Townsend told newsmen there was nothing adverse in Michigan's economic climate which had led to the decision to move the plant.

★ ★ ★

Romney, who sought the meeting with Townsend after United Auto Workers Local 92 sought the governor's aid to block the transfer, told newsmen there had been "no change in Chrysler plans as a result of my meeting with them."

Shastri Reply to China Urges Border Study

Prime Minister Vows Defense of India's 'Territorial Integrity'

NEW DELHI, India (AP) —Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri said today India would defend its "territorial integrity" but he did not want to give Communist China "any pretext" for aggression.

Shastri proposed a "joint investigation" of the disputed border between the two countries.

He was replying in Parliament to an ultimatum from Red China giving India three days to pull out of a disputed Himalayan border area.

He said the investigation should take place as soon as possible to determine exactly where Indian border posts are. Red China claims they are on its territory.

★ ★ ★

The offer was similar to other Indian proposals for settling the border dispute which Red China has rejected in the past.

TURNED DOWN

China most recently turned down a suggestion that neutral observers check the border.

"The might of China will not deter us from defending our territorial integrity," Shastri said. "We shall fight for our freedom with grim determination."

Shastri said Red China clearly is trying to interfere in India's war with Pakistan and that recent public backing of Pakistan and its stand on Kashmir "is calculated to prolong and enlarge the conflict."

India-Pakistan Talks Sought in Thant Proposal

Would Invoke Penalty Provisions of Charter if Cease-Fire Broken

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary General U Thant today proposed that the U.N. Security Council issue a binding order for a cease-fire between India and Pakistan and that it request heads of the two governments to hold peace talks in a third country.

The action proposed by the secretary general would invoke the penalty provisions of the U.N. Charter by formally declaring that a breach of peace exists. He did not suggest any immediate application of sanctions, however.

Thant acknowledged that he had been unable to get agreement of India's Lal Bahadur Shastri and Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan for a cease-fire and declared that the situation was so grave it threatens world peace.

★ ★ ★

It would be inconceivable, he said, for the council to wash its hands of the issue despite his failure.

5-POINT APPROACH

He then outlined a five-point approach which the council might now take:

- Issue a binding order for a cessation of hostilities, declaring that if either party fails to comply the penalty provisions of the charter would come into effect. This would bring into play the rarely used chapter seven which applies only when the council formally recognizes the existence of a breach of peace.
- Offer assistance of the United Nations in ensuring observance of a cease-fire.
- Call for a prompt withdrawal of troops to positions held before the current outbreak of fighting Aug. 5.
- Request the heads of the two governments to meet in a country friendly and acceptable to both, and make available a small committee to assist in the talks.
- Make possible use of the secretary general in the negotiations.

Thant told newsmen on returning from his nine-day mission to New Delhi and Rawalpindi that he did not consider his trip a failure.

He said there was a "basic desire on both sides to stop the fighting."

Civilians to Get GI-Held Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new program set in motion by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara may lead eventually to wholesale shifts of civilians into noncombat jobs now handled by men in uniform.

The result would be a reduction of U.S. military manpower, now planned to reach close to 3 million, and a corresponding reduction in reliance on the draft to fill the ranks.

A top level manpower utilization board will convene this fall to monitor the first phase of the new program and to develop plans for enlargement of it in subsequent years.

McNamara told a news conference yesterday that in its initial phase the program calls for hiring some 60,000 civilians during 1966 to perform administrative, clerical, supply and maintenance, medical, transportation and similar jobs now performed by military personnel.

"This will release some 75,000 officers and enlisted men who are now required for those duties," McNamara said.

★ ★ ★

He added: "This program will not only permit acceleration of our military buildup but it will also enable us to decrease the number of draftees who would otherwise be required."

TAKE 18 MONTHS

He estimated that the drop of about 75,000 in inductions would span perhaps 18 months' time.

The draft recently was sharply turned upward, from about 17,000 men a month to a soon-to-be-achieved 35,000 a month, to help attain a 340,000-increase in the regular forces because of the war in Viet Nam.

McNamara explained that what he called the saving of 15,-

Fires Sweep N. California

Tinder-Dry Forests, Brush, Grasslands Hit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A pall of smoke hung over much of Northern California today — as uncontrolled fires, pushed by high winds, crackled through tinder-dry forests, brush and grasslands.

The last rains fell six months ago, and the winds and low humidity made every new fire a potential disaster.

Two men were burned, one seriously, in fighting a blaze that ate its way into the outskirts of Vacaville, between San Francisco and Sacramento. Twenty homes were destroyed in Vacaville and damage was estimated there at $500,000.

