'We'll Take Peace Risks'

Rogers Assesses War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers declared today that in deciding on further withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam "we're prepared to take sensible risks for peace."

Rogers told a news conference that while a lull in the war in Vietnam had been broken by a surge of enemy activity on Aug. 11 and 12, "On the whole enemy activity over the last two months has been somewhat less than previously."

★ ★ ★

Rogers said that the United States had responded to a lull — initiated by the Communists in June — in an effort to lower the level of combat but he refused to say precisely what battle orders were given.

He also said that the United States is prepared to respond further to enemy cutbacks in activity.

The emphasis of Rogers' comment on the lull and on "sensible risks for peace" appeared to support the expectation that President Nixon will announce new troop reductions toward the end of the month, although the final decision is yet to be made.

On other issues, Rogers said:

● The current anniversary of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia a year ago "serves as a grim reminder with ominous overtones of the difficulty we have" in trying to negotiate and resolve differences with the Soviet Union.

● The United States and its NATO allies are closely watching the heavily expanded Soviet naval force in the Mediterranean and NATO "is going to take any necessary action to be sure the security of the area is not impaired."

● The Nixon administration is aware of congressional concern that the United States might be dragged into a land war in Thailand and Rogers asserted that if a crisis should arise raising that issue "We will consult with Congress, we will get advice from Congress and in any appropriate respect we will get its consent."

● U.S. moves toward easing relations with Communist China should not have any effect on the Soviet Union's readiness to join in talks with the United States on limitation of strategic nuclear weapons. Rogers said also that the United States is not developing a two-China policy.

● The Soviet Union has not been giving as much help as it could in trying to bring peace to Vietnam and neighboring Laos, and Rogers said that recently they have not done anything at all."

WAR ON HOLDUPS—Susan Separe, 21, of Philadelphia shows what she would like to do with those confining old brassieres. She thinks, like a lot of other young women, that going braless is comfortable and sexy.

No-Bra Push Puts Bounce in Fashion

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — There's a new front in women's revolution for freedom.

Legions of young ladies are turning toward the brassiereless look to give them more freedom of movement.

Evidently it has caught on along Atlantic City's famed Boardwalk — a showplace for displaying new fashion trends.

"Bras are a real pain," grumbled Christine Young, 17, of Philadelphia. "They're too binding. But when you wear a 40D, you have to wear them sometimes," she said.

An 18-year-old floor girl at a Boardwalk auction, Judy Golberg of Levittown, Pa., said she hated brassieres. "I hardly ever wear one."

'MUCH AIRIER'

Cynthia Dimon, a 21-year-old Ohio Wesleyan University student who wears high-waisted braless dresses on her summer job as a newspaper reporter explained:

"It's a habit I picked up at school. Going without them is so much airier and less confining."

Bernice Cappaldo, a 22-year-old Paterson, N.J. high school teacher, acknowledged what was apparent as she windowshopped.

"Whenever possible, I never wear a bra. I put one on only when I really dress up. I'm inhibited without one then."

Kathy Pasterczyk, 16, of Pittsfield, Pa., confided that she feels "awfully stuffy" in bras.

The girls admitted to owning brassieres but preferred to stash them in a closet.

★ ★ ★

But not all the girls approve of the trend.

Cathy Meighan, a 21-year-old nightclub waitress, wants no part of the ban-the-bra movement.

"I don't know too many guys who go for the flat-chested look," she stated.

Despite it all, store clerks at lingerie counters maintain that droopy fashions haven't harmed sales curves.

Business, they claim, is as big as ever.

Soviet Titanium Sales Puzzling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has started selling large amounts of titanium — once called the wonder metal of the 1950s — to the United States. Materials experts say they are puzzled by the move.

Titanium is being used increasingly in American military as well as civilian aircraft.

A few weeks ago the first Soviet merchant ship to call on the United States this decade docked at Seattle, to deliver 900 tons of sponge titanium — as it is referred to in its intermediate production form.

And now officials say the same ship is bringing another big load to the United States next month.

The Soviets sent only 421 tons of sponge titanium to this country in all of 1968, with ships of other flags importing it.

The United States has a domestic titanium production capacity of its own but is unable to compete with Soviet or Japanese prices.

Some officials suspect the Soviets may be trying to undercut the fledgling U.S. titanium industry, possibly to disrupt its progress.

American companies can get Soviet titanium for $1 per pound, about 30 cents below prices charged by U.S producers and about 20 cents below the Japanese price.

★ ★ ★

One materials expert figures that the Soviets have excess titanium production capacity at the moment and may be dumping the metal in this country at a loss.

An industry source suggested the Russians are out to collect some American dollars while shedding their excess titanium stocks.

A big surge in U.S. demand for titanium—favored because of its high strength-to-weight ratio — is forecast over the next few years.

Gas Leaks, Malaria Peril Gulf

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — Leaking gas and the threat of malaria added new problems today on the Mississippi Gulf Coast where weary rescue teams still search for bodies in the trail of destruction left by Hurricane Camille.

The death count from the monster storm stood at 170 but Mississippi's deputy civil defense director, Prentiss Baughman, said he expected the death count to reach 230 eventually as the more remote areas are reached.

"They have unconfirmed reports that between 180 and 185 dead have been found on the Mississippi Gulf Coast," the state's Civil Defense headquarters in Jackson said today.

C. P. Wimberly, administrator at the Gulfport Memorial Hospital, said, "There is malaria in the regular city water at this time."

★ ★ ★

Water tanks streamed into the stricken coast from New Orleans, Baton Rouge, La., and other nearby points.

New Orleans sent 13,000 gallons in tank cars while Baton Rouge shipped 15,000 gallons. But this was hardly enough for refugees and evacuees estimated by some sources at 200,000 and all seeking some sort of aid.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Frank Wygul, director of general health services for Mississippi, said there was no immediate danger of a typhoid epidemic but cautioned only boiled water or that from a relief agency should be drunk.

"We are also faced with a fly, mosquito and rat problem," said Joe Brown, Mississippi sanitary engineering director. Freighters wrenched from their moorings in the Gulfport harbor slammed into a cat-food factory, spilling its stores and attracting a growing rat population.

LIMITED MARTIAL LAW

The coast remained under the limited martial law order imposed by Gov. John Bell Williams who said yesterday that "some people estimate the death rate could go up to above 500 and possibly reach 1,000."

The governor predicted total damage "might perhaps go beyond a billion dollars."

Some areas still have not been reached by rescue crews. Communications were erratic, sometimes nonexistent.

★ ★ ★

Officials said it might be several more days before the full extent of death and damage was known.

In Mobile, Ala., the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers said men and equipment were being sent in to begin opening roads and streets clogged with heavy wreckage and debris.

Emergency telephone and power repair crews collected from nearby states struggled to restore communications along the coastal strip.

★ ★ ★

Truckloads of food rumbled in, some provided by the regional U.S. Department of Agriculture office in Jackson, Miss., and some by private organizations.

Mercy flights of vital supplies and medicine were organized.

OU PERFORMER—Folk singer Tim Buckley wails out a moody ballad for the crowd last night at Oakland University's Baldwin Pavilion. The rock concert, part of Meadow Brook's Special Events Series, attracted about 3,000 young persons. Detroit's the Frost and the Symphonic Metamorphosis shared billing with Buckley (Related story, page B-5).

Road Safety Unit Wanders as Hunt for 'Driver' Drags

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's search for a new federal highway safety director has dragged into its seventh month with critics complaining the agency is hopelessly adrift.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe said two weeks ago he hoped to announce a new director for the National Highway Safety Bureau "soon." He voiced a similar hope in April.

★ ★ ★

The appointment is still being cleared with the White House and presumably with Republicans on Capitol Hill, a Department of Transportation spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, according to Dr. William Haddon Jr., the bureau "is fast becoming a victim of bureaucratic encirclement, resource starvation and an antiquated notion reflected in government priority-setting that nothing should or can be done to reduce the nation's appalling highway losses in damaged people and property."

★ ★ ★

Haddon, director of the agency since its formation in 1966, resigned last February with the change of administration.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., a pioneer in auto and highway safety, says sadly the bureau he helped create is a "failure."

Tonight, Thursday Will Remain Fair

Poets may rave and write about a day in June, but what is more perfect than today's cloudless skies of blue, a light breeze and temperatures in the 70s.

And the weatherman predicts fair tonight and tomorrow with no precipitation in sight until possibly Friday.

Temperatures will drop into the cool 50s tonight and rise to 75 to 82 tomorrow.

Fifty-six was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The mercury had warmed up to 76 by 2 p.m.

AMC Is Mapping Reply to UAW

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — American Motors Corp. begins today getting its answers ready for United Auto Worker demands that it match wages and fringe benefits prevailing in contracts with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—or show its financial inability to do so.

The company has until Sept. 4 to reply.

* * *

The demands were laid on the bargaining table Tuesday as the UAW and American Motors opened negotiations on an agreement to replace a current two-year pact running out Oct. 16.

The union said, however, it was prepared to negotiate "in the light of the economic situation" at AMC and "we certainly have no intention of putting the company out of business."

Frank G. Armstrong, AMC vice president-administration, promised the union a "reply in detail" Sept. 4, but said yesterday it would be premature to express himself without further study of the demands.

UAW Vice President Pat Greathouse took only an hour in outlining the union's proposals, including one that the new contract be for only 10 months and 28 days.

* * *

That, Greathouse pointed out, would permit the new AMC contract to expire on Sept. 4, 1970, along with three-year agreements signed in 1967 with the big Three of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Then in financial straits, AMC got a two-year pact with a five-cent wage differential and was permitted to forego some fringe benefits, such as higher pensions, won at the Big Three.

The fourth U.S. auto maker's financial situation has reversed since, and it now is in the black.

AMC reported a profit of $8.9 million for its 1967-68 fiscal year, and $7.8 million for the first three quarters of the current year.

To match Big Three wages, it would have to add the five-cent general increase it omitted in 1967, plus an eight cent hourly cost-of-living adjustment going into effect Oct. 27 and a 3 per cent automatic across-the-board pay boost effective Nov. 24.

Based on an average hourly straight time wage of $3.79 now prevailing at American Motors, the package would increase direct payroll costs slightly more than 24 cents hourly.

* * *

The average hourly straight time pay at the Big Three now is figured at $3.83.

* * *

Greathouse said AMC's new, short contract need not necessarily duplicate those with any of the Big Three, but that the union wants "the total economic benefits in line with them."

Birmingham

City Honored for Pedestrian Safety Mark

BIRMINGHAM — The city has received the American Automobile Association Pedestrian Safety Citation Award for not having a single pedestrian fatality during 1968.

Birmingham competed with more than 1,800 other communities of similar populations in the United States. The average pedestrian fatality count for those communities was 2.9. Birmingham's last pedestrian fatality was in 1967.

* * *

Birmingham also has not recorded a traffic fatality this year.

The Birmingham Board of Education will continue discussion of the school district's transportation policy at a special 8 p.m. meeting, Tuesday, Aug. 26 in the board room of the Administration Building, 550 W. Merrill.

At the Aug. 5 meeting, the board voted to continue busing exceptions only at Bingham Farms, Franklin, Harlan and Pembroke.

* * *

Children from those attendance areas who were formerly bused under the exception will continue to be bused no later than Nov. 1.

The board so acted in order to allow parents more time to complete safety arrangements such as sidewalks and crossing guards.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the board of education received a $23,719 bid for redevelopment of the Baldwin Elementary School playground.

Low bidder was the George E. Young Nursery Inc., Oak Park. The other bid for $50,300 was from the J. D. Armstrong Landscape Co.

* * *

Grading, layout of play fields and erection of playground equipment is expected to be completed by the opening of school in September.

The Baldwin playground is being expanded over the grounds occupied by the Hill Building which was demolished early this summer. The Hill Building formerly housed the school district's administrative offices.

Beret Probe Resumes; Army Chief in Vietnam

LONG BINH, Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Army today resumed its preliminary investigation to determine whether eight Green Berets accused of killing a Vietnamese double agent will be brought to trial.

* * *

As the hearing resumed 12 miles north of Saigon, Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor arrived in South Vietnam with a report on the Green Beret case as one of his chief objectives. He came on an inspection trip planned for some time, but congressional criticism of the Army's handling of the case moved it to the top of his agenda.

* * *

The pretrial investigation, similar to a grand jury proceeding, began in mid-July but was halted Aug. 2.

* * *

Henry B. Rothblatt, a civilian lawyer from New York City representing three of the men, predicted the investigation would be completed tomorrow and that all eight would be freed.

'WEAK CASE'

"If ever I've witnessed a weak case, this is it," he said, adding that the Army has yet to produce a witness to the slaying, which reportedly occurred June 20.

* * *

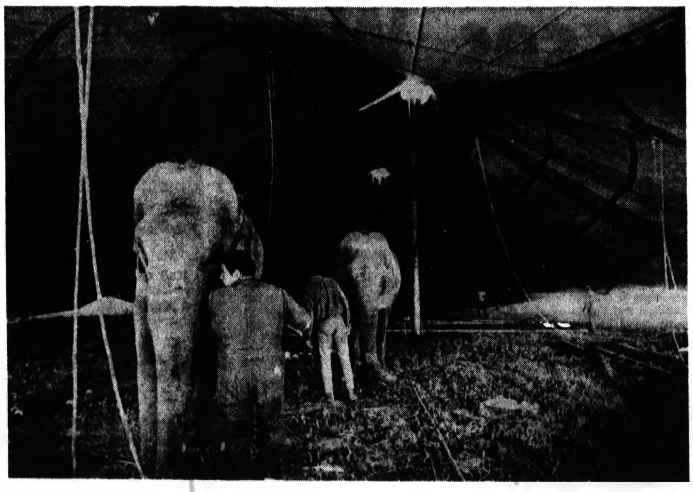

Rothblatt and another civilian attorney, George Gregory of Cheraw, S.C., told newsmen they will move for the dismissal of charges against the men at the end of the investigation. Gregory is defending one of the eight men in the case.

* * *

Rothblatt said only two witnesses testified briefly during the day-long session today and both were called by the Army. He said one was an enlisted man and the other a civilian.

* * *

Among the eight men charged is the former commander of all Special Forces troops in Vietnam, Col. Robert Rheault of Vineyard Haven, Mass.

Protests Erupt as Police Patrol Prague Streets

PRAGUE (AP) — Riot police and troops patrolled Prague today, ready to crack down on anything that looked like a demonstration on the first anniversary of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

About 500 riot police clubbed and teargassed crowds to clear Wenceslas Square three times last night, but after each attack allowed the throngs to return. Twenty persons were believed arrested and three were injured.

* * *

The show of police force apparently was intended to emphasize the warnings from Communist party leaders against anti-Soviet demonstrations to protest the invasion that started one year ago tonight.

No such demonstrations were observed last night. The crowds stood silent and sullen, refusing to heed police orders to move on. When force was used, they taunted the police with whistles and cries of "Gestapo! Gestapo!"

POLICE ACCUSED

In side streets leading to the square were scenes reminiscent of the debates last year, when young Czechs asked Soviet tank crews why they had come and why they didn't go home.

This time young Czechs accused their own people, the police, of making trouble and told them to go home.

A new underground leaflet appeared today accusing the police and hard-line Communists of planning to incite the people into a revolt. The leaflet warned against provocateurs and urged the people to limit themselves to passive demonstrations on the invasion anniversary.

The leaflet charged that the police and the old guard, aided by Soviet agents, would try to provoke the public into acts of insurrection.

Soviets Said to Be Avoiding Vietnam Peace Efforts

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union has all but backed out of efforts to mediate peace in Vietnam, diplomatic sources said today.

Well-informed Communist diplomats said there is nothing for Moscow to do in the current state of the Vietnam war and negotiations in Paris.

They let it be clearly understood the Kremlin now has no intention of taking any diplomatic initiative or pushing any mediation effort in Hanoi to facilitate peace.

The Soviet attitude was motivated by its belief the United States has done nothing worthwhile to date, from the Communist viewpoint, to justify Soviet intervention, let alone Soviet pressure on the regime of President Ho Chi Minh.

NIXON IGNORED

President Nixon's de-escalation program and latest moves toward partial withdrawal of American forces were brushed aside as "insignificant or outright meaningless."

Diplomats argued that the United States at the same time was arming South Vietnam and reinforcing it with the clear intention to make it strong enough to do the job the Americans have been doing.

* * *

They countered Western charges that Moscow is continuing to pour large quantities of arms into North Vietnam with the argument the United States is supplying weapons to the South Vietnamese.

The Soviets evidently are aware of American criticism of Moscow's Vietnam policy and of the absence of Russian goodwill to help in the stalemated peace effort.

COULD HELP

Western diplomatic quarters have been arguing Moscow could have been helpful lately by both pressuring Hanoi politically and, more convincingly, by scaling down its massive arms deliveries which are boosting Hanoi's defiant posture.

Kennedy Case Inquest--Why?

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — The inquest that opens on Sept. 3 into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne is a long-established way in Massachusetts law to determine the legal cause of death, as distinct from the medical cause.

What can the inquest hope to accomplish?

In the words of one former prosecutor, "An inquest . . . is used to clear the air and close the books publicly on a case about which questions have arisen."

Miss Kopechne, 28, a Washington, D.C. secretary, was killed July 18 when a car driven by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts went off a bridge into a pond on Chappaquiddick Island. The accident went unreported for nine hours.

Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis sought and obtained the court order for the inquest to determine, in his words, if the girl's death "may have resulted from the act or negligence of a person or persons other than the deceased."

Assistant district attorneys who have conducted inquests in district courts in Massachusetts point out major differences between inquests and trials.

There is no accused at an inquest and no prosecution and defense as such.

They point out that the atmosphere at an inquest is less rigid than at a trial.

After all the evidence is in, the judge files a written report detailing his findings, step by step, and giving his conclusion.

The determination might be of suicide or of accidental death or of homicide or of some lesser legal finding such as negligence.

The report may be used as the basis for bringing a case to the grand jury, or it may be ignored. That decision is up to the prosecutor.

Standard Hikes Gasoline Price

DETROIT (UPI) — Standard Oil Co. announced yesterday it has raised the wholesale price of gasoline more than four cents a gallon to force up retail prices and hopefully end a two-month gasoline price war.

Vice President Milo Hector said wholesale prices for regular gasoline were raised from 13.1 to 17.5 cents a gallon.

Hector recommended that the company's Detroit-area dealers raise pump charges by six cents.

The company is recommending that gas war-lowered regular prices of 30.9 cents be boosted back to 36.9 cents a gallon for regular.

* * *

Since the price war started two months ago, regular gasoline has sold at from 26 to 34 cents a gallon.

Standard had lowered wholesale prices twice since the war started and other companies had followed suit.

'Brutality' Probe Ends; 1 Cleared

The Pontiac Police Trial Board last night concluded its investigation of alleged police brutality in the city, dismissing charges against one officer. A decision on charges against a second officer probably will be made in the next three weeks.

Board Chairman Isadore Goode, a local attorney, said today charges against Patrolman Carl Yuill were dismissed last night.

* * *

The charge of brutality that has been leveled at Patrolman Raymond Hawks will be decided after the board reexamines parts of the transcript of testimony heard in the last three weeks, Goode said.

Hawks and Yuill were charged with brutality after a July 10 incident at the Hayes Jones Community Center. Two black community workers were charged with creating a disturbance and resisting arrest during a minor scuffle.

* * *

Goode said board members needed more time to review testimony before deciding on charges against Hawks.

Meanwhile, preliminary examination proceedings against the two black accusers yesterday were adjourned until Aug. 28. Kenneth R. Walker, 27, of 97 S. Jessie and Elick Shorter, 25, of 529 Judson will appear before District Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Legendary Aunt Lulu Dies; Was Pen Pal to Hundreds

Aunt Lulu is dead.

"You could walk into Lake Orion a stranger and ask anyone where Aunt Lulu lived and they would direct you just as if you were in Detroit asking for Woodward Avenue."

MRS. MIDDLETON

That's Funeral Director Ron Allen's epitaph for 'Aunt Lulu' Middleton, who died yesterday at 87.

Service will be 1 p.m. Friday at Allen's Funeral Home, Lake Orion, with burial in East Lawn Cemetery, Lake Orion.

Mrs. Middleton was a member of Lake Orion Methodist Church, a former teacher for the Eaton Public School District, a member of Orion Chapter 340 OES, the Lake Orion Senior Citizens Club and the East Orion Farm Bureau and an honorary life member of East Orion Extension Club.

Surviving are three sons, Marvin and Keith, both of Oakland Township, and Cleon of Oxford; 11 grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

Aunt Lulu began writing to "her boys" —her own sons and the men of Oakland and Orion townships—stationed abroad during World War II.

At last count, Aunt Lulu was corresponding with more than 500 servicemen.

"She could hardly wait for the mail to arrive," a daughter-in-law recalled. "Her boys would send her trinkets and souvenirs from all over the world. It was almost her whole life."

Aunt Lulu's "hand got a little shaky," her son said. She hadn't written servicemen for several years.

Now the mailbox is empty.

IN EARLIER DAYS—This is a file shot of Black Panther National Chairman Bobby Seale (left) and Defense Minister Huey Newton. The FBI arrested Seale last night in Berkeley, Calif., in connection with the May kidnaping and slaying of a Panther member. Newton is now serving 2 to 15 years in the killing of an Oakland, Calif., policeman. The date this picture was taken is not known.

FBI Arrests Panther Head

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — FBI agents arrested Bobby Seale, national chairman of the Black Panther party, Tuesday night on a fugitive warrant charging flight from a murder charge in the torture killing of a former Black Panther in New Haven, Conn.

Seale, 32, was surrounded and taken into custody without resistance as he rode in an automobile with other members of the militant Negro organization in the nearby university city of Berkeley.

* * *

Charles W. Bates, FBI agent in charge for the San Francisco area, said Seale is charged in Connecticut with murder and kidnaping in the death of Alex Rackley of New York, a former party member whose burned and mutilated body was found in a shallow river 20 miles from New Haven last May.

The federal warrant charges unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

NEW YORK PLOT

Rackley died May 21, shortly after the arrest in New York of 21 Panthers in what police said was a plot to blow up buildings. His death followed a "kangaroo court" trial, New Haven police said, in which he was believed to have been accused of disloyalty to the party.

FBI agents brought Seale to San Francisco County jail pending an arraignment before U.S. Commissioner Richard Goldsmith.

* * *

In New Haven, Police Chief James Ahern said a Superior Court warrant issued Tuesday also charges Seale with conspiracy to commit murder and conspiracy to commit kidnaping.

Fourteen other persons have been arrested in connection with the Rackley slaying.

'AT LEAST 50'

Bates declined to say how many FBI agents took part in Seale's capture near the University of California.

However, Raymond M. Hewitt, a Panther who was in the Seale car, declared there were "at least 50" agents, all heavily armed.

* * *

The Panther party was founded by Seale and Huey Newton, who is now serving a term for manslaughter in the killing of an Oakland policeman.

Seale is on three year's probation for carrying a gun near the Oakland Hall of Justice on May 22, 1961.

ON PROBATION

He was an unsuccessful candidate last fall for the California Assembly, whose legislative chambers in Sacramento he and other Panthers invaded with rifles in a 1967 demonstration against a gun control bill. Seale also was placed on three years' probation for that incident.

* * *

A fugitive warrant in a different case is still outstanding for Panther Information Minister Eldridge Cleaver, who fled the United States last November to avoid being returned to prison for parole violation. His parole on a shooting conviction was revoked after he was charged in a shoot-out with Oakland police.

Portions of the Rhine River were polluted by wastes as early as 1187.

Cleveland's Key Blacks—— Plot Targets?

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland police say they believe renegade Black Nationalists have marked several leaders of the city's black community for assassination.

Police developed the theory Tuesday after discovering the body of Roger Harson, a 20-year-old lieutenant in the black nationalist Mau Mau sect.

* * *

It was the fourth shooting within two weeks involving leaders of black organizations. Three incidents were aimed at Pride Inc. Police said they believe black renegades are opposed to Pride, Operation Black Unity and Negroes sympathetic to their causes.

Harson was shot twice in the head with a .45-caliber pistol, police said.

TELLS WHY

Ya Ya Fulton, leader of the Cleveland Mau Mau group, told police that his organization supported Pride because it was trying to get prostitutes off the streets and Operation Black Unity because it was trying to get Negro ownership for four McDonald's restaurants in black areas.

* * *

Detectives investigating the shooting of Harson said they learned of a plot by a band of Black Nationalists to eliminate leaders of the two groups and those sympathetic to the groups.

Baxter Hill, 34, director of Pride, a federally funded summer youth employment and community betterment program, was shot at after his car was forced to the curb on the Southeast Side Aug. 11.

* * *

Hill's No. 2 man, Leander "Kim" Jackson, was shot to death Aug. 9. Jackson was answering a trouble call on Hough Avenue, police said.

The No. 3 man in Pride, Albert "Breeze" Forest, 39, was shot in the leg Friday when he was investigating a house of prostitution.

Protests Possible Loss of Income

Fine Bill Irks Township

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A proposed state bill directing that violation fines collected by townships be paid directly into the State Library Fund has angered the Township Board here.

Currently, all or part of the fines for ordinance violations go back to the political subdivision whose ordinance was violated, as per legislation enacted the first of this year.

TOWNSHIPS 2ND CLASS

"Another case of townships being second-class municipalities," claimed a letter from Township Attorney Joseph T. Brennan to Joseph Parisi, executive director of the Michigan Townships association.

The letter, read to the board this week, urges the association to fight House Bill 2677.

The present bill (HB 2677) would repeal the earlier legislation. Prior to Jan. 1, fines netted from township ordinance violations were payable to the State Library Fund.

January's legislation reversed the prior practice. HB 2677, in effect, seeks to reverse the reversal.

A HOOKER

"Although HB 2677 seems innocuous enough . . . and even appears to be a benefit to townships by increasing our fining power from $100 to $500, there is a hooker here . . . ," Breenan's letter said.

The catch is the phrase, "fines, penalties and forefeitures shall be payable in the same manner and to the same fund as fines for the violation of the laws of state," Brennan said. State fines go to the Library Fund, he noted.

Township Supervisor John Doherty indicated that if the fines were taken away, the township would retain only the "questionable honor" of holding court here.

* * *

The township paid for the physical installation of the new district court on the third floor of Township Hall. The trustees also budgeted $5,000 from the new year's operating budget for court costs. No revenue other than fines comes to the township from the court.

MAINTENANCE COSTS

Board members agreed that township residents should be alert to the Legislature's proposal in view of the township's court maintenance costs.

* * *

Doherty declared, "Thieves, killers, dope addicts, speeders and other lawbreakers who are using the court should have to pay for it, instead of the taxpayer."

Doherty added, "The community provides the court to see that justice is metal. But if there were no lawbreaking — there would be no need for a court."

Farmers' Spirit Isn't Dampened

MAYVILLE — It's not easy to get farmers all together on the very same day — even for a threshing contest.

* * *

Too many chores and too many miles make rural get-togethers like this one in Lapeer County few and far between.

* * *

When Saturday's threshing contest was rained out, the assembled farmers were not willing to give up their fellowship.

* * *

So the farmers and their families ate picnic lunches on rain-soaked tables.

* * *

The two men at the right wandered from the picnic table to the threshing field . . . They had planned to outthresh all hands.

Novi Ordinance Authorized Banning Dumping of Effluent

NOVI — City Attorney Howard Bond has been authorized to write an ordinance prohibiting the dumping of septic-tank effluent anywhere in Novi.

"The ordinance would require that dumping be limited to facilities authorized by the Oakland County Department of Public Works. The nearest authorized site is Eight Mile and Lahser.

* * *

The approximately 30 residents attending the council meeting this week appeared satisfied with the proposed ordinance. Last week, residents flooded the council meeting to protest dumping of raw sewage on open ground by septic tank companies.

Tickets for illegal dumping were issued last week to drivers of the A&H Sanitation Co., 851 N. Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, and the C&C Septic Tank Co., 88 N. Williams Lake, Waterford Township.

* * *

Apparently, the dumping had been permitted by the Oakland County Health Department, acting on behalf of Novi during its former village status according to Mayor Joseph Crupi.

A County Health Department spokesman explained that the dumpers had failed to carry proper legal papers during last week's dumping and were thus in violation of county rulings.

Walled Lake Eying Bids on Sewerage

WALLED LAKE — City Manager Royce Downey announced last night that bids for the proposed $9.5-million sanitary sewer system were being tabulated.

The system is planned for Walled Lake and Novi residents around the southern end of Walled Lake.

* * *

He told City Council members, "The bids appear to be over the engineer's estimate. We are endeavoring to take certain portions of different bids and put them together as a total. This way the bids might be in the ball park."

Ten contractors offered bids for the various sections of the work. The contract is divided into seven sections including sewage treatment plant, trunk lines, pumping stations and four sections of lateral pipes.

Water-Level Fees to Be Discussed

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Lakeside residents are invited to an 8 p.m. meeting tomorrow to a discussion of "inconsistent" water-level assessments.

The meeting is at the White Lake Inn, corner of Ormond and Jackson.

The meeting is being organized by several concerned citizens. Contact Clarence Reading Sr. of 3565 Ormond for additional information.

Postal Hiring Changed

WASHINGTON (AP) — New examining procedures were announced today for filling first- second- and third-class postmaster vacancies when the recently established national and regional selection boards are unable to recommend a qualified career postal employee for the job.

Postmaster General Winton M. Blount and Civil Service Commission Chairman Robert E. Hampton said in such cases the Post Office Department will ask the Civil Service Commission to conduct an open competitive examination to establish a list of well-qualified eligibles.

GIs in Viet Get Break

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department says it will allow servicemen in Vietnam to send money orders back to the United States free of charge.

The new regulations, aimed at encouraging savings by the servicemen, go into effect Sept. 15. They also provide for a fee reduction on money orders purchased at most other overseas military bases.

For Avondale District

Board Ratifies Teacher Pact

Avondale's school board ratified its 1969-70 teacher's contract this week by unanimous vote. The teachers had ratified the contract earlier.

The pact's major provision was an average salary raise per teacher of $759. Minimum wage for a BA degree holder starts at $7,500 and increases to $12,000 in 11 steps. Holders of an M.A. start at $8,300, and increase to $13,400 in 11 steps.

The letter compares to $7,869 starting pay for last school term, which increased to $12,148.

Other contract changes include a pay hike for driver education teachers to $6.25 per hour, only two teacher in-service training days (81 days of instruction, workman's compensation increased from $5,000 to $7,000 and Blue Cross coverage.

Thieves Loot Home in West Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — An undetermined amount of household items were taken from the ransacked home of Clarence Burnett at 5511 Pontiac Trail in a break-in yesterday.

Thieves apparently entered the home during the day through a garage door.

'Pot' Possession Is Charged to Pair

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Police arrested a Utica man and a Detroit youth on marijuana possession charges last night.

* * *

Police said Thomas Tointe, 21, of Utica and Robert Kane, 20 of Detroit were arrested while parked in a car on Huron-Clinton Authority property in the 22 Mile-Ryan Road area.

* * *

Both suspects were held in Macomb County Jail last night. Arraignment in 42nd District Court was scheduled for this morning.

Division in Troy Plans Expansion at $11.1-Million Cost

TROY — North American Rockwell Corp. has announced an $11.1-million expansion program for its Automotive Divisions Technical Center, 2445 W. Maple.

Expansion plans include construction of a large laboratory for research in product improvement and development and conversion of a recently purchased manufacturing plant into an engineering building. Nearby, a test track to handle heavy commercial vehicles being tested under maximum loads will be built.

* * *

Previously, the Troy division has been research and development-oriented but with the expansion, the division becomes a full technical center incorporating engineering for the automotive divisions headquartered in Detroit.

The renovated building will be ready for occupancy in December and the new laboratory by mid-1970.

The planned expansion will enable the company to increase research and development personnel employed at the center from 100 to 500, according to F. W. Parker Jr., president of the division. The expansion will also triple existing floor space at the center which now consists of a single research and development building.

North American Rockwell is engaged in 19 engineering and manufacturing businesses with major strengths in research and developmeal, aerospace and Commercial products.

