Small Fry Concerned With an Important Visit

NANCY . . . "and a cow girl's suit."

THERE HE IS! — About this time each year younger citizens must visit at least one store to see if a certain fellow is still hale and hearty. Here Nancy Ellenwood, 3, of 902 Otter Ave. (at left) talks to an old friend. Below, Michael Simon, 3, of 3144 S. York St., and Barbara Jean Stott, 4, of 7940 Dunning Rd., wistfully await their turn.

Santa Really Does Exist, Press Reporter Discovers

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

This wasn't supposed to be a serious story.

I was assigned to invade a local department store with a photographer and get some shots of youngsters talking to Santa Claus.

After interviews with the kiddies, a bright, amusing story was expected. It didn't work out that way.

Assignment bound, we walked midst the "madding throng" of scurrying shoppers on Huron and Saginaw streets.

Their bubbling voices echoed statements like:

"My sister would just be crazy over that sweater!"

"That tie would look marvelous on John, but he's dead set against wearing flower patterns."

Here were people happily spending hard-earned money on not only their immediate family, but relatives, friends, co-workers and even "that newsboy who brings the paper late sometimes, but really is a nice youngster."

This—in a money-mad age of "the Smiths got a new rug so we better get one too"—is a wonderful and, if you please, serious thing.

Selfish thoughts were brushed aside when we entered the store

Seek Discussion of Fluoridation

Commissioner Cooley Asks Charter Change to Allow Additive

The matter of fluoridation of the city's water supply to decrease tooth decay, has been brought to the City Commission's attention as the result of a move by Commissioner Roy V. Cooley.

Dr. Cooley (Dist. 1) told the Commission at last night's meeting that due to increased publicity on the controversial topic and in order to meet any spring election deadlines, the matter should be discussed at this time.

The voters of Pontiac rejected a similar move to add sodium fluorides to the water on April 4 of this year by a margin of 1,400.

No action was taken on Commissioner Cooley's motion except to refer it to the informal meeting of the Commission scheduled for tomorrow evening.

Dr. Cooley requested that City Attorney William A. Ewart bring in a charter amendment to allow for the fluoridation of the water supply.

A question as to whether this action or a resolution should be passed sent the matter to the Thursday meeting for further discussion.

See Steel Price Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — The chances are that prices of practically all major steel products will rise by March 1, the Iron Age, national metalworking weekly said today.

Otto John Faces Treason Charge

German Law Dictates Accusations Be Given Within 48 Hours

months in East Germany before returning, will know the decision in a matter of hours.

A West German government spokesman said that the treason suit against John has been pending since his desertion to the East.

Under German law such charges must be filed within 48 hours—so

Government spokesman Edmund Forsch Bach told a jammed news conference room that the government reluctantly must enforce a very strict news black-out on the John case pending determination of John's status.

John insisted that he had been a prisoner of East German security boss Ernst Wollweber."

He Missed Santa; So Santa Visits Him in Hospital

RACINE, Wis. (AP)—Six year old Johnny Nehmer had a special visit from Santa Claus in his hospital room yesterday because he was struck by a car as he ran to see Santa last Saturday.

Santa was calling at a playground and as Johnny darted across a street he was struck down. He suffered a skull fracture and broken leg.

His mother, Mrs. Donald Nehmer, said "one of the first things he said when he came to Sunday afternoon was that he missed seeing Santa."

Santa heard about it and called on Johnny with a sample of what will be under the tree Christmas. Johnny told him he'd like a truck.

Michigan Folk Can Be Swell

Newly Arrived German War Bride Is Pleased by Neighbor's Action

LANSING (AP)—If you were a German war bride in the United States only a week how would you feel if you heard these words over the telephone:

Well, Mrs. Anne Paulino of Lansing felt mighty good about America when she heard those words.

Her purse containing $27 for her daughter's Christmas tricycle was snatched from her by a thief in a downtown Lansing store Saturday. She said it was the last money she had left for Christmas.

HAD ONE LEFT

De Lau, whose parents came from Germany, read of Mrs. Paulino's plight in the Lansing State Journal. He had one tricycle left in stock at his store.

"I figure it's the least I could do," De Lau said. "To lose her Christmas money would be hard enough on any mother, but to have it happen in a strange country after you've been here only a week—well, that's pretty rough."

Soviet Vetoes 15 Bids for Membership After China Rejects One

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS)—The U. S. blamed Russia today for wrecking with a barrage of 15 vetoes U. N. membership for as many free nations.

The Soviet Union pinned the blame on the U. S. and on Nationalist China, which vetoed Outer Mongolia after adding South Korea and Viet Nam to a "package" resolution to admit 13 free nations and five Red satellites.

Sharp disappointment and repercussions on local Communist parties were indicated by the chief victims of the Soviet vetoes — among them Japan, Italy, Austria, Jordan, Ireland, Portugal and Spain.

The barrage of Russian vetoes cast in the Security Council on the membership issue stacked up a Soviet total over the past ten years of 75, each aimed at blocking the will of the council majority. The far greater proportion was cast to bar applicants for membership.

Nationalist China's veto was her first. It came as no surprise, although dire warnings were bruited about in recent days that such an act would be "suicide" for the Formosa regime.

An immediate consequence of the results was twofold:

1. All leading delegates condemned the Soviet resort to the veto on the other "package" applicants in retaliation for the barring of Outer Mongolia.

2. There was talk of a special spring session of the Assembly to deal again with the entire membership issue and to debate the position of Nationalist China in U. N.

One drawback to a debate on China in April lies in the fact that it would come in a presidential election year and therefore U. S. policy moves in the U. N. would be made difficult.

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., angry and bitter over the result of the balloting, sharply assailed Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev for his round of vetoes and charges against the U. S.

Lodge referred to Russia's insistence that all 18 states named in the "package" resolution be admitted or none at all and declared:

"The salient feature of the attitude of the Soviet Union was one of 'take it or leave it.' Either we give them every single thing they want or they don't play."

The American diplomat spared no words to rap the Soviet Union, saying "every fair-minded person knows where the responsibility lies" for wrecking of the membership solution.

Charges 'Scare' Tactics

Anti-Parking Lot Petitions Scored by Commissioner

Commissioner John A. Dugan (District 5) said last night that some citizens were being scared into signing petitions being circulated in the city in opposition to a $600,000 municipal parking program, because of fear of increased taxes if the program goes through.

Dugan told the City Commission at its meeting that the petitions were misleading the public because of a notice attached to the petitions saying that the parking program "could mean additional taxes" if approved.

Because of this fear of a tax boost, Dugar said the petitioners would have no trouble in getting people to sign.

"It is the same old story," Dugan declared. "The special interest group trying to block a program of this kind knows very well the program will not raise taxes because it is being financed by a bond issue."

"I am not opposed to elections and I am sure if this matter comes to the vote of the people, it will pass," he said.

Dugan went on to say that no private owner could ever supply the necessary parking facilities of a growing city like Pontiac demands.

Mayor William W. Donaldson and Commissioner Harry W. Lutz (District 7) both agreed with Dugan that those signing the petitions were being scared into doing so and were being misled by the wording of the documents.

On Dec. 1, a group of property owners, interested citizens and parking operators began circulating the petitions voicing opposition to the financial magnitude of the program.

Sam L. Stolorow, spokesman for the group, said the group believed that the issue involved a great deal of money, and in the future would involve even a greater amount.

At last week's City Commission meeting, a notice of intent to circulate referendum petitions bearing 171 signatures was presented to City Clerk Ada R. Evans.

In order for the issue to appear on a public election ballot, the petitions must contain 10 per cent of registered voters (37,530 as of Aug. 1) and be submitted before a deadline of Dec. 28.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said in order to run a special election on the issue it would cost the city approximately $6,000.

The ordinance, which would provide for 624 added 5-cent-an-hour parking spaces at four downtown locations, was adopted unanimously by the City Commission Nov. 22.

Elected

GEORGE K. ZIMMERMAN

Pontiac Manufacturers Association elected George K. Zimmerman, vice president of Pontiac Varnish Co., president at the annual meeting Tuesday evening. He succeeds Robert M. Critchfield, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Unhappy Candidate Switches to GOP

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Baltimore grocer who has sought public office four times as a Democrat has switched to the Republican ticket in an attempt to change his luck.

"I was never able to get any support from the big boys uptown (as a Democrat) so maybe I'll be able to get some support as a Republican," said Harry D. Kemper.

Kemper, as a Democrat, ran for governor in 1950, mayor in 1951, Congress in 1952 and for state comptroller in 1954. This year he goes for Congress.

"I don't run for a hobby. I really want to win and get out of the grocery business. It's a tough business," he said.

Iron Ore Freight Total Passes Year Estimates

CLEVELAND (AP)—Great Lakes vessels hauled 87,459,853 tons of iron ore during the 1955 season, their second largest movement in history, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Association announced today.

Ohio-Mackinac Route Favored by MTA Head

Says Bigger Project Would Reduce Interest on Bond Issue

A plan which would more than double length of the proposed north-south toll road will be presented to the State Legislature when it convenes in January, Chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority George N. Higgins said today.

The MTA head also commented on a Detroit Common Council resolution passed yesterday, saying it does not mean the Council is definitely against the turnpike project.

Higgins said he will propose starting the turnpike at the south state line near Toledo and running it north to the Straits of Mackinac.

The route as now laid out starts at Rockwood, about 22 miles north of the Michigan-Ohio line and covers 113 miles past Detroit, Pontiac and Flint to Saginaw.

The distance over existing roads between Toledo and the Straits is 287 miles.

Higgins explained the enlarged plan would allow the MTA to sell revenue bonds to finance the project at a lower interest rate. "We could get the rate down from about 3.5 per cent to 3 per cent or even lower and effect a considerable saving," he explained.

"This would mean that the section of the turnpike already studied and ready for financing, from Rockwood to Saginaw, would be merely one section of the overall turnpike.

"Planning has advanced to the stage where construction of the middle section could begin as soon as necessary legislation is enacted."

The Legislature, he explained, has only approved a toll road between Rockwood and Saginaw and would have to authorize any expansion of the project.

The entire project from Ohio to the Straits could be completed in about four years, Higgins asserted.

He stressed that the state would

American Cities Spreading Out All Over

Annexation Campaigns Making News as Communities Seek to Ease Pressure

Annexation is a live subject around the country.

In fact, one community in America is seeking to get a neighboring community to "dis-annex" a certain district so it can annex said territory itself. Grand Prairie (pop. 30,000) wants Dallas to disgorge a certain section of Texas so it can amalgamate with the area.

The Press lists just a few of the current annexation problems discussed in the American Municipal News.

DES MOINES, Iowa is preparing to annex Bloomfield Township. The proposed area is the district around the municipal airport.

OKLAHOMA CITY is planning to annex four complete municipalities and 19 outlying parcels of land which will total 16 square miles.

LEXINGTON, Kentucky meanwhile has been halted by injunction from annexing nearly 15 square miles represented by 18 separate and distinct areas around Lexington.

MILWAUKEE is seeking to have a bill introduced into the Wisconsin legislature challenging the formation of new suburban cities around Milwaukee, contending that all concerned will be much better off with amalgamation and annexation to Milwaukee. The bill provides that any city or village contiguous to a town that incorporates as a city should have the right to test the incorporation in a court suit.

KANSAS CITY, Missouri has a Supreme Court ruling granting it the right to annex territory around Kansas City which would increase the city's area by 48 sqdare miles. The court rules that the question of annexation can be handled without a declaratory judgment from the circuit court.

The Coming of the King

III—They Found No Room at the Inn in Bethlehem

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

It was in the month of December that Joseph and Mary set out to make their journey from Nazareth to Bethlehem. Mary rode their little

JOSEPH AND MARY GO TO BETHLEHEM

You might think that there was snow on the ground and that it was very cold. But that wouldn't be true because the climate of that country is different from our own. The ride was a long and hard one — and most of it took place under a broiling sun, which blistered and scorched them.

Even though they left at first light in the morning, it was late in the evening before they came to the gates of Bethlehem. They were hot and hungry and weary.

Now, in those days, there were no hotels as we know them. And, of course, there was no such thing as a hotel reservation. People stayed with friends or relatives. If they were strangers, there were inns, meant first of all for the caravans and the traveling merchants.

As Joseph and Mary went through the streets of Bethlehem, they noticed how crowded it was. People from all over — men, women and children — had come to Bethlehem in obedience to Caesar Augustus' decree. And when they came to the inn in Bethlehem, there was no room for them.

It would be hard for you to imagine such an inn. You see, Bethlehem nestles among hills and mountains and, even today, it is often easier to live in a cave than to build a house.

And this particular inn was a cave or a group of caves which had been made into guest rooms, public rooms, dining rooms and even a stable for the animals.

Yet, even in an inn such as this, after their long and hard journey, there was no room for Mary and Joseph.

'55 May Be Worst Accident Year

Traffic Mishaps Have Killed 15

Bad Holiday Season May Put Total Over Past Records

Worried Police Department officials warned today: unless Pontiac residents drive carefully, 1955 may end up being the city's worst traffic accident year.

With the death of a pedestrian Saturday, the record so far this year stands at fifteen dead — one short of 1951's record, and two short of Pontiac's worst year for traffic fatalities, 1950.

Statistics leaped during November, when three persons were killed in accidents, making that month the worst for traffic fatalities this year.

Seventy - three other persons were injured, most of them severely, as icy streets began to take their annual toll. In all, 131 accidents occurred.

A comparison shows that during November, 1954, only 89 accidents occurred. A summary issued by the Pontiac Police Traffic and Safety Bureau states that in these accidents, only 33 persons were injured and no one was killed.

The total number of accidents is slightly lower so far this year than it was through November, 1954 according to the summary.

But there have been nine more deaths and 89 more persons injured in accidents this year than last year.

Hospital Names Dr. John Markley 1956 Staff Head

Named last night to the presidency of the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital staff for next year was Dr. John M. Markley, of 337 W. Iroquois Rd. He succeeds Dr. Carleton A. Smith of Bloomfield Hills.

Selected to succeed Markley in 1957 was Dr. Robert R. Wessels, of Bloomfield Hills, according to Hospital Administrator Sister Mary William.

Elected secretary - treasurer for the coming year was Dr. Charles L. Bowers, of 213 Cedardale Ave. Dr. Smith was awarded a plaque in appreciation of his service during the past year.

PHS Swimming Team Meets Ypsi Squad

A change in time for the first Pontiac High School swimming encounter for 1955-56 will bring Ypsilanti Central here at 4 p.m. Thursday. The meet was originally set for 7:30 p.m. but the change was requested today by Ypsilanti.

PHS tankers have been hampered by breakdown of the high school pool and are still not in full condition, Coach Robert (Des) Boyce said today. Chiefs' strongest competition will be in the breaststroke and backstroke, with veterans Bob Keavy and Tom Cross now doing close to last year's top times in their specialities. Both were near the top in state competition last winter, and were members of the All-America Prep squad.

The team is largely a senior group, but Boyce expects it to come along fast for the Valley duals, starting with Flint Central here, Dec. 21, at 4 p.m.

School Figures Rise by 11,044

Oakland County Second in State in Enrollment Increases in 1955

Public school enrollment in Oakland County has risen to 126,553, an increase of 11,044 over last year's total.

Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of Public Instruction, said the increase was second largest in the state. Wayne County enrollment increased by 21,152, he said, to a new total of 431,108.

Overall state records show an increase of 69,148, swelling the ranks of school children to 1,384,750.

The number of children enrolled from kindergarten through the sixth grade, Taylor added, increased 36,973 over last year. High school enrollment climbed by a total of 32,175.

Taylor said the figures bear out predictions that the biggest increases in enrollment for the next few years will be in high schools.

While the emphasis in school construction has been in elementary schools for the past few years, it will now be necessary to speed up high school construction, he pointed out.

Area cities aiding the boom: Pontiac, up 1,534 to 17,835; Waterford Township, up 1,472 to 8,955; Royal Oak, up 2,524 to 15,070; Farmington, up 1,332 to 4,436; and Walled Lake, up 784 to 4,696.

Higgins Proposes Extended Turnpike

not have to pledge its "full faith and credit" to get the bond issue, meaning the state would not be held liable if toll revenues fell below expected amounts.

Speaking of a Detroit Common Council resolution passed yesterday against construction of the turnpike as now laid out, Higgins said "it doesn't mean they are definitely against the project but are withholding approval until engineering problems are worked out."

Detroit Superintendent of Public Works Glenn C. Richards is against the toll road, said Higgins, and says it would create a $40,000,000 drainage problem as now mapped to run through Rouge Park.

"We don't believe drainage would cost that much," Higgins declared, "but are willing to pay our share of costs. The problem is there, whether or not a toll road is built, and we can't pay the whole cost.

"If we changed our route to avoid the drainage problem we would have to take out 415 homes, compared with 27 along the present routing."

In Washington, President Eisenhower was quoted today as telling Republican congressional leaders he regards Gov. Averell Harriman of New York as "a Park Avenue Truman."

Most U.S. cigarets today contain about 2 per cent of nicotine. In 1915 the average content was 3 per cent.

Bloomfield Schools Plan Christmas Presentations

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Bloomfield Hills band and chorus will present the school's traditional "Christmas Spectacular" Friday at 8 p.m. in the new high school gymnasium auditorium. The concert has been designated as official PTO meeting for December.

At Wing Lake School, students will stage "The Nutcracker Suite" today and Thursday at 1:30 p.m. with parents invited. Adapted with words composed by sixth grade students, who also share in the acting, the performance will feature dances developed by the children under guidance of Mrs. Ruth De Cou and Mrs. Aino Hill. All rooms will do their version of the ballet.

On Jan. 13 the sixth grade chorus will go to Ann Arbor to sing for the Michigan Music Educators' midwinter - conference, with the invitation being a special recognition for the Hills' schools excellent work in the field of elementary music.

Dingell Jr. Wins Seat in Congress

Unofficial final returns from the district's 322 precincts gave 29-year-old Dingell 19,624 votes to 6,106 for the 26-year-old Republican attorney.

The district, which is entirely within the city of Detroit, had been represented by John Dingell Sr., also a Democrat, from its formation in 1933 until his death last September. The elder Dingell won the 1954 election by a 3-1 margin.

Santa Really Exists, Reporter Discloses

"You really are Santa Claus," said Michael Simon, 3, of 3144 S. York St., with heart-touching sincerity. "Yes, I am," replied the well-padded fellow.

But Michael wasn't primarily interested in stating what he wanted for Christmas. He was determined to make sure that Santa knew his companion, Barbara Jean Stott, 4, of 3941 Dunning Rd., wanted "a dolly."

Then followed Ann Lane, 3, of 127 Chamberlain St.; Duane Farnham, 4 of Milford and Nancy Ellenwood, 3, of 902 Otter St. Each related what gifts he or she would like, but also made a point of stating what "mommy and daddy" want.

When they were through, I had no heart for writing an "amusing" story about what youngsters told St. Nick. My observation was that the joy of giving to others even affects two and three year olds.

It seemed out of keeping with the seasonal spirit to pen an article tarnishing Santa for the enjoyment of we adults who know there is actually no such gift-bearing fellow flashing from hearth to hearth on Christmas eve.

But can you honestly say there isn't a Santa Claus?—I can't. He exists in practically all of us during the Yuletide. You see him in the faces of shoppers looking forward to the pleased smile of those who will receive their gifts.

You hear him in the voices of your friends shouting "Merry Christmas." You feel his spirit in the brisk or solemn notes of Yuletide songs and carols.

You realize his power when you recall the transformation of "Old Scrooge" from penny pinching to generosity as related in Dickens' "Christmas Carol."

Then, when your child asks that so vital question, "Is there a Santa Claus?" you might be inclined to answer:

"Yes, there is a Santa Claus. We can't actually see him. But he's with us every Chirstmas season putting smiles on people's faces and kindness in their hearts."

Defense Budget to Silence Dems

Ike's $1 Billion Arms Hike Answers Attacks on Military Spending

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower's billion dollar increase in the nation's defense budget was expected today to put an end to repeated Democratic criticism of cutbacks in atomic age military spending.

The President told congressional leaders at the White House yesterday that his proposed military spending budget for the year beginning next July 1 will total 35 and one-half billion dollars.

The Air Force will get most of the boost—700 million dollars.

According to legislators, the air arm increases are to go for expanded missile development, for costly electronic defenses and new jet aircraft.

The defense budget for the current fiscal year totals 34 and one-half billions. The added money is planned to go 70 per cent to the Air Force, 20 per cent to the Navy, and 10 per cent to the Army.

Under the new allocation the air branch of the nation's defense system would receive 17 billion, 200 millions—or almost half the appropriation. The Navy would get nine billion, 700 millions, and the Army a total budget of eight billion, 600 millions.

Senate Armed Service Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), said the defense program outlined to Democratic and Republican congressional leaders "looks fairly good."

The proposed increase, Democrats and Republicans alike recognized, will make it more difficult to find surplus funds to permit a tax cut in the coming year.

But it was also noted that actual military spending is a fluid matter and frequently is revised as requirements shift and new developments occur in research.

Those attending the bipartisan conference agreed that its tone was "optimistic"—with no indication that any war threat is imminent, despite trouble spots in the Middle East, Asia and Berlin.

At the conclusion of the three-hour meeting, Eisenhower expressed his "very real gratitude" to the legislators for "the very great contribution they have made and are making to true bipartisanship."

U.S. Declares Surplus of Material for Quinine

WASHINGTON (INS)—The U.S. has declared as surplus 8,200,000 ounces of the natural raw material from which quinine is produced.

That quantity of totaquine will be sold to the highest bidder and the government suggested it may be used in under-developed areas of the world.

Postwar development of synthetics for manufacture of quinine—used in combatting malaria and other tropical diseases—was given as the reason for slashing the stockpile.

The Day in Birmingham

Board Names Easterner as Recreation Director

BIRMINGHAM — New Recreation Director will be Norman R. Landry, a Portsmouth, N.H. resident who at 30 years old has eight years of experience in planning and leading a recreation program.

Board of Education members last night approved payment of one half of the Recreation Director's salary to be paid to the Recreation Board along with another half voted Monday night by City Commission. The director's actual pay check will be from city pay roll so that the director will have pension benefits.

Landry has been Portsmouth's recreation director for two years, but has lived in that eastern city most of his life. Married, he will be bringing his wife and three children here in January, and is expected to take over the newly created post here January 15.

Recreation Board has had his acceptance of their offer of the position and the board probably will not meet again this month.

Teachers and nurses in Birmingham schools will be paid an extra $200 this year, while custodians and other salaried workers will be given $150, the Board of Education decided last night. The funds, voted by the State Legislature at the rate of $9 per pupil were originally asked by Governor Williams for teachers only, but when voted, were for all staff.

The board is having to use other funds to round out the total payments but decided all payments would be for the whole teaching year, beginning last September. Those starting in January will receive half the allotment.

Steinle-Wolfe was low bidder for general construction work on the swimming pool addition to Derby Junior High School which that firm is now building. The Steinle-Wolfe bid was $294,250, while other low bidders were Magnolia Heating Co., $51,233 for mechanical work, and Shaw Electric, $15,480 for the electrical work. Received by the board last night, they will be considered with the other bids by the architect, Eberle M. Smith, and the board before contracts are given. Smith may find that the bids total more than the Derby's share for the two swimming pools planned by the board, school officials indicated.

Fluoridation OK Excites Canada

Four Cities Announce Plans to Urge Inclusion of Helpful Chemical

TORONTO (AP) — Endorsement of fluoridation by Health Minister Phillips of Ontario brought almost immediate reaction in at least four cities.

In a fifth, North Bay, the announcement coincided with a city plebiscite in which the voters approved fluoridation of community water supplies. North Bay is the first city in Canada to endorse the measure by a public vote.

* * *

In London and Windsor, health officials said they will ask their city governments for early approval. Sarnia and St. Thomas, both of which have shelved the measure, said they will reopen discussions.

Phillips said in a statement that introduction of sodium fluoride in drinking water appears harmless and beneficial. He referred to his department's findings in a 10-year fluoridation experiment in Brantford.

Release of the report coincided with release of figures on a similar experiment conducted in two cities in New York state.

Newarker Nabs Thief Driving His Stolen Car

NEWARK, N.J. (INS) — Jacob Chitty Jr. had just started walking to the police station to report his car stolen when he saw it go by him on the street.

He ran after it and pulled open the car door when it stopped for a traffic light. Chitty held onto the 16-year-old driver, whose name was withheld, until police arrived.

Lack of Newspapers Hits Detroit Buying

Mr. has happened we frankly don't save know. But this lack of advertis- the ing is bound to show up. Without papers we're bound to go down from last year's Christmas sales." Spokesmen for large department stores said shoppers miss specific advertised items. "We were rolling in Christmas shoppers by the middle of November," said one executive. "They're still coming, but they don't know what to look for."

Is There Another Tale Hidden Behind the Otto John Return Story?

BONN (AP) — Dr. Otto John, a triple turncoat, has come back from 16 months in the Communist camp to this West German capital where he formerly was chief of counterintelligence.

* * *

The former chief spy catcher of West Germany was brought to a house on a quiet side street in Bonn which is headquarters of the special security section of the federal criminal police, after slipping into West Berlin Monday.

There he was grilled by federal attorneys who have been investigating his desertion ever sinc he f rtively drove into Communist East Berlin on July 20, 1954, and announced he was there to stay.

Officially branded a traitor by the West German government, the tall, blond, 46-year-old former security chief apparently made a carefully organized escape from his Communists hosts in Berlin.

FLIGHT WAS PLANNED

Sources there said he had been planning his flight for some time. He made contact with friends in the western part of the city, left his home in Potsdam and slipped into West Berlin. There the friends rushed him aboard an American plane to Frankfurt.

It was revealed in London that his wife left her home there two or three days ago, presumably to keep a rendezvous with John in West Germany.

This made John a turncoat three times. After the attempts to kill Hitler failed, he deserted the Nazis and escaped to Spain. He made his way to Britain where he worked for British intelligence.

After the war, he returned to West Germany and was appointed chief of the federal counterespionage organization early in 1950. Four years later he went over to the Communists and now he has deserted them.

ROAR OF LAUGHTER

Not until he was in the hands of the security police in West Germany did Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government today report John's return.

Adenauer's own smiling announcement to a meeting of parliamentary leaders of his coalition government was greeted with a roar of laughter.

But John's return is likely to revive the scandal caused by his defection to the East when the Adenauer government was attacked for having named a man of such apparently unstable character and uncertain loyalty to a top security post.

REPORT PREPARED

At first the government claimed behad been lured into a Communist trap. But after John's own widely publicized statements in the East and further investigation, the government acknowledged he acted treasonably in disseminating the Communist propaganda line.

A parliamentary committee was established to investigate the case. It finished taking evidence only yesterday. Today its chairman said John would be called as a witness, although the committee is preparing its final report.

The committee was instructed to determine whether John had used the West German office for the protection of the constitution, the counter intelligence organization he headed, to serve as a double agent for the Communists before he fled. It also was probing chargs that John used money appropriated for hunting Nazi and Communist plotters to spy on West German political leaders.

FRIENDS DEFEND HIM.

Despite the previous government stand that John is a traitor, Interior Minister Gerhard Schroeder, yesterday testified before the committee that he did not think John deserted with any traitorous intention.

