Has $32,000 Left Out of $64,000

Marine Cooking Expert, Aided by Dad, Wins Biggest Prize in Video History

NEW YORK (INS)—A 28-year-old Marine Corps Captain who couldn't pass a simple boy scout cooking test today enjoyed the rich $64,000 dessert of making Radio-TV history.

Capt. Richard S. McCutchen utilized his encyclopedic knowledge of foods and drink to breeze through a seven-part question last night in becoming the first to win the top prize on TV's "The $64,000 Question."

The lid finally came off the pot that has been cooking for 5 weeks when McCutchen ladled out the description of five courses and two wines served by King George VI to the President of France in 1939.

After taxes, the prize will still net him about $32,000. There was no hesitation on his part when he was asked by Master of Ceremonies Hal March if he wanted to try for the $64,000.

"I've known my answer a long time," he said.

"I belong to a very proud organization and the answer is—go."

He then called upon the Navy—in the person of his retired Captain-father to be his advisor for the final question.

McCutchen was asked to identify Consumme Quenelle, Filet De Truite Saumonee, Petits Pois a la Francaise, Sauce Maltaise served with asparagus, Corbeille, Chateau Yquem and Madeira Sercial wines.

FATHER-SON HUDDLE

After a huddle with his father in an isolation booth where he could not hear or see anything except the question posed by March, the cool-eyed Marine set off a roar inside the crowded midtown New York studio when he answered:

* * *

1. Consumme Quenelle is a clear soup. Quenelle are dumplings or meat balls.

2. Filet De Truite Saumonee... sea trout or salt water trout or salmon trout. A fillet or slice of sea trout.

3. Petits Pois a la Francaise are cooked peas with onion, butter, sugar.

4. Sauce Maltaise is a Hollandaise Sauce with some blood-orange juice.

5. Corbeille is a basket of fruit.

6. Chateau is a French sweet white wine—a Sauterne.

7. Madeira Sercial is a white wine that tends to be dry rather than sweet.

The audience—which included his wife, mother and a delegation of Marines—broke out in wild applause above which March could barely be heard shouting "You're right for $64,000."

McCutchen almost immediately received a check covering the winnings — of which the Federal and New York governments will get about half as taxes. He plans to deposit it in the bank for his children's education.

In his own words, the captain says: "Weeks ago, when I first wrote in to "The $64,000 Question" show, it was because I wanted a marine to be the first one to answer the big one.

"Today I'm a man whose dream came true.

"I knew from the very first that I would have to go after the summit. Call it corny, or silly or anything you like, I was positive that as soon as I stuck my neck out for that long walk to the end of all those double or nothings, there would be no turning back.

"So you see it was my outfit that was the silent partner in this deal all the time.

"The men in it deserve every bit as much credit as I do right down to the many Marines who showed up at the studio and made sure I wouldn't let them down.

"I can also say that I had the fleeting worries of a man who is within hailing distance of a lot of dough, but might flub the chance to get it.

"After all, a Marine Captain doesn't make an awful lot of money. I have three kids to feed and educate. I was thinking now I hoped I wouldn't miss the boat for them — and worrying about that, A little.

"But I can honestly say that after I got into the pressure cooker with that wonderful dad of mine (retired Navy Capt. John C. McCutchen), all mercenary worries vanished.

"From that moment on, it was only the mission that counted and my only worry was that I would fail it."

School Officials Deny Charges

Hearing Slated Monday on Pontiac Attorney's Segregation Suit

Top Pontiac school officials today denied any attempt at segregation was intended in locating the Lake Street School and said the site was picked because it was the best available.

A suit was filed yesterday in Detroit Federal Court by Pontiac attorney Milton R. Henry claiming the school board's action in selecting the site amounted to segregation and violates two U. S. Supreme Court rulings ordering integration in public school systems.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People yesterday voiced support of the suit in a statement by Edward M. Turner, head of the NAACP's Michigan Conference.

Filed on behalf of Henry's daughter, Shannon, 6, the bill of complaint asks $1,000 damages against each of seven board members and a court ruling voiding

Nonsupport Plea Readily Admitted by Truthful Man

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The man, charged with nonsupport, stood before Judge Edwin Babylon in Municipal Court yesterday.

"Is it true," the judge asked, "that you haven't supported this woman for the past year?"

"It is, your honor," the man replied.

"And these children," the judge went on, "you haven't contributed anything to their support in the same period?"

"That is correct, your honor."

"Do you have anything to say in your defense?" the judge asked.

"Nothing, your honor, except that I never saw any of them before."

A check of the docket showed the wrong defendant was being tried.

10 U.S. Citizens Now Traveling Freedom Road

Hong Kong Expecting Commie-Freed Group 'At Any Moment'

HONG KONG (INS) — Ten Americans who spent a total of 37 years in Chinese prisons from 1950 onwards are en route today to Hong Kong and freedom.

American Red Cross official Richard Tomlin, who was sent from the Philippines to supervise the release, said:

"I expect we will see them Thursday at Lowu bridge, or at least be advised then of the definite release date."

The 10 will be the first batch of American civilians to be freed under the Geneva agreement reached between American and Chinese Communist negotiators last Saturday.

The Peiping government has agreed to set free all U. S. civilians remaining in Communist China, and there are an estimated 41 of them.

It agreed on Sept. 6 in the first "break" of the negotiations to release 12 persons, and then agreed last Saturday to free the remaining 29.

THE RELEASED

The ten who are expected to come out of China by way of the British crown colony are:

Lawrence Buol, 34, of Stockton, Calif., a six-foot former Marine who was flight operations chief for the United States-operated civil air transport company when he was captured in southwestern China Jan. 15, 1950. He has been in jail the longest of those still held in China.

The Rev. Harold W. Rigney, 54, of Chicago, who was rector of Fu Jen University in Peiping until his arrest in July, 1951, as an "imperialist enemy of the people."

Dilmus T. Kanady, 36, of Houston, Tex., who was manager of a cotton firm in Shanghai.

The Rev. Levi Lovegren, of Seattle, Wash., a Baptist missionary arrested on espionage charges in 1951.

LEPER MISSIONARY

Dorothy Middleton, of Cicero, Ill., a missionary at a leper colony.

Sarah Perkins, of New York, a Presbyterian missionary.

Walter A. Rickett, of Seattle, a Fulbright scholar at Peiping University. His wife, Mrs. Adele A. Rickett, was released early this year.

The Rev. Frederick D. Gordon, 58, of Somerset, Ohio.

The Rev. Joseph E. Hyde, 48, of Lowell, Mass.

The Rev. James Joyce, 56, of Clinton, Mass.

Red Cross official Tomlin will go to Lowu to make an already scheduled delivery of mercy packages to the Chinese Red Cross, and officials expected that the release of the ten persons would coincide — but the date was uncertain.

Wrestle Hitch in African Plan

French Politicos Meet After Pinay Raps Plea for Sultan to Resign

PARIS (INS) — The French government's "Committee of Five" met today to try to overcome the last-minute hitch in the implementation of Premier Edgar Faure's Moroccan new deal plan.

The hitch developed when Faure was forced to postpone delivery of a letter to Moroccan Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa suggesting that he step down from the throne.

The letter from French President Rene Coty was viewed as the first step in settling the Moroccan crisis but its delivery was postponed as the result of Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay's heated opposition.

In addition, Faure's instructions to Lt. Gen Pierre de Latour to "ease out" Ben Arafa by today compelled the Premier to telegraph De Latour in the Moroccan capital of Rabat to halt delivery.

Pinay reportedly held that Coty's letter did not contain sufficient guarantees to Ben Arafa that the former sultan, Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, would not be allowed to reclaim the throne.

Cloudy, Mild Weather Forecast for Thursday

Partly cloudy skies and continued mild weather are forecast for the Pontiac area tonight and Thursday. Tomorrow's peak temperature is expected to hit near 80 following a low of 54-58 tonight.

The mercury reached 78 degrees in downtown Pontiac at 2 p. m., rising from an 8 a. m. reading of 61.

Long, Long Way to Go

OVER HIS HEAD — Larry Pattern, Grand Rapids five-year-old who has just entered kindergarten, really is overshadowed by the basic textbooks he's due to study between now and the time he enters high school. Jay L. Pyiman, assistant superintendent of schools, adds one more, number 87, to Larry's load of brain builders. Larry doesn't seem worried; he can't read yet.

Mother of First Winner Takes Bonanzagram Prize

A mother who paid no attention to the law of averages emerged today as the second and final winner of the Pontiac Press Bonanzagram Contest. Her son was the first winner.

Winner of the $1,100 prize is Mrs. Irene Crisp, of 1570 N. Perry St. She had four errors on her winning entry, the only one filed with but four mistakes.

Her son, William A. Crisp Jr., was the first Bonanzagram winner. He won $1,400 nearly three months ago and is now using the money to help build a new home.

Mrs. Crisp, a 49-year-old grandmother of three, is vacationing with her husband, William A., at Lake Au Train in the Upper Peninsula and was notified of her reward by telegram.

The telegram erroneously stated that she had won $11 and her first excited question was "Did I win $11 or $1,100?"

The Crisps will remain on their vacation through next week. She will pick up her check at the Press before returning to her job as a secretary at the Pontiac Motor Division. Her husband is a Pontiac police captain.

According to her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Crisp has sent in two or three entries almost every week of the 25-week contest. "She decided to work harder than ever after Bill won," said the younger Mrs. Crisp.

Her son said he and his mother used to work on the puzzles together when the contest started. But they haven't helped each other recently. "I was up north on vacation myself when she prepared the answers to this last one," he said.

More than 55,000 entries were sent in during the puzzle contest, which has now ended.

Injuries Fatal to Pontiac Boy

Student, 14, Dies After Being Struck by Auto Monday Afternoon

Fourteen-year-old John J. King, struck by a car while returning home from Lincoln Junior High School Monday, died this morning at Pontiac General Hospital.

This was the first traffic death of a student during the current school year.

The victim, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. King, of 105 E. Brooklyn Ave., was struck by a car driven by Robert D. Hobson, 20, on Baldwin Avenue near Montcalm Street. Hobson, of 1832 Parkdale Ave., was scheduled to be questioned later today.

Hobson told Pontiac Police that the youth ran into his path from between parked cars.

Meister Ousts Bill Campbell by 4-3 Margin

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Veteran Ed Meister of Cleveland shot one-over-par golf today, caught Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., with his nose dripping from hay fever and his shots in bad working order and eliminated the U.S. Walker Cup captain from the National Amateur Golf Championship in the third round.

Meister's winning margin was 4 and 3.

Results of today's third round matches:

Joe E. Campbell, Anderson, Ind., defeated Arthur R. Hoff, La Grange, Ill., 2 up.

William Hyndman III, Abington, Pa., defeated Frank Souchak, Oakmont, Pa., 4 and 3.

James B. McHale, Newton Square, Pa., defeated Robert Brue, Milwaukee, 7 and 6.

Annexation Bid Tabled by City

Shopping Site Planner Asks Bloomfield Board to Postpone Action

Action on a request for Pontiac to annex a 145-acre shopping center site in Bloomfield Township was tabled by the City Commission last night following "temporary" withdrawal of the request by the center's developer.

The Commission made it clear that the matter can be brought up for consideration at any time.

Commissioners agreed that before any new move is made they want written word from Bloomfield Township stating exactly what action its board has taken.

The developer, Bernard Edelman, of Detroit, who "temporarily" withdrew his request last week, at earlier Commission meetings said the township board had approved the annexation.

No official confirmation of that has been received from Bloomfield although City Manager Walter K. Willman sent a letter asking it last Wednesday.

Bloomfield Supervisor David E. Anderson told the Pontiac Press today he thought it was not necessary to answer the inquiry after reading that Edelman dropped his request to the City Commission.

Anderson revealed that Edelman appeared before the township board Monday night, asking the board to wait a week before taking any final action on the annexation. The board agreed, he said.

Anderson said the board at its July meeting gave its "consent, not approval" to the annexation proposal. Final sanction was withheld pending solution of the questions of traffic, drainage and commercial-use restrictions, he said.

No solutions were presented to these problems, he said, and the board was set to "wipe it off the books" at Monday's meeting. Since the board meets monthly, a special meeting would have to be called if the matter were to be considered next week, the supervisor pointed out.

Meanwhile, the Commission directed Willman to have a survey made of proposed annexation needs and a plan for future annexation drawn up.

QUEBEC (AP)—The province of Quebec had its first snowfall yesterday. It snowed for three hours in Laurentide Park, 40 miles north of here, and left a covering over a large area.

Aide to Dulles Sees Russians Changing Tune

Reds Now Recognize Bonn Regime, Agree to Return PWs

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

WASHINGTON — A government spokesman said today Russia's diplomatic recognition of the West German government means "the abandonment by the Soviet Union of its bankrupt German policy."

State Department press officer Henry Suydam declared that the Soviet action "is a tribute to the success of the constructive policy which the Western governments and the German Federal Republic have consistently pursued.

Suydam in effect asserted that the agreement reached by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin marked a considerable victory for the West.

Bulganin invited Adenauer to Moscow to open diplomatic relations "over the head" of the Communist government in East Germany, Suydam said.

In return for diplomatic recognition, Adenauer obtained an agreement by the Soviet government to release German citizens—notably soldiers from World War II—held in Russia.

Suydam's statement was the first official American reaction although it was known that State Department leaders believed Adenauer had made the best bargain possible with the Russians.

Suydam said that in 1947 at the foreign ministers meeting in Moscow, Russia blocked German economic and political unity.

He noted that in the years since then the Western powers had unified Western Germany and brought it to the point of becoming an armed ally within the Western alliance.

RUSSIA ACTS

In Moscow, the Soviet Union acted today to establish diplomatic relations with West Germany and to release all German prisoners of war remaining from the Nazi invasion that stabbed Moscow's outskirts 14 years ago.

Adenauer, before leaving Moscow for a hero's welcome in his homeland, said the Russians promised him they would set the prisoner-release machinery in motion today — by the time "we have reached Bonn."

As he was leaving, the Chancellor said to Bulganin: "I hope we see each other again and that we see each other also in Bonn."

Army Officials, Wilson Confer in Bloomfield

Three top Army and Defense Department officials arrived at Secretary of Defense C. E. Wilson's Bloomfield Hills home today to discuss looming cuts in the Army's budget.

Conferring with Wilson were Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker, Army Chief of Staff Gen. Maxwell Taylor and Deputy Defense Secretary Reuben B. Robertson.

It was expected Brucker and Taylor would attempt to impress Wilson with the importance of keeping the Army budget at roughly 9 billion dollars—its share of the estimated 34-billion dollar defense budget for the current fiscal year.

The armed services have shown concern over reports the administration might cut Defense Department spending by a billion dollars in an effort to balance the budget.

GMC Truck Sales Rise During August

GMC Truck domestic sales during August rose to 9,345 units, the highest month's sales total since September 1951, it was announced today by R. C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager for the GMC Truck and Coach Division.

August sales were 66.8 per cent higher than in the corresponding month of 1954, Woodhouse said. In the two and one-half ton and up GMC weight classifications, sales were 117 per cent higher than in the comparative period a year ago.

Mackinac Bridge to Rise 150 Feet Above Water

By JOE HAAS
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

MACKINAW CITY — The suspension span of 3,800 feet at the $100 million Mackinac Straits bridge now under construction is much closer to the south shore than to the north. This is the span where the floor of the bridge reaches its greatest height, 150 feet above the water.

Under this span the Great Lakes commerce will pass. It is in the deepest part of the channel, which amply meets the requirements of the ocean going ships with the heaviest draft that ever can come this way, even after the St. Lawrence Seaway is completed.

Anything that plies the seven seas can here pass under the bridge, with several feet to spare, both for its hull at the bottom and clearance for its highest mast at the top.

This greatest channel depth is so close to the Mackinaw City side that the approach to the suspension span is over ten times as long on the St. Ignace side.

STEEL CAISSONS

The caissons on the bridge are fabricated entirely of steel. They are the cylindrical forms which support the bridge when they are filled with concrete after they have been driven down to their rock foundation.

The caissons for the two tower piers each are 116 feet in diameter, and it was necessary to drive the northerly one to a depth of 201 feet below the surface of the water. Smaller cement-filled caissons were used for the other piers.

Steel to the amount of 2,586 tons went into the outside walls of the caissons. To fill them 438,000 cubic yards of concrete were used. This would build a 22-foot pavement with heavy foundation for a distance of 135 miles.

The cement that went into the anchorages and other work at the bridge would build a similar highway several hundred miles long.

The first sections of the steel caissons were assembled at Toledo or Alpena and floated to the site of the bridge with only enough cement in them to keep them upright.

48-FOOT ROADWAY

The roadway on the bridge will be 48 feet wide, carrying two lanes of traffic in each direction. The two outer lanes will be 12 feet wide, and the inner lanes each 11 feet wide, with a raised two-foot mall in the middle.

Besides the roadway, two 3-foot sidewalks will be provided for maintenance work and emergency use. Pedestrians will not be allowed on the bridge.

For the accommodation of those not in cars or busses, a shutter service will undoubtedly be available for crossing. This probably will be at a somewhat higher charge than the 25-cent rate now levied foot passengers on the ferries.

The average crossing time on the five ferries now is 53 minutes, although the new "Vacationland" makes it about ten minutes less than that. On the bridge it will be less than ten minutes over the entire structure.

Practically all of the other large suspension bridges have their anchorages far inland, in order to get the desired raise at the center of the suspension without too steep grades.

But the ends of the Mackinac bridge approach each shore at a very slight rise above ground level, there being ample room to get the necessary rise on the long approaches. Here the suspension anchorages are under water at a considerable distance from shore.

Working on the bridge are 50 pieces of floating equipment, including ten of the most powerful "whirley" derricks ever built, and five boats on which to mount them.

It is claimed to be the greatest assemblage of such equipment ever to work on one project at the same time. Some of these derricks have "clam shells" that hoist several tons and dump it at any spot the operator designates within a 200-foot circle or more, if he can get a good "swing" at it.

This equipment represents an investment of over four million dollars and is the property of the American Bridge Division of U.S. Steel Corporation.

Deny Request to Return Used Auto Parts License

The City Commission last night turned down one request to reinstate a used auto parts license and referred a second to the city manager for study. Issuance of the licenses was refused earlier because of zoning restrictions.

Received and filed was the request from General Auto Parts, 543-555 S. Saginaw St.

After affidavits stating the M&S Auto Parts had been operating at 391-401 S. Saginaw St. long enough to qualify for a license as a "non-conforming" operation, the commission referred the matter to city manager Walter K. Willman. He will study it and report at the informal meeting of Sept. 29.

In other action, the commission authorized the sale of $1,425,000 worth of temporary notes to finance the Lakeside Homes Project. Sale of the notes is a yearly procedure.

ESTIMATES PRESENTED

Engineer's estimates were presented for sanitary sewer on the north side of Columbia avenue from Baldwin to Hollywood and for a water main in Telegraph road from Orchard Lake to Golf. Public hearings will be held next Tuesday.

Public necessity was declared for a sanitary sewer in Howland avenue from Dellwood to Luther, a storm drain in Dellwood avenue from trunk drain west of Earlmoor to Howland, and curb, gutter and drainage on Howland from California to Luther.

Also declared a public necessity was curb, gutter, blacktop and sidewalk on portions of East boulevard, Granada drive, Valencia drive and Delray place.

The commission approved an agreement and maintenance bond for sewer and water line installations in Glenwood Manor Subdivision, on the northwest side of the city.

Also approved was a $36,520 contract for sidewalk construction.

First reading was given an ordinance rezoning three lots at Kinney Rd. and Oakland Ave. to Commercial 1 classification. A public hearing on it will be held Oct. 4.

NEW LICENSE ISSUED

A new package beer and wine license (SDM) was issued to Bernard J. Burch, 158 Baldwin Ave. The move passed by a 6-1 vote.

Everett Lacey was dropped as partner in an SDM license at 340 Osmun St. and transfer of ownership of Class C and tavern licenses at 928 Mount Clemens St. was sanctioned.

Approval also was given changing a local beer distributorship from a partnership to a corporation.

Following public hearings, the city assessor was authorized to prepare special assessment rolls for the following:

Recap street and sidewalk replacement on Carlton court from Saginaw to end of street.

Storm drain: Terry avenue from Terry Lake to Dresden; Parview avenue from Terry Lake to Parkdale; Parkdale avenue from Woodland to alley southwest of Kennett; Dresden avenue from Woodland to 250 feet west of Hollywood; Woodland drive from Dresden north to trunk sewer.

A public hearing also was held on rezoning to Residential 1 land west of Stanley avenue and north of Ypsilanti avenue.

A resolution to receive special assessment roll for curb, gutter and drainage on Sylvan court from Orchard Lake to 50 feet west of Myra was passed and hearing set for Tuesday.

Melvindale Man Taken by State Troopers After He Shoots Up Place

FLAT ROCK (UP)—A 28-year-old Melvindale man was disarmed by two state policemen today after he terrorized a restaurant waitress and five customers for half an hour by firing nine shots.

* * *

Kenneth Smith, booked on a charge of investigation of assault with intent to kill, told police he went on his rampage because, "no one likes me and everyone is mean to me."

State policemen Ronald Schoonmaker and Cecil Ojala of the Flat Rock post said Smith's brief reign of terror began when he entered a restaurant on U.S. 24, four miles south of here, and demanded a hamburg and fried potatoes. He brandished an automatic pistol to back up his demands.

When he thought the waitress did not move fast enough, Smith fired a couple of warning shots and got his hamburg in a hurry.

OTHER SHOTS

Smith fired several other shots, one of them just missing a customer who had tried to slip out the back door.

A customer, Bobby Franks, 20, of Romulus, finally made a break for the front door and escaped as Smith fired at him. Franks ran to a nearby tavern and telephoned state police.

When the two troopers arrived, Smith was lying on the ground near an auto. They said he jumped to his feet as they neared him and that he pointed his pistol at them.

* * *

The troopers jumped Smith and disarmed him in a brief struggle. They said there was still one live cartridge in the 10-shot clip in the automatic.

