Hoffa Splits Even in Two Battles

First Hurricane Nears Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Hurricane Audrey, a storm with winds of 100 miles per hour, today continued its slow drive toward the Louisiana coast.

The Weather Bureau expected the first hurricane of the season to reach the coast by late tomorrow.

Residents in exposed areas along the lowlands were advised to evacuate.

Audrey was centered in the Gulf of Mexico about 400 miles southwest of New Orleans this morning.

It was moving slowly north or a bit northeast. Gales extended from its center 150 to 200 miles.

Although the full force of the hurricane was not expected to reach the coast until tomorrow, the Weather Bureau warned that gales would hit the mainland tonight.

Tides were rising and were expected to reach five to eight feet along the Louisiana coast and over the nearby Mississippi sound.

Evacuation from oil rigs in the Gulf of Mexico started last night.

Civil Defense directors reported plans to evacuate residents from Grand Isle, a fishing and resort center about 50 airline miles south of New Orleans.

The Weather Bureau posted storm warnings all along the Gulf from Galveston, Tex. to Pensacola, Fla. Hurricane warnings flew along the entire Louisiana coast.

Small vessels from Brownsville, Tex. to Panama City, Fla., were advised to stay in port.

Winds hit the 100 m.p.h. mark late yesterday and a further buildup was predicted.

Cost of School Under Estimates

Firms Bid $3,025,000 to Build Upper Grade Structure in City

The new Pontiac high school will cost about $3,025,000, three per cent less than the architect's estimates on the basis of bids opened last night. The figures will be presented to the Board of Education tomorrow night.

Eight firms bid on the general trades portion of the building with the low bid of $2,043,000 submitted by Spence Bros. of Saginaw.

Next lowest bidder was Bryant and Detwiler, of Detroit, $2,047,055.

The low bidders' prices on four alternates to basic specifications were as follows:

Alternate 1 (steel sash instead of aluminum), $8,000 more.

COSTS MORE

Alternate 2 (terrazzo corridor floors instead of asphalt tile), $29,000 more.

Alternate 3 (a 300-car parking lot), $26,000 more.

Alternate 4 (acoustical corridor ceilings), $9,500 more.

Bryant and Detwiler's bids on the same alternates were: 1. $9,622; 2. $23,402; 3. $26,154; 4. $8,090.

Eleven bidders sought the mechanical trades contract, with the low bid of $592,200 coming from Brodell Plumbing and Heating Co., Roseville.

The firm's price for Alternate 3 was $4,230.

The electrical trades brought seven bids with the low one of $323,124 offered by Hamill Electric Co., of Detroit. For alternate 3 the firm asked $4,000 more, while for alternate 4 they subtracted $500.

A separate item, not included in the high school cost, was for kitchen equipment. Low bidder was Gold Star Products, of Detroit, with $43,781. Six bids were received on this contract.

METAL LOCKERS

Another separate item was metal lockers. Lyon Metal Products, Inc., of Detroit, was low with a bid of $23,400 among the three submitted.

Including some of the alternates, the total base bids were $3,025,000, compared with the advance estimate by Eberle Smith and Associates, of Detorit, the architects, of $3,125,000.

Construction of the new high school, with an initial capacity of 800 students, is expected to begin this year and completion is scheduled for the fall of 1958. The school will share the 107 acre site now occupied by Madison Junior High School.

Police Officer Returns to Job

Suspended by Straley, Patrolman Put Back by City Manager

Suspension of Patrolman Louis Romeos by Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley was overruled by City Manager Walter K. Willman yesterday because of "a possible doubt as to the legality of the suspension," Willman announced today.

Romeos was ordered back on the job yesterday afternoon after a ruling of William A. Ewart, city attorney, Willman explained.

The suspension was protested by Paul L. Merideth, attorney for the Pontiac Police Officer's Association, who claimed the act specifies the suspension power rests with the appointing officer who is Willman and not Straley. Ewart agreed.

Willman said he plans no action against the chief for violating the law, but added, "He has my sympathy. I think the chief should have the power of suspension."

NO ASSIGNMENT

Romeos reported for his regular shift at 2:45 p.m. yesterday but was informed that he had no assignment. He returned to duty at 5:15, after Merideth and Willman talked over the law on the telephone.

Crash Kills Pilot, Wife in Back Yard

DERMOTT, Ark. (AP)—A pilot and a farm wife were killed when a flaming Air Force jet training plane crashed near here yesterday, setting a farm house afire.

The victims were Lt. Donald G. Biedenbach, 25, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Biedenbach, live at New Baden, Ill.; and Mrs. Slater C. Jones, about 70.

Mrs. Jones was feeding chickens in her back yard. Her husband, inside the house, was not injured.

★ ★ ★

The body of Biedenbach, his partly opened parachute still strapped on, was found about half a mile from the scene of the crash.

W. C. Hartwick, a neighbor of Mr. and Mrs. Jones, said he saw the plane circling the scattered farming community of Bellaire. Hartwick said the plane struck a utility pole and burst into flames.

The blazing plane burned a path through the tree tops and then crashed into the rear of the four-room house. Part of the house was destroyed by the crash and by fire.

The plane was based at Greenville Air Force Base, about 30 miles east of here.

Biedenbach's wife and year-old son have been living at Greenville.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Jones is survived by four sons and three daughters.

Cheasty Tells Court of Session With Teamster

Says He Turned Over Senate Secrets to Boss on Washington Street

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lawyer-investigator John Cye Cheasty testified today he first turned over Senate Rackets Committee secrets to Jimmy Hoffa in a prearranged rush hour conference on a downtown Washington street.

Cheasty fixed the date as Feb. 19 and said he remembered it well because there was a raging snowstorm and Hoffa, Midwest boss of the Teamsters Union, showed up without a hat.

"I commented on that," Cheasty said, "and Hoffa told me he never wore a hat."

Cheasty, who related that by this time he had secretly told the Rackets Committee he had agreed to spy on its operations for Hoffa, said he told Hoffa about committee plans to investigate West Coast units of the Teamsters Union.

Hoffa and Hyman I. Fischbach, Miami attorney, are jointly on trial in U. S. District Court on charges of bribing Cheasty to get a job with the Rackets Committee and feed Hoffa the committee's secret plans.

TOLD HOFFA

Cheasty said that at the Feb. 19 meeting he told Hoffa about plans to subpoena West Coast Teamsters boss Frank Brewster, Oregon Teamsters chief Clyde Crosby, Chicago labor-management adviser Nathan Shefferman and Hy Goldbaum, another prospective rackets committee witness. All four subsequently did testify.

Cheasty testified he made surreptitious phone calls to Hoffa and Fischbach but that FBI agents always were at his elbow knowing what he was doing.

Edward P. Troxell, the prosecuting attorney, frequently asked whether any of these calls were recorded. Cheasty said there never was any recording, monitoring or interception of any of these calls.

Cheasty testfied yesterday that

Brewster Guilty on 31 Counts

Rule Teamster Leader in Contempt on Refusal to Answer Probers

WASHINGTON (INS) — Federal Judge John J. Sirica today found Teamsters Union Vice President Frank W. Brewster guilty on 31 counts of contempt of Congress.

The judge announced his decision after rejecting a defense motion for further delay pending new arguments based on recent Supreme Court decisions on contempt cases.

Brewster was not present in the courtroom. He had been excused by the judge so he could attend a Teamsters Union conference on the West Coast.

The judge ruled that Brewster's $1,000 bond should be continued and delayed sentencing until he receives a report from probation officers, a general practice among district judges in Washington

Brewster was charged with refusing on 31 different occasions to answer questions, produce documents, or identify documents, or signatures before the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee in January.

Brewster's case will be carried to the court of appeals and the labor leader will remain free on bond until the higher courts make a final ruling.

Ike Names Burgess for NATO Council Spot

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today nominated W. Randolph Burgess, now undersecretary of the Treasury, to be U.S. permanent representative on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council.

Burgess, whose plans to leave the Treasury Department were announced earlier, would succeed George W. Perkins in the NATO post. The nomination is subject to Senate confirmation.

Pontiac Faction Snubbed in Bid to Oust Chieftain

Insurgents Vow They'll Continue Their Fight to End Trusteeship

An officer of the Teamsters International has snubbed a faction of Pontiac Teamsters in their campaign to end James R. Hoffa's trusteeship over Local 614 here.

A spokesman for the insurgent group accused John F. English, secretary-treasurer of the huge union, of "passing the buck" to Dave Beck, Teamsters' president.

English wired a rank-and-file committee: "Trusteeships of local unions are not the jurisdiction of the general secretary-treasurer. Any decision with respect thereto must come from the office of the general president."

William F. Bellinger, of Drayton Plains, and a leader of the anti-Hoffa fight, said he believed according to the International Constitution English has jurisdiction.

"We feel that he has let us down in not taking some action," Bellinger said. "And he's passing the buck right back to the man we're trying to get around."

Leaders of the move charge international officers as far back as 1953 with refusing to sympathize with their grievances. They seek also an election from among their rank-and-file number.

★ ★ ★

Bellinger said the group would now appeal to George Meany, president of the Joint Council of the AFL-CIO.

"If we don't get anywhere here," he said, "we're going to have to rely on the McClellan committee to come here and bring things in the open."

The group had picketed the Pontiac headquarters at 1410 S. Telegraph Rd. for nine days seeking settlement of the grievances.

★ ★ ★

When union officers stood pat, they looked to English, reportedly Beck's number one foe, for the help that didn't come.

Pontiac Awarded First Place Prize in Safety Contest

Pontiac has earned a first place tie with Roanoke, Va. in the 1956 National Pedestrian Protection contest sponsored by the American Automobile Assn.

City Commissioners last night were informed of the award.

There were 197 cities in the 50,000 to 100,000 population class in which Pontiac's record was judged.

The commendation cited that a 45 to 50 per cent countrywide decrease in pedestrian deaths since 1937 was a "clear indication that improving pedestrian programs, such as yours, reflexes on a nationwide basis."

Special recognition, the association said, should go to Lt. Joseph Koren, director of the Traffic and Safety Bureau of the police department, and to Theodore M. Vanderstempel, traffic engineer for the city.

Ike Labeled 'Fire Brand'

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda today called President Eisenhower a "firebrand."

Other papers in the Moscow capital blossomed out with articles unfriendly to the United States in what appeared to be an attempt to counteract unfavorable publicity the Soviet Union received in the recent U.N. report on Hungary.

Rarely does the Soviet press attack President Eisenhower by name, but a headline in the official Communist party newspaper referred to him as a "firebrand" for expressing hopes for the freedom of Communist states in Eastern Europe.

The Soviet army newspaper Red Star said American forces on Formosa have started a mass exile of 500,000 Formosans to remote Pacific islands, "where slow death awaits them."

It said tens of thousands of Chinese youths were thrown into concentration camps after the recent riot in which the U.S. Embassy was sacked.

The newspaper said the Americans have sent out secret orders to mobilize all American transports in Japan, South Viet Nam, South Korea and the Philippines to carry half a million Formosans to exile.

Ike Lauds National Merger

Two Denominations Form United Church of Christ

CLEVELAND (AP)—A major new church—molded of the diverse elements of two historic old denominations—emerged on the American scene today.

President Eisenhower sent his commendations, saying:

"Now, together, your services to God and neighbor will gain new strength and inspiration."

Merged into a single communion were the national bodies of the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Affected are about 1,400,000 Congregationalists and 800,000 E. & R. Church members in 8,311 congregations across the country.

Their new denomination: The United Church of Christ.

It was ushered into being last night with pomp and worship and solemn vows.

Standing before the assemblage, the Rev. Dr. Douglas Horton, a long-time leader in the unification move and now president of Harvard Divinity School, spread his hands and prayed.

"O Lord . . . speak peace and ever deeper mutual understanding to us in the years to come . . . Seal our covenant and bless our communion as we yield ourselves to Thee . . ."

The consolidation is the first to breach the wall between the two broad wings of U.S. Protestantism with their differing approaches to church government.

The sun still shone brightly in the west, but there was a cooling

Some Reject Merger

Five Congregational Churches in Oakland County have rejected the merger with the Evangelical and Reformed Church. They are the Pontiac, Birmingham, Royal Oak, Lathrup and North Church of Southfield. Dr. George V. Bohman, trustee of the Detroit Congregational Assn's reports that many churches in the state have as yet reached no decision. Those rejecting the merger will continue as autonomous Congregational churches.

Where Canal Work Was Completed 130 Years Ago

Mark Historical Spot Near Rochester

By JOE HAAS

The first of 49 markers to designate historical spots of statewide significance is being erected today at the Rochester state park. The work is a project of the Michigan Historical Commission.

JOE HAAS

This plaque marks the west end of the completed work on a canal that was to cross Michigan from Lake St. Clair to Lake Michigan. It was started near the mouth of the Clinton River 130 years ago.

FOLLOWED RIVER

The excavation was completed across Macomb County and into Oakland County as far as the present site of Rochester, largely following the course of the Clinton River. However, for several miles in Macomb County it left that stream and went directly across a rural section where it still remains as a big drainage ditch, with a highway along its banks.

This highway was originally the tow path on which walked the horses and mules that provided the motive power for the canal boats.

★ ★ ★

While the marker is not located on the exact spot that the work was terminated, it is the logical location on account of being in the park and its ease of access.

PRINCIPAL PROJECT

The canal, which was to pass through Pontiac and be the principal project in a waterways system that was to be the outlet for Michigan's commerce was financed largely by capital coming from England.

It was abandoned with the advent of steam power and the coming of the railroad, which opened up this area, starting at Detroit in the 1830s and reaching Pontiac in 1844.

Willard Wilchers of Holland, president of the Michigan Historical Commission, comes here for the marker dedication today. Assisting in the work is the Oakland County Historical Commission, of which Ernest Huthwaite is the president.

★ ★ ★

Vice president of the state commission is Mrs. Donald E. Adams of Drayton Plains. Dr. George May of the state commission staff also comes here for the dedication ceremonies.

The Wisner Home on Oakland avenue in Pontiac is next in line among the Oakland County sites that are deemed to have more than a local historical significance, and will later be given such a marker.

Ike Predicts 'Safe' H-Bomb

Experts Say They Can Perfect Nuclear Device 100 Pct. Free of Fallout

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower said today the nation's atomic scientists tell him that they will be able to build an H-Bomb completely free of radioactive fallout if they can continue testing.

Eisenhower expressed hope that Russia also will learn to produce such a "clean" bomb so that there can never be the uncontrolled damage that could be spread by radioactivity in event of war.

The chief executive emphasized at his news conference, however, that he believes the United States should still go ahead working for an agreement for suspension of atomic tests.

He gave the impression that he may have changed his position somewhat on the pros and cons of the suspension issue after talking with three atomic scientists Monday.

ALSO COMMENTED

Eisenhower also had these comments on other subjects:

—There are no definite plans to reduce U.S. military forces in any countries other than Japan, though conversion to modern weapons will eventually lower manpower requirements.

★ ★ ★

—Probably everybody has had very great trouble understanding some of the Supreme Court's recent decisions, but Americans should continue to respect the high tribunal.

★ ★ ★

—There is real danger of inflation unless both business and labor exercise statesmanship in holding off unnecessary wage and price increases.

Public Rushes to Help Stanley Allen Family

Money and grocries have poured into the Stanley R. Allen home at 80 Collier Rd. after the public learned of Allen's plight following an April 10 automobile crash.

The family reported that $112 has been received, along with $70 worth of groceries, and an offer by a Clarkston man for the four Allens to occupy his home.

By E. H. SIMS

For years people have argued the question whether the caterpillar can predict the kind of winter ahead. The argument has just about been settled.

The caterpillar, it seems, develops a wide brown band in the middle when a mild winter is ahead. That is what people have said for centuries, and no less an authority on weather than Eric Sloane, probably the most widely-known expert on the subject, reports that scientific investigation of the old belief supports the folklore.

It is said that the caterpillar is one of the best of nature's clues to the coming winter. So look over the caterpillars before winter this year—or at least one of them.

If the brown band in his middle is wide, longer than the combined length of black on each end, then expect a warm winter. If the band is narrow, the coming winter will probably be severe. This caterpillar forecaster is known as the "woolly bear."

BREATHING RHYTHM — The pictures show the proper position of the head in breathing while swimming. Turn the head (top picture) out of the water and inhale through the mouth. Rotate the head (bottom picture) back into the water and exhale. This is repeated for each breath. The girl in the pictures used for illustration in the series has been Ann Pirochta, of 2785 Shimmons road, a Pontiac High School student.

Want to Get in the Swim? Learn Rhythmic Breathing

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a special series on swimming. Today's lesson will cover the mechanics of breathing while swimming, with discussion of the crawl stroke scheduled for Thursday and the backstroke for Friday.)

Having worked on floating and kicking, today we will cover breathing in the water — the final step before actual swimming instruction.

The key to correct breathing is establishing a rhythm which will allow you to exhale underwater and inhale while your head is out of water.

The first step is to pick the arm which you will breath "under." As this arm comes up and out of the water in the stroke, your head turns to inhale, submerging as the arm cuts back into the water.

While that arm is pulling down and through, the breath is exhaled through the nose into the water.

★ ★ ★

As the arm finishes the propulsion stroke, it comes back out of the water and the head turns to inhale.

KEEP RYTHM

This pattern is a steady, rhythmic progress, not a choppy, in and out movement.

To practice this breathing movement, again find some shallow water, about waist deep or so.

Bend forward until the top of the body is at surface level, as it will be while swimming.

Then slowly start the rhythm, inhaling on the recovery of your chosen arm and exhaling on its down stroke in the water. Gradually speed up the movement until it is about swimming speed and practice at this level for awhile.

★ ★ ★

This breathing pattern may be varied by more advanced swimmers or racing swimmers by taking the breath on alternate recoveries of the arm. But this is not advisable for beginning swimmers.

Tomorrow the breathing and kicking will be combined with the crawl stroke to produce the complete swimming action.

Patrolman Returned to Job by Manager

Service Commission said yesterday he did not think the commission would press charges against Straley for violating the act if Romeos was satisfied with Willman's decision.

Carlson, who was the first to declare Straley's action illegal, added the chief had violated the law in three aspects. He claims Straley has no authority to suspend an officer because that is the job of the city manager. Straley did not present the required list of charges to Romeos before he was suspended and, "in my opinion, I can't see any reason of insubordination."

"If certain people find themselves incompatible with the act, certainly resignations are in order," Carlson declared.

"The law is here to stay and we, as the commission, are determined to make it work. It's the only way we will get harmony in the department. Then the rookie can feel he has a chance to be chief as much as anyone else."

THEODORE E. WIERSEMA

Appointed last night to the Pontiac Public Housing Commission was Theodore E. Wiersema, of 316 W. Iroquois Rd. Wiersema, principal of Jefferson Junior High School, will fill out the unexpired term of Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein, who resigned this year to accept a position out-state. Wiersema's term will expire June 25, 1960.

Two Denominations Complete Merger

breeze as a colorful procession, 10 blocks long and 1,000 strong, threaded slowly through downtown Cleveland to Public Music Hall, where some 3,000 gathered for the merger ceremonies.

COLORFUL SCENE

Flags of missionary lands and other banners flew along the long line of laymen and clergymen, many of them clad in academic robes with scarlet hoods or stoles.

Led by a band of trumpeters, the representatives of the two churches filed side by side into the city's music hall, hymnbooks in hand, singing spiritedly "Faith of Our Fathers" and "Onward Christian Soldiers."

At the moment of formal unification, they intoned in unison: "We do now . . . declare ourselves to be one body and our union consummated . . . in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit."

CLASP HANDS

Leaders of the two churches, standing on the stage before a tall, candle-lit cross, clasped hands firmly.

"Blest be the tie that binds our hearts in Christian love," said the Rev. Dr. Fred Hoskins, executive minister of the Congregational Christian General Council.

Responded the Rev. Dr. James E. Wagner, president of the E. and R. Church: "The fellowship of kindred minds is like to that above."

★ ★ ★

The delegates then rose, and joining hands throughout the auditorium, echoed the words of the hymn in hearty song.

★ ★ ★

The occasion climaxed 17 painstaking, sometimes troubious years of negotiations, delayed for one four-year period by a lawsuit.

STARTED WITH PILGRIMS

The Congregational Christians, whose spiritual ancestors were the Pilgrims who came to this country on the Mayflower 350 years ago, developed their churches from British Protestantism. They emphasize the freedom of each individual congregation.

The Evangelical and Reformed Church, whose progenitors came to this country in the early 1700s, arose from the Swiss and German Reformation movements. Their church governing structure is more regularized.

★ ★ ★

To effect the bond between these two forms of government—known generally in Protestantism as "free church" and "presbyterian" polity—the union agreement allows each church to determine its own "voluntary relationship" to denominational agencies.

★ ★ ★

It is the bringing together of groups from these two general classifications that makes the merger a milestone in the annals of Protestant unity efforts.

