MSUO in 1961-62: Wing and a Prayer

By MAX E. SIMON

Michigan State University Oakland will travel into the 1961-62 academic year on "a wing and a prayer," university officials said today.

Michigan State University trustees yesterday earmarked $100,000 of their $205,000 appropriation increase for MSUO, which will offer instruction at the junior class level for the first time this fall.

At the same time, trustees authorized deficit financing by MSUO.

Some $100,000 more will be needed to carry MSUO through two trimesters.

The legislature will be asked for the additional monies next January.

Trustees also left the question of a third trimester next year up to the lawmakers.

MSU President John A. Hannah said the allocation to MSUO would be based on providing only two of the proposed trimester program terms "on the understanding that the next session of

More Funds Doubtful

Rep. Arthur J. Law, D-Pontiac, said today that Michigan State University trustees might encounter difficulty from Republican legislators in seeking additional funds to make up MSUO's deficit next year.

"Especially in the face of what the Republicans did this year," Law said.

"I realize the good intentions of trustees," Law said. "I only hope they are not building up false hopes."

"For my part, I shall continue to do all that I can—for the cause of MSUO in particular and the cause of higher education in general."

S. Korean President Resigns Unexpectedly

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

SEOUL, Korea — South Korean President Yun Po-Sun, the last vestige of constitutional authority in Korea following the military take-over Tuesday, resigned unexpectedly tonight.

His resignation, coming 24 hours after Premier John M. Chang and his cabinet quit, left all affairs of state in the hands of a 32-member, right-wing revolutionary committee that calls itself the "Supreme National Reconstruction Council."

Meanwhile, sources close to the revolutionary committee said Lt. Gen. Lee Ban Lim, former commander of the ROK First Army which includes most of South Korea's combat troops on the front line, has been arrested.

The sources said Lee, Lt. Gen. Kang Yung Hoon, former superintendent of the ROK military academy, and at least a dozen other generals were seized for failing to cooperate with the military junta.

Lee had wavered for almost 48 hours before finally swinging into line behind the junta, thereby assuring its victory.

Aides close to Yun said he may have quit because Yun's leader Lt. Gen. Chang Do Yung claimed the military committee was the supreme government authority in the republic of Korea.

The development came as military rule prevailed again in South Korea for the first time since Syngman Rhee was ousted last year.

A statement issued to newsmen over Yun's name said "I regret that I made so little contribution to the nation that a military revolution has occurred."

The nation's military chiefs had arrested 800 suspected leftists and imposed stringent censorship.

Yun had been kept on in the first stages by the military junta in an apparent attempt to put a stamp of legality on the military takeover.

As Yun quit, there were widespread rumors in Seoul of unusual activity and a possible armed clash in the area south of the demilitarized zone with Communist North Korea.

But a United Nations command spokesman said that U.N. authorities had not been able to confirm any unusual incidents.

However, Lt. Gen. John L. Ryan, commander of the U.S. 1st Corps in the central sector of the demilitarized zone, clamped a tight check on vehicle and personnel movements in his area tonight.

Only Thursday, Yun had called on all Koreans to join in supporting the junta.

U. of M. Plans to Hold Line on Enrollment

Budget Restrictions Will Prohibit Staff Additions, Raises or Research

From Our News Wires

TRAVERSE CITY — The University of Michigan has decided to match the legislature's "hold the line" policy on the 1961-62 budget with a similar policy of its own.

U. of M. President Harlan Hatcher announced at a board of regents meeting here Thursday that budget restrictions will force the university to hold student enrollment next fall virtually to its present level of 24,000.

There also will be no general salary increases for faculty members, no additions to the staff, and no expansion of the research and development programs, Hatcher said.

Michigan thus joins the growing number among the state-supported colleges and universities that have announced cuts or curtailments in their programs for next year.

The university originally requested a $41-million appropriation, $10 million higher than the current budget. Gov. Swainson recommended $37.1 million, and the legislature allocated $35.3 million.

The final figure was about $48,000 higher than the current budget.

Legislative leaders had suggested that the schools raise more money by increasing student tuition fees.

But Hatcher pointed out that Michigan has taken this step five times during the past 10 years, the latest occasion being just last year.

Hatcher said "every source has been strained," and called the legislature's budget increase for U. of M. "static."

He said the entering freshman class next September would be held to about 2,500 forcing the university to ignore almost 7,000 applications.

"We ought to be advancing the educational opportunities of our young people," Hatcher said. "But instead, we have to hold the line."

GOING BACKWARD

Commenting on the cramped maintenance, Hatcher said: "You might just as well ask the Ford Motor Co. to go back to Highland Park and its Model T days as to expect the university to operate in the next decade with the buildings and equipment now on hand."

Michigan's problems were not confined to the undergraduate area.

U. of M. Vice President Ralph Sawyer, graduate school head, said more than 4,000 applications have been received but actual enrollment will be limited to about 1,200.

These means about 1,500 applicants considered qualified would be turned away, Sawyer said.

Picnic Weather Over Weekend, So Have Fun

A wonderful weekend is in store for Pontiac area residents. The weatherman said Saturday will be fair and warm with a high of 68, and Sunday's forecast is fair and not too much change in temperature, possibly warmer.

Tonight will be fair and cool, the low about 43.

Precipitation will total less than two-tenths inches occurring as showers Monday.

Morning northerly winds at 5 miles per hour will become light variable late this afternoon and southeasterly at 8 to 12 m.p.h. Saturday.

Forty-two was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 65 at 2 p.m.

K IS CORDIAL — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who will meet President Kennedy in Vienna June 3 and 4, greets Russian Ambassador in Moscow Wednesday. Ambassador is Indonesian minister of state and is heading an official government delegation now visiting the Soviet Union.

Planned 2 Months for K Talk

JFK Acted 1st on Meeting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy made the first formal overture for a possible meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev last February, only a month after he took office.

But the suggestion hung fire for weeks, and then the Russians revived it, U.S. officials said today.

In Moscow, the official Soviet news agency Tass said the Kennedy-Khrushchev get-together will mark the culmination of two months of secret diplomatic negotiations.

Tass said the meeting was agreed upon "following an exchange of opinion through diplomatic channels," which began in March this year, and an exchange of messages.

SALINGER RELUCTANT

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger was reluctant to discuss who got the ball rolling for the Vienna conference next month.

He acknowledged that Kennedy in a letter to Khrushchev on Feb. 23 mentioned a meeting in general terms.

But, Salinger said, for practical purposes, definite arrangements were made for the Vienna talks on the basis of a Khrushchev letter to the President which was delivered to the White House by Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov Tuesday.

Salinger reported that during the interval between the two letters, there were a number of exchanges on lower levels, plus the fact that Kennedy discussed the possibilities of a get-together when Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko visited the White House March 27.

Asked flatly to say who initiated plans for the meeting, Salinger said, "I think there was a desire on the part of both parties to get together."

The announcement that the meeting was set for the first week in June brought forth guarded welcome from the diplomatic community in Moscow.

The feeling was that a face-to-face discussion would give both men an opportunity to cover the entire range of cold war issues—even though the official Washington announcement of the impending meeting said that there would be no "negotiations."

Diplomats said a meeting between Khrushchev and Kennedy would offer the chance to dispel any confusion and misunderstanding that could possibly arise from negotiations through second parties.

Myron Axenfeld, 29, of Detroit told police he was counting the day's receipts when the bandit entered Lou's Drugstore, 493 S. Sanford St., then walked out.

He returned with an accomplice a few minutes later and turned an automatic on Axenfeld.

After taking the money, the gunman ordered Axenfeld and another Edward Williams, 17, 571 Nevada Ave., to the basement of the store, then left.

Was Starlet Given Sack for Being Too Fat to Act?

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.) — The sudden severance of starlet Jo Morrow's Columbia Pictures contract has the movie colony playing guessing games.

Under terms of a new contract negotiated last fall, Jo's weight could not exceed 132 pounds, her hips 37 inches and her waistline 24 inches.

Did Jo violate the contract?

The red-haired actress and the studio both deny it. But a trade paper maintains she did. A front-page item in the show business paper Variety said Thursday the starlet hit 145 pounds.

A studio spokesman said Miss Morrow, 21, herself asked for release from the contract, adding: "And since we had no pictures coming up for her, we agreed."

She's a beautiful girl, talented, and I think she will become a major star."

Miss Morrow said she was hurt when she read the article but soon felt better.

CHEERED BY CALLS

"I've been cheered by all the phone calls I got from studio executives, all of whom said they would track it (the overweight report) down and refute it," she said.

"I didn't think people in Hollywood cared that much."

Jo, who made six pictures in 2½ years at the studio, admitted she now weighs 138 pounds. But she said her measurements are the same as specified in the contract, and: "I've been studying dancing and I'm much tighter now. If the studio had a picture for me, I could have dropped six pounds," she said.

SQUEEZED OUT — Actress Jo Morrow has lost her job as a Columbia Pictures star because she weighs too much, says the show business trade paper, Variety. Not so, says Joe Morrow, says Columbia Studios, her former employer.

Swap of Views on Cold War Main Purpose

Officials Ruling Out Serious Negotiations on Major Problems

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev will meet in Vienna June 3 and 4 for their first personal contact and a "general exchange of views" on critical cold war issues.

The meeting was announced simultaneously in Moscow and Washington. The White House also announced that in addition to conferring with French President Charles de Gaulle prior to the Vienna sessions, Kennedy will return from Vienna by way of London and confer with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Mrs. Kennedy will accompany the President on his trips, and in London it was announced the Kennedys will dine with Queen Elizabeth II June 5.

It is possible the President may make a report to the American people June 7 on his talks with the Soviet leader. Kennedy is to speak that day at commencement exercises at the Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., an occasion that will afford opportunity for a report.

The official description of the Kennedy-Khrushchev talks as constituting a first personal contact suggests the possibility that both men envision further meetings. Authorities here said no further meetings are specifically planned, but it is normal—or should be—for an American president to talk with the Soviet premier.

The formal announcement ruled out Kennedy-Khrushchev negotiations or agreements on "major international problems" to which other countries have direct interest.

But it left no doubt that all those problems will be discussed as either Kennedy or Khrushchev wishes to raise them.

JFK'S POINTS

Specifically, authorities here said Kennedy wants to make two major points to the Soviet leader.

First, the President wants to appeal to him to modify the Soviet Union's position in the nuclear test talks at Geneva in an effort to save those talks from the total failure now threatening because of East-West deadlock over provisions for an international inspection system.

Second, the President wants to warn Khrushchev of the dangers of miscalculation in Moscow of U.S. determination to which other countries have direct interest to which it is committed, in spite of the setbacks in Cuba and Laos.

He returned with an accomplice a few minutes later and turned an automatic on Axenfeld.

CIA and Pentagon to Share Blame for Cuba Fiasco

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said today the Central Intelligence Agency and the Pentagon must share blame for the Cuban invasion disaster because "both advised the President that the plan was feasible."

Church gave a handwritten statement to reporters as he came out of a closed hearing at which Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was questioned about the role of the joint chiefs in the incident.

But Church did not join Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., in saying "we directly need a new chairman and members" of the joint chiefs.

Two Republican members of the Senate Latin American affairs subcommittee disagreed with Gore in talking with reporters outside the hearing room.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., said, "I didn't hear anything in there that suggests we need to replace Gen. Lemnitzer any more than we need to replace the President or anybody else."

"They were all in this together," Capehart added.

2 More County Men Blames GOP Con-Con Candidates for School Costs

Two more hats were tossed in the con-con list in Oakland County today.

William A. O'Brien, a Clawson lawyer, announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination as delegate from the 12th State Senatorial District (Oakland County).

Avern Cohn, a Royal Oak lawyer, said he was running for the Democratic nomination in the 5th Legislative District of the county.

Both candidates listed reapportionment as the biggest issue in the forthcoming constitutional convention. Both said Oakland County would benefit by reapportionment.

WILLIAM O'BRIEN

O'Brien, 31, is a Clawson city councilman, practicing with a Detroit law firm.

He is a member of the Democratic party's state Central Committee, representing Oakland County.

A native of Portland, Me., O'Brien worked his way through college and law school. He was graduated from Yale Law School in 1957.

Married with five children, O'Brien has been president of the Clawson Junior Chamber of Commerce and is a member of the Clawson Redevelopment Committee and Citizens for Michigan.

He is associated with church, legal and social groups and is a lieutenant in the Naval Reserve.

AVERN COHN

Cohn, 36, was treasurer of the Michigan Citizens for the Kennedy campaign last year and has served as a Democratic precinct delegate.

He is on the executive board of the Detroit branch of the American Civil Liberties Union and a member of the state board of the Anti-Defamation League.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Cohn specializes in business law. Married with three children, Cohn has lived in Oakland County five years.

Kennedy to Meet K in Vienna June 3-4

For a Berlin setting this year, demands which threaten a new Soviet-American crisis. He is also expected to use the occasion to issue a new call for "general and complete disarmament," which has been a major theme of Soviet propaganda several years.

The announcement today resulted from exchanges between Washington and Moscow going back to the early weeks of the Kennedy administration.

K HAD APPEAL

Even before Kennedy took office, Khrushchev made an appeal through U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harrington for better relations with the new U.S. administration. He conferred at length with Thompson on Jan. 20, Kennedy's inauguration day.

Kennedy then called his ambassador to Washington and sent him back in late February with a personal message for Khrushchev.

It was finally delivered to Khrushchev by Thompson in a meeting at Novosibirsk March 9. In that letter, Kennedy expressed interest in meeting with Khrushchev, and said that perhaps it could be arranged in the spring or fall.

Subsequently, as tensions built up over the Cuban crisis and over the issue of a cease-fire in Laos, the letter, Kennedy expressed interest in meeting with Khrushchev, and said that perhaps it could be arranged in the spring or fall.

FCC Men Say Reorganization Full of Power

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two federal communication commissioners urged Congress today to kill President Kennedy's plan to give more power to their controversial chairman Newton N. Minow.

The reorganization of the FCC proposed by Kennedy has drawn increased opposition from broadcasters in the wake of Minow's warning last week that TV broadcasters may lose their licenses unless they improve their programming.

Commissioners Rosel H. Hyde and Frederick W. Ford objected to the plan on grounds that it would give too much power to the chairman. They testified at a hearing on the bill before a House Government Operations Committee.

Con-Con Vote Over, Ballot Boxes Freed

Since no petition was filed in Lansing for a recount of this spring's con-con vote, canvassing of the vote was completed by the state and all ballot boxes and voting machines in Oakland County are now available for local use, it was announced today by Daniel T. Murphy Jr., clerk-registrar.

The ballot boxes and voting machines can be used for local recounts or special elections between now and the July 25 con-con primary, Murphy said.

The results of the April 3 election have been from on the county's voting machines pending the con-con canvassing.

The Day in Birmingham Students to Play Big Part in Michigan Week Activity

BIRMINGHAM—Michigan Week, May 23-27, will find students here participating in an endless variety of classroom and school activities which will focus on their state and community.

Walter Fiel, administrative assistant for the school district and Education Day chairman, said that plans for the week were developed by a committee of 25 teachers and principals representing all schools in Birmingham.

A number of special activities have been planned for the schools and promotional material will announce the occasion to pupils.

An extensive collection of information and suggested printed and audio-visual resources have been made available to teachers, who requested them.

Education Day, May 23, will be highlighted by two special events. All members of the staff who have been in the profession 10 years or more will be honored at a 3:30 p.m. tea to be given by the American Association of University Women at Seaholm High School.

The day will be climaxed by an all-school outdoor art exhibit at Derby Junior High School from 6 to 10 p.m. Students will demonstrate their art talents from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Many assemblies have been planned for the elementary schools, according to Fiel, which will highlight the history, resources, geography, people and government of the state.

Parents are helping, too, by lending materials, time, gardens, and automobiles. Some will replace teachers as discussion leaders or as story tellers about Michigan.

Secondary school activities will be emphasized in the homes and in social studies classes. Some schools will feature daily broadcasts of taped interviews on the public address system. Topics will be the daily themes of Michigan Week.

The series will begin Monday with a talk by Mayor Florence Willett, followed on successive days by Charles Mortenson, president of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce; Olla M. Dick, superintendent of the Birmingham Schools; and Owen Manchester, director of the Birmingham YMCA.

A key to the city will be presented to Mayor James Winters of Edwardsburg during his visit to the city by the students of the Birmingham School.

The Seaholm Student Senate also have made plans to entertain the visiting mayor.

Advisory Unit Votes to Request Extension on Recreation Center Poll

First reports of the recreation center opinion survey came in last night but the City Commission's Civic Advisory Committee decided more time was needed for a full report.

The committee voted to ask the City Commission Tuesday night for two weeks more in which to conclude the informal survey.

The commission has asked the 10-member body to sound out public sentiment on the proposal to put a $3-million general obligation bond issue to the voters as soon as possible to construct recreation centers.

Opponents to the proposal claim the necessary groundwork hasn't been laid. They say there are no plans, no cost estimates and no agreement about the type of facilities that might be provided.

Exiles Favor Castro Scheme

Cubans Want to Trade Tractors for Captives, but Differ on Method

MIAMI, Fla. (U)—Cuban exiles today favored taking up Fidel Castro's offer to free invasion captives for 300 American bulldozers, but they differed on who should do it.

An anti-Castro schoolteachers organization pledged $600-$1 for each member—Thursday toward buying the bulldozers. It scheduled a Saturday meeting to form a prisoners exchange committee.

The Revolutionary Schoolteachers Directorate said, "We accept Fidel Castro's challenge, but it will not be President Kennedy but the people of Cuba who will send the bulldozers."

DIFFERS ON OFFER

A Cuban editor in exile had a different reaction. Sergio Carbo, editor of Prensa Libre, said the United States should take up Castro's offer at once.

"All free citizens of the Americas have faith that Mr. Kennedy will take Castro's offer into consideration without delay," Carbo said.

Cuba holds about 1,000 men, mostly Cuban exiles, captured in the abortive April 17 invasion. Equipment dealers say 300 bulldozers would cost $6 million to $27 million, depending on the model chosen.

Jose Miro Cardona, president of the Cuban Revolutionary Council, which recruited the invasion force, asked the International Red Cross to look into the Castro proposal.

Waterford Area Tots to See Room, Teacher

It's "roundup" time for Waterford Township youngsters starting school for the first time next September, and school officials estimate that more than 1,500 children will enter kindergarten then.

A special program has been set up in each of the 20 elementary schools whereby parents may enroll their children, become acquainted with the teachers and schools, and ask questions.

Parents are urged to bring their children to the roundup so that they may not only meet their new teacher, but become acquainted with other 5-year-olds who will be enrolling.

They may roam about the kindergarten room, look at various projects and play with some of the toys and books, while the parents meet with the teacher.

Evening meetings have been planned in some buildings so that both parents may attend.

MUST BE FIVE
Kindergarten children must be five years of age on or before Dec. 1, and parents must bring birth certificates as proof. They must also be immunized before entering kindergarten.

Some of the roundups have been completed. However, the program will continue Monday at Four Towns, Wednesday at Lambert and Pontiac Lake schools; Thursday at Adams, Highland, Montith, McVittie and Stringham schools.

Also Friday: Waterford Village, Waterford Center, Sandburg, Schoolcraft, Montith, Covert and Cooley.

Donelson will have its roundup Wednesday, May 31; and the Lutes School, the first week in June.

Sandy Beach to Seek Trade of Teen-Agers

When Sandy Beach on Loom Lake gets into full operation next month, the accent will be on teenagers.

Joseph Puertas and Kenneth Davis, new owners of the Loom Lake swimming center, said the roadhouse on their property at 3342 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township, would cater especially to teen-agers for dancing and eating.

Puertas and Davis, operating the Ken-Jo Corp., plan to open the beach this weekend and the roadhouse in three weeks or so.

Partridge and Associates handled the sale from Ella Thrift.

Red Police Arrest 9 in Currency Crackdown

MOSCOW — Security police have arrested nine persons accused of participating in the biggest currency speculation ring in the Soviet Union's postwar criminal history, the government announced Thursday.

The Soviet state security committee said the nine speculated to the tune of two million rubles (a little over $2 million at the official rate), buying foreign currency and gold from tourists and other Soviet citizens and then reselling at higher prices.

All nine were indicted and held for trial. No other details were revealed.

PTA Proxy to Speak

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Mrs. James C. Parker of Grand Rapids, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, is keynote speaker at the organization's 65th annual convention opening Sunday in Kansas City, Mo. She presides at Business sessions starting Monday.

Nine of the national parks are in New Mexico.

Detroit Broach Promotes Pair

Creates Two Divisions in Sales and Brings Up Engineers

Creation of two new sales divisions to meet needs of expanding operations is reported by Detroit Broach & Machine Co. of 950 S. Rochester Road, Rochester.

The firm also announced the promotion of two engineers to executive posts, and affiliation of two tracer control authorities in connection with the reorganization.

R. H. Graf, vice president of sales, said a lower control sales division has been created to market a machine tool conversion unit, developed as the first application of a hydraulic control system to which the company recently acquired exclusive U.S. and foreign rights.

S. R. Gudimofsky, who joined Detroit Broach recently, will head the new sales division as manager. Gudimofsky invented and developed the hydraulic principles incorporated in the tracer control conversion unit.

Assisting him in coordinating engineering, manufacturing and sales will be J. Gudimofsky, who also joined the firm recently, after disposing of his interests in Bald Mountain Machine Co., 3279 La-Pierre Road.

The new broach sales division, Graf explained, will now handle only sales of the company's broaching machines and allied tooling. The division will be headed by R. L. Kamiechke as manager. Kamiechke was assistant sales manager.

R. P. Cottrell, who, Graf said, was supervisor of machine and fixture sales, now is manager of estimating and service, with responsibilities extending over both broaching and tracer control divisions.

Some Firms Continue Price Rigging Practice

The Federal Government recently rejected a number of identical bids on electrical equipment sought by the Interior Department. Unbelievably, these identical bids were submitted well after the recent ruckus about price rigging in the electrical equipment firms.

The continuation of this practice is under investigation by the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Antitrust, as well it should be.

One company official testified, "I knew the meetings (with competitors) were illegal but not criminal... I squared my conscience with my actions because I thought criminal action meant damaging someone in some way."

Apparently citizens are not damaged when their taxes are misused, and electrical firms get more for their equipment than they should.

In a recent speech on business ethics, Henry Ford II, chairman of the Board of the Ford Motor Co. said, "... the confidence and faith of the American people in business—particularly in the big corporations that play so vital a role in our whole life, will not be strengthened by alibis, excuses, or counter-recriminations."

"If we are to preserve the good name of our respective companies, we must be sure that management does everything reasonable... to prevent such happening, and takes swift and sure corrective action when the occasional misdeed does occur."

"It is the job of our corporate executives to keep their own houses in order. If and when they fail to do so, the housecleaning job certainly will be put in less friendly hands."

Mr. Ford nails it down. The next time around it may be even more damaging to companies conspiring to defraud the public and siphon excess amounts from the public till.

Glamour of Hollywood Never Changed Cooper

We are often dismayed at the high and often undeserved esteem that many performers are held in, but infrequently there shines a star whose brightness is not tarnished with the baser side of Hollywood.

Such was Gary Cooper, laid to rest after a long bout with the cancer killer.

If the young and naive need a hero to emulate, Cooper was a worthy choice. The industry has lost one of its giants.

Embezzlers Being Told To Pay Taxes on Loot

For those who are about to embark on a career of embezzlement, a bit of advice: raise your sights a little. The U.S. Supreme Court has declared Uncle Sam in on the take.

The court says that income from this source must be reported on the income tax forms. There were some dissenting opinions, to be sure. Justices Hugo L. Black and Charles E. Whittaker questioned whether the embezzled funds should be reported as income, since the money, legally speaking, does not belong to the embezzler.

Can you imagine one person in the entire country who will sit down before next year's tax deadline, and blithely jot down how much he knocked down from the company?