Another blaze threatened Middleton, 100 miles south of San Francisco in Lake County. Another blaze caused the closing of a major interstate highway over the Sirra.

★ ★ ★

Winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour — with gusts up to 100 miles an hour — were reported throughout the fire area which stretched from extreme northern counties to south of the San Francisco Bay area and the San Joaquin Valley in the central part of the state.

TOPPLE LINES

Wind gusts toppled telephone and power lines, causing new fires and hampering communications.

In Richmond, across the Bay from San Francisco, the Daily Richmond Independent reported its newspaper plant had been without power since midnight.

Smoke from fires in Solano and Yolo counties where Vacaville, Fairfield and Vallejo are located, hung over San Francisco, some 50 miles away.

In Vacaville, Fire Chief Warren Hughes said the danger had abated this morning. But his men still bulldozed fire lines and cleared away brush.

Another blaze burned uncontrolled in 4,000 acres of brush and grazing land between Vallejo and Fairfield, southwest of Vacaville. Officials at the State Disaster Control headquarters in Fairfield said this blaze had destroyed an undetermined number of ranch buildings, but threatened no town.

Warm but Wet Forecast for Area This Weekend

Summery temperatures will continue over the weekend with skies partly cloudy and dripping with rain.

Scattered showers or thunderstorms are predicted for late today and tonight with lows 65 to 72.

Occasional showers may be expected tomorrow with temperatures warmer, the high rising to 70 to 78.

A low of 50 was recorded at 2 a.m. today. The mercury had climbed to 73 by 1 p. m.

Chlorine-Filled Barge Found

Lethal Cargo Is Safe; Salvage Plans Made

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Army engineers started making plans today to raise a barge containing lethal chlorine from the bottom of the muddy Mississippi River. It sank during Hurricane Betsy a week ago.

★ ★ ★

"The barge is safe and there is no danger of any kind," said Col. Thomas J. Bowen, Army district engineer in New Orleans.

The barge was located last night after a five-day search —ordered by President Johnson. It is in 60 feet of water near the Louisiana State University campus south of Baton Rouge.

Authorities scheduled a midmorning briefing session with Gov. John J. McKeithen to discuss salvage operations.

★ ★ ★

The clean-up from Betsy, which unleashed death and destruction on Louisiana a week ago, went on throughout the stricken areas. A few sections remained under water. Two more bodiess were found in New Orleans, raising the known dead to 70 — plus 12 in other states.

GAME NOT THREATENED

McKeithen said he didn't think the chlorine barge would pose any threat to Louisiana State's football game with Texas A&M Saturday night. The 68,-000-seat LSU stadium, on the section of campus nearest the river, has been sold out for months.

Courthouse Wing Costs Blossom to $2.25 Million

Oakland County's already tight monetary situation was squeezed even more yesterday when the estimated cost for a new courthouse wing was upped to $2.25 million from $1.6 million.

A further complication is that rising construction costs might further inflate the total by the time bids go out next year.

Included in the revised cost estimate presented yesterday to the buildings and grounds committee of the County Board of Supervisors was an added $270,-000 for 9,000 square feet of basement area not in the original plan.

The other major factor was $200,000 for remodeling the courthouse tower made necessary by relocation of some departments in the new wing.

Also included in cost estimates are a $102,700 architect's fee and $40,000 for site work.

★ ★ ★

The county had planned on $2.6 million in its building fund by 1968 including nearly $1 million from the sale of the TB Sanatorium.

ALREADY REDUCED

But this amount has already been reduced to $2.45 million by the transfer of $150,000 from the building fund to meet salary requirements in the 1966 budget.

Besides the courthouse project, the county has also committed $500,000 for the South Oakland Health Center.

Together, these projects exceed funds by $300,000.

The buildings and grounds committee will act Tuesday on final drawings for the new wing.

St. Joseph Hospital Is Held Up

Three men in derby hats and dark glasses held up the main billing office of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital last night and escaped with $2,900.

Hospital Controller Louis Kogan said both checks and cash were taken after two hospital employes were forced at gunpoint to lead them to a safe.

The men, described as neatly dressed and in their late 20's, first came into the lobby about 8:30 p.m. and asked about a friend they said was in the hospital, according to employes.

They then left, returning at 10 p.m.

★ ★ ★

"Get that headset off and do as I tell you," switchboard operator Gladys Meyers said she was told.

CARRIED GUNS

One of the men carried a 45 caliber revolver and another displayed a .38 according to a witness.