Representatives of 30 other denominations, some of whom have indicated they eventually seek to join the newly united church, attended the ceremonies.

An agreement, called a "basis of union," is to regulate the affairs of the new denomination until a full constitution is written and approved by two-thirds of the Congregational Christian Churches and of the 34 E. and R. regional synods.

★ ★ ★

A minority of Congregational Christian Churches still is opposing the merger. Four of them have a new legal challenge pending in federal court in New York.

New Member to Join Hospital Board, 2 Stay

Two former members were returned to the Board of Trustees of Pontiac General Hospital last night, along with a new member to replace veteran trustee Joseph Jones.

Re-appointed to new four-year terms beginning July 1 were the Rev. Theodore R. Allebach and Cecil J. Cosgrove.

Replacing Jones, of 85 Bagley St., and a member of the board since its inception in 1952, is Isaac Smoot, 40 of 246 S. Johnson Ave.

Asked why Jones failed to be renamed, Commissioner Roy V. Cooley, who nominated Smoot, said: "A little new blood is good now and then on the board."

NO SHAKEUP

He denied that the end of Jones' tenure signaled the start of a shakeup by the City Commission of the 11-member board which has often been rocked by dissention.

Rev. Allebach, pastor of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, and Cosgrove, a GMC Truck & Coach statistician, were two of four new board members appointed last December.

Smoot, a Pontiac Motor production worker and a shop committeeman for Pontiac Motor Local 653 UAW, will begin his four-year term July 1.

Jones is the first of the original seven members of the board to leave. He said he believed the change resulted from a hospital survey recommendation that no member serve more than two successive two-year terms.

Showers Pelt East, Midwest; West Stays Fair

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain or thundershowers pelted parts of the East and Midwest today but mostly fair weather prevailed in the West.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms broke out in parts of Minnesota and eastern North Dakota southward into northern Missouri and eastward across portions of the Great Lakes. Scattered thunderstorms also developed in parts of Kansas.

Another band of rain dampened the North Atlantic coast states with occasional rain extending southward into sections of the middle and south Atlantic states.

Hurricane Audrey still made no contact with land in the Gulf of Mexico, but Texas civil defense authorities advised residents along the lower end of Bolivar Peninsula to evacuate because of possible high tides.

News Flash

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Five miners were trapped in a hillside today when the walls of a slope mine collapsed around them. The accident was at Powhatan No. 2 Mine at Fernwood, about 14 miles southwest of here. One report was that the men still were getting air. Attempts were being made to drill into the mine with an auger.

Power Convention Has Dim Opening

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Public Power Assn. opened its annual convention yesterday and immediately ran into a crisis — a power shortage.

A light failed on the speakers' podium at convention headquarters. The orators had to squint at their texts.

The exhibitors found the power too weak to operate the equipment on display.

Junior Equestrians Put on Good Show

Some of the best junior equestrian performances seen in many a day at Bloomfield Open Hunt club marked the first action today in Detroit Horse Show. Youngsters riding in the BOH open elementary dressage class gave what veteran observers say was a really outstanding performance. Most of the riders were under 18 years of age.

★ ★ ★

Results of this competition, and that in the USET (U. S. Equestrian Team) equitation medal event were still under compilation to determine the winners. This condition also applied to the Prix Caprilli, in which Howdie Miller and Randy Grant rode very good tests over the difficult course.

Today's entire competition is on dressage.

Focal point of the day's events is the afternoon start of the Three-Day-Event dressage test, one of the most gruelling and difficult tests in this classification.

Lawyer on Stand in Hoffa's Trial

he and Fischbach went to Detroit to see Hoffa last Feb. 13.

He said Hoffa agreed to pay Cheasty $18,000 to get hired as a staff investigator of the Senate committee and slip Hoffa what he could find out.

CHECK UP

Among other assignments he got from Hoffa, Cheasty related, was to "check up" on Edward Cheyfitz, a lawyer-public relations man. Cheyfitz is associated with Edward Bennett Williams, Hoffa's attorney at the present trial. Cheyfitz formerly handled public relations for Teamsters President Dave Beck.

Also, Cheasty said, Hoffa wanted him to find out "what Bob Kennedy is doing visiting Ed Williams' house twice a week." This referred to Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee.

Hoffa told him, Cheasty said, he had arranged for "triple coverage" on the inside doings of the rackets probing committee headed by Sen. McClellan D-Ark. The two other sources, Cheasty said Hoffa told him, were to be "a fellow" on the staff of the late Sen. McCarthy R-Wis. and "one other."

Cheasty said Fischbach later told him "a girl on Capitol Hill" was feeding information to Hoffa.

Cheasty testified that as soon as he could, after returning from Detroit to New York following the conference with Hoffa, he secretly contacted the Senate Rackets Committee's New York office and told Kennedy all about his deal with Hoffa.

Sen. McClellan and Kennedy have said previously that they told Cheasty to "play along" with Hoffa. They allowed Cheasty actually to deliver secret committee files to Hoffa before he was arrested by the FBI on the present bribery-conspiracy charges.

Arrest Boy, 15, After Body Is Found at Edge of Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The body of pretty 10-year-old Shirley Alice Kyle was found half a mile from her home on the north edge of Kansas City early today, and police arrested a 15-year-old neighbor boy with a record of molesting children.

★ ★ ★

The boy, Salvatore Joseph Falbo, was picked up in Kansas City after an intensive manhunt through the night.

★ ★ ★

Shirley's body was hidden in tall grass and underbrush of a ravine about six miles from downtown Kansas City.

★ ★ ★

Her green shorts and striped shirt were partly torn away. There were marks on her face, scratches on her arms and legs. Officers said there were indications she had been strangled and raped.

A throng of 200 searchers had hunted almost six hours after her mother, Mrs. Robert J. Kyle, reported her missing at 7:30 p. m.

Deputy Sheriff John Pitts said an 11-year-old neighbor girl, Carol Clark, told him Shirley and a boy walked off toward a ravine after he told Shirley he wanted to show her something. Carol said she started to follow but the boy told her to go back. That was about 5:15 or 5:30.

★ ★ ★

Police checked Falbo's home. They reported his parents said he had come in about 6:30, cleaned up, dressed and left.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said his record of sex offenses goes back to 1954 and he has been under the care of psychiatrists. He was described as 6 feet tall and about 200 pounds.

Shirley was about 4½ feet tall and weighed about 60. Her dark hair was in pigtails.

★ ★ ★

The girl customarily was left at home to care for a 5-year-old brother while her parents worked. Kyle, a mechanic, was in Columbus, Ind., on a reserve training mission with the 422nd Troop Carrier Wing.

OK Fire Protection Action for City Country Club

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners have authorized Mayor William Roberts and City Clerk Irene Hanley to execute an agreement between the city and the Birmingham Country Club for fire protection service for that organization for the year ending June 30, 1958.

City and country club officers met last week to discuss continuation of fire protection and water service to the club, and an agreement was drawn up.

The country club has agreed to accept a slight increase in fire protection, bringing the fiscal rate to $540 for the coming year. The new fee is based on operating costs of the fire department's in-city service, pro-rated on the assessed valuation of the club as it would appear were the buildings within the city limits.

Club officials have agreed to this basis for computing like services in the future, also.

The water service agreement will be a continuation of former years, wherein the club pays double the current rate paid by in-city users.

Birmingham and Rochester Soroptimist International groups will meet at Devon Gables Thursday for a joint installation of officers and induction of new members.

Sophie Bowman, past president of the Royal Oak club, will use the presentation bouquet service, symbolizing the Soroptimist code of ethics when she installs Marion Schmidt for her second term as president of the Birmingham group.

Other Birmingham officers being seated are Mary Dewey, first vice president; Maxine Muscome, second vice president; Lindo Moore, recording secretary; Fern Hotton, corresponding secretary and Dorothy Dunbar, treasurer. Helen Reye and Mabel Sorensen will take office as members of the board of directors.

New members joining the Birmingham group are Mel Collins, Kay Griffith, Helena Thomas, Naomi Mulholland and Lucile McMurtrie.

Some 22 Birmingham boys left Monday for Ohiyesa Camp, near Holly.

The boys will spend two weeks at camps where programs include swimming, fishing, riding and boating. Classes are available in crafts, camping, and related activities, under the direction of Walter VanBline.

Details concerning openings still available in summer camps may be obtained by contacting the Birmingham YMCA office.

Real estate salesman, Tom Elston, 42, of 4081 W. Maple Rd., Birmingham, was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court following examination before Birmingham Judge John J. Gafill.

Elston was charged with larceny by conversion. He allegedly spent a $3,000 deposit made on a home by a potential customer.

The deal was not transacted and the customer said he didn't get his money back.

Robins Pleads Innocent to Charges of Rape

John Robins Jr., 19, of 240 State Ave., pleaded innocent to charges of statuatory rape Tuesday when he was arraigned before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib.

He was returned to the Oakland County Jail with his bond set at $2,500, to await examination July 1.

Man Pleads Innocent to Indecency Charges

Albert F. Maxwell, 35, of 16551 Roselawn St., Detroit pleaded innocent Tuesday before Farmington Justice John J. Schulte Jr., to charges of taking indecent liberties.

Maxwell is in the Oakland County Jail with his bond set at $1,000 awaiting trial July 5.

Of Foreign Troops on Peninsula

Korean Reds Ask Pullout

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Communist North Korea today called for a broad international conference to arrange the withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea and bring about a peaceful solution to the problem of the divided peninsula.

The demand, made at a meeting of the Joint Military Armistice Commission, was promptly rejected by the U. N. Command as not a proper subject to be taken up at a military conference.

A few hours later Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, speaking to his Parliament in Peiping, gave full support of the conference proposal and denounced U. S. policy in Korea.

The exchange between the U. N. and Communist officials took place across a narrow table in a hot, stuffy building in this truce village. Chung spoke for 15 minutes in Korean. His statement then was translated into Chinese and English.

Nat'l Steel Founder, Ernest Weir, Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Death came today in a Philadelphia hospital for Ernest T. Weir, 81-year-old steelmaster, ardent champion of business' right to operate without interference by the government.

For many years prior to his retirement last April as board chairman and chief executive officer of National Steel Corp., Weir had been the only founder of a steel firm who continued to hold executive office in his company. National is the nation's fifth largest steel producer.

Cause of death was not disclosed immediately by the company spokesman, who said only that Weir had died in a Philadelphia hospital of complications following a heart attack.

Weir had suffered a heart attack last January in Florida. He was hospitalized in New York, after what a company spokesman described as minor surgery, when he announced his decision to retire as board chairman of National.

★ ★ ★

Born in Pittsburgh Aug. 1, 1878, Weir rose from $3-a-week office boy to top executive posts in the steel industry.

Weir was for many years an active Republican leader and a contributor to the party's campaign funds.

Resurgence of Religion Called 'Vocal' by Bishop

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Some churchmen believe there is a resurgence of religion in America, but Catholic Bishop James J. Byrne feels the country's interest is more vocal than spiritual.

★ ★ ★

"There is a large body of persons who profess to believe in God, but do nothing about it," he said at a church meeting. "These may be called the 'lip-servants' of the Lord."

★ ★ ★

"Actually," he said, "what I believe is happening is this: We are losing the lukewarm and we are dividing into the hot and the cold."

Hospital Bars Patients

NORTHVILLE (AP) — Northville State Hospital Tuesday said it would temporarily stop admitting patients because lack of operating money will force "serious" staff reductions. Dr. Robert Yoder, assistant superintendent, said 41 attendant nurses will be laid off beginning with the fiscal year July 1. Four physicians who are leaving will not be replaced. "I'm hopeful we can lift the ban in a week or two," said Dr. Yoder.

Must Develop Values, Roles

Old-Age Preparation Lifetime Task

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The job of preparing for old age is a lifetime task which must be continued from the time we reach maturity.

This was the conclusion of Robert J. Blakely, vice president of the Fund for Adult Education, in a speech here yesterday at the University of Michigan's 10th anniversary Conference on Aging.

★ ★ ★

"If old people have done little or nothing to prepare themselves," he said, "they're hopeless cases. All society can do for them is make life a little more comfortable. We can't give them the values which make old age a constructive period."

The main way in which people can prepare for old age, Blakely said, is to get involved in a number of activities in communities, volunteer organizations, labor unions and companies. Through this kind of work, people will educate themselves about the things going on around them and develop an interest in them.

"This kind of education — education for the use of freedom — can be begun in childhood and youth, but is ineffective unless it is continued throughout life. Persons engaged in this kind of education can, by the time they are old, be prepared for an old age meaningful for themselves and for others."

NOT SERIOUS PROBLEM

Pointing out that the number of older people is greatly increasing in the United States, he added that this was not a serious problem.

The problem "is that most of them have no philosophy for old age personally and our society has no role for them. What we must call into question is the entire system of value we develop in our culture, particularly through education."

A government official also told the conference that due to lack of planning, "Many elderly people rattle around in houses far too large for their present needs."

★ ★ ★

E. Everett Ashley, director of the Statistical Reports and Development Branch of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, said the reason is that "Many of them have spent the better portion of their adult lives building up an equity in the home in which they live.

"They feel that if they own their own home free and clear by the time they retire, they can at least be assured of a roof over their heads."

Because they have planned it this way, Ashley said, many older people "resist, even resent, any suggestion that they ought to review their housing situation. The matter is further complicated by sentimental and emotional situations."

CAN'T GIVE PROPER CARE

The result, he said, is that with failing health and diminishing income, many older people find the proper house and yard care more than they can cope with.

"The result is the all too familiar ramshackle wreck of a once-fine house."

Ewart Says Limitation Would Be Illegal

Commission Can't Halt Peddlers

City Commissioner John E. Carry (District 6) last night lost out in a move to limit the number of ice cream peddlers in Pontiac.

William A. Ewart, city attorney, told commissioners it would be illegal to do so, and cited several court cases in other states to support his opinion.

Carry's proposal followed adoption by the commission of a resolution urging residents "to use the utmost caution in providing for the safety of their small children dealing with ice cream vendors."

The action was another step by the city to control the operations of sellers here.

ASKS PARENTS

The resolution, offered by Mayor William W. Donaldson, asked that parents prohibit children from buying from vendors in violation of a 1955 amendment to Pontiac's controversial "ice cream ordinance."

★ ★ ★

"What profit is in it for them," Donaldson said, "isn't worth the life of one child."

He told of several accidents, one seriously injuring a child June 12, resulting from peddling of popsicles or ice cream bars on city streets.

A case is now pending in Oakland County Circuit Court questioning the legality of the law. It states that an assistant, 18 years or older, must be provided in each truck to assist the driver in protecting the safety of youngsters.

NO DEVICES

It further stipulates that no attention-drawing devices such as bells, horns, or chimes, be used by ice cream hawkers.

★ ★ ★

The city lost a decision on a 1954 ordinance which attempted to outlaw any selling from trucks. Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty ruled it unconstitutional.

Ewart mentioned that just recently several vendors have been ticketed by police for alleged violations.

★ ★ ★

Carry recommended restricting the number of "gratis" permits issued to peddlers. He said the city does not charge the usual peddling fee because most men engaged in the business are veterans and are exempt under the State Veterans Preference Act.

Small Income Buys Autos for Austrians

VIENNA — A man who makes $1,300 a year can afford a car in Austria, according to figures published by the Austrian Institute for Economic Research, in Vienna. This estimate is regarded as somewhat low by many observers.

It is less than the price of a new Volkswagen, although now there is a new model that costs less. Since 245,000 families own over $1,400, the institute has decided that there are 180,000 potential purchasers who do not already own cars.

Austrians are tending less and less to regard an automobile as non-essential, the survey says. People are refraining even from buying household articles in order to be able to afford a car.

Holland has about 2,000 miles of canals and about 3,000 miles of navigable rivers and channels.

Inaugurated With Blood

ROME — Rome's Colosseum, the world's largest amphitheater, was completed in A.D. 80. Built by the Emperor Titus, it was inaugurated with a blood bath of matches between gladiators and wild beasts. Until recently, Romans used the Colosseum as a marble quarry, says the National Geographic Magazine.

Home Sought for Refugees

Where Will Arabs Go?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is discussing with friendly governments whether they should make a new international move to solve the problem of a million Arab refugees in the Middle East.

The exploratory talks developed partly from Vice President Nixon's urgent recommendations that redoubled efforts be made to find permanent homes for these victims of the Palestine War.

★ ★ ★

Nixon called for this three months ago after returning from a visit to eight African and Middle Eastern nations. The plight of the Arab refugees, he said, is the "biggest single roadblock" to Middle East peace.

★ ★ ★

Diplomatic officials reported today that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge has been quietly discussing the problem with other governments at the United Nations for nearly a month. U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold also is reported exploring the matter informally.

Neither the Arab countries nor Israel have been brought into the talks thus far, they said, but these governments may be approached later if the current discussions demonstrate prospect of success.

★ ★ ★

Top American officials are reported to have some new ideas on how to meet this nine-year-old problem. Authorities stressed, however, no new detailed plan as such has yet been drafted.

★ ★ ★

Egyptian newspapers have been bitterly denouncing what they describe as secret negotiations on the refugee problem for the past two weeks.

American authorities said they do not believe the Egyptian denunciations have been aimed at the exploratory New York talks. Rather, they interpret these Egyptian reports as a propaganda effort to bolster Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's prestige as champion of the Arab refugee cause.

Police Fear July 4th Toll

Predict 35 Holiday Dead

LANSING (AP) — State Police predict that traffic accidents over the four-day Fourth of July holiday period may kill 35 persons or more in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Joseph A. Childs, State Police commissioner, said that to hold down the death toll "drivers must remember that in the heavy holiday period traffic they must be unusually alert."

Childs urged motorists to drive in keeping with road and weather conditions, to obey all traffic regulations and to be on guard against the mistakes of others.

"And don't speed," he cautioned. "It's better to take a little longer to live much longer."

The prediction of deaths was based on experience, he said. In 1956, 23 persons were killed in a three-day Fourth observance.

More than 1,000 State Police force members will see duty over the holiday period, working 10-hour shifts. They will be reinforced by 134 national guardsmen.

The announcement said that 116 guardsmen will serve with sheriff's departments, who are expected to put about 3,000 regular officers and deputies on patrol.

Soviet 'Brains' May Form Seed of Revolution

EAST LANSING (AP)—A new class of Russian intellectuals may some day bring about the destruction of the Communist regime, in the opinion of a Detroit business executive.

That group are the scientists and engineers who have been trained to lead the Soviet technological and industrial expansion program, Ray R. Eppert, executive vice president of Burroughs Corp., told Chamber of Commerce and trade association executives.

Eppert, who visited Russia last year with a group of American business and industrial leaders, spoke at the 34th national institute for organization management.

"In teaching its bright young men to be scientists, engineers and professors," Eppert said, "the Communist leaders are also teaching people to think and adopt the questioning attitude proper to science."

Upshot of the teaching process is that intelligent young men and women are beginning to ask "embarrassing questions" of the Soviet leaders, he said.

★ ★ ★

In recent months, Eppert said, students at the Universities of Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev have created disturbances in the closely regimented Russian educational system.

"When 100 were sent to Siberia," he said, "some 1,000 fellow students at the new Moscow University did an almost unheard of thing—they held a protest meeting."

★ ★ ★

"These intellectuals could very well strike the spark of revolt in the Russian people," he said.

Detroiter Jailed After Going Out for Some Beer

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Joseph F. LaPointe, 41, of Detroit, was in the county jail here today because he went out for a beer.

★ ★ ★

He appeared before Judge James R. Breakey Jr. for sentencing on a charge of violating the state financial responsibility law. A probation officer noticed alcohol on his breath, but the defendant denied it and said he was "sick." The judge postponed sentencing.

LaPointe left the courthouse and the probation officer trailed him. Into a bar went LaPointe and ordered a beer. The officer collared him and brought him back before Judge Breakey.

★ ★ ★

The judge sent him to jail until his sentencing.

Supreme Court Evokes Huge Wave of Criticism

Never in the history of this country has the Supreme Court stirred up as great a wave of criticism as it has in the past few weeks.

People are indignant.

Staid citizens are aghast.

★ ★ ★

Nor is this state of affairs confined to any one sector. Just as the Federal budget stirred up a nationwide outcry, the highest court's current decisions have produced a vigorous and united protest. It covers all segments of the population.

★ ★ ★

People feel our national security has been threatened. Letters to the editors of the nation's newspapers have piled in.

Impeachment has been suggested.

★ ★ ★

Dorothy Connolly, former Los Angeles chairman of the Communists there, said that the Smith anti-subversive decision was "the greatest victory the Communist party in America has ever received."

Representative Walter of the House Un-American Activities Committee states stoutly that Congress will accept this challenge and pass legislation that "even the Supreme Court can understand."

★ ★ ★

This is vigorous language.

