Arabs Alerted for Israeli Attack Upon Jordan

6 Die as Winds Rip Down Buildings

Tornadoes Lash Southeast

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Deadly tornadoes swirled across the Carolinas and Virginia last night after hitting three other Southern states earlier.

At least six were killed, all in North Carolina, and more than 150 were injured as business buildings and dwellings were torn to shreds.

Stormy weather, caused by the clashing of a cold front with warm Southern air, lashed other areas of the South with damaging winds, torrential rains and hail.

Four members of two farm families living across the road from each other died in their homes as a twister hit the Highsmith Farms section southeast of Roseboro, N. C.

A Raleigh, N. C., couple was killed when their car crashed headon into a truck near Raeford, N. C., during the peak of a wind and rainstorm on the edge of the tornado area.

Hospital facilities in parts of the stricken area were flooded as injured were brought in by ambulances, private cars and trucks.

All available rescue facilities were mobilized in the Carolinas but injured from isolated areas straggled in hours after the twisters hit. Communication and power lines were torn down, trees uprooted and buildings demolished.

DAMAGE IN MILLIONS

No immediate estimate of damage was available, but it obviously ran into the millions.

The first South Carolina community was hit shortly after 6 p.m., and the storm harried North Carolina until after 9 p.m.

A tornado struck the Norfolk area about 5:20 p.m., ripping roofs from buildings and tearing down wires. Norfolk was partially without power for an hour.

The twisters banged into northern Mississippi before dawn yesterday and wrecked more than $100,000 worth of property before

Budget Given Tentative OK by Supervisors

County Board to Study Plan Before Acting at Monday Meeting

Oakland County Board of Supervisors this morning accepted a tentative $10,700,920 budget for study purposes, and scheduled further action on it.

Monday the board is expected to approve the budget, for tax allocation purposes.

Supervisor Delos Hamlin of Farmington was re-elected to his second one-year term as board chairman. Hiland M. Thatcher of West Bloomfield Township was re-elected chairman pro tem, according to the board's tradition that officers serve or two years.

The board approved $3,278 for the salary of a new juvenile court employe for the rest of the year. The new worker will be hired mainly to seek boarding homes for wards of the court and relieve crowding at the County Children's Home.

Supervisors voted that county health department officials and members of the supervisors health committee will act as an advisory board to review complaints concerning septic tank applications. The final decision, however, will remain with the county health department.

BUDGET TRIMMED

The budget was trimmed $10,000 at the last moment, according to Fred W. Smith of Royal Oak, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. The cut was taken out of the juvenile maintenance fund.

Higher operating costs and the addition of new employes account for the increase in the new budget, said Robert W. Moore, county auditor.

He pointed out that the cost to operate the county's 22 departments is up $231,000 this year. However, he added, this increase is only half as great as it was last year.

There is provision, he said, for 74 new county employes. This figure was reached after trimming departmental requests for a total of 104 new workers.

Britain's Longest Trial Ends

Dr. Adams Acquitted

LONDON (INS)—Dr. John Bodkin Adams, chubby society doctor who likes sweets and old silver, was acquitted in only 44 minutes today in Britain's longest murder trail.

The clock struck noon when Adams stood to hear the verdict that he was "not guilty." He was accused of murdering 81-year-old widow Mrs. Edith Morrell with overdoses of narcotics in order to get a chest of Georgian silver and a Rolls-Royce car from her will.

The 58-year-old Adams sobbed in his cell a few moments later. His recovery from the tension of the trial that began 17 days ago took 30 minutes.

Then he dined heartily on a meal of chops followed by jelly for dessert.

Thousands of spectators gathered outside famous Old Bailey courtroom in London when Adams entered a car whose windows were masked with brown paper and fled from the scene of his long ordeal.

The crown announced it was dropping another murder charge against him. It is likely that 16 lesser charges also will be abandoned.

The jury of 10 men and two women was handed the case at 11:16 a. m. (6:16 a. m. EST) by Justice Sir Patrick Devlin who observed that the defense, under the brilliant Geoffrey Lawrence, had a "manifestly strong" case.

DR. ADAMS

Jury members had listened to conflicting medical testimony on the use of drugs and to defense and prosecution speeches for 16 days — three more than the previous record set in a Liverpool case.

Forty-four minutes after receiving the case, the jury returned. An usher gave a single tap followed by a double tap on the judge's door as a signal, and red-robed Sir Patrick re-entered the court.

Adams, flanked by three prison officers instead of the usual two, was dressed in the familiar blue suit he had worn throughout the trial, with a white shirt and blue-gray tie.

War Warnings Are Circulated by King Saud

Troops May Move In Tomorrow, According to Secret Data

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

CAIRO — Most of this part of the tense Arab world was reported in a state of partial military alert following warnings that Israel is about to attack Jordan.

Highly reliable diplomatic sources disclosed that King Saud of Saudi Arabia obtained secret information a few days ago that an Israeli attack was being planned, possibly for April 10—tomorrow.

These sources said Saud passed the information on to the other members of the Arab big-four — Egypt, Syria and Jordan.

Egypt reportedly called up some reserves and canceled military leaves as she re-opened the Suez Canal for big ships.

The prime question for diplomats in Cairo at the moment centered on the report of an "imminent" Israeli assault against Jordan, but there were other questions of almost equal immediacy:

—If not in Jordan, will the Israelis precipitate a fresh Middle East crisis by trying to force a test ship through the canal?

—Who will pay for the $20,000,000 canal clearance job completed last night after 97 days of sweat, work and frustration?

—Who will use the waterway paying Egypt hard cash on the barrelhead now that it is clear for all but the very largest ships?

On the Israel-Jordan question, reports persisted in Arab diplomatic quarters that Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion was ready to force a showdown once and for all with his Arab adversaries by smashing Jordan, whose king and foster son are in the midst of a bitter East-West political squabble.

Responsible Arabs interpreted Israel's protest in the U. N. Security Council about 19 alleged incidents in the Gaza Strip as confirming evidence of Tel Aviv's belligerent mood.

On his side, President Gamel Abdel Nasser was reiterating that Egypt would never relax its "right of belligerency" against Israel and thus keep it from using the Suez Canal until there is a settlement of the Arab refugee problem.

Cairo editorials warned the Israelis would be forcibly kept out of the canal if they try to run a test ship through the waterway which was open to ships of up to 30-foot draft for the first time since it was blocked by the November war 159 days ago.

New GOP Legislators Ask Evaluation of Party

Freshmen Republican legislators in Lansing today hauled their party on the carpet and called for a "concrete" legislative program to win back voters.

The group, including 16 of the 17 newly elected state representatives, stated "an objective evaluation of the state GOP by every Republican is long overdue."

The statement, made in the wake of the most recent victory of Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams and his party, was signed by Reps. Lloyd L. Anderson, of Waterford Township; Donald A. Brown, of Royal Oak and Farrell E. Roberts, of West Bloomfield Township. It continued:

"We believe that there exists a real danger of losing our present (GOP) slim majority in the house of representatives, several seats in the senate and possibly some key congressional districts."

Descriptions that GOP party fortunes hit rock-bottom in the April 1 election and "the only way we can go now is up," the legislators warned, "are only misleading, but may be a false and dangerous kind of optimism."

Calling for "concrete legislative proposals" from Republican committee chairman in the legislature, the 16 Republicans asked the GOP speaker of the House be charged with the responsibility to lead in the formulation of such a program.

The representatives wryly pointed out that since the Democratic sweep of the state's administrative offices, the present speaker of the House remains the highest elected Republican in Michigan government.

"The people of Michigan deserve and expect from the GOP party a positive, constructive program and the leadership capable of carrying it into operation," their statement observed.

"Not only did the GOP fail to influence the independent voters," it continued, "but in most cases totally failed to attract the support of the traditionally Republican voters.

"We are only deceiving ourselves when we keep alive the notion that Michigan is really a Republican state, and that the Democratic bandwagon of the governor enjoys a temporary existence—as though it was a bad dream which will go away if we only give it time."

Stellato Opposes Dues Hike

UAW Upholds Plans Offered by Reuther

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Walter P. Reuther appeared today to be in firm control of the United Auto Workers convention after winning overwhelming approval of everything he has proposed so far.

But the UAW president may encounter some opposition from a minority faction fighting his proposal to increase basic union dues of $2.50 to $3 a month.

The opposition developed last night at an anti-Reuther caucus led by Carl Stellato, president of the 44,000-member Ford Rouge plant local in the Detroit area.

A long-time critic of Reuther, Stellato urged his followers to maneuver for a roll call when the dues question comes up for a vote. But he said that would take 800 of the convention's 3,200 delegates and he wasn't overoptimistic about it.

Stellato said he opposed the dues increase "because none of it is going to the strike fund." He said the UAW's present 23-million-dollar strike fund should be increased to at least 100 millions.

Reuther had everything his own way yesterday.

An estimated 97 per cent of the delegates approved his plan setting up a public review board to act as a watchdog on union ethical practices. The board, made up of seven prominent citizens outside the union, also will share the authority with the convention as the ultimate appeal body for grievances of union members.

The convention accepted almost unanimously the selections of the union's Executive Board. Named on the review board were Msgr. George Higgins, Washington, D. C.; Rabbi Morris Adler, Detroit; Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxman, Washington; Dr. Clark Kerr of the University of California; Dr. Edwin Witte of the University of Wisconsin; and Circuit Judge Wade H. McCree, Detroit.

Reuther said President Eisenhower's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, turned down an invitation to serve on the board because "of the pressure of many other duties." Dr. Eisenhower is president of John Hopkins University.

The seventh member to complete the board will be chosen by the UAW Executive Board from a list to be submitted by the six already named.

Property Value Goes Up in City

Tax Assessment Total Shows Increase Over Last Year's Figures

Property valuations in Pontiac for tax assessment in 1957, total $254,145,600, according to Pontiac City Assessor William R. Ransom. This is an increase of $14,659,324 over last year.

Report of the final figures was released today by Ransom, following completion of work after the annual city board of review sessions.

The assessor's valuations for this year totaled $255,543,350, but the board of review reduced the figures by $1,397,750 after public hearings and study of the rolls.

The final tabulation for this year is broken down as: Real estate, $136,432,400; personal property, $117,713,200.

Light Snow, Cool Again Tomorrow —Keep Hoping!

Pontiac residents who eagerly scan the weather outlook, anticipating long awaited "fair and warmer" predictions will be somewhat disappointed tonight.

The weather man has forecast continued cool with light snow likely this afternoon or evening and a few scattered snow flurries late tonight, low 26 to 30.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy with a high near 44.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 24. At 2 p.m. the mercury read 42.

Bans Overtime for Chrysler

UAW Issues Decree Pending Settlement of California Dispute

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) —The United Auto Workers Union yesterday ordered its Chrysler Corp. members to stop working overtime effective with the early shift today.

Norman Matthews, UAW vice president and head of the Union's Chrysler Dept., said the order was issued pending settlement of disputes over productions standards.

The ban follows a telegram yesterday by Matthews to local 230 at Los Angeles giving "fullest support and endorsement" to the California local's strike, now more than three weeks old.

In the telegram, Matthews accused Chrysler of using what he said were "vicious speedup tactics" at the company's Los Angeles assembly plant.

He said Chrysler is currently indulging in a "mad race with the other corporations in the auto industry to build even higher their already exorbitant profits."

"This corporation has exhibited a ruthless disregard for the health, safety and well-being of its workers, and it is necessary for all UAW locals to present a united front to these inhuman speedup tactics."

Later Matthews said the union was prepared to close the Dodge forge plant in Detroit. Such a move would affect about 100,000 Chrysler workers in the Detroit area.

James Vernor Jr. Dies in New York

He had gone to New York last month on a combined business-pleasure trip with his wife, and had been in the hospital since March 21.

The nature of his illness and cause of death were not immediately revealed.

Closing Plans Come to Area Post Offices

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield's economy order to close post offices on Saturday and Sunday includes area offices in Auburn Heights, Drayton Plains, Keego Harbor, Orchard Lake, Lake Orion, Oxford, Leonard, Rochester and Walled Lake as well as Pontiac.

Aside from the Saturday and Sunday ruling, other cuts which will affect area post offices are: No third class mail except certain medical items, and no money orders sold, as of April 29; postal windows open only 8½ hours daily, as of April 15.

Being a third class post office, the Leonard branch will not be affected by the third class, window service and money order cutbacks.

Senators Probe Eastern Payoffs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee dug deeper today into what Sen. Mundt (R-SD) called "crooked, under-the-table payoffs" to labor union officials and others in the New York City area.

Mundt, a committee member, told a reporter public hearings expected next month will show that "thousands of workmen" and the buyers of homes in two Long Island housing developments "all were gypped" by a sort of chain reaction in corruption.

Mundt's statements came on the heels of a vote by the committee ordering a start of contempt proceedings against Nunzio J. Squillante, a former garbage collection operator on Long Island.

Squillante, refusing to turn over subpoenaed financial records, declined yesterday to tell the committee anything but his name and address.

He invoked the Fifth Amendment on all other questions but refused to tell whether he honestly believed that answers might tend to incriminate him.

The committee called this "frivolous" use of the Fifth Amendment's protection against self-incrimination.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) withheld details of matters about which Squillante was questioned, except to say they involved labor-management relations of some sort.

Ike Names Willis as Envoy to Norway

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today nominated Miss Frances E. Willis, now ambassador to Switzerland, to be ambassador to Norway.

Miss Willis, a career diplomat and this country's only woman ambassador at present, would succeed L. Corrin Strong, who has resigned. The nomination is subject to Senate confirmation.

Miss Willis, who will be 58 May 20, entered the Foreign Service in 1927. She is a native of Metropolis, Ill., and her legal residence at present is Redlands, Calif.

In 1951 she served as counselor at the U. S. Legation in Helsinki, Finland. She was appointed ambassador to Switzerland in 1953. She is now in the United States.

MEMO TO CAESAR

A Betrayer Is Unmasked

(Another in a Lenten Series)

On the following day, Junius reported to Pilate regarding what took place at the supper attended by Jesus and his twelve apostles. . .

The group had no sooner seated themselves at the table than the Nazarene raised his hand for the rest of them to cease their babbling. He said he had been very eager to eat this feast with them because it was the last time they would all eat together.

From his words, it seemed he felt a period of persecution and suffering was ahead for him. And indeed, from the temper of the crowds these past few days and from the plotting of Judas, I do not see how there can be anything in store but grave trouble.

"Get on with the facts and omit your opinions," Pilate said sharply.

Junius said that Jesus told the apostles he would not eat or drink again until the Kingdom of God should come.

He blessed a goblet of wine and passed it among the twelve, refusing to drink any himself.

He broke bread and explained, as best I could learn, that it was a symbol of how his body would be broken. Then after supper he passed the goblet again saying it was a new testament in his blood which would be shed for them.

And at this point he paused and announced calmly that the hand of the man who was betraying him was on the table!

As you can imagine, this threw the apostles into great consternation.

They all began to ask who it was.

For answer, the Nazarene handed a bit of food to Judas and said quietly, "That thou doest, do quickly."

Pilate nodded slowly. "The man knows more about all this than we do who have been watching him. He knows his end is near and he knows his own apostle is betraying him."

The governor paused and walked to the window. Without looking back at Junius he said, "Somehow I have a terrible feeling. I would hate to be this Judas Iscariot. . . ."

Ann Arbor Council Sets Up Bus Plan

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Buses may be running in this Southeast Michigan city again by Thursday or Friday.

The city council in a special meeting last night authorized a company of 12 local men to go ahead with plans to set up bus service in this university city of 48,251 persons.

Ann Arbor was left without city buses when Greyhound Corp. shut down service over the weekend. The firm said it was losing money.

Under the plan approved by the council the company, the Ann Arbor Transit Co., would buy buses. The city would lease the buses from the firm and engage the firm to operate the buses for the city.

Spokesmen for the new company said they hoped to be in operation with 12 buses Thursday or Friday.

The maximum fare would be 25 cents. Greyhound Corp. charged 20 cents.

Taxicabs cruised the bus routes yesterday, picking up riders on a share-the-ride basis. Officials of the cab companies said, however, there were few takers. They said they believed most people got to work and home again in a car pool.

Open Hearings on Seaway Bill

Proposed Law Would Up Borrowing Power of Authority

Public Works Committee of the House of Representatives began hearings today on a bill sponsored by committee member William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) which would increase the borrowing power of the St. Lawrence Seaway project.

Under study is a bill to boost the borrowing authority from $105 million to $140 million for construction of the U. S. part of the 27-foot deep international waterway.

According to Broomfield, his bill comprises three amendments —to hike the borrowing power, to defer payment of interest and to give the Seaway Authority more powers to institute certain services and establish charges for them.

Broomfield said the proposed legislation would not cost the taxpayers any additional money.

Reason for the requested increase is a boost in labor and material costs, and extensive dredging work not originally contemplated, he added.

pital, which has been leased to the City of Pontiac during construction of the Pontiac General Hospital addition.

However, Moore said, $50,000 has been budgeted to pay for contagious patients that may be cared for by the city.

The county's five other institutions showed big budget increases, Moore said. Camp Oakland is allotted $27,000 more than last year. The County Convalescent Hospital is up $38,000, the Children's Home is boosted by $29,000, the Sheriff's Department $43,000, and the Tuberculosis Sanatorium, $25,000.

OTHER INCREASES

Other increases, Moore said, are $88,000 for operation of the County Health Department, $116,000 for the county's welfare program; $72,000 for hospitalization of welfare cases; and $21,000 for employe's retirement funds.

In addition, $150,000 more this year will go for county roads, on a matching basis with federal funds. Other boosts are $23,000 more for maintenance of the county's buildings, and $110,000 more for two new boilers at the TB Sanatorium.

The county has budgeted $50,000 for a new 12-foot well in the county service center area off Telegraph Road.

This year the allotment to the Huron-Clinton Park Authority has been increased by $62,000, reflecting an increase in the county's assessed valuation, and an additional $130,000 is for care of Oakland County children in state institutions.

This last increase figure is due to the state's program of providing more child care, Moore said.

A big question as far as income is concerned, Moore added, is $40,000 anticipated revenue from justice courts. This revenue recently has been challenged by the state attorney general.

moving eastward into Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas.

More than 70 persons were injured at Falkville, Ala., and the storms also hit Hamilton, Winfield and Grayson, Ala. Five were hurt at Hamilton.

WIND, RAIN, HAIL

A tornado cut a zig-zag path through a mountain farm area between Calhoun and Fairmont in northwest Georgia. Five were hurt and houses and textile buildings seriously damaged. Windstorms, rain and hail also lashed south Georgia, injuring at least two persons in Telfair County. Crop damage was feared heavy.

The roaring funnel marched down the main street, damaging 23 of the 25 buildings, most badly. Only a few were hurt there.

The twisters hit Wallace, S.C., a village between Chesterfield and Cheraw, both of which suffered damage from side winds. The Wallace station blew onto the New York-Miami main line of the Seaboard Airline Railroad, temporarily blocking the tracks, but they were quickly cleared.

Disaster forces rushed into the stricken communities. The Red Cross sent disaster specialists, the Civil Air Patrol and Air Force emergency power and communication equipment.

PREVENT LOOTING

In the northern storm zone, snow fell from the upper Ohio Valley and lower Great Lakes region across southern New York state, with snow and sleet in New England.

Snow fell in most sections of western Pennsylvania during the night, with heaviest falls near Lake Erie. Nearly a foot and a half of fresh snow was indicated.

Deep snow also was reported in north central and northeast Ohio, southeastern Michigan and sections of New York state.

However, only snow flurries were forecast in the North Atlantic Coast and the northern Great Lakes region during the day.

Waterford Ponders New Money Source

Waterford Township's retiring board last night held its final meeting amid dire predictions for the police department's future.

Former acting supervisor Louis G. Barry believed the biggest question facing the incoming board is how to finance the 15-man department the rest of the year.

At present, he pointed out, there is a $76,000 surplus in the budget that could be used as a temporary solution.

Funds that once supported the $100,000-a-year department, Barry said, now appear to be eliminated.

TRAFFIC TICKETS

This was income from traffic tickets, which has been virtually halted as a result of official opinions the township was reaping profits illegally from police business.

The question figured as an issue in the recent election, which saw the township's incumbent slate of Republican officers swept out by Democratic candidates.

In a monthly report submitted by Police Chief Frank A. Van Atta, there were 403 summons issued in March, 75 arrests, 788 calls answered and 65 auto accidents.

Final action of the board was to send a request to the Farmington Interceptor District Committee, for membership in the district for sewer service.

The committee is expected to decide on a new designated boundary line if the township is to be readmitted.

The new Birchcrest Subdivision water system was given township approval. It already had been approved by the State Health Department.

The newly elected Democratic slate of township officers are scheduled to be certified for office at 3 p.m. tomorrow.

Elmer Johnson, new supervisor, has announced that there will be a special meeting of the new Waterford Township board, at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The purpose of the meeting is to approve the 1957-58 budget, according to newly elected township clerk, James E. Seeterlin.

Urges Canceling Truck Permits

Examiner Would Halt Boycott by Teamsters on 'Hot Cargo'

WASHINGTON (AP)—An examiner recommended today that the Interstate Commerce Commission move to cancel operating permits of truck lines refusing to handle freight labeled "hot cargo" by the teamsters' union.

A "hot cargo" clause is incorporated in most teamsters' union labor contracts. Under such clauses, employers agreed their workers may refuse to handle goods held by the union to be "unfair" or "hot."

Unions use these terms to describe goods coming from establishments involved in a labor controversy.

Today's finding by Examiner Frank R. Saltzman, if upheld by the ICC, means that employers refusing to accept "hot cargo" shipments could lose their federal permits to carry freight on the highways.

The case coming before the examiner involved a complaint by the Galveston Truck Lines, Houston, Tex., against a group of Southwest area trucklines. The lines had refused in mid-1955 to handle shipments from Galveston Lines, originating in Texas, for relay at Oklahoma City to other sections of the country.

Examiner Saltzman said truckers cannot bargain away to a third party their obligations to the public to accept freight shipments.

Bell Repairs Lines Fouled by Water

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. repairmen labored seven hours today to repair trunkline damage that cut telephone service off to Waterford Township and Clarkston residents from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Lines servicing the area were waterlogged, according to district manager Ray Storm.

Almost all regular service, he said, was resumed after 2 p.m.

Area Nurse Gets Grant to Study Alcoholism

Frances Curtin, a staff nurse for the Birmingham Board of Education, was named by the State Board of Alcoholism yesterday to receive a $250 grant to finance studies at the Yale Summer School of Alcohol Studies.

U.S. Military Man Told to Quit Hungary

BUDAPEST (AP) — Communist Hungary today accused Capt. Thomas R. Gleason, assistant U. S. military attache, of "open espionage" and gave him 48 hours to leave the country.

A spokesman for the U. S. legation said that the charges against Gleason do not constitute espionage under international custom and usage, and were "largely inaccurate."

Gleason, of Urbana, Ill., and Col. James C. Todd, U. S. military attache of Tulsa, Okla., were stopped on a Hungarian country road last Wednesday and questioned for more than five hours. They were accused of photographing a Russian-occupied barracks.

Gleason had no comment today, but previously both he and Todd denied they were taking pictures of the barracks.

Waterford Hunting Ban Goes to Senate

A bill calling for a vote in Waterford Township on whether residents want hunting banned there has passed the state house of representatives, and advanced to the senate.

Sponsored by Rep. Lloyd Anderson, the measure received 91-4 passage yesterday.

Similar bills submitted for the past four years have been turned down, according to Anderson.

Women Prefer Candy

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Seldon D. Bacon, director of the Yale Center of Alcohol Studies, told a symposium on alcoholism that women are less liable to drink than men because of social problems. "Women," he said, "are more likely to take out their unhappiness in chocolates and food. They'd rather get fat than drunk."