The three then demanded that Mrs. Meyers, of 3471 S. Rochester, Avon Township, and admitting clerk Alden Ryan show them "where the money is."

Ryan, of 115 State, showed the men a nearby cash register.

★ ★ ★

They ignored the register and money," he told police.

FORCED INTO OFFICE

Ryan was forced into an adjoining office along with bookkeeper Mrs. Josephine Genez.

Mrs. Genez, of 969 Lakeview, Waterford Township, was ordered to "get the money." She told police she balked at first, then turned over $2,-900 in checks and paper money from an open safe.

The men took the money and left.

★ ★ ★

Kogan said Mrs. Meyers reported seeing the men at the hospital Wednesday night, some 24 hours before the holdup.

FIRST IN MEMORY

Police are investigating the robbery, said by Kogan to be the first at St. Joseph Mercy in the memory of hospital officials.

Woman Held by Fugitive; Hunt Widens

ORRINGTON, Maine (AP) — Police conducted an intense house-to-house search of a 20-square-mile area today in a massive hunt for a fugitive considered dangerous and a doctor's wife he is holding captive.

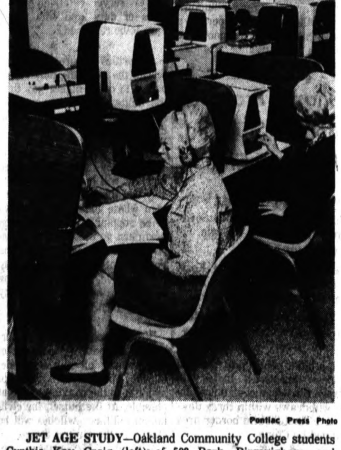

★ ★ ★

Some 100 law enforcement officials were ordered into the search after Lynn P. McGinn, 29, was abducted from her Orrington home last night.

Police said she was forced at gunpoint to accompany Roger R. Haller, 31, of Bangor, who escaped from the Bangor State Hospital.

A plane was sent in an attempt to spot from the air the

Hamlin Names 7-Man Group

Will Study Problems of Law Enforcement

A seven-member committee to study law enforcement problems in Oakland County was appointed yesterday by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

★ ★ ★

Named as chairman of the group was John B. Osgood, a Royal Oak attorney and member of the board of supervisors.

Also appointed to conduct the in-depth study suggested by Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore were two other attorneys, three police officials and the county prosecutor.

They are Robert A. Frye of Bloomfield Hills and John S. Slavens of Pleasant Ridge, both attorneys and both members of the board of supervisors.

★ ★ ★

Others are Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons, Pontiac Police Chief William Hanger, Birmingham Police Chief Ralph Moxley and Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson.

MAXIMUM EFFICIENCY

Purpose of the study will be to determine how police can perform their duties at maximum efficiency in the face of present restrictive laws.

In suggesting the study Sept. 1 to the ways and means committee of the board of supervisors, Moore cited the rising crime rate and said that the public is being left more and more unprotected.

He pointed out that the best way to protect the public is by aiding police enforcement officers.

★ ★ ★

Hamlin, who may later increase the committee to the maximum nine-member group authorized by the ways and means committee, will present the seven appointees at Monday's meeting of the board of supervisors for confirmation.

ASSEMBLE SOON

Osgood said that if the appointments are confirmed Monday, he hopes to assemble the committee before the end of this month to begin the study.

UPPSALA, Sweden (UPI) — The seismological institute here recorded today what was believed to be an underground explosion at Semipalatinsk in Central Asia, inside Soviet territory, the institution announced.

Scientific observers said the explosion was believed to have been a Soviet underground nuclear test. Underground tests are not included in the Moscow test ban agreement.

CHRYSLER COMES OUT—Backed by a 50 per cent rise in 1965 sales, Chrysler Motors Corp. today unveiled the 1966 Chrysler. More engine power and changed seating are new this year. Shown here is a two-door hardtop of the 300 series.

Planes Bomb Bridge in Viet Peace Zone

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A flight of planes bombed a bridge in the demilitarized zone dividing South and North Viet Nam, and a U.S. spokesman said today "it is believed" the planes involved were American.

He said the bombing Thursday night could be "assumed to be in error."

★ ★ ★

"If an investigation shows that the bombs hit in the demilitarized zone, this is clearly a departure from the rules. We have not previously struck the zone," he said.

The spokesman said in a statement:

"Initial reports from Vietnamese sources indicate that about 9 p.m. yesterday aircraft bombed the north end of the bridge crossing Ben Hai River on Highway 1 in the demilitarized zone. Further reports from the Vietnamese army indicate that there were three Vietnamese killed on the north end of the bridge. The bridge was reported destroyed.

