Selling Pontiac Press to Raise Money for Needy at Christmas

Today is Goodfellow day in Pontiac.

With a goal of at least $5,000 to help needy children and their families have a happier and healthier Christmas, the sale of Pontiac Press Goodfellow newspapers got under way at noon. It will continue until dark.

Kicking off the drive was a parade, led by the Waterford Township High School band.

Following the band were members of the Metropolitan Club, made up of police, firemen mailmen and auxiliary police. Also participating in the Goodfellow sale — for the first time — were women from the General Motors Girls Club.

Assembling at the Public Safety Building, the line of march proceeded west on Pike street to Saginaw, and then over to The Press where the Goodfellows loaded their newspaper bags.

As the actual sale got under way, the band stationed itself on the courthouse steps, playing and singing Christmas caroles.

★ ★ ★

This is the first time since 1926 that the sale started with a parade, said Pontiac Police Sgt. Walter A. Baerwolf, drive chairman.

Some 75 persons, all of whom are identified by large badges, are selling The Press Goodfellow editions.

Money raised through the sale will be used by the Goodfellows to fill Christmas food baskets and to buy clothing, shoes and gifts for underprivileged children.

Mission Termed Success Despite Loss of 'Gordo'

Valuable Data About Manned Flight Relayed Before Cone Sinks

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — A smart little monkey with plenty of stamina was shot 1,700 miles through space today but apparently died in the interest of science in the wastes of the south Atlantic Ocean.

The Mission was called "completely successful" despite the loss of the space traveler.

The monkey, named Gordo was a passenger in the nose cone of a Jupiter intermediate range missile that zipped probably 300 miles high and then plummeted back into the earth's atmosphere at 10,000 miles an hour.

Ships and planes criss-crossed the ocean in the designated impact area, south of Martinique, for hours looking for the nose cone and thet little monkey but finally the search was given up.

Instruments tied to the monkey and which relayed information back to earth proved that prolonged weightlessness is of little harm to living creatures.

The monkey chosen for the mission was one of high intelligence and most of the emotions common to humans. It was regarded as an important experiment leading to eventual space flights by man.

There were squawks despite the scientific nature of the flight. Britain's Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals said the society "views with grave concern and apprehension that monkeys or even any other animal should be used in these experiments."

Brig. Gen. J. A. Barclay, commander of the U.S. Army Ballistic Missile Agency at Huntsville, Ala., announced that the search for the monkey had been abandoned.

"There appears to have been a mishap," he said, in recovery gear with which the nose cone was fitted.

Barclay said army and navy doctors reported they obtained "high-

Flint Arson Suspect Free on $1,500 Bond

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

FLINT—A Teamsters business agent from Flint was free on bond today, and authorities said they had evidence to put him at the scene of a dry cleaning shop arson job which police say cost Frank Kierdorf his life.

But Genesee County Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke wasn't telling just what this evidence was. "This is a matter for the courts and we don't want to try this in the newspapers and prejudice jurors," he said yesterday.

O'Rourke, who was forced to release Jack D. Thompson, 41, four months ago for lack of evidence, rearrested him Friday and charged him with arson.

Thompson, who his associates say was one of Kierdorf's closest friends, demanded examination when he appeared in Flint Municipal Court yesterday afternoon. Examination was set for Dec. 18 and Thompson was released on $1,500 bond.

Yesterday's arrest reopened the mysterious human torch death of Kierdorf, 56, a fellow business agent of Thompson's.

Kierdorf succumbed to head-to-toe burns, which investigators believe he suffered Aug. 3 as he tried to burn down the Latrielle Cleaners plant just outside of Flint.

Waterford Boy Dies in Crash

Killed as Car Hits Tree in West Bloomfield Township

A 17-year-old Waterford Township youth was fatally injured early this morning when the car in which he was riding struck a tree in West Bloomfield Township.

His death and that of a Royal Oak woman who died yesterday in William Beaumont Hospital following an auto accident Thursday brought the county's traffic death total to 87 this year.

Dead are John Leslie Fromm, 17, of 35 Riviera St., and Mrs. Agnes Hoefer, 51, of 4008 Parkview St.

Oakland Highway Toll in '58

Fromm suffered severe head injuries when the car in which he was a passenger overshot a curve on Cooley Lake road at Hunt road and struck a tree at about 1:30 a.m. today.

He was pronounced dead at Pontiac General Hospital at 4:05 a.m. by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. Leon Cobb.

The driver, Captain Frank Wilson, 16, of 1043 Boston Ave., was treated for minor scratches and released. Two other passengers were uninjured.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said the auto was traveling west at an estimated 65 m.p.h. when it struck the tree and spun 45 feet before coming to a stop.

Mrs. Hoefer died of head injuries. Berkley Police said slippery roads caused her car to skid through a stop sign at Edwards street and Coolidge Highway Thursday afternoon.

It collided with a truck driven by Herman W. Yentz, 49, of 717 Bacon St., Monroe. Yentz was uninjured.

C. of C. Says '59 to Be Good Year

Predicts 5 Per Cent Rise in Jobs, Income and Production

WASHINGTON (AP)— In a forecast built on favorable reports from seven key segments of business, the United States Chamber of Commerce has predicted a 5 per cent rise in jobs, production and income in 1959.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, the chamber's chief economist, foresaw a gradual rise to a record national output of around 475 billion dollars next year and added:

"In 1960 we should, with ease, cross the 500 billion dollar mark at today's prices."

An auto industry spokesman hinted that Detroit shortly will issue a revised 1959 production forecast boosting its present 5½ million car estimate — a guess that was made before new models hit the market.

★ ★ ★

However, two experts spoke of a steel work stoppage as possible next July, and Schmidt voiced concern over the possibility that strikes and labor turbulence generally will increase, "particularly if recovery seems firm."

Foreign Envoys Plan Next Move in Berlin

PARIS (AP) — Foreign ministers of the Western Big Three plus West Germany gathered today to plan what to do about Soviet efforts to get them out of West Berlin.

Advance indications were that they would take a firm stand for maintaining Western protection of the anti-Communist city 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

Secretary of State Dulles flew in from Washington at 9:17 a.m. on the presidential plane Columbine III. Before leaving the U. S. capital he had accused Moscow of going back on its own pledges when Premier Khrushchev proposed to make West Berlin an unarmed free city.

Selwyn Lloyd of Britain, Maurice Couve de Murville of France and Heinrich von Brentano of West Germany will meet with Dulles Sunday to begin studying Khrushchev's Thanksgiving Day note.

Any decisions they reach will be reported to foreign ministers of the other 11 Atlantic Alliance nations, who are expected to join in a united front against the Soviet move. The regular December meeting of NATO foreign ministers and other officials opens in Paris Tuesday.

Berlin was not on the official agenda for the NATO meeting but was certain to assume a large place in the discussions. Preliminary talks within NATO have indicated support for a firm stand by the big powers.

There was a wide variety of opinion, however, on just how this firmness should be expressed in the formal answer to Khrushchev. Washington, London and Paris have made it plain in their informal comments that they do not intend to be pressured out of Berlin, where they have maintained troops since the end of World War II by joint agreements signed by the Russians.

Khrushchev gave the West six months to get out of West Berlin. He said if they had not left in that time, he would turn over to Communist East Germany control of Western access to the city. The West refused to recognize or deal with the Red regime.

★ ★ ★

In what has come to be regarded as an annual Soviet threatening note just before the NATO meeting, Russia warned Thursday that any Western attempt to cross East Germany without the satellite regime's permission would be considered aggression against the entire Soviet bloc. A nuclear war could result, the Soviet news agency Tass said.

Dulles left a hospital bed after a week long bout with inflammation of the lower intestine. One observer at the airport when the 70-year-old secretary arrived said he was looking "as well as I have ever seen him."

Dulles was welcomed by representatives of the French Foreign Office and U. S. Ambassador Amory Hougton. He did not make a statement at the airport before driving to Houghton's residence.

Before leaving Washington, Dulles stopped in to see President Eisenhower and then read a statement on the Soviet proposal.

Variety of Gifts Available

Hobbyist Easy to Please

By JANET ODELL

If the man for whom you're buying a Christmas gift has a hobby, you're in luck. You can always buy him something to further this hobby.

Does he ice fish? There's a little red sled called an Ice Pal. It has a raised seat and a deep box for equipment. We think you could put your feet in the box for warmth.

If your husband's den annoys you with the clutter he keeps around, buy him a barrel labeled "junk" and stop fretting. A companion barrel is lettered "Charcoal" and can be used near the grill, whether it's outside or inside.

Even the least fashion-conscious man would enjoy wearing a red challis vest at holiday time. Firecracker red sheepskin lined slippers will keep his feet cozy warm on nights like we've been having.

Handkerchiefs are an ordinary gift, but not when they come in a plastic box with a set of checkers. The top hanky is a red and white checkerboard. Automatic stoppers for liquor bottles are labeled.

Gifts in the stocking stuffer class are available. If he hates to lick stamps, get him a squeeze bottle with sponge top for moistening stamps. Buy him his own roll of sticky tape, complete with dispenser in the same package.

Gardeners will spend happy winter hours with the new Ford 1959 Almanac and Garden Guide.

1 Hurt in Plane Crash at Airport

A single-engine four passenger plane crashed at Pontiac Airport shortly after noon today, injuring one person.

★ ★ ★

The injured man was identified by police as Donald Conner, 53, of 4150 Pontiac Trail, Orchard Lake. He was taken to Pontiac General Hospital with possible neck and head injuries.

Hospital authorities and Oakland County sheriff's deputies said Conner's injuries appeared to be "of a serious nature."

★ ★ ★

It was not immediately known whether anyone else was in the plane with Conner. Other details also were lacking.

A Tiny 'Ape' Fulfills '57 Prediction

By The Associated Press

Shortly after the Russians sent their space dog, Laika, into orbit around the earth in November 1957, Soviet writers predicted apes might be the next passengers aboard a space vehicle. Apes, they said, woud blaze the way for human space travel.

The U.S. Army did the blazing today by sending a monkey named Gordo more than 600 miles out into space in the nose cone of a 50-ton Jupiter missile. Laika died in orbit; Gordo has been given up for lost, presumed dead.

When the Russians launched their dog-carrying Sputnik II, there was much speculation on whether Laika could be brought back to earth alive.

Laika traveled in an orbit which took her some 1,056 miles from the earth at the farthest point and from 190 to 250 miles away at the closest. The Soviet space dog was sealed in a capsule with oxygen and fed artificially. The Russians said she was comfortable to the end when she ran out of oxygen after a week. The capsule later fell into the earth's atmosphere and burned up.

Gordo has been identified as a squirrel monkey, native to Central and South America.

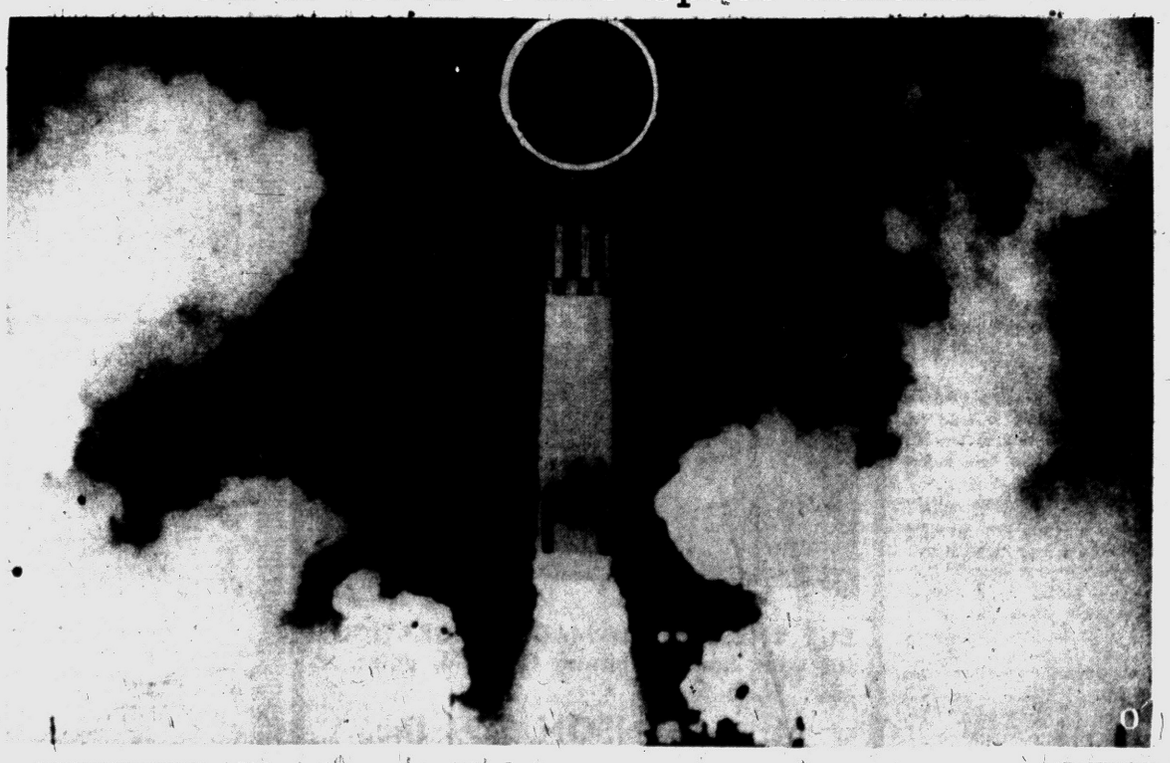

Both U. S. and Soviet scentists have fired monkeys and mice aloft in rockets to comparatively low altitudes of around 80 miles and brought them back to earth.

These were not considered trips into space.

Telephone Book Type Explained

Larger Pontiac Listing Forces Smaller Print, Says Michigan Bell

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. officials today released a statement concerning the size of the type used in the new Pontiac area telephone directory.

The firm has received some complaints because of adopting a smaller type face.

"The type used in the Pontiac Directory was changed from seven point to six point. Six point type is used and has been used in all metropolitan directories throughout the country where size has to be combated. Six point type has been used in the Detroit directory for over 25 years.

"Studies made by the Telephone Company and studies by outside concerns have shown that six point type is legible and readable. Other types of publications such as dictionaries, where size is a problem, use six point and lower. However, telephone directories use a special type called Bell Gothic developed several years ago for directories. It allows more white space and is more legible than other kinds of type.

"We experience some adverse customer reaction whenever this change is made because of the contrast noticeable between the larger type of superseded directory, but our experience has been that later after getting used to six point, little more is heard in the way of adverse criticism.

"In connection with the necessity of making the change, growth in population and in percentage of families having service, which has gone from sixties into the high eighties percentagewise, necessitates continuous attention to the problem of size of directories, that is keeping it to a reasonable size for convenience for customer usage."

ly useful data" on the monkey's physical reactions during the flight.

Telemetered data was received for 13.3 minutes of the brief flight. Measurements were taken of the monkey's heart action, blood pressure, respiration, pulse rate, and voice response, and of the temperature and pressure in the capsule in which the monkey rode.

The Navy used two destroyer escorts, a rescue ship fitted with special gear and several Neptune patrol planes in the unsuccessful attempt to locate and recover the nose cone.

Barclay offered no explanation for the failure of the recovery system. He said it had functioned "perfectly" on three previous flights dating back to August 1957.

The failure in the nose cone apparently sent it to the bottom of the ocean with its simian passenger.

Barclay said earlier the nose cone landed about 15 minutes after its 4 a.m. blastoff at a spot about 1,700 miles down range from the Cape Canaveral launching site.

The 50-ton rocket roared into the starlit sky amid billows of white flame and smoke.

The Army kept a tight cloak of security around the big project until several minutes after launching when it announced simply that "the nose cone of this missile contained a primate on a biomedical experiment."

MADE COMFORTABLE

It was believed the monkey was made quite comfortable for his hectic space flight more than 600 miles above the earth.

A team of top biomedical specialists were waiting at the Cape for word of the monkey's fate.

The monkey, unofficially dubbed "Gordo" after a comic strip character, probably had an adequate oxygen supply and some type of food included in his tight space chamber.

In Washington, the Army said the Navy was assigned to try to locate the cone and its monkey passenger at sea.

This was the 12th time a Jupiter has been launched since March 1957.

★ ★ ★

It blew up for the first time shortly after launching on the last shoot on Oct. 9. In addition to the explosion, there have been six launchings considered completely successful and four partial successes.

Today, the launching appeared perfect. The missile rose straight up, pouring out a huge tail of white flame.

After about 75 seconds it curved, high in the Florida sky, and roared eastward until engine burnout occurred after about three minutes and it disappeared.

The 68-foot Jupiter also provided the booster power for the first Army space probe which sped some 66,000 miles into space before plummeting back to earth after a spectucular launching a week ago.

The Day in Birmingham

Three Home Burglaries Now Under Investigation

BIRMINGHAM—During the past 48 hours Birmingham police have started investigation of three home burglaries.

At the M. B. Whittlesey home, 1383 Washington Blvd., packages wrapped ready for Christmas giving were taken. They included three electric blankets, two plain blankets and a portable radio.

The Whittleseys, police said, are in Florida. The theft was discovered Thursday night by police.

A safe was removed from the Edward C. Faulkner home, 1611 Yorkshire Drive. The safe and a number of valuable papers were recovered yesterday near Dearborn by Wayne County Sheriff's Patrol. The burglary occurred sometime in the 48-hour period.

Birmingham police said they are unable to tell what may have been taken from the safe until they contact Faulkner who is also out of town.

The Fred A. Temple residence, 640 Suffield Rd., was broken into and $200 in cash and three cases of whisky were removed from the premises last night.

Detective Lt. Merlin Holmquist says families going on extended trips should notify the police before leaving. He suggested also that they make arrangements for snow removal and have neighbors take care of the mail.

In addition he asks residents to immediately report any suspicious persons or cars in their neighborhood. He pointed out that the three homes were thoroughly ransacked and that cars or trucks were needed to carry off bulky items.

★ ★ ★

A report to the police could possibly have resulted in the apprehension of the burglars and certainly would have prevented the crime, Holmquist said.

Under the sponsorship of the Unitarian Women's Alliance, four area homes will be opened to the public Dec. 17 for a Christmas tour.

The first is that of Mrs. Elwood P. Engel, 5263 Franklin Rd. Others include the Brooks Marshall home, 1040 Gordon Lane, the Harold Roehm home, 970 W. Lone Pine Rd., and the Edward Rainey home, 25129 Roy Ct., Huntington Woods.

The homes are showing special Christmas decorations, adapted to the architectural style and geographic setting of the homes. Tickets may be purchased at the doors.

Mrs. Ernest Burtraw

Service for Mrs. Ernest (Marguerite Wooster) Burtraw, 65, 247 Oakland Ave., will be at 1 p.m. Monday from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in the Roseland Park Cemetery, Royal Oak.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Burtraw died Friday morning in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after a brief illness.

She was a member of Birmingham Chapter 220 OES, Past Matrons' Club, and St. James Episcopal Church.

She is survived by a son, James W. of Jacksonville, Fla.; daughters Mrs. Robert Mackenzie of Yonkers, N. Y. and Mrs. Gladden W. Redfern of St. John's, Mich.; and two grandchildren.

2 Boys Die at Ontario Crossing

'I Wish I Was Dead,' Says Driver in School Bus Crash

By TOM DYGARD

ESSEX, Ont. (AP)—"I wish I was dead instead of those two boys," driver Albert Slock said after his school bus was rammed yesterday by a speeding passenger train at a crossing outside this southern Ontario town.

Slock and eight of his young passengers were thrown into a snow filled ditch when the New York Central railroad's crack Detroiter, running at 80 m. p. h. to make up lost time, slammed into the bus.

David Purvis, 11, and Paul Bosse, 8, sitting in the rear of the bus, were thrown into a field alongside the tracks and killed.

Although the impact ripped the bus' entire body off its frame and dumped the wreckage with its human cargo upside down, Slock and the eight surviving children escaped without serious injury. One boy was hospitalized with possible leg injuries.

Related Story on Page 8

"It was a miracle they weren't all killed." Those were the words of a priest, an ambulance driver and a doctor who cared for the hurt.

Slock, a 25-year-old bachelor, has been driving the bus two years.

He had about two thirds of normal load of children for the St. Ignace elementary school of Holy Name Catholic parish when he approached the tracks.

Stopping as usual at the foot of the incline that leads up to the tracks about five feet above the level of the road, he peered through frosty windows and fog.

He saw nothing, so he drove up the incline.

"When I saw the train I put on the brakes, but it seemed they wouldn't hold and I started to slide," he said. "When I realized what was happening I gunned her and the motor cut out on me."

Even so, Slock said, he thought he had succeeded in escaping the onrushing train by inches.

Engineer Louis Jagoe, 52, of St. Thomas, Ont., said he believed the train was traveling about 80 miles an hour.

"When I saw the bus through the fog I laid on the whistle and threw the emergency stop," he said.

But the diesel-powered train roared into the bus and sheared off about the last six feet.

"It seemed like a dream," said Bernice Rivest, 11, who escaped along with her younger brother and sister with only scratches and bumps. "It sounded like nothing I ever heard before. We rolled over and everybody fell on the ceiling.

"I was quite scared," she said, "but I don't think I screamed. I don't remember anybody screaming. Some were crying. I guess I was crying a little."

Slock, his right arm injured and bleeding, helped the children out of the wreckage of the 54-seat bus.

"We all walked over to a farm house," he said. "The kids were crying and trembling but they seemed all right. We called the ambulance and police."

Then he counted noses.

"I realized two of the boys were missing so I went back," Sloch said.

"There, sprawled face up in the snow, he found David and Paul.

"They were dead," Slock said.

Kierdorf Link Free

vestigation which sputtered out for lack of evidence, said:

"We are convinced as a result of the investigation that arson was committed by Jack Thompson and Frank Kierdorf who subsequently died of burns received during the commission of the crime."

However, no murder charge is being contemplated against Thompson, O'Rourke said, even though it would be possible under Michigan law because Kierdorf died during perpetration of arson, a felony.

The Genesee County prosecutor repeatedly refused to disclose to newsmen what evidence prompted Thompson's arrest. Neither would he say whether it was new evidence or old.

"Maybe it's not new evidence," he declared. "Maybe we've just taken the old evidence and reappraised it and come up with something new."

In explaining his refusal to reveal the evidence, O'Rourke implied it was "simple enough" that knowledge of it by reporters would be too revealing before the trial.

After the fire police found Thompson's fingerprints in a station wagon they said was used in the arson.