DELOS HAMLIN

Re-elected chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors today was Delos Hamlin of Farmington. He will serve a second one-year term. Also re-elected was Hiland M. Thatcher, of West Bloomfield Township, who will serve another term as chairman pro tem.

Soble Judged Mentally Able

Soble underwent extensive psychiatric examination at Bellevue Hospital after he suffered an apparent collapse in his Bronx Jail cell Feb. 18. At the time he had been reported as acting "peculiarly."

On April 1, Federal Judge Richard H. Levet reserved decision on Soble's ability to stand trial. Since then the judge read a detailed report submitted by psychiatrists who examined Soble in Bellevue Hospital from Feb. 18 to March 29.

Soble, his wife, Myra, 52, and Jacob Albam, 64, stood silently in court today as Judge Levet announced:

"I have examined the report of the psychiatrists dated March 29 and I find that, pursuant to a section of the U.S. Code, Soble is mentally competent to stand trial."

Soble now is in the Federal House of Detention.

U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams suggested that the trial of the three be set for May 15, "because the government would not like to get into the summer with this."

Paris Throng Cheers Queen

Elizabeth and Prince Make Appearance on Opera House Balcony

PARIS (AP)—An excited, cheering throng jammed the vast Place de l'Opera until the early hours today to greet Queen Elizabeth of Britain.

Thousands shoved and tussled for vantage points. Many scrambled on top of chairs and tables in nearby sidewalk cafes. Scores were nearly trampled.

A mighty cheer went up when Elizabeth and her husband Prince Philip appeared briefly on the balcony of the opera house after a gala performance in the British monarch's honor.

Elizabeth, resplendent in a diamond and emerald tiara and a ball gown of ivory satin embroidered with gold and silver, waved to the crowd. The crowd waved back and shouted: "Vive la reine."

The exchange made up for a slip up nine years ago when Elizabeth, then princess, and her husband first visited Paris together and attended the opera. At that time they failed to appear on the balcony to salute the people and there were some boos from a disappointed crowd.

Elizabeth and Philip arrived yesterday for a four-day state visit, the first by a reigning British sovereign since George VI, the Queen's father, was here in 1938.

Earlier last night Elizabeth and Philip were guests at a state dinner attended by President Rene Coty, Premier Guy Mollet, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and top diplomats.

News Flashes

ALGIERS (AP) — Air France officials said today 34 persons died in the flaming crash of a Commercial transport last night at Biskara in northeast Algeria. The victims were 5 crew members and 18 Moslem and 11 European passengers. There were no survivors.

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — Lt. William D. Conroy today was sentenced to a dishonorable dismissal from the Marine Corps by a seven-man general court-martial.

Conroy pleaded guilty to charges of conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman. The charge stemmed from an assault March 13 on Pvt. David L. Porter. The court deliberated for 50 minutes before passing sentence.

War Hero Held in Lansing

Accused of Slaying Rival

LANSING (INS) — A decorated Korean War veteran was to be arraigned in Lansing Municipal Court today for the rifle slaying of ex-fiancee's escort.

Prosecutor Jack Warren prepared a first-degree murder warrant against Donald McMann, 38, of Holt, who was presented the Silver Star for valor at Korea's "Porkchop Hill."

He was accused of slaying 24-year-old Benjamin Bennett, a Mason auto worker. Bennett was escorting 17-year-old Carol Silky home from a Sunday night movie date when the ex-GI allegedly fired on them with a .30 caliber deer rifle.

Miss Silky's right arm was shattered by one of the slugs. Physicians were fighting to save the arm.

Police said McMann admitted following the couple from a theater and a restaurant then taking a short cut to get ahead of them where he set up an ambush.

McMann insisted: "Honestly, I didn't intend to hit them. I just wanted to frighten them."

McMann, an automatic rifleman with the 32nd Infantry in Korea, was decorated "for leaving his bunker under artillery, mortar and small arms fire to kill at least 10 Chinese soldiers."

The Day in Birmingham

William Roberts Chosen as Mayor by Commission

BIRMINGHAM — William Roberts was named Mayor of Birmingham by his fellow commissioners last night, with Carl Igraham elected as mayor pro-tem.

Roberts, 33, is the youngest mayor in the city's history. He has been on the commission since 1954 and is associated with a local insurance agency. In 1952 he was selected by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for their "Young Man of the Year" honors.

Commissioners last night reappointed Luther Heacock, David Levinson, Mrs. Hope F. Lewis and Harold K. Schone to represent the city on the County Board of Supervisors.

Another appointment approved by commissioners is that of Lt. DeLyle Service as Deputy Court Clerk. Service was recommended by city manager Harold K. Schone in order that someone would be present to certify signatures of arresting officers on traffic violations tickets in contested cases.

"By doing this," Schone said, "it will eliminate calling an officer back for the court session on his day off."

Mrs. Grant (Della) Sezier

A resident of Franklin Mrs. Sezier, 44, died yesterday at her home, 27201 Garden Way, after a long illness. Born in Michigan she taught school in Alcona county for three years. She was a member of the Franklin Community Church.

Survivors are her husband, a daughter Pamela, a sister and three brothers.

Her body will be taken from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. at noon tomorrow for 2 p.m. services at the Franklin Church. Burial will be in Franklin Cemetery.

County OKs Bid for Road Funds

Joins State in Approval of $25 Million in Bonds for Northwestern

Oakland County today joined the state in approving a bid for $25,000,000 in bonds for the proposed Northwestern highway extension, at a low interest rate that represents a saving of thousands of dollars, the Board of Supervisors believed.

The bid was awarded at 3.1427 per cent, unexpectedly below the ceiling of 4 per cent set after bonds went begging last December at 3.5 per cent.

More favorable market conditions were credited by State Highway Department representatives.

The county's share in the total $39,000,000 cost will be $1,800,000, or five per cent, pledged at a rate of $90,000 annually for the next 20 years.

State and federal funds will pay for the rest of the project, designed to extend the road 35 miles across the western part of the county from Eight Mile road to US 23 near Fenton in Livingston County.

As a limited access, four-lane highway, the road is expected to relieve heavy Flint-Detroit traffic on US 10.

In Detroit, it will connect with the John C. Lodge Expressway and at US 23 with the Fenton-Clio Expressway north to Flint.

Republicans Plead for 'Bold' Program

LANSING (AP) — Seventeen freshman Republican House members banded together today in a plea for a "bold, aggressive" Republican Party program with Speaker George M. VanPeursem as its leader and chief spokesman.

The group outlined its aims to newsmen at a session in the speaker's office and handed them a resolution to be distributed to all Republican organizations and county chairmen in the state.

The resolution said that "a candid, objective evaluation of the Republican Party in Michigan—by every Republican — is long overdue."

It went on to say unless bold action is taken "there exists a real danger of losing our present slim majority in the Michigan House of Representatives, several seats in the Senate and possibly some key congressional districts."

The Republican freshmen said that the spring election returns showed that the Republican Party not only failed to influence the independent voter but in most cases to attract the support of traditional Republicans.

Detroit-Chicago Highway Advocated by Mackie

LANSING (INS) — Newly elected State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie disclosed today a Detroit to Chicago superhighway will have top priority in Michigan's roadbuilding plans.

Mackie said that equally high on the program are four-lane roads linking Detroit and Muskegon via US-16 and Coldwater and the Straits of Mackinac via US-27.

The former Genesee County road builder outlined his plans during a brief visit to Lansing, his first since the Democrats' sweeping election victories April 1.

last November entered the waterway at Port Said today—the first day the cleared channel was opened to ships of up to 20,000 tons.

One was the 19,418-ton Belgian tanker Elizabeth, the other the 20,776-ton Italian Fina Canada. They were bound for Middle East ports to pick up oil. Four other smaller ships were in the south-bound convoy.

The first passenger vessel to use the canal since the British-French-Israeli invasion was due at Port Said later today to begin the 103-mile trip south to Suez. The ship is the 12,839-ton Italian liner Oceania, headed for Australia with 903 passengers.

Man Against the Weather

Even Ike Leans on Forecaster's Findings

(It's a far cry from the day when man tried to predict the weather by wetting his finger and holding it up to see which way the wind was blowing. Forecasts are becoming more accurate every day, thanks to electronics. How a forecast is made is told in this first of a series of four articles on today's efforts to outguess the weather).

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — A weather problem involving the President of the United States was on Jim Hunter's mind when he rolled up his sleeves, grabbed a red pencil, and started looking at a big weather map.

Jim is a forecaster at the U.S. Weather Bureau's district office at the Washington National Airport.

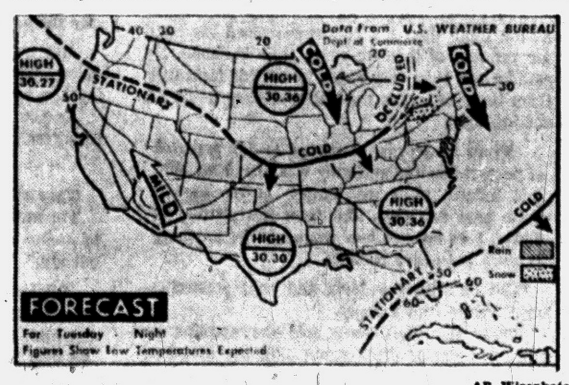

That's the office responsible for forecasting weather for an area extending from West Virginia into Connecticut, and including the nation's capital. Its work typifies how weather men in district offices all over the country go about their daily operations.

It was 7:45 a.m. By 10, Hunter would have to prepare a new forecast for the 36-hour period beginning at noon, based on information he now had available on the map before him.

DUE TO ARRIVE

President Eisenhower was due to arrive at the Washington airport in mid-afternoon from Georgia. The weather outlook Hunter had prepared 24 hours earlier had called for rain mixed with snow, beginning around nightfall.

If that forecast held up, it would be okay for President Eisenhower's mid-afternoon arrival, because the dirtiest weather would still be several hours off.

AP Wirephoto

WEATHER FORECAST — Snow flurries are expected tonight in New York state, south and east of Lake Ontario with fair to cloudy skies for the rest of the nation, except for cloudy weather over western Texas and Montana.

Upper air data from all over the world, gleaned from radio-equipped balloons launched from land stations or ships at sea . . . charts prepared from this data every 12 hours, and every six hours from selected stations in North America . . . Periodic reports from aircraft, now from the Azores, now from Attu . . .

ALL OVER NATION

Surface weather reports to and from bureau offices all over the country, linked by 100,000 miles of telegraph lines . . . reports from radar and "electronic brain" computers . . . weather forecasts to the public every six hours, and other special forecasts for industries, fruit growers, farmers . .

A total of 4,000 forecasts are made each day by weather bureau offices all over the country — with about 85 per cent accuracy on forecasts limited to 24 to 48 hours.

"When the President lands this afternoon, we shouldn't have any trouble," says Hunter. "I think we'll get him in all right. We can expect ceilings to hold around 1,000 feet, with visibility about three miles."

FORECAST READY

By 9:45, Hunter has the forecast ready, and a few minutes after 10, it has been transmitted to radio and TV station and newspapers.

Hunter breathed easy again. He went back to other work, but around noontime, he looked out the window and said to the reporter:

"Sometimes you get a little discouraged. The way I figured it, it ought to be raining a little bit right now — but it isn't!"

"You can't win 'em all," I told him as I left.

When I got outside the building, I felt mist on my face — and by the time I got back to my office, the rain was coming down hard.

P.S.: It began snowing around 6 o'clock — several hours after Ike had returned safely to the White House.

Bob Considine Says:

Clare Boothe Luce Built Success on Failures

NEW YORK (INS) — People . . . Places . . . Things . . .

Clare Boothe Luce says, "I fail generally the first time I try something.

"I was made a columnist in 1934. They sent me to Europe to write gay, frothy, international set stuff, and I wrote that world war was coming. They wanted chit-chat and I gave them Cassandra. So they fired me. My first play 'Abide with Me' was a catastrophe.

"I tried out once for the Olympic diving team — and sprained my back on the first dive. Another time, I was talked into believing I could figure-skate in front of a large crowd. On the first spin I lost my petticoat."

Bob and Ray, who are bringing back radio, once had a skit in which Bob (or was it Ray?) was interviewing a man of medicine who also had achieved great wealth and reputation in the business world.

Before the interview was far under way, Ray (Bob?) said, "Excuse me, doctor, but I can't help staring at your trousers. I've never seen any like that. They have no cuffs, and the goods goes right down under your feet or shoes.

"But now to get on with the interview. What did you say your name is?"

"Dr. Denton," the man said crisply.

Well, sir, we had a talk the other day with Dr. Joseph D'Antoni, former professor of internal medicine and tropical diseases at Tulane University. He is president of the Standard Fruit and Steamship Company of New Orleans.

TOP IMPORTER

Next to the legendary United Fruit, Standard imports more bananas into the U.S. than any other firm. It will bring in about 10,000,000 bunches this year. We asked him how he bridged the deep chasm between Hippocrates and Commerce.

"Came down with a lung hemorrhage in '52 and they told me I'd have to be away from my practice and my teaching for a year," he said. "Just then my brother Blaise had a nervous breakdown. He was president of the company our grandfather had founded, and best suited to run it.

"We thought of selling it, but my mother said no. She said that if we sold it to strangers they wouldn't take proper care of the people who had been with us for a long time.

"She said that I should run it. I said I'd do it if I had no interference from her or anybody else. I also told her she was taking an awful chance."

DRAWS PARALLEL

"There's no great difference between medicine and business," Dr. D'Antoni said.

"In medicine when confronted by a problem in the form of a patient, one takes X Rays, taps here and there, gets the history of the complaint, takes specimens, puts all the facts together and gropes for the cure. In business the same procedure holds."

"If in medicine we had as little knowledge of why things happen as banana-growers have of why a bunch of bananas grows, we still wouldn't have the stethoscope," the doctor says.

Dr. D'Antoni, master of a great fleet, custodian of 330 miles of railroad, director of company hospitals and mobile clinics in Honduras, Guatemala, Ecuador and Costa Rica, student now of "Panama disease," the villainous boll-weevil of bananas, means to find out. Don't bet he won't.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Biological chemistry professor G. Robert Greenberg of the University of Michigan has been named the 1957 recipient of the Paul-Lewis Award for his work in enzyme chemistry. He was to receive a gold medal and $1,000 today at Miami from the American Chemical Society.

X-Ray Shows Couple Losing Bet With Stork

FREEPORT, N.Y. (AP)—An X-ray shows that a Long Island couple apparently has lost a $25,000 gamble with the stork and Lloyds of London.

Jean and David Blechman "bet" Lloyds $1,875 to $25,000 that they would have their third consecutive set of twins in June. But an X-ray indicated yesterday that the 29-year-old mother will give birth to a single child.

Blechman, 33, a pharmaceutical salesman, and friends and relatives raised the $1,875 for the multiple-birth insurance policy from Lloyds.

2 Universities to Benefit

DETROIT (AP) — The University of Michigan and the University of Detroit are among 27 institutions which will share in grants of $493,230 from the Fund for the Advancement of Education. The grants are designed to improve the efficiency of teaching programs.

Here's what makes it a new kind of Ford

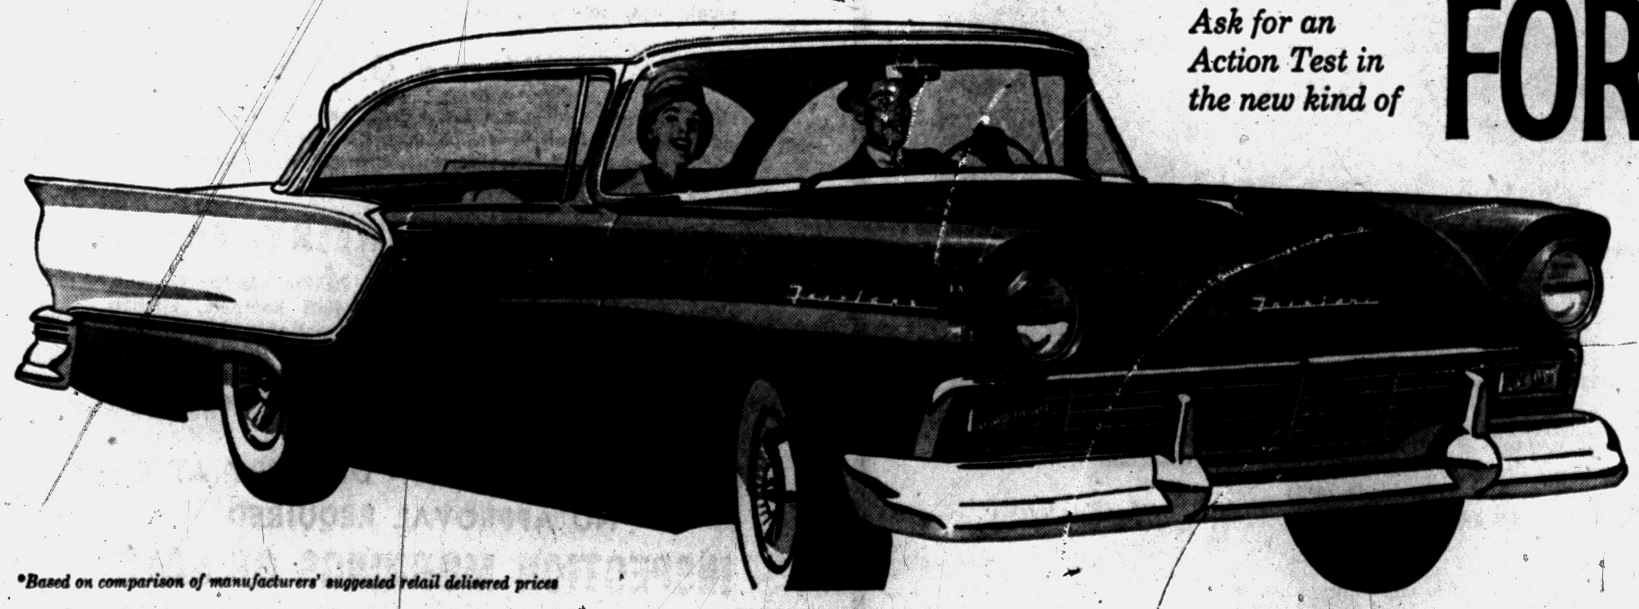

The frame is wider
(The widest and strongest in any low-priced car)
On even the roughest roads, you'll discover "the carpet is out." Partly, it's because the frame is sturdier. Partly, it's the way front and rear suspensions take tilt out of turns. Mostly, it's because there's a whole new smoother-riding, quieter-going "Inner Ford."

The power is bigger
(Most power in Ford's 25 years of V-8 leadership)
And what a V-8 engine! You can have the kind of Thunderbird power that smashed records at Daytona . . . set a new stock car mark at Indianapolis . . . traveled 50,000 miles in just 20 days at Bonneville, Utah!

The comfort is greater
(Lets you ride sweet and low)
You sit in the lap of luxury. There's head room, hip room, leg room galore. And wait till you get a load of those new upholsteries and color schemes.

The body is "beefier"
(Up to 9 inches longer, 4 inches lower, with full head room, full road clearance)
From top to floor, front to rear, this body is built like a "battleship." You ride surrounded by new strength.

West Germans Prepare for Share in NATO Defense

BONN, Germany (AP)—The walls of the new West German armored training school are plastered with the menacing silhouettes of Russian Stalin tanks.

Across the turrets and guns are blazoned the words:

"Don't ever forget this."

The tanks are the type the Red army used to crush the Hungarian revolt. Thousands of them are massed in East Germany and other satellite countries.

NATO naval forces have acquired two squadrons of German minesweepers.

The first 9,733 German draftees were called up this week, boosting West German defense forces to 90,000 men.

The German contribution to Western defense was first proposed in 1950 during the Korean crisis. After years of international squabbling and indecision, the military buildup is finally beginning to show results.

The target, possibly by the end of 1960, is a highly mobile army of 12 divisions, a tactical air force of 1,300 combat jet planes and a small coastal navy.

All will be trained for atomic warfare. The original manpower goal was 500,000. But this may be reduced in line with new thinking on the size of divisions.

When the new German forces were planned, West Germany was prohibited from making the "ABC" weapons — atomic, bacteriological or chemical.

Since then such tactical A-weapons as artillery shells and guided missiles have been developed. Lt. Gen. Adolf Heusinger, chairman of the Bonn Joint Chiefs of Staff, has made it clear that West Germany expects to get these weapons.

For 10 years after the war West Germany was subjected to "anti-militarism re-education." Wearied by two catastrophic defeats in a lifetime, many West Germans still dislike the idea of rearmament. So Parliament insisted on a clean break with the Prussian past.

A new military code for "citizens in uniform' was drawn up. Harsh traditional punishments like solitary confinement with only bread and water were abolished. Conscientious objection to bearing arms was recognized in law for the first time in German history.

High-ranking officers had to pass the tough scrutiny of a special committee set up by Parliament. A training center colonel said:

"Since the war we have been screened, rescreened and screened again—so those of us who passed must be surely fit to go straight to heaven.' "

Many officers and soldiers don't like to wear their uniforms in public. There have been some cases of soldiers being beaten up by rowdy teen-agers.

There is an easy informality between all ranks though the military courtesies are carefully observed. Officers explain rather than bark orders. Noncoms lead, rather than drive. There is no goose-stepping.

The soldier has few kitchen chores. These are done by civilians. Officers may relax over brandies in a canteen with privates and corporals.

The new air force, or Luftwaffe, is developing along U. S. Air Force lines. It is a product of American factories American planning and American training.

When they are in combat gear, you have to look twice to tell the difference between German trainees and their American Air Force instructors. During training the language used is English.

MILITARY FACES — Standing at attention are newly commissioned second lieutenants of the new West Germany Army at an armored training school in Munsterlager. Too young to serve in World War II, these new officers are being trained by veterans of the old Wehrmacht.

Summerfield Startles Capital by Showdown

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Postmaster General Arthur Ellsworth Summerfield, who capitalized on a jovial "soft sell" approach to peddle autos in Michigan, has startled Washington by "getting tough" with Congress on his department's demands for funds.

Since becoming a member of the Eisenhower cabinet in 1953, Summerfield has urged and cajoled Congress in a pleasant way to raise postal rates and put the nation's mail service on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Last week, he got mad when a House appropriations subcommittee cut $30,000,000 from his request for 47 millions to operate in the next three months.

The man who built a Flint, Mich., dealership into one of the world's largest auto agencies forced a showdown with the Congressional economizers, and old hands on Capitol Hill are just about ready to concede he has won his fight.

Summerfield, 58-year-old native of Pinconning, has been dealing in big figures most of his life. He was just 20 when he entered the real estate business. Five years later, he was an oil distributor. And in 1929, he formed the now-famous Summerfield Chevrolet Co. at Flint.

His statewide contacts and reputation as a good business man brought him a 1943 appointment as State Republican finance director. He progressed steadily in GOP circles until, as Republican National Chairman in 1952, he had the satisfaction of seeing Dwight D. Eisenhower elected president.

Summerfield resigned his national post when the President invited him into the new cabinet. But he has never resigned from politics as such.

Since the day he joined the President's official family, he has been in the news with such diverse problems as postal deficits and dog bites.

In both fields, the 5-foot-8-inch, 162-pound Summerfield has, thus far fought a losing battle. Dogs are still biting mailmen and the postal deficit soars to new peaks each year.

But almost everyone gives Summerfield credit for trying — like the true salesman he is.

Biggest Sellers...because they're Biggest Savers!

New Chevrolet trucks stay on the job . . . save on the job!

Ever since way back in 1937 Chevrolet has been America's biggest selling truck. That's pretty strong evidence, we think, that Chevy's been the biggest saver all these years. When truck buyers find a truck that delivers more work per dollar, they stay with it.

They're staying with Chevrolet again this year—because these new Task-Force 57 trucks are the biggest savers on any job. Under their hoods, for instance, you'll find the most advanced and efficient truck engines going. Deep-breathing short-stroke V8's that deliver high horsepower per pound are either standard or optional at extra cost in every model.

