Mountain of Fire Threatens House

ROARING FLAMES—Uncontrolled fire roars around this home in the Santa Monica Mountains of California as a firefighter stands by. Water sprinklers on the roof helped spare it. Officials said the brush fire has so far charred more than 18,500 acres of land north of the film colony at Malibu.

Hoffa Proposes to Halt Trucks for 36 Hours

Says Tieup Starting Saturday Planned as Protest to Legal Ban

DETROIT (AP)—Plans for a threatened 36-hour halt to much of Michigan's trucking operations will be taken up today by the Teamsters Union.

The proposal by teamster boss James R. Hoffa goes before stewards of the union tonight at 8 o'clock.

Hoffa revealed yesterday that he would order almost all truck operations in the state suspended between 9 a.m. Saturday and 9 p.m. Sunday. The stoppage would dramatize the union's opposition to a proposed state law which would ban most trucking on Michigan highways on weekends and holidays.

Hoffa said he would pull some 4,000 truck drivers off the road. But he said the stoppage would not affect delivery of milk, bread and other foodstuffs.

While he did not spell out the scope of the threatened shutdown, a source close to the trucking industry said it probably would not halt such regularly scheduled deliveries as newspapers.

It would primarily halt the movement of haulaways, moving vans, gasoline tankers and auto parts trucks, the source said.

The association called on Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo for help in persuading Hoffa against carrying out his threat. Trucking officials also appealed to the office of Gov. Williams for aid in blocking the stoppage.

William W. Johnston, managing director of the association, said his group joins the teamsters union in opposing the proposed bill banning weekend truck operations.

But he said to suspend operations until 9 p.m. Sunday and then release a flood of trucks on Michigan highways in the midst of the New Year's holiday travel might well prove "disastrous" to public safety.

A bill to curtail trucking on Michigan highways on weekends and holidays came up in the last legislative session but was defeated. But an identical measure is scheduled to be introduced at the lawmaking session beginning next month.

Sponsors of the plan say that restricting truck travel to week days would leave the highways free for motorists on weekends and cut down traffic accidents.

'Dream Car' a $28 Million Flop

Preston D. Tucker Dies in Hospital

YPSILANTI (INS) — Funeral service for Preston Thomas Tucker, who tossed millions of dollars around like marbles but never got his "dream car" into production, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in Ypsilanti. Burial will be in Michigan Memorial Park, Flat Rock.

The 53-year-old would-be automobile manufacturer died late yesterday in Beyer Memorial Hospital, Ypsilanti. Suffering from lung cancer, Tucker entered the hospital three weeks ago and contracted pneumonia shortly before his death.

Tucker was best known for his revolutionary post-war rear-engine "Torpedo," which turned out to be a $28 million flop.

The Securities Exchange Commission called the car an "engineering monstrosity" and some states prohibited trading in the company's stock, which dipped from $5 a share to 40 cents before the firm went bankrupt.

In 1946, Tucker leased from the government the war surplus Chrysler-Dodge airplane engine plant in Chicago and obtained an option to buy it for $30 million.

He gathered about him some of the top minds in the auto industry and announced plans to employ 35,000 workers and produce 1,500 cars a day.

The following year, the "Tucker Torpedo" was denounced as a "Tin Goose" that collapsed to the floor before it was run off the assembly line.

In 1949, Tucker and seven associates were brought to trial for mail fraud, but were finally acquitted. They lost the plant the same year and by 1955, the company was bankrupt. Tucker blamed big Detroit interests for keeping his car off the market.

Born in Capac, Tucker joined the Lincoln Park Police Department in 1923 and served as a motorcycle cop for several years before entering the automotive industry.

He operated the Tucker Corporation in Chicago and the Ypsilanti Machine and Tool Company.

One of Tucker's sons said his father never gave up. When he was stricken with his final illness he was negotiating with Brazilian financiers to put a small car on the South American market. He had made annual trips to Brazil for three years.

PRESTON TUCKER

Get on Muffler; Don't Be Snuffler; You'll Be Puff-ler

Pontiac area residents will find those Christmas mufflers, mittens, comforters and electric blankets very handy items tonight as the U. S. Weatherman forecasts cloudy and colder with snow flurries tomorrow.

The predicted low for tonight is a frosty 30-34.

Tomorrow a high of 34-38 is expected.

Preceding 8 a.m. the lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac was 30 degrees.

At 2 p.m. the mercury registered 37.

Award Prizes for Yule Display

Jaycees Name Winners in Citywide Competition for Best Lighting

Grand prize in the 1956 Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce Lighting Contest went to Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Cox of 968 Kenilworth Ave.

Winner on the east side of Pontiac was Paul Lehith at 42 N. Ardmore Ave. West side winner was William J. Roach of 1005 Canterbury Dr.

The judging of the 25 entries in this year's contest was held last night. Judges were Pontiac General Hospital Director Miss Lauretta Paul, Leslie H. Hudson, Pontiac's State Representative, Wayne H. Gabert, local appliance dealer, and Curtis E. Patton, local insurance agent.

Robert Elert, chairman of the event, called the contest "very successful and very close." "I only hope we get more entries for next year," he said.

The Cox display will be photographed and submitted as the city's entry in the $5,000 General Electric nationwide lighting contest. The Cox's received a steam iron and electric frying pan as grand prize.

The Cox display centered around a large three-section picture window in their home. Mrs. Cox painted the Nativity Scene, Three Wise Men, and Shepherds in the three panels. Outside were decorated trees and a victrola playing Christmas carols.

One Man Dies as 8,000 Flee From Flames

31-35 Luxurious Homes Destroyed, 32 Square Miles Blackened

MALIBU BEACH, Calif. (INS)—The gale-whipped Malibu fire, which has destroyed dozens of luxurious homes and thousands of acres of brushland, burned with unabated fury today, threatening more houses in its path.

After the first day of the holocaust, the toll stands at one man dead, some 8,000 persons fleeing from the path of the flames, 115 structures burned, including 31 to 35 homes, and more than 60 persons burned or injured.

In addition, 32 square miles have been blackened and much livestock and wildlife destroyed.

Two new hot spots appeared early today. One raced down Corral Canyon, extending the fire perimeter eastward toward the swank Hollywood film colony of Malibu Beach, and the other fanned out in Sequit Canyon on the western perimeter.

Firefighters feared that the Sequit Canyon blaze, pushed on by winds up to 50 miles an hour, could burn hundreds of thousands of acres of mountain brushland if not checked.

* * *

Meantime, families continued to abandon their homes before the flames. As a precautionary measure 300 families were ordered out of Corral Canyon.

Nine hundred men with dozens of pieces of equipment are waiting down and bulldozing up the crackling-dry brush in an effort to halt the wind-blown flames.

Scores of homes are still in the path of the fire, and firemen have been powerless to halt the sometimes creeping, sometimes leap-frogging flames.

Among the mansions destroyed was the $70,000 Trancas Beach home of Ralph Edwards, master of ceremonies star of the "This Is Your Life" television program.

The home of actor Hugh O'Brien, TV's "Wyatt Earp," was also reported destroyed.

Edwards' home and others at exclusive Trancas Beach were leveled when the fire swept down out of the hills in back of them and jumped the Pacific Coast highway, which should have proved a sufficient barrier except for the fury of the flames.

In the same burst of destruction the curiously-fashioned "lighthouse" and "boathouse" residences, which stood side-by-side on Broad Beach road, went up in flames. The "lighthouse" was built by actress Pauline Fredericks in the 1920s. Later actor Lew Cody lived there.

The fire is burning on an eight-

Chamber Elects New Directors

5 Members to Serve 2 Year Terms; Choose Officers Next Week

Five new members of the Board of Directors of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce were elected yesterday by members of the Chamber. They will serve 1957-59 terms.

Elected were: Rev. Edward D. Auchard, associate pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; Edward P. Barrett, member of the Patterson & Patterson and Barrett law firm; Frederick J. Poole, vice president of the F. J. Poole Co., Stuart E. Whitfield, vice president of Pontiac State Bank; and Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac public schools.

Chamber Manager John W. Hirlinger said 608 ballots were cast for the new officers.

* * *

Leaving the Board of Directors with terms expiring Dec. 31 are: John P. Niggeman, William H. Knudsen, Homer C. Jackson, D. B. Eames, Floyd H. Baker, and Ralph T. Norvell, who served as ex-officio member as retiring past president.

The five new officers will serve on the 15-member board with Bernard W. Crandell, Frank S. Lyndall, George E. Wyman, Edward A. Maier, Dr. George N. Petroff (terms expire 1958); B. Ralph Eastridge, Henry E. Gotham, Reginald T. Nicholas, Curtis E. Patton, and John A. Riley (terms expire next year).

The 1957 president and officers of the Chamber will be named next week. Hirlinger said.

Franchise Revoked in Florida

Integrated Buses Rile Dixie Cities

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (INS) — Police today arrested the manager and nine drivers of the Cities Transit Company for running a bus company without a franchise.

The arrests came as a result of a meeting of the city commission late last night in which the members voted to revoke the company's franchise "because it was not enforcing a city ordinance requiring segregation on city buses."

In Birmingham, Ala., Negroes were riding the buses this morning, in a segregated seating arrangement. Police reported no arrests or complaints.

Last night about 400 Negroes voted to discontinue the integration movement on the buses, until the cases of the 21 Negroes arrested yesterday come up for court action.

However, the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, a Negro leader in Birmingham, read a telegram from the Rev. Martin L. King, a Negro integration leader in Montgomery, asking Negroes to continue riding the buses.

In Montgomery, Ala., violence erupted last night when rifle and shotgun fire riddled two city buses. No one was hurt, but the shootings marked the most serious action in Montgomery since the Supreme Court order became effective and whites and Negroes began riding the buses on an equal basis.

In Tallahassee bus operation returned to normal about an hour after bus company man-

C. E. Wilson Plans to Stay in Cabinet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles E. Wilson indicated today he expects to continue as secretary of defense at least until next summer.

Wilson, returning from a holiday at his Michigan home, was asked if he would remain in his job until action on the military budget is completed by Congress, usually in July.

"My present intention," Wilson replied, "is to see it (the budget) through.

"But I might change my mind, of course.

French Act on Saar Pact

PARIS (AP)—The upper house of the French Parliament last night approved 209-66 the French-German treaty returning the Saar Valley to West Germany. The National Assembly ratified it Dec. 12.

Egyptians Agree to Salvage Fleet

United Nations' Plan to Clear Suez Canal Gets Cairo Support

CAIRO (AP)—Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler announced today the Egyptian government has agreed the U.N. salvage fleet can begin clearing the southern end of the Suez Canal immediately.

Cairo newspapers said Egyptian technicians already had started clearing channels at Ismailia, the canal midpoint, and Suez, its southern terminus, "preparatory to conducting research about sunken ships." But this obviously referred only to the clearing of mines from the channel, begun by the Egyptians earlier this week.

A British ship and two French vessels are continuing salvage operations in the Port Said harbor, the canal's northern entrance. This work was begun by the British occupation force, which also cleared a channel through the northern third of the canal to El Cap.

Just Forget the Tree— Return Tie by Jan. 3

If you can't stand that new Christmas tie, or that sweater is two sizes too small, and you would rather have cash instead of that square egg fryer, you have until Jan. 3 in Pontiac to make these exchanges.

The Retail Merchants Assn. of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday exchanges of Christmas gift merchandise should be made no later than Thursday, Jan. 3.

This date is also applicable to all stores in the Tel-Huron Shopping center, according to Fred J. Niedelson, president of the Tel-Huron Merchants Assn.

Plane With 8 Aboard Crashes in Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The Alaskan Air Command reported today that a four-engine tanker plane carrying eight men had crashed northwest of Willow, 50 miles north of Anchorage.

It was not known whether there were any survivors. A ground party was enroute to the crash scene.

Southfield Father of 5 Sits it Out in Jail, Hopes Legal Technicality Will Free Him

Harold Murphy, 51-year-old Southfield Township father of five who refuses to pay a debt as a matter of principal, may end his 24-day stay in Oakland County Jail tomorrow because of a legal technicality.

The loophole was disclosed yesterday at a hearing before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland on a motion by Murphy's attorney to dismiss the writ which landed the tool and die man in jail. Murphy was jailed because he claims he was innocent in an assault case three years ago and won't pay the judgment decided against him.

A 1952 jury found Murphy guilty and handed down a $1,250 judgment in favor of a Ferndale shoe store owner who claimed Murphy struck him twice in a fight over a pair of shoes.

Murphy's attorney, William John Beer, yesterday showed by an examination of county records that the judgment had never been officially entered, which means, he suggested, that all subsequent action against Murphy has been of doubtful legality.

The latest action was by a Pontiac man, John McCabe, who owns the Finance System of Pontiac, a company which purchased the judgment after Murphy had made only $100 in payments on the debt.

McCabe obtained a writ to jail Murphy for non-payment Nov. 28 and had him jailed Dec. 4.

Judge Holland gave McCabe's attorney, LeRoy McEntee, until 9:30 a.m. tomorrow to study the matter of the county record. McCabe said the disclosure came as "a complete surprise."

Beer—who yesterday said, "I can't think of anything more harmful and mischievous than finance companies being allowed to buy up such judgments and to lodge people in jail"—believed the error in the court record was the fault of the plaintiff's attorney at the 1952 trial.

* * *

"I imagine he neglected to make a motion that the jury's judgment be entered on the record," he said.

Murphy today said he doesn't mind in the least staying another day at what he calls Sheriff Frank W. Irons' "hotel." He is allowed to roam the jail at will and eats the same meals as the sheriff.

"In fact," said the 260-pound Irishman, "I'm gaining weight."

Waterford Township Dump Plans Halted

Residents Voice Protests Again

Third Site Selected Meets Fate of Others; Plan Further Study

At the regular weekly meeting of the Waterford Township board held at 1 p.m. yesterday, 12 residents were present to protest the latest proposed dump site on Hospital Road.

* * *

This the third time that a group of taxpayers have appeared before the township board protesting a dump site selected by board members.

The two other tracts of land chosen for disposal purposes were at the corner of Crescent Lake road and M-59, and at Pontiac Lake road just west of Hospital Road.

The latest land was owned by J. D. Whitehead on Hospital Road just north of Cooley Lake Road.

"This is getting to be a problem," Supervisor Lloyd Anderson, said. "Waterford Township people need, and want a community dump, but where to locate is what's bothering us."

* * *

Board members chose the Whitehead property because it was low and swampy, and the owner promised to cover the debris periodically in order to fill in the low land.

Home-owners protested the site selection because of sanitary and odor nuisances that they said would result from the dumping.

The residents also contended that they are paying to have Hospital Road black-topped, and the traffic of heavy dump trucks would ruin the road.

The township board tabled the dump-site issue until further study into the matter could be obtained.

* * *

The board authorized Police Chief Frank Van Atta to purchase two new sirens for the recently purchased scout cars.

A new automatic water softener will be installed in the Waterford Township hall, as authorized by board members.

The next regular meeting of the board will be held next Wednesday at 1 p.m., due to the holiday season.

Suspect Sniper in Girl's Assault

Royal Oak Girl Beaten; Police Seek Gunman Who Shot at 2 Others

The sniper who wounded a 14-year-old Royal Oak girl Friday night and narrowly missed a housewife, is thought to have added a 15-year-old girl to his list of victims, according to State Police.

The girl was severely beaten and attacked by the unknown assailant last Friday as she and her 17-year-old escort sat in a parked car in Southfield Township.

Detective Russel Leemgraven of the Redford Post said the time of the attack and the description tied in with the other two unsolved cases.

The young couple were en route from their homes in Royal Oak to a church party when the man attacked them. He locked the boy in the trunk of the car and then attacked the girl, police said. The boy escaped by loosening the hinge bolts in the trunk. The man then fled into a field.

* * *

The same man is believed to have wounded Cindy Estes of Royal Oak and fired upon the other woman waiting at a bus stop.

Southfield Township Police reported the third attack after reading newspaper accounts of the others, Leemgraven said.

Commission Agenda Brief; Informal Session to Follow

A holiday abbreviated agenda containing only five items will be a prelude to a longer and more important informal slate of business when the Pontiac City Commission convenes at 8 tonight.

Commissioners last Tuesday moved their weekly session to tonight because of Christmas falling on Tuesday, their regular meeting night. The same action is expected to be taken this evening to move next week's to Thursday also.

As requested by Commissioner John E. Carry (District 6) last week, th rezoning to Commercial 2 of two lots in the Homestead Park Subdivision No. 1 will be reconsidered at tonight's session.

Carry asked for this action as several residents of his district said they had not been notified of a public hearing before an ordinance was adopted approving this change.

The Practical Home Builders Inc. has submitted a letter regarding an alley assessment in the Pontiac Knolls Subdivision.

Rounding out the short slate will be the routine approval of licenses and electrician bonds in the city.

After adjourning the formal session, commissioners will jump into a six-point informal discussion including the 1957 capital improvement program, the Pontiac Police Officers Assn.'s request for civil service, additions of four members to the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees, and a five-point request from the Pontiac Municipal Employes Assn.

The informal meeting is not open to the public.

Identify Pedestrian

DETROIT (AP) — Police today identified a pedestrian who was killed Christmas Eve in a Detroit accident as Joseph Cerjak, 72, of Detroit.

Woman Driver Charged With Leaving Accident

Charged with leaving the scene of an auto accident in which two drivers were injured, Mrs. Fern S. Eason, 30, of 156 Putnam Ave. yesterday was freed under $100 bond by Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Mrs. Eason waived examination and was bound over for arraignment Wednesday in Circuit Court on the charge she rammed two cars with locked bumpers on Baldwin avenue Dec. 23 and left the scene without identifying herself.

Jailed on Drinking Count

Carl S. Reynolds, 63, of 292 Raeburn St., yesterday pleaded guilty to a drinking charge involving a five-car property damage accident Christmas Eve. He was sentenced to 20 days in jail when he failed to pay a $100 fine levied by Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Police claimed Reynolds turned from Osmun street onto South Jessie street at a high rate of speed to strike one moving car and three that were parked.

Pontiac Deaths

Fred Dunham

Fred Dunham, 86, of 16 Chippewa Rd. died yesterday after an illness of several years.

Mr. Dunham was a city resident for 46 years, coming here from Carleton. He was a retired iron worker for General Motors and a member of the Maccabees.

Surviving besides his widow are four daughters, Mrs. Richard Murray of Pontiac, Mrs. S. G. Tilden of Glen Cove, N.Y., Mrs. L. D. Heywood of New York City, and Mrs. J. Musselman of Gleasondale, Mass. In addition, 10 grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Lisle Shanahan of Los Angeles, Calif., survive.

Mrs. George Jackson

Mrs. George (Eliza) Jackson, 47, of 1249 Lafayette St., Detroit, and former resident of Pontiac, died in Detroit last Tuesday of injuries suffered in an auto accident.

Born in St. Charles, she was the daughter of Samuel and Rose Chatfield. Mrs. Jackson attended school in Saginaw.

Surviving besides her husband, George Jackson, are three children, Rosalee, Helen, and Donald Jackson, all of Pontiac. Also surviving is a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Wapinew, of Mt. Pleasant.

Service will be held at 11 a.m., Saturday, at Farmer-Snover Funeral Home.

George Riley Logan

George Riley Logan, 79, of 397 N. Perry St. died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He had been in ill health nine years.

Born in New Haven, Ill. on Aug. 3, 1877, he was the son of John and Mary Meed Logan.

A retired watchman of Wilson Foundry Corp., he had been a resident of Pontiac 13 years, coming here from Bernie, Mo.

Mr. Logan leaves his wife, the former Addie Riddle whom he married on Aug. 13, 1902 in Dexter, Mo.; four daughters, Mrs. Elaine Lordo of St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Gertrude Crews of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Alberta Smith and Mrs. Grace Webb, both of Pontiac.

Also surviving are nine grandchildren; six great-grandchildren; a brother, William Logan of Perryton, Tex. and a sister, Mrs. Belle Williams of Hood River, Ore.

Service will be at 2:30 p.m. Friday from the First General Baptist Church of which he was a member. The Rev. Robert Garner, his pastor, will officiate with burial in Perry Mount Park Cemetery. Arrangements are by the Pursley Funeral Home.

Mrs. Arthur E. Smith

Mrs. Arthur E. (Jenny May) Smith, 70, of 792 Corwin St. was dead on arrival Tuesday at Pontiac General Hospital.

A resident of Pontiac for 16 years, she was born on Jan. 4, 1886, in Payne, Ohio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Foltz.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Smith is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Eva Watkins of Flint, Mrs. Thelma Bartels of Mishawaka, Ind., and Mrs. Maxine Kulzer of South Bend, Ind. Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Mary Govednick of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. Martha Holford of Alanson.

Service will be held at 4 p.m. Friday from the Farmer-Snover Funeral Home, with burial in the Alanson Cemetery.

Jesse W. White

Jesse W. White of 97 Cottage St. died Tuesday afternoon in Pontiac General Hospital. He was 27.

Born in Russellville, Ky. on Feb. 22, 1929, he was the son of James and Hattie M. Miller White.

A press operator at Pontiac Motor Division, he came here from Russellville three years ago. Mr. White was a veteran of the Korean War.

Besides his mother and father, he is survived by two brothers, Charles J. of Pontiac and James White of Russellville; two sisters, Mrs. Mable Shelton of Cincinnati, Ohio and Pauline F. White of Russellville.

Mr. White's body was taken from the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home last night to Russellville for service and burial.

Mrs. Loren E. Bennett

Mrs. Loren E. (Bessie) Bennett, 67, of 110 W. Beverly Ave., died early this morning in Pontiac General Hospital.

He added that persons wishing to file petitions of nomination for township office will have until 4 p.m. Monday to do so. Fire or policemen on duty will accept petitions.

City Pair Admit $2,700 Breakin

Police Hunt Third Man Believed to Have Fled With Dixie Store Loot

Two men have confessed, Pontiac police said, to the $2,700 burglary of the Dixie Discount Store, 109 N. Saginaw St. last Friday, but a third thief, they fear, has escaped with most of the loot.

They suspect Charles Madrigal, 29, of 1286 Locke St., who his alleged partners claim, left Pontiac with $2,400 taken with a metal box from the store office, Det. James Bale said.

Held under $1,500 bonds apiece are Ivan K. Proffitt, 25, of 213 Parkdale Ave. and Norman G. Page, 25, of 353 Seward St. Both waived examination yesterday before Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum and were bound over for arraignment Wednesday in Circuit Court on charges of breaking and entering.

Proffitt and Page returned $300 of the loot, Bale said, after admitting to Bale and Det. Sgt. Raymond Meggitt they broke into the store through a basement door.

* * *

They said Madrigal had kept most of the money, planning to split it evenly later. However, the two men were picked up for questioning Sunday, Bale said, before the money was divided. A tip led to their arrests, Bale said.

Madrigal is described as 5 feet 8, about 160 pounds, of medium build and with blond hair and blue eyes.

Bale said it is not known if he is driving a car.

mile front in a section that has had less than an inch of rain since May. The brush is so tinder-dry that it explodes into flame and dives hundreds of feet, driven by swirling, gusty winds.

The one dead in the fire was Frank L. Dickover, 33, a Hughes Aircraft electronics research engineer. He ran off the road with his car and was burned to death while fleeing from his home in the hills.

The fire started yesterday morning and spread so quickly that residents of the area had little chance to save anything other than their lives.

Assistant County Fire Chief Roland W. Percy said the fire has been averaging 1,000 acres an hour "and there is no way of estimating when it will end."

Secretary of State Branch Orders Use of Two Plates

BIRMINGHAM—"Only one new license plate on a car or truck is the same as no plate at all in the eyes of the law," Delbert Ayles manager of the Birmingham Branch of Secretary of State said today that a few persons had been seen using the single plate.

"The past few years," Ayles said, "have seen cars manufactured with no provision for mounting a front plate. Some people are noticing this for the first time and are mounting the rear tag only as a temporary measure. It won't do! Put them both on or use the old plate until a front bracket can be obtained."

Ayles said license sales are slow this year. There was a spurt of buying at Christmas and several purchasers indicated the plates were to be Christmas presents.

Commercial sales are exceptionally slow, partly due to the fact that all the vehicles must be reweighed this year, he said.

Forestry and recreation officials dashed hopes for immediate skiing and sliding by saying that last night's snowfall is melting too rapidly. They said the snow must be deeper and the temperatures lower before anything could be done.

Fire marshal George Scott today asked residents to keep the holidays merry and happy by using extreme caution around indoor Christmas trees. "Keep them moist, keep them away from fire and excessive heat or throw them out" he advised. Above all make no attempt to burn discarded trees or other greens, in your fireplace."

The Army Engineer Corps in a recent letter to Birmingham City Commissioner said that recently increased funds have made it possible to start work on the River Rouge channel and collect material and data prepared by other agencies. Approved in 1949 the start on this detailed study was delayed by lack of funds and personnel and the Korean situation. The existing law requires that certain local participation in projects should be observed. The Corps representative, Peter C. Hyzer, outlined six steps including maintenance and operation of the project after it is completed.

William G. Wall

William G. Wall, 59, of 5910 Eastman, Walnut lake died today at his home after a long illness. For the past eleven years he had been a custodian of the Pontiac school system mostly at Wisner Stadium.

He was a member of the W. Bloomfield Baptist Church and a veteran of World War I.

He is survived by his widow Iva L., three brothers, Edward of Rochester, Homer of Detroit, Dale of Brighton, two sisters, Mrs. Floyd McJames of Clare, and Mrs. John Bravender of Flint.

Private service will be held from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Saturday with burial in South Lyon Cemetery. Friends may call until noon Saturday.

Celebrates 105 Years; Ike Greets Susan Keck

Mrs. Susan Keck celebrated her 105th birthday, making her reportedly the second oldest resident in the county. Surpassing Mrs. Keck's years is Mrs. Eliza Beaumont Taylor of Highland, now 107.

Felicitations to Mrs. Keck in the form of a telegram arrived yesterday afternoon from President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

At the birthday party celebrated in her room, where Mrs. Keck is bedridden, were her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hoyt of Lake Orion; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Estes, manager of the Infirmary, and several nurses and fellow patients.

BLIND, BUT CHEERFUL

Although blind and nearly deaf, Mrs. Keck is still very cheerful, one of her nurses, Mrs. Ruby Stoddard, reports. She still has an excellent appetite and loves bread and butter.

Mrs. Hoyt recounted some of the stories that were told by her mother years ago.

The Civil War is one vivid remembrance. Mrs. Keck's husband, who died 25 years ago, fought with the Union Army during the war. His brothers joined the Confederate Army.

One of her favorite stories, Mrs. Hoyt said, was the one about the Rebel uncle who hid from the Union Army in the cornfield.

Mrs. Keck always loved flowers, Mrs. Hoyt said, and raised them until she was well over 90. Until several years ago she also knitted quite a bit.

Mrs. Keck moved to Oakland County in 1947 from her home in Missouri. Four of her six children are still living. Their ages range from 60 to 78.

* * *

President Eisenhower in his telegram to Mrs. Keck said, "Through the Honorable Arthur E. Summerfield I have learned of your birthday celebration today and of the splendid life it represents. Mrs. Eisenhower and I are pleased to add our greetings and congratulations. We know this occasion will be a memorable one in the company of many friends and pleasant memories. Best wishes, Dwight D. Eisenhower."

News Flashes

He will confer with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

A spokesman for the Indian high commissioner's office said Nehru did not plan to meet with Egyptian President Nasser. There had been speculation he might do so while on his way to New Delhi.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department today cut its monthly draft quota, asking for 14,000 men during February. This compares with 17,000 for each of the last four months.

All of the February draft quota will be for the Army.

It will bring the total of draftees called under the peacetime draft law to 2,166,430.

LONDON (AP)—The Foreign Office said today U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold has agreed to investigate the fate of a young British army officer who was kidnaped in Port Said by Egyptians on Dec. 11 and later reported slain.

The unofficial word that Lt. Anthony Moorhouse, 21, was murdered touched off a bitter reaction in the British press. The kidnaping occurred many weeks after both sides agreed to a cease-fire in Port Said.

Egyptian officials have blamed the kidnaping on the Moslem Brotherhood or other extremist nationalists.

She will be replaced by James Zellerbach, San Francisco businessman.

NEWNAN, Ga. (AP)—An explosion in the smelting department of an aluminum products plant early today killed two workers and injured at least four others, one critically.

The blast destroyed a portion of the William L. Bonnell Co. Windows were broken in residences and tops were shorn from a number of small pine trees more than half a mile away by the explosion which was heard as much as 15 miles away.

Pittsburgh (AP) — A federal grand jury today indicted four men in connection with the interstate movement of valuable oil exportation maps stolen from Gulf Oil Corp.

Charged with conspiracy in the indictment are:

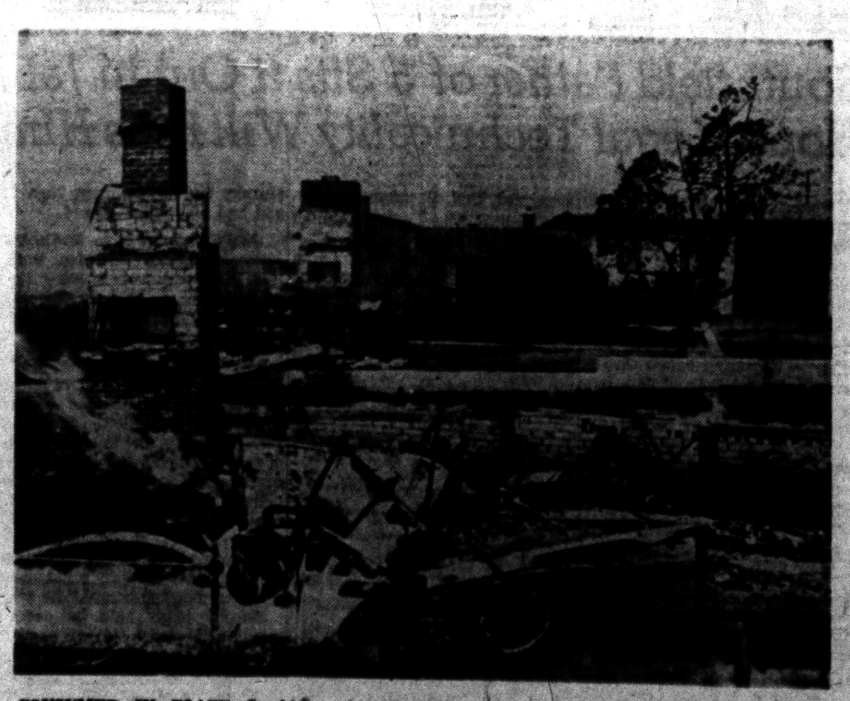

Odie Seagraves, 70, of Houston, Tex., and New York; Irving Milner, about 40, formerly of New York; Emanuel Lester, also known as Emanuel Liberman, 32, and his brother Edward Liberman, 30, both of the Bronx, N. Y.

Boys' Fireworks Scare Residents in Commerce

Commerce Township residents felt relieved last night after Oakland County Sheriff's deputies investigated a complaint of wild shooting near 1410 Oakley Park Rd.

France May Wring Oil From Sun-Baked Sahara

PARIS (INS)—France is rolling up her sleeves to meet the challenge of the Sahara.

She has created a central government authority to preside over the economic development of the forbidding, sun-parched African wasteland that jealously guards a hoard of fabulous mineral riches.

These underground resources include oil, coal, iron ore, copper, lead, uranium, tin, manganese, tungsten and chromium.

Their successful exploitation could not only make France independent of Middle Eastern oil, but also lay the foundation for an economic development such as France has never known.

ADOPT BILL

A bill recently adopted by the French National Assembly by 376 to 160 votes, authorized the government to set up the joint organization of Saharan regions with economic and military functions.

* * *

This agency will supervise the development of huge areas which are administratively dependent on Algeria, French West Africa and French Equatorial Africa.

The ill-defined Sahara region covers almost 2,000 square miles, from the frontiers of Morocco in the west to those of Sudan in the east. Its population is roughly estimated at 1,700,000.

The soil is sandy or rocky, but engineers consider that the finding of water is not in itself a grave difficulty. Huge pockets of water with a high mineral content have been located, although at considerable depth.

HEAVY CAPITAL

Heavy capital investments will be required to provide communications and living facilities.

Railroads, at present, only reach the edge of the Sahara in the north. A project to link by rail Algiers, on the Mediterranean, to Dakar, on the South Atlantic, was launched by the French during World War II but was quickly abandoned because of lack of funds.

French prospectors have found oil in the Algerian Sahara at Messaoud and also at Edjele. The Messaoud deposit, still being subjected to test-borings, is believed to contain between 100 million and 3,000 million tons.

* * *

Saharan mineral wealth, so far detected, includes a two billion ton ore deposit near Tindouf, an estimated 500,000 tons of copper ore at Arjoujt, 500,000 tons of manganese near Guettara, in addition to considerable amounts of lead and tungsten.

Air-Minded Painter on Balloon Platform

PARIS (INS) — A balloon was put to use to paint a church in the town of Yvetot, France.

After architects' plans for scaffolding proved too costly for the village church's limited funds, the local priest got the idea of utilizing a captive balloon to reach the upper part of the church.

Order Car Ferry

MELBOURNE — The Australian Shipbuilding Board has ordered a car ferry costing £2,000,000 ($4,500,000) to ply between Melbourne and the island State of Tasmania, a distance of 250 miles. The new ferry will carry about 400 passengers and 100 cars.

Snakes Alive! 150 of 'Em

YORK, Pa. (AP) — Farmer Lawrence Barbour dug into a pile of sawdust and spotted a copperhead snake. Then he spotted another. And another. And still more.

He called his wife and before the afternoon was over they had killed 150 copperheads ranging from 16 to 18 inches long.

Spaak Faces Tough Job of Revising NATO Goals

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Paul-Henri Spaak, who will be the new secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, has a tough job on his hands and admits it.

* * *

The first man to hold the post was Lord Ismay of Britain, a soldier. Now the job is to be undertaken by a politician and lawyer.

The 57-year-old Spaak's appointment shows an evolution in NATO. Its military problems still are big and subject to intermittent review and overhaul in this atomic age.

But the need for coordinated policy among member states became urgent even before the Anglo-French invasion of Egypt caused the rift between the United States and the Anglo-French.

* * *

That was the reason why the "three wise men," Canada's Lester Pearson, Halvard Lange of Norway and Gaetano Martino of Italy, were asked last spring to advise means to improve and extend NATO cooperation in non-military fields.

