County Expands Handicapped School Facilities

Oakland Launches Plan Made Possible by Tax Voted by Citizens

Facilities for educating all types of handicapped children in Oakland County have been expanded 70 per cent over last year, County Superintendent of Schools William J. Emerson said yesterday.

Emerson was interviewed by State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) as part of the lawmaker's efforts on behalf of a joint Senate-House interim committee.

The committee has been investigating problems of the state's mentally deficient with particular emphasis on children. It hopes to recommend steps to the Legislature at the coming session toward expanding the state's system of care.

Oakland this month launched an expanded program of schooling handicapped children made possible by a special tax voted by county citizens.

"The people of Oakland are now raising more money than any other county for educating the handicapped," said Emerson.

The county's program, however, starts with a large backlog, he explained.

Last year facilities were available to handle only one-third of the handicapped. "At the present rate it will take at least five years to overcome the backlog and even longer if many families move into the county purposely to avail themselves of the plan."

120 PER CENT INCREASE

Questioned by Broomfield about mentally deficient children in particular, Emerson said facilities for educating them have been increased 120 per cent over last year.

"Our major problem is securing enough classrooms and personnel," the superintendent explained. "If these were readily available the system for mentally deficient might have been expanded 180 per cent instead of 120."

Persons qualified to instruct handicapped youngsters must have a highly technical and specialized training, Emerson stated. "We went all the way to

Name New County Personnel Director

The Oakland County Board of Auditors today named a new county personnel director.

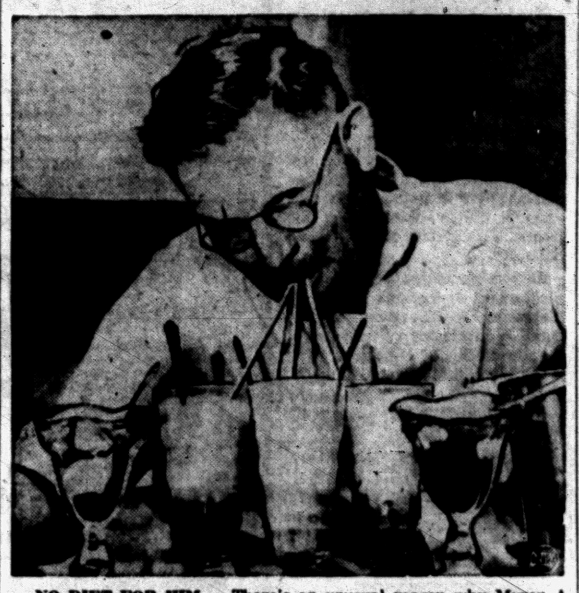

John Witherup will succeed Carl Johnson who resigned recently to accept an administrative post with Washtenaw County.

Witherup, 30, has been employed as a personnel technician by the Wayne County Civil Service Commission since 1950. He obtained a B.A. degree from Michigan State University in 1949 and took graduate work at MSU and Wayne University.

A native of Wyandotte, the new director with his wife and three children now live in Riverview. They plan to move into Oakland County as soon as possible, said Auditor John C. Austin.

A World War II veteran, Witherup is slated to begin duties Sept. 26.

Between-Meal Snack

NO DIET FOR HIM — There's an unusual reason why Myron A. Hoff, Mondamin, Iowa, feed dealer, is enjoying this between-meal "snack." His prize in a livestock judging contest is a silver dollar for every ounce he weighs. He scales $2,832 worth now, but the official weighing will not be until Nov. 28. So not even the contest sponsor, a Brooklyn, N. Y., manufacturer of animal feed antibiotics, can blame Hoff for extra eating until then.

GOP May Ask Ike's Aid in Replying to Union Blasts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican state chairmen may ask President Eisenhower to call the signals for the GOP's reply to attacks by organized labor leaders on his administration.

John Feikens of Michigan, who brought the delicate labor issue before the GOP state chairmen in their political campaign school here, said today he thinks only Eisenhower can decide what course the party should pursue in answering these attacks.

Feikens said he expects to bring the matter to the President's attention when the state chairmen, winding up their classes today, fly to Denver for a breakfast conference with Eisenhower tomorrow.

Vice President Nixon told the state leaders yesterday that in spite of "certain talks over the Labor Day weekend to the effect that the Republican party is not for the wage earner, the fact is that 65 million workers are earning more, buying more and saving more than at any time in American history."

"I think that simple fact, repeated constantly, can outweigh all the arguments our opponents can dream up," he said.

Nixon obviously was referring to Labor Day attacks on the Republicans by former President Truman and by James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO. Carey criticized what he called the "self-serving, greedy tactics" of the administration, which he said is dominated by "big business and corporation thinking."

Feikens said in an interview he doesn't believe the activities he said some major unions are making in behalf of Democratic candidates can thus be ignored.

"The best weapon we have is disclosure, telling the story of the leaders' activities in behalf of the Democrats in a way that won't alienate the rank and file," he said.

Nixon told the Republicans yesterday that close associates of the President are more optimistic that he will run again than they have been previously.

Ex-Tiger Badly Hurt in Swimming Accident

ORLANDO, Fla. (INS)—Gerald (Gee) Walker former star Detroit Tiger outfielder of the team's 1934 and '35 pennant years, was seriously injured today in a swimming accident at a fishing camp near Orlando, Fla.

Doctors at Orange Memorial Hospital said Walker suffered paralysis on his left side when he hit his head on the bottom of a swimming pool. They said his condition was "satisfactory" and that he was showing improvement.

Soviet, German Leaders Open Moscow Talks

Adenauer Seeks Unity of Nation and Release of War Prisoners

MOSCOW (INS) — The Soviet-West German talks opened in Moscow today with Bonn Chancellor Konrad Adenauer stressing the need for German reunification and the release of German war prisoners.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin in his opening address to the hour-long meeting said that Russia was ready "to exchange opinions" on reunification.

But he warned that serious obstacles had arisen from the Paris agreements whereby West Germany was being rearmed.

The first working session of the four or five-day conference was held this morning in the marble-walled room of Spiridonovka Palace.

According to the West German news agency DPA, Adenauer told Bulganin that normal relations between West Germany and Russia were "unthinkable" as long as the problem of the release of German war prisoners was unsolved.

* * *

As for reunification, the 79-year-old Bonn government chief was quoted as saying it was not his intention to confuse progress towards German reunification by opening up bilateral talks independently of negotiations among the Big Four powers.

"But, it is my urgent duty," Adenauer said, "to make use of this encounter to show you the seriousness of this question."

NO SECURITY

The Chancellor said there could be no real security in Europe without German unity.

Adenauer led off his remarks with a thank you to Bulganin for inviting him to Moscow and said:

"I come here with honest will to conduct talks opening even though it can only be a beginning."

Then, with the comment, "Let's try to get to the root of things," the Chancellor made his com-

Sept. 10 to 18 Designated as National Home Week

America is fast becoming a nation of home owners. Since the end of World War II more and more families have moved into new houses. The home building industry is once more big business.

In honor of the industry that is making it possible for individuals to have a stake in the property on which they live the week of Sept. 10 to 18 has been designated as National Home Week. In a proclamation issued this week in Lansing, Governor G. Mennen Williams insured Michigan's participation with the following words:

"To call nationwide attention to the progress made by the home building industry in providing more and better houses, each year a week in September is designated as National Home Week. It is more than fitting that the citizens of Michigan join in this annual observance.

"Therefore, I, G. Mennen Williams, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby proclaim the week of September 10 through 18, 1955 as Home Week in Michigan, and urge all our citizens to participate in this observance of the progress which our home builders have made."

Man Blows Up Wife and Self

Irate Husband Drags Separated Spouse From Daughter's Home

SHEPHERD, Mich. (AP)—A factory worker, angered by separation from his wife, dragged the struggling woman from her daughter's home yesterday and blew her and himself to bits with dynamite.

With fuses sputtering in the sticks of dynamite he carried in one hand, Versal Dunn, 49, walked into the house, grabbed his wife Blanche, 39, and dragged her into the front yard.

He held her until the dynamite exploded.

A neighbor, Guy Brooks, who witnessed the bizarre slaying, was standing about 100 feet from the scene. He was not injured.

The Dunns separated three weeks ago. Mrs. Dunn brought her four children from their home in Oil City in Midland County to the farm home here of a daughter by a previous marriage, Mrs. Shirley Fisher.

Bickering between Dunn and his wife followed, State Police said.

Brooks said he saw Dunn drive by the Fisher residence several times yesterday. Then he stopped his car and "fumbled around with something."

It was dynamite.

Lighting long fuses attached to two sticks, Dunn walked to the front porch of the Fisher home and called out:

"Blanche, come on out, I want to see you."

When she refused to come out Dunn went in after her.

State Police said they found a note in the glove compartment of Dunn's car stating he planned to slay his wife and kill himself.

Six Persons Hurt in Dixie Collision

Six persons were injured yesterday afternoon in a 3-car collision on the Dixie Highway just north of Walton Boulevard, State Police of the Pontiac Post said.

Listed in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with arm and head cuts is Mildred Fluornoy, 22, of Flint.

She was riding with Leon Jackson, 43, of Detroit, who was treated for cuts and bruises as were two other passengers, Alfred Jenkins, 33, and Floyd Hamilton Jr., both of Detroit.

Also treated for cuts and bruises were drivers Harry Tripp Jr., 33, of Windsor, Ont., and Mrs. Marie Bechtold, 48, of Flint.

Troopers said Tripp, southbound on the Dixie, apparently made a left turn into the path of the other two northbound cars.

Largest Advertisers Favor Visual Media

NEW YORK (AP) — "Millionaire" advertisers—companies whose advertising budgets top a million dollars a year—concentrate more than three-fourths of their expenditures in newspapers, magazines and televison, Printers' Ink magazine said yesterday.

Radio, which as recently as five years ago accounted for almost one quarter of the millionaire advertisers' spending, today gets only one tenth, Printers' Ink reported.

Truman Urges Strength Despite Red Friendliness

CHICAGO (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said today the Communist countries seem to be taking a more peaceful course but that America must keep up its guard until it is sure.

He decried cuts he said the Eisenhower administration is making in the military establishment.

His own administration, he said, began a buildup of the armed forces that "has had much to do with bringing about the attitude of apparent reasonableness on the part of the Communists."

"If we value peace and freedom, we must be strong," he said in an address prepared for the Executives' Club of Chicago, a predominantly Republican group.

His text, primarily about foreign policy, did not refer to President Eisenhower or the Republican party by name.

He said he was speaking as a former president "who learned some important lessons from hard experience."

"The Communists have in recent months seemed, on the surface at least, to desire a lessening of world tensions," he said. ". . . Perhaps the objective we have been pursuing through strength may be beginning to yield concrete results. . . . It is not now possible to tell with certainty, and it probably will not be possible for a long time to come."

Passes Former All-Time Mark Set Last Year

Pontiac High Registers 2,407 Students as Fall Term Opens

Enrollment in Pontiac's public schools set an all-time record yesterday, when 17,065 students registered for first-day classes.

This figure topped by 976 the previous peak opening-day enrollment of 16,089 last year, and was 148 above the all-time high of 16,917 on Sept. 30, 1954.

Pontiac High School reported 2,407 attending, as compared with 2,343 last year. Highest first-day enrollment figures were not available, but the school records showed a Sept. 30 enrollment of 2,730 in 1939.

PHS principal Francis Staley pointed out that enrollments increase daily during the first month, and usually reach a peak by the end of September.

The city's five junior high schools registered 3,988 students —340 more than last year. Eastern Junior High led with approximately 1,100 enrolled; Lincoln had 1,047; Washington, 901; Wever, 618; and Jefferson, 302.

Total elementary students listed were 10,705—an increase of 587 over 1954's opening day. Of this figure, 1,340 were kindergarten pupils, up against 1,753 last year.

Assistant superintendent of schools J. Cecil Cox pointed out that new registrations will be coming in daily for the next few weeks.

There are 27 elementary, junior high and high schools in Pontiac's public school system.

Peron Orders 5 to Surrender

Army General, Four Officers Accused in Plot Against Argentine Chief

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Surrender orders were out today for a general and four other Argentine army officers accused of plotting the fourth conspiracy of the year against President Juan Peron.

In a unique procedure, a notice published on Page 5 of the Peronista newspaper El Epoca ordered Brig. Gen. Delmiro Felix Videla Balaguer and four subordinates of the Rio Cuarto garrison to appear for a hearing on conspiracy charges.

The order seemed to confirm reports of unrest in the garrison, located at a manufacturing and livestock center 350 miles west of Buenos Aires. It also implied that the five officers were not at their posts.

Besides Balaguer, Sosa Molina's order named Col. Juan Bautista Picca, Lt. Col. Raul Adolfo Pablo Picasso, Lt. Col. Carlos Alberto Maria Carabba and Maj. Jorge Manuel Fernandez Funez.

It was the first official indication of disloyalty in the army, which stood by Peron in the abortive June 16 revolt by dissident naval-air elements.

DETROIT (AP) — Harry S. Toy, 63, former Michigan attorney general and state Supreme Court justice, died suddenly today at his home in the Whittier Hotel.

Dondero Says 'Politics' Scuttled Road Program

U. S. Rep. George A. Dondero (R-Royal Oak) told Pontiac Rotarians yesterday that "sheer politics killed the proposed road bills" which were before the 84th Congress this year.

Speaking before about 75 members and guests of the Rotary Club at the Waldron Hotel, the veteran congressman spoke also of the great benefits the state, and this area in particular, will derive from the passage of the St. Lawrence Seaway project.

Congress rejected before adjournment President Eisenhower's 10-year $38,600,000,000 road building program. It also voted down the Democrats' 12-year $50,477,600,000 plan which was to be financed by higher gasoline, tire and other "user" taxes.

"There used to be a time when the two parties could do battle in Washington and at the same time preserve the basic principles of the government and the country," the speaker said. "Nowadays they are not working in this manner."

WILL GO TO ITALY

Dondero will leave late this month for Italy as a member of a committee to attend a world conference on highways.

"I hope we can come back with something new, either by way of cost or construction of highways," the representative said, "for we must enter upon a new era of roads and this is a problem, a great one, which Congress must solve."

This country is far behind in the building of roads because of war, Dondero said. The need for improvement for reasons of national defense and security is great, the lawmaker went on to say.

"I recommended that half the expenditure be paid for by taxes and the other half by issuance of bonds," he said.

"The American people would gladly pay for the expense to improve our nation's overcrowded highways," Dondero added, "for the suggested $25 billion bond issue would not be added to the national debt but would be paid out of taxes on gas."

'PROMISING FUTURE'

The representative, elected 12 times to represent the state's 18th district, said the St. Lawrence Seaway "holds forth a most promising future for those living in this prosperous district."

"It takes 300 imported materials to make one Pontiac automobile and the inland seaway will reduce by 50 per cent costs of materials imported into this area," he said.

"A ship load of automobiles exported to a Baltic port would amount to a saving of $22 and a shipment of machinery by way of the new route would save $262," he stated.

The United States will be able to ship, sell and buy cheaper in the markets of the world because of the construction of the Canadian-U. S. project, the speaker stated.

PRESENTED PEN

To commend Dondero's efforts in the fight in the House of Representatives in support of the seaway bill, President Eisenhower presented Dondero with the pen with which he signed the bill.

"The commerce departments of Canada and the United States report that sufficient traffic will use the canal to pay for it in 50 years and the treasury will not be taxed one cent," he said.

Speaking briefly on the Tennessee Valley Authority, Dondero called it "the biggest example of socialism in our country."

He said private enterprise made this country and will continue to build it and that "the Republicans have taken government out of business and put it back into the hands of private enterprise."

Williams Spoofs Cobo's Chances

He Says Dem's Choice Can Beat GOP's Man for Governor's Chair

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams told newsmen here yesterday the Democrats can beat Detroit's Mayor Albert E. Cobo or any other candidate the Republicans offer for governor in 1956.

* * *

The governor, who was here to address the Michigan Municipal League convention, did not disclose his own political intentions.

Gov. Williams said:

"Whoever the Democratic candidate may be, he will be happy to take on anyone the Republicans can produce whether it's Mayor Cobo or somebody else."

Cobo, who is here for a convention speech tomorrow, chuckled when newsmen told him what Williams had said.

"Well, that's a natural remark," Cobo said. "You wouldn't very well expect him to predict defeat."

Cobo is being boomed by his admirers for the Republican nomination as governor, but he has yet to say whether he will run.

* * *

The newsmen also asked the governor whether he thought "the rigors of the governorship require a man younger than Mayor Cobo."

YOUNGER NOMINEE

Williams, who is 44, was quoted as saying, "It would be helpful if you were younger. Youth, however, is not absolutely essential to the job."

Later the governor issued a statement through his press secretary saying:

"Any remarks attributed to me about Mayor Cobo or concerning his age are false. I did not at any time say anything about him or make reference to his age."

Said Cobo:

"I'm 61 years old but I still could go about as well as anyone I know.

"I still haven't said whether I will be a candidate for governor and I still don't know. But if I run it would be with complete confidence that I would win."

3 Persons Injured in Telegraph Crash

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A one-ton stake truck was completely demolished when it turned over following a three-vehicle collision at the Maple-Telegraph road intersection yesterday, sending three persons to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

Given first aid was the driver of the truck, Joseph A. Zullo, 49, of Cleveland; his passenger, Edward D. Testo, 41, also of Cleveland; and Jantje Vander Meulen, 30, 4835 Hiddenbrook.

* * *

Police said Miss Vander Muelen, going north on Telegraph, attempted a left turn in front of Zullo's southbound truck. Her auto struck the left side of the truck, which then spun around and turned over.

Miss Vander Muelen's car then crashed into a panel truck stopped for a traffic light on East Maple. The driver, Willis J. Debniak, 29, of Drayton Plains, was uninjured.

Realtor's Move Draws Comment

Developer of Shopping Center Drops Request for Annexation

Bloomfield Township was biding its time today as Pontiac officials and merchants puzzled over the significance of the withdrawal of an annexation request by the developers of a shopping center in Bloomfield.

"It leaves us right where we were in the beginning," said Township Supervisor David E. Anderson, "We still have the land."

Yesterday, Bernard Edelman, one of the project's developers, withdrew "temporarily" his annexation request to the Pontiac City Commission. The Commission was scheduled to act on it Tuesday night.

Contacted today, Edelman, a Detroit realtor, said he could not elaborate at this point, but added that "we may within a few days."

Lewis M. Wren, acting city manager, said the first word he received on the withdrawal was in yesterday's Pontiac Press. He could offer no explanation, he said.

Robert J. St. Clair, manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, said the withdrawal was a surprise, but added that he planned to look into the matter.

Anderson said he has received no official word from Edelman or Don M. Casto, a partner in the development, that they plan to proceed with construction with their own water and sewage facilities.

Annexation was sought so the center could be served by Pontiac water and sewage lines.

Germany to get one instructor."

While the county has increased its program, the amount of state aid actually has dropped, Emerson asserted. The state has kept its appropriation at the same level, but the number of children needing specialized training has constantly increased, he explained.

Some $1,150,000 has been spent on the whole program to date—half to build and equip rooms and the rest to operate the program.

FOUR ROOMS ADDED

Last year Pontiac had three 45-pupil classrooms for the handicapped and two 60-capacity rooms. This year four rooms have been added to handle a total 85 more pupils.

Broomfield said the opinion had been suggested to him that the schools could handle more mentally deficient children than they presently do, thus relieving some of the load on state institutions.

The school code divides mentally handicapped into two classes, said Emerson: children who can learn fundamentals and those who cannot.

"A youngster is considered educable if he can learn certain basics, such as reading and speeling," Emerson explained. "He may not even pass the 8th grade, but he can care for himself."

Children who cannot learn such fundamentals are denied school privileges, he said. Emerson advised Broomfield that the law dividing the two classes not be changed. "We still lack space for a great many educable youngsters and I feel it's the first duty of the schools to see to them."

Dec. 25 Opening for Rink Still Anticipated by City

BIRMINGHAM—Meeting briefly last night, Recreation Board members heard a report from City Manager Donald C. Egbert on the progress of Eton Park Ice Skating Rink.

Although a $44,324 mechanical contract awarded two weeks ago was withdrawn by the City Commission this week, a Christmas opening is still anticipated. The contract, originally awarded the Charles R. Beltz Co. of Detroit, was withdrawn on Tuesday and will be re-advertised.

The work involves installation of ice-making machinery and cannot be accomplished until work proceeds on the building, which will house the machinery and serve as a shelter for skaters.

