Brothers Meet After 23 Years

AP Wirephoto

One Vote Defeats Piggy-Back Bill

Regroup for Tax Showdown

Suit Contests Courthouse Job

Citizen Says Failure to Honor Lowest Bid Adds to Tax Burden

A lawsuit has been filed protesting the awarding of a construction contract for the new Oakland County Courthouse to a Pontiac firm.

Asking for an injunction restraining the Board of Supervisors from giving the general construction contract to J. A. Fredman Inc. is Frank P. Scruggs Jr. of 3022 Ferris St., Royal Oak.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams yesterday denied Scruggs' attorney, Dennis Boyle, a temporary restraining order.

He set a hearing for next Monday at 3 p.m. when the county must show cause why a temporary injunction should not be issued.

A tool maker for Chrysler Corp., Scruggs contends in his citizen's suit that supervisors "added to the tax burden of the county" by awarding a $2,116,740 contract to Fredman instead of low bidder A. Z. Shmina & Sons Co. of Detroit.

Scruggs' brother, William of Detroit, is head estimator for the Shmina firm. Boyle also represents the Shmina company.

Taking into account only the base bids, the suit says the difference between the Fredman and Shmina bids comes to $11,537, or $28,076 considering substitutions.

County officials, however, cite a difference of $2,305 after deductions for alternates, substitutions, and other contractural provisions.

2 Brothers Embrace After 23 Years Apart

On peaceful Lake Angelus, two brothers were reunited today, 23 years after tragedy split up a happy Polish family.

It was a joyful moment for Joseph Borys, 2405 N. Lake Angelus Rd. and his brother, Francisz.

The last time they had seen each other was 1936, when Joseph Borys, now 46, and his three sisters left their Polish farm and came to America, expecting that Francisz and his twin brother, Andrew, would follow in a few months.

"Months dragged into years, the war came, and I had given up of ever seeing my brother again," said Borys, owner of an East Detroit bar.

Early this year, the Polish Communist government finally relented and granted Francisz, 36, a visa to leave Poland.

Yesterday, the Borys brothers and a sister, Mrs. Philip Kowalewski, of East Detroit, were tearfully reunited aboard the deck of the Polish liner, Batory, shortly after she docked in Montreal after a voyage from Gdynia, Poland.

The family returned early this morning to Lake Angelus, where Borys lives with his wife and three children, Margaret, 14; Wesley, 12, and David, 1.

Francisz Borys also has a family, and it is believed that his wife and two children, age 2 and 4, will join him soon.

"They have visas, but I'm keeping my fingers crossed until they're aboard the boat," said Borys.

The brother, Andrew, is also expected to make the trip.

Thompson Denied New Trial for Arson

Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth today denied a new trial for Jack D. Thompson, business agent for Flint Teamsters Local 332.

Thompson contended his conviction two months ago was unjust, but Judge Roth said, "The case was fairly tried and the determination of the jury will not be disturbed."

Thompson is free under bond until sentencing or appeal to the State Supreme Court. He was convicted of arson in connection with the burning of a suburban Flint dry cleaning pick up station last summer.

Another business agent of Local 332, Frank H. Kierdorf, was fatally burned in the fire, which authorities believe the two Teamsters set in connection with a price war.

Spirits Soar—Illegally

TOKYO (UPI) — The national tax administration reported today that Japanese bootleggers are sharing in the nation's expanding economy. Their 1958 production of illegal spirits was estimated at 758,460 gallons, the report said, a 58 per cent gain over 1957.

West May Cut Force Stationed in West Berlin

Action Possible if Reds Agree to Drop Threat Against City

GENEVA (AP) — Top Western officials said today the United States, Britain and France may be willing to cut their 10,000-man force in West Berlin if the Soviet Union agrees to drop its threat to the city.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Groymko was reported to have given some signs that the Kremlin may be willing to drop its demand that the Western powers give up their occupation rights in Berlin.

Gromyko, according to informants, has in the last few days shown some elasticity in his attitude, but the highest Western leaders do not know whether he yet has instructions from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Gromyko has been put under heavy Western pressure to come up with concessions that would in effect clear the way to a summit meeting.

Here are standout points in top-level American evaluation of the conference as it nears the end of its fourth week:

1. The Western powers are making a little progress in getting Gromyko to move toward some kind of Soviet guarantee of the rights of the Western powers in West Berlin, the major objective of Herter, Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville. A Soviet pledge would break the back of the Berlin crisis.

2. Western powers have told Gromyko they would be prepared to put a ceiling on their forces.

3. Herter, Lloyd and Couve de Murville are fully agreed, and have so advised Gromyko in their secret talks, that Western troops in West Berlin do not serve a military purpose so much as the purpose of symbolizing

Pal Turns on Him

Pontiac Press Photo

Hero Dog Does Turnabout, Severely Mauls Young Boy

By DICK SAUNDERS

Fame and fortune did an about-face for a large black German shepherd dog in Auburn Heights yesterday.

Several days ago the dog was credited with saving the life of a small boy. Yesterday the canine sent another youngster, 4-year-old John D. Tanner, to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The victim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Tanner, of 3076 Waukegan St. He spent several hours in surgery as doctors worked to close what were described as "multiple large lacerations" to his face and scalp caused by the dog's bites.

Today the youth is in satisfactory condition.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies related the story of heroism and tragedy.

The dog, owned by Mrs. Vonda Thomas, of 80 Squirrel Rd., had darted in front of a tot several nights ago as the child ran into the street near the Thomas home.

Had the dog waited a few seconds longer, the child would have been hit by a passing car, neighbors told deputies.

The dog has always been well liked by adults and children alike. In fact, the smaller neighborhood children frequently rode "horsy-back" on him, residents reported.

Around 11:30 a.m. Wednesday, Mrs. Freda Francisco of 3046 Waukegan was in her back yard hanging out the laundry when she heard screams in the front yard.

She told officers that by the time she ran to the front yard, the boy was screaming and blood covered. The dog was standing near him. The woman said she didn't see the attack take place, and couldn't figure out why the dog had attacked John.

A passing motorist stopped and took Mrs. Tanner and the child to the hospital.

Tanner, who is a Fisher Body employe and was at his doctor's office at the time, said later at the hospital, "It's hard to understand. The dog was friendly. I'd known him for several months. I'd even fed him from time to time."

Then thinking of his son he said, "It's a wonder he's alive the way he was all chewed up when they brought him in here."

Saturday night and Sunday will be somewhat cooler but temperatures will rise again Monday. Today's southwesterly winds at 10-20 miles an hour will continue tonight.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 58 degrees. The mercury rose to 83 at 2 p.m.

Roberts Assails Mine Bill Effort

UP Legislators Try to Force Safety Measure From His Committee

Committee Chairman Farrell E. Roberts (R-West Bloomfield Township) has accused a group of six Upper Peninsula legislators of "playing politics" in trying to pry a mine safety bill from his Labor Committee.

Demand for a safety code came yesterday from miners in the Iron River area where a flaming cave-in at the Sherwood iron mine Monday claimed five lives.

In a telegram to Rep. Gilbert L. Wales (D-Stambaugh), an iron miner himself, members of United Steel Workers Local 1624 urged passage of the bill, which is bottled up in the Labor Committee.

It would provide for a division of mine inspectors in the State Labor Department. A chief inspector and 10 deputies would inspect all mines in the state at least once a month to determine whether they were "reasonably safe."

FAILED SINCE 1945

Those found "imminently dangerous" could be shut down immediately.

Similar bills have failed in the Legislature every year since 1945. Legislation covering metal mines now is limited to provision for election of mine inspectors in counties where mines are situated.

"I'm for mine safety myself, but in its present form this bill can never pass the Senate and Wales and the others know it," said Roberts.

"I have told them that if they will wait till next year so we can work out some amendments I will support it, but they're apparently more interested in playing politics and making headlines."

Roberts contended a provision giving mine inspectors "supervisory authority" over mines was too strong.

The requirement that the chief inspector have 10 years' mining experience "means that he could have spent 10 years with a pick and shovel, nothing else," said Roberts. "We should have stiffer requirements."

May Bring In Absentee Dem by Ambulance

House Coalition to Try Next Week for Passage of State Measure

LANSING (AP) — Rebuffed on their first try, a coalition of House Democrats and rebel Republicans regrouped forces today for a second showdown vote on the 146 million dollar "piggy-back" income tax plan.

All they needed was help from two ailing Democrats who missed out on yesterday's test run. Two other Democrats broke ranks to oppose the plan.

One absentee, Rep. Joseph G. O'Connor, may be brought by ambulance from his home in Detroit where he is recovering from chest surgery.

The piggy-back proposal, the key to a nine-bill tax package, went down to defeat 55-50 yesterday. It needed 56 votes for passage.

Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski (D-Detroit), Democratic floor leader, confidently predicted it would squeak through on a second vote scheduled for next Wednesday.

BY AMBULANCE

Ailing Rep. John M. Sobieski (D-Detroit) was expected to be back at his desk next week and O'Connor may show up as an insurance vote "even if we have to bring him here by ambulance," Kowalski said.

PROMISE FIGHT

If it passes the House, majority Senate Republicans have promised to snow it under.

The piggy-back measure would raise 276 million dollars in new taxes, mostly by requiring individuals to pay the state seven per cent of their federal income tax bill. Corporations would pay 12 per cent of their federal liability and financial institutions 14 per cent.

The other eight bills in the package would wipe out 130 million dollars in present business taxes, netting the state 146 millions. The remaining eight have yet to be voted on.

Mrs. Noel Buckner Selected

UF Chooses Women's Chairman

Mrs. Noel A. Buckner has been named chairman of the Women's Division of the 1959 Pontiac Area United Fund Drive.

★ ★ ★

Announcement of Mrs. Buckner's appointment was made yesterday by Robert R. Eldred, general chairman of this year's campaign.

Mrs. Buckner, 2633 Cove Lane, Orchard Lake, was introduced to UF women workers at a noon luncheon yesterday at the Elks Temple.

The luncheon was held to honor women who worked in the 1958 campaign and to map plans for this year's drive.

PONTIAC CHAIRMAN IN '58

Mrs. Buckner last year served as Pontiac chairman of the Women's Division. She is immediate past president of Oakland County Family Service and now a member of the organization's Board of Directors.

A member of the Social Services Steering Committee of the Greater Pontiac Community Council, Mrs. Buckner also has served the executive committee of the Greater Pontiac Community Council.

Mrs. Buckner is also on the family and child welfare steering committee of United Community Services.

She is the mother of four children, Noel Jr., 9; Elizabeth, 8; Marcy, 5; and Kevin, 2.

Also introduced at the dinner were Mrs. Buckner's top aides for the drive. They are Mrs. Roderick Taylor, Pontiac chairman; Mrs. M. G. Prosser, Waterford chairman; and Mrs. Myron Leighton, Lake Angelus chairman.

Addressing the luncheon was Leonard T. Lewis, United Fund president.

The luncheon was sponsored by Community National Bank, The Pontiac Press, and Pontiac State Bank.

Six City Candidates Seeking Two School Board Posts

Six candidates, including two incumbents, are competing for two four-year seats on the Pontiac Board of Education in Monday's school election.

On the ballot are Thomas Horwitz, Mrs. Jennie R. Jones, Dr. Leonard F. Klausmeyer, Roy B. MacAfee, Monroe M. Osmun, and the Rev. J. Allen Parker.

Thomas Horwitz, of 949 James K. Blvd., is president of the Michigan Fluorescent Light Co., a firm he established here in 1940.

Horwitz is a member of the board of directors of the YMCA, Temple Beth Jacob, and the greater Pontiac USO.

He is a past president of the Pontiac Toastmasters Club and the Council for Human Relations and was chairman of the Pontiac Chapter of the Anti-Defamation League.

"Our youth must be prepared for advanced technical training. I would work toward that end. Closer cooperation should be developed between faculty and administration, parents and school," Horwitz said.

A Pontiac resident for 22 years, Mrs. Jennie R. Jones, 127 Thorpe St., is a secretary at MacManus, John & Adams, Inc.

She attended the American Institute of Banking and studied fundamentals of banking, negotiable instruments and commercial law. She has been a notary public and served as head librarian at a high school.

Mrs. Jones has had experience working with cub scouts and is past recording secretary of the Tipacon Chapter of the American Business Women's Assn.

"We need good buildings and good leadership. We need these things to produce our end product . . . the student, one who will eventually become a good citizen and one who can provide for himself a livelihood in a way that will utilize his talents."

Dr. Leonard F. Klausmeyer, 111 Oneida Rd. graduated as president of the dental school senior class at the University of Michigan in 1936.

Dr. Klausmeyer was elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi national honorary scholastic fraternity and Omicron Kappa Upsilon national honorary dental fraternity.

He came to Pontiac in 1940 and is a past president of the Oakland County Dental Society. Formerly a member of the board of directors of Whittenberg College, Ohio, Dr. Klausmeyer has served also on the board of directors of the Pontiac YMCA.

"I have always been interested in education," said Dr. Klausmeyer. "My understanding of the workings of the Board are limited, but it does not seem impossible to learn if sufficient time, integrity and dedication to a job are pursued."

Legislators Don't Want to Share Tax With County

A proposal for turning over to counties 30 per cent of any new tax revenues the 1959 Legislature may settle on met a cool reception from lawmakers yesterday.

However, Delos Hamlin, chief spokesman for the plan and chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, said he is still "quite optimistic" that the proposal will be approved.

In a luncheon meeting in Lansing with Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland) and Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), chairmen of their respective chamber's taxation committees, Hamlin argued that the 15-mill property tax millage available to counties, townships and school districts is no longer sufficient to meet budgets.

The slack, Hamlin said, should be taken up by granting counties 30 per cent of any new tax — whether it be a state income tax or one per cent increase in the state use (sales) tax.

Also attending the meeting with Hamlin was Rep. Arthur J. Law (D-Pontiac). He called the proposal "totally impractical at this time."

"I sympathize with their views and understand their plight, but this is the wrong way to go about it," Law, a former mayor of Pontiac, said.

"There is not enough money available in the use tax bill and barely enough in the income tax plan to meet the state's needs, let alone theirs," he added.

Law said he might favor allowing local governments to ride along on the so-called "piggyback" income tax plan, designed after a bill he introduced, to a limit of

The tax retention plan developed as the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board this week declared a "freeze" on tax rates from last year, hoping the new proposal would provide additional revenues.

Oakland County Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (Republican) and Geerlings were quoted as saying they were disturbed that the plan provided no yardstick of need.

"They were selling the idea that if we gave them this they would solve their own money problems rather than come to the state with them," Geerlings said.

"A lot of counties would get money they don't really need," he said. "All sorts of inequities would result."

Under the plan rapidly sprouting school districts would keep two-thirds of the tax revenues retained based on enrollment, while one-third would stay with the county.

Hamlin said if he didn't accomplish anything else yesterday, he pointed out the "plight" of local governments under the 15 mills. He said he would continue trying to sell the plan further.

Additional copies of it, he said, are being made up to be distributed to all legislators.

He emphasized that the plan hinges entirely on passage of a new tax. It does not specify which.

★ ★ ★

The "share and share alike" proposal has the approval thus far of Oakland supervisors, the Supervisors Inter-County Committee representing Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw, St. Clair and Monroe counties, and the Oakland County School Board Members Association.

Pastor's Body to Lie in State

Many Groups to Recite Rosary for Fr. O'Reilly Who Died Tuesday

The Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Michael Roman Catholic Church for nearly 25 years, will lie in state at the rectory until 1 p.m. Friday. His body will then be taken to the church where it will lie in state from 2 to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday morning until the Requiem Mass at 11 a.m.

Burial will be in Boston, Mass., where he was born. Arrangements are by the Brace - Smith Funeral Home.

The Rosary will be recited Friday by the following organizations:

Grade School at 3 p.m., Our Lady Sodality at 3:30 p.m., Girl Scouts at 4 p.m., C.Y.O. 4:30 p.m., Altar Boys at 6:30 p.m. and the St. Vincent de Paul Society at 7 p.m.

Friday evening the Rosary will be said by the Altar Society, League of Catholic Women and Daughters of Isabella at 7:30, Holy Name Society at 8, Ushers' Club at 8:30, Men's Club at 9, Knights of Columbus at 9:30, NCCW and NCCWM at 10, Legion of Mary at 10:30 and the Knights of Columbus fourth degree at 11.

2 Brothers Embrace After 23 Years Apart

there will be a large reunion at which all the family will be together, including the two other sisters, Mrs. Stephanie Taperek and Mrs. Genevieve Kubinski, both of Detroit.

Joseph Borys and his sisters were born in the United States, but their parents returned with them to Poland in 1921, and there the twins were born on a farm near Brodnica, about 240 miles from Warsaw.

Tragedy struck in 1939, when the parents were mysteriously slain.

After the family breakup which followed six years later, Franciszek Borys and his brother continued to work the farm, hoping always that the fact they were born in Poland wouldn't prejudice their chances of getting a visa.

But six years of war followed by Russian dominance of Poland dimmed hopes almost to the vanishing point.

Wing Lake School 100 Years Old

Recreating Pioneer Past

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — never seen such splendid cooperation in any project—and believe me, this has been a big one."

Pupils of the Wing Lake School, located at the corner of Wing Lake and West Maple roads, tonight will recreate events of the past as the school celebrates its 100th birthday. The program will start at 7 p.m.

The school was built in 1859 on a half-acre "campus" given by George Sly, pioneer settler in the area. Weathered by the years, the original structure has been kept as a precious link with the past and added on to as the increase of student population demanded. The school now has 11 rooms.

★ ★ ★

Thirty years ago, a young woman began teaching in what was then a one-room school. Today Mrs. Geneva Forslund is principal of the school which today marks a century of service in the field of education.

★ ★ ★

The story of the school's history will be related in verse tonight with the pupils playing the roles of persons and things that have played important parts in the evolution of the building.

There will be Indians to greet the first white settlers. The children will pretend to clear the land and show how it has been used for the past 100 years.

The youngsters will, for a short space of time, become apple trees, ducks, pigs, sheep, cows, horses as they recreate the silent past.

The role the historic old school in community life will be shown such as when Sabbath Day services were held there for pioneer, quiltings, bees and other local activities.

"The script, dances, scenes, costumes, old dances, all has been done by teachers and pupils," Mrs. Forslund says proudly. "I have from

Something Flops With Thor, Mice

The Air Force wanted them to orbit the earth in a satellite, Discoverer III, for 26 hours, then parachute in their air-conditioned capsule.

However, something went wrong. The two-stage Thor missile roared into space Wednesday as scheduled and sent back radio signals for 13 minutes. Then the signals topped. The Air Force said it has heard nothing since.

Planes had been poised to try a difficult aerial catch over the Pacific. But officials had given them only one chance in 700 of succeeding.

The mice, pick of their breed, would have been the first creatures retrieved alive from orbit. Two monkeys were fired into space from Cape Canaveral by the Army May 28 but their trip covered only 1,500 miles. They were not intended to go into orbit.

Information from Wednesday's flight will be used in planning the three outdoor stages launching will be used in planning the Project Mercury attempt to put man in orbit some two years from now.

Hail Piles 1½-Feet Deep

Ice Covers Kansas Town

SELDEN, Kan. (AP) — A hail storm battered this prairie village in northwest Kansas for two hours Wednesday night, covering the town with a foot and a half of ice.

Extent of the damage hasn't been determined. But it will be heavy. The roofs of four business houses and several homes collapsed under the weight of the ice. A torrential rain followed the hail, flooding many basements.

As the hail pelted down, many of Selden's 485 residents abandoned their homes for more substantial shelter. Only one person was hurt. Jim Stewart suffered a cut when an awning toppled from the Farmers State Bank and hit him on the head.

★ ★ ★

A National Guard unit, 45 strong, moved into the town to guard against looting. Sightseers also converged quickly on Selden, posing an additional problem for the guardsmen. Reinforcements are to move in today.

For a time, Selden was isolated. But road graders cleared a narrow path on U.S. Highway 83 toward Colby, 25 miles to the southwest.

The Day in Birmingham

First of Four Car Safety Checks Slated Tomorrow

BIRMINGHAM — Tomorrow will mark the first of four vehicle safety check operations for the city of Birmingham.

Police Lt. Robert Schaule said two check-lanes would operate, one on W. Maple road, between Shirley and Arlington drives, and another on S. Woodward avenue, just north of Lincoln avenue.

The inspections will be made Fridays from 4 to 7 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., this week and next, he said.

Schaule asked local drivers to cooperate in the free service being offered here for the first time.

Cars and trucks passing the inspection will be marked with a windshield sticker. Owners of vehicles which fail to pass may come back for a second check after repairs have been made.

The check will include brakes, steering mechanism, lights, horns, and windshield wipers.

Birmingham suffered fire losses totaling $50 last month, according to Fire Chief Park H. Smith.

The department answered 25 calls, including five for first aid, he said.

The Little Leaguer, injured while playing at Derby High School, was returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Linderman, after the fracture was set at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

At the 11 a.m. service Sunday in the Congregational Church of Birmingham, 14 young people will be received into church membership.

For the past three months, they have met with the Rev. Raymond A. Fenner, pastor, for instruction.

Harry H. Curtis

Service for Harry H. Curtis, 57, of 995 Woodlea Rd., will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow from the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Acacia Park Cemetery under the auspices of Zion Lodge 1, F&AM of Detroit.

He was a manufacturer's representative for Lott & Geckler Wholesale Floor-Covering Mfgs. He also was a 32nd degree Mason.

Surviving besides his wife, Mary, are a daughter, Mary Anne, at home, and his mother, Mrs. Julia Zeschke of Walled Lake.

Mrs. Earl R. Nelson

Private service for Mrs. Earl R. Nelson, 47, of 6245 E. Thorncrest Dr., Bloomfield Township, will be held Saturday from the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

Mrs. Nelson died at her home Wednesday after a brief illness.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Karen Ruth; a son, Richard, both at home; her father, H. W. Alexander of Belleville, Ill.; and one brother.

Mrs. Celina L. Dupre

Service for Mrs. Celina L. Dupre, 86, of 528 Pilgrim St. will be held in Fall Rivers, Mass., with burial to follow there.

Mrs. Dupre died at her home yesterday after a brief illness.

The body will be shipped to Fall Rivers by the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. William Swindlehurst of Washington, D.C. and Mrs. Charles L. O'Neil of Birmingham; four sons, Herman LaPointe of Somerset, Mass., Hector LaPointe of Fall Rivers, Theodore LaPointe of Hartford, Conn., and Raymond LaPointe of Washington, D.C.; 17 grandchildren, 18 great-grandchildren; one brother and two sisters.

St. Frederick's High Graduates 69 Tonight

Commencement exercises will be held at 8 tonight at St. Vincent de Paul Church for 69 graduating seniors of St. Frederick's High School.

The Rev. Michael Kottuniak will deliver the address to the graduates. The Rev. Thompson Marcero will confer the diplomas.

"Ave Maria" will be followed by the Solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, to include Ave Verum, Mozart; Tantum Ergo, Webbe, and Holy God, traditional.

West May OK Cut in West Berlin Force

Western protection of West Berlin.

4. Gromyko has been told repeatedly that the Western powers will not give up their basic rights in Berlin and they will not agree to admit Soviet troops to share in the occupation of West Berlin.

SIGN OF PROGRESS

5. One sign of progress is that both Gromyko and the Western Big Three have been exchanging "talking papers." Such documents do not represent policy commitments. Their chief value is in getting propositions down in writing. One of the papers, perhaps the most important, is a four-point Western formula introduced Wednesday for negotiation of an end to the crisis.

The Big Four foreign ministers scheduled another secret session this afternoon at Couve de Murville's villa, with a dinner meeting to follow.

Western officials said they expected Gromyko would discuss individual points of the Allies' new proposal calling for continued stationing of Western forces in Berlin and a reduction in inflammatory propaganda and subversive activities there.

But it was also expected that Gromyko would try to reshape it or substitute his own plan for it.

Bridegroom Was Smart

SOUTH MOOR, England (UPI) — Ethel Sams, 21, told Tommy Harris, 22, she'd marry him as soon as he owned a Rolls-Royce. They were honeymooning today in the 1932 model limousine he bought for $112.

Soviet Jets Fly Close to U.S. Airliner

TOKYO (AP) — Jet planes believed to be Soviet made three observation approaches on an American airliner over the north Pacific today more than 200 miles off Soviet territory, Northwest Airlines reported.

The U.S. Air Force said it had no planes in the area at the time, prompting speculation that Soviet fighters had approached the Seattle-to-Tokyo Northwest DC7C.

The plane crew reported that the closest approach came within two or three miles but the plane or planes did not cross in front of the airliner.

The planes dropped two flares, presumably to identify the American craft.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Today's parents are apparently going in for naming their offspring after television heroes.

Mrs. Esther Dellenbach, registrar of the Bureau of Vital Statistics here, reports a trend toward such names as Wyatt, Bret, Bart and Rickie, as well as Brian, Warren, Keith, Clark, Debbie, Kimberly and Kelly.

More than 15 million gallons of whale oil were being used in the U.S. in 1850, when completion of the world's first commercial oil well in Titusville, Pa., doomed the whale oil business.

Caution Needed in Use of Plastic Bags

By United Press International

Baby deaths from plastic bags are mounting steadily despite educational campaigns launched by manufacturers, distributors and the press.

More than 30 infants have suffocated this year with the deadly bags plastered against their faces. The National Safety Council has estimated 100 babies could die from this cause during the year.

Most of the deaths have been from plastic dry cleaning bags which are large enough for children to pull over their heads. However, plastic bags which enter the home as covers for grocery produce and scores of other items also have taken their toll.

At Macedon, N. Y., Howard J. Samuels, president of the Kordite Corp., which manufacturers plastic bags, announced that his firm has instituted an education program designed to prevent misuse of the bags.

Samuels said the firm is sending hanger tags to dry cleaners, laundries and other users of the bags warning parents to keep them away from youngsters. The tags read:

★ ★ ★

GETS BAN BILL

A bill was introduced in the North Carolina legislature to ban the use of plastic bags larger than six inches in width and six inches in length.

The measure, which carries a penalty of up to two years' imprisonment, would prohibit such containers for any merchandise, and specifically for delivering or packaging dry cleaning and laundry.

Launderers and cleaners at Winston-Salem, N. C., announced they would discontinue using plastic bags for packaging laundry. Similar actions were taken by some cleaning establishments in Chicago, Windsor, Ont., and a number of California cities.

At least three babies died this week from plastic bags. The latest victim was Paul Eugene Cedus, 6 months, Alexandria, La., who suffocated Tuesday when a plastic bag left in his bed wrapped around his face.

SUFFOCATE

Vincent J. Fitch, 3 months, Cleveland, died last week when a plastic cleaning bag adhered to his face. The bag had been placed on a bed under a sheet. Debra Lynee Payne, 10 weeks old, Owensboro, Ky., suffocated Sunday in a similar mishap.

In addition, at least two adults have used the bags to commit suicide. At Gallups, N. M., a woman died when she placed a plastic bag over her head and then used a rope to fasten it around her neck. And Waldo E. Brown, 46, Concord, N. H., killed himself by filling a plastic bag with car exhaust fumes and then pulling it over his head.

Fire Truck Waters Hogs

Diligence Earns Repetitive Numbers

NATIONAL CITY, Calif. (AP)—The story of how C. J. Allen got telephone numbers 2222, 3333 and 4444 for the three phones at his power tools shop exemplifies patience and diligence.

Both Allen and the telephone company agree that he didn't have any inside pull or get special favors.

He merely checked the numbers by calling them over a period of years. As they became unused, he promptly applied—and got them.

Harriman's Now Right Back Where He Started

Ex-politician AVERELL HARRIMAN has changed horses and now is posing as a newspaperman trying to get in Red China. He is currently gadding about the world as a free lance writer.

★ ★ ★

Rumor has it that he may head the New York delegation at next year's Democratic convention. Possibly this is true since he could serve as a sort of referee or pacifier for warring Democratic factions in the state.

HARRIMAN'S rise and fall as a political factor is about as swift as we have observed in the last decade. During the ROOSEVELT and TRUMAN administrations he served as an administrator and diplomat.

In 1954 he hit the headlines from comparative obscurity in his run for the governorship of New York. Needless to say he won and served the state well.

From this important position he made himself a presidential candidate in 1956. He could not muster support at the Chicago convention and never made serious headway. Just last year he was clobbered by Nelson Rockefeller in his bid for re-election.

★ ★ ★

In four short years millionaire HARRIMAN is back practically where he started from. This is unusual for a New York governor of either party. Usually they are classed as a sort of elder statesman and policy maker for the party. Not so in the case of Mr HARRIMAN.

Don't Let Boat Season Mean Tragedy for You

The summer boating season has started tragically, with five Detroit youngsters drowning and a Walled Lake youth becoming a lake victim recently.

A grim warning just before these tragedies was the feared loss of a dozen Detroit teenagers who ran their boat aground in a heavy fog, and precipitated a full scale search by police, sheriff's deputies and coast guard units.

Oakland County is fortunate that Sheriff Frank Irons' water patrol is out in force on local lakes, checking for just the type of mistakes which turn into fatal statistics — boat overloading, failure to carry life preservers, and faulty or unsafe boats.

But the lake deputies need the cooperation of all boat users. They can not cut the number of drownings without the assistance of those who use Oakland County's 423 lakes.

City Has Great Stake in Nation's Vacations

If you ever wondered just what part the family car played in yearly vacation plans, here's your answer. With the travel season fast approaching the peak period, the statistics for this nation of tourists are a little short of staggering.

The recession year of 1958 surprised everybody by spawning a travel boom; this year, with more workers employed, a good many records will go by the boards.

The American Automobile Association, for example, estimates that 85 million individuals took vacations within our borders in 1958, spending over 15 billion.

This year the total is expected to go to 90 million. Of 43½ million families in the United States, some 25 million will take vacations of more than a few days, 85 per cent of them in the FAMILY MOTOR CAR.

With Pontiac Motor cars selling at such a fast clip, it is easy to see what an important part Pontiac workers play in the nation's vacation plans.

The figures for foreign travel are no less impressive. American Express expects more than 700,000 Americans to visit Europe this year. That would top the 675,000 who crossed the Atlantic in 1958, a good many drawn by the Brussels Fair.

★ ★ ★

The travel boom is on and the great majority of tourists will be traveling by car.

The Man About Town

Our Life Saver

Several Citizens in Land of Living Because of Him

Scouting: Just another name for manhood building.

If I had a hat, I'd doff it today to young

Bill Jackson,

Skin Diver for Oakland County's Sheriff

Frank W. Irons,

who put him on the job that he's filling so well.

A good number of people owe their lives to Bill. If he can get to the drowning scene while there a spark of life left, he can be depended upon to do his part. He gets the body, and knows how to kindle new flame into that spark.

He came into the work when it was new, and he had some difficulty in securing a chance to prove its value. Now, that he's done so well, there's a good prospect that he will be given an assistant, to make the life saving more available.

Bill's only fault is that he's a poor salesman for himself. I've known him since birth, and his parents,

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Jackson,

According to a letter from

of Clarkston, a federal booklet is terribly "hot and bothered" over a delicious concoction of rhubarb and blueberries, and calls it "bluebarb jam." She says she's been making it for many years—and calling it by the same name.

Word comes from my long time friend, who has been village president at Fenton for more than a score of years, that the town is to observe the 125th anniversary of its founding with a humdinger of a celebration July 3, 4 and 5. He facetiously asks me to enter the greased pig race.

Flagpole sittings, goldfish swallowers and other crazy stunters now must take a back seat, according to

of Rochester, who sends me a clipping about

Mr. and Mrs. Orin Fogle

spending a longer time in the Florida Everglades than any other person has been able to endure, nearly six months—which proves what?

