Gusts Hit 75, Windows Break, Lines Go Down

Blasts Peel Roofing From Home in Orion at Peak of Blow

Near-hurricane winds lashed Oakland County in a wild storm yesterday morning, breaking store windows, ripping down awnings and signs, breaking wires and denuding an Orion Township house of its shingles.

City Airport manager Homer Hoskins said today the peak of the storm was 7 a. m., when gusts up to 75 miles per hour were registered. Gusts up to 50 occurred from 7 a. m. until noon.

Hoskins said there was no damage to grounded planes at the airport.

In Orion Township, wind peeled a composition roof from Gerald Watt's one-story house at 802 Vernita Dr., draping it over Watts' car standing in the yard.

Pontiac police said rattling store windows made two burglar alarms start ringing.

Gusts up to 85 miles per hour were reported at Detroit-Wayne Major Airport.

BLIZZARD HITS

Meanwhile, a fierce weekend blizzard dumped up to 16 inches of snow on the smothered upper Michigan. Police and road crews reported most trunk roads passable this morning, but said most side roads were still drift-clogged.

Grand Traverse County, blanketed with eight to 16 inches of new snow, was battered by winds up to 55 miles an hour which raised six-foot drifts in places.

In Traverse City, eight inches of new snow raised the total on the ground to 16 inches. Highway Superintendent Sid Medalie described the storm as the worst in years.

ABANDON AUTOS

Flying snow, accompanied by high winds, forced motorists to abandon their cars beside the roads and seek shelter.

The Automobile Club of Michigan warned motorists this morning that highways north of a line from Bay City to Ludington are "slippery and snow covered."

Cold air followed the storm through Michigan. In Pontiac, the temperature dropped from 48 to 32 degrees in two hours Sunday morning.

Lowest Pontiac temperature preceding 8 a.m. today was 22 degrees. Temperature at 2 p.m. was 29.

The Weather Bureau predicted some chance of snow Tuesday, with little change in temperature.

Two to Seek Nominations to Congress From District

A Pontiac Republican and a Hazel Park Democrat today announced they will seek their respective party nominations to run for U. S. representative from the 18th District (Oakland County).

They follow Michigan Turnpike Authority Chairman George N. Higgins, of Ferndale, who was first to announce his candidacy last Friday after incumbent Congressman George A. Dondero (R-Royal Oak) said he will not run again.

The latest aspirants are Richard D. Kuhn, 26, of Pontiac, and Charles K. Lawson, 62, of Hazel Park.

Kuhn is a student at the Detroit College of Law. The owner of a car washing service, he ran for the Republican nomination as state senator in 1954.

Lawson, who calls himself a "conservative Democrat," heads the Hazel Park Civic Improvement Assn. Both said they stand for "substantially" the same ideas as Dondero.

Lawson declared he favors a $4,000 wage exemption for the working man and a 50 per cent support by federal government of both public and parochial schools.

Kuhn stated he supports an income tax cut and increased federal aid to roads, but opposes toll roads.

Greek Premier Seeks U.S. Help

British Exile of Prelate Causes General Strike, Unrest on Island

ATHENS (INS)—Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis appealed today for American intervention in the bitter dispute with Britain over the Cyprus issue.

He told a news conference that Russia was making every effort to exploit the dispute and added that "allied mishandling is buttering the Russian toast."

The premier told a group of touring American editors that the United States should intervene decisively before Greece faced the danger of internal Communist disruption that might cut off this land from the western allies.

Cypriot nationalists of Greek descent want the British crown colony and defense base in the eastern Mediterranean joined to Greece. Britain has offered limited self-government to the Cypriots.

The premier spoke as students defied a government ban on demonstrations and staged a protest strike in the streets of Athens.

Meanwhile, it was announced that King Paul of Greece sailed from Athens yesterday aboard a destroyer for Corfu Island, where he reportedly will supervise the restoration of the royal summer residence.

But reports were current in Athens that the King actually was on his way to meet Queen Elizabeth II of England, who also is sailing in the Mediterranean aboard the royal yacht Britannia.

A spontaneous general strike spread like wildfire throughout Cyprus today, virtually paralyzing all business on this British colony island in the eastern Mediterranean.

Shops, banks and schools were closed in protest against Britain's exile of Makarios.

JUDGE FRANK A. PICARD

U. of Alabama Expels Student

3 Others Suspended, 21 Disciplined Because of Lucy Riots

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—University of Alabama trustees today expelled one student, suspended three others and approved lesser punishment for 21 more in disciplinary action arising from student rioting against Autherine Lucy, the school's first Negro student.

Leonard Wilson, 20-year-old Selma, Ala., sophomore was expelled.

Miss Lucy was excluded from classes after rioting Feb. 6. She was expelled Feb. 29 after unproved charges that university officials were in conspiracy with the mobs.

Wilson, who addressed student demonstrations the nights of Feb. 3 and 4, was called from class today and told of his expulsion.

A statement from the trustees said Wilson was thrown out because of his part in student rioting and also because of "unwarranted and outrageous public attacks" on Dr. Oliver C. Carmichael, university president, and other school officials.

Wilson called for a general house-cleaning at the university in an address before a White Citizens Council rally in Birmingham last Tuesday.

The trustees also announced that three students under investigation in the student rioting had since withdrawn from school and would not be readmitted unless they were cleared of charges against them.

Wilson's name was the only one given in a statement by John A. Caddell, Decatur, Ala., trustee.

Jurist Unhurt; Pellets Lodge in Wall Panel

FBI Quickly Nabs Man in Courtroom Assault at Bay City

BAY CITY (AP) — A blast from a 16 gauge shotgun, fired at close range, narrowly missed Federal Judge Frank A. Picard as he presided at a trial in his courtroom here today.

FBI agents immediately seized Stanley Wloch, a 68-year-old farmer.

The agents said Wloch poked a shotgun through the courtroom entrance and fired at the judge as he sat on the bench.

The pellets missed the judge's head by inches and imbedded themselves in the stone wall back of the bench.

At first, no one saw the pellets that left a pattern about 18 inches wide on the wall.

Judge Picard appeared to think a blank charge had been fired at him.

The jurist went ahead with the trial before declaring a recess 10 minutes later.

The judge said he had been warned about a week ago to be on guard against such an incident.

"If I went into hibernation every time I get a warning I would never get out into the open," the judge said.

FBI agents, who have an office on the third floor of the federal building above the second-floor courtroom, rushed to the scene upon hearing the gun discharge.

The agents described Wloch as a man with a grudge against the judge.

The agents said Wloch filed a civil suit in Judge Picard's court in 1947 and the judge dismissed it for lack of jurisdiction. They said Wloch later sent threatening letters to the judge. The suit, agents said, involved Wloch's attempt to recover a farm from his divorced wife and Wloch appealed to federal court after losing out in the state court.

Launch Probe of Milk Prices

Grand Jury Will Quiz 6 Witnesses on Possible 'Fixing' in Michigan

DETROIT (AP)—Six witnesses are expected to testify today as a Federal grand jury begins a "full scale" inquiry into possible price-fixing in Michigan's milk industry.

Edward M. Feeney, chief of the Justice Department's Anti-Trust Division office in Detroit, said more than 20 witnesses have been summoned for what he termed a "full scale" probe dating back to Jan. 1, 1945.

On another front, Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo was asked to intervene in the milk price battle between creameries and the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. The mayor answered the request of the MMPA by saying he would appoint a fact-finding committee only if he gets "assurance of cooperation by both sides."

The 11,000 farmer members of the MMPA have threatened to strike in their efforts to get $5.25 per hundredweight for their milk. Howard F. Simmons, MMPA secretary-manager, said that in January farmers got $4.60, mut now receive only $4.41.

Tampa, Florida's McDill Air Force Base said the plane was on an operational mission in French Morocco when it vanquished. The plane was assigned to McDill's 306th Bomb Wing.

U. S. planes from North African bases are conducting a widespread search for the plane and its crew.

Mrs. Polson was burned in a dash through the blazing living room of the two-family frame house to rescue Frank from his crib.

Cancer Kills Son, 5, of Dr. Kenneth Small

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Clifford B. Small, 5-year-old son of Dr. Kenneth Small, was buried Sunday. He died Friday of a cancerous kidney tumor.

Dr. Small, a Detroit dentist, won acquittal in a sensational 1954 murder trial in Allegan, Mich. He was charged with shooting to death Jules Lack of New York, whom he claimed had stolen the love of his pretty wife, Edith.

Kenneth and Edith Small separated after the trial. She went to California. He resumed dental practice in Detroit, remarried, then also moved to California.

Kefauver Aide Denies Charge of Taking Funds

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Estes Kefauver's national campaign treasurer branded as "utterly false" today an assertion that the senator has received financial aid from "the governor of a large state."

Col. William Roberts, who is handling the Tennessee Democrat's political finances, called upon Adlai E. Stevenson to "disavow" the charge made on the eve of the New Hampshire primary by a backer of the Stevenson-for-president drive.

Roberts added: "I regret that Mr. Stevenson's supporters have found it necessary to fall back upon this sort of smear technique in order to further their candidate's cause in New Hampshire.

"I am confident that the voters in New Hampshire will make their distaste for these shabby tactics known when they vote in tomorrow's primary."

Stevenson at Rally

Claims Reelection of Ike Would Revise Presidency

Conditions which President Eisenhower said he must work under, if reelected, would create "a fundamental revision of the role of the chief executive," Adlai E. Stevenson charged in Detroit Saturday.

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee in 1952, spoke before a record 2,500 Jefferson-Jackson dinner guests in his bid to run again for the nation's biggest job.

The President's description of how his second-term administration would operate sounds like "the rules governing a kingdom or a corporation," said Stevenson. "Such conditions are not the rules governing a democracy."

The former Illinois governor alleged Eisenhower's reelection would result in the delegation of top level responsibilities to "associate presidents. . .

"I feel the people must know and understand that the Eisenhower proposal is for a fundamental revision in the President's role in our governmental structure."

Stevenson brought laughter from the assembled Democrats, who paid $25 a single ticket and $35 for couples, by adding, "This is the first time the Republicans endorsed time-and-a-half for undertime."

NIXON A QUESTION

"We don't know yet who the principal associate president is going to be," Stevenson stated. "Although the President has professed boundless admiration for his beloved Vice President, captain of the offensive team, I hear that for some reason he is going to dump him.

"The great crusade started off

Dixie Solons Lash Court's Rulings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today declared unanimously that state universities may not delay the admission of Negro students pending a study of problems involved.

The high tribunal issued an order overturning a Florida Supreme Court decision that permitted a delay in the admission of Virgil D. Hawkins to the law school of the all-white University of Florida.

Ninety-six Southern congressmen were on record today in denunciation of the U.S. Supreme Court's public school antisegregation decisions and some talked about the possibility of a third party if the Democrats take a strong stand for integration in this presidential election year.

The 96—19 senators and 77 representatives pledged in a "declaration of constitutional principles" to exercise every "lawful means" to reverse the court's decision outlawing racial segregation in the schools.

Their manifesto, made public last night in Washington, was to be read in the Senate and House today.

Thurgood Marshall, counsel for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said the signers "are encouraging lawlessness and mob violence by their action."

But the document advised caution.

"In this trying period, as we all seek to right this wrong, we appeal to our people not to be provoked . . . and to scrupulously refrain from any disorder or lawless acts," the congressmen said.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) yesterday told a New York City church gathering he would send a telegram to E. Roy Fitzgerald, president of a Chicago corporation which owns the Montgomery, Ala., bus lines, telling him that the boycott in that Southern city might spread to other lines owned by the firm.

Powell said the corporation, National City Lines, Inc., owns 40 bus lines, 33 of them in the North. Negroes have been boycotting the buses in Montgomery since early December when a Negro was arrested for refusing to sit in a segregated section.

The Negro congressman also said he had written to President Eisenhower, urging him to hold a conference of white and Negro Southern leaders. He also asked the President to join with a biracial committee of clergymen in prayer for "the deliverance of the

Ford Reveals Fund Soliciting

Executive Denies Any Pressure Upon Dealers for GOP Contributions

WASHINGTON (INS) — Henry Ford II said today that his assistant organized a drive to solicit money from Ford dealers for President Eisenhower's 1952 campaign.

But Ford denied that any pressure was exerted by his auto firm "directly or indirectly" to force dealers to contribute.

The motor executive appeared before a Senate subcommittee on automobile marketing. The group recently heard testimony alleging that the Ford company called on its Chicago dealers for a $50,000 donation to help elect Eisenhower.

In a prepared statement, Ford explained that Allen W. Merrell, his assistant and a member of the GOP national finance committee, had asked a "select group" of pro-Eisenhower Ford dealers to solicit other dealers for the 1952 campaign.

CONDITIONS SPECIFIED

Ford said he had approved the idea but specified that no pressure be used on dealers; no company personnel take part in the actual solicitations, and that no company money be used in the drive.

Though he was in Europe at the time the project was carried out, Ford said that Merrell has since "assured" him that the drive was carried out according to the provisions he laid down:

Merrell, who is not an official of the Ford company, held two meetings with dealer groups, Ford said, but "he did so as a private citizen and as a member of the Republican finance committee."

Ford said he understands the drive netted a "substantial" amount and that "many" dealers contributed.

Mrs. Smith's two sons, Cecil, 11, and Odel, 7, witnessed the accident, police said.

Clawson Youths Admit to Burglaries; Leader Claims 33 in Area

A seven-month breaking and entering spree which included 33 breakins in eight cities ended yesterday with the arrest of three Clawson youths.

The trio, Phillip Hughes, 17; Larry LaPage, 20, and Frederick Rendell, 18, are to be arraigned before Clawson Justice Harry R. McQuinn today.

Clawson Police Chief Frank Cribb said Hughes apparently was the "master-mind" of the group. He admitted 33 burglaries since last September, and implicated the other two youths in some of them.

He was arrested when police found him drinking beer in a car with several juveniles.

Police said Hughes admitted looting a Clawson home of $1,600 Nov. 28 and stealing $725 from the Avon Township School. Of over $5,000 stolen by the youths, $2,100 has been recovered as well as two cars and three pistols.

The trio admitted burglarizing places in Royal Oak, Madison Heights, Birmingham, Dearborn, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Clawson and Berkley, police said.

Police reported that the victim, Don Earl Harper, and another boy, 10, took one of two automatic elevators to the 14th floor of the building.

With the door held open, Don held a finger on the emergency button to keep the elevator from moving and extended his body out of an opening on the side of the car.

The boy's finger apparently slipped from the emergency button and the elevator moved down about two feet and crushed him.

Ike Would Revise Job, Says Stevenson

with a team of eight millionaries and a plumber.

"But the plumber was an honest man and jumped ship when he discovered which way it was headed, leaving the millionaires to carry on.

"Some of them came from Michigan, and, of course from General Motors.

"Secretary of Defense Wilson, who has such an amiable way of betraying his true feelings and of contradicting associates, will now have our nation's security even more to himself.

"He can no longer count on seeing the President once a week. In this connection I might state that what is good for General Motors is not necessarily good for the country . . .

"Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey is credited by the GOP with eliminating inflation and setting up general economic stability. Yet the national debt decreased during Truman's last three years in office and has climbed in three year's of Ike's administration."

Stevenson was introduced by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who is said to have presidential aspirations himself. The Michigan governor termed Stevenson a man "who commands the respect of the nation as a person who talked sense to the American people."

Stevenson returned the compliment saying Williams has won nationwide recognition for his achievements in Michigan, but still renewed his stand for "moderation" on the civil rights issue, which Williams has criticized.

"The freedom to educate our children as they deserve means equality of educational opportunity without discrimination or segregation on any basis of race, creed or color," Stevenson asserted.

"But equality of opportunity cannot be won by bayonets any more than peace can be won by war. Full realization of our goal first demands responsible and temperate leadership." The Presidency could provide this leadership, he declared.

The Republicans have failed, he charged to:

Maintain nation prestige; keep up prosperity of farmers and small businessmen; decrease the national debt and balance the budget; and protect national resources from raiding for private profit.

Convicted Shoplifter No Friend of Prophet

DETROIT (INS) — Prophet Jones today denied any connection with a convicted shoplifter who told Detroit police the 10 hams and some biblical texts he took from a super market were to be used at a Lenten dinner Jones usually attended.

The shoplifter, Alfred D. Thomas, 26, said the Lenten dinner was to be held at the Alpha and Omega Church, which he described as a branch of Jones' Church of the Universal Triumph, the Dominion of God. He also said he had been a cook in Jones' house at one time.

Prophet Jones said Thomas had never worked for him, was not a member of his church and that the Alpha and Omega Church was not affiliated with his organization in any way.

Will Select 70 Ford Scholarship Winners

DEARBORN (INS) — Eight college and university presidents will meet in Dearbron today and tomorrow to pick winners from the highest number of applications ever received in the six-year Ford Motor Co. Fund Scholarship program.

Approximately 70 U. S. high school seniors will be chosen for four year scholarships from the 650 applications submitted by sons and daughters of Ford employes.

William C. Pine, director of the scholarship program, said winners will be announced in about three weeks. The scholarships provide full tuition and partial living costs to any approved American college or university.

Among the board members who will select the winners this year is University of Michigan President Harlan Hatcher and University of Illinois Head David D. Henry, former president of Detroit's Wayne University.

persecuted and the salvation of the prejudiced."

The President's reply, said Powell, was "patently deceitful, sheer hypocritical buck-passing."

Powell read a reply he said was signed by Bryce N. Harlow, administrative assistant to the President, saying that recommendations for a bipartisan civil rights commission and setting aside a period of prayer should come from Congress.

Would-Be Snatcher Happy to See Police

CHICAGO (INS)—Wesley Stewart, 26, of Chicago isn't complaining about being behind bars today on a purse snatching charge.

When Stewart grabbed a purse from Mrs. Hilda Coriolan, who stands five feet and weighs in at 90 pounds, she gave chase and battered him.

Collared by a policeman, Stewart exclaimed:

"Thanks, officer. I never saw such a little woman get so mad. Man, I never was so glad to see the cops in all my life."

Shoots Woman During Quarrel

Neighbor Admits Firing Rifle Bullet Into Arm of Victim

A 35-year-old woman, who Pontiac police say has admitted wounding a next door neighbor with a .22 caliber rifle after an argument Saturday, is being held for investigation of assault with intent to kill.

Mrs. Mary Bell Payne, 606 Bloomfield Ave., said, "I would have shot again if the gun hadn't jammed," when arrested 15 minutes later with her husband, John, in a car at Luther St. and Franklin Rd., according to Officers Wilburn Carrier and Raymond Solwold.

