

McNamara: N-Attack Could Kill 149 Million in U.S.

ONE COLOR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said today that a massive Russian nuclear attack on the United States could take 149 million American lives.

McNamara told Congress it is unlikely that a Soviet nuclear attack would spare American cities at the start and hit only military targets.

The defense chief thus discarded the no-cities theory which some U.S. strategists have entertained, hopefully, in predicting the form of any general war.

In his annual military posture statement, prepared as the foundation for his testimony before the House Armed Services Committee, McNamara did not name Red China as an immediate menace to American targets, despite her detention of a nuclear test device and a U.S. prediction that another may be forthcoming in the near future.

But he did not rule out the long-range menace of the Chinese Communist power.

"Although results may be slow in coming," he said after discussing China's economic and industrial difficulties, "there is no reason to suppose that the Chinese cannot in time produce medium-range and even long-range ballistic missile systems and arm them with thermonuclear warheads. Given the hostility the regime has shown, this is a most disturbing long term prospect."

CALCULATED CASUALTIES

McNamara calculated U.S. casualties as proportional to the force, and the time to use it, ready for response to a Soviet first strike.

If Soviet nuclear fire fell on American urban areas simultaneously with fire on U.S. missile and air bases and other strategic retaliatory systems, up to 149 million would be killed; if city attack were delayed until after the blasting of military bases, the fatalities might be held to a top of 122 million.

McNamara said there was no Pentagon program "within this general range of expenditures which would reduce fatality to a level much below 80 million unless the enemy delayed his attack on our cities long enough for our missile forces to play a major damage limiting role" by destroying enemy missiles at their source.

He looked also at the other side of the coin, what a U.S. retaliatory blow would do to Russia. He said that, based on a projection of the threat into the early 1970's:

"Our calculations show that even after absorbing a first strike, our already authorized strategic missile force, if it were directed against the aggressor's urban areas, could cause more than 100 million fatalities and destroy about 80 per cent of his industrial capacity."

New Viet Air Strike Policy Hinted

LBJ Urges Businessmen to Cut Foreign Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson appealed to business leaders today "to join hands with me in a voluntary partnership" and help attack the gold-dollar drain by slashing investment and lending abroad.

Johnson, who called 350 industrialists and bankers to the White House to discuss the country's nagging balance-of-payments problem, said in remarks prepared for the session:

I-Man, I-Vote in Dem Bill on Home Rule

A county home rule bill, radically different from an original Wayne County bill being supported by Oakland County, was introduced yesterday by Sen. Terry L. Trout, D-Romulus.

Backed by 14 Senate Democrats, the bill provides that any county legislative body must be elected from districts apportioned on a strict population basis.

It does not require each city or township to have a representative on the county legislative body.

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, declined comment on the bill.

"We've made our position (on county home rule) clear," Hamlin said.

WAYNE COUNTY BILL

Oakland County, through its legislative program has been supporting the original Wayne County bill which is almost identical to one that died in House committee last year after passing the Senate.

The apportionment of the Kent County Board of Supervisors was ruled unconstitutional last September under the one-man, one-vote interpretation of the 14th Amendment.

If the ruling is upheld by the Michigan Supreme Court, as most observers believe it will be, it will become necessary to reorganize the entire county government setup in Michigan.

"Oakland County cannot afford to halt its economic growth in its most potential areas. This region now contains its richest natural resource. It is known as the great capital of the world."

It has been, and in the future should be, most important in the growth of Oakland County and Michigan's highway development, industrial expansion, and residential growth.

"The proposed land-fill would seriously affect the estimated 40 to 50 years of future mining and its irreplaceable benefit to the county."

AFFECTING GROWTH

The proposal to bring this garbage to the Oxford area is already beginning to affect its industrial and residential growth. The future of the County's most important tax base improvement is being severely hampered.

"Before this became known, Bopp-Decker Inc., having outgrown its Royal Oak and Birmingham manufacturing facilities, began construction of a 60,000 square foot plant to produce plastic double wall food and beverage containers.

"A diversification of one of the gravel interests built the manufacturing facilities for Sea Ray boats on reclaimed gravel land."

PRIME LAND

"American Aggregates Corp. developed prime residential land surrounding beautiful Oxford Lake."

"All of this and much more was done as part of their planned rehabilitation of land as the gravel supply is exhausted."

"It seems the sanitary land-fill group would rather turn these projects into notifiable recreational areas for the county."

"Water pollution is another area of grave concern to our county residents. The highest water table mark in the entire area is at Oxford. Many of the streams and creeks flowing down through Oakland County and feeding its lakes have their beginning here."

CLOSE TO SURFACE

"The water table is close to the surface and the porous nature of the soil to this possibility of pollution."

"The Los Angeles land-fill plan that the Detroit group is pushing as a model has very different conditions than exist here. They are using canyons approximately 300 feet deep which have little other eco-

May Not Need Provocation for New Raids

LBJ Cites 'Continuing Aggression by Reds,' Warns of U.S. Actions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States evidently has decided to strike military targets in North Viet Nam without waiting for specific attacks by Communist forces in South Viet Nam to retaliate against.

This is understood to be the meaning of President Johnson's statement yesterday on Vietnamese war policy, a week after the first series of air strikes against North-Vietnamese infiltration targets.

Johnson told a conference of businessmen here the people of South Viet Nam are under attack. "That is controlled and that is directed from outside their country," a reference to the U.S. contention that the Communist guerrillas are directed by North Viet Nam.

The President also spoke of "continuing aggression" by the Communists and "continuing actions" by the United States.

He said: "We must all understand that we will persist in the defense of freedom, and our continuing actions will be those which are justified and those that are made necessary by the continuing aggression of others. These actions will be measured and fitting and adequate."

CONVINCING REIDS

Other points mentioned by Warren included:

• There are definite advantages to senior citizens — most of their kinds of income are exempt — and they would benefit from the promised 3-mill property tax cut.

• The income tax is really tax reform because the city is gaining a major new source of revenue.

• Taxes are levied on equalized valuation and increasing assessments does not change the equalized value.

• General Motors will pay a good deal more in city taxes under the income tax method.

• Any state income tax would have to recognize city income taxes.

Mercury Will Drop, Then Bounce Back

Don't be discouraged by tonight's low temperatures, for the mercury will be peppy tomorrow, says the weatherman. A low of 18 to 25 is predicted for this evening, to be followed by a high tomorrow of 32 to 38.

Tonight's mostly cloudy skies will become partly cloudy tomorrow. The outlook for Saturday is fair and a little warmer.

Twenty-four was the low mercury reading preceding 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the thermometer registered 28 in downtown Pontiac.

Hawaiian Tour Attracts Many

Initial response to the proposed Pontiac Press Hawaiian Tour has been excellent.

It has encouraged The Press to proceed with plans and complete arrangements for the tour. Current plans call for at least 40 persons to participate.

The Hawaiian tour will leave the morning of April 3 and return April 17.

Approximate cost for the trip, including transportation, hotel, most meals, island hopping by plane, and many other extras, will be $895 per person.

U.S. Moon Shot Steered to Path

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Ranger 8 streaked on toward the moon today after what scientists say was an apparently successful maneuver designed to send it crashing onto the lunar surface early Saturday morning.

Scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory said preliminary indications are that the camera-carrying spacecraft will land on or near its target, a broad and dusty plain called mare Tranquillitatis, the Sea of Tranquility.

It will be 3 p.m. however, before they can calculate Ranger's new path precisely. Without the correction the spacecraft would have missed the trailing edge of the moon by 1,136 miles.

The maneuver at 5 a.m. came as Ranger 5 was 99,000 miles out on its 234,000-mile journey.

The maneuver involved a long series of commands to make the spacecraft twist around in space and fire a direction-changing rocket for 59 seconds, enough to change the spacecraft's course by more than 1,600 miles.

Later, a spokesman for the laboratory said temporary fading of signals prevented scientists from learning whether the craft was pointed exactly in the right direction when the rocket was fired, but he added that they had no reason to believe it was not.

SHOULD TELL

Scientists said tracking of the craft over several hours following the maneuver should tell them exactly where it will impact.

In a 13-minute-40-second period before crash-landing on the moon's east central portion, Ranger 8's six television cameras are to snap more than 4,000 pictures of the surface.

The photos are expected to be better than those obtained last July by Ranger 7.

Officials Hit Land-Fill Plans

(The following statement from five Oxford Township officials concerns plans for a giant sanitary fill site in their township.)

"A review of the facts makes it very apparent that it is unwise to allow the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission to transport millions of tons of garbage and refuse through Oakland County and dump it in its northern part near the village of Oxford."

"Oakland County cannot afford to halt its economic growth in its most potential areas. This region now contains its richest natural resource. It is known as the great capital of the world."

It has been, and in the future should be, most important in the growth of Oakland County and Michigan's highway development, industrial expansion, and residential growth.

then to mount a follow-on attack against the urban area, fatalities would be increased by 10 to 15 million and industrial production by another per cent or two.

McNamara also detailed the war in South Viet Nam to the congressmen. He said the United States cannot pull out.

"The present situation in South Viet Nam is grave but by no means hopeless," he said.

McNamara stressed that the outcome in South Viet Nam is the key to stemming Communist expansion throughout strategic Southeast Asia and other emerging areas of the world.

GREAT STAKES

"Considering the great stakes involved in this struggle," he declared, "I see no other alternative for the United States" than continuing to support South Viet Nam against the Red guerrilla onslaught.

He discussed the war, and its wide implications, in a 207-page statement.

There was no mention of such developments as Communist mortar and bomb attacks on U.S. installations in South Viet Nam, nor American retaliatory air strikes against North Viet Nam.

McNamara's public statement was a censored version of a much longer secret report he made to the committee.

It covered his estimate of the world situation in general, and his proposals for strengthening U.S. military power under a $49-billion defense budget.

Pontiac Crime Up 12 Per Cent

Crime in Pontiac rose by nearly 12 per cent in 1964, but the number of offenses cleared by arrests also rose by 6 per cent during the year.

These figures were revealed in the year-end crime report released recently by the Pontiac Police Department.

Increases were noted in five of the seven major classifications of crimes—criminal homicide, forcible rape, aggravated assault, larceny and auto theft.

The number of robberies and Recreation Director to Leave City

Leonard T. Buzz, recreation supervisor for the City of Pontiac for the past 13 years, is resigning March 12, to become recreational general supervisor for the city of Dayton, Ohio.

Buzz of 417 Kuhn is a native of Chicago. He attended college and worked in various recreational activities in that city before coming to Pontiac.

During his years with the City of Pontiac, Buzz has seen the department double its activities. He has been instrumental in adding clubs and has increased adult activities and youth programs.

Buzz has worked closely with the Pontiac Board of Education in advancing participation in recreational activities.

Under his supervision and guidance, the Hayes Jones Recreation Center was opened last year.

STEP UP

"Naturally, I am sorry to leave the many friends I have made in Pontiac. The new job, however, offers more opportunities and is a step up the ladder for me," Buzz said.

Buzz, 39, is married and has three children.

Austin Yields to Lee on State Auditor Post

LANSING (AP)—Detroit accountant Albert Lee cinched the job of legislative auditor today with the withdrawal of leading contender Richard Austin.

House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, said today he received a telegram from Austin asking that House Democrats "withdraw my application in favor of my good friend Al Lee." (Earlier Story, Page A-5).

Students Enter Site Squabble

Hills Pupils Protest Mayor's School Stand

Students at Bloomfield Hills Junior High School have entered the battle over the site of a new high school for their district.

Mayor Louis J. Colombo Jr., one of 16 property owners objecting to the site chosen by the school board, yesterday received from the school's student council a letter of protest.

He replied in form today.

Colombo, a Detroit attorney, and his wife are among five couples who live on Lahser Road and do not want to see the district's second high school built there.

They have taken their objections to Oakland County Circuit Court, where the case was postponed until March 2, thus holding up the board of education's construction schedule.

CAN'T BE BUILT IN TIME

"If your opposition to our school continues, it means that our school cannot be built on time, and that consequently the education of over 1,500 students will be damaged," the student council wrote to Colombo.

"The school is needed no later than Sept. 1, 1966 . . . The present senior high school cannot possibly handle the entire student load during the 1966-67 school year."

"Therefore 400 to 500 students would have to be shunted into a makeshift high school in some other building."

In his reply, the mayor assured the youngsters he is interested in the educational needs of his neighbors' children. But he also is concerned, he said, with their safety.

LANE INADEQUATE

The 14-foot-wide lane, he said, is not adequate to handle 1,800 additional vehicles expected with the opening of the school.

School buses, fire trucks and police cars could not pass each other, he said.

They also would be unable to negotiate turns at the Lahser and Long Lake intersection, he added.

The mayor offered to give an on-the-spot demonstration of problems if the youngsters want to visit the road.

USE AS BRANCH

He also noted the school board decided to build its third junior high school a year early for use as a branch high school.

However, Colombo and the student council expressed divergent opinions on the adequacy of such a move.

Clears Air Surrounding Teen Smoker

The president of the Bloomfield Hills Board of Education wants to clear the air about the Swedish smoking incident.

In a statement issued yesterday, Richard H. McGraw said he is in complete agreement with the action of Schools Supt. Eugene Johnson, who Friday suspended a Bloomfield Hills High School student caught smoking in a rest room.

Birt Johansson, 17-year-old daughter of Detroit's Swedish council, was suspended for 20 days under provisions of a school rule.

Her father, Edward Johansson of 6345 Sheringham, Bloomfield Township, protested to Johnson.

The consul noted Americans are given special privileges in other countries and requested that "diplomatic considerations" be applied in his daughter's case.

RETURNED ON PROBATION

Birt was returned to school on probation.

In less than a week, she was suspended again Friday when Johnson learned both Birt and her father were United States citizens and that Johansson's title is an honorary one.

Contracts Awarded for New Hills School

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Contracts totaling $641,936 have been awarded for construction of the Bloomfield Hills district's eighth elementary school.

The total exceeds the $533,750 estimated cost but may be pared by yet-to-be investigated variables.

The firm's $338,072 bid was the lowest of six.

Mechanical contractor will be the Edward McDonald Plumbing and Heating Co. of Detroit, which submitted a $133,308 bid that was the lowest of nine.

ELECTRICAL BIDDERS

Electrical Maintenance Service of Orchard Lake was the lowest of 11 electrical bidders and was awarded a $53,864 contract.

Also awarded was a $16,692 contract to Gold Star Products of Detroit for food service equipment.

School board members were uncertain about whether this sum would come from the construction fund or those reserved for equipment.

This will be determined when Schools Supt. Eugene Johnson returns from a convention of the National Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City.

CONTINGENCY FUND

Money to make up the difference also is available in a 4 cent contingency fund.

The school, to be completed this summer, was designed by O'Dell, Hewlett and Lockenbach Associates of Birmingham.

Financing for the building was approved by district property owners last June as part of a $7,045,000 bond issue.

Also approved then was a $625,000 bond issue for construction of physical education facilities.

The school board has awarded a $53,699 contract for a portion of this work to Lind Asphalt Paving, Troy.

The firm, which submitted the lowest of five bids, will construct five tennis courts and a track at each of the district's two junior high schools and add one court to the present four at the high school.

India Says 'Castro-Style' Plot Crushed

NEW DELHI (U) — The Indian government charged today that pro-Chinese Communists plotting a 'Castro-style' revolution through the countryside circulating guerrilla warfare instructions written by Cuba's Ernesto 'Che' Guevara.

Home Minister G. L. Nanda told Parliament the government stopped the plot and crushed an extensive Red underground with the arrest of about 900 pro-Per-king Communists beginning Dec. 30.

The government was convinced, Nanda said, that the Communists posed a crucial threat to "vital interests of the nation."

Nanda said the Calcutta area of poverty-stricken West Bengal was the area where Guevara's "guerrilla warfare" manual was circulated.

The charges were made in a 45-page statement Nanda laid before Parliament.

Lake Orion Scrap Brewing Over Sewerage, Write-Ins

LAKE ORION — The 2 1/2 weeks between now and the March 8 general election here are shaping up as a battle royal between two political factions over two issues that are inextricably bound together.

One of them is the proposed $1.36-million sewer system for the east half of the village, Oakland County's answer to a state court order to eliminate pollution of Paint Creek.

The other is the recent endorsement by the Lake Orion Chamber of Commerce of four sticker candidates.

In the first edition of the "Citizens Party News," a one-page handout distributed throughout the village, members of the party's slate for village offices claim that the chamber endorsement was spurred by a small portion of the chamber's members.

As a result of a marathon telephone survey, they also claim that the action of the chamber in endorsing specific candidates has no parallel in other communities.

OFFICIAL ENDORSEMENT

Candidates given the chamber's official endorsement were Wallace C. Crane of 462 Algene for president; Wallace Beer of 302 S. Broadway, assessor; and Dr. Richard McNell of 44 E. Flint and Robert Hauwelle of 144 Florence, trustees.

Hauwelle is an incumbent trustee, while Dr. McNell is a former councilman.

Behind the "Citizens Party News" are the slate of candidates which includes Clarence Rossman of 543 Atwater, president; Mrs. Geraldine Campbell, incumbent treasurer; Mrs. Mary Parkinson, incumbent clerk; Robert Swem, assessor; and Mrs. Juanita Robbins of 622 Detroit and Richard Goeckel of 272 Lakeview, trustees.

The Citizens party hopefuls claim that the chamber members who voted for endorsement of the sticker candidates own, or represent, businesses which have septic drains hooked to the storm drains which discharge polluted effluent into Paint Creek.

INTEREST GROUP

Mrs. Robbins, president of the Lake Orion Homeowners Association and former president of the Lake Orion Women's League for Better Government, said "We know that there is a special interest group downtown that wants those sewers at any cost to individuals."

"They're the ones that are causing most of the pollution of Paint Creek, and should be the ones to pay if anything is done to eliminate it," she said.

Chamber President William Q'Brien, himself a candidate for trustee on the Village party ticket, said the chamber's action was "not deriving into politics."

"We have no axe to grind," he said. "Our only aim is to get more good people interested in village government."

'OUTSIDERS'

To a Citizens party charge that the chamber members voting for the endorsement were in some degree "outsiders" who do not pay taxes here, O'Brien said he thought they were "the biggest group of taxpayers in the village."

O'Brien said he did not know how many chamber members actually voted to endorse the candidates, but that only one expressed a dissenting opinion at a general meeting on the issue.

Mrs. Robbins, who is a sticker candidate for trustee, said the "News" will be published again next Wednesday, and that 8,000 or 9,000 copies would be printed and distributed to village and Orion Township residents alike.

Bosses' Night Banquet

Jaycees Honor Trooper, Judge

CLARKSTON—It was a great night for men of the law at the Clarkston Area Junior Chamber of Commerce's Bosses' Night Banquet.

Trooper Richard L. Charter of the Pontiac State Police post last night presented the Distinguished Service Award and Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard was named outstanding boss of the year.

The annual banquet held at the Community Activities Inc. building in Waterford Township drew a capacity crowd of Jaycees, bosses and guests.

Charter, 30, of 3785 Mary Sue,

Independence Township, was cited for his outstanding work as a trooper as well as his many contributions to the betterment of the community in being named outstanding young man of the year.

Known throughout southeastern Michigan primarily as the handler of Hans, the jet black tracking dog, Charter became a trooper five years ago. He is married and has four children.

BOSS OF YEAR

Jaycee Robert E. Brumback, youth counselor at Camp Oakland.

A University of Detroit Law School graduate, Judge Barnard has been active in many civic programs. Presently he is a volunteer fireman in Troy, a PTA member and serves as chairman of the high school scholarship fund.

Among his other activities are associations with the 4-H program since boyhood and the Boy Scouts of America.

Speaker at the program was Brigadier Robert McMahon, manager of the Everette Home in Detroit.

ADDED YEARS

The Salvation Army officer, whose philosophy is that laughter erases tensions and prolongs life, added years to the audience's life span with his series of humorous tales.

Jaycee President Lew Wint delivered the opening and closing remarks and Ralph (Doc) Thayer served as toastmaster.

Director Kelly Burnett presented the award to Judge Barnard and Keith Hallman, chairman of the judging, awarded the outstanding young man plaque to Trooper Charter.

Rev. Paul A. Johns, pastor of Calvary Lutheran Church, gave the invocation and Rich Johnston, a director, reviewed the highlights of 1964.

Introduces Bill on Escapees

LANSING (AP) — Local law enforcement agencies would be paid for bringing back escaped state prisoners under a bill introduced in the House by Rep. Thomas Sharpe, R-Howell.

"Simply because a state institution happens to be located in a given area is no reason why its residents should have to bear the cost of what is basically a state function," Sharpe said.

Sharpe proposed the state pay the local law enforcement agency for actual expenses, not to exceed $50 per prisoner.

In 1964, he said, there were 60 such inmates escaping from state prisons, camps or penal institutions.

Detroit Board Selects

Top Young Man of '64

DETROIT (AP) — Henry E. Bodman II, 33, of Grosse Pointe Farms was named "Outstanding Young Man of 1964" Wednesday by the Detroit Junior Board of Commerce. Bodman, a partner in an accounting firm, has served two terms as a Grosse Pointe Farms councilman and six terms on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

AREA NEWS

4-H's Will Put Talents on Display

Song and dance, speech and drama — all will be found at Pontiac's Crofoot Elementary School Saturday night during the 15th annual Oakland County 4-H Talent Show.

