Soviet Spy Suspect Could Face Death

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Glenn Thompson, 29, a husky Air Force veteran, faces a possible death sentence on charges that he sold military secrets to the Soviet Union with the aid of three Russians.

One of the Russians, named as a co-conspirator in the three-count federal indictment yesterday, was ordered expelled from the country by the State Department.

Thompson pleaded innocent at his arraignment on charges that he furnished military data to Soviet agents from 1957-63 and received payments totaling $1,700.

U. S. Atty. Joseph E. Hoey commented that payments listed in the indictment were only samples and that there were many more.

★ ★ ★

Thompson was released in $15,000 bail by U.S. Dist. Judge Walter Bruchhausen in Brooklyn. No trial date was set.

HIS WIFE

His German-born wife, Eveline, 26, whom he married while serving with the Air Force Office of Special Investigation in Berlin, was at the arraignment. They have three children, Patricia, 9, Karen, 6, and Dean, 2.

"I don't believe any of these charges," Mrs. Thompson told newsmen. "My husband would never have done anything like this against his country. He will be cleared."

The indictment alleges that Thompson was involved in an espionage network, obtaining information for the Russians on U.S. military installations, missile sites, code books and intelligence and counterintelligence activities, including the identity of American agents.

The government alleged 13 overt acts.

The spy operations were said to have occurred in East and

Aw, Shucks! Thaw to End

The area is experiencing the traditional January thaw — the period when Mother Nature tantalizes us with unseasonably warm weather.

But beware! Winter will return again either late tonight or early tomorrow. A low of 35 to 40 is expected this evening.

Although the mercury was to hit a high today of 54 to 62, it is expected to be much colder tomorrow. With the falling temperatures, showers will change to snow flurries. Cloudy skies are forecast.

Sunday will be quite cold with snow flurries also predicted.

The low mercury reading this morning was 44. At 2 p.m. the thermometer recorded a spring-like 58 in downtown Pontiac.

The highest temperature this date since 1872 was also 58, recorded in 1937.

House Group Favors Vote on Health Care

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most members of the House Ways and Means Committee favor sending the administration's health care plan to the House for a vote, an Associated Press survey showed today. Final House action may come in 60 days.

The 25-member committee for years was the graveyard of health care legislation. But now, the survey found, 15 of the members either definitely or probably favor action to send such a bill to the House for a vote.

The chairman, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said he looks for action on a health plan tied to Social Security in time for a House vote in March.

President Johnson asked Congress yesterday to enact a multiple health program, with care for the aged at the top of the list.

The proposal also includes a new $1.2-billion system of 32 regional medical complexes to fight heart disease, cancer, stroke and other diseases, contribution to medical and dental school operating funds and scholarships for students in the healing arts.

MOST PRONOUNCED

Congressional reaction was most pronounced on the issue of health care for the aged.

The dramatic change in prospects for favorable committee action results from two developments.

The ways and means committee was reconstituted with two more Democrats and two fewer Republicans, reflecting the Democratic electoral sweep, so the division now is 17 to 8. Under the former division, 10 Republicans kept a solid front against the proposals.

The other big bonus the health proposal picked up was Mills' agreement in principle with administration plans for financing and administration of the program.

Long the most powerful congressional opponent of Social Security health programs, Mills said the formula ultimately worked out, for administration of the program by Social Security and financing by a payroll tax similar to but separate from the Social Security tax, met his specifications for avoiding danger to the whole Social Security structure.

Vegetable Oil King Is Guilty

Changes His Plea in Federal Indictment

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Bankrupt vegetable oil king Anthony (Tino) DeAngelis changed his plea from innocent to guilty today to three counts of an 18-count federal indictment involving him in a $100-million conspiracy.

★ ★ ★

He also pleaded guilty to a new conspiracy charge the government filed against him today, and he waived his right to a grand jury hearing on that count.

U.S. Dist. Judge Reynier J. Wortendyke Jr. accepted the new pleas from the stocky, 49-year-old DeAngelis after asking him if he had received any promises of favor.

"Your honor, I have been promised nothing," DeAngelis said.

DeAngelis had been indicted with four other men last March on charges of conspiring to circulate $100 million in fraudulent or forged vegetable oil warehouse receipts.

LOAN COLLATERAL

The five allegedly conspired to use the receipts as collateral for loans for the Allied Crude Vegetable Oil Refining Corp. of Bayonne, N.J., of which DeAngelis was president.

The firm filed for bankruptcy in November 1963 and its collapse set off a chain reaction of bankruptcies or reorganizations involving at least a dozen other firms, including two old line New York brokerage houses. A multimillion dollar scandal came with the crash.

BACK IN NEW YORK—The Star of India sapphire, stolen along with a number of other precious gems, has been recovered in Miami and returned to New York. The Star of India, shown in a man's hand, is largest cut stone of its type. It weighs 563.35 carats, or about one-fouth of a pound.

Find Sapphire in Miami Bus Station Locker

Detectives Return to Manhattan With Cat Burglar Suspect

NEW YORK (AP) — Detectives returned the priceless Star of India to New York today along with the accused cat burglar who helped recover the stolen quarter-pound star sapphire from a Miami bus depot locker.

There, the icy blue fire of the fabled stone, world's largest of its type, glinted through a rotting bag which appeared to have been buried or exposed to dampness.

The recovery climaxed two days of secret calls and nighttime rendezvous in the Florida beach resort.

Allan Dale Kuhn, one of three playboy aquatic acrobats, swapped the Star of India and other precious gems stolen Oct. 30 from the American Museum of Natural History in hope of lighter sentences for the trio.

★ ★ ★

While waiting for the Florida flight to land, Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan announced with a grin that the recovery mission had been completed.

NUMBER UNKNOWN

He did not say how many of the 22 stolen gems had been recovered.

An informed but unofficial source in Miami said the cache did not include the invaluable DeLong star ruby, a 100-carat gem that is the largest and most perfect of its type in the world.

Both the Star of India and the blood-red ruby carried price tags of $400,000, but this was mostly for bookkeeping purposes since authorities regard them as priceless.

★ ★ ★

REPORT SUCCESS

Nadjari had telephoned Hogan at 5 a.m. to report success.

"He spoke cryptically and said the results were fair," Hogan said. "He said they had completed their mission and were leaving."

Only a few hours earlier, the shadowy negotiations had paid off. Just after midnight, according to a Miami source, the telephone rang in the motel where the New York party was staying. An anonymous voice directed them to the locker and hung up.

★ ★ ★

Reportedly, one condition of the recovery was the promise that Kuhn's contacts would not be prosecuted.

Judges to Study Feasibility of Public Defender System

A study to determine the feasibility of a public defender system in Oakland County will be undertaken by the Oakland County Circuit Court.

Presiding Judge Arthur E. Moore, on the direction of the bench, today appointed a committee of two judges to give "appropriate consideration" to the matter.

"This does not mean that there is any recognition of such a need at this point," said Moore, "but it does indicate that the judges wish to be prepared for any needs that may develop."

Judges Frederick C. Ziem and Philip Pratt were those named by Moore to conduct the study.

"There is involved the question of additional possible expense in the defense of defendants in criminal matters who are indigent and the manner in which such fair and reasonable defense can be provided with as little cost as possible yet adequately protecting the rights of indigents," Moore added.

★ ★ ★

"There are numerous problems involved in such a system. Among these are:

- "The constitutionality of a defender system
- "The cost of this method as compared to the cost of the present system of appointing practicing lawyers in each individual case
- "The possibility that encouragement of appeals may be a problem under the existing court rules."

ANNUAL COST

Moore said that it must be kept in mind that the annual cost of prosecution through the prosecuting attorney's office is presently budgeted at $257,895.

This expense, however, does not include the work of the sheriff's department and the various police forces through-

HOWARD E. HILL

Promises Action on Wide Track

In a telephone interview with The Pontiac Press this morning, acting Highway Commissioner Howard E. Hill declared that he would dispatch a man immediately from his office to check on the bad traffic regulations on Wide Track Drive.

"Someone from here will call on your city manager this very day," said the commissioner.

"We are anxious to have everything run smoothly and the way the citizens want it. There were some preliminary agreements and if these prove to be ineffective and inefficient, certainly your State Highway Department is eager to get into the problem at once.

"If this condition has been existing for some time, I regret the fact and am anxious to bring about the necessary reforms."

Car Rams Tree, Killing Milford Township Driver

Daniel A. Markle, 22, of 3150 Granda Vista, Milford Township, was killed yesterday when his car left the road and hit a tree on South Hill, one quarter-mile south of Tennison, Milford Township.

Markle, who was dead at the accident scene, was driving south on South Hill when the crash occurred at 4:10 p.m., sheriff's deputies said.

Accepts Post as Director of Health Service

Dr. Clare Gates, who has been acting as a part-time administrator for the Oakland County Community Health Services Board, today accepted the board's offer of a position as full-time administrative director.

He will begin his official duties sometime in the next 30-45 days at a salary in the $16,000 range.

Dr. Gates, who holds a doctorate in public health from the University of Michigan, has previously been associated with Oakland County in studies of local health needs.

He is presently on the staff of the United Community Services (UCS) of metropolitan Detroit.

His duties will include coordination, interpretation and promotion of policies and plans formulated by the 12-member community health services board under the direction of a psychiatric administrator.

Dr. Gates of 6 Woodland, Pleasant Ridge, has 27 years' experience in the public health field, including seven years with UCS and 20 years in Minneapolis public health administration.

Burch Vows Comeback, but Foes Still Push Ouster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Dean Burch insisted today he can help build a GOP comeback, but his foes claimed the votes to oust him and to put Ray Bliss in his place.

"I seek to remain as chairman because this nation needs a two-party system," Burch said in an address prepared for the National Press Club. Only "a political miracle," he said, could have elected a Republican president in 1964.

Bliss, the Ohio State GOP chairman, was silent.

But one top Republican said the forces opposing Burch have the National Committee votes to demand his ouster. This source said they have settled on Bliss as the man to succeed him.

URGES CAUTION

Counseling party unity and cautioning against "the dictates of radicalism in any form," Burch said he wants and intends to remain in the chairmanship for which he was tapped by Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

"I believe I can assist in achieving that unity, in preparing the Republican party, in satisfying the desire of the American people for a society that is great mostly because it remains free," he said.

★ ★ ★

Burch conceded the Republicans made some mistakes during the 1964 campaign. He did not say what they were.

But he added: "The political environment for any Republican presidential contender in the year 1964 could hardly have been worse.

NO REFLECTION

"I reflect on no person, nor engage in the defense of none, when I say that it would have been a political miracle for any contender on our national ticket to have won in such a year," he added.

He said the party can make a comeback.

"I visualize a Republican party with a membership so legion, an appeal so universal, as to insure gains — starting this year and culminating with the presidency in 1968," he said. "That is why I want to remain."

Burch said Tuesday a majority of the National Committee members who will gather in Chicago Jan. 22 are on his side, but he noted the opposition claims the same thing.

SOMEONE'S LYING

"Obviously," he said then, "somebody's lying."

As the showdown drew closer, even some allies of the 37-year-old chairman said the opposition seems to have settled on Bliss, and conceded the moderates opposing Burch may have the votes to command a majority.

Bliss did not support Goldwater during the senator's battle to capture the presidential nomination, but enlisted in his effort after the national convention.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., told a news conference Thursday he will work actively for Burch's ouster. Scott, a former GOP national chairman, mentioned Bliss as a possible Burch successor.

"On the other hand," said Moore, "in 1964 defense attorneys were paid a total of only $19,325."

Moore said he selected Ziem and Pratt for the study because they have had the most experience in criminal work. Ziem is a former Oakland County prosecutor and Pratt was an assistant prosecutor.

"They will examine the matter thoroughly and give subsequent reports to the circuit judges," said Moore.

1,000 Marines Land in Philippine Exercise

MANILA (AP)—About 1,000 U.S. Marines landed on Mactan Island in the central Philippines today with artillery and other equipment after a flight from Okinawa.

Fifty U.S. Air Force transport planes brought the Marines to Mactan for a four-day exercise called Reflex One.

18 Lost Lives in Area Lakes

Twelve persons died in the water while swimming. Three died in boating accidents and three died of other accidental causes.

Eighty - three per cent of the persons who died were under 23 years of age. Ten were teenagers.

★ ★ ★

Four persons died in Kent Lake in Milford Township. Three persons lost their lives in Upper Straits Lake and two died in Cass Lake. Both lakes are in West Bloomfield Township.

Oakland County recorded its first 1964 drowning on March 31 when a boat, containing a 14-year-old boy, capsized in Lake Sherwood.

On Aug. 4, a Detroit boy drowned while swimming in Upper Straits Lake. This was the final drowning recorded in Oakland last year.

Meg's Visit Rocked by Blast; 7 Arrested

ABBEYLEIX, Ireland (AP) — Police arrested seven men at the end of a 20-mile car chase early today after an explosion that shattered windows in Princess Margaret's Irish holiday mansion.

The blast, from a shorted-out power station, put out the lights of Abbeyleix house where Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowdon, are visiting his brother-in-law and sister, Viscount and Viscountess de Vesci. No one was hurt.

★ ★ ★

Police jumped into action and quickly cornered a group of men in a wood near the house. A gasoline bomb was thrown.

★ ★ ★

ABOUT 16 MEN

Police sources estimated there were about 16 men in the group. They piled into cars and roared off, pursued by squad cars. Some 20 miles farther on, seven men were captured.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The police said saboteurs about 11 p.m. threw a heavy wire across high tension cables near the De Vescis' mansion. The resulting short circuit exploded a transformer unit about three miles from the house. The town of Abbeyleix and the surrounding countryside were blacked out.

★ ★ ★

It all apparently was part of an IRA campaign to make the sister of Queen Elizabeth II feel unwelcome in Ireland.

PRINCESS MARGARET

Earlier the town had been plastered with pamphlets and slogans demanding expulsion of Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon from Ireland "as representatives of an occupying power."

★ ★ ★

Detectives spent the night searching the 12,000-acre De Vesci estate by flashlight. Squads of police guarded every entrance.

★ ★ ★

The royal couple came to Abbeyleix after visiting Snowden's mother, the Countess of Rosse, at Birr Castle.

★ ★ ★

Though officially disbanded three years ago, the IRA is still campaigning to end the partition of Ireland into the republic and the six Ulster counties in the north. The latter are still part of the United Kingdom.

★ ★ ★

Fear Indonesia Plans Attack

Buildup of Military Charged by Malaysia

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—President Sukarno's announcement that Indonesia has walked out of the United Nations stirred speculation today that it foreshadows an all-out military attack on Malaysia.

These suspicions at U.N. headquarters were heightened by a letter from Malaysia to the Security Council charging that Indonesia is building up its forces along the Borneo frontier between Malaysia and Indonesia.

The Malaysian government said it would seek U. N. aid at once if Indonesia launches attacks more intensive than the sporadic guerrilla raids it has been making across the Borneo border and the small parties of infiltrators it has been landing on the Malaysian Peninsula.

Sukarno claims Malaysia is a device to preserve British colonialism in Southeast Asia and has pledged his nation will crush the young federation before next year.

CAN CRUSH MALAYSIA

"We are strong enough to crush Malaysia, a stooge of neo-colonialism, due to arms aid from the Soviet Union," he said.

The Soviet Union has supplied Indonesia more than $1 billion in arms but deliveries declined in 1964.

The Russians have advised the Indonesians not to quit the United Nations, but Indonesian sources in Moscow said the Soviet Foreign Ministry had informed their embassy the walkout would not affect the Kremlin's policy toward Indonesia.

U.N. officials waited for Sukarno to communicate his walkout announcement in writing. Members of the Indonesian mission said no official instructions had arrived from Jakarta. They indicated that there might not be any written notice.

Several New Courses in Education Program

BIRMINGHAM—Several new courses are listed among the 71 to be offered during the winter term of the Birmingham Public Schools' continuing education program.

Those wanting to participate have until Jan. 15 to complete registration at the office of added education in the Board of Education Building, Chester at Martin.

The office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

With a few exceptions, the classes will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. There will be meetings four nights a week in various Birmingham schools starting Jan. 18.

★ ★ ★

New offerings include a course entitled "You Can Help Your Child to Succeed." Scheduled Tuesdays at Seaholm High School, it is geared toward successful academic adjustment.

HOME KNOWLEDGE

A class in up-to-date home maintenance will meet at the same time in the Barnum Junior High School shop. It is designed to familiarize the home owner with everyday household maintenance, limited remodeling and construction.

Several aspects of juvenile delinquency will be explored in a new course to be held Wednesdays at Seaholm.

Other additions to the adult education curriculum include those concerning the family budget, advanced first aid, IBM key punch and IBM data processing.

★ ★ ★

Two liberal arts courses will be offered in cooperation with the University Center for adult education, a joint unit of Wayne State University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University.

TWO CLASSES

Introduction to Humanities II and Evolution of Modern Psychology, both noncredit courses, will be held Mondays at Seaholm.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Roy E. Lindahl, an exhibitor in international salons, will speak at the Monday night meeting of the Bloomfield Hills Camera Club.

Lindahl will show prints and speak on the art of photography at the 8 p.m. public meeting. It will be held at the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Almost Met St. Peter in a Handcar

Rosser, 27, momentarily lost track of the time yesterday morning and it cost him a broken leg. It could have been worse—much worse.

A maintenance man for Grand Trunk Railroad, Rosser was working on track in a handcar about 10 a.m. in Independence Township when he suddenly realized that a train was coming.

★ ★ ★

He pulled his car from the track, catching his trouser leg in the car in the process, and man and car tumbled down the steep embankment near the former Clarkston station at White Lake Road.

BROKEN LEG

★ ★ ★

How did it all happen? Rosser explained to police that he had momentarily lost track of the time of day. The train was on schedule.

Bitter Nikita Lives Comfortably

By HENRY SHAPIRO

★ ★ ★

This can be reported confidently today on the basis of investigations this correspondent has conducted during the past several weeks, and checked with authoritative sources who have proved accurately informed in the past.

The former premier, still vigorous and dynamic at 70 after his official retirement last Oct. 15, has declined a spacious and comfortable apartment the government holds in reserve for him in the exclusive Lenin Hills area of Moscow.

Instead, he apparently has chosen to spend his declining years at the equally comfortable and exclusive country retreat of Usovo, a government dacha set in a pine forest on the Moscow River, 25 miles west of the capital.

★ ★ ★

NO DANGER

Neither Khrushchev nor his friends or family is in any physical danger whatsoever or suffering from the slightest privations they might have endured in the Stalin era when to be purged was to be cruelly punished — or killed.

Khrushchev has, nevertheless, at least temporarily become an "unperson" and his historic reputation may be tarnished.

He has suffered the profound humiliation that only a man who has reached the apex of power can appreciate. He has been condemned to political inactivity and silence.

★ ★ ★

However, if the gregarious Nikita Sergeyvitch has not been prominent in public since his official fall last October, it has been by his own choice.

TURNS DEAF EAR

He has refused to receive foreign Communist delegations which rushed to Moscow in late October seeking explanations for his disgrace.

And he has turned a deaf ear to all requests for interviews, statements and visits by anyone but his closest friends and relatives.

It can be reliably reported that Khrushchev has been granted the maximum special pension now permissible for distinguished Soviet citizens of 300 rubles ($330) a month.

★ ★ ★

$462 A MONTH

The total Khrushchev family allowance of $462 per month would not ordinarily enable them to live in the style to which they had been accustomed for many years. The Khrushchevs are reported to have no savings and few personal possessions.

Khrushchev once observed that "all I, the prime minister of the great Soviet Union, personally own, are the clothes on my back."

But he and his family enjoy prerogatives and privileges that only a handful of persons in this country possess.

★ ★ ★

They have the rent-free use for life of the elaborately furnished Usovo villa, which is serviced by five state-paid employes.

CHAUFFEURED CAR

And the apartment on Lenin Hills is being held for them indefinitely should they tire of country life and choose to return to the capital.

Khrushchev, an expert marksman, is reported to be spending considerable time at his favorite pastime — hunting moose, deer and hare in the woods adjoining the dacha.

The grounds are equipped with hothouses for flowers and vegetables and contain a small farm where Khrushchev raises prize hogs and experiments with hybrid corn with seed sent to him by his American friend, millionaire Iowa farmer Roswell Garst.

3 Dems Out of Race in 14th

Candidates had until yesterday to withdraw their petition.

In addition to the three remaining Democratic candidates, the names of six Republicans will appear on the ballot in the special election.

★ ★ ★

Hays Should Stay Home—Louisiana Governor

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana Gov. John McKeithen says he thinks onetime Arkansas congressman Brooks Hays should stay in his home state, "where they have had twice as much trouble of their own."

Hays, now a presidential aide and professor of government at Rutgers, was scheduled to speak on racial problems Thursday night at Bogalusa, La. The talk was canceled earlier this week by sponsors who feared reprisals by the Ku Klux Klan.

In Little Rock, Hays said he was "surprised that the governor would state publicly that I shold stay out of Louisiana.

"It is the first time in many or would state publicly that I should stay out of Louisiana.

"It is the first time in many years of visiting that great state that I have been told I was not welcome."

He said he would stay out of Louisiana until he was sure he would be welcome.

McKeithen told his news conference Thursday that people were not scared of Ku Klux Klan cross burnings any more, "not even the colored people."

Several crosses were burned in Bogalusa after Hays' appearance was announced under the auspices of six prominent citizens who said they hoped Hays, the only layman to ever head the Southern Baptist Convention, could tell Bogalusa people how to avert racial turmoil.

"I was going to counsel with the people, not to enforce the (civil rights) law, but to discuss the moral, religious and economic aspects of the racial problem," Hays said.

"I remind the governor that I did not ask for the engagement at Bogalusa. I accepted the invitation only because the meeting was sponsored by its religious and civic leaders."

Hays said he would be among the first to stand up for the protection of the right of McKeithen if he were scheduled to speak in Arkansas.

"The test of one's right to speak does not rest on the soundness of his views," Hays continued. "I would always want him to feel free to say what he believes."

McKeithen won the Democratic nomination for governor a year ago as a segregationist, although he met once with Negro leaders after taking office and has repeatedly called for preservation of law and order.

TRYING TIMES

"We are in trying times in the Southern states," McKeithen said Thursday. "Many people are at fever pitch in this period of transition.

"As long as we can demonstrate our disapproval of civil rights vocally, instead of physically, I think we have done pretty good in this state compared with other states — especially some nearby.

★ ★ ★

"We've had no church burnings, no bodies dragged from rivers, we haven't had to call out the National Guard. I think we're doing awfully well."

State Highway Official to End 26-Year Career

LANSING (AP) — Cecil Rhodes, assistant director of the State Highway Department's research lab, will retire Jan. 23. During his 26-year career he achieved national prominence for work in pavement curing compounds, reflectorized traffic sign paint and other specialty work in highway construction and control.

Seems Disaster Pursues Him

SHADY COVE, Ore. (AP)—One year ago Sig Digree owned the weekly Alaskan newspaper, The Kodiak Mirror, and a home near the southern Oregon town of Shady Cove, located on the Rogue River 20 miles northeast of Medford.

Today the newspaper plant is crumbled, and the home is a muddy ruin.

The Alaska earthquake last March wiped out the newspaper plant where Digree had published since 1935, and the West Coast flood of Christmas week washed away his Shady Cove home.

"It makes you stop and think," Digree said this week. "It's kind of ironical to come 2,000 miles south and get into the same situation all over again."

On New Farmington Ordinance

Zoning Hearing Monday

FARMINGTON — Residents here Monday night will have their say on the city's proposed new zoning ordinance.

★ ★ ★

Public hearing on the code is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Municipal Building.

Prepared by Geer Associates Planning Consultants, Inc., of Bloomfield Hills and the Development Planning Co. of Waterford Township, the ordinance is designed to facilitate the city's master plan.

The city's present zoning code was written in 1956.

★ ★ ★

Under the proposed provisions, it has been "streamlined and consolidated to the point where it is easier to interpret and there is less chance of contradiction between sections," according to City Manager John Dinan.

WILL ATTEND

City planning commissioners, who worked on the new ordinance with consultants, will be present at Monday night's hearing before the City Council.

If adopted, the ordinance would add two classificiations to the zones now in existence.

A new multiple-residence zone would provide for the construction of one-bedroom efficiency apartment buildings. These now are contained in general commercial areas.

Also to be created under the proposed ordinance is an education-research-office zone, which planners devised to encourage campus-type development for laboratories and office buildings.

SPACE MINIMUM

An establishment in the zone would need a minimum of 2,000 square feet of land area—almost five acres, Dinan said.

The single area which the planners have designated for this classification is a 22-acre parcel on the northwest corner of Farmington Road and Freedom Drive.

Now on the location are the Huron River Hunting and Fishing Club, the Glen Aquatic Swim Club and two or three houses, Dinan said.

★ ★ ★

The property now is zoned for single-family estates of at least one acre. The estate classification would cease to exist under the proposed ordinance.

INCREASED DEPTH

The proposed zoning map indicates an increase in the depth of the commercial district on the north side of Grand River between Warner and School streets.

Presently the strip allows 100 feet each for commercial development and for parking. If the map is approved, 50 feet will be switched from parking to commercial.

Another large change is recommended for a 20-acre parcel on the southwest corner of Farmington and Nine Mile roads.

★ ★ ★

HOUSES NEAR

Dinan said the change was made because of the parcel's proximity to residential property on the south. He noted the medium industrial classification also allows commercial development.

The proposed code incorporates the city's off-street parking ordinance, formerly a separate set of provisions.

★ ★ ★

In some cases, Dinan said, the parking restrictions have been strengthened.

2 Write-Ins, Withdrawal in Romeo

ROMEO—One down, two up. That's the situation in the race for Romeo village offices, after one candidate recently withdrew and two others made late entries.

Ernest Maule of 421 N. Bailey has decided not to run for the village clerk's position now held by Norman Engel, who is seeking reelection.

Fred Ebeling, presently village assessor, has chosen to run for reelection against another newly announced candidate.

★ ★ ★

Nominating petitions were filed for Maule, but he had personally never committed himself as a candidate.

WRITE-IN CANDIDATE

Ebeling did not file petitions, and will run as a write-in candidate. Also asking voters to write in his name for assessor will be George Simcina of 310 Fairgrove.

★ ★ ★

A village primary is slated for Feb. 15 to weed out the candidates for the March 8 general election.

★ ★ ★

Classes Begin at Romeo Center

The class in intermediate square dancing for those who have had beginning lessons was the first to start this year.

It is held on Thursdays from 8-10 p.m.

Other classes to be offered, and their schedules are as follows:

BEGINNING SEWING — Tuesdays, beginning Jan. 19, in junior high school sewing room from 7:45-9:45 p.m.

ADVANCED SEWING — Thursdays, beginning Jan. 21. All other particulars are the same as for the beginning sewing class.

MAKEUP AND WARDROBE—Mondays, beginning Jan. 18, from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m.

CHORUS FOR MEN AND WOMEN—Tuesdays, beginning Jan. 19, 7:30-9:30 p.m.

MODERN MATH FOR ADULTS—Tuesdays, beginning Jan. 19, 7:30-9:30 p.m.

CHAIR CANING—Wednesdays, beginning Jan. 20, 1-3 p.m.

MILLINERY—Tuesdays, beginning Jan. 19, 1-3 p.m.

OIL PAINTING — Tuesdays, beginning Jan. 19, 7:45-9:45 p.m.

BATON TWIRLING—Mondays at 3:30 p.m. for beginners four and over, at 4:15 for beginners eight and over and at 5 p.m. for advanced students.

RED CROSS HOME CARE FOR THE SICK AND INJURED—Thursdays, beginning Jan. 21. 7:30-9:30 p.m.

FIRST COURSE

This season will also see the center offering its first Oakland University course.

★ ★ ★

David B. Burner will teach a 10-week course entitled "Lives of the Past Which Changed the Present" which will consider how contemporary America has been influenced by the lives of a number of great historical figures.

The university class will be held on Wednesdays beginning Jan. 27 from 7:45-9:45 p.m.

Some of the other classes are limited to a certain number of persons, in line with the center's intention to keep classes small in order to insure individual instruction.

NURSERY OPENINGS

★ ★ ★

In most cases, the charge is the same for each course with the instructors ranging from housewives who have mastered a talent to high school teachers and the one college professor.

Fathers' Night Set at School

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Proper School PTA will hold its Fathers' Night program Monday at 8 p.m.

Guest speaker will be Trooper Harold Wade of the Pontiac State Police post who will talk on accident prevention.

★ ★ ★

Burns Kill Flint Boy

Farewell Dinner Set for Exec at Area 'Y'

ROCHESTER—A farewell dinner for Jack Zahn, first executive secretary of the Rochester Branch YMCA, is being planned for Tuesday evening.

★ ★ ★

Persons who have had occasion to work with the secretary since his arrival here in 1960 will gather at the First Congregational Church at 7 p.m. to say goodbye to Zahn.

★ ★ ★

He is leaving Jan. 15 to take a similar position in the Milwaukee suburb of West Allis, Wis.

Reservations for the dinner can be obtained by contacting Hollie Lepley of 404 Nesbit.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Cityhood for Orchard Lake Forces Justice to Resign

★ ★ ★

Elmer C. Dieterle, who lives in Orchard Lake, yesterday resigned from the post he has held for over 25 years.

Incorporation of Orchard Lake as a city meant Dieterle no longer was a West Bloomfield resident, which he must be to hold the office.