Whether the evidence might have come from Oakland County or sources here was also a well-kept secret of O'Rourke's.

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said he was aware of the evidence and Thompson's pending arrest, but refused to divulge what he knew.

Oakland was drawn into the Kierdorf case when he staggered into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital several hours after the Flint fire. Kierdorf died Aug. 7, taking the facts of his fatal burns to his grave.

Police put little weight to a previous story of his that on the night of the fire two men, supposedly wanting to talk union business, took him from his Flint home on Stewart street, drove him to a lonely road west of Pontiac, doused him with a fluid, set him afire, and later returned to drive him to the Pontiac hospital, more than 30 miles away.

The police version of the fire was that Kierdorf was burned as he spread gasoline on the floor of the cleaning pick-up station and that it ignited prematurely from a spark from an electric heater.

A passerby at the time told police he saw two men running from the shop, and heard anguished screams of a third person from inside the building.

"Could well have been three but that's not my theory," O'Rourke said yesterday. He wouldn't elaborate.

Still the biggest missing link is the motive for the arson.

Investigation into the weird case has continued relentlessly since the fire, O'Rourke said. "These fellows, state police in general, have been scratching for every bit of evidence very hard," the prosecutor said.

He said he did not contemplate any other arrests at this time.

Thompson, married and the father of a daughter, has a juvenile record for burglary, served 65 days in the Flint jail for car theft in 1935, and was sentenced to from 4 to 25 years in prison two years later for armed robbery. He was paroled in 1941.

Reporters sought to interview Thompson at his modest frame home late last night, only to have the door slammed in their faces by his wife. Not too far away, at the home of Kierdorf's widow, newsmen got the same treatment.

A visit to Thompson and Kierdorf's Teamsters Local 332 hall, located next to a cleaners, proved just as futile. Claude Sutton, secretary-treasurer of the local, refused to see reporters. A receptionist said Thompson wasn't in the hall.

Thompson spat at a news photographer as he left Flint Municipal Court following his arraignment.

He was arrested in his office at the union hall, 116 E. Pasadena St., by Flint State Police Detectives Ralph Baney, Donald Hynes and Jasper Brouers.

Baney said he offered no resistance but asked to read the warrant on the way to the city jail where he was held before his arraignment.

O'Rourke indicated he saw no reason for a grand jury investigation. Such an investigation was turned down by four Oakland County circuit judges in September, which brought what most believed was a halt to the investigation.

However, three State Police detectives, including Charles A. Leaf of the Pontiac Post, moved ahead with their investigation of the case which led to Thompson's arrest. Leaf was in Texas and could not be reached for comment yesterday.

Flint Bus System Stopped by Strike

FLINT (AP) — The 123 drivers and maintenance men of Flint City Coach Lines struck at 6 a.m. today, leaving Michigan's second largest city without bus service.

The bus drivers and mechanics struck in support of new contract demands, which included a 10-cent hourly pay increase and six paid holidays. They rejected a last-minute company offer of a three-cent hourly wage boost.

The operators and maintenance men are members of Local 170 of the Transport Workers of America. They turned down the company's three-cent offer at a 3 a.m. membership meeting and picketing started three hours later.

The company, which contends that it faces a $50,000 loss this year, previously had offered only to extend the 1957-58 contract which expired last Oct. 31.

Judge Calls Minister Pious Traitor

CINCINNATI (AP) — Stung by a scathing denunciation of their client by a federal judge, attorneys for a pacifist minister were ready today to fight on — whether their disciple of civil disobediance likes it or not.

★ ★ ★

The attack on the Rev. Maurice F. McCrackin by Judge John H. Druffel came between the time a jury convicted the minister and the judge sentenced him to six months in a federal prison and fined him $250. Rev. McCrackin was convicted Friday of refusing to answer an Internal Revenue Service summons to discuss his refusal to pay federal income taxes.

Judge Druffel told the 53-year-old bachelor minister — still gaunt from a 15-day jail-cell fast:

"Your pious attitude is more or less of a false face."

★ ★ ★

Then, after accusing Rev. McCrackin of being a "pacifist agitator" and of associating "with those of overwhelming Soviet sympathies," the judge added:

"I don't know of any more pious traitor than that."

Decoration Entries to Be in by Dec. 18

With the deadline just six days away, members of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce are seeking to encourage more home owners in the city to enter their Christmas home-decorating contest.

Entries in the annual contest must be postmarked no later than midnight Thursday, Dec. 18. They should be mailed to Tom Forgette, contest chairman, at 436 Orchard Lake Ave., Pontiac.

Prizes will be awarded to winners on the city's east and west sides, besides a grand prize for the top decorating project. This latter winner will be Pontiac's entry in a nationwide decorating contest sponsored by General Electric Corp.

Pontiac displays will be judged the evening of Dec. 23. Winners wil be announced Dec. 24, Forgette said.

3 Die, 7 Injured in Chicago Fire

Flames Race Through 4-Story Apartment as Tenants Flee Into Cold

CHICAGO (AP)—Three tenants were killed and seven other persons injured early today when a fire raced through the upper floors of a four-story apartment building several blocks northwest of the Loop.

Dozens of tenants fled into numbing cold as firemen brought the extra alarm blaze under control in a half hour.

Sam Weiss, owner of the building, identified the dead as Frank Jackowski, 45, Miss Julia Rollinski, about 70, and Stanley Bedicki, also about 70.

Of the injured, Frank Borgatz, 64, was listed in critical condition at Henrotin Hospital.

Investigators said the blaze apparently originated in a third-floor apartment and leaped to the uppermost floor. Many of the tenants kept hot-plates in the rooms, police said.

Damage was estimated by fire officials at $3,000. Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Weiss said the building housed 33 tenants.

Clamps Headlock on East

Icy Weather Grips U.S.

By The Associated Press

A stinging cold wave fastened a frigid headlock over the eastern two thirds of the nation today as a slashing snowfall buffeted scattered areas from the Central Plains into Dixie.

The widespread cold onslaught, dealing an icy prewinter hand, sent early morning temperatures tumbling to near freezing and into the 20s as far south as the Gulf tier of states.

Across the Northern Plains through the Midwest and into the Atlantic seaboard, it was even colder. Subzero readings were common from the Dakotas into the Great Lakes region. Arctic-cooled International Falls, Minn. reported an early -19.

The Weather Bureau issued cold wave warnings for most of Texas with heavy snow forecasts in the same state and Arkansas.

In the Central Plains region, Oklahoma's worst snowstorm of the season—with winter still nine days away on the calendar—punished the state with a pileup as high as seven inches in some areas.

Judge Lifts Ban on Pilot Strike

American Airline Union Says It Has No Plans for Walkout

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge has lifted a temporary strike ban against pilots for American Airlines, but the union says it has no immediate plans for a walkout.

Judge Frederick Van Pelt Bryan Friday refused to renew a temporary injunction obtained by American, and at the same time denied the company a permanent stay.

Bryan ruled that the Airline Pilots Assn. had been bargaining in good faith during involved negotiations that began more than a year ago.

At the same time, the judge refused a request by the union to dismiss a $540,000-damage suit against it. American contends it has suffered financially because of the pilots' strike threats.

Both sides were optimistic about the situation.

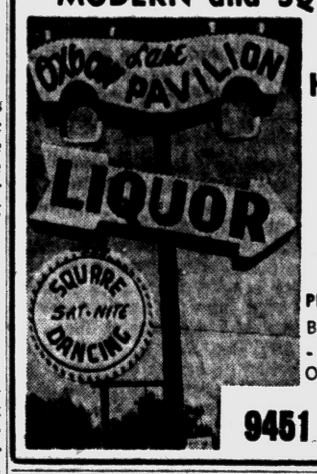

At present Eastern Air Lines is the only major airline shut down by a strike which began Nov. 24. Both the International Machinists Union and Flight Engineers are striking against Eastern.

Expects Russia to Fulfill Threat

West German Leader Sees Effort to Destroy 4-Power Berlin Status

WASHINGTON (AP)— West German Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe predicts that Russia will carry out its threat to destroy the four-power status of Berlin.

He said the Soviet Union might again impose a total blockade on the city's Western-occupied part.

The West faces a dangerous situation, Grewe emphasized, even though Russia probably does not intend to start a major war over the former German capital.

The German ambassador made it clear in a speech prepared for a luncheon at the National Press Club that he sees little if any hope for ending the Berlin crisis in talks with Russia.

"There is not much to negotiate on Berlin," he said.

★ ★ ★

"The monstrosity of Berlin's situation can only be done away with by the reunification of Germany. You cannot negotiate, however, on the reunification issue on the basis of a Soviet ultimatum and under the threat of a unilateral destruction of mutually binding arrangements on Berlin and the legal position of the three Western powers in Berlin."

Grewe gave his views to the Washington press corps after consulting the Bonn government.

He arranged to fly to Paris immediately to attend Western conferences on the Berlin crisis, opening there this weekend.

The ambassador declined to speculate about countermeasures that might be adopted by the Western powers.

He said there is "a basic identity of judgment and of attitude and full mutual confidence" among the United States, Britain, France and West Germany regarding the Berlin problem.

★ ★ ★

Various plans, proposals and opinions on how to deal with the crisis should not now be interpreted as differences of opinion, he said.

British Moviegoers Enjoy World War II Films

LONDON (UPI)—British movie fans are showing a new interest in World War II.

A survey of "films and filming" reveals that Britain's three top hits up to Oct. 31 this year were "The Bridge on the River Kwai," "Dunkirk" and "Carry on, Sergeant."

Paralyzed Athlete to Go Home for Christmas

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Walters wears a smile these days.

The 17-year-old Pennsylvania youth still is paralyzed from the waist down, and has only partial use of his arms, but he's making progress.

"He's coming along fine now," said Dr. Donald Covalt, associate director of the New York University Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation.

★ ★ ★

"He was naturally pretty depressed when he first came here, but in the last six weeks, he has gained steadily. He's always smiling, cracking jokes, socializing with other patients."

Moreover, Tommy, a Mapletown, Pa., high school wrestler who became completely paralyzed when he broke his neck in a match last March 7, is going home for Christmas.

"I'm sure looking forward to that," he said.

He'll leave the rehabilitation center here Dec. 23, and be home for about five days. It'll be his first outing since his injury.

For about two months after he was brought here on May 16, he was immobilized on a frame, his whole body paralyzed. But by steady, slow effort, his condition is changing.

"He has spirit, courage and determination," Dr. Covalt said.

★ ★ ★

He roams about in an electric wheelchair now. He can move his arms, lift seven-pound weights, and has partial use of his fingers. He feeds and shaves himself, and with self-help devices, can write letters.

His treatment here is begin financed by the United Mine Workers welfare and retirement fund. His father, Thomas Walters Sr., works at the Poland mines in Greene County, Pa.

It's considered unlikely that Tommy will ever be able to walk again.

"But there is always the remote chance," Dr. Covalt said. "We're still hoping."

His case is about like that of Roy Campanella, basebal catcher of the former Brooklyn Dodgers. Tommy and Campanella were classmates in the rehabilitation center until recently.

Campanella now is an outpatient.

Tommy's daily rehabilitation program runs from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and includes strengthening exercises and muscle re-education for his arms and shoulders, along with therapy.

He also gets a full round of high school courses. He's a sophomore. Doctors expect him to be able to return to classes in Mapletown by about mid-February.

MANCHESTER, England (UPI) —One person was killed and seven injured Thursday night when the bucket of a crane fell into the path of a Liverpool-Manchester passenger train. The engine of the train was overturned and five coaches derailed.

8 Gift Reindeer Bring Bonus to Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A herd of reindeer clattered into the Nation's capital today bringing with them a Christmas bonus. Eight of the 14 animals turned out to be in a family way.

★ ★ ★

But Dr. Theodore Reed, director of the National Zoological Park, quickly scotched a rumor that the reindeer used their 5,100-mile trip from Alaska as a honeymoon.

He said the females got that way before they left the frozen North. All of the expectant mothers are in fine shape, he said, the and eight blessed events, one calf each, are expected sometime in April.

★ ★ ★

The reindeer, a Christmas gift to the nation from Alaska, will represent the 49th state in the annual Pageant of Peace Christmas display on grounds just south of the White House.

Elvis' $$ Still Pour In

MADISON, Tenn. (UPI)—Being in the Army hasn't affected the income of entertainer Elvis Presley very much. Tom Parker, the singer's manager, says Elvis earned about 2 million dollars in 1958—very close to the figure for 1957 when he was a civilian. Movies and records brought in the money.

Change of Heart in Farmington

Incorporation Is Opposed

A group of Farmington Township residents Thursday displayed a quick change of heart when they voiced strong opposition to incorporation of a village in the southwest corner of the township.

★ ★ ★

The Boundaries Committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors met at the Gill Road Elementary School to hear the opinion of residents on the proposal. They received a loud "no" from the majority of those present.

So the committee, headed by Arno L. Hulet of Bloomfield Township, voted to ask the Board of Supervisors at its next meeting to deny the petition for incorporation.

Despite the overwhelming disapproval of the plan to incorporate into the village of Woodcroft, there were a few who favored it. One, Howard Weist, produced records to substantiate his belief that residents would benefit from becoming a village.

Hulet asked for a show of hands of the 60 residents in attendance to settle the question. About 55 said they were against the incorporation, while only four indicated approval.

Those opposed said when they had signed the original petitions requesting the incorporation, they felt it to be a move to ward off any future steps by the city of Farmington to annex their area.

Some also expressed disapproval of the method under which their initiative action was taken. Petitioners filed under the old 1895 village incorporation act which leaves the decision entirely up to the county supervisor, with no public vote of the area residents.

"This is most undemocratic," declared one resident at the meeting.

An unusual form of very fine-grained electrolytic nickel has been developed that is hard enough to resist filing, but can be bent easily without cracking.

Set Record Flying Missiles to Britain

SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (AP)—Thor missiles and supporting equipment were flown to Great Britain at a record pace last month, the Military Air Transport service announced today.

★ ★ ★

MATS headquarters said more than 80 trips across the North Atlantic began in November at Long Beach, Calif., where the missiles are produced by Douglas Aircraft Co.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Gen. William H. Tunner, comander of MATS, said the number of future trips cannot be disclosed. "It was learned, however, that more than 250 flights had operated in support of the Thor project by the end of November," the announcement stated.

Reflections

YOU COULD BE WRONG:

J. L. VOORHEES

One of the most beautiful experiences of my life began with deadly misconception. From all I'd "heard" the man with whom I was to be closely associated was a financial scrooge, his honor was buried under a tough hide and possessing all the unsavory tactics of a famed horse-trader. Our first meeting seemed to substantiate that reputation. I was thoroughly disgusted and offered my resignation. It was not accepted; in fact this man and I were teamed as a committee of two to investigate and report secret information. It seemed a horrible mistake.

M. E. SIPLE

It was during these investigations I discovered the inner man. Parsimony was armor to hide one of the most generous hearts ever given to a human being. He wanted incontrovertable facts and only then made his decision. Before we were finished I found trust, honor, abiding love entering into what had been violent dislike. That man is now one of my closest friends.

Social Security for Two

Local Woman Gets Answer

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

From Mrs. W. S. of Pontiac, Mich.: "I have worked long enough to draw Social Security when I reach 65. My check will be close to the maximum a person can receive. My husband also has worked long enough to be eligible for the maximum Social Security payments at 65. Can we both receive Social Security until she graduates or must she pay equal to half of my husband's Social Security?"

You both can receive a check based on your own work under Social Security.

From Mrs. J. T. of Round Lake, Ill.: "The daughter of a friend is receiving Social Security because her father died four years ago. She will be 18 in January and won't graduate from high school until next June. Can she continue to rereceive Social Security until she graduates or must her payments stop when she reaches 18?"

Social Security survivor payments to a child must stop at 18, unless the child was severely disabled before 18 and continues to be disabled after reaching 18.

★ ★ ★

From M.W.C. of Schenectady, N.Y.: "I've just read your handbook, 'Security For You,' from cover-to-cover. It's the clearest thing I've ever read on Social Security and certainly worth the 35 cents you charge for it. I've got just one question. In counting the income I can have and still receive Social Security, does money I get from an insurance policy count as income?"

No. Only earnings from work count toward the income limits of the Social Security law.

★ ★ ★

From Mrs. E. B. of Pittsburgh, Pa.: "I am a lonesome widow and live alone. I applied for a job and got it, making myself years younger than I am. I had to to get the job. No one questioned it as I look younger than I am. I have a couple of years to go until I'm 65. My question is: Do I have to take my Social Security at 65 or can I wait until I quit working?"

There is no requirement that you take Social Security at 65. You only receive Social Security after you apply for it.

★ ★ ★

From R. C. of Oklahoma City: "I'm 57 and have been paying into Social Security since it started. I would like to know whether I can leave my Social Security benefits to my niece if I should die before I reach 65? I have never married."

No. Monthly survivor payments are paid only to the entitled widow, widower, children or dependent parents. It isn't possible to name a beneficiary.

★ ★ ★

From D.M.W. of Huntington, W. Va.: "My wife passed away in November. She drew Social Security of about $40 a month based on my Social Security record. Would I be entitled to draw a lump sum to help me pay for her funeral expenses?"

No. The lump sum payment is paid only after the death of a person who worked in a job covered by the Social Security law.

Find Missing Truck Abandoned in Ohio

TOLEDO, Ohio (UP)—A truck loaded with carnival equipment and missing three weeks was found abandoned along the Ohio Turnpike yesterday, but there was no trace of its driver.

A second errant truck, with a cargo of fish, still is missing. Its fish load is estimated to be worth $10,000 and it was bound for Chicago when last seen Monday at Kozloff Fish Co. in nearby Detroit.

The carnival equipment truck, carrying a carousel and a ferris wheel each valued at $8,500, was found by Ohio police 15 miles west of Toledo. Its trailer was in a restaurant parking lot nearby and its tractor in a garage with a burned out transmission.

Students Get Action by Locking In Governor

KOCHI, Japan (UPI) — Kochi Gov. Masumi Mizobuchi was locked in his office for more than eight hours Thursday by 800 angry high school students.

The students wanted the school board to rescind disciplinary action against 21 teachers opposed to an efficiency rating system for teachers.

Mizobuchi went back on a promise to call a meeting of the school board, they said.

Drastic Changes for High School Science Proposed

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The head of the Michigan State University Science Department has called for a drastic change in high school science instruction with stress on understanding the subject instead of learning what science has uncovered.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Chester A. Lawson said chemistry, zoology, botany and physics should be taught as a unit to show students how scientists look at nature.

"Too often in high school science courses," he said, "no distinction is made between fact and theory."

He said many college students don't listen when instruction is given in theory.

"We explain our laws by creating theories," Lawson said. "Theories in turn, give us new laws. No one has seen an atom or a gene, but we have theories about them and they have produced laws we can use."

Hard-Pressed State Eyes Vet Trust Fund

LANSING (UP) — Legislative foundations of the 50-million-dollar veterans' trust fund appeared weakened today after new warnings of dire financial straits ahead for the state.

Several state finance experts agreed there was nowhere else to turn for quick cash in sizable sums if payless paydays should threaten school teachers and state employes.

Clarence W. Lock, deputy state revenue commissioner, cautioned Wednesday that such a possibility could materialize in a few months.

However, no one stepped forward with a demand for liquidation of part or all of the big fund to fatten depleted state treasury cash — partly, at least, for political reasons.

Neither Republicans nor Democrats want to invite wrath from organized veterans that could stem from advocating a raid on their preserve short of a broad public clamor for such action.

Population Up 1.7 Pct.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Census Bureau has estimated the nation's population at 175,136,000 as of Nov. 1 —an increase of 2,854,000 or 1.7 per cent, compared to Nov. 1, 1957.

Sea Strike Doesn't Halt an Import for Drinkers

NEW YORK (UP) — Italian seamen were on strike when the liner Cristoforo Colombo sailed and she arrived today without a single Italian chestnut. Normally the liner carries about 10 tons of nuts at this time of year.

The ship also was short 80 tons of cheese.

But there was good news for drinkers. There were 3,000 bottles of vermouth aboard.

No Wine, She Kills Him

YOKOHAMA, Japan (UPI)—Mrs. Yosyiyuki Omata, 33, admitted strangling her husband, a restaurant owner, after he ordered her to go out and buy a bottle of rice wine at 3 a.m., police report.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It Seems to Me . . .

George Eastman Responsible for Exaggerated News Story

GEORGE D. EASTMAN, Pontiac's Public Safety Director, now declares that "Pontiac is not a sinful city."

Personally, I never thought it was. We're reasonably normal.

★ ★ ★

Further, he asserts that "newspapers have given the impression that the vice situation is worse than it actually is."

I challenge — flatly — that the fault lies with the newspapers.

That's just cheap evasion.

Those "newspaper stories" came from definite statements by Richard G. Evans to Eastman; and he in turn made them public. No reporters used their journalistic imaginations. I repeat once more: Richard Evans listed every one of the printed charges and they were made public by Eastman himself.

★ ★ ★

Let's all understand each other. The Pontiac PRESS refuses to occupy the role of whipping boy.

Personally, I'm very happy to accept EASTMAN'S statements that the situation was exaggerated. We can agree on that. Pontiac isn't as bad as she was painted. That's good news. Also, I warmly applaud Mr. EASTMAN'S statement that he intends to prosecute vigorously and follow up whatever vice does remain. We'll stand squarely with him at every turn of the road in the whole campaign.

★ ★ ★

How's This Idea? . . . . .

In the years ahead, Pontiac will have two equally matched football teams. Let's face it. Central and Northern will be friendly rivals.

Why shouldn't the two play each other at the end of the season in Wisner Stadium for the City Championship? This could become the great game of the year for both institutions.

★ ★ ★

The Press would be glad to undertake the promotion of this event and it might become just as big locally as the Good Fellows' game is in Detroit or the Flint Thanksgiving battle.

This might ultimately blossom into an athletic, social and civic pageant in one piece. Tickets might start at five dollars and scale down to one. The money could be divided between the two schools and local charities. If the gate ultimately scaled $10,000, the athletic department of each school might get $2,000 with $6,000 going to worthy local purposes.

★ ★ ★

The success of this plan would be contingent upon cooperation between the management of the schools, local citizens, the Chamber of Commerce and the two football squads. The PRESS hereby volunteers to act as the promoter, if the community is interested.

★ ★ ★

The two are scheduled for next season and this game should take its regular course. As a matter of fact, Northern is hardly prepared to battle evenly with Central yet, but she may man enough horses by 1960 or 1961.

