

'Don't Shoot, G-Men!'

Kidnaper's Plea for Mercy Prompts FBI Nickname

(Editor's Note: Everyone knows the FBI, but surprisingly few people know how it operates, guarding national security, tracking down criminals, protecting civil rights. For the first time the story is told in all its detail by Don Whitehead in his new book, "The FBI Story" (Random House). The Pontiac Press begins today a 30-part serialization of highlights from this outstanding book. Copyright 1937 by Don Whitehead.

Shortly after midnight on July 23, 1933, a light flashed on the FBI's switchboard, signaling a call on the special kidnap line—National 8-7117—set up as part of any intensive effort to cut down the alarming increase in kidnappings for ransom.

The operator quickly switched the call to the home of Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Mrs. Charles F. Urschel of Oklahoma City spilled out to him the story that her husband, a wealthy oil man, and a friend, Walter R. Jarrett, had been kidnaped only a few minutes earlier.

She told Hoover that she and her husband were playing bridge with Mr. and Mrs. Jarrett on the Urschels' screened porch when two men, armed with a machine gun and a pistol, opened the door and stepped onto the porch.

DEMANDS IDENTITY

"Which one of you is Mr. Urschel?" one of the gunmen asked. When neither Urschel nor Jarrett replied, the kidnaper said, "Well, we'll take both of them."

Hoover immediately telephoned the Oklahoma City FBI office and ordered agents to the Urschel home.

He told his men to be sure the Oklahoma City police were alerted. Within an hour FBI special agents were converging on Oklahoma City from other points.

They were under orders to cooperate with the family, and to do nothing that would jeopardize the safe return of the oil man. It was—and still is—the policy of the FBI not to advise a family whether ransom money should or should not be paid.

FAMILY'S DECISION

These were decisions for the family to make.

Jarrett returned to the Urschel home, disheveled and shaken, about two hours after the kidnaping.

He said the kidnappers drove 10 or 12 miles northeast of the city, took $50 from him, put him out of the car and then headed south with Urschel.

Four days later, a friend of the Urschels received a package delivered by a Western Union messenger.

The package contained four letters, one in Urschel's handwriting. Another was a typewritten letter addressed to E. E. Kirkpatrick of Oklahoma City.

This letter demanded $200,000 for the oil man's safe return. There were instructions to place an advertisement in the Daily Oklahoman's classified ad columns if the kidnappers' price was going to be met.

RANSOM NUMBERS NOTED

The innocent-looking ad appeared:

"For Sale—100 Acres Land, good five room house, deep well. Also Cows, Tools, Tractor, Corn and Hay. $3750 for quick sale. . . . TERMS . . . Box H-807."

Kirkpatrick left Oklahoma City carrying a handbag stuffed with $200,000 in $20 bank notes. The kidnappers' orders were followed to the letter, except that the FBI had a record of the serial numbers of the ransom bills.

In Kansas City, Kirkpatrick took a cab to the LaSalle Hotel, stepped out, paid the driver and walked west. He had gone only a short distance when a stranger approached him and said, "Mr. Kincaid, I'll take that bag."

REMARKABLE MEMORY

Urschel arrived home the next night, unharmed but exhausted. After he had rested, he gave FBI agents the story of his kidnaping in amazing detail. After Jarrett was put out of the car, Urschel was blindfolded.

About daylight, the kidnap car drove into a garage, or barn, and he was transferred to a larger car. He was placed in the back on a pallet spread on the floor.

About three hours after changing automobiles their car stopped at a gasoline station, where a woman filled the tank without noticing anything unusual.

"How are crop conditions?" one of the kidnappers asked. "The crops around here are burned up," she said, "although we may make some broom corn."

Their next stop was another garage or barn. Urschel was taken on foot to a house nearby where he spent the night.

SOUNDS OF FARM

Next day he was taken to another house about 20 minutes' driving distance from the first. He heard chickens cackling, cows lowing and hogs grunting.

Pot-O-Gold, Like Midas, Pays Off to Winning Touch

Old Pot-O-Gold must have access to a money tree, the way it keeps pouring back into the pot.

Already the prize is back up to $300 for a winning answer, providing no winner is found for Puzzle No. 31 which appeared in last week's Press. And it's worth $100 even then, so you can't lose.

4 From City Suspect in Royal Oak Sniping

Four Pontiac persons remain under suspicion in the Royal Oak December sniping incidents today as police there await the results of ballistics tests to be taken on two more .22 caliber rifles.

The newest suspects were questioned Saturday about the Dec. 21 shootings in which a teenage girl was wounded and a woman narrowly missed.

The local residents were picked up here early Saturday by Pontiac police after a gun was found on the front seat of the car in which they were riding. The group includes two men and two women.