The victim, Mrs. Eloise Sawyer, 30, of 604 Bloomfield, was released from Pontiac General Hospital after a bullet was removed from her left arm.

Det. James Laponsie said Payne and the wounded woman's husband, Gabriel, were arguing about a car parked in Payne's yard, when Mrs. Payne came out of the house with the gun and fired.

The Day in Birmingham

To Mull Rezoning Tonight on Leinbach Subdivision

BIRMINGHAM — Rezoning of most of the 987 homes in the Leinbach-Humphrey subdivision from income bungalow to single family residence will be considered in a hearing at City Commission meeting tonight.

Five letters already have reached city officials with opinions of those living in the subdivision, east of Woodward avenue area at the south of town.

The planning commission has recommended the change, which would affect only future building plans. Homes now used for two families would remain so, but no new two-family homes could be built, nor could a single family home be changed to the two-family arrangements. One letter from a worried citizen in the subdivision indicates what one city official calls a misunderstanding, since, he says, no zoning ordinance like this can be retroactive, as the writer accuses. Her income - bungalow status would continue, he says.

Architect Linn Smith of Birmingham is being suggested tonight as architect for the alteration of the municipal building. If hired, he could probably have preliminary plans within the next 30 days, according to City Manager D. C. Egbert.

Egbert suggests an allocation of $1,500 for the preliminary work.

Also before commissioners tonight are a report on parking lot HH, at Hunter and Hamilton, the tentative closing date of next Sunday for Eton Park Skating Rink, and details of state legislation that will change the city's justice court to a municipal court.

The act, yet unsigned by the governor, applies to cities over 15,000 population and with a salaried justice of the peace, which would include Birmingham.

Ike, Hoover Huddle for Middle East Talk

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower meets with acting secretary of state Herbert Hoover Jr. today to discuss the grave crisis in the Middle East.

The 10:30 a.m. (EST) White House conference came in wake of mounting charges and counter-charges hurled by the Israeli government and the Arab nations, continuing border incidents, and diplomatic moves aimed at preventing an outbreak of war.

One of the chief topics of the urgent conference between Eisenhower and Hoover is the way the U.S. and other Western powers can bring the tense Middle Eastern situation before the United Nations.

Another vital issue is the quarrel between Britain and Greece—NATO partners—over Cyprus, the British military stronghold in the eastern Mediterranean.

Cancer Hospital to Receive $505 From Workers

A group of Post Office department officials will donate $505 to the City of Hope, a Duarte, California, philanthropic cancer hospital and research center, Pontiac postmaster Leslie H. Dean said today.

The donation was raised after actress Betty Hutton advised the public to drop coins in letter boxes for the charity.

Explaining that there have been "no reports of any large amounts of coins" deposited loose in boxes, Dean commented that the post office is required by law to place such coins, found without addresses, in its miscellaneous funds.

The group contribution, he added, should "substantially cover any such deposits."

Williams to Speak at Political Forum

EAST LANSING (INS)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams today will speak on "The Place of Youth in Politics" during a Political Party Day program at Michigan State University.

Michigan Democratic and Republican parties will participate in the program, which Dr. Norton E. Long, MSU political science professor, said is designed to acquaint Michigan College students with party politics at the local, state and national levels.

The Michigan citizenship clearing house sponsors the program. Also invited to the program were Adrian College, Flint Junior College, Hillsdale College, Jackson Junior College, Michigan State Normal College in Ypsilanti and Spring Arbor Junior College.

Among the Republicans taking part in the program is John Feikens, chairman of the GOP State Central Committee.

Dingell to Introduce Social Security Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Dingell (D-Mich) is proposing free hospitalization for everyone over 65 who receives social security benefits.

Dingell said he would introduce a bill today to carry out his proposal.

Under Dingell's plan the cost of 60 days hospitalization in a semi-private room would be paid from the social security trust fund. Dependents of insured aged persons and survivors of insured persons also would be eligible for hospitalization under his plan.

Dingell estimated the plan eventually would cost half a billion dollars a year, but said it was financially possible because income from social security taxes has been growing faster than payments out of the trust fund.

DALLAS (AP)—Glen Robert James rigged up a shotgun linked to the back door of his shoe shop and loaded the gun with blanks.

Red Cross Pays Tribute to Blood Donors

The Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross has issued a vote of thanks to Pontiac residents who have contributed blood to their program during the last five years.

* * *

Red Cross officials estimate that Oakland County residents have saved $969,625 since 1951. And of course behind that figure lies an immeasurable savings in human lives, says Mildred Bennett, county Red Cross director.

This conservation of lives and dollars was made possible by the blood program of Oakland County Chapter American Red Cross and the support given to the program by 200,000 donors since 1951 and the 9,000 yearly volunteers who man the bloodmobiles.

Under the direction of Dr. Ernest Bauer of Hazel Park, the program is divided into regions and is headed by a blood advisory committee consisting of area and mobile recruitment chairmen. A registered nurse works with the group.

The regions are South Oakland County, Birmingham - Bloomfield, Pontiac and the out-county area. Mrs. John Blanchard of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Norman McQuater of Royal Oak are committee co-chairmen.

The regions operate as a part of the Detroit Regional Blood Center, which coordinates the programs of Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw, Wayne and St. Clair counties.

The center supplies blood to 400 hospitals and to residents hospitalized outside of the county.

Two other facets of the Red Cross work helping with the mobile staff are the Red Cross Gray Ladies and Nurses' Aides plus a registered nurse. A physician is also stationed with each mobile unit. All recruiting is done by volunteers.

Dr. John Marra, pathologist at Pontiac General Hospital, Dr. Herman Linn, Beaumont Hospital pathologist, and Dr. Julius Rutzky, director of clinical service at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, work as technical advisors to the program.

Termites Chomp Island Homes

Insects Swarm Over Remote Site 4,000 Miles West of Chile

WASHINGTON—Termites, previously unknown on Pitcairn Island, are eating the Bounty mutineers' descendants out of their South Sea homes.

* * *

The voyaging termites have encroached on one of the South Pacific's most remote and dramapacked islands, the National Geographic Soicety says. Far out of usual sea lanes, 4,000 miles west of Valparaiso, Chile, Pitcairn was settled by mutineers from H.M.S. Bounty in 1790, 23 years after discovery of the uninhabited islet by the English navigator Philip Carteret.

Pitcairners traditionally trade with visiting ship passengers, offering them fresh fruit, handmade walking canes, fans, fancy boxes, rare shells and model ships in full sail. They travel 95 miles in open boats to uninhabited Oeno Island to gather marketable coral specimens and bright tail feathers of tropical birds.

In exchange, they welcome money or soap, clothing, pencils—anything Pitcairn can't provide. One visiting ship left 20 pounds of rat poison for the only enemy then existing.

SELF RELIANT

Self-reliant, Pitcairners mend their own watches, make tools and nails and musical instruments. A gold wedding ring wrought from a coin is used in many marriages. Sometimes the ring of a limpet shell suffices.

There is a school for Pitcairn's children, and adults find development in a Mutual Improvement Society where they express their own thoughts and recite poetry and dialogue. Fancy needlework, knitting and embroidery are taught. Musical talent finds outlet in an orchestral group.

Despite intermarriage, no deterioration mars the stock. Some are fair with blue eyes and light hair. Others are very dark and handsome.

Canada's first national park, Banff, with 2,564 square miles, was set aside in 1885.

Rev. Gilbert Stein, University Dean, Dies at Age 48

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The dean of the College of Liberal Arts at Xavier University in Cincinnati, the Rev. Gilbert F. Stein, 48, died unexpectedly here yesterday. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Here to attend a district meeting of the American Catholic Philosophical Assn., Father Stein was found dead in his lodging at St. Ignatius High School.

He joined the staff of Xavier University as Liberal Arts Dean last August after two years as freshman dean of the University of Detroit. He was principal of the Detroit University High School from 1943 to 1953.

A native of Cleveland, Father Stein attended St. Ignatius High School and John Carroll University here before joining the Society of Jesus in 1926. He was ordained in the priesthood in 1939.

A Requiem Mass will be held in St. Mary's Catholic Church Wednesday morning. Burial will be in the cemetery of St. Stanislaus' Retreat House in Parma.

Dr. Tom Lovell, UM Poet and Cobbler, Dies at 67

(Michigan's history is rich and alive. Too often it is lost in the dullness of schooltime lessons. In an effort to bring some of these moments to life, the following story has been compiled from eyewitness accounts on file with the University of Michigan's historical collections and with the aid of Assistant Director F. Clever Bald.)

By JOHN BARBOUR

ANN ARBOR, May 16, 1930 (AP)—A tradition at the University of Michigan—Dr. Tom Lovell, a cobbler—died today. "Old Dr. Tom," who knew every face on campus, was 67.

Although he had no more than a year of formal education, Thomas Lovell made a lasting mark on the campus. He was the butt of many campus jests, but, as one former student said, "He forgave his enemies every day."

It was his simplicity that impressed and led many of the students to take advantage of him. He was never formally connected with the university, although at one fraternity party he was introduced as "adviser to three presidents of the university."

Dr. C. Howard Ross, a physician, recalls a cold November night in 1912 when he was kidnaped by a group of sophomores and was dunked in a horse trough, when along came "Doctor" Tom Lovell. Lovell mounted the trough, defying threats of a dunking, and told the students of mob scenes in London, argued with them on semantics, and dispersed them.

Then to Ross, he said in his cockney accent, to sneak along home and get a warm bath.

A Detroit newspaper said, "With dignity he wore the mantle of absurdity . . . he became Michigan's Professor of Harmless Relaxation."

Lovell acknowledged some 20 titles including, "The Cobbler Poet . . . Lt. Col. of Archery . . . A.W.O.L. (artist with old ladies) . . . S.O.S. (society of scribes) . . . T.N.T. (thinks new thoughts)" and so on

But probably the most ludicrous of all Tom Lovell's audacious attempts for recognition was his application to the board of regents for the position of university president.

He was put up to the job by students, but part of his application letter tells the way he felt, more capably than any of the students who kidded him:

"Look at the men, gone from Michigan, who have known me. I gripped their hands and emptied into their life, mingled with them to the midnight hours. They always said, 'Come back soon.' "

Born in England, Lovell came to Michigan via Canada when he was 46. He ran a cobbler shop, over which was his shingle, "Dr. Tom Lovell—Poet and Cobbler . . . Hospital for Sick Shoes."

Study of Life May Help to Conquer Cancer

(This is the last of six articles describing up-to-date developments in a massive and dramatic research attack on cancer.)

By JOHN GEIGER

NEW YORK (INS) — The conquest of cancer will come almost inevitably as scientists plunge ever more deeply into the ceaseless, seething cycles of chemical activity within the normal and the cancer cell—the cycles of life itself.

* * *

To understand the cancer cell, researchers will have to extend their knowledge of the normal cell, the humblest house of life. This is science's greatest—and most difficult—challenge, for life just won't stand still while it's being studied.

In the time it takes you to read this sentence, for example, about 15 million red blood cells in your body will die.

But in that same moment, 15 million new red blood cells will be "born" or released from your bone marrow, so that the total number will remain in balance.

Decades of brilliant research have proved that this is one of life's great principles — keeping things steady, and in balance, in the midst of furious changes. Scientists call this "dynamic equilibrium."

Cancer, in this view, is a vicious disturbance of this balance in the body, rooted somehow in chemical changes. Cancer cells grow and divide endlessly, like a car that is all horsepower and no brakes, careening carzily out of control.

DISEASE OF CELL

It has been known for a hundred years or more that cancer was a disease of cells, and that somehow the fantastic merry-go-round of chemical reactions inside the cancer and the normal cell must differ. But not until the past few decades have techniques been developed for revealing some of the details.

The patterns are beginning now to be spelled out, but the job is one of staggering complexity. For the human body is made up of hundreds of thousands of billions of cells. At any given instant, they are extracting energy from food, hooking chemicals together to build new compounds, storing up energy in chemical form, expelling waste material, dying in huge numbers, giving birth to new cells in huge numbers.

It is the individual cell, the little engine or factory of life, that obtains energy from food, splits food substances into ever-smaller fragments, burns them with oxygen to release energy, uses the energy to build new cells and new body components. Life inside the cell is a wild hurly-burly of flying atoms and whirling molecules and constant change, yet it too must remain in balance.

One great aid in tracing out the cell cycles has been the radioactive atom or tracer. Such an atom can be hooked into a molecule of food like sugar, for example, fed to the body, and traced through all its journeys into new molecules inside the cell.

Sloan - Kettering scientists and others found evidence that the nucleic acids in the cores of normal and cancer cells may differ, and that cancer seems to use some different raw materials, and different assembly lines, in making exact copies of its nucleic acids to be passed on to new cancer cells—the essential step in growth and reproduction.

* * *

That suggested ways of poisoning cancer cells without harming healthy tissue—in other words, developing drugs that would attack cancer specifically and directly. And the first, feebly effective versions of such drugs are already in use, helping some cancer patients, today. More powerful drugs surely will follow.

ENZYMES STUDIED

In these laboratories and others, scientists are also studying the links between nucleic acids, and the busy, potent cell chemicals called enzymes. Enzymes are the cell's cooking utensils for the great chemical stew of life. Some are like egg-beaters, blending things together. Others are little chemical choppers, cutting big chemical structures like food molecules into smaller pieces.

* * *

There are thousands of these essential utensils inside each cell. They are amazingly busy — one known enzyme, a chopper, works five million times a minute—and they are one of science's important puzzles. But new studies on the nucleic acids are beginning to clear up some of the mystery, by suggesting that it's the nucleic acids that determine what enzymes each cell will have.

On another front, armed with new knowledge of the cell's chemical activities, embryologists can turn to the most fascinating cell of all—the egg cell—and begin to understand how its majestic, orderly development is organized and controlled, so that from one undifferentiated bit of living matter can unfold bone and muscle and nerve and skin, all in proper sequence.

Any scientific fact turned up by basic research into the fundamental mechanisms of life may prove to be the final, missing piece in some jigsaw puzzle of disease — and spell longer, happier human life.

There are many pieces still missing in the cancer puzzle. But Dr. C. P. Rhoads, scientific director of Sloan-Kettering Institute, points out:

"The control of cancer, so long sought and so long deemed to be inaccessible, now begins to appear as a suitable objective for research . . , and research ultimate will lead to it. Cancer's conquest, utter and complete, is our sole aim.

"What, then, may we expect in the future? Great expectations indeed . . . so far all is on schedule, but the future is still unknown: We cannot estimate our time of arrival."

Perhaps billions of separate facts already are known about the chemistry of life in health and disease. The objective is to find the patterns, just as astronomers find patterns for the billion of stars in millions of galaxies, and thus can construct an orderly universe.

To some, these findings of astronomers make human life seem insignificant—a thin film of activity on an unimportant plane, circling a second-rate sun in a forgotten corner of the cosmos.

But the universe of whirling molecule within man, scientists now believe, is as majestic as the physical universe around him.

Human life—in the eyes of science—is in keeping with the splendor of its setting.

CELLS — The study of cancer is in many ways the study of life itself. To understand both normal life and the disordered life of cancer, scientists must understand the chemical processes inside the basic unit life — the cell. Researchers study cancer cells like the one shown in this high-power magnification, dead and disintegrating under the impact of an experimental cancer drug developed in their work.

Committeewoman to Seek Re-election

LANSING (AP) — Mrs. Rae C. Hooker of Mt. Pleasant said that she will seek another term as Republican national committeewoman for Michigan.

Mrs. Hooker said she will run again "to help carry Michigan for President Eisnhower and the Republican program."

* * *

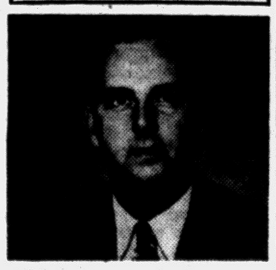
She made the statement on her return from Washington, where she attended the fourth annual Republican women's natioal conference.

"President Eisenhower addessed our group and all of us were impressed with his vitality and his devotion to the cause of preserving peace and promoting prosperity for our nation," she said.

* * *

She added that the "women's vote will be the decisive factor in 1956 and I am going to seek re-election as Repuglican national committee woman to help rally the women of Michigan to the Eisenhower cause."

"Ben-Gay brought us relief from painful headaches!"



William E. Bark of Akron, Ohio, says, "My wife and I have been using Ben-Gay for years now to relieve headache pains. Actually, my wife's headaches were sometimes so severe she was forced to go to bed for as long as a day at a time.

"Well, then we discovered Ben-Gay. By rubbing it on the back of the neck and on the forehead, she found that the pains started to ease up in no time. Now both of us count on Ben-Gay for headache relief!"

Why not try Ben-Gay next time a headache bothers you? By applying Ben-Gay externally, you'll enjoy wonderfully soothing relief. Rub Ben-Gay gently into the back of the neck, temples and forehead, taking care to avoid the eyes. Then relax and feel Ben-Gay go to work. Ben-Gay's world-famous medication acts fast . . . really fast to relieve the pain. Its pain-deadening action starts at once. Almost instantly you'll notice a welcome, soothing sensation. Federal Experts Want Better Pure Food Laws

Although U. S. food and drug inspection is 50 years old, the major problem in protecting the public against use of dangerous preservatives remains the "chiseling" processor.

Fresh evidence of this fact was brought before the House Interstate Commerce Subcommittee now ending hearings on this year's crop of proposed amendments to our pure food laws. Not all the processors are chiselers, of course. The responsible ones want the laws strengthened to protect themselves as well as the public.

★ ★ ★

Housewives would do well to inform themselves on some of the proposals the committee has been considering. One would exempt amounts of poison considered safe for human consumption. In this connection Food and Drug Commissioner Larrick turned thumbs down on the idea of using formaldehyde in milk as a preservative, saying it isn't necessary with pasteurization.

★ ★ ★

Another proposal would compel Food and Drugs to prove an additive harmful before it could be banned. The department quite properly contends that the burden must rest on the processor to prove the additive is harmless. All too often new chemicals have been introduced before complete scientific tests of their safety have been made.

★ ★ ★

One dangerous amendment would exempt from regulation all additives in use after a future cutoff date. This would put the approval of Congress on many chemicals which FDA considers questionable.

Marion B. Folsom, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, has given Congress recommendations against many of these amendments and proposed other improvements. He is working to maintain high, pure food standards and should have public support.

South Viet Nam Votes

Despite some disturbing factors, South Viet Nam's first free election has given firm footing to the administration of its president, Ngo Dinh Diem.