Will local citizens dig down for a few extra bucks to see a local battle for the Pontiac City title? Certainly the percentage that goes to charity would be tax deductible.

★ ★ ★

Our man, BRUNO KEARNS, suggests that a permanent trophy be donated which would belong to the winner for the ensuing season. Members of the two squads would be awarded a special "All City" sweater if the rules allow. The game could be played on a Saturday afternoon or a Friday night. The details are immaterial. Would such a game eventually become as big a civic attraction as it is in Flint?

Anyway, here's the idea and we'll undertake to back the event if the community is interested.

★ ★ ★

And in Conclusion . . . . .

Jottings from the well thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

A few days in New York revealed: that no one seems to be talking government retrenchment following the November elections, and that taxes will be higher . . . . . that the gals are now crashing the gates of Tin Pan Alley, once an almost exclusive masculine citadel . . . . . that New York is considering attaching a red tag on your license plate for serious traffic entanglements, and the revelation that in Lebanon they shave the drivers' heads . . . . . that "Keep Talking" is on the skids and will slide into oblivion in February if it doesn't pick up fast and often. It replaced the $64,000 Question.

★ ★ ★

New York businessmen are still talking about the speech Oakland County's own E. R. Breech delivered at the annual Wings Club dinner . . . . . New York is interested in a new Washington building which has a special elevator and parking space for the automobiles of the tenants. It opens the first of the year . . . . . Birger Lovgren, Swedish newspaperman, is in New York where he plans to travel to Cape Horn by motorcycle. The last frontiersman who essayed this one was slaughtered by natives in Costa Rica.

★ ★ ★

I saw "Flower Drum Song," ROGERS and HAMMERSTEIN'S newest musical, and it falls a bit short of "South Pacific" or "Oklahoma," but it will have a terrific run for seats are already gone up into May . . . . . BOB and MARGE BUDD want to know whether we're having a New York Theater Trains & Planes party in 1959. I dunno . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's — ole ARCHIE MOORE; also, the gypsy musicians at the Kingsley this week; the J's — Wednesday night I heard JERRY LEWIS for the first time—and the last! I didn't know TV programs ever got as awful as that.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

"And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night." LUKE 2:8

On Shepherds' Field, below the town of Bethlehem, is the cave where tradition says the shepherds were resting when the angel appeared to them. On hills and in fields nearby, shepherds still graze their flocks. During my trip to the Holy Land, I sat on the rocky slopes one evening and quietly sketched these shepherds at work, wondering if they perhaps were direct descendants of the men who heard the heavenly hosts singing:

"Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will toward men."

Wall Street Fears Prices Will Rise

Inflation Lurks Around Corner

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The struggle to mold a new federal budget in the shape of economy looks as frustrating to many in Wall Street today as it looks difficult to the fiscal experts in Washington.

Economy is a fine goal but the odds are stacked against it, many believe.

And this discouragement, or cynicism, makes them feel that the current letup in inflationay pressures will last only a few more months at best.

The bulls in Wall Street seem sure of it. Consumer surveys indicate that the public expects another rise in prices, too.

Treasury deficits are only one of the inflationary pressures that from time to time send the cost of living higher. Among others are the wage-price spiral that pushes the cost of production higher; or credit inflation that comes when the rate of new investment exceeds the rate of capital formation through savings; or too little capacity to produce goods when demand is high.

★ ★ ★

The last two aren't operating just now. But the first two are. And many see continuing danger from them after the conditions now putting a brake on the rise in living costs lose their force.

Serious as this fiscal year's prospective Treasury deficit of 12 billion dollars is, bankers feel that the money managers so far are tackling the problem of containing its inflationary aspects with considerable success.

★ ★ ★

But the real misgivings — according to the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York in its December survey today — "arise from the fact that this deficit is symptomatic of a rising tide of expenditure over which no one seems to have any real control."

Many continuing programs that involve spending for years to come scuttle most economy drives in Congress. The bank lists some of them: the defense program, highway program, housing goals, social security, farm subsidies, foreign aid, veterans' payments.

★ ★ ★

Most of these have advocates, the bank notes, who "no doubt sincerely believe that, however desirable governmental economy may be as a general practice, their own program is so worthy that it would not only be continued but expanded."

What basically causes distrust of the dollar, the bank holds, "is the growing fear of deficit financing as a way of life."

There are those who argue that the bank's view is too pessimistic. They contend that government spending also can have anti-inflationary aspects.

★ ★ ★

This theory is that such spending stimulates the economy, causes incomes and profits to rise and thus helps the Treasury pare deficits, inspires businessmen themselves to spend more, thus increasing productivity and holding down prices, and boosts consumer spirits so that they buy more and thus create jobs.

Most bankers reject this argument as just one of kidding yourself. They hold that any inflation of the currency and credit through Treasury or central banking policies, any increase in wages faster than an increase in productivity must in time end the present lull and send the cost of living soaring again.

As for the central banking system's struggle to offset Treasury deficits, the Guaranty Trust says: "The Federal Reserve can enforce credit restraint up to a point, but in the final analysis it cannot save the nation from the penalities of its economic transgressions."

Bypassing Bowling Green Like Skipping Taj Mahal

"Visiting my sister in California last November we drove through Beverly Hills, a beautiful residential city, indeed, but they drive so fast in California that we couldn't have seen a bowling green if we knew where to look for one . . . (Mrs. G.L.S.)"

DR. BRADY

Answer — That is like touring India and missing the Taj Mahal. At least it would be for anyone who bowls. Next time let me know when you expect to pass this way. I'll be happy to take you to the bowling green or provide a map showing where to find a green. The game is played every day the year around—except the few days of rainy weather.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Simple Sermons Usually Best

Gary felt that he was a sinner in the pew, but the real sinner was in the pulpit! Jesus showed us the surefire formula for making an interesting speech. When clergymen put their congregations to sleep, it means the cleric is the sinner, not his audience. Send for the booklet below if you want to make an interesting address.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z - 390: Gary K., aged 24, is a handsome steel worker and a devout member of the church.

Recently he came up to me after the morning sermon, and apologetically asked:

"Dr. Crane, do you think it is a sin for a fellow to go to sleep during church?"

DR. CRANE

Well, I informed him that I had been nodding and two other men had just told me they also had dozed briefly, so that made four of us who were in the same boat.

"It is usually the fault of the clergyman when his congregation goes to sleep," I replied.

"Oh, there are occasional exceptions. If a trucker had been driving almost all Saturday night to reach home and then were to attend church with his wife, he might nod a bit in spite of a dramatic sermon.

"But when several men in the audience doze in the pews, that means the priest or clergyman isn't doing his duty.

The sinning is thus in the pulpit and not in the pews!

For it takes a livewire in the pulpit to electrify a congregation.

Listen to Billy Graham or Dr. Norman Vincent Peale or Oral Roberts and you'll understand what I mean by clerical "livewires."

People don't go to sleep in THEIR audiences. For these men are not only on fire with religious enthusiasm, but they also understand Christ's formula for a successful speech.

It consists of starting out with a serious point or topic (text). Then document it and illustrate it with actual cases, drawn from real life and told in narrative (story telling) style.

Name people and incidents within the daily experience of the crowd. Use illustrations from this newspaper.

Keep the content of your talk dramatic and full of present-day examples.

★ ★ ★

Then carry the audience to an emotional peak or climax with a bit of poetry which contains the essential idea that caps the climax.

If you can quote a few sages of the past who have made relevant comments, this will add more scholarly "oomph."

CHRIST'S ORATORY

Jesus was a great orator or he couldn't have held people all afternoon beside the sea or out in the wilderness.

And Jesus routinely employed this anecdotal or narrative formula for his sermons.

"And who is my neighbor?" asked a lawyer in the crowd.

Did Jesus stall around for 10 minutes trying to define the word in 5-syllable terms?

Did he launch upon a dry, textbookish form of "essay," as far too many modern clergymen still do?

Not on your life. Jesus launched right into a story, as Luke tells us (Luke 10:30):

"And Jesus answering said, A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead . . ."

Then Jesus used his famous "reversible why" technique and asked the lawyer "Which was neighbor to him that fell among the thieves?"

★ ★ ★

Send for my booklet "How to Make An Interesting Speech," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

You will not doze in church when your clergyman employs the techniques described therein.

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Giving Christmas Spirits May Mean Flowers Next'

If you're planning on sending Christmas "spirits" out to your business clients, I mean the alcoholic kind, don't. You might be surprised to know how many business men and women resent being recipients of such a gift. Most of us hate to pour someone's good will down the drain, but feel obliged to do so. Don't say it with booze for Christmas, and have to say it with flowers the day or so after.

'Nothing's Wrong With Shortcut'

Someone in the Voice of the People complained about using "Xmas" for "Christmas." "X" is a proper symbol for Christ and really it means the cross. Therefore, "Xmas" is a useful and respectful sign to substitute for "Christmas."

Gives Own Idea of Bond Defeat

I think the reason the people of Bloomfield Hills turned down this million dollar bond issue is the fact that the taxpayers dislike these extravagant, rolling ranch type schools. If the superintendent, teachers, school board and taxpayers could get together and plan a good fireproof brick building for their children's education, I am sure no one would object to voting in favor of this. Who cares whether an architect gets an award for a building? What we want are schools of simple design and better teachers.

'What's So Bad About That?'

'Such Trading Is Just Disgusting'

Shades of Briggs and Navin. The Tigers have drafted a minor league outfielder with a batting average of .237. In the old days, the Tigers sometimes had a .300 hitting outfielder still sitting on the bench for relief duty. A .237 minor league outfielder wouldn't be allowed in the club house. And trading weakness for weakness as the Tigers do steadily is disgusting.

'It's Time Right People Take Lead'

Any verdict other than guilty in the George Bright case is a gross miscarriage of justice. If this man is freed, then the lady of justice is indeed as blind as she appears. It's time responsible Americans of all creeds and religions combine to seize leadership for the bigots and the agitators.

If our attitudes are narrow-minded and prejudiced toward our fellow man, then all strides we've taken toward social and economic adjustments are destroyed as surely as if we'd placed a bomb ourselves.

If teenagers want to be considered and treated as adults then they must expect to get adult treatment in the court room where the judges hand out the sentences. COOL IDEA—With the temperature at 3 below zero, it seemed cold enough to freeze water pouring from a teakettle, a Pittsburgh, Pa., photographer thought. Pope's Doctor Barred From Practice in Italy

ROME (AP) — The personal physician of the late Pope Pius XII has been barred from practicing medicine in Italy for selling newspaper articles and photographs on the Pope's death.

* * *

Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, 67, gave no immediate indication whether he would appeal his expulsion Friday night by the Council of the Rome Medical Assn., which automatically prohibited him from practicing. He has 30 days in which to appeal to a mixed board of doctors and magistrates.

If he appeals he will be allowed to practice pending the outcome.

The medical association's 14-member council questioned the doctor behind locked doors for 20 minutes before it issued its verdict.

Galeazzi-Lisi brushed by newsmen without a word when he left the association's headquarters.

* * *

He previously had maintained his conscience was at rest and he had not betrayed any professional medical secrets concerning Pope Pius, who died Oct. 9. Once a patient dies, a physician is free to discuss his case, Galeazzi-Lisi contended.

The council accused Galeazzi-Lisi of seeking "to achieve profit." It added he "gravely compromised his own reputation and the dignity of the medical class."

"The actions . . . constitute an infraction of medical ethics because a professional physician cannot divulge facts which he learned through his professional activity," the council said.

* * *

Galeazzi-Lisi's articles, based on a diary he kept while attending the stricken pontiff, appeared about 10 days after the Pope died. Some Italian newspapers bought the articles but later decided not to print them.

With the articles stirring an uproar, Galeazzi-Lisi resigned as director of the Vatican health services. The medical association then started an investigation.

JUST SAY: "Charge It"

900 Salute GOP Nominee at Dinner

Bagwell Urges Republicans to Regain Leadership

By ROGER LANE

LANSING (AP)—Republican Paul D. Bagwell last night beckoned his party to regain leadership in the state and retain it in the nation by harnessing moral and spiritual forces.

The defeated GOP governor nominee left 900 persons assembled for a statewide "Salute to Bagwell" dinner in doubt as to 1960 intentions, saying only:

"I hope to serve these principles in serving the Republican Party — and to this service I shall give my full strength."

★ ★ ★

He laid out some immediate objectives for Michigan Republicans, but urged them to remember that factories, schools and roads are merely means to an end.

"It is by our high purposes that we shall build or fail to build a monument to our era," he said.

He said that the present generation can give or deny to the next dignity, hope or even freedom itself.

"We as a people shall prevail or perish not by the force of nuclear energy but by the force of moral energy that we can bring to bear upon the problems that confront us," he said.

★ ★ ★

His talk was interrupted by a pre-arranged telephone call from Vice President Nixon whose congratulations on the occasion were fed through amplifiers for all in the Lansing Civic Center throng to hear.

Nixon read a message from President Eisenhower praising Bagwell for the vigor of his campaign in losing to Democratic Gov. Williams by 147,000 votes.

★ ★ ★

The Eisenhower theme echoed earlier remarks made in person by U. S. Sen. Charles E. Potter, like Bagwell, beaten on Nov. 4, and Rep. Gerald F. Ford Jr., of Grand Rapids, who won reelection.

Bagwell said a bitter lesson of the campaign was that the voters "do not have a sharp, comprehensible image of what the Republican Party stands for."

★ ★ ★

The 45-year-old titular head of the GOP in Michigan, who returns this month to the Michigan State University faculty as director of scholarships, declared:

"Too many people think of it as a tool of big business, an enemy of labor, unsympathetic to the ordinary man and the problems of minority groups.

"Nothing could be further from the truth, but this erroneous concept is a hard one to shake."

As an answer, he proposed a "new, clear cut and honest appeal" to the electorate based on the needs and aspirations of the many.

Specifically, he called for:

1. Standing ready to exploit the advantages of the nuclear age.

2. Seizing opportunities offered by opening next year of the St. Lawrence Seaway. He likened its potential impact to that of maritime commerce on Mediterranean nations in the distant past.

3. Increased job opportunities.

4. Strengthening the state educational system.

5. A constructive program for providing jet airport facilities.

6. Safeguarding Michigan cities against further deterioration.

7. Provision for orderly growth in our "exploding suburbs," where he said 49 per cent of the population will be living in a few years.

★ ★ ★

Michigan, he said, is at a turning point. Its past has been great but its future is not assured. Decisions that lie ahead will determine whether it continues to stand in the vanguard or deteriorates into a "has been."

★ ★ ★

He called for "determination, imagination and hard work" to realize the possibilities of the future.

Bagwell was profuse in his recognitions of aid from various quarters in the recent campaign, and said it was a "humbling" experience to attract more than one million votes—even in losing.

He returned only hours before the dinner from a post election vacation in Bermuda. All defeated GOP candidates for statewide office save John V. Clements of L'Anse attended the affair.

Potter credited Bagwell's strong Republican race for governor with ruining Democratic Gov. Williams' presidential chances.

Potter said:

"Paul, maybe we couldn't save Michigan from G. Mennen Williams, but we certainly saved the nation from him. The forty-seven other states indeed are indebted to you for it."

One Gunman Killed, 2 Riddled

Bullets Foil Kidnap Plot

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four gunmen, one of them disguised as a priest, stormed the home of a well-to-do building contractor Friday night. They ran into a police ambush and a barrage of bullets.

★ ★ ★

One gunman was killed. Two others, their bodies practically riddled, were wounded critically. The fourth escaped.

Deputy Police Chief Edgar Scott said the four men had intended to kidnap Felix Marchegiani, 61. A tip from the FBI foiled the plot.

Marchegiani was shot in the shoulder during the gunfire that almost wrecked the living room of his fashionable home in northeast Washington. The wound was not considered serious.

Scott told this story:

★ ★ ★

About 6:30 p.m. the FBI tipped police that a gang would try to kidnap Marchegiani. Without elaborating or revealing the scource of the information, the FBI said the gang planned to take the contractor to his office in suburban Coral Hills, Md., and force him to open his safe.

Scott promptly sent a squad of detectives and patrolmen to the Marchegiani home.

Two detectives took Marchegiani's wife and the couple's only child, Antoinette 19, upstairs and then hid in a bedroom. Three other detectives crouched behind living room furniture.

Four patrolmen were deployed in scout cars near the house.

Almost four hours slipped by and nothing happened.

★ ★ ★

"We were about to believe the plans had been called off," Scott said, "when the kidnapers showed up in two cars. They circled the block a couple of times before parking their cars in front of the home."

Four men walked up to the front porch. Two carried pistols, the other two sawed-off shotguns.

A gunman dressed as a priest knocked on the door. Marchegiani opened it.

"This is a holdup," the intruder said. "Where is your money?"

Jabbing his gun in Marchegiani's back, the hoodlum and a companion marched the contractor up the stairs and into the bedroom where Mrs. Marchegiani and the daughter had been sent—and where the two detectives were hiding.

★ ★ ★

The officers, fearing they might hit one of the family if they opened fire, remained hidden.

The gunmen ordered Marchegiani's wife and daughter to lie on a bed.

"I'd hate to shoot your heads off," one said.

At that moment, one of the two gunmen remaining downstairs spotted detective Sgt. Leonard Kragh crouching behind living room furniture. He fired at Kragh.

As Kragh and the other officers began shooting, all four gunmen dashed for the door. Police bullets dropped three of them. The fourth, an unidentified Negro, escaped.

The dead hoodlum was identified as Raleigh Morton, a Negro, of Washington.

★ ★ ★

The injured were identifed at Providence Hospital as Gene C. Smawley, 28, and Charles L. Cross, 38, both white. They were charged with assault with intent to rob and kill.

None of the police was injured.

Mother, 4 Children Slain by Youth They Befriended

EL CAJON, Calif. (AP) — A homeless youth the family had befriended was sought today for slashing four children to death and shooting their mother.

The bodies of Mrs. Lois Pendergast, 37, and her children were discovered in their home Friday night. The children's throats had been cut and their abdomens slashed.

A widespread search was launched throughout Southern California for a towering teenager who had been living with the Pendergasts for the past few weeks doing odd jobs around the house. Thick fog hampered the searchers.

Thomas J. Pendergast discovered the bodies of his wife and children, but not before the youth, identified as Charles Harrison of Rochester, N.Y., had disappeared.

Pendergast, an aircraft worker, said Harrison was waiting for him outside the house when he arrived home from work. The 6-foot 4 inch youth aimed a .22 rifle at him and said:

"I have a cop tied up in the house. You're going to drive me out of here."

Pendergast drove at gunpoint toward San Diego, 10 miles away. On the outskirts of the city the youth ordered him into a service station rest room so they could exchange clothing. The man grabbed the gun away from Harrison, but the youth slipped outside and disappeared down an alley.

★ ★ ★

Pendergast then drove home and found his family slain. His wife's body lay in the hallway. His two daughters, aged 4 and 2, were in the bathroom. A son, 9, was found in his bedroom and another son, 6, was in the garage.

The shocked father told police he had picked up Harrison hitchhiking last Nov. 2.

"He told me he had run away from home in Rochester because his father had taken his college money away," said Pendergast. "He was a quiet, studious-appearing boy and was a big help to my wife around the house."

★ ★ ★

The youth left a suitcase behind. In it were two hunting knives —one of them bloody — a hypodermic needle and syringe and a book from the Rochester Public Library, "Yogi and Health."

Investigate Possible Link to Barbara Gaca Murder

Redford State Police are investigating a possible link between a confessed pistol-whipper from Berkley and the unsolved murder of 7-year-old Barbara Gaca in May 1955.

Questioned yesterday was Walter H. Budry, 25, who police say has admitted beating a woman clerk at a Berkley dry cleaning firm Tuesday.

The investigation centered mainly around the Berkley assault until yesterday when Budry admitted "ditching" a knife — a weapon with no physical connection to the crime he is charged with, police said.

Budry, who lives at 3665 Oakshire Rd., was picked up by Novi Police Tuesday afternoon, several hours after he admittedly had beaten Mrs. Marguerite Baker, 37, of Ferndale, a clerk at the Piggy Bank Cleaners, 2829 Coolidge Highway.

★ ★ ★

Since then Berkley Police and State Police detectives have been searching for the gun used in the assault, which Budry claimed he threw away in the Walled Lake Amusement Park area.

Detectives questioned Budry about the Gaca murder and his whereabouts in the spring of 1955, but Budry has denied any connection with the brutal slaying of the Detroit schoolgirl, whose body was found in a West Bloomfield township dump.

Budry suddenly added to his testimony Friday afternoon, saying that he had also thrown away a long thin-bladed knife with the gun.

"Naturally, it should be clarified that even though his description of this knife is similar to the weapon used in the Gaca case, any one of several knife-types could fall into this classification," Lt. Howard Whaley of the Redford Post said today.

Detectives said their suspicions were aroused because Budry had been under a doctor's care for emotional disturbances in the past few years.

Now detectives are wondering why he threw the knife away in the first place—since it had not been used in the Berkley incident—and kept the knife out of his testimony for three days while admitting to throwing the gun away.

★ ★ ★

Budry is being held at the Oakland County Jail. Bond was set at $20,000.

He was arraigned on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to do great bodily harm before Berkley Justice Ralph F. Finley.

Budry waived examination and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment there Monday.

Social Scientist Says Let Hubby Handle Money

STORRS, Conn. (AP)—Who decides who should handle the money in your house?

A University of Connecticut social scientist says let the husband make the decisions.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Albert Quade said today that this advice was based on a study he has made on how husbands and wives act toward one another in problem situations.

Dr. Quade said he has studied many married couples confronted with two typical marriage money problems — one of recreation, the other of the budget.

He said he found little difference between the behavior of happy and unhappy couples when it came to make a decision about recreation spending.

★ ★ ★

But, on the more serioius problem of spending the family money, danger signals cropped up frequently. The happy wife, he said, is the one who lets the husband make the decisions.

Coast Guardsmen Brave Weather to Free Vessel

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Coast Guard crews braved below zero temperatures today in an effort to free a trapped Canadian grain carrier from the ice filled Neebish Cut in the St. Marys River, 20 miles south of here.

The carrier Howard L. Shaw, owned by the Upper Lakes and St. Lawrence Transportation Co. of Montreal, was trapped by slush ice late yesterday as it attempted passage of the 300-foot wide cut. The ship and its 30 man crew was reported in no danger.

Six other downbound boats cleared the 24-foot deep cut before the Shaw stuck. Eleven other vessels tied up yesterday until the Shaw is freed and they can resume their southward passage.