WASHINGTON (INS) — Cleveland Indians president Myron Wilson announced in Washington today that General Manager Hank Greenberg has signed a one-year contract carrying him through the 1956 season.

The one-year contract came as a surprise, since it was expected that Greenberg would ink a two-year, or three-year agreement.

In signing the contract, Greenberg ended speculation that he might leave the Indians after this season. Various reports had the former homerun king going to the Pittsburgh Pirates in some executive capacity.

Education Board Meets Tonight

Schools' Fund-Raising Subscription Sales Due for Discussion

The Pontiac Board of Education tonight is expected to discuss possible changes in its policy regarding magazine subscription drives in schools.

The regular monthly meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in board offices at 40 Patterson St.

Five schools sponsored subscription campaigns last year to obtain money to bolster educational activities and purchase equipment.

"The question has been raised whether it is proper for a public school system to engage in competitive commercial enterprises to raise money," explained Superintendent Dr. Dana P. Whitmer.

Other action scheduled includes a report on changes in teacher, maintenance and secretarial personnel.

Members of the Professional Growth Committee are scheduled to appear and explain their request that teachers be allowed one day of "released time" this fall to observe procedures in other classrooms and schools.

Requests to purchase the board's option on property on Lake street are slated for consideration and a report on "multi-purpose-room" planning expected.

Action is expected on a request from the Keego Harbor Church of Christ to use Whitfield School for a meeting place. Discussion is slated on possibility of renting a room at Marimont Baptist Church for special education classes.

the current districting system. A hearing is slated Monday.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said "The boundaries for Lake Street were presented at last April's meeting. Copies of the boundaries were available to anyone.

"At last September's board meeting, the local NAACP suggested getting a site in a peripheral area to serve both white and Negro. The board felt the site as selected was nearer the children that had to be served than any other available site. A population analysis showed this."

Of the city's 26 schools, nine have both Negro and white pupils, Dr. Whitmer pointed out.

The Rev. J. Allen Parker, a board member, said, "I'm not in favor of a school being in the middle of any one racial district."

He said he previously introduced a resolution asking integration of Negro and White teachers in the school system, but has not decided whether he would bring the matter up at tonight's board meeting.

Board President Louis H. Schimmel said, "It's unfortunate Henry didn't discuss this action first. This board has been particularly anxious to do all it could to avoid controversies of this kind which are unfortunate for the community and its educational system."

Mrs. Harry E. King, board vice president said, "It's our responsibility to build schools where children are. I don't see how we could do otherwise. There was no thought of segregation whatever."

Pontiac Deaths

John Hjalmar Thoren

John Hjalmar Thoren, 71, of 9329 Bonnie Briar Rd., died yesterday at Pontiac General Hospital after a 4-year illness.

Wicked Weeds May Hike Our Life Insurance

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS) — Dr. Charles Dotter, prominent Portland cancer expert, has suggested that life insurance firms increase premiums on all smokers—as a move to cut down the growing number of lung cancer deaths.

* * *

Dr. Dotter, professor and head of the department of radiology at the University of Oregon, made his remarks during a symposium on cancer of the lung, a part of the tenth annual post graduate cancer conference being held at the school.

Dr. Dotter, himself a smoker, told the meeting of doctors taking part in the post graduate cancer conference, that in his opinion there was no question about tobacco's part in lung cancer.

He said, "The evidence pointing to smoking as a cause of lung cancer is overwhelming.

"I smoke," he admitted candidly. "I am caught in a habit. I am glad it isn't a habit of beating up old women or smoking marijuana —but it is a habit and I am stuck with it. I know it increases my chances of dying of lung cancer yet I don't think I will die of lung cancer. Still I will do everything in my power to stop my children from smoking and to convince my patients to lay off."

Safe Woman Driver

PORT HURON (UP)—In her 39 of driving, Mrs. Sarah Bodell Wolcott has never had an accident —except when a man driver skidded into her car last winter and scratched a fender. She's never had a traffic ticket.

TEARS IN ORDER — Los Angeles showed a weepy face to the world today during the worst smog attack on record. The measure of ozone, an irritating form of oxygen, was .90 part per million parts of air. Scenes above, taken near the Civic Center, were repeated all over the city as residents fought the gray, eye-stinging stuff.

Dockers Call Off Walkout; Westinghouse Eyes Peace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The eight-day strike of New York longshoremen was called off today.

A proposal also was shaped up for ending the three-day strike of 43,000 CIO workers in 27 Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants.

Some 5,000 New York dock workers gave cheering approval to a plan designed to let them voice their grievances before a citizens' committee.

The stoppage had spread to ports along the East and Gulf Coasts.

The strike was aimed at the Waterfront Commission, an official bi-state policing agency.

The citizens committee formula was proposed by State Sen. James F. Murray Jr. of New Jersey. The ILA accepted it.

* * *

At Pittsburgh, a union source said a proposal has been worked out for ending the strike of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers in 27 Westinghouse plants.

To become effective, the proposal must be ratified by the Westinghouse conference board and the union's Local 601. The Westinghouse strike started with members of Local 601.

In Chicago, management and labor representatives held a series of conferences on issues in the 22-day old strike of 40,000 CIO United Auto Workers in 18 International Harvester Co. plants in six states.

Mental Health Data —a Political Football?

LANSING (UP) — A Midland senator charged yesterday that the State Mental Health Department was hiding a solution for Michigan's problem of mentally retarded children so that Gov. Williams could make political capital out of it.

* * *

Sen. Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland), chairman of a legislative committee on mental health, attacked State Mental Health Director Charles A. Wagg at a public hearing.

Aiming most of his fire at Wagg, but including Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, Francis said neither agency has offered the committee any plans for handling a list of 1,221 children waiting admission to state hospitals.

* * *

He said he believed that Wagg was refusing to aid the committee with suggestions so that Williams could have the benefit of a survey Wagg is conducting.

* * *

Williams has said he would submit a mental health program to a special session of the Legislature late in October if Wagg has his survey completed by Oct. 1.

Turnpike Authority Will Meet Monday

Formal engagement of Murray D. Van Wagoner, of Birmingham, as consulting engineer for the Michigan Turnpike Authority is slated Monday when the MTA meets at 9:30 a.m. in the Detroit Veterans Memorial Building.

The agenda includes a report on finances and route negotiations to clear the way for constructing the 113-mile, Rockwood-Saginaw toll road, said Chairman George N. Higgins.

Following the meeting, Higgins will debate with state Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler before the Detroit Economic Club at noon in the same building.

Higgins will point up advantages of the toll road program and Ziegler talks in support of free roads.

Mother Wins Round Over 2 Union Sons

Mrs. Opal Berg today held the upper hand, at least temporarily, in a bitter labor hassle with her two sons at the family dry cleaning plant in Clarkston.

The State Labor Mediation Board notified the principals yesterday that under state law the sons, Robert 31, and Orville, 29, are not considered "employes."

The interpretation prohibited Robert from sitting with the union bargaining team in preliminary negotiations in Detroit yesterday. The ruling does not prevent the union from representing both sons as well as four other drivers.

A Circuit Court hearing is scheduled for tomorrow in an injunction contempt case filed against the pickets, led by the brothers.

The sons claim their mother fired them and the drivers after they demanded higher pay and notified their mother and father, Jesse R., that the six had joined the AFL Teamsters union.

Fisher Strike Continues

DETROIT (UP) — A wildcat strike by CIO United Auto Workers closed the General Motors Fisher Body plant in suburban Livonia for the third straight day today.

About 80 of Connecticut's high schools have driver training courses.

Benson Faces Farm Crisis

Declining Prices Make Agriculture an Issue in Political Skirmishing

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson returns today from a two-week agricultural trade tour of Europe to find his farm policies embroiled in renewed political controversy.

* * *

Declining farm prices and incomes have made the farm program a dominant partisan issue in the preliminary party skirmishing for next year's presidential campaign.

* * *

Benson visited Great Britain, France, Italy and Switzerland in search of possible new markets for American farm surpluses which help to hold down current prices. He also sought international cooperation in dealing with world trade problems.

* * *

An Agriculture Department survey—issued two days after Benson left on his tour—showed that farm prices had declined 4 per cent during the past two months and were down 6 per cent from a year ago.

* * *

Another report issued by the department yesterday said net farm income had dropped about 4.3 per cent during the first half of this year. It predicted a further decline during the third quarter of the year.

City Workers Remove Patch of Marihuana

Under the direction of the Pontiac Police vice squad, Parks and Recreation Dept. workers yesterday removed a quantity of marihuana which had been growing wild behind 715 Portland St.

The narcotic weed had continued to grow in a 30-foot patch for several years despite efforts to remove it, according to Sgt. Raymond Meggitt, of the vice squad.

An attempt to destroy the weed was made in 1953 when parks crewmen carted off a truckload of it. Some stalks were 12 feet high.

Because of marihuana's rapid reproduction, the area again became infested.

Yesterday, workers mowed the area, removing some stalks nine feet tall and one inch in diameter. They then sprayed the patch with a vegetation - killing chemical.

Spraying the area again in early spring should completely eradicate the weed, officials said. Meggitt said the patch was the only known marihuana growing in the city.

Killer of 3 in Flint Committed to Ionia

FLINT (UP) — Kenneth Kuzner, 30, a Detroit truck driver who shot to death three persons at a bar near Flint July 13, has been ordered committed to the Ionia State Hospital for the criminal insane.

Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth ruled Kuzner insane following a sanity hearing yesterday.

Kuzner killed three persons who were total strangers to him because he thought they were "laughing at me." He critically wounded another.

A sanity commission reported Kuzner suffers from a mental disease "which manifests itself in the delusion that friends and strangers laugh at and ridicule him."

Wholesale Food Prices Chalk Up Slight Increase

NEW YORK (UP) — There was a small increase this week in wholesale food prices as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet index.

The index moved up to $6.26 from $6.19 a week ago. In the same week of last year the figure was $6.69.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Foods rising in price at wholesale during the week included flour, wheat, corn, rye, oats, bellies, butter, sugar, coffee, tea, eggs, rice, steers, hogs and lambs. Lower were barley, lard, cottonseed oil, cocoa, beans and potatoes.

Hurricane Hilda Loses Power to Lash Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—Hurricane Hilda spun toward the south coast of Cuba today, no longer a threat to Florida and the Eastern Seaboard.

The mountains of eastern Cuba, whose peaks rise to 8,000 feet or more, had taken their toll and Hilda had winds of bare hurricane force (75 miles an hour) as it swept over the island.

The winds probably will drop still more, but Hilda may regain some of its punch when it reaches open water on the south side of Cuba, the Miami Weather Bureau said.

The hurricane was about 400 miles south-southeast of Miami and its present path was expected to keep that distance as it moves into the Caribbean Sea.

* * *

The Weather Bureau at San Juan, Puerto Rico, reported today "strong evidence" that a new tropical storm has developed in the Atlantic 350 miles east and slightly south of San Juan.

A hurricane hunter plane was dispatched from San Juan to survey the area and a new advisory was promised when word is received from the pilot.

Oregon Livestock Book Names 11,725 Brands

SALEM, Ore. (UP)—Oregon's livestock brand book lists 11,725 brands in its 1955 revision and Roy K. Nelson, supervisor, says the state's first brand, the letter D, is still on hand, after a span of 106 years.

The D brand first was put on five cow elk gentled by Russell Dement who came up by Myrtle Point from California during the 1849 gold rush. He later swapped the elk—legend says—for cows. Cows owned by his descendants still carry the brand.

Soviet Papers 'Give Lie' to Leaders

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Soviet Communist Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev says there is no "farm crisis" in his sprawling nation but he would like to import American surplus farm products.

Perhaps there is no "crisis," depending on use of the term.

But in the harvest season the Soviet press has been engaged in a big campaign to expose faults and delays in both agriculture and industry.

Officials at all levels have been summoned almost daily to put more muscle and heart into the drive to stimulate higher productivity in all branches of the Soviet economy.

At this crucial period industrial shortcomings in Russia have been overshadowed by the daily drumming of Soviet propagandists on the importance of the harvest.

Party organizations throughout the Soviet Union are being prodded to lead "the great patriotic upsurge" among the farm workers.

They are told to send their best Reds into the field to encourage combine teams, threshers and transport brigades to achieve the greatest possible success.

SERIOUS OMISSIONS

There must be some urgent need in all this. Pravda, the Red Party newspaper, for example, says that there have been great strides made in producing more grain than the year before — in a certain period.

But it protests that there have been "serious omissions" on the part of those responsible for collecting the harvest.

In some southern areas Pravda says that the repair of grain stores was incomplete at the start of the harvest. Some collectors are shouting for machinery to speed the unloading of grain. They complain that trucks to take the grain to elevators are standing idle for long periods. (Where are the workers in a state that boasts of total employment?).

Pravda says that the grain is piling up on the threshing floors. In one single area hundreds of thousands of tons are waiting to be threshed.

IN HINTERLANDS

Back in the hinterlands—remember that this is Pravda speaking before Khrushchev talked to five U. S. Senators in an interview — the harvest is not being gathered with sufficient speed to avoid spoilage.

In some parts of the Ukraine — the home of Khrushchev, who is rated as a big farm expert in the Kremlin — skilled combine operators are gathering up to 75 or more acres of big-yielding crops daily. But the daily average on motor tractor stations (of which it is now proudly announced there are more than 9,000 throughout the country) on state farms does not exceed about 18 acres.

Entire Town Rallies to Publish Newspaper

ROCKWALL, Tex. (AP) — When death and illness come, folks generally slow down enough to be neighborly. And the neighbors of a father-son team have pitched in to keep their weekly newspaper, the Rockwall Texas Success, going successfully.

* * *

Two weeks ago, Publisher P. J. Bounds died. Last Wednesday, only two days before press time, his son and partner, P. J. Bounds Jr., collapsed as he was setting type for his father's obituary.

Doctors said he was suffering from shock and exhaustion. He needed a long rest.

James Taylor, 20, had once worked a few weeks helping out around the paper. He came down to see what he could do.

Mrs. Fred Alexander graduated from Texas State College for Women 15 years ago with a Journalism degree. A husband and two children had taken her time since then. But she came down to the office, too.

A Rockwall resident for only a year, Mrs. Alexander didn't know everybody the way an editor should. But she spread the word that the paper was going to come out, and, please, she needed news.

Folks started bringing in the news: personals, church notes, and the like. Highway patrolmen stopped by with county accident reports.

Two printers who had day jobs in other towns—M. L. Roland of Greenville and Burton Fielder of Farmersville—came over at night to set type.

Merchants brought their advertising copy in themselves.

The paper came out only about an hour late last Friday. And this week's will be right on time.

Cows, Human Beings Running Close Race

STORRS, Conn. (INS) — Cows and people are running a close race in Connecticut.

Stewart Johnson, economist with the Agricultural Extension Service at the University of Connecticut, reports that cows in Connecticut dairy herds produced more milk per cow in 1954 than ever before—and that Connecticut residents drank more milk per person than ever before in the same year.

* * *

He said average production per cow in Connecticut in 1954 was 6,670 pounds of milk—840 pounds more than the average for 1944, and average consumption per person in the state was about .84 pints a day—nearly two glasses, a 20 per cent increase from prewar consumption.

Nine out of 10 matchbooks in the United States are given away with other products and not sold to the final consumer.

Oil Import Curb Pleases Democrat Senate Leader

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson has expressed gratification that Defense Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming is acting to curb oil imports. Flemming yesterday told 18 oil importers that the influx of foreign oil was getting out of hand and asked curtailment after Sept. 21. "It is obviously needed now," Sen. Johnson said, "and I hope he follows through in the event the situation is not resolved when his deadline arrives."

Arctic Explorations Give Opportunity to Operate Newly Developed Devices

WASHINGTON (AP)—New developments which may help man explore and live in frozen wastes of the Far North or the Antarctic subcontinent were disclosed by the Army Corps of Engineers today.

* * *

They include:

1. An electronic crevasse detector and electric trail markers which, for the first time, make it possible to travel the ice and snow deserts safely in the long winter nights as well as by daylight.

2. The discovery that tunneling under polar ice and snow is surprisingly practical and may be a cheap and easy means of providing a limitless supply of shelter.

* * *

3. The bare possibility that the mining of snow may some day prove to be a source of electric power.

Army engineers out of the big air base at Thule have conducted 24 survey projects on the Greenland ice cap within the last year.

The Defense Department attaches particular significance to the work in view of the increasing strategic importance of polar areas, the mineral wealth that may be hidden there and the construction of early warning radar systems which require sending unprecedented numbers of survey parties into uncharted areas.

ARCTIC SMOOTH

Robert R. Philippe, chief of the corps' special engineering branch, told a reporter the crevasse detector already has been tested satisfactorily on "weasels" and other tracked vehicles moving from 5 to 7 miles an hour.

"Much of the Arctic is surprisingly smooth," Philippe said, "like a snow desert, flat, with a level horizon. But there are these deep, dangerous crevasses, many of which are drifted over at the top so that only a few inches show, although just below the surface they may be several feet across."

* * *

Philippe said the detector "establishes a field of vibration and picks it up ahead of the vehicle. When the field of vibration is interrupted, we know a crevasse lies ahead."

The trial markers consist of two uninsulated wires laid along each side of the route. Every 35 miles a battery station transmits pulses along the wires. An instrument in the vehicle traveling along the trail picks up the electrical pulses and enables the driver to stay on the path no matter how dark or stormy the weather.

Philippe said snow mining, as a power source, is as yet only a theory. The snow would be mined at a high elevation and lowered by gravity on a chainless belt.

Philippe also said the engineers have discovered it is "extraordinarily easy" to tunnel into Greenland's ice cap. He added ice or snow covered tunnels would cost about $2,000 a mile—"and this we can afford to build."

Snow-roofed rooms 110 feet wide with no central supports have been excavated and could serve as warehouses or garages, he said.

Britain May Add Women to Rigid House of Lords

LONDON (AP) — The House of Lords, perhaps the most exclusive men's club in the world, is under strong pressure to admit women.

The British government is considering plans to reform the ancient parliamentary institution. The place of women is reportedly involved in the plans.

The House of Lords is the upper branch of Parliament. The peers cannot block a bill but they can hold it up for a year.

There are 845 peers, but seldom more than 100 show up in any one day.

One of the strongest advocates of opening the doors to women is L. G. Pine, managing editor of Burke's Peerage.

"Twenty noble ladies, peeresses in their own right, are not permitted to enter more than a gallery," he says. "Public opinion is changing and there now appears no good reason why women should not be admitted."

Herbert Morrison, deputy leader of the socialistic Labor party, has campaigned for giving women seats in the noble house.

There has been some opposition in Lords to admitting women, however.

Jailer Commits Suicide Over Prisoners' Escape

BENTON, Ky. (AP)—A jailer shot himself to death at his home yesterday and, Sheriff Billy Watkins said, it may have been caused by the escape of two prisoners earlier.

Watkins also disclosed that jailer C. C. Edwards, 70, had been ill recently with a heart ailment.

One of the escapees, J.W. Turner of Paducah, was recaptured after fleeing Monday. The other, Lawrence Neece of Leitchfield, escaped yesterday while Edwards was investigating the first break.

Ludington Fire Damage Mounts

$100,000 Claimed Lost in Blaze Which Raged Through Main Street

LUDINGTON (AP) — A roaring blaze swept through a two story building on Ludington's main street yesterday, causing damages estimated at more than $100,000 and injuring a fireman.

* * *

Fire Chief Art Lang said the fire started in a doctor's office on the second floor of the Wangen Building when wiring shorted out.

Injured was Conrad Nelson, who cut his hand while crews from five fire trucks battled the blaze for 3½ hours.

Completely burned out on the second floor of the building were a finance company and offices belonging to an attorney, a broker, a dentist, an insurance company and a doctor. Damage to a drug store and bakery located on the first floor was caused mostly by smoke and water, Lang said. The building's roof caved in shortly after the blaze was reported.

Lang, who estimated the damage, said the fire started in the office of Dr. H. B. Hoffman.

The fire was stopped from spreading by a 12-inch brick firewall on both sides of the building, Lang said.

Tourist Season of 1955 Best in State's History

Leaders of the industry in all parts of the State agree that Michigan's 1955 tourist season was the best in history.

Tourist and resort association officials estimate that visitors spent more than $500,000,000 for vacations in the State. Attendance records were smashed at nearly every state, county and city park.

Arthur Elmer, head of all state parks, expects final attendance figures to show at least 17,000,000 persons visited these parks. That is an increase of 1,800,000 over last year's 15,200,000.

Further proof of record tourist business is contained in State Ferry figures at St. Ignace. These show that 7.2 per cent more vehicles were ferried across the Straits this year than last.

★ ★ ★

Even in southeastern Michigan which suffered from the summer's all time record heat, business was excellent. Leonard Thomson, secretary of the Southeastern Michigan Tourist and Publicity Association, says scores of motels in this area went through the summer without a single vacancy.

Any activity that grosses more than half a billion dollars a season is big business. That is just what our tourist and resort industry is.

Mr. Shigemitsu's Visit

While the Washington visit of Japan's Foreign Minister Shigemitsu produced nothing dramatic, there is evidence that a good start was made on solution of several long range problems.

Although he came here as a high official of a former enemy country, the visitor played his difficult role with dignity and made his views known with candor. At the same time he was received in an atmosphere of friendliness and sympathy. This, naturally, bodes well for future U.S.-Japanese relations.

★ ★ ★

Nature of the problems discussed, such as Japanese rearmament, precludes this early solution. Answers can be worked out only in a spirit of co-operation. Fortunately foundation work along this line has been done in our relations with Tokyo since the war and in the conferences with Mr. Shigemitsu.

★ ★ ★

The prospects for building a vigorous and progressive democracy in Japan are closely bound up in future relations between the two countries. While we agreed after the war to help bring this about, it always has been realized that a free Japan must be strong if it is to survive.

In the Washington talks it apparently has been assumed that sufficient Japanese buildup would take about six years. This seems to mean that withdrawal of U.S. troops from Japan would take place gradually over that period.

