Move to Boost Welfare Fund Fails by 1 Vote

Plan Sought to Restore County-State Split From 70-30 to 50-50 Basis

A compromise move to alter the 70-30 per cent county-state split on welfare costs failed by a single vote in the Michigan House of Representatives yesterday.

Proponents of measures to return the formula to its previous 50-50 level gave up on trying to attach an amendment to this effect on an appropriation bill.

They tried a compromise 60-40 split, with the county still bearing the larger share, but this also failed to gain approval.

The old 50-50 formula was abandoned last year in return for a state appropriation to local hospitalization programs. Rising unemployment, however, sent welfare claims soaring, and many counties, including Oakland, were hard pressed to find funds for welfare costs.

Since the 70-30 agreement went into effect July 1 of last year, it has cost Oakland County $481,000 more of the taxpayers' money than what it would have under the old formula, said George H. Burt, director of the county's social welfare department.

Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City), chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, estimated the 60-40 compromise would have cost the state about $5 million over House-approved welfare appropriations totaling $53,310,425.

The 50-50 formula would have cost $9 million more. Blocking any change in the welfare cost split was the "hold the line" Republican budget, designed to ease the state's ailing financial position.

Pontiac's Easter Shoppers Lucky Weatherwise

Easter shoppers are getting a break in the Pontiac area. The weatherman predicts for another day partly cloudy with little change in temperature.

Tonight's low will be near 36-40 and Saturdays high will reach 51-55.

Easterly winds at 12-22 miles an hour are predicted for tonight and tomorrow.

The lowest thermometer reading preceding 9 a.m. was 35 degrees. The mercury stood at 53 at 1 p.m.

From the Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. — The second round of the Masters Golf Tournament was played today on a dampened course with favorite Ken Venturi leading the pack after his sparkling 68 yesterday.

Chick Harbert and Jack Fleck led the Michigan golfers yesterday with 69 and 71 respectively, while Wally Burkema carded a 74.

There were 31 players with par and sub-par rounds after the first day.

After today's round the low 40 shooters and ties will go into the last 36 holes.

At least three Michigan golfers probably will be among those cut. Amateurs Chuck Kocak with 76, Nick Weslock with 76 and Detroit pro Horton Smith with 60 likely will fail to make the grade.

25,661 at U. of M.

ANN ARBOR — Spring semester enrollment at University of Michigan has reached an all-time record 25,661 students. Registrar Edward Groesbeck said the increase is 1,402 over last year's spring enrollment.

'Flat, Stale and Tired'

NEW DELHI (INS) — Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today he is seriously considering resigning. Nehru told newsmen he recently felt "flat, stale and tired."

'Weep Not for Me, . . . but . . . for Yourselves'

And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon, a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.

And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him.

But Jesus turning unto them said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.

Says State Road Funds Not Lost

Mackie Gives Answer to Broomfield's Charge on Federal Money

All of the nearly $72 million in federal funds for highway construction in Michigan next year will be apportioned in time and not lost, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie declared yesterday.

Mackie was answering a charge by Congressman William S. Broomfield that he was still dragging his feet in securing what federal funds have been allocated to the state for federal interstate road buildings.

The Democratic commissioner added that $1,679,000 out of $71,935,119 in federal interstate monies for the 1959 fiscal year have been obligated so far.

There is no immediate rush in obligating fiscal '59 balance at this time, Mackie stated, as the funds, on a 90-10 federal-state matching plan, cannot be collected by the state until the fiscal year begins July 1.

Broomfield said this delay leads to a delay in construction. Mackie contends that the state's 1.4 billion dollar five-year road construction program announced last fall "is proceeding on schedule."

Water 3 Feet Deep

DETROIT (INS) — A flood, three feet deep in some places, inundated 18 blocks of residential Northwest Detroit last night when a 24-inch water main burst. The broken main poured as much as five feet of water into at least 20 basements and scores of automobiles stood in water up to the floorboards.

Hunt at 4 Parks Tomorrow

3,000 Eggs Await Kids

Thousands of Easter eggs are awaiting Pontiac's youngsters tomorrow at four city parks.

Organized by the Dept. of Parks and Recreation, assisted by civic organizations, some 3,000 eggs will be the object of intensive search during the city-wide Easter egg hunt starting at 2 p.m.

The hunts will be staged at Jaycee Park, Joslyn at Walton; Murphy Park, East boulevard at Elm; Oakland Park, Montclair and Glenwood; and Beaudette, near Orchard Lake, east of Telegraph.

Any youngster 11 years old or younger can participate and parents have been asked to take them to the park nearest their home.

Assisting in the egg hunt will be the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce, Northside Kiwanis Club and the Community Organizations of Pontiac.

As Throngs Worship in Jerusalem

Churches Hold Tre Ore Services

JERUSALEM — The Easter hymns of Christians mingled with Moslem calls to Ramadan prayers in the Old City of Jerusalem today while Jews across the armistice line in the New City stacked up for Passover feasts tonight.

Worshippers filled the auditorium of Central Methodist Church where the Pontiac Pastors Assn. held the annual Good Friday service.

The service was divided into sections with worshippers waiting to be seated at intermissions.

Speaking from the "Seven Words From the Cross" were Dr. Joseph I. Chapman of Bethany Baptist Church, the Rev. Paul T. Hart of First Methodist Church, Rev. J. Allen Parker of Newman AME Church, the Rev. Wayne E. Welton of the Parkdale Church of the Nazarene, Rev. Edmund I. Watkins of the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian and Rev. Calvin C. Rice of Central Methodist.

Presiding at the three-hour service were the Rev. Galen E. Hershey, associate pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Rev. Carl W. Nelson of St. John Lutheran Church and Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor of Central Methodist.

Parishioners jammed St. Michael's, St. Benedict's, St. Joseph's, St. Hugo of the Hills, St. Vincent de Paul and Our Lady of the Lakes for the Stations of the Cross, Mass of the Pre-Sanctified, and Veneration of the Cross.