VETERAN POLITICIAN

Spaak is a veteran politician who has come along way since his fiery youth when he did not hesitate to join Socialist street mobs in hurling brickbats.

* * *

Among other things he has been Belgium's youngest premier, its foreign minister almost continuously for two decades, and the first president of the U.N. General Assembly.

His stubbornness and hard work launched Benelux, the customs union among Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

He has done much for the success of the coal and steel community organization, and the Organization of European Economic Cooperation (OEEC), of which he was the first chairman.

* * *

Spaak writes in the current issue of "Foreign Affairs" that "I have said—and there is no use trying to hide it—that things seem to me to have been going badly."

SAME RED GOALS

Soviet goals, he says, are the same. Communism "is a new form of civilization" which seeks to destroy Western civilization as we know it.

* * *

"Europe can no longer do without the United States," he says, "and the United States would be deeply mistaken to imagine that it can get along without Europe."

Spaak's dream is for a united Europe, a "third force" that is not an attempt to neutralize Europe but one "to cease being a dead weight upon America" and one that will become a "genuine ally, ready to assume a full share of responsibility."

It's a big job for the little man from Brussels.

Increase in Hot Air Distributed via Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two major political parties did more campaigning by air in 1956 than ever before.

"Planes," official publication of the Aircraft Industries Assn., reported that the Republican and Democratic candidates for president and vice president as well as the "truth squads" registered 220,000 air miles. The previous high was the 178,275 in 1952.

Room Really Soundproof

LOS ANGELES—One American aircraft manufacturer has a "quiet room," used in reducing equipment noise, that is said to be so soundproof a person can hear his own heartbeat as he walks through it.

Varnishes Classified According to Oil Used

Varnishes, composed mainly of oil and resin, are classified for use according to the amount of oil in their formulation. Spar varnish, designed for exterior use, contains a large proportion of oil and produces a flexible film that is high in weather resistance. The less flexible varnishes designed for use on floors and indoor furniture contain less oil, dry faster, get harder and tougher, but have less resistance to weather.

Spar varnish, designed for exterior use, should not normally be used indoors. Conversely, varnishes designed for interior surfaces should not be used outside.

Butter Than Ever!

AUCKLAUD—New Zealand produced a record 449,000,000 pounds of creamery butter during the 1955-56 season, an increase of 7 per cent over the previous season and a little more than one per cent over the previous record season, 1952-53.

Army Develops Germ Warfare

Test Area Increased to Protect Personnel From Contamination

WASHINGTON (INS) — Germ warfare, sometimes represented as more terrible than the H-bomb, has at least been developed to a point where the army requires a much larger area for testing biological weapons.

The Air Force is planning to turn over 400,000 acres from its Wendover bombing and gunnery range in Utah. This is to increase the already large area set aside for experiments by the Army Chemical Corps.

The ground will be added to the Army's Dugway proving center. At Dugway, the Army conducts tests of all types of chemical devices including poison gas, nerve gases, smoke screens and radiation control measures — as well as biological weapons.

The biological tests, which could further the destructiveness of germ warfare, are the reason for the expansion of Dugway.

* * *

A Pentagon source said the Air Force plans to retain the balance of Wendover as one of its major gunnery ranges. But it could not afford the medical expense of assuring safety of its personnel in the huge section adjacent to Dugway.

An informed source said that even controlled experiments with germs leaves open the possibility that this area would be contaminated. Consequently, he said, medical patrols and decontamination measures were required.

The army refused to comment officially. But an army official pointed out that U. S. policy requires the Chemical Corps to develop the most destructive weapons possible, and that Dugway is the only area available to the corps for testing.

HOPE STOCKPILE WILL PREVENT USE

The policy is to stockpile chemical and biological weapons in their most terrible forms in the hope that their existence and the fear of retaliation in kind will prevent an enemy from ever using similar devices in case of war.

The Chemical Corps believes that the existence of large American stockpiles of poison gas prevented the Germans from using this method of warfare in World War II.

Russian Romeo Fails to Revive Ancient Custom

MOSCOW (AP)—When Nage Kuliev in Azerbaijan decided that Zochra Memedova was the girl for him, he set out to claim her after the fashion of his ancestors.

That fashion goes back to the Middle Ages. It is simply to dash up on horseback and make off with the girl.

Lacking a horse, he dashed up instead in his car. Papa Memedova, a Communist party leader and director of a collective farm, pursued the couple and recovered Zochra.

* * *

Fearing the ardor of Kuliev, a schoolmaster, Zochra and her classmates stayed away from school. Papa Memedova appealed in vain to local authorities for help. The Communist organization couldn't find an answer in its rulebook.

The local authorities finally decided to help, unofficially, and they did it in line with Azerbaijan custom.

Pontiac in Excellent Financial Position

Practically every citizen in this country faces a stiff increase in school taxes in the years ahead. This will apply to school districts that are well off and which have the problem comfortably in hand. It will apply equally to those that are struggling already and which face serious problems before this deluge hits them.

National charts point the way.

Forty years ago, the population of this nation was 100 million. Ten years ago it was 140 million. Today it's just shy of 170 million. During the next 20 years, the total will skyrocket to 220 million.

These prognostications are the work of experts who chart the span of life, the number of children and the current trend in births. And please remember that the Pontiac area IS DESTINED TO GROW MUCH FASTER THAN THE NATIONAL AVERAGE.

Everyone agrees on this.

Happily for the United States, the young married people of today are raising larger families than their fathers and mothers. This persistent trend has been apparent now for several years. Current and recent marriages foretell a large increase in school population in the years ahead. It's inevitable. A national warning has been sounded.

Fortunately, Pontiac is right on top of school and civic problems and has been for years and years. We have been very fortunate in our authorities. They have never lagged in their work or their planning. Often there is a sharp temptation to duck new schools, new teachers and rapid expansions when the costs are already burdensome.

This city can well be proud of the manner in which we have kept on top. We've paid as we've gone.

And yet, in spite of the forehanded and generous way in which all Pontiac authorities have faced these problems, national authorities predict a definite advance in school taxes in the years ahead. It's forecast for the entire nation. A general population increase is coming. And we're growing clear beyond the average. That's no secret.

We can handle it.

Our city is in excellent financial condition. Our civic and school debts are not consequential. They are mere pittances in comparison with what most other cities face, scores of which are many, many times our size.

Pontiac's assessed valuation is approaching a QUARTER OF A BILLION DOLLARS. This is a staggering sum, but it's a comforting backlog on which to lean for tax support.

This simply means that other people with property totaling this gigantic sum, split the cost of local government. And, of course, in Pontiac industry always pays more than 55 per cent of the City's total and then downtown business establishments pay another ten or twelve per cent.

We're very lucky.

Many communities all over the United States have temporized with their costs instead of facing them boldly as they arose. Our civic and educational forefathers exercised wisdom, prudence and a canny financial acumen.

They kept abreast. Hence, when the time comes, we can face new schools without worry.

Industrial Expansion Brings Prosperity to All

The economic geography of the United States is being changed rapidly by expanding industries.

New manufacturing enterprises are being built in all parts of the country and many of them are in small towns and rural areas. The vast majority of plants being set up are in regions previously considered unsuitable for industry. They are a reflection of the rapid growth of the American economy.

Many small communities which dreaded the coming of industry have found that a modern, clean and well designed factory has brought benefits rather than social blight. Additional workers, more purchasing power and bigger retail sales have added to their wealth. But the first impact, of course, may be disrupting as land values, rentals and wage rates rise.

★ ★ ★

Since 1954 all regions except New England show gains in factory jobs, a survey by Editorial Research shows. The community which is fortunate enough to get a new industry is sharing in the growth of the economy and this tends to raise living standards throughout our land.

The Man About Town

Many Runs Listed

Ski Enthusiasts Anxious to Get Runners Under Way

Dec. 25-31: Period for resting up and getting a new foothold.

Pontiac devotees of that exhilarating and health building outdoor sport of skiing are urging the weatherman to give us something more than mere flurries of snow. They are anxious to shake off the winter's lethargy before it gets any worse.

In the local area the runs and tows at Haven Hill, just off Highland Road, are getting restless. At Mount Holly, 20 miles up the Dixie Highway, they're making their own snow. At Bald Mountain, just northeast of Pontiac, there are great possibilities.

Quite ignoring this section is a folder put out by the East Michigan Winter Sports Council, which lists 42 ski resorts, nearly all of which are in the northern part of our lower peninsula, most of them now having a good supply of snow.

Further proof of the size of Oakland County is found in the fact that all of it did not have a white Christmas. In some sections the snowfall was not enough to whiten the ground.

When you are ready to discard your Christmas tree,

Mrs. Burdette Strobelson

of Rochester suggests that you throw it out for a bird shelter.

A native of Oakland County was

John S. Pincomb

who died Sunday at his home in Bancroft, aged 90.

Secretary Howard Shelly

tells me that a large covey of quail spends most of its time there. They evidently know that it is a bird sanctuary, and that the gunfire is harmless.

"Bring back the strings of lights that were stolen from the Christmas tree of my crippled daughter and no questions will be asked," was the message broadcast by of Waterford. And more strings were returned than had been stolen.

The thaws of last week made most of the lakes in the Pontiac area unsafe for skating. It will need a few days of sub-freezing weather to eliminate the hazard. Watch this column for the all-clear signal.

Top of the World

David Lawrence Says:

Did We Invite Anti-U.S. Sentiment?

WASHINGTON — There's a chapter on the subject of oil shipments to Europe during the recent Suez crisis that needs to be explained officially and unofficially so that all the facts may become known.

The impression that the United States participated somehow in an oil embargo and applied "sanctions" — a form of international penalty — against Britain and France for failing to heed the provisions of the United Nations charter in landing troops in the Suez area is rather widespread in Europe. It is the basic reason for the wave of anti-American sentiment which has swept both Britain and France.

Slowly some of the facts are coming out. It has been announced here officially, for example, by the Department of the Interior that in the week of Nov. 2 — several days before the British and French agreed to comply with a United Nations resolution asking them to evacuate their forces from the Suez area — oil was flowing to Europe.

It is a fact that, from a normal average of 44,000 barrels a day, the daily average during the second week in November went up suddenly to about 212,000 barrels. It was stepped up from that time on, and in the week of Nov. 29 the shipment had reached 639,000 barrels a day.

INDIVIDUAL ACTION

Now this happened without any encouragment from the American government. It was the natural activity of the oil companies in this country acting individually and without regard to the governmental emergency committee, which had suspended its sessions when the British ultimatum to Egypt was issued.

On the face of it, this would make it appear that the oil companies were supplying all the oil they could to meet a shortage in Europe and that the United States government, which had the power to impose an embargo on such shipments, did not prevent them from doing so.

But this is only part of the story. It soon became apparent that what the oil companies were doing privately would not solve the situation. The British needed money from the export-import bank to finance the new purchases. Also, tankers could not be taken out of the mothball fleet without governmental approval.

ANTITRUST LAWS

The oil companies also had to be assured that the antitrust laws would not be invoked against them for acting together in the exchange of information concerning prospective shipments. All this took time.

Why did the United States government delay? There is one current explanation. It is that, because of the delicate situation in the Middle East, the remaining pipelines to the Mediterranean which bypass the canal might be sabotaged if it were known that oil was flowing from America.

Likewise, a lot of red tape had to be unraveled in order to formulate an efficient program. There were also some barriers in connection with the desire of certain states in this country to conserve oil rather than to let it be produced by various independents who have been clamoring for more production.

Now the big question which has not been clarified is what right the United States government, acting alone, had to withhold help at a time when the European countries, including some not involved in the Suez affair, badly needed more oil.

It is said that inside the Department of State are various officials who contended that the United States should, by withholding helpful action, apply pressure to persuade the British and French to agree to an early withdrawal of their troops and that such a step was justified because the two countries had allegedly violated the provisions of the United Nations charter.

But the British and French agreed on Nov. 8 to withdraw their forces from Egypt. Why were any "penalties" at all imposed after that date? And why didn't the United Nations impose them?

If each country may of its own volition use economic pressure to get compliance with U. N. resolutions, then the world will be confronted with a kind of economic warfare it never before has experienced.

Certainly there now arises from this a duty upon the American government to find out who really blocked the Suez Canal and to bring before the United Nations the facts concerning the major part of the blockage, which undoubtedly was committed by Egyptians, although since disavowed by the Egyptian government.

LI'L ONES

"Wow! Have I got brothers and sisters!"

Dr. William Brady Says:

Some Doctors Miss Mark in Dubbing Colon Ailment

In terms of pathology — ask any physician or medical student about this — it is certainly unscientific and misleading to call colon derangement "colitis" or "mucous colitis," as real doctors have elucidated long before I undertook to let the dumb layman know about it.

Any actual inflammation (-itis) that may occur in cases of colon derangement is incidental and not at all a feature of the derangement.

Whatever smug theories doctors or patients had about "colitis" or "mucous colitis" back in the days when Topsy was a colt —patients used to tell me, not ask me about it — we must admit that treatment based on such theories seldom gave satisfactory results. Satisfactory to the patient, that is.

Whether you call it chronic intestinal stasis, colitis, "mucous colitis," spastic constipation or colon derangement, and whether it is the incipient stage (constipation, the physic habit) or in the advanced stage (I'd rather not name the symptoms here), you should regard as essential for your wellbeing an adequate daily ration of Vitamin B1 (thiamin, a 10-mg. tablet, or three B-Complex tablets, or best of all, a tablespoonful of B-Nutron syrup).

TAKES GUMPTION

It takes more gumption, character and elementary knowledge of nutrition than the average American has to get one's daily requirement of vitamins and minerals from food.

To begin with one would have to use whole wheat ground freshly every day or at least twice weekly in one's own mill or a neighborhood mill, instead of most or all the refined white flour in one's diet.

Remember, namby-pamby, plain wheat as it comes from the thresher — put it in a sieve or colander and run tap water through it if you think it isn't clean — is as good for colon derangement as it is for constipation, if used every day the year around.

* * *

As Sir Robert McCarrison, M. D., famous British nutrition authority, pointed out:

"One of the most constant results of food deficient in vitamins is colitis. It is so frequent that it may rank as a cardinal sign of vitaminic deficiency. It may arise as a result of the absence of vitamin B alone, although it was more frequently encountered in animals deprived of vitamins in general."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Calls Liquor Crutch for Weaklings

Read Bert's secret confession. Liquor is the crutch of weaklings and the opiate of cowards. So don't let any nitwit kid you by saying, "Drink up and prove you are a man." The sissies do the drinking. The courageous folks can stand out against such mob coercion generated by skillful advertising experts.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-358: Bert Z., aged 37, is a salesman mentioned yesterday who became an alcoholic.

"Dr. Crane, I'll confess my real problem," he finally explained after a lengthly interview.

* * *

"I have a wonderful wife and three kids. And I was doing very well as an insurance salesman. My future seemed unlimited.

"But I sold a $50,000 policy to a business leader of our city. His young wife cooperated with me to make the sale, for she wanted her husband to take the policy.

"Well, she suggested that I meet her at a ritzy cocktail lounge to discuss the matter.

"And I continued meeting her on future occasions. We'd sit and drink. She was love hungry and showed it.

"At the beginning. I was solely interested in my insurance sale. But she dragged the case along for weeks until I finally became involved in an affair with her.

"I knew it was all wrong. And whenever my conscience would demand that I break off and confess my sin to my wife, I'd decide to take a couple of drinks to bolster my courage.

"And those drinks would undermine my will power till I'd go back to see this siren. So my drinking is all due to this affair I've had."

OPIATE OF COWARDS

Liquor is the modern opiate of cowards. It is also used to anesthetize the conscience so a person will obtain a temporary vacation from his conscience.

* * *

Or it is adopted by teen-agers because they are afraid to stand out from the mob stampede which skilful advertisers have produced in America.

"If all the kids drink but me, they'll think I am a sissy if I don't," some shy high schoolers have confessed to me.

Actually, you are a sissy to drink, for the brave person can

"Always look a mob in the face," stated John Wesley.

* * *

The sissy males and timid females meekly accept liquor, though they know they are acting unwisely.

* * *

Why do they take it, then? Because they are afraid; They are sheep who meekly are herded by the social pace-setters into following the leader.

FALSE NOTIONS

"Be a man and take a drink," is often the coercion used on self-reliant teen-agers who refrain from liquor.

"Be a sissy and take a drink," is the reply which we psychologists retort.

It is no sign of manhood to take the line of least resistance and meekly follow the crowd.

Instead, it is a sign of bravery and self-assurance not to stampede with the crowd.

Your emotional maturity is measured in part by how well you can resist the mob coercion of the propagandized crowd.

If you high schoolers go to college next year and are at a sorority or fraternity "rushing" party, you will be surrounded by sophomore, junior and senior pals.

They will often pass around cigarets or liquor glasses. The upper classmen will take them, for they are sheep-like.

College youth, incidentally, are the most easily influenced group in America by modern advertisers.

And I say that as a former teacher of advertising psychology. For college kids, as a rule, can be stampeded to smoke or snake dance down the boulevard or indulge in panty raids and other asinine behavior.

You high schoolers are more independent than college students, so send for my "Behavior Tests for Teen Agers," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Says Widened Pavement Wasted by Parked Cars

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

There is much talk about our need for new roads. Yet Mt. Clemens street is widened to four lanes between Paddock and West Boulevard, then parking is allowed on both sides, which means it effectively remains a two-lane street. Were these two lanes added for parking purposes? If so, they are a total loss, as more cars could previously be parked off the road than can now be parked against the curbs.

If parking for the bus company employes was the objective, then widening in the immediate vicinity of the bus garage only would have served.

Incidentally, why was the job never finished? Center lanes were left higher than the outside with a two inch drop-off from one lane to the other. Obviously the money has been spent for the two extra lanes with no practical result. If we must pay for these roads, they should be made available for traffic. If bottle-necked so they serve no practical purpose for the majority, why build them?

Desk Cleaning Uncovers Hoard of Assorted Facts

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Oddities found by a columnist during his year-end desk cleaning:

That women get twice as many colds as men, but how does this jibe with the fact that well-to-do people generally catch only half as many colds as the poor?

* * *

That if, during a holiday cocktail party, you kiss a pretty blonde who has a cold, the odds are 9 to 1 you won't catch her cold. What you'll catch from your wife, if she sees you, is another matter.

SAFER IN SUBURBIA

That farmers suffer more colds than suburbanites, cautious old people suffer fewer than the young folks. And, to wind up the whole subject, January is national Take Care of Your Cold month.

* * *

That Dr. J. Schultz, head of a cosmetics firm, predicts that by the year 2,000 women will wear makeup that will last indefinitely. And one of the popular lipstick colors will be light blue!

That Mrs. Donna Workman, a Chicago business executive, says self - supporting working girls make the best wives.

* * *

That Santa Claus ranks not first but seventh in popularity as an adornment on the two billion Christmas cards Americans exchange annually. By the time the bills roll in next month, Santa will be a candidate for the FBI's 10 most-wanted list.

POPULAR ANIMALS

That the camel is the most popular animal on Christmas cards, followed by reindeer, the donkey and the lamb. Do you send your pet dog or cat a greeting card on its birthday? The custom is growing.

* * *

That there is a growing shortage of skilled mechanics as well as engineers. In 1950 there were 73 cars to each mechanic, now it is 82-1, by 1965 is expected to reach 90-1.

That Frederick Jones, the hair stylist who thought up the idea of tinting Kim Novak's locks a pale lavender, has now created an "Elvis Presley bob" for teen-age girl fans of the singer. Now they not only can listen to their idol—they can also look like him!

* * *

That interior designer Lee Kelly says there is a trend away from desks and conference tables in executive business offices. In their place in the deskless office of the future he predicts: A soft chaise longue, conducive to "dynamic creative thought."

BRIDGE CLASSES

That contract bridge is now taught in at least 20 U.S. colleges and universities. With some 32 million players, it is ranked second only to canasta among card games. Then why is it everyone I know plays gin rummy? Am I moving in the wrong circles?

* * *

That Dr. Robert A. Savitt, a psychiatrist, says that it is as important for a dentist to have a warm and sympathetic personality as it is for him to have technical skill.

That pert and pretty Mary Yates has one of the most unusual odd jobs in television. She gets $125 for about 15 seconds of work each week. Her job: To sniff the smoke from a burning stogie and tell how nice cigars smell—and she hasn't coughed once.

* * *

That pecan shells are used in making airplanes. They are employed in the blast cleaning of metal parts where it is important to avoid surface damage.

That it was Oscar Wilde who said, "Newspapers have degenerated. They may now be absolutely relied upon."

Economy Shifts in Costa Rica

Nation of Farms Now Finds Black Wealth in Oil Deposits

WASHINGTON—Discovery of oil in Costa Rica—the "Rich Coast"—gives new point to the name of this Central American nation.

The black wealth now gushing forth south of the Caribbean port, Limon, has come as a welcome addition to Costa Rica's largely agricultural economy, says the National Geographic Society.

Previously, gold was the chief mineral product, with a history reaching back long before Spanish conquest. From the beautifully wrought gold ornaments worn and used by coastal Indians, the Spaniards believed they had struck it rich, and named the region accordingly.

FARMERS PREDOMINATE

Modern Costa Rica mines some silver and manganese, as well as gold. Deposits of copper, iron, lead, zinc and sulphur have been found.

But most of the 970,000 Costa Ricans live by farming. In their perennially springlike central uplands, they raise top-grade coffee for export, and such subsistence crops as sugar cane, corn, beans, rice, potatoes and various fruits.

Bananas, which alternate with coffee to lead export lists, are grown chiefly on the big, American-owned plantations of hot, steamy Pacific lowlands.

From the Caribbean side, where banana production was abandoned because of blight, come two other export specialties—cacao and abaca (Manila hemp). Abaca was introduced during World War II to help meet shortages of essential fiber materials that had formerly been supplied by the Far East.

Costa Rican settlement is densest in the hilly heart of the country. There rise the two largest cities—the capital, San Jose, and Alajuela. Cartago, the old capital, stands near by.

Surrounding green valleys are dotted with intensively cultivated small plots that have earned Costa Ricans the nickname "little landers."

DEMOCRATIC IDEAS BIG

Ideas, however, are large in Costa Rica. This nation, about half the size of Virginia, is noted for its democracy. Its teachers are more extolled than its soldiers. Voting is open to women; compulsory for men under 70.

In economic matters, the Ticos—for all their easy-going Spanish customs, gaily painted carts, and profusion of orchids—have in recent years given serious attention to national needs and problems.

With technical aid from the United States and United Nations, the government has launched programs to diversify crops, improve livestock, conserve soil, and utilize rosewood and other timber resources.

Other projects deal with road building, housing, health, the tourist trade, and expansion of light industry, particularly in textiles and food processing.

Taking advantage of water power available in the heartland's mountain streams, Costa Rica is now building a huge hydroelectric plant near the capital. Together with smaller works operating in the region, the nearly completed project is expected to go far toward meeting increasingly heavy demands for power, light and fuel.

Costa Rica's coastal oil promises still more fuel to help supply the nation's needs. In addition, as the first discovery of the kind in Central America, it is reportedly stirring plans for oil hunts in neighboring lands.

Gas Still Lights Streets

RIVERSIDE, Ill.—About 30 cities in the United States still use gas to some extent for street and interior lighting. In the town of Riverside, a Chicago suburb, about 31 miles of streets remain lighted with gas, the lamps dating back to a few years after the Civil War. There's no "old lamplighter," though; the lights are turned on and off mechanically each day by a clock mechanism that has to be wound once a week by hand.

Knights' Museum Opens

WEISSENBURG, Germany — A museum showing mementoes of the Teutonic Order of Knights, the only one of its kind in West Germany, has been opened in the Castle of Ellingen, near Weissenburg in Bavaria. Ellingen is one of the largest late-medieval castles that belonged to the Teutonic Order.

Blue-eyed people experience more trouble from glaring sun and artificial light than those with brown eyes.

Hungary, Settled by Asians, Faces West

WASHINGTON—Revolt-torn Hungary has stood for a thousand years at a pivotal spot between East and West.

The nation has been called "Asia's westernmost outpost," for it was founded in the late 9th century by the Magyars—bands of Finno-Ugric tribesmen from the far side of the Ural Mountains.

Hungary's position astride the fertile Danube basin in the heart of Europe long made it a natural battleground as well as a prize among rival neighbors, says the National Geographic Society. The boundaries have contracted and expanded with an elasticity that recalls the territorial shifts of Poland.

A CHRISTIAN BULWARK

Despite their Asiatic background, the people of Hungary have faced westward since the reign of King Stephen between A.D. 997 and 1038. Canonized after his death, Saint Stephen is still a national hero as the first king and creator of independent Hungary, which he turned from paganism into a bulwark of western Christianity.

In recognition, Pope Sylvester II presented him, in 1001, with the Holy Crown of Saint Stephen. From then on, the gold and jewel-decked headdress has remained a potent religious and political symbol, valued far beyond its intrinsic worth.

During World War II the crown was removed to Austria, where it was discovered by American military authorities. The United States Government is keeping its present whereabouts secret, but has said it will be returned as soon as possible to a free Hungarian people.

In Hungary's long and turbulent history, many a battle for freedom has been fought. In turn, the Hungarians at various times have ruled over other lands and peoples.

The story of changing fortune echoes in patriotic themes of literature and art, and in haunting tones of sadness that often underlie the gayest and most dashing of melodies.

GOLDEN AGE CAME EARLY

The Golden Age of Hungarian power and culture goes back to the 15th-century reign of Matthias Corvinus. Later came domination by the Ottoman Turks and subjection to the rule of the Austrian Hapsburgs.

In 1848-49, a revolt led by Lajos Kossuth was crushed by invading forces of Austria and Czarist Russia. But never-ending pressure for liberty eventually had its reward 18 years later in the formation of the Dual Monarchy of Austria and Hungary.

* * *

The vast Austro-Hungarian Empire stretched from mid-Europe to the Adriatic Sea. Defeat in World War I brought about its dissolution and scattering of territories. Hungary's loss amounted to two-thirds of its former area. Transfer of outlying lands of German, Slavic and Romania reduced the country to a landlocked fragment about the size of Indiana. An estimated two and a half million Magyars went with the transferred regions.

Hungary recovered some of the lost territories in the wake of the German expansion that led to World War II. Then once more an Allied victory pushed Hungary back to its previous boundaries. Occupied by Russian troops in 1944, the nation became a "People's Republic" in 1949.

* * *

Today's Hungary has a population of roughly 10,000,000. More than a tenth of the people live in the capital, Budapest, now reported to be a maze of wreckage after the latest Hungarian uprising against foreign control.

Another Victim, 14, of 'Russian Roulette'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Edward Laws, 14, who apparently tried the game of "Russian roulette" after hearing a television news broadcast of a similar death in Kentucky, was found dead in his home yesterday, a revolver by his feet.

Police said the boy may have tried the game after hearing about a Louisiana man who died at Corbin, Ky., while playing "Russian roulette" Christmas Day.

They said three shells had been evely spaced in the revolver's six chambers, indicating young Laws was playing the game.

Patrolman Shoots Self, Bear Ambles Into Hills

OIL CITY, Pa., (AP)—Patrolman Carl E. Smith, 24, has a real bear story to tell—but no bear.

The officer was en route home yesterday when he spotted a bear near a private swimming pool. Stopping his car, Smith drew his service revolver as he got out. He stumbled, discharging the pistol.

The shot pierced Smith's left leg and he is in a hospital. The bear, said the officer, just ambled off into the hills.

Refugee Quota May Stir Fight

Opposition to Increase in Immigrants Looms in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Burleson (D-Tex) said today he will oppose any legislative proposal by the number of Hungarian refugees allowed to come to America.

* * *

But Rep. Burdick (R-ND) said he would favor raising the Hungarian refugee quota, now filled at 20500. Burdick is a member of th e Judiciary Committee which would consider such legislation. Burleson is not, but heads a special national security subcommittee of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The opposing views, given in separate interviews, were a sign that an Eisenhower proposal to ease the refugee problem might not have entirely smooth sailing in Congress.

* * *

Yesterday Eisenhower ordered U. S. agencies to continue processing applications of refugees who want to come here, even though the present quota is all allotted.

Assistant press secretary Murray Snyder, in announcing the President's action, made clear it is a tentative move pending a final decision on whether to raise the quota.

He said this decision will not be made until after Eisenhower puts the refugee problem before a scheduled New Year's Day meeting with congressional leaders of both parties.

Vice President Nixon, just returned from a trip to the Austro-Hungarian border, met with Eisenhower yesterday to tell of his view that America "must do more" to help the escapees from Communist oppression. He said Eisenhower assigned a "top priority" to the quota mater.

Steel Industry Loses Tax Reduction Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The steel industry has lost its battle for further government tax aid in expanding its facilities.

The Office of Defense Mobilization rejected yesterday the industry's request that rapid tax amortization be permitted on the cost of another round of plant expansions to meet a growing need for steel.

ODM Director Arthur S. Flemming announced also the government will not set up a priority system to channel steel supplies to tanker construction. Such a program, he said, could take steel from other needed uses and could lead eventually to a "controlled economy" in peacetime.

Under the tax amortization program in which the steel industry shared during the Korean War, a company is permitted for tax purposes to charge off a substantial portion of the cost of a new plant within five years. Normally the depreciation must be figured over a period of 20 years or more. At the faster rate, more of the cost could be met from money which otherwise would go to the Flemming said that to restore the prgram for steel plants would be "contrary to the intent of Congress" and would discriminate against other industries.

He said it has been determined that there would be sufficient steel capacity for a mobilization, and that current shortages result from "the current needs of a rapidly expanding civilian economy."

Men Sent to Siberia, but Not Its Goldfields

MOSCOW (AP) — Seventeen Russians who were a little too free in their enterprise in eastern Siberia's gold fields are presumably on their way back to Siberia today—but not to the gold fields.

The newspaper Trud said 17 "gangsters" who ventured into the Irkutsk region and came away with 264 pounds of state-owned gold from the Bodaibo fields have been sentenced to prison terms ranging up to 15 years.

COOL HOT ROD MOTOR—Bob Sadler, Chuck Bliss and Jery Christianson are overhauling a motor out of one of their classmates hot rods at Waterford Township High School shop. The boys may work on their own cars and receive class credits, during school hours, according to Bruce Welch, their instructor.

High School More Than Three R's, Says Waterford Principal Carr

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
of our Waterford Township Bureau

"What's happening to the readin', writin' and 'rithmetic in our schools today" is a question that many parents of schoolage children are asking today.

Waterford Township High School principal Thad Carr has an answer.

"It's the fad today to say that the schools are not teaching the three principal subjects. However, right along with the fundamentals of learning go the problems of what to do with students who do not 'take' the basic subjects.

"People in the education field have found that learning is more than books and pencils — it is getting along with people," Carr added.

In former years, if a student did not learn the three R's, all he had to do was to quit school.

"Now the law says that a child must attend school until he is 16, consequently it was necessary to introduce new courses and diversified teaching methods into the curriculum, to stimulate the interest of pupils with lesser abilities.

The Shop room of Waterford Township high school is a beehive of activity. A student may bring his own "hot rod" in — tear it down and put it together again, and still get class credit for his work.

The shop holds about five cars at one time, and groups of boys are assigned to each car for study and inspection. No one sits around this class day-dreaming.

About 60 high school students are out on jobs in the community at one time, working on a co-op program. They earn while they learn, and credit is given for "on-the-job" training. Students must attend three classes in the morning.

A special distributive educational program teaches the student producing methods, distribution of products, advertising and salesmanship.

A new course has been introduced in the home making classes. It is called home mechanics, and here the girls learn how to repair a plug to the coffee maker, replace a leaky faucet or nail down a broken step.

And the clubs in the school are planned to help teenagers "find themselves," in this institution of 1,230 students.

The art of self-expression is greatly developed in the Inter-Lakes debating league, and this year, students all over Oakland County are debating "That the Federal Government Should Guarantee a Higher Education to Graduating High School Students Through Grants to Colleges and Universities."

* * *

Techniques of production, make-up, lighting, casting, directing, staging and acting are the benefits received from belonging to the Dramatic Club.

Last year a "Career Day" was introduced for the first time, under the direction of Charles Pappas, vocational co-ordinator.

Hostess representatives from the airlines presented company requirements to the girls. A United States Army officer explained the advantages of an Army career, and models from a Detroit agency explained about the requirements for becoming a professional model after graduation.

No matter what their interests may be, there is a club for every student. The Y-Teens and the H Y Blues work hand in hand with the YWCA and YMCA in promoting goodwill in the high school and community.

Along with the athletics, music and art, chemists may learn more of the appreciation of science by joining the "Atom Smashers."

Future Teachers and Future Nurse groups travel all over the state on "field trips" to acquire a better understanding of problems-in-action.

"Although W.T.H.S. offers the teenager every opportunity to select his vocation in life," Carr said, "the object of the school is to prepare him to make his own decisions and carry out that purpose."

"Rigid educational requirements for graduation, still emphasize the stress put on the basic objects of readin', writin', and 'rithmetic," he concluded.

Lerps, Magpies Top Phone Lines

Aussie Linemen Trace Rash of Trouble to Birds and Insects

WASHINGTON — Telephone linemen have odd problems. But perhaps the strangest came up recently in southeast Australia, where magpies began ringing wrong numbers and lerps disconnected telephones.

Investigation disclosed that the magpies, building nests atop telephone poles, were picking small threads from the wires — thus passing electric current to switches that set off dial numbers. Engineers met the situation by providing the birds with hundreds of ready-made nests, so acceptable that the "wiretapping" is reported virtually ended.

The lerps, on the other hand, have so far proved less amenable.

What is a lerp?

SMALL INSECTS

Lerps, explains the National Geographical Soicety, are small winged insects of Australia and nearby regions. They belong to the Psyllidae family of jumping plant lice. This season, the island continent is experiencing its worst infestation in the past quarter of a century.

The insects secrete a honey-sweet substance of fine, whitish threads. These form a woolly interior for a scaly cover that protects the young.

Masses of the substance have been blown lately from eucalyptus and other trees onto telephone equipment. Often dampened by dew or rain, the tangled skeins were found to be enmeshing wires and causing short circuits that cut off telephone service over large areas.

Australia's sugar lerps, however, are not always a nuisance to man. Aborigines long have appreciated the insect as a source of highly desired sweet.

The natives sometimes suck the sugary scales directly from the elaves or twigs to which they cling. They also scrap off the scales and steep them in water to make a delicately flavored drink that is occasionally fermneted.