But vigorous measures are indicated.

Pussyfooting is over.

Why should recent decisions in our country favor these international scoundrels? Why are we "safeguarding" their rights and their liberties instead of our own?

What is the reason?

★ ★ ★

Unhappily, this all dates back to the man who named the "backbone" of the court as it's now constituted. That, of course, was Franklin D. Roosevelt. The trouble with which we are now saddled started with him. That's a matter of record.

★ ★ ★

That Doctor's Bill

When Dr. Joseph H. Kris presented a bill for $1,500 to the parents of six-year-old Benny Hooper, he stirred up a hornet's nest. If every knock is really a boost, he got a million dollars' worth of publicity, but he may decide it doesn't work out that way.

★ ★ ★

Benny is the lad who was rescued after being pinned for twenty-three and a half hours in a well on Long Island. Dr. Kris maintains that his bill was justified as he had spent 100 hours at the well, keeping Benny alive during his ordeal, and caring for him later during his recovery in a hospital.

★ ★ ★

Probably the good doctor is correct. He says that he was summoned to the well by police, and therefore he had not volunteered to aid Benny. His presence was strictly in a professional capacity, and he is entitled to be paid for his services if he chooses to present a bill.

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately, Benny's parents say they just do not have that kind of money, and that if they pay it, it will take years. That fact has aroused criticism of the doctor, which has extended even into the United States Senate.

As the repercussion across the nation grew louder and louder, the doctor hastily conferred with some of his colleagues and then withdrew the entire charge.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Kris may find that where he might have received the equivalent of his bill in favorable publicity and resulting good will, he now has lost as much in ill will from presenting it. Rightly or wrongly, the entire medical association suffers right along with him.

We're Forced to Give Yankees Due Credit

Give up?

Might as well.

The Yanks are in first place at this writing and while they may be dislodged momentarily before this gets into print, they'll re-assert themselves and take over once more.

★ ★ ★

And don't be fooled.

We're charter members of Hank Greenberg's "I-Hate-the-Yankees" club. We're in good standing and have our dues paid through October of 1957. Our hostility is in full bloom and we "hate" with fervor and intensity.

But to no avail.

Class tells.

★ ★ ★

You might as well admit it. Some way, somehow, these pesky New Yorkers come up with the right ball player at the right moment, or one of their many second raters hits .650 for a "crucial" series and they're off to the races.

It's discouraging.

"Y'Gotta Admit We Never Had It So Good"

David Lawrence Says:

Turning Point in Cold War Here

WASHINGTON — Virtual perfection of the "clean bomb," which has just been announced, is the most sensational development in the atomic age.

LAWRENCE

It means that "fallout" will, for all practical purposes, be eliminated hereafter if a nation uses "clean bombs."

It helps to assure the safety of the United States from destruction by a powerful enemy.

It assures the civilian population of all countries against the hazard of "fallout."

It removes all logical reasons hitherto advanced against the testing of nuclear weapons.

It vindicates the testing that has been going on for several years, for without the tests the "clean bomb" could not have been developed.

It gives the United States a really effective deterrent against war. For it means that America can and will use the "clean bomb" to thwart an aggressor and that there will be no danger of "fallout" to the peoples of either the enemy country or our allied countries or to the neutral peoples.

POWER AS GREAT

The United States will retain the so-called "dirty bomb" for such use as may be necessary if an enemy uses that kind of weapon but otherwise the policy will be to use only a "clean bomb." Its power to destroy an enemy target is as great as that of any other bomb.

President Eisenhower has said all along that the testing was needed to get a "clean bomb." Before Harold Stassen went to London for the disarmament talks, he was well aware of the development.

Indeed, it may be that what the American government knew of the successful experiments being carried on influenced its determination to offer a disarmament agreement to Moscow.

The crux of the disarmament problem is the need to be sure that the United States will not give up her safety on the basis of a paper pledge from the Communists.

STRATEGY CLEAR

It becomes quite clear now what the Communist strategy has been. First a propaganda campaign for the outlawing of the bomb was initiated. This failed. Then the Communists turned their energies toward fomenting world-wide propaganda against testing. This failed, too, because the British and American governments saw through the maneuver.

But now, with the virtual completion of the "clean bomb," there will be no "fallout" problem either from the tests or from the actual use of this "clean bomb" in war. A 95 per cent "clean bomb" is said to be the equivalent of a small nuclear weapon of the "dirty" type, which means a negligible amount of radioactivity.

What was back of the Communist strategy on testing? One motive was to get testing outlawed so that public opinion would inevitably outlaw the bomb itself. For, if the peoples of the world became convinced that testing was dangerous, how much more dangerous would the use of the bomb itself be in war? To ask the question is to answer it.

MAINTAIN DEFENSE

If and when the use of H-bombs and other nuclear weapons in war is prohibited by mutual agreement, then what? How can their manufacture be prohibited also? How can America be sure that the Communists, who have violated their pledges before—and are doing so this very year in Korea—would hereafter keep their promises? "Foolproof" methods of inspection are talked about, but they cannot overcome every conspiratorial plan to evade an agreement.

Until there is good faith, therefore, no agreement by the Communists is worth the paper it is written on. Good faith can only be established if there are free governments in Moscow and Peiping. Until then, the free world has to maintain a nuclear defense.

For if the United States and Britain did give up the manufacture of atomic weapons or if the use of any big bombs were outlawed, then Communist imperialism could readily conquer the world. Its ground forces could overrun any country in Europe and Asia. Under this threat, together with the system of infiltration that the Communists have perfected, there would be no certainty that overseas bases would be available for our use.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Dairy Products Essential as Part of the Daily Diet

In order to build and maintain VITE — and even a dumb cluck ought to know by now what that means—a child or an adult must consume not less than 1½ pints (three glasses) of milk or the equivalent in dairy products every day. Equivalent dairy products are skim milk (separator milk), buttermilk, Acidophilus milk, Bulgarian cultured milk, yoghurt, cottage cheese, butter, cream and eggs.

DR. BRADY

Consumption of 1½ pints of milk 365 days in the year would prevent much of the chronic joint disability which many credulous customers call "arthritis." Dr. Osler called chronic rheumatism, and the conductor of this column calls RHEUMATIZ—physical degeneration of joint tissues.

If you are so bemused by the "arthritis" hokum that you can't understand what we are talking about, it will do you no harm to study the primer Chronic Joint Disability, for 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

In his famous textbook of Practice, the late Dr. Osler described chronic rheumatism, muscular rheumatism, arthritis deformans and gout as four distinct diseases or ailments. He didn't even mention the "chronic arthritis" which keeps millions of gullible souls paying exorbitantly for the endless succession of miracle medicines that come with great "promise" and leave the victim little worse than before.

If all this puzzles one with chronic joint disability, let me say again that in my judgment the trouble in the great majority of cases is not inflammation at all, not arthr-itis, but physical degeneration of joint tissues, which I call RHEUMATIZ—not rheumatism! And I am convinced that the cause is nutritional deficiency of these elements: Calcium, phosphorus, iodin, thiamin, riboflavin, vitamin D and Vitamin B12.

Maintain lifelong good nutrition and you will prevent the RHEUMATIZ. Revise your regular diet and you will retard or arrest the degeneration. Make sure to get an optimum daily intake of the nutritional elements mentioned above and you may reverse the degeneration process and achieve regeneration.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Pastors' Group Expresses Confidence Vote for Chief

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Recently we've been reading indictments concerning the chief of police. As leaders in the community, we are deeply concerned. We discussed the matter. Not knowing the full story, we felt it was unjust for anyone to criticize openly those who are endeavoring, as we feel, to do his best toward making our city a safe community.

As pastors who reach some 4,000 people each week, we would like to voice our disapproval of the attitude some members of the department have taken. We also feel Mr. Straley should not suffer under criticisms from those who don't know the facts. We've had personal dealings with Mr. Straley and have found him to be quite capable of handling his job. If we would do less criticizing and more understanding, it would work for the good of us all.

Our fellowship would like it known we give a vote of confidence to the leadership of Chief Straley. He has no knowledge of the action of our group, but we feel it a citizen's duty to express our feelings.

It's good we have writers on the editorial page such as Dr. Brady and Dr. Crane who do not believe in using alcoholic drinks socially, or in any other way. Is anybody getting tired of beer advertising on radio, TV, magazines, etc., or is it just me?

Reader Discusses Water Pollution

The last paragraph of the editorial on our spring-fed lakes should have some people spending sleepless nights with a guilty conscience. We live in a well-restricted subdivision at Silver Lake, with the lake practically at residents' back door, but we can't use it because it's polluted.

There's a fine for disposing of rubbish on the highway, but what about people who use a lake for this? Isn't this a local health problem? In the near future a city park will be ready not far from our lake. The health of a number of people could be affected by this situation if it isn't cleared up. Why can't representatives of the health, conservation and drain departments come out and check to see who's the guilty party? We have a nice subdivision, are proud of our reputation and want to keep it that way.

Was the soldier bonus from all the people of Michigan? Will all the people pay an equal share of school taxes?

Relieving business of its fair share of taxes may give some of us an idea to move to a lower tax state. Who lobbies for the residents in Lansing? Certainly not our legislators.

Why do stores import high pressure sales people for special promotions? Nothing is so humiliating as some here-for-the-week pseudo-New Yorker who's never seen you before who swoops down on you and announces at top volume, "Now deary, this is just perfect for you!" By that time you've pulled your shopping bag over your head to avoid recognition, because the just-meant-for-you item is a gigantic tube of blue-black lipstick called "Mad Moment of Forbidden Ecstacy" or a stunning evening blouse with a live crocodile chained to the pocket.

Such episodes have several effects: you spend the next few weeks in frantic fear you really do look the type, you've determined never again to buy at that store, and except there's a law against it, you'd gleefully bury the hatchet in the saleslady's skull.

"Yet he has a thriving practice and makes a good income. And I have always been a shrewd shopper, so what is wrong with Charley?"

LOVE MISTERS, TOO

Men who are miserly with money are often miserly with love, too. And that suggests a sexual reason why husbands after the age of 45 often begin to hang on to the purse strings.

★ ★ ★

"It may seem far-fetched to you I suggested to Charley's wife, "but if you will restore your husband's sexual ego to par, I think you'll find he will become very generous with his pocketbook."

She seemed a bit puzzled, but agreed to try the technique outlined in more detail in the booklet described below.

"I have nothing much to lose," she added, ruefully, "so I might as well try anything that will produce a change for the better."

And the proof of the pudding was not long in being evident.

PLATONIC MEANS STINGY

For when a marriage has degenerated into a platonic affair, the husband subconsciously figures that the only way he can compel his wife to heed his ego hunger, is to coerce her into financial submission.

★ ★ ★

"If she doesn't admire me as a sweetheart and look up to me as the king of her heart," such a husband fearfully thinks to himself, "at least I can keep her in subjection by making her beg for money."

So Charley's wife soon began to affect more ardor and to initiate their love making.

"You must learn to out-siren the sirens," I had warned her, "for when men pass the age of 45, they hamstring themselves by their own fears.

"It is usually dread of impotence which makes them platonic mates, rather than organic deficiency."

And that is medically true. So Charley's wife tried to banish his fears. And she succeeded admirably, as most wives can do, if they will just get this inside viewpoint of the psychology of middle-aged males.

LOVE SPRINGS ANEW

"Dr. Crane, it worked like magic," she later informed me in my office, and her eyes shone almost like those of a new bride.

"Charley is more generous and affectionate than he has ever been in all the 25 years of our marriage.

"In fact, he confided in me last week that he feels happier and more in love with me than he did on our wedding day, and I really believe he is telling the truth.

"Now he has made me treasurer of our family and lets me keep all his books. He says he doesn't understand why he ever worried and fretted about such things before, when he could have had me doing it all these years.

"And he has restored my feminine pride, too, for I was beginning to wonder if I didn't have what it takes to interest my husband. So we are both as happy as larks.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, tell wives of miserly husbands to follow the advice in your booklet and banish their platonic nature. For I have certainly proved that generosity with love soon spells generosity with the pocketbook."

So send for that booklet "How to Prevent Impotence in Husbands," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. It may salvage your marriage, too, as it has thousands of others.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

For Sidewalk Superintendents:

'Watcher's' Club Reopened

NEW YORK (AP)—A fancy clubhouse for sidewalk superintendents will open July 2 alongside one of Manhattan's biggest holes in the ground.

There, construction buffs will enjoy their favorite pastime — watching other people work.

The hole has been dug for the foundations of the new 47-story Time & Life Building. The 70-million-dollar skyscraper will rise on 6th Avenue between 50th and 51st Streets.

The towers of Rockefeller Center are just across the avenue.

The clubhouse marks the revival of the Rockefeller Center Sidewalk Superintendents Club.

PLUSH PAVILION

The plush pavilion will include a 65-foot-long observation deck covered with a candy-striped canopy and adorned with flower boxes.

Ten large picture windows will give "superintendents" a riveter's eyeview of the project.

A clubhouse hostess will hand out membership cards inscribed with the club motto: "The best pilots stand on the shore."

The club was founded in 1938 after a brush between capital and labor.

Capital, in the person of John D. Rockefeller Jr., stopped alongside a construction site in Rockefeller Center to do a little rubbernecking.

Labor, in the person of a construction worker, grabbed Rockefeller by the arm and growled:

★ ★ ★

"Keep moving, buddy."

Rockefeller went home and formed the club.

End British Control

Scotsman, Eight Irishmen Free Lakes of Killarney

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Lakes of Killarney are free from British control for the first time in nearly 400 years, and it took a Scotsman and eight sons of the Emerald Isle to turn the trick.

Michael Francis Doyle, a Philadelphia lawyer who helped save Irish Prime Minister Eamon De Valera from the gallows back in 1916, disclosed over the weekend that he is one of nine new owners of the Kenmare estate, where two of the famed lakes are located.

★ ★ ★

The Scotsman, J. Stuart Robertson of Miami, bought the estate last August. Doyle revealed that Robertson was also acting for the likes of himself, a trio of O'Neills, an O'Shaughnessy, a Rooney and two good men of the cloth.

The 8,000-acre estate includes the 14th century Ross Castle, St. Finian's and Muckross abbeys, part of the town of Killarney and 11 islands in the lakes. Queen Elizabeth I gave the tract to the Earl of Kenmare nearly 400 years ago. The last earl died in England in 1952, the title became extinct and the estate was put up for sale.

Doyle said the group bought the estate to preserve it as an "historical shrine" and prevent it from falling into the hands of commercial interests. The buyers plan to vacation at the castle but the public will be free to roam the grounds as they have in the past.

The purchase price for the estate was reportedly about $240,000.

Doyle aided De Valera by finding a baptismal certificate in the records of a New York church in 1916. Since the certificate showed the Irish leader had been born in New York, the United States asked the British to commute the death sentence imposed on De Valera for his part in the Easter Rebellion of 1916. The sentence was commuted and "Dev" was freed next year in a general amnesty.

Chore to Find New Job for Long-Eared Worker

SANTE FE, N. M. (AP) — Old Jack's job at the New Mexico state prison farm ran out and the chore of finding another job fell to state comptroller Ed Hartman.

To give Jack a break, Hartman tried the game department, to no avail.

So this week Hartman decided to sell Jack, all one mulepower of him, to Bill Kahn of Albuquerque. Jack was the victim of automation.

"It's getting a little embarrassing," said Hartman, a Republican. "We don't have much use for a Democratic mascot."

Allstate takes the red tape and high cost out of automobile insurance

Customer savings of more than 20% are commonplace

Founded by Sears, Allstate pioneered a new approach to insurance that has won nearly four million friends

You can buy over the counter at Sears, at Allstate Insurance Centers, or in your own home

You'll be a friend of Allstate's too, as soon as you become a customer—and realize the benefits you'll enjoy because of Allstate's new approach to auto insurance.

This approach, based on the small-profit, big-volume, low-overhead concept pioneered by Sears, boils down to this:

Cut red tape in paying claims . . . print policies in large type and plain language . . . make it easy to buy insurance in a relaxed manner.

Allstate cuts red tape

How much can you save?

Allstate policyholders save different amounts, depending on different risk conditions and on where they live. The most common saving is 22% (some policyholders save as much as 38%) from rates charged by most other companies. You may save $25 or more.

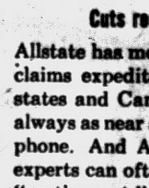

How can Allstate do it?

Nearly $1 in every $4 spent with most companies goes to pay selling costs instead of to buy protection. Allstate's modern selling methods cut selling costs to the bone. You benefit by lower rates, bigger value.

Cuts red tape.

Allstate has more than 3,950 claims expediters in the 48 states and Canada. Help is always as near as the nearest phone. And Allstate claims experts can often pay claims "on the spot."

Easy to understand policies.

Allstate policies are easy to understand

Printed in readabletype, understandablelanguage. Illustrated, too. You know exactly what you're buying.

Low-pressure selling.

You can buy Allstate over the counter at Sears, at an Allstate Insurance Center, or in your own home. Allstate Agents are listed in the Yellow Pages of your phone book.

Today, with auto insurance costs rising, wouldn't it be wise for you to investigate Allstate before you renew your policy? Until you have the Allstate facts, you don't have all the facts about auto insurance.

This modern kind of automobile insurance brings these surprising benefits:

1. Allstate may save you up to 38%.
2. Allstate cuts red tape to pay claims faster.
3. An Allstate policy is easy to read and understand.
4. Allstate makes it easy for you to buy the convenient low-pressure way.

CHAPTER 27

"Nela will live with you until I get back from round-up," I told my new father-in-law. "Then we'll decide where to live."

★ ★ ★

"I see." John Mathers took his pipe out of his mouth and tamped the tobacco down, strain showing in his face. "Beeson, a rumor has come to me that Turner and Dillingham have stolen all of our cattle and sold them. I don't know how to ascertain the truth. Turner might do a thing like that, but I find it hard to believe that he would. I have three other men working on the ranch, but they swear they know nothing about it." He looked at me helplessly. "How do you learn the truth in a case like this?"

"You comb the range," I said. "In your case you'll have to hire men to do it, men you can trust."

"Will you do it?"

"No. Not till I get back, anyway. Why don't you send for the sheriff?"

"Would the sheriff come on the basis of a mere rumor?" He shook his head. "Besides, it would become public knowledge, and I can't afford that as long as the society has a semblance of unity."

★ ★ ★

There was a moment of silence, Nela sitting with her hands tightly clasped, her face pale. She had not told me of this.

Finally her father said: "Suppose you can't stay here and our cattle have been stolen, but next spring we could get back into business—take a herd on shares or borrowed money to do so. Would you run Anchor for us?"

"No," I told him. "You don't have a spread any more. Just summer range and your buildings. Your hay land and winter range are gone, some of it plowed up."

"I understand," he said heavily. "Beeson, people say I am too impractical, and I'm afraid they're right. You see, I believed in an ideal so strongly that I overlooked today and had my eyes on tomorrow. So, for Nela's sake, I'm glad you're a practical man. . . . Well, I guess we'd better go. Tell Sarah we will not be here next Sunday, although very likely she knows that."

★ ★ ★

I went outside with them; and when Mathers stepped up into the seat of the buggy I kissed Nela, and she whispered, "I'll see you as soon as you get back?"

I said, "The minute I get back."

I stayed there as long as I could see them, and then returned to the house, walking slowly. Sarah would be back in the front room, I was sure, and I would be in for it. She was there, but she didn't reproach me as I expected. She sat by the window, her eyes red, a wadded-up handkerchief on her lap.

"Sit down, Will," she said. "I have something important to say to you." I obeyed, and she went on in a cool tone: "I am going to write to Ben to take charge of my business. You will stop in Canon City when you get back from Leadville. You will turn over all the ranch money to him. He will take out the expenses and divide the balance. You will bring $500 of my money to me. What you do with yours is your business. Then you will pack up and leave, and that will be the end of our partnership."

She didn't look at me. She stared out of the window at the broad expanse of the valley, her face very pale. She was suffering. I did not doubt it. A hard word would make her cry again; but self-pity was the source of her misery, and that was a luxury with which I had little patience.

Suddenly, surprisingly, I discovered I had no sympathy for her despite the debt I owed her, John Mathers, though he had failed, had at least reached for something. I could respect a man who had once possessed a worthy dream. But there was no sensible explanation of Sarah's behavior.

Maybe the answer was that she considered me a chattel, that I belonged to her just as Dogbone did. The day would come when she would lose him too; I wondered what she would do then.

"You can go," she said. "That's all I have to say."

"I'm not going," I said. "You can give half a ranch away, but you're forgetting you can't take it back after it's given."

"No, I'm not forgetting. I don't believe you'll insist on staying. You'll receive half of what the ranch has made this year along with your regular wages, and that is all you can expect. You also know I will not tolerate Nela in my house; if you want to live with her, you will take her somewhere else."