Bids this time will be let on the basis of set specifications which Beltz' bid did not confirm to, according to the architect. Beltz told the Commission his machinery would provide ice more economically.

What City Attorney Forbes Hascall said amounts to an indirect rezoning from a two-family to single-family residence classification on many lots here was brought out at this week's City Commission meeting through a suit filed against the city by Mrs. Alma B. Grimes, 227 W. Frank St.

Since Mrs. Grimes' purchase of her 5,120 square feet of property, the city has amended its zoning orginance, raising lot area requirements to 3,000 square feet per family.

Because of this, the Board of Appeals turned down Mrs. Grimes' request to use her income-bungalow zoned property for that purpose.

Hascall will appear in Oakland County Circuit Court on Sept. 27 to show why a writ of mandamus should not be issued against the city.

Rushed Customer Puts $2 in Car's Engine

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Lavon Stanbery, service manager for a local automobile agency, said mechanics working with a new car couldn't start the engine. After several attempts, including putting gasoline in the tank, they looked under the hood.

There they found wrapped around a wire leading into the distributor were two one dollar bills. Further examination showed the distributor rotor was gone, apparently "bought" by someone in a hurry.

"Whoever it was," chuckled Stanbery, "is due some change."

Hint Boat Thief Drowned

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—State Police are speculating whether the person responsible for the theft of a 19-foot motorboat from the Grand Haven Marina 16 days ago could have drowned in Lake Michigan. Police facts include: The boat, belonging to Bernard Pipes, has not been recovered; an auto abandoned the same night in the Marina parking lot has not yet been reclaimed and police believe an escapee from Boys Vocational School in Lansing, missing since Aug. 22, may have been in the boat.

Church Softens Attack, Proposes Change of Name

HONOLULU (AP) — The 58th General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, having made several moves to soften its attacks on the Roman Catholic Church in South America, today turns its attention to a proposal to change the church name.

* * *

There has been a move to drop the word "Protestant" from the name. The matter normally develops sharp debate, one convention source said.

Less than three hours before the Rt. Rev. Egmont M. Kirschke, bishop of southwest Brazil, was to address a foreign mission meeting last night, the church's public relations office announced there would be several revisions in his prepared text because of "an unfortunate choice of words which gave a false impression."

* * *

The revisions deleted all reference by name to the Roman Catholic Church and toned down the speech to some extent. One phrase in the prepared text declared "Latin peoples have been nurtured in an extremely debased form of Christianity. They are religiously undernourished."

This was changed to "Latin peoples are religiously undernourished."

Reuther Cancels Planned Debate

C. R. Sligh Will Address Press Club of Michigan at Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Charles R. Sligh Jr., former president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers, will speak to the University Press Club of Michigan, September 30, without CIO President Walter Reuther.

Reuther, who was to have debated with Sligh, sent his regrets and said he had to make an unexpected trip to Israel to dedicate a labor hall and was also tied up with talks involving CIO-AFL unity.

Sligh, a Grand Rapids furniture manufacturer, will discuss, "Why Not Supplemental Unemployment Compensation."

Fred S. Smith, acting president of the club and editor of the Evart Review, said housing at the Michigan Union has already been used up and space is being acquired at hotels.

OTHER SPEAKER

Leland Stowe, noted war correspondent and author, will speak following a luncheon and Sligh will speak at a banquet on the night of the club's 38th annual meeting.

Pupils' Race Confused, 'Advised' to Stay Home

SUMTER, S.C. (AP)—The six children of a new Sumter family remained home from school today on the advice of the city school superintendent while officials tried to resolve reported doubts about their race.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. William Ard were barred from white schools yesterday despite birth certificates from nearby Williamsburg County listing them as white.

Meanwhile, about 100 parents of white pupils met at Lemira Elementary School to pledge organized resistance to racial integration here.

City Schools Supt. John L. Southwell said: "There was doubt in some of the parents' minds whether the (Ard) children were Negro or white." The meeting came after two of the Ard children, Douglas Wallace, 8, and Eddie Arnold, 7, enrolled yesterday in the first grade at Lemira school.

Full Nelson Employed in Real Estate Dealing

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP)—It was a full Nelson on a realty deal completed here yesterday.

C. A. Nelson bought a lot on Fort Pierce beach for $3,700 from W. O. Nelson. The broker was Lee Nelson. They are not related.

Are Men Necessary?

Scientists Hint Women Alone Can Maintain Life

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

EAST LANSING (AP) — Consider a world without men, where women are father and mother of children.

This is theoretically possible—but most unlikely—based on experiments with a frog world where females have been eliminated. The males produce all the young tads.

This womanless world of frogs and conceivably manless world of human beings was described today to the American Institute of Biological Sciences by Dr. Emil Witschi and Dr. C. Y. Chang of State University of Iowa.

They experimented with a common type of frog, often used in pregnancy tests. They treated male embryo (still unborn) frogs with a female sex homone. The males all became egg-producing females but were still genetically males.

When the eggs from these sex-reversed frogs are fertilized by sperm from their brothers, or from other male frogs, all the young tadpoles are of male constitution.

But any desired percentage of them can be induced to become "females" by adding a tiny amount of the female sex hormone to the water in which they live. One week of hormone treatment produces the change of apparent sex, for a lifetime.

At this point, for procreation of the colony of frogs, the true genetic females are no longer necessary.

Theoretically it might become possible to do this same thing with animals or conceivably with humans, said Witschie and Chang.

A more likely possibility is predetermination of sex at will in stock animals, to be sure of producing male or female offspring.

If human sex were tampered with like the frogs were, the human male might become unnecessary.

If human emryos could be treated hormonally as were the frogs, only girls would be produced. Some of them might also be induced to have some male characteristics, to contribute the male share of fertilization, but they would not be changed into men. Genetically, they would be females. No true males would be necessary.

Motorists Rate Praise for Safe Driving Record

Our hat is off to motorists who drove in Oakland County over the holiday weekend.

For the second three day weekend of the summer season they established a death free traffic record. Moreover, such good sense and caution were exercised on highways in the County that there were no serious accidents and only the usual number of minor traffic mishaps.

Credit also is due local, County and State law enforcement agencies. With the aid of the National Guard, they co-operated in providing the most complete highway patrol service in the County's history. We also salute the 122 Red Cross volunteers who maintained stationary and roving first aid patrols.

This fine holiday record is all the more remarkable because it came in a period when traffic was unusually heavy over roads completely inadequate to handle such enormous volume. It was noteworthy, too, because elsewhere in the State traffic accidents cost 22 lives.

Nationwide the toll of deaths soared far above the National Safety Council's forecast of 400 holiday fatalities. While below the all time peak, these deaths should stand out as grim reminders to our State and Federal Governments of the imperative need of more and safer highways.

Atoms for Agriculture

An encouraging report on the work atoms can do for farmers comes from the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization.

Among achievements with radiation is the elimination of insect infestations in grain and cereal products. Another is the inhibiting of potato sprouting thus facilitating transportation and extending storage time.

★ ★ ★

While results still fall short of 100 per cent, the report reveals some success has been achieved in increasing the keeping quality of meat. Also, it has been shown by tests that irradiation can render safe for human consumption pork which has become infected by the organisms which cause trichinosis in humans.

★ ★ ★

Of value to scientists and farmers alike is the discovery that the use of radioisotopes to tag insects is much more effective than painting them. This provides a far better means of determining their flight range, migrating routes and overwintering habits. Radioactive tags also are playing an important part in the development of safe fungicides, insecticides and weed killers.

★ ★ ★

These, of course, are only a few of the ways in which the peaceful uses of the atom can benefit agriculture in particular and mankind in general. Actually, only the surface of this vast field has been scratched.

As the report makes clear, applications of radioisotopes and radiation to agricultural problems are limited only by the imagination and ingenuity of the investigators.

Push Button Living—Forecast by 2000 A. D.

Millions no doubt have asked themselves if the day ever will come when almost all work will be accomplished by the mere pushing of buttons or waving of arms.

The answer is that that day is far nearer than most of us now realize. If University of Michigan scientists are right in their predictions, complicated machines of all kinds will make living virtually effortless by the year 2000. Actually, the promise in their forecasts is so bright that half a century hence life as we now live it would seem hard indeed.

For example, a man home from a five hour work day could sink into an electrically operated chair which would massage his aching back. At the same time he would wave an arm to turn on or dim the lights in the room or put into operation a colored television set hanging on the wall.

An automatic electric refrigerator then would come into the room to mix and hand him a nice cold cocktail. Next a supersonic washing machine would wheel itself in and hand him a robe to wear while it took the dirt out of his work clothes with sound waves instead of soap.

Besides all this, automobiles which park themselves, windows which open and close automatically with changes in temperatures and TV telephones are predicted.

To get a meal all the housewife would have to do is throw a few switches. These would set in motion machines which automatically would take precooked foods out of the freezer and put them in the oven.

Fantastic, you think? Perhaps, but the truth is several of these electronic gadgets already exist and could be in use today if people just had money enough.

A Football Contest Entry May Bring You U. S. Bonds

Sorry: What you'll be if you let somebody else win the Football Contest.

If you have not already made your entry in the Football Contest, here's an easy way. Clip out this list of games, and check with pencil or pen the teams you think will win. If you think it will be a tie game, do not check either team. Here's the list:

Sept. 17—Kentucky vs. Louisiana.
Sept. 24—Colgate vs. Dartmouth.
Oct. 1—Michigan vs. Michigan State.
Oct. 8—Harvard vs. Cornell.
Oct. 14—Detroit vs. Boston College.
Oct. 21—Pontiac vs. Arthur Hill.
Oct. 22—Illinois vs. Michigan State.
Oct. 23—Detroit Lions vs. Los Angeles Rams.
Oct. 29—Alabama vs. Georgia.
Nov. 5—North Carolina vs. South Carolina.
Nov. 12—Rice vs. Texas A&M.
Nov. 19—Michigan vs. Ohio State.
Nov. 24—Pennsylvania vs. Cornell.
Nov. 26—Army vs. Navy.

Then attach it to a piece of paper bearing your name and address, and see that it reaches the Press office by Saturday noon, Sept. 17, and the $300 may be yours.

For other members of your family you can copy the list and let them indicate their choices. Each entry must be on a separate sheet of paper.

"The games which you have selected in your Football Contest could not be improved upon, even by an expert," phones

Coach Ed Graybiel,

"At Least They Can Eat Theirs"

David Lawrence Says:

North African Unrest, Riots in Turkey Are Fruits of 4-Power Geneva Talks

WASHINGTON — It's curious what a difference just a few weeks make in world affairs. The point of view of some of those folks who in July were hailing the Geneva conference as inaugurating a period of almost Utopian peace is now, in September, one of apprehension and caution.

* * *

Articles of warning are being published in the press, and some members of Congress are saying that perhaps Geneva didn't bring peace and what a terrible mistake it would be to cut the defense budget as Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson has proposed doing. It is being urged that America should be careful not to be lulled into a sense of false security and that cutting the arms budget is premature and dangerous.

But, logically, if all the optimistic statements and comments made after the Geneva conference meant anything, they meant that a curtailment of arms expenses was inevitable. For of what avail are weapons that grow obsolete and are never used?

Not only in America but in Britain and France such questions are being asked, and the western world is face to face with the effect of the risks taken when the top leaders began fraternizing with the Soviet chieftains in Switzerland less than two months ago.

POLITICOS PUZZLED

Even the politicians inside this country are beginning to grow puzzled as to how to handle the Geneva issue. Governor Harriman of New York, Democrat, who used to be American ambassador to Moscow and feels he has a right to draw on his experiences there, sounded a cautious note about the Communists which wasn't taken too seriously at the time. This was because his opponent for the Democratic presidential nomination, former Governor Stevenson, had come out in favor of compromise and bargaining.

* * *

Some Democratic orators even went so far as to contend that, but for their prodding, President Eisenhower wouldn't have gone to Geneva. They were prepared to take the credit if Geneva came out all right but equally eager to impose the blame on the Republicans if the aftermath became somewhat unfavorable.

The secretary of state, John Foster Dulles — who isn't supposed to be a politician, yet who is by all odds the most farseeing and astute of the present-day professionals in diplomacy—was criticized by some of the appeasers because he didn't exude the same kind of enthusiasm about Geneva that some of the wishful thinkers did.

When President Eisenhower shortly afterward used some strong words in his speech to the American Bar Association indicating that he, too, was beginning to be somewhat skeptical about possible results, there came at once a criticism from the appeasers that he was weakening the effect of the Geneva conference.

REDS CASHING IN

Soviet newspapers, always eager to print anything that drives a wedge between the President and his advisers and to give the impression of wavering and fluctuation in American policy, reproduced the criticisms and, without comment of their own, let American critics tell the story to the Soviet people. That's a favorite device, and the moral is not to ask the critics to refrain from criticism just because the Soviet press picks it up but to ask them to make sure first whether the Soviet phrases at Geneva had any meaning worth exalting as genuinely peaceful in intent.

What has happened at Geneva is what any realist would have expected. The "cold war" has been intensified in other areas of the world. Trouble has been stimulated in North Africa. The government of Turkey, our ally, announces that riots and disturbances were instigated there by the Communists on account of the Cyprus affair.

It is easy enough to dismiss all this as the usual stunt of the Communists of fishing in troubled waters or to argue that, of course, in most of these places the Communists have been outlawed as a political party. What haven't been exterminated, however, are the Soviet espionage rings — their means of making contact with the fuzzy-minded in many countries who are so easily duped by the Soviet agents and their fellow travelers.

* * *

Wishful thinkers have imagined that Geneva portends an era of peace. If it does, then they must not oppose arms reduction—they certainly can't have it both ways.

As for those who believed from the beginning that Geneva was just a propaganda affair—in which America played an effective part in offsetting Soviet claims that the United States is a "warmonger"—and that no issues would really be settled, these observers logically and consistently can oppose arms reduction, and they will.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Many Poor Teachers Unfairly Allow Personal Bias to Determine Grades

"If you see a wrong, hit it!" stated Abraham Lincoln, so I am hitting at one of the common faults of many school teachers. Kids, mail this case anonymously to any of your teachers who aren't playing fairly with you.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-335: When Philip, our second son, was 16, he took a Spanish course in high school.

* * *

His marks were excellent, so he expected an "A" grade in the course.

But he was so hot under the collar when he finally received a "C" grade that he couldn't be restrained.

He showed his teacher his class grades on every exam throughout the semester, plus his final exam marks, too.

Thus, he proved to her that he was tops in the class in his output of work.

* * *

But she bristled at this challenge to her authority although Philip made her admit his grades were tops.

"Then why did you knock my grade down to a 'C'?" demanded Philip.

She replied that it was because of his "attitude." She said he didn't show enough interest in Spanish and would often stare out the window during class.

POOR TEACHING

This Spanish teacher was a "bad" teacher and very illogical. But there are a few other teachers just like her in most school systems.

* * *

They confuse "output" with attitude." Yet the payoff in school is supposed to be based on merit, meaning your scholastic output.

Getting grades is much like getting bread at a store. If you lay the price of a loaf of bread on the counter, the grocer is supposed to hand you that bread, regardless of your "attitude."

And most male teachers realize this vital fact. But there are a number of women teachers, plus some sissy males, who still confuse scholastic output with "neatness" or "politeness" or a rival political or religious viewpoint on the part of the student.

* * *

Teachers usually give girls higher grades than boys, and one of the reasons is the fact that boys are more sweaty creatures so their papers are often less neat.

IGNORES SMUDGES

But in a mathematics class, if a boy hands in a paper with the correct solution to a problem, he should be graded 100 per cent thereon, even if his sweaty thumb left an imprint on the exam paper.

Yet I have known many teachers who would mark him down in mathematics for such a smudged paper.

* * *

These teachers thus don't know the difference between "neatness" vs. mathematics, so shouldn't be teaching in any school.

It's all right to stress politeness and neatness in chapel lectures, or, if you wish to schedule a special course entitled "neatness," then you could mark a boy down for smudges in that special subject.

But in history or math or language or science or any other course in the curriculum, when you mistake lack of neatness for lack of knowledge of those subjects, then you are a prissy "old maid," whether you wear pants or panties.

* * *

A good teacher may dislike a pupil very intensely. But if that boy or girl answers the final examination questions correctly, such teacher dislike is not supposed to affect the awarding of the "A" grade to that disliked pupil.

PERSONAL CLASH

Most of our teachers are well-liked and "good" teachers, but there are still far too many in the teaching field who let their own political or religious bias or personality conflicts color their awarding of grades to their pupils.

* * *

One reason why we psychologists have pioneered the use of objective examinations, such as true-false and "multiple choice," is to offset this bias by teachers who are illogical, and who cheat emotionalism and pettiness.

'Mr. Skeptic' Is Opposed to Space Travel Spending

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

Thank goodness there are men such as David Lawrence who see the threats to our national welfare.

The follies of national spending in 1955 approach that of the New Deal in 1935. I, too, am opposed to spending the millions on 'will of the wisp' space spheres and high flying rockets.

Let's put it this way: for a contrast, there has been an average of 310 armed forces planes with 1200 aviators lost each year since the Korean armistice and several dozen civilians killed as a result of planes wrecked on the ground.

Should money be spent on space travel when there is so little control of surface travel by the Army and Navy?

I do not think we should be asked to swallow all that the government press chooses to make public.

Insurance Firms Scolded for Ending Benefits at 60

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

Nothing is permanent in life except change, yet in the face of this overriding principle, some institutions rigidly adhere to patterns originally adopted to meet different conditions.

Preventive medicine—the use of antibiotics — has lengthened the average life span.

The science of geriatrics is simultaneously keeping oldsters more vital and productive.

Yet the life insurance industry, looking backwards, continues to cling to age 60 as the time for terminating disability benefits, including waiver of premium on policies of policyholders who as a result of incapacity are unable to earn income.

MATTER FOR STUDY

With state regulation, in which this writer believes, on trial, it behooves the various legislatures and commissioners of insurance to look into this question. It is also a matter for continuous study within the insurance field.

When this column made a similar proposal more than five years ago, a respected president of a life insurance company replied: "I have just read your column. It is, of course, interesting and stimulating and, in the main, well reasoned.

"Logically, you present a perfectly valid argument. Practically, we wouldn't dare follow your reasoning. The reason is this: Court decisions plus attitudes of juries make the position of life insurance companies hopeless in most jurisdiction provided a claimant says he is not able to work, can get a doctor to certify to this and provided he actually does not work.

" . . . Almost our sole protection against a torrent of claims is that most people up to 60 or 65 want to or find it more profitable to continue work. At 65, as you point out in your column, society forces them to quit work.

"Nothing in the world then stands between their becoming a successful claimant for disability benefits except their conscience and, unfortunately, there are too many who can lull their consciences to sleep.

OBVIOUS ANSWER

"You may say that since retirement plans ordinarily fix 65 as the retirement age, why is it necessary for disability benefits to terminate at 60.

"If it ran clear up to 65, you would get at 64½ the disability being presented in anticipation of the forthcoming retirement. When they have to sacrifice four years income and active work to do it, they are not as likely to do it. . ."

The foregoing response does not, in my opinion, give sufficient weight to the fact that a mutual insurance company is supposed to be run for the benefit of the policyholders. Accordingly, there should be no conflict of interest between the company vs. the policyholders.

If the reasoning which makes disability and waiver of premium provisions expire at age 60 is sound, then it is imprudent to encourage individual policyholders to believe that they can earn and pay premiums for 36 years longer.

I think that landmarks, such as age 60 and 65, are relative and not absolute, and must be periodically restudied in light of advances in medical science and increasing of 'average life expectancy.

Brady Regards Dieting as Harmful in Most Cases

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

In Little Lesson No. 16, The 7 Keys to Vite (25 cents and stamped self-addressed envelope), you will find an outline of the basic, fundamental or model health diet, a skeleton or pattern on which to build your own diet to suit your particular requirements.

* * *

Right here, by way of breaking it gently, let me say that there's just one thing sillier than "going on a diet at 2 o'clock next week," and that is going on the diet without strict medical supervision.

Even including diets prescribed by the physician who knows the patient's condition and requirements, I'd say that in most instances dieting is ineffectual or actually harmful.

Big feeders give the basic diet once over lightly and begin squawking about the absence of bread, toast, waffles, pancakes, pie, cake, rolls, muffins, biscuit, crackers, cookies, doughnuts; and other items made of refined white flour.