The Shaw was bound for Goderich, Ont.

Two From Area Hurt in Collision

West Bloomfield Man, Farmington Youth Hit Head-on in Cars

A West Bloomfield Township man and a Farmington youth were critically injured shortly before 1 a.m. today when their cars collided head-on just north of W. Maple road on Middlebelt road in West Bloomfield Township.

He was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and is on the critical list with both legs broken and possible internal injuries. His wife, Phyllis, 31, is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Driver of the other auto, George V. Clark, 18, of 33505 14 Mile Rd., also is on the critical list at Pontiac General Hospital.

Police said details of the collision were not yet available.

Romeo Boy, 14, Critically Injured

James Eldred Knocked Off Bicycle by Car on City Street

ROMEO — A 14-year-old Romeo boy was critically injured last night when he was knocked off his bicycle by a car in front of the Romeo cemetery on W. St. Clair street.

James Eldred, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eldred, 70161 Mellen St., first was taken to St. Joseph Hospital in Mount Clemens with serious head injuries. He later was transferred to St. Joseph Hospital, Pontiac, for brain surgery.

Driver of the car was Betty Lou Alward, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Alward, 57970 Van Dyke, Washington.

She told Romeo police that the boy was in her lane of traffic and that she did not see him until it was too late to avoid hitting him. She said she was traveling about 10 to 15 miles per hour, with the car in second gear. There was no light on the rear of the bicycle and there are no streetlights along this stretch of road.

Both the injured boy and the driver of the car had just left the basketball game at Romeo Community High School, next door to the cemetery at about 9:30 p.m.

Betty was to make a statement today at Macomb County prosecutor's office in Mount Clemens.

Policeman Fired in Oak Park

Lieutenant Cut From Force After Shooting Incident in Bar

An Oak Park police lieutenant's drinking spree, during which police said he shot up a bar room juke box, resulted in his dismissal from the force last night.

According to Oak Park Police, Lt. Joseph Roberts, 36, of 15200 Oak Park Blvd., accompanied by a fellow officer, got into an argument with customers at Lou's Bar, 14025 W. Eight Mile Rd., Detroit, about 1:30 a.m. yesterday. Both officers were off-duty at the time.

Officers said that apparently in the heat of an argument Roberts pulled his gun and fired a shot into the juke box. He was then persuaded to leave the other officer, police said.

Glenford S. Leonard, Oak Park director of public safety, said he first suspended Roberts Friday morning for insubordination when the lieutenant refused to hand over his gun and credentials.

Reasons given by Leonard for Roberts' dismissal after a hearing last night included conduct unbecoming to an officer as well as insubordinaton.

Roberts is not being held, pending criminal investigation by Detroit Police. He indicated he intends to appeal the dismissal.

"This is a holdup. If you don't do what I tell you, I will kill you."

The man brandished a gun, Miss Werner said. The second man waited by the door. The office was empty at the time. They both fled north across 11-Mile road.

Overcharge Is Denied by GM

Accounting Office Says AC Unit Got $975,000 Too Much for Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting Office says a General Motors Corp. subsidiary got an extra $975,000 out of an Air Force contract because its costs proved lower than military purchasers expected.

★ ★ ★

A GAO report to Congress said unreasonably high prices resulted from Air Force buyers awarding a $7,791,328 fixed price for their purchase in the absence of real competition and without checking enough on the costs the manufacturer would incur.

The report was made public today by the accounting office, which serves Congress as a watchdog over government spending.

GM's AC Spark Plug Division won the 1955 contract for 1,931 kits to modify navigation computer systems for bombers. It turned back $750,000 to the Air Force last year.

★ ★ ★

J. A. Anderson, AC's general manager, denied that the contract cost the government too much. He cited the $750,000 refund and said the Air Force had turned down a company offer to make the kits under an arrangement whereby the prices would be redetermined after completion of the contract.

Big Boost From Auto Industry

U.S. Production Up 2 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. industrial production, aided by a big boost in automobile manufacturing, increased by 2 per cent last month.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, building activity, retail sales and personal income climbed to highs.

Announcing this Friday, the Federal Reserve Board said its index of industrial production, an estimate of the output of the nation's mines, mills and factories, rose to 141 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

★ ★ ★

This is 15 points above the recession low last April and only four points under the prerecession peak in August 1957. Last month's figure is two points above that for November a year ago.

"A major advance in the automotive industry was accompanied by widespread gains througnout manufacturing," the board said in its monthly summary of business conditions.

★ ★ ★

Automobile production, with major strikes settled, more than doubled during November and assembly schedules for December indicate an additional increase, the board said.

★ ★ ★

There isn't complete peace, however, on the automotive front.

In Detroit Chrysler Corp. and United Auto Workers officials were to meet today in another weekend session in efforts to end a strike that has idled 41,440 workers at 27 company plants in the United States and Canada.

Some 7,100 UAW members at Chrysler's Dodge Main installation here have been on strike for more than a week. Parts shortages have resulted in the layoff of 34,340 employes at 22 other U.S. plants and one at Windsor, Ont.

Negotiators met last night and adjourned without progress on the the production standard dispute responsible for the walkout.

The Nation's auto makers will build 142,609 cars and 22,592 trucks this week, Ward's Automotive Reports say.

But for Chrysler's labor troubles, the total would have gone above 150,000 cars, the agency said.

This week's totals will compare with 147,361 cars and 22,596 trucks last week and 145,503 cars and 22,691 trucks in the corresponding 1957 week.

Ward's said General Motors, Ford Motor Co., American Motors and Studebaker-Packard increased their output with six-day and overtime efforts. GM scheduled its highest level since Dec. 3-8, 1956; Ford aimed at the highest volume since November 1957; American Motors was trying for a new company peak and Studebaker-Packard program its heaviest volume in three years.

At present assembly rates, Ward's said, the industry's four millionth car of calendar 1958 will be built Wednesday.

Throws Beer in Fireplace

One Thing After Another

RIDGEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — Sometimes housework just seems like one step forward and two steps back.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Charles E. Blackford wanted to tidy up the house Friday night. She told the children to throw an old beer carton into the blazing fireplace.

They did. However, there were two unopened cans of beer in the carton. The heat caused them to explode, scattering ashes all over the living room rug.

Wearily, Mrs. Blackford got out the vacuum cleaner, cleaned up the mess, and put the vacuum back in the closet. Soon smoke started coming from the closet.

★ ★ ★

The hot ashes had set fire to the dust in the bag, and all that was left of the vacuum was a charred skeleton.

Boy's Brother Killed in Bus Tragedy

'I've Got to Tell Mother--'

By CEC SOUTHWARD

A veteran Windsor Star and former Royal Air Force combat photographer, was assigned to cover the train-school bus tragedy at Essex, Ont., Friday morning. The following story relates his experience.

WINDSOR, ONT., (AP)—I was driving back into Windsor from the scene of this morning's train-school bus crash at Essex.

I spotted a youngster walking over the crossing, the back of his coat in slits.

I stopped my car and asked the boy to get in.

"Son, were you in the bus?" I asked.

"Yes," the boy replied.

"It was my brother who was one of those killed," he added.

Tears were streaming down his face.

★ ★ ★

"I'm Stephen Bosse," he said.

"Where do you live?" I asked.

"Over there a few miles," the boy answered.

"I've got to go home and tell my mother, and my mother is going to cry."

He went on:

"It wasn't Albert's (the bus driver's) fault. We didn't see the train through the fog. We heard the horn."

Stephen pointed to a point just back of the grade, and said:

★ ★ ★

"Look where he hit the brakes. The bus skidded up the incline, over the crossing, and we almost made it. But the train hit the back of the bus."

Then the boy walked up to the house by himself, crying and sobbing, to tell his mother of Paul's death.

I had to stop the car, because I was crying, too.

Next 10 Days Will Tell Story

Holiday Sales May Break Record

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—On the next 10 days depends the chance of the nation's retail merchants to top last year's record Christmas business.

Early reports indicate that in most sections of the nation sales so far are running even with or better than a year ago. Predictions of this year's increase over last range from 2 to 5 per cent.

Some cities have had tough sledding, though. Heavy snows and cold winds have kept many shoppers at home.

In New York City, merchants are up against a different hazard. The shutdown of daily papers because of a delivery strike cuts the retailer off from communication with the shoppers at a crucial time.

Chances for a record retail holiday season appear excellent. Volume was rising in November. The Commerce Department estimates total sales, seasonally adjusted, hit 17¼ billion dollars. This was some 600 million dollars better than in the same month of 1957. Most of the gain was due to increased sales of autos, furniture and appliances.

To beat last year's record December business of 19¾ billion dollars, merchants pin their hopes on two things: (1) increased income left over after taking care of the necessities; (2) improved confidence among consumers as to the state of business in general and their own financial prospects.

Discretionary income started rising during the summer. This is that part of income which may be seved with no immediate impairment of living standards.

The National Industrial Conference Board reports that during the July-September period this measure of purchasing power increased at an annual rate of 4½ billion dollars to 104 billion dollars.

This was 4½ per cent higher than in the April-June period, the first rise since the second quarter of 1957, and the largest quarterly gain since the second quarter of 1955.

Many economists believe that such income (open for the merchants to tap now) has increased further since September.

Merchants have some good prospects in specialized fields. Government employes have larger paychecks this Christmas than last. Members of Christmas clubs received nearly 1½ billion dollars this year, 3 per cent more than last year's previous record.

★ ★ ★

Christmas bonus plans of leading American corporations, as polled by the conference board, indicate that the big majority will be handing out bonuses this year. Only a handful say they are discontinuing the practice because of the recent recession.

2-Car Collision Kills 1

DETROIT (AP)—Philip Gallant, 41, of Grosse Pointe, was killed Thursday night in a two-car collision on M97 in suburban Warren.

Secretary of Interior Will Resign Soon

HONOLULU (AP)—Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton said today he hoped to resign soon and return to private business.

Seaton, who arrived here Thursday night for a regional Republican conference, gave no firm date for his resignation.

He told newsmen he wanted to quit his Cabinet post in the near future "so I can make up for time I have been missing with my family."

Seaton, who owns several Midwestern newspapers and radio stations, speaks at tonight's closing banquet. He will return to Washington tomorrow.

Strike Continues in New York

Publication of 9 Dailies Suspended as Mediators Look for Solution

NEW YORK (AP)—New Yorkers today face the prospect of a weekend without local newspapers as a deliverers' strike over a new contract entered its fourth day.

Negotiations between the Publishers Assn. of New York City, representing the nine big dailies, and the striking Newspaper Mail and Deliverers Union were to resume this afternoon with federal mediators present.

★ ★ ★

The giant presses of the nine papers, which daily feed 5½-million copies to the country's largest city, have been idle since the Thursday morning editions rolled.

Renewal of contract talks was recessed Friday on a pessimistic note. The two sides had been brought together, for the first time since Wednesday, by federal mediator Herbert L. Haber.

"Not much happened . . . to indicate the strike will soon be over," a publishers' representative said. He added the papers would not increase their money offers — a $7 weekly wage increase over two years. The offer was rejected by the union in a rank-and-file vote Tuesday.

Asher Schwartz, union lawyer, said the publishers "have taken a step backwards."

The publishers withdrew their offer to reduce the weight of bundles handled from 53 to 50 pounds.

Seaton Denies Plans to Quit as Secretary

HONOLULU (AP) — Fred A. Seaton returns to Washington today firmly denying a report that he intends to resign as Secretary of the Interior.

Seaton said the report probably arose from a misunderstanding. He said he told Charles Parmiter, political reporter for the Honolulu Star-Bulletin that he has no intention of pursuing a political career after 1960 and, "I have told reporters that in each of the 48 states."

Parmiter said Seaton had volunteered that he intended to resign soon.

Seaton was in Honolulu to address Friday's closing conference of Republican leaders of 12 Western states and Hawaii.

Algeria Prolongs Session of U. N.

Independence Question Keeps Assembly From Adjournment

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The General Assembly sought today to end its 1958 session, but debate on Algeria threatened to drag it into a night session.

★ ★ ★

Informed sources said supporters of the Algerian independence movement were determined to stand fast by their resolution aimed at ending French rule. It was given little chance of getting the two-thirds majority required by the Assembly.

Seventeen Asian-African nations put in the resolution Friday after a week of debate. It proposed that the Assembly urge France to negotiate with the new Algerian rebel government for an end to their four-year-old war.

This resolution was more specific than the Assembly's two previous ones on Algeria but neither of them brought any practical results. There have been rumors of secret French-rebel negotiations.

The General Assembly had planned to wind up this year's session Friday.

Algeria Rebels Claim 435 Frenchmen Killed

CAIRO (AP) — The Algerian provisional government claims rebel forces killed 435 French soldiers and wounded 263 from Dec. 3 to Dec. 12.

A spokesman made the claim Friday night.

The Klondike Valley has yielded more than $215 million in gold ore.

Michigan Week Plans Unfold

Robin to Wear Sailor's Cap

EAST LANSING (AP)—The 1959 Michigan Week, scheduled to be held May 17-23, will have the usual chesty, red-breasted robin as its official emblem.

This year he'll be wearing a sailor's cap to call attention to the planned 1959 opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The emblem was picked by the executive board of Michigan Week which held its initial meeting yesterday.

Three main objectives of the 1959 celebration were listed by the board:

1. Advance the economic and social progress of Michigan by use of every practical means.

PROMOTE UNDERSTANDING

2. Promote among Michigan residents and the people of the United States better understanding of the advantages Michigan offers as a place for living, working, playing and carrying on a business.

3. Get all Michigan people working together to make Michigan an even better place to live, work and play in.

The board adopted "Michigan Products" as the 1959 theme. The theme is aimed at promotion of the diversity of the state's industry, business and agriculture and all their products.

★ ★ ★

Themes were also selected for each day of the week-long affair. The daily themes: Sunday, spiritual foundations; Monday, mayors' exchange; Tuesday, hospitality; Wednesday, our livelihood; Thursday, education; Friday, our heritage; and Saturday, new frontiers.

★ ★ ★

A new celebration slogan was adopted: "We're Proud of Michigan." For the past several years the slogan has been "It's Great to Live in Michigan."

Expect School Sprinkler Rule

Coroner's Jury Probe Finds No Clues for Chicago Fire Cause

CHICAGO (AP) — A coroner's jury probing the parochial grade school fire is certain to recommend that sprinkler systems be made mandatory in Chicago schools, the foreman of the investigative body believes.

★ ★ ★

Roy Tuchbreiter, an insurance executive and foreman of the jury of 16 experts, said Friday that testimony taken in the initial three days of hearings has failed to provide even a hint of how the fire started.

The cause may never be known, he said, unless more information is provided.

★ ★ ★

The flash fire at Our Lady of the Angels School brought death to 89 pupils and three nuns. The jury, called by Cook County (Chicago) Coroner Walter McCarron, is seeking the cause of the fire.

The inquest was continued to Monday.

State Police Will Work Overtime During Holiday

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police will go on an overtime schedule the day before Christmas to help prevent motorists from killing and maiming each other on the highways.

"We want to help make Christmas safe as well as merry," said Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

From noon Dec. 24 till midnight Dec. 28 troopers will work 10-hour traffic patrol shifts. Assisting them from 1 p.m. to midnight Christmas Eve will be 50 National guardsmen. Another 50 guardsmen will be assigned to help sheriffs' deputies.

Negro families operate one-fourth of North Carolina farms.

Civilian Made Algerian Head

Paul Delouvrier Picked by De Gaulle to Take General Salan's Post

PARIS (AP) — Premier de Gaulle has named a civilian economist to take over administration of Algeria from Gen. Raoul Salan. Military men were left in some other administrative positions for the time being.

★ ★ ★

Paul Delouvrier will be answerable only to De Gaulle for the government of the turbulent North African territory. Yesterday's change had been expected for several weeks.

The government gave Delouvrier the power to put civilians into all administrative posts when he thinks the time is ripe to displace the remaining soldiers.

Salan was promoted to the vaguely defined post of inspector-general of national defense. He had been responsible for both military and civilian rule in Algeria since the revolt last May 13 which brought De Gaulle to power.

★ ★ ★

Air force Gen. Maurice Challe was appointed to Salan's post of commander in chief of the French armed forces in Algeria. He will be Delouvrier's assistant.

Paratroop Gen. Jacques Massu, a key figure in the May 13 revolt, was named superperfect supervising governor of the central sector of Algeria. He replaces Gen Jacques Allard, who becomes Challe's assistant and ground forces commander.

Chinese Say 'Thank You' for U.S. Aid

TAIPEI, Formosa, (AP) — The Chinese Nationalist general staff has extended warm thanks for U.S. support during the Quemoy crisis.

★ ★ ★

The Nationalist chief of staff, Gen. "Tiger" Wang Shu-ming wrote thank-you letters to Vice Adm. Roland N. Smoot commander of U.S. forces on Formosa, and Maj. Gen. Leander L. Doan, commander of U.S. Army forces on Formosa and chief of the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group.

The letters were received at American headquarters here today.

Meanwhile, the Communists resumed their every-other-day bombardment of the Quemoy islands. This was an odd day—the shooting day—and the Reds fired about 50 shells by noon, the Nationalists reported.

The trucking industry of Michigan is again working hand in glove with Santa Claus in an effort to insure all Christmas gifts arriving at their destinations on time . . . It's just one of scores of ways in which trucks serve the people of Michigan. Johnson Opposes Forced Integration

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) told questioning college students here Friday that he is against "forced integration."

"But," the senator added, "I wish the hotheads on both sides would give us a chance to evolve a solution."

He told San Angelo College students that he believed the Civil Rights Commission has subpoena powers. And although professing opposition to "forced integration," he added: "We're a little late in our section in recognizing that all men are created equal."

Johnson made his remarks on the eve of a scheduled speech Sunday in Houston, Tex., by Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas. He said he was sorry Faubus mobilized the National Guard in Little Rock, but added:

"I regret even more that the President of the United States pushed a button and sent in paratroops."

He discussed the Civil Rights Commission in connection with the refusal of election officials in some Alabama counties to produce their registration records for that federal agency.

"I think without question the commission has the authority (to subpoena the records), and I do think in time they (the Alabama officials) will recognize it," Johnson said.

★ ★ ★

"I voted for the civil rights bill because I think everyone ought to have the right to vote, whether he's white or brown or black."

Practical Joker Plants Bomb, Gets Fired

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A practical joker whose fake bomb caused City Hall employes to rush madly from the building has been fired.

Mayor Nick Nuccio released city land agent Ralph Gardner Friday after receiving a detective report in which Gardner admitted that "in a joking manner" he had placed a small timing device in a desk drawer.

★ ★ ★

The desk belonged to city claims investigator Bill White. When White found the ticking object Thursday morning he summoned police and firemen who threw it in the Hillsborough River, five blocks away, without taking a chance on examining it.

Dear Abby . . .

Just What Kind of Figures Does He Find Irresistible?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Do you think a man who cheats on his expense account would cheat on his wife?"

JUST ASKING

DEAR JUST: Only those who can't resist nice round figures.

ABBY

"DEAR ABBY: Our neighbor sent her husband to a dermatologist to check the moles on his back and the doctor removed one of them. This neighbor asked me if I ever checked my husband's moles and I told her no. In fact, I don't even KNOW whether he has any moles on his back. She told me if I really loved my husband I would know where his moles were and how many he had, as they can be a dangerous thing.

"This may seem silly to you, Abby, but this lady got me to worrying. Do you think I should check my husband for moles?"

ANNABELLE

DEAR ANNABELLE: This is far from silly. All skin growths should be watched and checked periodically by a doctor.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My mother was of those women Lucille was talking about when she said, 'How can a woman be so lacking in pride as to hang on to a man for the sake of her children?' My mother has always had trouble with my father because he couldn't resist other women. She says she used to eat her heart out but now she understands that this is his one weakness and she took him for better or for worse. In spite of his weakness he is a good father and is good to my mother. I am glad my mother had 'no pride.'"

THEIR DAUGHTER

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: The letter signed 'LUCILLE' certainly hit home with me. I went with a married man who swore he loved me, but his wife wouldn't give him a divorce 'because of the children.' He asked me to wait for him, until 'the children' were out of high school. Then college, and then until after 'the children' were married. 'The children,' Dear Abby, now have children of their own and I am STILL waiting."

WORLD'S BIGGEST FOOL

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old boy and my problem is my mother. She likes to play poker. She plays every Tuesday night and gets home about two in the morning and the next morning she's too tired to get up and fix my breakfast. The worst part of it is she always loses. I can't talk to her. I wish you'd give her some advice."

RICKY

DEAR RICKY: It won't hurt you to fix your own breakfast once a week. The best advice I can offer your mother is: "Don't open unless you have Jacks or better."

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO GENE: Just get a little lettuce together and you'll have no trouble finding the tomatoes.

Indirect Way May Do Trick

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: For almost every occasion (birthday, anniversary, Christmas, etc.) my mother-in-law has given me a lovely slip. These slips are expensive and I do appreciate them, but they are the wrong size. I was on the verge of mentioning it to her but my sister-in-law advised me not to as her feelings would be hurt if I found any fault with her gifts.

"What can I do in this case? If I can't tell her about it and no one else will, am I to keep on accepting these gifts which are useless to me? I've tried taking in the seams but they still don't fit. Will you please tell me what I can do?"

Answer: A possible way out of your difficulty would be to tell your mother-in-law during an everyday conversation, "Do you know the diet I have been on really works. I have brought my size down so that I now can wear a twelve instead of the fourteen I have worn for years."

"Dear Mrs. Post: My son is a newsboy and at Christmas time his customers often give him a card containing money. Very often this money is handed to him by a maid or housekeeper. He always says thank you to them of course when they hand him the cards, but I feel that a note of thanks should be written to the woman of the house who is really the one responsible for the present. What is your opinion?"

Answer: You are right. His customer will be pleased and think well of your son if he writes to each, saying: "Dear Mrs. Jones, Thank you for your Christmas present. Merry Christmas to you from Jimmy your newsboy."

Diet for Teenagers

Activate Reducing Plan With New Jet-Start

By RUTH WEST

And now for the Jet-Start Diet, the second of my two quickies.

Do you like hard-boiled eggs? Then this is the diet that will work best for you.

An egg is "loaded!" Not only does it contain all of the amino acids essential for building and repairing your body tissues, but egg protein is of so high a quality that science uses it as a yardstick in measuring the protein of other foods.