Hundreds thronged to All Saints Episcopal Church on Williams street for the annual Tre Ore service.

Pontiac citizens filled the First Christian, Baldwin Avenue Methodist, First Church of God, and Trinity Baptist churches where the Oakland County Ministerial Fellowship observed Good Friday.

Eight Waterford Township congregations met in Christ Lutheran Church for a combined service with capacity crowds.

Blizzards and Floods Spreading New Fear in Soggy California

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Devastating mountain snow blizzards and northern and central California floods spread new fear today throughout hundreds of communities.

At least 5,000 persons are homeless. The known death toll is six, and Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, who declared a state of emergency for all California Wednesday, called on President Eisenhower last night for five million dollars in emergency federal aid.

Knight reported to the President that highway and levee damage alone is 12 million dollars. Unestimated damage to crops and other property will run into many millions more.

Forty-foot high coastal waves in San Mateo County to the immediate south of San Francisco hammered buildings into splinters along a four-mile stretch.

And the merciless rain, which has turned towns into rivers, goes on.

The weather bureau warned that another perilous storm is headed for California from the Aleutians, adding to the grief, misery and fear.

The peril was evidenced in the rich San Joaquin Valley farmlands this morning where nearly 90,000 persons have been alerted to prepare for possible evacuation. Thousands of fertile acres are already blanketed by water and several hundred destitute families were forced to flee their homes for a roof over their heads.

In Stockton alone, Red Cross officials provided food and shelter for 1,100 homeless flood victims.

The record-breaking downpours created havoc with communications, so necessary in an emergency. Hundreds of miles of power and telephone lines were down.

In the High Sierras, snow piled up 22 feet in some areas, and ski (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Cuba's Batista Planning for Florida Vacation?

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. — A large pink Moorish colonial style home here which President Fulgencio Batista of Cuba bought last year is being renovated.

Work reportedly has been going on since the middle of February and furniture was moved in a few days ago.

Neighbors say the swimming pool has been filled, telephones installed and floodlights set up on the spacious grounds.

The home was built about 1900 by auto manufacturer R. E. Olds. Batista bought it about a year ago from Howard Dayton, owner of a chain of hotels.

The Prime Minister added that the government would also agree to international supervision of the elections by a group such as the Organization of American States.

Although Castro's troops probably number less than 10 per cent of the government's forces, he has been threatening to call a general strike in an effort to unseat Batista.

Guell asserted that the rebels were a minority group going against the desires of the Cuban people, but he said the Batista government would negotiate with all elements to restore peace.

He again pledged full guarantees for all opposition parties in the presidential election now set for Nov. 3.

Congress Split Over Proposals Sought by Ike

Opponents Center Fire on Spending Powers of Defense Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opponents of President Eisenhower's defense reorganization plan centered their fire today on the military spending powers he proposed for the secretary of defense.

An Easter recess postponed until April 15 — one day after Congress returns — what shaped up as a major battle over the plan.

Some Congress members approved the plan; others criticized some of its features both as threatening the continuance of the Army, Navy and Air Force as such and as taking over congressional functions.

Eisenhower asked Congress to make appropriations, effective July 1, 1959, to the secretary of defense rather than specifically to the separate services.

The secretary would be able to transfer funds among the various services.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), senior Republican on the Senate Appropriations Committee, said that such action would "practically abolish the services" and amount to "a surrender on the part of Congress."

Congress long has held to its traditional power to decide how much money each service is to get.

Rep. Kilday (D-Tex.) noting that defense money makes up nearly two thirds of the annual budget, said giving control of such an amount to one man "is probably greater economic power than should be possessed by one individual."

He added in a later interview: "One thing is sure — the man who controls the money is the boss."

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said he will support whatever steps are necessary to give the secretary administrative authority in the Defense Department, but added:

"I shall not favor any legislation that will destroy the identity of our armed forces."

Both Eisenhower and Secretary of Defense McElroy disclaimed any such intention despite the much broader powers McElroy (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

FREDERICK W. SWORDS

Youth Accused of Homicide

Rochester Boy Charged After Friend's Death in Car Accident

A warrant charging negligent homicide in the death of a 16-year-old companion in a car crash Wednesday night, has been issued against Frederick W. Swords, of Rochester.

Swords, 17, son of Mrs. Helen C. Swords and the late Mr. Swords, of 737 Ludlow St., was returned to the Oakland County jail following his appearance last night before Avon Township Justice of the Peace Luther C. Green.

Examination was set for April 15. The youth failed to post $1,000 bond.

Swords was the driver of the car which crashed, killing passenger Gary Bridge, of 138 Glendale St., Rochester, Wednesday night.

In a statement made to the prosecutor's office, Swords said he was driving at 80 miles an hour when he swerved to avoid something in the road. The car struck a utility pole.

Baffles Police in Pontiac

Who Smashes Windows?

A window smashing binge that has driven two families to despair continues to baffle Pontiac police.

Every night for two weeks a variety of missiles has cascaded against the homes on Virginia street, shattering windows and wrecking asbestos siding.

The missile phantoms, none of whom have ever been seen, began "operation destruction" against the harassed householders on the evening of March 25.

Every half hour that night and all the next day rocks, bottles, pieces of concrete, cans of soup, jars of baby food, nuts and bolts beat a tattoo on the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Riley, 114 Virginia, and their next door neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Osender, 110 Virginia.

Their repeated calls had squad cars at the scene all through the day, but there was no sign of the culprits.

While officers were questioning some boys in the front of the houses, they heard crashes in the back and ran around to find more broken glass, but no sign of anyone.

Riley, 26, a determined man, spent two nights lying on the ground in the backyard, only to hear windows breaking in the front and again no culprits.

Mrs. Riley said that she has been frightened to death by the barrages. "One rock just missed one of our children. My husband has had to board up the bedroom windows for fear the kids might get hurt at night."