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Pugsley

of Pontiac Lake, is getting in bad repute, though absolutely innocent. The deodorizing is wearing out, and a blessed event is in prospect. Nature must have its way.

"Yes, it's been a late spring," phones of Lake, who adds: "But I have rye that stands five feet high on June 2. Can anybody beat that?"

Josh Mortimore

Verbal Orchids to—

$42 Billion War Insurance Cheap

LONDON — Can anyone really get a thrill out of the taxes he pays to his government? Well, this correspondent did just the other day when he visited Paris and looked at a certain map at the Supreme Allied Headquarters in Europe. It told in part the story of the 42 billion dollars which the United States is spending on armaments each year.

LAWRENCE

It was like many a military map which shows, with its arrows, the location of potential forces. But somehow, as one studied it, there was revealed at a glance the tremendous defense system which the Western allies have set up through what is known as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

★ ★ ★

It reaches, on one side, all the way up to Britain and Norway. On the other side, it extends to Turkey, Greece, Italy, the west of Germany and France. In the Mediterranean there are some big dots that represent small specks on the vast sea, but there one sees the submarines of the future, armed with missiles that can travel 1,500 miles or more into the territory of a possible enemy in the north.

The explanation that accompanied the map is well understood in military circles, but the people generally do not realize that NATO is tied into air bases in Spain, North Africa and strategic areas in other lands and waters adjacent to Europe.

How, it might be asked, can anyone get any satisfaction out of looking at a military map that means war? But this map somehow doesn't mean war. It gives assurance that an enemy could be deterred and war prevented.

Twice in his lifetime, this correspondent has surveyed the terrible destruction of world wars. Nobody in his right mind could ever want to see war imposed again upon the men, women and children of Europe.

Also, there is one difference now as compared with the past. What ever war comes will not be confined to other continents. The destruction would reach into the United States itself. How much would anyone pay to keep a war out of America? It is worth almost any cost.

That's why 42 billions is a small sum, relatively speaking, to be spending annually for insurance. The money must, of course, be properly spent and not wasted, and, in general, the armament that America, along with her allies, has developed is effective and is efficiently distributed.

The United States, however, has developed not only weapons but able men to lead us in the foreign field. One of them is General Lauris Norstad, the supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe. He is a dynamic individual, young, energetic and competent in every sense. But he has an even greater asset. He knows how to mingle with military officers of other countries as well as with their diplomats.

He is humble and even deferential in the presence of the military men of other countries. He makes them feel that they are really members of a team. But, above all else, General Norstad has a penetrating grasp of the military problems of Europe. He is not swayed by the talk of "disengagement" or "disarmament." He believes in the objectives of the hour—to get an assurance of peace. But he insists on safeguards, and they must be effective safeguards.

NATO is more than a military organization. It is more than a mere alliance for war. It has many branches and divisions that are slowly being welded together into one of the most effective international organizations yet created.

NATO is an organization of governments whose ambassadors are specially appointed to sit in Paris and discuss diplomatic affairs of a common interest. On the diplomatic side, the United States is represented by a special ambassador, W. Randolph Burgess, an able businessman of broad experience.

His years in the Federal Reserve System and later as vice chairman of the National City Bank of New York have brought to the council table a background of economic experience which is of great value in understanding today's problems of Europe. For nowadays political and economic questions are intertwined.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Stop Dosing Your Liver! It Functions Automatically

"How about the liver," asks a Milwaukee reader. "How do we go about keeping it healthy? After all, a person has only one liver."

The best advice I can give is: Let your liver alone. It is automatically regulated, by the same nerve mechanism that regulates the heart, lungs, digestive organs and every other part of the human machinery, not under the control of the will.

DR. BRADY

Take the vital function of breathing, for example. People pick up the notion that "deep breathing" is done with the chest. Actually a person breathes most efficiently when asleep, unconscious or under general anesthesia — natural breathing, that is, belly (bellows) breathing.

If this bit of physiology doesn't jibe with you funny notions about right side of the heart, whence it breathing, send me 3c cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson XXI, How to Breathe.

The belly breathing exercise as described in Little Lesson XXI prevents or relieves stagnation of blood in the vast network of blood vessels in the abdomen, and pumps some of this slacker blood out of the splanchnic pool back to the goes to the lungs for re-oxygenation.

No amount of puffing and blowing with ordinary "deep breathing" can give anything like the healthful effect one gets from half a dozen inflation of the belly (bellows) two or three times a day.

Particularly in persons of sedentary habit, persons who get insufficient general exercise, stagnation of blood in the splanchnic pool accounts for many ailments. For such persons a brisk daily walk of a few miles —the best general exercise one can take—is also a priceless health habit.

The old timers were fond of the notion of "torpid" or "lazy" liver. Besides reactivating the slacker blood, regular practice of belly breathing gently and naturally massages the liver, gall bladder and bile ducts, preventing bile stasis and diminishing the tendency to the formation of gallstones.

It promotes gall bladder drainage and tends to prevent chronic cholecystitis in the forties. You know, the "indigestion" characterized by periodic "gas attacks" which are likely to culminate in gallstone colic.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Explains Repetitious Topics

Corenna's information is very enlightening. The Pontiac PRESS, with a circulation of 60,000, sends me 300 letters per month, which is the usual letter input for most advice columnists in papers having 500,000 circulation. Why does the Pontiac PRESS pull such a huge mail? Because it strikes at the 5 basic interests of human beings.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B-451: Corenna Aldrich, aged about 25, is a lovely brunet who is employed by The Pontiac Press.

Among her versatile duties, she forewards the letters from readers who write to me for advice or educational booklets via The Press.

DR CRANE

Remember, all your letters are sent to me UNOPENED, for your mail is treated as "privileged communication" coming to a doctor.

I say that because some readers feel they need my home address in order to protect their confidential information.

That is not necessary at all for my newspaper readers, though many of the so-called advice columnists "farm out" the mail service and permit local handling of letters addressed to them.

"Dr. Crane, we send you about 300 letters per month just from our Pontiac Press readers," Corenna said.

UNIVERSITY IN PRINT

The modern American newspaper not only educates and informs people via its wide variety of educational copy, including its editorials and syndicated columns, but it then maintains what corresponds to "extension" university classes via this mail service.

★ ★ ★

"But, Dr. Crane, why don't you change your column to a Question-Answer format?" one of the members of my Pontiac Press audience asked.

Well, that might have some advantages, I'll admit, but I have found that most readers aren't content just to have an answer.

No, they like to understand the reasons behind that answer! They wish to know the medical or psychological facts underlying the problem.

Many advice columnists offer snappy answers to common questions, but they do not go into the scientific explanation behind the scenes.

Clergymen and lawyers, doctors and educators, not only follow this column but use it with patients or pupils, so the purpose of this feature is not just to pontificate an answer, but to advance the latest scientific reasons therefor.

"Dr. Crane," I was asked by another member of the audience, "I notice that you occasionally repeat problems."

REPETITION IS VALUABLE

Yes, and that is done advisedly, for millions of young folks are coming of age each year who may never have read this column before.

Furthermore, most scientific problems soon begin to repeat themselves. Thus, your medical columnist covers gall bladder, appendix, polio, etc., and then repeats the cycle, simply adding later news or new characters.

The repetition is likewise true of Page One news. After you name murder, rape, auto wrecks, airplane crashes, and a few other standard headings, you find the same things every day, with just the substitution of new names as actors.

In fact, one shrewd literary critic once analyzed all the dramatic situations for fiction writers and reduced them to about 36.

These same plots are then repeated millions of times by story writers all over the world, with just the substitution of new names or new locales.

My format each week includes one basic teaching case, each, on child rearing, love, personality improvement, psychosomatic medicine, marriage, and some phase of applied psychology in advertising, selling, business, or professional practice.

Thus, I strike 5 major human interests every six days and repeat the same basic format 52 weeks in the year, for those are the major "instincts" in life.

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Readers Rush to Defense of Teachers' Pay Request

My husband and I admired the editorial on the School Board's action on the band parents' requests. We also admired the tactfulness in not publishing the shower of pro and con letters.

★ ★ ★

Why are you permitting the subject of teachers' wages to be so stupidly bandied again? Surely you know how essential it is that Pontiac have a salary schedule which compares favorably with Bloomfield Hills, Wyandotte, Dearborn, Detroit, etc. Don't most professional people expect to have their salary doubled in ten years?

★ ★ ★

Helen Smith

To those who are complaining, how would you like to face six classes, 40 students each, every day? How would you like to face an elementary class with 45 to 50 students?

★ ★ ★

Don't you think the person who does that deserves as much as a man who screws bolts all day? Or as much as the man who sits behind a desk and does nothing?

★ ★ ★

A teacher must work into the night correcting papers, making up lesson plans, students sometimes call late at night. Teachers are asking only for enough money to live on. Think it over, America, this is your future.

Future Teacher

Janitors and clerks don't spend as much time, effort and money on training as teachers. Vice presidents and lawyers generally receive salaries befitting their positions. If teachers were paid accordingly, they wouldn't have to ask for such a drastic increase.

★ ★ ★

If poor taxpayers were more willing to spend money on the education of future citizens, they'd gain better teachers. Teachers who should get a cut in salary are due to the fact that people who would make fine teachers are driven away from the profession because of low wages.

★ ★ ★

People don't seem to mind the high cost of lawyers, doctors and businessmen, but call selfish those who seek a just wage for the responsibility of training future citizens of our country. Teachers deserve a standard of living befitting their position, even more than any other profession, and asking for it can hardly be deemed selfish.

Offers a 'Toast' to Yankee Team

It took the Yankees 19 years to get into the basement and I hope they go back there again and remain for the next 19 years. Only the Tigers have been able to match them in club-to-club battles.

Thinks Shut-in Day Is Wonderful Thing

This is a wonderful thing—National Shut-in Day, June 7, to promote Michigan and the USA as they should be advertised.

★ ★ ★

All the USA and Michigan needs to be advertised as more than just a vacation place for fun and good times, as lots of folks don't even get a vacation. They work to feed others and help care for the sick and helpless and shut-ins, who would be happy to work free of charge if they had health.

★ ★ ★

We all should brace up in great courage and faith for good things to build Michigan and the USA and be proud of our schools and colleges and always remember the less privileged and that all our blessings on earth come from God.

Had Exposed Underworld Role

Boxing Probe Witness Beaten by Unknown Pair

LOS ANGELES (AP) — One of the key witnesses in a recent probe of underworld influence in the California fight game was severely beaten by unknown assailants Wednesday night.

Two men attacked Jackie Leonard, fight promoter of Hollywood Legion Stadium, as he was putting away his automobile after a short trip to a neighborhood drug store in Northridge, a Los Angeles suburb.

Leonard suffered a severe head wound. Police said he apparently was struck with a gallon jug containing chlorine for his swimming pool. But Leonard's wife said a hammer was also out of place in the garage.

The promoter has been under daily police guard since he told a special hearing by the California Athletic Commission that he had been threatened by Frank Carbo who is under indictment in New York on charges of acting as an undercover boxing manager.

Police had escorted Leonard home late Wednesday, but he decided later to go to a drugstore for a newspaper.

Some time later his wife, Jeanne, went to the back yard to turn on the sprinkler, heard groans and found her husband unconscious on the garage floor.

Leonard was rushed to a hospital where he told police two men had assaulted him. Police Inspector Henry Kerr said his investigation hadn't uncovered anything to support that "this was anything other than a revenge act over his testimony at the athletic commission hearing."

When he testified before the athletic commission, Leonard said that Joe Sica, a Los Angeles underworld figure, "told me that the same thing could happen to me that happened to Ray Arcel." (Arcel, a fight trainer and promoter, was slugged with an iron pipe in Boston in 1953).

Don Nesseth, manager of Jordan, who also was a key witness in the athletic commission hearing, said the attack on Leonard "should convince the skeptics that these people are no good, and it should be obvious that Jackie and I were telling the truth when we testified about racketeering in boxing."

Dog Bite Costs Owner $5,100

Sylvan Lake Boy Wins Settlement for Injury That Damaged Ear

A Sylvan Lake couple has been awarded a $5,100 court settlement after their 9-year-old son two years ago had part of his right ear chewed off by a German shepherd puppy.

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury yesterday granted a total judgment of $5,100 to Richard L. Kincaid, of 1130 Rosedale St., an employe of the Oakland County Road Commission, and to his son Gregory.

In announcing the settlement, Circuit Judge William J. Beer said it should serve as a warning to dog owners that they are liable "even if the dog bites a person on their own property."

"The only way they can escape liability is to show that the dog was provoked," Judge Beer said.

On Aug. 17, 1957, Gregory Kincaid and some of his neighborhood playmates were petting and admiring the young, 9 month old puppy which Sias had just purchased that day as a watchdog because he was away from home so much as a haul-away trucker.

An attorney said the boy has had some five plastic surgery operations in an effort to restore the ear and hearing.

According to Mrs. Sias, the dog has been returned to its original owners.

Debbie Denies Romance Despite Jeweled Brooch

NEW YORK (AP)—Houston coffee heir Bob Neal was reported today to have given actress Debbie Reynolds a large diamond brooch after dating her steadily for 10 days as both visited New York.

However, each denied that it signified an engagement, according to New York columnist Earl Wilson. Just the same, Wilson added, friends of Neal insisted upon congratulating him on marriage plans.

The columnist said he checked with the handsome 38-year-old bachelor about the gift to Debbie during a conversation in a night club early today.

Neal was quoted as saying at first that it was just a friendship token."

The columnist said he pointed out that diamond gifts usually imply something more than mere friendship and that Neal replied:

"You're right — let's take it out of the friendship category. But we never even discussed getting married or getting engaged. . . . She is Hollywood's No. 1 property and a man doesn't crowd a girl like this."

Wilson quoted Debbie as saying in Hollywood that she is not engaged.

Neal told Wilson that he handed Debbie an envelope containing the brooch as they sat in a car. He said she had admired it when they were at a jeweler's the day before.

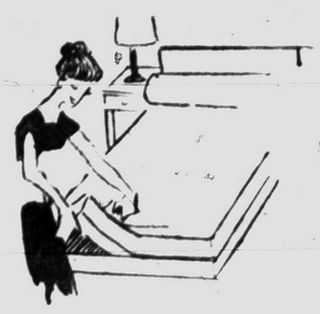

* * *

They had gone there, he said, for Debbie to exchange an emerald ring. Neal said he had no idea whether the ring had been given her by her former husband, singer Eddie Fisher, who quit Debbie to marry actress Elizabeth Taylor.

Asked what Debbie said when she saw his gift brooch, Neal responded:

"She said, 'You ARE fond of me, aren't you?'"

Orders Probe of Office Loss

Governor in Hawaii Says Legislators Take Too Much Equipment

HONOLULU (AP) — Territorial Gov. William F. Quinn has ordered a formal investigation of removal of office equipment and supplies from Senate chambers after the last Territorial Legislature adjourned May 11.

Quinn, a Republican running for governor in Hawaii's first state election July 28, issued a statement Sunday asking legislators to "account for their stewardship" of public property. He followed this up Wednesday with a directive for an inventory.

★ ★ ★

Some members of the Democratic-controlled Legislature were accused indirectly of making off with desk sets, chairs, desks, vacuum cleaners, typewriters, filing cabinets and other equipment after their last session as a territorial body.

Some senators conceded taking the articles but contended, such practice was traditional.

Some others said they had paid for the articles.

Newspapers, radio stations and some Republicans are making a big to-do of it. Newspapers report the equipment involved is worth several thousand dollars.

The acting president, Democrat Sen. Matsuki Arashiro, and the Senate Accounts Committee Chairman, Sen. John G. Duarte agreed to cooperate in the investigation.

"So far as the Legislature goes, it has always been done," Arashiro said.

"The Legislature gets new things every session. Who, as a legislator, wants to use something that has been used by someone else?"

Arashiro said he gave his Senate desk set to school children for souvenirs.

Duarte said 852 pounds of such furnishings were sent to him by plane to his Maui Island home. But he said he paid for them. The shipment includes a desk, four chairs, a foam rubber couch, a filing cabinet, a fan, a typewriter and stand, a TV set and two cartons of miscellaneous items.

★ ★ ★

Duarte, whose committee is charged with keeping track of equipment, said someone sent him a rug but he hadn't bought that, so he shipped it back.

The song "Aloha Oe" was written by Hawaii's last monarch, Queen Liliuokalani, whose regime was overthrown in 1893.

Posters Planned to Warn About Plastic Wrappers

NEW YORK (AP)—The Society of the Plastics Industry plans to distribute placards for display in drycleaning establishments warning about plastic bags.

The placards will go to almost 9,000 members of the National Institute of Drycleaning.

A score of deaths during the past few months have resulted from misuse of the plastic bags.

The warning will read:

"These bags should be kept away from small children. Don't permit small children to play with plastic film wrappings. Do not use them as covering in baby carriages, playpens and cribs.

★ ★ ★

"Thin film can cause suffocation if brought into contact with a child's face so as to cover nose and mouth. Just as you don't permit children to play with matches, sharp objects, or medicine, take away plastic film wrappings from them. Destroy film wrappings when they have served their purpose."

Boosting Army in Nicaragua

Rebels Fleeing, Claims Somoza, but He Adds 12,000 to Forces

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Nicaragua began doubling its army today in the wake of invasion thrusts by opponents of Dictator-President Luis Somoza.

The buildup of the nation's armed forces got under way even though it was officially announced the small band of rebels who invaded by air over the weekend was fleeing and no longer a danger.

The government said it was adding 2,000 men to the National Guard—the nation's army which already numbers about 2,000 actives. In addition, 10,000 guard reservists are being called up for training.

★ ★ ★

To support its claim that the airborne invaders were on the run, the government was taking foreign correspondents today to the area in south Nicaragua where the rebels landed from Costa Rica. The army has said only about 75 rebels landed and that they were on the point of annihilation.

★ ★ ★

But in San Jose, the Costa Rican capital, the Nicaraguan rebel leader, Enrique Lacayo Farfan claimed that strong contingents of farmers were joining the rebels.

FIRST HONOR AWARDS — Something new in achievement awards will be presented by Father Frederick Delaney at Our Lady of the Lakes school tomorrow morning. Pupils maintaining an annual "B plus" average in college preparatory courses will be given "letters" similar to those awarded varsity athletes. Carol Wolosiewicz and Darryl Stephinson — the first pupils in the school to earn the awards, get a preview of the new letters, from Father Delaney.

Resemble Athletic Awards

Scholars Will Receive 'Letters'

A new theory that academic pupils should have the same recognition as athletes, is being put into operation for the first time by Our Lady of the Lakes parochial school in Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

Only high school pupils taking precollege courses who have maintained a "B plus" average for the entire year are eligible for a "letter" similar to those awarded athletes.

★ ★ ★

In a short ceremony Friday morning, pastor of the church, Father Frederick Delaney will present the first two honor pupils, Carol Wolosiewicz and Darryl Stephinson, with the achievement awards.

Both of the ninth-graders have maintained eleven points (all Bs and one A) throughout the years four marking periods.

OTHERS AWARDED

Although at the end of the year, achievement awards will be given for outstanding work in other courses such as commercial, homemaking and shop, only "letter" pupils will be considered in selection of the valedictorian and the salutatorian.

At the present time, Our Lady of the Lakes School only accommodates pupils in the fifth through the ninth grades. However, a tenth grade course will be added in September.

A campaign to raise $400,000 for a complete elementary-high school combination, is now under way for the 1960 school operation, Father Delaney said.

Roof Fraud Punished

KALAMAZOO (AP) — George W. Timmons, 42, is serving a 60-day jail sentence for receiving money under false pretenses. He was convicted by Municipal Judge Carl C. Blankenburg of charging Mrs. Ethel Hackney $156 for putting $8 worth of shingles on the roof of her home. Witnesses said the 70-year-old woman had been misled into believing there was a hole in the roof. Timmons also was fined $100, put on two years probation and ordered to make restitution.

Tried Too Hard for Job

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Bernard C. Buchanan, 18, and Anthony J. Snell, 22, were indicted Wednesday on federal charges they tried to derail a New York Central train so that they would get work clearing up the wreckage. They were accused of placing steel sheets on the tracks at St. Johnsville May 20. A freight train struck them but was not derailed.

To Speed Up Queues

NEW YORK (AP)—A new type coin box taking nickels and dimes as well as 15-cent tokens is being tested with an eye toward speeding up subway rush-hour queues. Present boxes take only tokens.

Board of Supervisors, defended giving the contract to Fredman. Supervisors approved this 70 to 4 Tuesday.

"On analyzing the two low bids and the small amount of difference, and also the county's welfare problem, it was the thinking of committees and the board that it was in the best interest of the county that it be given to the second low bidder, a local contractor," Hamlin said.

We felt it would stimulate the economy of the county and was for our best interest," he added.

He denied any "manipulating" of bids in order to manipulate the difference between the two.

Fredman, who built the Pontiac City Hall and Public Safety Building, submitted a base bid of $2,197,957. Shimna's base bid was $2,092,400.

Another Pontiac firm, Schultz Electric Service, received the electrical contract for $206,542. R. E. Spitzley Co. of Detroit was awarded the mechanical contract for $[illegible].

Regroup for Vote on Tax Measure

cleared the senate only to run into a House bottleneck.

The GOP Senate majority has vowed repeatedly to kill any income tax bill that comes their way.

Various local government units due $11,600,000 from a variety of state sources, this month find themselves left holding the bag.

There's no other choice than to skip paying them, said state treasurer Sanford A. Brown yesterday after another review of the state's steadily deteriorating finances.

His appraisal followed a state administrative board decision to sweep out the treasury's school and general funds again, with $7,600,000 ticketed in a surprise move for the three major universities.

* * *

The board formally okayed issuance of today's biweekly state payroll checks totaling $5,100,000 to 26,000 state employes, thereby draining the general fund down again to a near zero balance.

All of the 20 million dollars accumulated in the state aid fund will be dispatched to 2,550 school districts, some of them in nine days, next Monday or Tuesday.

Will Die Tomorrow If Not Moved

Williams Appeals for Action on 15 Bills

LANSING (UP)—Gov. Williams has made a last ditch appeal for action on 15 bills which must be out of committee by Friday to stay alive in the 1959 Legislature.

* * *

"These measures are important to assure the continued economic recovery of Michigan, the health and economic well-being of our workers, provide adequate educational facilities for our children and recognize the problems of the aging," the governor said in a special message to lawmakers.

Republican control of the legislative apparatus made favorable action doubtful on the bills, which probably will be cut down by tomorrow's deadline with hundreds of others.

Those urged by Williams would:

Promote traffic safety by clearing up the legal status of voluntary chemical tests of drivers for intoxication. The governor said Michigan's good traffic safety record is being "torn to shreds."

* * *

Create a state building authority with power to undertake a 146 million dollar construction program at state institutions.

Group labor-management activities under a state labor relations board.

Create a special commission to study automation and "its obvious great role in our present unemployment."

Allow municipalities to form industrial park authorities to encourage industrial growth.

Permit acquisition of land by development credit corporations.

Create an office of director of atomic energy activities, a radiation standards board and an advisory committee of scientists.

Promote agriculture through a Michigan "seal of quality" program.

Require all children entering school to be vaccinated against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, polio and whooping cough. The requirement would be waived if contrary to religious beliefs.

Create a commission on aging to deal with problems of the state's increasing number of senior citizens.

* * *

Provide for annual fire and health inspections of schools.

Bring the state's water safety program into harmony with federal rules.

Update the state's 50-year-old Industrial Safety Law, including authorization for the state labor commissioner to issue safety rules after consulting with affected industries.

Permit the Employment Security Commission to use its contingent fund for special counseling services to the unemployed.

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (UPI)—An unidentified motorist was saved from a traffic ticket yesterday by a deer. State Highway patrolman Joe Kendricks said he was chasing a speeder when the deer darted across the highway in front of him, forcing him to swerve his speeding patrol car off the road.

Driver of Milk Truck Demands Jury Trial

Douglass Stephens, 32, of 2[illegible] yard St., accused of deliberately backing his Borden's milk truck over a cut-rate milk sign at Steve's Market in Waterford Township on May 21, yesterday demanded a jury trial in Justice of the Peace Patrick K. Daly's court.

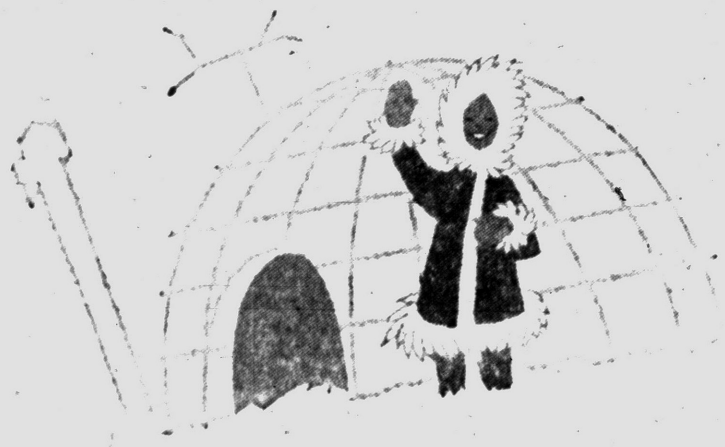

Stphens is charged with malicious destruction of personal property by market owner Peter Voydanoff, 3881 Elizabeth Lake Rd., who presented witnesses to substantiate his charge.

The truck was allegedly backed over a 4x5 foot sandwich type sign which indicated 39 cents for a half gallon of milk.

The incident occurred about the same time plate glass windows were smashed in four Waterford Township grocery stores selling milk at cut-rate prices, according to township police reports.

No date has been set for the trial by jury.

Housewife Is Robbed at Home in Daylight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three robbers, one carrying a gun, walked into a Forest Hills district home here in daylight Wednesday, robbed a housewife of $160 and threatened to take care of her 8-year-old son should she call police.

Mrs. John Sketchley, 42, dug up $120 from her household and Christmas money. The intruders stole the rest from the children's piggy banks.

Masquerade Over, 'Red' Isn't Toast of Town

CHICAGO (AP)—For 16 years Joseph Poskonka — branded as a Communist—endured the beatings, insults, sneers and scorns of his neighbors.

Suddenly, less than a month ago before a House subcommittee he told the world, and more especially his friends, that the Red label was a disguise. He really was an FBI informer, supplying them information on Communist activities in labor unions.

He hoped then the hate would disappear; that he could walk down the street and find a friendly hello instead of a vacant stare. He says he didn't. Now he is bitter.

"I guess I was foolish to believe that. Out of the whole block, just one guy, only one, has come up to shake hands," Poskonka told a newsman Wednesday.

His wife, Antoinette, 55, agreed. "It's ignorance, that's all it is," she said with a slight Polish accent. "These people have hated us so long they don't know how to change."

★ ★ ★

But some of Poskonka's stock yards district neighbors had different things to say.

"This is an old Polish neighborhood," said one. "They'll never admit they're wrong. No one has a good word to say about anyone else."

Another declared he never did shun the 57-year-old Poskonka. "I don't have anything to do with my neighbors. I just mind my own business."

A third said the Communist guise had nothing to do with Poskonka's complaint at all. "It's his personality," she said. "He never did have a lot of friends. He's not too friendly himself."

Poskonka lays much of the blame on a Polish language newspaper, The Daily Zgoda. He claims the paper played in big headlines the 1952 testimony before the House Unamerican Activities Committee in which he was "didn't print a word" about his labeled as a Communist, but recent testimony before the committee which cleared him.

★ ★ ★

Karol Piatkiewica, editor of the paper, denied the charge, and said he definitely printed stories and an editorial. He added "there must be some misunderstanding."

Poskonka, who was unable to hold a job before, works now as an $80 a week employe in the county clerk's office.

He says he's thought of moving out of the stockyards neighborhood, "but it isn't easy."

Secret Police Power Tropic Paradise

Political Unrest Is Normal in Haiti

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

From the beautiful bay at Port-au-Prince, Haiti, the traveler steps ashore to a park-like atmosphere of palms, close-clipped lawns and low-slung, gleaming sun-bathed buildings built by the government.

Vegetables from the day before and the day before that rot on the ground, the stench of yesterday overcoming the freshness of today.

Inland, a road runs toward the blue mountains. The sea breeze is a savior here. It is a road not usually used by tourists because it runs through a shanty city of open sewers, of shacks leaning one upon the other, of naked children, of massed humanity living in unimagined poverty.

LUXURY IN HILLS

Up in the hills are the luxury hotels and the homes of the wealthy where the squalor below is hidden from view and it is indeed a tropic paradise.

Haiti is a land of beauty and poverty, of political unrest and intrigue, of democracy whose strength is based on a secret police force which is the antithesis of democracy.

In the midst of all this is President Francois Duvalier who was elected in September, 1957, and whose term under the constitution should run for six years.

But it is always open season of presidents in Haiti and in this century only three have retired of their own accord.

In this Negro republic, where it has been traditional for the rich to get richer and the poor to get poorer, Duvalier's government is setting a record as one more honest than usual and one whose interest in irrigation projects, public housing and public welfare in general prove a desire to improve the poor lot of the average man.

But if instability of government may be taken as an average among Caribbean nations, then Haiti is more average than most.

10 MONTHS, 5 GOVERNMENTS

Between December 1956 and September 1957 Haiti had five governments, each installed and supported by the army.

Between 1937 and 1957 there were no less than four uprisings in Haiti, in each of which the army took part. In that period, no candidate could be elected and hold office without the support of the army.

By various means, mainly consisting of disarming the regular army and setting up a secret force operating primarily from within the presidential palace grounds, Duvalier has managed at least to drive his opposition underground.

Nevertheless, within his own time in office, there have been these instances of opposition: sabotage of a Port-au-Prince power station, secret radio broadcasts urging revolution, a suspected bomb plot set for last May Day, the hijacking of a government transport plane, and an eight-man invasion from Miami which seized the main army barracks in Port-au-Prince and held them for a night before being wiped out.

Of Haiti's approximate four million population, about 90 per cent is illiterate. National politics is decided in Port-au-Prince where the population is about 200,000. Most of the other people are too poor to care.

Haiti is dependent for much of its income on tourism. Shop keepers say this was the worst season yet.

As of now, the bets are on Duvalier to stay in office indefinitely, aided by public lethargy and his secret police. But the outlook for Haiti is bleak — a continuing struggle between poverty and political bankruptcy.

'We Knew War Was Lost . . . Surrender Not Honorable'

By HORST FLUEGGE

BONN, Germany (AP)—We had waited for the phone call for a long time. It came around 8 o'clock on June 6. A sergeant picked up the receiver. He listened for a while, then turned to us and said, "They have landed."

That was D-Day, 15 years ago. I was a lieutenant stationed with a German army mobile artillery unit at Avranches, 60 miles from the main Allied beachhead at Cherbourg on the Normandy coast of France.

I didn't see what happened at Cherbourg that morning, for we were marshaling the curious mixture of youthful veterans of the Russian front and the kids and old men hastily recruited for the defense of the Atlantic Wall.

We marched for two days until we reached the Orne River near Caen and there we ran into the powerful barrages of the Allied naval vessels that lay offshore.

We were an exhausted, defeated bunch, the men of Artillery Unit 1154. We knew we had lost the war, but there was nothing to do but fight it out. To us it did not appear honorable to surrender.

★ ★ ★

I remember standing among the batteries of inferior Italian long-range guns and Russian material confiscated on the Eastern front and listening to our staff chief.

"Maybe they'll smash our artillery in a hurry and we'll get new stuff," he observed laconically.

Another artillery officer, a man with whom I had made the long retreat from the heart of Russia, had this cynical observation: "We might as well start the counter-attack. Then we can retreat faster."

It's difficult to remember what I thought and felt then. I was tired, worn out from four years in Russia and from trying to train our inexperienced replacements. Normandy was a long way from Berlin where I had been studying philosophy at the university when the war began.