HAS EVERYTHING

Did you know that an egg also contains about the same amount of fat as a pat of butter But don't worry. This is no ordinary fat. Among other virtues, it's packed with lecithin and linoleic acid — two fatty acids essential to life itself, not to mention the elasticity of your muscles.

The seemingly uncanny way the pounds roll off, when you invest most of your day's calories in eggs, is believed to relate to the precise balance of fat and protein side that pearly shell.

And helping to keep you satisfied are 22 minerals, including aluminum, zinc, copper, lead, chrominum, titanium, vanadium. And arsenic. Sorry, no uranium. Iron, though.

★ ★ ★

Authorities say it's almost as if the iron in eggs is of a special kind for the formation of hemoglobin, the iron-containing constituent of blood, which keeps both your energy and complexion-color high.

PACKED WITH VITAMINS

And that isn't all. When it comes to vitamins, you can read right through the alphabet (except for vitamin C) with an egg—vitamins A to H, plus K. Except for vitamin C, that little hen-fruit has them all cornered. "It is also highly probable," concludes the U.S. Department of Agriculture, "that eggs contain vitamins and vitamin-like compounds that are as yet unknown."

As you probably suspected, the satisfaction value of an egg is considerably higher when it has been hard-cooked. That's one reason why it's prescribed that way in this simple, but dramatic, diet. Other practical reasons:

★ ★ ★

You won't add any butter calories when you prepare the eggs this way. Hard-boiled eggs are the simplest to cook. And you can prepare a bowlful in advance—so they're on hand for a snack or a "nightcap."

★ ★ ★

How long should you stay on this egg feast? Two or three days.

Is it safe? Yes, because the egg is nutritionally so complete. You can get your whole gram of calcium per day by chewing up just half of one egg-shell, for instance.

The Jet-Start Diet

Tomato juice a (cupful-8 ounces)	50 calories
3 medium-size eggs, hard-boiled	225 calories
4 whole rye crackers	38 calories
Coffee, tea, or No-Cal	00 calories
Total per meal	313 calories per meal

Breakfast, lunch, and dinner are substantially the same—313 calories per meal, 939 calories per day. (If you're under 5 feet 5 inches tall, cut all quantities by a third.)

Salt and pepper your eggs to taste. A normal amount of salt won't slow your weight loss.

This launches you with a pretty normal breakfast. For lunch and-or dinner you can add a serving of spinach, asparagus, or green beans (20 calories). For a sauce, instead of butter, you may melt a tablespoon of cottage cheese (25 calories) in the drained, cooked vegetables — a deliciously creamy, stringy cheese sauce. Or spread your crackers or toast with this snowy, fresh-tasting "solid milk."

When you have a vegetable, omit about half a rye wafer. When you have both vegetable and the cottage cheese, omit a whole wafer.

JUICE IMPORTANT

Why the tomato juice? (Substitute canned vegetable juice if you prefer.) Because it tastes so just-right with the eggs and rye wafers. And it is also loaded with the one vitamin that's left out of an egg—vitamin C; along with as much vitamin A as in a whole head of lettuce or five cups of cooked summer squash.

★ ★ ★

If you take lunch with you from home, nothing could be easier or more portable than the ingredients of this diet. And if you happen to eat out, ordering this diet won't make you self-conscious.

★ ★ ★

All this can make the difference between success and failure in taking off weight. It's important that your normal life shouldn't be dislocated by your diet. You'll be able to stay with it longer than when you must go in for solitary confinement — and bizarre rituals of preparation—to lose weight.

If the lack of something sweet disturbs you, have a vanilla wafer with your coffee (21 calories). Or a small gingersnap (16 calories). But don't overdo it. And compensate by cutting out a rye wafer.

Warning: Don't let yourself get hungry or thirsty between meals. Crunch on celery, kept crisp on the refrigerator. Drink de-calorized soft drinks.

Feminine Traits Are Same Everywhere

By RUTH MILLETT

Was there ever a woman who—

After accepting a party invitation didn't think, "What have I got to wear?"

After hitting 40 really believed she looked her age?

Didn't feel confident that she had good taste?

Ever doubted any complimentary statement ever made about any of her children?

Didn't believe she was far more practical than her husband?

Really meant it when she said, "Be perfectly frank. You won't hurt my feelings?"

Never wondered how her husband would ever get along without her?

Couldn't lift herself out of the doldrums by buying a new hat?

Didn't occasionally have an uncontrollable urge to push furniture around to see if it wouldn't look better in a diferent arrangement?

Didn't need a "best friend" with whom she felt perfectly free to let down her hair?

Wasn't interested in the latest bit of local gossip?

Didn't feel especially virtuous during housecleaning week?

Belived her husband knew how hard she worked?

Could be happy without feeling needed by somebody?

Wouldn't prefer to be happily married to a successful man than to have a successful career of her own?

Here's Foolproof Recipe for Good Sugar Cookies

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Many homemakers would like to have a foolproof recipe for making rolled Christmas cookies. We think this one from Mrs. Charles Coppersmith is the one. She got it from a friend in her home town who used to make the cookies for all the children in the neighborhood and who used to let them help her do it.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Coppersmith is active in a number of civic affairs. She is president of the Washington Junior High PTSA. She works with the Red Cross Blood Bank and is active in chapter AW of the PEO Sisterhood. Her hobbies are handwork, reading and golf.

SUGAR COOKIES
By Mrs. Charles Coppersmith

1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup butter or margarine
1 egg, beaten
3 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
4 tablespoons sour milk
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon lemon extract

Cream sugar and butter or margarine until fluffy. Add beaten egg. Sift flour and baking powder together. Add soda to sour milk. Add alternately to creamed mixture. Add flavoring.

Chill several hours. Roll thin on board or pastry cloth dusted with confectioners' sugar. Use sugar on the rolling pin. Cut with Christmas cutters, sprinkle with colored sugar. Bake 8-10 minutes at 375 degrees.

If old-fashioned thick cookies are desired, roll dough about ¼ inch thick and cut with large round cutter. Sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar before baking.

BPW Head Sees Way to Cut U.S. Budget

By ALICIA HART

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The housewife's knack for balancing the family budget may become a national economic policy if Uncle Sam takes the advice of a prominent clubwoman.

Grace B. Daniels, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, believes that one of the best ways to keep government spending in line is to give more of the nation's top finance planning jobs to women.

THEY'RE EXPERIENCED

Miss Daniels doesn't think that women could provide a foolproof cure for all the country's financial ills. But she's confident that their innate skill in managing the purse strings of their households or private business operations would at least be beneficial to the government's economy.

"I think women have a great sense of values," she declares. "In a woman's mind, a balanced budget is something to be desired. In our homes, in our businesses, in all of our financial dealings, it is something that we try to achieve."

Miss Daniels hopes that the outcome of a future BPW project will turn her theory into an economic reality. Next year, the nation's 3,400 BPW clubs will survey all the business and professional women in their communities to determine their job experience and the success that they have achieved. Also included in the survey will be all women who hold elective or appointive jobs in government.

This information will be compiled into a special job qualification directory which will be placed in BPW national headquarters in Washington.

Miss Daniels explains that the central file will be available for the use of government agencies who need qualified personnel to fill important jobs.

DO 'SUPER' JOB

She's confident that any woman in this directory who is tabbed for a government position will do excellent work. Main reason for her assurance, Miss Daniels explains, is that a woman feels she must work extra hard to be accepted by her male colleagues. She says that this added effort often results in a woman doing "a super job."

★ ★ ★

Actually the BPW president would probably have little trouble herself in handling a post for Uncle Sam. In addition to supervising the budget for the nationwide women's organization, she works in the cost accounting department of Luzerne County, Pa., offices.

Miss Daniels is also a member of the citizens' committee of the Philadelphia Women's Medical College. Other jobs include positions on the Kingston, Pa., chapter of the Red Cross and the Luzerne County Republican executive committee.

Another of her interests is designing hats. She explains, "I love to buy an expensive hat, then rush home, tear it up and make it all over again."

She is also an accomplished cellist, and has played in several string quartets.

With her interest in everything from hats to economics, and from cellos to education, Grace Daniels lends weight to the old adage, "It's a woman's world."

Clothes Can Help

Make Yourself Look Taller Anyway

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many women write to ask if there is any way in which they can increase their height. Very young women are especially apt to be self-conscious if they feel that they are unusually tall or short.

So far as I know there is no way in which you can increase your height except by improving your posture. Unless yours is just about perfect you can add an inch or two to your stature by holding yourself better.

Try to make your neck as long as possible behind the ears. In order to do this you must keep your chin level and push toward the ceiling with the top of your head. Naturally you must straighten your back. Also make the distance between your waist and your bust as long as you can. To do this you will have to stretch your spine and lift your rib cage.

Some claim that hanging from a horizontal bar for a time each day will add to height. However, I feel that this simply counteracts the tendency everyone has to give in to gravity and slump, and is a temporary stretching which is not permanent so far as adding inches is concerned.

Certainly stretching exercises and a consciousness of posture should be indulged in.

The way you dress makes a big difference in how tall you appear to others. Long unbroken princess lines will make you look taller. Avoid belts of a contrasting color. Do not wear pockets on your skirts. Wear hats which add height.

Remember, too, that any overweight is more damaging to you than to a taller woman.

Actually the only damage being unusually short or unusually tall can do to a woman's attractiveness is any self-consciousness it may produce. Folks really are not measuring you in inches but only in likability and warmth.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Planning Clothes to Suit Figure and Personality" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 54. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

You can't stretch your way to greater height, but you can improve your posture and stature with stretching exercises.

Buy Only What Family Can Eat

A housewife can save grocery money if she buys only what she knows the family will eat.

This also holds true when preparing meals. Leftovers that clutter the refrigerator for weeks and perishable foods the family doesn't eat are pennies in the garbage pail, not the bank.

If you have a pretty hairline, show it off. Don't hide it under bangs. Comb your hair back from the forehead.

Don't Be Overly Domestic

The woman who places the furnishings of her home far in advance of her own appearance is making a mistake. For one day her family will be unable to distinguish her from the draperies.

It's true that homemaking and everything that goes into it is important. Good food, a pleasant background and comfort make living something a little special. But the woman who would invariably prefer a new slipcover to a new dress or a new electrical appliance to a good permanent had better check up on herself.

An appraising, critical glance in a full-length mirror may give her some shocking answers. It may show her that she has become drab in a lovely setting that she created. And if she has, chances are her family will regard her as a combination maid and cook.

This doesn't mean that from then on she need spend all of her time and money in beauty parlors. But it does mean that she had better divert a part of her time and money to herself.

Confident Living

Every Act, Great or Small Should Reflect Your Joy

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Like so many people, I am always trying to keep my weight down. And it's not easy, but I have found that when I'm away from home lecturing I can reduce my caloric intake by eating lightly before my talk. Then after speaking it's too late to eat; so I go to bed, as a general rule, without eating anything.

DR. PEALE

Although this produces a rather uncomfortable emptiness, the smug satisfaction of cutting off a pound compensates.

But on one recent occasion I couldn't resist stopping at a lunch counter near my hotel for a very small snack before going to bed. It was a small place and behind the counter there was a big, husky fellow who looked as though he enjoyed his own wares.

"Hello, brother," he said jovially as I sat down.

"How are you?" I responded.

"What'll you have?" he asked.

I though about my waistline and ordered a cup of black coffee and a dish of Jello without whipped cream "Why that?" he demanded.

"Well," I said weakly, "I'm watching my diet."

"Oh, that's no food for a man who's had a hard day," he insisted. "You need something like this." He reached to a shelf and brought out an uncut apple pie which he proudly showed to me.

"Our pies are works of art," he declaimed. "That crust is made wtih real butter and melts in your mouth. And the apples are the best New York State has to offer. Just smell that cinnamon!" And he held the pie right under my nose. It surely smelled good. I just couldn't resist and he cut me a generous piece.

★ ★ ★

Then he drew the coffee. As he put the cup down before me, he said: "You know, my friend, there's coffee and then again there's coffee. Get the smell and taste of that coffee I've put by your elbow. Bet you've never had anything so good."

Well, I ate the pie and drank the coffee. I'm sure I've had pie and coffee just as good if not better elsewhere, but the enthusiasm of that man behind the counter made it taste just as wonderful as he said it was.

I've written about enthusiasm often and I intend to go on writing about this most important quality. I think it is one of the most important qualities anyone can have. It transforms people and their lives as well. It can even stimulate health.

I was talking about this subject to a leading physician recently and he told me something very interesting. He said that he had actually seen people die, not due to organic reasons, but basically because they had lost their enthusiasm. Had they only possessed the zest for life that enthusiasm connotes, they would have had the will to live.

You can inject the elixir of enthusiasm into your daily living, into every act you perform. You can be as enthusiastic about pie and coffee as my friend behind the lunch counter; you can be enthusiastic about your husband, wife, children, parents; you can be enthusiastic about every aspect of your life, great or small.

And this is exactly what the Bible tells us to do when it says: "This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it."

Annual Appeal Opens Today

Seventh-Day Adventists Assist Persons in Relief Throughout World

The 55th annual World Missions Appeal, sponsored by the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, opens today with house calls. Many are accompanied by Christmas carolers.

Leading the volunteer workers in the four-week citywide drive is Mrs. Russell E. Perry, church home misions director. The goal is $8,600.

★ ★ ★

Funds will go toward extending welfare, disaster aid, and educational services as well as a medical and educational ministry in 185 lands abroad.

The local church operates a Health and Welfare Center at 156 Mt. Clemens St. Persons in need of assistance or knowing others needing material aid may phone the center.

On a world basis, volunteer Adventist workers in 1957 gave more than $1,000,000 in cash, some 5,000,000 articles of clothing, and 2,356,000 food baskets in a relief program for 6,29,403 persons. Approximately 50 percent of this aid was given in North America.

Seventh-day Adventist members contributed more than $72,000,000 last year toward the support of their world church program in addition to welfare activities, according to Mrs. G. M. Kersting of the local church.

Swedish Churches Spend $20,000 on Advertising

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Swedish Lutheran National Church and the Free Churches of Sweden are spending some $20,000 on newspaper and other advertising in a campaign to increase church attendance.

As part of the campaign, the churches plan newspaper ads each Saturday, including scriptural passages pertinent to the problems of modern man, and an appeal for church attendance.

Religion Advertised

NEW YORK (AP) — The annual nationwide "Religion in American Life" campaign, backed by the American Advertising Council, was launched this month, with advertising worth more than 8 million dollars — in the form of broadcasts, billboards and newspaper and magazine displays — to be used in urging people to attend the church or synagogue of their choice regularly.

President Eisenhower to Join Bible Observance

President Dwight D. Eisenhower has hailed the 15th annual observance of Worldwide Bible Reading and urged the "faithful reading of Scripture" to provide "the courage and strength required for the living of our time" in a letter made public by the American Bible Society, sponsor of the program.

★ ★ ★

President Eisenhower, honorary chairman of the board of sponsors, said he would join the observance in which millions of people in 50 nations read the identical preselected passages of Scripture on each day between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Former presidents Herbert C. Hoover and Harry S. Truman also are among the sponsors.

The program has its beginnings in 1943 when a lonely Marine on Guadalcanal wrote his parents to suggest that they maintain a spiritual bond each day by reading the same Bible passage from a preselected list.

Learning of this, the society prepared lists for the armed forces and, the following year, decided to broaden its scope by publishing lists and distributing them widely through churches.

The reading lists are now published in a dozen languages and in braille for the blind.

★ ★ ★

The theme for 1958, "The Book That Lives," was adopted by the society to emphasize the continuing role of the Bible in helping mankind solve its problems in an ever-changing world.

Party Planned Saturday

The Faith Class of Emmanuel Baptist Church is having a Christmas party at 7 p.m. next Saturday in Fellowship Hall. The program will include entertainment, a speaker and refreshments.

Your Neighbor's House

Spencers Live on Coseyburn

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Walton boulevard runs behind the O. D. Spencer house, but the back yard is deep enough so that the noise is at a minimum. At the front of the house on Coseyburn the scene is one of quiet around the circle of houses. Across the road and down the hill is the Clinton River. Starting from here in a boat, residents of this area can get into six lakes. John Stoppert has built all the houses on this circle. The Spencers bought theirs after it was built. They moved in last March from Elizabeth Lake Estates. Their only child is a daughter, Fran, who's 17.

It was a cold blustery day when we visited the Spencer home. We parked in front of the two-car garage and your home editor dashed inside while the photographer shivered outside long enough to snap the exterior. This is red brick with green trim.

We started our work in the basement. This is accessible from the back door and from the door into the garage. It's a perfect set-up for Fran to use when entertaining her teenage friends.

About fifty feet long, the recreation room offers all kinds of entertainment. There's a bumper pool table, a ping-pong table and a shuffleboard court. There's a fireplace for wienie roasts.

The corktone tile floor is several shades of tan. There are stars and circles on the ceiling tile. All the walls are covered with prefinished antique cherry plywood. The fireplace is buff brick with a raised stone hearth.

In one corner there is a Formica topped bar and a lower Formica topped desk. Bookshelves are built in above the desk. Each shelf is banded in gold.

Between the bar and the desk is a round plastic-topped table. The marbleized top combines black, white and orange. The frame is black. Black chairs have gray tweed plastic seats.

Near the fireplace there is a pinky brown tweed sofa and matching chair. A brown braided rug lies on the floor. The TV set is in this corner.

At the far end of the room peel furniture is used. All curtains are brown with an antique train print on them.

Upstairs you can turn left into the dining room or right into the kitchen.

CORRIDOR KITCHEN

The kitchen has pink walls and white cupboards with natural birch fronts. Counter tops are gray linen weave Formica. This is a corridor type kitchen with room for a table only at one end. Mrs. Spencer uses a very narrow drop leaf pine table here.

Stove, refrigerator and curtains are white. Black rooster cutouts decorate the wall.

Back of the kitchen is a lavatory. Behind the garage is a large screened porch with a turquoise fiberglas ceiling. There's a large outdoor grill in the back yard. Mrs. Spencer's brother built this part of the house, also the recreation room.

Carpeting in living room and dining room (which are separated only by the fireplace) is gray tweed Acrilan. Walls are gray and ceiling white. Draperies are a black and gray print with a bit of gold in them. The throw rug in front of the sofa is a white furry one.

GRAY, BLACK, WHITE

Gray, black and white is the color scheme in these rooms with a hint of gold here and there. On the black sectional sofa there are pale turquoise throw pillows. The sofa itself has a gold thread in the upholstery.

There are picture windows on two sides of the room. Near the front windows is a spinet piano with a gray upholstered rocker beside it and a black pole lamp next to it. Above the piano there are open shelves. On them is a profusion of green plants.

Mr. Spencer has his massage lounge chair next to the kitchen door. It is covered in red Naugahyde.

The fireplace is red brick with stone hearth and mantel on one side and stone shelves on the dining room side. The fire screen is made of glass. On the wall above is a sunburst clock.

Dining room furniture is mahogany with the traditional Duncan Phyfe drop leaf table and china cupboard. Chairs have maroon and gray satin striped seats.

The first bedroom is used as a den and as Mrs. Spencer's office. There's a white furry rug on the tweed carpeting. Walls are pale yellow. Curtains are white with a rural scene in red, blue and gray. Below the windows is a rust studio couch.

PICTURE DISPLAY

In the hallway there's a glass front gun cabinet. Instead of guns, it has pictures of boys Mr. Spencer has sponsored on his softball team.

The front bedroom is the Spencers'. Here the Acrilan carpeting is an off-white. Walls are pale green. Woodwork is white, as is the ceiling. Furniture is bleached mahogany. Curtains and spread are white with a pink and gold flower print in the latter.

Fran's room is painted blue. Her carpeting is the same as her parents'. The finish on her furniture which is also mahogany is called silver fox and is an appropriate name. All accessories, curtains, bedspread and Naugahyde covered chair are white. The curtains are semi-sheer with a textured stripe.

The bedspread is quilted in a gold medallion design with gold cording. Everywhere are trophies and stuffed animals. She has her own telephone on a low plastic topped table.

ON COSEYBURN — Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Spencer and their teenage daughter, Fran, have lived in this new house on Coseyburn since March. Including the garage, the house is 90 feet long. It is built on a pie-shaped lot, 100x250x250. John Stoppert did the construction work on this red brick house with the green trim. It contains six rooms, 1½ baths and full basement, most of which is a recreation room.

LIVING DECORATION — A variety of green plants is used in the open shelf area above the piano. This wall divides the living room from the vestibule. The hall in the background leads to the bedrooms. At the right is one end of the sectional sofa. This is black to carry out the color scheme of white, gray and black. Even the lamps include the same three colors. Walls are white, the carpeting gray tweed Acrilan. The mirror reflects the mantel.

FIREPLACE DIVIDES — The only division between living room and dining room is the fireplace wall of red brick. Both hearth and mantel are stone. The fire opening is closed with a double glass door. In the background can be seen the mahogany china cabinet. The windows at the left are draped in white material printed in gray, black and gold. Accessories like the sunburst clock repeat the gold accent.

COMPLETE RECREATION — Nothing is lacking to make this room complete for recreation for teenagers and adults. The energetic can play bumper pool, ping pong or shuffleboard. The spectators can relax on the sofa in front of the fireplace and listen to records or watch television. Antique cherry plywood is used on all the walls. The floor is corktone tile, the ceiling a sound absorbing tile. Lighting comes from strategically placed ceiling fixtures. A starburst fixture decorates the area at the foot of the carpeted stairs.

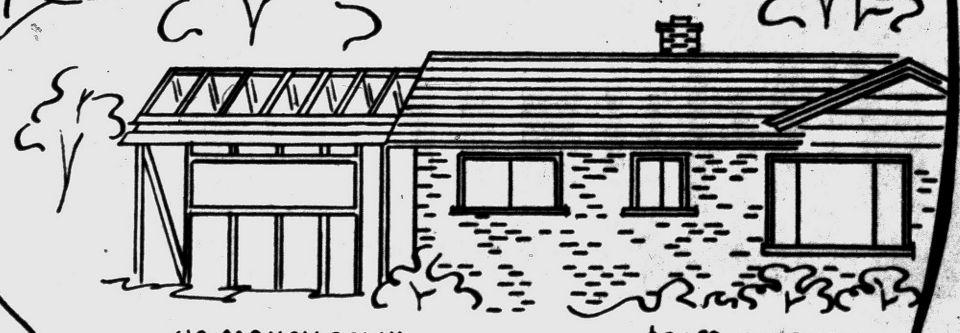

SILENT VIGIL — The fad for stuffed animals and floppy dolls starts in early childhood and extends into the teen years. Fran Spencer is no exception, as shown by the array in her room. Walls are a pale blue. Carpeting and curtains are white. The design on the bedspread, also white, is gold. Her furniture is mahogany, finished in a shade called silver fox.