After backing cityhood in March, Orchard Lake voters made the transition complete last month when they adopted a charter for the new unit.

As the change became imminent, Dieterle realized he could either move into the township or vacate his post. He might also have run for municipal judge in the new city.

Dieterle decided to keep his lake-front home, tender his resignation to the township and concentrate on his legal practice and duties as public administrator for Oakland County.

ELMER C. DIETERLE

"I don't have any political plans at present," he said.

Dieterle, a Republican, was reelected to another 4-year term in November. His resignation will be effective as soon as the Township Board appoints a successor.

★ ★ ★

The justice noted that he probably would have been out of a job in four years anyway.

ELIMINATED JOB

The new State Constitution eliminated the constitutional justice of the peace and gave the legislature until Jan. 1, 1969, to devise a lower court system for the state.

Born in Detroit in 1905, Dieterle attended Ypsilanti Normal College and was graduated from the Detroit College of Law in 1930.

After working in Detroit, he started practicing in West Bloomfield Township in 1937. The firm of Dieterle, Roberts and Mann now occupies offices at 2057 Orchard Lake.

★ ★ ★

MOST OF WORK

"For years there were only laymen serving as justices, so, because I was an attorney, I did most of the felony work in this section," he said.

Much of his work also has concerned traffic violations.

He has noticed an upswing in the number of cases in which drinking is a factor.

★ ★ ★

"More accidents now involve drinking — there's been an appreciable gain here," he said. "Of course, there are more cars on the road."

GREATER FACTOR

The justice said he's convinced that it isn't always the speeder who causes accidents—that a greater factor is inattention to the demands of driving.

Dieterle commented he has noticed in recent years that the majority of traffic cases are clear-cut, that few of the persons brought before him protest their guilt.

He attributes this to better law enforcement, to officers who have a definite case before they issue a summons.

★ ★ ★

"The caliber of police departments has changed over the years for the better," he said. "Patrolmen have more training and there are more schools they can attend."

CIVIC LEADER

Besides his judicial duties, Dieterle also has been interested in civic activities.

Charter president of the West Bloomfield Kiwanis Club, he has held a perfect attendance record in that organization for 19 years.

Dieterle is a former director of the West Bloomfield Suburban Boys Club, past president of the Keego Harbor Chamber of Commerce and former vice president of the Michigan Justice of the Peace Association. He also has been active in work at Camp Oakland.

★ ★ ★

Dieterle and his wife, Edna, will continue to live at 4764 Old Orchard Trail, their home for 15 years.

"But it's difficult to give up something that you like," he said.

Clarkston Schools to Offer Adult Education Classes

CLARKSTON — Adult education classes will be offered for the first time by the Clarkston Community Schools beginning the week of Jan. 18.

Registration is slated next Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Clarkston High School where the classes will be conducted.

Dominic Mauti, assistant principal at the high school and director of the adult education program, said that courses offered will depend on the preference shown during registration week and availability of teachers.

★ ★ ★

SCHEDULES

The class for men will start Jan. 18 and continue for 10 weeks, meeting each Monday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Women's recreation will begin Jan. 20. It will be held each Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. for 10 weeks.

The recreation courses were scheduled in the adult education program because of the success of exercise classes offered independently last year.

★ ★ ★

Participants in the adult education program must live in the school district.

Muck Day Is Slated at Imlay City

IMLAY CITY—Area commercial vegetable growers will gather at the American Legion Building next Thursday to participate in the annual Muck Day program.

★ ★ ★

The all-day event, highlighted by presentations by various soil and horticultural experts, will begin at 10 a.m. and run until 3:30 p.m.

Speakers from Michigan State University will include Robert Lucas, extension specialist in soils; Dr. C. E. Peterson, professor of horticulture; and Dr. Deran Markarian, assistant professor of horticulture.

Lucas will discuss recent recommendations in soil and crop management, Dr. Peterson will talk on onion and carrot varieties and Dr. Markarian will discuss lettuce variety development.

★ ★ ★

Marvin Hansen, Lapeer County soil conservationist, will report on the results of a recent survey on wind erosion control. He also will make some recommendations on wind damage control.

FARM LABOR

Area farm labor supervisor Albert Festerling of the U.S. Department of the Interior will report on the 1965 farm labor situation.

Wayne Board to Offer Data on Birth Control

DETROIT (AP) — The Wayne County Board of Health, following the lead of the Detroit Board of Health, decided Thursday to make available birth control information on request to married women and unwed mothers. The Wayne County Board of Institutions will do likewise for patients at Wayne County General Hospital.

Car Kills Pedestrian

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Katherina Del Rosso, 56, of Detroit was struck and killed by a car Thursday while walking across a Detroit street.

'Divisive Influence'

Illinois Ministers Hit Birch Expansion

CHICAGO (AP) — Two Chicago-area ministerial associations have entered into open conflict with the John Birch Society, charging that the society's plans to expand operations in the area would have a "divisive influence" and "unnecessarily create tension."

The associations, apparently acting independently, this week issued sharply critical attacks on the conservative society. They are the Homewood-Floosmoor Ministerial Association, which represents nine south suburban areas, and the Glenbrook Ministerial Association in the exclusive North Shore suburb of Glenview. Together the associations have 35 members.

★ ★ ★

Robert J. Koenig, Midwest coordinator for the Birch Society, said the ministers have been given the wrong story about his organization.

"That's our objective — to get through to people to tell them they're getting the wrong story," he said in an interview at the society's new Midwest regional office in Glenview.

ANOTHER LIBRARY

The Birch Society operated two libraries in the Chicago area until last fall, when it opened the Glenview office. Last month plans were announced for another library, this one in Homewood.

Last Sunday, the Homewood-Floosmoor ministers read a statement from their pulpits describing the Birch Society as a "divisive influence" and claiming that it uses "immoral" means to gain extremist ends.

★ ★ ★

The society is a threat to the "basic philosophy of democracy and to orderly government," said the statement.

Three days later the Glenbrook association adopted a similar statement, saying that extremism, "as advocated by Birchism does not comply with our understanding of the Gospel of Jesus Christ."

USUAL COMMENT

"I've had the usual comment," said the Rev. Dr. Kenneth E. Nye of the Glenview Community Church Thursday in an interview.

"A few told me that I ought to stay out of politics and stick with the Gospel," he said. "But my feeling is that the Gospel deals with every facet of everyday life.

★ ★ ★

"The church as a moral influence in the community has the responsibility to become involved in anything that the community is facing.

"We (the Glenbrook ministers) decided we couldn't ignore the fact that the (Birch) Society came to Glenview. It's a divisive influence which can unnecessarily create tensions among us."

'SOMETIMES DISHONEST'

The Rev. Wendell G. Pew, pastor of the United Christian church and head of the Homewood-Floosmoor association, said his group felt the Birch Society "has been careless and sometimes dishonest in making words say things they did not intend to say."

Birch leader Koenig shrugged off the criticism.

"We're not going to make a big project out of someone's tempest in a teapot," he said.

TV Coverage Asked for Legislative Opening

LANSING (AP — Expecting an overflow crowd, House Democrats have asked that the legislature's opening day ceremonies Wednesday be televised over closed circuits to monitors in Capitol corridors. They asked Michigan State University's station to handle it, since it will be preparing to televise the governor's State of the State message the next day.

Rights Leader to Speak

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Civil rights leader Bayard Rustin will open a winter lecture series at the University of Michigan next Wednesday.

Pair of Top Figures Lift GOP State Hopes

With the words of Gov. ROMNEY'S inaugural message still echoing, pundits are already searching for telltale straws in the political winds pointing to the Republican gubernatorial candidate most likely to succeed in 1966.

This is, of course, on the assumption that ROMNEY himself will not be in the running, having trained his sights on political office nearer the White House—a try for a seat in the U. S. Senate is a strong possibility.

At this point, two figures stand out as prospects in the GOP future book for governor: William E. Milliken, two-term state senator from Traverse City and now Michigan's Lieutenant Governor, and seven-term Representative from Tuscola County, Allison Green.

The 43-year-old MILLIKEN might seem to have a better post position than GREEN, ten years his senior. Going for him will be his close association with the State's chief executive and the greater public exposure this should give him.

MILLIKEN

Green's position is still to be resolved. Because redistricting made doubtful his election for an eighth term in the House of Representatives, he chose not to run and sought the Lieutenant Governor nomination at the Republican state convention, where he lost out to MILLIKEN.

Subsequently, he was nominated for Secretary of State, but was defeated by incumbent James M. Hare in the general election last November.

He has been appointed acting Auditor General to serve until the office is abolished by legislative action under the new Constitution, at which time he will be available for appointment as State Treasurer when that office becomes appointive, also by constitutional reorganization.

It is certain, however, that GREEN will be a member of the governor's inner circle, with all the advantage such prominence offers.

★ ★ ★

Looking to the next election, this pair should give state Republicans two strong contenders for the governor's chair—something the party has not had for some time.

Progressive Economy Needs Balanced Parts

If you believe in our system of capitalism—and to date nobody has come up with one remotely equaling it in effectiveness and benefits—then you believe in profits.

Profits are what make the wheels of industry go 'round and have given Americans the most advanced industrial technology, the best-paid labor force and the highest standard of living of any nation on the globe.

But despite our unprecedented peacetime business expansion, soon to begin its fifth year, profits are trailing the other indexes of business and industrial health.

From 1950 through 1963, the gross national product rose 105 per cent, the national income 97 per cent, compensation of employes 120 per cent and personal income 102 per cent.

But profits, after taxes, rose only 19 per cent.

This is why top economists are concerned with the profit situation. Over-all, in their view, profits are not sufficient to provide the degree of economic expansion this country wants and needs if it is to meet the challenge of a swelling population and ever-improving living and working conditions.

Since labor represents so heavy a portion of total production costs, it has a direct bearing on the profit factor.

Without disputing the biblical tenet that "the laborer is worthy of his hire," we think that labor as a body would do well to appraise its significant role in the American economy and the adverse effect unjustified wage demands can have on it.

Here another time-tested precept comes to mind — something about "not killing the goose that lays the golden eggs."

Congress to Act on Succession?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Eight presidents have died in office and 16 times the country has been left without a vice president.

MARLOW

Luckily, each time a president died, there was a vice president to take his place and serve out the term, although this left the vice presidency vacant. But seven other vice presidents died in office, and one resigned.

Thus the country has been repeatedly faced with the twin question: "What happens when a president is disabled or when a president dies and there is no vice president.

Congress has skipped around the problem from the beginning but this year it will probably, at last, come up with a solution. It's already headed toward one although this new Congress is less than a week old.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson in his State of the Union message Monday night promised to suggest laws to "ensure the continuity of leadership should the president become disabled or die."

KNOWS PROBLEM FIRST HAND

He knows the problem first hand. The country has been without a vice president since he went into the White House after President John F. Kennedy's death Nov. 22, 1963 and will be until Jan. 20 when Hubert H. Humphrey becomes vice president.

Johnson got a quick response to the suggestion in his message but only because the groundwork was laid in 1964.

Last September the Senate by a 65-0 vote approved a proposed constitutional amendment intended to settle the two questions on succession. But the busy House failed to act.

★ ★ ★

That meant it had to be done all over again in this new Congress. And Tuesday enough senators to pass a succession-disability measure promptly offered it.

TWO-THIRDS MAJORITY

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., introduced it for himself and 66 Senate cosponsors, the exact two-thirds majority needed for Senate approval if all 100 senators were present and voting the day the decision is made.

It's similar to what the Senate approved last year: letting the president nominate a new vice president when that office becomes vacant, provided a majority of House and Senate in joint session approve the choice.

★ ★ ★

Also, if a president couldn't perform his duties, the Bayh measure would let the vice president take over as president until the president recovered, again provided a majority of the Cabinet approved.

It Would Be Good For What Ails Him

David Lawrence Says:

N. Y. Plan Rivals 'Great Society'

WASHINGTON — The Great Society has a competitor. Nobody would have suspected, after listening to the President's address to Congress that there are any states in the union. For they were not mentioned as partners in his plans for utopia.

In fact, the whole message LAWRENCE ignored the contribution that 50 states can make to a "great society."

Now, however, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller has projected a "great society" for the State of New York.

The governor's message to a joint session of the New York State Legislature on Wednesday reveals that benefits are to be extended in almost every field under the sun, beginning with water - pollution control and water supply and continuing through practically every phase of public activity.

The New York governor doesn't use the words "great society," but he speaks of an abiding purpose "to prove the creative power of free men to direct their own destiny in a revolutionary world of change."

One wonders, after reading Gov. Rockefeller's message, just why it was necessary for President Johnson to give a long list of federal programs to be paid for by all the nation's taxpayers, when the states themselves are fully cognizant of these same necessities and can raise the money to pay for them.

The New York Times editorially greets the Rockefeller program with enthusiasm hardly less fervent than it gave to Mr. Johnson's address of Monday night.

The Times feels that there were some "disappointing omissions," but that on the whole it was "a good message."

Politically speaking, the program of Gov. Rockefeller is bound to help him in his aspirations for the presidency in 1968. For, by that time, it is assumed that the voters will not be so much concerned with how many times a man may have been married but with how much government money can be poured into their respective states, and Gov. Rockefeller shows he is very sensitive indeed to public needs.

★ ★ ★

Certainly, in these days when "extremism" is synonymous with such old-fashioned things as "balanced budgets" and "fiscal responsibility," the New York governor can readily qualify as a "moderate," which seems to be, among both Republicans and Democrats, the present-day designation of believers in "deficit spending," whereby an artificial prosperity is created and maintained — at least for a while.

(Copyright, 1965, New York Herald Tribune Syndicate, Inc.)

Bob Considine Says:

Sports' Problem Is Who Will Be First One Caught

NEW YORK—It's best to take a sedative before you read the sports pages these days. Especially if you're old enough to remember when they went in for such things as scores, thrills and chills.

★ ★ ★

Everybody's fighting except the fighters. In football, everybody's in a lather except the players, and they're in clover. In baseball, everybody's out to prove that the national pastime is a sport as pure and simple as any other jolly game, like the stock market, small loan shops and gun-running.

CONSIDINE

The National Collegiate Athletic Association has boldly lectured both the National Football League and the American Football League on the ethics of contaminating college gridmen with filthy lucre before it was time for the colleges themselves to cease contaminating them with free scholarships, books, and $50-a-week jobs winding electric clocks.

The problem here, it seems to me, becomes a matter of timing as well as a case of recklessly casting the first stone.

★ ★ ★

If the pro football leagues had any class they'd ask for a congressional investigation of the NCAA's tampering with the AAU.

The lines of demarcation between amateur and professional, ethical and shady, seem to have reached the ultimate jumble in the case of Jim Wilson, star tackle of the University of Georgia's football team last season.

Jim, who conceivably may have chosen to play at Georgia simply because he likes Southern cooking, signed an $8,000 Boston Patriots (AFL) contract before the season opened, had a good year and then accepted a $75,000 deal to play with the San Francisco 49ers of the NFL.

Jim majors in business administration.

★ ★ ★

This move, which could win applause in Junior Chamber of Commerce circles if it had happened to a member engaged in, say, the insurance game, has been widely deplored.

★ ★ ★

The University of Georgia is upset, though its past athletic escutcheon might not compare with the virtue of Caesar's wife.

The Patriots demand to know why the 49ers were so unpatriotic as to tamper with an already tampered-with collegian, who, in turn, had been tampered with to induce him to go to Athens, Ga., instead of the other Athens.

Georgia says it would be happy, in its remorse, to forfeit all victories it scored with Wilson's unquestionable aid this season, including victory in the Sun Bowl over Texas Tech.

★ ★ ★

It won't go so far as to return the dough it made out of the Sun Bowl, of course.

LBJ's Proposals Did Not Include World War I Vets

Reds Face Religion Issue

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI)—The ferment in international communism has spread to the issue of religion.

Under the ground rules communism is atheistic and opposes the church. Now this has been challenged by the powerful Italian Communist party, strongest among the parties in Western Europe.

"On the contrary," he wrote in the latest issue of the organ of international communism, "we believe that sincere religious sentiment can make a valuable contribution to the struggle against the oppression and inhumanity of capitalist society, to the struggle for peace and against war."

★ ★ ★

The first such Red call for a "new approach" to religion came from the late Palmiro Togliatti, former leader of the more than two-million strong Communist party of Catholic Italy.

It was contained in a memorandum he addressed shortly before his death last fall to former Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. Togliatti boldly said "The old atheistic propaganda is of no use."

★ ★ ★

Longo has now gone a step farther by speaking of "cooperation" between Catholics and Communists and of "freedom of religion and culture."

Although this move may reflect a change of strategy rather than a change of heart, it nevertheless amounts to heresy in terms of the traditional hard - line Communist approach to religion.

The move—the first such from the 90-odd world Communist parties—has so far met with no direct response from the Kremlin.

★ ★ ★

The challenge on religion from the massive Italian Communist Party is likely to have strong repercussions throughout the satellites and parties of Latin America.

State of Union

The New York Herald Tribune

It did not require the unusual evening session of Congress to enhance the drama of President Johnson's second message on the state of the union. For, just as his first statement to the Legislature on the needs of the country, as he saw them, was delivered in the shadow of a great national tragedy, this one was issued in the bright afterglow of a great personal triumph.

★ ★ ★

The nation naturally watched to see how Mr. Johnson would bear himself after winning the highest percentage of the popular vote ever accorded a presidential candidate, in a year of political upheaval. It watched, too, to see how the generalities of the campaign would be fleshed out; how, in this first full-dress presentation of his ideas, the President would differ from his predecessor.

★ ★ ★

The differences were marked. In foreign affairs they reflected the divergence between Mr. Kennedy's campaign for the presidency and Mr. Johnson's, the one based on the dangers confronting America, the other on the extent to which the voters were asked to believe that these threats had been surmounted. But there was also a difference in kind.

In the opening months of the Kennedy administration, the danger to the United States was seen as monolithic, nuclear. President Johnson portrayed it as diverse, involving less than a threat of nuclear holocaust, but still stubborn.

It was notable, for example, that he spoke cordially of the Soviet Union — but tartly of "acts designed to injure our interests, our citizens, or our establishments a' road." And it fits both the trend of the times and the mood of the American people that he should pledge to resist such acts. But on the critical matter of South Viet Nam Mr. Johnson was, however resolute, uninformative.

★ ★ ★

When the President turned to the domestic scene, he became far more detailed in his exposition—even though he perforce left much to be explained. His sketch of the Great Society was sharper than he had made it before; the areas in which it was to operate, at the governmental level, blocked out: the fight against poverty; urban problems; health; education; the stimulation of cultural activity.

But the costs, whether in terms of the effect upon individual initiative, local responsibility and existing institutions or in cold cash, were not specified. The Great Society remains a goal, not a project.

In sum, Mr. Johnson's message was confident, energetic and fundamentally vague. His proposals cannot be discussed profitably until they take more concrete form —except to say that they have less the air of a response to demanding needs than of a program created to justify a slogan.

This does not mean that they are necessarily to be rejected on that account. It does mean that they must be studied with particular care, as they are presented to the Congress in later messages.

To combine military strength, and active foreign policy, large expenditures in new fields at home, with economy and tax cuts, will require the very best efforts of President and Congress. And the exercise invites the public's critical eye.

Thieves Get Off . . .

The Chicago Tribune

Thieves ransacked and robbed a fashionable Astor street house of jewels, a gun collection, and other valuables. It was the third burglary of the house since last August, when it was looted of six watches, a ring, a radio, and other items valued at an estimated $1,100. Last October thieves broke into the garage next to the house and stole an automobile.

In the case of the stolen auto an 18-year-old youth and a 21-year-old woman were arrested in possession of the car and charged with burglary. By the time the two appeared in North Boys' court the state's attorney had reduced the charge to petty theft, apparently because he felt the chances of obtaining a conviction were greater on the reduced charge.

Judge Saul Epton sentenced the man to eight months in the House of Correction and the woman was fined $100 and no costs, which was suspended.

★ ★ ★

The best interests of society are not served when thieves get off with a light sentence that amounts to a mere slap on the wrist. No wonder there is temptation to commit crimes when the tender treatment accorded some criminals would appear to make it worth the risk. If prospective criminals are to be deterred, the state's attorney's office should press charges to the fullest and judges should hand down stiffer sentences.

Elusive Mountain Lion Roams South of London

GODALMING, England (AP) — Sherlock Holmes would have loved the mystery of the elusive puma in Surrey: huge animal tracks found, sheep killed and eaten, strange screams in the night.

It all sounds like Conan Doyle's "The Hound of the Baskervilles," but the killings are real and police blame a puma.

★ ★ ★

How does a mountain lion, probably North American variety, come to be at large 35 miles south of London? One theory is that the puma was reared as a pet and escaped. A puma kitten can be bought in Britain for about $350. This might make a charming pet, but a fully grown puma is 7 feet or so from nose to tail tip.

★ ★ ★

The country south of Godalming is ideal cover for a roaming cat. The woods abound with deer. Fat sheep graze nearby.

STRANGE ANIMAL

Police Supt. Ronald Hagley says:

"We first began to take the thing seriously on Sept. 7.

"Large pug-marks were found for more than half a mile in soft loam and sand alongside a practice race course at Munstead.

STABLE PEOPLE

"The stable people feared for their horses.

"My detectives took plaster casts of the pug-marks and vouched for their authenticity — no dog could have made them.

★ ★ ★

"Then we learned that three days before a man had been picking blackberries near the stables when he was disturbed by a movement and, looking through the bushes, saw a cat-like animal which spat at him."

After this, reports began to flow in showing the animal was frequenting the area.

SAW A PUMA

On Sept. 23, two workmen said they saw a puma at Hascombe Village. Later sheep and deer carcasses were found.

Experts from the London Zoological Society examined the plaster-cast and brown hairs found on a farm fence. They agreed the creature was almost certainly a puma.

★ ★ ★

In November, two policemen in a patrol car saw it in the Stoke Poges churchyard made famous by Thomas Gray's Elegy. The cops started at the mountain lion and the cat stared at them. Then it took off.

TRIED EVERYTHING

"We've tried just about everything to track it down," Hagley says.

"Unfortunately our police dogs are trained to follow men. And fox hounds are trained to follow a fox. We haven't found a dog which can take up the puma scent."

★ ★ ★

"It's my first puma," he confessed.

Defense Department Will Draft 851 Doctors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department plans to draft 851 doctors for active duty with the Army, Navy and Air Force beginning next summer.

★ ★ ★

Pentagon spokesmen said yesterday the doctors would be drafted for a two-year period because there were not enough volunteers among medical graduates to fill service requirements. The last time doctors were drafted was last summer.

Sculptor Succumbs

UPTON, N.Y. (AP) — Wilfrid M. Zogbaum, 49, avant-garde sculptor of the "machine shop" school, died Thursday of leukemia. Zogbaum's works are in permanent collections of the Whitney Museum in New York, San Francisco Museum of Art and others in the United States and abroad. He was born in Newport, R.I.

The port of Tampa, Fla., was second in the nation in the number of railroad car unloadings during July, 1963 with 6,794. New York was first with 7,134.

On Cyprus Proposal

Report Russia Backs Turks

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — A visiting delegation from the Soviet Parliament, headed by one of the Kremlin's top men, reportedly has told the Turks they support Turkey's proposal for a federated Cyprus.

There has been no official announcement of this change in Soviet position, but Turkish lawmakers said their Russian counterparts assured them privately of support.

They said the Russians told them it is obvious the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities cannot live together any longer.

The Soviet Union has backed the Greek Cypriot government of President Makarios solidly since the Greek and Turkish Cypriots started fighting in December 1963.

★ ★ ★

SEEK PARTITION

Late last year, Turkey abandoned its position that the only Cyprus solution was partition of the island into Greek and Turkish areas.

Instead Turkey suggested that the warring communities live apart under some kind of cantonal or federal system, bound by some sort of national government but retaining a large amount of autonomy.

★ ★ ★

They are repaying a visit last year by Turkish parliamentarians to Moscow, which started the warming of relations between the two historical enemies.

Observers said it would be wrong for the West to assume that the thaw resulted from Turkish disappointment with the failure of the other North Atlantic allies to support the Turkish policy on Cyprus.

A columnist in the influential independent newspaper Cumhuriyet said the improvement in relations between Russia and Turkey "is an outcome of East-West relations and Turkey is one of the last countries to adapt herself to the trend."

★ ★ ★

The United States was caught in the middle of the Greek-Turkish dispute over Cyprus, trying to keep the two NATO countries from going to war over the island.

FIRST DEMONSTRATIONS

Because of this, the United States came under attack in both the Turkish press and parliament, and the first anti-American demonstrations since World War II broke out.

But Premier Ismet Inonus, government has assured the West it does not intend to withdraw from NATO.

★ ★ ★

Another Soviet delegation has just returned to Moscow from Greece. Its leader, Victor V. Grishin, an alternate member of the party presidium, said in a television address last night that relations between the two countries "will develop and grow stronger" as a result of the visit.

Launch Probe of Jail Deaths

PAYSON, Ariz. (UPI) — The State Health Department today began an investigation into the jail cell deaths by asphyxiation of four teen-agers accused of stealing beer.

Dr. William Moore, the state health commissioner, conferred yesterday with Gov. Sam Goddard in Phoenix, Ariz., and the announcement followed that one and possibly two investigators would come here to study the deaths.

Goddard said the investigation was being made with approval of the Gila County Board of Supervisors.

The deaths of the four youths —left alone in the jail at least 11 hours — shocked most of the 800 residents of this community about 90 miles north of Phoenix.

Payson and the Mogollon rim country hereabouts were the settings for some of novelist Zane Grey's books about the early West. He lived nearby in a cabin under the rim.

A coroner's autopsy established Wednesday that the youths—Clifford Greenland, 18, John Watkins and Blaine Schroeder, both 16, and Kenneth Haught, 15 — died of asphyxiation apparently from a defective butane gas heater.

Pharmacist Appointed

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney Thursday appointed Center Line pharmacist Homer Hazelton to the Michigan Board of Pharmacy. Hazelton, 57, was appointed to a five year term succeeding Paul C. Coussen of Detroit, whose term expired last Dec. 31.

Fear Threat of Israeli Agents

German Rocket Scientists in Egypt Living in Terror

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The writer of this dispatch, an AP correspondent in Germany, has visited both Egypt and Israel to report reactions to work on rockets by German citizens hired by Gamal Abdel Nasser.)

By CARL BUCHALLA

CAIRO (AP) — German rocket scientists working for Egypt live in terror of Israeli secret agents. Bodyguards accompany them. Their homes are protected, their mail examined for explosives. Their addresses and phone numbers are secret.

"We are not anti-Semites or old Nazis. We are just scientists doing a job. We would leave Egypt immediately if the Israelis would give us guarantees to abandon their hunt for us," said their leader, Prof. Wolfgang Pilz, a wartime colleague in Germany of America's Wernher von Braun.

The German rocket experts are caught up in a web of German-Jewish- Arab differences. For four years, they have helped Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser build rockets which he claims can hit Israel.

The Israelis demand that the West German government get the German scientists to withdraw their assistance to Nasser. Bonn wants to be on good terms with both Egypt and Israel. It says the Germans are private citizens and can work where they please, according to the German Constitution.

NO SAFE PLACE

"There is nowhere we can be safe now except here," Pilz told this correspondent on the terrace of a club on Cairo's outskirts. Two tables away sat a bodyguard, observing us constantly.

He recounted incidents which he attributed to the Israeli secret service:

In 1962, one of his assistants, Dr. Heinz Krug, disappeared in Munich while on a visit from Cairo. "I believe he was kidnaped and is dead," Pilz said.

Another assistant, Hans Kleinwechter, escaped a pistol attack by two men while visiting his home in Loerrach, Germany, in 1962.

Late that same year, a letter addressed to Pilz containing an explosive injured his secretary, Hannelore Wende, and caused near-blindness. Another package received at Nasser's rocket factory at Heliopolis, where Pilz and his assistants work, killed five Egyptian technicians and injured six.

THREATEN CHILDREN

The next year, an attempt was made in Switzerland to threaten the son and daughter of another assistant, Prof. Paul Goercke, who since has returned to Germany.

"I am still ready to leave and so are my colleagues," said Pilz, "but we cannot go until Israel fulfills three conditions.

"First, that our personal safety is guaranteed in the future. I do not want to go home and then be murdered in the streets of Bonn.

"Second, Israel must admit, on some sort of official level, its responsibility for past incidents and express its regrets, because this is necessary for the third step. This should be an appropriate compensation for the injuries sustained by my colleagues."

REJECTED PROPOSAL

In Jerusalem, an Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman rejected this proposal, saying: "Our discussion partner must be the Bonn government, not Prof. Pilz."

The Israeli spokesman denied any knowledge that Israeli agents were behind the incidents reported by Pilz.

Pilz and his associates were described in October by Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol as "conscienceless and unscrupulous." The Israeli press has called them unrepentant Nazis and anti-Semites.

"Nonsense," said Pilz. "If one would take the effort to check my papers, one would see how baseless the contention is that I am an old Nazi. I worked for years in French rocket research stations alongside Israeli scientists and I have nothing against the Jews. I am merely a scientist and have nothing to do with politics."

18 MEN

Pilz said his group of German workers at the rocket factory comprises 18 men; three are experienced and the others young researchers.

He said a number of German rocket technicians have left Cairo in recent months and have not been replaced, although Pilz says he has many applications from Germany.

