BOBBY AND BARRON — Five-year-old Bobby Swayne of Waterford Township, a polio victim, returned home from Herman Kiefer Hospital in Detroit Friday to find that the Weimaraner dog his parents had bought him was missing. But his unhappiness was not for long. A neighbor living about three blocks from the Swayne home read about Bobby's plight in The Pontiac Press and returned the stray dog, and Bobby was all smiles again.

School Building Plans Totalling $500,000 OK'd

City Plans Additions at Franklin, Herrington to Provide for 300

Preliminary plans for a $500,000 school building program for 1959-60 were approved last night by the Pontiac Board of Education.

Meeting at the Rotunda Inn, the Board also re-elected its four officers.

Included in the building improvement program are additions totaling $260,000 to the Franklin and Herrington elementary schools. The Board believes that these additions will relieve possible overcrowding in the school district.

The Board also authorized investigation of possible sites for a new elementary school to be purchased for $25,000.

The Board tabled a proposal to rehabilitate Central High School's pool, at an estimated $140,000 cost, to study possibilities of constructing a new regulation size pool with a larger seating capacity.

New furniture, $15,000, and Central High parking lot reconstruction, $12,000, plus an architect's fee of $25,000, and a contingent fund, $23,000, bring the total to $500,000.

These fund authorizations will provide an additional 300 elementary pupil stations to meet the need to be created by an anticipated enrollment increase of 264 elementary pupils between September 1959, and September 1960, the Board was told by Dr. Otto C. Hutziger, assistant superintendent in charge of business.

A recommended annual report was also authorized. The report, to be issued shortly before school opens is intended to advertise board accomplishments, concentrating on program and curriculum training on program and curriculum.

Re-elected to their Board of Education officers for 1959-60 were Glenn H. Griffin, president; Monroe M. Osmun, vice president; Walter L. Godsell, secretary; and Vernon L. Schiller, treasurer.

The Community National Bank and the Pontiac State Bank were renamed depositories for 1959-60 with a $4,000,000 deposit limit placed on the Community National Bank, and a $3,000,000 limit on the Pontiac State Bank.

Jailed for Making Money

LONDON (UPI)—Artist Derek Forbes, 25, was refused bail yesterday because the court was afraid he'd go out and make money. Forbes was arrested for counterfeiting. "I have seen the one pound notes," said Magistrate Seymour Collins. "They are so expert that I cannot agree to grant bail."

Search Detroit River for Missing Sailor

DETROIT (UPI)—Nine State Police skin divers began searching the bottom of the Detroit River today for the body of a Navy enlisted man from Boston believed to have fallen overboard from a destroyer.

Boatswain's Mate 2-C Theodore L. Wheeler, 28, disappeared early Sunday morning from the USS Samuel B. Roberts, one of four destroyers visiting Detroit as part of operation inland seas.

Wheeler told shipmates after returning from shore leave early Sunday morning that he was going to the forecastle to sleep because it was too hot below deck. He was reported missing at the 8 a.m. roll call.

The four destroyers, docked near the Veterans Memorial since last Friday, are due to leave tomorrow for Duluth, Minn., and later to Bay City, Cleveland and Annapolis.

Sunny Skies Greet Major League Stars

From Our News Wires
PITTSBURGH — Near perfect weather was in prospect for today's All-Star Major League baseball game (noon, EST) at Forbes Field.

As players from the National and American Leagues went to field in a motor caravan the skies were clear and the sun was shining brilliantly.

The weatherman said it would be sunny and warm throughout the day with the temperature between 75 and 80 degrees by mid-afternoon.

The National League was rated a slight favorite in the 26th renewal of the contest which was expected to attract a capacity crowd of 35,000.

Vice President Richard Nixon was scheduled to toss out the first ball.

Early Wynn (11-5), 39-year-old Chicago White Sox pitcher who has been in three other All-Star games, was nominated to start for the American League.

Don Drysdale, Los Angeles Dodger righthander, was set to start for the National League. He has a 9-6 season record.

Some of the glamor already has been rubbed off today's classic by the fact the two leagues will, for the first time, play a second All-Star game in one season on Aug. 3 at Los Angeles.

Drysdale, the hard-throwing right-handed ace of the Los Angeles Dodgers, was manager Fred Haney's choice to face a preponderantly right-handed hitting American League line-up for the first three innings.

Yankees or Billy Pierce of the White Sox appear the best bets to pitch the middle innings for the American Leaguers, who are 13 to 10 underdogs in the game although they have won 15 of the 25 All-Star contests.

The American League has won the last two games by one run. They won the 1958 game at St. Louis, 6-5, and last year's contest at Baltimore, 4-3.

Most baseball men feel the American League's best chance today lies in home run threats Harmon Killebrew of Washington and Rocky Colavito of Cleveland, both of whom are in the starting line-up. Killebrew, a first-time starter in All-Star competition, leads the Majors in home runs with 28, while Colavito, another first-time participant, has hit 24 homers to far.