Hampton Square to Include Civic Center

Avon 'New Town' to Be Started by '71

AVON TOWNSHIP — Hampton Square, the township's newest "new town" development, will be under construction by 1971.

It will be located on the Ferry-Morse seed farm property (bounded by Hamlin, Rochester, Auburn and John R roads). The developers have agreed to reserve a site for a new township civic center.

The Township Board recently granted final approval to codevelopers Slavik Investors and Frankel Associates Slavik is the firm that is developing Rochester's Great Oaks subdivision on University near Ludlow Street.

Home Of New Civic Center And Hampton Square 'New Town'

Frankel Associates is developer of Troy's Somerset Park apartment complex and was responsible for introducing to Oakland County such stores as Bonwit Teller, Saks Fifth Avenue and Abercrombie and Fitch.

* * *

A total of 2,721 dwelling units — apartments, town houses and single-family homes — is planned for the 728-acre Hampton Square site

SPECIAL FEATURES

Special features of Hampton Square include the township civic center, a shopping center, three school sites, a church site, swimming pools, community center and open recreational areas.

Two conditions, agreed upon by the Township Board and the codevelopers, will assure maintenance of the site's existing wooded landscape and open areas. Greenery once required by the seed farm for windbreaking and water retention will be preserved.

* * *

Changes from the developers' original presentation to the township planning commission were the increase from two to three acres for two elementary school sites and the reservation of 50 acres for a future high school.

* * *

The Hampton Square property had previously been zoned for single-family homes only. The Township Board's action changed that zoning to permit office and professional buildings, residential construction and general business activity.

Vilican-Leman & Associates of Southfield, the township's planning consultant firm, endorsed the Hampton Square plan, noting, "The large tract development will by design provide a controlled balance between business, residential and recreational needs for a complete community."

Area Couple Plans Victorian Museum

ROCHESTER — Dr. and Mrs. Oscar J. Sorenson Jr. of 404 W. Third have purchased and remodeled a 110-year old house at 324 East Street.

* * *

The Sorensons have applied to the city for a business license to operate the "Wedgewood Hall," as they have named it, as a Victorian museum open to the public by paid admission.

N-Test Still in Works

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has dropped a big hint that it still hopes to touch off an underground nuclear blast at Amchitka Island, Alaska, Oct. 15.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced yesterday it is establishing a "safety area"—50 nautical miles in radius—all around the remote island in the Aleutian chain.

Ex-Envoy Wins Governor Bid

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — William C. Battle, backed by most of the Democratic party leadership, has won the state's first runoff primary election to choose a nominee for governor. Victor in the Tuesday runoff over state Sen. Henry E. Howell Jr. by 21,600 votes out of about 430,000 cast, Battle immediately called on Howell's workers to make common cause against the Republicans in November.

* * *

The 43-year-old winner is a son of former Gov. John S. Battle. He was U.S. ambassador to Australia under the late President John F. Kennedy.

In the runoff for the Democratic nomination for attorney general, Andrew P. Miller of Abingdon swept the state with 63 per cent of the vote over Guy O. Farley Jr. of Fairfax.

LATE RETURNS

Nearly complete returns from the state's 2,031 precincts gave:

For governor—Battle 225,390, Howell 204,226, with eight precincts out.

For attorney general—Miller 256,453, Farley 149,699, with 11 precincts out.

* * *

The third member of the three-man ticket the Democrats will field in November, is state Sen. J. Sargeant Reynolds of Richmond, an executive in the giant aluminum company controlled by his family. He is the party candidate for lieutenant governor.

Reynolds scored an easy victory in the original July 15 primary in a field of four.

Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr., who cannot succeed himself, strongly backed Battle against Howell in the runoff. He sent best wishes to Battle and Miller and promised his support to keep unbroken the Democratic line of succession in both offices in the past century.

Linwood Holton, the Republican Battle will face in November, was a regional manager in President Nixon's campaigns last year and hopes the President may find time to campaign for him in Virginia, one of the two states which elect governors this year.

* * *

Nixon barnstormed the state for Holton four years ago when he made an unsuccessful run against Godwin.

Miller's father, Francis Pickens Miller, gave Battle's father a tough challenge in a four-way primary for governor in 1949.

RUNOFF LAW

As a result of that primary, requiring a majority of the vote the state enacted the runoff law for nomination.

It was applied in a statewide race for the first time Tuesday.

Battle also was the top vote-getter in the July primary but failed to win a majority in the three-man field. Lt. Gov. Fred G. Pollard ran third.

EMOTIONAL MOMENT—Roman Polanski, Polish film director whose wife, actress Sharon Tate, was slain with four other persons 11 days ago, tries to keep his emotions under control as he appears at a news conference in Beverly Hills yesterday. He said of his 20-month marriage to Miss Tate that it was "the only time of true happiness in my life." Polanski offered no clues on the slayings.

Polanski Calls Life With Sharon Happy

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Fighting back tears, Polish film director Roman Polanski called his 20-month marriage to slain actress Sharon Tate "the only time of true happiness in my life."

"There were agonies of separation," he told a news conference Tuesday, "which I was always trying to dismiss with laughter and silly jokes."

Related Story, Page D-4

* * *

Polanski offered no clue to the killer or killers of his 26-year-old wife, 8½ months pregnant, who was slain 11 days ago with four others in the Polanskis' rented $200,000 mansion in exclusive Bel Air.

He called the conference, he told newsmen, because "you are curious about my relationship with Sharon."

'TRUE HAPINESS'

"I can tell you that the last few months as much as the last few years I spent with her were only time of true happiness in my life."

His voice breaking with emotion, the 36-year-old director of "Rosemary's Baby" and other bizarre films spoke of his wife in accented English.

"All of you know how beautiful she was, but few of you know how good she was. She was vulnerable, she couldn't refuse any friendship, she had in numerable friends.

* * *

"There was lot of talk about parties going on in our house, which are true. There was a constant party. There wasn't an evening without friends."

Polanski said two of the others slain, his Polish friend Voityck Frokowsky, 37, and hair stylist Jay Sebring, 35, "smoked pot sometimes." But Miss Tate, he said, "not only didn't use drugs, she didn't touch alcohol, didn't smoke cigarettes."

'OFTEN GUESTS'

He said Frokowsky and another victim, coffee heiress Abigail Folger, 26, "were often guests in our house in our evenings."

The fifth slain in the early morning massacre was Steven Parent, 18, a friend of the estate caretaker.

Ireland Cries for Unity

Heavy, heavy, the burden of history hangs over troubled Ireland.

What insanity, that three centuries after the bitter religious wars that wracked Europe and in a time of ecumenism when men have at last begun to emphasize their similarities instead of their differences, that a civilized nation should plunge itself into virtual civil war, with one sect against another.

Catholic-Protestant prejudice and distrust is not the sole basis of the strife in Northern Ireland, of course. The politics of it date back to the days of Elizabethan imperialism and England's attempt to secure its hold on Ireland by importing Scottish Protestant settlers. Far beyond that, there are ancient roots in ethnic conflict—Celt vs. Anglo-Saxon.

But remove the question of religious differences and the problem of Ireland would long ago have been solved.

★ ★ ★

We cannot escape history, said LINCOLN. Neither can men escape the future.

Irish Catholic and Irish Protestant must someday live in harmony and equality and cooperation. Both sides must someday cast off the deadly burden of history that for so many generations has pressed them into the mire of hatred and bloodshed.

How much more pain must they inflict on one another, and on their children, before they learn that? How many generations more will they betray the very religions they profess to follow?

'Father, Forgive Them . . .'

Franc Cut a Pompidou Plus

Devaluation of the franc may appear far away and of little concern to Americans, other than the tourists among us in a position to cash in immediately on the sudden 12.5 per cent bonus in the dollar's purchasing power in France, but such is the interdependence of the world today that this is far from being the case.

Chronic weakness of the franc in recent years has contributed greatly to an uneasy international economic balance, and that has had its effect on our lives and the value of our dollars here at home.

★ ★ ★

Fortunately, what might possibly have been an immediate result of devaluation, a renewed attack on the dollar along with the shaky British pound, has so far shown no signs of materializing. In large part, this may be due to the exquisite timing of the French move carried through when world money markets were quiet and thus catching speculators off balance.

This might be expected of President POMPIDOU, considering his background in high finance. There is also a political angle. With devaluation, POMPIDOU has taken his longest step to date out of the shadow of CHARLES DE GAULLE, who steadfastly refused to consider such a move despite continued shrinking of French reserves.

Despite the flak he is encountering inside France as a result of concurrent efforts to hold the lid on price and wage increases, POMPIDOU stands to reap political advantage by establishing himself as a president with his own convictions and the skill to carry them out.

★ ★ ★

Hopefully, devaluation also marks another step away from De Gaulle's play-it-alone stance and toward a role in the international community based on practicality, not pompous pride.

Robin Hood Goes Modern

The British have a word to describe that retired thief in Yugoslavia who is asking the government for a pension. The word is "cheeky."

AEVKO ZAHIROVIC-REVO, 83, claims he deserves a state pension because in his career as a thief he stole from the rich and gave to the poor, thus benefiting society. Also, he helped keep money in circulation.

He may have a point. The trouble is, the Yugoslav Robin Hood was himself out of circulation for nearly half his life. He spent 36 of his 83 years in prison—at the expense of the government.

W. German Achievements Impressive

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Foreign News Analyst

NEW YORK — Some 40 million West Germans will go to the polls Sept. 28 to elect a new Bundestag.

This year their national elections also coincide with the 20th anniversary of the Federal Republic of Germany. It was in 1949 that the western part of Germany became an independent state with the consent of the United States, Britain and France.

DENNEN

Two decades is a short time in the life of a nation, but long enough to discern a country's essential character and the guidelines it lays down for the future.

★ ★ ★

A visitor who saw West Germany a wasteland of war ruins is indeed impressed with what the Germans achieved, through a free economy and hard work, in 20 years.

West Germany has emerged as an industrial giant with the strongest currency and highest standard of living in Europe.

KEY NATO NATION

It is also one of the key nations in NATO and the Western alliance.

Like most industrialized countries, West Germany also is facing a host of critical problems, including the reappearance of extreme rightist and leftist parties.

The "generation gap" is as puzzling and difficult a problem for Bonn as it is for the United States, France or Italy.

The young Germans who still remembered HITLER's crimes emerged as a bewildered and "skeptical generation" when the Bonn Republic was created in 1949.

REBELLIOUS

Today's generation has surged into rebellious commitment to idealism in government, reforms in the universities and to a dream of a "higher quality of life."

To this kind of youth, the Vaterland concept, which once sent Germans marching into other countries, lost all meaning.

Personal freedom is vastly more significant for them than national destiny.

Many young Germans interviewed by this writer were critical of the coalition government of Christian Democrats (CDU) and Social Democrats (SPD) which currently rules in Bonn.

DEPRIVED

They were convinced that the "Grand Coalition" of the two major political parties deprived Germany of a lively and meaningful opposition basic to the democratic process.

★ ★ ★

But even most young Germans, who fear the emergence of the extreme rightist National Democratic Party, will vote either for Chancellor Kurt Kiesinger's Christian Democrats or the Social Democrats led by Foreign Minister Willy Brandt.

It is the consensus of political analysts that the Grand Coalition will survive the September elections with the Christian Democrats again emerging as the leading party.

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless, pro-democratic Germans fear even the minor gains made by the extreme rightists in local elections.

David Lawrence Says:

Cigarette-Ad Ban on TV Unwise

WASHINGTON — Will television programs be as good after cigarette sponsors are compelled by a government agency to prohibit cigarette advertising? This will deprive the TV companies of more than $200 million a year in revenue.

LAWRENCE

The controversy that has arisen over the attempt to ban cigarette advertising on radio and television is not as simple as it seems.

It can have economic consequences that would reduce the revenues federal and state governments are getting from a prosperous industry like television and also cause a decrease in incomes for performers and those engaged in assembling talent.

★ ★ ★

Many persons do not realize that the television networks and all the stations together collect about $2.5 billion a year from advertising and special programs they sell to each other, but that their expenses are more than $2 billion.

Thus, they have about $500 million left before federal taxes. About one-half that sum remains as profit.

If cigarette commercials are forbidden, the competition for the remainder of the advertising will, therefore, become even keener between the television stations and the printed publications.

FREE PROGRAMS

In England, an annual tax is imposed on the owner of each television set. In the United States, however, the tradition of free programs is not likely to be abandoned.

The Federal Communications Commission, which allocates licenses, has sought to do away with cigarette advertising on television and radio. But no other government agency has dared to suggest that such advertising also be barred from the printed publications.

★ ★ ★

What is most surprising is that members of Congress have been discussing the enactment of a law to do away with cigarette advertising on television, yet no one has come forth recommending a constitutional amendment that would forbid the manufacture and sale of cigarettes.

Meanwhile, the broadcasting industry is trying to apply the "fairness" doctrine and give space on the air to warnings from various organizations concerning the alleged dangers in cigarette smoking.

MUST TAKE STAND

Sooner or later, the Nixon administration is going to have to take a position on the question.

It will be interesting to see whether the policy adopted will be a discrimination as between television on the one hand and printed publications on the other.

Certainly it seems inconsistent to impose restrictions on what the people may see on television and perhaps read in the newspapers, too, about products that have not been barred from manufacture and sale.

Ground Attack on China Might Cage Russian Bear

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Despite continued rumbles along the Sino-Soviet border, there is considerable evidence the Russian army, for all its strength, has weaknesses in equipment and doctrine which could cripple it considerably in any conventional ground attack on Red China.

CROMLEY

The Soviet weaknesses could be crucial, even in a quite limited campaign in Red China's Sinkiang Province, aimed only at neutralizing Mao Tse-tung's nuclear and rocket capability. This huge northeastern area is largely undeveloped, lacks rail and highway networks.

★ ★ ★

Soviet tank equipment and military theory are based in large part on conditions in the western Soviet Union and in Europe. There, Russian techniques depend heavily on excellent railroads, on the existence of food supplies that can be confiscated along the way and local power, fuel and refrigeration services usual in populated areas.

Soviet tanks are normally brought to the front on rail lines, numerous in Europe. As a result, the Soviet army is quite short of tank transporters.

HARD ON TANKS

This means that in Sinkiang, for the most part, Russian tanks would have to move under their own power.

They would therefore arrive in battle with dust-clogged engines, worn-out tracks, many would be in need of repair.

Again, without a rail network to supplant their supply trucks, Soviet armored units lack sufficient transport, even for the oil and ammunition to keep their tank units rolling and in action over long distances.

★ ★ ★

The Sinkiang terrain, again, makes bulldozers a must in off-the-road movement. But the Soviet army is also short of bulldozers.

Strangely enough, in this modern era, the Soviet armies are geared to living off the land. This would be most difficult in large areas of Sinkiang, especially while undergoing Chinese harassment.

NOT PROPERLY GEARED

The Soviet armies, of course, would attempt to get around these difficulties by striking deeply so quickly they would have the campaign over before the Communist Chinese were set. But Soviet armored tactics are aimed at conventional enemies which meet them in headlong battle.

They are not geared to the fighting in front, rear and on both sides simultaneously that is required in wilderness battles.

★ ★ ★

It is conceivable that Russian suicide troops might move in by air on the major Chinese nuclear and missile development installations.

But these things must be mentioned in this connection. Information here is that these areas are so well armed that with conventionally armed troops the Russians would likely pay an unbelievably heavy price to get in. They would require great amounts of conventional explosives to critically damage the major installations and few of the suicide troops would likely return.

Voice of the People:

Discusses Lowering Age for Enrollment in School

There has been much discussion about children starting school at an earlier age. The Head Start Program has brought the matter to the attention of the authorities and the public in general. It seems that the brighter children, the children with less than average intelligence, and children coming from homes with definitely inferior income and cultural status should start to school at the age of three, while the large majority of youngsters may well start kindergarten at five and first grade at six.

★ ★ ★

It is important that parents of both groups of children, particularly those of inferior intelligence and those whose parents are from lower cultural homes, should be given encouragement to attend meetings at the school so that they may understand what is being done for their children and how they may best cooperate with it.

Readers Give Opinions on Recent Cartoon

A recent editorial page cartoon showed five hippies holding a sign which read, "Give 18-year-olds the vote," and was captioned "Let Us Drive." This is not how all youth look. Not all are irresponsible. The youth of today has minority factions, as do adult groups. Not all of us support them. Some 18, 19, and 20-year-olds are old enough to carry an M-14 or M-16, wear a uniform and fight in a war. Why shouldn't they get the vote? Maybe you can't remember when you were 18-20, but I'm sure you had your generation gaps and your hang-ups.

ROBERT W. BRADY

I take strong objection to your editorial cartoon of August 15. Will democracy really be threatened if the age group which has to fight for it is given a voice in how it should be run?

PAUL HOFFMAN
4166 GRAYTON

I was offended by the cartoon on your editorial page recently depicting a carload of long-haired, carefree youths sporting a sign "Give 18-year-olds the VOTE!!!" An obviously establishment gentleman was attempting to maintain control of the car, despite the caption, "Let Us Drive." You would need to ignore hundreds of examples of serious, responsible youth before finding the scene you depict in your cartoon. The cartoon is not typical.

'Should Have More Time for Drug Claims'

It seems unfair that the Attorney General waited until only a week before the deadline to announce that anyone who purchased certain drugs must file a claim to receive any money back. Doesn't he know it takes time to go through records four to 15 years old? Some people don't even have the prescription numbers. With a little more time it might be possible for everyone to get his fair share.

DIANE LAUINGER

'Grateful for Courtesy of Concerned Citizen'

Few people are willing to get involved anymore, but one of those few gave the Waterford Township police the license number of the person who backed into my car at the Mall recently. I'm grateful for this courtesy.

Question and Answer

Isn't Lake Superior the biggest lake in the world? I have a smart aleck friend who says it isn't, but won't say what he thinks the biggest one is. What do you say?

DAILY READER

REPLY

We say your smart aleck friend has come up with a tricky question. Superior is the biggest one that's called a lake, but by definition a lake is a body of water surrounded by land, and many lakes are called "sea." Therefore, the Caspian Sea is considered the biggest lake in the world; Superior is second.

Question and Answer

Where can I find up-to-date description of current movies without subscribing to a monthly magazine? I'd like to know more about the movies before I go see them.

FRUSTRATED

REPLY

Since you don't want to subscribe to the monthly magazines which carry movie descriptions and ratings (Adult, General, etc.), we suggest you try the City Library. They would have copies of many periodicals, and you should be able to keep up with current movies by making just one trip a month. You might also call the theater which carries any movie you might be interested in. They would be able to give you a description and also the rating.

Lobbies . . .

Chicago Sun Times

Reports recently filed with Congress show that of the 266 registered lobbying groups the United Federation of Postal Clerks (AFL-CIO) spent the most money in 1968 — $170,784.

★ ★ ★

The amount of spending among the 25 biggest lobbies then dwindled downward to the $50,199 spent by the American Hospital Association.

These figures, however, are not nearly so intriguing as those at the other end of the scale. For example, the Southwest Peanut Shellers' Association spent only $300. The American Justice Association, Inc., spent $8.

And, down there among the real tightwads: the American Taxpayers Association, Inc. It spent nothing.

Perhaps the members felt 1968 just wasn't their year.

Toronto (Can.) Star

Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau has struck a blow for a quaintly old-fashioned cause, decent manners.

The idea has spread, apparently from university campuses, that the best way to begin representations to those in authority is with personal insults and obscenities.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Trudeau told Saskatchewan farmers that he isn't having any more of that; that if they wish to meet him in the future, they had better mind their manners.

Many applauded, notwithstanding their understandable discontent with the government wheat policy. So perhaps the old-fashioned cause is not yet lost. Perhaps the right of an elected leader of this country to be treated with a certain minimum of respect and courtesy will be re-established.

Craig Didn't Stay at My Migrant Camp, Says Farmer

LANSING (AP) — A Van Buren County farmer who serves on the State Agricultural Labor Commission has challenged a state senator's contention that he stayed at the farmer's migrant labor camp.

Ferris Pierson, a Dowagiac fruit and vegetable grower named to the commission by Gov. William Milliken, took issue with statements by Sen. Roger Craig, D-Dearborn. Those statements appeared Tuesday in the Detroit Free Press.

* * *

Craig was quoted as saying he stayed in a "10x12-foot corrugated steel" shack on Pierson's farm.

"It's not my camp," Pierson said at the commission's organizational meeting. "I don't grow pickles, I grow tomatoes. I have no camp with that description."

'NOT THE BEST'

Pierson said he was "pretty sure" the camp Craig visited was "about half a mile from my farm. The conditions in my camp might not be the best," he said, "but they're not that bad."

Pierson said Craig may have asked to stay at his farm and been directed to that camp by a crew leader. "I'd like to tell you what those crew leaders told me this morning, but I won't," Pierson added.

* * *

Pierson joined with Frank M. Ornelas, a 38-year-old Chevrolet foundries inspector from Saginaw in requesting the commission's first formal action.

Upon their motion, Chairman Daniel W. Stuart, director of Michigan State University's rural manpower center, was requested to ask Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley to clarify the legal status of agricultural employers.

PIECEWORK RATES

Migrant representatives have contended the Michigan Sugar Co., at Saginaw, effectively set piecework rates for sugar beet harvesting. Migrants contend farmers simply function as middlemen for the processor.

Stuart called it "shocking that growers attempt to slide out from under this."

* * *

At the request of commission members, Stuart said future meetings would consider recommendations for migrant housing, cost-sharing plans involving both growers and laborers to pay for improved housing, and surety bonds for work contracts.

Recommendations, Stuart said, might be made either to Milliken's office, a specific state department or to the Legislature.

Rehabilitated Homes Rent at Low Cost

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Gertrude James, 41, a mother of nine, finally got what she wanted—a home that "looks just like those pretty new homes they're putting up in Inkster."

The home she will soon move into, on $80.59 monthly payments, was dilapidated and worn-down and condemned just two months ago. Now it has a paneled recreation room, a modern kitchen, a carpeted living room and three bedrooms.

* * *

The change was arranged by the nonprofit housing organization, the Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Authority (MDCDA) funded by New Detroit Inc.

Mrs. James, an Aid to Dependent children recipient, is paying for the home with a 1 per cent FHA loan. At the normal 7½ per cent FHA rate the cost would have been $140 a month, far out of her reach.

ONE OF 24

Her home was one of 24 West Side homes purchased by the MDCDA for rehabilitation and eventual purchase by low income families. A black-owned firm, the Exquisite Construction Co., was brought in to repair the place, at a cost of $11,000, and did the job in 30 days.

Exquisite Construction President James Jackson said 16 more houses will be rehabilitated in the next 60 days.

* * *

Major powers in the city and MDCDA members Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers and Walker Cisler of Detroit Edison honobbed with the local folk Tuesday at dedication ceremonies at Mrs. James' home, the first to be rehabilitated.

State Police Auction Is Near

Motorcycle Helmets, Bicycles Among Items

EAST LANSING (AP) —Motorcyclists who need new helmets—or want to switch to bicycles — before the Sept. 1 effective date of a new law requiring them to wear helmets may do well to stop by State Police headquarters Thursday.

Police report that a couple of helmets and about 50 bicycles will be among the nearly 700 items they'll offer for auction.

* * *

The sale, an annual event at which State Police get rid of confiscated, found and unclaimed merchandise, is expected to be the biggest since the first was held in 1954.

Other items up for the highest bidders will be a boat trailer, four outboard motors, power mowers, several television sets, clothing, houseware and camping merchandise and hunting and sporting equipment, rings, radios, watches, cameras, power and hand tools, car and truck assessories, two safes, a cash register and a 12 - ton jack.

Authorization for the sale is found in a state law allowing disposition of confiscated and unclaimed articles whose owners could not be identified, items or equipment lost at state parks and the effects persons who died in state institutions without leaving any heirs.

Proceeds from the sale go into the state treasury. Last years's net was $3,630, police report. In 1954 it was $4,832.

'New Look' Republican National Headquarters Thriving

WASHINGTON (AP) — The office decor is the same old style, but the faces, ideas and tactics have a new look these days at Republican national headquarters.

Gone are Ray C. Bliss, the Ohio "nuts and bolts" man, and many of those who operated the Republican National Committee between the Goldwater disaster of 1964 and the Nixon triumph of 1968.

* * *

In their place, President Nixon has installed a young, aggressive, media-oriented crew of politicians and publicists under the direction of the new national chairman, Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland.

Their task: To improve GOP national strength and make it the majority party.

SOUTHERN STRATEGY

Some Republican theorists such as Warren Phillips have stated the way to do this is a "southern strategy" that combines the South, Midwest and West but ignores the Northeast.

But Deputy Chairman Jim Allison Jr. says "We're running on a national strategy. There sure isn't any southern strategy here at all."

* * *

After an election year both parties usually cut back operation of their national committees and pay debts—the Democrats had a $7-million deficit.

Republicans, however, are in the black, and the national committee has an operating budget of $3.2 million this year. It has 190 full-time employes — more than twice the level of the Democratic National Committee.

BIG BUDGET

"It's probably the biggest off-year budget we have ever had," said Allison, a Texas newspaper publisher who managed the successful campaigns of Rep. George Bush in 1956 and Sen. Edward Gurney in 1968.

Allison, 38, is the key man in the new setup with day-to-day operational charge.

* * *

Reporting to Allison—who reports to Morton—are these other key operatives:

- Dick Garbett, 42-year-old advertising executive, who is communications director.
- Richard Richards, former Utah state GOP chairman, who is political director.
- Lance Terrence, holdover head of an expanded research operation.
- Ray Underwood and Jo Good, head of the internal administration and convention divisions.

ELLY IS THERE

Mrs. Elly Peterson, Michigan's former Republican state chairman, current national committeewoman and 1964 senatorial candidate, is assistant chairman. She is in charge both of women's activities and a new community action program in the black ghettos.

Thus, Morton, as a border state congressman; Allison, a Texan; and Harry Dent of South Carolina, President Nixon's top political aide, give the national Republican party somethin' of a southern orientation, while Mrs. Peterson counters that with an effort aimed at big industrial states.

* * *

Mrs. Peterson agreed in an interview that the effort to help ghetto residents resembles the function once performed by old-style political organizations.

But she said: "The average politician is looking towards the next election. This is sort of like a 10-year plan which we hope will change the party's image."

One of her top aides is Jack Crawford, 35, a 6-foot-3, 235-pound Negro who rejected several pro football offers "because I decided football wasn't the most relevant thing I could do."

Crawford said the program is based "on the theory that by solving people's problems on a local level, we become credible."

This is much more important to poor blacks, Crawford said than whether newly appointed Supreme Court Justice Clement P. Haynsworth Jr. is an integrationist.

Watts Families 'Against Crime'

Bumper Sticker Drive Warns Lawbreakers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Everywhere you look in Watts these days you see a car bumper sticker saying, "Another Family Against Crime."

Eventually, the more sensitive burglars and stickup men may get the idea that they are unpopular in the predominantly Negro area torn by massive rioting in 1965.

* * *

And that, says the Rev. Claude Evans of Truth Baptist church, is precisely the idea.

The purpose of the stickers, he says, is to "show the criminal the community won't tolerate him."

Within three weeks, 10,000 of the stickers have been distributed to residents of the Watts area. This week, 12,000 more are available at Los Angeles police stations and neighborhood churches.

COMPOSITE BRAINCHILD

The slogan was the brainchild of a committee composed of police officers, the Rev. Mr. Evans and members of his church.

"The congregation," he says, "wanted to do something to bring down the crime rate. We decided the stickers might be a way to do it."

* * *

"The stickers show a healthy attitude," says Police Lt. Don Briggs. "The only way to beat crime is for citizens and police to work together."

Asked why a bumper sticker was chosen to make the point, the minister said:

"It's psychological, really. A sticker on a car shows the driver is alert and ready to do anything to stop a criminal."

The first run of stickers — about 3,000, all handed out in five days — were printed at a cost of $275, most of it donated by police. Since then private groups have begun providing funds for the bumper campaign.

Monster Has a New Loch on 'em

LOCH MORAR, Scotland (UPI) — The way William Simpson and Duncan McDonell tell it, they were rowing across Loch Morar when up came a monster.

The two Sunday fishermen said the thing from the deep lake was 60 feet long, had round humps, was dark brown and came at their 18-foot boat. McDonell said he jammed an oar at the Loch Morar monster.

The thing bit the end off the oar, McDonell said.

* * *

So Simpson raised a shotgun and fired. He said the blast dug a four-inch-wide hole in the thing and "it dived below the surface."

No one else has seen it since. Loch Morar is a neighboring lake to Loch Ness where Nessie the monster has been the object of a hunt for generations.

The Loch Ness Monster Investigation Bureau said it is sure McDonell and Simpson are telling the truth and has turned its attention to the 1,017-foot-deep Loch Morar.

ROBERT JORDAN

Jailing Error Stirs No Anger

Prisoner 4½ Years Blames Self Mostly

DETROIT (AP) — Robert Jordan is a tolerant man. After spending 4½ years in jail for a crime that he did not commit, he says he's not angry with anyone.

He says he's not angry with Ollie Banks, who knew Jordan was in jail for the crime he committed and later confessed to.

* * *

He says he's not angry with the six members of a family who positively identified him incorrectly as the man who broke into their home and beat them.

He even says he's not angry with the judicial system that put him away for 4½ of his 37 years for a crime he did not commit.

BLAMES HIMSELF

Jordan said it was mostly his own fault that he was in jail. He spent two years in jail for robbing a gas station in 1962.

"If I nadn't got into trouble in the first place, the police would not have suspected me. They would not have had my picture and description," he said. "They can't help it if I look like Ollie Banks. I can understand how these things happen."

* * *

At his trial Jordan claimed he was at a tailor shop when the crime was committed. But the jury did not believe the testimony of his father and the tailor.

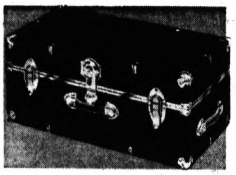

He worked as an office clerk while in jail and learned data-processing and computer programming. He also taught English courses to other prisoners and worked as a disc jockey on a prison radio station he set up.

Now that he's out — after Banks confessed and lie detector tests convinced authorities he was telling the truth—Jordan is having some trouble readjusting.

"I'm just getting to the point where I can get around again," he said. "I've been traveling a bit and, of course, meeting a few girls."

It's here again. . .and greater than ever! It's too big to miss. . .Lucky Day values in every department! Sale ends Monday, August 25. Some quantities limited . . .on sale while they last.

Air-Base Shift From Abroad to Ships Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — A shift of U.S. air power from foreign land bases to attack aircraft carriers in the 1970s is envisioned by three top Navy strategists.

They suggest a Navy build around up to 24 attack aircraft carriers — there now are 15 — could take on much of the U.S. defense effort abroad if this country reduces its foreign land bases.

* * *

One of the three admirals said the United States has no air bases of its own in southern Europe, may lose them in Okinawa and the Philippines and could only questionably maintain them in Thailand after Vietnam.

"The political vulnerability of overseas bases is high," he said. "And if we find we need carriers we'd better have them on hand."

FUTURE PROSPECTS

The strategists said the Navy also is studying future prospects for keeping troops and equipment on ships around the world ready to move into trouble areas.

Their description of the shape the Navy might take in the future came at a "deep background" press seminar at which foreign affairs specialists and even military spending critics had any opportunity to comment on the Navy's future. Ground rules forbade quoting anyone by name without specific permission.

* * *

Greater reliance on attack carriers drew a guarded endorsement from Robert Sherman, an aide to Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D.

* * *

"Foreign bases like those in Thailand could suck us into another Vietnam," Sherman said. "If we must have tactical air power abroad — and I'm not sure we must — I feel much more comfortable having it on carriers."

NOT ON HAND

But the Army and Air Force were not on hand at the seminar to challenge such a heavy future Navy role.

Even without such an accelerated future role, the admirals said, the Navy will need an extensive program to modernize its ships, 58 per cent of which are more than 20 years old, and keep pace with a Soviet naval buildup that threatens to surpass the United States' by 1975.

* * *

Congressional proposals to cut the U.S. attack carrier fleet to 12 were condemned by the admirals and foreign policy specialists alike at the conference.