The spray of flying objects has hit the homes every night since it began.

The asbestos siding on his house also has been extensively damaged by missiles. Admits Embezzlement at Lapeer Firm

Worker Tells Judge He Embezzled $50,000 to 'Live Expensively'

George J. Ferna, 53, of Lapeer, who admitted embezzling "about $50,000" from the Bostick Foundry in Lapeer, pleaded guilty to forgery today in Lapeer County Circuit Court.

Sentencing was set for May 9 by visiting Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth of Genesee County. Lapeer Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn disqualified himself from hearing the case because he had served as a one-man grand juror in investigating the embezzlement.

Ferna was charged specifically with forging one check for $152 against the firm by which he had been employed for 28 years.

When Judge Roth asked him if there was more money involved, he said yes—approximately $50,000.

"What on earth did you use the money for?" Judge Roth asked him.

"For expensive living, new cars and drinking," Ferna replied.

would assume both over spending and over military activities under the proposal.

McElroy told a news conference he considered the spending proposal as meaning that if an emergency situation arose after a budget was completed, the secretary could change or transfer funds from one service to another.

The battle in Congress could become a tug of war between Eisenhower's military prestige and the insistence of the Army, Navy and Air Force on remaining as separate and powerful as possible.

In sending up his plan, Eisenhower said: "Strategic and tactical planning must be completely unified, combat forces organized into unified commands, each equipped with the most efficient weapons systems that science can develop, singly led and prepared to fight as one, regardless of service."

By E. H. SIMS

Do clouds form by the same weather process as does fog? Why is fog seen more often in fall than in spring?

Clouds and fog both occur because of a cooling process. Both are the result of cooled air, and the lesser moisture capacity caused by that cooling, producing saturation of the air and visible moisture particles.

Spring produces less fog than fall because in fall the earth is losing its stored-up heat, and the heat (warm air) on the surface is cooled by cooler air and turned into fog. In spring the opposite is more often true.

The earth is colder than the warming spring air, because of winter's effect, and, instead of being cooled, the surface of the earth is warmed — which does not produce fog.

BETTER STAY INSIDE — There's a bit of water on the floor, but much more outside, so this young miss, Joyce Rayburn, is quite content to spend some time at this Sacramento, Calif. furniture store. The water on the floor seeped in during heavy rains before employees blocked the doors. Outside, waves settled six inches above the bottom of the store window and blocked traffic during the height of Thursday's storm. Residents say this is the most water they have seen in the Sacramento area, outside of river floods.

Soldiers Guarding Tomb See Christ Rise, Radiant

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

The Roman sergeant tossed more sticks on the campfire and stood warming his hands. Another soldier sat cross-legged, a sheepskin over his shoulders, munching a slab of cheese.

Their spears leaned against a square-shaped tent, pitched in a private grove outside Jerusalem where the crucified Nazarene had been entombed.

The watch had been maintained since late on the sixth day of last week. With the provincial Sabbath over at sunset, it now was near midnight in the new week's first day.

The sergeant pulled his hooded paucula closer about his neck, and slumped against a tree. What a weird business this was — guarding a corpse!

He glanced at the face of the tomb. It was dug into a 14-foot bluff, gray and cold — looking in the gloom. A huge circular stone, about five feet in diameter, completely covered the opening.

With a great hoisting and heaving, it had been rolled into a groove cut at the base of the opening, and sealed there with seven pegs.

To the sergeant, the extraordinary activity about the case — all this ado over a dead man — seemed ridiculous. And that babble about rising to life again! Great Caesar's ghost!

All at once, everything became quiet. Silence reigned, totally.

He felt an obscure uneasiness. He thought of moving about, scuffling his feet, to break the spell, but stood as if rooted. All life, himself too, seemed momentarily suspended, halted, pausing on the verge of . . . he knew not what.

The stars still shone brightly, though, in fact, they seemed brighter than before. They were brighter. They were a great deal brighter. What was happening? That light . . . that light in the sky!

It appeared as if a fissure was forming on the roof of the world, with a white brilliance pouring through, a celestial door opening. Its blinding purity flashed downward, shimmering, cascading in a flood.

The sergeant flung his arm over his eyes, a strangled cry in his throat.

A shattering blast rent his eardrums, although he was not sure it was a sound at all, but as if lightning had burst in his own head. A violent shaking seized the earth and he felt himself falling.

He had no sensation at all of hitting the ground, but he realized he was there, flat on his belly.

The outlines of two figures took shape, like men but not like men, radiant, glowing heights of perfect light, and another appeared between them, taller, more resplendent still.

COULD SEE NO MORE
Then he could see no more . . . When they had calmed sufficiently to be coherent, they told their story to their superiors, including Pilate, and also the ruling Sadducees, who paid them a large sum to conceal it, and to claim they had doted, that the Nazarene's apostles must have stolen his body.

But there was this conversation related in the ancient but non-doctrinal gospel of Nicodemus between the priests and the sergeant.

"We were very much afraid, and lay like dead men," he said haltingly. "Afterward we heard the voice of the angel saying to the women at the tomb, 'Be not afraid.'"

The priests demanded: "To what women did he speak?"

The sergeant: "We do not know who they were."

The priests: "And wherefore did you not lay hold on them?"

The sergeant: "We were like dead men from fear, not expecting to see the light of day again, and how could we lay hold on them?"

The priests: "As the Lord liveth, we do not believe you."

The sergeant: "Assuredly you have done well to swear that the Lord liveth, for indeed He does." The sergeant paused, his expression stubborn. He added quietly: "And Jesus is risen."

ment at the rear, says 18 windows have been broken in the building. "We aren't replacing them because it would be a waste of money until they clear this thing up. They have even thrown rocks through the screens and broken the glass. Only the Venetian blinds have saved us inside."