ALLEGATIONS

"Observers allege the aircraft were U.S. An investigation is under way at this time but it is believed that the aircraft were U.S."

The bridge is about 80 miles north of Da Nang, the big U.S. airbase 380 miles north of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

The bridge straddles Route 1 and crosses the Ben Hai River where South and North Viet Nam meet.

It was not known if the dead were North or South Vietnamese but since they were at the north end of the structure it was belived they were North Vietnamese. About 40 planes made the attack, Vietnamese sources said. One informant said flares were dropped before the attack.

★ ★ ★

Troops of South and North Viet Nam are assigned to guard duty at the bridge. The three-nation control commission began an immediate investigation. India, Canada and Poland compose the commission.

In other air activity, two U.S. Air Force jets were shot down in North Viet Nam by automatic weapons fire during a six-plane F105 Thunderchief raid Thursday 80 miles northwest of Hanoi, a U.S. military spokesman reported. The pilots were listed as missing. The downings brought to 92 the number of U.S. planes shot down since air strikes began last February, the spokesman said.

County GOP Puts Woman in PR Post

A Beverly Hills woman has been named public relations director for the Oakland County Republican Committee, County Chairman Dale A. Feet announced today.

★ ★ ★

After coming to the area from San Francisco in 1962, she organized and directed a speakers bureau for the League of Women Voters in the campaign for the new constitution.

She was a member of the publicity committee for the Citizens Non-Partisan Committee for the New Constitution.

She was coordinator of speakers for the forum on county home rule produced by the Mott Center for Community Affairs at Oakland University last April.

Haller is armed with a pistol and a rifle, police said, and is considered dangerous.

SOMETHING WRONG

His attorney, James W. Lynch of Bangor, said he petitioned to have Haller committed in a bad check case "because I think there is something wrong with him."

Lynch said, however, he doesn't believe his client is insane.

Dr. John F. McGinn, the woman's husband, was with officials directing the search.

State Police Capt. J. Edward Marks said that judging from Haller's past behavior, he believes Mrs. McGinn will be released unharmed.

Times Strike Brings Halt at 7 NY Papers

NEW YORK (UPI) — A strike against the New York Times and a retaliatory shutdown by other publishers today halted production of seven of the city's eight major newspapers.

New York's three morning newspapers failed to publish, and all but one of five afternoon papers were unable to meet today's early edition deadlines.

As the strike of 2,200 Times editorial and clerical workers went into its second day, only the afternoon New York Post was able to publish. About 17,000 employes of other newspapers were out of work.

Contract negotiations between the Times and the striking American Newspaper Guild (ANG) recessed early today, and were scheduled to resume a 11 a.m. EDT.

★ ★ ★

Prospects that settlement could be reached in time to publish today's late afternoon editions were considered remote.

JOB SECURITY

The key issue in the deadlock was union demands for job security protection against the effects of automation and possible future newspaper mergers.

★ ★ ★

The strike against the Times led to the retaliatory shutdown of the other six newspapers in a publishers' mutual aid pact. The Post is not member to the agreement.

3 Spacemen Meet in Athens

Conrad and Russian Exchange Flight Pins

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Two U. S. astronauts and a Russian cosmonaut embraced today at an informal meeting. It followed Soviet allegations that the Gemini twins had snubbed the Russian cosmonauts.

L. Gordon Cooper Jr., and Charles Conrad Jr., met cosmonaut Pavel Belyayev at the end of an international astronautiel Congress plenary session covened to hear the Americans report on their record eight-day space flight. It was their first meeting.

In a crush of delegates and newsmen, the Americans and Russian hugged each other and exchanged flight pins. The Russian's comrade Alexei Leonov, who is also in Athens for the Congress, did not attend the session.

Cooper was the first to speak. He nudged Conrad and said: "Give him your gold flight pin."

EXCHANGE PINS

Conrad took the small winged pin off his lapel and gave it to Belyayev. The Russian then removed a Russian pin marked "U. S. S. R." from his uniform and pinned it on Conrad.

Civilians to Get GI-Held Jobs

000 men is made possible by substituting 60,000 civilians who will hold their jobs for a long time in place of military men who would normally be expected to serve relatively short tours of duty and who would have to be replaced.

★ ★ ★

Authorities figure that even though the civilians may be expected to draw higher pay than the military men they replace, the operation will save money in the long run.