All new light-duty models and some medium-duty jobs are powered by the very latest versions of Chevrolet's famous truck 6.

New from Chevrolet! Chevy now offers two new high-capacity Forward Control models, including the industry's biggest, rated up to 18,000 lbs. G.V.W.

Your Chevrolet dealer will show you a model that's practically made to order for your kind of hauling.

Better TB Control Asked in New Bill

A State House bill still in committee would permit court action against patients who leave TB Sanatoriums against medical advice.

A Michigan Tuberculosis Association report says that between 150 and 200 such patients leave sanatoriums each year. The average cost for a cooperative patient is $4,000. But an un-cooperative one may cost the public $30,000.

Dr. W. Leonard Howard, Medical Superintendent of Maybury Sanatorium at Northville, compiled cost figures for the association through study of 182 persons who left his institution in one year against medical advice. The survey showed that an average of $5,000 was spent on un-cooperative patients. But for 23 of them the cost exceeded $10,000 and for two it was over $30,000.

"This was not the complete hospital cost for such patients," said the association, "for all were back in the hospital for another period of treatment."

Under the present law a patient can be reinstated only if he breaks a hospital rule. However, he can walk away without any interference. The new bill would permit "special facilities" to make sure recalcitrant patients stay in a hospital until cured. A court order could be obtained against repeated offenders.

Surely no one having the disease in an active form should be allowed to leave a hospital and spread infection. He not only prolongs his own illness unnecessarily but endangers those with whom he comes in contact, especially his own family.

Premier Janos Kadar Traitor to His People

Reports reaching Washington indicate that Premier Janos Kadar of Hungary is nothing more than a stooge for Soviet Russia.

He has just signed two agreements tightening Moscow's control and while doing so actually thanked Russia for its intervention in Hungary's revolt.

During that brutal period Kadar betrayed the government of Premier Imre Nagy and called in Soviet troops to crush opposition, in violation of international law and Hungary's own alliance pact with Soviet Russia. He now has agreed to the permanent stationing of Russian troops in Hungary to preserve its "freedom and independence."

For this Hungary gets $250 million in grants, loans, deferred payments and cancellation of Soviet "wartime claims" against Hungary. In return Kadar has put his country completely under the Soviet heel.

The hated Hungarian Secret Police (AVH) has been disbanded. In its place, however, is a new Hungarian army of 40,000 officered by former AVH agents, one or two of whom are being assassinated every week.

We can do little for the Hungarian people at the present time beyond sending CARE relief packages and medical supplies through the International Red Cross. Shipping of big food supplies or coal would only strengthen the Kadar government and destroy the effect of current strikes and slowdowns in mines and factories.

Our Military Aid to Asia Should Be Re-examined

Clement D. Johnston, board chairman of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, has filed an interesting report with a special Senate committee studying foreign aid.

After a visit to Indonesia, Burma, Laos, Cambodia, Thailand and Viet Nam, Mr. Johnston believes that military aid to these countries should be curtailed. He is of the opinion that the threat of external Communist aggression is not enough to justify the present level of military aid.

The great need of the people, he thinks, "is to be let alone militarily so as to devote maximum effort to correcting a deplorably low level of education, sanitation and economic production."

Most of the other reports submitted to the committee urge not only maintenance but expansion of the military assistance program. However, Mr. Johnston's findings should have thorough study. It may be that military aid to some countries should be critically re-examined and the emphasis put on some other form of assistance.

The Man About Town

Only a Few Days

Time Now Getting Short in Our Baseball Contest

Apologize: Another thing the weather bureau never does.

Less than five days remain in our baseball contest. Your entry must be received in The Pontiac Press Office by noon on NEXT Saturday, April 13, or your chance of winning the $250 in U.S. Savings Bonds is gone. All that is necessary is to submit your answer to the following:

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Friday, April 26, and what will be his batting average.

There is no entry fee and every member of your family is eligible to compete, but each entry must be on a separate piece of paper. Employes of this paper or immediate families are not eligible.

Today is an anniversary over at the Pontiac City Hall, but is too modest to say anything about it. My grapevine connection over there tells me that today he enters his thirty-fourth year of city management, coming to Pontiac in 1950.

Pontiac resident at that time,

Harvard Smithson,

now of Detroit, writes me that 71 years ago today we were digging out of what was left by the biggest snow storm in our history. He says the drifts around the courthouse corner were almost as high as the building itself. He refers, of course, to the old two-story brick building. The storm was on April 6, 1886.

Miss Betty Whitson

of 495 Harper Ave., is to represent Pontiac in the national contest for

"Miss Secretary of 1957"

and of course we're pulling for Betty. Incidentally, is her choice in the present baseball contest.

Harvey Kuenn

While most of us did not have the ambition to go to the polls in last week's election, 72 year old

The Passing Parade

David Lawrence Says:

Beck, if a Red, Would Be Defended

WASHINGTON — Poor Dave Beck! He's being maligned from one end of the country to the other, and his defenders are scarce—if, indeed, there be any. Yet if he had only had some taint of communistic connection in his record, he would today have many eloquent apologists.

LAWRENCE

The supporters would have been legion who would have denounced anyone for even suggesting that taking the Fifth Amendment under those circumstances implies guilt. From the pens of the editorial writers of at least three leading newspapers in the East, there would have flowed indignant words—that a man was being "pilloried without being tried in a court of law."

The cry would have been raised that here is a Senate investigating committee which is trying to do what the courts are supposed to do. There would have been pointed complaints that this was "assassination by insinuation," that the charges had not been proved in a court of law and hence no judgment should be made thereon—at least not on the word merely of a Senate investigating committee whose "innuendoes" were not a substitute for "due process of law."

Dave Beck made the mistake of handling his union's funds in ways that have brought condemnation—but they seemed to him to be right and, if they weren't, well, he intended to pay back any sums borrowed or appropriated. He says there are undisclosed details.

IF HE BELONGED

This is a serious matter, of course, but, if Beck had only once been a member of a Communist cell, he would be defended today as just someone who committed a "youthful indiscretion" or a mistake of the emotions due to "economic conditions," and so forth.

Poor Dave Beck! He made the wrong kind of mistake. If he had helped the enemies of his country by preaching their side of the case, he would have been able to take the First Amendment as well as the Fifth. A mere matter of "treason" isn't so serious, it would appear, and, after all, "free speech" is not to be inhibited by any form of "thought control" sought to be imposed by "McCarthyism"—whatever that is.

Millions of words have been poured out in a spirited defense of persons who were asked by congressional committees or security boards to explain their curious presence at "Communist front" meetings or their continuance of financial contributions to such causes even after the Soviet Union joined Hitler in the early stages of the last war. Judging by the tenor of "liberal" doctrine in recent years, Americans who have been criticized for being on the Communist side have been "unjustly treated" by congressional committees.

BECK UNFORTUNATE

But Dave Beck is unfortunate. Had he been even a lukewarm advocate of Communist causes, he would have had on his side today a senator or two demanding that the investigating committee itself be investigated.

No court of law has yet pronounced Dave Beck guilty of any crime. For the last several years much stress has been laid on the fact that a man is "innocent until proved guilty."

Certainly Dave Beck was indiscreet. He was more than that—he used poor judgment in espousing the cause of personal materialism when he might better have championed "dialectic materialism." What glory might have been his if he had then taken the Fifth Amendment! He might even have been helped by some big charitable foundation, with law school professors conducting a research on his case. Maybe some "civil liberties" organization would be rallying to his side in a defense of the Fifth Amendment. As Ralph Waldo Emerson once wrote:

Dr. William Brady Says:

Lack of Calcium Causes Many Chronic Ailments

I have harped on calcium deficiency probably more than on any other subject, because I believe calcium deficiency is the chief cause of many common chronic complaints in this country.

DR. BRADY

Among these common chronic complaints are what I call rheumatiz (not arthritis), hives, allergic sensitivity, neuralgic headache, migraine, hay fever, and spasmodic asthma, to name a few.

Don't take my word for it. Take a high calcium diet and supplement your diet with an adequate daily ration of calcium and vitamin D for a test period of not less than three months, and see for yourself whether it doesn't do you good.

Vitamin D is essential for normal utilization of calcium whether the calcium is supplied by food, or as a supplement, or medicine.

Milk, sour milk, buttermilk, skim or separator milk, as well as cottage cheese and whatever other kinds of cheese you like, egg yolk, dried beans, dried peas, soybean flour, oatmeal, cauliflower, lentils, greens, dried figs, olives, nuts and peanuts are the richest food sources of calcium.

Everyone's diet should include not less than 1½ pints (three glasses) of milk or the equivalent daily.

ACTIVITY IS FACTOR

The individual's ability to assimilate, utilize, and maintain a normal reserve of calcium in bones and teeth varies with and, perhaps to a considerable degree, depends on daily physical activity.

Confinement to bed or chair for weeks or months inevitably brings a steady loss of calcium. It explains why invalids become so susceptible to fractures from slight injuries. For another, I believe, it explains the peevish spirit of many invalids.

Do I mean to say you can change a sourpuss into a cheerful guy just by feeding him high calcium foods and an extra daily ration of Ca and D? Yes, something like that. A month or two on this regimen will dispel a lot of gloom.

The expectant mother requires a larger daily intake of calcium and D than at any other time to keep her calcium reserve high enough to provide for her own requirements as well as the growing child—for the fetus will draw on the calcium reserve even at the cost of the mother's own bones and teeth.

Saving her teeth is only one reason why the expectant mother needs a good daily ration of calcium and vitamin D. The developing fetus needs it to build sound, straight bones and teeth and to lay down the pattern, so to speak, for the growth of the bones of jaws, face, and skull which will determine the child's beauty.

Throughout lactation, the nursing mother still needs an extra daily ration of D and calcium; for the baby continues to draw on her calcium reserve—breast milk being the best of all sources of calcium for a baby.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Quotes Creed in Answer to Over-40 Job Problem

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

In reference to recent discussions about the difficulty men over 40 have in finding jobs, I have a creed over my desk which is quite fitting.

"I do not choose to be a common man or woman. It is my right to be uncommon—if I can. I seek opportunity—not security. I do not wish to be a kept citizen, humbled and dulled by having the state look after me. I want to take the calculated risk; to dream and to build, to fail and to succeed. I refuse to barter incentive for a dole; I prefer the challenges of life to the guaranteed existence; the thrill of fulfillment to the stale claim of Utopia. I will not trade freedom for beneficence nor my dignity for a handout. I will never cower before any earthly master nor bend to any threat. It is my heritage to stand erect, proud and unafraid; to think and act for myself, enjoy the benefit of my creations and to face the world boldly and say: This, with God's help, I have done. All this is what it means to be an American."

Carlotta Says She's Justified

I seem to have caused a lot of commotion in the Voice of the People. Well, I should. Why not? I make normally proud girls slink home in despair to ask mama if they're really as flat chested as I've made them feel.

'Reader' Answers 'Hillbilly's' Letter

In answer to "Hillbilly," who defends the South, why did you come to Michigan in the first place—to make good money and keep from starving to death. Don't bite the hands that feed you. If you don't like Michigan, go back to the hills.

'Who Wants to Be Colossal Anyway?'

What is so wonderful about being colossal? I'd rather be petite. So do most other people, including men driving down the street looking at girls. I never thought I'd see the day when a lady would brag about being out of proportion. Oh! Pardon me, you didn't say you were a lady, did you?

I feel sorry for you and I'm sure many other area ladies would cooperate with me, if you would like, in helping you get down to normal size so you won't feel so conspicuous. Then you would get admiring glances from men and envious glances from "colossal" females.

'Are Bank Hours Same at Branch?'

Do the new banking hours of 9 to 5 pertain just to the downtown banks? I tried to make a weekly deposit at the Baldwin branch at 9:30 and was told it wouldn't open until 10:00. It doesn't really matter to me, but I think the public should be informed as to just what the real banking hours are.

'Discuss Hospital Before Too Late'

I agree wholeheartedly with Mr. Kern. Just what is the General Hospital going to cost us before we get it completed? We voted three million; five million has been spent or committed and still no end in sight. Will the City Commission please publish some figures so we know where we stand?

There are a lot of questions to be answered on this issue before May, so let's take up the task at hand before it's too late. Taxpayers should get interested enough to ask questions through the newspaper and demand an answer. The Commission might make this a topic of discussion at a Tuesday meeting with the public invited.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Gives Suggestions for Child Care

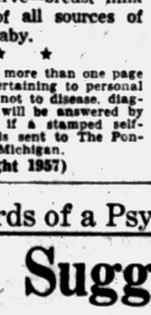

How should Goldie be told she is an adopted child? And what can all parents do to help insure a happier more adjusted type of personality in their children? Discuss this case at your PTA meetings. And don't fret about being financially poor, for it isn't money that makes children happy, but a loving home atmosphere. In fact, poverty is often a greater mental stimulator than luxury!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, we adopted her when she was only a year old," her mother proudly informed me, "and we wish to be the best parents possible.

CRANE

"So how should we tell her that she is our foster child?

"And what else should we do to make sure she will be a happy, well adjusted woman when she grows up?

"What's new in child psychology? Goldie is our only child so we are doubly eager to avoid spoiling her."

CHILD PSYCHOLOGY

Animal trainers can offer parents one of the best rules for rearing children, and it is as old as the hills.

If you are training dogs or seals for circus purposes, you must not confuse the animal by laughing at its show-off antics when guests are looking on, but then punishing the creature when it performs the same naughty deed in private.

In other words, be consistent in dealing with human children.

Let a child know that you love it, for this sure emotional anchorage is the most powerful force for dealing with children.

Lack of a sense of home or family security often predisposes to delinquency, neurotic fears and even insanity.

And to reassure a foster child, you dads should remind her that you chose her mother from among total strangers, and simply adopted her in the beautiful ceremony which we call the wedding service.

She was not of any blood kin to you, yet you feel closer to your wife than you do to your brothers and sisters with whom you grew up during childhood.

For love and voluntary affection are the strongest bonds on earth and far exceed blood kinship.

In like manner, you fell in love with your foster child and adopted it because of choice, just as you adopted its mother.

In Goldie's little family, therefore, nobody is of blood kinship to the other two members of that group, yet all three are held together by the magical cement called love.

"Love is much thicker than blood kinship," is a psychological adage that we now know supersedes the erroneous former proverb that "Blood is thicker than water."

So never make the mistake of thinking similar ancestry welds parent and child together. It is mutual affection and respect and training in idealism that create the true parent-child relationship.

MODERN CHILD HINTS

Take your child to Sunday school even in its infancy. And see that it is in your neighborhood church all throughout its teens.

"You can attend a movie Saturday night," I used to tell our five Crane children, "if you will get up and be in Sunday school Sunday morning."

That's the proper rule to follow, for Sunday school teachers often surpass parents in molding the ideals of children.

Also, give your child a sibling (brother or sister) if possible and within two years, so they will socialize each other and whet each other's wits.

Otherwise, try to make up for this loss by a puppy or kitten and by sending your child to a nursery school.

For further specific advice on how to become better parents, send for my 200-point "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Many PTA's use them for discussion topics, so keep a set on file.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Soviets Respect Envoy Bohlen

Outgoing Ambassador Hard Man to Replace in Moscow Hot-Spot

By ROY ESSOYAN

MOSCOW (AP) — Through four years, Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen has served as the eyes and ears of the United States in the world's most trying diplomatic post. Even the Russians respect him, but now that he is leaving, they may well be glad to be rid of him.

"What we most respect about Ambassador Bohlen," a Russian official once grudgingly admitted, "is that he never panics, even when things are touchy, and as for repartee, he gives Nikita Sergeivich (Khrushchev) a run for his money."

The U. S. State Department's top Russian expert is going to Manila, to be U. S. ambassador to the Philippines, with, as he put it, "no complaints, no squawks."

But his friends say he would have liked to stay on and watch the Russian scene a little longer.

The Soviet Union has been likened to a jigsaw puzzle perched on a powder keg. In such a situation it's the stray pieces that count, and the eye to catch them.

Bohlen, 53, has gained a reputation as the ambassador in Moscow with the best background, the deepest knowledge of his subject, the most fluency in the Russian language.

Khrushchev and the other Soviet leaders will have reason to remember the easy-going, almost languid wit often displayed by the slim, athletic-looking diplomat.

Soviet leaders often sought out Bohlen at receptions and engaged him in long, serious conversations which probably gave him a more intimate understanding of the Soviet leadership personality than any other Western diplomat has.

"Chip knows you cannot win their confidence or liking," one of his intimates says, "but he also knows you cannot deal with them unless you have their respect."

No successor, regardless of ability, can easily assume the position Bohlen maintained among his fellow diplomats and in his relations with the Kremlin.

Mackinac Bridge Booms Upper Peninsula

By A. F. MAHAN, Jr.

ST. IGNACE (AP) — The Top O'Michigan and the Upper Peninsula, long-time searchers for new economic life-blood, are getting a brand new 100 million dollar pump to give them just that.

Although unfinished, it already is administering a business transfusion. It is the Mackinac Straits Bridge, jumping from the top of lower Michigan to the Upper Peninsula.

All the experts agree it will be a tremendous boon to what now is the region's No. 1 economic support — the tourist-vacationer business.

Mackinac Bridge Authority traffic engineers estimate 1,927,000 vehicles will use the five-mile span next year and that the number will increase to 2,023,000 by 1959, and to 3,023,000 by 1969.

Last year five state-owned ferries, which ply the Straits and join U.S. 23, U.S. 27 and U.S. 31 to U.S. 2, carried a total of 89,671 vehicles. On holidays and at the opening of the deer season cars have piled up as much as 15 miles on either side of the Straits and some have waited 24 hours to get across.

The bridge's four lanes could handle a maximum of 6,000 cars an hour. The biggest ferry, the Vacationland, can haul only 150 at a time over the six-mile water route it follows. Winter schedules occasioned delays. The bridge will be open year around.

NEW INDUSTRIES

Sault Ste. Marie only recently got a new industry, a steel culvert manufacturer. The owner said he envisioned the bridge making him competitive in upper reaches of the Lower Peninsula with downstate manufacturers.

C. A. Paquin, secretary of the Sault Ste. Marie Chamber of Commerce, says "completion of the Mackinac Bridge has already begun to change the economic complexion of this entire area."

The Cloverland Co-operative only last week got a new $780,000 rural Electrification Administration loan to build 100 more miles of line to serve 625 new customers.

Gerald O. Dagenais, manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau's tourist and resort commission said at Marquette the Upper Peninsula is expecting an increase in tourist and resort patronage in 1957, some of it just because of "the attraction of the Mackinac Bridge."

He reported both Newberry and Sault Ste. Marie were planning development of winter sports areas, and pointed out that the bridge would in effect, put downstate Michigan much closer to the winter sports and vacation lands of the colorful Copper Country in the Keweenaw Peninsula.

LAND VALUES UP

Real estate operators report that desirable highway frontage along U. S. 2 west of the St. Ignace bridge approach has risen from $5 and $10 a front foot to $100 or more for the choice sites.

Choice resort property and home sites on the northern shores of the Straits have advanced an estimated 400 per cent, even as far as 12 miles out from St. Ignace.

Plans for a restaurant, motel and curio shop already have been announced for an area east of the north approach. Ellsworth (Frenchy) Valliere, who now operates a ferry lane restaurant, plans the new steak house with a 100-foot window overlooking the Straits. Mr. and Mr. Jack Barnhill of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., plan the curio shop, and Seymour Lippert of Chicago, the motel, a 50 unit one featuring television and babysitter service.

U. S. 2 now runs through the St. Ignace business district, but the city has announced plans to improve the route. Several owners of outlying cabins are converting them to modern, all-year motels. Two new gasoline stations are being completed this year.

While the bridge will improve land travel, St. Ignace isn't forgetting another transportation mode: the airplane. It plans to spend $74,000 to clear 26 acres at its airport and to convert a 2,500- foot turf runway into a 3,200-foot blacktopped one.

Mackinac City, across the Straits is insisting the ferry docks be turned over to it by the state for development. Its No. 1 goal is transportation facilities and to draw more tourists to its muncipal beach and parks.

Another thing, some civic leaders are advocating that at least one of the big ferries be kept in operation as a sight-seeing vessel plying the Straits and shuttling to Scenic Mackinac Island, a plush resort at the eastern edge of the Straits.

BIRTHSTONES

2. Aquamarine, Bloodstone and Diamond

Persons born in March have a choice of the aquamarine or bloodstone as a birthstone.

Many jewels are used as watch bearings. Here is a picture of a watchmaker delicately placing jewels in a watch.

The diamond, the birthstone for April, has been called "the king of stones." It is transparent and is the hardest of all precious gems.

The largest cut diamond in the world is the "Star of Africa," which is in the Royal Scepter of England. This 500-carat stone is one of nine cut from the famous Cullinan Diamond which was found in South Africa in 1905. The "Star of Africa" is kept in the Tower of London.

Sight-Giving Cornea Can Be Preserved

NEW YORK (AP) — Sight-giving windows for human eyes can be dried and preserved for two years to help some blinded persons, medical researchers said today.

The windows or corneas donated by persons who just died are dehydrated in glycerine, then kept in vacuum-sealed tubes at room temperature.

Thin layers of these corneas have been grafted successfully into the eyes of persons whose own corneas were clouded or injured, said Dr. John Harry King Jr., Washington, D.C., a consulting opthalmologist to the U. S. surgeon general.

This preservation method differs radically from usual eye-banks, in which the whole eye is kept under refrigeration, and the cornea is removed to replace a blind person's own cornea. The whole eyes and corneas can be saved for only a short time, making it difficult to build up a supply to have on hand when needed.

King described the dry-preservation method in a report prepared for delivery to a sight-saving conference sponsored by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness and Pan-American Assn. of Opthalmology.

Australia has intensified its licensing restrictions on imports.

Expect Comet to Stir Reports of Flying Saucer

A bright comet scheduled to be visible during this month is expected to send hundreds of Pontiac area residents to the telephone to report "flying saucer" or "strange, bright object" in the sky.

Predicted to rival Halley's comet of 1910 in brightness, comet Arend-Roland will be visible to the naked eye between April 16 to May 15, according to Miss Hazel M. Losh, associate professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan.

The comet, discovered in Belgium last November, will be visible about an hour before sunrise in the northeast from April 16 to 18, if it has developed a large, bright tail.

By April 20 or 21 the head of the comet should be visible and from April 22 to 30 it will be clearly seen for longer periods above the northwestern horizon after sunset. After April 30 it will be visible throughout the night.

Another astronomical event is in store from April 8 to 21 when the rarely seen planet Mercury will be visible above the western horizon after sunset.

"On April 15, it will remain in the sky for one and three-fourths hours after the sun," the professor pointed out.

Six VA Hospitals Closing Bakeries

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration has announced that bread baking has been or will be discontinued at six of the eight VA hospitals which still had bread bakeries in operation at the end of last year.

A spokesman said the change "will not be a saving."

VA said two of the eight bakeries have already been closed, four more will close in the near future and cost estimates for the other two are under study now at headquarters here.

The closing of the bread bakeries was in accordance with Eisenhower Administration's request that all departments and agencies evaluate their commercial and industrial activities with the view of dropping as many as possible, VA said.

Minute diamonds are occasionally found in meteroties which have crashed. In 1891 Dr. G. A. Koening found a diamond in Canon Diablo, Arizona.

Security for You

SS Office Can't Accept 'Sliding' Ages

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

Some people play their age as if it were an accordion—increasing or decreasing it to get the right tune.

Take the woman who walked into the Hackensack, N. J., Social Security office a few months back. She said she was 71.

The Social Security representative asked her if she had any proof of her age. She quickly replied:

"Well, I don't have any papers or anything. But I've fibbed so much about being 41 that I must have some friends who'll swear they heard me saying it for 'bout 30 years."

DON'T KNOW AGE

Despite the sliding age used by some people, there are lots of older people who don't know exactly how old they are. At least, they can't show a birth certificate to prove it. No birth records were kept by many states and cities in the late 1800's or earlier 1900's.

