New Soviet Leaders Vow to Follow K Policies

Labor Party Wins by Slender Margin

LONDON (AP) — The Labor party won the national election by a razor-thin margin today from the Conservatives who had run the country for 13 years. The Laborite leader, Harold Wilson, was designated to form a new government.

A 48-year-old Socialist intellectual who wants to abolish Britain's independent nuclear deterrent, Wilson accepted a call by Queen Elizabeth II to form a new Cabinet from the slim Laborite majority in the House of Commons.

He is the youngest British prime minister of the 20th century.

Wilson's appointment came at Buckingham Palace less than half an hour after the queen accepted the resignation of the retiring prime minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, 61.

"I would like to pledge myself and my colleagues to work together for the good of our country," Wilson said. "We are facing very great problems, but I am confident we can overcome them."

Wilson forecast during the closing tabulations that his party would win "just a bare majority."

SPELLS TROUBLE?

That could mean trouble ahead.

Only five of the nation's 630 House of Commons districts had still to report when the Laborites finally ran their total of seats to 316, guaranteeing an edge over the combined forces of Conservative and Liberals.

Conservative 303 seats, loss 54.

Labor 316 seats, gain 56.

Liberal 6 seats, loss 0.

Others none, loss 2.

Jo Grimond's small Liberal party could wind up in a balance of power position in the new House convening Nov. 3.

WOULD COOPERATE

Grimond said he would be willing to cooperate with the Laborites to get a government going if the Liberals and Laborites reached an understanding.

Grimond did not say what his price would be.

Many of the districts late in reporting the outcome of the voting yesterday have been in the Conservative column for generations.

Mark Opening of Apartments

First Units Developed in Urban Renewal

Pontiac Townhouse Apartments will celebrate its grand opening this weekend, according to Developer Charles L. Langs.

Four models, the first of 65 units, will be opened at 1 p.m. tomorrow, followed by official ceremonies 2-3 p.m. on Sunday.

Langs heralds his new development, located on Douglas at East Pike, as "the greatest thing to happen in Pontiac."

He said that it presents a new type of community living, cooperative living. The apartments are the first to be developed in Pontiac under urban renewal.

Sunday's ceremonies will include city commissioners; Dwight Hamborsky, regional director of FHA; and Windell Addington, vice president of the Foundation for Cooperative Housing.

PLAN 12 BUILDINGS

A total of 65 units with 12 buildings are projected in the Langs' development. He expects people to start moving in within 60 days.

Mostly two - story, units from one to four bedrooms are offered. Monthly rental prices range from $69 to $106.

Each unit has its own fenced-in patio, cabinets, stove, refrigerator, and a full separate basement. Offstreet parking also will be furnished.

Co-op living features the actual purchase of each unit by its tenant. Maintenance is included. The cooperative takes care of the townhouse inside and out, excepting redecorating.

Langs said that construction costs for the 65 units is estimated at $525,000.

UPS A PINT—Harold Wilson, head of Britain's Labor party, raises a glass of stout in his political club at Huyton as returns in his country's elections gave cause for celebration. After 13 years of unbroken tenure, the Conservatives lost control of Parliament by a razon-thin margin.

Red Chinese Explode First Atomic Bomb

Criticize U. S.; Seek World Conference to Destroy N-Weapons

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China joined the world's atomic powers today with an announcement it has exploded its first bomb in the Western region of China.

The Chinese coupled the announcement with a long blast at the United States and a call for a world summit conference on prohibiting and destroying all nuclear weapons.

The announcement came less than 24 hours after Moscow had exploded a political bombshell of its own — the ouster of Nikita Khrushchev.

China's atomic disclosure and the retirement of Khrushchev are likely to raise China's Mao Tze-tung's stature among world Communist leaders.

To the Chinese, he is already the No. 1 spokesman for international communism. The rift between Mao and Khrushchev, with the Russian's sometimes abortive efforts to keep Moscow in the driver's seat for the Communist movement, was doubtless a factor in his downfall.

BRITAIN PROGRAM

The Chinese announcement came, ironically, at a time the new leadership in Britain is charting plans to end that nation's own nuclear deterrent program.

The official New China News Agency only quoted a government statement saying "China exploded an atom bomb at 1500 hours (3 p. m.-10 a. m. EST) on Oct. 16, 1964, and thereby conducted successfully its first nuclear test."

The government statement said China was forced to conduct nuclear tests and develop nuclear weapons. "China cannot remain idle and do nothing in the face of the ever increasing nuclear threat posed by the United States," it said.

NEW POWERS — Alexei Kosygin, 60, (left) and Leonid Brezhnev, 57, who were named last night to be premier of the Soviet Union and Communist party secretary, respectively, are shown as they appeared in 1960 at a Moscow Sports Palace rally. They took over the posts that Nikita Khrushchev had held until his resignation. Brezhnev's post as party secretary is the one that both Stalin and Khrushchev used to control the Soviet Union.

Calls Jenkins Dedicated Assistant

Unaware of Aide's Conduct---Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he had no information on Walter W. Jenkins that would have led him to question the personal conduct of his top aide before Jenkins' two arrests on morals charges became public.

But, the President said in a statement last night, once he was told Wednesday of the arrests — one of them in 1959 and the other last week — he asked Jenkins to resign. Jenkins promptly did so.

"No man I know has given more personal dedication, devotion and tireless labor," Johnson said of his aide for 25 years.

But he added: "On this case as on any such case, the public interest comes before all personal feeling."

The President said "within moments after being notified last night, I ordered Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI to make an immediate and comprehensive inquiry and report promptly to me and the American people."

DATA TO FBI

An incomplete record of Jenkins' 1959 arrest, showing only "investigation-suspicion," was routinely forwarded to the FBI along with his fingerprints.

The FBI in turn, it was learned, reported the arrest to the Secret Serivce in 1961 as part of a routine check, when Jenkins became administrative assistant to the vice president.

Both the FBI and the Secret Service withheld any official comment, and it was not learned whether the Secret Service had followed up the report to get details of the charge.

At the time Johnson was vice president and Jenkins was his administrative assistant.

Johnson's statement, heavy with compassion for 46-year- old Jenkins, his wife and six children, one of whom was named "Lyndon" after the President, was distributed to newsmen when they returned with the President from his New York campaign trip.

In effect, it was a reply to Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who earlier in the day

Profit-Sharing Okay Late; AMC Is Struck

DETROIT (AP)—Profit sharing—unique in the auto industry — will be carried forward by a new American Motors Corp. and United Auto Workers agreement. But this accord was reached too late today to avert a strike at the firm.

Negotiators removed profit sharing as a main stumbling block to a new national labor contract at AMC an hour after a UAW-set midnight strike deadline.

Pickets began parading in front of AMC's Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., auto plants even while harmony was being attained on what AMC has preferred to call "progress sharing."

AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman and Douglas A. Fraser, the UAW's American Motors chief, announced the agreement today that profit sharing — now three years old at AMC — will again be extended to the firm's 27,000 UAW-represented workers.

Cushman and Fraser declined to reveal details of the profit sharing agreement. These will be disclosed later, Fraser said.

Just a day earlier, the UAW's 52-member negotiating committee voted continuance of profit sharing was a "strikeable issue."

6 CENTS HOURLY

Profit sharing had been worth six cents hourly per worker since the UAW won the plan at AMC in 1961, Fraser said.

In reporting the agreement on profit sharing, Cushman said "unfortunately American Motors operations already had been shut down."

A major obstacle now to completion of the national economic contract agreement, Fraser and Cushman said, involves some 3,000 Kelvinator division employes at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Where's Nikita? No One Knows

MOSCOW (AP) — With Nikita Khrushchev toppled from power and pushed into obscurity, the new leaders of the Soviet Union sought today to reassure the people that de-Stalinization and economic improvements will continue.

This was the first policy indication given by Leonid I. Brezhnev, the beefy, brooding protege of Khrushchev from a secret Communist party meeting as the party's first secretary — the top job here. It was contained in a statement in the party paper Pravda.

Alexei N. Kosygin, a weary-looking administrator, became premier in changes announced early today.

A number of Khrushchev aides were reported by reliable informants to have lost their jobs also. Most prominently named in these unconfirmed reports was his son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, editor of the government paper Izvestia. Pavel Satyukov, editor of Pravda, also was reported to have quit.

Others reported dismissed were Mikhail A. Kharlamov, chairman of the State Commission of Broadcasting and Television; Oleg Troianovski, Khrushchev's private secretary and an expert on American affairs; Vladimir Lebedief, chief of Khrushchev's personal research office; Alexander Shuiski, Khrushchev's personal expert on agriculture affairs.

The mystery long associated with the Red brick walls of the Kremlin was wrapped about the Khrushchev departure. There was no explanation for the 227 million Russian people of what had become of the man who led them for almost a decade, or why he had been dropped by the wayside.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper, Pravda, published a front-page statement that the party "firmly and consistently carries into life the Leninist general line worked out at the 20th and 22nd congresses of the party."

Khrushchev delivered his famous speech against Stalinism at the 20th congress in 1956. The 22nd congress five years later set long-term goals of improved economic conditions and the attainment of communism. Any attempt to drop these policies would probably meet strong popular resistance, many diplomats in Moscow believe.

WORLD WAITS

The rest of the world waited to find out how the changeover would affect the Soviet Union's foreign policy.

There was general belief that Khrushchev's departure would open the way to at least a measure of reconcilia-

COLE PORTER

Death Takes Songwriter Cole Porter

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) —Cole Porter, one of the 20th century's great composers and lyricists, died last night at a Santa Monica hospital where he underwent kidney surgery Oct. 13. He was 71.

Doctors said Porter "simply stopped breathing." They did not give an official cause of death but said Porter's general physical condition even before he was admitted to the hospital Sept. 22 for a routine checkup was poor.

An infection from a kidney stone flared up after he was admitted, necessitating the surgery.

Only his special nurse was at his bedside when he stopped breathing. Outside the door were his chauffeur and valet.

Porter was the author of song hits such as "Night and Day," stage musicals including "Kiss Me Kate," and did the music and lyrics for such films as "High Society."

Pick Nike Site for College

A 247-acre parcel on the northeast corner of I-75 and the proposed M59 freeway, formerly the Auburn Heights Nike Base, has been selected as the first of three campuses for the Oakland County Community College.

Located just east of Pontiac, the parcel is under lease to the U.S. Army as a Nike site until the end of 1964.

However, the college board announced last night that an offer to purchase the land has been accepted by the National Bank of Detroit, trustees for the Fisher family who are owners of the land.

Funds to purchase the site will come from a state grant and revenues produced by a one-mill countywide levy to be spread in December. The levy was approved by voters last June.

In addition to the land purchase, Mosher said that a request has been made to transfer ownership of "a million dollars worth of buildings" from the army to the college.

WITH SERVICES

The buildings — four major one-story masonry structures and three or four smaller ones — come complete with electrical, water and sewer services.

Dr. John E. Tirrell, community college president, said the buildings would be converted to house classrooms and administration offices.

He estimated the cost of remodeling to be less than $100,000.

Dr. Tirrell added that the land purchase, complete with buildings, paves the way for the college to get underway by the fall of 1965.

DETAILED STUDY

The Nike base will house 800 to 1,000 full-time students in the converted buildings, he said. A detailed study will be necessary to provide the exact enrollment.

The newly acquired site is within 30 minutes travel time of the eastern and northern sections of the county.

Three campus locations are projected for the community college, which is expected to serve 12,000 to 14,000 students by 1970.

The buildings on the new campus can be transferred to the college at no cost, explained Dr. Tirrell. The old base has been declared surplus by the Army.

All constructed in the last nine years, the buildings provide 30,000 square feet of space.

Harry M. Denyes, Lamb & Pearson, Inc., according to board action, will be employed on an hourly basis to help on plans for conversion of the buildings. The board has not officially hired an architect.

Summer Here for Weekend

The weatherman has good news again. Indian summer weather will prevail throughout the weekend, he says.

Fair skies and mild temperatures are expected tonight, tomorrow, and Sunday. Tonight's low of 38 to 46 will be followed by a high tomorrow of 69 to 77.

LOW OF 45

The lowest thermometer reading preceding 8 a.m. was 45. At 2 p.m. a delightful 77 was recorded.

For GOP Ticket

Nixon Stumps State

LANSING (UPI) — Former Vice President Richard Nixon, campaigning as though he were the candidate instead of a mere supporter, planned a full day of working for Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater in Michigan today.

Nixon, who has been working across the country for Goldwater, arrived in Michigan Thursday night after blasting President Johnson in Indiana on the Walter Jenkins case.

At an airport reception in Benton Harbor last night Nixon was asked to comment on the retirement of Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

"No one wants to make politics out of the Khrushchev affair," Nixon said, "unless it is good for the country."

Nixon, who said he was in Michigan purely for fund-raising affairs, said however, the Russian developments pointed out the failure of American intelligence forces. He said our country's intelligence forces "badly missed the boat" in not informing the American people of the latest developments in Moscow.

WHY RETIREMENT?

When asked why he thought Khrushchev retired, Nixon replied that he thought it "was hard to tell, but it is my own personal opinion that the younger, hard-line Communists had taken over the power in Russia."

Turning to political matters in this country, Nixon said he thought the Goldwater-Miller campaign had picked up "a good head of steam since Oct. 1."

Nixon told a Fort Wayne audience the nation would "not stand for immorality in the White House" and he demanded to know what the President knew about morals charges that have been placed against Jenkins.

* * *

Jenkins resigned as a White House aide Wednesday after the charges became public. Nixon said the President should go before the public to tell what he knew of "this sick man."

LOST MICHIGAN

Nixon, who missed carrying Michigan against President Kennedy in 1960 by 66,841 votes, planned to see Gov. George Romney in Lansing at a fund-raising luncheon.

Earlier this year, at the National Governors' Conference, Nixon tried to get Romney to become an active presidential candidate as an alternative to Goldwater.

Nixon began his Michigan campaign day in Stevensville with a breakfast for the state GOP finance committee.

Another fund-raiser was scheduled in Ishpeming tonight, as well as an airport rally at Negaunee and a television show in Marquette.

The schedule called for Nixon to spend the night in Detroit before flying on to St. Petersburg, Fla., tomorrow.

General Hospital May Close Its New Mental Health Clinic

Pontiac General Hosptial's new outpatient mental health clinic, inaugurated last July, may go out of business Nov. 1, according to the hosptial's trustees.

The clinic, operated on a seven-hour a week basis, faces closure unless the County Mental Health Services Board agrees to reimburse the hospital for the clinic's cost.

To date expenses of the clinic amount to $1,670.

The trustees agreed that the clinic should be closed Nov. 1 unless something can be worked out with the county board on reimbursement.

MEETING SLATED

The County Health Board is slated to meet with trustees from the county's four general hospitals on Oct. 28.

"We were led to believe," said Trustee William P. Babcock, "that if we set up an outpatient clinic we'd be reimbursed."

Euler said that he has had no word on Pontiac General receiving funds for the outpatient clinic through the county-directed community mental health services program.

The hosptial administrator said that the county's part-time psychiatric director toured the hospital, reviewing mental health facilities.

'FOUND FAULT'

Euler said the director, Dr. Norman Rosenzweig, "found a good deal of fault with our program or our lack of program."

Specifically, the outpatient services were not approved in any way, according to Euler.

He said that the county wants the clinic open 40 hours per week, more full time psychiatrists and social workers.

Euler said that there had been an understanding that Pontiac General would start a clinic on a seven-hour basis and expand to 21 hours per week.

Although the county wanted a 40-hour clinic, Pontiac General was asked to submit a budget for 21 hours. The hospital would have gotten full reimbursement if the 21-hour basis had been okayed.

Soviet Leaders to Follow K Policies

tion between the Soviet Union and Red China.

But any reconciliation with Peking could also require a common policy toward the West. This would probably mean an end to Khrushchev's era of peaceful coexistence, not necessarily leading to armed confrontation but at least increasing tensions and military budgets.

Political experts in Vienna said Khrushchev's eclipse was bound to suspend at least the liberalization drive which has been going on in Communist Eastern Europe. A Moscow-Peking reconciliation would certainly curtail the measures of independence won by some Soviet satellites, they said.

Khrushchev's resignation may also have an effect on East European leaders, like Janos Kadar of Hungary, known as his close allies.

The world was stunned by the cryptic announcement just after midnight that Khrushchev, 70, has asked to be relieved as first secretary of the party and premier because of "advanced age and deterioration of his health." The ebullient, rotund leader had showed no particular signs of ill health lately, but he suffers from high blood pressure and a recurrent heart condition.

Observers in the West believed that repercussions from the bitter feud between Moscow and Peking and shortcomings in the Soviet economy also played a part in the colorful leader's sudden eclipse after 10 years in power.

The official announcement gave no indication what had happened to Khrushchev, last reported vacationing on the Black Sea. But it said he had no future role in Soviet policy.

This was a strong indication that Khrushchev had not retired voluntarily or been stricken ill.

As a voluntarily retired elder statesman, Khrushchev might have been expected to remain on the presidium. And Frol Kozlov, widely regarded as Khrushchev's chosen successor until felled by a stroke and heart attacks last year, is still on the presidium and a party secretary although inactive.

'Unaware of Jenkin's Conduct'

had accused the President of covering up for Jenkins after the first arrest.

And it followed by several hours a sypathetic statement by Mrs. Johnson, who described Jenkins as a man who "reached the end point of exhaustion in dedicated service to his country." She said the Johnsons were praying for his recovery.

Police records show that Jenkins was arrested on Jan. 15, 1959 at the Washington YMCA on a charge of "disorderly conduct (pervert)," and again at the YMCA on Oct. 7 this year on a charge of "disorderly (indecent gestures)."

SENT TO HOSPITAL

Wednesday afternoon, as the arrests became known, Jenkins was sent to George Washington University Hospital by his physician, Dr. Charles Thompson, with what was described as "extreme fatigue" and his resignation was announced by the traveling White House in New York.

The arrests could have serious political implications as the presidential campaign heads into the stretch run, and in Republican ranks reaction varied.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential candidate, asserted the White House is "dark with scandal" but that he would have no comment on the Jenkins arrests "at any time."

Rep. William E. Miller, the GOP vice presidential candidate, said in Chicago the Jenkins matter poses "very, very serious" national security questions that Johnson should answer for the American people.

VERY DANGEROUS

"If this type of man had information vital to our survival, it could be compromised very quickly and very dangerously," Miller said.

LBJ, Russian in Peace Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson received a peace message from the new Soviet government today and sent back word that the United States will "persevere steadfastly" in its own "quest for peace."

Johnson himself announced these developments after a 45-minute conference at the White House with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin.

"The ambassador brought me a first message from the new Soviet government," Johnson said. "The message stated the desire of the Soviet government to continue in seeking for steps toward a more solid peace.

"I told the ambassador that I welcomed this assurance and that the Soviet government and all governments could rely on the determination of the United States to persevere steadfastly in its own proven determination to serve the cause of peace and international understanding.

"I reviewed the developments which have occurred in relations between the Soviet government and the West in recent years and expressed the purpose of the United States to continue in the quest for peace."

BRIEF TELECAST

Johnson reported in a brief telecast on his conference with the ambassador.

It was plain when the Johnson-Dobrynin conference broke up that it had been an affable meeting.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, prompted by international developments, canceled plans today to spend the weekend in Texas.

Bloomfield Hills Agrees to Pay for Use of Library

Bloomfield Hills residents will join those of Bloomfield Township and Birmingham in making use of the new township library when it opens Tuesday.

The city commission has signed an agreement with the library board to include its constituents among those who can use the facility.

The move will increase by about 2,700 the number of potential patrons.

Also being served by the new facility will be the 29,500 residents of the township and the 25,500 persons who live in Birmingham.

Bloomfield Hills commissioners agreed to pay the board $500 for use of the library until spring. At that time the contract will be reviewed and altered in light of use made during the next half year.

Both Bloomfield Hills and township residents now are checking books out of Birmingham's Baldwin Public Library.

OPENS TUESDAY

The new library, with some 15,000 volumes, will open for business Tuesday. Regular hours will be noon to 9 p.m. Monday through Wednesday, 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday and Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Open houses to introduce area residents to the library, its staff and services will be held from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday and from 4 to 9 p.m. Monday.

The 8:30 p.m. program will feature a lecture-demonstration by Jesse Sinclair, dance instructor at Kingswood School Cranbrook.

Persons who are not members of the association can attend the program for a nominal charge.

Mrs. Shirley B. Hadas

Service for Mrs. Shirley B. Hadas, 50, of 1472 Southfield, Birmingham, will be 11 a.m. tomorrow at St. David's Episcopal Church, Southfield. Burial will follow in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkley.

Mrs. Hadas died Wednesday after a long illness.

She was a retired secretary at Lincoln Electric Co., Detroit. Her body is at the Manley-Bailey Funeral Home, but friends are asked to call at the residence.

Surviving are two sons, Gilbert F. Jr. and John R. of Birmingham; three sisters, Mrs. Sherman LeMessurier of Birmingham, Mrs. Arthur Philp of Berkley and Mrs. John McAlpine of New Canaan, Conn.; and a brother.

Memorial contributions can be made to the Michigan Cancer Society.

Any person 55 or over, even though not yet retired, can become a member of the American Association of Retired Persons.

Brezhnev Is Best Bet to Survive

2 Red Chiefs Sharing Stage—for Now

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Stanley Johnson was for six years a member of the Associated Press bureau in Moscow. He returned to the United States in 1963 and is now on the foreign desk in New York.)

By STANLEY JOHNSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Leonid I. Brezhnev and Alexei N. Kosygin are running the Soviet Union in tandem today, but it would not be surprising if one of them eventually drops out.

Single harness has been the rule for running the Soviet regime, and single harness is virtually certain to remain.

best bet to survive quiet, colorless Kosygin, 60, who is better known for grooming the horse than for riding it.

Brezhnev has had a better chance than Kosygin to build a personal following in the Communist party but lacks the new premier's in-depth knowledge of the nation's economy. Kosygin's new eminence may indicate he was the only man stronger members of the party presidium were willing to see pushed over them.

MUCH TO CLEAR

There are too many things to clear up before indulging in an internal power struggle, including putting an end to Khrushchev's head-long rush for a showdown with Communist China.

Kosygin has spoken on the issue. But neither man has put himself in a position that would make it personally embarrassing to postpone and then forget Khrushchev's hard - fought - for world Red conference that inevitably would make the split final.

Fundamental issues — nationalistic, ideological and the struggle for control of world communism — remain between Moscow and Peking, so full reconciliation seems unlikely.

But a lull seems in store while the new leaders try to ease the split.

OTHER PROBLEMS

They also have to deal with the agricultural, industrial and diplomatic problems Khrushchev has left behind, as well as with the swelling voice of the Soviet people wanting to be heard.

Kremlin control of the European satellites and of Western Communist parties has been shaken by the Chinese dispute. Brezhnev and Kosygin seem certain to try to restore it as much as possible.

Not until a good start on these tasks has been made is a serious power struggle expected.

The two men in the lead today are as different as night and day — both in looks and personality.

CONTRASTS

Brezhnev is a bushy-browned, dark, heavy-set man. He is deceptively soft-spoken but has a booming shout when he wants to use it.

Kosygin is tall, thin, sandy and looks like a 19th century Russian intellectual. He speaks so quietly that listeners have to cup an ear to hear him.

At both Kremlin and diplomatic receptions, Brezhnev is easy-going, laughing and gregarious. Kosygin makes no secret that he finds such affairs a waste of time. He lurks in a corner and spends more time chatting with friends from the Soviet technocracy than with politicians and diplomats.

Both men reached the top via the new road — mastery of Soviet technical problems — and are also the first Kremlin chiefs to whom the 1917 Bolshevik revolution is only a childhood memory.

Brezhnev, born in December, 1906, of Russian parents in the Ukrainian town of Kamenskoye, now Dneprodzerzhinsk, was successively a steelworker, metalurgist and agricultural specialist.

A member of the Communist party since 1931, he hitched his wagon to Khrushchev's star in 1938 in the Ukraine and stuck with him.

After World War II he was chief political commissar of the army — the big borther who kept an eye on the reliability of officers — and then boss of Khrushchev's virgin land development project in Kazakhstan.

In 1956, Brezhnev was appointed a secretary of the Communist party based in Moscow. This especially pleased his chic wife and daughter, Galina, who is noted for her taste in high-styled Western clothes.

In 1960 he became president of the Soviet Union. He relinquished that figurehead post last July 15 for full-time work as a secretary of the Communist party's central committee. The change was a definite indication that he had been picked to succeed Khrushchev some day.

Kosygin was Stalin's last addition to the old politburo and was pretty much in the shade during the first years of Khrushchev's rule. The new leadership soon learned to value his talent as a businessman with a flair for organization, however, and he moved into the front ranks.

Born Feb. 20, 1904, in St. Petersburg, now Leningrad, he joined the Communist party in 1927 and was a chief party official in Leningrad textile plants. In 1939 he presented a new plan for the textile industry and was made commissar of it almost immediately.

His subsequent rise has been steady but not spectacular.

Diplomats Cautious, Worried

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — U.N. diplomats, and especially Asians, voiced cautious apprehension today over the events in the Kremlin.

Most said they believed the ouster of Nikita S. Khrushchev would bring no immediate change in Soviet policy toward the West. But the future was full of doubts.

The air of apprehension was tempered somewhat by knowledge that Leonid I. Brezhnev and Alexie N. Kosygin — the new Communist party leader and the new premier — were known to be followers of Krushchev.

But neither Brezhnev nor Kosygin is well-known at the United Nations. The ranking member of the Kremlin hierarchy best known here is Anastas I. Mikoyan, currently relegated to the more-or-less figurehead post of President of the Soviet Union.

Many diplomats thought the Khrushchev downfall signaled defeat of his demand for a showdown with Red China for world Communist supremacy.

BLAMES ECLIPSE

A well-placed Eastern European diplomat blamed Khrushchev's eclipse on this demand and the possibility of a further division in the world Communist movement.

Diplomats generally believed also that Khrushchev's ouster highlighted rivalries within the Russian Communist party.

"This shows how little we in the West known about the struggle for power going on unseen in Moscow," a Western diplomat said.

Asians admittedly feared there would be changes in Soviet foreign policy. They said no matter how slight it might be it would not be helpful to the West or to efforts to end the Cold War.

NO COMMENT

There was no comment from Secretary General Thant and no official reaction from any part of the officially impartial U.N. Secretariat.

Peking's No. 1 Obstacle Now Removed

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — The sudden removal of Nikita S. Khrushchev from power could open the way to at least a measure of reconciliation between the Soviet Union and Red China.

It is too soon to say what direction the new leaders of the Soviet Union will take, but there is no disputing the fact that Khrushchev stood as a personal obstacle to a rapprochement between the two great Communist rivals.

Mao Tze-tung and the Chinese leadership have made it clear on many occasions that there could be no peace between Peking and Moscow as long as Khrushchev spoke for Soviet communism.

Regardless of the circumstances which led to Khrushchev's removal, Mao is sure to regard it as a personal victory.

MOST AUTHORITATIVE

He now stands alone as international communism's most authoritative figure. Neither Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Soviet party's new first secretary, nor Alexei N. Kosygin, the new premier, have his stature in the councils of world communism.

First reports from Peking suggest that Mao may have been privy to Khrushchev's political end.

The New China News Agency reported the Tass announcement under a Moscow dateline within an hour of its release. This was followed by the text of the communique from the meeting of the Supreme Soviet which relieved Khrushchev of his job as premier.

The speed with which it was issued indicated that either Mao was aware of what was happening or that he considered it sufficiently favorable to his policies to publish it immediately.

Mao's quarrel with Khrushchev was almost as deep personally as it was ideologically. He blamed the doughty Soviet leader for most of the ills now besetting the Communist movement.

Calls for Probe in Guard Case

LANSING (AP) — Saying he "fears innocent people are being hung for purposes of political advancement," Sen. John Smeekens, R-Coldwater, called Thursday for a legislative investigation of irregularities in the National Guard.

Smeekens wrote Sen. Elmer Porter, R-Blissfield, chairman of the Legislative Audit Commission, asking that the commission conduct an impartial investigation of the officers dismissed and the State Military Board, which recommended their dismissal.

Gov. George Romney last week fired Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald, state adjutant general; Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert, quartermaster general, and Lt. Col. Versel Case Jr., Neifert's executive officer.

His action came after an auditor general's report showed irregularities in the Guard involving land, money and liquor.

The value of alcoholic beverages imported into the U.S. in 1963 was $337 million, the National Association of Alcoholic Beverage Imports reports.

Must Be Tough to Take This Kind of Duty

TORONTO (AP) — Practical individuals, rough enough to take knocks and shocks, are the demands of the Canadian University Service Overseas.

Those accepted for posting overseas, graduates of universities or schools or higher learning, doctors, teachers or agriculturalists, must sign up for two years for work in Africa, India or the West Indies.

Applicants are tested on their motives, maturity, initiative, ability and resourcefulness. Half are turned away.

Once accepted, they receive a month's summer briefing. How to prepare for what is termed the "culture shock" is stressed.

Some 150 young men and women leave Canada in September to begin their ours of duty overseas. Another 100 are already working in the three areas.

It's Swahili or Nothing

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Students park their English at the door when they enter Swahili House at Syracuse University. Nobody is allowed to speak anything but Swahili, the most important language in sub-Saharan Africa, during a six weeks cram course.

The participants in the program are 15 college graduates who will soon be working in Africa, including a U.S. Information Agency officer and a missionary.

The students will get three hours of formal language training every day, and under house rules are supposed to eat, study, live and even dream in Swahili.

Area's Welfare Needs Paced by UF Campaign

Launched by a rousing push in Pontiac Central High School, the 16th annual United Fund got off to a running start.

With nearly 10 per cent of this year's goal of $815,000 already subscribed, there is little doubt that the drive will hit the mark aimed for.

The "give once for all" plan of welfare donation has amply proved itself since it was initially conceived in this area.

It is sound from the standpoint of both the giver and the receiver.

Contributors can discharge their humanitarian obligations by making but a single subscription, confident that every worthwhile cause is being supported. And the subscription may be spread over an entire year on whatever payment plan is most applicable.

The donator benefits practically, moreover, since without the consolidated UF method, he would be subjected to countless calls for aid, with likelihood of his sporadic offerings exceeding the single pledge now possible.

On the other side of the coin, the administrative organization (the UF) by means of many panels of local residents has carefully sifted the needs and fund requests of the 55 participating agencies and made equitable allocation to each based on the total budget established.

The cost of solicitation, collection and disbursement of the monies raised by the Fund is a modest one —far less than would be expended were the half hundred agencies each engaged in duplication of the same functions.

All residents are urged to reach into their hearts and purses for the liberal support merited by the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Reds' Recent Orbit Hits Space Milestone

Our Russian rivals for conquest of outer space have brought off another superb first in that direction. They successfully orbited a spaceship with three astronauts aboard.

The Communists' feat puts them several years ahead of the U. S., since but a two-man flight early next year is the extent of American projection for the immediate future.

Our Air Force, however, is developing a manned orbiting laboratory scheduled for launching by 1968 that would compare with or surpass the present Russian achievement.

In the development of space technology, America has given priority to military and defensive phases of it. In that area we unquestionably are ahead of the Reds.

The Kremlin, however, for reasons of its own—propaganda or prestige, perhaps — has spotlighted the purely scientific and more spectacular exploits of the nascent space age.

Regardless of that, they have won another historic trophy for their collection, and we render an admiring and congratulatory salute on the deed.

Romney Traffic Study Is on the Right Road

Of vital interest to the public at large are the findings of Gov. GEORGE ROMNEY'S Special Commission on Traffic Safety and the efforts it represents for curbing the appalling rise in highway casualties.

In his recent report locally on the commission's 29 recommendations toward that end, the governor declared that the biggest problem faced in promoting traffic safety is the lack of citizen interest to make public programs effective and enlist state funds in their support.

Romney stressed that such interest must be generated by the time the legislature convenes in 1965 if legislative implementation of the commission's proposals is to eventuate.

He pointed to three essential factors not covered in the report needed to give force to safety measures:

- Setting of good examples by the public in driving and walking, and by assisting local officials in strong safety programs.
- Continuous evidence of interest in safety programs by local officials.
- Voluntary compliance by the citizenry with all laws pertaining to motor travel.

The safety conference here, one of eight slated around the state, was sponsored by the Safety Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

We heartily commend Gov. ROMNEY and the local body for the constructive action envisioned in combating one of the most critical problems confronting the Nation.

'64 Race Unique in Two Respects

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The 1964 presidential campaign, boring in many ways up till now, isn't altogether different from the 1960 race of Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy.

MARLOW

But two things make it unique in recent American history:

1. Sen. Barry Goldwater's repeated charge that "scandal" hovers over the White House, although he offered no proof and his preachments on the need for morality in government. Voters haven't heard that for a long time.

2. This year's election will decide the direction of the government for years to come, since Johnson wants continuation of big government, with new programs as he thinks they're needed, Goldwater wants smaller government.

Because of this No. 2 problem the 1964 campaign, unlike that of 1960, is not strictly a personality contest. There is a real issue and a real difference from the Nixon-Kennedy contest.

There was no basic difference between them on domestic or foreign affairs or the kind of government needed. They didn't offer to change it but to improve it.

So the main question for the voters then was: Which of the two men could run the government better? In 1960, Nixon and Kennedy wrangled over their ideas on how to defend the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu from Red Chinese attack.

This was a pretty empty dispute, as time proved, because the problem of defending the islands has never arisen since 1960. It was an issue which hardly caught fire; the islands were too far off for voters to visualize the problem.

Something like that is happening now in the dispute between Johnson and Goldwater over whether the NATO commander — or the President alone— should have control over the use of "conventional" atomic weapons.

This is a complicated subject, shrouded in national security, and so far out of the experience of ordinary voters that most of them can't understand or visualize all that is involved.

As for the needling business, without which a campaign would be no campaign, Nixon and Kennedy needled each other and so do Johnson and Goldwater. Nixon and Kennedy were a little clumsy at it. So are Johnson and Goldwater.

Nehru Imitators

N.Y. Daily News

A bevy of nations calling themselves "nonaligned" — meaning neutral as between the free world and the Red Slave Bloc — has just wound up a curious conference at Cario, Egypt.

Apparently the nonaligned countries are more worried about the few remnants of colonialism left in the world than about the threats of Communism to all the freedom that is left in said world.

As far as we could make out from the Cario caper, the chief ambition of most nonaligned nations' leaders is to play off the Communist world against the free world so as to get foreign aid from both.

That was a favorite device of the late Indian Prime Minister Nehru. We hope the United States, at least, got a bellyful of it, and won't be suckered in the future by a bunch of tinhorn imitators of old man Nehru.

Gibraltar

Lansing State Journal

Spain has been demanding the "return" of Gibraltar and the issue has been before the United Nations' Special Committee on Colonialism for the last two years. The committee's mandate is to investigate the status of remaining "colonial" peoples and to recommend ways to grant them independence on the basis of self-determination.

The catch is that Britain has already granted the residents of Gibraltar a large measure of autonomy and is paving the way for their independence on the basis of self-determination.

So what's the problem?

Well, Spain points out that a 1713 treaty gives her the right to take over if London relinquishes sovereignty. Self-determination, Spain says, is the same as abandonment — and if Britain permits self-determination, Spain says she will occupy the Rock.

This situation is complicated by the fact that nearly 10,000 Spaniards — almost two-thirds of Gibraltar's total labor force —cross the frontier every day to work at the Rock, and many thousands on both sides of the border are economically dependent upon each other. Spain also draws much income from tourists who cross the border after visiting Gibraltar. And now Madrid threatens to close the border if she does not get her treaty "rights."

The U.N. committee is understandably baffled. The inhabitants of the colony in free elections have repeatedly indicated their satisfaction with their "colonial masters" and a desire for independence with continued friendly relations.

No wonder the committee has decided to adjourn the issue—perhaps indefinitely.

Bob Considine Says:

Top Sheraton Exec Wants Boston Hotel to Be 100th

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — People . . . places . . . things . . .

"I've got to pick up five or six hotels between now and next April 19," Ernest Henderson sighed at his Sheraton East.

CONSIDINE

We wondered why, sympathetically.

"I want the Sheraton Boston to be our one hundredth, as well as our flagship," said Harvard-man Henderson, who parlayed a post-World War I nestegg of $1,000 into a hotel empire that is nearing the $500,000,000 mark. "So I've got to get busy and see that the Sheraton Boston is properly honored as the hundredth. It wouldn't do to have it, say, number ninety-four or some number like that."

It certainly wouldn't we agreed, heatedly.

Sheraton is now in seven foreign countries, and the company's shy, remarkable boss says, with a burst of ecumenism, "Conrad Hilton did a brilliant job paving the way."

The experience of operating overseas moves Henderson.

"I was in Jamaica for our opening there which coincided with the visit of Princess Margaret and the Independence Day ceremonies which marked the end of British rule.

"As the Union Jack came down the flagpole and the Jamaican flag went up, the princess burst into tears. Memorable."

Conrad Hilton writes prayers —"Uncle Sam on His Knees."

Ernest Henderson writes songs which his hotel orchestras play at the sight of him. Latest: "Won't You Come and Ride in Space?"

TOOK HINT

The Russians took the hint, apparently, which didn't please "Mr. Sheraton" one little bit. He is extremely conscious of commmunism.

While we were watching a particularly exciting World Series rally on his suite's TV set, the hotel magnate suddenly began reciting a poem he authored. It ran 17 stanzas and he never missed a beat. All about Alger Hiss, Stalin, Harry Dexter White, Yalta, Quebec, Kremlin, and Khrushchev.

The Yankees lost both in the game and the poem.

The Better Half

"Sunday night a wild looking man with a bushy beard will walk in on you . . . Don't panic or call the cops."

Lady Bird Campaigns

The Oregonian

Say, who's running for President, anyway, Lyndon or Lady Bird?

Candidates for public office have been softening up the American voters in recent years by pushing their wives, kids, brothers and uncles into the act. Even the family dogs have been converted into television stars. But we thought this was chiefly to show that candidates are like other people — they have families and have to get along with them.

We have now reached the ultimate in presidental campaining, however. Lady Bird Johnson is off on a whistle-stop tour of the South, all by herself. She says she wants to unite the nation. Behind Lyndon, that is.

It's ridiculous. How much of this soft-soap sell can the voters take? If Lady Bird wants to campaign let her run for office.

Writer Calls Goldwater Forgetful and Childish

Is Goldwater beginning to disagree with himself? Last week he bewailed the fact that Johnson would not consent to open debate. As a guest on TV last spring he said no president should enter into public debate during a campaign.

Goldwater isn't old enough to be in his second childhood — he simply hasn't outgrown his first one. Outbursts show fellow countrymen and the world the true character of this individual.

I am glad students and faculty of Baldwin Junior High have changed the name of their new school in honor of John Fitzgerald Kennedy. 'Union Demands Hurt Small Businesses'

Today we have economic experts who never put one man to work or gambled one dollar to start a business. We have union bosses who make demands that can ruin a company in a given section of the country, when shown it cannot be done. The answer is, you do this if you stay in business here.

They don't care if they put people out of work, along with the owners. When will there be a change in public demand to stop these inflationary demands before all small corporations go out of business?

Staebler Should Dig Out the Baker Case

If Johnson were above reproach in the Baker case he would want the full details brought out into the open. Staebler should do him a favor and bring the details out for public attention.

Waterford School Innovations Outlined

Several innovations in the secondary curriculum at Waterford Township Schools were described last night in a report presented to the school board.

Roy Alexander, coordinator of secondary schools for the school system, and the four secondary school principals presented the report.

Innovations at the junior high level include unified programming of English and social studies, team teaching, study skills laboratories and music correlation.

Included in the senior high school level innovations are an experimental chef's class, elective English courses, and experimental course in United States history, experimental course in global cultures, program for potential dropouts and electronic data processing.

