Babe Zaharias Has Cancer Recurrence

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Babe Didrikson Zaharias has suffered another setback in her battle against cancer.

Her physician, Dr. Robert M. Moore of John Sealy Hospital, said last night her condition "is not so good" and said there was a "slight extension" of the cancer from which she has suffered since 1953.

While serious, it was emphasized her condition was not critical.

At Beaumont a testimonial dinner for Mrs. Zaharias, which had been scheduled for Wednesday night, was canceled.

Dr. Moore said that the cancer extension is at a point where X-ray treatments were applied three months ago and that further X-ray therapy is being given.

Elect Donaldson, Dugan to Lead Commission

4 Incumbents Returned to County Supervisors in First Meeting

William W. Donaldson last night received the unanimous vote of his fellow commissioners to serve as Pontiac's mayor for his second straight two-year term.

By the same unanimous vote, the commissioners elected John A. Dugan to a second term as mayor pro tem as the 1956-1958 City Commission met for their organization meeting in the City Hall.

Following the election of Donaldson and Dugan, the new commission unanimously re-appointed four incumbents as Pontiac representatives on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors. They were: R. C. Cummings, Mrs. Lee Hill, Robert R. Boyer, and Willis Brewer.

They were appointed to a one year term along with the city assessor, director of finance, and city attorney who are on the board as regulated by the city charter.

Before the election of officers last night, City Clerk Ada R. Evans gave the oath of office to the seven commissioners including new Commissioner Gilbert W. Long (District 7).

Mayor Pro-Tem Dugan, 46, of 363 Nelson St., represents District 5 and was re-elected to his second straight term in the April balloting.

He has been an employe of Pontiac Motor Division for 26 years and is on the executive board of Local 653 UAW-CIO. He is married and the father of two children.

The mayor operates an insurance agency in the city and is also serving his fourth term as president of the Pontiac Foundation.

Last week Donaldson was honored to receive a Boy's Clubs of America Golden Anniversary Award for outstanding cultural and civic leadership in Pontiac. He and his wife have two children.

"I'm looking forward to two more years, hoping for the same cooperation the commission experienced during the last two," Donaldson said.

He then spoke for the entire commission to thank City Manager Walter K. Willman and other city officials for the guidance they have offered the commissioners during the past two years.

Supervisors Set June 5 Election

Troy, Birmingham Vote on Annexation Called by County Board

Oakland County Board of Supervisors called a special June 5 election day today for two county communities, and heard reports on the new county courthouse and a possible solution to the county's water problem.

Troy residents will vote on annexing portions of adjoining land not taken in when Troy incorporated, and Birmingham will also be voting on annexing portions of Troy Township.

County building committee chairman Harold K. Schone reported that the supervisors will see preliminary plans and drawings of the new county courthouse at a Tuesday meeting.

Also scheduled for the Tuesday meeting is a vote on forming an Oakland-Macomb County Southeastern Michigan Water Authority, to solve the water problems of the area.

Graham to Lead New York City 'Christ Crusade'

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham has called for a united front of Protestant clergymen in the "Crusade for Christ" he plans to lead in New York City next year.

In a talk at a meeting of 817 local clergymen yesterday, Graham said prayer meetings will be organized in "every major city in the country" and in some overseas cities during the "crusade."

The evangelist said he would lead the crusade for a "minimum of eight weeks

Waterford Girl Finds Grenade Near Mailbox

A 10-year-old Waterford Township girl yesterday afternoon found what looked like an iron pineapple hidden under leaves near her mailbox at 939 Lakeside St.

Holding it by the stem Deborah Burns went to ask her father what it was. On the way, the stem came out, but the little girl deftly caught the "fruit" before it fell and broke.

An ex-Marine, Van Burns, 33, needed just one look. It was a hand-grenade and his daughter had just pulled the pin to set off the explosive.

He hurried his wife, Doris, 33, and three other children, all under five years, out of the house, called Waterford Township police and then left himself.

Officers Elmer Rodgers and John Forbush said the grenade was "live" and could have exploded at any minute. Rodgers placed it in a bucket filled with sand and gravel and took it to Elizabeth Lake in his car trunk.

The two officers, who rowed to the middle of the lake to dump the bucket, said they had not discovered where the grenade came from.

Another grenade mysteriously was found in December, that time by a mailbox near Cass Lake, said Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

5 Recruits Die in Swamp

Marine Sergeant 'Sorry'

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—A Marine sergeant who led 75 recruits into a tidal stream where five drowned and another disappeared said today he ordered the night march "to teach them discipline."

S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon, 31, of Worcester, Mass., would not talk to reporters before a closed inquiry into the Sunday night disaster began at the headquarters building of this Marine recruit depot.

But he issued a statement through his counsel, 1st Lt. Jeremiah Collins of Newark, N.Y.

"The words 'I'm sorry' expressed to the parents can't tell them how I feel because I can't find words to express my grief," said the sergeant's statement.

"My purpose in taking the platoon to the river was to teach them discipline."

Gen. Randolph Pate, marine corps commandant, said at a news conference that McKeon did not have authority for disciplinary matters nor for scheduling such a march.

MARCH 'UNUSUAL'

Gen. Pate said such a march was "most unusual," and it was the first time he had heard of such a thing happening.

Maj. Gen. Joseph C. Burger, commanding general of the base, also said the march was unscheduled.

Gen. Pate said he felt that the Marine Corps could handle the matter without a congressional inquiry. He said he hoped the board would complete its inquiry this week.