Flank Radiation With Shelves to Improve Room

An old-fashioned radiator can be given a "new look" if it is enclosed with plastic-finished Peg-Bard in a woodgrain pattern and flanked by book shelves paneled with the same pattern without the perforations.

★ ★ ★

The book shelves will improve the room with their custombuilt look; yet, they are easy to assemble from stock lumber to suit the available space.

Make them from 1 x 12-inch lumber, braced at the back with a sheet of hardboard shelf topped also with this material for good looks and easy cleaning.

The radiator cover itself may be constructed of 1 x 2-inch lumber framing and its top, sides and front covered with the perforated panels.

To assure ample outlet for the heat, saw a long oval opening in the plastic-finished Peg-Board front, just beneath the top. The back of the radiator need not be covered.

Every square foot of hardboard is usable in do-it-yourself projects because it has no knots or grain.

Luxury Bath Is Sunken One

If you can't make a big splash with a swimming pool in your home, you can always make a little splash—with a sunken bath.

★ ★ ★

There are few things that can give your home that touch of distinction as much as the step-down bath or plunge. And contrary to popular belief, this feature is not a luxury except in appearance.

Technical details of construction must, of course, be left to your contractor. But ideas for style, design and layout can be your own, provided your architect finds them workable.

The ceramic tile for your plunge can be the same as that used throughout the bathroom, or it can be of a contrasting color if you want to make it a center of interest in your room design.

Like swimming pools, most plunges are equipped with chrome hand rails for safety's sake. As an additional safety factor, grab bars of ceramic tile can be installed.

If your sunken bath is located at the side of the room, towel racks running the length of the tub can be installed in the wall for easy accessibility.

★ ★ ★

The dimensions of your step-down bath will, of course, depend on the size of your bathroom as well as your pocketbook. A plunge with plenty of room to splash is the ideal, but ne that is no larger than your present bathtub can make bathing a real pleasure, with a touch of Roman self-indulgence.

Right Colors Can Enlarge Small Room

The correct use of color in a minor redecorating job can make a major change in the appearance of a small bedroom. Strong contrasts should be eliminated, and all lines that might tend to divide the room either horizontally or vertically should be avoided.

A greater degree of spaciousness can be achieved in a small bedroom by paneling the walls with either pastel blue or green predecorated hard-board. The paneling and matching moldings are available at lumber yards to insure an overall color theme.

Storage space can be increased in a small bedroom by using one panel of Peg-Board in the same color that has been used for the other walls and thereby making a storage wall for hanging a variety of items.

Oil Tops Gas and Coal as Modern Heating Fuel

Family comfort and health these winter days depend a lot on good home heating, so American families can derive cheer from the fact that their homes—over 46,000,000 of them—are the best heated in the world, the National Fueloil Council reports.

In the northern states where our winters are the most wintry and good heating means the most over the longest period, more than two-thirds of the families, or 20 million households, keep warm and healthy with central heating provided by oil, gas or coal. In most other countries, central heating is a rarity. Of all this country's home heating energy, modern oil supplies 44 per cent, gas 33 per cent and coal 23 per cent.

Heating efficiency in an engineer's terms can get very complicated, but for American families, it means getting the most heat when you want it for the least money. Oil and gas are the two modern home heating fuels with full convenience and have been replacing coal in millions of homes in recent years. "Oil," the Council reports, "is cheaper than gas in the majority of states with full heating seasons."

To make your own comparison of fuel heating costs, try the rule of thumb that a gallon of fueloil and 140 cubic feet of natural gas produce the same amounts of useable heat. To heat your home for equal dollars, therefore, those two quantities of the fuels should cost the same in your locality. A specific example of this is that oil at 14 cents a gallon provides the same amount of heat as gas as 10 cents per cubic feet.

In the northern states, the council reports, such comparisons often reveal that oil bills run as much as 30 per cent less than those for gas, and result in considerable dollar savings annually. If you want to figure your own fuel costs ahead this winter, here's the amount of fuel the average home consumes, by months—7 per cent in September and October, 28 per cent in November and December, 36 per cent in January and February, 25 per cent for March and April, and only 4 per cent for the rest of the year.

Heating experts have worked out a system of recording cold weather which keeps track of a family's winter heating requirements. This is called the degree day system and in simplified explanation, it measures how much colder each day is than a norm of 65 degrees. The heating experts note the highest temperature of the day and the lowest and then record the midpoint.

For example, if the highest temperature is 70 degrees and the lowest 50 degrees, the midpoint is 60. Since this is 5 degrees below the norm of 65 degrees, that particular day is recorded as accounting for 5 "degree days." This is a total of the amount of degree day "coldness" there was on that particular day.

With this system, the oil user has an unfailing private fuel reserve to provide as much heat as he desires regardless of sharp rises in community consumption of heat when the temperature drops. The home fuel tank is refilled regularly by the local oil dealer on the basis of accurate degree day studies showing the individual home's consumption rate.

Fill Holes First When Refinishing

When you set out to repaint an old chest or other piece of old furniture, bear in mind that the biggest part of the job is getting the surface in proper condition. If the old finish is chipped, cracked or gouged these blemishes will show up in your new finish no matter how many coats of paint you apply.

With today's paint and varnish removers it is not difficult to take off the whole of the old finish right down to the bare wood. Gouges and cracks that go into the wood itself can be filled with plastic wood, building it up slightly higher than the surrounding surface. When the plastic wood has hardened, sand it flush and smooth. Then go over the whole surface with fine sandpaper.

Enamel can give you a handsome and durable finish in either gloss or semi gloss, but before you apply the enamel seal the wood by brushing on a half-and-half mixture of shellac and denatured alcohol. When dry, smooth lightly with medium-fine steel wool. Don't use sandpaper; shellac will clog it.

Now your piece is ready for the enamel undercoat consisting of three parts white enamel underbody and one part enamel of the final color. Let dry at least 36 hours. Then smooth lightly with medium-fine sandpaper and wipe with a turpentine-moistened rag. Finish by applying a coat of enamel of the final color.

Householders' Friend

There are more ways to use putty than fastening in your window frames. A goodly supply of putty on hand at all times is the householders best friend. Before a paint job, there are cracks and nail-holes to be filled, smoothed over, left to dry, before applying paint. In furniture fixing, there are a dozen ways to utilize putty before you apply that final finish.

The latest authoritative estimate on the number of home workshops in the United States: 13 million.

Check Gutters, Spouts

This is the time of year when you must guard against falling leaves and twigs clogging your gutters and downspouts. When rain and melting snow can't drain off, trouble is sure to ensue. Check the outlets of the downspouts, too. Remember water must be carried away from — not toward — the foundation of the house. Moisture seepage will cause interior paints to crack and peel.

Never Too Cold

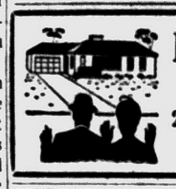

While most of the conventional glues should be used when the temperature in the work area is above 70 degrees, Fahrenheit, a casein glue will stand up well even when applied during near-freezing temperatures.

Mineral Wool Ideal for Do-It-Yourselfer

Three types of mineral wool insulation are available to the home owner for do-it-yourself insulation.

They are mineral wool blankets, long rools of insulation ideal for insulating attic floors and crawl spaces; batts, which are similar to blankets but in shorter lengths, and pouring wool. The latter comes in light-weight bags and is poured into the space to be insulated.

Here's How You Saw Hardboard

The beginning do-it-yourself hobbyist will find it's easy to saw the hardboard he uses in home workshop and fix-up projects.

No special skill or equipment is needed when working with this versatile material.

Standard woodworking saws of either the power or hand variety can be used.

The Hardboard Association offers these tips to make your projects easy:

In hand-sawing hardboard, a slow horizontal stroke and a soft touch produce smooth edges. The cut should be taken on the down-stroke, with the sawteeth being disengaged on the up stroke. This assures clean edges on the face of the board.

A 10-point crosscut saw with medium set gives good results. Remove all saw marks with a plane, file or sandblock.

Cut with exposed surface up when using handsaw or table saw. Use a compass or coping saw for irregular, curved or inside cuts.

When power-sawing hardboard, nver "crowd" the saw beyond its normal cutting capacity; otherwise sawing will be difficult, and chipped and rough edges will result.

High production rip sawing equipment is best for strip cutting.

Ceiling Painting Calls for Certain Technique

How do you use your paint brush in putting a covering on a ceiling or a cornice? If the brush is dipped deeply into paint at each fresh loading, the bristles will remain filled with paint at the center of the brush, especially up near the ferrule at the base of the bristles. This accumulation of paint gradually hardens, even while you are painting, and is not easily removed afterward.

Dip your brush lightly in the paint and slap the bristles gently against the side of the can's edge. In cleaning, dip the brush in solvent and remove in one sweeping stroke.

Canned Goods Storage

To create extra space for canned goods, add shelves to a closet door. An ordinary sized door can take nine shelves, each 4½ inches deep. The shelves should hold about 60 jars or cans.

Indoor Grills Are Becoming Popular

Indoor barbecue grills are becoming increasingly popular throughout the country because they are "weatherproof" as well as a nice addition to gracious living. They are finding their way into the recreation room, the kitchen and other parts of the house.

★ ★ ★

Some homemakers are having the grills built into the kitchen wall, surfaced with ceramic tile to match that used elsewhere in the room.

Another idea is to install the grill right in a large tile-covered dining table. The guests can see the feast being prepared before their eyes, and there is no problem of carrying the food from one part of the room to another.

Whatever lay-out you use for your indoor grill, be sure to provide plenty of counter area for hot pots and pans. The cooking utensils can be placed directly on the tiled surface without danger of burning or marring. Real tile is resistant to high temperatures and will never become discolored. The clean-up job is greatly simplified, too. A sweep with a damp cloth is all that's needed.

EXPENSIVE LOOKING ECONOMY — This six-room modern ranch house was designed to provide true value and comfort in a home of modest cost. Square footage was held to a minimum without sacrificing livability. It has three bedrooms, one bath.

BORROWING SPACE — The floor plan shows the "island" arrangement of the living area which gives both living room and kitchen the appearance of added space because of their link with the dining-family room. A privacy wall adds a note of elegance to the semicircular dining terrace.

Budget Ranch Home Provides Frills Too

By DAVID L. BOWEN

For most American families, the single most important factor in a home plan is its price tag.

To clear the cost barrier, two alternatives are open: either trim down the grandeur of your dream home until it fits the realities of the pocketbook, or postpone building until the pocketbook can support the dream.

Usually both alternatives are unpleasant. Once a family is bitten by the house bug, postponement is practically unthinkable. X-36 in the House of the Week series of distinguished homes stays within a tight building budget without sacrificing the special features most families dream about.

Architect Rudolph A. Matern used two basic economizing methods. First, the main house covers only 1,005 square feet. This is about as small as you can go while providing sufficient space for a family with two or perhaps three children. Secondly, the one-story construction is the essence of simplicity; two end gables and a perfectly straight roof.

Clever planning has effectively concealed the low price tag resulting from these design limitations. By turning the garage away from the street, the house picks up 22 feet of width, increasing the front facade by 50 per cent.

A covered porch behind the garage and dining terrace behind the house are luxury extras gained for little additional cost. And inside, the "island" created by the basement stairwell effectively separates the rooms in the living and working half of the house without completely enclosing any of them.

The kitchen, dining or family and living rooms all seem bigger than they actually are because each "borrows" space from its neighbors.

With every square foot delivering maximum utility, here's what X-36 offers:

LIVING AREA

A foyer provides a transition from the front door to the living room, which blends in with the dining-family room area. Each wall in the living room has its own special contribution: a fireplace in one, a huge angled window in another, bookshelves in a third, a picturesque planter in the fourth.

Traffic flow is smooth and easy from living room to dining-family room, yet each is a distinct area. Sliding glass doors in the rear wall connect the rich-looking outdoor dining terrace with its indoor counterpart.

Neatly blending space again, Architect Matern provides the same luxurious atmosphere in the housekeeping area by joining the kitchen to the dining-family room from another direction. Large windows and glass areas guarantee pleasant working conditions.

The service entrance has its own vestibule, which gets the door out of the way and reduces dirt tracking. There's direct access to the basement from outdoors.

The covered porch located directly behind the garage, handy to both kitchen and living room, measures over 200 square feet. It has a barbecue, economically built into the main fireplace wall.

The three bedrooms are a closely knit group with all entrances within a step of each other. This cuts down unnecessary steps in housekeeping. The bath is centrally located to serve all rooms with ease. The house has 14 closets which, combined with kitchen cabinets, cover 121 square feet of floor area. Additional storage is available in the full basement.

SPECIAL EXTERIOR FEATURES

The garage opens to the side in order to promote the appearance of length in the front wall. The cantilever at the opposite end of the house provides a unique exterior feature while making a sizeable addition to closet area.

The front door has vertical louvers at one side, and long brick planters dramatize the living room window.

From end to end the house measures 63' 5", and it is 23' 8" deep. Habitable area is 1,005 square feet, plus 207 in the covered porch and 299 in the garage.

Plastics Are Beautiful

Paint, varnish and lacquer industry technologists have provided finishes in lovely colors which transform the drabness of many plastics to eye-appealing hues. The durability of these lovely coatings is a continual source of amazement to all who use them. It seems that neither wind, weather, cleaning nor the ravages of time, ever change these bright hues.

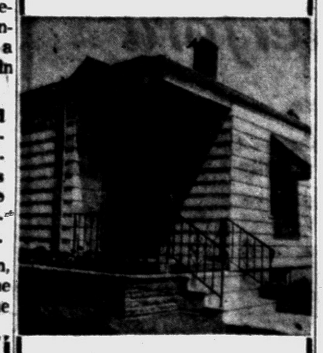

When prefinished wooden panels become dingy, due to the accumulation of dust, the surface can be cleaned with an emulsion cream wax and then buffed to restore the original gloss.

New Girl in Big City Says Chivalry's Dead

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—When our new glamour girl Dolores Hart spoke to me of "your New York gentlemen" there was sarcasm in her voice.

"I missed three cabs on the way over, which were taken away from me by your New York gentlemen," she said ever so coolly.

"I waved two cabs down and I had them," she complained, "and then a man jumped in from the other side. But your New York gentlemen are very chivalrous," she added with a tight smile.

"They got out and gave you the cab?" I asked.

"Oh, no! But they said they would be glad to take me wherever I was going!"

She shrugged and laughed. "And I," she said, "am no match for Brigitte Bardot. The girls who are more happily endowed and have more impressive numbers on their figures must have to run for it from your New York gentlemen."

★ ★ ★

Yes, chivalry is dead in New York, particularly during the rush hour, but Chicago-born, Los Angeles-reared Dolores Hart soon will be riding only limousines, anyway.

DOLORES

Just 20, she's in the Broadway hit, "The Pleasure of His Company," and appears with Montgomery Clift and Myrna Loy in the new movie, "Lonelyhearts," and has appeared with Elvis Presley in two pictures, "Loving You" and "King Creole."

As she emotes nightly with Cyril Ritchard, Cornelia Otis Skinner, Walter Abel and Charles Ruggles, and recalls that she's been in two other movies ("Loving You" and "Wild is the Wind"), it must seem to Dolores that she's had one of the most remarkable stories in acting history.

"It's only a year and a half ago that I was in college," she says.

At a school dance she met a young man who had left a monastery because of ill health and was attending Loyola in California.

He persuaded her to do a school play, "Joan of Lorraine," which was so good it was then done on TV—and then wrote to Hal Wallis, enclosing her picture, "probably the worst picture ever sent into any studio."

"The next thing I knew, I was going through the 'fish-bowl routine' at the studio—trying out in a cage, three sides wood, one side glass, with people looking in that I couldn't see."

It all happened swiftly after that—last summer she found herself auditioning for "Lonelyhearts" and for the Broadway play the same day—and she got both jobs.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Taffy Tuttle decided on the ideal gift for her boy friend, who's a hypochondriac—a credit card for Blue Cross . . . That's earl, brother.

Hollywood Headlines

'Peter Gunn' Slick Twist of Private Eye Gimmick

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Peter Gunn, the new TV show they're talking about in Hollywood, is a slick reworking of the old private eye gimmick.

★ ★ ★

I've heard predictions from insiders that Gunn will shoot down his opposition (except on the West Coast), high-riding Danny Thomas. I've heard raves about the originality of the show, also complaints about the amount of brutality. So it was time for a chat with the show's papa, a bright young film maker named Blake Edwards.

★ ★ ★

"Yes, I've heard it said that we have too much brutality in the show," said handsome, crewcut Edwards. "We're re-evaluating our scripts with that in mind.

★ ★ ★

"But I think we have a lot less brutality than most Westerns. Maybe it's the way we show it. You seldom see actual blows being landed. A fist will come right at the camera, then we'll cut and you'll hear the sound. Perhaps it seems worse that way.

★ ★ ★

"We'll never be able to do away with violence. After all, a private eye lives in a world of crime. He comes in contact with criminals every day."

★ ★ ★

Edwards is one of the brightest young talents in theatrical movies today. He has a hit comedy, "Perfect Furlough," coming out and on Jan. 12 starts another with Cary Grant and Tony Curtis, "Operation Petticoat." So why does he dip into TV?

★ ★ ★

"For the money," he was frank to admit. "I don't make any now, because the show is too expensive to make. But if I ever sell out, I could make a good profit on a capital gain.

"Also, I did it for the creative liberty it afforded. I can try new things in a TV series that would be impossible in a movie."

Sheree North to Marry Her Psychoanalyst

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Sheree North will marry her psychiatrist next Wednesday.

Dr. Gerhardt Sommer has been her psychoanalyst and physician since they met about a year ago.

"It will be just a quiet little ceremony," beamed the voluptuous blonde Friday.

It will be the first marriage for the 30-year-old psychoanalyst. Miss North, 26, has been married twice previously. She was divorced from architect Fred Bessire in 1953 and recording executive John Freeman in 1956. She and Bessire have a daughter, Dawn, 8.

Telephones have been installed atop Fujiyama in Japan. The mountain is 12,425 feet high.

Chiefs Win SVC Opener in Squeaker, 43-42; Waterford Edged

Arthur Hill 5 Bows on Late Goal by Barge

PCH Stages 2nd Half Rally to Dump Jacks at Saginaw

By BILL CORNWELL

SAGINAW — "We'll be happy to get those conference victories on the road any old time, even if they're only by half a point."

The speaker was Art Van Ryzin, Pontiac Central's veteran basketball coach, as he heaved a big sigh of relief after watching his team rally to nose out Arthur Hill here Friday night.

Playing in enemy territory against an aggressive Arthur Hill team, the Chiefs battled back from a six-point deficit at halftime for a narrow 43-42 triumph in their first Saginaw Valley game of the 1958-59 season.

Charlie Barge's jump shot from the corner with 30 seconds left to go broke a 41-41 tie and produced the margin of victory as Arthur Hill's Bruno Ansevics missed a chance to again knot the count at the foul line in the final 10 seconds.

The contest was ragged and loosely-played from start to finish, mainly due to Arthur Hill's ball-hawking and double-teaming style of play which caused sloppy court action.

It was the 3rd win of the year without a loss for the Chiefs and Arthur Hill's 2nd defeat in three starts.

PCH outscored the Lumberjacks from the floor, 16 field goals to 15, but the Jacks were deadly accurate at the foul stripe, netting a dozen free tosses in 14 attempts while the Chiefs could make just 11 out of 20.

Central held an 11-5 lead at the end of the 1st quarter, but a healthy 2nd period for the Jacks almost proved the undoing of the Chiefs. The Jacks tallied 21 points in that stanza to take a 27-21 halftime advantage.

Pontiac's deficit rose to eight points early in the 3rd quarter, then the Chiefs began their steady uphill climb which was climaxed by Barge's field goal.

Arthur Hill's lead dwindled to 35-33 entering the 4th period and four consecutive foul shots by John Bandy pulled the Chiefs even at 37-37. Barge and Bandy each fired fielders on jump shots and the scoreboard read 41-41.

After Barge connected from the corner in the last 30 seconds, Ansevics was given an opportunity to tie the score on a 1-and-1 free throw situation. He sank the 1st one, missed the bonus and Bandy grabbed the all-important rebound.

The Lumberjacks scored only 15 points in the 2nd half after going into an offensive-type stall, moving slowly and deliberately and waiting for that one good shot. Central was steadier in the long run.

Bandy meshed 14 points and Barge 11 to spark the Pontiac cause. Tom Dawson with 14 points and 12 by Bill Brussow were tops for Arthur Hill.

Flint Schools Win Openers in Valley

Flint Northern and defending champion Flint Central raced to victory Friday night in Saginaw Valley Conference basketball openers.

John Gilliam scored 25 points and Bob Hamilton added 18 as Northern led all the way at Flint to defeat Saginaw, 71-57. Saginaw cut Northern's lead to 51-49 with five minutes remaining, but the Vikings then pulled away.

Central, favored to repeat as Valley champ this season, handed Bay City Central a 72 60 setback in league activity at Bay City.

Lapeer Beaten, 59-53

Jerry Bennington scored 22 and Butch McKillen 15 for Lapeer but it wasn't enough as the Panthers lost to Flushing, 59-53 last night. Flushing led most of the way.

ON THE WAY — New varsity tanker, Bruce Norvell, was snapped churning up the PCH pool yesterday afternoon on his way to a new pool and Pontiac High record. Bruce splashed to a 1:11.4 mark for the orthodox breast stroke (100-yards). Arthur Hill's medley relay team (160-yards) set a pool record of 1:29.4, as the 'Jacks defeated Chiefs, 64-32 in the PCH team's first SVC test this winter.

Cage Faces Similar; Each Receive Ducats

"That's my face," said 15-year-old sophomore Judy Leaf at West Bloomfield when she saw Wednesday's Cage Face.

But 14-year-old Judy Haughton thought differently. "No, that's me," she said. Both girls came in to claim their tickets and the resemblence in the picture was close and difficult to judge from the expressions.

It was finally decided by a large picture that it was Miss Haughton, but both girls went away happy. They each got tickets to basketball games.

★ ★ ★

The other Cage Face was Jim Randall also of West Bloomfield. He is a 15-year-old sophomore.

Today's pictures of a Cage Ace and a Cage Face will merit each tickets to either pro or college basketball games if they bring the clip of their face in to The Press sports department by Tuesday noon.

