Tokyo Court Says American Bases Unlawful

Decision Could Wreck U.S. Defense Posture in Far East

TOKYO (AP)—A lower Japanese court ruled today that the presence of U.S. bases and troops in Japan is unconstitutional.

The decision, if upheld by higher courts, could wreck the U.S. defense setup in this strategic Far Eastern nation.

It also would bring into review all of the international commitments made by Japan since she regained independence in 1952.

The surprise verdict was made by the three-man Tokyo District Court in acquitting seven men indicted in 1957 after they broke into the U.S. Tachikawa Air Base outside Tokyo to protest its expansion.

The court, freeing them, said the presence of U.S. bases and personnel in Japan violated the famous "no-war" Article 9 of the Japanese constitution, which was largely written by the American occupation authorities after the war.

It also declared that Japanese citizens were discriminated against by special laws connected with the treaties giving the United States the right to station troops. It was under one of these laws, the special criminal code, that the defendants were indicted.

The Japanese government has 14 days to appeal.

The American Embassy said any comment from it on the actions and decisions of a Japanese court would be improper.

Any appeal will be filed first in the Higher Court, and that tribunal's decision can be appealed in turn to the Supreme Court.

RENOUNCES WAR
Japan's constitution renounced war forever as a means of national policy. But Gen. Douglas MacArthur, while U.S. supreme commander in Japan, directed that the constitution would be interpreted to mean that Japan could have military forces provided they were for defense purposes.

Parachute Puzzler Is Solved

A Holly Township man phoned the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Sunday morning with a report that for awhile held more mystery and intrigue than a flying saucer sighting.

Robert L. Tucker of 5481 Shields Rd. said there was a parachute in a tree in his backyard. Deputies found the parachute. It looked as if it had been used within the preceding 12 hours.

"Everything was alright, except that there were no footprints anywhere in the snow around the tree," said bewildered Deputy Robert Cannon.

The mystery was soon solved when deputies checked identification marks on the chute and located its owner, Donald O. Bird of 860 Scott Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

Bird said he was a freefaller—a jumper who falls most of the way before pulling the rip cord. "I went up in a friend's plane late Saturday afternoon planning to jump into a field owned by my brother, Basil Bird, who lives nearby."

Bird explained that he jumped too soon and missed his field. He got caught in the tree, swung over to the trunk, unbuckled the chute straps and climbed down.

"I didn't get the chute because it was too dark by then," he said. The footprints? Deputies figure it must have snowed just enough to cover them up late Saturday night.

Easter Observed the World Over

Christians Hail Resurrection

From Our News Wire
Christians rejoiced Sunday in celebration of the Resurrection of their Saviour and its promise of eternal life.

Easter services in huge cathedrals and humble country churches, on mountain tops and at ships at sea repeated the message which gives Christianity its meaning: "He is not here; for He is risen."

Cold weather cut attendance at outdoor services in the northeast and occasional rain damped the Easter parade in the southeast. Despite near freezing temperatures, an estimated 300,000 persons turned out to parade along New York's Fifth Avenue. The cold and a Good Friday snowstorm froze out the traditional floral display at Rockefeller Center.

At the other end of the country, clear, mild weather brought out a throng of about 20,000 persons at Easter services in California's Hollywood Bowl.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower attended church services at Gettysburg near their farm. Mrs. Eisenhower, like millions of other women sported new spring finery.

Overseas, Pope John XXIII, in the first Easter Mass of his pontificate, pleaded for peace. But he declared that "the good Christian does not yield and is wary of compromises."

Despite an all-day downpour, 100,000 persons were in St. Peter's Square for the pontiff's blessing. Among them were 65 contest-winning newsboys from 58 U.S. newspapers. Afterward, the boys presented an Easter egg to Italian movie queen Gina Lollobrigida.

In West Berlin, a record 100,000 tourists converged on the city 110 miles inside Communist East Germany.

Pilgrims of numerous denominations hailed the Resurrection in the Jordan-occupied old city of Jerusalem.

Coptic bishops held services at the far end of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, while Greek Orthodox and Armenian Christians conducted services in other parts of the building.

A five-day outlook for this area indicates temperatures will average about three degrees above the normal 50 high and 32 low. Little temperature change is predicted, with precipitation to total about one-half inch Tuesday and Wednesday.

Lutherans held sunrise services at the Garden Tomb outside the walls of Jerusalem and mid-morning services in the Church of the Redeemer.

Anglicans worshiped in St. George's Cathedral, and Protestants of other denominations met at the Garden Tomb for inter-denominational services.

Groggy Weather Is Area Prospect

Mostly cloudy with little temperature change tonight and tomorrow is the weather forecast for Pontiac and vicinity. Light showers are expected, with a low near 40 degrees.

Tomorrow's high will be 55. Winds will be from 10 to 20 miles per hour.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 35. At 1 p.m. the mercury reading was 44.