The lack of a birth certificate often makes it difficult for today's older people to prove they're old enough to draw Social Security payments. Under the law, the Social Security offices aren't allowed to accept the word of the person involved as the sole proof of age.

To overcome this, the Social Security offices will often accept other types of written proof of age. This includes records covering hospital births, naturalization, immigration, military service, union membership, employment, schooling, marriage, etc.

OTHER PROOF

An additional source of proof are the records of the United States Bureau of Census. And, in many cases, it's the most reliable source which older people can find to show to the Social Security people. Rarely, if ever, do they turn down Census Bureau records as age proof.

The Census Bureau gets its information from forms which were used by census takers to tote up the population of the United States every ten years since 1880. Except for the census records of 1890 which were burned in a fire, these forms are still available.

The forms used in the census-taking include such information as the names and ages of children in all families, including the children in the families of the late 1800's. Since the information was collected by personal visits in homes and through interviews with family members, the data is presumed to be more accurate than the memories of today's older people.

Thus, in most instances, the Census Bureau can pin down the age of almost all living persons in the United States by a search of their records.

The bureau, when requested, will provide a transcript showing what its records contain.

All a person has to do to get such a transcript is to write to the Bureau of Census, Washington, D. C.; request form 10-611; fill out and return the form with a $3 or $4 fee.

A person wanting an age transcript in a hurry should pay the $4 fee, since the additional dollar generally assures that the transcript will be returned in about two weeks. A $3 fee gets slower service, usually four to six weeks.

If you don't include the fee with your application form for a transcript your application will be returned to you with a request for the fee.

The age search section of the Census Bureau must charge the fees because it has no other source of income. Congress doesn't give it tax money to stay in business.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Bomb Threat Hoax; Only Loss—the Spuds

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Police thought last night they really had found a bomb in a downtown bus depot.

Officers evacuated the building and began a thorough search after receiving a call the depot would be "blown up by a bomb."

Then the kitchen became filled with smoke and flames.

But it wasn't a bomb. The kitchen help, shooed out by police, forgot to cut off the gas in a deep frier of grease and potatoes.

Pontiac Area Shows 200 Drop for Month in Non-Farm Jobs

Increases and decreases in employment marked the Pontiac labor market during the 30-day period preceding March 15, figures from the local branch of the Michigan Employment Security Commission revealed.

Non-farm employment of 75,200 was 200 less than in February. Manufacturing plants reduced their work forces by 400, while non-manufacturing concerns added 200 workers.

The motor vehicle plants noted a decrease of 300 during the same time.

Non-manufacturing employment of 28,900 at mid-March was 200 more than in February with gains of 100 each in service and construction.

Unemployment at mid-March was estimated at 3,600, unchanged from the February level. The unemployed make up 4.4 per cent of the total labor force of 81,600. In March 1956 the percentage of unemployed was 5.6.

During March the Pontiac MESC office issued 7,290 unemployment insurance checks worth $247,488. This compares to 7,919 checks for $269,681 in February.

Frustrated Thieves Wreck Loan Office

DETROIT (AP) — When burglars failed in trying to break open the safe of a Detroit loan office, they left evidence of their frustration all over the place.

After failing to crack the firm's safe with a sledge hammer, they littered the office with broken furniture and papers, scattered the contents of desk drawers, and then jerked a drinking fountain from the wall and soaked the place with water.

Afraid Wholesome Autobiography Won't Sell

Gypsy Rose Frets About Tame Past

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Gypsy Rose Lee, a lady who has never believed in concealing the facts, is coming out with an autobiography next month. In these days of sordid self-exposes, there are a couple of facets of it that worry her.

"I'm not, nor have I ever been, an alcoholic," she says, swigging at a wholesome off-white cup of coffee. "I haven't been a dope addict, either. I haven't been anything — except an entertainer. And who could not, at one time or other, say that?"

Miss Lee was sprawled, in a paint-spattered skirt and utter exhaustion, across a velvet chair on the fourth floor of her 26-room town house.

"I read to myself where Diana Barrymore has sold her book to magazines and the movies for vast sums" — she flung her shapely arms wide. "On the strength of that I just plunged in and paid $349 for a set of shutters, but what ego!

"Now I think of it. You can sell a sad story, but my life — it's a comedy."

To most women, a life in which one started to work at age 4 and never quit would be less than funny. Three unsuccessful marriages might also leave most females unlaughing.

But Gypsy's temperament evidently is as remarkable as her figure, which appears to be still in rare form even under spring housecleaning duds.

ALWAYS FORTHRIGHT

She's loquacious, forthright and blunt on any subject.

Question — Are you ever embarrassed, now that you're a recognized author, that you are mainly known as a strip-teaser?

Answer — "Oh, no. This would be a great time for me to start being embarrassed, after I've capitalized on it so long. 'Course I entered it unintentionally. Mother booked me into a theater and we didn't realize if was a burlesque house."

Q — Were you embarrassed back then?

A — "No, in the '30s when I went into the Ziegfeld Follies, the first four or five rows were always very chic, social people, and I couldn't see beyond that. Thank the Lord for spotlights."

Q — Do you think you'll be married again?

A — "I don't really think so. If I could truthfully say my husbands were all stinkers, it would be okay. But they were all very nice men, and I must assume it's been my fault. I was always too independent; that's what you get when you start working as a baby.

"With one husband I was living in the country. One day when he was away a wind came up and the shingles came off the barn. I went up on a ladder, looked the situation over, and ordered new ones. When they came, he was furious.

"A man doesn't want that kind of efficiency, and that's the story of my life . . . I am used to buying my own shingles.

BACK TO WORK

"Another thing. Every once in awhile I take a look at my finances and say 'oh-ho, I better go to work.' Then I'm off for six months entertaining. Men don't like that either."

A — "No my earning power is up; made more money last lear than the year before, and anytime I want to work I seem to get bookings. I just like to write."

Asked the chief headache involved in writing an autobiography, Gypsy replied without hesitation:

"Exposing yourself. In show business and autobiographical writing, it's all the same. You're setting yourself up as a clay pigeon. You've got to keep your ego up, and that's not easy for me. I appreciate the sacred word — but not my own."

Indonesia Head Names Cabinet

Djuanda Belongs to No Party; Reds Will Be on New Council

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno Monday named Raden Djuanda, an engineer who has been minister of finance, to head a new Cabinet of experts who will govern without parliamentary sanction.

Djuanda, 46, leans to socialism but belongs to no party. He headed a list of 22 ministers nominated by Sukarno.

The new Cabinet, the 17th since Indonesia became an independent republic in 1949, will be responsible for forming a national council in which Communists may be represented. Sukarno has made the formation of such a council part of his conception of a "guided democracy" which would cut Indonesia loose from the forms of democracy as practiced in the West.

The president took the unusual step of naming a Cabinet himself after a four week political crisis brought on by a series of revolts by military leaders in outlying island provinces who rejected the central government's authority.

Budapest's Premier Postpones Elections

BUDAREST (AP) — Well-informed sources say Premier Janos Kadar and his Communist Cabinet are planning to postpone parliamentary elections in Hungary for at least two years.

This comes on the heels of Kadar's recent visit to Moscow.

The present Parliament's term expires May 17.

Well-informed sources say Parliament will meet before that date and prolong its own life for two years.

The sources add that it was decided at Moscow not to permit non-Communist political parties to become active again, or to invite any of their top members to join the Cabinet.

Ike Aide Debunks Congestion Claim

'Air Traffic Not a Hazard'

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower's special adviser on air traffic control states that claims of aerial congestion are exaggerated and only the skies over four major cities are genuinely overcrowded.

Edward P. Curtis, in an interview with U. S. News and World Report, said new navigational aids, improved instruments and better weather prediction make air travel "safer all the time."

The former combat pilot and Air Force general predicted only a "very little" increase in the number of commercial aircraft in the next 20 years, mainly because planes will be enlarged.

However, he said, facilities will have to be expanded rapidly in the next 10 years or "we are going to be in very bad trouble for airport capacity."

At present, he said, traffic congestion is serious only in "the main traffic hubs such as New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and Washington."

Curtis forecast improvements in air control which would make landings "virtually independent of the weather . . . in the next few years."

He said instrument flying is "much safer" than flight by sight, even in the most favorable conditions, and that air control would be enforced more and more on the major airlanes.

Curtis said commercial jets will not be introduced in "any significant number" until 1959 and will be restricted mainly to long flights because of heavy gas consumption on takeoff and landing.

Rolling Dental Unit to Service Navy

A traveling Navy dental unit arrived in Pontiac yesterday and will be here through tomorrow to service Navy and Marine Corps personnel, it was announced today.

The tractor trailer, "as completely equipped as a dentist's office," needs to borrow only the water and electricity from the Naval Reserve Training Center, where it will be located for the three days.

Manned by two dentists and two dental technicians, the unit will be able to provide "complete service except where the patient might require hospitalization," a spokesman said.

Dior Places Beauty First

Rates Work Secondary for Suburban Housewife

Parisian Dictator of Fashions Visits America to Show Off New Styles

CHICAGO (INS) — Christian Dior, Parisian dictator of the world's fashions, said today it is more important for a suburban wife to look beautiful than to work.

The renowned style-setter, in Chicago to show his 1957 spring collection at Marshall Field and Co., grudgingly acknowledged that it was all right for women to wear slacks and blue jeans while working around the house, but that was all.

A reporter asked Dior whether he thought it more important to the man in the house that his wife look beautiful, or have the snow shoveled off the walk when the breadwinner gets home. Dior said:

"It is far more important for a woman to look beautiful. I don't think American men have it so hard."

The cherubic fashion designer said he knew men were sometimes not happy about fashion changes, but winked at the reason.

"I think," he said, "it is sometimes expensive. That is why they don't like it."

PARRIES QUESTIONS

Dior sat in a salon of the Chicago department store and parried questions that thundered in from all sides.

He said nothing is wrong with a woman wearing a dress for three or four years.

"When the proportions are right," said Dior, "a dress does not go out of style so quickly."

The pudgy Frenchman smiled when asked if it was true that he got most of his inspiration in the bathtub. He said he liked lounging in the tub "because I'm so lazy" but that he could work anywhere.

"Women are my inspiration," Dior said. "I always start out with the woman's form in mind, nothing else, and just let my pencil wander."

The apple-cheeked style monarch said he meant to make women's forms even more beautiful with his clothes and that the lines of his dresses were most important. He said:

Other things Dior doesn't like include dresses that can't be worn in life. Dior explained:

"It is always easy to design a dress that is striking and extreme. But a woman living her life cannot be like a model in a fashion show. The dress must be wearable in life."

Dior has already designed the collection to be exhibited in New York City next month, but he declined to say what the latest changes are.

He will stay in the United States for about a month and is anxious to see the Grand Canyon.

CANYON COLORS

Dior scoffed at the idea that the canyon would influence the line of his future styles, but said he might be ready to borrow next year's colors from the canyon.

He said his idea of a beautiful woman is one who is simple, attractive and who tries "from hat to feet" to make her clothes harmonize.

"But," he said, "beauty without soul is not beauty."

Before leaving, Dior was asked what he thought of a psychiatrist's claim that dress designers do not like women. He said:

MR. and MRS. BARRY MICHAELS

Married Saturday were Patricia Helen Miller and Barry Alton Michaels. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Miller of North Anderson street, and Barry's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Michaels of Ferndale.

Patricia Miller Becomes Bride in Temple Service

Patricia Helen Miller became the bride of Barry Alton Michaels in a ceremony performed Saturday at Christian Temple. The Rev. F. H. Staton of First Open Bible Church performed the rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Miller of North Anderson street, and Barry's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Michaels of Ferndale.

For her wedding Patricia chose a chapel-length gown of Chantilly-type lace over satin and tulle. The neckline was scalloped and accented with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Her fingertip veil was caught to an accordion - pleated cap trimmed with sequins and seed pearls.

Her skirt featured an apron of lace with tiers of ruffles. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a corsage of talisman roses.

As matron of honor Mrs. Buddy Millmine wore a gown of white embroidered nylon over aqua taffeta in a ballerina length. She carried a white satin parasol with talisman roses.

OTHER ATTENDANTS

Performing the duties of best man was Buddy Millmine, and seating the guests were Jack Cobb of Ferndale, John McKinney and Michael Miller.

GRAY AND PINK

A reception was held in the church parlor, following which the new Mrs. Michaels changed to a pink wool suit with black patent accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Promenaders Hold Election of New Officers

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rosie, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Powers and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schell.

Soroptimists Vote Camp Contribution

At the Monday meeting of Soroptimist International members voted to contribute toward Camp Oakland for Girls. The evening meeting was held at Hotel Waldron.

Mrs. Maurice Wilcox was appointed chairman of the nominating committee. Assisting are Mrs. Karl Schultz and Mrs. Kenneth Wright. Plans were completed to attend the workshops at Pontiac State Hospital on April 29.

Secretaries Week Set April 21-27

April 21 - 27 is set aside as Secretaries Week and proclaimed as such by the U. S. Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks and Martha Rosamond, president of National Secretaries Association.

It is a week set apart to bring recognition to the profession and to honor the first lady of American business, the secretary.

During the week the secretarial profession is being recognized throughout the world and the NSA is taking an active part in alerting business management to pay the proper tribute to all secretaries who have a significant place in world business.

Oakland County's own Secretary of the Year will be selected from among those of the Pontioak Chapter employed in Oakland County.

If you employ someone who is a member of the local chapter, and you consider she has the attributes of the ideal secretary, you may nominate her by sending an application to Mrs. William Robinson of Nelson street, chairman of Secretaries Week. Applications must be received not later than April 19.

Elizabeth Does Tremendous Job

Queen's Visits Promote Goodwill

PARIS (INS)—Queen Elizabeth's visit to Paris marks the second stage of the most ambitious goodwill program any British monarch ever has undertaken.

Two months ago she swept Lisbon off its feet. The Paris visit this week gives every promise of being just as successful. Later in the spring she will go to Denmark. And sometime this year she may go to the United States and Canada.

No British monarch in history ever visited so many countries in so short a time for purely goodwill reasons.

But so far the effort has paid big dividends for Britain.

The Portuguese swelled with pride when her visit focused attention of the world on the fact that the 600-year-old treaty between Portugal and England is the oldest mutual security pact in the world.

The French are just as happy because to them the visit is embellishment to the fact that the entente cordiale between France and Britain is again in full flower.

CIVILIZED BRITAIN

The Danes undoubtedly will revel a little bit in the reminder that their forebears helped civilize Britain and that the very name "England" has the flavor of their northland.

All of which not only helps Britain but, in the opinion of more serious diplomats in Paris, adds strength to the increasing ties of the Western European nations.

One thing is certain. Queen Elizabeth does a tremendous job for her country.

In the first place she has the kind of personality that "projects," to use a theatrical term. She looks good and acts well in public, making full use of gracious little gestures that endear her to the crowds.

As an example, in Lisbon she and Prince Philip made an unscheduled balcony appearance in the palace that was their home to wave to the crowds outside.

PURE PAGEANTRY

In the second place, a visit from the Queen enables cities like Lisbon and Paris to indulge in pure pageantry with medieval pomp and ceremony that still thrills moderns.

Fairy tales still hold their charm for young and old even in the atomic age, and both Lisbon and Paris went all out to transform themselves into fairyland settings.

Generally the French are greeting the Queen with every bit as much enthusiasm as the Portuguese did, with one exception. Portuguese newspapers, which publish front-page notices that they have been censored, did not permit a single note of criticism of the Queen or of Britain to creep into their columns.

The French have no such inhibitions. The extreme right-wing Poujadist press, in the words of one British official, has been "rude." One story was carried under the headline "Go Home Elizabeth."

More pointed was the influential and sometimes neutralist Le Monde.

In a front-page editorial signed by Andre Fontaine, one of its top commentators, Le Monde said it was all very well for the Queen to come to Paris, but what the French and all Europe wanted was for Britain to join the continent in unity.

A BIT OF PIQUE

Fontaine showed a bit of pique about the strengthening of Anglo-American friendship through the Bermuda conference and was caustic about the "nostalgia for an Anglo-Saxon directorate" of the free world which he said was dear to Sir Winston Churchill.

He also declared that the British choice was between becoming a part of a United Europe or a "Formosa" type satellite of the United States, facing a hostile and invaded Europe.

But this was not the French Foreign Office approach. There the feeling was:

"The visit helps French public opinion. The background for the visit is the restoration of the entente cordiale through the events of the past year.

"There has been close cooperation between the two countries all this year, in Suez and elsewhere, and it can be said that we now have more than the usual traditional friendship."

To Open Season

The opening event of the season at Birmingham Country Club will be a dinner-dance on Saturday. Dinner will be served from 7 to 10 p.m., with dancing to a well known orchestra from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Reservations must be made for the event.

Easter Parade Costumes Go to Bow-Wows

NEW YORK (INS) — Mother-daughter outfits are always popular in springtime, but if you really want to make an impression at the Easter Parade, try a woman-dog outfit.

Miss Hampton today showed the matching white satin outfits she and Fifi will wear, complete with matching diamond clips.

With this she will wear black gloves, black shoes, black foxes and a special hat designed by Mr. John: A 20-inch brim creation of white straw topped with a white swan called "Swan Lake."

Her 3-pound miniature white poodle will be dressed in a white satin cape lined in black velvet, black velvet anklets, and a miniature "Swan Lake" chapeau, also by Mr. John. Fifi's brim only measures 6 inches. No foxes for Fifi.

Playcrafters Meet

Playcrafters Club of Pontiac High School gathered at the home of Clarice Graves on Dick avenue Saturday evening for a buffet supper following the presentation of "You Can't Take It With You."

Not Luck—Cooperation With Life

By ANNE HEYWOOD

If there is one thing I cannot resist, it is a look of serenity on someone's face. It is a look, unfortunately, which appears all too seldom.

It always indicates, to me, that the person concerned has found either the perfect lifework, the perfect philosophy or, more often, both.

When I met Catherine Owens Peare recently, I saw that look of serenity and I started digging.

The story that unfolded is one of those beautifully logical life stories that sound almost too good to be true.

Miss Peare studied to be a teacher at the New Jersey State Teachers College. But when she finished college, she found a job, not in teaching but in the financial field.

It was a regular office job, and probably not too fascinating, but now, in retrospect, Miss Peare speaks of it fondly.

HER REAL LOVE

She held it for years and during her spare time worked on her real love, which was writing.

Now there's nothing novel about the office worker who wants to write and dabbles at it on the side. But Miss Peare was no dabbler.

Year after year she rose a couple of hours earlier in the morning and devoted the time to her writing. She gave up parties and other distractions that many would-be writers just can't resist.

Miss Peare tried various kinds of writing and finally became interested in writing biographies for young people, explaining to them the inner qualities of famous people of all races and creeds.

Her first two books were on Albert Einstein and Mahatma Gandhi. These books found a ready market among youngsters who found them fascinating.

INCOME-PRODUCING

Then there were several years of working at her job and at the writing too—only it was different now, because the writing was beginning to sell and be income-producing.

Finally, one brave day, Miss Peare resigned from her job and devoted all her time to writing.

In the process of doing research for a life of John Woolman, two things happened to Miss Peare.

First, she began to study the Quaker faith, in order to be sure of her facts about Woolman, and found it so absorbing and so right for her that she joined the Friends.

Secondly, she became fascinated with the life of William Penn, which touched on Woolman's, and found there was no complete, up-to-date biography of Penn.

So she took another plunge — from doing biographies for children to doing one for adults.

Miss Peare is a perfect example of the kind of progress and accomplishment which we call "luck" until we get wise enough to see that it's not so much luck as it is cooperation with the forces of life.

Cheese and Pineapple Mix in Mold

Mrs. Gilchrest Uses Unflavored Gelatin as Salad Base

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

A jellied pineapple and cream cheese salad is today's recipe. It is a smooth, creamy concoction that will appeal to "the girls." The maraschino cherries are optional.

Mrs. James Gilchrest chose this recipe as one of her favorites. She enjoys entertaining at and attending bridge foursomes. Sewing has always been a favorite occupation. Mrs. Gilchrest has a married daughter and one grandson.

PINEAPPLE CHEESE SALAD
By Mrs. James Gilchrest

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup crushed pineapple, undrained
2 packages (3 oz.) cream cheese
½ cup heavy cream whipped OR ⅓ cup chilled evaporated milk whipped
10 maraschino cherries, quartered

Soften gelatin in ½ cup cold water. Place in double boiler. Add sugar, salt and ¼ cup water. Stir over boiling water until thoroughly dissolved. Remove from heat.

Add lemon juice and pineapple and syrup and chill to consistency of unbeaten egg white. Mash cream cheese with fork and beat into gelatin mixture with a rotary beater. Add cherries if desired.

Whip heavy cream or chilled evaporated milk. Fold into gelatin mixture. Pour into four-cup mold. Chill until firm. Serve on salad greens.

Chapter to Donate Basket for Easter

Members of Phi Alpha Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will donate an Easter basket to a needy family. Ann Sheruin, Peggy Neil, Sandra Johnson, Karen Stack and Maureen Clark are on committee.

Fashion Hint

Don't leave all of your lingerie laundering for the weekend. Have a couple of small laundry sessions during the week to eliminate that one big stack of lingerie on Saturday.

This carefree shirtwaist dress is congenial for travel or vacation wear. Smartly detailed with convertible neckline, three-quarter push-up cuffed sleeves, inverted box pleat front and back, and a novelty plastic belt to match. The fabric is drip-dry.

Styles in 'Auntie Mame' to Be Copied
Should Inspire Fashions

Party dresses are as important as orange juice and vitamins to the morale of small girls. This is a point thoughtful mothers do not overlook.

This year the choice is so varied that any pint-size glamor girl should be able to find her dream dress with no difficulty. New styles and fabrics also make life easy for Mom.

Some of the most elaborate confections of organdy, frills and lace turn out to be the miracle-fabric kind that can be dunked in the wash-bowl, hung on a hanger and worn without ironing, as crisp and fresh as new, with every ruffle and pleat in place.

Velvet, the all-time favorite for little girls' party dresses, also does new tricks this season, with finishes giving resistance to spots, soil and wrinkles.

For all those important parties that follow close on the heels of the New Year—Valentine parties, Washington's Birthday parties — every small social butterfly needs a velvet dress with a lacy collar. It's tradition.

Auxiliary Members Will Visit Hospital

Mrs. Don Schumacher, Mrs. Kenneth French, Mrs. Viadora Bridges, Mrs. Rosaline Hickman and Mrs. Ralph Ellsworth will visit the Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor April 19 as representatives of the Pontiac Memorial DAV Auxiliary 101.

Committee reports were heard from Mrs. John Martin and Mrs. French. The recent meeting was held at Bemis-Olsen Amvets Hall.

LOOK FOR THIS BIG RED CAN

Supports Lax Abdominal Muscles

Wearing Girdle Lessens Fatigue

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

During the war all sorts of experiments and surveys were conducted in order to discover how to increase energy and cut down on fatigue. As you know this was a vital matter since our victory depended to a great extent on our production of war materials.

We seldom stop to consider how important our level of energy is to our success as human beings, to our own personal lives. A certain bloom and sparkle of personality, enthusiasm for our job, our friends and living in general, can be maintained only when we have an extra margin of vitality.

There are some vibrant people whose spirits rise above physical exhaustion, but for the most part we do not even think in the same terms we otherwise would, and if any thoughts of happy doings occur to our minds we do not have the pep to put the plans into operation. Fatigue makes us feel poisoned and mutes the brilliant colors of daily living.