Big drawback for the American Leaguers, however, is that they have only one left-handed hitter in their starting line-up. That's second baseman Nellie Fox of the White Sox, whose specialty is singles.

Smiles and Handshakes, Not Eggs, Greet Kozlov

DETROIT (AP)—Russia's First Deputy Premier Froil Kozlov came to Detroit greeted by smiles and handshakes and not a solitary egg or tomato.

All was in marked contrast last night to the sometimes threatening demonstration that met Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan on his visit last Jan. 8.

Within the 35 minutes from the time Kozlov landed at Metropolitan Airport until he got to his downtown hotel he saw only friendly gestures.

The Motor City, which turned out half a million strong for Queen Elizabeth July 3, was only mildly interested. Just a few persons saw Kozlov.

Kozlov, a burly man in a Panama hat, was circled at all times by uniformed policemen and plainclothesmen.

However, their only exertion was in guiding the Russian through a press of photographers and newsmen.

When the big red, white and blue National Airways plane landed, there was not a picket in sight.

Former Hungarian Freedom Fighters who said they would be on hand for a "peaceful demonstration" failed to put in an appearance.

Walker L. Cislser, president of the Detroit Edison Co., greeted Kozlov at the airport and accompanied the Russian's 62-man party in a 16-car caravan on a swift ride to the Fort Shelby Hotel.

Kozlov, waving his straw hat, came down the plane ramp by himself.

"We are glad you have come to visit us," Cislser, host to the Russian's visit, told Kozlov.

"I, too, am very glad to be here," Kozlov replied. "I have been eager to meet you and visit your wonderful city."

An interpreter was on hand to aid the conversation. Neither man speaks the other's tongue.

Cislser said he was "especially glad" since both he and Kozlov are engineers. The Russian's response was warm.

"Fine," he said, "we will have many things to talk about."

There was no mention of Mayor Louis C. Miriani's refusal to extend a welcome to Kozlov. Cislser refused to comment to newsmen on the mayor's snub.

"We're here to carry out the purposes of this visit at the request of the State Department," Cislser said. "I traveled with a group in Russia last year and we received friendly and courteous treatment. We like to reciprocate."

13-Hour Siege Ends as Guards Pull Surprise

Women, Children Safe After Ordeal in Riot at Monroe, Wash.

MONROE, Wash. (AP)—Thirty-eight hostages, held for 13½ terror-filled hours by four "kill-crazy" young convicts, were freed without harm at the State Reformatory today in a surprise tear gas attack.

Armed officers carried out the rescue at 4:03 a.m., two hours before the third and latest deadline set by the revolting prisoners.

Reformatory officials said it went "like clockwork."

The rebels, who had armed themselves with butcher knives and long forks, threatened violence only to the three guards held hostage.

One of the guards, Hugh DeWalt, said after the rescue that the desperadoes had told the officers to start praying because they would be thrown out of the window dead if their demands for freedom were not met.

WOMEN, CHILDREN HELD

Twenty-four visitors, many of them women and children, and 11 other prisoners who had been visiting with relatives, also were held through the late afternoon and night in the barricaded visitors' room. They were treated fairly well, however.

The four rebels were quickly subdued as the tear gas sent the occupants stumbling, weeping and choking from the room.

Officers said they were "roughed up a bit."

The four were ordered placed in isolation and state officials said they would be turned over to the courts.

The four convicts are Richard E. Murray, 20; Donald DeCourcy, 22; Robert E. Jasmin, 22, and David K. Owens, 19.

They listed no grievances, asking only for an escape car and clear access to the Canadian border.

PRASED STAFF

Lawrence Delmore, state supervisor of adult correction, praised the reformatory staff for the smoothly executed rescue.

An officer said surprise was the factor of success. A guard crept close to the room and hurled a tear gas shell. The charge followed.

Madison Heights Man Succumbs in Bloomfield Township Crash

One person was killed and nine injured in a three-car smashup at Woodward avenue and Square Lake road, Bloomfield Township, yesterday afternoon.

Dead is Leslie L. Perry, 40, of 26348 Brettonwood St., Madison Heights, a father of two.

The accident occurred at 2 p.m. Two ambulances rushed to the scene and Bloomfield Township police were assisted by Pontiac Post state troopers, Oakland County sheriff's deputies, and a Bloomfield Hills policeman. It took an hour to clear the intersection, they reported.

Perry, driving south on Woodward, smashed into the rear of a car driven by Albert D. Parsons, 39, of 23121 Sherman St., Oak Park. Parsons' auto was stopped for a traffic light, according to Township Policeman Norman Stites.

Stites said the Parsons auto was rammed into an auto driven by George A. Hardy, 47, of 233 First St., Rochester, which was going west on Square Lake. Perry's car also struck Hardy's auto, Stites said.

Couple Charged With Dole Fraud

Walled Lake Pair Await Trial on Falsification of Welfare Need

A Walled Lake couple are awaiting trial in Oakland County Circuit Court, charged with fraudulently receiving $850 in welfare payments from the Bureau of Social Aid.