MANNA FORTELLS DROUGHT

At times, quantities of the tiny lerp particles drop to the ground as "manna." An old Australian tradition says that the presence of such manna in unusually large amounts is a warning of approaching drought.

According to one tribal lengend, the first manna to fall was sent long ago by the "All-Father" god, Byamee. It rained down from trees "like liquid honey" as a reward to the tribesmen who had refused to be tempted by bee honey set apart for Byamee's own use.

After its first appearance, the story goes, manna was always provided by Byamee to ease the hardships of drought.

In periods of lerp abundance, the insect's secretions cover branches and leaves of various tree hosts to a marked degree. Yet the Australian lerp seems to do little basic harm.

* * *

In this respect, the Australian insect is unlike many of its more destructive relatives around the world. For instance, the pear-tree psylla—common throughout much of the United States—is regarded by pear growers as one of their worst enemies.

Israeli Leader Proposes Absorption of Gaza Strip

By JOHN A. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Aryeh Ben - Eliezer, deputy speaker of the Israeli Parliament, has recommended that the disputed Gaza Strip be absorbed by Israel and its Palestinian Arab refugees be given Israeli citizenship.

In an interview, he said formal recommendations to that effect will be made in Jerusalem next week by officials of his opposition Herut (Freedom- Party, second largest in Israel.

The Gaza Strip and its 200,000 Arab refugees represent big obstacles in any Israeli-Arab peace agreement.

Premier David Ben-Gurion has not recommended giving citizenship to the refugees. And he has left disposition of the Gaza Strip uncertain except to say that "under no circumstances will it be returned to Egypt.

* * *

Ben-Eliezer said Israeli troops also should not withdraw from the Sinai Peninsula, as pledged by Ben-Gurion, until the United Nations institutes actual peace negotiations between Israel and her Arab neighbors.

BIG ACHIEVEMENT

"By resettling the Gaza refugees, of whom 130,000 are legitimate Palestinians, Ben - Eliezer said, "Israel will achieve what the United Nations and Arabs failed to do in the last eight years.

* * *

"We know the Arab states would oppose this because they have used the refugee problem as an influential striking weapon.

"But the U. N. must obtain peace negotiations. It is incredible that the U. N. tolerates a situation in which the Arabs, members of the U. .N., refuse to discuss peace with Israel, equally a member of the U. N.

The Gaza Strip is a small area along the Mediterranean left in Egyptian hands when the 1948 U.-N. truce was effected after the unsuccessful Arab war with Israel in 1947. Egypt never has claimed it as part of Egypt.

* * *

If Israeli troops quit the Sini desert before the U. N. obtains peace negotiations, Ben - Eliezer said "we will settle into the old groove — only this time it probably will be worse.

CONSULTS AMERICANS

The deputy speaker, whose Herut Party is an outgrowth of the former underground organization, Irgun Zvai Leumi, and is headed by Menachem Begin, currently is consulting American leaders.

* * *

He said Begin also will come to the ULS. early in February to discuss how to obtain peace and how to check Soviet expansion in the Middle East.

If the U.N. fails "to force peace on the Arabs, while Israeli troops are in the Sinai desert, said Ben-Eliezer, "the Western nations will wake up one day very strong militarily in the Middle East.

He charged that Soviet submarines "definitely are using the Egyptian port of Alexandria, exposing the Mediterranean area and the U. S. 6th Fleet to an unprecidented threat.

* * *

"Thousands of Egyptian officers have been and are undergoing military training behind the Iron Curtain. They will be well indoctrinated, politically and militarily, when they return home.

"Even Yugoslav Marshal Tito, in the palmy days ofthe Cominform, never gave Russia a submarine base in his country, but the Egyptians have done so.

Unveil Speedy Typing Machine

Invented in France, Claimed to Type Fast as Person Can Talk

PARIS (INS) — A new push-button "electronic secretary" machine capable of typing as fast as a person can talk has been unveiled in Paris.

By merely pushing the right keys, it is possible to get the correct date on a letter. Another set of buttons can produce some 16 polite phrases, such as "sincerely yours" "With all best wishes."

It's all done by the "memory" gadgets in the apparatus, which contains about 48 miles of wire—about as much as is in two normal TV sets.

The electronic "brain" takes up no more room in an office than a standard electric typewriter. It is mounted on a small, mobile desk. It uses no more electric power than a small iron.

Hooked up by cable to the machine's miracle keyboard, an operator can run it by remote control in another room.

Since the typing speed has been geared to one millionth of a second, even a novice secretary with little training can match the speed of a world champion typist. The inventor claims that even a child can operate the electronic robot.

Called the Electro Styl, the machine is the brainchild of Albert Ducrocq, famous French cybernetics expert. He has fashioned a specially designed keyboard, grouping commonly used words and letters, to form a pattern which can be quickly learned by heart.

Bolivia Oil Output Leaps

LA PAZ, Bolivia—Crude-oil output in Bolivia increased from about half a million barrels in 1952 to more than 2,600,000 barrels in 1955. Thirteen wells were brought in in 1952, fourteen in 1953, seventeen in 1954, and 21 in 1955.

Young Executives in Top GM Posts

Heads of Three Divisions Average 44 Years of Age

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Press is indebted to the publishers of Forbes Magazine for special permission to reprint the following article which appeared in the Dec. 1 issue of the business and financial publication.

One day in January 1953, General Motors' hard-driving Harlow Herbert Curtice, boss of the world's largest manufacturing corporation, summoned a puzzled young executive to his office. Philip John Monaghan, then 38 and manufacturing manager of the GMC Truck & Coach Division, made the long trip to the hushed 14th floor atop Detroit's GM building, wondering what was amiss and where he had fallen down. But Monaghan was in for the surprise of his life.

Said Curtice without preliminary: "How would you like to take over as general manager of GMC Truck & Coach?" Gulped Monaghan: "When do I start?"

Last July another unsuspecting GM junior executive, Edward Nicholas Cole, at 46 Chevrolet's chief engineer, was at the GM proving grounds test-driving Chevvies. When General Manager Thomas Keating suddenly appeared to escort Cole to Curtice's office, Cole feared the worst. Ostensibly, Curtice wanted to discuss the '57 Chevvy line, but as Cole remembers vividly, the conversation touched on every thing but the '57 product. Finally Harlow Curtice broke the suspense: "Eddie, we've asked Tom (Keating) to come to the 14th floor, and we want you to take over as general manager of Chevrolet." Stunned, Cole recalls wondering out loud "whether I'm capable." Said Curtice: "If we didn't think so, we wouldn't ask you."

That same day Harlow Curtice had another fateful appointment. At Detroit Diesel, Engine Group Chief Cyrus Osborn told Diesel's General Manager Semon Emil Knudsen, 43, that Curtice wanted to see him.

"What should I bring along?" asked Knudsen, son of onetime GM President (1937-40) William S. Knudsen. "Nothing," Osborn replied cryptically, "just bring yourself."

In "Red" Curtice's 14th floor GHQ, Knudsen had a 20-minute "chat" with GM's boss, still with no inkling as to why he had been summoned. Said Curtice finally: "If things are as good as you say, there's no reason why you can't leave." Somewhat despairingly, Knudsen had to admit that was logically so. Said Curtice: "Exactly 23 years ago today your father phoned me (at GM's AC Spark Plug division), and asked me to become general manager of Buick. My answer to him was, 'How soon?'

"How would you like to become general manager of Pontiac?" Replied "Bunkie" Knudsen: "How soon?"

Thus last month in the motor cities of Flint, Pontiac and Detroit, Mich., GM's Chevrolet, Pontiac and GMC Truck & Coach divisions were being bossed through two shifts a day by three of the youngest men in the auto business ever to wear the badge of division general manager. General Motors' new accent on youth in executive jobs may be more the rule than the exception in U.S. industry these days, but for mighty $6.3 billion GM, the new rule is an exceptional example of forethought about the succession of management.

In this, GM is certainly not alone. In the auto community at large, more young men are being seen and heard at the top level than ever before. At Ford, youth is exemplified by President Henry Ford II, 39, and Vice Presidents Benson Ford, 37, and William Clay Ford, 31.

At Chrysler, from 51-year-old President Lester Lum' ("Tex") Colbert on down, the management team is liberally sprinkled with young, up-and-coming automen: former Dodge Boss William Chrysler's new group vice president-automotive, is 45; R. (for Rhinehart) S. Bright, group vice president-basic manufacturing, is 44.

Charles Gorey, director of corporation manufacturing is 36, and Jack Minor, 35, is vice president in charge of Plymouth's sales staff.

Accent on Youth

This accent on youth in high posts is no monopoly of Detroit's.

Nowhere in U.S. industry has the problem of executive development been more seriously pondered and more successfully solved than at General Motors.

In 1914, at the age of 20, Curtice answered a "blind" newspaper ad and was soon off and running in the GM executive whirl as a bookkeeper at AC Spark Plug.

Within a year he rose to comptroller, at 36 became AC's president.

Four years later Curtice made the meteoric jump to the presidency of Buick, a lackluster division which he soon began transforming into one boasting peak efficiency and lusty profits. When he made the move to Buick, Curtice was just 40 years old.

Says Red Curtice: "The automotive business at all times demands dynamic, creative and energetic leadership. The successful company must constantly strive to blend seasoned and sound judgment with imagination and daring.

Among GM's past "successful cases" must certainly be included Executive Vice Presidents Frederic Donner, Louis Goad and Ivan Wiles, whose ages are 54, 55 and 58 respectively.

Amazing Trio

But from the standpoint of having tremendous responsibility suddenly thrust upon them, three more dramatic success stories would be hard to find than those of GMC's Phil Monaghan, Chevrolet's Eddie Cole and Pontiac's Bunkie Knudsen. Because renewing the executive blood lines has taken on so much urgency for industrial companies these days, it is worth while to look at these three in detail.

Though the average age of the trio is only 44, the most startling fact about these three youthful general managers is that they have amassed no less than 63 years of solid experience at General Motors.

Says one Detroit automan: "At GM they take a lot of time to look you over. They don't start many sophomores in the big game."

But it is a measure of the seriousness of GM's youthful-mindedness that once they have made the varsity, GM's division general managers call their own plays. Except for certain ground rules and occasional coaching from the 14th floor, Managers Cole, Knudsen and Monaghan run their own show.

* * *

It is no small job. Together they direct the activities of some 40,000 employes, turn out some 3 million vehicles a year. Yet as top administrators, Managers Cole, Knudsen and Monaghan are far from being desk jockeys. All three are savvy engineers who initially made their mark with the slide rule, and they rarely turn down a chance to pitch in with practical problems at the plant. Says GMC's Monaghan: "I like to build things."

GMC's Monaghan

Among the things Monaghan has built is a reputation at General Motors for getting the job done. A native Detroiter (something of an anomaly among high echelon automen), Monaghan originally thought of taking up law as his father, two brothers and seven generations of Monaghans had done before him. "But," he recalls, "I talked it over with my father and his only advice was: 'Follow the career you can enjoy.' Well, I enjoy engineering, and I've been following it ever since."

Switching from a law course at Georgetown University (where he played center on the football squad), strapping six-foot Phil Monaghan joined GM 20 years ago as a helper at Fisher Body No. 1, was soon enrolled at the GM Institute in engineering.

From "working with big pieces" at Fisher, Monaghan turned to GM's Ternstedt division (auto hardware) and "began working with little pieces."

In 1940 Monaghan moved over to Oldsmobile as superintendent of methods engineering, less than a year later was assistant production engineer.

* * *

When war came, Monaghan joined the army. Emerging in 1945 as an Infantry major, he soon was back in harness at Oldsmobile as assistant factory superintendent. Seven months later he took over as production manager.

Actually, GM's front office already had its eye on Monaghan and kept watching him closely as he moved on to Oldsmobile's field staff as assistant zone manager in Chicago in 1949, and zone manager in New York a year later.

Finally in 1951 he took over as manufacturing manager of GMC Truck and Coach, when he caught the attention of GMC Boss Roger Kyes.

When Kyes (who was 44 when he was named GMC boss and is now, at 50, vice president in charge of GM's Frigidaire home appliance and truck group) went off to become U.S. Deputy Secretary of Defense, Monagahan stepped into his shoes.

As GM's truck boss, Monaghan is strong for "extras" (i.e., adjustable seating, tinted glass), has given GMC's product a new look. Under Monaghan, GMC has also come up with power brakes, automatic transmission, air conditioning, air suspension—and colors. A recent GMC survey showed that black ranked 13th in popularity with truck drivers. Result: the most colorful line of trucks in GMC's history. Says Monaghan: "A truck is a man's office. There's no reason in the world why it shouldn't be bright and comfortable."

* * *

Monaghan recalls that the first hydromatic pick-up truck to roll off the line three years ago was painted bright green. Since it was the same day Monaghan won his vice presidency, the coincidence "tickled his Irish soul." Also heartening to Monaghan: the fact that GMC's sales, which total about 9 per cent of the truck market, zoomed from 83,823 units in 1954 to 106,000 last year. In 1957 it hopes its spanking new line of trucks and busses will give it another five per cent gain.

Pontiac's Knudsen

Semon Emil Knudsen, the third man in GM's youthful managerial trio, has had an equally remarkable career. He first came to GM with an unusual reference and a "psychological stigma"—he happened to be the son of a famous father.

William S. Knudsen had been no less than president of General Motors, and had gone on to sit high in the councils of U.S. wartime defense.

But no Detroit automan now doubts that Bunkie Knudsen won his GM vice presidential spurs in spite of—not because of—his distinguished legacy.

About the only title Bunkie Knudsen has not earned on his own is his nickname, which his father bestowed on him when the two shared a bedroom at home, and which has stuck to this day.

* * *

A graduate of Dartmouth and MIT, Buffalo-born Knudsen first went to work in a Detroit machine shop. Later, to get experience on high volume production, he switched to a roller bearing shop, where production hit 100,000 units a day. By 1939, during his father's tenure as GM boss, young Knudsen had three years in the shops and experience enough to earn him a spot with Pontiac.

In swift succession, he rose from chief inspector of Pontiac's defense plant to superintendent of its car assembly plant, then to assistant general master mechanic.

In 1953, after serving as director of GM's central office process development section, Knudsen was transferred to the Allison division as assistant manufacturing manager of aircraft engine operations. Before long he was named manufacturing manager. Less than a year after that he was appointed general manager of Detroit Diesel, the job he held until last July when Red Curtice summoned him to the 14th floor and put him in charge of Pontiac.

Enjoys Competition

As boss of the nation's sixth largest automaker, Pontiac's Knudsen is in his element. Says he: "I enjoy the competitive part of industry. I don't think I'd be happy working for myself."

At Pontiac, Bunkie Knudsen has been going fast and far. In his first week on the job, he logged 40,000 miles of travel, going out to meet his dealers first hand. At a recent Pontiac show in Manhattan's Winter Garden Theater, Knudsen blended in so well with the other performers on stage that a burly union man demanded to know whether he had paid his dues. Said Knudsen good naturedly: "I just make a speech and pick up the tab."

* * *

Knudsen recently streamlined Pontiac's once-cumbersome 30-man management committee to an efficiently functioning eight-man executive staff. Says he: "I like people who are good enough managers to handle their own departments with as little help from me as possible."

With that in mind, he keeps a private notebook in which he jots down the name of everyone he has ever met at GM, particularly youngsters who show promise. "You never get anywhere," says Knudsen "moving a man sideways."

Test Driver

And each night Knudsen, whose wife and daughter both own Pontiacs, selects a different model from the line and test-drives it along the 20-minute route to his home near Birmingham, Mich. Next morning he returns it with a brief, pungent report on its performance.

Though he took over Pontiac's reins only a short time ago, Knudsen has effected many a change in his 1957 product. In fact, he set back Pontiac's 1957 debut by three weeks in order to get all the modifications he wanted into the line.

Dissatisfied with the fact that the average Pontiac buyer is 41 years old, Knudsen is bent on popularizing the car with younger buyers. Among other things, he gave names to each model instead of numbers, removed Pontiac's time-honored chrome streaks from the hood and trunk, even junked the familiar hood ornament. "I guess," Knudsen says whimsically, "I'll go down as the guy who got rid of all those Indians."

Out to crack the youthful middle class market, Bunkie Knudsen likes to call his new Pontiac a "status" car, and he is exuberant about dealer reaction to his new product. Said he last month, burrowing through hundreds of congratulatory wires: "The most amazing thing is that we haven't received one word of criticism." Knudsen's goal in 1957: 8 per cent of the passenger car market.

Bunkie Knudsen pointedly refrains from even hanging a picture of his famed father in his office ("I sort of lean over backwards").

But of this much he is certain: "I have never shopped for a job or asked for a raise. I've found you just have to prove yourself. Age makes no difference."

The same philosophy was put forward a few years ago by another automan in a speech before the graduates of Michigan's Olivet College. "Do it the hard way!" he urged. "Think ahead of your job. Then nothing in the world can keep the job ahead from reaching out for you. Be bold, knowing that finally no one can cheat you but yourself." The speaker, a man who should know, was Harlow Curtice.

In short, for bold, young bloods in every commercial pursuit from autos to zirconium, there is more room at the top than ever before. Or, to put it still another way, as Chevrolet's Eddie Cole did only last month: "The road is there. All you have to do is follow it."

End of Year Report Tells of Road Work in Oakland County

Oakland County drew 6.8 miles of new road, 26.8 miles of resurfacing, two bridges, one turn-off and five cross-overs as its share of the 169 million dollar state highway construction program of 1956.

In addition, work on the county's 18 miles of the Farmington-Brighton Expressway now under construction includes 18 bridges and an access road. The 11 million dollar expressway will be opened to traffic next year, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler said in his year-end report.

Scheduled as the county's major project next year is the proposed extension of Northwestern Highway from 14 Mile Road northwesterly to M59. The road is expected to cost 37 million dollars.

Oakland County projects begun by the State in 1956 which will be finished in 1957 include 13 miles of new road and 18 bridges on the Brighton-Farmington Expressway and the half-finished bridge to carry Orchard Lake Road over the proposed Telegraph Road relocation west of Pontiac.

The 6.8 miles of new road completed in Oakland County in 1956 was the reconstruction of M24 from Pontiac north to Lake Orion, and included grading and drainage structures.

Resurfacing work was done on M59, US10, M58, M24 and M150, with the crossover constructed on M150 and the two bridges on the Brighton-Farmington Expressway.

Stating that 1956 "recorded the greatest era of roadbuilding in the history of Michigan," Ziegler said work done in 1956 doubled the amount done in 1955 and equalled all work done from 1951 to 1954.

Some 200 miles of multi-lane, divided highways were opened for use in 1956, he said, and another 500 miles are scheduled in the next two years.

The state program in 1957 will cost 190 million dollars, Ziegler said.

Police Suspect Robbery Ring

Official Links Series of Recent City Holdups, Plans Arrests

Authorities may uncover an armed robbery ring operating in this area, Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said today after obtaining confessions from two men yesterday.

"We think we have sufficient information," he said, "leading to arrests that will clear up numerous holdups in and around Pontiac in the past couple ofmonths.

"Three men in all are being held," he said, "but we have reason to believe there are more persons involved."

The confessions, he said, were in statements made yesterday by two of three men Pontiac police have been holding for investigation of four stickups here in the past month.

* * *

They are Velton Wilder, 18, of 476 Branch St.; Joseph Page, 21, of 497 Ditmar Ave.; and Charles L. Hall, 28, of 314½ Wessen St.

Taylor, who said the men had been questioned by Assistant Prosecutor Paul Mandel, refused to devulge which of the three men had confessed.

Det. Insp. Clark M. Wheaton also remained silent on this score, but said that two of the men will undego lie detector tests today.

The three were arrested following holdups last Thursday night at the F. & W. Market, 62 Jackson St. and at the Progressive Oil Co. station, 477 S. Saginaw St.

* * *

They also were suspected of sticking up the Center Street Market, 10 Center St. Dec. 14, and Riddick's Pharmacy, 373 Franklin Rd. Dec. 17.

In all of the robberies, the bandits were masked. They gained over $600, police say.

Hold Detroiters in Counterfeiting

5 Arrested for Passing 300 Phony $10 Bills in Pre-Yule Rush

DETROIT (UP) — Five Detroiters face federal counterfeiting charges today in connection with the passing of more than $3,000 in bogus $10 bills during the pre-Christmas shopping rush.

Secret service agents said the phony bills passed in the Detroit area were from the same plates as those found in southeastern Michigan which led to the arrest of four Kentuckians last week at Coldwater, Mich.

But William A. Carlson, agent in charge of the Detroit secret service office, said the operations of the two groups of defendants apparently were not connected.

Arrested here yesterday on charges of conspiracy to pass counterfeit money were Charles Williams, John Adolphus, Harold R. Phelps, Alton R. Payne and Robert D. Harrington.

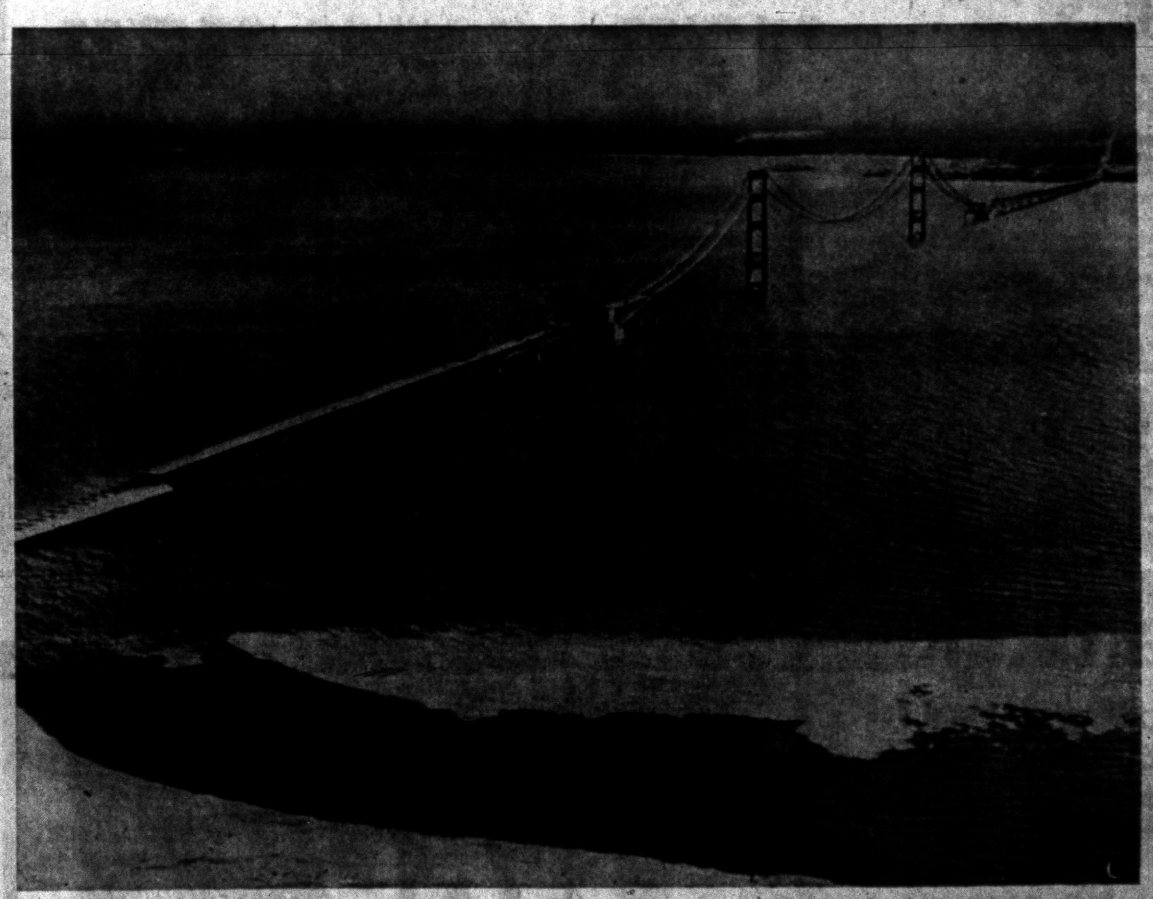

Harrington was bound over for examination Jan. 9 under $25,000 bond. The other four were held under $10,000 bond pending examination on the same date.

Carlson said more than 3,000 in bogus bills were passed in the Detroit area in the past two months.

* * *

Held at Grand Rapids on similar charges are Edward Burton, Robert Calvert, Gloria Smith and Dorothy Harden, all from Louisville, Ky.

The Kentuckians were arrested at Coldwater last week after a sharp-eyed Quincy, Mich., business man wrote down the license number of the car. The merchant was suspicious of a bill given him for a purchase.

ICE THREATENS BRIDGE—Ice massing in the Straits of Mackinac may soon halt construction operations on the $100 million bridge across Michigan's two peninsulas. The bridge lacks only one span on either side to reach the north and south cable anchorages. It is expected to be ready for travelers by fall of next year.

Electricity Cut in East Berlin

Power Companies Order Citizens Slow Consumption Now

BERLIN (INS) — The East Berlin Electrical Works has demanded that homes, state-owned factories, government buildings and the city's elevated trains make drastic cuts in electrical consumption during peak hours, this winter.

The electric plant started cutting off East Berlin's electrical supply three to four hours a day during the fall months.

This conservation of electricity has been practiced in East Berlin since the end of World War II. But this year such blackouts started in October instead of November.

ON LOOKOUT

The city's power authorities have ordered roaming investigators to constantly be on the lookout for "electricity violators" using electrical appliances "unnecessarily."

They have also ruled that the lighting of rooms depends on their sizes. Rooms of one size must be equipped with 40-watt bulbs, while larger rooms are permitted higher watt bulbs.

Reason given for the rationing is that more electricity is consumed in the fall and winter than in spring or summer.

It was said East Germany's Klingenberg electric power station with 220,000 kilowatts and the Rummelsburg power station with 80,000 kilowatts, are forced to divert 40 per cent of their combined output to East Berlin to other parts of the country during these months.

Firemen Free Bird From Perilous Perch

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — Credit the city fire department with the extraordinary rescue of a pigeon.

Someone had tied a 10-foot piece of string to the bird and compounded a felony by attaching a stick to the twine.

Tire Trouble Traps Thief

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Cheyenne police had no trouble tracking down one stolen car. They simply followed the tire tracks in fresh snow to a garage where the stolen vehicle was being hidden.

Illnesses, Decision to Run, Suez, Rebuff of Allies Added to Drama

1956 Was a Crisis—Packed Year for Ike

By ROBERT E. CLARK

WASHINGTON (INS) — Americans were well aware as 1956 began that one of its most dramatic moments would come when President Eisenhower announced whether he would be a candidate for a second term.

* * *

They did not suspect that the drama would be restaged a second time, with two final acts, as it were, to the same tableau.

The President's landslide victory at the polls and his role as peacemaker in a crisis which threatened to engulf the world would have been highlights enough for the suspense-ridden year of 1956.

But for simple human drama neither could touch the yes-or-no decision Mr. Eisenhower had to make about his own future — not once, but twice.

On Feb. 29, after months of soul-searching as he recuperated from a heart attack, the President ended the will-he-or-won't-he guessing game with an "affirmative" pronouncement.

He would run for reelection, he said, without the "slightest doubt that I can perform as well as I ever have, all of the important duties of the Presidency."

Little more than three months later, in the pre-dawn hours of June 9, Mr. Eisenhower lay on the operating table at Walter Reed Army Hospital, undergoing major intestinal surgery. "Ileitis" joined "Coronary Thrombosis" in the growing medical vocabulary of Americans.

* * *

Consternation replaced the elation with which Republicans had greeted the chief executive's earlier decision to be their 1956 standard-bearer.

Mr. Eisenhower, by a nod or a shake of his head, again held the seeming power to decide whether Republicans or Democrats would guide the nation's destiny for the next four years.

CASUAL ANSWER

This time his answer was given almost casually.

"Why shouldn't I run?" the President asked GOP congressional leaders as he convalesced in Gettysburg. "My doctors say that I am better than I have ever been."

With the big decision out of the way once more, the Presidential election came almost as an anticlimax, despite the furious campaign waged by Adlai Stevenson.

* * *

Mr. Eisenhower blazed back angrily at his Democratic rival on the surprise issues of halting H-bomb tests and ending the draft. But with his tremendous personal popularity with the American people, victory was never in serious doubt.

The President's campaign speeches in a dozen key states failed to keep Congress from going Democratic again, but he rolled up a whopping personal majority of nine and one-half million votes on election day.

The Middle East crisis which exploded the week before the election caused Mr. Eisenhower to cancel part of his campaign schedule. But, the experts agreed, the crisis only widened his victory margin.

Mr. Eisenhower hailed his triumph at the polls as a sign that, "modern Republicanism has now proved itself, and America has approved of modern Republicans."

The Democratic-controlled 84th Congress looked with considerably less enthusiasm than the voters on the Eisenhower program.

The lawmakers backed the President on most foreign policy matters, but dealt rudely with large portions of his domestic program.

The school aid bill was killed in a segregation fight, social security was liberalized more than the administration thought wise and the four-cent stamp once again failed to get a senate postmark.

* * *

Mr. Eisenhower got away with vetoing a politically explosive farm bill that would have restored 90 per cent parity payments but had to accept a substitute with a number of undesirable features.

The President gained new stature as a man of peace in 1956 when he rebuffed America's traditional allies in their attempt to bring Egypt to her knees by force in the Suez dispute.

His insistence on the withdrawal of British and French troops dimmed his long-standing popularity in those two countries but won new respect for the United States in the Middle East and other parts of the world.

Seek Consumer Goods, Modernization

Poles May Ask Millions in Aid

(An experienced central European newsman went to Poland recently to report on the military, economic and political situation under the new regime. In the following dispatch, he describes the economic picture and Poland's reported plans to seek U.S. aid.)

By HEMEN RAY

BERLIN (INS) — A three-man Polish mission may go to the United States shortly to seek Poland's first American loan, probably as much as a half-billion dollars.

An authoritative source said in Warsaw that Poland must have the half-billion in U.S. aid over the next five years.

"Otherwise," he said, "Poland's economy will suffer a serious setback."

Poland already has obtained a sizable grant from Russia and reportedly is seeking loans totaling $100 million from British, Swedish, Dutch and Belgian banks.

But the Polish source said these funds would not be enough and that Poland needs dollars to electrify railroads; modernize chemical plants and mine facilities; build up the merchant marine; and pay for raw material imports.

* * *

Another informant in Warsaw said that an economic "brain-trust" is currently developing a new economic plan to shore up the country's economy.

The old five-year plan is a dead issue, he said, and a commission headed by former U.S. citizen Dr. Oscar Lange is working on a new formula.

The average Pole, this correspondent observed, has sufficient food, clothing and shelter—but little more than the minimum and considerably less than people in comparable positions in other satellites.

Therefore, the source said, Lange's commission will concentrate on consumer goods production and will cut back on the unrealistic norms which the previous five-year plan set for agriculture and heavy industry.

For example, he said, the goal set for industrial production will be a 55 per cent increase, instead of the 150 per cent previously demanded.

At the same time, he said, the emphasis will be put on modernizing present factories and not on developing new industries. He claimed that a major part of the armament factories will be closed down or transformed into plants for making consumer goods, such as clothing.

Although the farm production goals will be reduced from a 50 per cent to a 20 per cent increase, the informant said, the government will make efforts to reduce the worker force by sending factory employes back to the farms they deserted in recent years.

Party-Line Phone in Doggy Situation

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The telephone company trouble shooter was puzzled after Mrs. J. R. Jones told him:

* * *

"We never leave the receiver off the hook. We never answer any ring on the party line but our own."

The telephone rang. Into the room bounded Lindy, the family's sheep dog. With a sweep of his paw, Lindy knocked the phone from its stand, the receiver flying to the end of the cord.

* * *

Three Hormone Forms

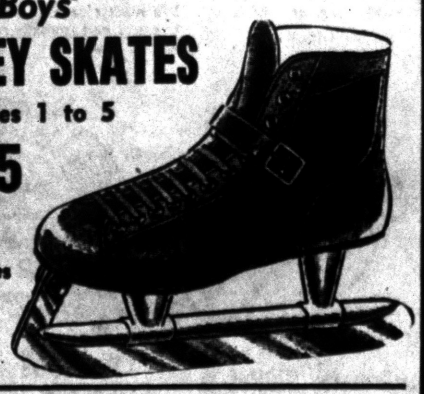

BOSTON — Thryroid hormone is one of the body's most complex. It is stored in the gland as thyroglobulin. A second form circulates in the blood, and a third is active in the tissue.

Whaling Catch Climbs

CANBERRA—The gross value of the catch by Australia's five whaling stations in 1955 climbed to a record $4,400,000, slightly above 1954. The quota of 1,840 whales was filled — lower than in 1954.

New Project to Revolutionize System

Army Now Using Electronic Aide When Ordering Supplies

By HERB ALTSCHULL

STUTTGART, Germany (AP)—The U.S. Army is getting so streamlined that even the nuts and bolts that keep its equipment together are being supplied electronically.

It's all part of Project Mass and the top brass at 7th Army headquarters here report that the pioneer work done so far has just about proved the efficiency of the new electronic supply system.

Mass stands for "Modern Army Supply System," and it's just that. Every item the Army uses can now be ordered by electronic brains spitting out cards filled with tell-tale holes.

Sgt. Joe Doakes at a forward Army post in Germany can order a spare part for a truck or howitzer all the way from the United States and have it in hand in a couple of days.

Project Mass has not yet been made routine for the whole army. But 7th Army officials predict that the current elaborate testing program will convince the Pentagon to put it into force all over the world.

* * *

The experimental project has been under way here since last July. Its action officer, Maj. Harold Maier of Lansing, Mich., says, "We have made tremendous progress."

"Our supply system was really a mess," said Martin Tieman of George Washington University, one of the top civilian officials of Project Mass.

"We had half a million items scattered all over the place. A lot of them had no supply numbers and there were plenty that hadn't even been catalogued," he said.

So the nut and bolt roundup began. In half a year most of these items have been located, tagged and numbered.

* * *

"Our goal is to keep about 40,000 items on hand in mobile supply units in Europe," Tieman said. "That represents about 85 per cent of the Army's needs.

The remaining 15 per cent can be ordered directly from the United States.

One of the major reasons for Project Mass was fear that atomic strikes could swiftly wipe out the many bulky supply depots the Army has been maintaining in Germany and France.

* * *

The plan is to cut the number of European depots to no more than five and increase the number of mobile "direct supply units" to about 100.

The latter stock the replacement parts most in demand. The depots, also being put on wheels, stock important items not so frequently needed.