He, too, has unsuccessfully laid traps for the rock-happy phantoms with the aid of his friends, but not a trace of the culprits has been discovered.

The Rileys, who have four small children, and the Osenders, who have a 14-year-old son, are unable to give the police a clue as to who might have a grudge against them.

The official position of the investigating officers is: "We are baffled."

Supermarkets Closing Sunday

End Four-Year Battle Involving More Than 200 Stores in State

Pontiac area chain supermarkets will close Sunday, ending a four-year dispute involving more than 200 markets in Michigan.

Major chains with operations in Pontiac and northern Oakland County have agreed to observe Sunday closing although a bill to order such action was recently defeated in the Legislature.

Kregor will close three stores in the area for Sundays, in addition to its downtown Pontiac store which has been closed Sundays for the past year.

National Food Stores also will join the movement and its four stores in the area will be closed.

Wrigley's, which has six stores in Pontiac, Rochester and Drayton Plains has been closing three of them and now will add the remaining three.

Food Fair, the fourth major chain participating in the Sunday ban on sales, has only one store in the Miracle Mile Shopping Center, and it has never been open Sundays.

The new agreement goes into effect Easter Sunday.

The Day in Birmingham

Hope for Fair Weather During Easter Egg Hunt

BIRMINGHAM — While the Easter Bunny scurries around Springdale Park, hiding eggs, members of the Birmingham Recreation Board are keeping their fingers crossed that Saturday will dawn fair.

The first recreation-sponsored Easter Egg Hunt is scheduled for youngsters will be invited to come and try their luck at finding them.

A number of eggs were received last week when the board asked children to vie for prizes at the regular Saturday matinee. More eggs were collected by board and Jaycee members to provide good hunting.

Robert Girardin, recreation director, said the gates will open at 2 p.m. for the young hunters. The park will be sectioned off in three age groups: 4-6; 7-9 and 10-12. The lucky hunters will find candy as well as the traditional eggs.

Girardin also announced that April 19 had been named for the second Carp Carnival at Quaron Lake. Fishing hours will be from 1-4 p.m., with prizes for both boys and girls for the youngest fisherman, largest fish, most fish and most unusual fishing tackle.

All officers of the Sheffield Estates Civic Assn. have been returned to office for the coming year.

They include John W. McGill, president; M. R. LaLonde, vice president; M. C. Shepherd, treasurer, and Miss Mary Blocher, secretary.

Directors for the next three years are Charles E. Brodeur, Don Mitzel and McGill.

Kappa Delta Alumnae of South Oakland County will hold their next meeting April 8 at 8 p.m. at the Royal Oak home of Mrs. William E. Siebert. The business meeting will include the election of officer.

The hostess will be assisted during the social hour by Mrs. F. Dale Buerstette and Mrs. D. Ross Smith.

A floral arrangement demonstration will highlight the April 10 meeting of the North Suburban Alumnae Assn. of Chi Omega. The group will meet at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Beir D. Higbie, 135 Clifton Rd., Bloomfield Township.

Melvin B. Kett, Royal Oak Herald, will show how flowers may be arranged in dishes and other receptacles common to the home, without the use of "official vases."

Mrs. Oliver M. Strong Jr., committee chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Thurman W. Holloway and Mrs. Charles B. Gathers.

Edward J. Hill

Edward J. Hill, 65, a pioneer balloonist who died Wednesday at William Beaumont Hospital, will be buried tomorrow in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkeley, following a blessing at noon in St. Bede Church, Southfield Township.

Easter One of Year's Most Joyous Days

By PHYLLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Once again it is almost Easter. And, as an old egg-roller and rabbit recipient from Ohio, I cannot help looking upon it as one of the happiest, most joyous days of the year.

LIVE IT UP

Not all clergymen, nor all devout laymen, will agree with me, I'm sure. For—in New York particularly—there often is a confusion of terms regarding Easter. It is a day when Christmas receive re-assurance of an eternal life; but often, especially when the Easter parade is at its height, a few crackpots get "eternal life" mixed up with eternally "living it up."

Frankish costumes as "outright commercialism" can quickly take the bloom off an otherwise fresh and lovely celebration, and safe society playgirls, who roll out of bed at 11 a.m. just in time to put birdcages on their heads for the photographers in front of St. Patrick's, ought to be belted in their own greenpajamas.

I've been a reporter for nearly 14 years, and in March or April of eight of them, have covered the Fifth Avenue Easter parade.

I have permanent wounds, testifying to the fact that not many years ago, man-sized rabbits carried sandwich signs. There is a reweave job in my lavender wool suit as evidence that in 1936 a clown from a 42nd Street girly show smoked foot-long cigars.

In 1944, the big bright parade was marred by a silt-and-run man who slashed 15 ladies' dresses with a double-edge razor blade. He, too, had a "pitch." It was, as he belatedly to police: "I hate women!"

It was in '55 that the largest crowd in history turned out for the fashion show and free-for-all on America's most famous avenue. Two-million strutted the streets for hours, and a record number of them tried to poke their faces and commercials into the eye of the cameras.

SHOW DEBUNKED

It roused a Presbyterian minister to decry and debunk the Fifth Avenue show, and beg people not to consider it a symbol of Easter. "We've tinselled it, packaged it in purple and yellow, and crowded it with bunny rabbits and colored eggs. Our world has become a neighborhood, but not a brotherhood," he proclaimed. "Although we have knowledge, we do not have wisdom."

The whole problem to the clergymen is not, of course, in the parade itself. It also involves the unusual throngs of people who come to Easter services—the sea of curious, unfamiliar faces that churn before the priest's or pastor's eyes. I must be difficult for ministers to control a sense of cynicism at his sudden, seasonal popularity. And some of them don't.

Last year, at a church I attended, the rector announced: "I want to have a paper offering today. I don't want to hear any silver clinking in the collection plates." Doubtly he pointed out that there was a year-fall of tithes to be made up by the "Easter annuals" in the congregation.