★ ★ ★

She must hate Nela, I thought, as much as she hates Kathy Morgan. I said, "You still need me."

"I will find another foreman as good as you are," she answered.

"Are you going to let the colonists move in?"

"I'll stop them."

"Then you'll need me."

"The world is full of men who know how to pull a trigger."

The words didn't sound like her, but I was beginning to see that she could shed an attitude as easily as she could take off her coat. I said, "I suppose you'll be marrying John Mathers soon."

The question jarred her. "Of course not!" She looked at me sharply. "He's just like Joe even if he talks a different language. With you it's your wife. With John it's his foolish colony. With Joe it was the ranch. I won't share my men with anything or anybody! You should know that by now."

So there it was at last, honestly said in her own words.

I rose, my mind made up. "According to the Good Book," I said, "a man should be unselfish, but I'm not. I've got a wife to support. I'm holding on to what I've got."

I walked out, leaving her sitting there, and hating me, I suppose, just as she had hated Joe Pardee.

★ ★ ★

The roundup and drive to Leadville went as smoothly as ever, but when I left the other riders at Alton's Trading Post to go to Canon City, Irv Costello said: "Better get a move on, Beeson. You'll have work to do when you get back."

"What kind of work?"

"Another driving job. You don't think them plow pushers will miss a chance like this, do you, with all of us out of the valley like we've been for the last week?"

"I reckon not," I said. As I wheeled my horse away from the rest, I said to Curly King and Red Thurston: "I'll be home tomorrow afternoon. Don't do anything till I get there."

★ ★ ★

They nodded agreement, and I rode away, strongly tempted to ignore Sarah's orders and return to the valley with them. Trouble had been foreshadowed from the day Joe Pardee died. Maybe the colonists would never have come to the valley if Joe had lived. Or if Merle Turner had not described the valley in such glowing terms to Mathers. Or if Sarah had not encouraged Mathers.

History, my father used to remark, is a series of causes and effects. He would slap me on the back as he said: "We want to get rich. That's the cause, so we'll go to Santa Fe and get rich. That's the effect."

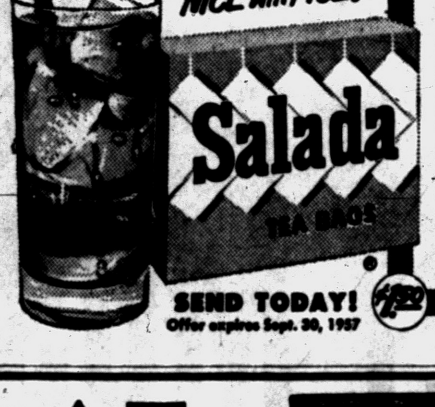

He had been facetious; but I wasn't, as I thought about the past year. If any of the causal factors had been different, then the following effects would have been changed. But if they had been, I wouldn't be married to Nela. So there it was, the sweet and the bitter.

Will Beeson has a hard decision to make when told, "Four of 'em colonists crossed the line three days ago. Tore down your sign. Starting to put up cabins." Continue "Gunlock" here tomorrow.

The largest single source of energy for generating America's electric power supply is bituminous coal.

Bob Considine Says:

Red Tape Thwarts Selfless Woman

NEW YORK (INS) — Strange, wonderful, sad, happy things spill out of the mail on a neglected desk:

There is meat for Maugham in a letter from a woman who was happily married to her man for 23 years. In 1950 his employers sent him to Okinawa. There were extensive plans for the wife to join him there when he became settled.

★ ★ ★

Instead, he picked up a fast Mexican divorce, married an Okinawa girl, had two children by her, and died in 1955 of cancer of the lung.

Before he died he wrote his former wife and asked her to raise the two little girls if their mother consented to part with them. This was agreed to. The children were brought to the U.S. and have had loving care from the childless first wife. She writes:

"Their mother wrote me a week after they arrived and begged me to send for her, as she could not go on living without them. Her letters since have been heart-breaking.

"Knowing how she misses those little darlings, I can't go on as I have. I want that little mother over here where she should be—with her little girls."

★ ★ ★

The unselfish woman's earnest efforts have been frustrated. The U.S. Consulate's office in Okinawa has denied the mother a visiting visa to the U.S.

It will consider her application for a permanent visa, but that would put her on a quota list which could delay her entrance into the U.S. for years to come.

AIRLINES' CASE

Rex Smith of American Airlines writes, "We believe the airlines have a valid case in requesting increase in rates of the CAB. Since 1942 air fares have increased 0.2 per cent. The Consumer Price Index has increased 66.7 per cent since 1942.

"Rail fare have increased 39 per cent, which does not include increases up to 20 per cent on first-class fares and 5 per cent on coach fares granted in 1957, the 20 per cent applying to six Eastern railroads. Bus fares have increased 25.4 per cent.

"A DC3 cost $125,000 in 1941. Our jets to be received in 1959 each will cost $5,000,000."

Lufthansa, the German airline, estimates that one of its Lockheed Super G Connies burns enough gas on a nonstop flight across the Atlantic to send a Volkswagen around the world eight times . . .

The Association of American Playing Card Manufacturers swears that card-playing, not baseball, is the national sport. Three out of four Americans dabble with the devil's pasteboards; 87 per cent of all homes have at least one deck on hand; more people with television sets play cards than those without. (Ed. note: Understandable.)

Canasta is the most popular game, followed by contract bridge, after which straggle pinochle, poker, solitaire, rummy, 500, auction bridge, hearts and gin.

HE PLUGGED IT

Biggest recent case involving a serviceman has nothing to do with GI Girard, at a Long Island Air Force Base, at least. Guy on guard duty, craving a 3 a.m. smoke, dropped his last quarter in a cigarette vending machine. It jammed.

He kicked it and punched it for a time, then did what millions must have dreamed of doing. He pulled his gun and shot a pack out of the blooming contraption. Got a light sentence, thanks to a chain-smoking chain of command.

Rep. Torbert H. MacDonald (D-Mass), who nearly chose big league baseball for a career, has completed his poll of sports-writers on professionalism and the anti-trust laws.

Here it is: 95 said all professional sports should be exempted from the anti-trust laws; 70 said all professional sports should come under the anti-trust laws; 57 said that only football and baseball should be exempted; 33 said only baseball should be exempted; and 20 sports columnists said they were undecided.

We go all the way with the congressman except on that final finding.

Mrs. Roosevelt Wants to Visit Reds in China

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said Tuesday in her column "My Day" she had applied for a visa to go to Communist China to "interview some of the people in the government there."

But, she said, she was told that no news correspondent as yet was permitted by the U. S. government to visit Red China.

Mrs. Roosevelt said she had been asked by the New York Post if she would be willing to go. She said she still hoped the State Department "may find it possible to allow all correspondents who wish to gather news from this area of the world to go there if the Chinese will allow them to enter."

She said she believed it might be easier to learn some things in China than in the Soviet Union.

"But I am anxious to go to the Soviet Union too," she wrote, "and since I cannot now go to Communist China, I hope that I will be able to visit the Soviet Union in the near future."

Hospital Moving Day Causes No Trouble

ADRIAN (AP)—"Operation Emma L. Bixby Hospital" came off without a hitch Monday as a string of army ambulances trucked patients, personnel and equipment from the old to the new Bixby Hospital, two miles away.

Involved in the transfer were 96 adult patients, four of them oxygen cases, and 11 newborn babies as the patients left the old hospital they were checked out by Dr. Bernard Patmos. Dr. Russell Allen checked them in when they arrived at the new quarters.

"Everything went smoothly," Dr. Allen said.

The old Bixby Hospital opened in 1911 and had bed space for 76. It wasn't enough.

Money to build the new five-story, 168 bed hospital came from local subscription and federal funds.

Australia has a section like the District of Columbia in the United States. It is Canberra, the capital city of the federal government.

Small Finale for Opera

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Opera may be facing its final curtain. Population of the nearby village of Opera — on the decline since its potteries closed a half-century ago — is down to one man, Lewis Westcott, 72.

There are about 4,000 silver fox farms in the U. S.

Motorist Can Outwit Tornado

Touring Twister Country?

WASHINGTON (INS) — The American Automobile Association claims that despite the record number of tornadoes this spring, "your chances of being caught in one are remote."

However, since it could happen, the AAA outlined a few simple precautions for tourists driving in twister country.

Harry I. Kirk, AAA president, said if the weather is ominous, keep your car radio tuned to a station in the area you are traveling for storm reports.

"Tornado winds travel at terrific speed—as high as 500 miles per hour—in a circular motion," said Kirk, "but a tornado's forward speed is only 25 to 40 miles per hour.

★ ★ ★

"Since a motorist can usually see a twister several miles away, he stands a good chance of driving out of its path if he sees it in time."

TAKE RIGHT ANGLE

The AAA suggests that motorists try to dodge tornadoes by driving at right angles to the path of the storm. Some tornadoes have been known to cut a swath a mile wide, although the average width of one is only about 400 yards. Kirk continued:

"In open country, if there is no chance to get out of a tornado's course, motorists should abandon their cars, get well away from them and lie face down on the ground. Better still, lie in a ditch, a culvert, or under a steel or concrete bridge.

"If buildings are nearby, take shelter along the inside walls of a strongly reinforced structure, or in the southwest corner of a house basement. (Most tornadoes blow from the southwest). Never stand near a window because the greatest danger in a tornado is being struck by flying debris.

★ ★ ★

Kirk warned: "The automobile offers no protection, and remaining in one caught in a twister may increase your chances of being seriously hurt or killed."

Woman Dazes Intruder With Gun Blow on Head

LOS ANGELES (UP)—When she found a strange man in her bedroom, Mrs. Sally Ann Condren, 55, grabbed a gun and smacked him on the head. The intruder took the gun away and returned the blow.

In the hospital, where she was treated for a cut on the head, Mrs. Condren was puzzled about one thing.

"Didn't it even hurt him when I hit him?" she asked. "Wasn't he even dazed?"

"I imagine he was," replied a detective, "or else why do you suppose he ran through the plate glass window when he left?"

Man Burned to Death

DETROIT (UP) — A man tentatively identified as Clarence Putzig, 55, was burned to death yesterday when fire swept a two-story downtown Detroit rooming house. Eleven other persons escaped without injury.

Reds Ride High, Chou Declares

America Takes Beating Throughout the World, China's Parliament Told

HONG KONG (UP)—Premier Chou En-lai told Red China's Parliament today the Communist bloc is riding high and stronger than ever, but the United States is taking a beating all over the map.

In a 30,000-word speech at the opening session of Parliament, Chou declared that the unity of the Communist bloc is stronger now than before the Hungarian revolt.

He warned that world peace is constantly threatened by "war preparations under United States leadership." But he said the international situation was generally favorable to peace.

Peiping radio broadcast Chou's address to the session attended by Chairman Mao Tze-tung, other top Red officials and more than 1,000 deputies.

Chou singled out the "remarkable development of the Japanese people's struggle against U.S. armed occupation" as one peace-making factor.

★ ★ ★

The Red Premier went out of his way to deny suggestions that differences existed in the Communist bloc as a result of the Soviet repression of the Hungarian revolt.

"The unity of the camp of socialism (communism)," he declared, "was strengthened, not weakened, after the Hungarian incident."

Chou credited Russia with helping ease international tension in the past year and praised the "series of reasonable proposals put forward by the Soviet Union on arms reduction, banning of weapons of mass destruction and nuclear weapon tests, abolition of military bases and withdrawal of armed forces from foreign lands."

Trapped Girl Saved by Fast Action at Pool

PRATTVILLE, Ala. (UP) — Quick action in turning off a suction pump released a 13-year-old girl who was trapped under nine feet of water at the municipal pool with her legs in an eight-inch drain.

Mervin Emerson, 17, scaled an eight-foot wall to turn off the pump after a lifeguard and another youth had been unable to release Carol Parker. She rose to the surface with the suction off.

She was reported in good condition last night. No immediate explanation was available on the lack of a drain cover.

Waterford Deeded Land for Recreational Area

Waterford Township has been deeded a tract of land for recreational purposes by the Michigan Conservation Department, according to Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

The narrow strip, 225 feet wide and nearly a mile long, is located between Pontiac and Elizabeth Lake roads. There is approximately 10 acres of property.

The Conservation Department withheld 700 feet of land in and bordering Crescent Lake, now being used as a state boat landing area.

Three-hundred feet on the north side of the road will be reserved by the state for parking facilities.

Johnson will seek opinions on the proposal from residents living in the area before final acceptance.

The area was originally given to the state by the Dodge family to be developed into a park. Because of the odd shape, it was never developed.

The property was obtained for long-range recreation programs, according to Tom Belton, recreation director.

He said, "The immediate value of developing that parcel for recreation activity has not been established."

Scores of Homes in Jersey Town Change Color

RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UP) — The State Board of Health was making tests today to find out just how and why some 200 homes in nearby Lyndhurst had changed color overnight.

★ ★ ★

Some 30 white houses turned to dark brown. The discoloration could not be removed with water.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marvis said they first noted the change in their home at 5:30 a.m.

Mrs. Marvis said she looked out a window and saw that the house next door had turned a deep brown. Walking outside, she found her house too had changed color.

She recalled that a "fog" had descended on the area Monday night. She said the fog appeared to be laden with dirt particles.

Mrs. Miriam Sachs, head of the state's Bureau of Adult and Occupational Health Division, said a chemical reaction may have caused the discoloration.

★ ★ ★

Police said one theory advanced was that sulphric fumes released from stagnant water, combined with heat, reacted with certain lead properties in the paint, causing the discoloration.

Fashion Your Figure Club Slates Meeting

Members will weigh in, then go to the Crescent Lake beach for their summer picnic.

Senator Accused of Selling State Short

Potter Calls Democratic Criticism 'Second Low Blow' From Williams

DETROIT (AP) — Senator Charles E. Potter (R-Mich) said today that criticism of him by the Democratic State Central Committee amounted to "the second low blow" Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams "has tried to deal me personally, in an effort to distract attention from his vicious policies."

The Democratic committee charged Potter over the weekend with "selling Michigan short" and "shameful behavior."

The committee said it was "apparent from his slanted statements that Sen. Potter hopes unemployment will rise in Michigan."

The Democratic statement said the Senator "clearly intends to blame unemployment on Democratic state policies" and "thereby seek political gain from the fear and hardship of the unemployed."

After terming the statement a "low blow" by Williams and terming it "typical," Potter shot back today:

★ ★ ★

"What the Democratic organization says about me is unimportant. What the Democrats do to the working men and women of Michigan, however, is very important.

"For nine years they have been chipping away at Michigan's economic well-being, but if any one puts the facts on the record, the governor cries 'foul!' Does Williams intend to challenge the right of free speech?

"I have made it perfectly clear in my public statements that Michigan has every natural resource to be proud of — skilled workers, abundant raw materials, and managerial genius. In spite of these great benefits, nine years of High-Tax Williams has produced serious unemployment. Now that his mask has been stripped away and his pious sayings exposed, he's frantically looking for a way out.

"I haven't yet heard him give a candid answer on why Michigan has dropped so far behind Ohio and Indiana in economic growth."

More Cash Granted for Postal Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted the Post Office Department an extra 133 million dollars for next fiscal year, on the understanding that postal services won't be seriously curtailed during the period.

★ ★ ★

The money supplements the $3,192,000,000 previously provided by Congress to operate the department during the 12 months beginning July 1.

Postmaster General Summerfield had asked an extra $149,500,000, saying some postal services otherwise would have to be curtailed. He mentioned a possible halt to Saturday mail deliveries.

★ ★ ★

The 133 millions was voted without opposition after Appropriations Committee members told the House no serious service curtailments would have to be made if that sum were granted. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Edison Liked Diamond

JERSEY CITY — Thomas A. Edison, inventor of the phonograph, spent a great deal of time trying to find a permanent needle or stylus. He eventually concluded that a diamond point was most satisfactory.

New U.S. Embassy to Be Built at Athens

ATHENS (AP) — A modernistic, million-dollar U. S. Embassy designed by a pioneer modernist will go up in Athens this fall.

There will be glittering glass and aluminum on the outside and classic marble inside. The building is the brainchild of Walter Gropius, German-born designer who headed Harvard's department of architecture for 16 years.

Gropius said the structure will cover an area of 180 by 180 feet, rise three floors and accommodate more than 400 embassy personnel.

The ground floor will be used for consular purposes. The second level will be devoted to Ambassador George V. Allen's offices.

Break for Coffee Is Hurting Nation, Specialist Claims

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — A nutrition specialist asserted today that "the morning coffee break is weakening the health of our nation."

Dorothea Van Gundy of Arlington, Calif., member of the staff of the International Nutrition Laboratory, addressed the annual state conference of the Seventhday Adventists.

★ ★ ★

"Some 50 per cent of Americans suffer from low blood sugar. And that is caused largely by our national acceptance of the coffee break as well as too much sugar on our foods and our summertime overdosing on soda pop" she said.

★ ★ ★

"No other race of people have as many ulcers and headaches as Americans. This is caused largely by the consumption of 3,000 cups of coffee every second in the U.S.A., with each cup containing from 1½ to three grains of caffeine."

Gun Puts Two in Jail

FAYETTEVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — Charles Levesay, charged with threatening to shoot his wife, was joined in jail by Wolfe Alfonsa, accused of stealing the gun Levesay allegedly used in the threat. The weapon was one of four taken from Levesay's home.

ANIMAL QUIZ

QUESTION: When did the world's largest creature live?

ANSWER: The world's largest creature — the whale — is living right now. The whale is larger than any prehistoric animal known and it is larger than any other living creature in the world today.

Although we think of whales as fish, they are really water animals. Over the ages, their hind legs have become a powerful tail and their front legs have turned into flippers. Like the human, the whale is a mammal and feeds its young with mother's milk.

★ ★ ★

A whale can stay under water as long as half an hour, but it must always come up for air. When it does, it shoots the used air out of its lungs through openings in the top of its head. In the colder atmosphere, this fountain of air turns to vapor just as our breath does in the winter time.

Some whales are 90 feet long and weigh nearly 75 tons. A calf or baby whale may weigh up to eight tons at birth.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Color the picture of the giant Blue Whale above. How many animals do you know of that feed their young with mother's milk? Make a list of them.

American Group Gets Mayflower

British Financier Seeks to Halt Ship's Transfer With Court Injunction

NEW YORK (INS)—The founder of the Mayflower project arrived in New York yesterday to turn the replica of the Pilgrim ship over to an American foundation—a move that was being fought in London.

★ ★ ★

Warwick Charlton, center of a transatlantic controversy over the little ship that recently sailed the Atlantic, said on his arrival at Idlewild Airport that control of Mayflower II would be transferred "immediately" to the Plimouth Plantation, Plymouth, Mass.

But in London, Felix Fenston, a millionaire financier, sought a high court injunction to retain control of the vessel for the Mayflower Foundation, a British educational trust.

Fenston reportedly had advanced some $98,000 to build Mayflower II. He withdrew from "Project Mayflower," the organization Charlton formed, when he failed to secure the resignations of Charlton and John Lowe, a co-director.

The 39-year-old Charlton, a public relations man, said he had planned to turn the Mayflower over to the Plimouth Plantation in November, but had advanced the date because of the controversy raised over charges of "commercialism" on the project.

★ ★ ★

Charlton disputed the commercial charge, but said he hopes to make some money out of a book he will publish in September, recounting Mayflower's voyage from England to Plymouth.

It's Going Up! Money in Pot Is at $1,400

This may be the last week you'll have to try for such a big pot in the Pot-O-Gold puzzle. With so many people trying, the pot's bound to explode right into some lucky winner's pocket. It could be you. Just send us your entry with correct numbers on it, and the $1,400 is yours. See what you can do.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

Big Medal Winner Now Is on Trial

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

A soft-spoken, bespectacled Army colonel at the Redstone Arsenal in Alabama was asked recently to describe the circumstances under which he won two Silver Stars, a Bronze Star, the Air Medal, a Distinguished Unit Badge and the Croix de Guerre during World War II.

"I really can't remember what I got my medals for," replied 41-year-old John Nickerson Jr., adding wryly: "Somebody sent them to me through official channels."

Because of his refusal to stay within the confines of "official channels," Nickerson went on trial before a general court-martial Tuesday, charged on 18 counts of violating service regulations.

VACATIONISTS CAUTIONED TO THIEF-PROOF HOMES

Vacations can be holidays for crooks unless steps are taken to guard homes against theft while away. Thieves begin working overtime when families desert their homes. According to FBI statistics more than 1,500 homes will be burglarized every 24 hours during July and August.

Home Owners should take the following pre-vacation steps:

1. Tell your postman about the temporary change in address, and cancel milk and newspaper deliveries until you return home. A collection of unopened milk bottles, a stuffed mail box or a pile of newspapers on your front porch is an invitation to burglars who constantly watch for such telltale signals.