Little shavers who are allowed to spend hours listening to radio or television when they should be out playing or getting the sleep which is essential for healthy growth, also refuse to have any part of it — they demand that Mommie supply all the yum-yummies the hero of the present series recommends, especially the ones with box tops which, with a few pennies, will bring valuable prizes . . .

READ FINE PRINT

But, just for the novelty of it, read the fine print on the model health diet menu.

You'll find that although the diet as outlined includes no bread or cereal, a reasonable amount of plain wheat or dishes made with it may be added when a larger caloric intake is required.

Incidentally, the basic health diet as outlined in the Vite booklet yields approximately 2,100 calories daily, so it makes an ideal, safe, indeed a beneficial reduction diet for anyone who is too fat perhaps, but not fat-headed.

* * *

To help restore the staff of life to the modern namby-pamby American diet and maybe a little strength to the character of people who subsist mainly on cheat-food, I'll send, on written, signed request (a clipping will not suffice), if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope, the pamphlet Wheat to Eat, which gives practical ways to prepare wheat for the everyday diet.

HE'LL TELL WHY

In a piece to be printed next week (I hope) I'll tell why plain wheat tends to prevent or correct the common ailments and functional weaknesses due to too much cheat-food (refined carbohydrate) in the everyday diet of most Americans—whose ignorance of nutrition encourages cheat-food vendors to print on the label "for better nutrition," with a wink from Uncle Sam.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich

Michigan Schools 19th in Nation, Says Expert

MICHIGAN SCHOOLS 17B

NEW YORK (AP) — An education expert writing in this week's Look Magazine has ranked Michigan's school system 19th in the nation.

The authority, Frances Rummel based her report rating on data compiled from the National Education Association and the U.S. Office of Education.

In the article, Miss Rummel said she found Michigan to be 13th in financial support to its schools, 18th in "teacher status" and 18th in "results obtained."

As a yardstick for the rankings, Miss Rummel considered three factors: financial support to education, teacher's status, and results obtained. The report rated Oregon first, Washington second and Illinois third.

She said 19 states offered excellent educational opportunities to their citizens, 16 were rated "poor", and 13 "fair."

FINANCIAL SUPPORT

"Financial support", includes "money spent per pupil, money spent per classroom and the average value of public-school property per pupil."

"Teacher status" ranked the states on "classroom teachers' salaries, the percentage of elementary teachers with less than four years of college and the number of pupils per teacher."

"Results obtained", the article said, includes "percentage of population 25 years or older with less than five years of schooling, percentage of selective-service personnel who failed armed forces qualification tests, and percentage of 1934-44 fifth grade pupils who completed school."

* * *

Overall, Miss Rummel said she found the entire southeast section of the country rated "poor" in education, while the entire west coast was rated "excellent."

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Disarmament subcommittee rounds out its second week of talks on inspection and control plans today without any firm agreement—even among the Western Powers—on control measures.

The delegates from the Big Four and Canada planned a weekend recess after a short closed session to shoot more questions about the Soviet position at Moscow delegate Arkady A. Sobolev.

But beyond a firm stand by the United States and Britain against any veto on the use of atomic weapons in self-defense, the week's talks had developed more questions than answers.

Rock 'n' Rollers Leave Crooner Speechless

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Tony Bennett's lost his voice—temporarily—trying to make himself heard above the screaming of the "Rock 'n' Roll" set.

He burst a small blood vessel in his larnyx at the Brooklyn Paramount, was ordered by a doc to be silent for a week . . . and then went on stage and "did a Lanza" . . . moving his lips to his records . . . while his fans, who'd been told about his lost voice by Alan Freed . . . screamed the louder and danced in the aisles.

Bennett pantomimed to records through five shows; then the theater management replaced him with Al Hibbler, though Tony was willing to keep up the silent lip-reading indefinitely. He'll soon have his voice back—if he speaks in whispers for a few days.

Prison Camp Returnee Files Divorce Petition

CLAYTON, N.Y. (AP)—Air Force Capt. Eugene J. Vaadi, one of the 11 U.S. airmen released July 31 after 30 months in Chinese Red prison camps, has filed suit to divorce his wife Mary Elizabeth.

Atty. Arthur L. Cohen, in reporting the suit, declined to give the nature of the complaint. In New York state the only ground for divorce is adultery.

When Vaadi, 34, arrived at Griffiss Air Force Base near Rome after his release, his wife, 30, remained in a car nearby with two daughters. Vaadi's parents met the plane.

To Quiz Mother in Death Probe

Charges of Conspiracy Brought Against Parent of Dead Heiress

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The mother of heiress Doris Silver Ostreicher will break her seclusion to answer charges of conspiracy and of being an accessory before the fact of an abortion that caused her daughter's death.

* * *

The charges were preferred against Mrs. Gertrude Silver late yesterday by Dist. Atty. Samuel Dash, who previously had termed her a "cornerstone witness" in the homicide investigation.

Mrs. Silver has been in seclusion sice the death of her 22-year-old daughter Aug. 24, suffering from what her physicians termed "bereavement shock."

* * *

Mrs. Silver went with her daughter to the north Philadelphia apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz where Mrs. Ostreicher died. No charges have been made against the Schwartzes.

Dr. Melville J. Aston, city medical examiner, said the young heiress died in an attempt at an abortion by "person or persons unknown."

* * *

The city conceded that without Mrs. Silver, efforts to establish the identity of the person or persons who committed the abortion are practically impossible.

Authorities said the daughter, who eloped with a Miami Beach, Fla., motorcycle policeman, Earl Ostreicher, 29, June 24, had been six weeks pregnant.

Official Reports Pupil Increase

2,700 Students Enrolled in Huron Valley Area, Says Superintendent

MILFORD—Supt. Harold Hansen told the Huron Valley School Board last night that by the end of the month there would be approximately 2,700 students enrolled in the school system, which includes four schools in a hundred-square-mile district.

Hensen said that in the high school there was an increase of more than 200 students, making it necessary to have the older pupils eat their lunches in three different "shifts."

KEEP SAME SCHEDULE

The regular schedule will continue from 8:30 to 3:30 p.m., eliminating the need for half-day sessions.

Leo Brooks, Oakland County Road Commissioner, was present at the meeting to explain the road right-of-way in connection with a proposed new $1,250,000 high school site on North Milford Road.

The only requisite the commission demands is eight inches of compacted gravel on the road bed, where the new road will be built.

A contract was awarded to the R. D. Thayer Waterproofing Co. of Detroit to repair the old high school, at approximately $1,000.

Other business included renewal of a contract for oil from the Peerless Oil Co. of Detroit.

Divided Highway Project Planned Through Utica

Work is proceeding on drawings for the new M59, four-lane, divided highway which will "replace the present heavily-congested, two-lane roadway through Utica," the State Highway Department said today.

The project includes a relocation of Utica Road and construction of a grade separation to carry the New York Central Railroad tracks over the new M59 to facilitate traffic flow, the department said.

Work will soon start on the first project in the overall relocation work, a bridge to carry the new highway over the Clinton River.

The department said it has not set any date for letting contracts for the Utica road and railroad structures or the new M59 roadway, but the work is to be pushed as rapidly as possible . . ."

Gals Rated Safer Drivers Than Men --- but Not Better

By A. R. LAUER

DEARBORN (INS) — Women are safer drivers than men—not necessarily better.

* * *

The cold statistics show that there are less fatel accidents involving women drivers. In Iowa there were 750 fatal accidents last year. Of that, 79 of the drivers were women: 671 were men.

Sure, one of the reasons to be considered is that there are three times as many male drivers and they drive three times as much, on the average, as feniales.

True, women do most of their driving durirg the safest hours—between 9 and 11 a.m. and 2 and 4 p.m.

But as a group, men are aggressive drivers: they follow other cars too closely; they tend to overestimate their ability.

* * *

Women are more conservative, more concerned with the small and picayune things, but at the same time are more cautious. They observe traffic signals more closely. When she does violate traffic laws, a woman usually does so inadvertently, preoccopied with something else.

LOSE CONTROL

Trouble is, women are more inclined to lose control of a car in an impending accident. In a tight spot, men are more able to try to prevent a collision or at least reduce the hazard.

* * *

To be fair, it's necessary to make comparisions by breaking this man-vs.-woman driver argument into age groups. Our statistics show that from age 17 to 34, women are better drivers; from 35 to 40, men are better; from 40 to 55, women regain the lead, and men take over from age 55 on out.

Women drivers from 15 to 19 are overly timid, non-mechanical, inexperienced (but they realise it), non-aggressive and tend to conform with convention.

At the same time, they are exhibitionists and their space perception is very poor. I would never ask a girl this age to park my car.

* * *

Boys in the same group are bold and boisterous, more mechanical but inexperienced. They overestimate their ability; tend to flaunt convention. They are also exhibitionists (high speeds, fast cornering and such) but their space perception is good.

DEPENDENT ON MALES

Women from 20 to 24 are still dependent on the male. They're still timid, violate fewer laws. The male counterpart becomes more maturely bold, drives fast to work (not to impress the girl friend as before). He still overestimates his driving ability and doesn't improve his mechanical ability.

* * *

From 25 to 34, women's maternal instinct begins to show. She realizes the danger of driving with children and her responsibilities increase. But she also becomes more liable to distraction, with children and family pets in the car.

Men from 25 to 34 are more settled than before. At this point, their record for safe driving begins to equal that for women.

In the span from 35 to 49, women become more assured; they do more driving and settle down. Hubby settles down too. He becomes more cognizant of responsibility—but—he begins to lose a little of his driving skill.

He compensates for this by a better attitude toward other drivers, but by now he has a tendency to be forgetful; his mind turns to workday worries. The result: Accident:

SKILL LESSENS

Women from 50 to 64 slip back into cautiousness, but their skill diminishes. Men, on the other hand, begin to be sane and safe drivers. They realize their limitations, are more responsible and more conservative. Their mechanical ability holds up, but they now drive within limitations—slower and for shorter distances.

At 65 and over, physical disabilities enter the picture. Drivers of both sexes begin to slow down and slip pretty fast. In many cases, they could be a menace on the highway.

To sum up: Women are safer drivers. They don't drive as fast, they don't follow as closely behind another car and they don't take chances.

Heart Disease Kills 22,362 in Michigan

LANSING (AP) — Two out of six deaths in Michigan last year were caused by heart disease and one in every six resulted from cancer, the State Health Department said today.

Reporting little change in the 10 leading killers in the state, the department said more than half of the 60,706 Michigan deaths resulted from either heart disease or cancer.

Once again, chronic illness dominated the leading causes of death, indicating continued success in holding down germ-caused diseases which once were the major killers.

This was the death black list for 1954:

Heart disease, 2,362 deaths; cancer, 10,105; apoplexy, 6,964; accidents, 3,948; diabetes, 1,469; pneumonia and influenza, 1,437; prematurity 1,298; arteriosclerosis, pneumonia and influenza, while 1,170; congenital malformations, 1,004; nephritis and nephrosis, 749.

High School Driving Courses to Enroll More Than Million Students This Year

By DAVID L. BOWEN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If the increase in enrollment which took place last year continues, better than one million high school students will be learning the rudiments of safe driving as part of their regular high school education this fall.

More and more educators across the country are becoming convinced that with the automobile playing an ever increasing part in American life, instruction in how to properly use one is a necessary function of modern education.

Last year a fraction below 50 per cent of the nation's 20,000 public high schools offered driver education courses. Information compiled by the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies shows that in the 1954-55 school year 994,212 students — 62 per cent of those eligible for drivers' licenses — received driving instruction.

The association set up an award program eight years ago to encourage expansion of driver education and improve its quality where it already existed. This year Minnesota and Massachusetts scored highest in a judging system which takes into account both size and quality of state programs.

States are awarded points in relation to their performance in 11 categories, among them such "quality indicators" as percentage of students receiving actual behind-the-wheel experience and degree of training required of instructors.

High scoring states, besides first-place Minnesota and second-place Massachusetts, included Vermont, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Oklahoma, Arizona and California.

An important byproduct of the annual contest is accurate and up-to-date information on this growing field of education. No precise figures on number of courses offered or students enrolled are available for years prior to 1948-49, when the association first began gathering information on a national scale.

High school driver education was first introduced in 1929 in New Jersey. It enjoyed a boom during the early postwar years, but hit a plateau in 1951 when slightly more than half the total eligible students were receiving instruction.

Percentages of students enrolled dropped in 1953-54, but last year the curve moved sharply upward. The 62 per cent scored last year was 12 per cent higher than the 1953-54 mark.

Of the 9,968 schools with driver education courses last year, exactly half coupled practice driving with at least 30 clock hours of classroom instruction, the minimum recommended by two national conferences on high school driver education. Twentytwo per cent of the schools offered no practice driving — considered a serious handicap to sound instruction — yet these "classroom only" courses accounted for 53 per cent of the total student enrollment.

About three-quarters of the schools provide credit toward graduation for successful completion of their driver education courses.

Although most safety officials rate education as one of the prime factors in accident prevention, there are as yet no statistics with which the benefits of high school courses can be scientifically measured. A few states now include questions on drivers' training in traffic accident reports, but it will be several years before enough information is accumulated to make possible any accurate conclusions.

To display their confidence in the value of high school courses, however, practically all insurance companies now grant a discount on automobile policies covering young drivers who successfully completed high school driver education courses.

About 100 million tons of good fertilizer a year is created by the world's thunderstorms when lightning combines nitrogen and oxygen, says the National Geographic Society.

SAFETY FIRST—That's the code of Jimmy Coad, 11, safety patrol boy and sixth grade student at Webster School. Arms outstretched, Jimmy guards fourth grader Susan Harbaugh, 9; third grader Robert Isgrigg, 8; and first grade pupil Lynn Rosie, 6, at the difficult Huron street crossing. Jimmy and other safety patrol boys all over the city do a valuable job in guarding the lives of Pontiac children.

FIRST-DAY ASSEMBLY — More than 132 junior and senior students of St. Michael Parochial School gathered in the school hall for a talk on schedules yesterday morning. In the foreground, Mother Dolors, principal of the school, points out class hours on the blackboard while pupils check their charts for conflicts in times. Half-day classes and orientation sessions were held yesterday and today. Monday, work starts in earnest with classes scheduled from 8:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. daily. Exact registration figures were not yet available, but approximately 260 high school boys and girls and 440 elementary pupils are enrolled in the Roman Catholic school.

TRYING THEM FOR SIZE — How much will a locker hold? These Washington Junior High students will soon know, as they start the annual task of trying to crowd as many items as possible into the compact space. At the left, Beverly Lindquist, 14, stacks away two new textbooks before returning for the rest of her supplies. Behind her, Pat Kline, also 14, waits to add her quota of books, briefcase and clothing. Both girls are ninth grade students.

AN APPLE FOR TEACHER — Well, not exactly. But a ripe, red tomato will please her just as much, Michael Lee Gracey, 6, learned when he presented his gift to first grade teacher Mrs. Theresa Edmondson at Bagley School. Just to be sure he'd make a hit, Michael wore brand new jeans and a sporty yellow shirt for his first-day classes.

WHO'S AFRAID OF KINDERGARTEN? — Not five-year-old Charles Ayers, whose brown eyes snapped with eagerness as he mounted the steps on his way to register at Baldwin School. But then, he still had a tight hold on the hand of his mother, Mrs. Carnie M. Ayers. And if kindergarten proves too rough, there's always his brother, Dick, in the sixth grade of the same school, to show him the ropes.

NO PARKING PROBLEM HERE — Students are in class, but well-filled bike racks in one Pontiac elementary school are mute evidence that school is in session. Traveling by bus, by car, by bike and on foot, approximately 19,000 boys and girls formed an army of students as they converged on Pontiac's 32 public and parochial schools for the opening of the fall semester. With enrollments increasing yearly, crowded conditions prevailed in most classrooms in the city's elementary, junior high and high schools.

NEW BOOKS ARE FUN — Mrs. Hollis Henry, second grade teacher at LeBaron School, found youngsters impatient to get a look at the new schoolbooks. First in line were three 7-year-olds — blue eyed Judy Lawson, listening carefully to instructions that went with the textbook; smiling Deanna Roberts, and curious Tommy King. One of the first things second-graders do as classes begin is to compare notes on the new books, Mrs. Henry said.

FUN IN THE BACKYARD—4
The Rolling Ball

An unusual way to have fun in the backyard is playing with a huge rubber ball filled with air.

Youngsters boost each other on top of the ball. Then they hold their feet in the air and roll back and forth like a rocking chair. Sooner or later they roll off but that's part of the game.

You can join in the fun by making your own big rubber ball.

Paste this picture on thin cardboard and color with crayons or paints. Make each strip of the ball a different bright color. Then cut carefully around the part of the boy above the dotted line.

If you fold back the rear piece as in the little diagram, the ball will rock back and forth.

Chemical Disintegrates Algae in 'Sick' Ponds

A newly developed chemical cure for "sick" farm and fish ponds not only kills harmful algae in the water, but also disintegrates them.

The disintegration action does away with undesirable odors and bad taste in water resulting from the decomposition of algae.

The new product is also said to prevent the clogging of pipes, valves, and screens and the impairment by dead algae of water flow in irrigation canals and drains.

Army Apologizes to Doctor Kelly

'Security' Risk Gratified at Probers' Admission of 'Careless' Mistake

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has apologized to Prof. Alfred Y. Kelly of Wayne University for a "mistake" in accusing him of supporting a Communist-front organization.

* * *

Secretary of the Army Brucker ordered the allegation erased from Army records yesterday, saying "improperly and carelessly performed" Army investigative work had led to the charge.

"It becomes a matter of fair play to admit a mistake of this kind wherever it occurs," Brucker said. "Accordingly, the Army regrets the making of this mistaken allegation with reference to Dr. Kelly."

Dr. Kelly, who heads the history department at the Detroit school, said there he was "extremely gratified" and "thoroughly satisfied with Brucker's apology." He said, "This restores my sense of confidence in government."

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), head of the Civil Service subcommittee which last week delved into Kelly's case, declared he too was "highly gratified" at Brucker's action.

Johnston added, however, that Kelly's case shows what could happen to other citizens if the government's employe security program "is not revised and properly administered."

The allegations against Kelly were an offshoot of the Army's security risk charges against Sanford Waxer, a Detroit veteran denied an honorable discharge from the Army on grounds he had associated with known Communists or sympathizers. Waxer has denied the charges.

The Army charged Waxer had given Dr. Kelly, a former professor of his, as a character reference. The charge said Kelly was a contributor to and supporter of American Youth for Democracy, a group cited as subversive by the attorney general.

Kelly denied under oath to the Johnston committee that he had ever been a Communist. Furthermore, he testified with backing from Wayne's law school dean, Dr. Arthur Neef, his "contribution" to American Youth for Democracy actually was to help boot it off the university campus.

U.S. Airlines Asked to Curb Sale of Liquor

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The trade association of the scheduled airlines proposed today that they limit sale of liquor aloft and bar or remove drunks from airplanes.

The industry-sponsored suggestions were drawn up as the Civil Aeronautics Board, saying public protests against drinking aboard airlines are "becoming more pronounced," hinted it might take "corrective steps."

* * *

Under the tentatively proposed rules, no alcoholic beverages would be served aboard planes on Sundays or national election days, or to minors or intoxicated persons. Sales would be limited also to flights of more than two hours, and to the hours between noon and midnight.

Passengers who became drunk and noisy en route would be "deplaned" at the first stop.

* * *

The proposals were mailed by Harold L. Pearson, president of the Air Transport Assn., to the 35 airlines that are ATA members.

Pearson urged that the airline executives draft a liquor "code or creed" to be considered at the ATA air traffic conference in San Francisco Nov. 1-3.

Now Is Right Time to Start Seed for Next Year's Lawn

GLAMOR FOR ROCK GARDEN — Stately hyacinths are perfect flowers for glamorizing a rock garden. Here white hyacinths combine with leucojum, triandrus albus and primrose. Hyacinth bulbs for fall planting come from Holland in a variety of colors, including pink, blue, yellow and white.

Plant at Once Before Fall Rain

Bluegrass Does Well in Fertile Soil; Fescues or Mixture Otherwise

Time of seeding is very important in getting a good lawn turf started. Oakland County assistant agricultural agent John Bray points out that lawn grasses establish easier and better in late summer than in the spring.

Farm crops specialists at Michigan State University list some reasons why fall is a better time than spring to seed the lawn: Seedings made in the first half of September have little or no competition from weeds. Fall rains generally begin in early September and temperatures are going down about that time.