From the middle of May I had been adjutant to the commander of Artillery Unit 1154 in Avranches. I was moved there with our other officers from the Eastern front.

★ ★ ★

Our men were mostly youngsters and old men who had held staff jobs in Berlin. They were inexperienced and unable to cope with the superior weapons and manpower of the enemy.

★ ★ ★

We were not at all surprised that the Allies struck at Cherbourg. The coastal area of Normandy was the most vulnerable region in the Atlantic Wall whose defenses had been planned by Field Marshals Rommel and Von Rundstedt.

★ ★ ★

Our main forces lay 60 miles from the coast and we had to rush men to the beaches to combat the Americans, British and Canadians who stormed ashore.

From the first it was clear that the Allies had air superiority, more than the Russians had managed in the East. And the naval artillery on the Allied ships had greater range than our big guns. They could hit us while our shells fell far short.

Never during the war, including the dismal days in Russia, did I find the morale of our troops as low as it was in the first days of the Allied invasion.

I remember talking to our staff chief in those first invasion days and hearing him say with a defeatist grin: "Let's take a Messerschmitt and go off to Spain."

On July 20, 1944, the plot to assassinate Hitler took place and failed. Word got around fast and we felt then that the war would last until we were driven back into Germany.

★ ★ ★

I remember the signs at the railway stations in the early days of the war. "The wheels must roll for victory," the signs said.

After July 20, there was a new twist to that: "Heads roll for victory—of the other side."

Near us was one of Hitler's crack SS divisions, the Leibstandarte. The morale in that division was much higher than the morale in the regular army divisions.

★ ★ ★

But in talks with officers of the division I was surprised to find so few dedicated Nazis.

We fought hard, though it is difficult now to explain why. We fell back slowly before the advancng American and British tanks.

★ ★ ★

On Aug. 11 we underwent a particularly severe attack. Most of the men of Unit 1154 were killed or taken prisoner. I was hit in the side by a tank machine gunner and removed to a hospital in Holland.

★ ★ ★

When the Allies moved into Holland I was shipped back to Germany and eventually found myself in command of a newly organized artillery unit on the Eastern front. I was in Czechoslovakia when the war ended in May, 1945.

First Comstock Miner Squirrel

Shafts Were So Hot Working Men Got Cold Water Dousing

One hundred years ago this spring, a poor miner called "Old Virginny" after his native state hiked with three friends up a low hill in western Nevada. They panned some dirt brought to the surface by a ground squirrel digging a burrow. The soil contained gold—about 15 cents worth to the pan.

Placer mines spread out along the lode, the National Geographic Society says. The miners were delighted to find the dirt richer as they worked down. More gold was found near by. Other prospectors discovered that the heavy blue sand was rich in silver. An early assay showed the ore worth $3,876 a ton — one quarter gold, the rest silver.

Wealth from the Comstock had wide effects. It helped the Northern states fight the Civil War, provided a basis for many American fortunes, built railroads and newspapers, laid ocean cables, rejuvenated San Francisco after the great earthquake, and lifted California from a depression. As the ore petered out, the Comstock left on its doorstep one of the most famous of ghost towns, Virginia City, named for "Old Virginny."

The lode was formed perhaps 60 million years ago, geologists believe, by the upwelling of subterranean fire and steam. Fires still burn beneath the lode. Water as hot as 170 degrees Fahrenheit gushed into the shafts and stopped deep mining efforts at the 4,000 foot level.

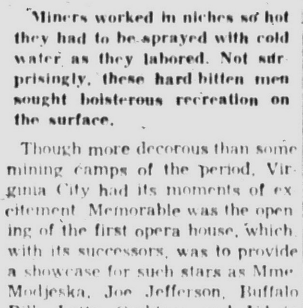

Miners worked in niches so hot they had to be sprayed with cold water as they labored. Not surprisingly, these hard-bitten men sought boisterous recreation on the surface.

Though more decorous than some mining camps of the period, Virginia City had its moments of excitement. Memorable was the opening of the first opera house, which, with its successors, was to provide a showcase for such stars as Mme. Modjeska, Joe Jefferson, Buffalo Bill, Lotta Crabtree and Edwin Booth.

Two feuding mine superintendents attended the premiere in tailcoats and Colt revolvers, which they soon put to use. Friends joined in the fusillade across the orchestra, puncturing a few diamond studded shirt fronts and a new curtain embellished with a genuine hand painted representation of the Lakes of Killarney. Luckily, no one seemed to carry more than six shots when in evening dress. The battle subsided without serious injury, and the show went on.

Higher Interest Probable Soon on Government Bonds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Big and small investors may be given a chance this summer to buy new government bonds paying higher interest than the law now permits.

President Eisenhower is expected to ask Congress within a few days to permit higher interest on future issues of these government securities, including savings bonds purchased by workers through payroll deductions.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen ((Ill) predicted yesterday the President also would propose a new bond calculated to appeal to parents saving for their children's college expenses. He said it would be called the "educational assurance bond."

Any request for higher interest on federal bonds will produce a bitter congressional fight.

APPROVAL LIKELY

Nevertheless, Congress probably will wind up granting — but grudgingly—some of the authority sought by the President. Legislation permitting some hike in the bond rate conceivably could become law in four weeks.

Forecasting "considerable opposition," Senate Democratic Whip Mike Mansfield (Mont) said "I fear the consequences" of such legislation. He said it might "feed fires of inflation."

Some Democrats contend the government itself is responsible for the fact that the cost of borrowing money has risen to the higest level in three decades.

These Democrats acknowledge that the Treasury in today's money market can't sell long-term bonds to big investors with the present limit on interest.

But they contend the President should solve the problem by persuading monetary authorities to relax credit restraints, thereby forcing down interest rates.

The law now limits the interest that the government can pay to 3¼ per cent on "Series E" savings bonds bought by small investors and to 4¼ per cent on big bonds which may not be redeemed at the treasury until maturity.

BIG INVESTORS BUY

The later generally are purchased only by big investors and are issued in denominations from $500 to $1,000,000.

The President discussed his proposals with congressional leaders at a secret bipartisan White House meeting Monday. Word of the meeting leaked out, resulting in a further decline in market prices of outstanding issues of big government bonds which are bought and sold by big investors every day.

In hope of holding down congressional debate, the administration wants to include the legislation in a package bill with "must" legislation to increase the ceiling on the national debt.

Congressional leaders agree that the debt ceiling must be increased by July 1, if the government is to continue paying its bills.

The debt now totals a record high $286,000,000,000 — or three billion dollars higher than the permanent ceiling which is scheduled to go into effect July 1.

Urges Drivers to Sing Appropriate Road Song

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Jimmy Etheridge of the traffic bureau here says auto drivers should sing while they drive. He displays a slogan advocating: at 45 mph, sing "Highways are happy ways;" at 55 mph "I'm but a stranger here, Heaven is my home;" at 65 mph "Nearer my God to Thee;" at 75 mph "When the roll is called up yonder I'll be there;" at 85 mph "Lord I'm coming home."

Meet Demands of Modern Engines

Gas Advances Keep Pace

NEW YORK (AP)—Modern gasolines are being tailored to meet the demands of modern automobiles.

Two oil scientists said this week advances in gasolines the past 10 years have exceeded any other comparable period in the 70 years of motor fuel demand. They said future advances are promising but will have to be justified by economical prices.

W. J. Sweeney and J. F. Kung of Esso Research and Engineering Co. predicted, however, that demand for gasoline will continue to boom.

Assuming the average motorist gets 12.5 miles per gallon, vehicle travel in the United States in 1967 is expected to approach 840 billion miles. The 38 million vehicles of 1947 traveled an estimated 350 billion miles.

Antiknock qualities of gasoline have improved sharply since 1947 but the rate of increase seems to be slowing.

Super premium gasolines appeared on the market in 1956, breaking the industry's traditional two-grade system. One company now is offering a choice of six grades. Introduced at just over 100 octane, these super gasolines now are being sold with an average rating of 101.5.

The super grades were designed to satisfy the antiknock requirements of a relatively small production of new high compression ratio automobiles.

The compression ratio of the average United States passenger car engine produced in 1947 was 6.7 1. The highest was 7.25:1.

By 1958 the average had increased to just under 9.5. Some engines had compression ratios as high as 10.5.

Straits Bridge Traffic Down

Car Crossings in May Decline, but Truck Use Shows Increase

ST. IGNACE (UPI) — Truck traffic across the Mackinac Bridge increased last month, but auto traffic over the $100 million structure was down 13 per cent from May of last year according to figures just released.

Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Bridge Authority, said during last month 69,618 vehicles crossed the Straits compared to 80,030 vehicles in May of 1958 and 80,902 in the same period in 1957.

He reported that truck combination traffic continued to increase during May and "it was 11.3 per cent above the comparable period of last year.

"Revenues were down 13 per cent compared to May of last year," Brown announced. "The bridge grossed $284,369 last month. A year ago the total was $315,002."

He said that the three-day Memorial Day weekend last year saw 10,000 more vehicles cross the bridge than during this past two-day Memorial Day holiday.

★ ★ ★

Brown said big revenue months were June, July, August and September.

"If it's a hot summer," he said, "bridge traffic will soar to new highs."

Ready Facilities at Port Huron for Seaway Rush

LANSING (UPI) — Port Huron hopes to have its new shipping facilities ready for the late season rush along the St. Lawrence Seaway, said City Clerk Robert E. Krenke.

"We should have the bonds sold by mid-June," Krenke said after the Municipal Finance Commission approved a $300,000 bond issue for cranes, concrete aprons, pumps, rail spurs and warehouse and docking facilities.

Attorney General Paul L. Adams last week delayed action on the bond issue because there had not been publication of a notice of registration at least 10 days before the last day for receiving registrations for the April 6 election.

But he agreed yesterday with bond attorneys who said the defect was a "mere irregularity." He said there had been "widespread dissemination of information" through news coverage.

Krenke said newsprint, navy beans, salt, sugar and manufactured items will be shipped from Port Huron.

14 School Elections in County Area Monday

Voters in fourteen school districts throughout the Oakland County area will go to the polls Monday to elect new Board of Eudcation members, and in six cases to decide special issues such as millage and bond proposals.

Following is a list of the candidates and special issues:

WALLED LAKE

Should the Walled Lake Consolidated School District be reclassified as a district of the third class? This is the question to be decided by the electing body.

The district currently is a fourth class district. To reclassify it as third class would mean enlarging the school board to seven members, each serving four-year terms. Presently, there are five members elected for three-year terms.

District classifications are restricted according to population. Now having a population of over 10,000, the Walled Lake district qualifies to become a third class district.

Only two names will appear on Monday's ballot. Incumbents, Julius Nelson and Joseph Long are uncontested in their bid to retain their posts on the school board through re-election.

MILFORD

They are Dr. Thomas Nugent, Anthony Coppola, Mervyn Kidd, Charles Martin and Eugene Russell.

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP

Registered voters of the West Bloomfield School District will be asked to elect one of three candidates for a three-year position on the school board.

They are Mrs. Frances M. Leaf, the incumbent, Mrs. Virginia Vogelsburg and Frank Jones.

ROMEO

Electors in the Romeo Community School District will name two members to the Board of Education in Monday's annual school election.

* * *

Remaining candidates are Mrs. C. Harold (Ruby) Wills, Ray Wilson, Edward A. Jacob and Clyde Hotchkiss Sr., an incumbent.

The other incumbent, present Board President Allen Rush, is retiring this year for reasons of health.

* * *

Names of the other men which will appear on the ballot, although they are no longer candidates, are M. T. Cummiskey, Conrad J. Friedemann and George Burns.

AVONDALE

In the Avondale School District three men, including the two incumbents, are running for the two vacancies on the Board of Education.

The candidates are Board President Gordon S. Hamilton, member R. Grant Graham and newcomer Earl C. Wilson.

UTICA

George F. Roberts, secretary of the Board of Education of the Utica Community Schools, will be challenged for re-election by two newcomers in Monday's election. They are Charles F. Bannow and Gerald A. Moll.

District voters also will be asked to approve two propositions. The first proposal requests passage of a $2,886,000 bond issue for school expansion. The other seeks support of the proposition to put Utica teachers under the Teacher's Tenure Act.

ROCHESTER

In addition to electing one member to the Board of Education, voters in the Rochester Community School District will be asked to approve a two-mill operating tax increase in Monday's annual election.

The four men who filed for the one vacancy on the board are Fred Houghton, John Terry, Victor Zink and Raymond Storm.

Lewis B. Arscott, veteran of five terms on the Rochester board, is retiring this year.

ALMONT

Two veteran members of the Board of Education of the Almont Community School District are resigning this year, and four newcomers are seeking election Monday to the two posts.

The candidates are Mrs. Jean Swayze, Robert Currey, Robert Wilson and Richard Bristol.

Graham Terry, veteran of some 15 years on the board, is not running again, nor is Harold Hough who has served for 12 years.

IMLAY CITY

Voters in the Imlay City School District will elect two members to the Board of Education Monday and also decide whether to grant the board permission to sell two small parcels of land.

Running for three-year terms on the board are Kenneth Anderson, Francis Spencer, and one incumbent, Howard Caldwell.

The other incumbent, Hugh De Camp, veteran of 28 years on the board, is not seeking re-election.

The two parcels are one-half acre, formerly the Donovan School property, and three-quarters of an acre, which was the White Sand Hill School property.

HOLLY

There are five candidates for two places on the Holly Area School Board of Education.

They are Howard F. Chanter, incumbent; Mrs. Elinore Seavey, incumbent; William B. Darnton; Vasil M. Kerensky and Warren Mendez.

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP

Voters in the Dublin School District will be asked to approve an increase of eight mills for school operation during the next eight years.

Since five mills are being deducted from building bond millage at this time, voters actually will face a three-mill hike in school taxes, if the special issue is passed.

Candidates for the two school board posts being vacated at this time are the two incumbents, Philip C. McCullough and Norman T. Seator, and Shirley Gray.

FARMINGTON

The names of three candidates for two posts on the Farmington Public School's Board will appear on Monday's ballot. They are Leland G. Clifford and Vernon P. Fisher, both incumbents, and A. William Tilder.

LYON TOWNSHIP

Four candidates are running for two Board of Education trustee offices of three-year duration in the Lyon Township School District. These include the incumbent, William I. Markham, and newcomers Donald C. Coe, Wilfred A. Heidt and Lester V. Slauter Jr.

SOUTHFIELD

A special issue on the Southfield Public School District ballot asks for a two-mill increase. If approved, voters will pay a school tax of 15.38 mills for operating expenses. The present debt service millage will fall off 1 mill.

Two posts for three years' duration and one for four years will be filled at this time.

Candidates for the three-year seats are Ernest J. Coverdill, incumbent appointee, and John G. Campbell who ran last year and was defeated by a slim margin.

MARJATTA ESKELINEN

IRVIN GINGRICH

Avon Boy Selected for Exchange Junket

AVON TOWNSHIP — Seventeen-year-old Irvin Gingrich has been selected by the New York office of American Field Service to represent Avondale Senior High School in a foreign country this summer, R. V. Crowell, school principal, announced today.

* * *

Irvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Gingrich of 3167 Caroline St., Auburn Heights will leave June 15 for the Netherlands.

While there he will study the customs of the country and learn about family life in a Dutch home.

American Field Service has chosen Marjatta Eskelinen of Kuopio, Finland, to be the foreign exchange student at Avondale Senior High School for the 1959-60 school year.

Marjatta's foster parents while she is in the United States will be Mr. and Mrs. Alvin J. Tallman, of 950 Francis St., Avon Township. Her American sisters will be Barbara and Jerry Tallman.

A high school junior this year in Finland, Marjatta's special interests are sports, music, people, languages and homemaking.

Crowell said Avondale has been very active in the AFS program the past two years and has had two foreign exchange students thus far, one from Germany and one from Sweden.

College Grads Who Don't Like Siberia Chided

MOSCOW (UPI) — University graduates who duck job assignments in such places as Siberia and the Arctic Circle have come in for some chiding from the Soviet press.

In the Soviet Union the student is expected to pay for his years of free education by accepting a job wherever he is needed. It is not obligatory that he does so, but neither is it considered playing the game if he refuses.

Some refusing and some half-hearted accepting have been going on, however, according to the Communist youth organ "Moscow Komsomolets."

The newspaper cited several cases of students it said were only interested in staying under the protective wings of their families in Moscow.

Some of them were children of influential or well known parents and in these cases mama and papa also came in for a blast for failing to instill their offspring with the true Communist spirit.

Avondale High Band to Sponsor Tag Days

AUBURN HEIGHTS—The Avondale Senior High School Band will hold tag day tomorrow and Saturday here to raise funds for new equipment, Bob Evans, band president, announced today.

The band will play in front of the Keego Hardware Store here from 3:30 to 6 p.m. tomorrow and from 10 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

Mute to Charge of Murder Intent

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP—Clifton Johnson, 37, of 10768 Hinsdale St., was arraigned yesterday before Justice Lonnie Cash here and stood mute on a charge of assault with intent to murder in the shooting of Alfred Dillard, 27, of 10685 Foxton Ct., Saturday.

* * *

Johnson allegedly shot Dillard from the backyard of his home. Dillard was found lying wounded in his own backyard. Witnesses said the shooting was unprovoked and that Johnson had been drinking.

Johnson, unable to produce $5,000 bail, is in the Oakland County Jail awaiting examination June 11.

2 County Men Enlist in Marine Corps in May

Only two Oakland County men were among the five who enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps last month through the Marine Corps Recruiting substation in Pontiac.

According to recruiters, the new area enlistees were Robert L. Larson, of 1673 Petrolia St., West Bloomfield Township, and Dennis W. Wright, of 1417 Cedar Bend Dr., Bloomfield Hills.

Both men were flown to San Diego, Calif., for 12 weeks of recruit training after which they will undergo five weeks individual combat training at Camp Joseph H. Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif.

Father-in-Law Also Charged

Utica Mayor Is Accused of Hitting Ex-Son-in-Law

UTICA — Assault and battery warrants were issued yesterday against Utica Mayor Edward Church and his father-in-law for allegedly beating up Church's former son-in-law at a local gasoline station.

The warrants were issued by Macomb County Justice Francis A. Castellucci on the complaint of Fred Riebel, 21, of 454 Gateway, Pontiac. Riebel was divorced in March from Church's daughter, Barbara. She obtained the divorce on grounds of mental cruelty.

Mrs. Riebel was given custody of the couple's only child, Stephen, 18 months old.

In a formal statement made yesterday Riebel told Assistant Macomb County Prosecuting Attorney Roy Rogensues that the beating occurred Sunday after he had left the Church home at 45854 Cass Ave., where he had gone to visit his son.

Upon leaving, he drove with his friend Giovanni Tani, 21, of 5553 Pleasant St., Drayton Plains, to the gas station owned by Church's father-in-law, Harry Kollmorgen, Reibel stated.

As they pulled into the station, he said he saw Kollmorgen leaving. He added that a few minutes later Kollmorgen returned with Church.

Riebel said Church told him to step out of the car. He claims that as he did Church and his father-in-law pushed him back and pummeled him as he lay on the floor board of his car.

Macomb County Sheriff's deputies and Utica police then arrived on the scene, and Riebel was taken to St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens, for treatment of abrasions of the throat and shoulders.

Church said the incident resulted from "an accumulation of happenings over the past few months." He added that he would deny to his dying day that he had hit anyone.

Church, who is serving his second two-year term as mayor, is manager of the IBM Department of Pontiac Motor Division, General Motors Corp. Kollmorgen owns a bowling alley.

Recreation Unit Drive Begins

Little League Baseball Teams to Canvass for Funds in Independence

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—Definite action for establishment of a self-supporting recreation department for the township has been started by a volunteer recreation committee.

A door-to-door campaign to raise funds will get under way early Saturday morning, when boys of the Little League baseball teams will canvass the area with canisters for contributions.

For more than a year, a six-member recreation board has been organizing and scheduling activities for youth and adults. Part of the funds for the projects have been supplied by the United Fund.

According to the committee, made up of Walter Wilberg, Harold DeLongchamp, Robert Jensenius, Leo Armstrong, Mrs. George Gray and Mrs. Clarence Frank, population growth in the Clarkston area has expanded to such proportions that a full-time director and eventual recreation center has almost become a necessity.

Car Hits Woman in Wheelchair Inside Her Home

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A woman, crippled by arthritis and unable to move from her chair, sat helplessly and watched Wednesday as a driverless car smashed through a wall and window into her.

Attendants at Portland Sanitarium said Mrs. Glen Darnall, 58, suffered fractures of both legs. She was sitting, as was her daily custom, in a chair watching the traffic go by.

A car rounded a corner nearby and the driver and passenger suddenly fell from an open door. The car plunged through a hedge, traveled up the lawn and smashed headon into the house.

* * *

Police said Earl Wagoner, 24, said he had been driving the car when the door opened and he fell. Passenger Cene Cannon, 29, told officers he reached for Wagoner and fell out too.

The driver was not cited.

Judge Gillis Recovering at Commerce Home

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Detroit Recorder's Judge Joseph A. Gillis is recuperating at his summer home, 8281 Cooley Beach Dr., following minor intestinal surgery and skin grafts on a toe badly cut in a power mower accident May 22.

He plans a two-week convalescence here.

Driver Thanks Police for Taking His License

HUDSON, Mass. (AP) — A motorist whose license was suspended for drunken driving over the Memorial Day weekend expressed his appreciation Wednesday.

* * *

He wrote the three policemen who took him into custody:

* * *

"If it wasn't for the action taken by the police I probably would have been just another number in the highway fatality list. Worse yet, I might have killed someone else."

Continental Motors Lists 6-Month Earnings Dip

DETROIT (AP) — Continental Motors Corp. reported net earnings of $1,331,205, equal to 40 cents a share, for the first six months of its fiscal year, ended April 30.

President C. J. Reese said earnings for the first half of last year included non-recurring tax credits of $400,000.

Royal Oak Firm Leaving State

Carrick Products Co. Moving to Mississippi to Cut Wages, Taxes

ROYAL OAK — Plans to move plant operations to Greenville, Miss., were announced yesterday by the Carrick Products Co. here.

* * *

Reasons given for moving were "substantially lower" wages and taxes prevailing in the South. Announcement was made by John D. Scofield, board chairman of the company.

He said the decision was made by the firm's board of directors when faced with a choice of moving or going out of business. The company lost over $100,000 in the last 12 months during what was supposed to have been a good automotive year, he said.

Employes here have been offered job transfers when the firm pulls up stakes in September, but they must accept the lower wage rates prevailing in Mississippi, according to Scofield.

* * *

He declined to estimate how much money would be saved in taxes by the move. However, he admitted that the board had been guaranteed "substantial tax relief."

Senate Passes $4½ Billion Farm Bill With Loan Limit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate yesterday passed a bill supplying more than 4½ billion dollars to finance government farm programs for the 12 months beginning July 1.

The vote was 73-10.

Passage came after Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss) abandoned a fight to soften a $50,000 limit on price support loans to any one farm or farmer.

The Senate bill now goes back to the House and a Senate-House conference committee probably will be named to iron out differences.

The House had adopted a differing $50,000 limitation and Senate leaders apparently agreed to work out any differences in this horse-trading session rather than on the Senate floor.

* * *

Just before passage Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) lost on a parliamentary ruling an effort to prevent any price supports unless production controls are in operation.

Douglas shouted that Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson was trying "to wreck the farm program" by offering price supports on corn and other crops without controls.

Sen. Milton R. Young (R-ND) raised an objection that the Douglas amendment was out of order. Young's contention was upheld.

A vote of 48-37 rejected an effort by Sen. John J. Williams (R-Del) to chop 75 million dollars from the 450 million authorized for the soil bank program.

Young-Campbell Nuptials Said in Orion Rite

The bride is the daughter of Kelly Campbell of Stanton, Ky. The bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Mabel Young of 72 Blaine St., Pontiac Township, and Charles Young of Keego Harbor.

The couple's only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young of Pontiac.

Street Names Eased for Youngsters' Sake

FORT DEVENS, Mass. (AP)—The names of three streets on this old Army post have been changed as a kindness to youngsters.

* * *

Fredericksburg street has become Pine street, Chancellorsville now is Elm and Detroitsbriand has become Walnut street.

An Army officer explained Wednesday night that the original names of the streets were too difficult for youngsters to spell.

* * *

Brunette Beauty Chosen Independence Day Queen

* * *

Hoping her selection as queen will be the stepping stone to a professional modeling career, Carole is presently employed as a secretary at the McManus, John and Adams advertising firm in Bloomfield Hills.

"Miss Rochester's" first maid of honor is Beatrice Bissett, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh T. Bissett of 236 South St., Rochester. She is a senior at Rochester Community High School.

Beatrice is an aspiring young poetess. She delighted everyone at the contest by saying the reason she entered the competition was to read her poems to an audience "that couldn't get away."

Second maid of honor was Janice De Baene, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. De Beane Sr. of 401 Northwood St., Rochester. Also a local high school senior, Janice sang "I've Got a Crush on You."

All 10 candidates for the crown appeared first in bathing suits, then in the talent show and finally in formal attire.

The contest, staged in the student lounge and cafeteria of the Rochester Community High School, was patterned after the "Miss America Pageant." It was sponsored by the Rochester Kiwanians to pick a queen to reign over their "Family 4th O-Ram-A" celebration on Independence Day.

Fred Noyes was master of ceremonies, and Paul Lennon featured vocalist. Mrs. Oscar J. Sorenson Jr. was contest chairman with Mrs. DeBaene serving as contest musician.

The queen, who did a delightful monologue in the talent show, was crowned by Milton Weaver, Kiwanis Club president. She and her two maids of honor received gift certificates from local merchants.

The five judges were Mrs. Robert Woodruff, prominent local clubwoman; Dorothy Seiffert, owner of a model agency in Detroit; Jack Taylor, vice president of the Rochester branch of the National Bank of Detroit; Bob Maxwell, Detroit radio and television personality; and Rhea Vietor, women's editor of The Pontiac Press.

The other seven contestants were Barbara Kaster, 21; Sandra Rock, 17; Patty Towianski, 17; Carolyn McPeters, 17; Linda West, 17; Nancy Pompa, 18; and Sandra Ruffner, 18.

Nikita Finishes Stay in Albania

Tirana radio announced Khrushchev's departure. He arrived May 25 for his first visit to the little Soviet satellite on the Adriatic.

* * *

In Budapest, a spokesman for the Hungarian foreign ministry said the program for his visit and the length of his stay in Hungary had not been determined.

Khrushchev last visited Hungary in April 1958. On this visit he is expected to discuss Communist Party matters and Soviet bloc policies with the nation's Communist rulers.

Presumably the Soviet premier also will discuss plans for a conference of Balkan government heads which Moscow announced Wednesday night the Soviet Union and Albania would call. The purpose, the magazine New Times said, would be to ban nuclear weapons from the Balkans.

* * *

In his speeches in Albania Khrushchev coupled demands that nuclear weapons be kept out of southeast Europe with warnings to Italy and Greece not to permit bases for U.S. nuclear missiles to be established on their territory. Khrushchev said if they did admit such weapons, the Soviet Union might have to put missile bases in Albania or other Balkan Communist states.

Man Named in Knifing

Denies Link to Slaying

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Implicated in the fatal stabbing of a Detroit man, Calvin Scott, 24, of 20766 Rimerville St., has denied having any part in the crime.

* * *

An ex-convict, Willie Lee Lankford, 36, of Detroit, confessed holding the knife that killed Amos Landis outside the Mendota Bar, 10441 Eight Mile Rd., Tuesday night, according to Royal Oak Township Police.

Lankford said Scott, also an ex-convict, and another man, whom he could not identify, pushed Landis against the knife he was holding during a holdup of the victim.

* * *

Lankford and Scott are being held by police in Detroit. The third man is being sought.

Gallant Senators Stand to Honor Mrs. Michigan

LANSING (AP)—In a gallant gesture, Michigan senators received lovely Mrs. Michigan, the state's entry in the Mrs. America contest, with a standing ovation.

* * *

The incident occurred yesterday on a visit from Mrs. Elizabeth H. Stokes, 37, of Traverse City, a surgeon's wife and mother of four children aged four to 11.

* * *

She will carry Michigan's colors in the national competition June 11 to 23 at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. Mrs. Stokes also was introduced to the House and Gov. Williams.

Thanks Is Premature

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Alma Kennedy, 37, of North Attleboro, Mass., was thankful Wednesday when two youths volunteered to help her start her stalled automobile. Her appreciation was premature, however. When the youths left, she discovered $200 had been taken from her handbag.

College Boom Upcoming

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—There will be 40 or 50 million college graduates in the next generation in the United States, Rutgers President Mason W. Gross predicted in a commencement address Wednesday.

Russian Doctor Reports on 50-Ruble Abortions

LONDON (AP)—A Russian woman doctor says abortions are available to women in the Soviet Union at 50 rubles.

* * *

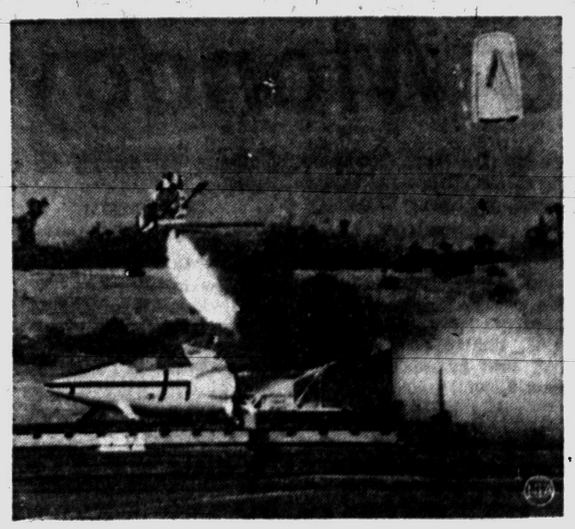

The operation is performed at the mother's request whether she is married or not, Dr. Galina Ilyinskaya told a news conference.

* * *

Dr. Ilyinskaya, a gynecologist from the Moscow Health Center, is one of three Russian women doctors in Britain to attend a 40-nation conference on family planning.

X15 Rocket Ship Scheduled to Try Own Wings Today

TESTING THE X15 SEAT EJECTOR — Leading up to the first flight trial of the X15, expected today, have been tests of the pilot's safety equipment. The seat ejector, shown here, is a powerful one. It must be able to free the pilot from the bullet-like ship when it's traveling at around 3,600 m.p.h., the speed necessary to achieve its rendezvous with space — 100 to 150 miles above the earth. These photos were taken split-seconds apart. From left, the sequence shows a dummy pilot ejected from the rocket ship's cockpit while it is mounted on a sled; then the rocket-boosted seat shoots the pilot up to a safe distance above ground before the chute opens, the cockpit canopy meanwhile having tumbled clear; and finally the seat falls away as the chute opens.

The sleek black arrow, expected ultimately to carry a man at 4,000 m.p.h. to a height of 100 miles, is to be dropped from a mother ship at 38,000 feet for a four or five minute glide to earth. The X15 will carry no fuel.

Test Pilot Scott Crossfield will be at the controls. He is expected to make a couple of 'S' turns to check the hydraulic controls before bringing the plane in for a screeching skid landing at 230 m.p.h.

A B52 eight-jet bomber will cut the X15 loose from under its right wing over Rosamond Dry Lake, 17 miles from where the rocket plane is expected to land at this desert test center 100 miles north of Los Angeles.

Crossfield — North American Aviation Co. test pilot—has been in the X15 cockpit on four captive flights locked under the B52's wing.

Originally it was planned that the 15 would be taken on only one captive flight and then go into its glide tests in progressive steps toward its space probe. But bugs developed in the auxiliary power system during the first captive flight.