Two Plan Trip by Canoe From Oregon to Jersey

NUTLEY, N. J. (UPI)—Two young men from Nutley, who call themselves "young blades full of spirits," are off today by car for Oregon, their starting point in a planned 4,633 mile trip back here by canoe.

Alfred Welenofsky and Theodore Nothhaft say they think the journey in their canoe christened "Endurance" will be "a breeze." With all but 50 miles of it by water, they figure they can end their odyssey through seven states and Canada by Sept. 13.

Reds Propose Neutral Zone

Urge NATO, Warsaw Pacts Ink Agreement on Nonaggression

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union appealed again yesterday for a nonaggression pact between NATO and the Warsaw Pact nations and said it was ready to discuss the "disengagement" of Eastern and Western troops from Middle Europe.

The official Tass news agency issued the statement in connection with the Washington meeting Tuesday and Wednesday of the NATO foreign ministers and the 10th anniversary meeting of the NATO Council immediately afterward.

The statement said the Russians were ready to take part in "disengagement" discussions "or the establishment of a zone of limited contingents and armaments and inspection."

Such a freeze on troops was mentioned in the communique ending the talks between British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Much of the statement was designed to show the "aggressive essence of the North Atlantic Union's foreign policy line."

The Soviet statement summed up past Russian positions. The proposal for a non-aggression pact between NATO and its Soviet satellite equivalent is an old one. This one called for inclusion of articles in the NATO and Warsaw treaties precluding aid to an aggressor.

Claims Arms Chiefs Put U.S. Out on Limb

WASHINGTON — A House leader has accused U.S. military chiefs of leaving "the American people out on a limb" by not agreeing on many important arms matters.

Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex.), chairman of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, charged the Joint Chiefs of Staff "are not the advisory group the nation expects."

Mahon fired his strong criticism at the high command after hearing testimony that although they are agreed on broad strategic concepts, they have not agreed on the strength of forces needed to carry out their long range plans.

While criticizing the military leaders, Mahon made it clear no one should underestimate American military might.

"I think it is important," Mahon said, "for everybody to know that we have a terrific capability for launching an unstoppable counter-offensive if attacked. I do not want to make this country appear naked to its enemies. I know that we are not."

It was obvious the nation's military leaders have flatly ruled out a "me-too" policy of trying to match Russia missile-for-missile in the long-range rocket field.

The testimony released today made it crystal clear that defense officials believe it is unnecessary to have the same number of 5,000-mile intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBMs) as Russia does.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said Russia will be capable of pulling ahead of the United States in ICBM production next year.

However, they stressed their belief that U.S. forces will be strong enough to deter war at least through 1962 with a combination of air power, 1,500-mile rockets based in Europe, submarines armed with other weapons.

Included in testimony leading to Mahon's criticism was that of Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Army chief of staff, who said the joint chiefs never reached complete agreement on "force tabs" setting forth how many Army divisions, Navy ships and Air Force wings of various types will be required to execute strategic plans.

Would Break Reds' Back in 1959—Burke

Gen. Taylor Sees Too Much A-Power; More Strength in Sight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's military leaders have assured Congress the United States would be invincible this year in an all-out war — and they say more power is in sight.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, said bluntly that if the Soviet Union starts an all-out war "we would break her back."

In censored versions of the military leaders' testimony last January and February to the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, released today, Burke and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor said they think America already has too much atomic retaliatory power. Taylor is the army chief of staff.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, summed up the administration's cause for optimism.

Twining said a Soviet nuclear assault, if delivered today, would come almost entirely from manned aircraft. And the Soviet Union's air threat, he added, is "not half as big as ours and not nearly so effective."

Burke said that in an all-out war "we can destroy her (the Soviet Union) many times over with the weapons we now have in existence. There is no way that she can stop that. We would break her back."

Burke, whose Navy will pack a growing atomic wallop, said he thought the United States has "too much retaliatory power." He urged a bigger share of defense spending for small wars in which the U.S.S.R. might not be a direct participant.

Taylor said U.S. atomic retaliatory power is overwhelming. He said the nation has thousands of vehicles which could rain nuclear destruction on the Soviets, whereas, he added, the job could be done with hundreds.

AF CONFIDENT

The testimony shows the Air Force is confident it knows the location of major Soviet strategic targets. It also says it can deliver nuclear bombs by manned aircraft with accuracy measured in feet, compared to the miles expected from long range missiles.

The military leaders, bolstered by their civilian defense chiefs in testimony, backed up their confidence with many facts about American might and intelligence estimates of Soviet strength and intentions.

Straley to Testify at Hearing Tonight

Suspended Police Chief Herbert W. Straley will return to the witness stand for a third time tonight as the Civil Service Commission resumes its hearing on ouster charges against him.

Straley was suspended Feb. 9 by City Manager Walter K. Willman on charges of inefficiency and incompetence, insubordination, neglect of duty and failure to maintain good behavior.

