Pontiac General to Give Answer on County Offer

Hint Trustees to OK Use of Contagious Hospital During Building Project

An answer is expected "within a week or 10 days" from Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees on an offer from Oakland County Board of Supervisors to lease the Contagious Hospital during the city hospital's building program.

All indications point to the acceptance of the offer. Board members pointed out at last night's monthly meeting.

Board Vice Chairman Willis M. Brewer said a study was being prepared by Miss Lauretta Paul, hospital director, and the Joint Conference Committee, as to what services would be transferred to the county hospital.

Board members met yesterday with a special committee of the supervisors to discuss the offer and to tour the Contagious Hospital.

"I believe it is the feeling of all of us that the county is genuinely interested in providing these facilities to us," Trustee Harold S. Goldberg summarized.

The offer, made Oct. 1, stipulates that the city hospital would pay an undetermined rent and operating expenses of the Contagious Hospital for 18 months, or until its new addition is completed.

The county in turn would pay a per diem rate for any county patients treated at the Contagious Hospital.

The question was raised last night as to how many beds would be appropriated to Pontiac General.

"Some of these problems that have to be ironed out," according to Goldberg, "will be discussed at a second meeting with the county officials."

"The facilities are ours if we want them," Goldberg emphasized.

Warm Day to Greet Small Game Hunters

The vicinity of Pontiac will be fair tonight, with a low of 48 to 52 degrees predicted by the U.S. Weather Bureau.

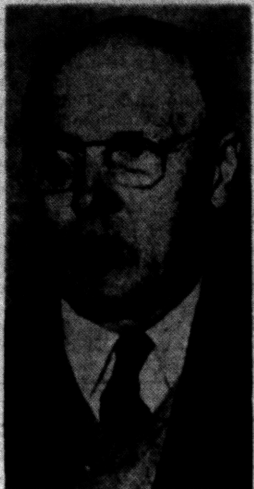

Tomorrow will be cloudy and warmer for the opening of Michigan's small game hunting season. A high of 70 to 74 is expected for downtown Pontiac.

Last night in downtown Pontiac, the low was 40. The mercury inched up to 63 degrees at 1 p.m. today.

Receive Nobel Prizes

AWARD WINNERS — Two American physicians — Dr. Andre F. Cournand (left) and Dr. Dickinson W. Richards — yesterday were named co-winners of the Nobel prize in medicine and physiology. The two were honored for sharing in the development of a method for making direct observation inside the human heart with the aid of a catheter. Both are on the faculty at Columbia University.

Arms Plant Blast Kills 4, Injures 12 in Norway Cave

OSLO, Norway (AP)—At least four persons perished and a dozen were hurt in an explosion today at an atom-bombproof government ammunition works dug into the mountains 65 miles north of Oslo.

A spokesman for the Rausfoss works said four bodies had been recovered three hours after the blast occurred.

Start to Unsnarl Underpass Jam

State Road Department, to Straighten Curves, Put in Sidewalk

State Highway Department traffic engineers yesterday started work on improving the detour at Telegraph road and Orchard Lake avenue. Don R. MacDonald, chairman of the Roads Committee of the County Board of Supervisors, said today.

MacDonald announced yesterday George M. Foster, deputy highway commissioner, has agreed to improve the detour around the half-finished underpass just west of the intersection, intended to carry traffic on the relocated Telegraph road.

Improvements will include widened pavement, easing of two sharp curves in the road, installation of a sidewalk and surveys for a special three-way traffic light to allow left turns off Orchard Lake avenue, Foster promised.

He said a third lane will be installed for left turns. Work on the underpass has been stalled for a month. Highway Department officials have blamed the recent strike, which they said has delayed steel delivery for the job.

Potent Potion Produces Pickled Pigs

ATASCADERO, Calif. (AP)—Did you know that water and barley and pigs produces pickled pigs? Neither did Jim Bentley, an Atascadero farmer, until yesterday.

Bentley thinks a lot of his three pigs. He gave them a special treat of barley soaked in water. Later he tried to herd them into their pen and found they couldn't move; just stared at him stupidly.