TRAINED ONCE

This, they said, is because civilians will have to be trained only one time, whereas military men whose tours run out have to be supplanted by other men who must go through the expensive training cycle. Also, the government will not have to pay for the food, clothing, housing and other benefits drawn by military men.

★ ★ ★

Officials said there is no target for ultimate development of the program on a wider scale, but they obviously are aiming to install it to the maximum extent possible. At the outset, the civilian-for-military switches will be chiefly in the United States.

Although McNamara announced the new program in the context of the new military buildup, it is known that this idea has been under study for a long time and on a long range basis.

Cairo Sources Report Aborted Coup Attempt in Iraq

CAIRO (AP) — An attempted coup in Iraq has been crushed, Iraqi sources in Cairo said today.

* * *

The bid to take over the government came while President Abdel Salam Aref was absent from the country attending the Casablanca Arab summit meeting.

It was put down by the president's brother, the sources said.

They gave this account: The coup was attempted Thursday when the newly installed prime minister, Brig. Aref Abdul Razzak, tried to take over the radio, highways, railroads and other key installations.

Gen. Abdel Rahman Aref, deputy chief of staff of the Iraqi army and brother of the president, heard of the plans and ordered troops to occupy key installations in advance of the attempted take-over by Razzak.

Razzak and aides were arrested when they tried to carry out the coup. Later Razzak, his wife six children and five aides were ordered to leave Iraq and were flown to Cairo aboard a special Iraqi plane.

Razzak arrived in Cairo unexpectedly Thursday night and was installed in Tahra Palace on the outskirts of the city, government residence reserved for visiting dignitaries.

Razzak could not be reached for comment and Iraqi sources would not permit use of their names in reporting the attempted coup in Baghdad.

Keep Cats From Baby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am expecting my first child in a few months. My problem is this: I have raised two cats since birth and they are very dear to me.

ABBY

My husband and my mother say that if the cats are still here when my baby comes they are likely to hurt, or even kill, the baby. They say that cats are naturally attracted to a baby's mouth because of the scent of milk on the baby's breath, and a cat will suck the breath out of a baby trying to get the milk.

I have talked to quite a few people about this and most of them say they never heard of a cat harming a baby. But one lady said she knew of a case where a cat jumped up into a baby's buggy and would have killed it but the mother got there just in time. Now I am worried. I would never put my cats above my baby, but I don't want to get rid of my cats unless I have to.

Any information you, or your readers, can give me on this subject would be greatly appreciated.

LOVES CATS

DEAR LOVES: What you have heard about cats harming babies is an old wives' tale. But cats are animals, and animals (like humans) are sometimes unpredictable. So keep your cats.

But while your baby is tiny, make sure the cats can't get to him.

DEAR ABBY: Last Christmas I sent over 100 Christmas cards. One of my relatives returned MY card and scribbled "the same to you" on it, then signed her name.

I later learned that she had done the same to others who had sent her Christmas cards.

Has there been a new amendment to the rules of etiquette to include this practice? If so, I may do it myself this Christmas. I could save a little money.

"TEMPTED"

DEAR "TEMPTED": It's highly improper. You'd better think of another way to save a little money.

MSU Speaker Gives Hope to Extensionists

By MARGARET BROWN

Spirits were bolstered at Thursday's annual orientation meeting of area extension study group officers after recently announced staff cutbacks for Oakland County's Cooperative Extension Service.

Ruth Peck of Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service, discussing statewide reorganization stemming from legislative budget reductions, told the assembly in Central Methodist Church, "Don't be disheartened; change is ever with us. It just has been accelerated today."

★ ★ ★

Offering a folksy definition of education as ". . . reading the signs and knowing which way to turn," Miss Peck said, "that's all you're being asked to do in this reorganization: know which way to turn."

HERITAGE

Miss Peck told briefly of MSU's land grant heritage which paved the way for practical education on a higher level.

"Getting this useful unbiased information on agriculture and home economics to the common people ("That's you and me," she quipped) and encouraging its application is the work of the cooperative extension service.

"We're glad you in Oakland County have initiated a young homemakers' program."

★ ★ ★

Earlier in the program, Lyle B. Abel, Oakland County extension director, mentioning "considerable worry" about budget cutbacks, said, "Extension is a long way from being buried."

Mr. Abel said he feels state legislators might respond financially to extension workers' proposal of a sound ". . . educational program for young folks. I'd like to see you give it a try," he concluded.

Elaborating on a possible appeal to Michigan's legislature, Miss Peck advised the women, "Don't go to your legislators uninformed."