The hearing will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the City Commission chambers. Commissioners plan to wind up the hearing, now in its seventh week, and reach a decision before April 6 when the city votes on repeal of civil service.

Rain Washes Out Easter Egg Roll at White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The traditional Easter egg roll on the White House lawn was canceled today because of rain.

A short time after 9 a. m., the scheduled starting hour, press secretary James C. Hagerty said it was being called off.

He said the White House had been in touch with the President and Mrs. Eisenhower at Gettysburg and they decided that would be best because of the downpour.

Too much chance of youngsters coming down with colds if they frolicked on the soggy south lawn, Hagerty said the President and his wife agreed.

Reveal Plans for MSUO Sewage System

The Oakland County Department of Public Works has undertaken a giant step towards the initial development of a Michigan State University Oakland community.

Plans for a small, $470,000 sewage collection-treatment system serving the university and potential residential areas around it were disclosed today by Harold K. Schone, acting director of the DPW.

The system should be ready in time for the school's opening this fall, said Schone, meaning that Pontiac no longer is being called upon to provide treatment for the new institution.

Financing will be on basis new to the county agency—cash, put up by the university and interested land developers. MSUO has already committed the rest, Schone said. More developers are expected to join in the project, and if they do, the cost per developer will be reduced, he said.

Working plans are being drawn up, Schone said, and should be ready for submission to the Board of Supervisors this spring.

Schone saw the new system as the initial step towards the development of the proposed Clinton River Sewage Disposal System, the mammoth project which the Board of Supervisors has already told the DPW to prepare for northeast Oakland County.

About five square miles will be served by the system, including potential residential areas north, east and west of the campus, mostly in Avon Township, but partially in Pontiac Township.

700 homes and a school population of 400-600 students, which is the expected enrollment this fall.

Leasing arrangements for the site of the $30,000 treatment plant have not been completed yet, said Schone. It will be located in the vicinity of Avon and Livernois roads.

The plant itself is planned as an all-steel affair, which would be 65-70 per cent salvageable if the system is integrated into the larger facilities proposed for the area, Schone said.

DPW TO OPERATE

The plant would be operated by the DPW for as many years as the system is in use, said Schone. DPW projects in the past have been financed through general obligation bonds backed by the county, but Schone said this scheme would take too long to arrange to get the plant built by this fall.

It was figured that developers would eventually get all or most of their money back by charging sewage connection charges to purchasers of the new homes that are planned for the area.

It was estimated the charges might range about $300 per home, $120 for collection and $180 for treatment.

If for some reason the DPW fails to install its own trickling filter system on the campus by fall, said George Karas, director of the university's physical plant.

Thus one of the objections leveled against Pontiac's plans to expand its own sewage treatment facilities has been removed, said City Manager Walter K. Willman.

"There are now virtually no plans to use the expanded facility" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

3 Rulings Due in Arson Trial

One Might Lengthen Thompson Case as It Enters Third Week

Genesee Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth will open up the third week of the Jack D. Thompson arson trial tomorrow by ruling on three motions presented Friday as Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke sought to close his case.

One of the three motions might cause O'Rourke to stretch his case longer than he anticipated.

Thompson's attorney, James E. Haggerty Sr., requested Judge Roth to have O'Rourke place on the stand for the purpose of cross-examination some eight witnesses O'Rourke had subpoenaed but later decided not to call.

Included are Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, who directed the Frank H. Klerdorf investigation last summer, Herman Klerdorf, Frank's uncle, and Leuan Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614.

Thompson is charged with arson of a eastside suburban Flint dry cleaning establishment, in which, police say, Klerdorf a fellow Teamsters business agent, received fatal burns.

Judge Roth will also rule on whether a fingerprint expert should be called back for further cross-examination, another of Haggerty's motions, and whether a statement tracing Thompson's activities before and after the Aug. 3 fire can be read to the jury of eleven women and three men.

Rioters Chase Police Until Help Arrives

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Repulsed by beer-bottle throwing rioters at an Easter dance yesterday, Royal Oak Township Police asked for help.

Some fifty police armed with riot guns, hand grenades and tear gas rushed to the Duke Roller Skating Rink at 8940 W. Eight Mile Rd. scene of the mayhem. They came from Oak Park, Ferndale, the Redford State Police post and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department to quell the celebrators.

When it was all over, one unidentified woman was given first aid for cuts and another woman arrested for selling a beer to a patrolman in violation of state liquor laws.

She was identified as Mrs. Geraldine Way, 23, of 2025 Cherry lawn St., Detroit, by township Police Capt. Samuel Whitfield.

The donkeybrook took place after skaters left.

But Easter Was Generally Nice

Soggy Skies Widespread

By United Press International

Rainfall, which held off long enough for completion of the Easter parade in most areas, brought soggy weather Monday to widespread areas of the East and Northwest.