So Bentley rushed to the telephone and called a veterinarian. "Humph," said the vet after a quick look. "They're not sick, just drunk."

2 Die, 1 Saved in Lake St. Clair

Survivor Clings to Boat 9 Hours in Icy Waters Awaiting Help

DETROIT (AP)—Two men drowned and a third was rescued "more dead than alive" after clinging desperately for nine hours to an overturned boat in choppy, wind-blown Lake St. Clair yesterday.

Gilbert Metry, 26, the survivor, told of seeing his father-in-law and a friend tire of clinging to the bobbing boat and drown.

Victims of the fishing expedition were Charles Albert, 68, a fruit rancher from Reedley, Calif., and Martee Baro of Grosse Pointe.

Albert was Metry's father-in-law. He and his wife had been visiting the Metry house for two weeks.

Metry, an attorney, was rescued by a passing cruiser and taken to a nearby Mt. Clemens Hospital, where his condition was listed as "only fair."

When Thomas W. Cross of Mt. Clemens, and two fishing companions plucked Metry from the water, Cross said he "was more dead than alive" and "told us he couldn't have lasted another 10 minutes."

Metry said he, Albert and Baro went fishing in a 14-foot outboard motorboat. When the water became rough the other two panicked and stood up, causing the boat to overturn, he said.

"The three of us," he said, "clung to the boat but in about 30 minutes Albert slipped under the water. Baro held out until about three hours before I was picked up. It was awful watching his strength give out. I tried to hold him above water, but I was just too tired."

300 YARDS AWAY

Metry said he yelled at more than a dozen passing boats, some of which came within 300 yards, but his calls were drowned out by high winds.

Cross, Dorn Martell of Port Huron and Levi Yerks of Mt. Clemens finally passed close enough to hear him. They whipped around the cruiser from which they were fishing and pulled him aboard more than 2 1/2 miles from land.

Metry's wife, Eva, 28-year-old mother of two, and Albert's wife were treated for shock at the hospital.

Baro, a real estate operator is survived by his widow, Augusta. Metry is an attorney and claim adjuster for an insurance company.

Mother and Son at Moore Trial

AT MURDER TRIAL — Photographed before the third-day opening of the first degree murder trial of Howard Wayne Moore today were (l-r) his attorney, Carl Ingraham of Birmingham, and his mother, Mrs. Minnie Fairchild of Oxford. Moore, (right) took the witness stand today in the trial following the assault and murder of Martha Little, 3, of Lake Orion.

Ziem Questions Accused Killer on 'Confession'

'Anything Is Possible After a Few Drinks,' Suspect Testifies

Howard Wayne Moore voluntarily took the stand during trial this morning defending himself by saying, "I did not kill Martha Little."

After telling his story as a witness in his own behalf, Moore was pounced on by Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, who lead the accused sex-slayer question by question through his alleged confession.

The confession, which Moore has repudiated, had been read by Ziem during the first two days of the first-degree murder trial.

Answering in a tight voice, sometimes in whispers, Moore declared he had confessed because "anything is possible when I've been drinking."

The 24-year-old furnace repairman is accused of beating Martha, his Lake Orion neighbor's three-year-old daughter, to death with a fire-iron after molesting her July 27.

The girl's body was found next day off a deserted lovers' lane 11 miles from home. Moore, arrested the night before (Friday), alleged drove her there in his car. His confession came Saturday.

During examination by his counsel, Carl Ingraham of Birmingham, Moore earlier today testified he confessed after hours of questioning when he was "sick and felt rotten."

"They (the detectives) kept asking me, 'Is it possible you hit Martha with a fire-iron,' and I answered, 'It's possible.' That's the way the confession went."

EXPECT PSYCHIATRIST

After Moore's cross-examination is concluded, Ingraham is expected to ask a psychiatrist to the stand to testify Moore is insane.

He is Dr. L. Jerome Fink, former Army psychiatrist and assistant superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, who at a sanity hearing last month testified Moore has suffered "a split personality for five to ten years."