Another witness from the interior ministry, Ritter Von Lex, thought John defected because of "a psychological shortcircuit." He said John could not have taken with him a list of Western agents behind the Iron Curtain because they were only known to him by code numbers.

John spent two million dollars a year in an office that was the West German equivalent of the American FBI.

A MOUTHPIECE?

When John, called "the man with a thousand secrets," deserted to the East he said West Germany was dominated by Nazis and he wanted to work for reunification of the country.

The Communists at first made him a mouthpiece for Communist propaganda blasts against the West. But as time went on, John made fewer and fewer public appearances.

Allied sources today said it had long been known he was disgruntled and his sensational flight was no surprise.

WAS EXPECTED BACK

Earlier this month, reports from Berlin said he was under constant watch by Communist police. Red security officials evidently suspected he was preparing to flee.

The last Westerner to talk with John before his flight East, Prince Louis Ferdinand of Prussia, said: "I secretly expected that he would come back."

Prince Louis was with John at the 1954 observance in Berlin of the 10th anniversary of the abortive bomb plot to kill Hitler. John's brother was executed for his part in the conspiracy. A few hours after the memorial ceremonies, John slipped over to East Berlin.

"I never could really imagine that Otto John is a deserter. All the time I have hoped he would come back. Secretly I expected it," the Prince said.

"What made him go to East Germany will now be cleared by the authorities. Nobody knows how far John was forced to make his anti-Western statements."

In Wiesbaden, John's 70-year-old father, Willy John, said his son obtained a promise from East German authorities when he defected that he could return to the West whenever he liked. Th father said that his son's last letter, received Friday, made no mention of his intention to return West.

John Brown's Nephew Dies at 97 in Jackson

Gift Paper Has New, Old Ideas

Traditional Patterns, Classic Color Varieties Favored This Season

CHICAGO (INS) — You will find more than Santa Claus and holly designs on the paper you use to wrap your Christmas gifts this year.

* * *

There will be plenty of the traditional pattern favorites and classic Yuletide color combinations of red and green.

But you also will see designs built around such things as copper chafing dishes, apothecary jars, antique automobiles and even the "outer space" motif.

One manufacturer has put merry little "spacemen," boys wearing helmets and space suits, all over an electric blue sky. The "spacemen" carry Christmas trees, peppermint sticks and stars.

Besides traditional colors, many gift wrapping papers designed for the holiday season come in pastels and in vibrant colors termed "pastel-plus."

For those who want their gifts to be enriched by outside opulence, there will be gleaming foil papers in a rainbow range of colors, as well as in gold and silver.

Many of the new Christmas papers have a heavy design of gold and silver ink baked on in a new process. These have the appearance of many strands of metallic thread laid down on a background of white.

Families Are Bigger

WASHINGTON—There are some 37,000,000 married couples in the United States. More than 50 per cent of them married since 1940. They're having bigger families than in 1940: twice as many second and third children, and 66 per cent more fourth children.

Melons Alike in Seeds

ATLANTA—About seven watermelons, regardless of size, are needed for a pound of seeds. Seed yield per acre is 100 to 150 pounds. Since a small melon has just as many seeds as a large one, growers who want to market the seeds try to raise as many small melons as possible.

Imports of dairy products by British Guiana increased to 8,500,000 pounds during 1954 from just under 6,400,000 pounds the previous year.

Reds Stir Trouble

Fresh outbreaks of violence on the border between Israel and Syria give concrete evidence that the efforts of Russian agents to stir up trouble once more are bearing fruit. This is part of the cold war.

★ ★ ★

Wars weaken nations, and weak nations are easier to overrun. Also, impoverished governments are more easily undermined. Hungry people fall more easily for the alluring promises that are whispered by secret Communist agents.

Russia doesn't have to go to war herself so long as she can stir up war between other nations. That is one reason why she is happy to provide arms for the Arab nations.

There is good reason to hope that no big war will develop out of the very strained relations that now exist in the Middle East. But even a little war is apt to prove a boon for Moscow. That is why the Western Nations are watching developments along the River Jordan so intently.

★ ★ ★

It is tragic that as the birthday of the Christ Child nears, the terrible scourge of war threatens the land where He lived and died and rose again.

Lawmakers Should O.K. Retarded Child Plan

Once again our old friend Compromise has come to the rescue.

The result is a plan which, if approved by the Legislature, gives promise of solving for a year at least the problem of caring for Michigan's mentally retarded children.

Like all compromises, that worked out by the veteran Republican Sen. Porter with House Democrats and Republicans and representatives of the Executive branch, leaves some persons disappointed. Nonetheless, the plan as it will be presented to the lawmakers provides 1,500 beds for 1,250 children on state hospital waiting lists.

Of these 110 to 150 will be placed in the Farmington Children's Hospital on a contract basis after January 1. Another 800 will be located at Fort Custer Station Hospital, 100 will be placed in private hospitals, 100 in boarding homes and 350 at the Mt. Pleasant and Coldwater Schools.

As Sen. Porter, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, has emphasized, the compromise proposal upholds the Senate position. That is that the State should not buy or lease hospital space which would interfere with a long range solution of the mentally retarded child problem.

Not only does the plan offer temporary solution but provides a year for the perfecting of a long range program. As such we believe it deserves the Legislature's endorsement and Governor Williams' signature.

Both Food and Sport

For hunters who have annual arguments with their wives over the expense of their hunting trips, some eloquent support has come from the State Conservation Department.

There always has been general agreement that hunting is a healthful outdoor sport. Now comes the department with convincing statistics proving that it yields meat and hides worth more than $9,425,000 a year.

In 1954, for example, a total of 6,000 tons of edible meat was harvested by hunters and trappers. Figuring it at 75 cents a pound for the choice cuts and 25 cents for less desirable ones, the department says this meat was worth more than $8,250,000. Pelts of these game animals were valued at an additional $1,175,000.

Last year Michigan hunters bagged 4,671,000 pounds of venison valued at $3,500,000. Other important crops were the $1,600,000 worth of pheasant meat and $1,400,000 worth of rabbit meat.

Besides all this, don't forget the splendid support our hundreds of thousands of hunters give Michigan's great tourist industry. Their contributions go a long way toward helping make this industry rank third only behind automobiles and agriculture.

A State resource that can be counted in millions of dollars a year has importance no one can ignore.

Caution Urged in Buying Toys

The State Health Department recently warned parents to think twice before buying Christmas toys. The safety angle and whether toys are completely safe should be considered.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said some apparently harmless toys may be deadly. An example, he said, may be a toy coated with a lead base paint. By chewing on it a child can contact lead poisoning.

Following are a few points to be considered in picking out safe toys: A child under three shouldn't be given stuffed animals with button eyes which can be twisted off and swallowed; toys with sharp, pointed or rough edges should be avoided and youngsters under three should not receive toys with small removable parts.

Most Powerful of His Kind in the World

David Lawrence Says:

Ike's Attitude Toward Public Service Will Determine His Campaign Decision

WASHINGTON—What is Dwight Eisenhower's basic attitude toward public service—is it the health and convenience of an individual or the needs of one's country which must be given priority?

* * *

This question was once answered by Eisenhower in an episode that various persons in Washington are talking about now because it may throw light on the processes of the President's mind wher. he comes to the point of making a decision next year on whether or not to serve a second time.

It happened in 1942 when General Eisenhower was in London preparing for the invasion of North Africa. He had as chief of staff of the Allied forces Walter Bedell Smith, then a brigadier general. The latter had served in Washington as secretary of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff and also as U.S. secretary of the combined chiefs of staff.

When General Smith came to London in October 1942, he took on a series of heavy conferences daily and, after one of these sessions, Winston Churchill warned General Eisenhower that General Smith was not looking well and ought to be sent to the hospital. It was not long afterward that the chief surgeon, General Hawley, told General Eisenhower that General Smith had bleeding ulcers and that, unless he was sent home, General Smith "might be dead in six months."

STAYED ON THE JOB

"There'll be a lot of people dead in six months—in North Africa and in other places," was General Eisenhower's reply as he turned down the suggestion. General Smith, after two weeks of hospitalization, went to serve as Ike's chief of staff for nearly four years until after the end of the war. He later was for three years U.S. ambassador to Russia and then became head of the CIA and subsequently undersecretary of state. He is now an executive in private business.

There was in this instance, moreover, an intimate friendship which might have induced greater personal concern about the risks involved, but Dwight Eisenhower's point of view has always been that the needs of the United States come first.

It is true that the incident occurred during wartime, but the way things shape up today inside the government—with the Navy and the Air Force constantly on a 24-hour-alert basis—it is well known that the "cold war" is considered in some respects as dangerous as some stages of a "hot war." Many close observers of Eisenhower's whole attitude toward public service now are saying that, if the country really wants him to serve on, a sense of duty will persuade him to do so.

President Eisenhower's heart attack hasn't affected his mental capacity or acumen. Officials who have attended recent conferences with him, both of the cabinet and the National Security Council, say that he is even sharper than before in cutting through lengthy debate or rambling remarks and bringing his conferees back to the main point under discussion.

Representative Clarence Cannon, Democrat of Missouri, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said after a legislative conference at the White House this week: "I was gratified to note the aggressiveness of the President in conducting the conference. He was as active as any boy 16 years old. He was the picture of health."

* * *

It was Woodrow Wilson who in a world crisis in 1916—before America entered World War I—refrained from "seeking" a second term in the presidency. He stood by his statement made as president-elect in February 1913, when he wrote: "I can approach the question from a perfectly impersonal point of view, because I shall most cheerfully abide by the judgment of my party and the public as to whether I shall be a candidate for the presidency again in 1916. I absolutely pledge myself to resort to nothing but public opinion to decide that question."

* * *

Maybe history will repeat itself, and the people themselves will have to decide whether Eisenhower should be renominated.

U. S. Farmers' Problems Affect Business, Politics

By MERRYLE RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

The fact that the farmer is out of step during the current business boom casts its shadow across coming events.

* * *

On the business side, it raises the question as to whether the imbalance between industry and agriculture will impair prosperity.

Politically, the Democrats are relying heavily on rural discontent in the normally Republican farm states of the Middle West to enable them to recapture the presidency next November.

From an objective point of view, it can be chronicled that neither of the two major parties can boast about its farm accomplishments in recent years.

* * *

The downslide in the relative economic position of agriculture started during the Truman administration, and the drift certainly has not been arrested under Eisenhower.

FACE THE FACTS

In view of the pivotal importance of the issue, it is desirable to face the known facts dispassionately.

* * *

While balance is eminently to be desired, it should be understood that in a dynamic world equilibrium should be sought through forehanded adjustment to changing trends.

This point has a bearing on the attack on Secretary Benson's formula of flexible, rather than rigid, government price supports on agricultural staples. The declining level of support at a time of overproduction is intended not to subsidize and freeze miscalculations by the growers.

One correction of imbalance is technological changes in land utilization as farmers attune their production to demand, as expressed by the decision of the customer.

* * *

Fewer farms and fewer farmers, as a result of better machinery and improved methods, are meeting the needs of an expanding national economy.

7 PER CENT DROP

Accordingly the farm population is at present estimated to be 12 per cent smaller than that of 1950. Nevertheless, between 1951 and 1954, the per capital income of farmers dropped 7 per cent, while the per capita income of non-farm people went up 5 per cent.

* * *

The farm squeeze has taken place despite a moderate pickup in farm exports in the last two years, following the earlier drop in the value of farm exports by almost one-third from the crop year 1951-52 to the crop year 1952-53.

A depressing influence on farm prices despite the business boom has been the fact that government price support policy has added to the size of the carryover stocks of wheat, cotton and corn with marked rapidity during the past three years.

Since 1952 the wheat and cotton carryover has almost quadrupled, and the corn carryover is about 2½ times as large as three years ago.

* * *

In contrast, heavy exports have contributed to a decline in the inventory, or carryover, of food fats and oils of about 40 per cent in the last year.

The position of the farm has been worsened relatively by the steady rise in labor costs in cities, which furnish the farms with machinery and other products.

'Rest Room Facilities Are Available at Tel-Huron'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

I would like to reply to the recently published letter from Mrs. Green regarding the facilities for customers' comfort and rest rooms at Tel-Huron Shopping Center. While I heartily agree with Mrs. Green that these would be nice to have, I would like to point out that outside of extremely large shopping centers such as Northland, none of the others have such facilities.

However, an important point I would like to make is that all the stores do have such facilities as required by state law. While all are not visible to the customer, nevertheless upon simple request these will be made available to any customer.

If Mrs. Green or any other customer has made such a request and been refused, this writer would like to hear of any such incident.

Gives Hints on Becoming 'Public Enemy' Shopper

I have long wanted to write this letter, but while I was employed, I felt I couldn't. But now, happy day. And if this helps even one tired, discouraged salesperson, God bless them and the merriest of Christmases to them.

These are a few hints on how to make yourself public enemy to the sales people:

If the clerk asks you if they can help you, don't even answer. (The snip.) You don't even know her.

Always have a bunch of packages you can lay on the beautiful new merchandise (especially if wet).

Under no circumstances take anything unless it is taken out of the box before your very eyes. (This is a gift, remember.)

Never, but never, know what size you want. Hedge a little, too. This always helps to make the sales person happy and shows that you are shrewd.

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

When I was a kid in Canandaigua you flattened nails, coins, etc. by putting them on the rail and letting a train run over them.

It is not so easy to flatten a nail on your toe. That takes several weeks.

But why should any one want to flatten a toenail? To prevent it from growing in.

An ingrowing nail becomes excessively curved before it becomes painful, the edges, especially the inner edge, curving down and under so that it presses upon and actually cuts into the soft tissue as it grows.

TO FLATTEN NAIL

This redirects growth so that the nail flattens out and pressure from the undergrowing edge is relieved.

Someone kindly sent me some lava stone, which I used with satisfaction, but inquiries directed to the firm that marketed it brought no reply, so I don't know whether it is now available.

If shoes always provided enough room for five toes ingrowing nail would occur rarely if at all.

Without any statistics on the subject I'm nevertheless inclinde to believe ingrown toenail is less frequent today than it was when we were not "in it" unless we wore toothpick shoes.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Overcome Your Nervous Habits, Tics by Deliberately Facing Them 3 Times

Ted has been a slave for eight years. For he developed a "tic" in the fifth grade which has made life miserable for him ever since. "Tics" are not the same as the nervous twitching of St. Vitus's Dance (chorea), for "tics" are purely psychological. Millions of people have them. They are a first cousin of stuttering.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, he blinks his eyes rapidly when he is nervous," his mother informed me.

"That is especially true when he is among strangers and begins to feel self-conscious.

* * *

"He doesn't do it as much around his friends and home folks. And the more he does it, the more humiliated and self-conscious he becomes.

"It also bothers him more often when he is tired or run down physically. What can he do to overcome this tic?"

PIN DOWN THE ENEMY

A tic is a nuisance type of muscular response that tends to be repeated without the conscious desire of its victim.

After a long talk with Ted, I found that he dated the onset of his eye-blinking tic to the fifth grade.

He was suddenly called upon to recite by an austere substitute teacher. Ted was a timid child anyway and the sudden, peremptory tone of the teacher frightened him.

Tears started to come into his eyes, even against his will. So he blinked very rapidly to hide that fact from his classmates, for he didn't want to be called a "sissy."

Ted has been troubled ever since by this blinking. In fact, it is really a form of stuttering, except his eyelids do the stuttering instead of his vocal cords.

* * *

Blushing and spastic colitis and undue hand trembling and many other nuisance habits thus belong in the same general family.

It is usually helpful to pin down your enemy by analyzing exactly where, when and why it first started.

FACE YOUR ENEMY

Then face your enemy consciously! Quit evading it. Don't push it into your subconscious by trying to deny its existence or by furtively trying to look the other way so you will think you are ignoring it.

Instead, make a head-on assault. Storm the enemy's ramparts. To do this, resolutely talk to your foe:

"You cheap, chiseling nuisance habit, I'm declaring a revolt. One of us is going to knuckle under, and it is not going to be myself."

That may sound odd to some of you, but the sooner you personalize the segment of your anatomy over which you are trying to become master, the more ire and venom you can work up.

So learn to upbraid and ridicule the foe, even by whispered talk which nobody else can hear.

Then try to break your slavery by deliberately contacting the same kind of situation where your nuisance habit arises. In Ted's case this means, seek out strangers and start conversations with them.

RULE OF THREE

In psychology we have a "rule of three" which says if you can face your bugaboo deliberately on three occasions, you will realize you are no longer its slave.

* * *

The first time, you may get panicky and almost feel as if you'll die before you get through, but you don't die.

So the second time you have that memory of having survived the bugaboo once before. And by the third time, you begin to realize you are boss over your emotions.

To help extrovert your attention, analyze your companions for merits on which to pay them sincere compliments. Join my "Compliment Club."

Send for the leaflet "Tics vs. Chorea," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. Chorea is St. Vitus's Dance, and an organic ailment.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Santa and the Dumdiddy

By Lucrece Hudgins Beale

AP Newsfeatures

SYNOPSIS

The Dumdiddy sees the witch take a black pill from a little box. Pretending it is a raisin, she drops it into the pudding in the purple dish and tells Beanie that pudding is for him.

Chapter Nine

THE POISONED PUDDING

"While the pudding cooks," said the witch to Beanie, "come into the parlor and talk with me."

She led him into the sitting room where the three black pots sat in a row in the middle of the room. "Tell me where you are going and where you have come from."

"Well," said Beanie. "I am running away from home because I did not want to make Christmas gifts and spend my allowance for gifts for the poor and all that stuff."

"What! You don't like Christmas?"

* * *

"I like getting things," said Beanie. "But I don't like giving. And I don't see why I have to share everything at Christmas time."

"Good," said the witch. "That is a very proper feeling."

Beanie looked at her in surprise. "You're the first grownup person who has agreed with me," he said. He thought it was a shame his family didn't understand him as this dear old woman did.

Meantime, in the kitchen, the little Dumdiddy was struggling mightily to find a way to save Beanie from the "dear old woman."

He thought if he could get into the oven he could dump out the purple pudding. To reach the oven door he climbed up the stick of a broom behind the stove. Then he slid over onto the top of the stove.

* * *

He ran to the front and leaned way, way over until he managed to reach the handle of the oven. He gave it a jerk and the door flew open.

He could see the four puddings bubbling inside. But it was hot! Waves of heat from the open oven suffocated him.

Still, he thought, Santa Claus brought me alive just to take care of Beanie and I've got to get to that pudding.

But, alas! as he started to swing himself down, the poor Dumdiddy slipped and crashed to the floor.

He heard steps coming and he rolled under the stove just as Beanie and the witch came in.

"There," said the witch. "They're all ready even though I did forget to shut the oven."

She laid out two dishes on the table, the green one for herself and the purple one for Beanie.

"Oh, boy!" cried Beanie. I am hungry!"

But just as he lifted his spoon the witch said, "Dear me! You haven't washed your hands. Come with me while the pudding cools."

* * *

As soon as they went out of the room the Dumdiddy scrambled from under the stove and shinnied up the leg of the table. It was hard going but he finally got to the top.

He ran to the purple dish and took up the spoon. He dug frantically in the pudding until finally he dredged up the little black pill that looked like a raisin. He put the pill on his shoulder and ran over and dropped it into the green dish at the witch's place.

Then, with a tremendous sigh of relief, he dropped down into Beanie's chair and just lay there.

When Beannie came back he saw the Dumdiddy and put it back in his pocket. Then he sat down to eat.

"Come — eat up!" said the witch. And she spooned a great spoonful of pudding into her mouth.

As she did so there was a hiss and a rattle and suddenly the witch was no longer a witch. She had turned into an old black pot pot that fell clanging and crashing off the chair to the kitchen floor.

(Next: In Trouble Again)

HE DUG FRANTICALLY IN THE PUDDING — As Beanie and the witch left the room, the little Dumdiddy climbed to the top of the table, took up a spoon and dug frantically in the pudding until finally he dredged up the little black pill that looked like a raisin. He then took it up and dropped it in the witch's dish.

There isn't a cloud in the sky . . . People are sleeping off their dinner on a beach, or under a tree in the mountains. The kids are running around in swimsuits.

* * *

Most Australians try to get away from the city to the beach or mountains for Christmas-New Year. Hundreds of Australian factories and offices close for the period. Thus many persons spend Christmas Day away from home—in hotels, holiday cottages or tents. But wherever Australians happen to be, Christmas Day remains a family day. Often it is the one day in the year when whole families can get together.

More Australians go to church on Christmas morning than on any other day.

* * *

The big meal, despite the heat, is in the traditional English style: turkey or some other poultry, ham, Pork, plum pudding with three-penny pieces inside and brandy sauce outside, and plenty to drink — all

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

THE LITTLE DANCING CLASS

Betty, the Baton Twirler—3

If you've ever watched a parade you've seen many baton twirlers strutting along in high hats, boots and fancy uniforms, twirling their batons as they march.

Why don't you put a lively march record on your phonograph while you play with this figure?

Cut out the parts and attach the right arm behind the shoulder with a brass fastener or a bent pin put through the indicated holes. Then Betty can swing the baton.

Fold the ends forward and Betty will stand up.

Junior Editors pays $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned and in case of duplication of ideas, the first submission shall be accepted.

Parents who decry juvenile ways should take advantage of the opportunity to encourage youthful devotion on this Holy Day.

* * *

Families with the largest Yuletide celebrations sometimes are the ones who have lost sight of the true meaning of Christmas. They celebrate Christ's birthday in pagan fashion.

Many families get great satisfaction out of the day, more so because the entire family attends church services together. Early in the morning after the gifts are opened, a Christmas breakfast takes place and the family is off to church—youngsters prepared to thank the Lord for a new bicycle or doll, the elders praying that perhaps they will find the way clear to meet the bills.

TEACH YOUNGSTERS STORY

Little tots could be taught early that Christmas is the birthday of Christ, that He was born in a stable on a straw mattress. Every small child should be familiar with this scene and if there is a creche at church, the youngster and family might visit it together before or after services. Little ones will want to know about the Wise Men, a good opportunity to explain that frankincense and myrrh were perhaps the first gifts offered on this Holy Day.

Time, too, to explain Christmas symbols—how the star represents the one that shone in the East, illuminating shepherd's pastures with its strange, bright light. And how it beckoned them to the stable.

* * *

Much confusion originates in children's minds about gifts and Christmas. Many poorly endowed children feel they are cheated. If the spiritual angle is stressed to them, with the beauty of the creche played up, and the loveliness of church flowers and decorations, theirs will not seem such a hopeless Christmas.

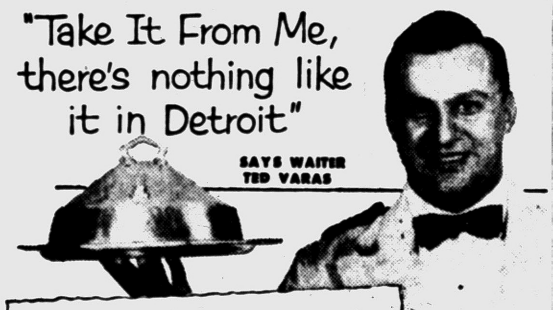

New Signs Are Ready for Detroit Streets

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit will soon have a new type of street sign, which is designed for longer life and will also be easier on the eyes.

The department of Streets and Traffic approved the purchase of a black and white composition street marker which will last six years and has better reflective powers at night. The present signs last only four years.

"Take It From Me, there's nothing like it in Detroit"

SAYS WAITER TED VARAS

"I've been around here a long time, and you can take it from one who has served cabinet members, industrial leaders, the top names in sports and show business, even royalty: there is no greater pleasure than serving a satisfied guest.

"Our Chef, Mr. Hervieux, comes to us with a national reputation. Our four restaurants, the swank Book Casino, the intimate Casino Lounge, the attractive Cafe Cadillac, the smart Motor Bar, offer a range in service and prices that will appeal to all. Our guests are very happy with the Sheraton Cadillac cuisine."

Can Israel Oppose the Entire Arab World?

Water—a Major Source of Middle East Friction

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The scene of one of the worst Israeli-Arab clashes since the 1949 armistice is the Sea of Galilee, a source of both food and power to the warring factions.

* * *

Israeli troops killed or wounded scores of Syrians in a fight along the northeast coast of this ancient inland sea, which also is known as Lake Tiberias and which in biblical history also was called the Sea of Chinnereth or Cinneroth.

The Israeli government said it attacked to silence Syrian batteries which were shelling Israeli fishing boats. Israel holds a small foothold on that side of the sea, but Syrian batteries dominate the area from the hills above.

The sea is about 682 feet below sea level, is pear-shaped, and about 13 miles long and eight miles wide. It has a depth of about 150 feet, is fed by many warm springs, has cool, sweet water and swarms with fish.

BETWEEN HOSTILE NEIGHBORS

But this sea also is part of the Jordan Waterway, which the United States has been trying to utilize under a plan that would benefit both Israel and her two hostile neighbors, Jordan and Syria.

Israel may have been trying trying to test the worth of the new unified Syrian-Egyptian military command in its attack, but the Jordan River Development Plan also is behind the struggle in the area.

Eric Johnston, special emissary of President Eisenhower, has made many trips to the Middle East to try to sell the irrigation and power plan, as a prelude to peace.

QUARREL OVER PROFIT

Quarrels over just which side would profit the most in the plan have nullified acceptance, although the basic quarrel of course is the war itself which never ended with the U. N. armistice.

Fights over water rights are memorable in history and still exist these days long after the once bloody feuds of the American wild west.

In the case of Israel it has threatened to go ahead with its own irrigation and power schemes next spring unless the Arabs accept the Johnston plan.

STRATEGIC RIVER

The Jordan River is not much by comparison with the Nile in Africa and the Indus in India; other disputed water sources.

The Jordan is only 280 miles long but is very strategic in the Israeli-Arab dispute. In part of its course the Jordan forms the boundary between Israel and Syria. Later it becomes the boundary between Israel and Jordan. And in between it is enclosed by Jordan and the part of Palestine occupied by Jordan.

Israel wants its water, not only for power but also for irrigation of the arid southern Negev area where it has been resettling thousands of Jewish refugees from many lands.

Hawks, Owls Protected

CHICAGO—Only six states fail to protect any hawks and owls. Indiana, Idaho, New Hampshire, and Michigan recently extended protection to these birds of prey.

Tallulah's Brainwashed and — in the Follies

By EARL WILSON

★ ★ ★ ★

"Dolores, will you SHUT UP?" Tallulah pleaded. Turning to her butler, Robert, Tallulah said, "Darling, will you SHUT HER UP? Get her some scotch-and-soda, or coffee, or tea or something? No, Dolores, I will NOT give you another Life Saver! Whatever I have, Dolores has got to have, even if it's caviar," Tallulah explained.

BRAIN-WASHED

"WILL YOU SHUT UP No, not you, darling, I was talking to Dolores. Yes, the trouble was I would never leave and come to town. I haven't seen any plays in YEARS. Then there were the hurricanes, the lightning was striking the deep freeze, and I was alone.

But now Tallulah's to do "Streetcar Named Desire" in Florida and at the City Center, then she goes into the Ziegfeld Follies—and everybody is impressed because she makes the theater so worthwhile and also because she practically vowed on a bottle of Scotch she'd never act in a theater again.