While the voters had endorsed their president in a previous plebiscite, their task at the polls this time was to choose a constituent assembly. The assembly has 45 days in which to draft a constitution satisfactory to the president or face dissolution. In such an event, President Diem would draft a constitution and ask its approval in a national referendum.

★ ★ ★

It is interesting to note that this election was not watched so much for the outcome as for the number of voters. Communists and some opposition parties had urged that the election be boycotted. To the credit of the Vietnamese more than 80 per cent of those qualified cast their ballots.

The real meaning of this election is unmistakable. President Diem has a strong mandate from the people. The assembly can proceed with the writing of the constitution with the full knowledge that it has public support.

★ ★ ★

As yet the issue of an all-Viet Nam election scheduled for July 1, is no nearer solution than ever. Russia and Red China have urged new talks on this matter. But South Viet Nam has never endorsed the idea and won't do so until there is assurance that the election would be really free.

Flood Fighters Win

Thanks to a sudden drop in temperature and some valiant emergency work, what might have been a disastrous flood was averted in the Pontiac Lake Recreation area.

The situation developed suddenly as the result of mild weather and two days of heavy rains. Though gates were opened to lower the lake level, it appeared for a while that flood waters would inundate 200 homes in the area.

Besides the return of freezing weather, the swift work of 100 volunteers and Oakland County Road and Drain Commission crews stopped the flow of water. They did this by sandbagging a low point in the dam at the west end of the lake.

The two crews and volunteers deserve great credit for this work, which was completed under very trying weather conditions.

Reading the first published installment of the memoirs of Harry Truman gives one the impression that he thought quite well of the man who succeeded Franklin D. Roosevelt as President.

This means that the San. will continue to operate in the same manner that it has in the past. Its patient load now is the highest in several months, and the current intensive case finding campaign is expected to fill it to capacity.

A Little Hard to Track Down

David Lawrence Says:

Presidential Race for '56 Looks Close, Especially With Many States in Doubt

WASHINGTON—The next presidential election looks very close. If no more than 702,000 persons out of the 9,164,000 who voted for Eisenhower in 1952 in seven doubtful states should change their minds next November, the Republican presidential ticket could be defeated. It involves a change of only about seven and a half per cent which can readily result from disaffection inside the Republican party.

★ ★ ★

The reason why an Eisenhower majority of 266 in the electoral college might not develop this time is that these seven doubtful states—Minnesota, Missouri, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Michigan and Oklahoma — comprise 120 electoral votes and the evidence shows they are leaning toward the Democratic side.

When 120 are subtracted from the 385 electoral votes that Eisenhower got outside the Solid South in 1952, it leaves only 265 which is one less than the majority of 266 needed to elect a president.

Actually the picture for the Republicans is even dimmer. There are, for instance, 19 other electoral votes which also are doubtful—Arizona, New Mexico, Montana, Rhode Island and Delaware. In each of these states the margin was narrow in 1952. Also in the 1954 elections the drop in percentage points on the total votes cast for Republicans as against Democratic members of the House in those five states was considerable.

CAPSULE ON SEVEN

Here is a table which shows the percentage of the total vote gotten in these seven doubtful states by the Republicans for seats in the House in 1954 as compared with the congressional vote in 1952:

	1952	1954	Electoral Vote
Oklahoma	41.3	35.1	8
Maryland	51.8	56.3	9
Missouri	7.8	43.8	13
Minnesota	54	47.2	11
Michigan	52.6	48.1	20
Illinois	53.9	49.6	27
Pennsylvania	2.3	49.3	32
Total			120

Examining also the Eisenhower majorities in 1952 in each of these seven doubtful states, they could be overturned by a change of only three per cent in Oklahoma. Less than six per cent in Maryland, less than one per cent in Missouri, less than five per cent in Minnesota, less than six per cent in Michigan and about five per cent in Illinois.

The farm disaffection is strong in Missouri, Minnesota and Oklahoma and could be a factor in southern Illinois and upper Michigan where the rural vote is normally Republican. As for Pennsylvania, it elected a Democratic governor last time by reason of the Democratic strength in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia and the fall off of the regular Republican vote in the other parts of the state. Michigan told the same story in the senatorial race in 1954—with Detroit increasing the Democratic strength and the rest of the state showing a big stay-at-home total of regular Republicans.

Whichever way the Republican strategists may look at the picture they find plenty of trouble spots. There is, for example, danger in New York state with its 45 electoral votes. Senator Ives, Republican, who had won by a majority of 1,332,198 in 1952 lost by 11,125 as a gubernatorial candidate in November 1954.

Plainly the Republican managers will have to figure out a way to get a united party and a ticket that will persuade Republicans to go to the polls in 1956. They should be worrying far less about what will attract "left wing" Democrats and more about winning back regular Republicans.

As one prominent Republican senator put it to this correspondent the other day: "For every Democrat supposedly attracted by deserting Nixon, we will lose to regular Republicans who will stay at home."

Middle-Aged Folks Subject to Impairment of Health

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Consider the physical and mental discomfort the middle-aged woman suffers when or if she has hot flashes—as nearly as I can learn, one out of every four women does have hot flashes at the time of the menopause and in some instances the disturbance continues to harass the poor girl for years and years after cessation of menstruation and ovulation.

For any women who regards menstruation as a "curse" I have a short, sharp answer: "Tut tut! Your complaint is the consequence of neglect of your education when you were in school or college. But you may still do something about it. You may send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the pamphlet "Hygiene for Girls." Or, if you are worried about what the old wives call "change of life," ask for The Menopause.

Somewhere between 35 and 55 we, men and women, reach our peak of growth and development and at that instant we begin to decline or to die—mighty like a rose or say an apple tree. No standing still in nature. Oh, sure, when we reach the acme in growth and development we like to pretend we are still as sprightly and youthful as ever when in fact we have been coasting down to oblivion for five, ten, or fifteen years.

At middle age men and women are subject to the same types of health impairment — heart-artery (cardio - vascular) degeneration, physical degeneration of joint tissues (rheumatiz), diabetes, and other conditions I'd rather not mention because I have no particular advice to offer about them.

Besides the calcium and hormone treatment recommended in the Menopause pamphlet I want to tell every woman who is approaching or going through the menopause that the only changes that occur normally are:

1. Cessation of menstruation.
2. Cessation of monthly ovulation—the ovary giving off an ovum or microscopic egg-cell.
2. Hence, loss of the capacity to conceive.

★ ★ ★

Normally the menopause has no particular effect on vite, good looks, sex appeal, or potency. So, the only actual difference between the woman's condition before the menopause and her condition after the menopause is that before the menopause she is presumably fertile, whereas after the menopause she is certainly sterile.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Urges Farmers' Support of Humane Slaughter Bill

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The Humane Slaughter Bill that is in committee in both the Senate and House deeply concerns every farmer in the United States, and if he realized the effect it would have on his profits and taxes, he would write his congressmen. This way he could get the bill passed.

The prosperity, comfort and better health of any nation is raised or lowered by the farmers. The man with the plow is king in any country if he would learn to take care of his interest in his government.

The money spent in developing better strains of livestock will not help to produce better meat or leather if the handlers, shippers and slaughterhouses are allowed to bruise and mangle meat animals.

Surplus goods stored in warehouses are a mockery to producers. The middlemen get the money and producer and consumer pay taxes to keep this surplus.

So long as the farmer fails to realize these facts, he will remain in the low income group.

Readers' Opinions Vary on Spanking in School

By the way, who was that well known and (they say) well educated Pontiac man who tried to argue at a recent luncheon for "capital" punishment in the schools? Should his identity remain a secret?

Heresay

I'm tremendously in favor of spanking school children when they need it. How can a teacher or parent maintain discipline if the most powerful weapon is the shaking of a warning finger and an admonition to be good? It takes the real McCoy on occasions.

Ex-P.T.A. Official

You can't make me believe that spanking makes a child any better. I haven't raised any of my own, but I have observed lots of neighbors. The non-spankers rip up my lawn less than the well-spanked and they both do plenty of damage.

Arabs Use War Threats to Get Aid From 2 Sides

BY JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign director

Britain now is talking tough toward Egypt.

★ ★ ★

The motives behind prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden's speech to the House of Commons last week were to lessen the danger of war between Egypt and Isreal.

The question arises, however, whether Egypt and the other Arab nations want war with Israel at this time, or at any early date.

There is a feeling among some on-the-spot reporters that Egypt and other Arab nations are doing very nicely at the moment—getting help from both East and West.

★ ★ ★

The Arabs hate Israel deeply and passionately. There is no intention to make peace voluntarily with Israel, except on impossible terms.

VERY CONVENIENT

They think that the way they are playing the political threat-of-war game, and getting aid from both sides of the street, is very convenient at the moment.

★ ★ ★

Using the flow of arms from the Soviet block, the Egyptian leaders are in a position to count on getting a long string of economic advantages over Israel. The Cairo men are working on American dread of a further Arab nationalist swing toward Moscow.

Utilizing the powerful weapon of nationalism, the Arabs have provoked the Jordanian ouster of Lt. Gen. John Bagot Glubb, a Briton who was head of the Arab Legion in Jordan and a restraint on Jordanians, who want a showdown with Israel.

The Arab leaders still have much work to do politically beause of the feuds that divide the various Arab nations.

★ ★ ★

Saudi Arabia has been a traditional enemy of Jordan and Iraq. Egypt is taking the role of major Arab spokesmen in the Middle East. Saudi Arabia and Syria have joined with Egypt in a military pact whereby an Egyptian becomes the head of a unified tri-power command.

IRAQ'S POSITION

Iraq disputes Egypt in two ways. The Baghdad government has joined a five-nation, pro-Western defense pact and has taken over its own role as a main spokesman in the Middle East. Iraq may well detest Israel but it also is very suspicious of the Egyptian government.

★ ★ ★

The Arab nations that are entwined in a a mutual program aimed to end the young state of Israel may not want war now, but the Israeli government is under heavy pressure by some party men to strike now, before the Egyptians can train the men in the arms being received from Communist-ruled Czechoslovakia.

What falls heavily on the Israeli leaders is the knowledge that Soviet-made jet bombers, based in advance Egyptian positions, could rain death in a matter of minutes on big Israeli cities.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Minister Praises Crane's Pamphlets, Used in Counseling Church Members

Rev. Ernest is a typical modern clergyman who tries to follow Christ's example of helping people with all their problems. Jesus didn't limit himself to child cases alone, for he confronted the entire gamut of human dilemmas from adultery to disease and was even crucified between two criminals.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-301: Victor B. Ernest is a versatile pastor in Lebanon, Oregon, and chairman of the radio work of the local ministerial association.

"Dr. Crane, I have followed your column for a good many years," he began.

★ ★ ★

"Several years ago you also sent me a packet of your booklets, but I have given them all away that others might be helped thereby.

"Your booklets on sex, I could use in abundance. In over 20 years of my active ministry, I have come to the conviction that at least 75 per cent of all difficulties that arise in church congregations can be traced back to a lack of proper adjustment of the sex life in the home.

"Your booklets on marriage, sex, family and the home are especially helpful.

"I have been successful in helping hold a number of families together despite the threat of divorce.

"But many couples just will not stay together, apperently for no valid reason except their selfishness, immaturity emotionally, and a fatalistic complex that they are a complete failure at marriage.

★ ★ ★

"That is true as long as they remain unwilling to submit to the discipline of change, don't you agree?"

BRAVO, CLERGYMEN

Repeatedly in this column I have cited the fact that clergymen are on their toes regarding marriage counseling.

And because of their spiritual rapport, they make ideal counselors. I have cited Rev. Ernest's letter to show that in his 20 years of dealing with church folks, he feels that 75 per cent of problems are traceable to sexual maladjustment.

Occasionally an elderly person will criticize me for being unduly frank in this psychological column.

"Dr. Crane, stick exclusively to child problems," they will remonstrate.

★ ★ ★

But that isn't what the typical newspaper reader wants. You may recall that the last U. S. Census showed the "average" American to be 30 years old, married and with two children about ready for kindergarten.

I do offer one child case per week in this daily column, but I utilize the other five days to deal with a variety of basic dilemmas, including love, marriage, personality, mental health worries, etc.

NEWSPAPER UNIVERSITY

The newspaper is your greatest educator. It has far more "students than are enrolled in our largest American university. And its job is to elevate the thinking of everybody so we can all enjoy the more abundant life.

But that goal demands specific facts. The prudish era of hiding our heads under the sand, a la the proverbial ostrich, is now outmoded.

Some 1,500 clergymen every year write to me, as Rev. Ernest has done, and are using the marriage booklets released via this newspaper.

Rev. Ernest represents the typical modern priest or minister who is counseling his parishioners in family and sex matters.

★ ★ ★

If you can find anybody who criticizes the mention of sex problems in this column, just check and see if such a person either isn't past 60, or else is out of contact with young married couples and teenagers.

I write about the common everyday problems that exist now in the typical American family. The clergy and youth leaders, Boy Scout executives, YMCA and CYO leaders know that, and thus utilize this column plus the booklets.

This feature pioneered practical psychology and still is the only column I've ever seen that dares tell the scientific truth about liquor, tobacco and sexual needs in America.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Wants Aircraft With New Look

Pentagon Official Sees Planes at Faster Speed at Higher Altitudes

CLEVELAND, Ohio (INS)—The Pentagon's chief of research today suggested a "new look" at the possibility of flying at approximately twice the altitude for which present military aircraft are built —80,000-90,000 feet.

Dr. Clifford C. Furnas, addressing the propulsion group of the institute of aeronautical sciences, said it may be possible to build planes that will fly at twice the speed of sound at great altitudes and still land and take off from short runways.

He continued: "We've tended to look on altitude as an obstacle, a barrier to be overcome, whereas actually it may be most helpful.

• • •

"I doubt if enough engineers have taken a sharp look at the question: Can we not swap some altitude for some concrete (runways)?

"What would an airplane look like if it were designed to have a normal speed only two-tenths that of sound at sea level and a speed twice that of sound at 80,000 or 90,000 feet?"

Furnas emphasized that Russia will "soon have large numbers of long-range jet aircraft capable of delivering atomic warheads on the U. S." and may be building missiles that will "fly at thousands of miles per hour with atomic warheads."

• • •

He said it will be a "tremendous task" to protect ourselves and assure victory in the unhappy event that war should occur."

Furnas, former chancellor of the University of Buffalo, became assistant defense secretary for research and development last December.

He suggested that high-altitude planes could have a substantial wing spread without seriously slowing their speed in the thin upper atmosphere.

Present high altitude planes are built with stubby wings, and consequently have to land and take off at high speeds, and need increasingly longer runways.

Police Save House in the Nick of Time

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Police got a long distance call from a man who said he thought he had left town without turning out the burner under his water heater. He told police where a key could be found and asked them to check for him.

Police found all stoves in the house burning, a water heater with no thermostat and a can of boiling water on a circulating heater in the living room.

Officers Chester Bean and Adolph McClain said they couldn't decide whether the water heater would have exploded before the heat from the stoves set fire to the house.

Gets Engine Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Continental Aviation and Engineering Corp. announced in Detroit it has a $9,312,766 Air Force contract to produce J69T9 gas turbine engines. The engines will power the T37 twin jet trainer being produced by the Cessna Aircraft Co. for the Air Trainer Command.

GEORGE'S NEWPORT'S

THE STORY OF EGGBERT — An Easter Adventure — By Walt Scott

Human Fossil Discovery May Blast Darwin Theory of Man-Ape Ancestry

NEW YORK (INS)—Anthropologists were puzzling today over the discovery of a human fossil some 10,000,000 years old which may explode Darwin's theory that man and ape had a common ancestor.

* * *

A prominent Swiss paleontologist has revealed that study of fossils found in a north Italian mine in 1872 and long believed to be an ancient ape, Oreopithecus, actually belong to a humanoid creature.

The discovery dramatically challenges the writings of Charles Darwin in the opinion of Dr. Helmut de Terra of Columbia University. Darwin theorized in the 19th century that man and ape had ancestors common to both.

The new discovery suggests that man was actually a contemporary of several ancient apes 10,000,000 years ago, and that man and apes may have no family ties whatsoever.

Dr. Johannes Hurzeler of the natural history museum at Basle related to a select group of scholars last week in New York his findings which may push back the mystery-shrouded search for the origin of man another few million years.

FOUND AT TUSCANY

The twenty-six fragments of skull and jaw found at Tuscany have both Dr. De Terra and Dr. Hurzeler convicted that they have discovered a direct ancestor of modern man and not some unknown side-branch which has long since died out.

The fragments, which have been deposited at New York's Museum of Natural History, are said to have seven man-like characteristics not found in any other ancient creatures.

The oldest known ancestors of man are the Java and Peking men who date about 600,000 years back.

The Oreopitheus Ape, which the new findings were mistakenly thought to be, is definitely not man-like since the brain case is too small, although it has other various features common to man.

Infant Boy Suffering From Bites of Rats

DETROIT (INS)—A five-month-old boy was in serious condition at Detroits' Receiving Hospital today from rat bites suffered in his home.

Police said Nathianiel Conners was bitten in bed. His mother, Marion, said she gave him a bottle at 2 a.m. and he seemed all right.

Policewomen were to check the home today.

WATERBURY, Conn. (AP)—Norman A. Lezotte, 28, was going to cross the Washington Avenue bridge when he came to it yesterday, but the bridge wasn't there and he and his car plunged 20 feet into the water.

* * *

After he climbed out of his wrecked car with cuts and bruises, he learned the bridge was washed out in the August floods.

Lezotte told police he saw no signs warning of the washout.

Police agreed there weren't any signs warning of a washout but added there was one which said: "One Way—Do Not Enter."

Nine Nights' Work Nets Martha Raye $24,000

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Red Buttons, the far-from-forgotten man of TV, does a glib m. c. 'ing job—he was excellent at a party for Joey Adams when he spotted Rocky Marciano.

★ ★ ★ ★

Rocky was the target for the other comics, too. Pat Jack E. Leonard told him, "I feel confident you'll still be champion for from anywhere to oh, 20, maybe 30 minutes." The party was in honor of Adams' 25th year in show business and his picture, "Singing in the Dark".

Martha Raye'll get $24,000 for 9 nights' work at Ben Maksik's Town & Country Club in Brooklyn starting May 11—Ben says, "These big stars always tell you they can't use any more money, but when they make a deal, they break you!"

"What do you expect to do with all that money?" I inquired, and Phyllis said, "Pay income taxes."

Minister Lauds Friendship of Southern Whites

CLEVELAND (AP) — "The finest friend a Negro has in the world," says a Negro minister indicted for boycotting buses in Montgomery, Ala., "is the Southern white man."