Bigger, slower moving items are handled directly from the United States — either by ship or plane.

* * *

Radio runs it all. In the stock control center at Stuttgart, soldiers man a series of electronic "transceivers" which take orders on cards and place calls within seconds.

* * *

Each depot and direct supply unit has its own transceivers. So does supply headquarters in New York.

"In modern warfare," Maier said, "troops must move quickly, mass for an attack and then disperse. There isn't any room for old-fashioned supply units. They wouldn't last very long in an atomic war."

* * *

In the past ships carried replacement parts from the United States to Germany in an unending stream. Under Project Mass, no equipment moves unless it is ordered special or unless the electronic brains find out the European depots have fallen below required replacement supply. Then it comes automatically. Formerly, it took 120-180 days to replenish supplies from the States.

"We hope to cut it to 20 days eventually," said Robert Faylor, director of George Washington University's logistics branch, which is masterminding the program. "Right now, we can move 80 per cent of the items in 23 days."

Humans More Than Hold Their Own

Compares Man to Electronic Gadgets

NEW YORK (INS)—"What a piece of work is a man, how noble in reason, how infinite in faculty," said Shakespeare's Hamlet, and science in the machine age is beginning to learn how right the Bard was.

* * *

A panel of experts at the 123rd annual meeting of the American Association for Advancement of Science compared modern man with electronic computers, mechanic brains and other mechanical marvels—and found man more than holds his own.

* * *

In fact, they found designers are copying such "biomechanical wonders" as the human knee for use in industrial processes.

Dr. Max Lund, a human engineer at the Office of Naval Research, Washington, D. C., gave these "noble" and "infinite" dimensions to man's abilities:

1. As a "highly reliable receiver" of data. The range of the human eye covers more than eight logarithmic units. That is, taking the lowest seeing limit as one, the highest limit has a value of 100 million.

The hearing apparatus is even more sensitive. The edge of sound is only slightly greater than the sound produced by the collision of invisible air molecules. The loudest sound man hears without pain is roughly ten trillion times as much.

For the record, Dr. Lund thinks some hypersensitive people can actually hear this collision of molecules.

2. As an "exceptionally good evaluative computer," Dr. Lund found man has a good long-term memory, but lags behind machines in speed and accuracy of numerical computations. This lag becomes even more apparent when man works under conditions of stress or repetition.

* * *

3. As a controller of the outputs of another man or a machine, man is "relatively slow," due to his motor responses. His output for highly skilled tasks—such as typing or playing the piano—appear limited to five or six letters or notes per second.

On the other hand, Dr. Lund says man can do things that no machine can do, as yet.

Although science is "moving towards semi-automation of processing plants and the replacement of man with electronic brains, Dr. Lund said man still has such "unique" abilities as solving problems by logical induction, flexibility in changing situations and making decisions among complex and uncertain circumstances.

Grand Jury Called in Theft of Oil Maps

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A federal grand jury was summoned today to look into the alleged pirating of valuable oil exploration maps from the Gulf Oil Corp. offices here.

The case came to light Dec. 18 when U. S. Atty. Malcolm Anderson made a public announcement and FBI agents arrested three men in New York.

* * *

Anderson said the maps were stolen by a trusted Gulf employe who was in debt to New York gamblers. He said potential oil reserves were listed on the maps and that the information was used to purchase leases before Gulf's real estate department could do so.

Identity of the Gulf employe or his whereabouts was not disclosed.

U.S. Has Coal Supply

CHARLESTON, W. Va.—There is an estimated global coal reserve of something like 7.4 trillion net tons. Of this reserve nearly 60 per cent is found within the borders of North America. The United States contains nearly 50 per cent of the world's supply.

So rapidly do bacteria multiply that it is said by scientists one bacillus in a 24-hour period may produce upwards of 16.5 million others.

But Girls Won't 'Take It Off'

Burleque Hits New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Burlesque — without the strip-tease, bumps or grinds — returned to New York City last night after a 19-year exile.

"Nothing offensive," commented License Commissioner Bernard J. O'Connell after he witnessed the 2½ - hour opening night performance at the Columbia burlesque theater. The show drew a half-capacity crowd.

* * *

O'Connell and two aides viewed the performance to make sure the show's management upheld its pledge to keep it clean. The late Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia banished burlesque from the city in '37 on grounds it was lewd and unsavory.

The show, appropriately titled "Welcome Exile," stuck to the new script. The baggy trousers, burlesque skirts and bare midriffs were there. But the spots where stripper once cavorted were filled with attempts at ballet.

* * *

Hula dancer Donna Vea and tap dancer Shirely McGuire supplied most of the sex appeal.

"All of us have high hopes for this," declared Miss Vea, but she expressed dissappointment at the crowd:

"What's the use of trying for something decent when they let that kind of people in? Yelling, 'Take it off.' Throwing money. They ought to be thrown out."

Student Must Have Keen 'Cream Love

VANCOUVER, Wash. (INS) — A Hudson's Bay High School junior who won a contest at school entitling him to all the ice cream he could eat in 30 minutes at a Vancouver ice cream shop made quite an impression on the shop owner.

The student, Jim Henderson, took just 30 minutes to wade through two banana splits, a root beer float, a hot fudge sundae, a butter pecan sundae and a chocolate milk shake.

Abduct Woman, Pair Accused

Ex - Billiard Champ's Wife Robbed After Terrifying Ride

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mrs. Joan Franklin, pretty 39 - year - old blonde, returned home almost in hysterics last night and told police she had been abducted by two young men who drove her almost to St. Louis and back.

* * *

She had been missing since Christmas noon.

Police said they were able to get only a fragmentary story before Mrs. Franklin was put under a physician's care.

Her husband Walter Franklin, once was a nationally known billiard player. He now is promoting uranium claims.

* * *

Mrs. Franklin said two men about 20 years old accosted her as she drove into a drugstore parking lot at 40th and Main in her white Cadillac convertible. One of them held a knife against her, she said. One of them struck her several times when she asked them to release her near Jonesburg, Mo., 190 miles east of Kansas City on U.S. 40.

* * *

They left her in her car in a wooded area on the east edge of Kansas City, she related.

Franklin said the men took $48 his wife had but did not take her fur coat, a four-carat sapphire dinner ring or a wedding band dinner ring or a wedding band with six diamonds.

Immunization Drive to Continue in County

Immunization against diphtheria is still being carried on full force in Oakland County, health department officials have reported.

* * *

Additional immunization clinics which were added to regular sessions at the county, city and southern county health departments following an outbreak of the disease in Detroit, are still being continued, Evelyn Kidneigh, county nursing director, said.

* * *

Miss Kidneigh said that clinics which were highly participated in the last week of November and the first two weeks of December dropped considerably in attendance last week, presumably due to Christmas.

"Although the number of diphtheria cases has diminished in Detroit and we have no cases of the disease here, we still will check immunity levels in the various areas of the county," Miss Kidneigh continued. "And we will immunize school children in the several low immunity schools in the county."

The health department is aiming for a 65 to 70 per cent immunization at least, she said, because an epidemic cannot spread if that percentage of the population is protected against the disease.

Miss Kidneigh urged everyone to check their immunization because sporadic cases can often occur in the 30 per cent not immunized.

County residents can be immunized at the additional clinics if arrangements with their doctors cannot be made, she added.

Clinics are held from 9 to 11 a.m. Tuesday and 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Thursdays at the North Oakland office, 1070 N. Telegraph Rd., from 1 to 3 p.m. Wednesday at City Hall on Parke street in Pontiac and from 1 to 3 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays at the South Oakland Health Center, 2401 W. Fourth St., Royal Oak.

'Purge' Victim, Claims Powell

Democrats Denied Him Succession to Offices, Says New Yorker

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY), who bolted the Democratic presidential ticket to support President Eisenhower, says House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) seems "bent on purging me."

* * *

Powell, a Negro, said last night that Rayburn sent him a letter dated Dec. 4 and told him he would not be given a set of new congressional offices. Powell said he was entitled to these offices "on the basis of seniority."

Appearing on Mike Wallace's Night Beat television program, Powell declared:

* * *

"As of March 1, I was entitled to new offices being vacated by Dan Reed (R-NY). He (Rayburn) has given these offices to Chelf of Kentucky (Rep. Frank L. Chelf) because I did not support the nominees for president and vice president on the Democratic ticket and Chelf did support these nominees.

* * *

"That seems to indicate that Rayburn is bent on purging me, but if the Democratic caucus on Jan. 2 . . . purges me as the first person in the history of the Democratic party it will be obvious that they are purging me only because I am a Negro.

"They have never done it to any of the state rights boys from Dixieland."

* * *

Powell supported the Eisenhower ticket, he said, because he preferred the President's stand on civil rights to that of Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee. Powell said at the time he was still a Democrat.

Wen Yur Reed This U Will No: Pupils Can't Spell

NEW YORK (AP)—Today's spelling lesson:

"A skeeter bit the human bean on the sholder of his boddy, drawing blud, and he called a docer and nerse before he divilliped brane fever."

* * *

If you fail to spot the errors, you can still go to college, says Dr. Kenneth B. M. Crooks, zoology professor of Fort Valley State College, Georgia.

He says he has seen from 100 to 500 college students make these same misspellings, and more. Words like ginny pig, brane, boddy, flud, nerse, colur, curcle, somthing, punkin, worf (for wharf), anamal.

Many college students can't spell common words, some do not know the alphabet, and something should be done about it, he told the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science.

"It is well known that college students do not read, write, nor comprehend as well as they should. This study (over a 26-year period) proves that they cannot spell either."

Dr. Crooks cited these among the probable reasons:

Children don't get enough drill in writing and spelling. We are addicted to slogans. Incorrect public signs and notices. Most school teachers seem to feel that teaching spelling is beneath their dignity.

Toll Turnpike Hits Mark Before Time

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Revenue from Colorado's first modern toll road, the Denver-Boulder turnpike, has passed the two million dollar mark two years ahead of schedule.

Engineers estimated the road, opened Jan. 21, 1952, would collect two million dollars by November 1958 but revenue has already surpassed that figure.

Actor Cameron Mitchell Likes Japanese Women

KYOTO, Japan (INS) — Chalk up another vote for Japanese women, the latest from Hollywood's Cameron Mitchell who strongly advises:

"It should be compulsory for every woman in the United States to visit Japan before contemplating marriage."

The popular stage and screen actor believes marriages will then last longer.

The Western woman, he said, could learn a lot from the Japanese femme and keep many marriages from going on the rocks.

Mitchell, in an interview, said the Japanese woman is the "most amazing" person in the world. He added:

"I feel that the Japanese woman is the strength of Japan. They hold the home together, they work and they entertain man in a very refreshing way.

"It is wonderful to have a woman do some little thing for you such as light a cigarette."

He was quick to point out, however, that this does not spoil the man but makes him appreciate the woman even more.

Mitchell, no newcomer to Japan, made his remarks in Kyoto on location for RKO's "Escapade in Japan."

Said Mitchell:

"It was a bad one, my worst."

Asked if the fairer sex of Japan showed any improvement since his first visit here, the actor replied:

"The women look much smarter and beauteous on the outside and of course they still retain their interior beauty."

Mitchell's co-star in the film, Philip Ober, was in full accord on the topic of Japanese women. He said:

"Before we came East Cam gave me a big buildup about the women. Now that I'm here, I'm in full agreement."

African Forest to Grow in 20-Year Program

CAPE TOWN — A 20-year forestry and industrial development program for Zululand and Northern Natal, estimated to cost at least 25,000,000 pounds, is expected to make that area the largest single man-made forest in the world.

The forest when planted will cover an area of 170 miles by 10 miles.

Exhibit Locomotives

WASHINGTON—The Smithsonian Institution has on exhibit all the known remains of all the steam locomotives used in this country before 1835. The exhibit includes one operable locomotive, the John Bull, built in 1831 in Britain, and parts of four earlier ones.

Industrial Mishap Rates Decrease After Age 45

CHICAGO — Industrial accident rates are lower for workers aged 45 or over than for younger workers.

But there are wide variations among age groups over 40, with lower rates among persons 65 or older than among those 40 to 65.

Cities With Odd Names

EDMONTON, Alberta — Among the unusual names given communities in Canada are these in Alberta: Seven Persons, Medicine Hat, Belly Butte, Keg River, Driftpile, Nightingale, Chin, Owlseye, Margie, Firebag River, Embarras Portage, and Cooking Lake.

The American Music Conference says that there are 1,600,000 players of the ukulele in the United States. The harmonica has 400,000 devotees.

Just One Shot

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—Scientists at the State University of New York here report successful treatment of children suffering from acute streptococcal pharyngitis, a serious throat infection, with a single penicillin injection. The drug combines three penicillin salts for rapid but prolonged therapeutic effect.

Trucks parked overnight in Glacier National Park have to be fenced in. Favorite food of porcupines are synthetic rubber tires.

Women of Fashion Anxiously Await News

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—It certainly is an uncertain world. Nobody knows from one day to the next what will happen . . . where Dick Nixon will fly, how much coffee will cost, who put the socks in Mrs. Murphy's chowder.

* * *

But that's what makes news and bookies, and perhaps we should be grateful. After all life would be pretty dull, wouldn't it, if we all knew we were destined to be wealthy and famous, rather than just suspecting it.

Well, among next week's certain uncertainties will be that celebrated cause de clothes-horse, the announcement of "the best dressed-women in the world, 1956-'57."

Already it has the social set palpitating from its padless shoulders to its pointed toes. There have been many thrilling rumors:

Is the Duchess of Windsor really passe because she went strolling on Fifth avenue in a suit that clashed with her four taupe-colored pugs?

* * *

Did Grace Kelly lose her style standing when she became an expectant mother, e'en though her maternity modes were designed in Paree?

COMING BACK?

Can Clare Boothe Luce and Elsa Maxwell make a comeback to the exclusive set of the top groomed? And those fabulous one-time winners, the Princess Sixtee de Bourbon Parme, Viscountess C. Benoist-d'Azy, Senora Martinez Hoz, and the ever-popular Kay Francis—what of them?

* * *

These, and other questions too copious to cope with here, will not be answered until Jan. 1, when the New York Dress Institute, Couture Division, springs its announcement to the newspapers.

In the meantime, all over Park avenue (and the Champs-Elysees, certainement), there must be dozens of ladies to whom this suspense temporarily supersedes the eternal worry: Where is the next mink coming from?

We called the Dress Institute, which began this intensive search for best-dressed women "to act as a fashion inspiration for the world" in 1940, after Paris gave up its traditional "B-D" contests during World War II. We were in hopes of getting a scoop on this year's contest, but were told simply not to be silly.

* * *

"The 2,000 ballots are tabulated, audited, and locked in a vault," said a nice young lady named Diana Stokes, "and even the winners themselves do not know the results until they buy a paper.

"This is very businesslike and on the up-and-up, and not just a gimmick as many people—" she tossed us a furtive look "—might be misguided into thinking."

BUDGET FASHION

Miss Stokes explained that some persons have complained in the past that there are many women, including secretaries and housewives, who dress beautifully on a small amount of money.

* * *

"This is no doubt true," she admitted, "and we certainly don't deny it. But in our pool, we ask for votes from all New York and out-of-town fashion editors of newspapers and magazines, from socially prominent persons throughout the world, from fashion designers here and abroad, and from VIPs of all kinds who are in a position to see well-dressed women.

"The result, of course, is that the scope is so wide that the winners generally turn out to be people who are most in the public eye. For these are the people whose grooming is seen and admired by the greatest number of people."

Therefore it's not only what they wore, but in whose vicinity they wore it, that brought titles 16 times to the Duchess of Windsor and 11 times to Mrs. Harrison Williams, the top top-to-toe winners in the history of women's trying to dress best.

* * *

So take the Dress Institute's word, housewives and secretaries and socialites who don't make the grade. It's not because you are anything but immaculately groomed and imaginatively styled that you are not on the BDW list. It's just that you've been casting your charms on the wrong voters.

Less Scenery in Texas but You Can See It All

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—A Texan visited California where a boastful cousin in Hollywood drove him out to the San Fernando Valley to look at the scenery. "Too bad about the smog," the Californian said, "because you can't see all the scenic beauty we really have. Everything's hidden by fog today but we do have wonderful scenery. Texas has nothing like it." The Texan thought for a second, then replied, "No, Texas doesn't have much scenery, but what scenery we do have, we can see."

Never mind what holiday party it was, but Walt Kelly, describing it, said, "A sudden lush fell over the threshhold" . . . Herb Shriner'll do a movie and B'way show during his vacation from TV—and is also investing heavily in Florida real estate . . . Gene Tierney's back home again after her last illness, getting ready for a Hollywood return . . . Celeste Holm doesn't try to be dignified in her act at Miami Beach's Eden Roc. She flops flat on the floor of the stage in her beautiful dress and says while lying prone, "This is the floor show."

GENE

Democratic Joke: "The Miami hotels all have 9-hole presidential suites" . . . She wants to do a show, or opera . . . Irish Jimmy Little of TV's taken over an Italian restaurant and serves "Corned beef and cabbage Parmigiana."

Honest—Hal March checked his coat at Gary Wagner's cocktail brawl and got the number "64" . . . Jackie Gleason, about to vacation, is asking for ski clothes. Not skis, just ski clothes . . . The Big Sport Frank Andrews and Sonny Werblin matching $100 bills "Odd and even." Guy who guesses the last digit correctly (odd or even) keeps the bill.

We heard a rumor that Roxanne and Tom Reddy were divorcing and phoned them. They screamed with laughter. Roxanne said, "I don't really know, though, 'cause I haven't seen my Christmas present yet."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Lionel Hampton's celebrity chauffeur, Roosevelt Zanders, left him suddenly the other night with the explanation, "Gotta Take Nehru to Mrs. Roosevelt" . . . The Bal Tabarin, a B'way landmark, was sold . . . Dore Schary will go around the world for the One World foundation . . . Louis Armstrong was fogged-in in London, delayed his Basin Street opening.

Tony Bennett and Jack Webb are plotting a TV music-drama series . . . Next films to be shot in N. Y.: "Hatful of Rain," with Eva Marie Saint, "Desk Set" with Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn . . . Actor Neville Brand's ex-wife Jeanne is off to Mexico to study bull-fighting . . .

Earl's Pearls . . .

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Remember," asks Billy Eckstine, "when Texas was a state instead of a Cadillac showroom?"

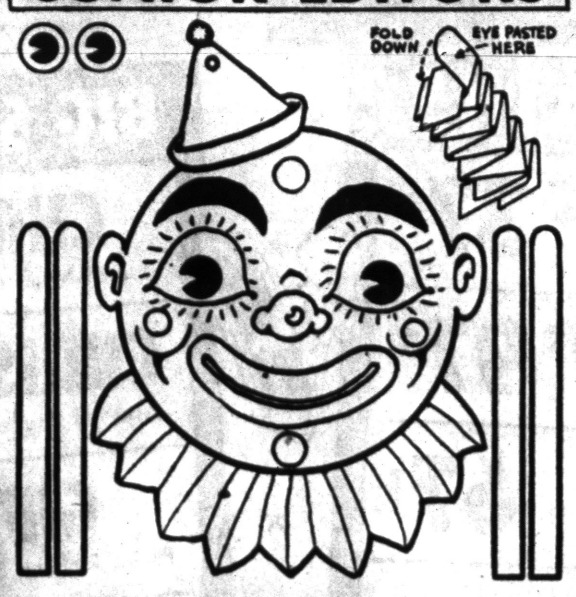

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Al Newman claims he spotted this on a movie marque: "'Dance of the Seven Veils.' After six, prices increase."

Parke Levy sent out these Christmas cards: "Sorry I cannot send you a present this year. Instead, a gift in your name has been given to my wife." That's earl, brother.

The Bug-Eyed Clown

Clowns are so much fun. They make children laugh by doing all sorts of humorous things. The round-faced clown pictured here can make his eyes almost jump out of his head.

You can have fun with this bug-eyed clown by pasting him down on cardboard and coloring with crayons. His ruffled collar can be made many different colors if you like.

Cut out the four long strips at the sides. Put two of them at right angles and then fold one over the other until they are all intertwined as shown in the diagram at the top right.

Now paste the eyes, top left, on the round end of the folded strips and attach the strips to the eyes already on the clown's face.

The eye-strips will act like springs if you press them down. Presto, you have a bug-eyed clown!

(First to contribute this idea was 10-year-old Claire Zielinski of Denver. If you have a good idea send it care of this newspaper. It may be worth $10. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures).

Club to Resume Boys' Activities in Waterford

High school boys in the Waterford Township area will again have the opportunity of participating in all kinds of sports this winter at the Community Activities building on Williams Lake Rd., according to Tom Belton, director.

Beginning Jan. 7, the Young Men's Athletic club will start a program which will include table tennis, boxing, basketball, shuffleboard, and weight lifting.

Membership fee for the supervised activities will be $1, and the gym will be available to boys from 7 to 9 Monday nights. New members will be accepted throughout the entire year, Belton said.

Chile's Laws Explained

WASHINGTON—A new compilation of Chilean laws in matters affecting business has been issued by the Pan American Union. The book is one of a series edited and published by PAU's department of international law to provide businessmen, lawyers, and others with a summary of the basic legislation on force in each Latin-American republic, particularly laws concerning commercial matters.

Snow Ends Search for Canadian Plane

VANCOUVER (AP) — The RCAF has suspended its search for a missing Trans-Canada Air Lines plane and its 62 passengers and crew. An RCAF spokesman said the wreckage will probably not be found until Spring.

* * *

RCAF search and resuce operations at nearby Sea Island said a halt has been called to the hunt "unless further leads develop."

Snow conditions in the mountains 100 miles east of Vancouver, where the North Star is feared to have crashed 17 days ago, "make it unlikely that anything will be found until Spring," a spokesman said.

Calvin College Gets Gift of Grounds Equipment

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Calvin College and Seminary has accepted a $30,000 gift of grounds equipment and furnishings at its new suburban campus site, formerly the J. C. Miller estate.

The Synod of the Christian Reformed Church purchased the 166-acre estate property from Miller last June for $400,000.

Druggist Sees Great Changes and Advances in Store of the Future

ANN ARBOR (INS) — Drugstores of 1980 will have moving conveyor floors, closed circuit television and special geriatrics departments.

At least that was the forecast of a druggist publication editor in a speech to a group of pharmacists at the University of Michigan.

Dan Rennick, editor of the American Druggist, said: "There will be more drug stores 25 years from now, despite encroachments by supermarkets, door-to-door salesmen and physician - owned pharmacies."

In U of M's annual pharmacy lecture, he predicted there would be 55,000 drug stores by 1980, an increase of 7,000 above today's total.

He said that while demands for pharmacies increase "food stores and retail outlets will decrease."

Rennick went on to say:

"The trend for the past 15 years has been toward fewer but larger stores in ther retail and food products field. Drug stores will be more in evidence in shopping centers, and suburbs, fewer in number in big cities, and remain approximately the same in rural areas.

"Rural and small town drugstores will achieve a new importance during the next 25 years."

He pictured the drug store of the future as having the prescription department in the front of the store, emphasizing the professional services of the business. Prescriptions, which now account for only 25 per cent of the store's sale volume, will increase to 40 per cent of the business income by 1980.

The closed circuit TV, he visualized, will enable the store manager to keep an "eye" on the self-service drug sections which he said all 1980 stores will have.

Finds Busy Span Not Best Place to Try Scooter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—So here's this little old man put-putting his way across the 8½-mile San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge at a 10-mile-an-hour clip on his spanking new motor scooter.

And here are the four-wheelers whizzing past on all sides at speeds up to 50 or maybe 55.

Highway patrol cars penned in the motoring scooterish or scootering motorist. He fell off.

"I'm just learning how to ride this thing," he said in explaining he was scooting over to Oakland for Christmas dinner with friends. And he didn't know such a scooter was banned from the world's longest overwater span.

He signed his name "M. Strang" on the tow slip and tootled off to his dinner.

Nobody said how he was going to get back across the bridge.

There was no charge against him.

Innate Curiosity of Cormorants Can Kill Them

SAN FRANCISCO—(INS) — Cormorants are curious birds, particularly when they are hungry, and their curiosity sometimes leads them into a death trap.

The California Department of Fish and Game reports that cormorants can be occasionally found in crab nets, some of which rest on the ocean floor 200 feet below the surface.

Attracted by crabs caught in nets, or by bait in the traps, the deep sea divers of the bird world swim down to investigate and are trapped themselves.

Other birds that fish Empire ocean waters are pelicans which hit the water with a resounding splash as they make a shallow dive for their quarry, and sea gulls which just skim the surface for their catches.

Smartest of the birds to get their victuals from the ocean are linnets. They don't even get wet. These sea-going cadgers rendezvous with charter fishing boats "to put the bite" on the residue of fishermen's sandwiches.

Cork Bottles Noise Out of Denver Store

DENVER (AP) — A two-inch blanket of cork was laid under a downtown Denver street to keep traffic noise out of the basement of a new hotel and department store.

After excavating under the street for the basement, workmen placed a new surface on one block of Court Place, between 15th and 16th streets.

The cork was placed atop a concrete slab that makes up the ceiling of the fourth floor of the huge basement. Five layers of waterproofing were placed on the cork before a 10-inch concrete slab was poured to form the foundation for a two-inch asphalt street surface.

No Holiday for Soldiers

ALGIERS (AP) — Christmas brought no letup to the war in Algeria between the French and Moslem nationalists. A total of 85 persons were reported killed and 56 wounded over the weekend and the Christmas holiday. The casualties included 6 Europeans and 14 others killed in nationalist attacks, 56 wounded by the rebels, and 65 rebels the French said their patrols killed.

Young Driver Violates Everything in the Book

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — A 17-year-old Casper youth arrested by police may have missed violating a few traffic laws—but not many.

They said before the youth's car collided with another, he (1) ran from police, (2) drove the wrong direction on a one-way street, (3) drove with headlights out, (4) was speeding, (5) failed to give right-of-way and (6) made an illegal left turn.

Few Jobless in Belgium

BRUSSELS—The average number of the registered unemployed in Belgium declined from 225,000 in 1955 to 172,000 at the start of 1956. A leading Belgian bank reported recently that the country was enjoying very nearly full employment.

Housefly Winning in Battle Against Most Insecticides

PARIS (INS) — The common housefly is winning the struggle against efforts of modern science to exterminate it.

The World Health Organization said 10 species of disease-carrying insects have already developed immunity against the most powerful modern insecticides and 27 others were showing evidence of growing resistance.

* * *

The housefly has become almost universally resistant and the body-louse is becoming harder to kill. Mosquitoes, in some areas, are not succumbing to chemicals meant to eradicate them.

WHO blamed this situation to a lack of coordination between the world's chemical laboratories and the consequent delay in bringing the newest insecticides into full universal use before pests have time to develop resistance.

Farming is the principal occupation of about three-fourths of Mexico's total population, recent surveys show.

Automation Future Maid-of-All-Work?

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Automation is spreading fast from the factory to the office and the kitchen.

* * *

Mechanization we have long had with us. This is mechanical action served by a power source but guided or controlled by human brains and hands. Example: the electric washer that has to be turned on and off.

* * *

adds guidance and control supplied by additional inanimate units built into the machine itself. Example; the automatic clothes washer.

Automation also often includes the ability to check automatically against mistakes and to apply past experience to future action$ Example: the computers used in many offices.

* * *

Automated food preparation equipment run by punched cards may be built into tomorrow's kitchens. A punched card recipe would command the movements now performed by the cook. Scientists see the day when punched cards will tell the homemaker what food to order based on the machine's "memory" of what the family likes, how much is thrown away and what quantity of any type of food is consumed over a given period.

* * *

From the factory, perhaps, could come an automatic kitchen mixer like the Fairbanks-Morse scales that automatically dole out and measure industrial materials to be mixed.

Homes in the arid Southwest already are being equipped with mechanisms that cool the house when the weather outside is hot and reverse themselves to warm the house when the night chill sets in. And Carrier Corp. has just opened a weather engineering laboratory at Syracuse, N.Y., to seek still higher efficiency in home air conditioning.

* * *

Machines are taking over more office work all the time—whether it's the huge mathematical chores like those performed by Remington Rand's Univac, or central dictating machines such as those installed by the Gray Manufacturing Co. in the Stanvac building in Westchester County, N.Y.

* * *

In any one of 290 offices a Stanvac executive can pick up his phone and dial central dictating. Automatically his dictated words are channeled to any of 24 dictating machines in the central battery. After the typist has transcribed the discs, automation takes over again, carrying by pneumatic tubes the finished copy back to the man who dictated it.

OH, SHOE, SHOE! — Actress Marie Windsor isn't just horsing around for a publicity picture — she really knows how to shoe a horse. And she can tune up a car like a garage mechanic. She picked up the skills when she lived on her parents' ranch at Marysvale, Utah.

Reds Criticize Pope for Yule Message says the Christmas message of Pope Pius XII "could hardly be described as that of a religious leader."

Accusing the Pope of supporting preventive war and thus doing what few Western leaders now dare do," the Moscow broadcast said he "sounded a note of dissonance contrasting with the Christmas music and hymns . ."

In his annual message, the Pope proclaimed the morality of defensive war and called on the world to give the United Nations the right and power to prevent aggression.

Shooting Stars by the Millions Kiss Earth Daily

NEW YORK (AP)—Speedy visitors from space kis the earth 2,300 times a second, by new calculations reported today.

These visitors are meteors or shooting stars.

They are so numerous they might literally blast open a space ship long before it could journey to the moon or Mars. They could be one of the greatest barriers to the promised age of space travel.

The new calculations are that 200 million shooting stars visible to the naked eye zing into the earth's atmosphere every day.

They range from the size of dust specks to BB shot or bigger. In total, the 200 million daily visitors weigh at least 10 tons. They travel at speeds from 30,000 to 180,000 miles per hower, and most perish in incadescent brightness from friction of our planet's air.

They all come from so-called empty space, which man is on the eve of exploring with little man-made moons.

'56 Home Building High

Although housing starts in 1956 declined 17 per cent from the 1,328,000 starts of 1955, the year was still the fourth largest building year in the country's history. The United States Savings and Loan League notes that the 1956 level of home building—estimated at 1.1 million units — has been exceeded only by that of the years 1950, 1954 and 1955.

More Room at Airport

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Kent County airport's renovated waiting room is expected to be ready next week with facilities expanded to accommodate 100 persons. The former capacity was 28. The expansion, on which construction started weeks ago, cost $20,000.

Gas Reserves Largest

DALLAS — Proved recoverable reserves of natural gas in the United States at the beginning of 1956 amounted to 223.7 trillion cubic feet, a new record and an increase of 12 trillion cubic feet over reserves at the start of 1955.

The watch industry of Switzerland employes upwards of 50,000 persons.

Make Pocket Radio That's Rechargeable

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. — An all-transistor pocket radio with rechargeable batteries is being produced in Bridgeport.

Its two nickel-cadmium cells can be reenergized as many as 20 times by simply plugging it into an ordinary house outlet overnight.

The work performed by the human heart in 24 hours is estimated to equal the equivalent of 7.5 horsepower.

Cat Feeds Snakes, Pity the Poor Mice

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP) — Circuit Clerk John Russell says he has a cat that feeds the mice to a snake.

Russell says the cat drops the mice at the entrance to the snake's hole, then backs off and watches the snake emerge and pull it in.

Ohio mines have produced 1.8 billion tons of coal since 1800.

Snow Smothers Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A surprise winter storm last night dumped 9 inches of snow on the Buffalo area.

Largest School Nuclear Program in Nation

Science, Engineering Make Big Strides; Experiments Successful at U. of M. in '56

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The year 1956 was one of rapid advancement in the fields of science and engineering at the University of Michigan.

* * *

In the area of atomic research and instruction, the million-watt Ford nuclear reactor was dedicated in November and is expected to be fully operative in early 1957.

With the unveiling of the reactor, the university's nuclear engineering program grew into the largest on any college campus in the nation.

The university's Engineering Research Institute developed a method of producing economically a strong super-alloy for use in jet and automotive turbine engines during 1956.

Researchers also traced the distribution of ragweed pollen in the air, analyzed minute samples of gaseous materials collected by high altitude rockets and discovered no toxic effects from irradiated foods in experiments with rats and chickens.

* * *

The Engineering Research Institute worked with the armed forces in several projects.

Evaluated was a unit for refueling B52 jet bombers in flight at high speeds in extreme temperatures. Preparations were taken for the launching of earth satellites in conjunction with the government during 1957-58.

A major announcement late in the year gave the University a grant of 210 acres and $6,500,000 by the Ford Motor Co. for establishment of a training center at Dearborn, Mich.

The center would provide training for about 1,400 graduate and undergraduate engineers as well as for students in other fields.

Among the other strides made during the year were development of an Xenon chamber for tracing the path of invisible atomic particles, research on the effects of radiation on 250 different chemicals and installation of a radio-telescope 28 feet in diameter to receive radio waves from the sun.

Bids to Become Metropolis of Tomorrow

Havana to Have 'All New' Look by '60

HAVANA (INS)—The colorful four-century-old city of Havana is making a strong bid to become the metropolis of tomorrow—and in less than three years.

Plans have been laid for a dramatic "new city" of half a million inhabitants with soaring buildings, a vast government headquarters centered around a new Presidential Palace, sprawling parks and highways at least [illegible] wide in some sections.

Havana—a familiar slogan in Latin America—will be a forgotten word in Havana once construction starts. The plans call for a huge complex to go up in only 30 months near the world famed old Morro Castle.

Key to the project is a vehicular tunnel now being constructed under the harbor channel leading into the Bay of Havana. Once it is completed, the tunnel will link the capital with the eastern side of the large bay.

* * *

Although that section of the harbor is less than 1,000 feet across the channel from the center of the city, the only possible way, at present, to get to it directly is by launch. All vehicles are required to detour many miles around the bay.

With the lack of quick transportation to the eastern side of the harbor, Havana has spread west and south as much as 12 miles from the bay. The population increase across the harbor has been extremely slow compared to the burgeoning growth of the west side.

The picture will be changed drastically after the tunnel is completed. A broad boulevard—the so-called "Monumental Avenue"—will run from the eastern end of the tube through the heart of the new Eastern Havana to a super highway south of the bay.

South of the broad avenue, a group of buildings at least 12 stories high will be erected. The extensive land north of the avenue will include private residential sections laid out so that each of the small areas will have its own parks, schools, churches and business districts.

U. S. SQUARE

In the center of the area north of Monumental Avenue, the plans call for construction of three interconnected trading centers. The first center, to be named "United States Square" will be the banking and office headquarters.