Mass Exodus Seen as 'Policy' Move

Jews Quit Egypt, Tell of 'Terror'

NAPLES (INS)—Egyptian secret police were accused by Jewish refugees today of terrorizing and torturing Jews in the Arab country.

The charges were leveled by many of the 967 Jews brought to Naples aboard the International Red Cross-chartered Egyptian vessel Misir in the first mass deportation from Egypt.

The refugees related their experiences while awaiting transportation to other lands, where they can start life anew.

Among them were 937 stateless Jews, most of whom were born in Egypt but were unable to obtain Egyptian nationality because of their religion.

The refugees were said to be the vanguard of another 40-45,000 Jews of different nationalities expected to quit Gamal Abdel Nasser's Egypt this year.

They blamed the mass exodus on what they called "Nasser terror."

The refugees said their ordeals began shortly after Israeli troops invaded the Sinai desert on Oct. 29. Most of them, in telling their stories, asked that their names be withheld for fear of retaliation against relatives still in the Arab nation.

One man told of being taken to Cairo's Abbassia prison, where he was tortured. He said the torture was administered by Egypt's secret police in an effort to make him tell where his fortune was hidden.

He added that another prisoner subjected to the same brutality went mad.

The refugees estimated that the Egyptians so far had confiscated $100,000,000 from Jews in the country. They calculated that the total wealth of Egyptian Jews had been about $600,000,000.

BROUGHT ON BY WAR
One woman refugee, whose husband still is in prison, related: "The terror began soon after the war began. Superintendents of all buildings began reporting the names of all Jews and other foreigners to police. Then came the police raids and orders confining us to our apartments."

"We had one hour free daily in which we could go out and buy food," she added.

Student Nurse Suffers Attack; Arrest Suspect

Detroit Girl Identifies Assailant as Pre-Med She Refused to Date

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A pre-medical student at the University of Michigan was held by police today in connection with an attack on a student nurse as she slept in a dormitory room.

Virginia Large, 21, of Detroit, said she was asleep yesterday morning when an assailant entered her room and struck her four times on the head with a sharp weapon. She suffered bruises and lacerations, but was not seriously hurt.

Capt. Roland Gainsley of the Ann Arbor police said Miss Large told him she screamed and the assailant ran for a window and climbed down a fire escape.

Charles W. Castrop, 24, of Dearborn, a pre-medical student, was arrested a short time later and held for investigation of felonious assault. Gainsley said Miss Large had rejected Castrop's attempts to date her.

Miss Large, president of her senior nursing class said she was struck as she slept in her third-floor room in Couzens Hall. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Curtis Large.

She identified Castrop, a divorced father, as her assailant. Police are holding him for investigation of felonious assault.

Police said it is possible that Castrop entered the dormitory through a steam tunnel which runs from the university's central heating plant.

Miss Large said that, while no lights were on in the room when she was awakened, she could see her assailant's face by reflected lights from the street.

She said Castrop four times had asked her for dates but that she had refused.

She said she met him when both worked in the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute at the University of Michigan Medical Center.

British Train Crash Kills 1, Injures 24

WELWYN GARDEN CITY, England (AP)—An express train rammed into the rear of a crowded local train today, sending cars sprawling over the right-of-way. Police said at least one person was killed and 24 other injured.

The accident occurred at this suburban town near London while early morning mist limited visibility. The impact was lessened by the fact that both trains were moving in the same direction, toward London.

Work Begins on Clearance of Suez

Removal of the Akka, which was filled with cement before it was sunk, is believed to be the biggest obstacle to opening the embattled waterway. (Story on Page Two.)

3 Thought Dead in East

Blast and Fire Wreck Dynamite Factory

EMPORIUM, Pa. (AP)—An explosion ripped through the Pennsylvania Powder Co. plant early today and set fire to a score of buildings.

First reports said three men were missing and believed dead.

Promised Snow Causes Accidents—Salt Trucks Out

Promises of more snow came on the heels of a pre-dawn fall that covered county roads causing motorists to inch their way to work this morning through slush and slippery conditions.

The Oakland County Road Commission reported roads "generally slippery throughout. We've salted them once and are going back for the second time," a spokesman said.

Joseph Jewell, superintendent of Pontiac's Dept. of Public Works, said three salt trucks were out and that scrapers would be dispatched if the snow continued.

Chances are they would be sent out as the Weather Bureau predicted light snow or flurries for tomorrow with the mercury around 20 to 24 degrees. Tonight's low will hover between 16 and 20.

In downtown Pontiac, preceding 8 a.m., the lowest temperature recorded was 26 degrees. At 1 p.m. the mercury read 34 degrees.