Finally on the fourth such flight May 21, all systems functioned properly and the 120-million-dollar plane was given a go-ahead for the glide test.

There probably will be two or three more glides, depending on the craft's performance. Then its twin low-power engines will be fired up to see how it functions at conventional speeds in the lower atmosphere.

Next summer these engines will be pulled from the rocket plane's tail and a 50,000-pound-thrust, single-chamber engine will be installed in their place. This engine is designed to blast the X15 to the edge of space.

Nikita's Son-in-Law Livens Up Izvestia

MOSCOW (AP) — Izvestia showed the world a brighter face yesterday. The Soviet government newspaper came out with a new makeup, punchier headlines, more and bigger pictures. It prinetd six pages instead of the customary four.

"I am making a study of the U.S. territorys (sic), so I am interested in any information you might have in Colorado."

Indiana Pair Before Probers

Senate Group Calls Up Alleged Pinball Men Over 'Payments'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate probers today call two alleged kingpins of a multimillion dollar pinball-gambling racket to answer questions about their activities in Indiana's Lake County.

The pair, George Welbourn and Steven Sohacki, have been described as the collectors of a fortune from operation of the machines in the populous steel-making area.

Committee Counsel Robert Kennedy said the two would be asked —among other things—about any payments they may have made to any public officials.

Two days of testimony on the Lake County situation has pictured the Welbourn-Sohacki combine as the beneficiary of "protection" from the office of Metro Holovachka and his chief investigator, Walter Conroy. Holovachka, former Lake County public prosecutor, now is deputy prosecutor.

Both Holovachka and Conroy are scheduled for appearances before the committee Friday.

Holovachka's office has been described throughout the hearing as an enemy of any pinball machine not owned by Welbourn and Sohacki, and as willing to leave any Welbourn-Sohacki machine unmolested.

Committee investigators testified earlier in the week that Welbourn and Sohacki collected over 12 million dollars from these mysterious machines in a five-year period. The machines bore only a telephone number.

They said profits have been plowed back into the St. George Realty Co., which rents the Gary post office building to the federal government.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) —A compromise decision to continue both the Nike and Bomarc missile programs at a cut-back level was reported in the making today.

An influential congressional official said he has been informed that Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy plans to recommend a go-ahead for both the Nike-Hercules and Bomarc missiles.

But he said the secretary is likely to propose to President Eisenhower a reduction in outlays for both of the missiles, since they represent air defense only against bombers at a time when chances of missile attacks are growing. This decision was expected to depend in part on the reports McElroy receives on progress toward obtaining the Nike-Zeus anti missile missile.

Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday that "a complete and exhaustive" survey of the missile field is being made by McElroy and should be completed within 10 days.

The Army and the Air Force have been squabbling over the respective merits of their missiles and House and Senate committees also have taken opposing stands.

The Army contends its Nike-Hercules, although limited to a range of about 85 miles, is a proved weapon which already has been installed in some areas.

The Air Force Bomarc is still being developed, but its proponents contend it is needed to keep enemy planes from getting too close to their targets. It now has a range of about 200 miles, with a hoped-for increase to 400 miles in an improved model.

The House, in passing a $38,848,339,000 defense money bill Wednesday, cut $162,700,000 from budgeted funds for the Bomarc. It rejected an effort to cut another 200 millions which the appropriations committee left in the measure for Bomarc procurement. The House also gave the Army the full 95 million dollars budgeted for its Nike-Hercules.

The Senate Armed Services Committee earlier had cut 17 millions from a proposed 22 million dollar authorization for extension of the Nike system, saying that system is virtually obsolete. It acted in approving a military construction bill on which Senate acion has been delayed.

At the same time it was cutting Bomarc funds, the House added 200 million dollars to budget requests for the Army's Nike-Zeus, to speed the time when the weapon can be developed and made available for defense against enemy missiles.

The money bill passed 392-3 by the House followed without change the recommendations of the House Appropriations Committee.

The total voted was $399,861,000 less than Eisenhower requested both increases and decreases from his specific recommendations. The biggest cut was elimination of 260 million dollars asked by the Navy for a super aircraft carrier, but 255 million dollars was added to the money for antisubmarine warfare programs.

The House rejected a number of proposed changes in its committee's recommendations, among them one to cut out the extra money for antisubmarine warfare.

It also turned down an amendment to require the President to maintain Army strength to 900,000 instead of 870,000 as recommended by both the President and the committee.

Also turned down were proposals to increase Air Force plane procurement funds, and to restrict employment of high-ranking retired military officers by companies having defense contracts.

There was no attempt made to put back in the bill the 260 millions Eisenhower requested for another super carrier for the Navy. Backers of the carrier complained against the committee's denial of this money but, in the face of apparent defeat, decided to make their stand in the Senate.

The House bill allots $9,206,905,000 to the Army, $11,025,103,000 to the Navy, $17,228,506,000 to the Air Force and $1,387,825,000 to the Office of the Secretary of Defense.

For the Army this is a $221,905,000 increase; for the Navy a cut of $82,672,000; for the Air Force a reduction of $538,694,000, and for the secretary's office a cut of $400,000.

Seaway Is Now Ready for 25-Foot Draughts

OTTAWA (AP) — Ships of 25-foot draught now may travel through the St. Lawrence Seaway between Montreal and Lake Ontario, the Seaway Authority announced yesterday.

The draught in the Welland Canal will be 25½ feet.

Since the opening of the seaway in April, the permissible draught has bee n22½ feet on the new canals and 23½ feet on the Welland.

"This increase in permissible draught," the authority said, "is made possible by the completion of dredging to a depth of 27 feet of seaway channels."

Troops Chasing Rioters, Looters

Guayaquil in Ecuador Faces Curfew After 2 Nights of Mutiny

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (AP) — Machinegun fire crackled through this big port city in the early hours today, with troops chasing looters after two nights of rioting blamed by the government on Communists.

Civilians fought army forces in the streets again Wednesday night and set fire to a security police building before the crowd of 10,000 was dispersed. The renewed rioting grew out of funeral services for six of eight persons killed in clashes between troops and civilians Tuesday night.

Military authorities ordered a 10 p.m.-5 a.m. curfew for the city of 275,000, Ecuador's largest. President Camilo Ponce earlier put the nation under martial law.

The army general staff in taking over command of the country appealed to students and workers to remain calm and not be led astray by agitators.

The general staff said in a communique that it had proof of a "dangerous subversive plot that may threaten the very existence of the Ecuadorean nation." It blamed subversive elements, "some of them in the service of foreign interests."

Ecuador has a long history of turbulence. The latest outbreak stemmed from a brief mutiny by 90 army conscripts last Friday in Porto Viejo, a provincial capital near the Pacific coast 80 miles north of Guayaquil.

At the time the government said the mutiny carried no political implications. But later the army charged the Communists exploited it in an attempt to spread anarchy.

Hatcher Found More Russian Academic Freedom Than Expected

DETROIT (AP) — Education exists in Russia to serve the requirements of the state — to advance the Soviet system economically, culturally, politically and ideologically.

This is the view expressed by Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher, president of the Universtiy of Michigan, who recently headed a delegation of North American educators on a 15,000-mile tour of the Soviet Union.

"In other words," Hatcher said, "education is not, as in the Western world, an end in itself. It is merely a means to an end."

The Michigan president set down this view in the third of a series of copyrighted articles in the Detroit News, which has made them available to the Associated Press.

While reporting that education has no intrinsic value in itself in the Soviet Union, Hatcher said that he did not wish to imply that there are no Soviet professors devoted to the pursuit of science and art simply for the sake of scholarship.

"I think our misison found more of these men than we expected to find," Hatcher said. "It is true, too, that they enjoy a considerable degree of academic fredom, within the limits permitted by the government.

He reported, however, that the number of students who can be accepted for any field is rigidly prescribed by the Ministry of Higher Education, "as are, generally, the courses to be taught, the basic content of those courses and the examinations to be met before a degree is granted."

"There are at the present time," he continued, "approximately 780 institutions of higher learning in the Soviet Union.

"Roughly 230 of these are under the direct control of the Ministry of Higher Education. Of this number, only 39 are full-fledged universities, the remainder being specialized institutions of one kind or another.

"As a general rule what we know as the professional schools (medicine, engineering, agriculture, architecture, mining, etc.) are organized in separate institutions.

"Some of these, such as engineering, music and architecture, are responsible directly to the Ministry of Higher Education.

"Others, of which medicine and agriculture are good examples, report directly to the ministry concerned with their activities."

Internally, Hatcher said, all Soviet universities follow almost the same pattern. Each university is headed by a rector who is appointed by the Ministry of Higher Education from a panel recommended by the academic council of the institution.

The top administrative body is the academic council which is chaired by the rector and whose membership consists of the prorectors, deans of faculties, heads of departments, several ranking professors chosen by their colleagues, the librarian, and representatives from the university's party and trade union organization.

Even in some cases, Hatcher said, industry is represented on the academic council.

Roughly 99.9 per cent of the budget of Soviet universities comes from funds allocated by the Ministry of Higher Education. This compares with the University of Michigan where only 44 per cent of the total budget represents state appropriations.

The ministry also makes all appointments with the rank of full professor or above, and it has established a new policy opening all university positions to competition every five years.

Hatcher said the answer was a uniform "no" when he questioned Soviet university people as to whether the new educational reforms would depreciate the work in the non-scientific areas.

He said the rector of Irkutsk University in Siberia gave the best answer, when he replied to Hatcher's question:

"We are building three new buildings at a cost of almost 30 million rubles ($3 million). They are to house our humanities facilities."

Guard Units 'Restored'

LANSING (AP)—Historical designations of certain Michigan Army National Guard units lost in a nationwide reorganization last March have been returned to the state. Maj. Gen. Ronald D. McDonald, Michigan adjutant general, said the designations include such well known outfits as "119th Artillery," "117th Artillery" and "126th Infantry."

Lakes Ore Tonnage Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—Iron ore shipments on the Great Lakes to June 1 totaled 15,745,231 gross tons for U.S. and Canadian ports, the American Iron Ore Assn. reported. That compared with 4,123,161 gross tons shipped last year to June 1.

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

New Yorkers like to take their reality grim. If things are lousy, they don't want only to feel it or sense it instinctively.

They want to be told. And by an authority.

That is why, beginning this week, the Weather Bureau and the phone company have thrown their services together to give New York a sadistic statistic called the "discomfort index" throughout the summer.

By calling Weather 6-1212, a perspiring citizen can now learn —not only how sticky and sizzly he is today—but also how miserable. If the D.I. rating is above 70, he knows he's uncomfortable; if above 80, he knows he's in physical danger unless he lies down in the shade.

In case there is an occasional comfortable day, with low mercury and humidity, the Weather Bureau will take care of that by predicting (by 6 p.m.) the miseries to descend within 24 hours. Thus giving the New Yorker plenty of time to work up an anticipatory anguish.

Almost everybody is quite happy about this newest statistical data which confirms the worst, and gives the friendly neighborhood bookie a new set of numbers to take wagers on.

It especially appeals to air-conditioner salesmen who've had a couple of poor summers.

As one of them puts it: "Business has often been bad because people thought the weather was better than it was. Now they'll know how miserable they are and start buying . . ."

With the appropriate form of exchange, wilted lettuce.

Most men think of women's legs as being either well-shaped, or poorly-shaped, or neither hear nor there.

How wrong can you guys be?

Russell Patterson, the famous artist, says that women's legs do not have to be good looking to be attractive. In fact, he says, most artists do not regard Mariene Dietrich's legs as very interesting. (Write Russell Patterson, Artists Group of America, New York City—not me.)

No, artists with an "experienced eye" consider the way a woman moves, places and plants her legs as the number one requisites of their fascination. He says an artist can see personality in the behavior of legs, and herewith he reveals some of the most interesting ladies' legs in America—and how their personalities shape up:

★ ★ ★

Anita Ekberg — devil-may-care, venturesome legs.

Mr. Patterson lists others, but I can't go on. Not with these tender, pessimistic legs of mine. When they don't make the top 10, they get depressed.

NAM Chief Appeals for Balanced Budget

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers says a balanced budget is the only way to stop inflation.

★ ★ ★

Stanley C. Hope told a news conference Thursday that he is one of the few who believe a balanced budget is in sight "and the first step is to keep spending within income."

Discovers Seat of Man's Problems

And when this mobile bag sits down—which is most of the time for many of us—well, that's the seat of man's troubles.

That's the opinion, anyway of Dr. Laurence Morehouse, a UCLA professor who has developed a straight-backed, rotating rocking chair to help keep the fluids in motion.

Watching television, sitting in an office or driving a car can be just as dangerous as stalking lions in Africa, says Dr. Morehouse, who is the director of UCLA's human performance laboratory.

SERIOUS RESULTS

When man sits for a prolonged period, says Dr. Morehouse, the blood and other fluids collect in the lower extremities. The result, he says, can be swollen feet, fatigue, drowsiness, fainting, thrombosis or even death.

And it's even more dangerous, he said, for the women who frequently sit for long periods wearing tight girdles.

Dr. Morehouse said many auto accidents blamed on drivers' "blacking out," fatigue, dizziness or slowed coordination might very well be traced to impaired circulation.

A possible answer to the sitting man's problems, says Dr. Morehouse, is a self-aligning seat padded with sponge rubber which has been devolped at the UCLA lab.

This chair supports the body's weight on the "seat bones" or tuberosities ("sit on your hands and you'll feel them," said Dr. Morehouse).

The chair's soft springs wield to the sitter's weight and are in constant, though barely noticeable motion.

3 PCT. IMPROVEMENT

Dr. Morehouse said tests disclosed that those seated in the experimental chair showed a 3 per cent improvement over scores obtained while seated in a conventional chair when operating the reactometer—an automobile driving simulator—and the pursuitmeter which is an electronic tracking device.

Dr. Morehouse's chair is not on the market, so he offered these tips to chronic sitters: Make certain your legs are uncrossed and that the edge of the chair or tight clothing doesn't cut off circulation;

On auto trips, stop as often as possible and take a short walk. If traveling by train, bus or plane, get up frequently and pace the aisle; and

If you're an office worker, put your feet up on the desk occasionally—even if you're not the boss.

Jet Plane Has Kids Begging to Attend Schoo

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — About this time each year, youngsters gaze out of school windows, daydreaming about a carefree summer vacation. That's not the case at Van Buskirk Grammar School in Tucson.

What caused this?

She asked and received from the Air Force an obsolete airplane to place on the school grounds. The plane was selected by Mrs. Treadwell after a shopping tour around Davis-Monthan Air Force Base near Tucson.

She turned down a B26. "Too big." She rejected an F84. "Too obsolete." She chose an F94B jet fighter.

★ ★ ★

The plane was delivered Wednesday. It was lifted over the school fence by a big crane as a flock of youngsters watched.

"They stood around," said Mrs. Treadwell, "with their eyes hanging to their chins."

"The plane will make the school seem more like part of this world of ours. It will be the most fabulous jungle gym anybody ever saw. It's sort of fantastic, when you think about it," she said.

The pupils and parents agree. Coyette Nelson, 6, has been out of school a week with tonsillitis. She's begging to get back for a glimpse of the plane.

Mrs. Carl W. Ewert said her 7-year-old son Mike "is usually a problem when it comes to going to school. Now I can't hold him down. He's so excited."

Mrs. Gregory Escalante said all four of her children are pleading for an early breakfast so they can get a head start for school.

"You know something else," Mrs. Treadwell added, "There's a bird nest in one of the intake tunnels. We can study about jets and nature at the same time."

Britain to Unveil 'World's First' Flying Saucer

COWES, England (UPI — Britain next week takes the secrecy wraps off a strange-looking machine it claims is the first-ever flying saucer — in this world anyhow.

★ ★ ★

It's the sea-saucer, a hybrid aircraft and ship that its designers believe could be the forerunner of giant craft revolutionizing air travel.

This first model is just a small saucer, a disc of polished aluminum 30 feet long and 25 feet wide.

The saucer already has passed engine trials and has carried out hover tests while tethered.

Few persons have seen it. Publicly, only the simplest details are known. It has been one of British aviation's most tightly guarded secrets.

Air pressure built up beneath the machine lifts it. An increase in pressure creates an air cushion beneath the craft and on this it squats.

Deflection of air rearward gives the craft its forward movement.

Already there is speculation on the future of the saucer. This is essentially a test bed. But some see it being developed into a cross-channel ferry. Others, more ambitious, envisage sea-saucers skimming across the Atlantic.

'Delinquents Enjoy Living That Way'

"It's very difficult to get them to give up juvenile delinquency once they've got started," Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America, told a news conference.

★ ★ ★

"But if you have a constructive program, as we feel we have, you can keep the numbers down."

★ ★ ★

Schuck said too much emphasis has been placed on juvenile delinquents because "people get the wrong impression when this 2 per cent is played up. The future depends on the 98 per cent who stay out of trouble."

Tough Judge Forms 'Policy for Punks'

SEATTLE (AP)—Juvenile delinquents in the Seattle area got this get-tough word Wednesday from the courts: "We have a new policy for punks."

Superior Judge Henry Clay Agnew told that to two 15-year-old boys before him for burglary and auto theft.

★ ★ ★

The judge deferred sentencing Edward E. Schrader and Michael D. Fullmer for three years, but said he expected them to get in trouble again within 30 days.

★ ★ ★

"If you do, you both will be sentenced to 15 years in the State Reformatory for violating the law again in any way. And I think you will," he said.

About two million persons in the U. S. suffer annually from hay fever.

Heart Stopped Twice but Swedish Man Lives

UPPSALA, Sweden (UPI) — A 24-year-old Swedish factory worker's heart stopped twice during surgery for face and hand burns suffered in an explosion.

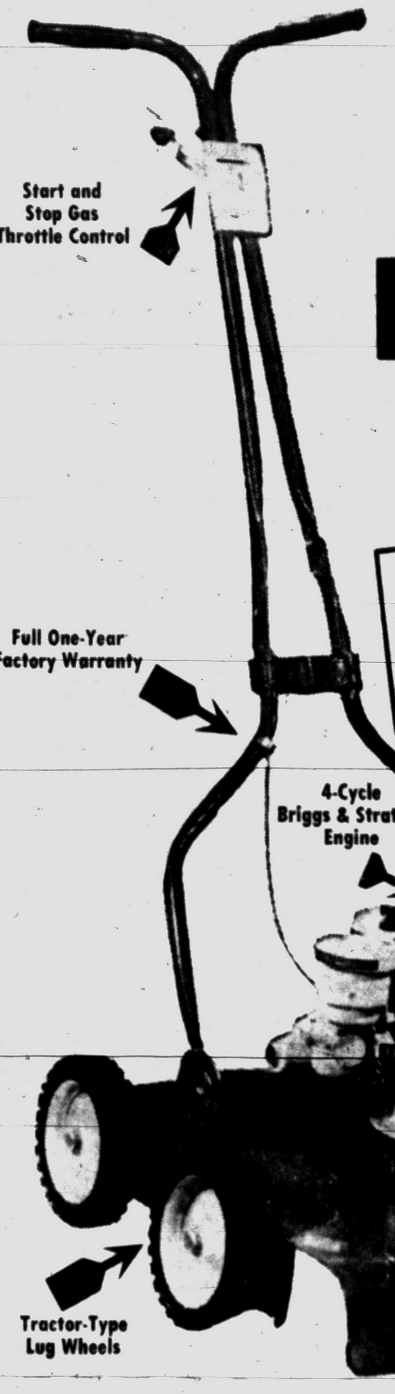

Both times, surgeons restarted the heart and continued the operation, without which the worker would have been disabled for life.

Bob Considine Says:

Rosie O'Donnell Deserves That Fourth Star

NEW YORK—Peoples . . . places . . . planes . . .

It is one thing when Sen. Margaret Chase Smith petulantly keeps actor-war hero Jimmy Stewart from getting his star as a buck general in the Air Force Reserve. But it is another thing, and no laughing matter, when the attractive lady from Maine attempts to tell the Air Force it cannot give a fourth star and a new assignment in the Pacific to Lt. Gen. Rosie O'Donnell.

Gen. O'Donnell is one of the truly great men of military aviation. He was one of the lonely voices which cried out for more air power and a separate Air Force at a time when it was not healthy to do so.

He risked his chances of promotion by testifying, after the recall of MacArthur, that we could have clobbered the Red Chinese without trouble but had been politically handcuffed. His personal courage—he led the first B29 raid on Tokyo—has long been the marvel of his associates.

He has no superiors in the realms of strategic bombing, procurement of good personnel, dedication, love of country, and aviation know-how. It would be a shocking blow to the morale of the service if Gen. O'Donnell's promotion is blocked by a single voice.

When Donald Douglas Sr. turned over the keys of the first DC8 Wednesday to W. A. "Pat" Patterson, president of United Air Lines, a unique milestone in the business annals of aviation was reached. The ceremony was added proof, not that this was necessary, that things always move with amazing deliberation in the world's fastest means of transportation.

Pat Patterson inaugurated his company's interest in jets as far back as 1945. By 1947, he had studied and rejected plans for a 40-passenger 540 mile per hour jet which would need eight engines. By 1950 his team of jet shoppers was in Britain, studying the performance of Comet I and the Vickers Viscount. By early 1952 the company now knew what it wanted in the way of a jet—and no company on earth could then meet the requirements for speed, range, payload and operating cost.

In November 1952, United "built" the equivalent of today's DC8 and its similar predecessor, the Boeing 707, which beat it to the market. United's people dreamed up a plane and theoretically sent it through daily paces back and forth across the country, unraveling the problems its speed, size, fuel consumption and schedule entailed.

By 1953 the company was prepared to settle for only one set of specifications. It presumed that American aviation wizards eventually could create such a vehicle, for in 1954 it began studies on how the unborn jet would fit into the schedule pattern. The following year UAL ordered 30 DC8s, then 10 more in 1957. No such airplane existed. No price had been firmed up. The eventual bill: $225,000,000.

Col. John Paul Stapp, USAF, is as far removed from the heroic-looking mold of, let's say, Lt. Col. Stevie B. Canyon, as a man could be. He's shortish, inclined a bit toward lard, and the look behind his professional eyeglasses is benign. But his dossier contains meat for a dozen adventure strips, movies, TV shows.

He has traveled faster on the earth's surface than any other man in history—632 miles per hour on a rocket-propelled sled. He underwent a braking stop in 1.1 seconds, imposing 40 G's on his body (the burden of 40 times his weight.) He has flown in the trans-sonic F89 with the canopy removed, tested all sorts of protective gear for airmen, not long ago saved his life with an ejection out of a flamed-out T33.

He has fractured both arms, a rib, has suffered several types of concussion and a retinal hemorrhage. The American Rocket Society recently named this outstanding aero-medic its president.

At Columbia University the other day Stapp was asked, perhaps archly, about the curious intrusion of the scientist into modern warfare. He answered:

"I keep hearing a lot of talk, some of it unkind, about Professor Einstein sending a letter to President Roosevelt that resulted in the creation of the atomic bomb. I'd like to say this: The art of war has indeed moved from the drill field to the laboratory. The decisive factors of battle have gone from the pomp of the parade ground to the rational analyses of experimentation.

"The cold war on the diplomatic war is giving way to the hot war in the labs. Science has never started a war but it can be credited with ending one at Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Give science a chance and war may be priced out of business. Science will produce weapons which will force men to arbitrate hereafter for the simple reason that the alternatives leave no choice."

The first vessel to fly the Continental flag in the American Revolution was the schooner Hannah, built at Beverly, Mass.

Cow Collars Car, Machine Damaged

LAUPAHOEHOE, Hawaii (AP)—Now comes the tale of the cow that roped a car.

Clement Malani, 31, was driving along when he came across a cow eating grass at the edge of the highway.

Attached to the cow's neck was a rope which ran across the road. Malani continued driving but as his front wheels passed over the rope, the cow moved. Somehow the car was roped, and the cow slammed against the side of the car. Damage to the car was $100.

The police report did not list any damage to the cow.

Given Safety Post

LANSING (AP) — Bernard Hammond of Williamston has been appointed deputy director of the Safety and Enforcement Division in the Secretary of State's Office. Hammond fills a post vacated by Philip Mongeau who left the department to become executive secretary of the Michigan State Employes' Assn.

Sardine Council Demands U.N. Herring Hearing

NEW YORK (AP)—When is a sardine not a sardine? When it's a herring, says the U.N.

Not so, says the Maine Sardine Council, which wants a hearing for the herring.

It started when the U.N. published its agenda for a World Scientific Meeting on the Biology of the Sardine to be held in Rome next September, under sponsorship of the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization.

★ ★ ★

Calvin Stinson Sr. of Birch Harbor, Maine, council chairman, promptly asked FAO Director-General B. R. Sen for justification in not listing the herring.

Stinson said the California sardine is the pilchard or sardinops, many European and Asiatic countries pack the sardina and sardinella, but that Maine and Canadian sardines and Norwegian slid are herrings.

★ ★ ★

"Any expert," Stinson added, "should know that there never has been a fish entitled to be called a sardine exclusively."

Child Home Has Many Eggs

Chickens There Must Like Youngsters for They Break Records

TROY, Ala. (UPI) — The Alabama Baptist Children's Home here does not have to worry about having enough eggs, thanks to a flock of production-conscious hens that don't know when to stop work.

The hens have the children's welfare at heart; and maybe an eye on breaking a few records.

According to detailed records, some of the hens are laying as many as three eggs a day while others are producing two.

Anyone familiar with poultry will tell you hens lay only one egg a day, and those in the know usually say it's impossible for a chicken to do more. In fact, it's supposed to be against the laws of nature.

Blanton's little black book shows that during one month, 16 hens each produced three eggs in a single day and 30 produced two in a day.

The records further show that one hens was responsible for 75 eggs in 72 days, another 82 in 78 days, another 73 in 69 days, that two produced 83 in 78 days, two more laid 73 in 69 days, another produced 73 in 68 days, and one manged 86 in 72 days.

★ ★ ★

The hens are the kimberly strain of white leghorn hybrid, and, purchased as baby chicks last year, were raised under Blanton's direction.

Maybe the hens just like children.

The U.S. Capitol building would fit into any one of the five pie-shaped sections of the U.S. defense department's huge Pentagon structure, it has been estimated by builders.

U.N. Note to Bachelors:

You'll Live Longer Married

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—U. N. statisticians said tonight that married people live longer than those who are single, widowed or divorced.

They also said people are marrying younger in most countries and staying married longer.

These conclusions were drawn from the world's first comprehensive set of international marriage and divorce statistics, published in the 1958 U. N. demographic yearbook. "Demographic" means "writing about people."

In their analysis of the figures, the statisticians said death rates among married people, of both sexes and all ages, are all lower than among others.

★ ★ ★

"Thus," they observed, "marriage may be said to be advantageous from a health viewpoint for both men and women; even the dangers of child-bearing have been reduced to a point where the death rates for married women are no longer in excess of those for other women."

MARRY EARLIER

"Marriages," they went on, "are taking place earlier and at a higher rate than ever before in recent demographic history."

They noted that the average age of brides is about 24 and that of grooms about 27, and that in most countries in the last 10 years the percentage of persons still single at ages 45 to 54 has dropped.

Divorce rates have risen in 29 areas and fallen in only 9. But at the same time, the statisticians noted that "duration of marriages before resort to divorce seems to be increasing." The average married life before divorce has increased in 26 countries, decreased in 18.

The yearbook brought out that women looking for husbands are more likely to find them in Alaska than anywhere else — and that men looking for wives are more likely to find them in East Germany.

The figures showed that in Alaska, out of 1,000 marriageable females over 14, 205 got married annually in a recent three-year period — against only 87 in the rest of the United States.

In East Germany, out of 1,000 marriageable males over 14, 113 got married.

OTHER FIGURES

Figures in the yearbook as analyzed by its authors also indicated:

1. Zanzibar has the world's highest annual rate of divorces—4.5 per 1,000 persons. Many of these are Moslem "revocable divorces," more like legal separations.

2. The U. S. Virgin Islands have the second highest divorce rate — 4.3. Non-residents from the United States account for many of these divorces.

3. For countries, as distinct from territories, the United States shows the world's highest divorce rate — 2.2.

4. British Honduras reports the lowest divorce rate — .02. Northern Ireland reports .07 and Portugal .09.

BEN F. ALLEN

Service for Ben F. Allen, 76, former Pontiac resident, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the MacDonald Funeral Home in Howell. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery in Howell.

Mr. Allen died yesterday at the family home, 8480 Hyne Rd., Brighton Township.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Lillian Parlett of Mio; five sons, Carl of Troy, Roy of Perry, Earl of Byron, Harley of Brighton Township and Melbourne of Detroit; and three brothers, Frank of Pontiac, Mike of Sparta and Ed of St. Petersburg, Fla.

MRS. THOMAS W. DAVIS

The body of Mrs. Thomas W. (Hazel L.) Davis, 47, of 48 Feneley Ct. will be at the Pursley Funeral Home until 11:30 a.m. Friday when it will be taken to the Church of God, 596 E. Pike St. for the service at 2 p.m. Burial will follow in Ottawa Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Davis died yesterday morning in Pontiac General Hospital after an illness of three months.

ARTHUR B. TYRRELL

Arthur B. Tyrrell, 37, of 36 Osage St. died unexpectedly yesterday of a heart ailment and was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

A graduate of Michigan State University, he was a driver education teacher at Pontiac Northern High School and a member of the Michigan Education Association and Grace Lutheran Church.

Surviving are his wife, Beverly; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bryant Tyrrell of Takoma Park, Md.; two children, Susan and Joyce, both at home; and a sister.

Service will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

MRS. FRANK BETZLER

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Funeral arrangements are pending for Mrs. Frank (Annie C.) Betzler, 84, longtime resident of Auburn Heights, at Moore Chapel of Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home here.

Mrs. Betzler died yesterday in a convalescent home after an illness of several months.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. C. A. Waters and Mrs. Emil Parent, both of Auburn Heights, and Mrs. Kurt Kretzing of Hazel Park; and a son, Frank of Auburn Heights.

CURBY S. NEWMAN

LAKE ORION — Service for Curby S. Newman, 85, of 1245 Beach Dr., will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Flumerfelt Funeral Home here. Burial will follow in East Lawn Cemetery.

Mr. Newman died yesterday after a year-long illness.

MISS JEAN C. WARREN

HOLLY — Service for Miss Jean C. Warren, 44, of 304 Hadley St., will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday from the Bendle Funeral Home here. Burial will be in Lakeside Cemetery.

She was employed for 17 years as executive secretary of the Holly branch of the Citizens Commercial and Savings Bank and had served as a Gray Lady for four years. She was a member of the Holly Methodist Church, the MIPXX Club, the National Assn. of Bank Women and the Citizens Bank Club.

Mickey Rooney Has Short Wife, Possible Woes

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mickey Rooney says he's happy because he finally got—on the fifth try—a wife shorter than he. But his latest marriage may pose some legal problems for the pint-sized actor.

"She suits me," Rooney said of No. 5—blonde Barbara Thomason, 22, and 5-feet-2. "Some strike it rich the first time," he said, "others aren't that lucky."

Rooney, 38 and 5-3, gave this marital timetable in a telephone call from Las Vegas, Nev., Wednesday:

He got a Mexican divorce and married Miss Thomason in Mexico Dec. 1 — before wife No. 4, the former Elaine Mahnken, divorced him in California.

"Elaine gave us permission to get married last December," he said. "I wanted Elaine to go through with the California divorce to protect herself."

He and Miss Mahnken have been separated for two years.

But Rooney's disclosure caused Judge Orlando H. Rhodes, who granted Elaine an interlocutory decree last May 18, to say: "I intend to look into it and do whatever my legal duties call for."

Under California law, Miss Mahnken's divorce doesn't become final until next May 18.