Agent Bray says grasses grow best during cool moist weather and Michigan gets that type of weather more often in September and October than in any other period.

Preparing the seed bed, leveling and seeding should be done immediately, before the fall rains begin. Grass seedings may not get enough growth before winter if seeding is delayed until the rains start.

WATER OFTEN

Dry weather will not hurt the seed, but seedlings should be watered often after they begin to grow.

* * *

Kentucky bluegrass does best on soil that is high in both organic matter and fertility. Red fescues do better on red and brown clays, on sandy soils and in shady areas.

If you're in doubt as to the type of seed to use, try a 50-50 mixture of bluegrass and fescue, Bray advises. If the soil is high in fertility, the bluegrass will predominate and if the soil is low in fertility, the fescue will predominate.

For rates of seedings, Bray recommends one to two pounds of seed per 1,000 square feet. As a tip for even distribution, he advises dividing the seed into two equal portions, then seeding one portion in one direction and the other portion in the opposite direction.

USE FERTILIZER

For fertilizer, use 10 to 20 pounds per 1,000 square feet of 12-6-4 or any other high nitrogen fertilizer. Put it on just before seeding and rake it in lightly. Also rake the soil slightly after the seed has been sown to assure sufficient coverage.

* * *

Complicated mixtures with redtop and ryegrass as nurse grasses will start faster than the desired mixtures alone. However, the nurse grasses become coarse and competitive once they are established.

So Bray advises using the desired grasses alone and being patient in watching for the seedlings to appear. Look for them after two weeks or three weeks following the seeding.

Pontiac Press Photo

TEAMWORK BRINGS RESULTS — Young William Sapelak is mighty proud of the tall dahlia he and his dad produced in the garden of their home at 602 Wesbrook Ave. Steve Sapelak, proud of his garden and the sturdy son who helps him grow both vegetables and flowers, took a measuring stick to prove that William's boast of a 5-foot 5-inch dahlia wasn't exaggerated. Steve said that his wife, Ereatha, and their two daughters, Carole Ann, 16, and Janet, 12, also lend a hand with the weeding and hoeing.

Sapelak Garden Proves Source of Companionship

A garden can do more than produce succulent vegetables or colorful flowers. It can mean better health, better living, and better spirits for the whole family.

That's the opinion of Steve W. Sapelak, of 602 Wesbrook Ave., who finds that working in the garden with his son and daughters brings a kind of companionship not found anywhere else.

A diemaker at Pontiac Motor Division, Steve says the gardening also provides him with healthful, outdoor recreation.

Although he often works alone, Steve likes best to "team up" with his son, Billy 10, or his two girls, 12-year-old Janet and Carole Ann, 16. His wife, Ereatha, enjoys her turn in the garden too, and agrees that it is "good family fun."

PLENTY OF SPACE

Two city lots give plenty of space for growing the many flowers that are planted all around the Sapelak home. There are about 25 different kinds of flowers, with plenty of roses, specially chosen to provide bloom all summer long.

Young Billy helps with the garden, though his dad admits it's something of a struggle to get him to do the hoeing and weeding. And everybody pitches in on the lawn mowing chore.

A 40x100 foot plot is planted in flowers and vegetables. This year the garden produced an abundance of tomatoes, cabbage, peppers, carrots, beets, onions and other legumes, as well as strawberries and raspberries.

SHARE WITH FRIENDS

A home freezer, as well as the traditional canning, takes care of the surplus, and there are always flowers or vegetables to share with friends and neighbors, Mrs. Sapelak says.

Prize of the garden this year was a tall dahlia—five feet five inches in height—that bloomed recently. Billy says it's the biggest one around.

And when Steve looks at his son and agrees that it's the tallest he's ever seen, it isn't hard to know what he means when he says gardening is "good for the whole family."

Save Landmark Trees

Insects, disease, storms, and man's neglect are all taking their toll of historic landmark trees, last living reminders of our nation's heritage. This is a warning sounded by Martin L. Davey Jr., president of Davey Tree Expert Co. in an article in the September issue of a popular gardening magazine.

The article cites numerous examples of historic trees that have been saved by private citizens, towns, civic groups, colleges, and big corporations as well as trees that have been lost because of neglect and indifference.

To organize a program of preserving these historic trees, Davey suggests that garden clubs and other interested organizations compile a list of any famous trees in their town. Next, tree specialists should be consulted to determine the condition of the trees, and the best steps to preserve them.

Time and effort are needed to save ancient trees, the article continues. Annual inspections by professional tree-men should be made, plus a regular program of feeding and pruning. Where necessary, surgery, cabling and rodding for lightning protection should be provided.

As with humans, aged and infirm trees must have proper care if they are to be kept alive.

Deep Planting Can Kill Dogwood, Evergreens

In planting broadleaf evergreens and dogwood, make certain not put them into the ground below the groundline evident on any transplanted shrub or tree.

Too-deep planting, more often than too-shallow, may result in death, although it may be lingering and not occur for two or three years.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—A rosa multiflora hedge planted last fall around the children's play yard grew very little this summer despite our constant attention. What can we do to encourage its growth?

Give it another season and it will surprise you. No doubt, the unusual hot weather has retarded its growth. In two years you will probably yank it out, as by that time it will reach a height of six feet or more and spread over 10 feet in diameter, forming an almost impenetrable spiny thicket. Better replace it now with a simple wood or wire fence.

* * *

Q—When does one pick strawflowers to dry for indoor arrangements?

A—Strawflowers should be picked just before they come into full bloom. Then tie in small bunches and hang upside down in a dry, shaded location free from dust.

Use Color Film in Landscaping

If you want your home landscape to look pretty as a picture, start taking pictures of it.

Good color slides of trees, lawns and gardens can be invaluable for future planning of the landscape. Color negatives taken at various seasons and properly dated can help the home owner plan artistic and colorful gardens on a year-around basis.

Long range shots rather than closeups are best for planning purposes. These should include some general views of the kind the passing public might see.

Don't just include the good spots. Having photos of the less attractive areas will show you how to improve them. This also applies to pictures taken during the off-season.

Trees, foundation of any home garden arrangement, should not be overlooked by the home garden photographer. Too many trees will result in sad looking borders, lawns and perennial beds. And pictures taken when there are no colorful flowers around may show inadequacy of evergreen backgrounds for year-around screening.

DDT Helps Prevent Dutch Elm Disease

Although no cure has yet been found for Dutch elm disease, elm bark beetles who are carriers of the malady are controllable with DDT.

Make a note, if elms in your vicinity have been afflicted, to apply a preventive DDT application over trunks and limbs next spring before they leaf out.

Generally, the beetles keep away from healthy trees, so a good general feeding, watering program is wise.

Fertilize Tomato Plants

Tomato vines will benefit from a side dressing of balanced commercial fertilizer at this time—scratch in carefully to avoid disturbing the root system.

Japanese Beetle Causes Plenty of Destruction

Pursue relentlessly the Japanese beetle! In the spring the grub chews up roots of grass; from summer through fall the adults devour shrubs, and flowers, particularly roses.

New beetle statistics: A female beetle lays 50 eggs in her lifetime—so keep up your own particular control program for every little bit helps keep down the population.

It's Lawn Building Time!
The best time of year to build a new lawn or repair an old one is late August through September. Fall seeding is best because the delicate new seedlings are less likely to be affectd by extremes of hot and dry weather. Fall temperatures are ideal—warm days, cool nights. Fall rains are gentle, and there are usually heavy dews. Soil conditions are perfect for root penetration, and Fall is also a time when weeds are inactive.

Volcanoes Can't Frighten Hawaii's Lepers

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — The Elysian land of Hawaii has discovered a new island in her waters—an island probably blasted upward by an angry underseas volcano — and the implications make you think.

* * *

Make you think: How would you feel if you knew there was the shadow of death lying across your backyard?

When I visited Hawaii, I found there a breed of people who lived constantly with the resourceful reaper. On the most beautiful peninsula you could conceive of, sweet-smelling with red and orange tropical flowers, surrounded on three sides by turquoise water and white foam and on the fourth by 2,000-foot cliffs, lived the victims of Hansen's Disease (leprosy.)

There were 220 lepers three years ago, dwelling among 30,000 graves.

* * *

After living among them for a day, it is my feeling that they must have greeted this abrupt appearance of a strange new "island" (which many people believe means any of the Hawaiian chain of volcanoes could erupt at any time) with a mass shrug of the shoulder.

For these were people who were ashamed to admit fear and who looked upon death with a sort of wry good humor.

LOTTERY OF LIFE

They had a sort of informal lottery going as to who would be the last living member of their colony, called "Kalaupapa." By the laws of normal nature, the pretty 16-year-old Portuguese girl should win the macabre sweepstakes, but nature isn't normal at Kalaupapa.

The sweet-faced young doctor who ruled the hospital confided she had a "super-active" case of Hansen's Disease.

She could be outlived.

* * *

This colony was the one founded by Father Damien in 1873 and it used to be a flourishing segment of the island of Molokai, from which it juts out like a splendid uncut emerald into the ocean.

The good father averaged 700 "untouchables" a year, shipped cattle-like from the mainlands, but several years ago the Territory of Hawaii ruled that no more lepers would be sent to Molokai.

The reason: More modern medical facilities were set up to care for victims in Pearl City, on the island of Oahu.

Therefore, the few who still live at Kalaupapa are those who refused to leave their precious little paradise for "modern facilities." They say the two words with a sneer in their voices. They didn't want us on the mainland 80 years ago, is their attitude. Now we've made a nice home for ourselves, they're not going to get us.

* * *

Consequently, they're a dying-out civilization. The 16-year-old girl must face the fact that no 18-year-old boy with Hansen's Disease ever will be sent to Kalaupapa to marry her.

CONTENTED PEOPLE

Oddly, these people are happy. Even the older ones who have been blinded by their illness, or whose limbs have been shrunken away because their leprosy preceded the modern drugs to retard its growth, are contented.

They live in small houses, with dogs and radio sets and a deep devotion to various religions; and if they long for a wider life, they do not pamper their yearnings.

I did not discuss volcanic eruptions with the gentle colonials of Kalaupapa, but I think I know what they might have said if the subject had come up.

Something like . . . Buck up. Nothing's as bad as it seems.

There were 2.5 million youths of 18 in the U. S. in 1941 with a total population of 132 million. Now as of 1954 the number has shrunk to 2.1 million in a 162 million population.

Back in 1841:

Houghton Called Copper Boom in Upper Peninsula

(Michigan's history is rich and alive. Too often it is lost in school lessons. To bring some of these moments to life, the following story was compiled from eye-witness accounts on file in the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan.)

DETROIT, Feb. 2, 1841 (AP)—The State Legislature has learned that the great northern territory of Michigan may be a copper-lined bonanza instead of a white elephant.

* * *

State Geologist Douglas Houghton reported to the Legislature yesterday that he has positive proof the Upper Penninsula abounds in rich copper deposits.

There had been considerable ill feeling toward the land, given Michigan as compensation when the Michigan-Ohio border was decided on north of Toledo.

Houghton said the "mineral district" of the Upper Peninsula centers on the western end, along the Lake Superior shore. It was there, he said, that he had found lead, iron, manganese and silver.

The quantities of all the ores, except iron and copper, may be too slight to be useful, he added.

INDIAN TREATY

Meanwhile the Federal Government will have to settle a treaty with the Indians to open up the northern land, and even then the severity of the winters may deter any miners' rush.

The copper belt (described by Houghton) covers an area 135 miles long and from one to six miles wide. Houghton added.

". . . I would simply caution those persons who would engage in this business in the hope of accumulating wealth suddenly and without patient industry and capital to look closely before the step is taken which will most certainly end in disappointment and ruin."

Houghton also said, however that some of the copper in its native state is free from all foreign matter and is as malleable as refined copper.

(The region which Houghton had so closely scrutinized to make his discovery, has honored him by using his name for one of its cities.)

Christmas Cheer A'Plenty This Year

LANSING (AP)—It's only 108 shopping days until Christmas so the state liquor control commission did its Christmas shopping early.

Chairman Frank Blackford reported that the Commission had placed orders for approximately 25 million dollars worth of bottled Christmas cheer.

The Commission obeys the "shop early" edict, Blackford said, so that it can get its stores stocked by Nov. 1 and so that it can give suppliers plenty of time to fill orders for imported liquor.

In tune with the times, the Commission's 1955 order for 786,000 cases was between half a million and a million dollars more than last Yuletide.

Australia's tobacco crop this season is worth more than $5 million, and the acreage is growing steadily.

Goldwyn Jr. Will Bring 'Proud Rebel' to Screen

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—A dream of Sam Goldwyn Jr.'s will be realized when he brings "Proud Rebel" to the screen. As long ago as 1950, when Sammy was going overseas to be a part of NATO, he read the story, which his father had bought and which was then called "The Journal of Linett Moore," by James Edward Grant.

So five years later, Junior has changed the title to "Proud Rebel" and turned it over to James Petracci to develop.

ROLE FOR COOPER

The reason Gary Cooper missed his plane to Chino, Calif., on location for "Mr. Birdwell Goes to Battle" was that he was talking to Billy Wilder about doing "Adriana" opposite Audrey Hepburn.

When Big Coop finishes "Mr. Bidwell," which he is making for William Wyler, he'll get the co-starring plum with Hepburn. With Billy Wilder directing and producing, this one is as good as a hit already.

Greg Peck with John Huston descended upon me, and I haven't had as many laughs in years. We started out on an interview, and it lasted three hours; not a minute of the time was I bored.

John says he plans to make a picture in Nepal.

One lawsuit which Rita Hayworth won't have to worry about is for the custody of Princess Yasmine. The child's father, Aly Khan, has agreed to appeal to the French courts when they resume the middle of the month to give Rita what the French call an "executor clause" in her original agreement with Aly.

By this clause, Rita can be reasonably sure that little Yasmine will not be kept in France or in the Moslem countries and never returned to her.

In the original agreement, Rita was supposed to deliver Yasmine to her father and grandfather, the Aga Khan, in July. That was the reason for her breakup with Columbia. She feared her picture would not be finished in time.

MORE ABOUT RITA

Those close to the Hayworth-Dick Haymes rift believe it's only a matter of days before Rita returns to their Malibu home, where Dick is now living—and hoping.

He has talked to her once and believes after she rests awhile she will come back. He goes directly home from the Cocoanut Grove each night, hoping to find her waiting.

Dick has been very silent, except when Jerry Lewis, usually a comic, handed him a medal and said, "Here, wear this. It's lucky. Patty (Mrs. Lewis) gave it to me when I needed it badly, and it will bring you luck as it did me." Jerry was dead serious and meant every word he said.

Looking not a day over 16 years old, Gloria DeHaven was on the Paramount lot all day Tuesday, showing off the studio to her Florida boy friend Dick Fincher—and vice versa.

Don't sell this romance short. Ever since she met the handsome automobile dealer in Florida seven months ago, Gloria and Fincher have had eyes only for each other.

Alpha Delta Kappa Promotes Ideals of Educators

A new organization has come to Pontiac. Alpha Delta Kappa, a national educational sorority, has organized Zeta and Epsilon Chapters and has initiated 40 pledges.

* * *

In 1945 a group of five women under the guidance of Agnes Shipman petitioned the state of Missouri for a charter. After two years of extensive research on fraternal organizations, the groundwork was laid and a charter formulated for Alpha Delta Kappa.

Since 1947, the sorority has expanded to 205 chapters in 40 states, with national headquarters in Kansas City.

The purpose of Alpha Delta Kappa is to stress professional and community recognition for outstanding teachers, with a national program of scholarship and altruistic goals.

* * *

The organization's objectives are to build, develop and strengthen the morals, principles and character of the teaching profession; to promote democracy and the high educational standards of the teachers of this country.

ANOTHER OBJECTIVE

To raise the public opinion of the teaching profession is also an objective of Alpha Delta Kappa.

* * *

Assisting the rheumatic fever division of the Heart Society of America is the national altruistic project. Contributions of individual chapters help heart centers in their own localities.

Members of Zeta Chapter elected Mrs. Harold Newstead to head their group in its first year of organization, and Mrs. Genevieve Van't Roer was elected president of Epsilon Chapter.

The two chapters are having a joint meeting on Thursday to outline their program and activities for the year.

MRS. WARREN GREENWOOD

Widow Seeks Work With Children

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I have only a high school education and I am 46," a woman writes.

"I love children of all ages and am very anxious to get a job where I can be working with them. But without college or any special training, it seems almost impossible.

"If I had a job that brought in just a little money, I could study at night. But how can I get a job with children before I get the training? I am a widow and have raised two of my own, but that doesn't seem to mean anything.

"I can type a little, but don't want an office job. I live in a big city. There ought to be some kind of job involving working with children. What do you suggest?"

* * *

This is a problem facing many women.

STRESSED TOO MUCH

Sometimes, it seems to me, academic training is stressed too much in this field.

We all know the degree-heavy woman who knows everything about children, on paper, but lacks the easygoing, loving, warm approach and the sense of fun which children so love and need.

Society at large is beginning to recognize this, and here and there a woman gets into the field without the heavy training.

For now, however, this woman ought to brush up on her typing, not for office use but as a good extra skill to bring to her job in the children's field. And once she gets the job, she ought to go to college at night.

* * *

Here are some jobs which she could, I believe, succeed in getting if she tries:

SUGGESTED JOBS

Selling in a children's wear store.

Selling in the toy department of her local department store.

* * *

Reception work for a pediatrician or in the children's end of a hospital.

General assistant in the office of a nursery school or a community play center.

Selling children's books and records.

Babysitting or caring for the child of a working mother.

Have Jeweler Reset Your Family Stones

Have you inherited the family jewels? They're probably all sizes, shapes and colors set in old-fashioned settings that you can't wear. Take them to your jeweler and discuss possibility of a ring or pin that will group them all together and make one stunning piece.

Where do you keep your hats? In a heap on the closet shelf? Each should be nested in its own tissue paper in its own hat box for longest wear and good looks.

Profit by Past Experiences to Avoid Spats

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Experience is a very good teacher. You don't have to go out in the rain without something on your head more than once to know that your hair is going to droop. You don't have to get blisters on your feet more than once to realize that those shoes aren't for you.

You only have to mix weird combinations of foods once to know that another time you'll have a similarly whooshy tummy.

* * *

One such experience tells you what to expect. A repetition of the same experience becomes a routine you can cope with. Why should a known thing, therefore, toss you into a tailspin? As it has this girl.

"Dear Miss Woodward: My friend and I like each other very much. Some days we get along fine, but on others we fight like cats and dogs. When we do have an argument it's always over some little thing.

"This has been going on for three years now. We've broken up twice, and each time I made amends. He had too much pride to take a chance and see how I felt about him.

"Also he generally comes over with a buddy — this boy likes my sister. This friend has no sense of time and they almost always come an hour later than planned.

The wonderful texture of bulky wool knit is combined here with the lush finish of suede in this suburban-minded twosome. The sweater features a giant collar that can be turned up for a novelty muffler or hood effect. The "snapped-down-front" skirt is gently flared, accented by two huge zipper pockets.

"I realize this is not my boy friend's fault, but I would like it if he would phone and tell me not to expect him for a while. We've talked it over but it doesn't seem to help.

"I've thought of not being home when he is dreadfully late. Maybe this would make him remember. But frankly I'm half afraid it would make him mad. Can you see any solution to my problems?"

Answer: Experience has proven to you that one of your problems is only half your boy friend's fault, and the other isn't his fault at all. You have also found that talking things over doesn't make things happen the way you wish they would.

So, obviously, the best thing to do is to change your own attitude. You're the only one in your story over whom you have any real control.

Take your arguments. It takes two to make a fuss. When you see the familiar tell-tale signs that a ruckus is coming up, choke yourself firmly.

Remind yourself that you're about to fight over something very little. It won't do anyone any good. You won't win. That will stop the argument before it even gets started.

* * *

And consider your boy friends' late arrival as normal for them. Ask what time they'll be over, then add an hour to it and don't be ready for them until then. If they fool you and come early, they'll just have to wait, that's all.

Both problems will vanish — if you'll profit by your experience.

Asks How to Deal With Babysitters

Emily Post Gives Several Pointers on Subject

By EMILY POST

"Will you please pring something in your column about babysitters? That is, the parents' obligation toward them—such as rate of payment, how much freedom they should be allowed and any other pointers that will be helpful to those who engage babysitters."

Answer: The rate of payment varies in different localities and no set schedule can be set up. But the customary rate of the community should be observed, and the sitter should be paid promptly.