Warren Johnson, 38, of 1537 W. Maple Rd., and his wife, Madeline, 40, stood mute yesterday when arraigned before Circuit Judge William J. Beer. The judge entered innocent pleas for both of them and continued their bonds.

According to Mrs. Adelaide Layman of the Bureau of Social Aid, Mrs. Johnson, a mother of four, reapplied for Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) payments a year ago without revealing she had remarried and that her new husband had steady employment.

Also, she did not disclose that one 16-year-old daughter was not living at home, Mrs. Layman said. Johnson is charged with aiding and abetting his wife in the alleged scheme.

Broomfield Renews Fight Against TVA

By The Associated Press
Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) today renewed a request to Michigan's two Democratic senators to oppose a pending Tennessee Valley Authority bill.

Broomfield said in letters to Sens. Pat McNamara and Philip A. Hart that the TVA self-financing bill would provide "a gravy train for millionaires," adding:

"Bonds for the construction of these new facilities would be a tax-free loophole with absolutely no risk to the investors."

A McNamara aide, queried about a Broomfield statement that McNamara had voted for the bill in the Senate public works committee, denied the claim.

Hart, who was not in Washington, was not available for comment.

The bill pending in the Senate would authorize TVA to issue up to 750 million dollars in revenue bonds to finance new generating facilities. The House has passed a similar measure.

Warm, Sunny Summer Day in Store for Nation

By The Associated Press
Another pleasant summer day appeared on tap for most of the country today although showers might dampen many Southern and Western areas.

Thunderstorms broke out during the night in southwest Kansas, northeast Montana and the Dakotas. Gusty winds, up to 55 m.p.h. hit sections of the Dakotas and Montana.

Showers sprinkled widely scattered areas throughout the country, including New England, a few spots in the South, sections of Texas as northward into the western northern plains and western Washington and Oregon.

A little cooler air moved from Lake Michigan eastward to the Atlantic Coast but warmer weather was indicated over most of the upper Mississippi Valley and near-by Great Lakes region.

Gusty southerly winds carried 90-degree heat into Utah and the central Rockies to the upper plains Sunday. It was 98 at Philip, S.D., and 95 at Bismarck, N.D. The nation's hottest weather, however, again was in the Southwest desert region with the mercury reaching a high of 112 degrees.

GMC Domestic Retail Deliveries Tops Since '56

Domestic retail deliveries of GMC trucks in June totaled 6,610 units, the highest monthly sales figure since August, 1956, it was announced today by Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the truck division.

The June total was 35.9 per cent higher than the corresponding month in 1958, Monaghan said.

Domestic retail deliveries for the first six months totaled 37,395 units, or 40.2 per cent above the corresponding period of 1958.

'Bobo' Juarez to Obey Court

19-Year-Old Heiress to Allow Her Estranged Husband to See Baby

LONDON (AP)—Friends of heiress Frederika (Bobo) Sigris Juarez said today she will comply with a New York Court's order soon and send her infant child to the baby's father in America.

The 19-year-old heiress was sentenced Monday in New York Supreme Court to 30 days for contempt. But the judge said she could avoid the jail term by yielding the baby and paying a $250 fine.

Mrs. Juarez is a British subject living apart from her American husband, Gregg Juarez, 36. They married in the Bahamas in 1957 when Bobo was 17.

After the separation, an American court ordered that the baby, Bianca, should spend three months of the year with her father. Deadline for her arrival for the visit was last June 15.

Tickets for the child and a nurse had been bought and space reserved on an airline, but at the last minute the nurse and Bianca, now 19 months old, did not appear.

Friends said the young mother had followed the advice of lawyers who contended that Juarez' Park Ave. apartment was not a proper place for the child to visit.

Friends said there was little chance that Mrs. Juarez would go to New York with her child. Instead, a nurse will accompany the infant, it was said.

Mrs. Juarez herself was not answering the telephone.

Gas Prices Begin New Upward Spiral

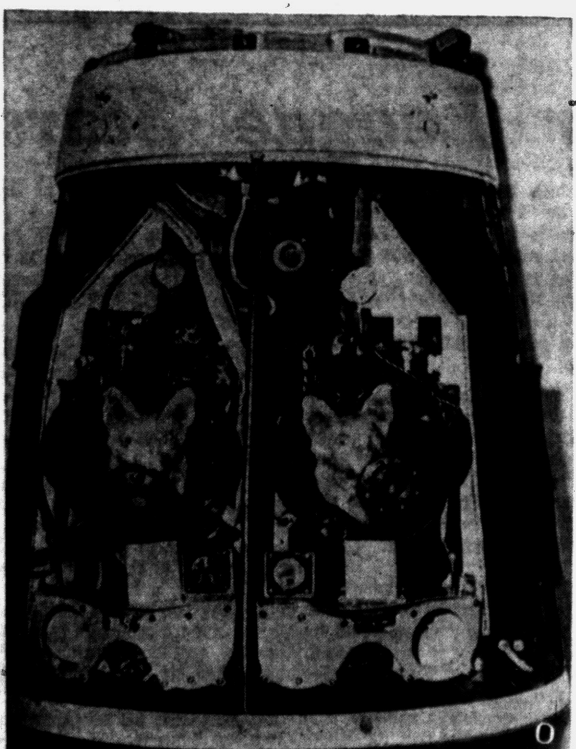

Retail gasoline prices in the Pontiac area were expected to shift upwards shortly as a result of a 1.9 cent increase on wholesale prices announced today by Socony Mobil Oil Co.