They said the U.S. withdrawal of an attack carrier from any areas — particularly the Mideast — would be interpreted by allies as a lowering of U.S. interest in that area.

* * *

The press seminar was sponsored by Georgetown University's Center for Strategic and International Studies which promotes research into basic U.S. policy issues.

State Travel Up 8.3 Pct. in 1969

LANSING (UPI) — Travel on all Michigan highways increased 8.3 per cent in the first six months of 1969, compared with the same period last year, the Highway Department said Monday.

Vehicles are clocking close to 50 billion miles a year in the state, the department said. The volume is recorded continuously with automatic counters placed at 53 rural locations.

* * *

The largest traffic increase was in southeastern Michigan with a gain of 12.9 per cent.

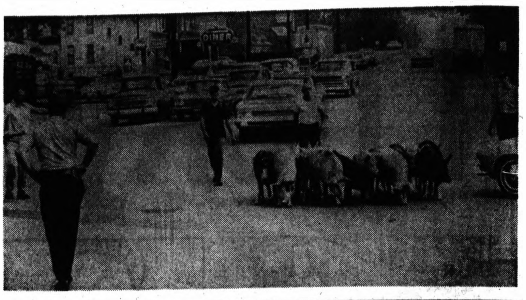

The increase in travel in other areas was 2.9 per cent in the western Upper Peninsula, 6.8 in the eastern Upper Peninsula, 5.8 per cent in the northern Lower Peninsula, 7.2 per cent in the south central Lower Peninsula, and 3.9 per cent in the southwestern Lower Peninsula.

The action of certain tissues in plant roots has some common features with action of animal tissues such as muscles, nerves and stomach mucosa, according to recent studies.

N. Viets Battle Yanks Near Da Nang

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops made three attacks on American forces south of Da Nang during the night and battled infantrymen trying to reach the wreckage of a helicopter downed with eight Americans aboard.

In the rolling foothills 30 miles south of Da Nang, scene of hard fighting for the past three days, two companies of U.S. infantrymen ran into a fire-fight at dawn today when they moved into the rugged area where the helicopter crashed Tuesday. By noon, the infantrymen had advanced only half a mile behind a shield of artillery fire and still had half a mile to go to the wreckage.

* * *

The eight men aboard the helicopter were listed as missing. They included Associated Press photographer Oliver Noonan, 29, of Norwell, Mass., the four Army crewmen and three other soldiers.

The wreckage of the helicopter was spotted from the air, and officers said there was no sign of life.

HEAVY FIGHTING

The helicopter was one of two shot down Tuesday during the heavy fighting in the foothills south of Da Nang. The four crewmen of the second craft were not hurt.

American forces have reported killing 148 enemy soldiers in the area since Sunday. Firing machine guns and rifles, the North Vietnamese attacked again early today, killing one American infantryman and wounding 14 before withdrawing. Enemy casualties were not known.

* * *

Enemy gunners also made rocket and mortar attacks on two U.S. Marine units camped for the night about two miles apart and 20 miles southwest of Da Nang. The enemy pumped more than 100 rounds into the Marine positions, but U.S. headquarters said casualties were light.

Ten other rocket and mortar attacks on allied bases and towns were reported during the night. Casualties were light, the U.S. Command said.

* * *

U.S. headquarters also said nine Americans were killed and five wounded when an American tank fired on U.S. troops during a North Vietnamese attack on a base camp 60 miles north of Saigon Tuesday. An earlier report said only two were killed.

"The round apparently was accidentally fired in the direction of the friendly troops from a tank gun while returning the enemy fire," a communique said. "The incident is being investigated."

John Sinclair's Wife Is Jailed

OAKLAND, N.J. (UPI) — Mrs. Magdalene Sinclair, 22, wife of jailed White Panther Party leader John Sinclair, was being held in the Bergen County Jail today in lieu of $7,500 bail on a charge of possession of narcotics.

Mrs. Sinclair of Ann Arbor, Mich., was arrested here yesterday along with ex-officio White Panther leader Lawrence (Pun) Plamondon, Plamondon's wife and two other persons on their way home from the Woodstock Music and Art Fair near Bethel, N.Y.

* * *

Mrs. Sinclair's husband, a well-known Detroit-area hippie leader, was sentenced to 9½ to 10 years in jail July 28 for possession of marijuana.

Police here charged they found large quantities of marijuana, hashish, LSD and other drugs inside a van truck the five were riding in during a routine check. A band managed by Trans-Love Energies, the Ann Arbor commune and cultural arm of the White Panther Party, appeared at the Woodstock festival.

Also held here are Scott E. Kutina, 22, Ann Arbor, and Daniel J. Coyne, 21, Cleveland, Ohio.

New YW Director Likes People, Animals

Being someone who "likes to be with people," Iris Goodhall has certainly chosen an appropriate profession. As the new program director at the Pontiac YWCA, she will be setting up classes, looking into new programs, and working with the "Y Teens" and other Pontiac area groups.

A quiet and thoughtful person, maybe almost shy, Iris will help further the cause of anything she feels worthwhile, or, if it doesn't appeal to her, she will just leave it alone. "I'm just me!" is how she describes herself.

This petite brunette is now living on Washington Street with her black cat Mitzie.

* * *

"I've always been fond of animals," she says.

Until Iris was ten, she lived on a farm near Lansing, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Goodhall, and an older brother and sister. Enthusiastically, she proclaimed she loved every minute of it.

* * *

In 1959 Iris graduated from Alderson Broaddus College in W. Va. with a BA in christian education. Traveling to Radford, Va., she employed her newly-gained knowledge teaching a course called "Weekday Religious Education."

Slowly working her way back to Michigan, Iris spent quite some time in Danville, Ill. working on their YWCA program. Her outside interests included oil painting, knitting, reading, and taking part in the Danville Toastmistress Club, an organization designed to give women training in public speaking.

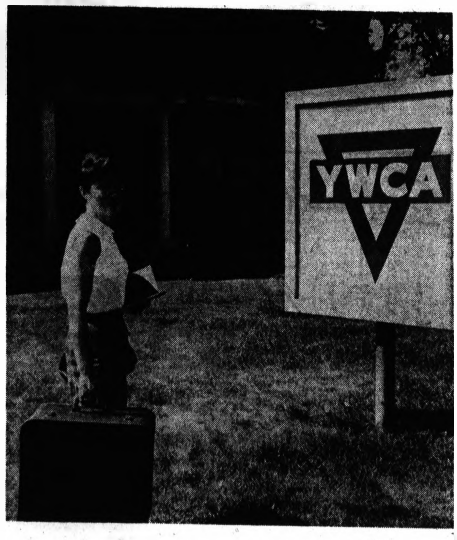

BACK HOME

Anxiously, though, Iris was looking forward to her return to Michigan. The reason for that, she said, was that her relatives, whom she fondly refers to as "all my people," reside in this state.

Back in Michigan now, she has already plunged into the work at the Pontiac YWCA. New on the program schedule for fall are: the art of self defense, swimming at Oakland University, powder puff mechanics, guitar, and a yoga class for men only.

This new director, also a licensed practical nurse, strongly urges people to keep in shape.

"Girls are heavier now," she says, "and young men . . . Well maybe young girls don't admire strong and muscular bodies any more."

Eagerly anticipating new experiences awaiting her in Pontiac, Iris Goodhall arrives at the Pontiac branch of the YWCA as its new program director.

Nominee's Wife Is Also Judge, in Horticulture

By BILL McKEITHAN

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — "I'm a judge myself," said Mrs. Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., wife of President Nixon's new Supreme Court nominee. But she added, she confines her judging to horticulture, her hobby.

"I know very little about politics," Mrs. Haynsworth said Tuesday. "For that matter, that's all I'm going to say about politics."

Petite, silver-haired, middle-aged and attractive, Mrs. Haynsworth likes gardening, entertaining close friends at home, traveling with her husband, and privacy — not necessarily in that order. She would grant only a brief interview.

* * *

She is pleasant, smiles easily and expresses herself in terse sentences.

She and her husband belong to The Assembly, a closely knit society group comprised of both professional and non-professional residents of Greenville.

Their two-story, Old English home is in an upper-middle class neighborhood. It is largely hidden from the street by a high hedge. In the back yard is a greenhouse and a vegetable garden where Mrs. Haynsworth, sometimes aided by her husband, pursues her hobby.

* * *

The vegetable garden is the only one on the block. Mrs. Haynsworth raises vegetables to serve at home and often presents vegetables and home-grown roses to friends.

GARDEN ENTHUSIAST

She is a three-time president of the Carolina Foothills Garden Club and has been a national judge in the Garden Club of America, on whose board she has served three years. A garden club in Greenville was named after her.

She is a regent of Kenmoore, a community restoration group based in Fredericksburg, Va.

Mrs. Haynsworth has been a member of the board of the Greenville Maternity Shelter, which she said is a "group which helps people who need help."

Asked whether she liked cooking, Mrs. Haynsworth replied:

"Just say my main interest is horticulture."

The Haynsworths are members of Greenville's Christ Episcopal church and she is active in women's church organizations.

* * *

She usually accompanies her husband to Richmond, Va., when he presides over the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The Haynsworths met in Charleston, S.C., when he was stationed there as a Naval intelligence officer during World War II. Mrs. Haynsworth, the former Dorothy Merry of Augusta, Ga., has two grown sons by a previous marriage.

Food Budgets Take Battering; Housewives Boycott Beef Cuts

By the Associated Press

Soaring beef prices are beginning to produce beef boycotts by incensed housewives, and one group of Long Island, N.Y., women is so well organized it's being asked to send consultants to other towns.

The boycotts seem to have had little effect on prices so far, but the determined shoppers say they'll keep it up until the prices come down.

"The meat is not moving," said Mrs. Mickey DeLorenzo of Levittown, N.Y., a community on Long Island.

* * *

Other boycotts were in progress in such communities as Cocoa Beach, Fla., another reported in the Los Angeles area, and one was tried in Oregon, where some housewives held a "meatless week."

In Washington, D.C., the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics has figures to support the housewives, showing sharp increases in beef prices in six months.

An Associated Press survey this month produced these cost ranges for a pound of sirloin steak:

* * *

Los Angeles, $1.89 to $2.59; Atlanta, $1.43 to $1.49; Chicago, $1.29; Boston, $1.49; Washington, $1.49; Marshalltown, Iowa, $1.59; and Hutchinson, Kan., $1.39.

* * *

In Levittown, the boycott began last Monday, after two weeks of planning.

"We will not be satisfied with sale prices," says Mrs. DeLorenzo. "We want regular, everyday fair prices."

Mrs. DeLorenzo, wife of an electrician, said her group was not picketing now, but has stationed spotters in front of stores, handing out leaflets and meatless recipes.

* * *

One food market has admitted a 15-to-20 per cent decrease in beef sales, she said, although others deny any effect. She said her spotters have seen that the meat is not moving.

"We're getting phone calls from all over the island," Mrs. DeLorenzo said, "from women wanting to set up groups. They're inviting speakers from our committee and we have a firm meeting Tuesday night in Hicksville and we're working with two ladies in Bay Shore."

* * *

In the Cape Kennedy area of Florida, housewives planned a "steak out" at supermarkets. Women say they have contacted 800 other housewives personally and have promoted their idea to thousands of others through news media.

* * *

"We're not going to do any active picketing—that requires licenses and permits," said Mrs. Jan Stophlett of Melbourne Beach, leader of the movement.

"We're not going to say a word to anyone, but we do plan to set up 'observation teams' to see how well we're doing."

* * *

At the beginning of August, Oregon housewives, led by a group in Portland, held a "meatless week."

Butchers and cattle producers maintained that the boycott had little effect, but Mrs. Nancy Rawlinson of Portland, chairman of Housewives for Lower Meat Prices, said the meat industry would never admit the campaign might work.

* * *

"No one can tell me our compaign hasn't had some effect on area buying or the lowering of some meat prices," she said.

* * *

A spokesman for a meat packing and butchers union in Los Angeles County said he heard scattered reports indicating that some area housewives were trying to organize a boycott.

The spokesman said a boycott would have "some detrimental effect on employment, but it's too early to tell."

Cary Grant Winner in Friday Court Battle

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Cary Grant won a court battle Friday to keep his 3-year-old daughter from being taken to visit her maternal grandparents near Seattle, Wash.

The actor told Superior Court Judge Marvin A. Freeman that little Jennifer disliked the parents of his ex-wife, actress Dyan Cannon, and became upset last Christmas when she was taken to visit them.

* * *

He said Jennifer would be "just dumped" in Seattle with Ben and Clara Friesen, adding, "I am quite concerned."

Miss Cannon was in tears during Grant's testimony and told the judge Jennifer had nothing but "love and devotion" for the grandparents.

TEMPORARY ORDER

Freeman issued a temporary order that the little girl remain in Los Angeles until an Oct. 8 hearing, at which time he said he intended "to make an order to try and relieve these people (Grant and Miss Cannon) of their problem of dealing with each other."

Pontiac Garden Club Hosts Husbands' Day

Th Better Home and Garden Club of Pontiac will observe Husbands' Day with a tour of a mushroom farm, the Albert K. Heberts' garden and the Donald Button home in Metamora. The Button families, members of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, will entertain the group with a small concert.

The tour will be led by the Al Rothweilers, Mr. and Mrs. John Cowe and the Earl Campbells.

Put Happiness in His Life and You'll Get Some, Too

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: After almost 35 years, I am thinking of leaving my husband. There seems to be a big wall between us. We rarely go anywhere, and when he is home there is practically no conversation between us.

I don't think I've grown repulsive to look at. I keep myself neat and clean, and I keep a nice house. (I can't even call it a "home.")

* * *

Abby, I have seen retired couples, some in their seventies, walking arm in arm with such beautiful looks of affection and tenderness between them that I wonder what is wrong with us?

We are in our middle fifties. Am I expecting too much? Or must I continue to be a fixture in our house instead of a wife? Your opinion, and that of your readers, would be most welcome.

LONELY WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Tenderness and affection are not "gifts." They must be earned. And the way to get is to give. When was the last time you told your husband you loved him? (Or have you been waiting all this time for him to tell you?)

Perhaps you've had it too good? It's a sad fact, but illness, problems, and adversity sometimes draw a couple together. Don't wait for a tragedy to awaken you to reality. Try to put a little happiness into his life, and it will come back into your own.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Boy, when you give bad advice, do you ever give bad advice! I'm referring to what you told "Wendy," the girl whose boyfriend stands her up about half the time. The word from you was to "lose him."

Just because a guy doesn't always show up doesn't mean he's no good. A lot of things can happen to keep a guy from showing up.

Try being on the guy's side for a change, Abby, and maybe you will have even more understanding than you already have.

M.W.R.: TERRE HAUTE

DEAR M.W.R.: I realize that a guy (or girl) can occasionally be unable to keep a date, and unable to let the other party know. But half the time? Sorry, but the word from here is still "lose him."

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Tired Office Manager" who was "amazed" at what came in to apply for an office job:

Don't feel bad. When I owned my own business I ran an ad for a male or female who could make telephone contacts and deal with the public. The applicants who applied included:

A 24-year-old male. Handsome, two years of college, well groomed. He informed me that his only problem in doing telephone work was that the "zero" and the "o" confused him.

A 19-year-old girl, high school graduate. She said the job would have to include living facilities with me because she had informed her family that she would be "living with her boss."

* * *

A 32-year-old man. Third grade education. He assured me that even though he could neither read nor write he could "talk real good on the telephone."

And the piece de resistance: "A transvestite, college-educated, married with two small children. He asked me if he could perform his duties dressed as a female, and then change to male attire when business hours were over.

* * *

Want to know who I hired for the job? A 15-year-old clean cut girl who came to the interview with her father. She readily admitted that she had never worked before but she wanted to give it a try. She turned out to be the most vaulable employe I had.

Very truly yours,
P.D. IN L.A.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I've read your column for years and have wanted to write and comment on some of the letters and your replies, and now I finally have a reason.

I recently came across an article on "ANTIQUES" published in TIME magazine, May 2, 1969. With it appeared a picture of a couple serving SOUP from an antique CHAMBER POT!

No doubt these are the same people who objected so strenuously to bathing babies in the kitchen sink.

R.W.H.: COSTA MESA, CAL.

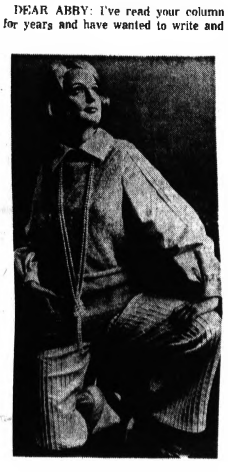

* * *

DEAR ABBY: In answer to "PRAYERFULLY WAITING": I can hear their prayers now: "Lord, you keep them humble, we'll keep them poor." Sign me,

"BEEN THERE MYSELF"

Coat-of-Arms Question Asked by a Writer

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: Several mail order houses have recently been advertising coats-of-arms available for a long list of surnames. "Just specify family name."

The implication is that anyone having the surname listed is entitled to order and display the coats-of-arms as his own. This is not true, nor is it ethical.

* * *

A quotation from William H. Whitmore in "The Elements of Heraldry" (1968) puts it well: "There is no such thing as a coat-of-arms belonging to the bearers of any particular surname. Identity of names does not mean identity of origin.

The first grantee of a coat-of-arms took that as his own distinguishing mark. It became hereditary in his own family, but his namesakes or even relatives have no claim to share it with him.

* *

"Whoever therefore uses a coat of arms by that act proclaims his lineal descent from the person who first assumed it." — B. Hopkins

* * *

Dear Miss Hopkins: You are quite right. It is in the same category as using an unmerited military title, or a title indicating that you are a member of the nobility when you are ordinary Mr. Jones. It is a ridiculous form of "putting on the dog" and can only cause amusement or derision — rather than admiration — among those who know better.

FLOWER GIRL

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband's aunt has asked my daughter to be flower girl at her daughter's wedding. Our aunt has requested that my daughter wear the same gown as the bridesmaids. Aside from the fact that I don't feel this is an appropriate style gown for an eight-year-old, it would be quite costly to have it made up to order which I would have to do in order to get her size. Is it essential that the flower girl wear the same gown? — Mrs. R. S.

* * *

Dear Mrs. S.: There is no rule that says a flower girl must wear the same dress as the bridesmaids. They very often do not, for the reason you mention.

* * *

Your daughter might wear a quaint old-fashioned dress that appeals to the bride or even a simple white dress with a head wreath and bouquet. The color should coordinate with the outfits of the bridesmaids.

* * *

Tell your aunt and her daughter how you feel, and perhaps they will suggest a different costume themselves. But don't insist and don't feel hurt if they don't. If you wish your daughter to be part of the wedding, you must abide by the bride's wishes.

Fire Film, Highlight

A film, "The Chicago Fire" will be presented at next Wednesday's meeting of Pontiac chapter, Parents Without Partners. The film is made available through the Pontiac Fire Department.

Meeting time is 8:30 p.m. in the Oakland County Supervisors' Auditorium. An afterglow will follow.

A party at the American Legion Hall in Rochester Sunday marked the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Weaver, who were married Aug. 14, 1919. Mr. Weaver conducted a real estate and insurance business in Rochester for 35 years. The couple's son, Wesley, his wife, Florence, and their four children hosted the celebration. There are two great-grandchildren.

Carillon Concert

Area Student Sets Debut

A Bloomfield Hills High School graduate now in her junior year at Simmons College will make her debut as a soloist when she plays a carillon recital at Christ Church Cranbrook at 4 p.m. Aug. 31.

She is Sherry Mattson, Wabeek Road, Bloomfield Township. She joined the student carillon group at the church four years ago, working with Mrs. Richard Buchanan, church carillonneur and organizer of the Student Guild.

Since then she has assisted in group presentations several times during the summer.

* * *

At Simmons College, Boston, Mass., Sherry is majoring in child development and minoring in English and psychology. She is a member of the college glee club and a student member of the Guild of Carillonneurs of North America.

The recital is available to the public without charge. Persons wishing to attend may sit in their cars or on the church lawn.

Recital programs may be obtained in the narthex of the church. Christ Church Cranbrook is located in Bloomfield Hills at Lone Pine and Cranbrook roads.

Baby's Oil Is Best for Tender Skin

So you're one of that small percentage of women who are natural redheads, with that special allure that has captured the fancy of nearly every man at some time in his life!

The fragile pale beauty of your skin is part of your appeal, but its delicate nature also means that it needs more protection than any other kind.

* * *

The susceptibility to wind, heat, and sun — which is best shunned altogether — means that it will take a lot of tender loving care to keep its soft young look.

Head for the nursery and that pure baby oil which will whisk away your makeup without any undue rubbing of that tender skin. A thin film under makeup will retain the dewey softness of your translucent skin, and while you sleep let baby oil protect it from drying and loss of moisture from the surface.

After all, your skin is tender like a babe's and needs the same gentle care.

Couple Fosters Love, 27 Children

BROOKLYN, N.Y. (AP) — Not only their own eight children and 24 grandchildren were present when Mr. and Mrs. Williston Pack celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, but also most of the 27 foster children the couple has raised during the past 21 years.

Most of the foster children were only babies when they were placed with the pair, who at present still have seven under their care. "We've loved all our foster children as much as though they were our own flesh and blood," Mrs. Pack says.

When ironing, pin matching anklets, hair ribbon, panties, and handkerchief to the hanger with your little girl's dress. This helps her dress quicker, keeping matching garments together.

Adams of West Walton Boulevard, recall the events of days past as they thumb through a scrapbook while preparing for their class reunion. "Life Begins at Forty" is the theme of the dinner dance which will be held at 6 p.m Saturday at the Pontiac City Club. Judge Adams will be toastmaster. Two Couples Exchange Vows

MRS. F. L. VAN HUSEN JR.

MRS. D. A. NEVELA

The Cross of Christ Lutheran Church, Bloomfield Hills, was chosen by Linda Lea Walter and Frank Luther Van Husen Jr. for their Saturday morning wedding.

Sandra La Barge and Phillip Schlesinger led a bridal party of seven attendants. They greeted guests with the newlyweds at a reception in Edgewood Country Club.

* * *

The former Miss Walter is the daughter of the Leslie D. Walters of Lynndale Court, Avon Township. She chose a traditional gown of organdy with Venitian lace overlay. Her bouquet was comprised of roses.

* * *

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Van Husen of Alhi Street and his bride are honeymooning in Canada. They will be at home in Ann Arbor.

Nevela-Young

Honeymooning in the Berkshire Mountains, Mass., are newlyweds, the Dennis A. Nevelas (Susan A. Young).

They exchanged vows Saturday in a candlelight ceremony in St. John Fischer Chapel, Oakland University, Rochester.

A reception followed at Arrowhead Golf Club. Joining the couple as they received guests were their parents, the Richard W. Youngs of White Plains, N.Y. and the A. W. Nevelas of Crocus Street.

* * *

Attended by her sister, Mrs. Philip Spring, matron of honor, the bride wore a linen gown trimmed with peau d'ange lace. She carried a cascade of roses and carnations.

Best man was William Norwich.

Follow Routine for Relaxing Bath

Begin your bath by collecting all the things you will need. You should have a personal washcloth and towel — and never share them with anyone else in the family.

Protest your hairdo from the water and steam by wearing a shower cap, and be sure to use plenty of soap. Water alone cannot remove dirt.

Cotton is strong.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Good grooming requires a certain amount of time. Therefore, many women may wait for moments of leisure to pursue it. Because it can form the basis for a youthful appearance in later years and because it affects the impression you make today, good grooming is something you can't afford to miss.

The well-groomed woman, neat and attractive in appearance, feels and therefore appears, relaxed and confident. This is an asset in the office or at home. The men in our lives, employers or husbands, need to feel that the woman in their lives have things well in hand.

Good grooming, because it requires planning as well as time, reflects an ability to manage one's activities realistically.

* * *

In addition to time, habit is also a requisite for good grooming. Once daily or weekly routines are established, they are more likely to be followed. Every effort should be made to perform certain ablutions routinely. When they are done automatically they will seem less burdensome.

MANY FACTORS

Many different factors contribute to a well-groomed appearance. Hair style, a fresh complexion, clothing, and nails all affect the general impression one creates. No matter how fastidious a person may be generally, dirty fingernails, scuffed shoes a few prominent blackheads or stringy hair, can each spoil an otherwise pleasing image.

For those women who live in cities, grooming may be even more time-consuming than in suburban or country settings. Dust and soot can make it more difficult to keep fingernails, complexion, hair and clothing free of grime for more than a short period of time.

The amount of time which must be spent will also vary depending on the complexion or hair type of each woman. For instance, the woman with oily hair may have to shampoo it as often as twice a week if it is not to look dull and unattractive.

ADJUSTMENTS

Routines which may have been established for one situation may be inadequate or inappropriate for another. Adjustments may have to be made in grooming requirements. These depend on age, season, profession, location, and daily routine. What was becoming and practical at one age, weight or life style may be inadequate at another.

* * *

For instance, the woman who was coiffed weekly for her position in an advertising firm, as a dance instructor, or receptionist, may find such hairdos expensive and impractical should she become primarily a mother and housewife who spends much time outdoors in the sun and wind.

Good grooming can result from good management.

You will not have any trouble with your crochet work unraveling when you are not working on it if you pull out the last stitch, making the loop large enough to insert a safety pin. Then close the pin and pull the stitch tight.

Wedding Bells Ring for Them

Pontiac Country Club was chosen by Susan Deanne Anderson and Donald Wesley Knapp as the setting for their wedding reception. The couple was married Saturday in Emmanuel Baptist Church.

Attired in an A-line silhouette gown of peau d' Ange lace with seed pearl accents, the bride was preceded down the aisle by Mrs. Arthur Welch and Dee Dee Crake, matron and maid of honor, respectively.

William Siver performed the duties of best man in the candlelight ceremony.

The daughter of the Andrew C. Andersons of Gateway Drive and the son of the George Knapps of Brookdale Street are honeymooning in Palm Beach, Fla.

Hughes-Walbridge

Elizabeth Jo Anne Walbridge was escorted to the altar of Stone Baptist Church, Auburn Heights, for her marriage Friday to James Ronald Hughes.

* * *

Following the ceremony, the couple received guests at Waltz Hall. Joining them were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Walbridge of East Walton Boulevard, Pontiac Township and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie L. Hughes of Granada Street.

Carol Cox was maid of honor for the bride who wore an Empire style gown of organza and Rochelle lace. Her bridal bouquet included miniature roses and an orchid.

Wayne E. Hughes was best man. Steven Gordon and Michael Walbridge ushered.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in Miami Beach, Fla.

Tannehill-Warren

Pvt. Robert Dale Tannehill, USA and his bride were feted at a reception in Mountain View Country Club following their wedding Saturday.

Honor attendants, Jill Spencer and Donald Williams led a bridal party of 12 in the ceremony in Dixie Baptist Church.

Valerie Gail Warren chose a gown of silk organza with Chantilly lace accents for her wedding. She carried a bouquet of daisies.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Orval R. Warren of Sashabaw Road, Independence Township and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tannehill, Hillside Drive.

Juengling-McDowell

For her wedding to Richard Michael Juengling of Oakland, Calif., Camille Irwin McDowell chose a gown of pique with Venetian lace accents. A bouquet of roses and chrysanthemums complemented her ensemble.

The afternoon ceremony performed in United Methodist Church, Petoskey was followed by a reception in the church parlors.

* * *

Jean Moyer and the bridegroom's brother, Frederick Juengling, assisted the couple as honor attendants in the Thursday nuptials.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Francis I. McDowell of Delawre Drive and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Juengling of Warren.

The couple is honeymooning at Mackinac Island.

Couple Honored by the U.S. Navy for Radio Work

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Norval Bowen, amateur radio operators who have averaged 50 hours a week the past two years handling calls between servicemen in Vietnam and relatives in the United States, have been honored by the Navy.

The couple were recently presented with honorary membership in the World-Wide United States Naval Communications Community. They also received a letter of commendation from Rear Admiral Francis J. Fitzpatrick, commander of Naval Communications Command in Washington.

* * *

The Bowens have played a major part in Omaha's Operation Hello, having handled 9,000 of the operation's 12,000 voice communications between Vietnam and this country.

Possible to Rent Almost Anything Now

By ANNE TAYLOR
AP News Feature

Does it pay to rent? Millions of Americans will tell you it does. Presumably, that many people can't be wrong. They're supporting one of the fastest growing industries in America today.

I'll add my personal endorsement too: within limits, it does indeed save you money to rent rather than purchase. And renting can save you some headaches as well.

On your vacation this year, for example, you will notice hundreds of motor homes, travel trailers and truck campers on the highways. You needn't envy the drivers, the majority don't own their vehicles, they rent them.

* * *

The obvious reason for renting rather than buying a trailer or motor home is that, if you are an average family, you won't take more than two vacations a year. So why tie up your capital?

Instead, you can rent a luxurious motor home (the driver sort of sits in the front room) for $150 a week, a conventional travel trailer for $65 to $100, a truck camper (a living unit that rides on a pick-up truck) for about $75, and a compact tent camper trailer for $45. Hitches will cost a bit more.

When you're through with the equipment, you simply return it and leave the storage and maintenance problems to the owner.

RENTALS FOR WEDDINGS

Perhaps this suggestion might oversimplify matter, but I believe that the first consideration in deciding whether to buy or rent, is the amount of usage you expect to obtain from the item. If you plan to use it only two or three times, then it might be foolish to purchase.

Let us use weddings as a very obvious example. You can rent chairs, tables, a bar, linen, china, glassware, silverware, a champagne fountain, coffee urns and incidental items for 50 guests for less than $200.

* * *

If you attempted to purchase the same items, you would pay perhaps 10 times as much and, unless you had a succession of weddings coming along, you'd never regain your investment.

There are less obvious instances of where you can save considerably by renting. Floor polishers and sanders for renovating the house, for example, or canoes or skis for vacations, or power rakes for building a lawn.

The rental of medical and recuperative equipment is becoming highly popular, in part because medicare may pay up to 80 per cent of the rental cost. Included are wheelchairs, hospital beds, over-the-bed tables, tractions.

USAGE FACTOR

At one large national rental chain I found these prices: standard folding wheelchair, $15 for four weeks; standard two-crank bed with foam mattress and cover, $25 for the same period; hydraulic patient lifter, $30.

Aside from observing the number one rule in making your decision — that is, the amount of use you receive from the item — you might decide to rent when these factors are involved:

- You feel the purchase price is too high.
- You could not possibly service the item properly.
- You have no storage facilities.
- You wish to test a product, learn to use it, compare it with competitive lines before purchasing.

If you haven't already done so, a glance at the yellow pages under "Rental Service" might surprise you, for it seems to me that there are relatively few things that cannot be rented.

* * *

You may have to overcome some initial obstacles, such as those imposed by your ingrained acquisitiveness. But if you can overcome your desire to own you can save a lot of money for the price of a telelphone call.

A tablespoon of black pepper added to the first suds in which you are washing cottons will keep the colors from running.

Players' Tryouts Are Announced

Tryouts, open to singers, dancers and actors, are scheduled Aug. 25-26 at 7:30 p.m. at the Avon Playhouse, Washington Road, Rochester.

Avon Players' first production of the '69-70 season, "A Funny Thing Happened On the Way to the Forum," by Burt Shevelove and Larry Gelbart, is scheduled to open Oct. 16. Perry Mallette, whose past credits include last season's comedy, "Never Too Late," will direct.

Singer's a Mod 'Alice'

By YOLANDA BENAVIDES

She's an Alice in Wonderland gone mod.

Fair complexioned with blue eyes and golden wisps of shoulder-length hair, Mary Hopkin could pass for the fabled storybook maiden.

* * *

But scrap the pinafore for a knit top, blue culottes and a royal-blue patent raincoat, and there's one of Britain's newest recording artists.

The 19-yeara-ld Welsh miss arrived late yesterday afternoon at the Kingsley Inn in Bloomfield Hills. She'll be appearing with the First Edition tonight at Oakland University's Baldwin Pavilion.

Miss Hopkin also can be seen on local television tomorrow night in a rerun of a Tom Jones show, telecast on Channel 7 at 9 p.m.