2. Notify your local police and tell them how long you will be away. The policeman in your neighborhood will keep an eye open for any signs of unusual activity at your home.

3. Inform a trustworthy neighbor of your plans and give him your vacation address and phone number.

4. Don't leave cash, gems or valuables in the house unless protected in an approved burglary-resistive armored steel money safe.

5. Securely lock all windows and doors. Don't just slam the door. Lock it with a key so the bolt provides added security.

To protect your valuables, we stock a variety of Fireproof chests at $12.60 up, and burglar-proof chests at $88.00 up.

Man Confesses Killing Ex-Wife

Truck Driver's Son Also Dies in Gun Battle With Photographer

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — A truck driver accused of slaying his former spouse and son and wounding two others after a wife-trading incident was held on a charge of second-degree murder today.

Police said Thomas Whitaker, 36, shot and killed his former wife Mrs. Alma Whitaker, 39, and their son Jack Whitaker, 10, and wounded his daughter Regina Louanne, 9, and the other man in the wife-swapping case, Stewart Martin, 49, a photographer. They said Whitaker was enraged because he couldn't get court permission to see his children more frequently.

Whitaker was arraigned last night on a preliminary charge of second-degree murder and Justice of the Peace Lee Easton set bail at $50,000.

The slayings took place at Martin's home in suburban Westwood yesterday after the two men engaged in a brief gun battle. The couples had been close friends in a Terre Haute dancing club before both obtained divorces last October.

Whitaker married the ex-Mrs. Martin in December and Martin married the ex-Mrs. Whitaker four months later.

Terre Haute police said he signed a statement admitting the shootings. He was quoted as saying he had been thinking it over for a long time because he had suffered a "lot of grief about losing my kids."

Couple Held in Fatal Beating of 3-Year-Old

BARNSTABLE, Mass. (INS) — The pitiful story of how a three-year-old boy was beaten so severely he suffered a fractured skull and swollen brain was made public Tuesday as his mother and stepfather were charged with manslaughter.

Air Force Sergeant George W. Woods, 34, and Mrs. Dolores L. Woods, 23, of Sagamore, were taken into custody after Special Justice Gershron D. Hall released a special inquest report into the death of Michael Edward Mooney.

An autopsy report said the child also bore bruises on his body, arms, legs, face, head and back.

Judge Hall reported:

"The stepfather tried to discipline the boy by slaps and spankings and by putting him under a shower which he feared greatly.

HIT ON HEAD

"The mother, the evidence indicates, hit the child on the head, knocked him down and struck him several times daily."

The boy, according to police, was turned over to the orphanage of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul shortly after birth. He remained there until March, when his mother and Sgt. Woods were given custody. He died May 5 at Chelsea Naval Hospital after he underwent emergency brain surgery.

Sgt. Woods was bailed in $10,000 and his wife in $5,000. Their other son, David, 11 months old, was being cared for by neighbors.

Sergeant Woods' home town address is Chestnut Hill road, Chapachet, Rhode Island.

Will All Facts Be Unveiled in Nickerson Court-Martial?

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (INS) — The scene: "Rocket City, U.S.A."—Huntsville, Ala.—the site of Redstone Arsenal, where the Col. John C. Nickerson court-martial is being conducted.

The place: A tiny courthouse in which approximately 100 newspapermen and spectators watched the drama of the popular Army colonel charged with security infractions unfold.

The time: Almost six months after the missile expert released a document critical of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's order to end the Army research on intermediate-range guided missiles.

If found guilty, the 1938 West Point graduate, a lieutenant colonel while still in his 20s, could be sentenced to 46 years imprisonment, a $10,000 fine, and a release from the service.

SIT POISED

The reporters, who have come to cover the affair, sit poised and ready for the news to break.

The rumors, the intimations, the "real" reasons such an "unreasonable" trial has come about have been told to the reporters many different times in as many different ways.

Some of the information that remains in the rumor-stage pending trial confirmation includes:

—Nickerson is being used as a "scapegoat" by the Army to bring to the public's attention its need to retain the long-range weapon rather than give it to the Air Force.

—The World War II hero wrote his critical document to "save" the little city of Huntsville from losing a research center which has materially aided in tripling the community's growth since 1950.

—There were actually more people involved in releasing the information than the colonel—their identity may be revealed at the trial.

SUPPLIES PARTS

—The secretary of defense wanted to discontinue the operation of the "Jupiter" in favor of the "Thor" project while a competitor supplies the "Jupiter" parts.

—Nickerson wrote the critical document because he believed using the "faulty Thor" would seriously endanger the lives of American soldiers.

—The Air Force must have access to the only effective service-guided missile or become—in the modern set-up of warfare—nothing more than a "ferry service."

Sees Full Rights to Negro by '63

NAACP Leader Talks to 3,000 at Convention in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Channing H. Tobias says he believes the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People can achieve its goal of full civil rights for Negroes in this country by 1963, the centennial of Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation.

But the association's 75-year-old board chairman, keynoting the NAACP convention last night, said more members and more money would be needed.

Dr. Tobias said the organization faced a grave crisis because of attempts to "harass, cripple and run the NAACP out of business throughout the South."

A crowd that packed the 3,000 seat Henry and Edsel Ford Auditorium on the Detroit riverfront cheered Dr. Tobias' statement that "we cannot remain half integrated and half segregated."

The convention mildly applauded the reading of a telegram of greetings from President Eisenhower. The President's message said, "Our country is founded upon the principle that all men are created equal and all men should take an equal share in the responsibilities of government.

"As you have helped by word and deed to bring substance to this fundamental American objective, you have contributed to the strength of the national community."

Jeanne Crain Saved From Disabled Ship

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A dramatic rescue saved actress Jeanne Crain and her family minutes before their disabled yacht would have crashed against a stone jetty.

The Coast Guard yesterday reported that Miss Crain, her husband Paul Brinkman and their four children were aboard a 51-foot power cruiser which drifted helplessly for nearly three hours after developing engine trouble on a "second honeymoon voyage."

Brinkman and his wife patched up their marital troubles earlier this year. Both were seasick and exhausted and their oldest son, Robert, 12, was trying to control the boat when a passing ship took it in tow Monday night just off the Newport Beach jetty.

Query on Milk Rewards 2 Kentucky Waitresses

GEORGETOWN, Ky. (AP) — Two waitresses asked a customer if he wanted a glass of milk with his lunch. He answered by handing them $5 each.

The customer, Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield, had won the $5 first prize in a milking contest to promote June Dairy Month last week. He was told to give the money to the first waitress who asked him to have milk.

Nancy Schwerdtfeger and Wanda Turpin didn't know about the promotion. They were just trying to sell milk.

Hal Boyle Says:

Attorney Trades Court for Resort

WESTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP)—Is a man crazy if he gives up a successful career as a lawyer to run a summer resort?

★ ★ ★

"He has to be—there's no doubt of it," said Hylan Chesler, who did just that nine years ago.

His excuse is that he really didn't do it deliberately. It just kind of happened. But today the crinkly faced little former attorney, "mine host" at the Dune Deck, a fabulous gathering place for social notables and entertainment celebrities, wouldn't give a strawberry tart for all the torts in the world.

"It's a risky thing to switch careers in midlife," he admitted. "And in the beginning I did miss the courtroom. But not now. I haven't the time."

★ ★ ★

There are two things the average man feels he can run better than those who have the job—the government and a summer resort. "Hy" is no exception.

Back in 1948, when the place was put on sale, Chesler, who liked to summer there, decided to get 10 other guests who liked the place to buy it with him.

"The 10 said 'No' real fast," recalled Hy, "so I bought it myself. Then the manager died suddenly, just before the season opened, and I found I had to run the place myself."

★ ★ ★

He soon found that a liking for people and a love of good food aren't enough to make a successful resort operator.

"The biggest weakness of this business," said Hy, "is that you are at the mercy of things beyond your control. A fresh waiter, three days of bad weather in a row—these things can undo all your efforts.

★ ★ ★

"One of the first things you learn is that you have to worry more about pleasing your help than you do pleasing the guests. Keeping your help happy is the real trick. If they feel wrong, you're dead. If they're happy, they'll keep the guests happy.

The resort or hotel business isn't really a business. No really smart man would risk money in it. You simply have to take it as a way of life."

★ ★ ★

Hy and his wife Serena, a former schoolteacher, follow the sun. After the 10-week season here, they spend the winter in Andros Island in the Bahamas, where they operate another resort.

When one of his guests looks unhappy, Chesler, who could have been a fine psychiatrist, suffers with him.

Years of listening to other people's vacation woes have made Chesler into a philosopher. He has his own theory of why so many people in a world of plenty manage to make themselves feel thoroughly miserable.

"They become too concerned with themselves," he said. "Most troubles really start from within. "All a man has to do to feel better is to brood more about how he can help the other fellow—then do something about it."

End advance for pms of Wednesday, June 26.

Study to Tell Needs in Medical Insurance

A mail-interview study of needs in the medical-surgical insurance field is being carried out in Michigan to determine what citizens and doctors think such plans should include.

The study will take four parts — an interview survey by the Market Research Company of Detroit; a mail survey to 50,000 Michigan homes; a presentation of actual case reports, and a survey of member doctors of the Michigan State Medical Society.

The interview and mail portions of the study will begin this week. Results of the entire study will be released late in September.

The study will cover what such plans now include and attempt to discover what such plans should include. The research is sponsored by the Michigan Health Council.

Social Club Plans Trip to Open-Air Symphony

Story of Christina, Huw Lacks Sweet Quality of True Love

Romance Fails to Tug Heartstrings

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Puppylovers have been leaping the family fences and bounding carefree over the countryside for a week now, and the moralists are, with good reason, genuinely worried.

★ ★ ★

The woe-and-woo tale of Christina, the diplomat's daughter, and the Senate page boy with the all-too-understanding mother is by now a cause celebre in modern romantic annals.

Even in New York, a city that's allegedly as hard-headed and hearted as the cashier at El Morocco, the subway readers' eyes were misty for days at the potential pathos of it all.

The general feeling seemed to be that not since the 1934 revival of "The Student Prince" had there been a more legitimate excuse to weep for the disparity in class between two classy lovers.

★ ★ ★

I claim to be as mushy as the next woman but this particular affair fails to twang at my heartstrings—mainly because, as a melodrama, it is unbelievable.

Class B cast. Class C dialogue. If a producer were to work it up for the movies, he'd not only have the churches at his throat for its implications, but he'd have the critics claiming:

"The actors seem to be playing with tongue in cheek, yet it is neither outright comedy nor straight tragedy. A dull show . . ."

SEEM AMUSED

Christina Wennerstrom and Huw Williams, also their mamas, appear to this department to be getting more of a kick than a heartache out of the kiddies' two week honeymoon-sans-nuptials and the ensuing publicity.

Huw beams in schoolboy fashion and discusses his "tragedy" in schoolboy lingo ("We're going to get married even if I have to take a poke at that little man—if she goes back to Sweden, I'm dead.")

His mama, Mrs. Nan Williams, calls Christina's mama, Mrs. Stig Wennerstrom, a "society climber" and wants "those two kids" to get married. "You may believe in trial marriages," she said she told Christina's father, "But I don't."

The real piece de no-resistance of the romance, however, is Christina herself who at the age of 16, is intent upon getting wed—but not to the point of giving up her honeymoon simply because she is too young to obtain a marriage license.

★ ★ ★

Nor would she leave her stuffed teddy bear at home when she fled with her sweetheart. A girl's got to have something to hang onto.

FORGES ONWARD

With undertones of social ambition, false pride, parental and juvenile irresponsibility and impracticability, the story forges onward. It appears to me to have everything but the sweet quality of true love which many people are trying to ice over it.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps it will be a sign of creeping age and deterioration to say so, but I find it hard to believe that a 16-year-old girl knows the difference between true love and a stomach chill . . . and don't throw the case of Juliet Capulet up to me.

Look where those 13-year-old illusions took HER.

The other, less publicized puppy-lovey story of the week involves a 17-year-old boy and 12-year-old girl who ran away from home in Columbus. They were gypsies and it's old gypsy custom that the father of the bridegroom must pay the girl's parents a dowry.

Sonia's price was $3,000, and as her boy friend explained, his father couldn't afford it. "So we decided to run away and return in a little while. When that happens, her price is lowered."

★ ★ ★

There's a moral in that immoral idea. Today's puppy lovers would do well to learn it.

Won't Seek Higher Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Ford (R-Mich) today renounced any ambition to be governor of Michigan or to serve in the U.S. Senate.

One of four American families moves in an average year.

Sex Crime Resolution on Way to Legislature

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — Resolution seeking the creation of a special committee to study Michigan's sex crime laws has been sent to the House of Representatives by Reps. Kenneth N. Sanborn (R-Mt. Clemens), John T. Bowman (D-Roseville), and Robert Waldron (R-Grosse Pointe).

Sanborn said he expected the resolution to be read in the House Thursday and then referred to the committee on Resolutions.

He said the special committee, if created, would consist of five representatives who would make a study of all of the state's laws dealing with sexually motivated crimes and then report their recommendations to the House.

Area Riders Show Skill at Detroit Horse Show

By GRETA PORTER

They're off and running! That might well be the ringmaster's cry at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club. For this week the BOH is the scene of the Detroit Horse Show which began at the club Tuesday.

The show opened with junior equestrian teams competing in three divisions; the team jumping event, the junior "prix des nations" and the relay jumping teams.

The junior division provides competition and experience for young riders under simulated Olympic conditions. Some of the riders will be ready to participate in the 1960 Olympic equestrian events in Rome with seasoning such as is gained from the Detroit Horse Show.

These riders start their training early. Most of the junior equestrians began riding when they were about 10 years old.

Chuck Grant, who trains with the Irishmen—one of the teams entered in the team jumping event—explains that during the summer the youngsters work on equitation, jumping and dressage continually. His team, like many others, will ride in shows nearly every week from now until November.

BUSY SCHEDULE

To get an idea of a typical busy riding schedule, let's look at the Irishmen. They will ride in Jackson, Battle Creek and Metamora in the next three weeks.

Grant's team, which is headed by Olympic rider Howard Miller of Rochester, holds the North American junior equestrian championship. Rick Otto and Cynthia Campbell of Birmingham, together with Nan Barrett of Chicago (who is riding with the team just for the summer), comprise the Irishmen.

There are other equestrians riding in the Detroit Horse Show who are as well seasoned horsemen for their ages as the Irishmen.

* * *

Take, for instance, Susan Foley, a 14-year-old from Birmingham, who has been riding since she was 10. Entering the team events for BOH, Susan rode "Steel Strike," a hunter horse.

There are Peter, 14, and Susan Fisher, 12. Both have been around the BOH for years despite their youth. Both Fisher youngsters, who live in Bloomfield Hills and train under Chuck Grant, rode in the team jumping event.

Peter rode his cousin's horse, "At Last," because his own "Reno Double Time," was lame. Susan was mounted on "Bumpy" for the jumping event.

* * *

Throughout the remainder of the week junior and senior classes and divisions of horsemanship will show some of the best riding in the country at the Detroit Horse Show.

Peter and Susan Fisher receive final instructions from Chuck Grant before they enter the team jumping event.

Others are Mrs. J. A. Rammes, international cooperation; Mrs. William Harris, marketing; Mrs. Thurman Holloway, membership; Mrs. R. D. Aumaugher, program; Mrs. Henry J. Trips With Children Can Be Fun

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A motor trip with young children can be exciting and restful or it can be absolutely exhausting.

★ ★ ★

I have suggested that it will be good for you if you get on the road at 9 in the morning and stop at 5 in the afternoon. It will be even better for the small fry who need their sleep and rest even more. This lessens the chance that a child will become ill or irritable from fatigue.

The breaks which stopping to look at an interesting scene or museum or historical marker provides will be welcomed by the younger members of your family.

It also helps to plan activities for the children beforehand. No matter what their age they are bound to get restless and to become bored with long hours in the car.

★ ★ ★

One mother I know wrapped little surprises for each day, each with instructions to "Open when you see a horse" or a train or some such object. Car trips are a good time for family singing or guessing or spelling games.

GAMES HELP OUT

If the children are old enough such games as "Ghost," the spelling game, or "Animal, Mineral or Vegetable" are time consuming.

★ ★ ★

We have made up severa games on our trips. In one we had to spell a fairly short word, taking the letters from signboards as we passed. Another one we liked was to guess how far it was from where we were to as far as we could see, and then clock it.

Another favorite — see who will be the first one to spell his name, taking letters from billboards.

Regular meals make a big difference in the health and disposition of children when traveling. You may not want to stop for lunch at a restaurant since this can be very time consuming, if the place is crowded.

★ ★ ★

Why not have a lunch packed by the restaurant in which you have breakfast? You then can pick a lovely spot at which to stop for your noon-day meal.

SPOILS YOUR FUN

Without enough sleep and exercise and entertainment your offspring are certain to become restless and hectic. This spoils your fun as well as theirs.

★ ★ ★

Many children are victims of car-sickness. This makes them and their parents most unhappy. Some of the seasickness preventatives are most helpful. Ask your doctor about this.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Tricks in Camping" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 69 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Too Late to Decline Bridge Date

Wife Should Have Called as Soon as Hubby Objected

BY EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Several days ago a casual friend called and asked me what I was doing next Saturday. Without thinking I said 'nothing.' Whereupon she invited my husband and me to play bridge with her and her husband.

"When I told my husband about this he was furious with me for accepting, knowing how he hates playing bridge with this couple. He has been after me ever since to call her and tell her that we can't come. Would it be proper, having accepted her invitation, to call and say that we can't make it?"

Answer: It would be very rude to decline at this late date. You should have called her up immediately after your husband's conversation. At that time you could have said that your husband had already accepted another invitation for that same night.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine is going on a trip shortly to a country that is noted for its fine woolens which are far less expensive than they are here. Would it be an imposition to ask her to bring me back a cashmere sweater? I have always wanted one but have held back from buying one because of the price. I intend, of course, to pay for it."

Answer: If she is not flying, with a limited baggage allowance, you might ask her to do this, paying her not only for the sweater but also for any customs duty she has to pay because of it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have been invited to a large dance at my boy friend's school. I am going to wear a floor-length evening dress. I would like to know if elbow-length gloves are necessary, or would short ones be in order?"

Answer: I think long gloves would be prettier, but short ones would also be correct if you prefer them. It is entirely a question of personal taste.

Wood Hangers Best for Suits

Lengthen the life of your suits and sport jackets by hanging them on properly shaped wooden or plastic hangers. Wire hangers eventually will kill the careful workmanship that has shaped the collar and shoulders of your jackets.

The thicker bowed hangers approximate the shape of your shoulders and keep your garments in shape between wearings. Wire trouser hangers, on the other hand, are excellent for storing pants and slacks.

These wire hangers slip into the trouser cuffs and can be suspended from an ordinary closet rod.

Family Labors for Dream House

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There is an old proverb which says: "'What will you have?' quoth God. 'Take it and pay for it.'"

Much of the unhappiness I see around me comes from a desire to take it but not to pay for it. Unless we pay for it, we don't get it.

The other evening, for example, some people I know were talking about the joy of having a country place.

These are families with teenage children and fathers who work in the city. They get two, three or four-week vacations and go to the country; but they would all love to have country places where the wife and children could stay all summer and the husbands could spend weekends.

★ ★ ★

"But that, of course," one of them complained, "takes a small fortune."

COULDN'T HAVE IT

Mournfully, they all agreed that they couldn't have it.

★ ★ ★

The week before I had visited a family who have just such a set-up. The difference is, this family "paid for it." Their story is a perfect example of how to get what you want in this world.

The Smiths, as I shall call them, have three teenage boys. Mr. Smith's job calls for irregular hours, making it necessary for the family to live in the city.

However, the Smiths wanted country summers. They also wanted to invest in a place they could retire to, but on Mr. Smith's salary, and with three growing boys, there was little chance of building up enough capital to buy it.

So five years ago, they put their heads together and figured a plan.

ROADSIDE STAND

They decided that if they could get a tiny piece of land on a well-traveled road in the country, they might set up a good roadside stand.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Smith is an elegant cook and makes particularly good jams, jellies and preserves. She could make her specialties and the boys could grow things. By selling fruits, vegetables and preserves, they thought they might make a go of it.

For three years, they worked toward this goal.

They spent two vacations looking for a place. In her kitchen in the city, Mrs. Smith made small batches of preserves which she sold, putting the profits in the account for the roadside stand.

★ ★ ★

The boys got jobs, those three summers, and added their money to the project, too.

AN OLD BARN

Two years ago, they found the place—an old barn on a few acres along a good road. The boys and Mrs. Smith moved in and got things started. Mr. Smith came up on weekends to help.

Not a penny went to improve the living quarters; everything went toward the "business"—the roadside stand. The going was pretty rough for them, but they enjoyed every minute of it.

Today, they have a thriving business and now they are beginning to improve the house. But most important, they have what they wanted because the whole family paid for it!