Nearly 30 acts from 4-H clubs all over the county will compete for plaque awards in the "Share the Fun" program, beginning at 7 p.m.

The annual show is sponsored by the County 4-H Service Club.

Winners will compete in the district talent show at Pontiac's North Little Theatre June 30.

District victors have the opportunity to perform at state 4-H functions such as Farmers Week at Michigan State University.

SPEAKING CONTEST

A public speaking contest will also be held in conjunction with the general talent show, portion of the program.

All winners will be determined by a panel of three judges, including A. P. Johnson, director of Pontiac's Hayes Jones Recreation Center; Mrs. Helen Glenn, of the Waterford Schools music department; and John Witherspoon, Oakland County director of personnel.

A committee made up of members from three county 4-H clubs has been working on the "Share the Fun" show.

Members and their clubs are Joyce Canfield, Busy Fingers; Robert Davis, Bloomfield; and Pam Mirakian and William Rathburn, East Orion.

The show will be open to the public without charge.

The total education bill for the 191,924 public school children in Oakland County was $81,813,245 in the 1963-64 school year.

To Ask Less for Library Expansion

FARMINGTON — The library board has decided it can get along with three-quarters of a mill to expand its physical facilities in the township and city.

It has altered its original request for one mill to build a new library in the township and improve the city facility.

The request to levy three-quarters of a mill for 10 years joins a proposal to extend the present half-mill operating levy for 20 years on the April 5 township ballot.

While not requiring an election in the city, the levies would be matched by the unit if approved by township voters.

The proposals were placed on the township ballot last month.

CITY COUNCILMEN then expressed concern over the amount of the expansion request and asked library trustees to consider alternatives — one of them being a one-half-mill levy for 20 years.

Library board members reviewed their plans and trimmed a quarter-mill from the cost.

Featured in the program would be construction of a new main Farmington City and Township District Library on the south side of 12 Mile east of Farmington Road.

The facility would have 15,000 square feet of floor space, while the current one has 6,000 square feet, housing some 21,000 books.

OLD POST OFFICE

Present location of the library is the old post office on Farmington Road south of Grand River in the city.

The library board plans expansion in the city during the latter part of the 10 years. It has indicated that this project could not be undertaken for at least two years.

The half-mill now collected from township property owners and matched from the city's

Dog Vaccination Clinic

ORTONVILLE — A dog vaccination clinic will be held at the Brandon Township Fire Hall here from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday. Dog licenses also may be obtained at the same time.

general fund has been extended twice in the last six years.

It provides about $60,000 in the district, which has a population of 6,000.

By 1960, there are expected to be some 80,000 persons living in the district. If property assessments increase accordingly, a half-mill could be expected to net upwards of $100,000.

Forum Plans Talk on States Rights

FARMINGTON — After getting a healthy start early this year, the committee for the Farmington Community Forum is ready to present its second program.

"States Rights" will be discussed Feb. 25 by a panel of persons having a wide range of views on the subject.

The program is set for 8 p.m. at the Farmington Universalist Unitarian Church, 2599 Warner.

OTHERS IN PANEL

Others to appear are James Boggs, author of "The American Revolution," and his wife Grace Lee, former editor of "Correspondence."

Also on the roster is Mrs. Virginia Crawford, a housewife and holder of a master's degree in nursing who is active in community affairs and a member of the John Birch Society.

Representing the press on the panel will be Allen Rosenfeld, editor of the Farmington Observer.

INFORMAL TALK

Format for the program will be an informal discussion by the panel members of the meaning and implications of the states rights question. This will be followed by questions and discussion from the floor.

Tickets are available at the Book Corner, Inc., 33173 Grand River, and the Farmington Savings and Loan Association opposite the Farmington Shopping Plaza.

Students can purchase tickets at half price.

Farmington Okays Call for Estimates

FARMINGTON — Plans were advanced this week for the two municipal parking lots proposed for the downtown district.

The City Council authorized City Manager John Dinan to proceed with engineering and cost estimates for an 80-space lot on the southwest corner of Grand River and Farmington Road.

Abutting property owners will pay for the improvement while the city will contribute the property, which it has acquired over a number of years.

Also planned for summer construction is a 75-space lot behind the businesses on the north side of Grand River, east of Farmington Road.

The council authorized Dinan to seek bids on the razing of the old Elks Temple, 33300 Grand River, to provide an access route for the lot.

Carrying a total estimated cost of $23,450, the lot will be financed through special assessments and businesses credited for the property they will dedicate.

Award Will Highlight CC Fete

ROCHESTER — The outstanding citizen during the past year in this community will be honored as the culmination of Saturday's annual Rochester Chamber of Commerce dinner-dance.

Presentation of the award to the outstanding citizen, whose identity is now a closely-kept secret, will come following dinner at the Stephenson Club, 24930 Stephenson at 10 Mile and I-75 in Hazel Park.

Toastmaster Jack Taylor, vice president of the National Bank of Detroit in charge of the Rochester office, will present the award.

Taylor also will preside over the installation of new chamber officers, including Robert Shueler, president; Neil Hartwig, vice president; Don Foss, treasurer; and Mrs. John C. Levick, secretary.

Outgoing president William W. Toussaint also will be recognized for his successful year in office.

The affair will start with cocktails at 6:30, followed by dinner at 8.

Dems, Republicans Still Quiet on Legislative Auditor Choice; Detroit Is Favored

LANSING (AP)—Democratic representatives made their selection for Legislative Auditor Wednesday; Senate Democrats were to make their choice today—and Republicans continue to interview the candidates, calling for "time and deliberation."

The House caucus cast a secret ballot, and was keeping the winner a secret even from its own members—although there were indications that heavily endorsed Detroit accountant Albert Lee had won.

Some Republicans indicated they would prefer Lee over the other major candidate—Detroit accountant Richard Austin, co-author of the legislative reapportionment plan which contributed to the Democratic sweep of both houses.

Mikrut, director of the State Municipal Finance Commission, and Deputy State Auditor Franklin Gregg Jr., Wednesday.

Lee and Detroit accountant J. Irving Grant agreed to appear before the Republican committee, said Rep. Arnel Engstrom, R-Traverse City.

Republican committee members questioned need for immediate announcement of the choice.

"Time and deliberation must be given to the choice of a man for this job," said senate minority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis.

Legislative Outline Drawn at Dem Meeting

In a convention noteworthy for brevity and harmony, Michigan Democrats last weekend drew up a blueprint for guidance of the legislature they now control for the first time in 30 years.

It required little more than 90 minutes to:

- Call for a state income tax.
- Propose sharp spending increases in Gov. Romney's budget that would wipe out the anticipated $105-million treasury surplus in one year instead of the two as envisioned by the governor.
- Pass resolutions providing tax relief for low-income senior citizens and in the consumer-taxes category.
- Urge enactment of county home-rule legislation with governing boards elected from single-supervisor districts on the "one-man one-vote" principle.
- Advocate abolition of the bipartisan State Highway Commission.

The Dem's income tax plank agreed to an initial flat-rate concept, mandatory under the new state constitution, but with subsequent submission of a graduated-scale form to a voter referendum.

Spending in excess of the Romney budget was mainly in the educational area, with heavy increases in aid to state colleges taking priority.

Delegates disposed of party business expeditiously, as ZOLTON A. FREEMAN was elected to a second term as chairman of the State Central Committee and ADELAIDE HART as vice chairman.

Left for further determination was selection of a national committeeman, a post soon to be relinquished by former Gov. JOHN B. SWAINSON and sought by ex-state chairman NEIL STABLES; and action by the legislature to fill the new post of legislative auditor.

The eminent position Michigan has assumed among the Nation's commonwealths, with the tremendous development within its borders, calls for statehood of the highest order if its full potentialities are to be realized.

Therein lies a challenge to the new legislative regime in Lansing. How the challenge is met will be watched with deep interest.

Missed Reel of Film Makes Movie Real Hit

Memo to authors of 600-page books and producers of three-hour movies:

At the recent film festival in Sweden one motion picture was specifically praised by critics for its brevity.

It was then discovered that the projectionist had unwittingly failed to show an entire roll of film. No one had missed it at all.

Any comment?

Nat King Cole

In the untimely death of Nat King Cole the entertainment world loses one of its top performers and mankind a warm and gracious personality.

For a quarter of a century, he was a show business legend — a nightclub, TV and recording star whose discs sold in the millions.

The son of an impoverished Alabama preacher, Cole began life as Nathaniel Adams Cole. His mother was a choir singer and gave him early training in music. Although his earnings rose to $10,000 a week, Nat's gentle, unpretentious nature remained unchanged—despite racial antagonism that he sometimes encountered.

His benevolence was always on call, and many worthy causes knew his generosity and helping hand. Over half a million sympathetic letters came to his hospital bedside during his fight for life.

There are too few Nat King Coles in the world. This one will not soon be forgotten by the countless friends and fans who now mourn his passing.

Are Viet, U.N. Events Linked?

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — It looks too close to be an accident.

Briefly, the point of what follows is two events oceans apart: Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kossygin was in North Viet Nam when the United States bombed it; and Red China's ally, Albania, tried to force an American-Soviet showdown. The Soviet Union and Red China have been on bitter odds, supposedly because of their ideological differences: China insists on far more aggressiveness toward the West; the U.S.S.R. preaches peaceful coexistence.

Red China would be the gainer, and look the wiser, if something happened to drive the Soviet Union into a renewed hostility toward the West.

Remembering what this would mean to China, look at this: Kossygin, after stopping off briefly in China, made his first trip to Communist North Viet Nam. He had hardly arrived when an extraordinary event happened.

Red guerrillas, warring in South Viet Nam but with their base in North Viet Nam, pulled their most spectacular exploit in years: they attacked a U.S. air base, killing and wounding Americans and wrecking planes.

ORDERED BASES BOMBED
President Johnson promptly ordered some bases in North Viet Nam bombed.

If the Red Chinese and North Vietnamese wanted to put Kossygin on the spot—he went to North Viet Nam to state Soviet support—could they have figured Johnson would respond to the air base attack with a bombing?

The answer is yes. When North Vietnamese PT boats attacked American destroyers last August, and he ordered their bases in North Viet Nam bombed, he told the American people: Acts of violence against American armed forces "must be met with... positive reply."

All this could have been an accident. PROOF OF SCHEMING.

Or—it could have been a product of Red Chinese and North Vietnamese scheming. Then something else happened Tuesday at the United Nations where Red China is not a member but its little European ally, Albania, is.

The Soviet Union had not been paying its full U.N. dues. The United States wanted it to. A showdown could wreck the world organization. The showdown would have to come on a vote of the General Assembly.

To avoid a blimp earlier this year, the assembly decided on a simple device: it would transact its business without voting directly on anything.

Tuesday Albania demanded this end and that voting begin. Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said it looks as if "some people want to wreck it. Asked if he thought Red China was behind it, he said, "I guess so."

All this could have been coincidence. Maybe.

David Lawrence Asks:

Is LBJ Keeping Public Informed?

WASHINGTON — President Johnson has come in for some caustic criticism lately from various news men because he hasn't conducted more press conferences.

But much of the comment misses the point. For it is not the obligation of a president of the United States to perform his duties in such a way as to enlighten the press promptly on every subject of importance, even when a policy may be in the course of evolution and final conclusions may not have been reached.

The very discussion, however, of the relationship between the press and President Johnson emphasizes a serious omission in the whole American system of government.

The Congress of the United States comprises the elected representatives of the people, and presumably it is their primary responsibility not only to keep informed on what the executive branch of the government is doing but openly to criticize policies and official actions.

One would assume from some of the criticisms expressed concerning the lack of the presidential press conferences that it is the function of the newspapermen to constitute an "opposition" and to cross-examine the chief executive.

Some presidents have liked the idea, but others have felt they would be hindered in conducting some of the delicate negotiations that arise in foreign policy because the press demands answers to specific questions. If these are ignored, they are immediately reported to have undue significance.

If the leaders in both houses of Congress were to set up a system whereby the executive branch was regularly interrogated on the floor of the Senate and the House, the President could not very readily brush aside their questions. He would have to furnish a very persuasive explanation if he failed to respond.

He could delegate to his own party leaders the task of reply or even appear in person if he felt so inclined.

The main issue today is whether the President is giving out the news of the executive branch of the government.

Whether he does it through a press conference or prepared statements or information transmitted to the newspapers and radio and television by his own press-relations secretary is not relevant as long as the public is duly informed.

Mr. Johnson, in his relations with the press, is accustomed to the informality which prevails on Capitol Hill. But impromptu answers and quips—as he walks along with reporters at his heels or makes his remarks at meetings with visiting delegations—can hurt the President's prestige considerably.

The problem is really whether the President furnishes adequate information either in person or through his aides.

Naturally, a president wants to make a favorable impression and will cultivate the press. But reporters feel that his real obligation is to the public as a whole, and most of the writers here are not inclined to become mere press agents of any administration.

Bob Considine Says:

U.S. Space Effort Is Study in Compartmentalization

NEW YORK — In the matter of space, we are like children grappling simultaneously with the ABC's and the remotest calculus.

In order to stay abreast of, or, as is probably the case, ahead of the Russians in this fantastic new dimension of man, we must work in more compartmentalized manner than ever before.

For example, we must put the finishing touches on the Lunar Excursion Module, which will take two astronauts from moon orbit to a moon landing and back into moon orbit to link up with the command module, before we know if and how we can get there. That's some other department's headache, not LEM's problem.

Before that particularly hair-raising problem is licked we must learn how to achieve a rendezvous if two independent space vehicles in earth orbit.

Before the Rangers are able to map the moon properly—a terribly difficult maneuver involving changes of course in outer space and the proper functioning of a machine made up of many thousands of delicate parts—we must be spending money building something that will land on the moon.

It must be "laugh" to bite hunk of the moon's surface with its big iron teeth, munch the stuff reflectively, and radio back the information about what the moon's made of.

ANOTHER WORRY
It will be built. Let somebody else worry about how to lift it up there and keep it from cracking up when it takes its punch at the Man in the Moon.

We tailored a $35,000 (one pair of pants) moon suit seven years before we will have the properly tested Saturn V booster which will take the wearer of the suit to his appointed station.

We have worked out the system whereby the two U.S. moonmen, having browsed about the moon for a day and night (during which there has been a 500-degree change in temperatures) climb back into their module, check their watches, and blast off to rendezvous with the invisible-to-the-human-eye command module.

Once they are hooked up, the remaining rocket is fired and everybody comes buckety-buck back to earth and plunges into our thick atmosphere at 25,000 m.p.h.

What's missing, as I know, is the hardware that the men will need, and the know-how to perform these wonders.

BIGGER AND BETTER
We're planning something in the nuclear fuel field that will be bigger and better than Saturn V. But we're still worried about engineering bugs in the rudimentary Titan II, which is the booster for Project Gemini.

Reds Not Ready for All-Out War

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Despite Russian and Red Chinese promises of support to North Viet Nam and shouts against "imperialistic" U.S. bombings, the evidence here is:

● Peking's Mao Tse-tung isn't prepared to get into another Korean War.

● Moscow's Khrushchev and Kossygin are not ready to jump into a Cuba-type showdown in Asia.

Moscow statements after the raids were milder than Premier Kossygin's speeches beforehand. Translated out of the peculiar code language used by the Communists:

Neither Red China nor Soviet Russia can afford economically or militarily to commit ground forces to action in South Viet Nam.

The Red Chinese today can't be certain of the safe-haven arrangement they had during the Korean war of the 1950s. Then they had received assurances that China wouldn't be bombed.

Peking has received no such assurances in this war. In fact, hints have been dropped to Mao

'Power of Communists Evident in Our Country'

The people of this country are constantly told we've nothing to fear from the Communists. If this is true, why do we hear no protests in our land when the Reds in Viet Nam have killed hundreds of American servicemen? On the other hand, when we retaliate and bomb North Viet Nam, demonstrations break out all over the world. Even in our country misguided college students demonstrate against our fighting men.

It is sad to realize the power of the Communists in this country. America should wake up fast and realize these are our sons who are dying.

Comments on Award Given Modern Art

In reply to B. Bachand's wondering why first award went to whatever it was in a recent local art exhibit, one might say that it was a slap at the intellect of an entire community.

Harry Truman called modern art "the vaporizing of half-baked people," and Dwight D. Eisenhower remarked "To be modern, you don't have to be nuts." When there are people who pay up to $5,000 for modern art, one who produces it cannot be said to be "nuts."

Vietnamese a variety of technicians, including a limited number of advisers for the Viet Cong.

For additional effect, it is conceivable Brezhnev and Kossygin could cancel out President Johnson's projected visit to the Soviet Union and a possible return visit by one or another of the Soviet leaders.

Captured documents and prisoner interrogations indicate the Red Chinese some months ago committed themselves to stepped-up aid for North Viet Nam.

The number of Chinese advisers serving with the Viet Cong has increased sharply. There are reportedly a growing number of Chinese technical advisers in Hanoi.

But these step-ups will be a far cry from another Korea invasion by Chinese "volunteers" and far less than the Soviet missile crisis in Cuba.

COLLEGE

QUESTION: What is the difference between a college and a university?

ANSWER: Originally, a college meant one group of scholars in a large teaching organization called a university. The name university comes from the universal or general kind of knowledge taught. Universities have a long history.

Oxford University, the oldest in England, was founded in 1284, and has 21 departments or colleges, such as Magdalen College, the tower of which we show in our lower picture.

Colleges in America began with the founding of Harvard University in 1636.

The word college has come to have two meanings. It can be a department of a large university teaching a special subject, such as a dental college.

But it can also be a large school by itself, specializing in one general area of knowledge, such as a liberal arts college.

University generally means a large grouping of colleges or schools of higher learning.

FOR YOU TO DO: Find out if there is a junior, or community college in your area. This kind of college allows students to complete their education two years after high school—or they can then transfer to a regular college if they wish.

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Police Department, which has been under fire from a segment of the Negro community, Wednesday received a pledge of support from Negro Baptist leaders.

Three officers of the Baptist Minister's Conference of Detroit and vicinity, which represents 250 Negro Baptist churches, told Police Superintendent Eugene A. Reuter Wednesday that the "overwhelming majority of policemen are fine men doing a good job."

They also said the Rev. James E. Wadsworth Jr., president of the Detroit branch of the NAACP, was "wrong in continually harassing and attacking the police department." They said Mr. Wadsworth "really doesn't represent the heart and soul of the NAACP."

The ministers, the Revs. C.H. Williams, Charles E. Glover and J.E. Moss, added that their conference was "100 per cent against" a proposed civilian review board for the police.

Baker Case at Another Key Crossroad

(EDITOR'S NOTE: For more than a year, the Bobby Baker case has been in and out of the headlines, raising the uncomfortable specter of shenanigans in high places. Now the inquiry seems to be running out of steam. The following dispatch by a UPI investigative reporter tells why.)

By STEVEN GERSTEL
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Bobby Baker investigation has reached another moment of agonizing decision. To stop or not to stop.

Once before in its 16-month scrutiny of Baker's tangled financial and business dealings, the Senate Rules Committee decided to bring the investigation to an end.

The decision backfired badly.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., arose on the Senate floor to dramatically unveil a new phase of what has become known as the Bobby Baker case.

The Senate, in effect, subsequently told the committee: "Get back to work — clean up the investigation."

DEAD END

Now the committee again has reached the same kind of dead end as last fall when it felt the job was done.

It has no firm new leads. But what the committee does not know is whether Williams is preparing some new bombshell in his chosen role of one-man investigator. And Williams won't say.

One Democratic committee member when asked about Williams said: "That's the problem." He said that if Williams doesn't come forward with new information the rules group probably will write a report and submit it to the Senate in mid-March.

The current inclination among committee Democrats at least is to turn the investigation and all its problems over to a new committee on ethics which has been authorized but still is not in operation.

ONLY A TITLE

The committee was created last fall. It is supposed to consist of three Republicans and three Democrats. At the moment it consists of a title. It has no members, no staff, no money.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has said he will appoint the Democratic members after the Baker investigation is complete. The reason — publicly unstated — is that no senator is anxious to get mixed up with the Baker case if he doesn't have to.

Whether the end of the investigation as far as the rules committee is concerned would allay those fears is questionable. There is always the presence of Williams.

The senator from Delaware was noncommittal when asked about serving on the ethics committee.

FINAL DECISION

"I never cross a bridge until I get to it," he said.

Before final decision is made to choose shop, the committee must clean up some loose ends.

The investigators must go over answers to be given in writing by former White House aide Walter W. Jenkins to a series of more than 25 questions. This will take place Feb. 24, when the committee next is scheduled to meet.

It is possible a new lead could come from these answers. It is more likely they will only round out evidence gleaned from old testimony.

NEAR COMPLETION

Still out, although reported near completion, is an FBI report on testimony given by insurance agent Don B. Reynolds in closed session. What he told the senators has never been made public.

In its report last year, the committee found Baker guilty of "gross improprieties." The next report can do no more than substantiate the original.

In fact, some committee members have given the impression they may be more anxious to discredit the testimony of Reynolds than to uncover evidence about Baker.