The highest court in the land had to take this weighty point up because a Chicago union official who took $735,000 not only was sentenced for conspiracy to embezzle, but also got three years for willfully attempting to evade taxes.

It might be a handy way of keeping some bums in the clink for an additional term, but it does seem rather silly.

The Man About Town

Freaks of Nature Out of Ordinary Things Reported by Our Readers

Quiet: The condition of the experts who were so noisy and noisy about the Detroit Tigers a few weeks ago.

A stalk of corn, already over a foot high, is growing from a hollow in a dead tree, ten feet above the ground, near the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Shearley of Drayton Plains. The seed was evidently dropped there by a bird.

The cat in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Farrand Webber of Bloomfield Hills slept with their dog until the dog ate some dried herring.

The White Chapel tulip display is now at its best. Over 100,000 of them await your inspection; ten miles southeast of Pontiac.

Again using their outside kitchen door are

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Brearley of Birmingham. It was closed for a few weeks, until a robin family was ready to leave the nest that blocked it. The nest was built when the Brearleys were away for a weekend.

Hearing a big commotion among the birds over the cattail weeds in a bay on Cass Lake.

Harvey Presswell made an investigation, and found a large water snake devouring the babies in a red winged blackbird's nest. Presswell killed the snake, and saved two of the young birds, taking them to his nearby porch, where the old birds have resumed their parental duties.

Washington Argues on Integration

WASHINGTON — An agitation stirred by spokesmen for the Kennedy administration is stirring up quite a controversy not only over the admission of Negroes to private clubs but their inclusion at cocktail parties and dinners in private homes.

The idea of "voluntary" participation seems to have been rejected as unsatisfactory by many advocates of "integration," the argument being that to select a few is a kind of hypocrisy and that full participation to population is much more equitable.

About 54 percent of the population of the national capital is Negro, so it is being argued that there must be "equality" and that a failure to provide an equal number of Negroes at cocktail parties and at official as well as private dinners is a form of "discrimination."

The public discussion was started by Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy and Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg. Kennedy in a television interview spoke of private clubs here that do not admit Negroes, and added, "And as I say, if we're going to practice what we preach we're going to have to take steps forward in all sections of the United States, particularly in the South."

Secretary Goldberg, in a public address recently in New York, said: "I find it difficult to understand why, in the houses I have frequented socially, dinner parties, the cocktail parties, I have rarely seen Negroes as guests. This is particularly marked among intellectuals and liberals in our large cities, particularly in New York City and Chicago."

"Are there no Negro writers, composers, artists, academicians with whom one can break bread, with whom one can engage in intellectual discourse?"

There are, of course, many of us, irrespective of race or creed or color, who are never able to engage in "intellectual discourse" anyway, but assuming that there are a fortunate few who can do so, the question arises as to what the administration here has to do with it.

The Supreme Court of the United States in recent decisions has upheld "freedom of association" for individuals, but this was in a case involving alleged Communists, rather than non-Communists, so perhaps it doesn't apply to everybody.

Maybe the first thing to do is to get the facts. If there be inside the Kennedy administration many officials who are capable of engaging in "intellectual discourse," then indeed it might be asked whether lately they have been inviting any Negro couples to their cocktail parties and dinners.

So far as is known, the times that Negroes are prominent in official functions are rare—usually only when ambassadors from African nations are being entertained. Certainly no one has heard of an equal number of Negroes and whites being present at any official dinners and receptions to which the general public has been invited. Many official functions have been held in Washington recently at which no Negroes were present. In political-campaign years, there are some of course. Political dinners by the Republicans have for decades included some of the Negro politicians and their wives.

Only in more recent times have the Democrats in the North done the same. But, as far as is known, the Kennedy administration has not invited any quotas of Negroes for cocktail parties or dinners, though it could be that no functions have been held as yet at which "Negro writers, composers, artists, academicians" could find anyone with whom they could engage in "intellectual discourse."

What's needed around Washington, to be sure, are some standards and formulas to take care of the weighty problem of the invitation lists for dinners and cocktail parties—there doesn't seem to be enough worries to go around besides Laos and Cuba.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Some Foods Valueless; Fill Without Nourishing

Seven of the 20 temporary teeth of the average child in Scotland are decayed, filled or extracted by the age of 5 years.

By the age of 14 years, 12 of the 28 permanent teeth of the 4 "wisdom" teeth—third molars—are not cut until the 18 to 25 years of age.

According to a DR. BRADY estimate of the Scottish Standing Committee on Dental Health Education, 3,609 children in Scotland aged 16 or under have whole or partial dentures. This is twice the number of dental decay.

Dentists attribute the high rate of dental decay in Scottish children to the same cause as they do the high rate of dental decay in American children—excessive consumption of candy, soft drinks, cookies, cake, sugar-pap and things made principally of refined white flour.

As if that were not enough, the dentists add another hypothetical cause of caries, cavity formation or dental decay—namely, decreased consumption of hard foods, such as apples and carrots.

I omitted one specification from the dentists' theory of the cause of caries in children. They specified increased consumption of sweets and pop BETWEEN MEALS.

There, I say, the dentists are getting warm. On the other hand, when they drag in the tired old hard food theory, they are away out beyond the ultraviolet.

If most of the calories in the diet of child or adult are supplied by sugar and starch, the diet is pretty sure to be inadequate, that is, such pap will not maintain good nutrition. Whether the food is hard or soft makes no difference.

Nor does it make any difference whether one thinks of the soundness and strength of teeth, bones, nerves or arteries. Refined white flour and refined white sugar, even if consumed in excessive quantities, as they are by most Americans, particularly young ones, certainly do not cause decay of the teeth or other manifestations of nutritional deficiency.

The objection to excessive consumption of cereal-foods is simply that sugar and starch supply so many calories that the pampered child or adult has no appetite for real food such as meat, milk, vegetables, cheese, greens and fruit. These real foods supply vital necessary protein, fat, vitamins and minerals. So I say it is lack of real food, and not just too much cheap food, that causes tooth decay.

Signed letters, not more than two pages each, will be accepted by personal health and hygiene, not diseases, diagnosis, treatment or dental decay. Dr. William Brady, if a stamp, a postage stamp, will be accepted. The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

God Liked Attitude of Scientist

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE H-489: Gideon, aged about 30, was one of the most scientific men in the Bible. And God likes scientists, as Gideon's story proves.

The invading armies of the Israelites were as grasshoppers for multitude. They had come up at harvest time to steal the wheat of Gideon's people.

It was while Gideon was threshing his father's wheat in a winepress, to hide it from the enemy, that God talked to him, and informed Gideon he had been picked to lead the Israelites against the invading hosts.

But Gideon wanted to be very sure it was really God who talked with him, so he asked for a sign. And God set his sacrifice on fire as proof.

Gideon then viewed the vast border camped in the valley, and decided he better make doubly sure, so he asked God to show him a second sign.

"Behold, I will put a fleece of wool on the floor," said Gideon, "and if the dew be only on the fleece while the surrounding earth is dry, then I'll know for sure that thou wilt save Israel by mine hand."

God agreed and, sure enough, next morning Gideon squeezed a bowl full of water from the fleece, but the ground was bone dry.

But Gideon still wasn't content, so he apologized to God for asking for another experiment. But Gideon requested that the fleece remain dry the next night while the surrounding ground was wet with dew.

Voice of the People:

Don't Scrap 'Important' Amendment, Says Writer

Mrs. Mary Walters' timely warning against scrapping the Connally Amendment should be heeded by all who don't want the U.S.A. to become a colony of the United Nations. Our country has accepted compulsory jurisdiction of the court. However, we stated that it would not apply to "disputes with regard to matters which are essentially within domestic jurisdiction of the U.S.A. as determined by the United States." These last six words are known as the Connally Amendment.

The writer has heard of no substantial reason for cancelling those important words. Mrs. Roosevelt admits that we would be giving up some of our sovereignty, but states that we must give up some if we want world peace. Mrs. Roosevelt hasn't learned that there can be no peace as long as there is communism.

This great country has welcomed those who want freedom and liberty. This country has fought in three major wars for the whole world's benefit, providing more than its share of men and money. It has generously given of its help and treasures in disasters and crises all over the world.

If the world will think poorly of us, it is about time for some more Americans to use General MacArthur's famous answer when he, too, was asked to surrender: "Nuts."

Owner of Snakes Answers Letter

Mrs. K. D. Morrey, who complained about fish being fed to snakes, should get her facts straight before writing irate letters.

All food used at Snakes Alive is bought. Fish used to feed the alligators and other large reptiles are purchased from fish markets. Occasionally a few small fish or minnows are bought from neighborhood children, who no doubt benefit from the money received.

Susan Lake mentioned in the letter is a private lake. Trespassers on private-owned land around the lake will not be involved in a "rumpus" with property owners who rightfully resent the wanton destruction and littering of their premises.

'Follow Golden Rule, 10 Commandments'

As we study the various religions of the world we always come back to the fundamentals of the Christian religion which places the Golden Rule and the Ten Commandments ahead of all others.

If we all followed these laws we would create a paradise on earth and would have a happy life in which to live and where our time to leave this earth arrived we would be in much better shape to return to God and follow his last instructions.

This is a simple way to live and we should all give it a try and find out how happy life can be.

Ralph T. Keeling

'Legislative Molehill Publicity Mountain'

Now that the GOP two-ring circus is over in Lansing and these "Nuts" have quit fiddling while Michigan burns, I notice the party stalwarts and their newspaper mouthpieces are making a big story out of a small performance.

The Pontiac Press came the nearest to voicing the horrible truth, that I have read in 16 years. Newspapers and GOP wheel horses "cheer" Governor Williams more than they loved Michigan and did a hatchet job on our state. The blame now can be placed on these GOP obstructionists who have the "rule or rule" complex.

Ex-Vice President Nixon offered these of these characters by telling them the truth. Who cooked up this gimmick to perpetuate themselves in office? This same GOP crowd which "rules and ruins." The state's newspapers should expose these characters instead of whitewashing them.

depth of sleep is greatest, they all blow their trumpets, smashed their pitchers, and apparently set fire to the enemy tents.

The enemy went berserk, every man slashing out with his sword at every shadowy figure nearby. So the hostile soldiers killed 120,000 of their own troops, while Gideon's 300 stood still and watched the rout.

Gideon thus was a true scientist. He tested God three times and God liked Gideon's attitude, so God then suggested the fourth test.

This remarkable instance of psychological tactics in ancient warfare, including the first mental test for soldiers, is told in Judges, Chapter 7.

Richard Meier Gets Teaching Fellowship

Waterford Township High School choral director Richard Meier has received a teaching fellowship at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. He will also teach part time at Highland Park, Ill. High School.

Meier will be working for his second master's degree, majoring in applied piano under Louis Crowder.

During his four-year stay in Waterford, Meier's choral group of 160 members has received 94 first place awards in chorus, solo and ensemble festivals throughout the state.

Want to Play in Waterford Civic Band?

Housewives, teachers, salesmen, doctors, lawyers and excavators in Waterford Township have all put their talents together and will have their first instrumental concert at 8 p.m., June 7.

The newly organized Waterford Township Civic Band, under Gene Preston, is sponsored by the township recreation department. Some 30 residents are now members of the aggregation.

To be held in the auditorium of Pierce Junior High School on Hatchery Road, the concert will feature marches, "Scenes from Opera Land," waltzes, special solos and "bits of old-time hits."

For spicy variety, there will be hot trombones, and a smattering of Dixieland jazz.

Anyone living in the Waterford area who can play an instrument is invited to join the band and practice is held every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., at Pierce school.

South Africa Bans Public Meetings

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—The South African government today banned all public meetings except church services and some other specially permitted gatherings throughout South Africa and South West Africa for six weeks.

The period—May 19 to June 25—covers the last three days of May when South Africa's nonwhites have been called by their leaders to stage work strikes and nationwide demonstrations against the proclamation of a new South African republic on May 31.

The nation's courts continued to be crowded by the arraignment of hundreds of nonwhites arrested in police raids Wednesday and Thursday. Police claimed they picked up chiefly "loafers, flouters and hoodlums." The police said they were trying to intimidate peaceable nonwhites into joining the strikes.

French Trains Roll After 36-Hour Strike

PARIS (AP)—French railway workers returned to work today after a crippling nationwide strike and immediately set to work manning extra trains for big Pentecost weekend crowds. With hardly a hitch, trains began rolling normally again at noon.

The 36-hour strike for higher pay had stalled almost all rail transport in the country. Coupled with strikes by subway, gas and electric workers, the walkout left French tempers frayed to the breaking point.

The Pentecost weekend lasts until next Tuesday.

Lansing Gears for Con-Con Starting Oct. 3

LANSING (U)—Lansing is gearing up to make sure that once the constitutional convention meets here it stays here to conduct its business.

Some 144 delegates are scheduled to assemble in the state capital Oct. 3, as required by law. But after the initial meeting they may or may not choose to remain in the city to work on drafting a new state constitution.

Mayor Willard I. Bowerman Jr. Thursday appointed a 15-man commission to prepare for the convention and arrange for adequate facilities.

Bowerman said the city may take steps to ready several floors in the new $3.9 million board of water and light building for the convention.

The 19-story building, nearly completed, adjoins the new city hall across the street from the Capitol.

Queen's Contest Will Be Staged at Romeo in June

By LEE WINDBORN
Area News Editor

ROMEO — The first event leading up to the 29th annual Peach Festival celebration over Labor Day weekend will be the Miss Romeo contest to be staged June 24 at the junior high school. To be eligible to enter the contest, girls must be single, be between 17½ and 21 years of age and live in the Romeo Community School District.

Following the format set last year, the contest will be divided into two segments, according to Chairman Mrs. Lester W. Poonch. First will be the coronation pageant and the second will be the talent show.

Candidates for the crown will appear on stage first to display their talents, then return later in formal attire to be interviewed by Master of Ceremonies Francis A. Castellucci.

A panel of out-of-town judges will pick a winner and two maid of honor. They will ride on the Peach Festival publicity float in area parades during the summer to publicize Romeo's celebration.

TO REPRESENT TOWN
Miss Romeo, along with queens from 10 other neighboring communities, will represent her village in the Peach Queen competition early in August.

Mrs. Poonch also is chairman of the Peach Queen contest. She is being assisted by Mrs. W. A. Parks and Mrs. H. O. Evans Jr. on both projects.

In addition to planning the Miss Romeo contest last night, the 1961 Festival Board also set up the program for the three-day celebration which begins Sept. 1.

Departing from tradition this year, the board has decided to move up the queen's coronation to opening night. Previously, it had been held Sunday night, the night before the holiday.

As it stands now, the coronation will precede the queen's Ball on Friday night. Gov. Swalinson will be invited to crown the queen in Romeo's Memorial Stadium after which the festivities will be moved across Morton street to the Youth Center for the ball.

On the agenda for Saturday are several new events this year. They include the Romeo Invitational Sweepstakes Golf Tournament at the local golf club and archery and pistol contests.

Nightly bowling tournaments also will begin Saturday with the day's events to be climaxed with a street dance at the A&P parking lot and night at the Theater at the Youth Center.

The Romeo Players will either stage a three-act play themselves or, like last year, ask three neighboring players' groups to put on one-act plays.

The Romeo Rotary Club Horse Show will highlight Sunday's program with soft ball and all-ball games also planned for this day.

Monday will be parade day in Romeo with the Children's Parade in the morning, the giant Floral Parade in the afternoon and the satirical and humorous Mummies' Parade at night.

Free acts will be offered on an open air stage at the Lions Community Field at regular intervals all three days, and a carnival also will be set up on the field.

The grand finale of the three-day celebration will be the spectacular fireworks display after dark on Labor Day.

General chairman of this year's festival is James W. Cray, administrator of the Community Hospital near Romeo.

Rochester Schools Plan Registration

ROCHESTER — Registration for kindergarten classes in the Rochester Community Schools will be held next Thursday and Friday at five elementary schools in the district.

Children to be enrolled in kindergarten in September must be 5 years old by Dec. 1 and birth certificates or other proof of their ages must be presented on registration day, according to School Supt. Donald C. Baldwin.

Registration will be Thursday at Brooklands, Harrison-Central and Woodward elementary schools and Friday at Baldwin, Hamlin, Meadow Brook and North Hill schools.

Special sessions will be held for parents and prospective kindergarten pupils both days at 9 and 10:30 a.m. and 1 and 2:30 p.m.

Speech correction teachers, public health nurses and kindergarten instructors will present brief talks during these sessions.

All area women who are interested in becoming members of the group have been urged to attend, and reservations are being taken by co-hostesses Mrs. Harold Ford and Mrs. Lawrence Stuart.

Following the luncheon the officers of the club will be installed. Mrs. Harry Palmer will take over as president; Mrs. Kenneth Valentin, vice president; Mrs. Alfred Hamilton, recording secretary; Mrs. Larry Stuart, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Harold Ford, treasurer.

The Clarkston Women's Club's largest project is supporting the town library, and many more members are needed to assist in the activity. The group meets at 7:30 p. m. every fourth Thursday at the Community Center on Main Street.

Child Dies of Injuries

VICKSBURG — Douglas Hunt Jr., 5, of Route 2 Vicksburg, died in a hospital of injuries suffered when he was hit by a car while walking along a road 6 miles east of here.

Hi-Losers Elect Officers for Coming Year

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — Officers of the Highland Hi-Losers were elected at the group's weekly meeting Tuesday night at the township hall.

Elected to serve for the coming year were Mrs. Chris Thomas, leader; Mrs. Marjorie Gunwald, vice leader; Mrs. Dorothy Easton, secretary; Mrs. Ida Buva, treasurer; and Mrs. Pearl Olds, reporter.

The group is affiliated with the nationwide TOPS (take-off-pounds-sensibly) club. New members were invited to attend the next meeting of the club at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the township hall.

At one time spices were believed to have the power to ward off evil spirits bearing disease. They were added to magic potions and sold to inspire love, fear or hate.

Camp Out Set at New Site

1,250 From Girl Scout Group to Open First Councilwide Event

ROMEIO — Over 1,250 members and adult leaders of the Otisville Girl Scout Council are scheduled to open the first councilwide event today at their newly acquired camp site two miles west of here.

The 188-acre Mill Valley farm property will be the scene of the council's Highland 7th. Camp-out which will be held through Sunday as the girl scouts' first outdoor activity of the year.

The rolling farmland north of 32 Mile Road just west of Elford Road will become a "tent city" this evening when the Macomb County girl scout council moves in for the weekend.

The council will be split into 45 units with each unit operating independently of the other.

There will be plenty of room for hikes, nature studies and other outdoor recreation on the site, which was recently purchased by the council for $185,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Knechtel who still own 75 acres of the original farm.

The council's camp site includes 40 acres of rolling hills, 74 acres of wooded hillsides and a 54-acre lake with three islands. Money for the purchase of the site is being raised through sales of Girl Scout cookies with a separate fund drive to be conducted within the next year, according to scout officials.

3 Con-Con Hopefuls to Speak to Women

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Republicans and Democrats who have announced their candidacy as delegates to the constitutional convention from District 3 will be guest speakers Tuesday at a meeting of the West Bloomfield League of Women Voters.

Three candidates have accepted the invitation to speak. They are Mrs. Berrien C. Ketchum, Henry L. Woolfenden and Asher N. Tichin.

The program will be held at 1 p.m. in the new West Bloomfield Township Library on Orchard Lake Road.

Members also will hear reports from delegates to the recent State League Convention. The delegates are Mrs. Meryl Schneider and Mrs. Jack Zaremb.

The public is invited to attend the meeting.

MODEL GIFT—Rev. Howard E. Claycombe, pastor of the Cedar Crest Lutheran Church in White Lake Township, studies a model of the altar in the background which was presented to him as a going-away gift. Rev. Claycombe, Cedar Crest pastor for five years, will leave June 9 to take over the ministerial duties at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Port Credit, Ontario. The replica of the altar was made by Mr. and Mrs. Orlito Bucco of 880 Lane Pine Road, Cooley Lake.

Vice President's Jaunts Abroad Have Little Value

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Vice President mer Vice President Richard M. He's traveling abroad, meeting

But Wednesday Johnson, while promising more help to Thailand, promised aide specialization on American troops being sent there.

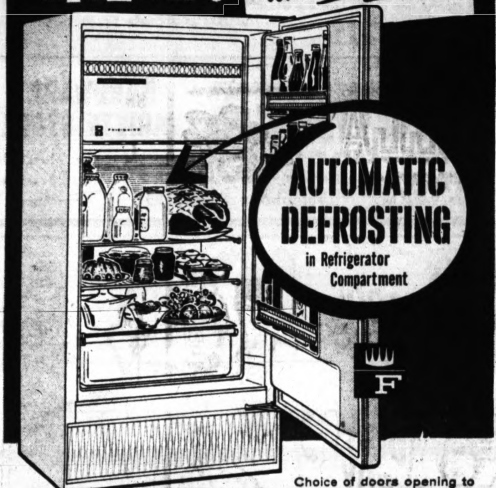

Johnson will tell Kennedy what he saw and what he thinks when he gets back. But this probably won't add any-

SHOCKED U.S.

The mistreatment heaped on Nixon in South America shocked the United States into painful realization that not all Latin Americans loved us and that this country was going to have to go some to keep them on the side of the United States.

Nor is it clear why anything Nixon or Johnson may have had to say to the head of a foreign government couldn't have been said just as well by the local American ambassador who could have delivered a message from Kennedy too.

The policy toward every other country is made here in Washington—not on the scene by a visitor, even one as important as Johnson—on information from the American ambassador there, his aide, other advisers, and the Central Intelligence Agency.

Johnson might have been of more practical value to Kennedy if he had remained in Washington and helped get the administration's programs through Congress, where he is an expert. He is an amateur in foreign dealings.

STYLISH HABIT

Nevertheless, more and more since World War II it has become a kind of stylish habit to send presidential representatives overseas, to single countries on special missions, or just abroad generally on so-called goodwill trips.

From the very beginning of Johnson's trip the main question has not been what Johnson might say, since he's only the President's special messenger, but what Kennedy might say through him.

If Kennedy has really said anything new, it hasn't been made public. For instance, it seems generally accepted the United States, no matter what happens, will not send U.S. forces directly into Laos.

That country, already more than half lost to Communism, probably will be swallowed up by it eventually, even though Laos is the key to other Southeast Asian nations which are either neutral or tied to the United States.

But the most critical area is South Viet Nam, which has received both military and economic aid from this country. Communist guerrillas are tormenting the government there.

NIBBLE, THEN BITE?

These guerrilla pushes appear to be only preliminaries, a feeling-out foray before larger pressure is applied. If South Viet Nam goes, then all Southeast Asia is truly in danger.

The other countries there, so close to mammoth Red China, can hardly be expected to stand up against Communist pressure if the United States declines to intervene directly in South Viet Nam in the event the situation there gets critical.

So — the question was: Will Johnson, tell President Ngo Dinh Diem not to worry, that the United States will jump in with army and air force if they're needed? A communique was issued after Johnson's visit. It spoke of more American economic and military help but so far it has not been reported this country promised direct intervention.

NOTHING NEW

There were reports that Johnson, when he got to Thailand, promised U.S. troops might be sent there. Thailand is linked with the United States in a defense treaty and is Laos' next-door neighbor.

Shell's automotive experts have developed many ways to make their own cars run better and last longer. The numbers on this classic 1930 V-16 indicate some of the areas deserving attention, as described below.

Shell recommends 21 ways to make your car last longer

Shell scientists dedicate their working lives to the care and feeding of automobiles.

They can offer dozens of tips on prolonging the life of your second biggest investment. Here are some useful samples:

Americans spend more than 2 billion dollars a year on automotive replacement parts. This expense is enough to give every man, woman, and child in the U. S. a $12 birthday present.

With a little care you can avoid much of this expense and keep your car youthful. Here are a few tips from Shell's experts.