The sitter should be told that after the children are sleep he, or she, may use the television set or play the radio, read, or do homework. In other words, it should be clearly understood what she is expected to do, and what she may not do.

It is thoughtful to leave a snack in the refrigerator—the hours can become long and tiresome. Parents should specify where they are going: Address and telephone number; the name, address and telephone number of the children's doctor, and when they expect to be back—and try to be on time.

Adequate transportation must be provided for the sitter's safe return home, and this applies for sitters of any age.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A business acquaintance of mine has just been made vice president of a large company. I would like very much to write him a note of congratulation. Will you please tell me how to word such a note?"

Answer: Write: "Dear Mr. Jones, May I send you sincere congratulations upon your becoming vice president of the X Company—and wish you every success. Sincerely yours, John Brown."

"Dear Mrs. Post: May I give a stork shower for my daughter who is expecting her second baby? She doesn't have any baby things left from her first child and as they are struggling to pay for their house, money is rather tight at the moment. Please advise me on this matter."

Answer: As her mother, you cannot possibly give her one. It should be given by a friend of hers.

You Too Can Design Rugs to Reflect Own Personality

While you may never have designed a rug, you can do it. Professional designers are like the rest of us. They can't make rug designs until they start to think about rugs and relate all the design they see or have seen to their problem—rug design.

A design is an arrangement of forms, colors and textures. There are only two types of design: representational, deriving from something that exists, and abstract, tending away from the realistic or literal. Think about a design for your rug and don't worry about what kind of a design it is, or what people will label it.

* * *

If you get stuck for an idea, try something as simple as this: Draw a lot of big potatoes. You can draw them in different sizes to form a simple plan for arranging your colors and textures. Potatoes may seem prosaic and the idea representational. But your sketch will look abstract and should give you a rug that will be just as beautiful with a modern sofa as with an old spool bed.

Two things to keep in mind when designing a rug: Remember that texture will be an integral part of your design. A good idea before you design a rug is to think up as many different possibilities for rug patterns as you can. Just be willing to sort over your bright ideas and discard all but the best.

Severe cut, stripped of trimming and surface manipulation, puts more emphasis on a lovely figure.

It's silly not to have confidence in your charms; in fact, one of the chief ingredients of charm is knowing what you have and dramatizing it. Why choose overtrimmed clothes and hide that lovely figure?

Time-Saving Main Dish Is Featured

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Macaroni and cheese is such a universal favorite that any recipe for a variation of it is welcome. Mrs. Charles Cox of Union Lake suggests a quick way of preparing this dish, says her family won't eat it any other way.

Mrs. Cox is an energetic, civic-minded individual. For some time she has been an active worker in the Union Lake School PTA and in the Girl Scouts. She is also on the board of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic in Pontiac. Homemaking interests include sewing and knitting.

Key to Success: Spelling

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Girls who want to make good in the world of big business should first learn to spell, says Judy Kurer, who has found glamor, success and world travel in the job of an expert secretary.

* * *

Now in Tachikawa, Japan, recording high-level conferences for the U.S. Air Force, Judy took time out for a chat while in New York just before her takeoff. Here are some bits of sound advice she offers to girls who want secretarial jobs:

1. When you apply for a job, always wear a hat and gloves. The casual look is not for business offices.

* * *

2. Don't talk too much. Constant yakety-yak can drive an employer crazy.

3. Never be caught out without your pocket dictionary. Even if you think you can spell, you'll find the dictionary comes in handy frequently.

4. Don't take a job with the idea of marrying the boss. Businessmen of today are too busy for office romances. They want somebody to get the work out, not hold hands.

Judy has a unique job. She is what might be called a mechanized secretary. Her speciality is to take verbatim reports of meetings, conversations, speeches and sometimes trials, by talking into a strange device called a stenomask, which is hooked up to a recording machine.

When ready for work, Judy looks something like a girl from Mars, with the mask fitted tightly over her mouth, in the manner of skin diving equipment. Her job then is to repeat the words to be recorded as she hears them. Her voice is inaudible to anyone else in the room when the mask is adjusted, and each word is recorded on a disk, which can be transcribed later.

* * *

Judy can record 272 words a minute with her futuristic equipment, and has been known to record the off-the-cuff remarks of 45 men in general executive discussion, getting every word spoken for 90 minutes.

Closed Door Symbolizes Rejection

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Amy was born at an Army post four years ago. Then, with her parents she moved on to other camps. Later, when her mother became pregnant again, she lived with each of her grandmothers.

* * *

Now that her father's got a civilian job and home for his family, she's often troublesome. When this happens, her mother punishes her by putting her in a room with a closed door.

One of her grandmothers suspects that this punishment accounts for her nightmares. She writes, "The child will wake up screaming, 'The door! The door!' I admire my son's wife — but something is wrong. The child seems always afraid of something . . ."

Of course she is. She's afraid that some unknown badness in her will end in final abandonment by her mother.

* * *

The punishing door must not shut Amy in alone with her badness again. She can't take it — not after her hurt babyhood's repeated separations from her mother.

AFRAID OF OFFENDING

What's wrong is her conviction that they were caused by some badness in her that offended her mother.

* * *

That is why, when she's punished today, she reacts to the separating door with such terror.

She wants to cry out to her mother, "Again, again you have abandoned me for displeasing you! Twice before I've displeased you — and you shut me away with strange people called Grandmas. Because I displeased you so, you got yourself another baby. Now, again, you leave me alone closed off from you by this terrible, unknown fault of mine."

She doesn't speak these words in open, conscious attack lest her mother take offense — and desert her forever. Instead, she expresses them in nightmare terror of "the door" — that concrete symbol of the punishing separations her old badness put between her and her mother.

We can only help Amy if we understand the small child's tragic response to resentment in her environment.

The answer is the truth.

* * *

When she wakes us screaming about "the door," we speak directly to her mistaken conviction. We say, "You fear I'm going to leave you again because you are a bad girl. Well, you're not a bad girl. You never have been one so I've never wanted to leave you. Move over, so that I can lie down beside you and tell you how much I wanted my good girl when I had to walk away and leave her with one of her Grandmas . . ."

NEEDS RESPECT

Contrary to the child guidance books, a child is not reassured by a declaration of our love for her. She is reassured by our expressed respect for her as a person of integrity and goodness.

She is comforted by her knowledge of herself as a contributor to our life. If Amy is given this comforting knowledge, she will not again require punishment.

Verla Sturgeon Honored

Verla Lee Sturgeon was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Robert D. Travis on Old lane Wednesday evening. Mrs. Bill Pritchford served as cohostess.

Verla Lee, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah S. Sturgeon of Bamford drive, is the bride-elect of George R. Howell. He is the son of the Raymond Howells of Pontiac drive.

The guests were Mrs. Sturgeon, Mrs. Howell, Gwen Lehmann, Mrs. R. G. Campbell, Mrs. Hazel Pierce, Joan Morang, Mrs. Lylia Ross and Mrs. David Mani, gold.

Others invited were Mrs. Robert Augustine, Mrs. Jack Taylor, Mrs. L. W. Strong and Mrs. Louis A. Howell.

At the shower, Verla announced her attendants for her Oct. 8 wedding. Mrs. Travis will be matron of honor with Miss Morang, Miss Lehmann and Mrs. Joseph Zaffina as her other attendants.

Try Versatile Cotton Squares

Neat as a new lipstick for fastidious dressing tables are the new quilted cotton squares.

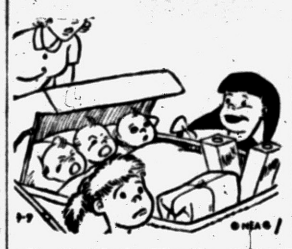

They could be a big aid to women who don't like to use the same thing over and over for cosmetic application.

These little fellows come in a square box that's attractive itself, but they could be stored in the fanciest of antique jars or boxes on the dressing table or on the bathroom cosmetics shelf.

These squares are quilted in five panels and around the edge so that no cotton fuzz works off on the face during a facial or powder application.

Like all absorbent cotton products, they retain much more than their weight in liquid cosmetics.

An additional quick trick can be worked with these squares. They can be very useful to women who like to lie down with damp pads on their eyes, or, with the use of sticky cellulose tape, could be used as a wet compress on a skin irritation or callous.

It often looks like the stork is kidding some folks too much.

Laundry Rooms Are Numerous

The laundry can be found anywhere in the house today. Breakfast rooms, kitchen entries, bathrooms and pantries are all utilized for a convenient first-floor laundry, as only about 5½ feet of wall space is required to place an automatic washer and gas clothes dryer side by side.

In new homes or where space in older homes permits, homemakers prefer to install the laundry equipment in the kitchen, where they can do their wash while cooking. Increasingly popular is the first-floor combination of laundry, sewing center and den, equipped with an easy chair and a television set.

New electric light bulbs painted pink give new radiance to complexions, enrich warm colors in fabrics, pictures and foods, add luster to polished furniture, soften shadow and reduce glare, according to manufacturers.

Straits Bridge Moving Ahead

Good Weather Lends Contractors a Hand in Substructure Work

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Construction of the Straits of Mackinac Bridge is moving smoothly, with 88 per cent of the substructure completed within 79 per cent of the allotted contract time, a progress report states.

Target date for the bridge's completion is November 1957.

D. B. Steinman, consulting engineer for the project, credited the swift progress to exceptionally fine summer weather.

He said 400,000 cubic yards of concrete of a total of 450,000 have been placed to date. A new world's record was established for underwater concrete placement from a single floating plant 6,250 cubic yards in a 24-hour day.

The two main piers, founded on rock at depths of 210 and 205 feet below water, established a new record as the deepest supension bridge piers in the world.

TOWERS RISING

Erection of steel towers atop the main piers began July 2, Steinman reported, and as of Aug. 27 had risen to a height of 262 and 226 feet. Early completion to a height of 550 feet above water is anticipated, he said.

Anchorage steel for the main cables has been erected in position on the two anchorages and the two massive anchorages are moving to completion to bridge height. When completed, each will weigh 170,000 tons to resist a total pull of 30,000 tons from the two cables.

The total weight of the bridge is 96,000 tons in the superstructure and 80,000 tons in the substructure.

Court Dissolves Bill to End Picket Block

A bill of complaint which sought an injunction to stop pickets from blocking construction of a new drive-in restaurant in Drayton Plains was dissolved Wednesday in circuit court.

Leonard Olshansky had asked an order against Local 594, Hotel & Restaurant Employes' International Alliance & Bartenders' International League.

Olshansky told Judge Frank L. Doty Wednesday that work on the building at 4920 Dixie Hwy. had been completed and the judge ruled no cause for action now exists.

Crop Production to Be Reduced

Plan to Raise Prices by Leasing Farmland Gotham Paper Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune said today the Agriculture Department is actively considering a multimillion-dollar plan that calls for restricting farm output by leasing land from farmers.

* * *

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper said the plan is designed to strengthen dropping farm prices by cutting top-heavy food production and surpluses.

The objective was said to be "to plug a major gap in the Eisenhower administration's farm program."

The story quoted Agriculture Department officials as saying the plan would cost the government about 500 million dollars a year.

* * *

The plan was described this way:

About 40 million acres of privately held farm land would be rented by the government at an average price of more than $10 an acre. Farmers who received the rental payments would be required to plant soil-building crops on the acres leased by the government and they would be forbidden to use the land to grow crops for home consumption or marketing.

The 40 million acres represent land that will be diverted by government acreage allotments from production of the six "basic" crops—wheat, corn, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco.

* * *

The Herald Tribune story noted that the government now is enforcing acreage controls in an effort to curb overproduction. "But the administration has found," the story added, "that its control scheme works badly because farmers use land that has been diverted from the six 'basics' to grow other crops."

Thwarted 3 Times, Alien Gets Papers

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—Illness three times previously had prevented Mrs. Ermina Ciotti, 77, from getting her final papers to become a citizen.

Yesterday she was again scheduled to receive the papers and to take the oath—and once again she was ill.

* * *

Federal Judge Thomas H. Madden, learning of her plight, went to her home and administered the oath.

Mrs. Ciotti, who came from Rome about 40 years ago, sat through the ceremony grasping a small American flag. She said afterwards "I am so very happy."

About Our History . . .
In the twilight of the 19th century Michigan was growing rapidly as the settlers from the East flocked to the rich farmland. Old Indian trails were becoming roads. One such road was the Pontiac-Farmington Junction road (today called Orchard Lake Road). The local farmers built and maintained a toll-gate house until 1920 to keep this road in good repair.

Malaria Control Works

NEW DELHI (AP) — The Health Ministry says its malaria control program in West Punjab has produced "an unprecedented reduction" in the number of persons afflicted with the disease. During 1954 malaria struck 380,000 persons, killing 125,055. In 1950, more than 680,000 persons were afflicted and 210,961 died. West Punjab has a population of 12½ milions.

There are 6.5 million men, age 20-25 in the U. S. now as compared with a record of 7.25 million in 1945.

Report 3 Killed in Plane Crash

Five Out of 30 Injured in California Smashup Are From Michigan

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — A twin-engine transport, in trouble after takeoff, tried to limp back to Lockheed Air Terminal but crashed short of the runway yesterday, killing at least three persons and injuring about 30.

• • •

The big DC3 cut a power line, mangled a fence, struck a parked air force C54—killing a civilian who was working on a wing — and smashed into a hangar.

Five persons from Michigan were injured:

Pvt. Andy Catalane, 21, Detroit; Jack Matchett, 19, Iron River; Leonard Steele, 18, Iron Mountain; Pvt. George Heath, 17, and Mrs. Mae Sindel, 46, both of Lincoln Park.

The crippled DC3 missed by only a few yards hitting President Eisenhower's super Constellation, "Columbine," here for service. Lockheed built the plane for the President.

Technician Willie Malone, 47, Los Angeles, working on a wing tank of a nearby C54 was killed. None of the passengers were seriously injured.

• • •

Fire crews quickly extinguished the burning engine as rescuers pulled the fatally injured pilot Joseph Amos Bradsher, 31, and co-pilot Keith Dutson, 35, Santa Monica, Calif., from the wreckage.

Use Overwater Buckets

ALABASTER — Lake Huron freighters anchored two miles offshore from Alabaster take on gypsum cargoes by a continuous overwater bucket conveyor system extending all the way from shore.

These Are Soldiers?

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUNDS, N. M. (AP) — Oldtimers in the military shook their heads over how soldiers have changed when they noted a warning recently from Lt. Col. G. W. Harris, provost marshal.

Harris said after a recent payday, military police found "a score of wallets, some open, lying in unguarded places." He added "it behooves all of the men to watch their money."

July fourth fireworks caused only four deaths in 1954 and only one in 1953. By comparison fireworks accidents took the lives of 466 in the celebrations of 1903.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Polio vaccine is a "spectacular success" in Oregon, the State Board of Health reported yesterday after reviewing the first 35 weeks of the year. U.S. Guarantees Nearly Half of Residences

CHICAGO — A recent analysis shows that more than 40 per cent of the nation's home-mortgage debt is either insured or guaranteed by the Federal Government.

At the start of 1955 the nation's mortgage debt exceeded 75.9 billion dollars, about four times more than it was at the end of World War II, when the outstanding debt was 18.5 billion. Of the outstanding debt, 31.1 billion, or 42.3 per cent, is federally insured or guaranteed.

Kalkaska Air Force Base to Have $5,800,000 Payroll

BELLAIRE (AP)—A letter from the office of Rep. Victor A. Knox (R-Mich), printed in the Antrim County News, has disclosed the annual payroll at the proposed Kalkaska jet base will be approximately $5,800,000.

* * *

The story was reported at Kalkaska today by Hollis Morgan, jet base committee member.

The letter, indicating the information was released from Air Force headquarters, said the base would house about 1,500 military personnel and some 200 civilian workers.

Rep. Knox' letter said construction would be initiated "in the spring of 1956," as soon as a master plan is approved by the Air Force.

RAISING FUNDS

Meanwhile, Grand Traverse and Kalkaska County groups are raising funds to purchase 1,200 acres of privately owned land to complete the site for the $17 million base.

The territory, about 14 miles east of Traverse City and two miles west of Kalkaska, is largely state-owned. Morgan said about one-fourth is under private ownership.

Grand Traverse county supervisors yesterday approved appropriation of $15,000 to a fund for purchasing the private land to be used for the base. Other governmental units in the county and in Kalkaska County are expected to provide about $30,000 to the fund.

Col. Arthur C. Nauman, of the Army Corps of Engineers at Detroit, today told a Traverse City source his department will be responsible for construction of the base.

* * *

He said his office has not yet received a master plan from the Air Force but expects it will arrive within the next two to three months. Preliminary plans are being made by contractors, Col. Nauman said.

He stated he is hopeful work on the base itself can be started soon after the first of the year in order to take advantage of the best construction weather.

* * *

The Kalkaska site was approved Aug. 24 by Air Force Secretary Donald Quarles to end months of controversy over locating the base, which had been sought by several northwestern Michigan groups.

Wrigley Merges With Big Bear

Expansion Will Include New Supermarkets in 3 Area Communities

DETROIT (AP)—The merger of the Big Bear and Wrigley supermarkets was announced late yesterday by the heads of the two grocery firms.

Expansion programs planned by both Wrigley and Big Bear include the opening of new stores in Detroit, Monroe, Adrian, Jackson, Flint, Drayton Plains, Rochester, Birmingham and cities in northern Ohio.

The new combination will give the chain 130 supermarkets in Michigan with an estimated sales volume of 250 million dollars annually.

Executive offices will be in Detroit. No name has been chosen yet for the new combine.

A short time ago the merger of ACF-Brill and Wrigley's was announced. In addition to Wrigley's ACF-Brill acquired Standard Food markets and Humpty Dumpty supermarkets in Oklahoma.

Under terms of the Wrigley-Big Bear consolidation, one and three sixteenths shares of ACF-Brill will be exchanged for one share of Big Bear.

STARTED IN DETROIT

Wrigley's was started 30 years ago by John Lurie and his brother Nathan who rented space in a meat market on Grand River to sell fruit and vegetables. The chain made tremendous progress after the war and in July, 1951, absorbed the Packers supermarket chain.

Big Bear was started in March 1938 and has rapidly grown intto the second largest independent food chain in the metropolitan Detroit area.

Reynolds Approves Splitting Stock 5 to 1

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Reynolds Metals Co. stockholders yesterday approved a five for one common stock split. They also heard President Richard S. Reynolds Jr. paint a rosy picture for expanded use of aluminum as a replacement for more expensive copper.

Stockholders of the aluminum manufacturing and fabricating company also approved setting aside 50,000 shares of the stock under a stock option plan designed to hold top men with the company.

Under the plan Reynolds and his three brothers who are vice-presidents could take a five year option to purchase stock at 110 per cent of market value. Directors and other key officials would have a 10 year option to purchase the stock at 95 per cent of market value.

Officer's Keen Observation Nabs Men Here

Paul Davidson, wanted by Tuscola County officials on several traffic violation warrants, was in custody today because of a detective's keen sense of observation.

Davidson, 51, of 1098 Lakeview Dr., was arrested yesterday by Oakland County Sheriff's Detectives Mahlon France and Leo Hazen after France accidentally spotted Davidson driving north on Scott Lake Road.

"We'd been looking for Davidson earlier and were returning to the jail," said France, "when I spotted this big guy driving in the opposite direction." (A teletype message from Tuscola Police had supplied the license number and physical description of Davidson).

"I looked in the rear view mirror and noticed that the license number ended in zero, continued France. "I turned around, and Davidson spotting us chasing him.

"He turned down several side roads, ran through a filling station and headed out the Dixie, but we got him after about a mile chase," France said.

Davidson was turned over to Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies to answer the charges late yesterday.

Three Persons Hurt in 5-Car Collision

Three persons were injured yesterday afternoon in a 5-car collision at M59 and John R. Rd., Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said.

Admitted at St. Jopseh Mercy Hospital with head and leg injuries was Mrs. Clara Fons, 67, of Rochester. Her condition was described as good.

Treated and released with a broken nose was Patricia Elwood, 13, of Rochester, a passenger with her mother, Dorothy, 32. Also treated was Mrs. Irene Haylett, 35, of Royal Oak, driver of the car in which Mrs. Fons was riding.

Mrs. Haylett, driving north of John R., told deputies that she ran through the flasher-controlled intersection and collided with a truck driven by Laurence E. Chapin, 40, of 402 S. Edith St., headed west on M59.