However, the Rev. L. Roy Bennett, president of a Negro ministerial alliance in Montgomery, added that a "substrata" element is fighting for survival and causing confusion.

The Rev. Mr. Bennett addressed a rally here yesterday where $3,274.18 was collected to aid Montgomery Negroes in their legal battles.

"All we want is a dime's worth of ride for 10 cents," he said, adding that "we're going to fight until we can sit down where we darn please."

U. of M. Student Body May Reach 40,000

DETROIT (INS)—University of Michigan officials explained on a recorded television program yesterday that they eventually expect a student body of 40,000 and are seeking $111 million for a five-year expansion program.

U. of M. president Harlan H. Hatcher said:

"Like our forefathers, we must see that we have that 'little more' at the University of Michigan, the difference between mediocrity and distinction."

Bulganin, Kruschev Arrive in England April 18; Visit Extended to Ten Days

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khruschev will arrive April 18 for their much-discussed trip to Britain. They will stay 10 days, two days longer than was originally planned.

Even as the Foreign Office announcement was issued, loudspeaker vans toured London blaring "Keep the Red Beasts out." The protest was organized by the nonparty League of Empire Loyalists, which said it also plans a march on the House of Commons.

Bulganin and Khrushchev will hold political talks with Prime Minister Eden, be received by Queen Elizabeth II and tour farms and industrial plants.

Neither the Foreign Office nor the Soviet Embassy would say how 'B and K"—as the British call them—would travel.

But there has been speculation they will sail up the Thames River in a Russian cruiser to be greeted by Eden at Westminster pier, in the shadow of the House of Commons.

The Foreign Office announcement made clear that Khrushchev was invited as a member of the Presidium of the Soviet Parliament rather than as first secretary of the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee.

It said:

"On July 27, 1955, the Prime Minister announced in the House of Commons that Mr. Bulganin, the chairman of the Council of Ministers of the U.S.S.R., and Mr. Khrushchev, a member of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet of the U.S.S.R., had accepted his invitation to visit the United Kingdom in the spring of 1956.

* * *

"The Soviet leaders will be arriving in the United Kingdom on April 18, and will stay for 10 days, leaving on April 27. The detailed program for the visit will be announced in due course."

The Moscow radio broke into all its programs to make an identical announcement.

Eden gave Bulganin and Khrushchev their invitation during last year's Big Four summit talks at Geneva, when hopes of an end to the cold war ran high.

Later the Russian leaders upset Britain with a stream of attacks on her colonial policies during their South Asian tour. Lately, however, these attacks have ended and Moscow broadcasts to Britain have been unusually diplomatic in tone.

No British or Soviet official in London would say why the visit has been extended. Khrushchev has, however, let it be known through diplomatic channels he wants to see the industrial north of Britain and that would cut into time available for talks in London.

Georgi Malenkov, ex-premier who now is minister of power stations, is due in London next Thursday to look over the British electricity industry for a three-week visit at the head of a Soviet delegation. He is scheduled to return to Moscow a few days before Bulganin and Khrushchev get here.

* * *

The Eden government has readied elaborate security plans to protect all three Soviet leaders and spare them too much embarrassment from possible protests.

Malcolm Muggeridge, a prominent broadcaster and editor of Punch magazine who has tried to organize a mass meeting against the Bulganin and Khrushchev visit has failed to get a hall. Police have been ordered to keep an eye on exiles from Communist satellites who might stage demonstrations.

Under present plans Bulganin and Khrushchev will visit Queen Elizabeth at Windsor Castle and perhaps stay there as overnight guests.

They will visit the House of Commons and will be honor guests of the lord mayor of London at the centuries-old Guildhall.

Racial Question May Cause New 3rd Rebel Party

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several Southern senators held open today the possibility of a third party movement if the Democratic National Convention should commit the party firmly in favor of school integration.

* * *

Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-SC), who led the Democratic States Rights party which captured four Dixie states in 1948, said he knows of no third party move at this time.

"But I have enlisted with the South Carolina Democratic party and if any dispute arises with the national party organization, I will be with the South Carolina Democratic party," he said.

Another Southern senator predicted Dixie delegates will walk out of the convention if it endorses the use of force to bring about school integration.

* * *

Sen. Russell (D-Ga) voiced the opinion that what happens in the way of any third party move "will depend on what happens at the convention, what kind of a platform it writes and what candidate it nominates."

County Mayo, Eire, plans to include a room fitted for medical and dental treatment in any new schools built there.

Last Jewish DP Camp to Close

Residents Expected to Emigrate or Settle in Germany Privately

PARIS (INS)—The last Jewish displaced persons camp in Europe will soon close down.

* * *

Officials said that Camp Foehrenwald, near Munich in Germany, will be dismantled in the next few months. Its 781 residents are expected to emigrate or settle privately in Germany.

Forehrenwald is the last of 66 Jewish DP camps, that reached a peak population of 250,000 in 1947.

"We embarked upon one of the greatest emigration jobs of any private agency in history," said Charles H. Jordan, acting director-general of the American Joint Distribution Committee. "We [illegible] these victims of Nazism to table countries in every part of the world—more than 100,000 to Israel alone."

Foehrenwald became the only Jewish DP camp in Germany in 1951 when the remaining DPs in other camps were transferred there. It had 1,400 "hard core" residents then.

"They could not be treated like the thousands before them who were part of the mass migration plan," Jordan said. "They were different. The years of incarceration, forced labor and torture had left damaging marks upon their bodies and upon their minds. They were the ones with TB, with heart ailments, with physical handicaps, with everlasting aches and pains and tortured minds."

* * *

The AJDC and the German government set up special funds to provide for these problem DPs.

The Money Tree

Wouldn't you like to have a money tree from which to pick nickels and dimes?

The idea that if you plant money it will grow is very old, although modern savings banks have an even better idea because money in the bank grows by drawing interest.

An old Hungarian used to tell his nieces that if they planted pennies they would grow into money trees. The older ones laughed but Ilona dreamed she had a fine tree covered with gold coins. Next morning she got up early and planted a penny. In a few days a funny little tree began to grow there and Ilona watched eagerly for the first coins.

The money tree flourished, and though no money appeared on it, some golden colored fruit did. Later, Ilona married a king's son, and had all the treasure she needed. Both felt the money tree had borne golden fruit.

Color this picture, paste it on cardboard, and cut out the parts carefully. Fasten the separate arm behind the shoulder with a brass fastener or a bent pin through the indicated holes, and then Ilona can swing her watering can over her money tree. You can put money on the tree by cutting bits of silver and gold paper and pasting them here and there.

Fold the picture forward down the center and it will stand up.

Have you an idea as good as this for "Junior Editors"? It may bring you $10. Mail it in care of this paper. It cannot be acknowledged. In case of duplication, the first idea will be accepted.

'Shrill' Commies Greet Dulles

Secretary of State in Indonesia Hears Anti-SEATO Cries

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — A dozen young Communists shrilled anti-SEATO slogans to greet Secretary of State Dulles when he landed here today. But most of Indonesia's 80 million people appeared indifferent to the American diplomat's visit.

During his 24-hour stopover Dulles planned to confer with President Soekarno. His program does not include a visit with Premier-designate Ali Sastroamidjojo.

Sastroamidjojo, former ambassador to Washington, headed a pro-Communist government for two years until he was ousted last July.

Soekarno called on him to form a new cabinet after last fall's first popular election in which the Communists gained considerable strength in Parliament.

Eleven jeering youths and one girl were arrested by police when they began demonstrating as Dulles stepped out of his plane.

As the secretary's automobile pulled away from the airport, one of several hundred spectators hurled a piece of purple paper at it. A policeman who threatened the paper thrower with his gun butt was restrained by a superior officer. Police said later the paper carried the slogan "Destroy SEATO."

* * *

Dulles gave no sign of hearing the slogan shouters as he walked into the airport and was greeted by outgoing Foreign Minister Anak Agung Gde Agung.

The secretary flew here from Ceylon, where he told newsmen collective security pacts are as vital to countries as police and fire departments are to communities.

Hollywood World Awaits Fateful Day of March 21

Editor's Note: The most sought after honors Hollywood can bestow—the annual "Oscars"—will be announced March 21. Film fans will see broad-smiling or tearfully-happy pictures of the winners in their newspapers or watch the performers on TV. But behind the awards there have been great, dramatic, human stories of triumph and tragedy through the years. Only Louella O. Parsons, "First Lady of Hollywood," friend and confidente of filmdom's great for more than a quarter of a century, could tell these real-life stories in full, intimate detail. This is the first of seven articles.

BY LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor, INS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — With March 21 a mere flip of the calendar away, the world that is Hollywood and its millions and millions of fans prepare for the 1956 presentation of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences Awards to the finest artists and artisans of the year 1955.

To be less fancy—the race for the Oscar is on!

Ever since the first event was held in the Roosevelt Hotel in Los Angeles in 1928 (for the '27 performances) up to and including curtain time this year at the Pantages Theater in Hollywood, this has been a time of ecstasy and heartache, pain and triumph, victory and defeat for the professional people of movietown.

Above all other awards this means the most. It means the most because "it is the tribute of our own people." Even the recent audience award poll where the public voted cannot supplant the brilliant triumph of being voted "the best" by fellow players and technicians.

In addition to the highly personal thrill, winning the Oscar is touted in the business to add several million dollars in "return playing dates" to the winning picture.

To an actor it has sometimes meant the difference between mediocrity or the dizzy height of fame in a new lease on life, as witness Frank Sinatra's capture of "Best Support" in "From Here to Eternity." It came at a time when he definitely was on the downgrade.

Perversely, winning the Oscar has been the kiss of death to several great artists — they happily clutched the little gold statuette to a palpitating chest and then walked off the stage straight down the ladder to movie oblivion. (I will have much more to say about this Oscar "jinx" in future articles in this series.)

HOTTEST RACE

But, I can and do say right here that this year's race promises to be one of the hottest ever to reach final contention.

Why? Because, spurred by a concerted determination to win audiences away from the goblin TV sets and back into movie theaters, Hollywood has thrown its all-out best at the world—and this best has been fine, indeed. Is it any wonder that the winning of the prizes this year will be fuller and richer than ever and that already the heat of the race is scorching?

Here is a list of the competing pictures: "Marty," "Mister Roberts," "Picnic," "Rose Tattoo" and "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing."

Will the late and great James Dean win for "East of Eden?" Or will "Best Actor" honors be captured by Ernest Borgnine in "Marty," Frank Sinatra in the "Man With the Golden Arm," James Cagney in "Love Me or Leave Me," or Spencer Tracy in "Bad Day at Black Rock?"

Among outstanding performances by women we have Anna Magnani in "The Rose Tattoo," Susan Hayward in "I'll Cry Tomorrow," Katharine Hepburn in "Summertime," Jennifer Jones in "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing" and Eleanor Parker in "Interrupted Melody."

FATEFUL ANSWER

How is it possible to choose? The decision must and will be made, as Hollywood in its best diamond (or rhinestone) bib and mink tucker awaits the fateful answer on the night of March 21.

But the years have seen many memorable and unforgettable Oscar nights.

The first academy award I ever attended was the first ever held in 1928 at the Roosevelt Hotel. Previously, my work had kept me in New York. But, in 1926 when I resumed my duties after a year's leave of absence due to illness, I was sent to Hollywood. So both Oscar and Louella were new in Hollywood for the industry's first "big night."

I shall never forget my own personal preparations, the thrill of shopping for my gown, the last minute visit to the beauty parlor, the traffic jam at the Roosevelt Hotel as the car crawled along, the fans waving and shouting. You could almost hear the beating of hearts as we settled in our seats and the parade of the very first winners began.

The "Best Picture" for 1927 was "Wings."

The winning actress: Janet Gaynor in "Seventh Heaven."

The best actor: Emil Jannings for "The Way of All Flesh."

The immediate reaction of all recipients was to burts into tears! Looking back warmly and with amusement on the first Academy Award, it looked as if Hollywood's "happiest" night was to be its "wettest." Winners have been weeping happily ever since.

'FATE' OF WINNERS

Looking back over the intervening 28 years it is interesting to review the "fate" of the original winners.

To this day "Wings" is a great epic of the air. Every so often it is re-issued and still stands up victoriously with the best of the many air dramas that were to follow. "Wings" was the trailblazer—and still one of the best.

No one knew it at the time, but Janet Gaynor—one of the biggest of the box office stars—stood at the very peak the night she won her Oscar. She continued as a star with the old Fox Company for several years more but the little girl with the big eyes had reached her height—and was tapering off her really wonderful career the night she won her Oscar.

Janet later married famed designer Adrian and has been very happy in her private life in retirement.

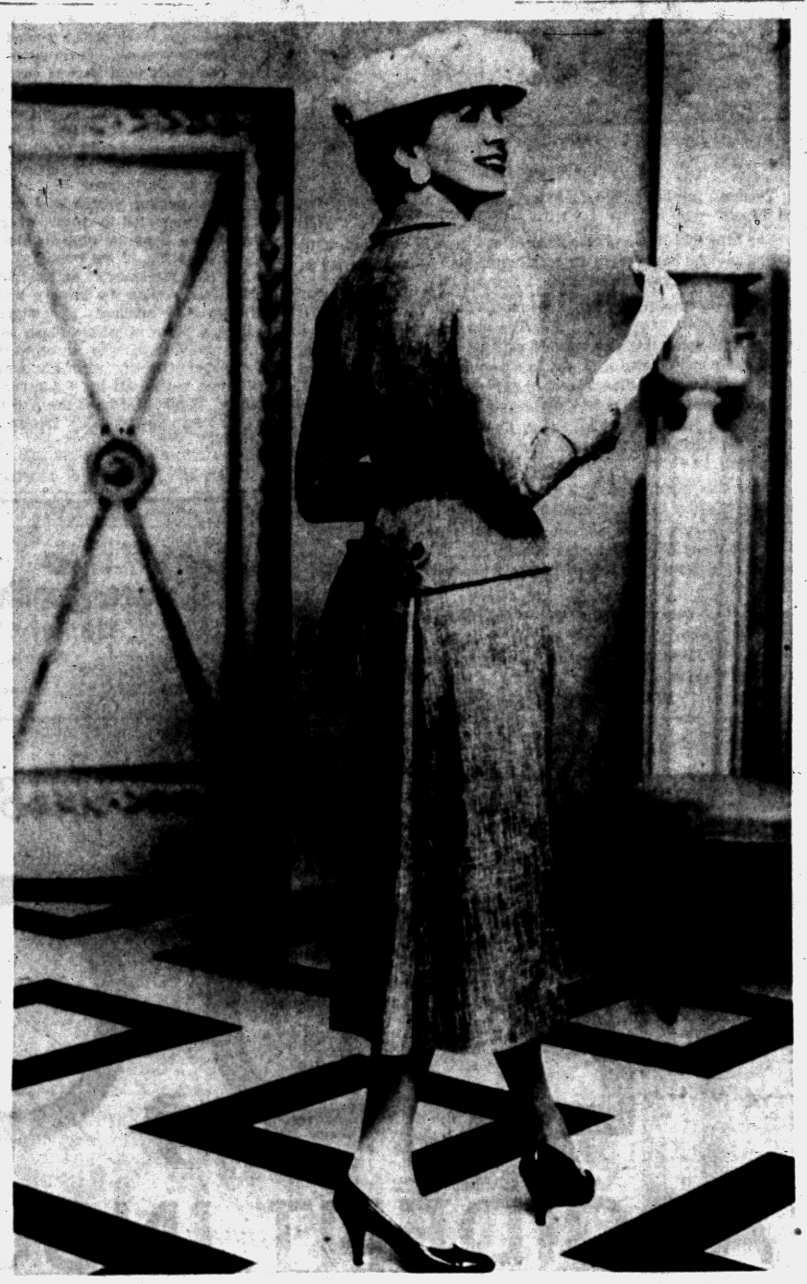
As for Emil Jannings—he returned to his native Germany soon after "The Way of All Flesh," taking his Oscar with him, never again to return to these shores. World War II came along to keep Emil within the bounds of his native land, and his fellow workers in the U. S., the American actors who had voted him their greatest tribute, became his technical "enemies."

* * *

Was the fate of Janet and Emil a sort of forerunner that the winning of an Oscar could be a jinx?

Other award nights picked with drama and comedy lay ahead.

Adele Simpson designed this silk costume in beige and brown printed surah for her spring collection. The straight and narrow jacket is hiplength with a tidy collar at the high closing. A soft, self-bow accents the flatteringly shaped neckline of the slender dress.



Lesur's crosshatch tweed, a soft-textured blend of wool with hair and cotton, is used in a spring dressmaker suit by Anna Miller. The jacket is smoothly fitted with self detail in back accented by buttons. The skirt is slim in front, paneled in back.

Maurice Renter designed this suit of Lesur lightweight worsted. The suit has a bloused panel back underlined by a self belt that is caught by buttons in front. The collared neckline is cut flatteringly low, front and back.

Speaking of her work Mrs. McCurry stated that many of the children have a history of rejection and deprivation of love and affection, with severe emotional and mental illness following. She described some methods of treatment given those patients at the hospital and told of encouraging evidences of improvement.

In concluding the speaker commended the volunteer workers for their assistance in the program.

The theme for the luncheon meeting was "Happy Children for a Happy America," following the general objective of Delta Kappa Gamma for improvement of teaching. Songs appropriate to the theme were chosen for community singing under the direction of Mrs. Harold Laudenslager.

Gertrude Overton served as toastmistress and Vera Mae Adams, president of Xi Chapter, expressed a birthday wish to the guests.

Arrangements for the affair were made by Miss Overton assisted by Virginia Luther and Mrs. F. Maynard Stephens.

Mayor Congratulates Camp Fire Girls

Mayor Donaldson congratulated the Camp Fire Girls' organization on the event of their 46th birthday week, as a group which anyone should be proud to serve. The mayor stated, "The Camp Fire Girls come to the aid of the public on every conceivable occasion. They make diapers for the needlework guild, work for the Red Cross, work for the United Fund, usher for local festivities, make paper bags and favors for hospitals, Christmas carol at the infirmary, make cancer pads, to mention just a few things. Now the public can come to the aid of the Camp Fire Girls.

"Many girls are on the outside looking at the fun and friendship that is Camp Fire, beacuse a lack of adult volunteers prohibits an immediate expansion of the program. This is where grownups come in. No particular skill is requisite for a leader, committee member or board member of Camp Fire Girls. Leaders need assistants and sponsors to help with projects or transportation.

"Let's take our cue from the Camp Fire Girls and "give service" to ensure the continuing growth of this worthy organization. Be friendly . . . Make friends . . . Join the Camp Fire Girls."