★ ★ ★

In Jerusalem, Israeli authorities express doubt, saying it is possible that no new men have joined Pilz' group "but we know that more and better German scientists have been signed up in Cairo in the last months." An Israeli source implied that the new men were not working directly with Pilz.

Pilz during the war worked with Von Braun and other German scientists at Pennemuende, center of the Nazis' V2 rocket research.

Pilz then worked nine years for the French, both in France and at a rocket experimental station in the Sahara. He returned to Germany in the late 1950s, but could find no suitable work and took the Cairo job.

Cairo government quarters contend they are not dependent upon the German research men, as there are also good rocket experts in the Eastern bloc. They indicated that negotiations have taken place with the East Germans, in the event that the West Germans leave.

★ ★ ★

"Would it be of value to Israel, or to the West, if East bloc experts replaced the West Germans?" one Cairo official asked.

"Blackmail, nothing but Egyptian blackmail," was the reaction in Jerusalem.

Both Israel and Egypt have tested rockets, starting in 1961. Aside from skirmishes, opposing military strength in the Middle East has not been shown afield since 1956, when Israeli forces pushed Egyptian troops to the Suez Canal. Last spring U.S. military experts expressed belief that Israel's armed forces were strong enough to fend off attack by any combination of the Arab nations.

Death Calls Tune for Country Music Stars

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tragedy, a recurring theme of country and Western music, seems to haunt the singers of the songs. Eight have died violent deaths in the past year and a half.

Shortly before singer Jim Reeves was killed in a plane crash July 31, he told an interviewer that he would prefer to stay at home but booked 100 personal appearances a year because "I like to perform before people.

"However, what I dislike most is the traveling. The main trouble — and danger, maybe — with tours is getting there and back."

Country music makers, seemingly more superstitious than most, don't like to talk about deaths in their fraternity. Nevertheless, they admit they work under a combination of pressures that can be killing in one way or another.

WORST ACCIDENT

The worst accident, a plane crash near Camden, Tenn., in March 1963, claimed the lives of four personalities from the Grand Ole Opry group.

The victims, singers Patsy Cline, Hawkshaw Hawkins and Cowboy Copas and talent scout Randy Hughes, were returning from a benefit show for the family of a disc jockey killed in an accident.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Texas Ruby, venerable star of country music singing, was killed last year when her house trailer caught fire, trapping her inside as she slept.

★ ★ ★

"I think speaking of jinxes and that sort of thing is off base," says Trudy Stamper, publicity director for the Grand Ole Opry, best known of the radio programs which feature country musicians.

★ ★ ★

"Our artists made about 3,000 personal appearances and traveled about 10 million miles in 1963. We have been on the road 39 years now, going everywhere. Until recently, we never had a fatal accident."

★ ★ ★

Most of those who fly in light planes are being flown by other entertainers whose licenses originally were intended for short trips near home. Most cannot fly by instrument and would be unequipped to do so even if they had the skill.

TRYING TO QUIT

"I've traveled more than 100,000 miles a year on the road, not counting plane or train travel and I'm trying to quit most of that and stay closer to home," says Roy Acuff.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

"We all drive scared," says Leroy Van Dyke. "Sometimes we take chances. If the contract says you have to be in a certain town, you have to be there. Sometimes to get there we risk breaking our necks in fog and snow."

No One Talks of Soviet Poet

Exile's Whereabouts Is Guarded Secret

LENINGRAD, U.S.S.R. (AP) — Iosif Brodsky's whereabouts is a tightly guarded secret in his home town.

A Western correspondent drew only nervous refusals to discuss the case of the poet sentenced last year to five years at hard labor.

One source closely connected with the case declined to confirm or deny reports in Moscow that the young Jewish intellectual had been released in response to pressure from Soviet intellectual and cultural leaders.

★ ★ ★

Indications are, however, that the reports of his release were erroneous. Possibly Soviet officials circulated them to quiet murmurs of protest here and abroad over Brodsky's fate.

POET EXILED

The 24-year-old poet-translator was exiled from Leningrad last March after a public trial on charges of "parasitism" — failure to hold a steady job.

Western interest in the case was spurred by a stenographic transcript smuggled abroad. This indicated the court ignored testimony by literary specialists that Brodsky worked with dedication to produce highly polished poetry and translations.

He lived ascetically with his aged parents and turned over his meager earnings to them, the witnesses testified.

POEM QUOTED

He quoted from poems attributed to Brodsky in which he allegedly expressed such sentiments as "I love another homeland."

According to reports from his friends, Brodsky has been living in a hut in the northern Archangel region. He was said to be too ill to work — even on his poetry.

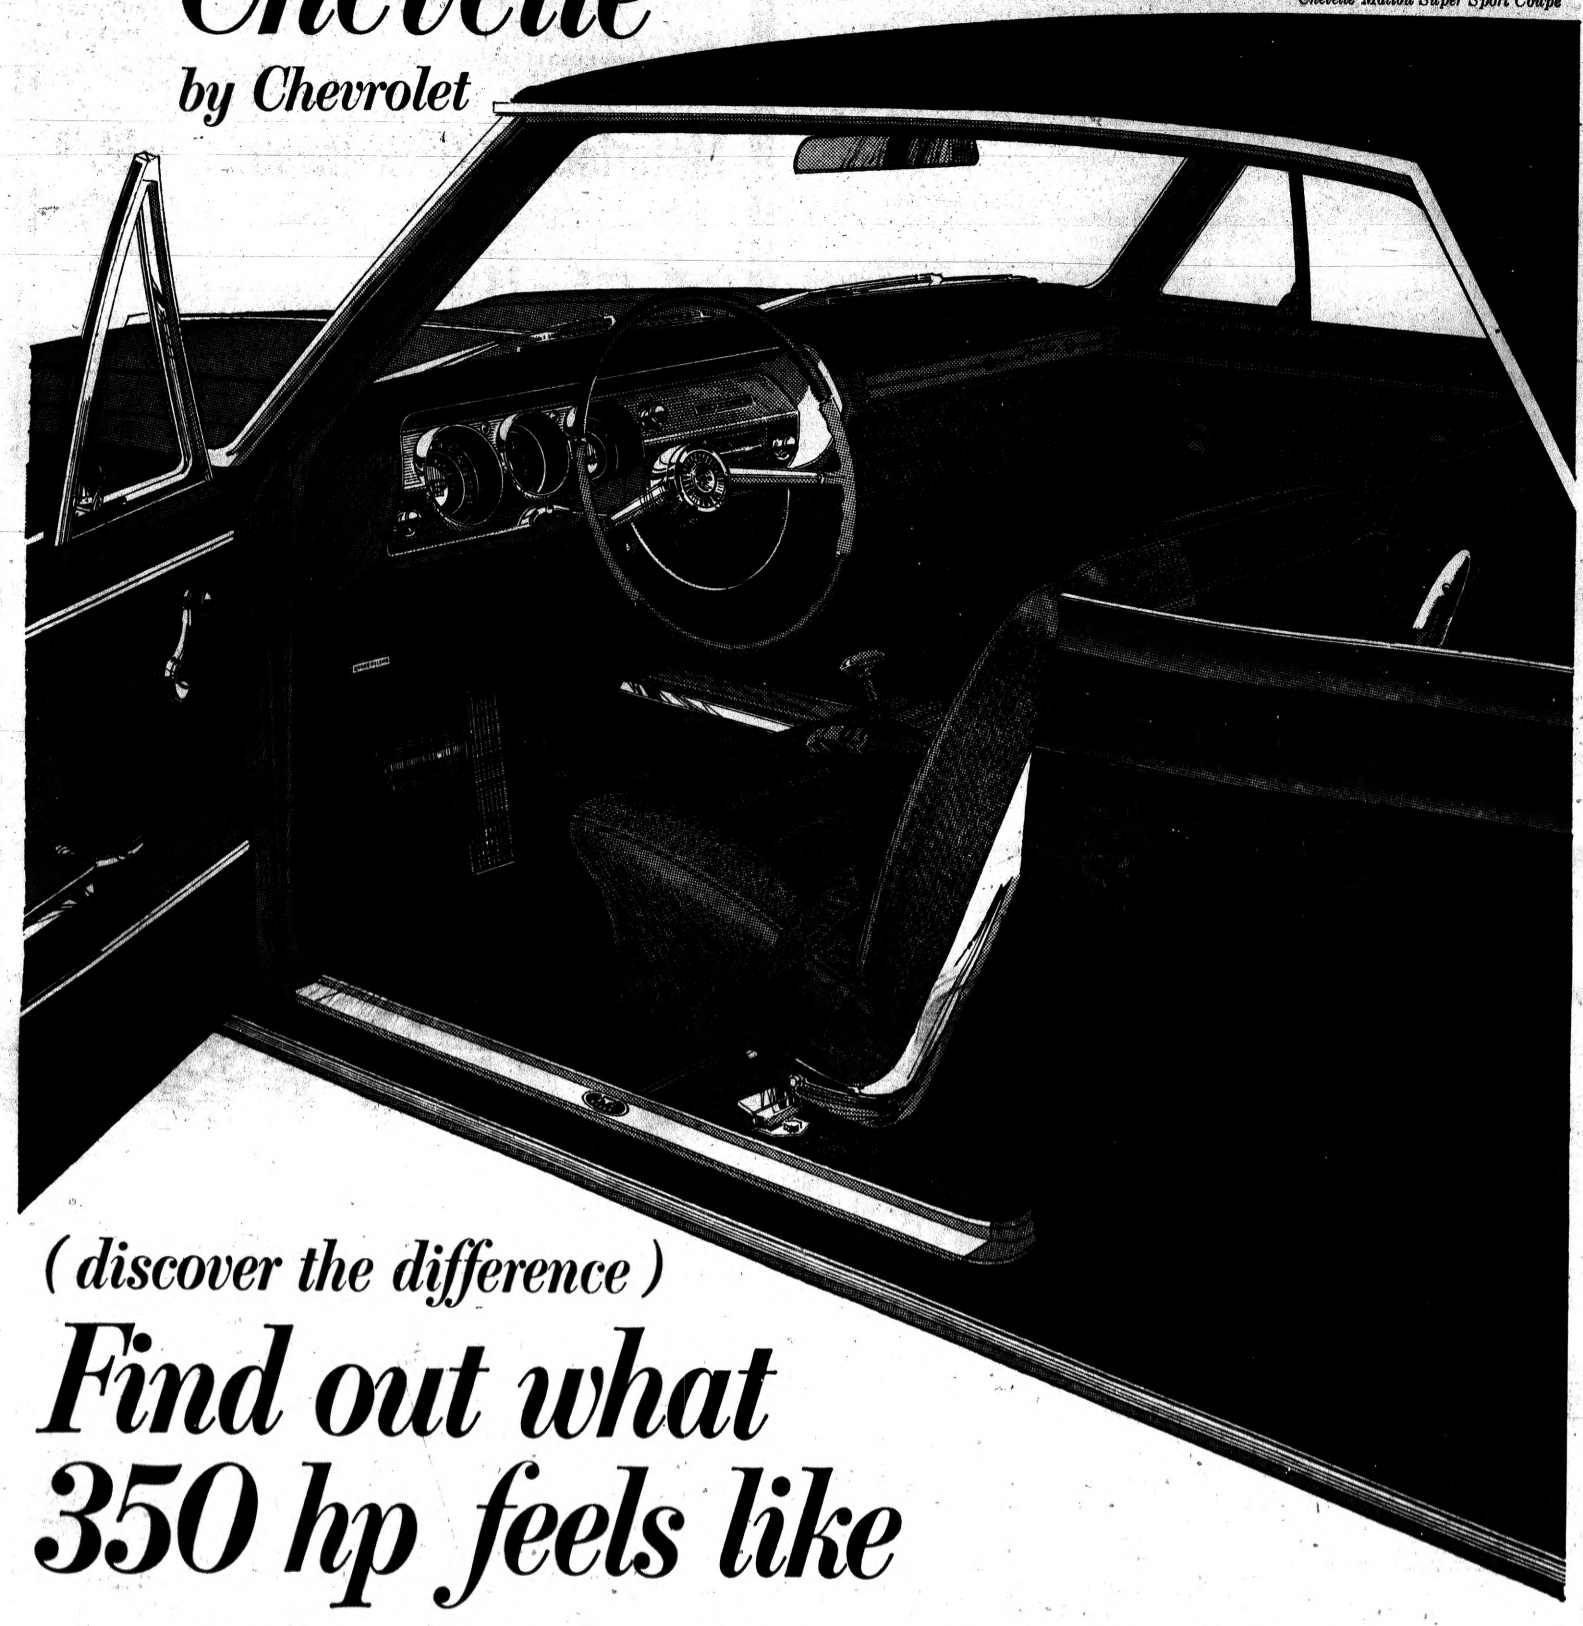
Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe



(discover the difference)

Find out what 350 hp feels like in America's favorite intermediate size car

Next time you're feeling low, come on in and plunk yourself down in the bucket seat of a Chevelle Malibu Super Sport. Flick the ignition—bring that special-order 350-hp power plant to life. Then go find a road and try not to smile.

We think it's the greatest pep pill since weekends—and that goes for the other Chevelle V8's too. The 195-hp. And the 250- and 300-hp jobs we can order for you.

And of course if power doesn't sell you right off, maybe Chevelle's short turning radius and overall handling ease will. Or its Full Coil suspension ride. Or its Super Sport all-vinyl interior with wall-to-wall carpeting. Or even its 27-cubic-foot trunk.

Or maybe it's just plain old value. We've got a showroom full of comparison materials that prove Chevelle to be a better buy (and we'd be only too proud to show them to you). Just ask us.

But whatever it is that you think might make a Chevelle loyalist out of you, you'll never really know until you get into one—and see how hard it is to get out again.

By KAY COSMA

The senior class of Pontiac Central High School has made plans for its senior trip. The seniors will be leaving from Detroit on May 20 for their boat trip to Mackinac Island. They will return May 22.

The first payment for the trip was collected this week by class officers: Roger Putnam, president; Herman Williams, vice president; Carolyn Sherrel, secretary; and Bill Kimball, treasurer.

Tryouts for this year's musical, "The Sound of Music," will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Any student may try out for the play which now is scheduled for the early part of April.

Sixteen years old, she will begin classes at Pontiac Central the second semester. Her new family has only two sisters while in Brazil she has three sisters and three brothers.

3 Foreign Girls Visit at WTHS

By JEAN PERRY

Visiting Waterford Township High School for a short while are three foreign students Graciela Beltran, Mexico; Juan Tunon, Mexico City; and Maria Gonzales from Mercedes, Uruguay.

★ ★ ★

They arrived in December and are very impressed by our "modern ways." The girls like our canned foods and Juan is delighted by the snow.

All three students like the "machines in which you can get food, pencils, etc." According to them, WTHS is a "very big school." Maria states that though young people are alike all over the world, in South America their education is somewhat different and more respect is shown to teachers.

First semester exams will be held near the end of January.

Spirit Is High at Emmanuel

By TIM MAYER

The silent halls at Emmanuel Christian School came to life this week with the return of the students. Spirits were raised higher by Tuesday's pep rally in anticipation of the Lancers' first game following the holidays.

Four needy families were given a merry Christmas by the pep club, under the direction of Millicent Kandt, club president.

The $5 award for bringing in the most articles was received by 10th grade class president, Bud Savage.

SKI SEASON—Members of the Waterford Kettering ski team breezed through the holidays to the ski season. Hoping to wax on good luck are team members, Jeanne Trevethan of 3901 Sashabaw, Waterford Township, and Andy Honchell of 2836 Rowan, Waterford Township. The group practices on slopes twice a week in addition to their regularly scheduled weekly meet.

WKHS Ski Team Participates in Meet

By PENNY YOUNG

Waterford Kettering ski team members participated in their first meet of the season Wednesday afternoon on the slopes of Mt. Holly.

Also, Steven Zemke, Richard Sies, John Peterson, Thomas Ojay, Robert Crawford, David Chambers, Thomas Carlsen, Andrew Honchell, James Wright, Gary Easly and Andrew Blain.

Under the direction of coach Jerry Thomas, the team will race against area schools each week until the end of the ski season.

Thirty-three students will travel to Detroit's United Artists Theater tomorrow evening to see the movie "My Fair Lady."

★ ★ ★

An hour-long dance will be held tonight following the home basketball game with Oxford. Admission will be 15 cents, and the guest policy will be in effect.

Seniors held mock elections this week in homerooms. Winners will be announced Monday.

Rehearsals Under Way at BHHS

By KAREN TRIMMER

★ ★ ★

Under the direction of Mr. Glen Wooster, drama teacher, final touches are being put on the play. It recounts the fairy tale of a princess who desires the moon.

The play will be presented to area children and anyone who wishes to attend on Jan. 22 and 23. The leading role of the production, Princess Lenore, has been assumed by an elementary age student, Jenifer Squibb.

Other roles will be played by Jeff Keith, court jester; Bob Brogan, Lord Highchamberland; Debby Rutzen, Cynicia; Dave Muir, Royal Wizard; Connie DiMatteo, Paretta; Roger Plaxton, mathematician; Mike Kohlrust, king; and Carol Colley, royal nurse. It is sponsored and produced by The Protagonists. Rosemary Richey has served as BHHS student director.

Pontiac Northern to Join Clothing Drive

By ALICE TURNER

Pontiac Northern High School students will soon combine their efforts with students of other Pontiac schools in the annual clothing drive.

The clothing drive is scheduled from Jan. 11-15.

All students in junior high and high school are asked to participate in this drive.

Mildred Wiersema, English teacher at Northern, and her homeroom have sent out a challenge to all the other homerooms at Northern to bring in the most clothes.

Last year Pontiac schools brought in 26,000 pounds of clothing. This same amount has been set for the goal this year. The clothes will be sent to many needy families in Pontiac with the Salvation Army, the St. Vincent de Paul Society and the Dorcas Society handling the distribution.

"What's New in Vocational Education?" was discussed at the Pontiac Northern PTSA recent meeting.

Thirteen Pontiac Northern alumni, former members of the Studies in Democracy class recently visited Northern and talked to the present class. Among the topics discussed were the value of note taking, value of the studies in Democracy for basic background in college and the value of learning to relate ideas to one another.

Juniors at Walled Lake Win Canned Food Drive

By VIVI METTALA

Walled Lake High School's Student Council Christmas canned food drive was a big success.

"A Midwinter Knight's Dream" is the theme of the junior prom to be held Feb. 6. Art Stokus and Mary Fitzgerald are cochairmen of decorations on a medieval setting.

Chairmen of refreshments and publicity are Maureen Ghetia and Carol Dunkley. Lynn Blomberb is in charge of entertainment for the evening and has arranged to have a "wandering minstel" as well as the dance band.

Trips and Interviews Highlight Activities

By HERVEY LAVOIE

★ ★ ★

Girls from all classes spent Wednesday and Thursday at Queen of the Angel's retreat house in Saginaw. Accompanying the 54 girls were Mother Maura and Sister M. Michaelina.

★ ★ ★

Earlier in the week senior girls were the subject of a vocational survey. Sister M. Michaelina, directress of admissions at Nazareth College, interviewed each girl.

★ ★ ★

The student seminar of government in action met Tuesday. Chairman James Stickle outlined plans to visit City Hall Tuesday after classes. The group will observe administrative operations.

DRAFT CONSTITUTION

★ ★ ★

The student council will present the first dance of the year tomorrow. "Holiday Hangover" will be held at the parish hall from 8-11 p. m. Dress is casual.

Avondale Club Visits Library at Wayne State

By LINDA TONG

The United Nations Club of Avondale Senior High School, under the direction of Leonard Passint, recently took a trip to the United Nations Library at Wayne State University.

There were 108 students on the honor roll posted this last month. Honor roll students must have a "B" average or better.

The Juniors are making last-minute plans for the Junior Prom. It will be held in the school gym Jan. 23 from 9 p.m. to midnight.

Named to committees were: Phyl Grisham, Kathy May and Karen Burt, decoration; charity Wilson, refreshments and David Erwin, publicity.

At Clarkston High Tonight

Varsity Cheerleaders to Sponsor Dance

BY CATHY RICHARDSON

The dance will start immediately after the game and will last until 11:30 p.m. in the cafeteria.

Regular admission will be charged.

The varsity cheerleaders are Darlene Craven, Donna Davis, Joanne Kriss, Connie Papi, Robyn Rutzen, and Carol Sage. Their mamager is Bobbette Buehrig.

★ ★ ★

The debate squad from Clarkston is tied for first place with Northville and Brighton. All three teams have scored five wins and one loss. At the final league meet of the year, Clarkston will go against Northville to determine the championship.

Tryouts for the talent show, will have a beatnik theme. They will be held Tuesday. The talent show is an annual event sponsored by the student government, to boost the Student Aid Fund.

Two juniors, Cindy Johnson and Cathy Richardson, have been selected by the Y-Teens to represent Clarkston at the Midwinter Conference. The conference will take place Feb. 12-14 near Battle Creek.

On Wednesday, the Clarkston Jaycees will meet the Rotary Oldtimers and the Faculty Finks in a donkey basketball game.

★ ★ ★

The public is invited to come and see the fun at 8 p.m. in the Clarkston Junior High gym. Regular admission will be charged.

Lake Orion High School will be represented in Co-Ed magazine this year by senior Joan Taylor, one of the 4,000 correspondents in the U.S. and Canada.

The future teachers' club observed classes at Blanche Sims Elementary School Wednesday.

A tiara was presented to Darlene Bonning, LOHS football homecoming queen. The queen's crown is used by all LOHS homecoming queens, but each queen receives a tiara of her own to keep.

Along with 4-H members in the county, LOHS students will go on a weekend ski trip Jan. 15.

St. Frederick Makes Plans for New Year

By JANIS QUARLES

As the hustle and bustle of the holidays dies down, St. Frederick's student council, headed by Larry Walter, is making arrangements for 1965.

The council has decided to have all Catholic students not attending St. Frederick sign a guest book when attending school functions. The purpose of the book is to keep order at all social events.

Also on the roster of events are annual plans for career day, talent shows, dances, student day, and the pledges for the new Catholic Central High School Fund.

Appalachian Area Gets Student Aid

Coed students from Berea College, Ky., have been volunteering their time to serve as Appalachian Volunteers.

They help refurbish dilapidated schools so a better public education can be provided.

In 1964, a total of 790 days of labor was donated by students from Berea, who to date have worked on 32 schools.

ART EXHIBIT — Claudia Norris of 3406 Nichols, Avon Township, with her art instructor, Lloyd Soucie of Avondale High School, tallies the number of entries to be shown in the January art exhibit. On display will be oils, water colors, pencil drawings, sculpture and craft products created by the school's art students. The site for the exhibit will be announced later.

Catfish Tale Is Long, Costly

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —. A certain big-mouthed catfish at a nearby lake is putting the bite on the lake's owners.

Then, another fisherman — Carl Skinner of Jeffersonville, Ind. — and another $42.

The fish is identifiable as it has only one eye. So far it has cost the lake owners $94.50 — as they paid $10.50 for him when he was put in the water.

Junior Editors Quiz on DINOSAURS

QUESTION: Is it true that the dinosaurs had two actual brains, one in their head, one in their hips?

ANSWER: If, by "actual brains," you mean brains as we generally use the word, this is not true. All animals with backbones have some kind of a brain.

But most of these are very simple, especially compared to our own, which are so marvelously complex, able to memorize and imagine things, to receive impressions and make decisions. The dinosaurs' brains were tiny in proportion to their size.

Stegosaurus, the beast in the picture with the huge backplates, had a body larger than that of an elephant; yet his brain was about the size of a walnut.

But although dinosaurs did not have true brains in their hips, some of them, such as the Stegosaurus, did have nerve centers located in this region which worked the hind legs and tail, as proved by the structure of skeletons which have been preserved.

With his tiny head, Stegosaurus must have been extremely stupid.

However, when a flesh-eating dinosaur, such as we show in front, pounced on him, the nerve center in his hips set his tail threshing violently, and this with its long spikes, often knocked the flesh-eater away.

This iis not true brain work but what is called reflex action. It is as if your finger touched a candle flame, reflex action would jerk your hand away before you had time to think about it.

Sparking Engine Halts Takeoff of United Jetliner

CLEVELAND (AP) —Sparks coming from the left engine of a United Airlines Caravelle jetliner halted the plane's takeoff at Cleveland Hopkins International Airport Thursday night. The seven passengers and four crew members were evacuated without mishap.

The plane had been cleared for takeoff on the last leg of flight 431 bound for Willow Run Airport at Detroit when the pilot, Capt. Lewis Brubaker of Chicago, was notified by personnel in the airport tower that sparks were shooting from the engine.

Cleveland firemen said the plane's right front tire blew out and its brake drums were melted as Capt. Brubaker brought the craft to a halt. It had not left the ground.

The flight originated in Philadelphia and had a 30-minute layover in Cleveland.

There were 7,188,000 state government employes in the nation last year and 2,380,000 federal workers. Another 5,413,000 were on local payrolls.

It has been found possible to cut the landing speed of a jet plane in half by means of boundary layer control which permits an increase in the angle of its wing flaps. A proportionate reduction in airport size might result.

Dock Officers, U.S. Mediator Rejoin Talks

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI) — Longshoremen's union officers and a federal peacemaker rejoined down - to - the - wire bargaining talks with shippers today, hoping to head off a dockworkers strike on Gulf and Atlantic coasts scheduled for midnight Sunday.

Thomas W. (Teddy) Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, and Ralph Massey, the ILA's West Gulf District president, met yesterday in New York with other of the union's leaders and were expected here today.

Gleason said in New York the strike is "a possibility," adding, "if any of the Gulf port longshoremen strike, all ports will go down together."

Also due in Galveston for today's session was James Reynolds, an assistant secretary of labor who made two previous trips to the Galveston bargaining tables under presidential orders to prevent a strike.

★ ★ ★

The biggest problem is a retroactive raise, but others include the union's say-so in hiring practices and a limit on reducing size of the standard work crew.

Inhabitants of Puerto Rico do not have to pay United States taxes. They are even excluded from the income tax.

Fireman Kept Head as He Faced Peril

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Fireman Roger Dolloff was riding as tillerman — rear driver —on a hook and ladder rig here when it approached an overpass.

He noticed a sign listing the overhead clearance of the pass at 10 feet 4 inches.

Johnson, Sato to Confer Next Week

American-Japanese Friendship Knot Continues to Grow Tighter

News Analysis

TOKYO (AP) — Uncle Sam's image has been tarnished in several Asian nations, but in Japan the friendship knot with the United States has tightened in the last year.

Prime Minister Eisaku Sato pledges his 2-month-old government will stand firmly beside the United States. He is expected to reiterate this when he meets President Johnson in Washington next week.

Occasional squabbles between the two countries undoubtedly will continue but most of them can be compared to family arguments.

For the United States, Japan is a major defensive anchor in the Western Pacific against communism. To Japan, the United States guarantees aid in the event of foreign military threats—and is the chief importer of Japanese goods.

★ ★ ★

A minority, mostly leftists, believe the United States is a troublemaker in a troubled world. They contend everything will be all right if the United States abandons overseas bases, including several in Japan, and keeps its hands off other parts of the world.

DEMONSTRATIONS

The types of demonstrations staged in Japan show the change that has occurred in recent years.

Several thousand Communists and Socialists converged on Sasebo last November and tried to stir up protests against a visit by an atomic-powered U. S. submarine.

Leftists also rallied last April, demanding the return of U. S.-administered Okinawa to Japan. In both cases the protests were relatively mild.

Leftists march almost daily through Tokyo streets, protesting one issue or another and somehow always managing to link the United States to their complaints.

USUALLY IGNORED

The demonstrations generally are ignored by the public.

The riots that broke out against the United States on May Day 1952 and against the U. S.-Japan Security Treaty in 1960 caused extensive damage.

Many Japanese felt they were national disgraces because Japan has a functioning government and complaints can be registered at the polls.

For years after the United States ended its postwar occupation and signed a peace treaty in 1951, the feeling lingered that Washington was still dictating Japan's policies.

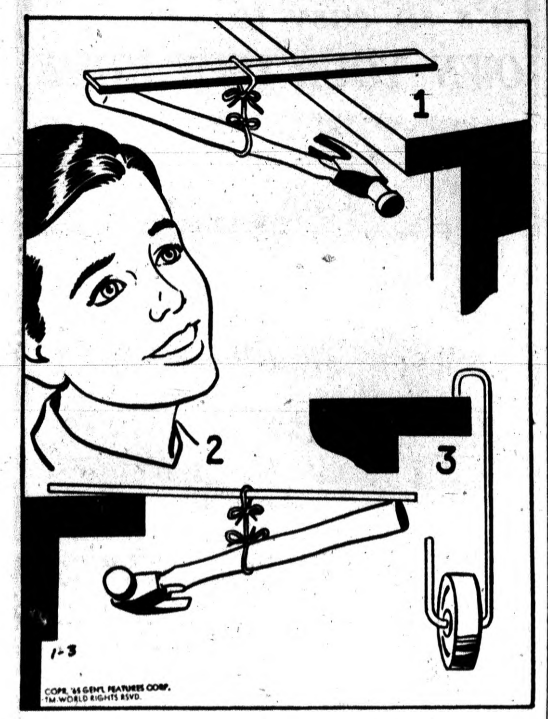
Communists played on nationalistic pride to support this idea.