A generally light rain which dampened parts of the Southeast Easter Sunday pushed northward overnight to cover a region ranging from Florida, Georgia and the Carolinas into the upper Ohio Valley and lower Michigan. Light, scattered snow occurred along the northern fringe of the moisture area.

In the Northwest, rainfall occurred along the Pacific Coast from northern California to Canada.

Although most of the rainfall amounts were light, Tampa, Fla., was doused by a 1.75-inch downpour in a six-hour period Sunday night. Other heavier amounts included one-half inch at Eureka, Calif., Brookings, Ore., and Astoria, Ore., and three-fourths of an inch at Newport, Ore.

Southerly winds in the East boosted readings as much as 15 to 20 degrees over the sub-freezing temperatures which greeted Easter worshippers Sunday.

In New York, the mercury dropped to the 20s early Sunday, freeing out the traditional flower show at Rockefeller Center.

Temperatures dipped to the freezing mark as far south as North Carolina Easter morning and to the wintry depths of 2 below zero at Oneonta, N.Y., and zero at Houlton, Maine.

Worshippers at the Cathedral of the Pines in Bingle, N.H., discarded spring finery in favor of ski outfits because of the cold.

By contrast, Buffalo, N.Y., Monday reported an early morning reading of 33 compared to a reading of 16 at the same time Sunday.

Flooding along the Peconica River in northern Illinois eased Monday after a break in a dike near McConnell, Ill., Sunday sent water swirling over farmland.

About 40 persons evacuated their homes, police said, and were sheltered in the national guard armory at nearby Freeport, Ill. Others took refuge in homes of friends and relatives.

Pontiac General Research Wins Award

'Balloon' to Explore Ocean Deep

One Might Lengthen Thompson Case as It Enters Third Week

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (U) — A weird-looking "water balloon" will begin a series of dives in about two weeks that eventually may take it into ocean depths man has never seen before.

The bathyscaphe Trieste, recently purchased by the Navy for $200,000 from designer Auguste Piccard, already has descended nearly 12,000 feet in the Mediterranean.

With changes now being made, it will be capable of diving into the Pacific's deepest trenches—almost seven miles below the surface.

The Trieste took two short dives off San Diego in December.

Observers said the bathyscaphe experiment is the Navy's first big move in developing deep-water submarines. Today's subs cannot operate much below 750 feet; yet 90 per cent of the ocean lies below that level.

Fire Destroys Plant at Ironwood Mine

IRONWOOD (U) — Fire destroyed the crusher plant of the Penokee Iron Mine today, forcing evacuation of 35 miners working about half a mile beneath the surface.

Damage was estimated at $100,000. Cause of the fire was not determined.

The flames were discovered about an hour after the night crew went to work at midnight.

Showers of sparks flew for a quarter-mile at the height of the blaze, which was brought under control by the Ironwood Fire Department in about an hour and a half.

Road Work Before Waterford Board

Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson is expected to present a special assessment district for blacktopping Marion and Lansdowne streets at tonight's Waterford Township Board meeting.

No other items have been scheduled on the agenda, according to Clerk James E. Seeterlin.

Dulles Flies to Florida for a Rest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flies to Florida today to recuperate from radiation treatments for cancer, and to ponder a decision on whether to remain in the cabinet.

The 71-year-old secretary will spend an indefinite period at the Hobe Sound residence of Undersecretary of State C. Douglas Dillon, about 30 miles from Palm Beach.

Dulles is expected to announce shortly after his return to Washington whether he will return to his post. President Eisenhower has said he will leave the decision up to Dulles.

Eisenhower wound up a restful five-day stay at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm today and prepared for a busy week during which he will deliver two major speeches.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower planned to return to Washington this afternoon.

Eisenhower will return to Gettysburg for an important foreign policy speech next Saturday at Gettysburg College. He will speak Thursday in Washington to the NATO Council.

Milford Couple Hurt as Car Crashes Tree

A Milford couple was taken to Pontiac General Hospital early this morning after their auto ran off Cooley Lake road near Union Lake road, in Union Lake Village, striking a tree.

Vernon L. Hitchcock, 41, of 8944 Lakeview St., was admitted with facial injuries and is reported in fair condition. His wife, Mary, 37, was treated and released.

Hitchcock told Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies that he was going west when the headlights of an oncoming car blinded him, causing him to lose control of his car.

The women were burned over an estimated 20 per cent of their bodies. Neighbors today reported that they are starting a fund for the survivors and their children.

The Fogus couple have two boys and the LaBarges have four daughters and a son.

Three Blast Victims Remain Hospitalized

Three victims of an explosion and fire which killed a Troy man Friday night remained in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today with burns suffered in the blaze.

Ralph LaBarge, 31, of 6735 Montclair St., Troy, is still critical, the hospital reported today. His wife, Yvonne, 27, has improved and is in fair condition. Mrs. Fluvanna Fogus, 20, of 6910 Montclair St., whose husband, Harry, 25, was killed in the blast, was reported "still critical, but showing improvement."