If you're interested in a roadside stand, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my pamphlet on this project.

Deviled Crab Served in Sea Shells

Mrs. Lippincott's Dish Has Mustard in Cream Sauce

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Seafood makes excellent food for summer eating. It is light, yet filling, and provides the protein in a meal. Crab served in a highly seasoned cream sauce is delicious. We give you Mrs. Charles Lippincott's recipe.

The Lippincotts are lake dwellers, having a charming home on Deer Lake. With her two sons away from home at school and in the service, Mrs. Lippincott has time to do such things as belong to garden club and to be Neighborhood chairman for the Girl Scouts. She enjoys all water sports with her family and on the less strenuous side, bird watching.

2 pounds lump crab meat
2 cups heavy cream sauce
1 teaspoon dry mustard
Juice of ½ lemon

Greg Peck Takes Option on 'The Marshal' Novel

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Caught up with Greg Peck at the Villa Capri where he and Veronique were entertaining Valentina Cortesa, Richard Basehart and Marisa Pavan. Earlier, Valentina and Dick had acted as godparents for the Peck baby.

I told Greg I had heard that he was buying Frank Gruber's unpublished novel, "The Marshal," which comes out this winter. He said it's true he's taken an option and told me a cute story about how he became interested in Gruber's work.

"My son Jonathan's English teacher at Harvard Military School told him about Gruber's novels and Jonathan asked me why I didn't do a picture of one as they're all outdoor adventure yarns.

"Gave me the idea—and if this book is as good as the others I'll make it as an independent. But first I want to read it."

Right now Greg's up to his neck starting "The Big Country."

Handsome Kerwin Mathews, who was first brought to Columbia by his agent, Wynn Rocamora, and signed to play opposite Rita Hayworth in "Joseph and His Brethren," never made that picture. Of course, neither did Rita. Now, after a long wait, Kerwin is getting a break.

He finished "Garment Center" and he has been given a top role in "Seventh Voyage of Sinbad," which will be filmed on location in Majorca, Spain, starting Aug. 1.

Lucky Kerwin. Majorca on the Blue Mediterranean is so beautiful, and it never gets too hot in the summer.

SCREEN ROMANCE

Pretty starlet Yvonne Lime, who is one of several young honeys Elvis Presley has taken home to Memphis to meet his folks (although their romance is cold now), gets a nice new screen romance opposite young Tim Considine in Walt Disney's TV series, "The Mystery of Ghost Farm."

The serial in 14 chapters is intended for next season's Mickey Mouse Club show although shooting starts immediately. In addition to Yvonne and Timmy, Tommy Kirk is featured.

Soon after young Miss Lime was cast in "The Rainmaker" she paid me a visit at my staff meeting, and we all thought she was a very cute girl who would go places. P. S. She is.

"The Pride and the Passion" is a big picture in scope, in acting, and in photography. There is much violence, and although this is fiction it is taken from a number of happenings at the time when Napoleon's army had almost captured Spain in 1810. Stanley Kramer ably directed as well as produced this eipic which took five months to make.

Since Frank Sinatra is the leader of the patriotic guerrillas, I had an idea he would steal the picture. Let me say, Frankie is just great, make no mistake about that, but Cary Grant, as the British officer who joins the ragged army, is just as great Cary is trying to get the huge cannon which belongs to Spain for England. Into this man's world comes Sophia Loren, exciting, earthy as the one romantic note (both men are in love with her).

WONDERFUL GIFT

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: A wonderful Christmas present for Ann and Jack Warner. Their daughter, Barbara, married to Claude Terrail of the Tour D'Argent restaurant in Paris, expects a baby in December. Word came to me from Paris and the happy grandparents-to-be verified it.

Jack Rose and his bride, the former Audrey Hyland, honeymooned at the Coronado Beach Hotel. They met at a set party at the end of "Beau James."

Vic Mature's ex-wife, Dorothy, has completed her real estate broker's course and is now working for the John Haskell Realty Company. Rumor is that Vic has been trying to make up with his former wife.

When "Island in the Sun" is premiered in London, Princess Margaret will be a guest. It is a benefit for the Royal Ballet School, formerly Sadler's Wells Ballet.

Catholics Accused of Working as Spies

BERLIN (UP) — Czechoslovakia's Communist government has arrested a number of Roman Catholic priests and nuns on charges of underground work and espionage for foreign agencies and the Vatican.

ADN, Communist East Germany's official news agency, reported the arrests but did not say how many were founded up.

ADN quoted the Czech Communist party organ Rude Pravo as saying priests and nuns of the Order of the Salesians in Moravia were arrested because they received instructions from the headquarters of the order in Turin, Italy, the Vatican and certain U.S. espionage agencies.

Rude Pravo also said nuns of a monastery at Liptal, a small village in Moravia, had anti-Communist leaflets and illegal newspapers printed by using funds the government gave the monastery. The Liptal nuns also were accused of sheltering spies and enemies of the state.

Won't Run Plant Unless It's Safe

Sponsors of A-Project Near Monroe Will Strive for Full Precaution

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sponsors of a private atomic plant in southern Michigan told Congress that even though construction has started, the plant will never be operated unless they are sure it is safe.

★ ★ ★

Noting that three unions have claimed this type of plant might explode, Ernest R. Acker said his group does not feel the government has any "legal or moral commitment" to allow operation.

Acker, vice president of the builders of the plant, the Power Reactor Development Co. (PRDC), told a House-Senate atomic energy subcommittee:

"Until PRDC management is convinced that all safety requirements have been fully met, it will not even seek permission to operate this reactor."

★ ★ ★

The plant is being built near Monroe. It will make steam for electric generators.

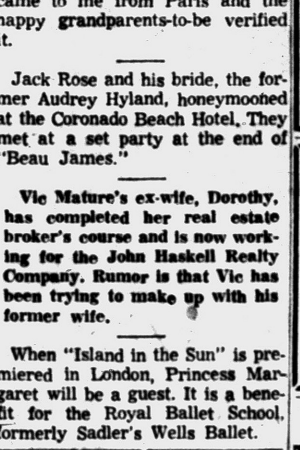

An AEC examiner has been holding hearings on contentions by the United Auto Workers, Paper Workers and Electrical Workers that the plant should not be allowed to operate.

The French Post Office has issued a 15-page list of corrections to its Paris telephone directory—a week's work for conscientious subscribers to inscribe.

Must Have Been Lashing, Tigers Win

Rally in Ninth Ties, 3 in 10th Clinches It, 7-4

Maxwell Hits 2 Homers in Washington, Bunning Starts Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — For eight innings it looked like manager Jack Tighe's well - publicized tongue-lashing of the Detroit Tigers went for naught.

Then, in the 9th inning, the Tigers pushed across a run to tie the Washington Senators at 4-4 and in the 10th they boomed across three more runs to wrap up a 7-4 triumph here last night.

It was the Tigers' first game since Tighe, their freshman manager, raked his players with an ear-burning tirade after a 6-0 loss to Baltimore Monday night.

The Tigers' big 10th inning looked like the Tigers' highly touted hitters didn't know they were in a slump.

J. W. Porter, the team's second best hitter with a .302 average, led off with an infield single. Reno Bertoia ran for him.

Harvey Kuenn laid down a sacrifice bunt that sent Bertoia to second.

★ ★ ★

Dave Philley grounded out but Bill Tuttle, who took a .236 batting average into the game, rapped a single to left field, scoring Bertoia.

Al Kaline, the American League batting champion in 1955 but the possessor of a .285 average going into last night's game, banged a double to left, scoring Tuttle.

Kaline moved to third on the throw home.

★ ★ ★

Charley Maxwell, who polled two home runs early in the game to account for Detroit's first three runs, drew an intentional walk.

Red Wilson, a .269 hitter, socked a double to left, scoring Kaline, but Maxwell was tagged out trying to make home behind Kaline, ending the rally.

Tuttle and Wilson teamed up to provide the tying run in the ninth.

★ ★ ★

Tuttle beat out a hit to deep short to lead off the inning. After Kaline grounded out and Maxwell walked, Wilson bounced a single to left scoring Tuttle.

Maxwell's homers, his 13th and 14th of the season, came in the fourth inning with Kaline on base to cut Washington's lead to 4-2 and in the seventh with the bases empty to slice the lead to 4-3.

Redlegs Still in (NL) Business

Chisox Regain Lead in AL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati's Redlegs are still in business in that National League dog fight, climbing within five percentage points of the lead after three question-mark guys—"Lucky" Brooks Lawrence, sore-backed Ted Kluszewski and squat-swatter Smoky Burgess — helped junk a 4-13 slump.

★ ★ ★

All three had a hand in last night's 3-2 decision over the New York Giants that hoisted the Redlegs, who have won six of seven, onto almost-even terms with the idle first place St. Louis Cardinals.

★ ★ ★

Lawrence, target of jests belittling his 19 victories last year, four hit the Giants to win his eighth. Burgess' two home runs kept the Redlegs in the game and Klu's two-out, pinch single in the ninth bagged it.

The race, tight as an infant's fist, got even chummier as Brooklyn's southpaw rookie, Danny McDevitt, four-hit Milwaukee 2-0. That upped idle Philadelphia to third, 1½ games back, spilled the Braves to fourth, also 1½ shy, and raised the fifth place Brooks within two games of the leaders.

In the American, Chicago's White Sox shook off that lost weekend in New York to regain a half-game lead with a 2-1 victory that cut Boston's winning streak at six games. Third place Cleveland laid the wood to the Yankees, plunking New York back to second with an 11-2 pasting.

★ ★ ★

Detroit, blasted by Manager Jack Tighe, came from behind to beat Washington 7-4 in 10 innings for a full share of fourth place again. And Baltimore handed Kansas City a sixth consecutive defeat, 5-0 on Billy Loes' three-hit pitching.

★ ★ ★

Chicago's Cubs quit the cellar in the other NL game, dropping Pittsburgh into eighth place with a 5-3 decision over the Pirates.

Lawrence, 32, a righthander who has permitted three runs and two walks while winning three games in the Redlegs' "comeback," gave up a 3-0 Giant lead before Burgess went to work on loser Ray Crone, the ex-Brave, to tie it. Another ex-Brave, Danny O'Connell, hit his eighth home run — fifth as a Giant — in the first inning.

After Burgess, behind the plate for only the eighth time because of injury, and Ed Bailey's hitting, had poled his fifth homer — third in two games — the Redlegs slumped down until the ninth, when reliever Al Worthington walked two to load the bases. Then came Klu.

★ ★ ★

The Dodgers collected four hits themselves, two by Duke Snider, who walloped his 15th home run —third in two days—in the first inning before Lew Burdette closed the door and retired 17 in a row. Snider also scored an unearned run in the ninth, on a single, error and Gino Cimoli's single. It was a third successive defeat for Burdette, 5-5. He walked none, fanned five.

★ ★ ★

Walt Dropo, who hit eight home runs all last season, walloped his ninth of '57 with a man on in the seventh inning to break up Dave Sisler's three-hit shutout duel with Bob Keegan. The Chicago righthander went all the way with a six-hitter for a 3-3 record.

QUALIFIES — It runs in the Watrous family. While Al Watrous is over in Glasgow, Scotland, ready for his International Senior's Match against John Burton, his son Tommy is making a bid for the NCAA golf title at Colorado Springs this week. He qualified for match play with 72-76—148.

Watrous, Grace Qualify

NCAA Golfers to Begin Match Play

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A pair of slender, par-busting collegians led a field of 64 into the first round of matched play today in the 60th annual NCAA golf championships, already the scene of sparkling performances.

The list of contestants was completed this morning when 11 golfers, all tied with 156s, staged a sudden-death playoff for six spots needed to fill out the 64 finalists.

Lanky Roger Rubendall of Wisconsin, the former Big Ten champion and son of a Freeport, Ill., club professional, and Warren Simmons, 19-year-old Syracuse University junior, bettered par by two strokes over the 6,897-yard Broadmoore course yesterday for medalist honors and the co-favorites' role in the meet which ends Saturday.

Rubendall was tied for 10th and virtually ignored as Simmons flashed around the course in a record 69 Monday. But he came out of nowhere and sliced four strokes off par yesterday with a remarkable 68. With a 74-68—142 he tied Simmons' 69-73—142 and was a heavy favorite today to beat San Jose State's Jim Clark in his opening-round test. Simmons was matched against Ernie George, also of San Jose.

University of Detroit golf captain Tom Watrous, of Royal Oak, qualified with rounds of 72-76—148, good enough for a four-way tie for 4th place.

In the start of match play today, Watrous will meet Bernie Magnussen of Stanford who had 77-76—153 in the qualifying rounds.

Joe Grace of Southfield Township made the qualifying list with 72-79—151, but Pontiac's Lloyd Syron, his teammate at Notre Dame failed to make the list as he shot 78-84—162.

Grace complained that his putting fell off badly, despite knocking seven strokes off his Monday round of 79.

Grace faces Bob Goetz of Oklahome A&M in today's pairings.

HORSE SHOW AWARDS — Here's a horse show enthusiast that's almost buried in trophies, ribbons and other awards of the kinds that scores of riders and their mounts will win during the current Detroit Horse Show. Seated among the "souvenirs" is 13-year-old Kathy Bates, daughter of the Merrill O. Bates of Bloomfield Hills. Mr. Bates heads the trophy selection and presentation committee for the show which runs through Sunday evening at Bloomfield Open Hunt club, East Long Lake road. He is also president of the Bloomfield Hills board of education. Kathy is a veteran show rider herself, taking part in the 1956 show, and being entered for several events in this year's show riding "Pegasus" — pet name "Peg Darling." She has quite a collection of show honors.

DODGE outperforms "other two" low-priced trucks!

They're off! All three low-priced trucks are lined up at the bottom of a test grade equal to the steepest hill in San Francisco. The flag drops, and this grueling test of climbing power is officially underway. Dodge takes an early lead.

Halfway up. The extra V-8 power under the hood of the Dodge sends it quickly ahead. It's already two lengths out front. And there's a 1000-lb. test load on each one of these comparably equipped trucks. What's more, Dodge is still gaining!

Dodge flashes past the finish five lengths ahead of competition. Truck "C" and truck "F" just couldn't match that 204-hp. Power Giant. And this is just one of a rugged series of tests that prove Dodge is best of the low-priced three.

Bass Bug Produces
Rates High as Fish Lure

As a great many bass fishermen know, under most conditions the bass bug will take as many or more bass than other types of lures, says John Alden Knight. Unfortunately, however, not very many bass fishermen have learned how to cast a bass bug with a fly rod.

Properly a bug should be fished 70 or 80 feet from the boat. To do this, a man must have a top-grade fly rod, a three-diameter line and much practice. Few men have such equipment and fewer still will take time out to learn how to use it.

Most folks fish a bass bug, cast with a fly rod, 40 or 50 feet from the boat. That's too close. Big bass will not stand crowding. To take them consistently you should fish at longer ranges.

Now the spinning addicts have solved the problem. Using a "bubble" (that little plastic ball that is partially filled with water) and a light monofilament line, they can cast a bass bug 75 to 100 feet with very little effort.

The rig is an easy one to put together. Fasten the line to one side of the bubble a five- or six-foot leader of slightly heavier material to the other side, and the bass bug to the end of the leader. Strangely enough, this rig casts very well and seldom tangles. Once cast, the bug can be played about the same as it is with the fly rod. Once in a while a bass will strike the bubble but mostly they prefer the bug. Try it this season. It produces a lot of bass.

Tip for Bass Fishermen
'Crawler' Harness Brings 'Em In

BY JACK PATTERSON

For bass fishermen who are having a rough go of it these days here's a tip from our old friend Bill Shaw. Oxbow Lake, according to Bill, is turning out some very nice catches of bass. Night crawlers fished just at the drop-off are doing the business. Bluegills of decent size are filling limits and some very nice rainbows have been taken in the last few days. Adds up to a pretty picture and sounds well worth a try.

PATTERSON

This might be a good point to slip in a word of praise for that tried and true gimmick, the night crawler harness. Year in, and year out, for most any species of fish the crawler harness is about as efficient a producer as has yet been devised. This rig is so well suited for use with spinning gear that the spin fisherman could probably forget about the other nine million possible baits and catch just as many fish.

To add substance to this somewhat sweeping generalization we'd like to point out that George Wasserberger, who seldom fishes with anything but a crawler harness, showed us a handsome Elizabeth Lake bred smallmouth in the 3½ to 4 pound class, an evening or so ago. You can argue with us about the virtues of harnessed dew worms but better not argue with George.

Smallmouth fishing in Lake St. Clair, at least in American waters, hasn't approached anything like a peak yet. The Canadian season hasn't been open long enough to give a fair sampling. Fewer winds, lesser rains will help. Muskies generally have moved into deeper waters for the summer holidays. Saginaw Bay is for the most part in the better-days-ahead class.

Although we have a naive and child-like faith in John Knight's Solunar Tables, when we remember to consult them, we must recognize that some major activity periods come at unholy hours. Valuing undisturbed sleep in the night and quiet pastimes in the heat of the day, we have tried to work out a time-to-fish schedule for local waters which will interfere with neither.

For bass fishing, then, in Oakland County waters, from now on through July we would suggest fishing from six until nine in the morning and from six until full-dark.

Nothing scientific about this at all, just convenient. But after more than three decades of harrassing local bass we find those times to be at least as productive as any other. They offer the most comfortable fishing, too, on a hot day.

The same sort of easy-going approach works well on northern trout streams too, during these times of big fly hatches. Except that in this case, unless fishing time is limited, we'd skip any morning exercises and enter the stream about four in the afternoon and keep at it until the end of twilight. It is thus that goodly fish are caught and not at the expense of an unbalanced day, either. The next ten days will be among the season's best for putting this theory into action on the big northern streams. Night fishermen should find good hunting for big browns during this period, too.

Game, Fish Law Changes

Small game hunting seasons in the southern Lower Peninsula will open Oct. 21 this year, instead of Oct. 20, and the rabbit season in that region has been extended one month — through March 1.

★ ★ ★

These are two of the changes made in conservation laws by the 1957 legislature.

Other action by the legislature included:

Hunting license fee increases — resident small game, from $3 to $3; resident deer and bear (firearm or archery), from $3.50 to $5; resident trapping, from $2 to $3; nonresident small game, from $15 to $20; nonresident archery deer and bear, from $10 to $15; and camp deer permit, from $3.50 to $10.

Fishing license fee increases — residential annual, except trout, from $1.50 to $2; nonresident annual, except trout, from $4 to $5; nonresident 15-day permit, except trout, from $3 to $4; and resident or nonresident trout stamp, from $1 to $2.

All other hunting and fishing license fees remain unchanged. The new license prices will be effective this fall for hunting licenses and Jan. 1, 1958 for fishing licenses.

Other laws enacted by the legislature will:

Make slingshots legal hunting weapons this year.

Require a gun to be broken down or encased whenever carried in an automobile.

Ban use of .22 caliber rim fire rifles for taking deer.

Authorize the Conservation Department to establish five experimental game areas, where season lengths and bag limits may be varied for research purposes.

Allow leasing of Great Lakes bottomlands for oil and gas exporation and drilling.

Thomas Resident Intrigued With Beautiful Moths

Appearanct of a number of the beautiful night-flying moths, Samia Crecopia, this week has intrigued a Thomas resident. Says Mrs. Douglas Jackson of the north-Oakland county community, "these moths are beautiful things. We found them on a rose trellis in our yard, where they had just emerged from their cocoons."

★ ★ ★

This moth is one of the largest of the Saturniidae family, in the above instance measuring nearly six inches across the wings, which are dark red, tinged with gray. Each wing has a large crescent spot, either white or red, ringed with red and black. Forewings have large black eyespots. The caterpillar of this species is a three to four-inch-long green thing covered with green, blue, red and yellow tubercules.

DHS Offers Full Day of Dressage

By H. GUY MOATS

For the first time in any major United States horse show a full day of the remarkable technique of horseback riding known as dressage, will be offered followers of the sport, today, at Bloomfield Open Hunt club, Detroit Horse Show officials say it has never been done before, in this country, as far as they know.

Beginning with the BOH open elementary class at 8:30 a.m. five and possibly six dressage events will occupy the entire day and the first evening program. Day's biggest feature may be the start of the three-day event test at 1 p.m. This is a real test for both rider and horse.

Skip Dowd, Jocelyn Scoffield, Chuck Grant, Metropolitan area horsemen, and Helga Lausenstein of St. Thomas, Ont. compete, among others, in the "three-day. Dowd defends his title also, in this morning's Prix Caprilli, which he won last June. Dowd, Grant, Scoffield and Shirley Schoder of Detroit compete in the night feature, the Prix St. George.

Beginning of the big trophy events is set for Thursday morning with the Michigan Hunt's Perpetual Junior Challenge trophy first on the list. The Joan Coulson Memorial and the Blackthorn memorial events open Thursday afternoon and night programs, respectively.