Tantrums Earn Terror, Not Love

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Some 50 years ago, Mrs. Emily K., then a child of 7, had a spectacular tantrum.

* * *

Ignoring her protests, her mother had tied her best hair ribbon around her younger sister's curls. Emily gave a piercing shriek.

Clutching her throat as though she were strangling, she fell to the floor, twitched once or twice with dramatic convulsiveness — and pretended to lose consciousness.

She got the ribbon back. Her mother, hastily returning it, fell on her knees; and begging to be released from the terror Emily was inflicting on her, cried, "Shall I get Dr. White? Where does it hurt? Just open your eyes . . ."

* * *

Was Emily's tantrum successful? Did it get her what she wanted?

WANTED LOVE

No. She was not trying to recover her hair ribbon. What she wanted as a displaced older sister that she could trust. The ribbon was wanted, not for itself, but as evidence of reaffirmed love.

* * *

But her tantrum aroused terror, not love. All it did was fill her mother with guilty fear she would be blamed if anything were seriously wrong. So the tantrum was a dreadful failure.

Unfortunately, Emily has never realized this.

Now, in her 60s, she still seeks love from her important people by terrorizing them.

If her married son cuts short the Sunday visit she regards as her possession, she begins to complain of what she calls her "weakness."

Pretending loss of breath as she once pretended loss of consciousness, she'll whisper, "I'm all right; don't mind me" — and send her son home to his children, depressed by his wicked desire to get away from her.

TRIP POSTPONED

Her unmarried daughter, a teacher, has again postponed the summer trip to Europe she's been planning for five years. Emily didn't want her to have it.

Shrieking for her daughter's presence as she once shrieked for her hair ribbon, she threatened to die if her daughter left her—and collapsing on the sofa, assumed the appearance of one about to faint.

Her daughter will veto her trip. Emily will recover ownership of her child as she did of her ribbon.

But at the cost of the love she's been seeking all her life; at the price of terror and secret recoil.

Paris Says Elegant Hats Are Fashion 'Must' in '56

PARIS (INS) — There's no doubt about it — you need a hat to be elegant in 1956.

* * *

Among the various mushroom, bucket, cheese-bell, cushion and nightcap shaped Paris chapeaux seen in the famous fashion houses, white hats are the most flattering of all. And many Parisiennes will blossom out in a white felt or pique hat to celebrate spring.

Balmain, Patou, Fath, Desses and other designers have shown white hats which look new since they are larger, have high crowns, real brims and are worn straight and well forward.

Desses shows neat white hats which are only slightly wider than the head. One in white grosgrain looks like a beret.

Balmain shows wide-brimmed cloche hats in white felt or fine straw. Patou has some white hats that look like reversed large flower-pots worn straight and pulled down to the eyebrows. He trims them with jewel-clips above the left eyebrow.

White hats can also be "dressed-up" to look different and personal. Milliner Denise Chabaud, for instance, suggests necklaces to encircle hats instead of ribbons. A coral necklace will look very smart and modish on a white hat. Green or topaz colored beads will also be chic and Parisian.

Milliner Svend thinks a young girl might trim a white pique beret with her university crest or the crest of the college of her boyfriend.

Berean Class Meets at McNutt Home

Mr. and Mrs. Omar McNutt entertained members of the Berean Fellowship Class of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church in their home on Neome drive Friday evening.

Refreshments were served following the meeting by members of the Tanner group.

Mom-to-Be Should Quit Bridal Party

She Will Mess Up Whole Appearance of Wedding

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter comes from the mother of a bride-to-be: "At the time my daughter's engagement was announced, which was about six months ago, she asked a close friend of hers to be matron of honor at her wedding.

"Shortly afterwards she learned that this friend was going to have a baby. My daughter thought that she would drop out of the wedding party on her own accord but she hasn't said a word and evidently still intends to take part.

"It will be quite obvious by that time and my daughter thinks her appearance will be despoiling to the wedding picture. Would it be wrong for my daughter to ask her to step out? This is a rather ticklish situation and we would very much appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: I am astonished at this mother-to-be's seeming unawareness of what her appearance must at this time be, and it is puzzling to understand why she has not already told your daughter that she cannot take part in the wedding. Unpleasant as it may be, she will have to be told that she cannot spoil the whole picture of the wedding.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it correct for men to wear flowers in their buttonhole on any occasion, or is it a suitable embellishment for men only at a wedding?"

Answer: A single flower is not improper any time he chooses to wear one. Some men wear one almost always. However, real boutonnieres are worn only on formal occasions. White ones are really "a must" for the men of the bridal party.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I think that when someone recognizes me on the street, even if I don't know who the person is, I should return the greeting. My wife thinks not. Which one is correct?"

Answer: You are correct. There is no rudeness greater than "cutting" someone who bows to you no matter who you are or who bows.

Pair Indulges in One Argument Too Many

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I went steady with a boy for almost a year. We were deeply in love and neither of us ever thought of dating anyone else.

"We did argue quite often. We thought arguing was the best way to get to know each other, really. But I guess one argument was too big, and now we've broken up.

"The thing that gets me is that already he is going steady with someone else. I still love him, and don't believe he could stop loving me.

"Can true love die? Is there any way a girl can fight for the man she loves?"

Answer: To a teenage girl, a year of going steady can seem like forever. The world began when he first paid attention to her. She hadn't lived before she started to love him. The weeks and months together changed her into what she thought he wanted her to be.

Her thoughts, her actions, her clothes, her hairdo, her friends, her habits were chosen to suit him. Her only real life centered around him. Small wonder she's lost when he's gone.

You're not only lost — but bewildered. How could he stop loving you after all you'd done to please him? Why, he practically created the personality you see reflected in the mirror. How could he suddenly stop being pleased with his handiwork? How could he possibly want to go with some other girl?

Then, those arguments. Arguing for its own sake—an intellectual exercise — can be an entertaining battle of wit and words. But it becomes something else when emotions get involved.

Both of you allowed the game to get out of hand. You hoped that pointing out the differences in your points of view would somehow draw you closer together.

You both hoped that, by stubbornly sticking to an opinion, the other eventually would be persuaded to see the light. But what you accomplished was to emphasize your differences and exaggerate their importance.

Your boy friend undobutedly concluded that you two weren't congenial after all. The bickering and fault-finding indicated a lack of wholehearted approval. He wanted peace and quiet with a girl who liked him just as he was. And that's what he has found.

Can you be persuaded to consider the chapter closed, with a big lesson learned? If you must get in touch with him, call him cheerfully and gaily to find out what you fought about that last time.

Tell him that you can't remember for the life of you. But you can remember a lot of nice things about him, and won't he come around to see you one of these days?

If he says he can't or won't, give up the fight. And start writing a new chapter for yourself.

Keep Tots' Togs Durable, Simple

The mother who feels she's caught up on keeping her kids pretty or handsome and keeping their clothes in order just doesn't exist.

A hole in the bottom of a pocket is mended just in time to get out the machine again to repair a seam rip. The little sweaters are washed and blocked just in time for a bout with finger paints at school.

First key to the situation is to exercise great economy on occasions demanding full dress of the child. Lay in a supply of cotton smocks or old men's shirts. Let them wear dungarees and shirts for play in the dirt.

Don't frustrate yourself and trammel the kids by dressing them to the teeth

Of chief inportance in complexion care is the proper selection of name brand cosmetics and the correct shade for different skin coloring.

Red Gelatin Adds Color to Cake

Mrs. Terry Thinks Cherry Is Best to Marbleize Batter

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Here's a marble cake that's different. Some of you readers may have used this recipe years ago and will be glad to have a new copy of it. The addition of a small amount of fruit flavored gelatin to color the batter used for marbling is the unusual feature of the cake.

Mrs. Harry Terry is today's cook. She is an experienced seamstress who sews for herself and, at times, others. She enjoys knitting also. Her family includes a boy and a girl.

Exercise Will Reduce Hips

Like the man who discovers they're making steps steeper each year, many teen-agers discover they're making Easter suits skimpier in the skirt each year.

* * *

One gal ruefully remarked that she obviously needed a 16 skirt and a 14 jacket to be properly fitted. It may be partially the suit—they're skinnier than ever this year—but it's also mighty possible that the hips are getting a little hippier.

A sound, well-balanced weight-losing diet helps hold the line, but lots of teen-agers find that the weight rolls off the waistline while the hips retain their bulk. This makes it even harder to find a suit to fit without alterations.

Diet coupled with exercise for the hips can cause reduction.

Here are some helps. Hip walking is a good one. Sit on the floor with your legs straight in front of you. Cross your arms over your chest. Then, by shifting weight from side to side, "walk" forward across the room and back.

Another: lie on your back on the floor, with your legs tucked up toward your chest and your arms extended straight from the shoulder on the floor. Extend both knees up and to the side until they touch one elbow.

Then roll them across your chest and touch the other elbow. Then straighten out your legs and put them gently on the floor. Repeat, but touch the elbows in opposite order.

* * *

This one is hard work, so take it easy. Remember that if you're doing it correctly, however slowly, you'll get a feeling that the flesh between the bones and the floor is being reduced.

Classic simplicity, height in headdress, uncluttered contour (or maybe the doll silhouette) for the fine-boned, pretty bride.

The petite doll-like bride, if she chooses, can look like a bouffant doll. Or she can have sophisticated slimness in the classic simplicity of satin. It depends entirely which type makes you feel like yourself.

She Finds That Specializing Pays

By ANNE HEYWOOD

This is the age of specialization, as I keep repeating, and the woman who wants to make money at home had best remember it.

* * *

If you want to have the world beat a path to your door, with money clutched in its hand, you have to make one thing which is out of the ordinary—not lots and lots of miscellaneous things.

Mrs. T., like many women, didn't believe it at first.

"I love making artificial flowers," she told me, "and, if I say so myself, I make beautiful ones. I use the most fabulous materials, so they really look like the real flower.

* * *

"For a long time, I tried to sell them but without much real success. Finally, I decided the world wasn't buying any artificial flowers and gave up.

KEPT AS HOBBY

"But I did keep it as a hobby, especially doing table arrangements and centerpieces for our woman's club.

* * *

"We have four fancy luncheons a year—one at Christmas, one at Valentine's Day, one at Easter and one at Thanksgiving. I always do the flower arrangements, using my own artificial flowers.

"Of course, I use the colors and themes of the holiday involved and they do turn out beautifully.

"Occasionally," she continued, "one of the members would ask me to make a bunch of my flowers for a holiday centerpiece for her home. I did it happily.

"They always insisted on paying for the materials and a little extra for profit.

DEMAND GREW

"Little by little, the demand grew, until I began making them up in advance. But I made them only for those four holidays.

* * *

"After a while, I wrapped the arrangement in an attractive box with cellophane at the top and set a price on them. I gave some to the church fair. Finally, a gift shop became interested in them.

"Now," she concluded, "I have a whole lot of advance orders before each holiday. My Christmas flowers had 73 takers and the advance orders for the Easter centerpieces are enormous.

"So, I guess it does pay to specialize. In fact, I turn down all offers to handle miscellaneous orders and devote all my time to my four 'specials'."

Members gathered at the South Avery road home of Mrs. Robert Field. Mrs. George Alexander was also a guest and gave the devotions on the topic, "The Four Marys" and also read the Easter story. Mrs. Lester McClellan and Mrs. Keith Johnston was cohostsses.

The Clara Swain Unit met with Mrs. Mary Martin of West Ann Arbor avenue for an afternoon meeting. Mrs. Sue Long read an article on Alaska and devotions were given by Mrs. Nellie Presnell.

Mrs. John Mulder entertained members of Ida Kahn Unit at her home on Mary Day avenue. Paul Jolly, Gail Sedrich and Spencer Briney, representatives of the MYF were guests and told about their trip to the United Nations-Washington Seminar. Mrs. Mulder led the devotions. Mrs. H. F. Kendricks, Mrs. Merle Smith and Mrs. Vernon Schwaninger were cohostesses.

* * *

A flower demonstration was given members of the Lois Parker Unit by Mrs. Josephine James. The group met with Mrs. James Gilchrist of Avondale road for a dessert luncheon. Mrs. Glenn Behler and Mrs. W. E. Ryan assisted the hostess. Mrs. George Alexander gave devotions on "The Four Marys."

Fifteen members of the Susannah Wesley Unit were present for a school girl luncheon at the home of Mrs. Carl Gifford of Lexington place. Mrs. Cora Martin assisted the hostess. Mrs. Percy Latimer gave the devotions and Mrs. John Thors Jr. reviewed a chapter of "Peaces in the Heart."

'Unfinicky' Ike Eats What's Set Before Him

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—At the dinner table, President Dwight D. Eisenhower is likely the least "finicky" gent, as grandma would have said, in the United States. His initials, D.D.E., might in fact stand for "decidedly democratic eater"—no political inference intended.

"His favorite during the war, for instance, was lamb stew, of all things," says John Schwartz, one of Ike's chefs from Potsdam to Paris and back. "But you think he will tell us? No, he will not, because he will eat anything you set before him.

"I have to overhear him talking to Mr. Churchill one night, confidentially, about foods he misses back home, to know he likes lamb stew. We look all over Germany to find some lamb—but he never would have asked us to, not him.

"You give him beans, he's grateful."

Schwartz — formerly Sgt. Schwartz, who planned and executed the dinners for VIPs (very important persons throughout Europe—cannot say the same for the culinary tastes of some other Army officers, congressmen and European crowned heads.

ALWAYS GRIPING

"There was one British field marshal who I could give up easily. He could complain about filet mignon. You know what filet mignon means in the war? And he could complain about filet mignon."

John shook his closely cropped head mournfully and "tsk-ed."

A German-born American who once was chief of waiters at the Waldorf-Astoria, Schwartz now owns and operates a restaurant called "Headquarters," which was originally intended to be a meet-and-eat spot for high military brass he catered to during the years from 1942 to '45.

Ike, Gen. Omar Bradley, the late Gen. "Hap" Arnold, Jimmy Doolittle and Mark Clark were all customers during the early days of Headquarters in 1946 and '47, when Schwartz was co-owner with another famed chef for the President, Marty Snyder. Six years ago Snyder sold out, and John was boss of the brass.

"But a general can come, a President cannot," so he is content to serve tourists and theatergoers with a lavish assortment of entrees, cheesecakes and memories.

Around the walls are photographic murals of the folks he served during the war—Dowager Queen Mary, the Duke of Windsor, Harry S. Truman, Winston Churchill, Herbert Hoover, Queen Wilhelmina and generals of various prestige.

WOLFING IT DOWN

The photographic piece de resistance is of Eisenhower wolfing Schwartz's peacetime specialty, strawberry cheesecake. His wartime specialty, which the late Queen Mary "went mad for" (note: In a reserved way), was a buttercream sponge.

Schwartz likes to sit with a customer now and offer him the famous VIP cocktail he invented: Two parts pineapple juice, one part vodka, a dash of Cointreau. "Those were the days," he recalls dreamily, "when the Russians had good spirits. They shared them with us."

It was at the Potsdam state dinner that Sgt. Schwartz feels he put out his most supreme gustatorial effort in behalf of Ike, President Truman, Winston Churchill and Joseph Stalin. His eyes turn hungry, just living it over.

"We have caviar we get from the Russians, consomme vermicelli, filet, roast potatoes, asparagus with Hollandaise, mixed green salad, ice cream and buttercream sponge cake. It was," he adds touched by his own memories, "triumph. All headaches were wiped away."

Sometimes, in his 10-year-old restaurant, John is faced by a former GI customer who says, "Why did you serve all the good food to the generals? Don't the enlisted men count?" This makes him mad.

"The food was basically the one and same," he says grinning, "only you got your tomatoes stewed and the generals got their tomatoes broiled. That's the honest to realistic truth."

Bob Considine Says:

Plight of Our Aged Attracts New Attention

PALM BEACH, Fla. (INS)—The Eskimos are said to rid themselves of their aged by placing the offending oldster on an ice floe and casting him-her adrift to die.

* * *

We are sometimes as pitiless and frequently as thoughtless with our senior citizens.

But the ever-increasing millions of Americans of advanced age are not entirely forgotten.

They and the problem are represent in a society whose retirement laws have failed woefully to keep pace with the advances in life expectancy are the concern these days of a meeting in Palm Beach of a score of great men of chemistry, sociology, medicine and philosophy.

"The expectancy of life in the U.S. now has reached 70 years, twice the average span of life in George Washington's time," says Dr. Charles Sperti, key figure in the expanding work of the American Society for the Aged.

"But we haven't learned to cope with or understand what better living conditions, better understanding of physical activities, the wonder drugs, and dieting have done to add years to our lives. We can still generate a lot more interest in an orphanage than in a home for the old."

REMARKABLE SOUL

Dr. Sperti is a remarkable soul who heads Cincinnati's Institutum Divi Thomae, a research center working on cancer and other diseases. His work in retarding or killing the enzyme (rottening) action in foods has won him great fame.

* * *

His process of irradiating fresh orange and grapefruit juice, enabling it to retain its freshly squeezed taste and vitamins for a month after it is placed under ordinary refrigeration, has brought him financial awards which he devotes to such work as his current study of our aged people.

Dr. Sperti has lined up an impressive and varied group to talk out the problem of our aged, including philanthropist Frank Hale, labor leader George Meany, Mary Pickford, several Nobel Prize winners, and retired professors.

"Something seems basically wrong with a system that hails a professor on June 30, gives him a fine office and assistants to work with, and on July 1 says he's no longer fit to do his job," Dr. Sperti protests. "One day, every door has a welcome sign on it. The next day he is a bum."

* * *

At Emeritus House in Palm Beach, retired professors of note are invited to spend time in pleasant surroundings, continuing their interrupted research or embarking on new seas.

Prof. Ernest Burgess, formerly of the University of Chicago, is busy at Emeritus House on a book about the American family. Dr. Sperti hopes that some day he can offer permanent residence at Emeritus House.

AIM SUMMED UP

His aim toward alleviating the problem of the aged was summed up as (1) make the public more conscious that such a problem exists, and (2) improve the lot of the aged.

* * *

The matter, of course, is being attacked from many sides and by many other good people. The Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of New York operates 10 homes and four neighborhood day care centers for the aged.

Yesterday many in their 80s and 90s exhibited and modeled their new found skills in arts, ceramics, dressmaking, millinery crafts and so forth.

Dr. Bruno Furst, memory training authority and director of the School of Memory and Concentration, in New York's Steinway Hall, comes forth with a kind word about the age-old complaint (on the part of thoughtless younger people) that an old person's memory invariably declines.