★ ★ ★ ★

"Oh, you know I took that back right when I said it." Tallulah turned to Robert. "Darling, why don't you sit down? You cahn't buttle properly without your uniform. You just have to get used to these rogues of the press who drop in.

"Daring"—to me—"how long have you had your crew-cut. I LOATHE them, you know."

"How did you come to agree to do the Follies?" I asked.

"I was brain-washed by Dick Kollmar. I said 'Darling, I CAHN'T do anything.' He bullied me. He has a darling sense of humor. I'll have 3 or 4 sketches and I'll come down in a beautiful dress and probably trip right over my feet. I don't mind anybody stealing the Follies from me, because then I won't have to work so hard."

"I just remembered that you always have to have somebody with you to help you cross the street," I said. "Isn't that going to be difficult living in town?"

★ ★ ★ ★

"Dolores, WILL YOU SHUT UP! Of course it won't be difficult darling. I always have somebody with me; my 'caddies.' I've never had any trouble, darling, getting anybody to go places with me. I've never had to hire a Pinkerton! Although other people have hired them to watch me . . ."

Prisoner Forces Spouse to Help Him Escape

Army Objector Reverses Policy

Grosse Pointe Shores Man Volunteers Duty to 'Defend Constitution'

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Michigan man who won a U.S. Supreme Court decision overturning his conviction as a draft dodger has volunteered for military duty to "defend the Constitution."

Lt. Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective director, said today Joe V. Gonzales, 24, of Grosse Pointe Shores, volunteered for service Dec. 7.

Holmes said Gonzales refused to report for induction when he was drafted more than a year ago. He was convicted in Detroit federal court as a draft dodger.

The court, Holmes said, rejected Gonzales' claim that he was a conscientious objector as a member of a pacifist religious group (Jehovah's Witnesses).

The Supreme Court in November 1954 reversed the conviction and ordered Gonzales' case reprocessed by selective service on the grounds that he had not been given access to a Department of Justice recommendation in his case.

Holmes said that Gonzales had reached the draft appeal board stage in his reprocessing when he decided to volunteer for military duty.

Holmes quoted Gonzales as saying, "When the high court and officials of this land are willing to go so far to protect my rights I am willing to defend the Constitution."

He was reported to be at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Col. Holmes said Gonzales did not abandon his religious scruples against bearing arms and that he can probably obtain noncombat duty in the Army as a conscientious objector.

Spanish Getting Extra Paycheck During Yuletide

In addition there's always the hope of winning something in the big Christmas lottery which is drawn Dec. 21 with prizes ranging down from $400,000 to just getting your money back.

Few Spaniards give presents on Christmas. The custom is to give them Jan. 6, Epiphany or feast day of the Magi Kings as it is known here.

A typical menu in a middle class family is: fried red cabbage, roast fish, roast turkey with chestnut dressing, a sweet soup made of almonds and milk, fresh and candied fruit and various kinds of almond paste.

All of this is washed down with red and white wines.

The dinner is generally served about one a. m. after all the family has returned from midnight mass. In many families the feasting and celebration go on until daylight.

By that time the streets are filled with children singing Christmas carols, banging on dish pans or tootling on musical instruments in quest of alms.

Every home has its scene of the Nativity, the size depending on the wealth of the family. In wealthy households, the figurines are fabulously expensive statues of carved and painted wood.

Cold Symptoms Vary

Coughing is a symptom about two thirds of colds sufferers have; about half have sore throats, and 10 to 25 per cent feel feverish. Symptoms of colds vary from person to person and from cold to cold in the same person.

At 68, William Henry Harrison was the oldest U. S. President.

Italian farmers grew about 325,000,000 bushels of wheat during 1955 compared with 265,000,000 the year before for the nation's second largest postwar wheat harvest.

Will Your Tree Be Safe?

A recent survey reveals that most of the nation's homes use inadequate Christmas tree bases. Weird concoctions of wire, coat hangers, flowerpots and delicate blances hold our trees up.

This can—and should—be remedied in a matter of an hour or so. Most hardware stores carry inexpensive tree bases. The home handyman is also able to construct a base for a few pennies.

Home base-builders will use tools, brains, lumber, and one bucket with a 10-inch diamater. Then:

HERE'S HOW

Draw a pattern, (this one's supplied by the Cummins Tool company), on tracing paper. It is then copied onto a pair of ¾ inch by 1½ inch by 30 inch strips of pine lumber.

For diagonal braces, cut four ¾ inch by 1½ inch by 30 inch pieces of pine lumber. Bevel one end of each to fit against tree trunk. Round corners of opposite end with a saw and a file.

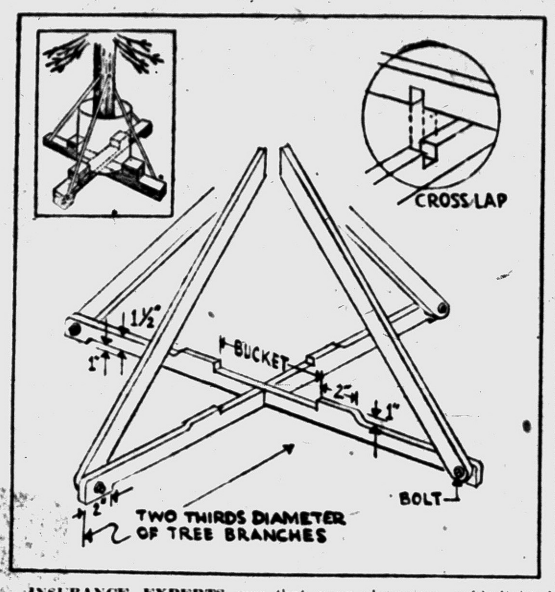

Then, drill holes through brace ends and through each end of the base. The braces are bolted to base, using a washer at each end of the bolt.

Cut two strips of scrap wood, the same length as the diameter of the bucket's bottom. Cross them at right angles in the center. Nail to base of tree trunk and fit into bucket to help hold the tree rigid.

Fit bucket on base. Drill a small hole through top of each diagonal base and into the tree. Insert a small screw near the juncture to help hold the brace secure.

To finish wood, sandpaper well and apply a coat of shellac thinned with an equal portion of alcohol. Paint may then be applied if desired.

Then insert one Christmas tree and stand back—in admiration, not fear.

INSURANCE EXPERTS say that your charming, softly-lighted Christmas tree can be a tragic incendiary. One way to avoid the hazard: anchor your tree securely in a sturdy stand.

EVANSTON, Ill. (INS) — Three Northwestern University lads will get drunk tomorrow — for scientific research.

They will do it as part of a drunkometer demonstration for a fee of $25 apiece. The demonstration was suggested by Gerald O'Connell, director of a five-day training program conducted by the school's traffic institute.

Policemen from 16 states will view the test which works this way:

1. The first subject must down eight ounces of bonded bourbon.
2. The second victim gets a short count—six ounces only.
3. The third will get two glasses of beer.

Once the alcohol has had time ot pass into their blood streams, each subject will be asked to go through a series of hand-eye coordination tests. Then tests, to determine the per cent of alcohol in their blood, will be made.

Plan Storage Plant

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — The South Haven Fruit Exchange plans to build an $80,000 cold storage plant for apples with a 60,000 bushel capacity. It is to be completed in time for the 1956 harvest and will replace a small cold storage facility built in 1923.

Red 'Tourists' Leave India; Afghanistan Is Next Victim

* * *

* * *

The Russians planned to fly direct to Tashkent, in the south of Soviet Asia, to wait out a snowstorm raging at Kabul, Afghanistan, final stop on their tour through non-Communist Asia.

In a final communique, Bulganin and Indian Prime Minister Nehru called for "unconditional prohibition" of nuclear and thermonuclear weapons, along with a "substantial reduction of conventional armaments, coupled with effective international control."

* * *

But in a separate statement to newsmen, Bulganin and Communist party boss Khrushchev said the Soviet Union could not disarm unless the other big powers did.

* * *

Until atomic and hydrogen weapons are banned "completely and unconditionally," they declared, "the Soviet Union is compelled to, and in the future will take care to, strengthen its defensive capacity and produce atomic and hydrogen weapons."

The huge enthusiastic crowds which greeted the Russians everywhere on their four-week tour of India and Burma again were out to give a goodby ovation. Touring loud-speakers and free buses swelled the outpouring along the route to the airfield and at the field itself.

* * *

"I am leaving part of my heart behind in India," said Khrushchev, echoing Nehru's statement when he wound up his visit to Russia last June.

Dems, GOP Split on New Tax Cut

Inter-Party Differences Seen as Leaders Give Divergent Opinions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top House leaders—and some senators—posed a big question mark today over prospects for cutting taxes next year.

* * *

In separate talks with newsmen, Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) and Representatives Martin (R-Mass) and Cannon (D-Mo) voiced doubts that any substantial tax relief would be forthcoming. Senators Byrd (D-Va) and Bridges (R-NH) said a balanced budget is more important than a tax cut.

COOPER KEEPS MUM

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn) of the House Ways and Means Committee, where tax legislation normally is originated, declined to comment on the tax outlook for next year.

Rayburn is boss Democrat in the House; Martin is the top Republican; and Cannon heads the Appropriations Committee. In the Senate, Byrd is chairman of the Finance Committee, and Bridges is senior Republican on the Appropriations Committee.

* * *

Their pessimism over the tax outlook differed from the attitude of Sen. George (D-Ga), an influential member of the Senate Finance Committee. He predicted yesterday that pressure for a tax cut "will be too great for Congress to resist."

Flint Man Kills Wife and Self With Shotgun

FLINT (AP)—William Lee Bowens, 46, killed his wife, Alberta, 39, with a 12 gauge shotgun and then took his own life at ttheir home in Flint last night, police reported.

Police quoted a 12-year-old adopted daughter, Mattie, as saying Bowens leveled the shotgun at his wife's head while she pleaded with him not to shoot. She told police the couple had quarreled frequently.

Noted State Educator, Dr. J. W. Kelder, Dies

YPSILANTI (AP) — Dr. Jacob W. Kelder, 74, of Ypsilanti, long-time Michigan educator and former official of the State Department of Public Instruction, died Monday after a brief illness.

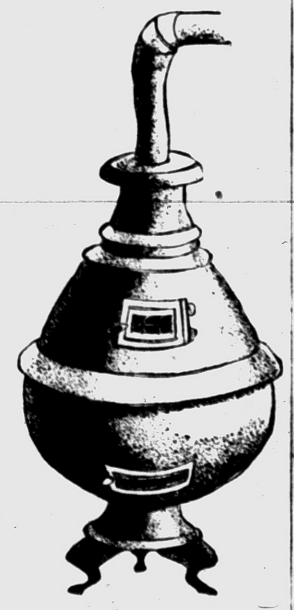

Born in Grandville in 1881, Dr. Kelder had been in the teaching profession for more than 44 years. He held degrees from Columbia University, the University of Michigan and Hope College.

Dr. Kelder served at various times as superintendent of schools at Mt. Pleasant, Alma, Big Rapids, Munising and Petoskey and was a school principal at Caro.

He was director of the school plant program for the State Department of Public Instruction from 1935 to 1939.

Prior to his retirement, he was a professor of education at Michigan Normal College for 12 years.

Scarcity of writing material in ancient and medieval times often led to erasure or scraping off of one text and use of the material for another text, with the result that it is sometimes possible to read important older documents under more modern writing.

In The Good Old Days—

When it came to heating, Grandpa had no great problem. Just keep the old pot-belly stove roaring—no worries about steam pressure, or explosions! But, as a house warmer the old fashioned stove was a flop. Ten feet away from it you were in a deep-freeze.

Modern heating plants keep the whole place snug and warm but they do sometimes explode and can cause extensive damage.

Steam boiler insurance not only indemnifies in case of loss — but the inspection service that goes with it guards against such loss occurring.

Let us tell you more about this protection.

Hal Boyle Says:

After You Save Time, How Do You Use It?

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the best how-to-do-it-yourself books is at hand — and I don't know which hand to throw it from.

* * *

* * *

The reason I don't dare throw it from either hand is that just by looking at it my whole life has changed. I started to throw this book away with the left hand, and now I've determined to go back to the starboard muscle. With it I can hurl farther. But I am confused. Thereby I've gained a minute — and, frankly, I don't know how to invest it.

* * *

I hate to have this minute go astray in the long horology of time. But I really don't know what else to do with it.

That's my trouble. Most of the people I know don't find enough time to do half the things on their minds. I find I have more than double the time on my hands to do the things on my mind. Except for one thing, that is — and that's to loaf.

I always run out of loafing time, which to me is thinking-time, growing-up-time, getting - away - from-it - all - time, getting - back - to you - whomever - you - are - time.

* * *

Naturally, when I think about serious problems like these I'm not really loafing. I'm ordinarily just getting drowsy, as I lean tiredly against my tall friendly Irish wolfhound and wave hello to guests coming across the meek drawbridge of my existence.

This volume about "How To Gain An Extra Hour Every Day" is written by Ray Josephs, a triple threat career man himself-author, public relations specialist and homemaker, here and in South America.

This book opens a new world to me, and I want to get out of it. But it fascinates me and gives me a sense of guilt.

On its cover the book says "everyone needs more time for the things he really wants to do." (And more opportunity also.)

* * *

It tells, for example, how "Sam Goldwyn breaks up those long time-wasting luncheons by discussing business before eating." It doesn't go into the question of who is able to eat when the discussion is over.

The book also tells how President Eisenhower "has learned to bathe, shave, and dress in 20 minutes or less — almost 10 to 15 fewer than most men — by using a routine developed over his many years as a military man."

* * *

* * *

"Sir Winston Churchill," he points out, "does half his day's work in bed; gets added rest while accomplishing twice as much in half the previous, constantly interrupted office time."

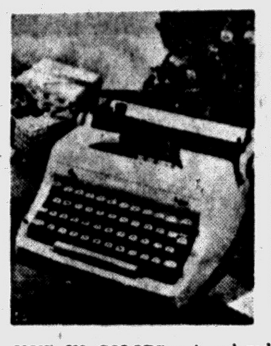

This is the soundest of all Mr. Josephs' 243 different ways to save time. The gamble is great but the possible reward is fascinating.

* * *

Who wouldn't dare the possibility of unemployment if by staying in bed half of every day a fellow might hope to become prime minister of England?

The problem of how to gain an extra hour every day wouldn't seem so bad if a man could spend it in bed admiring other people.

Production of fish sticks climbed to 35,000,000 pounds during the first half of 1955, a boost of 60 per cent from the comparable period the year before.

NOW IN COLORS — A colored typewriter under the Christmas tree brings added cheer for the teenager. A pink, blue or yellow machine is preferred by the typist to wearing rose colored glasses.

Diesel locomotives now pull nearly 85 per cent of all the nation's rail freight compared with just one twentieth of one per cent only 15 years ago.

Bob Considine Says:

Fishing Rivals Baseball as the No. 1 Sport

NEW YORK (INS) — About 30 U. S. colleges, and a greater number of high schools, now have accredited courses in fishing. It will be one of the subjects discussed, along with juvenile delinquency, when thousands of high school principals convene at their next national conventio in Atlantic City.

If fishing is a sport, as some insist, it has taken the place of baseball as our national pastime. Last year fishing licenses were issued to 18,580,813 anglers.

Salt water fishermen, very oldsters and innocent youngsters, none of whom needs licenses, swelled the fishing legions to an estimated 30,000,000 souls. This year there will be more, of course.

Fortunes are being made by men and companies who and which have ridden the coat-tails of the boom, or showed the boom the way to boom. Pioneering and accident and chance have been rewarded bountifully as a considerable bulk of a great nation directs its attention to its streams, lakes, rivers and offshore waters.

* * *

Take the case of a physicist named C. G. Havens, and that of a young Austrian-American named Tom Lenk.

FIBER GLASS ROD

Dr. Havens, University of Wisconsin, was assigned during the war to the job of finding a substitute for scarce metal used in aircraft production. Conduits were his special field. In time he and his associates produced tough, light tubing made of fiber glass.

* * *

"Looks like a fishing rod," a friend remarked. He made an imaginary cast with the length of tubing. "Feels like one, too," he added.

Now for Lenk. He was making $12 a week for the Charles Garcia and Co., importing firm in New York, just before World War II. He got his citizenship papers and "greetings" about the same time.

The war took him to the Pacific as, eventually, a captain in artillery. He returned with a lot of new ideas for his firm.

So many of his buddies had declared that when the war was over they were going to confine their high adventure to fishing. Lenk foresaw a huge postwar army of Waltons.

He talked his company into (1) a pay raise and (2) importing 500 Mitchell spinning reels from France. He had fished with spinning reels in the old country and felt they would be enormously popular in the U. S.

The spinning reel is virtually fool-proof and foul-proof. Because of its method of winding the line, and the fact that the reel itself doesn't turn, there is no backlash. Lenk gave away 300 of the 500 reels, to get the thing started.

The Mitchell spinning reels Lenk imported called for very light lines. Lenk found strong, hair-thin synthetics. The reels also called for something lighter and stronger than the standard rod.

* * *

The orbits of Lenk and Dr. Havens swung together. Havens had the rod, Lenk had the reel, and the people had the yen.

Lenk now heads the Garcia Co. He has become the foremost importer of spinning gear. He also ships in lines made in Germany of playtl, agate spinning rod line-guides, and spinning lures from Sweden.

His business will reach the $5,000,000-a-year level this year. His fiber glass rods all come from Conolon, a company which grew out of Dr. Haven's' research.

That's just one case, of course. Fishing, which is about the only known endeavor in which the federal government helps supply the merchandise — the fish — meant countless millions of dollars to manufacturers of sport clothing, camping equipment, and the transportation industry in general.

Today's company executive does not send a salesman to see a hot prospect. He takes the prospect to an unexploited fishing hole, normally in the company plane, and that takes care of the selling.

FAMOUS ANGLERS

Ted Williams and Jack Sharkey are better known to fishermen through the country as fisherman than as a great ballplayer and the former heavyweight champion of the world.

If Ike (Eisenhower, not Walton) is told he cannot play golf again, he'll become a year-round fisherman and help that game as much as he did golf.

General Motors Scholarship Plan to Benefit 350 High School Seniors

Three hundred fifty high school seniors will enter college next fall with the help of General Motors scholarships.

The company also announced that compensatory grants-in-aid will be given colleges which scholarship atudents attend.

The program, started last year, is part of GM's expanding help to higher education, which in full operation will offer 1,400 scholarships every year.

About $4.5 million will be expended annually on this and other GM education programs, including operation of the General Motors Institute in Flint, according to a company report.

Of next fall's scholarships, 250 will be available directly to 146 accredited colleges and universities, 15 of which are in Michigan. The schools, in turn, will award scholarships to students in amounts from $200 to $2,000, depending upon need.

Another 100 scholarships will be available under a national plan to students who take the college entrance examination offered by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey.

Students who plan to apply must fill out application blanks for both test and scholarship. Such blanks are available from high school principals, to whom booklets describing both scholarship programs have been distributed, the company said.

But those planning to take the test in January must submit applications by Saturday, the company added.

National scholarships also range in amount from $200 to $2,000. Both types of scholarships are renewable for four years.

National scholarships will be awarded on the basis of test score, high school grades, participation in extra-curricular activities, leadership ability and recommendation by high school principal.

His Arrest Record Topped by Three

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—Jim Fillenger started it by claiming he had been arrested 161 times in 13 years.

This, the 52-year-old Huntington, W. Va., man said, is something of a record. But Ashland natives turned up some statistics of their own from police records yesterday. The score:

Fred Walters, 598 arrests since 1934 for 1,629 days in jail and fines totaling $5,619, all for misdemeanors.

John Zornes, arrested 318 times.

Fillenger was not available for comment.

Satellite Award Given to Aerojet

West Coast Fabricator to Build Second Stage Liquid Rocket Motor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States earth satellite project moved ahead yesterday with the award of a contract to the Aerojet General Corp. of Azusa, Calif., to build a liquid rocket motor for the second stage of the three-stage space vehicle.

* * *

The Glenn L. Martin company, Baltimore, Md., was previously given the contract to produce the launching part of the vehicle, which will constitute the first stage of the rocket.

The third stage, which will contain the satellite itself and its numerous instruments, will be developed and built by one or more manufacturers still to be selected.

The contract for the second stage of the vehicle was announced by the Navy, whose chief of research is in over-all charge of developing the first known man-made satellite.

The first, or launching stage of the vehicle, will consist of an improved Viking rocket for which a new and more efficient motor is now being developed by the General Electric Company.

* * *

The Navy said that the satellite itself will be launched after a sufficient number of test flights have been completed to provide reasonable assurance of success for the satellite program.

* * *

Mexican Hospital Aided

SHERMAN OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Five months ago Jerry Oppenheim, a manufacturer, went to Ensenada, Mexico, for a rest and was appalled to learn that the city's Hospital Ifantil was hampered by lack of equipment. Yesterday the hospital received $10,000 worth of medical, surgical and dental equipment.

The Sherman Oaks Lions Clubs raised the money with Oppenheim as chairman of the fund committee.

Special Group Probes on Federal Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special, bipartisan commission created by Congress meets today to organize and start an inquiry into all aspects of the government's security program.

* * *

Vice President Nixon sent out the call for the meeting Dec. 3, saying he had been requested to do so by President Eisenhower.

Nixon planned to welcome the members, drawn equally from public and private life, and then depart. He is not a member of the commission.

The commission was approved by Congress last summer. Some members of Congress expressed hope its study would help to lift the controversy over the administration's employe security program out of politics.

With this in mind, the date for the group's report was set after next year's election.

* * *

The commission's study is not confined, however, to the employe security program. It embraces all laws, presidential orders and administrative regulations relating to internal security.

As directed by Congress, Eisenhower, Nixon and Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex) each appointed four members of the commission.

Pennies Take Ton of Tin

DENVER—Two thousand pounds of tin a year have been used by the United States Government in each of the last five years in making the alloy for pennies—95 per cent copper and 5 per cent tin and zinc.

Pesky Ole Elephants

SAIGON—Elephants on Sumatra have habits highly irritating to managers of pioneering oil companies, the National Geographic Society says. Sometimes the big beasts rip up unburied oil pipes. Again, they pull down telephone wires, tangling them up like spaghetti as they scratch their backs against the poles.

Versatile Indians

WASHINGTON — The Indian of the Americas was not only a skilled farmer, astronomer, engineer, and builder of great empires. He was an orator and dramatist, a poet, a sculptor, and a skilled potter without aid of the potter's wheel, the National Geographic Society shows in a newly published book.

JUST as America knows no finer bonded bourbons, the art world knows no more beautiful decanters than the Classic Decanter for OLD GRAND-DAD and the Presentation Decanter for OLD TAYLOR.

And just as your friends would have difficulty deciding which of the two deeply mellow and richly flavorsome bourbons they would prefer, so they would be hard put to judge between the distinctive beauties of the two decanters.

If you decide to make a truly handsome gift, why not favor your best friends with both these rare bourbons in their artistically perfect decanters.

Whether you give one or both, you may be sure that you can give no more flavorsome—and welcome—bonded bourbons, nor art devise decanters in finer taste.

VA Ponders GI Loan Changes

Home Guaranty Rules Regarding Vets' Liens May Be Amended

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Administration says it is considering changing its regulations on GI home loan guaranty regarding liens or special assessments by private organizations for community-type improvements.

* * *

The agency said its regulations require that loans for purchase of real property shall be secured by a first lien on the property or estate.

A spokesman said the present VA regulations permit lenders to disregard liens for special assessments, taxes and ground rent in making GI home loans.

However, VA's general counsel ruled on Aug. 9 that this does not apply to special assessments under private agreements for community improvements which are classed as first liens.

The spokesman said VA is now considering amending the regulations to permit lenders to except such private agreement, when approval is obtained from the VA.

The spokesman said the existing regulation has created difficulty in some cities when the sale of houses to which such agreements apply is attempted under the GI home loan program.

He added that there had been some scattered instances of such agreements holding up loans on new houses, including a development in St. Louis.

Employ Unlimited Taste for Yuletide Decorations

FOR APARTMENT DWELLERS and folks with limited space are table-sized Christmas trees. Usually of spruce, they come from northern Minnesota forests and are processed to make them fire resistant. Available in various hues.

The whole idea behind Christmas decor is a matter of taste. And while there are many symbols for Christmas, you can follow your own heart and come up with a beautiful home.

* * *

There is everything from the simple red tablecloth with an evergreen centerpiece to the front lawn that depicts a range of scenes from a Christmas pageant to Snow White and the seven dwarfs.

The place to start your decor is the tree. Usually the trimmings are the familiar and happy lights, balls and tinsel. Today, however, you can add glints of silver or snow. An outfit has come up with a spray that does the job.

For under the tree: There are materials made especially to keep the pine needles from getting into the rug. One company has a decorative material that will fit under any tree and add its own colors.

If you live in an apartment with little room for a big tree, you'll find small, table-sized trees available. One tree firm puts out the miniature spruces that have been processed to make them fire resistant and truly evergreen.

One famous decorating and wrapping outfit has done a mantel with strings of paper chain. The motif is carried over from the mantel to hanging fixtures, over windows and doors. The chain also fits well as a string for the tree and links can be used to decorate packages.

A trade council has come up with a nice idea you may want to try. It's the usual evergreen and holly wreath, but this time fresh fruit and pungent spices are added. It sparks what could easily be just another wreath in the house.

Candy is more than edible and

more than simple tree decoration. One company has designed a candy mobile—a fixture of candy canes and sticks and fruit that hangs balanced delicately from wires and moves ever so slowly with the home air currents.

One place you'll be sure to decorate will be your table. Your best silver will be out. So will your best napery and china. You'll find that buffet tables tend to look flat with all the appointments lying down.

One silver outfit has come up with an idea to replace the usual candlesticks. They've used hurricane lamps on the table to give the verticle lines you need.

Regents Order Medical Survey

Possibility of Expansion at Ann Arbor Is First Consideration of Study

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan's regents have authorized studies to determine what "next steps are to be taken to meet the expected need of medical education" in Michigan.

The regents yesterday authorized University President Harlan Hatcher to make studies and surveys leading to recommendations on what expansion or new facilities would be required.

Following the meeting, President Hatcher said that the studies would reveal if the University Medical School at Ann Arbor had been expanded to its limit or if it hadn't, what form additional facilities should take.

"Can we expand further at Ann Arbor," Hatcher asked, "or is expansion indicated elsewhere? This is the question."

BASIC REQUIREMENTS

He pointed out that medical accrediting institutions require that medical centers have 300 hospital beds to each 100 students in either junior or senior classes. Michigan has 400 such students and hence requires 1,200 hospital beds. University Hospital now has 1,100 beds and Veterans Hospital, 500, making some expansion at the university possible without further hospital development.

The president indicated that the University would continue to expand its facilities and the studies would show them just how far they should go.

The regents had as guests the two regents-elect, Paul L. Adams of Sault Ste. Marie, and Eugene Power of Ann Arbor, who begin their eight-year terms in January.

They took time to applaud outgoing Regent J. Joseph Herbert, Manistique attorney, who concludes his 16-years of service as regent this month.

Adams and Power, the only Democrats on the board, replace Herbert and Kenneth Stevens, Detroit attorney, who did not seek re-election.

The faculty and regents sent messages to Herbert praising his long years of "devoted service" and pointing out "his purpose has always been to decide what, in his own judgment, is best for the university."