Eight workers were admitted to St. Marys Hospital, 20 miles west of this northern Pennsylvania community.

Emporium is a rural mountain community of some 3,500 about 85 miles southeast of Erie, Pa.

"Everything at the plant was torn to hell," William Smith, a stationary fireman at the plant, said two hours after the explosion.

"It about shook the town off its hinges."

Windows were broken in many Emporium homes and business buildings.

The plant is about a half mile west of the town of Emporium. Fire broke out after the explosion, but Smith said it appeared to be subsiding.

All traffic was blocked off from the area of the dynamite plant. Frank Burman, a newscaster for an Emporium radio station, said a fierce fire was raging and the blast set fire to a score of buildings.

"Everybody is afraid another explosion might come off," Burman said. "I saw three ambulances pass by with injured."

He added:

"The Pennsylvania Railroad roundhouse, located nearby, is a mass of twisted wreckage."

"The entire area was shaken by the explosion. Everywhere you look windows are broken."

Burman said he learned the explosion occurred in the mixup room where nitro-glycerine is made.

RIDGWAY, Colo. (AP)—An explosion killed three men and injured 18 other persons among a crowd of more than 150 curious spectators watching a fire yesterday at a county highway garage.

Sheriff Harry B. Scott said the blast was caused "by gasoline or powder or maybe a combination of both—we just don't know."

Christmas Is Today for Many Christians

NEW YORK (AP)—The Feast of Christmas was celebrated today by Orthodox Christians of several denominations, including the Russian Orthodox.

These Christians follow the old Julian calendar which is now 13 days behind the Gregorian calendar, which is generally followed.

Former observance of the holiday began last night with Christmas Eve services in many churches.

Solons to Seek Detailed Outline of Aid Program

Some Senators Voice Growing Opposition to 'Blank Check'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles faces detailed questioning today about the economic-military plan by which President Eisenhower hopes to forestall Communist aggression in the Middle East.

In advance of Dulles' appearance before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, several members posed queries concerning the proposal Eisenhower laid before a joint session of Congress Saturday.

Weekend discussion also showed developing opposition to what several senators referred to as "blank check" authority to use foreign aid funds and to what Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) called in effect declaring war on "a delayed basis—ahead of time."

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), describing Eisenhower's proposals as "loaded with dynamite," told a questioner there is a chance Congress will vote them down.

But though both Democratic and Republican legislators raised questions about the plan, there was general agreement that Congress eventually will approve some program with the general outline Eisenhower laid down. It may clamp some restrictions on however.

The four-point program he outlined included approval in advance for his use of American military forces, at the request of any threatened Middle Eastern nation, to oppose "overt armed aggression from any nation controlled and provision for both military and economic aid to countries in the area."

$200 MILLION A YEAR

For economic aid, Eisenhower asked 200 million dollars a year for two years starting July 1. In addition, he asked authority to use up to 200 millions of presently appropriated foreign aid funds "without regard to the provisions of any other law or regulation." It is believed, however, that only between 50 and 75 millions of aid (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Attendance Record Set at Chicago Auto Show

CHICAGO (AP)—A single day attendance record was reported by officials of the Chicago Automobile Show last night. Turnstiles at the International Amphitheater clicked in 78,300 visitors during the day.

The previous record was 75,000 set on the first Sunday of last year's show. The eight-day exhibition sponsored by the Chicago Automobile Trade Assn. opened yesterday.

Defense Chief Lauds Gift of Oakland County Estate

Technical and cultural boons to the north Oakland County area have been hailed as "great progress" by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson.

He said the recent $10 million gift of the Alfred G. Wilsons' Avon Township estate and mansion to Michigan State University for a branch college is a "great advancement for the area and the people who live there."

Wilson's comment came after announcement of the gift Thursday. It was disclosed today by his son, Edward Wilson, Birmingham automobile dealer.

"It's a very fine and wonderful thing for the area that great centers of technical research have been located or planned there," the secretary said. "The addition of an important institution of higher learning is certainly great progress."

He referred to the proposed Chrysler Corp. development center in Troy Township and the Gen-

Judge to Decide Northville Issue

Vote Fraud Possibility in Land Annexation to Be Considered

Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty will consider the question of fraudulent votes in his decision whether a June 21 election whereby Northville annexed a 95-acre parcel in Novi Township will be declared void.

The judge said after a two-day trial concluded Friday that he also will consider arguments whether the election should have been a special one and whether the number of eligible township voters was illegally limited.

Six residents of the disputed area were eligible and voted in the township election. They favored annexation, five to one.