It took years of careful diplomacy to dispel this belief. Today the typical Japanese appears to have a friendly feeling toward America. He is not likely to say "I love America" but will grant that "America is a great country."

Vienna Clinic Examines Former Saudi King

VIENNA (AP) — Ex-King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia underwent an examination today at a private clinic in Vienna, and informants said he probably would undergo surgery soon for an undisclosed ailment.

Saud, 65, arrived in Vienna Wednesday from Riyadh. There were unconfirmed reports that the ex-king plans to live in Vienna. He was overthrown by his younger brother, Crown Prince Feisal, last Nov. 2.



Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: Defying Gravity?

HERE'S WHY: Most of the weight is in the hammer head, and if the ruler is moved along the table edge until the center of weight of the assembly is directly under the edge, the balance point will be easy to find.

It is as if the weight were hanging straight down from the table as in drawing No. 3. The center of gravity must be slightly on the table side of the table edge.

A new collection of these experiments is in book form, titled "Science Circus No. 2." Ask for it at your bookstore or library.

Wages and Jobless Benefits Get LBJ Priority

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson plans to put minimum wage and unemployment compensation legislation ahead of organized labor's pet project — repeal of the "right-to-work" section of federal law.

But, a high administration source says, repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act is still of "very real political and economic concern" to Johnson, even though he may not get around to proposing it until next spring.

Section 14B permits states to enact so-called "right-to-work laws" that prohibit labor contracts from requiring compulsory union membership.

In his State of the Union message Monday night Johnson promised to ask Congress to repeal 14B. The next day some reports circulated on Capitol Hill that Johnson would not push hard for repeal in the next few months.

This caused some consternation in union circles.

It also has been learned on high authority that Johnson at the same time will seek another change in the Taft-Hartley Act desired by organized labor — especially in the construction trades.

This is the present ban on "sites" picketing which makes unions subject to secondary boycott penalties when calling at a strike at a construction site involving more than one employer.

Although he will not present a separate labor message to Congress, Johnson is considering a number of other changes in labor laws. But high sources indicated there is no change in the administration's opposition to cutting the federal standard work week from 40 to 35 hours — another prime aim of organized labor.

TWO SECTIONS

The administration believes it has the votes in Congress to change the two sections of Taft-Hartley without opening up the whole law to extensive revision under pressure of business interests.

Johnson is assigning top priority to bringing another estimated 2 million workers under the Fair Labor Standards Act, and improving the unemployment compensation program.

The first measure would bring hotel, restaurant, laundry and agricultural processing workers under the $1.25 minimum wage and other provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

MINIMUM WAGE

There is also some consideration in high administration circles of requesting an increase in the $1.25 minimum wage, although probably not to the $2 figure advocated by the AFL-CIO.

Another possibility reported under "serious consideration" is bringing agricultural workers under the Fair Labor Standards Act. But this is expected to bring strong political resistance from growers who are already angry over the recent abolition of the foreign migrant labor program.

To Skills, Triumphs

Johnson Medical Proposals a Tribute

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK—President Johnson's call for a broad health program is in part a tribute to the past triumphs and sparkling new skills of modern medicine.

He proposes bold steps to solve 1965 problems of health and medical care.

But those problems exist, or are more urgent, partly because of rapid advances in medical science, especially since 1945. The President is saying, in effect, that our economic-medical-social machinery is out of date in adjusting to the new potentials for everyone's health. There are some basic reasons.

Infectious diseases once were our prime killer. But no longer, thanks to antibiotics and other drugs that save children and adults.

LIVING LONGER

More Americans are living into middle age and beyond, thereby inviting newer enemies. Now the main killers — taking seven out of 10 American lives — are heart disease, strokes and cancer. Chronic and costly diseases are far more common.

At its best, American medicine is the best in the world. Surgery, radiation and rehabilitation techniques are performing seeming miracles.

But the distribution of this best and newest knowledge is becoming an ever more serious matter. How can it be made available so most people can benefit? The knowledge is coming mainly from laboratories, from medical schools, hospitals and clinics. Part of it derives from the fact that specialists — in medical, mental or dental disease — can determine from many patients what are the best methods of diagnosis, treatment or cure, with the least hazard. But there is a time-lag before promising techniques are adopted by doctors elsewhere.

Older people, on reduced income or on pensions, fall victim to chronic or lingering illness. So do some young husbands, wives and children. But who budgets money for the day of sickness or accident? The main reliance is placed on some kind of insurance.

★ ★ ★

A growing population requires more doctors, and more medical schools. Education in a medical school, or in any college, costs more now. Alumni give money to try to take up the slack between costs and fees paid by medical students.

★ ★ ★

SKILLED STAFF

These include hospitalization payments for people 65 and over from Social Security or federal funds; establishment of 32 regional centers, with skilled staff, to attack heart disease, cancer, strokes, and other major diseases; federal support of medical and dental schools; provisions for medical care of children whose parents cannot pay, and other measures.

Johnson's specific proposals may be adopted, rejected, or amended by Congress.

The certainty is that the modern problems, born of medical advances and human wants, are here, and must be resolved in some manner.

Only Navy Is Being Expanded

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's new defense budget is expected to allocate about $15 billion to the expanding Navy with authority to order 568 war planes and start building or modernizing 64 ships.

As the favored service under the new military plan, the Navy will enlarge its worldwide operating fleets to 899 ships by June 1966.

That is a gain of 40 over today's strength and will make the fleets larger than at any time in the previous eight years.

By June 1966, the fleets will include 31 nuclear-powered attack submarines, designed to combat enemy surface shipping and submarines, and 38 Polaris missile submarines, which also are nuclear powered.

★ ★ ★

Johnson will send his budget to Congress later this month, detailing government plans for the year starting next July 1.

$49.1 BILLION

It is reported to call for $49.1 billion in military spending for all the armed services, Defense Departmentwide agencies and foreign military aid.

The Navy is the only service being expanded. It will gain 17,000 men and the Marines 3,000 between now and June 1966, while the Air Force will drop 38,000 and the Army 20,000.

The Air Force is cutting back on bombers and eliminating some older missiles while the Army is losing manpower allotted earlier for an experimental air assault division.

★ ★ ★

With its broadened responsibility, the Navy will emphasize expansion of amphibious and antisubmarine warfare forces and updating of both its patrol and combat aircraft.

NEW TYPES

It also will begin construction of four new type ships, and modernize 14 others, to serve as forward storage depots.

These ships, not included in the 64 to be built or converted for naval purposes, are for equipment to be used by Army troops swiftly flown to troubled areas in Air Force jet transports.

The 64-ship construction and conversion plan calls for 20 antisubmarine warfare ships — four nuclear-powered attack submarines, one submarine tender and 15 destroyer types.

Also, there will be 15 amphibious assault ships, five ships for mine warfare, eight for fleet support, three fleet escorts and 12 patrol craft. Finally, an older type aircraft carrier will be extensively modernized.

PRINCIPAL PLANES

The principal planes to be ordered are the P3A turboprop patrol airplane, A7 attack craft and the Phantom and F111 (formerly TFX) fighters.

The Navy will continue to operate 15 large attack aircraft carriers and nine antisubmarine warfare carriers, while the Marines will have three divisions and three air wings as at present.

No new Polaris missile submarines are provided. The fourth full fleet of 41 is already on order and will be completed by 1967.

★ ★ ★

McNamara 1 of 2 Added to Dem Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich., was one of two members added yesterday by Democrats to the party's Senate Steering Committee.

Named with McNamara was Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn. Both are rated liberals.

★ ★ ★

Senate Democrats voted to expand the steering committee by two members after turning down four-member expansion proposed by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., in an effort to prevent Southern domination of the committee.

Clark's proposal, which would have expanded the committee to 19 members, was beaten 34-32. The two-member compromise was offered by majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.

DOMINATION AT END

Addition of McNamara and McCarthy technically ended Southern domination, since the south's eight members fall short of a majority of 17.

But Clark said in his view Southerners "still are in control" because at least one or two of the nine non-southern members are sympathetic to the views of the conservatives.

★ ★ ★

Teen Gang Leader Is Held in Slaying

DETROIT (AP)—A 16-year-old fellow student of slain Anthony Johnson, 15, was held in juvenile detention today as police sought a court waiver to permit issuance of a felony charge.

Police said the youth in custody and Anthony were leaders of rival gangs. Both attended Pershing High School. Anthony was shot and killed Wednesday night when the two gangs encountered each other.

★ ★ ★

The 16-year-old was held at the Wayne County Youth Home. The Police Homicide Bureau said a waiver would be sought in Probate (Juvenile) Court to permit his trial as an adult.

Lower Retirement Age to Aid Miners

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A lowered pension age in the United Mine Workers' retirement system will put money into the pockets of many presently unemployed Kentucky miners, officials said Thursday.

The new age is 55. It had been 60.

No exact figures were available, but UMW officials said large numbers of members, especially in economically depressed eastern Kentucky, will qualify for immediate retirement and that most are unemployed now.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Medical Use of Hypnotism Fairly Recent

Hypnotism has captured the imagination of the public for many years but its use in legitimate medical practice is fairly recent.

BRANDSTADT

An erroneous idea about it is that the hypnotized person is asleep. This is because the suggestion of sleep is often used to induce hypnosis.

But a hypnotized person may endure an intensity of pain that would awaken him from even the deepest sleep.

Furthermore, his awareness of his surroundings, although it may be limited to the voice of the hypnotist, is not decreased but is intensified.

★ ★ ★

He may not only hear the hypnotist's voice but also be influenced up to a point by the latter's suggestions.

MORAL CODE

In the hypnotic state a person will not, however, do anything that is opposed to his moral code.

In light hypnosis the subject's eyes remain closed and his body is relaxed.

It is estimated that about 80 per cent of the population can be put into light hypnosis, but only about one fourth of these can be put into deep hypnosis — a state in which the subject can open his eyes and move about at the suggestion of the hypnotist.

★ ★ ★

POPULAR FALLACY

A popular fallacyq is that a person under hypnosis can recall the events of his early life — even those of the day of his birth.

Such reliving of past experience may or may not be accurate and therefore cannot be relied on.

Hypnosis is induced by monotonous repetition of some stimulus such as looking at a bright object or listening to repeated requests to go to sleep. A person can even learn to hypnotize himself.

★ ★ ★

Hypnosis may be used by qualified doctors in the treatment of hysteria, the management of childbirth or as a substitute for anesthesia for persons requiring operation.

HELPS SOME

It has helped victims of eczema, hives, tension headaches, peptic ulcer, mucous colitis and various neuroses.

But it must be emphasized that it is not a cure. It merely gives temporary relief. Furthermore, it is time consuming and therefore expensive.

It should never be undertaken by a doctor who has not first made a thorough examination of the subject to be hypnotized.

As a form of treatment, hypnosis is not without danger. It may precipitate a severe mental depression or withdrawal from reality.

ON CHAIN SMOKER

Used on a woman who was a chain smoker it helped her to give up smoking but led to compulsive overeating.

When another hypnotic session cured her of this she became an alcoholic. When she requested another session to cure this a wise physician refused.

It had become evident that she had to have some form of compulsive behavior. another session might have made her a narcotic addict.

Many states now have strict laws limiting the practice of hypnosis to physicians, dentists and trained psychologists.

Steel Negotiations Suspended Until Union Election Is Over

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The AFL-CIO United Steelworkers and the basic steel industry will suspend negotiations for a new labor contract until after the USW elections next month, it has been learned.

★ ★ ★

Announcement of the suspension until at least Feb. 15 was expected today. The election is Feb. 9.

★ ★ ★

Word that talks would break off came Thursday night as the campaign between USW President David J. McDonald and Secretary-Treasurer I. W. Abel, who seeks to end McDonald's 12-vear rule, reached a peak.

Since Abel announced his candidacy is November there had been industry fears that the power struggle would have an effect on bargaining when the contract was reopened Jan. 1.

TOUGH RACE

The McDonald-Abel race is regarded as close — the toughest McDonald has faced since he stepped up from secretary-treasurer in 1952. Although the election is Feb. 9, ballots won't all be counted until sometime in May.

★ ★ ★

By reopening the contract Jan. 1, the union is free to strike in 120 days if no settlement is reached. That makes May 1 the earliest possible strike date.

★ ★ ★

He lashed out at Abel, who first came to office on a McDonald slate, as being out to "villify the staff, damage the union's reputation and hinder its effectiveness at the bargaining table."

He accused Abel of following a do-nothing policy in the 1963 negotiations and said Abel "urged acceptance of the industry's first offer."

Earlier in the campaign, McDonald had said the election would have no effect on bargaining.

★ ★ ★

A few hours later at a news conference Abel said he favored a suspension of the current talks until after the election.

However, he restated an earlier opinion that the election would have no harmful effect on bargaining.

The central issue in the election is Abel's contention that the union leadership has ignored and grown away from the membership, concentrating power at the top and relying on lawyers and other specialists to set policy.

3,000 Cuban Women Study to Be 'Cowgirls'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — More than 3,000 women in Cuba are studying to be "cowgirls" and do other farm work, Havana Radio says.

The broadcast, heard in Miami, added that farm courses sponsored by the Federation of Cuban Women stress chores such as tending livestock, which women can perform and free men for harder tasks.

Guerrilla Discontent Reported

Viets Say 100 Cong Killed in Clashes

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The government claimed today its forces killed more than 100 Viet Cong guerrillas in two clashes since Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

About 100 Communist guerrillas attacked a small government unit yesterday in Thua Thien Province, 30 miles south of the North Vietnamese border, and killed three of the defenders, the government said.

Another government unit and 30 armored personnel carriers rushed in and reportedly cut down about half of the guerrillas.

A government spokesman said another 53 Viet Cong were killed Wednesday during a fight in Quang Nam Province, in central Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

At Binh Gia, paratroopers and marines continued to scour the jungle and rubber plantations without finding any of the Viet Cong who participated in the fierce fighting which broke out Dec. 28.

MOVED OUT

The 3rd Marine Battalion was moved out of the area, but three paratroop battalions remained at a plantation airstrip.

About 500 soldiers and 11 American advisers were in Binh Gia, which the Viet Cong have vowed to retake.

About 200 Vietnamese and six American advisers were killed in the fierce fighting around the Roman Catholic refugee settlement, 40 miles east of Saigon. Two more Americans were believed captured.

Intelligence reports of a Red concentration set off a series of aerial bombardments of the jungle area yesterday. There was no indication that the explosives and firebombs hit any of the 2,000 guerrillas believed in the area.

BOOBY TRAP

Some intelligence reports said discontent was developing among the Viet Cong because of heavy casualties in the past 10 days. The reports, which could not be confirmed, said the guerrillas want to return to their home provinces.

★ ★ ★

Military sources said the Koreans, coming from the army, navy and marine corps, would serve primarily in noncombat roles. But the sources said some rifle companies would be sent as security for the support troops.

South Korea sent an earlier contingent — a company of mobile surgical hospital personnel — and 10 hand-to-hand combat instructors — last September.

4 Hurt in Mine Cave-In

TORRELAVEGA, Spain (UPI) — A zinc mine caved in last night, causing the collapse of 20 houses in the village of Reocin located atop the mine. Four persons were reported injured, none seriously.

Claims U.S. Near Defeat in Jungle War

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI) —Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia said today U.S. defeat in South Viet Nam is "imminent."

He made the remark in an article in the Indian journal Patriot. In a speech at the opening of a coalyard along the Phnom Penh - Sihanoukville Railroad, the Cambodian ruler also said:

"As long as I live, I will fight for the disappearance of the despicable American imperialists" from the Far East.

Officially Cambodia is a "neutralist" country. But Sihanouk has rejected U.S. aid and has been receiving arms from both France and Red China.

Sihanouk has charged the United States with complicity in alleged border violations by South Vietnamese forces. The United States says Communist rebels in South Viet Nam take sanctuary in neighboring Cambodia.

Some observers believed Sihanouk moved closer to Red China when he became convinced the United States could not win in South Viet Nam.

Waterford Twp. School Board Seeks $9,434 in U.S. Funds

The Waterford Township Board of Education will seek $9,434 in federal funds in connection with proposed school site purchases.

★ ★ ★

Under the Open Space Land Program outlined last night to the board by Schools Supt. Don O. Tatroe, the school district could receive a possible reimbursement of 30 per cent for the excess land in a parcel purchased for a school site.

Excess land is defined as that portion of a parcel which would exceed the minimum school site standard.

Board members authorized application for federal funds in connection with the purchase of two separate sites.

LOCATION

It is located on the west side of Hospital between Elizabeth Lake and Cooley Lake roads.

Tatroe estimated 58.5 acres would be required for the school plants, leaving an excess of 21.5 acres.

This latter portion would qualify for federal aid at the rate of 30 per cent of its estimated cost of $16,448 or $4,934.

The other is a parcel of 13 acres for an elementary school addition with 5 acres of this termed excess. It is located northwest of Houghton School.

Based on a cost of $3,000 per acre, 30 per cent of the excess amounts to $4,500.

Two smaller parcels also were suggested to the board by Tatroe but board members felt that applications for federal aid on these would not be worthwhile considering the restrictions.

Under terms of the program, the excess areas can be used only as open spaces such as a ball field.

Tatroe pointed out that Pontiac utilized the Open Space Land Program for a park and that Livonia used it in acquiring golf course land.

He said he knew of no school district that has utilized the program in a site purchase.

Luncheon Honors DAR Members

Forty-one members and guests celebrated the 65th anniversary of the founding of the General Richardson chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Present at the luncheon at Devon Gables were regents of two neighboring chapters.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Graeme B. Supple of Piety Hill chapter, Birmingham and Mrs. Felix R. Hoheisal of Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter, Plymouth-Northville joined the local members.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Louis L. Dunlap presented a history of the organization.

HONOREES

The chapter honored two of its older members, Mrs. William F. Todd of Chelsea, formerly of Pontiac, and Mrs. E. V. Howlett.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Todd worked for some 20 years with the New Citizens League. Mrs. Howlett was the 10th chapter regent and state registrar. She is at present honorary registrar of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Walter A. Kleinert, state first vice chairman, spoke on "The Grand River Road." She is a member of Piety Hill chapter.

SOLOIST

Mrs. Victor M. Lindquist, accompanied by Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, presented a group of American musical selections.

★ ★ ★

Chairman of the day, Mrs. E. L. Tibbals, was assisted by Mrs. Lucius Howlett, Mrs. E. V. Howlett, Mrs. H. E. Windiate, Mrs. R. W. Kemp, Mrs. Fred Upthegrove, Mrs. L. C. Barner, Beulah Phillips and Kathleen Asher.

Pontiac Press Photos

OU Festival to Announce Chairmen

Cochairmen for the 1965 Meadow Brook Festival will be named Tuesday evening during a dinner in the Gold Room at Oakland University.

★ ★ ★

Preceding the dinner, Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson will be hostess at a cocktail party in Meadow Brook Hall. With her in the receiving line will be the 1964 cochairmen of the Festival, the Semon E. Knudsens.

★ ★ ★

Others welcoming some 400 guests will be Sixten Ehrling, conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and Robert Shaw who will teach classes in chorale singing next summer during the Meadow Brook Festival.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Noted Pianist Plays Tonight at University

Joann Freeman, Detroit's nationally-known pianist, will present a recital in Oakland University's Little Theatre tonight, at 8:15 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Her appearance will be a highlight of the current OU concert-lecture series, according to Dr. David Di Chiera, director of the series.

★ ★ ★

She has appeared with the Boston Pops, Little Orchestra Society, Detroit Symphony, and the Lucerne Chamber Orchestras.

★ ★ ★

Women's

Unit Hears First Lady at Church

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Recently, at their regular luncheon meeting, it was the privilege of the Episcopal Church Women of Christ Church to hear Michigan's first lady Lenore Romney speak about the role of the Christian women today.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Robert H. Flint presided and Mrs. Semon Knudsen introduced Mrs. Romney.

Replying to Mrs. Knudsen's charming introduction, Mrs. Romney spoke of their friendship which began 20 years ago when Mrs. Romney arrived in Detroit and through a mutual friend had an introduction to Mrs. Knudsen.

"MOTHERHOOD"

Mrs. Romney stressed "Motherhood" and the challenge everyone of us has to be an example to our children and to teach them to become respectful and useful citizens.

It was a capacity audience that came. Seated with Mrs. Romney were Mrs. Knudsen, Mrs. Flint, Mrs. Loren Keenan (the former Lynn Romney), Mrs. Romney's sister Mrs. Karl Richards. Others at the head table were mesdames Gerald O'Grady, John VanderRoest, Eliot Higgins, Alan Joslyn, James Bragaw, Ralph Wagner, also Rev. and Mrs. Robert Patterson. Also in the audience were Rev. and Mrs. John Albrecht.

Mrs. William James, who for ten years has been in charge of the book table where 30,000 books have been sold, was honored with a birthday cake presented by the Rev. Warren Radtke.

Boy Needs Help

Bring Playmates Home

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: There's a fatherless family in our neighborhood. The mother works and the children more or less shift for themselves.

ABBY

The eldest is a 17-year-old girl who has no supervision whatsoever. She smokes and drinks.

My college-age son told me not to let my 10-year-old son play with her 10-year-old brother because you wouldn't believe what goes on over there.

I hate to have to tell our boy that I have nothing against Johnny (not his real name) but because his home atmosphere is so bad I don't want him to associate with Johnny any more.

I realize that it's not Johnny's fault, that his environment is poor, but I'm afraid he will be a bad influence on our boy.

How can I forbid my son to play with Johnny without appearing snobbish? It's practically impossible to keep them apart.

They are in the same grade at school and live in the same block. Other mothers in the neighborhood share my problem and we need an answer.

UNSOLVED PROBLEM

DEAR PROBLEM: Tell your son that if he wants to play with Johnny, Johnny will have to come to HIS home. But under no circumstances is he to go to Johnny's.

Perhaps your son could be a good influence on Johnny. And if you cultivate Johnny's friendship and win his confidence, you might be a tremendously positive factor in building his character.

It's not enough simply to refrain from doing evil. Seize every opportunity to do good and make the most of it.

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of people who offer to take you on a "tour" of their homes when you visit them? In my opinion it is showing off.

I have had this happen with people who have modest homes, and also with people who have better homes. Either way I feel it is wrong.

If a person has a simple home, why show off the ordinary things that everybody else has? On the other hand, if they have a better home, isn't it bragging and in poor taste to show off what they have to people who have less? I would like your opinion.

AGAINST HOUSE TOURS

DEAR AGAINST: Most people offer their friends a "tour" of the house because they assume their friends are interested in seeing it. (And they usually are!)

I do not consider it "showing off" but if YOU do, don't offer a "tour" of your home. But don't condemn those who do.

Soprano and Cellist for Tuesday Musicale

Carolyn Grimes, soprano and David Eicher, cellist, will appear on the Jan. 12 program for Pontiac Tuesday Musicale at 1:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall of Central Methodist Church.

Since coming to the Detroit area, Mrs. Grimes has appeared as soloist at Oakland University, Hillsdale College, Assumption University and Wayne State University.

★ ★ ★

She sang the role of Zerlina in WSU's production of Mozart's "Don Giovanni" and has appeared with Plymouth, and Mount Clemens Symphony groups, and others.

SOLO WORK

Currently, she is soprano soloist at the First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, and also is soloist in the Kenneth Jewell Chorale.

Following graduation from Cornell College in Mount Vernon, Iowa, Mrs. Grimes studied in New York City where she gave two recitals and did oratorio solo work.

DAVID EICHER

★ ★ ★

Before entering college, David, son of the David N. Eichers of Westacres, was a member of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, the Michigan Youth Symphony and the Eastern Michigan University Orchestra.

He attended National Music Camp, Interlochen and played with the National High School Symphony Orchestra in a program for the late President Kennedy.

STUDIES FOR STAGE

★ ★ ★

He has played with the University of Chicago Symphony Orchestra and was the only student member of the faculty string quartet.

The annual Hand of Friendship Tea will be March 14 in the Airway Lounge, with Mrs. House and Mrs. Tyrrell as cochairmen.

The Presque Isle chapter of Erie, Pa. will be hostess for the annual ABWA district meeting May 14-16.

Fredericks Is Art Sponsor

Marshall Fredericks, local sculptor of national fame, will cosponsor an exhibition of contemporary painting and sculpture with the Danish Information Office at Detroit Institute of Arts.

Opening on Wednesday, the exhibit will continue through Feb. 7. More than 60 paintings and 23 sculptures are included.

Hours are Tuesday through Friday, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and weekends from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The museum is closed on Mondays.

Incorporate Ideas Is Decorator's Tip

The real test of a designer lies in his ability to stir together apparently diverse elements into a harmonious and habitable whole, far greater than the sum of its parts.

And so it is with Michael Greer, noted interior designer, who Thursday, spoke before a packed audience at Birmingham Town Hall.

Using colored slides to enhance his lecture, he bemoaned the use of cafe or tier curtains in today's otherwise tastefully decorated homes.

Incidentally, except in very rare cases, drapes are not drapes or even draperies, but should always be referred to as curtains, regardless of their elegance.

An insight into Mr. Greer's individual taste came through a brief, but informative pre-lecture interview.

Home for the designer who has redesigned and decorated on five continents is a two-story brownstone in the heart of Manhattan. One of the rooms boasts red velvet on all the walls and carries the same fabric to lampshades and other accessories.

It is Greer's attitude that furniture and decorations of many periods can and should be combined to create a mood that best reflects its owners' characteristics and tastes.

ANTIQUE STEEL

It is to this end that his own apartment is arranged with many pieces of antique steel made between 1785 and 1820.

In some instances he has used trompe l' oeil (to fool the eye) painting, such as bookcases filled with handsome leather-bound editions, that look real.

The author (he has written two books on the subject) states that sometimes the suggestion, rather than the thing itself, can complement a room.

JUDITH ANN GRAHAM

Fall vows are planned by Judith Ann Graham, daughter of the Raymond D. Grahams of Sylvan Lake and Robert N. Geyer, son of the N. F. Geyers of Saginaw. She is an alumna of Michigan State University where her fiance is a senior.

Temperature Often Varies

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)— A child's temperature can vary from hour to hour and there are wide individual variations from the normal 98.6 degree mark, so mothers should not become unduly excited every time a child has a fever.

So say two New Orleans pediatricians writing in "Postgraduate Medicine." Many normal children have oral temperatures of 99 to 100 degrees F. daily, and even higher readings after exercise or emotional excitement, Dr. G. James Fruthaler and Dr. Thomas Tilden of the Ochsner Clinic Department of Pediatrics point out.

Accepts Daily Ride, Now She's Indebted

y MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My girl, 11, has a friend who hinks she owns her. She can't at lunch at school with anybody but this girl and has to go over to play with her whenever she wants her. If she walks to class with anybody else, this girl gets sore, too.

Her mother has been picking Betty up mornings and driving her to school and I have told Betty that this may be why this girl acts as if she owns her. . . .

ANSWER: If you think this is true, I hope you'll advise Betty to refuse this favor—and to start walking to school every day.

You might also suggest that she is not entitled to resent her friend's possessiveness.

Taking favors from people involves us in debt to them; this is a fact of life that children need to learn.

In you—and probably is Betty—there seems to be a good deal of resentment at this girl's demands for repayment for making her family's car available to Betty every morning.

I don't see how you are entitled to it in view of the fact that all of us come under the obligation to repay favors done us by other people in some way or other.

Children who are given the impression that we parents expect nothing back for the favors we do them often make Betty's mistake. They feel shocked resentment when someone who does them favors acts as though he "owns" them.

WANT NOTHING?

So I have to ask you if you really want nothing back from Betty for the care, the labor and money you invest in her? If you don't, if your concern for her is pure and undefiled by any self-interest, I have nothing more to say.

But if you are like the rest of us, your favors to Betty are not delivered out of pure, disinterested concern. For the favors we do for children, we want a return in obedience, in loyalty, in social and school successes.

And if they refuse these returns, we get "sore" too and feel ourselves to be very badly used.

If we are willing to know that we want repayment for the favors we do for children, we do not share their ingenuous resentment when some other favoring person wants payment, too. Instead we say:

NOT PECULIAR

"There's nothing peculiar in Jane's behavior. We all want things back for the favors we do other people.

"If you do an errand for me and I don't say 'What a good girl you are!' you don't like it a bit. You want my thanks in return for doing me the favor.

"That's not so different from Jane. She wants all your attention for getting you driven to school. If you don't want to give the attention, stop taking the favor."

Cancer Society Honors Trinity Church Women

Thursday two volunteers from the Michigan Cancer Foundation honored 12 members of St. Trinity Lutheran Church Ladies Aid society, presenting them with 15 year service pins.

Others were Mrs. Clifford C. Smades, Mrs. Albert Manke, Mrs. Mabelle Swoboda, Mrs. Lillian Colby, Mrs. Rhoun Beatty, Mrs. Clarence Rognaldson, and Mrs. John W. Kremlich.

The Michigan Cancer Foundation supplies dressings, free of charge, to cancer patients being cared for in the home.

Because so many women like those at St. Trinity Lutheran Church are willing to spend some of their spare time in sewing, hundreds of thousands of dressings are made available to patients.

Clean white material is always needed and may be taken to the Michigan Cancer Foundation office on West Lawrence Street or given to any group which sews cancer dressings.

Elderly Can Get Help From Tax Office

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

Each year we have our income tax report made out at a cost of $10—and we don't have to pay anything to the government. It is the same every year, as we get a set income.