Other distributors in the Detroit Metropolitan Area were expected to follow suit.

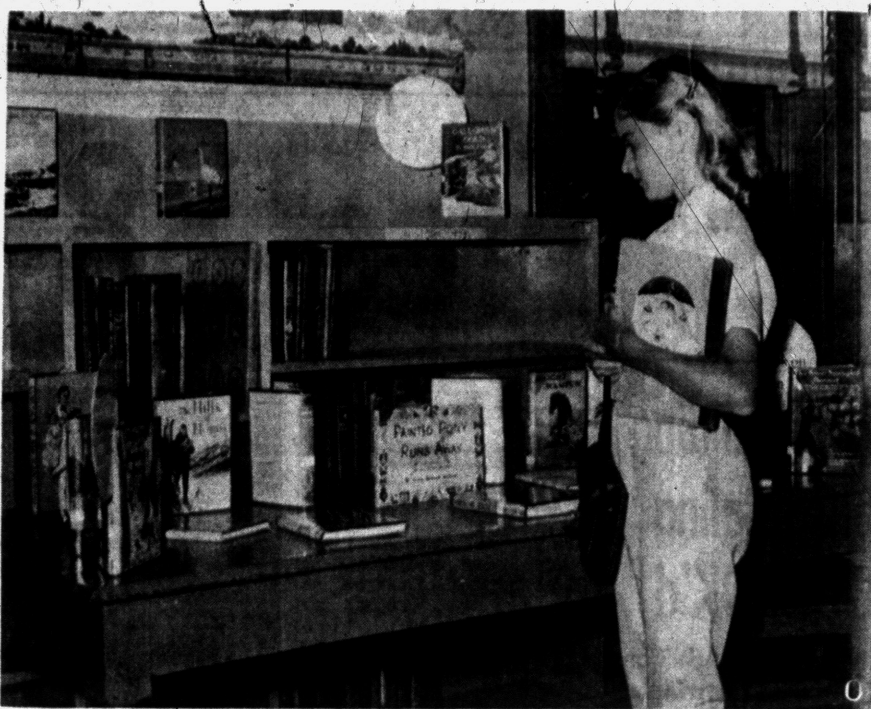

The wholesale tankwagon prices was cut last May in the metropolitan area, but there has been an upward trend in prices ever since.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—University of California at Los Angeles students had a new complaint today about the cost of higher education. A $40 annual parking fee was announced yesterday for students and teachers driving to their classes. "I won't pay," one student said. "My car isn't even worth $40."

Oldest newspaper in America is the Newport (R.I.) Mercury, which started weekly publication in June of 1758.

SOVIET SPACE DOGHOUSE — Dog models were used in this Soviet rocket chamber designed to carry a pair of canines aloft for short space flights. The chamber, enclosed in parachute pack, was exhibited at the industrial achievement fair in Moscow last February. Moscow radio yesterday announced a space rocket containing two dogs had been launched and returned to earth safely last Thursday. No altitude details were given but the condition of the dogs after landing was reported good.

Would Curb Power of Police Trial Board

Powers of the Pontiac Police Trial Board should be restricted, according to recommendations under study by a committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

The police chief should be outside the board's jurisdiction, according to one recommendation.

Another recommendation says that the establishment of personnel rules for policemen should be left up to such city administrative officers as the City Manager and the Public Safety Director.

The name of the trial board should be changed, according to a third recommendation.

William Kalwitz, chairman of the chamber's Governmental Affairs Committee, said the recommendations may be sent to the chamber's executive board next week for endorsement.

The changes would require amendment of the 1956 charter provisions that broadened the powers of the Trial Board. Under present law, the Trial Board has control

Boy, 15, Drowns Near Lakeside

A 15-year-old Bloomfield Township boy drowned yesterday in Lake Michigan near the village of Lakeside. He was riding the surf on a plastic air mattress when he went down.

The victim was Douglas Buszta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Buszta of 1200 Forest Lane.

State Police at the New Buffalo Post said the 3-by-6-foot air mattress apparently had a faulty valve and deflated.

Douglas' grandfather, Arthur Deppman of Lakeside, was on the beach but was prevented by the surf from rescuing the boy.

Richard Hinds, a skin diver from the state police post recovered the body 10 minutes later. Douglas went under in eight feet of water. A resuscitator was used in a vain effort to revive the youth.

sight outside the breakwater. They stood for hours in the streets during the day. They were still waiting late Monday night to see her, escorted by 40 Medinah Shriners troopers riding black horses, as she came and left the hotel where the banquet was held.