Regent Herbert explained that the years had been "valuable and rewarding . . . I have appreciated more than I can say, your help, friendship and tolerance."

Tourists Use Israeli Roads to Visit Shrines

JERUSALEM (AP) — Motoring in the land where Christmas began offers a variety of scenery that is probably unequalled in any other area of similar size.

* * *

The country of Israel, comprising 7,882 square miles — slightly larger than New Jersey and less than a 34th of the size of Texas — affords vistas of mountains, deserts, inland seas, most of the Mediterranean coast of the Holy Land and a wealth of historic landmarks.

Most of the 1,600 miles of modern roads are asphalted or macadamized and traffic is light. The number of privately owned automobiles in Israel totals less than 14,000 and it is a good guess that most of these have not been acquired for pleasure, but for professional needs.

Some of the new roads represent engineering feats. One is the road linking Beersheba in the Negev Desert with Sodom at the southern end of the Dead Sea, a point 1,286 feet below the level of the Mediterranean Sea.

EXPENSIVE GAS

Another achievement in road building leads from Beersheba across the desert to Elath at the northernmost tip of the Red Sea Gulf of Akaba. A third is the road that winds up Mount Tabor, the New Testament site of the Transfiguration.

Gasoline sells for 55 cents a gallon, but you have to remember that on Saturday — the Jewish Sabbath — and on Jewish holidays most of the service stations are closed. On these days there are almost no buses running, only a limited number of taxicabs operate and private car owners are requested not to drive through Orthodox areas.

The rule of the road is to keep to the right. The speed limit is 15 miles an hour in built-up areas, 45 on the open road. The Automobile Club and Touring Assn. of Israel points out that "hooting" is not allowed in builtup areas.

RENT A DRIVE YOURSELF

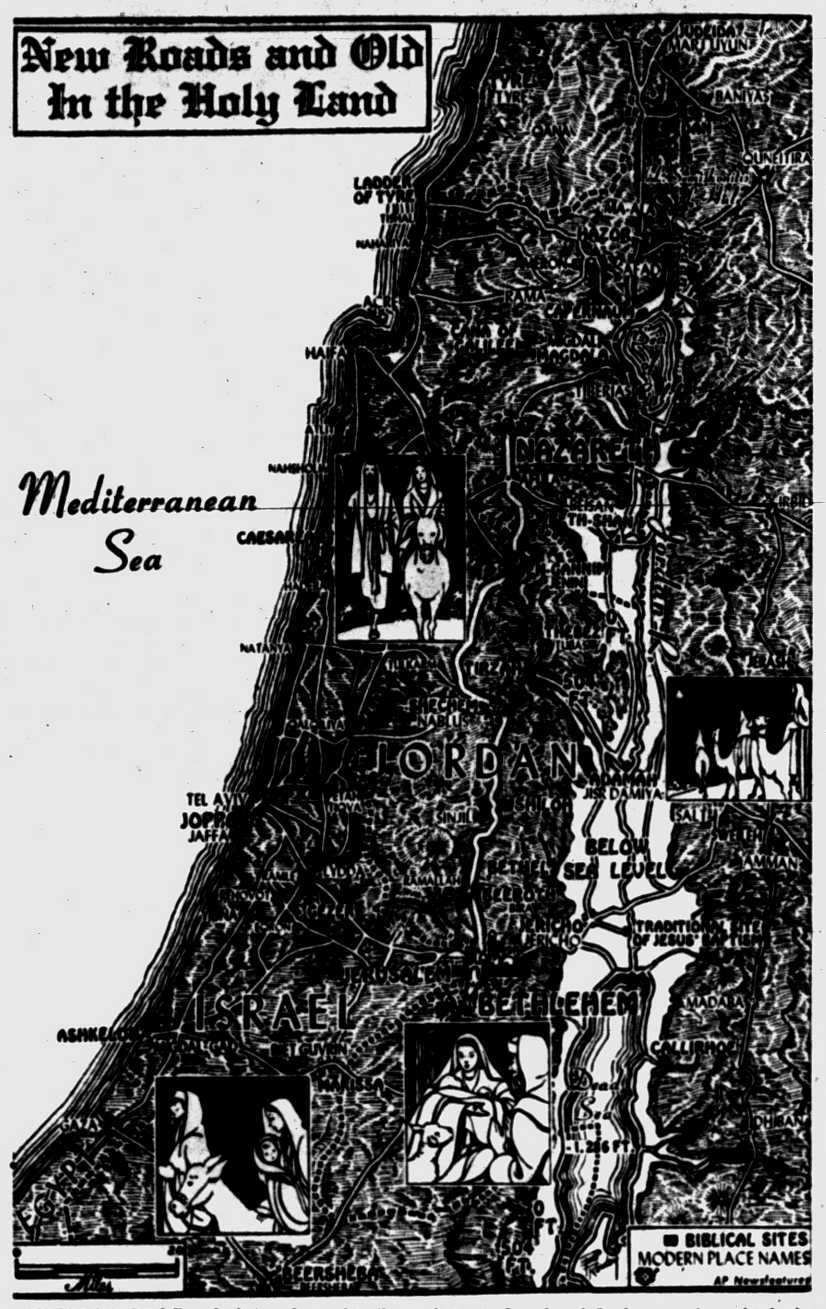

You can rent a car and drive it yourself for $5.50 a day, $36 a week, plus about $1.15 per mile covered. A chauffeur can be obtained for $5.50 a day.

You can bring your own car to the Holy Land, too, but don't forget an import license if you want to sell the car in Israel.

Although the official touring season in Israel lasts only from April to October, sunshine is enjoyed for about 340 days a year, which means that even the most of the winter is good for traveling. During the height of the short cold rainy season, a pleasantly mild climate is still to be found on the shores of the Sea of Galilee, at Sodom, or down at Elath.

* * *

"Sherut taxis" are the most popular for motor travel. "Sherut" is the Hebrew word for service. You pay as you ride, according to the seat you have and the distance. You share the taxi — usually a modern American car — with six or seven other persons during your trip, but you pay only a sixth or seventh of what the whole trip would cost otherwise.

Permits for Building Hit $265,146 in Week

Building permits totaling $265,146 in estimated cost were applied for last week at the City Hall.

Two commercial permits, one $138,000 project at Pontiac Motor Division and an $86,443 warehouse for James Vernor Co., were the highest permits applied for.

Other permits were: New family dwellings, $30,000; resident garage, $1,000; resident alterations and repairs, $5,640; tanks, $500; and miscellaneous, $3,563.

Battle on New Missiles Development Ends With Mass Resignations

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—A policy battle in Lockheed Aircraft Corp.'s Missile Systems Division, dealing with weapons of the future, has resulted in the resignation of Dr. Ernst Krause, head of the research program, and several of his top assistants.

* * *

The dispute is reported to be centered on whether the research scientists or aeronautical engineers would dominate the development of unmanned missiles, which are expected to fly beyond the earth's atmosphere at thousands of miles an hour.

A Lockheed spokesman said yesterday Krause has been replaced by Dr. Louis Ridenour, formerly of the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington.

Among those reported resigning were Dr. Montgomery H. Johnson, head of the Nuclear Physics Department, and Dr. John L. Barnes, director of the computer and controls lab. The head of the physics section, Dr. Joseph Charyk, said last night he has not yet decided whether to stay at Lockheed.

"I suffered for weeks from muscle soreness..."

And then I tried Ben-Gay", writes Mrs. Henry Super of San Francisco, Cal.: "With one application and the aid of my heating pad, the pain and soreness were relieved. After the second application, I awoke the next morning with not a sign of pain or soreness. I feel I can't praise Ben-Gay enough. I'll keep it handy always."

Countless people, like Mrs. Super, rely on Ben-Gay for fast relief from muscle aches and pains — and for good reason! Ben-Gay is different from any other pain-relieving product. It contains up to two and one half times more of two famous pain-relieving agents than any of five other widely offered rub-ins! When you rub in Ben-Gay, two things happen. First, extra blood is brought coursing up through the affected area. Second, a pain-deadening action starts instantly to bring warm, soothing relief.

Bay City Group Honors Retiring UM Regent

BAY CITY (AP)—J. Joseph Herbert of Manistique, who will leave the University of Michigan's Board of Regents at the first of the year after 16 years as a member, was honored Monday at a luncheon in Bay City.

Another citation was prepared for Kenneth M. Stevens of Detroit, another regent who is retiring at the end of this year. Stevens was not present for the ceremonies.

The social gathering was attended by Dr. Harlan Hatcher, university president, other university officials and members of the regents.

Santa Makes Two Visits to German Youngsters

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The American GI is changing some of the centuries-old Christmas traditions in Germany.

* * *

Santa Claus arrives in an Army jeep or helicopter. And, with a GI playing the role of Santa, he may bring along such presents as a cowboy suit or a coonskin cap.

Since the end of World War II, American servicemen have opened their mess halls and recreation rooms to German orphans and underprivileged children for Christmas parties. Some American units also play host to refugees from the East. Military police units collect and repair toys to give German youngsters.

COME ON HOME

In West Germany, currently enjoying a boom, everyone expects this Christmas will be the best in many years.

* * *

Sentimentally, Christmas is the year's No. 1 event for German-speaking peoples. Many of the yuletide customs were originated by their ancesters. Reputedly, it was in Germany that the idea of a Christmas tree started.

As for the German younger generation, Santa Claus makes two visits. The first is Dec 6, known as St. Nikolaus Day. On that occasion, children place their shoes outside their doors and St. Nikolaus fills them with candies, cakes and fruits. Sometimes if a child has been bad, Santa also leaves a small whip—a warning to the youngster to mend his ways.

* * *

The second visit on Christmas Eve, is the time for children to receive toys and other presents from Father Christmas (Weihnachtsmann) or the Christ Child (Christkind). As elsewhere, adults exchange presents too.

Germans observe Christmas Day much as they always have. They go to church, open their presents and have a big family dinner. Sometimes it is the only family reunion of the whole year.

* * *

The traditional main dish at dinner is goose but some prefer carp. The meal usually includes a loaf-shaped, sugar-coated cake filled with raisins, almonds and candied lemon peel.

Brazil's plastics industry increase production from 6,900,000 tons in 1951 to 11,475,000 in 1954. There are 64 plastics manufacturers in the country.

Says North Pole Route 'Ideal' for Soviet Attack

WASHINGTON (INS)—Lt. Gen. Joseph H. Atkinson, Alaskan defense commander, said that the North Pole air route would be the "ideal way" for Russia to launch any bombing attack against the U.S.

The Air Force general said in a copyrighted interview in "U.S. News & World Report" that a Russian blow delivered across the North Pole is "certainly" feasible.

Fire Fatal to Paralytic

DALLAS (AP) — A. L. Foster, 69-year-old paralyzed pensioner, was fatally burned yesterday by flames that engulfed his overstuffed invalid chair. County Fire Marshal Hal Hood said the fire apparently started when a cigarette fell from the man's lips. A 40-year-old deaf daughter attending him had stepped across the street and was unable to hear his screams.

Leaves Enrich Soil

DENVER—Fallen leaves contain relatively large amounts of valuable elements, such as nitrogen and phosphorus, which were originally part of the soil.

Decomposition of the leaves enriches the top layers of soil by returning the elements borrowed by the tree and at the same provides for an accumulation of water absorbing humus.

Production of potato chips in the U.S. has become so great that it is estimated those made in 1954 alone would fill the great Empire State building in New York to overflowing.

Assault With Auto Charge Jails Truck Driver

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An express company truck driver, May M. Grisanti, is in jail today, charged with suspicion of assault with an automobile.

Police officer Donald E. Anderson said that when he gave Grisanti a ticket he leaped into the truck, started the engine and "drove right at me."

"I shouted at him," said Anderson, "but he didn't stop. I jumped on top of him and cut the ignition."

The officer said Grisanti knocked him out of the truck but he grabbed the driver and pulled him down too, and a passer-by helped him put handcuffs on him.

Grisanti said he had been given three citations and was warned that if he got another he'd lose his driver's license and be out of a job.

Scientist Suggests Using Nuclear Power and Saving Other Fuels to Make Foods

CLEVELAND (INS)—An atomic scientist has offered this novel suggestion for meeting the world's power and food needs:

Use nuclear energy as soon as possible on a large-scale and save the fossil fuels—coal, oil and gas—to make synthetic products, including food.

* * *

He reasons the world has an ample supply of nuclear fuels for its power needs but is finding it increasingly difficult to provide balanced diets for the "exploding world population."

Dr. Clarence E. Larson, former director of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, and now vice president in charge of research, National Carbon Company, made his suggestion at the Nuclear Engineering and Science Congress now being held in Cleveland.

Dr. Larson said the "day of synthetic food is much nearer than we ordinarily assume" and added:

"Even today, at least two synthetic amino acids, lysine and methionine, are being manufacturned and sold as supplements to convert low-grade protein food, which is deficient in these amino acids, into balanced food for animal feeding.

'There is no reason why this cannot be extended to solve the problem of a balanced human diet, since it is difficult to see how uranium or thorium could be used as food, plastics or chemicals, I am sure that future generations would appreciate our switching to nuclear energy as soon as possible.

"So far as future generations are concerned, we should substitute nuclear fuel for fossil fuels as soon as possible."

Dr. Larson expressed optimism on the possibility of taming the thermonuclear reaction of the so-called hydrogen bomb and using it for peaceful purposes. He said realization of this would "provide us with an energy reserve so large as to be essentially unlimited."

GIVES EXAMPLE

To convey some idea of their power potential of controlled heavy hydrogen reactions, Dr. Larson gave this example:

"If you could visualize all the oceans of the world turned into gasoline you have a rough idea of the potential energy reserve—since there is more energy in the deuterium (heavy hydrogen) in ordinary water than you could obtain from an equivalent volume of gasoline."

Footloose? Here Are Facts on Six of the 48 States

NEW YORK (INS)—People are tallest in Texas, shortest in Rhode Island, live longest in Nebraska and are most religious in New England. California has the most beautiful scenery and Connecticut produces the most notable men.

So says John E. Gibson in an article in the current issue of a national magazine. Gibson based his findings on several recent surveys of the national character.

Dog's Death Kills Man

UTICA, N. Y. (AP)—A 71-year-old man suffered a fatal heart attack after finding his dog killed by an automobile. The cocker spaniel had been his companion for seven years. Charles F. Nolan, Sr. of nearby Marcy found the dead dog in the road near his home Monday night. He picked it up, ran home and collapsed after calling to his wife. He died a short time later.

Dazzling Party Clothes Reflect the Holiday Mood

Pontiac Press Photos

MRS. FRED HAYES

Local women have chosen holiday party dresses that will take them to the most elegant affairs during this festive season. There's emphasis on glittering metallic silks threaded with gold and silver, and colors are as bright as a maharajah's jewel chest. Rhinestones, crystals, pearls and sequins add to the glitter of the season. (For story describing gowns, see page 36.)

Coming of First Child Presents the Biggest Test of Marriage Strength

(This is the third of five articles presenting the most up-to-date information available from dozens of America's top marriage experts offering invaluable tips on all phases of marriage.)

By EDWIN DIAMOND
INS Science Writer

Marriages move along at different speeds. There is the "friendly jog trot" and there is the "zooming roller coaster."

Which is yours?

* * *

Social scientist Robert Lynd described the "jog trot" marriage in his book "Middletown," a monumental study of American life in an average Indiana town. He observed the marriages of Middletowners and wrote:

"It seems to amble along at a friendly jog trot marked by the sober accommodation of each partner to his or her share of the joint undertaking of children, paying off the mortgage and generally getting on."

What about the zooming roller coaster marriage? It is anything but ambling—high peaks of pleasure at one moment and depths of anger the next.

In some marriages the journey at the top of the roller coaster may be sustained a little longer but, just when the couple begins to enjoy the view, comes the fast descent.

'ACCOMMODATION'

How is the "jog trot" achieved? For Lynd the key word is "accommodation." Other marriage experts use different terminology to express the same basic idea:

* * *

After the first adjustments to marriage — sexually, emotionally and money-wise — the coming of the first child presents the biggest test of the strength of the marriage and the maturity of the husband and wife.

* * *

It represents a challenge that proves too much for some couples. But for others it is the culmination of marriage.

Prof. Burgess, who has been studying some 1,000 couples through the marriage-family cycle for the last 20 years, now is re-interviewing the couples for a third time.

* * *

He talked to them first before marriage, a second time after the honeymoon and "settling - down" period and now he is studying their marital adjustments in the middle years—17 to 19 years after the wedding.

PATTERNS SEEN

While the study is not yet over, certain tentative patterns can be detected.

* * *

Children, for example, are listed by many couples as their greatest source of happiness in marriage; other couples say children are one of their persistent sources of friction. Miss Gloria Count, an interviewer on the Burgess project, explained it this way:

"Logically, there are three possibilities when the child comes—it can bring the husband and wife closer together, pull them apart or make no difference.

"The most common feeling expressed about children appears to be that they bring the couple closer together. The reasons cited are many—the wife feels the fulfillment of her role, the baby is a joy itself and provides both husband and wife with a mutual goal to work toward.

"When parents say their children have brought them unhappiness, it usually can be traced to parental disagreement over how the child should be raised."

FIGURES CITED

Census Bureau statistics confirm the solidifying role of children in marriage. In a report on the percentage of divorces between couples with children and couples without children, the bureau showed:

The remainder, or 56 per cent, were decrees given couples without children.

The experts like to stress the importance of preparing for the child to make the new family event a happy one. "Expectant fathers" are needed as well as "expectant mothers."

Alma H. Jones of the American Institute of Family Relations in Los Angeles believes both parents should prepare for baby. She offers these suggestions for being full-time parents:

1—Before baby comes, parents should do a great deal of learning about baby care. That's a good time to combine resources and harmonize viewpoints.

2—The mother-to-be needs affectionate, encouraging support, including some "mothering," during the period of pregnancy.

* * *

Following birth of the baby, many hospitals offer training courses for both father and mother. While mother is holding baby for the first time, father may be in another wing of the hospital learning how to handle the infant with the aid of doll models.

FATHER'S COURSE

At Chicago's Lying-In Hospital, a typical father's course teaches diapering, bathing and burping techniques. Lectures on the health and emotional development of both mother and child are included.

Dr. Chamis, of the Association for Family Living, Chicago, likes to stress that the manner in which parents meet their responsibilities will influence several marriages.

Of course, there is the parents' own marital happiness. In addition, there is the strong presumption that the person with memories of a happy home life in childhood is more likely to find success in his own marriage.

Dr. Chamis was asked what makes a good parent—here are his views:

"First of all, there is no magic formula for the good parent. Rather, there are many different ways to be a good parent.

"There is the person who looks too long and too hard for the idyllic and the perfect in any arrangement. Then if something goes wrong—however minor—the roof falls in. This exploding parent leaves much to be desired.

* * *

"I would advise parents, first, remember that the range of normal ability is great. Many kinds of child behavior that parents worry about and consider to be abnormal is really normal and average.

"But the parents, too close to the situation to discern its similarity to any general pattern, assume things are wrong.

"Secondly, I would say to parents: Don't promote sibling rivalry (rivalry between sisters and brothers.)

* * *

DANGER IN BOOKS

"Certainly it is all right to raise him 'by the book' but there is a danger in reading books for specific information and applying it narrowly to the child.

* * *

"Thirdly, I would say develop a good sense of humor. Don't be a rigid parent with the compulsion to seek perfection for your son or daughter.

"Some parents aspire quite high for their children—he is going to go to college, top his class, become a doctor or famous lawyer, they will think—but not all of us are suited for college or medicine. Start pushing a child and that's where the problems begin."

* * *

Experts say that if read intelligently, the books can be helpful to parents. The association publishes a pamphlet list priced nominally at five cents covering the major areas of child care.

Pamphlets are selected for listing on the basis of simplicity, soundness and usability. They fall into such categories as:

* * *

OTHER SUBJECTS

* * *

The child starts to school—developing moral values, helping children to read better, guide to good manners.

Adolescence—dating days, sex education, courtship, emotional problems of growing up.

Which Is Best, Bonus or New Job?

By ANNE HEYWOOD

This time of year, one of the remarks I hear most frequently is: "I plan to change my job, but I'm waiting until after the first of the year because I don't want to miss the Christmas bonus." This doesn't make as much good sense as it might appear to.

* * *

Even aside from the matter of ethics—whether you have a right to grab the bonus and then run—it is all too often a case of cheating yourself.

By waiting until the first of the year, you are putting yourself in the same category as a huge group of people who are doing the same thing. So, by January, the competition for the good jobs is terrific.

*

You may have to settle for something much less than you hoped for and at a smaller salary. Therefore, the bonus is not all profit.

* * *

You might make out better financially, in the long run, by changing jobs in December when the competition is less and when you can perhaps get a much larger salary.

FEWER APPLICANTS

The fact is, many good openings come up in December, when there is usually a dearth of good applicants willing to change.

* * *

Then, too, everything about job hunting is more pleasant in December than in January. The employer with a good job is desperate to fill it and welcomes you warmly.

The Christmas spirit is in the air and your job interviews will reflect it.

If you use an employment agency, you will find them much less busy in December so that they have more time to give you the individual attention you crave.

They, too, are members of the human race and have only 24 hours a day! And those hours are not nearly so packed with applicants in December as they are in January.

CONSCIENCE TWINGE

And lastly, when you know you are going to change jobs, it is much better to get it out of the way before the holidays than to have it hanging over your head at Christmas.

And even the most hard-boiled person does suffer an occasional twinge of conscience if she takes a Christmas bonus when she knows that she's going to fly the coop shortly thereafter.

Furthermore, a twingy conscience may make you drag your anchor when you do go job hunting in January and keep you from making the really good impression you want to make.

(Copyright 1955)

Add finely diced celery and grated carrot to canned deviled ham and use as a sandwich filling. A little grated onion and lemon juice may also be added to point up flavor.

The Junior League of Birmingham sponsored a Christmas party for the handicapped of Oakland County Saturday at the Cranbrook Institute of Science. Mrs. J. S. Riccardi (center) of the Birmingham Motor Corps was in charge of transporting the guests to the party. Steve Staich of Inkster and Shirley Carter of Detroit were among the party guests.

8th Grade Teacher Considers Makeup in Poor Taste

By EMILY POST

The following letter comes from an eighth-grade teacher who tells me: "The ages of my pupils range from 12 to 14. Some of the girls have started to wear lipstick to school. I think it is in very bad taste and at the risk of becoming very unpopular with my pupils I have made the girls remove it.

"I said that I didn't care what they did outside school but that I would not have them wearing it to class. Don't you think it is improper for girls this age to wear lipstick to school, and am I right in asking them to remove it?"

Answer: I thoroughly agree with you!

"Dear Mrs. Post: My father-in-law is deceased and my husband was asked to give his sister in marriage. After walking up the aisle with her he took his place next to his mother in the first pew.

"An elderly aunt of my husband's also sat in the front pew with his mother. I was seated in the fourth pew.

"Am I wrong in assuming that I should have been asked to sit in the front pew with my husband and his mother, or that my husband should have at least taken his place beside me after walking up the aisle with his sister?"

Answer: Although your mother-in-law might have invited you to sit with her in the first pew, this would have been very unusual. Also, as your husband was taking the place of his father, on this one special occasion it was in no way belittling to you for him to sit next to his mother.

"Dear Mrs. Post: when leaving the movies or theater, does the man carry the woman's coat up the aisle for her to the lobby and then assist her in putting it on, or does she carry it herself and he merely help her put it on?"

Answer: The correct as well as the most practical thing would be for her to be helped into it where she is and wear it up the aisle.

Builders' Class Elects Officers

Mrs. Carson Fall is the new president of the Builders' Sunday School Class of the Evangelical United Brethren Church. She was elected at the Saturday meeting of the class at the home of the Philip Waldies on Earlemoor boulevard.

Others elected to head the group were Richard Hoban, vice president; Mrs. George Hankala, secretary, and Mrs. Kenneth Walker, treasurer.

The Rev. Myron Everett conducted the elections which preceded the group's Christmas party. Plans were made to pack a Christmas basket for a needy family.

"Bright girl, my Betsy!"

I just can't get over the marvelous way my Betsy outsmarts her housework. Take wood floors for instance. I hear other wives complain about all the scrubbing and waxing they have to do. But not my Betsy! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. Why, she's through in half the time and fresh as a daisy! And our beautiful wood floors are always getting compliments. My Betsy and her Bruce Cleaning Wax sure make small work of a big job. I'm mighty proud of both of them.

Inane Giggling Signifies Self-Consciousness

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

It doesn't take much to start you off. You and your girl friend can giggle over practically anything. And once started it's like a bout of hiccups.

Her wide-open mouth, tearful eyes, heaving shoulders and hysterical squeals are contagious. You can't stop giggling for looking at her. And she keeps it up because of you. A bucket of cold water is the easiest way to end the session.

Infectious giggling like that happens now and then and is painful but forgivable. It's something else again when a girl giggles all by herself and at practically nothing.

That's a nervous habit that calls for rigid self-control. Drastic measures are indicated. As in this girl's case.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Whenever I speak to people I only know slightly I get nervous and either smile or giggle during most of the conversation. I laugh at practically anything anybody says, whether it's funny or not.

"And if I'm standing up I seem to bounce with excitement. A 15-year-old girl ought to know better—but I can't seem to stop this foolishness. Have you any suggestions?"

Answer: Giggling over everything you hear—funny or not—comes from the habit of thinking a great deal about yourself. Your nervous titters with people who are a bit strange to you come from working too hard at the impression you're trying to make on them.

In trying to be appreciative, you smirk and laugh instead of saying something appropriate. In trying to put yourself over, you get the jitters—and all that happens is an explosion of pointless laughter.

Stop thinking about your own reactions and the way you're behaving and work up a big interest in the people who are talking to you—what they say, how they feel, what they think. It's thinking out instead of thinking in.

Look straight at them. Listen with both ears. Let them make their impression on you. That isn't a laughing matter. Try to make people feel warm and at ease when they're with you.

Be a very interested audience. You'll forget to giggle—and will laugh out of sheer exuberance when there's something really funny to laugh about.

The bouncing is also pent-up steam from concentrating on what you think and feel. It ties you up inside and keeps you from being calm and collected.

Do a lot of sitting still with your hands in your lap. Head for a chair or a step when you feel a bounce coming on. Rigidly discipline yourself to hold steady — while you concentrate hard on what's going on around you.

It's being overly conscious of yourself that does the damage. Try shifting the emphasis to other people, and watch yourself calm down.

Carry Orderly Handbag

The possibly useful items, such as buttons and phone bill receipts, should be filed where they may be needed.

• • •

The real everyday necessities that have a logical place in a handbag should be organized.

Many women who carry big bags because they need the space find that a French clutch purse is a big help.

It's about the size of a change purse, but has several sections; one for coins, another for charge plates, driver's license and a space that opens out for bills.

This kind of a purse-within-a-purse makes it possible to get out change for the bus without rummaging in the bottom of the big handbag. It's easy to get out in a hurry.

The further necessities can be housed in matching leather containers. They're durable and can be bought to match, which is a big help to the appearance of the interior of the tote.

A cigarette case is important to keep crumbs of tobacco out of the handbag and to keep the cigarettes from crushing.