The explosion took place at the Fogus residence when a small oil burning torch broke, spraying the couples with oil and igniting. LaBarge suffered first, second and third degree burns over "100 per cent of his body," according to Dr. Charles L. Bowers, who treated him in emergency.

Mars May Have Life of Sort

Theory Says 'Canals' Are Irrigation Ditches of Intelligent Beings

WASHINGTON — Scientists generally rule out the possibility that Mars could have animal life comparable to that on earth because of the near absence of oxygen. However, it is possible that some exotic form of animal life may have developed.

Life on Mars has long been a subject for speculation. The planet has dusky greenish and brownish surface areas that undergo seasonal changes in color and outline, suggesting vegetation although other theories have been offered.

Like the Earth, Mars has polar icecaps that shrink in summer and spread in winter. It also has a reddish belt that may be a counterpart to the terrestrial desert belt from the Sahara to the Gobi. Martian temperatures are not very different from the Earth's, although the shift from midday to night is dramatic.

Few features of Mars have attracted more attention than the faint lines reported by an Italian astronomer in 1877. Later Percival Lowell, founder of the Lowell Observatory, advanced the theory that the so-called "canals" are strips of vegetation along water-courses, and that the planet is being irrigated from melting icecaps by intelligent beings struggling to keep alive on a dying planet, says the National Geographic Society.

In an attempt to solve this and other Martian mysteries, Lowell Observatory and the National Geographic Society in 1954 sponsored a six-month expedition to Bloemfontein, South Africa, where observation is better than in the Northern Hemisphere.

Expedition leader E. C. Silliker's photographs confirmed the presence of the lines, one of which runs for 1,500 miles without a bend—half the distance across the United States.

Some scientists believe the canals may be fault lines along upheaved blocks of the planet's crust. Still others believe, as did Prof. Lowell, that they are of artificial design.

Area Man, Woman OK After Crash

Two area residents were pinned under an overturned vehicle for about 20 minutes Saturday night on M24 at Shimmons road, while Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies and a wrecker crew worked to free them.

When the auto was finally lifted, the couple emerged with only a few minor bruises.

Donald L. Reese, 24, who lives on the Pontiac State Hospital grounds, and his passenger, Bonnie B. English, 24, of 21 Monroe St., were taken to Pontiac General Hospital for a checkup, however, and later released.

Reese told deputies he was going south at about 45 miles an hour when a dog ran in front of his car. He swerved to miss it, lost control, careened into the center section of the two-lane highway and rolled over several times.

The boys' mother, Marjorie Rothstein of New York, accused Lang of kidnapping Francis Sunday in Manhattan. She had a contempt of court warrant sworn out against him in New York.

The warrant charged Lang with a court order giving temporary custody of the two boys to Mrs. Rothstein, who is living in New York with her second husband.

They came here after a brief stopover in Paris, where Lang said he intended to go back for Gerald in two weeks.

"I am Swiss and my children are Swiss," Lang said in Paris. "American justice had no reason and no right to counter the justice of my country. I did not kidnap Francis. I only took him back."

Generally, the outlook in the Senate was for favorable action on a mortgage bill despite opposition by the leadership of organized veterans.

Sen. Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair, GOP majority leader, and Sen. Lynn O. Francis of Midland, Republican floor leader, both said last week they saw no alternative and would back the governor's proposal.

Two other influential Republicans, Sens. Elmer R. Porter of Blissfield and Edward Hutchinson of Fennville, refused to commit themselves but indicated they likely would go along reluctantly.

Mortgaging Plan Expected to Pass

Senate Tackles Fund Use

LANSING (U) — Michigan's Senate will get down to brass tacks on veterans trust fund mortgaging when the Legislature comes in for its 12th week at 8 tonight.

Majority Republicans, with a 22 to 12 whip hand, will caucus tonight on the eve of committee consideration tomorrow of Gov. Williams' four bill package. Mortgaging already has been approved by the House.

A second major issue due for action this week is extension of temporary unemployment compensation benefits before the April 1 expiration date.

The GOP is pushing a multi-purpose bill that also would short circuit future application of the so-called Ford Supreme Court decision which awarded Michigan workers benefits for 1953 idleness tied in with a strike in Ohio.

If as many as one half of the Republicans line up in favor, Senate passage of the mortgaging plan will be a foregone conclusion. Most Democrats are certain to support the package.

If the GOP bloc backs away, it will mean new cliff-hanging episodes in the battle against payless paydays and threatened suspension of state welfare grants.

The best guess as to when disaster might overtake the state's general fund currently is about May 1 although state officials never have pinpointed an exact date.

Generally, the outlook in the Senate was for favorable action on a mortgage bill despite opposition by the leadership of organized veterans.

Sen. Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair, GOP majority leader, and Sen. Lynn O. Francis of Midland, Republican floor leader, both said last week they saw no alternative and would back the governor's proposal.