Presenting the report with Alexander were Paul O'Neill, principal of Waterford Township High School; James Fry, Waterford - Kettering principal; Dave Freeman, principal at Crary Junior High School; and William Aebersold, Pierce Junior High principal.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business last night, the board voted to apply for a $10,000 state grant for a proposed pilot dropout program that would include 20 former students.

Dr. Burton Thorn, director of vocational education for the school system, prepared a proposed dropout program and budget which will be summitted with the application.

Only three school districts in the state will be awarded grants. Decision on the grant recipients is expected Oct. 24.

Also last night Alexander, who conducted a study of senior trips, recommended that the trips be continued.

STRONG IN FAVOR

The study by a committee of 16 parents, teachers, students, former students and assistant principals, revealed that sentiment strongly favored the trips.

The board approved the reinvestment of $75,000 in United States Treasury Bills for a 180-day period at an interest rate of 3.62 per cent.

Board members authorized the Stringham School PTA to install an asphalt play area at the school at the expense of the PTA.

A resolution to hold the regular November meeting at Waterford Center School rather than at the administration building was defeated by a 4 to 2 vote.

QUESTIONS POLICY

Trustee Eldon Rosegart questioned the wisdom of continuing the policy of having one meeting a month at an elementary school when public participation at these meeting had proven unsatisfactory.

Last night's meeting was held at the Leggett School.

The board named members Mrs. Dorothy Barningham, Fred Poole, Donald Porter and Rosegart to serve on a panel in a discussion at the Nov. 12 Lutes School PTA meeting.

The board authorized an expenditure of $2,200 for sodding and fencing at the Leggett School.

BLUE SHIELD ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS

How many times have participating Blue Shield doctors been granted fee increases?

Just once in the 25 years that Blue Shield has been in existence. The increase was for less than 15% and was granted in 1958. (In that same 25 years, incidentally, the cost of living has gone up more than 120%.)

How much is involved in adding a newborn baby to my Blue Shield coverage?

You need simply report the birth within 30 days, if you have a family contract. From the moment of birth your new child is automatically covered. If the child is your first born you must simply change your coverage to a family contract.

What is the maximum age at which I can get Blue Shield coverage?

There is no maximum age. There is no minimum age. The Blue Shield philosophy is to offer the proper health care protection to all Michigan citizens regardless of age, condition of health, or income.

Can I be treated for the same illness more than once?

Yes, you can be. Necessary services are never excluded just because you were treated for the same condition previously.

Isn't a lot of the money I pay Blue Shield used to pay the cost of running the company?

No. Actually less than 7c out of every dollar is used to operate the plan. The rest is returned to subscribers in the form of benefits when they are needed. This is one of the lowest administrative costs of any health care protection plan anywhere in the United States.

Do you have a question about your Blue Shield coverage? Just write Dept. 54, Michigan Medical Service, 441 E. Jefferson, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

Joint Rochester, Romeo Observance

Banquet to Cap U.N. Week

A week of activities in Rochester and Romeo in observance of United Nations Week begins Sunday, and will be climaxed by an Oct. 24 (United Nations Day) banquet.

Highlighting the 8 p.m. affair at the Gold Room of the Oakland Center at Oakland University will be a talk by United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther.

Reuther is a well known advocate of the United Nations approach to international problems and is an official of the United Nations Association of the United States (U.N.A. of the U.S.A.).

The joint observance is being sponsored by the Rochester chapter of the U.N.A. of the U.S.A. The parent, national organization was recently formed by the merger of the American Association of the United Nations and the U.S. Committee for the United Nations.

Local people in both communities will serve as contacts to plan and coordinate activities in observance of U.N. Week.

FOLLOWING CHOSEN

The following were chosen by chairman Richard McGowan of Rochester:

WALTER P. REUTHER

Civic and service organizations — Tage Ketelsen, Rochester, and William F. Dorn, Romeo; Local governments — McGowan and Frank Webber, Addison Township supervisor and Romeo representative on the U.N.A. of the U.S.A. committee.

Clergy — Rev. Wilbur R. Schutze, rector of St. Philip's Episcopal Church, Rochester; schools — Dr. Melvin Cherno, vice president of Rochester U.N.A. of the U.S.A., Oakland University, McGowan, Michigan Christian College.

WORKING ON PLANS

Working on plans are:

Posters—Mrs. Robert Gaines, Rochester, Ketelsen, Webber; publicity — Mrs. E. T. Sturner, Rochester.

U.N. Day banquet — Mrs. John K. Yount, Romeo, chairman; Mrs. William T. Early and Mrs. Robert Cummer, both of Rochester, decorations; Mrs. Tage Ketelsen and Mrs. Wood Geist, Romeo, tickets.

Flanigan, 100 Rugby, Birmingham, by tomorrow.

Bids Lower on Building in Keego

KEEGO HARBOR—Construction bids on a new Keego Harbor municipal building are considerably lower than last year, but they're still above cost estimates.

Five bids ranging from $50,520 to $66,666 were opened yesterday by the Municipal Building Authority. Action on them is expected at the group's Nov. 5 meeting.

The city has been authorized by the State Municipal Finance Commission to sell bonds for $45,000 to finance the project.

First bids on the work were submitted a year ago, but all were rejected because they were much higher than anticipated.

Present at yesterday's meeting was Gilbert W. Savage of Oak Park, architect who made some revisions in the municipal building plans after the first bids were received.

BUILDING SITE

The building is to be constructed in the block bordered by Knowlson, Maddy Lane, Wilbur and Beechmont. Deed to the property was given to the authority in August when the last payment was made.

Among contractors who submitted bids on the work yesterday were Dale E. Cook Construction Co. of Pontiac, $66,666; Clarence A. Durbin of Southfield, $62,884; and G. R. McGinty Co. of Detroit $58,800.

Others were Schwanz Construction Co. of Bloomfield Hills, $55,472, and Reeves Construction Co. of Orchard Lake, $50,520.

Church Slates Harvest Fete

ROCHESTER — "Thankfulness" will be the theme of upcoming Harvest Festival services and a dinner at St. Philip's Episcopal Church.

Members of the church will bring flowers, fruits and vegetables to decorate the church prior to the regular services at 8, 9:15 and 11 a.m. Sunday.

A special offering will be taken at each service for use in distributing food to the hungry through CROP, an international agency for this purpose.

The program at the dinner, set for 6:30 p.m. Oct. 22, will include two short talks by vestrymen on the program of the church.

A movie entitled "Rebirth of a Church" also will be shown.

Sitter service will be provided.

Dinner reservations should be made at the church office.

Study at MSU Indicates Loss for Cattle Feeders

Cattle feeders keeping Michigan State University farm account records saw average labor and management returns decline by $8,000 in 1963 over the previous year.

The 1963 labor and management return for 58 cooperating farmers declined to an average loss of $1,190 compared with a plus $6,837 in 1962, says Leonard Kyle, MSU agricultural economist.

Average interest earned on total investment dropped from 5.2 per cent in 1962 to 2.7 per cent in 1963.

"The past three years illustrate one of the major problems confronting specialized cattle feeding farms," adds the agricultural economist. "Wide variations in income is the chief problem.

"These variations are mainly due to prices paid for stockers and feeders together with the changing market price for slaughter cattle.

DIRECTLY RELATED

Farmers in the study operated 300 tillable acres with a $170,000 investment. Total costs averaged $40,000, nearly $4,000 higher than gross income.

"Many cattle feeders faced with the past two unprofitable years were forced to reconsider and even change their plans before purchasing more cattle this fall," adds Kyle.

PTA Topic Is 'Dropouts'

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—A panel discussion on school dropouts will highlight the Monday night meeting of the Twin Beach Elementary School PTA.

Rev. Carl Grapentine of the First Baptist Church will be moderator for the 8 p.m. program in the multipurpose room.

Panelists are Mrs. Franklin Sullivan, youth counselor; Gene Schnelz, Walled Lake municipal judge; and Paul Holler, case worker for the Oakland County Juvenile Court.

Expect 300 to Attend Avon Family Reunion

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Leo N. Barcome home at 3305 Devondale will be the setting for the LaBarge family reunion Sunday.

Some 300 persons are expected to attend the noon affair being arranged by Donald V., Clement, Leonard and Olin LaBarge.

SPEAKER—Dr. E. W. Martin, district superintendent of the Eastern Michagan Church of the Nazarene, will preach at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday at the Imlay City Church of the Nazarene.

Campaign Dinner Planned for Smart

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Arrangements now are being made for a $10-a-plate campaign dinner for Clifford H. Smart.

The event honoring the Republican nominee for the State House of Representatives from the new 60th District is scheduled for Oct. 29. It will be held at 8 p.m. at the Edgewood Country Club.

Reservations can be made by calling John Williams, 180 Wabasso, Wolverine Lake, or Charles Hutton, 111 S. Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, or by writing to the Cliff Smart Campaign Fund, Walled Lake.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Rochester Paper Co. Buys Marshall Firm

ROCHESTER—The Rochester Paper Co. today announced purchase of Fabricators, Inc., of Marshall.

Fabricators, Inc., a 26-year-old firm, operates a 77,000-square-foot plant in Marshall.

Engaged principally in die-cutting and conversion of paper board into parts for the automotive industry, it employs 100 persons.

"With this acquisiton, our complex of companies now is one of the nation's largest vendors to the automotive industry of parts and materials composed of foundation board," said Paul H. Travis, president of the local firm.

Rochester Paper Co. and its affiliates are producers of a wide range of industrial filter papers, absorbent papers and paper packaging used in the liquid food, beverage, soap, printing, oil refining, automotive and other industries.

The complex of companies now operate a paper mill established during the Civil War era and three paper converting plants occupying 250,000 square feet of space. It employs about 300 persons.

$10-MILLION SALES

Travis estimated that sales of Rochester Paper Company, including those of Fabricators, Inc., will be "close to $10-million" in 1965, compared to $7.5-million in the current year.

Ten years ago, sales were $7000,000.

"One of the finest converting plants in the country, containing over 65,000 square feet, is being built by our firm near Utica, at a cost of approximately $700,000," Travis said.

The new plant on a 25-acre tract at 2465 Yates will be completed within several months.

Churchwomen Offer Spaghetti Dinner

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Episcopal Churchwomen of St. Alfred's Church are sponsoring a spaghetti dinner Sunday at 1 p.m.

GROVELAND TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Alice Vollink of 7395 Buckell Lake yesterday was installed as associate grand matron of the Michigan Order of Eastern Star.

REV. B. M. NOTTAGE

Detroit Pastor Guest in Avon

AVON TOWNSHIP — Rev. B. M. Nottage, pastor of Bethany Tabernacle in Detroit, will be guest speaker at Elmwood Methodist Church Sunday evening at 7.

Rev. Nottage, born in the Bahamas, came to the United States 35 years ago, settling in New York City. In the early 30's he moved to Detroit and set up a tent on the lower east side for Gospel meetings.

From this meeting an assembly building was erected and later six other assemblies added throughout the Detroit area.

A group of singers from the United Christian Fellowship Organization of Detroit also will offer several selections during the service.

2 of 3 Battles Won by Cong

Viet Nam Losses Total 54 Dead or Missing

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong mauled government forces in two actions yesterday but suffered a punishing defeat in a third, the Defense Ministry said.

Government losses totaled 54 dead or missing.

Two Red battalions attacked an army outfit in Hau Nghia Province about 40 miles northwest of Saigon, killing 26 government men and wounding 11. Eleven others were reported missing.

In the second action, Viet Cong units penetrated a village near Phuoc Vinh, in Phuoc Thanh Province, and killed six government troops. Six others were missing.

In both encounters, the ministry made no mention of Viet Cong losses.

THIRD CLASH

In the third clash, however, the government claimed 40 Communists were killed near Duc Hue, 30 miles above Saigon. It said five government troops were killed and 10 wounded.

Premier Nguyen Khanh and the civilian high national council were reported deeply split today over the role of the military in the promised new civil government for South Viet Nam.

Khanh was reported demanding a virtually independent military, presumably under his command, as the price for support of the national council's provisional constitution that is to open the way to civilian rule.

FURTHER CONSIDERATION

However, the council reportedly agreed to give further consideration to the problem, thus averting for the time being a showdown that could push the country toward political chaos again.

Earlier in the week it appeared that the council had defied the political odds against it and worked out a provisional constitution and plan for transition that would give South Viet Nam civilian rule once again.

But repeated hitches developed. The latest and most serious was over the role of the military.

The council, appointed after rioting mobs forced Khanh to step down as president and promise civil rule, originally was expected to announce its provisional constitution yesterday. Speculation now was that no announcement would be made until next week at the earliest.

Adm. Ulysses S. Grant Sharp, commander of U.S. forces in the Pacific, arrived in Saigon today and said progress is being made in the war against the Viet Cong.

Sharp told newsmen the Vietnamese Army, after a rapid expansion program, now shows indications of improved leadership.

Warning: Monoxide a Killer

LANSING (AP) — "The people of Michigan have been served a grim reminder that carbon monoxide is a merciless killer which strikes without warning," State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert Heustis said Thursday.

Heustis urged safety precautions following the death of seven persons in two monoxide-caused deaths last weekend.

Gary Mucott of St. Charles, his wife and three children died in their car at a roadside park near Caro when the engine was left running. A faulty muffler was blamed.

John Bloop, 21, and Bonnie Bailey, 17, both of Sears, died while watching a movie at a drive-in theater near Mount Pleasant. Again, a faulty muffler was blamed.

FIRST OCCURRENCE

"Although the fatalities in Mount Pleasant represent the first time, to my knowledge, that people have died from carbon monoxide in a drive-in theater, I have always been concerned about the possibility," Heustis said.

"These deaths were absolutely needless," Heustis said.

He urged these simple precautions:

—Have the car muffler and exhaust system checked every time the oil is changed.

—Never sit in a parked car with the motor running.

—Always drive with the window open.

The D-day invasion of June 6, 1944, was accomplished with 12,000 planes, 5,300 ships and other craft moving in two American, two British and one Canadian division on the first assault waves.

Defense Dept. Is Waiting for Signs of Russian Shift

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department is waiting watchfully for clues on two military questions posed by the shift in the Moscow government:

1. Will it mean increased influence by the hard-line "hawks" of the old Soviet military clique?

2. Does it portend a resumption of Soviet-Sino collaboration, cut off by Khrushchev in his ideological row with Peking?

An ascendency in power by the offensive-oriented military group could mean warning flares going up over at least three regions of prime importance to the U.S. armed forces — Viet Nam, Cuba and Berlin.

Cuba and Berlin are in the Soviet Union's direct sphere of interest.

SOVIET DEMANDS

Crises arising from Soviet demands for the departure of Western military forces from free Berlin have brought U.S. forces to the alert on several occasions.

Soviet generals have remained unhappy over Khrushchev's backdown in the Cuban missile crisis of autumn 1962.

The Viet Nam guerrilla operations have been directed and supported by Red China through the medium of the Communist government of North Viet Nam. Soviet aid to the Viet Cong dwindled after the Moscow-Peking companionship turned sour and Khrushchev halted virtually all aid and advice for Red China.

A patch-up of differences between the two Communist powers could pose both immediate and long-range problems for the American military.

GREATER PROBLEMS

Resumption of the flow of weapons and supplies, including vitally needed petroleum, from the Soviet Union to Red China could spell even greater difficulties in the Viet Nam War where almost 20,000 American fighting men are committed. Conceivably, it also could bolster China's courage to the point of direct intervention in Viet Nam.

Further out among the possibilities is that Soviet scientific and technical aid in Chinese weapon system development — especially the nuclear bomb and missile or manned bomber delivery equipment — might be resumed.

When the first dispatches of change in the Soviet government reached Washington Thursday, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was in Fort Worth, Tex., for the debut of the F111 warplane. Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was at a meeting near Norfolk, Va.

When McNamara finished his address he was handed a slip of paper. He left the speakers' platform to talk by phone with Deputy Secretary Cyrus Vance, who reported the Moscow dispatches. McNamara returned, as scheduled, to Washington late in the afternoon.

Wheeler was advised of the developments by the national military command center in the Pentagon. The center keeps a daily file of the whereabouts of every civilian and military official of importance.

There seemed to be no intensification of the normal operation of the armed forces.

A spokesman said that as far as he knew, the status of all the armed forces remained unchanged.

How the Mighty Are Fallen, Says De Gaulle of K

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI) — "Well, poor Khrushchev, he's gone," said French President Charles de Gaulle last night to British Ambassador Sir Leslie Fry.

The news of the Kremlin power upheaval arrived as de Gaulle was giving a farewell reception aboard a French cruiser for Brazilian leaders and diplomats on the eve of his departure for home after a South American tour.

Chating with the charge d'affaires of the papal nunciature here, de Gaulle, with a twinkle in his eye, remarked, "Sic transit gloria mundi, (How the mighty are fallen), Monseigneur, Khrushchev is gone."

LBJ Uses K Removal as Argument for Retaining Present Administration

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, off today on another campaign trip, has used the replacement of Nikita Khrushchev as an argument for keeping a Democrat — Lyndon B. Johnson — in the White House.

Johnson broached this approach Thursday night in winding up a two-day swing through New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York.

Addressing a Johnson-backing Liberal party rally in Manhattan's Madison Square Garden, the President said: "Changes and uncertainties in this busy world where we live give great weight to our own need for a stable, sure, steady course on the basis of a steady bipartisan foreign policy."

Lest anyone miss his point, Johnson added that voters could toss bipartisanship in foreign affairs "down the drain" on Nov. 3 — "but I don't think you're going to." Previously, Johnson repeatedly had expressed the view that a GOP election victory would destroy bipartisanship.

SIGN OF CHANGE?

The President, who added comments about the Soviet power shift to his prepared text, said the shuffle "may or may not be a sign of deeper turmoil or may be a sign of deeper changes to come."

But he said the shake-up should be a sign to Americans that "we should keep steady on our goals — that peace is the mission of the American people and we are not to be deterred."

On his return to Washington, Johnson volunteered his first expression of personal opinion on the case of Walter Jenkins, his close friend and top aide who resigned Wednesday after it became public knowledge that he had been arrested twice on morals charges — on last Oct. 7 and five years ago.

The President said in a statement that until late Wednesday, "no information or report of any kind to me had ever raised a question with respect to his personal conduct."

This, in effect, was a reply to a charge by Dean Burch, Republican national chairman, that Johnson had covered up for Jenkins for 5½ years — ever since Jenkins' 1959 arrest which also came to public attention Wednesday.

Today, Johnson planned to fly into Ohio for evening appearances in Cincinnati and Dayton. Then he was to fly to his Texas ranch for a weekend respite before stumping his native state next week.

Johnson got another good taste of big crowds — and it elated him — Thursday in Brooklyn. His motorcade was greeted by tens of thousands of people — so many, in fact, that police refused to estimate the number.

Find Boys More Fussy on Clothes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government survey has found that boys are more fussy about their clothes than girls.

This fact turned up in a check made by the Agriculture Department to determine the attitude of teen-agers toward natural fibers, cotton and wool, and synthetic fibers, such as rayon and nylon.

Interviews with 1,691 teen-age girls and 1,649 teen-age boys in various parts of the country showed that 33 per cent of the girls and 37 per cent of the boys were interested in selecting their clothes because they wanted to wear the right style.

Likewise, 23 per cent of the girls classified themselves as "very particular and fussy" about their clothes compared with 27 per cent of the boys.

Cotton and wool were heavily preferred over the man-made fibers for most clothing items.

Bible Group Translates Mark, Using U.S. Idiom

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Bible Society today announced a new and simplified translation of the Gospel of Mark, employing American idiom.

It was the first such undertaking of the society, a nonprofit organization devoted to translation and distribution of the Scriptures for 55 denominations.

Johnson Wins in WKHS Mock Election

WTHS Mock Vote Picks LBJ, Romney

By JEAN PERRY

Students at Waterford Township High School held a mock election recently to give high school students a chance to vote in regular voting machines and voice their opinions on the coming election.

All students participated in this election, which was sponsored by James Amell, history teacher. The outcome at WTHS was Johnson winning by an overwhelming majority and Romney by a bare majority.

The regular Hi-Y club, an association for boys of WTHS, has expanded. The new addition is the Tri-Hi-Y held for girls.

Their first meeting was held in the school gym Tuesday.

PAPER STAFF

The WTHS school paper, The Anchor, has chosen this year's staff.

Plan Yearbook at Emmanuel

By TIM MAYER

Planning for Emmanuel Christian High School's 1965 yearbook began this week under the guidance of Mrs. William Yost, staff sponsor.

In a special meeting, the staff chose this year's theme and cover design. The Conqueror will be the largest in the school's history and will feature an expanded sports section.

Foundations are being laid for the Lancer's first varsity club. The lettermen, entitled to membership, will be going to various college and pro contests throughout the school year.

Athletic director Roger Sykes will sponsor the group and be supported by the coaching staff.

Homecoming Plans Keep Huskies Busy

By ALICE TURNER

This week has been a very busy one for the students at Pontiac Northern High School. The election for Northern's homecoming king and queen was held recently.

In the court are Gwenda Baker and Ronld Forester; Barbara Hughes and John Dura; and Nancy Jones and Robert Church.

This year the student council decided that the court would be composed only of seniors.

Northern's homecoming game will be next Friday and will be against Walled Lake High School. The dance will be at 10 p.m. following the game.

DANCE THEME

Theme for the dance, which is sponsored by the cheerleaders, will be "Magic Moments."

The theme was chosen by a committee composed of Northern student council officers and representatives from each club that plans to enter a float.

Seven clubs are entering floats in the homecoming parade this year. They are future teachers, American Field Service, pep club, varsity club, girls recreation association and the junior and senior classes.

Final Catalina tryouts were held Tuesday. Announcement of new members is still pending.

Northern's third foreign exchange student, Elene Launar, arrived last Friday and was welcomed by the faculty and student body. Elene is from Uruguay and arrived with 15 other students who will attend various schools across the state.

Clarkston in Midst of Big Event

By CATHY RICHARDSON

Clarkston High School is in the midst of homecoming weekend, one of the biggest events in the school year.

Beginning the festivities was the queen's assembly Wednesday. The homecoming queen and her court were presented to their school.

Reigning over homecoming this year is queen Connie Papi. Her court is Sue Hampshire, senior maid; Linda Bennett, junior maid; Shayla Smith, sophomore maid; and Laura Soncrant, freshman maid.

During the queen's assembly, the players, managers and cheerleaders of the powderpuff football game were introduced. Wednesday evening the senior girls met the junior girls in a game of touch football.

Thursday evening Clarkston fans met to watch the team practice under the lights. Following practice there was a cheerleader - sponsored snake dance and bonfire.

FLOAT PARADE

This afternoon at 4 there was to be a float parade through Clarkston.

The queen and her court were to ride on floats made by their respective classes and the student government. Other floats in the parade were constructed by the various clubs.

This evening during halftime of the game against Clarenceville, more ceremonies will be held. Last year's queen, Corinne Blackett, will place her crown on Connie Papi's head.

Clarkston's queen and her court will then be introduced to the public to the melody of "Some Enchanted Evening."

Tomorrow night will be "Some Enchanted Evening" for couples attending the semiformal dance sponsored by the student government.

From 8:30 to 12 midnight albums will be played for students, alumni and chaperones as homecoming officially ends at midnight tomorrow.

Staebler Tops Romney by 3

Pupils Vote on Local, State, National Level

By PENNY YOUNG

President Johnson won by a four to one majority in Tuesday's mock elections at Waterford Kettering High School. Staebler was picked by a three-vote majority.

Students were excused from study halls and social studies classes to cast their ballots for candidates in the local, state and national levels.

High schoolers who wish to work and attend school at the same time may do so by participating in the cooperative training program at WKHS. Co-op members this year number 60.

Girls Athletic Association's Letter Club will host girls from eight area schools tomorrow in a play day from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The girls will divide into teams to play volleyball, basketball, tennis, football and pingpong. Diane Jarvis is chairman of the play day.

REPRESENTATIVES

Junior representatives are Sue Lynn Dodman and Richard McPartlin.

Reigning over "The Night of the Autumn Moon" as queen will be one of the three senior girls nominated last week by their senior classmates. Tamzien Rosegart, Brenda Moore and Georgeanna Kruchko are vying for the coveted honor.

Hopefuls for the title of king are James Haviland, David Keaggy and William Graham.

Last year a new homecoming tradition was begun at WKHS. Seven floats were constructed by various organizations and classes. The idea will be carried out again this year.

Building floats based around an Oriental theme or football game or both will be the senior, junior and sophomore classes, choir, dramatics club, science futurity association, pep club, co-op and Hi-Y.

Named to Senior Ensemble

Pick 13 for PCH Group

By KAY COSMA

Thirteen musically inclined boys have been chosen for Pontiac Central High School's senior boys ensemble.

The group is under the direction of Michael Dempsey.

The future teachers club of Central has chosen their new officers. They are Joel Boyd, president; Dorothea Van Dyke, vice president; Alice Treece, secretary; and Linda Cody, treasurer.

NEW OFFICERS

Another club at Central which now has a new slate of officers is the future nurses club.

The new officers are Cheryl Hight, president; Linda Torley, vice president; Sandra Turner, secretary; and Hattie Brebery, treasurer. Gaynl Spalla is adviser.

The music department's annual musical will be Rodgers and Hammerstein's, "The Sound of Music." Tryouts will be held later in the year.

Tryouts are now being held for "The Wizard of Oz," this year's selection for the children's play.

NEW METHOD

Pontiac Central's homecoming chief, princess and their court are being chosen differently this year.

Any senior with a C average, no truant absences, and who has not been absent more than seven times in a semester is qualified.

Last week petitions were carried by all qualified candidates. A regular campaign is now being held.

Monday the entire school will vote for one boy and girl. The boy and girl with the majority vote will be chief and and princess. The next two boys and girls will be on the court. Homecoming is scheduled for Oct. 24.

Girl Semifinalist

Rochester High School student Janet Lynn Cameron has been named a semifinalist in the 1964-65 Merit Scholarship competition.

By KAREN TRIMMER

Officers of the dramatics club of Bloomfield Hills High School were recently elected.

They include Dudley DeNador, president; Constance DiMatteo, vice president; Janet Bly, secretary; Rosemarie Richie, treasurer; and Pat Horton, business manager.

With the consent of Glen Wooster, director, "The Mouse That Roared" was chosen as the first play to be presented this year.

For the first time the cast will be selected from the membership of the dramatics club.

WORK ON FLOAT

Under the direction of chairman Carol Moses, work on the junior class float is still progressing and plans are made to see a college football game and to hold the first junior fun night next Friday.

WALLED LAKE

By VIVI METTALA

The Walled Lake High School chapter of the national honor society has 55 members this year.

Elected to lead the group were Lawrence Benninger, president; Charles Dornbush, vice president; Carolann Judson, secretary; and Jane Oldenkamp, treasurer.

Three seniors have received letters of commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Association. They are Paul Eicher, Candice Davis and Linda Phillips.

Representatives from the senior executive board have formed two committees to begin preparing for graduation next June.

The committee for caps and gowns, with Cheri Grinnell as chairman, has settled upon dark blue, the traditional WL color.

WL EMBLEM

The cards and announcements committee, with Sue Dudas as chairman, selected embossed printed announcements with the WL emblem. Robert Shafer of the social studies department is sponsor of the two groups.

MILFORD

By BOB GORSLINE

Homecoming at Milford High School this year is set for next Friday. An extensive program is being readied for the alumni, including a social hour before the game, special recognition at the game and a dance after the game.

Halftime festivities will include the announcement of the Redskins' chief and princess and the winning float, as well as a band show saluting the alumni.

The parade, usually held in Milford, will be limited to the field this year because of the moving of the field to the high school.

OXFORD

By SHERYL BREWER

The Oxford High School paper, the "Wildcats Roar," was recently reorganized and officers elected.

Monday evening Velma Green and Michael Schlusler will be auditioning for the Michigan Chorale. If accepted they will be going to Europe in June.

Parochial Schools Plan for Homecoming, Future

ST. FREDERICK

By JANIS QUARLES

An air of festivity hangs over St. Frederick High School as plans are being made for the homecoming dance and football game. Nominations for the royal candidates were held Thursday.

Oct. 23 has been set aside for the dance, "Over the Rainbow". To be presented by the pep club. It will be in the parish hall from 8 to 11 p.m.

Highlight of the dance will be the naming of the queen and her court. Decorations will center around the theme of the rainbow and its many colors.

Varsity cheerleaders will coordinate the homecoming activities at the football game Sunday night. Floats are being assembled by the classes and a parade through town will mark the beginning of Sunday's activities.

Halftime ceremonies include the introduction of the football players and cheerleaders and fathers of both groups. Spotlighting the event will be the crowning of the queen by the cocaptains, Ralph Landry and Lawrence Walter.

The queen and her court will reign over these festivities for the weekend.

ST. MICHAEL

By HERVIE LAVOIE

Seniors at St. Michael High School are planning ahead. Although there remain more than eight months of school, many seniors this week were taking definite steps in deciding their postgraduate course of action.

Those considering the military service had the opportunity of conferring with Chief Robert Scott yesterday.

He is from the local Navy Recruiting Office and distributed bulletins giving a complete rundown on enlistment procedures and the benefits of a career in the Navy.

Those students contemplating a college education were heartened by the arrival of Scholarship applications. They are obtainable at the school office.

Also for the college minded student is a bulletin board in room 11 devoted to the display of college and scholarship information.

Student council representatives were selected by each homeroom recently. Their purpose is to provide a communication link between the student council executive board and each homeroom.

Representatives are Scott Gagel, Eileen Clark, Thomas Patch, Judith Saxon, Keith Liddy, Lyn Bauer, Joseph Solonika and Esperanza Flores.

A new publishing system for the Michaelite, the school paper, has been inaugurated by Sister Mary Callista. She plans to have a Michaelite published each week.

Each weekly edition will be written entirely by one person selected by Sister Callista. The first issue, written by Sarah Raymond, was distributed last Friday.

Work on Floats at Avondale

By LYNDA TONG

Plans for Avondale High School's annual homecoming are well under way. This year all three classes will have floats for the first time since 1960.

Each club is allowed to enter a decorated car. Prizes of $25 will be awarded for the best float and $10 for the best car.

Petitions for class officers have been taken out. In order to be nominated there must be 25 signatures on the petition. Voting will take place some time next week.

Officers for the American Field Service were elected last week.

They are Mary Anne Hackett, president; Carol Guy, vice president; Judith Catterfeld, secretary; Sue Hall, treasurer; and Roberta Runser, parliamentarian.

FOR EXCHANGE STUDENT

The club works to raise money to bring an exchange student to the United States from another country.

Their current project is "Penney Wednesday". Each Wednesday collections are taken in each classroom throughout the school. The room with the highest total for each month receives a prize.

Elections for the National Honor Society officers have been held. Joe Emmerth was elected president. Other officers are Dan McCarthy, vice president; Lois Cornell, secretary; and Linda Bragen, treasurer.

Lady of Lakes Remembers Fun of Homecoming

By ANN LONGO

The homecoming at Our Lady of the Lakes High School is over but the memory lingers on. Judith Tossey reigned over the homecoming festivities.

Saturday night the men's club of the parish sponsored a bonfire behind the school. Students joined with the cheerleaders in the cheers and William Methner, captain of the football team, gave a victory speech.

Following the event, students had donuts and cider compliments of the men's club.

Sunday during halftime there was a parade of the queen and her court, last year's queen, Mary Margaret Dean, the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders, and the freshman-sophomore and junior-senior floats.

Orion Homecoming Tonight

By PAT WARD

Homecoming festivities tonight will climax more than a week of preparation by classes, clubs, football team, student council, cheerleaders and band, when Lake Orion High School clashes with Warren Cousino.

Though only one-third of the freshman class is at the senior high school, they have built a float for the pageant.

In addition to the four class floats, the national honor society, Youth for Christ, pep, Thespians, varsity, future homemakers association and French clubs will have float entries.

Says Case Raises Security Questions

Miller Calls for Explanation on Jenkins

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller compaigned in Minnesota today after calling upon President Johnson to give the American people a full explanation of the Walter Jenkins incident.

The Republican vice presidential nominee said in Chicago Thursday night that the arrest of Jenkins, a top White House aide, on a morals charge, raised "very, very serious questions" about national security.

"The President," he said, "should explain to the American people how it is that a man (such as Jenkins) could be appointed to a position in one of the highest councils of the government."

Miller also renewed his attack on Johnson's political posture, describing him as "a purely political man who bends with the political winds and who would rather switch and win than stand firm for anything."

AT ALMA MATER

He assailed Johnson in an address Thursday night at a dinner of Chicago-area alumni of Notre Dame University, his alma mater.

"The Lyndon Johnson record is consistently only in its inconsistency," Miller said. "He has tried every political label — conservative, moderate, liberal — and he has presented not just two faces but dozens of faces to the American people."

Miller also departed from his prepared text to ask this question of President Johnson: "What now are you going to do about Walter Jenkins, who served in the highest councils of government, having access to secret information, vital to the security of this government?"

Miller at first declined comment on Jenkins arrest and subsequent resignation when approached by newsmen. But the subject came up again during a question-and-answer period following his speech before the Executive Club of Chicago.

SERIOUS QUESTIONS

Discussing the Jenkins incident, Miller said: "This indeed raises very, very serious questions.

"If this type of man has information vital to our survival, it could be compromised very quickly and very dangerously."

He said the American people should be told whether Jenkins attended meetings of the National Security Council or the Cabinet.

The White House said Thursday that Johnson had requested the FBI to make a thorough investigation of the Jenkins affair.

BAKER CASE

Miller also brought up Jenkins' role in the investigation of the financial dealings of Robert G. (Bobby) Baker, who resigned under fire a year ago as secretary to the Senate Democratic majority.

Miller said Don B. Reynolds, a Washington insurance man and friend of Baker, had testified that he paid Jenkins for television advertising on the Johnson family's TV station in Texas as — Miller said — a "quid pro quo" for handling a $200,000 insurance policy on Johnson's life.

Although Jenkins submitted to a Senate investigating committee a statement contradicting Reynolds, Miller said, Jenkins never had to testify before the committee because he "was protected by the White House."

If Jenkins had testified, Miller said, obviously either Reynolds or Jenkins "would have been guilty of perjury."

Truman Rests Well; Visitors Limited

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Former President Harry S. Truman rested "comfortably" today and was expected to get out of his bed briefly, but visitors still were limited to the family and close friends.

The former chief executive, seemingly as robust and cheerful as usual, walked about his hospital room yesterday. His physician said Truman was much improved from injuries suffered in a fall at his home.

Truman, now 80, suffered two broken ribs and cuts on his right eyelid and eyebrow Tuesday in a fall against the bathtub of his Independence, Mo., home.

Demonstrators Plead Guilty of Trespassing

DETROIT (AP)—Six persons arrested when they staged a sit-down demonstration at the Automobile Club of Michigan (AAA) downtown office Sept. 25 pleaded guilty Thursday to charges of trespassing and were fined $25 each.

The six were protesting what they called racially discriminatory hiring practices of the auto club.

World Reacts to Soviet Shift

By The Associated Press

The sudden fall from power of Nikita S. Khrushchev stunned world leaders and men on the street around the world. The abrupt shake-up triggered reactions ranging from calm to alarm.

Speculation was widespread among government officials, diplomats and in the press over the new leaders. Communist party head Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin. Would they follow Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence or steer the country on a new, radical course?

Much of it, both in the East and West, centered on the feeling that at the heart of Khrushchev's removal was the bitter Chinese - Russian conflict and a resulting loss of Soviet prestige in the Communist movement.

"He accepted an open breach in the Communist front rather than subscribe to China's theory of the inevitability of war," said the London Daily Express.

Observers in Tokyo believed the change could pave the way toward some form of reconciliation between the Soviet Union and Red China.

PERSONAL VICTORY

It was felt that Chinese Chairman Mao Tze-tung would regard the development as a personal victory, leaving him as international communism's most authoritative figure.

But Red China reported Khrushchev's removal with no immediate comment. The Peking People's Daily carried the story under the headline "Khrushchev Steps Down."

The Japanese news agency Kyodo reported in a distpatch from Peking that a series of conferences began in the Chinese Foreign Ministry soon after 8 a.m. today.

In Taipei, capital of Nationalist China, the consensus was that Moscow would still reject Peking's view that communism should risk nuclear war for world domination.

ITALY DISPATCH

Italy's Communist party, the largest in Western Europe, warned in a communique in Rome that it would not support any return to hardline Stalinist tactics by Khrushchev's successors.

In Yugoslavia, whose President Tito has been pro-Khrushchev, there was dismay among people in the streets of Belgrade.

Communist leaders of Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania and Bulgaria were expected to mark time until the new leaders make their policies known.

Observers in Vienna felt they would at least suspend the liberalization policies they have been carrying on to varying degrees.

UNCERTAIN STATE

Denmark's Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag said the change plunged the world into a state of uncertainty. He said that world politics would remain on an uncertain course until the policies of Khrushchev's successors are fully known.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said Khrushchev was no friend of Germany's but that "He had become interested in maintaining peace." Brandt said he felt the new men would continue to work toward peace.

Canadian Foreign Minister Paul Martin expressed the hope that the change would mean a "continuation of the policy . . . that tended toward a detente, toward an easing in the conflicting positions between East and West."

But informed sources said the first reaction within Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's cabinet was fear that the new Soviet leaders might try to patch up Russia's quarrel with Communist China.

Two Sides to Meet in Paper Strike

DETROIT (AP) — A meeting between publishers and the striking Plate and Paper Handlers Union was on tap today in the 95th day of the tie-up of Detroit's two daily newspapers.

Striking Local 10 of the Plate and Paper Handlers Union agreed to the meeting Thursday night at the publishers' invitation.

At the same time, neither the handlers nor their striking sister union, the Printing Pressmen, had accepted proposals for a means of ending the walkout, including arbitration accompanied by an end to the strike.

The publishers also proposed a meeting Saturday with the pressmen. The pressmen gave no immediate answer.

The publishers-plate handlers meeting was the first action in the long deadlock since a governor's commission recommended binding arbitration earlier in the week and the publishers accepted Thursday.

The Detroit News, an afternoon paper, and the morning Detroit Free Press have been closed since the two craft unions went on strike July 13 in a dispute over new contract terms.

The custom of wearing bridal veils originated with the ancient Greeks, who thought that the veil would be a protection for the bride against evil spirits flying around during the marriage ceremony.

Medicare Tax? No ☐
Health Care for the Elderly? Yes ☑

Let's look at the facts about the proposed Medicare Tax...and a medical care program for the aged that already exists!

What's the hurry here? The supporters of the proposed Medicare Tax would have you believe that passage of this controversial bill is urgent... that persons over 65 are deprived of needed medical care because they can't pay for it.

Nothing could be further from the truth. A health program is available in your community now that provides to every elderly person who needs it the health care he or she requires.

We call this health program . . . Health Opportunity Program for the Elderly. People every day are being helped by its generous benefits. And, unlike Medicare, which would substantially increase your Social Security Tax payroll deductions, this progam is already being paid for by a part of your present tax dollar!

Medicare Tax? No. Health Care for the Elderly? Yes! For more information on this program, ask your doctor.

Calls It Best Way to Fight Communists

Birch Chief Advises Use of Red Tactics

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This second of two articles on the mysterious John Birch Society deals with the group's stands on various persons and issues.)

By MYRON FEINSILBER
United Press International

Robert H. W. Welch Jr., the founder and leader of the John Birch Society, believes the best way to fight the Communists is to adopt their tactics.

And he believes one of their cleverest tactics has been to coin catchy slogans and repeat them in public often enough that everybody is saying and repeating them.

He cites some examples:

"I like Taft, but can he win?", Welch said, was a Communist slogan, useful in depriviing the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of the Republican presidential nomination in 1952. That election was a turning point, Welch believes. Taft, as president, could have stopped Communist subversion, he said. Now, acting outside of government, private citizens must save the country, he said. He believes that even the Central Intelligence Agency is Communist-controlled.