* * *

Known as "France Square," the second center will be reserved for a deluxe shopping district and the third section is planned as a historical center which will be called "Spain Square."

Provisions have been made for a modern auto parking system to surround all three squares with capacity for 7,000 cars.

Adjacent to the Havana Harbor entrance channel, the Cuban government owns a 700-acre tract surrounding Morro Castle and the Cabana fortress. Both strongholds had protected the capital during the stormy early years of the country.

Between the citadels, the government has proposed to construct a new official residence for the president. The garden of the presidential palace will merge with the skirts of the hills on which the two old fortresses stand.

East of the mansion the government plans to erect headquarters for six ministries as well as a spacious convention hall and an auditorium.

Levely Gets 'Oscar' From Toastmasters

Complete membership of the Toastmasters Club attended the meeting last night, at the YMCA, to participate in a Charles Laughton-type program.

'Dog Bites Man' Makes Bad News This Time!

BRISTOL, Conn. (AP) — Andrew Miller Jr., lost control of his truck. It veered off the highway and struck a garage, damaging a car inside.

Miller told police his dog had jumped onto the seat and playfully bit his ear and that he lost control of the vehicle while attempting to brush the animal away.

Wax Protects Surface

Wax provides a hard, dry, soil-resistant film that keeps kitchen surfaces sparkling. It protects them from wear as well as making them easier to keep clean.

Arrest Woman Sitting in Auto

Can't Even Ride Bike, Guilty of Drunk Driving —Law Finally Changed

LONDON (INS) — Police opened the door of a parked car and a woman fell out from behind the steering wheel.

The woman could not drive, she did not have the ignition key.

But Bradford, Yorkshire magistrates found her guilty of being in charge of her husband's car while under the influence of drink. Mrs. Elsie Sykes, 34-year-old Leeds housewife, told the court:

"I have never driven a car and would not know the first thing to do. I can't drive a bike — never mind a car."

Mrs. Sykes admitted that she had been drinking with friends and said she was waiting in the car for her husband who had taken the ignition key.

The prosecution alleged that Mrs. Sykes was sitting behind the steering wheel of the car, thus she was in charge of the car.

Mrs. Sykes' lawyer, Bernard Field, protested that his client "was no more than a passenger and could not have set the car in motion."

But to British magistrates the law is the law and Mrs. Sykes was convicted. She was given a "conditional discharge" and ordered to pay three guineas ($8.92) costs.

Now, the law concerning "drunk in charge" offenses was changed on November 1. Under the new Road Traffic Act 1956, a motorist may now be considered not to be in charge of a car if it can be shown that there was no likelihood of him or her driving it and the person concerned had not driven the car while unfit.

The hitch with Mrs. Sykes, however is that her offense actually occurred on August 14.

Three Cent Offering Rejected—With Love

CLARKSDALE, Miss. (AP)—Children in Oakhurst Elementary School here were making contributions to a drive for crippled children.

"I'm not going to give my three pennies to the crippled children," one little girl told Miss McCoy, the teacher. "I want you to have 'em because you're crippled."

Miss McCoy, on crutches after a fall, persuaded the youngster some small child was probably in greater need.

Tomatoes were once believed to be a poisonous food.

Thumb Gets Clipped; Hiker Takes a Bus

BROOKFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Add occupational hazards:

Melvin Carter, trying to hitchhike to his home in Kinlock, Mo., stood a bit too close to the highway, he told state troopers.

A car came along and whacked his outstretched thumb, bruising it so severely he had to have it treated.

He caught the next bus home.

Furniture Outlook Good

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Officials of the Grand Rapids Furniture Exposition Assn. predict a "good market" with "a great many new patterns" for its winter furniture market, Jan. 3-16. The winter market drew 2,287 buyers last year.

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

SCRAPPLE SUNBURST is a welcome Sunday morning breakfast dish, from Col. James T. Darrah, U. S. Army, via the Chicago Daily News Chapter. For 4.

1 can scrapple
4 eggs, hard-boiled
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon basil
Hot sauce
Salt and pepper

* * *

We always refrigerate canned scrapple overnight before opening, to facilitate slicing. By opening both ends of the can, contents may be pushed out readily. Cut the scrapple into 4 equal slices. Dredge each slice with flour, and fry at minimum heat in about ½ inch of fat. Turn once, allowing 10 or 15 minutes per side.

While scrapple is frying, separate yolks from whites of eggs, and chop the whites. In a double boiler, melt butter, blend in flour and then stir in the milk and cook and stir until the mixture begins to thicken. Add chopped egg whites, basil, 4 dashes of hot sauce, and salt and pepper to taste.

When scrapple is done, place on individual heated plates, divide the sauce over the slices, and sieve 1 egg yolk over the center of each to give the "sunburst" effect. "At ease, men!"

* * *

ONION BUNS are simply out of this world, to us who shouldn't be eating buns. This one from Mrs. F. E. Fanson, Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman Chapter, simplifies things greatly. For this, you can use "clover-leaf brown 'n serve rolls," or a package of hot roll mix, or your favorite recipe. You'll need 1 teaspoon of the mixture for each roll, by the way. Now you need:

2 large onions, chopped
3 tablespoons butter
¾ teaspoon salt
1 egg, well beaten
Poppy seeds

If necessary, prepare the dough and let rise, then shape into balls about 2 inches in diameter and arrange on a greased baking sheet. Chop the onions, saute them lightly in the butter and season with the salt.

Of course with the brown 'n serve type, just make a depression in the center of each one—do this in any case—then spoon in 1 teaspoon of the onion mixture. Brush the top of the rolls with the beaten egg, sprinkle with poppy seed, and bake as directed. Usually 15 to 20 minutes at 400 degrees for any but the partially cooked rolls. With brown 'n serve rolls, we find 375 degrees best.

"MMMMMM!" says Mrs. Fanson, "and fattening!"

SEATTLE FISH AND CHIPS are a tasty contribution from Mrs. Richard G. Thrapp, Pasco, Wash. Make a batter by beating together 1 cup of beer, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 cup of flour, and 1 egg until smooth. Dip bite-sized pieces of fish, shrimp, crab claws or scallops in the batter and deep-fry at 375 degrees until golden-brown. Drain and dust with salt and sprinkle on a little garlic flavored vinegar. Serve these with French-fried potatoes and cole slaw.

Fine Meat Loaf for Buffet Meal

For a party to please guests of all ages, rely on the buffet supper. It lends itself to the kind of flexible, informal gathering which can be festive, yet easy to manage.

Choose an entree which fulfills the requirements for buffet food—that is, easy to carve, serve and eat. A hot ham-veal loaf is ideal. When presented on a large platter with alternating spoonfuls of green beans and carrots, it makes an impressive appearance and eliminates the need for separate vegetable dishes on the buffet table.

2½ pounds ground raw ham and veal
1½ tablespoons butter
1 medium onion, finely chopped
1 green pepper, finely chopped
Hot, seasoned vegetables
½ cup lightly packed soft bread crumbs or cubes
½ cup ale or beer
1 egg
Salt, pepper to taste

Use equal weights or any portion desired of ham and veal. Melt butter; add onion and green pepper and saute until soft but not brown, stirring often. Soften crumbs in ale or beer. Combine all ingredients; mix well. Shape into a loaf on a shallow buttered pan.

Bake in a mederately hot oven, 375 degrees, about 45 minutes, basting once or twice with additional butter or pan drippings.

Transfer to a heated platter and surround with hot cooked vegetables such as alternate spoonfuls of cut green beans and sliced carrots. Makes 8 servings.

Add nutmeats to extra-rich pancake batter and serve with preserves for dessert.

Hunt for Good Bargains in Meat Buys This Week

One holiday has gone by and another one peeks around the corner. Bountiful holiday meals are easier on the food budget if the homemaker does some special planning before buying the food for special meals, says the Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Both fresh and smoked ham are featured in many stores, as are cold cuts, salad items, and staples for holiday feasting.

MEATS - Both prices of pork and beef are slightly higher this week, mainly due to the fact that fewer animals were slaughtered last week.

Smoked ham is in the limelight, with prices ranging between 43 to 65 cents depending upon cut and cure. When deciding the best value for the family, remember that whole hams will serve three people per pound, portions serve two, halves serve about two and one-half. Boned ham or center slices will serve four people per pound.

Fresh ham is an excellent flavored pork roast. Half a pork leg, enough for an average-sized family, cooks done in a 325 degree F. oven in 3½ to 4 hours. It needs no cover, nor basting during cooking. Like all fresh pork, it should be cooked well done until no trace of pink remains.

Liverwurst, thuringer, and other cold cuts are featured for attractive trays for New Year's eve.

For real thrift, wise shoppers may select from those meat cuts less in demand at this time. Check for good values in fryers, chicken pieces, veal shoulder or leg, ground beef, rib-end pork loin, or from the supply of fresh or frozen perch in the market.

FRUITS - Oranges, tangerines, grapefruit and apples lead the supply of fruits.

Good quality Florida avocados add color and interest texture to salads, or they can be used in a special dip for the party tray. To ripen, leave them at room temperature until the outside skin will yield to gentle pressure. Then they can be stored in the refrigerator.

Bananas are mostly of good quality and reasonably priced. Fresh dates are found in most markets. Try them with cereals, in breads, for dessert and in salads.

VEGETABLES - The supply and prices of vegetables are much like last week with several exceptions.

Celery, green onions, and radishes are featured for relishes or salads. 14-ounce tubes of tomatoes are slightly lower in price this week, and shoppers will welcome the good supply of quality lettuce at about 20 cents a head.

STAPLES - Tomato juice, pickles, pork and beans, and tuna fish are a few of the staple items receiving special emphasis. This may be a good time to replenish pantry shelves at a savings.

EGGS & DAIRY - To ease the every day food budget, two large size eggs will substitute as a serving of meat for as little as 8 to 10 cents. Two medium size eggs will cost from 7 to 8 cents.

To encourage greater use, cheese loaves, cream cheese, and small packages of party spreads can be found for a few pennies less than usual.

There is no food substitute for the good supply of calcium that milk provides. Check the menus each day so that children get a quart, adults 2 cups.

Ham Loaf

1½ pounds ground ham
½ pound ground beef
4 slices bread, flaked
2 cups milk
1 medium onion, grated
½ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs

Combine ingredients and pack into greased loaf pan. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.)

As water changes to steam it expands 1,700 times its original volume.

Make Popcorn Bars

Ask the gang to stop by your house for soft drinks and popcorn bars—which you and your date can step into the kitchen and make! Simply, line an 8x4-inch loaf pan with waxed paper, then spread 2 cups of popcorn over it evenly. Melt 8 squares of candy-making chocolate over boiling water; cover popcorn with melted chocolate. Cool and cut.

Too many eggs in cookie dough may make it tough unless there is a corresponding amount of fat added.

Dip Will Delight Jaded Appetites

This delicious spread is based on the popular California Dip, a tasty combination of sour cream and a package of onion soup mix.

To this same dip is added creamy cottage cheese and crumbled bleu cheese. Thus it also doubles as a dip to be dunked with potato chips and crackers.

You will find this unusual spread delights even the most jaded party appetites.

Bleu-Cottage Cheese Spread

2 cups (1 pound package) creamy cottage cheese
1 cup California Dip
¼ cup bleu cheese, crumbled

Combine ingredients and mix in an electric mixer or with a rotary beater until smooth. Garnish with chopped parsley and paprika. Serve with crackers, rye or pumpernickle bread, or toast rounds.

California Dip:—Combine 1 pint sour cream and 1 package onion soup mix just as it comes from the package. For one cup of mix use ½ pint sour cream and 3 tablespoons (½ package) well blended onion soup mix.

Lemon Mayonnaise Makes Salad Zippy

This tangy Lemon Mayonnaise will make your favorite vegetable salad superb salad fare. Fresh lemon juice peps up an otherwise bland mayonnaise.

Lemon Cheese Mayonnaise

1 egg
¼ cup fresh lemon juice
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
Dash of pepper or paprika
3 tablespoons crumbled roquefort cheese (for each cup of mayonnaise)

Combine the ingredients (except cheese) and beat in very slowly, 1 pint salad oil. Beat until dressing is thick. This makes about 2½ cups of mayonnaise. When serving add the crumbled roquefort cheese.

Sauerkraut, Franks Cooked Atop Stove

Skillet Sauerkraut And Franks

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup finely diced onion
3 frankfurters (cut into ¼-inch rounds)
1 can (1 pound) sauerkraut (drained)
⅛ cup light brown sugar

Melt butter in 9 or 10-inch skillet over low heat; add onion and frankfurters. Cook until lightly browned, stirring often.

Mix lightly drained sauerkraut with brown sugar; add to skillet. Mix well and reheat slowly, covered, for about 15 minutes. Makes 3 servings.

Cheese-Apple Starlets Make Nice Snacks

Cheese-Apple Starlets taste best when they're served hot from the oven! The rich cheese-pastry dough is filled with spicy apple butter for a snack that everyone will enjoy.

Make the Starlets in advance and keep them in the refrigerator until you're ready to serve. Then bake them for ten minutes in a hot oven while you make a fresh pot of coffee.

Cheese-Apple Starlets

3 cups grated sharp aged cheddar cheese
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup pure lard
¼ cup milk
1 cup apple butter

Combine grated cheese, flour and salt. Cut lard into mixture until it resembles coarse meal. Add milk and mix.

Turn out pastry on floured pastry cloth and roll 1-16-inch thick. Cut with star cooky cutter. Add ½ teaspoon apple butter to center of star. Top with another star and press edges together with a fork. Bake in a 400 degree oven for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 30 starlets.

Make Beef Stroganoff With Leftover Meat

Leftover rare roast beef may be made into Beef Stroganoff. Cut it into strips about ½ inch thick and a couple of inches long. Mix with strips of onion and sliced mushrooms that have been cooked in butter. Add sour cream, bouillon, prepared mustard and heat thoroughly but do not boil. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Dressing for Fruit Salad

Easiest fruit-salad dressing on record: mix 3 tablespoons of quick-frozen orange and grape juice, right from the can, into a cup of mayonnaise or salad dressing. Makes enough for six servings of fruit salad and will be received enthusiastically!

Keep Herbs Sealed

Herbs keep their freshness for a period of a year if they're well-sealed. The same thing is true of spices. So, check your herbs and spices at least once a year and throw out any that have lost their aroma.

You'll need about three tablespoons of fat in which to brown a four-pound rolled beef pot roast.

Serve a Different Kind of Egg Nog

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

This coming weekend — and through next Tuesday—is probably the time when more open house festivities are held than at any other season of the year. Open house means refreshments of one kind or another, and egg nog has long been the traditional beverage.

* * *

During the holiday season we can buy thick, rich egg nog from our milkman and in any dairy store. Many of you have your favorite recipe for flavoring this milk drink. We should like to suggest others.

However, making your own egg nog is no trick at all. Now that eggs have come down in price, it isn't even too expensive. A delicious version of the regular egg nog is refreshing, tangy lemon egg nog.

Lemon Egg Nog

8 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 cup lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup whipping cream
2 quarts milk

Beat the eggs with a rotary or electric beater. Add the sugar, salt, lemon juice and lemon rind, and mix well. Add the milk slowly, mixing well. Just before serving, fold in the whipping cream which has been beaten stiff. Serves 16-20.

Two layered egg nog is made with cranberry juice cocktail. In the punch bowl and in the cups it separates into a deep crimson bottom layer with a frothy topping. If you don't have a punch bowl, use a pretty glass salad bowl.

Cranberry Nog

1 dozen eggs, separated
2 cups milk
4 pints cranberry juice cocktail
2 teaspoons vanilla
¾ cup sugar
Nutmeg

Beat egg yolks until light and fluffy. Add milk and cranberry cocktail. Beat until well blended. Add vanilla. Make meringue of egg whites and sugar. Fold into cranberry mixture just before serving. Sprinkle with grated nutmeg.

We think you will welcome this recipe for egg nog for it is lower in calories than most and also is greatly enriched. It is made with instant nonfat dry milk, and the calorie count is almost half that of regular recipes for egg nog.

Low Calorie Egg Nog

1 quart water
1½ cups instant nonfat dry milk powder
¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
3 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
½ teaspoon nutmeg

Pour water into large bowl; sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder over surface. Stir until just blended. Chill 2 cups of this liquefied instant dry milk.

Place remaining liquefied dry milk in top of double boiler; add brown sugar, 1 whole egg and 2 egg yolks. Cook over hot water, stirring occasionally, until mixture coats a spoon. Remove from heat; cool.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Stir chilled liquefied dry milk, vanilla, nutmeg and beaten egg whites into cooled custard mixture. Chill thoroughly before serving. Calories per serving: 78.

Have you ever served a hot milk punch? It will be a refreshing change on a bitterly cold night to serve in place of coffee or mulled wine. See if the children don't go for it and beg for seconds.

Hot Vanilla Butterscotch Milk Punch

½ cup light brown sugar
¼ cup hot water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
3 cups milk
1½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract
1/16 teaspoon salt
Whipped cream
Grated nutmeg

Melt sugar over low heat in a 2-quart saucepan, stirring constantly. Gradually stir in hot water and bring the mixture to boiling point. Add butter or margarine and cook 1 to 2 minutes. Add milk and heat slowly, stirring constantly. Blend in pure vanilla extract and salt.

Serve hot in punch cups or mugs. Garnish with whipped cream and a dash of ground nutmeg. 4 servings.

All the above drinks have been made with milk. If you want a punch with a fruit base, try this one. Freeze your ice for the punch bowl in a ring mold.

Cover the bottom of the mold with about one inch of water and place in freezer. When partially frozen, arrange frozen strawberries lemon or orange slices and mint leaves over it. Fill with more water and freeze. Turn out into center of punch bowl just before serving.

Cheery Punch

4 cups water
½ cup loose tea
1½ cups sugar
Juice of 2 oranges
1 package frozen strawberries, defrosted
2 quarts ginger ale

Bring water to a full rolling boil. Pour over loose tea (or 8 teabags). Brew 4 minutes. Stir and strain. Add sugar. Stir until dissolved. Add orange juice and strawberries.

Just before serving, pour into punch bowl over block of ice. Add ginger ale. Serves 25-30.

EGG NOG TIME — Butter-rich fruit cake and festive colorful cookies accompany egg nog for holiday entertaining. Serve egg nog plain or with your choice of added flavoring. Pictured above is Lemon Egg Nog.

Make Breakfast a Family Meal

CHICAGO (INS)—So you've gone to the trouble of fixing a good breakfast and still everybody dashes it off in a few gulps and swallows . . .

Change your tactics. Try companionship, too.

* * *

Mrs. Linnea C. Dennett, University of Wisconsin nutrition expert, says breakfasts which are family meals stand a better chance of being eaten.

It isn't usually possible for families to eat the morning meal together, with husbands going off to work at one time and children off to school at another. So the burden for the companionship falls on—you guessed it—the homemaker.

Mrs. Dennett suggests that women divide their own breakfasts into two courses, sharing the meal with both husbands and children.

SET EXAMPLE

It's important for women to eat good breakfasts, Mrs. Dennett emphasized, both from a nutrition standpoint and "to set a good example for the family."

Breakfast, she said, should furnish one fourth to one third of the day's food for both children and grownups and should include fruit, cereal, eggs or other protein foods, and toast along with a beverage.

Mrs. Dennett also has a cure for persons who "just can't face food first thing in the morning." She said:

* * *

"Get some fresh air first. Take a look at the garden, walk the dog or just survey the neighborhood from the porch."

Sprinkle Maple Sugar on Top of Pie Crust

Vermont and maple - sugaring will be your first thought when you make this fanciful dessert. It's easy as reaching into the freezer for those good individual frozen apple pies. Heat pies as directed on the package. While hot, sprinkle tops with crumbled or grated maple sugar. Return to oven for 2 or 3 minutes until maple sugar becomes soft. Spread with a knife. Delicious either warm or cold!

Cook sliced mushrooms and wide strips of green pepper together in a little butter or margarine and top veal chops with the mixture.

Turkey Souffle Is Prideful Dish

"Leftover" has unappealing connotations; "souffle" the most elegant. So why not dress up leftover turkey in a wonderful cheese souffle?

This prideful dish is almost a well-balanced meal in itself. Its meat — low-caloried high-protein meat — low-calored high-protein turkey, of course. And for zesty flavor and additional protein, there is sharp Cheddar cheese. This is not to mention the nonfat dry milk and eggs that make it extra nutritious and ever so good.

Undeniably Turkey and Broccoli Cheese Souffle is substantial. And such a joy to prepare after that holiday dinner of so many courses! While it slowly bakes to a triumph of flavor and texture, slice some ripe tomatoes and a crisp cucumber for crunch contrast.

Pour cold, cold milk into tall glasses. When the puffy, crusty souffle emerges from the oven you have a simple dinner fit for an epicure.

Turkey and Broccoli Cheese Souffle

¼ cup butter
¼ cup flour
⅓ cup nonfat dry milk
1 cup water
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of cayenne pepper
2 cups grated sharp Cheddar cheese
1 package frozen chopped broccoli cooked
3 cups diced cooked turkey
4 egg yolks
2 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon lemon rind
½ cup nonfat dry milk
4 egg whites, beaten stiff

In a saucepan melt butter; blend in flour; slowly stir in 1-3 cup milk which has been dissolved in 1 cup water. Add salt and pepper and cook until thickened. Stir in cheese until melted. Add broccoli and turkey. Cool the sauce.

Beat egg yolks slightly with 2 tablespoons water, 2 tablespoons lemon juice and lemon rind. then beat in 1-3 cup nonfat dry milk. Blend cheese sauce into egg yolk mixture. Fold in egg whites which have been beaten until stiff and pour into casserole.

Place casserole in a pan of hot water and bake uncovered in a preheated 325 degree oven for 60-70 minutes. Serve at once. Serves 6-8.

TURKEY AND BROCCOLI SOUFFLE — This high and mighty Turkey and Broccoli Cheese Souffle is truly a many-sided wonder—with chopped broccoli, tender turkey, sharp Cheddar cheese and nonfat dry milk. To say nothing of the eggs! It's the most elegant way we know of utilizing leftover turkey.

Cheese Filling With Figs, Nuts

Here's a delightful addition to your list of treasured little goodies to serve for a tea.

These sandwiches are dainty for party use on tiny hearts or circles and they are just plain good if filling is spread between two pieces of bread for any old time.

Tea Party Sandwiches

About 20 dried figs
1 cup pecan or walnut meats
⅛ cup confectioners sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2-3 ounce or 1 large package cream cheese
Milk to soften the cheese

Cover the dried figs with boiling water for 10 minutes. Then drain and, with scissors, snip off the stems. Cut the figs into very tiny pieces or put them through the food grinder.

Chop the nuts or grind until they are very fine. Blend the figs and nuts with the sugar, lemon juice and the cheese. If too stiff to spread, add a little milk. Best on white bread.

Invite Friends for Cranberries and Waffles

For a special dessert this holiday season invite your neighbors in to share a simple buffet. Then bring on Bubbly Hot Cranberry Waffles for dessert. It's a flavor combination they'll never forget. The holiday red color of canned whole cranberry sauce will brighten your table and light up faces in an instant.

Bubbly Hot Cranberry Waffle Dessert

For 8 servings you'll need:
2 waffles (4 sections each) . . . (Make about ½ recipe on pancake mix box)
1 quart vanilla ice cream
1 recipe Cranberry Butter Sauce

Cranberry Butter Sauce: Combine in saucepan 1 (1-lb.) can whole cranberry sauce, ¼ cup butter and ¼ cup light brown sugar. Heat to boiling, remove from heat.

Top one waffle section with a scoop of vanilla ice cream. Then spoon Cranberry Butter Sauce over the ice cream. Serve immediately.

Teenagers Don Aprons to Make Party Cookies

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Teenage girls have their feet on the ground, despite all their frivolous talk about boys, Elvis, boys, clothes, boys, school and boys. When they have to furnish refreshments for a party, they go ahead and make cookies.

We talked with three high school girls recently. They were busy with plans for their New Year's Eve dance. All the girls in the group sponsoring the party will bring cookies for the refreshment table. The three we talked with will be doing the baking themselves.

Beverly Lindquist will be making Candy Cane Cookies. These cookies take a lot of work because each one must be molded into shape before baking. But they are attractive enough to warrant the time.

CANDY CANE COOKIES
By Beverly Lindquist

1 cup soft shortening
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
1 egg
1½ teaspoons almond extract
1 teaspoon vanilla
2½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt

Cream shortening and sugar well. Add egg and flavorings. Beat until smooth and creamy. Add sifted dry ingredients. Divide dough in two parts. Blend ½ teaspoon red food coloring into one part.

Roll a teaspoon of dough into a strip four inches long. Place one strip of each color side by side. Press together and twist like a rope.

Bake on ungreased cookie sheet 9 minutes in a 375-degree oven, or until light brown. Remove from pan while warm and sprinkle with mixture of ½ cup crushed peppermint candy and ½ cup sugar.

* * *

Sue Uligian is going to make rolled cookies. She will probably cut them in bell shapes.

CUT OUT COOKIES
By Sue Uligian

1 cup shortening
½ cup sugar
1 egg
2¼ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream shortening and sugar, add egg and beat well. Sift flour and salt together. Add to first mixture with vanilla. Chill.

Roll thin on a floured board. Cut with floured cutters. Bake 10 minutes at 375 degrees on greased cookie sheet.

Linda Gaylord will also make molded cookies. She likes to make the rich crumbly ones, sometimes called Russian Tea Cakes or Mexican Wedding Cakes. Her recipe is simply titled Sugar Balls.

SUGAR BALLS
By Linda Gaylord

1 cup butter or margarine
¼ cup confectioners sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 tablespoon water
2 cups sifted flour
1 cup chopped pecans

Cream butter and sugar, add vanilla and water and blend. Add sifted flour and chopped nuts. Mix thoroughly. Chill dough.

Form into balls one-inch in diameter. Place one inch apart on ungreased baking sheet. Bake at 300 degrees for 20 minutes. While warm roll in additional confectioners sugar. Cool. Roll in sugar again.

Salad Dressing to Please Dieter

Here's a honey-cheese fruit salad dressing low enough in calories for the most avid weight watcher—yet tempting enough to serve to Mom's discriminating bridge guests.

Every calorie is armed with the nutrients necessary for good health. Instant nonfat dry milk furcium and B-vitamins which are not ordinarily found in salad dressings.

Honey Cottage Cheese Fruit Dressing

½ cup pineapple juice
¼ cup undiluted frozen orange juice
¼ cup lemon juice
¼ cup strained honey
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, well beaten
⅓ cup instant nonfat dry milk
½ cup ice water
1 cup sieved cottage cheese

Blend fruit juices, honey, salt and eggs in sauce pan. Cook over low heat until mixture coats spoon. Cool. Place ice water and instant nonfat dry milk in electric mixer and whip until very stiff. Fold in cottage cheese and cooled fruit dressing. Chill and serve on fresh or canned fruit salads. Makes 5

Hills Groups Plan Gala Parties

United Press Photos

There's just a hint of the season's popular cape in this navy sheer wool from the spring collection of Larry Aldrich. The artfully draped silk chiffon collar falls into a shoulder cape, lending feminine softness to the silhouette. Tied with self-bows at neckline and waist, the dress has a pegged skirt that tapers to the hemline.

A voluminous fake lamb skirt, with matching mittens, adds a frivolous note to this lounge costume shown by Jacques Heim. The gray skirt, slit all the way down the front, is worn over slim pants of ribbed velvet. A blouse to match the trousers and a wide velvet belt complete the outfit.

Modern as next year, these hostess gowns shimmer with stainless steel thread shot through the fabric to give it a festive air. The white gown (right) follows conventional lines, with cowl neckline and long, full skirt. The black gown features a harem-trousered skirt. Both were designed by Robert Rosenfeld.

Open Hunt, Country Clubs Get Rush of Reservations

Other New Year's Eve Home Dinners, Receptions Set by Bloomfield Couples

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Reservations are pouring in to the several clubs hereabouts that will give gala New Year's Eve parties.

Bloomfield Hills Country Club has many for groups of sixteen, the limit set by the club. One of these small groups will stop off for cocktails with Mr. and Mrs. James J. Nance before attending.

At Bloomfield Open Hunt a similar affair will be given. Early reservations are those of Mr. and Mrs. John Maddox, Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buterbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Reith, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Williams and the Roy C. Leithes.

John Marsh arrived home with an interesting guest, Nithi Klinkosum, a classmate of his school at Willbraham, Mass. John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marsh of Cranbrook road, had a schedule of events for the boys to enjoy.

Louis Gordon Battelle, Mrs. James J. Nance's father, is spending the holidays in the Nance home.

Also there for Christmas were the Nance's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Nance of Northbrook, Ill., and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Acheson.

BROOCKS PLAN DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Ferd M. Broock will be hosts at a New Year's Eve dinner Monday at their home on Lone Pine court.

Guests will include former residents Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hitchcock, who now live in New Hampshire. The Hitchcocks spend Christmas in Ann Arbor with their son, Wiley Hitchcock and his family, and are now with Mr. and Mrs. George S. Wiley of Willitts street.

Other dinner guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Grindley, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bennett, Dr. and Mrs. William Lloyd Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Harmon, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Booth and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Pew.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Walker will hold open house Sunday afternoon.

Tuesday after Christmas a group of friends left for Otsego Ski Club until after New Years. Included were Mr. and Mrs. Morgan D. Douglas Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Getsinger and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Langford of Ann Arbor.

Shakespeare Play Gets New Look

Unique Version of 'Troilus, Cressida' Is Bombshell

By CHRISTINA KIRK

NEW YORK (INS)—A tremendous spectacle of lust and warfare exploded on the stage of the Winter Garden last night as the Old Vic Company presented a unique version of Shakespeare's satirical comedy "Troilus and Cressida."

No flowing togas impeded the characters in this treatment of the story of the Greek and Trojan wars. Tyrone Guthrie has staged it in Edwardian dress—garbing the besieged Trojans in glittering, plumed uniforms of the British Elite Guard and outfitting the heel-clicking Greeks in the long gray overcoats of the Prussian General Staff.

War in Edward's time was still a sport as it was in the days when the young Trojan warrior Troilus sought revenge on the Greeks who had stolen and corrupted his love, the fickle Cressida.

And so Guthrie has preserved Shakespeare's theme of honor versus lechery while bringing the lusty action closer to the understanding of modern audiences.

FIGHTING IN AISLES

At times the theater had the look of an Olson and Johnson extravaganza, with actors dodging shells and staging sword fights in the aisles.

* * *

The cast was uniformly fine. Paul Rogers, as the foppish, meddling uncle of Cressida, was a standout in the broadly funny first act. John Neville, who plays Romeo in the Vic's other offering, was almost unrecognizable as the wizened cockney war correspondent attached to the Greek forces.

Rosemary Harris as Cressida was a believable and beautiful minx. Troilus as played by Jeremy Brett was stalwart, anguished and handsome.

For those who can take Shakespeare "as you like it" the sacrifice of classic purity for rousing theater shouldn't be too hard to accept.

* * *

New York's morning newspapers were mostly unsatisfied but measurably impressed with last night's playing of "Troilus and Cressida."

The Times' drama critic Brooks Atkinson judged that Director Tyrone Guthrie failed to hit the mark with the period dress production because "his humor is heartier than Shakespeare's . . . Troilus and Cressida is the comedy of a man who is in low spirits . . . who is writing liverish verse."

In the Herald Tribune, critic Walter Kerr agreed that "Mr. Guthrie is a master of theatrical trickery. But the secret of 'Troilus and Cressida' is still up Shakespeare's sleeve."

* * *

The Daily News critic found the Chapman said.

"Dr. Guthrie thinks (the play) is a satirical comedy—and he proved it last evening at the Winter Garden."

The engagement of their daughter, Alice Ann, to Peter N. Bakalis, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Mike Harabedian of Birmingham. A graduate of Wayne State University, Peter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Bakalis of Detroit.

MRS. C. VAILLENCOURT

Margaret Tutty Speaks Vows

Margaret Tutty became the bride of Clifford Vaillencourt in a candlelight ceremony Friday evening at Oakland Park Methodist Church.

The Rev. James Deeg performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate family. Mr. and Mrs. George Locke attended the couple. After a trip to Bonner Springs, Kan., the couple will reside on Melrose avenue.

Make Pretty Place Mats as Gifts

Pretty place mats are fun to make for yourself or for gifts. Besides, an attractively set table perks up appetites and presents simple foods at their most appetizing.

* * *

Almost any washable fabric from sheer nylon organdy to sturdy denim can be turned into a place mat. Ready-made trimmings which can be stitched by hand or machine can dress up a hemmed piece of fabric as a fancy mat.

If you have fabrics and trimmings left over from other sewing projects, use them up. Even if you buy the makings, the cost is low and the effects can look expensive and individual.

* * *

Use your imagination to devise designs. Place mats can be rectangular, square, oval, round. Or they can be cut in fancy shapes. They can be ensembled with matching napkins, aprons or curtains.

* * *

One lovely hostess set combines pastel nylon organdy with sparkling, silver-threaded rickrack. Needless to say, the metion threads that gave the glitter to the rickrack are guaranteed washable and non-tarnishing.

For six place mats, napkins and an apron you'll need about 52 yards of rickrack and one-and-three-quarters of a yard of percale or broadcloth for the napkins.

The organdy apron is cut 15 inches wide, with four-inch-wide ties. The apron follows the simple style, with gathered waistline and straight sides and waistband.

What adds the expensive touch is the lavish use of rickrack trim. Eight rows of trim are stitched with points touching around the hem; four more rows are added two inches above the last row.

* * *

The sheer mats are cut 12 inches by 18 inches and banded with four rows of rickrack. Instead of hemming the mats prior to sewing on the rickrack, raw edges are turned in one-fourth inch and pressed.

Called to Canada

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Short of South Telegraph road have been called to Windsor, Canada, due to the death of her sister, Mrs. Belle Butler.

There's Still Plenty of Opportunity

By ANNE HEYWOOD

They say that America's unlimited ceiling for individual enterprise and initiative went out with the covered wagon.

But it isn't true. Every day I see or hear of people who have carved for themselves some opportunity.

Here, for example, is a letter from a reader who reports on such an instance.

"My husband and I both have jobs," she writes. "We live in a big apartment in the middle of the city, where most of the tenants are also working couples without children — as yet, anyway.

"Because I know you like to hear of unusual ideas people work out, I want to tell you about Mrs. F., a lady in our building. It began about this time last year, and will probably continue every holiday season.