1. Break in a new car properly. A long break-in period at low speed is no longer necessary. But manufacturers recommend:

A. Don't accelerate at full throttle or change gears abruptly. Sudden shocks to gears in the rear axle and transmission can cause lasting damage.

B. Vary your speeds—and especially avoid sustained high speed.

C. Try not to stop too suddenly—it can harm brake surfaces.

2. Warm up slowly. Racing an engine to warm it up ages it fast. A short warm-up at moderate speed is good for your car even in summer, and even more necessary during colder months when the oil tends to move sluggishly at first. Never race your cold engine to warm up, though. It may damage critical working parts before lubrication can be fully established.

There's no need for long idling; but drive slowly for the first few minutes.

3. Use your engine to save your brake linings. Anticipate your slowdowns. Use the brake as little as possible.

When you see you'll have to slow down, take your foot off the accelerator early and let the engine's compression do some of the job.

Always keep the master brake cylinder full of heavy-duty brake fluid. Shell's Super Heavy Duty brake fluid is designed to help your car's brakes deliver top performance.

4. Have your engine's spark timing set to proper specifications. The spark timing determines whether your plugs fire at exactly the right instant. With incorrect timing you lose power and cut mileage. Also your car may knock. Chronic knocking can eventually damage your engine.

5. Use a gasoline that controls knock. If your engine persists in knocking, you may need a gasoline with more anti-knock components, for a higher octane rating. Today's Super Shell contains all of the anti-knock ingredients required to help your car deliver knock-free performance.

6. Learn to read tail pipe smoke signals. Blue smoke means too much oil is getting into the combustion chambers.

Excessive blue smoke is a warning that piston rings may be worn—and need replacing. Your mechanic calls this a "ring job."

Black smoke is an indication of too much gasoline in the air-fuel mixture. Your carburetor may need an adjustment.

White smoke is mostly water vapor. Don't worry about it. Your engine makes a gallon of water for every gallon of gasoline burned. On cold days some of this shows up as vapor.

7. Have your oil checked whenever you fill up with gasoline. An oil check is a simple safety check for your engine. It is also free, and takes less than a minute.

By the way, oil does not wear out. But it can be lost through leaks or burning. And it does get dirty. Worse yet, oil can become contaminated by combustion by-products—including acid.

To be really safe, use new Shell X-100® Premium Motor Oil. It only costs about $3.60 more per year than regular oils—no more than most premiums.

New Shell X-100 Premium Motor Oil fights engine acid a brand-new way—with an amazing chemical shield that clings tightly to all metal surfaces.

For most cars Shell recommends an oil change once a month in winter, every 60 days in summer—never more than 2,000 miles between changes.

8. Avoid high speeds and save your tires. Every extra mile your tires last is money in your pocket. High speeds increase wear drastically—by as much as 80% over normal wear—so it pays to go easy.

9. Rotate tires every 5,000 miles. Your tires will last longer because they will all wear evenly, and at the same rate. Note: See your Shell dealer for a set of valve caps; they will prevent air from getting out and dirt from getting in around the tire valve.

10. Check wheel alignment and balance. The shock of hitting curbs or dropping into deep holes can cause misalignment.

This literally drags the wheel at an angle to the line of travel. Nothing wears tires out more quickly.

An out-of-line wheel can increase tire wear as much as 50 per cent. An unbalanced wheel pounds the tire against the pavement, wearing the tread unevenly.

Have an expert check wheel alignment and balance at least twice a year. Proper tire inflation at all times is also essential.

11. Save your battery with 11¢ worth of baking soda. Dirt and corrosion can actually cause current leaks—and can shorten your battery's life by many months. If corrosion is visible, wash the battery off with a solution of baking soda and water. Use a wire brush if necessary. Then rinse thoroughly with warm water. Ask your Shell dealer to check your battery terminals.

Caution: Never allow the soda-water solution to get into your battery; it could neutralize the acid which makes your battery work.

12. Change your oil filter element every other oil change. Abrasive specks as small as 1/1000th of an inch in diameter can shorten the life of your engine. The oil filter element in your car has the exacting task of keeping tiny, dangerous specks of metal and other abrasives out of the engine, while allowing oil to flow freely.

The filter catches and holds these foreign particles until it can hold no more. But when the oil filter is clogged up, it cannot work effectively.

Replacing the filter element every other oil change helps your engine to last longer.

13. Get a lubrication job regularly. Dirt and moisture can work into chassis joints and bushings, causing friction and wear. Grease can also eventually pound out, leaving the parts unprotected.

See your Shell dealer for a Shelllubrication. He has the charts, equipment, Shell lubricants for your car, and the skill for a really thorough job.

14. Have your car's cooling system checked twice a year. In time, the inhibitors in your anti-freeze lose some of their ability to prevent rust, corrosion and sediment from forming in your cooling system.

Let your Shell dealer check the cooling system—including hoses and hose connections—no less than twice a year. When he drains and refills he will add a special Cooling System Protector.

15. Keep door and body panel drain holes clear to foil rust. You never see them, but there are little drain holes at the bottom of body panels and doors. They can get clogged so that the panels actually hold water. Rust forms more easily and can eat holes right through the metal.

You have probably noticed this ugly sight in other cars. Make sure drain holes are always kept clear.

16. Keep road salt washed off. Nothing can damage a car's appearance more than the chemicals used to clear icy, snowy roads. They can eat not only the finish, but the body structure itself. Make sure you get it all off—not only from the paint but from the bright metal parts, as well.

17. Use these tips to help your car stay new looking longer. A good coat of polish provides a film that protects your car's finish. But before you polish your car, always wash it—and always in the shade.

Some new car finishes need only a good washing to keep them bright, but others require waxing. It's a good idea to check your owner's manual. Older cars are almost certain to benefit from a good waxing.

18. Protect chrome against rust invasion. Chrome, itself, can't rust. But it actually has millions of tiny holes which can let the moisture right through to the metal beneath. Dirt invites this invasion, so clean the chrome thoroughly and frequently, and wax it for further protection.

19. "Bandage" minor scratches in your car's finish. Small scratches in the finish expose bare metal which can rust. Until you can have the scratches refinished, keep rust from forming with a coat of touch-up paint or even a strip of cellulose tape on the scratches. Use clear nail polish on scratches in the chrome.

20. Pamper carpets and upholstery. Ground-in dirt wears out carpets before their time. Give them a weekly whisking or vacuuming; shampoo once in a while.

21. Let your Shell dealer help your car last longer. Your car may have cost you thousands of dollars. After your home, this is probably your biggest single investment.

Treat it carefully. Feed it well. Let your Shell dealer help you on both counts. You will save money—and increase your driving pleasure, too.

Clarkston Slates Annual Concert Tuesday Evening

By JANET TISCH

With a touch of popular music, the vocal departments of the Clarkston Community Senior and Junior High Schools will present to the public their annual spring concert, May 23, in the Clarkston Little Theater at 7:30 p.m.

Beginning the program in a stage setting of a quiet and peaceful garden, the senior chorus under the direction of Martha Jeter, will sing "Summertime," "Mood Indigo," "You are Beautiful," from the Flower Drum Song, and "The Sound of Music," featuring Mary Hinkley in a soprano solo.

Martha Torr, who made last year's production of Peter Pan such a hit, will sing two of her numbers, followed by the a cappella choir doing "Anytime I Wander," "Love is a Many Splendored Thing," and a humorous vocal selection "Chapsticks."

Numbers from the popular hit, "Waves of '61," will be sung by the junior chorus.

The grand finale will be done by the senior chorus, when they sing the moving spiritual, "He Walks With Me."

WIN TWO FIRSTS

Clarkston's Forensic team participated in the Regional Contest in Farmington last weekend. Out of a possible three firsts, Clarkston took two.

Carolyn Ruggles, with her original oratory speech, "The Man in the Balcony," captured a first place. Her speech concerned the problems of integration in the world today, and how they might be solved.

Janet Tisch also took a first place with her speech on "The Despondent and the Dedicated," which concerned communist brainwashing on American soldiers during the Korean War.

STUDENTS' CAMPAIGN

Clarkston's student council election campaign began during the past week, with the signing of petitions and making of posters that will be on display starting May 22.

Students that will be campaigning for the office of president are Ron Applegate and Janet Spangler, both juniors.

Betty Cobb and Carol Walters, both sophomores, will be vice presidential candidates. Running for treasurer are Barb Buzzell and Denby Smith, while Carolyn Ruggles and Kathy Delagore are candidates for secretary.

During the next few weeks there will be a huge political convention staged.

St. Mike's Seniors Anticipate Big Day

Senior class president, Mike Wyzowski will bear the banner for St. Michael's and will act as guard of honor, along with the other presidents of other senior classes, to His Excellency, Archbishop Dearden, during the procession both into and from the main auditorium.

The French class at St. Mike's is also privileged to have one of the most qualified teachers to instruct them in the romance language.

Sister Jeanne Marie, S.S.J., has received a government grant to attend a modern language institute to be held at Tours, France, from June 21 to August 21.

PNH Going Greek With Ibsen Drama

By BILL RAMSEY

The Pontiac Northern Players will stage their second major production of the 1960-61 school year, May 24-27.

The players will stage four evening performances of "Hedda Gabler," by the famed Norwegian playwright, Henrik Ibsen.

"Hedda Gabler" is the story of an intellectual and free-thinking beauty who cannot reconcile herself to an insensitive, pedantic husband.

Unable to accept her lot, she destroys herself. The play is one of Ibsen's great sociological dramas.

SECOND MAJOR ROLE

Playing the lead role of Hedda is a senior at Pontiac Northern, Sharon Bratt. She was one of the leading characters in the players' performance of "Pygmalion" several months ago.

Others in the cast are Ted Lorenson, at George Toman; Janet Suckow, Miss Juliana Toman; Barb Berryman, Mrs. Elvsted; George Kovach, Judge Brack; Earle Moore, Lovborg; and Judy Rayson as Bertha.

This will be the Northern Players' first theater in the round production. An arena is being constructed on the stage, where lighting facilities and acoustics are near perfect.

At times the actors will be performing approximately six feet from the audience.

POPULAR STYLE

Arena theater, originally used by the ancient Greeks, is increasing in popularity throughout the theater world, and "Hedda Gabler" is one drama which readily lends itself to this type of production.

Lois Reynolds is student director for the cast and David Manning has the job of stage manager.

Committee chairmen are Bea Stephens, tickets; Nancy Watson, props; and Bonnie Plummer, publicity.

Mona Hart, Jolene Gaines, Charlotte DeHousa, Bea Stephens, Marlene Deane, Bonnie Plummer, and Janet Brown will serve Danish pastry and European demitasse during intermission.

TICKETS SCARCER

Overall head of the production is Anthony Chirilli, English teacher and dramatics coach at Pontiac Northern. A maximum of 250 tickets will be sold for each performance.

Sara Blackledge, Renee Shabaz, Sandra Rachele, and Carolyn Mavis then gave speeches on the four qualities of membership: character, scholarship, service, and leadership.

The induction of the new members then followed as the student body watched.

HAVING A BALL—That's what these Waterford Township High School students and their faculty adviser are having and planning. Making decorations may be fun, but tomorrow night they'll have a ball—the senior prom. Rubbing noses with one of the "decorations" is general chairman of the dance, Elizabeth Ballard. Looking on are Joseph Neussendorfer, ticket chairman; David Briston, faculty adviser who bears marks of the battle in the form of paint smudges on his forehead; and Linda Talaba, cochairman of the decorating committee.

Waterford Seniors Prep for Prom

By SUE BEAVER AND BARB SECAN

June graduates at Waterford Township High School will reach a milestone tomorrow night when they attend the highlight of all high school social activities — the senior prom.

The gala event, with the theme "Carousel," will run from 9-11.

Seniors and their dates will enjoy the rewards of months of preparation as they descend the steps into the transformed gymnasium, where host-loved circus animals have taken on pastel shades and delicate lines for the occasion.

Taking their places in 10-foot cages lining the gymnasium walls, they will seem the on-lookers as the "guests" take the spotlight.

PLAN PARADE

Couples will launch their evening in the usual circus tradition — a parade. The gymnasium stage will be camouflaged as a circus wagon, and life-sized animals will be held in captivity by "bars" of mirror squares which have been cut and adjusted.

These mosaic chains will hang freely from the top of the stage which has been framed with a carved panel and is supported by large wagon wheels, also leading to the circus caravan atmosphere.

The "parade" will proceed across the stage to the center, then exit through the bars, down a staircase and onto the dance floor.

Gigantic balloons, six feet in diameter, composed of multicolored triangles will float on the ceiling above a huge carousel, the heart of the circus decorations.

Blending these elements will be the music of Irving Laiduc and his orchestra.

CREDIT CHAIRMAN

Much credit must go to Elizabeth Ballard, general chairman of the dance, and her many committee chairmen and workers.

Committee chairmen include Linda Talaba, Bill Cochrane and Linda Moody, decorations; Sue Beaver and Jane Montipr, tickets; and Joan Neussendorfer, refreshments.

Cecelia Darimont was chairman of the invitations and programs committee and Sue Greenlee headed the music committee.

Refreshments consisting of punch and cookies will be served by underclassmen.

Emmanuel High Seniors Offering Family Comedy

By KATHY MCKEE

Tomorrow evening at 7:30 the senior class at Emmanuel Christian High School will present the comedy play, "Father Didn't Bother."

Many unusual things can happen in the life of a family with an irresponsible, happy-go-lucky type of father at the head. Such is the case of the Wolfe family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe, played by Jim Deane and Sandy Zietz, have quite a problem with Dexter, their 15-year-old son, played by Wayne Young.

Also creating problems are Miranda, their 21-year-old daughter, played by Lillie Wilton; and Sidney, their 19-year-old daughter, played by Marilyn Wagner.

An old miser, played by Ronald Leach, gives the family something else to worry about and adds to the hilarity of this comedy.

FUDGING FATHERS

The plot revolves around the Wolfe and Lyons families, and disagreements between Mr. Wolfe and Mr. Lyons.

While these two are feuding, everyone else gets along beautifully, especially the Lyons boy and Sidney Wolfe, who fall madly in love.

Credit for direction of this comedy goes to Emmanuel's senior home room teacher.

WORK IS FUN

The actors, actresses, and everyone who had any job in connection with this play, have had fun in preparing the production and know everyone who comes will enjoy it.

Tickets are 75 cents for children and $1 for adults. They will be sold at the door.

Oxford Dinner Saturday Night

Junior - Senior Banquet
Will Be Highlighted by Movies and Dance

By LINDA JACOB

The theme of "An Evening in Paris" will be carried out at the Oxford High Junior and Senior Banquet, Saturday evening.

The banquet is presented annually by the juniors in honor of the senior class.

A sumptuous dinner consisting of turkey and all the trimmings will be prepared and the serving will be done by members of the sophomore class.

Guests will be seated at gayly decorated tables of blue and white. A model of the Eiffel Tower will be the main attraction with smaller models on each of the tables.

WILL SEE MOVIES

Following the dinner, a program will be presented. This year the special feature will be movies of Europe shown to the group by Dr. H. J. Brown.

In addition something new and special has been planned for the festive evening.

This year a dance for all juniors and seniors and their dates will be held in the gymnasium immediately following the banquet.

'VALIDS' TO PLAY

The French theme will also be emphasized throughout the dance. Cello, tuba will border the dance floor for those couples who wish to watch, while others dance to the music of "The Valids," a group from Clarkson.

Junior committees have worked hard to make the evening events a success. Acting as committee chairmen are Rhylma Mann, decorations; Martha Kamm, food; and Judy Reiman, program.

Bloomfield Hills Students Decide Class Officers

By DICK NETTKE

The senior and junior classes of next year at Bloomfield Hills High School have elected class officers.

Elected president of the senior class was Jeff Trimmer. Other officers are Steve Deorice, vice president; Karen McAlpin, recording secretary; Barb Steiner, corresponding secretary; and Cheryl Patterson, treasurer.

Junior class officers elected were Jack Armstrong, president; Jim Allan, vice president; Sally DeBard, secretary; and Mary Fox, treasurer.

POSTPONE SKIP DAY

The annual senior skip day which was planned for May 25 will be put off until June 1.

The reason for this is the fact that the swimming, skiing and boating facilities at Camp Dearborn will not be open to the public until after Memorial Day.

Arrangements will be the same, with the exception of the date. All transportation will be by school bus.

The night of June 15 will be the largest night in the three days of the senior prom which will be graduated from Bloomfield Hills High School.

Included in the night's festivities will be an all-night commencement party given by the parents of the seniors in the junior high gymnasium.

All dogs entering Hawaii must rabies, and authorities are taking stay in the quarantine station for no chances of introducing the disease. The islands are free of disease.

United States Letting World In on Its Space Timetable

Editor's Note: The United States and the Soviet Union both have said they are headed for the moon, the planets. The goal is to be there first. The goal is to be there first. The goal is to be there first.

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Russians say they are going to the moon and planets. So are we.

The Russians, addicted to secrecy, give no timetable for their next man-in-space ventures. Here are America's plans:

—In the next couple of months or so, two or more suborbital rocket trips like Alan Shepard's with John Glenn, Virgil Grisson, and perhaps another astronaut on the pilot's couch.

—Then orbital flights by a Mercury spacecraft, the first one empty except for instruments, the next one perhaps occupied by a chimpanzee.

—Late this year or early next, an orbital ride by a Mercury astronaut three times around the earth.

Eventually, the Mercury man-in-space project may see an astronaut sailing up to 18 times around the earth and enduring weightlessness for 27 hours, compared to an hour and a half for Russia's Yuri Gagarin and five minutes for Shepard.

When men no longer ride the Mercury capsule in space, chimps may take over for extended bouts with weightlessness ranging from two days to two weeks.

After Mercury comes Apollo, a program to put three men at a time into space for periods of weeks. The Apollo spaceship, unlike the cramped Mercury cabin, will be roomy enough for its crew members to move about, and comfortable and secure enough for them to work in their shirtsleeves instead of a pressure suit.

WILL POWER APOLLO
The crew will fly it, once it has been boosted into space, just as aircraft crews fly modern jet transports. Shepard's "Freedom" and Gagarin's "Vostok" could be maneuvered to a small extent.

But, except for braking rockets to bring them out of orbit, the American and Soviet craft have no control over speed and trajectory. Apollo crews, however, will be able to change speed and trajectory at will, and they will be able to land the craft under its own power at places of their own choosing.

The first launching of an unmanned design model of the Apollo spaceship may come in 1964 when the first version of the big Saturn space vehicle is expected to be ready for regular assignments.

The year 1965 may see three Apollo spacemen soaring in orbit around the earth for as long as three weeks. This craft, an orbiting laboratory, would be the forerunner of future space platforms.

These orbiting platforms in turn will serve as spacebases, rendezvous, spaceship assembly, and supply stations for manned missions to the moon or planets.

Before men make lunar landings, however, they will be put in orbit around the moon and brought back to earth. This could be done if a second generation Saturn is ready, as expected, by then.

Not even the second generation Saturn will be able to lift enough weight to land men on the moon in craft equipped to keep them alive while there and to carry them back home.

JUST 'CONCEPT'
This will take Nova, which at present is just a "concept" built in men's minds around the F1 engine now being developed. The F1 is a single engine developing as much thrust, 1.5 million pounds, as the Saturn booster's eight clustered engines.

The Nova, first, or booster stage, may consist of F1 engines clustered to produce 12 million pounds of thrust. The Nova vehicle, as well as some later versions of the Saturn, may have a nuclear rocket among its upper stages, scientists are convinced that nuclear engines are necessary for long-range space exploration.

The first lunar landing by an American conceivably could come in 1967. But 1968, 1970, or 1971 appears much more probable to the planets. It's a long time to see how the moon trip turns out. Planetary flights by man are, as the space people say, "planned but not programmed."

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

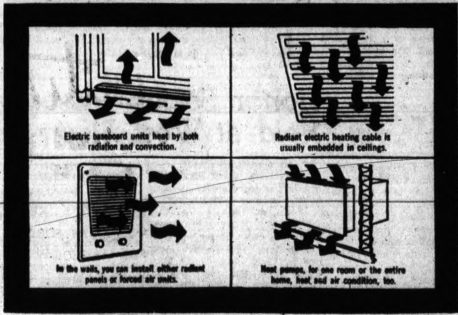

HOW DO YOU HANDLE A ROOM THAT'S HARD TO HEAT?
You probably have in mind one or more of these problems: A room that's too far away from the furnace. Large window areas that are chilly. Or perhaps you simply want extra warmth for a nursery or children's bedroom. The quick and economical answer is to supplement the present system with flameless electric heat located exactly where it's needed most, and independently, automatically adjustable for any degree of warmth. One of the modern, easily installed units illustrated below can end your part-time shivering for good. It can even turn a problem area into one of the warmest parts of the house!

WHAT'S THE BEST WAY TO HEAT A NEWLY FINISHED UPSTAIRS, BASEMENT, ENCLOSED PORCH OR BREEZE-WAY? Without electric heat, you might have to overheat the rest of the house in order to make the new room livable. Electric heat can eliminate that extra burden on your present heating system and assure real comfort at all times. You can keep the room cooler when it's not in use, then feel it warm up quickly at a touch of its independent thermostat. The response is immediate, for the heat source is right in the room. Several types of electric heating units are available, all easily installed at minimum cost and with minimum disruption of the household. You might also consider the room heat pump for maximum comfort all year round. This single unit, installed in an outside wall, gives you winter heating plus summer cooling.

WHAT IF YOU'D LIKE TO CONVERT THE WHOLE HOUSE TO MODERN FLAMELESS HEATING? Good insulation pays off with any heating system. So, first you should have adequate insulation, plus storm doors and windows. Any qualified electric heating contractor can tell you about the industry-approved insulation standards for electric heat, and about the exact type of units you should have. Then, with clean and efficient electric heat, every room will be under separate heating control—readily adjustable for the comfort of the people who are in it, when they are in it. If you have central hot air heating, you may want the ultimate in modern climate control—a central electric heat pump. An electric heat pump can supply winter heating and summer air conditioning, often through existing ducts.

'Wiggle' Whistle Bait
When Walking Away

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Roxanne Arlen (36-22-36) had this problem: Her walk as seen while departing drew the most attention in films. This led to her being titled The Wiggle.

One film followed another and she saw no future as an actress if she was always photographed walking a way from the camera. So when she had the chance to do a Broadway play for Le-lan d Hayward, she grabbed it. It was "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" For my entrance—this will kill you—I walked on the stage backwards," she recalls. "How do you like that? I was doing the same thing I had been doing in pictures—and for two cents a week."

PARENTS AGHAST

Again the buildup at The Wiggle. It was beginning to get to her. Especially since her family in Detroit was somewhat aghast.

"My mother is a schoolteacher and my father is an attorney," says Roxanne. "They didn't exactly approve."

It got to the point that she was consulting a psychiatrist in New York. After three months, she arrived at the conclusion: If I wiggle, I wiggle.

"I was trying to be something I wasn't and it made me miserable," she says. "I like to be the center of attraction I like to be whistled at. It's fun to have boys like me. Why should I fight it?" She fought it no more. When she wangled an interview with Lee Strasberg, the Actor's Studio man, she declined the beatnik attitude of his disciples.

"I put on three times the amount of makeup I would wear in a movie," she says. "I wore a tight dress and I borrowed my mother's steps—marry fur to wear around my neck. When I went in, there were some well-known actresses in the room, all in sweaters and capri pants with stringy hair."

BACK TO HOLLYWOOD

"To my surprise, Mr. Strasberg was delighted. 'I finally get to have some glamor around me,' he said."

Roxanne studied with him and then returned to Hollywood for another string of sexpot roles. "She bangs work," she insists. "People don't realize how much art there is in Marilyn Monroe's acting. You have to draw a fine line between being cheap and being lovable."