Mexico's Peak Prosperity

Things are going very well in Mexico.

That is the encouraging meaning of that country's equivalent of our state of the union message. Among other things President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines was able to report to his congress that the balance of payments has begun to be favorable and monetary reserves have increased.

★ ★ ★

Other factors on the plus side this year are 33 per cent reduction of luxury imports and a 29 per cent increase in imports of essential machinery.

President Ruiz stated that the government will continue to encourage investment of foreign capital. One aim of that policy is to meet the expanding needs of the country's industry and agriculture. Another is to increase the buying power of Mexican workers and so benefit domestic business.

★ ★ ★

It should be a source of satisfaction in this country that our neighbors below the Rio Grande are enjoying the greatest prosperity in their history. For this considerable credit is due President Ruiz' administration. Pleasing also were his sincere comments on the friendly relations existing between our two countries.

Nehru's Goa Policy

One of the interesting developments of the week is evidence that Nehru and his Congress Party have reconsidered the explosive Goa problem.

Now reports say that the Prime Minister and his party have called for an end to the misnamed policy of "peaceful invasion" of Goa, Portugal's enclave on the subcontinent.

★ ★ ★

This sounds strangely like a belated return to reason. There is ground for suspicion that the move is designed to discourage Pakistani talk of a "peaceful invasion" of Kashmir, the territory long coveted by the Indian government.

★ ★ ★

The new policy is in far closer harmony with India's peaceful role in international affairs. It leaves the way open for a settlement of the Goa dispute either by mediation or through a plebiscite conducted by the United Nations.

Agrees With Lawrence About Union 'Class War'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

David Lawrence's article in the Sept. 6 Press, "Union Labor Day Speeches Fan Class War Discontent," contains more truth than people care to admit.

Strange, isn't it, that unions collect dues from those employed in 'big business' while at the same time union overlords want to stick a knife into our capitalistic system and tell people what a hideous thing it is.

That is like the old Communist punch. Russia detests our capitalistic system, but she is willing to grab anything she can to further her cause. I predict that one of the next demands to be made on American business will be a grab into company profits, and that these unions will be tied up with communism, which they claim to detest, in an international labor organization.

Americans are fast selling their freedom for a closed shop, and the price (union dues) is going to be a bigger shackle than anything capital has ever placed on labor. For I believe that the closed shop will become the 'mark of the beast' of Revelation, when no man can buy or sell unless he has the mark on his hand or forehead.

The only union the world needs today is a union with Christ and when the love of God is in the hearts of men, the rest will take care of itself.

David Lawrence Says:

Truman Remark on MacArthur Firing Puzzles Many Contemporary Historians

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Many people here who have a respect for the facts of contemporaneous history are still puzzled over the remark made by former President Truman the other day that his only regret about the MacArthur episode is that he didn't fire the general "two years sooner."

This would have been April 1949. That date was more than a year before the Korean War began. General MacArthur at the time was being applauded widely—in Washington, too—for the success he was making as the commander of the American occupation forces engaged in the reconstruction of Japan.

Also, after April 1949 Truman on more than one occasion publicly and privately showed his confidence in General MacArthur. Thus, early in July 1950, General MacArthur was appointed commander-in-chief of the United Nations forces in Korea and he wired President Truman:

"I can only repeat the pledge of my complete personal loyalty to you as well as an absolute devotion to your monumental struggle for peace and goodwill throughout the world. I hope I will not fail you."

To this, Truman replied: "Your words confirm me . . . in my full belief in the wisdom of your selection."

PRAISED AGAIN

Again, on Dec. 25, 1950, Truman congratulated Gen. MacArthur on the successful maneuver of his troops out of the pocket into which the intervention of Red Chinese armies had placed them in Korea. The message read:

"I wish to express my personal thanks . . . for the effective operation. It is the best Christmas present I have had."

There was an incident in August 1950 when a misunderstanding arose about a message which Gen. MacArthur had sent to a convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Chicago. It was in this telegram that the general had outlined the importance of holding on to Formosa and supporting the Nationalist government. But, two months later—October 15—Truman and the general were holding their famous conference at Wake Island, after which the President told the press:

* * *

"Gen. MacArthur and I have talked fully about Formosa. There is no need to cover that subject again. The general and I are in complete agreement."

WRITES TO SOLON

It was only six months later when Gen. MacArthur, answering what he thought was a routine inquiry from a member of Congress, wrote to Representative Martin of Massachusetts expressing the same views that he had expressed before on Formosa and the importance of winning the war in Korea. Yet it was this letter which aroused the ire of Truman and caused him to dismiss the general without so much as the courtesy of a hearing.

No outcry over this failure of "due process" and obvious disregard of Constitutional rights" came from the "left wingers." Maybe if the general had shown some sympathy with the Communist cause or had had an uncle or an aunt in the Communist Party, there would have been a wave of protest from the "left wingers."

But he was only an American general who had gallantly fought his way back to the Philippines from island to island in the western Pacific and who had served his country under fire not only in two world wars but also in the Korean "police action" in which 33,600 Americans were killed and 103,380 wounded.

Speaking also of constitutional rights, the "left wing" has always raised a furor over legislation to authorize "wire tapping," which the Department of Justice thinks under certain safeguards should be allowed so as to help catch criminals. But no protest came from the "left wingers" in a flagrant case of eavesdropping which is in the records in connection with the Wake Island conference.

A stenographer was allowed to listen at a keyhole and when, in later months, it suited the administration politically to slip the notes to a newspaper, this was done in an effort to injure MacArthur.

Describing the incident in a recent issue of "Life" magazine, Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's "Man Friday," writes:

"What Truman personally—and the Democratic Party—gained by the trip was tremendous in terms of political advantage. By this one stroke, only three weeks before the 1950 congressional elections, the President was able to establish a connection between his administration and the military strategy against which most of his military advisers had argued but which had just won the great victory at Inchon."

So it is still a puzzle as to why Truman now says he should have fired MacArthur "two years sooner."

Doctor Trips Up Brady on Plug for 'White Soap'

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

In the piece printed (or released for printing) here Tuesday, Aug. 23, I said:

Whether for disinfecting utensils, personal objects, equipment, furniture, clothing, bedding or toys that have been used by one with a communicable disease; or for first aid disinfection of wounds; or for keeping mouth and gums clean; or for dressing old infected wounds, burns or ulcers; all I want is a cake of plain white soap and plenty of water.

The error got into print and a young doctor who practices honestly in a small town under his own name wants to know why white soap? Is white soap more effective than yellow, pink, green brown?

The young doctor might well have asked, though he refrained from asking, whether it would be unsafe to have hospital wards and rooms, operating rooms and treatment rooms finished in gray, blue or other pastel or unobtrusive shades, and doctors and nurses wearing gowns, masks in other than white?

REFERS TO TASTE

When I specified white soap I had in mind the taste of soap used as mouth or tooth wash. Many years ago, even before I quit the silly practice of brushing my teeth, I discovered that a certain kind of white toilet soap was not at all disagreeable to use as mouth wash.

* * *

Maybe other kinds of ordinary soap that are not bleached white are just as suitable to use to wash out the mouth. I never have tried any other—you try 'em and let me know.

Perhaps I'm still prejudiced by the dictum that a boy who used bad language should have his mouth washed with soap—and the only soap we had when I was a boy on Chapel Street in Canandaigua on the westernmost of the beautiful Finger Lakes in New York was brown — home made and sometimes yellow laundry soap from the store. This, I confess, tasted just awful.

But whether the soap is white or colored doesn't matter, only so it is just soap and not doctored with any "powerful" or mysterious chemical.

Regardless of the color, odor or taste of the soap, what I said about it (quoted above) is true, and I am confident no authority in any field of hygiene, sanitation, medicine, surgery or obstetrics will take issue with the statement.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Insurance Firms of U. S. Can Learn From Britain

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

The best ballyhoo for perpetuation of a voluntary free-choice, private enterprise system, as contrasted with state socialism, inheres in good works.

* * *

Whenever enterprisers duck a responsibility and leave a vacuum, as in the case of reluctance to write hurricane insurance, there is an inevitable demand that the federal government act.

Accordingly, the demand by Sen. Herbert Lehman, New York Democrat, and others that the federal government write hurricane insurance was a logical sequel to the recent disaster in the Northeastern states.

Perhaps insurance executives should be re-educated. A prudent concept is not to regard insurance as an approach to profit through outwitting the policyholder.

* * *

On the contrary, the sound approach is to regard an insurance company as a device for pooling risks, and giving individuals the protection which comes from participating in the averaging of risks with others.

MEASURE HAZARDS

Thus, the function of the underwriters is to appraise and measure hazards, and collect a premium commensurate with their judgment as to the extent of such risks.

* * *

It seems to me that the rigidity of state regulation in this country has, to some extent, put the industry off the beam.

On the other hand, in England, government maintains a hands-off policy except for rules designed to promote company solvency. The individual underwriter gets much greater flexibility in appraising risks, and charging a commensurate rate of premium. The Lloyds of London have achieved a worldwide reputation for willingness to quote a rate for virtually any risk.

* * *

There is much to be said for the British approach, which is that any reputable person, no matter how hazardous his venture, is entitled to insurance coverage provided he is willing to pay a suitable rate. This is better than the domestic rigidity, where fixed ceilings on rates prevent a willing would-be insured from having a meeting of the minds with a willing underwriter.

RENDER BENEFITS

If the fire, casualty and other companies would do an institutional campaign to clarify these basic concepts, they would not only add to the prestige of the private enterprise system but would also render economic benefits to themselves. It should be made clear that costs of administration of a company and settlement of claims in the last analysis determine the scale of premiums.

* * *

Instead of doing an effective educational campaign, too many companies try, through harshness in settling claims, to hold down the high cost of chiseling by claimants.

One of the weapons is delay. It would pay off in industrywide good will and in the prestige of the private enterprise system if insurance companies would as a matter of routine promptly acknowledge claims not only from their own insured but also from the adverse claimant in a collision.

* * *

The reputation of the institution of insurance is enhanced by prompt and willing cooperation with those who have suffered legitimate losses.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Prize-Contesting Hobby Will Keep You Looking Forward to Future Rewards

Terry's morale is bad. He needs to become a psychological farmer and plant seeds today from which he can expect exciting harvests next week or next month. Prize contesting is an ideal hobby for husbands and wives of all ages, and doubly valuable for shut-ins and those past 65.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-339: Terry J., aged 32, is a war veteran who lost the use of both legs.

* * *

"Dr. Crane, Terry is a brilliant man," his devoted wife informed me, "so it breaks my heart to see him so moody and discouraged.

"He feels that he is a burden to me because he can't work, but with his veteran's compensation, we get along pretty well.

"However, he needs a tonic for his mind. So can you offer us anything to give him new zest for living?"

* * *

Whether you are invalided, or partly paralyzed or just retired at 65, you should become psychological farmers.

FUTURE HARVESTS

That means, plant enough seeds today so that you have a right to look forward eagerly into the tomorrows for the harvests thereof.

* * *

Thus, if you want to get letters next week, you must diligently sit down and write to friends and relatives today.

Wishful thinking will not bring a heavy input of letters to assuage your loneliness, nor will it cause any other constructive action.

And God may hear your prayers, but he cannot help you do nothing! God is glad to team up with anybody who plants the form of ideas or compliments or letters or any other action that warrants some future reaction.

* * *

But if you sit still and are simply a zero, God can't accomplish anything with naughts or zero marks. So get into action in order for God to help you.

PRIZE CONTESTING

One of the most stimulating hobbies for everybody is prize contesting. Millions of dollars each year are awarded for completing the last line of a humorous limerick, or for naming a dog or a new cereal food, or for writing a 25-word to 50-word letter as to why you like a certain brand of soap or washing powder, electric stove or refrigerator.

* * *

Prize contests also weld husband and wife together in a jolly hobby that is mentally stimulating and also a producer of "future-thinking."

For you always look forward to the time when the winners will be announced. This forward-thinking is what keeps people young and zestful.

You may be a paraplegic or an elderly arthritic patient, but you are young as soon as you plant psychological seeds, like sending in your contest entries, which then give you a right to look forward hopefully to some kind of harvest.

* * *

But don't stop with just one entry in a single contest. Play the field and send in many entries in many different contests.

Then after waiting for 90 days to hear the winners announced, if you get nothing, you can bolster your morale by thinking:

"Well, we still have 17 more entries in contests yet to be announced."

STUDY THE RULES

Read the rules thoroughly, for if your entry contains 51 words when the rules demand no more than 50 words, then it will be discarded.

* * *

Try to outguess the judges, who want something that is different from the other million entries.

So use practical examples. Test the merchandise. Then give illustrations from your personal experience that ring true.

A little color added to your entry may often give it more eye appeal.

The first year of our marriage, Mrs. Crane and I worked contests as a hobby. We probably didn't win more than once in 8 or 10 times, but we did get two first prizes of $1,000 apiece, plus many smaller awards.

* * *

And many of the readers of this column have won new automobiles, household equipment, such as refrigerators and electric stoves, cash prizes and even cases of tunafish or other canned goods.

For further specific advice, send for my booklet, "How to Write Salable Copy," for it has a section on prize contesting.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Wandering Elephant Given Death Verdict

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Handlers have given Vicki, the wayward elephant, until the end of the week to come home. If she doesn't, they'll go into the woods with guns and get her.

* * *

More than a score of men have been trying since Sunday to lure the 6-year-old female out of a wooded area only 500 yards off one of North Carolina's busiest highways.

She wandered away from an amusement park as handlers were preparing to load her onto a truck for a fair appearance at nearby Gastonia. She has refused to come out of the woods, even for the buckets of grain offered her.

* * *

Handler Carl Tyler said: "We'll have to get her by the weekend or shoot her. She's mean and liable to get meaner."

Report 62 Floats in 1956 Parade at Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Sixty-two floats will compete in the 1956 Tournament of Roses parade next Jan. 2, the Parade Entry Committee announced today.

* * *

The parade, traditionally held the morning of the Rose Bowl game, will have as its theme, "Pages From the Ages." Floats will depict such themes as Davy Crockett, Circus Days, The Ten Commandments, Easter Parade, Show Boat, Olympic Games and Cinderella.

Among the out-of-state entries will be St. Louis, Mo.; Little Rock, Ark.; Pasadena, Tex.; Portland, Ore.; and San Antonio, Tex.

Because Jan. 1 falls on Sunday, the game and parade will be held Jan. 2.

Panama Work Ends

PANAMA (AP)—A giant face-lifting job on the Panama Canal has been completed. Some 2,475,000 cubic yards of rock and shale were blasted off Contractor's Hill to remove the threat of rock slides. Shipping was uninterrupted.

New Yorkers Breathe In Tons of Polluted Air

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The air New Yorkers breathe is contaminated each year with more than 1½ million tons of odorous sulfur dioxide gas, enough to form 2,200,000 tons of sulphuric acid.

* * *

Most of it comes from burning coal and fuel oil, they said, but other villains are auto exhausts, outdoor trash fires, smoky incinerators and "polluted air blowing in from the state of New Jersey."

This report was made to the American Chemical Society by Dr. Morris B. Jacobs, laboratory director, New York Department of Air Pollution Control, and Dr. Leonard Greenburg, New York's commissioner of air pollution control.

* * *

Sulfur dioxide gas is blamed for causing irritation to eyes, throats and lungs and damage to growing plants. The airborne acids are charged with causing peeling of paint, corrosion of metal roofs and of air-conditioning equipment.

Dr. Greenburg said his department expects cooperation from all major uses of fuel in the New York area and, if necessary, to induce them to make a gradual conversion to using natural gas or a higher grade of fuel oil containing less sulfur.

Social Security Pay Is Now Due Many Survivors

The Social Security Administration is trying to locate 200,000 people before the end of September, says Rex A. C. Atwood manager of the Pontiac Social Security Office.

The 200,000 are survivors of wage earners who died between June, 1940, and September, 1950.

Many of these persons had previous claims for social security benefits disallowed because the worker did not work enough under the Social Security Law as it then stood.

The 1954 Amendments to the Social Security Law make possible monthly payments for eligible survivors if a worker worked as little as a year and a half under social security. "The 1954 Amendments became effective a year ago and since benefits can't go back more than a year, some people may lose money if they don't get in touch with us soon," says Atwood.

The following survivors of deceased workers may be eligible: Widow over 65; widow under 65 if she has children under 18; children under 18; aged, dependent parents.

The Pontiac Social Security Office is located at 18 South Perry St. Office hours are from 8:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., Monday through Friday.

30 Cousins Clamor for Spinster's Money

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A spinster lawyer who had no known relatives when she died left $41,448 in cash and $155,034 in securities and notes.

Public Administrator Thomas M. Brady said claims have been made by 30 first, second and third cousins, all living in Germany. They will share the estate.

Miss Bertha J. Bremer, 72, was found dead in her home May 16, 1952. The money and securities were found in a little safe in her home. There was no will.

Egyptian Film Fan Idol Now Likes U.S. Women

NEW YORK (INS)—Mohammed El Bakkar, the idol of millions of Egyptian movie fans, said today he now prefers the "stiff and dry" American woman to the "soft" beauties of the Nile.

The dark-eyed, curly-haired troubador, a featured performer in the hit Broadway musical "Fanny," thought the typical slender American girl looked "half-starved" when he first arrived in this country two and a half years ago.

He preferred his women to weigh about 150 pounds.

But all that has changed. He's now the first to tip his fez to the long-stemmed womanhood of the U.S. Mohammed explained:

"American women are more simple. In Egypt the woman is never content. She wants jewels, she wants servants. She sit home and she take.

"Here the woman is happy with what the man can give."

The Egyptian is very popular with his fellow performers in "Fanny."

But this is not so surprising when you consider that the scene of the musical is laid in France and the stars are Italian-born Ezio Pinza, Australian-born Walter Slezak and belly-dancer Nejia Ates from Turkey.

AMUSES CAST

Mohammed has been amusing the cast since he joined it about a year ago.

During rehearsals when he still needed an interpreter to be understood, Mohammed's impromptu imitations of the stars brought praise from the musical's director, Joshua Logan.

"Josh Logan hear me do my imitations and he tell me I must learn more English and I will be great actor," said Mohammed proudly.

Mohammed's big scene in "Fanny" is set in a Moroccan cafe in a French fishing village. He appears as a musician, singing his own compositions and playing the aoud, an ancient stringed instrument, the tambourine and another instrument that resembles a bongo drum.

Nejia shares the scene with Mohammed. He provides the tantalizing music for her as she teases the audience with her torrid tummy tossing.

Mohammed, who produced and directed most of the 32 Egyptian film musicals in which he has starred has a great respect for Logan.

"In America the director is law. At first I don't like. We rehearse two months and I am very tired, very tired.

"Josh Logan say 'rest, rest,' so I rest and still I am tired.

"Buf such beautiful performances he gets! In Egypt, even when I am director all the actors scream 'Do this way, Do that way.' Here there is the law."

Mohammed said Egyptians love American movies. He explained: "Before they eat, they go movies."

Meauwhile, Mohammed El Bakkar, producer and director, has an idea for a pictrue of his own. The script is ready and the star (Mohammed, of course) is signed. The title?

"An Egyptian in New York."

Report Commies in Government

Un-American Committee Unearths Red Cells in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Walter (D-Pa) said today his House Committee on Un-American Activities has evidence that an extensive Communist cell was operating in the federal government as recently as last year.

Hearings are scheduled to get under way shortly after Congress reconvenes in January.

"We have been talking with some people who were in this thing," Walter said in an interview. "They gave us a lot of valuable information."

* * *

He said he did not know whether the alleged cell's members still are in the government, "but they were during the period covered by our preliminary inquiry, which included 1954."

"I would say some of them were in rather responsible positions," he added. "There's no question about them being communists."

* * *

He estimated that "upwards of 150 people" belonged to the cell at one time or another. He did not say where it operated.

He had disclosed plans for the hearing earlier, saying in a speech in New York Aug. 15 he had been told of the existence of a party cell among staff employes of the U.S. Senate, and others in the National Labor Relations Board and the now defunct War Labor Board.

He did not say in his New York speech when those cells allegedly existed.

Public Health Service Asks State Polio Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service said today it hopes to get this week detailed state plans for use of federal funds for antipolio vaccine.

The plans are required before the states can share in the 30-million-dollar appropriation voted by Congress for provision of Salk vaccine free to those unable to pay for it. The law says the funds are to be used by Feb. 15, 1956.

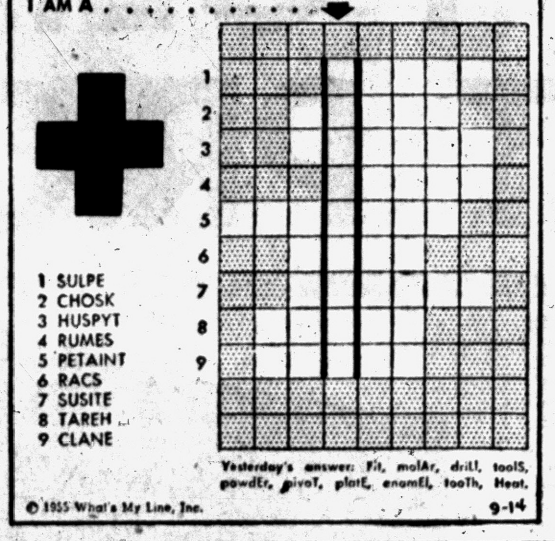

As of yesterday only four state and territorial plans had been approved, a spokesman said. They were submitted by Colorado, Oklahoma, Wisconsin and the Canal Zone.

Plans or parts of plans had been received also from Kansas, Ohio, Missouri, Virginia, Arizona, Kentucky, Hawaii, Delaware, New York and Louisiana.

Turkey Invites Area Man to World Bank Conference

The government of the Republic of Turkey turned to a former Pontiac Press staff member this week seeking help in handling press relations for the meeting of the World Bank to be held in Istanbul this month.