A matching leather-covered lighter eliminates the bunches of matchbooks from the handbag. A key case makes the needed keys easy to find by sense of feel. An eyeglasses case keeps glasses from getting dusty and scratched.

Louise Is Pawn in Parental Feud

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

In a department store one Saturday morning this winter, Mrs. Kirby said to her high school freshman, "Either the suit or the topper — but you can't have both. Which is it to be?"

Louise chose the new topper.

* * *

But she has not stuck by her own decision. Instead, "daddy's girl" Louise has been promoting the suit so wheedlingly to her father that he's brought up the subject with his wife several times to her increasing irritation.

The other night he mentioned it again. And Mrs. Kirby, flinging her dish towel passionately to the kitchen table, cried out, "How can I discipline the children if you insist on undermining everything I say?"

Was her passion pure concern for Louise as an undisciplined child? Of course not. A lot of it was concern for herself as a victim of Mr. Kirby's urge to do people favors that he cannot afford.

This shortcoming of his has often hurt her. In the second year of their marriage, Mr. Kirby lost all their savings through an unwise loan to a business friend. When Louise was born, she had to stay in the hospital for an extra week until an acquaintance of his could dig up the money he'd borrowed.

All last year she pinched pennies to buy her father a hearing aid, only to discover that her husband had spent twice the sum on an expensive TV set for his parents.

INDIRECT FIGHT

So when she fights his indulgence as a father, she is really fighting his extravagance as a person—and the many hurts it has inflicted on her.

* * *

Parents' arguments over children's discipline seldom concern the children. Time and again, we fight our spouse's treatment of a child to protest a fault in him with which we ourselves are still in conflict.

Our failure to recognize this is unfortunate. For the bitterness aroused in us by our own discouraging experience with the fault infuses our argument — and gives the child the idea that he has the power to cause discord between his parents.

That's not good for him. It gives him delusions of grandeur. Poor Louise, for example, imagines herself to be the special beloved of her father when in fact, dislike for saying "No" to anyone's just been indulging his old one.

We all have character flaws. If we do not wish to divorce a spouse, it seems sensible to accept his character flaws. Mrs. Kirby can't solve Mr. Kirby's urge to appear generous—but she can refuse to be influenced by it.

If she did, relinquishing her secret wish to reform him, bitterness toward his fault would leave her — and wipe away her daughter's delusion that her mother is her enemy.

Mrs. Nichols Bakes Fowl in Butter

Mustard and Salt Rubbed on Chicken Before Cooking

Chicken is such an excellent buy these days that most of us will be having it on our tables often. When next you prepare a fryer, why not try Mrs. Erwin Nichols' way of baking it? We think you will like this method for a change.

Occasionally Mrs. Nichols spends a day practicing her profession of nursing. But the majority of her days are spent caring for her small son and daughter.

BAKED CHICKEN
By Mrs. Erwin Nichols

2½ pound frying chicken, cut in pieces
½ cup melted butter or margarine
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard
Paprika
Dash of pepper

Combine dry ingredients. Brush chicken with half the melted butter or margarine and half the other mixture. Place in shallow baking dish, skin side up. Bake 30-35 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Turn. Cover with butter and condiment mixture. Bake another 30-35 minutes, or until brown.

HOLIDAY GLAMOUR

Let's have fun . . . for the holiday season. Do at least one thing that you have long wanted to, but didn't dare. If your hair is white or grey, use a little extra bluing. Under artificial light it will be dramatic. If you use a little lacquer, sprinkle on a bit of glitter before it dries. If your hair is red, there is green and gold stardust to make you sparkle. For blondes and brunettes, use a shade to complement your dress. Have you ever wished you had the courage to try doe eyes . . . now is the time. Apply eye shadow on the outer half of the upper lid. Eyeshadow may complement the eyes or harmonize with the dress. Dresses Match Season's Glitter and Sparkle

Pontiac Women to Don Elegant Yule Ensembles

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE

It's party-time again—and the season for dazzling dress-up clothes that sparkle under crystal candelabra or shimmer 'round the Christmas tree.

* * *

This year party fashions look pretty spectacular, radiating the sheen of bright satins, the sparkle of lavish jeweled or metallic embroideries, and the drama of Oriental silks.

There's a great deal of emphasis on glittering metallic silks threaded with gold and silver, satin brocades, thin sari silks, cobwebby gauzes and organdies for late-day through to grander-than-grand ballgowns.

Jewels decorate every kind of surface, intensifying the electricity of holiday clothes. Rhinestones, crystals, gems, pearls or bugle beads gleam on bodices and midriffs, and fur and feather touches add a fabulous note to holiday clothes.

WANDERING HEMS

And hemlines are where you find them—at the ankle, just above, or a new intermediate length called "intermission" that rests low on the calf. Skirts swing out wide or allow for no more than a hobble movement.

* * *

Yes, it's the holiday season when everyone talks about fancy clothes with lots of razzle-dazzle. Still there is the tender, romantic mood set by such designers as Karen Stark (for Harvey Berin.)

Mrs. John J. Marra of Lake Orion has chosen one such gown for the holiday season. Of pure silk in beige tones, the long torso is emphasized by the very full skirt. To accent this Harvey Berin delight, Mrs. Marra wears a white ermine ascot and half hat.

* * *

PETTICOAT SHOWS

The pink taffeta petticoat which dares to show through is as lovely as the gown. Rhinestones are used as the proper glitter for the gown.

* * *

Hip drapery of pure chiffon gives the dress the bouffant look, yet it is as slim as a reed. Tiny pearls and rhinestones glitter through the lace, and the tightly fitted bodice does for the figure just what every woman wants a dress to do.

These gowns were purchased in Pontiac stores and there are many more dresses to choose from for this once-a-year party-going time.

Ask Approval of $300,000 Supplement

LAKE ORION—Property owners in the Lake Orion Community School District are being asked to approve a $300,000 bond issue to complete and furnish the new high school and the planned elementary additions voted last May. Voting is to be held Monday, Dec. 19, from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m.

* * *

This issue, which is to supplement the $1,500,000 bond issue approved last spring, has the complete endorsement of the Citizens' Advisory Committee which made the initial survey and recommendations. Its purpose is to cover an approximate 20 per cent increase in construction costs since the preparation of original estimates last winter.

Faced wtih bids averaging one-fifth over the alloted funds, the Board of Education recalled the Advisory Committee, and submitted several alternatives for their study.

Rather than curtail any further the minimum plans for the new construction, or eliminate the plans for relief in the elementary grades, the committee urged the board to accept the low bids on the high school, get planning under way for the grade school additions, and then ask the voters to approve the necessary additional bond issue.

PROGRAM VITAL

With a large number of high school students already on part-time schedules because of overcrowding, and the elementary grades threatened with half-day sessions, a full scale construction program is vitally important, board members advise.

Contracts for the general construction, mechanical and electrical work on the new high school have now been awarded, and grading at the site is already well under way.

Plans for elementary additions at Carpenter and Webber Schools have been drawn up by the architects, and submitted to the board for approval.

* * *

Financed over a 25-year period by an additional 1¼ mill tax, based on present valuation, the proposed bond issue will cover the remaining construction costs, as well as furnishings and equipment for the new buildings.

HOLLY—At least 20 floats will appear in the annual Chamber of Commerce Christmas parade here on Saturday. It will be over a mile long, and will assemble at Booth's Corners, passing through the village at 2:30 o'clock.

Prizes aggregating over $100 will be given for the best floats in line. There also will be clown acts and carolers will sing throughout the village.

Robert Robertson, chairman of the day, announces that preliminary to the parade and other festivities the children will be guests at a special program at the Holly Theater, through the courtesy of its managers, Mr. and Mrs. Aram Krikorian.

Fund Campaign Ends Tomorrow

Romeo-Almont Hospital Drive Seeks $100,000 in Goal

The amount set for the construction of the 30-bed hospital is $350,000. To date $250,000 has been raised, a hospital spokesman said today.

The difficulties encountered by the loss of campaign offices and records in the recent fire have caused some delay in the campaign. This may necessitate further action at the meeting tomorrow night, according to latest reports.

State May Take Wayne Into Fold

Williams Study Group Suggests Detroit School Leave City Control

LANSING (AP)—A study commission appointed by Gov. Williams recommended today that the state take over Wayne University, now owned by the Detroit Board of Education.

* * *

The commission proposed the state "progressively assume the support" of the Detroit institution over a three-year period and finally assume full operation in the 1959-60 fiscal year.

Under this suggestion, the Legislature would appropriate $3,239,633 in the next fiscal year, or about one-third of the school's operating cost; $6,479,266 in the 1957-58 fiscal year and $9,718,900, the full operating cost, in the 1958-59 fiscal year.

The commission also proposed the university be operated by an enght-man board of trustees appointed by the Governor—four to be from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties. It opposed suggestions that the university be tied administratively to other state institutions.

* * *

The commission argued that before 1960 about 20 million dollars must be spent at Wayne to meet increasing enrollments.

* * *

The commission said its proposed financing plan would bring the state an educational plant more than 40 million dollars.

Township Postpones Light Installation

Planned installation of lights in a passageway below M59 between Donelson and St. Benedict Schools has been delayed pending construction of shelters at each end, Waterford Township Supervisor Lloyd Anderson said today.

The township has experienced difficulty in finding money to construct the shelters, Anderson explained. Officials would allow closing off the underpass at night to prevent breakage or theft of the lights.

"However, we hope to get the project completed within 30 days," he added.

Forgery Spree Ends

PORT HURON (AP)—Herbert C. Sneed, 31, of Windsor, Ont., was sentenced to 13 months to two years in Southern Michigan Prison Tuesday for forgery. Sneed, arrested in Port Huron, Nov. 11, admitted passing forged checks totaling $1,000 in Marshall, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids and Port Huron, police said. Circuit Judge Edward T. Kane, who passed sentence, said following his release, Sneed faces similar charges in Windsor, Sarnia, Essex, Wallaceburg and Chatham, Ont.

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — The city's $350,000 bridge over the Ox Creek Valley in East Benton Harbor will be opened for public use Dec. 22. Construction has been under way since last June.

Saturday Party for Post Youth

To Be Held at Oakland Lake Legion Home for 200 Children

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Mrs. Theodore Salkeld, chairman of junior activities for Chief Pontiac 377 Auxiliary, has announced a Christmas party for children of members of the post and auxiliary this Saturday, from 2 to 4 p.m.

* * *

The event will be held at the American Legion Home, Oakland Lake. Two hundred young guests are expected to attend.

At a recent meeting of the auxiliary, Mrs. Joseph Charter announced the purchase of gifts for men at the Dearborn Veterans Hospital. The group will also give a veteran's family a Christmas basket.

The auxiliary recently purchased a new wheel chair and lift in conjunction with the post for a boy with distrophy who outgrew the chair given him some years ago.

Mrs. Joseph Phillips, Americanism chairman, reported the presentation of Flags to the graduation class of new citizens.

* * *

Board of Education Plans School in Troy

TROY — The Troy Board of Education met last night for their regular meeting. Many pros and cons were voiced on plans for the new school.

Stewart K. Baker, superintendent of Troy schools, said "We want a simple, conventional, and functional type of building with good lighting control. We hope to be able to know the cost of all the equipment by the middle of January."

A site of 10 acres to be purchased from Fields and Associates will cost $14,500.

The board approved Baker's recommendation to purchase an eye testing machine that a technician can operate and do eye screening twice as fast.

Gideons and Auxiliary to Observe Christmas

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The Pontiac Camp of Gideon and Auxiliary will meet for a Christmas party at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Simmons, 5263 Clinton River Dr.

There will be an exchange of Christmas gifts.

Take Action to Save Fruit

ROMEO — Action is being taken now to protect the half million dollar fruit industry in the Romeo area, according to an announcement made today.

* * *

Bulldozers have begun knocking down neglected trees on 167 acres in the two large subdivided orchards here. Under the direction of Clyde Smith of Oxford the eradication program was initiated following a survey of the new subdivisions by Smith and his partner, Robert Sheffler of Benton Harbor. They counted the number of untended trees, contacted lot owners and received approval before the removal program began.

This action stems from an investigation of neglected orchards by a fruit inspection team in September. State horticultural specialists and neighboring orchard men agreed with local fruit growers that a program had to be set up immediately to protect the 1956 fruit crop.

Some 50 lot owners and fruit growers met at the Romeo High School last night to hear further details on the tree removal program. Tom Bowerman, president of the Macomb county fruit committee, acted as master of ceremonies. He showed a map of the area indicating producing and abandoned orchards. He and fellow committee members continued by explaining the damage done by the codling moth and apple maggot in the uncared for areas.

OWNERS HAUL TREES

The group then heard Dean Lovett, Bureau of Plant Industry, Michigan Department of Agriculture state that the department "has removed slightly over one million trees in the fruit belt in the western part of the state." He added that a legislative appropriation is set up annually to handle the expense of the tree removal program.

He reported that bulldozers come in, knock the trees down and cover the holes but that it is up to the property owner to have the trees cut up and hauled away.

Announcement was made by Macomb County Agricultural Agent Jack Prescott of the winter fruit school to be held periodically during January and February at Romeo High School. The lectures and demonstrations will cover the problems of fertilizing, mulching, insect control, grading, pruning and spraying. The classes will be free and open to fruit growers and owners who agree to care for the trees on their lots in the new subdivisions.

Santa Will Still Visit

PORT HURON (AP)—Santa Claus still will visit the Walter Kuyda family this year. Flames leveled the Smiths Creek home of the Kuyda's Monday night, destroying clothes, furniture and other belongings — including Christmas presents for their five children from 1 to 11 years old. But citizens are appealing for community donations of clothing and other presents. The family has been taken in by neighbors. Kuyda estimated his loss at $10,000.

Progress Group Slates Planning Session Tonight

ROCHESTER — The Executive Board of the Rochester Progress Committee met on Tuesday night for the purpose of making plans for a much larger meeting of the entire "Rochester Progress Committee" tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the village council chambers.

The executive session met to formulate the presentation of an educational program to the committee as a whole and to the electorate in general. Detailed information is to be provided for everyone concerned in the changeover to a city form of government.

Preparations are being made to inform residents of outlying areas about becoming a part of the city of Rochester.

According to a spokesman for the committee, "The true facts shall be divulged. The two-party system will cease in local government and the new City of Rochester will have a voice in county government through two supervisors with responsibility to the city only. The village has never had a direct voice in county affairs, and therefore does not need government by two separate bodies."

The Rochester Progress Committee consists of over a hundred citizens, spearheaded by most of the members of the present Village Council. A voting date is expected to be announced in the near future, to determine the "Yes or No" factor.

Village Manager Robert Slone, says, "The development for this area is not in the future. It is upon us today—at this time! The time has come when these areas needing municipal services must become a part of us."

DUE AT WATERFORD — Some 800 members of the Waterford Township Civic Music Assn. are scheduled to attend the first concert Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Isaac E. WILD AND WOOLLY — Pioneer togs go with this chuck wagon set for young devotees of the frontier life. Cans of real pork and beans, and other rugged foods are ready for the pans.

Children's Pioneer Outfits Dominate Gift Preference

* * *

The whirlwind revival of the coonskin cap has sparked a tremendous demand by the small fry for a wide variety of pioneer costumes and accessories with almost as many girls as boys appearing to be enthusiastic about playing range rider.

The lure of the pampas has caused the hobby horse to change into a trio of Palomino steeds, including stallion, mare and colt, geared to gallop or trot in small space—all within the playroom.

Elaborate detail in frontier style carbines and pistols is shown in this season's toys.

* * *

Chuck wagons in all sizes come equipped with frontier style cooking equipments. One chuck wagon includes cans of soup, pork and beans and spaghetti, as well as campers' kettle and gear and a cook book of range riders' favorite recipes.

You can even get a frontier-style cabin made out of fiberboard. Velocipedes carry saddles and saddlebags.

Burning Yule Log Is Pagan Rite to Sun God Mithra

PALMER LAKE, Colo. (INS) — The tiny Colorado mountain community of Palmer Lake will renew again this year a Christmas ceremony that traces its origin to early Medieval days.

* * *

The colorful ceremony is the annual search for the yule log which this year begins Dec. 18—one week before Christmas.

Centuries before the birth of Christ, the festivities were held in midsummer and on Dec. 25, in honor of the pagan sun god, Mithra, of Egypt and ancient Persia.

In later years, the early Christian fathers turned the pagan ceremony into part of observance of the feast of the nativity.

TRUMPET BLAST

Promptly at 1:30 p.m., a trumpet will blast, and many of Palmer Lake's 263 citizens will start the search for the yule log for the 23rd consecutive year.

The search will end when one of the participants finds the log—identified by a notch cut in one end and a hempen cord on the other. The reward for the finder of the log is a free ride back to town on it while, of course, the log is being pulled by the losers.

At town hall, the log will be cut in half and each piece carried into the building by children. One half the log will be burned with kindling from the Yule log from the preceding year. The other half will be placed beside the hearth until the next year.

RECITE ANCIENT RHYME

During the burning ceremony, children recite an ancient rhyme in unison and pass around wassail bowls containing spiced, steaming hot fruit cider. First to be served is the person who found the log.

During the early medieval days, the custom was celebrated in England by burning the log in the local castle with much merry-making and feasting.

The ceremony was adopted in Palmer Lake in 1923 at the suggestion of Miss Lucretia Vaile and the Rev. Evalena Macy, pastor of the Little Log Church.

* * *

* * *

Those who prefer not to brave the frequently deep snow in the search usually remain at the town hall in Palmer lake to listen to music and the Christmas story and sing carols.

U.S. Imports Increase

Commercial imports brought into the United States during the first six months of 1955 totaled 5½ billion dollars, an increase of 5 per cent over the first half of 1954. Principal gains were in petroleum, crude rubber, lumber, and textile products. Coffee imports, however, declined 13 per cent.

School buses account for about 70 per cent of the annual U. S. bus output.

GM and GM Dealers

He's not an apprentice. Far from it. He's a veteran of many years.

But he's going to school to catch up with the engineers who designed and built the cars he services.

This mechanic might be from the service department of any one of some 18,000 dealers who sell General Motors cars and trucks.

He is going to school in one of the 30 model new Training Centers, just completed by General Motors—and spread across America from coast to coast.

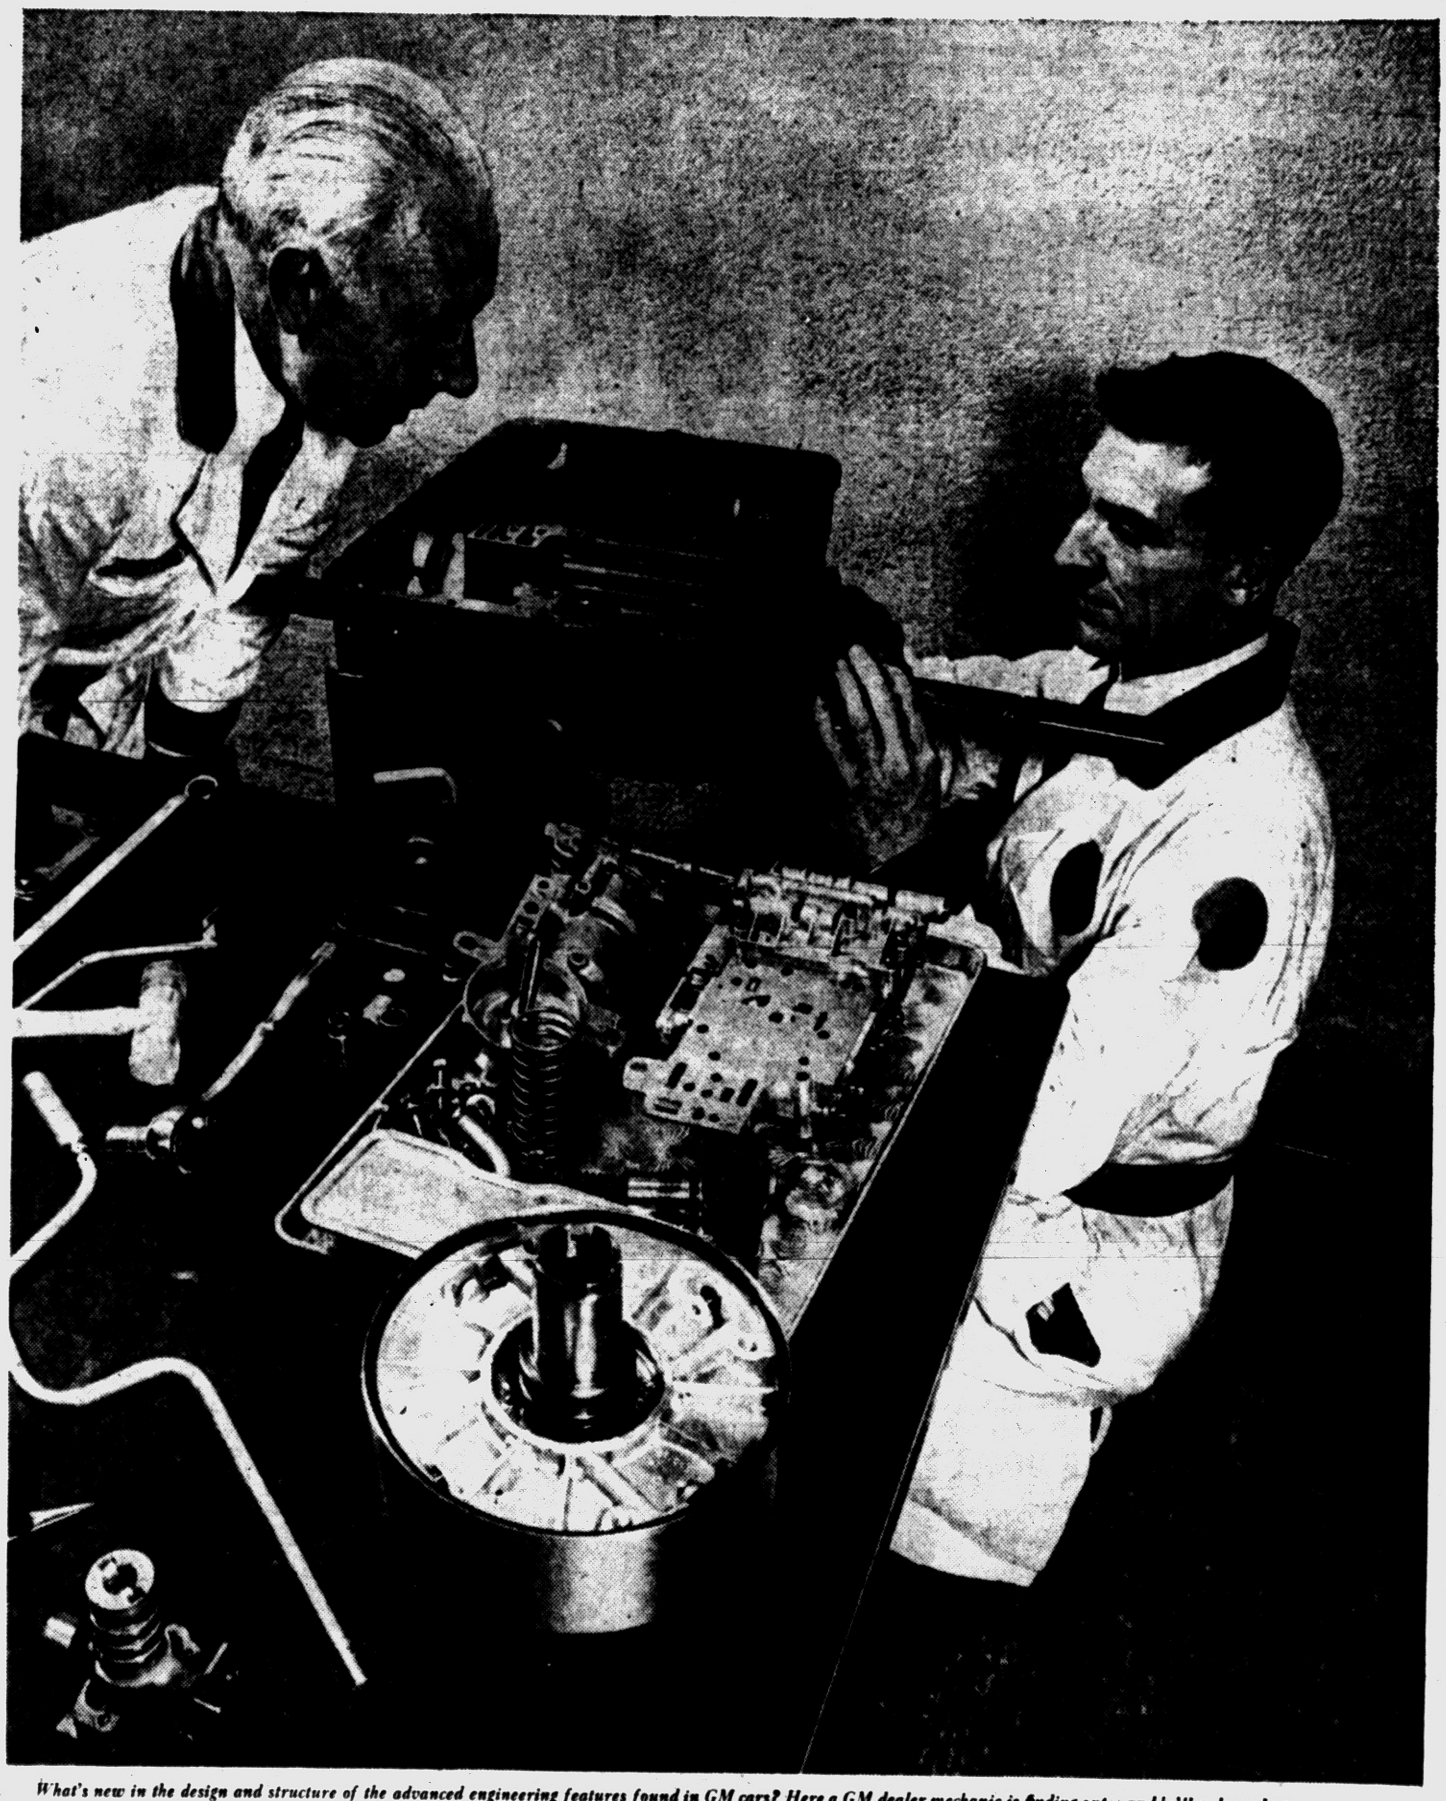

He's learning about a long list of advanced engineering features of General Motors cars—what makes them tick—how they're built—how to take them apart and put them together.

He's also learning how to use the new tools, specifically developed by General Motors engineers, to do these new jobs with the greatest of ease.

This, we believe, is a good example of what GM and GM car dealers are accomplishing together.

We supply the training—they supply the mechanics—and thousands of their mechanics are doing a more skillful job because of this combination.

Our responsibility is to the buyers of our cars and the dealers who sell them. GM dealers' responsibility is to service the millions of cars they sell each year so competently that their customers—and ours—will come back for more.

What's new in the design and structure of the advanced engineering features found in GM cars? Here a GM dealer mechanic is finding out—and he'll go home better able to do a fine job—better able to do his job of servicing Chevrolets—or Pontiacs—or Oldsmobiles—or Buicks—or Cadillacs—or Fisher Bodies—or GMC Trucks.