MARY FEELEY

My husband is 81 and I'm 67. What I want to know is, do we have to keep on having the report made out? We both take medicines, and are under the doctor's care most of the time, so each year we have about the same amount of medical bills.

I'd like to save that $10 we pay to report our income, if it can be done.

Mrs. M., St. Petersburg, Fla.

Dear Mrs. M.:

Why don't you go to your local Internal Revenue Office for help in filling out your income tax report? Some obliging individual there will do it for free.

As for calling the whole business off—don't. Each year the laws can change, nationally and or locally.

For example, the tax changes made by the 1964 tax law include the provision that many people of your age may find vitally interesting: deductions for medicines and drugs for persons 65 or over can be claimed on full cost, not just the costs in excess of one per cent of the income.

While you may not have to pay any taxes as of now, better not take anything for granted next year!

Dear Mary Feeley:

I am in my mid-twenties and earn $100 per week. My take home pay is $77.72. I would appreciate your arranging a budget for me. I can't seem to save money.

I pay $20 a week board, and the balance goes for clothes, entertainment, etc. I have a rather busy social life and trying to keep up leaves me broke. I would like to buy a car, but I don't know how I can pay for it.

Married friends with children make ends meet on the same salary, but I can't. I would appreciate your advice.

J.S., Richmond Hill, N.Y.

Dear J.S.:

Your married friends living on $77 a week long ago gave up anything expensive after 6 p.m.

I'll allow you a $20 bill for the week's high life, but even that's a bit more than your income justifies.

And it doesn't include the cost of a car. It's not only the payments, remember, it's the upkeep of a car you have to plan for.

BUDGET

Consider the following weekly budget, unexciting as it may seem at first glance: Room and board, $20; clothing, including upkeep, $10 (making a good impression in business is a good investment); savings, $10; personal allowance, $10 (reading matter, haircuts, lunches); miscellaneous, $7 (gifts, contributions, etc.); recreation, $20. Total, $77.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I wonder if you can advise me regarding stocks which I purchased five years ago. For a while these stocks were listed with others, but I haven't seen them mentioned for some time now. Does this mean they have depreciated too much to be listed?

S.G., Brookhaven, L.I.

Dear S.G.:

Not necessarily. It could be that they are simply holding their own, but haven't created much interest among buyers. You can contact a reliable stockbroker to find out their present status.

(You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions of widest interest will be answered in her column.)

The engagement is announced of Nora Jane Mouser, daughter of Mrs. Walter Millage of West Brooklyn Avenue and Woodrow Mouser of West Ruth Avenue, to James Robert Kurkowski, son of the Frank Kurkowskis of Troy. A mid-October altar date is set.

Michigan Cooks See Recipes in New Book

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Leaders of women's clubs throughout the state have contributed their favorite food ideas, many of which are being published for the first time.

You may get a copy of this book by sending $2.30 to Favorite Recipes Press, Inc., P.O. Box 3396, Montgomery, Ala.

Mrs. Tiberg not only works for the Michigan State University extension department, but is active in a study group of this organization.

Here is her recipe for chicken fixed in Pacific style.

HAWAIIAN CHICKEN
By Mrs. William J. Tiberg

½ cup barbecue sauce
½ cup orange juice
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons salad oil
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
4 cups cooked chicken, diced
1 can pineapple tidbits, drained
1 can sliced water chestnuts
1 teaspoon candied ginger, chopped
Cooked rice
Roasted diced almonds

Check Your Weight

Don't Blame Menopause

By GEORGE W. CRANE, PH. D., M. D.

CASE U-473: Clara G., aged 39, is moody and despondent.

"So I sit around the house by the hour and cry my eyes out.

"My husband then gets cross and scolds me, so that makes me feel even worse.

"Am I just having the 'change of life' a little earlier than usual?

"What can I do to throw off these fits of the blues?"

So get going!

Make an agenda of your daily duties so you can increase your output of household chores.

Then, if you have surplus time, develop some hobbies to occupy your salvaged time.

But Clara is like millions of women who have added too much poundage since their wedding day.

"Clara," I replied, "you can't feel like a sports roadster with the chassis of a truck!"

BLUNTNESS

Obviously, that was blunt and shocking, but when we doctors are dealing with weeping patients who are almost hysterical, a shock may often snap them out of their self-pity.

"You probably were slender and quite pretty when you were a bride, weren't you?" I added.

"How much did you weigh then?"

And she admitted that she boasted a weight of only 118 at that time, which means she has added an extra 50 pounds.

★ ★ ★

It is thus nostalgia (homesickness) for our teen-age thrills that causes much of the upset in women (and men) after the age of 40.

But we can still feel young and also look more like a teen-ager if we just restore our bodily chassis to its youthful streamlined shape.

For the sexual menopause should not prevent a woman from being a thrilling and thrillable wife, so will you women PLEASE face up to reality?

GONE TO WAIST?

★ ★ ★

For when a woman's waistline equals her bust measurement, she has the appearance of a good old motherly soul but not that of a siren!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Duchess of Windsor Pattern

The real strength behind the Duchess of Windsor's stature as a fashion leader is her unerring eye for the line that does the most good for the most women, and her faultless taste in editing the news to get the best out of it.

This is the most youthful of her designs because it is a middy and because of the box-pleated skirt that swings with you.

SLEEVELESS

Make the sleeveless style for your winter vacation (note how it caps the shoulders in the new way) and later with sleeves for your Easter costume. The collar and vest made double for guaranteed opaqueness and the vest is anchored at the waist in back for security reasons!

Navy and dark grey flannel will be back this spring, so consider this. Any lightweight wool or a wild noisy tweed is good too. A silk print collar and vest with heavy linen would be smart.

Raw silk in two colors is another notable combination. Spadea's exclusive ready to-wear sizes produce a better fit. See chart for size best for you.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips	*Length
12	35	25	36	16¾"
14	36½	26½	37½	17"
16	38	28	39	17¼"
18	40	30	41	17½"

*From Nape of Neck to Waist

From Nape of Neck to Waist Size 12 requires 3 yards of 54" fabric for two-uiece Dress (with sleeves) and 1¼ yards of 36" fabric for contrast. To order Pattern No. 57, state size; send $2.00.

Pattern Books No. 23, No. 24, No. 25, No. 26, No. 27, No. 28 are available for 50 cents each or any 3 for $1.25.

Duchess of Windsor Pattern Book with 55 designs is available for $1.00 or all 7 books for $3.50. Add 10 cents postage for each book.

B'nai Israel Plan Carnival

Keep Extra Paint

When painting your kitchen or other room buy a little extra paint and keep it on hand to touch up chipped corners or other spots, as they occur.

Ask Gals to Work on State Week

An appeal for thousands of women volunteers to take important roles in the 1965 Michigan Week was issued recently by Woodward C. Smith, its general chairman.

Women are wanted on Michigan Week committees in every city, county and town, and on all the state committees. Dates of Michigan Week are May 16-22.

"There seems to be the mistaken idea," said Dr. Smith, vice president of Central Michigan University, "that Michigan Week is a man's world.

"There are many roles that women with their organizational experience, their club backing and their feminine intuitiveness can fill better than men, and I don't know of any roles in Michigan Week that they don't fill just as well as men.

"Business and professional women's groups and in fact women's clubs of all kinds should promote their past officers for top roles in the regional county and community programs."

VOLUNTEER

He asked women to volunteer and urged individuals and organizations to suggest women for committee appointments.

Contacts should be made with regional county and community Michigan Week chairmen.

"The theme of Michigan Week this year is the most challenging one we have had," Dr. Smith continued. "It is 'Michigan — Dynamic in World Progress.' There is much to be done at home and the full potential of the theme, and we need the women of Michigan at work doing it."

Plan for Dropouts Offered in Cooperation With MESC

Waterford Twp. School Board Oks Work-Education Program

Establishment of an experimental work - education program for school dropouts in cooperation with the Michigan Employment Security Commission was authorized last night by the Waterford Township Board of Education.

A total of 13 youngsters will be included in the pilot program which will cost the school district and MESC each $2,600.

Participants will be employed by the school district at various manual and clerical jobs for $20 weekly.

At the same time they will be required to return to the classroom and be enrolled in a diploma program.

The 20-week program will begin next semester. It will be open only to youngsters who have been out of school at least two months.

REJECTS SUGGESTION

In other business last night the board rejected a suggestion from the Waterford Township Board that the School Board give its property on Loon Lake to the recreation department or community schools program.

The lake front property, which was excess land in the parcel purchased by the school district for the Mason Junior High School plant, had been offered for sale to the Township Board a year ago.

★ ★ ★

USE OF ABACUS

He attributed the success of the third graders in part to their use of the abacus in the first two grades.

Also last night the board referred an inquiry from Township Supervisor James Seeterlin about the purchase of school property for a fire station site to its building committee for a recommendation.

Robert Dieball, chairman of a citizens advisory committee on school sites, told the board that the committee's recommended master plan for school sites would be ready in the near future.

★ ★ ★

Dieball said his group had just received projected enrollment figures from the township's planning consultants and would prepare its report when these figures are coorelated with data gathered by the committee.

Teen Burglar Is Sentenced

Three years probation with the first 30 days in the Oakland County Jail was ordered yesterday for a 16 - year - old Pontiac boy who burglarized Lucky Auto Sales, 193 S. Saginaw, on Sept. 21.

★ ★ ★

In sentencing Ralph Guizar, 254 South Boulevard, Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn also ordered him to pay $100 court cost.

★ ★ ★

Guizar pleaded guilty Dec. 10 to breaking into the used car lot office, and then with ignition keys he found there, stole a car from the lot. Juvenile authorities waived jurisdiction.

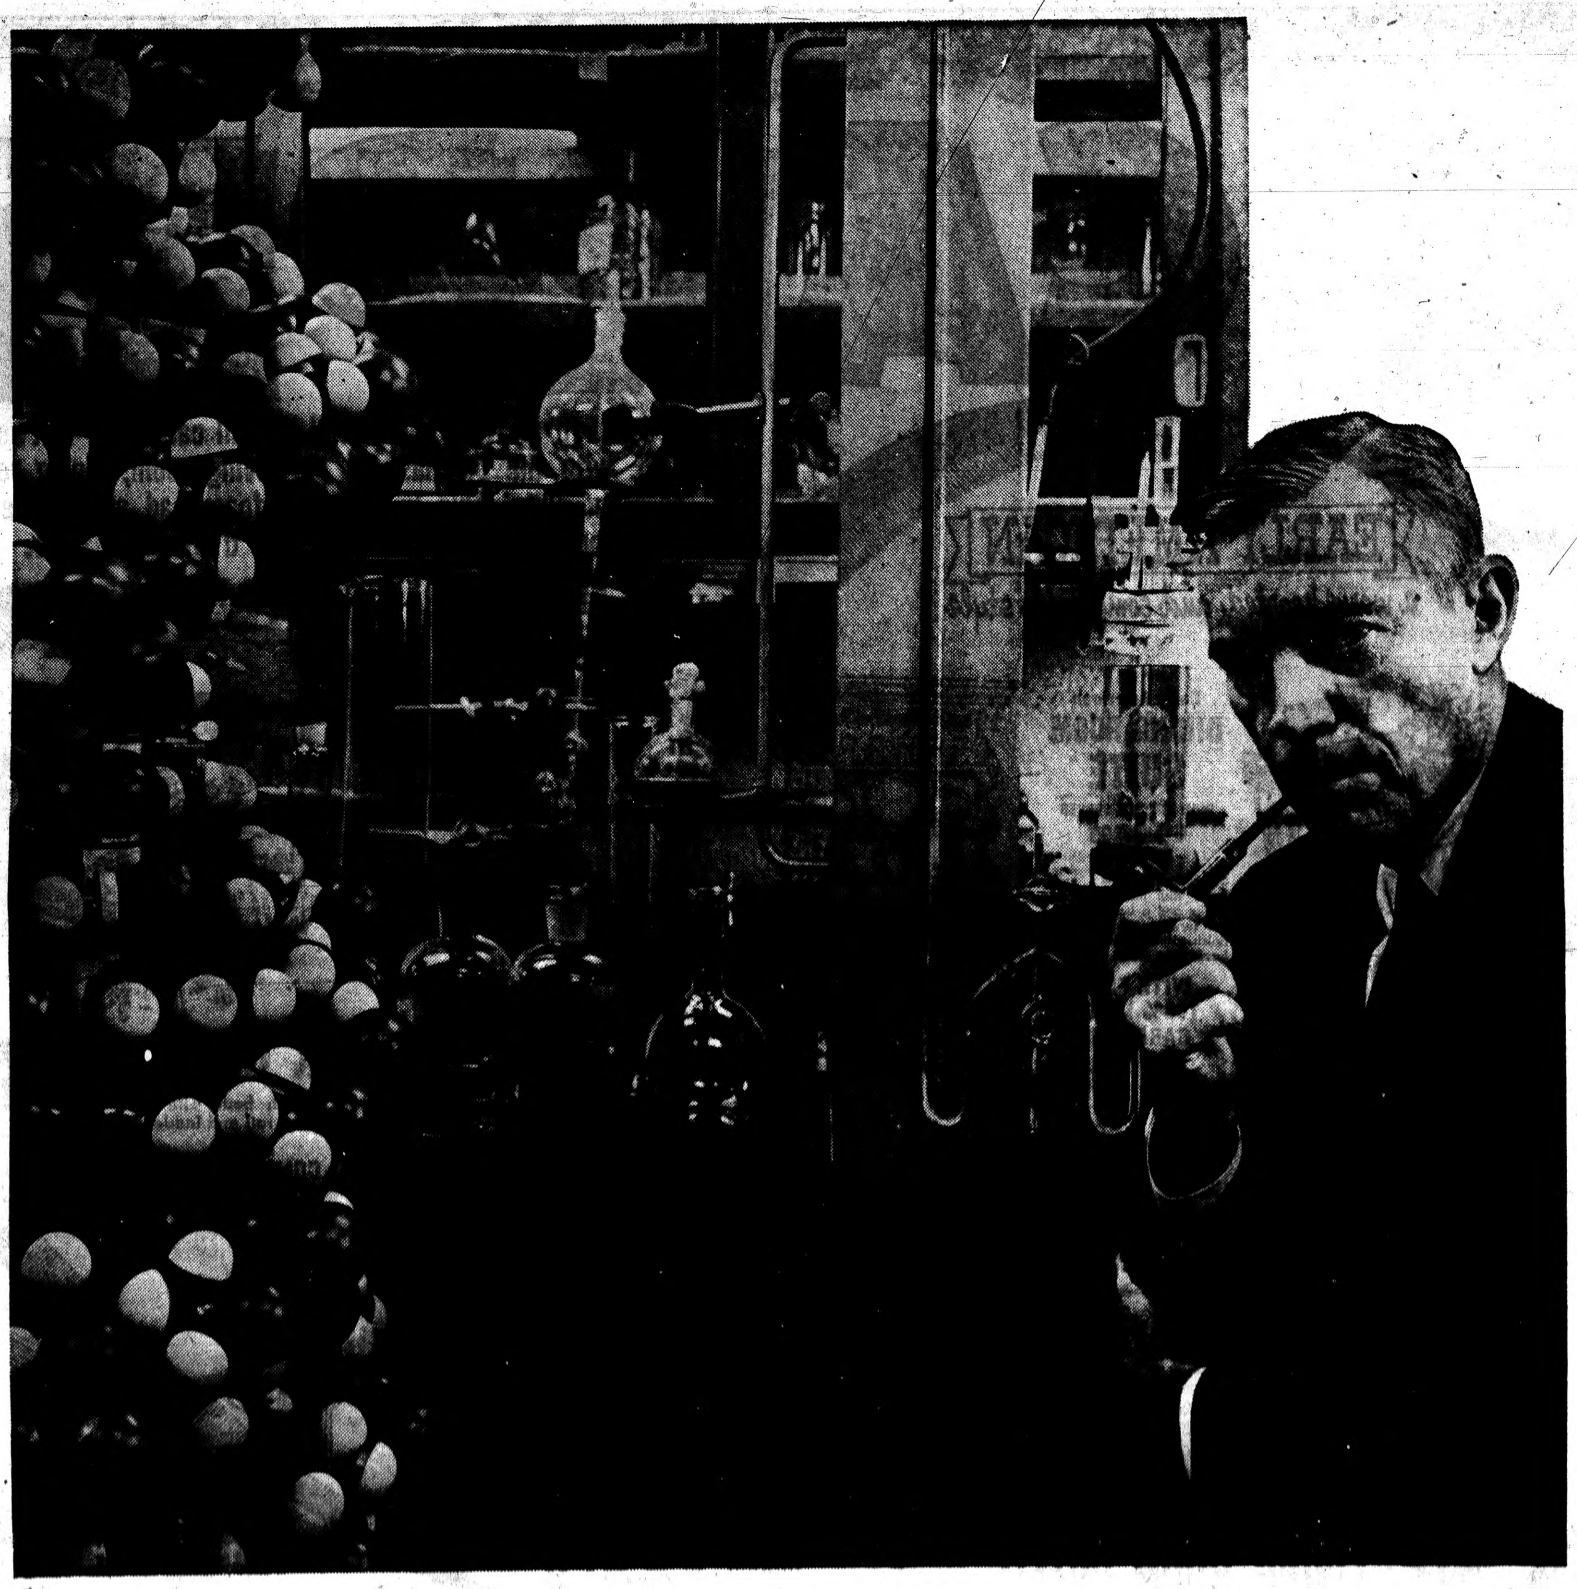
For millions of readers, the shortest distance between the jargon of science and the everyday language of newspapers is Alton Blakeslee



Simply stated, Science is the continuing search for nature's truth. Simply stated, nobody tells it better than Alton Blakeslee. To be an Alton Blakeslee, one would have to be current with all the fields of medicine; up on logic and mathematics; at home with chemistry, physics, astronomy, biology, geology—not to mention psychology, ornithology, entomology, ichthyology, and every other "ology".

As Science and Medical Editor of The Associated Press, Blakeslee regularly attracts the largest newspaper audience in his field. Author of "Your Heart Has Nine Lives" and twice the winner of the coveted Lasker award, Blakeslee has also won most every other science writing award at least once.

Judging by the standards Alton Blakeslee sets for science writers, few indeed can qualify. Yet The Associated Press has five more such men to cover the field of science for you: John Barbour and Frank Carey in the East, Robert Goldenstein in the Midwest, William Harrison and Ralph Dighton in the Far West.

Today when every scientific breakthrough represents important news, you can count on AP specialists like Alton Blakeslee to give you the news simply and clearly in ....

Death Sealed With Plastic

An autopsy ordered after the seals had died showed their stomachs were lined with plastic which had blocked their digestive processes, it was disclosed Thursday.

The plastic was traced to a pool-side cooler where fish wrapped in plastic bags were sold to patrons as zoo food. some of the customers apparently fed the seals the fish still wrapped in the bags. The concession has been closed.

Spain built El Morro Castle at San Juan, Puerto Rico, in 1539, thus commanding the strategic gateway to the Spanish Main.

Program With Birth Curbs Running Smoothly in NY

NEW YORK (AP) — A maternity care program, backed by federal funds and including free birth control aid in low-income neighborhoods, is operating here without any signs of religious friction.

The situation is seen by some specialists in the field as indicating increased interfaith understanding on approaches to birth control.

★ ★ ★

"Areas of agreement are broadening all over the country," a spokesman for the Planned Parenthood Federation of America said Thursday. "The old-fashioned struggles have become the exception."

The city health department disclosed this week that through a federal grant of $1.4 million it has launched five maternity-care clinics in poorer sections, with four others scheduled to be opened soon.

PRENATAL CARE

Along with a comprehensive program of prenatal care, the clinics offer birth control materials and advice, Health Commissioner George James said.

There was no immediate comment on the program from the New York archdiocese of the Roman Catholic Church, which has long condemned artificial means of birth control. New York City's population is 45 per cent Catholic.

However, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Patrick J. Frawley, director of Catholic hospitals in the archdiocese, said he thought "the program in its broad aspects is most acceptable."

"Families should be free to act in accordance with their conscience and convictions," he said.

RHYTHM METHOD

Two Catholic hospitals, St. Vincent's in Manhattan and St. Catherine's in Brooklyn, are supervising two of the program's clinics. Both offer instruction on the rhythm method of birth control, which is acceptable to the Roman Catholic Church.

At the other clinics mothers may obtain birth control pills and contraceptive devices, Commissioner James said.

★ ★ ★

"Our major aim is to offer health services to women living in areas of high maternal and infant mortality," he said.

The areas have high birth rates.

SHARP OBJECTIONS

During former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration, a proposed federal program to promote birth control aid in impoverished foreign countries met sharp Roman Catholic objections.

However, Msgr. Frawley said that move was not comparable to the program here, since it had connotations of virtually imposing artificial contraceptive means on a largely illiterate people.

★ ★ ★

"As long as there is no compulsion, as long as there is freedom for people to plan according to their own consciences and principles, there is no objection," he said.

Interchurch controversies have arisen repeatedly over public policy regarding birth control. Most major Protestant and Jewish bodies condone artificial contraception.

Public health services in an increasing number of communities have started providing family planning clinics or referral services, the Planned Parenthood Federation said.

In 27 states, one or more cities now offer such aid, a spokesman said, adding: "Except in rare instances, these projects don't cause the controversial storms which used to occur."

Sunshine Aids Flood Cleanup

North California Loss Put at $300 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The task of rebuilding flood-battered northern California began in earnest today under bright sunshine and memories of nearly three straight weeks of violent weather.

★ ★ ★

It will not be an easy job cleaning up the $300-million damage suffered in the northwest corner of the state, hardest hit by Christmas week flooding in California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Nevada.

The total loss in the five-state area, where 42 persons were killed, is estimated at $700 million.

The isolation of Humboldt and Del Norte counties in northern California was expected to ease today with installation of an outboard motor-powered pontoon ferry at the site of a washed-out bridge across the Klamath River.

★ ★ ★

The California Highway Patrol began convoying tourists out of Eureka, where they had been stranded since before Christmas.

HIGHWAY OUT

With Highway 101 out, the passenger cars were convoyed over narrow country roads and old stagecoach trails.

The storm took its heaviest toll in the redwood region's lumber industry, which represents more than 70 per cent of the basic industry for the 100,000 persons living in the two counties.

The North Coast Timber Association said more than half the lumber mills in Humboldt County were closed as a result of the floods. Seven of 15 mills in Del Norte County were either closed or operating on a limited basis.

However, the destruction of Highway 101, the main north-south artery in northern California, was the knockout punch for the lumber industry.

MONTHS TO RESTORE

The highway is used for moving logs and lumber to the population areas of California and Oregon. It may take months to restore the shattered bridges and other damage suffered by the raging water.

Jean Arthur Changed Little During Her 11-Year Absence

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Nothing much has changed about Jean Arthur. She still has the same blonde beauty, the same smoky voice. She is still skittish about publicity.

The great star of sophisticated comedies of the '30s and '40s is back before the cameras after an 11-year absence. Her last appearance was in George Stevens' epic Western "Shane," and her return finds her out West again in "Gunsmoke." She is starring in the long-run series as mother of an outlaw.

THOMAS

She appeared for her first "Gunsmoke" scenes wearing blue jeans that displayed her trim figure to advantage. The record books show her to be 56, but that is hard to believe.

With Miss Arthur her work on the set was always uppermost. She remains the same. Between takes she huddled with the director or scampered to her dressing room. A brave reporter caught her in an unguarded moment and welcomed her back to town.

BREAKING RULES

"Thank you, but you're breaking the rules in talking to me," she said, half in jest.

She did pause for a fleeting moment to reflect on the experience of working in television.

"They shoot so fast!" she remarked. "My goodness, we fly from one scene to another. I think it's wonderful. I enjoy doing it and getting on to the next scene."

I mentioned that it wasn't like working with George Stevens, who has been known to shoot 25 takes of one scene. "Yes, but he's so wonderful," she replied, and she inquired about his new film, "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

GOOD COMEDIES

"Gee, I wish he would make some comedies again," she said. "He made such good ones." Among them were "Talk of the Town" and "The More the Merrier," in which Miss Arthur starred.

She said little more, and when a publicity man approached, she took off like a shot.

"The best way I can explain it is that the genes that made her a star became regenerated," said Dukoff. "She has been leading a very happy and full life at Carmel for 11 years."

She first contemplated a return on television with Lucille Ball, an old friend. Dukoff vetoed the idea, arguing that she should first try a dramatic splash.

He also favored a return in the movie technique, rather than Lucille's three-camera method.

★ ★ ★

Dukoff said Miss Arthur is considering a number of projects, including a television series of her own.

AP Photofax

BEFORE CAMERAS AGAIN — Jean Arthur, 56, a star of sophisticated Hollywood comedies of the 30's and 40's who made her last film appearance 11 years ago, talks with Jim Arness, star of TV's "Gunsmoke" during filming of a segment of the series in which she will appear. Jean may become the star of a TV series of her own.

Dispute Over Spanish Galleon

Call Truce in Treasure Battle

FREEPORT, Bahamas (UPI) — The finders of a reputed $9 million sunken treasure and "pirates" who covet the loot have declared a truce here—under persuasion from authorities.

★ ★ ★

"We are stopping all operations on the sea bed," said Bahamas Police Commissioner Nigel Morris, who flew here yesterday from Nassau to deal with the dispute.

"We intend to maintain a police patrol in the area until it is decided which party has the right to operate."

A clash between four men who claim to have found the treasure and six "pirates" was averted Wednesday when police in a launch intervened. Both groups were carrying harpoon guns and knives.

★ ★ ★

The treasure is said to be silver coins in a 17th-century Spanish galleon reportedly used as a bullion ship. The vessel is believed to lie on the bottom about a mile offshore from Freeport.

PIRATE SPEAKS

Roderick Radomsky, one of the "pirates," called the incident unpleasant and unfortunate. One of his men, he said, was attacked in the water and shorn of his face mask.

★ ★ ★

But Radomsky said his group would abide by the authorities' edict to stay away from the site until it was determined who had legal rights to the treasure.

★ ★ ★

The four men who found the ship would not comment on the situation.

Morris said he hoped to clear up the dispute within a week.

New Phone Rate Is Money Saver for State Users

LANSING (AP)—A Bell Telephone System application to the Federal Communications Commission to extend $1 long distance telephone calls will save Michigan residents some $3 million a year, says Peter Snivak, chairman of the State Public Service Commission.

★ ★ ★

The new rate schedule, effective Feb. 1 and April 1, would reduce the cost of three-minute station-to-station calls to $1 all day Sunday and from 8 p.m. to 4:40 a.m. during the week, he said Thursday. Among other changes, it will reduce Saturday calls to $1.50.

Under the present schedule, calls between any two points in the continental United States are $1 for three minutes between 9 p.m. and 4:30 a.m.

Blue Shield Rejects Plan to Restrict Private Firms

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Medical Service (Blue Shield) rejects union proposals that its rate problems be met through new laws providing restrictions on commercial competitors.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Sidney Adler, president of Blue Shield, said Thursday at a state hearing the rates problem must be dealt with "in the framework of the present system of law."

"We do not ask for new legislation to put commercial insurers at a competitive disadvantage," Dr. Adler said.

★ ★ ★

Blue Shield, prepaid medical care, and Blue Cross, prepaid hospital care, are seeking approval of a rate system geared to group experience in preference to the present community-wide system. The State Insurance Commission is conducting hearings on the Blues' proposal.

CHANGE NEEDED

The Blues say they need the change in order to meet competition of private insurers.

The United Auto Workers, opposing the Blues' proposal, has proposed that commercial carriers be required by law to base their rates on the community system like that of the Blues.

★ ★ ★

The UAW also has suggested legislation banning private companies from providing health insurance as a so-called "loss leader"—its sale at a lower rate in order to attract patronage for other types of insurance.

James O'Rourke, vice president of UAW Ford Local 600, testified Thursday the Blues' proposal, if adopted, would "tend to weaken and ultimately destroy" both the health insurance programs.

Noted Psychiatrist Dies

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — Dr. William J. Bleckwenn, noted psychiatrist and medical pioneer in the use of drugs in the treatment of mental illnesses, died Wednesday. Dr. Bleckwenn, who served in both world wars and established the first psychiatric hospital for servicemen, was born in New York.

Woman Dies in Fire

SPRING LAKE (AP) — Mrs. Angeline A. Fiedler, 49, died of suffocation from a fire that apparently started in a clothes dryer Thursday. A daughter, Mary, 23, rescued a niece in the house but was unable to reach Mrs. Fiedler, state police said.

The Yiddish language dates from the 1300s.

★ ★ ★

"It happened before Christmas," said a spokesman for the hotel. "Miss Gardner and Mr. Scott were staying at the hotel at the time.

★ ★ ★

"Mr. Scott apparently went to Miss Gardner's suite. There was a row and hotel employes escorted Mr. Scott from the suite and the hotel."

★ ★ ★

He declined to elaborate, saying, "it's not the sort of thing we want to be expansive about."

★ ★ ★

Police arrested the actor outside the hotel on a charge of drunkenness. He was fined $1.40 the next day.

To Urge New Senators: Tour State Institutions

LANSING (AP)—State Senate leaders plan to urge new senators to tour state institutions, mostly in northern Michigan, during the Jan. 15-26 legislative recess.

★ ★ ★

House majority floor leader J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City, said no such formal program is offered for new members in the House but each House committee may choose whether to use the recess for orientation of new members.