Another minister, it was reported, bade farewell to the congregation with a crisp, "See you next year."

Well, next year is here. And I trust, because it is such a time of gentle joy, that the paraders will be reverent, and the clergy will be

Alaskan Youth Admits Killing 3

Boy, 13, Shoots Mother, Sister, Brother in Fit of Anger

NCHORAD, Alaska (AP)—An oral admission by a 13-year-old boy that he killed his mother, his brother and his sister in a fit of anger left Anchorage police and territorial officials wrestling with an involved legal problem today.

Under territorial law, according to U.S. Commissioner David R. Daines, a person under 16 years of age cannot be charged with a crime. Daines also said jurisdiction could not be waived by U.S. District Court here.

Robert L. Courtney, son of a prominent Anchorage businessman, told police after his capture Wednesday night he shot Mrs. Jesse Courtney, Jesse Jr., 9, and Bonnie Lowell, 7, after a quarrel with his mother.

Mrs. Courtney was killed outright in the front yard of the Courtney home as she tried to

Ready Giant Blast to Ease Shipping

CAMPBELL RIVER, B.C. (AP)—The largest nonatomic blast man has ever touched off is scheduled to liquidate Ripple Rock as a shipping menace tomorrow, weather permitting.

Engineers will detonate 24 million pounds of high explosive in a network of tunnels in Ripple Rock.

The explosion is expected to rip 370,000 tons of rock off the twin-domed submarine mountain whose top lies just below the surface of the water at mean low tide in Seymour Narrows, between Vancouver Island and the mainland, 100 miles north of Vancouver, B.C.

Since 1875, two dozen large ships and smaller ones have piled on Ripple Rock, at the cost of 114 lives.

Members of CAB Perfectionist Coroners

NEW YORK (INS) — One of these days, soon, the men of the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) will put aside the pathetic rubbish of tin, steel and rubber and tell us precisely how and why Mike Todd, Art Cohn and their two pilots died March 22.

They are the perfectionist coroners, these CAB people. They must work with the knowledge that the dead will little note and that the bereaved will say, in effect, that the details of the calamity are of no importance compared to the calamity itself. Yet the CAB's sober-sided pattering in the wake of aerial disaster since man took to the skies by the millions has made air travel safer than taking a tub bath.

I have at hand the CAB's report on the case of a passenger who was blown out of a Western Air Lines Convair while in flight over a place named Daggett, Calif. It shows how painstaking this government body is.

CAB sent men scrounging about the countryside, picking up evidence. "The body of Mr. Binstock (the missing passenger) was found," the report states with scientific detachment.

"This body showed, in addition to pronounced effects of the fall, a marked mutilation of the left hand, from which finger ends were missing. Mr. Binstock's coat in the area of the left arm and breast was cut and perforated as from the explosion of a blasting cap." Parts of the blasted plane (whose crew landed it safely at George Air Force Base) were distributed over a path about three miles long in the direction of flight and about a half mile wide.

"It was clearly indicated that there had been an explosion with its forces centered on the wash-basin shelf," the report reads. "No where was there any evidence of metal fatigue. Chemical analyses of smudge found on damaged parts disclosed that the explosion was dynamite, as determined positively by certain ingredients of dynamite which were present in the smudge."

"Investigation revealed that Mr. Binstock procured dynamite and blasting caps several weeks before the incident . . . accordingly, the board concludes that the dynamite was intentionally detonated by passenger Binstock."

There are a thousand more details, but the above will give you the general idea of the detective work involved in piecing together the reason for an air accident. It was CAB which first found and then ordered something done about icing conditions.

It ended the shortcuts through mountain ranges that killed Carol Lombard, helped rout the bugs from the first Constellations and DCs, two important forerunners of today's great, safe airliners.

It made the DC3 the most remarkable airplane in history (no DC3 has ever worn out) and it put in the traffic system that make flying safer in a world those poor guys no longer inhabit.

Cats and dogs with transected spinal cords have been taught to walk by researchers in the psychology department laboratories at Illinois Institute of Technology.

Comedian Turns Serious

Special Bob Hope Show
Spotlights Soviet Artists

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—A strange, serious Bob Hope, playing his familiar role of American goodwill ambassador with new earnestness, takes his television audience behind the Iron Curtain tomorrow night for something more significant than just entertainment.

Hope returned from his recent mission to Moscow with some spectacular samples of Soviet-style show business, ranging from ballet to stasiatic, for his hour-long NBC show.

The filmed acts—violinist David Oistrakh, Prima Ballerina Galina Ulanova, comedians Oleg Popov and David Raikin and the Ukrainian dancers—are "sensational" theater, Hope explained today.

But the purpose of unveiling their talents to an American TV audience goes deeper than merely demonstrating that the theatrical genius knows no national or political boundaries.

"The emphasis of the show is on understanding," he said. "We'll close with shots of Russian children, fat ones, thin ones, all kinds. And I have a monologue in which I say we must have understanding so that people like these won't become obsolete."

Hope himself was so impressed by the need for greater understanding as a foundation for world peace that he is curbing his natural, world-famous knack for deflating pomposity and shattering foibles where the Russians are concerned.

"I can't help," he said thoughtfully, "by saying things to make relations worse."

"I said some things in the film

we made there," he conceded. "For instance, I said they gave me quite a welcome at the airport; they fired 21 shots in my honor. Of course, they could have waited for the plane to land."

"And a few little things like that. I said I'd never seen so many TV aerials. They've got millions of aerials, but no sets. That hurt them a little bit, and rightly so. Their TV is really very good. I saw two pictures, a review and a hockey game. They have a finer line TV than ours, like the British."

But in general, Hope is restraining himself from poking too much fun at the Russians, for they might misinterpret.

He steers clear of discussing politics and politicians and maintains that the Russians he met—entertainers, technicians and the men and women in the streets—were genial, gracious and helpful.