Two other influential Republicans, Sens. Elmer R. Porter of Blissfield and Edward Hutchinson of Fennville, refused to commit themselves but indicated they likely would go along reluctantly.

Wringing cash for the anemic state general fund out of the 50 million dollar trust fund has been before the Legislature since the governor's "state of the state" message on Jan. 15.

Williams long has insisted that a cure for the state's cash emergency was the first order of business.

Three Blast Victims Remain Hospitalized

Three victims of an explosion and fire which killed a Troy man Friday night remained in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today with burns suffered in the blaze.

Ralph LaBarge, 31, of 6735 Montclair St., Troy, is still critical, the hospital reported today. His wife, Yvonne, 27, has improved and is in fair condition. Mrs. Fluvanna Fogus, 20, of 6910 Montclair St., whose husband, Harry, 25, was killed in the blast, was reported "still critical, but showing improvement."

The explosion took place at the Fogus residence when a small oil burning torch broke, spraying the couples with oil and igniting. LaBarge suffered first, second and third degree burns over "100 per cent of his body," according to Dr. Charles L. Bowers, who treated him in emergency.

College President Dies

STEBENVILLE, Ohio (U) — The Rev. Daniel W. Egan, 53, president of Steubenville College, succumbed early today in the bedroom of his monastery residence adjoining the college's north campus.

His experiments on rabbits tended to show:

1. By rapid-thawing of the affected area, a greater amount of tissue is salvable than by slow-thawing.

2. The use of anti-coagulants to prevent blood clotting helps save tissue, too.

3. So do drugs that prevent blood vessels from constricting, cutting off flow of blood to the affected area.

Dr. Packard's research centered on the idea that circulation of the blood has a lot to do with curbing the ill-effects of frostbite.

Commission to Get Plan for Surfacing 10 Streets

BIRMINGHAM — City Engineer Grover R. Serenbetz will present the first phase of his 1959 asphalt surfacing program at tonight's City Commission meeting.

The cost for 10 streets is estimated at $56,400, Serenbetz said. Included in the street project are portions of Bates, Brownell, Daines, Forest, George, Hazel and Townsend streets, Bloomfield court, Eton road and Lincoln avenue.

The Bates street resurfacing is to be in two sections—Lincoln avenue north to Brown street and Maple avenue north to Wilson street. It will cost an estimated $19,000, said Serenbetz.

Two repaving and widening projects under consideration are Eton road from Webster avenue north to Yosemite street and Lincoln avenue from Pierce street west to Southfield road. Serenbetz estimated the cost on these at $13,200 and $28,000 respectively.

Commissioners also will review the guest fee recommendation made by City Forester Charles W. Gale for the Springdale Golf Course. He suggests an increase bringing guest fees to $2.50 for nine holes on weekends and holidays. An additional nine holes cost another dollar.

Daily membership cards for Birmingham residents are $1. No change is recommended. Season memberships for individuals would remain at $35 with family memberships at $45.

Fe increases are sought as a possible means of curtailing play during peak periods, said Gale.

"During the past two years, play has increased sharply with nearly 31,000 rounds registered last season. About 43 per cent of that total was played by guests," the forester claimed.

About 630 youngsters from 3 to 11 years old slipped and slid over a wet Springdale Park Saturday afternoon in the annual Easter Egg Hunt.

Junior Chamber of Commerce members joined the City Recreation Department in sponsoring and managing the event which drew about as many spectators as participants.

Marshall R. Reed, bishop of the Methodist Churches of Michigan, will speak on "I Wish I Were a Layman" at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow when the Methodist Men's Club has its regular monthly dinner meeting.

The Supper Club of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold its monthly meeting at 6:45 p.m. Friday at the church.

Miss Jessie Orr of the Chrysler Corp. Photographic Department will speak and show colored slides on her recent trip to Hawaii.

From Obscurity to Number One Man, Is Story of Nikita Khrushchev

(He is in the news almost every day, but he is almost a man nobody knows—Nikita Khrushchev, the man the West must deal with in any summe seasons. What makes him run? How did he get where he is? How smart is he? These are some of the questions William L. Ryan, long a close student of the Soviet Union, takes up in the first of five informative articles.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
Long before anyone dreamed of Nikita Khrushchev as a future czar, a Western diplomat sized him up shrewdly as "that brilliant bonhead."

The man can bluster and guffaw his way with a terrifying air of carelessness toward the edge of global disaster. But he is no genius. His career has been dotted with bonhead plays.

In a meeting at the summit, nonetheless, Western statesmen would face a formidable antagonist, a dynamic bundle of reckless energy and dazzling paradoxes, far less predictable, potentially far more dangerous than the mighty Stalin.

One of his success secrets seems to be an astonishing knack for blaming his own mistakes on others—and getting away with it. Another has been an Olympian scorn of weakness and what he would regard as bourgeois morality.