Star Bowlers Continue Pace in Semi-Finals

Detroit Pair Leading 46 Hopefuls Striving for Final Berths

CHICAGO (AP) — All-Star bowling hopefuls, 46, in each of the men's and women's divisions who survived the first four days of grueling competition today continue their strike barrage in the semi-finals for the 14 final berths in each section.

* * *

Leading the fields are a couple of Detroit veterans, Ray Lubanski and Dolores Wroblewski, who are familiar to All-Star fans.

Lubanski is in front in the men's division with a 24-game total of 5,105, a 61-pin edge over a fellow townsman, Tom Hennessey, who has 5,044.

* * *

Miss Wroblewski doesn't have quite as comfortable a margin with her 3,096 for 16 games, which is only 14 pins ahead of Doris Porter of Los Angeles. Miss Porter has 3,082.

Both the men and women will engage in a double semifinal round. The men keglers will roll 12 games and the women 8 after which the high 14 scorers in each division, plus the first four-day pinnage, will gain the finals.

* * *

The 14 will be joined in the head-to-head match play starting tomorrow by the four seeded stars, including the two defending champions, Steve Nagy, Cleveland, and Sylvia Wene, Philadelphia. The other two are Don Carter, St. Louis and Mrs. Marion Ladewig, of Grand Rapids, Mich., both former titleholders.

Flores Widow Wins Law Suit

Awarded $80,000 for Death of Middleweight in 1951 Bout

ALBANY, N.Y. (INS) — The widow of Brooklyn middleweight George Flores has been awarded $80,000 with interest of more than $20,000, for his death from ring injuries four years ago.

The New York state court of claims accompanied the judgement yesterday with a sharp attack upon the physicians who examined the fighter, who died following a knockout by Roger Donoghue at Madison Square Garden Oct. 29, 1951.

Mrs. Elaine Flores, 23, had asked $500,000 from the state. She also is suing the International Boxing Club and Madison Square Garden for $500,000 in a suit to be heard next month in Brooklyn Supreme Court.

Flores had been TKO'd twice within 35 days prior to the fatal bout, for which he was certified fit by four doctors. Judge Fred A. Young said Flores should have been suspended, adding:

"The fact that this was not done is an indictment of each of the doctors and a more serious indictment of the entire system of medical examination."

Final Olympic Trials Slated for June 29-30

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The final track and field trials for the 1956 U.S. Olympic games squad will be held in Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum next June 29-30. The Olympic games are to be held in Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 22 to Dec. 8.

William Nicholson, manager of the Coliseum, announced the try-outs date yesterday. Los Angeles was selected as the site two weeks ago at the AAU meeting in Louisville.

NEW YORK (AP) — Willard Marshall, former outfield slugger of the New York Giants, was back in the fold of the National League club today as a scout.

Marshall, who played for Boston and Cincinnati in the National League and Chicago in the American after leaving New York, yesterday was signed by the Giants to scout in New Jersey and New England, except in Connecticut.

Record Crowds Watch Pro Gridders in '55

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Professional football played to the biggest crowds in its history this fall, an Associated Press survey of the 12 National Football League cities showed today. Attendance was up approximately 12.7 per cent over 1954, also a record.

* * *

The clubs reported 1955 attendance hit 2,722,685 compared with 2,415,948 in 1954. Average crowd for 72 league games in 1955 was a record 37,815.

This is the fifth straight year that attendance has shown a gain, which began when the National League merged in 1949 with the now defunct All-America conference.

* * *

The Los Angeles Rams reported the largest attendance, 397,997 for six home games. The Rams, Western Conference champions, meet the Cleveland Browns, Eastern Conference titleholders, in the championship game at Los Angeles Dec. 26.

Baltimore reported the biggest attendance jump, a total of 72,588 more than 1954, or 236,826.

Tavern Club, Independents Hoop Victors

Aces, Hot Shots and Meteors Also Win in City Cage Action

Louie's Tavern hung up a 35-31 victory over Griff's Grill and the Independents breezed to a 43-37 win over the Trojans in National League city basketball games Tuesday night at Jefferson Junior High.

In National loop Class D activity last night at Eastern, the Aces whipped the Blue Devils, 50-27, the Hot Shots trimmed Pulver Tire, 51-27; and Central Christian bowed to the Meteors, 54-23.

Another 'D' battle scheduled at Eastern, an American League contest between the Lakers and the Lakesiders, was not played because the latter quintet failed to make an appearance.

Louie's took an early lead, then saw Griff's knot the count at 27-all going into the 4th quarter. The tavern five doubled Griff's last-period effort, 8-4, to wrap up the decision. Sandage led Louie's with 14 points and Bridegewater's 10 points topped Griff's.

Taulbee tallied 25 points to pace the Independents to their easy victory over the Trojans. The winners led from the beginning and were never threatened. Williamson chalked up 15 points for the Trojans.

Gale McAnnaly garnered 18 points in the Aces' decision over the Blue Devils, who were paced by Earl Neeb with 10. Pudge Costello and Bud Hayward contributed 13 and 12 points respectively in the Hot Shots' triumph and Mickey Gonzales picked up 12 markers for the losing Pulver quintet. Dick McLaughlin collected 15 points as the Meteors easily downed Central Christian.

Two Class D games are carded tonight 5 at Lincoln Junior High. Hot Shots meet Slaybaugh's in a National loop contest at 7 o'clock and Lakers face the Wolverines in an American division scrap at 8:30 p.m.

Spartans Win Cage Opener

Roll Up Single Game High Score Beating S. Illinois, 99-71

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State's basketball team made an impressive first appearance by spilling Southern Illinois 99-71 last night.

It was a new single-game high for the MSU Spartans the previous record was a 94-77 victory over Wisconsin last season.

Senior forward Julius McCoy was the leader for Michigan State with 19-points. Three other players netted 12 points each. Guard Joe Johnson led Southern Illinois with 14 points.

Michigan State was the last of the Big Ten basketball powers to get into action.

During the last few years, Michigan State has played early games and had star players flunk out of tests, making them ineligible for the rest of the season.

Babe Zaharias, Walter Alston Award Winners

Broadcaster Selects Pair to Get Graham McNamee Memorial

NEW YORK (INS) — Golfer Babe Didrikson Zaharias and Brooklyn manager Walter Alston will receive the Graham McNamee Memorial award, presented annually by the sports broadcasters association.

It is the first time in the history of the award, announced last night, that a woman athlete has been honored and the first time that two McNamee awards were voted in one year.

Mrs. Zaharias, former women's National Open Golf champion and Olympic track star, is regarded the greatest woman athlete of all time. She has been battling cancer recently.

Alston, in his second year as a major league manager, led the Dodgers to their first world championship.

Milford's defending champion Redskins took a big early season stride toward their 2nd consecutive Wayne-Oakland League basketball championship Tuesday night by walloping visiting Northville, 74-55.

Frank Rogers scored with only 20 seconds left to play to hand West Bloomfield a thrilling 52-51 victory over Holly and thrice-beaten Clarkston surprised Brighton, 41-39, in two other W-O games last night.

Milford defeated Northville, rated as a strong contender for league honors, with surprising ease. In a contest marred by 67 personal fouls, 37 on the losers, the Redskins built up an overwhelming 66-39 lead after three quarters and coasted with substitutes in the 4th period.

Both Milford scoring aces, Jim Davidson and Fred Baker, fouled out entering the final stanza, but by that time Northville's cause was lost. Davidson tallied 27 points and Baker contributed 17. Bud Bell led Northville with 20 points.

Holly's 4th-quarter rally nearly sunk the Lakers in their hectic battle at Keego Harbor. The Lakers held a 7-point advantage entering the last period but Holly struck back, causing the lead to change hands several times during the 4th frame.

Holly grabbed a one-point lead with 23 seconds remaining before West Bloomfield's Rogers drove in for a layup to bring victory to the Lakers. Rogers took scoring honors with 22 points while Bill Horton sparked the losers with 15. The setback relegated Holly to the Wayne-Oakland cellar.

Clarkston's Wolves registered their 1st win of the season by upsetting Brighton, a team which was unbeaten in three non-league starts. The Wolves led all the way, although the margin was always narrow. Their halftime edge was 21-20, which was increased to four points entering the last period.

Fred Vess collected 12 points and Doug Fortin added 10 to lead the Wolves while Brian Watson and Herb Snyder paced Brighton with 14 and 12 points respectively.

Clarenceville of the W-O circuit blew a 6-point lead in its 54-51 non-loop loss to red-hot rival Farmington. It was the 1st defeat of the season for the visiting Trojans, who were outscored 18-9 by the Falcons in the 4th quarter. Don Robinson and Bud Jones shared scoring honors for the winners with 14 points each. Gary Benson paced Clarenceville, also getting 14.

Utica maintained a steady lead as it trimmed Rochester, 62-53, on the latter's floor. The Chieftains captured a 19-13 1st-quarter edge and were never headed. Lou Hasse tallied 22 points to pace Utica and Bill Dean's 16 points were high for Rochester.

Southfield upset Redford Union, 55-51, for its 1st victory in four tries. Bob Evans collected 20 points to spark the Blue Jays, who handed Redford its 1st setback. Jim Rantanen led Union with 14 points.

Center Line waltzed to an easy 49-30 decision over the Van Dyke Abes as Bob Wright chalked up 18 points. The Panthers grabbed an early lead and were never threatened. Brown was tops for Van Dyke with 12 markers.

Willie Prewitt scored 17 points to spark Willow Run to a narrow 49-48 upset win over Hazel Park, pre-season Eastern Michigan League favorite. Football star Dan Potter topped the Vikings with 15 points.

Gary Ballman scored 14 points and Ron Emerick picked up a dozen to lead East Detroit of the EML to a 47-31 triumph over Troy. It was the season opener for the Shamrocks.

Three Lapeer cagers hit 20 points or better in the Panther's 85-69 conquest of Mt. Morris, but the loser's Bruce took scoring honors with 15 field goals for 30 points. Roger Flanigan tallied 29, Tom Wilson 22, and Tom Elliot 20 for Lapeer.

Four Madison players reached double figures, headed by Harry Perkins' 15 points, as the Eagles swamped Ferndale St. James, 65-37. Tom Artbals led the Dales with 15 markers.

Guard Ted Kopacki continued his scoring rampage for Orchard Lake St. Mary, tossing in 28 points as the Eaglets trounced Detroit St. Stanislaus, 61-40. Teammates Pete Madelans and Len Mallat added 16 and 10 points respectively. Larry Kotek topped St. Stan with 10 markers.

Cranbrook trailed briefly in the 1st quarter, then came on to trip Romeo, 67-56, in a Tuesday afternoon clash at Cranbrook. Jerry Dobson scored 18 points and John Kirk 16 to spark the Cranes to their 2nd win in four games. Bill Schmidt of Romeo captured scoring honors with 22 points.

Titan Sophomore Sets Scoring Pace in MVC

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Detroit's hot-shooting Forward, Bill Ebben, heads a list of six new faces among the top 10 scorers in Missouri Valley basketball.

Ebben led the Titans opening-game upset of Notre Dame with 32 points, 22 of them in the first half, and dropped in 47 points in the next two games for a season average of 26.3.

Grady Smith, St. Louis guard who was no better than 11th last season is second with 23.3 through games of last Saturday. Tied for third with 20-point marks are two more newcomers to the top 10—Joe Todd of St. Louis and Jack Gower of Bradley.

Houston's seven-foot Don Boldebuck, runnerup to Tulsa's record-breaking Bob Patterson last season, is off to a slow start with his 17.5 average good for seventh place behind Bradley's Lee Utt (19.7) and Jim McLaughlin of St. Louis (18.0.)

Utt is another come-lately but McLaughlin, one of the nation's top rebounders although only 6-4, is riding in his 1954 spot—sixth.

Veteran Jack Foster of Houston (15.0) is only a shade ahead of Wichita's outstanding rookie guard, Joe Stevens (14.7) tied for tenth are a pair of vets with 14.0 marks—Bob Hodgson of Wichita and V. R. Barnhouse of Oklahoma A & M.

UM Skaters Tied by Denver, 3-3

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan, leading 3-1 with five minutes left, was tied 3-3 by Denver last night in an overtime Western International League hockey game.

Denver forward Joe Kilbey took a pass from Ed Zemrau at the goal mouth and pounded in the puck for Denver's 2nd goal. Michigan was a man short at the time.

With only 49 seconds to go and Michigan again a man short, Denver tied it up as Jack Smith scored in a pileup at the net. The 10-minute overtime produced no score.

Kell Inks New Contract With Chicago White Sox

The 33-year-old third baseman and 12-year American League veteran batted .312 in 1955 and drove in 81 runs, tops among the Sox.

Kell is the second Sox player to come to terms. Last week outfielder Larry Doby signed his 1956 contract.

Uphill—and On—Sons of Men

By GRANTLAND RICE

O, sons of men, whose goal is dust,
Where raw Fate waits at bay,
Whose life is parry, whirl and thrust,
And soon the blade is brown with rust,
Its scabbard thrown away;
O, sons of men, above all things
There must be courage thrown
Against the crashing storm that swings,
Against red bolts the lightning flings
Where each must stand alone.

O, sons of men, the night is long
That closes out our wars,
Though now and then life has a song,
The battle still is to the strong
Who have no fear of scars;
There must be courage, or the thrill
Of life's forever fled,
The broken and the beaten fill
All roads that lead from vale to hill,
Where blood was less than red.

The book of life is full of pain,
Of heartache and of hurt —
The road is dark through wind and rain,
We stumble where the dead have lain
Beneath the dreamless dirt;
The goal of dreams is faint and far
Beneath the heavy pack,
And scar must follow after scar,
But, sons of men, the shining star

Dales Honor Nate Clark, Unbeaten Football Team

HILLSDALE, Mich. (AP) — Nate Clark, Hillsdale's heralded halfback, received a raft of new honors here last night — if that's possible.

Clark, already acclaimed as the nation's leading scorer with 144 points and named to the associated Press' Little All-America team, was selected as the Dales' Most Valuable Player for 1955, then designated as a co-captain for the 1956 team.

The negro speedster from Benton Harbor, a junior, was the center of attraction at a banquet celebrating Hillsdale's perfect season and second straight MIAA championship.

"This is the happiest night of my life," grinned Clark, who scored 24 touchdowns to set a modern Michigan scoring record this fall. "Everybody has been great to me — but my teammates are the ones who have made it all possible."

Clark was presented with a certificate honoring him as a member of the AP Little All-America team.

Although he still has one season to play, Clark said he has been contacted by every team in the National Football League except one — the Detroit Lions.

Nick Kerbawy, general manager of the Lions and one of the speakers on the program, told Clark that the Lions make it a habit never to contact a player until he becomes a senior.

"But you will be hearing from us next fall," Kerbawy told Clark. "We'd like to get an opportunity to draft you."

Clark, a stocky 5-foot-8, 195-pounder, said his "greatest dream" was to play professional football.

Head coach Frank (Muddy) Waters, who has guided the Dales to 16 successive victories, was presented with a ticket for the Rose Bowl game and a week's traveling expenses to the west coast. He also received luggage from his players.

"We're going to be in tough shape next season," Waters said keeping a straight face. "We're losing one player, you know . . ."

Tarheels Oust Coaching Staff

North Carolina Officials Decide Not to Renew Barclay's Contract

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (INS) — North Carolina's ousted head football coach George Barclay and his entire staff are looking for new jobs today Barclay and his staff were fired yesterday by the university.

Chancellor R. B. House and Athletic Director C. P. Erickson, announced in a joint statement that the college administration decided it "would not request renewal" of Barclay's contract which expires Dec. 31.

The university officials added that the dismissal applies to all members of the football coaching staff.

They said that a new head coach would be named later and will have complete freedom in selecting his own staff.

Barclay succeeded Carl Snavely at North Carolina three seasons ago. He won four games and lost six in 1953 and compiled identical records of three victories and seven defeats in 1954 and this season.

His assistants are Marvin Bass, Steve Belichick, Tom Fetzer and Ralph Floyd.

Score Chosen by Ballots of Loop Writers

Cleveland Pitcher Sets Strikeout Record for 1st Year in Majors

NEW YORK (AP)—Herb Score of the Cleveland Indians, who fanned 245 batters to set a record for most strikeouts by a pitcher in his first major league season, was named the American League's Rookie of the Year for 1955 today.

* * *

The 22-year-old stylish southpaw received 18 votes in the balloting of the 24-committeemen of the Baseball Writers Association. Three writers from each of the eight American League cities participated in the poll.

* * *

Only two other players received votes. Infielder Billy Klaus of the Boston Red Sox was picked by 5 of the selectors, and first baseman Norm Zauchin, also of the Red Sox, was named on 1 ballot.

Score's strikeout mark eclipsed the previous record of 227, established by Grover Cleveland Alexander in rookie season with the Philadelphia Phils in 1911. The 6-2, 185-pound fast-baller won 16 games while losing 10. He ranked fourth in the earned run listings with a 2.85 average.

* * *

Score was signed to a bonus contract by the Indians for an estimated $60,000 in June, 1952. He posted a 22-5 won-lost record for Indianapolis during the 1954 season, striking out 330 batters for an American Assn. record.

* * *

Klaus, a peppery shortstop who failed to make the grade in the National League after trials with the Braves and the New York Giants, was instrumental in Boston's successful season as he hit .283. Zauchin, a husky slugger, batted only .239, but found the range for 27 homers. On May 27, against Washington, Zauchin belted 3 homers and drove in 10 runs.

* * *

Score became the fourth pitcher to win the award since its inception in 1948. The former winners were: Pitcher Gene Bearden, Cleveland, 1948; outfielder Roy Sievers, St. Louis, 1949; first baseman Walt Dropo, Boston, 1950; infielder Gil McDougald, New York, 1951; pitcher Harry Byrd, Philadelphia, 1952; shortstop Harvey Kuenn, Detroit, 1953 and pitcher Bob Grim New York, 1954.

Knox May Play Against State

Cast Taken From UCLA Tailback's Fractured Leg to Boost Hopes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The cast has come off UCLA tailback Ronnie Knox's broken leg and his physician says he may be able to play against Michigan State in the Rose Bowl game.

* * *

Knox broke the bone in the opening minutes of the Washington game. He will be on crutches the rest of this week but will watch Bruin practice sessions. He will wear a hiking boot with a special built-in support to test the leg.

Another examination will be made early next week, and by then it will be known definitely if Knox can see action. He is the Bruins' top passer.

Coach Red Sanders received some bad news yesterday. Johnny Smith, end who was being converted to linebacker for the Spartan game, is out with a shoulder separation. He was injured in a stiff scrimmage.

Bruin Hockey Star Back in Action Again

BOSTON (AP) — Johnny Peirson, who hung up his skates while at the peak of his career in the National Hockey League, comes out of retirement tomorrow night when the Boston Bruins meet the Chicago Black Hawks at the Boston Garden.

Peirson, one of the league's top forwards when he decided to quit at the end of the 1953-54 season, is expected to give the offensively-weak Bruins some badly needed scoring punch.

The bear hunting season in Arizona opened on Sept. 1. It will run through Feb. 29.

Coach Trips Alma Mater

Guild Shutdown Bothers Norris

Prexy Says IBC Made TV Fight Agreements With Outlawed Body

NEW YORK (AP)—The International Boxing Club, which usually winds up on the long end in its promotions, was put "in the middle" by N.Y. State Athletic Commission action in "outlawing" the Boxing Guild of New York.

So said Jim Norris, president of the IBC which promotes the weekly Wednesday and Friday night television fights across the country.

"We considered the guild as a union or bargaining committee," Norris said. "Our main problem with the guild was television. When we signed with them we knew we'd be all right for a year.

"Now, we're in the middle. The guild has authority. I wouldn't want to have to deal with 200 or 300 managers separately.

Norris said the IBC's contract with the guild calling for $4,000 for each main event fighter on TV goes through June and "should be carried out."

• • •

Pike's Peak Climb Changed to July 4

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The annual Pike's Peak Hill Climb, an auto speed and endurance test up the famous 14,110-foot peak, will be held July 4 instead of Labor Day, starting next year.

The City Council approved the date change last night. Lloyd Faddis, president and general manager of the Pike's Peak Hill Climb Assn. said the earlier date would be more convenient for tourists.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Players who will make up the United States Olympic hockey squad and start training in Duluth, Minn., Thursday, were announced Tuesday by Bob Ridder, Olympic hockey manager.

Of 22 players picked for the training, 17 will be selected for final registration Jan. 10. The cut of five players is expected to be made before Christmas.

Willard Ikola and John Matchefts, both of Eveleth, Minn., Michigan; Weldon Olson, Marquette, Mich., Michigan State.

Basilio Named "Fighter of the Year"

NEW YORK (AP) — Welterweight champion Carmen Basilio, rookie welterweight Bob Murphy of Boston and publicity man Harry Mendel, today were named to receive the Boxing Writers Assn.'s three main awards.

• • •

Basilio, 28-year-old ex-Marine from Chittenango, N. Y., was voted the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque as "Fighter of the Year." Murphy, undefeated, 22-year-old 147-pound prospect, was chosen the "Rookie of the Year." Mendel, 62-year-old former promoter, matchmaker and newspaperman, was singled out for the James J. Walker Memorial Plaque, "for long and meritorious service to boxing over a period of years."

The award-winning trio will be honored at the BWA's annual dinner at the Hotel Roosevelt, Jan. 19.

• • •

Basilio, a pro eight years, won the 147-pound crown from Tony DeMarco by stopping the hard-hitting Bostonian in the 12th round of a thrilling fight in Syracuse, June 10. He came from behind to win the title and he did it the same way in his return with DeMarco in Boston, Nov. 30. That fight also ended in the 12th round.

He is unbeaten in his last 15 fights over a two-year span. His record is 48-11.

"It's a real surprise and I'm terribly happy," said Basilio when informed of the award at Waynesboro, Ga. "Whoever would have thought three or four years ago that I'd be picked for such a great honor?" Basilio is bird hunting in South Georgia.

• • •

Murphy, Army veteran of Korea, turned pro this year. The one-time star high school infielder and halfback won his first 14 fights, 10 by knockouts, and showed he was ready to step up in class by holding experienced Chico Vejar to a draw in Boston last Saturday night. He came from behind, flooring Chico in each of the final two rounds, to save himself from his first defeat.

• • •

Mendel, popular with sports writers across the United States and Canada, has been connected with boxing for over 45 years.

Sooners Begin Bowl Workouts

Oklahoma Mending All Injuries to Be Set for Maryland

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma's national football champions have started light contract work building up to a scrimmage between the first and second teams next week and to the New Year's Day clash with Maryland in the Orange Bowl.

Center Jerry Tubbs jogged around in sweat clothes yesterday after his cast was taken off. The cast had been applied a week ago when Tubbs' knee, hurt in the final game against Oklahoma A&M failed to improve. Tubbs will be held out of all the practice sessions in Oklahoma, but will begin working again when the team arrives in Florida.

Eldon Loughridge, senior tackle, went through a light drill without feeling any effects from an injured knee which had kept him out since mid-season. Quarterback Jimmy Harris still nursed a sore shoulder.

Austrian Ski Champ Eager for '60 Games

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — Christian Pravda, Austrian ski champion, says the Austrian Olympic team members are eager to take part in the 1960 winter games in Squaw Valley.

"I know the boys would like to make the trip," Pravda told Alex Cushing, manager of Squaw Valley.

Cushing had asked Pravda about reports that Innsbruck, Austria, which made an unsuccessful bid for the 1960 Olympics, would try again in January to get them.

Florida Stables 3,200

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The three Florida racetracks under Thoroughbred Racing Assn. jurisdiction will stable 3,200 horses this winter. The tracks are Hialeah, Gulfstream and Tropical Park. It costs about $410 a month to stable, feed, groom and train a race horse.

ROOKIE FIGHTER OF YEAR — Bobby Murphy, 23, of Boston, a welterweight, was named "Rookie Fight of the Year" by the New York Boxing Writers Association and will receive an award next month. Here the young fighter reads an animal book to his 21-months-old son Bobby Jr.

Nimrods Bag 5 Deer in Controlled Hunt

LANSING — Hunters bagged five bucks during the first week of a controlled hunt at the one-mile square deer enclosure at Cusino wildlife station in the upper peninsula.

Conservation workers intend to trap or kill all deer in the fenced area now and restock the enclosure for this winter so that an accurate check can be made on deer activities.

One-third of the herd is harvested each year, but reproduction brings the deer population in the enclosure back to the same level annually.

AJO, Ariz. (AP) — Bisbee High School Coach Al Ridgeway was cited by Coach Larry Hart of Ajo for "action above and beyond the call of duty" after a football game. End Jerry Loper of Bisbee broke his leg in a game between the two schools and Ajo Coach Hart drove him 132 miles to Tucson for treatment by a specialist. Bisbee won, 37-12.

Brash but Also Strong

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — West Virginia University students who tried for a trophy after the Pitt football game must have been as strong as they were brash.

The group stopped at the Carnegie Museum and lugged a 250-pound stuffed Panther from the third floor to the street before being caught. The students were released with a warning.

Coach Frank McGuire of the North Carolina basketball team has five New York City boys on his 12-man squad. Three others are from New Jersey.

Ameche, Graham Top Final NFL Statistics

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rookie Alan (The Horse) Ameche of the Baltimore Colts and retiring veteran Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns captured the two big offense titles for 1955 in the National Football League.

Ameche became the first freshman to win the ball carrying title since Bill Paschal of the New York Giants did it in 1943, while Graham made his swan-song season with the Browns another year atop the league's passers, final NFL statistics showed today.

Ameche, former All-America from Wisconsin, lived up to his preseason billing as he ground out 961 yards in 213 carries, an average of 4.5 yards. Howie Ferguson of Green Bay was second with 859 yards on 192 carries, also for a 4.5 average. The league's best average per carry went to Dick Casares of the Chicago Bears with 672 yards on 125 runs, an average of 5.4.

* * *

Last year's ball carrying leader, Joe Perry of San Francisco, also had a 4.5 average on 156 carries for 701 yards.

Graham tossed the ball 185 times, completed 98 for a gain of 1,721 yards—an average gain per pass attempt of 9.30 and a completion average of 53 per cent. Bobby Layne of Detroit also had a 53 per cent completion average but he gained only 6.78 yards per toss.

Ed Brown of the Chicago Bears tossed 164, completed 85, gained 1,307 yards for an average of 7.97 yards per pass attempt, second best in the league. Jim Finks of Pittsburgh was the total passing yardage leader with 2,270 in 344 attempts, 168 completions, for a 48 per cent completion average and an average gain of 6.60.

* * *

Pete Pihos, retiring from the Philadelphia Eagles, finished atop the pass receivers for the third successive year with 62 catches for 864 yards and 7 TDs. He edged Bill Wilson who gained 834 yards on 53 receptions and 7 TDs for San Francisco. Harlon Hill of the Chicago Bears caught nine touchdown passes, high for the league in that division.

* * *

Other leaders:

Doak Walker, Detroit, scoring, 96 points; Norm Van Brocklin, Los Angeles, punting 44.6 yards per boot; Ollie Matson, Chicago Cardinals, punt returns, 13 for an average of 18.8 yards; Al Carmichael, Green Bay, kickoff returns, 14 for an average of 29.9 yards, and Willard Sherman, Los Angeles, interceptions, 11 for 101 yards total.