His romance with Miss Thomason first got attention last August when she took an overdose of sleeping pills at his home. Police listed the incident as a suicide attempt. She said it was an accident.

Amusement Ride Ends in Terror

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — An afternoon in an amusement park turned into a time of terror for four schoolboys and a woman Wednesday.

They were riding in two cars of a whirling ride called the "scooper." Suddenly the device stopped, hurling the five over guard rails to the ground.

"Our car lurched forward violently," said ann Gasaway, 43, of St. Louis. "Nicholas (her son) was thrown forward over the guard rail about five feet to the ground, with me after him."

In the rear car were Bruce Harris, 11; Ronnie Ball, 11; and Ronald Easley, 12. They fell 12 feet.

Ronnie and Bruce suffered fractured bones and were in serious condition. The other three persons were not seriously injured.

There was no explanation of cause of the accident.

Cupid Beckons 3rd of Graduates at Air Academy

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Marriage is next for one-third of the Air Force academy's 207 new graduates — first of an elite officer corps for the nation's air arm.

★ ★ ★

Weddings began three hours after the cadets, lauded by President Eisenhower and other national leaders, received bachelor of science diplomas and second lieutenant commissions Wednesday.

The 207 are the survivors of 330 enrolled in 1955 when the academy began operating in remodeled wooden barracks at Lowry Air Force Base in Denver.

They were the stars in a glittering graduation event at the academy theater — a luxurious black-and-gold auditorium befitting the 137-million-dollar institution in the shadow of the Rockies.

Latest census figures show that for every 1,257 females in Vienna, Austria, there are only 1,000 males.

Highway Bill Called Madness

Broomfield Sees Toll Road Repayment Plan Ruining U.S. Program

U. S. Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) today tagged as "sheer fiscal madness" a highway reimbursement bill approved by the House Public Works Committee.

Broomfield yesterday accused the committee, of which he is a member, of "railroading" through the measure which would reimburse states for the cost of toll roads and freeways to be taken into the new interstate system.

The bill approved by the committee is sponsored by Chairman Charles A. Buckley (D-NY).

"The Buckley bill was railroaded through the Public Works Committee today without adequate public hearings or even advance notice that this matter was coming up," Broomfield said.

If the bill is passed, he added, the pay-as-you-go interstate highway construction program would be thrown out the window.

"We are about 13 billion dollars behind in our interstate highway construction at the present time, and the additional six billion this bill provides would mean we would have to raise an added 19 billion," he said.

"Let's concentrate on building the new freeways we need first, before we start thinking about paying states for highways they built before this program was started."

Broomfield said the bill would be "strictly a gravy train" for a few select states such as New York, California and Illinois.

First bricks were made in the U. S. in Baltimore in 1827. Before that bricks for construction of furnaces and other purposes had been imported, mostly from England.

The present calendar year makes an error by gaining one full day in every span of about 3,000 years.

Hare to Test Picture Use on Driver's License

LANSING (UPI)—You may have your picture on your next driver's license.

Secretary of State James M. Hare—who has his photo on a test license—yesterday told the State Safety Commission he would ask the Legislature for money to run countywide tests in several areas "maybe by next month."

The license would be the same as at present except that it would have a small likeness of the holder in one corner.

"There would be an additional charge of about 25 cents to cover the extra cost," Hare said.

He said a picture would help identify drivers and also serve to establish the age of persons asking to be served in a tavern.

Burke also told the Safety Commission the "drinking driver" problem is caused more by home drinkers than tavern drinkers.

"About 76 per cent of the whisky sold in Michigan is consumed in private homes," Burke said. "Drinks are mixed stronger at home and there's nobody to shut a drunk off when he gets too much."

He said a safe driving campaign aimed at drinking drivers should concentrate more on package stores than bars.

Small Cars May Shrink Market for Accessories

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT—There is a growing ear in the auto industry that the introduction of smaller cars by the big three of the automobile world will reduce purchases of extra-cost accessories on cars.

★ ★ ★

The industry still hopes buyers of the Falcon, Corvair and Valiant will spend the money saved on the original car price on extra-cost options but there is some evidence this might not turn out.

The experience of American Motors with smaller cars shows a decreasing interest in extra-cost accessories as the size of the car decreases.

In other words, 80 per cent of the owners of Rambler Ambassadors order radios on their cars while only 65 per cent of the buyers of Rambler V8s order this extra cost equipment.

CONTINUES FALL

One step further down the line, only 43 per cent of the Rambler six owners have radios while the figure drops to 28 per cent for owners of the 100-inch wheelbase Rambler American.

The option demanded on the Ford Custom 300 six shows a remarkable similarity to that of the Rambler six in purchases of radios. Ford Custom 300 is equipped with radio 46 per cent of the time and the Rambler six 43 per cent of the time.

Both show that 5 per cent of their buyers want power steering while the Ford registers 47 per cent for automatic transmission while the Rambler shows 46 per cent.

This trend is probably behind the decision of at least one of the big three to build its small car without any power options and to build only six-cylinder engines for them.

But it may be a mistake to attribute all drops in accessory buying to small cars.

Last year's recession had a negative effect on purchases of optional equipment while the small cars were still in a vague rumor stage.

Because of price-resistance encountered during the recession period, the auto industry greatly de-emphasized such things as air suspension and fuel injection in its 1959 models although they were hailed as coming things when they were first introduced.

ELIMINATES COSTLY ITEM

Fuel injection, still a costly item, was discarded by all car makers except Chevrolet, which retained it as optional equipment on its V8 engine primarily for use in the Corvette.

The industry also switched to simplified engines, with greater emphasis on sixes, and offered more economical exhaust systems on this year's models because of price resistance met in 1958.

No one in the industry doubts that air ride and fuel injection will eventually make comebacks. But it is now a matter of timing them to a period when the buyer is not as cost conscious and attempting to make cost-cutting improvements on them in the meantime.

Byrd Memorial Is Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. A Willis Robertson (D-Va) wants Congress to authorize the National Geographic Society to build a memorial to the late Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd on federal land in Virginia. No government funds would be spent.

Approximately 93 per cent of all homes in New York City have television sets.

American Hotel in Cairo Brings Social Revolution

CAIRO (AP) — An American-managed hotel is quietly fostering a social revolution in the Arab world — the emergence of women into business and professional life.

The Nile Hilton Hotel, a striking architectural combination of modern and ancient Egyptian motifs, opened a few months ago. It employs young women and girls as waitresses, elevator operators, floor personnel and clerks—about 200 in all. It is the first time in the Arab Middle East that women have been employed for this sort of jobs.

The influence of this move is far out of proportion to the size of the hotel or the numbers involved. Cairo has for centuries been an intellectual capital of the Arab world. An idea which wins acceptance in Cairo will eventually spread to other Arab countries.

The new 14-story hotel has already made an impression on Cairo life. Taxi drivers take you out of your way to point it out to you. Factory hands, shopkeepers or household workers consider it something to see and visit. Daily, dressed in their best clothes, they stream through the lobby to gaze at reproductions of ancient Egyptian picture tablets, or to exclaim at the adaptation of Egyptian motifs to chandeliers and wall hangings.

The coffee shop is open around the clock and the serving staff—except for the overnight shift—is all women. This has become a gathering place for Cairoites for their pre-theater or post-theater snacks. They apparently like the idea of being waited on by young women.

The hotel's experiment had President Nasser's blessing: He long encouraged the construction of the hotel and favored the inauguration with a personal appearance. The employment of women fits in with Nasser's own campaign to liberate Egypt's young people of both sexes from centuries-old restrictions.

The girls say they enjoy making money of their own. One, an elevator operator, says the extra income helps her and her husband maintain a nicer home. Another elevator operator had to drop out of university this year for lack of money but will be able to return next year.

One of the head waitresses, also a widow with two children, said she took the job mostly to have something to do, and also to help the advancement of Moslem women in general.

"Once they wouldn't let us go to the university. But we fought and fought, and now they encourage girls to go to school," she relates. "It will be the same for this."

She drives to work every day in her own American-make car —most unusual in Egypt.

Nearly all the girls are Moslems. How do they get along with men customers?

"We don't have to accept dates from customers," one of the girls, a sloe-eyed latter-day Cleopatra, confided. "What we do outside is our own business, and once in a while I do give a date to a boy who is nice looking. But most of the time I just flirt back, and turn them down in a laughing way. They don't seem to mind."

As a matter of fact, they seem to love it.

Blind Judge Satisfied; Doesn't Want Sight Back

WOONSOCKET, R.I. (AP) — Blind William E. Powers, an associate justice of the Rhode Island Supreme Court, says he wouldn't want his sight restored even if it were possible for medical science to do so.

He told an audience Tuesday night that he is happy and satisfied with life.

"I wouldn't want to learn over again the faces of my wife, children, grandchildren, neighbors and associates," said Judge Powers, who has been blind since 1927.

CHEVY 7 (COUNT 'EM) 7 BESTS

BEST BRAKES . . . In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NASCAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not: Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. BEST TRADE-IN . . . Check the figures in any official N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." BEST STYLE . . . Popular Science magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." It's the only low-priced car that's unmistakably modern in every line. BEST ECONOMY . . . No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car. BEST ROOM . . . Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.‡ make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars. BEST ENGINE . . . Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As Sports Cars Illustrated puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." BEST RIDE . . . You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But Motor Trend magazine expresses it this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

No wonder more people are buying Chevrolets in 1959 than any other car!

United France Rates De Gaulle High but Algeria Still Could Trip Him

UPI Foreign Editor

In the 12 months which have followed, much for the better of France has occurred. The French franc, unit of French currency, is at its soundest in years.

As proud evidence of French resurgence, French Finance Minister Antoine Pinay arrived in the United States last month carrying a check for more than $100 million—a before-due payment on France's U. S. debt.

Frenchmen once more feel themselves in the collective role of world power.

Of all the problems which pressed in upon De Gaulle on his assumption of power, there was one which combined a bit of the elements of each.

This was Algeria.

Unrest and the threat of civil war stemming from the Algerian rebellion had been the spearhead which opened the way for De Gaulle's return. The same elements could lead to his downfall.

Human elements were the powerful French settlers in Algeria who had gained the support of the 400,000-man French army there and who together finally toppled the Fourth Republic.

But as De Gaulle has been able to guide individual Frenchmen at home from their single paths to one broad highway of French effort, his popularity in Algiers has declined as suspicion mounted.

The suspicion was based on De Gaulle's obvious reluctance to declare Algeria's "integration" with France—a condition which would align 1,200,000 French settlers in Algeria with 45,000,000 Frenchmen at home against 9,000,000 Moslem Algerians.

Their suspicions were heightened by De Gaulle's forgiveness of certain rebel leaders and his expressed willingness to negotiate.

De Gaulle has undertaken his monumental tasks one by one and until the last three weeks has appeared to give little more than lip service to settlement of the Algiers revolt.

But in the last few weeks there have been these signs of measurable progress:

First, plans by extremist settlers to demonstrate against him on May 13 in Algiers fell through when it was learned he had swung the army solidly behind him. On May 13 Algiers was quiet.

Second, the Sunday, May 31, senatorial elections in Algiers also were quiet, in sharp contrast to the bomb attacks which accompanied the municipal elections in April. Moderates were the winners.

Third, there has been an increasing number of Moslem rebel surrenders, complete with arms.

And, finally, there have been renewed negotiations which by the end of the summer might see King Mohammed V of Morocco acting as mediator between the De Gaulle government and the Moslem rebels with a view toward ending the war which now costs France more than a billion dollars a year.

The French army and middle-of-the-road Algerians now seem to be on De Gaulle's side. What he must do now is convince the fiery extremists—both among Algerian rebels and rightwing settlers—that he can be fair to both.

3 Sewage Experts to Address Group

A trio of sewage experts has been invited to address the first meeting of the Civic Improvement Advisory Committee at 8 p.m. tonight in City Hall.

★ ★ ★

Speakers include Donald Pierce, representative of the State Health Department; Harold Kelley, representing the city's engineering consultants and John Hennessey, superintendent of the Pontiac sewage treatment plant.

The 7 member citizens committee was appointed recently by the City Commission to study Pontiac's sewage treatment needs and other civic problems.

The commitee was appointed after voters turned down for the third time a bond issue to finance new sewage treatment facilities.

State Budget Deadline Nears in Lansing

LANSING (AP) — With less than four weeks remaining in the 1958-59 fiscal year, lawmakers were speculating on what to do if a new state budget isn't adopted before June 30.

Would vital state operations come to a halt for lack of funds?

Highly unlikely, said veteran lawmakers who have seen the Legislature faced with similar predicaments in earlier years.

Excluding Saturdays and Sundays, there are only 19 legislative working days left in June. And not a single budget bill for the new fiscal year has cleared a Legislative committee.

"Once or twice in past years, we have passed the fiscal year deadline without appropriating for an agency or two," said Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield), chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

"In those instances, we merely adopted a resolution saying that existing appropriation bills be automatically extended until others were passed," he said. Perhaps this isn't exactly legal but it's an expression of legislative intent."

Sen. Edward F. Hutchinson (R-Fennville), Senate Business Committee chairman, questioned whether the action could be taken by resolution.

Hutchinson cited a constitutional requirement that "no money shall be paid out of the state treasury except in pursuance of appropriations made by law."

The constitution, he said, also requires that bills lie in each house for five days after they are printed.

"So that makes enactment of a law at this point pretty impractical," he said. "I believe that the Legislature must be whipped into coming to grips with the budget and the deadline coming up may be just what is needed."

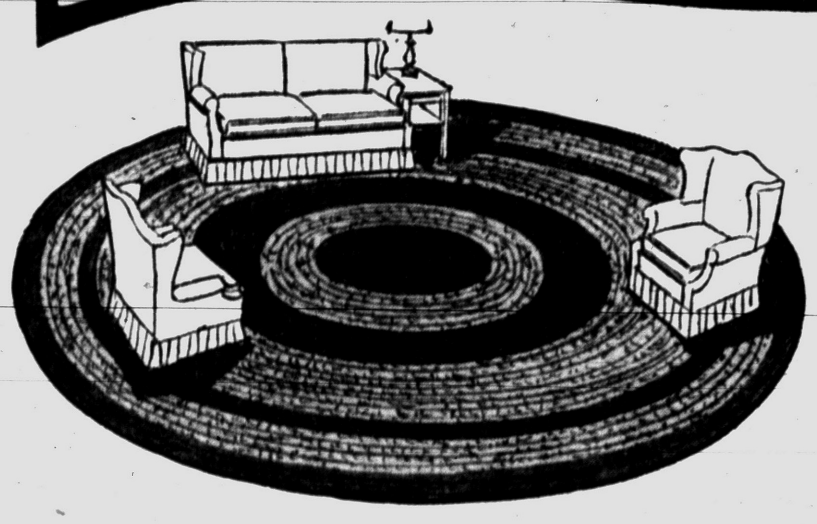

Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), House Taxation Committee chairman, pointed out that Congress occasionally adopts resolutions authorizing federal spending to continue at its current level when budget allocations are not made by the end of the fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

"Congress, however, has a great deal more freedom than the Legislature," said Hutchinson. "A bill can be introduced and passed there in a single day."

Able Succumbed to Similar Operation

Baker Frisky as Ever After Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Baker made it. Able didn't.

The two monkeys rode 300 miles into space in a Jupiter rocket and came back without a scratch.

Baker, a tiny one-pound squirrel monkey, survived easily Tuesday an operation to remove the electrodes that had been planted under the skins of both for the trip. No anesthetic was used. None was considered necessary for the smaller simian.

But when Able, a seven-pound Rhesus monkey, was placed under an anesthetic for a similar operation Monday night, her heart went into a spasmodic vibration. For more than two hours, doctors did everything humanly possible to get the heart beating again. One even placed his mouth over the monkey's and breathed into her lungs. It was no use.

Baker had no trouble at all when Navy scientists at Pensacola, Fla., removed two of the four electrodes from her Tuesday night. They snipped them out in a couple of minutes. The two other electrodes, put in as spares, will be taken out later.

Baker showed no sign of pain and was as frisky as ever. It was not even necessary to bandage the places where the tiny wire coils were taken out of her chest and under one arm.

The electrodes had sent back important records of heartbeat, respiration and body temperature during the monkeys' pioneering flight last week from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The data has an important bearing on future space flights of human astronauts.

Scientists had hoped to study both monkeys alive for several years to see if any latent effects of the space trip would show up.

They were bitterly disappointed by Able's death at a laboratory in Ft. Knox, Ky., but some good may come of it. The scientists said a preliminary autopsy showed "absolutely no evidence of any injury" from the rocket ride.

They will give the body a painstaking microscopic examination that could show immediately if there were any bodily changes caused by the flight.

If the monkey had lived for years, they said, it would have been far more difficult to tell what bodily changes might have been caused by the space trip.

At the Army Medical Research Laboratory in Ft. Knox, scientists said blood plasma that went along in the Jupiter's nose cone showed some signs of damage.

Capt. David P. Cooney said some of the red corpuscles broke down, but less than might be expected. Cooney said improved packaging and better temperature control probably would avoid most of this damage.

Other test materials in the rocket are still under study. Some fruit fly larvae went along.

Tests also continue on tissues of onion, yeast, human intestinal bacteria, mustard seed and other substances.

But Defectors Not Enough

Dems Put Hungry First, Bolt on Jobless Pay Bill

LANSING (AP) — Normally rock-solid Democratic lines appeared to be weakening today on a bill to extend temporary jobless pay benefits to some 28,000 of Michigan's unemployed workers.

Two House Democrats bolted party ranks yesterday to vote for Senate - approved amendments which would upset a State Supreme Court decision on jobless pay benefits. Reps. Raymond J. Apley (D-Mt. Clemens) and E. D. O'Brien (D-Detroit) said they would rather "swallow" the GOP proposals than see jobless workers stand by helplessly while lawmakers hassle over the bill.

The vote was 53-51 to concur in the Senate amendments, three votes shy of the minimum needed. Republicans immediately scheduled another vote next week.

The bill would bring Michigan under a law extending temporary federal unemployment compensation till July 1. Eligible workers in Michigan have been waiting since April 4 for the Legislature to approve it.

Democrats want simple extension of benefits. Republicans insist on amendments which would prohibit future application of a recent State Supreme Court decision awarding jobless pay to Michigan employes of Ford Motor Co. idled by a 1953 strike at a Ford plant in Canton, Ohio.

Apley said he resented Republican "sandbagging" maneuvers to force through the amendments.

"But it has become a case of accepting the good with the bad or of being inexcusably inhuman to a number of Michigan families who are in desperate need through no fault of their own," he said.

"If I must swallow this other portion of the bill to get relief for hungry people, I do," added O'Brien.

Rep. William A. Ryan (D-Detroit) warned that to succumb to GOP pressure would bring temporary relief to some workers but would penalize "millions of others who would be unable to collect unemployment compensation in the future if Republicans get their way."

★ ★ ★

Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston), GOP floor leader, asserted the Democratic diversion may have signaled a break in CIO control over House Democrats.

"The CIO never controlled my vote and never will," snapped O'Brien.

All That Glitters Is Not Brass; There's Gold, Too

But it didn't work. He got seasick.

After graduation from Annapolis in 1946, Darby spent nearly three years as a Navy ensign. They were sick, sick, sick years.

Finally, in November, 1948, because of his chronic seasickness, he was allowed to resign from the Navy and enter the Army as a second lieutenant.

★ ★ ★

Ever since then, Darby has been trying to get the Army to credit him for his previous Navy duty as far as the Army promotion list goes.

When he got to be a captain, the Army Board of Correction of Military Records decided he was right. They added on the Navy time and promoted hi mto major.

There was just one more thing. Darby figured he should get back pay differences for the rank he should have had all along the line.

Wednesday, the U.S. Court of Claims agreed with the seasick major.

It ordered back pay of something over $1,000 to Darby. As the court put it:

"One cannot eat or put in the bank the glitter and glory that goes hand in hand with an officer of the Army."

Meat Cookery Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Rolled Lamb Loin Roast.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. As indicated by the name, it comes from the loin section. The rolled lamb loin roast is the full loin with the backbone removed, fashioned into a roll and tied with twine. The flank, tenderloin and loin are included in this roast.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. It is roasted in a slow oven, (300 degrees F.) Allow approximately 40 to 45 minutes per pound. If using a roast meat thermometer, the internal temperature of the roast, after cooking, should read between 175-180 degrees F.

Always a New Way to Serve Ice Cream

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Although ice cream is a year-round treat, we certainly use more of it in warm weather. So many good recipes for serving it have come to our desk lately that we want to share them with you.

★ ★ ★

Young people love to make up their own gooey concoctions. Having all the necessary ingredients on hand is not difficult. In the following recipes for ice cream drinks most of the foods called for are those you usually stock.

Golden Ice Cream Cooler

1 can (6 ounces) frozen concentrated orange juice
1¼ cups cold water
1 pint chilled ginger ale
1 pint orange sherbet

Dilute orange juice with water. Add ginger ale and sherbet. Allow sherbet to partially melt. Pour into six 8 ounce glasses. Serve immediately. Yield: 6 servings.

★ ★ ★

Choco-Goober Frosted

1 cup milk
2 tablespoons chocolate malted
1 tablespoons creamy peanut butter
1 scoop chocolate ice cream

Put ingredients into an electric drink mixer, cover and whirl for 30 seconds. Pour into a tall glass and serve with a straw.

★ ★ ★

Coffee Nectar

1¼ cups strong cold coffee
2 scoops coffee ice cream
Dash of cinnamon

Put ingredients into an electric drink mixer, cover and whirl to a smooth froth. Divide into 2 glasses. Makes 2 drinks.

Apricot Mist

½ cup apricot nectar
½ cup milk
1 scoop vanilla ice cream

Put ingredients into an electric drink mixer, cover and whirl to a smooth froth. Pour into a tall glass or mug.

Any one of the above drinks would be tempting on a hot summer afternoon. You might like to keep the recipes for future reference.

In our family the favorite topping for ice cream is always strawberries. We eat them fresh during the season and take them out of the freezer the rest of the year. But the following strawberry sauce is one we've never tried. It has an unusual combination of flavors.

Gingered Strawberry Sauce

1 pint fresh strawberries, sliced
1 cup chopped walnuts
¼ cup sugar
¾ teaspoon ginger
¼ cup water
Ice cream

Combine strawberries, walnuts, sugar, ginger and water. Heat to boiling point and cook over low heat 10 minutes. Serve over ice cream. Makes about 2 cups.

★ ★ ★

Peanut-Chocolate Sauce

1 package (4-oz.) chocolate pudding mix (not instant)
¾ cup water
¾ cup corn syrup
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
½ cup peanut butter
½ teaspoon vanilla.

Empty package contents into saucepan. Gradually add water, mixing until smooth. Add corn syrup and salt; mix well.

Remove from heat and add butter, peanut butter and vanilla. Stir until melted. Serve warm or cold over ice cream. Makes 1¾ cups.

Use Cold Water

Never use hot water for washing dishes that have contained milk, eggs, doughs or cheese mixtures. Instead use cold water and you will get the job done quicker.

Hot Nut Bread Combines Bran and Cornmeal

Walnut Pan Bread

1 cup sifted flour.
3 teaspoons baking powder.
½ teaspoon salt.
½ cup enriched yellow cornmeal.
1½ cups ready-to-eat bran.
1 cup milk.
¼ cup golden shortening.
½ cup dark brown sugar (firmly packed).
2 large eggs.
1 bag (3 ounces or ¾ cup) walnut pieces.

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and cornmeal. Add bran to milk and soak until milk is absorbed.

Cream shortening and sugar; beat in eggs thouroughly, one at a time. Stir in soaked bran, then flour mixture stirring just until dry ingredients are moistened. Break walnuts into uniform pieces (about the size of green peas) and fold in.

Turn into buttered baking pan (9 by 9 by 1¾ inches). Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cut into squares in pan and serve very hot. Any leftover may be reheated.

DEVILED HAM LOAF — If you've some cans of deviled ham on your pantry shelf, you're all set for unexpected company with this quick Deviled Ham Loaf.

Canned Deviled Ham Goes Into Meat Loaf

The comics are always showing the dilemma of the poor housewife confronted with the unexpected guest. Of course, with canned and frozen foods on the market, this is no longer the disaster it was once. The old dinner table code signal (Family Hold Back) is rarely heard now.

★ ★ ★

Yet, whether it's the boss or the mother-in-law, the harried housewife still wants to put a meal on the table that shows imagination and a little thought. And this means a meal that doesn't look too obviously "stretched."

★ ★ ★

If you have an hour for cooking time, there's time to try this Deviled Ham Loaf. Cans of deviled ham are pantry-shelf staples, the other ingredients are usually on hand, and the raisin sauce adds a gourmet touch. It's a ham loaf with a taste so spicy, so unique, that the family will probably ask for it even when there's no company coming.

Deviled Ham Loaf

4 family size cans (4½-oz.) deviled ham
¼ cup milk
4 cups soft bread crumbs
¼ cup chili sauce
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 egg, unbeaten
½ cup finely chopped onion
¼ teaspoon pepper

Heat oven to 350 degrees. In large bowl mix deviled ham, milk, bread crumbs, chili sauce, Worcestershire sauce, egg, onion and pepper. Pack into a 9"x5"x3" loaf pan. Bake for one hour. Serve with raisin sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Raisin Sauce

½ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1½ tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon grated lemon peel
1⅛ cups water
⅔ cup seedless raisins

In saucepan mix together brown sugar, dry mustard and flour. Add vinegar slowly. Then add lemon juice, lemon peel, water and raisins. Cook, stirring constantly over low heat until thick. Serve with Deviled Ham Loaf.

Poultry and Eggs Offer Cheaper Eating Today

Summer seems nearer . . . especially as fresh new foods make their appearance. Michigan's contributions grow with plenty of green onions, bright red radishes, spinach and other greens and a variety of lettuce for salads. It's homegrown asparagus time . . . time to can and freeze it too. You'll find Michigan strawberries in many stores by next week, says the MSU Marketing Agent. . .

Large supplies of poultry meat and eggs continue in the food news. Could these be cues to protein buys for you?

Lighter supplies of meats were marketed last week due to the holiday. This has resulted in the same to slightly higher prices for beef, pork, veal and lamb.

PRODUCE PICKING — The asparagus season is short, so enjoy it while you may. One pound will yield 4 to 5 servings depending on how much waste there is.

If you are freezing asparagus, blanch the small stalks in boiling water 2 minutes; medium-sized stalks 3 minutes; large-sized stalks 4 minutes. Then cool quickly in cold water, drain, package and freeze at zero degrees.

The first crate of Michigan strawberries was sold in Benton Harbor, May 25, but you can't expect to find very many until about June 10. In the meantime, you can enjoy those from other states.

Of course the best strawberries will have full red color, have a shiny glossy appearance and have the fresh green caps attached. If the container is stained, plan to use strawberries the same day you buy them. Size is no indication of flavor, for this depends upon the variety, the ripeness and growing conditions.

Large supplies of head lettuce from California and Arizona plus good supplies of homegrown leaf lettuce are the beginning of green salads for little cost. The greener the leaves, the more vitamins the lettuce contains.

Apples never tasted so good at this time of year. Controlled atmosphere storage apples have more flavor and are crisper than those held in regular storage.

More cantaloupe is arriving from California. Lower prices are in prospect in June as large growing areas come into production.

Rainy weather hit Florida growing sections again and retarded harvest of some vegetables. You may notice the effect on quality.

MEAT FOR MAIN COURSES— Maybe you had a broiler-fryer last week. Maybe you'll choose more this week. Supplies are very large and most retailers report prices to tempt every pocketbook. Americans are eating over 7 times more broilers than they did in 1940 and this trend continues.

In making a selection consider family preference, time and cooking plans. A bit of calculation tells you that favorite parts cost little more than the whole bird. Broilers yield these amounts of cooked meat; whole, 50 per cent; breasts 62.4 per cent; legs and thighs 53.3 per cent.

When buying the whole bird, figure ¼ to ½ bird per person or ¾ to 1 pound of ready-to-cook meat. When buying parts, figure at least one piece per person.

At 50 cents per pound, you may select a small turkey. If you want it for broiling or frying, make sure it weighs no more than five pounds.

If you choose, have a U.S. Choice grade blade chuck roast cut into on inch slices. Tenderize in overnight with tomato juice in the refrigerator. You'll enjoy the full flavor and the price. Yes, the texture will be different than the more tender steaks, but the price is quite different.

Lamb breast makes good barbecue too. Brown and add barbecue seasonings. Cover and simmer on top of the range or cook in a slow 300 degree F. oven for 1½ hours or until tender.

EGGS FOR A SONG — The lowest prices in 18 years is good reason to add extra dozens of eggs to your shopping list. Good for breakfast always, but have you used many eggs for lunch and dinner lately? Your cookbook will remind you of the many uses you might have overlooked.

Brighter Day When Honey Starts It

In this year of plentiful honey supplies, you don't need a honeybird to guide you to this delectable sweet. Just follow your nose to the nearest grocery store.

You can start your honeys off each day with a nourishing and tasty breakfast by highlighting breakfast favorite with honey. For example, try poached eggs in honey cups—like this:

Blend equal portions of softened butter and honey together. Trim the crusts from fresh bread slices and roll flat with a rolling pin. Then spread the top side of the slices with a honey-butter mixture.

Press into muffin cups and bake in a hot oven until browned, usually a matter of 10 to 15 minutes. Slip a poached egg into each cup, then sprinkle with crispy back crumbles and serve immediately.

And here's a breakfast quickie—coconut frosted doughnuts—that's a real delight. Simply spread the top of doughnuts with honey, sprinkle with flaked coconut, running the doughnuts under the broiler until the coconut is golden brown. Be sure to serve them hot.

Have you some chervil among your bottles of dried herbs? Try adding it to omelets, salads and potato soup.

Foil Does Good Job on Outdoor Grill

If it's burgers for the crowd, tear off a strip of foil the size of your grill top. With a two-pronged fork, puncture the foil at about two-inch intervals. (Don't tear, just poke little holes.) Turn up a half-inch edge on your "pan" all around, and lay the burgers right on the hot foil.

They will brown to a turn, and stay juicy. The holes let heat up and fat drippings out so the meat broils instead of "sozzling."

Here's a trick to save fuel and keep your barbecue or grill new-looking: Line the firebox with heavy-duty foil. (Or line the ash pit if there is a grate to hold the coals.)

You place gravel or special insulated pellets, then a layer of charcoal, right on the foil. The foil reflects the heat back on the food and speeds up cooking. It also keeps your equipment cleaner by catching the melted fat and drippings.

Gelatin Means Protein

An envelope of unflavored gelatine taken in a glass of fruit juice is a low-calorie between-meal snack when one is on a reducing diet. The gelatin supplies additional protein which is a must when one is taking off excess weight, and it curbs the appetite so that one is satisfied with less food at meal time.

Dairy Foods Rate High in June

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

"The friendly cow, all red and white" . . . or any other color for that matter, does her best in June which is known in the food industry as Dairy Month.

Milk, butter and cheese are such important foods in our daily diets it scarcely seems necessary to stress them. Milk is an all-inclusive term: it takes in cream, evaporated milk, nonfat dry milk and ice cream.

Everybody needs the nutritional elements from this class of food every day. We didn't mention sour cream and buttermilk, but they'll do too.

A molded salad is always a good choice for a hot weather meal. It can be made early in the day or even the day before. The one for which we give the recipe below even looks cool with its two snow-white layers. Cottage cheese and evaporated milk make this salad a noteworthy one from the milk standpoint.