Attorneys for Warren Products Co., a small manufacturing firm at 837 E. Eight Mile Rd. in the disputed area, alleged the five pro-annexation votes were fraudulently obtained.

They cited an option by a Detroit building firm with two of the residents, a couple who own the only two homes in the area.

AGREED TO VOTE

The option, to purchase their land, contained an agreement whereby the pair agreed to "procure and vote for" the annexation or pay damages.

Pontiac attorney Glenn C. Gillespie argued that the couple influenced their son and another couple renting the other home to vote for the annexation.

Attorneys for Northville, principle defendant in the suit, denied there was evidence of fraud.

Judge Doty ordered the defense to submit a brief within two weeks. He'll make his decision within a week after receiving the brief, he said.

The Warren Co.'s brief already has been filed. The company asked the election be declared void, saying municipal taxes would be overburdening. Official certification of the election awaits the outcome of the trial.

Nashville Crowd Hangs a Dummy Labeled 'Elvis'

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Singer Elvis (The Pelvis) Presley was hanged in effigy near Nashville yesterday. The dummy drew a good crowd, but whoever pulled the stunt botched it. No blue suede shoes, not even sideburns.

The dummy, with the word "Elvis" emblazoned across its back, dangled from an overpass on a highway southeast of the city. It was clad in a red shirt, blue jeans, light colored leather sandals and a brown duck-billed cap.

Its pockets bulged with phony money. When a state trooper hauled down the effigy, shouts from the crowd included: "Don't be cruel," and "Y' ain't nothin' but a houn' dog!"—titles of songs made popular by the radio, television and recording star.

An ambulance, probably summoned by a prankster, took the dummy away to a funeral home, much to the delight of the crowd, which numbered several hundred. Presley was in New York yesterday, where he appeared on the Ed Sullivan television show last night.

Answer to Be Given at Jaycee Dinner

Who Did Most for Pontiac?

Pontiac Jaycees have been huddling over the weekend drumming up nominations for this area's outstanding young man and boss of 1956.

These honors, along with the "Key Man" award given to the outstanding man in the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be known Wednesday night at the annual "Bosses' Night" dinner at the Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave. The event begins at 7.

Featured speaker will be Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart. Toastmaster will be Stuart E. Whitfield, past Jaycee president of 1954.

Dr. Robert H. Kimmins, chairman of the dinner, said tickets will be available at the door. Some 100 Jaycees are expected to invite their bosses.

The "Outstanding Young Man of Pontiac" award goes each year to the man between 21 and 35 years of age who is judged to have contributed the most in community service during the past year. William L. Treanor, 971 Berwick

Whizzer Buys Sylvan Factory

Precision Products Plant Will Turn Out Windows, Automation

Purchase of the Precision Products plant in Sylvan Lake by Whizzer Industries Inc. was announced today by Martin Goldman, secretary-treasurer of the Pontiac manufacturing firm.

The factory, which will employ between 50 and 80 persons, will be used by Whizzer to manufacture "Gliderama" windows and automation machinery. The windows are presently being manufactured at the firm's Orchard Lake-Maple Road plant.

Goldman said that manufacturing equipment will be moved into the Sylvan Lake building within 30 days.

Located at 2240 Greer St., the plant was purchased from the estate of the late William Mahar. Formerly a supplier of specialty products to the auto industry, Precision Products has been idle since October.

The plant occupies 31,000 square feet of space and is located on 2 1/2 acres of ground.

Goldman said the increased facilities will more than double Whizzer Industries' present manufacturing capacity. He added that the expansion was prompted by increased volume of business.

The transaction was handled by the Pontiac real estate firm of Roy Annett Inc. The company, headed by President Bruce Annett, also handled the recent sale of the Flint Tool & Die Co. of Holly.

Man Shot in Knee

by Unknown Assailant

Nathaniel Hall, 141 W. South Blvd., told city police Saturday an unknown person fired one shot at him and two other men as they were walking west on Crystal Lake drive about 11 p.m. Saturday.

Hall was released from Pontiac General Hospital after the bullet was removed from his right knee. The two men with Hall were brothers: Thomas Short, 38 Deland Ct., and Otis Short, 301 Hughes St.

Detective Sgt. John Williams said he did not think this shooting was related to the recent Royal Oak sniper incidents.

Sporty Thief Reels In Goods Locked in Auto

An apparent sportsman hooked an illegal catch of fishing equipment from an automobile Sunday night, Pontiac police said.

He smashed a vent window to unlock the car door and steal two fishing reels, worth $3.75 each, and an aluminum shanty frame for ice fishing, the owner, Jimmie Hayes, 343 Branch St., said.

Blvd., captured this award last year.

The "Outstanding Boss" award is presented to the boss, as nominated by Jaycees, considered tops to work with. Gelston V. Poole was the 1955 winner.