ALMOST FAMILY

Accompanying the petite Miss Hopkin, who flew direct from London, was her manager, 26-yeara-ld Stan Sherrington. Almost a member of the family, Sherrington will marry one of Mary's two sisters next month.

An old school chum, Yvonne Lodwick, 19, completed the entourage.

* * *

As success stories go, Miss Hopkin's career has all the makings of a fairy tale come true.

Though she'd always planned on a singing career, the demure blonde's first break came when fashion model Twiggy spotted her on a popular British talent show.

TOLD THE BEATLES

Soon after, the young English model was introduced to Paul McCartney of the Beatles and passed on the news of her discovery.

Three days later Mary was on her way to London where she auditioned for McCartney and was immediately signed with the group's enterprising Apple recording company.

* * *

The happy ending isn't completed, but if her first hit "Those Were the Days," which sold over a million records in the United States; is any indication, the future promises much.

As for ambitions, the singer admits her schedule has been rather tight for thinking about the future, but she said she would like to try acting if the opportunity presented itself.

"I used to feel that the stage was only for those professionally trained for the theater; that singers shouldn't try to act, or actors try to sing, for that matter," she said.

* * *

"But I don't think that holds true anymore, and if the opportunity were there and I was offered a part in, say, a musical, I'd take it."

* * *

For the moment, the Welsh singer, who barely talks above a whisper, said she would like to resume her music lessons and take up foreign languages.

"Why is it when you have to take a course in school you always hate it?" she mused.

TIME IS PROBLEM

"Funny, but now that it's not forced on me I really want to learn a language, and it would be very useful when I record foreign numbers," she said.

* * *

Any other occupations — like trying her hand at songwriting, and doodling at the keyboards — are just a matter of finding the time.

* * *

Unfortunately, such time is limited, and Miss Hopkin smilingly admits she wastes more time thinking about what she'd like to do than actually doing it.

She does make allowances however when it comes to reading her horoscope.

SHE'S DISCERNING

Hard to believe one as frail and tiny as Mary Hopkin would be born under the sign of Taurus, the bull.

* * *

Does she take the reading seriously?

* * *

"Oh, I only read the good things," she laughed.

Annual OK Used Car Clearance. Come in and underspend.

Let us put it to you this way:
Chevrolet dealers sell more new cars than anybody else in the business. So it just follows that Chevrolet dealers get more used car trade-ins than anybody else in the business. And that's especially true around new car introduction time, which as you know is almost upon us.
So with our annual clearance now in progress, you're sure to get a great deal on an OK used car.
No matter what kind it is. (A lot of people trade in a used something else for a new Chevrolet, you know.)
One more thing you can be sure of. That red tag with the little OK circle on it means the car you choose has been checked over thoroughly, road-tested and reconditioned as necessary.
So come into your Chevrolet dealer's OK Used Car lot—and underspend. We think you'll be overjoyed.

Junior Editors Quiz on ROCKS

QUESTION: Why are there so many pretty rocks on the seashore?

* * *

ANSWER: Regina Smith, who sent us this interesting question, was good enough to enclose a little packet of the particular rocks she had in mind. They were little pebbles about half an inch long, of different colors, orange, gray, white, some spotted with other colors, but all smooth and rounded.

We have plenty of pebbles here, in an inland location, but looking at Regina's, one could tell at once that they came from a sea beach. Why the difference? Look at the picture. Our artist has given a feeling of the force and power of ocean waves as they smash against the land.

This is the beginning of the pebble-making process. Waves smash off bits of rock and churn the pieces around in a cauldron of boiling surf.

Here it is not only the water itself which breaks them down further; it is the fact that the water picks up bits of rock and uses them as tools to grind down other pieces. The final product is the sand of the seashore.

Regina's rocks are pieces with are larger than sand, but the grinding action of water and sand has given them a particular and very attractive kind of texture, satiny rather than shiny, a texture which speaks of the mysterious coolness and charm of the sea.

Railroad Tact on Wrong Track

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) If you have any sort of fair-minded news about you at all, I'm sure you will agree that the American railroads have been exceptionally patient with their passengers.

WEST

During the past 15 or 20 years, the railroads have tried just about everything they could reasonably be expected to try in their efforts to discourage passenger patronage.

They have provided poor service, antiquated equipment, rough roadbeds, jolting stops and starts, late arrivals and numerous other subtle hints that the passengers were unwanted.

Yet there remains a hard core of obstinate, impervious, irrational and insensitive travelers who insist on riding trains.

CAN'T LOSE ENOUGH

These inconsiderate dienards make it difficult for the railroads to lose enough money to justify discontinuing trains. And when the Interstate Commerce Commission does authorize a discontinuance, they frequently go to court to try to block it.

This harassment of the railroads by fanatical passengers adds up to a shameful chapter in the his tory of transportation. I submit that the railroads have tolerated it long enough and that more drastic action to rid the trains of passengers is now warranted.

But when the railroads recently tried a new tactic—stopping trains out in the middle of nowhere and transferring the passengers to buses — even that mild maneuver was soon denied to them.

The ICC has now ruled that a train that is being discontinued shouldn't be taken off the run until it reaches its destination. A novel idea and a dangerous precedent!

All of us who sympathize with the railroads in their valiant struggle to depassengerize themselves have a moral obligation to abet the campaign in every way possible.

By way of doing my part, I have prepared three recommendations that the railroads might find helpful in combatting riders:

1. Stop allowing passengers to carry their luggage on board the train with them. Make them check it at the ticket counter, as the airlines do, and then take it to another city. As the airlines do.

2. Modernize train stations in the way the air terminals have been modernized. At present, most train stations are located near the tracks. The tracks should be moved several miles away, separating passengers from trains at least as far as air travelers are separated from planes.

3. Arrange the schedule so that there will be many more trains arriving than there are tracks. Have several of them almost run together and then switch them to a circular track around the station for at least an hour.

Woman, 82, Dies of Crash Injuries

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — An 82-year-old Bradenton, Fla., woman died Tuesday in a Grand Rapids hospital of injuries suffered when she was flung from a car during a collision Monday.

Hospital officials said Mrs. Sada Johnson died of a fractured skull. Mrs. Johnson was visiting friends and relatives in Michigan when the accident occurred.

Red-Intrigue 'Plot' Involves U.S. Actor

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — At the astronauts' banquet in the Century Plaza Hotel last week, actor Don Defore was telling friends about the funny thing that happened on the way to the dinner. Only it didn't seem funny at the time.

THOMAS

Even today Defore shudders at the memory of being held on suspicion of spying on Russian installations in a small Czechoslovak village.

It happened when Defore and his wife, Marian, were on their way home from the July 11-24 Moscow Film Festival, to which he was an American delegate. They had struck up a friendship with Yugoslav delegates who invited them to their film festival at Pula, Yugoslavia.

Before leaving for California, Defore wanted to make a sentimental journey to the birthplace of his mother's parents in Czechoslovakia. He related what happened after he arrived in Prague:

"We found a taxi driver who could speak a little English and was willing to take us to my grandparents' town, Piskova Holta, about 40 kilometers away. As we were driving toward the village we came over a hill and saw a fenced-in area with a big gate and a huge photograph of Lenin with a sign which meant 'Long Live Communism.'

RUSSIANS WITH GUNS

"This was where the Russian troops were billeted. Marian said, 'Let's stop and take a picture,' but I said, 'Let's not.' There were Russian soldiers with tommy guns patrolling the streets."

Defore learned from an elderly resident that his grandparents had moved long ago to another village Mlade Boleslave, and he got the address. When the Deforos arrived, there was no one home.

* * *

"Marian decided to take a picture, and she almost crossed the street to take in the building," said Defore. "We scarcely noticed the Jeeps going by with officers. Then she took a photo of new buildings on the other side of the street. That's when we saw a burly man staring at us from a doorway.

"He ran across the street and stuck his head in the taxi and started yelling at us in Russian. We had a sick feeling. It was like a scene out of one of our whodunit movies."

TAKEN TO HQ

Defore said the official, a Czech with the secret police, forced the driver to take the Deforos to headquarters, where they were questioned by Russian officers.

"There was much telephoning, and the Czech insisted that we be kept there," said the actor. Evidently we were accused of photographing military things. This was at a time when the Aug. 20th anniversary of the Russian invasion was nearing, and everyone was walking around on eggshells."

* * *

Finally Mrs. Defore offered a solution: "Tell them to keep the film." That seemed to placate the Russians, who were impressed by the Moscow stamps on the Defores' passports.

U.S. Civilian Cut Due in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. government is completing studies that will lead to a cutback of about 10 per cent in the number of American civilians working in South Vietnam, officials said yesterday.

By next June 30, spokesmen said, the 2,265 so-called "direct hire civilian personnel" in the country will be cut by about 226.

* * *

Affected will be some of the 1,975 Americans who work for the U.S. aid program, 160 who work for the U.S. Embassy, and 130 who work in public-affairs jobs such as press relations.

U.S. officials said enough Vietnamese have been trained to take over the jobs involved, which touch almost every aspect of civilian life in South Vietnam. U.S. technicians and advisers help Vietnamese in everything from garbage collecting to planting rice and dealing with the press.

'OVERLOADED'

Some observers feel that the U.S. civilian effort here is overloaded, and some South Vietnamese think the Americans weaken their self-reliance by doing too much for them. On the other hand, U.S. officials have helped the Vietnamese make strides in improving such things as public services, schooling and agriculture.

Notre Dame Offers Nonviolence Course

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — A new Notre Dame University course in violence and nonviolence has been expanded more than tenfold before it even gets under way.

The course, titled "Program for the Nonviolent Resolution of Human Conflict," will be offered at the start of the fall semester.

* * *

Originally it was planned to have one section, limited to 20 students. But more than 250 of Notre Dame's 8,000 students have signed up, so three sections have been added and the limit abolished.

* * *

The Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, Notre Dame president, said the credit course for undergraduates will explore the literature of violence and nonviolence, investigate the psychology of human aggression and study social effects of violence as portrayed in mass media.

IDEA EVOLUTION

The idea evolved from a proposal by 38 student leaders last winter after a campus protest.

A warning letter to students from Father Hesburgh produced the financial foundation for the program.

On Feb. 17 the president wrote that while the university firmly believes student voices should be heard it could not tolerate disruptive protests.

* * *

The letter followed a minor clash between students and police when a film, scheduled as part of a seminar on pornography, was canceled.

The student leaders then proposed a study of nonviolence and Father Hesburgh approved.

"I think you've put your finger on something," he said. "Billions are being spent annually for what is ultimately violence. Surely someone must be interested in investing in nonviolence."

GULF OIL GRANT

The Gulf Oil Corp., impressed by Father Hesburgh's stand on student unrest, awarded Notre Dame an unrestricted grant of $100,000.

* * *

A committee of students and faculty fashioned details of the program and has assembled 700 books relating to the subject.

Women Told to Be Wary Alone in Car

DETROIT (UPI) — More and more women driving alone in Michigan are being robbed and molested, according to Jerry E. Fisher, touring manager for the Automobile Club of Michigan.

To increase their safety, Fisher suggested today that women should:

● Keep the car in good mechanical condition and plan the route.

● Keep their car doors locked and valuables out of sight.

● Never, under any circumstances, pick up a hitchhiker, male or female.

● Inspect their parked car before getting into it.

● Keep the car in gear at intersections and traffic signals. If someone tries to open a door or a window, drive on, even if it means disobeying the traffic signal.

* * *

"If all else fails," said Fisher, "scream as if your life depended on it. It might be true."

About 9.6 million passenger cars were sold in the U.S. in 1968.

Colleague May Follow Chairman Into Retirement

Nixon Hard-Pressed to Fill FCC Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Wadsworth have been considering President Nixon appears to be having some difficulty finding a regulator to assume the highly sensitive post of chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

He could end up having to fill two vacancies on the seven-member commission if James J. Wadsworth quits before his term expires, as reported, to join the International Telecommunications Satellite Consortium (Intelsat).

* * *

Nixon could then change the Democratic majority to his own party but those observers doubt that two new Republican members — even conservative ones — would result in any real change in commission direction.

Both retiring Chairman Rosel Hyde, a Republican, and Wadsworth, a Democrat, have tended to help form the conservative majority in the past. Two new conservatives probably would vote much the same way.

CONSERVATIVES

Over a long period of time Commissioners Hyde, Robert T. Bartley, Robert E. Lee and Nicholas Johnson have been considered "moderate" regulators" whose positions often have been lauded by the broadcast industry.

Speculation on Hyde's successor has been considerable but not authoritative. Almost every source can offer a name but not with any real assurance. Shirley Temple Black's name is impossible to predict how votes are going to come out anymore."

If Wadsworth leaves, Nixon crops up in this speculation. A might be pressed to consider conservation Republican who nominating a woman to serve ran unsuccessfully for Congress, out the two years of his unexpired term. A State Department job.

Scientists in Disagreement on Continued Pesticide Use

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — If it's a question of people with pesticides or pelicans without pesticides, says one California scientist, then it must be people.

On the other hand, the danger from pesticides is so great, says another California scientist, that there's no longer much excuse for continuing other scientific activities.

Dr. Donald G. Crosby, Department of Environmental Toxicology at the University of California at Davis, favored con-

"We're not talking about a cockroach in the bedroom," he told a symposium of 400 scientists studying the pesticides.

"We're talking about insects that devour up to 80,000 tons per day—that a strip bare an area the size of Rhode Island in one day."

Dr. Robert Risebrough of the Institute of Marine Resources at the University of California at Berkeley, said DDT was a pollution problem.

* * *

"We can't afford to throw garbage into our environment," he said.

He showed slides taken this spring on Anacapa Island off southern California showing the eggs of brown pelicans were so thin that only three of seven 1,000 birds hatched.

GULLS OKAY

"But the gulls are doing fine," he said. "Unlike the fish-eating species, they feed primarily on garbage, which, it turns out, is that area is substantially cleaner than the fish in the sea."

An earlier speaker, Dr. Lucille F. Stickel of the Patuxent Wildlife Research Center, Laurel, Md., told the studing by her and her husband of thin egg shells.

"Thin egg shells constitute a recently recognized expression of the long - standing problem of the effects of DDT and related chemicals on wild populations of birds," she said.

Dr. Crosby noted that other living things in nature used chemicals. He mentioned the lists studying the pesticides.

"FORCED TO ACT

"Insects take man's food, rum cotton that might be used to clothe him, feast on trees that might shelter or heat him," he said.

He said big increases in population forced man to act to protect his food supply.

"We should accept the self-interest of our species," Dr. Crosby argued. Cities, dams, highways, agriculture—all represent important ecological changes.

"I'm not advocating the destruction of the pelican," he said. "But they, like men, are part of a dynamic evolution."

He urged society to take the responsibility to use chemicals to the extent needed.

LAKE MICHIGAN FISH

Dr. Kenneth J. Maceik spoke on the biological magnification of pesticides, using the fish of Lake Michigan as an example. He is with the fish - pesticide research laboratory, U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Columbia, Mo.

He said small amounts of DDT found their way into the of Lake Michigan fish, but only in low parts per trillion. Yet fish in the lake show DDT residues of three to 10 parts per million.

Public College Rolls in State 4 Pct. Black

LANSING (UPI) — Negro students accounted for 4.1 per cent of the student body population in Michigan's public colleges and universities last year, while more than 9 per cent of all Michigan residents in the college age group were Negroes.

These statistics are included in a study conducted by the U.S. Office of Education in Washington and on file at the Michigan Department of Education.

* * *

The figures were compiled from civil rights compliance reports filed by colleges and universities in Michigan.

They show said Special Assistant for Educational Opportunity Marvin Tableman, "that while we have made some strides in equal opportunity recently, we still have a long way to go."

4.1 PCT. NEGRO

The study shows 148,168 students attended the 13 state institutions filing reports. Of these, 6,066 or 4.1 per cent, were Negro.

While no exact up-to-date figures are available to determine the racial composition of this age group, from 18-21, right now, experts in the field say it is more than 9 per cent Negro, perhaps 10 per cent.

* * *

The 1960 census listed some 35,000 Negroes in this age group with a total population in that age group of 374,000. Thus, the Negroes comprised slightly less than 9 per cent of this.

However, the number of Negroes in Michigan has increased more rapidly than the number of whites on a proportional basis in the last nine years. In the state's public primary and secondary schools last year there were 287,254 Negroes out of 2.4 million students, about 12 per cent of the total.

SHOULD BE 9-10

Population study experts say the percentage of Negroes in the college age group thus should be between 9 and 10 per cent.

This means the number of Negroes in college is less than 10 per cent as large as it would be if it had the same percentage in school as other racial groups, the experts say.

* * *

The study showed that more than one-third of the Negro students in public colleges, 2,297, attended Wayne State University in Detroit. Michigan State University had 666 Negro students enrolled, comprising 2.9 per cent of its student population, while the University of Michigan had 546 Negro students or 2.5 per cent of its total enrollment.

The study showed an even smaller percentage of Negroes enrolled in the professional and graduate schools at U-M and at MSU. Out of the 29,651 students enrolled in the various schools, only 380, or 1.7 were Negro.

HIGHER PERCENTAGE

Junior colleges and private colleges and universities enrolled a higher percentage of Negro students than did the public colleges and universities, the study showed.

It said 46,145, students were enrolled in the 21 junior colleges reporting and that 4,108, or 8.9 per cent, of them were Negroes. The 30 private colleges reporting had a total enrollment of 31,581, of which 1,928, or 6.1 per cent were Negro.

* * *

In each category, again, however, one school accounted for much of the Negro enrollment. Highland Park College in Detroit enrolled 2,384 of the 4,108 Negro students attending junior colleges in Michigan. Michigan Lutheran College in Detroit enrolling 680 of the 1,928 Negroes attending private colleges.

The figures would indicate Michigan is about average among the 50 states in the percentage of Negroes among its student bodies.

NATIONAL FIGURES

The civil rights office of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington took a survey of 4.8 million full-time undergraduate students in 1,406 colleges last year.

It showed that 245,000 of the students, or 5 per cent, were Negro, while Negroes comprise about 9-10 per cent of the national population.

* * *

However, 150,000 of these attended all — Negro colleges and universities. Thus 95,000 Negroes, or slightly under 2 per cent of the total, attended integrated colleges and universities in the country as a whole.

Whites Finding Adoption of Black Children Rewarding

By the Associated Press

Hundreds of white Americans are integrating their families by adopting black children. They find a few difficulties, generally far outweighed by rewards.

While not commonplace, transracial adoptions were reported last year in at least 35 states. According to one survey, white families received nearly one-quarter of all black children adopted.

Every state in the union has many Negro children in need of adoption, says Stuart R. Stimmel, director of Oregon's Boys and Girls Aid Society.

Stimmel, in a recent interview, recalled the first time the society placed a Negro child with a white family.

FIRST MOVE

That was 24 years ago. It was the tentative first move toward getting black children, orphaned, born out of wedlock or to families that wouldn't support them, out of institutions and into homes. Even if the families in those homes were white.

The Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society said adoptions this year of black children by white couples exceeded the 1968 total by late July.

And Elizabeth Manney of the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services says such adoptions in the Chicago area have increased more than 30 per cent in the last two years.

Parents who get the children are delighted. Mrs. Michael Binyon of Chicago, asked if she and her husband, an electrician, had any fears about adopting their 2-year-old son, laughed and said: "Good heavens, no."

DISSENTING VOICE

Sometimes a dissenting voice is raised. Peter Haraty, who identified himself as black, wrote in the Boston publication of the Families for Interracial Adoption: "We have our doubts about the wisdom of black children being raised in a white culture of which they cannot be a part."

Mrs. Grant Cooney of Portland has an answer for that, speaking of the son of mixed parentage she and her husband adopted: "He isn't black. He's an individual, a person."

For that matter, she said: "I fear my other children may feel left out. Their background is not nearly as interesting as his."

Mrs. Lloyd Meskimen of Portland sees it a little differently. They have a 2-year old black daughter and she says, "I don't see any problem if we raise her as a black; if we have black friends around."

Adoptive parents of children of other races are banding together in what are mostly called Open Door societies.

Stimmel says a few years ago the stress was on getting black families to adopt black children. But in many states there are not enough black families that can afford, or have room for, an adopted child. The rate of adoptions by black families is increasing, however, Stimmel said.

SEPARATE ORGANIZATION

The Boys and Girls Aid Society, financed by the Oregon United Appeal and contributions, has had such success with interracial adoptions that two years ago it set up a separate organization called Opportunity to spread the word. Opportunity is the closest thing there is to a national clearinghouse of information and promoter of interracial adoptions.

Olds said some adoption agencies had been active in interracial work, but many were reluctant to get into it. Children with Indian or Oriental backgrounds have been easily placed with white families, but in the words of Rufus Butler, vice president of the society: "There is a piling up of black kids who need homes. So we got into it nationally when no other agencies would."

* * *

A television documentary, "Run, Jimmy Run," produced a year ago in Portland by KOIN-TV with the society's cooperation, told such a dramatic success story of two white families' experiences with black children that dozens of inquiries poured in from white couples.

* * *

However, while Oregon society members call attention to the needs—and rewards—of interracial adoptions, they also caution white families that would adopt a black child.

RELATIVES CRITICAL

"No family can do it in a community that will be tearing them apart," Stimmel says. Parents who have adopted a black child say their relatives often are critical.

But many have had the experience of the Virgil Siberz family, whose son is such a familiar sight around their Portland neighborhood that people have stopped defining him by his skin color.

When a neighbor saw the son and commented to a neighbor that there must be a Negro family living nearby, the neighbor replied: "That was no Negro. That was Jimmy Siberz."

School-Tax Hike Wins in Cadillac

CADILLAC (AP)—A 4.6-mill tax increase for operations was approved Tuesday in the Cadillac School District. Officials had said if the tax hike, defeated twice in the past, lost again half - day sessions would have been instituted in the district.

The vote was 2,192 to 1,651 with some 600 additional voters turning out Tuesday, compared to the turnout last spring when the proposal lost by 200 votes.

NOTICE OF ENACTMENT OF ORDINANCE

Notice is hereby given that on August 13, 1969, the Sylvan Lake City Council enacted Ordinance 92, to be effective August 23, 1969. This is an ordinance to regulate and provide for the inspection, alteration, repairing, servicing and maintenance of electrical equipment, and to provide for the licensing and registration of electrical contractors and journeyman electricians.

Chinese 'Unite' U.S., Soviets in Afghanistan

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP) — Tinkling ice cubes in highball glasses provided the musical score as diplomats strolled over thick lawns at a British reception in Kabul to worm new intelligence from friends and foes. Among the most active, and watched with a chary eye by all, were the Communist Chinese.

Newly arrived charge d'affaires Lo Chin, dapper in a blue Mao tunic and wearing a Mao Tse-tung button about three inches across, was led at a measured pace through the throng of guests by a young interpreter to meet the right people.

The right people included a first stop with the Pakistan ambassador and chats with the Syrian and French diplomats, among others. Lo Chin, of medium height, with large and melancholy brown eyes, performed smoothly and interspersed more serious questions with light humor.

Watching this performance, but not partaking with the Chinese, were the American and Russian ambassadors. They reflected mutual concern for the yet undefined role of China in this often overlooked but politically important country.

UNCERTAIN ELEMENT

In this mountainous, landlocked nation, about the size of Texas, the Chinese represent an uncertain element.

With national elections slated this fall—the second in the nation's history—everyone is watching the Chinese and the small group of Afghan extremists aligned with the thoughts of Mao.

* * *

The Russians are watching because they have made it clear they want continued stability in Afghanistan, where they share a 1,200-mile border. The Russians spend lavishly here—well over $700 million in assistance for roads, natural gas pipelines, a fertilizer plant—and do not want anything to upset their dominant position.

The American's want stability, too. They are pleased with Afghanistan's neutrality "which is not just neutral against us," says Ambassador Robert G. Neumann. Over the past 15 years the United States has pumped nearly $400 million in here, mainly in schools, roads and experimental farms.

UNUSUAL RELATIONSHIP

The Americans and Russians want stability so much, in fact, that they have an unusually close relationship. Russian and American diplomats lunch together frequently, and the Soviets have even consulted Neumann for his views on the Chinese activities in Afghanistan. Even economic programs are coordinated, such as each building segments of connecting roads.

This Soviet-American mutual admiration society leaves the Chinese cold, but they remain diplomatically correct. During the cutural evolution the Chinese mission in Kabul did nothing more offensive than erect laudatory slogans to Mao inside the embassy grounds. There was none of the calculated fury that led to physical clashes in Jakarta, Rangoon and London.

* * *

Said one ranking Foreign Officer official: "The intelligent Chinese here—and there are some—want to prove to the world that they also can live in peaceful harmony with their neighbors. Also, don't overlook the lack of overseas Chinese here. This makes it difficult for them to construct an internal intelligence network."

The Afghans are rather cautious in their dealings with the Chinese. They are happy with the state of balance and cooperation that exists between the Russians and Americans; the Chinese represent an imbalance.

LOST PRESTIGE

The Russians lost prestige heavily here after the Czech invasion. This country, which has been an East-West thoroughfare since Alexander the Great and Ghengis Khan, shuddered at the prospect of similar retaliation here.

Although the Russians, West Germans and Americans all have advisers in the Ministry of Planning, the Chinese remain aloof. Their projects include the Parwan irrigation project, a textile mill (despite Afghanistan's desperate shortage of cotton, a silkworm industry, fish and poultry breeding and stone cutting.

* * *

About the only place the Russians and Chinese approach each other is, ironically, within the compounds of the Soviet Union's great blunder here: an 11,000-unit apartment complex that the Afghans, with their great sense of privacy, refuse to live in. Russian and Chinese technicians and some Afghan bachelor officers are about the only ones in the echoing buildings.

Spring Lake OKs School-Tax Hike

GRAND HAVEN (AP) —Voters in the Spring Lake School District approved a 7.7-mill tax increase Tuesday. The increase will finance operations for four years.

The proposal, approved 849 to 653, was defeated in June.

Mao May Be Planning Revised Form of Great Leap Forward

HONG KONG (AP) — An announcement that a province in Communist China has built small steel blast furnaces may mean Chairman Mao Tse-tung has decided to embark on a revised form of the Great Leap Forward, Western government analysts said yesterday.

The Great Leap Forward was Mao's 1958 attempt to develop China's economy rapidly with a vast number of small projects run by local communes. Blast furnaces, fertilizer plants and coal mines were some of the small projects. The program ended in failure.

It was just these kinds of projects that China's official new China (Hsinhua) News Agency said Friday were being built in the northern province of Hopei.

* * *

The agency said nine small blast furnaces have been built, eight of which are in operation.

"All of the newly opened 66 small coal mines have started production," the agency added. "The productive capacity of 10 small cement plants has also been enlarged. Each of the province's 10 administrative regions has at least one small fertilizer plant."

"It's still too early to tell just what's up," one analyst said. "The revolutionary fervor of the Great Leap seems to be lacking, but the projects themselves so far seem to be pretty similar."

The Chinese announcement referred to the Great Leap Forward as the period in which "Our great leader, Chairman Mao, called on the people of the whole country, in the spirit of self-reliance and struggle, to take China's own road of industrial development."

NOTE DEVELOPMENTS

For the past few months, analysts have been noting developments similar to those of the Great Leap Forward.

Rural land reclamation projects have been pushed, ration coupons issued and millions of persons sent from the cities to labor in the countryside.

* * *

Some of the slogans in the announcement Friday were also similar to slogans of the Great Leap Forward, analysts said.

"Small industrial enterprises give full play to the initiative of the masses," said one. "Small factories and mines require a little investment, produce quick results and fully use local resources," said another.

* * *

These slogans resemble those of 1958.

Film Producer a Wry Realist

Stanley Kramer Likes Pictures of Problems

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I became a producer by accident," remarked Stanley Kramer, whose work has been nominated 97 times for an Academy Award but never won an Oscar.

BOYLE

"After the second World War, I met a man who had some money."

The remark is typical of the wry realism of Kramer, who started his career as a backlot carpenter and who for nearly a quarter of a century has been one of the most controversial figures in an industry whose first motto is, "Don't make waves."

Kramer, however, has been rolling the waters since 1946, when he made "Home of the Brave," Hollywood's first important film about prejudice against Negroes.

COMEDY DRAMA

Although his latest film, "The Secret of Santa Vittoria," is a comedy drama, the producer has preferred to make pictures dealing with the social and individual problems of mankind in a world racked by fear, greed, selfishness and injustice.

Among them have been "The Defiant Ones," "High Noon," "Inherit the Wind," "Death of a Salesman," "The Caine Mutiny," "On the Beach," and "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner."

* * *

Kramer is unruffled by the fact he has no Oscars to adorn his mantle.

"They're a real help at the box office," he acknowledged. "But I can't visualize myself weeping over whether I ever won or lost anything."

WHITE-HAIRED, TRIM

But at 55, white-haired but trimly built as a boxer, Kramer is annoyed at the implication of some critics that he is beginning to pull his punches and has gone soft.

"Sure, my attitudes have changed a lot," he said. "They damn well better change, because the world has changed a lot in the last 25 years.

* * *

"I feel more insecure about some things I felt secure about then, and I'm more secure about a few things I was insecure about then.

"Then I was part of the literature of prerevolution, and now the revolution is here and I don't quite know where I belong.

FUNCTION OF DISCARD

"Men of reason and progressive outlook must come to grips with themselves and help redraw the lines—maybe this is the function of what I call the discarded liberal."

Kramer may feel he has been discarded by more radical elements in the fight for social justice, but he disavows any idea that he is a "tired liberal."

"I'm not a tired liberal because I still am too challenged to be tired," he said, "and I never really classified myself as a liberal, because I wasn't sure what it was.

"In fact, I'm not sure of anything, although"—he smiled fleetingly—"I can talk very glibly about anything. You can't be sure, because you don't know how much things will change.

Fashion Show Will Aid Youth

DETROIT (AP) — New York and Detroit fashion designers will display their creations at a "Go Underground in Fashion" show Sunday at Ford Auditorium.

Part of the show's proceeds will be used to establish an educational trust fund for 12-year-old Henry Wadley Jr., who will soon undergo a heart valve operation.

Interstate Road Exits a Mecca

Businesses Cluster at Highway Gateways

By Newspaper Enterprise Association

Interstate system roads are affecting America's growth pattern.

Reading about the old stagecoach roads in post-colonial America, it is clear that they created their own little solar systems.

* * *

Towns owed their existence to the eternal truth that a horse could travel only so far until he had to be rested and the clients' backsides could endure the bumpy roads and jolting coaches only so long.

Our present day network of interstate roads, likewise, appears to be creating its own little universe.

AT EXITS

Like the inns at the stagecoach stops of old, motels, filling stations, restaurants and mercantile establishments germinate at the exits to the interstates.

If they are convenient locations, housing developments follow, then shopping centers and apartments.

The entrance-exit gateways are the important spots in the arteries.

In fact, it is only at the rest stops and interchanges on these new roads that we seem to have a real contact with living, breathing humans while traveling.

STRAPPED IN

The remainder, seat belts, headrests and all, is more like being strapped in a dentist chair in front of some fantastic travel-machine.

So some things were bound to happen.

* * *

Is it believable — a map that is all words and doesn't have a drawing in it at all? Well, a traveler on I-75, I-81 or I-70 can pick up for a quarter Hobbs "Exit Guide" which is in reality such a map.

Each booklet follows its road, interchange by interchange, giving commercials for food, lodging and gas emporiums at each.

SOMEWHAT SIMILAR

Somewhat similar is a book promoted by National Advertising Co., a subsidiary of 3M Co.

Called a Travelaide, this consists of two parts, a simplified strip map detailing its own particular interstate road with its exits and feeder roads.

The accompanying directory lists available facilities at each exit and such things as sightseeing attractions and historic sites.

These are free at service stations and, at present, are available for: I-35, Kansas — Oklahoma-Texas; I-75, Michigan - Ohio - Kentucky; I-75, Tennessee - Georgia - Florida; I-80, Chicago to Denver; I-94, Illinois - Wisconsin - Minnesota; I-95, North Carolina - South Carolina; California freeways; New York - New England Interstate net.