Not necessarily so, the doctor says. His studies show that the average person's learning ability reaches its peak at 20 and drops off about 15 per cent around 45.

After that it may or may not decline. It depends largely on the person's becoming less interested. Actually, he says, the mature mind is capable of functioning very efficiently because it has such an abundance of memories to which to relate new facts.

One of his women students, an 85-year-old senior citizen, rates even with youngsters in the class.

Dedication Scheduled

MARSHALL (AP) — Calhoun County's new courthouse and jail at Marshall will be dedicated Saturday, April 7. State officials, including Gov. G. Mennen Williams, will be invited to attend the ceremonies.

Executive Quits Post

SAGINAW (AP) — Clifford W. Stuart, president and director of Jackson & Church Co., manufacturers of heating and engineering equipment, has resigned after five years as head of the concern. He said he had no immediate plans.

Science Develops New Tablet:

Relieves Painful Monthly Cramps For 3 out of 4 Women Tested! Gives Greater Relief Than Aspirin!

Boston, Mass. (Special)—New promise of relief for women who suffer tortures of monthly cramps and nervous tension is found in an amazing new tablet . . . developed especially to relieve this female discomfort. It offers greater relief than aspirin during that distressing period each month!

Doctors report remarkable results. For 3 out of 4 women tested, pain and cramps were stopped or strikingly relieved. Even on the first day, many had no nagging headaches, no backaches or other functionally-caused distress . . . were also less jittery the trying week before their period!

The new tablet contains not just one or two ingredients but a unique combination of special medicines. That's why this new discovery offers more relief than plain aspirin! Unlike such "general-purpose" remedies, it acts on the cause of distress. Has amazing power to calm uterine contractions, also works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system.

Called "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets," the formula was developed by the world's largest manufacturer devoted exclusively to relief of women's ailments! Easy-to-take new Pinkham's Tablets are now available at all drug stores without a prescription.

So don't suffer needlessly. Take Pinkham's Tablets yourself. See if you don't feel worlds better this very month. See if you don't escape much of the irritability and discomfort—both before and during those "difficult days." (For liquid form . . . ask for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

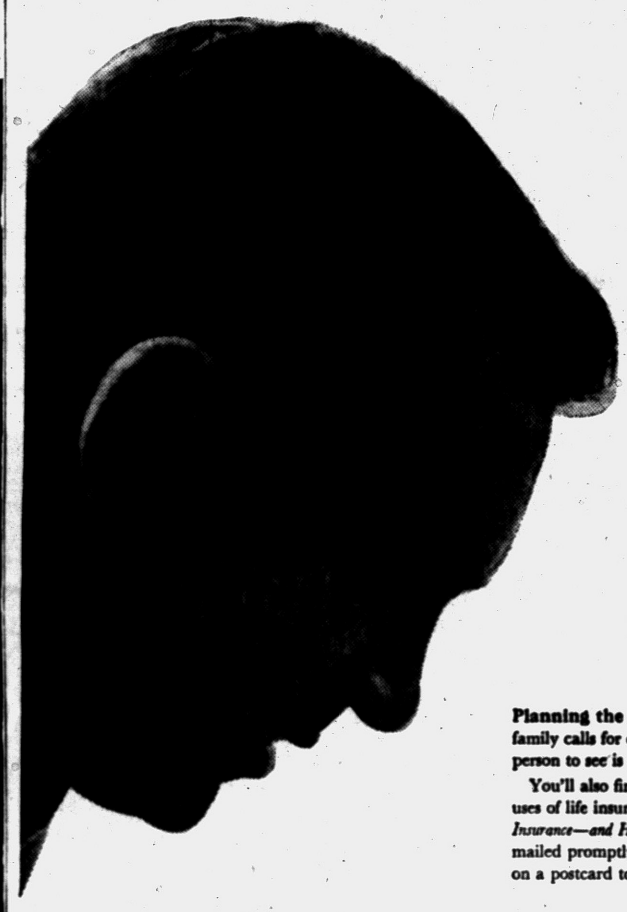
When someone's counting on you . . .

you can count on life insurance



You probably have a secret place in your heart where you store your dreams for your children. These are hopes that are brighter . . . responsibilities that are lighter . . . because you own life insurance.

The dollars you put into life insurance are safe, productive dollars. When a life insurance company puts your money to work, its first consideration is safety.

The companies now have invested $90¾ billions for their 103 million policyholders. This money is in selected securities of business and industry, government bonds, home mortgages and real estate. Because the investments earn money, the cost of your life insurance is less than it would otherwise be.

These carefully selected investments are one of the reasons why you can count on life insurance . . . and why it is America's most widely used form of thrift.

Planning the right life insurance program for your family calls for experienced help. Naturally, the best person to see is your own life insurance agent.

You'll also find helpful suggestions on the various uses of life insurance in the new booklet, Your Life Insurance—and How to Use It. Your free copy will be mailed promptly; simply send your name and address on a postcard to Dept. H.

Hal Boyle Says:

Many Persons Bored by Things They Love

NEW YORK (AP)—I set out to find the 10 most boring types of people in America.

You may be more sophisticated than I am, but I really was surprised by the results.

I was surprised to discover how many people are bored by the things they feel they honestly love. I never had thought that love and boredom could partner. They do.

* * *

My research poll was made among men only. The odd thing about it was—I bow in pride to the ineradicable gallantry of the male sex—that no man raised the possibility that a woman, as such, could possibly be boring.

Anger him, yes! Confuse him, certainly! Bore him? Never!

Some might question, if I were running an honest dog-trot poll of who are the 10 most common types of bores in America, why didn't I ask the opinion of women.

Frankly, as a fellow who feels he knows more about women than they do about themselves, I thought it would be a waste of time. I knew the answer. Obviously, to a woman, the 10 most boring people she knew would be the last 10 people who did what she wanted.

* * *

Well, now, with sex out of the way, we can get down to facts.

The facts are, neighbor and friend, that thee and I at times, high as our regard for each other is, do frankly bore each other in those moments of living when we dwell on the underside of ecstasy.

TOP TEN

Every thoughtful person has his own ideas about our most common American bores, but here are the 10 that resulted from my quick survey:

1. The hobbyists. A new sports car from Germany, a fresh stamp from Abyssinia, a rosy rocket that might reach the moon, three mistakes that if Robert E. Lee hadn't made would have changed the present accent in Brooklyn, and how to make a camellia smell sweet as well as look ornamental.

2. Anybody who married for the first time, had a baby for the first time, or who just bought a new car, new house, or a new job — and who feels nothing quite like this ever happened before in the history of the world.

3. One who has acquired and brags about a disease so new it isn't even listed in the $3.95 family medical book you inherited from the old folks.

4. Gourmets. The trouble with gourmets is that, when they invite you out to dinner, they always insist they knew the best thing on the menu and you must share their knowledge, too, even thought it consists of pickled rabbit's foot.

5. All sports fans, and particularly New York Yankee fans. One must include here all those who praise the benefits of fresh air but rob you of them by breathing more than their share.

6. All people who don't recognize that diet is an ugly, four-letter word. One way I keep my own children and the results are funerals of people who took drugs to get slim enough to fit into their coffins.

7. People who have raised their own childrenand the results are visible—and still tell you how to rear a more acceptable Adam, a better Eve.

BETTER WAY GUY

8. The guy with the better way. He knows the place where you can get a finer suit cheaper, a restaurant that serves tastier meals than any you've been able to take your wife to, and a vantage point you never heard of where you can watch the sun rise in technicolor—and it will cost you less to see it.

9. The provocative bore. He knows you because he claims a pipeline into anywhere. He knows whether Eisenhower sleeps in striped pajamas and the brand of hair tonic used hopefully by Khrushchev.

10. The silent or secret bore. He bores from within himself. It takes you some time to realize that the only wisdom he actually has is his own desperate realization that everytime he opens his mouth he puts both of his feet into it—plus any neighboring foot.

Of course we can all recognize somebody we know in the foregoing list, including ourselves. But I have 26 other types of bores and would like to return to the subject.

You may know even more. Please tell me. Who is your favorite bore — and why? But, please, let's keep it friendly!

It Just Didn't Pay to Get Out of Bed

UNION, S. C. (AP) — Pulpwood worker Otis Murphy reported a bad day. His truck had a flat tire as he started out at 7 a. m. from his home for a load of wood. The tire fixed, he found he was out of gas.

He got 20 gallons into the tank. When he went to the wooded area for a load of pulpwood, the ground was so slippery he had to unload and load the truck three times before he reached a surfaced road.

No sooner was he on the paved road than his truck overturned and spilled the logs, which were chained. He couldn't loosen the chain so took a hacksaw to it. When it popped in two, one end hit him and knocked him out. Then he found most of the gasoline had spilled out of the tank.

He finally got the truck righted and delivered the wood at 7 p. m.

Christian Arabian Priest Asks U. S. to Aid School

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) —A young Christian Arab priest is banking on American generosity to help build a school for his flock in his native Jordan.

* * *

The Rev. Zacharia Nasr, a Greek Orthodox churchman, has journeyed to the U. S. from the Middle East to raise money for a schoolhouse in the Jordanian village of Taybeh.

He says he needs the school so Christian Arab children may study their faith in the heart of the Moslem world. To date, the bearded, black-robed cleric has collected $900 from various parishes in New York. He says he needs $30,000.

The 32-year-old priest's black eyes sparkle when he speaks of his mission:

"Our community is but an oasis in a Moslem world. Unless we build a schoolhouse for our children, they will become absorbed by the culture and religion of the Moslem majority in my country.

"Our people are poor. Taybeh is a farming community. We cannot raise $30,000 to put up the school.

NEED MONEY

"We can dig the earth, we can carry the bricks, we can bring the water, we can help construct the building, but we cannot furnish the money."

Fingering the large gold jeweled cross which hangs from his neck, Rev. Nasr continues:

"So I have come to America to ask her citizens to give us the benefit of their well known goodness and help us maintain our religion."

The youthful minister has already been away from home for three months during which he also visited Rome and Paris on his mission.

Although homesick for his family and worried about the work he has left behind Rev. Nesr is already enthusiastically an American fan.

When asked his impression of the U.S. Rev. Nasr replied:

"I like it very much. America is a wonderful country—the people are good."

Egypt May End Arab Trouble

Baghdad Nations Must End Influence; Israel Charges Troops Massing

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt says she will stop fomenting against the West-inspired Baghdad Pact if the alliance stops trying to bring any more Arab states into the fold.

An Egyptian statement, released last night by the semiofficial Middle East News Agency, said Egypt would resume cooperation with Iraq—only Arab member of the pact so far—if pressure on the Arab states is lifted.

The alliance, formed for defense against Soviet penetration of the Middle East and South Asia, also includes Turkey, Iran, Britain and Pakistan. They have made overtures to Arab Jordan and Lebanon.

ISRAEL HURLS ACCUSATION

Israel, meanwhile, accused Egypt of massing troops along the Israeli-Egyptian frontier "far in excess of defensive requirements."

A Foreign Ministry spokesman in Jerusalem said Israel had called on the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission to investigate the troop concentrations, which the spokesman labeled a "direct threat" to Israeli security.

An Egyptian government spokesman denied the report of troop concentrations.

Israel also charged that patrols from Egypt, Syria and Jordan had filtered across her borders over the weekend, causing minor clashes.

Middle East violence extended yesterday to the oil-rich British protectorate of Barhain in the Persian Gulf. Reports from the island said 11 persons were killed in rioting aimed at ousting the chief British adviser to the reigning sheik. However, the British Foreign Office in London said only two persons were killed.

Senators to Vote on Rice Supports

Rigid, Domestic Price on Product Pushed in New Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—A rigid domestic support plan for rice faces a test today in the Senate, which has rejected higher supports for wheat, cotton, corn and peanuts.

Sen. Ellender (D-La), floor manager for the farm bill, said he hopes to have it passed tomorrow night "even if we have to stay here until midnight." Republican Leader Knowland of California set his sights on final action Wednesday.

* * *

The Senate Agriculture Committee, which Ellender heads, proposed a trial of the two-price plan for rice. Under this, rice grown for domestic use would be eligible for price support at 90 per cent of parity, while the excess for overseas shipment would be sold without support at world market prices.

Parity is a price determined under farm law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Rice, like other basic crops, is now supported under a flexible scale which rises when more is needed and drops when a surplus is on hand.

* * *

The Senate voted last week to retain the flexible system on wheat, cotton, corn and peanuts. The House voted 206-201 last year to return to a 90 per cent level for two years. The two houses must agree before any new farm bill can become law.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

KEEP CEMETERY PICTURESQUE — Snow lies on the graves in Franklin cemetery, where burials have been made since the first farmers came to the area early last century. An association and its auxiliary operate it, with funds from lot dues and purchases and special events.

Fund Raisers Live in Widespread Area

Keep Old Franklin Cemetery Picturesque

By DOROTHY JEAN ZACK

Those whose relatives lie beneath the sod and snow in Franklin's old cemetery that overlooks the village from its Franklin road hilltop, are not all Franklin residents.

* * *

Active in raising funds and seeing that the cemetery stays the picturesque spot it is are residents of towns from Lake Orion to Detroit.

Membership shows this in both the association, whose funds for the caretaker's salary and upkeep materials come from lot dues and purchases and from a Southfield Township allotment, and the auxiliary, a women's group which monthly has events ranging from bake sales to elaborate bazaars.

Last week it was a bakesale and potluck dinner at Mrs. Herbert Masters' home at 888 Ann, Birmingham, that brought the auxiliary together. Mrs. Masters and her sister, Ethel Bassett, have several relatives buried in the cemetery, for their family lived many years in Franklin.

Mrs. LeRoy Garside, another active auxilfary member was a Bingham, whose family name appears on a road and subdivision which is heading towards incorporation into Bingham Farms.

"Franklin's a lot different now than when I was a little girl," says Mrs. Garside, who grew up in the town when it was a farming area center. "Everyone was related in those days, and now there are so many newcomers."

Old tombstones, some illegible, stand in rows in the cemetery, except in the new section at the foot of the hill on the northwest corner, where property was purchased sometime ago for more space. The caretaker's home is the small building on what was the northwest corner before the addition beyond it.

* * *

One section has unidentified graves with no markers, but the association reserves it with new burials impossible there. There have been two Catholic burials in the cemetery.

According to Kenneth Bristol, who has charge of selling new lots, there are about 70 lots still available. His wife is treasurer of the auxiliary.

The secretary's book, of which Mrs. Kate Cook of Lake Orion is now in charge, shows that auxiliary money-raising events included ice cream socials back in 1910 when its first entries were made. President of the group is Mrs. Kenneth Green, of Birmingham.

Beginning: Income Tax Primer

Your Report for Past Year Due on April 15

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
(1st of 12 Articles)

Millions of taxpayers must file their 1955 tax return by April 16. The Internal Revenue Service is hoping the do-it-yourself fad will spread to a goodly portion of these.

In years past, an increasing number of highly trained revenue agents have been pulled off their regular jobs of tracking down tax delinquents and assigned the task of helping fill out returns for tax payers who showed up at the revenue office.

This year, Internal Revenue will answer questions and supply information, but hopes most able-bodied taxpayers will cooperate by filling out their own returns.

The average taxpayer doesn't have complicated business transactions requiring the advice of an expert on tax law.

But most of all taxpayers who fill out their own returns want more help and explanation than is provided in the official instruction booklet issued with the blank tax returns.

This year our Income Tax Primer is designed to fill the need of the taxpayer who wants to complete his own return but who also wants additiopal help, tips and explanations to insure his doing a good job.

If you have to file a return for 1955, save each article of the Primer as it appears in The Pontiac Press.

This brings us to a question everyone is interested in: "Do I have to file a return?"

WHO MUST FILE

The law provides that all citizens and anyone residing in the United States even though not a citizen must file a return if his income for 1955 was $600 or more.

There is an exception and a qualification to this rule. If you were 65 or over on Dec. 31, 1955, you need not file a return unless your income is $1,200 or more.

Self-employed persons subject to social security tax must file a return if they have net earnings from self-employment of at least $400 even though their gross income is less than the $600 or $1,200 test described above.

Such persons will not owe any income tax but a return is required so their social security account will be properly credited.

In determining whether you have received $600 (or $1,200 if over 65) income, you cannot subtract non-business deductible items such as charitable contributions, taxes on your home, or interest on your home mortgage.

For example, suppose you are a student who earned $650 in 1955.

Even though you contributed $50 to a church and paid $10 as interest on a loan, you would have to file a tax return because your gross income exceeded $600.

Many students and others who worked part time in 1955 but earned less than $600 should file a return if income tax was withheld from their pay.

Such persons owe no tax and are entitled to a refund of any that was withheld, but it will not be repaid unless a return is filed.

Even though the deadline for filing 1955 tax returns is not until April 16, it's a good idea to complete your return early so that you won't be rushed at the last minute.

If you have a refund coming, the sooner you file, the sooner it will be mailed to you.

Heads Now Decorate Walls

NEW YORK (INS)—Want to hang a head on your wall that has greenery growing out the top of it?

* * *

If that's what you want, you can buy it. An African head was one of the ceramic planters on display at the registered California Gift Show in New York.

The neck is elongated and painted gold as a native necklace, and on top of the head is balanced a dish. It's from the dish that the ivy grows. The heads come in tan, pink and turquoise.

Other ceramic planters take their shape from old-fashioned home implements. There's a miniature, and non-working, grandfather's clock, for instance, as well as an iron, a pot-bellied stove, a spinning wheel, a coffee mill, a teapot.

All these are done in dull black to imitate wrought iron but, as they are ceramic, they are quite light in weight—an important item for wall planters.

On each of these there is a cluster of three shiny red ceramic berries to add a note of cheer and make them particularly suitable for the kitchen.

The latest creamic item in table planters is a set of pixies which lean on tree trunks, barrels, etc. The elves are turquoise, the trees brown.

Tigers Even Score With Nats, 5-4

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Manager Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers had three arms to worry about today — two left and one right.

They belong to pitchers Bob Miller and Billy Hoeft and outfielder Al Kaline, the righthander of the trio.

Miller got cracked on the left wrist by a pitched ball in the 7th inning as the Tigers whipped the Washington senators, 5-4, yesterday to even their exhibition record at 1-1.

Miller had to retire and x-rays were to be taken today to determine the extent of the damage to the former bonus baby's pitching arm. Conrad Grob hit him.

Hoeft, whose left arm pumped out 16 Detroit victories against seven defeats last season, had to quit throwing after warming up 15 minutes yesterday and called on Trainer Jack Homel to work oin a knot in his left shoulder.