State Woman Dies,
Husband Hurt in Ohio

OXFORD, Ohio. (U)—Mrs. Merle Bystrom, 67, of Newberry, Mich., was killed in an automobile collision near here last night.

She and her husband Clarence, 72, were en route here to visit their son.

The husband suffered a fractured skull.

The son, Richard T. Bystrom, is director of the Miami University student center.

The elder Bystrom was superintendent of schools at Newberry 32 years and retired only last year. Mrs. Bystrom, a teacher in the kindergarten, planned to retire after this year.

Bobby Rodgers, 33, of Hamilton, driver of the other car, was not hurt.

Sheriff Paul Fell said Rodgers told him the Bystroms did not stop at a stop sign and that when he applied his brakes it was too late to avoid the collision.

Bound to Circuit Court on Bad Check Charge

A 32-year-old man was examined before Waterford Township Justice Donald E. Adams yesterday on a charge of passing a bad check and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment April 14.

Bernard Bluestein, alias George Baltes, who gave his last address as Philadelphia, was returned to the county jail after Adams set a $10,000 bond. He is accused of forging a $36 check.

In Alexandria, Va., still stands the apothecary shop where George Washington had his medical prescriptions filled.

Death Hovers
Over Children;
Both Survive

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (U)—A motorist swerved his car to miss a little girl as she darted into the street.

Highway Patrolman Robert Parks said the incident touched off this chain of events:

The car, driven by John Wilke, skidded out of control and hit a boy on his bicycle.

The girl, 9-year-old Theresa Millaway, fearing she had been responsible for the boy's death, ran into the house and swallowed a household lye concentrate.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Betts Millaway, discovered what had happened and started for a hospital, but her car stalled.

A telephone lineman saw the stalled car, climbed a pole and called the highway patrol with his field telephone.

A patrol car rushed the girl to a hospital, where both she and the boy on the bicycle, 14-year-old Philip Nemeth, were reported out of danger.

Vast Resources in Ocean Depths Remain Untapped

Look to the Sea to Provide Food for Billions of People

New Bedford Standard-Times Written for The AP Fourth in Series By EVERETT S. ALLEN

If the world's population—about 2½ billion—triples during the next century, and it is expected to, humanity must turn to the oceans for new sources of food to maintain its living standards.

The land masses of the world are being rapidly depleted of basic resources. The sea is still a bulging storehouse, not only of minerals and metals—which improved techniques could pry from the ocean bottom—but of enormous quantities of foodstuffs.

In terms of food, the sea can actually outproduce the land. A New England harbor, properly cultivated, could produce nine tons of clam meat per acre annually—three times the amount of comparable food an Ohio farmer could produce on one acre.

Eventually, marine scientists say, the oceans may be stirred artificially to bring up nutrients from the bottom so sunlight can get at them and so increase the sea's productivity of food stuffs.

Here's one way in which this process is envisaged: In most areas, a vertical pipe shoved down into the sea would carry a stream of water either up or down, once it was started, and if uninterrupted would go on indefinitely.

This is because ocean surface water is saltier and, therefore, heavier, than deep water, when the two are at the same temperature. As surface water goes down the pipe, it tends to be cooled to the same temperature as the water outside the pipe—but being heavier because of its salinity, it keeps on flowing downward.

It works in the opposite direction. If bottom water is started up the pipe, it tends to get warmer. But because bottom water is slightly fresher, it also is lighter than the surface water surrounding it, so it tends to rise and flow out the top of the pipe.

The French government is experimenting with a system of such pipes. In this instance, it is trying to produce fresh water from the ocean by applying the salinity differences to a distilling process. But the operation would serve very well to "stir" the sea for increased food production.

Presently, man is neglecting great areas of the ocean's nutritional potential. Of some 16,000 species of marine life, only a dozen or so are used commercially to any significant extent. Thousands of others, including such unlikely sounding candidates as barnacles, could make valuable contributions.

Some steps toward more intense exploitation of the sea are already being taken. The British are seeking to utilize the nutritional properties of seaweed in commercial quantities. The South Africans have a fish meal project providing an inexpensive protein source for human consumption.

A vital step in making the most of the ocean's food resources is finding a way to make fish less expensive. Virtually all modern developments in fishing—packaging, filleting, freezing—are keeping fish from going where they're needed most, to hungry people without much cash.

It is possible, marine scientists say, to make money with a fish product selling for as little as 1½ of an extra special Easter treat as he sits amid an arrangement of cellophane grass and plastic foam ducklings adorned with flowers.

Cuddly pastel-colored animals are Eastertime favorites of all youngsters. Here, Carol Warrick, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. Carleton Warrick of Chippewa road, clutches one of her soft 'n' fuzzy little friends while admiring the bunny and colorful basket she has received.

Our miniature model may not be wearing a chemise, but Mary Kim Segula is right in style as she poses with a nosegay of stephanotis centered with a rose. Dr. and Mrs. Robert L. Segula of Williams Lake road are parents of this tot.

All Set to Enjoy Big Day

Almost as soon as a child is old enough to toddle and to understand at all any of the aspects of our society, he learns that there are certain days scattered throughout the year to which the adult world accords special attention.

There's Thanksgiving when the family unites for a lovely dinner, Christmas when little ones are told of the miracle of Christ's birth, and New Year's Day with its colorful parades.

SIGNIFICANT HOLIDAY
But perhaps the most significant holiday children learn to anticipate is the one we are to celebrate Sunday. In many homes throughout the city tots will headquarter in the kitchen to help mother dye the Easter eggs which they will enjoy Easter Sunday.

Perhaps some inquisitive children inquiring as to "Why do we have Easter eggs, Mommie?" have been told the "why" behind this custom. Perhaps mother has explained to them how the egg from which they know come cuddly and downy baby chicks is a symbol of new life.