SIFT EVIDENCE

The Internal Revenue Service and the FBI are also investigating his affairs. A federal grand jury is now sifting evidence in connection with the Baker case.

In a recent letter to constituents, Chairman B. Everett Jordan summed up his feelings.

"We uncovered a nasty mess," he said. "There is no doubt about that."

"Very often when such a case as the Baker case comes about, there is a feeling that the whole story isn't being told and those engaged in wrongdoing are let go free."

"But if history has taught us anything, and if our system of government has proven anything, it is the fact that those who are engaged in wrongdoing ultimately pay the penalty."

"I am certain this also will hold true in the Baker case."

Kosygin to Make TV Report

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin will make a television report to the Russian people on his trip to the Communist countries of Asia by the end of the week, reliable sources said today. It will be his first "fireside chat" since taking office.

Western observers in Moscow said Kosygin may outline Kremlin policy on the Viet Nam crisis and give an inkling of the military aid the Soviet Union promised North Viet Nam following retaliatory American air strikes against the Hanoi regime.

Kosygin recently returned to Moscow from visits to North Viet Nam, Communist China and North Korea. Moscow and Hanoi have announced agreement to strengthen North Viet Nam's "defense potential," but no specific measures have been disclosed.

Soviet leaders usually appear before the nation's viewers following a trip abroad. But Kosygin's report to the people will be his first since former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev was ousted last October.

It has been reported unofficially in Saigon that Soviet ground-to-air missiles already have reached North Viet Nam.

Authoritative sources in London said yesterday Russia has indicated its willingness to take an "active part" in a meaningful peace conference on Southeast Asia can be arranged. The sources based the report on informal diplomatic exchanges involving Moscow.

We'd like to throw a little water on the subject of light whiskies

Kessler is one of many light whiskies. Is it yours? Depends on how you feel about water. If you use water to "kill the taste" of the whiskey, the answer's no. Because Kessler is the light whiskey you can taste under water. Or ice. Or anything else. Kessler the Smooth As Silk whiskey Full 86 Proof

Uganda Says Congo Is Violating Border

KAMPALA, Uganda (U)—Internal Affairs Minister Felix Onama charged Congolese forces today with two new intrusions into Uganda. He said the army is stiffening its defenses in the north and west.

Onama said a Congolese patrol crossed the Ishasha River yesterday, then withdrew.

He said another patrol entered north of the Ruwenzori Mountains and exchanged shots with a frontier army patrol. No casualties were reported.

Riot police on Tuesday broke up a demonstration by 5,000 persons protesting U.S. military aid to the Congo.

LONDON — A resignation date of April 1 has been set by the British Medical Association for family doctors threatening to quit Britain's socialized health service unless the government grants them better pay and working conditions.

The resignations would be effective July 1.

The BMA's 70-member executive council yesterday endorsed the threats of hundreds of general practitioners to quit the National Health Service and treat patients on a fee basis.

The doctors rejected a recent pay raise, bringing their pay up to an average of $168 a week, and demanded a minimum of $198.

Diplomatic sources reported that some Western delegations had urged the United States to withhold its challenge while the assembly voted on the Albanian motion only, with the stated understanding that the vote would not set a precedent. The source said the U.S. delegation seemed favorable but had to refer the suggestion to Washington.

Some 10,000 students from developing countries in Asia, Africa and Latin America are now attending Soviet universities.

Budo sought to dispel the general suspicion that Red China pressured its small ally into the move which disrupted plans to recess the assembly until Sept.

Budo demanded on Tuesday that the assembly vote to elect its steering committee, adopt an agenda and get to work. Qualson-Sackey averred a showdown by adjourning the session.

SOVIET BLOC

The Soviet bloc, from which Albania defected when the dispute between Moscow and Peking erupted more than two years ago, was reported increased over the move.

The Soviet Union and 12 other nations are more than two years behind in their U.N. assessments because of failure to pay peacekeeping dues. They contend the dues are illegal because the Congo and Middle East operations were approved by the assembly instead of the Security Council.

The United States says it will invoke Article 19 of the U.N. Charter if a rollcall vote called in the assembly. The article specifies that any nation two years behind in its assessment shall lose its assembly vote, and the Soviet Union has threatened SINGAPORE — A 100-man squadron of crack Australian paratroopers arrived in Singapore last night to help defend Malaysia.

The unit is expected to fly soon to Malaysian Borneo where British and Gurkha forces are guarding the 800-mile border with Indonesian Borneo.

Indonesian guerrillas have made repeated strikes across the jungle frontier.

The Australian government recently announced it would make about 1,000 troops available for combat duty in the area.

KARACHI, Pakistan — Pakistan and Communist China signed an agreement today covering a $60 million, interest-free Chinese loan to Pakistan.

A Pakistani official said the loan will be used for importing commodities and financing projects.

It said the triple assassination was on Monday night.

The radio said the bodies of the attorney general and the A.C.I. director have been found. There was no immediate indication whether police had found Poubour's body.

The station said the motivation of the triple crime could only be political.

Blaze in Mobile Home Is Fatal to Girl, 3

OSCODA (AP) — Three-year-old Jacqueline Pender died Wednesday in a fire that swept her family's mobile home here.

Her parents, Air Force Sgt. and Mrs. Carl Pender and their four other children, aged 9 to 16, required treatment for minor burns.

U.N. Seeks to Halt Move to Force Vote Showdown

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. delegates made feverish efforts today to block Albania's attempt to force a U.S.-Soviet showdown over voting rights in the General Assembly. But the little Communist state stood fast.

Informants said if assembly President Alex Quaison-Sackey is unable to legally sidetrack the demands by Albanian delegate Halim Budo for an end to the voting moratorium, he may postpone the assembly session scheduled this afternoon.

Budo sought to dispel the general suspicion that Red China pressured its small ally into the move which disrupted plans to recess the assembly until Sept.

Budo demanded on Tuesday that the assembly vote to elect its steering committee, adopt an agenda and get to work. Qualson-Sackey averred a showdown by adjourning the session.

African Leaders Said Slain

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo (U.P.I.)—The government radio yesterday announced the assassination of three leading government officials, presumably by political enemies.

The station, which calls itself the Voice of the Congolese Revolution, said an unidentified commando group killed Aity Gen. Lazare Matsokota, Supreme Court President Joseph Poubour and Anselme Massoue.

It said the triple assassination was on Monday night.

The radio said the bodies of the attorney general and the A.C.I. director have been found. There was no immediate indication whether police had found Poubour's body.

Things We Can Do Without

Everyday Quirks Enough to Make Man 'Boyle'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some things we could do without:

Girls over 10 who wear dresses above their knees. Es thetes who can't appreciate anything written or painted before they were born. Nightclubs so crowded that if your applaud your arm knocks a steak off the next table. Ladies who think it is cute to smoke a jeweled pipe in public, but expect a man to keep lighting it for them.

BOYLE

Prophets who say the world soon is come to an end. Millionaires who never pay the cab fare because they never have anything smaller than a $50 bill on them. Any politician anywhere who wants to raise a tax on anything for any reason. Automatic dishwashers that always overflow so you have to mop the kitchen.

Hostesses who insist on their guests playing charades. Fond mothers who hand you babies to hold that have queasy stomachs. Poodles with haircuts like teen-agers, and teen-agers with haircuts like poodles.

STRANGE CAUSES

Strangers who rap on your door to ask you to contribute to strange causes—such as a campaign to wipe out betel nut chewing in Burma. Television commercials that hold out hope you can solve all your major problems by switching deodorants, hair goods, toothpastes or mouth washes. And fat ladies who believe they can lose weight through hypnosis.

Drunken old buddies who call you up after midnight from far places and want to relieve the pain. Anybody who tries to sell you anything over the phone. Stenographers with fingernails an inch longer than their fingers.

The conversation of skiers, bullfight fans, and people who collect the witty sayings of surly taxi drivers. Any man over 21 who still wears his pants cuffs more than six inches from the floor.

Old grads who are always trying to get the scalp of their alma mater's football coach. Laundries that put starch in your collar no matter how many times you tell them you don't want starch in your collar. Executives who clip their fingernails while bawling out underlings. Magazine articles giving the favorite recipes of movie stars who actually couldn't cook a three-minute egg in a year.

SELL GUNS

All dealers who sell pistols, rifles—or guitars—by mail. Borens who spend a whole evening bragging about their knowledge of French wines or telling you how many shaves they can get out of a razor blade.

Authors who write long novels about their tortured adolescence. The tormented dramas of avant-garde playwrights who think life is just another dirty four-letter word. Drugstore sandwiches made of cardboard smothered in mayonnaise.

All people who insist on telling you about their divorces, their dreams, their diets—or a new series of isometric exercises that will make you so strong you can tear a deck of cards in half with one hand.

From these, and many another pest, let us have rest.

Premature Quads Live for Few Hours

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—Three boys and a girl, born Tuesday to Mrs. J. Gary Gwilliam, 28, are dead.

The 3-months premature quadruplets, each weighing 1½ pounds, lived less than a day.

They were the only children of Mrs. Gwilliam and her husband, 27, a Ventura County deputy district attorney. The Gwilliams have been married five years.

More Evidence Due

State Guard Hearings Are Recessed

LANSING (AP)—In 20 days, state attorneys will present their last witness on land transactions—just one of three items involved in Gov. George Romney's hearings for two suspended National Guard generals.

Romney called a 20-day recess in the three-day old hearings Wednesday because of some commitments of his own and because of a military duty assignment for one of the defense attorneys.

Romney set March 9 for reopening of his inquiry into a three-count charge accusing Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald and Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert of "gross neglect of duty, misfeasance and malfeasance in office."

Starting that Tuesday, "I suggest we stay with it through the end of that week to see if we can button this up as far as testimony is concerned," he said.

ON NAVY DUTY

Russell Noble, Neifert's attorney, will be on Navy duty from Feb. 21 to March 7.

In 16 hours, the hearings already have built up a transcript which, when typed, would amount to an estimated 500 pages. Nine witnesses have testified.

McDonald's attorney, Thomas McAllister, said the generals have not been paid since last October and added: "In a federal court-martial, a soldier gets his pay until the day he is hung."

Romney promised to look into the matter, saying it would have to be settled by the State controller and Attorney general.

PAIR'S SALARIES

McDonald's salary last year was $20,000 and Neifert's was $18,000.

Romney continued to show sharp interest Wednesday in a 1958 letter from Joseph Blitcke of the attorney general's office to McDonald, then quartermaster general. McDonald later became adjutant general and Neifert became quartermaster general.

The governor said the letter informed McDonald that land transactions similar to those in question at Camp Grayling were not authorized.

Romney himself took over questioning of two witnesses to develop information on the advisory letter, saying "this gets at the heart of the matter."

CONTACT MAN

One was Maj. Harold Clingensmith, who said he acted as contact man in the land transactions, representing the quartermaster general's office.

Clingensmith said he had asked about the letter and it was discussed in the office. "I don't recall who, or how many persons were there, but it was decided it was all right to go ahead with the exchanges," he said.

Romney read a portion of the letter and asked if it described the method being used in one of the land deals in question.

DIDN'T UNDERSTAND

"Yes," Clingensmith replied, adding, "at the time I didn't understand it that way."

Answering a question by Assistant Atty. Gen. Russell Searl, Clingensmith said an aide in the attorney general's office had told him "we should have a written opinion" on the matter. State law permitted the guard to exchange lots for property within the boundaries of Camp Grayling, and there has been debate over the definition of "exchange."

Romney has asked why McDonald did not seek a clarification of the attorney general's letter to make certain transactions were proper.

LEGAL TRANSACTIONS

McAllister told newsmen "the mechanics were not perfect, but essentially the transactions were legal. No crime has been committed."

The defense also has been attempting to show that the State Military Board, which it says approved the deals, was aware of the nature of the transactions.

It put emphasis on bids by Maj. Gen. Cecil Simmons, a co-signer of charges against McDonald and Neifert, to purchase some of the state lots.

The second and third counts against McDonald and Neifert deal with bookkeeping matters. Searl said he will call about 15 witnesses to testify on those counts.

Robert Hovey, an aide in the Auditor General's Department, will be Searl's last witness on land transactions, Searl said.

Seek State's Best Biology Teacher

A search is under way for Michigan's outstanding biology teacher. Nominations for the award may be made by school administrators, department heads, supervisors, teachers and students.

Further information may be obtained by writing to William Matson, Douglas MacArthur High School, 506 N. Center, Saginaw.

Deadline for returning nominations is March 18. The winner will be announced May 3.

Negotiated Viet Peace Risky—Dirksen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen declared today it would be "dangerous to

announced he plans to answer Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and George S. McGovern, D-

S.D., who called Wednesday for efforts to bring about a cease-fire in South Viet Nam.

These were part of a series of speeches obviously designed to influence President Johnson's course in which the chief executive told the National Industrial Conference Board is "the very serious situation in Viet Nam."

Johnson said that in South Viet Nam "we will persist in the defense of freedom and our continuing actions there will be those which are justified and those that are made necessary by the continuing aggression of others."

FITTING ACTIONS

"These actions will be measured and fitting and adequate," he said. "Our stamina and the stamina of the American people is equal to the task."

In such a situation, Dirksen said he finds it "difficult to understand why members of the President's party are suggesting negotiations and other measures which would definitely diminish our prestige, weaken our position in that part of the world and have a definite impact on the thinking people in other areas of the world."

RED CHINA

Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., urged the President to "call the hand of Red China and the Communists" even if that meant full scale war.

"If Red China is prepared to go to war to expand its sphere of influence in Southeast Asia, we might as well find that out right now before it's too late," McGee said.

"To negotiate now is as unthinkable as it was to negotiate when the Communists threatened to take West Berlin and Germany, when they attempted to take over Korea, when they attempted to make an armed camp of Cuba," he said.

Sens. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, and Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, all voiced opposition to any American withdrawal from South Viet Nam.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said there ought to be a "major reappraisal" of the foreign policy that leaves the United States "so much alone in defense of the West" around the world.

The 'Eyes' Have It

"To negotiate now is as unthinkable as it was to negotiate when the Communists threatened to take West Berlin and Germany, when they attempted to take over Korea, when they attempted to make an armed camp of Cuba," he said.

The Republican leaders said they support Johnson's course of ordering air strikes against North Viet Nam supply bases.

Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, acting Democratic leader,

Broader Selma Drive in Works, Says King

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says that what he calls broader civil disobedience measures will be undertaken in Selma unless Negro civil rights demands are met by city and county leaders.

"Selma still isn't right," King said Wednesday night after a strategy conference with leaders of the current right-to-vote drive, now in its fifth week.

King said that "far from letting up on activities in Selma and Dallas County we are going to broaden and intensify these activities."

If demands are not met, he told a mass meeting at a Negro church, "we must engage in broader civil disobedience measures to bring the attention of the nation on Dallas County."

'FILL THE JAILS'

"It may well be we might have to march out of this church at night. We may have to fill the jails of Selma and Dallas County," King said.

King, still suffering from a cold and fever, scheduled a morning flight to Atlanta today along with several of his top aides. He said he plans to return to Selma Sunday night to intensify the vote drive.

The 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner told the meeting that voter registration procedures are far too slow and Negroes will not be content in Alabama until they "can register to vote without a single stumbling block."

King said, "Until Sheriff Clark is removed, the evils of Dallas County will not be removed."

Sheriff James G. Clark, 42, is the symbol of resistance to the Negroes. The officer arrested more than 3,000 during the first four weeks of the campaign starting Jan. 18.

Another rights leader, the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, outlined new Negro demands for appointment of Negro policemen and sheriff's deputies, Negro tax collectors and hiring of Negro clerks by Selma merchants.

"If Negroes are to shop in those stores, we must have Negro clerks there," he said. "The stores belong to them, the money belongs to us."

The leaders of the drive object to a state law which limits registration to two days a month, in most counties.

Probe Murder of Woman From St. Clair Shores

DETROIT (UPI) — Twenty detectives from Detroit and St. Clair Shores were assigned today to track down clues in the hope of finding the person who administered a fatal beating to Mrs. Irene Auhl, 41, and locked her in the trunk of her own car.

The body of Mrs. Auhl, who had been missing from her St. Clair Shores home since last New Year's Eve, was found Tuesday in the trunk of the car, found in a parking lot behind the plant where she had worked.

An autopsy showed that Mrs. Auhl was alive when put in the trunk, but had been beaten about the head and her jaw had been crushed.

She died to death while trying to escape from the locked trunk.

U.S. Aide Leaves Syria

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—An American diplomat expelled from Syria as an alleged spy arrived here by car last night. He left Beirut today in a plane bound for Rome.

The diplomat is Walter Snowden, 46, who had been serving as second secretary of the U.S. Embassy in the Syrian capital of Damascus.

Radio Damascus charged yesterday that Snowden offered $2 million to a Syrian army officer for information about the Syrian military. He was given 48 hours to get out of the country.

The State Department in Washington said the charges were unfounded.

In Damascus, U.S. Ambassador Ridgway Knight's only comment about the spy charges was: "I don't intend to get into a spitting match with a skunk."

NO MENTION

The official government record of expelling Snowden made no mention of any espionage activities.

Snowden's expulsion was the latest in a series of anti-American accusations by Syria's Baathist regime.

The incident brought relations between the United States and Syria to their lowest ebb since 1957 when the country was virtually under Communist control.

HE'S BACK AGAIN — Hatsuoyoshi Tsuruhama of Amakusa, Yamato-Ken, Japan, is led into federal court in Pittsburgh, Pa., in manacles yesterday where he pled guilty to entering the country illegally. Tsuruhama has been deported from the U. S. five times since 1951. A judge sentenced him to 18 months in prison, after which he will be deported again.

Student Violence Rips NY

NEW YORK (AP) — Violence erupted in a month-long partial boycott of city schools as 400 picketing high school students braved with 100 St. John's University students and with policemen at three Brooklyn locations.

The two hours of rioting Wednesday came 20 minutes after police arrested at least six adults, including a pastor, who were supervising a quiet demonstration by mostly Negro high school students in front of the Board of Education's headquarters.

Before it was over, 18 persons were arrested — nine adults and nine teen-agers — and 57 youths were taken into custody, and then released.

The 57, all Negroes and including 20 girls, were hauled off a subway train by police after the youths attacked six white students from a Roman Catholic high school.

CAME TO DEFENSE

The melee started when some 60 pickets swarmed after six students from nearby St. John's University watching the demonstration on their lunch hour.

The university students fled to their school building where 100 of their fellows came to their defense. A few punches were thrown until police broke up the groups.

At school board headquarters, policemen were pelted with sandwiches, and half-filled milk containers. More than 50 policemen restored order.

It was the first violence in the school protest, which has spread to 26 city schools.

Leads Waning in Area Murder

Suspects Are Cleared in Boucard Shooting

As the investigation of the murder — robbery of Maurice Boucard moves into its second week, leads are dwindling as suspects are cleared.

"This is going to be a tough one," chief of detectives, Capt. Leo Hazen, commented today.

The facts concerning the case are fairly concrete, according to police officers.

Boucard, 47, of 8650 Dixie, Springfield Township, was shot and killed on the night of Feb. 8 during an apparent holdup of his Independence Township party store.

Officers have pinpointed the time the store owner was shot as within a 10-minute span.

QUESTIONED — Persons who saw Boucard just prior to the shooting and just after the incident are known and have been questioned.

Deputies have determined the type of weapon which killed Boucard, the caliber and the probable model of the gun.

Deputies still consider the possibility that someone other than a robber killed the storekeeper and faked a robbery.

2nd Dean Quits After Paper Story

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — A second Stanford University women's dean has resigned in the wake of student charges that some deans used undue influence in disciplinary cases and that one dean believed some young professors used literature in an attempt to seduce coeds.

Miss Bonnie Fitzwater, 41, associate dean of women, Wednesday followed by three days the resignation of Miss Lucille Allen, 50, dean of women.

Dean Allen's resignation came Sunday night at the same time a faculty committee submitted to the administration results of an investigation into a copyrighted story in the student newspaper.

The full text of the faculty report was to have been made public but was held back. Excerpts concerning the dean were released, however.

STUDENT CHARGES

The committee looked into student charges that Dean Allen, among others, tried to pressure members of the Student Judicial Council in the handling of disciplinary cases.

Also at issue was the student allegation that Dean Allen tried without success to enlist coeds to monitor freshmen English courses where it was charged she felt some of the young professors used the erotic aspects of literature in an attempt to seduce coeds.

Dean Allen denied the allegations made in the Feb. 4 story, but 10 days later submitted her resignation because, she said, "No useful purpose could be served by prolonging the controversy."

Miss Fitzwater, who came to Stanford in 1961, said in her letter of resignation that "an unjust and sensational attack by a small group of students has resulted in the abrogation of the rights of officers of the university."

Her resignation is effective at the close of the winter quarter March 19.

Iwo Jima Revisited: Scars Remain From WW II Battle

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Twenty years ago tomorrow, the U.S. Marines stormed the shores of Iwo Jima to launch one of the last great battles of World War II. In 26 days of fighting, 4,500 Americans and more than 20,000 Japanese were killed. Newsmen have been allowed to return to Iwo for the first time in five years.)

By JOSEPH L. GALLOWAY
IWO JIMA (UPI)—Time and the jungle have healed most of the scars.