Skippers Drop 47-46 Decision at Southfield

Walled Lake Wallops Farmington, Berkley Victorious

An excellent performance in the league opener against the favorite all went out the window last night as Waterford ran out of gas in the last quarter to drop a 47-46 decision at Southfield in the Inter-Lakes feature.

Walled Lake trounced Farmington 77-60 and Berkley had to come from behind to trip Van Dyke 44-38.

Waterford held quarter leads of 11-9, 29-25 and 42-33 before faltering. The Skippers of Jerry Wallace lost the range and made some damaging mistakes that proved costly while being outscored 14-4 in the disastrous last quarter.

Waterford scored what would have been the clinching basket with seven seconds to go but it was nullified by a "steps" call.

Barry Campbell was the big man in scoring for Waterford with 23. Larry Bowen, who had eight, got 23 rebounds. Ray Gillespie led Southfield with 14.

Walled Lake showed good scoring punch in leading all the way at Farmington. It was 36-28 at halftime but not close the rest of the way.

Kirk Evans tallied 29 points, Bill Allen 14 and Bill Smith 13 to spearhead the Walled Lake offense. Harvey Chapman hooped 10 and Ken Cobb 13 for Farmington.

Berkley was behind from the opening whistle until there was just three minutes to play when a field goal by Dave Burris and Dave Chamberlain's foul put it on ice.

Al Krumm led Walled Lake with 10 points—all in the last eight minutes. Burris had 20 rebounds and nine points. George Hatch and Bill Hackel hit 10 each for the losers.

Birmingham Swim Squad Beats Jays

Birmingham got back to winning ways, after having its long swimming streak broken last week by Grosse Pointe, by defeating Southfield, 55-33 in the Maple pool.

The Maples took seven firsts while Southfield managed three. Two of the Jay firsts were the result of Maple disqualifications in the last two relays.

Lone individual winner for Southfield was diver John Kinnunen.

Today the Maples are in the Battle Creek Invitational meet.

Birmingham first: 50-yard free style, Dave Smith (25.4); 100-yard butterfly, Fred Anderson (1:05.5); 200-yard freestyle (2:11.2); 100-yard backstroke, Jim Wall (1:06.6); 100-yard breast stroke, Bill Driver (1:13.4); 100-yard freestyle, Hal Dittrich, (:59.7); 150-yard individual medley, Bill Ploch (1:49.7).

Broncos Set School Record in 87-56 Romp

Clarkston, Northville and Brighton Other W-O Victors

Scoring at least 20 points in every quarter, the Holly Broncos romped to an 87-56 conquest of Milford as the Wayne-Oakland League had a full slate of games to launch loop play last night.

The 87 is a new single-game high for Holly. Defending champions Clarkston drubbed Clarenceville 50-38, Brighton outscored Bloomfield Hills 52-46 and Northville tripped West Bloomfield 62-50.

Ten Holly players had a hand in the scoring. The victors played good ball all the way in gaining their 2nd straight victory after an opening night defeat.

Kingpin in the Holly attack was old reliable George McDaniels. The 6-6 center not only paced the team in scoring but he also took 19 rebounds off the boards. Young Ron Moreland contributed 20 for the Broncos while Glen Grommett hit 16. Terry Hoy flipped in 17 for the beaten Redskins.

★ ★ ★

Clarkston led all the way and pulled away in the 3rd period. Bill Powell's 16 and 14 for Larry Landon paced the Wolves. Cliff Simons tallied 16 in the losing cause.

Bloomfield Hills, which trailed all the way, made a game bid with a good 3rd quarter and cut what had been an 11-point edge to five but could get no closer. John Dixon meshed 14 and Bob Barrett 11 for the Barons. Don Appleton's 16 topped Brighton.

West Bloomfield gave a much bigger Northville quintet a busy time until the last quarter when the Mustangs pulled away led by 6-9 Jeff Goodrich and Bob Starnes.

Goodrich led all the scorers with 24, while Starnes had 13. John Lucadam hit the hoop for 15 and Dennis Alix added 10 for West Bloomfield.

Anderson Winner of Victorian Title

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Mal Anderson upset top seeded Ashley Cooper for the men's singles title in the Victorian tennis championships today. The score was 7-5, 6-4, 6-3.

Anderson, a scrawny Queensland cowboy, completely dominated the match with the best display of tennis he was showing since he crashed Cooper for the U. S. title at Forest Hills in 1957.

Jackets Defeat Clawson to Start Oakland B Play

Troy Wallops Orion by 56-37; Madison Bows

By CHUCK ABAIR

The well-heated Avondale gymnasium was the scene of one of the "coldest" all around shooting performances ever witnessed there as the Yellowjackets defeated Clawson 30-24 in one of a trio of Oakland B league lidlifters last night.

Troy overcame an 11-10 1st period deficit to wallop Lake Orion 56-37 while Fitzgerald was tripping Madison 56-52 in the others.

It was a hilarious 1st quarter at Avondale, ending 4-0 in Clawson's favor on a string of foul shots. Avondale missed 13 floor shots in the period. It took the visitors 12 minutes and 15 seconds and 23 attempts to make a field goal.

Little pepperpot Dick Smith broke the ice with two quick goals to start the 2nd quarter as Avondale went ahead to stay.

★ ★ ★

Avon led 18-11 at halftime with Smith garnering all his eight points and Herb Harris six of his nine in the 2nd stanza. Gary Acker and Darrell Thorpe took over the offensive load in the last half.

Thorpe rang up his entire total of 10 points in the final half to help keep the visitors in front. Acker hit seven of nine during the same time. Both boys worked well on rebounds along with center Walt Arnold.

Clawson might have pulled away to a big lead early with any kind of shooting success. The losers moved the ball in close for loads of good shots but could not connect consistently.

★ ★ ★

Jim Thomas of Clawson paced both teams in scoring with 14. He and Ron Hewlett combined for all 14 of the 4th period points.

The Trojans finished with a miserable 18.2 shooting percentage making eight of their ten field goals in the last half. Avondale was not much better at 24.6 per cent.

Bob Harris caged 17 and Jim Glidewell 11 for Troy. Jim Recknagel's 11 sparked Orion.

★ ★ ★

Fitzgerald broke up two ties in the 4th quarter after leading all the way. John Massengale, George Ceglarek and Ron Lickman handled most of the scoring with 20, 12 and 10, respectively.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — M. C. Burton put on a tremendous scoring show with 38 points Friday night and led Michigan to an 86-70 basketball victory over Butler.

Burton broke Michigan's individual scoring record with his sharp shooting as the Wolverines led from the second minute.

The old record was set by Ron Kramer, who scored 34 points against Northwestern in 1956.

Everyone on the bench got into the act as Rochester jumped to a 13-0 lead and then proceeded to rout Davison 52-33 on the Falcon court.

Dave Watterson added 14 for Romeo, while Jeff Brady and Doug Stott led Oxford with 18 and 20, respectively. Oxford made only 16 or 37 free throws.

Four Cranbrook players hit in double figures as the Cranes led 39-25 at halftime.

Chiefs, Huskies Bow to 'Guests'

Two records fell in yesterday's SVC inaugural dual of 1958-59 for Pontiac Central tankers. Chiefs' newest star, Bruce Norvell, clipped the school and Central's pool record for the 100-yard orthodox breast stroke with a 1:11.4 performance against a fast Arthur Hill competitor. However, Lumberjacks took the meet, 64-32. They are the Valley's defending champs.

Hills' medley relay team also cracked a pool record, on a 1:29.1 time for the 160-yard event.

In an evening meet Northern's Huskies dropped an interesting test to Warren Fitzgerald, 59-32.

Gary Rose won two for Huskies, the 100-yard breaststroke (1:09) and the 120-yard individual medley (1:22). Jim Tuttle took the 100-yard freestyle (1:02.6); Bill Ratliff diving, and the freestyle relay team of Berrie, Gould, Maxim and Wells won at 1:38.5.

PCH-Arthur Hill meet, Winners 40-yard freestyle by Carl Nieman (19.5); 100-yard butterfly, Del Schrams (1:06.7; 200-yard freestyle Dee Young (2:11.1); 100-yard backstroke, Gerald Shankel (1:08.0); individual medley, Del Schrems (1:21.1); 150-yard freestyle relay (AH), (1:21.6), and diving, Pete Cox.

New Haven scored an easy win over Dryden.

Stumbling Spike Now a Husky Buck

Ruhl Says State Deer Bigger and Healthier

ALL OUTDOORS (UPI) — The old Michigan buck — if one deer could be typical of the herd — was once a stumbling, starving spike. Today he is a six-pointer, big and healthy.

This, in a nutshell, was the report recently from Harry D. Ruhl, head of the game division of the Michigan Conservation Department.

"Early field reports indicate we've had a darn good season," Ruhl said. "Deer are bigger, have nicer racks and are healthier.

★ ★ ★

"There has been less grumbling from hunters. Everyone seems more pleased with the deer situation in Michigan — a condition we knew would come about."

Why more big bucks this year?

"It is the culmination of a number of things," the game expert said. "Our any-deer seasons, for one, have been helpful in cropping the herd to the proper size.

"We can't take all the credit. Nature has been kind. We've had some pretty mild weather and I'd say this, more than any single item, has nursed the deer population along to where we have a fine herd."

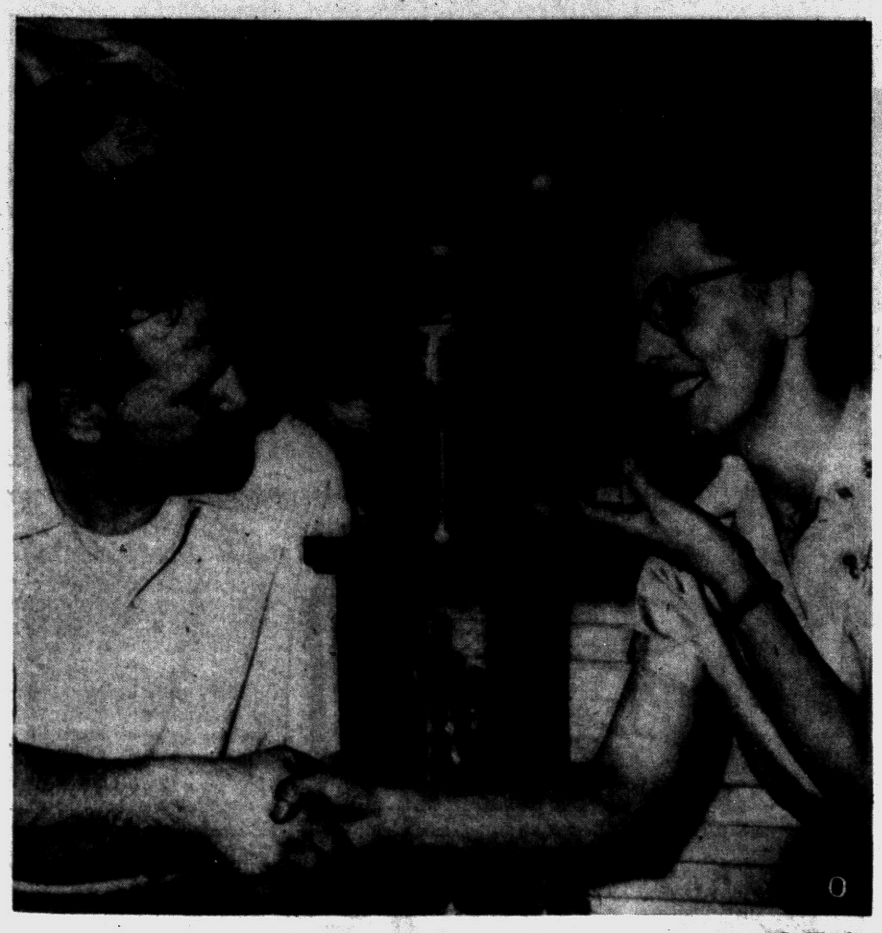

Ruhl pointed to reports from the Rifle River area where checkers have found "bucks averaging six pounds heavier than last year."

★ ★ ★

"We haven't tabulated all the dope yet," he explained. "we examine about six to eight thousand bucks at checking stations each season. From this we determine the condition of the herd and the average age and a lot of other things that are helpful to us in setting up regulations."

CONGRATULATIONS—Detroit's Ed Lubanski and Charlotte Grubic of Steelton, Pa., extend mutual congratulations after winning the men's and women's divisions at the 2nd annual world's invitational bowling match game tourney in Chicago.

Detroiter Grabs Title, $5,000

Lubanski Match Game King in Chicago Test

CHICAGO (AP) — Eddie Lubanski, the perennial runnerup, ruled the bowling world today, capping a steady if not spectacular climb that started when he shucked his baseball flannels in 1949.

Lubanski, the stocky Detroit native, bolted to the world invitational game match championship last night in the Chicago Coliseum finals that were televised nationally (NBC).

For the 29-year-old Lubanski, the guy who almost always seemed to fade in the waning moments of each tourney, the triumph was sweetened by a prize of $5,000, symbolic of supremacy over 128 of the country's top keglers.

While Lubanski powdered his ball to success in the grueling nine-day session, a slender 34-year-old Steelton, Pa., secretary scored a tremendous upset by taking the women's division title.

Mrs. Charlotte "Rusty" Grubic, whose only previous claim to bowling fame was a 15th place finish in the national all-star tournament last January in Minneapolis, had a narrow finish, winning by .05 Petersen points.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Grubic, who barely nipped a game effort by runnerup Mrs. Elvira Toepfer, Detroit veteran, won 19½ games and lost 12½, smacking 6,452 pins— an average of almost 202 a game. This netted her 148.27 Petersen points and top prize of $2,500.

Lubanski won 45 and lost 19 matches. He spilled 13,602 pins for an average of almost 213.

Not only did he pace bowlers in the qualifying field with a 36-game total of 7,778 but Lubanski actually had the world's title wrapped up before the 64th or final game of the finals.

He took over the lead after 28 games of the 64-game finals and was never headed as he finished with a total of 317.02, seven points ahead of runnerup defending champion Don Carter of St. Louis who had 310.02 points.

Mrs. Grubic, one of six children and the mother of a 12-year-old daughter, went into the final round with a seemingly safe lead but had to sweat as Mrs. Toepfer almost caught her.

In the final frame of the last game, Mrs. Toepfer, former national doubles champion from the Motor City, needed a strike to take the title.

However, Mrs. Toepfer's last ball crossed over and left the six pin which gave Mrs. Grubic the title. Mrs. Toepfer finished with 148.22 points.

8 Lion Rookies Play in Final Against Bears

Browns - Giants Battle in Pro Spotlight for Eastern Division

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Brown comes home to play in New York tomorrow — to a city where pro football tickets are as scarce as newspapers. Awaiting him are the New York Giants, intent on stopping Brown and his Cleveland teammates and forcing a playoff for the Eastern Conference title.

"He's the guy we have to shackle," said Giant Coach Jim Lee Howell today as he readied the Giants for their final warmup session on the frozen turf at Yankee Stadium.

★ ★ ★

Over in Chicago, eight rookies will be in the Detroit lineup against the Bears.

A rash of injuries in recent weeks has sidelined tackles Bob Miller and Gil Mains, halfbacks Hopalong Cassady and Gene Gedman, ends Jim Doran and Dave Middleton.

Three newcomers, Jim Gibbons, Perry Richards and Tom Tychlec will have to handle the offensive end posts, while Danny Lewis and Kenny Webb appear as backfield starters.

On defense, Alex Karras and Bill Glass will be at the tackle posts with Wayne Walker as a linebacker.

Chicago downed the Lions 20-7 in Detroit and the Bears can insure themselves of second place with a win.

Upwards of 70,000 fans are expected to pack the Stadium for the game the Giants must win. A Cleveland victory or tie will send the Browns into the National Football League title game against the Baltimore Colts, Western Conference champions, at Cleveland Dec. 28.

Football-starved New Yorkers, thousands of whom are expected to line up for bleacher and standing room tickets, want a winner badly.

★ ★ ★

Howell says the Giant defensive line, which could easily pass for some 1,500 pounds of frozen beef, is geared to stop Brown, the NFL sophomore who already has broken the NFL's single-season rushing record and is only one away from equalling the one-season touchdown record.

The Giants worked out in sneakers for more than an hour yesterday on the cold ground and planned to do the same again today.

The Giants-Browns game is the highlight of pro football's final regular season weekend. Only second place in the Western Conference generated any other interest.

Rams, Eaglets Roll On

Win 2nd Tests to Stay at Top of SCL Quints

'Cold Night' Costly to Mikes, 44-30; RO St. Mary Bows, 63-56

By H. GUY MOATS

It must be the weather!

There seems to be no other explanation for the chilly scoring that has beset St. Michael's potentially strong cage squad this season. In two outings, the Shamrocks have had scads of chances at the hoops, but just can't seem to convert them to points on the scoreboard.

★ ★ ★

Last night was one of those nights. Shamrocks took 60-some plunks at the hoops, collected 12 goals to 19 for their opponents. They lost to a fast-breaking shifty Orchard Lake St. Mary club, 44-30 at PCH gymnasium. The contest was a low-average shooting event for both clubs, but Eaglets were more consistent.

In another SCL tilt in Pontiac, Friday night, St. Frederick defeated a hard-trying Royal Oak St. Mary team, 63-56. The contest was fairly close at times, but Coach Gene Wright emptied his bench in the last period.

Both Rams and Eaglets now share top place in the SCL, with defending champs St. Benedict, with two wins each. Ravens, led by Art Massucci, defeated Ferndale St. James 43-26.

★ ★ ★

RO Shrine added its 3rd straight first division win at the expense of strong Redford St. Mary, 66-54. Winners' Jack Moores hit 24 to lead the scoring.

Shamrocks scored first against the Eaglets and held a brief 6-5 lead. But the Orchard Lakers, rated chief title threat this winter, shot ahead at halftime, 23-14, and never again were really threatened.

★ ★ ★

George Drake's 8-point total was the best Shamrocks could muster. Chet Wlodkowski's 15 paced the winners, with solid support from Don Duszynski, Mike Witkor and Glenn Hass, each with 8.

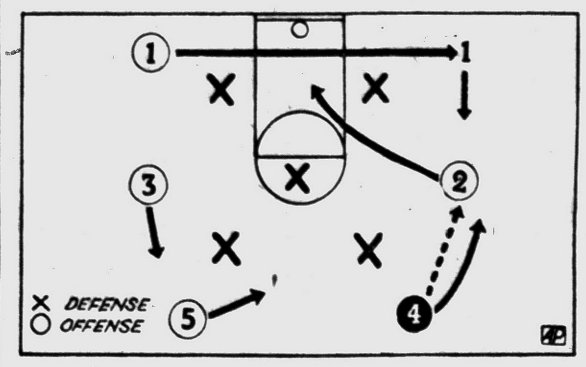

Wlodkowski lost one contact lens just before halftime and cheerleaders and fans "combed" the big floor to no avail during intermission. Chet played rest of the game with one lens, but didn't appear to be handicapped too much.

★ ★ ★

Tom Durocher moved back into his accustomed spot as top scorer for the Rams, as St. Frederick took an early lead over St. Mary of Royal Oak and made it stick. Tom fired 20 points, his season's best. Steve Pocs continued to score well, with 12 and Phil Bieri and Joe Keller each contributed 10. Thre ROSM boys clicked for 13. Visitors never got closer than four points.

St. Frederick really won this one on its free-shooting, getting 27 of 40. The clubs were only one basket apart on goals.

How to Beat A Zone Defense

By BUNNY LEVITT
Written for AP Newsfeatures

(This is another of a series of articles explaining basketball plays to use against the zone defense.)

Basketball's most difficult zone to crack is the 2-1-2 zone defense. One of the reasons is that the "1" takes a spot near the foul line and prevents an attacking team from making full use of its pivot man.

If you can't go through a team go around it. That's true in football and also applies to basketball where the 2-1-2 zone is used.

A 1-2-2 attacking setup can be used against the 2-1-2 zone. Offensive No. 1 can be near the basket to the left. Attackers 3 and 2 can be stationed on opposite sides of the center man in the zone defense. Men 5 and 4 play back.

The operation of this attack depends on all five players of the offensive team moving simultaneously. No. 1 floats from the left side to the right side beneath the basket. The play starts with No. 4 passing to No. 2, who then passes to No. 1. No. 2 then drives for a return pass. However, if 1 can't pass to 2, he passes to 4 who has cut to the spot vacated by 2. No. 4 then shoots or passes to 1.

Remember, if you can't penetrate this zone setup work around it and take the outside shot.

Red Hot Pistons Score 4th Straight Win, 97-95

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons won their fourth straight NBA game when they rallied in the final period and defeated the Philadelphia Warriors 97-95 in a see-saw game at Olympia Stadium Friday night.

George Yardley led the rally with two decisive baskets from 15 feet at the nine-minute mark in the final period.

★ ★ ★

The Warriors trailed most of the way but rallied early in the fourth period and seized an 89-88 lead when Ernie Beck sank a shot from the corner.

The lead changed hands several times before the Pistons went ahead for good on Yardley's two baskets.

★ ★ ★

Guy Rodgers, sensational Philadelphia rookie, was held to 16 points although he was outstanding as a playmaker.

Phil Jordon led the Piston scoring with 32 points.

High man for the Warriors was Beck with 20.

★ ★ ★

Philadelphia tied the score 42-42 midway in the second period on a free throw by Tom Gola, but Detroit moved ahead at the half 54-49. Detroit started strong in the third period and at one time led by 10 points.

The Pistons now have won nine of their last 12 games.

While the Pistons winning, the Hawks were falling before the New York Knicks 106-104 for their third setback in as many nights.

The Knicks just managed to hold first place in the Eastern Division as the second-place Boston Celtics beat out the Cincinnati Royals 125-115 in overtime. Only 15 percentage points separate the leaders.

Much of the drama in the Knicks-Hawks game was packed in the final 2½ minutes. New York led 105-98 with 2:22 remaining. Al Ferrari, Clyde Lovellette and Jack McMahon brought the Hawks within a point with 17 seconds left. But Richie Guerin made good on one of two foul shots and Cliff Hagan and McMahon missed hook hots in the last five seconds. Kenny Sears was New York's high scorer with 25 points, two less than Bob Pettit made in leading St. Louis' attack.

Big Ten Gives Okay to Grid Round Robin

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten, gradually pulling in its horns, has agreed to a full round-robin football schedule by 1969.