Moore began his testimony describing briefly events after he had left work in mid-afternoon. He said he had his car parking lights repaired and visited his mother in (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Fresh Attacks From Both Sides

Ike, Adlai Scrapping Harder

Stevenson Lashes President's Aides, Especially Nixon

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson launched a fresh attack on President Eisenhower's aides today.

It came as his campaign manager was saying the presidential race has reached the point where "neither side is gaining" and victory could be achieved by winning over the "undecided" voters.

Stevenson fired a new broadside at Vice President Nixon, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and several other Cabinet members.

The Democratic presidential nominee said in an advance text of a talk here that as one example "a vote for Eisenhower is a vote for (Secretary of Agriculture) Benson, whose friendship for the farmer depends on the proximity of an election."

Stevenson's return to the assault of the men around Eisenhower appeared to be related to a decision of his strategists that while they believe they have halted any political gains by the President, Stevenson's prospects also have leveled off.

James E. Finnegan, Stevenson's campaign manager, said in his opinion the presidential contest has reached the point where voters who list themselves as undecided will tip the balance next month.

Coming from a two-day swing through Michigan and Ohio, Stevenson ripped into Eisenhower's statement that Nixon is the "best qualified man to serve" as vice president.

Asserting that the Republican congressional leaders value Eisenhower as a candidate but ignore him as a party leader, Stevenson said that if Eisenhower is re-elected, "the Republican party leadership team will take over."

This Vodka Story Packs Punch for Reds

NEW YORK (INS)—An American liquor company claims Russia did not originate vodka, its national drink.

Publicizer Distillers Products said it had historical and scientific proof that the drink came from the American continent.

John L. Lehan, Publicizer executive vice president, declared vodka started as a distillate known as "Chakta" in Peru. It was carried to the North American Continent and then transmitted by the Norsemen to Europe in the 11th century, he added.

The company challenged the Soviets to rebut their claim.

Pot-O-Gold Gains Weight; 7,167 Entries Miss Clues

Although 7,167 qualifying entries were received for Pot-O-Gold puzzle No. 19, no winning solution was found, so now this week's puzzle is worth $200.

Besides those entries, 28 others were mailed in envelopes, and 74 were late. As we've said many times, none of these count and are not checked for correct answers.

There's still time to get this week's puzzle in before the deadline, on Tuesday, so turn to page 27, check the rules carefully and try your luck and intellect at finding a winning solution.

Explanations for the correct solution to Puzzle No. 19 appears on page 27.

Airport Runway Dedication Set

Open 4,000-Foot Strip Oct. 28, Making Field Safer for Larger Planes

Dedication of Pontiac Municipal Airport's new 4,000-foot runway will be Sunday, Oct. 28, at 3 p.m., Homer C. Hoskins, airport manager, announced yesterday.

Tentative plans are for some 10 corporation-owned aircraft from the larger DC-3 to single-engine planes to line the east-west strip during the ceremony.

Mayor William W. Donaldson is expected to head a delegation of city commissioners and officials. The mayor will be invited to cut a ribbon officially opening the longest strip at the city field.

Commissioners and officials will then load into planes to be the first to take off and land on the runway.

SAFE FOR LARGE PLANES

The new strip has just recently been completed. With 2,000-foot clear approaches at both Airport and Williams Lake roads, the large 8,000-foot stretch will allow for larger planes to use the local field with safety.

Due to Civil Aeronautics administration and state regulations, airport officials have warned the public that they will be prohibited from entering the airstrip where the ceremony will take place.

They added that the public may park in the airport lot and witness the landing and take-offs of the participating planes.

Everyone Asks --- How Long Can It Last?

When an area has been waiting, shivering, most of the summer for sunny days and warm temperatures, sometimes things get a little unusual when the decent weather arrives.

Like shopping for Halloween favors in Bermuda shorts . . .

Or washing and waxing the car, when, by the calendar, you should be checking the anti-freeze.

As enticing as the current warm spell is, it brings a secret, furtive, smile and a hurry-up gait to many area residents.

"It's here, it's wonderful, . . . but how long will it last?"

Dad pulls out the golf clubs he forgot to clean up before he put them away. After he loses three balls in the middle of leafy fairways, he puts them back.