Melvin Eller, president of the Junior Chamber, will choose the "Key Man" winner.

Thirty-eight Oakland County high school seniors were named among 7,500 seniors over the nation as finalists in the 1957 National Merit Scholarship Corp. competition.

The students named as finalists out-performed 162,000 highly selected fellow competitors in a college aptitude examination given in 12,500 high schools Oct. 24, 1956.

Jan. 12 another stiff three-hour college board examination will be given to the 7,500 finalists plus extensive screening of their leadership and extra-curricular records by a selection board.

Final awards include some 700 four-year college scholarships, many of them sponsored by business and industrial corporations.

WINNERS CHOOSE

Winners will be announced about April 25. The winners choose the colleges they wish to attend. Values of the scholarships vary.

This is the second year of the annual awards. The Merit Scholarships were established in 1955 through basic grants totaling $20,500,000 from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corp. of New York.

In the first year, 554 recipients were named.

Competition is open to any high school senior.

County students narrowed to the final listing include one Pontiac High School student, William J. Riley.

Others are Wilbert J. Janoschka, Avondale High; Frank E. Scholer, Berkley High School; Harry P. Altick, Gail A. Christie, P. E. Finkensauer, Stephen E. Hunter, David A. Karas, Peter A. Leoni, Marcelle Michaels, Gracene R. Miller, Sidney Olberg, Judith M. Shuler and Franklin E. Wilson, all of Birmingham High School.

More county finalists include Karen J. Franzen, Troy High School; Willard B. Stouffer of Bloomfield Hills High; James J. Akers, Walter A. Bagdade, James R. Ewing Jr. and Bruce McCaul, all of Cranbrook and David A. Lissner of Chatham High.

Concluding the list are Bernard Krentsch and Clifford Miller of Oak Park High; Bernard F. Muller of Northville; Gerald K. Austin, Norman P. Jensen and Neil E. South of Royal Oak and Thomas H. Westerdale of Walled Lake High School.

Chairman Thomas S. Gordon (D-III) of the House committee said he wants straightened out by the hearings — whether Eisenhower wants 400 millions or 600 millions or what amount in between.

Gordon said he wants to know also whether Eisenhower plans to step up U. S. armed forces strength in the Middle East.

There were no indications at the Pentagon yesterday that the Middle East plan contemplates any immediate change in the nation's defense lineup in that area.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said yesterday he expects the Democrats to "come up with a number of amendments or perhaps a new resolution."

But he added in a television interview that his party shouldn't be too critical unless it can "come up with something better."

Sparkman and Sen. Bridges (R-NH) appeared together on NBC-TV's American Forum. Sparkman said he favors having the President take a strong stand, but contended only Congress under the Constitution can declare war.

Bridges replied the President must have authority to act quickly, lest a war be over before he could appeal to Congress. But he in his turn expressed concern over giving Eisenhower unlimited authority to dip into foreign aid funds.

Lew Tuller Service Tuesday in Detroit

Service for Lew W. Tuller, 88, of 1122 Symes St., Royal Oak, will be held tomorrow from the William R. Hamilton Co. Chapel on Cass avenue, Detroit, at 11 a.m.

He died Saturday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Mr. Tuller became well known in hotel circles for his ownership and management of the Detroit hotel that bears his name. He built the hotel in 1906, and went on to build other hotels in the 1920's.

Mr. Tuller was a charter member of the DAC, a member of the Second Church of Christ Scientist, the Detroit Boat Club and the Wolverine Lodge 484, F. & A.M.

Says He Killed Mrs. Sheppard

Chicago Cabbie Claims 2 Slayings, Then Denies His Confession

CHICAGO (INS)—A Chicago taxi cab driver was held by police today after he confessed and then denied the slaying of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard, whose husband, Dr. Samuel Sheppard, was convicted of the crime.

The suspect, Robert Clineage, 30, came to Chicago from Mansfield, Ohio, two weeks ago. He also told of murdering Mrs. Max Sternbaum, wife of a wealthy Mansfield supermarket owner.

Police, who seized Clineage yesterday, said they found him drinking but said he was "not intoxicated."

Homicide chief Lt. James McMahon said Clineage told them he murdered Mrs. Sheppard in her Bryn Mawr home in suburban Cleveland and Mrs. Sternbaum by beating them with a hammer which he later hid.

Clineage said he was paid $1,000 each for the murders by a stranger he met on a corner in Cleveland.

Mansfield police captain, John Butler, visiting in Chicago, returned to Ohio to investigate the case.

Mrs. Sternbaum's murder was never solved. Mrs. Sheppard's husband, an osteopath, is serving a life term for her murder.