ANOTHER SLOGAN

Another Communist - inspired slogan, Welch believes, was "I can't stand Roosevelt but we must support him because of his foreign policy." He believes this slogan helped Franklin D. Roosevelt win a third term as president.

The Communists, Welch says, were responsible for spreading this slogan against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy: "I agree with everything he's doing but I don't like his methods."

And, back in 1919, the Communist may have inspired President Woodrow Wilson to use the slogan: "Make the world safe for democracy."

INFLUENCE U.S. POLITICS

Communists, he says, have been active in influencing America's policies since 1912 and may have inspired Wilson to press for adoption of the graduated income tax, the direct election of senators and the creation of the federal reserve system.

The trouble with "making the world safe for democracy," Welch says, is that it promotes the idea that America is a democracy. Actually, he says, it is a republic — a representative form of government.

To counter this, the John Birch Society promotes a slogan of its own: "This is a republic, not a democracy. Let's keep it that way."

The slogan has appeared on millions of pieces of Birch-society mail. The society is reported to have spent $33,000 on postage for sending out its publications in 1962.

'IMPEACH WARREN'

Another Birch slogan — and the major Birch society's political goal — is "Impeach Earl Warren." In 1961, Bryton Barron, a field representative of the society, said impeachment of the chief justice had become the society's No. 1 project because Warren had "voted 92 per cent of the time in favor of Communists and subversives."

The next year, Welch reported the society had erected more than 100 "Impeach Earl Warren" billboards.

Last month, in his monthly bulletin to members, Welch reported on the drive.

"We seek to have the chief justice impeached because of the huge ragged holes that the Supreme Court under his leadership has punched in the consituation in violation of his oath to uphold it," he wrote.

DESTROY SAFETY

"We believe that the Warren court is gradually destroying all of the safeguards which made this a republic instead of a mobocracy."

The bulletin reproduces several pictures of "Impeach Earl Warren" billboards. One sign flat on the ground 20 miles west of Phoenix, Ariz., in huge letters designed to be seen from an airplane. "If standing upright it would be as tall as a ten-story building," the bulletin notes.

Another photograph shows an "Impeach Warren" sign that had been burned. "Similar billboards all over the country have been burned or hacked to pieces — in some instances as many as four times, as a new billboard was set up to replace the one destroyed," the bulletin reports. "By Whom?" it asks.

Several congressmen have reported receiving a large number of letters — from constituents and from all over the country — calling for impeachment of the chief justice.

CHIEF ACTIVITY

Letter-writing campaigns are a chief Birch society activity. Welch has reported the society has initiated them on 300 different goals.

Besides calling for Warren's removal, the society has asked its members to oppose: New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, United Nations Ambassador Adali E. Stevenson ("apostle of appeasement"); Civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr., newspaper columnist Walter Lippmann, union leader Walter Ruther, former ambassador to Veit Nam Henry Cabot Lodge, foreign aid, flouridation of water, the Civil Rights Act of 1964 ("this bill . . . has all the mechanics and powers needed for, and will mark the beginning of, the police state in America . . . this police state will be, and is planned to be, run by the Communist), UNICEF, the income tax, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), and the United Nations ("get US out of the U.N. and the U. N. out of the U.S." is another society slogan).

Welch believes that a chief Communist tactic is the "principle of reversal." Under this principle, the Communists condemn what they are really for in order to get the free world to rally to its support.

Thus he believes the Communists wanted the late United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to remain in office when they started their drive to replace him with a "troika" at the U.N.

FOUGHT RETENTION

Welch believes the United States played into Communists hands when it vigorously fought for the retention of Hammarskjold.

Another Birch society device which Welch acknowledges was borrowed from the Communists is the creation of "front" organizations. The New York Post, a liberal newspaper, in a study of the society in 1961 identified some of them as the Committee to Impeach Earl Warren, the Committee to Investigate Communist Influences at Vassar (college) and the Committee Against Educating Traitors at Government Expense.

Last week, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate, said that when he lent his name to the Committee Against Summit Entanglement in 1959 he did not know it was a Birch front organization.

John Rousselot, a former congressman from California and public relations director for the Birch society, said the committee was "one of the large national front organizations" of the society.

The Birch society conducted a postal card campaign in 1959 aimed at convincing President Eisenhower not to meet Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushohev at the summit conference in Paris.

The society asked its members to send thousands of postal cards to the President with this message:

"Dear President Eisenhower: If you go, don't come back. Sincerely."

Besides using fronts, Birch members are advised to join established community groups — such as parent-teachers associations and chambers of commerce—and move into positions of leadership within them.

Welch once advised members through his monthly bulletin: "Join your local PTA at the beginning of the school year and go to work and take it over."

LITTLE INFLUENCE

Perhaps one reason the society has not noticeably managed to influence national policies is its isolation from more orthodox conservative movements. Goldwater has declined to reject the support of the society on the grounds that it, like he, is opposed to communism, but he has said that Welch has "said stupid things."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has called on fellow Republicans to withdraw from the society "because of its totalitarian make-up." He characterized Welch's statements as those of "a would-be dictator."

And the National Review, a leading conservative magazine edited by William Buckley Jr., said in an editorial:

"Mr. Welch, for all his good intentions, threatens to divert militant conservative action to irrelevance and ineffectuality . . . Mr. Welch has revived in many men the spirit of patriotism, and that same spirit now calls for the rejecting, out of love of truth and country, his false counsels."

LETTER OF PRAISE

The editorial drew a letter of praise from Sen. Goldwater and another from Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., a conservative. Goldwater suggested that Welch resign.

Birch members have a spotty record of success at the polls. Some have been elected but others, like Rousselot, have been defeated after being identified as members of the society.

Of all of Welch's published statements, none is better known than his characterization of President Eisenhower as "a dedicated, conscious agent of the Communist conspiracy."

(The whole quotation is: "But my firm belief that Dwight Eisenhower is a dedicated, conscious agent of the Communist conspiracy is based on an accumulation of detailed evidence so extensive and so palpable that it seems to me to put this conviction beyond any reasonable doubt.")

STATEMENT CITED

The statement was cited time after time at the Republican convention during the debate on condemning the society.

Welch has not denied writing it, but he protests it is "unethical journalism and a brazen violation of my property rights" to quote it. He argues it was in a private manuscript sent to a number of his friends for suggested corrections. The quote was softened when the book was published under the title, "The Politician."

Welch also wrote, in that manuscript: "In my opinion the chances are very strong that Milton Eisenhower is actually Dwight Eisenhower's superior and boss within the Communist Party."

Commission to Get Report on Hospital

A study recommending expanded rehabilitation and mental health programs at Pontiac General Hospital was ordered sent to the City Commission last night.

The hospital's board of trustees said the report, made by United Community Services (UCS) of Metropolitan Detroit, should be "distributed" to the commission.

Trustees listened to a report from the long-term planning committee of the medical staff that favored the new facility.

The staff committee said that expanded services could not be offered in the hospital's present building.

The UCS study recommended expansion of Pontiac General's mental health programs "to provide additional inpatient services."

MENTAL HEALTH

Further mental health programs, according to the study, should be planned in cooperation with the County Mental Health Services Board and the Michigan Department of Mental Health.

In calling for expanded inpatient and outpatient physical rehabilitation programs, the UCS study cautioned against duplication of services, referring to expanded facilities projected at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Pontiac General's staff committee felt a strong need for a rehabilitation unit of a minimun of 40 beds.

The UCS study did not cover the possibility of plant expansion to accommodate the new services.

However, the staff committee said a new unit could house both rehabilitation programs and mental health services, along with perhaps research laboratory facilities.

City Man Robbed on Way to Work

Vernon Couch, 57, of 740 St. Clair told police he was robbed of $2,469 at 6 a.m. yesterday while walking on St. Clair near Montcalm.

Couch, who was on his way to work, said he was struck on the head by an unidentified assailant who fled with Couch's wallet.

According to Couch, the money represented savings he planned to use for construction of a patio.

2 Area Teens Hurt in Crash

Hospitalized were Jerry Watson, of 3610 Delano, driver of the car, and Lynn H. Ricketts, 17, of 5684 Hillsboro, Springfield Township.

Sheriff's deputies said the car was traveling south on North Oxford Road when the accident occurred at 4:45 p.m. just south of Ray.

Watson suffered head injuries and a broken leg. The girl suffered internal injuries and facial cuts.

Ex-Constable of Farmington on Probation

A former Farmington constable yesterday was placed on three years probation for embezzling about $1,400 while he was employed by the city.

In addition, Arthur L. Forgette, 53, was ordered by Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn to pay restitution and court costs of $100.

The exact amount of restitution has not been determined since an audit has not been completed.

Forgette, a grandfather, pleaded guilty Sept. 21 to taking the funds, which were judgments he collected while he was constable.

Farmington Police Chief Maurice D. Foltz said Forgette would fail to turn in the fees to the court, claiming he had been unable to locate the persons from whom they were to be collected.

TAKING MONEY

A constable since 1957, Forgette, according to Foltz, had been taking the money since the first of this year.

Forgette voluntarily surrendered to police in September, two months after the charge had been brought against him. He said he had been in California.

According to Foltz, Forgette disappeared from his home at 1967 Maple, Walled Lake, the day after he had been relieved of his duties by the City Council, which had decided to assign the job to a full-time policeman.

Successfully Restart N-Rocket Reactor

JACKASS FLATS, Nev. (AP) — A Nerva NRX A2 nuclear rocket reactor has been successfully restarted, demonstrating a valuable capability to allow future nuclear rocket engines to be switched off and on in space.

The Atomic Energy Commission's space nuclear propulsion office announced that the reactor was restarted Thursday at this test facility and that it ran at low power for about 20 minutes.

Kent County Strikes '64 Unemployment Low

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Unemployment in Kent County last month struck only 3,200 persons, or 2.2 per cent of the total work force of 148,000, the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported Thursday.

It was the lowest figure of 1964, matching that of last November, but excluded a strike by the United Auto Workers Union against General Motors Corp. whose three plants here employ approximately 6,100 persons.

Navy Rates Polaris as Good Until '80s

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The Navy believes the present Polaris submarine missile will be an effective weapon system until the early 1980s.

Advance systems under study include missiles powered by nuclear energy or exotic fuels; deep - diving submarines which could hug the ocean floor, and deployment of large remote-control missiles in submerged tubes anchored in the sea.

India has set a goal of establishing 8,200 family planning clinics by 1966. The country has already established more than 1,800.

Pontiac School Affairs

Board Expresses Thanks

Resolutions honoring those who participated in the Pontiac school district's millage campaign were approved by the school board last night.

Certificates of appreciation will go to members of the Pontiac School Study Committee, Dr. Robert R. Turpin, general chairman.

Various local businessmen, unions, professional associates and businesses will also receive the official thanks of the School Board.

The School Board's request for renewal of the 8.75-mill extra voted tax levy was approved by a 5-1 margin by voters at a special election Oct. 2.

In other business last night, official enrollment figures were presented for the 1964-65 school year, showing an increase of 269 students over last year.

FIGURES CLIMB

Senior high school enrollment climbed from 3,810 to 3,955 this year, junior high from 4,732 to 4,877, while elementary pupils dropped from 13,499 to 13,478.

School officials listed total enrollment for the current school year at 22,310, up from last year's 22,041.

Richard C. Fell, assistant superintendent for business and staff personnel, reported that plans still call for the new school administration building to open Dec. 1.

The building, now under construction, is located next to city hall on the east leg of Wide Track.

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said today "there just are no simple solutions to the mess . . . in agriculture" and the present administration should be "honest enough to stop trying to patch up a worn-out program."

The Republican presidential nominee, in a speech for the National Corn Picking Contest, added: "We must seek the best ways open to us to bridge the gap between the controlled agriculture we now have and the free agriculture we must move toward."

The speech came as Goldwater plunged back into the Midwest farm belt — where he campaigned Tuesday and Wednesday — after a quick swing into Texas. He stopped at Sioux City, Iowa, before coming to the corn picking contest.

The Sioux Falls speech was billed by Goldwater aides as a major farm speech.

FEW PROGRAMS

But the speech contained few specific programs and concentrated heavily on criticism of Democratic farm policies.

"My secretary of agriculture will be a man with experience in farming, a man who knows what it's like to plow a furrow and to have dirt on his hands," Goldwater said. "He will not be a defunct governor, trained as a city lawyer and looking for a political handout."

As he has previously, Goldwater pledged to "seek out the advice of farmers and farm organizations across the country, to find ways to make a sound and healthy transition away from controls."

CALLED FOR END

The Arizona senator, who has called for an end to farm price supports, repeatedly reassured farmers this would be done gradually, denying he favored an immediate end to them.

"I will never jerk the rug from under the American farmer," he said. "We must not scrap existing programs until we are sure we have something better to substitute for them."

Goldwater promised to work toward "a free and prosperous American agriculture."

He added: "We will do this by encouraging research to create new industrial uses for farm products. We will do this by encouraging the expansion of markets throughout the free world. And we will do this by freeing farmers from the arbitrary controls of bureaucrats."

* * *

Goldwater held a closed strategy session Thursday night in a Houston hotel with aides to plot campaign tactics for the final 10 days with his top aides. There was no indication after the session as to what was discussed.

Junior Editors Quiz on SOAP

QUESTION: What is soap made of and how does it work?

ANSWER: Ordinary soap uses fats and oils from such sources as we show in the illustration. These are boiled with alkalies, which are chemical compounds.

A legend about the origin of soap tells about a man in ancient Gaul (France) who had made a hairdressing compound out of goat oil and beech tree ashes.

When he got caught in a rainstorm, lather formed in his hair and he discovered its cleansing action.

Although experts do not understand everything about how soap works, they explain its main action like this: the surface of water has a kind of skin or "surface tension" which tends to prevent it from penetrating greasy, dirty substances.

Soap in the water loosens the surface tensions and makes it wetter, so it gets down and breaks up dirt. Soap also breaks up grease and oils into particles, and a layer of soap molecules surround each particle, keeping it separate so that rinse water can wash it away.

Soap suds absorb some of the dirt and your own rubbing helps greatly to loosen dirt so it will float away down the drain. Modern detergents may use some different chemicals, but they work in much the same way.

FOR YOU TO DO: Put a drinking glass in the kitchen sink and fill it with water from a small pitcher. When the glass is full to the brim, very carefully add a little more without spilling. You will see the water curve up above the brim. The surface tension we mentioned is holding it this way.

Asks State Probe of Smear Literature

LANSING (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency asked the Michigan Fair Campaign Practices Commission Thursday to investigate introduction of what he termed smear literature into the state campaign.

Ferency referred specifically to a publication called "LBJ: A Political Biography," which he said was published by the Liberty Lobby of Washington, D.C.

He said thousands of copies of the publication "have appeared mysteriously" for distribution in Michigan.

Candidates Clash; Battle of Wits Is Tie

DETROIT (AP) — Sometimes the unexpected produces the best humor of a political campaign.

Like Thursday, when an unplanned meeting between Gov. George Romney and his Democratic opponent for governor, U.S. Rep. Neil Staebler, turned into a sort of unintended version of one-upmanship.

After addressing a Michigan Education Association meeting, Romney decided to drop in on the Michigan Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) who were meeting elsewhere in Cobo Hall.

As he walked into the auditorium a little girl handed him a Staebler button.

ELECTION SCORE

Staebler 1, Romney 0.

Romney neared the platform and the several hundred teachers stood and applauded. Staebler, standing on the platform, looked about and was obviously startled.

Staebler 1, Romney 1.

Romney stepped onto the platform, shook hands with Staebler, former Gov. John Swainson and other front-line Democrats, and sat next to his opponent.

But the governor, who had intended to say a few words and leave, found himself listening to a high school band performance. The music included "Hello, Dolly," which the predominantly Democratic group interpreted with applause as the political variation, "Hello, Lyndon."

Staebler 2, Romney 1.

HUMOROUS LINE

When the governor did talk, he unleashed his most humorous and subtle line of the campaign.

He told the teachers his entrance into the Democratic midst reminded him of the missionary who came face to face with a lion. With no place to run, the missionary kneeled and prayed.

After a time the missionary opened one eye, related Romney, saw the lion also was kneeling and said, "I'm glad to see you're praying, too, lion."

"I'm not," replied the lion. "I'm just saying grace."

Added Romney: "Ill just say a few words of grace, too."

SCORE EVENS

Romney 3, Staebler 2.

But Staebler had the last word when he disputed Romney's statistics and drew greater applause from the teacher's union.

Romney 3, Staebler 3, a tie.

Otherwise the governor had a light campaign schedule interspersed with staff work. He visited a Negro church, threw out the first puck at the Detroit Red Wings hockey opener and talked with Bloomfield Hills businessmen.

Today he planned campaigning in Flint, Mount Clemens and Detroit, plus meetings with visiting campaigners Richard Nixon and Edward Brooke, the former vice president and attorney general of Massachusetts respectively.

Striking Copper Miners to Vote on Settlement

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Approximately 1,450 production workers will vote Sunday on terms for settling a 45-day strike at the White Pine, Mich., copper mine, federal mediators said Thursday.

James Despins, commissioner of the mediation and conciliation service here, said tentative settlements was reached early Thursday between company officials and United Steelworkers in Chicago.

Names Liberty Week

LANSING (AP) "With freedom on retreat around the world, it is imperative that we never lose sight on our cherished birthright," Gov. George Romney said Thursday in proclaiming the week of Oct. 31 Liberty Week in Michigan.

Records Asia Quake

NEW YORK (AP) — Fordham University said a fairly strong earthquake was recorded on its seismograph today. The quake seemed to come from some place between Mongolia and the Kurile Islands north of Japan, the Rev. Joseph Lynch, seismologist, said.

WOMEN'S SECTION

When General Motors Girls' Club has its annual style show Tuesday evening, Eleanor Pearson of GMC Truck and Coach (standing) will be one of the models. Seated is Mrs. Jess Toles of Pontiac Motor Division, a committee member. Fashions from Peggy's Bloomfield Miracle Mile store will be shown at the Elks Temple.

GM Club Will Present 'It's a Woman's World'

"It's a Woman's World" says the General Motors Girls' club. That is the theme of the annual style show, scheduled for Tuesday evening in the Elks Temple.

Dinner will be at 6:30 p.m. with the style show at 8 p.m. Pontiac Motor engineering department members are handling arrangements and will serve as hostesses at the dinner.

A complete line of fall and winter fashions will be presented by Peggy's Bloomfield Miracle Mile store. Julie O'Brien, general chairman; and Marvin Barnett, owner of Peggy's, have arranged to have Girls' club members as well as professionals model the clothes.

MEMBERS TO MODEL

Club members modeling both casual and formal wear are Mrs. Barry Church, Mrs. Willard Crosby, Eleanor Pearson and Mrs. Hubert Robbins.

Assisting Miss O'Brien are Mrs. L. R. Woodley, Mrs. Crosby, Mrs. Kenneth Campbell and Diane Grader.

Mrs. Ivan Schram, president of the group, will be welcoming guests.

Tickets for the style show are available from members of the Girls' club and will also be available at the door. The affair is open to the public.

Proceeds will be used for charitable and educational purposes.

Mrs. Willard Crosby of Pontiac Motor Division, ticket chairman for the General Motors Girls' Club fashion show, wears a long black formal gown. She will model this and other clothes Tuesday evening.

Two Sorority Chapters Celebrate 62nd Year

The Oakland County Alumnae chapter of Delta Zeta sorority along with the Metropolitan Detroit Alumnae chapter, will celebrate Founders Day Oct. 24 at 12:30 luncheon.

All alumnae and collegiate chapters in Michigan have been invited to join the two chapters in celebrating their 62nd birthday in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

FROM OAKLAND

Mrs. Russell T. Costello of Bloomfield Hills will also be on the program as will be Mrs. Forbes S. Hascall, Mrs. George Betker and Mrs. William G. Walters, all from the Oakland County Alumnae chapter.

Mrs. Grace Mason Lundy, national director-at-large for Delta Zeta, will be keynote speaker. She was the first executive secretary of Delta Zeta and established the first national headquarters. She also served as the extension secretary and national president.

Irks Girl's Dad

He Has Shifty Eyes

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am not the kind of girl who goes against her parents' wishes, but in this case I think I have a right to.

I am 16 and this boy I like a lot is 17. He has come over to my house a couple of times and the very first time my father laid eyes on Jeff, he took a dislike to him, and here is the reason:

ABBY

Jeff is a shy boy and he doesn't look at you when you talk to him. I understand this and it doesn't bother me, but my father says there is something wrong with a person who can't look you in the eye.

It is a sign that he is dishonest. This is not true. Jeff is a swell kid.

He's an honor student, very polite and has never been in any trouble. Can you help me, Abby?

LIKES JEFF

DEAR LIKES: What your father says is generally true—but not always.

Many a cheat can outstare an honest person any day of the week if there is something to be gained by it.

Ask your father to get to know Jeff better and then make his judgments.

You can't always believe your eyes.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine wants to know why her husband always comes home drunk.

Her husband wants to know why his wife doesn't clean up her house. Maybe if each one knew what was bugging the other, their problems would be solved.

They both read your column. Can you help them?

FRIEND TO BOTH

DEAR FRIEND: It's a good bet that the husband has complained to his wife about her sloppy housekeeping long before he complained to his friends.

It's an oversimplification to say that maybe if she swept up, he'd sober up.

Troubled? Write to ABBY in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Feel Free to Attend Wedding

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I invited friends to come and spend their vacation with us. They will arrive in two weeks and will be here about 10 days.

In this morning's mail we received an invitation to the wedding of the daughter of very dear friends of ours.

The wedding will take place during their visit. We would like very much to go to the wedding, but I am wondering if it would be proper to leave them, or must we decline the invitation?

Please advise me as I have to reply soon.

A: As they will be spending more than a few days with you, it will be quite all right to leave them for part of a day to go to the wedding.

You must of course see to it that there is food in the house for them to eat and show them where to find anything they may need while you are away.

Q: Must the napkin be kept on one's lap at all times? I mean, is it ever permissible to hold it up higher in order to protect the front of one's dress from having something drip down the front of it?

A: If a portly figure prevents one from getting close enough to the table, it is permissible, while lifting food to the mouth, to hold a corner of the napkin up in front of one's dress to prevent food from dripping or falling down the front of it.

Q: I am accustomed to having a cup of warm milk before going to bed. I am a very poor sleeper and find this helps me sleep.

When spending a night or longer in someone's house, may I ask my hostess for a cup of milk before retiring?

A: It would be quite all right to ask your hostess if you may have a cup of warm milk, explaining that you find it helps you to sleep, and offer to go out to the kitchen to heat it.

Gardeners Convene

Mrs. Robert Alton, president of Pontiac branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Mrs. J. S. Sibley, Mrs. C. T. Ekelund and Mrs. Arthur Selden attended the state division council meeting in Grosse Pointe on Thursday.

Pontiac Press Photo

Reports from United Fund solicitors start coming in to Mrs. Russell Brown, Lynch Street, even before she gets breakfast out of the way. Mrs. Brown is district 33 chairman.

81st for Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson

The Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion will costar with Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson at her 81st birthday party tonight.

Renditions of the pavilion, site of the Meadow Brook Music Festival, will appear on Mrs. Wilson's card and cake and even on the dance floor itself.

The party, sponsored by Oakland University students, will be held in the residents' dining hall and Gold Room of the Oakland Center. The students annually honor the OU benefactress.

Mrs. Wilson's card bears the signatures of 1,500 students and a 40- by 60-inch rendition of the pavilion painted by John Marshall of Romeo whose son, John Jr., is a senior at the university.

SPECIAL CAKE

The cake, created by Ed Goodwin, manager of OU food service, bears a replica of the pavilion made by Dick Moore, OU maintenance supervisor.

In the dining hall, decorations will transform the dance floor and bandstand into still another replica of the pavilion.

Besides the card, Mrs. Wilson will receive a large bouquet of roses presented by Bob Linsenman, senior.

Margaret O'Reilly is student chairman. Others working on the party are Victor Jarsz, La Relle Ochs and Ed Marroso. Warren Covington's 15-piece orchestra will provide the music.

DEANNA LOUISE SATTERFIELD

Deanna Louise Satterfield, daughter of the William Satterfields of Ogden Drive, and Jon Sherwood Scott, son of the Sherman Scotts of Kalamazoo, plan December vows. He attended Western Michigan University where his fiancee is a senior.

Better Home and Garden Has New Club Officers

Twenty-five members of the Better Home and Garden Club attended the annual luncheon, Thursday, in Greenfield's Birmingham restaurant.

Elected to office for 1964-65 were Mrs. A. D. Stimer, president; Mrs. Alfred Rothweiler, first vice-president; Mrs. John Cowe, second vice-president; Mrs. Orrie Adams, recording secretary; Mrs. Walter De Nio, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harry Armstrong, corresponding secretary and Mrs. W. E. Campbell treasurer.

Mrs. Wallace Morgan, outgoing president, reported on the District I garden club meeting held in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The affair was sponsored by the Harper Woods Garden Club.

Weekend to Be Busy One

The Arthur Seldens of Sylvan Village will be spending the weekend in Port Huron with their son, Robert L. Selden.

Abram Chayes, former chief legal officer of the department of state under the Kennedy administration, will be the guest of honor at an evening party Saturday at the Franklin home of Mr. and Mrs. William Kahn.

Cohosting the evening party will be the Richard Barnards, with whom Chayes will be a weekend houseguest.

Chayes will speak in his capacity as program director of the National Lawyers Committee for Johnson - Humphrey under the local sponsorship of Women for Johnson, cochaired by Mrs. William T. Gossett and Mrs. Ben Mills.

Plan Project to Help Girls

Mrs. Russel Clark of Roseville, grand chief of grand temple, Pythian Sisters of Michigan, presented the year's project to members of Mizpah Temple, No. 7, as they met Thursday in Fellowship Lodge Hall.

The year's project is to send 32 girls to the children's camp at the Pythian Recreation center, Burt Lake next summer.

Participating in the Thursday program were: Mrs. Adelbert Ayres, Mrs. Claude Wiley, Mrs. William Cowie, Mrs. Rose Thomas, Mrs. Carol Reidling and Mrs. Elton Losey.

Galleries Show Contemporary Artists' Work

Three local galleries — the J. L. Hudson, the Donald Morris and the Franklin Siden — will be represented by the directors — Albert Landry, Donald Morris and Franklin Siden — who will select the best presentations from each gallery.

The work of some 36 artists will be on display at the exhibit scheduled to last through Nov. 8. The galleries will be open from 2 to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Fridays and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.

It will be closed holidays and there is an admission fee.

Pontiac Press Photo

Telephones to Ring for Area Fund

Some 1,500 telephones in the Pontiac area will be unusually busy today. These 1,500 telephones are located in the homes of solicitors, district chairmen, area chairmen and a women's campaign chairman who have volunteered their services for the 1964 Pontiac Area United Fund drive.

Solicitors in Independence, Orion, Waterford and Pontiac areas reported contributions to their respective district chairmen by noon today for the first report period.

Then this afternoon district chairmen in these four areas will relay their respective district totals to the area chairmen who, in turn, will pass this important information along to the campaign chairman.

If everything goes "like clockwork," the total report for the first period will be completed by 4:00 p.m.

This same procedure will be repeated next Wednesday and Friday for the second and third reports, and again on Oct. 26 when these same women will be making their final account.

By 4:01 p.m. on that day, the women's campaign chairman hopes to be able to report, "Goal accomplished; we've solicited our $31,698!"

Final results of the women's campaign will be announced at the victory luncheon to be held Oct. 28 at the Elks Temple.

St. Dunstan's Not Defeated by a Fire

The show must go on even if the playhouse burns. St. Dunstan's Guild of Cranbrook suffered the loss of its stage and great damage to the rest of the building in the early morning fire of Sept. 23.

Rehearsals for the first fall production, "The Moon is Blue" were already in progress.

They have continued and the play will have its premiere Oct. 29 at the Village Playhouse on Chestnut Street in Birmingham. Other performances are scheduled for Oct. 30, 31 and Nov. 1.

Starring in this comedy by F. Hugh Herbert is Pam Guest (Mrs. Edgar Guest III). With her in the male roles will be Bob Woodruff Jr., Garv Bawden and Marty Strandbergh.

Franklin Donegan is the director, assisted by Jackie Beavers.

Plan Wedding for November

Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Welch of Arrowwood Drive, West Bloomfield Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Roberta Lou to Barry J. Sims, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Sims of Stalwart.

Miss Welch and her fiance, who plan a Nov. 28 wedding, are graduates of Alma College.

Advantages in Both Checking Accounts

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

Will you please explain to me the relative merits of a special versus regular checking account.

I am presently using special checking, but find it expensive inasmuch as I bank about $800 monthly and use about 40 checks at 10 cents each during the month. Mistakes are costly, too, as a $3 charge is made for any over-draft.

Must a minimum balance be maintained in regular checking?

Mrs. J. L., Hampton Bays, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. L.:

The number of checks you write a month indicates that you may have a business, and that a regular checking account may well prove more logical for you. As a rule, a regular checking account does require a minimum balance, though some banks in your state do not.

The minimum specified may be from $100 to $1,000, and it may vary within the branches of any one bank.

Generally, the charge is six cents for each check paid, and three cents for each check deposited. The cost of postage to send monthly statements to depositors and the printing of checks must naturally be added to the monthly service charge.

So if you maintain a minimum balance and write 40 checks a month, the charges for a regular checking account could range from $2.50 to $3.60, with additional cost for postage.

You mention that you bank $800 a month — but the point is, how low is the balance in the account, on an average? If you'd have trouble maintaining the minimum balance, then you might be required to pay a service charge for that, too.

NO MINIMUM BALANCE

With a special checking account, you don't have to keep a minimum balance. Service charges often consist of a regular monthly charge, perhaps 50 cents, plus 10 cents or so for each check.

Incidentally, there are 23 different operations involved in cashing just one check, and therefore the expense to the bank is much greater than the average depositor realizes.

The best thing to do is to find out exactly how your bank handles regular checking accounts. One very real advantage of regular checking is that it can help you establish credit, whereas a special account can not.

When you give your bank as a business reference, it can verify the fact that you maintain a regular checking account.

Dear Miss Feeley:

Can you help me with my future household budget? I am getting married this month. My future husband's take home pay is $120 a week.

Our apartment is costing us $90 a month, all expenses included, and I would like to know how much I should spend for food, clothing, etc.

Also, I'd like to save as much as possible. Will you give me a suitable budget?

J. T., Somerville, N. J.

Dear J. T.:

You're fortunate to have found an apartment for $90 — which indicates you can reasonably set aside $50 a month for savings and insurance.

Use the following spending plan as a guide:

Rent, $90; household operating expenses, $18; food, $83; clothing, $45; savings, $50; personal expenses for both of you, $43; miscellaneous, newspapers, gifts, $25; medical, $20; recreation, $30; car operating, $50; Total, $454.

FURNISHINGS

This will allow you $62 a month to spend on furnishings for the apartment, which is the average percentage of the income a young couple should allow for this purpose.

Dear Miss Feeley:

It has become necessary for my sister-in-law, who will be a sophomore in high school, to live with my husband and me.

Her father has offered to support her, since we have recently purchased our own home and with a small baby, can not support her ourselves.

Could you please advise us as to how much money would be necessary to support her? Thank you.

Mrs. E. T., East Coast

Dear Mrs. T.:

I'd say a minimum of from $11 to $14 a week would take care of the basics. But where her clothes, spending money, entertainment, etc., are concerned, that must be decided as the situation progresses.

Why not explain to her father that you will be glad to start out on this basis, subject to change if necessary. You can figure that her food per week alone can cost from about $8 to $10.

Rosemary Seasons Simmered Chicken

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Broiler fryer chickens are always a good food buy nowadays. If you are ready for a new recipe, here's one from Mrs. Frank L. Townsley of Farmington. Her family loves it.

Mrs. Townsley's two children are both grown. She likes to try out new recipes.

SKILLET HERB CHICKEN
By Mrs. Frank L. Townsley

1 broiler fryer chicken, cut up (2½ to 3 pounds) flour
¼ cup salad oil
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
½ cup milk
1 medium sweet onion, sliced
½ teaspoon rosemary

Sprinkle chicken with monosodium glutemate and roll in flour mixed with a little rosemary. Brown in hot fat. Sprinkle with ½ teaspoon rosemary, salt and pepper. Add soup and milk and top with onion slices.

Cover and simmer about 30 minutes or until chicken is fork tender. Baste often. Serves 4.

You can prepare a delicious cheese spread by using soft cheddar cheese mixed with a little sherry or port.

Color is the Keynote of this diamond ring - body color so fine that it has a throbbing transparency. A rainbow of reflected lights, its brilliance is accentuated by the simplicity of the six-prong setting.

Dose of Work Therapeutic for Patients

NEW YORK — A dose of work has been found of therapeutic value in a Massachusetts State Hospital, reports "Medicine at Work," a publication for doctors.

The 1,200 mental patients were asked if they would help as an emergency staff in case of disaster.

Ninety per cent of openward patients said yes; so did 61 per cent of those in closed wards.

In a later civil-defense test, 200 of them worked serving meals, bathing other patients, carrying messages, guiding visitors.

The hospital superintendent said that in many cases the work helped contribute to speedy recovery.

We Recoil From Aggressive Affection

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I am 17 and need someone to help me. My parents have two old family friends.

I can't look at the husband without his winking at me. He is always putting his arm around me and calls me his "girl."

Several times lately he has asked me to go driving with him.

I am embarrassed to look at him because I know he will be winking at me.

ANSWER: And you are ashamed of your embarrassment, aren't you? You suspect that these winks, hugs and invitations express a sexual interest in you—and are horridly ashamed of this suspicion.

FEEL CONCEITED

It makes you seem conceited, nasty-minded and unfair to suspect sexual feelings for you in what may be just kind and fatherly affection.

Well, my dear, neither of us can possibly know whether or not this family friend's feelings for you are sexual. But we can know that whatever they are, his demonstrations of them make you uneasy and unhappy.

How about forgetting all about what he means by these hugs and invitations to trust the fact that you don't like them?

December vows are planned by Loraine Nora Baril, daughter of the Lionel J. Barils of South Francis Street and Simon John Kosnak, son of the George Kosnaks of Royal Oak.

Could you say to your parents:

"I don't like the way Mr. S shows that he likes me. I don't want his hugs, winks and invitations to go driving. I don't know what to do with them.

SUPPORT ME

So please support me if I remove his arm when he hugs me. And when I say to him, 'I am not going driving with you so please don't ask me to do so again. . .'"

You see, you are not conceited, nasty-minded and unfair to object to these attentions.

None of us want other people to force their affections on us, no matter how wonderful it is.

Unless we enjoy their demonstrations of it, they irritate us. And quite properly so. We know these affection demonstrators are not interested at all in what we feel toward them.

We sense the aggression in their pretense of affection—and recoil from it as we recoil from any other form of bullying that ignores our feelings to overwhelm us with its feelings.

Stop Dribbles With a Vest

If your child still dribbles but resents a "baby bib," try this device: drape a colorful fingertip towel around his neck as a "vest" and fasten it with a chain-and-clips sweater guard.

The towel can be used to wipe sticky face and hands after the meal, then laundered in hot suds.

Fringe Benefits

Shades of War Paint!

By MIRIAM NEAL

Deep in the jungles of the fashion world is glowing a new and serious threat to the male world.

Soft as velvet, sometimes glistening and colored every hue imaginable curve the lips of modern maidens.

Four companies have developed five new lipsticks as war paint for the woman warrior.

One introduces what it calls tawny-toned lipsticks — pink, coral, and rose — with a subtle touch of frosting that "imparts an extra-special glimmer to the lips."

DOUBLE WHAMMY

Another has come up with a double whammy. Besides developing a white and golden-hued case for the traditional colors of their wedge-shaped lipstick, they have developed two new colors.

Of the two new hues, one is described as a "smoldering earth-and-fire shade" designed to complement beige outfits warmed with coral or golden tones. It's called "baroque beige."

The other, "coco baroque," looks brown and is supposed to complement mauve, heather, cocoa and taupe.

More amber tones are seen from still another manufacturer. These, in swirl toned tubes, combine shades of beiges, tawnies, yellows and browns for "deep" color on the lips.

Last, and as yet not even on the market, is a new product created to form "an invisible barrier to prevent natural moisture from evaporating. It comes in 20 shades.

PERSONAL CARE

Whichever you try or if you decide to finish the 25 quarter-full tubes lying in the bottoms of purses, remember: Pretty lips depend on personal care.

To obtain them, give your lips a thorough cleansing every night before you go to bed. Gently massage them with two or three applications of cleansing cream and lightly remove with tissues.

If any trace of lipstick color remains, wash with a mild soap and warm water. Rinse thoroughly, pat dry and massage with night cream.

Always extend a thin film of foundation make up over your lips when putting on your face and use any of the new, "moisturizing" lipsticks.

Hubert Rips Goldwater 'Wrecking Crew'

Says Barry Would Ruin Agriculture

Humphrey, due to follow the Republican presidential candidate on the platform at the big farm event, said in his prepared remarks that Goldwater's votes in the Senate and his public statements "show one thing — the Goldwater wrecking crew is ready to roll. And the wreckage would be something to see."

He quoted Goldwater as having called for "prompt and final termination of the farm subsidy program" and added: "Imagine the empty stores — the empty cash registers. Imagine the farm foreclosures — the abandoned farm houses."

The farmers, he said, "had a trial run of Goldwater's final solution to the farm problem" under Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture in the Eisenhower administration.

'FARMS FELL'

Under Benson, Humphrey argued, "managed deflation of farm prices and income was the policy" and in the eight years from 1952 to 1960 the number of farms fell 25 per cent and the "total net income of the remaining farm operators fell 26 per cent."

"But," said Humphrey, "the leader of the Goldwaterites would make Benson look like a bush leaguer."

Thursday night Humphrey hammered on education issues at a Milwaukee rally and contended that Goldwater "refuses to face the facts" of education problems.

Humphrey said "Goldwater tells us he wants to go back to 'the good old days.' I remember those days of drought, dust, crop failures and depression — they don't bring back fond memories."

UNITED WE SAVE

The individual, Humphrey said, found he could not cope with the forces of drought and depression, "but united we could save — did save — America."

The people then, he said, approved the decisions to create the Tennessee Valley Authority, the Rural Electric Cooperatives "and the nationwide system of soil and water conservation which helped farmers preserve their land."

But Goldwater, said Humphrey, is seeking to persuade the country "to turn its back on the blessings that have flowed from our learning of the hard lessons of yesterday. Sen. old water would seek to repeal the past and veto the future."

Hypodermics Used as Toys

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP) — Police in this western Pennsylvania town say that at least six children of elementary school age "inoculated" each other with hypodermic needles they found in trash cans.

Police said Thursday the needles had been discarded by doctors after being used for flu injections. None of the children has suffered any ill effects. Police said it was doubtful the children actually inserted the needles under the skin and probably only made scratches on each other.

TURK'S TURBAN — Familiar with the smaller ornamental gourds, Mrs. H. E. Schneider of 2594 Pine Ridge Road, West Bloomfield Township, was astounded at the size of the Turk's Turban growing in her gourd patch. It measured 40 inches in diameter and was so heavy Mrs. Schneider had to fashion a cheesecloth hammock to keep it from falling off the vine. "Why, you could almost hear it growing," she said, "it grew so fast."

Lawn and Garden News

Trap Moles on Runways

Moles and ground squirrels—also known as gophers — can be a real nuisance to the green thumb set when they build runways in lawns.

Unfortunately, according to Charles Shick, extension wildlife specialist at Michigan State University, there is no simple method for controlling these pests.

The most effective means of eliminating the pests from small lawn areas has been trapping which requires time and patience. Several kinds of runway traps can be purchased at hardware dealers or garden supply houses to trap the mole which spends most of its life beneath the ground surface feeding on insects and earthworms.