But 20 years later, Iwo Jima's covering of scrub brush and banyan trees is still too thin to make you forget that thousands fought and died for this tiny dot in the Western Pacific.

Deadly grenades and live bullets—and occasionally human bones—emerge from time to time from the black volcanic ash as continuing reminders of the 25,000 men who died here.

From the air, Iwo Jima looks like a lush green paradise island. The mountain rises abruptly at one end of the island and its slopes are a cool green.

But the closer you get the more faults you see. The sides of Mount Suribachi are gouged and pitted. Steaming volcanic "hotspots" dot the length of the five-mile-long island.

SULPHUR SMELL

As you step off the plane, a humid Pacific breeze slaps you in the face with the rotten egg smell of sulphur.

A smiling young Air Force captain who hails from Shreveport, La., welcomes you in a soft Southern drawl that doesn't seem out of place on Iwo Jima.

He is William A. Bryan, commander of the island. The total population of Iwo Jima today is about 150 American airmen, soldiers, sailors and Coast Guardsmen.

About 40 Japanese contract workers also are on Iwo doing work for the U.S. military.

NO WOMEN

There are no women on Iwo Jima so the diversions of these isolated Americans are limited to fishing, hiking, exploring and badgering each other with the normal interservice rivalry.

Beards and mustaches are in the overwhelming majority on Iwo Jima.

The Air Force is on Iwo for only one reason: to maintain the landing strip which has been blessed by thousands of pilots who found themselves in mid-Pacific low on fuel or short one engine.

The Coast Guard maintains a long - range navigation station (LORANS) to keep ships and planes on course.

The Army tracks satellites.

FIRST GROUP

The first group of newsmen allowed on the island in five years has spent two days and a night looking over the island battlefield.

Most of the third, fourth and fifth division U.S. Marines who hit the beaches of Iwo Jima remember it as a desolate, barren island fortress.

Today, 20 years after the first wave hit the beach Feb. 19, 1945, the jungle has reclaimed most of the island. Banyan trees, black locust bushes, breadfruit trees and the tough hardy grasses make it impossible to wander at will.

Hot, smoking, bubbling pits that give off the sulphur smell are counted by the dozens. They are unpredictable and pop up anywhere.

STEAM CAPTURED

One hotspot is located in the middle of the airstrip. It is paved over but a pipe vents off the steam.

Another pit, surrounded by the tangled and twisted remains of an old Japanese command post, tosses boiling water into the air.

On an outcropping of soft Iwo Jima sandstone, an anonymous Seabee carved a 10-foot high bas-relief of the famous flag-raising on Suribachi with a bayonet.

Around it, carved in the sandstone, are the names of hundreds of lonely soldiers who died their year on "The Rock" and left their names behind as proof they were there.

LIVE BOMB

Lying beside the road to this unlikely monument are two 37-millimeter artillery shells. A quick look proves that the primers in these casings are live and could blow your hand off.

Down on the beach where the Marines landed, you can see immediately why the casualties were so high.

There actually isn't real beach. Just a narrow strip of soft volcanic ash that slopes upward at a 60-degree angle right into the mouths of dozens of Japanese pillboxes.

Walking is difficult on Iwo Jima's beaches. Your feet settle into the ash ankle-deep.

MATS ON BEACH

Rusty steel-mesh mats form the beach road. Without them, a wheeled vehicle sinks to the fenders.

A battered engine and bits of old metal, along with a few live shells, are reminders of the landing.

Revise Finding in 47-Death Air Crash in State

WASHINGTON (AP) — A treacherous, unseen accumulation of ice on the horizontal control surfaces of the tail probably caused the crash of an airliner at Freeland, Mich., April 6, 1958, the Civil Aeronautics Board said yesterday.

All 47 occupants were killed.

The board thus revised its April 15, 1959, finding that pointed to possible error by the pilot — stalling the airplane in making a turn close to the ground.

The crash involved a Capital Airlines British-built Vickers Viscount preparing to land on a regularly scheduled flight between Newark, N.J., Detroit, Flint, and Chicago.

Cole Is Paid Final Respects

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Notables of the entertainment world pay their final respects to Nat (King) Cole at private funeral services in St. James Episcopal church today.

The 45-year-old singer and jazz pianist died Monday of cancer.

Eulogies will be delivered by Jack Benny and George Jessel. The religious rites will be conducted by the Rev. Samuel D'Amico. Burial will follow at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in nearby Glendale.

Those selected as honorary pallbearers include California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D.N.Y., and songwriters, band leaders, actors, singers and other entertainers.

City Man Given Prison Sentence on Check Charge

A 42-year-old Pontiac man was sentenced yesterday to 35 years in the state prison at Jackson for attempting to pass a forged check.

The prison term for James Cole, 550 Montana, was ordered by Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn. Cole had pleaded guilty to the charge of attempted uttering and publishing on Jan. 29.

Pontiac police arrested Cole Nov. 9 after they were flagged down by a cab driver who was chasing Cole on Mill Street.

The cabbie said Cole tried to give him a doubly endorsed check to pay for his fare. Later police recognized the check as one stolen in a break-in of a car-repair garage.

Judges Eye Request by Blue Cross

The Oakland County Circuit Court bench has taken under advisement an attempt by the Blue Cross medical service to intervene in auto negligence cases started by its policyholders.

Blue Cross claims it has the right to become a claimant so it can recover medical payments to an injured party if a judgment is awarded.

Six of the seven judges listened to arguments during an hour-long hearing yesterday and then said they would meet sometime in the future to discuss the matter.

The hearing was called because five cases, are pending in which Blue Cross wants to intervene, and not all of them are before one judge.

It was intended to give the judges an opportunity for collective thinking. Several of the judges said, however, they did not know if a uniform opinion would be written that would set future policy.

In each of the pending cases, the plaintiff has rejected any attempt by Blue Cross to enter into the lawsuit.

Waterford Man Is Robbed of $878

A bandit last night robbed a Waterford man of $878 in cash and checks belonging to the Clark Service Station at 328 S. Telegraph.

Richard A. Dommer, 29, 3425 Plains, told police he was driving to deposit the money in a bank when he was stopped by the thief.

Dommer said the bandit pretended to be a police officer and demanded his driver's license. The robber took Dommer's wallet and the bank deposit and fled in a car, police said.

Some-body's Mistaken

'Man Alive, Davy Jones'

DETROIT (UPI) — Able seaman Steve Sulentic of River Rouge is trying to prove he's not a dead man fished out of the water at Erie, Pa.

The ship left without him and Sulentic said he was treated at the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital in Erie.

When he was discharged from the hospital, he said, he had no money and Mrs. Miller got him a job at Frank Merva's restaurant as a dishwasher.

PICTURE SENT

Sulentic's picture has been sent to Erie authorities for a checkup with the witnesses who had identified the body as his.

"It is like a horrible dream," said Sulentic. "You keep hoping somebody will pinch you and wake you up."

To See How It Looks in 'the Driver's Seat'

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—Gov. Albert S. Harrison yesterday announced the creation of a commission on the status of women but added he hoped the agency wouldn't produce even "the slightest change" in the female status.

"They already occupy the superior status," he said.

But Merva and the two waitresses said they were positive. They said the man they knew as Sulentic had a slightly hooked nose, several lower teeth missing and a tattoo of a cross covered with rosebuds and a scroll on which is written "In Memory of Mother" on his left forearm.

Attacks on U.S. Buildings Abroad Unabated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attacks on U.S. buildings abroad apparently are at a new high despite statements by President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk calling for respect.

More than a dozen assaults have damaged American embassies and other U.S. government property since Johnson's inaugural address Jan. 4. One unofficial count lists 14 such attacks.

State Department records show 33 cases of "damages to U.S. government buildings overseas through mob violence or other causes" in the 2½ years ended December 1964. That's slightly less than two attacks a month.

Johnson said: "We cannot be indifferent to acts designed to injure our interests, or our citizens, or our establishments abroad. The community of nations requires mutual respect. We shall extend it — and we shall expect it."

VOICED CONCERN

Rusk, at a news conference last Dec. 22, voiced concern over foreign violation of the "elementary rights of legations" and said: "We shall be sensitive on these matters." After the Feb. 9 attack on the American Embassy in Moscow, Rusk said the United States is going to "press very sharply" for full protection of its embassies.

Among the incidents which prompted official U.S. concern as 1964 drew to a close was violence by leftists after the U.S.-Belgian paratroop rescue mission in the Congo.

A mob burned down the 25,000-book John F. Kennedy Library at Cairo. Another smashed 56 windows in the American Embassy at Moscow, set a car afire and tore the U.S. seal off the wall.

The Feb. 9 Moscow mob smashed 220 windows in the wake of U.S. air strikes on North Viet Nam. Other attacks followed on the U.S. Legations at Budapest and Sofia. Wednesday demonstrators stoned and splashed ink on the American Embassy at Warsaw.

X15 Has Safe Landing Despite Flight Mishap

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — An X15 rocketed 3,500 miles an hour above 90,000 feet when one of the two main landing skids popped out Wednesday, but Air Force Maj. Robert Rushworth brought the ship in safely.

Rushworth said later he was unaware of the test flight mishap until just before he landed, when a chase pilot told him.

Some Africans have been demonstrating their distaste for alleged U.S. complicity in the bombing of two villages in Uganda. Despite Washington's protestations of innocence, a crowd pulled down the U.S. flag at the U.S. Embassy at Kampala Feb. 18.

In Indonesia, the Sukarno regime continued to seize U.S. libraries. The 20,000-volume library at Jakarta was stoned and taken over last Tuesday. Its windows had been smashed and about 20 per cent of its books burned in an attack Dec. 4.

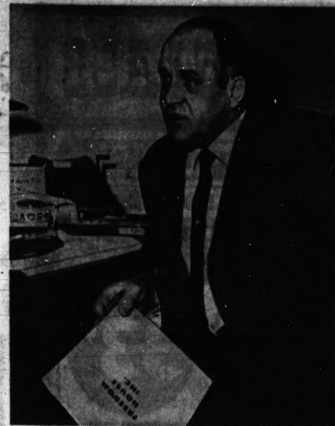

Of the American government libraries in Indonesia, three have been mobbed and closed while two smaller ones are still operating.

What is the United States doing about these attacks? Mainly, it appears to have resorted to diplomatic protests and demands for embassy protection and compensation. Sometimes it gets paid damages, sometimes not.

In public statements, the U.S. government has declared that such attacks harm relations with countries allowing them.

However, a State Department spokesman said yesterday he knows of no moves to shelve talks that are under way or in prospect with nations that have condoned the anti-American assaults.

HE KNOWS THE FEELING — Bill Sands of Kansas City, Kan., was a "boss con," 22 years ago in San Quentin prison. Today he helps other convicts make the transition to civilian society through Freedom House, Inc., a rehabilitation center, he founded.

Ex-Prisoner Helps Others Go Straight

CHICAGO (AP) — Twenty-two years ago Bill Sands was a "boss con," a convict ruler of San Quentin Prison society. Now he is helping tough ex-convicts become tough enough to survive in civilian society.

Creator of Freedom House, Inc., Kansas City, Kan., a rehabilitation center for ex-convicts, Sands, 45, gets "down to the gutter right quick" when counseling convicts.

"I know how they think," he said Wednesday in an interview, "and they don't buy the do-gooder approach."

Sands says the philosophy he attempts to instill in convicts is: "If I can do it, why can't you?"

GOOD AVERAGE Compared to a national average of four out of every five ex-convicts, only five out of 172 Freedom House graduates, have gone back to prison, said Sands.

Why? Jack G. Young, superintendent of the Minnesota State Reformatory for men, says, "Sands understands the convicts' predicament."

Said Sands: "They (the convicts) think they're smart and everybody on the outside is a square john or a dummy. I tell them if they're so smart, how come they're behind bars and the dummies are free."

WORK MOTIVATION Sands says that his work is motivated by a compassion for society rather than for the individual convicts.

"We are paying one hell of a tax bill to maintain prisons in this country," he said.

With the backing of multimillionaire W. Clement Stone, Sands plans to expand the Freedom House program nationally.

"We've been able to reach some cons that were considered unreachable," Sands said. "Prison toughness is hard to break, but it can become an asset on the outside. It gives them the drive to work harder than the average guy."

Shun Armed Conflict—Pope

Message to Global Peace Conference

NEW YORK (AP) — Pope Paul VI told a global peace conference today that all nations have a duty to foster friendship and shun armed conflict in "the present grave international crisis."

Failure to do so, he said, "would have incalculable and frightful results for all mankind."

His message came as eminent scholars and statesmen from around the world met to seek practical steps for preserving peace in an era of tension and nuclear weapons.

The gathering, inspired by the encyclical, Peace on Earth, of the late Pope John XXIII, brought together an illustrious company of intellectuals and government leaders.

PRIVATELY SPONSORED About 1,500 of them, from the West and the Communist East, were registered for the three days of discussions.

The affair, privately sponsored by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, was titled "International Convocation on Pacem in Terris (Peace on Earth)."

Nobel Prize-winning physicist Linus Pauling told an initial working session the "injurious and immoral" of the great wars of the past would be far transcended by a great war in the nuclear age.

"Instead of tens of millions, hundreds or even thousands of millions of human beings might be killed. Great nations might be exterminated. Civilization might come to an end. There is even the possibility that the human race would not survive the catastrophe."

Pope Paul, in a telegram relayed through Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, voiced a "prayerful desire" that the deliberations here "lead to positive action for world peace."

Friendly Visits Cheer Shut-Ins

"Please come back soon!" is the most frequent plea heard by each of 40 volunteer visitors—from their adopted "friends."

Mrs. John Bills, newly appointed chairman of the Friendly Visitor committee of the Pontiac Area United Fund Women's Division, said:

"I was amazed to learn just how many older citizens in our community are spending their remaining years without friends or relatives."

Mrs. Bills has been active in the volunteer visiting program since 1961.

At the present time, she is calling on an alert 80-year-old woman confined to her home by a heart and arthritic condition.

"We have had many stimulating conversations and I have benefited from the wonderful association."

LESS RESPONSE

All visitors do not enjoy this kind of response, but to them there are rewards in terms of a look, a smile or loving touch.

Mrs. Fred Hoenstine calls on several "confused" patients at a local nursing home.

"I sometimes wonder what I will say to each person that can be understood. But it always works out.

"How they brighten when complimented or when you notice something like a treasured picture! My visiting day is well spent because they know someone cares."

Several men visitors are also active. Harvey Sandberg found a fellow cribbage player in the man he calls upon.

Other visitors relate experiences where they have discovered mutual interests in gardening, knitting and recipes. Humor, sadness and other manifestations of people are a part in varying degree of each life touch.

OWN SCHEDULE

Each visitor pays visits according to her schedule and that of her friend.

Some visits are maintained on a weekly basis while others may be once or twice a month. Between visits the visitors maintain phone contact and send cards.

Mrs. Margaret Evans, volunteer coordinator at the Oakland Medical Care Facility, was asked if a visit once a month is really significant.

She reported that "any time given to these visits achieves amazing results. For instance, many of the older patients look forward to and prepare for a visit two weeks in advance and talk about it two weeks afterward!"

"The main thing," she added, "is not to disappoint them when a specific visit has been promised."

Mrs. Virginia Loveland women's division director, said, "We have several dozen unfilled requests from referral agencies—the source of each request. There is no limit to the additional number of visiting needs that could be met if more volunteers were available."

NEED MORE VOLUNTEERS

"We certainly would be happy to hear from anyone interested in the visiting program if they will call the Pontiac Area United Fund Headquarters."

Advisory board members to the Friendly Visitor committee include: Mary Paul, Visiting Nurse Association; Mrs. William Coullacos; Rev. Theodore R. Allebach, pastor of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church; Mrs. Alice L. Stone, Oakland County Nursing Home coordinator; Roy McAfee, executive director, Pontiac Housing Commission; and Mrs. Jacob L. Van Wagoner.

Mrs. Virginia Loveland, director of women's division of the Pontiac Area United Fund (left) and Mrs. John Bills, Watkins Lake, go over cards of people waiting to be included in the Friendly Visitors program. Mrs. Bills is the newly appointed chairman of this program.

Boy's Behavior Doesn't Please Worried Mother

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We have three sons, 13, 12 and 10. I am worried about our eldest boy. He is about the same size as his 12-year-old brother.

In fact, they are often taken for twins. The two younger boys gang up on the older one, who just stands there and lets them beat him up.

He doesn't cry, or hit back or even ask for help. This doesn't seem normal to me. I know all brothers fight sometimes, but this is no fight. He won't even try to defend himself.

He is a good student and a very quiet, obedient boy. Could something be wrong with him? I can't figure it out.

MICHIGAN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Don't try to "figure it out." Ask your family doctor (or pediatrician) to recommend someone who specializes in child behavior problems, and take the boy there.

Something is wrong with a boy who will not defend himself, or retaliate when attacked. P.S. And while you are about it, find out what is making unprovoked aggressors out of the other two boys.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is divorced, has two small children and receives no help from her former husband. (He has remarried and left the state.)

I have been taking care of

Tour for Medics

A tour of the Parke Davis Laboratories was on the agenda for members of the Oakland County Medical Assistants on Wednesday.

Later Parke Davis hosted the group at dinner in the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel.

her children days while she works. She makes very good money, but I have a small pension and don't take anything for helping her.

My daughter is very quarrelsome.

She curses me and the children and treats me like a hired hand. She has been getting me so nervous and upset lately that I can't eat or sleep right, and my health is beginning to fail.

I have had a proposal of marriage from a very nice man I've been going with for two years; but he wants me to promise him that after we are married I will not take the responsibility of caring for my grandchildren any more.

He says that is the only way we can be happy.

I care a lot for this man, Abby, and want to marry him. But it is fat of him to make me choose between him and my own flesh and blood?

HARD TO DECIDE

DEAR HARD: Marry the man. If your daughter had to face the responsibility of rearing her own children, she would find a way.

You have earned happiness. Help yourself.

Are You Bride-to-Be?

Are you planning a wedding in 1965?

We are interested in having your engagement and wedding news. But we need your cooperation.

The Pontiac Press has printed forms for both engagement and wedding announcements. But you may send in the details, giving full names and addresses (husband's names for a married woman) and other pertinent details.

Please include a telephone number so that we may check if necessary.

TIME LAPSE

There must be two months between engagement and wedding stories, if there is to be a picture with both. No engagements are announced less than a month before the wedding date.

We prefer to receive wedding stories and pictures before the ceremony.

If pictures are taken at the wedding, we must have them no later than two days after the ceremony (that is, by noon Tuesday for Saturday weddings).

If the wedding takes place out of town, this deadline is extended.

BEST PICTURES

Pictures should be black and white, preferably glossy prints. Snapshots cannot be used. Color and tinted prints are not acceptable.

While The Pontiac Press makes no promise to use every picture submitted, some printed mention of the event will be made.

There is no charge for editorial space, but it cannot be reserved nor can we promise the size of a picture or its position.

Engagement and wedding pictures are kept for two months, then discarded. They may be called for any time after publication.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Town Hall Announces Next Series

Mrs. Ralph H. Backus, president of Birmingham Town Hall Series announces the program for the 1965-66 season.

This is the 12th series sponsored by St. Anne's Guild of St. James Episcopal Church in Birmingham.

● Skitch Henderson will be at the Birmingham Theater on Oct. 7 and 8.

● Appearing next, on Nov. 11 and 12, will be Drew Pearson.

● Dec. 2 and 3, Dame Alicia Markova is to speak.

● On Jan. 13 and 14, Watson S. Simms will speak.

● Dr. Lois Lundell Higgins will be on stage Feb. 3 and 4.

● Dr. Woodrow Wilson Sayre will be the last to appear in the series on Feb. 24 and 25.

Officers of Town Hall include Mrs. Warren T. Olson, Mrs. Guy D. Hitt, Mrs. Ben Ragland, Mrs. Colin Stewart, and Mrs. Charles B. Kass.

Tickets which are sold only for the entire series may be purchased from the Birmingham Town Hall, Box 3, Birmingham, Michigan.

The jabout comes into fashion significance this season in Dalton of America's little Dalsio shell. Knit in a fine boucle pattern, it teams up beautifully with suits, separate skirts or slacks. Its soft ruffled style makes a perfect addition to this season's new wave of feminine fashion. Line carried locally.

Born and bred in Britain, adored and adopted in America—the Chelsea influence is expressed in this linen-like skimmer. The Chelsea collar, extending almost to the waistline, is accepted in a big way here. Bobbie Brooks accents it with a contrasting colored neckline inset and an outline of cording. Line carried locally.

Benefit Show Planned by Local Clubs

Six area sororities will sponsor a fashion show at the Huron Theatre on April 6. Alvin's will dress the models.

All proceeds will be turned over to the county to be used to help furnish the Oakland County Children's Village.

Mrs. Wallace R. Williams of Voorheis Road was hostess to representatives of each group Wednesday evening where Maxine Smith, supervisor of personnel at the Village, spoke.

Sororities represented were Psi chapter of Sigma Beta; Xi Eta and Iota Eta chapters, Beta Sigma Phi; Beta chapter, Beta Theta Phi; Alpha Alpha and Beta Chi chapters, Epsilon Sigma Alpha.

If any other sororities in the area are interested in helping with this project, they may contact Mrs. Williams.