Paul Foley, former Pontiac resident and Press reporter, was called by Nuzhet Baba, Press attache of the Turkey embassy in Washington. Baba invited Foley to fly to Istanbul as guest of the Turkish Government to act as press liaison with American and British newsmen who are expected in Turkey for the international bank gathering.

Foley is now executive vice president of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., Bloomfield Hills, in charge of the Pontiac Motor Division advertising account.

The reasons for seeking Foley's help date back to World War II.

In June, 1944, Foley, who was then serving with the Overseas News Bureau of the Office of War Information, covered the International Monetary Conference at Bretton Woods, New Hampshire, where the World Bank was activated.

Immediately after the conference he was assigned to Istanbul to head the American news bureau of OWI.

He spent almost two years in Turkey during most of which time the country remained a neutral and all combatants were represented in the country. Foley later joined the foreign staff of Associated Press.

PAUL FOLEY

In January, 1954, Foley served on a special committee of "old Turkish hands" at a reception in Washington for Turkish President Celal Bayar during his only visit to this country. A month later Foley re-visited Turkey.

"Unfortunately I found it necessary to turn down Nuzhet Bey's tempting invitation," Foley said today. "It comes at a time when I simply cannot spare the month's time that this assignment might take. Needless to say, I asked for a rain check."

. . . and No Wonder

PALATKA, Fla. (AP)—After demonstrating his driving ability with examiner Earl Gore as a passenger, James R. Clark pulled into a parking lot. That's where his test for a driver's license turned sour. He hit a car. It belonged to Gore. "Clark didn't pass the test," State Trooper Q. A. Fillingim reported yesterday.

Ike to Survey Situation Before Cailing Tax Cut

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters says he plans to survey the fiscal situation early next year before deciding whether to call for a tax cut.

The President's decision won't be made, Asst. Press Secretary Murray Snyder said last night, "until he sees what the state of federal revenue is at the normal time for proposing a tax program to Congress."

The normal time for that is early January.

Franklin Cider Mill Starts Fall Operation

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

A tangy aroma and the bright brown liquid from which it arises are once more filling the famous old Franklin Cider Mill with people eager for a cooling sip of apple cider—and a glimpse into the past.

For it's more than just cider that attracts thousands to the 118-year-old structure on autumn weekends.

The heady aroma of the cider, the hardy hand-hewn lumber of the structure and the ancient but still efficient press combine to give the mill its charm.

Upstairs, where the apples are stored and then chopped into mash, the fragrance is of apples alone—pleasant enough, certainly.

But on the first floor, where the public can watch—and smell—the big press squeezes from the mash not only the cider but that distinctive essence that is its alone.

BUILT IN 3 YEARS

Fashioned of white oak, white pine and black walnut timber, the mill at Franklin road near 14-Mile road took three years to build and was opened for flour grinding operation in 1837. Later, it was operated as a combined grist (flour) and cider mill.

Although no one knows for sure, owner Robert A. McKee estimates that 30 to 35 years ago it was converted completely to cider operation.

The press, which brings 90 tons of pressure to bear on the mash, is a relative newcomer to the mill. It was shipped to this country from Europe early in the 19th century, but wasn't brought to Franklin until soon after the turn of this century.

Each side of the press can hold up to 60 bushels of apples and the average yield is three gallons a bushel, according to McKee, an electrical contractor who lives in Birmingham.

As one side of the press operates, the other is piled with separate layers of the mash, which is funneled down from the second floor. Each layer, which is covered with a heavy burlap cloth, holds 10 bushels.

WHEEL SUPPLIES POWER

Out back is a big water wheel which supplies all the power for the mill's operation, courtesy of a small branch of the Rouge River.

McKee, who got into the business 22 years ago as a hobby, said getting power from the water wheel is two or three times as costly as electric power. The wheel's old age causes breakdowns regularly, but McKee said he is determined to maintain it "as long as it keeps going."

Twenty-five employes plus three officers to direct traffic are used on busy weekends, McKee said. The mill opens Labor Day weekend and continues operations through mid-December. The rush comes in late October, peaking around Halloween.

Business gets better every year, McKee said. When he first bought the mill 350 gallons were sold on the busiest day. One Sunday last fall, the mill used 1,020 crates of apples to produce nearly 4,000 gallons of cider—all of which was quickly sold.

On any busy Sunday, the mill sells between 10,000 and 15,000 cups of cider. But most of the output is sold in gallons and kegs, the owner said.

Besides housing the grinder, the second floor is used to store between 800 and 1,200 bushels of apples. The type varies—Delicious, MacIntosh, Steele Red. The more variation the better the cider, according to McKee.

DONUTS ALSO SOLD

For the past 15 years, a donut bakery has been operated on the third floor. There, Arthur Brenner, of Royal Oak, and his daughter, Kay, 17, can turn out as many as 1,000 donuts, made "in an old-fashioned manner from an old-fashioned recipe."

McKee added this advice for potential patrons:

Don't let the cider stand in a warm spot too long. There is no perservative added and after a week's fermentation, the stuff packs a real wallop!

Pontiac Press Photos by Eddie Vanderwerp

AUTUMN ATTRACTION — This cider mill attracts thousands of persons to Franklin Village each autumn. The historic old structure produces cider from a variety of apples using machinery and equipment dating back 100 years. Power is supplied by a water wheel at rear.

POINT OF ORIGIN — John Bertelsen, of Livonia, unloads a crate of MacIntosh apples in the second floor storeroom of the Franklin Cider Mill. As the season progresses, a greater variety of apples will be used. The more variety, the better the flavor of the cider, says the mill's owner.

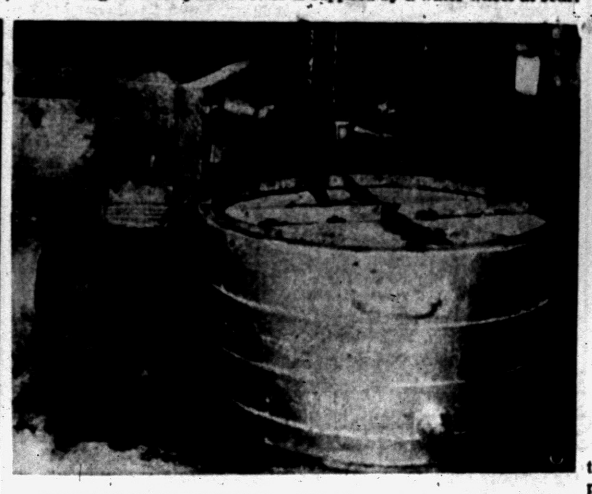

A BATCH OF CIDER'S PARTNERS — Nothing goes better with apple cider than donuts. Kay Brenner, 17, of Royal Oak, takes out a steaming tray of the fried cakes in the bakery operated on the third floor of the Franklin mill. As many as 1,000 are sold on a busy Sunday and often the demand temporarily exceeds the output.

FASCINATING — Kathy Schlueter, 5, of Dearborn, peeks into the past as she watches the big press squeeze out the apple cider she and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schlueter, will soon be drinking.

UM-M-M-M, BOY! — Five-year-old Bobby Otto is one youngster who can get his fill of cider. His grandfather owns the mill. Above, Bobby downs a cupful and he looks ready to further tap the supply at hand.

CIDER RUNS FROM PRESS — With the mash thoroughly squeezed dry, the cider runs from the bed of the press into a collection tub. From the tub, it is pumped to the bottling machine, where the jugs are filled. The filled jugs are placed in a water-type cooler.

BY THE CUP OR JUG — Over this counter is sold the cider for which the Franklin mill has become known over the years. People travel from miles around both weekdays and on weekends to sample the tangy liquid which harks back to grandad's day. Most of it is sold in gallon jugs or kegs, but the cup is popular for an on-the-spot treat.

UP AND OVER — Apples are fed into the conveyor carrying them into the grinder which reduces them to a pulpy mash. The mash is funneled down to the first floor where the cider is extracted. Shown is Martin Otto, of 17212 Beechwood, Birmingham.

READY FOR THE COOLER — Mill owner Robert A. McKee, of Birmingham, guides a jug under one of six spigots on an automatic filling machine. The machine, operated by electricity, is the most modern piece of equipment in the mill, which dates back to 1837. Other equipment is powered by a water wheel turned by the flow of a branch of the Rouge River.

MASH MANIPULATOR—The ground-up apples, now a pulpy mash, fill trays which will soon be under the 90-ton pressure of the cider mill's ancient press. Bill Seldon, of Franklin Village, steers the mash into all corners of the wooden tray.

Annexation Plea Petitions Ready

Madison Heights Group Fighting for Township Sovereignty

MADISON HEIGHTS—Petitions will be circulated this week by a group of Madison Heights residents, to have the area between Twelve Mile, Fourteen Mile, Campbell and Stephenson, annexed to Royal Oak.

This is the same area the City of Royal Oak tried unsuccessfully to annex in November 1953 when 20 of 24 residents in the area voted to stay in the Township.

A strip in this area is to be incorporated into the City of Madison Heights.

The original Madison Heights Charter was defeated in referendum last June by 82 votes. January 24, 1957 is the deadline to adopt a charter. If a charter be not approved in the area, it will revert to township status.

Superintendent of Schools James C. Covert of the Royal Oak district said a new school would be needed for the overflow of children should the annexation take place.

Scouts Set Camp 'Roundup'

Boy Scout leaders of northern Oakland and Macomb Counties are busy preparing for the largest camporee ever held by the Clinton Valley Council.

* * *

Scheduled for Sept. 24 and 25 at Bald Mountain Recreation Area, near Lake Orion, the event is a western - style campout called "Roundup '55."

Kenneth Sanderson of Westacres, camp chief, said 1,000 Boy Scouts are expected for the weekend activity which will feature fun competition, district meetings and a rodeo - type campfire program.

Ervin Schilke of Lake Orion probably has the toughest job of all the leaders in preparing for the event. Director of physical arrangements, one of his problems is movement of traffic for the hundreds of cars and trucks which will carry Scouts, camping equipment and supplies to the park.

WATER BY TRUCK

Water is to be brought in by a tank truck, provided by the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., he said. Detroit Edison is supplying wood for a campfire.

Stuart Williams, also of Lake Orion, is heading a campsite assignment committee. His job is to allocate the troops to four sections, called ranches, which will be widely spread over 50 acres of hilly terrain.

"At this camporee," Williams asserted, "the Scouts will have some rugged camping. They'll pack their duffel in to the sites and they won't find the usual flat land for pitching tents."

Ted Pearson, mayor of Oxford and director of the camp's health and safety program, is organizing a team of first aid men and establishing fire and health safety procedures to protect the Scouts while at the park.

Meanwhile, Jerry Black of Oxford is arranging for Sunday morning church services and a Catholic field mass. Richard Sanderson of Waterford is setting up a records system and William Miller of Mt. Clemens is ordering awards.

William Rathburg, recreation area manager, has requested that troops bring charcoal for cooking. Firewood will not be available in the park.

FROM FOUR DISTRICTS

Camp Chief Sanderson pointed out that this event will enable Scouts from the four districts in the council to become acquainted. Farmington boys may be camped next to a Waterford troop and Utica Scouts may be in an activity with a Walled Lake unit.

First council-wide camporee in five years, "Roundup '55" will kickoff local troop programs in a national campaign to "roundup" new members for the Boy Scout movement.

* * *

A camporee of this size ordinarily would be planned and fully organized over a six to 12 month period. But with only a six-week planning time the district leaders decided to schedule the fun campout on an informal basis, eliminating detailed programing and elaborate displays.

Open to the public, parents are particularly invited to attend the 8 p.m. rodeo-type campfire program on Sept. 24.

Complaining Can Destroy Children

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Many children live with endless variations on themes like these: "I've got such a headache I can't see . . . I suppose I'll have to fix that shelf myself . . . What chance have I got to see a dentist? . . . Don't tell me you've torn that shirt I just mended . . . My feet are killing me . . . I'm so tired I could die . . ."

* * *

These are complaints. In each of them, the complainer has put a hidden message. His messages demand, "Get me over this headache. Fix my shelf. Take me to the dentist. Buy yourself a new shirt. Provide me with new feet. Perform my work for me."

These hidden demands can destroy children.

For they cannot grant them.

Five-year-old Joe cannot take his father to the dentist. 10-year-old Anna cannot provide her mother with new feet. Neither can undertake to arrange a vacation for her—or solve any of their parents' other problems. The idea that they can is absurd.

The tragedy is, neither Joe nor Anna know it's absurd. For the demands are hidden and indirect, not specific and open to expose their absurdity.

So what Joe and Anna conclude is that their complaining parent wants something from them—and is disappointed in them for their failure to provide it.

SEE THE EFFECTS

The result is the 20th Century's ruthless and pervasive sense of guilt. For complainers abound. And we see daily the effects of association with them in anxious, apprehensive people, harrassed with fear of accusation they have never identified, with shame of failure that never occurred.

* * *

Let's beware of complaint's hidden demands on children. If we must demand of them, let's demand openly.

The anatomy of the complainer is very simple. He just does not know what he wants.

He imagines he does. But what he's really asking is, "Make me know myself loved. Make me know peace of self-acceptance in place of this restless, resentful discontent."

* * *

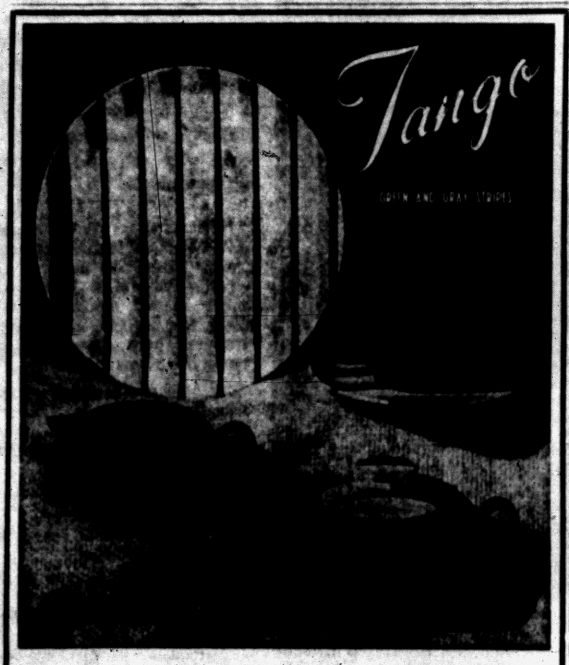

These are requests to be addressed to God, not people.

SPIRITUAL WANTS

Until the complainer perceives his wants as spiritual, he will continue to harass everyone around him with his material demands.

If you're kind enough to fix his shelf for him, your kindness will merely remind him that the table needs mending. If you provide aspirin for his headaches, he will remember he needs a heating pad for the neuralgia in his shoulder.

The complainer can never be satisfied for the simplest of reasons. Nothing he thinks he wants is satisfying.

There's No Glamor in Glamor Jobs

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I used to think it would be very glamorous to have a job as a social secretary to some famous person," a young woman writes, "but boy, did I get disillusioned!

"I thought my story might help straighten some other girl out, so here goes:

* * *

"I am a good secretary but I got tired of just working for run-of-the-mill offices. The salary was okay, the hours were not bad and I suppose there was a future, if you wanted to knock yourself out. But I didn't.

WANTED HIGH SALARY

"I wanted a high salary and a fascinating job and maybe the opportunity to meet interesting people and marry a rich man. So I decided to be social secretary to a writer, an actress or a society woman. I tried it, and had some incredible experiences!

"I went to a very swanky employment agency and registered for just the kind of job I wanted. I named a high salary, of course. And then I ran an ad in the paper.

"First, I got a job with an actress. I worked in her beautiful duplex and it looked as though the job would be divine. But all I did was work.

"She was writing a book, so she dictated for hours every morning and I transcribed for hours every afternoon. Period. No glamor, no interesting people, just me and the typewriter.

"The maid brought me sandwiches on a tray for lunch, but I hardly had time to gulp them down, there was always so much dictation. I left that one.

THEN A COUNTESS

"Next, I worked for a European countess, but she didn't quite understand the duties of an American social secretary. She had me bathing the poodle and shopping for groceries and handling her bookkeeping, which was considerable.

"I never met anybody and I never got home till after 8 at night. When her cook left and she asked me to whip up a little dinner for six, I walked out!"

* * *

"After that, my boss was a lady executive who worked from her home. I thought that would be fine, because she was in a fascinating field.

"But I discovered that the reason she did so much work at home was because she was an alcoholic. I couldn't stand that for more than a week. I left her, fast.

"I'm back in a regular job now," she concludes, "and loving it. My advice is, if you want a glamorous life, get it on your own time and keep your job as a job.

"The glamorous secretarial jobs are just like any others—you, your notebook and your typewriter—only the hours are worse and the conditions are more terrible than you can believe!"

Fall Cleanup Can Include Advantages

Plotting an early start on fall clean-up may inspire a loud groan, but it does carry two advantages.

Musch of the necessary and messy outdoor work can be accomplished in pleasant weather.

You'll have a better chance of snaring family help before all spare time is nailed down by school clubs and athletic schedules.

No one wants to shut up the "outdoor living room" any sooner than the weather dictates. But that doesn't mean that all the preparations need to be deferred until snow falls.

Armed with garden hose, a pail, sponges and soap and a willing helper or two, a few hours of work spaced for convenience smooths the way to winter.

Outdoor furniture which has been only wiped off during summer use should have a thorough washing topside and underneath before it is stored.

You don't have to wait until your fingers freeze to the sponge for this. Two or three weeks between wash and storag won't make much difference, and any dust accumulation can be flicked off.

If you use outdoor chairs indoors, in winter, you'll want to be particularly careful to remove the dust that sifts and settles under the framework and in folds of fabric.

Paint jobs last longer and look better if surfaces are free of the abrasive particles.

Mom Won't Accept Gift for Daughter

Emily Post Rules That Her Attitude Was Discourteous

By EMILY POST

"I would like to have your opinion on something that happened a while back but is still causing an unpleasant situation. My daughter graduated from college this past June and received many cards and gifts from friends and relatives.

"A very close frined of mine called our house several days before graduation and told me that she had a present for Mary and said that she would be over soon to give it to her. However, she never got around to coming.

"Several weeks later I was invited to a tea at the house of another friend and this first friend was also invited. Knowing that I was to be there she brought the graduation present for my daughter with her and asked me to give it to her.

"I told her that I would rather have her give it to Mary personally. She lives only a short distance away and it would have been very simple for her to bring it over. Since the gift wasn't for me and it became a matter of a duty to be dispensed with in an impersonal manner I could not take it to give to my daughter.

"Perhaps I was wrong in not accepting the gift but I think she was wrong in the way she handled the matter. I would appreciate hearing from you. I usually like to do the right thing and this whole incident has me disturbed."

* * *

Answer: I'm sorry, you should have taken the gift she offered and the discourtesy was definitely yours. It would have been nicer for her to bring it herself, but I see no discourtesy in what she did.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I recently congratulated a mother on the graduation of her daughter from college. She replied by saying that I should not congratulate her as it was her daughter who had graduated. This form is practiced quite generally in this locality. Is it improper?"

Answer: Although you do congrauulate the daughter rather than the mother, there is certainly nothing improper in congratulating the mother on her daughter's graduation. It is merely a friendly gesture.

Reports Are Heard by Esther Court 13

Patient at Home

Edward P. Reiner is seriously ill at his home on Coventry road, Drayton Plains.

For longer-lasting window cords that operate more smoothly, dust thoroughly and rub with an oil-saturated cloth twice a year.

"Bright girl, my Betsy!"

I just can't get over the marvelous way my Betsy outsmarts her housework. Take wood floors for instance. I hear other wives complain about all the scrubbing and waxing they have to do. But not my Betsy! She cleans and waxes them in one easy operation with Bruce Cleaning Wax. Why, she's through in half the time and fresh as a daisy! And our beautiful wood floors are always getting compliments. My Betsy and her Bruce Cleaning Wax sure make small work of a big job. I'm mighty proud of both of them.

P.S. For lighter waxing on linoleum and wood, Betsy uses Bruce Floor Cleaner.

That Baby Fine Hair

No time of year is the right time for you with baby fine hair. Winter winds are ruinous to your fragile curls. Wish I had a sure cure for all your problems but the best I can come up with is a few suggestions that may help to keep your hairdo under control. We have learned that careful styling and the right kind of a permanent does help to give this kind of hair body and curl. We do not advise brushing baby fine hair. It is good for the hair but not for the hairdo. This hair should be held in place at night with bobbies and covered with a net. For once it is allowed to become disarranged it will not go back in place until it has been reset. In some cases it is advisable to let this hair grow longer in order to create a style where the ends can be securely anchored.

Girl Tired of Waiting for Wandering Beau

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: We're both 13 and we've gone together for almost a whole year. Everything was going fine until he started liking another girl. I didn't think I could do anything about it so I just waited.

"She soon started to like someone else, so my boy friend came back to me. Thus has happened several times since we started going together.

"I've tried to prevent it, but nothing works, I'm tired of being two-timed—but I still like him a lot. Have you any suggestions?"

Answer: How very wise you were to tell yourself the truth when you said you couldn't do anything about it, so just wait. There is little a girl can do when her boy friend starts going off at tangents.

She can wail, she can complain, she can make frightful scenes. But does it convenice him to stay put? Not likely. He'll want to put distance rapidly between them.

Your boy friend, like lots of other boys his age, is just beginning to find out about girls. He's discovering that all girls have charms of one kind or another.

It might be the poise of one, the home of another, the club one belongs to, or the car of another's brother. Each girl has her own attraction, and he's indifferent or interested depending entirely on his own mood.

So your boy friend runs after other girls for spells—but he always seems to come back to you. My suggestion is that you stop considering him your personal property. Then you'll be easier to convince that you're not being two-timed.

He's just a wandering minstrel who lights on your doorstep on occasion and sticks around for a while. And when he's gone the next time, be susceptible to the charms of other boys.

Like someone else while he's liking someone else. You needn't be so long-sufferingly faithful. You can be a rolling stone too.