LONELY WIDOW

"Mrs. F. is a widow, who lives in one of the small apartments in the building. I often meet her in the elevator and know that she is sort of lonely, with her husband gone.

"And I gather that she doesn't have a lot of money. She tried to get a job, but she has no business skills and no experience.

"Last year, right after Christmas, there was a notice on the bulletin board in the lobby of the building.

"It said, 'Reliable woman will return or exchange Christmas presents for you at local stores. Reasonable hourly rate.'

WRONG COLOR

"I had received a sweater that was the wrong color and a nightie that was a size too small. And John got slippers just like a pair he already has, and three scarves too many. We don't have time to wait in line at the stores.

"So we hired Mrs. F. and so did lots of the tenants.

"It was wonderful. It gave her a real interest and some extra money and she began to look like a new woman.

"More than that, many of us continued to use her 'service' through the year. We had her shop for us when we were too rushed to do it ourselves.

* * *

"I thought you might like to hear about it, because she really did blaze a trail and carve herself a new kind of career."

Wife Fears Home Films Bore Guests

Husband Insists on Showing Movies to All Visitors

By EMILY POST

A reader asks the following question: "Will you please tell me if the practice of showing home moving pictures to visitors is correct? I can see where very close friends and relatives would be interested in seeing pictures of the children and family gatherings, etc., but don't you think it a bit boring to acquaintances who come to visit us to have to sit and look at these pictures?

"My husband thinks it a wonderful way to entertain our guests and insists upon showing movies whenever we have visitors. What is your opinion of this?"

Answer: I think that the showof home movies should be restricted to family and friends who show definite enthusiasm when they are asked if they would like to see these movies.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am writing to ask you a question that has been in my mind for some time. Would you be so kind as to tell me the correct way the suffix 'second' after a name?

"I have asked two of the leading stationers here and have received conflicting answers. One said that it is written '2nd,' and the other said that the Roman numeral was correct. Will you please set me straight on this?"

Answer: "2nd" is in best taste. Roman numerals after a name suggests a dynasty.

Team Exercise Proves Profitable

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

If we are determined to do so we can stick to a program of exercise by ourselves. Thousands of women, and men, too, take their exercises as a regular part of their daily routine.

* * *

If you stick to this for long enough the benefits are so apparent, both in an increased sense of well-being and in improved appearance, that you will want to continue.

Nevertheless, many women fail to exercise alone who would exercise in a class or with someone else. I think the following letter, which came recently from a reader, will interest you:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: On Dec. 2nd, 10 years ago, a neighbor and I started counting calories and exercising, using your calorie chart and exercises. She lost the 30 pounds she needed to lose and I the 45 too many I had.

* * *

Every morning I would go over to her house since she has a larger living room and a record player which we use. We would exercise for 20 minutes and then stop for a rest and a cup of coffee and exercise 20 minutes more.

"We never missed except for a couple of days during menstrual periods or when we went on vacations, or there was illness or death in the family. We kept charts and measured once a month.

'OFF OUR ROCKERS'

"At first I think the neighbors thought we were off our rockers but they are accustomed to it now. When we started Mary's husband thought we were going to wear the rugs out or shake the house down, but after six months he said, "Go ahead, if necessary I will buy new rugs." We used sheets to lie on and have worn out three or four each.

* * *

"I know some women would say they do not have time for that but I know it is time well spent. I have a little arthritis which I am sure would be much worse if I had stopped exercising. In fact my doctor has told me so.

"Mary is moving away and I will have to exercise alone. It won't be as much fun but I would not stop now for anything because I feel so much better."

I often have wondered why more women do not do this. Two neighbors, or several, could get together for exercises and have fun and derive great benefit from one hour each morning.

Slim Pants Latest Attire for Skating

NEW YORK (INS) — The fashionable ice skater this winter is supposed to show off only her form, not her legs.

Long tapered pants have replaced those hip-skipping brief skirts as the stylish skating costume. Bulky sweaters top the slim pants, and skates have to be marked by a fuzzy red pompon.

At New York's best free ice show, for instance—the skating rink at Rockefeller Center—the proportion of pants to skirts gliding by is three to one.

Red, black or gray pants are favored, most of them very tailored and sleek under bulky toppers or sweaters. Some skaters favor elasticized or stretch-type long pants for easier movement.

Even the girls who stick to those little swirling skirts are putting bulky sweaters on top.

* * *

And everybody is wearing red wool pompons on their skate shoes. These red balls are generally matched in color by some part of the skating costume — either red earmuffs or red caps, or a red design in the sweater.

The Permanent Lie

Did you know the women of ancient Greece counted their age from the time of their marriage, not their birth? Similarly, today's smart woman decides when she needs a new permanent by looking in the mirror, not at the calendar.

You can exercise alone as this girl is doing, or with someone else, as a reader says she did.

New Design in Dividers Is Functional

NEW YORK (INS) — Many is the room divider that serves no practical purpose, but there are units out now that can be used in a number of different ways.

These units, created for George Tanier, Inc. of New York, are made of teakwood and can be had in a desk design, bar, cabinets with English trays and paneled shelves. They are 60 inches tall and can be arranged side by side to stretch halfway across a room.

A cabinet unit, which can be used as a china cabinet, for records, books, silver and linens, is particularly practical.

There also is a set of closed shelves finished off at the bottom with a set of closed cabinets.

* * *

The total aspect of the dividers is that they appear as part of the room furnishings instead of merely as decoration or as an unfunctional wall used as a device to part the living room from the dining room or the dining room from the kitchen.

Tanier also is presenting an unusual array of adjustable lamps for the home that are attractive, ultra-modern and practical.

Why do so many Hollywood marriages fail?

Marilyn Monroe, Elizabeth Taylor, Ava Gardner, Cary Grant, Jeff Chandler—name two dozen big stars and you'll find a divorce court in the background. Why? Is it boredom . . . pressure of work . . . too much sex? Now read "Why Do So Many Hollywood Marriages Fail?" — frank revelations from people who see the stars with their hair down — such as a psychoanalyst, a divorce lawyer, a hotel maid, a hairdresser.

You'll read why famous women stars have even less chance than the men for finding happiness. Find out which marriages are unhappy, which are long-term bets. And read Robert Stack's and Stewart Granger's formula for their happy marriages. The answers are enlightening — not only of marriages in Hollywood, but marriages in general.

How to have a happy marriage

Do you really know how to love? Can you learn? Is it ever too late to learn? Do you know what you want and expect from your marriage . . . what is realistically necessary to make your marriage a happy one? Now, in the January Ladies' Home Journal, Irene Dunne, Dr. Erich Fromm and five other leading authorities discuss in a forum how married couples and those about to be married can turn their romantic dreams into true happiness. Don't miss "Can Love be Learned?"

Ultimatum by Wife Ends Hubby's Jealousy Game

He Quits Teasing When She Refuses to Become Green-Eyed and Upset

By RUTH MILLETT

A wife writes: "I married a man who enjoyed making me jealous and for five years he didn't have any trouble at all.

* * *

"I worried about his flirting, felt I was in competition with every woman he met, agonized over the question, 'Does he really love me?' and in general was about as miserable and unhappy as a woman could be.

"Then I got fed up. One day I told him something like this: 'I love you. But I'm not going to let you make me jealous any more.

" 'If you ever find anyone you want more than you want me, all you have to do is say so and you can have a divorce.

* * *

" 'In the meantime, I'll just assume you are married to me because you want to be. No more jealousy—and no more tears.'

* * *

"Well, it worked like a miracle. My husband quit trying to make me jealous, and even started in trying to make me happy.

LIKE A MIRACLE

"The reason I'm telling you about it is that I thought it might work for other wives, too."

It might at that. The man who deliberately tries to make his wife jealous does it because he enjoys her jealousy. And as long as she rises to the bait he'll go on baiting her.

But let her decide she is fed up with worrying about him and never again intends to let him make her jealous and the game is up.

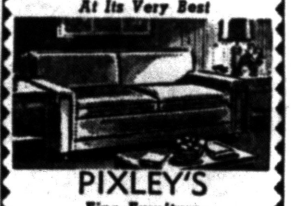

* * *

A wife wouldn't even have to tell her husband her decision. Her changed attitude would be obvious enough.

* * *

Why not give it a try, you wives, with husbands who enjoy making you jealous? You can't lose—and you might win a lifetime of security.

Good Manners Important to Teenagers, Poll Shows

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

America's teenagers, who rarely hear themselves extolled as models of politeness, consider good manners an important asset — and most of them believe they're adequately endowed with it.

Adult grumbles are dismissed in the teenage camp with the indignant comment that carping grown-ups seem to have forgotten they were once kids themselves.

Our nationwide survey of teenagers' opinions on their own behavior showed that over half the boys, and seven out of ten of the girls questioned think of their group as well-mannered.

"It's just all that bad publicity which makes adults look down their noses at teenagers' manners," a Rego Park, N. Y., lad declared.

* * *

And a 17-year-old girl briskly counter-attacked: "Parents are the ones with bad manners. First they tell you to speak up and talk to them like equals, and then they crush you like a worm if you dare express an opinion."

GOOD MANNERS BASIC

The importance of polished manners, at any rate, is widely recognized.

"I think manners are not just an outside veneer," 17-year-old Yvonne Thompson of Little Rock, Ark., summed it up. "They're a basic part of your personality."

When it comes to assessing the opposite sex, all seems sweetness and light. A full 86 per cent of the boys questioned consider their girl friends polite and well behaved, while some 85 per cent of the girls entertain a similar opinion about their dates.

The Detroit youngster who indicated girls as "loud and bossy," claiming that "the first thing you have to do is shut up your date before you can have a decent evening" presented a distinct minority view.

GIRLS GIVE NEWS

An 18-year-old Oxford, Iowa, girl suggested, "He takes the girl to parties with him and gets her acquainted with the rest of his friends."

A 17-year-old girl from Darien, Conn., said: "He respects the girl and her opinions, and he is respectful and pleasant to her family."

Jack Brusasco, 17, of St. Louis, put it this way: "He acts kindly to all womanhood, respects those who deserve respect, and uses temperance in all his actions."

TWO KINDS OF MANNERS

On the other side, girls demonstrate good behavior "by being on time for appointments," in the view of a Springfield, Mo., lad echoing an ancient male groan.

"Just being respectful and good table manners are also important," he added.

Girls felt the most important ingredients of acceptable masculine manners were these, in order of priority:

1. General courtesy and politeness; 2. Proper etiquette — opening doors for one's date, helping her with her coat and so on; 3. Proper language; 4. Respect; 5. Consideration for the opposite sex; 6. Avoidance of any embarrassment for one's date; 7. Correct dress and punctuality.

BOYS' PRESCRIPTION

The boys' prescription for girls included; 1. Courtesy and politeness; 2. Ladylike and good conversation; 3. Feminine behavior; 4. Careful dress; 5. Respect and appreciation.

* * *

Fifty-three per cent of the boys and 63 per cent of the girls acknowledged the existence of two sets of manners — a "home" behavior and "company manners," but nine out of ten of the youngsters thought this was regrettable.

"Manners should be practiced continually, not reserved for special persons or occasions," Virginia Floyd of Little Rock, Ark., said.

They're also convinced that this is an important factor in their own behavior. Mary Reynolds, a 15-year-old Oxford, Iowa girl commented, "Manners depend upon your home life more than any other factor."

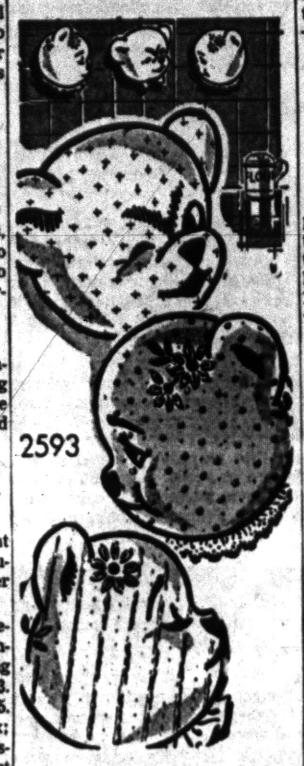

The great majority of youngsters — 81 per cent of the boys and 63 per cent of the girls — don't find their politeness burdensome, but some say their good manners occasionally embarrass them.

Donna Eads, 19, of Butler, Mo., reported this happens "when my group thinks it is overdone or silly." Charline Goodrean, 15, of West Springfield, Mass.: "When someone makes fun of me because of my politeness, I'm embarrassed." And Barbara Jennings, Jefferson City, Mo.: "The people around are not accustomed to politeness."

MARTHA IRENE HAWKINS

Mr. and Mrs. Albert N. Hawkins Jr. of Bentley, recently of Pontiac, announce the engagement of their daughter, Martha Irene, to William David Bowen. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Bowen of Rhodes. A late summer wedding is planned.

These cute bears are made from workbasket odds and ends—their saucy features embroidered. They are fun to have around the kitchen and handy too!

Hemline Drops Lower for '57 Patio Cottons

The hemline has reached important new longer levels in cotton patio dresses—presaging things to come in day and cocktail lengths for spring and summer 1957. Pretty polka-dot patchwork makes a voluminous dress just eight inches from the floor—with huge lantern sleeves and a square cut decolletage adding further bare-versus-covered-up excitement.

The double skirt, a new resort idea, is created by combining a purple princess-lined overdress with its own striped petticoat. The dress is cut and curved like a night shirt to reveal the nosegay-embroidered petticoat.

The beach cover-up takes the form of pumpkin capes in bold-colored cotton plaids and checks which gather around the hips; overskirts designed to wear over strapless one-piece swim suits in matching bold Madras or window-pane plaid cottons in citrus colors; and new drawstring-gathered "lunch" tops—shirts or jackets—of cotton voile or georgette.

* * *

Carnival colors show up in a bloused shirtwaist top of filmy cotton chiffon—worn with its own coordinated awning-striped cotton satin swimsuit.

Bracelet Has Tuneful Music Box

NEW YORK (INS)—The gal who likes "to have music wherever she goes" can now wear her own music box, disguised as a bracelet charm.

Credit the ingenious Swiss for these new fashion gadgets; they're made with the smallest Swiss musical movements ever imported into the U. S.

Completely disguised as mills, treasure chests, chalets or flower baskets, these little musical charms sell for about $20 and offer a choice of 20 tunes.

* * *

The fake gold charms are set with fake gems, or left plain metallic. Either way, their winders are concealed in the design. One of the jewels spilling out of the inch-long "treasure chest," for instance, is the winder for that music box. And the winder on the water mill is the water wheel, which goes round and round as the music plays.

Plans to Marry Franklin Man

Mr. and Mrs. Paul O. Garthe of Traverse City have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sonja, to David D. Campbell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross S. Campbell of Franklin.

Both Sonja and David are students at Michigan State University. Sonja is a member of Delta Gamma sorority and David of Phi Delta Gamma fraternity. David has also been elected to Alpha Zeta scholastic honorary fraternity.

They plan to be married June 29.

Wear Right Costume

Spending the holidays at home means playing a hostess role, which demands several costume changes, in the California manner. An informal buffet supper sees the hostess in stem-slim velvet pants, with a high-rise cummerbund band, plus a ruffle-front cotton shirt in pristine white. Or, candlelight and wine calls for feminine, floor-length hostess pajamas, with fullness to give them the sweep of a long dinner gown.

Her Son Isn't Jealous--He's Afraid

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Writes Mrs. E., "I'm the divorced mother of two children. My 9-year-old boy's jealousy of the man I may marry is becoming a problem. How should I handle it? He hides in his room when my friend is in the house. His little sister is much more accepting of the idea of a stepfather . . . "

* * *

Let me ask Mrs. E. these questions: How freely has her son expressed resentment of his little sister? When he's felt affronted by her, has he made vigorous protest? Has it been respected—or belittled, ignored?

How did he feel about his parents' divorce? Has he openly reproached his mother for her separation from his father?

Has he been helped to actually say, "No, Mommy, I don't trust you as I used to because I'm scared you may decide to leave me any day the way you decided to leave Daddy . . . "?

* * *

ANOTHER CHANGE

A stepfather means another change in his life. If he couldn't protest what he didn't like about previous changes, no wonder he is scared of this new one.

* * *

Calling his apprehension "jealousy" won't help a bit. What we need to see is his fear of helplessness, of being muzzled. In his situation, it's a reasonable fear.

This is a little boy who has suffered displacement as his mother's only child; he has seen her affection for his father replaced by hostility. From his point of view, it all adds up to a very unreliable mother.

If he has not been helped to express his suspicious feelings to her—and received loving reassurance for them, then life with a stepfather simply means new betrayals by her—new suppressions of resentment to be battled through alone.

* * *

The nightmare of us all is the dream of being tied, made helpless, unable to move, unable to live. It's the dream of death.

SAME REASON

A child fears a new step-parent for the same reason he fears his first summer camp, his first holiday away from home. He fears committing himself to possible dangers he cannot protest.

Usually, he is a child who has been trained to stifle protests against what hurts him in adult behavior in order to keep the adults feeling good and treating him decently.

* * *

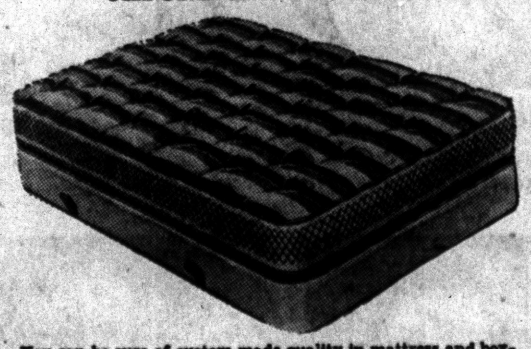

What this child needs is not "handling" but love that can help him cry out, "Yes, yes, I'm afraid that you won't let me tell you what I don't like about this stranger in the house."

Fashion Hint

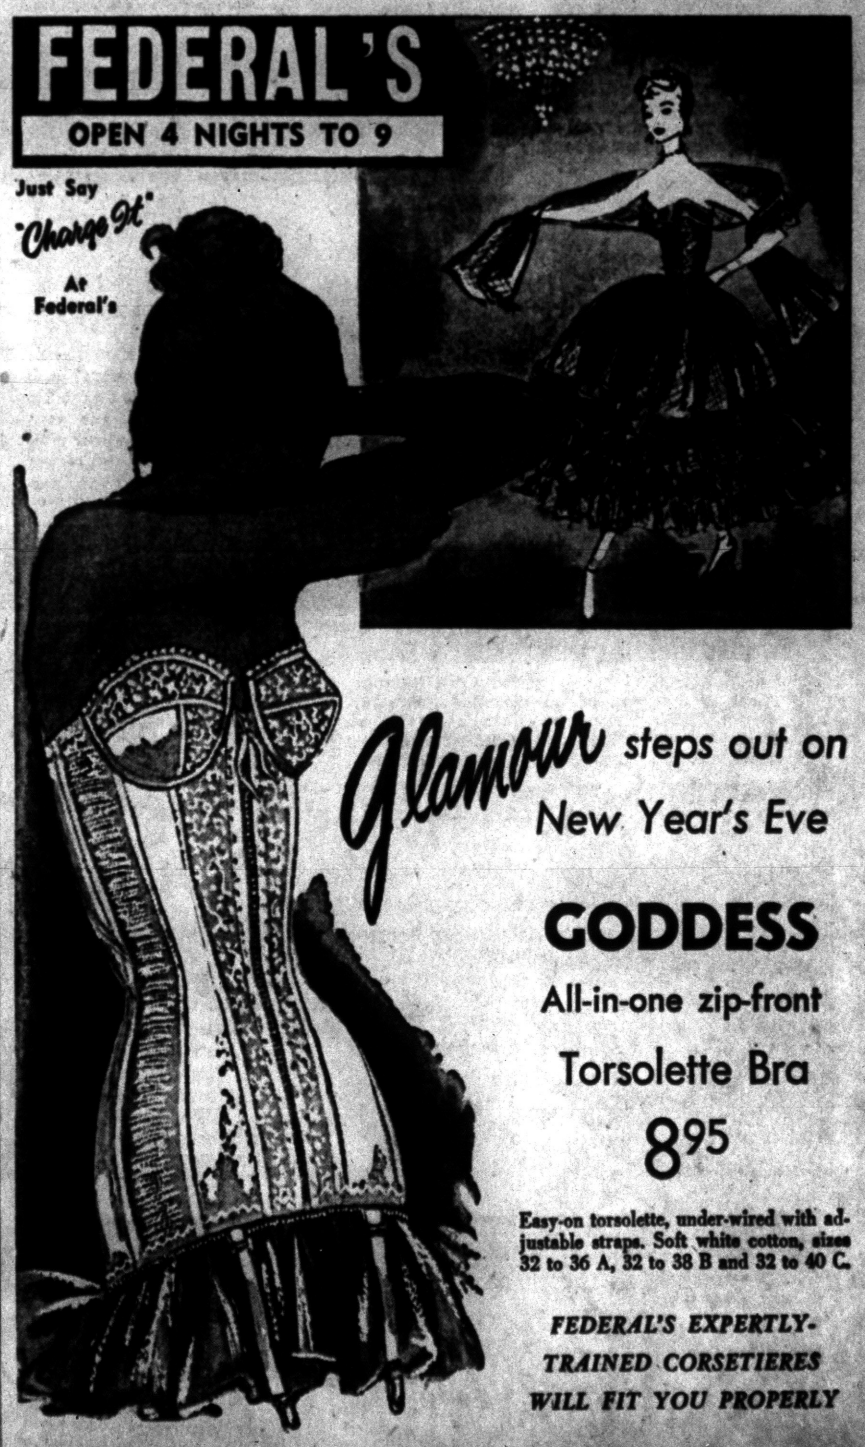

If you buy each new addition to your wardrobe with the rest of your wardrobe well in mind, you'll never wind up wearing a bright red coat over a bright yellow dress. Never buy anything that doesn't fit into your wardrobe no matter how tempted you are.

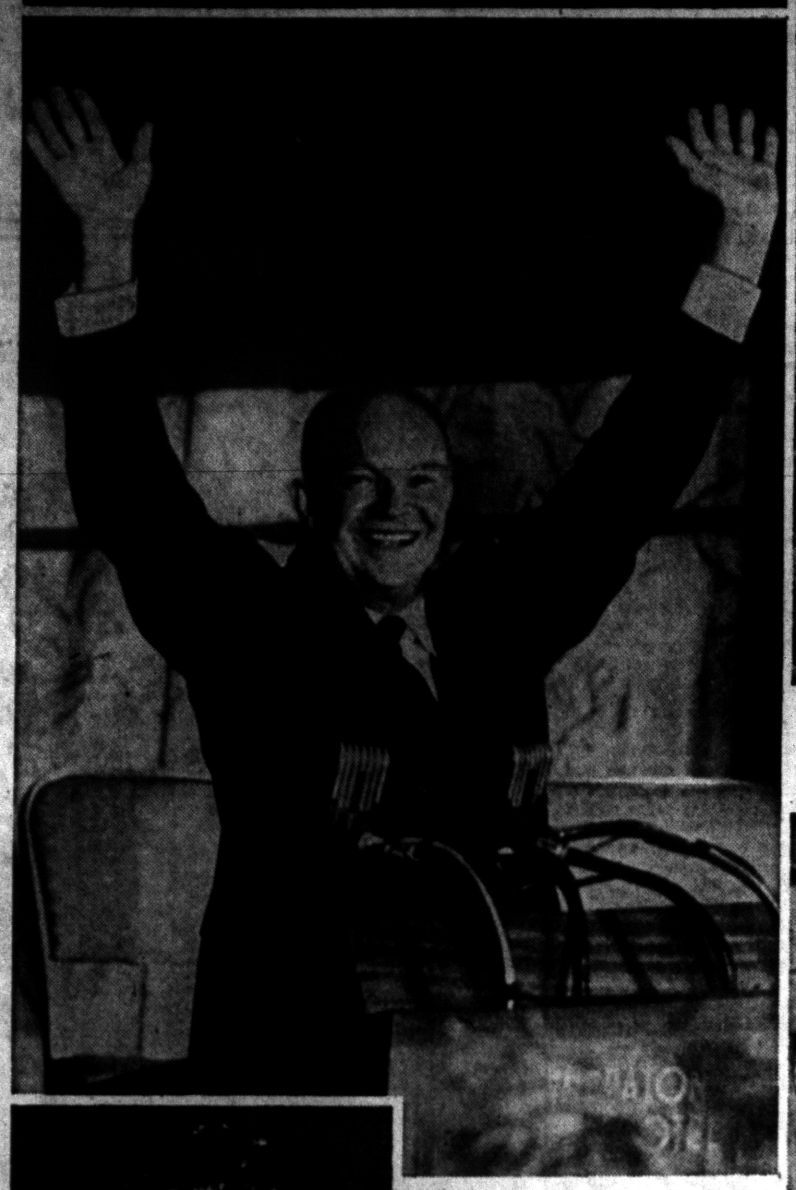

About the only way to win a million at the race track is to be a horse.

LANDSLIDE WINNER over Adlai Stevenson, President Eisenhower acknowledges cheers in a Washington hotel late on election night. On Feb. 29 Ike announced he would run for a second term. Then on June 8 he was rushed to the hospital for an intestinal operation. Within a month he was back at his desk and on Nov. 6 piled up a nearly 10-million-vote majority.

FIRST CRACK IN THE SOVIET satellite empire appeared in Poland where workers staged a bloody uprising in Poznan in June. Some 38 patriots paid with their lives. Stemming from President Eisenhower's expressed concern, the interest in the physical fitness of America's youth has rapidly gained impetus from national right down to local levels.

In order to improve what many authorities called the "shockingly poor physical fitness programs of our schools," the President set up a council composed of five cabinet officials and headed by Dr. Shane McCarthy as its Executive Director.

Just recently at a national conference in Washington, Dr. McCarthy pointed out that "the erosion of the physical assets of this nation compares to that of soil deterioration."

He blamed national attitudes toward children, without consideration of their needs, as one of the reasons for our physical downfall.

In attendance at the conference were the physical education and athletic directors of Oakland County's two largest communities, Tom Dodson of Pontiac and Jim Manilla of Royal Oak.

Dodson played a key role in the conference by presenting a summation of a national survey he had taken from cities having populations between 50,000 and 100,000.

Thirty cities of this size responded to the survey, and even though it appeared that some gains were being made in the recreation programs of our education systems, the final analysis tended to show the inadequacy of fitness programs from the elementary through the high school levels.

The fact that 26 of the 30 cities indicated some recreation or intramural program, from the elementary through the high school level, does not denote success in the program.

As shown by proportionate figures, failures are evident for numerous reasons. Less than half of the cities have programs sponsored by schools alone. The majority are conducted municipally or jointly by school and city.

Failures also lie in the lack of special personnel and facilities or the lack of additional pay to those of the school system engaged in the program.

In only one-third of the cities, was it indicated that the schools have the responsibility of providing recreation as part of the overall educational program, with just 40 per cent having recreational budgets and only 20 per cent operating summer recreation programs.

A total of 48 different activities was mentioned among the various recreation programs of the cities surveyed, but it is interesting to note again that only 10 of the activities prevailed in better than 50 per cent of the schools.

An example, basketball, the largest and most common activity in the intramural or recreational programs of the schools, is offered in only 70 per cent.

It's no wonder even the President is concerned, when the most common activity is 30 per cent away from being our best.

Lions Extend Parker's Contract for Two Years

Parker's well will bring in $30,000 a year for the next two years in the form of a new contract with the National Football League club.

It was capped yesterday when the Lions' 15-man board of directors finally decided to offer a two-year pact to the 45-year-old Texan instead of sticking to the one-year contract Parker turned down last week.

"I think my coaching record with the Lions deserves more than a one-year contract," Parker said, and he meant it. "My 1956 contract runs out Saturday and that's how I'm operating," he said.

But when the turmoil ended following a 2½-hour meeting by directors and a 30-minute huddle with Lions' President Edwin J. Anderson, Parker said:

"Now I'm going to work on our next draft meeting in Philadelphia. I haven't made up my mind what we want yet, but we've got to get on it quick."

Some notable changes had just been made. As Anderson put it, "I recommended to the board last week that Buddy be given a two-year contract. That's what Buddy wanted and we want to give him what he wants."

Parker hedged some on his staff of assistants, however, saying, "I expect to go with the same coaching staff, but football is always a changing game and you never know just how things will turn out."

The brewery owner said the reason Parker had not been offered a two-year agreement last week was a "misunderstanding between Buddy and myself."

"Three years ago we (the board) decided to give only one-year contracts and at that time Buddy told me he was happy with that. He said, 'Anytime you don't want me I don't want you,' but now he has changed his mind on the tenure," said Anderson.

Parker had two reasons for not worrying about his job. In his six years at Detroit he won western division titles in 1952, 1953 and 1954, world titles in 1952 and 1953 and had finished second in the division twice, including this year. His worst season was last year when he had a 3-9 last-place record.

The second reason was that Pittsburgh and Baltimore had been nibbling for him. Nothing concrete ever materialized from this, however, because the NFL has a $5,000 fine for tampering with another club's coaching personnel.

Parker's two-year pact apparently met with some conflict, however, because the board found it hard to forget the case of Parker's predecessor, Alvin (Bo) McMillin.

McMillin's five-year contract was bought up in 1950 after three seasons for $69,400, a blow even the solvent Lions never forgot.

But Parker's popularity with Detroit fans never was in question and the 9-3 comeback this year brought him more favor than ever.

Fromhart Gets Support Amidst Alumni Charges

DETROIT (INS)—University of Detroit football coach Wally Fromhart has been given a vote of confidence for 1957 it was revealed yesterday.

The disclosure came swiftly on the heels of an alumni charge of "appalling low morale" among the Titans.

The school's faculty committee on athletics met last weekend and agreed to extend Fromhart's one-year contract, which expires next April.

Detroit had the most disastrous season in the school's 61 years on the gridiron this year as the Titans won only two games and lost eight.

* * *

Frank R. Gerbig Jr., president of the U. of D. alumni, rapped the Titan football situation and proposed an inquiry. He said that "the will to win and the gallant fight as shown by true sportsmen have disappeared."

* * *

He said, "college men took the field to play in a manner which was discredit to proud Titan tradition."

Three other alumni, Tom Moore, Ed Webster and Dr. Raymond Delaney were included on the committee, calling for an inquiry.

Aussies Clinch It Easily

U.S. Davis Cup Netters Fall

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Stunned and staggered at the outset, Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad pulled themselves together to win the the Davis Cup for Australia today by defeating a U.S. "pick-up" team of Vic Seixas and Sam Giammalva, 1-6, 6-1, 7-5, 6-4.

The doubles victory gave the Aussies a 3-0 lead in the best-of-five competition and assures the coveted cup—symbol of world tennis supremacy—staying Down Under another year. Tomorrow's two final single matches will be nothing more than exhibitions.

Giammalva will meet Rosewall in the first match with Seixas meeting Hoad in the second. Bill Talbert, U.S. team captain, substituted Giammalva for Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif. in view of his good play in the doubles.

* * *

The capacity crowd of 18,000 at the War Memorial Stadium sat in shocked horror as the first set unfolded. They could hardly believe that they were watching Rosewall, and Hoad, who between them hold every major singles title in the world, and together are the Wimbledon, United States and Australian doubles champions.

Seixas, the handsome 33-year-old Philadelphian, and Giammalva, an emotional 22-year-old University of Texas student from Houston, who never had played in a challenge round before, ran the Aussies all over the court in the first set. Seixas won his first service at love and that set the tenor of the set.

* * *

Only Hoad was able to salvage a service for the Aussies, that in the second game. But in the fourth Seixas and Giammalva smashed through Rosewall's service and in the sixth they took care of Hoad's.

This was the American team that was picked by Talbert as an afterthought. He had considered using Flam, who had more international experience than Giammalva, but a few hours before the match decided that the Texan, with his big game, would give the Aussies more trouble. He was right.

Both Giammalva and Seixas rushed the net behind their services and banged home kill after kill, while Rosewall and Hoad stood flatfooted.

* * *

The Americans promptly broke through Rosewall again to start the second set and the Aussies' situation became alarming. But with the suddenness of an unexpected thunderstorm, Rosewall and Hoad moved to the offensive.

They broke Giammalva in the second game, Seixas in the fourth and Giammalva again in the sixth. It was that fast. After winning the first game, the Americans were blocked.

Pettit's Surge Puts Hawks Star at NBA's Top

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks has taken over the National Basketball Assn.'s individual scoring lead on the strength of last week's performance in which he produced 95 points in three games.

Pettit's surge from third place boosted his season's point total to 672, averaging 25.8 a game.

Lane and Spieser Given High Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Michigan professionals are listed among the leading contenders in their division in the new boxing ratings announced yesterday by Ring Magazine.

Kenny Lane of Muskegon is ranked the No. 2 contender behind Italy's Diullo Loi for the world lightweight championship held by Joe Brown of New Orleans.

Chuck Spieser of Detroit is ranked third behind Gerhardt Hecht and Hans Stretz, both of Germany, for the light heavyweight title held by Archie Moore of San Diego.

Hawks, Favored, But Evvy Sees Close Bowl Battle

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Iowa Hawkeyes today remain the solid favorite to whip Oregon State and it almost requires a search warrant to locate anyone brave enough to pick the Pacific Coast Conference contender.

* * *

All of which adds up to one possibility: Coach Tommy Prothro and his Oregon Staters may well command a psychological edge over the Hawks.

Coaches seldom admit any regard or concern over odds and points. Prothro and his opposite number with Iowa, Forest Evashevski, are no exception.

Both predict a close game, as close as the 14-13 decision Iowa scored over Oregon State during the regular season.

Iowa won although its star quarterback, Ken Ploen, was injured in the first quarter and sat out the other three.

* * *

This makes good reading to the Iowa backers. But it could contribute to complacency on the part of the Iowa players, provided they are given to such mental lapses.

Just what, if any, form of head stretching or brainwashing Prothro is employing on his team is his trade secret. But Mr. Prothro is a very alert young coach, a true intellectual whether it be football or the finer arts.

Oregon State has never been accused of lack of spirit. This Rose Bowl game is a crusade, just as it should surely be for Iowa in its first appearance in the Rose Bowl.

If Iowa should for any reason let down, say from its superb last of the season wins over Minnesota, Ohio State and Notre Dame, Oregon State could very well upset all the pre-game calculations.

Iowa rates as the favorite. It played a tougher schedule, losing only to Michigan by three points.