The other three cars, driven by Ramon Rangel, 38, of Mt. Clemens, Elwood and Mrs. Dorothy Lincoln, 40, of Royal Oak, collided in attempting to avoid the accident.

Pontiac Annual Report Places 2nd in Contest

(Special to the Press)

MACKINAC ISLAND — The city of Pontiac placed second in the first annual report contest sponsored by the Michigan Municipal League, which is holding its 57th annual convention here.

Announcement of the award was made Thursday at the opening session of the three-day conference of municipal officials. Top Pontiac officials were on hand to receive the award.

First place honors went to Royal Oak, Midland, Oak Park, Marysville and Roosevelt Park in the five population categories.

Pontiac was entered in the over-40,000 population category. Smaller communities receiving second place awards in their population groups were Marquette, Plymouth, Vassar and Stambaugh.

Drop Plans to Convert Hotel to Hospital Here

"The Pontiac Hotel will continue to be operated as a hotel and the management intends to completely modernize and refurnish the rooms," Managing Director David Shubow said today.

Negotiations have been broken off between the hotel and the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital which was considering converting the seven story building at 50 N. Perry St. into a hospital, Shubow explained.

Waives Exam in Theft

William G. McMaster, 17, of White Lake Township, waived examination in Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of auto theft.

He was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court and ordered to jail when he failed to furnish a $3,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Arrested Juvenile Admits Bar Breakin

A 16-year-old boy was scheduled for return to the Boys Vocational School in Lansing today after he admitted breaking into the Wixom Bar Tuesday night.

The juvenile, whose name was withheld because of his age, was arrested Wednesday by Sheriff's deputies on a disturbance complaint. Under questioning by detectives, he admitted the breakin in which 3 cases of wine, four boxes of cigars and $24 were taken.

The bar, owned by Hjalmer R. Burnstrum, is located at 49365 Fourteen Mile Rd.

Judge Hartrick Elected

Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick has been elected second vice president of the Michigan Judges Assn. now meeting in Detroit.

Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash, of Lansing, was named president, succeeding Wayne Circuit Judge Chester P. O'Hara.

Pontiac Man Files Suit Against City

Elmo N. Lockwood, of 896 Emerson Ave., has filed suit against Pontiac in Oakland County Circuit Court.

He alleges he applied for a permit to build a sewer line to his home which was denied Feb. 8, 1954 by City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn on grounds the building had been condemned under the Michigan housing law adopted as a city ordinance.

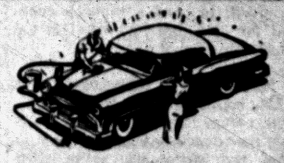

Lockwood says he desires to remodel the building but has been informed the necessary permits will be denied unless he moves the structure to the front of his lot in Perry Park Subdivision.

The court is asked to direct the city to issue the sewer permit and decree that the house was never lawfully condemned. No hearing date has been set.

Seek Settlement in Morocco

French Hope Agreement on Throne Occupancy Reached by Monday

PARIS (AP) — French hopes mounted today that a Moroccan settlement would be reached before next Monday, in time to avert further bloodshed in the violence-torn North African protectorate.

* * *

Officials of Premier Edgar Faure's government said an agreement was in sight and an announcement would be made "in a time."

A high French source at U.N. headquarters in New York told newsmen Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa by Monday will name Si Bekkai, staunch supporter of former Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef, to head a regency council for Morocco. Si Bekkai is the former pasha of Sefrou.

* * *

Moulay Arafa, the source at the U.N. continued, will retire to the international zone of Tangier, leaving the council to rule until France and the Moroccans settle their two-year quarrel over the occupancy of the throne.

Negotiators on all sides intensified their activities as the target date for the settlement approached.

Seeking Extradition of Escaped Deviate

LANSING (AP)—Moves were under way today to seek the extradition of Arthur J. Robertoy, escaped "criminal sexual psychopath" who was located living with relatives in Indiana.

* * *

State Police said that Robertoy, 24, was taken into custody at Peru, Ind., yesterday on the basis of a Michigan alarm that he was a "dangerous" man.

State Police said Prosecuting Attorney Cecil Byers of Macomb County had agreed to revive an old 1953 charge to make the basis for requesting the extradition of Robertoy to Michigan.

Robertoy escaped last Friday from the Ionia State Hospital for the criminal insane. State Police said there had been considerable confusion about whether the hospital wanted him back but that mental health authorities agreed he should be returned to the hospital.

Byers, police said, will charge Robertoy with breaking and entering in the night time, an offense linked to the crime for which Robertoy was sent to Ionia.

Police said that Robertoy had been committed for committing an act of indecency against a woman into whose trailer he broke in 1953 in Macomb County.

Seek Injunctions in Dock Walkout

Waterfront Commission, Shippers Attempting to Halt Strike

By RAY KOHN

NEW YORK (AP)—Shipping firms and the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission seek permanent injunctions today to halt a costly dock strike which threatens to erupt along the entire East Coast.

The independent International Longshoremen's Assn. already has ignored one temporary restraining order issued since some 25,000 men walked off the New York-New Jersey piers Wednesday.

The employers, the 170-member New York Shipping Assn., charge that since no labor dispute exists, the ILA is trying to coerce them into fighting the avowed ILA target: the bistate agency set up two years ago to police the piers.

The association also goes to the State Supreme Court today to ask a contempt citation against the union which, if granted, could result in a heavy fine.

In walking out, the ILA further defied an 18-month-old state court injunction banning a strike aimed against activities of the Waterfront Commission.

ILA President William V. Bradley charged yesterday that the association and the commission have connived to "break up our union and any union on the waterfront."

In Boston, some 2,000 longshoremen were scheduled to take a "holiday" today and start voting on whether to support the New York strike.

Turnpike, Freeway Debate Is Planned

The toll road method versus the free road method of accelerating will be discussed by the leading exponents of each before the Economic Club of Detroit Sept. 19.

George N. Higgins, chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority, will speak for toll roads, while Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner, will present the case for free roads.

Higgins and Ziegler have exchanged hot words at meetings of the turnpike authority, on which Ziegler has a seat. Chief issue has been whether a north-south limited access road across the state should be a freeway or a turnpike.

20 Years Gone, Army Impounds Guilty Re-enlister

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Leroy Van Camp tried to re-enlist in the army yesterday and wound up under military guard after he told recruiting officers he had been absent without leave 20 years.

* * *

Van Camp, in answering routine questions by the recruiters, casually mentioned he quit the Army in 1935 at Ft. Douglas, Utah.

"The pay was small," he said. "Only $21 a month along with room and board. I applied for a dependency discharge because of my wife and two babies. One day they told me my discharge papers had come through and I could pick them up the next day.

"I don't know why I did it, but I decided to pack up that same day and go home. And I did."

Van Camp, 43, was held at nearby Ft. Leavenworth pending a check of his records.

* * *

Van Camp, a pipefitter's helper, said he decided to re-enlist because "they need good mechanics" and his conscience had been bothering him recently.

Asks Legal OK on Drunk Tests

Fremont Senator Gets Williams' Approval on Special Session Bill

LANSING (AP)—Sen. Don Vander Werp (R-Fremont) says that he has secured Gov. Williams' permission to submit to a special legislative session next month a bill to legalize drunkometer tests.

* * *

The governor has said he would call the Legislature into special session late in October to adopt more highway safety controls.

"There's no use in trying to promote safety unless we go all the way," Vander Werp said. "A drunk driver is a potential murderer and the sooner we get them off the highways the better."

Vander Werp said he would offer a copy of the New York law which specifies that when a motorist accepts a driver's license he automatically waives any constitutional objections to such test.

EVIDENCE OUTLAWED

Michigan law now forbids tests of the blood, breath, urine or saliva to be admitted in evidence in court trials to prove intoxication.

* * *

A number of chemical tests have been developed, Vander Werp said, which show the amount of alcohol in a person's body. The standard test for drunkenness, he said, is 0.15 per cent of alcohol in the blood.

Vander Werp said 20 states now permit chemical tests for intoxication to be admitted in court evidence. He said exhaustive tests at Michigan State University had proved the validity of the standard and that the tests had been endorsed by the American Medical Association.

Under the constitution, legislation may not be introduced at a special session without the governor's consent.

* * *

Vander Werp failed in 1953 and 1954 to get legislative approval for his proposal.

Envoy Stands on Head to Win Asian Friends

LONDON (AP)—Britain is sending to India a diplomat who has a way with Asians—even though it sometimes means standing on his head.

Malcolm MacDonald came home this week for consultations after nine years as roving ambassador in Southeast Asia.

* * *

MacDonald's job has been — and will be in India—to counter communism and make friends in a region where British diplomats in the past had somewhat of a reputation for haughtiness and stuffiness.

Conservative and Socialist political leaders in London regard him as one of the most successful diplomats Britain has had in Asia in modern times.

* * *

MacDonald has preached a doctrine that has won him Asian trust.

"Colonialism is a bad system of government," he has said over and again. "The attack on it is right in principle . . . Western rule could never have been permanent in Asia. It could not have been anything but a passing phase in Asian history."

* * *

The son of Britain's first Labor Prime Minister, Ramsay MacDonald, he grew up in politics. Yet today he regards himself as a no-party man.

Upon graduating from Oxford, he won a seat in Parliament at the age of 28 as a Socialist. Later he served in a national government in two Cabinet posts—colonial minister and minister of health.

* * *

During World War II he was Britain's high commissioner in Canada. In 1946 he was sent to Malaya as governor general. The Communists were waging a struggle to gain control of the colony.

MacDonald helped check the Red inroads by what he calls "shirt-sleeve" diplomacy, and by letting the Malayans themselves take a prominent part in stamping out the Communists.

DANIEL BOONE

By Russ Winterbotham and Ralph Lane

Disaster fell upon the party. First, John Finley fell ill and was left behind near Cumberland Gap, the gateway to Kentucky.

Next, Cherokee hunters surprised Dan'l Boone, his brother-in-law, John Stuart, and three helpers.

Warning the whites to stay away from their hunting ground, the redskins took their horses and all but one gun.

Maybee Man Hurt When Tree Topples

Pinned when a tree he was trimming fell on him, Ellsworth Shankleton, 21, of Maybee, was admitted at Pontiac General Hospital Wednesday with a broken left leg. His condition was reported as good.

Shankleton, one of a crew clearing trees from an M24 widening project north of here, was trimming branches from a fallen tree trunk when it suddenly toppled on him, State Police of the Pontiac Post said.

Denies Liquor Sale

James B. Turner, 23, of 186 Wessen St., appeared before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan Wednesday and pleaded innocent to charges of illegal liquor sale. He was released on a personal bond to appear for trial Sept. 22.

Here's One Way to Beat the High Prices of Labor

CALVERT MANOR, Md. (AP) — Forty-five hardworking householders here have just about finished a community do - it - yourself project that will give them a water supply.

They started the job after finding out that a $60,000 bid for two miles of pipeline, two wells and a storage tank included $10,000 for labor.

They figured they could handle the cost of materials but balked at the labor cost.

Shares were floated to foot the bill for materials.

A celebration is planned.

2 Holdup Slayers Die

OSSINING, N.Y. (AP)—Two New York City holdup slayers died in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison last night.

Clarence M. Reed, 32, and Edward J. Nichols, 28, were electrocuted for the shooting of Arville A. Davis, 66, in a $200 card game holdup in New York City May 9, 1954.

Davis was killed by a burst of gunfire when he answered a knock on the door of his Harlem apartment.

London-West Coast Flights Set by TWA

NEW YORK (INS) — Trans-World Airlines has announced it will fly "the first and fastest one-plane intercontinental air service" from California to London and Frankfurt, effective Nov. 1.

* * *

E. O. Cocke, TWA vice president-sales, made the announcement of a service using Super-G Constellation planes flying non-stop from both San Francisco and Los Angeles to New York and thence non-stop to London.

The announcement said that this one-stop, overnight service will be more than seven hours faster than existing "polar route" schedules.

Both weekly flights will continue to Frankfurt, resulting in a time saving of four hours from California to that city.

Total elapsed time for the 6,000-mile flight from Los Angeles to London will be 21 hours and five minutes.

According to present estimates, there will be about eight million men from ages 20-25 in the United States by 1965, a sharp upward turn.

White Sox Confronted With Yankee Weekend

NEW YORK (AP) — Things admittedly are tough with the Chicago White Sox these days, and they could get tougher real quick as the Sox open a crucial weekend and a two-game series with the New York Yankees today.

Marty Marion's Sox were crestfallen when they came off with nothing better than a split in the Labor Day double-header at Detroit. And they couldn't feel any fresher as they confront the Yankees — not after blowing a three-run lead in a 5-4 defeat by seventh-place Washington yesterday.

The Yanks, meanwhile, practically had a day off, trimming Kansas City 13-0.

Going into Washington, Marion admitted his players were low. He had hoped Tuesday's day off would give them some bounce. But they barely salvaged the first game against the Senators Wednesday and now, after losing five of their last seven, the Sox are 2½ games behind.

What makes it worse is that after facing the Yanks in two, they have to hustle on to Boston for a Sunday double-header against the Red Sox.

Marion's going into Yankee Stadium behind Dick Donovan (14-6), who's had normal four-day rest after getting pounded by Cleveland Sunday. Manager Casey Stengel has named Don Larson (6-2) for today's game.

Brooks Nail Flag, Pressure Mounts in AL Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Brooklyn's pennant victory is the earliest ever in the National League—but in the American, one or two of the contenders may find it's later than they think after the next three, pressure-packed days.

The Dodgers made it with a 10-2 thrashing of Milwaukee yesterday, erasing their own league standard for an early clinching set on Sept. 12, 1953.

The frenzied American League battle, however, now jumps into its most crucial three days yet, sending the Chicago White Sox into New York's Yankee Stadium to open a two-game set today while the first place Cleveland Indians begin a two-game series at Boston.

Sunday, Chicago moves to Boston and Cleveland visits New York in a pair of doubleheaders.

* * *

The burden is on the White Sox and the Red Sox. Both lost vital ground yesterday while Cleveland and New York reeled off victories. The Indians beat Baltimore 5-3 in 10 innings, maintaining their half-game lead over the Yanks, who walloped Kansas City 13-0.

But the White Sox were jarred 2½ games behind by Washington 5-4. Boston, after winning six straight, slipped four games back with a 5-4 defeat by Detroit.

Cleveland stayed out front with four unearned runs. Only Larry Doby's 26th homer leading off the 10th to break a 3-3 tie, provided the Tribe with an untainted run. Doby, smacking his third homer in two days, had three of the Indians' nine hits.

Baltimore, completing its season play against the Tribe with only three victories in the 22 games, pushed over a run in the ninth off Ray Narleski, the Tribe's fourth pitcher, as the Indians missed what was supposed to have been a game-ending doubleplay.

* * *

The Yanks had no such anxious moments. Bob Turley five-hit the A's for his fifth shutout and 15th triumph and Yogi Berra belted a pair of three-run homers. Kansas City kicked in four errors, giving New York six unearned runs on their nine hits.

After losing 17 games to the White Sox, the Senators closed out the '55 series with their fifth success, chasing Virgil Trucks with two runs that won it in the seventh. Ernie Oravetz, who earlier had given the Sox two runs on fielding errors, brought home the winning run with a sacrifice fly following three singles in the seventh.

The Dodgers, winning their ninth modern-era pennant, breezed home on 11 hits and the brilliant relief work of Karl Spooner. The 24-year-old southpaw, relieving rookie Roger Craig in the fourth, pitched no-hit ball over the final 5 2-3 innings, striking out 9 and retiring 13 in order in one stretch.

Jackie Robinson, who hit a two-run homer in a four-run fifth, and Gil Hodges, each knocked home three runs.

Philadelphia tightened its grip on fourth place with a 6-4 decision over fifth place Cincinnati, overcoming two homers by Redleg Wally Post.

The New York Giants, taking advantage of Milwaukee's defeat by Brooklyn, moved within 2½ games of the runner-up Braves with a 6-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in a night game. Bobby Hofman and Wayne Terwilliger sparked a five-run sixth with doubles.

Rams Look to Future

By BILL CORNWELL

With an eye to the future and the belief that things can't get any worse, Pontiac St. Frederick High School's football team is busily preparing itself for the 1955 season opener Sept. 18 at Wisner Stadium with Marine City Holy Cross.

Displaying renewed spirit and vigor under new head coach Gene Wright, a St. Frederick alumnus, Rams hope to end a victory famine which has denied them a win on the gridiron since early in the 1953 season. The Rams are without a victory in their last 16 outings, a 6-6 tie in 1954 with Ferndale St. James their best effort.

St. Frederick, which posted a 0-8-1 record last year and finished in the Suburban Catholic League cellar, pins its hopes for an end to the drought on the shoulders of six 1954 regulars and a promising handfull of letter winners who will probably complete the starting lineup.

Five of the six returning starters are linemen, led by co-captains Dick Doyon and Jim Duren, both seniors. Doyon is a veteran pass-catching end with sure hands who also kicks well while Duren is a rugged competitor at the guard position.

Joining Duren and the rangy Doyon up front will be tackles Tom Sweetman and Don Morrissey, both seniors, and Dick Poe, a sophomore guard who looked impressive as a freshman by season's close.

Morrissey, a center a year ago, has been switched to tackle to make room at the pivot for Tom Israel, another soph making an impression on Wright. Rounding out the line will be end Steve Rosina, a junior.

Rams' starting backfield will be anchored around veteran Larry Morrow, a senior who operates at quarterback off the split-T.

Remainder of the tentative backfield is relatively inexperienced. John Bradley, a junior, and senior Dave Jones, chunky speed merchant, are running at the halfback posts. Wally Quarles, a junior, is slated for fullback duty.

Of the squad of 47 which reported to Wright when practice began last week, the team will center around the probable starting 11 plus three other lettermen and a few promising newcomers.

John Poe, Larry Doyon, and Bill Price are holdovers very likely to see action. Bright prospects include Paul Grosse, Dick Thompson, Frank Zwicker and Tom Durocher. Zwicker, a tackle, and Durocher, sparkling at quarterback, are freshmen.

Rams will use two platoons as much as possible, Wright said.

Wright makes his Pontiac debut in the opener here Sept. 18, with Marine City after four years of coaching experience in northern Michigan, one year at Alanson and three at Hesperia. His assistants are Al Serra, John Nickerson and Stan Evanoff, the latter two directing the JV's.

Michigan's Big 10 Chances May Ride on Maddock

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Sturdy Jim Maddock, a strong-armed quarterback, may have to carry a heavy load this year if Michigan's Wolverines live up to predictions of 3rd in the nation, 1st in the Big Ten.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan admitted "Our other backs, like Terry Barr, Tony Branoff and Lou Baldacci, will throw passes running off to the left and right . . .

"Maddock will throw from the pocket."

Maddock, a 20-year-old Chicago junior, says, "We're working on our passing more this year—that helps. Sometimes we work on it twice a day."

The new emphasis on passing is necessary. Oosterbaan needs a foil for Michigan's running attack—its best in at least five years. Then, he says, he would like to make best use of top receivers like the phenomenal Ron Kramer, fast-improving Tom Maentz and wingback Branoff.

Maddock likes the extra passing practice:

"It helps to know your receivers better—not that you have to know Kramer—just throw the ball and he'll get it. We're loaded with good receivers though—our ends and our wingbacks."

Not that Maddock will handle all the passing. Oosterbaan says that Maddock's throwing has improved, "but they've all improved."

For the 2nd straight day Baldacci, a fullback, worked out lightly with a bruised heel yesterday and guard Jim Fox took it easy too, although in uniform, limping on a pulled muscle.

Louise Suggs, Sea Island, Ga., followed Miss Berg with a 35-36—71.

Other top scorers the first day were Betty Jameson, San Antonio, Tex., Betsy Rawls, Spartanburg, S.C., Gloria Armstrong, Oakland, Calif., and Betty Bush, Detroit, all with 75s.

Auto Industry Officials Asked to Help Racing

New Group Seeking to Take Over Reins From Quitting AAA

DETROIT (AP)—Auto industry officials listened with varied interests Thursday night as car racing's top supporters asked for their help, moral and technical, in forming a new group to replace the governing American Automobile Assn.

* * *

The AAA, which has sanctioned auto racing since 1902, recently said it will quit Jan. 1, 1956, because it doesn't think racing now contributes to the improvement of passenger cars.

Among the 56 auto chiefs in attendance was Benson Ford, Ford Motor Co. vice president. He had just come from a 2-day, Ford-sponsored national safety conference. Safety is one of the reasons projected for the AAA leaving racing.