Khrushchev knows only one truth. In a sense he is a missionary. He has referred piously to his "Communist faith." In propagating this faith, he has shown himself a true disciple of Lenin.

World Communism as developed under Soviet control has one basic aim: to impose its political philosophy on the whole world. To accomplish this, any subterfuge, any lie, any deceit, any tactic is justified in Communist eyes.

POLITICAL SPUTNIK

The Khrushchev era in the U.S.S.R. is now about five years old. In that brief historical period the 5 foot 5, 220 lb., former coal miner has zoomed like a political Sputnik to the top of the Soviet heap.

Perhaps he went too far too fast. He is not yet the sole inheritor of Stalin's awesome power. Those who stood in the way of his climb have been silenced, but not eliminated. His victories have been dazzling, but their foundation is flimsy.

He was born in a hovel in Kalinovka, in Kursk province, not far from the Ukraine, April 17, 1894. His father, Sergei, may have owned a small plot of land around the mud and reed hovel and thus have been a "kulak"—a landowning peasant. But his chief trade was that of coal miner, Nikita's grandfather had been a serf, one of the agricultural slaves freed by czar Alexander in 1861.

Nikita at 17 was working as a locksmith in a factory at Kharkov in the Ukraine. From there he traveled to the Dnepet Basin to work, like his father, in the coal mines. He was there, a young man of 23, when the Russian revolution burst out.

Khrushchev took no active part in the revolution against the czar. But in 1918, when the Bolsheviks were striking for power, he joined the party and served in the First Proletarian Regiment in the Donets Basin during the first party of the bloody civil war.

SCHOOL AT 27

After the war, Khrushchev worked for a while in an iron mine and for the first time, at 27, got a chance to go to school. He studied at a rabfak or workers' faculty for three years in Kharkov, and went from there to party jobs in Stalino and Kiev. Then came his first big break.

Khrushchev's party work came to the notice of Lazar Molevich Kaganovich, the dreaded "iron commissar," then first party secretary in the Ukraine. Kaganovich had Khrushchev sent to Moscow's Industrial Academy in 1929 for further studies.

A quarter century later Khrushchev would repay his benefactor by bouncing him out of the post-Stalin hierarchy, labeled an enemy of the party.

But in 1934 Khrushchev was just a Kaganovich man, and his boss got him finally on the powerful central committee. He now had a firm grasp on the first rung of his ladder to power.

For Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev, life began at 40.

State Develops Antibiotic of Great Aid in Curing VD

LANSING (AP)—Two venereal disease experts say an antibiotic developed by the State Health Department holds great promise as a cure for syphilis and gonorrhea. It's called penicillin B.

Dr. Arthur C. Curtis of the University of Michigan and Dr. Benjamin Schwimmer of the Detroit Social Hygiene Clinic told a statewide conference on disease control the antibiotic works well in treating VD patients sensitive to penicillin.

Dr. Curtis said penicillin probably will continue its role as the chief medical weapon against syphilis for some time. But, he said more and more people are reacting to penicillin because of sensitivity developed from previous shots. For these, he said, synnematin B is a boon.

Field trials have shown it also effective against typhoid fever.

In a related talk, Dr. John A. Cowan of Lansing reported more cases of venereal disease in Michigan than any other major communicable disease.

Last year, he said, 13,087 cases were reported to the State Health Department.

Dr. Cowan, director of the department's Division of Tuberculosis and Adult Health, said there probably are five to 10 times as many cases of gonorrhea as the department learns about.

He estimated there are 58,000 Michigan residents in need of treatment for syphilis who aren't receiving it, many because they are unaware of an infection.

"If these 58,000 aren't treated," he said, "about 7,000 eventually will develop disabling illness and 1,200 will become mental cases."

To Instruct Jury in Teel Murder

All-Male Panel Finally Arrived at After Two Weeks of Deliberation

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—An all-male jury will get instructions from Judge Thomas J. Faulconer today in the first degree murder trial of Minnie B. (Connie) Nicholas.

The judge will instruct the jury after two alternate jurors are sworn in. This will be followed by opening statements from the defense and prosecution, provided objections to Judge Faulconer's instructions are not filed.

Such objections, which have been indicated, could cause further delay in trial. It took two weeks to impanel the jury.

Mrs. Nicholas, 44, is charged with the fatal shooting last July 31 of Forrest Teel, 54, a wealthy drug executive.

She maintains the gun fired accidentally during an argument, the prosecution charges she fired it deliberately because Teel, who was married and the father of an adopted son, spurned her for a younger woman.

Oak Park Seeks School Revenue

$1.9 Million Bond Issue, Millage Increase on June 8 Ballot

OAK PARK — The Board of Education here has decided to seek both a $1,900,000 bond issue and additional operating millage in the June 8 school election.

The bond issue which would be in effect for the next 29 years would finance a 100,000-square foot addition to the Clinton Elementary School, providing the district's first junior high school.