Handcuffed to a chain, Urschel managed to work his blindfold loose enough so that he could get a glimpse of his watch.

Each morning about 9:45 and each evening about 5:45 he heard a plane pass over the house.

But on Sunday, July 30, there was a downpour of rain and he didn't hear the morning plane. The next day he was driven to a point near Norman, Okla., and released.

DECIDE ON COURSE

FBI special agents studied Urschel's recollections and decided that their best chance to locate the kidnapers' house was tied in with the account of the rainstorm and the failure of the plane to follow its usual course.

They found that on Sunday, July 30, an American Airways plane on the Fort Worth-Amarillo run had been forced to swing north from its usual course to avoid a rainstorm.

U. S. Weather Bureau records at Dallas disclosed that this general area had been suffering from a drought and the corn was beginning to burn until the July 30 rains came.

A little calculation showed that the morning plane leaving Fort Worth and the afternoon plane leaving Amarillo would pass over a point near Paradise, Tex., at the approximate times recalled by Urschel.

GUNMAN'S RELATIVES

They found the house described by Urschel. It was the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Shannon, stepfather and mother of Kathryn Kelly. Kathryn Kelly was the wife of the notorious "Machine Gun" Kelly, who reputedly could knock walnuts off a fence with his machine gun at 25 yards.

Urschel identified the Shannon home. There was the well and the tin cup without a handle and the chain to which he had been handcuffed. He could never forget the mineral taste of that water.

The Shannons confessed that they had helped guard Urschel. The kidnapers were Kelly and Albert L. Bates.

The FBI men tracked Bates to Denver, where he was arrested. Kelly and his wife were traced to Memphis, Tenn. FBI special agents and Memphis police raided the hideaway. Caught without a machine gun in his hands, Kelly cringed before the officers and pleaded, "Don't shoot, G-Men! Don't shoot, G-Men!"

Kelly's nickname for the FBI's agents stuck with them. In newspapers, magazine and movies and over the radio, FBI, or "Government Men," became "G-Men" in a wave of publicity.

Meet at Hickory Grove

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Hickory Grove PTA will meet at 8 p.m. on Thursday. The principle speaker will be Henry Houston, who is the Civil Defense Director for Bloomfield Township.

The Day in Birmingham

Schone Prophecy True; 40 Agenda Items Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — City Manager Harold K. Schone proved himself a good prophet at the last city commission meeting when he quipped, "We'll have a heavy agenda coming up at the next one."

More than 40 items are in the offing, including hearings on the vacation of alleys in the Campbell subdivision and the rezoning of the Lambert property.

Communications already received at city offices indicate opposition to the zoning change, from residential to business. Several letters have been received recently, to be added to protests filed earlier on this subject.

Streets and traffic will occupy a large portion of the evening as reports and discussions center around traffic surveys, speed and parking controls, changes in traffic regulations, special traffic hazards and a number of special assessment districts for paving streets.

Residents and business places used a total of 2,056,128 gallons of water in December, according to a report issued by Fire Lt. R. Ives. This total included 776,528 gallons delivered from the SEOCWA.

Malcolm Ferguson, Beverly school principal, will speak at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Women's Fellowship, Congregational Church of Birmingham. Ferguson's topic will be, "Together We Raise These Children."

Special Christmas tree service is being offered this week by the DPW, according to L. E. Gare, director. The tree chopper will make the rounds of the city, grinding up those trees which have not been picked up by the regular rubbish truck collections.

Pontiac Deaths

James Connelly

James Connelly, 75, of 56 Bennett St. died Sunday in Pontiac General Hospital. He had been in ill health about two years.

Born in Cheboygan, Oct. 29, 1881, his parents were John and Sarah (Healey) Connelly. His wife was the former Mary L. Brewer.

Last employed by The Pontiac Press, he was a member of St. Michael's Church, Knights of Columbus, and the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union.

Surviving are nieces, Mrs. Beulah Sanders, Detroit; Mrs. Helen Poole, Ferndale; Mrs. Margaret Omans, Pontiac; Mrs. Marion Gallagher, Pontiac; and nephews, Charles Connelly, Pontiac, and James Connelly, Clarkson.

Special K. of C. Rosary service will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday with regular Rosary service at 8 p.m. at the Hulton Funeral Home.

Funeral will be at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Michael's Church with the Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly officiating.

T. Ernest Dell

Word has been received of the death of former Pontiac resident T. Ernest Dell, 69, of Lewiston.

Mr. Dell died at 2 p.m. Sunday, in Alpena Hospital, following a year-long illness.

Born in Clare, he was the son of Thomas and Mamie (Martin) Dell. He came to Pontiac in 1913, where he was employed as a stone mason.