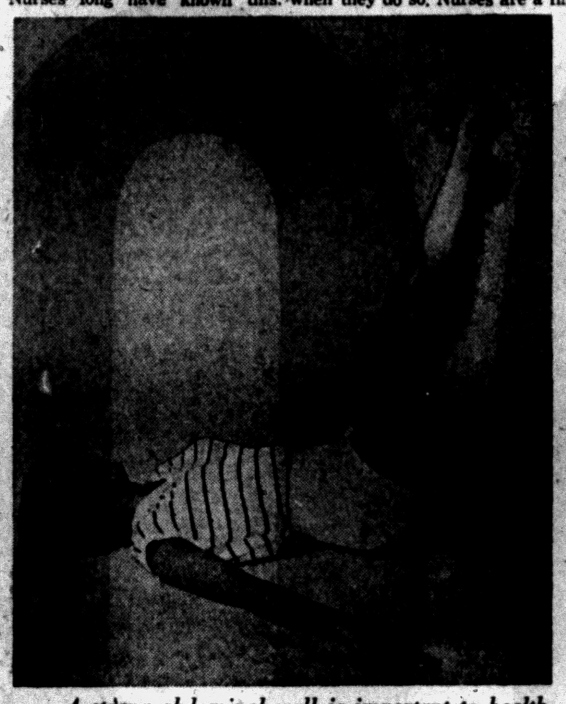

I doubt that many of you know about the experiments and surveys made concerning women and their girdles.

During the war it was found, without any doubt, that undergarments which supported the abdomen and back lessened fatigue among feminine workers. Backache and fatigue can result from the pull of lax abdominal muscles and the internal slump created by this condition. The full task of support then falls on the spine.

TIRE LESS EASILY

Nurses long have known this. More than 90 per cent of them wear girdles because they have found that they tire less easily when they do so. Nurses are a fine example since they are often on their feet for such long periods.

A strong abdominal wall is important to health as well as to a beautiful figure. This is the way of achieving strong abdominal muscles — slowly lower your legs to the floor. Repeat four times the first day.

Judging from this evidence it would seem a wise measure for the woman in the home to wear a well-fitted but comfortable girdle while doing her work. I think she should leave it off part of the time and during that time concentrate on holding her abdomen in, pulling it back toward the back bone and holding it there.

If she cannot hold her muscles in that position indefinitely she can hold while she counts to 10 slowly, relax, and keep repeating.

A strong abdominal wall is important to health as well as to a beautiful figure. I have believed for many years that the average woman has not excercised regularly enough and therefore her abdominal muscles are not strong enough to support internal organs as they were supposed to do.

Also, as most of you know, I think that every woman should take abdominal excercises unless there is some special reason for not doing so.

If you would like to have my tested abdominal exercises which will tone the muscles as well as reduce the abdomen, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

They Talk in Foreign Language

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter explains: "I have a friend who is of foreign descent. She and her family speak English perfectly well but every once in a while when I am visiting in their house, they will suddenly say something to each other in their native tongue.

"I have no understanding of this language and always feel uncomfortable when they do this and think that they are saying something they don't want me to hear.

"Don't you think that this is very rude on their part? I think that when there is anyone present who doesn't understand the language they should speak nothing but English. What is your opinion of this?"

Answer: I agree with you in principal, but I cannot agree that they are showing you any discourtesy by speaking the language which they have always used when talking to each other. They undoubtedly do it without thinking.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When sending a printed card reading, 'The family of the late . . . acknowledges with grateful appreciation your kind expression of sympathy,' is it necessary that this card be signed by a member of the family?

"I know you do not approve of printed thank-you cards but nevertheless they are sent out in many instances and I would like to know if they have to be signed?"

Answer: A card such as you describe requires no signature.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When open salt cellars are used at the table, is it proper to take the salt from these with the fingers, or should one of the table implements be used?"

Answer: If it is an individual salt cellar intended for your use alone, you may use your fingers. But if it is to be shared and there is no small spoon in it, then you would have to use whatever unused implement you have at your place.

THELMA ANN GREMORE

Wife Gossips, but Hubby Merely Learns the News

She Yaks on Telephone, He Discusses Important Business Matters

By RUTH MILLET

Will some big, strong man kindly explain to us women why it is . . .

That when she talks on the telephone it's yakking, but his calls are always on important business.

That what she learns at the bridge club is gossip, but what he learns during his lunch hour is news.

That if she is the one who wants to leave a party it's still the shank of the evening, but if he is the one who wants to go home it is late.

That if she refuses to do something he wants to do she is being unreasonable, but if he refuses to give in to her wishes he is just being sensible.

That if she gives him advice when he is at the wheel of the car she is a back-seat driver, but if he tells her how to drive he is just being helpful.

STUFFED SHIRT

That if he dislikes a handsome man it is because he is a stuffed shirt, but if she low-rates a good-looking woman it is because women always have it in for a good-looking woman.

That if he points out a man's shortcomings he is a good judge of character. But if she sees through another woman she is being catty.

That if she asks him several times to do something she is nagging, but if he keeps after her to do something he is trying to get her to be more businesslike.

That when he says he has been looking forward all day to a quiet evening at home it is always a night when she wants to go out.

That he never forgets it was her idea it doesn't turn out right, but never mentions whose idea it was if it does.

Care to explain this to us, any of you men?

Lucile McBane members met with Mrs. Fred Kline of Oneida road with Mrs. Walter Messer assisting. Participating in the program were Mrs. Floyd Levely and Mrs. Donald Upton.

Create Sparkling Illusion:

Revamp Lusterless Locks With Fresh Spring Style

There's something about springtime that creates a desire to start afresh in every possible way.

The drab winter is nearly over and most of us are irresistibly drawn to store windows featuring the new spring styles. We look forward eagerly to throwing off the heavy clothing we've been wearing for months. We want to meet the springtime looking sparkling and pretty.

And what more completely creates the illusion of being a new person than a new hair style?

The hairdos featured this coming seanson are simple and feminine. And they're easy to keep in place.

SHORT HAIR

Short hair still holds first place in popularity because it's neat and manageable. Curls are out of the picture; soft waves are very much in again.

One hair stylist claims that the low, side part will be seen frequently, with the top hair combed softly away from the face, and deep waves at the sides and back.

Since many of the hats featured this spring are reminiscent of the 1930's, another new hair style is a short, fluffed, youthful coiffure that springs loosely from a low side part. Thick, full bangs across the forehead show softly under the new deep, brimmed hats.

CURRENT TREND

The current trend in hair arrangement is simplicity. The classic line of flowing waves can be set off attractively by clever use of ribbon. This is a bright note for those of us who dislike wearing hats.

Of course, no matter how often hair fashions change, there are certain basic rules we should never forget.

Bangs, however popular, should not be worn if the forehead is low. If the forehead is narrow, the hair can be brushed straight back at the temples to advantage.

BROADEN FACE

Fullness at the sides broadens a narrow face; if the face is long, too, bangs are often becoming. So the gal with the long, narrow face can be in style easily this spring.

Ears that stand out should be covered, and there are many attractive ...tures that fall softly along th... les.

Whether you decide to buy a new Easter bonnet or just use ribbon to brighten your hairdo, you'll be delighted with the many soft, pretty styles you can select to make you feel as new and fresh as the springtime itself.

Auxiliary Marks 25th Birthday

Sixty members and guests attended the 25th anniversary of Auxiliary 396, National Association of Letter Carriers, held Saturday evening at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Mrs. Robert Jockwig, first president of the auxiliary, told of the organization of the auxiliary in 1932.

Travel Talk Heard by Women's Group

Following the cooperative dinner meeting of the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Wayne Reaves presented a travel talk on Southeast Asia.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. H. H. Pattison, plans were made for the family dinner on April 24. Mrs G. Eldred Mathes was in charge of the social hour during which a "meet a new member" program was conducted.

Apply Rouge Lightly

The average woman needs a small amount of rouge, lightly applied, in order to look well. Only movie stars and models can get by with lipstick and powder. And even some of the top models make regular use of rouge.

Iraq Caldron Plans Ceremonial Banquet

Plans were completed for the annual ceremonial banquet to be held April 22. Mrs Ray Haertter was appointed chairman of the event.

Hair Styled Longer

Men will like 1957 hairdos.

Stylists for a home permanent wave firm report that this year's trend is for longer hair.

Even if a hairdo looks short, they said, it isn't; because the latest styles require longer hair.

Bride-to-Be Tells Plans

Helen Schmidt, bride-elect of Glen Dick, has revealed plans for her May 4 wedding at Kirk in the Hills.

Parents of the engaged couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Schmidt of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. David Dick of Walled Lake.

The bride-elect has asked Mrs. Richard Hoehner to be her matron of honor. Bridesmaids will be Joanne Schmidt, sister of the bride-elect; Mrs. Robert Wallace, and Mary Ann Perkins of Cleveland.

Williams, Peltz to Confer Over New Highway Bill

Mackie to Study Problems Ahead

Possible Area of Conflict in Priority Designation of Trunkline Routes

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams and John C. Mackie, newly elected state highway commissioner, will get a chance to give their views on the big road bill of the legislative session before it comes out for debate.

The Governor said yesterday that he had been invited to do so by Rep. Emil A. Peltz (R-Rogers City), chairman of the House Roads and Bridges Committee.

Williams said he expected to sit down with Peltz and other committee members some time today, and that Mackie will meet with them later in the week after he has had more of a chance to study the measure.

The bill proposes a new allocation of state gasoline tax receipts and other state road revenues, with a larger share of counties and cities and 12 million dollars a year less for state road construction.

A possible area of conflict lies in divergencies between Peltz and the Governor as to whether certain trunkline routes designated in 1955 legislation should continue to be specifically ticketed for priority work.

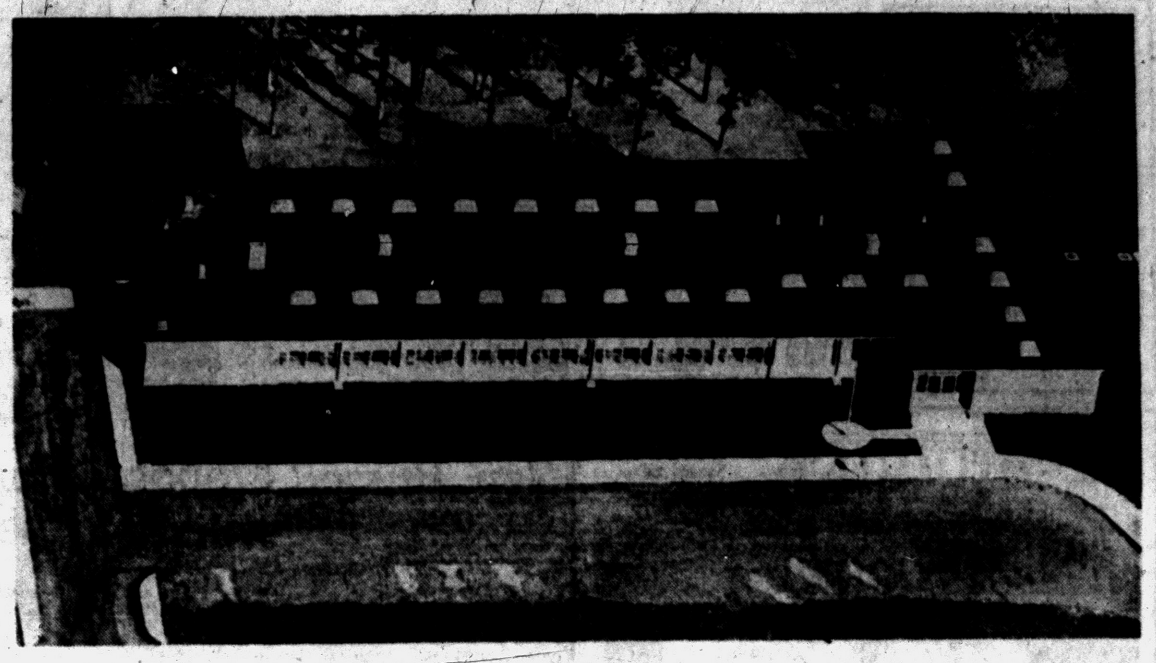

The bill as introduced by Peltz and others drops the so-called designated routes. Although he has not said so flatly, Williams has indicated he wants them to remain on a priority basis.

Williams declined to say exactly what points he intends to make in the discussions with Peltz.

Mackie appeared at the state capitol yesterday for the first time since his election on April 1. He does not take office until July 1.

After talking with the Governor, he said he plans to set up headquarters in Lansing within a couple of weeks and devote most of his time to getting better acquainted with the problems that will face him.

He said he is selling his surveying and engineering business in Flint and will resign as Genesee County surveyor.

FIRST OF FOUR — The same floor plan will be used in the four new Waterford Township elementary schools as McVittie School (above) on Midland Drive, according to William Shunck, superintendent. Two will be ready for occupancy in September, Shunck said.

4 New Schools to Take Names of Famous Michigan Settlers

In providing names for four new elementary schools in Waterford Township, the Board of Education has followed an established policy of honoring famous early Michigan settlers.

Extensive historical research was made by Mrs. Donald Adams and Marshall Smith, School Names Committee chairmen, and their selections have been approved by the Board of Education.

Two buildings, now under construction, and scheduled to be ready for operation in September are the William Beaumont School on Elizabeth Lake Road and the Henry R. Schoolcraft School on Maceday Drive. Two others will be named after Thomas M. Cooley and Laura Smith Haveland.

Beaumont was a famous physician and surgeon who lived in upper Michigan in 1833. He distinguished himself by performing outstanding experiments on Alexis St. Martin, and published his findings in volumes that have proven invaluable to medical science.

TOURED WEST

Schoolcraft was an explorer, publisher and geologist. Born in 1793, he toured the west, compiling and editing literature, and founded the Michigan Historical Society of Detroit. In 1832, he discovered the source of the Mississippi River and published 31 important documents on his findings for the federal government.

Cooley was born of New England parentage in 1824. He came to Michigan when he was 19, studied law and was elected to the Legislature to compile the laws of the state.

Later, he was elected a justice of the Supreme Court, published volumes on Michigan laws of taxation and was the first chairman of the U. S. Interstate Committee.

Miss Haveland was born in 1808 in Ontario. After her marriage, she and her husband moved to the Michigan Territory and opened a manual labor school for area children. It was named Raisin Institute.

During the Civil War, she sold the school and worked as a nurse in camps and hospitals. She was also instrumental in the founding of the State Industrial Home for Girls at Adrian.

Sheriff Bans Visitors

RIVERHEAD, N.Y. (AP)—Suffolk County Sheriff Charles Dominy has barred what he calls "self-styled missionaries and banjo-playing evangelists" from visiting prisoners in the county jail.

Dominy said he took the action to prevent possible jailbreaks.

"It isn't any kind of feat to hide a submachinegun in a banjo case," he said.

Mackinac's Ferries on Spring Schedule

The State Highway Department announced yesterday that effective today service will be available every hour on the hour, with Mackinaw City departures running from 5 a.m. to 1 a.m. and those from St. Ignace from 4 a.m. to midnight.

During the winter, service was on a two-hour basis.

Today, the cty of Munising was to join the Vacationland which has been plying the Straits all winter in a solo operation.

On Thursday, the Vacatonland will put in for its spring checkup, with its place to be taken by the Cheboygan.

The Vacationland got stuck on a mud bank last week, but was freed without serious damage.

The summer schedule, with three ferries operating, is expected to start on about May 21.

Pontiac Crime Increases Less Than National Rate

Crime increased in 1956 throughout the country and Pontiac was no exception, according to Herbert W. Straley, chief of Pontiac Police.

Yet, the crime rate increase in Pontiac was below the national level for cities of a comparable size, he added in his just completed 1956 annual report. He attributed this factor to "stepped up patrol activities and increased emphasis on investigation of crimes reported."

Last year, the total number of actual offenses (3,201) reported in the city showed an increase of 11.96 per cent over the 1955 record. Yet, Straley reported, a decrease of six per cent in arrests other than traffic offenses was shown when the total 3,258 persons arrested was compared to the 1955 record.

The traffic and safety bureau's accelerated enforcement and safety education program were major reasons why 1956 chalked up a 62½ per cent decrease in accident fatalities, Straley said. A 17.3 per cent decrease in total persons injured in accidents was also reported.

HERBERT W. STRALEY
Chief of Police

NO FATALITIES

Six fatalities occurred in 1956, compared to 16 the previous year. To date, there have been no fatal accidents since October, 1956.

Excluding beats on foot and motorcycle records, Pontiac policemen traveled 645,000 miles during their 24-hour schedules to follow up the 49,405 calls received over the switchboard last year.

Other crimes which predominated in number throughout the year were concerned with drunk driving (289), liquor laws (194), disorderly conduct (174), assault and battery (145), and family offenses (90).

Six murder cases occurred in 1956.

A decrease of 45.5 per cent in juvenile complaints was noted in 1956, compared to the previous year. Juvenile detail officers and policewomen handled 515 complaints during last year, Straley continued.

Of these, 304 involved boys for various crimes, although 357 were concerned with boys and traffic violations.

Complaints against teenage girls also showed an improvement last year. The 211 complaints showed a 34.8 per cent decrease.

"Despite all that is being said about the increase of juvenile crime, our officers in the juvenile detail have made great progress in keeping it to a minimum," the chief commented.

—A four man vice squad was responsible for 493 arrests throughout the year with March having the highest number—75. Of these, 386 persons were convicted, 56 were dismissed, 36 are still pending, 11 have been turned over to other authorities and only nine persons were released.

The Traffic Violations Bureau conducted business with more than 65,000 persons by issuing 18,146 new drivers' licenses, registering changes of addresses for 5,473 others and processing 38,443 traffic tickets, 862 dog license violations and 1935 bicycle licenses.

Finally, Straley praised the Pontiac Police reserve officers who were "very active" and "assisted regular officers in almost every type of police duty, especially public gathering and celebrations."

They donated more than 4,200 manhours of their own time without compensation and permitted regular officers to be on duties elsewhere in the city, he stressed.

Outlining the construction and operation changes made in 1956, Straley reports the Federal Communications Commission assigned a new radio frequency "for exclusive use of Pontiac police."

NEW SWITCHBOARD

In January, preparations were made for installation of a new and larger exchange switchboard and police radio dispatching desk by remodeling the police station lobby.

After a survey of the police telephone communications system, two trunk lines were added to make the total seven plus an automatic inter-communications arrangement. The previous switchboard was located outside of police headquarters in the fire alarm signal shed at Mill and Pike streets.

Other radio improvements in 1956 included the installation of a new base radio station. Fifteen new mobile radio units and others were modernized in all police cars, motocycles and trucks making approximatey 30 in all.

Radio receiving sets to monitor calls of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and Michigan State Police and surrounding communities were also placed in the vehicles.

Receiving sets tuned to the Pontiac Police frequency were set up at the Sheriff's Department and the Pontiac State Police post to monitor the city police calls. For emergency communications, Straley said a transmitting and receiving radio set tuned to a special frequency "Inter-City" band was purchased. Point-to-point operations can be made within a 35 mile radius.

Other equipment purchased in 1956 for police use include: a tape recorder for statements and interrogations; new photographic processing equipment for the Identificiations and Records Bureau; 12 automatic lock shotgun holders, 14 "riot type" 12 gauge shotguns and four repeating rifles installed in all patrol and several detective cars.

Three appointments made last year were: Sgt. Medford Pittman, full time court officer for police cases in municipal and circuit court; Capt. Walter Krause, night commanding officer in charge and Range Officer Robert Verhine, full time ordnance officer, station armorer and firearms instructor.

TV Quiz Show Whiz Pays Huge Tax Sum

NEW YORK (AP)—Theodore Nadler, the St. Louis clerk who has amassed $152,000 in television quiz show winnings, started handing over a big chunk of it to Uncle Sam yesterday.

He wrote a check for $29,700 as a first payment on his federal income tax. He said he figures his 1957 state and federal income tax already stands at $81,000.

Nadler boosted his total take to $152,000 Sunday night on CBS-TV's "The $64,000 Challenge." He may appear on the program again to try to win more if a qualified challenger shows up.

"I'd like to go home and rest up awhile," said Nadler. "I've been coming back and forth for about 25 weeks so I don't know whether I'm coming or going."

He said he had taken a year's leave of absence from his $70-a-week job in an Army supply depot in St. Louis.

Royal Oak Youth Jailed, Admits Break-Ins, Theft

A 17-year-old Royal Oak youth who admitted four church breakins was sentenced yesterday by Circuit Court Judge Frank L. Doty to 1½-15 years in State Prison of Southern Michigan.

Anthony Prano, of 2204 Kenneth St., specifically pleaded guilty to taking $5 March 20 from the Calvary Temple Church, 2203 E. Eleven Mile Rd. He also admitted two gas station breakins.

Reds Kidnap Snark? AF Says No!

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Air Force conceded today that no trace of its million-dollar runaway missile has turned up in five months, but pooh-poohed a suggestion that the truant robot might have been "kidnaped" by the Russians.

The firm belief at Air Force headquarters is that the speeding "Snark" crashed somewhere deep in the Brazilian jungle and by now is completely covered by tropical vegetation.

A recent Navy statement that Russian submarines have increased their "wanderings" in the Atlantic apparently prompted the thought that the secretive Soviet subs might have figured out how to send their own orders to the Snark, which was fired from the Floriad coast Dec. 5.

Since the missile sped more than 3,000 miles out of control, it would have been theoretically possible for a well-equipped submarine to give the robot an order which would have brought it down where Soviet agents could get their hands on it.

Air headquarters, however, marshalled these arguments against the possibility:

1. The missile wasn't obeying electronic orders. U.S. stations told it to turn in its course and then flatly ordered it to destroy itself, but the missile refused to do either. There was no evidence that this disobedience was caused by enemy interference.

MISSILE ENTERED BRAZIL

2. The missile was tracked on a straight-line course until after it had passed over the Brazilian coastline, just above the mouth of the Amazon river. Therefore if a Russian submarine changed the course, this would have been under the most difficult circumstances when the missile was overland.

3. There is reason to believe that the malfunction which sent the Snark out of control was similar to the trouble that caused an Air Force "Matador" to crash near Albuquerque, N. M., March 10.

Both are pilotless-plane types of missiles. The intercontinental Snark is designed for 5,000 miles travel, while the smaller Matador has a range of about 600 miles.

Neither missile would heed any orders. Air headquarters refused to admit any but the most remote theoretical possibility that the Soviets, especially at their distance from New Mexico, could have taught U.S. missiles to ignore U.S. instructions

Russians Study New Arms Plan

U.S. Proposes Freeze on Regular Weapons Before U.N. Committee

LONDON (AP)—Russia has promised to give close study to a new U.S. disarmament proposal. A two-step plan would ultimately freeze 25 per cent of the major powers' conventional arms in a common pool.

U.S. disarmament expert Harold Stassen broached the idea yesterday before the U.N. Disarmament subcommittee discussing plans for arms reductions. Russia, the United States, Britain, France and Canada are the members.

Informed sources said Stassen told the closed session that, as a first step, the five nations should place 10 per cent of their nonnuclear weapons, ships and other military equipment under international control. This would go into effect one year after an agreement was signed and ratified.

A reduction to agreed manpower levels would be taken at the same time. All five nations have agreed to cut the levels to 2½ million for Russia and the United States and 750,000 for Britain and France.

If this step were carried out satisfactorily, Stassen said, he would then recommend to the U.S. government that it agree to retire another 15 per cent of its conventional arms.

Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin termed Stassen's proposal "very important" and promised to give it careful study.

Western observers described the session — 99th since the subcommittee was formed in 1954 — as the "best so far." They stressed, however, that the talks were still at a highly theoretical stage.

Detectives Catch Boys Building Fence on Rails

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Railroad detectives say they caught three teen-age boys building a fence across the Pennsylvania main line tracks to the south. They had used half a dozen wooden crates, cardboard cartons, stones and rocks.

The obstruction was removed. The boys were charged with malicious mischief.

Sen. Russell Opposes Foreign Aid Plan Leading to Perpetual Spending Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said today he will oppose any part of the administration's new foreign aid program that might lead to "a perpetuity of spending abroad."