Shick says the first step in successfully trapping moles is to locate active runways. All it takes is a step on the ridges over the runways found in your lawn. Ridges over active runways are generally pushed up again within 24 hours.

Traps can be set over several of the used runways. If a trap fails to catch a mole in a 24 hour period, reset over another active tunnel.

Ground squirrels can best be trapped just outside the entrances to their tunnels. They generally spend considerable time running in and out as they feed on tender plants, weed seeds, fruits, nuts, insects and earthworms.

Snap traps, the kind used for trapping house rats, are effective for ground squirrels, points out Shick.

Peanut butter, rolled oats and other grains are good baits.

Grow Vines in Window

If you would like colorful annual vines in your winter window garden, plant seeds now of morning glories and black-eyed Susan vine (Thunbergia).

Sow three seeds to a 4" pot. If all three plants grow sturdily, you can thin them to leave only one in the pot.

Before frost threatens, bring them indoors and grow them in a sunny, south window close to the glass.

The tsetse fly is a parasitic insect that lives only on blood. The fly becomes a dangerous carrier of disease after it bites an infected man or animal.

Some Annuals Prosper Indoors

Some annual plants may be removed from the garden with a ball of earth around the roots and potted for indoor use. Even if the plants are full grown, nasturtiums, small - flowered marigolds and flowering tobacco may be treated in this manner.

Water them thoroughly after potting and leave the plants outside in a partly shaded location for a week or more.

Then bring them indoors before the heat is on in the house. Place in a sunny window.

Water every other day, oftener if necessary, and you'll have flowers on the plants for many weeks.

Don't let snapdragons, sweet peas, violas or nasturtiums go to seed.

Dormant sprays are to be applied before the leaf buds have burst their casings.

Sansevieria Not Difficult House Plant

Sansevieria, a popular and hardy foliage plant, has about as many names as it has varieties and uses.

This house plant, with stiff, thick, sword-shaped leaves, is commonly called snake plant, mother - in - law tongue, lucky plant, and bowstring hemp, among other names.

It is ideal for busy or inexperienced indoor gardeners. It tolerates either sun or shade, requires water only when the soil is completely dry, and adapts well either to large or small groupings. And, its leaves may be curled to achieve an unusual decorative effect.

Sansevieria by any name has been popular for many years. This is because of its enduring qualities, its willingness to survive in dark corners, its need for minimal care, and its dramatic effectiveness in dish gardens, decorative planters, or as bold accent notes anywhere in a home or office.

In noting the many types available, there are golden and silver varieties with short leaves in rosette form, other varieties with upright leaves ranging from 6 to 36 inches in height, as well as plain and marbled varieties.

SANSEVIERIA

To curl sansevieria leaves, plants should be at room temperature with soil completely dry.

Repeat this several times to flex and soften the fibers.

* * *

Then carefully roll the tip end under and pin in place with a short length of enameled florist wire.

Winter Tender Bulbs in Vermiculite

Place the bulbs on a layer of vermiculite, cover with more vermiculite, and place down another layer of bulbs.

Start Composting Inedibles Now

What are you doing with the inedible parts of the vegetables you and your family eat every day in the week? Or the dead flowers you take from vases in the house for discard?

These odds and ends of plants might well be used to start a compost pile to furnish your garden with organic matter or you with the foundation of potting soil guaranteed to grow super plants.

While in the large garden such refuse may be piled on top of the ground in any out-of-the-way place, it is better in a small garden to dig a pit into which to throw these plant remains.

A cupful of any complete fertilizer sprinkled over a bushel basket of waste, six inches of plant remains covered with 1" of soil, an occasional soaking of the pile with the hose, and by next spring you'll have an inch of fine compost at the bottom of the heap.

Garden Center Welcomes Guests

Leland Gilmour will lead a discussion on "Planting Spring Bulbs" Monday at 1 p.m. in the Detroit Garden Center, 133 East Grand River. The public is welcome to attend.

On Wednesday from 10:30 a. to 2:30 p.m., Mrs. Frederick Mueller will demonstrate the construction of cone wreaths. There will be a charge of $1.00 for the workshop. Bring your own shears and sandwich. Coffee and tea will be served by the committee.

Such supplies as pinholders, oasis, wire, tape ribbons, wreath frames, artificial fruit and flowers and cones will be for sale. Non-members are welcome to join the Center at the workshop.

Cabbage should be harvested when the heads are solid, but before they have split.

TEASEL TREE — If you want a teasel Christmas tree, it's time to collect the teasel, says Mrs. Thurlin Cloud, 2310 Walnut Road, Pontiac Township. Be sure and gather this year's growth. The prickly seed pods will be a rich brown instead of the weathered gray of last year's. Protect yourself with heavy gloves and take along pruning shears to snip the stalks. It took two bushel of teasel to make the above pictured tree. Start with a chicken wire cone. Separate the teasel into similar sizes. Beginning at the base of the frame and working your way to the top, insert the teasel stems into the wire, the larger teasel with longer stems at the bottom. When finished, spray with green paint and trim with Christmas baubles.

Try 'Bulb Toss' for Natural Beauty

Bulbs to be planted in a naturalistic manner are best tossed up a few feet into the air, in a group, and planted where they land. For this, of course, use an individual planting tool like a bulb trowel — be sure it's not a weak one the neck of which will bend — or a bulb planter which extracts a circular core of soil and then lets you replace it.

Bulb Size Fixes Planting Depth

Generally you can gauge planting depths by the size of the bulbs. Little ones like crocuses, snowdrops, etc., are best planted about 2 inches deep. Big ones like daffodils are best set 5 or 6 inches deep (to the bottom of the bulb).

Tulips, again are the exception. Plant them deep, especially in light, sandy soils — about 8 to 12 inches is best. This discourages multiplication of the bulbs and results in more years of flowering.

The deeper you prepare the soil the better the bulbs do. If you can prepare it three times as deep as you plant the bulb, so much the better.

Also, plant all of one kind at the same depth so they will flower at the same time.

3¾ out of every 7 women in Detroit prefer the cleanliness and controllability of electric heat!

Now, if only their husbands knew the facts about the costs!

We'll be the first to admit that not all homes can be heated economically with electricity.

In many cases, however, electric heat really isn't expensive. And the many added advantages are usually well worth it.

After all, what other heat provides such even warmth from floor to ceiling? And what other heat allows you to control the temperature of each room individually? And what other heat is so clean?

We'd like the opportunity to prove what we say. If you're planning to build, or add a room, or perhaps convert the attic . . . call your Edison office. We can arrange to have one of our heating engineers give you or your contractor a free estimate—figure out how much electric heat will cost to install—and how much your monthly bills are likely to be.

Or, if you're not quite ready for that . . . send for our 20-page book on electric heat. It's free. And a great way to find out what electric living is really like!

Overcharge by Frenchmen Is Charged by Travelers

By EARL WILSON

PARIS — Now that it's over, how was it . . . your vacation?

If you were gouged, overcharged, double-charged, misled, deceived, insulted or taken advantage of by somebody in such a way as to spoil your vacation, now is the time to start squawking so it won't happen to you again next year.

You become conscious of this worry about vacations here in Paris where the French are more vacation-conscious than we are.

It was a bad year for vacations in France. The French hotels and restaurants were even cheating the Frenchmen. In previous years they seemingly limited themselves to cheating Americans. There weren't so many Americans around this year so they cheated their own people, and their own people rebelled.

WILSON

Angry readers wrote in listing their complaints. They mentioned that a restaurant, for example, charged one franc, about 20 cents, for a slice of lemon.

"For a franc, I could have bought several lemons and had enough lemon slices for a week," one complainant said.

There is the utmost confusion now in Paris, for the annual auto show glutted the city with travelers. The major hotels have their lobbies filled with people waving their fists which are clutching "confirmed reservations" which the hotels won't acknowledge.

And this offers more opportunity for gouging.

Comedian Marty Allen, the "Hello, Dere" guy, has a brother-in-law here, Fred Treidell, a Frenchman, who feels that everybody should carefully check a restaurant bill, making sure the addition is correct.

But he also gets back the menu in checking it, to make sure the waiter has charged him the price listed on the menu. You see, he's very cynical.

And he squeals with glee when he finds he's being gouged.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN NEW YORK . . .

Liz Taylor and Richard Burton were given an enormous reception on their arrival in Paris, with 15 gendarmes on hand to protect them. Film publicist Morgan Hudgins — who handled Grace Kelly's wedding — says the Burtons' welcome was the biggest turnout of press and the biggest crush of people he ever saw.

Darryl Zanuck, his dtr., Susan and her husband Andre Hakim attended the wedding reception of Zanuck's protegee, Irina Demick, in Paris, to wish her luck. Would Irina, who wed a wealthy Swiss, give up pictures?: "Well, when I have a baby, maybe yes."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Knowledge is power — if you have it about the right people." — Anon.

EARL'S PEARLS: Henna Arond Zacks suggests a slogan for the Beatles' hairdresser: "Remember the Mane."

Jack Benny says he saw the new TV ratings, and adds: "I'm so happy about them, I feel 38 again." . . . That's earl, brother.

Accreditation Is Renewed

Hospital trustees were informed last night that Pontiac General Hospital has been approved by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

Hospital administrator Harold B. Euler reported that the hospital had received three-year renewal of its accreditation.

In other business, formal resolutions were approved for two employes for their actions during a recent small fire at the hospital.

Euler said that Charles Riley and Mrs. Mabel Morgan acted quickly when the fire broke out and possibly prevented a disaster.

Riley, 105 East Strathmore, had the fire nearly out by the time firemen arrived.

QUICK ACTION

He used a hand extinguisher, while Mrs. Morgan, 4749 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township, quickly closed windows to prevent the fire from spreading.

Waterford Board Approves Selling of School Bonds

Sale of $2 million in school bonds has been approved by the Waterford Township Board of Education.

The bonds are the remainder of the $6.25 million bond issue for school construction approved at the polls in June, 1963.

The bonds were sold in two sections of $1 million each with low bidders awarded the contract in both the 25-year and the 3-year term sales.

Community National Bank was low among five bidders for the 3-year sale with an average interest rate of 2.407229 for a total interest cost of $33,300.

John Neuveen Co. of Chicago was lowest of six bidders for the 25-year term sale with an average interest of 3.4609 per cent and a total interest cost of $469,412.

2 Men Rob Gas Station

Two men staged an armed holdup of the Tulsa service station, 701 S. Saginaw, yesterday at 8:10 p.m. and escaped with $40 in cash.

The two fled south on Woodward in a 1960 dark blue Ford with an Ohio license plate, Shaver told police.

New College Gets 2nd Loan

OK $10,000 Advance for County Institution

A second loan of $10,000 in lieu of tax receipts has been approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission for Oakland County's community college.

The latest loan brings borrowed funds to $20,000 so far. The college has not yet begun receiving revenue from a one-mill countywide tax levied this year.

A state appropriation of $415,560 has also been awarded the college from a $4-million state fund for junior and community colleges.

In other business Thursday, the college board hired Richard Perry, 44, of 94 Manor, Birmingham, as a research assistant for three months.

Dr. Tirrell, reported that despite the lack of classrooms the college has had at least 20 applications from students.

Khrushchev Era Passes, but His Impact Will Live On

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK — Now the era of Nikita Sergeyevitch Khrushchev passes into history. But its impact and influence will live on for a long time.

Whatever comes after him, the imprint of Khrushchev is indelibly stamped upon the Soviet system.

The world will require generations to assess the full meaning of the Khrushchev years. But the world will not soon forget the round, stubby man who generated whirlwinds that rocked the world Communist movement and shattered fixed concepts on both sides of the cold war barricades.

Khrushchev was a 20th century phenomenon, a realist in a vast sea of nonrealism, a man whose politics was the art of the practical in a nation where practicality long had been virtually an offense against the state.

AN ICONOCLAST

As a ruler, Khrushchev essentially was an iconoclast: A destroyer not only of idols but of entrenched notions. He dismantled the hero-image of Stalin, but he also routed the image of striped-pants diplomacy. His was a rough and tumble world in which polite niceties were swept aside.

Once at the top, the former coal miner from Kalinovka had an enormous impact on the course of the global political war.

Because of Khrushchev, the Soviet Union—and the United States—eventually came to wage cold war on three fronts instead of two. Because of him and his instinctive Great Russianism, communism became polarized into two contending camps.

Because of Khrushchev, Communist China may become the chief exporter of violent revolution to other parts of the world. Because of him, the whole pattern of alliances in the world one day may be radically changed.

FATE SELECTION

Perhaps it would have happened under another leader, but fate and the exigencies of Soviet politics selected Khrushchev. It seems likely that because he was in control, the changes were swifter than they might have been.

The rise of Khrushchev appeared largely accidental. When Stalin died, his nervous heirs seemed constrained to adopt a sort of mutual protective arrangement to insure against a new and equally terrible tyrant taking over.

Georgi M. Malenkov became premier, Khrushchev emerged as first secretary of the party. The designation of first secretary, rather than Stalin's title of general secretary, seemed to indicate that Khrushchev would not have the power over the party that Stalin exercised.

But Khrushchev's innate realism and practicality soon came to the fore. As first secretary he carefully built a political machine of lower echelon secretaries and party central committee members. He shocked both the world and the Soviet Union with a speech scorching Soviet farming as a disgrace. He showed a facility for blaming others for his own mistakes and getting away with it.

PASSED BLAME

He did that to Malenkov, blaming him for the state of Soviet agriculture although in fact Khrushchev himself had been identified with the tinkering which made a mess of Soviet farming.

Malenkov was ousted in 1955 with a confession of failure, and goateed Nikolai Bulganin became premier, but Khrushchev by then obviously was the top man in Soviet policy.

It was he who engineered the gambit by which four-power occupation of Austria was ended. It was Khrushchev who produced the Warsaw Pact, a Communist alliance to counter NATO and the remilitarization of West Germany. But it was also Khrushchev who produced the first summit conference which spawned the short-lived "Spirit of Geneva."

It was Khrushchev who directed the boldly dramatic reconciliation with Tito's Yugoslavia, which had been condemned to a Communist purgatory by Stalin. It was Khrushchev who thrust Soviet foreign policy forcefully into South Asia and the Middle East. But it was also Khrushchev who, step by step, enraged the Chinest Communists.

RADICAL TURNABOUT

Khrushchev directed radical turnabouts which paid little heed to the shock waves being sent through the world Communist movement. But on the cold war front, the boldness invariably was tempered with cautious assessment of Soviet weakness and possibilities of catastrophic consequences.

Khrushchev's boldness was dramatically illustrated by his sudden denunciation of Stalin's memory at the 20th Soviet Communist congress in 1956. Khrushchev had been a Stalin protege and had served him through the purges. But anti-Stalinism offered a weapon to neutralize prospective opponents. It would be popular with the ranks in the central committee, now Khrushchev's own political machine. It would be popular with the people.

De-Stalinization also brought ferment and trouble in the satellite empire and played an important part in triggering the Peking-Moscow feud which shook communism around the world.

But Khrushchev's stock in trade was a bag of shocks: The ouster of old Bolshevik stalwarts as "antiparty," the backing away from dangerous crises in the Middle East, the careful withdrawal from confrontation in Berlin, the retreat in the Cuban missile crisis.

ANGRY ROAR

No polished diplomat, Khrushchev roared when he was angry, whether he was a guest abroad or a host at home. When he was crossed, he threatened. He intimidated, he cajoled, he scattered earthy and often vulgar peasant sayings as he blustered about the world, sometimes with a show of buffoonery, sometimes with thundercloud mien, sometimes with the condescending air of kindly, backwoods grandfather.

Under Khrushchev, the Soviets rocked the world by sending up Sputnik I, the first artificial earth satellite. From then on, Khrushchev's cold war campaigns were a mixture of promises of peace through disarmament and a brandishing of sputniks and missiles.

Through it all, Khrushchev remained a professed believer in world revolution. He gave every evidence of believing devoutly in the ultimate world triumph of communism.

Yet, instinctively, Khrushchev seemed to be a Great Russian even before he was a Communist. He wanted to build the Soviet economy into a mighty weapon and the Soviet nation into a backyard he and patriotic Soviets could view with pride. Then the Soviet Union would be ready to "save" the rest of the world.

TIME CONCEDED

That, Khrushchev conceded in 1961, would be a matter of at least 20 years, while the U.S.S.R. was catching up with the United States and while it was "building communism." That was all right with the Soviets, apparently, but not with the Communists—like the Chinese—in have-not nations or in revolution-laden areas, anxious to see Red power take over in their own time.

Essentially, Khrushchev's peaceful coexistence policy was one of "make haste slowly." The impatient Communists denounced it as capitulation. To the Chinese he became "the greatest capitulationist of all time."

It was this Soviet-first impulse which had the most telling impact on world politics. Khrushchev did not surrender the Soviet claim to be the leader of the world revolution. He did not surrender the notion of violent revolution anywhere in the non-Communist world. He did not surrender the determination to foment and support such revolution. But the watchword consistently was caution.

In the breathing space that resulted, the ferment of change could be detected clearly in the Soviet Union and in some of the Communist nations of Europe. The urge for a better life obviously was exerting great pressure. It was changing communism.

Gambling? No Dice

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—When you think of Las Vegas, what comes to mind? Gambling? Well, it shouldn't.

Not according to the Clark County Fair and Recreation Board.

Adman Jack Melvin asked the board Tuesday to approve a billboard design showing a rainbow leading to a pot of coins. Under the rainbow appeared the words: "Las Vegas."

This implies Las Vegas is associated with gambling, said one member.

"This would be all right for people who are coming here to play," said another, "but for families, and kids and . . ."

ANOTHER CREATION

The board rejected the layout, then turned around and accepted another Melvin creation that carried this caption: "Everyone is going to Las Vegas." It showed a green dinosaur—with pink spots—carrying a suitcase.

No. 1: Husband Is Boss

Rules to Keep Wife Happy

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — "Dear Pavement Plato:

"Recently I married a wonderful girl after a long period of bachelorhood. There is much cynicism today about marriage, but I really want to make a go of mine.

"Will you please tell me the rules for keeping a wife happy?

"Sincerely, Timorous."

BOYLE

Dear Timorous:

My boy, I am afraid you started by asking the wrong question. It is no more possible to keep a wife always happy than it is to keep a horse always hopeful or an alligator always in ecstasy.

BEYOND EARTH

There are some things that are simply beyond the realm of earthly accomplishment.

What I think you really have in mind is, how can a man keep his wife interested enough in him so that she'll stick with him as they climb the agony ladder of this old world in reasonable harmony and content.

Here are a few rules that, as a sensible man, you will find useful in dealing with your wife:

START RIGHT

The things a woman wants to boss are men and money. Let your wife know from the start she cannot boss you.

Let her boss 80 per cent of the family income instead. Nothing except having a baby makes a woman feel more important than paying bills.

Never explain what you do with the 20 per cent of your income you keep for yourself. It'll puzzle her the rest of her days how one man could spend so much — and have so little to show for it.

Wives like to open packages more than they care what's inside them. So bring her home many inexpensive presents each year, but only one that really strains your pocketbook. The big one is for her to show to her friends, the others just for her to know that you thought of her often.

MAKE COMPLAINT

Even though her own cooking tastes like it had been prepared by someone wearing boxing gloves, whenever you take her out to a restaurant be sure to complain about the food — and tell her how much better it is at home.

Never admit to her how much fun you have at the office. Tell her it's awful there. A wife is afraid of having her husband enjoy his work too much; she doesn't mind if he suffers at it.

Always listen to your wife. — for her sake.

Wives don't mind so much if you don't obey their orders, but they can't stand it not to be at least heard.

Rarely, if ever, argue with her. It will only mean you will have to listen longer. And never strike her, at least before witnesses. The best way to chastize a woman is by silence. She is punished more by your disapproval than by your anger.

RETREAT SLOWLY

Give up your bad habits slowly. If she makes you perfect too soon, she will become bored with her victory.

Never put your hat on while kissing her goodby in the morning. Always leave her with the warm memory of both your arms around her.

Those are time-tested rules for marital success, my boy, if you follow them and fail to reach your golden wedding anniversary together — well, maybe you picked the wrong girl.

Perhaps she'd rather be married to a mouse than a man.

The United States Passport Office estimates that more than one million Americans will have visited Europe the first nine months of this year.

The Height of Gratitude

EAST LANSING (AP) — Martha Sibal wants to invite her airline stewardess to her wedding Oct. 24 in East Lansing.

That's because Virginia Straka of Jackson Heights, N.Y., was the first to know of Miss Sibal's engagement. Her fiance, Roy Gunderson, popped the question on a flight from Chicago to Phoenix, Ariz., last March 26, to visit Gunderson's parents.

Miss Sibal wrote the Airline (American), saying the plane was at 31,000 feet and "I think my altitude left 31,000 feet way below us."

Miss Straka's excitement "spread to everyone, from the captain who came out to extend his best wishes, to the other stewardesses," Miss Sibal said.

Avon Resident Killed in Crash

Macomb County sheriff's deputies said that Sam Kennedy of 3731 Orchardview, apparently did not pay attention to the train's whistle and tried to cross the tracks, going westbound on 23 Mile Road.

Engineer Ivan D. Meade, 59, of Royal Oak, told police he saw the car approaching "coming pretty fast" and threw the train into emergency stop.

None of the 400 passengers aboard the train was injured.

Kennedy's body is at the William R. Potere Funeral Home, Rochester.

2 $300 Fires in City Today

A fire at 12:13 a.m. at the house of Raymond Pitts, 664 Parkwood, caused an estimated $150 damage to the building and the same amount to contents. Firemen said that clothing hung to dry near the furnace caused the fire.

Damage of $50 to the building and $250 to contents was estimated in the 12:19 a.m. fire at the Gibralter Lodge No. 19, 338 Wessen. Firemen cited careless smoking as the cause of the fire.

St. Louis Takes Finale, 7-5

Cards Use Timely Hitting, Yank Errors in Series Win

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The New York Yankees hit most of the home runs. The St. Louis Cardinals got most of the timely hits.

The American League champions lost their pitching ace, Whitey Ford, after the first game, with an arm injury that was kept secret until the final game. The Cardinals' pitching ace, Bob Gibson, performed brilliantly in an iron-man role.

This, in a nutshell, is why the Cardinals are the champions of baseball today after having won the seventh and final game of the World Series from the Yankees 7-5 Thursday.

This is why the Cardinals maintained their unblemished record of never having lost a full length World Series.

It was their fifth such series victory, their seventh in 10 post season classics and their third in five head-to-head meetings with the Yankees.

WHOOP IT UP

And now the victorious Cardinals and the near capacity crowd of 30,346 at Busch Stadium whooped it up after Gibson had ended the game by disposing of Bobby Richardson on a oft popup to second baseman Dal Maxvill.

Trumpets blared, horns tooted, partisan St. Louis rooters shouted themselves hoarse and hundreds poured out on the field as the deliriously happy white-uniformed players jumped all over each other.

The players embraced Gibson, who had literally pitched his arm off with only two days rest. They hugged Manager Johnny Keane, who finally had a world championship after 27 years of managing. They hugged Ken Boyer, whose big bat had been instrumental in all three run-scoring innings. They hugged Maxvill, the utility infielder who had done such a fine job filling in for the ailing Julian Javier.

They hugged catcher Timmy McCarver, the Cards' most consistent and outstanding hitter in the series. They hugged Butch Yatkeman, the little clubhouse man, who has been with the club longer than anybody else. They hugged each other.

It was the biggest day the city of St. Louis has enjoyed since they last won a pennant and a World Series in 1946.

All six previous games were wrapped up in Thursday's finale. As before, the Yankees hit more homers, made more errors, while the Cards got the timely hits and took advantage of the enemy's lapses.

The Yankees slammed three home runs, by Mickey Mantle, Clete Boyer and Phil Linz. But they committed two errors and were guilty of other loose play which does not show in the box score.

The Cardinals, on the other hand, hit two home runs — by Lou Brock and Ken Boyer — but erred only once and played daringly, aggressively and smartly. They out hit the Yankees by only 10 to nine, but turned seven of their hits into runs.

Rex Triumphs in 400-Meter Hurdles Event

Detroiter Henry Carr First in Qualifying; 42 Medals for U. S.

From Our Wire Services

A pair of track stars from the state of Michigan, Rex Cawley of Farmington and Henry Carr of Detroit, led the U.S. track forces through finals and qualifying rounds of the World Olympics at Tokyo yesterday.

American marksmen also added to the growing U.S. horde of Olympic hardware pushing the United States total to 42 medals—19 gold, 11 silver and 12 bronze.

The 24-year-old Cawley, who had been troubled by a leg ailment through the first two rounds and couldn't find his footing on the first seven hurdles, straightened out on the way home and won the 400-meter hurdles in 49.6 seconds, the sixth straight time a Yankee runner had taken that particular Olympic title.

Carr, who holds the world record for the 200 meters, ran eased up in his heat and finished second in 21 seconds flat, easily good enough to advance, but well off his 20.2 record.

MOVES UP

Paul Drayton of Cleveland made the best showing of the American 200-meter men, winning his first heat in 20.7. Dick Stebbin of Los Angeles also advanced, though finishing second behind defending champion Livio Berruti of Italy.

Medal Winner Job Hunting

TOKYO (AP)—Anybody got a job opening for an Olympic gold medalist?

If so, contact Warren Rex Cawley of the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, winner of the 400-meter hurdles at the Tokyo Games.

"What am I going to do now?" the crew-cut timber topper asked Friday, fondling the shiny gold medal that he won in his first Olympic effort.

"I'm going back and start looking for a job," said the graduate of Farmington High School.

Cawley said that, although he's majoring in marketing at Southern Cal, he wants to be a television or radio announcer.

"This medal may open some doors," he said, "but it's not going to put any money in that envelope."

Troubled with a sore leg ever since he came to Tokyo and once fearful he might not be able to compete, Cawley put on a powerful late burst to beat out John Cooper of Great Britain and Salvator Morale of Italy, the world record-holder.

The race itself, Cawley said, wasn't as taxing as the period just preceding it.

"The tension of competing in the Olympics is indescribable," the 24-year-old hurdler said.

"Two hours before the race you do everything but climb walls. The pressure bears heavily on your mind and saps your strength. I was no nervous I couldn't stay still.

"Then once the gun goes off, the dam breaks and the tension eases, I didn't see anything but the tape."

STAYS FIT

"That's tommyrot—greatly exaggerated," he said. "If you're well trained and in good condition, the race itself is a breeze. At least, I think so. It's the period before the race that really gets you."

Cawley, son of a tool and die maker, grew up in Farmington, Mich., where he started running his last year in high school after being cut from both the football and basketball squads before he got a chance to show what he could do.

It was at Farmington that he got his name "Rex."

"We had three Warrens in my sixth grade class and the teachers weren't inclined to call you 'Mister Cawley.' So one of the guys got tagged 'Ace' or 'Spike' or something, and I wound up as 'Rex.'"

PART COMPANY — Yesterday St. Louis Cardinal manager Johnny Keane (left) and owner August Busch celebrated the World Series championship but this morning they parted when Keane announced his resignation as field manager in a letter which was actually written September 28th.

HITS THE TAPE—Rex Cawley of Farmington hits the finish line at the end of the 400 meter hurdles in the Olympics to win in a time of 49.6 seconds. He was troubled with a leg injury in the semifinals. John Cooper of Great Britain was second and Salvatore Morale of Italy was third.

Keane Quits as Manager

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Johnny Keane resigned as manager of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals today.

In a letter which was to be handed to August Busch, president of the Cards, and written Sept. 28, Keane said:

"This is to submit my resignation as field manager of the St. Louis Cardinals effective as of the last championship National League game, whether it be the end of the regular season or at the end of the World Series.

"I want you to know that I have enjoyed working for you since you have owned the Cardinals, as well as the many years I spent within the organization prior to that time."

Keane denied reports that he would take the managerial job at Pittsburgh, vacated by Danny Murtaugh. There also has been some talk that Keane could wind up in New York as a coach and heir apparent to Mets Manager Casey Stengel.

It was not known immediately where Busch would seek a new manager, but he did talk to Leo Durocher, former manager of the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers, while the Cardinals were still battling for the pennant.

Keane seemed to be headed out late in August as the Cardinals were running fourth in the pennant race, a whopping 11 games back.

They began to close ground at the end, reeled off eight consecutive victories at one point late in September and eventually clinched the pennant on the last day of the season.

The Cardinals then wound up the successful comeback Thursday by beating the New York Yankees in the seventh and deciding game of the World Series.

In the final days of the season Busch offered Keane a new contract. But Keane told the Cardinal club owner he would not make a decision until the end of the season.

Keane's position as manager had been shaky ever since General Manager Bing Devine was fired Aug. 17 in a hassle with Busch. Devine is now assistant to the president of the Mets, George Weiss.

Leafs Take 5-3 Verdict

Wings Lose in Debut

By JERE CRAIG

Ted Lindsay was noticeable by his presence but Bill Gadsby was also noticeable by his absence as the Detroit Red Wings made an unsuccessful debut Thursday night.

A record opening night Olympia Stadium crowd of 14,323 roared a welcome back to the 39-year-old ex-National Hockey League great, but the Wings dropped a 5-3 verdict to the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Perhaps spurred by the long, deafening ovation for Lindsay in the pregame introductions, the two teams opened their attacks and fought to a 3-3 tie in a hectic first period.

More of the same appeared in the offing when Toronto's Ron Stewart scored at the 44-second mark of the second stanza for a 4-3 lead.

The Maple Leafs, who defeated Detroit four games to three for the Stanley Cup last April, then tightened their defense in front of goalie Johnny Bower.

When Ron Pulford's hard shot from beyond the blue line got past goal tender Roger Crozier of the Wings with Toronto shorthanded in the first minute of the final session, the die was cast for a lack-lustre closing period.

CONSERVATIVE

The Maple Leafs then contented themselves with conservative hockey that had the Red Wing attackers struggling to organize their offense.

When Al Langlois (fighting) and Doug Barkley (hooking major) drew five-minute penalties in the first 10 minutes of play, only rookies Gary Bergman and Bob Wall, plus veteran Marcel Pronovost were available for the back line.

Andy Bathgate (6:42) and Red Kelly (9:54) scored with the Leafs having a man advantage. Langlois made a solo dash down the ice to narrow the deficit at 12:13, but Don McKenney pushed Toronto up 3-1 28 seconds later.

The Leafs encountered penalty trouble in the latter stages of the period and Red Wing power play tallies at 16:48 by Floyd Smith and at 17:56 by newcomer Ron Murphy tied the score. Gordie Howe assisted on both of them.

But mistakes by the defense and inept work on offense generally hampered the home team thereafter.

The Wings missed golden opportunities to tie when Howe and Murphy both hit the goal post behind Bower late in the second period on close-in shots.

Lindsay showed surprising speed and bounce on the ice in short stretches of work until he received a 10-minute misconduct following a holding penalty midway through the game.

He had three shots on goal, and once was robbed by Bower who played a strong game. The matter had 39 saves to 25 for the sometimes shaky Crozier.

Defenseman Kent Douglas also sparkled for the Leafs, getting four assists.

Long Ovation

Crowd Cheers Ted

It was Ted Lindsay night at Olympia last night — unofficially.

The popular firebrand came out of retirement to the cheers of a capacity crowd which greeted him with a thundering roar.

It began when the Red Wings skated out to be introduced for the opening game ceremonies. When the announcer spoke his name and the all-time high scoring left winger skated out, the ceremony stopped.

Wearing No. 15, instead of the familiar No. 7 which he carried into the rink battles for years, Lindsay stood with head bowed as the cheers continued for more than two minutes.

Before the game was a few minutes old he was on the ice in a power play teaming with old linemates Gordie Howe, Alex Delvecchio.

He promptly was thumped by Leaf defenseman Tim Horton who got a sharp elbow dig in return for his greeting.

GETS SHOVED

In the goal mouth scramble, Lindsay fell against the side of the net pinning Leaf goalie Johnny Bower. Bower gave "Terrible Ted" a shove and earned a two minute penalty.

Lindsay made the trip to the penalty box in the second period when he lost his stick in the scramble and was playing without it. Referee Vern Buffey gave him the gate for holding and added a 10 minute misconduct when Lindsay chose to debate the call. He was also fined $25.

Coach Sid Abel used Lindsay on power plays, which were frequent in the penalty riddled game, on the fourth line, but spared him penalty killing chores.

He toiled there for three years before retiring after the end of the 1959-60 season.

Lindsay has been keeping in playing trim for some time as the Oldtimers game showed last year. Teamed with Howe in that frolic he looked better than some of the current Wings.

How long the 39-year-old veteran can survive the NHL battles and be effective remains to be seen, but used sparingly he should be helpful.

As a crowd pleaser he lost none of his charm for Detroit Red Wings fans.

Yankees Fall to Cardinals

five base-runners against Gibson. They failed to take advantage of an error by shortstop Dick Groat that filled the bases in the second.

TWO DAYS REST

Mel Stottlemyre, the young rookie right-hander, also working with just two days rest, kept pace with Gibson for three innings.

In the fourth, however, he was betrayed by a teammate and the Cardinals quickly took advantage to pile up a 3-0 lead.

There were runners on first and second with nobody out when McCarver hit a potential double play grounder to Joe Pepitone. The first baseman's throw to Linz forced Groat but the shortstop's relay sailed past Pepitone and Boyer scored on the error.

Mike Shannon followed with a single and there were runners on first and third with one out.

Then came the play that proved to be the turning point of the game. With Maxvill at bat, the Cards successfully pulled off a double steal, McCarver scoring.

BAD THROWS

A pair of errant throws by catcher Elston Howard and second baseman Richardson made the daring play work. It also put Shannon in position to score the third run on a single by Maxvill.

"I didn't see McCarver break for the plate," Richardson later explained. "If I'd seen him, I would have moved in 10 feet in front of the bag and McCarver would have been out by 10 feet."

Oddly enough, as Manager Keane disclosed later, a double steal had not been intended.

"It started out as a hit-and-run and ended in a double steal," said Keane. "Richardson, a smart player, guessed it and that's why he wasn't on the base in time to take Howard's throw. He was moving to his left when Maxvill swung but Dal missed the ball.

"By the time he retraced his steps and got to second it was too late to tag Shannon. McCarver ran on the throw and caught Richardson by surprise."

The Cards stretched their lead to 6-0 in the fifth. Southpaw Al Downing had replaced Stottlemyre by then and was routed in an awful hurry. He made only four pitches. Brock hit the first one for a home run. Bill White slammed the second for a single and Ken Boyer drove Downing's second serve to him for a double.

3-RUN HOMER

Mantle's homer with two mates aboard in the sixth cut the Cards' margin to 6-3 but St. Louis added another in the seventh on Boyer's third hit of the game, his second homer of the series.

Berra's Sure of Pilot Post With Yankees

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra expressed confidence today he would be retained for his second term as manager of the New York Yankees despite their seven-game World Series defeat by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Yogi was scheduled to meet with club President Dan Topping today to discuss his status.

"I think I did a good job," he said, "and I'm looking forward to managing again next year.

"I said when I got the job last year that I would quit if I felt I could not manage.

"I don't know what the front office, or the writers think, but I feel I did well."

Berra signed a one-year contract last October at a salary of $35,000, which amounted to a cut from his $50,000 as a player coach the year before. He said nobody had talked to him about next year.

"I'm ready to sign, if they ask me," he said.

Old Hat Takes Spinster Race

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Stanley Conrad's Old Hat scored a one-length victory Thursday in the $58,800 Spinster Stakes, boosting her contention for handicap mare-of-the-year honors.

Jockey Don Brumfield, Keeneland's leading rider, held the 5-year-old mare slightly off the pace until the turn for home, then gave her the nod that she needed.

The filly is owned by Harry Nichols of Bloomfield Hills.

Old Hat was timed for 1⅛ miles in 1:48 2-5, one second slower than the track record held by Round Table.

Old Hat, second choice in the betting by a whisker, paid $4.80 $2.20 and $2.20. Miss Cavandish, as favorite, paid $2.20 and $2.20 and Time for Bed returned $2.20.

The winner of the Spinster, one of two weight-for-age races in America, has been named filly or more of the year in six of the eight years the race has been run.

J. L. Rotz sent Time for Bed out of the gate first and ran head and head with Old Hat for a quarter-mile. Brumfield put Old Hat on the rail as the field turned into the backstretch and held in second position until he had entered the turn for home.

Jockey Howard Grant took Miss Cavandish into third position but fell two lengths behind and found the disadvantage too much to make up.

Pitcher Spahn Rejects Offers by Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP)—General Manager John McHale announced Thursday that the Milwaukee Braves' great left-hander, Warren Spahn, rejected three nonplaying jobs with the organization next season.

McHale quoted the 43-year-old Spahn as saying he feels he can still win as a starting pitcher in the major leagues and eventually could be a major league manager.

The general manager said that before the end of the season Spahn was given his choice of one of three jobs for 1965. They were commentator on radio and television, pitching coach of the Braves' minor league system and manager of one of the Braves Triple A farm clubs. He refused all three.

Spahn, who has had 13 20-game seasons, had a 6-13 record in 1964. His entire major league career has been with the Braves, first in Boston and then in Milwaukee.

Fisher Body won the trophy last year and the team is returning to defend its title.

Other teams in the tourney are Michigan Bell Telephone, Pontiac Businessmen, Community National Bank, Pontiac Motor Division and GM Truck and Coach.

Select PPK Winners at Four Local Sites

Winners in the annual Punt, Pass and Kick contest were named in the area this week by participating Ford dealers.

At Wisner field where 578 boys started competition two weeks ago, the local finals were held this week and among the McAuliffe Ford winners were Cary Forton (age 8); Scott Follis (9); Stanley Kinney (10); John Kent (11); Charles Moncrief (12) and Gregg Hackett (13).

Others of top three in each division included: Gordie Nelson and Tom Rocheleau, age (8); Ray Emsley and Mark Thornserry (9); Bill Pack and Steve Vaughn (10); Joe Guilleau and Mark Inglesbee (11); Herb Larson and Steve Hoffman (12) and John Flores and Gordie Kendrick in 13-year-old class.

In Birmingham, Fred Breidenbach was 8-year-old winner, Mark Milac took honors for 9-year-olds and Rod Culp for 10-year-olds.

Bob Brown, winner at the ages of 9 and 10, won this year among the 11-year-olds, while James Hagan took the 12-year-old title and Howard Lang for 13-year-olds.

At Walled Lake in the Shuman Ford contest, there were 140 boys competing.

Tribe Nears Decision on Moving Proposal

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians board of directors were expected to decide today whether the Tribe will remain here or move to another city.

The directors will receive from club President Gabe Paul a report on his recent trip to Seattle, Oakland, Calif., and Dallas. The three cities have indicated the Indians are welcome.

The directors met at 12:15 p.m.

Team Meets Texas

Arkansas After Upset

By the Associated Press

Arkansas has readied a hostile Marshall Plan for Texas and Phil Harris, a leader of the nation's top-ranked football band.

Southwest Conference supremacy and the Longhorns' 15-game winning streak are among the stakes in the collision of unbeatens at Austin, Tex., Saturday night.

If the eighth-rated Razorbacks' hopes for a major upset are to be realized, quarterback Freddie Marshall is the key.

Texas wingback Harris makes the Longhorn power sweeps go with his blocking but also is a ball carrier with a 5.4 yard average, the team's leading receiver and the deep man on kicks.

HEAVY ACTION

Amid a heavy concentration on conference action this weekend, Ohio State's No. 2 Buckeyes play host to Southern California in the nationally televised headliner. And UCLA, still reeling from the thumping administered by Syracuse, tackles fourth-ranked Notre Dame.

Florida State, 10th in the latest poll and owner of the stingiest major college defense against scoring — 1.5 points per game — meets Georgia of the Southeastern Conference. The Seminoles stunned Kentucky 48-6 a week ago.

Ohio State is eager to avenge a 32-3 loss to USC a year ago which knocked the Bucks from the unbeaten ranks they now occupy again and spelled the worst beating in the 14 years of Woody Hayes' direction.