* * *

"I'm just listening," said Ford as Anton J. (Tony) Hulman, owner of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and a member of the new group, told them "we need your advice on what could make our new organization better." But Ford added, "they've certainly got my moral support."

* * *

Hulman said the group not only will succeed the AAA but will "cover more of every kind of auto racing there is — including stock cars."

Buford Widow Piling Up Cash With Baseball

Television Expert Says Yanks Will Win Race for Pennant

Mrs Myrt Power, a 70-year-old widow from Buford, Ga. has won $8000 on the CBS television show, "the $64000 question" by answering correctly questions on baseball history. She has a chance to try for $16,000 next Tuesday. In the following article, she offers some predictions on who will win the hotly contested American League pennant and the World Series.

By MRS. MYRT POWER
(As told to INS)

NEW YORK (INS) — I predict that the New York Yankees will win the American League pennant.

They're just that lucky, not that good. They just get all the breaks.

It's not that I'm a Yankee fan. I think there'll be a play-off between the Yankees and Chicago. I shouldn't say that because the White Sox are two-and-a-half games out right now.

But I'd love to see Marty Marion win it. He's from Atlanta (Ga.) you know. I lived in Chicago one year and went to all the games at Comiskey Park.

I used to like it when Paul Richards managed the club, too. He's from Texas but he played in Atlanta and won two pennants for the Crackers in the Southern Association.

I'm a National League fan but if I weren't I'd have to say the Brooklyn Dodgers are going to win the World Series.

But it's going to take seven games. It's not going to be a walkaway like last year when the Giants won it in four straight.

Greenberg Matches Ruth

Babe Ruth once hit nine home runs in one week, a feat that stood until the season of 1938 when Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers duplicated and tied the major league mark.

Dodgers Win 9th Pennant but in Flatbush — Silence

BROOKLYN (AP) — It was much like any other day in Brooklyn as the Dodgers won their ninth National League pennant at Milwaukee in a record-setting fashion.

* * *

Here and there could be heard a loud shout as Karl Spooner fanned pinch hitter Del Rice of Milwaukee for the third out in the ninth, and they a cry "we'll murder the Bums." You could see they didn't care whether it'll be the Yankees, Indians, White Sox or Red Sox in the World Series.

Filled glasses were raised on high in many taverns, but along Flatbush Avenue and other major thoroughfares business went along as usual.

* * *

The winning of the pennant on Sept. 8, the earliest date in league history, actually was a culmination of what Brooklyn fans knew long ago. It was just a matter of time, in their opinion, once their beloved Bums broke from the barrier fast last April.

Brooklyn officially recognized the triumph when Borough President John Cashmore sent a congratulatory telegram to Dodger President Walter F. O'Malley in Milwaukee.

He invited the team to a reception he promised would be "the biggest in the borough's history." That'll be Sept. 16, when the players will be honored in a parade for two miles through the heart of Brooklyn.

Golf Cavalcade Par-Smashers Have Troubles

Only 2 Professionals Hit Regulation Figures at Shackamaxon CC

SCOTCH PLAINS, N.J. (AP)—The top professional golfers of the country, accustomed to ripping courses apart in PGA sponsored tournaments, are finding the Shackamaxon Country Club layout something of a problem.

Only two bettered par 70 for the 6,730-yard course yesterday in the first round of the $50,000 Cavalcade of Golf Tournament. And only three others matched perfect figures as the narrow fairways, treacherous rough and concrete greens took a heavy toll among the aspirants for the first prize of $10,000.

* * *

Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., and Walker Inman of Augusta, Ga., each putting with deadly accuracy, shot 68s to hold a two-stroke lead going into today's second round of the 72-hole competition. The field will be cut to 60 and ties after today's play for the third round tomorrow and the final 18 holes Sunday.

* * *

The three tournament-hardened veterans who managed to match par were Freddie Haas of Claremont, Calif., Ted Kroll of Bethesda, Md., and diminutive Jerry Barber of Los Angeles.

Favored Sam Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., blaster stayed within striking distance of the leaders with a 71, the same scores turned in by Cary Middlecoff, Gene Littler, Dick Mayer, Bud Holscher and little known Bob Crowley from nearby Mountain Ridge, N.J.

Spraying Shots Will Be Taboo, Amateurs Agree

Toughened Up Course Has Very Heavy Rough, Practice Rounds Show

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Early arrivals for the 1955 National Amateur Golf Tournament agreed unanimously on one thing today after getting in their practice licks over the 6,713-yard James River course:

* * *

The fellow who wants to go places in the week-long tournament starting Monday over the par-70 layout had better not spray his shots into the rough.

In toughening up the course to meet the challenge of the nation's top amateurs, Country Club of Virginia officials have left the rough very heavy indeed. Once in, it's difficult to get out—something most of the early birds have been discovering since the course was opened for practice rounds on Wednesday.

* * *

"The man who wins will have to stay in the fairway," Walker Cup Captain Billy Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., remarked Thursday after touring the course in four-over-par 74. His thoughts were promptly echoed by Billy Joe Patton, another Walker Cup ace who hails from Morganton, N.C. and is known largely for his adventures in the rough.

* * *

Alex Welsh, 35-year-old lawyer from Rockford, Ill. who was a semifinalist in the Western Amateur, has turned in the lowest practice score to date — a one-under-par 69 which he put together Thursday afternoon.

Welsh's 69 was the only sub-par round recorded as the course was attacked by a host of golfers tuning up for the tournament.

Plum Hollow Caddies Win Annual Tourney

Plum Hollow Country Club won the Caddy Round-Robin Golf League tournament this summer for the 2nd straight year, defeating Pine Lake's caddies in the final match at Plum Hollow, 20-6.

Plum Hollow team, comprised of Bobby Turner, Jim Bradley, Don Smith, Niel Mitchell, Bill Swartz and Tom Perry, fired an aggregate of 492 in its victory over Pine Lake. Champions shot a team total of 486 last year for a record score in the league.

Plum Hollow reached the finals with a win over Birmingham. Pine Lake entered the title match when Washtenaw defaulted.

San Pedro Softballers Take Third Straight

TULSA, Okla (AP) — San Pedro, Calif., defending champion of the National Softball Congress chalked up its third straight triumph last night with a 6-1 victory over Tulsa Independent to move into the winner's finals.

Sapulpa, Okla., also with a 3-0 won-lost record in the double elimination tourney, advanced to the finals with a 4-0 blanking of Tulsa Q Service.

No Letdown for NL's History-Making Dodgers; Smokey Alston Aims to Keep on Winning Road

MILWAUKEE (AP)—"There'll be no letup if I can help it. We'll win as many as we can from here on in."

So said Walter (Smokey) Alston after his Brooklyn Dodgers squelched the Milwaukee Braves 10-2 and clinched the National League pennant yesterday on the earliest calendar date in the history of the circuit.

Alston, the "unknown" who was named pilot of the Brooks at the close of the 1953 season after four semesters at Montreal, said his uppermost problem was guarding against a letdown.

* * *

One might be expected since the Dodgers can now sit back and watch four American League clubs —Cleveland, New York, Chicago and Boston—whack each other around for the chance to meet the Dodgers in the World Series starting Sept. 28.

Alston is planning to rest four of his veterans — Pee Wee Reese, Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Carl Furillo — but he won't stand idly by and permit a lull to set in.

* * *

"I'll rest Reese, Robinson, Campy and Furillo from time to time for a game or two," he said, "no longer. We'll try to operate at full strength right down to the wire."

He said he was pleased with the way his pitching staff shapes up at the moment.

"We're as set on pitching right now as we were when the season started," he said.

Two of his biggest question marks of the last two months—Billy Loes and Karl Spooner—showed to advantage in the two-game set with the second-place Braves. Both have been troubled with sore arms.

* * *

Loes went all the way to handcuff the Braves 3-1 on six hits Wednesday night while Spooner, a strikeout sensation at the close of the '54 season, pitched 5 2-3 innings of hitless relief and fanned 9 of the 19 batters he faced to help salt away the flag yesterday.

* * *

The Dodgers left town 17 full games in front of the Braves with only 16 to play for a clincher on the first place they held almost from the start of the 154-game schedule.

* * *

The Dodgers bettered by four days the old speed record for the National League set here Sept. 12, 1953.

MSU's Four at Quarterback Rated as Key Men in 1955

EAST LANSING (AP) — A quartet of quarterbacks rate as key men in the Michigan State football setup this fall.

Spartans have a senior, a junior and two sophomores competing for the signal-calling position.

All four have been getting a lot of attention and individual instruction from coach Duffy Daugherty and his aides in the daily workouts.

Earl Morrall, 180 pounds, 6-1, 21 years old, from Muskegon, should have first call on the basis of seniority.

Morrall was top man in minutes played among the returnees. He worked 348 minutes and nine seconds out of a total possible playing time of 540 minutes.

Morrall completed 39 of 99 pass attempts last year and had eight intercepted with a net gain of 795 yards and six touchdowns. His net rushing was 26 yards.

"He's been passing better this season," Daugherty commented after one workout.

Competing with Morrall for top spot is Pat Wilson, 180 pounds, 6-1, 20 years old, a junior from Lapeer.

Wilson had the advantage of handling the team in the spring practice while Morrall was out for baseball.

Wilson played 80 minutes and 11 seconds last season, completing 10 of 24 pass tries with three interceptions for a net of 117 yards. His rushing net was 37 yards.

So far, coaches are showing no favoritism and claim the starting position is up for grabs.

"Its a healthy situation, the competition," said Daugherty.

Conservationists Laud Fire Prevention Work

LANSING (AP)—The state conservation department today gave Michigan tourists and sportsmen a big pat on the back for their forest fire prevention work so far this year.

At the same time, the department warned that the battle is only half won. Michigan is now entering the period of greatest forest fire hazard.

Sam Snead's Golf School

Today we have more elaboration on wrist action. The dotted line "B" shows the correct position of the club on the downswing if you haven't uncocked your wrists too soon.

"A" illustrates the wrong club position, resulting from uncocking the wrists too early. Pull your hands straight down from the top of the backswing without any wrist action, until the hands get back to about hip level. The turning of your hips and shoulders takes care of swinging the clubhead out and around as much as is necessary.

If you will do this, gradually accelerating the unwinding of your hips and shoulders instead of rushing this action, you will come down smoothly, accurately, inside-out to the ball.

In a good swing the clubhead seems to hover back over the right shoulder for a long time on the downswing. It does so, in fact, until wrist action begins when the hands get to about hip level.

Upsets Predicted for '55 Big Ten Race

CHICAGO (AP)—Another tight turn and unpredictable football race is expected in the Big Ten this season with Michigan boomed as the team to beat.

Upsets will be in vogue with last year's "have nots" taking on added weight and the usual battle to the finish is expected.

Michigan will field a fast, experienced team that differs very little from last year's surprising eleven which forced Ohio State to the wire in a battle for the title.

Ohio State's problem is a big one. The Buckeyes lost 9 of last year's championship 11 and will have to rebuild around All America halfback Howard Cassaday and tackle Frank Machinsky. As usual, coach Woody Hayes is optimistic. He'll probably fill the gaps with some of last season's excellent reserves and a good sophomore supply.

Wisconsin lost All America fullback Alan Ameche and end Ron Locklin. The Badgers expect to field a strong first team but are worried about reserves. One spot coach Ivy Williamson doesn't have to fret about is quarterback where he has Jim Miller and Jim Haluska returning.

Iowa again will be a Big Ten powerhouse with the nucleus of the 1954 team on hand. Cal Jones, burley Hawkeye guard, will be the big man in the line. Jerry Reichow, Eddie Vincent and Earl Smith, all regulars last year, will be in the backfield.

Purdue hopes to pass itself into contention, riding the strong arm of Len Dawson. Back again are Dawson's favorite targets, ends Bob Knoenle and Lamar Lundy. Big man in the backfield will be fullback Bill Murakowski.

Minnesota will field a fast but inexperienced team. The Gophers lost 19 lettermen from a fourth place team and are relying heavily on sophomores. Gone is Bob McNamara, block-busting fullback. But Minnesota still has Pinky McNamara, hard running halfback.

Michigan State hopes to vault back after a disastrous 1954 season. The Spartans will be powerful offensively but their big problems will be defense. Leading the offense will be quarterbacks Earl Morrall and Pat Wilson and backs Clarence Peaks, Gerry Musetti and Gerry Planutis.

Indiana is going to miss Florian Helsinki's passing but the Hoosiers hope to improve their 2-4 conference record with more depth and experience. Olympic star Milt Campbell will lead the Hoosier ground attack.

Illinois was jolted when halfback J. C. Caroline was declared scholastically ineligible. However, Illinois' main worry is the line and not the backfield.

Northwestern freshman coach Lou Saban will have 21 lettermen and one of the finest groups of sophomores in Wildcat history. If Saban can teach his boys how not to fumble, Northwestern might battle for a first-division berth.

Skippers Early I-L Favorites; Boast 15 Returning Lettermen

By HARRY REED

With the largest turnout of Inter-Lakes League teams and a wealth of returning lettermen, Waterford's Skippers look like an early season favorite to rule the league roost, and topple champion Berkley.

Play begins next Friday.

Skipper coach Dave Freeman and assistants Don Beedle, Al Cuthrell and John Karabetsos are enthusiastic over the prospects, which are bolstered by fielding 15 letter winners from last season.

Experienced men at every position will make it hard for the sophomore half of the squad to break into the lineup. Halfback Dave Latta will miss the 1st two games, while recovering from a broken collarbone, but Freeman has ends Jerry Kruskie, Jerry Harnack and Clayton Roth, tackles John Woodman, and Dick Card, guard Al Nestor and center Ron Kind to go with backs Tom Bryce at quarter, Lindy Salathiel and Bill Clark at the halves, and fullback Norm Probert.

Also high on the pre-season favorite list is the aggregation fielded by Southfield coach Monte Charles. A lot of young talent moving up, coupled with 12 returning lettermen, could spell trouble for all opponents, beginning with Birmingham next Friday.

"Returning lettermen are well split up between the line and the backfield, although we could use more depth in the backs," Charles said. He has All-Oakland-County end Sam Manderichia to count on, too, on the number 65 member squad. Assisting Charles are Wilber Steinke, Cece Foote and Ed Bryant.

At Walled Lake, coach Tom Evans has issued 70 uniforms. Assisted by John Koczman, Ed Jadwin and Bernie Stafford, he hopes to improve on the 4-4 record of last year.

Included in the Viking turnout are 14 lettermen, but only six of these are linemen. It looks like a green line in front of a more experienced group of backs, Evans said. Frist opponent is Redford, there.

Just the other extreme faces new coach Charlie Saxton and his aides Pete McMillan and George Ward at Van Dyke.

With 70 candidates fielded, all 8 returning lettermen are linemen. Some of these will be converted to backfield posts, to add seasoning there. End Charles Brown and tackle Don Hughes are co-captains of the Abes, who won 2 and lost 3 in league play last year.

Taking over the league champs at Berkley from coach Lloyd Houden, Howard Bailey is facing a rebuilding year after 5-0 record in league competition last year.

Preparing for the opener with Ferndale, Bears have eight letter winners among the 45 who received uniforms. An all sophomore and junior backfield is indicated, and a light line. Bob Finley, Ken Barron, Neil Jordan and Marty O'Dell are helping Bailey.

At the bottom of the league last year when they failed to gain a victory throughout the season, Farmington's Falcons will get under way this year against Clarenceville Trojans.

New Coach John Hayes is counting on tackle Lewis McClelland, guard Dennis McBride, quarterback Bob Brewbaker, halfback Tom Costi, and center Dave Tulip to put some figures in the win column. All but Tulip are juniors.

The Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs required four hours 39 minutes to play a 14-inning game last April 16, one of the longest in recent years.

Manion, Shimen Qualify for Senior Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—James S. Manion of St. Louis and Max Shimen of Milwaukee were among five regional qualifiers today in trials for the first senior championship of the U.S. Golf Assn.

The National Senior tourney will start Sept. 26, at Nashville, Tenn.

The other three qualifiers were from Chicago.

Frankie August Prepares for Pro Ring Comeback

Dony Frayer and Chuck Richards, co-managers of Gene Linscott, have announced signing Pontiac's Frankie August for a comeback attempt in professional boxing.

August has been inactive in the ring since the latter part of 1952 when he dropped a close decision to highly-rated "Irish" Bob Finnerty.

A life-long resident of Pontiac, August started his boxing career at an early age and racked up an impressive amateur record before turning professional. He won two Boys Club titles and took the city Golden Gloves crowns in 1950-51.

He also won the Golden Gloves title at Port Huron in 1952 and was runner-up in the state Golden Gloves tournament at Grand Rapids. His overall amateur record is 38 victories and two losses in 40 fights.

He turned professional a short time later and fought six bouts, winning four while losing two. After the loss to Finnerty, he gave up fighting and devoted his time to his family and job.

Only 19 when Finnerty decisioned him, August is extremely serious about his comeback effort. The handsome, 22-year-old Frankie is married and the father of a two-year-old daughter. He works as a foreman for a stainless steel ware firm in Detroit and is currently building his own home in Pontiac.

Tentative plans call for August's 1st bout, a four-rounder, at Detroit's Motor City Arena in about six weeks, Frayer says.

Tigers Open Final Series With Orioles

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tigers open their final two games with the Baltimore Orioles at Baltimore tonight.

Virtually assured of 5th place in the American League and with nothing to spoil for the last-place Orioles, Detroit won't have the incentive it had against contending Chicago and Boston earlier this week.

The Tigers snapped Boston's six-game winning streak 5-4, yesterday with a ninth-inning rally that saw Jack Phillips score the winning run on a wild pitch by reliefer Ellis Kinder.

The defeat dropped the Red Sox four games behind 1st-place Cleveland. The Indians hold their lead by a slim half-game over New York and 2½ games over Chicago.

Starter Willard Nixon held Detroit to one run on two hits until the 9th when he blew a three-run lead.

Charles Maxwell got the inning going with his 6th homer of the season. Kinder came in after Nixon walked Frank House and gave up a double to Fred Hatfield.

A sensational running catch by centerfielder Jim Piersall retired pinch-hitter Ray Boone before Phillip blooped a two-run single to short left. Harvey Kuenn drilled a double into left putting men at 3rd and 2nd. Kinder gave Bill Tuttle an intentional walk filling the bases.

Then, while Al Kaline, hitless for the 3rd straight game, was at the plate, Kinder tossed a fast pitch that hit the dirt and bounced to the left, allowing Phillips to score the winning run.

Maxwell doubled home the Tigers' other run in the 4th inning.

The loss was Kinder's 2nd against five wins. It left the Red Sox with a 13-9 margin over Detroit as their season series ended.

Steve Gromek in his 1st relief assignment in 25 starts was credited with his 12th victory against 10 losses.

Sox nicked starter Al Aber for two runs in the first inning and chased him in the 3rd after Ted Williams singled home another. Babe Birrer who took over gave up the 4th Boston run. Gromek came in in the 5th inning.

Ned Garver, with 12 agains 13 for the season, will face Billy Wight tonight. Wight has a 3-7 mark.

Aggies to Play Top UCLA 11

Sophomorish Texans Hit Big Competition to Open Their Season

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant, whose Texas Aggies are about the most sophomorish outfit in the country, noted today that his first opponent would be the No. 1 team in the nation, UCLA.

The California school had just been established in that spot in the pre-season Associated Press poll.

"We feel highly honored," said Bryant dryly. "Not everybody gets to play the No. 1 team in the nation."

He admitted that it looked like quite a task for his boys, who won only one game last season while UCLA didn't lose any.

Sunday Game Canceled

Sunday afternoon's scheduled International Old Timers League baseball game at Wisner Field between Pontiac and Stratford of Ontario has been canceled. The Canadian team announced it would be unable to make the trip. It was Pontiac's last scheduled game of the season.

Forest Hills Footnote:

Sam Giammalva May Replace Seixas in Future Davis Cup Challenge Round

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Next year, Sam Giammalva, a 21-year-old University of Texas junior, could be playing alongside Tony Trabert in the Davis Cup Challenge Round against Australia.

At the moment, he is the only likely looking prospect to take Vic Seixas' spot for the trip Down Under. He has 16 months to polish his game before the next Challenge Round in December, '56.

Lew Hoad, the Aussie blaster will get a chance to test Giammalva today in one of the two quarter-final matches in the nationals. Giammalva still is not in Hoad's class, but he has come far in the past year.