A number of other senators, including Fulbright (D-Ark) and Capehart (R-Ind) applauded, however, a proposal to set up a fund to provide loans for economic development abroad and put all foreign aid on a long-range basis.

A major point in the new approach, as it was outlined by Secretary of State Dulles, is a lending program he said might reach as high as 750 million dollars annually in the years ahead.

Tied in with this is the recommendation that funds for economic assistance be separated from appropriations for military arms aid and defense support for countries with which the United States has military defense agreements. The arms aid would be included in the appropriations bill for the Defense Department.

Fulbright told interviewers that authorization of these military aid and defense support funds should be placed under the jurisdiction of the Armed Services Committee.

He said its emphasis should be placed on loans for aiding underdeveloped countries to build roads, ports, irrigation, power and other projects that will enable them ultimately to become self-supporting.

But Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said the Dulles program "looks far into the future."

"While I am in favor of making economic development assistance we authorized in the form of loans, I am not going to support anything that lends itself to making the foreign aid program a permanent affair."

He raised a similar objection in questioning Dulles yesterday, but Dulles said he thought private industry could take over the financing after a proper economic climate had been created.

Sen. Bridges (NH), chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee applauded the move to shift economic aid to a loan basis "if its object is to save money."

Denies Line-Up Against Rights

Senator Says No Bloc Formed to Slow Up Issue in Congress

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eastland (D-Miss) said today there is no agreement between Republicans and Southern Democrats to delay action by Congress on a civil rights program until next year.

Eastland, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee which is considering an administration bill, was asked if he had any such agreement with Republican members.

"No, sir," Eastland replied. Then he added with a grin: "I wish I had."

Chairman Bridges (NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee said he knew of no agreement, informal or otherwise, to stall action on civil rights. Bridges favors the administration bill. Eastland opposes it.

There have been some published reports that Republicans would be willing to go along with a delay which would keep the issue alive to provide an election year split among Democrats in 1958.

Southern Democratic opponents have shown they are willing to seize any opportunity to delay a showdown on a program most of them fear will win Congress' approval if it ever reaches a showdown vote.

Their hopes of avoiding such a vote were raised somewhat yesterday when committees of both houses delayed action on similar bills.

Southerners have made it clear they will filibuster any attempt to bring the bill up in the Senate. With money bills and other legislation piled up after the Easter break, leaders might find it difficult to give up several weeks to the civil rights fight if they expect to wind up Congress' work by Aug. 1.

Plastic Pill Radio Tells Inside Story of Man's Tummy

A doctor holds a radio receiver close to the patient's body and picks up the signals from inside. The traveling radio transmits data on muscular contractions and fluid or gaseous pressures.

The radio is a tiny transistor oscillator. It has a life of from 15 to 24 hours.

The capsule takes from two to six days to pass through the body.

Dr. Vladimir K. Zworykin, television tube pioneer, and Dr. John T. Farrar of the New York Veterans Administration hospital demonstrated the pill. Zworykin designed the pill at Farrar's suggestion.

Zworykin said the cost of development was $10,000. He estimated the pills could be mass-produced for $25 or $30 apiece.

The pill has been tested on two patients. Further tests are getting under way at the veterans hospital.

Ask House for Code on Conflict of Interest

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hollifield (D-Calif) said today a House subcommittee he heads will prepare "a finding on principles" to govern officials whose private and public interests may conflict.

A clarification in that field was asked yesterday by Robert Tripp Ross, who resigned as assistant secretary of defense after congressional inquiry into military contracts with companies owned by his wife's family.

Ross has steadfastly insisted he did not use his position in any way to further the affairs of the Wynn Enterprises and affiliated companies owned principally by Mrs. Ross and her brother Herbert D. Wynn. He contended he derived no benefit personally from the contracts they were awarded.

However, he resigned Feb. 14, saying the investigations had impaired his usefulness in the Defense Department post.

Britishers Admit Fog Over War Science

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — No need to feel alone if you have the feeling you don't know where you're heading because science is moving so fast in finding new ways to make war.

The British, who have had plenty of their own scientists working on weapons, have just made the astonishing admission they're only now beginning to see through the scientific fog around war in the future.

Some recent events explain what's been happening and what looms ahead.

President Eisenhower at Bermuda promised British Prime Minister Macmillan this country would supply Britain with an intermediate ballistic missile, capable of carrying a nuclear warhead 1,500 miles, when it's ready.

When will it be ready? This past week Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said perhaps within months. That could be a year. He's chairman of the Senate's Armed Services Committee, which had just received secret testimony from Air Force officials.

This country is also developing intercontinental ballistic missiles, able to go 5,000 miles, but they are further from completion than the 1,500-mile type.

Russia suddenly began warning Britain, West Germany, the Netherlands, Denmark, Norway and Greece to expect annihilation in case of war if they let the United States build atomic bases — missile bases, no doubt — in their territory.

If this is the American government's plan, the public here doesn't know of it yet. Russia may have been guessing, or have had inside information through espionage, or have been expecting the worst.

But last Thursday Britain startled the world — but hardly the leaders of her allies, who must have known what was coming — by announcing she would now rely mainly on nuclear weapons and cut her traditional military establishment sharply.

So the British planned on having guided missiles and a reduced air force because they'll rely more on ground-to-air missiles to stop attacking planes. They have atom bombs, hope soon to have hydrogen ones.

They will keep a small mobile army for emergency situations. Their greatest hope for discouraging a Russian attack will be their nuclear weapons and the nuclear power of the United States.

There was concern expressed that this move by Britain might encourage other members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to reduce their forces too.

They probably will, also putting their main reliance on nuclear weapons. West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer is already calling for atomic weapons.

It is not hard for Russia, ringed now by American bomber bases, to foresee the day when she will be ringed by missile bases. But meanwhile the Russians are developing their own missiles.

Soon it will be a question: Who's scaring whom? It's possible American allies will be scared by the closeness of Russian missiles and begin to lose interest in alliances which might invite Russia to start a war if they don't deter her.

So while a new era of defense and attack is opening, a whole new era of problems begins for the United States.

Chinese 'Comrades' Gambling Addicts

HONG KONG (AP)—An evil old capitalistic liftover — gamgling — is still causing trouble in Communist China. An official Red newspaper suggests that addicts take up chess.

The Kiangsi Province Daily News, reporting that gambling was still a "serious" problem, commented "these comrades have not yet developed a high level of political consciousness."

"Why have they addicted themselves to this evil practice, and not to wholesome recreational activities such as seeing movies, reading books, playing ball and chess games?" it asked.

Alexandria, Egypt, will buy 100 to 115 diesel buses this year.

Another year will put 25 candles on the birthday cake of the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association, but the completion of this 24th season will go down in the organization's record book as its most successful in history.

The PWBA has grown from its original membership of 68 in 1933-34 to the 1957 record of 5,500 women.

As bowling interest grew among women, the membership of the PWBA also grew. The greatest period of growth came between 1947 and 1951 when membership figures leaped from 1,872 to 3,159.

In the past year, over 500 have been added, and the 24th annual tournament just completed also reached an all-time high with 900 participating bowlers.

Many women have been connected with the PWBA since its organization, and some of the charter members like Dorothy Case, Ann Wilson, Lee Nolan, Phoebe Slack, Mable Lahiss, Elsie Teschke, Peg Bender and others have bowled continuously since the PWBA's childhood.

Oddly enough, bowling hasn't been the sole function of the organization. The PWBA has been proud of its part in the community through charity relations.

Since 1944 when part of the membership dues included a 25-cent contribution to its charity program, the PWBA has donated $10,875.75. And that's an accurate figure down to the penny.

For the season coming to an end, a new high of $1,456 in charity donations was reported by Margaret Brede, chairman of contributions for the PWBA.

The PWBA has a right to be proud of its 24-year record.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

During the recent Masters Golf Tournament there was a car spotted in the area of the clubhouse which said, "Ben Hogan for president." Someone asked the driver what he meant and he replied, "If we must have a president who plays golf, lets have a good golfer."

Tommy Watrous, son of Oakland Hills pro Al Watrous, may turn to the pro ranks after the NCAA golf tournament in June. Unless there is a conflict with the NCAA dates, Tom may accompany his dad to the International Seniors Match in Glasgow, Scotland, in June.

First Spring Drill Finds Duffy Optimistic

EAST LANSING (AP) — "Hustle" read the motto over the dressing room door and "more hustle" was the order from Coach Duffy Daugherty as Michigan State opened spring football practice.

The weather made a mockery of the "spring" tag for the start of the session as a piercing wind blew across the practice field and the temperature nosed down to 30 degrees.

By late yesterday afternoon, 163 candidates were in uniform. Daugherty and his squad of assistants soon made order out of the mob scene which included 28 lettermen.

He's a seasoned campaigner after the disappointment of a 3-6 season his 1st year, the glory that came with an 8-1 record and a Rose Bowl win the 2nd year and the mixture of glory and grief during the 1956 season that resulted in a 7-2 record.

But Daugherty is unchanged in his optimism.

"We should have a strong team," he said. "They look like a pretty good group. But I'll know more in a couple of weeks.

"We have to find a lot of answers this spring," he said. "So it's going to be work and hustle all the way."

One main problem, Daugherty said, will be to find capable replacements for such players as halfback Clarence Peaks, quarterback Pat Wilson, center John Matsko and end Jim Hinesly—all gone with graduation—plus tackle Joel Jones, lost through a knee operation.

Another question to be answered is the physical shape of a long list of graduates from the hospital corps—all down last season with knee or leg injuries.

These include right halfs Walt Kowalczyk and Art Johnson, ends Dave Kaiser and Bob Jewett and tackle Pat Burke, the team captain.

"We're going to work a lot on conditioning this year to try and avoid those injuries," Daugherty said.

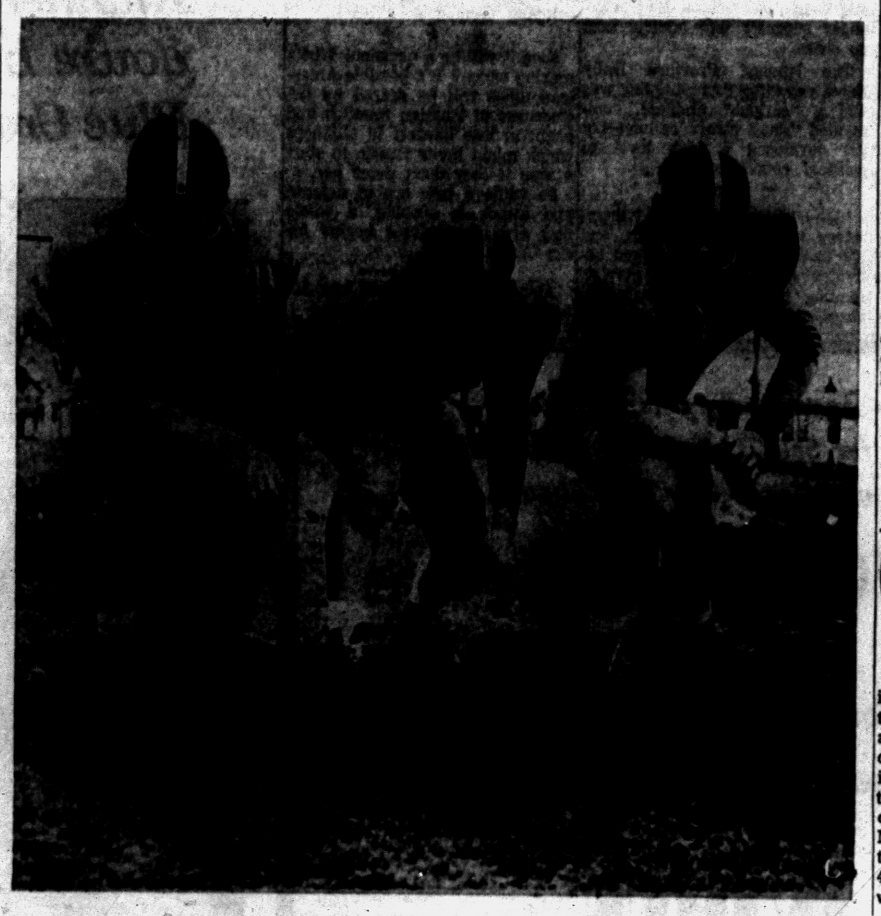

Jim Ninowski of Detroit was hospitalized with the 24-hour flu so when the first team lined up Mike Panitch was at quarterback. Ninowski and Panitch both were apprentice passers running the team behind Wilson last year.

"I hope to find our starting quarterback early and solve that problem," Daugherty said. Kowalczyk got the call at right half.

"He seems to be running good and appears to be over that injury," Daugherty said. "That bothered him more than most people realized last year."

Blanche Martin, a junior from River Rouge and only letterman at the position, was at left half. Don Gilbert, a senior from Dubois, Pa., ran from quarterback.

Stengel Names Yanks for AL's 1957 Top Spot

However, Casey Says It Will Not Be Easy Task for Bombers

But the veteran skipper doesn't believe the Yanks' task will be as simple as most experts visualize.

"The league is better," said Casey. "Those second division teams have youth and youth always is trying to win. Baltimore has good pitching, Kansas City has made trades to improve and Washington has some good pitching and a lot of new young men.

"I'd say Chicago is better because it has more pitching and more pinch hitters. Cleveland always has pitching but they don't know about third base and their outfield. Boston has a great outfit but they aren't sure about the rest of their team."

Stengel, who has won seven American League flags and six World Series in eight years at the Bombers' helm, has his club just about set. He's particularly happy about Tony Kubek, 21-year-old rookie outfielder, and the depth of his pitching staff.

Open Home Track Sked

Chiefs Face Indians Today

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac High today sets off on its 1957 Saginaw Valley Conference track campaign the favorite over a good Flint Central outfit. Today's meet at Wisner field, starting at 4 p.m., is the first outdoor test of the season for Dean Wilson's crew that finished behind Flint Northern last Friday in the Central Michigan invitational, 54.9 to 40 points. Flint Central's team was 5th with 10.2 points.

Chief competition is expected from Indians' dash men, and Capus Robinson in the hurdles, Ponte Brown in the shot, plus several good broad jumpers, and a couple of distance runners.

PHS Jayvees also get their first outdoor test this week. They oppose Royal Oak High here on Wednesday at 4 p.m. Waterford's Skippers were due for a varsity dual meet on the Chiefs' track on Friday and Grosse Pointe sends its varsity thinclads here next Tuesday afternoon.

Other SVC track events this week send Bay City to Arthur Hill today; Saginaw at Arthur Hill Friday; Bay City at Northern Friday.

High hurdles — Lessie Watkins, Jim Hawkins, Jim Mathis.
Medley relay — Tom Conley, Hastings Martin, Dave Payne, John Phlegm.
100-yard dash — Joe Hill, Marcus Turner, Dick Keller.
Mile — Roger Coates, Tom Sampey.
440-yard dash — Archie Brooks, Andy Ramsey, Jones, Harvey Hessel.
Low hurdles — Watkins, Keller.
220-yard dash — Hill, D. Payne, Alex Barge, Harrison Munson.
880 — Larry Beamer, Charley Barge, Andy Hoover, Walt Chance.
880 relay — Hill, Phlegm, Hawkins, Archie Brooks.
Polt vault — Mike McClusky, Bob Finley, Herron, Bill Jamison.

Velzy Sets State Record in 'Y' Swimming Meet

Jim Velzy set a new state record and won two events as Pontiac's YMCA junior and prep swimming teams finished 4th and 5th respectively in the state 'Y' meet over the weekend in the Youth Building pool at Battle Creek.

Velzy, swimming in the prep division (ages 9-12), won the 25-yard orthodox breaststroke and the 25-yard butterfly breaststroke to score 14 of his team's 17 points. His time of 17 seconds flat in the orthodox event was a new state mark.

Gary Allen placed 5th in the orthodox breaststroke and Dick Richards took 6th in diving to account for the prep squad's remaining three points.

The junior tankers (ages 13-14) scored 24 points. Mike Harrington came in 2nd in the 50-yard orthodox breaststroke, John Blamy finished 2nd in the 50-yard backstroke, Ed Kummert placed 3rd in the same event and the 200-yard medley relay team of Blamy, Bruce Norvell, Harrington and Tom Eley also took 2nd.

Harrington's time of 35.2 seconds in the orthodox event tied last year's state record, but still was not good enough to beat Stechman of Grand Rapids, whose effort of 34.1 set a new mark.

Highland Park Northern won both divisions with 64 points in each class. The junior runners-up were Lansing, Grand Rapids, Pontiac, and Saginaw. Lansing, Grand Rapids, Saginaw and Pontiac came next in the prep class.

PREPS — Highland Park Northern 64, Lansing 44, Grand Rapids 38½, Saginaw 21, Pontiac 17, Bay City 12, Detroit Western 9½, Flint 7, Detroit St. Antoine 2, Detroit Hannan 2, Jackson 1.

BREAKS RECORD — Jim Velzy, 12-year-old breaststroker for coach Fred Honeycut's Pontiac YMCA prep swimming team, set a new state record and won two events in last Saturday's state "Y" tank meet at Battle Creek. Velzy won the 25-yard butterfly and his time of 17 seconds flat in the 25-yard orthodox chopped 2.2 seconds off the old state record.

Detroit Stroh's Bowlers Take Over ABC Spotlight

The big threat in the open team division is the Stroh's Beer team of Detroit, featuring Buzz Fazio. Another power-laden squad is the Shurhooks outfit from Akron, Ohio which boasts the mighty Dick Hoover. Hoover won the ABC Masters tournament last year.

Mechanis Laundry of Indianapolis rolled 2886 in the team competition last night, far behind the pacesetting 3126 posted by the Peter Hand Reserve Beer of Chicago, which leads the division. Carl Indel anchored the team with 202-237-209—648.

Jack Williams, 39, of Mason City, Iowa, rolled into seventh place in the singles yesterday with a 703 series, the seventh 700 set in that category so far.

Dupas Pounds Out Decision

Vince Martinez Falls to New Orleans Boxer in Lightweight Bout

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Foxy Jack Kearns, a shrewd judge of boxing in anybody's book, conceded today Ralph Dupas is "one of the best lightweights in the world," but disagreed with the decision giving the New Orleans dandy his victory over high-ranked welterweight Vince Martinez.

Kearns, who steered Jack Dempsey to the heavyweight title almost 40 years ago, was in Martinez' corner last night when the handsome Paterson, N.J., puncher finished second best to Dupas in 10 rounds.

But the verdict met with the approval of the great majority of the 10,800 fans who paid $41,200 to sit in on the event in chilly Pelican baseball stadium.

Martinez opened a deep gash in the corner of Dupas' right eye in the third round and the wound harrassed him the rest of the bout.

Bow to Phillies

Tigers Heading Home

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Give the Detroit Tigers a dozen runs in the right places and they would be heading home today with a sparkling spring exhibition record.

They lost 15 spring games in Florida, 10 of them by one run.

The Tigers closed the Florida phase of their spring training on a typical note yesterday. They dropped a 6-5 decision to the Philadelphia Phillies.

There were some bright spots in the defeat:

1. Rookies took the licking from the Phillies. Manager Jack Tighe gave most of the Tiger regulars a day off.

2. Charley Maxwell, a batting terror all spring, socked a single in the 8th inning to extend to seven the number of consecutive games in which he has hit safely.

3. The rookies did all right for themselves at the plate. They got nine hits, including a triple by Ron Samford and a double by Reno Bertoia.

On the debit side for the Tigers was the work of Paul Foytack, one of the hurlers Tighe is counting on for regular starting—and finishing—assignments.

The Phillies got to Foytack for nine hits in six innings. Four of their runs, all earned, came off Foytack. Rookie first baseman Ed Bouchee had the biggest celebration at the expense of Foytack, pounding out a homer, a double and a single.

Samford's triple and Frank House's single helped the Tigers to two runs in the 2nd inning and a short-lived lead.

Earl Torgeson came through with a pinch hit single to score Bertoia, who had doubled, for one Detroit run in the 7th.

Detroit made a futile stab at saving the game in the 9th. Trailing by three runs, Samford started a rally with a single through the box. Then, with two out, Jim Small hit behind 1st base. Samford rolled home from 3rd on Roberts' wild pitch. Jack Dittmer singled between first and second, sending Small home. J. W. Porter tapped an infield grounder to end the rally and the game.

Tighe gave Bob Kennedy, a 36-year-old outfielder, his release yesterday before the Tigers broke camp. Kennedy signed on with the Chicago White Sox, from whom the Tigers obtained him last summer.

Illinois Woman Hits 300 Game

GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP) — Mrs. Mary Pashoff of Granite City last night rolled the first 300 game shot this season by a woman in league competition.

She sandwiched the perfect game in between games of 176 and 195 for a 671 series in a chemical company league.

A bowler for 15 years, Mrs. Pashoff holds a combined 178-average in league play. She bowls four nights a week.

Detroiters Dominate Badminton Tourney

Veteran Detroit stars dominated the annual Michigan Closed Badminton Tournament held over the past weekend at Cranbrook.

Fred Triffonoft won men's singles honors. Mrs. John Sirwaiths won women's title, teamed with Mary Connor for doubles honors. Bill Anderson was another two-event winner. He and Vic Pritula won men's doubles and he joined Mary Connor to sweep the mixed doubles.

Umpires' Clinic Begins April 15 at Pontiac High

The annual clinic for softball and baseball umpires, conducted by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, is scheduled three straight Monday nights—April 15, 22 and 29.

Classes will take place at Pontiac High School in Room 105 and the boys' gymnasium. Baseball umpires will meet at 7 o'clock while softball officials convene at 8 p.m.

New rule changes, various aspects of umpire field situations, officiating assignments and league policies are up for discussion and application.

Persons interested in being considered for officiating assignments during the 1957 season are urged to attend this clinic.

Celtics Face Crucial Test

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics stand at the crossroads tonight in their National Basketball Assn. playoff game with St. Louis.

Boston never has had the lead in the best-of-7 series against the Hawks but has managed to rally twice. The teams are locked in a 2-2 standoff.

Bidding for their first championship in the 11-year history of the NBA, favored Boston must make its bid now.

If the Celts lose tonight in friendly Boston Garden, they would be prime candidates for elimination in St. Louis Thursday.

St. Louis can lose tonight and be in a favorable position to tie things up again at home.

School Survey Shows

Aid for Athletes Favored

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Financial aid to athletes is favored in an opinion survey conducted by Loyola University of Los Angeles.

Dr. A. D. Aloia, associated professor of education, said 471 replies were received from 990 questionnaires sent to college presidents, coaches, high school principals, athletes, alumni, sports-writers and sports fans all over the nation.

Results announced yesterday included:

A total of 407 favored some aid to athletes.

It was nearly unanimous that all athletes, not football players alone, should receive aid.

A majority favored using the athlete's financial needs as the primary basis for aid. And aid to athletes also should be on a basis similar to other scholarships which involve need, academics and leadership.

Alumni should not control aid to athletes; rather, it should be under direct control of the college president and his faculty, with some approval of other combinations of faculty, athletic officials and alumni, or faculty alone, or the president and some other group.

Writers Pick Tigers for 3rd

DETROIT (AP) — The state's sports writers and broadcasters, who last year correctly forecast that the Detroit Tigers would finish 5th in the American League, see the Tigers climbing to 3rd place in 1957.

Member newspapers and radio stations who responded to an Associated Press questionnaire picked the Tigers to finish as high as 1st place and as low as 5th — the spot they've held for the past three seasons.

Nary's 69 Tops Pros

CAMDEN, S. C. (AP)—Bill Nary of Wayne, Mich., fired a three-under-par 69 yesterday to top the pros and teamed with amateur T. Van Hough of Camden to tie for first place in a pro-am tournament at the Camden Country Club.

Nary got $150 first place money out of $1,600 up for the 14 pros who were invited to play.

Bowlerama Continues Saturday

By CHUCK ABAIR

Second of three big weekends in the Pontiac Press Bowlerama comes up this Saturday with 233 more bowlers vieing for the right to enter the finals set for April 20.