KNOW YOUR SUBJECT

"Lawmakers often plead to be informed by their constituents," she said. "We can't be too critical of them for voting down a proposal on which we've failed to enlighten them." Be prepared to give your representative a concise and comprehensive picture of how families specifically may be helped by extension work, she urged.

★ ★ ★

A talk by Mrs. Carol Kurth, home economist, on the young homemakers' program started two years ago for girls 15 through 22 years of age getting married also highlighted the meeting.

"Many young women marrying today have no professional source for guidance outside of their doctor or minister," she said, "and many do not even attend church.

"We want these girls to know we're here for any help at all. We don't ask them to become study group members; we just want to reach them in some way."

★ ★ ★

Training sessions concluded the day's activities.

Instructing were Miss Peck, Mrs. Berle Dean, Mrs. William Tiberg, Mrs. Kurth, Anne Kinsel, Macomb County home economist and Mrs. Mary Hardy, Oakland County home economist.

Plumpness Is Stylish---for the Furniture

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

People may be getting slimmer, but furniture isn't.

Plumpness is back in style. 1965 styles may be overstuffed, but not in the same way as in the Twenties. Then, some of the furniture had such enormous arms and backs that they overpowered the room.

Today's stuffings usually are made of foam, either rubber or latex, sometimes a combination of both.

★ ★ ★

Cushions may look large, but everything is easily moved, thanks to today's casters.

NEW FABRICS

Fabrics no longer look heavy or dull. Gone is the scratchy frieze and in its place are crush-proof velvets, synthetic and sturdy suedes and spot-resistant silks.

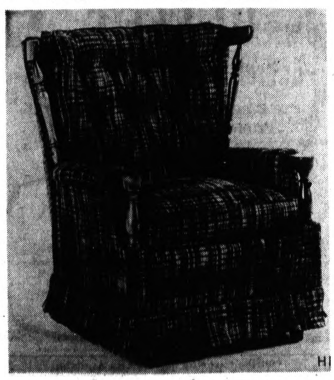

Arched steel springs are longer wearing and everything about the furniture is geared to today's casual living—even the most luxurious appearing upholstered chairs and sofas.

★ ★ ★

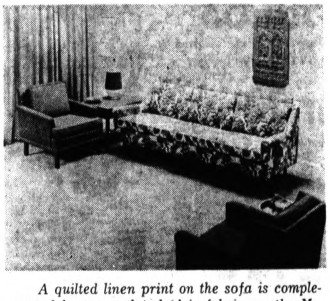

Best of all, color is here to stay. And with modern fabrics, and modern cleaning methods, it is no great chore to keep things bright and fresh looking.

Known as the "little" or "cocktail" chair, this type of chair was first popular during the Directore and Regency periods. Once again, such decorative chairs are stylish. They are amazingly comfortable, even for tall men. Deeply tufted in black silk, the upholstery accentuates the beauty of the highly figured wood. Use as a group around a little table or singly as an accent piece. By Thomasville Furniture Industries. Line available locally.

The appeal of Early American furniture continues from generation to generation. This chair in a wide array of appropriate fabrics invites both comfort and relaxation. By Broyhill. Line available locally.

A quilted linen print on the sofa is complemented by a correlated plain fabric on the Mr. and Mrs. chairs. From Flexsteel's Contemporama Collection, these pieces exemplify the 1965 padded look. All cushions are reversible. Sofa available in two lengths or as a two-piece sectional. Line available locally.

Moderately Active Trading

Mixed Market Reported Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was mixed in moderately active trading early today.

Because of a newspaper strike, investors in New York City were deprived of their detailed financial news. This was cited as a reason for caution.

The market had two boisterous rallies behind it and, if not for the news strike, a march toward historic highs was expected.

Steels resumed modestly their rally of Thursday but all Big Three motors were down, Chrysler losing about a point, Ford and General Motors fractions.

Du Pont halved an early 1-point gain. Airlines turned soft, Eastern Falling about a point and a half.

IBM sank 3 points. Strikebound Boeing lost another point. United Aircraft also was down about a point.

Utilities were mostly unchanged, with a few small losers.

Atlantic Refining advanced nearly 2 points on news it has agreed to merge with Richfield Oil. Richfield's opening was delayed.

Opening blocks included:

Abacus Fund, off 1 at 41¼ on 10,600 shares; Budd Co., up 1 at 18⅛ on 14,000; Chrysler, off ⅞ at 52½ on 8,000 and 6,000; American Telephone, up ⅛ at 68¾ on 10,000; and U.S. Steel, up ⅛ at 51⅞ on 7,500.