But Oregon State, despite losses to Southern California and Iowa and a tie by Oregon, may not appreciate all these facts. Some are history, not facts.

Yesterday Dick Klein, 250-pound starting Iowa right tackle, was knocked cold on one play. His replacement, co-captain Dick Desey, went out soon after with a knee injury, which does not appear serious.

Talbert May Quit as Team Captain

Maples Break Holiday Quiet

Birmingham Entertains Fitzgerald Cage Squad in Friday Attraction

Birmingham and Fitzgerald high schools will interrupt the vacation lull in Oakland County area basketball activity by clashing in a non-league game Friday night at Birmingham.

The Maples of the Class A Eastern Michigan League have compiled a 2-1 record so far. Paced by 6-4 forward Bob Isbell, they have conquered Cranbrook and Southfield while dropping a 62-60 decision to Royal Oak.

Fitzgerald, defending Oakland B League champion, is off to a rough start this season with two setbacks in three games. The Spartans' lone win was a 38-37 squeaker over Clawson. Avondale and Lake Orion supplied the losses.

Three other games are on tap tomorrow night to round out the slim area card during the holidays.

Defending EML champion Port Huron plays host to Toledo Scott, Marlette goes to Marysville and Class D Dryden's varsity visits Port Huron for a contest with the Big Red sophomores.

North 11 Wins, 17-7

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The North defeated the South 17-7 in the Shrine's annual college all-star football game last night, but you can't convince die-hard Rebels that the South didn't really come out on top.

* * *

Tommy McDonald, the All-America halfback from Oklahoma, and his teammate, quarterback Jimmy Harris, were big guns in a North attack that gave the Yankees only their second win in the nine-year-old series.

The North was allowed to make this raid below the Mason-Dixon Line in the hope that players from national champion Oklahoma would strengthen the Yankees and balance the competition in a series which has been dominated in the past by the rebels.

The move was successful, but you can bet that next year the South will be clamoring to reclaim Oklahoma.

McDonald's running and passing highlighted a game in which the slick Sooner maintained his record of never having played on a losing college team. He was a star of three straight unbeaten Oklahoma clubs.

Harris, a signal-caller by trade who was shifted to fullback in the all-star contest, and Len Dawson of Purdue, the Big Ten passing champion, were other standouts in the North attack.

Harris threw a 9-yard touchdown pass to Indiana's Bob Fee and Dawson got the other North touchdown with a 19-yard heave to Michigan State's Jim Hinesley.

But it was McDonald who captured the imagination of the 39,181 Orange Bowl fans.

* * *

The magnificent Sooner led all ground gainers with an average of 5.7 yards in 12 carries and completed two of three passes for 59 yards. One of his throws, a 39-yard beauty to Dennis Mendyk of Michigan State, set up the second North score.

McDonald was the unanimous choice of the press box as the North's most valuable player. Bill Barnes, Wake Forest fullback, was picked as the best of the South squad.

Both North touchdowns were scored in the second period after fumble recoveries. Michigan's Mike Rotunno claimed the first bobble by Vanderbilt's Don Orr and Wisconsin's Dave Howard covered the other fumble by Barnes.

Stymied through the first half by a savage North defense, the South finally managed to score in the third period after Florida's Jackie Simpson had intercepted one of Dawson's passes to set the Rebels up 22 yards from the goal. Sonny Jurgensen of Duke passed four yards to Mississippi's Ed Crawford for the score.

* * *

But the South never threatened again.

Ortonville Wins 1st Test in Flint Dye Tournament

Ortonville won its 1st basketball game of the 1956-'57 season Wednesday afternoon and the Blackhawks picked a good time to do it.

Sparked by shooting ace Bob Hutchings, who collected 26 points, the Blackhawks ripped Mt. Morris 69-39 in the opening game of the Flint Dye Christmas Invitational Tournament at Flint.

Nine Ortonville cagers saw action and all of them scored as the South Central Conference club gained its 1st triumph in five starts.

The Hawks led all the way. Their halftime edge was 25-18 and in the 4th quarter they settled the dispute once and for all with a 30-point splurge.

In other 1st round games yesterday, Flint Utley defeated Flint Bentley 67-41, Flint Atherton downed Frankenmuth 44-35, and Flint Dye massacred Swartz Creek 74-34.

Favored Detroit Catholic Central bested Center Line 66-58 and Warren bowed to River Rouge 58-52 in Wednesday's opening round of the Center Line Invitational Tournament.

Officer Says Rabbits Scarce in County Area

Scarcity of rabbits in Oakland county hunting areas, has made the midwinter sport a hard job, says conservation officer Howard Johnson.

"We just don't seem to have them in any numbers," Johnson reported. "At least you don't seem to find them around their usual haunts. Recently, on a hunt near Holly I didn't find a single rabbit where they used to be plentiful. You see some occasionally, but they usually are near the roads, or in areas where they can't be hunted." Similar contditions are found upstate, Johnson said.

Johnson also reports that there is little ice fishing going on now on county waters. "Most ice is too thin. The larger lakes aren't even frozen over. We'll need several days or a week of real cold weather to produce ice sufficiently thick enough for the sport."

'Stilt' Chilled

I-State Nearly Nips KU

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Iowa State put the chill on Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain last night and came within six seconds of a tremendous upset of Kansas, the nation's No. 1 basketball team, in a first-round game of the Big Seven's holiday tournament.

Gene Elstun leaped high in a corner and saved the game for Kansas, 58-57, with a last-breath shot.

A jam-packed crowd of 10,500 cheered the underdog Iowa Staters as they enveloped Chamberlain, the sensational 7-foot Kansas sophomore. Three men took turns guarding him, two at a time, one in front, one behind. John Crawford and Don Medsker were the main shadow men.

The Stilt went into the game with a 35.5 average. He had racked up 52 points in one early season game.

Iowa State froze him to only three field goals. He converted only six of his 13 foul shots. Total—12 points. He missed five straight free throws in the second half, got only two points after the intermission.

Both Kansas and Iowa State had 6-0 records before their encounter. Iowa State climbed to 14th in this week's Associated Press basketball poll. Kansas has been No. 1 in the balloting all season.

Ticket Sale Off for Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (AP) — The Cotton Bowl game Jan. 1 apparently will fall short of a sellout for the first time in 15 years.

Cotton Bowl officials said they expected about 61,000 for the Syracuse-Texas Christian game. The bowl holds 75,000.

Officials blamed a number of factors for the drop in ticket sales. Texas A. & M., Southwest Conference champion, is banned from the Cotton Bowl by the NCAA for alleged recruiting abuses.

TCU, second in the conference, lost the Aggies, Miami and Texas Tech.

Also, officials say there is a fall-off of interest when a team repeats in the bowl. They added that television is making some cuts.

The Cotton Bowl started selling out in 1941 when the conference first became the sponsoring agency.

LL Baseball Makes Gains

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Peter J. McGovern, president of Little League Baseball, Inc., said today that a project to make the baseball for boys program self sufficient is gaining momentum.

"Considerable interest is being evidenced by the nation's top industrial and business executives in the recently launched Little League foundation," McGovern commented in a yearend report.

The foundation is a non-profit undertaking announced last summer. At present national operations of the movement are underwritten by a national manufacturer.

• • •

Meanwhile, with what he termed an "optimistic outlook," McGovern predicted a 15 per cent rise for 1957 in the number of local Little Leagues franchised by the national headquarters. This summer there were slightly over 4,100 leagues enrolled with some 700,000 boys 8-12 playing baseball.

Muzz Patrick, general manager of the New York Rangers, believes Ron Murphy has a chance to top his teammates in goals in the National Hockey League race this season.

Bears in Best Condition for Giants

NEW YORK (AP)—It was beginning to appear today that the Chicago Bears and the New York Giants are treading in two different paths toward the National Football League title game here Sunday.

The Bears worked on the field eight consecutive days after they clinched the Western Conference title with their triumph over the Detroit Lions.

They had a respite Christmas Day, but were right back at the contact work again yesterday. There even is talk around the league of the Bears being overtrained.

But Coach Paddy Driscoll said that he has been watching his charges closely and that he has detected no signs of them going stale. In fact, he said he would work them out again today, followed by a lighter session tomorrow, before leaving Chicago.

The Giants, on the other hand, have been taking things easy. Coach Jim Lee Howell gave the team three days off after winning the Eastern title on Dec. 15. Then the players had a free weekend and two more days off this week.

The Giants worked out yesterday with one group of players simulating Bear plays. They also had a long lecture on just what to expect from the Bear defense.

There's no doubt about it, most experts figure the game as a test of Giant defense against Bear offense.

"That's all wrong," said one member of the Giant brain trust. "We definitely don't intend to rely on our defense. We aim to stay ahead by the simple matter of scoring more points."

Howell also has charted some new plays for the game and will have the team working on them for the next two days.

Howell said that only one of his men is in sub-par shape. He is Gene Filipski, who injured his back when the Giants licked Philadelphia for the divisional title less than two weeks ago. Harland Svare and Roosevelt Brown, both of whom were on the shelf, are set.

Driscoll believes the Bears are better trained and conditioned for their title shot with the Giants than any team in Bear history.

"I haven't an opinion whether this year's club is better than the last championship Bears of 1946," said Driscoll, who has been on the Bears coaching staff 15 years. "But I know one thing, no Bear team was ever better trained than this one.

"I've kept a close eye on the conditioning. The boys are in top physical shape and their mental attitude is up. There are no injuries and no signs of staleness."

The Bears have logged about 26 hours of intensive drills since their 38-21 victory over the Detroit Lions Dec. 16 that gave them the Western division crown.

Driscoll said a brief session will be held in Yankee Stadium Saturday.

Some Bear fans think the team may be overtrained but Driscoll laughed this off.

"You can't be overtrained for any game in the league, let alone the championship game," he said. "We let the team ease off in practice last week, and now they are working around to a nice edge. I feel that we've already had our bad spot this season and that since that time we're over the hump."

He referred to the 17-17 tie with the Giants on Nov. 25 and a loss to the Lions a week later.

Donelli in Line for Little's Job

Motor City Tourney Opens Friday

DETROIT (INS) — The 5th annual Motor City Basketball Tournament opens tomorrow night at the University of Detroit Memorial Field House, with record-breaking crowds expected for the four-game set.

The Titans are co-favorites with Northwestern to battle for the championship in Saturday's wind-up doubleheader.

U. of D. faces Boston University in the lid-lifter at 7:15 p.m., followed by Northwestern versus Wyoming.

Boston brings the best record into tournament play. One of the East's top independents, the Terriers posted a 3-1 record in pre-tourney play.

• • •

Detroit has lost four of seven starts — one of them to 9th ranked Oklahoma A. and M. The Titans also bowed to powerful Louisville and suffered heart-breaking one-point losses to Bowling Green and Tulsa.

Northwestern, which has a two-two record, is expected to outscore a weak Wyoming quintet, which has a poor 1-8 record.

Following tomorrow night's tournament action, the loser of the first game will play the loser of the second game Saturday at 7:15 p.m., while the winners meet in the title game.

One of the top prizes in the tournament is the outstanding player award, which is given to the player who turns in the best performance.

The award has been accorded a player of a non-championship club only once in four years the tournament has been held.

Johnny Kline, flashy forward on Wayne's 1952 title team, was the first winner. The following year it was Charlie Primas, also of Wayne, as the Tartars captured third place.

Forward Guy Sparrow, of Pontiac, who sparked the Titans to the championship in 1953, shared the honor with Penn State's Jesse Arnell in 1954, as the Titans claimed their second straight crown.

Last year, Terry Tebbs set three records and tied another in leading Brigham Young to the championship and was an overwhelming choice for top honors.

Not Yet Ready for Title Bout

Pastrano Beats Norkus but Isn't Quite Set for Patterson

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Willie Pastrano, speedy young contender for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight boxing title, is among the first to admit he isn't quite ready to take on the champ.

"I'd like to have a few more fights before I tackle Patterson," the 20-year-old jab and dance artist commented after winning a unanimous decision over Charley Norkus last night in Miami Beach Auditorium.

Judges Eddie Thol and Stu Winston had it 100-90 for Pastrano, Referee Si Gottfried 100-87 and the AP 100-91.

Backs Home-&-Home Idea

, EAST LANSING (AP) — A member of the governing body of Michigan State University says he will support efforts by athletic director Biggie Munn to get a home-and-home football schedule with the University of Michigan.

Forest Akers, a member of the state board of agriculture, said he approves of Munn's insistence that the games be rotated between East Lansing and Ann Arbor.

Munn has notified Michigan athletic director Fritz Crisler that MSU will withdraw from its agreement to play at Ann Arbor in 1959 unless the Wolverines agree to play here the following year. Cancellation of the 1959 agreement would probably terminate the series between the two schools.

Akers said the increased revenue to be gained by playing the games in the larger stadium at Ann Arbor does not carry weight with MSU officials.

Negotiations of the home-and-home proposal are reportedly in a stalemate pending a meeting of Big Ten directors at the NCAA convention in St. Louis Jan. 5.

Akers said the MSU stadium will be expanded to seat 76,000 by next fall.

"That's more than can be accommodated at other places where Michigan has home-and-home agreements," he added.

4 Big Linemen Aimed at Brodie

OSU Behemoths Among Probable Starters at Shrine Tilt, Dec. 29

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — East-West line-ups come out today with four behemoths from the East almost certain to get the job of rushing Stanford's passing star, John Brodie.

• • •

Notre Dame's Terry Brennan, the head East coach, and Buck Shaw of the West were to name their starters for the Dec. 29 Shrine game after their final workouts in full equipment.

• • •

Brennan, in a lengthy scrimmage yesterday, used four linemen averaging better than 240 pounds to perfect the "stop Brodie" defense.

• • •

The four, Jim Parker, Ohio State, 268; Don Owens, Mississippi Southern, 250; Bob Hobert, Minnesota, 240, and Bill Michael, Ohio State, 230, worked against an East offensive unit and gave Notre Dame's Paul Hornung nothing but trouble when he tried to pass.

Two Wins, Three Forfeits Mark 'Y' Gang Tourney

Victories by the Baldwin Bouncers and the Crofoot Little Chiefs and three forfeits featured Wednesday's opening action in the Prep division of the YMCA Gang Basketball Tournament at the 'Y' gym.

The Bouncers shut out the Wisner Long Legs, 6-0, and aided by forfeits from Wisner Room 22 and the Crofoot Tigers, catapulted into the tourney finals. Paul Reichert, Dave Moreno and Dan McGowen each scored a field goal for the Bouncers.

Jerry Abcrumby and Jim Johnson tallied 12 points apiece to lead the Little Chiefs to a 28-14 triumph over the Baldwin Orioles. Neil Roberts made 10 points for the losers.

The Little Chiefs were scheduled to meet the Globe Trotters this morning in the Prep semifinals with the winner facing the Bouncers Friday at 3 p.m. for the title. The Trotters advanced to the semis with a forfeit win over the Wisner Swampers.

The Junior division of the tourney was slated to begin today. Eastern's Goofy Five was matched with the Washington Braves and the Rochester Court Trotters were paired with the YMCA Junior Leaders. The PW's drew a bye.

LANSING (AP) — Hunters and trappers collected $18,675 in state bounty payments during November, the state conservation department reported today.

The November payments bring the bounty total to date to more than $200,000, compared to the $176,000 total for such payments during the entire 1955 year.

Glovers Start Jan. 7

DETROIT (INS) — Seven-time Golden Gloves champion Bob Cornwell heads the list of amateur boxers from the CYO Center boxing club which will enter the 1957 Golden Gloves tournament, starting on Jan. 7.

* * *

The 19-year-old fighter will defend his bantamweight crown with the hope of gaining a Michigan State University boxing scholarship.

John Brotzman, director of athletics at State, has promised Cornwell the scholarship if he wins again this year.

* * *

Other CYO open stars who have their eyes on five of eight possible crowns at stake include Edgar Gregory, 1956 CYO open lightweight champion and gloves finalist; Warren Scheibner, recently discharged from the armed forces; Alton Coleman, 112-pound novice champion, and Buddy Miller, CYO and Gloves heavyweight.

* * *

Outstanding among the novice scrappers are Robert Brockins, John McLaughlin and William Alexander.

The recent announcement that the Sports Guild would stage the 1957 Gloves tournament and the AAU championships in a series of 12 weekly televised programs (Monday, 10 to 11 p.m.) on CKLW-TV, has resulted in the greatest demand for entry blanks in years.

Boxing clubs in Detroit, Highland Park, Dearborn, Southeastern Ontario, Monroe, Walled Lake and other areas indicate the entry list will set a post-war record. Deadline for entries is midnight Saturday, Jan. 5.

Union Status Seen for NBA's Players

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — A Worcester insurance man says players in the National Basketball Assn. are considering affiliation with the AFL-CIO.

* * *

Joseph P. Sharry, who said he was speaking for the players, disclosed last night that a representative of the labor organization would address representatives of all NBA teams at a private meeting at a hotel in Boston, Jan. 15.

Sharry is a close friend of Bob Cousy, Boston Celtics star.

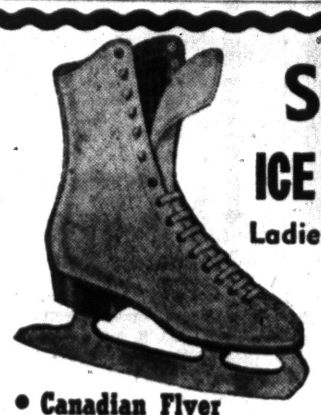

Sharry has been acting as secretary-treasurer of the NBA Players Assn. since its inception two years ago. Cousy has been spokesman for the players in meetings with league officials.

Neither would amplify Sharry's statement of possible union affiliation.

Wings Shooting for NHL's Top

Face Boston Tonight, One Point Back; Leafs Trip Canadiens

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

First and fourth places will be at stake in the National Hockey League tonight when the pace-setting Boston Bruins meet the runner-up Detroit Red Wings and the New York Rangers tangle with the Chicago Black Hawks.

* * *

The Bruins, with 42 points to Detroit's 41, may have Terry Sawchuk back in the nets. The star goaltender has been sidelined for almost three weeks with a blood disease. Norm Defelice, without previous NHL experience, has been subbing.

* * *

In last night's only game, rookie defenseman Al MacNeil scored his first NHL goal at 15:56 of the first period to give the Toronto Maple Leafs a 1-0 victory over the Montreal Canadiens. The triumph enabled the Leafs to tie the Rangers for fourth place.

* * *

New York can move back into undisputed possession of the No. 4 spot by tying or beating Chicago. Toronto and Montreal will be idle.

Hamtramck Girl in First Round Victory

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—Defending champion Nancy O'Connell of Chicago today led the advance in the senior division of the national girls' indoor tennis tournament at Longwood Cricket Club.

* * *

Miss O'Connell defeated Ruffy Broomhead of Providence, R. I., 6-0, 6-2 in her opening match yesterday.

* * *

Seeded players Virginia Connelly of Chicago and Donna Floyd of Arlington, Va., also advanced as did Claudia Henschke and Bonnie Menchester of Forest Hills, N. Y., Susan Counihan of Cambridge, Mass., and Virginia Hesse of Hamtramck, Mich., in the junior division.

Chips, Flint JC Called Favorites

MT. PLEASANT — The Central Michigan College Chippewas and Flint Junior College should reign as co-favorites in the annual Flint Invitational Basketball tournament Dec. 28-29.

The two teams fought it out in the finals last year, Central winning 67-64.

Hillsdale and Ferris Institute are the other two teams in the tourney this year.

Olympic Official Sues Phog Allen on Libel Charge

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Phog Allen, former Kansas University basketball coach, was served with a court summons at the Big Seven basketball tournament last night.

The summons is in a $35,000 libel suit filed against Allen by Harry D. Henshel of New York, chairman of the Olympic basketball committee.

* * *

Henshel charged he was libeled by Allen in a speech Allen gave a year ago in Kansas City.

Allen criticized the suspension of Wes Santee, former K.U. track star, by the Amateur Athletic Union.

The summons could be served only when Allen could be found in Missouri because the suit was filed in Kansas City. Allen is ordered to appear within 30 days.

Begin $6,500,000 High School in Oak Park

Expect to Start Building Soon

Bulletin to Taxpayers Explains All Planning of Proposed Structure

OAK PARK — Huge pumps are sucking water out of the 34-acre school site on Pinecrest and Marshall in preparation for the start of the building of a new $6,500,000 high school.

* * *

Construction is expected to start in February with the completion date set for Sept. 1958.

A bulletin sent to all taxpayers in the school district by Oak Park and Ferndale Board of Education explains the extensive planning and shows pictures of the proposed modern structure.

The school will be square-shaped, built around a plaza. Various sections are to be one, two and three stories high.

There will be a gymnasium, auditorium, separate boys' and girls' pools.

* * *

Among other features there will be double duty cafeterias which may become study halls before and after the lunch hours.

A bond issue for $6,500,000 was approved by voters here in November 1955 to cover construction of the new high school.

The bulletin gives the following figures on how the money will be apportioned:

Fees, surveys and borings, $290,000; extra site conditioning, $400,000; the building itself, $4,897,000; site and site development, including athletic field, $350,000 and equipment and furnishings, $563,000.

'Born Yesterday' Postponed by Avon Players

ROCHESTER — Presentation of the production "Born Yesterday" to be given by the Avon Players, an amateur acting group, has been delayed by casting difficulties until the third week of February.

One factor causing the postponement is the large number of players attending tryouts.

Director, Dick McGowan, has had a hard time trying to decide which of four contenders shall have the female lead of the famous Billy Dawn, girl friend of tycoon Harry Brock.

However, McGowan hopes to reach some decision after more exhaustive tryouts during the coming week.

Rehearsal will begin as soon as the tedious task of casting is completed.

To Arraign Driver on Two Charges

CENTER LINE — Garland Boothe, 34, of 10325 Kerchival, Detroit, will be arraigned in Macomb County Court this morning on charges of felonious driving and manslaughter in the Monday night death of a pedestrian, Center Line police said this morning.

Michael Baron, 62, of 8449 Central, was struck by a car driven by Orion Campbell, 36, of 25200 Comfort, while crossing Van Dyke. Campbell left his car to help Baron, who was lying in the middle of the road. Both men were then struck by Boothe's car.

Campbell, treated and released from the hospital, was held by police with Boothe, but later released.

Council Gets Petition From Property Owners

Certify Recount Tonight

SOUTHFIELD — Tonight at 8 is the time set for the meeting of the old charter commission here, acting as the election commission.

The group is expected to certify the recount of the Dec. 3 charter election, which lost by 43 votes. Township hall is the meeting spot.

State Farmers to Get Funds

Government to Aid Up to $10,400,000 in Soil Bank Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan farmers who take part in the Federal Soil Bank Program stand to receive up to $10,400,000 from the government.

That sum was alloted to Michigan yesterday as the State's share of $750,685,000 set aside nationally by Secretary of Agriculture Benson for farmers who retire land from production next year.

* * *

Michigan farmers can receive up to $6,016,000 under the corn program and $4,384,000 under the wheat program.

The deadline for signing agreements for corn is March 8. Winter wheat agreements have already been made.

The program is designed to reduce agricultural surpluses by encouraging farmers to cut production of wheat, cotton, corn, rice and tobacco.

The 85 million dollars allotted to Kansas for participation in the Soil Bank was the highest among the states.

MARILYN GLOWACKE

This year's DAR Pilgrim at Walled Lake is petite Marilyn Glowacke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Glowacke of 7853 Eldora. Scholastically, Marilyn rates in the upper five per cent of her class and is a member of the National Honor Society. She has played in the band since her Junior High days and has been a majorette two years, heading the high steppers this year. She writes for the Echo, school newspaper, and belongs to the Spanish Club, Future Nurses, and is a member of both Student Council and Viking staff.

Myra Wentworth Married in Double Ring Service

DRYDEN — Christmas greens and candles decorated the altar of the Dryden Methodist Church, Saturday afternoon, Dec. 22 for the marriage of Myrna Wentworth and Gilbert D. Henderson.

* * *

About 150 guests were present at the two o'clock, double ring service which was read by the Rev. Stephen Chapko, assisted by the Rev. Cannon Charles Braidwood.

* * *

Myrna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Wentworth and Gilbert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Henderson of Lapeer.

For her marriage, Myrna wore a gown of mire-mist taffeta with a Sabrina neckline of lace, topping the bodice. The full skirt flowed gracefully into a chapel train. The fingertip veil fell from a cap of taffeta and iridescent sequins. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations set off by Christmas greens.

Marion Ellsworth was the maid of honor, Mrs. Gilbert Dorer of Utica and Patrician Bryant of Saginaw were the bridesmaids. The three attendants' dresses were identical of ruby velveteen, styled with a fitted bodice with a long torso, a scooped neckline and elbow length sleeves. The full circular skirts were ballerina length. They carried Christmas wreaths of green and white carnations.

Richard Henderson, brother of the groom, served as best man, and Clare Wentworth, brother of the bride, assisted. Seating the guests were Jerry Depong, Jerry Titsworth and Harold Harbar.

Consider Buying 60-Watt Radio in Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD — West Bloomfield Fire Chief Ben Moshier appeared at the township December board meeting and as a result, the fire department may get a 60-watt radio system.

Add Two Police Cars for Waterford Police

Two new police cars were delivered to the Waterford Township police station this week, and a third is expected momentarily, according to Chief Frank Van Atta.

* * *

A radar unit, which was presented to the police department by the Waterford Township Business Men's Assn. will be installed on one of the older cars, Van Atta said.

B-Bs Break Windows in Rochester Plant

ROCHESTER—Superintendent of the Rochester Sewage Disposal Plant, Jim Sayler, said this morning that he found eight windows in the plant peppered with B-B gun shots.

Reporting the incident to police here, Salyer said he believed the culprits may have been kids who received guns for Christmas.

WSCS Meets Today

NEW HUDSON — The WSCS of the New Hudson Methodist Church meets this afternoon at 2 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Oral Stubbs for their regular meeting. Mrs. Claude Swift will be in charge of the program.

Township Board Meeting Jan. 2; Warn of Deadline

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—The Township Board here will meet Wednesday, Jan. 2 at 7:30 p.m. instead of Tuesday, Jan. 1, at the township Community Center.

The township clerk's office will be open until 4 p.m. on that date, to receive petitions of candidates who will be filing.

Worst on Record

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Agriculture Department reported today that drought and poor moisture conditions in the Great Plains states are the worst on record.

The Department said that as of Dec. 1, nearly two million acres have been damaged by wind erosion. About one-third of this damage was in Kansas. In addition, nearly 250,000 acres of growing wheat were "seriously damaged" by wind. About 80 per cent of this damage was in Kansas and Colorado.

For 4-County Improvement

State MFC Okays Bonds

The State Municipal Finance Commission today approved millions of dollars in bond issues, including funds to finance school building in the Huron Valley District and Lapeer County and bonds for street improvement in Genesee County.

Approved by the Commission was a $1,200,000 bond issue to finance new schools in the Huron Valley School District in Oakland and Livingston counties.

Other bond issues authorized by the commission:

Lapeer county—Imlay City community schools, district number six, $1,000,000 for a new high school building and to convert the present high school into an elementary school.

Rochester Gets Gift of Buildings

C. B. Chapman Donates Structures to Village; Ready Petitions

ROCHESTER — Village Council, meeting here last night received a gift of two buildings from C. B. Chapman for the village and ordered immediate preparation of petitions for a South street sewer and lift station.

* * *

The small office building, located at Woodward and Main, will be moved to the Civic Skating Rink where it will be used as a concessions building. A special lighting system contained in this building will also be used at the rink.

The smaller building, also at Woodward and Main, will be moved to the Sanitary Land Fill Site at East Third street, where it will serve as an office.

Village Council last night instructed Village Manager Robert Slone and Clerk Lillian Easterle to prepare suitable petitions for a snitary sewer and lift station for South street.

If petitions are filed soon, Slone said, the engineering for the project would be completed this winter and the project itself would be begun in early summer.

Flint Marine Held in Florida Slaying

FLINT (AP)—A Flint Marine corporal was in jail here today, charged in the paring knife slaying of a Miami, Fla., bartender last Friday.

Cpl. Walter P. Coggins, 20, was arrested by state police last night at the home of his sister. He is held on a Miami warrant charging him in the stabbing of Raymond Devonshire, 52.

* * *

Troopers Dalton Bennett and Peter Lacroix quoted Coggins as saying he had been AWOL from the Marine air station at Miami since Dec. 17 and had been staying at Devonshire's house.

The state policemen said Coggins told them he had quarreled with Devonshire, and had left Miami in the bartender's automobile Friday night. The automobile was recovered.

Young Mothers Meet

NORTH BRANCH — The initial meeting of the "Young Mothers Club" was held this week at the home of Mrs. Beverly Sohn. Mrs. Mary Jane Diegel was elected president and Mrs. Eileen Kreiner, secretary-treasurer.

Name Group in Lake Orion

New Committee's Job to Determine Needs and Interests

LAKE ORION—A new committee was recently named by the Orion Community Center, Inc. to determine the needs of groups and individuals that would make them interested in promoting the new group. Hugh Brady, newly appointed director was named chairman, Charles Starrs and Mrs. Gilbert Woodcock committeemen.

* * *

A goal of $15,000 was presented by James Sheldon, chairman of the finance committee after they and the membership committee had jointly given it consideration.

This goal is for July 10 of 1957.

Currently Robert Smith, architect from Rochester is studying the various sites that are available, and will present his findings to the Board of Directors meeting, which is open to the membership and public, at 8 p.m. Jan. 10, at the Lake Orion Village Hall.

Try Selling Issue to Complete Schools

HURON VALLEY—The Board of Education here is to make one more effort to market the bond issue needed to complete construction of a new high school and two elementary schools.

* * *

At previous meetings, the board found no buyers at 4.5 per cent interest and a five year call period. However, at present the board has decided to offer the bonds at five per cent interest and with no bonds callable for ten years.

The new proposal will be advertised as soon as it is approved.

To Celebrate 60th Anniversary Sunday in Orion

LAKE ORION — Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Burnett of 249 Lapeer St. are celebrating their sixtieth wedding anniversary with open house for all their friends and relatives between 3 and 5 p.m. Sun. Dec. 30.

They were married in Spencer, Ind. at the home of the bride on Dec. 30, 1896.

Their children are Mrs. Beatrice Hanson of Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. Ethel Bothell of Greeley, Colo., Forrest of Sacramento, Calif., Marion of Lake Orion; and Mrs. Vera Martin of Lombard, Ill. They have 12 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Air Shipments of Livestock Heaviest in '56

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Agriculture Department said today that livestock shipments by air during fiscal 1956 were the heaviest in history.

It reported that aircraft carried 63 per cent of all U.S. livestock shipped overseas. For the first time, more cattle were shipped by plane than by ship—8,999 by air, 5,797 by sea.

In all, said the department, more than 25,000 animals of all types were examined at air and ocean ports of exit and entry during the year. It added that a number of diseased livestock were detected and rejected by inspectors.

File $930,000 Suits in Consumers Case

DETROIT (AP)—The building collapse at Jackson last Oct. 3 which claimed 10 lives has resulted in damage suits totaling $930,000 against Consumers Power Co. and three other defendants.

Named along with Consumers Power in the actions filed yesterday in Wayne County Circuit Court were Black and Black, the architects, Herlihey Mid-Continent Co., General Contractors; and Roy Covey of Detroit, consulting engineer.

Seven Herlihey employes taking part in the suits were prohibited from naming their company as defendant because of clauses in the workmen's compensation law. They named only the other three defendants.

All four defendants were named in the suits filed in behalf of two employes of sub-contracting firms. One of those was filed in behalf of the estate of Floyd R. Baker, who was killed when the partly completed four-story building crumbled. It asks $335,000.

Baker's survivors and the other eight plaintiffs live in the Jackson area.

County Deaths

Mrs. Hallie Alexander

KEEGO HARBOR—Service for Mrs. Hallie A. Alexander, 69, of 3049 Glenbroke, will be at 2 p.m. today from the C. J. Godhardt Funeral Home here, with burial in Ottawa Park Cemetery. Mrs. Alexander died Saturday in Pontiac General Hospital.

She is survived by a son, Kenneth Van Buskirk of Ohio; a sister, Mrs. Harvey Lawrence of Keego Harbor, and two brothers, Andrew of Ionia and Henry F. Van Buskirk of Ohio.

Daniel J. Weltzer

LAPEER—Service for Daniel J. Weltzer, 56, of 3761 Hunt Rd., who died yesterday afternoon in his home will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in Muir Brothers Funeral Home here with burial in Roseland Park Cemetery, Royal Oak. Mr. Weltzer was a former Royal Oak Resident.

A member of the Lum F&AM, he is survived only by his wife, Alma.

Dryden Herd Tester Reaches New High

LAPEER—Joe Verhaeghe, Dryden DHIA tester, now does the testing of more than 1,000 cows each month for the Dairy Herd Improvement Assn.

This is the first time any association in Lapeer County has reached this figure, and it may be a record number for the state.

Verhaeghe tests 33 herds monthly. He averages better than one herd a day, as it is possible to double up on some of the smaller herds. Book work is done by Mrs. Verhaeghe.

School Board Proposes Issue of $4 Million

FARMINGTON — The Farmington School Board will give immediate consideration to a $4 million school bond issue. The subject will be presented to the people for a vote in early 1957.

With the rapidly expanding needs of the area it is felt that this amount would be a minimum to provide adequate school facilities by 1958.

Already tentative plans are being made to discuss the proposed program.

Rivals Brawl for Favor of Movie Actress Crain

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A misdemeanor assault and battery complaint has been issued against the former husband of actress Jeanne Crain following a brawl Christmas Day between rivals for her affections.

The altercation involved manufacturer Paul Brinkman, 37, and millionaire Homer H. Rhoads, 45.

The actress recently divorced Brinkman, father of her four children. Rhoads says he plans to marry Miss Crain. She says she won't.

Mayflower II to Take Original Route of Namesake

LIVERPOOL, Eng. (INS) — The next time the Pilgrims set sail from England for America they're going to have a radio aboard the Mayflower.

The Mayflower II, however, won't have any women aboard for its crossing of the North Atlantic next spring—because "this is a serious venture," according to its skipper Alan Villiers.

The modern reconstruction of the famous Mayflower, which landed the first permanent settlers in New England, is now being fitted out for its trip to the U.S. along virtually the same route followed by the Pilgrims in 1620.

Villiers, a famed author and sailing master, will try to re-create the 17th Century voyage of the Pilgrims in a ship that is as much a copy as possible of the original Mayflower. But there will be some notable exceptions:

The radio is one, but it will be aboard because it's required by law.