The way the scoring goes in this final round of qualifying will determine finalists in both the men's and women's divisions. The top 10 per cent at each qualifying location will be eligible for the finals.

All women in the singles handicap event, 108 of them, will be competing Saturday. A total of 261 men took part in the initial session last weekend. Another 125 are scheduled this week.

At least 50 of the 494 total entrits will battle for championship honors, about 11 in the women's department.

The same three bowling establishments which were used for the 1st round will handle the hotly-contested keg race Saturday. They are Auburn Lanes, Land-O-Lakes and Dixie Recreation. Finals will be at Huron Bowl.

Beginning of women's competition will be a big feature of the "crucial" 3rd qualifying day along with the desperate attempts of the remaining male keglers to overtake the current leaders.

Many of the women are fresh from outstanding showings in the Women's State Tournament at Flint last weekend, while some of the top names in local men's circles are scheduled to bowl in this session.

They have some tough scores to shoot at to make the finals with 13 or 14 to be chosen from each alley. Howard Compton of Clarkston set the pace last weekend with 694 followed by Lee Miller at 687.

Land-O-Lakes contestants will have to hit at least 624 to break in among the leaders. It is even tougher at Dixie with the low a fine 630. Auburn Lanes bowlers have the best opportunity to advance with the low there currently 604.

There will be an abundance of awards for the leading performers when the final scores are known. Six prizes are guaranteed in each division with the champions winning over $400 and $200 and handsome desk sets. All qualifiers automatically win $5 with the six top performers at each house eligible for Press trophies in addition.

Trailing Boston Promises Trouble for Habs Tonight

MONTREAL (INS)—The Boston Bruins, already a game down, promised to be a "lot tougher" tonight in their second Stanley Cup playoff game against Montreal's terrible trio of Maurice Richard, Boom-Boom Geoffrion and Jean Beliveau.

Canadiens became big favorites to win the Stanley Cup for a second year in a row after they crushed Boston, 5 to 1, Saturday.

Bruins claimed the long ride early Saturday tired them out for the opening game and said they would make a better showing this evening at the Forum.

Richard scored four goals and Geoffrion one in the first game of the best-of-seven post-season National Hockey League series.

Counting the points they scored in taking the preliminary set with the New York Rangers in five games, Geoffrion now leads the trio with 13. Richard follows with 11 and Beliveau has 10.

Gordie Howe of Detroit set the playoff scoring record in 1954-55, tallying 20 points in 11 games.

Hanks to Drive Unique Racer at Indianapolis

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A race car that will almost certainly have the screwiest engine setup in the Indianapolis Speedway classic this year will be driven in the 500-mile race Memorial Day by Sam Hanks.

Hanks was signed yesterday to pilot the "sideway engine" Belond Exhaust Special, designed by George Salih of Whittier. The engine is placed almost horizontially on its side. Hanks said it offers a lower center of gravity, less wind resistance and more even distribution of stress and strain on the wheels.

Inglis Rejects MHRC Request

DETROIT (AP) — State racing commissioner James Inglis yesterday turned down Michigan Horsemen's Racing Club's application for a 24-night harness racing season at Northville Downs.

Louis Colombo Jr., attorney for the racing club, said the racing club would file suit against Inglis, contesting his decision. Inglis' 5,000-word statement of rejection listed 10 reasons for denying the racing club's application.

He said, among other things, that the application was received too late to be considered with other applications for 1957 dates, another raceway has made prior application for the dates in question, Oct. 7 to Nov. 1, the racing club's financial plan is vague, and approval of the application would not be in the public interest.

'Big Four' Shelled in Spring Drills

Brooklyn Pitchers Taking Early Lumps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Manager Walter Alston of the Brooklyn Dodgers has been singing the melodious strains of the confident theme this spring, but the plight of his first-line pitchers could find him whistling the blues.

Not one of Alston's big four — Roger Craig, Don Newcombe, Sal Maglie, and Johnny Podres — has gone the full nine inning distance in a Grapefruit League game.

Podres, released from the Navy because of a bad back, has managed to stick around for seven innings, Newcombe has gone six three times, Maglie has gone six and Craig has reached five.

But the Dodger skipper maintains "it's not necessary for a man to go nine in these games," and figures his twirlers will be ready for the season's opener a week from today.

Craig has had about the most dismal spring, pitching only 16 innings, after being sidelined by an elbow ache, and later for 11 days by a sore throat.

Young Rog yesterday was bounced in the second inning for a pinch hitter after giving up five runs in a lone inning as the Dodgers bowed to the Milwaukee Braves 8-5.

Elsewhere, Boston's Red Sox took 10 innings to end a six game losing streak defeating Pittsburgh 8-7 at Ft. Myers, Fla.; Chicago's White Sox shut out St. Louis 3-0 at Charlotte, N. C.; Philadelphia downed Detroit at Clearwater 6-5; the New York Giants edged Cleveland 3-1 in a game held to five innings by rain at Mobile, Ala., and Baltimore beat Chicago's Cubs 6-5. Cincinnati and Washington were rained out.

Milt Bolling hit a homer in the 10th for Boston's victory. Jackie Jensen and Jim Piersall also connected for the Red Sox and Danny Kravitz countered with a two-fun blow for the Pirates.

It was homer or nothing in Mobile with Dusty Rhodes getting a two-run wallop and Foster Castleman a solo for the Giants and Bob Avila doing the damage for the Indians. Curt Barelay picked up the win for New York.

Charley Beamon, 21-year-old rookie pitched five hit ball for the Orioles until he was relieved in the eighth. Bob Nieman drove in five runs, one with a homer. The Cubs' Walt Moryn also hit for the distance.

List of Derby Eligibles Swelled by 1, Perhaps 4

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The probable field for the May 4 Kentucky Derby was increased by at least one and perhaps three or four more today after Monday developments around the flat tracks.

At Los Angeles, owner Travis M. Kerr announced that Round Table, wire-to-wire winner of Saturday's Bay Meadows Derby, definitely would be shipped East for the approaching classic at Churchill Downs as well as the two other legs of the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds, the Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

A few minutes later, four eligibles turned in performances at Jamaica that might have moved them closer to a trip to Louisville for the Derby.

Three turned up in one race when Adele L. Rand's Double X led Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Pertshire and Bohemia Stable's Ambehaving to the wire in a photo finish in the 6-furlong Flatbush Purse.

Another Derby eligible, Jujitsu, won the co-featured Ashford Purse at Jamaica by a half-length over the Pin Oak Farm's Made Out.

Clarkston Man Howes' Leader

Ron Councilor of Clarkston and Pontiac resident Jack Norman turned in sparkling performances to surpass the leader and take over the 1-2 positions in the Howes Lanes Singles Tournament at Clarkston last weekend.

Councilor rolled an 897 series for four games and Norman totaled 893 to drop former pacesetter Ben Maguire to 3rd place. The Oxford kegler has 888.

Maguire still holds the high actual series for the meet with 820. Bill Chapple of Flint took charge of the high game departments Sunday with a 269 actual and a 305 with handicap.

The tournament comes to a close this weekend with over 150 bowlers still to compete among 510 entries. Top prizes are $200 and $100.

Ron Councilor, Clarkston	897
Jack Norman, Pontiac	893
Ben Maguire, Oxford	888
Earl Savage, Clarkston	885
Gene Shell, Drayton Plains	883
Roy Taylor, Clawson	880
Bob Giroux, Drayton Plains	877
Vernon Jeans, Troy	871
Sid Burder, Pontiac	870
Bill Chapple, Flint	870

Crowd Mark Threatened

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Tigers — with a break in the weather — have a good chance to break their all-time opening day attendance record when they open the Briggs Stadium season April 18 against the Cleveland Indians.

Forty-two thousand tickets for reserved seats and box seats have been sold. Another 12,000 unreserved grandstand and bleacher seats will go on sale the day of the game.

Grains Go Up, Dart Downward

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures started somewhat higher in active early dealings on the Board of Trade today but most prices then dipped a bit.

May wheat held firmer than other contracts on buying influenced by announcement that Portland, Ore., CCC office will resume limited redemption of CCC-owned wheat in the northwest.

Corn held fairly steady to firm on buying influenced by lighter receipts and small CCC sales to exporters. Oats and soybeans slipped somewhat on selling which apparently was profit-taking.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ higher to ⅛ lower, May $2.24⅜, corn was unchanged to ⅜ higher, May $1.29, oats were ⅜ to ½ lower, May 71⅝, rye was ¼ higher to ¼ lower, May $1.29½, soybeans were ½ lower to ¼ higher, May $2.43⅞, and lard was unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $14.75.

County CIO Council Supports Bus Drivers

The Oakland County CIO Council decided at its meeting last night to support the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America. The Association is currently negotiating for a 20-cent hourly pay raise for Pontiac bus drivers.

The Council delegates pledged their own support and resolved that a call of assistance be asked of the Michigan State CIO, all international organizations and the State Central Labor Body of the AFL in Oakland County. The drivers currently receive $1.65 an hour.

Market Widens Earlier Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market widened its gains in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Pivotal stocks in most major divisions made gains of fractions to a point or better.

The market was slightly higher at the start, kept to the upside in moderate trading, then pushed further ahead as transactions became more lively.

Shares of western railroads steadied after their setback yesterday on news that the U.S. Supreme Court had barred Union Pacific from drilling for oil and gas along its right of way.

The background of business news was mixed but contained some encouraging items. Among these were reports of increasing chemical sales by Du Pont and Union Carbide and a commerce department

Senate OKs Purchase of Salk Shots for State

LANSING (AP) — A bill for the purchase of another $250,000 in Salk anti-polio vaccine to further the state's free immunization program was unanimously approved by the Senate last night.

The measure now moves to the House, where speedy passage is expected.

Under the bill, the State Health Department would have to give priority in distributing the vaccine through public health channels.

Floridian's Home Burns at Just the Right Time

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—If he had to have a fire, Vincent P. Mara of Miami couldn't have picked a better time.

He was away when a blaze started at his home but his next door neighbor, Lawrence P. O'Brien, a retired New York City fireman, was on hand.

More than that, O'Brien was entertaining another retired fireman and two active firemen. All four rushed to Mara's house, broke down the door and put out the fire with a garden hose.

Nuclear Blast in USSR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both U. S. and British authorities have announced another nuclear explosion in the Soviet Union, the eighth in a series of tests which started last August.

THEY SAW THE LIGHT — In a not-so-gentle nudge at the town fathers of Zeeland, Michigan, this improvised street light, consisting of a kerosene lantern on a pole, warns the city to get a move on to replace three regular street lights which were knocked down. The small white signs warn pedestrians to carry flashlights at night. The "protest" bore fruit when red-faced city officials hurriedly replaced the broken lights.

Boy, 7, in Hospital With Cuts, Burns

Street Machine Hits Lad

NORWALK, Calif. (AP)—A 7-year-old boy was hospitalized with painful injuries after being knocked off his bicycle and swept up by a street sweeping machine.

Ronald La Rocque suffered severe cuts and brush burns when the whirling bristles of the sweeper plucked him from the pavement after the machine had knocked him down while making a U-turn.

The driver, C. W. Sibbach Jr., said he was unaware of the accident until he heard residents of the neighborhood screaming at him to stop. The boy was carried 125 feet.

His father Loren La Rocque, 27, was slightly injured when the sweeper slipped from a jack as he pulled Ronald to safety. Both father and son were taken to Carobil Hospital, Norwalk.

Legion Head Favors Cut—Not to Veterans

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—W. C. Daniel, national commander of the American Legion, told some 400 Legionnaires last night that he favors economy in government but not at the expense of this country's veterans.

Speaking at a dinner in nearby Manor, Daniel declared:

"We hear so much talk these days about the high cost of our veterans' program and about economy in government. I say to you quite frankly that I am for economy in government . . . but not at the expense of those who, throughout the years, have faced the enemy snipers and protected the liberties and privileges of all our people."

Prison Head Named Mother of the Year

"There's nothing I'd rather be than a good mother," said Mrs. Mable Turley Sims, 56, after being told of the honor accorded her by the state's election committee for American Mothers Committee, Inc. "Perhaps it has spread out in my work. I want the women under my supervision to live as my daughters have."

* * *

Mrs. Sims has four daughters, three of them married. Her husband, Mark Sims, works for the Railway Express Agency.

Century Machine Plans to Halt Operations Soon

CINCINNATI (AP) — Century Machine Co. yesterday announced plans to discontinue operations within a few months.

W. H. Klausing, Century president, said "diminishing market potential for the company's products and difficulties in finding suitable diversification" forced the discontinuation move.

Century, a wholly owned subsidiary of Baker Perkins Inc. of Saginaw, Mich., employs about 150 persons in production of bakery equipment and ovens.

Klausing said the firm has not yet decided how to dispose of its plant and facilities.

Airliner Taxis In Safely After Landing Trouble

ATLANTA (AP) —After touching the ground five times to test its wheels, a Philadelphia-to-Atlanta Capital Airlines Viscount got its landing gear into service and came down safely with 20 aboard early today.

Observers said the airliner arrived at 2 a.m. and was over the airport for five hours before managing to taxi in. No one was injured.

Aboard were 18 passengers and two crew members.

The first passenger flight in history, not to be confused with the Wright Brothers' first airplane flight in 1903, took place on May 14, 1908. The latter flight was to test a plane for delivery to the U.S. government.

Vote Kills Proposal to Liquidate Firm

DETROIT (AP) — Stockholders of Ainsworth Manufacturing Corp., have voted overwhelmingly against a proposal to liquidate the company.

Godfrey Hammel of Detroit, holder of 1,300 shares of common stock in the automotive parts manufacturer firm, proposed the liquidation.

James F. McDonnell, president of the company, said the vote was 249,165 against liquidation and 35,042 in favor. The company has 417,000 shares outstanding.

Hammel said he was dissatisfied with the company's return on investment. McDonnell said the company had prospects of a profit of 80 cents a share after taxes for the first quarter of the current year and 50 cents a quarter for the second year.

Pleads Guilty to Break-In, Held Under $500 Bond

Held under $500 bond, he will be sentenced April 29 by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

Molly Pitcher, heroine of the American Revolution, was really named Mary McCaulay. She got her name from her constant effort to take pitchers of water to wounded American soldiers where they fell in the field.

American Tanker Leaves Israeli Port on Aqaba

EILAT, Israel (AP)—The American oil tanker Kern Hills left Israel's southern port today after discharging the first cargo of oil ever brought to the Jewish nation through the disputed Gulf of Aqaba.

The Ministry of Development said in Jerusalem that three tankers are scheduled to arrive at Eilat during May.

The 10,441-ton Kern Hills brought 16,500 tons of oil from Iran, arriving Saturday after an unmolested voyage through the narrow Tiran Straits. U.N. troops now occupy the shore positions from which Egyptian guns had kept out Eilat-bound shipping until Israel's invasion of Egypt last fall.

The oil from the Kern Hills was pumped into newly constructed storage tanks near the shore. It will move northward next month when the new eight-inch pipeline opens from Eilat to Beersheba.

Like the Kern Hills, the three tankers due in May reportedly will be American ships chartered by Israeli firms.

Seven Youths Pay Fines for Escapade

Seven Pontiac youths, including two sets of brothers, yesterday paid $372 in fines after pleading guilty to charges resulting from a weekend escapade near Bade Axe.

They were arrested in an automobile early yesterday, with beer stolen earlier, sheriff's deputies said, from a resort on Lake Island near Sebewaing.

Identified by deputies were Charles W. Hill, 19; Duane M. Olk, 22; his brother Forest, 19; Howard G. Crampton, 17; his brother, John, 19; Clarence Morgan, 19 and Gerald C. MacIntosh, 19.

After pleading guilty before Bad Axe Recorder Gordon Walker, Hill paid $110.30 on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor; Duane Olk paid $60.30 on a charge of furnishing liquor to minors and the others paid $40.30 on charges of petty larceny.

Japan Thinks Reds Moved Tests Inland

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese expert said today that the Soviet Union may have moved its nuclear testing ground farther west — or may be testing smaller weapons.

Shohji Ohta, chief of the Japanese meteorological agency's surface observation section, said recorders at three stations showed only "slight abnormal changes" in air pressure waves after the test explosions which the United States and Britain announced the Russians set off April 3 and 6.

Ohta contrasted these slight changes with marked rises in the pressure waves recorded after the big Soviet explosions last Aug. 30 and Nov. 17. He said the Japanese think those blasts were "thermonuclear"—from hydrogen bombs.

Ohta said the first test detected by the Japanese was in Nov. 22, 1955, and originated near Lake Baikal, in south central Siberia.

"Last year the tests were farther away (from Japan), near Lake Balkhash," he continued. "This year the Russians may have moved even farther west."

Four Pontiac Educators Attend State Convention

Four Pontiac school officials will attend the State Convention of the Michigan Association of School Business Officials in Grand Rapids from Wednesday through Friday this week.

They are Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent in charge of business; Vernon L. Schiller, director of financial management; Cloyd I. Houts, director of building operation and plant maintenance; and A. S. Levely, director of purchasing and transportation.

Pontiac Foundry Addition to Be Completed in June

Pontiac Motor Division's grey iron foundry has under-gone many significant changes as the result of its share in General Motors' multi-million dollar expansion and modernization program instituted early last year.

In operation since last October are two 30-ton electric furnaces which have contributed immensely to higher quality in production and greatly improved working conditions. Also, of major importance is a progressive program now underway to condition the air within the foundry.

Construction of a west side addition to the foundry is progressing swiftly and is scheduled for completion in June. The new structure will house a moulding line of modern design that is expected to be in full operation by fall.

Taking six months to install, the two modern electric furnaces, capable of generating heat up to 3,900 degrees, replaced two of eight existing cupolas and provided a constant source of hard and soft iron. Prior to conversion, the cupolas were of intermittent tap design and were a continual heat problem.

Foundry superintendent is T. R. Schroeder.

Simply Amazing For Bleeding Piles

If you have tried all kinds of ointments, suppositories, injections, prescriptions, treatments, etc. with little or no relief, medical science has now developed a marvelous, simple, pleasant home treatment called RECTORAL. Usually in just a few days bleeding starts to disappear and usually in a few days more it is completely gone along with any accompanying irritation and soreness. Piles have begun to shrink. RECTORAL has been used successfully by thousands of former sufferers who have had no further trouble, even years afterward. Many had been advised only an operation could help them. Most drug stores now have RECTORAL. No prescription necessary.

Grosse Pointe Park Mayor Dies at 62

He had gone to Montreal on a business trip for Parke Davis with Harry J. Loynd, Parke Davis president, to line up a new site for the company's pharmaceutical branch in Montreal.

Fritsch had been mayor of Grosse Pointe Park since it was incorporated as a city in 1950. He had been with Parke Davis for more than 40 years.

Accident Six Years Ago Brings Youth $50,000

DETROIT (AP) — A 6-year-old accident has brought a $50,000 settlement to a Mount Clemens youth who was injured at an auto race track.

Herbert A. Preston, now 18, was hurt when a racer crashed through a guard rail at the old race track in Macomb County. The track now is closed.

The youth's father, Clifford Preston, said the boy was paralyzed permanently on the right side by a piece of the splintered railing that pierced his head.

Circuit Judge Miles N. Culehan approved an agreement yesterday providing that Mr. and Mrs. Clayton T. Stubbs, owners of the track and the Michigan Modified Stock Racing Assn., would pay $25,000 each.

Holdup Nets Thief $2 After He Beats Victim

A thief netted only $2 in cash and miscellaneous papers last night after he beat his victim unconscious on Sanderson St. near Close St.

Paul Cassidy, 37 Close St., today told police his assailant leaped from a car and knocked him to the ground. Cassidy went to St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital where he was treated.

News in Brief

More than $15 was taken from the cash register and vending machines at Beatty's Service Station, 208 N. Paddock St., after burglars broke into the place during the night, owner Milford Beatty today told police.

John Moore, 35, of 118 Judson St., yesterday was arrested on a warrant charging him with uttering and publishing after Nick Leone, owner of Nick's Market, 263 Auburn Ave., told police the man gave him a bogus $87 check.

Lantz Mackay Elected Mayor

Lathrup Village Council Appoints New Official After Resignation

The 32-year-old insurance broker had served on the council for three years.

Campbell's resignation culminated six months of friction on the council board which Campbell has claimed as "beyond toleration."

Campbell had one more year to serve.

In his resignation, Campbell said, "I do not wish to be even partly responsible for the kind of city administration and accounting that has been prevalent." He called for further cuts in water rates and he attacked Lathrup's zoning administration.

He also cited as unfair, the city's share of the cost of a proposed Evergreen Interceptor Sewer project and he regretted that a $500,000 city sewer program was not put on the April ballot.

Leonard Watchowski, whose administration was a major issue in the April 1 election said this morning, that a very peaceful and efficient meeting was held last night.

MR. AND MRS. LYLE HOTCHKISS

Before her marriage in Mt. Bethel Methodist Church, Holly, Friday night, Mrs. Lyle Hotchkiss was Darlene Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Robinson of Ortonville. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hotchkiss, also of Ortonville. Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. The couple will reside in Ortonville.

Foresee Need of Junior High in Troy Soon

TROY — Construction of a new high school, utilization of the present high school as a junior high and the establishment of a continuing site acquisition fund will be recommended to the Troy Board of Education by the Troy Citizens group at their meeting tonight.

School population trends indicate that within the next year or two there is going to be a marked need for a junior high school. The present senior high is ideally designed and equipped to serve that function.

The citizens group pointed out that the senior high would be difficult to expand to meet the potential demands of the city. If a new school were built, it could be planned from the beginning for an expansion basis.

Site acquisition fund has two major advantages the committee said: 1). It's establishment would enable the school board to make purchases at reasonable prices and 2). It would put the program on a pay-as-you-go basis avoiding high interest costs. The group proposes the fund to be established through a one mill taxation program.

Woman Held After Shooting

Admits Firing Shotgun at Husband 4 Times During Squabble

A 37-year-old housewife today is held for investigation of attempted murder while her husband remains on the critical list in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Neighbors, alarmed by the shooting discovered Woods lying on the front lawn of his home with three shotgun wounds in the leg and one in the abdomen.

According to Detective Allen Noble, Mrs. Woods said she and her husband had been arguing all day. He left the house and she loaded the shotgun.

She pursued him when he returned to the house, Noble quoted the woman saying, and then shot him four times as he was walking out the front door.

Mrs. Woods is not expected to make a statement to the prosecutor, an official said, until such time as Woods should be able to give his account of the shooting.

Plan Bid Opening Ceremony for Center

ROMEO — Having advertised for bids on construction of the proposed 32-bed hospital to be built on M-53 between Romeo and Almont, the Community Hospital Foundation directors will meet tonight.

Architects of the Detroit firm of Smith, Hinchman and Grylls, Associates estimate that the proposed medical facility will cost an estimated $450,000. If work proceeds according to schedule, they say the doors of the hospital will open in 12 months.

Enough money has been pledged to start construction, hospital officials said, but more will be needed to provide necessary equipment.

Rita Can't Let Daughter Visit Ailing Aga Khan

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rita Hayworth regrets that she won't be able to let her 7-year-old daughter Yasmin visit the ill and aging Aga Khan, the child's grandfather.

The actress received a cable from her former husband Aly Khan stating that his father was critically ill in Cannes, France, and wanted to see Yasmin, his only granddaughter.

A Columbia Studio spokesman said Miss Hayworth cabled Aly that she would be unable to go to Europe until she finished making a motion picture and that she couldn't let Yasmin travel alone.

Threat With Shotgun Gets 3-Year Probation

A Pontiac youth, who used a sawed-off shotgun to threaten a man who called him a "punk" yesterday was placed on three years' probation.

Father Killed During Tussle

Struggles With Son, 15, for Possession of Rifle in Family Quarrel

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (AP) — A rifle shot brought a sudden end Sunday night to a family quarrel, killing a 51-year-old father of six children.