"Dear Miss Woodward: At the party where I met him, we danced together the whole evening. He told my friends he liked me and they told me. We went to the movies together and he seemed happy to be with me.

"But a few months later I found out he'd stopped liking me. I don't know if I was at fault or he just tired of me. Could you tell me how to get him back or should I let him go?"

Answer: He's already gone unfortunately. So you'd better let go of him in your dreams. You saw him twice, and enjoyed two pleasant evenings with him. Not much of a chance to get to know him really well.

He had two nice evenings with you. Not enough to convince anybody that you were his girl. It wasn't your fault—nor was it his. It just wasn't meant to turn into anything big. So let it go.

'I Won't Pay It' Is Farmer Reply to 20-Year Bill

CHICAGO (AP)—For 20 years the U.S. government has been trying to collect $100 it says farmer William H. Yearton borrowed from the Farm Credit Administration.

* * *

Federal officials hoped today that the matter finally would be settled. They had a court order to bring Yearton in.

But Yearton, 41, says he doesn't understand what the commotion is all about. He says he doesn't remember owing the government anything.

Yearton's debt—a 1935 emergency crop and feed loan for a farm he once operated at Sugar Grove, West of Aurora, Ill.—has risen to $372.56, counting interest and costs, the government says.

* * *

And, a Department of Agriculture official said, the government has spent many times the original $100 debt trying to collect.

On Sept. 1, 1959, Federal Judge William J. Campbell issued a judgment. Yearon ignored it.

GUN THREAT

Federal marshals called at his farm. They reported he spurned them and once threatened them with a gun.

On June 15, Judge Campbell ordered Yearton to appear in court June 28 for an examination of his assets. He didn't come. The judge ordered Yearton to appear yesterday to show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court. Again, he ignored the summons.

Judge Campbell ruled Yearton in contempt and ordered marshals to bring him in.

"I have not threatened anyone," Yearton said at his new farm near Elburn, Ill., 50 miles west of Chicago. "A marshal has been here several times in the last three or four months. He saw me twice. He told me I owed the government two hundred dollars and something. I told him I didn't know anything about it and I wasn't coming. I didn't borrow any money from the government. I don't know what the score is."

* * *

If the government collects, the money will go to the Farm Home Administration, which has absorbed the old depression-born Farm Credit Administration.

Adlai Finally Fulfills Thirty Year Ambition

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, 1952 Democratic candidate for president of the United States, fulfilled a 30-year ambition Monday. He rode and climbed King Henri Cristophe's citadel at Cape Haitein, 85 miles north of Port Au Prince.

* * *

Stevenson is visiting Haiti with Richard Reynolds of Reynolds Metals Co. and Stevenson's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Adlai Stevenson II. Reynolds metals is about to launch large bauxite (aluminum ore) mining operations up Fruit Salad Trail to the citadel on Haiti.

The elder Stevenson led the way built by the famous early 19th Century Negro king of Haiti.

* * *

The party returned to Port Au Prince for a reception at the private residence of President Paul Magloire. Stevenson will fly to Jamaica today.

Hal Boyle Says:

America Goes on Rocks--Liquidly Speaking

NEW YORK (AP)—The Oddity Almanac:

Is this country going on the rocks?

It would seem so, judging from the present trend in American drinking habits. Either that or we are just entering a new ice age.

* * *

The long tall cool drinks of yore have been replaced in favor by scotch on the rocks, bourbon on the rocks, martinis on the rocks, even vodka on the rocks.

So far as we know nobody has violated the traditions of ole Kentucky enough to call for a mint julep on the rocks. But now soup on the rocks is getting more and more popular, including borscht and bouillon.

* * *

A friend of ours, watching a guy gulp down a bouillon on the rocks, heard him say to a companion:

"Greatest invention since the wheel."

Sooner or later, of course, some daredevil is going to call for fried pork gravy on the rocks. That ought to end the trend fast.

What does it profit a man if he is prosperous enough to afford a rich juicy steak — and then has to gum it?

Millions of American kids are going back to school this month. Dr. Solomon N. Rosenstein, Columbia University dental authority, says at 16 the average youngster will have seven decayed, missing or filled teeth. One out of five will need major orthodontic care. Only 4 per cent will be free of dental decay.

* * *

And 25 years later, when he is 41, the average individual will have 19 missing, decayed, or filled teeth!

To help assure good choppers later in life, dentists say a child should be taught to squeeze that toothpaste tube himself at the age of 2 or 3.

Almanac fashion notes: You think women are fussy about their clothes? Many men are even fussier, says Budd, a Fifth Avenue haberdasher, particularly about their bow ties.

"You'd think a bow tie is a bow tie, and that a man would pick one from a selection, then just wear it and forget it.

"But no. Many men are so particular about their bow ties they've got to have paper patterns cut to their own neck size and in the shape tie they prefer."

Budd keeps a file of more than 7,000 such paper patterns. His most discriminating customer, however, is composer Cole Porter, who insists on designing his own bow ties.

---

Almanac nature study dept.: No salmon has tracked down an escaped prisoner yet. But they have an even keener sense of scent than bloodhounds, according to Dr. James A. Larsen, University of Wisconsin zoologist.

Scientists long have wondered how adult salmon are able to find their way from the sea hundreds of miles back to their upriver birthplaces at spawning season.

* * *

Experiments by Dr. Larsen indicate the fish do it by scent, literally smelling their way home by the minutely differing odors of plant life in the waters on their journey.

He found this out by blocking the noses of some salmon with cotton. The confused fish got lost. Those with their nasal passages left unblocked swam on home for their date with posterity.

READIN' 'N WRITIN' 'N 'RITHMETIC—3.

An Indian Girl Reads a Written Story

Writing is just about as old as the human race. The first writing was picture writing. Men drew pictures of things they wanted to tell others about.

Men living thousands of years ago drew pictures of animals on the walls of their caves. Some of these drawings have been found in caves in southern France.

Picture writing called hieroglyphics was used by the ancient Egyptians on monuments and buildings. Written Chinese and Japanese is a picture language, with signs for words instead of letters. And American Indians used picture symbols to write down their ideas.

Even today we use a form of picture writing — a pointing hand, crossed lines to indicate a railroad crossing, a skull and crossbones for poison, a pointing arrow, the S of a sharp curve, jagged lines to show high voltage electric currents.

Here is the picture of an Indian girl looking at a hide painted with a story of her father's adventures. Reading the pictures she knows he left his teepee and traveled in a canoe with other Indians for two days. The two days are shown by circles under arches, meaning the sun in the sky. He entered a forest and killed three deer. Then he got back in the canoe and came home in two days.

Paste this page on cereal box cardboard and color it brightly with crayons. Then why don't you try making a picture story of something that has happened to you?

Tomorrow: Let's Write Like the Ancients Did.

Bob Considine Says:

Kids Conquer Those Back-to-School Blues

NEW YORK (INS) — It's a melancholy business, bringing a station wagon of children back to the city for school. As Manhattan's roaring traffic's boom drew closer and closer the silence deepened in our creaking wagon. I felt like the driver of a tumbrel inching into the Place de la Concorde.

"Put the safety catches down on the doors," their mother said. There would be no escapes this late in the game.

There had been enough trouble that day catching, shoeing, and shearing one of them whose allergy to barber shops had made him look a great deal like a Tibetan lhasa apso. Shorn, shining, scented and sad he now watched the fields of Jersey slip behind and the prongs of New York fill the sky ahead.

What happened to summer?

For a kid it must be like baling out of a high-flying plane. For a long time he floats in a delightfully unobstructed world . . . a world without sharp edges . . . a time of lying in the sun and gripping the cool grass or the elusive sand to keep from being flung off into space by the roll of the earth.

Then, get ready! Brace! It's over! Quick! Where did you drop that schoolbag last June?

NO TIME LEFT

The last week of vacation around our place went so fast there wasn't time to say goodbye to some they'd never see again; there wasn't time to say to the kids they had battled, and vice versa, "Sorry, let's shake."

• • •

The quiet streets of Allenhurst, whose shade trees and old white "General Grant" houses march up from the Atlantic in pleasant cadence, began losing its summer population Labor Day. Each morning thereafter, one missed a freckled face, a brace of snaggled teeth, or a set of pigtails. Or a laugh, a distant shout, a giggle.

The number of bicycles in the yard dropped from a season's high of 12 to 3, on the morning of our take-off. There were leaves on the pavements, fine gold ones, and at dusk the evening before there had been the bittersweet pungency of their fires.

"The letter said the new gymnasium is ready for the new school year," the hard-pressed driver said, with pathetic cheerfulness. "That ought to be something." His voice trailed off. None of his children replied.

"Don't seem possible," the youngest boy finally said. "Gosh. Tomorrow, clean clothes and school." Each was a dire prospect.

"Dope!" another said scornfully. "It's not tomorrow we go. It's the day after tomorrow."

Maybe it was an air-conditioned movie we passed at that moment, or perhaps a vagrant breeze of the lost vacation had caught up with us. But in our wagon there was a new little note. It said, in substance, "Well, things aren't as bad as we thought. School doesn't start tomorrow after all. It's the day after."

The ragged little company climbed out of a car, dragging its ammunition — a .22, a clanking tool kit, an arrowless bow, and a dog named Mimi. The group headed for the door of the apartment house, pausing only once to gape upward at a new skyscraper across the street.

"Well, wadda you know," a boy said. "The Colgate-Palmolive Building got built since I left. And look, the Christmas tree is still up here!"

He pointed to the top of the towering supply elevator shaft which had been used to build the building proper. Last Christmas Eve a helmeted steelworker lashed a little tree to the top of it. It is there today, shredded but still proud as a banner.

But it takes a child to see it.

Garroway Nears 3,000-Hour Mark on TV

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — TV fans have credited Dave Garroway with a great many attributes of greatness in the past three years but, being a modest man—sort of a Gary Cooper with enunciation—he admits to only one real distinction.

* * *

That is longevity. Or the record number of hours spent peering into the cruel camera's eye.

"At this," he concedes a mite sheepishly, "I am unexcelled. This could be a sign either that I'm a ham, or that my mother was thrown by a workhorse, or that I love my job."

The latter, of course, is true. And as the big man with the quiet, calming face approaches his 3,000th hour on his "Today" show alone (there are other Garroway shows and guest shots, but they needn't even be added up to put him in the longevity lead), he has long since surpassed all other TV stars in wave-length seniority.

CATCHES UP

"The person to catch," he says, leaning back in his blue-green office and sipping a no-calorie root beer, "was Bob Smith of 'Howdy-Doody,' who had been on a half-hour a day for hundreds of years." he grins. "With three hours a morning for 'Today,' we caught up in something like a year and two months."

* * *

You would think, with such hourage under his belt, that Dave would be 1) tired, 2) fed up, or 3) ready to go to bed at 9 p.m.

But no. "This may sound too sticky to be credible, but the only time I feel the strain is between 4 a. m. and 4:05," he vows, holding up four fingers to illustrate. "I do not like that five-minute period because my mind is disjointed from my body, and the world is not making sense."

But cold fruit juice quickly glues the Garroway crania to the cervix, and by roughly 4:06, he is midly enthusiastic about getting to work. When he reaches the NBC studio in his Rolls-Royce and sees the kindly faces of the "Today" crew, the quart jug of coffee and the familiar fuzz of J. Fred Muggs, chimpanzee, all is in order again.

5 HOURS OF SLEEP

Dave has trained himself to sleep no more than five hours a night, usually four, and his physician says that's plenty—"as long as I'm interested in what I'm doing. I won't get sleepy or over-tired," is how Garroway explains the formula. Immediately after the show, at 9 a.m., Dave goes into huddles over future shows and "usually sticks around the office" till 5 or 6 p.m.

* * *

A bachelor, he spends his evenings attending opening nights on Broadway, reading, driving (he's "car-happy," he says) or working on a variety of projects. His weekends in the future will be taken up with two new shows he's signed to do this winter: "Wide, Wide World" for General Motors, and a three-hour stint on NBC radio's "Monitor" show.

To put your finger on the Garroway charm is like trying to describe why Louis Armsrong's baritone voice is thrilling. It's a style that makes the viewer feel like Dave is one of the family. The nice one of the family.

Jerry Green, producer of "Today," says "we can interest Dave in practically any subject in the world, from cybernetics to comic strips." And his enthusiasm for a newly-discovered field of knowledge sort of slips through the screen and clutches the audience.

* * *

The big man himself listens solemnly to this dissection of his personal appeal, and then says, leaning forward, animated:

"Well, naturally I'm interested. Do you know what cybernetics is? It's the most fascinating study of . . ."

Food Dealers Want Fair Manager Fired

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Retail Food Dealers Assn. wants Gov. Williams to fire Donald L. Swanson as general manager of the Michigan State Fair.

* * *

The independent grocers group said Swanson gave Wrigley's Stores, Inc., "free publicity at the expense of the people of Michigan," in a ticket deal. Wrigley's operates a chain of supermarkets. It bought a block of grandstand and coliseum tickets at a special discount for opening day, guaranteeing the fair $5,000 in gross receipts in return for the right to refer to opening day as "Wrigley's Day." The tickets were sold at the same discount.

Swanson's removal was demanded in the MRFDA newspaper "Michigan Food News."

In Lansing, Gov. Williams said he had not received any formal request for Swanson's removal.

"From what I have heard and seen, I am under the impression that he has done an excellent job," Williams said. "The fair is running financially at a better clip than ever before."

There are at least 350 kinds of the common "lead" pencil.

HE'S SAVING TWO BUCKS! — The price of a haircut in Chicago is going up, up and up to $1.75 on weekdays and $2 on Saturdays, but that doesn't worry this youngster. He's joining the do-it-yourself movement, as are other Chicagoans, according to cutlery stores reporting greatly increased sales in home-barbering kits.

Turncoat Plans to Return Home

Mother Receives Letter From Renegade Son in Red China

ALDEN, Minn. (AP) — The mother of turncoat GI Pvt. Richard Tenneson said last night she received a letter from her son saying he will return home from Red China.

Mrs. Portia Howe, who said she received the letter with "mixed emotions," quoted her son's letter as saying, "It won't be long now."

The 22-year-old soldier was one of a score of American GIs who refused repatriation from Chinese Communist captivity at the end of the Korean War.

She said Tenneson's letter read in part:

"I am coming back to the States, coming home, but my friend, the Army, will see to it that I don't get that far.

"It won't be long now. On Aug. 23 a representative of the Red Cross General Society came and guaranteed that it wouldn't be too long.

"My request was to leave China. I first asked (the Red Cross representative) to go to India, but it wasn't possible, then to go home. Judging from the world situation, I'll probably be going home."

Tenneson gave as a reason for leaving China "that certain weaknesses in my character make it very uncomfortable and impossible to stay."

He added in the letter:

"Why I am coming back is indeed a big question. I am not entirely sure myself, but there is one thing for certain — no matter what I say, I'll get put away."

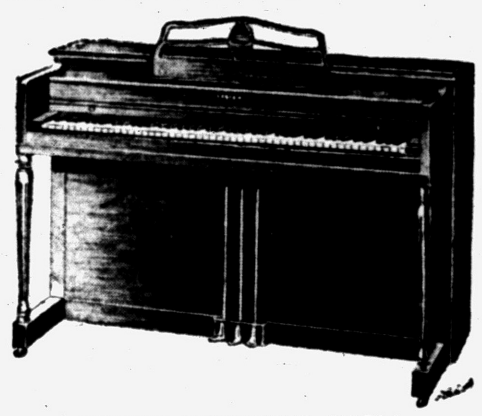

Mrs. Howe said she felt two different ways on reading the letter from her son. She said she felt "thankfulness to God that my prayers were being answered." And she said she spoke a prayer that "both of us would be given the wisdom and courage to face a trial if he has one, and to do it in a dignified manner."

She said she did not know what action the U.S. Army might take against Tenneson.

Mrs. Howe, who lives in this Southern Minnesota town with her husband and her twin son and daughter, Eben and Jan, said she didn't know what Tenneson meant by "certain weaknesses" in his character.

She said that she knew little about his current thinking since she hadn't seen him since before he was captured May 18, 1951 just south of the 38th Parallel in Korea.

Python Jinx Off Orient Freighter

Crew Breathes Easily as Snake Leaves Ship for Philly Zoo

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—The crew of the Isthmian freighter Steel Surveyor heaved a sigh of relief today after ridding the ship of the "curse of the white python."

* * *

The rare python was among a load of animals unloaded here yesterday from the far east.

A near mishap occurred when a cargo boom gave way on the ship and plunged toward a crowd of onlookers watching the unloadings. Steel cables in the ship's rigging halted the fall of the boom within a yard of the dock. There were no injuries.

Swiss animal trapper Peter Ryhiner attributed the mishap to the "bad luck" attributed to the white Python. The 7½-foot snake had cast a pall over the entire trip, Ryhiner said.

* * *

"In Singapore it was riots; in India it was floods. Our best tiger jumped overboard in the Red Sea. Then we were chased into a strike-bound port by a hurricane. And now the cargo boom breaks. hardly know what to expect next," the bearded Ryhiner declared.

The unloadings continued without further incident, however, and by nightfall the white python was en route to its new home in the Philadelphia Zoo.

THE INDIFFERENT SHRUG

couldn't care less

The SHRUG is a retailer who shows little concern whether a manufacturer advertises in newspapers or not.

He thinks that all his customers are psychic and don't have to be told about the products he sells.

Oh, sure, he believes in newspaper advertising for retailers like himself — but he doesn't seem to realize that he should urge manufacturers to advertise there, too.

Fortunately, the SHRUG is a rare creature.

Most retailers put most of their advertising in their local newspapers — *and ask for and welcome manufacturers' ads in the same medium.

Most retailers are avid boosters of newspaper advertising for manufacturers as well as themselves because they've felt the results of this action medium — right where it counts — in their cash registers.

Happily, manufacturers are realizing this more and more. What clearer evidence than in the record amount of linage they placed in newspapers the first six months of 1955? Both retailers and manufacturers used more newspaper advertising in the first six months of 1955 than in any similar period in history.

Nowhere else can a manufacturer and a retailer advertise together so effectively as in the newspaper.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers!

Tribe Sweeps Pair, but Gets Warning

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Manager Al Lopez gave it to his Cleveland Indians straight today—it's overconfidence, not the New York Yankees, they have to watch in their bid for a second straight American League pennant.

The tribe junked its jinx last night, sweeping a twi-night pair from the pesky Washington Senators 3-1 and 8-2 and moving out to a two-game lead over the Yankees. But instead of whoopin' it up, Lopez warned that "We've still got a long way to go."

You might say Al's laughin' on the inside, crying on the outside.

Just 24 hours before, Lopez had said "We'll be in an excellent position to win the pennant" if the Indians beat the Senators. Now you get the idea Lopez knows Cleveland has won it—the big worry is not to lose it.

* * *

The two-game lead is the biggest bulge any of the contenders has had since the Tribe led by two on Aug. 13. And the Yanks, who flattened Detroit 6-0 yesterday, still are a game shy on the losing side with 11 games left. Cleveland has nine to play.

Chicago and Boston practically fell by the wayside yesterday. The third place White Sox had to rally for six runs in the ninth to salvage a split at Baltimore, winning 9-6 after a 2-0 defeat. They're 4½ back now with 10 games left.

Boston, losing a 12-inning opener to Kansas City 6-5, rallied to win the nightcap 7-6. That left the Red Sox seven games back—and 11 to play.

* * *

The Indians, winning 13 of the last 16, thumped the Senators on a pair of six-hitters by Mike Garcia and Bob Lemon. Garcia, the big bear, won his 11th in the opener, snapping Washington's five-game streak against the Tribe. Gene Woodling, the ex-Yank, tripled home two runs and scored the third on Bobby Avila's sacrifice fly in a big third inning against loser Chuck Stobbs.

Larry Doby batted in four runs and the Senators, who had whipped Cleveland in 12 of 19 games this year, kicked in three errors as Lemon hung up his 18th victory in the nightcap. Lemon, without a complete game since May 30, tired after eight innings and Ray Narleski pitched the ninth—striking out two of three men he faced.

The Yankees used an error by Fred Hatfield, a walk, two singles and Elston Howard's two-run triple to chase young Bob Miller and beat the Tigers with four runs in the fourth.

Three walks, two singles, a sacrifice fly, a wild pitch and Bob Nieman's triple fashioned Chicago's six-run ninth. The last place Orioles had led on Jim Dyck's grand-slam homer off Jack Harshman in the first.

In the first game, Ray Moore blanked the Sox on six hits, while the Orioles made the most of four walks and six hits to beat Virgil Trucks.

Vic Power singled home the winning run in the 12th off Ellis Kinder in the first game at Boston. Kinder, Boston's relief ace, lost his third straight. Jimmy Piersall and Faye Throneberry each swatted two-run homers to pull the Bosox from behind in the nightcap.

* * *

St. Louis handed Brooklyn's National League champs a third straight defeat, 8-2. The Cards clouted 11 hits off Karl Spooner and four relievers.

Chosen Rookie of Year

Don Blasingame, 23, the youngster whom deposed Manager Eddie Stanky planned to use at shortstop for the 1956 St. Louis Cardinals, has been chosen the rookie of the year in the American Assn. He started at 2nd base for Omaha.

THE MOOD CHANGES — Harvie Ward of San Francisco displayed these emotions as he defeated Ray Palmer of Wyandotte, Mich., in an extra hole match in the National Amateur golf tourney yesterday at Richmond, Va. At left Ward registers disgust after missing a putt on the 16th. At right he happily leaps in the air as a birdie putt drops on No. 19 to give him a 1 up victory.

Comeback for Ponies?

MSU Coaches Looking Over Lighter Players

EAST LANSING (AP)—The "pony" backs may be making a comeback on the Michigan State football scene.

Just a few years ago, the lightweight backs were almost a trademark with the Spartans.

Then coach Biggie Munn became sold on the little fellows with his 1st experience with George Guerre, the vest pocket skat back from Flint who was overweight when he topped 150 pounds.

Guerre proved that fire, speed and just plain guts could make up for lack of poundage.