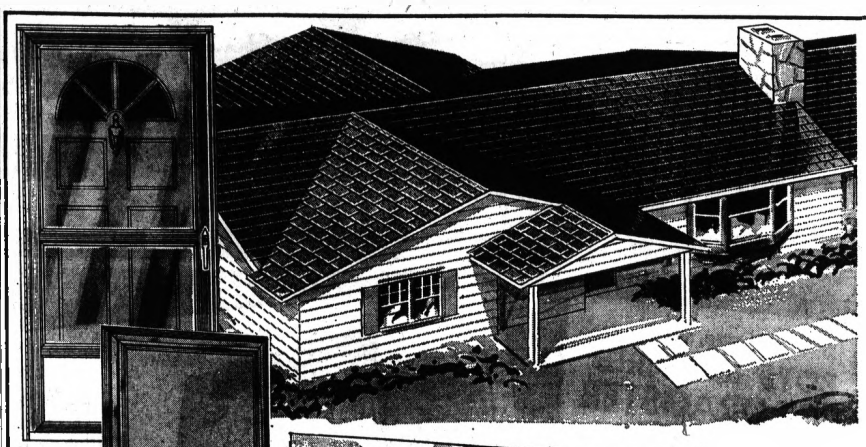

UNEQUALED

Of course nothing equals the auto club Triptik with personalized routes designated by a colored-ink line and the trip broken down into easily digested pages.

Information accompanying it in the regional Tour Book is complete to the point of bewilderment.

Some of the oil companies offer a somewhat similar tour service from travel offices in major cities.

Canadian Doctor's Underwater Tank Adds Depth to Lake Study

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Resting at the bottom of 30 feet of water in a small Canadian bay about 100 miles northwest of Michigan's Thumb Area is a yellow-and-blue striped tank.

It's the pet project of a man irritated by the expense, the hundreds of people involved, and general inaccessability to "ordinary" divers of big underwater projects.

* * *

The vessel, named Sublimnos (Greek for under fresh water), belongs to Canadian physician Joseph B. MacInnis, one of the world's experts on the physiological and psychological effects of deep diving on humans. He has worked with the U.S. Navy's Sealab and Man-in-the-Sea projects.

Scientists from Canada and the United States are taking turns using MacInnis' tank to study the biology and geology of the Great Lakes, but its owner is encouraging high school students, engineers and artists to try it, too.

Among the first to use the 8-by-8-foot steel cylinder, held underwater by a ballast tank attached below it, was a team of divers from the University of Michigan. After six days of underwater exploration, they described the habitat as a valuable tool for prolonged diving operations.

"I call it the Volkswagen approach," MacInnis says of the Sublimnos. "It doesn't give us all the conveniences, but it gets us down there."

* * *

In May, he positioned the vessel in 30 feet of clear unpolluted water near Tobermory, located at the tip of Ontario's Bruce Peninsula between Lake Huron and Georgian Bay.

The habitat can "go as deep as you want," MacInnis says. But for the next two years, he intends to leave it right where it is so that any interested and qualified diver can use it.

MORE TIME BELOW

"The habitat probably doubled or tripled the time we could spend underwater," reported Lee H. Somers, the U-M project diving supervisor. He said Sublimnos gave researchers an underwater resting place where they could discuss each other's activities, conserve air in their scuba tanks by breathing the habitat's air and shake off the chill of 65-degree lake temperatures.

The ship housed research equipment, diving gear, a ship-to-habitat intercom and an air compressor to pipe surface air down to the habitat.

* * *

The Sublimnos work fits in with a new underwater operations program set up by U-M this year with the help of a $380,100 grant from the National Science Foundation's Sea Grant Program.

The grant supplements nearly $200,000 which the university had already committed for training, research and service in the marine sciences and water-resource management.

Basic to the university projects is the belief that research will be more efficient and useful if the scientists themselves go underwater and see things firsthand.

"One direct look is worth a thousand bucket samples or microscope slides or guesses," said U-M Great Lakes Research Division director David Chandler. "Only the human eyeball and mind can interpret and integrate all of it."

Moon-Cake Crisis in Viet

Shortage of Delicacy Reflects Aid Change

SAIGON (AP) — There's a moon-cake crisis this year.

Usually Vietnamese eat the round delicacies at this season the way that Westerners gobble fruitcake at Christmas.

* * *

Hundreds of thousands were baked for sale from mid-August until late September, when a festival coincides with the halfway point in the lunar year.

But this year a government decree forbids their "production, transport, detention and sale."

REFLECTS ADJUSTMENTS

This reflects intricate economic and financial adjustments being made by the government, in part as a result of changing American aid policies.

For years the United States has been helping the South Vietnam import flow by providing dollars to buy goods abroad. As the dollar supply increased, aid officials noted that it was being used more and more for such luxury goods as sports cars, French wines and Japanese motorbikes. Recently the United States struck from its import aid list such items as sugar, gasoline and cement. The South Vietnamese government was told it had to finance these items itself and slow down on luxuries.

* * *

During the readjustment period, the sugar pipeline got clogged. Although there is no real shortage of sugar, officials say, word of delivery delays touched off a run on retail supplies.

Sugar had virtually disappeared from Saigon markets by Monday, although it was available under the counter for about 30 cents a pound.

One editor wrote: "At a time when Americans have walked on the moon, we can't even have our moon cakes."

WHEN IT'S TIME TO RE-TIRE BUY FISK

K mart FISK TIRE GUARANTEE

- Free Replacement—If the tire is rendered non-serviceable for any reason during the first 90 days after purchase, it will be replaced at no charge.
- Road Hazard—Any failure that occurs due to road hazard, will be replaced on a pro-rated base of current everyday selling price of the tire, at time of adjustment, according to tread remaining, with specified number of months guaranteed.
- Workmanship and Material—Every tire sold by us is guaranteed against all failures or defects in workmanship and material for the life of the original tread. If the tire fails due to defects in material and workmanship, the tire will be replaced, charging only for the amount of mileage received.

ALL ADJUSTMENTS ARE BASED ON CURRENT EVERYDAY SELLING PRICE, AT THE TIME OF ADJUSTMENT—NOT LIST PRICE OR NO-TRADE PRICE. WARRANTY GOOD NATION-WIDE

Sharon Tate Had Vision of Death 3 Years Ago

By DICK KLEINER
West Coast Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — It was just a creepy story, when Sharon Tate told it to me early in 1966. But now, three years and five murders later, it has acquired something more than creepiness.

She was a starlet then. Sensational to look at. They thought she was going to be a big star. Maybe she would have been. Maybe not. Anyhow, in '66, she was a girl of promise.

But there was something a little strange about her. Everybody noticed it. They thought, at the time, that it was because her first feature was an oddball terror thing called "13" — later they changed the title to "Eye of the Devil" — and maybe she was taking her work home with her.

You could look at her for hours. And listen to the nutty stories coming out of that beautiful head. I like stories of the supernatural. She knew that, and she had one.

JAY SEBRING, TOO

It involved Jay Sebring. And the house in Benedict Canyon.

No, not the house where she and Jay were killed. That was on Cielo, just off Benedict. But the houses can't be much more than a mile apart.

Sharon used to date Jay. This was before she met Roman Polanski, the man she married. She and Jay went together for a long time. Jay had just bought the house in Benedict Canyon.

It had once been owned by Paul Birn. It was into that house that Birn had brought his bride, Jean Harlow. And it was in that house that Birn had committed suicide.

CALM NARRATION

The beautiful girl told the story, calmly, matter-of-factly. It seems that Jay was in New York on business. And Sharon was between apartments. She called Jay and asked if she could stay in the house. Of course she could.

She was there that night. That dark night. She was alone. She wasn't usually spooky, but for some reason she was that night, in that house. She kept a light on, by the side of her bed.

* * *

"I saw a creepy little man," Sharon said. "He looked like the pictures I'd seen of Birn."

She ran downstairs.

When she got downstairs, she wished she was still upstairs.

"I saw a vision of someone tied to the staircase," she said. "It might have been me. It might have been Jay. Whoever it was, it was cut open at the throat."

She needed a drink, for nerve-steadying purposes. She didn't know where the bar was. Something told her to open a bookcase. Inside, there was a hidden bar. She poured a shot.

There was some wallpaper below the hidden bar. For some reason, she picked at it, tore it away. It covered a lovely copper base to the bar. She wondered why it had been papered over.

Strange, how the mind works. Worrying about things like that when ghosts are wandering around upstairs and mutilated bodies are tied to the staircase downstairs. She thought it must be a dream. She decided to find out and went back upstairs. The body — (Could it be her, could it be Jay?) — was still tied to the stairs. The creepy little man was still prowling around upstairs.

BACK TO BED

She went to bed and somehow slept.

When Jay came back, the next morning, he woke her. She remembered the events of the night before. It must have been a dream — but . . .

"Hey," he called, "who tore the wallpaper off by the bar down here?"

No dream.

But three years later, a mile up the road, a nightmare. She and Jay both killed. Both stabbed. Three others killed, too.

X-Ray Source New Thrill for Astronomers

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — It has been a long time since a star was just a bright point of light in the sky. For years now the canopy of visible stars overhead has been specked with an assortment of other kinds of stars, which most of us don't see: Radio stars, X-ray stars and other which emit energy in parts of the spectrum not visible to the human eye.

* * *

Every now and then a new object appears. If it is visible, it can inspire universal excitement and awe. A supernova — a massive stellar explosion can be one such, and those who witnessed one three centuries ago where doubtlessly awed.

* * *

Unfortunately, if the new body erupts in another, invisible wavelength, the excitement is reserved for the astronomers, and then only those equipped to monitor that particular radiation.

* * *

Such is the case now: astronomers are indeed excited by a powerful flood of X-ray pouring out of a spot in the sky between the constellations Centaurus and Lupus from which nothing was coming two months ago.

NEW THEORIES

They aren't willing to speculate on what it is yet, but whatever it is, it is bound to give rise to new theories of the composition of space and the things that occupy it.

* * *

"We don't know what it is," says W. D. Evans of Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory, who developed the experiment with Drs. J. P. Conner and R. P. Belian. The new object is twice as bright as any other know X-ray source and appeared sometime between July 6 and July 9.

* * *

Suggestions are that the source may be the beginning of either of two types of celestial explosions, as Nova 9 or a Supernova, or something else, but no one is quite sure.

Her Voice, Real or Ghosted, Will Be Heard on Broadway

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Our old friend Lauren Bacall is busting out as a sexy, throaty singer and will have record albums and offers to become a saloon chanteuse.

"Betty" will sing numerous songs in the stage musical version of the Bette Davis film, "All About Eve," which Joe Kipness and Lawrence Kasha will produce. She supposedly sang in her first movie, "To Have and Have Not," in the Humphrey Bogart era. But wisies have always insisted that her voice was ghosted by one of the Williams Brothers—Andy Williams.

WILSON

Miss Bacall denied that Andy ghosted her voice and said, "I thought everybody knew that I ghost for Andy."

Multimillionaire Kirk Kerkorian's private jet came down at Bangor, Me., for health and immigration check and refueling. As they were taking off, Kerkorian (who's been bidding for MGM and has the new Vegas luxury International Hotel) said to guests Cary Grant and Johnny Meyer:

"We should stop here all the time—the gas is about 10 cents cheaper."

* * *

Frederic March, who'll soon be 72, swears he's retiring from movie-making. As he was finishing "tick . . . tick . . . tick," MGM wanted to announce him for a new one, "Desire," but he wouldn't give permission, claiming this was his 70th picture—and last.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Producer Jay Weston, who'll film "The Fame Game," wants to give a top role to Tiny Tim (playing "a lovable transvestite") . . . Robert Hooks is talking to Columbia about directing an all-Negro "Pal Joey" . . . Dolores Del Rio says she's always turning down cocktail party invitations: "They would interfere with my two-hour nap—that's my beauty secret."

* * *

Ruth Gordon, who won an Oscar working with Mia Farrow, will work with another young actress—Barbara Hershey in "Pursuit of Happiness" . . . The pub in Joe Namath's east side apartment building is named Tarkington's—no relation to the Giant quarterback.

* * *

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Never get married while you're in college. It's hard to get a start if a prospective employer finds you've already made one mistake.—Kin Hubbard.

* * *

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The old-timer remembers when you bought $5 worth of groceries, and had to hold the bag at the bottom."

EARL'S PEARLS: A fellow admitted he's a very slow reader: "I had to visit my optometrist a second time to finish the eye chart."

* * *

Victor Borge's expanding his air taxi service in St. Croix to four planes. "We may," he says, "call ourselves 'TWA.' Of course, in our case that would mean 'Teenie Weenie Airline.'" . . . That's earl, brother.

Russia Interested in Japan Cars

TOKYO (AP) — The Soviet Union is reportedly negotiating the import of passenger cars and trucks with Japanese automobile manufacturers.

The newspaper Asahi said the negotiation is under way between the Soviet Automobile Corp. and a group of Japanese manufacturers including Nissan Motors, Nissan Diesel Industries, Mitsubishi Heavy Industries, Isuzu Motors, Hino Automobile Industry and Komatsu Manufacturing Cos.

* *

It said a Soviet Automobile Corp. executive now is visiting Japan to negotiate the purchase of trucks from Nissan Motors for use in the forest development project in Siberia.

In addition, Asahi added, the Soviet Union is interested in importing passenger cars from Honda Motors and asked Soichiro Honda, president of Honda Motors, to visit Moscow.

OPPOSED IN PAST

The Soviet Union had opposed the inroad of the Japanese automobile industry.

Asahi said the change of the Soviet attitude is apparently because its 10-year automobile industry development program ending in 1975 is making little progress. The program calls for an increase of automobile output from 616,000 in 1965 to 3 million including 2 million passenger cars in 1975 to meet the increasing domestic demand, it added.

* * *

As a step to accomplish the program, the Soviet Union is building an assembly factory with an annual capacity of producing 600,000 passenger cars under a joint venture with Italy's Fiat, Asahi said. But the construction of the plan is lagging behind schedule, Asahi said.

Asahi said the Japanese automile industry expects that the Soviet Union may import assembly equipment from Japan. It quoted Yuzo Yamazaki, an executive of Nissan Motors, as saying a high-ranking Soviet official told him that the Soviet Union needs at least two more passenger car assemblying factories to accomplish the program.

Opening lead—♠6

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

Today's hand is just about as simple a hand as possible. There are no problems with the bidding. South has 4 - 4 - 3 - 2 distribution, 16 high-card points and stoppers in all four suits. About as standard an opening no-trump bid as you can find.

Of course, those iconoclasts who use the so-called weak no-trump have to dig up a minor-suit opening but these weak no-trump addicts don't constitute a significant portion of the bridge-playing public.

* * *

North had a balance 11 points with honors in all suits and an automatic raise to three no-trump.

West's six of spades lead is just about as automatic. He might try some other suit but with this type of hand against this bidding most anyone would just lead the standard fourth best of the longest suit.

The first play from dummy is even more standard. It is up to South to forget all about the rule of second hand low and play dummy's queen of spades.

* * *

The reason South should play the queen is that this is a classic example of the play of second hand high. That queen of spades is useless unless it is played right then and there. It has a 50 per cent chance to take a trick if played and no chance to take a trick if held back for later use.

This time it does hold the first trick. South smiles happily, runs off four club tricks and leads the queen of diamonds for a finesse. The finesse loses but it doesn't hurt South. The best East can do is to lead a second spade and hold South to his contract with no over-tricks.

Truck-Train Crash Fatal to Man, 62

NORTON SHORES (AP) — A truck-train crash last Saturday has claimed the life of a 62-year-old Muskegon Heights man.

State Police said Barney Thomas died of his injuries Monday. Troopers said Thomas' dump truck was hit by a Chesapeake & Ohio locomotive in Norton Shores Saturday.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Thursday

REST BUYS TODAY include golf clubs, horses and saddles, travel, foreign language dictionaries, vacation equipment.

Lunar position accents communications between governments, special diplomatic missions.

* * *

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You are active in writing, publishing and advertising. But don't write letters in anger. Deal kindly with those at a distance. Self-control contributes most constructive results.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Nothing happens in small way . . . includes financial representations. Money surprise is due. Hunch can pay big dividends. One close to you — male or partner — demands and deserves a portion.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Arguments could take place with those who are tied to your destiny. Harsh words can create wounds. Know this and count ten. If you exercise control, you avoid need for later apology.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Neighbors can make demands. Messages could appear sharp, out-of-ordinary. Not easy to maintain balance, but it is necessary to stick to the basics. Stop being envious of co-worker, associate.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Don't play games with emotions. Love seems to be paramount today. Your emotions react — up and down — no halfway. Some youngsters could be argumentative. Some changes due — Admirable.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Upsets in domestic area could occur. Money seems to be root of evil. A gift, or meaningful gesture on your part, could work wonders. Know this and act accordingly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Short trips based on impulse should be avoided. Although normally a calm individual, your temper could flare today. Don't deceive yourself into thinking emotion can replace logic.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Find out how to beat utilities possession. This is a day when you can take financial initiative. Don't play games with what you own. Think and analyze. Money is coming your way.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Avoid excess speed, especially on highways. Emotions tend to dominate logic. A relationship could end. If it does, let it be in civilized manner. Avoid force or militant action. Take it easy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Not a good day for secrets. People tend to find out what's happening behind the scenes. Specifically, you should confide doubts, aspirations. Then you get solid aid from those in authority.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You obtain what you need through utilization of ideas. Beating about the bush causes frustration. Be direct, frank, especially in dealings with friends. Say what you mean . . . mean what you say.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You get needed backing; your ambitions can be fulfilled. Be versatile. Display ability in various fields. Key is to be flexible. Some may try devious methods. Rise above the petty.

IF THURSDA YIS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are concluding a major cycle. You have been put through a test. Now you can emerge with new hope, opportunity. Key is additional faith in yourself . . . and the future.

Fire-Bombing Halt Is Urged

A city commissioner in whose district several fire-bombings have occurred recently pleaded "stop the murder," at last night's commission meeting.

District 5's Robert F. Jackson said he was sure someone will be killed if it doesn't end. He said he feared it would be a casual passerby, lighting a cigarette.

★ ★ ★

"The victims (fire bomb) have nerves as tight as a banjo string," he said. Residents are reportedly arming themselves heavily.

Jackson said the apparent attempt is to burn down the homes and everyone in them. He said one of the residents had been standing by a window just minutes before a gasoline bomb came through it. "He could have been a human fire bomb," he said.

DAMAGE MINOR

Only minor damage has resulted from the fire-bombings.

The fire-bombers are also in great danger, he pointed out. "Everybody knows somebody," Jackson said. "It's up to us to stop it."

Jackson's district is in the northeast section of the city.

Sex Education to Be Aired in Waterford

Sex education will be discussed at the Waterford Township School Board meeting tomorrow, then hopefully it won't come up again for quite a while.

★ ★ ★

This is the feeling of acting Supt. Dr. John Pagen who says he's "sick of sex education."

★ ★ ★

Pagen is expected to recommend to the board that the school district not introduce sex education courses until the State Education Department sets up guidelines.

★ ★ ★

"I'll recommend the board live with this recommendation of the State Legislature," Pagen commented. "It will give us more time to ascertain the way the community wants to go and time for adults to become more informed on the subject."

PROGRAM SCRAPPED

A proposed sex education program for Silver Lake Elementary School was scrapped following the Legislature's mandate and local controversy.

Among other items on the board agenda is the appointment of a board member to replace Donald Porter, who resigned Aug. 1. Porter served half his four-year term.

★ ★ ★

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. at the school board offices, 6020 Pontiac Lake.

KC Man Given Death Sentence in Auto Fatality

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Charles Beal, 20, of Kansas City, was sentenced to death Tuesday by a jury that found him guilty of first-degree murder in an auto accident that occurred while Beal was being chased by police from the scene of a robbery.

★ ★ ★

Beal was identified as the driver of a car which hit a station wagon Feb. 15 which Mr. and Mrs. Ward R. Wooderson, both 64, of Kansas City, Mo., and their son, James K. Wooderson, 39, of Kansas City, Kan., were killed.

★ ★ ★

The chase followed robbery of a market in which witnesses said four men participated.

★ ★ ★

Connie Jasper, 22, of Kansas City, a passenger in Beal's car, was convicted of murder April 16 and was sentenced to 40 years imprisonment.

Yet to be tried are Beal's brother, Harold, 19, and Samuel L. Gillis, 21, of Kansas City, Mo.

Developer's Bid Carries Stipulations

Offer on 6-Acre Plot Received

The City Commission last night received an offer of $108,000 for a six-acre plot of land on which a seven-story, 250-unit apartment complex is planned.

The land is the old incinerator site at East Boulevard and Featherstone. Potential buyer is the Joliet Land Co. of Detroit.

The city had sought bids on the land three times previously, but had never received a bid above $36,000. The latest offer was near the appraised price, but carried stipulations.

The bidders want a city well, kept as a reserve water source, closed and want the property rezoned from multiple-family to high-rise multiple.

The commission directed the administrative staff to study the proposal.

In other business the commission last night:

● Confirmed the assessment roll for a $14,920 project of curb, gutter and driveways on West Iroquois from Manitou to Menominee, assessments to be paid in 10 yearly installments. Last week a petition with 18 objections out of 33 property owners was presented. Commissioner for the district (2) Robert C. Irwin, reported four persons concerned had relented on their objections, giving more than a 50 per cent majority in favor. Irwin moved for approval and it was unanimous.

● Approved installation of a flashing right turn arrow on East Wide Track for eastbound Pike.

● Set a public hearing for 8 p.m. Sept. 23, for vacating the alley between East Ypsilanti and Yale from the alley east of Baldwin to Price. This is a request of adjacent property owners.

● Held first reading of an amendment to the zoning ordinance regarding construction of front-yard fences. This would allow greater latitude in fence construction without necessity to obtain a variance. Public hearing was set for Sept. 2. The amendment was requested by the planning commission.

● Named Joseph E. Neipling, director of public works and services, to be the city's delegate to the county TOPICS (Traffic Operations Program to Increase Capacity and Safety), is a new federal program designed to alleviate special traffic problems. Under it, federal monies can be obtained for troublesome intersections and specific danger spots. Neipling will serve with other community officials in drawing up grant applications.

6 Numbers Raids Jail 10 Detroiters

DETROIT (UPI) — Ten persons were arrested in six coordinated raids yesterday that broke up an alleged $6,000-a-day numbers racket, police said.

Officials said the ring had been under surveillance for four months. The raids were made by Detroit Police, Wayne County sheriff's deputies, State Police and Internal Revenue Service agents.

★ ★ ★

Police said that seized in the raids were $10,00 in cash, $6,000 in bonds, three automobiles, three revolvers and an assortment of gambling equipment.

Almost three million United States residents ski and spend about $965 million on the sport annually, presently.

Discover Kikkoman

...the flavor revolution that started 3 centuries ago

FEW PEOPLE KNOW that authentic soy sauce is a brew. The finest soy sauce, such as Kikkoman, is brewed 18 months to attain its piquant perfection. It is made from select soy beans and wheat, plus salt—nothing else. No artificial coloring or seasoning is added. Kikkoman is healthfully high in proteins, low in calories. But the important thing is Kikkoman's incomparable flavor . . . achieved by a zealously guarded process over 3 centuries in development. It's the original.

Woman Is Honored for 45 Years in 4-H

EAST LANSING (AP)— Mrs. Jay Russell of Osseo was honored at Michigan State University yesterday for 45 years of service with the state 4-H groups.

Mrs. Walter Weihnau of Ida and Mrs. Beaman Smith of Atlanta both were cited for 40 years of service.

* * *

The honors went to those three women and 90 other persons who have given at least 20 years of service—as some 5,000 young people from across the state convened at MSU for the 1969 4-H state show.

One million American motorists have taken the National Safety Council's defensive driving course thus far.

Czechs Streaming Steadily Into Austria

VIENNA (UPI) — The slash of ginger-colored muostache across Tomas Hovorka's face twitches violently when he talks about the invasion of his country one year ago.

He looks down his head shaking and says in slow, broken English, "You cannot understand. No foreigner can ever know what it meant."

* * *

But Tomas Hovorka understood. So well that in April he packed up his wife and infant daughter, two suitcases and a paint box and fled Czechoslovakia.

The young Prague artist is like thousands of Czechoslovaks who helplessly watched the reforms of 1968 slip away — and then decided to abandon their relatives, homes, friends and country for a new life in the West.

ONE YEAR AFTER

A year after the Aug. 21 invasion by Soviet-led forces, the stream of refugees into Austria is steady.

They come like Hovorka as tourists and never go back. Some come to see friends and stay. Only a few need to break out.

* * *

So many persons have arrived from Czechoslovakia — as well as other East bloc countries — that Austrian authorities call the refugee situation here this summer the worst since the days after the 1956 Hungarian uprising.

Of the some 45,000 Czechs and Slovaks who have fled since the invasion, the first to go were the professional people. They were old enough to remember the Communist take-over of 1948 — and knew what might happen this time.

TODAY'S REFUGEES

Today, refugees are more like the 28-year-old Hovorka. Young, skilled, they were the ones who gave life to the reform movement. They also waited after the invasion, hoping for the impossible.

Life for the refugee is tough. Although most Czechoslovaks are skilled enough to work in Austria, they have trouble finding jobs. The work available to transients is poor.

It takes anywhere from three weeks to three months to get a visa for the three countries currently taking the bulk of East European immigrants — Canada, Australia and the United States.

Another seven or 10 days are needed to arrange travel.

* * *

America is the place for Hovorka.

"I've admired it for years," he said.

2 State Servicemen Killed in Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Michigan men were among 26 servicemen listed by the Defense Department Tuesday as killed in Vietnam.

Killed in action was Army Pfc. Ricky W. Church, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dormon O. Church of Flint.

Dead not as a result of hostile action was Air Force S. Sgt. Donald James Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. James of White Pigeon.

OCC Courses Set off Campus

Oakland Community College will offer credit courses as part of programs at five area secondary schools beginning this fall.

The courses will be held at Walled Lake Central High School, Milford High School, Lake Orion Junior High School, Rochester High School and Waterford Township's Crary Junior High School.

* * *

Anyone may attend an Oakland Community College credit course who is a high school graduate, a non-high school graduate 19 years or older, or a current high school senior with permission from parent and high school principal.

Most of the classes will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. one evening per week for 14 weeks. Regular campus tuition fees are charged.

COUNSELING SERVICES

Complete counseling services will be provided for those wishing to enroll in courses. Preregistration and counseling will take place on Sept. 8 to 11 from 7 to 9 p.m. Counseling will take place at the counseling offices at the schools.

Classes begin the week of Sept. 15. Registration and counseling will also take place the evening on which the classes meet and for late registration the week of Sept. 22.

* * *

Among courses being offered are principles of accounting, introduction to business, basic English, American history, introduction to psychology and college algebra.

Profit-Taking Noted

Mart Remains Slightly Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market remained slightly lower in moderate trading early this afternoon with declines leading advances by about 150 issues.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 1.32 at 822.37. The DJI had been off 2.71 at 11:20.

The early downdrift was attributed, in part, by analysts to profit-taking among issues that had posted gains during the market's advance.

"The market made a pretty good rebound these past few sessions," an analyst said, "so some profit-taking was not unexpected."

DROP OUT OF ACTION

Others said that some investors had dropped out of the action and were waiting to see which "direction the market will take now."

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .6 at 292.9, with industrials off 1.1, ⅝ at 20¼, rails off .1, and utilities off .6.

A 99,900 share block of Freeport Sulphur Co. traded at 25½, off 1¼.

Twelve of the 20 most active stocks on the New York Stock Exchange were lower and 8 were higher.

Control Data, most active on 106,600 shares, was off 4¼ at 145¼.

Restaurant Associates was the most active issue on the American Stock Exchange, up ⅝ at 20¼.

Frequently-Asked Questions on Meat Are Answered

Many homemakers have common food questions that have plagued them throughout the years.

QUESTION: Why does ground red meat turn dark on the inside of the pack and is so bright red on the outside?

ANSWER: There could be one or more explanations:

● Usually the color contrast between surface and interior is due to the "bloom" of the surface meat caused by constant exposure to oxygen in the air and the lack of free oxygen in the interior. Oxygenated meat pigment is bright cherry red while non-oxygenated pigment remains a deeper purplish-red.

* * *

● Frequently ground meat contains a moderately high level of those bacteria normally found on fresh meats. Therefore with the passage of time after packaging the bacteria grow and create discolored or mottled areas that are dark-greyish or brownish-red. This type of discoloration is frequently observed just beneath the bright red surface or around air pockets in the meat mass.

● The type of packaging film and method of preparing the packages can have great influence on the "bloom" at the surface and the pattern of color change.

● Infrequently those intent on cheating the public may try to use illegal color preservatives to give a false impression of freshness.

QUESTION: What causes the rainbow-like color which is sometimes observed on sliced ham?

ANSWER: The rainbow-like color or irridescence is caused by the refraction of light on the ends of muscle fibers of the meat. The meat is good and there is no cause for alarm.

QUESTION: Does discolored meat around the bones of poultry induce a cause for alarm?

ANSWER: Discolored bones and meat around the bones in poultry is, and probably will continue to be, a subject of much concern to homemakers. It has disturbed some people to the point that they will not eat chicken that has red or black colored bones (usually limited to just the drumstick and thigh bone).

But these people should be assured that it has absolutely no effect on the meat as far as flavor or nutritional value is concerned.

* * *

Discolored bones usually result from frozen storage. The bone darkening is caused by leaching of blood marrow through bone during freezing, thawing, and cooking. It is most noticeable in young chickens probably because their bones are softer, and thus, this facilitates "leaching."

When the meat is discolored, it is due to the same process of leaching out of blood from the porous bones of the young poultry that have been frozen. When this blood goes from the bone into the surrounding soft tissues, red or brownish discolored areas may be observed in the cooked meat. Wholesomeness of the meat is not affected.

OPEN-FACE LAMB SANDWICH—On 8 slices buttered pumpernickel bread with crusts removed, layer thickly-sliced onion and cooked, sliced lamb. Arrange half of a hard-cooked egg, sliced, on each sandwich. Combine ½ cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon milk and ¾ teaspoon curry powder. Spoon over egg slices. Garnish with parsley, if desired. Makes 8 sandwiches.

PEPPY HASH BAKE—Chill one can (15 or 15½ oz.) corned beef hash. Cut into six slices. Arrange half the slices in shallow baking dish. Mix one cup drained sauerkraut with ¼ cup finely sliced celery and 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper. Heap mixture onto hash slices and top with remaining slices. Bake at 375 degrees for 25 minutes. Serve topped with sour cream and chives. Makes 2-3 servings.

For Hearty Appetites

Pair Waco Waffles, Beef Stew

When anybody thinks of Texas, he thinks BIG! The wide open spaces, wind-swept and sun-drenched, literally beckon people out of doors; thus, hearty appetites develop that have to be satisfied by a rather special kind of cookery.

Let's call it the kind that'll keep folks of all ages going through busy days — in the Lone Star State or in any other part of the country for that matter.

That's exactly what this recipe for Waco Waffles is . . . BIG in appetite appeal and satisfaction. It consists of double-good corn waffles (a golden duo of corn meal and whole kernel corn mixed into the waffle batter) topped amply with canned beef stew.

* * *

With generous pieces of rib-sticking beef and chunks of potato and carrot, this stew is a modern version of the full-flavored homestyle kind even cowpunchers would welcome!

* * *

Don't let the preparation of the waffles "throw" you. All they take is a little advance ingenuity! Cook them ahead, cool and freeze, then reheat in the toaster. Or, if you prefer, measure out the dry ingredients and all the liquid ones, except the melted butter, for rapid last-minute mixing.

* * *

Remember too, that any leftover waffle batter can be refrigerated, baked another day and served with a heated Sloppy Joe topping from a handy can off the shelf.

WACO WAFFLES

1½ cups regular all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup yellow corn meal
2 beaten eggs
2 cups milk
¼ cup melted butter or margarine
1 can (12-ounces) whole kernel corn, drained
2 cans (1½ pounds each) or 3 cans (15½-ounces each) beef stew
1 package (1¼-ounces) chili seasoning

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; stir in corn meal. Combine eggs, milk and melted butter; add to dry ingredients, mixing only until moistened. Stir in drained corn. Bake in preheated waffle iron. Keep warm in oven.