Will View Rumania

A picture-story tour of Rumania will be the attraction for the February Armchair Travelers' program at the Village Woman's club.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bumgardner will present colored slides of their bus tour and a glimpse of Budapest at the Feb. 25 meeting in the club on East Long Lake Road at 8:15 p.m.

There is an admission charge to the lecture which is open to the public.

Club Plans for Gala

A nautical theme will greet members of Oakland Hills Country Club Saturday evening as they gather for cocktails and dinner.

The committee for the gala includes the Gary Hogans, the James Ratherns, Mr. and Mrs. Don Curran, and the Mike Finns.

Don Kjerfveit will provide the music for dancing in the boardship atmosphere.

The sissy shift in Dacron and Avril always looks pretty with pin tucks and lace inserts. The long sleeves stop with lace etching at the cuff. Belt it high, low or where-you-will and take your place in Sue Brett's junior fashion library. Colors in natural, sky-blue, coral. Available in this area.

U. of M. Area Engineers Named to Dean's List

Some 182 students in The University of Michigan College of Engineering made the Dean's honor list for the fall term.

From the Pontiac area are Thomas D. Jackson of James K. Boulevard and Charles G. Ullman of Stary Avenue; Peter F. Lambeck, Bloomfield Hills; John M. Brown, Curtis A. Harrison and James K. Posther, all of Birmingham.

Others are Donald W. Sweeney, Terness Drive; Norman C. Otto, Farmington; John E. Matulis and Robert E. Winkel of Franklin; William G. MacBeth, Davisburg; Gary J. Powers, Highland; Richard D. Bawol and Charles R. Cornell, of Orionville; and William H. Pollock of Rochester.

NURSES TRAVEL

For the next 15 weeks, seniors in the U. of M. School of Nursing will don blue uniforms and jaunty overseas caps and travel to nearby cities to put in two demanding days as public health nurses.

Included in a group of six girls are Lynne Ashby of North Elder Drive, West

Bloomfield Township, and Margaret Chamberlain of Birmingham, who were assigned to the Dearborn City Health Department.

This is one of five different "rotations" to give on-the-job knowledge of major phases of nursing including pediatric, medical - surgical, psychiatric and obstetric care.

NEW PLEDGES

Albion College Greek letter fraternities have welcomed 23 new members with the completion of fall pledging. Among these is Lloyd Utterback, sophomore, son of the Lester Utterbacks of Middle Bell Road, West Bloomfield Township.

Bloomfield Hills resident Jane Carlson is among 426 coeds pledged recently by social sororities following formal rush at Indiana University, Bloomington.

The U.S. Government estimates that 7½ million of the 10 million youngsters looking for jobs in the next decade will be school dropouts.

Committee Named for Next Year

Mrs. I. J. Gouin, president of the Parliamentary Study Club, named a committee to prepare next year's program at Wednesday's meeting in the Pontiac Masonic Temple.

Serving in this capacity will be Mrs. Merrill Petrie, Mrs.

Forbes Hascall, Mrs. John McNeely, Mrs. Maurice Baldwin and Mrs. George Walters.

Mrs. Richard N. Cogger, leader of the day, explained the lesson on the methods of accepting reports, adoption of recommendations, executive board meetings and their recommendations.

The lesson was demonstrated by Mrs. Hascall, sponsor of the demonstration group, and her slate of officers. Mrs. Joseph Pantier, parliamentarian, conducted the question box.

New Seasons, New Ideas

When the house is stripped down to cope with the summer heat, interesting new decorative window shades will counteract that "bare" look.

Once the curtains have been put away, colorful shades will perk up the room scheme.

If the shades match the curtains taken down, they maintain the color point most effectively till the window treatment is completed again in the fall.

For a special high-fashioned twist, you can store your winter window shades - and put up others that are laminated to match the slipcovers exactly!

There's Alternative to Full Bankruptcy

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

"We are wondering if we should give up and file bankruptcy."

A distressing statement like that ends many a letter telling me about hardships, overspending, mismanagement and discouragement.

The only hopeful aspect is that at least these letter writers are still "wondering." They haven't taken the final step that robs them of what should be considered a cherished privilege—personal responsibility for their own obligations.

Filing for bankruptcy is a form of release and relief that can build up a lot of future pain. Much thought should be devoted to whether it's really a remedy for anything in the long run.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I'd like to know if you think it wise for a married couple, heavily in debt, to file bankruptcy?

Could you explain the bad points and the good points of this action? Also, can you file bankruptcy on part of your debts? W. B., San Antonio, Texas.

NO HALFWAYS

Dear W. B.:

To answer your last question first, no. It's all or nothing.

The very fact that there are such things as federal bankruptcy laws indicates that certain extreme situations are thought to justify this action. But even so, the penalties remain.

There's the stigma the bankrupt must live with. He walked away from his debts.

Maybe family and friends will take a sympathetic view.

But his present and future employers, retail stores, community associates, and lending institutions, may not.

He's tagged as a bad risk—at least for quite awhile—if he wants to obtain credit again.

While the various states have statutes exempting certain goods from being sold, the bankrupt is certain to lose valuable possessions.

Most costly of all is the loss of the individual's pride in being able to stand on his own feet. And the lingering thought that a better solution might have been worked out.

As one court official remarked wryly: "People have discovered the bankruptcy laws."

As for the so-called "good points" of filing for bankruptcy there is, as I mentioned above, the immediate relief from a monumental burden. Once the bankruptcy petition is filed, the debtor is no longer obliged to make any further payments on his debts.

Exceptions are state or federal taxes, alimony, or support payments for his wife and children. Also, he still is not free of debts which were caused by fraud, such as embezzlement.

Another appealing feature is the simple procedure involved. Legal proceedings, if the case is uncomplicated, can be carried through in about 90 days from the time the initial petition is filed.

While I'm a firm believer in looking for another way out besides filing for bankruptcy, I have known of cases which did appear to be justified.

One concerned a small businessman whose wife took the profits to support her mother. Then the wife spent everything that was left, as well as accumulating a number of loans. Finally she skipped out, leaving the man with two small children.

His only hope was an opportunity to make a fresh start.

However, in another case which seems just about as desperate, the couple has decided to reject the relief of bankruptcy and instead is investigating the happier alternative—the Wage Earner Plan, known as Chapter XIII of the Federal Bankruptcy Act.

This couple had been living on two incomes. Then the wife became ill. Added to this expense was her mother's illness, which forced them to take out loans with payments amounting to $160 a month.

Their rent is $140 and the husband's income—their only one now—is $300 a month. But they still want to manage somehow to meet their obligations and stay afloat.

Through the Wage Earner Plan they hope to do this. This plan provides that under court supervision, the individual turns over part of his pay check each week to be divided among his creditors.

While the amount may be pitifully small, nevertheless in time the creditors do get some return and possibly all. And the debtor's self-respect remains intact.

So I say to any of you who think you've reached the brink of desperation, don't jump yet.

The George Walkers of Sedlock Street, White Lake Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Mae to William Klem, son of the John Klems of Detroit. A June 26 wedding date has been set.

Will-O-Way Theatre to Hold Open Houses

The opening of spring term at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre will be previewed with open houses beginning Friday at 8:30 p.m. announced Celia Merrill Turner, director.

The hours will continue Saturday at 2:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. and again on Sunday at 4:30 p.m.

The public is invited to tour the theatre and meet the staff after the curtain goes down on the free performances.

Interviews for students enrolling in the new term can also be arranged at that time.

YOUNG PLAYERS

Featured at the open house will be a group of six-to-nine year-olds in a miniature musical written by Mrs. Turner from the legend of "Brer Rabbit."

Local students participating from Pontiac are Beth Gregory and Patti Dell. Bloomfield Hills participants are Belle Brady, Jerry and Jim Hipps, Dorothy Mitchell and Patrick Hall.

Others are Barbara Andren,

Jeanne Lichtwardt, Linda Applequist and Audrey Wilcox.

Reservations may be made by calling Will-O-Way.

Sorority Saw Film on Lifesaving

Officer Harold Hedges of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department showed a film entitled "Pulse of Life" before Beta Mu chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority, Monday in the '300 Bowl' Lounge.

Methods of artificial resuscitation and artificial circulation were demonstrated on a manikin. Correct technique was shown to each member.

Mrs. Fred Vollrath, welfare chairman, announced the chapter's cash donation to the sorority's state project, the Penrickton Center for Visually Handicapped Children located in Taylor.

Mrs. John Keller, social director, will host a card party for members, March 2, at her home in Bloomfield Hills.

Beauty Care Takes Minutes

For beauty's sake be sure to cleanse and tone the skin every night before retiring. If cleansing cream is used, tone the skin first with a witch hazel facial.

If soap and water is used, rinse with clear water, dry with a soft towel and then massage with good quality witch hazel.

Let the solution dry by itself. It dries quickly, imparting a cooling, refreshing sensation as it does.

If skin is naturally oily, do not cream the face.

If skin is dry, cosmetic oil or other face cream is a must. Rub in well and tissue off the excess.

Turtleneck Tip

When washing a turtleneck sweater, open the collar so suds can penetrate to get all layers clean.

When nearly dry, fold it back in place and tuck a twist of tissue inside.

Hang Rugs With Hooks

DEAR POLLY — After washing throw-rugs, put four or five drapery hooks in one end of each rug as you would put them in a curtain and hang with hooks over the clothesline.

This will eliminate those turned under ends that result from folding an end over the clothesline with clothespins. — VIRGINIA

DEAR POLLY — Do not throw away that nail polish that has become too stiff to spread evenly on your nails.

I use such polish for printing our last name on garden tools, some things the children take to camp like brush and comb, camera case, inside of belts and so on.

The protector for the head of my husband's electric razor is clear plastic and almost invisible so he had difficulty finding it after it was removed.

A stripe of this red polish solved his problem. Clear polish also smoothed and held down scuffed threads on a pair of satin bedroom slippers. — MARGARET drawer that would not open because a tablet or notebook was caught at the edge.

I solved the problem by slipping a wire coat hanger and sliding it along the top of the drawer until the offending object was loosened and held down until the drawer could be opened. — ARLENE

DEAR POLLY — There are approximately 15 children in our neighborhood and for each of them to have an individual birthday party would break us all.

Once a year, usually in August just before school starts, we put all their names in a box and the children each draw a name of the child they are to give a gift. The mothers share the cost of refreshments, favors, balloons and so on.

There is one grand joint party that is not too much expense for any of us and no one mother is overworked. By having it in August it can be out-of-doors which also lessens the work.

Every neighborhood should try this. — MRS. C.

Their parents, the Elvis McConaughays and the William Hays, reside on Amberwood Street, Pontiac Township.

For the evening ceremony performed by Rev. Philip W. Somers, the bride chose a chapel-length gown of white satin with Chantilly lace applique.

A Swedish crown of pearls and crystals held her bouffant veil of nylon net. She carried white carnations.

With Mrs. Sue Reece, her cousin's matron of honor, were the bridesmaids Jamie Chism and Patricia Marcum.

Inventor Says His Occupation Isn't a Joke, but a Profession

By PHILIP J. REUPEN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK — Inventor Theodore A. Rich, who has 97 patents, says it's time that invention was regarded as a profession instead of a joke.

"People think of an inventor as a kind of nut who sits in an attic dreaming up gadgets," Rich says. "A professional inventor doesn't even rate a title as such in industry."

Rich, a senior engineer at the General Electric Co. advanced technology laboratories at Schenectady, N.Y., is one of the most prolific inventors in the company's history.

In addition to patents already granted, he has about 12 more pending. Now 59, Rich has averaged more than two patentable inventions a year since he was a $12.50-a-week technician at GE's Lynn, Mass., laboratory in 1928.

RICH'S INVENTIONS

His inventions have ranged from a World War II submarine detector to a device for keeping electric clocks on time. Most have been complex measuring devices for gauging radiation, electric current and the size and electrical charge of air particles. His work with air particles has gained him wide recognition in atmospheric physics.

Rich said in an interview that he feels industry should encourage development of more ideas men like himself — researchers who are essentially inventors rather than technical experts. While invention in industry often comes under the broad heading of research and development, he feels there is too much emphasis on analysis of facts, not enough on putting facts together.

"In a company like ours," Rich says, "about one-third of our products weren't even a thought of 15 years ago. Now it's that much of our business comes from inventors, why shouldn't invention be regarded as a profession?"

Rich has black-gray hair, wears horn-rimmed glasses, and a hearing aid. Intense and imaginative, he likes to sketch his ideas on paper and peppers his conversation with images aimed at making extremely complex ideas seem simple.

MORE IMAGINATION

Invention, he feels, is more imagination than brains.

"We're living in an age of the expert and the specialist who thinks he has to be right every time he opens his mouth," the inventor says. "To invent, you have to take a chance on being wrong."

Rich estimates that perhaps one of every 13 of his ideas has produced a patentable invention. So important have his ideas been that in 1960 the Institute of Electronic and Electrical Engineers presented him its Leeds Award for outstanding creative work in electrical measurement. His own company has three times given him its highest technical recognition, the Charles A. Coffin award.

"I don't think in the last 20 years I've had a job for which I was trained," he says. "The way facts pile up today, you have to learn as you go along."

NO ROYALTIES

Rich says he draws no royalties from his inventions but is rewarded with salary increases.

Like all inventors, Rich has tried his hand at household gadgets. He once fashioned a crude device to close windows automatically. Two pieces of wood propped beneath an open window with a piece of paper. When it rained and the paper got wet, the sticks dropped away and the window fell.

Did it work? "The window closed so damn hard it broke the glass," said Rich.

Add Wheat Germ to Gingerbread for Warm Dessert Cake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Do you, like some cooks we know, have a special category in your recipe file for those rules that include wheat germ?

Such a category usually makes a health-conscious cook feel virtuous because wheat germ offers high-quality protein and it is especially rich in the B vitamins and vitamin E. But no matter how virtuous you enjoy feeling, we suggest that you carefully choose the recipes featuring wheat germ, making sure that they are the ones your family and friends will relish.

With taste buds as well as nutrition in mind, then, we have no hesitation in recommending that you add the following honey recipe for gingerbread to your file.

When the rule was tested at our house, our tasters rated it high.

Another plus — this recipe is extremely simple to prepare.

Regular flour is called for, but it does not need to be sifted before measuring; neither does it need sifting with the leavenings (baking soda), salt and spices — all you have to do is stir.

There's no creaming of the butter or margarine and sugar, either, because the fat is melted. The batter is just beaten together in a jigtime.

Wheat Germ Gingerbread

2 cups unsifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/4 teaspoons cinnamon
1 1/4 teaspoons ginger
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup wheat germ

1 cup buttermilk
1/4 cup light molasses
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
2 eggs

In a mixing bowl stir together the flour, baking soda, salt, cinnamon, ginger, cloves, sugar and wheat germ. Add butter, milk, molasses, melted butter and eggs. Beat just until batter is smooth.

Turn into a well-greased square cake pan (9 by 9 by 1 1/4 inches). Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 35 to 40 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean.

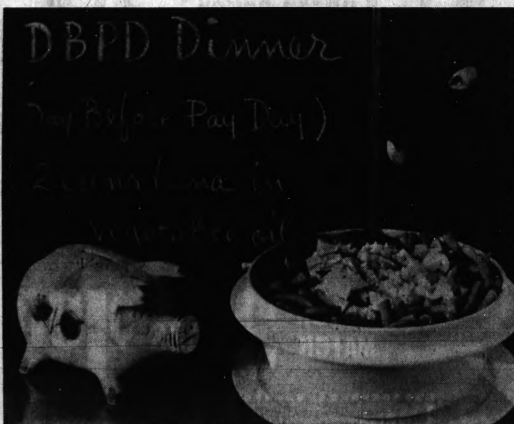

Cut into serving-size portions in pan and remove with a wide spatula; serve hot.

Or cool gingerbread in pan placed in wire rack for 5 minutes; loosen sides with a small spatula; turn out on wire rack; turn right side up; cool.

Note: This gingerbread may be served for snacktime "as is," or for dessert at mealtime with whipped cream or a foamy-type or lemon-flavored pudding sauce.

Makes 9 servings.

BUDGET SAVER — D.B.P.D. casserole is a meal in the bank... A wonderful tuna, rice and green bean casserole with tomato soup sauce — ingredients all bought in the beginning of the week — guarantees you a good meal on the day before pay day.

Look on Shelf for Ingredients

Here's a terrific tuna casserole that's a treat to a slim pocketbook and a treat to the taste.

Designed for the day before pay day (D.B.P.D. — that's right) this casserole is a real piggybank pleaser — because when you're down to your last nickel, you can hang on to that nickel, and leave the piggybank untouched.

All the ingredients can be purchased ahead of time at the supermarket when you stock up for the week. This bit of foresight will stand you in good stead later on in the week when your wallet develops that lean and hungry look.

You'll find that the D.B.P.D. casserole is a good habit to acquire.

And D.B.P.D. casserole couldn't be simpler to make.

Tuna and the vegetable oil in which it's packed (a source of desirable polyunsaturates), condensed tomato soup, canned green beans and rice are your main ingredients — budget friends all.

Thyme, Worcestershire sauce and salt are the seasonings. The Worcestershire combines with the thyme to give a lovely, simmered — in flavor to the casserole and makes it something very special you might even serve proudly on the day after pay day.

D.B.P.D. CASSEROLE
(Day Before Pay Day)
2 cans (6 1/2 or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil
1 can condensed tomato soup
1 can (1 pound) cut green beans
Water
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup raw rice

Turn tuna with oil and soup into sauce pan. Drain liquid from green beans into soup can. Fill to top with water. Add to sauce pan with remaining in-redients. Place over moderate heat and bring to a boil.

Turn into 2-quart casserole; cover and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) 30 minutes. Remove.

Arrange green beans in hand around casserole; cover and return to oven 15 minutes longer. Yield: 6 servings.

Top Broccoli Spears
With Can of Spaghetti

For Sunday supper in a hurry, just reach for the can of spaghetti with meatballs. But first: Arrange a 10-ounce package frozen broccoli spears, cooked and drained, in a buttered shallow baking dish (8x8 1/2"); sprinkle with garlic powder.

Spoon the contents of a 15-ounce can spaghetti with meatballs over broccoli. Top with 1/2 cup shredded sharp cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Avocado Just One Ingredient in Unusual California Salad

Santa Barbara is a California Pacific coast city whose beauty and elegance never fail to impress visitors. "Santa Barbara Salad" is named after it — and not without good reason!

It's an elegant combination of cubed California avocado, green peas, diced Cheddar cheese and celery and all manner of other tasty ingredients tossed lightly with mayonnaise.

The Santa Barbara area is just one section of southern California where avocados thrive in the fertile soil. Seven counties in that part of the Golden State produce the avocados that grace recipes ranging from salads and party dips to desserts.

Santa Barbara Salad
1 California avocado
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 package (10 oz.) frozen green peas
1 cup diced Cheddar cheese
1/2 cup diced celery

2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish
1 tablespoon chopped canned green chili peppers (optional)
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1/2 cup mayonnaise
Crisp salad greens

Cut avocado lengthwise into halves; remove seed and skin. Cut fruit into cubes. Sprinkle with salt and lemon juice.

Cook peas as package directs; drain and cool. Lightly toss together all ingredients except salad greens.

Arrange greens in serving bowl or on individual plates; turn salad onto greens. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Clarify some butter and keep it on hand (in a tightly covered jar in the refrigerator) to use for greasing the pans for butter cakes and cookies. The result: Double butter flavor!

Oven-Fried Fowl Bakes Unwatched

There may be some chicken left over for a next-day lunch.

Oven-Fried Chicken Breasts:
2 large chicken breasts, split bone removed and skinned
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon white pepper
1/4 cup butter
Paprika

Wash chicken and drain. On waxed paper, stir together the flour, salt and pepper; turn chicken in mixture to coat well.

In a shallow baking pan (an 8 by 8 by 2 inch ovenglass cake dish is fine) melt the butter in a hot (425 degrees) oven; place chicken in pan, skin side down, in one layer.

Bake in the 425-degree oven for 20 minutes; turn so skin side is up; sprinkle with paprika. Continue baking for 10 to 15 minutes or until cooked through and golden brown.

Serve chicken with butter and drippings in large over rice. Makes 2 large servings.

Dessert Is Light, Airy, Lemony

Here's a version of Lemon Snow that is held in high favor.

Lemon Snow
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 1/4 cups cold water
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/4 cup lemon juice
2 white eggs

In the top of a double boiler, soften the gelatin in 1/4 cup of the water; place over boiling water; stir until gelatin dissolves.

Add sugar, salt, lemon rind, lemon juice and remaining 1/4 cup water; stir until sugar dissolves. Remove from heat.

Place upper part of double boiler with mixture in it in a pan of ice cubes and cold water. Stirring often, chill until it begins to set; remove pan from ice water.

Add egg whites; with electric beater, beat at high speed until mixture begins to hold its shape. Turn into a 1 1/2 quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serve with Custard Sauce. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Crumbs Coat Ham Both Browned

Ever fix ham this way?

Toasted Ham
Butt half of a ham
1/2 cup each fine dry bread crumbs and light brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon each ground cloves and dry mustard
Bake ham until cooked through; remove from oven. Mix together the bread crumbs, brown sugar, cloves and mustard; add 2 tablespoons of fat from ham drippings and mix well. Spread mixture over top and sides of ham; return to a hot (425 degrees) oven for 15 minutes.