Thursday, the Associated Press Average of 60 stocks rose 2.3 to 341.6.

Prices were narrowly mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Advance Eyed on School Aid

Official Underlines Savings on Interest

LANSING (AP) —Michigan's acting school chief has asked the Treasury whether it can advance state aid to needy school districts to save more than $1 million in interest charges on borrowings.

The suggestion was in a letter from Alexander Kloster, acting state superintendent of public instruction, to State Treasurer Sanford Brown.

Kloster said with the present prosperous condition of the treasury, it should be able to advance the money to needy school districts to save the interest payments.

A section of the State Aid Act allows such advances, Kloster said, and similar action was taken during previous high-level Treasury years of 1954-55-56.

NO COMMENT

Brown and his top deputy, who must pass on the idea, were not immediately available for comment.

School districts borrowed some $90 million in anticipation of state school aid and in anticipation of taxes last fiscal year, Kloster said.

The interest on such borrowings for the 1963-64 fiscal year, the last one available, amounted to $1,162,000 million.

School districts have borrowed more than $43.8 million in anticipation of state aid and taxes so far this week.

The average interest is 3.5 per cent and, at the rate of borrowings so far, it is anticipated more than $1 million could be saved, Kloster said.

GM DONATION — A check for $15,000 was presented recently to the Meadow Brook Music Festival by General Motors Corp. Accepting the donation was D. B. Varner, chancellor of Oakland University. On hand for the presentation were (from left) Calvin J. Werner, general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division; Thomas F. Wiethorn, manager of the Pontiac Fisher Body Plant; and John Z. LeLorean, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

At Farmington Campus

2 Units Cut From OCC Plans

Oakland Community College will delete a proposed physical education complex and theater in its Farmington campus plan to put full emphasis on a basic educational program.

The college's board of trustees last night approved the present but indicated these facilities may be included in later stages of development.

Architects were scheduled to begin work today on the second phase of the campus which was to include these facilities. Construction is slated to begin in March 1967.

Top priority for basic educational facilities, the fact that the college's two operating campuses have no theater or physical education plant and today's tight labor market influenced the board's decision.

In other business last night, the board authorized filing of the final application for a federal grant to aid in the first stage of construction of the Farmington campus.

TO RECEIVE LESS

James Hobson, college vice president, said that due to the state's total plan for apportionment of funds, OCC probably will receive $750,000 rather than $1 million previously expected.

Bids on the first phase will be opened Oct. 12 with construction slated to begin about the end of October providing the State Finance Commission approves the proposed bond issue.

Reports to the board last night on enrollment showed a grand total of 4,386 students as of the Wednesday night registration closing.

* * *

This includes 1-094 part-time students and 3,292 full-time.

OK PORTABLE UNITS

To relieve crowded conditions at the college's Auburn Hills Campus, the board authorized the leasing of four additional portable classroom units at $1,970 each with an option to buy.

The board also approved an expenditure of $32,727 to match the same amount of county funds for the paving of Featherstone at the Auburn Hills Campus.

Preliminary work will be completed by Dec. 1.

* * *

In other business, the board hired a mathematics instructor and six noninstructional employes.

284 EMPLOYES

This brings the college's employe total to 284 including 202 administrative and instructional personnel and 82 classified employes.

* * *

The board also awarded a contract for fire, theft and liability insurance to the Grove, Keller, Enelebert and Freese Agency of Detroit.

The firm was selected on the basis of interview after five of the six bidders submitted identical low bids of $6,626 per annual premium.

Life Bleak for Widow of Viet Hero

DETROIT (UPI) — For Mrs. Barbara Ann Langford, life goes on from day to day.

Mrs. Langford stood at attention yesterday at a hangar at the Grosse Ile Naval Air Station near here as four military decorations were awarded posthumously to her husband.

Richard Langford, an engineman second class in the Navy, died April 23 on a Vietnamese shore as he tried to give protective cover to a patrol boat on a reconnaissance mission.

He answered numerous volleys of heavy fire before a Viet Cong bullet struck and killed him.

After the brief ceremonies, Mrs. Langford fondled the Bronze Star Medal with Combat Distinguishing Device, the Military Merit Medal and the Gallantry Cross from the South Vietnamese government and the Purple Heart.

Her husband died without seeing his son, Richard Jr., now six months old. His plans to adopt Debra, 9, Mrs. Langford's daughter by a previous marriage, never materialized.

OCC President Gets Pay Hike

Oakland Community College's board of trustees last night raised the salary of President John E. Tirrell from $25,000 to $27,000.