Packers in the 'Chips' Despite Small Stadium

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers, playing in the smallest city and stadium in the National Football League, are making money again but a 1955 attendance jump of 116,924 over the previous season probably won't be reflected in net profits.

The reason? Taxes.

* * *

General Manager Verne C. Lewellen said today that the Packers had a $52,000 tax credit to fall back on last year due to financial losses sustained the three previous years.

* * *

The club showed a gross profit of about $88,000 and a net of about $69,000 last year on a total home and away attendance of 347,847. It paid federal taxes of about $16,000 because, with the credit, the taxable income was only $34,000. The tax represented only about 20 per cent of its gross profit.

* * *

This year the Packers posted a new over-all attendance record of 464,771, including its second best home draw of 153,241 and its best ever on the road of 311,530. But their taxes will be much higher. The Packers play three home games in County Stadium which holds 43,000 for football.

"Assuming we gross about $100,000," Lewellen said in the absence of official figures, which won't be available until March 1, "we'll have to pay the full tax of about 52 per cent. That would leave us with around $48,000."

Lewellen pointed out that the Packers' attendance will make up for losses from television and radio revenues, which, he said, comes to about $80,000. He said the club picked up $112,500 from this source in '54 and only about $33,000 this year.

Howell Gets 2 Year Contract

NFL Giants Satisfied With Team's Record of 6-5-1

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants of the National Football League are pleased with the work of Head Coach Jim Lee Howell, and have given him a new two-year contract.

John V. Mara, president of the Giants, said last night Howell "did a good job, and the Giants came along well after a bad start to be the hottest club in the league."

This was the second two-year contract for Howell, 41, former Arkansas end, who succeeded Steve Owens in December, 1953. The Giants won 6 games, lost 5 and tied 1.

Mara declined to disclose contract terms but it is believed Howell's salary exceeds $15,000 per season.

Titan Quint Wins 4th Straight, 76-60

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Unbeaten University of Detroit continued its basketball conquests last night with its fourth straight victory, crushing Bowling Green, 76-60.

Detroit had an early 7-0 lead and never was behind, leading 38-25 at halftime. The Titans held their biggest margin, 62-42, midway in the 2nd half.

Waterford Cage Loop Tied Up

Clarkston Merchants whipped Poole Lumber 78-48 in the Waterford Recreation league last night to go into a first play tie with Drayton Drugs.

Bill Durston and Howard Liverance each scored 21 points for Clarkston while Jerry Bradley pushed through 11 for the losers.

In the second game Manny's scored a 68-31 victory over Beattie Motor, led by Dick DeWitt with 33 points. Jerry McKay was high for Beattie with 14.

Rose Bowl Bound MSU Gridders Watch "Birdie"

EAST LANSING (AP) — Rose Bowl bound Michigan State football squad posed for pictures in the cold yesterday—three days before leaving for sunny California.

The session in snow-bound Macklin stadium was strictly for photographers. They thought of such things as a quarterback passing back a snowball.

Coach Duffy Daugherty, on the sidelines, emphasized that this was not an official practice. Daugherty said he still plans two full scale workouts — one for today and another for Thursday — before the team leaves for California Friday.

This will give the squad 14 workouts on the coast.

Daugherty was asked how his team looked.

"The kids are out of shape a little bit," he said, "but you can figure that the average 19-year-old kid doesn't get too much out of shape. They've been hitting the books lately, trying to pass these tests. After all, they're in college to get an education."

Daugherty said he thought the serious work for the Rose Bowl would begin once he got his team out to the coast, accustomed to the climate, and winning the Rose Bowl game.

Vote to Oust Bell Reported

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A secret vote to oust Bert Bell as commissioner of the National Football League ended in a 6-6 tie, the Examiner reported today.

In a copyright story by Vincent X. Flaherty, the paper said Los Angeles, San Francisco, Green Bay, Detroit, Cleveland and the Chicago Cardinals voted to fire Bell who has a 10-year contract at approximately $40,000 annually.

It takes 10 of the 12 NFL members to remove a commissioner.

"Bell would have been offered five years' salary in settlement for his contract," the story said. "Another vote concerning Bell's future will be taken when the league meets here late this month.

"When contacted here at his home, Edwin W. Pauley, one of the Rams' major stockholders, denied all knowledge of the secret vote to oust Bell. Fred Levy, Jr., another Ram stockholder, likewise said he didn't know anything about it.

The Examiner story said the newspaper had secured the club-by-club vote that showed New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and the Chicago Bears had voted to retain the commissioner.

"Several National League owners have had differences with the commissioner," the story added. "His latest run-in with a club representative came on Monday, Nov. 28, when the draft meeting was held at the Bellvue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia.

"Ed. Pauley Jr., representing his father, complained bitterly to Bell about the officiating the day before.

"Bell became angered by the younger Pauley's protest and was moved to explosive language."

Toughening Process

22 Skiers Training for Olympic Trials With Steam Baths and Rolls in Snow

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — A bit more than slightly Spartan is the training regime of 22 skiers who are toughening up for the Olympic trials at nearby Spout Springs, Ore., in the snow-choked Blue Mountains.

Part of the toughening up process is a steam bath—an idea pilfered from the Finns and Norwegians. The athletes get themselves well cooked in the steam hut (the Finnish word is "sauna") and then dash out to roll—nude—in the snow.

* * *

If the 22 survive this and the long hours on the trails and the jumping hill they will start competing next week for the six places on the U.S. "Nordic combined" team. Two jumping trials and three cross-country races will decide the team make-up.

The select group of trainees was collected from all over the United States and one came from Alaska. The Alaskan, in fact, is one of the favorites—a transplated Swede who now makes his home at Anchorage. He is Sven Johannson, an American citizen of six-months standing. Sven has dominated Western cross-country skiing since he arrived five and a half years ago.

The seasoned veterans such as Johannson will be favored to grab off the six places and represent this country in the winter Olympics next month at Cortina D'Ampezzo, Italy. However, there are a few rookies among the trainees—youngsters chosen for their potential. American ski circles are looking ahead to such events as the 1958 world championships and the 1960 winter Olympics.

Two of the hopefuls are university sophomores—Alf Vincellette of Highland Falls, N.Y., and Denver University, and Jack Haase of Washington. Both had impressive records as high school skiers and Vincellette won the New York State jumping title in 1953.

* * *

Two veterans who rank with Johannson as favorites are Ted Farwell and Marvin Crawford. Farwell is a lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force and a member of the SUAF ski team. He was the top point getter for the American Nordic team at Oslo in the 1952 Olympics. In 1951 he was national champion in the cross-country and the combined events.

* * *

Pvt. Crawford of the Fort Carson (Colo.) Mountain and Cold Weather Training Command won every four-way combined championship he entered during his three years at Denver University. He was a member of the U.S. team at the world meet in Sweden in 1954.

Coach Allison Merrill of Lebanon, N.H., will send his candidates out for their first serious competition in a cross-country race Dec. 20. They will continue the battle for places for 10 days, winding up Dec. 30 with the national cross-country championships at Spout Springs.

Olson's Manager Testifies Today in $500,000 Suit

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP) — Sid Flaherty, manager of Carl (Bobo) Olson, recently middleweight champion of the world, testifies today in a $500,000 damage suit.

The suit was brought by Herbert Campos, Honolulu dairy man who contends he still is Bobo's legal manager and should share Olson's earnings. He sued both Olson and Flaherty.

Olson testified yesterday he had appeared before the Hawaiian Boxing Commission before he came to San Francisco in 1951. He said he told the commission he wasn't getting enough fights under Campos' management to live on. Campos was present and made no objection to his coming to the mainland, Bobo testified.

Depositions from the commission members said all agreed that Campos made no protest at Bobo's leaving Hawaii, but none could recall specific mention of the contract, which Bobo contends was canceled at that meeting.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

SUDDEN "FREEZE"—Tightening up under pressure hits top-flight and average bowlers pretty much the same. It's a sudden freezing of muscles and jumping of nerves that disrupts coordination.

The other night, for instance, Carroll Davies had 11 strikes up. He got a bad break when the pins were off-spot and had to be re-racked for the all-important 12th shot. It gave him time to think, and tighten up. He shortened his push-away and his backswing to send the ball smack on the nose of the head pin for a seven count.

Here was a case that emphasized the importance of the push-away, key fundamental. It's the movement that all stars perfect into unerring precision. Concentrate always on getting the ball out in front of you, away from the body, extending the arms to exactly the same length with each swing, and you'll avoid doing what Davies did, what many top bowlers have done ina clutch, and others will do many times.

Bear this in mind: Feel that the arm is straight at the end of the backswing; that there is no kink in the lebow.

Turner Choice in TV Match

Picked to Beat Jack LaBua in 10-Rounder From Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Veteran Gil Turner was rated a 2-1 favorite over young Jackie LaBua for their 10-round middleweight bout tonight. The fight will be televised and broadcast nationally at 10 p.m. EST. (ABC).

The reorganized state of the middleweight division, with Ray Robinson champion again, lent special interest to the battle in the County War Memorial.

* * *

LaBua, 23, a fast-moving slugger from New York, never has been counted out in 31 professional fights, although he has been stopped because of a cut eye. He is a newcomer to the middleweight division.

Turner, 25, has a record of 51 victories, 10 defeats and a draw. The Philadelphia Negro has scored 34 knockouts, fighting in the welter and middleweight ranks.

The welterweight class has had five Italian-American champions—Joe Dundee, Young Corbett III, Marty Servo, Tony DeMarco and Carmen Basilio.

By H. GUY MOATS

Pointing for their 3rd straight basketball victory of the season, and the 2nd in Saginaw Valley play, PHS Chiefs Friday night invade Flint Central's teepee for an important contest.

* * *

Art Van Ryzin's crew has subdued Catholic Central (50-40) and Arthur Hill (53-44), while the Indians lost to Handy and won from Bay City Central. Balanced scoring has been the Chief's big factor in their victories.

At present there are three SVC clubs with one win apiece, and no losses. They include Flint Northern, which goes against the defending champs, Arthur Hill, Friday night, at Saginaw. Saginaw high, a one-time SVC loser meets Bay City, also a loser in its opener.

What are the Chiefs' chances to trip the Indians?

Here's what Coach Van Ryzin says:

"We will have a rough time against Central. They have some of their real good boys back from last year's good club, including Dale Kingsbury, senior guard, Ed Nyberg, also a senior guard, Tom Owen, 6-5 center, another senior, Bill Thompson a junior, and Jim McCue, another senior at forwards.

"Another thing, we'll have some trouble winning away from home. But we are trying to improve on the mistakes we made in the Arthur Hill game, and certainly will give Central a real battle."

Just now, after the experiences of the 'Jacks tilt, Van Ryzin is doing a little work on the possibility of starting Jim Skinner at center. Jim did a fine job, along with Willie Dewalt, on the rebounds, and in handling smooth Jim Alexander, 'Jacks' fine center. Hud Ray is still in the picture, too, and the PHS mentor will not know, probably until Friday, which will get the call.

Other PHS starters, however, are certain to be Dewalt and high scorer Rod Treais (26 points), forwards, with Dave Diehm (24 points) and swift Larry Peet, guards.

Chiefs will play at a new site Friday. Game is set for Ballenger Field House. Here's how Central coach Joe Dowby says is best route to the gymnasium: take U.S. 10 to Dort Highway, turn right on Dort to Flint city limits, then left to North Court. On Court to 2nd stop light, and there you are. A big sign "Flint Community College" is a final guide. Right turn off Court to parking lot.

Illinois Beats Irish

San Francisco Expects Ambush of No. 1 Rating by Marquette Friday

The Associated Press

The San Francisco Dons, winners of 29 straight games and the nation's top-ranked college basketball team, may be walking straight into a Marquette ambush. Even the Warriors' coach admits: "This is the season for upsets."

Marquette, which meets San Francisco Friday night in Chicago, increased its winning streak to four games last night by tripping Miami of Ohio 71-65. The Warriors had to come from behind to do it.

The Dons were idle. But North Carolina State, rated No. 2, clubbed Clemson 100-83 for its 17th straight and fifth of the season. Duquesne, No. 6, made it five in succession by routing St. Francis (Pa.) 63-48.

* * *

In other games, George Washington defeated West Virginia 94-79 despite Hot Rod Hundley's 40 points. Illinois beat Notre Dame 103-93. Bradley nipped Canisius 73-66 and Michigan State trounced Southern Illinois 99-71.

Marquette, which trailed until the final 5 minutes, may have been looking ahead to the San Francisco game. At any rate, the Warriors needed a jump shot from sophomore Al Avant to put them ahead 56-55. There they stayed.

"We hope to give San Francisco quite a game," said Marquette Coach Jack Nagle just before game time yesterday. "This has been the year for upsets before the season the first half when it outscored the scarcely has started. Teams like Kentucky, Iowa and Indiana already have been beaten."

* * *

San Francisco mentor Phil Woolpert agreed the Dons are "stepping into the tough part of our season. We're looking for all we can handle at Chicago this weekend."

The Dons-Warriors meeting will be the opener of the DePaul Invitational Tournament. The winner will meet the survivor of the second Duquesne-DePaul tilt.

* * *

The Dukes from Pittsburgh got only 15 points from big Si Green, who normally goes over the 20 mark. But after trailing, 16-15 they moved out in front to stay on Mickey Winograd's basket. Duquesne led at halftime, 34-25.

N. C. State's growling Wolfpack, capitalizing on the fine shooting and fancy floorwork of guards Vic Molodet and Phil Dinardo, jumped into a 5-0 lead over Clemson and breezed home. State Coach Everett Case used his reserves liberally.

* * *

While Hundley ran wild for West Virginia, four George Washington players scored in double figures to make up for "hot" Rod's output. GW actually won the game late in Mountaineers 15-2 to take a 42-29 lead at the intermission.

* * *

Illinois' point total was the largest ever made against Notre Dame in the 51 Irish basketball seasons. The Illini got hot in the second half, hitting on 19 of 33 shots from the field.

Center Barney Cable paced the Bradley attack with 25 points and set a school record with 28 rebounds. Canisius led 58-55 when Jerry Hansen came off the bench and scored two baskets to get Bradley rolling.

Flint Junior Collegians Upset National Champions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Moberly, which has been national JC champion for the past two years, pulled its deficit to within two points, 65-63, with less than two minutes to go. But Flint, which had led all the way, pulled away again.

Forward Chuck Teaberry was high for Flint with 27 points. Moberly now has a 4-1 record while Flint is 3-0.

At Houghton, Superior (Wis.) State raced to an early 10-0 lead, then buckled, suffering its 1st loss in five games, bowing 82-64 to Michigan Tech. Tech guard Pat Gallagher led the scoreres with 25 points. Tech now has a 3-2 record.

Double Dose for Hunter

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo. (AP) — Everett (Skeeter) Diehl, 14, suffered both bullet and buckshot wounds in the leg when accidentally struck by a 30-30 rifle bullet.

Diehl was mistaken for a deer by a member of his hunting party. The high powered rifle bullet struck a .410 shotgun shell in the youth's pocket and exploded it.

Hunters Asked to Participate in 1955 Survey

Questionnaires to Be Sent Requesting Deer Hunting Information

LANSING — More than 10,000 Michigan hunters will be asked to participate in the annual post card survey of the 1955 firearm deer season.

First mailings of the Conservation Departments questionnaire will go out early next month as hunting license lists are compiled.

A statistcally-based cross-section of hunters will be asked about their success — or lack of it — and hunting activity. Information obtained in the survey provides a close estimate of the total kill, hunting distribution and other basic data used in establishing hunting regulations and in other aspects of deer herd management.

The former practice of asking every hunter to fill out a report card on his deer hunting results was abandoned this year in favor of the more accurate post card sampling.

Under the present system every 40th hunter of license lists is contacted in the survey. The high rate of cooperation among hunters —as many as 96 percent respond —aids in the poll's accuracy.

Here's a Way to Cook Venison

By JACK PATTERSON

While opinions may differ sharply on whether there's a sufficiency of deer from the hunter's standpoint, there always seems to be more than enough when reduced to venison. As many a hunter knows a deer can be harder to get rid of than to get. The reason, of course, is that the best deer ever shot can't be turned into prime beef, no matter what kind of magic wand the chef wields, although much time and effort are wasted trying to achieve that end.

PATTERSON

Now it happens that a good many people like venison in any way, shape or manner, and bully for them, we say. A good many other people, however, quail at the thought of it, and yet are often called upon to cook and-or eat it. It is to this latter group that the following intelligence is addressed.

Bearing in mind that venison is a dry meat and more often than not tough, here is a method of treating any of the large cuts that will make them palatable to the non-deer enthusiast.

Put the roast in a suitable pan and pour over it the following mixture: One bottle of red cooking wine, half a cup, or a bit less, of olive oil, a couple of pressed garlic cloves, a sliced mild onion, a brace of chopped celery stalks, a bay leaf or so, and any of the sweet herbs. Anything else you want to throw in won't hurt it a bit. Reserve some of the stuff for subsequent basting.

The roast should be allowed to live in this marinade at room temperature at least overnight; twenty-four hours is better. When ready to cook, place the roast in a hot oven for 15 minutes or so to sear, then turn down to 250 degrees or thereabouts and cook until tender. During the roasting process, basting should be unremitting.

The result, served up on a bed of fresh watercress is pleasing to the eye and eats very comfortably. It still isn't prime beef, but it doesn't taste like an old plank from the tannery floor, either.

Incidentially, the above procedure, except for the roasting, applies equally well to the skinned breasts of ducks, which because of species or association is on the strong side. And don't jump too quickly to the conclusion that any particular breed is automatically exempt from the taint of fishiness.

Any duck ever hatched eats fish when it can. For example the canvasback, famed in song and story for the delicacy of its flesh (and perfectly true when taken from the wild celery flats of Currituck Sound), ranks little better than a merganser in parts of the northwest, where a favorite item on his diet is "old" salmon. So when in doubt, marinate and broil and you won't care what it has been eating.

• • •

Hadn't intended to turn this into a cooking column, but this one seems to have got out of hand. We've got room, though, for another tip to Christmas shoppers. Guns and ammunition are a good buy now. Except for certain brands like Browning, which are not jobbed, most guns are selling at very near dealer costs. Both guns and "ammo" are due for a price increase after the first of the year.

Grid Awards Honor 2 County Players

Charles Schack of Pontiac has been awarded a varsity football letter at Michigan Tech, athletic director Alan J. Bovard has announced. Schack starred at guard for the Huskies from Houghton, who won four and lost three during the 1955 season.

Another Oakland County area gridder was honored at Wayne University. Sophomore guard Gerald Heaton of Northville has been named co-captain of the 1956 Tartars, along with junior quarterback Harold Willard from Cass City. Heaton also received a varsity letter for the 1955 campaign.

Rookie Best Bear Fullback Since '39

CHICAGO (AP) — Rookie fullback Rick Casares of the Chicago Bears finished with the best rushing total any Bear back has had in one season since Bill Osmanski's 699 yards in 1939.

Casares, a 225-pounder from the University of Florida, gained 672 yards in 125 carries for a 5.4 average.

Chet Forte, Hackensack, N.J., junior, is Columbia's key basketball player on offense. Though only 5 feet 9½ he led the Ivy League scorers last season.

Fewer Hunters, but More Deer

Upper Peninsula Kill Higher Than Year Ago, Figures Reveal

LANSING — More than 43,000 hunters crossed the Straits of Mackinac during deer season this year, but the total was a drop from last year's 49,500.

But 11,209 deer were taken across on straits ferries, compared to last year's 10,020.

Also, 165 bears, 57 coyotes, 36 bobcats, 18 foxes, eight timber wolves and one Canada lynx crossed the straits this year. Last year, 200 bears, 43 coyotes, 27 bobcats, 12 foxes and nine timber wolves were transported south over the ferries.

The Drummond Island total showed 1207 hunters took 368 deer, three coyotes, three bobcats and one bear from the island this year. Last year, 1150 hunters removed 319 deer, five coyotes, fixe foxes and two bears from the island.

Top-Notch Performance

HAMPTON, Va. (AP)—Jack Lawson, tailback for the Hampton High School football team, had himself quite a night when the Crabbers beat Oscar Smith High of South Norfolk 40-6.

Lawson scored three touchdowns, kicked four extra points, gained 85 yards in 13 carries, averaged 44 yards on six kickoffs, recovered one fumble and blocked a kick.

Scouts 46 Years

BALTIMORE (AP) — Fritz Maisel was announced today as a 1956 scout for the Baltimore Orioles, marking the 46th straight year he has been connected with the club.

Michigan State allowed only two touchdowns in its last five games.

Holding Its Own!

Michigan's Deer Herd Improving in Health

By MORT NEFF

Michigan's deer herd is unquestionably holding its own, and the health of the herd is obviously improving in many areas, as revealed by the 1955 hunter's luck.

NEFF

Conservation department estimates determined by road counts across the state, gives this year's kill of bucks, not including archery bag, at very close to 68,000 animals. About 425,000 hunters were in the field for the 16 day season.

The significant finding is the fact that more large bucks were taken, and that hunters claim they saw a better percentage of bucks this year.

The Conservation report gathered from careful appraisal of officer survey throughout the state, shows that the upper peninsula had 4 per cent less hunters than in 1954 while the lower half of the state showed a substantial increase particularly in the northeastern corner where about 37 per cent more hunters were on the move.

Reports from the central counties of Gladwin, Roscommon, Crawford and Otsego revealed about the same number of hunters as last year, according to Conservation officers.

Bucks of a given age are apparently no larger this year than last. As usual, the state's heaviest animals came from the southern half of the state, in the tempered climate of the "agricultural" belt, where there is little or no winter feed problem. Several animals of more than 300 pounds "on the hoof" were checked in below the Bay City-Muskegon line.

Many more bucks were taken in southern Michigan than last year. In the single county of Washtenaw 100 animals were reported — three times more than were shot in 1954. In Livingston County about 250 deer were harvested, which is double the former kill.

Florida Expects Record

The first night of greyhound racing attracted 12,180 patrons who wagered $309,064 on the program, a new state record for one night of betting on the dogs.

The admission price was hiked from 25 to 50 cents this season.

Decides to End It All

ESCANABA, Mich. (AP)—A three-point buck leaped 30 feet to its death through a door of the post office at nearby Masonville.

No one could explain the incident—except that it happened on the eve of the bow and arrow deer hunting season.

TV Tower Climber Placed in Hospital

GUTHRIE, Okla. (AP)—Asa Beck, 45-year-old cripple who climbed a television tower in Oklahoma City Sunday to draw attention to what he termed his family's dire plight, has been committed to Central State Hospital for mental treatment.

Logan County Judge Mildred Patterson yesterday ordered him to the mental institution at Norman on recommendation of a sanity commission.

Beck had told officers who rescued him from the 250-foot level of the KWTV tower that his family was starving. Gov. Raymond Gary later declared the Beck family was being cared for "in as satisfactory a manner as the law will permit." The family receives $136 a month in public welfare payments.

Police Reunite Motoring Family and Lost Boy, 11

PRYOR, Okla. (AP)—An Arkansas family driving with their eight children to Clarksville, Ark., lost one of their brood here yesterday but with the help of the Highway Patrol finally were reunited.

The family pulled into a service station, the father driving a truck and the mother an automobile towing a house trailer. When they departed they left behind an 11-year-old boy. The name of the family was not learned.

Trooper A. H. Freeny picked up the boy after the lad had started hitchhiking toward Arkansas. With the aid of two other patrol units he delivered the boy to his parents.

Each parent had thought the other had the boy.

Hollywood Headlines:

Jeff (Alice Gobel) Donnell Gets New Career Break

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—At last things are breaking brighter for Jeff Donnell who was a blue girl several months ago when she cancelled out as the real wife of Aldo Ray and the TV wife of George Gobel.

Now (in addition to being back on Gobel's show) Jeff has signed for her first movie in eight months, the leading lady with Jack Carson and Mickey Rooney in "Magnificent Roughnecks" for producer Herman Cohen at Allied Artists.

Several weeks ago it appeared that it might happen. But their meetings and telephone calls seem to be getting less and less frequent.

Come on, you two nice people, with things going so right in your careers, how about making it a clean sweep by getting together again?

CO-STAR FOR DEBBIE

The new leading man in Mrs. Eddie Fisher's life—that is on the screen—is Rod Taylor. He is Australia's answer to Robert Taylor, Cary Grant and all our other good-looking leading men.

Debbie and Rod will be teamed in "The Catered Affair" and this is really a break for young Taylor. He came up so fast in his native Australian films that he's been compared to some of our top young actors.

MGM holds a long-term contract with him and he'll make his debut with Debbie in "Catered Affair."

A posthumous Academy Award to Jimmy Dean would be, I think, an excellent idea. I've been flooded by fan mail saying that his performance in "East of Eden" is the best of this past year.

"Rebel Without a Cause" also is bringing in more mail than any other current picture.

I was looking over an autographed book which was sent to me by the whole company of "Giant" while Jimmy was working on that picture. He picked out the word "giant," and writing around it said: "To a giant of a heart, gratefully yours, Jimmy Dean."

Never in the history of motion pictures has a young man with only two released pictures left such a heartache and a void. The academy cannot very well ignore nor forget Jimmy.

GOLDWYNS TO TRAVEL

Just back from 11 weeks in New York, Sam Goldwyn set about arranging a trip that will take him and Mrs. G. (Frances) to the Orient. They sail the 1st of March for Tokyo, Hong Kong and the Philippines, to be gone two months.

It's not a pleasure trip by any means. Sam will manage to be in all the important Far Eastern cities when "Guys and Dolls" opens.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Met Joe Di Maggio walking in Beverly Hills. He told me he flew out from Chicago after the Sugar Ray Robinson-Bobo Olson fight. He didn't mention Marilyn and neither did I. He did say the fight was great.

A few blocks away, Clifton Webb and Bob Wanger caught up with me while I was window shopping. They, too, were getting a free look at the Christmas displays.

Leslie Caron is the first date of Frank Sinatra's who sat and knitted all during dinner. They were at the Oyster House.

Dorothy McGuire, Husband Each Sue for Divorce

BUNNELL, Fla. (AP)—Singer Dorothy McGuire, a member of the Arthur Godfrey broadcasting troupe, and her husband are suing each other for divorce. Both charge cruelty.

* * *

Miss McGuire, 27, has several times complained that her married life with Sgt. John Henry Brown of the Air Force was overcast by too much publicity.

* * *

Public interest in the marriage began two years ago when former Godfrey singer Julius La Rosa was dismissed from the troupe during a broadcast. At the time he said he loved Dorothy and wanted to marry her if she could gain her freedom.

The divorce suits were disclosed last night by Miss McGuire's lawyer Charles E. Booth. He said Brown filed the original suit here last Aug. 16, seven months after she publicly announced reconciliation.

* * *

Miss McGuire filed a countersuit Aug. 30 and the two are now waiting for a court decision on which suit will be heard first.

* * *

The couple, who have no children, married July 30, 1951, in Dorothy's hometown of Miamisburg, Ohio. Brown was later sent to Korea and his wife went on to entertainment fame as one of Godfrey's singing McGuire sisters.

The American Red Cross has about two million volunteer workers on its staff.

Kavanagh Issues Three New Opinions

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh held today that a candidate for office is disqualified from serving if he is convicted of a felony during his candidacy.