Kaline revealed he had been nursing a sore throwing arm for several days, but played a couple of innings before giving way to Ben Downs, who clouted a home run and a single.

Kaline's whip-lash arm enabled him to cut down 14 base runners from right field last season and 16 in 1954. Of course, he was also the American League's top hitter in 1955, with a .340 average.

Harris is counting on Miller as a starter this year. Sent to Augusta of the Class A South Atlantic League when his bonus status expired last June, the 20-year-old won eight and lost two and had an earned run average of 1.72. Called back at the end of the season, he beat Cleveland twice for Detroit and lost one game.

The Tigers worked today on cut-off plays and other strategy. Tomorrow they will meet the St. Louis Cardinals in an exhibition at St. Petersburg.

To oppose the Cardinals, Harris has named Dick Marlowe, Babe Birrer and Gene Host for mound duty.

Down's homer and single against the Senators yesterday were his third and fourth straight hits in as many times at bat. He got two-for-two Saturday as the Senators beat the Tigers, 8-2. On his 5th trip, they finally got him out.

Jack Phillips, working at first base, got two hits, one a double, in four trips yesterday. Catcher J. W. Porter contributed Detroit's only other safety, a single.

Paul Foytack started wildly, walking the first three men who faced him, but then settled down and limited the Senators to two hits in four innings. One, however, was a homer by Washington's Jim Lemon.

Bill Rigney wants to keep Whitey Lockman in the outfield. "A trio of Lockman, Mays and Mueller would rate as the finest outfield in the league. Besides, I'm sure either rookie White or Harris will do the job at first for us without any worries."

At Madison Square Garden, it's Temple (23-3) vs. Holy Cross (22-4) and All-America Tom Heinsohn, and North Carolina State (24-3) vs. Canisius (17-6), the upstate New York team that pulled a surprise last year by going all the way to the regional semifinal.

* * *

UM Icers Win League Crown

Wolverines Blast Tech, 5-1, to Annex Hockey Championship

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Four straight victories over its closest rival gave Michigan the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League (WIHL) title Saturday night.

The Wolverines defeated Michigan Tech 5-1, the same score by which they downed the Huskies in the two-game series Friday night.

A week earlier at Houghton, Michigan also took both ends of a two-game set. A victory in any of the four games would have given Michigan Tech a share of the crown.

In Saturday's contest, Capt. Bill MacFarland and Ed Switzer scored in the first period and that was all the Wolverines needed. Don McIntosh, Leo MacDonald and Jerry Karpinka added goals later.

* * *

Michigan Goalie Lorne Howes, who stopped 38 shots, was voted his team's Most Valuable Player. Tech Goalie Andy Lahay had 39 saves.

Both Michigan and Michigan Tech will compete in the National Collegiate Hockey Playoffs.

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — The touring golf professionals try again today to wind up the rain-disrupted Pensacola Open.

Wiffi Smith Tops Amateurs

Suggs Winner by 1-Stroke

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Little Louise Suggs earned her third Titleholders crown the hard way, by whipping hay fever, a seldom displayed temper and 44 of the nation's best women golfers.

The Sea Island, Ga., professional pocketed $900 yesterday after edging 38-year-old Patty Berg, the defending champion from St. Andrews, Ill., by one stroke in the 72-hole tournament. Miss Berg collected $675.

Each covered the final 18 holes on the hilly 6,270-yard Augusta country Club course in 74 strokes, one under women's par. Miss Suggs had a 78-75-75-74—302. Miss Berg shot a 79-77-73-74—303.

"My biggest problem on the final round was controlling my temper," said Miss Suggs, who was suffering with hay fever both Saturday and yesterday. "I was hitting well, but the ball was taking bad bounces at the start and I was boiling," she said.

The $5,000 tournament actually was decided on the last hole by two 15-foot putts.

Miss Suggs, among the earlier finishers, sank her putt for a birdie-3. Miss Berg, who completed play an hour and a half later, missed hers by a fraction of an inch.

Michigan's red - haired Wiffi Smith was top amateur in the tournament.

The St. Clair, Mich., girl had 316 for the 72-hole tournament. That was a stroke better than amateurs Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., and Marjorie Burns of Greensboro, N.C.

Wiffi soared to an 81 on her final round, while Miss Burns shot a sizzling 71, a stroke under men's par, and Miss Romack had a 76.

Betty Bush, a Detroit pro, finished with a 321, and Pat Devany, a Grosse Ile pro, had 338.

Scores of Michigan amateurs other than Miss Smith included: Helen Grinell, Birmingham, 336; Mrs. Donald Weissn, Flint, 370. Mrs. Carl Tuttle of Detroit withdrew after rounds of 102 and 101.

Wings Retain Second Spot; Close Season Next Sunday

CHICAGO (AP) — With only three games left, the Detroit Red Wings today continued to hold a one-game advantage over New York for 2nd place in the National Hockey League race.

Red Wings, with Gordie Howe scoring two goals, whipped the Chicago Black Hawks, 3-2, last night. New York kept pace, meanwhile, by beating 4th-place Toronto, 4-2.

That Toronto loss, plus a 3-1 triumph by Boston over the already-champion Montreal Canadiens, left the Maple Leafs with only a single point margin over the Bruins in the battle for 4th place and a spot in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Detroit plays Tuesday at Boston and then moves to New York for what may be the deciding 2nd-place game with the Rangers Thursday. Wings end the season with Toronto at Detroit Sunday.

After their encounter with the Red Wings, the Rangers finish up with two games against Montreal. They go to Canada Saturday and the Canadiens to New York Sunday.

Both Detroit and New York are assured playoff berths. But neither wants to be 3rd, because whoever does must take on the Canadiens in the 1st playoff round.

Whoever finishes 2nd will take on either Toronto or Boston, depending on which ends up 4th.

Chicago got off to a 1-0 lead against the Red Wings last night on defenseman Pierre Pilote's goal.

The victory, though, may prove a costly one. The Wings lost the playoff services of defenseman Warren Godfrey, who suffered a double jaw fracture in the 2nd period when hit in the face by a flying puck.

Royal Oak was 2nd with 32 and Lincoln Park 3rd with 24. Battle Creek and Jackson had 23, Grosse Pte, 22½, Arthur Hill 20, Kalamazoo and Dearborn Fordson 16 each; Lansing East, 13; Plymouth 11; Pontiac and GR Central 6 each; Lansing Sexton and Birmingham 4 each; Monroe, 2.

Tom Cross and Bob Keavy finished 4th in the breaststroke and backstroke, respectively, for the only Pontiac points.

Jackson's 200-yard medley team broke the U. S. prep mark, Boyce reported, with a 1:51 effort. Several state records were also broken, the PHS coach said.

New Leader in ABC Meet

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — John Jinookie, 41, of Plodzien Florists team of Chicago is the new No. 1 man in the all-events class of the 53rd annual American Bowling Congress tournament.

Jinookie, from Maywood, Ill., moved into a four-pin lead with a nine-game total of 1,864. Joseph Rutkaukas of Sheboygan, Wis., was in second place with a 1,860 total.

Singles standings were unchanged over the weekend.

There was only one change in the doubles standings as Andrew Horvath and Emil Joseph, both of Toledo, Ohio, moved into second place with a total 1,277.

* * *

In the regular team division, the Union East 108th Lanes of Cleveland moved into second place with a 1,909 total while D. E. Stetler and Sons of York, Pa., moved into third with a 2,984 total.

Other positions were unchanged.

CATCHING WITH HIS HEAD — Bob Wentworth of Almont gets hit in the back of the head with the ball in the game against St. Mikes Saturday night at Pontiac high school. The Shamrocks won the Class C district finals, beating Almont 57-29, Chuck Brown (11) of Mikes and (3) Blake Lasslett of Almont go for the head rebound. In the foreground is Dan Dropps (12) and John Keller (4) of St. Mikes.

District Winners Get Into Regional Playoffs at PHS

A dozen district champions, eight in Class C and four in the 'B' ranks, invade the Pontiac High School gymnasium this week for the 1956 MHSAA regional basketball tournament.

The Pontiac regional swings into action Tuesday night and will continue through Saturday when divisional winners are crowned. Regional champs qualify for the state quarter - finals on Wednesday, March 21.

Six area hopefuls are among the strong field. St. Michael, Orchard Lake St. Mary, and Lake Shore lay their chances on the line in Class C while Utica, Walled Lake, and Rochester are 'B' contenders.

Completing the 'C' division are Detroit St. Cecilia, Detroit St. Bernard, Detroit St. Gregory, Marine City, and Highland Park St. Benedict—St. Mike's familiar Suburban Catholic League rival. The other Class B entry is St. Clair.

The PHS tourney promises to be a wide-open affair. Drawings to determine regional pairings will be conducted at the high school today at 4 p.m.

St. Mike gained entrance to the regionals by blasting Almont, 57-29, in the district final Saturday night at Pontiac High. After a difficult opening quarter the Mikes rolled into high gear and the outcome was never in doubt.

John Keller poured in 23 points for the Shamrocks and Chuck Brown's alert floor play constantly harassed the Raiders. Larry Kersten, Almont's high-scoring center, was limited to eight points by a tightly-knit defense.

ROCHESTER NIPS AVONDALE

The surprising Rochester Falcons earned their right to enter regional activity by nosing out Avondale, 49-48, in a thrilling overtime struggle at the PHS gym Saturday.

Field goals by Ron LeBarre and Dave Peters in the extra period bettered a two-pointer by Jerry Paul and Larry Herron's foul shot to bring victory to the Falcons in a swift-moving, well-played game that had the spectators on the edge of their seats.

The clock prevented the Yellow Jackets from winning the tussel in regulation time. Dick Bye's Jackets elected to stall with 52 seconds left and the score knotted at 45-45, then try for a last-second bucket. Paul's shot missed as the buzzer sounded, which nullified Herron's successful follow-up.

The score was tied 11 times during the nip-and-tuck battle and only 15 personal fouls were committed, 10 by the Falcons. Peters and Marv Kitchen led Rochester with 12 points each. Paul tallied 18 for Avondale to take scoring honors.

VIKINGS OUST MILFORD

In the Walled Lake district B finals, Milford's powerful offensive machine was bottled up by an aggressive Walled Lake crew which took the lead in the opening seconds and never relinquished it in winning 71-51.

The Redskins elected to throw a tight zone against Walled Lake's high scoring center Larry Hughes and although it was successful in holding the Viking pivot man to only five points in the first half, the defense could not cope with the outside shooting of guards Larry Dion and Dick Woodworth.

Big Jim Davidson, the county's leading scorer, fouled out early in the 4th quarter with only 15 points to his credit. Hughes did a credible job defensively when Davidson tried to score from the middle. From the outside however, the sharpshooter had very little opportunity to shoot as Redskin passing game went amiss.

Milford tallied only 14 field goals while the Vikings hit for 26 from the floor.

Hughes again took scoring honors with 21 points, 16 in the second half with Dion getting 14, Walker 13 and Woodworth 11 in good balanced scoring.

Fred Baker got 16 for Milford, with Davidson's 15 and Green's 10.

EAGLETS TRIP KEEGO

Orchard Lake St. Mary annexed the Class C district title Saturday night at Farmington with a 54-50 win over neighboring West Bloomfield. Ted Kopacki scored 18 points for the Eaglets, who avenged a 50-41 loss to the Lakers in the 1955-56 season opener.

Memphis of the Southern Thumb League goes to Ypsilanti for regional play after downing New Baltimore St. Mary, 49-43, in the Class D district final at Troy Saturday.

* * *

Lou Haase of Utica hit two fielders in the final minute to give the Chieftains a 58-54 win over Troy on the Colt court. Haase had 20 for the evening.

At Farmington's B district, Redford St. Mary trimmed Clarenceville 69-58 with Fred Arbanas getting 25 for the winners and Darrel Ridling 21 for the losers.

Lapeer, Class B district winner at Grand Blanc, sees regional action at Flint. Dryden was a district casualty at Grand Blanc in Class D.

Coast Cyclist Surprised Victor

Gibson Wins Daytona Event When Michigan's Goldsmith Goes Out

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UP) — John Gibson's victory in the 200-mile race for expert motorcycle riders was so unexpected the 25-year-old machinist hasn't decided what to do with his $2,000 first prize money.

The Pasadena, Calif., rider moved out front when mechanical trouble knocked out former winner Paul Goldsmith of St. Clair Shores, Mich., just three laps away from the checkered flag.

Asked what plans he had for his winnings, the elated Gibson replied: "I don't know. I didn't expect to win."

And he didn't think he had won —not even when his pit crew began congratulating him. Gibson's crew decided not to signal him that he was leading the field after Goldsmith went out.

GRAPEFRUIT League

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP) — Tom Poholsky and service returnee Vinegar Bend Mizell gave St. Louis Cardinal pitching hopes a boost before the home run ball came back to haunt the Redbirds, the most generous team in Majors last year.

Poholsky allowed a lone single in three innings yesterday and Mizell one run on one hit and three walks in three innings. Then the New York Yankees remembered this was the club that allowed 185 homers in 1955, a Major League record.

* * *

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UP) — Looking at it from the angle that spring training is the time for a baseball club to get sloppy play out of its system, the Kansas City Athletics spent a highly profitable afternoon at Fort Myers yesterday.

But that's about the only angle that offers any consolation for the 11-1 drubbing they took from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

They committed five errors in the field, three of them charged to their prize first baseman, Vic Power.

* * *

SARASOTA, Fla. (UP) — Ted Lepcio, Milt Bolling and Heywood Sullivan are stealing the batting show these days for the Boston Red Sox.

Lepcio, playing third base, got three hits including a grand slam home run yesterday as the Sox handed the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers their second straight setback in the Grapefruit Circuit 17-5.

Lepcio drove in five runs.

Sullivan had a 4-for-6 day including a pair of doubles and a 4 RBI's. Bolling went 3-for-4 with a double included good for two runs.

* * *

TUCSON, Ariz. (UP) — Second baseman Bob Avila, who arrived at the Cleveland Indians spring training camp almost two weeks late after holding out for the same pay he received last year, says he will hit better than he did last year.

He batted .325 in the Mexican League and feels today he will hit .300 or better with the Indians this season. His average dropped to .272 last year after he won the American League batting title with a .341 in 1954.

Basilio Favored Against Saxton

CHICAGO (UP) — Carmen Basilio, unbeaten in his last 15 fights, rules a 9-5 favorite to retain his welterweight title against former champ Johnny Saxton at Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

* * *

Both tapered off in drills today and looked sharp for the nationally broadcast and televised 15-rounder. The outlet is ABC, starting at 10 p.m. EST. Chicago and a 150-mile radius will be blacked out.

* * *

A crowd of 10,000 contributing to a $75,000 gate is expected. TV-radio proceeds will add another $50,000. The fighters divide the net equally on a 30-30 basis.

Marshall Levey of St. Louis became the first southpaw to win the ABC singles title. He tied with 624 and then went on to set up his own mark in a roll-off series late in 1955.

Seek Misplaced Million Dollar Treasury Note

NEW YORK (AP)—Clerks resume searching today for a one-million-dollar U.S. Treasury note somebody "misplaced" in the vast vaults of the Chase Manhattan Bank.

* * *

More than 100 employes worked overtime during the weekend in a hunt for the missing note. When they went home late yesterday, they had rummaged through about half of 4,500 file drawers in the bank's basement.

* * *

The note, first missed last Wednesday, is not negotiable.

"The note will almost certainly be found," the bank said in a statement, "but even if it never were, the bank's insurance fully covers a loss of this kind. . .

"Meanwhile, the hunt goes on."

Wife Stabs Spouse

DETROIT (AP)—Lundy Gage, 43, of Detroit, was stabbed fatally yesterday with a six-inch paring knife that was driven into his left chest. Police said his wife, Lorraine, 54, admitted the stabbing in the climax of a family quarrel over whether she had squandered his pay.

Bulganin Recalls Ike Launched 'Martini Road'

MOSCOW (INS) — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin recalled yesterday that President Eisenhower had opened "the Martini Road" at last summer's Geneva summit conference.

The goateed Soviet premier recalled the event during a reception at the Danish Embassy in which he was drinking martinis with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Danish Premier Christian Hansen.

Bulganin declared:

"We can never forget those moments when Soviet leaders drank martinis with Eisenhower.

"It was Eisenhower who opened the martini road. We sometimes drank with him martinis to friendship and peace in the world.

"We hope it will always be like that."

Bus Hostesses Urged for Los Angeles Riders

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Hostesses have been proposed for the city's express buses when service starts to Los Angeles.

Transportation superintendent William Farell said the uniformed hostesses would assist children and elderly persons, give schedule information and point out interesting spots along the route.

The city council is expected to study Farell's proposal.

American Clerics Arrive in Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — A delegation of American Protestant churchmen has arrived in Moscow for the first formal talks with representatives of the Russian Orthodox faith.

The 10-man group was greeted at the airport by bearded Metropolitan Nikolai, who welcomed them on behalf of Patriarch Alexei, head of the church in Russia. Nikolai expressed the hope their visit would "result in better relations."

Later the metropolitan shepherded the group to their hotel. They were treated to a lunch of caviar, delicacies and various wines. Teetotalers in the group just held up their glasses when the Russians proposed the customary toasts.

A group of Russian churchmen is to repay the visit in June.

Performance in 'Picnic' Bringing Offers for Betty

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—I felt sure after Betty Field's great performance in "Picnic" as Kim Novak's mother there would be plenty of motion picture offers waiting her way. I was right.

Betty arrived in town to join the Marilyn Monroe troup for "Bus Stop." Betty's role is that of Grace, owner of the bus stop cafe, a lusty gal.

When Jack Palance returns here March 24, his wife Virginia won't be with him. Don't jump to conclusions—there's no battle in the Palance family.

Virginia is tremendously thrilled that she has been signed for the Broadway play "Danton's Death"—meaning Danton of the French revolution. She plays Danton's wife and the title figure will be played by Don Nealy of the actors studio. Mrs. Palance will use her professional name of Virginia Baker.

Mrs. Cary Grant, pardon me, I mean Betsy Drake, who is much too good an actress to trade on her husband's name, has made up her mind to come back to the movies—and high time.

Betsy hasn't made a picture since "Room for One More" for RKO soon after her marriage. Outside of appearing in a radio series with her popular husband several years ago she's been confining herself to writing TV scripts and more or less hibernating in their Palm Springs home.

The love of Henry Fond's life these days is—making movies. And he can hardly wait to embark on his first independent, "12 Angry Men" in June, just as soon as he finishes "The Wrong Man" for Alfred Hitchcock in New York.