Cottage Cheese Mold

¼ cup lemon juice
½ tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup boiling water
2 cups (1 lb. 2 oz. carton) cottage cheese
¼ cup chopped green pepper
2 teaspoons minced onion
1 cup evaporated milk
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Pinch garlic powder
¼ cup cold water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup boiling water
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce

Add the sugar and salt to the ¼ cup lemon juice in a medium size mixing bowl. Sprinkle on the first envelope of gelatin and let soften 5 minutes. Add the ½ cup boiling water and stir to dissolve. Cool, then stir in the cottage cheese, green pepper and onion. Slowly blend in the evaporated milk. (This will make about 3 2/3 cups.)

Pour half of the cottage cheese mixture into a well oiled loaf pan 8¼x4½x2¾ inches. Chill until almost set.

Meanwhile mix the 2 teaspoons lemon juice, garlic powder and cold water in a small bowl. Sprinkle on the second envelope of gelatin and let soften 5 minutes. Add the ½ cup of boiling water and stir to dissolve. Stir in tomato sauce. Cool, then ladle carefully over the partially set cottage cheese layer.

Chill until aspic is almost set then ladle remaining cottage cheese mixture over aspic. Chill until set about 2 to 3 hours. When ready to serve, unmold on serving platter. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Sour cream has become almost a food fad in the past few years (we're still substituting yogurt for it whenever possible to cut the calorie count). But buttermilk has always been a favorite drink for many people.

Just don't neglect buttermilk as a cooking ingredient. You know what it does for pancakes, waffles and hot breads. Now try it in two interesting sauces.

One is for fish. Your favorite fisherman is going to bring home his catch. Let's hope he cleans it for you. Then you roll it in a seasoned cornmeal-flour mixture and fry it golden brown. Serve it with Buttermilk Sauce Tartare.

Buttermilk Sauce Tartare

1 cup buttermilk
1 cup dairy sour cream
½ teaspoon capers
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento olives
½ teaspoon paprika
¼ cup chopped parsley
1 teaspoon salt

Blend together buttermilk, sour cream, capers, olives, paprika, parsley and salt; chill until ready to use. Makes 2 cups.

★ ★ ★

If your family just doesn't like fish, grill a center slice of ready-to-eat ham and serve it with Hot Buttermilk Sauce. Before grilling or broiling brush both sides of the ham with buttermilk and baste it with more buttermilk while cooking.

Hot Buttermilk Sauce

1 cup buttermilk
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1 center slice ready-to-eat ham, cut 1-inch thick
Buttermilk

Slowly heat buttermilk in a small saucepan. Mix mustard, flour and salt; add to egg yolks and beat well. Blend egg yolk mixture into buttermilk; stirring constantly, cook until sauce thickens. Brush both sides of Ham Steak with buttermilk; place under broiler or on grill. Baste with buttermilk every few minutes to give ham an attractive glaze. Serve with Hot Buttermilk Mustard Sauce. Makes 1 cup sauce.

DIPLOMA SPONGE ROLL—Go to the head of the class if you know that pure vanilla extract is America's favorite flavor!

Freeze Iced Coffee Cake Unwrapped, Overnight

To freeze iced and decorated yeast-raised buns or coffee cakes, place them in the freezer unwrapped overnight. Remove and wrap in freezer paper and return to freezer.

Thaw breads while they are still wrapped to prevent moisture from collecting on the bread surfaace.

Diploma Shaped Cake Will Honor Graduate

Parties needn't be spectaculars which put you in debt for weeks. Just invite the people you like best and keep the refreshments simple, but good! The boys may make fun of tricky little sandwiches, but note that they eat them with relish. Or, instead of sandwiches, arrange assorted crisp crackers, melba toast, chips alongside a bowl or two of well-seasoned dip. With this you'll want fruit punch, soft drinks, tea or coffee.

The Diploma Sponge Roll deserves a summa cum laude — delicious, but none too good for the bright hope of the family who has just covered himself with distinction. Roll it up like a jelly roll, spreading it with vanilla cream frosting and giving it a chocolate tie.

Diploma Sponge Roll

3 eggs (⅝ cup)
1 cup sugar
6 tablespoons water
1½ teaspoons pure vanilla extract
1 cup sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
Vanilla Cream Frosting

Beat eggs until thick and lemon colored. Gradually beat in sugar. Add water and pure vanilla extract all at one time and beat. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add all at once and beat just until smooth. Pour into a greased paper-lined jelly roll pan (15½x10½x½-inch). Bake in a preheated moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 15 minutes or until cake tests done.

Turn out onto a towel, sprinkled heavily with confectioners' sugar. Roll up towel and cake together. Cool. Unroll and spread with some of the Vanilla Cream Frosting. Roll as for jelly roll and frost the roll with remaining frosting.

Place the remaining chocolate frosting in a cake decorator's tube and make a ribbon tie in the center of the roll to resemble a diploma. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

Vanilla Cream Frosting

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 pound sifted confectioners' sugar
6 tablespoons sour cream
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
2 tablespoons cocoa

Cream butter or margarine with sugar. Blend in sour cream and pure vanilla extract. Reserve ¼ of the frosting and to the remaining ¾, add the cocoa. Unroll the sponge cake and fill with the chocolate frosting reserving some for later use. Roll cake and frost with the reserved white frosting. Place the remaining chocolate frosting in a cake decorator's tube and make a ribbon tie in the center of the roll to resemble a diploma.

Nonconformist Rights Fence, Blames Hedges

BALTIMORE (AP)—A suburbanite in Rodgers Forge, asserting his rugged individualism, hung the gate on his new picket fence with points down.

It was the only one of its kind on the block. He turned it upright a few weeks later, insisting it was not social pressure but interference with a hedge that prompted his switch.

Isle Royale, located in Lake Superior and famous as a resort center, has an area of about 210 square miles.

Just the Right Amount

An electronic measuring device weighs out 115 to 120 grains of gelatine for each envelope of unflavored gelatine packaged. This is the exact amount of gelatine, and of the exact strength, to gel two cups of liquid.

Enjoying the sidewalk cafe luncheon of the Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook Tuesday were (from left) Mrs. William A. McNamee, program chairman for the past year; Mrs. Robert T. Hatt, newly elected program chairman, and Mrs. Lester L. Dobyns whose husband is a member of the church staff.

Christ Church Women Meet in Gala French Cafe Setting

The front terrace of Christ Church Cranbrook was changed into a French sidewalk cafe for the annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the church Tuesday.

Sitting around tables bedecked with red and white checked cloths and red geraniums, the 200 women had luncheon and discussed reports of the morning meeting held in Guild Hall.

NEW OFFICERS

Mrs. Howard B. Barker presided and later turned the group over to the newly elected president, Mrs. Edward Proctor.

Other new officers include Mrs. William A. McNamee, first vice president; Mrs. James B. Bragaw, second vice president; Mrs. George R. Squibb, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph C. Cook Jr., assistant treasurer; Mrs. R. W. Muhlitner, recording secretary; Mrs. George S. Hodges, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Robert A. Windler, United Thank Offering treasurer.

Members voted to follow the suggestion of the diocese to change the name of the auxiliary to "Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook."

Mrs. Robert T. Hatt, program chairman for next year, announced "The Church in the World" will be the theme for the year, with "The Christian Encounters the World" as the subtitle.

Featured speakers will be Dr. Thelma James, professor at Wayne State University; the Rev. William Norvell of Christ Church staff; Dr. Reuel Howe of Cranbrook Foundation; and Mrs. Eliot Higgins, director of religious education.

A program will be devoted to the church and mental health; three American field service students will discuss their experiences; and the Rev. Scott Paradise of the Detroit Industrial Mission will bring a representative from the labor group and one from management to speak.

The Rev. Lester L. Dobyns installed the new officers and led morning devotions. In charge of decorating and table arrangements was Mrs. William K. Ginman.

The natural waistline is emphasized on this black silk and mohair day dress. The wide flaring tunic skirt contrasts dramatically with the fitted short-sleeved bodice.

Duplicate Bridge Winners Named

Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club met Monday evening at Elks Temple. Eighteen tables were in play.

UF Announces Chairmen

3 Women Head Area Divisions

Will Serve Under Mrs. Buckner in 1959 Campaign

The chairmen of the Pontiac, Waterford and Lake Angelus Divisions of the Pontiac United Fund Women's Divisions were announced yesterday. At a luncheon at the Elks Temple, Mrs. Donald E. White, chairman, named Mrs. Roderick Taylor, Mrs. M. G. Prosser and Mrs. Myron Leighton.

Mrs. Noel Buckner was named Women's Division chairman for the 1959 drive. Assisting her will be Mrs. Taylor, Pontiac area; Mrs. Prosser, Waterford chairman; and Mrs. Myron Leighton, who will head the Lake Angelus area drive.

ACTIVE IN COMMUNITY

Mrs. Taylor, who lives on Mohawk road, has two boys and is active in the PTA, Sigma Nu Phi Sorority and the DAR. She was chairman of Area 1 last year.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Prosser, immediate past president of the Women's Auxiliary to the Oakland County Medical Society, is also active in community affairs.

Mrs. Leighton, who worked closely with Mrs. James Tuttle last year in the UF Drive, has three children. She is active in the PTA and her local branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

★ ★ ★

Leonard Lewis, president of the Pontiac Area United Fund spoke about the work of the women's committee of the UF and stressed the fact the task is a "52-week public relations job."

DOUBLE PURPOSE

Mr. Lewis emphasized that the purpose of the United Fund campaign is twofold; first to educate people to the need for such a fund, and second, to raise the necessary money.

The women's committee luncheon was sponsored by the Community National Bank, The Pontiac Press and the Pontiac State Bank.

Members of the Women's committee are: Mrs. Noel Buckner, Mrs. William L. Miller, Mrs. Ralph Norvell, Mrs. Floyd Blanzy and Mrs. William Hutchinson.

Others are Mrs. Robert Nelson, Mrs. James Tuttle, Mrs. Gelston Poole, Mrs. Donald E. White and Mrs. Ralph Bump.

The luncheon honored the women who worked on the 1958 United Fund drive and initiated plans for this fall's campaign.

Always Treat Mama as Choicest Guest

By RUTH MILLETT

Here's a letter from a bride of a year who is unhappy because her husband treats her mother like a "mother-in law."

Could I speak to the husband for a moment, please?

The two of you have created a new home. If your wife is in love with you and proud of her home, she is going to want occasionally to share her home and her happiness with her mother.

But she can't do it unless you treat her mother like a mother—and not like a mother-in-law. If she can't be sure that you will always be gracious and courteous to her mother, that you'll put yourself out to make her feel welcome when she visits you, your wife's home won't really be her home at all.

For what wife can be completely happy in a home where her mother is made to feel like an outsider, made to feel that her visits aren't welcome, made to feel that her daughter is married to a man who resents her and wants her excluded from their life?

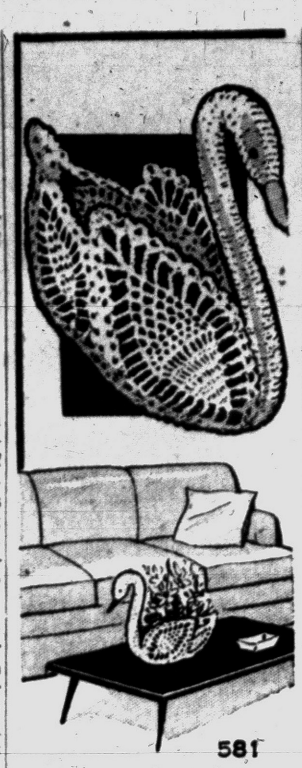

If you love your wife and want her to be happy, then don't even think of her mother as your mother-in-law. Think of her as "Jane's mother," the woman who probably did more than anyone else in the world to make Jane the kind of person you could fall in love with.

And because you do love Jane, try to understand that your kindness to her mother is really kindness to Jane, that whatever you do for your wife's mother you are really doing for your wife.

Don't force your wife into taking sides between you and her mother. She won't have to if you treat her mother the way a mother should be treated.

Just forget that phrase "mother-in-law" completely. Think in terms of "our mothers" instead of "my mother" and "my mother-in-law."

Trips Will Be Devoted to Business

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: This job which I have just obtained requires that I go on business trips occassionally with my employer. My mother disapproves of this and thinks I should quit my job. It is a very good paying job and I like it very much, and I think mother is making a lot of fuss about nothing. Won't you please give me your frank opinion of this?

Answer: My frank opinion is of no value at this point because I know nothing about him or even about you. I think it probable from your letter that he is a business man interested in the work you are going to do for him and not at all in you personally. In this most likely case, your going with him will not be improper.

"Dear Mrs. Post: We are planning a graduation party in honor of our son and daughter who are graduating the same day. Our son is graduating from college and our daughter from high school. Should we send separate invitations to their friends, or may we combine the two and have both their names appear on one invitation. In either case, what would be the proper wording."

Answer: Both names can appear on the same invitation. I think that to avoid a long complicated invitation about honoring the graduation of your son and daughter, you can use the "at home" form.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is ever correct to introduce a lawyer as Counselor, socially?"

Answer: Correctly, a lawyer is introduced socially as Mr. unless he is a Judge, in which case he is always introduced by that title.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband's first wife passed away a few years ago and during that relationship they had a son who was named for my husband. Now I am expecting a child and would like to know if it would be improper to name our child for my husband if it is a boy.

"My husband supports his other child but other than that he never sees him as he is being raised by his grandparents in another part of the country. If it is proper to name our son after my husband, would he be 3rd or Jr.?"

Answer: It would not be proper to give the identical name to your son that his elder half brother already has. If you did so, he would be 3rd and not Jr. It would be better to give him his father's first and last names and your own parents' last name as a middle name.

What Young People Think

Teeners Dream of Travel--but Hunt for Jobs

By EUGENE GILBERT

The day is warm and the minds of the boy in the back row of Economics I and the girl near the door in Latin II are playing hooky. They daydream of summer vacation, of skin diving off the California coast, of water skiing on Long Island Sound, of the view from the Eiffel Tower, or a safari in the jungles of Africa.

But the ringing of the bell signaling the end of another school day brings them back to reality. School books under their arms, they go looking for summer jobs.

That's the pattern this spring. There is a wide gulf between what teenagers dream of doing during vacation and what they will do.

We asked 660 youngsters what they would like to do this summer more than anything else. Then we asked them what they actually plan.

YEN TO TRAVEL

In the dream category, 60 per cent said they would like to travel. About 16 per cent were completely practical. They said they wanted to work more than anything. Most apparently have outgrown the camping bug. Only one in 10 gave this as their first preference.

Jim McClurg, 16, of St. Louis, who has a pessimistic view of the world's situation, is one who dreams of travel. "We are heading for a war in this world," says Jim, "and I want to see Europe before it's blown to pieces."

"I'd like to go on a safari in Africa," says 17-year-old Allan Schneider of Philadelphia. "I've had a yen for that for years now." But, facing reality, adventure-minded Allan says he will do something to earn money.

Ron Magee, 17, of Portland, Ore., has another dream. "I'd like to go to California for a vacation," says Ron. "I have an uncle there who skin-dives."

EYE ON COLLEGE

Among the more practical minded is 17-year-old Gordon Peschke of Detroit. "I want to get a good job to earn money for college," says Gordon.

★ ★ ★

Compared with the 60 per cent who would like more than anything to travel, only 20 per cent actually expect to do so. And less than 1 per cent will visit Europe.

When it came down to reality, 64 per cent said they expect to work.

"I have to work in order to go to college," says 17-year-old Pat Jennel of Detroit.

"I'm going to work in a hospital to prepare for my future as a nurse," says Rita Kiggs, 17, of Hoosick Falls, N. Y.

Two out of 10 of the teenagers said they will spend the vacation just loafing.

"I think school kids need the summer time to take it easy," says 15-year-old Alice Bashuk, of Macon, Ga.

About 12 per cent expect to spend some time at a seaside resort and 11 per cent will do some camping.

PREFER OUTDOORS

Judy Edwards, 15, of St. Louis, would like work at a swimming pool "because I love to be outdoors." Don Kingfield, 17, of Sac City, Iowa, wants construction work because he says the pay is good.

About 12 per cent of the youngsters would like work as camp counselors. "I love young children," explains 13-year-old Cecile Fink, of Hoosick Falls, N. Y.

About one out of 10 choose office work.

About 15 per cent say they don't care what kind of work it is just so they work with people. "I feel this is important at my age," says Dick Holtman, 17, of Detroit.

The practical side of teenagers that prompts them to work to obtain their wants is not prompted by their parents, the survey showed.

Asked who decides what they will do with their summer, three-fourths of the boys and girls said they make their own decisions.

The decision is a family matter for 16-year-old Gregory Neff, of Detroit. "I decide about my free time, and they (his parents) plan family vacations."

★ ★ ★

Thirty-six per cent of the boys and girls say some extra studying or reading for school will fit into their summer plans. These do not include the youngsters who will attend summer school.

Students Present Piano-Organ Recital Tuesday

Others were Mary June Miles, Daniel Marlow, Sharlene Groves, Jeanette Enfield and Karl Rabel.

Mrs. Juanita Quye's pupils, Linda Beauchamp and Cheryl Schadt, also took part.

3 Teachers to Conclude Long Careers at PCH

Three longtime teachers at Pontiac Central High School will retire from teaching June 12. They are Mary Rubert, Paul B. Line and Harold Harboldt.

Miss Rubert, dean of teachers at Central, is retiring after 40 years of service to the school. She attended Alma College and received her teaching degree from the University of Michigan. She came to Central as an English teacher.

She has spent many summers traveling and although she has no definite plans for her retirement, she would like to visit the Holy Land and Mediterranean.

A physics teacher, Mr. Line is retiring after 37 years at Central. He received his B.A. degree at Albright College and his M.A. from U. of M. In 1953 he was awarded a GE fellowship to Case Institute of Technology.

He plans to spend more time with his wife and hobbies at his home on Cass Lake and also plans some world traveling.

★ ★ ★

After 40 years of teaching, Mr. Harboldt, vocations instructor, is retiring. He received his B.A. degree at Western Michigan College and his M.A. from U. of M.

Mr. Harboldt has spent 32 years at Central and taught drawing and woodshop. He plans to "sit and fish."

Big collars are the big news in fashion this spring. This one of crisp white pique is square in front and slopes to a round curve in the back. It's trimmed with a ruff of Irish-type lace, and buttons down the front.

Howls, Hisses Mean $$ at This Boarding House

By MARY PRIME

NEW YORK (UPI)—Few resorts can claim as posh a clientele as a Manhattan boarding house. Its guest list boasts names of the famous from millionaires to movie stars.

Admittance requirements are strict. All guests must have a special social standing—on four feet.

The boarding house, called the Courtyard, caters to dogs and cats from all over the world. Owner Henry J. Lindner Jr., a native of New Orleans, doles out Southern hospitality, lean meat and private outings to his charges — about 25 or 30 at a time, depending on size.

At the onset of each social season, chauffered limousines, sports cars, and taxis draw up to the Courtyard and deposit members of the four-footed 400.

MARILYN SENDS 'HUGO'

"One day we had a Rolls-Royce on one corner and a Mercedes on the other," said Lindner.

Among the socially prominent pets are dogs from the Rockefellers and Vanderbilts. Marilyn Monroe boards her basset hound, "Hugo."

Dorothy Parker parks her poodle; Tallulah Bankhead sends her Maltese and Pekinese. Ambassadors bring their dogs for a weekend. Socialites in Europe and the Middle East are steady customers when touring the United States.

Any plain alley cats or curb setters?

"Well, most of our clients are carriage trade, but we do get pets from the Bowery," Lindner said.

Dogs, especially females, tend to bring enough baggage to stock a safari. They pack morning coats, afternoon coats, sleeping robes, fur coats (usually Persian lamb, some mink) and collars studded with semiprecious jewels.

They come equipped with lotions, potions, special diets and dishes.

Lindner's choicest customer is a poodle (female, naturally) that arrives regularly with an order for chicken livers and a fortnighter "so heavy I can hardly lift it."

NEIGHBORS HAPPY

The Courtyard is soundproofed in deference to the neighbors, named after New Orleans homes, and decorated with antiques and oriental rugs.

Pets sleep on white blankets which are changed daily. They are walked individually — outdoors in good weather, inside in the exercise room in bad weather.

Sounds luxurious? Wait till you get the bill. Lindner charges $3 a day for dogs, $2 for cats. Extra attention costs more. Pets are admitted or discharged daily except Sundays and holidays.

Vacation time in both summer and winter is so crowded that Lindner requests owners make reservations, especially for long stays. Some pets remain four to six months.

Formerly a public relations executive and fund raiser, Lindner got tired of "battling organizations and committees" and turned to his first love, dogs.

He raises poodles in his house next door to the Courtyard and is looking for a site for a second Courtyard. Someday he hopes to market frozen pet food made from his own recipe.

"My cook prepares the dogs' meals," Lindner said. "Sometimes when we run out of food at home and the cook asks me what to do, I say, 'Well, there's always the Courtyards ' and, you know, it tastes pretty good!"

Founders Day was celebrated at the meeting of Iraq Caldron 70, Daughters of Mokanna, held Wednesday at Grotto Hall.

It was voted to dispense with the July and August meetings. The caldron will honor supreme arrah, charter members and past mighty chosen ones at the September meeting.

Mrs. Roger Smiley and Mrs. Frances Gartner were on the refreshment committee.

Pretty Weighty Problem . . . Abby

Let Springs Fall Where They May

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We have a fat aunt in our family who comes to visit us quite often. No one knows exactly how much she weighs but she looks almost as fat as the fat lady in the circus — and she weighs 450 pounds. This fat aunt sits down on a chair and the chair almost comes apart. She can't get all of herself into certain chairs so she sits on the good ones that match our sofa. The springs are hanging down underneath. My father says he is going to have the chairs fixed up and send her a bill. My mother says he had better not as this fat aunt is her sister. Can you help solve our problem? IN BETWEEN

ABBY

DEAR IN: It is a pretty weighty problem, but unless your father wants to insult her outright he had better keep quiet and let the springs fall where they may.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow and people ask me why I wear my diamond and wedding ring on my left hand. Should I wear them on my right hand? If so, when is the proper time to make the change? I would like to get married again some day, but don't want to look too anxious. WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: After a woman has been widowed for a year, if she is interested in attracting another man she should put her wedding ring in the drawer. But she may wear her engagement diamond on her right hand.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago my husband had an affair with my best friend who lived next door to me and still does. I forgave him but he broke my heart. We have four children and this woman is married and has three. Her husband forgave her and we hushed it up. This woman's last child is the very image of my husband. The boy looks so much like my youngest (same age) that people keep getting them mixed up. My husband says to forget it as it is all over and done with and I believe him. But, Abby, every time I see this child I get sick to my stomach. He plays with my children and is in my home often. What do you advise? HEART-BROKEN

MRS. JACK DAVIDSON

Natalie Sposato and Jack Davidson were married May 23 at Our Lady of the Lakes Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kay of Waterford and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Lamberton of Clarkston.

DEAR HEART-BROKEN: Your husband is asking you to do the impossible. How can you "forget" when this child is around to remind you daily? You forgave your husband, now he owes YOU a favor. Ask him to move his family as far from your present neighborhood as you can possibly get. And keep asking him!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband calls me "Six O'Clock" because I'm straight up and down. I have tried exercises and salves and everything I see advertised, but nothing has helped. Do you think after sixteen years of marriage and living in one town and knowing the same people, I should go in for a false figure? Please don't laugh. This is a serious problem. SERIOUS

DEAR SERIOUS: Millions of women are not ashamed to put on a front. If you zig where you should zag, I say, hie thee to a lingerie shop, and good luck.

To get Abby's booklet, "What Every Teenager Wants to Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby; in care of this paper.

For those hot summer days ahead — and they will be here, believe it or not — here's a dress of plaid silk chiffon. The dress has a softly pleated skirt and low-cut neckline, and comes in brown and black or white and black plaid.

For the child who pushes toys out through play pen bars: tie strings on toys so they can be pushed only so far — within child's reach. He'll be amused for hours pulling on string to coax toys back through bars.

Another Innovation

Housewives who wipe up rusty rings left by cleanser cans will appreciate new bottoms on the items. These are of plastic and won't leave unsightly marks when left standing in the kitchen or bathroom where moisture gets to them.

If you're typical, it isn't raining three-fourths of the time when you wear a raincoat.

Kerosene for Rust

To remove rust stains from tile, first rub with kerosene. If necessary, cover for a few hours with a kerosene-soaked cloth. Then scrub with hot soap or detergent suds.

Beauty Hint

It is important to select a face powder that enhances your skin. And avoid the white rice powder look of earlier days. Select powder that matches your skin tone or is slightly darker. And if you have dry skin, use a lightweight powder.

House Hunting?

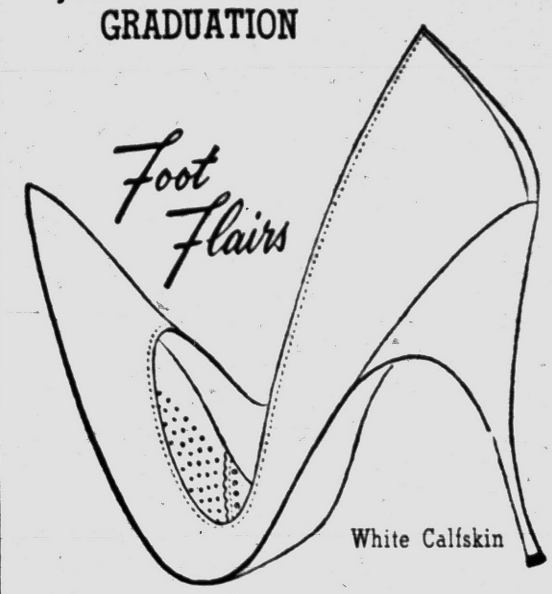

When house hunting, don't forget these basic needs: plentiful storage, maximum family living area, ample bathroom facilities, good insulation, durable, fireproof material in kitchen and bathrooms.

Too Busy Housewives Need Helpers at Home

American housewives work harder, longer, at more complex jobs than women in any other part of the world, according to writer James A. Michener. He proposes, in a national magazine article that we create a new profession—household helper—to ease their burden.

During his career as reporter and novelist, Michener has observed firsthand the women of Asia and Europe. These women, he says, may often perform more arduous physical labor than their American counterparts. But when they finish their day's work, they are through. Other females in the family have cared for the children, done the shopping, cooked the dinner and washed the dishes.

In sharp contrast, the average American housewife is wife, mother and housekeeper—and much more. She serves on committees, entertains her husband's business associates, acts as family chauffeur, even becomes involved in politics.

ACTIVITIES VITAL

Many have argued that American wives should give up their community activities. Says Michener:

"If I had never lived overseas I might agree. But I have had a chance to compare average American towns where women take an interest in community affairs, with towns in Asia where no one cares about such things. Concern for one's community ought not to be surrendered."

Caused by Rickets

Bowlegs Can Be Helped

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It seems downright sinful to allow any physical defect to spoil happiness when it is so wonderful just to be alive. However, few folks are so on fire with life that they never are discouraged or embarrassed by defects in good looks. Sometimes they may actually ruin happiness and damage personality and outlook.

Bowlegs is one of these. Bowlegs are due to rickets in childhood. This disease occurs when an infant or child gets too little sunshine and cod liver oil. This causes the bones to sotfen so that the body weight bows the legs.

I receive many letters from women asking what to do about bowlegs. Really there are only a few things you can do. In the first place if you have only slight bowing you can rest assured that this is much more noticeable to you than to anyone else. In fact others may not notice it at all, so don't let it dampen your love of life or decrease your charm.

In the second place, sometimes the bowed appearance is due at least partially, if not entirely, to poorly developed muscles rather than to curved bones. In this case exercises which build up the leg muscles will practically remedy the situation. The thinner your legs are the more apparent the curve of the bone. I will give you an exercise at the end of this column.

The way you stand can make a difference in the way bowlegs look. Make a habit of standing with your feet fairly close together. Try standing with the heel of one foot close to the instep of the others, or more natural looking, with the heel of one foot by the toe of the other.

I have one friend who overcame a slight appearance of bowing by always standing with her feet together and then trying to pull her legs close enough together to touch. She would hold that position for as long as possible — then would rest and repeat. She could not touch her legs at all at first but later on she could. She did this at every opportunity — when waiting for a bus or subway or standing at a party, on all occasions when she was standing.

This exercise is for building up the leg muscles. Turn the feet in as tthough you were trying to place the soles of your feet together. Hold while you count to six slowly.

The only way actually to correct the shape of the bones is by surgery. Naturally this is a severe treatment and should not be contemplated in most instances.

Exercise for building up the leg muscles: Sit on a chair with the legs extending out in front of you (knees stiff) heels resting on the floor, toes off the floor, heels about three inches apart. Turn the feet in as though you were trying to place the soles of your feet together. Hold while you count to six slowly. Relax. Repeat and continue.

If you would like to have my leaflet which gives you corrective exercises for the most usual leg defects, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 13. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "The Front of My Thighs . . . Stick Out Like Balloons."

Honored and given corsages were outgoing board members, Mrs. Abraham Avadenka, Mrs. Jack Bodner, Mrs. Nathan Crane and Mrs. Maurice Shlussel. Mrs. Irving Merkovitz was honored as outgoing corresponding secretary.

The annual treasurer's report was given by Mrs. John Rothchild. Mrs. Marvin Finkelstein, vice president, read the annual report of president, Mrs. Irving Koper.

Mrs. Jay Frankel, Mrs. Julian Droz and Mrs. Richard Blumberg, of Sisterhood of Tempel Emanu-el of Oak Park gave a musical parody of "My Fair Lady." They were accompanied by Mrs. Al Stutz.

Mrs. Stanley Elbling and Mrs. Daniel Foxman will represent the Sisterhood at honor day to be held June 14 at Nike Base.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Irwin Posner is in charge of arrangements for the kitchen shower for the Synagogue to be given by the board of directors for members on June 30.

Rabbi and Mrs. Israel Goodman also took part.

Arrangements for the afternoon were made by Mrs. Michael Davis, chairman; Mrs. Karl Berg, cochairman; Mrs. Edward Avadenka, Mrs. Oscar Berg and Mrs. Posner.

Many Dieters Are Unwise

Diets Must Be Nutritious

The average American woman, who sticks pretty close to her own weight control diet, probably takes too many of her daily calories in the form of sweets, breads and fats.

This was disclosed in a new study of "self-chosen" diets of some 350 Illinois and Nebraska women, who measured and recorded their normal food intake over a seven day period.

All were requested to follow their usual eating habits, ranging between 1,800 and 2,100 calories a day — more for the active younger woman, less for the older ones.

The study was a joint project of home economics experts of the Universities of Nebraska and Illinois. Their findings coincided generally with other studies made in other areas of the nation in past year.

Among other things it indicated that women, if they are shortchanging themselves on nutrients, are likely to go light on calcium, found in milk, and thiamine, rich in pork and whole grain products.

They are least likely to ration themselves on protein, ascorbic acid and Vitamin A, found in other meats, green and yellow vegetables and citrus fruits.

Although about 17 per cent of the women were decidedly overweight, their favorite calorie-container was sweets and desserts, 23 per cent of their total diet. And more than 50 per cent of their daily calories were accounted for in sweets, table and cooking fats and bread.

White potatoes accounted for less than 4 per cent of their calories; fruits and vegetables only 11.4 per cent, and meat 14.7 per cent.

Nutrition experts maintain generally that the average woman of 25 will maintain her weight — neither gain nor lose — on a daily diet of 2,300 calories. This drops to 2,100 calories for the woman of 45 and to 1,800 for one of 65.

★ ★ ★

In reporting the study, the home economics experts found that there is need for further nutrition education in many dietary areas, and that "actually the need is often for decreasing the energy (calorie) value and increasing nutritive values" in the American woman's diet.

Rise of George Hamilton Is Riches-to-Riches Story

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's always refreshing to come across a riches-to-riches story, the kind that makes a bum out of Horatio Alger.