When the Spartans were having their great string of unbeaten seasons climaxed by the conference co-title and the Rose Bowl victory, the ponies were carrying the load.

Most famous foursome among the lightweights was made up of quarterback Tommy Yewcic, halfbacks Leroy Bolden and Billy Wells and fullback Evan Slonac.

Rules on substitution are more liberal this year. Now coaches are thinking again that there's still a place for the pint size player—if he's got the stuff.

Weightwise, the Michigan State backfield lineup this year doesn't go much for beef except in the two starting halfbacks.

Earl Morrall and Pat Wilson, the 1st two quarterbacks, both weigh around 180. Sophomore Mike Panitch hits 173.

Right half Walt Kowalczyk is the heaviest regular at 198.

Rocky Plans for Fast Start

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, a mild and soft-spoken New Englander when he is not working, casually confirmed today that he is in the best shape of his career.

Therefore, he said just before entering the ring for a three-round workout, he intends to open up fast against challenger Archie Moore next Tuesday night when he defends his title in New York's Yankee Stadium.

"I feel as though everything is working out perfectly for this fight," said the champion. "I feel better than ever before. Sometimes, for other fights I wouldn't feel just right but things would work out all right anyhow.

"I plan to start real fast. Not like the first fight I had with Ezzard Charles when I didn't get untracked until the sixth, not like the Don Cockell fight when I took much too long to get going. I'm going to do the equivalent of five rounds of boxing in the stadium dressing room before the bell."

Marciano has boxed 107 rounds so far in his training for Moore—a drastic comedown from his previous efforts. When he winds up Sunday, he'll have worked 118 rounds. Compare that to some of the other figures. For his second bout with Jersey Joe Walcott, he went 250 rounds in training—which could be a record. He drilled 208 for Roland LaStarza and 189 for Cockell.

"This time I haven't worked so hard or so long," he continued, "and there is no sign of staleness whatsoever. I was trying to do too much in those days. Now I take time off whenever I feel I need it. The new program has worked wonders."

The Rock said he wouldn't be at all surprised if Moore tried for an early knockout because he is supposed to be a slow starter.

High Optimism Pervades Camp of Challenger Archie

NORTH ADAMS, Mass. (AP) — Listen to the optimistic outbursts at Archie Moore's training camp for a while and you wonder why Rocky Marciano will bother stepping into the Yankee Stadium ring Sept. 20 to defend his heavyweight crown.

* * *

The way they talk at the light heavyweight king's camp here in the Berkshires, the fight is just a cut-and-dried affair. Archie is going to call all the shots and, at 38, become the oldest man ever to win the heavyweight title. That's the way they see it here.

"Archie will take care of him in five or six rounds," said Manager Charley Johnston. "How they get those odds favoring Marciano I can't see for the life of me. I notice, though, the odds have dropped to 13-5.

* * *

"In my book," said Johnston," Archie should be the 13-5 favorite, not Marciano. What are they making Marciano the favorite on? The Don Cockell fight? Ezzard Charles? Jersey Joe Walcott? Is it because he's supposed to be such a puncher?

"Well, Marciano must have hit Cockell about 300 punches and it took him nine rounds to catch up to him. You saw what Nino Valdes did to Cockell and Moore beat Valdes. Where's the one punch knockout power Marciano is supposed to have? Archie will jab him silly, bust him up and knock him out in five or six rounds."

* * *

Trainer "Cheerful" Norman, who is closest to the deep-thinking Moore, is satisfied with Archie's temperament which is turning "mean." He's beginning to snap at newspapermen.

Moore will box two rounds today, lay off tomorrow and finish up with short sparring sessions Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

NEW CAPTAIN—Chick Harbert, Northville, Mich., has been elected captain of the U. S. Ryder Cup team at a meeting in New York. Harbert, 40, the 1954 Professional Golfers Association champion, will be making his 2nd appearance in the international series against England.

Tony De Marco Favored Tonight

Former Welter Champ Given Edge on Vejar for Television Battle

BOSTON (AP) — Tony DeMarco, former welterweight king, is favored to defeat Chico Vejar in their nationally-televised 10-round fight tonight on the strength of his superior hitting power and a body attack tailored to his opponent's vulnerable midsection.

* * *

Telecast is by ABC, at 9 p.m. EST.

* * *

The odds on DeMarco, from the North end of Boston, range from 8-to-5 to 2-to-1 with the winner of the Boston Garden feature expected to get a title shot at welter champion Carmen Basilio.

* * *

DeMarco won the championship in this ring April 1 from Johnny Saxton but lost it to Basilio June 10 in Syracuse. It will be his first appearance since then.

Undefeated Chicago Favored in Playoffs

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—The Baltimore Lumber Club of Chicago only unbeaten team in the tourney, emerged as a favorite today to capture the American Baseball Congress eastern playoffs.

The Chicago outfit edged Pittsfield, Mass., 7-6 in a 10-inning game yesterday. It was Pittsfield's 1st loss in the double elimination affair.

In other action Battle Creek (Mich.) Archways eliminated Perrysburg, Ohio, 6-3, and Knoxville, Tenn., scored twice in the 9th inning to defeat the Battle Creek Behnkes, 4-2, and knock them out of the tournament.

Barr in Line for Heavy Duty With UM Squad

Understudy Last Year Looms as 'Big Gun' in Single Wing Plan

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A football understudy last year, Terry Barr is headed for heavy duty with Michigan's Wolverines this season as a big gun in the single wing.

"My leg is just a little tired, Barr said. "There's nothing wrong really. This two-a-day practice is pretty rough."

Barr stands 6 feet 1 and weighs only 175 pounds. He's anything but hefty. But his speed and his improving passing will make the left half position trouble for Michigan opponents.

Barr admitted having trouble with Michigan's style of passing.

"I was a quarterback on the split T at Grand Rapids Central," Barr said. "The left half and I did most of the passing."

But at Michigan, Barr explained, they wanted him to stop throwing over hand and develop a more sidearm motion.

"This has been a little difficult to get used to," he added.

Last season too, as 2nd stringer behind capable Danny Cline, Barr played only 83 minutes. Most of this time he wore bands of tape around his left knee. This, he said, held down his speed somewhat.

"It feels pretty good now," Barr said. "This season I think I can do a lot better.

"The whole backfield looks good but Tony (right half Branoff) is the best."

Barr was in good company in the training room yesterday, resting his tired left leg. Two tables down was Branoff, after running too hard before his turned ankle had healed.

Second string fullback Dave Hill was sidelined yesterday with bruised ribs which weren't considered serious and Branoff's replacement, Ed Hickey, is out indefinitely with a turned ankle of his own.

Pontiac Hurler Has Good Year; Goes to Work!

After a good year in his first tour of duty as a professional baseball player, Marvin Caswell, chattel of the Detroit Tigers, is home. "Now," says the fast-ball right hander, "I've got a job and am working."

Caswell compiled a very good mark of 8 wins and 4 losses in Tiger "farms" during the summer. Most were in relief roles.

Marvin, former PHS ace, started with the Jamestown, N.Y. Falcons in the Pony League. He won 2, lost 2, and then was moved to the Valdosta, Ga. team in the Georgia - Alabama circuit. At Valdosta, Caswell again split even, winning and losing one.

A brief stay at Valdosta and he moved on to Panama City, Fla. in the Florida-Georgia loop. Marvin stayed there to the end of the season, winning 5 and losing one game with the Flyers. His club won the loop title and subsequent playoffs.

Caswell has been signed again, for 1956, and will return to the Idaho Falls, Ida. club in the Western League, which held his contract this season. He will report during the latter part of March, 1956.

Just now Caswell is employed at the Seaman Mfg. Co., on Dixie Highway.

UCLA Ranked to Lead Nation, Except for PCC

Two Coast Coaches Rate Southern Cal 11 as Conference Best

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—This may surprise many football fans, but top-ranked UCLA is NOT an unanimous choice to win the Pacific Coast Conference championship in its own backyard.

The Bruins, named the pre-season No. 1 team in the Associated Press national poll, failed to get the votes of two opposing coaches in a poll conducted among the nine PCC mentors.

* * *

Coach Henry (Red) Sanders' squad was the pick of six coaches—he declined to include his charges in his own ballot—but both Al Kircher of Washington State and Skip Stahley of Idaho tabbed Southern California as best in the conference with UCLA second.

* * *

The consensus among the nine coaches, with a majority eliminating their own teams on their ballots, was this: UCLA, USC, Stanford, Washington State, Washington, California, Oregon, Oregon State and Idaho.

Southern Cal ranked either first or second on all except one ballot, which listed the Trojans third. Stanford drew two second place votes, three for third, one for fourth and one for fifth.

Texans to Open Atonement Year

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A Texas football team that flopped amid reports of breaking training in 1954 will start it "Year of Atonement" here Saturday in a battle with Texas Tech.

A crowd of 40,000 is expected.

There'll be some new members, of course, and one of them is a had named Walter Fondren, who might be just the boy to lead the Longhorns out of the wilderness.

Fondren has stepped in at quarterback and shown all the brilliance expected of him when he was named outstanding high school player in Texas two seasons ago. Coach Ed Price says he is a natural athlete who can do anything and do it well.

Await Decision on Aching Back

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore Oriole bonus beauty Jim Pyburn is back home in Birmingham, Ala., today awaiting a decision on whether his ailing back will require surgery.

The former Auburn football end, who signed with the Orioles for $48,000, injured his back on June 11 and was inactive until Sept. 1. He has only pinch hit since then and the back, he reports, is not right.

Pyburn played in 39 games and hit .194. Manager Paul Richards said a decision on Pyburn will be made in the next few weeks.

Anniversary Not in Best Location, Marion Decides

Baltimore Has Plagued Manager of White Sox Throughout Season

BALTIMORE (AP)—This is the first anniversary for Marty Marion as manager of the Chicago White Sox, but being in Baltimore is a poor place for him to celebrate.

Marion took over as manager of the White Sox last Sept. 14 from Paul Richards who quit to head the Baltimore organization. Richards and the last place Orioles have done more than anything else to see that Marion and the White Sox finish in third place again this season.

They pushed the White Sox 4½ back of Cleveland and 2½ behind New York by beating them 2-0 in the first game of a doubleheader last night. The White Sox were lucky to win the second 9-6 by scoring six times in the last inning with the help of three walks and a wild pitch.

Ham Rallies to Split Hoad Tennis Match

Babe Heading for Tampa; No Golf Before January

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Babe Zaharias today heads for her home in Tampa, Fla., where she hopes to begin golf practice by Jan. 1, for the National Women's Open.

Trying for her second successful comeback in her fight against cancer, the famous woman athlete hopes to be ready for her first 1956 tournament play when the $5,000 Tampa Women's Open is staged the latter part of January.

"I'm eyeing the National Women's Open where I didn't get a chance to defend my title this year," she said.

The Babe and her husband, George Zaharias, were to leave by plane today for Tampa where they own a home.

Before leaving the Galveston Hospital she announced the establishment of a fund for cancer detection and contributed $1,000 to help get it launched.

Mrs. Zaharias is recovering from a second cancer that was discovered when she underwent an operation for a spinal disc. She was first stricken in 1953 but returned to golf four months later to win several championships.

For the past three-and-a-half months she has been in the hospital here for correction of the disc trouble and for X-ray treatments of the cancer.

Harris Handed 1st Setback by Leggett

Buddy Harris, Pontiac lightweight, lost his 1st professional fight in seven starts Tuesday night at Detroit's Motor City Arena when he dropped a close decision to Eli Leggett.

Leggett, leading contender for Kenny Lane's Michigan lightweight title, won a unanimous verdict on the strength of a strong finish in the last two rounds. The two boxers slugged toe to toe most of the way in the preliminary televised four-round bout.

Yama Bahama scored a technical knockout in 1:54 of the 2nd round over Hector Peralta in the telecast eight-round welterweight feature.

In other bouts, Joe Garza knocked out Herb McKinney in 1:21 of the 2nd, George Moore won a 3rd-round TKO over Bob Jackson, Eugene Duncan decisioned Benny Jackson and Wes Clary knocked out Pontiac's Grady Johnson in 2:27 of the 2nd round.

Pontiac, Birmingham Gridders at Ferris

A pair of Oakland County gridders are among the leading freshmen football prospects at Ferris Institute in Big Rapids. The Bulldogs, coached by Sam Ketchman, open their season Sept. 24 at home with Olivet College.

Two area footballers at Ferris are guard Al Pinkston, former Pontiac High athlete, and tackle Bob Brasner of Birmingham. Another area athlete considered a good freshman candidate is tackle Gene Hondzinski from Van Dyke.

Nagurski at Notre Dame? Bronko Admits It's True

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Bronko Nagurski of Notre Dame? Not Minnesota?

Nope, Notre Dame.

That should raise some eyebrows up Minnesota Way.

The 17-year-old son of the all-time All-America Minnesota tackle has enrolled as a pre-medical student at Notre Dame.

Incidentally, he is out for freshman football.

Junior stands 6-1, an inch shorter than his dad when he reported to the Gophers in 1926 to start a fabulous football career, climaxed by terrorizing the National Football League as a Chicago Bear fullback.

He weighs 220 pounds, 10 more than the blockbusting Bronko did as a fledgling.

Like his father, young Nagurski was a great tackle at International Falls (Minn.) High School. His team was unbeaten last year. Junior also starred on the school's hockey team and was a slugging first baseman in baseball.

His father, who now owns and operates a large ranch near International Falls, was one of his most ardent fans during his high school athletic career.

Why didn't he follow his dad's footsteps to the University of Minnesota?

"There was no one reason why I went to Notre Dame," Nagurski, Jr., explained today. "I just wanted to go, that's all, just like a million of other kids who play football.

Only Walter Johnson with 12, and Lefty Grove and Eddie Plant with seven each, have won 20 or more games more than six seasons within the history of the American league.

Injuries Hit Chiefs' 11

By H. GUY MOATS

A "plague" of ankle injuries hit Pontiac High School's football Chiefs last night. The new injuries, while not serious in any instance, may have a considerable influence on the club that starts Friday night against Wyandotte.

"These injuries" says coach Ed Graybiel," may force us to make several changes in our planned starting squad, particularly on the defensive side."

Chiefs rip off the season's lid Friday at Wisner Stadium, against a Wyandotte eleven that has a goodly number of lettermen and experienced players back from the 1954 squad. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Among those joining several others with previous bad ankles or knees, are Bob Castell, quarterback and Karl Walker, lineman. These two suffered their disabilities Tuesday afternoon on the Wisner practice field.

Just who will be sent in to fill the spots of the disabled, in case they do not make speedy recoveries, was not settled today.

"Youngsters," the PHS mentor observed," are capable of rapid recoveries, and we hope that will be the case with these boys."

Just to be on the safe side, however, Graybiel announced today that all scrimmages will be called off for the balance of the pre-game drills.

"We don't want to take any more chances of further injuries" he pointed out.

Polishing up offensive maneuvers will occupy much of the time for the Chiefs, between now and the close of drills Thursday. There will be no night practice session, either, Graybiel says.

Chiefs' squad has been assigned its players' jersey numbers which will remain constant during the seasons, as follows:

Quarterbacks—Castell 15, Art Poe 16, Poponea 17, Russ Attwater 18 and Clapp 19.
Left halfbacks—Freeman Watkins 22, Dick Fusilier 25, Humphriees 27, Jim Shorter 28, Boykins 29, Flourde 21 and Sampey 24.
Fullbacks—Dicea 30, Charley Soann 31, Karpoics 32, Larson 33 and Don Johnson 35.
Right halfbacks—McCabe 40, Charles Robinson 41, McDonald 42, Jim (Red) Taylor 44, Conley 46, Braungel 47 and Parkelides 49.
Ends—Cagle 82, Whitlock 83, Baxter 84, B. Kennedy 85, R. Smith 86, B. Cocking 87, Cooper 88 and B. Johnson 89.
Tackles—Walker 70, C. Cocking 72, Conwell 74, Holloway 75, Kelly 76, Brigson 77, Massengal 78 and Thompson 79.
Guards—Baker 60, Kora 61, Amerson 62, Olsen 63, Frisch 64, Neaves 65, Waterfield 66, Smith 67 and Wiersema 69.
Centers—Hardy 58, McCurry 56, Gary Van Ryan 57 and L. Kennedy 54.

Palmer Scares Ward, Loses on 19th

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The 55th National Amateur golf championship is just as unpredictable as its predecessors, but its a fairly safe guess that when the finalists walk to the first tee Saturday one will come from the group of pre-tournament favorites.

There's a chance, too, that by that time he'll be as gray-haired from narrow escapes as the forty-ish olders who make up the bulk of the 64-man field that survived the first two rounds.

Going into today's double-knockout third and fourth rounds, most of the favorites still were on hand. Some, like Harvie Ward, tabbed by his rivals as the world's best amateur golfer, almost had the daylights scared out of them, but they won.

* * *

But perhaps the most noticeable feature of the remaining field was the predominance of players in the over 40 and 20-or-under age brackets. At least a dozen of the 64 survivors confessed to the over 40 age and a lot of others were close to that figure.

It could be that only steady, experienced oldsters could cope with the tricky greens and the disturbing winds on the 6,713-yard James River Course of the Country Club of Virginia.

* * *

The in-betweens included the 29-year-old Ward, Joe Conrad a sprightly 25-year-old Air Force lieutenant, 31-year-old Jimmy Jackson and 32-year-old Captain Bill Campbell from the U.S. Walker Cup team; and Hillman Robbins, 23, the sectional qualifying medalist and an impressive winner yesterday.

Then there ex-champions Ted Bishop and Willie Turnesa, who are flirting with the older age group, and Jimmy McHale, 39-year old former Walker Cupper. They're scattered through the draw so at least one of them stands a good chance of going all the way.

Another oldster, Ray Palmer of Grosse Ile, Mich., earned a prominent place in the tournament annals even though he went out in the second round.

The tall, 42-year-old manufacturer who went to the semifinal two years ago, stayed on top of Ward all the way, missed a chance to beat him with a short second shot and a weak chip at the 18th and finaly lost out on the 19th, where Harvie canned a tremendous 25-foot pressure putt and whooped and leaped like an indian dancer when it dropped in.

Turnesa, known as "Willie the Wedge" used his favorite club to effect a similar exciting finish in another of the big second round tussles. He came out of a trap to beat Bob Sweeny, runner-up to Arnold Palmer in last year's tourney and British Amateur titleholder in 1937, on the 19th hole.

Sweeny was one of the few "Name" players eliminated in the second round. Others were former champion Chick Evans, who now plays just for fun, ex-British champion Charlie Yates and youthful Walker Cupper Bruce Cudd.

Three Michigan golfers advanced to the 3rd round of the National Amateur golf tournament while three others joined Ray Palmer on the sidelines.

Glenn Johnson, 1954-55 Michigan Amateur champion, downed Bob Cochrane of Normandy, Mo., 2 and 1. Tom Draper of Red Run eliminated Lloyd Ribner of White Plains, N. Y., 4 and 3, and Detroit's Art Olfs trimmed Jacques Houdry of Ardmore, Pa., 3 and 1.

Bill Nettle of Pine Lake bowed to Ralph Schwab of Dayton, Ohio, 4 and 3, to head the state casualty list. Others were Chuck Byrne of Lochmoor, who lost to Sig Hartman, Jr., of Oklahoma City, 2 and 1, and Dr. Bob Corley of Jackson, who bowed to Frank Wharton of Dallas, 2-up.

Innocent Victim?

Tigers' Bonus Baby Bob Miller, Dumped Into AL Second-Guessing Storm Cloud

NEW YORK (AP) — The frenzied American League pennant race could still possibly revolve around a 20-year-old rookie who only a week ago was working for Augusta in the Class A Sally League.

* * *

Bob Miller, Detroit's $60,000 bonus baby is actually an innocent victim to what has turned into a question of baseball judgment. Miller started against the New York Yankees yesterday and was the losing pitcher. Now he's the center of a second-guessing storm cloud.

There was plenty of eyebrow-raising when it first was learned that Tiger Manager Bucky Harris had intentions of starting this Berwyn, Ill., High School graduate in such an important game. The lad had only 5 2-3 major league innings, all in relief, under his belt this year, and had made only two starts in his two previous seasons with the Tigers.

Harris' choice came in for genuine second-guessing when the youngster failed to survive the fourth inning. The Yankees bombarded him for four runs en route to a 6-0 triumph behind Bob Turley's five-hit hurling.

The veteran Tiger pilot didn't seem to be disturbed by the caustic complaints aimed in his general direction.

"I don't think I have to defend my selection of Miller," he declared in the quiet of the Tiger clubhouse. "If anybody is disturbed, you might relay the information to them that I intend to start Miller in one of the weekend games in Cleveland."

* * *

Asked why he pitched Billy Hoeft and Frank Lary, two of his aces, against Washington last Sunday instead of saving one for the Yankees, Harris replied:

"I don't believe it's fair to save any pitcher for any team. I would have pitched Miller earlier but when he reported to us in Boston last Tuesday, he told me he had just won a playoff game and relieved in another down in the Sally League."

Pennant Win Still Not Assured, Reminds Lopez as Cleveland Indians Take Two From Senators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leading the American League by two games with only nine to play might bring a smile to the faces of some managers but not Al Lopez. He suppressed the enthusiasm he must have felt after a double victory for his Cleveland Indians.

"We've still got a long way to go," Lopez said.

* * *

Someone suggested the Indians' double triumph over the Washington Senators last night had just about clinched the pennant for the Indians. They won, 3-1 and 8-2, from a team which has beaten them more often this year than any other in the league.

"No, Sir," Lopez replied. "We won't clinch anything until it's mathematically impossible to lose."

Someone remarked that the Indians' "magic number" is nine—any combination of nine Indian victories and New York Yankee losses.

"Yeah," Lopez said, "if we win all nine, we'll win."

Unbending a bit in the dressing room in the wee hours of the morning, Lopez conceded that his Indians looked promising. "My pitchers are winning now," he said. "Sure we look better when our pitching is better. This has been our best Eastern trip of the season."