UPI Automotive Editor
DETROIT — Auto industry leaders believe labor leader Walter P. Reuther doesn't really expect to achieve a shorter work week in new contract talks this summer.

Moreover, they view Reuther's proposal to put hourly paid workers on salaries as a gimmick similar to his profit-sharing plan of 1958 which got nowhere in negotiations that year.

These are some of the opinions being voiced by industry executives as they prepare to begin a new round of bargaining talks next month with Reuther's United Auto Workers Union.

The UAW will open negotiations June 28 with General Motors. On the following two days, talks will begin with Ford and Chrysler. The big three contracts covering half a million workers expire Aug. 31.

Reuther has called for both sides to adopt a flexible approach in the negotiations. Along these lines, the UAW has proposed several ways of improving job security, including a shorter or sliding work week and salary pay for production workers.

SOME SKEPTICAL

Some industry leaders view Reuther's "flexible" approach with skepticism. They believe his program is not as flexible as it is made out to be because it includes demands for company health insurance, a bigger annual pay raise and continued cost of living increases.

Further, the suggestion is made that Reuther has adopted a flexible approach in the area of job security to prevent the industry from putting a price tag on his proposals.

Reuther was stung in 1958 when some industry statisticians first priced his demands at a "fantastic" 75 cents an hour and then later at a "ridiculous" 45 cents.

"Walter doesn't want to get caught in that trap again," one industry source said. "And it's good public relations these days for a union to show it has a flexible attitude."

Reuther is pictured in some industry quarters as being a realist who knows he has little chance this year of achieving a reduction in the work week.

'TREMENDOUS' COSTS

"The costs would be tremendous because the union would want a shorter work week with no loss in pay," one negotiator said. "Besides we don't think there is much sympathy in the shops for the idea that a four-day week is heaven on earth."

Reuther's proposal for annual salaries falls into much the same category in the view of some industry negotiators.

"This idea may look good on paper," one industry leader said. But he added that such a plan really would not give the workers more security and pointed to Chrysler's recent action in laying off 7,000 salaried office workers.

"Walter does this so he can have a chance to talk 'double standard' between office and factory workers," the industry leader said. "He did the same thing in 1958 with profit sharing. We think this is just another gimmick without much sympathy within the union."

Police in Force at French Talks

On Guard Against Tries by Rightist to Sabotage Parley on Algeria

EVIAN LES BAINS, France (AP) — A strong police guard turned this resort on Lake Geneva into an armed camp today, on the lookout for right-wing French terrorists who might try to sabotage the start Saturday of peace talks between French and Algerian rebel negotiators.

The French delegation is headed by the Algerian affairs minister, Louis Joxe.

The rebel delegation, which will be ferried back and forth daily between Evian and Geneva, set up housekeeping in a closely guarded villa on the Swiss side of the lake.

TNT STOLEN

The guard at the rebels' villa was increased after some TNT was reported stolen in Geneva. Both sides openly predicted long and difficult negotiations before the seven-year rebellion in Algeria could be declared officially ended and the North African territory set on a path toward independence.

In Algeria, grenade attacks by Algerian nationalists Thursday night injured at least 11 persons. Four of them were European children. Plastic bombs, the European right-wingers' favorite weapon, exploded in the business district of Algiers, causing considerable property damage.

Changes Are Asked by League

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan League of Women Voters wants more equal rights for women and longer terms for elected state officials.

Some 200 delegates representing 3,800 women voters approved a 12-point platform of recommendations to the Constitutional convention.

Their major points were:—Equal employment opportunity, irrespective of marital status, sex, creed, race, or national origin.

—Longer terms for state elective officials—four year terms for the governor, lieutenant governor and state senators.

The league also elected new officers, naming Mrs. Thomas Snelham of Birmingham president for a two-year term.

Mrs. Arthur Yalof of Detroit was elected first vice president, Laura Belz of Pontiac treasurer, and Mrs. David Milne of Rochester secretary.

FOR CON-CON TO DO
In their 12-point platform the women voters said a constitutional convention should also approve:

—A bill of rights.
—Initiative and referendum.
—A merit system for government personnel.

—Fewer elective administrative officials—appointive—superintendent of public instruction and highway commissioner.

—An auditor appointed by and responsible to the legislature.
—Opportunity for periodic constitutional revision.

—Simple majority to call a constitutional convention.
—Nonpartisan elections of constitutional convention delegates.

—Retention in the main by the legislature of power to levy state taxes and allocate funds.

—Periodic reapportionment of both houses of the legislature, "clearly enforceable."

Abby Says: Best Forget It

Meddling Mother Sorry

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a confession to make, but I haven't the courage to tell it to the person I wronged.

She is my only and beloved daughter. When she was 15, she fell in love with a boy of another faith. I didn't want her to marry him and told her so.

She tried to marry him, but if ever a girl was deeply in love, she was. When he went into the service, she would mail him a letter every day. Now here is the part I am terribly ashamed of.

When letters would come from him, I would tear them up. It was awful to see her looking for his letters, knowing I had destroyed them.

When he returned from the service, he called the house and I told him she had married and moved without it. My friends said she was "dippy."

My daughter did meet a fine young man of her own faith. They are happily married and have a family. My conscience still bothers me. Should I tell her?

GUILTY CONSCIENCE
DEAR GUILTY: Forget it. And hope that other mothers won't meddle in the lives of their children "for their own good." Children need to be "guided"—but well-meaning mothers cannot lead their lives for them. You are lucky, Mother. Your daughter may never have found another love.

DEAR ABBY: My husband died nine months ago and I have continued to wear my wedding ring because I would feel "lost" without it. My friends say I am no longer married and I should not wear it. Are they right?

WONDERING WIDOW
DEAR WONDERING: Wear your wedding ring as long as you wish. Remove it only if and when you consider dating again. A ringless finger indicates "availability." It's a widow's privilege to wear her wedding ring forever if she feels like it.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married 20 years and for the past 10 years my wife has cost me a fortune in doctor bills. She claims she gets "dippy" if she is left alone.

She also says that any kind of housework or cooking makes her dizzy. I have had to hire help to do everything. We have no children.

I have had her to one doctor after another, and they can't find a thing wrong with her. She has never fainted, but says if she is left alone she knows she will. I have paid people to sit with her.

She goes shopping and belongs to clubs and is in the best of health and spirits, in company, but she refuses to stay alone one minute. I welcome suggestions.

WORN-OUT HUSBAND
DEAR WORN-OUT: If she has gone "from doctor to doctor" and they can't find anything wrong with her, depend on it—there is something wrong with her. Since the "dizzies" is in the head, that is where the trouble is. Take her to a psychiatrist.

composed of the University Consort, directed by Robert A. Warner, U. of M. associate professor of music and the University Tudor Singers, directed by Maynard Klein of U. of M. will appear at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Both concerts, events in the MSUO lecture concert series, will be in the MSUO Student Center.

University Chorus members are MSUO undergraduates and continuing education students. Featured singers are Marian Leasard and Nancy Kelly, soprano; Alice Stenz, contralto; Kyle Wilson, tenor, and Fred Burnett, baritone.

The program of the Collegium Musicum will consist of music from the 13th century through the first half of the 17th century.

It includes material for violas alone and for combinations of voices and historic instruments.

The harpsichord, alto and tenor recorders and a small tambourine are used along with other instruments.

Public tickets are $1 for each event and may be purchased at the Student Center.

Puffy Skin Brings Circles

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Question Box)

Q. "Please tell me what causes white circles under the eyes. I am 5 feet tall, weigh 107 pounds, bust 32 inches, waist 22 and hips 34. Are my hips too large?"

A. Your weight is exactly correct for a small frame. Your hips are not too large. You are allowed two inches difference between the bust and the hips for a good figure. The white look sometimes comes from puffy or stretched skin under the eyes. This appearance also can be due to florid pigmentation of the skin on the face as compared to that just under the eyes. You can hide this with a good make-up base.

Q. "I am a very troubled teenager, mostly because of my weight. My mom is constantly telling me to watch my diet. I know I eat quite a bit of sweets but I have tried to curb my desire for them and have almost succeeded. I do not believe I am too stout, but my mother says I am. I am 16 years old and weigh 118 pounds. My measurements are 36-25-34."

A. You did not give me your height and therefore I cannot be sure about how you stack up.

However, your weight and your measurements certainly make you sound slim. You can't be very fat with a 25-inch waist. However, if you have a very small build, you may show a tendency toward plumpness which your mother wants you to watch.

Q. "I have a very small face. How should I wear my hair?"

A. You should wear it fifty and soft about your face, not too high on top. However, have it shaped. Do not keep so much hair that it makes your face look even smaller than it is.

Q. "I am expecting a baby soon. I want to nurse the baby but I am afraid that it will ruin my bust-line. Is there anything I can do to prevent this?"

A. Be certain to wear brassieres which were especially designed to support the increased weight of the bust. You should also do this during the months of pregnancy. Lie down when you nurse your baby. Many women who have nursed their children have a beautiful bustline.

Dinner reservations are optional. Refreshments will be served when the meeting adjourns.

Play Clothes Are Dressy This Year

Capping ceremonies for American Red Cross Gray Ladies Thursday evening found Mrs. George H. Sherriff, volunteer coordinator of the program placing the cap symbolically on Mrs. Ted Gray of Birmingham. Ted Gray, former Detroit Tiger pitcher lends hands helpfully support, while Dr. Walter H. Obenaus, medical superintendent at Pontiac State Hospital looks on.

Gray Ladies Reach Milestone

The 28 Red Cross Gray Lady volunteers who received their caps and pins at Pontiac State Hospital last night, represent a milestone.

In January 1958 when the hospital's gray lady movement began, the goal was set at 100 of the trained volunteers.

Last night's "graduating class" brought total gray lady force to exactly 100.

This represents a corps of volunteers who have successfully completed a 16-hour program which trains them for the fields of therapy in which they will work.

Much credit for this goes to Dr. Walter H. Obenaus, hospital medical superintendent, and Mrs. Ethel Sherriff, hospital gray lady coordinator.

"In 1958, gray ladies serviced three areas; now they service 10 departments," said Dr. Obenaus in his address to the new volunteers.

"It was certain that you ladies are certainly carrying on in the finest tradition of the Red Cross in perpetuating your mission to alleviate and mitigate human suffering. Congratulations to all of you," the doctor said.

Among the May gray lady class are Mrs. Samuel Perna, Mrs. Donald Stone, Mrs. Vernon Swope, all of Pontiac; Mrs. William E. Bachman, of Orchard Lake; and Mrs. Charles W. Carrick and Mrs. Merwin Hiller of Bloomfield Hills.

To Fete Former Headmistress at Alumnae Tea

Margaret A. Augur, headmistress emerita of Kingswood School Cranbrook, will be honored by Kingswood alumnae at a tea from 3 to 5 p.m. May 25 in Kingswood School.

Miss Augur who resides in Greenwich, Conn. was appointed the school's headmistress in 1934 and retired in 1950.

Mrs. Michael Redfield, alumnae president, has named tea committee members who are Mrs. Charles F. Delbridge Jr., Mrs. Marjorie S. Russell, Mrs. John Dixon, Marcia Kelley, Mrs. Maxwell Peck, Mrs. F. A. Lamberson, Mrs. Lee B. Durham Jr., Mrs. Bruce Craig and Mrs. David P. Williams.

Upon Miss Augur's retirement, a cup—designed by Arthur Neville Kirk and known as the Margaret A. Augur Scholastic Cup, was presented to the school by faculty members in appreciation of the retiring headmistress' high scholastic standards.

The cup is awarded each year to the senior student with the highest scholastic average for both junior and senior years.

Others in the class are Mrs. O. A. Berstein and Mrs. George Walter, both of Borkley; Mrs. Edward Duberstein of Franklin Village; and Mrs. Robert Fenton of Huntington Woods.

The remaining gray ladies are Mrs. Clarence Lynch and Mrs. John Staud, both of Rochester; Mrs. Michael Mahoney of Union Lake Village; Mrs. D. C. McKay and Mrs. Robert E. LaShance, both of Farmington; and Mrs. Conrad Formell of Royal Oak.

Help Child Carry That Emotional Burden

MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:
I was comforted by the column in which you said that adolescents' blowups at parents mean trust of us. Will you say some more about that?

Our 16-year-old daughter has broken with a boy she's been dating for eight months, and though her father is patient with her, her outbursts of irritation at me get me down.

ANSWER: Did you ever take your daughter shopping with you when she was a small girl? If so, you'll recall how she began to get frowny as you moved from counter to counter.

Her baby leg muscles could no longer sustain the burden of her own weight. So what did she do? She lifted her arms up and said, "Carry me, mommy." She entrusted her bodily exhaustion to your supply of greater strength.

In adolescence, the young do much the same thing.

A daughter loses a boy friend—and her young self-confidence begins to tire. It can't sustain the extra burden put on it by what she feels is a social failure. So she transfers to us the irritability she feels toward herself.

By handing us the condemnation she can't tolerate herself, she says in effect, "Carry me, mommy." She entrusts her emotional weakness to our greater emotional strength.

DON'T HIT BACK
Of course we're not made of iron. We too may be having experiences that deplete our supply of emotional strength.

We may have shown our husband that we distrust the way he is dealing with an arbitrary employer. We may be disturbed by a financial situation that won't let us visit an ailing parent in a distant state.

Whatever the reason, we get to feeling that we're a pretty disappointing person. Under these circumstances, adolescent fault-finding can get under our skin.

But even then, we don't have to hit back. Not if we're brave enough to tell the truth, to say,

"I'm feeling a little disappointed in myself today. I'd like it if you'd wait to tell how I've disappointed you until I feel more cheerful."

Discovering that we can tolerate self-doubt without anxiety is encouraging to the adolescent who is learning that everyone fails at something, that nobody is irresistible, that we all have to finally accept self-criticism.

We cannot carry his emotional weight forever. Though in emergencies we may do so, he has to do just that.

learn that everyone fails at something, that nobody is irresistible, that we all have to finally accept self-criticism.

A smorgasbord at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building from 5 to 7 p.m. Wednesday is planned by Job's Daughters, Bethel No. 5. Completing plans for the affair to which the public is invited are (from left) Sandra Schmidt of Pioneer Drive, Pat Rahja of Voorheis Road, Jean Carson of Henderson Street and Sally Ide of LaFay Drive.

Don't Let Your Mind Get Drab, Colorless

By RUTH MILLET

"I just don't have time to read," said a housewife, mother of two, with a mixture of apology and complacency.

And the truth is she doesn't have time for reading—and won't—until she decides that her mind is more important than her house.

She will spend hours at sewing so that the curtains in her bedroom will cause feminine guests to exclaim, and she will wear herself out in an effort to be known as a "perfect housekeeper."

Her house has personality, but she is content to let her mind remain as drab and colorless as the draperies she threw out years ago.

If she hadn't done anything to rejuvenate her house in five years she would be ashamed. But she hasn't done anything to mentally keep pace with her age and the times in longer than that—and she can excuse it with "But I just haven't the time."

For men: There are some eye-openers for you in Ruth Millet's "Happier Wives (hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millet Reader Service, c/o

Fertilize Dry Down Then Spray Lightly

Never apply fertilizer when grass surface is damp or even slightly moist. When grass is completely dry, most pellets or granular type of fertilizer can be applied without danger of burning the grass.

But, in order to be on the safe side, it is well to follow the fertilizer application with a sprinkler irrigation. The latter may actually be no more than taking the garden hose, with the nozzle adjusted for a fine mist, and spraying the entire lawn surface.

1962 Rose Selections Are Largest in 12 Years

Sound a fanfare! Sound four fanfares, one for each of the 1962 All-America Rose Selections. This is the first time in 12 years that four awards have been made.

The winners, which will be available in time for fall planting, are:

CHRISTIAN DIOR
An iridescent crimson and scarlet hybrid tea, the first crimson hybrid tea to merit the award in nine years.

GOLDEN SLIPPERS
An orange and gold floribunda that is fragrant and offers dramatic new color among floribundas.

JOHN S. ARMSTRONG
A deep, velvety red grandiflora that reportedly does not vary in color from bud to full blown stage; an offspring of the famed Charlotte Armstrong.

KING'S RANSOM
A chrome yellow hybrid tea, the first of its color and kind in 12 years to carry off this coveted prize of roseod.

These four winners raise to 39 the number of AARS winners since the awards first were bestowed in 1949.

Christian Dior has bright, crimson petals that form large blooms. The buds are pointed. The stems are long and the plant is tall and upright. The fragrance is light and tea-like. This hybrid is based on 16 years of experimentation by the late French hybridizer Francis Meiland.

Golden Slippers has new color tones for a floribunda. The buds are flushed with red. The plant is sturdy and compact and the foliage is bright green. The fragrance is described as like an apple orchard in autumn.

John S. Armstrong is dark red. It is the third grandiflora to have made the select AARS grade. It has medium-size buds that open to four-inch flowers in grandiflora-style clusters. Stems are long enough for cutting. The plant is upright and free-branched, growing to four to five and a half feet tall and approximately as wide.

King's Ransom has full flowers five to six inches across with a fruity fragrance and on long stems. The foliage is glossy, dark green and the plant is tall and full.

Lawn Faucets So Convenient

The season is fast approaching for those blessed with a green thumb and one of the biggest assets you can give yourself in nurturing your lawn and garden is through the installation of conveniently located lawn faucets.

By having these faucets installed around your house, garage, and yard you will be able to provide ample amounts of water to your garden and lawn areas when and where they are required. Additionally, such installations will save you the trouble of unreeing and dragging several lengths of hose to where the water is needed.

For those living in cold weather regions there is no longer any worry about remembering to shut off the out-door faucets in winter. A non-freeze faucet is available and is designed with a built-in shut-off valve to protect the pipes from freezing.

This kind of faucet is installed at a slight downward angle that allows natural draining of the water when the valve has been closed. The location of lawn faucets should be given careful consideration when you and your contractor plan the plumbing system for a new home. In existing homes, your plumbing contractor should be contacted to arrange for the installation of additional faucets.

Water Makes Difference

The most vital ingredient in a good lawn—assuming you've purchased quality seed and sown it according to direction—is water. Water should be applied in the cool of the day, and infrequent, thorough soakings are much more effective than continuous shallow watering. You want the water-seeking roots of your lawn to grow down, where they'll be secure from frost and soil, firmly anchoring the grass plant, rather than up.

Farm and Garden News

BIRD HOUSE WATCHER—It's a tough job to keep Russell Field's bird houses on the steel posts that surround his garden in Waterford Township. Tourists spot them, and ask to purchase the unique little houses — and the gentleman usually responds. Field, a Pontiac Motor employe, started his hobby some time ago when he was recuperating from a minor operation.

Villain Crabgrass Can Be Killed

Crabgrass, capable of producing 50,000 to 100,000 seeds from a single plant, grows rapidly during the hot summer months. Seeds germinate immediately or lie dormant for years before sprouting. Crabgrass kills lawns by inches, smothering desirable grasses. Roots steal moisture and nutrients from the soil. When crabgrass dies, after the first killing frost, it leaves bare spots liberally sprinkled with seeds on the lawn. Chlordane will prevent germination of a high percentage of crabgrass seed. Re application for several years is necessary to destroy the seed supply which can lie dormant for extended periods.

Fence Post Bird Houses Pleasing to People Too

perched on the top of the poles—each an individual "home" of its own. Some are plain, others fancy with latte-cut gingerbread trim running from the roof top down each side to the base.

Most of the bird houses were originally designed for the perky little wrens that come back year after year. However, last week Field noticed a large barn swallow trying to get through the quarter-sized opening on one of the more elaborately decorated houses.

He switched houses, putting a larger house on the post for the bigger bird. Mrs. Swallow would have no part of that and after locating the original house (on another pole), she persistently tried to squeeze through the small opening.

Needless to say, Field merely made the door of the tiny wren house larger and the "expectant" lady bird was already started.

Field and his wife, Martha live on top of a hill at 3397 Clintonville Road, and have a fine view of four different lakes within a "stone's throw" of their front porch.

Because they have no children, the couple have acquired a yen to help propagate Michigan's pining bird life, and the annual visit of cardinals, chickadees, juncos and blue jays has already started.

Flocks of quail and pheasants are some of the steady customers that invade the Field's tulip-hyacinth filled garden. Corn, oats and other birdland goodies are sprinkled all over. The pleasure the couple get from watching the antics of their feathered friends is "more fun than anything," Field confessed.

Keep Plants in Clay Pots When You Put Them Out

Most house-plants you enjoy indoors can also provide portable beauty in your garden or on your patio or terrace if you use them the right way. When you buy plants or receive them as gifts, make sure they remain in clay pots, since substitute non-porous containers cannot be effectively submerged in the ground; or in window box or planter soil for they would retain too much moisture.

The red clay pot's breathing holes allow excess moisture and harmful salts to leach out and insure healthier plant growth. Clay pots also keep plant roots 10 to 15 degrees cooler during the hot summer months.

Flower Garden Soil Needs Enriching

To enrich soil for your flower garden, add rotted manure and a commercial fertilizer. A complete fertilizer is a five-to-five mixture of nitrogen-phosphorus-potash.

Use about one and a half pounds per 100 square feet. Use about one pound of prepared manure per three square feet.

Hardy Roses Respond to Loving Care

While it is generally conceded that it is next to impossible to kill the hardy-rosebush, either with kindness or neglect, the more carefully tended the rose the more beautiful the flower.

When one considers the great effort and research that goes into the creation of today's modern rose—the simple tasks the plants ask are easy ones.

At this time of year pruning established plants should be the rose gardeners greatest concern. Though pruning tasks by now should be almost completed, here are a few pointers for the turgid rosearian.

Prune according to the individual plant. First remove all dead wood. Next remove any deformed wood and all small twiggy growth. From this point the extent of additional pruning shall be governed by the general vigor and size of each plant.

For the largest blooms with the longest stems, trim off approximately one-half of the upper canes making the cuts one quarter inch above a bud. If you want many blooms, with shorter stems, remove only one-third in the same manner. This is a matter of individual preference.

FEED PLANTS
Even if your garden contains the vigorous growing All-America Rose varieties, it's a poor future for starving plants and proper fertilizing is an important item to remember for good production of bloom. Continue using your favorite brand or have your local nurseryman recommend a brand he approves of or order by mail.

Be sure to follow the instructions on the package. Fertilize now so that your plants will have the proper nourishment to get a good start. Water in well after fertilizing. With the stimulation of growth through fertilization, roses need moisture to maintain an even growth. Where rainfall is not enough to soak the soil at least two inches a week, supplement with weekly waterings that would be the equivalent of a good rain. Don't sprinkle from the top, it's the roots and not the foliage that require moisture.

As foliage begins to appear, be certain to begin a maintenance program of dusting or spraying. Tests have proven conclusively that even more blooms and stronger plants are the positive result of this care. As with any chemicals, follow the recommendation of the manufacturer or your nurseryman.

Memorial Trees Planted at Base

"What could be more fitting than a growing memorial to a friend or relative you wish to honor?" reads a full page advertisement donated by the Wichita Falls, Texas, Times to help further memorial plantings of trees at Sheppard Air Force Base. The slogan is "Plant a tree at S.A.F.B."

The memorial plantings are sponsored by the U.S.O., with the newspaper and the Wichita Falls Nurserymen Association cooperating.

Metal tags bearing the names of loved ones to be remembered are attached to the trees. According to the American Association of Nurserymen, peaches, plums, pears, apples as well as pecan trees are planted as memorials.

Soil Must Be Crumbly Before You Can Plant

If you work your soil thoroughly, planting will be easier, especially if you have heavy soil that gets very wet. Working the soil when it is wet causes the earth particles to pack. The result may be clods during the gardening season.

How can you determine whether the soil is dry enough to work? Squeeze a fistful into a ball. Then break it apart with your fingers. If the lump crumbles readily, go to work. If the soil sticks together and cannot be separated easily, wait a while. Spade your garden soil to a depth of about eight inches.