Youngsters find out that perspiring skins and leaf piles combine to form all-over itches, which doesn't occur in cooler climes.

The first-time lawn sower is wreathed in smiles . . . The kibitzers said "It's too late now. You're wasting your seed and time," but it keeps coming up.

Football fans shade their eyes with programs, and talk of "the old days, when it was 20 degrees above, and the teams played in a snowstorm."

College grads reminisce of fall afternoons when classes were cut, and two-member expeditions sought bittersweet along the multi-colored paths.

Window-staring becomes an art again, as it did with the first warm days of spring.

But the household efficiency experts are not thrown off the track by these last lingering touches of enjoyable outdoor time. The overshoes are still being resurrected and inspected.

That extra blanket stands ready at the foot of the bed, and every morning brings the questioning peek at the early light—is it really over?

Truman Talks in Indiana

Hits Ike's Foreign Policy, Nixon's Voting Record

GARY, Ind. (AP)—Former President Truman says the Republicans are offering a vice-presidential candidate "who could never possibly be elected president in his own right."

"They are offering a man who has neither the qualifications nor the standing in the eyes of his fellow citizens to hold that exalted office," Truman said in a campaign speech here last night.

He said Vice President Nixon has a voting record "consistently against the interests of the worker, the farmer and small business."

"If any man or woman in America will take the trouble to study Nixon's record, and then goes out and votes the Republican ticket this fall—well, someone ought to take him to see a psychiatrist."

Truman said Democrats are offering candidates for president and vice president either of whom "is well qualified to hold the office of president." He said Adlai Stevenson had "demonstrated he is a fighter when the country's welfare is at stake."

Truman said President Eisenhower allowed the Russians to get a foothold in the Eastern Mediterranean and could have prevented it.

"This is something the Russians have been trying to do for 300 years, since the time of Peter the Great," he said. "The Western nations have long tried to prevent this because they knew it would jeopardize the security not only of all Europe but of America as well."

"This did not have to happen. It could have been prevented by the President of the United States. I prevented it when I was president—that's what the doctrine of aid to Greece and Turkey was all about. But you can't prevent things like that if the President leaves his foreign policy up to a secretary of state who flits about all over the world with his foot in his mouth."

Gas Blast Injures 15 at American Motors

KENOSHA, Wis. (INS)—The American Motors Co. plant at Kenosha, scene of a gas explosion yesterday which injured 15 workers, resumed full operations today.

Six persons still were hospitalized with second and third-degree burns suffered in the explosion and flash fire that followed. Nine others were treated.

The explosion occurred in the large motor testing room. Officials said natural gas piped into the room escaped unnoticed from a crack in the pipe and ignited when an engine was started.

A flash fire threatened all 129 workers in the room for a time, but it was quickly extinguished and actual property damage was slight.

All 3,000 employees of the plant were given the day off.

Fills Orders for Hobby

Retirement Means Work
— but It's a Pleasure

MOUNT CLEMENS — At 72, white-haired Conrad Kothe jokes that he "doesn't smoke, drink or bother the women" but retirement finds him busy filling orders for his hobby.

People beat a path to Kothe's garage workshop to buy the sturdy inlaid wood tables he designs and builds at his St. Clair Shores home.

Kothe is a metal finisher by trade but got into wood working two years ago because his daughter needed some new furniture.

Using such ordinary tools as a power saw and electric sander, Kothe bought stock at a nearby lumber yard and supplied his daughter with desks, end tables, chairs and cabinets.

Workers at the lumber yard were intrigued with Kothe's table designs and careful workmanship. They asked if he would make some tables for them to buy.

"Time I have," said Kothe, "so we agreed that they would furnish the materials and I would do the work."

Working in his unheated garage — "I'll move to the basement when the weather gets cold" — Kothe turns out tables with intricately inset blocks of birch, maple, walnut and cherry in varied designs.

He glues the inlaid blocks, three inches square, together in sections and sets them on plywood five-eighths of an inch thick, cut in regulation card table size.

The tables are sturdy, Kothe, leaning his full weight on a finished product to demonstrate, said, "you break your knuckles if you get mad playing cards and slam your fist down."