* * *

In another opinion, the Attorney General held that sheriffs have authority to require prisoners in their custody to take physical exams.

* * *

A third opinion, requested by F. Jack Neller, Calhoun County prosecuting attorney, held that a County Board of Supervisors cannot hire outside help to assist its equalization committee.

Southern Negro Factions Request Separate Schools

NEW YORK (AP) — Some Negro community groups in the South have expressed a preference for continuation of segregated schools, the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People reports.

* * *

The statement was made yesterday in connection with a petition in Henderson, Ky., by Negro residents asking the Board of Education to erect a consolidated school in the county for colored students.

* * *

The NAACP spokesman said that regardless of such requests, the association would support any individual in those communities who wanted to go to nonsegregated schools.

Another Pedestrian Hit in Mom's 'Battle Area'

DETROIT (AP) — A woman pedestrian was injured seriously today on Telegraph Road, 300 yards south of the intersection where Taylor Township mothers have been blockading traffic in an effort to get a signal light.

* * *

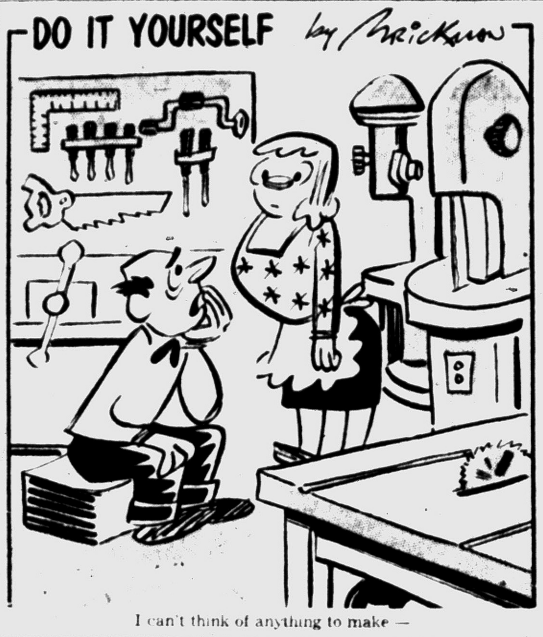

Mrs. Nellie Ball, 49, of Taylor Township, was struck by a car as she crossed Telegraph at Ames Road. She was taken to Wyandotte General Hospital.

Conley Persinger, 26, Detroit, identified by police as the driver, was released to appear pending further investigation.

The old-time steam packet river boat of 2,400 horsepower carried a crew of 33 men. Nowadays a diesel towboat of 3,600 horsepower can be operated by 17 men.

Late Stock Sale Causes Slump

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market was irregularly lower in the early afternoon today with the aircrafts strong and steels weak.

Changes covered a range of around 3 points lower to 2 points higher with most plus and minus signs small.

Trading was brisk at times with the pace ahead of yesterday's 2,430,000 shares. Aircrafts were up at the start on hopes aroused by Washington's enlarged estimates on air defense needs in the coming fiscal year.

Strength in that area, however, was more than offset by selling in the steels and some motors later in the day. Bethlehem and Chrysler was active and lower. Studebaker-Packard was higher again today on the news of an Air Force contract. American Motors gained a fraction on a better earnings picture.

Also higher were U S Rubber, Boeing, Glenn Martin, North American, Air Reduction and Schering.

Lower were Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Montgomery Ward, RCA, Consolidated Edison, Allied Chemical, American Tobacco, New York Central, Texas Co., Johns-Manville, and Distilleries Corp.

Although the Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at $179.70, the market headed down. Yesterday's average was off 20 cents, principally because of a late selloff of moderate size.

Prisoner to Testify at Robbery Hearing

A Pontiac man, now imprisoned after conviction of armed robbery, will testify today in the examination of an accused partner in the October holdup of Arnold's Gas Station, 4 E. Blvd. N.

Police did not know whether Billy E. White, 23, of 800 Young St., would implicate Lester L. Wathen, 30, of 1055 Vinewood Ave., in Municipal Court today.

They said Wathen had not admitted any of the other eight crimes in this area to which White confessed in November.

Bad Grammar, Too

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A burglar who couldn't even spell c-a-t broke into a downtown cigar store, William Gianastrasio, owner, told police yesterday. Cigarettes, cigars, cash, beer and sandwiches were taken and the place was left in a mess. Written on the wall was "The catts was here."

Buying Christmas Presents for a Lady?

Here Are Rules to Save You Trouble

* * *

There are generally two reasons. First, a gent can make a mistake very easily and then be hurt when his gift is exchanged. And second, there is some embarrassment attached to this kind of gift shopping.

* * *

So the first thing to do is avoid the embarrassment. This is done by staying out of the underthings departments. Let the women shop for these things themselves. The borderline is the nightgown counter.

But let the salesperson help you. In fact, demand it. You can always claim later that she forced it on you.

* * *

The newest fashions in nightgowns are "shorties" which come only to the knee. Avisco has a new selection this year that's just short of flamboyant.

It's a safe rule never to buy anything that's form-fitting like a suit or shoes or fitted blouse.

It's also a safe rule never to buy something that is part of your lady's personality like a hat.

It's also a good idea to stay away from styles that she doesn't usually wear. Like: A dressy dress if she wears suits or loafers if she wears high heels all the time.

And one other little thing. In this man's world women go by the simple philosophy that they can buy the gents things the gents would never buy for themselves. This means horrid neckties, too-loud shorts or buggy whips.

But it's really woman's world. And you can't buy her things she'd never buy for herself because she will, has or is going to buy them for herself.

So, stick to what you know she likes. And keep an ear open for the little hints that will plummet around your head.

Safe things to purchase are: Stockings, blouses, shirts, slippers, jewelry (the more expensive, the better), accessories like handbags, gloves, belts, and general articles where all you need are store sizes.

"Children hate to get clothing gifts, no matter how utilitarian. And this repugnance extends into puberty and thence into adulthood. I have always maintained . . ."

And then she was lost in the crowd.

But just for tentative suggestions, you might take a look at these few items, selected at random by a male who was shopping for a female:

MATCHED leather handbag, belt and gloves. The bag has hidden gusset — to hold everything.

SHIRT in tartan has convertible collar and button cuffs. Viyella flannel makes it washable.

Official Offers Bridge Proposal

State Could Save About $1 Million in Interest on Mackinac Span

LANSING (AP) — Lawrence A. Rubin, secretary of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, last night suggested two plans which he said could save the state up to a million dollars a year in interest on the Mackinac Bridge Bonds.

* * *

In a speech to the Governmental Accounts Assn., Rubin suggested that the state could sell faith and credit bonds at an interest rate of between 2¼ and 2½ per cent and use the proceeds to obtain the $79,800,000 in four per cent bonds already sold.

The full faith and credit bond would cost the authority three million dollars a year in interest instead of the $4,242,000 paid on the four per cent bonds, he said.

As an alternate, he said, the Legislature could put into effect a plan which would not need a vote of the people, which would be required if the state sold full faith and credit bonds.

* * *

Under the second financial proposal, the Legislature could guarantee interest and principal on a new bond issue, pledging highway funds for the purpose. This money would be required only if bridge revenues would be insufficient to meet interest costs and principal payments, Rubin said.

Chevrolet to Expand Factory in Bay City

BAY CITY (AP)—Ralph L. Powell, manager of the Bay City plant of Chevrolet Division, General Motors Corp., said yesterday the plant will be expanded with an addition north of the present one.

Powell said the new facilities will provide an additional 57,100 feet of floor space and more modern facilities for material handling and the production of carburetors. No cost estimate was given.

The project scheduled for completion by next fall will be built on the former Michigan Pipe Co. 12-acre site acquired by Chevrolet a year ago.

American Motors Loss Close to $7 Million

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp. says its net loss for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30 was $6,956,425 compared with a net loss of $11,071,273 in the previous year.

This year's loss followed tax recoveries of $9,700,000 while the 1954 loss was after tax recoveries of $11,590,000.

Jet Contract Swells Jobs in Detroit Plant

DETROIT (AP)—A new Air Force order to manufacture jet engine parts will increase employment in Studebaker-Packard Detroit plants by 2,000 persons, the company said today.

Current employment here is around 10,000.

George H. Brodie, company vice president, said the defense order marks the return of Studebaker-Packard to a major role as an Air Force producer since the predecessor companies, Studebaker and Packard, discontinued their jet engine programs early in 1954.

Brodie described the new contract as "one of the most important defense orders ever received by the company." He withheld the amount of the order on security reasons.

Production, he said, will be carried out in the former Packard main plant. Operations for production are expected to be completed early next year.

Collins, president, said lower prices and lower profits on the Scorpion F-89 Interceptors were responsible for the reduced sales and earnings.

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Food Fair Stores, Inc. announced net income for the 28 weeks ended Nov. 12 of $4,926,203, equal to $1.55 a common share. This compared with $3,947,639, or $1.23 a common share, in the same period last year. Sales increased to $240,735,784 from $207,904,723 in the 1954 period. Closed Clinics Await Vaccine

Will Probably Reopen in January if Serum Becomes Available

Salk polio vaccine clinics in Pontiac and Royal Oak, closed pending new shipments of the serum, probably will not be resumed until early next year, Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County health director said today.

Just back from a trip to Lansing where he was unable to procure additional Salk serum to serve the county's needs, Dr. Monroe terms it that additional vaccine may said the feeling at state headquarbegin to arrive "sometime in January."

"The vaccine is simply not being made fast enough to take care of the big demand," Dr. Monroe said. "We're terribly disappointed to be forced to discontinue the clinics temporarily, but there's nothing we can do until more vaccine arrives."

Vaccine has been allocated to Pontiac and Oakland County, and will be shipped as fast as the pharmaceutical firms are able to fill orders for the quantity needed, it was pointed out. It is expected that sufficient vaccine will arrive to protect the children in the Pontiac area in time for the next polio season.

Meininger Appointed Agent for Golf View

Harold A. Meininger, realtor, has been appointed exclusive sales agent for Golf View Subdivision at Long Lake, it was announced today by Harold Young, builder of the development.

The highly publicized Golf View development, one of the first custom developments inaugurated in the Long Lake area, has been acclaimed Michigan's outstanding split-level home community in the 23 to 35 thousand dollar price range. Each of these Golf View homes is designed to utilize the lake front and the golf course adjacent to the home sites.

The community pattern of individuality has been achieved by careful planning of ranch-type bi-level and tri-level home elevations. Each of these homes includes a 2-car over-sized attached garage, built-in oven and table top stove, along with many other unusual features.

The "Imperial" model features a built-in Hi-Fi music system in the kitchen and a walled patio. The "Endymion" model is priced at $24,500 and includes three bedrooms, ceramic tile bath with twin lavanettes and a spacious family activity room.

The Golf View models are located just off Union Lake road at Long Lake.

L. H. (LOU) MOORE

Racing Car Builder Joins Pontiac Staff

The appointment of L. H. (Lou) Moore to the engineering staff of the Pontiac Motor Division was announced today by Chief Engineer George A. Delaney.

Moore, who has been connected with auto racing since 1923, is noted as the only car owner and builder to have ever won five races at Indianapolis. According to Pontiac officials, he is also the only man to develop three consecutive winners of the "500" race (1947, 1948 and 1949).

In 1947 and 1948 his cars took both first and second places, and in 1949 won first and third places. His products also won the race in 1938 and 1941.

Moore will work on special engineering assignments and will have his headquarters in Indianapolis.

4 Teenagers Hurt as Car Hits Culvert

Four teenagers were hospitalized with cuts and bruises after an accident on Avon Road last night which totally destroyed the interior of the car in which they were riding.

Avon Center Hospital authorities said this morning Robert D. Schilke, 19; Donna LeVey, 14; and Richard Fortune, 17, all of Rochester, and Sharon Meleskey, 15, of Utica, all were in "good" condition.

Schilke, driver of the car, was unable to make a statement, but Oakland County sheriff's deputies said the car apparently had gone out of control driving west on Avon Road.

Electrical Output Sets Record for Third Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Electric output climbed to a record high last week—the third mark set in four weeks.

Edison Electric Institute reported that power production totaled 11,426,000,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 11,359,000,000 kilowatt hours the week before, and 16 per cent higher than the 9,846,000,000 kilowatt hours in the same week last year.

All sections of the country reported gains over the year-ago week. New England was ahead 9.7 per cent, Mid-Atlantic 8.6, Central Industrial 25.3, West Central 12.4, Southeast 15.5, South Central 12.6, Rocky Mountain 13.9, Pacific Northwest 19.1, and Pacific Southwest 12.7.

Climate in U.S. Has Its Oddities

Extreme Temperatures and Weather Are Found Throughout the Nation

WASHINGTON—North America's "temperate" climate produces contrasts in United States weather as extreme as any on earth.

* * *

Georgraphers and weathermen, fascinated by the vagaries of American climate, recently have published detailed summaries of what a "normal" swing of the seasons can bring.

There is nothing temperate about winter in much of the nation. Whereas central Florida can expect average January temperature of about 60 degree F., and New York, Cincinnati, and St. Louis about 30 degrees, low of minus 60 degrees have been felt in North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Colorado and Wyoming, 50 degrees in Minnesota, and 52 degrees in New York State.

Highest officially recognized temperature in this country was 134 degrees in Death Valley, California, on July 10, 1913—less than 3 degrees under the world's record high of 136.4 degrees, reached in a village in northwestern Libya in 1922.

Cheyenne, Wyoming, holds claim to being the most hail-struck city in the country with up to 10 hail storms in a normal year. But it cannot match the attested record of Potter, Nebraska, which was hit in 1928 with hail stones 17 inches in circumference, or nearly 6 inches in diameter.

* * *

As for snow, parts of the South rarely if ever see a flake, but western Maine, northern New York and Michigan, and the western mountains feel it's a light winter that doesn't bring more than 100 inches.

In 1906-07 at Tamarack, California, 884 inches of snow fell. California has had a 60-inch snow in a single day; western New York, snowiest region east of the Rockies, recorded 49 inches in two days.

AC Division to Build Plant in Milwaukee

FLINT (AP)—The AC Spark Plug Division of General Motors Corp. said yesterday it expects to begin construction early in 1956 on a new plant near Milwaukee, Wis.

AC said plans call for some 75,000 feet of space on a recently acquired tract of 160 acres in Oak Creek Township, south of the William Mitchell Airport. The new plant, described by AC as the first of several buildings to eventually be built on the site, is expected to be ready for occupancy in 1957.

The plant will be part of AC's expansion program for electronics and defense manufacturing work. The firm said it will continue to operate its several other Milwaukee plants.

State Will Boost Farm Products

Agriculture Commission OKs $131,000 Fund to Promote Program

LANSING (AP)—The State Agriculture Commission today approved a $131,000-a-year program for boosting the sale of Michigan farm products.

* * *

The commission said it will recommend the expanded marketing program to the 1956 session of the Legislature.

Edward C. Meade, commission member, said the state may be able to obtain half of the required $131,000 from federal Hope-Flanagan funds. He said the commission would attempt to prove eligibility for the program before the start of the next legislative session.

The new plan calls for enforcement of higher grades and standards, more inspection of farm products, an expanded reporting service to farmers and cooperation with Michigan State University in its farm price surveys.

The commission has not yet decided, Meade said, whether a new marketing division will be established in the department.

Cosmetics Big Items for Both Sexes

Sweet-smelling aromas, creamy lotions, cosmetics of all kinds — this year will make fine Christmas gifts for men and children as well as women.

If last Christmas is any indication, the men won't complain too much. And the children, at least the very young ones, won't be able to complain. And the women will love it.

The plain fact is that males — hairy chests bulging muscles and all the rest — like to smell nice. Retail surveys show top - brand lines in most department stores are near depletion long before the Christmas deadline.

But cosmetics are a for more extensive thing. Deodrants, colognes, hair tonics, water softeners, toilet essence and scented soap must also be included.

These are all things that no male likes to pick up for himself. They may unblushingly accept them — and use them — as Christmas gifts, however.

Even babies, both male and female, will receive cosmetics this Christmas.

Speaking of cosmetics, it's best not to overlook women completely. Their favorite Christmas gift is perfumes.

Scented products such as perfume should be given to women depending upon their ages and/or inclinations.

Pontiac City Affairs

More Studies Scheduled in Complaints About Plant

City Manager Walter K. Williman told the City Commissioners last night that continued studies would be made regarding complaints of excessive noise, smoke and dust from the Baldwin Rubber Co. plant.

The matter was brought to the attention of the City Commission Nov. 1 when a number of persons who live near the South Boulevard plant requested city help in eliminating noise and dirt they said came from the plant.

"The company is putting a rubber sleeve around the offending equipment to cut down on the noise," Willman declared. "They still have to eliminate some rubber particles escaping from the plant but the surveys show that the dust has been fairly well contained."

Other action at last night's meeting, saw the Commission adopt an amendment to the $600,000 municipal parking lot ordinance which moved the bond redemption date to 1961 instead of the original 1959.

City Attorney William A. Ewart was given the authority to sign notices of condemnation of substandard homes discovered in the city upon the recommendation of Mayor William W. Donaldson.

The Commission also paid tribute to the late Henry H. Harnack who died last Wednesday in the form of resolution to be presented to his family. Harnack had served on the Commission from 1932 to 1938.

The Commission also confirmed special assessment rolls for curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Park Place from Hovey to O'Riley street, and for a water main in Featherstone avenue from Kenilworth avenue to the main at Belt Line Railroad.

A deed from the school district of the city of Pontiac was accepted for part of Lot 37, Assessor's Plat 13 in the relocation of Court drive.

Al lother action pretained to the City Plan Commission and included:

Adoption of an ordinance to rezone Lot 38, A.P. 13 and vacated Court drive to Commercial 1 and Residential 1.

Adoption of an ordinance to amend ordinance 944 to rezone to Commercial 1 and Residential 2 property lying east of Perry and Paddock streets known as Bryan French property.

Adoption of an ordinance to amend building zone ordinance to amend subdivision 3, section 7 concerning bottling works.

The Commission also heard a report from the City Planner, Henry C. Smith, recommending vacating of portion of Crescent drive. A public hearing on the matter will be set at a later date.

* * *

The subject of extending Stanley aveunue over the Belt Line Railroad to Walton boulevard to provide easier access for some 200 Wever Junior High students was referred to the City Manager for possible inclusion in the 1956 capital improvement program.

Bone Sterilized by Atomic Rays

UM Research Evolves Technique for Treating Transplants With Cobalt

CLEVELAND (AP) — Another new use for atomic energy-sterilizing human bone for use in transplanting—was described yesterday.

* * *

A spokesman for the university of Michigan said researchers there have developed a technique for treating bone with radiations from radioactive cobalt prior to grafting into a diseased or injured person's body.

The technique is designed to assure that bone kept in "bone banks" is free of bacterial contamination before use in surgery.

BONE PRESERVED

Dr. Donald Katz, who said the research was done by a team headed by L. E. Brownell, declared that bone so treated has been used as transplants in about 40 cases and that there is "much less inflammation afterwards" compared with bone sterilized by other methods such as heat.

Katz told reporters about it during the Nuclear Science and Engineering Congress here. He said that the work up to now has been on a small research basis.

* * *

But he said the university researchers have designed a proposed instrument for using various radioactive materials for the purpose—an instrument he said conceivably might find wide use in hospitals.

Ex-Professor Charges 34 Were Reds in Government

CHICAGO — A former college professor has named some 34 persons he said he knew as fellow Communists in the federal government before and during World War II. Included were 16 lawyers employed by the National Labor Relations Board.

* * *

Prof. Herbert Fuchs, 50, testified in Chicago yesterday before the House Un-American Activities Committee. He was dropped from the law faculty of American University in Washington after testifying before the committee in a closed session July 15. The hearings continue today.

ALL IN RED CELL

Fuchs, who said he dropped out of the Communist party in 1946, declared the 16 NLRB lawyers were members with him of a Communist party cell in the NLRB from 1937 to 1942.

* * *

He also named Communists he said were on the old War Labor Board and other government agencies in the Democratic administrations of former Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman.

DENY CHARGES

Lester Asher of Chicago, one of the former NLRB attorneys named by Fuchs, said when he joined the agency in 1938 "Fuchs tried to sell me on communism and was unsuccessful." Asher said he attended one or two cell meetings and quit.

LOYAL AMERICAN

In Washington, Ruth Weyand, another former NLRB attorney, said Fuch's testimony was "nonsense." She said, "He never organized me. I am now and always have been a loyal American."

In Denver, Edward Scheunemann denied Fuch's accusation and, speaking for himself and his wife Cecilia, also named, said: "I have never been and am not now a member of the Communist part."

Louis G. Silverberg, NLRB press chief, said in Washington that none of the 16 attorneys named by Fuchs is now employed by the agency.

Retired Fighter Seeks Revenge

Pickets Cafe Because Owner Complains of His Drinking Habits

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP)—George Vassilopulous invited Domingo Valin, 39, yesterday to get out of his cafe.

George complained that Domingo never bought more than a cup of coffee when he dropped in and sat around with coffee-drinking friends.

Domingo, who said he once was a Joe Louis sparring mate and claims a 1939 knockout of Lee Savold, reacted in a manner unexpected of a retired pugilist.

He checked a point with a lawyer friend, Roy Pucci. Assured he had a constitutional right to picket George's place, he penciled on two of George's blank menu sheets:

"This place unfair to Domingo!"

"Want a job?" asked Domingo. Arquimedes Dellar and Angelo Gonzales quickly took his offer of $1.35 an hour to take over the picketing.

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — "Sleeping Beauty," a spectacular with the Sadler's Wells troupe, was a lovely, delicate classical dancing party starring Margot Fonteyn . . .

"Dream Girl" on TV lacked the dreamy spun-candy lightness of the stage original, and the fault may lie in the miscasting in the whimsical title roal of Vivian Blaine, who is not an ethereal girl.

Hal March also gave his part a straight reading an dthe whole play suffered from an earnestness and literal mood that yanked its starry-eyed stage whimsy out by the roots.

"It's Always Jan" is climbing nicely in the newest Trendex nose-count for the simple reason the show has got lots better since its discouraging start . . .

Lots of currently good shows started clumsily—"Climax" is a case in recent point, and "My Little Margie," "Meet Millie" and others did handily given time to improve.

Janis Paige is a bright comedienne, with aptitudes thtat include good acting, bright modern clowning, a sharpely contour and what show people call "heart," miles and miles and miles of heart.

HAPPY NANETTE

All the surveys (Nielsen, ARB, Pulse and Videodex) rate the $64,000 Question tops in TV by a million or two viewers . . .

NBC hopes 13-year-old Bill McIver's lovely Boy-soprano will not dive to baritone before Christmas Day, when Bill is scheduled to sing "Amahl and the Night Visitors" for the fourth time.

The NBC opera (by Gain Carlo Menotti) will be given its sixth NBC-TV production this year on the Alcoa Hour Dec. 25 . . .

HELP FOR MILTIE

NBC will help fight Uncle Miltie back into the top ratings (he has slipped considerably against Phil Silvers) by handing him Martin & Lewis as guests on his next show.

Keith Andes of the Broadway musicals and occasional TV spectaculars will play a cowboy in a new teleseries, "The Sheriff" . . .

Charles Boyer will guest-star in an upcoming "I Love Lucy" set in fictional Paris . . .

Jerry Lewis will guest with Bob Cummings' TV show—without Dean Martin . . .

CBS-TV offered Berry Sullivan a three-year exclusive contract for one 90-minute spectacular drama a season, promised by Barry's powerful "Caine Mutiny" TV emoting.

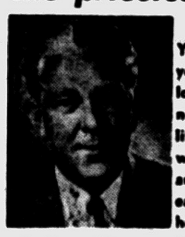

PERRY IN FLORIDA

Perry Como and his Roselle flew to Florida after his last show to give Pierino a few days of sun to bake out what's left of his virus.

Noel Coward has ordered a full month's rehearsals for his "Blithe Spirit" spectacular, with Lauren Bacall playing the gay and heckling ghost wife. Claudette Colbert will be Noel's living but not so lively spouse.

Dems See Fight on Dixon-Yates

Demand Congress Act in 'No Holds Barred' Trial of Contract

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic foes of the repudiated Dixon-Yates contract want Congress to take a direct hand in a "no holds barred" court fight against the private power group's claim for 3½ million dollars in damages.

* * *

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) announced yesterday he plans to introduce a resolution calling for appointment of a special counsel to fight the Dixon-Yates suit, filed earlier in the day at the U.S. Court of Claims.

Kefauver thus joined Sen. Anderson (D-NM), who said such a special lawyer should make certain the Justice Department puts up "no milk toast defense" against the Dixon-Yates claim. The Justice Department regularly defends the government in suits against it.

There was no immediate comment from the department.

* * *

Anderson, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said the proposed special counsel should also hunt for evidence of possible law violations in connection with negotiations which led up to the signing of the power contract more than a year ago.

Make Yule Gift From Deer Skin

Pelts From Bucks Form Fine Holiday Presents for Wife, Expert Says

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A University of Michigan wildlife expert has some "do it yourself" hints for the huntsman who's bagged his buck, but hasn't bought his wife's Christmas present, yet.

If you've already skinned your deer, forget it. But for the 70,000 huntsmen who bag a buck in Michigan this season, there's a way to save a buck at home.

TAKE QUICK ACTION

But you've got to start quickly. The deer skin, says Prof. Chase, needs "care from the moment it's taken off the deer."

Remove the flesh and fat from the skin and put it hair down on a flat surface. Then rub medium coarse or ordinary table salt into the inside of the skin.

If you use medium coarse salt, two pounds ought to do the trick. You'll need four pounds of table salt for the same job. Then, let the hide cure for two days, laying flat.

"When it's fairly dry, send it express to a tannery," Prof. Chase says. Don't bother tanning it yourself since the tannery will only charge about $3.50 for a medium size skin and they'll do an expert job.

LONG PROCESS

The tanning process takes about five or six months, which is late for Christmas, but if you're desperate for a Christmas present, you can always promise that it's coming. It will also arrive in time to make a good argument for your next hunting trip.

Many tanneries make the skin up into garments on request and some offer a choice of two colors. They will also advise you on what kind of garment your buckskin would make best. Whatever you choose, it will be washable.

A deer weighing less than 50 pounds may produce a pair of women's gloves. Several hides of deer between 75 and 100 pounds will make a jacket, but one skin from a deer weighing 135 - 160 pounds will do the same job.

A Slight Revision

U.S. to Build Berlin Site

WASHINGTON (INS)—The construction of an American-sponsored conference hall in West Berlin intended to be "an expression in stone and mortar of the right of free speech" will be completed by 1957. The State Department said the cost will be four million dollars.

North Carolina produces more wooden household furniture than any other state. It accounts for 17 per cent of the national total.

Hospital Unit Opening

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The new two-million dollar Children's Psychiatric Unit at the University of Michigan Hospital will be opened to the public Thursday and Friday. It will be the onyy opportunity for the public to view the new medical facilities before emotionally disturbed children are accepted as patients.

Washington Boasts

SEATTLE—Nearly 1,000 varieties of flowering plants bloom among the Olympic Mountains of Washington says the National Geographic Society. About ten of them are found nowhere else in the world. They grow mainly on the slopes and ridgetops above 4,000 feet.