UCLA is running smack into the best rushing defense in the land at Notre Dame, 22.7 yards a game yield, and a top defensive eleven which has surrendered only two touchdowns.

In the SEC, third-ranked Alabama invades always-tough Tennessee without star quarterback Joe Namath, who received a twisted knee against North Carolina State.

Louisiana State, just beginning to find the end zone with its new flanker offense, goes against a Kentucky team out to prove it can bounce back from the Tallahassee murder. The Wildcats are 2-0 in the circuit along with Florida compared to 'Bama's 3-0.

Florida has a nonconference date with South Carolina.

Fifth-ranked Michigan draws the Big Ten's best defensive club, Purdue, in one of several major battles. Defending champ Illinois, fighting for survival in the race, takes on Minnesota and surprising Iowa invades Wisconsin.

31 Drivers Slated to Qualify Today

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Thirty-one drivers were scheduled to qualify today at Charlotte Motor Speedway for the $60,000 National 400 stock car race Sunday.

Rain forced postponement of the second day's qualifying Thursday.

Richard Petty of Randleman, a Plymouth driver, holds the pole position for Sunday's race. He set one lap and four-lap records Wednesday as 12 other drivers also made the line-up.

Petty won the pole with a four lap average of 150.711 miles per hour, a record for the 1½-mile closed course.

Pennsylvanian Raises Mark at Indianapolis

Raiders Duel Boston Team in AFL Tilt

By The Associated Press

The recharged battery will be Cotton Davidson and Art Powell tonight in Boston where the Oakland Raiders and the hometown Patriots open the American League football weekend.

Davidson replaces quarterback Tom Flores in the Raiders' bid to win after five defeats. Boston will try to recover from its first loss last weekend.

Other AFL games include Houston at New York Saturday night and undefeated Buffalo at Kansas City and Denver at San Diego on Sunday.

Davidson, in his ninth year as a pro, has a better passing record than Flores, a .500 average on 98 throws, for four touchdowns.

Flores has thrown for two touchdowns and completed 40 of 92 passes. Powell is the favorite receiver for both Oakland throwers, ranking third in the league with 26 catches and one touchdown.

About a year ago this time, the Raiders were down 2-4 in the standings, then caught fire and won their final eight.

Trotters Take Over at Jackson Track

JACKSON — Some of the classiest trotters on the grounds will hook up here tonight when eight standardbreds go postward in the Motor City Invitational at Jackson Harness Raceway.

Racing secretary Don Roberts has brought together most of the standouts in the recent Royal Oak Trot and the Spartan-Wolverine Invitational for a mile assignment in the eighth race.

In the Royal Oak race recently, Imperial Lady outlasted Janet Lynn in the final strides and in the Invitational trot last Friday, Durango Kid beat Seth and Noble Boy in a driving finish.

Wolverine Unit Prepares for Purdue

Michigan Star Medal Winner in Olympics

matched the world record a day earlier, won the women's 100-meter dash in 11.4, two-tenths of a second over her record.

Edith McGuire, a teammate of Miss Tyus at Tennessee State, was second.

The United States was shut out in the 800-meter run, however, but that was not entirely unexpected. Nw Zealand's Peter Snell, the world record holder, won it for the second straight time. His time was an Olympic record 1:45.1.

The U. S. women's 400-meter medley relay team also made it into the finals, but the Russians provided a surprise, breaking the old U.S. Olympic mark with a time of 4:39.1 in winning their heat. The U. S. was timed in 4:41.6.

PENTATHLAN

In the women's pentathlon, Pat Winslow of San Matto, Calif., held sixth place after three of the five events. Miss Winslow totaled 2,790 points. Russia's Irma Press led with 3,245.

The U.S. Greco-Roman wrestling team suffered its third defeat when Pat Lovell of Redwood City, Calif., lost to Boyan Radev of Bulgaria on a foul.

But Wayne Baughman of Oklahoma City, Okla., picked up the United States' second triumph, defeating India's Ganpat Andalkar on points.

BASKETBALL

The U. S. Olympic basketball team, apparently feeling the pressure of an ever-extending winning streak, had considerable difficulty before subduing Yugoslavia 69-61 Friday for its 43rd consecutive victory.

Coach Hank Iba admitted earlier in the tournament that the all-star aggregation was beginning to feel the pressure of maintaining American prestige in the sport. The United States has not lost a game since basketball was added to the Olympic program in 1936.

While the United States was having trouble bringing its record at the Tokyo Games to 5-0, Russia also was having trouble winning No. 5 against a small Japanese team 72-59.

SWIMMING

Miss Sharon Stouder, a 5-foot-8 blonde schoolgirl in Glendora, Calif., High School, broke the world record with a time of 1:04.7 in winning the women's 100-meter butterfly.

It was the second gold medal for Miss Stouder, and her third of the Games. She also has a silver medal.

The men's 400-meter medley relay team smashed another world mark, the ninth swimming mark that has been set, and provided the United States' 11th gold medal in swimming with a victory in 3:58.4 before a jam-packed house in the National Gymnasium.

Squad Tuning Passing Game

Michigan Ranked 5th Among College Units

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Continued fine running and a passing attack that will click if it is needed are Michigan's aims as it prepares to meet Purdue Saturday.

The fifth-ranked Wolverines stayed mainly on the ground in winning their first two games.

But they resorted to a passing attack, backed by a wealth of receives, in nipping Michigan State last week.

Like MSU, Purdue has been a nemesis for Michigan.

Two of the Boilermakers' four victories in the 17-game series have come in the last two years.

STILL NO. 1

Quarterback Bob Timberlake, survivor of a tough fight in the pre-season drills to remain the No. 1 signal-caller, appears on the way to making his senior year his best.

He leads the team with points scored with 16, has gained 149 yards on the ground — second best on the team—and has completed 23 of 43 passes attempts for another 319 yards and one touchdown.

The expected return to top form of Jim Detwiler, who was held to minus one yard in seven rushes against MSU, Rick Sygar and Carl Ward are other factors which give the Wolverines reason to hope that the offense will be even better.

Michigan has recorded 38 first downs rushing to 16 for the opposition and gained 707 yards on the ground while holding its opponents to 237.

Pass defense has proved a weak link in the Michigan alignment but most of the passes completed against it have been for short yardage.

Purdue (2-1) showed a rugged defense against Wisconsin last week and is expected to present a formidable challenge to Michigan's strong game.

Boilermakers halfbacks Gordon Teter and fullback Randy Minniear have gained respectively, 194 and 104 yards.

The Wolverines have three players besides Timberlake who have gained more than 100 yards. They are fullback Mel Anthony (187), Detwiler (148) and halfback Carl Ward (140).

Great Mephisto Listed on Wrestling Program

The Great Mephisto will battle El Gaucho in the main event on the Saturday night professional wrestling card.

The ladies will also make an appearance. Belle Starr is scheduled to wrestle Mona Baker. Another match on the four-bout card has Joe Matti meeting Johnny Gates.

The first bout will get under way at 8:30 p.m. at the National Guard Armory on Water Street.

Crippled MSU Off to Indiana

EAST LANSING (AP) — A badly-crippled Michigan State football team limped down to Indiana today to meet the hard luck Hoosiers.

Both teams are in the second division of the Big Ten. Indiana is the basement team after losing to Northwestern, Ohio State and Iowa. But two of the losses were by only one point and the Hoosier loss to powerhouse Ohio State was only by one touchdown.

State, after losing to North Carolina and upsetting Southern California, suffered key injuries both in the line and backfield in the 17-10 defeat by Michigan.

Four sophomores will be in starting positions, mostly because of crippling injuries.

Two home-grown footballers will be given their first chance to start at offensive guard. Jerry West of Durand will play left and former fullback Gary Rugg of Battle Creek will work at right guard.

Gene Washington, the end import from Texas, has been a sophomore starter all season.

The Spartans trotted through a last, brief drill on home grounds Thursday night. The 38-man team was to fly to Indianapolis, then bus to Bloomington today in time for a look at the Hoosier Stadium.

Pistons Set for Opener With Philly

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Detroit Pistons could climb to the top of the National Basketball Association's Western Division, or they could slip to the bottom depending on the outcome of their season opener tonight against the Philadelphia 76ers.

The Pistons-76ers contest is the season opener for both clubs and no other Western Division team has played yet.

Detroit will present a bevy of new players, including Terry Dischinger, Rod Thorn and Don Kojis who were picked up during the off-season in trade with the Baltimore Bullets for veterans Bailey Howell, Don Ohl, Bob Ferry and rookies Les Hunter and Wally Jones.

Coach Charley Wolf said he would start a lineup of Ray Scott and Dischinger at forward, Reggie Harding at center and Thorn and Donnis Butcher at guard.

Only Scott was in the starting lineup last year when the Pistons opened with a 124-121 win over the 76ers.

Even if they knock off Philadelphia, the Pistons shouldn't be in first place long. On Saturday night they travel to Boston to play the World Champion Celtics.

Detroit's first home game is Wednesday night against the San Francisco Warriors.

Swim Program Opens in Pontiac Tomorrow

Children from 29 schools in the area will be on hand tomorrow for the opening of Operation Waterproof, a swimming program for fourth-grade pupils.

The 10-week program was initiated by Dr. Lee Haslinger, city director of physical education, following a survey which indicated parents wanted swimming instruction for the pupils.

The swimming sessions will be held at Pontiac Northern and Pontiac Central. Four sessions are scheduled for each school tomorrow, the first getting under way at 8:30 a.m.

Dr. Haslinger has requested that parents accompany the children to the first class to fill out required forms and pay the registration fee of $8.

Dr. Haslinger said the children should have bathing suits and towels and girls should have bathing caps.

Horse Racing Returns

Six stakes races, climaxed by the $150,000 Washington, D.C. International, will be held before the meet closes Nov. 12. There will be no racing on Oct. 20.

Milford Enjoying Gridiron Uprising in W-O League

Chiefs Travel to Bay City; PNH Unit Has Home Date

An improving Pontiac Central takes to the road tonight in search of its first victory of the season, and Pontiac Northern will try to snap a three-game losing streak in a home date at Wisner Stadium.

Central has failed to dent the win column in four tries against Saginaw Valley Conference foes, but the trend could be reversed when the chiefs invade Bay City Handy (0-3-1).

Handy and PCH have a common weakness — an inability to push the ball across the goal line.

Both have scored but one touchdown in four outings, so the game could turn into a battle of defenses.

Moving to defense, PCH rates an edge. Against Midland, Handy dropped a 26-0 decision. Chiefs, 8-0.

FLINT ROMPS

Pontiac Northern (1-3) will try to get its offense in gear against a visiting Mount Clemens (1-2-1) eleven.

The Huskies have scored only one touchdown in four games and collecting points against the Mount Clemens defense may be a rough assignment.

The Battling Bathers have one shutout and have given up only two TDs a game in losing to Birmingham Sehalom and East Detroit and battling Port Huron to a draw.

Other games on the Friday slate have Roseville at Waterford, Farmington at East Detroit, Seaholm at Berkley, Ferndale at Royal Oak Kimball and Hazel Park at Southfield.

Redskins' Last Title in 1951

West Bloomfield Foe in Game Tonight

The Skins have been a peaceable unit in the past few seasons, but signs of restlessness have been reported by scouts of enemy squads in the Wayne-Oakland League.

The last time the Skins went on the warpath, they forced Northville to share the league title. That was in 1951.

Since then, Milford has been a relatively easy conquest for the other W-O elevens. Until this season, that is.

They were tumbled in the opener of the 1964 campaign by Avondale, 13-0, but then reeled off three straight victories and hold the top spot in the W-O race.

TITLE IN SIGHT

Unless they run into an ambush, the Skins will win their remaining five games, win the W-O title with a 7-0 record and finish with an over-all mark of 8-1.

It's a big chore, one which begins tonight at always-dangerous West Bloomfield.

Other games around the circuit have Brighton at Holly and Clarenceville at Clarkston. Bloomfield Hills was slated to take on Northville in an afternoon contest today.

Milford has a few scores to settle with the Lakers. Since 1951, West Bloomfield has ran up an 8-5 record against the Skins.

Milford handed the Lakers a 26-20 setback last year, breaking a five-game losing streak in the series, and the Skins are favored to make it two in a row tonight at 8.

WELL-STOCKED

The Redskins are well-stocked with offensive and defensive personnel.

In four outings, they have given up 19 points and ripped the opposition for 110. They posted shutouts over highly-touted Holly and Clarkston and yielded a single score to Brighton.

West Bloomfield (2-1) has not fared so well. The Lakers have scored 49 markers and given up 60.

Kettering Takes Tri-County Aim

Kettering will turn one of the flashiest halfbacks in Oakland County loose tonight in a bid to pick up some ground in the Tri-County League race.

The Captains take on Oxford on the Wildcats field at 8 p.m. and they will be looking for their fifth win of the season.

The speedy Captain halfback is Jim Haviland, a 170-pound senior who is the team's leading candidate for All-State honors.

Haviland was sixth in the Oakland County scoring race last year with 84 points. He currently ranks third in the scoring column with 42 markers after four outings.

Coach Jim Larkin and the Captains will be gunning for their second league win and a victory could put them well on the road to a championship.

SHARED TITLE

Kettering dumped the Wildcats last year but was forced to share the title with Oxford after losing to Lapeer.

The Wildcats and coach Walter Braun will be trying to end a three-game losing streak. The Cats nipped Clarkston for their lone victory in the season opener.

The Cats have come out on the short end of the score in two meetings with Kettering and Braun and his charges would also like to see that streak ended.

Another game in the loop finds Lapeer (1-0-1) visiting Romeo (0-2). L'Anse Creuse is idle.

Pilot Decision Near for Bucs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — General Manager Joe L. Brown of the Pittsburgh Pirates said Thursday night in a television interview he expects to name a new manager within five days or a week.

Brown said he had a candidate in mind but declined to say who he is. Brown emphasized strongly that the job has not been offered to Manager Johnny Keane of the St. Louis Cardinals, who won the World Series Thursday. There had been a published report that Keane was offered the job.

Some baseball figures reportedly considered as a replacement for Danny Murtaugh, who resigned for reasons of personal health, were Larry Shepard, manager of the Pirates' farm team at Columbus, Ohio; Leo Durocher, who recently resigned as a Los Angeles Dodgers coach; Don Hoak, former Pirate third baseman; Mickey Vernon, who was a Pirate coach, and Johnny Pesky, former Boston Red Sox manager.

Exhibition Sunday

Soccer Game at Wisner

Two top area soccer teams will pair off at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in Wisner Stadium for an exhibition match as part of the Pontiac School System's Olympic Sports Development Program.

The game will feature Sport Club 24 from Cass Lake and St. Basil's of East Detroit. Sport Club 24 is the oldest soccer team in Michigan, dating back to 1924. It finished third in the Detroit Soccer League.

St. Basil's has consistently fielded strong teams in the Michigan-Ontario Soccer League and this past season finished in the runner-up position.

Soccer fans in Pontiac will have the opportunity to see some outstanding players in action. St. Basil's manager, Jacob Mueller, was one of Michigan's all-star goalkeepers for a number of years and now plays in the field.

One of the best soccer players ever to play in Michigan, Gil Heron, will act as one of the officials. Heron formerly played in Scotland for the Glascow Celtics.

The soccer game is being promoted by the Department of Physical Education, Athletics and Recreation with the cooperation of Gordon Preston, public relations director for the Detroit Soccer Company.

The game is open to the public and there is no charge for admission. Both participating teams are donating their services to promote soccer in this area.

Royals Drop Dayton Cager

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bill Chmielewski, former Dayton University basketball player, was released Thursday by the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association.

The Royals said they had placed the 6-foot-9 Chmielewski on the waiver list.

Chmielewski indicated, however, he may return to his native Michigan and try out for the Midwestern Basketball League. Chmielewski, 22, never finished school at Dayton, and was drafted by the Royals last season.

Ice Coaches Wanted

There will be an ice hockey coaches' meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Birmingham Municipal Ice Rink, Eton and Lincoln.

Anyone interested in coaching a boys' hockey team in the city Recreation Department, please attend the meeting. Tryouts for the teams will begin Nov. 28.

Orchard Lanes 11 Posts Sixth Touch Decision

Orchard Lanes downed Tom's Bar, 54-6, last night for its sixth win of the season in Pontiac Men's Touch Football League.

In other games, Motor Mart Bandits routed the Zephers, 35-0, and the Packers nipped Emmanuel Christian, 7-6.

Bill Herrington tossed three TD passes and scored once to lead Orchard Lanes. Chuck Graves snared two scoring passes and Don Kahl caught the other.

In Waterford action, the Castoffs downed the Ravens, 18-0, and the Dusters tripped the Wildcats, 12-6. The Nerds won a forfeit decision from G. L. K. in Waterford flag football.

Bob Anderson, recently cut loose by the New York Giants, was the star in Army's last football victory over Navy, in 1958. The score was 22-6.

PNH Harrier Unit Halts Walled Lake

Pontiac Northern ran its record to 7-1 with a win over Walled Lake yesterday and Pontiac Central runners placed second in a triangular cross-country meet with Saginaw Valley Conference foes.

Northern was led by Nick Ochoa with a time of 10:18, followed by Tim Kaul (2nd), Bob Burch (4th), Dave Kay (5th) and Dave Pruett (6th). Mark Karrell ran third for the losers.

Saginaw socred 29 points in trimming PCH (43) and Saginaw Arthur Hill (56).

Central's Bill Hollis remained unbeaten as he grabbed individual honors with a time of 10:29.

Mentor Loses Even if Team Posts Victory

He takes the Eagles into Avondale tonight for an Oakland A contest, and no matter who wins, Crowell loses.

The game is sort of a Homecoming for Crowell. For 12 years, he guided the Avondale team, compiling a 50-55-6 won-lost record.

He moved to Madison this fall as athletic director.

So it's understandable why the mentor is on a spot.

A PROBLEM

He wants the Eagles to win, and at the same time, he would like to see Avondale prosper. But not against Madison. A tie would help.

Madison (1-2), the pre-season favorite in the loop rates an edge over the Yellow Jackets (1-2).

Other games on the schedule have Warren Cousino (1-2) at Lake Orion (0-3) and Troy (3-0) at Fitzgerald (2-0-1). Clawson (2-2) defeated Rochester (2-1-1) in a contest Wednesday.

The bowlers who have been trying to overcome the redhot bowling of George Chicovsky in the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America Eastern Michigan All-Star Eliminations at Flint may finally get some help.

"Chico" roared through the 36 qualifying games to post a 7744 total, better than a 215 average, while leading 12 men into this this weekend's head-to-head finals.

The likeable Pontiac kegler has been going at a terrific scoring pace since acquiring a new ball; but he may be in trouble this weekend.

Chicovsky is suffering with an inflamed appendix. He still bowled 672 Monday night and tomorrow will attempt to continue his bid for a berth in January's National All-Star at Philadelphia.

Regardless of whether he can continue or not, "Chico" will enter a hospital next week for treatment.

Pontiac bowlers Mike Samardzija Jr., Larry Crake, Joe Puertas, Peg Carter and Shirley Pointer all qualified for this weekend's finals. Samardzija and Mrs. Pointer were second in their respective fields.

Puertas, also, has physical troubles and my not be able to finish his bid. A calcium deposit has produced an inflamation on his left elbow.

The women's division was led into the finals by Flint's Jeanette Robinson. Three men and two women will qualify fo the nationals.

SPARE PINS

Pontiac's John Bennett continues to bowl well in the Detroit Teen Prep Classic Sundays at Troy's Thunderbird Lanes. He had a 259 game last Sunday and holds the season high series with 649 while carrying a 199 average.

The boys in the teen-agers' classic must maintain a 140 average. Currently the 14-team circuit has openings for four boys. Interested individuals should contact Don Buchanan at Thunderbird.

The Professional Bowlers' Association tour has ended for awhile and Pontiac's Monroe Moore has returned home, ready to open a pro shop at the New Gold Crown Lanes in Troy.

The county's newest 24-lane house is managed by "Mo's brother Archie.

This is an American Junior Bowling Congress organization formed by the GDBA, and the Detroit and Pontiac women's bowling associations.

The PBA's plans for a trip to Australia this month for two tournaments have been canceled. Unsuitable seating capacity at one of the two proposed sites was given as the reason.

Keg Vet Aims at Dollar Lead

AKRON, Ohio — Veteran Harry Smith of Baltimore has taken dead aim on the money leading race of the Professional Bowlers Association.

One of the old pros of the touring professional keglers, Smith won his second PBA title of the year last weekend when he captured the $4,000 first prize in the $30,000 Las Vegas PBA Open.

Smith has now won $24,812 for the year, and is gaining on both Billy Allen of Orlando, Florida and Billy Hardwick of San Mateo, California, both of whom failed to cash at Las Vegas. Allen has won $28,188.33 to Hardwick's $27,677.50.

BOWLING

Monday night's Classic League action had a 222-268-245 735 by Larry Crake and a 211-276-213—700 by Doug Swords.

This marked the highest night for the league in three years. "300" climbed within four points of league leader Cooley Lanes.

Another 700 was recorded in the West Side Monday morning Inter-Plant League when Bob Reese bowled 278-253—722.

Huron Bowl, meanwhile, listed a 3159 team series by Fontana Brothers last Friday in its Classic circuit. Jim Rutkowski's 234-236—693 and Bill Stobart's 673 paced the effort.

HIGH MAN

Individual high honors, however, went to Skee Neal of 300 Bowl who rolled 277—716. Fontana and Farm Maid Dairy both were eight-point winners.

There was a 211-213—606 by Joe Green of the Columbia Avenue Baptist Mixed League Saturdy night at Airway Lanes; and the Airway Wood Splitters Sunday had a 213—601 by Chuck Leneschmidt.

Last Friday's Airway action featured John Latimer's 233—615 bowling in the Kings and Queens circuit. Fran McCallum hit 210—523.

Monday's Airway Mall League had a 245 by Bill Elliott of the J. L. Hudson squad. Another Saturday night report listed Jack (202) and Joyce (205) Osborn as tops in the Fun Niters' action.

That same night at 300 Bowl, the Ins & Outers loop credited Joe Turcsak with 213-204—614 and Ray Brancheau with 204-201—603. Steve Kives had 214 and Virginia Brancheau 204—539.

Montcalm Bowling Centre's Marimont Baptist Church League was led by E. A. Lundeen's 241 Saturday. Floyd Bartley bowled 227.

Sunday night Mixed League bowling at East Highland Recreation featured Irene Long's 517 and Jim Brock's 208, which was 100 pins over his average.

The Primrose Lanes Saturday Morning Boys League saw Norm Stites hit 210—513 and Larry Seurynck 212.

Shirley Ward had a 185 all-spare game last week in the Lakewood Lanes Housewives League.

Karl VanDeMoortell stood out with 220—620 and Jim MacIntosh fired a 235 in Tuesday 300 Bowl House League action. Marie Reynolds had 221—544 in the 300 Bowlers loop that same night.

Wednesday's Pontiac Motor Inter-Office circuit was paced by Joe Gaines' 232; nine men had games of 200 or better. A 209 by Bev Hudson topped the St. Joseph No. 2 League.

Angels Buy Pitcher

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Angels have purchased right-handed pitcher Bobby Locke from the Philadelphia Phillies for an undisclosed price.

A spokesman said Thursday it was an outright cash deal.

DRIVER IN THE DRINK — Craig Breedlove set a land speed record of 526.26 miles an hour yesterday in Utah, but his Spirit of America jet car wound up in a canal. The car skidded out of control after the record run when parachutes, designed to slow the car, failed.

Avoids Injury in Crash

Driver Sets Record in Jet Car

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — "What a way to die," Craig Breedlove thought as his jet-powered car headed for a crash after reaching a speed of 539.90 miles per hour.

But he didn't die. He wasn't even hurt.

His car finally slowed down and nosed into a salt water pool on the western Utah salt flats Thursday.

"I'm all right baby, what's the speed?"

CLIMBS OUT SAFE

Those were his words to the first person who reached him after he climbed out of his car and got to dry land.

His speed was 539.90 m.p.h. on that run.

During his first run he was clocked at 513.33. The average speed, which goes down in the books as the record, was 526.26 m.p.h.

The 28-year-old Californian thus became the first man to drive a car over 500 m.p.h.

His three-wheeled vehicle is considered a special in the international motorcycle class. The keeper of international records for cars requires four wheels.

And there's some debate on the jet-powered cars anyway, because the engines do not drive the wheels directly with a drive shaft.

But technicalities aside, Breedlove's Spirit of America is the fastest land vehicle on wheels and he's the fastest driver on wheels.

On his second run Thursday he reached 539.90 m.p.h. over the measured mile. Two runs, going and coming, are required for a record.

THROTTLE'S DOWN

He throttled down and released one of the parachutes which helps slow down the car.

"It ripped to shreds," he said, "I was going too fast.

"I coasted a couple of miles before trying the second 'chute, but it was still too fast. It also ripped to shreds."

The brakes didn't help much, either. Breedlove estimated he was going 350 m.p.h. when he came to the end of the 10-mile track.

"I thought I was dead," he said, "And I thought, 'What a way to die'."

The 38-foot, J-47 jet-powered car hit two telephone poles three miles later, skidded into a dike and into 18 feet of water.

His canopy had been broken by the crash of the utility poles, so he was able to get out and swim 15 feet to the bank.

Pro Injury List Grows

Crippled Eagles Meet New York

By The Associated Press

It's bad enough to have your back to the wall but Coach Joe Kuharich of the Philadelphia Eagles hardly has any backs at all.

Running backs, that is. And with an important National Football League game coming up Sunday against the Giants in New York, Kuharich is desperately trying to scrounge up a healthy backfield.

Halfback Timmy Brown is definitely out. Israel Lang, flanker back Ray Poage and reserve fullback Tom Woodeschick are doubtful. That leaves Ollie Matson and Earl Gros to handle the running chores, with Red Mack, just off the injury list, the probable flanker.

KEY GAME

A key Western Conference game finds Green Bay at Baltimore, with the Packers needing a victory to stay in the race. The Colts, with a 4-1 record, lead Detroit, with 3-1-1, and the Packers, who are 3-2. A Baltimore victory would leave Green Bay two games off the pace with eight games left.

The Packers' Paul Hornung and Fuzzy Thurston are doubtful starters, but two injured defensive specialists are ready to return to action.

Hornung suffered a pinched shoulder nerve in last Sunday's victory over San Francisco. Thurston has a shoulder injury.

Coach Vince Lombardi said that if Hornung cannot play, he will be replaced by Tom Moore but Lombardi did not say what he could do about replacing Thurston.

Offensive guard Jerry Kramer has been lost apparently for the season because of abdominal surgery.

READY TO PLAY

Other games have Detroit at Chicago, 2-3; Cleveland, 3-1-1, at Dallas, 1-3-1; Washington, 1-4, at St. Louis, 3-1-1; San Francisco, 2-3, at Los Angeles, 2-2-1, and Pittsburgh, 3-2, at Minnesota, 2-3.

Two members of the Cleveland Browns' defensive unit—tackle Frank Parker and back Ross Fichtner—are very doubtful and Dallas probably will have to go without Don Perkins, the league's top ground-gainer. Perkins suffered torn rib muscles last week.

Washington expects to be at full strength with the return of guard Vince Promuto and linebacker Bob Pellegrini but St. Louis defensive end Joe Robb reinjured stomach muscles in a Monday night game and is doubtful.

Tennis House Being Built at Area Site

At a cost of $250,000, an indoor tennis club, known as Bloomfield Tennis House, will be built on East Maple road between Crooks Road and Coolidge road in Troy.

Completion date for the all-steel clubhouse is set for Jan. 1, 1965.

The semi-private club is being built by area tennis enthusiasts headed by Glenn Friedt, Jr., Mrs. Webster Buell of Birmingham, Wyndham Gray, Milwaukee sportsman and real estate developer and Don Brown, tennis pro at Pine Lake who will serve in the same capacity of the new club during the winter.

Two other clubs, similar to the Bloomfield Tennis House, will be built, one in Grosse Pointe and the other in Detroit.

Membership will be limited to 400, and membership fees for the new club on a partial winter basis, will vary from $40 for individual men to $75 for families, plus court fees.

Milford Ace Leading

Ward, a 160-pounder, was held scoreless in his first two outings, but in the Skins last two games, he has racked up 54 points and stands at the head of the Oakland County scoring ladder.

The speedster tallied five touchdowns while Milford was routing Brighton two games ago, 54-6, and he added four more against Clarkston last week.

Stimulating Student Interest Is Difficult

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

DR. NASON

Dear Dr. Nason: I have an eleven-year-old son who reads beyond his years. He has just started the sixth grade. He reads, absorbs and recalls the reading at the eighth grade level. However, in school his teachers say he does not apply himself sufficiently to understand the work of his grade. How can we help him develop the necessary application to his own school work? They have him in a special literary class. Mrs. D. U., Los Angeles.

One of the most difficult problems for educators at large is stimulating youngsters who are working below their innate capacity. Actually, at this age I think one would have to work with the youngster himself and get him interested.

Evidently, learning the material doesn't take his full attention and he has time to play with something else. He can make a game of this thing, and see how close he can come to doing perfect work. Point out to him that there is more to getting high scores than just learning the material.

He is going to have to learn to discipline himself. There are many things he will have to do in school before he gets out of college just because they need to be done.

He can start developing that discipline now. Get him started doing it himself and give him encouragement. You might offer small rewards for progress.

Dear Dr. Nason: In your column you seem to indicate there is no substitute for a good start in learning, and that you can't start too early. Am I understanding you correctly? S. S., Pomona, Calif.

Yes, you are! Let me tell you the story of a child in the first grade who was learning to read and who got a stomach ache every afternoon at the time he was to begin. The teacher asked, "Why do you get a stomach ache every day?" she asked. "Why do I have to read and find three answers? Why can't I just say 'yes' or 'no' to some questions?"

The teacher said, "Well, you're going to have to learn to read and to understand what it says. If you don't try, you may get a stomach ache every day for the rest of the year!"

And so he read carefully.

He was a fortunate little boy. Every child doesn't have a teacher who is wise enough to insist and he may go all through life with careless reading habits. The habits a child acquires in the first grade or even preschool and kindergarten may stay with him all the rest of his life.

Dear Dr. Nason: What baffles me is that a number of persons with a good educational background (two to four years of college) and experience seem unable to obtain jobs in line with their education. I am not speaking of doctors, lawyers, etc.

Nor am I referring to people with exceptionally high averages who could well compete with highly trained persons. I am just talking about average people.

In the fields that you point out, two to four years of college are not sufficient by themselves for the jobs of teaching and administration that would bring the higher salaries. In these fields, personality, background of experience and drive sometimes outweigh educational factors.

"I sure wish I hadn't opened this piece of cheese," muttered North as he spread his hand on the table.

JACOBY

South did not answer. He was going to have enough trouble playing the hand, and he saw no reason for small talk.

He won the first trick in his hand. He had to. He entered dummy with the king of clubs and led the queen of spades. East played the five and South played the nine in order to retain two low spades in his hand.

Had West won with the king, South would have had no further troubles, but West played the deuce. If South had led another trump he would have fallen into West's trap, but South was too smart for that.

He realized that clubs was the key suit, and it had to break 3-3 in order for the contract to make. Therefore, he cashed dummy's ace of clubs and ruffed another club with his ten of trumps.

The queen and jack of clubs fell nicely, and now only one more bit of careful play was necessary. South led his three of spades toward dummy's eight-seven. This gave up all play for seven, but it insured six and South was delighted to bring home the slam.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Emphasis on harmony. Avoid clashes. Turn on ARIES charm. Make others feel you do care. In return, you will be more than pleased. Your sense of drama comes to fore tonight.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Good for paying, collecting debts. Also excellent for giving special attention to CREATIVE ACTIVITY. Keep mind open to suggestions, new ideas. Key is accomplishment.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20): Cycle continues high. You have chance to show off versatility. Tonight you are center of attention. Knowing this, be aware of appearance, image. Put best foot forward!

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): Intelligent course is to face facts as they exist. Avoid "fear of failure" to shake old tendency to worry. If you exude confidence . . . others will follow your example.

LEO (July 23 to August 22): Member of opposite sex may give you "special attention." Utilize best judgment. Remain level in all friends. Don't miss opportunity to cultivate new ones. Fine evening indicated.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22): Seek harmony. Otherwise, embarrassing situation could arise at home, be pragmatic. Avoid needless arguments. One you wish to impress may pay visit. Much to be gained by CALM APPROACH.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22): Favorable lunar aspect coincides with opportunity to LEARN. Seek company of those who are mature. Avoid chronic complainers. Discovery possible which makes life more exciting.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21): Look beyond surface indications. Obtain hint from today's LIBRA message. Important that you "dig" for information. Air of mystery surrounds some of your activities. Be discreet!

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21): Beware "unusual" popularity. Others are attracted to you with THEIR PROBLEMS. Be a good listener. But do not become emotionally involved! Conserve strength, energy.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19): Chance meeting could prove significant. Combine tested methods with original approach. If invited to express views, do so. Stay low for excessive physical.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18): Important that you are receptive to loved one's feelings. Sensitivity. Don't feel you must "cover up." Could mark period of self-discovery. Welcome it!

PISCES (February 19 to March 20): Include family members in activity, entertainment. Key is EXPANSION. Being temporarily satisfied could be error. Instead, strive for improvement. You gain through written word.

IF TOMORROW IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you possess natural sense of rhythm . . . desire peace and harmony . . . but often you find yourself involved in the center of controversy.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle remains high for GEMINI. Special word to CAPRICORN: Surprise compliment likely from one who says "Please" in part.

Foreign News Taken in Stride

Stock Mart Makes Recovery

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market made a substantial recovery early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

Wall Street seemed reassured over the changeover in Russian leadership and appeared to be taking the results of the British election in stride.

A strong upward drive faltered on news that Red China had exploded its first atomic bomb, but there was no great rush to sell and the list remained well ahead on balance.

Steels, which had been well ahead, seemed most affected by the Chinese news, but even here the group remained higher on balance.

MOTORS HIGHER

Motors were consistently higher. General Motors canceled a small early loss and showed a fractional gain even as the strike against GM entered its fourth week.

Aerospace stocks, electrical equipments, rails, airlines, nonferrous metals, building materials and electronics were among other advancing groups.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.2 at 327.3, with industrials up 1.6, rails up 1.1 and utilities up .6.

The fact that Red China had joined the nuclear powers was well discounted by the Street because of previous news stories foretelling the event.

AMERICAN EXCHANGE

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Up 2 were Astrodata and Data-Control Systems.

Corporate bonds were mixed as investors tried to assess the impact of the Labor party victory. U.S. Government bonds drifted slightly lower.

Deflated Isbell Over Coast

Still Flood Danger in Eastern N. Carolina

MOREHEAD CITY, N.C. (AP) — Tropical storm Isbell, downgraded from hurricane status, moved over the North Carolina coast early today like a deflated football.

At 5 a.m., the storm was centered 20 miles northeast of Morehead City where observers said everything was relatively quiet.

There still was danger of flooding to eastern North Carolina. Many counties in the area already have been declared disaster areas because of record flood waters within the past two weeks.

However the Neuse River, raging floodwaters of which 25 miles upstream had caused major damage earlier this week, was within its banks at New Bern where the weather was reported quiet with only a light rain.

SOME RAIN

New Bern is at the mouth of the Neuse which empties into Pamplico Sound, in turn guarded by the famed Outer Banks. At Morehead City, on the Atlantic, there was some rain, but little or no wind.

At New Bern the Neuse widens and becomes a tidal river and therefore there has not been any flooding in this section.

Two shelters set up at Morehead City drew 140 persons during the night. One at nearby Beaufort had only four occupants.

The Weather Bureau said winds of the storm should be no more than 55 miles an hour, but there were no reports of any wind much over 40 miles and that in gusts. Tides were running about two feet above normal at Morehead City.

NORTHERLY COURSE

Isbell was moving on northerly course at 20 to 25 miles and was expected to lose her identity completely later in the day when she merged with a developing winter-type storm located near the upper South Carolina coast, according to the Weather Bureau.

Grain Trading Slow With Mixed Prices

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market was unsettled and prices mixed in slow trade today.

About an hour after the opening soybeans were ¼ to ⅝ cent a bushel lower, November $2.70; wheat ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, December $148½; corn unchanged to ⅛ lower, December $120⅝; oats ¼ higher to ½ cent lower, December 67⅛ cents and rye unchanged to ¼ higher, December $1.27.

For Maintaining Boom

Consumer Gets Credit

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—American consumers spent at least $2 billion more this summer than they did in the spring months. So they can claim the credit today for keeping the nation's economy right on its predicted rate of gain.

DAWSON

Some other sectors of the economy slowed a bit in the July-August-September quarter, but the rate at which citizens parted with their money speeded up.

And with the final quarter of the year under way, and hopes high for a record volume of production and spending, 1964 seems sure to see that biggest statistic of them all, the gross national product, hit the record $623 billion that was predicted in January by the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

There are worries and possible roadblocks. The General Motors strike will have to be settled soon or the general economy will suffer. There are the uncertainties of a presidential election. The slowdown in home building is a drag right now. But on balance the prospects are still bright.

CONSUMER SPENDING

The gross national product is the dollar value of all the goods and services produced in the nation. Consumer spending is the biggest item, and sooner or later affects most of the others.

As the final three months started, consumer spending was running at an estimated annual rate of $404.5 billion. The Commerce Department says this was a gain of $8.4 billion (at an annual rate) from the April-May-June quarter when such spending had risen $6.1 billion at an annual rate from the first three months of the year.

Business spending on plant and equipment also rose in the last quarter, by nearly $2 billion at an annual rate. Further gains are hoped for and would give the whole economy a stimulant. Business accumulation of inventory added another $1.7 billion to the annual rate of the gross national product, but this was sharply down from the $3.7 billion increase in the spring quarter.

Federal government spending slipped and construction outlays were almost stationary.

SLOWER PACE

Despite the zeal with which the consumer spent his money, the entire increase of the economy was at a slower pace in the summer months.

In each of the first two quarters of the year, the gross national product was going up at a $9.8 billion clip. The third quarter advance was $8.9 billion.

But it was enough to bring the annual rate to $627.5 billion. With a good final spurt in these final months, the year should average out close to the $623 billion total predicted.

This would be a $39.1 billion advance over 1963's total of $583.9 billion. This year's increase would be well above the $27.7 billion advance of $963 over the previous year's total $556.2 billion.

Rising prices play a part in all of the increases in total output. But the average price increases have been held below 2 per cent a year.

If prices don't spurt in coming weeks — and few think they will — the year's economic gains in constant dollars will run 5 per cent or better above the previous year.

$ $ $ Successful Investing $ $ $

Q) "Will you please advise me how I can invest $500 so I can get good dividends regularly? I have two children and am divorced but receive no benefits from my husband, whose whereabouts is unknown. I work part-time, earning about $40 a week. I will appreciate your advice."
M. R.

A) And I will be glad to give it to a woman in your difficult situation.

I do not believe you should put your $500 in stocks. These fluctuate—sometimes quite widely—and should never be relied on as a backlog of security for you and your children.

I advise you to buy $500 series H Savings Bonds, which will bring you a semi-annual check from the government. The average yield is 2½ per cent for the first 1½ years and then 4 per cent to maturity. They are redeemable at 100 any time after 6 months from issue date upon one month's written notice.

Q) "I own the following: du Pont; Sears, Roebuck; Long Island Lighting; Telephone; Champion Papers; Singer; W. R. Grace & Co.; General Motors; Consolidated Foods. Due to arthritis, I am unable to work and need some cash to carry on. I plan to sell Champion and Singer. I would appreciate your advice."
J. Mc.

A) Please accept my sincere sympathy on your illness. It is very fortunate that you have such a high-grade list of stocks to help you to carry on.

Champion Papers is a fine stock in a group that has not grown greatly in recent years. I believe that in your position you are fully justified in selling these shares.