Kothe has branched out in his design work, adding diamonds, checkerboards or plain wood insets "all according to the way I feel."

He also offers two sets of legs so that the same table can be used either for cards or as a coffee table.

Sample prices are $15 for a birch table with one set of legs and $25 for one in walnut with two sets of legs.

"I sell them for what the materials cost and money spent on gas," Kothe says. "I'd get nuts pretty fast if I just had to sit around. I just want something to do."

He added, "I don't go out much. I don't enjoy boozing it up, and it seems like you're not one of the crowd unless you do."

Kothe doesn't think he'll ever run furniture companies out of business taking care of orders.

"I don't want to get rich," he said. "I wouldn't have time to spend a lot of money anyway. But I do have time to pass."

D&C Boat Made Into Resort Hotel

DETROIT (INS) — Plans to open one of the ships of the vanished Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Co. as a resort hotel in Tawas City about Nov. 1 were disclosed yesterday.

Robert Rosen, president of Lake Shore Steel, Inc., and co-owner of the ships, said the Western States will become a year-around resort. He said $150,000 has been spent to completely remodel the 350-foot paddle steamer.

Rosen and his partner, Abraham Siegel, president of the Siegel Iron and Metal Co., also disclosed plans to scrap the Greater Detroit, the world's largest sidewheel steamer, if buyers for the luxurious ship cannot be found.

Two smaller companion ships, the City of Detroit III and the Eastern States, are in the process of being scrapped.

State Policing Towns

HARTFORD, Conn. — The State police commission has contracts with 11 Connecticut towns for the services of State policemen, one of whom will be based in each of the towns. The plan was authorized by legislation providing that any town lacking its own organized police protection might enter into an agreement for the services of one State officer.

Vote Changes at Walled Lake

Raise Substitute Pay, Approve Paving, Buses for Parochial Students

WALLED LAKE — Paving near the school on Decker road, raise in substitute pay scale, and parochial use of some school buses were among items approved by the Walled Lake Board of Education this week.

The board agreed to pay for paving Decker road at the school, as other property owners are doing by assessment.

Substitute teachers will receive $15 per day rather than $12, retroactive to Oct. 2.

A total of 78 parochial students living in various areas of the district began riding the buses this week. The plan is only on junior high runs, is only as long as there is space on the buses, and is subject to board review and change at any time, the board directed.

A survey of school property for valuation was ordered.

Appointments included Julius Nelson as the board's member on the area tenure committee; Mrs. Mary Agar and Mrs. Marie Zink with tenure contracts, and Florence Mills and William Floto, on probationary contracts, and Ronald Rentschler as social studies senior high teacher.

Rentschler replaces Murray Adams, new junior high principal. A replacement for James Brown, whose resignation as of Nov. 1 was accepted, is being sought.

Consolidated to Start Mains

Firm Reveals Installation to Begin Late This Week in Milford

MILFORD — Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. announced today that it plans to begin installing natural gas mains in Milford late this week. Residents approved the gas franchise for the company at a special election in August.

Henry Tuttle, president of the gas company, said that natural gas is available for house heating and other domestic uses, adding that the availability of a large supply of natural gas will also help the village attract such new industry as it may desire.

The 8,000 feet of eight-inch supply line will connect Milford directly to Michigan Consolidated's two 24-inch pipe lines which run from the company's underground storage fields in central Michigan to Detroit.

A receiving station at Rowe and Milford roads will be constructed at a cost of $30,000 which will meter, odorize and regulate the flow of natural gas into the village.

Gas mains, ranging from four to eight inches in diameter, will run along sections of 30 village streets and Michigan Consolidated will also install more than 28,000 feet of service pipe from the gas mains into shops and homes.

Nearly 350 applications for service were signed after the company had dispatched ten men to conduct a survey here. The record show that more than 900 building owners within the village limits are potential gas customers.

Pointing to the heavy demand in Milford for space heating gas, Tuttle said, "Michigan Consolidated expects to serve 500 homes here within a year, and looking to the future, we expect to have 1,200 gas customers in Milford within five years."