* * *

"I like the way Sammy has been performing," said U.S. Davis Cup Captain Billy Talbert. "Right now his main trouble is inconsistency. But I think plenty of tournament work will take care of that."

From the tone of Talbert's words, he is going to keep a sharp watch on Giammalva. Sammy has been knocking on the door of greatness for a couple of years now, but never has quite made it.

This year, he seems to have clicked. His big triumph of the season was the Eastern Grass Courts tournament at Orange, N.J. where he licked Bob Falkenburg, Jack Frost, Vic Seixas, Kurt Nielsen and Gil Shea en route to the title.

He plays a big game—mighty service and hard volleying and is the only non-seeded player to go as far as the quarter-final.

* * *

The other round of eight match sends top-seeded Trabert against Herbie Flam, a retriever from Beverly Hills, Calif. Flam scored a big upset when he defeated Australia's Rex Hartwig.

The other two semifinalists were decided yesterday when Seixas, the ageing defending champion, whipped past Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., 6-3, 6-1, 13-11, and Ken Rosewall trounced Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., 6-4, 9-7, 2-6, 6-3.

In the women's division, Doris Hart edged Mrs. Nancy Kiner, 6-4, 6-4 and Mrs. Dorothy Knode outlasted Shirley Fry, 9-7, 8-6, to gain the semifinal. They'll be joined by the winners of the Belmar Gunderson-Pat Ward and Mrs. Beverly Fleitz-Barbara Breit matches today.

Doby Says Revival Is 'Just a Streak'

BALTIMORE (AP) — Larry Doby, whose reawakened power has helped boost the Cleveland Indians to the American League lead and keep them there, figures he's just having "one of those streaks."

"I seem to get one or two home run streaks a year," said the lithe outfielder Thursday after belting his seventh homer in six days.

This one came in the 10th inning and was the crusher as the Indians took an overtime 5-3 game from the Baltimore Orioles and preserved their half-game edge over the New York Yankees.

Okinawa Search Party Sees Lost B29's Debris

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — Planes searching the ocean 200 miles southwest of Okinawa for a missing U.S. B29 — reported carrying a crew of 13 — sighted wreckage and debris near an oil slick today.

Seven unopened seat rafts, oxygen bottles and flight lunch boxes were found.

The Air Force in Tokyo reported the Superfortress disappeared while on a proficiency flight. It was from the 581st Air Resupply Group at nearby Kadena Air Base.

Four-fifths of the old cigar store Indian statues were said to be those of squaws.

Firemen Slowly Win Against California Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Grimed and tired firemen battled two breakthroughs in Sequoia National Forest today but elsewhere they started to get the upper hand on blazes that had charred more than 200 square miles of California.

* * *

A wind shift caused added trouble in Sequoia forest 50 miles east of Fresno in the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

Gusts up to 30 miles an hour helped the fire break over a fire line three miles north of the northern boundary of King's Canyon National Park.

* * *

The other break was four miles west in the Sampson Creek and Mill Flat Creek area. Firemen had come within half a mile of closing a circle around the 15,000-acre fire just before that outburst.

At other places firemen hoped the temperature would stay low and the humidity high as they reported at least partial success.

* * *

Timber and brush fires in California and Oregon had taken eight lives and injured 11 people. Damage was estimated in California at more than 12 million dollars in a little more than a week.

Places where foresters began to get control were:

Near Eureka in Humboldt County, where 36,000 acres of timber were blackened.

* * *

Near Yreka, where a fire covered 70,000 acres and for a time threatened the town.

At Lassen National Forest in northeastern California, where 19,200 acres burned.

Near Santa Barbara, where a brush blaze was topped by backfires just short of the city's outskirts. The Santa Barbara fire covered an estimated 60,000 acres.

Ike, Radford Ponder Security Problems

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower arranged to discuss national security problems today with his top military adviser, Adm. Arthur W. Radford.

Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived by plane from Washington last night with a report for the President on a National Securit Councjl meetinyg held at the White House.

The meeting at which Vice President Nixon presided, Radford's scheduled conference ith Eisen-w hower today and Nixon's Denver meeting with the President last Monday all deal with the same security matters.

NEW GOVERNOR — Walter A. Gordon, 60, of Berkeley, Calif., the grandson of a slave, has been appointed Governor of the Virgin Islands by President Eisenhower.

Experts estimate that if the work now being done by Diesel locomotives on American railroads were done by steam locomotives, it would cost two million dollars a year more.

Percy Jones Eyed for Mental Cases

LANSING (AP) — State officials are eyeing Percy Jones General Hospital in Battle Creek in their search for ways to relieve the state's jammed mental institutions.

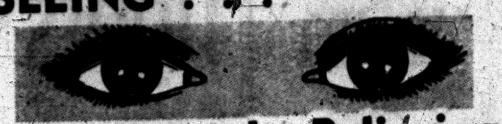

Charles F. Wagg, director of the Mental Health Department, said he would visit Percy Jones within the next few days to see how much of the hospital is occupied by Federal Civil Defense headquarters.

Wagg is currently touring state hospitals in search of space for mentally retarded children. Gov. Williamis ordered the survey in preparation for a special session this fall. Legislators will be asked to draw up an emergency program for housing 1,188 mentally retarded children now awaiting admittance to state institutions.

If the state gains control of Percy Jones, Wagg said, it would not be used as part of the emergency program. It is sought instead in an effort to achieve long-range relief of crowded mental hospitals.

"I'm not optimistic about the state's chances of getting it," Wagg said. "But maybe I can get some clues on this inspection trip."

Air Force Raps Torture Charge

Concedes POW Training Is 'Realistic' for Airmen Who Volunteer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The men who run the prisoner-of-war survival school for the Air Force denied vigorously today that students are subjected to torture, degraded or subjected to tests to see how much they can take if an enemy captures them.

* * *

They conceded tacitly that there are realistic and rough phases, for volunteers who are willing to find out what pressures might be applied by a captor.

Two officials of the school at Stead Air Force Base, Nev.—Col. Burton E. McKenzie, base commander who himself was a war prisoner in Germany, and Maj. John Oliphant, director of training at the school—talked to newsmen at the Pentagon.

* * *

They and Col. Maurice J. Casey, Air Force deputy director of information, answered questions raised by publication in Newsweek magazine of an account of the operation of the school.

The Newsweek account told of Communist-type brainwashing procedures. Pentagon officials, queried about the article, mentioned such measures as blindfolding, forced marches on bare feet, questioning for long hours without sleep or water. They said all branches of the armed forces have such training courses.

"We'd never take a man and see how much he can stand," the officials said. "We do not degrade students. We try to teach them by demonstration what to expect and how to conduct themselves."

Kids' Dreams Come True at School Opening

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—Here is a school opening with the stuff of a kid's dreams'; ice cream, cake, dancing and candy sticks.

The last item alone was not edible. The new Westover elementary school has been dubbed "candy stick" school because of its three brilliantly colored smokestacks and matching interior.

Architect William F. R. Ballard, who created the $1,140,000 house of learning, threw the opening day party yesterday.

Two lambs and a goat greeted the 700 pupils at the doorway. Then at the sound of the 10 o'clock bell, everyone repaired to the combination cafeteria-playroom for festivities.

The goat wouldn't wait, however. His contribution to the gay welcome was a steady nibbling away at the colorful paper streamers that decorated the front entrance.

Sheriffs Will Hear Plea on Licensing

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's 83 sheriffs will be called into session Sept. 19 to hear pleas they abandon opposition to a state-operated driver licensing examiner system.

Secretary of State James M. Hare, chairman of the State Safety Commission, said he would invite all the sheriffs to a meeting in the legislative chambers.

He said he hoped to convince the sheriffs of the value of the state examiner system before it is submitted to a projected special session of the Legislature in October.

Hare said he would recommend to Gov. Williams that the Legislature provide some funds for the counties to finance their sheriff's road patrols. Many of these patrols now are financed by the fees the counties obtain from driver license examinations.

The commission has advocated a state examiner system on the grounds that it would eliminate laxity in locally controlled examinations and thus remove incompetent motorists from the roads.

Tired of Gold-Diggers? Then Go to Sweden

NEW YORK (AP)—Any man tired of these gold-digging American girls should take the next boat to Sweden.

It sounds like paradise on a great big ice cube. The place swarms with pretty girls, but these pretty girls are different.

* * *

How different? Well, when a fellow takes them out on a date he doesn't have to drive up in a $5,000 convertible. They would just as soon go for a long walk about the countryside, taking in deep breaths of fresh air.

They don't expect a suitor to hand over an egg-sized diamond ring when he pops the big question. They don't demand a mink coat from their husband every other frost.

* * *

All this I have on the word of Hillevi Rombin pronounced "he-liv'-ee rom-bean' "—who won the 1955 Miss Universe contest.

"In Sweden the wife does not get a diamond ring until she has had her first child—and she gets one only for the first child, not for any she has later," said Hillevi. "Only a very, very rich girl has a mink coat. No, I do not have a mink coat. I have only a fox stole."

* * *

But Hillevi, who has honest yaller hair and eyes that look like blue smoldering icebergs swimming in polar seas, probably will have that mink coat soon.

After winning her Miss Universe title and playing a small role in "The Benny Goodman Story," she went back home to Sweden to talk over her future with her fiance and her parents. Should she continue her career as a linguistics teacher—she speaks five languages at 21—or return to Hollywood? Hollywood won.

* * *

Her fiance, an air force lieutenant with a stern sense of duty, had to leave for Turkey to participate in a sports contest the day after she arrived home.

"But he is very happy that I am to try for a career in Hollywood," said Hillevi, a fact that may or may not show the lieutenant has the makings of a general.

* * *

As soon as she reaches the West Coast Hillevi, who has a six-month contract with Universal Pictures, will take singing, dancing, voice, acting and English lessons. It won't be necessary for her to learn to high jump or do a back flip as she already is a champion gymnast and track and field performer. But she will have to acquire the art of staying aboard a horse.

"Everybody at the studio must learn how to ride a horse," she said. "They say you never know when a good Western might come along."

Hillevi has only three beauty hints to American girls—be born in Sweden and get plenty of exercise and sleep.

"The climate with the changing seasons is good for the skin," she said, "and exercise gives the good feeling all over. I sleep 8 or 9 hours a night, and more if I can. Without sleep nothing is fresh with me."

* * *

A girl with no nonsense in her makeup, Hillevi hasn't let success make her chesty.

"My world has changed, but I am still only at the beginning," she said. "I am afraid that I will lose my head. I hope it doesn't. I do my best to—how do you say it?—keep a cold head."

She admires Greta Garbo, but doesn't want to follow in her footsteps.

* * *

"If I can't be myself," she said, reasonably enough, "I still don't want to be like anybody else."

Insurance Man Suicide 'Cross-Indexed' Death

NEW YORK (AP)—A partner in an insurance firm "cross-indexed" his death today.

The body of Herbert W. Sauter, 58, of Brooklyn, was found in an areaway after he plunged from his 10th-floor office window.

On his body was this note:

In the office was this note:

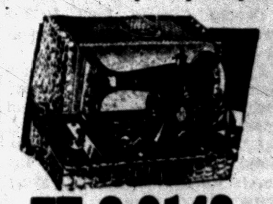

"My body is on the roof. H."

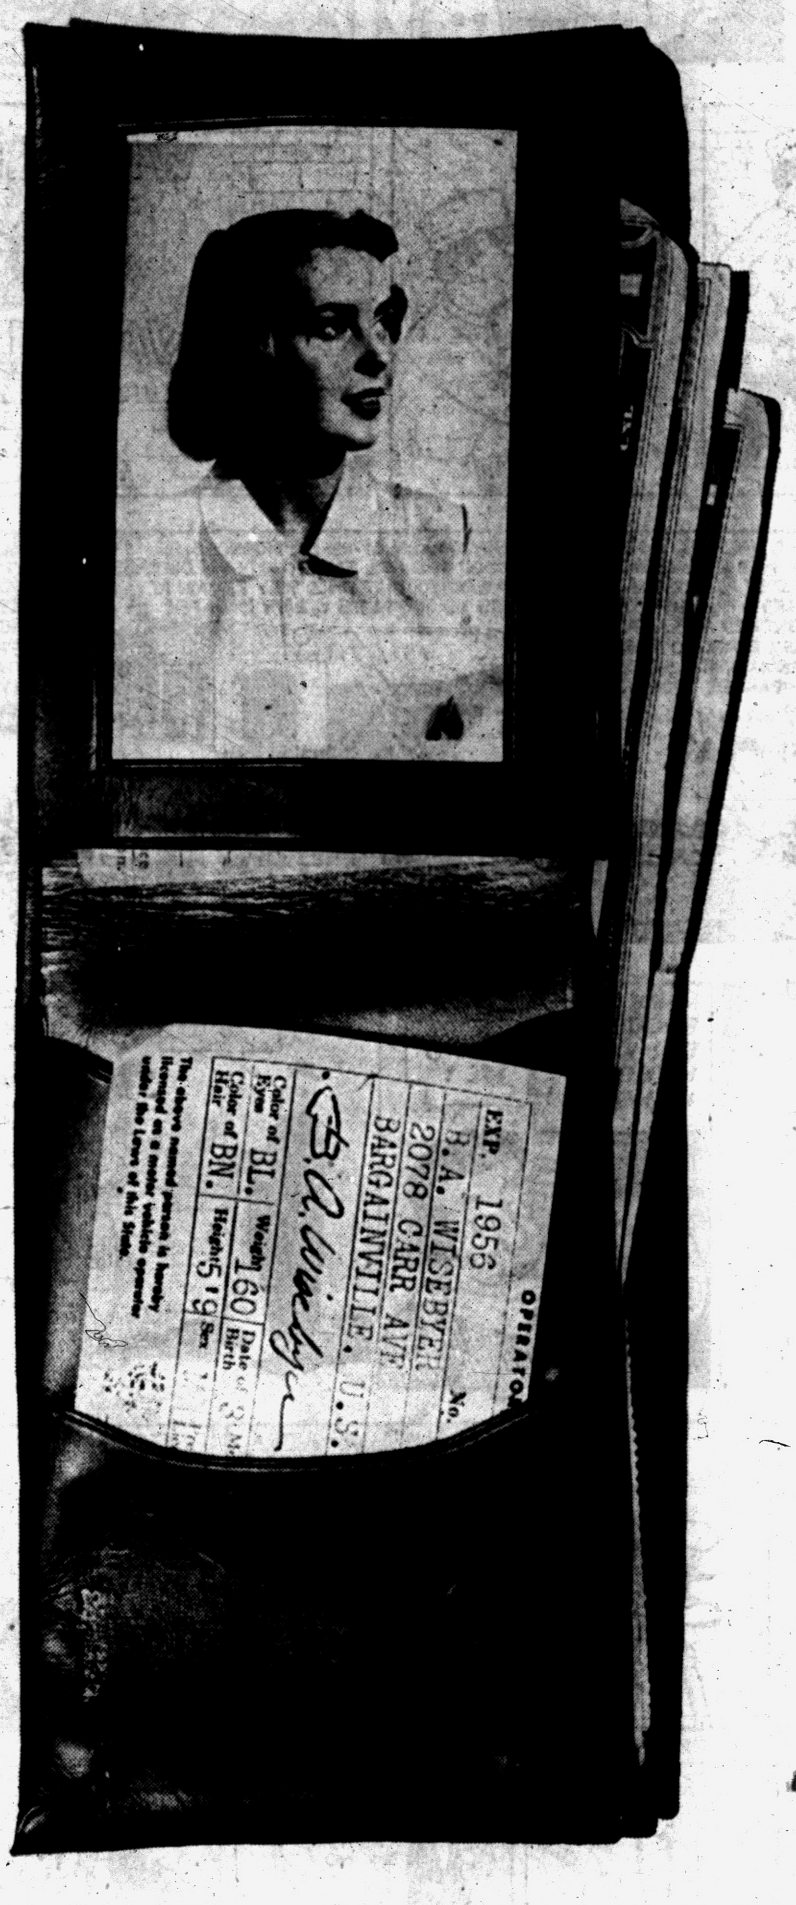

Employes said Sauter signed all office communications with the initial of his first name.

Ferris Is Filled Up

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — Ferris Institute has halted further applications for admission for the fall term. President Victor F. Spathelf said the school "simply has run out of instructional facilities, space and housing facilities . . . to adequately handle more students." He said 1,600 applications have been received but only 1,400 will be accepted.

Novelist Engstrand Drowns in LA Park

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Stuart Engstrand, author of the once best-selling novel "The Sling and the Arrow," walked into the lake in MacArthur Park and drowned, police reported today.

After lying at the coroner's office from yesterday afternoon until early this morning, the body was identified by Engstrand's brother-in-law Melvin H. Simon of nearby Van Nuys.

Deputy Coroner Paul Britton said the case was listed temporarily simply as drowning.

Engstrand's "The Sling and the Arrow" and "Beyond the Forest" both were best sellers and he had another successful book, apparently his last, titled "Son of the Giant," published in 1950. His novels were predominantly about human abnormalities.

Israel's Tel Aviv, with a population of 358,000 was a sand dune wilderness 45 years ago.

Rails Out Front, Mart Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroads were out in front of an irregular advance in the stock market today in early dealings.

Gains in the carrier division went to around a point, and these plus signs represented the best the list could do. There were many major divisions with minus signs, but all were fractional.

Higher with the railroads were the airlines, most steels, and aircrafts. On the lower tack were motors. The rest of the market was mixed.

Among higher stocks today were Santa Fe Railroad, New York Central, North Pacific, Rock Island Railroad, Royal Dutch Petroleum, Magma Copper, General Electric, Kaiser Aluminum, U. S. Steel, International Harvester, and Boeing.

Federal Reserve Ups Loan Rate

Tax Relief Next Year Hinges on Success of Anti-Inflation Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve, seeking to head off possible inflation, has screwed the lid down tighter on the rapidly swelling demand for credit.

* * *

Its success—or lack of success—in preventing inflation may have much to do with whether you get a tax cut next year.

* * *

The Federal Reserve Board approved, effective today, a move by six additional reserve banks to boost their discount rate from 2 to 2¼ per cent. That is the rate at which they lend money to member commercial banks, which in turn lend to businessmen and others.

* * *

The action was taken by the reserve banks of New York, Richmond, Chicago, Kansas City, Dallas and San Francisco. It made the 2¼ per cent rate effective in 10 of the 12 reserve districts. Only the Boston and Minneapolis reserve banks are still lending at 2 per cent.

* * *

If the threat of inflation has been the reserve banks is the highest level in 20 years, and is considered definitely a "restrictive" lending rate. A little more than a month ago, it was only 1¾ per cent.

* * *

A higher rate makes it more expensive for member commercial banks to borrow from the reserve system to expand their own business, consumer and personal loans. This results in loans becoming harder to get, or more expensive, at your bank.

* * *

The reserve system has embarked on what is now a definitely apparent effort to restrain credit expansion in the face of an enormous growth of debt of nearly all kinds during the past year.

Rips Opponents of Pay-TV Plan

Denial That Existing Service Would Suffer Is Filed by Zenith

WASHINGTON (AP)—Zenith Radio Corp. today described as "ludicrous" the arguments advanced by some opponents of pay-as-you-see television.

It isn't so, Zenith said, that subscription TV would "black out" existing service; siphon off revenue, talent and programs; and have a "divisive" effect among the public, as some opponents contend.

Zenith told the Federal Communications Commission it should authorize subscription TV "in order to encourage the larger and more effective use of television."

Zenith is sponsoring one of the three proposals for subscription TV now before the commission. All three involve the sending of "scrambled" programs. They could be received only by subscribers equipped with decoders.

It added its arguments to those of others, both proponents and opponents, in briefs summarizing arguments the commission has heard at length. When all the briefs are in, the commission must decide its next step. First, it must decide whether it has any authority over the question. If not, it could ask Congress for new legislation.

Columbia Broadcasting System, Inc., a leader of the antisubscription forces, questioned the authority of the commission to act and called for dismissal of the entire proceeding.

In a brief submitted yesterday, it called the claims of proponents "so vague and general that they should be disregarded," and said "the American system of television, whatever its defects, is by universal admission the best in the world."

Another early filer was the Committee Against Pay-to-See-TV, a group of theater television and radio station owners. It questioned whether pay TV could result in anything "that would surpass the announced free television lineup for the 1955-56 fall-winter programming."

Zenith, noting that most opposition to the plan came from that group and the three major television networks, said approval of pay TV "will dilute the concentrated domination and power which two or three members of the network hierarchy have in molding the tastes and views of the American people."