Two Are Appointed to Water Safety Unit

LANSING (AP)—Gov. You build a new home to get exactly what you want

why not get the heating system that gives you exactly what you want

Electric heat is custom heat. There's a thermostat in each room so you can dial the exact warmth you want . . . in the baby's room, the den, the kitchen, every room!

Electric heat is the clean, modern heat. No drafts or cold spots. You get even heat from head to feet. Ideal for your new home.

It's also a good choice as supplemental heat for your present home—to warm up a chilly bedroom or new add-on family room.

The cost? That depends on your particular home. Electric heat may be your most economical heat. It won't cost you a penny to find out. Just call Edison. We'll have one of our heating specialists give you—free—an estimate of operating cost; tell you about the types of equipment available. No obligation, of course.

EDISON

P.S. A lower all-electric rate gives you the savings you want, too!

Saves you as much as 20% on your heating bill if yours is an All-Electric Home. More reason than ever to enjoy modern all-electric living

Satellites Define Space Mystery of Earth's Van Allen Belt Radiation

★ ★ ★

The satellites are the OGO and IMP-B orbited in September and October 1964.

TAKE MEASUREMENTS

Wolfe said Thursday that data from spectrometers and other detectors — taking measurements out to 12 earth diameters or about 95,000 miles — suggest the following picture:

The solar wind — hydrogen and helium nuclei streaming from the sun — hits the earth's magnetic field at about five earth diameters in space. These are low energy particles.

★ ★ ★

The earth's magnetic field dominates the surrounding magnetosphere containing the Van Allen radiation belts of high energy particles. The magnetosphere has the shape of an elongated teardrop, the tail flowing away from the sun at least as far as the moon's orbit, about 240,000 miles.

A turbulent boundary region about 2.5 earth diameters thick is formed on the sun side, broadening to six diameters at right angles to the earth-sun line. Solar particles flow generally around the boundary toward the tail.

HIGH TURBULENCE

The high turbulence of the boundary region turns the low energy solar particles into high energy Van Allen Belt particles, Wolfe suggested, giving them energies up to many thousands of electron volts.

The earth's magnetic field is still too strong for the souped-up solar particles to penetrate directly, Wolfe said, but the field is weak in the distant tail.

★ ★ ★

Wolfe said the satellite instruments indicate it is here, far out on the dark side of the earth, that the high energy particles break through the weak magnetic field lines and move in to feed the radiation belts close to earth.

★ ★ ★

This is a day-to-day mechanism, Wolfe said. The "splash" of extremely high energy cosmic rays colliding with the earth's atmosphere accounts for a small portion of the high energy particles found by satellites, space physicists believe.

SOLAR STORMS

During massive solar storms, high energy particles break through the boundary region to flow almost directly into Van Allen Belts. Frequently the onslaught of particles is so great the belts become overloaded and "dump" in the earth's polar regions, creating the aurora borealis.

Harry 'Cowboy Hat' Gilmer Hired to Ride Herd on Lions

The Lions and millionaire owner William Clay Ford signed Gilmer Thursday to a reported $35,000-a-year contract at a hush-hush, top secret meeting at club headquarters.

Gilmer, lured away from the Minnesota Vikings where he was a top aide to coach Norm Van Brocklin for four years, succeeds the resigned coach George Wilson, victim of the Lions' coaching upheaval last month.

The 38-year-old Alabaman, star of the great Crimson Tide teams of the middle and late 1940s and who set records galore for his era, was grabbed up by the Lions less than three weeks after Wilson's resignation following the firing of all his five assistant coaches.

Ford, of whom fans here were critical for his handling of the pre-Christmas coach removals, said he was happy to get Gilmer.

MADE TENDER

The Lions reportedly received the approval of the Vikings before they made their tender to Gilmer. The clubs were said to have talked together beforehand and the Vikings gave the Lions a go-ahead in their effort.

★ ★ ★

On one score surely the Lions have added to club luster.

Gilmer, a horse lover with a stable of his own, is apt to wear his 10-gallon hat and cowboy boots out in public as well as on the football sidelines where his getup is a familiar sight to NFL fans.

Detroit won't be new to Gilmer. He played quarterback for the Lions in 1955 and 1956. But in those seasons he was in the shade of the illustrious Bobby Layne and seldom saw any action. The Lions traded him to the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1957.

The Lions signed Gilmer in a private session at club headquarters where he talked with Ford, General Manager Edwin J. Anderson, personnel boss Russ Thomas, and Bud Erickson, assistant general manager.

Then Gilmer was hidden away pending a formal introduction at 11 a.m. today to newsmen and before the television cameras.

Ford said Gilmer was the Lions' first choice "from the start" and was the only man to be offered the job. The list of reported possibilties had included at least 20 men.

"All of the recommendations we've heard on Gilmer's coaching ability have pointed to him as the man we wanted," Ford said. "We have all the confidence in the world in Gilmer's coaching and leadership abilities."

At Minneapolis, the Vikings' coach Van Brocklin grudged the loss of Gilmer but also congratulated the Lions and wished Gilmer the best.

★ ★ ★

Van Brocklin said the Lions got a "real guy" and it was a "terrible loss" for the Vikings. He said Gilmer had been "kingpin" in development of the Viking defense. Gilmer was Minnesota's defenseive backfield coach.

"I sure hate to lose him but I sure wish him well," Van Brocklin said.

FOURTH PLACE

The Lions finished fourth in the NFL's Western Division last year after being crippled through much of the campaign by the loss of key players through injury, including passer Earl Morrall.

Wilson, coach for seven years, resigned two days after his five assistants had been fired. Ford said the firings were effected in an effort to get a "fresh coaching start" for the 1965 season.

★ ★ ★

Wilson said on quitting that he could not accept conditions laid down by Ford. Wilson had a year to go on a reported $47,000-a year contract. He and Ford said they reached an understanding.

★ ★ ★

HEADS LIONS—Harry Gilmer, former Detroit quarterback, was named head coach of the Lions yesterday. Gilmer left his post as defensive coach at Minnesota to take the job.

Starred at Alabama

Coach an Ex-Passing Wizard

DETROIT (AP) — Harry Gilmer, new coach of the Detroit Lions, is best remembered as a forward passing wizard with the Alabama Crimson Tide champions of the 1940s.

He was probably the greatest college passer since Sammy Baugh whom he succeeded as quarterback of the Washington Redskins in the National Football League.

★ ★ ★

Gilmer had the misfortune in pro football of coming along on the heels of superstars or in their immediate company.

He never matched Baugh—probably nobody could have done that — and in two seasons with the Detroit Lions he was understudy to the remarkable quarterback Bobby Layne.

WITH LIONS

Gilmer played with Washington through 1954, then spent two years with the Lions, and finished his playing career with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

He spent the last four years as Coach Norm Van Brocklin's top aide with the Minnesota Vikings.

Previously he had been an assistant under Buddy Parker with the Steelers. Their paths had crossed earlier at Detroit. Parker was the Lions coach at the time Gilmer played sub quarterback under Layne.

Gilmer was an all-America halfback at Alabama in 1945. He was named most valuable player of two postseason bowl games.

At Alabama Gilmer completed 219 passes in 412 attempts for 2,894 yards and 23 touchdowns in a career record.

He led Alabama against Duke in the 1945 Sugar Bowl when Duke won 29-26 and against Southern California in the Rose Bowl in 1946 when the Crimson Tide was victor 34-13.

Gilmer is married. He and his wife, Katherine, have four children.

Lions' Choice Surprises Dad

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Harry Gilmer Sr., isn't surprised a professional football team named Harry Jr., as its head coach Thursday. But he's surprised the Detroit Lions did the hiring.

Harry Sr., informed of his son's appointment, said Thursday night the family had believed the former Alabama football star would be hired by the Pittsburgh Steelers.

"We had been expecting him to get a head coaching job, but the job with the Lions is a complete surprise to me," the elder Gilmer said.

The father said his son was in Birmingham Dec. 23, and "while he was here, 'son' said that Parker (Buddy, coach of the Steelers) had gotten in touch with him and asked him if he would take the head coaching job at Pittsburgh if Parker left it."

★ ★ ★

"Harry told him 'I would not consider taking your job, but if you are going to resign, I would take the job,'" Gilmer quoted his son as stating to Parker.

Pro Stars Gather for Annual 'Bowl'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Did those big ends bother you in the championship game?"

The question went to Baltimore's quarterback, Johnny Unitas, in reference to the recent Colt - Cleveland Brown championship game in the National Football League.

★ ★ ★

Baltimore's All-Pro defensive end Gino Marchetti made it official—again. He announced his retirement. Giant Gino made the same announcement at the same social affair a year ago.

HAMBURG BARON

"This time it's different. I don't need the money any more," said Marchetti, who with Alan (The Horse) Ameche, a former teammate, owns a chain of hamburger havens in the Baltimore area.

Defensive end Willie Davis of Green Bay noted that he had been talking with Minnesota's famed scrambling quarterback, Fran Tarkenton, Unitas' alternate Sunday.

"It was the first time I ever saw him up close," cracked Willie.

"How many times did your coach, Dutch Van Brocklin, lose his temper this year, Fran?"

"Oh, none!" said Tarkenton in mock dismay.

Cleveland's Bill Glass was asked his size.

"Six-six, 255," replied Glass.

"And you, Roger Brown of Detroit?"

QUICK DIET

"I thought Jimmy Taylor deserved the trophy. Of course I'm not going to give it to him," said Unitas.

West Coach Don Shula, whose Colts were wrecked by Cleveland's Frank Ryan and Jim Brown in the title game, told his horror story.

"I got on the plane to come out here. I settled back and thought I'd forget football for awhile," Shula related.

"Then they showed a movie on the plane. It was Rio Conchos. You know who was in it? Jimmy Brown.

"It was better seeing him on the screen instead of the football field, though," Shula concluded.

59th NCAA Confab Centers Around 'War'

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association opens its 59th annual convention today, a convention that is expected to center around the bitter war with the Amateur Athletic Union over control of amateur athletics in this country.

Another major item on the agenda is NCAA concern over premature signing of collegiate athletes by professional football leagues.

The convention proper opens Monday, but the vanguard of some 3,000 delegates was on hand for today's opening session, involving registration and meeting of college track and baseball coaches.

Main issues when the 500-plus voting delegates — mostly athletic directors and faculty representatives — get down to business, involve what to do about the eager-beaver pros, the NCAA-AAU feud, and an academic standard for NCAA-sponsored competition.

The way will be cleared for action on the premature pro signing of football collegians at a Sunday session of the Committee on College-Professional Relations.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said the NCAA's program against pros' jumping the gun in signing collegians probably will be aimed at a "reasonable course" of action. Byers said the solution obviously was to convince the pro leagues that player drafts should be conducted after bowl games.

A furore was created before the Gator Bowl game when it was disclosed four Oklahoma players were signed by the pros prior to the Sooners' game with Florida State.

MEETING SET

The Committee on Pro-College Relations, headed by Jim Corbett of Louisiana State, will meet with pro representatives as well as the NCAA's Legislative Committee and the American Football Coaches counterpart committee before drafting any recommendation.

Byers expects strong support of the proposal to put teeth into the NCAA's policy backing the U.S. Track and Field Federation in its four-year-old squabble with the AAU.

The amendment would invoke the same penalties for failure to boycott AAU competition as prevails for NCAA recruiting violations.

Regarding an expected Eastern College Athletic Conference proposal for a federation-AAU coalition, Byers said "This is apart from proposed NCAA legislation and has to be agreed upon by both parties."

Police Escort Is Called for Gordie Howe

Near Riot Prevented After Bruins' Kibbs Is Injured

BOSTON (AP) — Few Boston crowds have been so aroused since the Tea Party. The Red Coat this time was Red Wing Gordie Howe who:

Scored two third-period goals and spoiled a shutout for Bruins' goalie Ed Johnston.

Knocked rookie Bill Knibbs flat with a booming check which brought him a five-minute penalty, got a near-riotous reception, a police escort and an impromptu face full of liquid. It wasn't tea.

After all the turmoil Boston won anyway, 5-2, Thursday night.

The principals shrugged off the affair true to the silent sufferers bone-cracking code of the National Hockey League. But fans were incensed enough that Howe got a police patrol car ride away from Boston Garden even though he didn't want the protection.

Knibbs, whose goal at 1:06 of the opening period got things going, fell heavily and in obvious pain when checked into the boards five minutes before the finish.

BRUISED KNEE

"I kind of knew he was coming," Knibbs said. "But I never thought I'd get hit that hard.

"I got my hands up to protect my head. But I got the knee jammed into the boards. I got hit just as I shot the puck into the Detroit end."

"He should be all right to play Saturday," said Boston coach Milt Schmidt. "Howe," he added with a shrug, "just doesn't realize how strong he is.

"I didn't think I hit the kid that hard," said Howe. "I can hit 10 guys a night like that and they wouldn't get hurt.

"He must have had his feet tangled up.

"I knew he wasn't badly hurt. I could see he had his head protected.

Outside the crowd stirred, then finally began to break.

Knibbs and fellow rookie Wayne Rivers, summoned weeks ago under emergency conditions which never were alleviated, got Boston off to a 2-0 lead. Murray Oliver, Ed Westfall and Tommy Williams followed with goals which built the score to 5-0 before Howe struck.

Cagers Defending Title

Michigan Facing Early Challenge

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Saturday will be a crucial day for Michigan's basketball team and its coach Dave Strack.

The Wolverines will be hosting Illinois at 2 p.m. in ancient Yost Fieldhouse in their first Big Ten test of the season. Michigan and Ohio State are the defending conference champions.

Michigan needs a victory over the Illini to:

—Silence Strack's student critics.

It may seem strange to place so much emphasis on an opening game, especially when that contest is one of 14 league games to be played, but the Illinois game is very significant.

The Illini, with all five starters back from last season, are title contenders and lead the league with a 2-0 record.

Illinois has compiled a 9-2 overall record, with its two defeats coming in St. Louis and Philadelphia when it lost close decisions to St. Louis and St. Joseph's.

This opening-game affair for the Wolverines involves strategy too. The home court is considered an 8-10 point advantage and the Wolverines figure to have a tough time when they invade Champaign-Urbana in February.

★ ★ ★

Thus, a loss Saturday would give the Illini the inside track towards taking both meetings with the Wolverines — something a title-contender can't afford.

Students have been blaming Strack for the team's recent weak play. The Wolverines lost a one-point decision to St. John's of Brooklyn in the finale of the Holiday Festival in New York's Madison Square Garden and just barely nipped Princeton in a previous game.

Michigan will take an 8-2 record into the Illinois meeting, the second loss coming in December at Nebraska.

Strack was hung in effigy two days ago with a sign that read, "With all that talent it must be the COACH!" A loss to Illinois could provoke the students into making additional signs.

Illinois will be led by 6-foot-8 center Skip Thoren, who is averaging 21 points, and guard Tal Brody, hitting at a 17-point clip. Don Freeman, Bogie Redman and Jim Vopicka round out the veteran starting lineup.

★ ★ ★

Michigan will counter with junior guard Cazzie Russell and senior center Bill Buntin. Russell will take a 25.8 scoring average into the game and Buntin a 17.8 mark. Larry Tregoning, with an 8.5 average, John Thompson, averaging 7.7 points, and George Pomey are other starters. Pomey, with a 4.1 average, will be replacing Oliver Darden, sidelined with a sore knee.

Key League Contests Are Slated Tonight

Most of the local high school basketball squads have dates with league opponents tonight.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Central's unbeaten Chiefs (6-0) play host to Flint Northern in a Saginaw Valley Conference contest, and Pontiac Northern (2-3) takes on Walled Lake (3-3) in a game that opens the Inter-Lakes League for both teams.

Another I-L tilt has Waterford's Skippers (2-2) visiting Farmington (3-4).

Pontiac Central, (4-0) in league play, will be trying to protect its one-game lead in the SVC race along with trying to hang onto its No. 2 position among the state's Class A high school teams.

The Chiefs have won 15 of their last 16 games and are favored to pin a defeat on the visiting Flint quintet.

Over in the Wayne-Oakland League, Bloomfield Hills (3-1) will try and cut Holly's (4-1) lead on the Broncos' floor.

Other W-O contests have Milford (1-3) visiting West Bloomfield (2-3), Clarenceville (0-4) at Clarkston (2-2) and Northville (2-5) at Brighton (1-3).

OTHER GAMES

Other games have Avondale (4-1) at Madison (3-1), Fitzgerald (0-5) at Troy (3-1) and Lake Orion (3-2) at Warren Cousino (5-1).

★ ★ ★

St. Michael (6-2) will be bidding for second place in the Northwest Parochial League in a game with Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows (5-1). A St. Michael victory would knock FOLS into third.

Two other Northwest games will find Royal Oak St. Mary (4-3) visiting St. Frederick (3-5), and Waterford Our Lady (1-5) entertaining St. Agatha (1-6).

In Tri-County action, Kettering (2-2) plays host to Oxford (3-3) and Romeo (2-2) has a date at L'Anse Creuse (0-7). League-leading Lapeer (3-2) takes on Mount Morris in a non-league engagement.

New Mexico Showing Strength

Pair of Top Quints Score Victories

By The Associated Press

Ira Harge has graduated. So has Claude Williams and Mike Lucero. Nevertheless the New Mexico Lobos again are in the forefront of college basketball teams.

Coach Bob King's boys from Albuquerque won their 10th straight and upped their record to 11-1 by whipping Arizona State 69-48 Thursday night. At this rate the Lobos may better their 23-6 record of last season when they tied for the Western Athletic Conference championship and finished runner-up to Bradley in the NIT.

Davidson, No. 10 in The Associated Press poll, also made it 10 in a row and 11-1 overall by downing NYU 82-73 in the feature of a doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden.

ANOTHER VICTIM

And fourth-ranked St. Joseph's of Philadelphia similarly made its record 11-1 by crushing Lehigh 85-55 at Bethlehem, Pa. The Hawks and Davidson were the only teams in the AP Top Ten to see action.

Davidson had to come from behind in the second half to beat NYU. The Wildcats, down by 53-47, were rallied by big Fred Hetzel. Held to two points in the first half, Hetzel led an 11-point spurt that put Davidson on top. He finished with 12 points.

Bradley, Utah State and Arizona all came through on the road. Bradley came from 10 points back to edge Tulsa 71-69 helped by Chuck Buescher's 10 points in the clutch.

Albert Johnson's dunk basket with two seconds left gave Arizona a 62-60 overtime triumph over Wyoming. Roy Walker's 20-foot jumper with 17 seconds left gave Utah State an 86-84 victory over Utah.

HEADING SOCCER

Rick Barry, the nation's leading scorer, tossed in 45 points against Jacksonville as the Miami, Fla., Hurricanes overcame a 15-point halftime deficit for an 86-82 victory at Jacksonville.

Jets Now Overly Concerned About $400,000 Investment

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Joe Willie Namath and his $400,000 arm have wrecked a lot of football teams, but they've never caused anybody the worry they will bring the New York Jets during the Senior Bowl game Saturday.

The Jets, who signed the Pennsylvania Hungarian last week in Miami for the grand fee of about $400,000 arent' overjoyed that Namath will be playing in the Senior Bowl since he has a bad knee.

But Jet Coach Weeb Ewbank has given the go-ahead and Namath, who never ceases to amaze anyone and everyone with what he can do with the pigskin, has jumped into the starting spot for the South.

Coach Tom Landry had planned for a week to start Steve Tensi of Florida State, but Namath showed so much in practice, even though playing on a knee that limits his movement, that Landry said he would go with Joe Willie.

BIG INVESTMENT

Ewbank won't be able to make it to the game but he has sent offensive coach Cleve Rush to Mobile to protect the Jets' biggest investment since renting the stadium.

"We'll worry about the knee, sure, but we haven't given anyone any special instruction on what to do with Joe," Rush said. "I'm really just down to enjoy the ball game."

But admit it or not, Rush definitely will be the most nervous spectator among the sellout crowd of 40,605 that will jam the stadium to watch the game.

The Senior Bowl will be televised nationally by the National Broadcasting Co. and will get under way at 1 p.m., CST. The weather forecast calls for showers Saturday morning, but clear skies at game time.

The Senior Bowl marks the professional debut of the players of both teams each year. Members of the winning team will receive $900 each, while the losers will pick up checks for $700.

Before it was announced Thursday by Landry that Namath would start, the oddsmakers installed the South a conservative six-point choice. Namath's status most likely will send the odds up a little more.

The local bowling scene has several events clamoring for attention this week and rather than play up one, here's a compendium of interesting happenings around the area.

Mike Samardzija Jr., Shirley Pointer, George (Chico) Chicovsky and Joe Puertas are packing their bags and checking various flight arrangements to Philadelphia and the National All-Star Bowling Tournament which begins Tuesday.

Actually, Puertas—who is an alternate to the star-studded affair — is leaving for Florida today and will fly back after the weekend to the Pennsylvania seaport.

Samardzija and Chicovsky qualified for the men's tournament. Mrs. Pointer is in the women's field and does not have to be there until later in the week.

Meanwhile, Sunday at 300 Bowl the American Bowling Congress regular division team champion will use the home lanes for a change in an exhibition match.

The 300 Bowl squad has been making frequent trips around the state to bowl in exhibitions and now it will tackle a formidable foe before the home fans. Lakepointe Chrysler — the National Match Game Team champion—from Detroit will be the opposition.

Included in its lineup are Billy Golembiewski, Ed Lubanski, Bob Strampe (the defending National All-Star champion), Don Wray, Hap Adams, Pat Stone and Bob Ulrich. They will bowl the "300" team beginning at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

CLINIC

That day from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. there will be a coach's clinic for those in the American Junior Bowling Congress program conducted by Bob Mason at Dearborn's Holiday Bowl, 6345 Schafer. Gen Bradley, FE 2-5344, has additional information for those interested.

Luther Poindexter reports a sudden upsurge of interest for the Oakland County Senior Citizens League each Wednesday morning at West Side Lanes. Any men and women interested in such an activity can turn out at 10 a. m. or contact him at FE 4-8798.

Members of the Youth Bowling Association will have the chance to beat the National All-Star champion. All local YBA scores next week will be rated under a new handicap system.

The score given each one then will be compared to that bowled by the All-Star champion during the finals Jan. 24th. Those surpassing the champ will receive a special emblem.

★ ★ ★

Local Women's International Bowling Congress members are reminded that entries close Jan. 22nd for this year's tournament at Portland, Ore. Already some 2,600 paid entries have been submitted altogether.

The competition will begin April 8th.

There are still several Bowlerama checks at the 300 Bowl which have not been picked up. Bowlers should call for them this weekend as poor addresses have prevented mailing.

Lindsay Gives NHL a 'First'

Challenging Authority Is New—Campbell

BOSTON (AP) — President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said Thursday night that veteran Detroit left winger Ted Lindsay's original refusal to pay a fine marked "the first time I know of that a challenge to the league authority has been so emphatically made."

★ ★ ★

Campbell put Lindsay under a brief suspension Wednesday when the player said he would not pay a $75 fine.

The 39-year-old Wing apologized, however, paid up and was reinstated by game time in Montreal Wednesday night.

"The only item in the Lindsay case is that he challenged the authority of the league," Campbell said. "No one can play in a league when he challenges its authority. It's as simple as that.

"I ignored what he said about me and the league. It was his challenge by refusing to pay the fine."

IN CONTRACTS

Campbell said the matter is clearly spelled out in each NHL player contract.

Lindsay indicated Thursday night he intends to appeal to the NHL Board of Governors. A fine of less than $200 cannot be appealed except in cases where suspension is involved. Lindsay's suspension totaled something about two hours.

Lions' No. 1 Choice Raps NCAA Rules

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — Fullback Tom Nowatzke of Indiana, the No. 1 draft choice of the Detroit Lions, said today he held no grudges against Indiana University in connection with revocation of his athletic scholarship.

Nowatzke said he was bitter about the National Collegiate Athletic Association rules which forced the school to take action against him and other college players who signed pro contracts.

The Michigan City, Ind., native said Indiana "has been good to me. I wouldn't be here if not for them."

Nowatzke had earlier criticized the rule which led to his athletic scholarship being withdrawn when he signed with the Lions. He suggested a Jan. 1 rule so no player could sign before that date.

Lawrence Tech Downed

Golden Gates Open for '65 Pro Golf Tour

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Open up them golden gates, men, here come the professional golfers in the first of 1965's long and rich schedule of tournaments, the $70,000 Los Angeles Open.

It is the 39th edition of the event which traditionally launches the winter circuit, and carries the largest purse in its history.

★ ★ ★

No. Fellow name of Arnold Palmer.

The Rancho Municipal Golf Club course, par 36-35—71, whose 6,800 yards have been well drenched by recent rains, is the tournament site.

JACK MISSING

Whether the other pros like it or not—and missing are Jack Nicklaus, whose only major win last year was the most money, and Gary Player of South Africa —Palmer is the general pick to pocket the $12,000 winner's purse next Monday.

Palmer thinks it will take 275 to do it this year.

"I know that seems a little low," he said, "especially since Harney won with 280, but you ask what I would take and I say 275."

Later he admitted with a smile that he had a practice round of 66, five under par, at the Los Angeles Country Club's north course, one of the toughest in the nation.

"That was pretty good, I guess," he conceded.

Incidentally, J. C. Goosey, Jim Black and Roger Ginsberg are not fictional golfers by any means. J. C. cut a pleasant figure out here a few years back but unfortunately—for golf writers in particular—J. C. has faded into obscurity and his native hills of Tennessee.

Baltimore Hands Pistons Fifth Consecutive Loss

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — Kevin Loughery scored a career high of 31 points and played an outstanding floor game Thursday night to lead the Baltimore Bullets to a 110-105 win over the Detroit Pistons.

Loughery, who also contributed 10 assists, got eight of his points in the last seven minutes of the final period to help the Bullets erase an eight-point deficit.

Detroit had moved out to an 89-91 advantage on a field goal by Terry Dischinger early in the fourth period.

However, the Bullets got four quick points and began the comeback that saw them win their fourth consecutive game.

The Bullets are now 20-20 on the season and only one-half game behind the second place St. Louis Hawks in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

Waterford 5's Go Overtime in Opener

An overtime scrap highlighted the opening of the basketball season in Waterford's recreation leagues last night.

★ ★ ★

In a National League contest, Wardrobe Cleaners was forced to work overtime to down Ryeson's Market, 45-44. Dave Dodd, who tallied 19 for the winners, collected all five of Wardrobe's points in the extra session.

In National League games, O'Neil Realty trimmed Zilka Heating, 61-53, and Lakeland Pharmacy dumped Six R's Construction, 75-63.

Bill Bryce led O'Neil with 19 markers and teammate Dave Struble added 18. Gary Moran collected 14 for Zilka.

Trims Adrian, 73-64

YPSILANTI (AP) — Eastern Michigan won its fourth basketball game in seven starts Thursday night in defeating Adrian 73-64. It was Adrian's fourth loss against two victories.

Coach Parseghian Gets Grid Reward

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Ara Parseghian, who rose to national fame as Notre Dame football coach in 1964, has received the inevitable fruits of glory from the university.

★ ★ ★

Notre Dame has spiked his four-year contract and given him a five-year pact. Terms were not disclosed by Athletic Director Ed Krause, who made the announcement Thursday. It was not indicated if any other benefits were included. The original pact reportedly called for around $18,000 a year.

The extension came after the 41-year-old Parseghian guided the Irish to a 9-1 football record last year. It was an unexpected and surprising accomplishment that placed Notre Dame back on the top rung after several years of floundering.

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS

MIAMI, Fla. — Irish Gene Robinson, 155, St. Augustine, Fla., outpointed Linnes Johnson, 156, Opa Locka, Fla., 8.

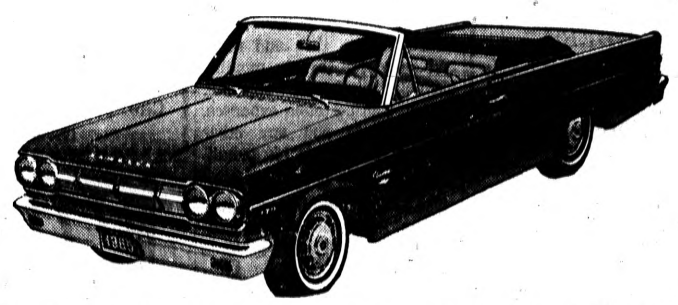
Bill Farrah Tells Why We Give You So Much More Car For So Much Less Money.
"We Have To!



"You see, we're not as big as any one of the Big 3. So we're forced to give you more for less in order to compete with them.

"For instance, only our Ramblers are Deep-Dip Rustproofed all the way up to the roof line. And, that can save you a lot of money and headaches in the kind of Winters we have around here. It means that you'll have a better car to sell when you trade it. On top of that, only Rambler mufflers and exhaust systems are Ceramic Coated. And that saves more money and headaches, means better resale value.

"Car for car our Ramblers cost less to buy than any other U. S. built car and less to operate. Year after year Ramblers have won all the major economy runs. More miles per gallon. And you get a 33,000 mile or 3 year chassis lubrication, 4,000 mile engine oil change and more parts lubed for life.

"Then if it's smart styling you're after, just compare Rambler's smart, racy lines alongside anything else on four wheels. And last but not least, Ramblers are easier to park in tight places, yet there's plenty of room inside for six people.

"That's not the whole Rambler Story by a long shot but it should be enough to make you say, 'I'm going to find out for myself how much more I'll get in a Rambler for so much less. There are a lot of things I can buy with the money I save'."