Milford's gas distribution system will be part of the company's Ann Arbor District operation and will be under the direction of District Manager Charles R. Henderson of Ann Arbor.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Samul of Richmond, was attended by his brother, Paul, and by Joseph Lipior, of Richmond, also by the bride's brothers, Kenneth and John Lang Jr. Duane Lang of North Branch and Clyde Berlinger of Inlay City seated the guests.

The bridal party and families participated in a noon wedding

Oakland Farmers Back Anti-Erosion Program

Farmers in Oakland County have increased their support of conservation programs here, and loss of soil and water through erosion was reduced on 316 acres due to strip cropping in the last year and a half, says a federal official here.

Merrill Ray, work unit conservationist of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service in Pontiac says the acres will be better protected in years to come, as the water saved begins to bring about increased yields with more organic matter being put back in the land.

"Our program was taken up by 45 farmers in the same period," says another official, Harold Mitchell of the Oakland County Soil Conservation District.

The SCS is working to give complete soil and water conservation

Hey Sports Fans, Win Free Trip to Russia

WASHINGTON (INS) — Would you like to win a ten-day, all expenses paid trip to Russia?

Adopting the western radio gimmick, the quiz program, Moscow radio is offering its listeners — wherever they may live — the free trip as first prize in an "Olympic quiz."

Writer Defends Archers' Use of Camouflage

A gun hunter who also enjoys deer hunting with bow and arrow takes issue with outdoor writer Patterson on some recent observations about bow hunting.

Says Richard Hirnstein of Drayton Plains:

"Seems I had just discovered another avid gun hunter and archer-hater. Every sport has its tenderfoots as the 'stillhunters' and 'roadhunters'."

"The woman hunter, however, didn't show lack of hunting sense. I have seen deer in shooting range while walking across fields in bow-season."

Hirnstein wrote that while wearing camouflage, "deer came within 20 feet of us. Over several years we have found it to be invaluable."

"I hunt with both gun and bow, and enjoy one as much as the other."

Hillsdale Has Best Defensive Record

NEW YORK (AP)—Hillsdale of Michigan, with five consecutive 1956 victories and a string of 21 in a row, thus far has exhibited the best football defense of any of the nation's smaller colleges.

The Dules of the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Assn. (MIAA) have allowed 1956 opponents a meager average of only 87.6 yards per game.

Statistics on the smaller colleges were released yesterday by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. (NCAA) service bureau.

An added award will be the autographed photographs of Soviet winners at the Olympic games.

Contestants are asked to name the winners in the following Olympic events: soccer, hammer throwing, 100-meter weight lifting, 10,000-meter race for men, water polo and 50-meter hurdles for women.

All answers must be sent to Moscow by Nov. 22, Moscow radio said in a broadcast recorded here.

Wings Still Unbeaten, Tied 3-3

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings still are the only unbeaten team in the National Hockey League. But the Toronto Maple Leafs hung a 3-3 tie on the league leaders at Olympia Stadium last night.

The Red Wings managed a tie only in the last 40 seconds when Gordie Howe rammed home his first goal of the 1956 season.

DETROIT, thanks to triumphs in its three previous games, now leads Toronto and New York by three points. The Maple Leafs pulled in to a second-place tie with the New York on the point it got for the tie.

The Maple Leafs came from behind twice to tie the score last night and moved ahead 3-2 midway in the final period on Ron Stewart's breakaway goal while shorthanded.

Capt. Red Kelly and Howe time was running out. Kelly fed Howe a short pass and Gordie rammed it home past goalie Ed Chadwick at 19:20.

That gave Detroit a tie and Toronto bitter disappointment.

The Maple Leafs outshot the Red Wings, 38-25, and still haven't been beaten on the road this season.

Larry Hillman got Detroit off ahead in the first period with a screened 55-footer. But Gerry James offset this early in the second period when he slipped through the Detroit defense, took Jim Thomson's deflected shot and rammed the puck home from five feet out.

Defenseman Marcel Pronovost got the Red Wings back in front, 2-1, shortly afterward, canning the 5th shot from a prolonged goal-mouth scramble.

Dick Duff, however, evened it again early in the final period as he scored with George Armstrong's rebound.