Pasties Are Good Hearty Foods

By JANET ODELL,
Pontiac Press Food Editor.
Publishing a pasty recipe in Michigan is just asking for trouble.

No two people agree on how pasties should be made. It's even difficult to determine exactly which immigrants in the early copper mining days brought the first pasties to the Upper Peninsula.

But everyone who has eaten good pasties knows what delicious food they are.

In Cornwall, England there is a saying, "The Devil does not show himself in Cornwall lest he be baked in a pie."

One advantage of pasties is that they are good hot, warm or cold. Because of this, they make excellent lunchbox fare.

Don't try to send warm pasties; they might spoil. But cold ones keep perfectly. Here's our first recipe.

Cornish Pasties

3 cups sifted enriched flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 cup shortening
1 to 1 1/2 tablespoons cold water

Beef-Vegetable Filling

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Press dough together, wrap in waxed paper and refrigerate while preparing Beef-Vegetable Filling.

Divide dough in half. Roll out each half to square 1/4-inch thick. Cut each square into four circles, 7 inches in diameter. Divide filling evenly among circles.

Bring two sides together, forming a "torpedo," and seal edge. Slash pastry near top to allow steam to escape. Place on ungreased baking sheet.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for one hour or until meat is fork-tender and pastry is browned. Serve hot or cold.

Beef-Vegetable Filling

1 pound beef stew meat with fat, cut into 1/2-inch cubes
1/2 cup finely diced potato (1 small potato)
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup finely diced carrot
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon celery seed
Dash pepper

Mix together beef, potato, onion, carrot, salt, celery seed and pepper. Makes 8 pasties.

Recipe number 2 is a bit different. It has cheese and mushrooms in the filling and shredded wheat cereal in the crust.

CORNISH BEEF PASTIES

Filling

1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 pound ground beef
1/2 cup (2 oz. can) mushroom pieces and stems, drained
1/2 cup grated extra sharp cheddar cheese
1 teaspoon parsley flakes
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1/2 cup catsup

Crust

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1/2 teaspoon marjoram
1/2 cup bite size shredded wheat biscuits crushed to 1/4 cup
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
1/2 cup warm milk

Heat oven to hot (400 degrees). Cook onion in butter until clear. Add ground beef. Cook thoroughly. Drain. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well.

Sift together flour and seasonings. Stir in cereal crumbs. Add egg, butter and milk. Mix until smooth. Knead several times on floured board.

Divide dough into 2 equal parts. Roll each very thin. Cut into four 6-inch circles. Place a heaping 1/4 cup of filling on one half of each circle. Cut slots for steam to escape in other half. Fold dough over filling.

Bring edges together and seal. Bake on cookie sheet 20 minutes or until brown. Serve with sauce made by heating 1/2 cup milk and 1 can (10 1/2 oz.) cream of mushroom or celery soup. Yield: 4 large servings.

Note: Pasties may be frozen before or after baking. Bake without thawing according to directions. If baked before freezing, heat without thawing in a hot (400 degrees) oven wrapped in foil for 10 minutes and uncovered for 10 minutes.

Then for Lent and all meatless days, there are pasties made with tuna. These may be your favorite of them all. Remember, how... we haven't said any one of these recipes is THE recipe for pasties.

forming a "torpedo," and seal edge. Slash pastry near top to allow steam to escape. Place on ungreased baking sheet.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for one hour or until meat is fork-tender and pastry is browned. Serve hot or cold.

Beef-Vegetable Filling

1 pound beef stew meat with fat, cut into 1/2-inch cubes
1/2 cup finely diced potato (1 small potato)
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup finely diced carrot
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon celery seed
Dash pepper

Mix together beef, potato, onion, carrot, salt, celery seed and pepper. Makes 8 pasties.

Recipe number 2 is a bit different. It has cheese and mushrooms in the filling and shredded wheat cereal in the crust.

Sour Cream Tops Fruit

A combination of fruit juices with sour cream and brown sugar forms a caramel-like sauce in this easy-to-make dessert.

Caramel Fruit Compote

12 dried figs, quartered
Water
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1/2 fresh pineapple, peeled and diced
1 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 cup brown sugar

Cover figs with water; add lemon peel and simmer for five minutes or until dried figs are tender. Drain and cool. In large dessert dish, place figs and pineapple. Cover with sour cream; then brown sugar. Refrigerate, covered, for several hours.

North Europeans Have This Salad

This recipe is an old favorite, but it may be new to you.

Herring Salad

1 jar (7 1/2 ounces) marinated herring fillets
2 cups diced cooked potatoes
2 cups diced apple
2 cups diced pickled beets
3 tablespoons salad oil
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
Salt and pepper to taste
Salad greens
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced

Drain herring; dice, removing any bones. Toss the herring with the remaining ingredients except the salad greens and eggs. Add more oil and vinegar if needed.

Serve on salad greens; garnish with egg. Makes 6 servings.

Liverwurst for Snack

Men usually go for this snack!

Ann's Bohemian Snacks

Liverwurst, not sliced
Fine bread crumbs
Butter
Tomato Cocktail Sauce

Shape chilled liverwurst into 1-inch balls between the palms of your hands; roll in crumbs, pressing down slightly.

Use about 2 tablespoons butter for 1 pound liverwurst; heat butter in skillet; add the liverwurst balls and brown thoroughly, turning as necessary.

Serve at once with the Tomato Cocktail Sauce as a dip.

This Pot Roast Cooked With Wine, Olives

Country kitchen pot roast is enriched with ripe olives.

Brown a 3 1/2 to 5 pound beef chuck roast on all sides in 2 tablespoons of hot vegetable oil in a very heavy pot.

Add 1/4 cup of chopped onion, 2 bouillon cubes, 1/2 cup of dry red wine, 2 teaspoons of salt, 1/4 teaspoon of pepper, 1/2 teaspoon of dried fine herbs, and 1/2 teaspoon of garlic powder. Cover and simmer 1 1/2 hours.

Add 1 1/2 cups of pitted ripe olives, quartered, 2 cups each of chopped celery and diced carrots and simmer, covered, about 45 minutes more, or until carrots are tender.

Mix 1 (1 pound) can of solid pack tomatoes with 3 tablespoons of cornstarch. Remove roast to heated platter and keep warm.

Stir tomatoes into meat gravy. Cook, stirring constantly, until gravy is thickened and clear. Serve over roast. Makes 8-10 servings.

Orange Swirl

Ever try swirling frozen orange juice concentrate through softened ice cream and then storing in the freezer until firm? You can use vanilla or chocolate ice cream - chocolate is surprisingly compatible with orange flavor.

Tuna Cornish Pies

1 package (10 ounces) pie crust mix
2 tablespoons toasted sesame seeds, optional
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

2 See Senate OK on Negro Voter Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., said today the door may be opening for early Senate passage of a bill to further safeguard Negro voting rights.

The two senators applauded in separate interviews a statement Wednesday by Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, the assistant Democratic leader, that he would be willing "under certain circumstances" to support a measure to set up federal registrars to register any Negroes who say they are discriminated against by state officials.

Long's further intimation that Southerners may not filibuster against a voting rights bill was regarded in some quarters as a sign that the Southern phalanx against passage of civil rights legislation may be coming apart.

Javits said he welcomes Long's statement as a significant one. He said he thinks it reflects something of a realignment among Southerners because of the "accomplished fact" of the 1964 civil rights bill.

Agreeing Ribicoff said he thinks the difficulties encountered by Negroes in attempting to register in Selma, Ala., and racial demonstrations elsewhere are exerting pressure on President Johnson to recommend voting rights legislation.

"I think a very large majority of the Senate would favor passage of legislation which would permit the federal government to step in to end the subterfuge and the dilatory tactics now being employed in some states," he said. "The people want to make civil rights a reality."

Javits predicted that whatever measure is brought before the Senate will have strong bipartisan support. He said bipartisan cooperation is "back on the track" after its temporary derailment during the presidential campaign.

Several bills have been introduced, among them a bill entered Wednesday by Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich., to reduce a state's congressional representation proportionate to the number of qualified voters denied their rights. Johnson's recommendations are being awaited.

FILIBUSTER ISSUE

Long said he hopes liberals plugging for a change in Senate rules to make it easier to kill off filibusters will not push for a scheduled showdown early next month.

The Senate Rules Committee has set hearings for Tuesday on a proposal to soften Senate Rule 22, which requires approval of two-thirds of those voting to cut off a filibuster. Long said the imposition of a debate limitation last year to gain passage of a general civil rights bill indicates that any "reasonable" measure can be passed under the present rule.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he thinks the Senate will agree to a delay in considering the rules change until Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., is well enough to resume his duties.

Russell, who has captained Southerners opposing earlier civil rights bills, is in a hospital, recovering from a throat operation.

Javits declined to agree in advance to a delay. He said, however, that if it is requested by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana on a bipartisan basis he would go along.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Laundryman Frank Alexander, making a delivery, saw a man stealing an armload of clothes from his truck.

Alexander carries a pistol and he chased the man, weapon in hand. The two fought briefly.

"I got the dry cleaning bag," Alexander told police Wednesday, "but the bum stole my gun in the fight."

Further Deterioration Noted

Ruby Signs Lawyer Dismissal Petition

DALLAS (UPI) — Jack Ruby's family got his signature on the dotted line yesterday in order to qualify for a court order dismissing lawyer J. H. Tonnahill from the condemned killer's case.

Tonnahill, one of the original members of the defense team for the slayer of presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, is among a growing number of attorneys to be asked out of the case by the hard-to-please Ruby family.

But Tonnahill insists he isn't a quitter and will not resign the case unless ordered to do so by the courts.

Ruby's brothers and sisters went to the Texas Criminal Court of Appeals in Austin yesterday to obtain an order dismissing Tonnahill, but the court found the petition deficient because it contained neither the signature of Ruby nor that of a lawyer of record in the case. It was signed by seven of Ruby's brothers and sisters.

Undaunted, Sam Ruby returned to the Dallas County Jail with the three-page document to obtain Jack's signature. Sam Ruby said his brother did sign the paper and the signature was notarized by a deputy sheriff.

There was not time, however, to represent the petition to the Appellate Court in Austin so the whole matter will be up in the air until next Wednesday when the court reconvenes.

FIRST ARGUMENTS

Ruby's lawyer or lawyers—whomever it may be at the time—will go before the Court of Criminal Appeals March 10 to present their first arguments in an effort to win a reversal of his conviction and death sentence.

The court date is four days short of the first anniversary of his conviction for fatally shooting Oswald, the killer of President Kennedy.

Sam Ruby had another discouraging report on his brother's mental state yesterday when he left the jail.

"He had deteriorated a little more, I can see it," Sam said. "He is in a depressed state of mind. He wants us to call people all over the country and ask whether they are being killed. He says, 'They are all gone. Call them. Do me a favor and call them.'" Sam related.

Clue Found in 'Jack the Stripper' Case

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard yesterday came up with its first solid clue in the baffling "Jack the Stripper" slayings of six London prostitutes within the past year.

Informed sources said detectives were informed that the latest victim, a tattooed, 28-year-old Irish woman named Bridie O'Hara, knew a round-faced man resembling one who was seen driving off with victim No. 8, Margaret McGowan.

The nude body of the O'Hara woman, also known as Bridie Moore, was found Tuesday covered with weeds behind a factory. She apparently had been strangled and dumped in the lot about two weeks ago.

Police, armed with information given by prostitutes about the suspect, had an artist's sketch drawn up. They will circulate it in the seedy Notting Hill area where all six victims were known to have operated.

Scotland Yard theorized the prostitutes were killed by an outwardly respectable businessman who probably commutes from the suburbs and in 10-week cycles develops the urge to kill.

The man for some reason appears to carry a grudge against prostitutes.

Maddox Restaurant

Leased to Two Whites

ATLANTA (AP) — One of the nation's foremost foes of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, Lester G. Maddox, says he has leased his restaurant property to two former employees, both white. "It is my understanding," said segregationist Maddox, "that they will serve people of all races." Maddox closed his cafeteria rather than serve Negroes.

Washington News in Brief

Lagging Enlistments Boost Draft Quota

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lagging enlistments forced the Pentagon Wednesday to nearly double its monthly draft quota for April to 13,700 men compared with 7,900 for March.

A Defense Department announcement said the April draft total is needed "to replace enlisted losses not compensated for by enlistments and re-enlistments so as to maintain approved active Army strength."

Some officials said the number of voluntary enlistments may have been cut as a result of the realization that the Defense Department has been conducting a study looking toward possible elimination of the draft.

All of the April draftees will go to the Army. As usual, the Navy, Marines and Air Force will be able to meet manpower needs without drawing on the draft.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved a three-year, $40-million authorization for the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

The roll call vote was 302 to 63 Wednesday on a compromise suggested by Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., between the administration's four-year, $55 million plan and a Republican proposal for a two-year limit.

"Republicans said they were not opposing the disarmament agency but only proposing that Congress take a look at it every two years."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy has agreed to take charge of efforts to pick a portrait of the late President Kennedy to be hung in the White House.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson asked Mrs. Kennedy to do so and she agreed, Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, the First Lady's press secretary, said Wednesday. It has not been decided whether a new portrait or an existing one will be used.

Jacoby on Bridge

At eight tables in the world championship team trials South either opened with a weak two bid or passed his nine high card points and good spade suit. It sure did not do any harm since each of the eight wound up playing four spades against a king of clubs opening lead and had no trouble making the hand by ruffing two low clubs in dummy to give him eight trump tricks and two minor suit aces.

At the ninth table South elected to open one spade and ruffled game in accordance with the bidding shown in the box. West made the inspired opening of a small

HIDDEN MEANING? — Detroit Tiger hurler Hank Aguirre could be forming a left-handed question mark with his pitching arm as he reports to skipper Charlie Dressen. The manager hopes Aguirre, who reported yesterday at the Lakeland, Fla., training base a week early, can at least reverse last summer's 5-10 record this year and lead the Bengals into pennant contention.

2 Cagers, Bar Owner Face Bribe Charge

(Continued from Page 3) ward boosted the lead to 21 with three minutes to play." Idaho Coach Jim Goddard said Wednesday night in Spokane where his team and Gonzaga met, that about all he could recall of the Idaho-Seattle U. game was his team's performance.

"We got far behind in the first half," Goddard said, "and had so much work to do I really didn't pay much attention to what the other team was doing."

"We did catch up quite a bit at times, but we were pressing and hustling better, and I just thought it was a good job by Idaho."

Williams could not be reached for comment, and Phillips' wife said he would have no statement to make.

SUSPENDED

Eddie O'Brien athletic director and a former basketball star for Seattle, said both boys were suspended from the team and the university for "admittedly having knowledge of a bribe attempt and for failing to report it."

But O'Brien added: "We're not judging them. That's not our business."

O'Brien said his first word of the investigation came Wednesday morning from FBI agents who interviewed SU players during the day.

Swedish Net Star Shines

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Jan-Erik Lundquist, outnumbered by Americans but possibly not outgunned, has moved into the quarter-finals of the U.S. National Indoor Tennis Championships.

The tall, blonde Swede is the lone survivor of 17 foreign entries following upsets of first-seeded Manuel Santana of Spain, second-ranked Rafael Osuna of Mexico and fourth-seeded Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy.

Osuna, the Mexican champ, was the latest to fall. He was eliminated Wednesday night by young Cliff Richey of Dallas, 6-4, 5-7, 6-3. Richey's sister, Nancy, recently won the women's national indoor title.

FOUR SEEDED
All four seeded Americans — Chuck McKinley, Dennis Ralston, Arthur Ashe and Frank Froehling — have advanced to the round of eight.

In two quarter-final matches tonight, Ralston plays Gene Scott, America's fifth-ranked player, and Ashe takes on Ron Holmberg, rated sixth best in the nation.

On Friday, Lundquist will play McKinley and Froehling meets Richey.

Township Rec Contests

Marred by 2 Forfeits

Players, fans and officials had an early finish to their scheduled triple-header at Pierce Junior High School in the Waterford Township adult recreation basketball league.

Ryeson's Market continued its recent surge in the opener with a 67-35 romp past winless Dunstan's Floral. Gus Paniel's 15 points for the winners led all scorers in the National League title.

Lakeland Pharmacy and Frushour & Strubel Realty won forfeit games.

Friendly Foes Will Discover Mean Aguirre

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The "Nice Guys Finish Last Club" picked up a new member this year when Hank Aguirre reported to the Tiger's early camp in Lakeland.

If the 33-year-old left-hander didn't finish last in 1964 he came close to it. He finished the season with a 5-10 record and was on pretty unfriendly terms with Manager Charlie Dressen.

This year, Aguirre says, it will be different. "I've got to be mean. I've got to be tough. I've got to be mean and tough and just as nasty as I can be out there."

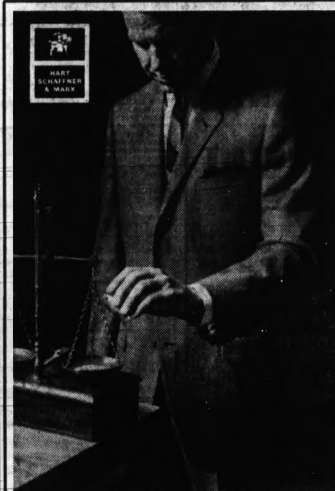

Aguirre says he thought about it a lot during the winter. Much of his trouble, he says, was getting too friendly with opposing players.

"You find yourself sitting in front of your locker and saying, 'well, if I had to lose, I'm glad so-and-so beat me because he's a decent sort of a guy and he's got a family and can use the money.'"

"Well the heck with that kind of thinking anymore. I've got to do whatever is necessary to win — no matter what it is."

Crane Sextet Loses

Hamtramck St. Ladislous turned in a 2-1 verdict over Cranbrook's hockey squad yesterday. The Cranes went in front 1-0 in the second period on a goal by Dick Moon, but Hamtramck came back with a pair in the third to take the decision.

A few dollars more tip the scales in your favor The HSM 100 Suit

Hart Schaffner & Marx' HSM 100 Suit is worth the few dollars more it costs. You get what you pay for. And more. You're well-dressed. Confidently at ease. In any group.

The fabrics are premium imports, the style and quality offered by custom tailors. HSM tailors them accordingly with such custom details as satin stripe linings with contrasting trim, Benberg sleeve linings, horn buttons.

Look behind the seams. "Underpressing", for example. The extra hand-pressings that mould and shape the suit during the tailoring. Not afterward. The perfect fit you buy is the fit you keep.

Try on an HSM 100 suit. See how much more those few extra dollars buy. $100

No Lasting Damage From Heart Strain

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It may be a matter of weeks before audiences can again hear the deep tones of Pearl Bailey's singing, but her departure from the hospital was on a happy note.

The verdict of her doctors: No permanent damage from heart strain.

Miss Bailey, 46, left Mt. Sinai Hospital Wednesday after more than two weeks of treatment for exhaustion. Doctors said the entertainer was well rested, but they prescribed an additional period of convalescence at her San Francisco Valley home.

If all goes well, she may be able to return to nightclub work some time next month, her doctors said.

2 EXTRA DAYS
"Pearly Mae"—as she's known to her fans—entered the hospital Feb. 1 after completing an engagement at Las Vegas, Nev. The singer had remained on duty at the Riviera Hotel two extra days because her successor, Debbie Reynolds, was suffering from a virus infection and couldn't open on scheduled.

Physicians diagnosed her condition as heart strain from overwork, and Miss Bailey was placed in the hospital's intensive care unit.

Two days of tests, however, indicated that no permanent damage had resulted. The singer then was confined to bed for a complete rest.

The Negro entertainer is the wife of Louis Bellson Jr., 41, a drummer.

JIVE TUNE
Miss Bailey and Bellson, who is white, were married in London Nov. 19, 1952. During the ceremony, performed in the Caxton Hall registry office, a five-piece band played a jive tune.

Miss Bailey once previously suffered from exhaustion. A matinee performance in Philadelphia was canceled in 1954 when the singer became over tired.

The West Indian seal was much hunted during colonial days, and has not been seen at all since 1912.

GETTING HIS GOAT—The feelings were mutual when Dale Schuster, 6, of Friddy, Tex., met an Angora goat at the San Antonio Livestock Show yesterday. The goat's tongue was longer, but Dale was just as beastly as he refused to be the butt of the goat's animosity.

This One's No Bond-sman

New Sean Seeks Movie Fame

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Ready for another film star named Sean? This one is surnamed Garrison, and out at Universal City they are saying he has the same stuff as the Sean called Connery.

No Bondsman is Garrison. The handsome Irishman is playing the romantic lead opposite Joan Seberg in "Moment to Moment," directed by Mervyn Leroy. The new Sean possesses a simple ambition: "I hope to become a box-office commodity."

His candor is refreshing after the wave of method actors who parrot such claims as, "I want only to give good performances; I don't want to be a 'movie star.'" In most cases, the public obliges them.

Sean Garrison is a different type. He hopes to achieve the heights in Hollywood, with all the power and glory that go with being a star. Such ambition is only natural in a fellow who was earning his own living on the sidewalks of New York at the age of 9.