Surviving besides his wife, Celia Dell, of Lewiston, is a brother, Stuart Dell, of Los Angeles, Calif. Funeral arrangements are not yet complete.

Set Funeral Service for Automotive Pioneer

PALM BEACH, Fla. (INS) — Funeral services were planned today for Louis S. Clarke, 90, auto industry pioneer who replaced the chain-drive with the enclosed shaft.

Clarke died yesterday at Palm Beach, which had been his winter home since 1892. The founder of Autocar Truck Company of Ardmore, Pa., Clarke got his start in 1896 at Pittsburgh when he built his first gasoline-driven automobile.

The three wheel autocar No. 1 now is in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C.

Professor Spikes Beer Theory on Intoxication

BOULDER, Colo. (INS)—A Colorado University professor claims those who say you can't get drunk on beer have got the foam in the wrong end of the glass.

Chemistry Prof. Joseph D. Park says you can too get drunk on beer.

Park, noting it takes three quarts of beer to become intoxicated, says the no-drunk theory based on the fact that the stomach can hold only two quarts of beer is erroneous. Park's answer: The beer goes into the bloodstream and does not stay in the stomach, thus making room for more.

Kadar Discloses 'New Program'

Soviet Army Will Stay in Hungary; Get-Tough Policy to Continue

BUDAPEST, Hungary (U)—Premier Janos Kadar's Soviet-installed government, taking the wraps off its long-promised "new program," combines get-tough Stalinism with an appeal to the West for financial aid.

The program was issued yesterday from the Premier's office in Parliament building, ringed by protecting Russian tanks. It was broadcast as a 10,000-word statement over the Budapest radio.

The statement probably got its final drafting last week while visiting Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev looked on. The Hungarians, led by some informants to expect a "surprisingly mild" declaration, were told among other things:

"There is a dictatorship of the proletariat in Hungary... The counterrevolutionaries and persons who attack the legal order and the basic principles of the people's democracy have no freedom even if they mask their counterrevolutionary efforts by democratic slogans. The law will always punish them severely."

In an obvious reference to the Soviet-crushed revolt in November, the statement said:

"People of petty bourgeois thinking or people who were masking themselves as Marxists set as their aim the disintegration of social order and the dissolution of it whereby they used slogans like democratization, de-Stalinization and others... It is therefore a main task to strengthen the people's democratic installations and organizations."

The statement blasted Stalinists leaders Matyas Rakosi and Erno Gero as well as Imry Nagy, who succeeded them and was ousted as premier by Kadar and his supporters with Russian help.

porters with Russian help.

The government also proclaimed that it "respects the freedom of belief of all citizens and considers the standpoint of religious questions a private matter... It secures full freedom to the churches and confessions."

The statement said the recent revolt wrought damage of nearly a billion dollars and said:

"The Western capitalists stress that Hungary cannot be cured without Western credits... We accept, of course, any credit, even from capitalist countries, if no political conditions are attached. We will ask for no credits, however, ever, which are tied to political conditions."

MUNICH, Germany (U)—Police reported today that the office of the exile Ukrainian National Council was broken into and documents and membership lists stolen. Police said one theory is that the theft was carried out by a member of a rival Ukrainian exile group here.

1 Dies, 9 Hurt in Plane Crash

Craft Hits Power Line, Escapes Fire in Mishap Near Tulsa Airport

TULSA, Okla. (U)—Only six miles north of Tulsa Municipal Airport, an American Airlines passenger plane tore into a partially wooded area yesterday, narrowly missing a power line and scrub oak trees and fatally injuring one passenger.

The other six passengers and three crewmen were hospitalized but none reported in critical condition. The dead woman was Mrs. Nell Tobler, 70, Tulsa.

Paul Johnson, 33-year-old co-pilot of Tulsa, walked and crawled almost a mile to a farm house for help.

The two-engine Convair — en route from Providence, R. I., to Tulsa — was piloted by Wesley G. Mims, 34, Tulsa. He is a veteran of 10 years with American. No cause for the crash has been disclosed.

The plane apparently brushed a power line as it pancaked into the field. It skidded about 400 feet between rows of scrub oak trees, one of which smashed the right wing. It did not burn.

At the time of the crash, visibility was poor and there was a light drizzle.

Atomic Cannon to Fire

FT. SILL, Okla. (U)—The Army's 280 millimeter atomic cannon was to fire a conventional shell its maximum distance at the field artillery range here today. An Army spokesman said the big gun would propel the shell 18 miles into an area of 11,000 acres of newly-acquired land.