* * *

Combine beef stew with seasoning; simmer 5 minutes. To serve, spoon stew over waffles. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

WACO WAFFLES—Crispy cornmeal waffles take on a new look when they're served wiht beef stew. The younger set should go for this meal after a day of play in the open air.

Root Beer Is Sweetener in Bean Pot

A really "cool" way to entertain this summer is with a beach party at home, pool or no pool!

The party can be given outdoors or indoors, in the backyard or basement, on a patio or even in a parlor, just so long as the guests wear beach clothes, the decorations lend a seaside or lakeshore atmosphere and the refreshments taste like summer.

Nothing will give that summer flavor to the party and the food, main dishes included, better than root beer, which was actually created 103 years ago as a "summer tonic."

The tangy, hearty taste of the soft drink, which is not too sweet, is a real cooler as a beverage or punch maker and has an appetizing effect when added as an ingredient in cooking.

ROOT BEER BAKED BEANS

4 slices bacon
½ cup chopped onion
1 12-ounce can root beer
2 tablespoons cornstarch
½ teaspoon dry mustard
2 1-pound cans pork and beans

Cook bacon till crisp; drain on paper towels. Reserve 2 tablespoons bacon fat; cook onions in fat until tender.

Mix a small amount of root beer with cornstarch and dry mustard to make a smooth paste. Add remaining root beer and cornstarch mixture to onions. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens.

* * *

In a 1½ quart bean pot, combine beans, crumbled bacon and root beer mixture; mix well. Bake uncovered stirring occasionally, in a 325 degree oven for 1½ hours. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Combine Candies for Sundae Sauce

A company special combines two candies to create a luscious sundae topping. Crushed chocolate-covered peanut butter honey-comb candy (available as either bars or individual candies) stirred into hot melted caramels form this unusual sauce. It may be made ahead and stored in the refrigerator, to be served either warm or cold.

CARAMEL PEANUT-CRUNCH SUNDAE TOPPING

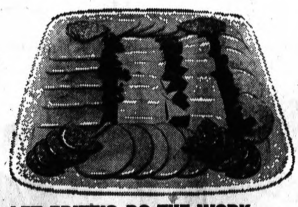

14 to 16 ounces caramels
⅓ cup water
2 small chocolate-covered honey-comb peanut butter type candy bars (about 1½ ounces)

* * *

Melt caramels with water in top of double boiler over simmering water. Stir until smooth. Break candy bars into small pieces. Stir into melted caramels. Serve warm over ice cream. Makes about 1¼ cups sauce.

Count on a medium or large acorn squash yielding two servings.

Starts Tomorrow

Downtown Fair Set

Pontiac's "Good Old Days" will be re-created downtown beginning tomorrow at noon.

Sponsored by the downtown Pontiac Businessmen's Association, "Good Old Days" events will be held mainly in the parking lot at the corner of Huron and Saginaw, adjacent to Osmun's Men's Store.

* * *

Tomorrow's highlights include a puppet show starting at noon followed by a bubble gum-blowing contest and a watermelon-eating contest.

Arizona Weston, a local entertainer in the country and western field, will perform at 2 p.m. Friday.

FROG-JUMPING FEAT

Saturday's principal festivities include a demonstration by hypnotist Don Viano at noon followed by a musical performance by Charles Gregory. At 2 p.m. there will be a frog-jumping contest. Participants are asked to bring their own frogs.

Regular features during all three days will include a gorilla playing the hurdy gurdy, old-fashioned vending wagons, an animated Wild West show display in the lower level of Kresge's, plus games for the children. Game winners will receive prizes.

Establishment Defeats Hippies in California City

SAND CITY, Calif. (AP) — The establishment has beaten off, by a one-sided vote, a hippie-inspired proposal to recall the mayor and the four city councilmen of this seaside town.

Mayor Phil Calabrese, a millionaire building contractor, called the outcome of Tuesday's election "a good victory for a fine city."

* * *

He called the effort to oust him an attempt by hippies to take over and make the town, a Monterey Bay community of 520, a "new narcotics terminal for the country."

* * *

The opposition was headed by Robert M. Lynn, 44, a bearded former teacher who has lived here for two years. He said the mayor ran the town more for business and industry than for people.

NOT HIPPIE TYPES

Lynn said he didn't mind being called a hippie but that his slate was not made up of hippie types and it wouldn't put up with the narcotics traffic any more than the Calabrese administration.

Lynn said his group wanted a city government that would clean up the junk-strewn sand dunes, control air pollution from industry and provide parks, recreation and low-cost housing.

* * *

Calabrese polled 91 votes to keep the office he has held for nine years. There were 41 votes to oust him, 31 of them for Lynn as his replacement.

The four councilmen on the mayor's slate also were retained by a 2-1 margin in complete unofficial returns totaling 134 votes, including six absentees.

School Board Reports Due

Reports on the Human Resource Center, progress on employe negotiations, in-city student transportation and the Human Relations Institute will be made tomorrow night to the Pontiac School Board.

* * *

A recommendation for appointment of a principal for Whittier Elementary School for 1969-70 will also be presented by administrators for board consideration.

* * *

Also on tomorrow night's agenda are proposed contracts with the firms of O'Dell, Hewelett and Luckenbach, and Charles Sherman and Associates for architectural work on a new high-rise high school by the former firm, and expansion of Northern High School by the latter.

* * *

The question of compliance by both firms as equal opportunity employers will be discussed.

The meeting will be at 7:30 at the board offices, 350 E. Wide Track.

News Roundup at State Capitol

By the Associated Press

THE GOVERNOR

Signed into law a bill containing revised state insurance commission control over investment portfolios and practices by insurance companies.

Named Allan Shipstead of Lansing as director of the Michigan Economic Opportunity Council.

THE STATE SUPREME COURT

Ruled that two state representatives may not run for election as treasurer of the City of Detroit.

THE LEGISLATURE

Has recessed until Oct. 6.

Report Is Due on Integration Effort at OCC

A progress report on Project 50, in which 50 black students are bused from Detroit to Oakland Community College to assist in integrating the two-year school, will be made to the OCC Board of Trustees at its meeting tomorrow night.

The meeting will be at the new George A. Bee Administration Center, 2480 Opdyke, Bloomfield Hills at 8 p.m.

Also on the agenda is a recommendation to approve a lease agreement between the college and the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine for lease of a portion of the Sawyer Building, on Pontiac State Hospital grounds.

OCC has leased the building for several years.

Block Clubs Plan Weekend Dances

Two Pontiac block clubs will host street dances this weekend.

The Center Street Block Club will hold theirs from 4 to 10 p.m. Friday on the street between Cottage and Whittemore.

The Nevada Street club will host theirs from 7 until 11 p.m. Saturday between Bagley and Motor. Admission is free and refreshments will be sold.

Pontiac Police are cooperating by diverting traffic.

The dances are sponsored by the clubs and by the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO). The clubs were formed by the OCCEO and Pontiac Area Urban League.

Accused of Hiring Bias

Firm to Get Hearing

A Waterford Township plumbing firm turned down by the Pontiac Board of Education for two contracts in June because of alleged violations of state standards for hiring minority group members, will be given a public hearing by the Michigan Civil Rights Commission (MCRC).

The action by the MCRC was taken in the case of Steve Kruchko Plumbing and Heating Co., low bidder for mechanical trades on a contract for cafeteria additions and alterations to Eastern Junior High School and additions and alterations to Kennedy Junior High School.

* * *

In a preaward review of the company the MCRC reported to the school board that it was not in compliance with board policy of nondiscrimination in hiring policies.

The company, MCRC said, had a work force which did not include any members of minority groups, although its work force is drawn from an area of substantial nonwhite population.

NO DATE SET

Kruchko Co. also refused to sign an agreement that they would develop an affirmative integration plan.

No date was set for the hearing.

* * *

The MCRC also authorized another hearing in the case of Darin and Armstrong, Inc., of Detroit, which also refused to sign an agreement to develop an affirmative action program which would bring about reasonable integration of its work force.

The hearings were authorized because both companies are attempting to do business with the state.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the MCRC ruled Sylvan Plumbing and Heating Inc., of 2005 Orchard Lake, West Bloomfield Township, was qualified for a state contaact.

The firm had been cited after a bid to do pipe installation at Pontiac State Hospital. The charge had been that too-few minority group employes were on the firm's staff. A review and hearing were held prior to the ruling.

Marriage Vow 'Too Demanding'

SHEERNESS, England (AP) — Vicar Norman Baldock feels the solemn wedding vow to live together "until death do us part" is too strict and should be rewritten.

* * *

He says marriage is a demanding business and young couples should only be expected to "try."

5 Hurt as Cora Hits Okinawa

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — The edge of tropical storm Cora hit Okinawa today, causing widespread damage. Five injuries were reported.

The storm, packing center winds of 85 miles an hour and gusts up to 115 m.p.h., moved 30 miles offshore of the heavily populated central Okinawa area.

* * *

Strong winds and heavy rains battered the islands Tuesday night and today.

Farmers appeared hardest hit by the storm. Sugar cane and other crops were damaged by the winds and rain. Electricity was knocked out most of Tuesday, and telephone service was interrupted in many areas.

* * *

Many windows and signs were destroyed. Flooding was reported in may areas, and U.S. military authorities issued flood warnings in others.

Crash Claims State Woman

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP) — Margeret Tiffany, 71, of Royal Oak, Mich., died Tuesday in Glen Cove hospital of injuries she suffered in an accident Monday.

Nassau County police said Mrs. Tiffany lost control of the car she was driving and it struck a light pole on a rural road on Long Island.

Mrs. Tiffany had been staying with a niece in Oyster Bay, police said.

The difference of opinion has started in the balloting for the all-time greatest Lions' team.

In the early balloting received by the Sports department Joe Schmidt and Bobby Lane are solid choices at the linebacker and quarterback positions respectively, but there is strong competition at most other spots on the offensive and defensive units.

Our choices for the All-Time Greatest Lions' team included:

Backs—Dutch Clark, Bill Dudley and Doak Walker.
QB—Bobby Layne
Receivers — Cloyce Box and Jim Doran
Center — Alex Wojciechowicz
Off. Tackles — Lou Creekmur and Charley Ane
Off Guards — Harley Sewell and John Gordy
Linebackers — Joe Schmidt, Lavern Torgeson and Carl Brettschneider
Def. Tackles — Les Bingaman and Thurm McGraw
Def. Ends — Darris McCord and Bill Glass
Secondary — Jack Christiansen
Off. Guards — Harley Sewell
Night Train Lane

As noted we did not list any of today's active players, however, strong voting has come in for Alex Karras, Lem Barney and Wayne Walker at their respective positions.

Brettschneider is also getting strong support at linebacker and Gail Cogdill is among the leaders as a receiver.

Gerry Lacey of the County Recreation Department says Pat Harder should be ahead of Doak Walker in the running department, and ahead of nominees Hopalong Cassady and Nick Pietrosante, and he says Frank Sinkwich should also receive mention as running back.

After just four days of balloting here's how the voting has been by the fans locally:

Backs — Walker (12), Clark (9), Hoernschemeyer (7), Dudley (6), Gutowsky (3), Barr (3), Farr (2), Cassady (2), others (6)
QB — Layne (15), Clark (1)
Receivers — Box (8), Cogdill (7), Barr (6), Doran (6), Green (4), Gibbons (3), Hart (2), others (4)
Off. Guards—John Gordy (10), Sewell (8), Stanfel (7)
Centers — Wojciechowicz (10), Flanagan (4), Banonis (2)
Linebackers — Schmidt (16), Torgeson (8), Brettschneider (8), Walker (8), Zatkoff (2), others (3)
Def. Tackles — Bingaman (12), McGraw (9), Karras (8), Brown (6), Mains (3)
Def. Ends — McCord (11), Glass (8), Williams (8), Long (4)
Secondary — Christiansen (13), David (9), Lane (9), Lary (9), Barney (5), Maher (3), Lowe (2), Doll (3), others (4)

Greatest of all Lions—Schmidt (8), Layne (5), Clark (2), Doak Walker (1).

How do you pick the greatest of all Lions?

The NFL is celebrating its 50th anniversary and the Lions want their all-time team picked in conjunction with the Golden Anniversary.

Drop your ballots in the mail to: All-Time Lions' Team, Sports Dept., Pontiac Press, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

We will forward all ballots to the Lions after making a local tally. The Lions plan on announcing the selections in the game program against the Chicago Bears, Oct. 19 in Detroit.

Greatest Lion of Them All:

Witty Southpaw Wins for Tigers

SEATTLE (AP) — Mike Kilkenny, a southpaw pitcher with a wit to match his Irish name, labels his game-winning hit Tuesday night the "ninth wonder of the world." It gave Detroit a 5-3 victory over Seattle.

"The eighth wonder," says the 23-year-old frustrated hockey player from Bradford, Ont., "was a two-strike bunt against the California Angels a week ago that also scored two runs."

* * *

The second hit of Kilkenny's major league career was a nicely stroked single into left field in the fourth inning with the bases loaded. It scored Bill Freehan, who had singled, and Jim Price, who had walked and ended the evening for Seattle starter Steve Barber.

And it was very timely because after that the Tigers got only one hit off the three pitchers who succeeded Barber—and Kilkenny himself had to have help before it was over.

"As a kid I tried hockey but I skated on my ankles and after being knocked down 140 times I turned to baseball," Kilkenny reported. "I kept getting thrown out of the Toontoau because I didn't live there, but I learned to pitch by playing catch with my older brother."

Relying chiefly on his fast ball, Kilkenny permitted no Pilot to reach second through the first innings.

* * *

But then he gave up a homer to Tommy Harper. He got the next man on an infield fly, but errors by first baseman Freehan and third baseman Don Wert put two Pilots aboard and Kilkenny had to strike out Jerry McNertney to choke the threat.

The skinny Tiger southpaw walked Don Mincher in the seventh and then gave up a homer to Jim Pagliaroni, prompting Manager Mayor Smith to bring on Pat Dobson for the last two innings.

Ray Floyd Now Stirs Officials of Avco Tournament

SUTTON Mass. (AP) — Flamboyant Ray Floyd, the newly-crowned PGA champion, has pulled out of the $150,000 Avco Golf Classic and possibly faces disciplinary action.

Floyd, a brash, 26-year-old, told tournament officials his clothes had been stolen in Dayton, Ohio, where he won the PGA title Sunday and he had to go home to California. Floyd had committed himself to the Avco earlier.

"He withdrew but we didn't accept it—whatever that means," tournament advisor Paul Warren said Tuesday.

* * *

"We don't know what action will be taken, if any," PGA tournament supervisor Jack Tuthill said. "We don't know whether the story is true or not and will have to check it out."

Floyd, winner of three tournaments and more than $100,000 this year, had a brush with the PGA last week when he publicly criticized Jim Ferrier for slow play.

With Floyd out, South African Gary Player ruled a mild favorite for the $38,000 first prize.

Cub Hurler Throws No-Hitter

Leo Puts Koufax Tag on Holtzman

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Leo Durocher of the Chicago Cubs is ready to take the Sandy Koufax tag out of mothballs and hang it back on Kenny Holtzman.

"You saw another Koufax out there today," hellowed Durocher after Holtzman hurled a 3-0 no-hitter over the Atlanta Braves. "Years ago I said he could be another Koufax and maybe this is the beginning."

The comparison between Koufax and Holtzman began when Ken first broke in with the Cubs with his blazing fast ball and the fact that Holtzman, like Foufax, is of the Jewish faith and throws lefthanded.

It really spiraled on Sept. 25, 1966, when the young Holtzman battled the great Koufax head-to-head and had a no-hitter going against the Los Angeles Dodgers in the ninth inning.

TURNED SOUR

Holtzman lost that no-hitter but beat Koufax 2-1. Since then Holtzman has had successes and failures but has seldom compared to Koufax until early this season. But even that success turned sour.

Holtzman started out like a ball of fire as he quickly posted a 10-1 record, including three straight shouts.

* * *

Then something happened to the 23-year-old native of St. Louis. The pennant happy Cubs kept giving him big leads but Holtzman couldn't hold them.

Things got so bad that he had to be yanked before pitching five innings even though given substantial leads.

"You'll never know how discouraged the boy was at that time," said Vice President John Holland following the no-hitter. "This is the tonic he needed." Holtzman is now 14-7.

COMING BACK

"I don't know what the trouble was," said Holtzman. "But I don't think I was as bad as some people said and wrote. But I've been coming back the last four or five starts and certainly this will help.

"Sure, this is the biggest thing that's happened to me but I'm hoping that soon I'll be able to look back and say it's the second greatest thing that has happened to me. My greatest thrill will be to have someone jump on my back the day we win the pennant," said Holtzman.

Probably the oddest part of the no-hitter, backed by several brilliant fielding plays by second baseman Glenn Beckert, shortstop Don Kessinger and

Probably the oddest part of the *no-hit-*ter, backed by several brilliant fielding plays by second baseman Glenn Beckert, shortstop Don Kessinger and leftfielder Billy Williams, was the fact that Holtzman didn't record a single strikeout.

In 181 previous innings this season, Holtzman posted 136 strikeouts.

FAST BALLS

"I guess the reason would be that I threw practically nothing but fast balls," said Holtzman. "When I was warming up I didn't have my curve or changeup working. So I decided to go strictly with the fast ball.

"I started working on the corners and when the umpire (Dick Stello) started squeezing me, I thought to myself I'm going to have to come down the middle and they're going to kill me. Hope the boys can get me a lot of runs."

The Cubs got him three in the first on singles by Kessinger and Beckert and Ron Santos' 25th homer of the season. Then they left Holtzman on his own.

"I started getting the calls and knew I had a no-hitter going," said Holtzman. "By about the fifth inning, I also knew I didn't have a single strikeout. I figured the way I was pitching I wouldn't get any anyhow so I just kept challenging them with the fastball.

Indians' Sam Hurls One-Hitter

OAKLAND (AP) — Sudden Sam McDowell of the Cleveland Indians says he still hasn't pitched a great game.

"I don't know exactly what that would be, but I haven't done it yet," McDowell said after he tossed the seventh one-hitter of his career to defeat the Oakland Athletics 3-0 Tuesday night.

"Whether you win or lose is what is important in this game," Sam added.

He lost his bid for a no-hitter in the fourth inning when speedy Bert Campaneris beat out an infield single to shortstop Eddie Leon.

"We tried to pitch to Campaneris in a certain way and then put the fielders in the right places — but you can't be right all the time," McDowell said.

TWO WALKS

The only other baserunner for Oakland was Sal Bando who walked twice.

McDowell struck out 10 to run his season total to 212. He struck out five of the last six batters he faced.

Lions' Defense Intact as Robb Signs Contract

The front defensive unit of the Detroit Lions, which started the 1968 season, is intact again.

Joe Robb, defensive end with 10 years experience in the NFL, decided against retirement and reported to the Cranbrook camp of the Detroit Lions yesterday.

* * *

Robb came to the Lions in a trade with St. Louis last year and was a regular until he suffered a knee injury and had to undergo surgery. He missed the last five games.

The 6-3 and 245 pound holdout was thinking about retirement to devote his time to his business in Houston, Tex.

* * *

The Lions have defensive ends Larry Hand and John Baker. In the first game of the season last year, Hand was injured and lost for the campaign.

INJURY PROBLEMS

Baker, who suffered a broken forearm in the first exhibition game of 1968, returned to the lineup after Hand's injury and made up the defensive end posts with Robb.

* * *

Last week, Baker was injured slightly against Buffalo, but it was not considered serious enough to sideline him.

The Lions played rookie Bob Bergum most of the second half after Baker was hurt and coach Joe Schmidt indicated he was pleased with the performance of the 6-5 and 240 pounder from Wisconsin State.

* * *

The Lions will be the "home" team when they travel to Montreal to play the Boston Patriots in an exhibition game next Monday night.

"We have to take all the statisticians, the public address announcers, chain crew and even extra equipment men for the game, as the 'home team,' " said public relations director Lyall Smith.

* * *

The game is one of two U.S. pro games which will be played in Montreal as a test for future franchise for that city, which now has a National League baseball franchise for the first year.

Keyes Thinking About Canada

By the Associated Press

"We'll do our best without him."

That was the reaction of Pete Retzlaff, general manager of the Philadelphia Eagles, to reports that Leroy Keyes, the Eagles' No. 1 draft choice, was considering an offer to play in the Canadian Football League.

Keyes, All-American halfback from Purdue, has been unable to reach a salary agreement with the Eagles. Arthur Morse, his business agent, said Tuesday that Keyes was considering a Canadian offer.

Morse did not name the Canadian team, however, and denied he was using the reported Canadian offer as a bargain lever.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

In Toronto, a source close to the Canadian Football League, said Keyes is on the negotiation list of a Canadian club, but Commissioner Jake Gaudaur declined to reveal which of the nine Canadian clubs held the rights to Keyes. The Regina Leader-Post said, however, Keyes was dickering with the British Columbia Lions.

"I know of nothing that is going on in this connection at the moment," Gaudaur said.

* * *

"It is impossible to imagine that any Canadian club could bid the Eagles $170,000 offer," said the source close to the CFL, where the top salary is believed to be below $50,000 a year.

Keyes "has been offered more money per year by the Eagles than any other NFL draft choice, including O. J. Simpson," Retzlaff said. Simpson signed with the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League about 10 days ago after a similar squabble over terms.

OUT OF ACTION

The Eagles disclosed, meanwhile, that rookie Jim Marcum, a defensive back, suffered a fractured wrist in blocking a pass in the closing minutes of last week's victory over Miami and probably would miss the entire season.

In another development, Tom Landry, Dallas coach, said Bob Hayes, the Cowboys' speedy split end is in the dog house until he shows some enthusiasm in running plays in which Hayes is not the primary receiver.

* * *

Hayes was benched against San Francisco last week, but Landry said he planned to use him against Green Bay this week. "We'll see what happens when we put him back in there," Landry said.

Atlanta traded receiver Bob Long to Washington and placed nine other players, including veteran safety Nick Eassas, on waivers.

Elsewhere, Green Bay traded Ron Kostelnik, a defensive tackle, to Baltimore for a future draft choice; St. Louis released center George Hummer and flanker Harlan Lane; Los Angeles signed Walt Blackledge, a wide receiver, as a free agent, and veteran offensive tackle Bob Wetoski changed his mind about retiring from the Chicago Bears.

Homer Downs Red Sox

One Honor Eludes Killebrew

BOSTON (AP) — The Most Valuable Player award is just about the only honor which has eluded Harmon Killebrew in his long major league career—and the way the Minnesota Twins' slugger is belting the ball this year he could well rectify that situation.

"He's a great man—a hell of a man," Manager Billy Martin said Tuesday night after the Killer's two-run ninth inning homer lifted the Twins to an 8-6 victory over the Boston Red Sox. It was his 34th home run of the season and lifted his runs batted in total to 109.

* * *

Martin also praised the 33-year-old slugger for doing "a great job for us in two positions" by alternating between first and third base depending upon personnel situations.

But the manager, much more concerened with the American League pennant chase in which his club now leads Oakland by 2½ games, refused to be drawn into any MVP talk.

* * *

"I have a second baseman (Rod Crew) and a right fielder (Tony Oliva) who are having great years too," he said. "I don't like to start talking about who is better than whom. Ask me the same question on Oct. 20 and I'll be glad to answer it."

Killebrew too played down the MVP possibility, but the 11-time All-Star selection who ranks among the all-time home run leaders with 431 to date, has to be one of the prime contenders —especially if the Twins capture their divisional honors. And strangely enough, of all his big years, this was the one that started out with the largest question mark.

* * *

Injured during the 1968 All-Star game when he suffered a ruptured hamstring muscle in his left leg, he sat out most of the rest of the season and was never 100 per cent again.

"I didn't set any goals for myself this spring," he said Tuesday night. "My leg was a little stiff in training, and the main thing I was wondering was how it would hold up. I was just hoping to be able to play."

Luckily the leg hasn't given him any trouble, and neither has the defensive switching around bothered him.

"I don't care as long as I play somewhere," he said.

STRONG EFFORT

While Killebrew was taking hitting honors, comeback-bound Dean Chance won the game with 2 2-3 innings of brilliant relief work, further bolstering the Twins' hopes for the stretch drive.

The famed right-hander who has been on the disabled list for much of the season with back miseries, was called in with the score tied in the seventh inning, one out, and a runner on third. He got out of the jam and shut the Red Sox out the rest of the way, picking up his fourth victory of the year.

"I wasn't throwing as hard as before, but it's getting there," Chance said. "It's like spring training now all over again, and it takes time."

Unionmen Even Class B Series

Championship Game Scheduled Tonight

U.A.W. scored three runs in the first inning on just one hit and went on to beat Earl Gardner's All-Stars, 5-2, to even the Pontiac Class 'B' baseball finals at one game apiece, and set the stage for the championship game tonight.

* * *

Pat Barrick scattered five hits and struck out 11 for the victory, as U.A.W. made their four hits stand up for five runs.

* * *

The All-Stars lost any chance they had by committing four errors. In addition to his strong pitching, Barrick chipped in with a pair of hits, half on his team's total, and scored one run.

* * *

Glen Kitchen was the losing pitcher, despite giving up only four singles, and striking out seven.

The title game will be played tonight at 7:30 at Jaycee Park.

Transmission Team, Gophers Win Titles

Reliable Transmission swamped Peterson's Beauty Salon, 23-4, in the first game of a doubleheader, and then rode the momentum to an 11-6 victory in the second game to win the Men's Evening Slowpitch 'B' League championship.

Jim Swain and Bill White led the first game slaughter, collecting nine of Reliable's 23 hits. Swain had a perfect night at the plate, going five-for-five, and White lashed four hits, two of them home runs.

* * *

Jim Comparoni scattered nine hits while breezing along to victory.

In the second game, Swain, Gary Hayward and Bob Matheson each collected a pair of hits to pace Reliable's 10-hit attack. White was held to one hit, but it was a big three-run homer.

Comparoni was again the winning pitcher, allowing nine hits and withstanding six errors by his teammates.

Reliable's next game will be at 7 p.m. at Beaudette Park against the Industrial League champion Gophers in the first game of the Men's Slowpitch Championship Finals.

The Gophers, champs of the National circuit, took both ends of a doubleheader yesterday from American bracket champion Tucker Realty, 14-8 and 11-7, to win the morning championship.

Bob McGuire led the assault in the first game with three hits, including a home run, as the Gophers laced 16 hits against losing pitcher Art Smith. The Gophers cinched the game with a six-run uprising in the sixth inning, giving winning pitcher Bob Trotter all the support he needed.

* * *

In the second game, the Gophers snapped a 5-5 tie in the fourth inning with a five-run outburst on three singles and three Tucker errors.

Tom Gray gathered three of the victors' ten hits, including a home run, to support the five-hit pitching of Jim Herda.

* * *

By virture of their double victory, the Gophers will play in the double-elimination slowpitch championship finals. Their first game will be Saturday, when they meet Reliable Transmission, champion of the evening 'B' league. Game time will be 7 p.m. at Beaudette.

Keglers to Meet Name Correction

The Westside Lanes Wednesday Nighters bowling league will meet today and A League from the same house Thursday. Both meetings will be at 7 p.m. and teams or individuals interested in participating should attend.

Pitches One-Hitter

McDowell Beats A's, 3-0

"This was an added challenge because of that guy popping off," McDowell said, referring to Oakland pitcher John Odom who called McDowell "a dumb pitcher who didn't know how to pitch."

"Let Odom make the quotes and I'll do the pitching," McDowell said.

The Indians go after a sweep of the two-game series with the A's tonight, sending Luis Tiant, 8-15, against Odom, 14-5.

* * *

Cleveland Manager Alvin Dark used McDowell Tuesday night because he said he felt it wouldn't be fair to the Minnesota Twins to hold him back a day to pitch against Odom. The Twins lead Oakland by 2½ games in the American League West pennant race.

Said Reggie Jackson, the major league home run leader: "McDowell is the fastest I have ever seen. Stan Bahnsen of the Yankees throws some pitches as fast but McDowell throws all his like that."

McDowell used his fast ball almost exclusively.

UNEARNED RUN

The only run McDowell needed was unearned. Jackson dropped a fly ball to center field in the fifth inning, making a loser out of his roommate, pitcher Chuck Dobson, 13-10.

The unlucky Dobson now has pitched 20 consecutive innings in which Oakland has failed to score. In his last start, Jim Palmer of the Baltimore Orioles pitched a no-hitter against Oakland.

Grand Rapids Nine Remains Unbeaten

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Tonight's feature game in the National Baseball Congress will pit two of the tournament's four unbeaten teams, Fairbanks, Alaska, and Boulder, Colo.

The other unbeaten clubs are Wichita Cessna and Grand Rapids, Mich.

Grand Rapids shutout previously undefeated Eureka, Calif., 2-0 Tuesday night on the seven-hit pitching of Rick Kreuger.

Grand Rapids scored both runs in the eighth. Adrain Wynbeek singled, stole second and took third on a throwing error. After Jack Benedict walked, Rob Ellis singled, scoring Wynbeek. Benedict scored on an error.

Rain Sets Back Little Leaguers

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UPI) — Four games were scheduled today in the rain-delayed opening of the Little League World Series here.

Eastern U.S. champion, Newberry, Pa. was to meet the Western champions from Santa Clara, Calif., and the Southern West Tampa, Fla., team was to go against the European team recruited from a U.S. Air Force base at Wiesbaden, West Germany.

* * *

Both games were cancelled Tuesday because of rain. In the two regularly scheduled games the Republic of China, which is playing in the series for the first time, was to go against Valley Field, Quebec, the Canadian champions, and Elyria, Ohio, was to meet Mayaguez, Puerto Rico.

Orioles' Foes Feel Pinch

Bunt Try by Howard Opens Victory Door

WASHINGTON (AP) — Huge Frank Howard gets paid about $90,000 a year by the Washington Senators to hit home runs. Occasionally, however, the big outfielder-first baseman tries to lay down a bunt.

He did both Tuesday night as the Senators defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-1 in a game delayed at the start for about an hour because of a rainstorm.

* * *

"We didn't have the bunt sign on," said Washington Manager Ted Williams with a big grin after the game. "He was on his own and he damn near made it click. It also brought the third baseman in a couple of steps."

With the score tied 1-1, Lee Maye opened up the eighth with a single. Up came Howard.

PLAYING DEEP

The White Sox moved into the Howard shift, with second baseman Dick Morales in back of the bag and shortstop Luis Aparicio and third baseman Bill Melton on the outfield grass. Only, Melton was nearly in short leftfield.

Howard bunted neatly but the ball rolled foul just in front of third base. The Mammoth outfielder would have beat it out if it had stayed fair.

Melton moved a few steps forward toward the plate. Howard then slashed a single between Melton and third base.

After Mike Epstein grounded out and advanced the runners, Ken McMullen singled through a drawn-up infield on a 0-2 pitch to drive in two runs and give the Senators the victory.

* * *

"I try to bunt two or three times a year," Howard said. "But I was really trying to stay out of the double play and move Lee up. I've hit into about 30 double plays this year."

Howard also hit his 39th homer, a close line drive into the left field bullpen, while Chicago's Buddy Bradford hit his ninth for the other runs in the game.

Roseville Wins State Crown

JACKSON (AP) — Boys' baseball teams from Roseville and Jackson walked off with the honors in the three divisions of the Michigan Recreational and Parks Association State Baseball Championships played in Jackson Tuesday.

In the boys 13-and-under class, the Martin Luther King Jr. Center of Jackson stopped Inkster, 10-3, for the state championship.

In the boys 15 - and - under class, Roseville took the title by downing Dearborn, 3-1.

Another team from Roseville took honors in the boys 18-and-under class by defeating Livonia, 6-4.

Another Streak for Baltimore

Birds Wallop Angels on 17 Hit Attack

ANAHEIM (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles are not feeling any pressure these days but their opponents are sure feeling the pinch.