They held children on their shoulders as her cortege passed. Those in the rear turned their backs and lifted mirrors—periscope-style—to look at her.

Everything went according to schedule in the tightly meshed arrangements. Two unexpected events were added.

First, Elizabeth lost a filling in one of her back teeth. She spent a quick 20 minutes in the dentist's chair while Dr. Norman R. Olson fitted a temporary filling.

Next, a police bomb squad scurried to the Museum of Science and Industry after an anonymous telephone call said the building would be blown up while the Queen and Philip were inside.

"A phony," said Commissioner O'Connor. "Somebody just decided to make a telephone call." The Queen's tour, basically, is a public relations assignment.

She has been traveling across Canada, appearing in small towns as well as the major cities, visiting industrial plants, schools, hospitals, decorating regiments.

Through it all, she has sounded the same theme—unity in the Commonwealth.

Her appearance in Chicago, the only major visit to an American city, was for the same purpose, to strengthen the bonds between the Commonwealth and the United States.

It was a brilliant success. Admiring comments came from people as she passed. "Isn't she lovely?" "She certainly looks like a queen." "It was a thrill that comes once in a lifetime."

Chicago newspapers were even more extravagant. They reported she had captured the city, and called her visit "a day-long love affair."

The Queen returned the compliment in a graceful set of remarks.

"In this city of Chicago," she said, "in this state of Illinois, in this central area of the Middle West, and throughout these great and United States of America, the reality of your friendship has been proved in our common endeavors, and still gives meaning to our hopes for the future."

"The close relationship between the United States and the Commonwealth strengthens the framework of the free world."

It was a great day for Chicago and unforgettable for the Queen.

Prison Guard Tells His Story

He Triggered Attack on Washington Inmates to Free Hostages

Editor's Note: William McKelvie, guard lieutenant at the Washington State Reformatory, was the man who triggered the officers' attack today that freed hostages held by four inmates. Here is McKelvie's story as told to The Associated Press.

By WILLIAM MCKELVIE
MONROE, Wash. (AP)—When they told me they would roll out my officers dead, I knew we had to move in and take them.

It was a big decision to make. It was even harder knowing those little kids were in there. It really gets a father when he hears a child being held behind bars cry "I want to go home."

We had the rush set up in advance. Officer John Martin was stationed about four feet from the door—flattened out against the wall with the tear gas gun.

The key word for the attack was "Olympia."

I thought it would be easy to bring this word into my conversation with the ringleaders naturally. It was.

I told Richard Murray and Robert Jamin, who were the ringleaders, that I couldn't grant them any concessions without orders from the state capital at Olympia.

That was the word. Martin fired into the room. I reached through the broken glass and unlocked the door from the inside.

I was hoping there was enough gas that I wouldn't get my hand cut off with one of the knives which the convicts had threatened to use.

There were gas-masked officers right behind me. We were all over the convicts within moments. I knew these boys pretty well. I had worked with them ever since they'd been sent here.

I got up periodically during the night—unarmed—to keep them accustomed to seeing me. I think they could have worked themselves into a corner and had to carry out their threat of death to the guards and hostages.

Jamin told me he was "going all the way" because his life was already fouled up.

Murray said he didn't like the way the world was run anyway. It was a tough decision to make, but it was the only way.

And am I glad now. Two of the ladies kissed me after they got out. I got a hug from one of the little boys.

This job may not pay much—but that's reward enough for anyone.

Board of Education Picks New Officers for '59-'60

BIRMINGHAM — Once each year, on the first Monday in July, the Birmingham Board of Education meets for a special reorganization meeting.

Last night, the board sat down at the Hill School and a half hour later, after electing officers and considering water drain bids, had wrapped it up for another year.

Re-elected to the top Board post as president was Mrs. Kathryn T. Loomis. Also re-elected was vice president William Spence.

Bennett W. Root, who served as treasurer last year, was named secretary, replacing Amos F. Gregory, no longer on the Board. Mrs. Alberta Deer, a member of the employ staff, was elected to fill the treasurer's position.

The Board rejected all bids for water cutoff drains at Seaholm High School, and directed its engineers to readvertise. The bids had been taken last month.

An automobile-motor scooter collision in Birmingham yesterday sent a Southfield Township boy to the hospital with lacerations.

Birmingham Police reported the accident occurred at 5 p.m. when an eastbound automobile driven by Mrs. Kenneth C. Martens, 37, of 1240 Lenox Rd., Bloomfield Township, attempted to make a left turn from Maple street and struck a westbound motor scooter operated by James Blondo, 16, of 16926 Beverly Rd., Southfield Township.

Mrs. Martens stated that she did not see the scooter. Police said. She was ticketed for failure to yield right of way.

James, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Blondo, was taken to William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, with lacerations of the right knee. He was treated and released.

appeared ill as he was carried from the room.

A prison guard, William McKelvie, who had talked to the prisoners on several occasions, called two of the convicts to the broken window in the hostage room.