Tuesday's opening action was a fine, day-long junior competition for equestrain teams of four. Overall tone of the youngsters' riding was exceptionally good. There was no untoward incident, and no spills.

In Class A the winner was BOH's Thunderbirds, with 30 faults (lowest fault total to decide). Members of the team were Randy Grant, Gretchen Raeder, Donna Minsinger and Cindy Scott. Second team was Outland Equestrians; Sue Woodhouse, Julie Smith, Sue Brundage and Joe Racine; 3rd-BOH Irishmen (1956 champions)—Howard Miller, Rich Otto, Cindy Campbell and Nan Barrett.

Class B—winners Four Aces; Maud Cooper, Marilyn Cole, Sue Sauer and Pete Sauer (brother, sister); 12¾ points; 2nd—Wallace Wolverines; Suzanne Wallace (daughter of Johnny Wallace), Sara Cameron, Judy Campbell and Sandra Movold.

Thirteen teams (seven B) took part including two Class A Toledo quartets.

Thunderbirds rode with their 1956 team intact, while the Irishmen, 1956 Michigan, Ohio and Canada junior equestrian champions had two new members in the two girls.

Nearly all of these youngsters will go on to compete in many of the individual events.

Starting today the show on East Long Lake road, will run morning, afternoon and nights, rest of the week, except that the final day (Sunday) begins at noon.

JUNIOR HORSEMEN — Young riders, and able ones too, held the spotlight in Tuesday's opening action in the Detroit Horse Show at Bloomfield Open Hunt. Above are two of the youngsters, (left) Carol (15), on "Major Mite," and Kathy Wilson (12) on "Pickpocket." Girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wilson of Bloomfield Hills, granddaughters of C. E. Wilson.

Public May Witness African Hunting Film

Glenn Williams, of the Williams Gun Sight Company of Davison, will show his color-sound film "African Trophies" at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club tonight.

Public is invited to this monthly meeting. Business will be conducted at 8 p.m. with entertainment following.

The colorful African film was shot in the highlands of East Africa in February and March of 1956 and many native sounds were recorded along with the film to create an authentic reproduction of the hunting trip.

★ ★ ★

According to Boyd Williams, the movie "provides a rare color which would normally not be captured on film. Because of the season of the year and the ending of the rainy season, we had the opportunity of getting unusual color quality in this film."

There are about 22 million bowlers in the U.S.

The 1956 Michigan State football squad had 25 lettermen.

Plum Hollow Ready for Western

By BILL CORNWELL

The $25,000 Western Open golf tournament, whose past champions read like a "who's who" in golfing circles, will hold its 54th renewal Thursday through Sunday at Plum Hollow Golf Club.

This will mark the 4th visit of the Western Open to the state of Michigan. The last time the tourney was staged here was in 1930 when Gene Sarazen won the crown at Indianwood.

Sponsored by the PGA, the Western Open was inaugurated in 1889 and has been held continuously since 1901 except for the interruption of two world wars.

Victory in this tournament is a prized possession for any professional star. Ranked among the top four American tournaments on the pro circuit, it adds to a golfer's prestige as well as his bankroll.

A look at previous winners attests to the Western Open's stature. Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, John Palmer, Lloyd Mangrum, Dutch Harrison, Dr. Cary Middlecoff and Mike Fetchick have been champs during the past decade, with Snead and Mangrum each winning the title twice.

Fetchick from Yonkers, N.Y., one of the longest hitters in the game today, is the defending champion. He won the crown last year at San Francisco's Presidio course by beating Jay Hebert, Doug Ford and Don January in an 18-hole playoff.

The four men finished the regulation 72 holes tied at 284, Fetchick took the playoff in a runaway, firing seven birdies for a 66, while Hebert carded 71, Ford 72 and January 75.

Plum Hollow's challenging 6,800-yard layout will attract most of the nation's top professionals, including Fetchick and Carling Open champion Paul Harney, and the boys who "play for pay" are already testing the course.

There will be two notable additions to the field when the parade to the 1st tee begins tomorrow morning.

Dick Mayer, the slender belter who won the 1957 National Open championship with an 18-hole playoff win over Middlecoff, will be on the firing line, and Sam Snead, a late entry, is ready to gun for his 3rd title.

Jimmy Demaret, Arnold Palmer, Dow Finsterwald, Ed Furgol, Julius Boros, Bob Rosburg, Jack Fleck, Wally Burkemo, Chick Harbert and Doug Ford number among the standout entries. A few others are Gene Littler, Ed (Porky) Oliver, Jackie Burke, Horton Smith, George Fazio and Vic Ghezzi.

This will be the 1st major professional tournament at Plum Hollow since the National PGA was held there in 1947. No essential changes have been made in the Lahser Road layout since that time.

The rebuilding of the 17th green has been the only remodeling in the past decade. Plum Hollow officials did not toughen the course for this tournament. They believe that it is tough enough and provides a fair test of golf.

It is the general feeling that Plum Hollow is best suited to the longer hitters, which should be comforting to blasters like Snead, Harbert, Fetchick, Harney, Mike Souchak and George Bayer.

Plum Hollow's course record is 64, 1st set in 1945 by Sam Byrd and then equalled last year by Pontiac's young Gene Bone.

Tournament ticket books, priced at $15 or two for $25, are now on sale at Plum Hollow and at pro shops throughout this area. Further information may be obtained by phoning Plum Hollow, KE 1-5000.

Saginaw Fight Goes Thursday

SAGINAW (AP) — Local slugger Mickey Crawford meets Pat Lowry of Toledo, Ohio, tomorrow night in a 10-round feature bout at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

Crawford has lost only one of his 17 pro starts and Lowry has been victorious 42 out of 55 times.

On the supporting card: Chuck Taylor, Detroit heavyweight, meets James Palmer, Youngstown, Ohio, in a six-rounder; Osee Groom, Detroit heavy, faces Felix Antonio, Dayton, and Bucky Dietz, Detroit lightheavy, meets Tommy Reed, Dayton, in four-rounders, and Jesse Fagin, Detroit lightheavy, tangles with Jimmy Wright, Saginaw, in a five-round special bout.

Monza Track Rated Faster Than '500'

MONZA, Italy (AP) — How does Monza's new high speed track compare with the famed Indianapolis Speedway?

This was a question asked with increasing frequency as 10 top American drivers prepared today for a 500-mile international race here Saturday. The race is modeled after the Indianapolis classic.

American drivers and other racing experts, after workouts at Monza, had this to say:

The Monza track will prove to be considerably faster than Indianapolis—in fact, it is the fastest race track in the world. Official trials starting tomorrow are expected to bring speeds of between 160 and 170 m.p.h.

The Indianapolis record qualifying speed is 145.596 m.p.h., made in 1956 by Pat Flaherty. The ac-

Joey Giardello Comes to Scene

DETROIT (AP)—Fifth-ranked middleweight Joey Giardello arrived here tomorrow to finish training for his 10-round, July 2 bout with Joe Gray of Dearborn.

The outcome of the bout may decide whether Giardello gets a crack at champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

Ralph (Tiger) Jones, held to a draw by Gray last April, currently is being groomed for a shot at Robinson and an impressive Giardello victory over Gray would improve Giardello's chances for a crack at Robinson.

State Netter Moves to Tourney Semifinals

CHICAGO (AP)—First-seeded Gerald Dubie of Hamtramck, Mich., climbed into the semifinals yesterday of the Illinois Junior Tennis tournament with little trouble.

Cooper-Drobny Match Wimbledon's Highlight

WIMBLEDON, Eng. (INS)—Australia's No. 2 gun, youthful Ashley Cooper, faced his first big test of the Wimbledon tennis championships today in a second-round men's singles match against Jaroslav Drobny, cagey former champion from Egypt.

The 20-year-old Australian champion, seeded second behind countryman Lew Hoad, defeated A. E. Dehnert of The Netherlands in his opening round but he needed everything in his repertoire to win today.

Drobny is a court-wise veteran whose skill and finesse have enabled him to score at least one major upset a year since he won the 1954 Wimbledon crown.

Hoad, the top-seeded defending champ who is favored to become the first man since Don Budge in 1938 to repeat at Wimbledon, was scheduled to meet Trevor Fancutt of S. Africa in his second-round match.

Two other former champions, both of them Americans, also were favored in their second - round match.

Sixth - seeded Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, the 1953 king and America's chief hope with the opening day upset of Ham Richardson, was the favorite in his meeting with India's Narish Kumar and Budge Patty of Los Angeles (1950) was expected to beat Mexico's F. Contreras.

Rain splattered the courts for the second straight day yesterday but top-seeded Althea Gibson managed to lead six other American women and eight men through victorious opening matches.

The 29-year-old New Yorker, bidding to become the first negro ever to win at Wimbledon, had to struggle for 75 minutes before defeating Hungarian housewife Suzy Kormoczy, 6-4, 6-4, before a jampacked center court crowd that included the duchess of Kent.

She was joined by Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif; Mimi Arnold of Redwood City, Calif; Karel Fageros of Miami; Betty Pratt of South Orange, N. J.; Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode of Almeda, Calif., and Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif.

The victorious males included veteran Gardner Mulloy of Denver; Mike Green of Miami; Pablo Eisenberg of Maplewood, N. J.; Sidney Schwartz of Long Beach, N. Y; Harry Buttimer of San Francisco; John Lesch and John Cranston of Los Angeles and Herb Flam of Beverly Hills.

Last Yacht Home Gets Cooking Pot

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—Stragglers in the Annapolis-Newport yacht race drifted into port today to find every prize in the race already taken except a cooking pot.

That goes to the Corinthian cook (amateur sailor) on the last boat to finish.

★ ★ ★

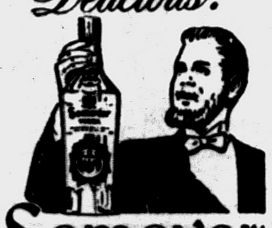

Harrier, a 41-foot sloop built in Germany two years ago and designed by the man who sailed her, won prizes for the best corrected time in the fleet and the best in Class C.

Caper, a 56-foot sloop competing in her first yacht race, was Class A champion.

Balk Backfires on Griff's, 1-0

Last week Griff's Grill won a City League baseball game on a balk. Last night the Grill team lost one by the same method.

Marv Caswell, pitching his 1st game in nearly a year, committed a balk in the 1st inning yesterday at Wisner Field. The miscue permitted Hal Trott to score from 3rd and resulted in a 1-0 victory for CIO Local 594.

Trott led off with a walk and advanced to 3rd on two infield outs. Chuck Graves walked, then Caswell committed his balk and Trott strolled home with the game's lone run.

Griff's made a valiant effort to tie the score in the bottom of the 7th. Boyd Jones, running for Ken Stanick who had walked, attempted to steal home, but was cut down at the plate.

Sam Wallwork hurled the distance for the CIO and scattered three singles. Caswell and Don Bren pitched for Griff's and gave up only two hits.

The Pontiac Jets meet Thomas Die & Stamping in today's game on the Wisner diamond at 5:30 p.m.

2 Runs in Opener Give Drugs Victory

A two-run first inning blast was all Drayton Drug needed last night to win a Waterford Recreation Softball loop victory 2-1. Emmanuel Baptist were the losers of a close, pitching battle between Drug's Pete Mihay and Wimpy Johnson. The veteran Mihay allowed only one hit, while his mates collected three off Johnson.

With one out in the first, Skee Neal singled, stole second and tallied on Stu Hutchinson's double. Stu went home from third, where he landed on a passed ball. Paul Atkins' single did the trick. Drug's Hank Shell had a big night, with three singles in as many trips. Hutchinson doubled twice in three trips to the plate.

Game was the only league contest for the night.

Peron Must Return Bulk of His 'Wealth'

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The Argentine Supreme Court ordered today that the bulk of the wealth accumulated by Juan D. Peron during his 12-year dictatorship be turned over to the government.

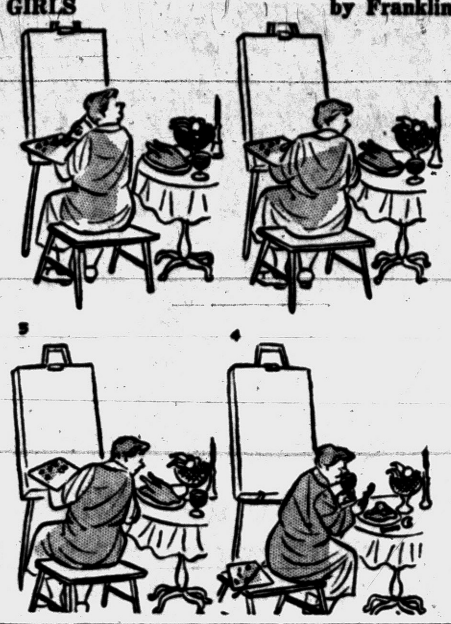

It ruled that money and property acquired since 1943 by the exiled strongman were, with certain exceptions, ill-gotten gains. His holdings have been valued in unofficial estimates as high as 300 million dollars.

Peron, currently a refugee in Venezuela, insists he doesn't have a fabulous fortune, though he isn't broke.

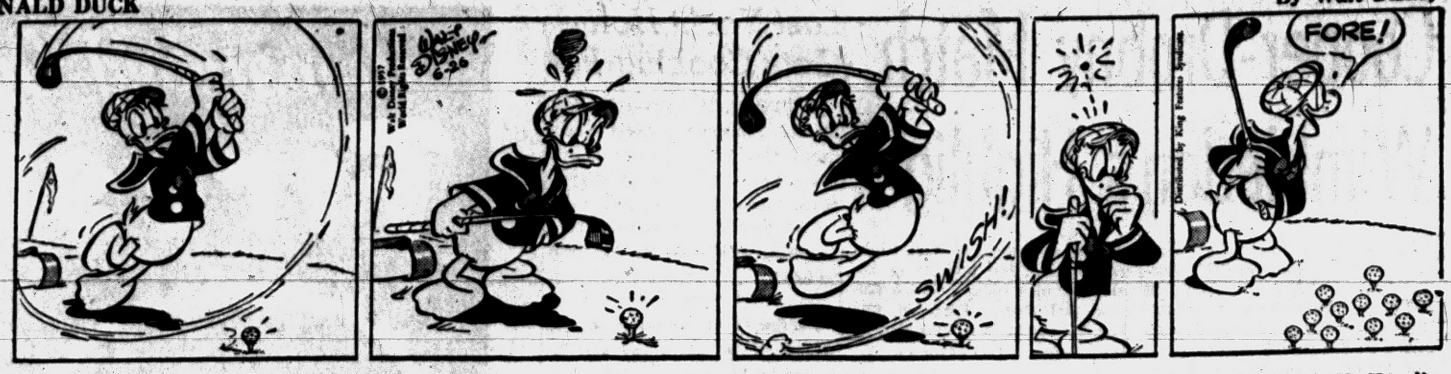

Contesting the case here through a lawyer, he argued that assets he acquired were only gifts from his admirers.

Wheat Prices Maintain Rally

CHICAGO (AP) — Continued unfavorable prospects for the big winter wheat crop in the Southwest caused wheat futures prices to keep their rally going in early board of trade dealings today.

Prices weakened on profit taking after the early buying, however.

Corn and oats were slightly weak in early dealings. A weather bureau weekly summary indicating that corn planting is virtually completed caused some corn selling.

Soybeans showed little early price change. There are several bearish factors in this pit, including indications of a big crop and increasing receipts as farmers liquidate their large stocks.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was unchanged to ½ lower, July $2.10⅝; corn was ¼ to ⅝ lower, July $1.29⅜; oats were ⅛ to ¾ lower, July 66¼; rye was ½ to 1 cent lower, July $1.23¼; soybeans were unchanged to ⅛ lower, July $2.33⅜; and lard was five to 13 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $13.00.

Nickerson Trial Just About Over

Deal With Government Reduces Missile Fight to Round Robin Chat

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The court-martial of Col. John C. Nickerson Jr. has been reduced to a sort of round robin chat on Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's order limiting the Army to 200-mile missiles.

★ ★ ★

For all practical purposes, as a result of a deal with the government, the trial of the bespectacled 41-year-old missile expert is all over except for his sentencing.

Nickerson is the man who engaged in a one-man fight to have Wilson modify his order and let the army develop and use a 1,500-mile Intermediate Range Ballistic Missile.

★ ★ ★

As a result of the deal, Nickerson yesterday pleaded guilty to 15 charges that he permitted sensitive defense information to reach unauthorized persons and was lax in handling secret data. He was promptly convicted.

★ ★ ★

Before the 10-man court-martial board gets around to fixing Nickerson's punishment, which could amount to dismissal and 30 years in jail, it plans to hear 14 witnesses, including some of the nation's top missile scientists. This probably will take about five days.

Presumably these witnesses will discuss the Wilson order and its effect on the nation's missile program. Nickerson as a person and a scientist, and how the Army's IRBM, the Jupiter, stacks up with the Air Forces' rival missile, the Thor.

★ ★ ★

Their testimony is expected to be mostly for the purpose of obtaining leniency for Nickerson, described by the defense as a highly patriotic man who has put his country before his career.

★ ★ ★

Events piled up so rapidly in the stuffy courtroom yesterday — the opening day of the trial—that even the court-martial panel called for a brief recess.

★ ★ ★

First off, the prosecutor, Lt. Col. William G. Barry, announced the government was dropping the charges of espionage and false swearing against the 1938 West Point graduate.

A few minutes later Nickerson pleaded guilty to 15 charges that he disobeyed orders in handling classified material.

At this point the 71 news and cameramen covering the trial began to sense a deal. The Army later admitted it had accepted a pre-trial offer by Nickerson to pled guilty on the lesser charges if the espionage charge was dropped.

Earlier Advance in Stocks Fades

NEW YORK (AP) — An initial stock market rise faded early this afternoon, leaving prices mixed in slow trading.

★ ★ ★

Leading issues showed plus or minus signs ranging from fractions to around a point.

★ ★ ★

The market was generally higher at the start in a slight follow-through from yesterday's good technical rebound. But prices fell away gradually in later dealings.

A feature was the drop in American Telephone by well over a point, equalling its low for the year. Wall Street analysts said this was a reflection of the current situation where falling bond prices have enabled investors to obtain high yields on bonds, prompting them to switch from utility stocks which bring smaller returns at current prices.

The current clamor in Washington and elsewhere about the tight money situation and inflation seemed to bring an element of hesitation to the stock market, brokers said.

U.S. Steel erased a fractional loss and Bethlehem, which had been easy, moved a bit to the upside as the steels had a brief flurry. Lukens steel was up a major fraction after yesterday's wide gyration.

UAW Will Seek 'Basic' Changes

Shorter Working Week, More Take-Home Pay Next Year's Targets

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union says it will seek "basic improvements" in layoff pay benefits in next year's contract talks with the auto companies.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther already has announced that top priority will be given a shorter work week with more take-home pay.

★ ★ ★

Layoff pay, known as Supplemental Unemployment Benefits (SUB), was the main goal achieved by the UAW when three-year contracts were signed in 1955 with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Reuther originally demanded a "guaranteed annual wage," but he settled for contracts under which the companies supplement state unemployment benefits to give a laid-off worker about two-thirds of normal pay for half a year.

Noting that June marks the second birthday of "SUB," the current issue of the union's newspaper, The United Automobile Worker, said: "The goal is still a guaranteed annual wage—a full 100 per cent. That's when the two-year-old baby will be full-grown."

OVER MILLION COVERED

Reporting that more than one million UAW members are now covered by layoff pay provisions in aircraft, agricultural implement and auto plants, the union publication said:

"In the beginning, SUB was only a promise. The first year was devoted to building up the trust funds from which payments could be made. Actual payments didn't start until a year ago.

"What SUB will do, under present agreements, is guarantee a laid-off worker 65 per cent of his normal take-home pay during his first four weeks of layoff, and 60 per cent during the next 22 weeks. But it's not doing it yet.

★ ★ ★

"The explanation is that none of the trust funds have reached anything near their maximum size. The closest (as of May 1) was the General Motors fund, with 52.9 per cent.

"Therefore, the number of workers eligible has been relatively small and the number who have received the full amount of benefits—the amount they would get if SUB were in full swing—has been even smaller.

"Complete figures aren't available on the average size of weekly benefit checks, but it is known the figure at Ford is $15.30."

Pontiac City Affairs

Civic Board Members Resign

City commissioners received resignations from members of two civic boards last night.

They accepted, with regrets, the resignation of Harold Hackett from the Zoning Board of Appeals and Harlan Smith from the Public Housing Commission.

"It's time for another citizen to be given time to serve his city," Hackett said in a letter to City Manager Walter K. Willman. No successor was appointed.

Willman announced the resignation of Smith. No replacement for him was appointed either.

Other business taken up on a fairly routine 23-point agenda, included acceptance of bids for the renewal of insurance for city-owned vehicles and for workman's compensation for waste collection workers.