Consider the success saga of George Hamilton, a good-looking, rangy socialite from Palm Beach, Fla., who came here with polo mallet and 20 suits of clothes, including three formal. In just a year, he is well on his way to starring ranks and has bought his first Rolls Royce.

George is a dark, likable lad who talks with the ease of one who has never known want. Born in Memphis, Tenn., he has lived most of his 19 years in New York and Palm Beach with stops in 25 different schools.

★ ★ ★

The last was Palm Beach High School, and that's where he won "best actor" honors in a dramatic competition.

"I think I won because I was the only one who didn't have a Southern accent," he grinned. "Anyway, it encouraged me. I guess I had always wanted to be an actor, but I had the idea it would take years of training. I couldn't see taking acting lessons for as long as it would take to become a doctor or lawyer."

★ ★ ★

With high hopes, he went to New York. An old family friend, Mae Murray, introduced him to MGM executives. They gave him encouragement but that's all.

George decided to assault Hollywood.

"I arrived with $90 in my pocket," he said. "I vowed I would take no help from my family. By the end of my first two months, I had $1,700 in the bank."

★ ★ ★

A year later, he has earned enough to buy a five-bedroom house in Florida and a Rolls Royce once built for the British royal family. "Wonderful car," he mused, "but not very practical. I'll have to buy another one to drive around town in."

George hit it rich with an artistic little picture called "Crime and Punishment, USA." It was made for $100,000 by two young graduates of UCLA, Terry and Dennis Sanders, who took a chance with the unknown, unschooled actor.

★ ★ ★

MGM tabbed him as a comer and signed him to a contract. The studio had to send for him in Venezuela, where he was enjoying a leisurely tour and studying the bullfights.

He still doesn't want to take dramatic lessons.

"If it doesn't come easily to me, it isn't right," he says of his acting. So far it has come easily.

'Highway Planners Wield Vast Power'

DETROIT (AP) — The most influential area and regional planners of all time are highway agencies, a resource development expert says.

"But few of us yet comprehend the power they have," Frank W. Suggitt told the Inter-County Highway Commission yesterday.

Suggitt, professor of resource development at Michigan State University, added:

"It is now more essential than ever that the individual communities and counties get together to plan highways on a regional basis.

Suggitt said the Inter-State "Highways, like waterways, have no respect for jealously guarded corporate jurisdictional lines."

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cagle, teach in Tulsa elementary schools. In all, the parents count 20 relatives — brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles or cousins —, who teach.

The average offshore oil well requires about 240 tons of steel drillpipe, casing, tubing and line pipe, compared with 45 tons for a dry land well.

Journey To Love

By Virginia Nielsen

© 1959 by Virginia Nielsen. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Over objections of friends Kathie is determined to spend a $1,500 legacy to investigate the worth of a yellowed deed to some Hawaiian property. She has boarded the ship, the Lurline.

CHAPTER VII

Mr. Jensen shook hands solemnly, warned her against stray acquaintances and told her to put her money under her pillow at night. And on that disquieting note, they left—and Kathie was alone.

Tears filled her eyes as she thought, Have I done the right thing?

At that moment, a young man barged nito her room, a cocktail glass in his hand. "Here you are, pet," he said easily, offering her the drink.

Kathie looked wildly up at the handsomest man she had ever seen off the screen. His hair was black and curled crisply back from his tan forehead. His eyes were dark and very bright. And his smile made her think suddenly of how rarely Buck had smiled.

"I beg your pardon!" he said, stopping suddenly and looking around the empty stateroom.

Just then, another young man, taller, with a face thinner and oddly humorous, appeared in the passageway behind him.

"The other side, Sam!" he said. "The other side! Oh-Oh!" he added, catching sight of Kathie.

"Look what I've found, Alex," the young man called Sam said in a wondering voice. "All alone and tears in her eyes!"

'GO AWAY'

"Mmmm," said Alex appreciatively, coming into the stateroom, "What do you carry, Sam—a mine detector?" He had a glass in his hand, too.

"Please go away!" Kathie said, her voice trembling a little.

"And let you cry all alone? That's no way to take a sailing!"

"Please come to Sam's party," Alex broke in. "You're just what it needs."

"It's just next door—"

"Half of it's next door. The other half's been crowded into Mrs. Powers' room on the other side—"

"I'm Sam Ward. You must be a mainlander. I'd remember you if I'd ever seen you—"

"Wait a minute, Sam! I'm Alex Norris—"

"What on earth are you two doing down here?" a clear young voice said in the doorway. Kathie looked bewilderedly over their shoulders at the girl who stood there. She was about Kathie's age, a honey-blonde with an even golden tan revealed by her deep-throated silk blouse.

"Hello," she said easily to Kathie. "I don't know you, do I?"

"I'm Kathie Ebberts."

After a startled moment, Kathie tore her eyes from his. Sam Ward was saying. "Kathie, I want you to meet Leilani Powers."

"Well, come on," Leilani said. "You must join the party. Sam and Alex are perfectly safe. At least when I'm along!"

CARRIED ALONG

The confusion was as bad as the din, Kathie thought, when they squeezed into the next stateroom. There were some 20 people and almost as many conversations were in progress.

★ ★ ★

The stateroom was Sam Ward's and the one beyond it was occupied by Leilani and her mother, whom everyone called Bea, a plumper older replica of her blonde daughter. Sam and the Powerses — indeed, it seemed all the passengers in the party — were residents of Honolulu who had been visiting or vacationing on the mainland.

Suddenly, Alex was beside her. "Where have you been, Kathie?" he asked softly.

She looked at him, not sure how to take that. "On a California farm," she told him. "And it wasn't very much like this," she added.

He laughed aloud. "Kathie, you're a delight! What brings you to Honolulu? Or is that a personal question?"

She considered that, her eyes searching his face. It was a likable face. It held much laughter, but one knew instinctively it would never be laughing at one. I would like Alex for a friend, she thought.

Aloud she said, "An old deed."

"A deed?" he prompted her.

She had gone too far to retreat. "To some land in Honolulu."

★ ★ ★

How alive his eyes could look when something really interested him! "Where in Honolulu?" he asked.

"I don't know," she confessed. "The names of streets and all that don't mean a thing to me. All I know is that the coast is one boundary."

"Beach property?" Alex said, and whistled. "Kathie, do you know they sell land by the square foot in Honolulu?"

"By the square foot? Why, Alex?"

Alex laughed again. "Tell me more about your deed. Where did you get it?"

"From my uncle. I mean, of course, my great-uncle. He died recently—"

"What was your uncle's name, Kathie?"

"Job Hammer."

The name fell into an absolute stillness. Kathie looked up, surprised, and met the eyes of Bea Powers, Leilani's mother. They were wide with shock.

Waterford Fair Booths Selling Well to Merchants

Booth sales for the Waterford Township annual Community Activities Center Fair, slated for June 19-21 are progressing well, according to general chairman Robert Aiken.

For the 12th year, the show will be climaxed with the crowning of a queen, and 15 girls—all from Waterford Township High School — are potential winners, according to chairman Mrs. George Dean.

Not only will the queen receive a one - week trip to Gay El Rancho at Gaylord, but luggage, cameras, clothes and a host of other prizes.

Approximately 30 local merchants have purchased booth space and 12 more booths will have activity - skill games. However, there will be no outside carnival, as in former years, Aiken said.

Another feature of the fair will be periodic entertainment presented on the stage of the CAI. Ballet, tap and toe dancers will perform along with skilled baton-twirlers.

The 200-bed Civil Defense portable hospital will again be set up on display on the second floor of the CAI building, and Civil Defense auxiliary police will direct traffic of the 20,000 spectators anticipated at the show.

So Political Volcano Erupts Again

Warns Michigan Its Credit Is Sinking

LANSING (AP) — A sober warning from Ohio that Michigan's credit is going to ruin set off another round of political squabbling over who's to blame.

★ ★ ★

Julian S. Magnus, a Cincinnati investment broker, wrote Gov. Williams that his firm and associates had met great difficulty in reselling a 13 million dollar issue of Michigan municipal bonds.

Magnus counseled quick adjustment of executive-legislative differences to avert graver injury than Michigan taxpayers already have suffered in rising interest rates.

"There are thousands upon thousands of investors throughout the United States who will no longer consider investing their funds in the State of Michigan," his letter said.

QUICK BLAME

Don R. Pears of Buchanan, Republican House speaker who received a copy, was quick yesterday to blame Williams and Democrats for insisting on a state income tax to solve state revenue problems.

Pears said Democrats were "playing politics," and Williams replied in kind.

The governor accused Republicans in the Senate of "using the state's credit as a pawn" in the struggle over their preference for a use (sales) tax increase rather than an income tax.

In 10 minutes, the governor said, they could bail the state out of its cash crisis by passing the veterans trust fund bill to pump an emergency 43 million dollars into the state treasury.

Mangus reported 40 clients had refused to invest in a $12,667,000 issue of Oakland County sewage bonds.

Mangus said it was impossible to explain the falsity of a widespread impression that Michigan is bankrupt.

'WORKS HARDSHIP'

"This is working a hardship upon every resident and taxpayer of the state," he added.

Broomfield Raps New Wheat Bill

A wheat bill due for early House action will "build another mountain of surpluses" if it is permitted to become law, warned Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) today.

The bill, reported out of the House Agriculture Committee a week ago, provides for raising farm price supports on wheat from 75 to 90 per cent of parity, with reductions in the amount of wheat each farmer could grow.

Higher price supports would increase guaranteed prices for farmers from about $1.78 to $2.13 a bushel, Broomfield said.

"The proponents of this bill seem to have completely overlooked the fact that more intensive farming of wheat crop will more than make up for reduction in acreage. Farmers will have plenty of incentive to step up their wheat production if higher price supports are permitted," the congressman said.

To Continue in Post

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams has renamed Olga Medar of Detroit as a member of the Board of Commissioners, Huron County Metropolitan Authority. The four-year appointment does not require Senate confirmation.

Entire Company Goin' Fishin' Again This Year

The Louisville Seed Co. plans to hang out the sign Friday and close shop to take officials and workers at plants here and at Louisville, Ill., for a week's fishing at Kentucky Lake.

The company is footing the bill for employes and their families—a party of about 60—just like it's been doing on outings for 11 years in addition to giving regular vacations.

"It's just that I like to fish and we have a fine bunch of employes," explained George E. Hays Jr., the company vice president-treasurer.

SPORTS

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Calling all golfers and duffers! (Especially the latter class where this writer needs company.)

Saturday you can enter the "Round of the Champion" tournament by proxie and play golf for charity.

We celebrate National Golf Day Saturday and for a buck linksters across the country will match their scores against either Tommy Bolt, the 1958 USGA Open champion, or Dow Finsterwald, the PGA titlist.

The pair will play an 18 hole exhibition match at Happy Hollow Country Club in Omaha, Neb., with a couple hundred thousand golfers matching their score against the winner.

In seven years, various golf charities have received $666,000 from National Golf Day receipts, and Michigan proudly takes the claim as the leader.

The Blind Golfers Association, Amputees Association, PGA Relief Fund, Caddie Scholarship program, along with service organizations such as the USO, Red Cross and Olympics, all have benefited from the annual "Day.

More than $173,000 has enabled over 1,200 caddies to get college educations under 17 different scholarship funds.

★ ★ ★

Michigan will be seeking to take National Golf Day honors for the third straight year, with Oakland County courses naturally leading the state.

Last year Michigan golfers contributed $6,999.25, followed by Illinois with $6,775.25 and the Philadelphia section with $5,320. The 32 sections turned in $82,204 on the 7th annual day

Tops for Michigan was Grosse Ile Country Club with $305, followed by Tam O'Shanter with $294 and Detroit Golf Club with $282.

Nineteen of the 35 layouts in Oakland County participated in National Golf Day a year ago and contribued $1,934 with golfers at 80 other Michigan courses turning in $5,065.

★ ★ ★

Members at Oakland Hills, Birmingham, Plum Hollow and Orchard Lake, in that order, follow Tam as the county's top contributors to National Golf Day.

The Michigan PGA has set up headquarters in Detroit to take results from the various courses participating with Joe Devany as chairman.

You don't have to wait until Saturday to golf either. Turn in your dollar and an 18 hole card of any round this week at most any golf course and club handicaps are in effect. Those who beat the winner of the Bolt-Finsterwald match will receive National Golf Day awards which will be mailed to the club where you played your round.

Support for National Golf Day has even come from one of the world's most enthusiastic golfers, President Eisenhower, who said, "Extend my greetings to those who participate in observance of 8th annual National Golf Day."

CUT DOWN — Rocky Bridges, Detroit shortstop, is cut down at the plate by New York catcher Yogi Berra as he attempted to score from second on Frank Bolling's single in the 4th inning last night. The Yanks won the game, 6-5 on a 9th inning homer by Mickey Mantle.

Stengel Very Pleased by Generosity of AL

DETROIT (UPI)—Casey Stengel says he can't understand why the rest of the American League has been so kind to his New York Yankees, but he's appreciative "and if we can get by Detroit and Cleveland, something's gonna happen."

After today's game at Briggs Stadium, the Yankees move over to Cleveland for a four-game set.

"I think I'm gonna get better pitchin' and you know these guys are gonna hit," Stengel said after the Yanks, looking again like Bronx Bombers, unloaded three homers to beat the Tigers.

"The rest of the teams have let us stay close (4½ games from the top)," Stengel said. "I don't know why they have. We sure haven't done anything to hurt anyone. I just gotta thank all these fellas for beating each other.

"We've been poor. Everyone knows it. I've been surprised because I've got some men I know can hit for distance and some of these pitchers that are beatin' us aren't 20-game winners," Stengel said.

"Two things have shocked this club," Stengel said. "The losses and getting shut out. It's surprising to me. I didn't think you could do that to this club—I've got some pretty strong men."

Don Mossi's 2-0 shutout Tuesday night was the seventh whitewash job applied to the Yanks this year against 10 for all of 1958.

Stengel said he wasn't "dying" or spending sleepless nights because of the world champions' slow start.

"Some people outside of baseball saw some pictures of me in the papers and when I come to town they expect to see a dying man. But I'm not dying," said Stengel who senses that the Yankees just might be ready to do what everyone predicted — get in first place and outdistance the league.

★ ★ ★

Ralph Terry, who started for New York, is happy to be back with the Yankees but the switch caused a big problem. Terry, on his last trip into Detroit with Kansas City, arranged with a local photographer to fix up a thousand or so post card pictures of himself to fill fan requests.

★ ★ ★

The photographer was ready to make delivery but Terry had to have a new batch made—wearing a Yankee uniform.

Mantle's Blast in 9th Shades Bengals, 6-5

Detroit Rally in Vain as Mickey's Home Run Wins for Yankees

Slugger Mickey Mantle said it completely fooled him, and manager Casey Stengel said it just might be the thing "to get us back up there where we belong."

Whatever they call it, Mantle hit it over the right field fence at Briggs Stadium last night in the ninth inning. His home run earned the New York Yankees a 6-5 triumph over the Detroit Tigers.

The Yankee power guy confessed later: "I just swung to protect the plate. It was the best pitch I saw all night. It completely fooled me."

The pitch — or whatever you call it — was thrown by Narleski on a 1-1 count to Mantle. It was a low, outside fast ball. "Just where I wanted it," said Narleski.

When told that Mantle said the pitch fooled him, the Tiger reliefer growled "yeah, well maybe he ought to be fooled like that all the time."

The home run, Mantle's 10th, barely cleared the lower barrier at the 370-foot mark. Center fielder Al Kaline was certain he could catch the towering drive, but it dropped into the seats just behind his outstretched glove.

The fact that the Yankees skipped out to a 5-1 lead, piddled it away and came back to win seemed significant to the elated New York manager.

"That's the kind of thing we need to get us back up there where we belong," said Stengel. "A few weeks ago we won four out of six and they said we'd be in first place in two weeks.

"Well, we're still in seventh place, but we ain't gonna be there for long, I don't think. If we can get by here tomorrow and do okay in that series in Cleveland, we'll be on our way."

It was a spine-tingling contest all the way for 43,146 spectators who swelled the two night attendance to 85,814—and the attendance for three dates with the Yankees so far to 128,852.

Stengel had an answer for that, too.

"We like to have these close games here," he said. "Gets the attendance up. May get the All-Star game for your folks, too. Who's the mayor of this town, anyway? We might have to call him and have him expand the stadium before long."

Dykes wasn't nearly as jovial. But he was pleased — and proud — that his team had come from a 5-1 deficit and nearly won the contest. It was only the second loss in 10 games for the Tigers—and the first time the Yankees had beaten them in the last eight meetings.

Righthander Frank Lary sought to make it eight in a row, and to hike his mark against the defending world champions to 19-5, but he lasted less than three innings.

The Yanks bombed him out with a five-run splurge, three coming on a home run by Yogi Berra and another by rookie John Blanchard. The Tigers, who had given Lary a one-run lead against starter Ralph Terry in the first inning, added one more in the fourth and two in the fifth when Charlie Maxwell socked a home run behind Eddie Yost's double. It was No. 10 for Maxwell.

★ ★ ★

Two walks, a single and a sacrifice fly tied matters in the seventh. But Ryne Duren, third Yankee pitcher, closed the door. He was largely responsible for the tying run, yielding a single, a walk and Kaline's fly, but finished with a flourish. He ended the game by striking out Maxwell.

AP Wirephoto

IT COUNTS — Mickey Mantle relaxes in the dressing room after hitting the game winning homer in the 9th inning against the Tigers yesterday. The homer was not one of Mantle's tape measure jobs and it caused Tiger Al Kaline to jest, "You were pretty lucky, Mick," as the ball just got into the stands on a high fly. But they all count.

Champ Unimpressive in Beating Rosi

Brown Keeps Title on TKO

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Champion Joe Brown, very dissatisfied with last night's gory victory over challenger Paolo Rosi, said today he would remain in the lightweight division and try to equal, at least, the late Benny Leonard's record of eight title defenses.

"I won't try to step up to the welterweight division," said the slender, 33-year-old champion who weighed only 132-pounds while scoring a ninth-round technical knockout victory over bloody Rosi of Italy and New York.

That was Brown's seventh defense in his 100th professional bout, "and it certainly wasn't one of my best performances."

Rosi, who had 10 stitches taken in his right brow at Sibley Hospital this morning and patched up on three other minor cuts about his eyes, claimed he was the victim of Brown's alleged butts and not his fists.

"I had the title in my hands," declared the baldish, 31-year-old challenger, "until I got his head in my face in the eighth round."

At the end of the eighth session, Rosi — who weighed 134-pounds to Brown's 132—was ahead on the score sheets of nine sports-writers at the ringside in Uline Arena. Four writers had Brown ahead and two figured the bout even.

But on the official score sheets, the opinion was evenly divided. Referee Charlie Reynolds favored Rosi on a five-points-must basis, 76-71. Judge Norvel Lee gave each 75 points, and judge Harvey Volkman, favored Brown, 77-75. The United Press International had Paolo in front, 78-74.

Brown insisted today he had fought a retreating fight in nearly every round, because, "I had to keep out of the way of Rosi's bald billygoat head. Otherwise my face would have been a bloody mess from his head—as his face was from my fists."

Rosi forced the action in every session, marching after the elusive champion with wild hooks that missed almost as often as they landed. In the third round, the sharp-featured, muscular challenger almost fell to the canvas when he missed with a terrific left hook.

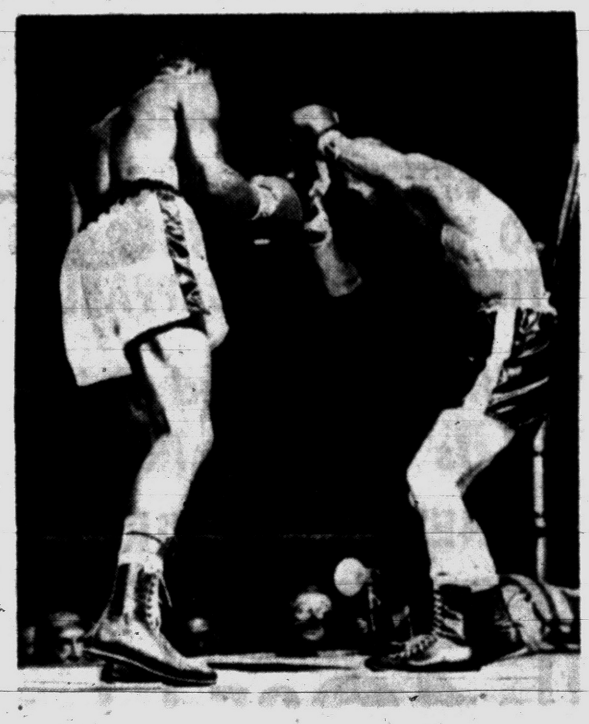

The estimated 4,500 fans in the arena were greatly dissappointed when Drs. Clark Halstead and Jack Kneipp told the referee to notify Rosi that he could not continue because of the profusely bleeding wound—an inch and a half long and a quarter-inch wide—at the outside corner of his right brow.

The bout was ended while both men were in their corners after the end of the eighth round. Under National Boxing Association rules, which prevailed in the District of Columbia, it was a ninth-round technical knockout.

Brown, who was knocked back on his heels in the first, second, fifth, sixth and seventh sessions, had his best rounds in the third —when he buckled the challenger's knees with a terrific right to the head—and in the eighth. They appeared to fight on even terms in the second — with each well shaken.

Promoter Goldie Ahearn, disappointed at the crowd, announced that the paid attendance was 3,968 and the gross gate, $28,769. The net gate of $23,997 plus the $40,000 TV fee would provide Brown with a purse of about $30,720 for his 40 per cent, and Rosi, about $15,360 for his 20 per cent. Only about $38,000 of the TV money is cut into for the fighter's purses.

AP Wirephoto

COVERS UP — Bleeding from deep cuts over his eyes, Paolo Rosi, covers up as lightweight champion Joe Brown attempts to maneuver him into a corner in the 8th round. The fight was stopped at end of 8th round to be called a 9th round TKO for Brown.

Basilio, Fullmer May Clash

Middleweights Unsettled

NEW YORK (AP)—Carmen Basilio has agreed to fight Gene Fullmer for the National Boxing Assn. middleweight title and let Ray Robinson keep his New York version of the 160-pound crown. But there still is a big "if" to the muddled situation.

A few hours after Syracuse (N. Y.) promoter Norman Rothschild announced yesterday that Basilio and Fullmer will meet during the first two weeks of August in a western city, NBA President Dr. Ward Wylie came up with a statement that started boxing fans wondering.

Dr. Wylie, from his Mullens, W. Va., home, said the NBA's executive committee might reconsider its stand on stripping Robinson of his title at a meeting later this month.

The request to reconsider was made by Commissioner Al Klein of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission. Wylie said no date has been set for the meeting but that it probably will be held in Indianapolis or Cincinnati.

Rothschild, who will participate in the staging of the Basilio-Fullmer 15-round bout, listed Los Angeles, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver, Chicago and Ogden, Utah, as possible sites.

The bout would bring together two ex-champions, who have met. Each won and lost championship bouts with Robinson, whose title claims were sustained by the New York State Athletic Commission two days ago.

Early last month Robinson was bereft of his crown by the NBA for failure to make a title defense in more than 14 months. The New York Athletic Commission's reverse action was based on its reasoning that Robinson had actually signed to fight Basilio in Philadelphia.

Basilio objected to that meeting because he said he was not consulted. The contract called for Basilio to receive 20 per cent, or a minimum of $250,000 and Robinson to receive 45 percent of all proceeds.

Robinson expressed bitterness over the new turn of events. He reiterated willingness to meet Basilio. He also charged the craggy-jawed upstate New Yorker with acting in bad faith in telling the commission Tuesday he was free to fight when in fact he already had a written contract to meet Fullmer.

Yanks Sign Collegian

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "Just general wildness!"

DIAGNOSIS: Looping at the top.

TREATMENT: One of the more prevalent faults in some swings is shifting the position of the hands at the top of the backswing. Such shifting sort of loops the clubhead around in circles, which has given the name "skywriting" to this fault.

Whatever the name, the fact remains that the fault is the enemy of accuracy. Your aim should be to take the club back in a simple pattern—as nearly as possible the same way every time. Avoid moving the hands either up or down at the top of the swing.

If you're bothered with this fault, a good way to get rid of it is to spend some time practicing the backswing only. Get the feel of taking the club back in the same groove on each swing.

No Grid Overtimes Here

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan High School Athletic Assn. has ruled out sudden-death overtimes to settle ties in state high school football games next fall.

Seven states are experimenting with the idea but the association's Football Rules Committee ruled Michigan high school teams will stick with regular four periods of 12 minutes each next fall.

"There's no denying the extra-period business has some merit," State Director Charles E. Forsythe said. "But how far, or how little to go—that's the problem.

"You just couldn't permit two teams, which were tied, to keep on playing until one or the other scored. They might play all night."

Eastern Tuneup for U.S. Open

BALTIMORE (AP)—More than one quarter of the players teeing off in the Eastern Open today will be honing up their competitive game for the prestige-laden United States Golf Assn. Open championship.

Four of the first 10 finishers last year, Gene Littler, Don January, Gary Player and Julius Boros, also are taking advantage of the Eastern competition.

NFL Opposes All-Star Game

HONOLULU (AP) — A Honolulu sports promoter came up with an idea Wednesday for an all-star professional football game here, but it met with opposition from the National Football League.

Ralph Yempuku said he hoped to stage the exhibition next January between two squads of NFL players. But NFL Commissioner Bert Bell said the league would not sanction such a game.

Earlier this year, the NFL refused sanction for continued use of its players in the Hula Bowl which has been an annual game here matching the pros with a college all-star squad.

ND Back to Canada

Pan-Am on Television

CHICAGO (AP)—Athletes in the third Pan American Games Aug. 27 to Sept. 7 will be able to watch fellow contestants in other contests by television.

The American Broadcasting Company announced it will telecast at least 90 minutes of the games locally each day.

Detroit Tigers Get Bonus Baby at $60,000 Tag

The big outfielder, who batted .700 in 11 high school games this season, was sought by all 16 major league clubs.

Cosco, a righthander all the way, hit eight home runs in high school competition this year and averaged 14 strikeouts while pitching in three games. He batted .500 in 1958 and hit .450 in the Youngstown recreation league a year ago.

Blind Keg Meet Starts

CHICAGO (AP) — Using only two special aids—a guiderail and a sighted spotter—70 blind bowlers begin competition today in the 12th annual tournament of the American Blind Bowling Assn.

The field drawn from the eastern and central United States will compete through Sunday for about $3,500 in prizes.

The sightless men and women follow the same rules as used in all other major national tournaments with two exceptions:

★ ★ ★

A 15-foot section of steel tubing about three feet high is set up on the left side of the approach in line with the left-handed gutter. This gives the bowler a stable point of reference before each shot. Some grasp the rail only through the first step; others hold it with one hand through their entire approach.

★ ★ ★

Grill Wins Wild 'B' Game, 15-12

Griff's Grill squandered a five-run lead, then bounced back to defeat Pontiac Business Institute, 15-12, in a wild, free-hitting Class B City League baseball game yesterday at Jaycee Park.

The Grill team tallied eight runs in the last three innings to erase a 12-7 deficit after PBI scored nine times in the 4th as 13 men went to bat. Griff's held a 5-0 lead after 1½ innings, but let it slip away.

Jerry Pointer was the winning pitcher in a relief role and Howard Pearl was the losing hurler in relief of Jim Conway.

Bosox Cleared in Green Case

BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination has closed the Pumpsie Green case against the Boston Red Sox.

★ ★ ★

The commission yesterday announced it had accepted as "evidence of good faith" an assurance from the local American League baseball team it will pursue a policy of non-discrimination in hiring Negro ball players.

★ ★ ★

Six weeks ago the commission began an investigation of the ball club's activities after three Boston groups charged the Red Sox with bias when they sent Negro infielder Jerry (Pumpsie) Green back to the Minneapolis farm team.

Enter Net Semifinals

OSLO (AP) — Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., and Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., Wednesday entered the semifinals of the Norwegian Open Tennis Championships.

Frost defeated Tor Skolem of Norway, 6-8, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5, and Douglas won 6-2, 6-0, 6-4 over Norway's No. 1 player, Gunnar Sjoewall.

INTO COURT—Ingemar Johansson is seen going into Federal court in New York where he attended a hearing on Eddie Machen's claim that he failed to honor a re-match clause. Machen wants the court to stop Johansson-Patterson fight, June 25th.

Austrian Doesn't Want to Lose Amateur Status

VIENNA (AP) — Austrian ski ace Toni Sailer said Wednesday night "I will never voluntarily give up my amateur status."

But he added he did not know yet whether he can enter the 1960 Olympic Winter Games at Squaw Valley, Calif.

Sailer's amateur status has been pending for some time before the International Skiing Assn. The skier-actor-businessman had been under fire for several of his deals after winning three Olympic gold medals and seven world championships.

Swedish Boxer Not Predicting Fight Outcome

NEW YORK (AP) — Ingemar Johansson promised yesterday if he wins the world's heavyweight title from Floyd Patterson at Yankee Stadium June 25, he won't be a lazy champion.

★ ★ ★

"If I win the world championship," the Swedish challenger said, "I would like very much to fight and fight much. I cannot say how many times, but I will like to defend my title."

The 26-year-old Ingy was quick to add that he wasn't predicting a victory over Patterson. The outcome, he said, is anybody's guess.

★ ★ ★

"In this fighting business," he explained, "you just can't tell about these things. One thing I do know, I am in better shape now than I have ever been."

★ ★ ★

Johansson knocked out Machen last Sept. 14 in the first round of a bout in Sweden. Machen claims Johansson was committed in a written agreement to give him a return bout before signing for any other bout in the United States.

Johansson testified yesterday he never saw or heard of a provision that he was not to fight anyone until he fought Machen again until several days after his fight with Machen.

★ ★ ★

"I never authorized anyone to agree to a rematch," he said.

Fitness School at 'M'

ANN ARBOR — As part of a national attempt to improve physical fitness of youngsters and serve as a demonstration school for teachers, a six-weeks Youth Physical Fitness School for boys ranging from 7 to 14 years old will be held at Michigan from June 22 to July 31, under direction of H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, Wolverine athletic director.

The session will be carried on jointly by the Department of Physical Education for Men and the School of Education with Dr. Paul Hunsicker, chairman of the men's physical education program as research director.

The physical education department previously conducted studies and testing in cooperation with President Eisenhower's Council on Youth Fitness in 1956. It gained national recognition for its findings at that time.

Aims of the summer course are to improve the physical fitness of boys, teach them the requisite skills needed in a variety of sports.

U.S. Seniors' Golf Champ After Repeat

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—Johnny Dawson, for years one of golf's outstanding amateurs, opens defense of his U.S. Seniors' Golf Assn. title today knowing that he has to beat at least a 148.

Virgil V. Roby, 58-year-old Hartford, Conn., insurance executive, posted a 75-73—148 in leading the first contingent of the almost 400 entries. He finished his 36-hole stint with a three-stroke margin over J. Wolcott Brown, Sea Girt, N.J., bank president.

George Dawson, brother of the defending champ, and 56-year-old Walter F. Pease, New York lawyer from Plainfield, N.J., tied for third at 152. Pease was the first round leader with a 73.

Dr. Don Jaffar of the Detroit Golf Club added a 74 to his 83 for a 157 total. He is tied for 14th.

Another Silver Lake Ace

Silver Lake Golf Club had its 4th hole-in-one of the year yesterday and the happy golfer was Bill Landry, 611 Valencia, Pontiac. Landry used a 6-iron to ace the 120-yard 8th hole and shot 43 for the round. He was accompanied by his brother Paul, who lives in Rochester.