Scientific Finds Aid Agriculture

1956 Research Most Profitable

Many Achievements in U.S. Farming Now Are Revolutionary

WASHINGTON (INS) — There were notable achievements in agricultural research in 1956 by the Federal Government in cooperation with state agricultural experiment stations in all parts of the country. Industrial researchers and others also had a hand.

Here are highlights of some of those achievements under the headings of crops, livestock, insect control, and utilization:

Crops—Agriculture Department and Michigan State scientists synthesized natural rubber in the laboratory for the first time.

Two experimental weed-killers (2,4-DB and 4' (MCPB), proved highly effective in test trials against broad-leaved weeds in fields planted to crops easily injured by weed-killers commonly used.

A unique rabbit-blood bank was developed. Rabbits injected with virus from diseased plants develop antibodies that are used to detect certain diseases of cereal grains.

A plant-growth regulator called gibberellic acid showed a marked effect on the growth and flowering of certain plants.

Livestock—Tests showed that the meat-tenderness quality of animals is inherited, thus increasing chances of improving the quality through breeding.

A new low-cost dairy record-keeping program, called the "weigh-a-day-a-month" plan, went into effect to help farmers improve dairy production efficiency.

Crossbreeding of Hampshire, Shropshire, and Southdown sheep resulted in hybrid lambs with superior meat and wool.

Two turkey poulters were hatched from unfertilized eggs. They died after living for 18 and 22 days, respectively, and were the first parthenogenetic poulters to live for more than a few hours.

Insect control — Research on insecticides and attractants for use against the Mediterranean fruit fly made possible a large-scale program to eradicate this serious pest of citrus and other crops discovered last April in Florida.

Radioactive tracers revealed how some insects develop resistance to insecticides.

An outstanding insect repellent, N-diethyl-m-tolamide, was found highly effective against mosquitoes, stable flies, fleas, ticks and chiggers.

A new systemic insecticide, Dow ET-57, given by mouth to cattle, showed promise for cattle grub control.

Utilization — Work was begun to determine the effects of high-energy radiation on cotton, to learn whether irradiated cotton can be used for useful new textile products or will have increased value in various present uses.

Agave Lechequilla, a poisonous plant that grows wild on millions of acres in the southwest, was termed the most promising native plant source of chemicals for making the anti-arthritis drug, cortisone.

A fast method of removing hair from hides with an enzyme preparation to obtain high yields of good quality leather was developed.

Potato flakes, a new dehydrated product for making mashed potatoes, sold well in market tests.

A continuous process was developed for producing powdered apple, grape, and cherry juices of good quality capable of storage without refrigeration for two years.

Open Registry at Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE—Cecil G. Scott, director of adult education programs for the Walled Lake schools, says that registrations will be taken for the balance of the month for the spring term which will begin the week of Feb. 4. Classes will be held until the week of April 15.

Subjects to be offered will be bookkeeping, contract bridge, cake decorating, china painting, ceramics, choral music, and driver education.

Others are interior decorating, landscaping and gardening, photography, piano, sewing, shorthand, office materials, square dancing, typing, woodshop for both men and women, and upholstery.

Holding of these classes is dependent upon at least ten people registering for each course. Scott adds that other classes will be held if ten people express an interest in any other subject and that an instructor can be secured.

Any person over 16, not presently enrolled in high school is eligible to participate in the classes. Those desiring to enroll should call Mrs. Eve Ellenwood at the Twin Beach School, prior to 3:30 on Feb. 1.

WOULD WARN THE NATION—In emergency, the entire American population could be warned by the pressing of a single button, made possible by a simple civil defense warning device that plugs into any 110 volt outlet. It can be activated by a signal transmitted through electric power lines and is being developed by the Midwest Research Institute at Kansas City, Mo. Called the National Emergency Alarm Repeater (NEAR) the device is envisioned for use in 96 per cent of the U. S. homes served by electricity. The signal could also be localized to warn families of emergencies in their particular area. The invention, being demonstrated at Kansas City by Mrs. Joanne Sappington, reportedly could be produced to sell for $5.

State Would Fight St. Clair Causeway

LANSING 6—The State Conservation Department has warned a Detroit construction firm it will go to court if any attempt is made to construct a proposed Lake St. Clair causeway.

Gerald E. Eddy, department director, wrote H. E. Beyster and Associates, Inc., of Detroit that the department heard the firm planned to construct such a causeway to connect Harsens Island with the mainland near Lake St. Clair Shores.

Eddy said a long series of State Supreme Court decisions has held that the state holds the title to the bottom lands of the Great Lakes in trust for the people.

If any attempt at filling is made, Eddy said the department will seek a court injunction.

Weight of raw wool is reduced 40 to 60 per cent by removing the impurities.