The amount of millage to be sought has not yet been determined. The three mill school tax this year and the board is waiting for further budget figures before deciding to seek renewal of the full three mills or perhaps less.

School Superintendent James N. Pepper estimates the bond issue if approved would cost the average homeowner about an additional $4.48 a year whose house has an assessed evaluation of $4,000.

Present plans call for the construction of 22 academic classrooms, three science rooms, three art rooms, three home-making rooms, three shop rooms, library, chorus-band room, four counseling rooms, administrative offices and a cafeteria to seat 500.

When the school is completed it will hold 1,200 students. Completion would be planned for the fall of 1960.

Macomb Child Struck by Car

Madison Heights Man, Hit Crossing John R Rd., Was Father of 4

A four-year-old boy and a father of four children were weekend traffic victims in the Oakland County area.

James W. Neblock, 4, died shortly after darting into the side of a car about 100 yards from his Macomb Township home Saturday afternoon, Romeo State Police reported today.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neblock, of 55670 Romeo Plank Rd., he was pronounced dead in Detroit Osteopathic Hospital where he was transferred for brain surgery from Mount Clemens General Hospital after the accident.

With the death of Carl Fletcher, 39, of 42500 Dequindre St., Utica, Madison Heights recorded its first traffic fatality in nine years.

He was struck by a car while walking on John R. street, Easter night and died three hours later, at 1 a. m. this morning in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Vincent R. Moeller, 37, of 2630 Culbertson St., Rochester, driver of the death car is being held by Madison Heights Police for investigation of negligent homicide. He was to make his statement before Assistant Prosecutor William Lang later today.

Moeller told officers he did not see Fletcher who was wearing dark clothes. Police say it was raining and slightly foggy at the time.

Moeller is married and the father of three children.

Officer Thomas Linzelle and Frank Good were driving directly behind Moeller when the accident occurred. They said he was going 35 m.p.h. in a 45 m.p.h. zone when Moeller suddenly swerved into the oncoming traffic (southbound) evidently trying to avoid hitting Fletcher. But the man was struck by the right front fender of Moeller's car.

The officers said they didn't see the pedestrian either.

Police Chief Robert E. Richardson said that Fletcher had been drinking "heavily" at a local bar where he was put out, twice before trudging off down the road to his death.

Moeller admitted having a couple of drinks earlier in the evening. Richardson said, but apparently was not intoxicated when the accident happened, according to Officers Linzelle and Good.

Moeller was on his way home after visiting with his mother-in-law in Ontario. He had his wife and three children with him in the car.

Romeo State Police said the Neblock boy suddenly darted onto the road into the path of a car driven by Raymond E. Kregar, 33, of 56090 Fairchild St., New Haven.

Kregar, who has four children of his own, told police he saw the child playing on the shoulder of the road and slowed down but was unable to get out of the boy's way when he dashed out onto the pavement. Kregar was not held.

The boy suffered multiple skull fractures, compound fracture of the left leg and internal injuries, police said.

MSU Dean Cites Agriculture Losses

Cash Crisis Damage 'Irreparable'

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The dean of Michigan State University's College of Agriculture says a six-months extension of the state's fiscal fiasco will result in "irreparable damage to the university."

"We must face the facts that staff morale is at a very low ebb and this institution is rapidly deteriorating," reported Dean Tom Cowden in a letter to MSU President John A. Hannah. The letter has been made public by the university's governing board.

"I have witnessed a great deal of progress in 10 years as a faculty member," Cowden said.

"However, it is my opinion that in the last six months we have lost much of the progress we made during the past 10 years."

He expressed particular concern for the plight of the young and promising staff members.

"Somehow," he said, "they have lost faith in the ability of this university to provide the environment in which they are willing to stake their future."

Cowden said defections from the staff of the Agriculture College he heads exemplify the deterioration of the entire university.

In the past six months, he added, an agricultural economist has left to join an out-of-state farm co-operative, a promising researcher has gone to the University of California, a poultry science expert has taken an industrial job, and an information services specialist has been lost to Wisconsin.

The Horticulture Department alone, Cowden continued, has lost three outstanding scientists to out-of-state universities and is about to lose a fourth.

Cowden said many of these men left because of the university's inability to provide laboratory facilities and other equipment.

The university's problems have been compounded, he added, by the adverse national publicity stemming from the state's money miseries.

Cowden noted that MSU is looking for a new Dairy Department head and added:

"I shudder to think of the consequences if our prospective department head should pick up a paper and read of payless paydays or some of the other aspersions cast on higher education."

By Their Clothes You'll Know Them

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Clothes may not make the man but they help other people tell about his job, social status and habits, according to a Michigan State University social scientist.

"We recognize the factory hand by his work clothes, the executive by his suit and the student by his slacks and sweater," Dr. Arthur M. Vener said.

A survey in a Michigan community showed persons who have "come up in the world" are more aware of clothes than those who remain in one economic and social group all their lives, Vener said.