Chuck Dressen, the Senators' manager, said it looks to him as if the Indians are just about in, and added:

"They have the easiest schedule."

Dressen said he thought Bob Lemon, the winner in the second game, looked better than at any time during the season. Lemon coasted in with a six-hit, eight-inning performance to win his 18th game. Ray Narleski mopped up in the ninth.

Mike Garcia, whose six-hit pitching in the opener, also looked to be at his peak.

The Cleveland manager had a kind word for Gene Woodling, the ex-Yankee who wrecked the Senators single-handed in the first game with a triple that figured in all three Cleveland runs.

* * *

"Woodling has helped a lot," Lopez said.

Tonight the Indians send their prize rookie, Herb Score, the league strikeout king, against the Senators' Mickey McDermott, who bested Score in a pitching duel earlier this season.

Badgers Un-Horsed, True But Are Still Title Threat

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Wisconsin is expected to prove this football season it's not a one Horse shay.

All-American Fullback Alan (The Horse) Ameche is gone, but the Badgers are tabbed to replace his pulverizing thrusts with fleet running and sharp passing which could produce a Big Ten title.

"We can't help but miss Ameche," said coach Ivy Williamson, starting his seventh Wisconsin season, "but if we get more halfback speed and Charlie Thomas can do the fullback job, we'll be troublesome every Saturday."

Of an even dozen returning lettermen, seven were Badger starters at one time or another last season when Wisconsin made a strong championship bid only to finish in a second-place tie with Michigan at 5-2.

Williamson doesn't plan to use his fullback as much this fall, naturally, as he did the four seasons Ameche was rampaging varsity performer.

Williamson admits his halfback strength has improved over last season with two seasoned players, Pat Levenhagen and Billy Lowe, backed by two scooters who can go the distance any time, Soph Dan Lewis and Johnny Bridgeman.

The Badger strong suit, however, is at quarterback, where Williamson can two-platoon Jim Miller, an excellent pass-or-run threat, and Jim Haluska, passing sensation of the 1952 Big Ten season.

"Our first club is pretty solid, comparing favorably with our No. 1 team last year," said Williamson. "But there's a drop-off between the No. 2 lines this year and last."

Newk Studies Pitching

When not pitching himself, Don Newcombe of the Dodgers makes a chart of the pitches thrown by other hurlers, noting the type of delivery and what they throw to various batters.

Above, Janice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Skarritt of Clarkston, smiles happily, showing off the better than two pounds, 21-inch-long rainbow she hooked in Park lake. Fishing with a flyrod and a gob of worms on a small hook, Janice needed her dad's help only to land the big trout. She was fishing from a dock.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

I cannot emphasize enough the importance of setting yourself in exactly the same position for every first (strike) ball. Top bowlers take a lot of time getting set, as you'll notice in major meets. They know how much it means. A variation of an inch or two at the start results in a change in delivery and ball action.

* * *

Footwork follows no set pattern, some bowlers using three steps, others four (standard), and still others five or more steps. Some finish rather abruptly; others slide. Each must solve his own problem as to how much distance to cover to the foul line, and how many steps to take to do it.

* * *

I suggest you pick a board, as sketch shows, or a spot, on the alley runway, at which to set yourself. Or line yourself up with the return rack, or the newel post. Take a practice slide or two, without the ball, to find whether the runway surface is slick or slow. If you find it slick, move your stance back a few inches. If the surface is slow, on the sticky side, shorten your run an inch or two.

Akins Decisions Jones in Indianapolis Bout

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Virgil Akins of St. Louis, 4th ranked welterweight, punched his way around the righthand leads of southpaw Harold (Babyface) Jones of Detroit to win a unanimous 10-round decision Tuesday night.

* * *

The polio benefit bout, an attempt to revive boxing in Indianapolis, brought out 3,887 fans. The gross gate was $11,803 and the net $9,836.78.

Non-Loop Tilts Open W-O Circuit

By HARRY REED

Non-league contests Friday open all schedules for the seven members of the Wayne-Oakland prep grid conference this year, as coaches seek to get at least one game played before tangling for league positions.

Northville, Keego Harbor and Holly will add another non-league game next week, but Clarkston vs Brighton and Clarenceville vs Milford will get the league into action on Sept. 23.

Clarkston Wolves, coached by Ed Hintz, led the league with a 5-1 record last year, but is presenting a green line this year. They take on Lake Orion Friday at home.

Losing 9 of 11 starters from last season's outfit, Hintz and assistants Dom Dommani and Gus Birtsos are rebuilding around halfbacks Clyde Kizer and George Land, fullback David Swayne, who saw only defensive action last year, and tackle Gary Robertson.

West Bloomfield Presidents, with a 2-3-1 league record last year, and a 2-5-1 overall score, had 40 players turn out to answer the call of coach Charles Guinnip.

Guinnip reports a good crop of last year's sophomores moving up as juniors, and 7 returning lettermen, including four backs and three linemen. Kenneth Sauder is helping with the team, which takes on Waterford Friday at Waterford High.

Eleven lettermen are among the 79 practicing at Milford, under direction of coach Dick Yeager. The Redskins are pretty well set in the backfield, but regular linemen missing will be a problem. Bill Golden, Jack Menzey and Jim Kunnen are lending helping hands to Yeager. A home game with Oxford Friday starts things, with the next week at Northville.

Making a strong bid to rise above their league record of 2-3-1 last year are the Holly Broncos. Coach Reese Protz says most of his letter winners from the past season are linemen, with young, inexperienced, but fast backs slated for action.

Herb Quade, Orville Harju and D. J. Pence are working with the 75 player turnout, preparing for the opener Friday at Grand Blanc.

Coach Nick Ianni welcomed back some 12 lettermen in his Clarenceville varsity crew this year, and is busy patching holes that the four seniors in last year's lineup left.

First test will come at Farmington Friday afternoon.

"We'll have a big defensive line, but we're short on speed," Northville Mustang coach Ron Schipper reports. Equipment went out to 16 lettermen three weeks ago, but only three, co-captain Dave Biery at end, quarterback Bud Bell, and John Fisher at guard are regular holdovers from last year. The Mustang season begins at Plymouth Friday. Don Van Ingen is helping Schipper in his first year as head coach.

'Global' Series to Pit Non-Pros at Milwaukee

Happy Chandler, Falk, Promote Tournament After Stadium Chat

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The first global World Series of baseball—the product of a chat between two baseball-minded men during a Dodgers-Braves game at County Stadium last year — starts in the same park Sept. 23.

The two men are A. B. (Happy) Chandler, former commissioner of major league baseball and president of the International Baseball Congress, and Richard S. Falk, Milwaukee industrialist and Wisconsin commissioner for the National Baseball Congress.

* * *

The IBC was formed by the NBC with the idea of promoting the first world-wide tournament. Chandler was given the job of getting plans started.

Talking above the roar of 40,000 fans one day last summer, Chandler and Falk decided that Falk would stage the non-pro spectacle and the NBC would qualify the teams.

* * *

Falk formed the non-profit Wisconsin Commission of the global World Series of baseball, and gained the support of government and industry.

The product of Chandler and Falk's chat comes to life next week when champions from Colombia, Canada, Spain, Puerto Rico, Mexico, Japan, Hawaii and the United States meet in a double-elimination tournament for the non-pro title of the world.

Seattle Signs Infants

Since July of 1954 the Seattle Raniers have signed 5,000 to baseball contracts. They are all infants, but it is said to be a good promotion stunt.

Mikes Prep for Opener

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac St. Michael High School football squad looked forward to heavy scrimmage today and Thursday before tapering off for Saturday's season opener with Avondale under the Wisner Stadium lights at 8 p.m.

This year's edition of the Shamrocks will be seeking to improve on 1954's record of 4-5 overall and 4-3 in the Suburban Catholic League, good enough for a 3rd-place finish. Some league officials tab St. Mike as the team to beat, but head coach Bob Mineweaser, now starting his 12th season at the north side school, is less optimistic.

Plagued by a mediocre freshmen crop, Mineweaser and assistant coach Mike Kazakos will be forced to rely on five holdovers for the key to this year's chances. Balance of the starting team will be gleaned from 11 players with limited experience.

Four of the 1954 starters returning are positioned up front, headed by center Jim Fitzgerald, senior captain. John Adams, senior end, Mike Lyons, junior guard, and Larry Maison, senior tackle, round out the returnees in the line.

Completing the forward wall on offense will be Gerald Kucera, senior tackle, Gerald Steinhelper, senior guard, and Duane Priebe, senior end. Lou Palace, a sophomore, and junior Allan Sampson are slated for defensive duties at tackle and guard respectively.

Only one member of last year's backfield is returning, but fortunately the lone holdover is expected to be a tower of strength in the person of hard-running Ron Elmy, a junior at fullback.

Biggest shoes to fill in the backfield are those of Bud Schwartz, departed quarterback. Tentatively scheduled to replace the graduated Schwartz is Bob Mineweaser, Jr., a sophomore and son of St. Mike's head mentor.

Chuck Brown, a speedy junior, and Dan Dropps, also a junior, will fill the halfback spots. The injured Mike Clever, a senior, is expected to spell Dropps at left half.

Mineweaser is still uncertain about his defensive platoon, but asserts that seven of the offensive starters are slated to go both ways. In addition to Palace and Sampson, sophomore Jim Fox, at safety, and junior Paul Amman in a linebacker's role are likely choices.

Grievance Procedure: Wrestle With Grid Head

CINCINNATI (AP)—Football Coach Harry (Mick) Connolly says fans with gripes should not ridicule players behind their backs but may bring their complaints to him. "But I'm giving you fair warning that I can wrestle like hell," he told Xavier University boosters yesterday.

Train Players by Cooperation, Speaker Says

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Tris Speaker, Texan member of baseball's Hall of Fame and Cleveland baseball executive, says he thinks professional baseball and colleges ought to work together training players.

Speaker said yesterday organized baseball could help by making tuition money contributions for athletes with baseball prospects. They could even pay coaching salaries if necessary, Speaker said.

Speaker said that system would give baseball well-trained players and would give colleges better teams.

He pointed out that football players leave college ready to go in pro ranks and pro grid clubs do not need the huge farm systems of baseball.

Golfer Danny Dinoff made two holes-in-one twice within a 10-day period.

Christensen to Replace Rocky Castellani in Bout

CLEVELAND (AP) — Chris Christensen, Danish middleweight champion, will substitute for Rocky Castellani as Ralph (Tiger) Jories' opponent in a 10-round bout here Sept. 23. Castellani withdrew because of the death of his wife's brother.

After Cockell Win, Nino Wants Rocky

LONDON (AP)—Big Nino Valdes of Cuba today began clamoring in earnest for a chance at the heavyweight title.

"I've waited long enough for a go at Rocky Marciano," he said, "but maybe my victory over Don Cockell will convince everyone I deserve a chance at the championship. If Cockell got one, I certainly earned it."

Valdes stopped Cockell after the third round in a scheduled 10 last night in White City Stadium when the pudgy Englishman's handlers called on the referee to halt the fight. When Cockell staggered to his corner after the third, he was gushing blood from a cut on the forehead.

Pitchers Face Big Odds

The odds against pitching a perfect game in the majors have been computed to be about 81,000 to one. Most recent perfect game was by Charley Robertson of the White Sox in 1922 — more than 81,000 games ago.

Shorter Days, Better 'Bow Fishing

By JACK PATTERSON

The regular trout season rode out Sunday on the wings of a cold north wind and surviving brook and brown trout can now settle down to a pleasant, though chilly, existence, with nothing much to worry about except minks, heron, water snakes, bigger trout, poachers, locals, ospreys and the occasional unfriendly otter.

PATTERSON

Rainbows, however, don't have it so good. They continue to be legal in "open" streams for the next several months and as the days get shorter the fishing gets better for the big ones, with November maybe the best time of all. This writer, at any rate, hasn't sent the trouting gear down to the basement where other out of season stuff lives, no sirree bobtail.

We didn't get up for the closing because of some scheduled parties where the freeloading prospects sounded too good to miss. We got the word, though, from Don Hansen, who rainbowed on a private northern pond and from Hayward Whitlock, who drifted the Rifle, that the fishing was pretty fair, especially if the angler was part Eskimo.

We did make some gestures of propitiation to the fishing gods, along with Harold Cousins, at Clarence Knechtel's private lake near Commerce. Didn't accomplish anything, but that was probably Harold's fault. Although he lives on Cass Lake he claims he hasn't been able to catch a fish all summer.

* * *

Some of the people who didn't go fishing over the weekend didn't just sit around listening to their arteries harden, either. We learned of one prominent attorney who made a goodwill tour of the Thumb area, inspecting cornfields, and finding pheasanty-looking ones, with a gift to the owner thereof.

* * *

This procedure is guaranteed to produce cordial hunter-farmer relations, come opening day.

Carlton Patterson reports an unusual number of partridge encountered in his summer trout fishing in the northeast quadrant of the state. This is in line with intelligence recently received from other quarters.

The north central part of the lower peninsula had, as expected, a good breeding season. Prospects look better in that area than they did earlier. There is reason to believe that the west side of the state will show considerable improvement this year, too. Thus, as of now, our somewhat pessimistic initial forecast for grouse must be upgraded. Which is not a painful thing to do, at all.

Strange Playmates

Pets From the Wild Hard to Get in State

By MORT NEFF

Man has always had a fascination for creatures of the wild that can be more or less domesticated, and occasionally the comradeship results in a strange assortment of playmates.

NEFF

The squirrel and raccoon are probably the most common animals chosen for pets from the wild, and both are readily adaptable to human company. Here in Michigan they are protected by law. Hard-to-come permits are required to keep them in captivity, and the Conservation Department frowns on their capture for the purpose of adopting as pets.

The three Stevens Brothers of Lansing have succeded in taming a porcupine which has become famous for its appearances at sport shows and on television.

Lee Smits, Detroit radio commentator, once reared a full fledged timber wolf named Jim. He was a perfect gentleman, and lived in the Smits' city apartment. Pressure from nervous neighbors finally sent Jim to freedom on Isle Royale.

But of all pets within our personal acquaintance, the strangest by far are those chosen by M. F. Delmonego who lives near Cooke Dam on the Au Sable River. Mr. Delmonego's friends of the wild are black-faced hornets!

The black-faced hornet, according to Delmonego, is the Number One enemy of the world's worst pest, the common house fly. He has kept close check on hornet activities and has discovered a single hornet will catch and kill from three to four hundred flies per day!

If not molested they are completely harmless to man. "When one is flying around you," declares Delmonego, "he isn't after you. He's just chasing a fly that's buzzing nearby."

Delmonego, whose Bissonette Resort is well known on the Au Sable River, catches flies for his hornet friends and feeds them from his hand and fingers. He has made a movie demonstrating not only this remarkable achievement, but the fact that the hornets permit him to stroke them gently while they're feeding from his fingers—and it's pretty obvious that the hornets really enjoy it.

3-I Member Quincy Unsure of Next Season

BURLINGTON, Iowa (AP)—Quincy, Ill., is the only member of the Three I League which is uncertain about continuing baseball next season.

Quincy's status was brought out at a meeting of league directors yesterday. Vern Hoscheit, representing Quincy, refused to comment on the problems and future plans of the club at the present time.

Pontiac Dogs Among Leafy Oaks' Leaders

Two Pontiac men, Earl Bearden and William Viers, recently gained honors with their four dogs in the "Leafy Oak" National Coon Dog Field Trials of North America at Mansfield, Ohio.

Four dogs—Mike, Dixie Fly, Tennessee Joe and Mr. Porter—were awarded first-line ratings at the trials near Galion, Ohio. "Leafy Oak" trials have been the leading tests in coon-dogging for the past 28 years.

Johnstown Johnnies Sign New York Giant Pact

Plan Logging Events in Copper Country

HOUGHTON (AP)—The Houghton-Hancock area is throbbing with activities and plans for the 10th annual Lake States Logging Congress Thursday.

Delegates will gather here from throughout the Copper Country for the congress, which will feature a four-mile-long parade through the downtown areas of the twin cities.

The gigantic parade will include floats, loads of logs, forest products, heavy industrial machinery, forest fighting equipment, marching units and comic entries.

Michigan Tech's huge hockey rink, Dee Stadium, will house the general exhibit area.

At night, Gov. Williams will call the Lumberjacks' Square Dance.

Clarence L. Manion, former dean of Notre Dame Law School, will be the principal speaker.

Reds' Action to Enjoin Mexican Chinese Flops

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A Red-sponsored move to line up Mexico's Chinese for the Chinese Communist government has split the big colony here.

Leading Communist sympathizers urged Chinese here to sign petitions asking the Mexican government to recognize the Peiping regime. Anti-Communist Chinese distributed circulars advising against signing the petitions.

There are only some 5,000 Chinese in Mexico, but several times that many Mexican citizens of Chinese descent.

It'll Have to Go

CLEBURNE, Tex. (AP)—A routine session of the City Council was startled to attention last night by new homeowner W. T. Keenem. He said he had just built his new house in the middle of a street because somebody had moved the stakes after his homesite was staked off in a new city addition. Mayor Walter Holliday said the problem was new but that undoubtedly the house would have to go.

Hollywood Headlines

Warner Will Film Story by Author of 'King's Men'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The busiest man in our town — and he hasn't been home from Europe very long — is Jack Warner. He brought with him "Band of Angels" by Robert Penn Warren, who wrote "All the King's Men," an Academy Award winner.

"Band of Angels" is a woman's story and when I asked Jack who would play in it, he rattled off a dozen top femme names. So, to save him and me embarrassment, I won't mention any names until he makes up his own mind.

He also has another little coup. While he was in New York he bought "Valor Will Weep," by Henry Denker and Ralph Berkey.

What makes this interesting is that it's a Theater Guild play set for fall production. My friend, Col. Warner, read it, liked it, and bought it before it ever saw a stage —so the rest of the producers needen't get hot and bothered.

BUSY FRANKIE

If Frank Sinatra makes all the pictures, plays and TV shows offered him he's going to have to work 367 days out of the year.

One play that fascinates him is the Joe E. Lewis story, which Art Cohen, the writer, took with him to Las Vagas when Frankie opened at the Dunes. Frankie read it, likes it and may do it.

There's no more fascinating story than that of the popular entertainer Joe E. Lewis, who once had his throat cut by gangsters because he wouldn't break a contract and sing at a cafe they owned.

I imagine before Frankie does anything he'll have to make a picture for 20th, since he has contractural troubles on "Carousel."

VIVIAN LISTENS

Vivian Blaine isn't so upset at her estranged husband, Manny Frank, that she won't listen to the idea he has of putting "My Man Godfrey" into a musical.

You can bet your last nickel that Rita Hayworth will do "Joseph and His Brethren." There will be no kiss and make up with Dick Haymes.

She has told the one or two people close to her that her finances are such that she wants to return to work and that she has been paying money out with nothing coming in.

The lawyers have had a get-together. Rita's papers came through and she is taking the children to Europe to meet Aly Khan and the Aga Khan.

This may sound far-fetched, but Rita was terribly in love with Aly, and I believe she was very sorry when their marriage ended. He's a charmer and he charmed Rita as well as dozens of other women.

BOOS FOR HITLER

Audiences still like to see the villain get his comeuppance. That's why the German film, "Admiral Canaris," based on the true story of the admiral who made a fatal attempt to assassinate Hitler, has played to capacity houses in Paris.

The villain—Hitler, that is — will get what he had coming to him again in the film William Dieterle is now planning to make based on this same story. James Mason has signed, or all but signed, to play the admiral. Two pictures on this same subject have previously been filmed.

WHERE WAS SYD?

Snaps: Where was Sydney Chaplin on the night of Sept. 9, or thereabouts? His girl friend, Joan Collins, was with Arthur Loew Jr. at the Villa Capri, chaperoned by Liz Taylor and Mike Wilding.

The tall brunette with Liberace at the Joanne Dru-John Ireland party was Gina Hunter, new to Hollywood. At the party at the Captain's table were Greg Bautzer and Jean Smith, the Robert Newtons, Franchot Tone stag, and the Vincent Prices.

Arlene Dahl was well enough to go nightclubbing at Ciro's with her favorite escort, Fernando Lamas.

Olga San Juan turned lyric writer on Eddie O'Brien's birthday. She parodied "You've Gotta Have Heart," and their daughters, Bridget and Maria, sang it. No, they didn't get any offers to go in opera — but then, they're only 6 and 7.

The combination of Howard Keel and David Rose pulled in 5,000 people at the Pasadena pops concert last weekend. Best Pasadena ever had before at these concerts was 3,000.

That was Havis Davenport, Gary Crosby's regular, at Plymouth House with him. And a happy pair they seem to be when they're together.

John Wayne is as popular a bet for TV as he is for movies. Not only do Lucy and Desi get him, but Milton Berle has him signed up along with Esther Williams.

Thugs Pick Wrong Car, Police Chief Nabs 'Em

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Police Chief Victor Stewart's police dog barked and Stewart saw two men siphoning gas from his auto.

Clad only in his pajamas, Stewart caught the men and was frisking them when a woman motorist stopped and asked if she could call the police. He said yes.

Officers who arrived helped the chief question the prisoners, who proved to be Camp Pendleton Marines who had two motorcycles but insufficient gasoline to get back to camp. They were turned over to the shore patrol.

Your lead pencil contains wax from Brazil, clay from England, gum from Iran, zinc from New Jersey, graphite from Mexico or Ceylon and Sperm whale oil from the South Pacific, says the National Geographic Society.

Red China Envoy Asks Higher Level Parley

GENEVA (AP)—Red Chinese Ambassador Wang Ping-nan today proposed talks with the United States "at a higher level," presumably between Secretary of State Dulles and Premier-Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai.

The Chinese envoy also demanded removal of the Western trade embargo against the Peiping government.

Nazareth, Israel, where Christ lived most of His life, was recently given its first modern water supply when it was linked with the nation's national pipeline network.