Daisies Come Under Many Latin Names

What do you mean when you say Daisy? There are African, African Lilac, English, American, Barbican, Transvaal, Painted, Shasta, Gloriosa Daisies, and many more, most of which are only distantly related.

To be exact (and to get what you want in your garden), look for daisies under the botanical name.

African is Dimorphotheca African Lilac is Arctotis American is Centaurea American English is Bellis Barbican is Transvaal and Gerbersa Livingston is Mesembryanthemum criniflorum Painted is Chrysanthemum carinatum, if you mean the annual kind, and Pyrethrum if you want the perennial Shasta is Chrysanthemum leucanthemum Gloriosa is Rudbeckia tetraploid.

Hawaii Marigolds

Many gardeners and flower-arrangers are displeased by the sharp scent of marigold. The new Hawaii is touted as having odorless foliage and delicately honey-scented flowers of rich orange color. The plants are supposed to grow to 18 inches and the flowers to have long stems for cutting.

Ground Cover Helpful to Trees

Reluctant lawn-mowers of America, unite! Take cover—ground cover.

Ground covers are often called "living mulch." They can help both your landscaping and your penchant to do things other than lawn mowing, of a week-end. Take it from C. A. Hoge, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., leader of ground cover as the nearest thing to the ideal "forest floor" on the restricted home property.

Wax-saving cover plants have many advantages. They conserve moisture, cool the soil in Summer, warm it in Winter and trap quantities of Autumn leaves that need not be raked away. Used in shady areas, ground covers reduce bed maintenance around major shade trees.

Best of all, taking care of the ground cover is simple. Occasional edging, possibly some weeding of the beds, and annual spreading of a good fertilizer are all that are needed.

However, ground cover initially does require well-prepared beds, rich in humus. Peat moss or a compost used liberally in the top four to six inches of soil should do the trick and give years of good service.

Some ground covers that help older trees by restoring forest conditions are vinca-minor, pachysandra and edging. Vining plants, such as Euonymus coloratus or Batic ivy, are most satisfactory where only a few large plants are concerned. However, their climbing habits are undesirable in beds of deciduous shrubbery or low evergreens.

Keep Mower Sharp

A common fault of the average home-owner is using a mower that is dull. For a lawn to look attractive, a sharp mower must always be used. This prevents the grass tips from being sheared off and displaying a dead zone at the tips.

JFK to Tackle Two Stubborn Men: De Gaulle and K

By BOB CONSIDINE
NEW YORK — There is some question as to which man President Kennedy will find more obdurate, Charles de Gaulle or Nikita Khrushchev.

To tackle the two of them in a row within a single week would test a Talleyrand, perhaps dismay and discourage a Job.

STUBBORN ELDERS:

Our President will face these equally stubborn elders equipped with the clear-eyed confidence of youth, knowledge of his nation's enormous power, and firm bipartisan support, and a keen appreciation of his opportunity to ally the fear of the friend and the suspicion of the foe.

Though years their junior, he is their peer as a historian, their equal in every respect in the matter of presenting his country's point of view, reason-for existence, hope for man's future.

Little substance can be expected to flow from Paris or Vienna. One Summit, or sub-orbital Summit, doth not securely make.

These will be size-ups, measure-takings, fittings. Yet these meetings between the President and two of the hardest bargainers of recent political history offer Kennedy a first-class chance to catch before a watch-ing world the clear image of America, our peaceful intentions, desire to reach a hand toward the world's needy, give of our great heart.

It is presumptuous, of course, but one supposes that the President will be in a mood to defer to De Gaulle.

Actually, he already has — by going to Paris instead of having Paris come to him. De Gaulle is above pride. He is one with history.

His name will live as long as the name of France, and no one recognizes that more clearly than Pulitzer Prize historian John F. Kennedy.

Nonetheless, someone must tell the old soldier that his attitude toward NATO represents almost the calibre of callous indifference that brought about the Vichy government — against which a younger De Gaulle gloriously deflected.

TELL HIM, MR. PRESIDENT
The towering French autocrat who alone shaped his nation as it stands today, and is its flaming conscience in Algeria, must be told the facts of life about nuclear weapons-testing too.

Charles de Gaulle, stooped with years, is a child with atomic-tipped matches. I think you can bet that President Kennedy will find a way to explain these matters to a friend as old as, say, Lafayette.

As for Khrushchev, meeting with the "next President" he spoke of as a friend at his obscene press conference in the wake of the ruptured Summit of last May, I can see him now.

His close-set and alternately merry and boiling little eyes will spray their gaze over the President's trim figure from tanned head to polished toe.

The chairman has a way of looking at a new acquaintance that says, "I'm in charge here, what you got to say?" Too many Americans have concluded that it is dangerous to back Khrushchev openly.

But I've seen and heard Bill Hearst call him a liar, in effect, and right in the man's office in Moscow. No heads rolled.

After a brief pause for station identification, Khrushchev plunged onward with his pro-

The business meeting will start about 2:45 and is open to all World War I veterans including those who were sent into Russia and are known as the "polar bears." The barracks is growing rapidly and membership has reached 100.

TV Improvement Asked

Khrushchev is one of the master leaders of this or any other age in history.

But he differs from the absolute dictators who preceded him in his own great country and in history in that he is not insensible to retort, response, reply.

He'll come out of his first meeting with John Fitzgerald Kennedy with a greater respect for the President than he brings to it. Articulate JFK will see to that.

Once upon a time in Vienna, a quarreling Congress of European Powers found Togetherness in the harrowing news that their common ogre, Napoleon, had left Elba. Who knows? The two Ks might find accord there too, under the awesome threat of an impending return of the first citizen of another remote place, Armageddon.

Nuclear Panic Seen for U.S.

Scientists Fear Attack Would Render Public Ineffective for Hours

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The American public would panic if struck with a nuclear attack, according to two university scientists.

The scientists said public ignorance and the idea that "if you ignore it, it will go away," have bred American apathy toward civil defense.

The scientists spoke at a symposium on behavioral science and civil defense sponsored Thursday by the National Academy of Sciences and the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization.

Other scientists disagreed about the public reaction to nuclear disaster, but there was general agreement about apathy toward family fallout shelters.

Dr. James M. Nunnally Jr. of Vanderbilt University said he is pessimistic about getting "effective action from the public in the first 24 hours after an attack."

"We are going to have to control the public for the first 24 hours to keep it from hurting itself," he said.

Dr. Lewis J. West of the University of Oklahoma said the public has a psychopathic refusal "to come to grips with reality." He said it involves the "sort of magical thinking we see in children normally, in adults neurotically, and in societies all the time."

BOON, Germany (AP)—West Germany today offered to contribute from 13 million to 15 million toward the start of a transatlantic space communications system.

the United States, Britain, France and West Germany.

Government experts here said the United States will try to put up the first communications satellite within a year or two.

Johnson Visits Taj Mahal City

Has Coffee With Nehru and Sees Indian Village Aided by U.S. Dollars

AGRA, India (AP)—U. S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson flew to this city of the Taj Mahal today for a look at the famed Moslem tomb and Indian villages nearby.

He covered much of the ground visited by President Eisenhower in December 1959 to see a typical Indian village and one modernized with the help of American funds. The touring Texan was up at daybreak and breakfasted with Prime Minister Nehru before leaving New Delhi for this tourist mecca 110 miles south of the capital.

The two leaders conferred for nearly five hours Thursday, mostly about India's third five-year development plan, which needs about a billion dollars a year in foreign support.

Nehru told reporters that the talks "went off very well," but there was no announcement that Johnson made any specific commitments. The U. S. government is now negotiating with its major Western allies on the amount each will contribute to aid India.

Nehru said they had discussed economic problems of all underdeveloped countries, not just India's.

Johnson returns to New Delhi later in the day for more talks with Indian economic officials but will not see Nehru again.

A communique will be issued, however, before he leaves Saturday for Pakistan, the last stop on his swing through southern Asia for President Kennedy.

Probe Death of Turk in Fight With American

SINOP, Turkey (AP)—U.S. and Turkish officials pressed an inquiry today into the death of a Turkish soldier after a struggle with an American guard at the base for the Joint U.S. Military Aid Group to Turkey (JUSMAG) here.

The names of those involved were not made public but officials said both were on guard at the base at the time and that they argued after the Turk admitted an auto to the base.

They grappled, officials said, and a second Turkish soldier who was standing by seized a carbine which discharged accidentally, killed the Turk.

EDWIN O. GEORGE

Elected to Head Michigan Week

Edwin O. George of Bloomfield Hills Gets Chairmanship for '62

The board of governors of Greater Michigan Foundation today elected as general chairman of 1962 Michigan Week Edwin O. George of Bloomfield Hills, vice president of the Detroit Edison Co.

George was chosen by a nominating committee composed of all of the past general chairmen headed by Austin Saunders of Muskegon, president of the General Telephone Co. of Michigan, the immediate past chairman of Michigan Week.

The board felt that next year's chairman should come from the Detroit area. The chairman this year is John H. Carlton, president of the Waterline and Federal Insurance companies of Battle Creek.

Dina Gerber of Fremont, president of the Greater Michigan Foundation, pointed to the selection of the 1962 general chairman ahead of the 1961 Michigan Week, which begins Sunday, as evidence that organization of the many state and local committees will be completed early.

The 1962 dates will be May 20-26, as Michigan Week always starts the third Sunday in May.

PRaises EVent

In accepting next year's chairmanship Mr. George said:

"I doubt there is another annual event in which as many people take part as fully nor one that has more potential for development of a state. I am certain there is no other activity in the United States in which more people work together for the good of their state."

George is a native of Petoskey and a graduate of Knox College and the University of Illinois. He has been with Detroit Edison since 1929. He became manager of sales in 1952 and vice president in charge of sales in 1956.

He is a member of the executive committee of the Michigan Industrial Ambassadors, vice president of the Detroit Council of the Boy Scouts of America, and an officer or director of several civic organizations.

Mr. and Mrs. George live at 352 Barden Road. He is a trustee of the Kirk in the Hills Presbyterian Church. Their daughter Julie Ann is a sophomore at Northwestern University.

Shoplifting Suspects Demand Examination

Accused of shoplifting, two Flint men demanded examination when arraigned before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Patrick K. Daley yesterday.

Rogues Stigger Jr., 23, and William A. Loftus, 24, allegedly stole five shirts from the Kroger's Store in the Drayton Plaza Shopping Center, four bottles of cologne from Walte's Department Store in Pontiac, and four pairs of trousers from the W. T. Grant store at Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

The suspects were picked up near Grand Blanc by state police Tuesday when their car answered a description by the Kroger's store manager, D. L. Norberg.

Justice of the Peace Daley scheduled the examination for Wednesday in his court and set bond at $1.50 on each of the accused.

Urges Colleges Close Doors to Out-of-Staters

MANISTEE (UPI)—The presidents of Michigan's state colleges and universities were urged today to close their doors to out-of-state students so that deserving Michigan youth will have first crack at higher education.

Rep. Charles A. Boyer, R-Manistee-Wexford counties, chairman of the joint interim study committee on higher education, proposed the move.

Boyer said, "If a cutback was necessary in student enrollment, Michigan students certainly should not be penalized because of action of university boards."

Third Sanders Store Set in Birmingham

A third Fred Sanders store, the first with fountain service, will open in Birmingham Wednesday.

The 1,730-square-foot store will be at 250 North Woodward, adjacent to the new Demery's department store. In addition to fountain service, with meals, it will carry the full Sanders line of candy, baked cream.

Manager of the store is Mrs. Betty Wesenberg, formerly manager of the Clawson store.

State Hospital Official Given Several Awards

Dr. Walter H. Obenaus, medical superintendent of Pontiac State Hospital, has been presented with several awards by the American Psychiatric Association.

The doctor and a group of staff members recently attended the 117th annual meeting of the association in Chicago.

Dr. Obenaus, one of the speakers, was presented a gavel in recognition of having been a former speaker of the assembly of district branches.

President of the American Psychiatric Association, Dr. Robert H. Felix, also conferred a certificate of merit to Dr. Obenaus, which read: "In recognition of valued services rendered to his colleagues and to psychiatry, this association gratefully confers the designation of Modern Founder upon Walter H. Obenaus."

In addition to Dr. and Mrs. Obenaus, other state hospital doctors attending the meeting were Robert Braun, clinical director; Theodore Satermorn, outpatient clinic director; Veronica Satermorn, Arash Barteian, Rolf Sachau, Marvin Utley, Robert Vidor and Ian MacLay.

The English mastiff, ancestor of most mastiff varieties, was bred as a watchdog more than 2,000 years ago.

Congressmen Feel Hopeful but Cautious

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress said those who have protested that this is not the ideal time for the Vienna meeting "are never likely to find" an ideal time.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., who has been critical of the idea of a Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting, gave full backing to the President after the announcement.

"He will go with my unstinting support and that of the American people," Gore told newsmen, adding that Kennedy undoubtedly weighed the risks.

Sen. Homer Capehart, R-Ind., recalled he was opposed to the meeting between former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Khrushchev in still opposed with Kennedy as president.

Sen. Everett M. Kirkson of Illinois, Senate Republican leader, told newsmen: "In view of the fruitless efforts in this field heretofore, one can only devoutly hope that some understanding can be contrived and that there will be no placatory attitude on anything where a basic principle important to the interest of the United States and the free world is involved."

"This is uttered only in the spirit of good will and as a necessary caution sign," he said.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., took the view, as he has done previously, that the meeting should be accompanied by as "little fanfare as possible."

Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., expressed "misgivings" about the conference, but added: "My opinion, however, is not firm enough on the basis of what information I have to make any further comment."

WHAT'S THE REASON?

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said Congress would like to know the reason for the meeting and who initiated it.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho,

MONEY-MAKING MIND—Pontiac Motor Division toolmaker Paul R. Bennett, whose General Motors suggestion plan winnings passed the $10,000 figure this week, uses an indicator gauge to check the "feed setting" of a gear shaping machine in Pontiac's modern manufacturing facilities. In the foreground are turbine shafts for Tempest automatic transmissions.

GM Man Tops $10,000 in Ideas

A 41-year-old Pontiac Motor Division toolmaker, this week pocketed the proceeds from his 111th suggestion award and became the first employee in the division history to eclipse the $10,000 mark in total suggestion winnings.

Paul R. Bennett, of 212 E. Randall, native of Columbus, Ohio and 21-year veteran with the home plant here, was completely unaware he had attained the five-figure milestone.

"I only keep track of the number of successful suggestions," he points out. "Of course I like the award money and would some day like to achieve the maximum General Motors payment of $5,000, but my primary goal before retirement is a record of 150 adopted ideas."

Bennett's current record of 111 awards in 200 tries, a success rate of 55 per cent, has been compiled over a 16-year period of participation in the GM suggestion plan. His winnings include awards ranging from $11 to $882.

Possessing an investigative nature, the Pontiac toolmaker approaches every job with an open eye for improvement.

"As often as not, there is a better way of doing things," he says.

Railroad Strike Called by Union

Monday Designated by Yardmasters; Walkout May Be Delayed

CHICAGO (AP)—A strike against the nation's railroads has been called for Monday by the Railroad Yardmasters of America. But a spokesman for the carriers says there will be no walkout for at least two months.

Milton G. Schock, president of the nonoperating union representing some 5,000 workers who make up the trains, said the work stoppage could tie up the nation's major railroads. Schock confirmed the strike call Thursday night but declined to disclose issues in the dispute.

EMERGENCY BOARD
A spokesman for the railroad, however, said the dispute involved wages and work rules and would go before an emergency board under procedures of the National (railway) Labor Act. Such action normally delays a strike by at least 60 days.

Theodore M. Short, chairman of the Western Carriers Conference, said he expected an emergency board to be named by the President would meet in Washington Tuesday. He said he had received unofficial notice to that effect.

Schock, asked if he thought the President would appoint an emergency board, said: "Oh, yes. I'm not worrying." He did not elaborate.

College Students Trying Integration on Hunger Strike

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A racially mixed group of 10 Tennessee college students picked up while attempting to drive integration on a bus reportedly were staging a hunger strike in jail today.

The report came from Len Holt, Negro attorney of Norfolk, Va. Jailers refused Thursday night to confirm the students—eight Negroes, a white girl and a white man—were still being held in protective custody.

Holt said Police Chief James Moore offered to release the group a few at a time if they will leave the city in private transportation. He said the students began their hunger strike at noon Thursday.

Big Gene Conley Gives Up Only Four Hits

Tigers Cool Off as Bunning Loses, 1-0

BOSTON (U-P) — It looks like this is another season of nothing-goes-right for Jim Bunning.

The Detroit Tiger right-hander had every thing in his favor when he went to the mound last night except a robot's foot and horse-shoe.

He was in Boston's Fenway Park, scene of his 1958 no-hitter and his favorite field. His team-mates were in the midst of their hottest hitting streak, just having completed a three-game sweep at Baltimore while hanging out 42 hits for 29 runs.

So Bunning, who has had difficulty all season, turned in his best performance, a neat one-run, five-hitter.

It wasn't good enough. The Red Sox remained in a hitting slump, but won 1-0 and clipped a half game off the Tigers' lead over the New York Detroiters by 4½ games.

The Tigers bats turned to putty and Bunning now has been the losing pitcher in four of his 10 defeats.

Bunning got scant support from his mates, five of whom are among the American League's top six run scorers.

Gene Conley, a National League refugee and better known for his pro basketball playing, restricted the Tigers to four singles by early bunting off Kaline, Norm Cash and Dick Brown. The 6-foot-8 right-hander prevented the league leaders from getting more than one hit in any inning.

Only one Tiger managed to reach second base.

That was in the fourth inning when Rocky Colavito walked and Cash singled. But the Tigers' bid went for naught when Steve Borsus flied deep to Jackie Jensen in right field for the third out.

The ninth-place Sox got the game's only run in the fifth. Pete Runnels singled and Don Buddin chased him home with a double. Runnels just beat Kaline's throw to the plate.

It was sweet revenge for Buddin, who was accidentally beamed the last time he faced Bunning and was carried from the field.

The only other Detroit threat came in the eighth. Charlie Maxwell, pinch-hitter for Bunning, muddled a long drive to right center. Gary Geiger hauled it in at the fence.

Terry Fox retired Boston in order in the eighth.

Chuck Cottier played second in place of the injured Jake Wood. Manager Bob Scheffing had to juggle his batting order for the first time this season, moving Cenzo Fernandes up to leadoff. Trainer Jack Hume said Wood, who has a pulled leg muscle, will be sidelined for another day or two.

The Tigers get a chance to return to winning form tonight against the Sox. Frank Lary will pitch for the Tigers in a tie for his seventh triumph. Rookie Don Schwall, a youth from Ypsilanti, Mich., will oppose the Tiger veteran in his major league debut.

SMOUTOUT TIGERS—Three Red Sox players have good reason to be happy in the dressing room after defeating the Detroit Tigers, 1-0 at Fenway Park. Gene Conley (center) pitched a 4-hitter, Don Buddin (left) drove in the fifth inning with his double in the 5th inning and Jackie Jensen (right) hit two doubles in the game. Jim Bunning took the loss.

Derby Champion Preakness Favorite Carry Back Is Saturday Choice at Baltimore

Globemaster, Crozier and Dr. Miller Listed in Field

BALTIMORE, Md. (U-P) — "If you can beat Carry Back, you can win," is the way trainer John Jacobs views Saturday's Preakness.

And so does just about everyone else.

"That little fellow is a rough customer," says Jacobs, who trains Dr. Miller for his mother, Ethel Jacobs.

Jacobs has good reason to respect Carry Back and so should his doubters of the other seven colts expected to be entered today in the Preakness.

The first son of Saggy proved in the Kentucky Derby two weeks ago he can never be counted out. He overcame a disadvantage of 1½ lengths in the last quarter of a mile in beating the favorite.

FIFTH VICTORY

It was the fifth victory for Carry Back in eight races, and stamped him as the one to beat in the 3-year-old championship. In addition to Dr. Miller and Crozier, Carry Back liked two of the other Preakness probabilities in the Derby.

The others still not discouraged are Globemaster and Sherick. Joining them in this second leg of the triple crown are Hitting Away, Crimson Fury, Orleans Dege and Nashua Blue.

All have been warned not to expect Carry Back to give them as much of a head start as he did in the Derby.

"For the sake of my own tucker, I hope he lays closer to the pace," said Price.

He thinks jockey Johnny Sellers has the same plans. "But I never have given him any orders," Price says. "The only thing I ever told Sellers was to hurry back."

'Easy Ed' Jones Track Manager at Dixie Speedway

"Easy Ed" Jones of Pontiac, former director of the now defunct Motor City Speedway and the Pontiac Silver Lake Club, has been named track manager of the Dixie Motor Speedway on U. S. 10, ten miles north of Flint.

Jones served as president of the Michigan Modified Stock Association and the Continental Auto Racing Society.

He was chief steward for the Michigan chapter of the National Association of Stock Car Auto Racing (NASCAR).

The track opens Sunday night starting at 8 p. m. with super-modified cars racing.

Antonelli May Retire

CLEVELAND (AP) — Johnny Antonelli, the once-bright south-paw who won 125 games in the National League and has only four defeats to show for his first American League campaign, is thinking seriously of retiring from baseball.

"Johnny is discouraged," said Paul. "He wanted to know if he thought it would be best for all concerned if he hung 'em' up. I told him to let me worry about that."

"Nobody but a conscientious man would ask such a question,"

SPORTS

Final Trials for 500 Will Start Saturday

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Practice time was running out today for drivers and owners still hoping to qualify for the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway May 30.

The final time trials will be run Saturday and Sunday. Today was the last chance to get unqualified cars tuned for the 10-mile run.

Twenty-seven cars qualified last night, but the starting assignments are only tentative. The 33 fastest cars on the basis of time trials will start the race, and some of those already qualified could be bumped out of the lineup.

Speedway observers figured it will take a qualifying speed of 144 miles an hour to stay in the lineup. Nervous drivers among those already qualified would be North Hall of Los Angeles, low with 141.861 miles an hour; Bob Veith of Fort Bragg, Calif., 141.062; and Bob Cleberg of Tucson, Ariz., 143.672.

Once bumped, a car is out of the race, but the driver is free to hop into another and try to qualify again.

At least eight drivers not yet in the lineup appear to have the speedway know-how to qualify at 144 or better.

Detroit Sprinter Equals Record

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Carr, an 18-year-old Detroit schoolboy, Thursday equaled the world record time of 20 seconds flat in the 220-yard dash on a wind-whipped track.

There were no wind gauges at the track, but winds were estimated at 14 miles per hour when Carr raced. The strength of the wind probably will prevent Carr from receiving official recognition for his feat.

The world record is held by Dave Sims of Duke, a 1940 Olympic sprinter. Sims, of Fall Lawn, N.J., set the mark in 1929 at Sangre, Calif.

Carr also was clocked at 69.2 for the 100 yard dash—equalling the 1929 record set by the "Jesse Owens" national scholastic record for the second time in a dual meet.

Want a Game Saturday?

A Commerce boys' basketball team, sponsored by Eric's Food Market, is looking for an opponent tomorrow afternoon at the Clifford Smart School field in Commerce. The boys are ages 13-16. Anyone wishing to play a game with the Commerce youngsters should call Bill Crowley at EM 3-3501.

Monopoly at Silver Lake

It was a "Castelberry-Simpert" monopoly this week in the women's Silver Lake Golf League when Mrs. Paul Castelberry and Mrs. Fred Simpert taking all of the competitive honors.

Mrs. Simpert shot 34 to win the low net division, shared low gross honors with Mrs. Castelberry, and also took the low putt prize. Mrs. Castelberry won the "blind hole" event and finished 2nd in the low net division.

Art Wall, Cupit Top Hot Springs

Lead by 2 After 60; Will Cut Field to 65 Today

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Wall and Buster Cupit set out to hold their two-stroke lead in the Hot Springs Open golf tournament's second round today while 92 other professional golfers scrambled to get within the "top 60" cutoff point.