The personal liability and property damage insurance contract will go to the Wilkinson Insurance Agency of the Western Casualty and Surety Co.

Commissioners were forced to take a vote as two agencies of the same company had submitted identical low bids. The Wilkinson agency won out by 4 to 3.

The compensation insurance went to the Michigan Mutual Liability Co.

City Attorney William A. Ewart presented a report on a June 19 meeting of the Civil Service Commission and members of the Police Officers Assn.

During a public hearing on intention to construct a storm sewer on Featherstone road, Victor Adler of Detroit, the owner of property near the project, questioned the feasibility of the project.

He was referred to City Engineer Lewis Wrenn to examine topographical maps of the area to determine whether the city's route for the sewer was correct.

Wrenn was instructed to prepare an estimate for the recapping of Turk street from Saginaw to the end of the street. The commission offered the work as a public necessity.

Kentucky Town to Erect Marker

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Smiley Pete won't be buried in the courthouse yard, but a marker will be erected at the main downtown intersection for him.

Smiley Pete, a lovable dog who was practically community property, died last week. Since he was such a "celebrity," it was suggested he be buried in the courthouse yard.

★ ★ ★

But Judge Dan E. Fowler ruled that out, saying it would not be proper to "dedicate a portion of the courthouse square as a burial plot."

Woeful Story Futile

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —City meter mechanics say they're overburdened repairing nearly 1,000 vandalized parking meters a month —but the plea failed to win them a pay raise. The City Civil Service Commission turned down an appeal for higher wages despite a markedly increased work load over last year.

When Looking for New Cars

Buyers Price Conscious

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT—New car buyers are becoming increasingly price conscious; they continue to shop around for the biggest price concessions.

★ ★ ★

This tendency is one of the things that grew out of the mad pace of car building and merchandising in 1955. "Suggested" list prices for new cars mean relatively little to new car buyers.

The prices are not binding upon the car retailers and many would-be car purchasers know it.

When the auto makers built nearly eight million cars in 1955 they piled up monumental inventories for the dealers. The retailers had no choice but to slash prices to keep up with the heavy outpouring of cars from the factories.

★ ★ ★

They did not catch up with their inventories until nearly the end of the 1956 model year. They were aided in this effort by a sharp cut in factory output.

For the current year so far factory output is running slightly ahead of last year's total for the like period. Sales are running about even.

But the retailing division still has inventory problems. Unsold new cars are substantially below the record total of 904,000 reached in March a year ago. Unofficial estimates put the total right now as "under 800,000."

★ ★ ★

Yet even that lesser total is big enough to worry some retailers. Some surveys indicate the dealer groups are concerned lest a June sales lag add to the inventory total.

Preliminary estimates of the June sales potential put the total at around 550,000 units.

Unless the total should fall heavily below that figure the outgoing model cleanup probably will not be as hot a scramble as it was in 1955 and 1956.

Nevertheless, car buyer and car seller are bargaining in just about every new car transaction.

Speculation that six million cars will be sold this year is tied closely to an assumption there will be a near-record demand for 1958 models in November and December.

J. F. Pedder Given New Post at Ford

J. F. Pedder, of 468 Berwyn, Birmingham, has been appointed assistant general sales manager of the Tractor and Implement Division of Ford Motor Co., Birmingham.

He succeeds W. T. Murphy, who will move to the Ford Motor Company Central Staff.

J. F. PEDDER

Pedder has been with the farm equipment division for four years following periods with another auto firm and two Detroit advertising agencies.

Concurrently, Pedder named L. E. Birgir, of 928 Cranbrook, Birmingham, as manager of the division's advertising department.

Business Notes

Oakland Automotive Supply Co., which covers Oakland and Macomb counties, has expanded to a second store, located in Mt. Clemens, according to Howard Seiss, the firm's president.

Hart Denies Plants Exiting

Cites Figures to Show Industry in Michigan Is Increasing

DETROIT (AP) — Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart says 30 industrial plants packed their bags and left Michigan between 1952 and 1956 while 104 new plants moved in.

Those industries which moved, he says, took 5,300 jobs with them, but the new plants opened up 12,000 jobs.

This, Hart told the Michigan Federation of Labor's annual convention yesterday, should refute charges that high taxes are driving industry out of Michigan as "just a lot of fancy and imagination."

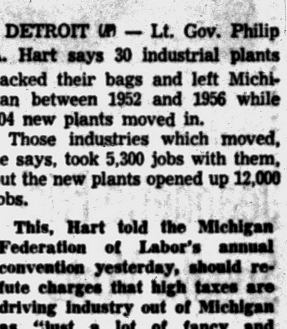

Hart, citing a report drawn up by the Michigan Economic Development Commission, said that in addition to the jobs created by the new plants, existing Michigan industry expanded during the same period to create 143,000 jobs.

★ ★ ★

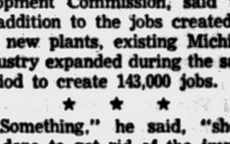

"Something," he said, "should be done to get rid of the impression that in seven or eight years Michigan is going to be a barren, sandswept peninsula populated by those (industries) too weak to move to Ohio or Indiana."

★ ★ ★

In recent statements, Republicans have charged Michigan tax policies under Gov. Williams are causing the state to lose industry to neighboring states, especially Indiana and Ohio.

Old Cistern Serves Farmer as 'Shelter'

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Renovation of his old cistern as a tornado shelter may have started a trend for neighbors of fruit farmer Lyle Anderson of Sparta.

Anderson said the job hasn't cost a cent but provided a snug haven during a recent alert.

He pumped the cistern dry with a fruit spray rig and stocked it with containers of drinking water, blankets, tins of farm and personal records and a transistor radio.

The underground chamber includes about 45 feet of floor space. It's enough for a kitchen chair and apple crates for seating occupants with sleeping space for the children. The cistern's former downspout serves as a vent.

The shelter is entered through the chimney-like cistern top. A discarded fruit pickers' ladder forms the stairway.

The cistern is located at the southwest corner of the Anderson farm home. Anderson says he may cut another underground opening to allow entry from the house basement.

He says several neighbors have commented that they might dig out abandoned cisterns at their own homes and follow his example for economic shelter.

A reception followed the ceremony at Metamora Township Hall.

Already Thinking About 1960

Solid Support for Nixon Appears From Midwest

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Vice President Nixon showed up today with some solid support from Midwestern Republicans who may have a great deal to say about the 1960 Republican presidential nominee.

Nixon's name cropped up in conjuncture about the next Republican nominee as governors at their 49th annual conference discussed President Eisenhower's proposal to transfer to the states some of the functions now carried on by the national government.

★ ★ ★

The governors indicated they will give skeptical approval to Eisenhower's plan for a task force study of the idea.

Generally, the suggestion was greeted with a political yawn. The governors were much more interested behind the scenes in the identity of the man who will carry their banner in 1960.

Republicans had about as many candidates as there were GOP governors. Democrats spread all

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight denied he had any deal with Nixon to crowd out Sen. William Knowland of California, the Senate's Republican leader, from the presidential race.

Knight made it clear he is going to run for governor, even if Knowland opposes him.

Knight, who joined with Knowland to clobber Nixon two years ago in a contest over Republican party organization control in California, offered no public criticism of Nixon. It seemed likely that Nixon might arrange for "home base" support in the state in 1960.

Republican governors in key states indicated they like the looks of Nixon in the absence of any other top challenger for the nomination.

Although he won't say so publicly at this time, GOP Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois is reported to look upon Nixon favorably.

Republican Gov. Harold W. Handley of Indiana, who prides himself as an arch-conservative, probably would pick Nixon over Knowland.

BOTH ENDS AGAINST MIDDLE

Nixon is popularly supposed to have gone over to the "Modern Republican" wing of the party which these Midwestern governors are not supposed to represent. The fact that they retain friendly feelings indicates he has been more than ordinarily successful in playing both ends against the middle.

Ex-Instructor Found Guilty

Former U. of M. Staffer Convicted of Contempt Before Grand Jury

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A former University of Michigan mathematics instructor today was found guilty by Federal Judge W. Wallace Kent on 26 counts of contempt of Congress.

Dr. Horace Chandler Davis, 30, was ordered to appear July 12 for sentence. He was continued on personal bond.

Judge Kent, in an eight-page opinion, declared that "the court is satisfied that the presumption of innocence has been overcome and that the government has established the guilt of the defendant beyond every reasonable doubt."

Dr. Davis was indicted in Grand Rapids by a federal grand jury for refusal to answer questions May 19, 1954, addressed to him by a House Un-American activities subcommittee in Lansing.

He pleaded the first amendment in refusing to answer the questions regarding his alleged Communist affiliations while teaching at University of Michigan.

He was tried before Judge Kent last November. The judge has held the matter under advisement since the trial.

Dr. Davis, dismissed by the University of Michigan, reportedly has been teaching mathematics at Columbia University.

MESC Official Dies

Seek Accord on Disarmament

Reds, West Reject Plans

LONDON (AP) — East and West looked to each other today for concrete answers to their latest proposals in the U.N. disarmament talks. Russia so far was cool to the U.S. proposal for a three-stage reduction in troops tied to settlements of world political problems.

★ ★ ★

The Russians reserved judgment when U.S. Delegate Harold E. Stassen placed before the five-nation Disarmament subcommittee his plan to cut the armed forces of the United States and Russia eventually to 1,700,000 men each.

★ ★ ★

Pressed by Stassen for comment, Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin told the committee he would have to have a better idea what political settlements the West would require before it would carry the troop reductions through.

★ ★ ★

In turn, Zorin rapped Stassen's failure to reply to Russia's offer June 14 to admit Western inspectors onto Russian soil if the United States and Britain would agree to a two-or three-year suspension of nuclear weapon tests.

Zorin declared world opinion would not comprehend the West's insistence on linking test suspensions with a ban on production of H-bomb materials.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference in Washington that the United States would never agree to a trial ban on tests without companion pledges to end production of nuclear materials for weapons and an inspection setup to enforce the pledges.

Bronx Youth Loses Life for Handful of Pennies

NEW YORK (AP)—A Bronx youth lost his life yesterday for a handful of pennies.

★ ★ ★

Patrolman Raymond Gallo went to an apartment in answer to a burglary call. He found Archie Lee Glover, 19, in the living room. The youth, who lived in the same building, ran for a window.

Three times, the patrolman said, he ordered Glover to halt. Gallo then fired as the boy climbed through a window, and hit him in the arm.

★ ★ ★

Glover, a Negro, fell five stories to his death. Clutched in his hand were pennies taken from a glass container.

Asks GOP Help for Tax Study

Governor Warns He'll Act Independently if No Cooperation Is Given

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Gov. Williams yesterday afternoon outlined conditions under which he said he is willing to cooperate with the state legislature on a study of Michigan's tax structure.

Failure to find cooperation would lead him to "independent action," he said.

★ ★ ★

In a letter to House Speaker George S. VanPeursem (R-Zeeland) and Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, the governor said he and the legislature should work together on the study.

Williams emphasized the following points:

1. The tax study committee should be formed around a "blue ribbon" citizens group.

2. He does not favor any plan that would limit either the legislature or the governor's office to a specified number of appointments to the committee.

3. He urged the study be thorough and exhaustive, reviewing not only present taxes, but a seeking of a more equitable tax base to provide adequate standards of public service in future years.

"It is my sincere hope that we can cooperate to get this necessary job done and done well," the governor's letter said. "If cooperative effort should prove impossible, I am prepared to take independent action to see that a study of this nature is undertaken."

His reference to a "blue ribbon" study was interpreted as including representatives of big business, small business and labor.

Israel Increases Guard as Syria Moves Troops

TIBERIAS, Israel (AP) — Guard reinforcements today manned trenches ringing Israeli border villages as word spread that fresh Syrian troops had converged on the frontier from the east and north.

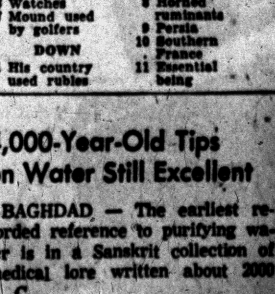

Families concealed their children in underground bunkers for fear new violence might follow Monday night's half-hour shooting exchange near Gadot and Mishmar Hayarden settlements.

U.N. observers arrived in Gadot to investigate the killing of a woman settler during the skirmish. Israeli sources said the village was sprayed by machine-gun fire from the Syrian shore of the River Jordan.

Israeli Hospitals Rise

JERUSALEM — Israel now has 102 hospitals, with 12,254 beds, compared with 63 hospitals and 4,626 beds in 1949. Since 1949 infant mortality per 1,000 births has declined from 51.7 to 32.3.

County Ministers Get Behind Straley

Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, under fire by some department officers, last night received a vote of confidence from the Oakland County Ministerial Fellowship.

The group, consisting of ministers throughout the county, denounced the "criticisms directed at him by some members of the department."

★ ★ ★

The City Commission heard the communication which was signed by Rev .Richard H. Dixon Jr., president.

"Our dealings with Straley have impressed us that he knows how to do his job," the letter read in part.

Straley has recently been the target of criticisms by the Police Officers Assn. which is seeking to remove him from office.

Home Demonstrator to Go to Work Seminar

Mrs. Mary Hixon, Oakland County Home Demonstration agent, will attend a workshop on work simplification for disabled and normal homemakers, July 1-12, at the Kellogg Center, East Lansing.

Any interested person may attend the conference, Mrs. Hixon said, and she invited those who would like to attend to contact her.

She also has received a $100 scholarship from the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation of the U. S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, to study work simplification for the handicapped.

Mrs. Hixon said she will establish classes in the subject in Oakland County for the public.

Life of Young Actress Better Than Movies

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I think that Miss Inger Stevens—of the Bing Crosby "We're Just Good Friends" Set—should play her own life story, not other people's.

★ ★ ★

The slender Swedish beauty who's now Bing's leading lady was once a Latin Quarter hoofer who couldn't hoof. Lou Walters, the boss, knew her only as "White Gloves."

Long before that, she'd arrived in the U.S. at 12, on a freighter, with her kid brother. They knew no English. Expecting to be met by her father—who was busy on his doctor's thesis—they starved on a train because they didn't know how to ask for food.

INGER

"I went to the Latin Quarter for a job about four years ago," Inger, sleek and cool and 22, recalled in her air-conditioned suite.

"Mr. Walters said, 'What are your white gloves for? Are your hands cold?'"

But at the audition he shouted out, "Where's White Gloves?" And later "You with the white gloves, and you and you. Go home. You're hired."

★ ★ ★

Inger kept her night life a secret from TV producers for whom she did 'dowdy housewife" commercials daytime.

She lied glibly when job-hunting. "Have you ever done TV commercials?" . . . "Of COURSE I have!" . . . When she was after straight acting jobs, she answered the same question, "Of course NOT!"

"They didn't want you for acting if you'd done commercials. Once I was almost caught—I played a part on a soap opera and my commercial was on the same show. Oh well, it was too late, then, anyway!"

Inger was brought up in Manhattan, Kan., where her father, Dr. Per Stensland, was on the college faculty—but she's never been in Lubbock, Tex., where he's now teaching at Texas Tech.

★ ★ ★

In 10 years his little daughter's played opposite Bing in "Man on Fire," been cast to star in another film, and "seen Mr. Crosby socially" a few times . . . Although she adds:

"I'm not about to get married to anyone and I don't think Mr. Crosby is, either."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Frank Sinatra proves a great orchestra-conductor on Peggy Lee's new album for Frank's firm . . . Perle Mesta says the next Prez'll be Democratic. Cong. Adam Clayton Powell left the hospital to watch Sarah Vaughan.

Vendors Charged With Breaking Law

Two Detroit ice cream peddlers are scheduled to appear in Municipal Court July 11 to face the charge of violating a city ordinance.

★ ★ ★

The two men pleaded innocent Monday when accused of selling the ice cream in Pontiac without having the ordinance required assistant over 18 years old with them to protect small children from traffic hazards.

They were: Albert Whitehurst, of 9203 Melville, and Sam Wineman, of 3835 Duance, who are charged with violating the ordinance on W. Hopkins Street June 17 and DeSoto Street June 19, respectively.

4,000-Year-Old Tips on Water Still Excellent

BAGHDAD — The earliest recorded reference to purifying water is in a Sanskrit collection of medical lore written about 2000 B. C.

The writers recommended keeping it in copper vessels, exposing it to sunlight, and filtering it through charcoal. All this is still considered good advice.

Must Be Alert to Avoid Fluffs

Blonde TV Salesgirl Occasionally Pulls Off Notable Boo-Boo

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mary Costa looks the picture of ease as she pictures the sponsor's product on TV. But the lovely blonde salesgirl on the Thursday night Climax show has made good by hard work and earnest concentration.

"Doing the commercials on TV looks like a breeze," she commented. "That's the way it's supposed to look. But you can't let up for a moment. If you do, you get in trouble.

"I always pull my boo-boos towards the end of the speech when I feel it's almost over and I can relax. Or when I think it's going to be an easy show and I decide I'll use the prompter instead of memorizing."

★ ★ ★

The most famous of Mary's fluffs came a few weeks ago. After extolling the low-cost of an automobile she added that prices start at "$7,235." Fortunately, her sidekick, Bill Lundigan, caught the error immediately and said nit was "$2,735."

Mary's face was red, but her employers didn't mind a bit. The boner was printed widely, thus advertising freely the car's price.

"They don't object when I make an error," Mary said, "and the public seems to enjoy it. It makes me seem more human to them and I get a lot of mail when such things happen. Now I have people listening carefully to the commercials, hoping that I'll make a mistake."

The audience never saw one of Mary's most embarrassing moments. She was wearing a full-skirted dress one night, and one of the slips started slipping right in the middle of her spiel. Quick-thinking Mary stepped out of it during a closeup and continued talking.

Visit Points Up Wool Dispute

Japan's Premier Kishi Discusses 'Hot' Issue in Washington

NEW YORK (AP) — The visit here of Premier Nobusuke Kishi of Japan today points up an odd dispute for this hot weather season —wool.

There's a little international incident in wool. It is part of the trade problem involving the United States and Japan which the premier took up with President Eisenhower and others in Washington.

Both the American woolen mill owner and the American consumer have stakes in this, since price tags on next year's clothing could be involved.

Between one-third and one-half of Japan's exports of wool fabrics comes to the United States. In the January to August shipping period last year these brought Japan $7,369,000. These were dollars the Japanese could use since her imports have been topping exports —the last figures show the gap at 100 million dollars a month.

A month ago President Eisenhower set a tariff quota on U.S. imports of woven wool cloths. This provides that if such imports go beyond 14 million pounds in 1947, the tariff automatically rises from the present 25 per cent to 45 per cent. The 14 million pounds represents five per cent of the average U. S. domestic output during 1954-1956.

The Japanese say that, like the English, they cannot compete with American mechanization in the average wool fabric, that they ship only the finer grades here, and that their shipments amount to a small part of total U.S. consumption. American makers of fine fabrics insist that the threat is bigger than it seems.

16,000 Hear Billy Graham

Warns Against 'Escapism'

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, enthusiastic about the achievements of his New York crusade and looking far afield for the future, preached a warning against "escapism" last night.

Addressing an estimated 16,000 persons in Madison Square Garden, he said many of them were "trying to escape from the realities of the world."

Graham said people seeking "escape" turn to drink, tranquilizer pills, suicide, worldly pleasures or a struggle for financial success.

"But your soul is starved if you are here tonight without God," he told his listeners. "I am not threatening you but I am warning you that the Bible says that if you neglect God's plan of salvation there is no other escape."

His text was Hebrews 2:3 — "How shall we escape if we neglect such a great salvation?"

PLAN RALLY

Graham, who held a news conference yesterday, announced plans for a rally at the Polo Grounds in upper Manhattan Oct. 27 which will wind up a five-day home visitation program in the New York area.

He said that the crusade—with an assist from television — "has become a national crusade for Christ" and "has become the largest evangelistic endeavor in history."

★ ★ ★

"We find the New York people coming out of their little hiding places to discover thousands more like themselves are standing up for Christ," he said.

Asians Visit Detroit, MR-A Conference

DETROIT (AP) — Top Asian leaders visited Detroit yesterday on their way to Washington from the Moral Re-Armament Assembly of Nations at Mackinac Island.

The 175 MR-A delegates were the guests of Common Council, the Board of Commerce and Ford Motor Co's. International Division.

Senator Suzuki of Tokyo told Council members, "I would like to express our regret for what my nation did to yours 16 years ago at Pearl Harbor.

"We have a deep desire for peace as a nation. Through Moral Re-Armament we can achieve true unity of the world."

Tolan Na, a member of the Ghana parliament, said "America can give a uniting lead to the world if she accepts change from what she wants to what is right before God."

Only about 3 per cent of the total salt produced in the U. S. reaches consumers across the dinner table.