Singer is a high-grade company which has seen a sharp expansion of earnings since 1958. I dislike the thought of your disposing of a stock as strong as Singer, but with a list as fine as yours, I can make no alternative suggestion.

Probe of Justice Dept. Likely to Shun Hoffa Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Judiciary subcommittee probe of the Justice Department isn't like to get under way before January and should steer clear of the James R. Hoffa case, Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said today.

In announcing membership of the investigating group, Celler told a news conference he had no reservations about the scope of the inquiry and promised that it would be objective and nonpartisan.

Rep. William M. McCulloch of Ohio, senior Republican on the Judiciary Committee, agreed with Celler that the investigation should be objective.

Celler earlier had announced he intends to keep the investigation away from the case of Hoffa, the Teamsters Union president. Hoffa has appealed his recent conviction on charges of attempted jury tampering.

OTHER ISSUES

Today Celler also said it would be entirely up to the subcommittee whether it would look into recommendations of the Warren Commission and activities of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and United States marshals involved in civil rights cases.

Because of the forthcoming congressional elections and the following holiday season, Celler said, he doubted if the committee could organize and start its work before January.

Asked if he believed the investigation should include the Justice Department's handling of the Hoffa case, Celler said "my personal opinion is to keep it away from pending cases."

But the Judiciary Committee, when it authorized the investigation last Sept. 22, defeated by a 17-16 vote an amendment that would have eliminated pending court cases from the investigation.

Celler, nevertheless, has insisted that he will do everything to prevent a Hoffa investigation. The make-up of the investigating subcommittee should show whether he may succeed.

Sidney Zagri, chief lobbyist for the union, had been trying for months to persuade congressmen that the Justice Department had used unfair and unconstitutional tactics in prosecuting Hoffa. The Teamsters said government agents had spied on him.

CONSIDERED RESOLUTION

At first the Judiciary Committee considered a resolution authorizing an investigation of the Teamsters' complaint. After some wrangling, a substitute resolution by McCulloch, which did not mention Hoffa was approved.

"This might be called the Hoffa resolution," Celler told newsmen afterward. "Nobody asked for it except those involved with the Teamsters union.

"If it had not been for their agitation, there would be no investigation."

The resolution was approved by a vote of 20 to 13.

MSU Is Completing Programs in 3 Nations

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University has announced it is completing advisory programs in Brazil, India and Taiwan and is starting a new project in Thailand.

The three programs being closed out after four years of assistance have helped the countries in Asia and South America to achieve advances in engineering, agriculture and audio-visual education, MSU officials said.

PROBLEM: Show That Plants Give Off Moisture.

NEEDED: A live plant, a sheet of cellophane.

DO THIS: Wrap the plant with cellophane, tying it tightly around the stem. Droplets of moisture will form inside the cellophane.

HERE'S WHY: A plant takes in water through its roots, and gives off water through the leaves.

Not all the water taken in is given off; some of it is used by the plant in the manufacture of its food.

A potted plant or one growing in the ground is better, but the experiment may be performed with a stem cut and placed in water, as shown here.

A collection of these scientific puzzles is in book form under the name "Science Circus." It is in bookstores and libraries. (Copyright 1964, General Features Corp.)

California City Torn by Rioting

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — Negroes and whites rioted last night in downtown Richmond after a white man was stabbed and a Negro was shot and wounded by bullets from a passing vehicle.

In what police described as a "tense racial situation," about 75 young whites and Negroes roamed the inflamed area for two hours, hurling rocks and yelling at each other.

An unconfirmed report said the thrown rocks broke a number of car windows and youths wandering through bars and restaurants in the area roughed up several persons. No injuries were reported from these incidents, however.

Willie Fry, 46, a Negro, was admitted in serious condition to Contra Costa County Hospital in Martinez with bullet wounds in his neck and leg.

Richard Bihr, 39, of San Francisco was sent to Kaiser Hospital in Oakland with stab wounds of the back. He was booked for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon.

2 Accused Spies Deported After Waiving Hearing

NEW YORK (AP) — Alexandre Sokolov, 41, and his wife, 34, accused of espionage until their trial was abruptly ended by the Justice Department, have been deported to Czechoslovakia.

Five federal agents put the couple aboard a jet airliner bound for Prague Thursday night. "I'm very happy about it, not to be sitting behind bars," said Mrs. Sokolov.

The couple had spent more than a year in jail after their arrest in Washington, D.C. On the fifth day of the trial here, the prosecution dropped the charges for "national security" reasons.

They waived deportation hearings.

OAKLAND COUNTY
DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH
RULES AND REGULATIONS
RELATING TO FOOD ESTABLISHMENTS
OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN

There are hereby provided regulations to issue permits, to establish sanitary standards, and to control the sale, storage, processing, distribution, display and serving of food in Oakland County. It is the intent of these regulations to safeguard the health of the public who may patronize any such food-handling establishment in Oakland County, and further, to protect the public from any health nuisance or health hazard conditions arising from the operation of such establishments.

Section I — PERMIT REQUIRED: It shall be unlawful to operate a food establishment or engage in the business of processing, handling, or storing foods in the County of Oakland, State of Michigan, for wholesale distribution or engage in the business of selling, handling, delivering, or serving foods at retail for human consumption in the County of Oakland, Michigan, without having first obtained a permit therefore, from the Oakland County Department of Health, except as hereinafter provided.

Section II — APPLICATION FOR PERMIT: Any person desiring a permit under this regulation shall make application in writing, on forms provided by the Health Officer. Such application shall state the applicant's full name, residence, the address of the business proposed to be operated, and whether such applicant is individual, firm or corporation. In the case of a partnership, it shall state the full names and addresses of all partners, and in the case of a corporation, it shall state the name and addresses of all officers. It shall describe the nature of the business proposed to be operated, and furnish such other information as may be required for the proper enforcement of this regulation.

Section III — PERMIT FEE: The permit fee for all food establishments shall be $10.00 and shall accompany the application. This fee is non-returnable.

The payment of such fee in no way relieves the applicant from the payment of other license fees as may be assessed by the local unit of government.

Section IV — INVESTIGATION AND REPORT: All applications shall be received by the Health Officer, who shall make or cause to be made, an investigation of the premises whereon the applicant proposes to conduct a food establishment. If, after such investigation, the Health Officer deems the premises to be sanitary and suitable for a food establishment, he shall favorably endorse such application and issue the permit and transmit the same to the applicant. If the Health Officer finds that the applicant is not maintaining a sanitary food establishment, or is not furnishing clean, pure, healthy, wholesome and unadulterated food to his customers, or the premises where the applicant proposes to conduct such establishment are unfit for that purpose, then the Health Officer shall endorse upon said application his findings, together with a statement declaring why said applicant be denied a permit.

Section V — ISSUANCE OF PERMITS AND RENEWAL OF PERMITS: Upon receipt of a favorable report, the Health Officer shall issue the permit. Upon an unfavorable report, the Health Officer shall deny the permit. The original permit period shall run one year or less from date of issue. The procedure for the renewal of permits shall be the same as in the case of original issuance of permits; each renewal permit shall be for one year; and a continuous compliance with all of the provisions of this regulation shall be necessary in order to entitle the applicant to a renewal of his permit.

Section VI — DISPLAY OF PERMIT: It shall be the duty of any person with a permit issued under this regulation to keep his permit conspicuously displayed where it is readily observable by the public. In the case of a business conducted in a building, the permit shall be hung conspicuously upon a wall or in some other conspicuous place in said building; in the case of any person operating a food establishment in a wagon, truck, or other vehicle, such person shall keep such permit fastened to the interior of the vehicle so as to be readily visible at all times.

Section VII — TRANSFER OF PERMIT: All permits issued under the provision of this regulation shall be limited to the person or persons and place for which the permit was issued and shall be specific for the operation for which the permit was issued shall not be transferable or assignable.

Section VIII — APPEAL: In the case of a denial of an application for a permit under this regulation, the applicant shall have the right to appeal to the County Board of Health in writing within twenty (20) days. The County Board of Health shall then, within a reasonable time but in no case more than thirty (30) days thereafter, conduct a hearing on said appeal. After hearing such evidence as may be presented on behalf of the applicant and on behalf of the Health Officer, the County Board of Health may either affirm the denial of permit, or direct that a permit be issued.

Section IX — EXCEPTIONS: The following shall be exempt from payment of permit fees but shall be subject to the provisions of these regulations and interpretations of such rules and regulations as may be adopted by the Health Officer:

1. Fraternal, religious, and social organizations which sell food or furnish prepared meals for suppers, bazaars, festivals, parties, or other similar events for the purpose of raising money for charitable, religious, or philanthropic purposes shall be exempt from the payment of permit fees, but shall secure permits and shall be subject to all other provisions of this regulation.
2. The Oakland County Medical Care Facility, Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Children's Home, Jail, Schools, Hospitals, Nursing Homes, and Homes for the Aged shall be exempt from the payment of permit fees but shall be subject to all other provisions of this regulation.
3. Sales by farmers and truck gardeners of products or produce, grown or produced by such persons, and sold on the premises where produced or grown, or at the Oakland County Farmer's Markets, shall be subject to all such provisions of this regulation felt applicable by the Health Officer, except that no permit shall be required of such persons.
4. Delivery trucks or wagons used exclusively for the delivery of foods purchased and properly wrapped at a duly licensed food establishment shall be exempt from the permit provisions of this regulation but shall be subject to all other applicable provisions of this regulation.

Section X — DEFINITIONS: The following definitions shall apply in the interpretation and enforcement of this regulation:

1. ADULTERATED shall mean the condition of a food if it bears or contains any poisonous or deleterious substance in a quantity which may render it injurious to health; if it bears or contains any added poisonous or deleterious substance for which no safe tolerance has been established by regulation, or in excess of such tolerance if one has been established; if it consists in whole or in part of any filthy, putrid, or decomposed substance, or if it is otherwise unfit for human consumption; if it has been processed, prepared, packed, or held under insanitary conditions, whereby it may have become contaminated with filth, or whereby it may have been rendered injurious to health; if it is in whole or in part the product of a diseased animal or an animal which has died otherwise than by slaughter; or if its container is composed in whole or in part of any poisonous or deleterious substance which may render the contents injurious to health.
2. APPROVED shall mean acceptable to the Health Officer based upon his determination as to conformance with appropriate standards and good public health practice.
3. CLOSED shall mean fitted together snugly leaving no openings large enough to permit the entrance of vermin.
4. CORROSION RESISTANT MATERIAL shall mean a material which maintains its original surface characteristics under prolonged influence of the food, cleaning compounds, and sanitizing solution which may contact it.
5. EASILY CLEANABLE shall mean readily accessible and of such material and finish, and so fabricated that residue may be completely removed by normal cleaning methods.
6. EMPLOYEE shall mean any person working in a food service establishment who transports food or food containers, who engages in food preparation or food service, or who comes in contact with any food utensils or equipment.
7. EQUIPMENT shall mean all stoves, ranges, hoods, meat blocks, tables, counters, refrigerators, sinks, dishwashing machines, steam tables, and similar items, other than utensils, used in the operation of a food-service establishment.
8. FOOD shall mean any raw, cooked, or processed edible substances, beverage, or ingredients used or intended for use or for sale in whole or in part for human consumption.
9. FOOD-CONTACT SURFACES shall mean those surfaces of equipment and utensils with which food normally comes in contact, and those surfaces with which food may come in contact and drain back onto surfaces normally in contact with food.
10. FOOD-PROCESSING ESTABLISHMENT shall mean a commercial establishment in which food or beverage is processed or otherwise prepared and packaged for human consumption.
11. FOOD-SERVICE ESTABLISHMENT shall mean any fixed or mobile restaurant; coffee shop; cafeteria; short-order cafe; luncheonette; grill; tea room; sandwich shop; soda fountain; tavern; bar; cocktail lounge; night club; roadside stand; industrial feeding establishment; private, public, or nonprofit organization or institution routinely serving food; catering kitchen; commissary or similar place in which food or drink prepared for sale or for service on the premises or elsewhere; and any other eating or drinking establishment or operation either stationary or mobile where food is served, processed or provided for the public with or without charge.
12. FOOD MARKET—The term "food market" shall mean retail grocery, meat market, poultry market, fish market, fresh fruit and vegetable market, delicatessen, confectionery, candy kitchen, nut store, retail bakery store, or any other establishment, whether fixed or movable, where food, intended for human consumption off the premises, is manufactured, produced, stored, prepared, handled, transported, sold or offered for sale at retail.
13. HEALTH OFFICER shall mean the director of the Oakland County Department of Health and/or his authorized representative or agent.
14. KITCHENWARE shall mean all multi-use utensils other than tableware used in the storage, preparation, conveying, or serving of food.
15. MISBRANDED shall mean the presence of any written, printed, or graphic matter, upon or accompanying food or containers of food, which is false or misleading or which violates any applicable State or local labeling requirements.
16. PERISHABLE FOOD shall mean any food of such type or in such condition as may spoil.
17. PERSON shall mean an indivdual or a firm, partnership, company, corporation, trustee, association, or any public or private entity.
18. POTENTIALLY HAZARDOUS FOOD shall mean any perishable food which consists in whole or in part of milk or milk products, eggs, meat, poultry, fish, shellfish, or other ingredients capable of supporting rapid and progressive growth of infectious or toxigenic micro-organisms.
19. SAFE TEMPERATURES as applied to potentially hazardous food shall mean temperatures of 45°F. or below and 140°F. or above.
20. SANITIZE shall mean effective bactericidal treatment of clean surfaces of equipment and utensils by a process which has been approved by the health authority as being effective in destroying micro-organisms, including pathogens.
21. SEALED shall mean free of cracks or other openings which permit the entry or passage of moisture.
22. SINGLE SERVICE ARTICLES shall mean cups, containers, lids, or closures; plates, knives, forks, spoons, stirrers, paddles; straws, place mats, napkins, doilies, wrapping material; and all similar articles which are constructed wholly or in part from paper, paperboard, molded pulp, foil, wood, plastic, synthetic, or other readily destructible materials, and which are intended for one usage only, then to be discarded.
23. TABLEWARE shall mean all multi-use eating and drinking utensils, including flatware (knives, forks, and spoons).
24. TEMPORARY FOOD-SERVICE ESTABLISHMENT shall mean any food-service establishment which operates at a fixed location for a temporary period of time, not to exceed two weeks, in connection with a fair, carnival, circus, public exhibition, or similar transitory gathering.
25. UTENSIL shall mean any tableware and kitchenware used in the storage, preparation, conveyance, or serving of food.
26. WHOLESOME shall mean in sound condition, clean, free from adulteration, and otherwise suitable for use as human food.
27. FOOD ESTABLISHMENT — This term shall extend and be applied to food-processing establishments, food service establishments and food markets.

Section XI — DISEASE CONTROL: No person while affected with any disease in a communicable form, or while a carrier of such disease, or while afflicted with boils, infected wounds, sores, or an acute respiratory infection, shall work in any area of a food-service establishment in any capacity in which there is a likelihood of such person contaminating food or food-contact surfaces with pathogenic organisms, or transmitting disease to other individuals; and no person known or suspected of being affected with any such disease or condition shall be employed in such an area or capacity. If the manager or person in charge of the establishment has reason to suspect that any employee has contracted any disease in a communicable form or has become a carrier of such disease, he shall notify the Health Officer immediately.

Section XII — FOOD HANDLER'S PERMITS: All persons engaged in handling exposed food shall have unexpired food handler's permits issued to them by the Oakland County Department of Health. Such permits shall be kept on file at the food establishment. The issuance of such permits shall be based upon uniformly sufficient medical evidence which, in the opinion of the Health Officer, will insure insofar as is practicable freedom from a communicable disease or a carrier state. The Health Officer may make such other reasonable requirements for the issuance or renewal of such permits as he may deem necessary.

Section XIII — PROCEDURE WHEN INFECTION SUSPECTED: When a condition arises which indicates the possibility of transmission of infection from any food establishment employee, the Health Officer is authorized to require any or all of the following measures:

A. The immediate exclusion of the employee from all food establishments.
B. The immediate closing of the food establishment concerned until no further danger of disease outbreak exists in the opinion of the Health Officer.
C. Adequate medical examination of the employee and of his associates and such laboratory examinations as may be indicated.

Section XIV — PERSONAL CLEANLINESS REQUIRED: All persons shall wear clean and appropriate clothing, be clean about their persons, and be hygenic in their habits. Effective hair restraints shall be used by persons engaged in the manufacturing, preparing, or serving of food and beverage. No employee shall resume work after using the toilet room without first washing his hands with soap and warm water. No person shall expectorate in a food establishment. No person shall use tobacco in any form in any area in which food is prepared or act in any manner detrimental to the cleanliness and sanitation of the establishment.

Section XV — CONSTRUCTION, RECONSTRUCTION AND ALTERATION OF FOOD ESTABLISHMENT: It shall be unlawful for any person to remodel or alter any existing building or portion thereof which is being used or is proposed for use as a food establishment or to construct a new building which is to be used in whole or in part as a food establishment without first having submitted duplicate plans and specifications thereof, prepared by a registered architect or engineer, to the Health Officer. Such plans shall be accompanied by such other data as will completely describe the food establishment or the addition or alteration proposed. If approved, one set of plans bearing such approval in writing shall be returned to the applicant.

If not approved, the manner in which such plans do not meet the requirements of this ordinance shall be marked on both sets of plans, and one set of plans shall be returned to the applicant. Compliance with this regulation in no way relieves the individual from complying with all other applicable state and local ordinances, regulations and codes relating thereto.

Section XVI — TOILET FACILITIES: Every food-processing establishment, every food market, every food service establishment, except duly licensed trucks or wagons, shall be provided with adequate and conveniently located toilet facilities in the building or building complex conforming with pertinent local ordinances and the laws of the State of Michigan. Toilet fixtures shall be of a sanitary design and readily cleanable. All dressing rooms and toilet facilities, including rooms and fixtures, shall be kept in a clean condition, in good repair, well lighted, free from flies and other insects, and ventilated to the outside atmosphere. Toilet rooms shall be walled from ceiling to floor and shall be provided with self-closing, tight-fitting doors. Floors and walls shall be constructed of a smooth non-absorbent material. Every toilet room shall be provided with sanitary toilet paper, easily cleanable receptacles for waste materials, and such receptacles in toilet rooms for women shall be covered. Where toilet facilities are provided for use by the public, such facilities shall be likewise constructed and maintained and further such facilities shall be separated from the kitchen or other food preparation areas. All new and remodeled establishments shall provide separate toilets for each sex.

Section XVII — LAVATORY REQUIREMENTS: Every food-processing establishment, every food market, and every food service establishment, except duly licensed trucks or wagons in which prepackaged food is displayed for sale, shall be provided with adequate, conveniently located handwashing facilities for its employees. including a lavatory or lavatories equipped with hot and cold running water, soap, and approved individual sanitary towels or other approved handdrying devices. Lavatories shall be located within all toilet rooms. In all establishments lavatories shall also be located within the area where food is being prepared.

Lavatories shall be adequate in size and number and shall be so located as to permit convenient and expeditious use by all employees.

Lavatories shall be installed in accordance with applicable state and local laws, ordinances, and regulations, or in the absence thereof, as approved by the Health Officer.

Lavatory facilities shall be separate from those sinks used for equipment washing and shall be used exclusively for handwashing.

Section XVIII — DRESSING ROOMS AND LOCKERS: Adequate facilities shall be provided for the orderly storage of the employees' clothing and personal belongings. Where employees routinely change clothes within the establishment, one or more dressing rooms or designated areas shall be provided for this purpose. Such designated areas shall be located outside of the food preparation, storage, and serving areas, and the utensil-washing and storage areas and toilet rooms: Provided, that when approved by the Health Officer, such an area may be located in a storage room where only completel packaged food is stored. Designated areas shall be equipped with adequate lockers, and lockers or other suitable facilities shall be provided in dressing rooms. Dressing rooms and lockers shall be kept neat and clean.

Section XIX — WATER SUPPLY: The water supply shall be adequate, safe, and potable. The water supply shall be obtained from a municipal water supply or a well, which conforms to the Michigan Department of Health's "Regulations for Certain Water Supplies in Michigan" a copy of which is on file with the County Clerk. All new establishments shall use a municipal supply when available. Hot and cold running water, under pressure, shall be provided in all areas where food is prepared, or equipment, utensils, or containeds are washed.

Ice used for any purpose shall be made from water which comes from an approved source and shall be used only if it has been manufactured, stored, transported, handled, and dispensed in a sanitary manner.

Section XX — SEWAGE DISPOSAL: All sewage shall be disposed of in a municipal system, or, in the absence thereof, in a manner conforming to Article III of the Oakland County Sanitary Code.

Section XXI — PLUMBING: Plumbing shall be so sized, installed in compliance with applicable state or local codes and maintained as to carry adequate quantities of water to required locations throughout the establishment; as to prevent contamination of the water supply; as to properly convey sewage and liquid wastes from the establishment to the sewerage or sewage disposal system; and so that it does not constitute a source of contamination of food, equipment, or utensils, or create an insanitary condition or nuisance.

Section XXII — GARBAGE AND RUBBISH DISPOSAL: All stored garbage and rubbish containing food soil shall be kept in leak-proof, non-absorbent, tightly covered containers. Provided, that such containers need not be covered when stored in a special vermin-proof room or enclosure, or in a food waste refrigerator. All other rubbish shall be stored in containers, rooms, or areas in an approved manner. The rooms, enclosures, areas, and containers used shall be adequate for the storage of all food wastes and rubbish accumulating on the premises. Adequate cleaning facilities shall be provided, and each container, room, or area shall be thoroughly cleaned after the emptying or removal of garbage and rubbish. Food waste grinders, if used shall be installed in compliance with State and local standards and shall be of suitable construction. All garbage and rubbish shall be disposed of with sufficient frequency and in such a manner as to prevent a nuisance.

Section XXIII — FLOORS: The floor surface of all rooms and areas in which food is stored or prepared and in which utensils are washed, and in walk-in refrigerators, dressing or locker rooms, and toilet rooms, shall be of smooth nonabsorbent, grease resistant materials, with coved junctures and so constructed as to be easily cleanable. All floors shall be kept clean and in good repair. Floor drains shall be provided in all rooms where floors are subjected to flooding-type cleaning or where normal operations release or discharge water or other liquid waste on the floor. All areas where food is served shall be kept clean and properly drained, and the floor surfaces in such areas shall be finished so as to facilitate maintenance, cleanability and minimize dust.

Section XXIV — WALLS AND CEILINGS: The walls and ceilings of all rooms shall be kept clean and in good repair. All walls of rooms or areas in which food is prepared, or utensils or hands are washed, shall be durable, easily cleanable, smooth, and light colored, and shall have washable surfaces.

Section XXV — DOORS AND WINDOWS: All doors, windows and screens shall be kept clean and in good repair. All openings shall be effectively screened or otherwise provided with other effective means to prevent the entrance of flies and other insects.

Section XXVI — VENTILATION: All rooms in which food is prepared or served or utensils are washed, dressing or locker rooms, toilet rooms, and garbage and rubbish storage areas shall be well ventilated. Ventilation hoods and devices shall be designed to prevent negative atmospheric conditions and to prevent grease or condense from dripping into food or onto food-preparation surfaces. Grease extraction systems shall be provided with grease filters and shall be so designed as to be readily removable for cleaning or replacement. Ventilation systems shall comply with applicable state and local fire prevention requirements and shall, when vented to the outside air, discharge in such manner as not to create a nuisance.

Section XXVII — LIGHTING: At least 20-foot candles of light reasonably free from glare shall be required on all working surfaces and at least 10-foot candles on all other surfaces and equipment, in food preparation, utensil-washing and hand-washing areas, and toilet rooms. Sources of artificial light shall be provided and used to the extent necessary to provide the required amounts of light on these surfaces when in use and when being cleaned. At least 5-foot candles of light at a distance of 30 inches from the floor shall be required in all other areas, including dining areas during cleaning operations.

Section XXVIII — SANITARY DESIGN, CONSTRUCTION, AND INSTALLATION OF EQUIPMENT AND UTENISLS: All equipment and utensils shall be so designed and of such material and workmanship as to be smooth, easily cleanable, and durable, and shall be in good repair; and the food contact surfaces of such equipment and utensils shall, in addition, be easily accessible for cleaning, non-toxic, corrosion-resistant and relatively non-absorbent.

All equipment shall be so installed and maintained as to facilitate the cleaning thereof, and of all adjacent areas.

Equipment in use at the time of adoption of this regulation, which does not meet fully the above requirements, may be continued in use if it is in good repair, capable of being maintained in a sanitary condition, and the food contact surfaces are non-toxic. All equipment installed on or after the effective date of this regulation for use in the cleansing and bactericidal treatment of food service utensils and in the preparation, storing, handling or serving of food or drink for consumers shall meet the National Sanitation Foundation Standards and/or the construction standards of the Baking Industry Sanitation Standards Committee. Single service articles shall be made of non-toxic material.

Section XXIX — CLEANLINESS OF EQUIPMENT AND UTENSILS: All eating and drinking utensils shall be thoroughly cleaned and sanitized after each usage.

All kitchenware and food-contact surfaces of equipment, exclusive of cooking surfaces of equipment, used in the preparation or serving of food or drink, and all food-storage utensils, shall be thoroughly cleaned after each use. Cooking surfaces of equipment shall be cleaned at least once a day. All utensils and food-contact surfaces of equipment used in the preparation, service, display, or storage of potentially hazardous food shall be thoroughly cleaned and sanitized prior to such use. Non-food-contact surfaces of equipment shall be cleaned at such intervals as to keep them in a clean and sanitary condition.

After cleaning and until use, all food-contact surfaces of equipment and utensils shall be so stored and handled as to be protected from contamination.

All single-service articles shall be stored, handled, and dispensed in a sanitary manner, and shall be used only once.

Food-service establishments which do not have adequate and effective facilities for cleaning and santizing utensils shall use single-service articles.

Section XXX — METHODS AND FACILITIES FOR WASHING AND SANITIZING:

A. Prior to washing, all equipment and utensils shall be preflushed or prescraped and, when necessary, presoaked to remove gross food particles and soil.
B. Effective concentrations of a suitable detergent shall be used in both manual and mechanical dishwashing.
C. When manual dishwashing is employed, equipment and utensils shall be thoroughly washed in a detergent solution, which is kept reasonably clean, and then shall be rinsed free of such solution. All eating and drinking utensils and, where required, the food-contact surfaces of all other equipment and utensils shall be sanitized by one of the following methods:
   1. Immersion for at least one-half minute in clean hot water maintained at a temperature of at least 170°F.
   2. Immersion for a period of at least one minute in a sanitizing solution containing:
      a. At least 100 ppm of available chlorine but not less than 50 ppm at a temperature not less than 75°:F or
      b. At least 25 ppm of available iodine in a solution having a pH not higher than 5.0 and a temperature of not less than 75° F; or
      c. Any other chemical - sanitizing agent which has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Health Officer to be effective and nontoxic under use conditions, and for which a suitable field test is available in the establishment. Such sanitizing agents, in use solutions, shall provide the equivalent bactericidal effect of a solution containing at least 100 ppm of available chlorine at a temperature not less than 75°F.
   3. Equipment too large to treat by methods (a) and (b) above may be treated:
      a. With live steam from a hose, in the case of equipment in a steam cabinet in which steam can be confined under pressure; or
      b. By rinsing with or submersion in boiling water; or
      c. By spraying or swabbing with a chemical sanitizing solution of at least twice the minimum strength required for the particular sanitizing solution when used for immersion sanitization.
D. A three - compartment sink with flanking metal drainboards shall be provided and used wherever washing and sanitization of equipment or utensils are conducted manually: Provided, that establishments where the only utensils to be washed are limited to spatulas, tongs, and similar devices, and when the only equipment to be cleaned is stationary and does not require disassembly for proper cleaning, a one-compartment sink may be approved by the Health Officer for this purpose. At least a two-compartment sink shall be provided and used for washing kitchenware and equipment which does not require sanitization. Single compartment utility sinks, such as cooks' and bakers' sinks, may be used for the rinsing of utensils.
E. Sinks used for manual washing and sanitizing operations shall be of adequate length, width, and depth to permit the complete immersion of the equipment and utensils, and each compartment of such sinks shall be supplied with hot and cold running water. Dish baskets shall be of such design as to permit complete immersion of the utensils and equipment components being sanitized therein.
F. When hot water is used as the sanitizing agent in manual operations, thermometers, accurate to + - 2°F., shall be provided convenient to the sink to permit frequent checks of the water temperature.
G. Dish tables and drainboards, of adequate size for proper handling of soiled utensils prior to washing and for cleaned utensils following rinsing or sanitization, shall be provided, and shall be so located or constructed as not to interfere with the proper use of the dishwashing facilities: Provided, that drainboards shall not be required for cooks' and bakers' rinse sinks.
H. Sinks, dish tables, and drainboards shall be constructed of stainless steel metal or equivalent, suitably reinforced, of such thickness and design as to resist denting and buckling, and sloped so as to be self-draining. A quick drain must be provided and properly installed on soiled dish table or soiled dish drainboard.
I. Dishwashing machines shall be of such materials and so designed and constructed as to be easily cleanable, and shall be capable, when operated properly, of rendering all surfaces of equipment and utensils clean to sight and touch, and sanitized.
J. When spray-type dishwashing machines are used, the following additional requirements shall be met:
   1. Wash water shall be kept clean, and rinse-water tanks shall be so protected by distance, baffles, or other effective means as to minimize the entry of wash water into the rinse water.
   2. The flow pressure shall not be less than 15 or more than 25 pounds per square inch on the water line at the machine, and not less than 10 pounds per square inch at the rinse nozzles. A suitable gauge cock shall be provided immediately upstream from the final rinse sprays to permit checking the flow pressure of the final rinse water.
   3. The wash-water temperature shall be at least 140°F. and in single tank conveyor machines shall be at least 160°F. When hot water is relied upon for sanitization, the final or fresh rinse water shall be at a temperature of at least 180°F. at the entrance of the manifold. When a pumped rinse is provided, the water shall be at a temperature of at least 170°F. When chemicals are relied upon for sanitization, they shall be of a class or type approved by the Health Officer, and shall be applied in such concentration and for such a period of time as to provide effective bactericidal treatment of the equipment and utensils.
   4. Conveyors in dishwashing machines shall be accurately timed to assure proper exposure times in wash and rinse cycles.
   5. An easily readable thermometer shall be provided in each tank of the dishwashing machine which will indicate to an accuracy of + or - 2°F. the temperature of the water of solution therein. In addition, a thermometer of equal accuracy shall be provided which will indicate the temperature of the final rinse water as it enters the manifold.
   6. Jets, nozzles, and all other parts of each machine shall be maintained free of chemical deposits, debris, and other soil. Automatic detergent dispensers, if used, shall be kept in proper operating condition.
K. Any other type of machine, device, or facilities and procedures may be approved by the Health Officer for cleaning or sanitizing equipment and utensils, if it can be readily established that such machine, device, or facilities and procedures will routinely render equipment and utensils clean to sight and touch, and provide effective bactericidal treatment as demonstrated by an average plate count, per utensil surface examined, of not more than 100 colonies using the American Public Health Association Standards and Methods therefor.

Section XXXI — STORING OF UTENSILS: After cleaning and until use, all food contact surfaces of equipment and utensils shall be stored and handled so as to be protected from contamination.

All single service articles shall be stored, handled, and dispensed in a sanitary manner.

Other utensils such as spoons, spatulas, and non-mechancial dippers shall be properly cleaned after use. Mechanical scoops used for dispensing frozen desserts when not in use shall be kept in dipper wells with clean running water.

Section XXXII — FOOD SUPPLIES: All food shall be from sources approved or considered satisfactory by the Health Officer and shall be clean, wholesome, free from spoilage, free from adulteration, and mis-branding and safe for human consumption. No home-canned foods shall be stored, used, or offered for sale on the premises.

Section XXXIII — FOOD PROTECTION: All food, while being stored, prepared, displayed, served, offered for sale, or transported shall be protected from contamination. All perishable food shall be stored at such temperatures as will protect against spoilage.

All potentially hazardous food shall be maintained at safe temperatures (45°F. or below, or 140°F. or above), except during necessary periods of preparation and service. Raw fruits and vegetables shall be washed before use. Stuffings, poultry, stuffed meats and poultry, and pork and pork products shall be thoroughly cooked before being served. Individual portions of food, once served to the customer, shall not be served again. Provided, that wrapped food other than potentially hazardous food, which has not been unwrapped and which is wholesome may be re-served.

It shall be unlawful to display or expose for sale in open receptacles or broken packages, vegetables, fruits or farm produce unless the same shall be kept not less than eighteen (18") inches above the floor. All foods and beverages stored or offered for sale shall be kept off the floor and shall be kept within an enclosed building which complies with the provisions of the local building code and which has been approved by the Health Officer or his authorized representative. However, establishments existing at the time of the adoption of these rules and regulations may be exempted from the provision requiring an enclosed building, when permitted by the local unit of government.

Section XXXIV — VERMIN CONTROL: Effective measures shall be taken to protect against the entrance into the establishment and the breeding or presence on the premises of vermin.

Section XXXV — CONDEMNATION OF UNFIT FOODS: Samples of food and beverages and other substances may be taken and examined by the Health Officer as often as may be necessary for the detection of unwholesomeness, contamination, or adulteration. It shall be the duty of the Health Officer to seize, condemn, or exclude from sale, delivery or distribution in Oakland County any spoiled, contaminated or adulterated food or any food, which in his opinion is unfit for human consumption. It shall further be the duty of the Health Officer to cause to be destroyed, to denature or remove from sale all food condemned as being unfit for human consumption and issue a statement to the person in charge of such food establishment, stating the reasons therefore.

Section XXXVI — LABELING OF PACKAGED FOODS AND BEVERAGES: All packaged foods and beverages shall bear the manufacturer's name and address.

Section XXXVII — HOUSEKEEPING: All parts of the establishment and its premises shall be kept neat, clean, and free of litter and rubbish. It shall be unlawful to permit litter and rubbish resulting from the operation of the establishment to become scattered onto adjacent areas.

Cleaning operation shall be conducted in such a manner as to minimize contamination of food and food contact surfaces. None of the operations connected with a licensed establishment shall be conducted in any room used as a living or sleeping quarter. There shall be no direct connection between the living or sleeping quarters and the food establishment. Soiled linens, coats, and aprons shall be kept in suitable containers until removed for laundering. No live birds or animals shall be allowed in any area used to conduct a food establishment operation: Provided, that guide dogs accompanying blind persons may be permitted in dining areas.

Section XXXVIII — INSPECTION: The power to enforce the provisions of this regulation, shall be, and the same is, hereby vested in the Health Officer and his authorized representatives and it shall be the duty of such persons to visit and inspect at frequent intervals every place where food and beverages intended for consumption by human beings are manufactured, kept, stored, prepared, or offered for sale or other disposition.

Section XXXIX — COMPLIANCE WITH REGULATIONS: The Health Officer or his authorized representative shall prepare a written report of his inspection of each food-handling establishment, a copy of which report shall be given to the owner of such establishment. Such a report will enumerate in a clear, understandable manner, the nature and extent of the violations or non-compliance conditions. Existing establishments may be given a reasonable length of time in which to comply with all violations which do not require immediate action. In the event of a change in ownership or in case of new establishments constructed after the effective date of this regulation, compliance will be required with all sections of this regulation pertinent and relating to the nature of such proposed food-handling services.

Failure to comply with the corrections and/or improvements as listed on the inspection report within a reasonable period of time as specified will result in the citaton of the offender for the violation of these rules and regulations.

Section XXXX — RIGHT OF ENTRY: The Health Officer and his authorized representatives shall have full power at reasonable times to enter any building, room, basement, or vehicle occupied or used or which they have reasonable cause to believe is being used for the production, preparation, storage, sale, or distribution of food or beverages, or for the purpose of inspecting the premises and the utensils and equipment used therein and if, upon inspection, any food producing or distributing establishment, employee, employer, clerk, driver or other person is found to be violating any provisions of this regulation, or if the production, preparation, manufacturing, packing, storing, sale, distribution, or transportation of any such food products is being conducted in a manner detrimental to the health of the employees and operatives or injurious to the quality of such food therein being produced, manufactured, packed, stored, sold or distributed, the Health Officer making such examination or inspection shall thereupon issue an order or rule to a person or persons in authority or in charge of such place directing that the conditions be remedied within such reasonable time as in his discretion he deems proper, and unless such person, firm or corporation shall make such improvements as required by such order within the time so limited, it shall be the duty of the Health Officer to institute proceedings against the person for the violation of this regulation. Provided, that should the insanitary condition found warrant such action, the establishment may be immediately closed by the Health Officer making the inspection, in which case he shall notify the person in charge of the establishment at the time of inspection in writing, stating his reasons for closing the place and a continuance to operate after receiving such a notice shall constitute a violation of this regulation.

Section XXXXI — PENALTY FOR VIOLATIONS: Any person who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of these rules and regulations shall be subject to prosecution for a misdemeanor; and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $100.00 or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding 90 days, or by both such fine and imprisonment for each offense at the discretion of the court.

Section XXXXII — SEVERANCE CLAUSE: If any section, sentence, clause, or phrase of this regulation is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining sections, sentences, clauses, and phrases of this regulation, or the regulation as an entirety, it being the legislative intent that this regulation shall stand notwithstanding the invalidity of such section, sentence, clause or phrase.

Section XXXXIII — AUTHORITY: These rules and regulations are established by the Oakland County Board of Health pursuant to Section 6 Act 306 of the Public Acts of 1927 as amended.

"Section 6. The county or district board of health, or the health committee of the board of supervisors, shall have and exercise the same powers and perform the same duties of a board of health as conferred by law upon the boards of health of townships, villages and cities. All rules and regulations promulgated by any county or district board of health or the health committee of boards of supervisors may be subject to review and approval or disapproval by a majority vote of the full board of supervisors or, in the case of district boards of health, the boards of supervisors affected, before the same shall become effective.

The board or committee may fix and require the payment of fees for sanitation services authorized or required to be performed by the health department. The board or boards of supervisors may revoke, enlarge or amend any such fees schedule. The fees charged shall in no case exceed the actual cost of performing the service by the department."

Section XXXXIV — INTERPRETATION: The Health Officer may make such detailed interpretations and applications of the sections of the regulation as are reasonable and consistent which will, in his judgment, facilitate effectively the intent of the regulation and its several sections. The "Food Service Sanitation Manual," 1962 edition, of the United States Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Public Health Service, shall be used as a guide for interpretation. These interpretations will be kept on file in the Health Department and a copy of the same will be provided the County Clerk.

After Fruitless Quest for New Life

Dinah's Back on Television

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Mellow-voiced Dinah Shore is back on the television scene after a year's absence in which she sought and failed to find a new way of life.

THOMAS

At the close of the 1963 season, Dinah announced she was quitting after a dozen highly successful years in television. She started with a 15-minute show, did 444 of them, then switched to an hour-long program that lasted for seven seasons.

"I've worked a long time," said the singer, who had started her career in 1931. "There are things you get to do only once in your life, like watching your children grow up. I'm determined not to let those things pass me by because I was too busy working."

She declared she was going to make Palm Springs her home, since it afforded a wholesome atmosphere for the rearing of her children. What she didn't reveal was that she also planned to marry Maurice F. Smith, a Palm Springs contractor. Their wedding May 26, 1963, was a surprise.

RESUMING CAREER

The marriage lasted a year. Now Dinah has moved her children back to Beverly Hills and is resuming her television career.

"I needed that year off from television," she explained between rehearsals for Saturday night's NBC telecast. "I had to slow down and find out where I was going. I never stopped singing; I would never do that. I played some dates where all I had to do was sing — that's pure enjoyment for me.