In approving the matter yesterday, faculty representatives and athletic directors also voted for an over-all maximum schedule of 10 games by 1965. At present, only nine games are allowed.

Beginning in 1965, Big Ten teams will work towards a full schedule which will require every school to meet every other school by 1969. Each school will be permitted to play one outside game.

Currently, Big Ten teams must play a minimum of six conference games. Most play seven games and two years ago Minnesota played eight. By 1965, each team will have to play seven conference games. The figure then moves to eight by 1967 and nine in 1969.

In order to make room for the round-robin schedule, the season will begin the second from last Saturday in September and will close on the Saturday before Thanksgiving.

On the subject of the Rose Bowl conference officials approved participation in the 1960 Tournament of Roses games but dropped the matter there.

Since the Pacific Coast Conference folds July 1, a three-man committee was named to work with the PCC on the 1960 game which will be the last under the open-end contract between the two conferences.

Bill Reed, assistant Big Ten commissioner, said there were no discussions concerning Rose Bowl relations after the 1960 game. He added that the future of the post-season classic depends largely upon the possible formation of a new conference to replace the PCC.

The move for a round-robin football schedule, said Reed, carried an endorsement for a round-robin principle in other conference sports.

The joint group also defeated a proposal to permit coaches to visit prospective athletes off campus, as permitted under NCAA rules, and to authorize schools to pay all expenses for one campus visit by a prospect. However a committee was named to review regulations on recruiting practices.

Imlay Dumps Ortonville

Imlay City made it 33 straight victories in regular season play by whipping Ortonville 51-43 last night with Jim Ward getting 19 points in a South Central League game.

In another league contest Millington tripped North Branch 58-51 behind Bill Sawyer's 22 points.

Imlay and Ortonville battled on even terms for three quarters. It was 23-22 at the half for Imlay, then Ward hit for three buckets and Ortonville fell 10 points behind.

Ted Follis and Jim Hutchings each had 10 for Ortonville.

Millington had Mike Zink and Dick Kolaja each getting 10 points while Mike Patrick got 15 North Branch.

NIT Champions Play Titans in Detroit Tonight

College basketball's "cinderella team," Xavier University, champions of the NIT last year, visits the U. of D. Memorial fieldhouse tonight to meet the sophomore-laden Titans.

Xavier has three of its topscorers back this year and currently boasts a 3-0 record for its national ranking among the top ten.

Hank Stein, who took "outstanding player" honors in the NIT as Xavier defeated Dayton in overtime, is back this year as top candidate for All-America honors.

Detroit, with nine sophomores, has a 2-1 record to date.

Tartar Aids WSU Foes

DETROIT — Why are coaches sometimes afraid to use sophomores?

A sparse gathering of 200 Wayne State basketball fans saw an unusual reason why, as the Tartars lost their third game in as many tries this season last night, 49-48, to Washington & Jefferson.

★ ★ ★

Soph guard Bob Holmes, perhaps hereafter to be dubbed "wrong-way," scored two points in the wrong basket midway through the second half to give the visitors from Pennsylvania a two-point bonus which eventually meant victory.

Holmes' rock came on an out-of-bounds pass in after a W&J field goal. Holmes took the ball and, apparently mistaking the enemy basket for his own, netted a perfect layup.

Wayne's Winfield Henry and Washington & Jefferson's Larry Romboski shared scoring honors with 23 points apiece. The visitors are now unbeaten in four games.

Tonight WSU hosts Bethany.

Road Building to Soar in '59

State Highway Program to Be Largest in Nation Says Mackie

DETROIT (AP)—Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie says Michigan's road construction program is expected to soar to 310 million dollars—the largest of any state—in the 1960 fiscal year which begins next June 30.

★ ★ ★

Jackie spoke last night to the Michigan Road Builders Assn.

He said the nation-leading 1960 program is anticipated despite the fact that six other states receive more Federal aid and have greater highway mileage.

However, the Commissioner noted, the program will be cut to about 245 millions annually in 1961 and 1962.

★ ★ ★

"And then," he added, "Unless some new sources of revenue are found, there will be a drastic cutback of almost 50 per cent in new construction to about 130 million."

"The reason for this is that during the current five-year period we plan on using our bonding powers to the prudent limit," Mackie said.

After 1962, he explained, only current revenue after bond debt service will be available along with federal aid.

The Commissioner said that when the five-year, $1,250,000,000 program ends in June 1962, it will have met only one-third of Michigan's over-all state highway dollar deficiencies.

Home Town Defended by Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Newspaper columnist Irv Kupcinet rose to his home town's defense following his acquittal on a drunk driving charge.

Kupcinet was arrested in Hollywood Aug. 26 in the company of Gregg Sherwood Dodge, wife of auto heir Horace Dodge II. Mrs. Dodge was fined $100 for intoxication.

★ ★ ★

Prior to his Municipal Court trial on the drunk driving charge, Kupcinet had offered to plead guilty to reckless driving. After the jury's verdict Friday, Municipal Court Judge Gerald C. Kepple said Kupcinet's offer was an attempt to fix the case. "Maybe you may be unfamiliar with this, coming from Chicago, but you can't fix the courts in Los Angeles," Kepple said.

Kupcinet replied, "I want to say I think your remark about Chicago was injudicious and uncalled for."

Mackinac Fort Bonds Issued

Island Restoration Plan to Continue With Work on First Chapel

LANSING (UPI) — Bonds for final restoration work on Fort Mackinac will be sold by the Mackinac Island Park Commission next Monday.

"We have made great strides in our plan to restore the Fort to the period of the War of 1812," said Commission Chairman Stewart S. Woodfill.

The commission will issue revenue bonds totaling $75,000 in December.

The project includes restauration of what was believed to be the first chapel on the Island.

Dr. Eugene Petersen, director of the project, also said he was looking into the possibility of having Michigan State University conduct archaeological studies on the Island.

Meanwhile, the Michlimackinac Historical Society at St. Ignace announced it was seeking funds for excavation and research for an archaeological study of the St. Ignace Fort.

★ ★ ★

Prof. Emerson F. Greenman of the University of Michigan Museum of Anthropology said he will donate his services for a search of the remains of a French military stockade and Jesuit mission near St. Ignace.

Defies Weather and Law

Widow Won't Give Up

NORTON, Va. (AP) — Neither snow nor bitter cold has been able to choke off a middle-aged woman's passive resistance to the sale of her home for debts.

★ ★ ★

"It's up to them to make the next move. I'm going to stay right here and go back into that house legally," said 55-year-old Mrs. Epperson Williams Friday night as she gave an audience inside a makeshift roadside tent.

A sight snow fell over the tent and the nearby family home, from which Mrs. Williams, a widow, was evicted six days ago. Legally, the home now belongs to Oscar Sturgill. He bought it at a court-ordered public auction. Proceeds went to pay for Mrs. Williams' debts.

There are only two keys to the house, Mrs. Williams said. One is with her son Leonard, a sailor at Great Lakes Naval Station in Illinois.

★ ★ ★

"I've got the other one tied to my finger," said Mrs. Williams.

Sheriff Jesse Bolling said he's not going to act unless the court orders him to. The judge insisted he can't act unless someone files formal complaint.

Sturgill said he's perfecty content to sit back and watch the commotion—from a safe distance.

Robber Ignores Latest Fashion in Bank Holdup

CALGARY, Alta. (AP) — A current fashion in the East has appeared on the Canadian plains: Robbing banks by presenting threatening notes to tellers.

There was a new twist Friday, however. The lone bandit said the $600 he took would be treated as a loan.

He handed a note on the back of a check to Mrs. Barbara Peden.

"This is a holdup and I have a gun. Count the money out," the note said.

Mrs. Peden gave him the money stacked in front of her but didn't mention thousands of dollars stacked in the teller's drawer. The bandit fled into Christmas shopping crowds.

A fourfold expansion of India's steel production is a fundamental aim of the nation's second five-year economic-development plan. Three new steel mills, each to have a million-ton annual capacity, are expected to be finished by 1960-61. They will raise the country's steel-production capacity from the 1956 figure of 1,140,000 tons to an estimated 4,680,000 tons.

Marriage of Bridges Doesn't Change Law

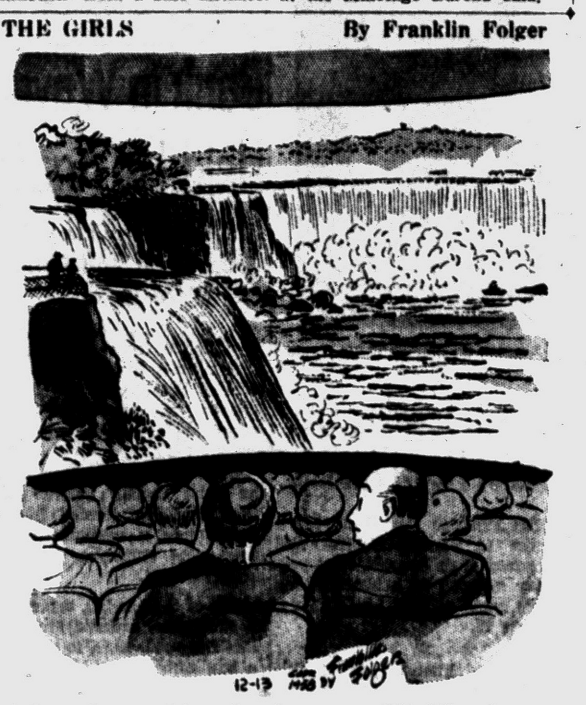

RENO (AP)—The marriage of longshore leader Harry Bridges and his Japanese-American bride has not opened the door to similar interracial marriages in Nevada.

This state's 94-year-old law prohibiting marriage of whites and Orientals or Negros still stands, and can be finally overturned only by a ruling of the State Supreme Court that the law is unconstitutional.

The court order which Bridges obtained from District Court Judge Taylor Wines applied to Bridges only. The county clerk's office reports it still is refusing marriage licenses for marriage of whites with other races.

Applicants for such marriages are to be referred to the district attorney if they protest, deputies at the Marriage Bureau said.

Great Lakes Entice More Foreign Lines

ANN ARBOR (AP)—More shipping lines are finding the Great Lakes enticing and profitable despite an overall drop in traffic this year.

The monthly newsletter of the Great Lakes Commission has announced the first lake service by an overseas line in November and the planned maiden visits next spring by two other lines.

Making its debut on the Lakes last month was the Finnish Nordlake Line. It put the M. V. Kristina into service in November and plans to send two more vessels into operation on the lakes next spring, the newsletter said. Nordlake operates to Great Britain and ports on the North Sea.

Another foreign line, Norwegian-American, expects to go into lake service after next spring's thaw. Norwegian-American, said the newsletter, plans to put four vessels into service in joint operation with the Fjell line.

The merged line will be known as the Fjell-Fjord line and operate to Scandinavian ports. Fjell presently has a fleet of small ocean freighters in the Lakes.

The American Export Lines also intends to inaugurate lake service next spring, the newsletter said. American Export plans to operate ships from lake ports to the Mediterranean area, sailing to ports in Portugal, Spain, France, Italy and Morocco. At present, no other American line services this route from the Great Lakes, the newsletter said.

Commerce on the Great Lakes showed a gradual decline in October in comparison with September. The newsletter reported drops in Soo canal traffic, iron ore commerce, bituminous coal commerce in Lakes Erie and Michigan and anthracite commerce.

Tonnage figures released for the first 10 months of this year generally were far below the comparable period of 1957. Iron ore was off 35 million tons and Soo canal traffic was down almost 50 million tons in the January-October period.

The only gain was in grain commerce. About 250,000 more tons of grain was carried in October than in September this year. The 10-month figure in grain was up almost a million tons.

★ ★ ★

The newsletter announced the November christening of the largest self-loading vessel on the Great Lakes. The ship, the American Steamship Co.'s Adam E. Cornelius, is 666 feet long.

Auto Makers Hope to Eliminate It Soon

Hump in Car's Floor Bothers Owners

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—The hump through the floor of today's automobile is bothering car makers as well as owners.

The manufacturers are doing something about it. They may eliminate it within the next couple of years without sacrificing the lower silhouette achieved in car design in the last decade.

The hump provides needed extra space for the car transmission. It has increased in size as the industry's designers lowered the car height.

But as it has grown car owners have complained they no longer could offer comfort for six passengers. Some have said the cars have become four-passenger units.

Some makers lowered the hump in 1959 models by increasing overall car length, putting the engine farther forward and lengthening the front campartment space. But few motorists want longer cars. They do want the eye-appeal of the lowered roof line.

So serious consideration is being given to moving the transmission to the rear axle area. Already experimental cars with what is called a trans-axle installation are being tested.

This will be the next major design change in America's automobiles but it will not appear before 1961 or 1962.

With the trans-axle the engine is inclined slightly and a narrow shaft carries power to the transmission at the rear. Of course there are engineering problems — such things as torque multiplication and the redesigning of fluid couplings and gear controls.

Engineers considering the hump or tunnel, thought of moving the entire power plant — engine and transmission—to the rear. This immediately presented other problems, including the redistribution of weight.

Rumor has had it that at least one of the projected smaller cars to be introduced by the Big Three U.S auto makers next year will have a rear engine.

But the problems in this instance are considerably less complex than those involved in moving the engine of the larger models from front to rear.

In any event it appears now that the trans-axle plan has been agreed upon as best adapted to the job of leveling off the car floor.

The engineers, of course, are trying for other advantages, too. It is a well accepted engineering precept that fuel economy is substantially dependent upon a properly balanced power train—engine and transmission.

If it can be proved that along with eliminating the floor hump the trans-axle will improve fuel economy, the new design is certain to get a favorable reception.

It has to be emphasized, however, that the combination transmission and rear axle will not be ready for the next new model year.

2 Gunmen Flee With $5,000 in 2nd Robbery in 2 Weeks

DETROIT (AP) — Two gunmen have robbed the suburban North Wayne branch of the National Bank of more than $5,000 in the second holdup at the bank in two weeks.

Police said the gunmen entered the bank shortly before closing time yesterday, herded five customers into a vestibule and ordered nine employes to line up against a wall.

One of the bandits, armed with a 30-30 rifle, ordered Mrs. Pauline Norwood, 30, a teller, to fill a bag with money in four cashier's cages. The second man guarded employes with a shotgun.

Police said the entire holdup took about five minutes. The gunmen escaped in a wiating car.

The North Wayne branch was robbed of $1,500 by a lone gunman Nov. 29.

Faubus to Talk to Texas Group

Appearance in Houston Seen as Sign of Trouble by School Association

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus speaks here tonight amidst a controversy boiling between two Houston groups.

★ ★ ★

The Houston Assn. of Better Schools, active in school board politics, said his scheduled speech in the Music Hall "is an apparent effort to make Houston a battleground in the Litle Rock pattern."

It referred to Faubus in a statement as "a symbolic hero of the cross burners" and said Houstonians should be fully aware of the "consequences of the course of action he advocates."

★ ★ ★

The group recognized his right to speak, however. Its members have included both whites and Negroes.

Faubus was asked to speak as part of the annual observance of Bill of Rights Day by the Sons of the American Revolution.

★ ★ ★

"Gov. Faubus was selected because he is not only the governor of a sovereign state, but because he has been re-elected by an overwhelming majority, because of his courageous defense of states rights," a statement from the group's arrangements committee said.

Legislature Issue Still Deadlocked

LANSING (AP) — With the general election nearly six weeks past, members of the deadlocked House of Representatives still have no idea how the house will be run when the legislature convenes Jan. 14.

★ ★ ★

Forty-six of the 55 House Republicans caucused on the situation yesterday and succeeded only in asking their three top leaders to meet with Democrats soon to try to work out an agreement. They are House Speaker George M. Van Peursem (R-Zeeland), speaker pro tem Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) and Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston), GOP floor leader.

★ ★ ★

Eight Democrats, led by minority leader Louis Mezzano (D-Wakefield) were named to a similar committee earlier this week.

Voters set up the unprecedented situation Nov. 4 when they elected 55 Republicans and 55 Democrats. Without a majority of members, neither party is able to organize the house, elect a speaker, select employes or otherwise run the show.

Vam Peursem and Green suggested a compromise agreement, with the two parties splitting the authority. One party would elect a speaker, the other a speaker pro tem, with each having equal authority. Committee responsibilities and patronage also would be equally shared.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF A DEAR friend Irene (Merriman) Walsh who passed away Dec. 14, 1954.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never;
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

There is a voice we would love to hear,

7 Stars Decorate Hallmark Tree Sunday

5 Now Playing on Broadway

Ralph Bellamy, Carol Channing Head Cast in Hour Variety Show

NEW YORK — Seven stars — five of them with names currently twinkling on Broadway marquees —will be prominent in the cast of "The Hallmark Christmas Tree," a special Yuletide colorcast entertainment created by writer Helen Deutsch for presentation by "Hallmark Hall of Fame" on the NBC-TV network Sunday, Dec. 14 from 7 to 8 p.m.

They are Ralph Bellamy, Carol Channing, Maurice Evans, Tom Poston, Cyril Ritchard, William Shatner and Jessica Tandy. Margaret Hamilton and Hiram Sherman have been signed for featured roles.

Pantomimes on ice, light as well as serious dramatic segments, and music will be featured on the show. Among the highlights:

Miss Channing and Cyril Ritchard will team to provide fun on skates in a pantomime titled "Christmas Day in the Park."

Maurice Evans, making his first appearance of the season on "Hall of Fame," will appear in the Nativity episode drawn from St. Matthew and St. Luke.

Jessica Tandy and Margaret Hamilton will be seen in a drama titled "The Miracle of the Orphanage."

Ralph Bellamy and William Shatner will be in "Light One Candle," another teleplay.

Tom Poston and Hiram Sherman will head the cast of "Before the Stores Close."

Ralph Bellamy is currently starring on Broadway in "Sunrise at Campobello," Tom Poston in "Drink to Me Only," Cyril Ritchard in "The Pleasure of His Company," Jessica Tandy in "The Man in the Dog Suit" and William Shatner has the male lead in "The World of Suzie Wong." Margaret Hamilton is in "Goldilocks."

The musical score, featuring gay carols sung by a mixed choir, will be conducted by Franz Allers. Jan Scott is designing the sets.

The "Hall of Fame" hopes to continue the unusual programming idea in future years as its annual December offering.

Commenting on the show the author, Miss Deutsch, said, "We've read that the Christmas tree has sociological and historical and even psychiatric significance. But it is also just something wonderful to look at, bauble by bauble, with each evoking an image or an idea or a fantasy of some sort. We're going to try to get a little of that on the TV screen."

Firm Pays Dividend

WALKERVILLE, Ont. (UP)—Hiram Walker-Goodherham and Worts, Ltd., has declared a dividend of 35 cents a share of its outstanding common stock payable Jan. 15 to owners on record Dec. 23. The company said its net earnings for the 1958 fiscal year were $21,845,494 and its total sales were $384,028,204.

UP Will Advertise

MARQUETTE (UP) — The resort and travel department of the Upper Penninsula Development Bureau Friday reported it has contracted for $32,000 in advertising for the department's 1959 lure book. Martin Isaacson, department manager, said the book will be ready for distribution this coming May.

Jaycees Fight KKK on Headquarters Plan

ATLANTA (UPI) — A Junior Chamber of Commerce Committee has drafted a protest to a city zoning board over plans by the Ku Klux Klan to erect a $500,000 headquarters building next to a white elementary school.

The Jaycees cited terrorism by previous organizations bearing the Klan label. They called on other civic groups to fight the headquarters plan when it goes before a zoning committee next Monday.

Red Educators Criticize U. S.

Believe Mathematics and Science Teaching Here 'Inadequate'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Visiting Russian educators were expected to tell U.S. Education Commissioner Lawrence G. Derick today that American mathematics and science teaching is "inadequate."

The Russians reached that conclusion during a one-month tour of U.S. schools and universities.

Inadequate was the description applied by Dr. Aleksei Ivanovich Markushevich, head of the nine-man delegation, during a news conference yesterday.

He said that by Russian standards U.S. students would get failing marks in math and science.

But the Russians praised the general interest shown by Americans in the school system as well as their desire to "provide a better education for a larger number of children."

Markushevich said U.S. high school students apparently were given "easier" problems and exercises than those on the same level in the Soviet Union.

He said Russian high school students take four years of math, four years of chemistry and five years of physics. American students, he said, generally have one or two years of math, one year of chemistry and one year of physics.

The Soviet educator also said the pace of instruction is "rather slow." American classrooms sometimes reminded him of "a slow motion film," he said.

Soviet Telescope Half Size of One at Palomar

LONDON (UPI) — Soviet scientists will install a new "gigantic" reflecting telescope in the Crimean observatory at Simferopol, Moscow radio reported last night.

It said the telescope's mirror would be just over half the size of the one at Mt. Palomar in California.

Offer Studied in Booth Tieup

Printers Consider New Management Proposal for Ending Strike

LANSING (UP) — Printers in eight Michigan cities today were considering a new management offer for early settlement of a strike that has halted publication of nine newspapers operated by Booth Newspapers, Inc.

Both management and the striking International Typographical Union said the offer made last night offered a firm basis for settlement of the strike of some 500 printers which started Nov. 25. Details of the offer were not announced.

Struck are the morning Grand Rapids Herald, the afternoon Grand Rapids Press, and afternoon papers in Ann Arbor, Bay City, Flint, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Muskegon and Saginaw.

Both union and management spokesmen said the offered covered an entire new contract. The old contract expired Oct. 1.

It could not be determined, prior to learning the results of the membership vote, when publication would be resumed.

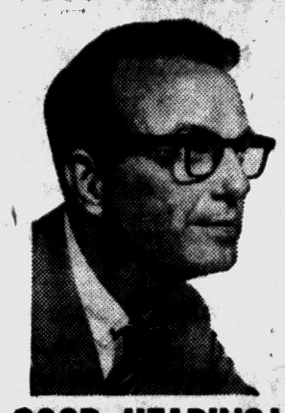

At one time during the negotiations, a Booth spokesman said the union's demands were more than 15 cents an hour above the company's offer.

Booth said composing room employes in Flint and Grand Rapids currently receive an hourly rate of $3.17 and $3.12 in other Booth cities.

Booth said it offered the ITU printers increases of nine cents and 10 cents for a two year contract which would raise the hourly rate to $3.36 in Flint and Grand Rapids and to $3.31 in the other cities during the term of the contract.

The ITU had asked 13 cents on a one year contract or 15 cents on a two year pact with management also paying all costs of fringe benefits other than pensions, including hospitalization, accident and life insurance.