Sean figures he received his performing skill from his mother—"She was from the old country (Ireland) and she could spin a great story." His father died when the boy was 5, and Sean soon became the man of the family.

SHOESHINE BOY
"By 9 I had my own shoeshine box," he recalled. "Business was pretty competitive among shoeshine boys in Manhattan, so I had to discover some way to build a better trade. I found it one day when a man asked me to sing a song while I gave him a shine. I sang 'Home on the Range' and he gave me $1.20."

Sean knew a good thing when he saw it, and soon he built an entire repertoire of songs, even combining with a pal on duets.

"I did my best business on holidays," said Sean. "I had songs for each of them—'My Buddy' for Memorial Day, 'Mother Machree' for Mother's Day, and so forth. I'd go from bar to bar singing them."

He gave up his sidewalk operations after a few years and worked on a dairy farm in upper New York State. At 15 he cut out, figuring high school was not for him.

DREAMS
"I was filled with dreams from books I had read by Richard Halliburton and Jack London," he said. "I figured that was the way to live."

So he drifted south, to the Caribbean and all over, taking jobs at everything from bowling pinboy to sponge fisherman. By 1955 he had landed in California and was working in a furniture and tile factory.

A friend suggested he try for a job in television. He did—and ended up as film librarian at ABC. But he later landed a contract at Warner Brothers and for a year galloped from one television Western to another.

Sean returned to New York, worked a little, starred a lot, got married, took a variety of jobs, including Santa Claus at Gimbel's. He started to click in plays and was discovered in the road company of "Camelot" by tract, but meanwhile lost his marriage.

"We had such a rough time surviving, there was nothing left for us," he said sorrowfully.

State Legislature Commends Singer

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Legislature gave singer Marian Anderson a birthday present Wednesday.

Miss Anderson, the first Negro singer to join the Metropolitan Opera, received a commendatory resolution in a joint session of both Michigan houses.

The joint resolution lauded the contralto, who is making her fairwell tour of the United States, as a great artist, human-exponent of "all that is best in her race."

Test Proves Exercise Important in Space

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—About 200 healthy young men, who hit the sack for science, have proved simple exercise can whip physical problems in space.

This conclusion was made today by two Manned Spacecraft Center scientists, Dr. Rufus R. Hessberg and Dr. Lawrence F. Dietlein after examining results from 16 separate bed rest studies.

It was called "Operation Sickness" and the space agency paid the volunteers, who in most cases wore medical suits, to go to bed for periods up to 30 days.

Some were whirled on a University of Southern California centrifuge to duplicate a jarring ride an astronaut feels in the cramped space capsule plunging back through the atmosphere.

HEATED IN SUITS
In the U.S. Public Health Service hospital at Staten Island, N.Y., others were taken from their beds, placed in space suits, heated to 103 degrees and then rotated on a tilt table.

Orbiting astronauts perspire and in most cases suffers. The New York torture test duplicated these conditions.

The studies were made to see what part immobilization plays in the postflight dizziness experienced by two U.S. astronauts, Maj. L. Gordon Cooper and Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr., and some of the Soviet cosmonauts.

"We saw nothing startling in the results," Hessberg said. "We have not been able to define or identify any problem that would keep us from committing a man to an indefinite time of weightlessness in space."

"Man adapts to a weightless environment, and suffers no problem that can't be handled with exercise in flight."

The exercises are simple, raising arms over the head, kicking one leg at a time, rotating the neck and head, bending at the waist. An elastic stretch belt, which can be pulled apart with each hand, was a big aid, Hessberg said.

"We also found an inflatable cuff, placed around the thighs, calves and forearms, and inflated at certain times only, was an immense help," he continued.

"In fact, the cuff and exercises combined showed even better results than either done alone."

TO WEAR CUFFS
The cuffs will be worn by Cooper and Navy Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr. for the first time on the seven-day space mission later this year.

"We will compare their reactions without aids, against reactions of the astronauts who will exercise and use the cuffs," Dietlein said.

Russia Straightens Leaning Structure
MOSCOW (UPI)—The Russians straightened the leaning minaret of Samarkand yesterday.

And, they said, they might be able to help Italians straighten the Leaning Tower of Pisa.

The top of the 15th century, 370-ton tower in the ancient city of Asiatic Russia has leaned by five feet for the past 30 years and has been supported by cables. The Soviet news agency Tass said the lofty tower was jacked upright today at the end of a two-month operation.

China's Africa Tactics Will Backfire, Says Nationalist Expert

By JOHN RODERICK

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) "In a year or so," said Yang Hsi-kung, "what the Chinese Communists are doing in Africa will boom." They underestimate the intelligence of the Africans. Yang, a handsome, graying man, picked up an African wood carving, peered at it then continued: "They believe cynically that the Africans can either be corrupted or intimidated. They do not believe that human beings are capable of grandeur."

Yang, Nationalist China's vice minister of foreign affairs, is Chiang Kai-shek's top expert on Africa. In his own way he is fighting the Chinese Communists there. Though on the surface the two Chinas seem poorly matched, the small Nationalist program has achieved successes.

Communist China has expended enormous effort to make the emerging Africans see things their tough revolutionary way. It pours aid into friendly countries and ships guns and techniques to rebels leading subversion against governments they despise, such as that of the Congo.

SELECTED LIST

Publicly acknowledged Communist aid to a selected list of African countries totals more than $130 million, much of it arranged by Peking's suave traveling salesman, Premier Chou En-lai, in his long African tour a year ago.

The Nationalist Chinese approach to Africa aims at overthrowing none of its governments, Yang says, does not peddle a political philosophy of any kind and instead of aiming for the top reaches down to the grass roots. Its core is technical help to the farmers, fishermen and small industrialists.

Its yearly cost: Around $2 million.

The Nationalist entry into Africa in 1960 appeared then to be an exercise in futility. A mission made up of 14 graduates of the higher agricultural college on Formosa went to Liberia to show how to grow paddy rice and, as Yang put it, "to drive home the fact that only through hard work can people in the developing countries get prosperity; there is no shortcut to industrialization."

EXAMPLE OF WORK

This example of hard work was given by the 13 Formosan missionaries and technical teams which followed.

An eight-man team was sent to the village of Brak in the Wadi Shatti region of Libya on the edge of the Sahara Desert in 1962. Its job was to grow rice where none had been seen before.

The team's biggest enemy was the high concentration of salt in the desert soil. The team's leader, Hsin Yu-jen, tells how it was removed:

"With such farming implements as hoes and shovels and our bare hands, we dug ditches and canals to bring in spring water for washing away the salt. In howling winds, under scorching heat and fighting off swarms of locusts, we seeded, irrigated and applied fertilizers. Sometimes we didn't sleep for as long as two days and nights."

16 VARIETIES

Now, Yang says, 16 varieties of rice are being tested in the Libyan desert.

In Liberia, the original Chinese team increased rice production almost 600 per cent an acre.

On Formosa, 168 young Africans from 24 countries have attended seminars lasting five to nine months.

Part of the time is spent in the classroom, looking through microscopes and hearing lectures in French and English the rest in the fields, side by side with young Chinese farmers.

"We have offered very little," says Yang. "But we have helped the African to stand on his own feet, to show him that he does not have to live on a dole from anyone. He has given him, in a word, a sense of human dignity, something the Communists have overlooked."

Yang, 54, a native of Kiangsu

Province, graduated from Peking University and went on to Columbia University Graduate School where he studied international affairs. He was in New York during World War II and became an assistant to the Chinese U.N. representative, later serving as an alternate representative to the Trusteeship Council where he became acquainted with African problems.

BLAST-OFF — The Atlas-Agena rocket is shown lifting away from its Cape Kennedy launch pad yesterday in an attempt to boost the Ranger 8 spacecraft on its trip to the moon to take pictures in the area of the Sea of Tranquillity. U.S. scientists expect the mission to reap more than 4,000 photos.

U.S. Moon Shot Steered to Path

PASADENA, Calif. (U)—Ranger 8 streaked on toward the moon today after what scientists say was an apparently successful maneuver designed to send it crashing onto the lunar surface early Saturday morning.

Scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory said preliminary indications are that the camera-carrying spacecraft will land on or near its target, a broad and dusty plain called mare Tranquillitatis, the Sea of Tranquillity.

It will be 3 p.m. however, before they can calculate Ranger's new path precisely. Without the correction the spacecraft would have missed the trailing edge of the moon by 1,136 miles.

The maneuver at 5 a.m. came as Ranger 8 was 99,000 miles out on its 234,000-mile journey.

The maneuver involved a long series of commands to make the spacecraft twist around in space and fire a direction-changing rocket for 50 seconds, enough to change the spacecraft's course by more than 1,600 miles.

BETTER PHOTOS

The photos are expected to be better than those obtained last July by Ranger 7.

A towering Atlas-Agena rocket propelled the insect-shaped craft into space from Cape Kennedy, Fla., at 12:05 p.m. Wednesday.

JOAN MERRIAM SMITH

Aviatrix Dies in Plane Crash

Small Craft Carried 2nd Woman to Death

BIG PINES, Calif. (UPI)—Aviatrix Joan Merriam Smith, who conquered the same around-the-world course that claimed the life of Amelia Earhart, was killed yesterday when their borrowed plane slammed into a mountain and burned.

The blonde, 28-year-old pilot and Trixie Ann Schubert, 42, a writer and flyer herself, were found in the charred, mangled wreckage of their Cessna 180.

The pair was on a short-hop from the coastal city of Long Beach to the mountain resort of Wrightwood when their plane crashed on the slopes of a San Gabriel Mountain range at about the 6,500-foot level.

The crash site was about two miles from this recreation area and some 45 miles from Los Angeles. About 1½ acres of brush were blanketed by the ensuing fire.

"I figured sooner or later she would go like this," said Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. Anne Merriam, who heard the dismal news in Miami Beach, Fla.

'N-Raid Could Cost 149 Million Lives'

WASHINGTON (U)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said today that a massive Russian nuclear attack on the United States could take 149 million American lives.

McNamara told Congress it is unlikely that a Soviet nuclear attack would spare American cities at the start and hit only military targets.

New Approach to Home Rule

Dem Bill Contains Population Formula

A county home rule bill, radically different from a Wayne County bill being supported by Oakland County, was introduced yesterday by Sen. Terry L. Trout, D-Romulus.

Backed by 14 Senate Democrats, the bill provides that any county legislative body must be elected from districts apportioned on a strict population basis.

It does not require each city or township to have a representative on the county legislative body.

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, declined comment on the bill.

"We've made our position (on county home rule) clear," Hamlin said. "It's up to the legislature to come up with a satisfactory solution to the problem."

WAYNE COUNTY BILL

Oakland County, through its legislative program, is supporting a Wayne County bill almost identical to one that died in House committee last year after passing the Senate.

Less opposition to county home rule is expected this year, however.

The apportionment of the Kent County Board of Supervisors was ruled unconstitutional last September under the one-man, one-vote interpretation of the 14th Amendment.

If the ruling is upheld by the Michigan Supreme Court, as most observers believe it will, it will become necessary to reorganize the entire county government setup in Michigan.

SEEMS LOGICAL

Hamlin said recently that "if the legislature is forced to act on reapportionment, it seems logical to combine it with home rule legislation."

The home rule-reapportionment bill introduced yesterday by Sen. Trout was cosponsored by Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit and Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville.

The defense chief thus discarded the no-cities theory which some U.S. strategists have entertained, hopefully, in predicting the form of any general war.

In his annual military posture statement, prepared as the foundation for his testimony before the House Armed Services Committee, McNamara did not name Red China as an immediate menace to American targets, despite the detonation of a nuclear test device and a U.S. prediction that another may be forthcoming in the near future.

But he did not rule out the long-range menace of the Chinese Communist power.

"Although results may be slow in coming," he said after discussing China's economic and industrial difficulties, "there is no reason to suppose that the Chinese cannot in time produce medium-range and even long-range ballistic missile systems and arm them with thermonuclear warheads. Given the hostility the regime has shown, this is a most disturbing long term prospect."

CALCULATED CASUALTIES

McNamara calculated U.S. casualties as proportional to the force, and the time to use it, ready for response to a Soviet first strike.

If Soviet nuclear fire fell on American urban areas simultaneously with fire on U.S. missile and air bases and other strategic retaliatory systems, up to 149 million would be killed; if city attack were delayed until after the blasting of military bases, the fatalities might be held to a top 12 million.

McNamara said there was no Pentagon program "within this general range of expenditures which would reduce fatality to a level much below 12 million unless the enemy delayed his attack on our cities long enough for our missile forces to play a major damage limiting role" by destroying enemy missiles at their source.

He looked also at the other side of the coin, what a U.S. retaliatory blow would do to Russia. He said that, based on a projection of the threat into the early 1970's:

"Our calculations show that even after absorbing a first strike, our already authorized strategic missile force, if it were directed against the aggressor's (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

WASHINGTON (U)—The United States evidently has decided to strike military targets in North Viet Nam without waiting for specific attacks by Communist forces in South Viet Nam to retaliate against.

This is understood to be the meaning of President Johnson's statement yesterday on Vietnamese war policy, a week after the first series of air strikes against North Vietnamese infiltration targets.

Johnson told a conference of businessmen here the people of South Viet Nam are under attack "That is controlled and that is directed from outside their country."

He said: "We must all understand that we will persist in the defense of freedom, and our continuing actions will be those which are justified and those that are made necessary by the continuing aggression of others. These actions will be measured and fitting and adequate."

The President also spoke of "continuing aggression" by the Communists and "continuing actions" by the United States.

He said: "We must all understand that we will persist in the defense of freedom, and our continuing actions will be those which are justified and those that are made necessary by the continuing aggression of others. These actions will be measured and fitting and adequate."

CONVINCE REDS
The U.S. strategic objective in strikes at bases in North Viet Nam is to convince the Communist leaders that they cannot win the war in South Viet Nam except at the risk of destruction of their own country.

There is hope in official quarters here and in other allied capitals that at some point negotiations for settlement will become possible on terms which would put an end to the Communist drive against South Viet Nam and would secure that country's independence.

The question of such a possible peaceful settlement was foremost among the topics expected to be discussed here by French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville in talks with President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The French diplomat arrived last night and was scheduled to meet with Rusk today and with Johnson and McNamara tomorrow.

MAIN PURPOSE

The main purpose of his visit — in response to an invitation from Rusk — is to continue discussion of U.S.-French differences on a whole range of major issues, including the reorganization of the Atlantic alliance, the United Nations, the future development of Europe, international monetary policy and the war in Southeast Asia.

To 'Carry Ball' for Income Levy

Citizens Tax Group Organizes

"It appears we have a fight on our hands," Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson told 71 members of the newly appointed Citizens Committee for Tax Reform last night.

The widely representative citizens group met at city hall to organize to carry the "pro" side of the campaign for a proposed city income tax.

Organized by the City Commission, the group included citizens from the seven commission districts and representatives of three city employee organizations.

Joe G. Benson, 43, of 46 Chipewa will head the new committee, while Miss JoAnne VanTassel, 51 E. Iroquois, was designated secretary.

Benson, a certified public accountant, said a campaign would be mapped out and the committee members notified in the next week.

INFORMAL MEETING
Miss VanTassel and Benson are slated to meet with the commission at its next informal meeting Wednesday.

Hudson opened the two-hour meeting by stating that the object of the tax reform committee was to coordinate the income tax campaign.

He pointed out to the group that taxpayers would not have to pay three assessments — federal, state and city income levies — if the state were to also pass an income tax.

Hudson said city income taxes would probably be voided by any new state levy.

DETAILS PROGRESS
City Manager Joseph A. Warren detailed progress in the city and cited Pontiac's "face lifting" in recent years.

Warren said the city's operating fund has fallen behind. He added that operating monies are hobbled by the 10-mill tax limitation in the city charter.

Explaining why the City Commission decided on the income levy, Warren said a hike in the property tax millage was rejected last April.

Other points mentioned by Warren included:
• There are definite advantages to senior citizens — most of their kinds of income are exempt and they would benefit from the promised 3-mill property tax cut.
• The income tax is really tax reform because the city is gaining a major new source of revenue.
• Taxes are levied on a highly valued and increasing assessments does not change the equalized value.
• General Motors will pay a good deal more in city taxes under the income tax method.
• Any state income tax would have to recognize city income taxes.

Hawaiian Tour Attracts Many

Initial response to the proposed Pontiac Press Hawaiian Tour has been excellent.

It has encouraged The Press to proceed with plans and complete arrangements for the tour. Current plans call for at least 40 persons to participate.

The Hawaiian tour will leave the morning of April 3 and return April 17.

Approximate cost for the trip, including transportation, hotel, most meals, island hopping by plane, and many other extras, will be $895 per person.

Officials Hit Land-Fill Plans

(The following statement from five Oxford Township officials concerns plans for a giant sanitary fill site in their township.)

"A review of the facts makes it very apparent that it is unwise to allow the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission to transport millions of tons of garbage and refuse through Oakland County and dump it in its northern part near the village of Oxford.

"Oakland County cannot afford to halt its economic growth in its most potential area. This region now contains its richest natural resource. It is known as the gravel capital of the world.

"It has been, and in the future should be, most important in the growth of Oakland County and Michigan's highway development, industrial expansion, and residential growth.

"The proposed land-fill would seriously affect the estimated 40 to 50 years of future mining and its irreplaceable benefit to land.

"Two years later they doubled their facilities as the product gained national distribution.

"It seems the sanitary land-fill group would rather turn these projects into nontaxable recreational areas for the community.

"Water pollution is another area of grave concern to our county residents. The highest water table mark in the entire area is at Oxford. Many of the streams and creeks flowing down through Oakland County and feeding its lakes have their beginning here.

CLOSE TO SURFACE
"The water table is close to the surface and the porous nature of the soil add to this possibility of pollution.

Businessmen to Hear LBJ

Seeks Voluntary Cut in Foreign Spending

WASHINGTON (U)—President Johnson summoned some 370 top-level businessmen to hear a plea today that they help curb the gold-dollar drain by volunteering to slash investments and lending in Europe.

Even as Johnson called leading industrialists and bankers to the White House, he was holding in reserve a threat to require the investment-lending cuts through legislation.

If only by coincidence, Johnson's new effort to bring the balance of payments problem under control had some earmarks of a carrot-and-stick approach.

Only yesterday, the President announced plans to cut business taxes by more than $700 million this year through administrative changes in tax write-off rules.

This disclosure, at a meeting of the National Industrial Conference Board, failed to spark applause although the size of the cut went well beyond earlier expectations.

APPLAUSE LIGHT
The NIBC members interrupted Johnson's address with applause but once, and then lightly, when he explained he was 15 minutes late because he had been discussing the gold-dollar problem at lunch with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

When Johnson declared that "the Great Society is not a welfare—not a spending state," one businessman in the luncheon audience cried out, "Ha!"

The aim of today's White House conference was to try to persuade big industrialists and bankers "to exercise voluntary restraint in lending money or making investments abroad in the developed countries."

Most of these nations are in Europe but the rest also include Canada and Japan.

Mercury Will Drop, Then Bounce Back

Don't be discouraged by tonight's low temperatures, for the mercury will be peppy tomorrow, says the weatherman. A low of 18 to 25 is predicted for this evening, to be followed by a high tomorrow of 32 to 38.

Tonight's mostly cloudy skies will become partly cloudy tomorrow. The outlook for Saturday is fair and a little warmer.

Today in the area, winds are northerly at 10 to 20 miles an hour.

Twenty-four was the low mercury reading preceding 8 a.m. At 1 p.m. the thermometer registered 31 in downtown Pontiac.

Lake Orion Scrap Brewing Over Sewerage, Write-Ins

LAKE ORION — The 2½ weeks between now and the March 16 general election here are shaping up as a battle royal between two political factions over two issues that are inextricably bound together.

One of them is the proposed $1.36-million sewer system for the east half of the village, Oakland County's answer to a state court order to eliminate pollution of Paint Creek.

The other is the recent endorsement by the Lake Orion Chamber of Commerce of four sticker candidates.

In the first edition of the "Citizens Party News," a one-page handout distributed throughout the village, members of the party's slate for village offices claim that the chamber endorsement was spurred by a small portion of the chamber's members.

As a result of a marathon telephone survey, they also claim that the action of the chamber in endorsing specific candidates has no parallel in other communities.

OFFICIAL ENDORSEMENT

Candidates given the chamber's official endorsement were Wallace C. Crane, of 462 Algine for president; Wallace Beer of 302 S. Broadway, assessor; and Dr. Richard McNeill of 44 E. Flint and Robert Hauxwell of 144 Florence, trustees.

Hauxwell is an incumbent trustee, while Dr. McNeill is a former councilman.

Behind the "Citizens Party News" are the slate of candidates which includes Clarence Rossman of 543 Alwater, president; Mrs. Geraldine Campbell, incumbent treasurer; Mrs. Mary Parkinson, incumbent clerk; Robert Swem, assessor; and Mrs. Juanita Robbins of 622 Detroit and Richard Goeckel of 272 Lakeview, trustees.

The Citizens party hopefuls claim that the chamber members who voted for endorsement of the sticker candidates own, or represent, businesses which have septic drains hooked to the storm drains which discharge polluted effluent into Paint Creek.