"Television was something else again. The blocking-out of the show never bothered me; it was easy to work out the mechanics. The real headache was in the planning: Trying to figure out what to do with the guest stars, how to keep the show moving, what to say. Most dialogue on variety shows is pure pap. It is a constant struggle to make the talk entertaining.

"Even in an hour show I usually did only three or four songs. So I was doing very little singing, which is what I really like to do."

When her marriage broke up and Dinah decided to return to television, she came on her own terms. She will be doing four nighttime specials and three daytime hours on which she will introduce treatments of problems concerning women: child molestation, geriatrics, housework vs. career.

Say Anita Planning to Switch Citizenship

ROME (AP)—Actress Anita Ekberg is reported planning to relinquish her Swedish citizenship to become an Italian.

A spokesman for the buxom blonde said she "had suffered a big disappointment" in her native Sweden. He didn't elaborate, but he apparently referred to Miss Ekberg's dispute with a film director who has threatened to sue her for failing to show up in Sweden to make a scheduled movie.

16 Arrested in Caracas Kidnaping

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — Sixteen suspected members of the Communist underground have been arrested in connection with the kidnaping a week ago of U.S. Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Smolen, it was reported today.

Interior (police) Ministry spokesman Luis Vera Gomez said Angel Luque, a 35-year-old, Spanish-born society painter, was "the brains of the kidnaping."

Luque and his Yugoslav-born wife Tatiana, who also is under arrest, lived in a penthouse apartment overlooking the homes of Smolen and U.S. Army Col. James K. Chenault, who was kidnaped by the Reds in November.

Vera said Luque presumably kept a watch on the intended target of each kidnaping, familiarizing himself with the man's daily routine. He may also have acted as a lookout during the kidnapings.

Most of those arrested are Communists. Vera said Luque is not known to have been a card-carrying member of the party, although he did belong to the Castro-Communist FALN underground group.

TWO WERE HELD

The two Americans were both held for some time — Chenault for nine days and Smolen for nearly four — while the Reds spread anonymous hints about their fate around the city.

In fact, however, neither man was harmed.

New Soviet Leaders Vow K Policies

Labor Party Wins by Slender Margin

LONDON (AP) — The Labor party ended 13 years of Conservative rule today by winning control of the House of Commons — but by a slim margin which can mean trouble ahead.

Harold Wilson, who wants to abolish Britain's independent nuclear deterrent, led his party to victory and became prime minister. At 48, he is the youngest in the 20th century.

The retiring prime minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, 61, went to Buckingham Palace to present his resignation to Queen Elizabeth II.

At the time, vote tabulations showed Wilson's party with exactly half the 630-member House of Commons, but with other winning seats to be reported. Wilson was forecasting "just a bare majority."

Returns from 621 of 630 parliamentary districts with the net changes in seats won:

Conservative 301, loss 54.
Labor 315, gain 56.
Liberal 5, loss 1.
Others nil, loss 1.

Jo Grimond's small Liberal party could wind up in a balance of power position in the new House convening Nov. 3.

WOULD COOPERATE

Grimond said he would be willing to cooperate with the Laborites to get a government going if the Liberals and Laborites reached an understanding.

Grimond did not say what his price would be.

Many of the districts late in reporting the outcome of the voting Thursday have been in the Conservative column for generations.

The Labor gains sent stock prices down on the London Exchange soon after the market opened, but they rallied as small investors began buying stocks they believed to be bargains. At noon, one market observer said, "things are almost back to normal."

ROWDY CAMPAIGN

The voting followed Britain's rowdiest campaign of modern times but failed to bring out the record poll expected. The indications were that fewer than 26 million of the nearly 36 million eligible had voted.

The Laborites jumped into an early lead with returns from the big cities and industrial areas, but the Conservatives cut the margin as results came in from agricultural districts.

Mark Opening of Apartments

First Units Developed in Urban Renewal

Pontiac Townhouse Apartments will celebrate its grand opening this weekend, according to Developer Charles L. Langs.

Four models, the first of 65 units, will be opened at 1 p.m. tomorrow, followed by official ceremonies 2-3 p.m. on Sunday.

Langs heralds his new development, located on Douglas at East Pike, as "the greatest thing to happen in Pontiac."

He said that it presents a new type of community living, cooperative living. The apartments are the first to be developed in Pontiac under urban renewal.

Sunday's ceremonies will include city commissioners; Dwight Hamborsky, regional director of FHA; and Windell Addington, vice president of the Foundation for Cooperative Housing.

PLAN 12 BUILDINGS

A total of 65 units with 12 buildings are projected in the Langs' development. He expects people to start moving in within 60 days.

Mostly two - story, units from one to four bedrooms are offered. Monthly rental prices range from $69 to $106.

Each unit has its own fenced in patio, cabinets, stove, refrigerator, and a full separate basement. Offstreet parking also will be furnished.

Co-op living features the actual purchase of each unit by its tenant. Maintenance is included. The cooperative takes care of the townhouse inside and out, excepting redecorating.

Langs said that construction costs for the 65 units is estimated at $525,000.

UPS A PINT—Harold Wilson, head of Britain's Labor party, raises a glass of stout in his political club at Huyton as returns in his country's elections gave cause for celebration. After 13 years of unbroken tenure, the Conservatives appear to have lost by a razor-thin margin.

Red Chinese Explode First Atomic Bomb

Nuclear Blast Seen as Pushing Mao to Front of Communism

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China joined the world's atomic powers today with an announcement it has exploded its first bomb in the Western region of China.

The announcement came less than 24 hours after Moscow had exploded a political bombshell of its own — the ouster of Nikita Khrushchev.

China's atomic disclosure and the retirement of Khrushchev are likely to raise China's Mao Tze-tung's stature among world Communist leaders.

To the Chinese, he is already the No. 1 spokesman for international communism. The rift between Mao and Khrushchev, with the Russian's sometimes abortive efforts to keep Moscow in the driver's seat for the Communist movement, was doubtless a factor in his downfall.

The Chinese announcement came, ironically, at a time the new leadership in Britain is charting plans to end that nation's own nuclear deterrent program.

OFFICIAL WORD

The official New China News Agency only quoted a government statement saying "China exploded an atom bomb at 1500 hours (3 p.m. - 10 a.m. EST) on Oct. 16, 1964, and thereby conducted successfully its first nuclear test."

The government statement said China was forced to conduct nuclear tests and develop nuclear weapons. "China cannot remain idle and do nothing in the face of the ever increasing nuclear threat posed by the United States," it said.

U. S. officials have pointed out that some time must elapse, possibly years, before China can turn its first experimental explosion into what can be regarded as a nuclear force.

In any case, Red China can be expected to seek to become the spokesman of the nuclear club for what is sometimes called the third world — that lying between the United States and the Soviet Union.

EFFECT THINKING

Today's development is bound to have an effect on the thinking of leaders in Southeast Asia, an area Red China would like to dominate.

The effect on such areas as the uncertain nations of Africa also is bound to be worth watching.

The previous powers having nuclear capability are the United States, Russia, Britain and France.

Russia helped China in early stages of its nuclear planning.

NEW POWERS — Alexei Kosygin, 60, (left) and Leonid Brezhnev, 57, who were named last night to be premier of the Soviet Union and Communist party secretary, respectively, are shown as they appeared in 1960 at a Moscow Sports Palace rally. They took over the posts that Nikita Khrushchev had held until his resignation. Brezhnev's post as party secretary is the one that both Stalin and Khrushchev used to control the Soviet Union.

Where's Nikita? No One Knows

MOSCOW (AP) — With Nikita Khrushchev toppled from power and pushed into obscurity, the new leaders of the Soviet Union sought today to reassure the people that de-Stalinization and economic improvements will continue.

This was the first policy indication given by Leonid I. Brezhnev, the beefy, brooding protege of Khrushchev from a secret Communist party meeting as the party's first secretary — the top job here. It was contained in a statement in the party paper Pravda.

Alexei N. Kosygin, a weary looking administrator, became premier in changes announced early today.

A number of Khrushchev aides were reported by reliable informants to have lost their jobs also. Most prominently named in these unconfirmed reports was his son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei, editor of the government paper Izvestia. Pavel Satyukov, editor of Pravda, also was reported to have quit.

The mystery long associated with the Red brick walls of the Kremlin was wrapped about the Khrushchev departure. There was no explanation for the 227 million Russian people of what had become of the man who led them for almost a decade, or why he had been dropped by the wayside.

The Soviet Communist party

See Stories, Pages A-3, A-4, A-11, B-3 and C-5 newspaper, Pravda, published a frontpage statement that the party "firmly and consistently carries into life the Leninist general line worked out at the 20th and 22nd congresses of the party."

Khrushchev delivered his famous speech against Stalinism at the 20th congress in 1956. The 22nd congress five years later set long-term goals of improved economic conditions and the attainment of communism. Any attempt to drop these policies would probably meet strong popular resistance, many diplomats in Moscow believe.

WORLD WAITS

The rest of the world waited to find out how the changeover would affect the Soviet Union's foreign policy.

There was general belief that Khrushchev's departure would open the way to at least a measure of reconciliation between the Soviet Union and Red China.

But any reconciliation with Peking could also require a common policy toward the West. This would probably mean an end to Khrushchev's era of peaceful coexistence, not necessarily leading to armed confrontation but at least increasing tensions and military budgets.

COLE PORTER

Death Takes Songwriter Cole Porter

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) —Cole Porter, one of the 20th century's great composers and lyricists, died last night at a Santa Monica hospital where he underwent kidney surgery Oct. 13. He was 71.

Doctors said Porter "simply stopped breathing." They did not give an official cause of death but said Porter's general physical condition even before he was admitted to the hospital Sept. 22 for a routine checkup was poor.

An infection from a kidney stone flared up after he was admitted, necessitating the surgery.

Only his special nurse was at his bedside when he stopped breathing. Outside the door were his chauffeur and valet.

Porter was the author of song hits such as "Night and Day," stage musicals including "Kiss Me Kate," and did the music and lyrics for such films as "High Society."

Calls Jenkins Dedicated Assistant

Unaware of Aide's Conduct---Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says he had no information on Walter W. Jenkins that would have led him to question the personal conduct of his top aide before Jenkins' two arrests on morals charges became public.

But, the President said in a statement last night, once he was told Wednesday of the arrests — one of them in 1959 and the other last week — he asked Jenkins to resign. Jenkins promptly did so.

"No man I know has given more personal dedication, devotion and tireless labor," Johnson said of his aide for 25 years.

But he added: "On this case as on any such case, the public interest comes before all personal feeling."

The President said "within moments after being notified last night, I ordered Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI to make an immediate and comprehensive inquiry and report promptly to me and the American people."

DATA TO FBI

Today the Washington Post reported it had learned the police forwarded data on Jenkins' 1959 arrest to the FBI that year and that in April 1961 this data, including a copy of his fingerprints record, was forwarded to the Secret Service, which had requested the information.

What the Secret Service did with the data is shrouded in secrecy, the Post said.

At the time Johnson was vice president and Jenkins was his administrative assistant.

COMPASSIONATE

Johnson's statement, heavy with compassion for 46-year- old Jenkins, his wife and six children, one of whom was named "Lyndon" after the President, was distributed to newsmen when they returned with the President from his New York campaign trip.

In effect, it was a reply to Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who earlier in the day

Profit-Sharing Okay Late; AMC Is Struck

DETROIT (AP)—Profit sharing—unique in the auto industry — will be carried forward by a new American Motors Corp. and United Auto Workers agreement. But this accord was reached too late today to avert a strike at the firm.

Negotiators removed profit sharing as a main stumbling block to a new national labor contract at AMC an hour after a UAW-set midnight strike deadline.

Pickets began parading in front of AMC's Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., auto plants even while harmony was being attained on what AMC has preferred to call "progress sharing."

AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman and Douglas A. Fraser, the UAW's American Motors chief, announced the agreement today that profit sharing — now three years old at AMC — will again be extended to the firm's 27,000 UAW-represented workers.

Cushman and Fraser declined to reveal details of the profit sharing agreement. These will be disclosed later, Fraser said.

6 CENTS HOURLY

Profit sharing had been worth six cents hourly per worker since the UAW won the plan at AMC in 1961, Fraser said.

In reporting the agreement on profit sharing, Cushman said "unfortunately American Motors operations already had been shut down."

A major obstacle now to completion of the national economic contract agreement, Fraser and Cushman said, involves some 3,000 Kelvinator division employes at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Pick Nike Site for College

A 247-acre parcel on the northeast corner of I-75 and the proposed M59 freeway, formerly the Auburn Heights Nike Base, has been selected as the first of three campuses for the Oakland County Community College.

Located just east of Pontiac, the parcel is under lease to the U.S. Army as a Nike site until the end of 1964.

However, the college board announced last night that an offer to purchase the land has been accepted by the National Bank of Detroit, trustees for the Fisher family who are owners of the land.

Funds to purchase the site will come from a state grant and revenues produced by a one-mill countywide levy to be spread in December. The levy was approved by voters last June.

In addition to the land purchase, Mosher said that a request has been made to transfer ownership of "a million dollars worth of buildings" from the army to the college.

WITH SERVICES

The buildings — four major one-story masonry structures and three or four smaller ones — come complete with electrical, water and sewer services.

Dr. John E. Tirrell, community college president, said the buildings would be converted to house classrooms and administration offices.

He estimated the cost of remodeling to be less than $100,000.

Dr. Tirrell added that the land purchase, complete with buildings, paves the way for the college to get underway by the fall of 1965.

DETAILED STUDY

The Nike base will house 800 to 1,000 full-time students in the converted buildings, he said. A detailed study will be necessary to provide the exact enrollment.

The newly acquired site is within 30 minutes travel time of the eastern and northern sections of the county.

Three campus locations are projected for the community college, which is expected to serve 12,000 to 14,000 students by 1970.

The buildings on the new campus can be transferred to the college at no cost, explained Dr. Tirrell. The old base has been declared surplus by the Army.

All constructed in the last nine years, the buildings provide 30,000 square feet of space.

Harry M. Denyes, Lamb & Pearson, Inc., according to board action, will be employed on an hourly basis to help on plans for conversion of the buildings. The board has not officially hired an architect.

Summer Here for Weekend

The weatherman has good news again. Indian summer weather will prevail throughout the weekend, he says.

Fair skies and mild temperatures are expected tonight, tomorrow, and Sunday. Tonight's low of 38 to 46 will be followed by a high tomorrow of 69 to 77.

LOW OF 45

The lowest thermometer reading preceding 8 a.m. was 45. At 1 p.m. a delightful 72 was recorded.

For GOP Ticket

Nixon Stumps State

LANSING (UPI) — Former Vice President Richard Nixon, campaigning as though he were the candidate instead of a mere supporter, planned a full day of working for Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater in Michigan today.

Nixon, who has been working across the country for Goldwater, arrived in Michigan Thursday night after blasting President Johnson in Indiana on the Walter Jenkins case.

At an airport reception in Benton Harbor last night Nixon was asked to comment on the retirement of Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

"No one wants to make politics out of the Khrushchev affair," Nixon said, "unless it is good for the country."

Nixon, who said he was in Michigan purely for fund-raising affairs, said however, the Russian developments pointed out the failure of American intelligence forces. He said our country' intelligence forces "badly mssed the boat" in not informing the American people of the latest developments in Moscow.

WHY RETIREMENT?

When asked why he thought Khrushchev retired, Nixon replied that he thought it "was hard to tell, but it is my own personal opinion that the younger, hard-line Communists had taken over the power in Russia."

Turning to political matters in this country, Nixon said he thought the Goldwater-Miller campaign had picked up "a good head of steam since Oct. 1."

Nixon told a Fort Wayne audience the nation would "not stand for immorality in the White House" and he demanded to know what the President knew about morals charges that have been placed against Jenkins.

Jenkins resigned as a White House aide Wednesday after the charges became public. Nixon said the President should go before the public to tell what he knew of "this sick man."

LOST MICHIGAN

Nixon, who missed carrying Michigan against President Kennedy in 1960 by 66,841 votes, planned to see Gov. George Romney in Lansing at a fund-raising luncheon.

Earlier this year, at the National Governors' Conference, Nixon tried to get Romney to become an active presidential candidate as an alternative to Goldwater.

Nixon began his Michigan campaign day in Stevensville with a breakfast for the state GOP finance committee.

Another fund-raiser was scheduled in Ishpeming tonight, as well as an airport rally at Negaunee and a television show in Marquette.

The schedule called for Nixon to spend the night in Detroit before flying on to St. Petersburg, Fla., tomorrow.

General Hospital May Close Its New Mental Health Clinic

Pontiac General Hosptial's new outpatient mental health clinic, inaugurated last July, may go out of business Nov. 1, according to the hosptial's trustees.

The clinic, operated on a seven-hour a week basis, faces closure unless the County Mental Health Services Board agrees to reimburse the hospital for the clinic's cost.

To date expenses of the clinic amount to $1,670.

The trustees agreed that the clinic should be closed Nov. 1 unless something can be worked out with the county board on reimbursement.

MEETING SLATED

The County Health Board is slated to meet with trustees from the county's four general hospitals on Oct. 28.

"We were led to believe," said Trustee William P. Babcock, "that if we set up an outpatient clinic we'd be reimbursed."

Euler said that he has had no word on Pontiac General receiving funds for the outpatient clinic through the county-directed community mental health services program.

The hosptial administrator said that the county's part-time psychiatric director toured the hospital, reviewing mental health facilities.

'FOUND FAULT'

Euler said the director, Dr. Norman Rosenzweig, "found a good deal of fault with our program or our lack of program."

Specifically, the outpatient services were not approved in any way, according to Euler.

He said that the county wants the clinic open 40 hours per week, more full time psychiatrists and social workers.

Euler said that there had been an understanding that Pontiac General would start a clinic on a seven-hour basis and expand to 21 hours per week.

Although the county wanted a 40-hour clinic, Pontiac General was asked to submit a budget for 21 hours. The hospital would have gotten full reimbursement if the 21-hour basis had been okayed.

'Unaware of Jenkin's Conduct'

And it followed by several hours a sypathetic statement by Mrs. Johnson, who described Jenkins as a man who "reached the end point of exhaustion in dedicated service to his country." She said the Johnsons were praying for his recovery.

Police records show that Jenkins was arrested on Jan. 15, 1959 at the Washington YMCA on a charge of "disorderly conduct (pervert)," and again at the YMCA on Oct. 7 this year on a charge of "disorderly (indecent gestures)."

SENT TO HOSPITAL

Wednesday afternoon, as the arrests became known, Jenkins was sent to George Washington University Hospital by his physician, Dr. Charles Thompson, with what was described as "extreme fatigue" and his resignation was announced by the traveling White House in New York.

The arrests could have serious political implications as the presidential campaign heads into the stretch run, and in Republican ranks reaction varied.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential candidate, asserted the White House is "dark with scandal" but that he would have no comment on the Jenkins arrests "at any time."

Rep. William E. Miller, the GOP vice presidential candidate, said in Chicago the Jenkins matter poses "very, very serious" national security questions that Johnson should answer for the American people.

VERY DANGEROUS

"If this type of man had information vital to our survival, it could be compromised very quickly and very dangerously," Miller said.

OH, TO STRETCH OUT SOMEWHERE—"I thought they'd never stop talking," President Lyndon Johnson and his wife seem to be saying as they ride wearily in their car away from a political rally in New York's Madison Square Garden last night. Sitting next to Johnson (hand showing) is Robert F. Kennedy, Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate. (See story, Page A-12).

New Leaders in Russia Vow K Policies

said Khrushchev's eclipse was bound to suspend at least the liberalization drive which has been going on in Communist Eastern Europe. A Moscow-Peking reconciliation would certainly curtail the measures of independence won by some Soviet satellites, they said.

Khrushchev's resignation may also have an effect on East European leaders, like Janos Kadar of Hungary, known as his close allies.

The world was stunned by the cryptic announcement just after midnight that Khrushchev, 70, has asked to be relieved as first secretary of the party and premier because of "advanced age and deterioration of his health." The ebullient, rotund leader had showed no particular signs of ill health lately, but he suffers from high blood pressure and a recurrent heart condition.

Observers in the West believed that repercussions from the bitter feud between Moscow and Peking and shortcomings in the Soviet economy also played a part in the colorful leader's sudden eclipse after 10 years in power.

The official announcement gave no indication what had happened to Khrushchev, last reported vacationing on the Black Sea. But it said he had lost his place on the party presidium, indicating he would have no future role in Soviet policy.

Brezhnev's designation to the key role of the party's first secretary was the least surprising thing in the announcement. He had long been a protege of Khrushchev and had generally been considered his heir apparent since he gave up the figurehead post of president of the Soviet Union on July 15 to devote himself to the party central committee.

Kosygin is an economic expert of exceptional talent with a flair for organization. His appointment as premier appeared to signal a determined drive to improve the economic situation and governmental efficiency.

The elevation to the top spots of Brezhnev, 57, and Kosygin, 60, signaled another sort of shift in the Soviet Communist party's 47-year role. For the first time the top jobs went to men whose only contacts with Czarist Russia and the 1917 revolution were childhood memories.

They also are the first members of the technician class to reach the Soviet summit.

LBJ to Discuss Soviet Shift

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson scheduled meetings today with top advisers in the Soviet field and with the Soviet ambassador later to discuss the sudden shift in leadership which brought an end to Premier Khrushchev's rule.

The meetings were additions to the President's previous schedule. There was no immediate word whether the President had summoned Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin or whether the meeting had been requested by the Soviet Embassy.

The future of U.S.-Soviet relations was thrown into a state of uncertainty by the shifts in Soviet leadership and President Johnson said the Kremlin development may or may not be a sign of deeper turmoil and changes to come.

But, the President said last night in a New York speech, turmoil around the world would only increase the steadfastness of the American people.

WON'T BE BURIED

"We do not want to bury anyone anywhere and we do not intend to be buried ourselves," he said.

"We will be firm, but we will be restrained. We can meet any test but our quest is always for peace. We must keep our eyes on the stars, but our feet, both of them, on the ground."

Johnson's running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, told newsmen he did not think the Kremlin leadership change would bring any quick summit meeting with Johnson.

Birmingham Area News

Bloomfield Hills Agrees to Pay for Use of Library

Bloomfield Hills residents will join those of Bloomfield Township and Birmingham in making use of the new township library when it opens Tuesday.

The city commission has signed an agreement with the library board to include its constituents among those who can use the facility.

The move will increase by about 2,700 the number of potential patrons.

Also being served by the new facility will be the 29,500 residents of the township and the 25,500 persons who live in Birmingham.

Bloomfield Hills commissioners agreed to pay the board $500 for use of the library until spring. At that time the contract will be reviewed and altered in light of use made during the next half year.

Both Bloomfield Hills and township residents now are checking books out of Birmingham's Baldwin Public Library.

OPENS TUESDAY

The new library, with some 15,000 volumes, will open for business Tuesday. Regular hours will be noon to 9 p.m. Monday through Wednesday, 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday and Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Open houses to introduce area residents to the library, its staff and services will be held from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday and from 4 to 9 p.m. Monday.

The library occupies the lower level of the Devon Chateau building, 4036 Telegraph.

The 8:30 p.m. program will feature a lecture-demonstration by Jesse Sinclair, dance instructor at Kingswood School Cranbrook.

Persons who are not members of the association can attend the program for a nominal charge.

Mrs. Shirley B. Hadas

Service for Mrs. Shirley B. Hadas, 50, of 1472 Southfield, Birmingham, will be 11 a.m. tomorrow at St. David's Episcopal Church, Southfield. Burial will follow in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkley.

Mrs. Hadas died Wednesday after a long illness.

She was a retired secretary at Lincoln Electric Co., Detroit.

Her body is at the Manley-Bailey Funeral Home, but friends are asked to call at the residence.

Surviving are two sons, Gilbert F. Jr. and John R. of Birmingham; three sisters, Mrs. Sherman LeMessurier of Birmingham, Mrs. Arthur Philp of Berkley and Mrs. John McAlpine of New Canaan, Conn.; and a brother.

Memorial contributions can be made to the Michigan Cancer Society.

Any person 55 or over, even though not yet retired, can become a member of the American Association of Retired Persons.

Area's Welfare Needs Paced by UF Campaign

Launched by a rousing push in Pontiac Central High School, the 16th annual United Fund got off to a running start.

With nearly 10 per cent of this year's goal of $815,000 already subscribed, there is little doubt that the drive will hit the mark aimed for.

The "give once for all" plan of welfare donation has amply proved itself since it was initially conceived in this area.

It is sound from the standpoint of both the giver and the receiver.

Contributors can discharge their humanitarian obligations by making but a single subscription, confident that every worthwhile cause is being supported. And the subscription may be spread over an entire year on whatever payment plan is most applicable.

The donator benefits practically, moreover, since without the consolidated UF method, he would be subjected to countless calls for aid, with likelihood of his sporadic offerings exceeding the single pledge now possible.

On the other side of the coin, the administrative organization (the UF) by means of many panels of local residents has carefully sifted the needs and fund requests of the 55 participating agencies and made equitable allocation to each based on the total budget established.

The cost of solicitation, collection and disbursement of the monies raised by the Fund is a modest one—far less than would be expended were the half hundred agencies each engaged in duplication of the same functions.

All residents are urged to reach into their hearts and purses for the liberal support merited by the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Reds' Recent Orbit Hits Space Milestone

Our Russian rivals for conquest of outer space have brought off another superb first in that direction. They successfully orbited a spaceship with three astronauts aboard.

The Communists' feat puts them several years ahead of the U. S., since but a two-man flight early next year is the extent of American projection for the immediate future.

Our Air Force, however, is developing a manned orbiting laboratory scheduled for launching by 1968 that would compare with or surpass the present Russian achievement.

In the development of space technology, America has given priority to military and defensive phases of it. In that area we unquestionably are ahead of the Reds.

The Kremlin, however, for reasons of its own—propaganda or prestige, perhaps — has spotlighted the purely scientific and more spectacular exploits of the nascent space age.

Regardless of that, they have won another historic trophy for their collection, and we render an admiring and congratulatory salute on the deed.

Romney Traffic Study Is on the Right Road

Of vital interest to the public at large are the findings of Gov. GEORGE ROMNEY'S Special Commission on Traffic Safety and the efforts it represents for curbing the appalling rise in highway casualties.

In his recent report locally on the commission's 29 recommendations toward that end, the governor declared that the biggest problem faced in promoting traffic safety is the lack of citizen interest to make public programs effective and enlist state funds in their support.

Romney stressed that such interest must be generated by the time the legislature convenes in 1965 if legislative implementation of the commission's proposals is to eventuate.

He pointed to three essential factors not covered in the report needed to give force to safety measures:

- Setting of good examples by the public in driving and walking, and by assisting local officials in strong safety programs.
- Continuous evidence of interest in safety programs by local officials.
- Voluntary compliance by the citizenry with all laws pertaining to motor travel.

The safety conference here, one of eight slated around the state, was sponsored by the Safety Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

We heartily commend Gov. ROMNEY and the local body for the constructive action envisioned in combating one of the most critical problems confronting the Nation.

'64 Race Unique in Two Respects

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The 1964 presidential campaign, boring in many ways up till now, isn't altogether different from the 1960 race of Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy.

MARLOW

But two things make it unique in recent American history:

1. Sen. Barry Goldwater's repeated charge that "scandal" hovers over the White House, although he offered no proof and his preachments on the need for morality in government. Voters haven't heard that for a long time.

2. This year's election will decide the direction of the government for years to come, since Johnson wants continuation of big government, with new programs as he thinks they're needed, Goldwater wants smaller government.

Because of this No. 2 problem the 1964 campaign, unlike that of 1960, is not strictly a personality contest. There is a real issue and a real difference from the Nixon-Kennedy contest.

There was no basic difference between them on domestic or foreign affairs or the kind of government needed. They didn't offer to change it but to improve it.

So the main question for the voters then was: Which of the two men could run the government better? In 1960, Nixon and Kennedy wrangled over their ideas on how to defend the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu from Red Chinese attack.

This was a pretty empty dispute, as time proved, because the problem of defending the islands has never arisen since 1960. It was an issue which hardly caught fire; the islands were too far off for voters to visualize the problem.

Something like that is happening now in the dispute between Johnson and Goldwater over whether the NATO commander — or the President alone—should have control over the use of "conventional" atomic weapons.

This is a complicated subject, shrouded in national security, and so far out of the experience of ordinary voters that most of them can't understand or visualize all that's involved.

As for the needling business, without which a campaign would be no campaign, Nixon and Kennedy needled each other and so do Johnson and Goldwater. Nixon and Kennedy were a little clumsy at it. So are Johnson and Goldwater.

Nehru Imitators
N.Y. Daily News

A bevy of nations calling themselves "nonaligned" — meaning neutral as between the free world and the Red Slave Bloc — has just wound up a curious conference at Cario, Egypt.

Apparently the nonaligned countries are more worried about the few remnants of colonialism left in the world than about the threats of Communism to all the freedom that is left in said world.

As far as we could make out from the Cario caper, the chief ambition of most nonaligned nations' leaders is to play off the Communist world against the free world so as to get foreign aid from both.

That was a favorite device of the late Indian Prime Minister Nehru. We hope the United States, at least, got a bellyful of it, and won't be suckered in the future by a bunch of tinhorn imitators of old man Nehru.

Gibraltar
Lansing State Journal

Spain has been demanding the "return" of Gibraltar and the issue has been before the United Nations' Special Committee on Colonialism for the last two years. The committee's mandate is to investigate the status of remaining "colonial" peoples and to recommend ways to grant them independence on the basis of self-determination.

The catch is that Britain has already granted the residents of Gibraltar a large measure of autonomy and is paving the way for their independence on the basis of self-determination.

So what's the problem?

Well, Spain points out that a 1713 treaty gives her the right to take over if London relinquishes sovereignty. Self-determination, Spain says, is the same as abandonment — and if Britain permits self-determination, Spain says she will occupy the Rock.

This situation is complicated by the fact that nearly 10,000 Spaniards — almost two-thirds of Gibraltar's total labor force —cross the frontier every day to work at the Rock, and many thousands on both sides of the border are economically dependent upon each other. Spain also draws much income from tourists who cross the border after visiting Gibraltar. And now Madrid threatens to close the border if she does not get her treaty "rights."

The U.N. committee is understandably baffled. The inhabitants of the colony in free elections have repeatedly indicated their satisfaction with their "colonial masters" and a desire for independence with continued friendly relations.

No wonder the committee has decided to adjourn the issue—perhaps indefinitely.

Lady Bird Campaigns
The Oregonian

Say, who's running for President, anyway, Lyndon or Lady Bird?

Candidates for public office have been softening up the American voters in recent years by pushing their wives, kids, brothers and uncles into the act. Even the family dogs have been converted into television stars. But we thought this was chiefly to show that candidates are like other people — they have families and have to get along with them.

We have now reached the ultimate in presidential campaining, however. Lady Bird Johnson is off on a whistle-stop tour of the South, all by herself. She says she wants to unite the nation. Behind Lyndon, that is.

It's ridiculous. How much of this soft-soap sell can the voters take? If Lady Bird wants to campaign let her run for office.

Bob Considine Says:

Top Sheraton Exec Wants Boston Hotel to Be 100th

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — People . . . places . . . things . . .

"I've got to pick up five or six hotels between now and next April 19," Ernest Henderson sighed at his Sheraton East.

CONSIDINE

We wondered why, sympathetically.

"I want the Sheraton Boston to be our one hundredth, as well as our flagship," said Harvard-man Henderson, who parlayed a post-World War I nestegg of $1,000 into a hotel empire that is nearing the $500,000,000 mark. "So I've got to get busy and see that the Sheraton Boston is properly honored as the hundredth. It wouldn't do to have it, say, number ninety-four or some number like that."

It certainly wouldn't we agreed, heatedly.

Sheraton is now in seven foreign countries, and the company's shy, remarkable boss says, with a burst of ecumenism, "Conrad Hilton did a brilliant job paving the way."

The experience of operating overseas moves Henderson.

"I was in Jamaica for our opening there which coincided with the visit of Princess Margaret and the Independence Day ceremonies which marked the end of British rule.

"As the Union Jack came down the flagpole and the Jamaican flag went up, the princess burst into tears. Memorable."

Ernest Henderson writes songs which his hotel orchestras play at the sight of him. Latest: "Won't You Come and Ride in Space?"

TOOK HINT

The Russians took the hint, apparently, which didn't please "Mr. Sheraton" one little bit. He is extremely conscious of communism.

While we were watching a particularly exciting World Series rally on his suite's TV set, the hotel magnate suddenly began reciting a poem he authored. It ran 17 stanzas and he never missed a beat. All about Alger Hiss, Stalin, Harry Dexter White, Yalta, Quebec, Kremlin, and Khrushchev.

The Yankees lost both in the game and the poem.

LBJ is sweeping the Baker case under the rug for future reference. One Democrat and one Republican at the first meeting of the reconvened committee shows neither party is interested except for political gain.

Staebler Should Dig Out the Baker Case

If Johnson were above reproach in the Baker case he would want the full details brought out into the open. Staebler should do him a favor and bring the details out for public attention.

Find Boys More Fussy on Clothes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government survey has found that boys are more fussy about their clothes than girls.

This fact turned up in a check made by the Agriculture Department to determine the attitude of teen-agers toward natural fibers, cotton and wool, and synthetic fibers, such as rayon and nylon.

Interviews with 1,691 teen-age girls and 1,649 teen-age boys in various parts of the country showed that 33 per cent of the girls and 37 per cent of the boys were interested in selecting their clothes because they wanted to wear the right style.

Likewise, 23 per cent of the girls classified themselves as "very particular and fussy" about their clothes compared with 27 per cent of the boys.

Cotton and wool were heavily preferred over the man-made fibers for most clothing items.

World Reacts to Soviet Shift

By The Associated Press

The sudden fall from power of Nikita S. Khrushchev stunned world leaders and men on the street around the world. The abrupt shake-up triggered reactions ranging from calm to alarm.

Speculation was widespread among government officials, diplomats and in the press over the new leaders, Communist party head Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin. Would they follow Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence or steer the country on a new, radical course?

Much of it, both in the East and West, centered on the feeling that at the heart of Khrushchev's removal was the bitter Chinese - Russian conflict and a resulting loss of Soviet prestige in the Communist movement.

"He accepted an open breach in the Communist front rather than subscribe to China's theory of the inevitability of war," said the London Daily Express.

Observers in Tokyo believed the change could pave the way toward some form of reconciliation between the Soviet Union and Red China.

PERSONAL VICTORY

It was felt that Chinese Chairman Mao Tze-tung would regard the development as a personal victory, leaving him as international communism's most authoritative figure.

But Red China reported Khrushchev's removal with no immediate comment. The Peking People's Daily carried the story under the headline "Khrushchev Steps Down."

The Japanese news agency Kyodo reported in a distpatch from Peking that a series of conferences began in the Chinese Foreign Ministry soon after 8 a.m. today.

In Taipei, capital of Nationalist China, the consensus was that Moscow would still reject Peking's view that communism should risk nuclear war for world domination.

ITALY DISPATCH

Italy's Communist party, the largest in Western Europe, warned in a communique in Rome that it would not support any return to hardline Stalinist tactics by Khrushchev's successors.

In Yugoslavia, whose President Tito has been pro-Khrushchev, there was dismay among people in the streets of Belgrade.

Communist leaders of Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania and Bulgaria were expected to mark time until the new leaders make their policies known.

Observers in Vienna felt they would at least suspend the liberalization policies they have been carrying on to varying degrees.

UNCERTAIN STATE

Denmark's Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag said the change plunged the world into a state of uncertainty. He said that world politics would remain on an uncertain course until the policies of Khrushchev's successors are fully known.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said Khrushchev was no friend of Germany's but that "He had become interested in maintaining peace." Brandt said he felt the new men would continue to work toward peace.

Canadian Foreign Minister Paul Martin expressed the hope that the change would mean a "continuation of the policy . . . that tended toward a detente, toward an easing in the conflicting positions between East and West."

But informed sources said the first reaction within Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's cabinet was fear that the new Soviet leaders might try to patch up Russia's quarrel with Communist China.

Two Sides to Meet in Paper Strike

DETROIT (AP) — A meeting between publishers and the striking Plate and Paper Handlers Union was on tap today in the 95th day of the tie-up of Detroit's two daily newspapers.

Striking Local 10 of the Plate and Paper Handlers Union agreed to the meeting Thursday night at the publishers' invitation.

At the same time, neither the handlers nor their striking sister union, the Printing Pressmen, had accepted proposals for a means of ending the walkout, including arbitration accompanied by an end to the strike.

The publishers also proposed a meeting Saturday with the pressmen. The pressmen gave no immediate answer.

The publishers-plate handlers meeting was the first action in the long deadlock since a governor's commission recommended binding arbitration earlier in the week and the publishers accepted Thursday.

The Detroit News, an afternoon paper, and the morning Detroit Free Press have been closed since the two craft unions went on strike July 13 in a dispute over new contract terms.

The custom of wearing bridal veils originated with the ancient Greeks, who thought that the veil would be a protection for the bride against evil spirits flying around during the marriage ceremony.

Medicare Tax? No ☐
Health Care for the Elderly? Yes ☑

Let's look at the facts about the proposed Medicare Tax...and a medical care program for the aged that already exists!

What's the hurry here? The supporters of the proposed Medicare Tax would have you believe that passage of this controversial bill is urgent... that persons over 65 are deprived of needed medical care because they can't pay for it.

Nothing could be further from the truth. A health program is available in your community now that provides to every elderly person who needs it the health care he or she requires.

We call this health program . . . Health Opportunity Program for the Elderly. People every day are being helped by its generous benefits. And, unlike Medicare, which would substantially increase your Social Security Tax payroll deductions, this progam is already being paid for by a part of your present tax dollar!

Medicare Tax? No. Health Care for the Elderly? Yes! For more information on this program, ask your doctor.

Calls It Best Way to Fight Communists

Birch Chief Advises Use of Red Tactics

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This second of two articles on the mysterious John Birch Society deals with the group's stands on various persons and issues.)

By MYRON FEINSILBER

United Press International

Robert H. W. Welch Jr., the founder and leader of the John Birch Society, believes the best way to fight the Communists is to adopt their tactics.

And he believes one of their cleverest tactics has been to coin catchy slogans and repeat them in public often enough that everybody is saying and repeating them.

He cites some examples:

"I like Taft, but can he win?", Welch said, was a Communist slogan, useful in depriviing the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of the Republican presidential nomination in 1952. That election was a turning point, Welch believes. Taft, as president, could have stopped Communist subversion, he said. Now, acting outside of government, private citizens must save the country, he said. He believes that even the Central Intelligence Agency is Communist-controlled.

ANOTHER SLOGAN

Another Communist - inspired slogan, Welch believes, was "I can't stand Roosevelt but we must support him because of his foreign policy." He believes this slogan helped Franklin D. Roosevelt win a third term as president.

The Communists, Welch says, were responsible for spreading this slogan against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy: "I agree with everything he's doing but I don't like his methods."

And, back in 1919, the Communist may have inspired President Woodrow Wilson to use the slogan: "Make the world safe for democracy."

INFLUENCE U.S. POLITICS

Communists, he says, have been active in influencing America's policies since 1912 and may have inspired Wilson to press for adoption of the graduated income tax, the direct election of senators and the creation of the federal reserve system.

The trouble with "making the world safe for democracy," Welch says, is that it promotes the idea that America is a democracy. Actually, he says, it is a republic — a representative form of government.

To counter this, the John Birch Society promotes a slogan of its own: "This is a republic, not a democracy. Let's keep it that way."

The slogan has appeared on millions of pieces of Birch-society mail. The society is reported to have spent $33,000 on postage for sending out its publications in 1962.

'IMPEACH WARREN'

Another Birch slogan — and the major Birch society's political goal — is "Impeach Earl Warren." In 1961, Bryton Barron, a field representative of the society, said impeachment of the chief justice had become the society's No. 1 project because Warren had "voted 92 per cent of the time in favor of Communists and subversives."

The next year, Welch reported the society had erected more than 100 "Impeach Earl Warren" billboards.