Police said the gun discharged as the father and a 15-year-old son scuffled over possession of the weapon.

Gillette said Mrs. Coxen told him the shooting followed a noisy quarrel between her and her husband, Roy, 15, and Carolyn, 18, his sister, were upstairs in the family home here as the quarrel was in progress downstairs, the chief said Mrs. Coxen related.

"You have hit mother for the last time. You had better get out of here."

Coxen lunged at Roy, Gillette said, grabbing the gun by the muzzle. The weapon discharged and Coxen fell to the floor, still grasping the muzzle. Coxen died of a bullet wound in the heart, Mrs. Coxen called police.

Title of 'Unluckiest Dog' Could Go Unchallenged

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—McDougal, an admitted mutt with a Scotch name but a mixed background, has come through the latest episode of his dog's life practically unscathed.

Shortly after the Jenkinses bought McDougal from a Pensacola, Fla., pet shop, the dog was sideswiped by a car.

"It knocked out a few teeth and bruised him," Jenkins said today. "The vet we brought him to gave him a rabies shot after treating him. The shot led to an infection and we had to have his shoulder lanced."

Then, Jenkins said, the veterinarian gave McDougal a penicillin shot and he developed an allergy — bumps appeared over all his body.

"That took another shot to cure," Jenkins said.

When Jenkins left Pensacola, where he was a reporter on the News-Journal, to come to Albuquerque as a technical writer for Sandia Corp., he brought McDougal along.

This cured, McDougal came through with a fungus infection which left bald patches on his body.

Still under treatment for the fungus, McDougal was sideswiped by another car and was limping from that accident when someone threw a pan of lye water in his face.

Jenkins figured that McDougal's luck, bad as it has been, had finally run out.

But yesterday McDougal turned up at home, footsore, weary and —for a change—unscathed.

Pounds Away to Prove Point— It's the Scales

Pontiac's Fashion Your Figure Club "champ" won't contest the fact that she has been the victim of some faulty scales.

"We just have a lot of fun," said Mrs. Bert Olliffe, 47, of 269½ W. Huron St., who has recently captured her third toy pig for having put on the most pounds in a week's time among 40 club members.

Feeling that the club scales weren't as accurate as her doctor's scales, she requested a check by Sgt. Walter A. Baerwolf, weight and measure chief of the police department.

"I became provoked when the girls would weigh themselves two or three times and take the lightest reading," Mrs. Olliffe commented.

Baerwolf's inspection supported her complaint as the scales were found to be weighing two pounds heavy. They were knocked out of adjustment by constant shuffling of club members, he said.

Mrs. Olliffe won't demand a correction of records, as she said she's satisfied that she is "champ" in another way. She recently took a cash prize for losing most poundage during one month.

To Give Operatic Version of 'Piper'

NORTH BRANCH — "The Magic Piper," annual operetta given by children of grades four through six, will be presented at the school auditorium at 8:00 p.m. Wednesday.

Choruses will be directed by Mrs. Charline Meyers. Mrs. Lois Stevens will be stage director.

Wins U. of M. Prize

Donna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Burley, was given a specially bound and engraved book. A student in the school of nursing, she won the award for ranking in the top 10% of her class during her first semester on the campus.

12th Concert for Interlochen at Romeo Tonight

ROMEO—The music department of Romeo High School will present its 12th annual Interlochen Music Scholarship Concert at 8 p.m. today in the high school auditorium. The Romeo Monday Club co-sponsors the event.

The program will feature selections by the concert band under the direction of E. C. Ojala and by choral groups led by vocal music instructor, John Osterhaus.

The number of scholarships to be awarded depends upon funds available. In addition to proceeds from the concert, money for scholarships is given by several local organizations, merchants and interested individuals.

A group of selected citizens will screen scholarship candidates and determine the winners within a few days after the concert.

City Manager Fired

BERKLEY — City manager John S. Short was fired by unanimous vote at the regular council meeting last night. City clerk Edwin J. Johnston was appointed acting manager.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF MY LOVING husband, Leonard Black who passed away 6 yrs. ago April 8, 1951.

The face I loved is now laid low.
His loving voice is still;
The hand so often clasped in mine,
Lies now in death's cold chill.
I often sit and think of him,
When I am all alone;
For memory is the only thing,
That grief can call its own.
Sadly missed by wife, Bronice.

IN MEMORY OF SEAB. ZINNERmon who departed this life April 9, 1952. Sadly missed by his family Mrs. Geneva Zinnermon, and girls.

Claudette Films New TV Series

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Britain's in a TV tizzy over so many U.S. shows being seen on Blighty's home screens . . .

One critic (Douglas Clark of the London Express) wrote about the BBC brass: "Do they imagine commercial TV was brought into being here in order to turn our children into little Americans? Do they fancy themselves entitled to spend precious dollars in order to turn Britain into a second - rate satellite? That is what they are doing, be sure." . . .

To be polite about it, there is a huge invasion of our channels by British films, and we have no resistance to same. . . . Sorry we can't get mad in retaliation.

The "I Love Lucy" CBS-TV once-a-month spectaculars haven't been sold yet (the price tag is $350,000 apiece before line charges) but next year's reruns of Lucy's half-hours already are sold.

There's even a chance of two reruns per week plus the monthly specs, which is our notion of killing the golden celluloid . . .

LORETTA TO RETURN

Loretta Young's NBC-TV series was signed for another year; weekly . . .

Claire Trevor, both an "Emmy" and an "Oscar" winner, stars Thursday on Playhouse 90's "If You Knew Elizabeth," with Gary Merrill . . .

Bishop Sheen will ask ABC-TV for his release. No bad will involved, just going elsewhere . . . His Excellency has been six years on TV, 27 on radio . . .

DRAMAS TO CONTINUE

U.S. Steel signed for another TV drama year . . . It wants Julie London for an imminent play with music and Julie's willing . . .

NBC-TV's "The Big Story" will dramatize "The Mad Bomber" Friday.

Ted Bikel, so good in "There Shall Be No Night," is starred in an imminent Hitchcock mystery.

Joe McCrea's son Jody (of the "Sgt. Preston" TV cast) expects his real life induction papers any episode. . .

Ed Murrow has Henry Wallace on "Person to Person" Friday.

Scientists Make Cell Discovery

Link May Open Way to Treatment of Ailments Yet Unsolved

ST. LOUIS (AP) — After a seven-year search scientists at Washington University say they have discovered a link in the chemistry of living cells which could offer new ways of attacking unsolved medical problems, cancer and radiation sickness among them.

The scientists reported over the week end their research disclosed the function of an unusual category of molecules — the free radicals—in living cells.

They said the free radicals serve as a chain of bridges for a fast flow of electrons that is the physical basis for energy-yielding energy-absorbing life processes.

The research was directed by Dr. Barry Commoner, professor of botany, in collaboration with Dr. Richard E. Norberg, associate professor of physics, Dr. Jonathan Townsend, assistant professor of physics, and associates.

The discovery was expected to push efforts at determining whether interference with the normal free radical chemistry of the cell is a factor in formation of cancer or the damaging effects of radiation.

Budget Awaits Action by Board

To Appoint 3 Members Before Township Group Can Consider Plans

The Waterford Township Recreation board's budget is being held up pending the appointment of three new members to its board, according to Tom Belton, director.

Belton explained that the recreation board is financially supported by the township and the board of education. There are two members of the Board of Education, two from the township board, two from the community at large, and one representative from the Community Activities Inc. William Shunck, superintendent of schools is an ex-officio member.

When Elmer Johnson was elected township supervisor, he resigned as secretary of the Board of Education, and was automatically relieved of the position as Recreation Board chairman.

Since Johnson's resignation, the Board of Education has appointed Edward Windeler to represent them on the Recreation board, however, the township board has no representation, until the new officials are sworn into office, and two are appointed. This should take place some time this week, Barry said.

The annual recreation budget has been ready for approval since February 1st. However, after the Recreation Board's approval, the Township Board tabled it, and the Board of Education sent it back for reconsideration.

A meeting of the board has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday, at which time a new Recreation Board chairman will be appointed and the newly revised budget will be presented to board members for approval, Belton said.

Texas Church Gets $2 Million

Oilman Donates Tithe After Sale of Interests in Company

DALLAS (AP) — A Texas oilman turned over two million dollars to his church as a tithe yesterday after selling his petroleum company interests in a multimillion-dollar deal.

The gross transaction reportedly involved an estimated 35 million dollars. Spokesmen said Wynne would get about 20 million after payment of outstanding debts.

Ten per cent of the net was given to the Texas Presbyterian Foundation, the largest gift it has ever received.

Wynne grew up as a Methodist but has been a member of the Presbyterian Church since 1925. He is a prominent layman.

Members of his family said they practiced tithing — the custom of giving a tenth or a specific share of wealth for religious or charitable purposes — for many years.

Dr. Hubert H. Hopper, director of the foundation, said $600,000 of the Wynne gift will be used for immediate financial help for three church institutions in Texas, and the rest would go to the endowment fund for use by various Presbyterian institutions in the state.

Youths Awarded Small Treasure Found on Lot

BRIGHTON, Colo. (AP) — Four well-scrubbed and happy little boys lined up in District Court yesterday to get $605.21 apiece.

Dist. Judge Martin P. Miller ordered the money paid to Richard (Ricky) Tabor, 7, of Pueblo, Colo., and Duane Bickford, 10, Michael Asnicar, 11, and his brother Patrick, 12, all of Denver.

The boys found $2,910 last summer in a vacant lot at Derby, north of Denver. The money was split equally among them after Judge Miller set aside $489.16 for attorney fees and legal advertising costs.

He ordered that each boy be paid $230.21 in cash plus $375 invested by the court in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Ricky said he thought he'd save his money toward college expenses, "but maybe I'll get a bicycle first.'

The boys won't have to pay any income tax on their shares, but they will have to file tax returns in 1958. The law says any individual earnings $600 or more a year must file a return but taxes don't begin until the earnings reach $675.

Agent Gets Sentence in Stock Violation

Emil O. Hanson, 48, a florist, of 929 W. Eleven Mile Rd. was placed on three years probation and assessed $200 court costs by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Hanson pleaded guilty to technical charges involving the sale of at least $4,500 worth of stock in the Mutual Uranium Co., Inc., of Mesquite, Nev.

This included the agent's dealing in certificates of a company not registered with the Michigan Corporations Security Commission and dealing without a license.

Lutheran Pastor Likens Presley to Golden Calf

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rock 'n' roll idol Elvis Presley has been likened to the golden calf.

The description was that of Rev. W. Carter Merbrier, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church and an observer for the Police Department's juvenile aid bureau at Presley's engagement last Friday and Saturday at the Arena.

The clergyman described audiences at the shows as "screaming, falling to their knees as if in prayer, stretching rigidly and wriggling into a supreme effort of ecstasy."

"Even though the gesticulations of Elvis Presley are unquestionably suggestive and possibly even immoral, the condemnation must lie with those who have by their adoration made him the golden image," he continued.

Merbrier all but absolved Presley, whose acquaintance he made in a back-stage interview.

But he sternly condemned the "idiotic parents" of the "nervous giggling girls" who accosted him back-stage and brashly "kissed the hand that shook the hand" of Elvis.

Slide Rumbles Out of Control, Kills 2 Helpers

EMPIRE, Colo. (AP)—Deliberately started with cannon fire, a snow-slide yesterday killed a cameraman filming the action and a highway worker warning motorists to stay away.

The photographer's helper, Roland Wyatt, 18, of Salt Lake City, was trapped in the fringe of the avalanche and clawed his way out from under two feet of snow.

John Hermann, 26, Salt Lake City movie cameraman, and Wayne S. Whitlock, 21, Empire, maintenance worker for the Colorado Highway Department, suffocated under tons of snow, rock and trees. Their bodies were later recovered.

The snowslide was set in motion on purpose as part of the Highway Department's avalanche control work along U.S. Highway 40 in the Blue Hill area of Berthoud Pass, about 46 miles west of Denver.

The avalanche snapped pine trees like matches as it hurtled down the mountainside, flowed over a 100-foot-deep gulch and shot up the opposite slope, burying the highway under 20 feet of snow, trees, rock and dirt. The slide was 1,500 feet wide.

Water Everywhere but Town Is Thirsty

REDRIDGE (AP)—This Keweenaw Peninsula community of 100 knows now what it means to have "water, water everywhere, but not a drop to drink."

Redridge, 17 miles southwest of Houghton, hasn't had any drinking water in its mains for six days, although it is virtually surrounded by water.

Somewhere between Lake Superior and the village a supply main sprung a leak. Workmen haven't been able to find it.

Redridge is bounded on the north by the wide blue expanses of Lake Superior. The Salmon Trout River forms a pool behind a dam in the west and south, and on the east the river courses by in a rapids.

Some citizens have got their drinking water by pail from a well at the village school. Others have reopened long unused wells in their yards and are boiling water for drinking purposes.

Milford Man Placed on Probation by Court

Officers Rescue Girl Stuck in Wastebasket

Police went to the home of the caller, Mrs. Marcel Gillam, and freed young Jo Ann, whose leg had twisted under her in a manner that entrapped her.

Youth's Catch of Fish Wows Nearby Adults

MCALESTER, Okla. (AP) — The adult fishermen paid no attention to 13-year-old Larry Calhoun as he fished with a cane pole off the Lake McAlester spillway. That is they didn't until he pulled in a five-pound bass, the largest catch of the day. His bait was a dead minnow discarded by a nearby angler.

2 From Gang Sent to Prison

Sentenced for Roles in Searies of Break-Ins in Oakland County

Two members of a gang charged with more than 40 north Oakland County home break-ins yesterday were given prison terms by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Charles Bradley, 20, of 1740 Orchard Dr. and Robert Caldwell, 24, of 3656 Covert Rd. were sentenced to 1½-15 years in State Prison of Southern Michigan.

Charged with stealing guns and jewelry March 5 from a home at 3240 McCormick Rd., Waterford Township, Bradley admitted five other break-ins and Caldwell five.

Five others named in the gang also have pleaded guilty to breaking and entering charges and are free under $500 bond apiece until sentencing April 22.

Geonkali, 27 miles from Calcutta, may be developed as a supplementary port.

Texas City Celebrates Blooming of Flower

The annual bluebonnet trails, a festival honoring the blooming of the state flower, will be revived as part of the town's 85th birthday celebration April 18-28.

Drought damaged the bluebonnet crop last spring and the festival was called off, but recent heavy rains promise to make it as colorful as ever this year.

Asks Curb on Imports

ESCANABA (AP) — The Executive Board of District 12 of the International Woodworkers of America, AFL-CIO, has passed a resolution asking Congress to establish quotas on imports of veneer and plywood from Japan and other foreign countries.

One Way to Catch Man These Days — Act Fast

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—All the young single gals I know are husband-hunting. (So are all the old single gals.) But my friend Taffy Tuttle, the flip-talking blonde TV showgal, has "bride ideas."

Taffy got ecstatic when Tommy O'Ryan, a young Texas "oil-coholic," begged her to have an intimate dinner. She'd been dating Slowpoke a year.

"Got to talk about something vital!" He squeezed her arm. "Meet you in an hour. My big night!"

"Mine, too!" determined Taffy, wiggle-waggling off to her hotel, full of hope. An hour and 20 minutes later when she swung beautifully in, Tardy Tommy O'Ryan was NOT there.

"And both of us flat-busted!" mumbled Tiny Tuttle, her sister, who had come along.

But the maitre de la rope bowed them to a table near the Duke and Duchess. Both ordered—well—and wonderingly. Taffy envisioned dishwashing.

"Kinda serious," Taffy told Tiny. "Look, I'm going to the little girls' room. May be a while."

"I'll undoubtedly be in the kitchen," growled Tiny. For many minutes she sizzled under the maitre de la rope's glare. He was holding her body for the tab.

Suddenly Taffy swaggered in all asmile. Pulling out a roll big enough to choke Joe E. Brown, she paid, tipped everybody but the Duke and Duchess, and exited grandiloquently.

"Did you stick up the ladies' room lady?" queried Tiny.

"Nope, doll! I cha-cha-chaed over to the hotel, passed the plate among our chums, and raised 40 bucks. But what could've happened to Tommy O'Ryan?"

"Forgot to give you the message," sighed Tiny. "He phoned his apologies. Said he'll reimburse you. He couldn't make it. He got stuck with somebody's bachelor dinner."

"Fabulous!" howled Taffy. "Whose was it?"

"Guess that's what he wanted to tell you that was so vital. It was his," Tiny said.

And that, I fear, is the fate of so many husband-hunters nowadays. But Taffy will keep looking, hoping some day she can twist some man around her little figure!

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Actress Betsy Blair—split from Gene Kelly—has a hot romance with a Frenchman . . . A new Joe Cates-produced quizzer gives away oil wells! . . . Ginger Rogers, still away from husband Jacques Bergerac, keeps night clubbing with businessman Walter Troutman.

Vote on City Hospital-Sewage Plant Issue

To Set Special Election May 20

Pontiac's bond attorney is expected to set May 20 as the special election date for the city hospital-sewage treatment plant bond issue, in action before the City Commission tonight.

Commissioners last Thursday learned from Claude Stevens that the general obligation bond vote would total $4,550,000. This would cover the completion of Pontiac General Hospital's new wing, a new hospital parking lot, and partially finance a $3,091,000 sewage plant.

The remainder of the plant would be financed through an issuance of $391,000 in revenue bonds. This does not require a vote.

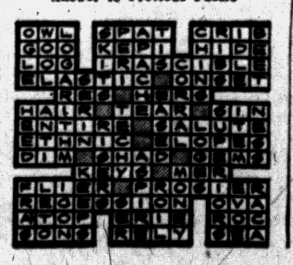

Stevens, tonight, is expected to present ordinances setting the May 20 date and outlining other data relevant to the vote.

Holding most of the space on the weekly 27-point agenda are 18 items dealing with the 1957 public improvement program. Included are 11 engineer estimates and seven public hearings.

A public hearing on a move to rezone to Commercial 1 parts of Lots 1, 2, and 128 in the Merrimac Subdivision will be held. The City Planning Commission has approved the move. Adoption of the rezoning ordinance is expected to follow the hearing.

Commissioners will hear a recommendation from the plan group that the city vacate an alley on the east side of Telegraph road north of Walton boulevard in exchange for a 20-foot alley.

To the Parents of a Genius

If your child is blessed with a brilliant mind, you probably plan to send him to one of the country's finest colleges. And you should. He deserves the best education our system has to offer. Yet, even with his rare gift, can you be sure that the college of his choice will be ready for him?

Today the pressure of college applications is mounting fast. It's expected to double by 1967. Our colleges and universities are doing their best to meet the challenge, but they are hampered by lack of funds. Not only expanded facilities are needed, but more and well-paid professors and instructors to maintain scholastic standards.

America needs, in addition to its quota of geniuses, intelligent, educated people as never before. For the sake of your children and the future of your country, help the colleges and universities of your choice—now!

ROBERT F. SNYDER

Knights Templar Set to Install Officers

Tonight Pontiac Commandery No. 2 Knights Templar will install Robert F. Snyder as its new eminent commander. Snyder lives at 6510 Maceday Dr., Waterford Township.

Others to be installed are Wayne E. Scott, generalissimo; Henry Rohl Jr., captain general; Harry Vernon, senior warden; Carleton Spooner, junior warden; Harold Noble, prelate; and Max Mumford, treasurer.

Entertainment will be provided by Miles Frusher, soloist, with Mrs. Ralph Haan accompanying on piano. All friends and relatives of the commandery have been invited.

2 to Be Sentenced for Morals Offenses

Two youths charged with morals offenses against a 12-year-old Pontiac girl and her sister, 15, will be sentenced April 29 by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

Pleading guilty to a reduced charge of indecent liberties were Robert J. White, 17, of 292 Seward St. and Edward R. Usrey, 18, of 274 N. Johnson Ave.

Along with Bobby Brown, 21, of 261 N. Saginaw St., the youths were originally charged with statutory rape of the girls March 16 on a complaint brought by the father.

Brown is expected to be arraigned on the reduced charge April 15. All three are free under $1,000 bond apiece.

France's Plush Jet Airliner to Tour U.S. in Bid for Sales

PARIS (INS) — A French jet airliner that gives its passengers a quieter ride than a luxury limousine takes off from Paris next week to conquer American markets.

The 500-mile-an-hour "Caravelle," of revolutionary design, will make a nine-week demonstration tour of the western hemisphere to attract prospective buyers.

This 80-passenger, medium-range airliner is the only operational commercial jet plant that has its power plants located near the tail instead of in the wing area.

The placing of the motors in this position outside the fuselage has several advantages, according to the plane's builders, Sud Aviation.

FACTOR IN SAFETY

The manufacturers say it makes the plane safer than when the jet engines are fitted into the wings, as they are on the British-built Comets and the Russian-made Tupolev. These aircraft could be seriously crippled by a fire or explosion in one of the motors.

Moreover, it is claimed that the way the Caravelle's jet pods are placed reduces noise and vibration and simplifies the servicing of the motors.

On an hour's flight in the Caravelle from Paris to Toulouse in Southwestern France, this correspondent found that in Southwestern France, it was noted that motor noise was reduced to a barely audible hum.

CRUISES AT 500 M.P.H.

The cigar-shaped aircraft, with low wings swept back at a rakish 20-degree angle, was designed for medium distance operations ranging from 120 to 1,500 miles, not for lengthy trans-oceanic flights. The Caravelle has a cruising speed of 500 miles an hour at altitudes varying from 30,000 to 32,000 feet.

The French national airline, Air France, already has placed orders for 12 Caravelles for use on its lines in Europe and between Europe and Africa.

Should orders exceed a planned production rate of one a week, an agreement between Sud Aviation and the Republic Aircraft Corp. of Farmingdale, N.Y., will allow the construction of 15 Caravelles a month to meet the demand.

The jet is due in Miami on May 2.

Its schedule calls for visits to New York, Washington, Atlanta, Nashville, Dallas, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Grand Rapids, Denver and Salt Lake City before reaching Los Angeles on June 5.

From Southern California, it will fly along the Pacific to San Francisco and Seattle from where it will head for St. Paul and again to New York, where it is due June 18.

On its homeward journey, it will stop over at Montreal.

2 to Represent Flint

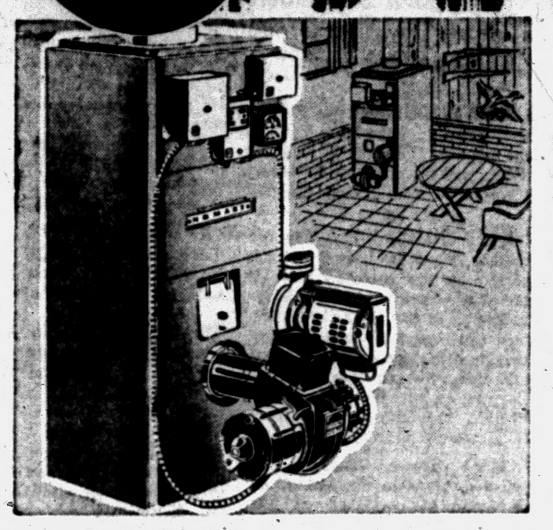

FLINT (AP) — Two Flint high school 17-year-old youngsters, Jack Horner and Sharon Gore, will represent the city next month at the National Science Fair in Los Angeles. Both are students at Technical High School.

SHE: You know, honey, the more I look at the new Olds, the better I like its looks.

SHE: Just imagine it out in front of our place! It's so distinguished . . . and look at the upholstery. It's simply beautiful!

HE: Yes! And all the new Olds have that big Rocket Engine this year. You know, the boss let me drive his the other day, and boy-oh-boy what a ride! It really steps.

SHE: Bill . . . think we can afford one?

HE: I don't see why not. From all I hear, Oldsmobile prices start down where anybody who's going to buy a new car can afford one.

SHE: Well, we've always wanted an Olds . . . what in the world are we waiting for!