INTEREST GROUP

Mrs. Robbins, president of the Lake Orion Homeowners Association and former president of the Lake Orion Women's League for Better Government, said "We know that there is a special interest group downtown that wants those sewers at any cost to individuals."

"They're the ones that are causing most of the pollution of Paint Creek, and should be the ones to pay if anything is done to eliminate it," she said.

Chamber President William O'Brien, himself a candidate for trustee on the village party ticket, said the chamber's action was "not delving into politics."

"We have no axe to grind," he said. "Our only aim is to get more good people interested in village government."

'OUTSIDERS'

To a Citizens party charge that the chamber members voting for the endorsement were in some degree "outsiders" who do not pay taxes here, O'Brien said he thought they were "the biggest group of taxpayers in the village."

O'Brien said he did not know how many chamber members actually voted to endorse the candidates, but that only one expressed a dissenting opinion at a general meeting on the issue.

Mrs. Robbins, who is a sticker candidate for trustee, said the "News" will be published again next Wednesday, and that 8,000 or 9,000 copies would be printed and distributed to village and Orion Township residents alike.

Introduces Bill on Escapees

LANSING (AP) — Local law enforcement agencies would be paid for bringing back escaped state prisoners under a bill introduced in the House by Rep. Thomas Sharpe, R-Howell.

"Simply because a state institution happens to be located in a given area is no reason why its residents should have to bear the cost of what is basically a state function," Sharpe said.

Sharpe proposed the state pay the local law enforcement agency for actual expenses, not to exceed $50 per prisoner.

In 1964, he said, there were 60 such inmates, escaping from state prisons, camps or penal institutions.

Detroit Board Selects Top Young Man of '64

DETROIT (AP) — Henry E. Bodman II, 33, of Grosse Pointe Farms was named "Outstanding Young Man of 1964" Wednesday by the Detroit Junior Board of Commerce. Bodman, a partner in an accounting firm, has served two terms as a Grosse Pointe Farms councilman and six terms on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

AREA NEWS

4-H'ers Will Put Talents on Display

Song and dance, speech and drama — all will be found at Pontiac's Crofoot Elementary School Saturday night during the 15th annual Oakland County 4-H Talent Show.

Nearly 30 acts from 4-H clubs all over the county will compete for plaque awards in the "Share the Fun" program, beginning at 7 p.m.

The annual show is sponsored by the County 4-H Service Club.

Winners will compete in the district talent show at Pontiac Northern's Little Theatre June 20.

District victors have the opportunity to perform at state 4-H functions such as Farmers Week at Michigan State University.

SPEAKING CONTEST

A public speaking contest will also be held in conjunction with the general talent show portion of the program.

All winners will be determined by a panel of three judges, including A. P. Johnson, director of Pontiac's Hayes Jones Recreation Center; Mrs. Helen Glenn, of the Waterford Schools music department; and John Witherrup, Oakland County director of personnel.

A committee made up of members from three county 4-H clubs has been working on the "Share the Fun" show.

Members and their clubs are Joyce Canfield, Busy Fingers; Robert Davis, Bloomfield; and P. M. Mirakian and William Rathbun, East Orion.

The show will be open to the public without charge.

The total education bill for the 191,924 public school children in Oakland County was $81,813,245 in the 1963-64 school year.

To Ask Less for Library Expansion

FARMINGTON — The library board has decided it can get along with three-quarters of a mill to expand its physical facilities in the township and city.

It has altered its original request for one mill to build a new library in the township and improve the city facility.

The request to levy three-quarters of a mill for 10 years joins a proposal to extend the present half-mill operating levy for 20 years on the April 5 township ballot.

While not requiring an election in the city, the levies would be matched by the unit if approved by township voters.

The proposals were placed on the township ballot last month.

CONSIDER ALTERNATIVES

City councilmen then expressed concern over the amount of the expansion request and asked library trustees to consider alternatives — one of them being a one-half-mill levy for 20 years.

Library board members reviewed their plans and trimmed a quarter-mill from the cost.

Featured in the program would be construction of a new main Farmington City and Township District Library on the south side of 12 Mile east of Farmington Road.

The facility would have 15,000 square feet of floor space, while the current one has 6,000 square feet, housing some 21,000 books.

OLD POST OFFICE

Present location of the library is the old post office on Farmington Road south of Grand River in the city.

The library board plans expansion in the city during the latter part of the 10 years. It has indicated that this project could not be undertaken for at least two years.

The half-mill now collected from township property owners and matched from the city's general fund has been extended twice in the last six years.

It provides about $60,000 in the district, which has a population of 45,000.

By 1980, there are expected to be some 60,000 persons living in the district. If property assessments increase accordingly, a half-mill could be expected to net upwards of $100,000.

Forum Plans Talk on States Rights

FARMINGTON — After getting a healthy start early this year, the committee for the Farmington Community Forum is ready to present its second program.

"States Rights" will be discussed Feb. 25 by a panel of persons having a wide range of views on the subject.

The program is set for 8 p.m. at the Farmington Unitarian-Universalist Church, 23604 Warner.

Two prominent Detroit attorneys will be among the panel members.

One of the speakers is George Crockett, chairman for Legal Assistance in the South. Another will be Thomas L. Peindler, leader of the Greater Detroit Homeowners Council and a member of the Detroit Common Council.

OTHERS IN PANEL

Others to appear are James Boggs, author of "The American Revolution," and his wife Grace Lee, former editor of "Correspondence."

Also on the roster is Mrs. Virginia Crawford, a housewife and holder of a master's degree in nursing who is active in community affairs and a member of the John Birch Society.

Representing the press on the panel will be Allen Rosenfield, editor of the Farmington Observer.

INFORMAL TALK

Format for the program will be an informal discussion by the panel members of the meaning and implications of the states rights question. This will be followed by questions and discussion from the floor.

Tickets are available at the Book Corner, Inc., 33173 Grand River, and the Farmington Savings and Loan Association opposite the Farmington Shopping Plaza.

Students can purchase tickets at half price.

Bosses' Night Banquet

Jaycees Honor Trooper, Judge

CLARKSTON — It was a great night for men of the law at the Clarkston Area Junior Chamber of Commerce's Bosses' Night Banquet.

Trooper Richard L. Chatter of the Pontiac State Police post last night was presented the Distinguished Service Award and Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard was named outstanding boss of the year.

The annual banquet held at the Community Activities Inc. building in Waterford Township drew a capacity crowd of Jaycees, bosses and guests.

Chatter, 30, of 5795 Mary Sue,

Independence Township, was cited for his outstanding work as a trooper as well as his many contributions to the betterment of the community in being named outstanding young man of the year.

Known throughout southeastern Michigan primarily as the handler of Hans, the jet black tracking dog, Chatter became a trooper five years ago. He is married and has four children.

BOSS OF YEAR

Judge Barnard of 5845 Livernoid, Troy, was nominated for the boss of the year award by Jaycee Robert E. Brumback, youth counselor at Camp Oakland.

A University of Detroit Law School graduate, Judge Barnard has been active in many civic programs. Presently he is a volunteer fireman in Troy, a PTA member and serves as chairman of the high school scholarship fund.

Among his other activities are associations with the 4-H program since boyhood and the Boy Scouts of America.

Speaker at the program was Brigadier Robert McMahon, manager of the Eventide Home in Detroit.

Farmington Okays Call for Estimates

FARMINGTON — Plans were advanced this week for the two municipal parking lots proposed for the downtown district.

The City Council authorized City Manager John Dinan to proceed with engineering and cost estimates for an 80-space lot on the southwest corner of Grand River and Farmington Road.

Abutting property owners will pay for the improvement, while the city will contribute the property, which it has acquired over a number of years.

Also planned for summer construction is a 75-space lot behind the businesses on the north side of Grand River, east of Farmington Road.

The council authorized Dinan to seek bids on the razing of the old Elks Temple, 33300 Grand River, to provide an access route for the lot.

Carrying a total estimated cost of $23,450, the lot will be financed through special assessments and businessmen credited for the property they will dedicate.

Award Will Highlight CC Fete

ROCHESTER — The outstanding citizen during the past year in this community will be honored as the culmination of Saturday's annual Rochester Chamber of Commerce dinner-dance.

Presentation of the award to the outstanding citizen, whose identity is now a closely-kept secret, will come following dinner at the Stephenson Club, 24930 Stephenson at 10 Mile and I-75 in Hazel Park.

Toastmaster Jack Taylor, vice president of the National Bank of Detroit in charge of the Rochester office, will present the award.

Taylor also will preside over the installation of new chamber officers, including Robert Shueler, president; Neil Hartwig, vice president; Don Foss, treasurer; and Mrs. John C. Levick, secretary.

Outgoing president William W. Toussaint also will be recognized for his successful year in office.

The affair will start with cocktails at 6:30, followed by dinner at 8.

U. of M. Area Engineers Named to Dean's List

Some 182 students in The University of Michigan College of Engineering made the Dean's honor list for the fall term.

From the Pontiac area are Thomas D. Jackson of James K. Boulevard and Charles G. Ullman of Starr Avenue; Peter F. Lambeck, Bloomfield Hills; John M. Brown, Curtis A. Harrison, and James K. Foster, all of Birmingham.

Others are Donald W. Sweeney, Teres Drive; Norman C. Otto, Farmington; John E. Matulais and Robert E. Winkel of Franklin; William G. MacBeth, Davisburg; Gary J. Powers, Highland; Richard D. Bawol and Charles R. Cornell, of Orionville; and William H. Pollock of Rochester.

NURSES TRAVEL

For the next 15 weeks, seniors in the U. of M. School of Nursing will don blue uniforms and jaunty overseas caps and travel to nearby cities to put in two demanding days as public health nurses.

Included in a group of six girls are Lynne Ashby of North Elder Drive, West

Bloomfield Township, and Margaret Chamberlain of Birmingham, who were assigned to the Dearborn City Health Department.

This is one of five different 'rotations' to give on-the-job knowledge of fall pleading. Among these is Lloyd Utterback, sophomore, son of the Lester Utterbacks of Middle Belt Road, West Bloomfield Township.

NEW PLEDGES

Albion College Greek letter fraternities have welcomed 23 new members with the completion of fall pledging. Among these is Lloyd Utterback, sophomore, son of the Lester Utterbacks of Middle Belt Road, West Bloomfield Township.

Bloomfield Hills resident Jashe Carlson is among 426 coeds pledged recently by social sororities following formal rush at Indiana University, Bloomington.

The U.S. Government estimates that 7½ million of the 10 million youngsters looking for jobs in the next decade will be school dropouts.

Committee Named for Next Year

Mrs. I. J. Gouin, president of the Parliamentary Study Club, named a committee to prepare next year's program at Wednesday's meeting in the Pontiac Masonic Temple.

Serving in this capacity will be Mrs. Merrill Petrie, Mrs.

Forbes Hascall, Mrs. John McNeely, Mrs. Maurice Baldwin and Mrs. George Watters.

Mrs. Richard N. Cogger, leader of the day, explained the lesson on the methods of accepting reports, adoption of recommendations, executive board meetings and their recommendations.

The lesson was demonstrated by Mrs. Hascall, sponsor of the demonstration group, and her slate of officers. Mrs. Joseph Panter, parliamentarian, conducted the question box.

Two Cagers, Chicago Bar Owner Face Bribe Charges

SEATTLE (AP)—Two Seattle University basketball stars and a Chicago tavern owner were arrested Wednesday night on bribery conspiracy charges involving a game with the University of Idaho.

Charlie Williams, captain of the Chiefs, a teammate, Peller Phillips, and Leo Casale, 24, of Chicago, were arrested in connection with the Jan. 22 game in Seattle.

Casale was arrested in Chicago. Seattle won the game 89-72.

Williams and Phillips were arraigned Wednesday night, and U.S. Commissioner Walter Reesburg Jr. released them on $1,000 bond each. The two Seattle players asked for a preliminary hearing, which Reesburg set for 4:30 p.m. EST March 1.

Casale is to be arraigned today in Chicago, the Federal Bureau of Investigation said.

The charge against Casale and the two 21-year-old Seattle University seniors is "that they did conspire with each other to carry into effect a scheme or plan in commerce to influence a sporting contest by bribery."

The FBI said the maximum penalty is a $10,000 fine or five years in prison or both.

Williams is the son of a minister and is married and has one child. His major study is sociology, and he planned a career in social work after graduation.

Seattle U. is a Jesuit institution, and Williams has been working part time as an assistant recreational director for the Catholic Youth Organization.

FROM DETROIT

Phillips also is married, and his major studies are physical education and history. He is a fast 5-foot-10, 167-pound student from Detroit, by way of Coalinga Junior College in California.

Phillips was an All-City

League choice while at De- troit Northwestern.

Williams, a 6-foot, 154-pounder, was born in Colorado Springs, Colo., and played at Stadium High School in Tacoma. He is Seattle's high scorer, averaging 20 points per game and has been prominently mentioned as a contender for All-America honors.

Williams' highest number of points this season was 38 against Duquesne in Pitts- burgh, a game Seattle lost 80-74. In the Idaho game, he scored 16 points, and Phillips accounted for eight.

Seattle has won its last 11 games and has an 18-7 season record.

The report of the game carried by the Seattle Post-Intelli- gencer the morning after the game said:

"SU, after being ahead by 24 points at 64-41 in the second half, came apart and made numerous errors . . .

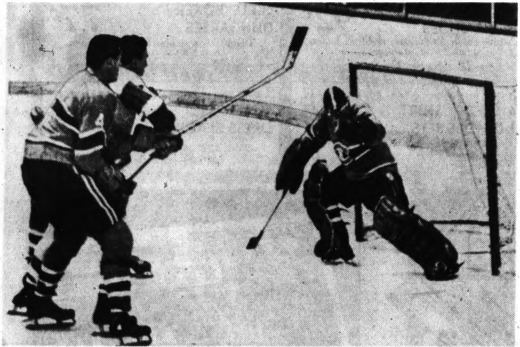

"Idaho took advantage of SU turnovers, caused by laddered ball, and the Idaho Vandals cut the Chiefs' lead to 16 points at 70-54 with 7:40 to play."

Goalie 'Armful' to Red Wings

SPORTS

CLIPPING THE WINGS—Montreal goalie Charlie Hodge makes a save against the Detroit Red Wings last night en route to a 2-0 victory over the Detroiters. At left are Jean Beiliveau (4) of the Canadiens and Ted Lindsay (4) of the Canadiens.

Charlie Hodge Blanks Detroit

2-0 Shutout Aided by Power Play Goals

DETROIT (AP)—Goalie Charlie Hodge of Montreal has two arms like any other net-minder, but he uses them as if they were 10.

The Detroit Red Wings can testify to that.

Hodge turned back 33 Detroit assaults on his goal Wednesday night as the Canadiens defeated the Red Wings 2-0 in National Hockey League play at Montreal.

The victory moved the Canadiens into sole possession of second place in the league, two points ahead of Toronto and four up on Detroit. Chicago continues to lead the league.

THIRD SHUTOUT

Hodge, who returned to the nets over the weekend, turned in his third shutout of the season and got all the support he needed from two power play goals by linemates Henri Richard and Claude Provost.

Richard beat Detroit goalie Roger Crozier, who made a total of 26 saves, late in the first period with Detroit defenseman Marcel Pronovost serving a penalty. Richard's 16th goal of the year came on passes from Dave Balon and Jean Beiliveau. In the second period, the Red Wings had just about finished killing a Ted Lindsay penalty when Pronovost scored, beating Crozier on passes from John Ferguson and Noel Picard just as Lindsay was returning to the ice. It was Pronovost's 21st goal this season.

PCH in Home Finale

Meets Port Huron

PNH Has a 'Breather'

Pontiac Northern's basketball team plays one of the few "breathers" on its schedule tomorrow before getting down to work for the "Championship" game next week against East Detroit.

The Huskies travel to Port Huron, a team that has a 1-12 record and finished Eastern Michigan League play in last place.

Northern will be a heavy favorite to add another loss to the Big Reds' ledger. Port Huron has failed to come up with a consistent score.

A pair of regulars, Bob Wedge and Jim Herrick earned recognition in state football circles last fall.

Walled Lake hits the road for a match with EML champion East Detroit. Waterford is in the Waterloo and Farmington goes to Mt. Clemens.

Central Meets Southwestern in SVC Contest

Pontiac Central will conclude another fine basketball season on the West Huron gymnasium Friday in a Saginaw Valley Conference game with dangerous Flint Southwestern.

The Chiefs — currently rated the sixth best Class A cage team in the state by the Associated Press — have only one more regular season contest after this week and that is at Saginaw Arthur Hill.

Their hopes for a piece of the SVC basketball championship pretty well disappeared last Friday when Southwestern was not able to side-track first place Saginaw.

The Colts are tied for fourth place in the SVC; and neither Flint Central nor Midland, both lower, seem potent enough to upset Saginaw's Trojans in the final two tilts.

Coach Fred Zittel of PCH, while admitting his title hopes were very slim, refused to look beyond the final two league games to state tournament play. "We're playing them one at a time," he said yesterday.

Last season the Chiefs also finished second in the SVC and went on to reach the state Class A semifinals at East Lansing before dropping out of the post-season action.

NEW LINEUP

Zittel did admit Central would have a different starting lineup for the second straight game. Jessie Evans, a 62 junior forward, will move to guard and 6-3 senior John Hopper will move back into the first five against Southwestern.

This will give PCH a taller defensive lineup in anticipation of the Colts starting lanky Rick Yuille in the backcourt, also normally a forward.

Diminutive Jim McClendon will drop from the starting five,

For Post-Game Remarks

Hoosier Raps U.-of-M.'s Strack

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Branch McCracken, Indiana basketball coach, said Wednesday that Coach Dave Strack of nationally top-ranked Michigan showed poor judgment in an altercation after their game Monday night and should have been thankful for victory.

McCracken said he shook hands with Strack in the hall after the game and said, "Dave, we sure gave you one."

McCracken said Strack, instead of accepting congratulations and going on, "wanted to pop off about it." He quoted Strack as saying, "We deserved to win it. What are you talking about?"

McCracken said that after Strack made his remark assistant coach Lou Watson of Indiana reached past McCracken and grabbed Strack by the collar.

McCracken told them, "Take it easy and cool off."

Watson and Strack were separated and no blows were exchanged.

"If Strack had played it smart he'd have gotten out of there," McCracken said.

Reached for comment in Ann Arbor, Strack told newsmen:

"It wasn't too bad, and it wasn't too good. There was no such scuffle. He (Watson) shoved me. I was just standing there and all of a sudden he gave me a shove."

"They had just lost a tough one, but I've lost some tough ones too. Other coaches have lost some tough ones and kept their poise."

Chicago Star Injured in Win Over Rangers

By United Press International

The Chicago Black Hawks may learn today just how much they lost by beating the New York Rangers.

Chicago rallied for three goals in the final period to nip the Rangers 5-4 Wednesday night, but in the process Bobby Hull suffered another knee injury.

Hull, who returned to the Hawks' lineup last Sunday after missing four games with an injury to his right knee, suffered a stretched ligament to his left knee when he was checked by New York's Arnie Brown.

The winning goal for the Hawks was scored by Stan Mikita, enabling him to pass Hull in the individual scoring race with 66 points, one more than his ailing teammate.

The Rangers had scored four goals in the second period to take a 4-2 lead, but third-period scores by Doug Mohns, Fred Stanfield and Mikita enabled the Hawks to maintain a four-point advantage over the Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League standings.

Duffy Sets Practice

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Spring football drills at Michigan State University will run from April 5 to May 8, Coach Duffy Daugherty announced today.

WINNING BATHS—Pontiac Northern swimming coach Ed Daww (white pants) heads into the PNH pool as the happy Huskies celebrate their win over Fitzgerald last night 54-51. It was the first time Northern had ever beaten the Warren school. In the water to the right is assistant coach John Moreau who was given the first bath. Pontiac Northern is assured of its best season in history, now boasting a 12-2 record, with a meet against strong Birmingham Groves Friday night in the PNH pool.

Sweet-Revenge Win for Huskies' Swimmers

Pontiac Northern's swimming team is getting even with teams which in past years did everything but drown the Huskies.

Last night in assuring themselves the best record in school's history, the Huskies won their 12th meet in 14 starts by defeating strong Warren Fitzgerald, a team they had never beaten, 54-51.

Friday night in the PNH pool, the Huskies meet Birmingham Groves, another team which they have never beaten.

Decisions in both team relay events, and especially in the thrilling 200 free-style relay finale, netted PNH the big point margins.

Carl Hiller, who set a varsity record with a second place in the individual medley with a time of 2:14 behind Fitzgerald's Lester McCormick, brought home the bacon in the last leg of the relay event, a touch ahead of Marv Petty.

Dick Johnson set a varsity mark with 1:00.8 in the backstroke; and one of the key decisions was Bob Hayes breaststroke triumph over McCormick in 1:09.

Steve Yedlin again posted a 200 yard with a 1:57.9 in the 200 free and 400 free-style event

Tigers to Get New Stands

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Lakeland's city commission moved Wednesday to build new stands at Henley Field, site of the Detroit Tigers exhibition games during spring training.

A total of $300,000 was appropriated for the new stands expected to be ready for the 1966 season.

Wednesday's action came within hours after Mrs. Lois Searl, a former Detroit resident, was sworn in as the city's first woman mayor.