Copa Removes Pillars for Joe E. Lewis, Julie

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—In my many years of Saloon Editing, I don't think I've seen any night club as surprisingly attractive as the new Copacabana—with its four big pillars taken out.

★ ★ ★ ★

"There are so many stars here tonight, the entertainers will have to pay a minimum," remarked Eli Basse, the gag writer, when we arrived for the Joe E. Lewis-Julie Wilson opening.

You could hardly get in. The wife and I worked our way in through the basement to our table.

Bob Merrill, the opera singer, sat next to us. Sammy Davis Jr., Eddie Fisher, Bobby Sherwood, Luba Malina, Phil Silvers, Red Buttons, Billy Vine, Polly Bergen, Seymour Weiss, Jane Kean and Roy Cohn weren't far away.

The gag writer I mentioned, Eli Basse, entertained us while we waited for the show.

"Did you hear about Bob Merrill here?" he asked. "He fired his writer . . . Verdi. Said he hadn't come up with anything new in 100 years.

★ ★ ★ ★

"Suppose you know about Faye Emerson going on the road with that show, 'The 7-Year Skitch'," he continued. "Two sardines were talking of coming over here tonight, but one said, 'What, and be packed in like people?'

JULIE WILSON

"Say," he demanded, suddenly, "did they dim the lights in here—or is it this whisky?"

Jules Podell—in taking out four view-obstructing posts at a cost of $250,000—made this a club as attractive as Hollywood makes night clubs appear to be . . . though they usually aren't.

"How could he afford it?" said Joe E. when he came on. "It so happens, I paid my bar bill."

Joe E. then told his life story, beginning with when he was a boy and chinned his way up to the $2 window. Julie Wilson, prettier than I've ever seen her, was especially entertaining with a song about a "bad, bad, bad girl who has very goood, good jewelry." Billy Ward and His Dominoes, the rock-and-rollers were tough to follow.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A goal of $1,345,895 has been set for the annual Kent County United Red Feather-Red Cross campaign Oct. 11-25. The goal is $118,197 more than last year's total collected. Funds will be divided between 62 non-profits services.

Find New Cancer Weapon

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Radioactive phosphorus offers a promising new weapon in the fight against potentially curable cancers, the International College of Surgeons was told today.

* * *

Dr. Komei Nakayama of Chiba University, Japan, told of using the radioactive material together with a special Geiger counter inserted into the throat and stomach.

He said radioactive phosphorus injections give off atomic "signals" which are picked up by the counter.

Early cancers of the alimentary tract have thus been diagnosed in time for effective treatment.

Radioactive material concentrates more heavily in malignant tissue than in normal tissue, yielding more "signals" from a cancer area than from a noncancerous one, he said.

* * *

He said his method has shown value in differentiating between malignant and "benign" growths—and in certain instances offers advantages in diagonsis over conventional methods such as X-ray.

Conventional methods of diagnosing alimentary tract cancer, he said, are based on studying the form of the growth under suspicion, whereas the radioactive method is based on the biochemical features of the growth.

He said diagnosis with his method was 100 per cent accurate in 53 cases of malignancy in the esophagus or of the "cardia," the upper part of the stomach. There was a perfect batting average on 17 cases with "benign" lesions in these same areas.

In 58 cases of cancer of other parts of the stomach, 96 per cent were diagnosed correctly prior to operation, and 48 cases of benign lesions were all correctly diagnosed.

Who Scared Whom?

PASADENA, Calif. (INS)— Mrs. Zora Tarpin, 41, of Pasadena frightened a burglar out of her room in early morning hours simply by sitting up in bed. Mrs. Tarpin, in order to keep out lights and street noises, was wearing ear plugs and a face mask.

Most frequently counterfeited among U.S. bills are $10 and $20 denominations, says the National Geographic Society.

Here's the Lowdown on Adult Frogs, Toads

Frogs and toads are known as amphibians because the tadpoles live in water until they transform into adults.

An adult frog or toad has lungs and cannot breathe while submerged in water. Some species can remain underwater several minutes.

Frogs cannot endure high temperatures or live in dry habitats. Toads, however, can withstand much heat and dryness.

All frogs and toads eat insects, and the toad is known as the farmer's friend because it eats myriads of harmful insects.

Nieces, Nephews Disputing Will of Rich Uncle

CHICAGO (AP) — Nine nieces and nephews of the late Jacob Crosby, millionaire real estate dealer, ask in a suit filed in circuit court Monday that his will disposing of an estimated 10 million dollars be set aside.

* * *

They charged that Phillip Shapiro, Crosby's nephew and his principal beneficiary, kept his uncle "imprisoned" in his home for a year prior to his death March 30 and "filled his mind with untruths." Other beneficiaries named defendants in the suit include Louis C. Lavine and Mrs. Goldie Lavine, of Shaker Heights, Ohio, and the Jewish Federation of Chicago.

Complainants in the suit include Edward and Louis Newman, of Shaker Heights, and Nathan, Marshall and Marilyn Green and Jessie G. Zimmerman and Dorothy G. McCauley, of Los Angeles.

Grains Unable to Hold Footing

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains were unable to continue with the previous session's rally on the Board of Trade today.

Dealings were fairly active at the start, but only corn was able to make any forward progress. It soon lost its advance when it became apparent the rest of the market was not going to follow the upturn.

Wheat suffered the largest losses from the start. It was subjected to quite a bit of profit-taking.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼-1 lower, September $1.98½; corn ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, September $1.28¾; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, September 57¼; rye ¼-½ lower, September 98; soybeans unchanged to 1½ lower, September $2.23½; lard unchanged to 8 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $9.90.

Leaders Strong in Mixed Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — Leading issues were strong today in early dealings in the stock market, but prices on the whole were mixed.

It was much the same situation that existed yesterday when more stocks declined than advanced, but the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was ahead 70 cents at its sixth straight new record high of $179.00.

The motors, oils and most aircrafts were higher. The steels were largely lower along with the airlines while the remainder of the list was mixed.

Lower were Republic Steel, Boeing, Westinghouse Electric, New York Central, American Airlines, and Consolidated Edison.

It Wasn't Just Imagination

'Flying Saucers' Released by Air Force Researchers

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Air Force has disclosed it is now tracking its own "flying saucers" across U.S. skies by radar to study the building and launching of the projected earth satellite.

The swiftly-moving, brightly-lighted discs, the Air Force revealed today, are huge plastic balloons which go as high as 100,000 feet into the stratosphere.

Seen in the sky at nightfall, when they are at high altitudes where they can be illuminated by the rays of the dying sun, the balloons appear like balls of fire in the sky.

They also travel at a high rate of speed, and may change course rapidly, because they are pushed along by winds which in the altitudes of the so-called "jet stream" reach velocities of over 200 miles an hour.

CARRY EQUIPMENT

The huge balloons carry scientific recording instruments, including radio equipment to relay readings to the ground. Some of them even carry into the stratosphere live animals in oxygen-pressured, air - conditioned metal chambers to study the effects of the mysterious cosmic rays.

The balloons are being launched from Air Force bases in the Far West and travel at altitudes from 30,000 to 100,000 feet across the U.S. and Canada, pushed by the west-east prevailing winds.

One type of balloon is used for weather information. It gathers data on wind velocity, temperatures, atmospheric pressures and turbulence. Another type gathers information on the effect of cosmic ray bombardment in the upper atmosphere.

WILL AID RESEARCH

The latter is likely to be of great importance for launching the man-made satellite and is expected to be fired into the ionosphere by the U. S. within the next two years. It will travel around the earth at a speed of 18,000 miles an hour.

The Air Force said that the balloons, with their precious equipment, are being tracked across the country by radar. After they have gathered their information, an Air Force plane is sent into the skies to release their containers of animals or instruments and float them to earth by parachute.

An Air Force officer said: "The contents of these research balloons are so precious that teams of two men each are parachuted to earth to pick up the containers."

The balloons are made of the same polyethylene plastic which the U.S. housewife uses to wrap food which she places in her freezer. The huge transparent envelopes measure from 50 to more than a 100 feet in diameter and are over 100 feet long. They are inflated with helium.

* * *

Air Force officials said that most of the "flying saucer" reports that have been received over the past several years have proved to be sightings of these balloons.

7.5 Million Predicted for '55

Ford Executive Makes Production Estimate at Preview of New Line

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry will produce 7½ million cars for the domestic market this year, a Ford Motor Co. executive predicted yesterday.

At a press preview of the 1956 model cars, Robert S. McNama, general manager of the Ford Division, estimated industry sales will be 30 to 35 per cent higher this year than last.

He said Ford Division of Ford Motor Co. has increased its annual production capacity by 250,000 units and forecast steady employment at Ford plants through 1956.

McNama cited increased public demand for this year's record sales.

On a national level, he added, about 2,000 workers will have been added to Ford payrolls by Oct. 1.

400 ADDED

About 400 workers have been added at the Dearborn assembly plant, but the capacity of Dearborn, he said, would be exceeded by three new assembly plants at Mahwah, N. J., Louisville, Ky., and San Jose, Calif.

Ford officials also announced the Dearborn plant has been placed on a two-shift basis that is expected to produce 1,040 cars daily.

In a running race with Chevrolet for top place in output and sales, Ford has built 1,187,000 cars so far this year.

Chevrolet to date has built 1,318,000 cars.

Ford Will Show '56 Line Tuesday

New Models Will Carry More Powerful Engine, Safety Features

DETROIT (AP) — The 1956 Ford passenger cars were shown at an off-the-record press preview Tuesday.

In a production and retail sales battle with Chevrolet, Ford made a lightning-quick switchover from 1955 to 1956 models. The cars will be shown publicly next week, at which time prices also will be announced.

While styling an engineering details are being withheld pending the public showing, the speed with which the changeover was made indicates few major styling alterations. It also is quite generally known Ford has installed a 198 horsepower engine in the 1956 line of V-8s. This was the power output of the 1955 model Mercury.

Ford already has announced its 1956 line will have all the safety features already disclosed for the new Lincoln series. These include the deep-center steering wheel, safety door latches and shatter-resistant rear view mirror as standard equipment, and lap belts and crash padding on instrument panel and visors as optional item.

Producers Not Able to Fill Steel Orders

NEW YORK (INS)—The magazine Iron Age reported today that steel producers are still unable to close the gap between production and demand, and as a result, backlogs continue to grow and heavy carryovers into 1956 are expected.

The publication explained that the drive to bring deliveries into line with promises will entail top-speed production, and drastic slashes in allotments.

According to Iron Age, steel output and orders are expected to top any previous period during the last four months of this year.

Unions Seek Members

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two major AFL unions, the teamsters and the machinists, have agreed on a new $200,000 organizing drive among the estimated million employes of the automobile service industry.

Prosperity Item: New Business Total Growing

NEW YORK (AP)—Chalk up another item of prosperity and business confidence: More new businesses are being born this year than last; fewer are dying.

* * *

In the first seven months 85,250 new concerns were incorporated—a show of confidence 26.6 per cent greater than the year before.

At the same time 6,487 failures with loss to creditors were counted—a decline of 2.2 per cent from 1955. Those that go out of business for whatever reason (merger, death of the owner, etc.) without leaving some creditor holding the sack aren't included in the figures compiled by Dun & Bradstreet.

That agency says 1954's failure rate was the highest since 1942, so this year's drop is so much more the welcome.

* * *

In 1954 for each 10,000 business concerns, 42 tossed in the towel, compared with only four out of 10,000 this year.

The highest rate in this country was in 1933, when 154 out of every 10,000 concerns went under.

You Take the Blue Road and I'll Take the Red One

ROME (AP)—Talk about your two-tone automobiles. Come next the tinted highways. The Abruzzi Asphalt Society has announced the road of the future could come in selected colors. Its chemists are experimenting with colored asphalt obtained as a leftover from the extraction of aluminum from bauxite rock.

It might come in variations of red, green, white, brown or yellow, the society said. Beside reducing highway glare, it might be good for telling drivers which way to go. For instance: follow the red road to Rome and the beige road to Naples.

Highest Paid Television Actor Slates Filming of Schulberg Yarn

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK —Jackie Gleason, a man who plays many parts, is taking on two added roles. He is going to star in a motion picture. He has written a short story about "The $64,000 Question" which will be televised—probably with Gleason himself starring in it—this coming season.

The highest paid entertainer in television returns to CBS-TV with his regular weekly show Oct. 1. He's been working hard on it all summer, except for one month's vacation in Bermuda.

* * *

Now he has resumed filming the "Honeymooners" for his regular Saturday night show. He's turning them out two a week before live audiences in the Adelphi Theater here. He's using Du Mont's new "electronicam" TV-Film System, a method which he says delights him because it combines films of the highest quality with amazing speed of production.

"It's sensational," Gleason says. "Our results already are so good that I'm sure 'electronicam' will revolutionize our whole approach to simultaneous telecasting and motion picture film. If you have an honest performance with honest laughs, 'electronicam' is the only way to record it. We're really getting what we went after: 'live-on-film.'"

* * *

By the end of next January he'll have 39 of "The Honeymooners" series "in the can," Gleason says, adding: "That leaves me free till next August to do some other things I want to."

What sort of things?

"Well, about the first of March I'm starting to make a motion picture. Elia Kazan is directing it and Budd Schulberg is writing it. It's based on a short story of Schulberg's called 'The Arkansas Traveler.' That's right, it's about a prominent television personality—but it has other overtones."

* * *

What else is cooking?

Gleason looked about his resplendant and newly refurbished penthouse office. He sat behind his desk which is shaped like an enormous lily pad, and rises from ankle-deep carpeting.

"I wrote a short story," he said. No kidding?

"That's right. I was looking at 'The $64,000 Question' (CBS-TV) and I got this idea about a guy in Brooklyn who was of little importance to his family—until he got on 'The $64,000 question.' It's called 'To Be or Not To Be' . . .

REMARKABLE! That's what thousands say about Pontiac Press Classified ads. Put one to work TODAY. Call FE 2-8181.

Godfrey Denies Safety Charge

Accuse TV Star Again of Endangering Lives While Flying

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur Godfrey, accused once again of an air safety infraction, says emphatically that he is innocent of any misbehavior.

* * *

The Civil Aeronautics Administration said it is investigating a formal complaint that Godfrey's plane passed "far too close" to an Ozark Airlines plane after taking off from Chicago's Midway Airport last Wednesday. Godfrey denied it.

"The only variation from customary flying practice in that incident near Chicago last Wednesday was that I dipped my wings in salute at the other plane," the radio and television entertainer told a reporter.

* * *

"As I passed him I rolled my wings back and forth the way we used to do in the old days as a greeting.

"There was absolutely no danger of a collision."

In a written complaint filed with the CAA, the pilot and copilot of the Ozark twin-engine DC3 said that a plane overtook them shortly after departure from the airport and made a left turn so close across their course that they had to reduce speed to avoid the plane's prop wash.

* * *

The CAA identified the plane as Godfrey's plushly outfitted blue and white executive-type DC3. It said it is investigating to determine whether there has been any violation of flight rules.

Godfrey still recalls with anguish the six-month suspension imposed upon him by the CAA for buzzing the Teterboro, N.J., control tower in January 1954.

Colombia Game, Tejo, Involves Bang-Up Skill

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Colombians who play the game of tejo literally play with dynamite. To visitors from the United States it's horseshoes with a bang.

Players toss a heavy lead disc —the tejo—60 feet to a sandpit in which four small packets of dynamite have been placed around the edge of a vertically embedded pipe.

Hit the pipe dead center and you not only win the game. You also announce your accuracy with a loud explosion.

Tejo (pronounced tay-ho) is something of a national game, like baseball in the United States. National championships are held every year.

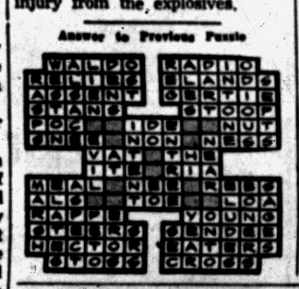

Players say there's no danger of injury from the explosives.

Claims 'Now or Never' in GOP Governor Try'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich) says 1956 will be a "now or never" year for Michigan Republicans in their campaign to elect a governor.

The 37-year-old Owosso Congressman told newsmen yesterday that unless Republicans elect a governor next year it will be "a long time" before they will be able to elect one.

LAND CONTRACT INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY

6% land contracts on Flint Area Property. During the next six months, I will have available to investors over $400,000 worth of 6% land contracts on new, modern homes. The balance due on each contract is $6,100 payable at $61.00 per month. These homes have a bank mortgage appraisal value, established by a licensed appraiser, of $5,250.00. The cost of the contract to you is $4,880.00, $1,220.00 (bonus to you) less than the contract balance, and $370.00 less than the appraised valuation.

When this contract is paid in full it will have earned $2,379.00 in interest. This amount, together with your bonus (or discount) of $1,220.00, means that your original investment of $4,880.00 earned a total of $3,599.00 — a nearly unbelievable increase in capital of about 74%—an overall return of $8,479.00. Where can this be equaled?

Any person or company buying one of these contracts will be furnished the following items:

1. A credit report from the Retailers' Credit Bureau on the person buying the home.
2. An up-to-date abstract of title showing clear title and tax history.
3. A warranty deed and assignment of contract.

We recommend that you have your attorney examine all papers.

If you have never purchased LAND CONTRACTS FOR INVESTMENTS before, we will gladly have an agent call to answer your questions and explain the value and simplicity in obtaining one or more of these sound contracts, at no obligation to you. Make an investigation; there will be no high pressure sales talk, only an explanation of the facts.

If you have bought contracts before you will recognize the fairness of the offer made here and will no doubt agree that as this County, and especially the Flint area, continues to develop, land has become about the most sound investment. Partial proof of this statement is the millions of dollars worth of land contracts purchsed in Flint each year by people from all walks of life. However the building in Flint has now become so tremendous that it is going to become necessary to obtain outside investment money. Therefore WE are now offering the people of Pontiac the above opportunity.

$500,000 worth of these contracts sold by myself in Flint each year for the past several years.

WE BACK THESE CONTRACTS WITH OUR EXPERIENCE AND INTEGRITY

Attention, Attorneys and Brokers - - - A closing fee will be paid to you if one of your clients purchases a contract.

The Case for Juvenile Decency

'Hill City'--Pattern for Youth Organizations

This is the third of six articles giving a close up view of successful programs designed to keep children out of trouble.

INS Staff Writer

"You're a disgrace to our community," the stern-faced judge told the teen-aged defendant.

The "judge," a 17-year-old, sentenced the youth before him to pay back the store from which he had stolen an apple.

Thus quick justice was meted out in the "court" of Pittsburgh's unique "Hill City."

The junior "municipality" has a "population" of 3,000 teenagers from Pittsburgh's toughest sections. Every year they hold elections for jobs from mayor down to court clerks.

Since 1939, the Junior Crime Prevention Clubs in "Hill City" have worked to "deglamorize" the two per cent of kids who get into trouble and to "glamorize" the 98 per cent of boys and girls who lead wholesome lives and get no attention.

Other cities, most recently Columbus, O., and Johnstown, Pa., are studying the possibility of setting up programs similar to "Hill City."

CLUB OR GANG

Director Howard C. McKinney explained that one of the most important things was to impress on the teenagers the difference between a "club" and a "gang."

In the mock trials, teenagers assume extra-legal, but by no means imaginary, roles as prosecutors, judges and juries to try fellow kids accused of minor offenses.

McKinney said the mock trials are valuable in nipping careers of youthful crime in the bud. He declared:

"In the trials, which originally were the backbone of the whole Hill City idea, we teach the offending kids that getting into trouble won't win them the kind of attention from their fellow teenagers that they want."

GOOD APPROACH

Many experts on juvenile delinquency and crime hail the "city" as a good approach to the problem of lowering teenage crime rates. Statistics back them up. Vandalism damage to schools in the area has dropped 80 per cent. Thefts are down 63 per cent. False alarms have virtually stopped.

Richard Clendenen, executive director of the U. S. Senate subcommittee which recently probed teen-aged crime, said the organization proves the rule that "people are best helped when they are helped to help themselves."

McKinney, a city detective who founded Hill City, pointed out that "almost invariably" the youngsters "tried" in the mock court wind up as enthusiastic workers for the program and keep out of trouble.

The answer to Hill City's success in curbing teenage offenses in one of the toughest neighborhoods in Pittsburgh seems to come from "alumni" or "senior citizens" of the youth community.

ALUMNI HELP

Robert W. Mason, who began working for Hill City after having been a youthful "gang" leader himself, commented:

"Teenagers of today are the same as I was back in 1939. Most of them get into trouble because they don't have anything else to do. We create projects for them at Hill City."

The youth program director said almost any youngster can find a niche for himself in athletics, crafts, music, but he added:

"Sports and similar competitive activities are not the only answer. We have a Little League and a Pony League, but we've got to remember also the youngster who isn't good enough to make a team. Remember, all kinds want attention and recognition."

Patrolman Paul Nydes began working for Hill City while a student at Schenley High School. He says of the project:

HELPED HIMSELF

"Working to help straighten out other kids meant that I was keeping myself straight."

"On the few occasions that my work as a traffic officer compels me to act against teen-age crime," he said, "I feel that I am qualified to cope with the problem because of my experience at Hill City.

"They have done a tremendous job in curbing juvenile delinquency in one of the city's toughest districts. Veteran policemen who have worked in the Hill neighborhood will attest to this."

New Polio Methods Improve Salk Serum

NEW YORK — Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, today said Salk vaccine will prove to be "considerably more effective" next year.

O'Connor, who issued the foundation annual report of 1954, explained mass field trials have been analyzed and new methods will be adopted for administration and dissemination of the anti-polio serum.

"A new dosage schedule now is being followed. The preventive possibilities certainly stir the imagination," O'Connor said.

The report disclosed the foundation spent $28,548,000 in 1954 for 74,000 polio victims with 1,619 chapters reporting an additional $5,347,000 in unpaid bills. The year was third most severe in polio history with 38,741 cases reported across the country. Budget breakdown showed $2,566,441 spent for research, $16,500,000 for polio prevention and $3,335,250 for education of specialized personnel.