There will be at least one young American in the crew when the ship sets sail from England next March or early April.

He'll be selected in a nationwide contest sponsored by the Boys' Clubs of America, and serve with a British youth as one of two cabin boys.

The number of passengers aboard will be far fewer than the 102 persons who crossed to America in the fall of 1620.

Also, Villiers explains:

"The new Mayflower will be a better ship. It will be better constructed, and, I think, more seaworthy."

The sailing master—a relatively young man for such a title because he's under 60—reminded that the "old girl's main beam buckled and she had to be shored up by a printing press. She must have been bad in a sea."

Villiers, a native of Australia now living in Oxford, Eng., came to the United States to lay the groundwork for the coming voyage of Mayflower II and for its presentation to the residents of Plymouth, Mass., as a gift of the people of England.

His trip included inspection of docking and harbor facilities at Plymouth, Mass., scene of the Pilgrims landing, consultations about the crew and some time out for personal appearances.

Since the project was initiated to sail the ship to America and anchor it at the "Plimoth Plantation" as a historical exhibit—and especially since the ship was launched last September—Villiers has received hundreds of letters from men, women and children in this country who want to sail on the Mayflower II.

* * *

Villiers, who went to sea as a youth and is a veteran of round-the-world trips and grain races under sail, is personally picking the crew of between 21 and 24 men. The British sponsors of the project will name the passengers.

* * *

They'll eat better than the first Pilgrims, even though they will dress just like them for the crossing.

And the tiny ship—90 feet on deck with a 34 foot beam amidship—should clip across the Atlantic in considerably fewer days than the 66 it took the signers of the Mayflower Compact.

Villiers estimates that if he gets good prevailing breezes, the Mayflower II should make it to America in 21 days. If the winds and weather aren't good, he hopes the crossing won't take more than 40 days.

"We will take the nearest route possible to that taken by the Pilgrims," the sailing man said. "There is little information on the journey.

* * *

"If there was a log we don't know where it is . . . we intend to take the northerly route—the one believed taken by the Pilgrims and stick to it as close as possible until we reach Plymouth."

The skipper said he and the crew and passengers will "relive the trials and tribulations that brave band" of Pilgrims underwent.

Plans for the Mayflower II were drawn after lengthy study by William Baker of Hingham, Mass., naval architect at the Fore River shipyard of Bethlehem Steel Co. in Quincy, Mass.

Villiers pointed out that baker "had to go by hearsay and what he could find out about ships of that day, and as far as we know we are close to the original. But no one can be sure."

The radio will be the most modern gadget aboard. The sails will be of flax, and all the line of hemp. And there won't be any winches or modern gadgets to aid in trimming sails.

* * *

Villiers, who offered his experience under the mast when he heard the people of England sincerely wanted to give America a gift of a new Mayflower, said the new ship will definitely lack something the first had — leaks.

To Use Industrial Waste

DETROIT (AP) — River Rouge has agreed to let a private engineering company collect its garbage and industrial wastes for use as fill material for a proposed causeway across Lake St. Clair to connect St. Clair Shores and Harsen's Island.

River Rouge will save part of the fees now paid Ecorse for use of its incinerator. The waste material will be stored under the river front docks until filling operations begin on Harsen's Island in the spring.

Runaway Bride Leaves Hospital

Theft, Assault, Escape From Mental Ward, Charged to Groom, 16

DENVER (AP)—Clo Ann Weigner, 17-year-old runaway bride, will be released from Denver General Hospital today. Police said they will question her about her husband's escapades.

A jail cell awaits the husband, 16-year-old Mike Wiegner. The hospital plans to release him tomorrow.

The young bride and groom were injured in a crash with a police car after a wild chase through Denver. Mike faces charges of auto theft and assault.

"We're going to jail Mike for wrecking a police car, if nothing else," said Detective Clifford Stanley. "We want both of the kids to clear up a few points."

Weigner has been charged in California with tying up Clo Ann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mowatt, and taking the girl off in the Mowatt car. They were married last month in Montana. Mike was sent to a California state mental hospital but escaped.

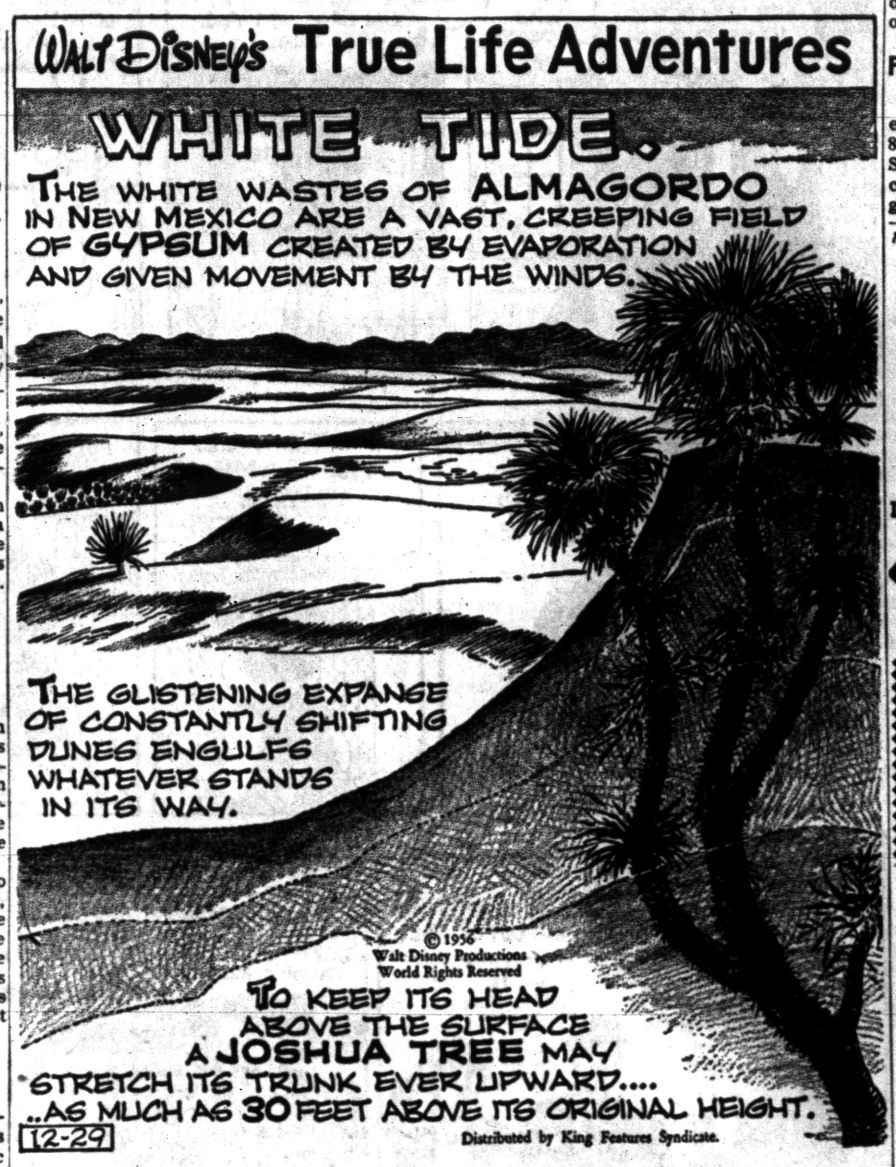

Although the Mowatts said Clo Ann was abducted at gun point, the girl told Denver police she went with Wiegner willingly. Since she has been in the hospital she has changed her mind four times about going home to her parents or sticking with Mike. Her latest decision: Stick with Mike.

Traffic Deaths to Soar Again

Expect All-Time High in Highway Fatalities Over Coming Weekend

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic deaths, which soared to an all-time high for any holiday during the Christmas period, may also hit a record toll during the long New Year weekend.

Deaths on the nation's highways from 6 p.m. (local time) Friday to midnight Tuesday, the National Safety Council estimates, may total 490. That would be 83 more than the record of 407 deaths for a New Year period, established during a four-day span in 1952-53.

The 490 traffic toll was termed possible by the council "unless there is a sharp improvement in the driving habits that shocked the nation over Christmas." It said the toll for a similar nonholiday period at this time of year would be 420.

In the four-day Christmas period, traffic fatalities totaled 706, the first time during any holiday period in U. S. history they climbed above 700. The council's pre-Christmas estimate was 660.

During the 1955 Christmas and 1956 New Year holidays, the combined traffic death tolls hit a record of 973. The New Year period total was 364. Each holiday period for counting purposes, was three days.

The final tabulation of all accidental deaths for this Christmas period of 102 hours showed a total of 884, a new all-time high for any holiday. The previous record was 805, during the Fourth of July celebration in 1955.

Juiciest Grapefruit Is Thin-Skinned, Heavy

Every time a shopper squeezes a grapefruit, quality is damaged and the selling cost is increased, says the Consumer Marketing Information Service. The best way to choose grapefruit is to look for the ones with thin, smooth skins and even shapes. Grapefruit that is pointed at the stem end is likely to be thick skinned and rather wasteful.

A juicy grapefruit will be heavy for its size. The experts say the russetting sometimes seen on the skin makes no difference to the flavor and quality of the fruit.

Hollywood Headlines

2 Fine Schools Develop Tony Franciosa's Acting

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — No wonder Anthony Franciosa is destined for stardom. He went to two of the best schools for an actor: hard knocks and the Actor's Studio.

Franciosa is one of those new actors with natural acting styles and unusual names. He's 28 and tall, with the handsomeness and charm of his Italian ancestry.

* * *

That he will be a star, there can be no doubt. He hit the Broadway lights with Shelley Winters in "A Hatful of Rain," and that started the Hollywood offers. Hal Wallis, who brought Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas and others from the stage to screen, signed Tony for a picture a year.

* * *

MGM wanted him to star in "The Vintage." But he passed up the coin and a European trip to work for Elia Kazan in "A Face in the Crowd" for less money and a smaller role. Tony realized the value of working for Kazan.

* * *

Now he's appearing with Jean Simmons and Paul Douglas in "This Could Be the Night." Twentieth Century-Fox wants him to repeat his role in "A Hatful of Rain" and both studios are seeking multi-picture deals with him.

Not bad for a guy who was working in a cafeteria here five years ago.

Tony had decided at 18 he wanted to be an actor and he took private coaching for a year and a half in his native New York City. But he had no luck getting roles and bounced around for years as a waiter, dishwasher, awning installer, welder, printer's helper, etc.

Three years ago, he enrolled at the Actor's Studio, and his career began to take off. Watch this boy.

Most Popular Resident

ROLLOT, France (INS)—The village of Rollot, population 648, is in "revolt" to defend its most popular resident—the tax collector.

Led by their municipal council, the villagers have denounced a decision by the French Treasury to eliminate the tax collector's job.

He is so popular that the people of Rollot recently presented him a home and an office.

About 105,000 Americans were born on February 29.

Hazards Greater in Winter Time for Motorists

DENVER (INS) — With winter and its added driving hazards at hand, the Rocky Mountain AAA Club comes up with motoring hints often overlooked by harried drivers.

The AAA warns that the car battery can also freeze—especially a weak or nearly discharged battery. A fully charged battery, however, can withstand temperatures as low as 80 degrees below zero.

A large portion of winter accidents are rear-end collisions. These can be prevented by keeping a safe distance behind the car ahead. As a rule of thumb, stay at least one car length back for every ten miles of your speedometer. Give yourself more leeway on snowy and slick streets.

Brakes are also important for winter driving, and they should be relined after every three or four adjustments.

The sudden use of brakes on icy surfaces often does more harm than good. Give yourself plenty of room between your car and any possible danger. Then if you stop, slip the motor into a lower gear and slow down gradually.

Momma's Washed Up After Junior's Efforts

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP) — Little Mike Francis wanted to help his mother with the washing so he got a bucket of water—and splashed it over some clothes.

There was only one hitch. His mother, Mrs. Pat Francis, had just finished ironing the clothes and had them ready to put away.

It Pays to Advertise —Even in Moscow

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The operator of a Milwaukee household retail chain has received a $300 order from Moscow, Russia.

Charles Lubotsky said the order, for 10 sets of unbreakable plastic dishes, was signed by M.Sgt W. B. Anderson for the American House, connected with the American Embassy in Moscow.

Wheat Futures Push Upward

CHICAGO (AP) — More emphasis upon the drought in the Southwest created a demand for new crop wheat futures on the board of trade today.

These futures pushed ahead for fractional gains. They were alone in showing strength. Other grain deliveries eased at the opening, recovering later to around previous levels. Activity picked up slightly from the recent very slow pace.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ lower to ¾ higher, March $2.40⅝, corn unchanged to ¼ lower, March $1.35⅛, oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, March 77⅞, rye ¼ to ¾ lower, March $1.48, soybeans unchanged to ½ lower, January $2.47⅝, and lard unchanged to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $14.45.

Buying in new crop wheat followed an overnight report by the agriculture department saying drought conditions in many sections of the southwest were the worst in history. President Eisenhower is expected to tour this territory next month.

City Baby, 7 Months, Suffocates in Crib

A 7-month-old baby, found suffocated in her crib by a baby-sitter last night, failed to respond after treatment by a Pontiac Fire Department inhalator crew on the way to Pontiac General Hospital.

Insp. Clark M. Wheaton, Chief of Pontiac detectives, said a virus infection or pneumonia had complicated the death of little Kamonical G. Crawford, 367 Howard McNeil St., according to Dr. Harry L. Riggs, who acted as coroner.

The baby-sitter, Sarah Turner, 17, of the same address said she went to the child's crib about 11 p.m. and discovered the baby's head was wedged between the end board and the mattress, cutting off her breath.

The mother, Mrs. Loria Crawford, was at work, Wheaton said. She said she was separated from her husband. The baby was her only child.

Twins Again? Regular Event for Ohio Family

AKRON, Ohio (INS)—The birth of twins is becoming a routine occurrence in the Lawrence Edwards family of Akron, Ohio.

Edwards' 39-year-old wife, Adabelle, gave birth to her third set of twins yesterday at Akron General Hospital. The newborn, a girl weighing five pounds, 15 ounces, and a boy weighing five pounds, nine ounces, were the 11th and 12th children of the Edwards family. Ten of the children are living.

Mrs. Edwards gave birth to her first set of twins, a boy and girl, in 1950. The second pair came two and a half years ago. One was a boy, who died, and the other a girl, Beverly Ann.

Another child, a baby girl, died several years ago, but the Edwards have five other children—Loretta, 18; Larry, 15; Donald, 13; David, 10, and Glenn, 4.

Edwards said twins are "scattered all over the family tree," and pointed out that he has a twin brother and his wife has a twin sister.

Predict Million and Half at Roses Tournament

PASADENA, CALIF. (AP)—Pasadena Police Chief Clarence Morris estimates that about a half million cars carrying 1½ million people will swarm into Pasadena Tuesday for the Tournament of Roses Parade and Rose Bowl football game.

The 68th annual parade will include 63 flower-decked floats, 20 bands and about 200 horseback riders, in addition to banner carriers and three rose-covered cars carrying Grand Marshal Eddie Rickenbacker and other parade officials.

Market Moves Slightly Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved slightly higher in the early afternoon today.

Gains of fractions to a point were scattered through most major divisions. There also were numerous fractional losses in the list.

Wall Street observers said the market was making a try at a traditional yearend advance but pointed out this move was curtailed by yearend transactions for income tax purposes.

Also higher were Bethlehem Steel, Douglas Aircraft, American Anaconda declined more than a point. Small losers included Ford, Chrysler, United Aircraft, Kennecott, Baltimore & Ohio and Sinclair.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon rose 20 cents to $180.90, with industrials up 20 cents, rails up 50 cents and utilities unchanged. The average went ahead 50 cents yesterday.

Assaulted With Knife, Won't Sign Complaint

Pontiac police said Harriett J. Glenn, 23, of 32 Clovese St. refused at Pontiac General Hospital last night to sign a complaint charging her sister, whom she would not name, with assaulting her with a knife.

Mrs. Glenn was treated for cuts on her left hand, which police say were inflicted during a quarrel at 25 Bagley St.

Mrs. Glenn would not disclose what the argument was about, Detectives Robert Emery and Orville Johnston said.

Report New Instrument to Measure Millionths

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. — An ultra-precision measuring instrument developed through research supported by a West Hartford company is being demonstrated.

COMMEMORATIVE POSTCARD — Israeli postal officials have issued this postcard bearing cancellation marks dated from 1896 to 1956 to celebrate the reopening of the post office in Gaza, the seaport occupied by Israeli troops last October. The card will be a collector's item since no special stamp has been issued.

Homes Found for Pups, Kittens at Animal Shelter

All the puppies, several more of the orphaned dogs and "an awful lot of the kittens," housed at the Oakland County Animal Shelter, 1200 E. Walton Blvd., found homes for Christmas, Dr. Frank R. Bates, director, said today.

* * *

Dr. Bates gave credit to a Pontiac Press article which encouraged parents to give pets from the shelter for Christmas.

* * *

Most requested dog was the sad-eyed basset hound which the story mentioned that Press police reporter Harvey Zuckerberg had purchased.

* * *

"We could have sold 50 bassets," Dr. Bates said.

Adventurer to Show Color Travel Film

The fourth of a series of six travel and adventure programs will appear at 8 p.m., Jan. 8 at the Isaac E. Crary Junior high school.

* * *

Robert Davis will return to Waterford Township for his second appearance and will show his new adventure film, "The Canary Islands." Tickets will be on sale at the door, according to Tom Belton, Waterford Township recreation director.

* * *

Davis' twenty years of experience in motion pictures have brought fourth adventure-packed travelogs, short subjects for television and educational use, and the production of commercial films.

"The Canary Islands" is in color with hi-fidelity musical background.

Governor's Yule Cards Depict New 'Mansion'

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Christmas cards sent by Gov. William C. Marland this year showed a drawing of the executive mansion on the front cover. Inside was a drawing of his own two-story home in Charleston.

"At home after Jan. 14, 301 McKinley Ave., Fort Hill, Charleston, W. Va."

* * *

Under state law, Marland cannot succeed himself. The Democratic governor also tried for a U.S. Senate seat last month — and a Washington address — but lost to Republican Chapman Revercomb.

Car Rolls Into Creek; Two Youths Injured

A Drayton Plains youth was hospitalized and his companion received minor injuries when their car went off the road and rolled over into a creek on M15, north of Clarkston, Wednesday afternoon.

Roger Bennett, 17, of 3426 Signet St., driver of the vehicle, is in good condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with cuts of the face and left hand and a possible back injury. Anita Haddrill, 15, of 7600 Pine Knobb Dr., Clarkston, was released after treatment for cuts of the wrist.

Bennett told investigators he lost control of his car when a vehicle he was passing started to pull out forcing him off the highway.

Traffic Charges Add Up to 140-Day Jail Term

Two traffic violations resulted in Oakland County Jail sentences totaling 140 days for a Farmington man Wednesday.

Stanley Hoholek, 26, of 33200 Shiawassee Rd., pleaded guilty to failure to stop for a property damage accident and reckless driving at an arraignment before Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle.

Two Boys Suspected of Stealing Dog, Articles

Two boys, unidentified but evidently dog lovers, are suspected of breaking into a Pontiac Township home last night to steal a Dalmatian dog, two dog leashes and two pairs of riding boots, Sheriff's Det. Jack Davis said.

Donalson Thorburn, of 2074 Brown Rd. said the missing articles were worth about $160.

'56 Production Down for All Makes of Cars

DETROIT (AP)—Auto production in the U. S. plants will total an estimated 5,802,247 units, 27 per cent below the record 7,947,787 of 1955, automotive News said today.

* * *

The trade paper said this week's car output will total 100,225 against last week's 165,234. It estimated truck production at 14,960 units this week compared with 22,715 last week.

The trade paper said General Motors production is 23.3 per cent off from 1955 Ford down 25.5 per cent and Chrysler 36 per cent. American Motors is 37.8 per cent below 1955 and Studebaker-Packard, 47.3.

Canadian vehicle output this week is estimated at 7,645 units, compared with 12,089 last week. Car-truck operations for the year in Canada are estimated at 474,853, compared with 452,601 last year.

Police Told to Curb Auto Deaths in State

LANSING (AP) — State officials were ordered to come up with a "drastic program" today to keep the highway death toll on new year's below the Christmas traffic toll of 34.

* * *

Gov. Williams told state police commissioner Joseph A. Childs and Secretary of State James M. Hare to develop a "new and more drastic program for traffic control."

Williams would not say what this might be. State police strength is at an all-time high and national guardsmen were used on traffic duty over the weekend.

* * *

"Whatever it takes to reduce this slaughter, we will do," Williams said.

'See Mom's Funeral,' Official Tells Escapee

JACKSON (AP) — Prison officials relented today to let Donald F. Wolfe attend his mother's funeral despite his escape in a futile effort to see her before she died.

The 25-year-old former trusty walked away from a Southern Michigan Prison Farm last week when he learned his mother, Mrs. Katherine Wolfe, 58, was critically ill in Los Angeles. She died before he could reach her and Wolfe gave himself up to St. Louis, Mo. police.

Prison officials first said he would not be allowed to attend the funeral because of his escape. Gus Harrison, Michigan Director of Corrections, countermanded the order, however, and said Wolfe would be granted permission.

Funeral services will be held Saturday in Battle Creek, Mich.

Struck by Automobile, Eight-Year-Old Injured

Eight-year-old James Jones, of 519 Montana St., suffered only cuts and bruises when he was struck by a car near his home Thursday. He was treated and released at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Car Blacks Out Area; Driver Bruises Hand

Mitchell told police he was blinded by oncoming headlights while driving along Sausalito's outskirts las night and his 1936 car left the road. It sheared off a power pole, blacking out the area for an hour, and was demolished.

Pontiac Driver Gets 15-Day Jail Sentence

Pleading guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge resulting from an auto accident Christmas Eve, Jouis J. Detmer Jr., 35, of 188 Raeburn St. was jailed 15 days yesterday when he failed to pay a $75 fine imposed by Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Detmer struck a parked car on Perkins St., police alleged. He was treated for head cuts at Pontiac General Hospital.

NOTICE

A petition having been received by the White Lake Township Board bearing the required number of signatures asking for the improvement of Cooley Beach Drive located in section 36 of White Lake Township, pursuant to Act No. 188 of the Public Acts of 1954 as amended, notice is hereby given that the Town Board of White Lake Township will meet at the town hall located 7525 Highland Rd. on January 3, 1957 at 8 p.m. to hear any interested person having objections to the petition, to the improvement and to the special assessment district therefore.

BERT McKEACHIE
Township Clerk
Dec. 19 & 27

STATE OF MICHIGAN

Before the Honorable Verne C. Hampton, Circuit Court Commissioner for the County of Oakland.

In the matter of the petition of School District No. 2, fractional, of the Townships of Bloomfield, Troy and West Bloomfield, and the City of Bloomfield Hills, Oakland County Michigan, a Michigan School District, to take by condemnation for the use and benefit of said School District private property described as follows:

Part of the E. ½ of the S. E. ¼ of Section 20, T. 2 N., R. 10 E., Bloomfield Township, Oakland County, Michigan, described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the S. line of Section 20, distant N. 88° 29' 10" W., 251.50 feet from the S. E. corner of Section 20, thence from this point of beginning, N. 88° 29' 10" W., 1066.33 feet along the S. line of said Section; thence N. 4° 15' 05" E., 720.81 feet; thence S. 88° 29' 10" E., 1298.78 feet to the E. line of Section 20; thence S. 1° 08' 44" W. 410.01 feet along the E. line of said Section; thence N. 88° 29' 10" W. 251.50 feet; thence S. 1° 08' 44" W. 310.90 feet to the point of beginning.

No. 1

Notice of Filing Condemnation Petition

Notice is hereby given that School District No. 2, fractional, of the Townships of Bloomfield, Troy and West Bloomfield, and the City of Bloomfield Hills, Oakland County, Michigan by its President Merrill O. Bates, has on the 18th day of December, A.D. 1956 filed its petition in the above Court for condemnation; for the use and benefit of the public, for public improvement and for a public purpose within the scope of its powers, of the following described real property:

"Part of the E. ½ of the S. E. ¼ of Section 20, T. 2 N. R. 10 E., Bloomfield Township, Oakland County, Michigan, described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the S. line of Section 20, distant N. 88° 29' 10" W., 251.50 feet from the S. E. corner of Section 20; thence from this point of beginning, N. 88° 29' 10" W., 1066.33 feet along the S. line of said Section; thence N. 4° 15' 05" E., 720.81 feet; thence S. 88° 29' 10" E., 1298.78 feet to the E. line of Section 20; thence S. 1° 08' 44" W. 410.01 feet along the E. line of said Section; thence N. 88° 29' 10" W. 251.50 feet; thence S. 1° 08' 44" W. 310.90 feet to the point of beginning.

Containing 20.000 acres and subject to the rights of the public along Quarton Road.

Said petition is filed as commencement of proceedings under Act No. 269 of the Public Acts of Michigan of 1955, as amended, to take the above described real property by condemnation for the use and benefit of the public for an elementary school site, and to summon and empanel a jury to ascertain the necessity thereof and determine the just compensation to be made therefor.

Take further notice that a summons has been issued, directed to the sheriff or any constable of the County commanding him to summon eighteen (18) freeholders residing in the vicinity of such site to appear before the Honorable Verne C. Hampton, Circuit Court Commissioner, at Probate Court, Oakland County Bldg., on the 29th day of January 1957, at 1:30 o'clock, p.m., as a jury to ascertain and determine the just compensation to be made for the above mentioned real estate required by said School District for an elementary school site, and the necessity for using the same.

DOUGLAS L. JOCELYN,
Secretary of the Board of Education of School District No. 2, Fractional, of the Townships of Bloomfield, Troy and West Bloomfield, and the City of Bloomfield Hills, Oakland County, Michigan.

Julie London to Get Program

New Panel-Type Quiz Proves to Be Bright, Brisk and Amusing

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—"Monitor" will do "The Ted Husing Story" Sunday, Jan. 6, with Dave Garroway as narrator.

Fasten your seat belts, kids—Julie London gets her own TV show shortly.

"To tell the Truth," CBS-TV's new quizcast, is a sleeper, turning out to be a bright, brisk, amusing guessing game. . . Emcee Bud Collyer proves he can be charming and human when quiz bosses don't demand that he shriek and scream excessive geniality.

Panelists Polly Bergen, John Cameron Swayze, Hildy Parks and Dick Van Dyke all seem to have played the game plenty in practice sessions and it looks like another successful question bee.

Tom Lockard quits "The Mariners" to go solo. Gabe Meinhardt took Tom's place with the all-fired Godfrey four.

VACATION FOR BILKO

The appearances of Dr. Francis Salvatore on "The $64,000 Question" not only won him his first TV $32,000—plus his $64,000 Challenge" defense currently—but also the Hal Marches (Candy Toxton Torme) hired the New Jersey obstetrician to emcee the arrival of their expected child. . . (Oh, charge Hal $64,000, doc.)

Groucho thinks he'll take Larry Spivak's offer to guest on "Meet the Press." "The money is fabulous," Groucho told us. "None."

Where's Frank Parker?

If oldtimers wonder what ever happened to Gus Haenschen (of the lovely old radio "Showboat" hour, with Annette Henshaw, Lanny Ross, Charles Winninger), he conducted the band for the auto show at the Colosseum.

Egad, but for the fact George Bernard Shaw is dead, we'd swear he's writing the dialogue for Les Paul and Mary Ford's five-minute musicales (all TV is agog, trying to figure out who's the literary genius on this prose-aching prosaic prattle).

Gen. Sarnoff, chairman of RCA states: "You will no more buy a black and white TV set in preference to a color TV set five years from now than you would prefer silent movies to Cinema-Scope.

NBC was offered TV rights to "New Faces" for $30,000; NBC's reply: "Not for one dollar."

The Tax Roll Balances, Whatever the Costs

HENRYETTA, Okla. (AP) — It was more trouble than it was worth, and more expensive. But taxes are taxes, and have to be paid.

Harley Millsap received a 2-cent tax assessment from the Okmulgee County tax assessor. The bill came in a letter with a 3-cent stamp. Millsap made out a check (which costs several cents) for 2 cents, and mailed it back in a letter — with a 3-cent stamp.

Facts on Spirits Tax

WASHINGTON—Taxes and import duties on distilled spirits collected by the Federal Government during 1955 amounted to $2,006,156,000, an increase of 4.1 per cent over the 1954 total.

Navy to Receive Two Gold Shells for Earth 'Moon'

DETROIT (AP) — The shells of two gold-plated earth satellites—the first of their kind—will be turned over to the Navy by a Detroit firm Friday.

* * *

Both are the type that will be fired into space some time next year as part of United States experimentation during the International Geophysical Year.

The 20-inch, 21-pound satellite shells are the first to be built by Brooks & Perkins, Inc., in finished form. E. Howard Perkins, board chairman, said two others were turned over to the Navy earlier, but neither had the 24-carat gold plate needed for "reflectivity."

* * *

Perkins said it is uncertain "whether either, or both, or neither" will be used for the first flight, which will take place at Patrick Air Force Base, Cocoa, Fla.

Very Thin Plastic

FARMINGDALE, N. Y. — Researchers for a company here that makes jet planes are cutting production costs with a plastic film layer no more than .005 inch thick that keeps plastic resins from sticking to the pattern during the casting or laminating of plastic tools.

Dionne Quint Quits Business

Flower Shop Closed by Marie Lost Money During 7 Months

MONTREAL (AP)—Maria Dionne has closed her flower shop, the first personal business venture of any of the famous quintuplets.

* * *

Unconfirmed reports said the shop lost $25,000 during its seven-month operation. Neighbors said it attracted large numbers of tourists, but apparently Marie and not flowers was their object.

* * *

Marie's assistant Ellen Bourget said Miss Dionne had closed the business because of personal reasons. She added it was not a matter of Marie's health, which has been delicate.

Miss Bourget reported Marie now would occupy herself keeping house for her sisters in the quints' apartment. The four girls on their 21st birthdays in 1955 came into possession of about a million dollars accumulated during their childhood.

* * *

Marie lives in the apartment with a girl friend, Yvonne and Cecille stay there on holidays from the suburban hospital where they are student nurses. The fourth surviving quint, Annette, is studying music at Nicolet, 150 miles east of Montreal. Emilie, the fifth sister, died in 1954.

Coffee drinkers in Louisiana and Mississippi drink two to three times as much coffee per day as the average for the rest of the United States.

Lake Superior 9,000 Years Old

Radio-Carbon Test Is Latest Tool Developed to Estimate Age

NEW YORK (INS)—A University of Michigan archaeologist has supported beliefs that the Great Lakes began to form 12,000 or 13,000 years ago as the last great glacier receded northward, leaving Lake Superior about 9,000 years ago.

* * *

Prof. James B. Griffin told the annual convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science that he agrees with estimates of the age of the lakes, as determined by tests with radioactive carbon—the latest tool for fixing the age of prehistoric relics and bones.

* * *

"Some few radio-carbon dates don't fit, but most of those for the Great Lakes area do."

He pointed out that radio-carbon tests give the same dates for geological and archaeological events which are known to have happened at the same time in Michigan and the Rocky Mountains.

Radio-carbon tests operate on the principle that carbon particles present in all matter disintegrate at a constant rate. Age is determined by measuring the extent of this disintegration. Some scientists contend that the Great Lakes may be older than radio-carbon dates indicate because of recent organic materials in the soil which become a part of long-dead specimens.

Pleasure Cruises Over

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—The 21-ton "Vitalis," a 50-year-old pleasure cruiser, awaits good weather before leaving its Grand Haven berth for a Lake Michigan crossing to Milwaukee, where it is destined to become a work boat. The twin-engine, gasoline-powered craft was purchased by Capt. Max Nole, who has been engaged in salvage work at the Prince Wilhelm, a Dutch freighter wrecked off Milwaukee.

Screen Refugees for Possible Red Spies

By KENNETH GILMORE
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The Central Intelligence Agency is now helping U. S. authorities prevent Communists and Red secret police from slipping into the country with the great influx of Hungarian refugees.

This information comes from sources here in answer to reports that the large-scale refugee program is a target of Soviet agents.

* * *

The CIA, America's top secret intelligence arm overseas, is in close touch with agencies handling the entrance and processing of refugees, both here and abroad.

If necessary, the name of any Hungarian refugee seeking admittance can be checked against the CIA's master file of information on Communists in Eastern Europe.

This is just one of the security safeguards being applied by the federal government to cut short any Reds who might try and infiltrate Operation Safe Haven.

From Vienna and Camp Kilmer, N. J., recent reports have come out that secret police agents have attempted to join the ranks of the refugees to spy on them.

One congressman estimated privately that at least 1,000 Communists would be able to slip in among the 21,500 refugees due to land here.

"Sure some Communists will try tive is to get the refugees out of Austria and into the U. S. We can't run scared."

The main job of preventing Communists from sneaking into the U. S. falls to the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

"We beat the bushes to find the best men we had along the East coast," he says. "And if necessary, we'll send more."

These inspectors interview every refugee that comes through Kilmer. They're assisted by Hungarian-speaking U. S. Employment Service workers, and all the information goes into a personal history statement.

"After the routine questions, the inspector plays it by ear and asks the refugee a number of questions," says the Immigration official. But he will not reveal what kind of questions are asked because from past experience refugees pick them up and prepare answers.

In addition, all refugees are fingerprinted. This applies to any alien entering the country.

The 16,500 Hungarians scheduled to arrive as parolees are technically just visiting guests of the U. S. This means that they must report any change of address and keep in touch with Uncle Sam every January.

Congress is expected to pass legislation that will give refugees an opportunity to become citizens.

"We will also keep in touch with refugees as best we can," says the Service. "This is mainly for their own protection since it's likely they'll be pressured into returning to Hungary by Red agents or Soviet and satellite diplomats."

As to the security check in Austria, refugees with Communist connections must prove that they have defected.

The best way a refugee can do this is provide eye-witness or documentary proof that he or she fought against the Russians.

TV Versus Theater Topic for Discussion

CHICAGO (INS) — Television versus the traditional theater will be one of the topics discussed in Chicago at the joint convention of the Speech Association of America Theater Association which began today.

Albert McCleery, producer of NBC's "Matinee," will speak on "Television is the American People's Theater" during a panel discussion Saturday.

Some 2,000 delegates, including teachers of speech and drama in colleges, universities and secondary schools, speech training personnel from business and industry; students, and television, theater, and radio employes are attending the sessions.