Carefree and happy as they continue to make a travesty of the race in the American League East, the Orioles nonetheless become downright surly when there is a game at hand.

* * *

They arrived at Anaheim stadium Tuesday leading the pack by 17 games and with a six-game winning streak in tow.

But that didn't stop them from ripping four California Angels pitchers for 17 hits en route to a 10-0 triumph.

The awesome Birds have now won 12 of their last 13 and 21 of 25 since the All-Star break.

Left-hander Mike Cuellar continued to set a pace just as scorching as his team's by posting his seventh consecutive victory and his 17th of the season — a personal high in the majors.

He limited the Angels to six singles while posting his fifth shutout and 14th complete game. Rudy May, 5-10, took the loss.

* * *

Reserve outfielder Curt Motton slammed a pair of home runs, a double and a single to lead the Baltimore assault. He drove in three runs and scored three himself.

The Orioles and Angels continue their three-game series tonight with Dave McNally, 17-2, opposing California's Andy Messersmith, 11-8.

"Cuellar has made a tremendous difference," said Oriole Manager Earl Weaver.

BIG PLUS

"We needed a fourth starter and when we got Mike from Houston we had him," Weaver said. "Another big plus has been our depth. We have three good reserve outfielders in Motton, (Marv) Rettenmund and (Dave) May. And there is depth in our pitching staff."

Motton moved into the outfield while Don Buford took over for Brooks Robinson at third base, ending Robinson's string of consecutive games at 282.

Yankees Give Bat Support to Downing

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Al Downing checked Kansas City on four hits and the New York Yankees beat the Royals 5-1 Tuesday night on the extra-base hitting of Roy White, Ron Woods and Bobby Murcer.

The Yanks, who won for the 13th time in 17 starts, broke through Dick Drago, 6-11, for two runs in the third. Horace Clarke singled and scored on White's triple. Joe Pepitone got White home with a grounder to first.

Downing, 4-3, overcame early wildness before settling down. The only Kansas City run was Paul Schaal's homer in the third, his first.

Last Second Free Throws Decide Game

MONTICELLO, N.Y (AP) — Willis Reed of the New York Knicks sank two free throws with three seconds left to give Red Auerbach's team an 80-79 victory over Gene Shue's team in the 11th annual Maurice Stokes pro basketball benefit game Tuesday night.

* * *

Lew Alcindor of Milwaukee, playing for the first time against members of other National Basketball Association teams, scored 14 points for the winners although the most valuable player award went to veteran Wilt Chamberlain of Los Angeles with Shue's team.

* * *

Alcindor played 25 minutes and scored six field goals in 11 shots and converted two of four three throws. In addition, he grabbed 10 rebounds and blocked four shots.

Chamberlain also played 25 minutes in the game at the Kutsher's Country Club. He scored 12 points on six field goals in eight shots. He missed seven of seven free throws, but grabbed 16 rebounds and blocked six shots.

* * *

Alcindor and Walt Frazier of the Knicks, playing for the losers, each scored 14 points to tie for scoring honors.

The amount of money raised was not immediately disclosed,

Mets 'Best' San Francisco in Extra-Inning Contest

NEW YORK (AP) — In a night of top performances, Gil Hodges came up with the best shift, Juan Marichal the best pitching, Cleon Jones the best catch and Tommie Agee the best thought.

"Hold them right there," Agee told Jones as they trotted to the dugout after Jones' circus catch off the Hodges Shift in the 13th inning Tuesday night. "I'll think of something."

* * *

After 13 innings of failure, Agee finally came up with the answer in the 14th when he lined a one-out shot over the left field wall to ruin Marichal's brilliant effort and give the New York Mets a 1-0 victory over San Francisco.

"Sooner or later, I knew I'd get a hit, even if it took until five in the morning," said Agee, who struck out three times, popped up and grounded out in his first five at bats.

NINTH SETBACK

Jones on the other hand, had to be the most tired man in the place aside from Marichal, who went the distance and gave only six hits, walked one man, intentionally, and struck out 13 only to take his ninth loss in 23 decisions and only his third in 24 lifetime decisions against the Mets.

Jones had three singles, stole two bases, threw out a runner trying to stretch a single into a double and was thrown out himself at the plate in a colossal collision trying to score from second on Marichal's throwing error in the 12th. And then there was the catch.

* * *

With two out and none on in the 13 and menacing Willie McCovey coming to bat, Hodges put three infielders between first and second base and moved third baseman Bobby Pfeil to left field as a fourth outfielder. Left-fielder Jones shifted to left center.

* * *

McCovey hit a drive to the top of the eight-foot-high left centerfield wall at the 371 foot mark and Jones raced full tilt into the wall, leaped and made the catch.

Gary Gentry went the first 10 innings and gave four hits against the Giants before Tug McGraw pitched four hitless innings for the victory.

SLUMP BROKEN

San Diego ended a 10-game losing streak with homers by pitcher Al Santorini and Al Ferrara helping beat the Expos. Rusty Staub homered for the Expos, who rallied for four runs in the late innings and had the tying run on second when reliever Jack Baldschun got the final out.

Jim Bunning, making his first start for the Dodgers, pitched six innings of scoreless ball and Jim Brewer completed the shutout against the Phillies. Bill Sudakis stretched his hitting streak to 18 games with a homer, his 13th of the season and fourth in as many games for LA.

* * *

Manny Sanguillen drove in three runs with a double and a single, leading Pittsburgh past Houston. Matty Alou had his 1,000th career hit and Willie Stargell bombed his 23rd homer for the Pirates.

Jim Maloney launched a pair of Cincinnati rallies with a homer and single and the Reds downed the Cardinals to hang on to the West Division lead by one half game over Los Angeles. Joe Torre had three hits and Vada Pinson homered for the Cards.

Down, Down Go Mudhens

By the Associated Press

Toledo's Mud Hens continued their downward skid, a streak which has seen them lose 19 of 28 games since July 26, Tuesday night with a 4-2 loss to Tidewater.

This time pitcher Bob Lasko was the victim, dropping his sixth game in seven decisions as the Tides moved to within one game of league - leading Louisville.

In other games, Buffalo beat Louisville 5-4, Syracuse swept two from Richmond 6-2 and 3-1 and Columbus whipped Rochester 16-5.

Iowa Amputee Leading Field

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—A 45-year-old certified public accountant fired a 36-41—79 Tuesday to take the first round lead in the qualifying event of the 21st annual National Amputee Golf Tournament.

* * *

Howard Hamilton of Dodge, Iowa and William Rich of Hollywood, Calif. followed close behind with 40-41—81s.

Announcement Due

Days Numbered for Oakland

NEW YORK (AP) — The days appear to be numbered for the Oakland Oaks, the financially troubled champions of the American Basketball Association.

The Oaks are destined to find a new home. The question is when.

* * *

An announcement was promised for today by league president Jim Gardner on a proposal by Washington attorney Earl Foreman to purchase the franchise for $2.6 million and move it to the sports-conscious Capital.

Foreman, Gardner and several ABA club owners met for seven hours Tuesday and Gardner said later there was a 50-50 chance the owners would approve the purchase which Foreman said was sewed up over the weekend with Oaks owner Ken Davidson.

SEVERAL PROBLEMS

But there are problems — among them, Rick Barry, the Oaks' star forward, who can control his future home under terms of his contract if the Oaks move, a suitable Washington arena, an imbalance in the divisions, and the need to shift the schedules with the season opener six weeks away if the deal goes through.

Even if Foreman, one-time partner in the ownership of the Baltimore Bullets, and associate Tom Shaheen don't get their way, the Oaks could be forced to move through the proposed merger of the ABA and National Basketball Association, or even a common player draft.

It's been hinted that either step would require the removal of the Oakland and Los Angeles Stars franchises from the NBA neighborhoods of the Los Angeles Lakers and San Francisco Warriors.

Commissioner Walter Kennedy of the NBA and Gardner announced two weeks ago that a merger was in the talking stages.

'A' Semifinals at Walled Lake

Imperial Molded Products pushed across five runs in the eighth inning last night to defeat Michigan Building Components, 13-8, in the first game of the Walled Lake Industrial Slowpitch Softball League 'A' division semifinals.

Pie Tuttle led the Imperial attack with three hits, including a home run and four RBI's. Ron Thompson also chipped in with three of Imperial's 19 hits.

The second game of the best two-out-of-three series will continue tonight at 6 at Casino Field, and the 'B' division will also resume play as Penny Electric meets Liberty Tool at 6 p.m. at Wixom Field. Penny now holds a one game edge on Liberty in their semifinal series.

Ashe Leads Charge

Form Holds in Tennis Play

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Form still was holding up today with defending champion Arthur Ashe leading a charge of U.S. Davis Cup players in men's singles and foreigners dominating women's play in the 89th U.S. National Tennis Tournament at Longwood.

Ashe, an overwhelming favorite to capture the $5,000 first prize as a so-called player permitted to play for cash, and four Davis Cup teammates, trailing him in the domestic seedings, advanced through the third round Tuesday on the windswept, sun-baked grass courts.

* * *

Three Australian Davis Cup players also remained in contention in gaining the round of 16. They were Bill Bowrey, Ray Ruffels and Allan Stone, the 2-3-4 seeded foreigners.

In women's singles, defending champion Margaret Smith Court of Australia led six foreign players into the quarter-finals. The only surviving Americans were top-seeded Mary Ann Eisel Curtis of St. Louis and fourth-seeded Betty Ann Grubb of Santa Monica, Calif.

Joining Ashe in advancing on the fourth day of the nine-day tournament were Stan Smith, Clark Graebner, Bob Lutz and Charlie Pasarell, seeded in that order behind the premier player outside the touring pro ranks.

TOP FORM

Ashe appeared in top form as he overpowered unseeded Richard Dell of Bethesda, Md., 6-4, 6-6, but was guarded when asked if he is playing as well as ever.

"I'm playing well, but it's difficult to judge just how well," he said. "I hit the ball good today, but I don't think I played as well as I might have, if, say, I had been playing Rod Laver. The competition means a lot. Everyone does his best against the best."

* * * *

Feature matches today sent Ashe against unseeded George Seewagen of Bayside, N.Y., Smith against upset-minded Onny Parun of South Africa and Graebner against France's Jean Courcol.

Bowrey, top foreign hope as a result of the shocking first round ouster of Brazil's Tom Koch, next meets unseeded Roy Barth of San Diego, Calif., who eliminated sixth-seeded Jim Osborne of Honolulu 20-18, 6-2 Tuesday.

Olympia Gets Director

DETROIT (AP) — Jim Bishop, 40, who coached the Oshawa Green Gaels lacrosse team to six successive Minto Cup championships in Canada, has joined the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League and Olympia Stadium as executive director.

Petty Elected First President of Pro Drivers

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — A Professional Drivers Association, with most of the top stars in stock car racing at its helm, has been formed and will push for a major role in the direction of the sport.

Richard Petty, the all-time leader in victories and earnings in NASCAR, will head the PDA as president. He said the sole purpose of the organization is to work for the betterment of auto racing.

* * *

Cale Yarborough, last year's top money winner, and Elmo Langley, a leading independent driver, will serve as vice presidents. Members of the executive committee include Lee Roy Yarbrough, David Pearson, Donnie and Bobby Allison, Buddy Baker, Pete Hamilton, Charlie Glotzbach, and James Hylton.

The PDA was formed at a secret meeting of drivers at Ann Arbor, Mich., last week while the stock car racing contingent was at nearby Jackson to prepare for Sunday's Yankee 600 stock car race.

ELIMINATE GUESSWORK

ARE YOU ALWAYS CERTAIN JUST HOW FAR AWAY A GREEN IS? YOU SHOULD BE.

I TRY TO PACE OFF A COURSE DURING PRACTICE ROUNDS AND MAKE NOTES ON A SCORECARD OF, HOW FAR A CERTAIN TREE OR ROCK IS FROM THE GREEN. DURING ACTUAL PLAY WHEN MY BALL IS ANYWHERE IN THE AREA OF ONE OF MY MEASURING POINTS I KNOW THE EXACT DISTANCE TO THE PIN. DISTANCES CAN BE DECEPTIVE, SO THIS ELIMINATES JUDGING THEM BY EYE. MY NOTES TELL ME HOW HARD TO HIT THE APPROACH SHOT.

MAKE UP SOME SIMILAR NOTES FOR YOUR COURSE AND YOU'LL BE SURPRISED AT HOW EASY CORRECT CLUB SELECTION BECOMES.

Medalist Wins Opening Match

CARMEL, Ind. (AP) — Medalist Hollis Stacy of Savannah, Ga. ran into unexpectedly strong opposition Tuesday but advanced through the first round of the 43rd Women's Western Junior golf tournament with a 3-and-1 victory over Beth Solomon of Middletown, Ind.

* * *

The 16-year-old Miss Solomon had shot an 85 in the qualifications to the 15-year-old Miss Stacy's 73. But they were all even after nine holes before the Georgia girl took command on the back nine.

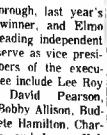

* * *

Defending champion Mary James Fassinger, New Castle, Pa., easily eliminated Catherine Combs, Sarnia, Ontario, 7 and 6.

* * *

One of the unexpected results was a 4-and-2 victory by Deborah Wiese, Elkhart Lake, Wis., over Melanie Schiller, Waterloo, Iowa. Miss Schiller, runnerup in both the Iowa Junior and Iowa High School girls' tourneys this year, had qualified with a 75 to Miss Wiese's 86.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By John Carter

Here's a football oddity . . . Although the New York Jets won the pro football championship last season, NOT ONE of their players finished first in rushing, passing, pass-receiving, punting, punt-returns, kickoff-returns or interceptions! . . . The rushing title was won by Paul Robinson of Cincinnati; the passing title by Lenny Dawson of Kansas City; the pass-receiving title by Lance Alworth of of San Diego; the punting title by Jerrel Wilson of Kansas City; the punt-return title by Noland Smith of Kansas City; the kickoff-return title by George Atkinson of Oakland; and the interception title was won by Dave Grayson of Oakland.

* * *

Can you imagine a big league sports stadium being constructed from beginning to end in less than four months! . . . When Forbes Field in Pittsburgh was built, construction did not begin until March, 1909 — and on June 30, 1909, the park opened! . . . Oddly enough, 30 years later when lights were put in for night games, it took four months just to install the lights!

* * *

Surprisingly few golfers seem to know the yardage by which pars are set for each hole . . . A hole more than 470 yards is usually a par 5 . . . A hole from 251 to 470 yards is usually a par 4 . . . And a hole less than 251 yards is usually a par 3.

I'll Bet You Didn't Know

Longer Duck Hunt Season Opens Oct. 10

Bonus Teal, Scaup Provisions Included

Duck hunters will have a longer season and more bonus provisions this fall, but the curtailment of mallard, black, canvasback and redhead shooting will remain in force.

The Department of Natural Resources announced yesterday that the duck season will run for 40 days—from Oct. 10 through Nov. 30. This is 10 days longer than last year.

★ ★ ★

The basic bag limit will be four ducks daily. However, the expected easing in mallard restrictions for the Mississippi Flyway of which Michigan is a part did not materialize.

Hunters will only be able to include one mallard, one black and one canvasback OR redhead in the daily limit. The four-bird bag can contain only two wood ducks.

Possession limits are twice the daily bag except only one redhead or can.

EXTRA TEAL

The bonus provisions cover the first nine days and the last 16 days of the season. From Oct. 10-18, hunters can have two extra bluewing teal in the bag. Two bonus scaup can be included Nov. 1-18 in 12 designated areas.

Among the designated bonus scaup areas are Lake Erie, the lower Detroit River, Lake St. Clair and Saginaw Bay. The bonus provisions make it possible for a hunter who can distinguish species to take up to six ducks a day, for all but 13 days of the season.

★ ★ ★

Goose hunting in Southern Michigan will be Oct. 10 through Nov. 30 and in the remainder of the state from Oct. 1 through Nov. 30. Special goose shooting regulations will be in force at Allegan and Shiawassee and no hunting will be permitted at Seney in the U.P.

The point-system bag limit will be tried as an experiment only on the permit portion of the Shiawassee game area. Final point assignment for species has not been determined.

SHOOTING HOURS

Shooting hours will change slightly. Opening day shooting will begin at 10 a.m. The same hour will again hold in the Lower Peninsula on the Oct. 20 opening of the pheasant season.

During the remainder of October shooting hours on waterfowl will be 7 a.m. to 5:25 p.m. in the Lower Peninsula and Eastern U.P. The November times will be 7:45 a.m. to 5 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Coot and merganser seasons are the same as for ducks. Bag limits are 10 coots and five mergansers daily except only one hooded merganser is allowed.

The limits on geese are five a day, but not more than two Canadas.

ALLEGAN AREA

In Allegan County, the goose season will be Oct. 21-Nov. 14 with only one Canada allowed in the bag and shooting to end at noon. Gunning for geese at Shiawassee will be allowed Oct. 1-Nov. 14 with the same shooting times and limits as Allegan.

The increase in the number of mallards available to hunters this fall caused some federal experts to indicate that the daily limit would increase in the Mississippi Flyway. But, the officials in Washington who make the final determination decided that the comeback was not strong enough.

★ ★ ★

The bonus bluewing teal portion of the season could fizzle if there is an early cold snap. Bluewings and woodies are the first ducks to head south and some years these species were conspicuous by their absence opening day.

Weather also holds the key to the bonus scaup (bluebills and bradbills) provision. Last year, the scaup stayed in Canada almost to the end of a special late November season. Some even wintered in the Prairie Provinces.

The average peak migration date in Michigan the last few years has been established at around Nov. 1.

Hunting Dates Complicated

Squirrel Opener Set for Sept. 15

Trying to keep Michigan's many hunting dates straight is becoming almost as complicated as the fishing regulations.

An omnibus conservation bill has been signed into law which gives the hunter more time afield this fall, depending on his interests.

★ ★ ★

Squirrel hunting will open Sept. 15 and grouse shooting will remain legal in the entire Lower Peninsula through December . . . with time out for the firearm deer season.

The lineup of dates looks like this:

★ ★ ★

Pheasant — Oct. 20-Nov. 10.
Grouse — Sept. 15-Nov. 14 and Dec. 1-30 in the northern Lower Peninsula; Sept. 15-Nov. 14 in the U.P.; Oct. 20-Nov. 14 and Dec. 1-30 in Southern Michigan.

Woodcock — Sept. 15-Nov. 9 in upper two-thirds of the state and Oct. 20-Nov. 9 in the southern part.

Squirrels — Sept. 15-Nov. 10 in the Lower Peninsula and Oct. 1-Nov. 10 (gray and black only) above the Straights. Rabbits — same as last year.

★ ★ ★

Bear — Sept. 10-Nov. 5 under special license in U.P. and Nov. 1-30 under deer tag. Sept. 10-14 in two Lower Peninsula permit areas.

★ ★ ★

Deer — (Archery) Oct. 1-Nov 14 and Dec. 1-31. (Firearms) Nov. 15-30.

Special seasons and regulations cover sharptail grouse, turkeys and quail.

Chinook Salmon Top 20 Pounds

The cohos remained aloof, but enough larger chinooks were around to get the Manistee Salmon Festival off to a fair start last weekend.

Top salmon on the contest-board topped 20½ pounds. Most of the Lake Michigan chinooks were over 15 pounds. Cohos taken were in the 10-pound class. Earlier in the week a couple of chinooks weighed better than 22 pounds.

The chinooks are expected to average between 20-25 pounds in about a month. These kings are being taken in 90 to 110 feet of water about six miles from shore.

The cohos have not started to form big schools preparatory to the spawning runs. Few cohos are being caught in Lake Huron, but perch and bass fishing remains fair to good in Saginaw Bay.

PERCH BITING

A good place for bass is near Charity Island. Perch fishing has been very good in Lake St. Clair off Huron Point and off Masonic Avenue in St. Clair Shores.

Bluegills are biting in Pontiac, Orion, Union and Maceday lakes with crickets the best bait. Bass fishing is fair at Pontiac and Orion lakes.

A small planting (300) of lake trout was made in Maceday earlier this summer, but DNR officials have received no reports of any being caught. The lakers were 10-16 inches long and may be confused with splake also found in the lake.

There are some lakers over 10 years old in the lake that top 15 pounds.

Craspedacusta Flex Tentacles in Area

If you happen to see some transparent saucer-shaped animals with tentacles about an inch in diameter in White Lake, don't be alarmed.

They will be craspedacusta sowerbyi. Common name is the freshwater jelly fish.

Fish biologists for the Department of Natural Resources say the jelly fish start showing up in White and some other lakes about this time every summer.

They look like the ocean jelly fish, only smaller, and feed on plankton. Biologists say the jelly fish are not harmful to swimmers.

Gunning on Preserves Set

Pheasants, Mallards Leading Targets

Hunters will get their chance for early action on pheasants, quail, and mallard ducks by Sept. 15 when most of the public and private shooting preserves open for business.

★ ★ ★

A few of these private preserves plus a small number of the public ones will spice their lineup of shooting targets with releases of chukar partridge and "fancy" pheasants.

★ ★ ★

Most of the pay-to-hunt areas are located in Southern Michigan with Oakland, Lapeer and Kalamazoo counties having a large number of them. Free copies of a preliminary directory listing public shooting preserves in the state will be available after Sept. 1 from the DNR's Game Division in Lansing.

★ ★ ★

Sportsmen are reminded they will need to buy 1969 small game licenses or special $5 preserve licenses to hunt in these commercial areas which are regulated by the DNR.

Preserve operators also charge additional shooting fees for the targets they release or the birds which hunters bag.

Most preserves offer guide service and hunting dogs.

Ore Particles Dumped

Superior Battle Brews

LANSING (AP) — Lake Superior, the last of the uncontaminated Great Lakes, will soon be the arena for a showdown between conservationists who want to preserve the expanse of blue water and industrial interests.

Currently the major dispute concerns the Reserve Mining Co. of Duluth, Minn., which dumps some 60,000 tons of iron ore tailings into the lake each day.

★ ★ ★

Wastes from Michigan copper and iron mining interests have been largely ignored.

Conservationists fear that continued dumping of iron ore particles into the lake by Reserve Mining will degrade the water.

OPPOSITE VIEW

Reserve Mining contends that the iron ore is inert and therefore not contributing to any possible contamination of the water.

The issue today largely remains a Mexican standoff with the firm continuing its practice and conservationists calling for the federal government to step in and prohibit the discharge.

★ ★ ★

The federal government is on thin legal grounds to take such action unless it is requested by a governor from one of the surrounding states.

Neither Govs. William Milliken of Michigan, Warren Knowles of Wisconsin or Harold Levander of Minnesota have called on the federal government for help.

The Federal Water Pollution Control Agency — the body directed to police the nation's waters — recently recommended to the states sinvolved that the dumping be kept under surveillance.

ANOTHER SURVEY

However, it was learned that the FWPCA is planning to make another survey of the lake this fall. The results of that study could mean court action against the Reserve Mining Co. to halt its current practice.

The state of Michigan also could come under fire from the agency for permitting copper and iron mining companies in the Upper Peninsula to discharge wastes in streams flowing into Lake Superior.

★ ★ ★

The Water Resources Commission will conduct hearings this week in Escanaba to determine what uses can be made of various Upper Peninsula streams.

While this has been accomplished across most of the state the commission delayed action in certain Upper Peninsula streams pending an opinion from the attorney general.

The legal question arose after Calumet and Hecla Inc. proposed that it dispose of some 6,000 gallons of Fluoride-laden waste water into Hills Creek each day. Hills Creek is a tributary of Lake Superior.

Attorney Gen. Frank Kelley ruled that any action that would excempt copper and iron mining companies from the protective provision of the Water Resources Act would violate the state constitution.

As a result, conservations will be watching the commission proceedings closely to see if it establishes restrictions on the copper and iron mining interests that are stringent enough to keep Lake Superior the cleanest of the five Great Lakes.

Water Resource Film Available

"Your Life — Water," a new color-sound movie has just been added to the free loan list of the Department of Natural Resources.

Prints of the 28-minute movie may be reserved by schools, conservation clubs and other groups through the DNR's Film Loan Section in Lansing. Reservations should be made three weeks in advance of desired viewing dates.

2 Die, 3 Hurt in Shootings in W. Virginia

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — A former serviceman apparently "went berserk" early this morning, using a high-powered rifle to kill two men and wound three others while walking along a city street, city police said.

* * *

Police Chief Gale Smith said David L. Grimm, 25, Parkersburg, was arraigned on a charge of murder after police armed with rifles and tear gas surrounded his house and brought him out.

* * *

Smith said Grimm shot and killed two persons outside Ada's Club and wounded another. He said a bank delivery man was wounded about one block away and a motorist was shot another two blocks away.

* * *

Smith said a newspaper boy was accosted but not injured when Grimm fired his rifle into the ground and air about 10 blocks from the club.

* * *

Smith said Grimm apparently went on a "beserk escapade."

Theft of Brass Parts Is Charged to Pair

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Larceny charges have been filed against two Muskegon residents in connection with the theft of $25,000 worth of fittings from a brass foundry here.

* * *

Police said John K. Weller, 22, and Harold J. Buttis, 17, were charged in the theft of the brass. The pair demanded examination in Ottawa District Court and were jailed in lieu of $5,000 bond.

* * *

Lewis Loby, owner of a Grand Rapids metal firm, was charged with receiving and concealing stolen goods. Officers said they found nearly $6,700 worth of brass at Loby's firm and are searching for the rest.

Pontiac Realty Founder Dies This Morning

Vernon K. Archer, founder of Pontiac Realty Co., died this morning at 73.

* * *

Service will be 2 p.m. Friday at the Huntoon Funeral Home with members of Cook-Nelson Post No. 20, American Legion conducting the service.

* * *

Archer, former president of the Pontiac Board of Realtors, was presented a certificate of merit for 28 years of service as a realtor and unblemished professional record in the community in June 1958 by the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission.

Archer of 724 Lounsbury was a member of the Pontiac Board of Realtors and Cook-Nelson Post No. 20.

* * *

Surviving are his wife, Helen; a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Cluggish of Orlando, Fla.; and a brother.

* * *

The family suggests any memorials be made to the Michigan Heart Association.

Cause No. 24246
STATE OF MICHIGAN, in the Probate Court for the County of Oakland, Juvenile Division.
In the matter of the petition concerning Dennis Ray Grandstaff, Minor.
To Ralph Grandstaff, father of said minor child.
Petition having been filed in this Court alleging that said child comes within the provisions of Chapter 712A of the Compiled Laws of 1948 as amended, in that the present whereabouts of the father of said minor child is unknown and said child has violated a law of the State, and that said child should be confirmed under the jurisdiction of this Court.
In the Name of the People of the State of Michigan, you are hereby notified that the hearing on said petition will be held at the Court House, Oakland County Service Center, in the City of Pontiac in said County, on the 28th day of August A.D. 1969, at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and you are hereby commanded to appear personally at said hearing.
If being impractical to make personal service hereof, this summons and notice shall be served by publication of a copy one week previous to said hearing in The Pontiac Press, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.
Witness, the Honorable Eugene Arthur Moore, Judge of said Court, in the City of Pontiac in said County, this 18th day of August A.D. 1969.

Even SF Skyscrapers to 'Turn On' for Show

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — They're orchestrating 20 skyscrapers, a Moog Synthesizer, the City Hall and 39 car horns tonight in a fun thing described as a light-sound show.

The civic spectacle is the brainchild of Paul Crowley, a 33-year-old artist-producer who says it will be "a great free trip for everybody."

The sound, to be broadcast by three radio stations, will emanate from the Synthesizer, which is an electronic music-maker, and the horns of 39 automobiles ranged around it atop 804-foot Twin Peaks, in the center of the city.

Harpsichordist Marguerite Fabrizio will play a work by composer Robert Moran called "Thirty-Nine Autos for Thirty-Nine Minutes." Technicians in the skyscrapers, including the new 52-story Bank of America, will flash the building lights on and off in time with the music. They will have musical scores to follow.

DRIVERS CAN JOIN IN

Homeowners have been invited to join the merriment by flipping their own light switches as the strains of "Thirty-Nine etc.," pour from their radios.

Even the City Hall dome will be flashing.

"It's just for fun," Crowley explained. "If it gets foggy, with all those lights flashing, boy, what a great trip that will make."

San Francisco abounds with hip-type electronic music and light show fans, of whom Crowley is one.

Having conceived tonight's spectacle, he succeeded in enlisting the aid of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., which organized the skyscraper section of the strange orchestra.

* * *

"A gigantic esthetic and beautification project," Crowley calls it.

SculptureNot Obscene, but Oh That Title

DETROIT (UPI) — What's in a name?

Obscenity, said the executive committee of the State Fair Authority, and censored the name of the prize-winning sculpture "Let It All Hang Out."

Whimsy, said Sculptor Theodore H. Striewski, whose plastic sculpture that some say represents male genitalia goes on display Friday at the State Fair here.

* * *

Attention-getting, the board agreed, and Chairman Delmont L. Chapman said the rules will probably change next year "so that they do not allow an artist to hang an obscene tag on abstract art to draw attention."

'POOR TASTE'

Inoffensive by itself, Vice President Alfred R. Glancy said, but when put together with the visual impact of the piece itself, "they do border on poor taste."

There will be no name, the board unanimously decreed.

* * *

Sculptor Striewski, an art instructor at Oakland Community College, shrugged.

"I prefer not to title work anyway," he said.

There was almost no display, titled or untitled.

* * *

"With the rules we have, there is no way to eliminate it," Chapman said. "Though I would rather have it removed."

Free Gift Goes Up in Smokes

SAIGON (AP) — A package of American cigarettes offered by a Saigon street vendor carried a message in addition to the usual health warning:

"For free distribution, not to be sold. Compliments of Malcolm Lewis Plumbing and Heating, 2227 N. Main Street, Danville, Va."

It was from a gift package sent by Lewis for free distribution to U.S. servicemen. It wound up in the Saigon black market.

State May Aid Farm Housing

Cost-Sharing Urged for Migrant Dwellings

LANSING (AP) — The State Agricultural Labor Commission Tuesday recommended unanimously that the state enter into a cost-sharing partnership with growers to build or remodel farm labor housing.

Commission Chairman Daniel W. Stuart said under the plan the state would pay half the cost of new buildings or repairs between $1,000 and $7,000. The state would not contribute for repairs under $1,000 and would not contribute to building or repairs above the $7,000 ceiling. Thus the maximum state contribution is $3,500.

The recommendations came in reaction to growing publicity over the plight of migrant farm workers in the state and increasing talk about a strike against tomato growers in Monroe County.

Stuart said the seven-man board reviewed the work of a migrant labor committee that looked into the problems some time ago. The committee's 19 recommendations were good, he noted, but there was "a noticeable lethargy on the part of Michigan's government to do anything about them."

COSTS TO SUBSIDE

The board felt that under this recommendation the state would pay about $1 million each year for a few years, but that costs would subside once substantial improvements were made at a number of farms.

This proposal would "register the public concern with farm labor housing as well as the concern of the public of the costs of such housing to the grower," the recommendation said.

"If society wants to upgrade the quality of housing in view of the farm situation, that society should enter a partnership with the grower in order to help him accomplish what is in the best interests of the grower, society and the migrant worker."

Under this recommendation, the State Public Health Department would administer the program.

* * *

Stuart said the nature of the recommendation was affected by the fact that four of the seven commissioners are growers and the other three are public representatives. He noted, however, that a worker's spokesman also favored this plan.

Makes Lettuce in Stocks

Ex-Bunny Hops to Greener Field

NEW YORK (AP) — As a Playboy bunny, Caryl Goldman's stock in trade was tips. Now, 14 months later, her tips in trade are stocks. She's a registered representative at a brokerage house.

The road from the Playboy Penthouse, where bunny-suited hostesses work mainly for tips, to the world of Wall Street and high finance may seem long.

* * *

But to the petite, raven-haired Miss Goldman, it was only a hop, skip and a jump.

* * *

"I quit after three years at the club, started as a trainee at Newburger Loeb & Co. and now here I am," she says, glancing at the electronic stock quotes illuminating the wall above her desk.