Problem: Your daughter, whose total support you furnished all year long marries on New Year's Eve. Can you claim her as a $600 dependency credit on your tax return?

★ ★ ★

Answer: Pop, you may be stuck. Since your daughter and her husband were married on the last day of the year they are treated by the tax collector as if they had been married all year long.

This means she may file a joint return with her new husband or be listed as an exemption in his return. Should the newly married couple file in either of these two ways you may not list her as a dependent on your return.

The remedy: Make a deal with your son-in-law. It's perfectly legal. Assuming that your income is higher than your son-in-law's and therefore your tax rate higher, suggest that he file as if he were unmarried.

'Make Tax Deal With Son-In-Law'

In that way you can list your daughter as your dependent. Your savings on this $600 credit, will vary from $96 to $462, depending on whether you are in the 16 per cent or 77 per cent tax bracket. Offer to share your savings with him.

OTHER QUESTIONS

Two other questions concerning dependency occur almost as frequently. This is the first:

"My son graduated from college last June. I paid all his expenses until graduation —tuition, clothes, housing, medical and dental care, spending money.

"After graduation he started to work and earned $1,500 through the end of the year. Can I claim him as a dependent? Can I at least get credit for that first six months?"

★ ★ ★

Answer: You either get full credit or none at all. There is no such thing as getting a dependency credit for part of the year.

STUDENT DEPENDENT

Since your child qualified as a student by having attended college full time for at least five months of the year he may earn more than $600 and you may still claim him as a dependent providing you furnished the chief support.

Now how do you determine just who furnished the chief support? This is the time for work with a pencil and paper.

Put a line through the middle of your sheet of paper running from top to bottom. On one side enter the expense of your contributions to his support.

★ ★ ★

On the other side enter his $1,?00 plus any other earnings he may have had for the year.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Your contributions will have to exceed his before he can be claimed. Start with the cost of tuition, if any, then add room and board for the six months, clothing purchases, spending money, transportation expenses, medical care and any other items of expense in his behalf.

If your total is greater than his, you claim him on your return. If they are not you are out of luck.

The other frequently asked dependency question goes like this:

"My mother lives in my home. She has no income other than her Social Security checks which amounted to $720 last year. She paid me no board. May I claim her as a dependent?"

GROSS INCOME

Answer: Ordinarily anyone who has more than $600 gross income may not be listed as a dependent. (The exceptions are students and your children under 19.) It is true that Social Security is not considered a part of gross income but it is still spendable income.

Therefore the question revolves around who furnished chief support.

Proceed as in the problem above and record the cost of support contributed by each. If your total is greater than your mother's $720 you may claim her as a dependent.

FULL YEAR

Answer: A child born any time during the year—even on Dec. 31—entitles the supporting parents to a full year's $600 dependency credit.

In the case of death the controlling factor is the status at the time of death. If the deceased person was a qualified dependent of the taxpayer until his death, the taxpayer may claim a full year's credit.

Similarly, if a husband or wife dies during the year the surviving spouse may file a joint return and claim a full year's exemption credit for the deceased partner.

★ ★ ★

One final hint: A wife is never considered a dependent for income tax purposes even though she may have had no income. As a spouse she qualifies the taxpayer to the same $600 credit but in many other ways a spouse is given different tax treatment than a dependent.

NEEDN'T FILF

A spouse will pay an income tax on her first dollar of income, whether it be on her own separate return or included with her husband's income on a joint return.

Seventh Governor of Oklahoma Dies

PERRY, Okla. (AP) — Henry Simms Johnston, 97, Oklahoma's seventh governor, who helped organize the state 58 years ago and who was impeached from office during its turbulent days, died suddenly Thursday.

The tall, thin lawyer was elected governor in 1927 and was impeached two years later. Most of his difficulties arose because his secretary had kept legislators away from him at the office.

Johnston called out the National Guard and thwarted some attempts of the legislators to convene in an impeachment session. He was ousted on a charge of general incompetency March 20, 1929. Nine other charges were dropped.

The date 1964 will appear on all coins minted in the United States until the Secretary of the Treasury declares no further coin shortage exists. In June or January after such an official declaration, whichever comes first, the date of the then current year will be used.

'64 Water Mishaps Fatal to 290 in State

EAST LANSING (AP)—Water accidents in 1964 killed 290 persons and injured 228, provisional state police figures showed Thursday. It was the worst water toll since 1959, when 325 persons died.

The 605 accidents topped the 1961 record of 560. Injuries were the most since the 231 of 1961.

The death breakdown read: 144 swimmers; 41 who fell from bridges, banks, docks or piers; 40 boaters, 38 boat passengers, 13 who fell through ice, nine would-be rescuers, three skin or scuba divers and one who fell into a water container.

No Tickets Fixed, Son

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — David J. Keyser recently became Baton Rouge's police chief and said he would not stand for traffic ticket fixing.

City Judge Thomas B. Pugh agreed.

Thursday the police chief's son, David J. Keyser Jr., 22, showed up in traffic court. Keyser pleaded guilty to speeding and received a $10 fine or 5 days in jail.

Possibly Retarded

Slow Learner May Need Special Help

By Dr. Leslie J. Nason, Ed.D.

Dear Dr. Nason: My 14-year-old son is not really trying to do his best in school. The school wanted to put him in a retarded group at another school. Although he is a slow learner, I am sure he is not retarded.

DR. NASON

We placed him in a private school last semester, but this did not help him. He refused to study although he knew it was a sacrifice for us to send him there.

His father constantly reminds him he is a failure and compares him with his brothers and sisters. This has destroyed his self-confidence, and he takes his feelings out on the smaller children.

Are there military schools where he could receive individual attention? Where can I find the right school for him? Mrs. G.W.B., Arlington, Va.

A frank discussion of your son's ability with the school counselor is called for. His learning behavior pegs him as possibly retarded.

If tests show him merely to be a slow learner he is, of course an underachiever. In that case, individual help rather than a special school is indicated.

Dear Dr. Nason: My five-year-old son began kindergarten this September. His teacher insists that he is being stubborn, since he refuses to recite in class.

I feel that it is shyness. Both the boy and myself are high-strung. His father and I dislike talking before a group and are slow to mix at a gathering.

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately, the boy is expected to progress at the same rate of speed as all the other children.

How can I help the boy? Mrs. B.O.J., Elizabeth, N.J.

Shyness often stems from insecurity. Use every opportunity to make your son feel loved and accepted as a worthwhile boy at home.

★ ★ ★

Tell him that regardless of any mistakes he may make in reciting at school, he is still your boy and that everyone makes mistakes.

★ ★ ★

She may be able to get the help of other children in his class. I have known shy children to respond to the urging of their classmates when parents and teachers had given up hope.

By OSWALD JACOBY

Over the last 40 years, I doubt if any bridge player has gotten himself into more trouble in the bidding than my old friend Walter Malowan. I also am sure that no player has successfully worked himself out of more trouble than Walter.

JACOBY

Walter's takeout double of one diamond landed him in trouble when North redoubled and East and South passed. Walter started his escape by bidding one heart and when North went to one spade instead of doubling the heart bid, Walter had escaped once more.

While it is doubtful that this particular North - South pair would have worked their way to four hearts if left alone, the fact is that Walter had definitely stopped them from getting to that sure thing contract and, instead, had jockeyed them into three notrump.

Walter opened the three of clubs. He is old-fashioned and believes in attacking with his longest suit if he has one. East's queen forced South's ace and South promptly led a heart toward dummy's queen.

Walter rose with the king and took stock of the situation. It did not look as if East would show up with any face card except the queen of clubs he had played at trick one, so it was up to Walter to set up two club tricks if he wanted to save the game. Another low-club play would do that if East held the ten, but there was an additional chance. South might hold the singleton ten and East three small.

Rally Falters

Stock Mart Prices Turn Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rally carried part way into its fourth straight session but faltered early this afternoon as prices turned mixed.

Trading ticked along at yesterday's active rate which should put volume around the five-million-share level.

★ ★ ★

Normal profit taking took effect, brokers said, following the week's big upsurge and in view of the approaching weekend.

Gold mining stocks rose on balance in further response to higher prices for gold in the world market and renewed emphasis on the problem of the outflow from U.S. gold holdings.

MODERATE LOSSES

Cigarette stock took a string of moderate losses in anticipation of a new report on smoking and health Monday.

The trend was a little lower among mail order-retail stocks, chemicals and oils, but a number of issues in these groups were unchanged.

★ ★ ★

Steels headed irregularly lower. Motors, electrical equipments, utilities and chemicals were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 327.5 with industrials unchanged, rails up .4 and utilities up .1.

ACTIVE TRADING

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange in active trading. Up a point or better were Old Town, Lease Plan International, Griesedieck Co., O'Okiep Copper, New York & Honduras Rosario Mining, ANelex and Ford of Canada.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Government bonds were unchanged to slightly lower.

Weekend Jail for Road Death

A Pontiac man was sentenced yesterday to spend his weekends in jail for the next year for the traffic death of a young woman last spring.

★ ★ ★

Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore also placed Samuel Washington, 30, on two years probation and ordered him not to drink or drive during that time.

★ ★ ★

Washington, 31 Gillespie, was found guilty by Moore on Dec. 9. He was charged with negligent homicide.

Kathleen E. Modlin, 20, of 1990 Long Pointe, was fatally injured when Washington smashed into her car at Saginaw and Elm on March 15. She died two days later.

Three Nurses Decorated in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Three U.S. Navy nurses wounded in the terrorist bomb explosion at the American officers quarters on Christmas Eve were awarded Purple Hearts today. They were the first American women to receive the award in South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

They were hit by glass fragments and thrown to the floor of their room by the explosion but refused medical help until all 60 wounded servicemen had been treated.

They were Lt. Ruth A. Mason, Goshen, N.Y.; Lt. Ann D. Reynolds, Dover, N.H.; and Lt. Barbara J. Wooster, Laurel, Md.

Another nurse, Lt. Frances Crumpton of Haleyville, Ala., was injured in the explosion and is eligible for the award. She is at Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines undergoing treatment for ear injuries.

Scientists Want to Know Worst

To Blow Up Nuclear Engine

JACKASS FLATS, Nev. (AP) — Scientists hope to demonstrate today to an uneasy public that it can live with radioactive rockets overhead. They will deliberately cause an accident to a new kind of nuclear engine which one day may rocket men to the moon.

A fireball bright as the sun and up to 100 feet in diameter is expected to light the desert when they destroy a 12-foot-long engine that turns out almost as much power as Hoover Dam.

For more than a year 500 technicians have spent much of their time planning the event.

The scientists want to know the worst that could happen — in hopes of quieting public fears they believe are holding up development of nuclear propulsion for spacecraft.

KNOW TODAY

Today, if the weather holds good, they will know just what hazard, if any, would follow if a nuclear rocket fell back on land or sea during launch — or if an earthquake seriously jarred one of this country's 25-nuclear-fueled power plants.

Plans call for the engine, named Kiwi after the flightless New Zealand bird because it was never intended to leave the ground, to be overloaded so badly that it would blow up.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Percival King and Dr. Keith Boyer of the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory, which is running the show on the atomic test site 90 miles northwest of Las Vegas, said nothing like this could ever happen in normal operation of a nuclear engine.

Only a rare accident, they said, could circumvent safety precautions and turn the engine into a runaway reactor.

AN EXCURSION

In unimaginative scientific terms, such a runaway is called an excursion. What it really means is that something happens to release a sudden burst of energy greater than the engine can handle.

King and Boyer said it would be nothing like an atomic bomb, however. Most of the energy will be dissipated as heat — about 8,000 degrees Fahrenheit, close to the temperature of the surface of the sun.

The explosive effect, they said, would be equivalent only to 40 to 100 pounds of TNT, compared with bomb yields measured in thousands of tons.

IT'S POSSIBLE

It was even possible, King said, that not much would happen at all.

In an interview before the test, he said that there might not be an explosion, that the engine could just burn itself up and spew bits of its radioactive core out the nozzle.

Dr. Thomas Shipman, safety director for the test, said: "I think we can prove you can live with reactors virtually in your own back yard or flying overhead."

Another safety expert, Dr. Payne Harris, said the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Atomic Energy Commission, jointly in charge of the nuclear propulsion program, had limited it because of public fear and lack of knowledge.

MEASUREMENTS

He said measurements of radioactivity out to 50 miles from the test stand would be studied to determine precisely the hazard to human and animal life.

Gets New Trial in '20 Murder

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Leroy Dunlap, who lived for 44 years under the threat of a possible death sentence, was granted a new trial today.

Dunlap was convicted of first-degree murder in 1920, and the jury did not recommend mercy —making the death sentence mandatory. But Dunlap never was sentenced — because he was not there.

★ ★ ★

He had escaped while being tried for his part in a holdup slaying. He remained free, part of the time serving in the armed forces under an alias, until his arrest last fall.

Today Common Pleas Court Judge Stephen C. Colopy, ruling on a motion filed by defense attorneys in 1920 and supplemented by a new motion offered last month, granted Dunlap a new trial.

Pontiac Man Sentenced in Fatal Shooting

A Pontiac man was placed on five years probation yesterday for a fatal shooting last summer and ordered to reimburse the victim's family for reasonable funeral and burial expenses.

★ ★ ★

Charles W. Randolph, 51, of 303 E. Wilson, also was ordered to pay $250 court cost by Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore.

Randolph pleaded guilty Dec. 8 to manslaughter in the killing of Raymond C. Draper, 23, of 184 Hughes, on July 18.

★ ★ ★

Randolph, at the time of his arrest, told Pontiac police he had fired in self-defense when Draper forced his way into the car in which he was riding.

Red Chinese Hold Key Parley on Defense

TOKYO (AP) — Communist Chinese President Liu Shao-chi convened a session of the National Defense Council today and delivered "an important speech," Peking's New China News Agency reported.

Lo Jui-ching, chief of the army general staff, delivered a report on the "work of the building up of national defense," the agency said. It gave no details.

Supervisors Oppose New Assessments

The Oakland County Township Supervisors Association has gone on record as being "bitterly opposed" to new property assessment schedules issued recently by the Michigan State Tax Commission.

White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Gheyz, chairman of the association, said assessors are now required to include ovens, rotisseries, ranges, garbage disposals, hooded fans, dishwashers, refrigerators, incinerators and intercom systems on this year's tax rolls.

The new requirements make it necessary to reassess practically every private residence on township and city tax rolls, Cheyz said.

The task will be virtually impossible for supervisors of the more populous townships to accomplish before boards of review convene in March.

★ ★ ★

"The State Tax Commission has gone a bit too far," Cheyz said.

'OUT OF HAND'

"The taxation system in this state is beginning to get out of hand and the people should be made aware of the situation."

In Cheyz's opinion, the new schedule is a thinly disguised method of compensating for tax revenue losses created by the commission's new personal property assessment schedules.

Faster depreciation on industrial machinery and equipment is being allowed this year, causing considerable reduction in state equalized valuation of industrial areas.

"Local assessors will get the blame for increased real property taxes," Cheyz said, "but we have to follow the commission's orders."

OWNERS URGED

He urged property owners to carry their complaints to their state legislators or directly to the tax commission.

★ ★ ★

Springfield Township Supervisor John Carey also expressed dissatisfaction with the commission because of additional tax forms which must be filled out this year for each piece of property on the rolls.

★ ★ ★

Carey said township supervisors will have to hire additional help to comply with the new requirements demanded by the state.

Police Dogs Roam Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI) —. Police dogs patrolled city streets today following two nights of violence during which a law school dean was beaten, a housewife raped and robbed, and a young nursing student shot.

Loot from the three attacks totaled $63.

Early today Michael Pandelos, 29, was pistol-whipped and robbed as he walked along a street on Chicago's north side.

"We are getting the best police protection in Chicago we have ever had," Daley said.

His statement followed two nights of violence climaxed before dawn yesterday when Noble W. Lee, 68, dean of the John Marshall Law School and a member of the Illinois Legislature, was beaten and robbed on an elevated train. About 25 other passengers ignored his cries for help.

Four leashed dogs, each specially trained for police work, were added to regular police patrols near Mount Sinai and County Hospitals. Police Supt. Orlando W. Wilson said the dogs would patrol in shifts from 4 p.m. to 6 a.m. every day.

Strike Spreads to Nine Major Hotels in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Thousands of hotel guests shifted for themselves a good deal today, victims of reduced services in a combined strike and lockout at nine major hotels.

Maids, waitresses, porters, some bartenders and other helpers to the visiting traveler were off the job. About 2,300 were idle.

★ ★ ★

Seven of the nine hotels locked out their workers Thursday after members of the Hotel, Motel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders International Union struck two other hotels.

Pick Architects of Area College

The Oakland Community College Board of Trustees last night approved two firms as architects for the college's campus at I-696 and Orchard Lake Road.

Perkins & Will of Chicago and Giffels & Rosetti of Detroit will prepare the plans for the campus, slated to open to students in September, 1966.

The college board has purchased a 135-acre site in Farmington Township as its third campus. It is to be the first community college campus to require all new buildings.

The college trustees have purchased the Auburn Heights Nike Base as their first campus but will convert the present buildings there.

U.S. Jobless Rate Down in December

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dipped slightly last month, and tied several statistical marks.

It was the second time in 1964 that the rate had stood at 4.9 per cent, the lowest jobless figure in more than four years. In November, the unemployment rate stood at 5 per cent, and in December 1963 it was 5.5 per cent.

December's figure rounded out the rate for the last quarter of 1964 at an even 5 per cent. This was the lowest final quarter since 1957.

Harold Goldstein, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics in the Labor Department, said the civilian labor force totaled 73.8 million with 3.5 million out of work.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has expressed disappointment at Soviet newspaper reaction to President Johnson's State of the Union message.

★ ★ ★

Communist party papers ignored Johnson's invitation to Soviet leaders to visit the United States and sharply criticized other parts of the President's Monday night speech.

U.S. officials had said previously they expected a favorable response from the Kremlin.

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan says "we're going downhill" in South Viet Nam and should take further steps such as sealing the nation's borders and, possibly, "some military action above the border."

Ford, appearing Thursday on the CBS radio interview show "Capital Cloakroom," was asked if he was advocating an attack on Communist North Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

"It may be possible that this would be the net result," he said. "But we can do it on a progressive basis."

He said this meant an initial effort to "seal off the borders—we haven't made a big effort as yet—and if this is not successful, go to the next step."

4-YEAR TOTALS

The Pentagon released a four-year tabulation of U.S. armed forces casualties in South Viet Nam — up to Jan. 4, 1965. It included 356 dead, 1,546 wounded and 19 missing. Of the dead, 246 were killed by the Viet Cong and 110 in aircraft accidents and other incidents unrelated to enemy action."

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of 47 businessmen, reporting Thursday to President Johnson on their talks in the Soviet Union last fall, said the Soviet Union is interested in increasing trade with the United States.

The spokesman for the group, President William Blackie of Caterpillar Tractor, said they observed that "the Soviet Union desires greater trade with the United States" and indicates it is willing to cooperate in removing obstacles such as a long-delayed settlement on its lend-lease debt to the United States.

★ ★ ★

Johnson told the group that "your government is committed to explore ways to increase peaceful trade with the Soviet Union and the countries of Eastern Europe."

Big Demand Pushes Gold Price Upward

LONDON (AP) — A heavy demand for gold on the London bullion market today pushed the price by midday to $35.17 an ounce. This made a total rise of 5 cents in the last four days.

Brokers said the demand represented reaction to the persistent decline in U.S. gold reserves available for foreign payments and President Charles de Gaulle's threat to cash dollars held by France for American gold.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Treasury sells its gold to foreign governments and their national banks at $35 an ounce, plus 8 cents in service charges.

★ ★ ★

The demand for gold was accompanied by renewed selling pressure on the pound sterling in the foreign exchange market. The Bank of England had to step in on the buying side to support the price.

POUND DROPS

The pound fell fractionally below $2.79 Thursday for the first time in five weeks. The British government is pledged to maintain its price at not less than $2.78 nor more than $2.80.

There is a Spaghetti Historical Museum in Ponte dassio, an Italian village near the French border.

'Liz Quitting Citizenship'

Sources Say Action by Actress Is Pending

PARIS (AP) — Screen actress Elizabeth Taylor has attempted to renounce her American citizenship, and highly qualified sources said today the action is pending.

The informants, who refused to be identified by name, said the London-born beauty had planned to adopt British nationality. Her husband, actor Richard Burton, is a British citizen.

The sources said Miss Taylor attempted one formal renunciation during the filming of a new movie in Paris last October but balked at the phrases: "abjure all allegiance and fidelity to the United States," a mandatory part of the oath of renunciation.

This document was transmitted to U.S. Embassy authorities in Paris, but Miss Taylor later was advised that the renunciation was invalid since the phrase to which she objected was deleted.

★ ★ ★

According to the sources, the star said she did not want the phrase included in her renunciation because, while she was renouncing her U.S. citizenship, she still felt the United States had been good to her and she did not want to imply by signing to such language that she bore the United States any ill will.

NO REASON

No further action has been taken in the matter since Miss Taylor's original renunciation was rejected.

★ ★ ★

The actress now is on vacation in Gstaad, Switzerland, and could not be reached for comment. She and her husband are scheduled to travel shortly to Britain, where he is to make a new film.

Stolen Gun Returned About 25 Years Later

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Sgt. Neal Maloney of the Seattle police department, reported to local police that his pawnshop detail had recovered in a downtown Seattle pawnshop a 45-caliber revolver stolen here.

The theft occurred April 21, 1920.

'Castro Uses Fishing Fleet in Smuggling'

There is an acute shortage of such parts in Cuba because of an American embargo.

★ ★ ★

"The fastest boats and those with the biggest holds are used to transport the parts from Mexico," said refugee Orestes Padron, former engineer on a Cuban schooner.

Only the captains and engineers and Castro's guards are permitted to go ashore in Mexico from the Cuban fleet, said Padron.

"Most of the crewmen would defect if they had a chance," Padron said.

Army Photos 'Overexposed'

Top General Orders Cut in Picture-Taking

WASHINGTON (AP) — Too many Army people are spending too much effort taking too many official pictures. What's more, it's costing too much.

That's the view of the Army chief of staff, Gen. Harold K. Johnson. So he has ordered the practice curbed.

★ ★ ★

A little over a month ago Johnson expressed his feelings in a letter to his top commanders around the world, signed "Johnny." The letter has just become available.

★ ★ ★

"In recent years, my concern has grown steadily over the amount of money and effort the Army spends on picture taking," Johnson wrote.

TOO MANY

"There are simply too many official cameras throughout the Army, and too many people are involved with the taking of pictures."

★ ★ ★

Although his letter didn't say so, it was reported that Johnson had been annoyed on returning from inspection trips to find stacks of pictures taken by Army photographers at every stop. The pictures were said to feature the four-star chief of staff and apparently were taken in the hope of pleasing him.

★ ★ ★

If that was the hope, the effect was just the opposite.

"On the matter of coverage of parades, presentation of awards, official parties, and visiting dignitaries, I favor a strict interpretation of AR-108-5 which limits such coverage to 'official requirements,'" Johnson told his commanders.

His Tails Evoke Sad Tale--- They're Out at Inaugural

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Dick Van Dyke thinks LBJ has a nerve not asking people to wear formal clothes to the Inaugural.

"I'd probably feel worse if I'd been invited," he admits.

"But the fact is, just when I buy myself some tails, he tells people not to wear them!"

WILSON

It came about because Dick was on a Danny Kaye show where he had to wear tails. He didn't own tails.

"The wardrobe department fixed me up. I looked like Emmett Kelley in a Mother Hubbard!

"The next day I went out and got tailored for tails. Since that there's not been ONE opportunity to wear them. I'd sort of been hoping about the Inaugural.

"Oh, well, one of our writers is getting married in June He's promised to let me be an usher . . ."

★ ★ ★

I shouldn't tell you this secret stuff, but: They say a famous glamor gal's new beau belts her around fiercely — and she just loves it . . . The once loyal workers of a political candidate are muttering unhappily because they can't get him on the phone to ask, "When do we get paid our salaries and that money for supplies, etc?" . . . A handsome, promising young entertainer is fighting the Battle of the Bottle.

★ ★ ★

Sonny Werblin, pres. of the NY Jets, was the undoubted king of all celebrities at a recent shindig—even overshadowing Yogi Berra—with much to say about his $400,000 beauty, Joe Namath.

★ ★ ★

Lynda Bird Johnson's date at the Mark Twain Riverboat was former White House aide David Lefevre . . . Disk Jock Alan Freed's seriously ill in Palm Springs . . . Singer-trombonist Lillian Briggs'll wed her att'y. Leonard Winograd . . . U. S. exhibitors are bidding for old European films (with nudie scenes) made by beautiful Senta Berger (who made "Major Dundee" here).

Authoress Carson McCullers' report from Harkness Pavilion: "Better by her standards" . . . Duo at Asti's: Montgomery Clift and dancer Patricia McNair . . . Producer Leonard Sillman (whose "Family Way" got lukewarm reviews in Philadelphia) rapped the critics i na big ad: "The out-of-town critics didn't like 'Funny Girl, 'Hello, Dolly!' or 'Any Wednesday.'"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: It's true, of course, gentlemen prefer blondes—especially those who are paying alimony to redheads and brunettes.

EARL'S PEARLS: The trouble with some couples, philosophized an Assembly diner, is that they think it's enough basis for marriage if they save the same trading stamps.

Taffy Tuttle suspects she was served some of that contraband kangaroo meat in a restaurant: "At least, that's the first time I ever say a hamburger with a pouch." . . . That's earl, brother.

People in the News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Faith and some charity extended in hope beat a racial boycott in Cape Town, South Africa.

After only 48 tickets were sold for a concert by British pop singer Adam Faith, he gave away 1,000 of them. The result: A packed house and a rapturous reception last night.

Now Faith hopes that he'll fill the house Saturday at regular prices, 70 and 35 cents.

Authorities had forced Faith to segregate his audience in a theater that traditionally has been open to both whites and Negroes. The Negroes reacted with the boycott. Many wouldn't even take free tickets.

"We like these shows very much," said one of the holdouts. "But we are boycotting this show because we want unrestricted entry to our theater."

King Arrives a Little Late

King Olav of Norway arrived in Tehran today, 24 hours late for his two-week state visit to Iran.

The king was to have arrived yesterday, but his plane was diverted to Beirut because of a snowstorm.

The Shah of Iran, who had waited for his royal guest at the airport yesterday while the king's plane circled Tehran for 65 minutes, was on hand again today, and warmly welcomed Olav.

Gina's in a Suing Mood

Gina Lollobrigida is going to sue United Artists of Hollywood and Mirisch Film, Ltd., of London for $1 million, says a spokesman for the Italian actress.

The spokesman said today the suit is the result of a "contractual controversy" with the two producers over their film "Return From the Ashes," soon to begin production in London. He wouldn't give any details.

Star of India Is Recovered

Fear Indonesia Might Launch All-Out Attack

Suspicion Is Growing Following Malaysian Charges of Buildup

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — President Sukarno's announcement that Indonesia has walked out of the United Nations stirred speculation today that it foreshadows an all-out military attack on Malaysia.

These suspicions at U.N. headquarters were heightened by a letter from Malaysia to the Security Council charging that Indonesia is building up its forces along the Borneo frontier between Malaysia and Indonesia.

The Malaysian government said it would seek U. N. aid at once if Indonesia launches attacks more intensive than the sporadic guerrilla raids it has been making across the Borneo border and the small parties of infiltrators it has been landing on the Malaysian Peninsula.

CAN CRUSH MALAYSIA

"We are strong enough to crush Malaysia, a stooge of neo-colonialism, due to arms aid from the Soviet Union," he said.

The Soviet Union has supplied Indonesia more than $1 billion in arms but deliveries declined in 1964.

The Russians have advised the Indonesians not to quit the United Nations, but Indonesian sources in Moscow said the Soviet Foreign Ministry had informed their embassy the walkout would not affect the Kremlin's policy toward Indonesia.

U.N. officials waited for Sukarno to communicate his walkout announcement in writing. Members of the Indonesian mission said no official instructions had arrived from Jakarta. They indicated that there might not be any written notice.

QUESTIONED OFFICIAL

One official was asked what Sukarno meant when he said in a speech Thursday that Indonesia had "walked out" of the United Nations.

"The Russians walked out once (in 1955), but they did not withdraw," he replied.

In Poll of Key House Committee

Vote on Health Care Backed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most members of the House Ways and Means Committee favor sending the administration's health care plan to the House for a vote, an Associated Press survey showed today. Final House action may come in 60 days.

The 25-member committee for years was the graveyard of health care legislation. But now, the survey found, 15 of the members either definitely or probably favor action to send such a bill to the House for a vote.

The chairman, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said he looks for action on a health plan tied to Social Security in time for a House vote in March.

The proposal also includes a new $1.2-billion system of 32 regional medical complexes to fight heart disease, cancer, stroke and other diseases, contribution to medical and dental school operating funds and scholarships for students in the healing arts.

MOST PRONOUNCED

The dramatic change in prospects for favorable committee action results from two developments.

The Ways and Means Committee was reconstituted with two more Democrats and two fewer Republicans, reflecting the Democratic electoral sweep, so the division now is 17 to 8. Under the former division, 10 Republicans kept a solid front against the proposals.