The field will be cut after today's 18 holes. Thursday, 45 golfers shot par 72 or better over the 6,000-yd. Hot Springs Country Club course.

Wall and Cupit fired 7-under-par 68 to take the early lead. Behind them are Jerry Steelhead and Mike Souchak. Then, at 68, came Doug Sanders, Julius Bors, Al Gelberger, Dave Ragan and Mason Ruppel.

Their hot putting and steady fairway games were inspirational to Wall and Cupit. It marked what he was the end of a ball ailment that has plagued him through the first 12 tournaments.

"The only time my back bothered me was when I made an improper swing," he said.

Wall, of Deacon Manor, Pa., shot a steady 33-32-45 with seven birdies. He missed by inches a 65-foot chip shot on the 18th hole.

Snead Leads His Tourney With 65 Playing in Rain

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — Sam Snead feels he has shaken the putting "yips."

And that spells trouble for his golfing opponents.

"Of course, once you get the putting yips, you never get rid of them entirely," said the West Virginia slammer who shrugged off the rain Thursday to play the 12th round in the opening round of the Sam Snead Festival.

Snead says he is using a new putter — Chick Harbert, Dave Douglas and three West Virginians, Mike Kirk of Morgantown, Buddy Cook of Man and Jose Taylor of Charleston.

Holding down second place with a 67 at the start of today's 18-hole round was Bob Watson, 37-year-old club pro from Elmford, N.Y. Next with 68 were top money winner Gary Player, British Open champion Peter Thomson, and Mickey Homa of Rye, N.Y. Bob Toosi had a 69.

Arnold Palmer, nursing a bad cold, despatched at 70 with five others — Chick Harbert, Dave Douglas and three West Virginians, Mike Kirk of Morgantown, Buddy Cook of Man and Jose Taylor of Charleston.

Big Ten Baseball Race Goes into Final Games

By The Associated Press

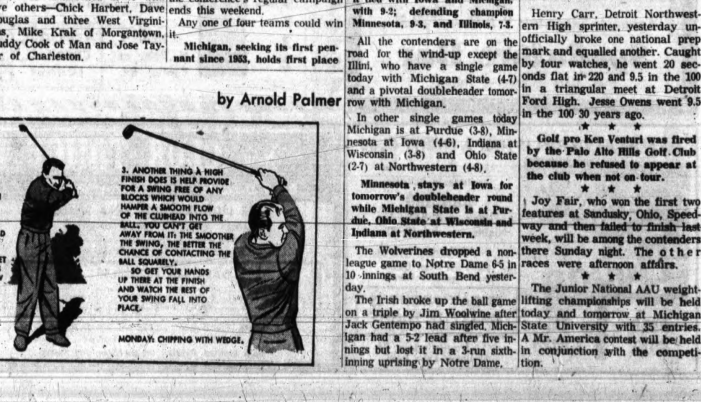

The race for the Big Ten baseball championship is wide open as the conference's regular campaign ends this weekend.

Any one of four teams could win it. Michigan, seeking its first place since 1953, holds first place with an 8-1 record. Packed closely behind are Indiana, edging by the Big Ten title since 1950 when it tied with Iowa and Michigan, 4-3, defending champion Minnesota, 8-5, and Illinois, 7-6.

All the contenders are on the road for the wind-up except the Illinois, who have a single game today with Michigan State (4-7) in a triangular meet at Detroit Ford High. Jesse Owens went 9.5 in the 100 30 years ago.

The Irish broke up the ball game on a triple by Jim Woodhouse after today's game, yesterday when Jack Jennings had singled. Michigan had a 5-2 lead after five innings but lost it in a 3-run inning upturning by Notre Dame.

Press Tourney Monday for 18 Prep Teams

5 Area Golf Teams After State Honors

By BILL CORNWELL

Five Oakland County high schools, four of them entries in Monday's 10th annual Pontiac Press Prep Invitational at Pontiac Country Club, will bid for state golf championships Saturday at Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo in the annual Michigan High School Athletic Association meet.

Bloomfield Hills and Farmington in Class A, Royal Oak Shrine and Northville in Class B and St. Frederick in Class C are this area's hopes in the state finals tomorrow.

All except Farmington are entered in The Pontiac Press Prep Invitational.

Bloomfield Hills and Farmington are scheduled to play at Grand Rapids Rhythmic Country Club while St. Fred competes at neighboring Green Ridge. Shrine and Northville go to Kalamazoo. Twenty four-man teams are slated to compete in each class with state titles based upon the lowest combined stroke total for 18 holes.

Although none of the local teams can be discounted, Bloomfield Hills looms as the most serious bidder for top MHSAA honors.

The Barons of Don Dennis, undefeated in 14 dual meets this spring and unbeaten in their last 28 starts, edged defending state champion Ann Arbor by one shot to win last week's "A" regional at Brighton and they must be ranked as a positive threat to the reign of the Finches.

They're also prohibitive favorites to win The Press' Prep Invitational.

Farmington won regional honors at Farmington C. C. and St. Fred captured the "C" regional crown at Swartz Creek. Shrine also qualified at Swartz Creek while Northville made the grade at Brighton.

Eighteen five-man teams will shoot for the coveted Press traveling trophy Monday at Pontiac C. C. Walled Lake is defending champion.

The Press tournament field consists of 12 Class A schools, four Class B and two Class C. The entry breakdown by classes includes:

Class A — Pontiac Central, Pontiac Northern, Waterford, Walled Lake, Birmingham Seaholm, Bloomfield Hills, Rochester, Southfield, Lapeer; Oak Park, Royal Oak Dondero and Royal Oak Kimball.

Class B — West Bloomfield, Clawson and Northville.

Class C — St. Frederick and St. Michael.

In addition to the traveling trophy, six awards will be presented.

A permanent trophy goes to the winning Class A team and another to the Class B-C winner. A trophy is awarded to the medalist in each class. Each member of the championship team receives a medal and a plaque goes to the winning coach.

A nine-hole faculty golf event will be played as soon as all the prep shooters have left the trees. The winner of the faculty "fun-fest" will receive a merchandise prize.

The tournament begins at 8 a.m. Play will be held concurrently from the 1st and 10th tees with three-minute teeing off at six-minute intervals. The team with the lowest stroke total for 18 holes wins the tourney. Par at PCC is 37-37-74.

An awards luncheon will be held in the PCC dining room immediately following the tournament.

Barons Capture League Title

Bloomfield Hills warmed up for the State Class A championships by winning the Wayne - Oakland Golf championship for the second straight time Thursday at Brighton.

The Barons, who will compete for state honors Saturday at Grand Rapids, posted a team score of 305.

The top three medal honors in the meet were taken by Bloomfield Hills' golfers.

Fred Ewald fired a 73, Chuck West shot a 74 and Steve Diltz tossed the 18 holes in 76. Joe Pulliam rounded out the quartet with an 82. Bruce Billings, top golfer on the squad, did not compete. He was taking college entrance tests.

Other scores in order were Brighton 335, Northville 332, Milford 354, Holly 357, Clawson 361, West Bloomfield 370 and Clawenceville 384.

French Net Tourney Spotlight on Women

PARIS (AP)—The spotlight in the tangled French International tennis tournament turned on the women today — particularly on America's Dorothea Hard, Brazil's Maria Bueno and Australia's Lesley Turner.

Miss Hard, from Montebello, Calif., who is seeded first, met Monique Coles of France. Miss Bueno, the Wimbledon champion and winner over Miss Turner last week in the Italian championships, faced Maria Petyrdy, a Hungarian refugee.

Miss Turner, the newcomer from Australia who pulled off a string of upsets in the Italian tournament, played Josefine Billar of France. Third-seeded Margaret Smith of Australia and Lynn Hutchins of South Africa were paired in another featured match.

All the top-rated men came through yesterday's third round matches successfully, though Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn dropped the first set to Chaidi Lachen of Morocco. He won 5-6, 6-1, 6-0, 6-3.

There's no place quite like a tavern

A tavern is a richness of mahogany, a glint of brass. It is two hands polishing a glass that was gleaming to begin with. A tavern is a sympathetic ear, an appreciative grin; it is a whisper of news and sometimes a roar of laughter. It is a drink made just the way you like it.

A tavern is a hand shaking yours, a voice remembering your name. It is the quiet after a day's work; it is the excitement of a Saturday night.

A tavern is a world of hospitality that makes you well-come wherever you find it. And you'll find this friendly world no farther away than just around the corner.

Your own neighborhood tavern is now observing National Tavern Month. There, as in taverns across the land, the special pleasure of America's great whiskey, Seagram's 7 Crown, extends its own familiar welcome. Drop in tonight, won't you?

Area Net Regionals Start at Cranbrook

The annual tennis regionals got under way at Cranbrook today for Class A and B schools in the area. Semifinals and championship matches in both divisions are scheduled tomorrow morning.

The Class A field included Central and Northern of Pontiac, Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham Sea-bolt, Southfield, Lapeer, Plymouth and Livonia Bentley.

The host Cranes, Birmingham Groves, Milford, Northville, Clarendonville and Riverside were the "B" schools taking part.

Competition will be held in both doubles and singles for schools in both classes.

GREAT EFFORT—Terry Wilson's face shows the effort he is putting into this attempt at clearing the bar in the high jump. The Waterford thinned will be competing in the state meet Saturday. He finished second to teammate Ed Stigers against Farmington Thursday.

Bill White posted wins in the 100 and 220 to lead Clarkston to a 39-34 track victory over Oxford. Dan Kelley won the high jump and mile for the hosts. Oxford's mile relay team set a school record with a time of 3:30.6.

St. Frederick's golf team downed Royal Oak St. Mary, 5-0. Mike Reed posted the winners with a 37 for nine holes. Pat Secoy shot a 38, Charley Dean 40 and Jim Schachner 40 for the Rams.

The 125 team was the lowest nine-hole score for the Rams in several seasons. St. Frederick had lost to Shrine, 3-2, the day before.

West Bloomfield upset Bloomfield Hills 11-7 and Rochester took Romeo 11-8 in area baseball section battles yesterday.

The Lakers got only five hits but 13 walks in finishing 3-8 for the season. They scored nine runs in the first four innings beating victor Don Sweetman. The Barons had a five-run 5th.

Rochester led all the way despite three home runs and seven runs batted in by Bulldog Mark Johnson. Winner Schermer and Grund homered for the Falcons, Grund and loser Gene Henning had three safeties apiece. Romeo made six errors in its fifth loss.

Cranbrook fell before Ham-tranck 5-1 as Art Deras got revenge for an earlier beating with a two-hitter. Fitzgerald bowled to Harper Woods 7-0. St. Clement took St. Rita, 8-4. Utica was a 10-0 victor over Warren Lincoln. Lamphere bowled by 2-1 to Clinton. Catholic Central took Hazel Park 6-2 and Royal Oak Dondore fell before Wyandotte, 4-2.

ABC Scoring Hits One of Lowest Days

DETROIT (AP)—Scoring in the minor events of the 38th American Bowling Congress Championships slumped Thursday to one of the lowest levels since the tournament got underway 76 days ago.

Robert Leclair of Port Huron, Mich., and Al Beiler of Fort Wayne Ind., tied for the day's high singles count, 658.

Falls 'Tripped' in Meet; Walled Lake Is Winner

Waterford's Joe Falls was "tripped" up for the first time in a dual meet this spring.

This didn't keep the Skippers from ending their dual season unbeaten for the first time in the school's history with an 80 1/3-28 2/3 victory over Farmington Thursday afternoon.

Northern was hurt when sprinter Bill Young's leg gave out in the 100-yard dash and he was not able to compete in the 220. Young had been nursing the leg all spring.

Falls, who had been a triple winner in 12 Waterford victories from ending their dual season unbeaten for the first time in the school's history with an 80 1/3-28 2/3 victory over Farmington Thursday afternoon.

Mike Kaines made his second start of the year in the half mile and topped the mark he set in his only other outing at this distance. A heavy favorite to win the mile

Thinclads Meet at East Lansing Track Saturday

Waterford, Birmingham Among Top Five Teams in Class A

If performances during the regular season mean anything, Pontiac Central's reign as Class A track champion will come to an end in less than 24 hours.

The Chiefs put their crown on the line Saturday at East Lansing. Five contenders are waiting to grab the glory should PCH falter as expected.

This doesn't mean the title will leave Oakland County. Waterford is a strong contender and Birmingham must be rated an outside chance. Lansing Section, Flint Northern and Grasse Pointe are the other powers with Northern the top favorite.

Cranbrook is being given a good chance to take the Class B championship away from Ecorse at Ann Arbor.

Coach Dean Wilson has half miler Jim Nelson and shot putter Brad Pritchett as leading candidates in their events. The mile relay team also could break the tape.

AFTER RECORD

Pritchett is defending champion. He will be trying to break his own state shot mark of 59 feet 5 1/2 inches set last year.

Joe Falls and Dennis Tripp are Waterford's top hurdlers who finished high among obstacle runners in the state last week.

Falls qualified for the 120-yard high hurdles by registering the fastest time in the state —14.6. Tripp qualified for the high while another Waterford hurdler, Ed Stigers, made it to the state 180-yard low hurdles race with Falls.

Waterford's talent doesn't end there. Mike Kaines ran into the one-mile finals with the best qualifying time in the state regionals — 4:25.4, one of the fastest miles run in out-state competition this season.

SPEED VIKING

Flint Northern's chief weapon will be Dennis McGee, who qualified for the 220 and 100-yard dashes and is a member of Northern's 880-yard relay team which will take a shot at a state record.

McGee turned in the best qualifying time in the 220, running the distance in 31.5, one-tenth of a second short of the state record.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

Caddy carts and electric cars are here to stay and golf courses everywhere, especially private country clubs, are gradually learning how to live with them, partly through necessity and also because time just naturally produces new ideas and constant changes.

There's absolutely nothing wrong with caddy carts and electric cars, of course, (most of us probably have used one or the other or both to maneuver around the links), but they do pose a threat to one of golfing's most cherished institutions—the caddy.

With no disrespect intended toward either mechanical device, we still like the idea of a teen-age boy helping himself in so many ways to become a gentleman by rendering unselfish service to others.

That's why it is so gratifying to see private clubs in this area take such an acute interest in the preservation, development and welfare of their paddy programs.

One of the most energetic caddy programs in this vicinity is conducted at Tam O'Shanter Country Club under the guidance of head pro Warren Orlick and caddy-master Bob Runyon.

Tam O'Shanter currently has 270 caddies registered for duty. The vast majority come from Pontiac Central, Pontiac North and St. Frederick high schools. A few enroll from West Bloomfield, Waterford, Clarkston and Farmington.

The general age spread is 15 to 18 and under the Orlick-Runyon program, the youngsters have the facilities of the club at their disposal and they enjoy many advantages and opportunities.

Orlick has donated six sets of clubs for free use by the boys and they are entitled to play golf on any week night as soon as normal club activity is finished. In addition, there is a two-night caddy tournament in store in late August with upwards of $300 in merchandise as prizes.

This year Tam's caddy corps will participate 100 per cent in National Golf Week May 29-June 6, according to Runyon. Free lessons also are offered to the boys by Tam's professional staff.

Another vitally-important ingredient of the Tam caddy program is a periodic rules session with Orlick, Mr. Rules himself, who insists that his caddies know the laws governing the game of golf.

Michigan, Titans and WM Eye NCAA Playoffs

NEW YORK (AP) — Seven teams have qualified for the eight district playoffs to the 1961 National Collegiate Baseball championships to be held in Omaha, Neb., the week of June 9-14, the NCAA announced today.

A total of 28 teams will compete in the playoffs for the eight final berths.

The teams which have qualified are Arizona U., Texas U., University of Southern California, Fresno, Oklahoma State, Florida State and Brigham Young.

Minnesota is very likely to be named as one of the District 4 representatives because of its this year.

position as defending champion. The Gobbers currently are third in the Big Ten with a 9-3 conference record. Michigan, conference leader with 8-1, Western Michigan and Detroit also are high on the list. The Big Ten champion no longer qualifies automatically but the committee may pick more than one of its teams.

Bonus Boy in 'B'

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Pitcher Ray Culp, who reportedly received a $50,000 bonus for signing with the Philadelphia Phillies three years ago, has been sent from Williamsport of the Class A Eastern League to Des Moines of the Class B Three-I League, Culp of Houston, Tex., had dropped his first four games with the Grays representatives because of this year.

May End Indiana's Probation Today

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Indiana University hopes to get off the hook today, as Big Ten faculty representatives consider a petition to end the Hoosiers' probation.

The school was put on probation by Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson a year ago for alleged improper recruiting practices. Wilson reportedly is satisfied that Indiana has changed its recruiting methods.

The probation suspended Indiana from last fall's conference football race and prevented the school from receiving any football television receipts.

In the opening of their three-day meeting Thursday, Big Ten leaders discussed the mushrooming college basketball scandal and announced that conference players "have never been investigated or been subject to suspicion of point-rigging."

Commissioner-elect Bill Reed said the Big Ten uses a special betting survey service to keep close tabs on unusual betting switches involving conference games.

"We recognize that gambling does exist on a widespread basis," Reed said. "Where there is an exchange of gambling money, there will be chiselers and attempts made to fix games."

"We have recognized this evil and have emphasized among the conference players and coaches they should be wary of any improper approaches by strangers," Reed said.

The conference faculty representatives also revised the Big Ten's controversial financial aid plan to athletes, but they did not eliminate the "need" proviso in the present program which has been in effect for four years.

The representatives proposed that a high school athlete now must establish a "predictable grade point average" of slightly below a C in his freshman year. At present, a prep athlete in the upper two thirds of his high school class could obtain a scholarship, based on need.

Also changed was the proviso which allowed a superior student-athlete to get a "full ride" if he graduated in the upper one-fourth of his high school class.

This was changed to permit full aid if an athlete can demonstrate ability to reach a predictable grade-point average of a C.

The modifying action must still be approved by individual schools which have three months to consider the action.

Watson's Trial Resumes Amid Wrangle, Confusion

DETROIT (AP)—The murder-conspiracy trial of Gordon Watson resumes today amid wrangling by two judges and confusion over the fate of his former codefendant, Mrs. Nelle Lassiter.

Circuit Judge Carl M. Weideman halts a writ of habeas corpus Thursday halting transfer of Mrs. Lassiter from Jennings Memorial Hospital to the Ionia State Hospital for the criminally insane.

Circuit Judge Joseph G. Rashid, who had ruled a mistrial in her case and ordered her committed on the basis of findings by a three-man sanity commission, disagreed. He seemed angered.

"I respect his right to sign a writ that is presented to him," Rashid said, "but in my opinion he has no right to nullify my order—verbally or in writing."

He said his order should take precedence over Weideman's.

Later Rashid charged that Watson's order had violated State Supreme Court rules and he ordered the sheriff's office to put Mrs. Lassiter at the head of a list of 28 persons awaiting transfer from the county jail to Ionia.

"If there is a bed available away she goes," Rashid said.

OBJECTS TO COMMISSION

"Maybe Judge Weideman would like to cite me for contempt," Rashid said.

"Thank the Lord he isn't on the Supreme Court—as yet, anyway. He didn't show me or the presiding judge the slightest courtesy of consulting us at all."

Mrs. Lassiter, 33, and Watson, 45, are accused of plotting the 1959 slaying of her auto dealer husband Parvin Lassiter. Watson was the business partner.

The habeas corpus writ was presented by Mrs. Lassiter's attorney, Joseph W. Louissell, who had objected to the sanity commission and refused to acknowledge its findings that the blonde widow was "incapable of continuing" in the trial.

Weideman set a hearing on the writ for next Thursday and ordered the sheriff's office not to remove her to Ionia. He questioned whether the sanity hearing—ordered one day and held the next—might have been "quick justice."

Americans Leaving Cuba by Plane Today

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A planeload of Americans is due here late today from Cuba, where many had been real or virtual prisoners of the turbulent Fidel Castro regime.

Instead of the rum and night club souvenirs of happier days, these repatriates will bring home memories of armed militiamen confiscating their property or hauling them into jails.

Their exit from Havana is being expedited by the Swiss Embassy, which represents the United States in Cuba since the U.S. break in diplomatic relations with Castro's revolutionary government.

A host of other Americans, eager to quit Cuba, still had frustrating hurdles to clear in the shape of permits to leave. Lack of credentials acceptable to Castro officials was a common complication.

Bloomfield Hills Man Elected VP at Ford

DETROIT (AP)—Eugene Bordinat Jr., of 1445 Lakewood Road, Bloomfield Hills, was elected a vice president of the Ford Motor Co. Thursday.

He will succeed George W. Walker, an director of styling June 1. Walker, who reaches retirement age this month, will serve as styling adviser.

Pontiac School Children to Show Off Their Art

For the week beginning Monday, the lobby of the new Carl Sandburg Elementary School in Waterford Township will have on display a variety of art in the form of paintings, cuttings and sculptures created by children from 22 schools in the system.

The young artists, ranging from 5 to 12 years of age, will have on display their drawings, paintings, cuttings and sculptures that will amaze viewers, according to Mrs. Doris Barclay, coordinator of elementary art.

She added, "The purpose of the exhibit is to show the wide range of visual and tactile materials used by our elementary children in their pursuit of an increased understanding of the world in which they live."

On display will be designs of brilliant shades in a variety of patterns—a first conceived in the mind of a child and transferred to reality by experimental fingers dipped in bright tempera.

Mosaics inlaid with colored bits of egg shell, macaroni, glass and paper will be shown. Samples of block printing in both bold color and delicate tints will be moving as they hang suspended in illustrious displays—butterflies, birds and fish—have been arranged as "eye-catchers."

Typhoon Slams Into Red China

3 Dead in Hong Kong; 100 - Mile Winds Peril Vital Rice Crops

HONG KONG (UPI)—Typhoon Alice roared through Hong Kong with 100-mile-an-hour winds today and slammed into famine-plagued Communist China.

First reports said three persons died in Hong Kong and two ships collided in the harbor. Property damage ran to tens of thousands of dollars.

Four junks were reported to have sunk in the choppy seas. Many wooden cottages were blown down. All public transportation was suspended and schools were closed.

The typhoon, which swept across the South China Sea, was the first to strike this British island colony with full fury this year.

The storm battered the refuge-crowded city for more than an hour before moving into Kwangtung Province of mainland China, threatening sorely needed spring rice crops.

The rice was transplanted only last month and is in a tender stage.

Communist China, with its 600 million people, needs all the rice it can get. The Peiping regime has reported near-dameline conditions in many regions as a result of drought and other natural calamities.

Jeff Chandler Critically Ill After Surgery

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP)—Jeff Chandler, who hitchhiked to Hollywood 16 years ago to fulfill a boyhood dream of movie stardom, is in critical condition today after a 7½-hour emergency operation to stop abdominal bleeding.

The graying 42-year-old actor was given multiple blood transfusions Thursday. He will be under close observation at Culver City Hospital at least until Saturday evening, a spokesman said.

The surgery followed an operation for a slipped spinal disc, suffered while filming "The Marauders" in the Philippine Islands a month ago.

The 6-foot 4-inch, 200-pound star was given a series of injections to deaden nerves and lessen pressure while he completed the movie. He was hospitalized after his return to Hollywood.

Each elementary school there are one or two "art resources" people whose function is to work with the classroom teachers in an effort to generate more artistic ways of teaching "reading," "ritin" and "rithmetic."

These resources people are especially oriented for this purpose through frequent workshops and instructive art publications under the direction of Mrs. Barclay, who is associated with Wayne State University.

There will be an opening reception from 4 to 5 p.m. Monday. Mrs. William A. Shuck, wife of the superintendent of the schools, will preside at the tea table.