Perhaps you remember "12 Angry Men" as the Studio One drama, which last year, won three Emmy awards, one going to Bob Cummings for "best dramatic performance by an actor in a single performance." Of course, Hank plays the Cummings role in the film.

The first actor Fonda has signed is Lee J. Cobb who will be juror No. 3. It's good to know that Cobb, very ill for months, is back in harness and rarin' to go.

Snapshots of Hollywood

The one and only Winston Churchill and his wife will attend the premiere of "The Man Who Never Was" in London next week. Sir Winston wants to hear the actor who delivers excerpts from his wartime speeches.

Tomorrow is Gordon MacRae's 35th birthday and tomorrow night on his TV show he'll have Sheilah and all four youngsters help him cut his birthday cake.

Grace Kelly spends Easter Sunday with the family clan in Philadelphia. She'll leave immediately after the Academy Awards for New York.

That's All Today.

Darwin Kin Says Overpopulation Threatens World

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Sir Charles G. Darwin, grandson of the Darwin who wrote "Origin of the Species," states that overpopulation threatens the extinction of mankind.

Sir Charles, father of five children, said people are not giving enough thought to overpopulation.

"The United States," he said, "is growing faster proportionately than either India or China. This means in another 50 years or so the standards of living in this country will be lowered to the level of the rest of the world.

The 68-year-old scientist voiced his opinions to Los Angeles newsmen en route to New Zealand. He said:

"The world's population is increasing by 80,000 to 90,000 a day. This can't go on forever. In 2000 years, at the present rate, there would be standing room only."

Local Sears Staff Invests Over $1,600,000 in Fund

Profit sharing investments by 186 employes of Pontiac's Sears, Roebuck & Co. store have soared to a total of $1,606,558, Manager Frank S. Lyndall revealed today.

The Pontiac members have 34,902 shares of Sears stock and a cash balance of $350,086 to their credit in the fund, Lyndall explained. Taking the year-end market value of $36 per share for the Sears stock and adding the cash and miscellaneous investments brings the group's total investment to $1,606,558.

Membership in the fund is open to all regular employes with one year of service and today numbers more than 125,000 members throughout the nation.

Total assets of the fund exceed $850,000,000, of which slightly more than $100,000,000 represents deposits from wages and salaries of members.

The fund is also the largest single stockholder of the company, owning more tha 1 25 per cent of the company's outstanding stock.

Created by the company in 1916, the plan's purpose is to encourage regular saving, permit employes to share in the profits of their company and to aid members in establishing a financial reserve for retirement.

Under the provisions of the fund, employe-members deposit five per cent of their wages and salaries up to a $500 maximum deposit each year. Sears makes an annual contribution to the fund based upon an established percentage of the company's net profit before deductions for federal income taxes.

The company's contribution is credited to the accounts of members on a basis of their length of service with Sears and their annual contribution.

Wheat Futures Become Firm

CHICAGO (AP)—Both old and new crop wheat futures firmed after a hesitant start on the Board of Trade today. Dealings were only moderately active and characterized mainly by a lack of selling pressure.

* * *

Other cereals were not as firm as wheat. Old crop soybeans inched higher, supported by advancing soybean oil prices, but the new crop months tilted a little lower. Only minor price changes were recorded in feed grains. Rye was firm.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1 to 1⅝ higher, March $2.23; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, March $1.31¼; oats ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, March 62; rye 1 to 1⅝ higher, March $1.31; soybeans ¾ lower to ½ higher, March $2.62¾, and lard 2 to 17 a hundred high, March $11.92.

Buying in old crop wheat was based largely on a rather limited supply of free wheat, despite the large total stocks in the country. Most of the bread grain is tied up in the government loan.

Stocks Advance Slower Pace

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced today, but by early afternoon there were a lot of small minus signs dotting the list.

* * *

Activity was pronounced and hit a pace of around 3,000,000 shares for the day. That compares with 3,430,000 shares Friday when the market set a record high price average.

Gains today were not outstanding. A few key stocks added more than a point. Lots of small fractional losses flecked the list.

Trading was fast and in large blocks as the market opened. That appeared to be a carryover of buying enthusiasm worked up in Friday's market. Prices were at their best at the start, and then they eased down slightly as trading progressed.

Railroads were just about the best of the leading groups both in price appreciation and activity. Oils were active and higher. Steels were active and steady.

DAVISBURG — Austin Chapter No. 396, OES, will hold its regular meeting Tuesday at the Davisburg Masonic Temple.

City Cites Area's Realtors During National Program

Sixty-two Pontiac area realtors will join this week in offering tribute to their profession's standards and objectives by celebrating National Realtor Week in co-operation with the Pontiac Real Estate Board and the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

* * *

The observance was officially recognized today in a proclamation issued by Mayor William Donaldson, who cited the local board for leadership in civic and business matters.

Although the board has not planned any special programs in conjunction with the week, President Vern K. Archer said that individual members will carry out special observances.

Theme of the national celebration will be "Build America Better" in recognition of the NAREB's efforts to raise standards and discourage unethical practices in the building and housing industry.

The "Build America Better" program is devoted to wiping out slum conditions in various communities.

Mayor Donaldson's proclamation read in part: " . . . the realtor is the instrumentality through which the land resource of the nation reaches its highest use and through which land ownership attains its widest distribution.

" . . . the realtor realizes that such functions impose obligations beyond those of ordinary commerce and dedicates himself to grave responsibilities and patriotic duties."

Card of Thanks 1

AS MUCH AS HUMAN WORDS can express we wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all the many friends and neighbors who so generously helped us in the tragic death of our loved ones, Larry and Barry.

May God in kindness and mercy provide each of you with such friends in your time of trouble. Special thanks to the Pastor, pallbearers and police, also to the Coats Funeral Home.

Master of Ceremonies Still Not Selected for New Program

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — The $64,000 Challenge," outgrowth of "The $64,000 Question," will have two isolation booths when it starts throwing cash into the CBS-TV air Sunday, April 8 . . .

It'll use new challengers to face folks who've won $8,000 and up on the parent sho w. . .

It still lacks an emcee, though (why not Hal March?) . . .

NBC film cutters found one authentic German film it can't possibly use in the "Twisted Cross" Wednesday NBC show, the story of Hitler's rise and fall: A very nude Eva Braun splashing away like September morn in a German stream . . .

Lots of the film footage will be Eva Braun's own home - movie shots of Der Fuehrer.

A move is on to postpone the TV "Emmy" awards three months while they try to rebuild the shabby reputation they've earned.

DROPS OUT OF SHOW

Sherman Billingsley unexpectedly quit Friday's "Person-to-Person" . . .

Hal and Candy March will just about get into their fancy new East Side flat April 6 for "Person-to-Person." Hal's deserved popularity is paying off at $2,500 per 64G appearance. . .

CBS decided Jack Benny's role on "Climax" Thursday should be as a college dean instead of a minister.

The Grace-Rainier nuptials will be aired on ABC-radio April 17-19 for a brassiere sponsor . . .

Jackie Gleason's next-season product definitely will be on celluloid, worse luck for the fat one and his fans . . .

DAVE'S DEAL

Dave Garroway can if he chooses leave "Today" after two years of his new 10-year NBC pact; but he'll probably stick with breakfast-before-dawn for the sake of the $5,000 a week . . .

Hugh Marlowe signed to star in TV's new "First Nighter" series. The old radio series was a huge favorite . . .

Herb Shriner's new hour probably will decorate CBS-TV on Saturdays . . .

We hear Shirl Conway and Pat Carroll will be signed for Sid Caesar's show next season . . .

Lisa Kirk gets star billing April 15 on "Front Row Center" for more reason than her talent and stature: Lisa also wrote the basic story from which the teleplay will be adapted . . .

Dick Powell yells that CBS is a "trust," now that CBS will unload the consistently good "Four-Star Playhouse" to make room for network-owned fare . . .

Mrs. Calabash's big-nosed boy friend will be looking for a new sponsor next year . . .

Goodman Ace, Perry Como's adroit writer, already has been signed for next season at $7,500 per hour-of-pleasure, first of the Como show to feel so secure so early . . .

British Jet Travels Record 1,132 M.P.H.

LONDON (AP)—Britain claims her dart-like new jet fighter, the Fairey Delta 2, has captured the world speed record with a mark of 1,132 miles an hour.

* * *

The Royal Aero Club said the single-jet plane known to airmen as the "Droop Snoot" struck this average in two runs over a nine-mile course in southern England. It recaptured the record from the United States. Test pilot Peter Twiss was at the controls.

* * *

Col. Horace H. Hanes of the U.S. Air Force set the previous record last August when he flew a F100C Super Saber at just over 822 miles an hour. Another U.S. plane, the Bell X1A, has flown at 1,650 miles per hour but not under record conditions.

Bing Undergoes Minor Surgery on Eyelid

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Minor surgery on an eyelid isn't expected to slow up Bing Crosby at all.

The singer underwent the surgery Saturday for removal of a small growth, a member of his family said. He is expected to resume normal activities this week, the spokesman added.

Award Given Thomas

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (INS) — The Jewish National Home for Asthmatic Children has presented comedian Danny Thomas with its golden Caduceus Award at the Denver Home's 48th annual dinner dance last night.

Olivier in 'King Richard III' Brings 'Poetry, Blood' to TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—There is both poetry and blood and thunder in the "histores" of William Shakespeare. Never have the two qualities been more effectively combined then in Sir Laurence Olivier's filmed production of "Richard III," which made its American debut on NBC-TV yesterday. The three-hour color film was the longest single program yet shown on TV.

What theater audiences always have had to imagine came glowingly to life in this great motion picture of the evil hunchback Duke of Gloucester who willed and murdered his way to England's 15th century throne as Richard III.

In creating Richard, Shakespeare added a new dimension to the sterotype Elizabethan villain; he made him witty, intelligent and courageous as well as ruthless. In interpreting Shakespeare's Richard', Olivier has added the dimensions of the motion picture art; he gives us the closeup of character and the broad grandeur of castle, cathedral and battlefield.

As Richard, Olivier undoubtedly has played his greatest role to date.

The stellar cast, which includes many of Englands finest actors, brings more than extraordinary interpretation of character to the screen. Sir John Gielgud as Clarence conveys Shakespeare's thoughtful melancholy; Sir Ralph Richardson as Buckingham is piercing shrewdness; Claire Bloom as the Lady Anne is delight in sensual pleasure. The entire cast could be named for extraordinary performances.

This bold stroke of television programing eventually will provide answers to two interesting questions: Does Shakespeare hold the appeal to a mass American audience that he always has held for a relatively limited audience?

What effect will the showing of this film on TV have on the box offices of nation's movie houses.

Discover Body of Teenage Girl

Find High School Senior in Neighbor's Basement; Boy, 17, Held

KAUKAUNA, Wis. (AP) — The bludgeoned body of Theresa Van Der Horst, 18, a senior at Kaukauna High School who had been missing from her home for two nights, was found yesterday in the basement of a neighbor's house.

* * *

Dist. Atty. Fred Froehlich said Michael McCormick, 17, a junior at the high school, was held without charge.

Froehlich said McCormick admitted in an oral statement that he had beaten the girl on the head with a brass shell case and stuffed her body in an alcove in the basement.

The district attorney said McCormick related that he and the girl met in the basement Friday night. She told him she was pregnant and threatened to tell his parents that he was responsible if he did not run away and marry her, Froehlich quoted McCormick as saying.

County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said a preliminary autopsy report indicated the girl died of suffocation.

He said her wind pipe was kinked, cutting off air, when she was placed unconscious in the 20-inch-wide alcove.

Dr. Emory Strauser, Neenah pathologist who made the report, said he found two small wounds on the girl's head and scratches on her throat. He said they were not the cause of death.

The girl's body was found in the home of Mrs. Angela McCormick, the boy's grandmother. The discovery was made by Police Chief Harold Engerson, who had been leading the search for the girl since she was reported missing by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Van Der Horst. Engerson quoted Mrs. McCormick as saying she knew nothing of the tragedy.

Dies After 4-Year Coma

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Cliff Greene, 49, who had been unconscious since falling from a scaffold four years and one month ago, died in the Veterans Administration hospital at nearby Swannanoa yesterday. For 1,490 days he could neither speak nor move, and couldn't even open his mouth to eat. He was fed through a stomach tube.

More Britons are seeking to emigrate to Canada, London learns. Three main reasons are given—the assisted passage loan, more jobs in Canada, and the high British budget.

Policies Go to the Dogs

Make the Future Safe for Fido — Insure Him

By RENE J. CAPPON

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The insurance business has gone to the dogs here, and if that works out it may go to the cats too.

Two Kansas Citians, Richard R. Nelson and Gordon J. Raebe, are offering policies covering hospital expenses for pooches who fall ill, are wounded in brawls, or come too close to a car.

Nelson said a similar project may be worked out for cats if the dog insurance goes according to plan.

Since there are no risk tables for hounds, insurance men Nelson and Reabe spend several months plodding doggedly through records of five local veterinarians covering 10,000 pets before setting their premiums.

"We've set the premium low enough—$15, a year—for an owner to be interested," Nelson said.

The policies go on sale today. They're being written by the Employers Mutual Casualty Co. of Des Moines. Nelson predicted they would soon be available in all 48 states.

PROVIDES FOR EXPENSES

The plan provides for such expenses as hospitalization, surgery, X-rays, laboratory fees and drugs resulting from a dog's illness or accident.

Coverage is available through licensed veterinary hospitals for dogs from 6 months to 10 years of age. It pays up to $75 for one hospitalization, with a limit of $150 during the policy term.

The first $10, or $20 per cent of the claim—whichever is greater—is deductible, on the principle of auto insurance.

Reabe figures the insurance will prove a boon to ailing dogs.

"You know how folks will rush poor old Grandpa to the hospital when he's critically ill, then as soon as he's past the crisis they'll tell the doctor, 'We'd like to take him home, it's costing us $18 a day.'

"Well, people do the same things with their dogs, and with insurance they won't have to."

Anti-Red Forces Active

TAIPEI (AP) — The Tatao News Agency today claimed that anti-Communist guerrilla forces had become increasingly active in the mountains of Red China's southern Sinkiang province, bordering Tibet. The agency, run by the Nationalist Interior Ministry and claiming underground contacts on the mainland, said the guerrillas now numbered 4,00

Derek Mason, aged 16, fell 90 feet from the seventh story of a flat in London, after his girl friend died in a hospital. A pile of coke broke his fall. He suffered from shock and concussion.

Lenten Guideposts — Quaker Discipline

Mother of Actress Finds Contentment in Silence

By HEDDA HOPPER
Famous Actress and Author

All of us think ours is the sweetest mother in all the world. Which is very admirable of everybody. But the fact is, I had the sweetest mother in all the world . . .

She was pretty and she was gay. She was feminine, yet she had the grit of a bulldog and the strength of a tower. She was witty, yet retiring. She was motherly, yet she had a wide streak of adventure. She was, as I say, the most perfect mother that could be imagined.

I think, perhaps, her Quaker upbringing was what set her apart and brought out with particular lustre her every virtue. No discipline or self-mastery quite equals that of Quaker training. Nor does any system of religion so thoroughly acquaint a man or woman with personal faults and inner evil, or help a person to turn liabilities of self into assets.

HEDDA HOPPER

Take me, for example—only my own Quaker discipline as a child, I am convinced, could teach me not only to control, to some measure, but to use constructively my natural tendencies, for I am extraordinarily impulsive, extravagant emotionally as well as literally, and given to being headlong and reckless. There are few spiritual practices as salutory, as rich and rewarding, as the Quaker habit of Quiet Time—silence—meditation.

* * *

Oddly enough, an object lesson of silence was cruelly pointed up in my mother's life for she became deaf. Without wimper or protest she accepted her cross and accommodated herself to life without sound.

I could not in the least afford it, but I woke one day determined to buy my mother hearing equipment. I pawned one precious ring that was left and took her to be fitted—for the best.

* * *

She was so grateful for the equipment, so sweet — her eyes shining with appreciation. But I realized, soon, she rarely used it! Often she would hastily put it on as I came into the room. It became very clear to me that the whole business was just no go!

* * *

Mother protested that the aid was perfect. The makers agreed. "Darling," mother took my hand one evening. "It isn't the earphone—it's the people."

"I can't bear to hear them!" She shook her head sadly. "I had forgotten, Hedda, how they talked. I had forgotten the awful things people say!"

"Awful things?" I echoed, trying to recall any possible indecent or shady conversation.

* * *

"Oh the back-bjting and criticism, the mean digs at each other." My mother's eyes reflected her unhappiness. "Take that little Hollywood star who was here last night. She's young and beautiful and has everything to make her life worthwhile. Yet 15 times during dinner she found fault with someone or something. Fifteen times in one hour! I counted them."

* * *

She took off the ear phones and pressed them into my lap.

"Take them away, Hedda," she pleaded. "I wish, my darling, you could get your money back—I know they were an expensive gift, but give them to someone who has to earn a living and is forced to listen to her fellowman. I seem to understand everything my children say, to me, and that's all I care to hear."

Having unloaded hershelf at last, my mother sat up and beamed, her gay self once more.

* * *

My mother lived 20 years in her preferred world of silence. She would nod and smile with all of us, happy with an inward glow that blessed us all. We knew she thought only the best of us. Before mother we were our best because she called it forth from us.

* *

I told all this one time to a great friend of mine, Bernard Baruch. Whenever he is asked embarrassing questions he turns off his hearing aid and truthfully replies, "I'm sorry, my dear, I cannot hear you."

Then like my mother, he quotes: "'What you are speaks so loudly, I can't hear what you say!'"

Seek Bomb in Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Police conducted a room by room search of Cedars of Lebanon Hospital when an anonymous telephone caller said a bomb had been planted in the building. No explosive was found.

Suspected Conductor Resigns Aussie Post

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Sir Eugene Goossens announced today he is giving up his duties temporarily as conductor of the Sydney Symphony Orchestra because of ill health.

* * *

Goossens announced he had been relieved temporarily of the symphony post at his own request and also as director of the New South Wales State Conservatory of Music.

* * *

Customs officials and vice squad detectives questioned the noted 62-year-old British musician for seven hours Friday after he arrived from a European tour. Subsequently they seized about 1,100 photographs, three books dealing with sex matters and four soft rubber half-face masks found in his luggage.

Foes Become Friends

LAWNDALE, Calif. (AP) — The best of friends are Mrs. Amy Kendig's pets, Dugan, Razma and Bouncy. They eat from the same plate and sleep in the same bed, she says. Dugan is a cat, Razma a white rat and Bouncy a dog.