At a signal, McKelvie dropped to the floor and officer John Martin fired a gas blast from a gun almost into the faces of the convicts.

Officers behind them then broke into the room, subdued the convicts and rescued the hostages.

Mary Turner, 24, wife of one of 11 inmates held hostage, said she was asleep holding her baby when the officers rushed the door.

Her husband, Virgil Turner, told her, "It's all right, honey. It's all over."

Mrs. Turner said everyone was calm throughout the 13½-hour ordeal. She said the four rebellious inmates never touched any of the hostages, and even gave them cigarettes.

Reformatory Supt. Ernest Timpani said: "The rescue attempt worked just like clockwork. I'm very proud of my staff."

Timpani said that 10 members of his own staff led the charge and were followed immediately by state patrolmen. He said three of the inmates were knocked unconscious by the tear gas shell.

3 Oakland Area Girls Eye 'Miss Michigan' Title

Three lovely Oakland County area girls will be trying to smile and strut their way to the title of "Miss Michigan" when the annual contest opens tomorrow in Muskegon.

Representing the local area will be Frances Goff, 18, of 4249 Linda Ct., Drayton Plains; Susan Valerie Deem, 18, of 18784 Saratoga Dr., Lathrup Village, and Judith Ann Williamson, 18, of 18159 Center Rd., Armada.

Also among the 23 candidates who hope to carry Michigan's colors into the "Miss America" pageant at Atlantic City in September is Rose Marie de Steiger, 18, Miss East Detroit and sister of former Pontiac Press School Editor Sylvia Cole.

The contest, which will run through Friday when the winner is crowned, carries with it $2,250 in scholarships and other awards. It is in its 10th year under the sponsorship of the Muskegon Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Goff, a sophomore at Michigan State University, enters the contest bearing the title of "Miss Waterford Township," an honor she won last month in a contest staged by the township Junior Chamber of Commerce. Frances is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Goff. Mrs. Goff will accompany Frances as her chaperon.

Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Deem. A ribbon will designate her as "Miss South Oakland County" as judges select "Miss Michigan" and her court of four Friday night after preliminary swim suit and talent competition. Susan was chosen in May in a contest sponsored by the Royal Oak Jaycees. She will enter MSU in September.

Judith is a June graduate of Armada High School and has been accepted at Ford Hospital in Detroit for training as an X-ray technician. Carrying the title of "Miss Mount Clemens," Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Williamson.

The three area girls will be among the 23 as a parade opens the three-day festivities through downtown Muskegon Wednesday night. Gov. Williams is scheduled to serve as parade marshal.

Uncover Ruins of Henry VIII's Greatest Palace

EWELL, England (AP)—Amateur archeologists following an ancient plan, have unearthed the remains of the last and greatest of the five palaces built by Henry VIII.

The foundations of Nonsuch Palace were uncovered Monday by a volunteer team including housewives and students.

Started in 1538, Nonsuch housed four English queens including Elizabeth I, before it was torn down in 1675.

The Seventh Day Baptists' Church in Newport, R. I., is the oldest in the world, being built in 1729.

Cancer Doesn't Run in Families

Six-Year Study Finds No Familial Tendency to Develop Tumors

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A six-year study indicates that cancer does not run in families.

Two scientists arrived at this conclusion after investigating 12,000 relatives of 200 women with breast cancer and 198 women without cancer.

They found no statistical difference in the frequency of cancer among relatives of the cancer-stricken women and relatives of the control group.

The long study, supported by grants from the Commonwealth Fund and the U.S. Public Health Service, was conducted by Dr. Douglas P. Murphy, emeritus professor of gynecology at the University of Pennsylvania, and Helen Abbey, assistant professor of bio statistics at Johns Hopkins University.

"If a familial tendency to develop cancer did exist, it was not large enough to be detected in a study of this size," the scientists said in a report published in pamphlet form this week.

The pamphlet mentions a similar study conducted 10 years ago by one scientist who arrived at the opposite conclusion. His study included interviews with the relatives of 20 women with breast cancer.

The different conclusions were attributed to different methods of conducting the two studies and gathering information. Dr. Murphy and Miss Abbey estimated that the interviewing done by their four field workers would have taken one person, working full time, 25 years.

How to help "1 out of 10" and help yourself, too!

Today, doctors say that 1 out of every 10 Americans has a serious mental problem. You probably come in contact with at least one such person every day—a friend, someone you work with, perhaps even a member of your own family.

This person desperately needs something that you alone can give—your understanding. Here's how you can give it.

First, remember the facts. Serious mental problems are quite widespread today. They're not rare. And they're not hopeless! In most cases, they respond well to modern medical treatment. Second, show the person with such a problem that you understand, sympathize and want to help.

As you do this—as you give your understanding to those with serious problems—learn to understand yourself, too! Learn how to keep your own emotional tensions from making life unhappy for you—and for those around you.

For valuable advice on what you can do about your tensions, send for the free booklet, "How To Deal With Your Tensions". Write: Box 2500, New York 1, New York.