A story that children are often told is that the Easter Bunny lays the eggs and hides them for youngsters to find. This tale evolves from the pagan custom of regarding the rabbit as an emblem of new life.

Whatever children may be told about this holiday season, the stories they hear are helping to give them a glimpse into the real meaning of Easter.

Useful Sweaters

Women find the sweater an indispensable fashion. In some form, it goes to the office, shopping, out to dinner, on weekends. Handy protection against weather changes.

Eager Kiddies Await Easter Bunny's Visit

That perky loppy-eared bunny perched on the table seems as happy as his mistress, Deborah Rogers, about preparing the eggs for coloring. Deborah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rogers of West Iroquois road, is just about to dip an egg into a bowl of vivid purple dye.

A-Powers Asked to Follow Soviets

NEW DELHI 4-4—Prime Minister Nehru today asked atomic powers to follow the Soviet example by suspending their own nuclear tests.

He said the "biggest scientists in the world" should be appointed to determine whether any nation could cheat on an agreement suspending tests.

Holding his first news conference since October, Nehru took note of the criticism that the Soviets had announced their suspension only after they had completed a test series.

"But a good step is a good step whenever it is taken," he declared.

The Indian leader said he viewed Nikita Khrushchev's taking over the post of premier as evidence of continuing liberalization in the Soviet Union.

Navy Plane Crashes on High Mountain Slope; Co-Pilot on Critical List

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (AP)—The body of a Navy pilot has been removed from the wreckage of his plane by state police and military personnel who had to use a snow tractor and snow shoes to get through the deep snow on Mt. Greylock.

The body was that of Navy Lt. Eugene B. Ganley of Grose Ile, Mich., co-pilot of a Navy C-45 which crashed Wednesday high on the wooded slope of the 3,500-foot mountain.

Cmdr. Robert R. Vandenberg, 38, also of Grose Ile, pilot of the plane, survived the crash but is in critical condition at North Adams Hospital.

Vandenberg gave himself first aid and then was taken to a helicopter search crew.

The helicopter crew, unable to land because of the trees, lowered a rope which Vandenberg tied around himself. The craft landed at a nearby clearing and took the injured aviator aboard.

Vandenberg, father of three children, suffered a fractured skull and many cuts on his head, face and legs. Doctors, however, give him a good chance to live.

He was quoted as saying he had just turned the craft over to Ganley and was looking at some maps when the crash came.

The plane was flying from Grose Ile to the Naval air station at Weymouth, Mass. It was last heard from when it checked in at Albany, N.Y., at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday.

The search for the plane began at dawn yesterday and it was spotted several hours later.

West Bloomfield Justice Elmer C. Dieterle fined him $15 and $10 costs. The complaint was made by James McCollum, state food inspector.

College Building Bond Bill Up

$50-Million Proposal Squeaks by Senate, Now Before House

LANSING — A $50 million dollar building bond issue proposal for state colleges was up to the House today after staggering through the Senate.

Known as the Faulkner Plan, it is a Republican answer to Gov. Williams' demand for a broader, $114 million dollar public works program with the accent on economic pump priming.

On the decisive roll call yesterday, the bill squeaked through 18 to 10, drawing the bare passage requirement. Later, a belated Democratic vote made the recorded count 19 to 10.

An anemic capital outlay bill calling for just over $5,000,000 in general funds followed the Faulkner bill to the House, unopposed.

The capital outlay bill carried 20 million dollars in 1957 and 36 millions the year before. The 1958-59 measure by itself would prolong a moratorium declared last year on new building starts.

Critics questioned the constitutionality of the bill by Sen. Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma) to set up an educational building authority, a new state agency.

One, Sen. Clarence F. Grabner (R-Saginaw), called it a "hoax on the public."

The proposed five-member authority would be empowered to issue 3 percent revenue bonds and exchange them for U. S. securities.

From proceeds of liquidation, money could be loaned to both two- and four-year state colleges and universities for use on projects specifically approved by legislative resolution.

Lease fees paid to the authority by the schools out of annual legislative appropriations would service and ultimately retire the bonds.

Whooping Way Toward Canada

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Three of 26 rare whooping cranes left their Texas nesting grounds yesterday on their 2,500-mile annual journey to their summer home in Canada.

Claude Lard, manager of the Aransas National Refuge near Austin, Tex., said the cranes' departure was eight days earlier than last year.

The 26 white whoopers—with jet black wing tips, red head crests and long protruding legs—winter at the Gulf Coast refuge. Four others are in captivity. It is against the law to kill a whooper.

Two adults and a year-old whooper started the trip for the Wood Hole National Park area in Canada, Lard said.

An aerial and ground survey showed three cranes missing yesterday after a check Wednesday showed all were present.

High-Fat Diet Desirable?

MONTREAL (AP)—A Montreal physician, veteran of 17 trips to the arctic, has left on another expedition to the North seeking evidence among the Eskimos to support his theory that a high-fat diet is desirable rather than dangerous.

Dr. Ray Lawson, 43, labels unproved a current idea that eating lots of fat is a major cause of heart and arterial diseases.

He is one of a seven-man government medical-dental team which will travel 15,000 miles examining and treating the nomadic tribes of the Victoria Island region northwest of Hudson Bay.

He aims to investigate particularly the eating habits of the Back River tribe — as yet virtually untouched by the white man's influence.

"These Eskimos are especially important because their entire diet consists of food they kill, a diet which I have reason to believe is high in fat content," he said in an interview.

For more than a year Dr. Lawson's diet has supplied 80 per cent of his calories from fat.

He recently told a meat-packer convention in Toronto: "No one will quarrel with insurance statistics, accurate and quantitative, that show fat people die sooner, but this does not prove that eating fats makes one fat. In my own limited observation, fat eaters do not gain weight."

The fact that cholesterol—a type of fat—is found around arteries afflicted with hardening is no indication high fat consumption is a cause, he added.

in Moons Sound Off

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ground stations are receiving regular radio reports from five of the six transmitters in three American satellites now circling the earth.