"I like it here. It's exciting and challenging," she says, perched on the edge of her chair like a . . . well, like a bunny.

She is tiny—five feet even—28, and completely feminine, but doesn't seem out of place in the "board room" filled with some 40 men and only one other woman.

* * *

"I first got interested in stocks when my father died. He left my mother a lot of securities and I got very involved in investing them for her."

"After a while, I decided I might as well get in the business and started applying at different brokers."

Miss Goldman deals primarily with large investment accounts and traders, taking buy and sell orders on the phone and keeping a close watch on the progress of various stocks.

* * *

She's a well-educated ex-bunny with a Bachelor of Arts degree in art history from the University of Syracuse where she made the dean's list, a master's degree in education from New York University and taught first and second grades in Bedford-Stuyvesant before becoming a Playboy bunny.

* * *

"I left teaching because it was no longer challenging," she says. "I guess it was about the same situation as a bunny."

A Look at TV

Anthology Out, Movie In

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "The word 'anthology' in television has come to mean heavy, talky, preachy and boring," said Barry Diller, an ABC programming vice president.

"The word movie' means entertaining."

So the ABC television network has called its new, 90-minute anthology series, "Movie of the Week."

"We are not trying to turn out theatrical films," said the 27-year-old Diller. "Hopefully one or two shows of the series might be a springboard to a future series."

MISS LOWRY

The network, which plans to spend some $16 million on the season's dramas from assorted suppliers, actually is breaking no really new semantic ground. The process began a few seasons back when network executives were worrying about the diminishing supply of theatrical features with which to fill those gaping two-hour time blocks.

COSTS SOAR

As the movie studio vaults were stripped, costs soared. It was not unusual for a network to pay as much as a million dollars for the privilege of broadcasting one made for theaters film a couple of times.

NBC, seeking to ease the shortage, ordered an assortment of two-hour filmed shows from one studio and called them "world premiere" shows.

Now all three networks are following suit and movies-for-television are in production all over town. If these films had been made for initial theater release, most would have been regarded as "B features," because of their modest cost — usually $750,000 or under—and the drawing power of their stars.

The shows have some advantages. They are tailored to television's commercial needs where theatrical films often reach dramatic climaxes just where the show must be broken for the sponsor's messages. They can be used as pilots for potential series. Next season's "The Bold Ones" and "Then Came Bronson" on NBC both emerged from "world premiere" shows. ABC's "Marcus Welby, M.D." was assayed in the two-hour TV form as was CBS's "Medical Center."

MYSTERY REMAINS

The mystery remains, why, during recent seasons, anthology series—a different, complete show each week tied together by a continuing star-host—have attracted audiences of unsatisfactory size while shows labeled (or often mislabeled) movies got big ratings.

"Movie of the Week" will mark the first time movies will compete with movies in prime time. The series will play opposite a portion of NBC's "Tuesday Night at the Movies."

A Military College Reopens to Girls

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga. (AP) —Georgia Military College is going coed—again.

The board of trustees has announced that beginning with the fall quarter, which opens Sept. 1, the institution will return to its coed policy of some 35 years ago.

* * *

Girl students at the military junior college and preparatory school will be part of the 91st Battalion, officials said. However, they will not be required to drill or wear uniforms.

At News Conference Today

Rogers Assesses War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Against the backdrop of increased enemy activity in Vietnam and apparently unproductive peace negotiations in Paris, Secretary of State William P. Rogers called one of his rare news conferences for today.

He was expected to give the Nixon administration's latest assessment of the war and Paris talks.

★ ★ ★

Rogers last held a formal news conference here July 2 when the lull in fighting in Vietnam was about two weeks old. The lull continued until last week when Communist forces made a series of attacks across the country.

In his previous news conference, Rogers said the administration hoped the lack of enemy activity signified some interest on the Communist side in de-escalating the war. He said this could have a bearing on President Nixon's further decisions about U.S. troops withdrawals.

RECENT CONCERN

More recently White House spokesman Ron Ziegler indicated concern about the new enemy attacks.

★ ★ ★

Nixon is expected to announce his second troop withdrawal decision before the end of this month. His first order for removal of 25,000 American fighting men was disclosed June 8.

The impression among officials here in recent weeks has been that despite the increase in combat activity Nixon would find it possible to order a further withdrawal. But it was believed the number of troops to be pulled out of Vietnam might be affected by the latest war developments.

★ ★ ★

On the Paris peace front, Washington authorities are reported still hopeful that coming weeks will bring some move by the Communist side. Recent meetings failed to produce any outward evidence of progress.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Nixon's top representative in the talks, returned home last week. He is expected to fly to the West Coast to confer with the President in the next day or so.

★ ★ ★

Rogers, who returned to Washington from San Clemente, Calif., Sunday, plans to go back to the West Coast late today or tonight, aides said. He is to participate in a meeting at San Francisco tomorrow between President Nixon and President Park Chung Hee of South Korea.

PAUSE THAT REFRESHES—Eleven-year-old Carl Wright pauses to get a drink from a broken water pipe while cleaning up debris at his father's service station in Gulfport, Miss., which was damaged by Hurricane Camille. The youngster couldn't explain why the water was still flowing but noted that most passersby stopped for a drink of the now-scarce commodity.

Soviet Titanium Sales Puzzling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has started selling large amounts of titanium — once called the wonder metal of the 1950s — to the United States. Materials experts say they are puzzled by the move.

Titanium is being used increasingly in American military as well as civilian aircraft.

A few weeks ago the first Soviet merchant ship to call on the United States this decade docked at Seattle, to deliver 900 tons of sponge titanium — as it is referred to in its intermediate production form.

And now officials say the same ship is bringing another big load to the United States next month.

The Soviets sent only 421 tons of sponge titanium to this country in all of 1968, with ships of other flags importing it.

The United States has a domestic titanium production capacity of its own but is unable to compete with Soviet or Japanese prices.

Some officials suspect the Soviets may be trying to undercut the fledgling U.S. titanium industry, possibly to disrupt its progress.

American companies can get Soviet titanium for $1 per pound, about 30 cents below prices charged by U.S producers and about 20 cents below the Japanese price.

★ ★ ★

One materials expert figures that the Soviets have excess titanium production capacity at the moment and may be dumping the metal in this country at a loss.

An industry source suggested the Russians are out to collect some American dollars while shedding their excess titanium stocks.

A big surge in U.S. demand for titanium-favored because of its high strength-to-weight ratio — is forecast over the next few years.

Aid Pours Into Gulf Coast Area

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — A tide of aid streamed today toward a Mississippi coast still groggy from Hurricane Camille's fury and haunted by an aura of death.

The highway patrol counted 162 killed along Mississippi's coast. Eight were reported dead in Louisiana's devastated Plaquemines Parish (county) pushing the total to 170.

★ ★ ★

"Some people estimate the death rate could go up above 500 and possibly reach 1,000," said Gov. John Bell Williams in imposing limited martial law on the area.

The governor predicted total damage "might perhaps go beyond a billion dollars."

UP TO 200,000 HOMELESS

Civil defense authorities estimated 150,000 to 200,000 persons were left homeless in Mississippi's three coastal counties.

Some areas still have not been reached by rescue crews. Communications were erratic, sometimes nonexistent.

★ ★ ★

Officials said it might be several more days before the full extent of death and damage was known.

In mobile, Ala., the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers said men and equipment were being sent in to begin opening roads and streets clogged with heavy wreckage and debris.

RESTORING COMMUNICATIONS

Emergency telephone and power repair crews collected from nearby states struggled to restore communications along the coastal strip.

★ ★ ★

Army generators were ordered airlifted in to provide temporary power for Gulfport's water pumping plant. The scarcity of drinking water was a serious problem everywhere in the devastated area.

★ ★ ★

Truckloads of food rumbled in, some provided by the regional U.S. Department of Agriculture office in Jackson, Miss., and some by private organizations.

Mercy flights of vital supplies and medicine were organized.

STENCH OF DEATH

Along the strip's beaches and bayous the stench of death was heavy. Camille threw thousands of fish ashore with her rushing tides—20 feet above normal in areas of maximum storm force.

Under the limited martial law proclaimed by Gov. Williams, chiefs of the National Guard and highway patrol hold joint responsibility in supervising the area.

★ ★ ★

State Adj. Gen. Walter Johnson said his Guardsmen would not "try to run the government." They will deal mainly with policing and rescue, he said.

Williams said the step was taken in order to quarantine the area and limit the flow of people — particularly sightseers.

DRAWS CROWD — Folk singer Tim Buckley wails out a moody ballad for the crowd last night at Oakland University's Baldwin Pavilion. The rock concert, part of Meadow Brook Special Events Series, attracted about 3,000 young persons. Detroit's the Frost and the Symphonic Metamorphosis shared billing with Buckley (Related story, page B-5).

WAR ON HOLDUPS—Susan Separe, 21, of Philadelphia shows what she would like to do with those confining old brassieres. She thinks, like a lot of other young women, that going braless is comfortable and sexy.

No-Bra Push Puts Bounce in Style

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — There's a new front in women's revolution for freedom.

Legions of young ladies are turning toward the brassiereless look to give them more freedom of movement.

Evidently it has caught on along Atlantic City's famed Boardwalk — a showplace for displaying new fashion trends.

"Bras are a real pain," grumbled Christine Young, 17, of Philadelphia. "They're too binding. But when you wear a 40D, you have to wear them sometimes," she said.

An 18-year-old floor girl at a Boardwalk auction, Judy Golberg of Levittown, Pa., said she hated brassieres. "I hardly ever wear one."

'MUCH AIRIER'

Cynthia Dimon, a 21-year-old Ohio Wesleyan University student who wears high-walsted braless dresses on her summer job as a newspaper reported explained:

"It's a habit I picked up at school. Going without them is so much airier and less confining."

Bernice Caapaldo, a 22-year-old Paterson, N.J. high school teacher, acknowledged what was apparent as she windowshopped.

"Whenever possible, I never wear a bra. I put one on only when I really dress up. I'm inhibited without one then."

Kathy Pasterczyk, 16, of Pittsfield, Pa., confided that she feels "awfully stuffy" in bras.

The girls admitted to owning brassieres but preferred to stash them in a closet.

★ ★ ★

But not all the girls approve of the trend.

Cathy Meighan, a 21-year-old nightclub waitress, wants no part of the ban-the-bra movement.

"I don't know too many guys who go for the flat-chested look," she stated.

Despite it all, store clerks at lingerie counters maintain that droopy fashions haven't harmed sales curves.

Business, they claim is as big as ever.

Road Safety Unit Wanders as Hunt for 'Driver' Drags

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's search for a new federal highway safety director has dragged into its seventh month with critics complaining the agency is hopelessly adrift.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe said two weeks ago he hoped to announce a new director for the National Highway Safety Bureau "soon." He voiced a similar hope in April.

★ ★ ★

The appointment is still being cleared with the White House and presumably with Republicans on Capitol Hill, a Department of Transportation spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, according to Dr. William Haddon Jr., the bureau "is fast becoming a victim of bureaucratic encirclement, resource starvation and an antiquated notion reflected in government priority-setting that nothing should or can be done to reduce the nation's appalling highway losses in damaged people and property."

★ ★ ★

Haddon, director of the agency since its formation in 1966, resigned last February with the change of administration.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., a pioneer in auto and highway safety, says sadly the bureau he helped create is a "failure."

Tonight, Thursday Will Remain Fair

Poets may rave and write about a day in June, but what is more perfect than today's cloudless skies of blue, a light breeze and temperatures in the 70s.

And the weatherman predicts fair tonight and tomorrow with no precipitation in sight until possibly Friday.

★ ★ ★

Temperatures will drop into the cool 50s tonight and rise to 75 to 82 tomorrow.

Fifty-six was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The mercury had warmed up to 74 by 12:30 p.m.

AMC Is Mapping Reply to UAW

RACINE, Wis (AP) — American Motors Corp. begins today getting its answers ready for United Auto Worker demands that it match wages and fringe benefits prevailing in contracts with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—or show its financial inability to do so.

The company has until Sept. 4 to reply.

* * *

The demands were laid on the bargaining table Tuesday as the UAW and American Motors opened negotiations on an agreement to replace a current two-year pact running out Oct. 16.

The union said, however, it was prepared to negotiate "in the light of the economic situation" at AMC and "we certainly have no intention of putting the company out of business."

Frank G. Armstrong, AMC vice president-administration, promised the union a "reply in detail" Sept. 4, but said yesterday it would be premature to express himself without further study of the demands.

UAW Vice President Pat Greathouse took only an hour in outlining the union's proposals, including one that the new contract be for only 10 months and 28 days.

* * *

That, Greathouse pointed out, would permit the new AMC contract to expire on Sept. 4, 1970, along with three-year agreements signed in 1967 with the big Three of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Then in financial straits, AMC got a two-year pact with a five-cent wage differential and was permitted to forgo some fringe benefits, such as higher pensions, won at the Big Three.

The fourth U.S. auto maker's financial situation has reversed since, and it now is in the black.

AMC reported a profit of $8.9 million for its 1967-68 fiscal year, and $7.8 million for the first three quarters of the current year.

To match Big Three wages, it would have to add the five-cent general increase it omitted in 1967, plus an eight cent hourly cost-of-living adjustment going into effect Oct. 27 and a 3 per cent automatic across-the-board pay boost effective Nov. 24.

Based on an average hourly straight time wage of $3.79 now prevailing at American Motors, the package would increase direct payroll costs slightly more than 24 cents hourly.

* * *

The average hourly straight time pay at the Big Three now is figured at $3.83.

* * *

Greathouse said AMC's new, short contract need not necessarily duplicate those with any of the Big Three, but that the union wants "the total economic benefits in line with them."

Birmingham

City Honored for Pedestrian Safety Mark

BIRMINGHAM — The city has received the American Automobile Association Pedestrian Safety Citation Award for not having a single pedestrian fatality during 1968.

Birmingham competed with more than 1,800 other communities of similar populations in the United States. The average pedestrian fatality count for those communities was 2.9. Birmingham's last pedestrian fatality was in 1967.

* * *

Birmingham also has not recorded a traffic fatality this year.

The Birmingham Board of Education will continue discussion of the school district's transportation policy at a special 8 p.m. meeting, Tuesday, Aug. 26 in the board room of the Administration Building, 550 W. Merrill.

At the Aug. 5 meeting, the board voted to continue busing exceptions only at Bingham Farms, Franklin, Harlan and Pembroke.

* * *

Children from those attendance areas who were formerly bused under the exception will continue to be bused no later than Nov. 1.

The board so acted in order to allow parents more time to complete safety arrangements such as sidewalks and crossing guards.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the board of education received a $23,719 bid for redevelopment of the Baldwin Elementary School playground.

Low bidder was the George E. Young Nursery Inc., Oak Park. The other bid for $50,300 was from the J. D. Armstrong Landscape Co.

* * *

Grading, layout of play fields and erection of playground equipment is expected to be completed by the opening of school in September.

The Baldwin playground is being expanded over the grounds occupied by the Hill Building which was demolished early this summer. The Hill Building formerly housed the school district's administrative offices.

Beret Probe Resumes; Army Chief in Vietnam

LONG BINH, Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Army today resumed its preliminary investigation to determine whether eight Green Berets accused of killing a Vietnamese double agent will be brought to trial.

* * *

As the hearing resumed 12 miles north of Saigon, Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor arrived in South Vietnam with a report on the Green Beret case as one of his chief objectives. He came on an inspection trip planned for some time, but congressional criticism of the Army's handling of the case moved it to the top of his agenda.

* * *

The pretrial investigation, similar to a grand jury proceeding, began in mid-July but was halted Aug. 2.

* * *

Henry B. Rothblatt, a civilian lawyer from New York City representing three of the men, predicted the investigation would be completed tomorrow and that all eight would be freed.

'WEAK CASE'

"If ever I've witnessed a weak case, this is it," he said, adding that the Army has yet to produce a witness to the slaying, which reportedly occurred June 20.

* * *

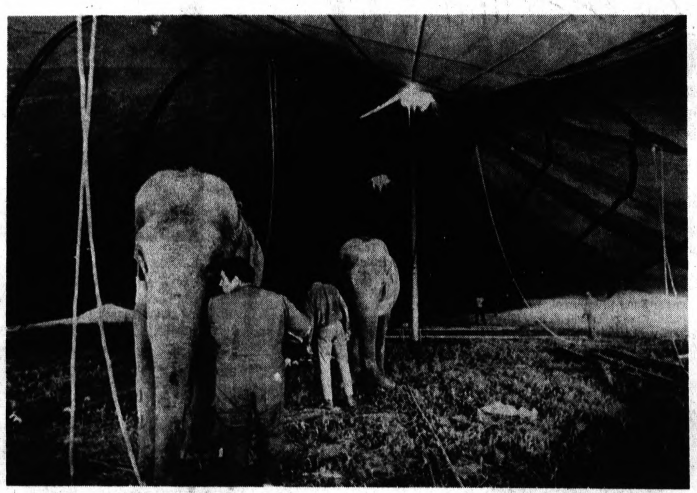

Rothblatt and another civilian attorney, George Gregory of Cheraw, S.C., told newsmen they will move for the dismissal of charges against the men at the end of the investigation. Gregory is defending one of the eight men in the case.

* * *

Rothblatt said only two witnesses testified briefly during the day-long session today and both were called by the Army. He said one was an enlisted man and the other a civilian.

* * *

Among the eight men charged is the former commander of all Special Forces troops in Vietnam, Col. Robert Rheault of Vineyard Haven, Mass.

Protests Erupt as Police Patrol Prague Streets

PRAGUE (AP) — Riot police and troops patrolled Prague today, ready to crack down on anything that looked like a demonstration on the first anniversary of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

About 500 riot police clubbed and teargassed crowds to clear Wenceslas Square three times last night, but after each attack allowed the throngs to return. Twenty persons were believed arrested and three were injured.

* * *

The show of police force apparently was intended to emphasize the warnings from Communist party leaders against anti-Soviet demonstrations to protest the invasion that started one year ago tonight.

No such demonstrations were observed last night. The crowds stood silent and sullen, refusing to heed police orders to move on. When force was used, they taunted the police with whistles and cries of "Gestapo! Gestapo!"

POLICE ACCUSED

In side streets leading to the square were scenes reminiscent of the debates last year, when young Czechs asked Soviet tank crews why they had come and why they didn't go home.

This time young Czechs accused their own people, the police, of making trouble and told them to go home.

A new underground leaflet appeared today accusing the polite and hard-line Communists of planning to incite the people into a revolt. The leaflet warned against provocateurs and urged the people to limit themselves to passive demonstrations on the invasion anniversary.

The leaflet charged that the police and the old guard, aided by Soviet agents, would try to provoke the public into acts of insurrection.

Soviets Said to Be Avoiding Vietnam Peace Efforts

LONDON (UPI) — The Soviet Union has all but backed out of efforts to mediate peace in Vietnam, diplomatic sources said today.

Well-informed Communist diplomats said there is nothing for Moscow to do in the current state of the Vietnam war and negotiations in Paris.

They let it be clearly understood the Kremlin now has no intention of taking any diplomatic initiative or pushing any mediation effort in Hanoi to facilitate peace.

The Soviet attitude was motivated by its belief the United States has done nothing worthwhile to date, from the Communist viewpoint, to justify Soviet intervention, let alone Soviet pressure on the regime of President Ho Chi Minh.

NIXON IGNORED

President Nixon's de-escalation program and latest moves toward partial withdrawal of American forces were brushed aside as "insignificant or outright meaningless."

Diplomats argued that the United States at the same time was arming South Vietnam and reinforcing it with the clear intention to make it strong enough to do the job the Americans have been doing.

* * *

They countered Western charges that Moscow is continuing to pour large quantities of arms into North Vietnam with the argument the United States is supplying weapons to the South Vietnamese.

The Soviets evidently are aware of American criticism of Moscow's Vietnam policy and of the absence of Russian goodwill to help in the stalemated peace effort.

COULD HELP

Western diplomatic quarters have been arguing Moscow could have been helpful lately by both pressuring Hanoi politically and, more convincingly, by scaling down its massive arms deliveries which are boosting Hanoi's defiant posture.

Kennedy Case Inquest--Why?

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — The inquest that opens on Sept. 3 into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne is a long-established way in Massachusetts law to determine the legal cause of death, as distinct from the medical cause.

What can the inquest hope to accomplish?

In the words of one former prosecutor, "An inquest . . . is used to clear the air and close the books publicly on a case about which questions have arisen."

Miss Kopechne, 28, a Washington, D.C. secretary, was killed July 18 when a car driven by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts went off a bridge into a pond on Chappaquiddick Island. The accident went unreported for nine hours.

Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis sought and obtained the court order for the inquest to determine, in his words, if the girl's death "may have resulted from the act or negligence of a person or persons other than the deceased."

Assistant district attorneys who have conducted inquests in district courts in Massachusetts point out major differences between inquests and trials.

There is no accused at an inquest and no prosecution and defense as such.

They point out that the atmosphere at an inquest is less rigid than at a trial.

After all the evidence is in, the judge files a written report detailing his findings, step by step, and giving his conclusion.

The determination might be of suicide or of accidental death or of homicide or of some lesser legal finding such as negligence.

The report may be used as the basis for bringing a case to the grand jury, or it may be ignored. That decision is up to the prosecutor.

Standard Hikes Gasoline Price

DETROIT (UPI) — Standard Oil Co. announced yesterday it has raised the wholesale price of gasoline more than four cents a gallon to force up retail prices and hopefully end a two-month gasoline price war.

Vice President Milo Hector said wholesale prices for regular gasoline were raised from 13.1 to 17.5 cents a gallon.

Hector recommended that the company's Detroit-area dealers raise pump charges by six cents.

The company is recommending that gas war-lowered regular prices of 30.9 cents be boosted back to 36.9 cents a gallon for regular.

* * *

Since the price war started two months ago, regular gasoline has sold at from 26 to 34 cents a gallon.

Standard had lowered wholesale prices twice since the war started and other companies had followed suit.

'Brutality' Probe Ends; 1 Cleared

The Pontiac Police Trial Board last night concluded its investigation of alleged police brutality in the city, dismissing charges against one officer. A decision on charges against a second officer probably will be made in the next three weeks.

Board Chairman Isadore Goode, a local attorney, said today charges against Patrolman Carl Yuill were dismissed last night.

* * *

The charge of brutality that has been leveled atPatrolman Raymond Hawks will be decided after the board reexamines parts of the transcript of testimony heard in the last three weeks, Goode said.

Hawks and Yuill were charged with brutality after a July 10 incident at the Hayes Jones Community Center. Two black community workers were charged with creating a disturbance and resisting arrest during a minor scuffle.

* * *

Goode said board members needed more time to review testimony before deciding on charges against Hawks.

Meanwhile, preliminary examination proceedings against the two black accusers yesterday were adjourned until Aug. 28. Kenneth R. Walker, 27, of 97 S. Jessie and Elick Shorter, 25, of 529 Judson will appear before District Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Legendary Aunt Lulu Dies; Was Pen Pal to Hundreds

Aunt Lulu is dead.

"You could walk into Lake Orion a stranger and ask anyone where Aunt Lulu lived and they would direct you just as if you were in Detroit asking for Woodward Avenue."

MRS. MIDDLETON

That's Funeral Director Ron Allen's epitaph for 'Aunt Lulu' Middleton, who died yesterday at 87.

Service will be 1 p.m. Friday at Allen's Funeral Home, Lake Orion, with burial in East Lawn Cemetery, Lake Orion.

Mrs. Middleton was a member of Lake Orion Methodist Church, a former teacher for the Eaton Public School District, a member of Orion Chapter 340, OES, the Lake Orion Senior Citizens Club and the East Orion Farm Bureau and an honorary life member of East Orion Extension Club.

Surviving are three sons, Marvin and Keith, both of Oakland Township, and Cleon of Oxford; 11 grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

Aunt Lulu began writing to "her boys" —her own sons and the men of Oakland and Orion townships—stationed abroad during World War II.

At last count, Aunt Lulu was corresponding with more than 500 servicemen.

"She could hardly wait for the mail to arrive," a daughter-in-law recalled. "Her boys would send her trinkets and souvenirs from all over the world. It was almost her whole life."

Aunt Lulu's "hand got a little shaky," her son said. She hadn't written servicemen for several years.

Now the mailbox is empty.

Junior Editors Quiz on ROCKS

QUESTION: Why are there so many pretty rocks on the seashore?

* * *

ANSWER: Regina Smith, who sent us this interesting question, was good enough to enclose a little packet of the particular rocks she had in mind. These were little pebbles about half an inch long, of different colors, orange, gray, white, some spotted with other colors, but all smooth and rounded.

We have plenty of pebbles here, in an inland location, but looking at Regina's, one could tell at once that they came from a sea beach. Why the difference? Look at the picture. Our artist has given a feeling of the force and power of ocean waves as they smash against the land.

This is the beginning of the pebble-making process. Waves smash off bits of rock and churn the pieces around in a cauldron of boiling surf.

Here it is not only the water itself which breaks them down further: it is the fact that the water picks up bits of rock and uses them as tools to grind down other pieces. The final product is the sand of the seashore.

Regina's rocks are pieces with are larger than sand, but the grinding action of water and sand has given them a particular and very attractive kind of texture, satiny rather than shiny, a texture which speaks of the mysterious coolness and charm of the sea.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Railroad Tact on Wrong Track

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) If you have any sort of fair-mindedness about you at all, I'm sure you will agree that the American railroads have been exceptionally patient with their passengers.

WEST

During the past 15 or 20 years, the railroads have tried just about everything they could reasonably be expected to try in their efforts to discourage patronage.

They have provided poor service, antiquated equipment, rough roadbeds, jolting stops and starts, late arrivals and numerous other subtle hints that the passengers were unwanted.

Yet there remains a hard core of obstinate, impervious, irrational and insensitive travelers who insist on riding trains.

CAN'T LOSE ENOUGH

These inconsiderate diehards make it difficult for the railroads to lose enough money to justify discontinuing trains. And when the Interstate Commerce Commission does authorize a discontinuance, they frequently go to court to try to block it.

This harassment of the railroads by fanatical passengers adds up to a shameful chapter in the his tory of transportation. I submit that the railroads have tolerated it long enough and that more drastic action to rid the trains of passengers is now warranted.

* * *

But when the railroads recently tried a new tactic—stopping trains out in the middle of nowhere and transferring the passengers to buses — even that mild maneuver was soon denied to them.

The ICC has now ruled that a train that is being discontinued shouldn't be taken off the run until it reaches its destination. A novel idea and a dangerous precedent!

All of us who sympathize with the railroads in their valiant struggle to depassengerize themselves have a moral obligation to abet the campaign in every way possible.

* * *

By way of doing my part, I have prepared three recommendations that the railroads might find helpful in combatting riders:

1. Stop allowing passengers to carry their luggage on board the train with them. Make them check it at the ticket counter, as the airlines do, and then take it to another city. As the airlines do.

2. Modernize train stations in the way the air terminals have been modernized. At present, most train stations are located near the tracks. The tracks should be moved several miles away, separating passengers from trains at least as far as air travelers are separated from planes.

3. Arrange the schedule so that there will be many more trains arriving than there are tracks. Have several of them almost run together and then switch them to a circular track around the station for at least an hour.

Red-Intrigue 'Plot' Involves U.S. Actor

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — At the astronauts' banquet in the Century Plaza Hotel last week, actor Don Defore was telling friends about the funny thing that happened on the way to the dinner. Only it didn't seem funny at the time.

THOMAS

Even today Defore shudders at the memory of being held on suspicion of spying on Russian installations in a small Czechoslovak village.

It happened when Defore and his wife, Marian, were on their way home from the July 11-24 Moscow Film Festival, to which he was an American delegate. They had struck up a friendship with Yugoslav delegates who invited them to their film festival at Pula, Yugoslavia.

Before leaving for California, Defore wanted to make a sentimental journey to the birthplace of his mother's parents in Czechoslovakia. He related what happened after he arrived in Prague:

"We found a taxi driver who could speak a little English and was willing to take us to my grandparents' town, Piskova Holta, about 40 kilometers away. As we were driving toward the village, we came over a hill and saw a fenced-in area with a big gate and a huge photograph of Lenin with a sign which meant 'Long Live Communism.'

RUSSIANS WITH GUNS

"This was where the Russian troops were billeted. Marian said, 'Let's stop and take a picture,' but I said, 'Let's not.' There were Russian soldiers with tommy guns patrolling the streets."

Defore learned from an elderly resident that his grandparents had moved long ago to another village, Mlade Boleslave, and he got the address. When the Defores arrived, there was no one home

* * *

"Marian decided to take a picture, and she almost crossed the street to take in the building," said Defore. "We scarcely noticed the Jeeps going by with officers. Then she took a photo of new buildings on the other side of the street. That's when we saw a burly man staring at us from a doorway.

"He ran across the street and stuck his head in the taxi and started yelling at us in Russian. We had a sick feeling. It was like a scene out of one of our whodunit movies."

TAKEN TO HQ

Defore said the official, a Czech with the secret police, forced the driver to take the Defores to headquarters, where they were questioned by Russian officers.

"There was much telephoning, and the Czech insisted that we be kept there," said the actor. "Evidently we were accused of photographing military things. This was at a time when the Aug. 20th anniversary of the Russian invasion was nearing, and everyone was walking around on eggshells."

* * *

Finally Mrs. Defore offered a solution: "Tell them to keep the film." That seemed to placate the Russians, who were impressed by the Moscow stamps on the Defores' passports.

U.S. Civilian Cut Due in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. government is completing studies that will lead to a cutback of about 10 per cent in the number of American civilians working in South Vietnam, officials said yesterday.

By next June 30, spokesmen said, the 2,265 so-called "direct-hire civilian personnel" in the country will be cut by about 226.

*

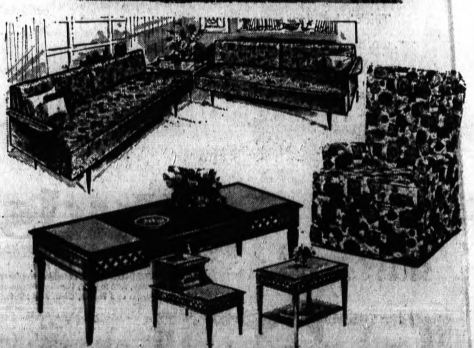

Affected will be some of the 1,975 Americans who work for the U.S. aid program, 160 who work for the U.S. Embassy, and 130 who work in public-affairs job such as press relations.

U.S. officials said enough Vietnamese have been trained to take over the jobs involved, which touch almost every aspect of civilian life in South Vietnam. U.S. technicians and advisers help Vietnamese in everything from garbage collecting to planting rice and dealing with the press.

'OVERLOADED'

Some observers feel that the U.S. civilian effort here is overloaded, and some South Vietnamese think the Americans weaken their self-reliance by doing too much for them. On the other hand, U.S. officials have helped the Vietnamese make strides in improving such things as public services, schooling and agriculture.

Advances Lead Declines

Early Market Returns Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed in moderate trading early today, with the Dow Jones industrial average at 10:30 a.m. off 0.99 at 832.70.

Advances, however, held a thin lead over declines.

Early blocks included:

Potomac Electric Power, 25,400 shares at 14½, off ¼; Chris-Craft Industries, 12,600 shares at 12½, unchanged; American Telephone & Telegraph, 6,500 shares at 53, off ⅛; Litton Industries, 6,100 shares at 45, up ½, and International Paper, 5,000 shares at 39⅝, off ½.

Opening prices included:

Natomas, up 3¼ at 104 on 11,100 shares; Sperry Rand, off ⅜ at 42 ⅞ on 10,200 shares; City Investing, up ⅛ at 27¼ on 9,800 shares; American Bakeries Co., off ⅛ at 14½ on 8,200 shares, and General Instrument, up ⅛ at 38¾.

RALLY EXTENDED

The market extended its latest rally through another session Tuesday, although the advance was blunted a bit by some late profit-taking. Volume on the New York Stock Exchange hit its best level since the first of the month.

* * *

The Dow Jones industrial average Tuesday closed up 6.01 at 833.69. The Associated Press 60-stock average gained 1.8 to close at 293.1.