Assisting her will be Mrs. James Deslander, wife of the assistant superintendent; Mrs. Clara Hubbell, elementary coordinator; and Mrs. George Walters, president of the Sandburg Parent-Teacher Association. The public is welcome.

The exhibit on completion will be sent to the Community Arts Gallery at Wayne University as a part of a metropolitan children's art exhibit to be held there in November.

Market Stages Mild Recovery

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market staged a mild recovery in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Selective strength among blue chips moved the popular stock market averages to the upside after an initial period of uncertainty.

The Pontiac, which weighs heavily in the market averages, accounted for much of the strength in these market indicators as it advanced 6 points to 220 1/2. Analysts said the stock drew buyers because of its favorable chart pattern.

Steels, motors, rails, chemicals and utilities were mostly higher while airlines declined and drugs showed a downward edge. In business, oils and chemicals were mixed.

The list was irregular at the start.

The rise in outstanding stock market credit to more than $5 billion for the first time in 20 years led some observers to expect that margins for stock buying might be raised from their present level of 70 per cent as a credit tightening move.

United Carbide and Eastman Kodak followed Du Pont with fractional gains while Allied Chemical was steady and Air Reduction lost a fraction.

Eastern Air Lines omitted the dividend and the stock fell 3 points to 27 1/2. Other airline issues were depressed, United flying a point at 49 1/2 while American Airlines and Pan American were easy.

Kovvett recovered from news of competition in the discount field from Woodward and advanced 1/4 to 64 1/2. Woodward was up 1/4 at 74 1/2.

Latin Goodwill Tour Planned for Adlai

NEW YORK (AP)—President Kennedy is planning to send Adlai E. Stevenson, ambassador to the United Nations, on a goodwill tour of Latin America next month, the New York Times said today.

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper said informants declined to say what countries Stevenson would visit but the suggestion was that he would certainly include those that have shown reluctance to join inter-American actions against Cuba.

One of the objectives of the trip, it was said, will be to urge Latin-American governments to agree on a "political counterpart" to the economic conference that will be held in Montevideo, Uruguay, July 15.

MSUO in 1961-62: Wing and a Prayer

By MAX E. SIMON

Michigan State University-Oakland will travel into the 1961-62 academic year on "a wing and a prayer," university officials said today.

Michigan State University trustees yesterday earmarked $100,000 of their $300,000 appropriation for MSUO, which will offer instruction at the junior class level for the first time this fall.

At the same time, trustees authorized deficit financing by MSUO.

Some $100,000 more will be needed to carry MSUO through two trimesters.

The legislature will be asked for the additional monies next January.

Trustees also left the question of a third trimester next year up to the lawmakers.

MSU President John A. Hannah said the allocation to MSUO would be based on providing only two of the proposed trimester program terms "on the understanding that the next session of

More Funds Doubtful

Rep. Arthur J. Law, D-Pontiac, said today that Michigan State University trustees might encounter difficulty from Republican legislators in seeking additional funds to make up MSUO's deficit next year.

"Especially in the face of what the Republicans did this year," Law said.

"I realize the good intentions of trustees," Law said. "I only hope they are not building up false hopes."

"For my part, I shall continue to do all that I can—for the cause of MSUO in particular and the cause of higher education in general."

S. Korea President Quits With Apology

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

SEOUL, Korea — South Korea President Yun Po-Sun, whose government was overthrown by military revolt, announced his resignation today with an apology for failing to improve conditions for the people of his country.

The resignation of President Yun, who had given his formal approval to the new military junta, came 24 hours after Premier John M. Chang and his cabinet quit their offices and threw support to the country's new leaders.

Yun's action came as a surprise, Thursday, he had called on all Koreans to join in supporting the junta.

Altogether, he was apparently upset by the junta leader's statement that the revolutionary committee was the "supreme power organization" in the country.

The development came as military rule prevailed again in South Korea for the first time since Syngman Rhee was ousted last year.

A statement issued to newsmen over Yun's name said "I regret that I made so little contribution to the nation that a military revolt has occurred."

Yun was the only constitutional official left in office after the military coup forced the resignation of Premier Chang.

Under the South Korean form of government, the premier exercised the real ruling power and the president was a figurehead chief of state.

In a Korean crisis such as this week's uprising, it is traditional for the leading figures to step aside in protest.

The nation's military chiefs had arrested 500 suspected leftists and imposed stringent censorship.

AVOIDS ISSUE

It was said Thursday that by keeping the chief of state—with whom diplomatic relations are established by foreign governments—the question of diplomatic recognition would be resolved.

The theory was that this avoided raising the issue of whether the United States and other nations would have to go through the process of recognizing a government takeover.

Shortly before the resignation of President Yun, Lt. Gen. Chang Do Yung, chairman of the revolutionary committee which has assumed power, said he did not consider U.S. opposition to the coup as interference in the internal affairs of South Korea.

Watson's Trial Resumes Amid Wrangle, Confusion

DETROIT (U)—The murder-conspiracy trial of Gordon Watson resumes today amid wrangling by two judges and confusion over the late of his former co-defendant.

Circuit Judge Carl M. Weidman signed a writ of habeas corpus Thursday halting transfer of Mrs. Lassiter from Jennings Memorial Hospital to the Ionia State Hospital for the criminally insane.

Circuit Judge Joseph G. Rashid, who had ruled a mistrial in her case and ordered her committed on the basis of findings by a three-man jury commission, disagreed. He seemed angry.

"I respect his right to sign a writ that is presented to him," Rashid said, "but in my opinion he has no right to nullify my order—verbally or in writing."

He said his order should take precedence over Weidman's.

Later Rashid charged that Weidman's order had violated State Supreme Court rules and he ordered the sheriff's office to put Mrs. Lassiter at the head of a list of 25 persons awaiting transfer from the county jail to Ionia.

"If there is a bed available, away she goes," Rashid said.

Earlier Judge Rashid had ruled Mrs. Lassiter, of 1960 Beverly Road, Beverly Hills, could remain at the private hospital until space was found for her in the state institution.

OBJECTS TO COMMISSION

"Maybe Judge Weidman would like to cite me for contempt," Rashid said.

"Thank the Lord he isn't on the Supreme Court—as yet, anyway," while carrying out the order.

Was Starlet Given Sack for Being Too Fat to Act?

HOLLYWOOD (U)—The sudden severance of starlet Jo Morrow's Columbia Pictures contract has the movie colony playing guessing games.

Under terms of a new contract negotiated last fall, Jo's weight could not exceed 132 pounds, her hips 37 inches and her waistline 24 inches.

Did Jo violate the contract?

The red-haired actress and the studio both deny it. But a trade-paper maintains she did. A front-page item in the show business paper Variety said Thursday the starlet hit 145 pounds.

A studio spokesman said Miss Morrow, 21, herself asked for release from the contract, adding: "And since we had no picture coming up for her, we agreed. She's a beautiful girl, talented, and I think she will become a major star."

Miss Morrow said she was hurt when she read the article but soon felt better.

CHEERED BY CALLS

"I've been cheered by all the phone calls I got from studio executives, all of whom said they would track it (the overweight report) down and refute it," she said.

"I didn't think people in Hollywood cared that much."

Jo, who made six pictures in 2½ years at the studio, admitted she now weighs 138 pounds. But she said her measurements are the same as specified in the contract, and: "I've been studying dancing and I'm much tighter now. If the studio had a picture for me, I could have dropped six pounds like that."

QUEEZED OUT—Actress Jo Morrow has lost her job as a Columbia Pictures starlet because she weighs too much, says the show business trade paper, Variety. Not so, says Jo. Not so, says Columbia Studios, her former employer.

Tonight will be fair and cool, the low about 43.

Precipitation will total less than two-tenths inches occurring as showers Monday.

Morning northerly winds at 5 miles per hour will become light variable this afternoon and southeasterly at 8 to 12 m.p.h. Saturday.

Typhoon Slams Into Red China

3 Dead in Hong Kong 100-Mile Winds Peril Vital Rice Crops

HONG KONG (UPI)—Typhoon Alice raged through Hong Kong with 100-mile-an-hour winds today and slammed into famine-plagued Communist China.

First reports said three persons died in Hong Kong and two ships collided in the harbor. Property damage ran to tens of thousands of dollars.

Four jumps were reported to have taken place in the choppy sea. Many wooden cottages were blown down. All public transportation was suspended and schools were closed.

The typhoon, which swept across the South China Sea, was the first to strike this British island colony with full fury this year.

The storm battered the reefer-crowded city for more than an hour before meeting left Kwangtung Province of mainland China, threatening sorely needed spring rice crops.

The rice was transplanted only last month and is in a tender stage.

Communist China, with its 600 million people, needs all the rice it can get. The Peiping regime has reported near-famine conditions in many regions as a result of drought and other natural calamities.

IN FORMOSA

At Taipei, Formosa, Nationalist China said its army was waiting for the right moment to launch an all-out attack on the Communist Chinese mainland.

The government said in a statement to parliament that it was watching developments in the situation developing in Red China, following the nationwide famine, and at the same time constantly assessing the world situation and internal development.

The famine in Red China, described by Peiping authorities as the worst in a century, has created widespread unrest among the Chinese on the mainland. Nationalist officials have reported.

Gunman Gets $1,000 at City Pharmacy

A gunman who held up a Pontiac pharmacy last night escaped with $1,000 from two cash registers.

Myron Ascher, 29, of Detroit told police he was counting the day's receipts when the bandit entered Lou's Drugstore, 493 S. Sanford St., last night.

He returned with an accomplice a few minutes later and turned an automatic on Ascher.

After taking the money, the gunman ordered Ascher and another employee, Edward Williams, 17, Nevada Ave., to the basement of the store, then left.

Dates June 3-4 in City of Vienna Now Official

Informal Visit to Follow Parley With De Gaulle, Then London and Home

WASHINGTON (U)—President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev will meet in Vienna June 3 and 4 for a "general exchange of views" on major world issues, the White House announced today.

The announcement ruled out any effort to reach agreement on "the major international problems that involve the interest of many other countries."

"The meeting will, however, afford a timely and convenient opportunity for the first personal contact between them and a general exchange of views on the major issues which affect the relationship between the two countries," the announcement said.

It disclosed officially what had been rumored for some time—that after a meeting with French President Charles de Gaulle in Paris May 31-June 1 the President will go directly to Vienna.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy will make the trip on the morning of June 3. He is expected to stay in the White House until a two-hour flight.

Sometimes on June 4—Salinger did not know the hour—the President will fly from Vienna to London for a visit with Mrs. Kennedy's sister and her husband, Prince Stanislas Radziwill.

The London stopover gives the President an opportunity to meet with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan after the talk with Khrushchev. The White House statement disclosed that meeting will occur at a luncheon on June 5.

LEAVES LONDON

Kennedy, the statement said, "will depart London for Washington late in the evening of June 5 while Mrs. Kennedy will remain with her sister in London for several days."

The schedule will get Kennedy back to the United States much too late to keep a scheduled date for a speech at West Virginia University June 5.

As late as Thursday afternoon Salinger said there was no change in the President's commitment to spend at the university. Today in announcing Kennedy's revised plans Salinger gave no information on what would be done about the engagement at the university.

THROUGH CHANNELS

The announcement said the agreement to meet in Vienna followed "discussions through diplomatic channels which began last (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5).

Jeff Chandler Critically Ill After Surgery

SILVER CITY, Calif. (AP)—Jeff Chandler, who hitchhiked to Hollywood 16 years ago to fulfill a boyhood dream of movie stardom, is in critical condition today after a 7½-hour emergency operation to stop abdominal pain.

The 42-year-old actor was given multiple blood transfusions Thursday. He will be under close observation at Culver City Hospital at least until Sunday evening, a spokesman said.

The surgery followed an operation for a slipped spinal disk suffered while filming "The Raiders" in the Philippines last month.

The 6-foot 4-inch, 200-pound actor was given a series of injections to deaden nerves and lessen pressure while he completed the movie. He was hospitalized after his return to Hollywood.

TREAT FOR ROTARY—A slice of Broadway was provided Pontiac Rotarians when Patricia Marand offered a program of songs at yesterday's meeting. She sang numbers from her own show. The young lady has been a star several years and appeared in "South Pacific."

Russians Assent to Help in Laos

GENEVA (AP)—Under prodding by Canada, the Soviet Union agreed today to help solve the urgent problem of supplying the communist government in Laos with the peace.

The 14-nation conference here sent off a message to the commission asking what it needed in the way of planes, helicopters, trucks and communications equipment for patrolling the Laotian jungles.

Foreign Secretary Howard C. Green of Canada brought up the question of supply, declaring the need was imperative. Conference sources said he thus put the issue squarely up to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

GROMYKO AGREED

Rather than assume a stalling attitude before the conference, Gromyko agreed to Green's proposal, these sources said.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other members of the American delegation were delighted at Green's triumph, they added.

The action represented the first fully defined achievement in four days of lengthy and complex conference negotiations on Laos.

At Ban Nampao, Laos, meanwhile, peace talks were stalemated again when the right-wing royal government changed its position and said that cease-fire details should be discussed before negotiations to form a coalition government.

The Vietnamese government said it was returning to its original stand because fighting had increased and "we cannot discuss politics while Laos soldiers are being killed."

Representatives of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels and Prince Souvanna Phouma's so-called neutralists said some local elements were unavailable. They affirmed and rain fell in the central and northern Appalachians, the lower Great Lakes region and the north central Atlantic Coast region.

By The Associated Press

Wet and cloudy weather extended across broad areas of the nation today, with indications of much clearing during the day.

Torrential rains, heavy hail and strong winds battered sections of Texas during the night. Four inches of rain drenched Colorado City, about 65 miles west of Abilene, in a three-hour storm.

Hailstones pelted Oklahoma Lane, a town near the new Mexico-Texas line, and fields were white with hail in the Bovina area. Tornadoes hit near Fort Stockton and north of Pecos but no damage was reported.

Showers splattered the west central Plains and central California and rain fell in the central and northern Appalachians, the lower Great Lakes region and the north central Atlantic Coast region.

2 More County Men Blames GOP Con-Con Candidates

Two more hats were tossed in the con-con ring in Oakland County today.

William A. O'Brien, a Clawson lawyer, announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination as delegate from the 12th State Senatorial District (Oakland County).

Avern Cohn, a Royal Oak lawyer, said he was running for his own show. The young lady has been a star several years and appeared in "South Pacific."

Both candidates listed reappointment is the biggest issue in the forthcoming constitutional convention. Both said Oakland County would benefit by reappointment.

WILLIAM O'BRIEN

O'Brien, 31, is a Clawson city councilman, practicing with a Detroit law firm.

He is a member of the Democratic party's state Central Committee, representing Oakland County.

A native of Portland, Me., O'Brien worked his way through college and law school. He was graduated from Holy Cross College in Worcester, Mass., in 1931 and from Yale Law School in 1937.

Married with five children, O'Brien has been president of the Clawson Junior Chamber of Commerce and is a member of the Clawson Redevelopment Committee and Citizens for Michigan.

He is associated with church, legal and social groups and is a lieutenant in the Naval Reserve.

AVERN COHN

Cohn, 30, was treasurer of the Kennedy-Johnson campaign last year and has served as a Democratic precinct delegate.

He is on the executive board of the Detroit branch of the American Civil Liberties Union and a member of the state board of the Anti-Defamation League.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Cohn specializes in business law. Married, with three children, Cohn has lived in Oakland County five years.

Bid Farewell to Ada Evans

City Clerk Finishes 42 Years of Service to Head for Coast

Mrs. Ada R. Evans today traded the Hall on the hill for a home on the ocean.

The veteran city employee finished her last day as city clerk and ended 42 years as a City Hall woman.

She and her husband Russell W. Evans plan to leave their Lake Michigan home for a new one facing the Atlantic Ocean at Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Mrs. Evans is completing 33 years at city clerk. She was the first woman to hold this position in Pontiac.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston said it may take a while before a successor is named.

Meantime, Mrs. Olga Barkeley, deputy city clerk, will assume Mrs. Evans' duties in the clerk's office and the City Commission chambers.

More than 25 municipal employees, present and past commissioners, county officials and friends attended a two-hour reception in Mrs. Evans' honor in the Shrine Room at City Hall yesterday.

Employees presented her with a $50 check as a gift and election workers with a $150 check. Mrs. Evans said she would use these, along with a $50 check she received at the City Commission banquet Monday, to furnish the new Myrtle Beach home.

The reception was the largest ever held in the new City Hall. The cake was a three-foot-long replica of City Hall.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Minuteman missile veered off course and was destroyed by the range safety officer today about 30 seconds after it blasted off on its second test flight.

The safety officer pushed the destruct button during second stage flight when instruments on the console indicated it was off course.

The explosion occurred after the rocket had streaked several miles through the sky and was not visible to Cape observers. The third-stage nose cone and pieces of the rocket plunged into the Atlantic.

REGIONAL PRODUCT OF THE YEAR

Students to Play Big Part in Michigan Week Activity

BIRMINGHAM—Michigan Week, May 21-27, will feature students participating in an endless variety of classroom and school activities which will focus on their state and community.

Walter Piel, administrative assistant for the school district and Education Day chairman, said that plans for the week were developed by a committee of 25 teachers and principals representing all schools in Birmingham.

A number of special activities have been planned for the schools and promotional material will announce the occasion to pupils.

An extensive collection of information and suggested printed and audio-visual resources have been made available to teachers who requested them.

Education Day, May 25, will be highlighted by two special events. All members of the staff who have been in the profession 10 years or more will be honored at a 3:30 p.m. tea to be given by the Association of University Women at Seasholm High School.

The day will be climaxed by an all-school outdoor art exhibit at Derby Junior High School from 6 to 8 p.m. Students will demonstrate their art talents from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Many assemblies have been planned for the elementary schools, according to Piel, which will highlight the history, resources, geography, people and government of the state.

Parents are helping, too, by lending materials, time, gardens, and automobiles. Some will replace lessons as discussion leaders or as story tellers about Michigan.

Secondary school activities will be emphasized in the home room and in social studies classes. Some schools will feature daily broadcasts of taped interviews on the public address system. Topics will be the daily themes of Michigan Week.

The series will begin Monday with a talk by Mayor Florence Willett, followed on successive days by Charles Mortensen, president of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce; G. M. Dyer, superintendent of the Birmingham Schools; and Owen Manchester, director of the Birmingham YMCA.

A key to the city will be presented to Mayor James Winters of Edwardburg during his visit to the city by the students of the Birmah School.

The Seasholm Student Senate also have made plans to entertain the visiting mayor.

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—The Kingston Trio, one of the most successful acts in show business, plans to split up in six months because the three young recording stars don't get along any more.

Dave Garroway plans to leave his two partners, Nick Reynolds and Bob Shane. Reynolds and Shane will continue the trio with a new partner. Garroway said he intends to continue his singing career alone.

2 Weeks Sought to Finish Survey

Advisory Unit Votes to Request Extension on Recreation Center Poll

First reports of the recreation center opinion survey came in last night but the City Commission's Civic Advisory Committee decided more time was needed for a full report.

The committee voted to ask the City Commission Tuesday night for two weeks more in which to conclude the informal survey.

The commission has asked the 70-member body to sound out public sentiment on the proposal to put a $1-million general obligation bond issue to the voters as soon as possible to construct recreation centers.

Opponents to the proposal claim the necessary groundswell hasn't been laid. They say there are no plans, no cost estimates and no agreement about the type of facilities that might be provided.

Editor's Note: The United States has been handing the moon, and the rest of the world, the details of its space program. In the following pages, we present the details of the program, as they are being disclosed along with the possibility of a lunar landing by 1967.

By JOSEPH L. MYLES

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Russians say they are going to the moon and planets. So are we.

The Russians, addicted to secrecy, give no timetable for their next man-in-space ventures. Here are America's plans:

—In the next couple of months or so, two or more suborbital rocket trips like Alan Shepard's, with John Glenn, Virgil Grissom, and perhaps another astronaut on the pilot's couch.

—Then orbital flights by a Mercury spacecraft, the first one empty except for instruments, the next one perhaps occupied by a chimpanzee.

—Late this year or early next, an orbital ride by a Mercury astronaut three times around the earth.

Eventually, the Mercury man-in-space project may see an astronaut sailing up to 18 times around the earth and enduring weightlessness for 21 hours, compared to an hour and a half for Russia's Yuri Gagarin and five minutes for Shepard.

When men no longer ride the Mercury capsule in space, chimps may take over for extended bouts with weightlessness ranging from two days to two weeks.

After Mercury comes Apollo, a program to put three men at a time into space for periods of weeks. The Apollo spacecraft, unlike the cramped Mercury cabin, will be roomy enough for its crew members to move about, and comfortable and secure enough for them to work in their shirt-sleeves instead of a pressure suit. WILL POWER APOLLO

The crew will fly it, once it has been boosted into space, "flat" as aircraft crews fly modern jet transports. Shepard's "Freedom 7" and Gagarin's "Vostok" could be maneuvered to a small extent.

But, except for braking rockets to bring them out of orbit, the American and Soviet craft have no control over speed and trajectory. Apollo crews, however, will be able to change speed and trajectory at will, and they will be able to land the craft under its own power at places of their own choosing.

The first launching of an unmanned design model of the Apollo spacecraft may come in 1964 when the first version of the big Saturn space vehicle is expected to be ready for regular assignments.

The year 1965 may see three Apollo spacecraft soaring in orbit around the earth for as long as three weeks. This craft, an orbiting laboratory, would be the forerunner of future space platforms.

These orbiting platforms in turn will serve as spacechips rendezvous, spaceship assembly, spaceship crew exchange, and supply stations for manned missions to the moon or planets.

Before men make lunar landings, however, they will be put in orbit around the moon and brought back to earth. This could be done if a second generation Saturn is ready, as expected, by then.

Not even the second generation Saturn will be able to lift enough weight to land men on the moon in craft equipped to keep them alive while there and to carry them back home.

JUST 'CONCEPT'

This will take Nova, which at present is just a "concept" built in men's minds around the F1 engine now being developed. The F1 is a single engine developing as much thrust, 1.5 million pounds, as the Saturn booster's eight clustered engines.

The Nova first, or booster stage, may consist of F1 engines clustered to produce 12 million pounds of thrust. The Nova vehicle, as well as some late versions of the Saturn, may have a nuclear rocket among its upper stages, scientists are convinced that nuclear engines are necessary for long range space exploration.

The first lunar landing by an American conceivably could come in 1967. But 1969, 1970, or 1971 ap-

HOW DO YOU HANDLE A ROOM THAT'S HARD TO HEAT?

You probably have in mind one or more of these problems: A room that's too far away from the furnace. Large window areas that are chilly. Or perhaps you simply want extra warmth for a nursery or children's bedroom. The quick and economical answer is to supplement the present system with flameless electric heat located exactly where it's needed most, and independently, automatically adjustable for any degree of warmth. One of the modern, easily installed units illustrated below can end your part-time shivering for good. It can even turn a problem area into one of the warmest parts of the house!

WHAT'S THE BEST WAY TO HEAT A NEWLY FINISHED UPSTAIRS, BASEMENT, ENCLOSED PORCH OR BREEZE-WAY? Without electric heat, you might have to overheat the rest of the house in order to make the new room livable. Electric heat can eliminate that extra burden on your present heating system and assure real comfort at all times. You can keep the room cooler when it's not in use, then feel it warm up quickly at a touch of its independent thermostat. The response is immediate, for the heat source is right in the room. Several types of electric heating units are available, all easily installed at minimum cost and with minimum disruption of the household. You might also consider the room heat pump for maximum comfort all year round. This single unit, installed in an outside wall, gives you winter heating plus summer cooling.

WHAT IF YOU'D LIKE TO CONVERT THE WHOLE HOUSE TO MODERN FLAMELESS HEATING? Good insulation pays off with any heating system. So, first you should have adequate insulation, plus storm doors and windows. Any qualified electric heating contractor can tell you about the industry-approved insulation standards for electric heat, and about the exact type of units you should have. Then, with clean and efficient electric heat, every room will be under separate heating control—readily adjustable for the comfort of the people who are in it, when they are in it. If you have central hot air heating, you may want the ultimate in modern climate control—a central electric heat pump. An electric heat pump can supply winter heating and summer air conditioning, often through existing ducts.