The pay boost becomes effective Oct. 1, exactly one year from the date the 39-year-old educator was named college president.

Trustee Vernon M. Fitch proposed the salary increase which was seconded by trustee Frederick A. Chapman and passed unanimously by the board.

In proposing the salary adjustment, Fitch said that Dr. Tirrell was the moving force behind the outstanding progress of the college which opened last week with the highest enrollment of any new community college.

Tirrell told board members he appreciated their vote of confidence.

Strike Cripples U.S. Spaceport

Building Tradesmen Honoring Picket Lines

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Striking missile mechanics turned away hundreds of space construction workers for the second day today, crippling key spaceport building for the eighth time in 20 months.

* * *

The building tradesmen were honoring picket lines set up by Boeing Co. missilemen, members of the International Association of Machinists (AFL-CIO), despite pleas from their union leaders to return to work.

By midmorning, with reports from several major jobs still missing, an Army Corps of Engineers spokesman said 590 of 1,683 workers were off the job.

"The picketing is still seriously affecting construction," he said.

* * *

SERIOUSLY AFFECTED

Some building projects were shut down and the rest of the construction at the Project Apollo moon base was seriously affected by the strike.

Nearly all of Boeing's 270 machinists refused to report to work but the company's vital Minute 2 intercontinental ballistic missile flight testing operations continued with supervisory personnel.

The Air Force said the ICBM's launch schedule would not be affected.

* * *

Boeing machinists also handled work on the Saturn 5 moon rocket project at the sprawling Merritt Island Apollo Base west of the Cape itself.

ALSO HIT

Boeing's rocket plant in New Orleans and its Saturn works in Huntsville, Ala., were also hit by the strike.

* * *

A few union members for other rocket contractors at the Cape honored the picket lines yesterday, but officials said the two-man Project Gemini launch set for Oct. 25 and other space launches would not be hampered by the strike.

Break Ground at Philly Site for New Mint

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Treasury Department broke ground today for a new mint in a major stride to overcome the nationwide coin shortage.

* * *

The new mint, near historic Independence Hall, will have machinery capable of turning out some coins at a rate 30 times faster than present machinery.

"The new Philadelphia mint is a prime example of what President Johnson is demanding throughout the government: more service, and better service to a growing country, at lower cost," said Under Secretary of the Treasury Joseph Barr in prepared remarks.

This will be the fourth mint in Philadelphia, which besides being the birthplace of American independence, is also the home of the first mint. In fact the new mint will be within a few hundred feet of the original mint. An 18th century distillery had to be torn down to make room for the first mint in 1792.

"The new mint that will go up on this site is scheduled for coin production by mid-1967. It is to cost $37 million. It will be the world's foremost mint — the world's biggest and the world's most productive," said Barr.

RUNNING ROUND CLOCK

Until the new mint is in production, other U.S. mints are running around the clock turning out coins to help curb a shortage attributed to a growing population, increasing use of vending machines and rapidly growing interest in coin collecting.

Board Told Lack of Nurses Is Not Confined to Pontiac

The critical shortage of nursing personnel is a problem not confined to Pontiac General Hospital, the board of trustees was told last night.

* * *

The problem exists "all over," according to Aleck Capsalis, board chairman.

Capsalis offered this observation after attending a recent convention of the American Hospital Association in San Francisco.

Three Pontiac General trustees attended the confab.

* * *

Capsalis presented four methods that are being used to combat the nursing shortage, which last month forced Pontiac General to close its 12-bed intensive care unit.

SEEK AFFILIATION

Hospitals should seek an affiliation with a local school to train future nurses. Pontiac General has such a program beginning this year with Oakland Community College.

Capsalis said the American Medical Association will have to urge men to enter the nursing field, specifically former Army corpsmen who now go to work in factories and don't make use of their Army medical training.

Also, doctors shouldn't "pirate" nurses for their private practices. Capsalis said this was a topic discussed by those at the convention.

Finally, the board chairman said that there have been some experiments with programs to train the wives of doctors to work as nurses during emergency situations.

ADDED TO PROJECT

In other business last night, Hospital Administrator Harold B. Euler reported that Avondale Nursing Center, 1480 Walton, Avon Township, has been added to the nursing home project.

Pontiac General Hospital has been engaged in a program whereby nursing homes are used to take care of patients who reach a convalescent status.

The hospital has been working with the Seminole Hills Nursing Home, 532 Orchard Lake. The Avondale home will give the hospital two homes to send patients to.

The board of trustees last night approved the purchase of a special tape recorder for $12,500 for use in connection with X-ray efuipment.