The other big bonus the health proposal picked up was Mills' agreement in principle with administration plans for financing and administration of the program.

Long the most powerful congressional opponent of Social Security health programs, Mills said the formula ultimately worked out, for administration of the program by Social Security and financing by a payroll tax similar to but separate from the Social Security tax, met his specifications for avoiding danger to the whole Social Security structure.

HOWARD E. HILL

Promises Action on Wide Track

The Pontiac Press this morning, acting Highway Commissioner Howard E. Hill declared that he would dispatch a man immediately from his office to check on the bad traffic regulations on Wide Track Drive.

"Someone from here will call on your city manager this very day," said the commissioner.

"We are anxious to have everything run smoothly and the way the citizens want it. There were some preliminary agreements and if these prove to be ineffective and inefficient, certainly your State Highway Department is eager to get into the problem at once.

"If this condition has been existing for some time, I regret the fact and am anxious to bring about the necessary reforms."

Judges to Study Feasibility of Public Defender System

A study to determine the feasibility of a public defender system in Oakland County will be undertaken by the Oakland County Circuit Court.

Presiding Judge Arthur E. Moore, on the direction of the bench, today appointed a committee of two judges to give "appropriate consideration" to the matter.

"This does not mean that there is any recognition of such a need at this point," said Moore, "but it does indicate that the judges wish to be prepared for any needs that may develop."

Judges Frederick C. Ziem and Philip Pratt were those named by Moore to conduct the study.

"There is involved the question of additional possible expense in the defense of defendants in criminal matters who are indigent and the manner in which such fair and reasonable defense can be provided with as little cost as possible yet adequately protecting the rights of indigents," Moore added.

★ ★ ★

"There are numerous problems involved in such a system. Among these are:

- "The constitutionality of a defender system
- "The cost of this method as compared to the cost of the present system of appointing practicing lawyers in each individual case
- "The possibility that encouragement of appeals may be a problem under the existing court rules."

ANNUAL COST

Moore said that it must be kept in mind that the annual cost of prosecution through the prosecuting attorney's office is presently budgeted at $257,895.

This expense, however, does not include the work of the sheriff's department and the various police forces throughout the county in preparation for criminal trials and the interviewing of witnesses.

"On the other hand," said Moore, "in 1964 defense attorneys were paid a total of only $19,325."

Moore said he selected Ziem and Pratt for the study because they have had the most experience in criminal work. Ziem is a former Oakland County prosecutor and Pratt was an assistant prosecutor.

THOROUGH PROBE

"They will examine the matter thoroughly and give subsequent reports to the circuit judges," said Moore.

Aw, Shucks! Warm Spell Ends Tonight

The area is experiencing the traditional January thaw — the period when Mother Nature tantalizes us with unseasonably warm weather.

But beware! Winter will return again either late tonight or early tomorrow. A low of 36 to 42 is expected this evening.

Although the mercury was to hit a high today of 54 to 62, it is expected to be much colder tomorrow. With the falling temperatures, showers will change to snow flurries. Cloudy skies are forecast.

Sunday will be quite cold with snow flurries also predicted.

Today in Pontiac, winds are southwesterly at 15 to 30 miles an hour. They will be shifting to the north-northwest tonight or tomorrow morning.

LOW READING

The low mercury reading this morning was 44. At 1 p. m. the thermometer recorded a spring-like 58 in downtown Pontiac.

The highest temperature this date since 1872 was also 58, recorded in 1937.

Find Sapphire in Miami Bus Station Locker

N. Y. Detectives Led to Stolen Gems by Anonymous Phone Tip

Shortly afterward, the officers and Allen Dale Kuhn, one of three Miamians accused of the sensational theft of the 563-carat gem from New York's American Museum of Natural History, jumped aboard a New York-bound plane at Miami International Airport.

Information about the Star of India's recovery came from an unofficial but well-informed source, who gave these details:

★ ★ ★

It was reported that the DeLong ruby was not in the locker. This was one of the three most famous gems taken, along with the Midnight Sapphire.

DASHED AWAY

It was learned that the detectives checked into a motel near the University of Miami late Thursday, after a day of hunting for the stolen gems. Kuhn reportedly made a deal to find them in exchange for leniency.

★ ★ ★

The telephone call came shortly after midnight. A voice gave the location of the locker and hung up.

ROTTED BAG

The detectives raced for the bus station and found a bag partly rotted as if it had been buried or exposed to dampness.

A glint of fire shown through the rotting fabric. It was the fabled Star of India. Nestling next to it was the Midnight Sapphire.

It was not learned what other jewels were recovered.

Soviet Spy Suspect Could Face Death

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Glenn Thompson, 29, a husky Air Force veteran, faces a possible death sentence on charges that he sold military secrets to the Soviet Union with the aid of three Russians.

One of the Russians, named as a co-conspirator in the three-count federal indictment yesterday, was ordered expelled from the country by the State Department.

Thompson pleaded innocent at his arraignment on charges that he furnished military data to Soviet agents from 1957-63 and received payments totaling $1,700.

U. S. Atty. Joseph E. Hoey commented that payments listed in the indictment were only samples and that there were many more.

★ ★ ★

Thompson was released in $15,000 bail by U.S. Dist. Judge Walter Bruchhausen in Brooklyn. No trial date was set.

HIS WIFE

His German-born wife, Eveline, 26, whom he married while serving with the Air Force Office of Special Investigation in Berlin, was at the arraignment. They have three children, Patricia, 9, Karen, 6, and Dean, 2.

"I don't believe any of these charges," Mrs. Thompson told newsmen, "My husband would never have done anything like this against his country. He will be cleared."

The indictment alleges that Thompson was involved in an

Health Service Director Picked

Currently Serving in Part-Time Capacity

Dr. Clare Gates, who has been acting as a part-time administrator for the Oakland County Community Health Services Board, today accepted the board's offer of a position as full-time administrative director.

He will begin his official duties sometime in the next 30-45 days at a salary in the $16,000 range.

Dr. Gates, who holds a doctorate in public health from the University of Michigan, has previously been associated with Oakland County in studies of local health needs.

He is presently on the staff of the United Community Services (UCS) of Metropolitan Detroit.

★ ★ ★

His duties will include coordination, interpretation and promotion of policies and plans formulated by the 12-member community health services board under the direction of a psychiatric administrator.

LONG SERVICE

Dr. Gates of 6 Woodland, Pleasant Ridge, has 27 years' experience in the public health field, including seven years with UCS and 20 years in Minneapolis public health administration.

Burch Vows Comeback, but Foes Still Push Ouster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Dean Burch insisted today he can help build a GOP comeback, but his foes claimed the votes to oust him and to put Ray Bliss in his place.

★ ★ ★

"I seek to remain as chairman because this nation needs a two-party system," Burch said in an address prepared for the National Press Club. Only "a political miracle," he said, could have elected a Republican president in 1964.

Bliss, the Ohio State GOP chairman, was silent.

But one top Republican said the forces opposing Burch have the National Committee votes to demand his ouster. This source said they have settled on Bliss as the man to succeed him.

URGES CAUTION

Counseling party unity and cautioning against "the dictates of radicalism in any form," Burch said he wants and intends to remain in the chairmanship for which he was tapped by Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

"I believe I can assist in achieving that unity, in preparing the Republican party, in satisfying the desire of the American people for a society that is great mostly because it remains free," he said.

★ ★ ★

Burch conceded the Republicans made some mistakes during the 1964 campaign. He did not say what they were.

But he added: "The political environment for any Republican presidential contender in the year 1964 could hardly have been worse.

NO REFLECTION

"I reflect on no person, nor engage in the defense of none, when I say that it would have been a political miracle for any contender on our national ticket to have won in such a year," he added.

He said the party can make a comeback.

"I visualize a Republican party with a membership so legion, an appeal so universal, as to insure gains — starting this year and culminating with the presidency in 1968," he said. "That is why I want to remain."

Burch said Tuesday a majority of the National Committee members who will gather in Chicago Jan. 22 are on his side, but he noted the opposition claims the same thing.

SOMEONE'S LYING

"Obviously," he said then, "somebody's lying."

As the showdown drew closer, even some allies of the 37-year-old chairman said the opposition seems to have settled on Bliss, and conceded the moderates opposing Burch may have the votes to command a majority.

Bliss did not support Goldwater during the senator's battle to capture the presidential nomination, but enlisted in his effort after the national convention.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., told a news conference Thursday he will work actively for Burch's ouster. Scott, a former GOP national chairman, mentioned Bliss as a possible Burch successor.

espionage network, obtaining information for the Russians on U.S. military installations, missile sites, code books and intelligence and counterintelligence activities, including the identity of American agents.

SPY OPERATIONS

The spy operations were said to have occurred in East and West Berlin and later on Long Island where Thompson lives, and in New York, Detroit, Washington and Great Falls, Mont.

Thompson, a native of Detroit, operates a service station on Long Island, where he also runs an independent fuel oil business.

He joined the Air Force in 1952, and served in West Berlin, Labrador and several bases in the United States before his discharge in 1958.

★ ★ ★

Thompson's arrest by four FBI agents at noon Thursday, came as hardly a surprise to him.

BEING CHECKED

"Thompson knew he was under investigation, having been questioned as long as a year ago," his attorney, Sidney Siben, told the court.

Despite a court-martial, Thompson remained in a position of trust with the Air Force in Germany.

On Jan. 9, 1957, the FBI said, he was convicted of being unfit for duty because of drunkenness, leaving his post and stealing a revolver.

★ ★ ★

18 Lost Lives in Area Lakes

Twelve persons died in the water while swimming. Three died in boating accidents and three died of other accidental causes.

Eighty - three per cent of the persons who died were under 23 years of age. Ten were teenagers.

★ ★ ★

Four persons died in Kent Lake in Milford Township. Three persons lost their lives in Upper Straits Lake and two died in Cass Lake. Both lakes are in West Bloomfield Township.

Oakland County recorded its first 1964 drowning on March 31 when a boat, containing a 14-year-old boy, capsized in Lake Sherwood.

On Aug. 4, a Detroit boy drowned while swimming in Upper Straits Lake. This was the final drowning recorded in Oakland last year.

★ ★ ★

The county recorded its most unusual water accident July 6 when a 68-year-old Detroit fisherman drowned after his boat was capsized by the wake from a water skier.

Area Resident Says He Saw First Robin

Meg's Visit Rocked by Blast; 7 Arrested

ABBEYLEIX, Ireland (AP) — Police arrested seven men at the end of a 20-mile car chase early today after an explosion that shattered windows in Princess Margaret's Irish holiday mansion.

The blast, from a shorted-out power station, put out the lights of Abbeyleix house where Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowdon, are visiting his brother-in-law and sister, Viscount and Viscountess de Vesci. No one was hurt.

★ ★ ★

Police jumped into action and quickly cornered a group of men in a wood near the house. A gasoline bomb was thrown.

★ ★ ★

ABOUT 16 MEN

Police sources estimated there were about 16 men in the group. They piled into cars and roared off, pursued by squad cars. Some 20 miles farther on, seven men were captured.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The police said saboteurs about 11 p.m. threw a heavy wire across high tension cables near the De Vescis' mansion. The resulting short circuit exploded a transformer unit about three miles from the house. The town of Abbeyleix and the surrounding countryside were blacked out.

★ ★ ★

It all apparently was part of an IRA campaign to make the sister of Queen Elizabeth II feel unwelcome in Ireland.

PRINCESS MARGARET

Earlier the town had been plastered with pamphlets and slogans demanding expulsion of Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon from Ireland "as representatives of an occupying power."

★ ★ ★

Detectives spent the night searching the 12,000-acre De Vesci estate by flashlight. Squads of police guarded every entrance.

★ ★ ★

The royal couple came to Abbeyleix after visiting Snowden's mother, the Countess of Rosse, at Birr Castle.

★ ★ ★

Though officially disbanded three years ago, the IRA is still campaigning to end the partition of Ireland into the republic and the six Ulster counties in the north. The latter are still part of the United Kingdom.

★ ★ ★

Star of India Is Recovered

Early yesterday the quintet disappeared. A search of Kuhn's favorite haunts, and a watch on all New York-bound planes, failed to turn up Kuhn and the detectives.

Several meetings with the custodians of the jewels were set up, the Miami News reported, but they all fizzled, apparently because the fence distrusts a promise of immunity.

★ ★ ★

Another problem was the glare of publicity on Kuhn and two other Miami playboys charged with the spectacular burglary.

MADE A DEAL

Kuhn, a water acrobat, is said to have agreed to this bizarre chase after making a deal with authorities for leniency. No officials in Miami or New York would confirm it.

Pursuit of the star and two other priceless gems, the Delong ruby and the Midnight Sapphire, was carried out in dramatic style.

The driver, Dick Foley, said he picked up Kuhn and three detectives at a hotel and drove four blocks where he was ordered to stop. A fourth detective emerged from the shadows and told Foley they were going to be followed.

LOST CAR

"He asked me if I could lose that car behind us," Foley said. "I said sure — and I lost them."

They met another car, and Kuhn and the detectives got out and drove away. No one spotted them again.

★ ★ ★

In New York, Jack (Murf the Surf) Murphy, 27-year-old water clown, and Roger Clark, a 29-year-old beach boy, spent another night in jail. No one would say whether they were included in the plans for recovering the jewels.

Ex-Pontiac Teen Killed in California

Several New Courses in Education Program

BIRMINGHAM—Several new courses are listed among the 71 to be offered during the winter term of the Birmingham Public Schools' continuing education program.

Those wanting to participate have until Jan. 15 to complete registration at the office of added education in the Board of Education Building, Chester at Martin.

The office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

With a few exceptions, the classes will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. There will be meetings four nights a week in various Birmingham schools starting Jan. 18.

★ ★ ★

New offerings include a course entitled "You Can Help Your Child to Succeed." Scheduled Tuesdays at Seaholm High School, it is geared toward successful academic adjustment.

HOME KNOWLEDGE

A class in up-to-date home maintenance will meet at the same time in the Barnum Junior High School shop. It is designed to familiarize the home owner with everyday household maintenance, limited remodeling and construction.

Several aspects of juvenile delinquency will be explored in a new course to be held Wednesdays at Seaholm.

Other additions to the adult education curriculum include those concerning the family budget, advanced first aid, IBM key punch and IBM data processing.

★ ★ ★

Two liberal arts courses will be offered in cooperation with the University Center for adult education, a joint unit of Wayne State University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University.

TWO CLASSES

Introduction to Humanities II and Evolution of Modern Psychology, both noncredit courses, will be held Mondays at Seaholm.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Roy E. Lindahl, an exhibitor in international salons, will speak at the Monday night meeting of the Bloomfield Hills Camera Club.

Lindahl will show prints and speak on the art of photography at the 8 p.m. public meeting. It will be held at the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Almost Met St. Peter in a Handcar

Rosser, 27, momentarily lost track of the time yesterday morning and it cost him a broken leg. It could have been worse—much worse.

A maintenance man for Grand Trunk Railroad, Rosser was working on track in a handcar about 10 a.m. in Independence Township when he suddenly realized that a train was coming.

★ ★ ★

He pulled his car from the track, catching his trouser leg in the car in the process, and man and car tumbled down the steep embankment near the former Clarkston station at White Lake Road.

BROKEN LEG

★ ★ ★

How did it all happen? Rosser explained to police that he had momentarily lost track of the time of day. The train was on schedule.

Bitter Nikita Lives Comfortably

By HENRY SHAPIRO

★ ★ ★

This can be reported confidently today on the basis of investigations this correspondent has conducted during the past several weeks, and checked with authoritative sources who have proved accurately informed in the past.

The former premier, still vigorous and dynamic at 70 after his official retirement last Oct. 15, has declined a spacious and comfortable apartment the government holds in reserve for him in the exclusive Lenin Hills area of Moscow.

Instead, he apparently has chosen to spend his declining years at the equally comfortable and exclusive country retreat of Usovo, a government dacha set in a pine forest on the Moscow River, 25 miles west of the capital.

★ ★ ★

NO DANGER

Neither Khrushchev nor his friends or family is in any physical danger whatsoever or suffering from the slightest privations they might have endured in the Stalin era when to be purged was to be cruelly punished — or killed.

Khrushchev has, nevertheless, at least temporarily become an "unperson" and his historic reputation may be tarnished.

He has suffered the profound humiliation that only a man who has reached the apex of power can appreciate. He has been condemned to political inactivity and silence.

★ ★ ★

However, if the gregarious Nikita Sergeyvitch has not been prominent in public since his official fall last October, it has been by his own choice.

TURNS DEAF EAR

He has refused to receive foreign Communist delegations which rushed to Moscow in late October seeking explanations for his disgrace.

And he has turned a deaf ear to all requests for interviews, statements and visits by anyone but his closest friends and relatives.

It can be reliably reported that Khrushchev has been granted the maximum special pension now permissible for distinguished Soviet citizens of 300 rubles ($330) a month.

★ ★ ★

$462 A MONTH

The total Khrushchev family allowance of $462 per month would not ordinarily enable them to live in the style to which they had been accustomed for many years. The Khrushchevs are reported to have no savings and few personal possessions.

Khrushchev once observed that "all I, the prime minister of the great Soviet Union, personally own, are the clothes on my back."

But he and his family enjoy prerogatives and privileges that only a handful of persons in this country possess.

★ ★ ★

They have the rent-free use for life of the elaborately furnished Usovo villa, which is serviced by five state-paid employes.

CHAUFFEURED CAR

And the apartment on Lenin Hills is being held for them indefinitely should they tire of country life and choose to return to the capital.

Khrushchev, an expert marksman, is reported to be spending considerable time at his favorite pastime — hunting moose, deer and hare in the woods adjoining the dacha.

The grounds are equipped with hothouses for flowers and vegetables and contain a small farm where Khrushchev raises prize hogs and experiments with hybrid corn with seed sent to him by his American friend, millionaire Iowa farmer Roswell Garst.

★ ★ ★

DEPOSED EDITOR

Like his father - in - law, Adzhubei has come down in the world. But he is reported to be cheerful and doing well as deputy editor of the "USSR" a monthly illustrated magazine.

★ ★ ★

Hays Should Stay Home—Louisiana Governor

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana Gov. John McKeithen says he thinks onetime Arkansas congressman Brooks Hays should stay in his home state, "where they have had twice as much trouble of their own."

Hays, now a presidential aide and professor of government at Rutgers, was scheduled to speak on racial problems Thursday night at Bogalusa, La. The talk was canceled earlier this week by sponsors who feared reprisals by the Ku Klux Klan.

In Little Rock, Hays said he was "surprised that the governor would state publicly that I shold stay out of Louisiana.

"It is the first time in many or would state publicly that I should stay out of Louisiana.

"It is the first time in many years of visiting that great state that I have been told I was not welcome."

He said he would stay out of Louisiana until he was sure he would be welcome.

McKeithen told his news conference Thursday that people were not scared of Ku Klux Klan cross burnings any more, "not even the colored people."

★ ★ ★

Several crosses were burned in Bogalusa after Hays' appearance was announced under the auspices of six prominent citizens who said they hoped Hays, the only layman to ever head the Southern Baptist Convention, could tell Bogalusa people how to avert racial turmoil.

"I was going to counsel with the people, not to enforce the (civil rights) law, but to discuss the moral, religious and economic aspects of the racial problem," Hays said.

"I remind the governor that I did not ask for the engagement at Bogalusa. I accepted the invitation only because the meeting was sponsored by its religious and civic leaders."

Hays said he would be among the first to stand up for the protection of the right of McKeithen if he were scheduled to speak in Arkansas.

★ ★ ★

"The test of one's right to speak does not rest on the soundness of his views," Hays continued. "I would always want him to feel free to say what he believes."

McKeithen won the Democratic nomination for governor a year ago as a segregationist, although he met once with Negro leaders after taking office and has repeatedly called for preservation of law and order.

TRYING TIMES

"We are in trying times in the Southern states," McKeithen said Thursday. "Many people are at fever pitch in this period of transition.

"As long as we can demonstrate our disapproval of civil rights vocally, instead of physically, I think we have done pretty good in this state compared with other states — especially some nearby.

★ ★ ★

"We've had no church burnings, no bodies dragged from rivers, we haven't had to call out the National Guard. I think we're doing awfully well."

State Highway Official to End 26-Year Career

LANSING (AP) — Cecil Rhodes, assistant director of the State Highway Department's research lab, will retire Jan. 23. During his 26-year career he achieved national prominence for work in pavement curing compounds, reflectorized traffic sign paint and other specialty work in highway construction and control.

Seems Disaster Pursues Him

SHADY COVE, Ore. (AP)—One year ago Sig Digree owned the weekly Alaskan newspaper, The Kodiak Mirror, and a home near the southern Oregon town of Shady Cove, located on the Rogue River 20 miles northeast of Medford.

Today the newspaper plant is crumbled, and the home is a muddy ruin.

The Alaska earthquake last March wiped out the newspaper plant where Digree had published since 1935, and the West Coast flood of Christmas week washed away his Shady Cove home.

"It makes you stop and think," Digree said this week. "It's kind of ironical to come 2,000 miles south and get into the same situation all over again."

'Divisive Influence'

Illinois Ministers Hit Birch Expansion

CHICAGO (AP) — Two Chicago-area ministerial associations have entered into open conflict with the John Birch Society, charging that the society's plans to expand operations in the area would have a "divisive influence" and "unnecessarily create tension."

The associations, apparently acting independently, this week issued sharply critical attacks on the conservative society. They are the Homewood-Floosmoor Ministerial Association, which represents nine south suburban areas, and the Glenbrook Ministerial Association in the exclusive North Shore suburb of Glenview. Together the associations have 35 members.

★ ★ ★

Robert J. Koenig, Midwest coordinator for the Birch Society, said the ministers have been given the wrong story about his organization.

"That's our objective — to get through to people to tell them they're getting the wrong story," he said in an interview at the society's new Midwest regional office in Glenview.

ANOTHER LIBRARY

The Birch Society operated two libraries in the Chicago area until last fall, when it opened the Glenview office. Last month plans were announced for another library, this one in Homewood.

Last Sunday, the Homewood-Floosmoor ministers read a statement from their pulpits describing the Birch Society as a "divisive influence" and claiming that it uses "immoral" means to gain extremist ends.

★ ★ ★

The society is a threat to the "basic philosophy of democracy and to orderly government," said the statement.

Three days later the Glenbrook association adopted a similar statement, saying that extremism, "as advocated by Birchism does not comply with our understanding of the Gospel of Jesus Christ."

USUAL COMMENT

"I've had the usual comment," said the Rev. Dr. Kenneth E. Nye of the Glenview Community Church Thursday in an interview.

"A few told me that I ought to stay out of politics and stick with the Gospel," he said. "But my feeling is that the Gospel deals with every facet of everyday life.

"The church as a moral influence in the community has the responsibility to become involved in anything that the community is facing.

"We (the Glenbrook ministers) decided we couldn't ignore the fact that the (Birch) Society came to Glenview. It's a divisive influence which can unnecessarily create tensions among us."

'SOMETIMES DISHONEST'

The Rev. Wendell G. Pew, pastor of the United Christian church and head of the Homewood-Floosmoor association, said his group felt the Birch Society "has been careless and sometimes dishonest in making words say things they did not intend to say."

Birch leader Koenig shrugged off the criticism.

"We're not going to make a big project out of someone's tempest in a teapot," he said.

TV Coverage Asked for Legislative Opening

LANSING (AP — Expecting an overflow crowd, House Democrats have asked that the legislature's opening day ceremonies Wednesday be televised over closed circuits to monitors in Capitol corridors. They asked Michigan State University's station to handle it, since it will be preparing to televise the governor's State of the State message the next day.

Rights Leader to Speak

Cut Your Own Taxes—6

Who Can You Claim as a Dependent?

By RAY De CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Problem: Your daughter, whose total support you furnished all year long marries on New Year's Eve. Can you claim her as a $600 dependency credit on your tax return?

★ ★ ★

Answer: Pop, you may be stuck. Since your daughter and her husband were married on the last day of the year they are treated by the tax collector as if they had been married all year long.

This means she may file a joint return with her new husband or be listed as an exemption in his return. Should the newly married couple file in either of these two ways you may not list her as a dependent on your return.

The remedy: Make a deal with your son-in-law. It's perfectly legal. Assuming that your income is higher than your son-in-law's and therefore your tax rate higher, suggest that he file as if he were unmarried.

In that way you can list your daughter as your dependent. Your savings on this $600 credit, will vary from $96 to $462, depending on whether you are in the 16 per cent or 77 per cent tax bracket. Offer to share your savings with him.

OTHER QUESTIONS

Two other questions concerning dependency occur almost as frequently. This is the first:

"My son graduated from college last June. I paid all his expenses until graduation —tuition, clothes, housing, medical and dental care, spending money.

"After graduation he started to work and earned $1,500 through the end of the year. Can I claim him as a dependent? Can I at least get credit for that first six months?"

★ ★ ★

Answer: You either get full credit or none at all. There is no such thing as getting a dependency credit for part of the year.

STUDENT DEPENDENT

Since your child qualified as a student by having attended college full time for at least five months of the year he may earn more than $600 and you may still claim him as a dependent providing you furnished the chief support.

Now how do you determine just who furnished the chief support? This is the time for work with a pencil and paper.

Put a line through the middle of your sheet of paper running from top to bottom. On one side enter the expense of your contributions to his support.

★ ★ ★

On the other side enter his $1,500 plus any other earnings he may have had for the year.

CONTRIBUTIONS

Your contributions will have to exceed his before he can be claimed. Start with the cost of tuition, if any, then add room and board for the six months, clothing purchases, spending money, transportation expenses, medical care and any other items of expense in his behalf.

If your total is greater than his, you claim him on your return. If they are not you are out of luck.

The other frequently asked dependency question goes like this:

"My mother lives in my home. She has no income other than her Social Security checks which amounted to $720 last year. She paid me no board. May I claim her as a dependent?"

GROSS INCOME

Answer: Ordinarily anyone who has more than $600 gross income may not be listed as a dependent. (The exceptions are students and your children under 19.) It is true that Social Security is not considered a part of gross income but it is still spendable income.

Therefore the question revolves around who furnished chief support.

Proceed as in the problem above and record the cost of support contributed by each. If your total is greater than your mother's $720 you may claim her as a dependent.

FULL YEAR

Answer: A child born any time during the year—even on Dec. 31—entitles the supporting parents to a full year's $600 dependency credit.

In the case of death the controlling factor is the status at the time of death. If the deceased person was a qualified dependent of the taxpayer until his death, the taxpayer may claim a full year's credit.

Similarly, if a husband or wife dies during the year the surviving spouse may file a joint return and claim a full year's exemption credit for the deceased partner.

★ ★ ★

One final hint: A wife is never considered a dependent for income tax purposes even though she may have had no income. As a spouse she qualifies the taxpayer to the same $600 credit but in many other ways a spouse is given different tax treatment than a dependent.

NEEDN'T FILE

A spouse will pay an income tax on her first dollar of income, whether it be on her own separate return or included with her husband's income on a joint return.

'64 Water Mishaps Fatal to 290 in State

EAST LANSING (AP)—Water accidents in 1964 killed 290 persons and injured 228, provisional state police figures showed Thursday. It was the worst water toll since 1959, when 325 persons died.

The 605 accidents topped the 1961 record of 560. Injuries were the most since the 231 of 1961.

The death breakdown read: 144 swimmers; 41 who fell from bridges, banks, docks or piers; 40 boaters, 38 boat passengers, 13 who fell through ice, nine would-be rescuers, three skin or scuba divers and one who fell into a water container.

Seventh Governor of Oklahoma Dies

PERRY, Okla. (AP) — Henry Simms Johnston, 97, Oklahoma's seventh governor, who helped organize the state 58 years ago and who was impeached from office during its turbulent days, died suddenly Thursday.

The tall, thin lawyer was elected governor in 1927 and was impeached two years later. Most of his difficulties arose because his secretary had kept legislators away from him at the office.

Johnston called out the National Guard and thwarted some attempts of the legislators to convene in an impeachment session. He was ousted on a charge of general incompetency March 20, 1929. Nine other charges were dropped.

The date 1964 will appear on all coins minted in the United States until the Secretary of the Treasury declares no further coin shortage exists. In June or January after such an official declaration, whichever comes first, the date of the then current year will be used.

No Tickets Fixed, Son

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — David J. Keyser recently became Baton Rouge's police chief and said he would not stand for traffic ticket fixing.

City Judge Thomas B. Pugh agreed.

Thursday the police chief's son, David J. Keyser Jr., 22, showed up in traffic court. Keyser pleaded guilty to speeding and received a $10 fine or 5 days in jail.

Upside Progress Tougher

Stock Mart Rally Continues

NEW YORK (AP)—The current stock market rally pushed into its fourth straight session early today but the upside progress was getting tougher.

MODERATE GAINS

The gold mining issues gained moderately in view of renewed discussion of the state of the U.S. gold holdings and possible remedies. Campbell Red Lake was up about a point.

Commonwealth Oil, Thursday's most-active issue on takeover rumors, opened unchanged at 10⅝ on 25,000 shares.

★ ★ ★

Eastman Kodak gained 1. Similar gains were posted for Xerox, U.S. Smelting, Control Data and Sunshine Mining.

Opening blocks included: Hertz, up ¼ at 36 on 10,000; General Motors, up ⅛ at 97¾ on 6,600; Xerox, up 1 at 97½ on 6,600.

Prices generally were higher on the American Stock Exchange.