Then Toronto went ahead, 3-2, as Stewart soloed 120 feet and beat Detroit goalie Glenn Hall from 20 feet out. Maple Leaf Gary Ald-corn was in the penalty box at the time.

The Howe-Kelly combination then came up with the tie-clincher.

Ted Sloan, Toronto's leading scorer, missed the final two periods. He was hit in the eye with a stick early in the game and it puffed shut.

U. of D. Cagers Start Practice

DETROIT—All-America candidate Bill Ebben led a varsity squad of 15 candidates in the opening of basketball practice at the University of Detroit this week and appeared to have lost none of the scoring touch that gave him an average of 23.6 points per game last winter.

Coach Bob Calihan has two other lettermen on hand besides Ebben. They are center Don Haase, who was second in the lean Chicago forward both in scoring and rebounding last season, and guard Mike Walsh.

World series umpires get 60 balls before each game. Once the limit was two.

GOAL ATTEMPT FAILS — Good defensive action on the part of the Toronto Maple Leafs foiled this first period try by Detroit Red Wing Ted Lindsay (7). Active in the defense of the goal are Leaf's goalie Ed Chadwick, defenseman Tom Horton (center) and defenseman Jim Morrison. The game ended in a 3-3 tie.

Teachers to Study Atom Science at UM

LANSING (AP) — Thirty-two Michigan science teachers will meet at the University of Michigan next week to seek improved instructional material and teaching aids dealing with nuclear science.

The workshop is the first project financed under a $20,000 grant just received from the U.S. Office of Education. The conference is part of the Michigan Civil Defense education pilot project.

The science teachers, representing some 30 school districts, will be told of the latest developments in the nuclear field. The use of instruments to detect atomic radiation also will be outlined.

The conference is designed to assist schools in meeting their share of responsibility in the Civil Defense effort and to teach youngsters and adults how to act intelligently in the face of atomic hazards.

Reds Report Shortages of Winter Clothing

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda today reported shortages in winter clothing in many regions of the Soviet Union with cold weather approaching.

The article, broadcast by Moscow radio, reprimanded government ministers in charge of the factories for turning out summery outfits when winter clothes were needed.

Undeveloped Antibiotic Drug May Solve the 'Big Three' Plagues of Childhood

WASHINGTON (INS) — The next breakthrough in man's fight to conquer diseases may come against the "big three" plagues of childhood—measles, mumps and chicken pox.

And the weapon used to tame these non-fatal, but misery-making diseases will be an as-yet undeveloped antibiotic drug.

Dr. Henry Welch, director of the Food and Drug Administration's division of antibiotics, and other scientists attending the FDA's antibiotics symposium in Washington, today gave INS this forecast.

They made these points:

1. Antibiotics — the so-called wonder drugs — have been able to control a host of bacteria-caused infections in their 13 years of use. Some antibiotics have been found effective against infections caused by "large" viruses, particularly virus pneumonia.

Although there are many technically involved differences between bacteria and viruses, and between viruses, one easy distinction is by size; bacteria are larger.

2. The next aim of research is to find an antibiotic that can seek out and control or destroy smaller-sized viruses, like measles, mumps and chicken pox viruses.

Dr. Welch emphasized that such a drug would not prevent any of the "big three" from occurring but could be used as soon as the infection was spotted.

This means that measles, for example, could be stopped in its tracks and rolled back before it ran its usual four to five-day course. At present, antibiotic drugs are given to victims of the "big three" to prevent secondary infections.

The number of measles, mumps and chicken pox cases current in any one week throughout the nation give some idea of what a boon this breakthrough would be for harried parents and sick children.

Hospital Insurance Protects 6,200,000

NEW YORK (INS) — The Health Insurance Council reports that the number of people in Michigan, who are covered by voluntary health insurance, reached a new high by Sept. 30.

As of that date, the council estimates 6,200,000 persons were protected by some form of insurance designed to help pay hospital and doctor bills.

The council added there were 5,869,000 persons covered by hospital expense insurance in Michigan as of Dec. 31, 1955. This represents a gain of 495,000 over the 1954 total.