Use Good Make-Up Base

Puffy Skin Brings Circles

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN (The Question Box)

Q. "Please tell me what causes white circles under the eyes. I am 32 years old, weigh 107 pounds, bust 32 inches, waist 22 and hips 34. Are my hips too large?"

A. Your weight is exactly correct for a small frame. Your hips are not too large. You are almost a few inches difference between the bust and the hips for a good figure. The white look sometimes comes from puffy or stretched skin under the eyes. This appearance also can be due to tired pigmentation of the skin on the face as compared to that just under the eyes. You can hide this with a good make-up base.

Q. "I am a very troubled teenager, mostly because of my weight. My mom is constantly telling me to watch my diet. I know I eat quite a bit of sweets but I have tried to curb my desire for them and have almost succeeded. I do not believe I am too stout, but my mother says I am. I am 16 years old and weigh 118 pounds. My measurements are 36-25-34."

A. You did not give me your height, and therefore I cannot be sure about how you stack up.

However, your weight and your measurements certainly make you sound slim. You can't be very fat with a 25-inch waist. However, if you have a very small build, you may show a tendency toward plumpness which your mother wants you to watch.

Q. "I have a very small face. How should I wear my hair?"

A. You should wear it fluffy and soft about your face, not too high on top. However, have it shaped. Do not keep so much hair that it makes your face look even smaller than it is.

Q. "I am expecting a baby soon. I want to nurse the baby but I am afraid that it will ruin my bustline. Is there anything I can do to prevent this?"

A. Be certain to wear brassieres which were especially designed to support the increased weight of the bust. You should also do this during the months of pregnancy. Lie down when you nurse your baby. Many women who have nursed their children have a beautiful bustline.

Dinner reservations are optional. Refreshments will be served when the meeting adjourns.

The summer trend in dress to wear gear is notably dressier than in previous seasons.

Gray Ladies Reach Milestone

The 28 Red Cross Gray Lady volunteers who received their caps and pins at Pontiac State Hospital last night, represent a milestone.

In January 1958 when the hospital's gray lady movement began, the goal was set at 100 of the trained volunteers.

Last night's "graduating class" brought total gray lady force to exactly 100.

This represents a corps of volunteers who have successfully completed a 16-hour program which trains them for the fields of therapy in which they will work.

Much credit for this goes to Dr. Walter H. Obenauf, hospital medical superintendent, and Mrs. Ethel Sheriff, hospital gray lady coordinator.

"In 1958, gray ladies serviced three areas; now they service 10 departments," said Dr. Obenauf in his address to the new volunteers.

"It would seem that you ladies are certainly carrying on in the finest tradition of the Red Cross in perpetuating your mission to alleviate and mitigate human suffering. Congratulations to all of you," the doctor said.

Among the May gray lady class are Mrs. Samuel Perna, Mrs. Donald Stone and Mrs. Vernon Swope, all of Pontiac; Mrs. William E. Bachman of Orchard Lake; and Mrs. Charles W. Carlick and Mrs. Mervin Hiller of Bloomfield Hills.

Gray ladies from Birmingham are Mrs. Henry J. Baker, Mrs. J. Louis Barribeau, Mrs. Nicholas J. Gofran, Mrs. Ted Gray, Mrs. John Greenhalgh, Mrs. Robert Halsted, Mrs. Emmett B. Lewis Jr., Mrs. William W. Lightbody, Mrs. Robert F. Moore, Mrs. Frederick Sevald, Mrs. Thomas C. Varr Degritt, and Mrs. Karl Wiekling.

Others in the class are Mrs. O. A. Borbaum and Mrs. George Walter, both of Berkley; Mrs. Edward Delaney of Franklin Village; Mrs. D. C. McKay, and Mrs. Robert E. LaShance, both of Farmington; and Mrs. Conrad Foreml of Royal Oak.

The remaining gray ladies are Mrs. Clarence Lynch and Mrs. John Sand, both of Rochester; Mrs. Michael Mahoney of Union Lake Village; Mrs. D. C. McKay, and Mrs. Robert E. LaShance, both of Farmington; and Mrs. Conrad Foreml of Royal Oak.

Fertilize Dry Down Then Spray Lightly

Never apply fertilizer when grass surface is damp or even slightly moist. When grass is completely dry, most pellets or granular types of fertilizer can be applied without danger of burning the grass.

But, in order to be on the safe side, it is well to follow the fertilizer application with a sprayer irrigation. The latter may actually be no more than taking the garden hose, with the nozzle adjusted for a fine mist, and spraying the entire lawn surface.

1962 Rose Selections Are Largest in 12 Years

Sound a fanfare! Sound four fanfares, one for each of the 1962 All-American Rose Selections. This is the first time in 12 years that four awards have been made.

The winners, which will be available in time for fall planting, are:

CHRISTIAN DIOR—An iridescent crimson and scarlet hybrid tea, the first crimson hybrid tea to merit the award in nine years.

GOLDEN SLIPPERS.

An orange and gold floribunda that is fragrant and offers dramatic new color among floribundas.

JOHN S. ARMSTRONG

A deep, velvety red grandiflora that reportedly does not vary in color from bud to full blown stage; an offspring of the famed Charlotte Armstrong.

KING'S RANSOM

A chrome yellow hybrid tea, the first of its color and kind in 12 years to carry off this coveted prize of rosehood.

These four winners raise to 39 the number of AARS winners since the awards first were bestowed in 1940.

Christian Dior has bright, crimson petals that form large blooms. The buds are pointed. The stems are long and the plant is tall and upright. The fragrance is light and tea-like. This hybrid is based on 16 years of experimentation by the late French hybridizer Francis Meiland.

Golden Slippers has new color tones for a floribunda. The buds are flushed with red. The plant is sturdy and compact and the foliage is bright green. The fragrance is described as like an apple "rechant" in autumn.

John S. Armstrong is dark red. It is the third grandiflora to have made the select AARS grade. It has medium-size buds that open to four-inch flowers in grandiflora-style clusters. Stems are long enough for cutting. The plant is upright and free-branched, growing to four to five and a half feet and approximately as wide.

King's Ransom has full flowers five to six inches across with a fruity fragrance and on long stems. The foliage is glossy, dark green and the plant is tall and full.

Lawn Faucets So Convenient

The season is fast approaching for those blessed with a green thumb and one of the biggest assets you can give yourself in nurturing your lawn and garden is through the installation of conveniently located lawn faucets.

By having these faucets installed around your house, garage, and yard you will be able to provide ample amounts of water to your garden and lawn areas when and where they are required. Additionally, such installations will save you the trouble of unreeing and dragging several lengths of hose to where the water is needed.

For those living in cold weather regions there is no longer any worry about remembering to shut off the out-door faucets in winter. A non-freeze faucet is available and is designed with a built-in shut-off valve to protect the pipes from freezing.

This kind of faucet is installed at a slight downward angle that allows natural draining of the water when the valve has been closed. The location of lawn faucets should be given careful consideration when you and your contractor plan the plumbing system for a new home. In existing homes, your plumbing contractor should be consulted to arrange for the installation of additional faucets.

Water Makes Difference

The most vital ingredient in a good lawn—assuming you've purchased quality seed!—and sown it according to direction—is water. Water should be applied, in the cool of the day, and infrequent, thorough soakings are much more effective than continuous shallow watering. You want the water to seep down, where they'll be secure from heat and frost alike, firmly anchoring the grassy turf, rather than up.

Farm and Garden News

BIRD HOUSE WATCHER—It's a tough job to keep Russell Field's bird houses on the steel posts that surround his garden in Waterford Township. Tourists spot them, and ask to purchase the unique little houses — and the gentleman usually responds: Field, a Pontiac Motor employee, started his hobby some time ago when he was recuperating from a minor operation.

Villain Crabgrass Can Be Killed

Crabgrass, capable of producing 50,000 to 100,000 seeds from a single plant, grows rapidly during the hot summer months. Seeds germinate immediately or lie dormant for years before sprouting. Crabgrass kills lawns by inches, smothering desirable grasses.

Roots steal moisture and nutrients from the soil. When crabgrass dies, after the seed is produced or after the first killing frost, it leaves bare spots liberally sprinkled with seeds on the lawn.

Chlorane will prevent germination of a high percentage of crabgrass seed. Re application for several years is necessary to destroy the seed supply which can lie dormant for extended periods.

Fence Post Bird Houses Pleasing to People Too

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Take care of his beautiful flowers and keeping his vegetable garden in good shape is an all-time job for Russell W. Field of Waterford Township, but keeping his hot steel fence posts covered from the weather has turned out to be a number one headache for the gentleman.

Field covers the top of the fence posts surrounding his garden with unique little bird houses, and people driving by his house become fascinated — stop and try to talk the man into selling the miniature structures.

As of today, there are 15 bird houses of various sizes and colors perched on the top of the poles — each an individual "home" of its own. Some are plain, others fancy with latte-cut gingerbread trim running from the roof tops down each side to the base.

Most of the bird houses were originally designed for the perky little wrens that come back year after year. However, last week Field noticed a large barn swallow trying to get through the quarter-sized opening on one of the more elaborately decorated houses.

He switched houses, putting a larger house on the post for the bigger bird. Mrs. Swallow would have no part of that and after locating the original house (on another pole), she persistently tried to squeeze through the small opening.

Needless to say, Field merely made the door of the tiny wren house larger and the "expectant" lady bird went to work building a nest for her young.

Field and his wife, Martha live on top of a hill at 3387 Clintonville Road, and have a fine view of four different lakes within a "stone's throw" of their front porch.

Because they have no children, the couple have acquired a yen to help propagate Michigan's waning bird life, and the annual visit of cardinals, chickadees, juncos and blue jays has already started.

Flocks of quail and pheasants are some of the steady customers that invade the Field's tulip-hyacinth filled garden. Corn, oats and other birdland goodies are sprinkled all over. The pleasure the couple get from watching the antics of their feathered friends is "more fun than anything," Field concluded.

Keep Plants in Clay Pots When You Put Them Out

Most house plants enjoy indoors can also provide portable beauty in your garden or on your patio or terrace if you use them the right way. When you buy plants or receive them as gifts, make sure they remain in clay pots, since substitute non-porous containers cannot be effectively submerged in the ground, or in window box or planter soil for they would retain too much moisture.

The red clay pot's breathing holes allow excess moisture and harmful salts to leech out and insure healthier plant growth. Clay pots also keep plant roots 10 to 15 degrees cooler during the hot summer months.

Flower Garden Soil Needs Enriching

To enrich soil for your flower garden, add rotted manure and a commercial fertilizer. A complete fertilizer is a five-to-five mixture of nitrogen-phosphorus-potash. Use about one and a half pounds per 100 square feet. Use about one pound of prepared manure per three square feet.

Fast growing spring weeds are tough competition for grass. They steal nutrition, water, sun—and growing room. Once they're entrenched, much of the damage is done.

A single application of BONUS now will foil the weeds and favor the grass. BONUS kills dandelions, plantain, buckhorn, all similar weeds—and at the same time feeds grass to greener beauty.

Weed as you feed, an entire 5000 sq ft lawn area in less than half an hour. Just fill the Scotts Spreader with clean, granular BONUS, set the dial—and—walk!

Hardy Roses Respond to Loving Care.

While it is generally conceded that it is next to impossible to kill the hardy rosebush, either with kindness or neglect, the more carefully tended the rose the more beautiful the flower.

When one considers the great effort and research that goes into the creation of today's modern rose—the simple tasks the plants ask are easy ones.

At this time of year pruning established plants should be the rose gardener's greatest concern. Though pruning tasks by now should be almost completed, there are a few pointers for the tardy rosearian.

Prune according to the individual plant. First remove all dead wood. Next remove any deformed wood and all small twiggy growth. From this point the extent of additional pruning shall be governed by the general vigor and size of each plant.

For the largest blooms with the longest stems, trim off approximately one-half of the upper canes making the cuts one quarter inch above a bud. If you want many blooms, with shorter stems, remove only one-third in the same manner. This is a matter of individual preference.

FEED PLANTS

Even if your garden contains the vigorous growing All-America Rose varieties, it's a poor future for starving plants and proper fertilizing is an important item to remember for good production of bloom. Continue using your favorite brand or have your local nurseryman recommend a brand he approves of or order by mail.

Be sure to follow the instructions on the package. Fertilize now so that your plants will have the proper nourishment to get a good start. Water in well after fertilizing. With the stimulation of growth through fertilization, roses need moisture to maintain an even growth. Where rainfall is not enough to soak the soil at least two inches a week, supplement with weekly waterings that would be the equivalent of a good rain. Don't sprinkle from the top, it's the roots and not the foliage that require moisture.

As foliage begins to appear, be certain to begin a maintenance program of dusting or spraying. Tests have proven conclusively that even more blooms and stronger plants are the positive result of this care. As with any chemicals, follow the recommendation of the manufacturer or your nurseryman.

Memorial Trees Planted at Base

"What could be more fitting than a growing memorial to a friend or relative you wish to honor?" reads a full page advertisement donated by the Wichita Falls, Texas, Times to help further memorial plantings of trees at Sheppard Air Force Base. The slogan is "Plant a tree at S.A.F.B."

The memorial plantings are sponsored by the U.S.O., with the newspaper and the Wichita Falls Nurserymen Association cooperating. Metal tags bearing the names of loved ones to be remembered are attached to the trees. According to the American Association of Nurserymen, peaches, plums, pears, apples as well as pecan trees are planted as memorials.

Soil Must Be Crumbly Before You Can Plant

If you work your soil thoroughly, planting will be easier, especially if you have heavy soil that gets very wet. Working the soil when it is wet causes the earth particles to pack. The result may be clods during the gardening season.

How can you determine whether the soil is dry enough to work? Squeeze a fistful into a ball. Then break it apart with your fingers. If the lump crumbles readily, go to work. If the soil sticks together and cannot be separated easily, wait a while. Spade your garden soil to a depth of about eight inches.

Daisies Come Under Many Latin Names

What do you mean when you say Daisy? There are African, African Lilac, English, American, Barberton, Transvaal, Painted, Shasta, Gloriosa Daisies, and many more, most of which are only distantly related.

To be exact (and to get what you want in your garden), look for daisies under the botanical name.

African is Dimorphotheca African Lilac is Arctotis American is Centaurea Americana English is Bellis Barberton and Transvaal are Gerbera Livingston is Mesembryanthemum cristifolium Painted is Chrysanthemum carinatum, if you mean the annual kind, and Pyrethrum if you want the perennial Shasta is Chrysanthemum leucanthemum Gloriosa is Rudbeckia tetraloid

Hawaii Marigolds

Many gardeners and flower-arrangers are displeased by the sharp scent of marigold. The new Hawaii is touted as having odorless foliage and delicately honey-scented flowers of rich orange color. The plants are supposed to grow to 18 inches and the flowers to have long stems for cutting.

Ground Cover. Helpful to Trees

Reluctant lawn-mowers of America, unite! Take cover — ground cover.

Ground covers are often called "living mulch." They can help both your landscaping and your pocketbook to do things other than lawn mowing, of a week-end. Take it from C. A. Hogg, field representative of the Davy Tree Expert Co., beds of ground cover are the nearest thing to the ideal "forest floor" on the restricted home property.

Work-saving cover plants have many advantages. They conserve moisture, cool the soil in summer, warm it in winter and trap quantities of autumn leaves that need not be raked away. Used in shady areas, ground covers reduce bed maintenance around major shade trees.

Best of all, taking care of the ground cover is simple. Occasional edging, possibly some weeding of the beds, and annual spreading of a good fertilizer are all that are needed.

However, ground cover initially does require well-prepared beds, rich in humus. Peat moss or a compost used liberally in the top four to six inches of soil should the trick and give years of good service.

Some ground covers that help elder trees by restoring forest conditions are vinca-minor, pachysandra and ajuga. Vining plants, such as Echinomys coloratus or Ballea, are most satisfactory where only a few large plants are concerned. However, their climbing habits are undesirable in beds of deciduous shrubbery or low evergreens.

Keep Mower Sharp

A common fault of the average homeowner is using a mower that is dull. For a lawn to look attractive, a sharp mower must always be used. This prevents the grass tips from being sheared off and displaying a dead zone at the tips.

Waterford Seeks PCH's State Championship

Area Net Regionals Start at Cranbrook

The annual tennis regionals got under way at Cranbrook today for Class A and B schools in the area. Semifinals and championship matches in both divisions are scheduled tomorrow morning.

The Class A field included Central and Northern of Pontiac, Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Southfield, Lapeer, Plymouth and Livonia Bentley.

The host Cranes, Birmingham Groves, Milford, Northville, Clarkston and Riverdale were the "B" schools taking part.

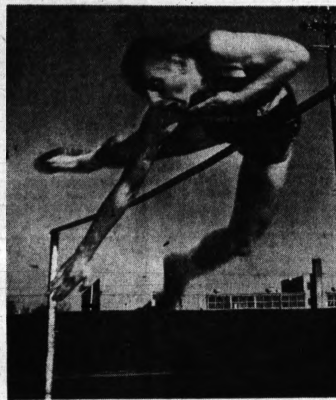

Competition will be held in both doubles and singles for schools in both classes.

Bill White posted wins in the 100 under way at Cranbrook today for Class A and B schools in the area. Semifinals and championship matches in both divisions are scheduled tomorrow morning.

The Class A field included Central and Northern of Pontiac, Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Southfield, Lapeer, Plymouth and Livonia Bentley.

The host Cranes, Birmingham Groves, Milford, Northville, Clarkston and Riverdale were the "B" schools taking part.

Competition will be held in both doubles and singles for schools in both classes.

GREAT EFFORT—Terry Wilson's face shows the effort he is putting into this attempt at clearing the bar in the high jump. The Waterford thinclad will be competing in the state meet Saturday. He finished second to teammate Ed Stigers against Farmington Thursday.

Falls 'Tripped' in Meet; Walled Lake Is Winner

Waterford's Joe Falls was "tripped" up for the first time in a dual meet this spring.

This didn't keep the Skippers from ending their dual season unbeaten for the first time in 21 years. The school's history with an 80 1/2-2/3 victory over Farmington Thursday afternoon.

ABC Scoring Hits One of Lowest Days

DETROIT (AP)—Scoring in the minor events of the 58th American Bowling Congress Championships slumped Thursday to one of the lowest levels since the tournament got underway 76 days ago.

Robert Leclair of Port Huron, Mich., and Al Beier of Fort Wayne Ind., tied for the day's high singles count, 658.

Thinclads Meet at East Lansing Track Saturday

Waterford, Birmingham Among Top Five Teams in Class A

If performances during the regular season mean anything, Pontiac Central's reign as Class A track champion will come to an end in less than 24 hours.

The Chiefs put their crown on the line Saturday at East Lansing. Five contenders are waiting to grab the glory should PCH falter as expected.

This doesn't mean the title will leave Oakland County. Waterford is a strong contender and Birmingham must be rated an outside chance. Lansing Sexton, Flint Northern and Groves Pointe are the other powers with Northern the top favorite.

Cranbrook is being given a good chance to take the Class B championship away from Ecorse at Ann Arbor.

Coach Dean Wilson has half miler Jim Nelson and shot putter Brad Pittchett as leading candidates in their events. The mile relay team also could break the tape.

AFTER RECORD Pritchett is defending champion. He will be trying to break his own state shot mark of 59 feet 5 1/2 inches set last year.

Joe Falls and Dennis Tripp are Waterford's top hurdlers who finished high among obstacle runners in the state after regional meets last week.

Falls qualified for the 120-yard high hurdles by registering the fastest time in the state—14.6. Tripp qualified for the highs while another Waterford hurdler, Ed Stigers, made it to the state 180-yard low hurdles race with Falls.

Waterford's talent doesn't end there. Mike Kaines ran into the one-mile finals with the best qualifying time in the state regionals—4:25.4, one of the fastest miles run in out-state competition this season.

SPEED VIKING Flint Northern's chief weapon will be Dennis McGee, who qualified for the 220 and 100-yard dashes and is a member of Northern's 880-yard relay team which will take a shot at a state record.

McGee turned in the best qualifying time in the 220, running the distance in 21.5, one-tenth of a second short of the state record.

Michigan, Titans and WM Eye NCAA Playoffs

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven teams have qualified for the eight district playoffs to the 1961 National Collegiate Baseball championship to be held in Omaha, Neb., the week of June 9-14, the NCAA announced today.

A total of 28 teams will compete in the playoffs for the eight final berths.

The teams which have qualified are Arizona U., Texas U., University of Southern California, Fresno, Oklahoma State, Florida State and Brigham Young.

Minnesota is very likely to be named as one of the District 4 representatives because of its this year.

position as defending champion. The Gophers currently are third in the Big Ten with a 9-3 conference record. Michigan, conference leader with 8-1, Western Michigan and Detroit also are high on the list. The Big Ten champion no longer qualifies automatically but the committee may pick more than one of its teams.

Bonus Boy in 'B'

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Pitcher Ray Culp, who reportedly received a $50,000 bonus for signing with the Philadelphia Phillies three years ago, has been sent from Williamsport of the Class A Eastern League to Des Moines of the Class B Thoroughbred League. Culp of Houston, Tex., had dropped his first four games with the Grays yesterday.

May End Indiana's Probation Today

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Indiana University hopes to get off the hook today as Big Ten faculty representatives consider a resolution.

The school was put on probation by Commissioner K. L. "Doc" Wilson a year ago for alleged improper recruiting practices. Wilson reportedly is satisfied that Indiana has changed its recruiting methods.

The probation suspended Indiana from last fall's conference football race and prevented the school from receiving any football television receipts.

In the opening of their three-day meeting Thursday, Big Ten leaders discussed the mushrooming college basketball scandal, and announced that conference players "have never been investigated or been subject to suspicion of point-rigging."

Commissioner-elect Bill Reed said the Big Ten uses a special betting survey service to keep close tab on unusual betting switches involving conference games.

"We recognize that gambling does exist on a widespread basis," Reed said. "Where there is an exchange of gambling money, there will be chisellers and attempts made to fix games."

"We have recognized this evil and have emphasized among the conference players and coaches they should be wary of any improper approaches by strangers," Reed said.

The conference faculty representatives also revised the Big Ten's controversial financial aid plan to athletes, but they did not eliminate the "need" provision in the present program which has been in effect for four years.

The representatives proposed that a high school athlete now must establish a "predictable grade point average" of slightly below a C in his freshman year. At present, a prep athlete in the upper two thirds of his high school class could obtain a scholarship, based on need.

Also changed was the proviso which allowed a superior student-athlete to get a "full ride" if he graduated in the upper one-fourth of his high school class.

This was changed to permit full aid if an athlete can demonstrate ability to reach a predictable grade-point average of a C.

The modifying action must still be approved by individual schools which have three months to consider the action.

The Federal Reserve can regulate at least part of these credit purchases by changing the official margin rate. In July 1960 the rate was 90 per cent. But stock prices were weak then and the rate was lowered to 70 per cent.

Says Helicopter Trio Alive, Well in Red-Held Laos

BAN NAMONE, Laos (AP)—A neutralist report today that two American fliers and an American television cameraman missing since their helicopter went down in rebel territory are alive and well.

Presumably they are prisoners of the Pathet Lao, but the Pathet Lao said only they had not heard of the incident and would check.

The Americans aboard the helicopter when it went down Monday 50 miles northwest of Vientiane were NBC cameraman Grant Wolfkill of Shelton, Wash., and Hong Kongers Galloway, Tenn., and flight mechanic John P. McMorro of Brooklyn.

The helicopter was spotted in a rice field, apparently undamaged, by air searchers Wednesday.