Soon after the Army's Explorer III went into orbit March 26, radio tracking stations found difficulty in getting regular reports from the tiny tape recorder built into its nose.

At one time, it was thought the relatively unusual shape of Explorer's orbit was to blame. But Navy scientists said today most of the trouble was located in a triggering device activated by ground receiving stations.

Scientific information also is being received from a conventional transmitter in Explorer III.

The larger of two transmitters in Explorer I, launched by the Army Jan. 31, failed after a few weeks when its battery burned out, as expected. The second transmitter in Explorer I continues to send out signals, and is expected to do so for about a month longer.

Both transmitters in the Navy Vanguard satellite, one powered by a miniature solar battery, continue to transmit and are being picked up regularly.

Hal Boyle Says:

Billionaire Told to Chop Wood for Health

NEW YORK (U)—Once upon a time there was a poor young woodcutter named Emil Q. Harde-man.

He was the son of a woodcutter, and the grandson of a woodcutter. Emil was sturdy and strong and he worked hard. But he hated his work. He was so busy cutting down the trees he could not see the forest.

It did not please the ambitious young man.

"There is more to life than woodcutting," said Emil, throwing the ax into a corner of the hut.

He left and went to the big city and got himself a job collecting for a small loan agency.

Thanks to his stern honesty and his sterner avarice, Emil at 25 owned the small loan agency.

At 30 he owned a bigger loan agency.

At 35 he owned a small bank.

At 40 he owned a big bank.

At 50 he owned a chain of banks, hotels, shooting galleries, ship lines, oil fields, and diaper laundries.

At 60 he owned—well, if it wasn't nailed down it belonged to Emil. He had a billion dollars, but all of a sudden he was desperately unhappy.

His hands shook. He no longer enjoyed chorus girls, caviar or yachts. He couldn't eat. He could not sleep. He even lost pleasure in counting his money—and it was perhaps this symptom that worried and puzzled his doctors the most.

The doctor, turning to a native with a broken arm.

So Emil went back to the hut of his father and picked up the ax he had flung into the corner long ago. He began to chop wood.

This time he was in no hurry. He had time to look at the forest and tell it from the trees. He had time to listen to the birds sing and to pause and watch the chipmunks play.

That night he ate three plates of bread, bacon and canned beans. His muscles ached, but he slept as he had not slept since he was a boy.

Starting 5th Year of Kohler Strike

Prospects of Settlement in Wisconsin Dispute Growing Dimmer

KOHLER, Wis. (U)—The bitter strike at the Kohler Co., entangled in issues and personalities, begins its fifth year tomorrow with prospects of a settlement growing dimmer.

The nation's oldest major labor dispute, the strike has developed into a grinding of the energies of the plumbingware firm and the United Auto Workers.

The principles grimly defended by each side were underscored recently before the Senate Rackets Committee.

"We will not bargain with a gun at our back," a company officer said.

"The company position has been not to settle the strike, but to break the union," a UAW official testified.

Both sides were described as "pretty obstinate" by Committee Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.).

Woman Leaves Church Meeting to Have Baby

SALT LAKE CITY (U)—Mrs. Wade Merrill, 23, Provo, Utah, attending a primary conference of the Latter-Day Saints Church retired to the ladies room of the conference hall, where she gave birth to a baby girl. The baby was premature and weighed less than five pounds.

Brushes With Death Crash-Landing Plane

HOUSTON, Tex. (U)—Robert T. Mumme Jr., 30, was flying from Houston to Lake Charles, La., when his generator and radio went out.

Visibility was poor, he said, and he narrowly missed a power line when he tried to come down in the dark Wednesday night. Mumme said he followed a road, reading the instrument panel of his light plane with a flashlight, until he managed to crash-land in a field beside the road near Winnie, Tex.

His plane was wrecked, but the steel company salesman returned to Houston with only a small bump on his forehead.

Sharp-Eyed Tot Spots Man Hiding Under Bed

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (U)—Paul Jacks took his 5-year-old son Paul Jr. with him when he returned to the office of a lumber company to catch up on some work. While papa was making a phone call, the youngster suddenly tugged on his sleeve.

"Daddy, there's a man under the desk," he said.

Jacks looked. A man crouched in the knee hole of the desk from which Jacks was phoning. Jacks got a hammer and held the man at bay until police arrived.

Police held Leo A. Holloway, 41, Amarillo, Tex., on an open charge.

Policeman David Bradford rushed to give assistance. He and Mrs. Evelyn Distalano worked together to deliver the child. An ambulance crew rushed Mrs. Merrill and the infant to a hospital, where the child was put into an incubator.

The unperturbed lecturer, Mrs. Lou Groesbeck, who had been discussing "Ways of Teaching Music to Children," announced there would be another primary child to which the group could sing.

Grace's Dad Reminded, 'Prince Comes 1st Now'

PHILADELPHIA (U)—John B. Kelly, father of Princess Grace of Monaco, was down at Gulfstream Park racetrack in Florida recently and failed to pick a winner in six races.

In the seventh race, in seventh post position, was a horse named "Happy Princess." Kelly and fellow Philadelphia businessman Arthur C. Kaufmann put a bundle on her nose.

Happy Princess finished second. Said Kaufmann to Kelly: "We forgot, Jack. The new prince comes first now."

Also recorded in the past 12 months were the collapse of a mediation effort by three prominent clergymen, a determination by a National Labor Relations Board examiner that the company prolonged the strike by unfair labor practices, and a rejection by the firm of a UAW offer to settle on the basis of the examiner's finding.

Just last month there was a renewal of the sporadic vandalism that has been linked to the strike.

The strike began when an estimated 2,600 members of Local 833 refused to work in a dispute over union security, wages and fringe benefits. The firm has been in production with nonstrikers and new workers since two months after the strike started.