MESC Reports Rise in UP Employment

DETROIT (UPI) — The Michigan Employment Security Commission, in a delayed detailed survey, reported today that employment by May 15 in the Upper Peninsula had increased by 4,200 over April 15.

The MESC said hiring in the lumber and wood products industry, in other manufacturing, in construction and in ship and truck transportation boosted total employment to 70,500. This compared with a low of 65,000 in mid-March.

Employment increases April 15 to May 15 were: Calumet 200; Escanaba 300; Hancock 300; Iron Mountain 500; Iron River 100; Ironwood 100; Ishpeming 200; L'Anse au Loup 100; Marquette 100; Munising 100; Newberry 200; Ontonagon 200; St. Ignace 200; Sault Ste. Marie, 600.

Added industry employment at Menominee was offset partly by losses in other areas, the MESC said.

The MESC also reported the Detroit's May 15 employment of 1,156,500 was the highest since January, 1958, largely due to spring hiring in non-manufacturing industries.

GOP Considers Ex-Mayor to Oppose McNamara

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Former Mayor Paul G. Goebel today said he has been contacted as a possible Republican candidate to oppose Sen. Patrick V. McNamara (D-Mich) in 1960.

"I have been approached, I'll admit," Goebel said, "and I'm not saying 'no' but neither am I saying 'yes'."

He added: "I am not seeking the nomination, but feel that if I can be of any service I would be happy to do so. I don't believe any decision has to be made at this moment."

Goebel operates a sport goods shop in Grand Rapids. He served three terms as mayor. Goebel was elected in 1950, re-elected in 1952, defeated in 1954, and returned to office in 1956. He retired to private business last year.

Houston Integration Plan Due in 6 Weeks

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Six weeks from today—two weeks before school opening—the Houston School Board will be asked what plans it has for integration of the nation's largest segregated school system.

Board members and school attorneys decline to say what plan will be offered to the court.

U. S. Dist. Judge Ben Connally recently ordered the board to file by Aug. 17 a progress report on steps taken toward complying with his order to end racial segregation in the schools.

His original order Oct. 15, 1957, told the district to desegregate "with all deliberate speed." The district has about 180,000 pupils, about 26 per cent of them Negro.

U.S. Offers Burma $37 Million in Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Monday offered to give the Burmese government up to 37 million dollars to help finance economic development projects.

The State Department advised Burma it would make the funds available over the next four years to help build a modern highway connecting Rangoon and central Burma and to construct dormitory-classroom facilities at the University of Rangoon.

Until now, the Burmese government—steering a neutrality course in the cold war—has rejected gift aid from both Russia and the West.

British Thor Bases Near Set

U.S. Supplies Missiles and English Command NATO Arsenal

LONDON (AP)—The vice chief of Britain's Air Staff says Thor intermediate range ballistic rocket bases begin set up in England for the U.S.-supplied missiles are about ready for use in the event of war.

Air Marshal Sir Edmund C. Huddleston told touring American newsmen the bases are "approximately ready to go" in any emergency.

The British rocket bases are the first being built in Europe to strengthen NATO defenses. Italy has also agreed to the establishment of bases for the American rockets despite Soviet protests.

While the British have command of the Thor bases in England, the Americans retain control of their nuclear warheads. U.S. law requires that a nuclear weapon can be fired by American forces only on the specific order of the President.

British air leaders decline to give the date when the Thor bases will be fully operational.

The Thor has a range of up to 1,700 miles. Twenty bases, with three missiles each, are being strung out up to 100 miles apart, from East Anglia almost to Scotland.

The British are looking into the possibility of establishing underground launching facilities for the Thor.

The 2,190-ton craft, built at Portsmouth Navy Yard, is scheduled to visit Cape Canaveral, and then proceed to her Pearl Harbor base by way of the Panama Canal. She is expected to reach Hawaii during the last week in July.

'I Prayed and I Knew ...'

Find Mother of 3 Lost in Yosemite Park 5 Days

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif. (AP) — "I prayed and I knew they'd find me, I knew I was to see my husband and children again."

That is the way Maria Hendrika Lip, 38, summed up the five days she wandered lost among Yosemite's big trees while 75 men and a pack of bloodhounds hunted her.

"I just got lost," she explained after rangers Buck Evans and Del Armstrong found her Monday morning, sitting on a rock near the Merced River.

An experienced hiker, she became confused by crisscrossing trails in Wawona Grove while walking alone Wednesday afternoon.

She was hungry and her legs were scratched, but otherwise unhurt when found. Until she found the river, she had hunted scattered patches of snow for water and wild gooseberries for food.

Wearing only shorts, a blouse and tennis shoes, she shivered as she huddled at night under rock cliffs in 38-degree temperatures in this High Sierra National Park.

Evans and Armstrong, who had hunted along the river after the track of a single tennis shoe was found, estimated she had wandered 25 miles.

They gave her emergency rations and then took her to Big Trees Lodge at Wawona for a reunion with her husband, Otto. He had sent home their three daughters, Nellie, 10, Rosine, 8, and Katrina, 6. Their home is at Byron, 20 miles west of Stockton, Calif., where Lip manages a farm.