Last month, in his monthly bulletin to members, Welch reported on the drive.

"We seek to have the chief justice impeached because of the huge ragged holes that the Supreme Court under his leadership has punched in the consituation in violation of his oath to uphold it," he wrote.

DESTROY SAFETY

"We believe that the Warren court is gradually destroying all of the safeguards which made this a republic instead of a mobocracy."

The bulletin reproduces several pictures of "Impeach Earl Warren" billboards. One sign flat on the ground 20 miles west of Phoenix, Ariz., in huge letters designed to be seen from an airplane. "If standing upright it would be as tall as a ten-story building," the bulletin notes.

Another photograph shows an "Impeach Warren" sign that had been burned. "Similar billboards all over the country have been burned or hacked to pieces — in some instances as many as four times, as a new billboard was set up to replace the one destroyed," the bulletin reports. "By Whom?" it asks.

Several congressmen have reported receiving a large number of letters — from constituents and from all over the country — calling for impeachment of the chief justice.

CHIEF ACTIVITY

Letter-writing campaigns are a chief Birch society activity. Welch has reported the society has initiated them on 300 different goals.

Besides calling for Warren's removal, the society has asked its members to oppose: New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, United Nations Ambassador Adali E. Stevenson ("apostle of appeasement"); Civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr., newspaper columnist Walter Lippmann, union leader Walter Ruther, former ambassador to Veit Nam Henry Cabot Lodge, foreign aid, flouridation of water, the Civil Rights Act of 1964 ("this bill . . . has all the mechanics and powers needed for, and will mark the beginning of, the police state in America . . . this police state will be, and is planned to be, run by the Communist), UNICEF, the income tax, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), and the United Nations ("get US out of the U.N. and the U. N. out of the U.S." is another society slogan).

Welch believes that a chief Communist tactic is the "principle of reversal." Under this principle, the Communists condemn what they are really for in order to get the free world to rally to its support.

Thus he believes the Communists wanted the late United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to remain in office when they started their drive to replace him with a "troika" at the U.N.

FOUGHT RETENTION

Welch believes the United States played into Communists hands when it vigorously fought for the retention of Hammarskjold.

Another Birch society device which Welch acknowledges was borrowed from the Communists is the creation of "front" organizations. The New York Post, a liberal newspaper, in a study of the society in 1961 identified some of them as the Committee to Impeach Earl Warren, the Committee to Investigate Communist Influences at Vassar (college) and the Committee Against Educating Traitors at Government Expense.

Last week, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate, said that when he lent his name to the Committee Against Summit Entanglement in 1959 he did not know it was a Birch front organization.

John Rousselot, a former congressman from California and public relations director for the Birch society, said the committee was "one of the large national front organizations" of the society.

The Birch society conducted a postal card campaign in 1959 aimed at convincing President Eisenhower not to meet Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at the summit conference in Paris.

The society asked its members to send thousands of postal cards to the President with this message:

"Dear President Eisenhower: If you go, don't come back. Sincerely."

Besides using fronts, Birch members are advised to join established community groups — such as parent-teachers associations and chambers of commerce—and move into positions of leadership within them.

Welch once advised members through his monthly bulletin: "Join your local PTA at the beginning of the school year and go to work and take it over."

LITTLE INFLUENCE

Perhaps one reason the society has not noticeably managed to influence national policies is its isolation from more orthodox conservative movements. Goldwater has declined to reject the support of the society on the grounds that it, like he, is opposed to communism, but he has said that Welch has "said stupid things."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has called on fellow Republicans to withdraw from the society "because of its totalitarian make-up." He characterized Welch's statements as those of "a would-be dictator."

And the National Review, a leading conservative magazine edited by William Buckley Jr., said in an editorial:

"Mr. Welch, for all his good intentions, threatens to divert militant conservative action to irrelevance and ineffectuality . . . Mr. Welch has revived in many men the spirit of patriotism, and that same spirit now calls for the rejecting, out of love of truth and country, his false counsels."

LETTER OF PRAISE

The editorial drew a letter of praise from Sen. Goldwater and another from Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., a conservative. Goldwater suggested that Welch resign.

Birch members have a spotty record of success at the polls. Some have been elected but others, like Rousselot, have been defeated after being identified as members of the society.

Of all of Welch's published statements, none is better known than his characterization of President Eisenhower as "a dedicated, conscious agent of the Communist conspiracy."

(The whole quotation is: "But my firm belief that Dwight Eisenhower is a dedicated, conscious agent of the Communist conspiracy is based on an accumulation of detailed evidence so extensive and so palpable that it seems to me to put this conviction beyond any reasonable doubt.")

STATEMENT CITED

Welch has not denied writing it, but he protests it is "unethical journalism and a brazen violation of my property rights" to quote it. He argues it was in a private manuscript sent to a number of his friends for suggested corrections. The quote was softened when the book was published under the title, "The Politician."

Welch also wrote, in that manuscript: "In my opinion the chances are very strong that Milton Eisenhower is actually Dwight Eisenhower's superior and boss within the Communist Party."

His body will be at his home where a prayer service will be conducted at 1 p.m. Sunday.

Surviving are his wife, Beryl; two sons, Tom and Anthony, both of Leonard; his father, father, Floyd of North Branch; two sisters; a stepbrother and a stepsister.

FRED K. REIDEL

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Service for Fred K. Reidel, 61, of 5620 Valentine will be 2:30 p.m. tomorrow at Spencer J. Heeny Funeral Home, Farmington. Burial will be in North Farmington Cemetery.

Mr. Reidel died Wednesday after a long illness.

Surviving are his wife, Isabelle; three daughters, Mrs. Virginia Hospodar of Chicago, Mrs. Josephine Cooper of Clarkston and Antoinette, at home; two brothers; four sisters; and a granddaughter.

MRS. FINLEY S. STEEVES

SOUTHFIELD — Service for Mrs. Finley S. (Ida A.) Steeves, 48, of 30000 Southfield will be 3 p.m. tomorrow at Spaulding & Curtin Funeral Home, Ferndale. Burial will follow in Oakview Cemetery, Royal Oak.

Mrs. Steeves died yesterday after an illness of 18 months.

She was a member of the Temple Baptist Church, Detroit.

Surviving are four sons, Eugene T. Clines of Pontiac, Bruce S. of Hazel Park, Allen G. and Romie J. Thweatt, both of Battle Creek; a daughter, Mrs. Raymond D. Davis of Detroit; a sister; and four grandchildren.

JOHN L. STEVENSON

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Requiem Mass for former resident John L. Stevenson, 64, of Detroit will be 9 a.m. tomorrow at St. Michael's Church, Pontiac. Burial will follow in Oxbow Cemetery.

A retired tool and die engineer, Mr. Stevenson died Wednesday after a short illness.

Surviving are a son, John S., and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Ellen Tadish, both of Miami, Fla.

Commission to Get Report on Hospital

A study recommending expanded rehabilitation and mental health programs at Pontiac General Hospital was ordered sent to the City Commission last night.

The hospital's board of trustees said the report, made by United Community Services (UCS) of Metropolitan Detroit, should be "distributed" to the commission.

Trustees listened to a report from the long-term planning committee of the medical staff that favored the new facility.

The staff committee said that expanded services could not be offered in the hospital's present building.

The UCS study recommended expansion of Pontiac General's mental health programs "to provide additional inpatient services."

MENTAL HEALTH

Further mental health programs, according to the study, should be planned in cooperation with the County Mental Health Services Board and the Michigan Department of Mental Health.

In calling for expanded inpatient and outpatient physical rehabilitation programs, the UCS study cautioned against duplication of services, referring to expanded facilities projected at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Pontiac General's staff committee felt a strong need for a rehabilitation unit of a minimun of 40 beds.

The UCS study did not cover the possibility of plant expansion to accommodate the new services.

However, the staff committee said a new unit could house both rehabilitation programs and mental health services, along with perhaps research laboratory facilities.

2 Area Teens Hurt in Crash

Hospitalized were Jerry Watson, of 3610 Delano, driver of the car, and Lynn H. Ricketts, 17, of 5684 Hillsboro, Springfield Township.

Sheriff's deputies said the car was traveling south on North Oxford Road when the accident occurred at 4:45 p.m. just south of Ray.

Watson suffered head injuries and a broken leg. The girl suffered internal injuries and facial cuts.

Ex-Constable of Farmington on Probation

A former Farmington constable yesterday was placed on three years probation for embezzling about $1,400 while he was employed by the city.

In addition, Arthur L. Forgette, 53, was ordered by Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn to pay restitution and court costs of $100.

The exact amount of restitution has not been determined since an audit has not been completed.

Forgette, a grandfather, pleaded guilty Sept. 21 to taking the funds, which were judgments he collected while he was constable.

Farmington Police Chief Maurice D. Foltz said Forgette would fail to turn in the fees to the court, claiming he had been unable to locate the persons from whom they were to be collected.

TAKING MONEY

A constable since 1957, Forgette, according to Foltz, had been taking the money since the first of this year.

Forgette voluntarily surrendered to police in September, two months after the charge had been brought against him. He said he had been in California.

According to Foltz, Forgette disappeared from his home at 1967 Maple, Walled Lake, the day after he had been relieved of his duties by the City Council, which had decided to assign the job to a full-time policeman.

Successfully Restart N-Rocket Reactor

JACKASS FLATS, Nev. (AP) — A Nerva NRX A2 nuclear rocket reactor has been successfully restarted, demonstrating a valuable capability to allow future nuclear rocket engines to be switched off and on in space.

The Atomic Energy Commission's space nuclear propulsion office announced that the reactor was restarted Thursday at this test facility and that it ran at low power for about 20 minutes.

Kent County Strikes '64 Unemployment Low

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Unemployment in Kent County last month struck only 3,200 persons, or 2.2 per cent of the total work force of 148,000, the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported Thursday.

It was the lowest figure of 1964, matching that of last November, but excluded a strike by the United Auto Workers Union against General Motors Corp. whose three plants here employ approximately 6,100 persons.

Navy Rates Polaris as Good Until '80s

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The Navy believes the present Polaris submarine missile will be an effective weapon system until the early 1980s.

Advance systems under study include missiles powered by nuclear energy or exotic fuels; deep - diving submarines which could hug the ocean floor, and deployment of large remote-control missiles in submerged tubes anchored in the sea.

India has set a goal of establishing 8,200 family planning clinics by 1966. The country has already established more than 1,800.

City Man Robbed on Way to Work

Vernon Couch, 57, of 740 St. Clair told police he was robbed of $2,469 at 6 a.m. yesterday while walking on St. Clair near Montcalm.

Couch, who was on his way to work, said he was struck on the head by an unidentified assailant who fled with Couch's wallet.

According to Couch, the money represented savings he planned to use for construction of a patio.

Pontiac School Affairs

Board Expresses Thanks

Resolutions honoring those who participated in the Pontiac school district's millage campaign were approved by the school board last night.

Certificates of appreciation will go to members of the Pontiac School Study Committee, Dr. Robert R. Turpin, general chairman.

Various local businessmen, unions, professional associates and businesses will also receive the official thanks of the School Board.

The School Board's request for renewal of the 8.75-mill extra voted tax levy was approved by a 5-1 margin by voters at a special election Oct. 2.

In other business last night, official enrollment figures were presented for the 1964-65 school year, showing an increase of 269 students over last year.

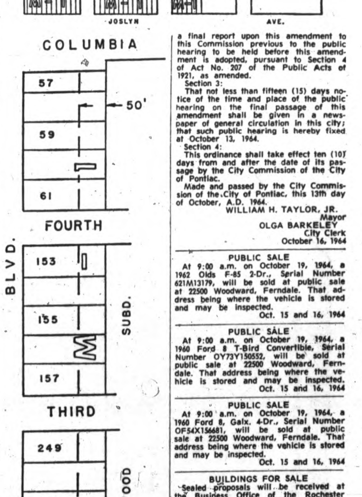
FIGURES CLIMB

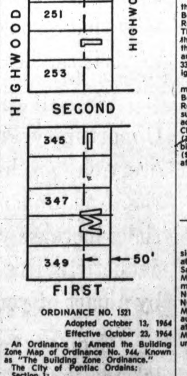
Senior high school enrollment climbed from 3,810 to 3,955 this year, junior high from 4,732 to 4,877, while elementary pupils dropped from 13,499 to 13,478.

School officials listed total enrollment for the current school year at 22,310, up from last year's 22,041.

Richard C. Fell, assistant superintendent for business and staff personnel, reported that plans still call for the new school administration building to open Dec. 1.

The building, now under construction, is located next to city hall on the east leg of Wide Track.





ORDINANCE NO. 1521

Adopted October 13, 1964
Effective October 23, 1964

An Ordinance to Amend the Building Zone Map of Ordinance No. 944, Known as "The Building Zone Ordinance."

The City of Pontiac Ordains:

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater said today "there just are no simple solutions to the mess . . . in agriculture" and the present administration should be "honest enough to stop trying to patch up a worn-out program."

The Republican presidential nominee, in a speech for the National Corn Picking Contest, added: "We must seek the best ways open to us to bridge the gap between the controlled agriculture we now have and the free agriculture we must move toward."

The speech came as Goldwater plunged back into the Midwest farm belt — where he campaigned Tuesday and Wednesday — after a quick swing into Texas. He stopped at Sioux City, Iowa, before coming to the corn picking contest.

The Sioux Falls speech was billed by Goldwater aides as a major farm speech.

FEW PROGRAMS

But the speech contained few specific programs and concentrated heavily on criticism of Democratic farm policies.

Goldwater pledged to call on the aid of people who know agriculture.

"My secretary of agriculture will be a man with experience in farming, a man who knows what it's like to plow a furrow and to have dirt on his hands," Goldwater said. "He will not be a defunct governor, trained as a city lawyer and looking for a political handout."

As he has previously, Goldwater pledged to "seek out the advice of farmers and farm organizations across the country, to find ways to make a sound and healthy transition away from controls."

CALLED FOR END

The Arizona senator, who has called for an end to farm price supports, repeatedly reassured farmers this would be done gradually, denying he favored an immediate end to them.

"I will never jerk the rug from under the American farmer," he said. "We must not scrap existing programs until we are sure we have something better to substitute for them."

Goldwater promised to work toward "a free and prosperous American agriculture."

He added: "We will do this by encouraging research to create new industrial uses for farm products. We will do this by encouraging the expansion of markets throughout the free world. And we will do this by freeing farmers from the arbitrary controls of bureaucrats."

Goldwater held a closed strategy session Thursday night in a Houston hotel with aides to plot campaign tactics for the final 10 days with his top aides. There was no indication after the session as to what was discussed.

Overcharge by Frenchmen Is Charged by Travelers

By EARL WILSON

PARIS — Now that it's over, how was it . . . your vacation?

If you were gouged, overcharged, double-charged, misled, deceived, insulted or taken advantage of by somebody in such a way as to spoil your vacation, now is the time to start squawking so it won't happen to you again next year.

You become conscious of this worry about vacations here in Paris where the French are more vacation-conscious than we are.

It was a bad year for vacations in France. The French hotels and restaurants were even cheating the Frenchmen. In previous years they seemingly limited themselves to cheating Americans. There weren't so many Americans around this year so they cheated their own people, and their own people rebelled.

Angry readers wrote in listing their complaints. They mentioned that a restaurant, for example, charged one franc, about 20 cents, for a slice of lemon.

"For a franc, I could have bought several lemons and had enough lemon slices for a week," one complainant said.

There is the utmost confusion now in Paris, for the annual auto show glutted the city with travelers. The major hotels have their lobbies filled with people waving their fists which are clutching "confirmed reservations" which the hotels won't acknowledge.

And this offers more opportunity for gouging.

Comedian Marty Allen, the "Hello, Dere" guy, has a brother-in-law here, Fred Treidell, a Frenchman, who feels that everybody should carefully check a restaurant bill, making sure the addition is correct.

But he also gets back the menu in checking it, to make sure the waiter has charged him the price listed on the menu. You see, he's very cynical.

And he squeals with glee when he finds he's being gouged.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN NEW YORK . . .

Liz Taylor and Richard Burton were given an enormous reception on their arrival in Paris, with 15 gendarmes on hand to protect them. Film publicist Morgan Hudgins — who handled Grace Kelly's wedding — says the Burtons' welcome was the biggest turnout of press and the biggest crush of people he ever saw.

Darryl Zanuck, his dtr., Susan and her husband Andre Hakim attended the wedding reception of Zanuck's protegee, Irina Demick, in Paris, to wish her luck. Would Irina, who wed a wealthy Swiss, give up pictures?: "Well, when I have a baby, maybe yes."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Knowledge is power — if you have it about the right people." — Anon.

EARL'S PEARLS: Henna Arond Zacks suggests a slogan for the Beatles' hairdresser: "Remember the Mane."

Jack Benny says he saw the new TV ratings, and adds: "I'm so happy about them, I feel 38 again." . . . That's earl, brother.

Accreditation Is Renewed

Hospital trustees were informed last night that Pontiac General Hospital has been approved by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

Hospital administrator Harold B. Euler reported that the hospital had received three-year renewal of its accreditation.

In other business, formal resolutions were approved for two employes for their actions during a recent small fire at the hospital.

Euler said that Charles Riley and Mrs. Mabel Morgan acted quickly when the fire broke out and possibly prevented a disaster.

Riley, 105 East Strathmore, had the fire nearly out by the time firemen arrived.

QUICK ACTION

He used a hand extinguisher, while Mrs. Morgan, 4749 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township, quickly closed windows to prevent the fire from spreading.

2 Men Rob Gas Station

Two men staged an armed holdup of the Tulsa service station, 701 S. Saginaw, yesterday at 8:10 p.m. and escaped with $40 in cash.

The two fled south on Woodward in a 1960 dark blue Ford with an Ohio license plate, Shaver told police.

Waterford Board Approves Selling of School Bonds

Sale of $2 million in school bonds has been approved by the Waterford Township Board of Education.

The bonds are the remainder of the $6.25 million bond issue for school construction approved at the polls in June, 1963.

The bonds were sold in two sections of $1 million each with low bidders awarded the contract in both the 25-year and the 3-year term sales.

Community National Bank was lowest of six bidders for the 25-year term sale with an average interest rate of 2.407229 for a total interest cost of $33,300.

John Neuveen Co. of Chicago was lowest of six bidders for the 25-year term sale with an average interest of 3.4609 per cent and a total interest cost of $469,412.

'Gator Tires of It All, Sees the World's Fair

New College Gets 2nd Loan

OK $10,000 Advance for County Institution

A second loan of $10,000 in lieu of tax receipts has been approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission for Oakland County's community college.

The latest loan brings borrowed funds to $20,000 so far. The college has not yet begun receiving revenue from a one-mill countywide tax levied this year.

A state appropriation of $415,560 has also been awarded the college from a $4-million state fund for junior and community colleges.

In other business Thursday, the college board hired Richard Perry, 44, of 94 Manor, Birmingham, as a research assistant for three months.

Perry, a graduate student at Wayne State University, is studying community college administration on a grant from the Kellogg Foundation.

Dr. Tirrell, reported that despite the lack of classrooms the college has had at least 20 applications from students.

St. Louis Takes Finale, 7-5

Cards Use Timely Hitting, Yank Errors in Series Win

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The New York Yankees hit most of the home runs. The St. Louis Cardinals got most of the timely hits.

The American League champions lost their pitching ace, Whitey Ford, after the first game, with an arm injury that was kept secret until the final game. The Cardinals' pitching ace, Bob Gibson, performed brilliantly in an iron-man role.

This, in a nutshell, is why the Cardinals are the champions of baseball today after having won the seventh and final game of the World Series from the Yankees 7-5 Thursday.

This is why the Cardinals maintained their unblemished record of never having lost a full length World Series.

It was their fifth such series victory, their seventh in 10 post season classics and their third in five head-to-head meetings with the Yankees.

WHOOP IT UP

And now the victorious Cardinals and the near capacity crowd of 30,346 at Busch Stadium whooped it up after Gibson had ended the game by disposing of Bobby Richardson on a soft popup to second baseman Dal Maxvill.

Trumpets blared, horns tooted, partisan St. Louis rooters shouted themselves hoarse and hundreds poured out on the field as the deliriously happy white-uniformed players jumped all over each other.

The players embraced Gibson, who had literally pitched his arm off with only two days rest. They hugged Manager Johnny Keane, who finally had a world championship after 27 years of managing. They hugged Ken Boyer, whose big bat had been instrumental in all three run-scoring innings. They hugged Maxvill, the utility infielder who had done such a fine job filling in for the ailing Julian Javier.

They hugged catcher Timmy McCarver, the Cards' most consistent and outstanding hitter in the series. They hugged Butch Yatkeman, the little clubhouse man, who has been with the club longer than anybody else. They hugged each other.

It was the biggest day the city of St. Louis has enjoyed since they last won a pennant and a World Series in 1946.

All six previous games were wrapped up in Thursday's finale. As before, the Yankees hit more homers, made more errors, while the Cards got the timely hits and took advantage of the enemy's lapses.

The Yankees slammed three home runs, by Mickey Mantle, Clete Boyer and Phil Linz. But they committed two errors and were guilty of other loose play which does not show in the box score.

The Cardinals, on the other hand, hit two home runs — by Lou Brock and Ken Boyer — but erred only once and played daringly, aggressively and smartly. They out hit the Yankees by only 10 to nine, but turned seven of their hits into runs.

On the other hand, the Yankees failed to score in the first five innings although they had (Continued on Page C-8, Col. 2)

Michigan's Cawley Takes Gold Medal

Rex Triumphs in 400-Meter Hurdles Event

Detroiter Henry Carr First in Qualifying; 42 Medals for U. S.

From Our Wire Services

A pair of track stars from the state of Michigan, Rex Cawley of Farmington and Henry Carr of Detroit, led the U.S. track forces through finals and qualifying rounds of the World Olympics at Tokyo yesterday.

American marksmen also added to the growing U.S. horde of Olympic hardware pushing the United States total to 42 medals—19 gold, 11 silver and 12 bronze.

The 24-year-old Cawley, who had been troubled by a leg ailment through the first two rounds and couldn't find his footing on the first seven hurdles, straightened out on the way home and won the 400-meter hurdles in 49.6 seconds, the sixth straight time a Yankee runner had taken that particular Olympic title.

Carr, who holds the world record for the 200 meters, ran eased up in his heat and finished second in 21 seconds flat, easily good enough to advance, but well off his 20.2 record.

MOVES UP

Paul Drayton of Cleveland made the best showing of the American 200-meter men, winning his first heat in 20.7. Dick Stebbin of Los Angeles also advanced, though finishing second behind defending champion Livio Berruti of Italy.

Medal Winner Job Hunting

TOKYO (AP)—Anybody got a job opening for an Olympic gold medalist?

If so, contact Warren Rex Cawley of the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, winner of the 400-meter hurdles at the Tokyo Games.

"What am I going to do now?" the crew-cut timber topper asked Friday, fondling the shiny gold medal that he won in his first Olympic effort.

"I'm going back and start looking for a job," said the graduate of Farmington High School.

Cawley said that, although he's majoring in marketing at Southern Cal, he wants to be a television or radio announcer.

"This medal may open some doors," he said, "but it's not going to put any money in that envelope."

Troubled with a sore leg ever since he came to Tokyo and once fearful he might not be able to compete, Cawley put on a powerful late burst to beat out John Cooper of Great Britain and Salvator Morale of Italy, the world record-holder.

The race itself, Cawley said, wasn't as taxing as the period just preceding it.

"The tension of competing in the Olympics is indescribable," the 24-year-old hurdler said.

"Two hours before the race you do everything but climb walls. The pressure bears heavily on your mind and saps your strength. I was no nervous I couldn't stay still.

"Then once the gun goes off, the dam breaks and the tension eases, I didn't see anything but the tape."

STAYS FIT

"That's tommyrot—greatly exaggerated," he said. "If you're well trained and in good condition, the race itself is a breeze. At least, I think so. It's the period before the race that really gets you."

Cawley, son of a tool and die maker, grew up in Farmington, Mich., where he started running his last year in high school after being cut from both the football and basketball squads before he got a chance to show what he could do.

"We had three Warrens in my sixth grade class and the teachers weren't inclined to call you 'Mister Cawley.' So one of the guys got tagged 'Ace' or 'Spike' or something, and I wound up as 'Rex.' "

HITS THE TAPE—Rex Cawley of Farmington hits the finish line at the end of the 400 meter hurdles in the Olympics to win in a time of 49.6 seconds. He was troubled with a leg injury in the semifinals. John Cooper of Great Britain was second and Salvatore Morale of Italy was third.

St. Louis Pitcher Former Pro Cager

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Right-hander Bob Gibson is a former pro basketball Harlem Globetrotter who's still a cut-up. He's seldom serious — always ready with a quip.

"I hope you have a bad day," he grinned at Yankee starter Mel Stottlemyre, when photographers asked them to pose before Thursday's World Series game.

But when the teams took the field, it was a different Gibson — a serious, intense tall man with a job to do.

The fireballing right-hander kept the New Yorkers swinging wildly for five innings while his teammates built up a 6-0 lead. And Gibson, who went 10 tough innings Monday in a 5-2 Cardinal victory at New York, held on for the 7-5 edge Thursday that made the Redbirds world champions.

SETS RECORD

Gibson set the World Series strikeout record by fanning nine Yankees for a total of 31 in the Series, breaking the mark of 28 set by W. H. Dinneen in 1903. He won the last two games for the Cardinals in the Series and was named the outstanding player in the Series, which won him a 1965 auto.

But afterward, Gibson was his usual self.

"It's nice to know I set a World Series strikeout record," he told reporters, "but I'd rather have the money."

He had a bottle of champagne in his hand and grinned between gulps.

He "threw his heart out for us," Manager Johnny Keane said.

"Gibson got a real good start," Keane said, "and that's why I left him in — when I saw how strong he was going and how courageously he was throwing. When the Yankees hit him, they hit his good stuff."

Mickey Mantle cut the Cardinals lead to 6-3 with a three-run homer in the sixth inning, and it might have been that Gibson was tiring.

With a 7-3 lead in the ninth, Clete Boyer and Phil Linz hit solo homers to close the gap, but Gibson got Bobby Richardson on a popup to end the game and the Series.

"Gibson surprised us with his stamina," said Yankee Manager Yogi Berra. "He has that good fast ball."

Leafs Take 5-3 Verdict

Wings Lose in Debut

By JERE CRAIG

Ted Lindsay was noticeable by his presence but Bill Gadsby was also noticeable by his absence as the Detroit Red Wings made an unsuccessful debut Thursday night.

A record opening night Olympia Stadium crowd of 14,323 roared a welcome back to the 39-year-old ex-National Hockey League great, but the Wings dropped a 5-3 verdict to the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Perhaps spurred by the long, deafening ovation for Lindsay in the pregame introductions, the two teams opened their attacks and fought to a 3-3 tie in a hectic first period.

More of the same appeared in the offing when Toronto's Ron Stewart scored at the 44-second mark of the second stanza for a 4-3 lead.

The Maple Leafs, who defeated Detroit four games to three for the Stanley Cup last April, then tightened their defense in front of goalie Johnny Bower.

When Ron Pulford's hard shot from beyond the blue line got past goal tender Roger Crozier of the Wings with Toronto shorthanded in the first minute of the final session, the die was cast for a lack-lustre closing period.

CONSERVATIVE

The Maple Leafs then contented themselves with conservative hockey that had the Red Wing attackers struggling to organize their offense.

When Al Langlois (fighting) and Doug Barkley (hooking major) drew five-minute penalties in the first 10 minutes of play, only rookies Gary Bergman and Bob Wall, plus veteran Marcel Pronovost were available for the back line.

Andy Bathgate (6:42) and Red Kelly (9:54) scored with the Leafs having a man advantage. Langlois made a solo dash down the ice to narrow the deficit at 12:13, but Don McKenney pushed Toronto up 3-1 28 seconds later.

The Leafs encountered penalty trouble in the latter stages of the period and Red Wing power play tallies at 16:48 by Floyd Smith and at 17:56 by newcomer Ron Murphy tied the score. Gordie Howe assisted on both of them.

But mistakes by the defense and inept work on offense generally hampered the home team thereafter.

The Wings missed golden opportunities to tie when Howe and Murphy both hit the goal post behind Bower late in the second period on close-in shots.

Lindsay showed surprising speed and bounce on the ice in short stretches of work until he received a 10-minute misconduct following a holding penalty midway through the game.

He had three shots on goal, and once was robbed by Bower who played a strong game. The matter had 39 saves to 25 for the sometimes shaky Crozier.

Defenseman Kent Douglas also sparkled for the Leafs, getting four assists.

Long Ovation

Crowd Cheers Ted

It was Ted Lindsay night at Olympia last night — unofficially.

The popular firebrand came out of retirement to the cheers of a capacity crowd which greeted him with a thundering roar.

It began when the Red Wings skated out to be introduced for the opening game ceremonies. When the announcer spoke his name and the all-time high scoring left winger skated out, the ceremony stopped.

Wearing No. 15, instead of the familiar No. 7 which he carried into the rink battles for years, Linsay stood with head bowed as the cheers continued for more than two minutes.

He promptly was thumped by Leaf defenseman Tim Horton who got a sharp elbow dig in return for his greeting.

GETS SHOVED

In the goal mouth scramble, Linsay fell against the side of the net pinning Leaf goalie Johnny Bower. Bower gave "Terrible Ted" a shove and earned a two minute penalty.

Linsay made the trip to the penalty box in the second period when he lost his stick in the scramble and was playing without it. Referee Vern Buffey gave him the gate for holding and added a 10 minute misconduct when Lindsay chose to debate the call. He was also fined $25.

Coach Sid Abel used Lindsay on power plays, which were frequent in the penalty riddled game, on the fourth line, but spared him penalty killing chores.

He toiled there for three years before retiring after the end of the 1959-60 season.

Lindsay has been keeping in playing trim for some time as the Oldtimers game showed last year. Teamed with Howe in that frolic he looked better than some of the current Wings.

How long the 39-year-old veteran can survive the NHL battles and be effective remains to be seen, but used sparingly he should be helpful.

As a crowd pleaser he lost none of his charm for Detroit Red Wings fans.

Trading Fairly Active

Small Investors Boost Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved higher early today as small investors bought consistently.

Trading was fairly active and there were a few big blocks but most of the buying was in smaller transactions.

The trend was generally higher among steels, motors, nonferrous metals, electrical equipments, airlines, cigarettes, rails, office equipments, aerospace issues and electronics. Chemicals and building materials were mixed.

The changeover in the Russian regime and the narrow victory of the Laborites in the British election seemed to carry no immediate threat to American security markets — judging by the performance of the market.

GM DECLINES

General Motors was off another fraction as the strike continued but Ford, Chrysler and American Motors all gained slightly. The top steelmakers were ahead by narrow margins.

Opening blocks included: Chrysler, up ⅛ at 59⅛ on 5,500.

Thursday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 2.4 to 326.1.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange, with most changes narrow.

Vatican Alters Liturgy Further

Includes Having Priest Face People at Mass

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican announced today that further changes in Roman Catholic worship—including provisions to bring priest and people face to face at Mass—will go into effect next March 7.

A papal-approved instruction distributed at the Vatican Ecumenical Council spelled out liturgy changes affecting more than 500 million Roman Catholics in the world.

The changes becoming effective March 7, the first Sunday of Lent, include requirements:

—That henceforth altars placed in newly built churches face the people so that they can follow services better.

—That the priest face the people when reading the epistole and gospel, now read with the priest facing the altar and with his back to the congregation.

ELIMINATE PARTS

—That the last gospel and prayers after Mass be eliminated so that the service ends with the postcommunion blessing.

—That some of the prayers now said silently by the people during Mass be said aloud or sung.

—That national episcopal conferences decide the text of prayers said by the congregation at Mass.

The worship changes were ordered by the council in its liturgy constitution promulgated last December. It put down guidelines for changes, with many of the details left to a special commission.

FIRST CHANGES

Last Jan. 25, Pope Paul VI authorized the first changes, including use of modern languages instead of Latin, leaving it up to individual national bishops' conferences to set the effective date.

The changes announced today were worked out during the summer by the commission and approved by the Pope Sept. 25.

Among other changes made public today was permission for Roman Catholics to receive communion a second time on Easter and Christmas after receiving it at midnight Masses.

In the past they could receive communion only once. Another change provides that evening devotion services be based on scripture readings. They are now largely based on rosary services with no scriptural readings.

Grain Trading Slow With Mixed Prices

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market was unsettled and prices mixed in slow trade today.

About an hour after the opening soybeans were ¼ to ⅝ cent a bushel lower, November $2.70; wheat ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, December $148½; corn unchanged to ⅛ lower, December $120⅝; oats ¼ higher to ½ cent lower, December 67⅛ cents and rye unchanged to ¼ higher, December $1.27.

MSU Is Completing Programs in 3 Nations

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University has announced it is completing advisory programs in Brazil, India and Taiwan and is starting a new project in Thailand.

The three programs being closed out after four years of assistance have helped the countries in Asia and South America to achieve advances in engineering, agriculture and audio-visual education, MSU officials said.

For Maintaining Boom

Consumer Gets Credit

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—American consumers spent at least $2 billion more this summer than they did in the spring months. So they can claim the credit today for keeping the nation's economy right on its predicted rate of gain.

DAWSON

Some other sectors of the economy slowed a bit in the July-August-September quarter, but the rate at which citizens parted with their money speeded up.

And with the final quarter of the year under way, and hopes high for a record volume of production and spending, 1964 seems sure to see that biggest statistic of them all, the gross national product, hit the record $623 billion that was predicted in January by the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

There are worries and possible roadblocks. The General Motors strike will have to be settled soon or the general economy will suffer. There are the uncertainties of a presidential election. The slowdown in home building is a drag right now. But on balance the prospects are still bright.

CONSUMER SPENDING

The gross national product is the dollar value of all the goods and services produced in the nation. Consumer spending is the biggest item, and sooner or later affects most of the others.

As the final three months started, consumer spending was running at an estimated annual rate of $404.5 billion. The Commerce Department says this was a gain of $8.4 billion (at an annual rate) from the April-May-June quarter when such spending had risen $6.1 billion at an annual rate from the first three months of the year.

Business spending on plant and equipment also rose in the last quarter, by nearly $2 billion at an annual rate. Further gains are hoped for and would give the whole economy a stimulant. Business accumulation of inventory added another $1.7 billion to the annual rate of the gross national product, but this was sharply down from the $3.7 billion increase in the spring quarter.

Federal government spending slipped and construction outlays were almost stationary.

SLOWER PACE

Despite the zeal with which the consumer spent his money, the entire increase of the economy was at a slower pace in the summer months.

In each of the first two quarters of the year, the gross national product was going up at a $9.8 billion clip. The third quarter advance was $8.9 billion.

But it was enough to bring the annual rate to $627.5 billion. With a good final spurt in these final months, the year should average out close to the $623 billion total predicted.

This would be a $39.1 billion advance over 1963's total of $583.9 billion. This year's increase would be well above the $27.7 billion advance of $963 over the previous year's total $556.2 billion.

Rising prices play a part in all of the increases in total output. But the average price increases have been held below 2 per cent a year.

If prices don't spurt in coming weeks — and few think they will — the year's economic gains in constant dollars will run 5 per cent or better above the previous year.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "Will you please advise me how I can invest $500 so I can get good dividends regularly? I have two children and am divorced but receive no benefits from my husband, whose whereabouts is unknown. I work part-time, earning about $40 a week. I will appreciate your advice."

M. R.

A) And I will be glad to give it to a woman in your difficult situation.

I do not believe you should put your $500 in stocks. These fluctuate—sometimes quite widely—and should never be relied on as a backlog of security for you and your children.

I advise you to buy $500 series H Savings Bonds, which will bring you a semi-annual check from the government. The average yield is 2½ per cent for the first 1½ years and then 4 per cent to maturity. They are redeemable at 100 any time after 6 months from issue date upon one month's written notice.

Q) "I own the following: du Pont; Sears, Roebuck; Long Island Lighting; Telephone; Champion Papers; Singer; W. R. Grace & Co.; General Motors; Consolidated Foods. Due to arthritis, I am unable to work and need some cash to carry on. I plan to sell Champion and Singer. I would appreciate your advice."

J. Mc.

A) Please accept my sincere sympathy on your illness. It is very fortunate that you have such a high-grade list of stocks to help you to carry on.

Champion Papers is a fine stock in a group that has not grown greatly in recent years. I believe that in your position you are fully justified in selling these shares.

Singer is a high-grade company which has seen a sharp expansion of earnings since 1958. I dislike the thought of your disposing of a stock as strong as Singer, but with a list as fine as yours, I can make no alternative suggestion.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Congress Begins Probe of the Justice Department

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress takes its first official steps today in an investigation of the Justice Department with the direction still unclear. The investigation may spotlight the James R. Hoffa case. It may ignore it.

Some clues may develop when the names of the 10 congressional investigators are announced.

This announcement — the first move in the investigation —was to come from Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judicary Committee, and Rep. William M. McCulloch of Ohio, the committee's ranking Republican.

Celler already has announced he intends to head the 10-man investigating subcommittee and to keep it away from the case of Hoffa, the Teamsters president. Hoffa has appealed his recent conviction on charges of attempted jury tampering.

BEFORE COURTS

Celler has said that he does not believe the subcommittee should investigate any matter that is still before the courts.

But the Judiciary Committee, when it authorized the investigation last Sept. 22, defeated by a 17-16 vote an amendment that would have eliminated pending court cases from the investigation.

Celler, nevertheless, has insisted that he will do everything to prevent a Hoffa investigation. The make-up of the investigating subcommittee should show whether he may succeed.

Sidney Zagri, chief lobbyist for the union, had been trying for months to persuade congressmen that the Justice Department had used unfair and unconstitutional tactics in prosecuting Hoffa. The Teamsters said government agents had spied on him.

CONSIDERED RESOLUTION

At first the Judiciary Committee considered a resolution authorizing an investigation of the Teamsters' complaint. After some wrangling, a substitute resolution by McCulloch, which did not mention Hoffa was approved.

* * *

"This might be called the Hoffa resolution," Celler told newsmen afterward. "Nobody asked for it except those involved with the Teamsters union.

* * *

"If it had not been for their agitation, there would be no investigation."

The resolution was approved by a vote of 20 to 13.

It Just Needs More Moores!

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — They still have and need doctors at Mercy Hospital but the man most in demand is Tom Moore. He is the maintenance engineer.

The hospital isn't falling apart; it just happens Moore can fix anything from a broken water pipe to an oxygen tent.

Moore even is called into the operating rooms to fix an autoclave (sterilizer) and into the laboratory to see why a researcher's artificial kidney design won't work. He may even make a new part for the kidney in his shop.

Moore says of his job: "I love making things work—stuff nobody else can make work."

Many Times a 'First Lady'

DE WITT, N.Y. (AP) — When Miss Wlora Johnson, former local resident, became the first and only woman engineer employed by Fairfax County, Va., it was only one more step in the pioneer trail she has been blazing for years.

In Dade County, Fla., Miss Johnson was the first woman to be employed as a map clerk. Later, she was the first woman employed by the U.S. Navy as an engineering topographic draftsman on the Island of Guam.

While working for New York State as a highway planning engineer, she was the first woman assigned to work in the field on highway construction.

Make Biggest Burger

To publicize a theatrical production, a bakery and meat company realized a hungry boy's dreams recently when combined talents to produce the world's largest hamburger: 20 pounds of beef, 5 pounds of tomatoes, 10 heads of lettuce, a gallon of mustard and 5 pounds of onions. The roll was 12 feet around.

News in Brief

An adding machine valued at $150 was reported stolen yesterday from Cole's Drugs, 501 S.

Cornelius DeBeer, 2008 Swaranne, West Bloomfield Township, told Pontiac police yesterday that tools valued at $150 were stolen from his car parked at Kennett and Glenwood.