★ ★ ★

Scores 2 Holes-in-One

AURORA, Ill. (AP)—Frank Forward, a two-handicap golfer, got a double thrill at the Aurora Country Club golf course yesterday. He scored two holes-in-one.

★ ★ ★

Forward, playing in a foursome, got the first ace of his golfing career on the 210-yard fourth hole. He duplicated the feat on the 200-yard 17th and finished the 18 holes with a creditable 68.

Largest Field for HTA Pace

Year's Richest Race Saturday at Harness Track

The addition of Terry C and Will Counsel has increased the field for this Saturday's Hazel Park HTA Pace to 12.

It will be the largest field to start in the feature which has been raced at three other tracks this year. The 12 four-year-old pacers will go for $11,392 in the richest race of the year at Hazel Park.

The HTA Pace, which is sponsored by the members of the Harness Tracks of America, is raced at member tracks around the country. A total of $250,000 in purses will be distributed before the series ends this fall at Roosevelt Raceway. Each week's race gives the top horses points which count toward the finale at Yonkers in the spring and at Roosevelt in the fall.

Horses are expected to make a determined assault on the track mile mark of 1:58.4 set in the HTA (called the Transamerica a year ago) in 1958.

Flint Golfers Lead Junior College Play

Odessa College with 146 was second as Les Howard and Melvin Chisum shot 72 and 74 respectively.

There are 35 golfers from 12 colleges in the tournament that will have 36 holes today and the final 18 Friday over the Odessa Country Club's par 72 course.

Patty Berg Favored in Women's Tourney

SUMMIT, N.J. (AP) — Patty Berg, veteran of 25 years of tournament golf, ruled the favorite today as 16 of the nation's top women golfers teed off in the $13,100 round robin tournament at the Canoe Brook Country Club.

Miss Berg was the only woman to better par 72 for the 6,200-yard course yesterday in the pro-celebrity foursome tune-up tournament. She toured the course in 70 in a return to the course where she played in the 1936 National Amateur.

Indians Buy Outfielder

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians Wednesday night announced the signing of Johnny McLane, a 21-year-old outfielder who batted .370 for the University of Southern California. He is to report immediately to the Indians' Mobile farm in the Southern Assn.

'Bonus Baby' for Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A Santa Clara University outfielder was signed to a "substantial bonus" contract Wednesday by the St. Louis Cardinals.

O'Rourke, a right-handed hitter who hit 16 home runs and batted .450 with Santa Clara this year, will report to the Cardinals June 16, after graduation.

Government to Prohibit Use of Army Personnel at Squaw Valley

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Olympic organizers declare flatly that Communist China won't compete in the 1960 Winter Games at Squaw Valley.

At the same time they assure Congress and the U.S. State Department that Nationalist China has been invited and accepted the invitation.

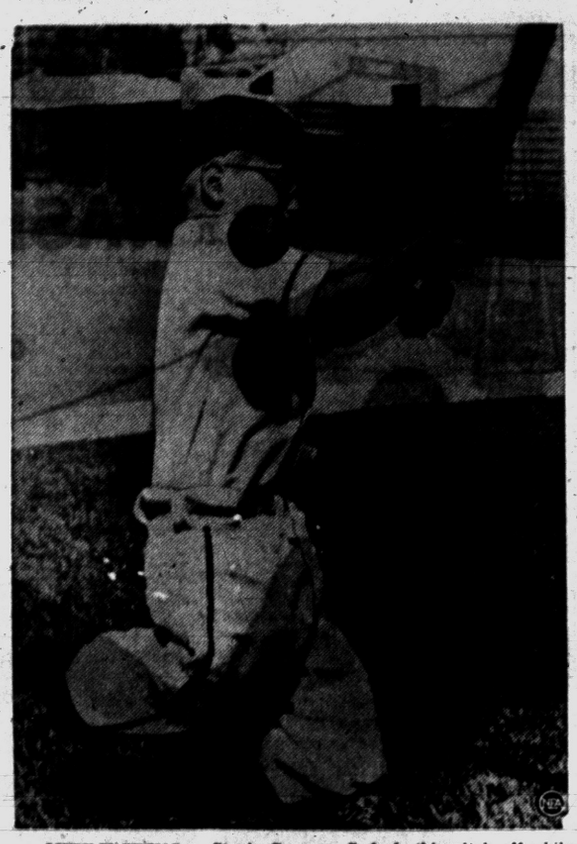

This double barreled pronouncement followed a House of Representatives vote in Washington yesterday to prohibit use of Army personnel and equipment at the Feb. 18-28 games if athletes from any free nation are banned.

They don't want the political aspects of the Chinese situation to cut monetary appropriations in a budget that's already skin tight.

Congressional action was in protest against last Thursday's decision by the International Olympic Commission in Munich, Germany. The IOC unseated Nationalist China as China's official delegation on grounds that government no longer represents sports in that country.

Prep Front

By CHUCK ABAIR

An outstanding performance in the state tennis finals at Kalamazoo Friday and Saturday could cap a mighty successful week of activity for Birmingham High spring teams.

The netters took Class A regional honors and are a strong choice for Michigan honors along with local "B" entry Cranbrook.

The Maples have won Eastern Michigan League honors in golf and track the past two days and have been competing in the annual loop baseball tourney which ends tomorrow.

A record pole vault by Bill Alcorn and good balance gave BHS its 10th straight track crown at East Detroit Wednesday. The Maples totaled 53 points to Ferndale's 46½. Hazel Park had 36½, East Detroit 24½, Mt. Clemens 20, Port Huron 10½ and Royal Oak Kimball 10.

Alcorn set a loop mark by vaulting 12 feet, 10 inches. Toy Palmer of Ferndale was the top individual with 15¼ points. He anchored the 880 relay team which broke a record.

Ferndale is a strong choice to win the baseball pennant at Port Huron following victories over Hazel Park and East Detroit.

EXTRA ITEMS — Waterford High athletic director Waldo Ashley has had two operations in two weeks at Pontiac General . . . Ex-PCH track and grid ace Bob Manning starred in track at Winston-Salem this spring. He was on the winning 440 and 880 relay teams in the Penn Relays. Larry Beamer and Jim Hawkins, also departed Chiefs, won Frosh letters at Michigan and Western Michigan in track.

Insiders say Holly sophomore star Ron Morian may move to Fenton to stay with coach LeRoy Decker . . . Chief complaint against prep golfers is that they abuse their privileges at courses . . . St. Mike coach Jim Niebauer thinks his dash ace Bill Flanigan has a future in track . . . North Farmington may get a high school.

Inter-Lakes will have three hoop officials again . . . Carl Demrich won a baseball letter at Michigan, Ron Hummell gained one in wrestling at Princeton and Fred Handren in golf at Yale. All are Birmingham boys . . . Pontiac Country Club pro Frank Wilson hit the nail on the head when he called West Bloomfield's Jon Shaw a "natural" golfer before the season started.

The Eastern Michigan track summaries:

Medley relay—Won by Kimball, Birmingham 2nd, Hazel Park 3rd, 2:35.8.

220—Butts, Jacobson, Reed, 23.5.

Mile—Frank Crowe (H), Ron Wilson (E), Chip Bankson, (F), 4:38.2.

High jump—Jim Stevenson (B), Ray Gregory (H) and Palmer tied for 1st, 5 feet, 10 inches.

Slumping Indians Top Chicago on Points

Virtual Tie for AL Lead

By The Associated Press

They're still holding on by a scalplock, but Cleveland's Tribe is fast becoming a bunch of vanishing Injuns in that American League race.

Washington's Senators handed Cleveland a fifth consecutive defeat, 4-0, last night on home runs by Bombin' Harmon Killebrew and "rampaging" Ron Samford that backed up Bill Fischer's three-hit pitching. All the once powerful Indians managed off the well-traveled right-hander was three widely separated singles as their lead dwindled to mere percentage points.

The Chicago White Sox moved into a virtual tie for the top, .003 behind, by reclaiming second place from Baltimore with a 6-1 victory over the Orioles in an afternoon game.

Fact is, the whole league has closed in on the Indians, who have lost seven of their last eight games. Baltimore is just a half-game behind. Fourth place Kansas City is only 1½ games back, after a 5-3 victory over the last place Boston Red Sox, who are just six games out of first. And fifth place Detroit is within 3½ games of the lead, even after losing 6-5 to the New York Yankees. The champs still are seventh, but only 4½ games shy of first.

Fischer, 28, who also has worked for the White Sox and Tigers, breezed to a 5-1 record and his first victory ever against the Indians after Killebrew Hammered his 19th home run in the fourth inning and Samford made it 2-0 in the fifth. It was the second in two nights for Samford, whose entire major league total of four has come this season. Killebrew's shot saved him a share of the major league lead with Milwaukee's Ed Mathews (who hit two last night).

The only hits off Fischer, who struck out four and didn't walk a man, were by Minnie Minoso in the second, Vic Power in the sixth and Billy Martin in the ninth.

Herb Score (5-3) was the loser, giving up six hits in his six innings as the sixth place Nats, only four games out of first, padded their season road record in the west to 9-2.

★ ★ ★

Southpaw Billy Pierce, after losing three straight, gained a 6-5 record with a eight-hitter as the White Sox ended their losing streak at three with their third victory in 11 games. Gene Woodling's eight-inning homer junked Pierce's shutout bid. By then, the White Sox had a 5-0 lead, after being blanked on one-hit for four innings by Billy O'Dell (2-5). A two-out, RBI double by Luis Aparicio and Nellie Fox's two-run triple put it away in the fifth.

Mrs. Martell Takes 4th Straight Win

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Martell fired a 78, including a men's par 35 on the back nine which featured birdies on 11, 12 and 17, two of them deuces, with 80 and Mrs. Midge Cova took 3rd place at 83.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday's tourney was the 5th WMGA outing of the seaon and Mrs. Martell lost out only in the opener when she tied for 2nd spot. It's been a clean sweep for Mrs. Martell ever since.

Rally on Homers to Down Giants, Pad Lead

Braves Are Back in Groove

By The Associated Press

It seems like ages ago, but remember when the word was that Milwaukee's Braves were choke-up guys? Whether that was a bum rap or not, they're a cool crew of two-time champions now, chopping down anyone who threatens their shot at a third straight National League pennant.

It was mid-May when the Braves zeroed in, running off six in a row for a 4½-game bulge. Then they slowed to a walk, winning a couple, losing a couple. That's when San Francisco started to close in.

That did it. With Ed Mathews hammering a home run, and Bob Rush pitching a five-hit shutout, the Braves beat the Giants 3-0 in the second game of the series. And last night they made it two straight, battling from behind for a 7-4 victory on a pair of two-run homers by Mathews and a solo shot by Hank Aaron that clubbed the second place Giants 3½ games behind again.

Mathews, who had hit only two home runs in 17 games, now has upped his total to 19 with three in two nights. And Aaron, who was hitless in three consecutive games, now has gone 5-for-7 in the last two, fattening his startling average to .426.

While the Braves were spanking the Giants, third place Pittsburgh remained within 4½ games of the lead by beating St. Louis 5-3. Los Angeles defeated Cincinnati 5-1 on Stan Williams' two-hitter, and Philadelphia beat the Chicago Cubs 4-3.

Mathews, tied for the major league home run lead with Washington's Harmon Killebrew (who also got his 19th last night), parked a 450-drive in the right-field bleachers with a man on to tie the score 3-all in the sixth. Aaron then doubled and scored on Wes Covington's single for a three-run inning that handed Jack Sanford (6-6) his fourth defeat in his last five decisions.

Mathews' winning shot came in the seventh off reliever Al Worthington, who then gave up Aaron's 15th.

Bob Buhl (4-3) was the winner, although giving way in the eighth when Willie Kirkland homered and the Giants loaded the bases with two out. Don McMahon saved it, striking out Andre Rodgers to end the threat. Buhl also was tagged for a two-run homer by Orlando Cepeda — a 450-foot blast into the woods beyond center field —in a three-run sixth.

Right-hander Bob Friend (2-7) won his second in a row for the Pirates, but needed Roy Face's perfect relief in the ninth. It was Face's fourth save, his 21st in a year-plus span in which he has a 12-0 record. Bill Mazeroski's two-run triple triggered a four run eighth that beat Cardinal left-hander Wilmer Mizell (6-1), who had won six straight. The Cards now have lost seven of nine and are just a half-game ahead of the last place Phillies.

John Roseboro, who hit his first homer Tuesday night at Cincinnati, belted a pair last night for four runs against loser Orlando Pena (3-3). The Reds' only hits off Williams were singles by Roy McMillan in the third and Frank Robinson in the fifth, but the young right-hander walked seven, forcing in the run with four in the fourth inning. Williams (2-1), who broke in with a two-hitter against the Cubs a year ago Monday, now has an 11-8 record in the majors—with a 7-1 mark under the lights.

★ ★ ★

Ed Bouchee hit a two-run homer, then walked and scored the clincher for the Phils on Wally Post's single in a two-run fifth. Jim Owens (4-3) won it, giving up eight hits but only one earned run. Dave Hillman (3-4) was the loser.

Hurls 2-Hit Shutout, Gets 2 RBI's in 4-0 Win for Deni-Herk

Chuck Long pitched a sparkling two-hit shutout and doubled home two runs in the 1st inning to lead Deni's & Herk's to a 4-0 victory over the Pontiac Merchants at Beaudette Park in last night's top City League softball attraction.

In the other Beaudette game, Elks No. 810 jumped off to a 3-0 1st-inning lead and coasted to a 4-2 triumph over CIO Local 594 behind the four-hit hurling of Gary Boe. Jim Sparling paced the Elks' nine-hit assault against Al Santelle with two doubles and a single.

Buttercup Drive-In staged a five-run uprising in the 4th inning to pave the way for a 7-5 conquest of Huron Bowl in Northside action.

Badder, Flesher Star at Drayton

Sno-Bol scored twice in the 1st inning and coasted to a 2-0 victory over Drayton Drug behind the three-hit shutout pitching of Dale Badder in Waterford League softball activity last night at Drayton Plains.

★ ★ ★

The winners bunched three of their five hits off Jim Cuthrell in the 1st stanza and a sacrifice and error aided the cause. Badder helped himself by driving home the 2nd run.

★ ★ ★

Arlo Flesher hurled steady five-hit ball and also batted in two runs with a triple and single as Spencer Floor Covering defeated Nonne's Restaurant, 6-3, in yesterday's other contest.

Interest on Long-Term Bonds Can Hit Your Pocketbook

All Have a Stake in U.S. Treasury

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—All borrowers—and most Americans seem to be these days—have a stake in the U. S. Treasury's desire to raise the interest it will pay on long-term bonds. All savers have, too.

For the Treasury competes with private borrowers, and state and local agencies, for funds available for lending. And if it offers to pay more for the loan, others likely will have to, also. All interest rates will tend to rise. This would be true for bank loans, mortgages, installment loans.

The move might lead to higher interest paid by banks and others to savers, to hold them as customers. And payroll savings bonds buyers might get more, too.

Interest rates are rising anyway because the demand for funds is increasing faster than savings—the source of new investment money.

STOCKS AFFECTED

If the yield on government bonds rises further (some now yield more than 4 per cent) and the yield on corporate bonds goes higher (many now yield better than 5 per cent), it will make the return on stocks at present prices look even more skimpy. (Stocks in the Dow Jones Industrial Index now yield less than 3¼ per cent on average and many blue chips yield less than that).

A switch from stocks to bonds might develop—particularly if the Treasury has its way and by tightening the money supply dampens some of the inflationary psychology.

Under a 1918 law the Treasury cannot pay more than 4¼ per cent on bonds of more than five-year maturity.

Despite the greater security of U. S. Bonds, the Treasury says it can't sell long-term bonds in the present market at less than 4½ per cent because investors can get more than that on private forms of long-term debt and ignore the greater risks.

Yields on state and local issues—the tax exempts—have risen to a point where they also compete with federal securities.

So the Treasury would like authority to put out long-term bonds at a rate high enough to attract investment institutions—insurance companies, savings banks, pension and trust funds.

WOULD LURE SAVERS

It also would like to sweeten the returns on U. S. savings bonds to lure individual savers back into the fold. There are now 50.8 billion dollars of these outstanding. But this is down 1.4 billion dollars a year—largely because they pay only 3¼ per cent.

If the Treasury could sell more long-term bonds to investors and more U.S. savings bonds to individuals, it would tend to dampen the fires of inflation, since such money wouldn't be breeding new credit, as short-term Treasury bills do. The latter tend to end up as deposits in banks, available for lending.

But if the Treasury is allowed to pay higher interest—and if it gets the higher debt ceiling it also wants—the cost of servicing the national debt would rise. It's already over eight billion dollars a year.

If Congress takes up the interest question, it will likely open up afresh the long and bitter battle between the advocates of tight money and dear money as a brake on inflation and the advocates of easy credit and cheap money as a way to expand the economy.

Everyone has a stake in the outcome.

Calendar, Standup Models Seen

Innovations Win Notice at Swiss Watch Show

BASEL, Switzerland (UPI) — A watch to tell time by under water . . . a clock run by air pressure . . . a standup wristwatch for busy people, such as drivers who have to keep their eyes on the road.

It was a show that for ingenuity and variety had to be seen to be believed. To the meticulous watchmaking world it was what the Paris fashion shows are to dressmakers and it brought buyers from all over the globe.

This year the visitor saw clocks that run on light with the aid of a photoelectric cell, and others which wound themselves by subtle changes of air pressure in a room.

There were waterproof watches with push-button flashlights attached for skindivers to use in the murky depths; a complex pilot's watch that does almost everything but fly a plane; scores of novelties and luxury watches for the elegant man and woman of 1959.

This year there was one particularly noteworthy invention.

It was the stand-up watch set at an angle to the watchstrap and with a spring device which enabled the wearer to tilt the face. It was presented as the "ideal" watch for people who wanted to keep a constant eye on the time while their hands were otherwise occupied—drivers, chemists, speech-making politicians, etc.

One new calendar model was born when a Swiss watchmaker realized that most people count on their fingers when figuring what date the Thursday after next will fall on. He discarded the calendar "window" in the dial and, instead, set a movable outer ring on his dial with the days of the week on the inner dial.

This permits the wearer to tell today's date at a glance and also, if he so wishes, the dates of all the rest of the days in the month.

★ ★ ★

Other unusual timepieces included: Medical watches which do the doctor's pulsetaking mathematics for him; special sports timers; a push-button golf scorer to keep the duffer honest; the pilot's watch which estimates fuel consumption, air speed, ground speed, rate of climb or descent among other functions; slide-rule watches for engineers; many parking alarm watches which warn the wearer to race the cop to the car; and a score of other watches designed especially for the varied demands of modern living.

Engineer Takes 2 Years to Build His Own Plane

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) Materials for a two-passenger airplane which Bjorn O. Andreasson built himself cost $1,000.

But it took all his spare time at home for two years to complete the craft, which can climb to 14,000 feet and has a top speed of 150 miles an hour.

Soybeans Slip in Selling Wave

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybean futures came under selling pressure again today on the Board of Trade but grains held mostly steady in the most active early dealings of the week.

The declines in soybeans ran to major fractions of a cent within the first several minutes with most of the setback on new crop months on which traders have been rather bearish for some time.

Dealers said there appeared to be hedge selling in wheat but that it was light and that the trade was expecting a private crop report later today to be a bit more bullish than previous ones.

Wheat was ⅛ to ⅜ cents a bushel higher near the end of the first hour, July $1.84⅝; corn ¼ higher near the end of the first hour, July $1.84⅝; corn ¼ higher to ½ lower, July $1.26; oats ¼ to ½ higher, July 64; rye ¼ to ⅞ higher, July $1.22½; soybeans ⅛ to ⅞ lower, July $2.25½.

Project for Peace?

BLOXWICH, England (UPI) — A new public housing project opened here and a housing official said "We hope it will create a lot of happiness." The project provides separate small apartments for in-laws.

Planters in Brazil are now using their once dominant coffee plantations to raise some cotton and sugar cane.

Selected Issues Push Forward

NEW YORK (AP)—A few selected issues made good gains in a mixed stock market early today. Trading was moderate.

Gains and losses of key stocks ranged from fractions to about a point.

Lorillard resumed its upsurge of yesterday on Wall Street talk that the company may be coming out with a new cigarette with low tar and nicotine content.

Lorillard rose 2 to 42¾ on a big opening block of 15,000 shares and kept the advance in active trading.

Zenith added another couple of points to its 5¾ point leap of yesterday. Textron tacked on a fraction to its advance on news of a higher dividend.

The rest of the list was spotty. Chemicals were off with Allied Chemicals taking a loss of more than a point and other leading issues off fractionally.

Electronics were mostly higher. Radio Corp., Raytheon and Sperry Rand showed minor plus signs.

Utilities drifted off. American Telephone was down a sizable fraction. Nonferrous metals, building materials and rubbers were mixed.

OR
LESSON NO. 5

Don't buy a "gadgetized" car. These are cars that are happy on the outside and crying on the inside. The radio may be worth more than the car. Watch out for a spinning knob on the steering wheel. This is the badge of the grounded would-be jet pilot. The cars at OLIVER MOTOR SALES have been conservatively driven and cared for.

Gobel's Off to England With Spooky Old Alice

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — George Gobel and his wife, "spooky old Alice"—really an attractive Chicago girl, with dimples—sailed on the Queen Mary for London, where Gobel does two London TV shows, then vacations. On his closing night at the Waldorf, Gobel during a monologue asked himself, "Don't you know you're married?" and then answered it this way: "Oh boy, do I know I'm married! I wish I had as much money as I know I'm married." He will return to plan his fall TV series on CBS. It will be very clean, whatever it is, says George, adding that he is an immaculate fellow—the kind that when he gets his collar dirty he changes the whole shirt.

WILSON

Hey Sam Levenson: Mrs. Flora Kohn says her grandson, 4, warned his mother, "Tomorrow, I'm running away from home, after lunch" . . . Roxanne Arlen, whose talents include standing on her head (which she did on the Jack Paar show) and spelling backwards, has caught the fancy of the Ben Hechts and Hecht may do a show for her. She's on the last Ellery Queen TVer Friday . . . Jommy Hoffa hopes soon to own or control six Florida luxury hotels. (Just call him Conrad Hoffa.)

ROXANNE

Julie Newmar's going to Hollywood to play in the movie version of "Li'l Abner"—but her part's being greatly padded. "They're overpaying me terribly!" she says. "Here I'm playing a lead on Broadway (in "Marriage-Go-Round") and just a small part in the movie, but Hollywood's paying me four times as much as my Broadway salary. But if they weren't overpaying me, I wouldn't go, because Hollywood is not my favorite place.

EARL'S PEARLS: College never hurt a man — unless, of course, he happened to be the student's father.

I WISH I'D SAID THAT: A novel, to be popular today, must contain a lot of the facts that were once told exclusively to the family doctor . . . That's earl, brother.

'Nikita's Ego Craves Parley'

Wants Talks With Ike to Build Up Prestige, Hearst Tells Detroiters

DETROIT (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev is "hell bent" on getting a personal summit meeting with President Eisenhower for the satisfaction of his own ego.

And the United States would do well to get as much American jazz music as possible behind Soviet Russia's Iron Curtain.

William Randolph Hearst Jr., editor-in-chief of the Hearst Newspapers, made these observations in a talk to an audience of 200 civic and industry leaders at the Detroit Press Club yesterday.

Hearst said Russia's Premier Khrushchev wants to meet with Eisenhower to build up his stature before the world, particularly because he was only a subordinate at the Geneva summit conference a few years ago.

More American jazz music in Russia would come from an American policy of matching Russia's cultural propaganda. This Hearst urged as necessary for the future.

He said Russia has been ahead of the U.S. in this kind of endeavor.

American jazz music and Poland. Hearst said, are the "two most subversive things behind the Iron Curtain."

"The Communists are dead set against the spread of either's influence or example," he said.

The reference to Poland apparently was in emphasis of that Communist country's less-than-complete adherence to Kremlin policies.

They Said a Mouthful!

INDIAN SPRINGS, Ga. (UPI) — Park officials said a picnic and sightseeing area was flooded by high waters from Aboothlacoosta and Hopoethyeloholo creeks.

One of the first attempts in the U. S. to protect children at work was a Massachusetts law in 1842 which limited the working day for children under 12 to 10 hours.

At U. of M. Apartment

Student Stabs Molester

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A man dressed in women's clothes and carrying a pellet gun was stabbed last night when he tried to force his way into the apartment of a married University of Michigan student.

L. Jack Lyon, 28, a graduate student at Michigan, said he stabbed John N. Bradley, 25, of Washington, D. C., in the stomach with a hunting knife after grappling with him in the dark.

Police said Bradley had been bothering Mrs. Lyon with letters and telephone calls since she had signed papers committing him to a veterans mental hospital in Colorado three years ago.

Lyon told police that he and his wife had retired last night when they were awakened by the doorbell. Lyon said he picked up a hunting knife on his way to answer the door because of his suspicions.

He recently had complained to police of Bradley's attentions to his wife. Lyon also said that only strangers use the doorbell at the Northwood apartment where he an his wife live on the Michigan campus. Acquaintances generally just knock on apartment doors.

Lyon said when he answered the door a figure sprang at him from the hall shadows. He saw a gun flash in the half light so he stabbed his assailant, he said.

When police arrived Bradley was lying on the floor. He was wearing a long black wig, lipstick, toeless women's shoes, a blue dress, white gloves and a woman's wrist watch. He had been carrying an air-gun that shoots small metal pellets, police said.

Lyon said his wife became acquainted with Bradley when the two attended college in Colorado four years ago.

Police explained that although she was not a relative, she was able to sign commitment papers because of her friendship with Bradley.

For the past month or so Bradley had been sending letters and making telephone calls to Mrs. Lyon. On May 29 Lyon filed a complaint with the Ann Arbor Police Dept. Police traced Bradley to the Willow Run Airport but he had left by the time they arrived. That day Mrs. Lyon received a letter from Bradley which contained $241 in bills which were ripped in half. Neither Lyon nor his wife could offer an explanation.

Police said Bradley had spent two years in mental hospitals in Colorado and Maryland. There were no charges filed immediately.

Dry Cleaning Chain Abandons Plastic Bags

NEW YORK (UPI) — A dry cleaning chain with 200 stores in the metropolitan New York area announced yesterday it would discontinue use of plastic bags which have been blamed for the deaths of about 30 children this year.

Harry Denberg, president of Spotless Stores Inc., said he had decided to discontinue use of the bags in spite of a safety warning campaign recently launched by the plastics industry and the National Safety Council.

"You may be able to educate a customer," Denberg said, "but I doubt you can educate a kid."

'Brenner' Drops Stress on Crime

New CBS-TV Series Explores Human Angle of Policeman's Life

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — It makes you want to take a look at the new CBS-TV series "Brenner" Saturday night when you hear its producer, Arthur Lewis.

★ ★ ★

"Our story is about people, and the people happen to be policemen," he says. "Crime is unimportant in this show. It definitely is not a show about the pursuit of crooks.

★ ★ ★

"We're concerned with such questions as what is a man's problem as a person in being a cop? How does an honest man stay honest? What about cops who abuse their authority? Is there a difference between the pursuit of police work and the pursuit of justice?"

In the series, which has New York as its locale and is being filmed here, the starring role of Detective First Grade Roy Brenner is played by Edward Binns, veteran character actor of the stage and TV. James Broderick plays his policeman-son, Ernie.

The idea for "Brenner" was sparked by a "Playhouse 90" drama written by Alvin Boretz and produced by Herbert Brodkin. Now Brodkin is the executive producer of the series and Boretz is writing some of the scripts.

Lewis feels that a TV series about New York policemen could no more be made in Hollywood than a French movie about Paris could be made in New York.

Thus far 11 "Brenner" shows have been made at the rate of one a week, using one day for rehearsal and four for shooting.

Lewis established his reputation far from the precincts of policemen — as a writer and producer of musicals. He had a hand in such hits as "Can-Can," "Guys and Dolls," "The Boy Friend" and "Silk Stockings."

'Termite' May Be Really Flying Ant

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—What you believe are termites may not be termites at all.

H. B. Petty, extension entomologist with the University of Illinois and Illinois Natural History Survey, says except for two or three differences, termites closely resemble flying ants.

Worker termites are always white. But worker ants may be black, yellow, tan or almost red.

A difference in wing size is the easiest way to tell these insects apart. The front and back wings of the termite are the same size. But the ant's front wings are larger than its back wings.

Banks Plan to Merge

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Trust Co. and the Chemical Corn Exchange Bank have announced merger plans. If approved, the new bank would be the fourth largest in the country with capital funds in excess of 385 million dollars and total resources of more than four billion dollars.

For Hal Boyle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hal Boyle, the rightful landlord of this space in your newspaper, likes to turn Poor Man's Philosopher and make with homespun observations.

Now that Boyle (unlike most poor men of our acquaintance) is gallivanting about Europe, let's switch the pitch and play Rich Man's Philosopher.

★ ★ ★

The tolling of a cathedral bell may be more melodious than the jingling of a cash register—but where did the money come from to pay for the bell?

Julius Caesar was great, and Napoleon has his admirers, but why don't they put up a statue to the man who invented credit?

Love is something you can't buy, but you soon learn that it costs you plenty.

When you are poor you have to borrow a buck from time to time. When you are rich you can't afford to borrow less than a million.

Never forget that the rich man and the poor man have the same right to sleep on a park bench.

The love of money may be the root of all evil, but the lack of it is more likely to turn a man into a pickpocket.

Any man who wouldn't rather be thin and wealthy deserves to be fat and poor.

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — Holiday U.S.A., last night's CBS-TV special, was a lettuce-and-tomato-sandwich kind of show: Hot weathery, slapped together, not particularly nourishing, acceptable only if you're heat-beat and willing to let you standards skid.

★ ★ ★

It was one of those programs in which a group of performers—Gisele Mackenzie, Burl Ives, Eddie Hodges—obviously were signed up in advance without much idea of what would be done with them.

The combatants were flung into a series of musical numbers, none wholly diverting, and all of it wound up looking like a soggy one-hour version of Your Hit Parade.

The show had a scattering of fair moments: Jacques D'Ambroise and Diana Adams danced briefly, but well.

The U.S. Naval Academy Glee Club ground out a few pleasant pieces with the unhelpful assistance of Burl Ives.

And the Red Nichols group turned out some acceptable music, marred only by Ives' insistence on singing with the band. As a jazz singer, Ives has about as much feeling as Carmen Lombardo.

As for Eddie Hodges, the youngster who was on board, I suggest it is about time he be retired. He is a clean-cut looking boy, but beyond his hygenic attributes, his talents are slim.

His singing has that particularly irritating kind of quality that is best put to use in calling stray dogs.

It provides pleasant, if unboffo entertainment—the kind of show which tries to manufacture the type of music that fades into the woodwork and which books in performers to match.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Sid Caesar will star in a one-hour variety special on CBS-TV's U.S. Steel Hour Oct. 21 devoted to a comic study of the automobile—there's a good chance Audrey Meadows and Tony Randall will costar . . . the Steel Hour will rack up its 100th telecast June 17 with Maurice Evans as star of "No Leave for the Captain."

ABC-TV is reported to be pitching a daytime soap opera western at sponsors called Hope Springs . . . William Bendix signed on as star of NBC-TV's Aug. 16 special, "Ransom of Red Chief"—Tom Poston and Teddy Rooney also have been offered roles in the spec . . . Johnny Ringo, a western, will replace Yancy Derringer on CBS-TV next season.

Title Dripping Away

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—Vermont's title as the nation's top maple syrup producing state is dripping away. The Vermont Maple Industry Council said that from 1928 to 1958 maple syrup production decreased from 1.5 million gallons annually to 500,000 gallons.