Lords of Sunset Give Up Rights

Once Governed Most of Burma and Some Parts of Thailand

WASHINGTON — The Lords of Sunset have surrendered their centuries-old right to govern the Shan States of Burma.

The Lords are the Sawbwas, feudal chieftains who have dominated the rugged, high plateaus of eastern Burma since the 13th century. The Sawbwas — members of the Shan race that originated in the mountains of western China — once ruled most of Burma and parts of adjacent Thailand.

Sawbwa power was enforced by troops of skilled spearmen, expert in fighting from elephant-back. In modern times, however, the domain of the chieftains was confined to the 33 Shan States covering 58,000 square miles, the National Geographic Society says.

Under British rule for 70 years, the Sawbwas retained rights to tax and maintain their own police force and courts, but lost life-and-death power over their subjects. Negotiations to end the remaining feudal rights have continued off and on since Burma became independent in 1948.

The Shan States occupy plateaus and plains corrugated by north-south mountain ranges and deeply gorged by the Salween River and its tributaries. Tree-girt villages and rice fields dot the undulating uplands. Dense bamboo thickets provide material for everything from houses to hats. Craggy western hills overlooking China recall the stylized effects of Chinese paintings.

The Shans are generally a happy, pleasure-loving people, friendly and hospitable. They enjoy gambling, a recreation that may have given rise to one of their proverbs: "Money is like a flea; it skips away, here a minute, then who can say where it has gone."

The happy-go-lucky Shans also are expert watermen. They think nothing of shooting over boisterous rapids in narrow dugout canoes.

Each April, a great festival is held in Shan villages to welcome the new year. After a day of picnicking, large bamboo skyrocketers, propelled by gunpowder, are launched. As the rockets whistle shrilly through the air, men, women and children shout for joy, dash across the field and gather around the fallen rockets.

Shan men often tattoo themselves from neck to knee with intricate designs. The tattooing began as a charm to ward off sickness and injury. Now the designs are a matter of pride and a symbol of manhood.

Sport's Boom Brings Tragedies

Boating Deaths on Rise

By The Associated Press

The increase of dangers accompanying the boom in boating was demonstrated tragically by the deaths of at least 60 persons in boating accidents during the nation's two-day Independence Day celebration.

Collisions were rare in the fatal accidents, but the crash of a cabin cruiser and an auto ferry was the holiday's most serious accident, killing six occupants of the cruiser. The collision occurred Saturday on Lake Michigan off Muskegon, Mich.

Four of eight persons in a home-made motor boat died when the boat capsized in Efer Lake near Corinth, N. Y.

There were several other boating accidents which killed more than one person.

Tragedy in many boating accidents was prevented by the work of Coast Guardsmen, lifeguards and individual boaters. The holiday weekend climaxed a 9-day "Safe Boating Week" supported by boating organizations. The campaign ended Sunday.

Doyle last was seen June 30 in Seney, 40 miles east of here on M28. His car was found in a ditch in the wooded area. He lived in Seney.

Navy Men in Detroit on Best Behavior

DETROIT — The U.S. Navy, which doesn't very often get to Detroit in its present manner, likes the town.

Further, its men are well behaved.

Capt. P. F. Hauck, squadron commander of the four destroyers berthed on the Detroit River, told Mayor Louis C. Miriani at a formal reception yesterday that Detroit's hospitality has been "wonderful."

Capt. Hauck also said that in his 27 years service he never saw a shore leave record like the one of the 1,200 men from the four ships. Not one has been put in the brig or jail, he said.

The destroyers, taking part in Operation Inland Seas, leave tomorrow for Duluth. On the way back they'll visit Bay City.

124 Million Americans Have Life Insurance

NEW YORK (UPI)—Americans own more than half a trillion dollars worth of life insurance, or an average of more than $11,000 per insured family, according to the Institute of Life Insurance. There are some 124 million policyholders in the U.S.

In 1900 Americans held only $7,573,000,000 worth of life insurance. The 100 billion dollar mark was passed in 1928, the 200 billion mark in 1948, the 300 billion mark in 1953, the 400 billion mark in 1956 and the half trillion mark this year.

Driver Flying High

PACOIMA, Calif. (UPI)—Police said that when they stopped Mary Elizabeth Savoy, 40, for dangerous driving last night, she told them: "I don't drive a car. I'm a rocket ship pilot for the U. S. government."

She was booked on suspicion of drunken driving.

Feed Untouched by Human Hands

FALL RIVER, Mass. (UPI) — The traditional picture of the farmer's wife throwing grain to the chickens is a thing of the past, at least on the poultry farm of John N. Costa.
Costa has a new installation that blows the feed from the farmyard into a storage bin on the top floor of the hen house. The feed is dispensed to the chickens on a miniature electric railroad system which deposits a given amount of food in each section of the three-story house.
The Costas not only don't throw the feed to the chickens any more, they don't even handle it.