The recruits were taken into a swampy marshland bordering this training base. As the official inquiry began some of the survivors related tales of swirling cold water, inky blackness and panic. Meanwhile, the search for the missing man continued.

'I'M SORRY'

McKeon's statement said:

"The words 'I'm sorry' expressed to the parents can't tell them how I feel, because I can't find words to express my grief. My purpose in taking the platoon to the river was to teach them discipline.

"I led them to the water and went in first. I went out a little distance and then traveled parallel to the bank. It is no excuse that I had not been in the area before and did not realize the stream we entered was a tidal stream, or that it was unusually deep for the area.

Pate said before returning to Washington by plane that the purpose of the court of inquiry would be to ascertain whether the sergeant's act was disciplinary against the platoon.

Monaco in Pre-Wedding Tizzy

Royal Honeymoon Plans: Leisurely Italian Cruise

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP)—Prince Rainier II and Grace Kelly will sail on their honeymoon cruise in Italian waters. They will visit the romantic island of Capri, Naples and Rome and perhaps go on to the Greek islands.

A highlight of the trip will be the stop in Rome April 24. A palace source said they would be housed in a villa on the Via Veneto, one of the show streets of the Eternal City. The Italian government and diplomatic corps will turn out for a gala reception.

The next day Rainier and Grace will visit Pope Pius XII. The Vatican will receive them with ceremonies reserved for heads of states.

Afterwards, escorted by the famous Swiss Guards, they will visit St. Peter's Basilica.

Rainier's yacht, the 138-foot Deo Juvante II, has been refurnished for the honeymoon cruise. The Prince and his bride will board it a few hours after their marriage April 19 in Monaco Cathedral.

Grace arrives Thursday aboard the Constitution. The prince will take her and her party aboard his yacht a few hundred yards offshore and bring them into the flag-bordered small harbor of Monte Carlo. Yacht owners were requested to show American and Monaco flags and give one-minute whistle salutes.

Preparations for the wedding in Monte Carlo are reaching the semi-frenzied stage.

Presents are arriving at the palace at the rate of one every five minutes.

City Man Dies in Truck Crash

Harry J. Garrett, 37, Killed North of Flint at Intersection

A truck-car collision took the life of Harry Joseph Garrett, 37, of 51 Mark St., on U.S. 10 north of Flint last night.

Garrett was dead on arrival, at Hurley Hospital, Flint.

The accident occurred at the intersection of U.S. 23 in Thetford Township, Genesee County, according to State Police.

The police report stated Garrett was going south at an excessive rate of speed when he ran into the back of the tractor trailer which was stopped at a red traffic signal.

Robert Coghan, 35, of Akron, Ohio, was the driver of the truck. He was unhurt. There were no passengers in either vehicle.

Dulles Explains Grave Situation for Lawmakers

Dulles met 90 minutes with the Senated and House members he had asked to confer with him.

REVIEWS SITUATION

Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) said when the session broke up that Dulles reviewed the Middle East situation but "no legislative action was requested."

Martin, asked by reporters about a possible request for congressional approval of the use of American forces, replied:

"There was some talk of what might come."

One conferee said the group was informed the Middle Eastern situation is under constant review and American policy is being kept fluid.

If the present attempt to gain peace through the U. N. fails, other alternatives will be tried, he said. There were hints this might be some joint U.S.-British action.

This conferee said the situation is regarded as grave because Israeli leaders are reported to have issued a 48-hour ultimatum now about to expire. He declined to elaborate on the ultimatum.

Police Search for Tot Leads Right Back to . . . Station

Police, next door housewives and a frantic mother joined in a one and one-half hour search yesterday morning, combing a northside neighborhood in the sudden disappearance of a two-year old boy.

Five squad cars pulled up to 151 W. Sheffield Ave., after Mrs. Blanch James, 35, discovered her only child, Danny, was missing from his back yard.

The object of the search, meanwhile, was sitting comfortably in his father's arms at Pontiac Police headquarters.

Versions from Raymond James, 31, his wife and from police produced this account:

Mrs. James had gone to the back door at 10:30 a.m. to check on the boy, who was outside to play in the sun. He was gone, although the yard is fenced in and the gate was closed. She hurriedly called police.

Unknown to his wife, James, an hour earlier, had driven downtown with Danny and a friend. The friend, Wilson W. Wilkinson, of Holland, needed a license to sell shrubbery door-to-door.

Police arrived at the home and heard the mother explain that although Danny might have been able to open the heavy gate, how could he have closed it by himself? Patrolmen set about searching yards.

James parked his car behind po-

10 Million 2-Car Families by '65

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Americans are changing their buying habits. By 1965 at least 10 million families will have two cars in the garage.

This was part of the prediction of a coming U.S. economy made by Stahrl Edmunds, manager of economic studies for Ford Motor Co., at the University of Michigan.

Edmunds told 200 finance company executives at the National Consumer Credit Conference that the auto industry will boost its annual income to 16 billion dollars in the next 10 years.

Ten per cent of the increase, he said, will come because people want more from their cars in the way of accessories and size.

The rest will come from the sale of more cars to an increasing number of U.S. families.

Last year's boom that carried the auto industry to a record 12 billion dollars in income will recede somewhat this year to about 11 billion dollars, which is more normal, Edmunds said.

By 1965, however, he said, 60 per cent more families will make $5,000 or over.

He predicted a rise in two-car families in the light of the increasing economic status of Americans and on a past increase which shows 4.3 million families drive two cars today against 1.5 million in 1950.

Edmunds said that another marriage boom will begin in the next few years. He based this prediction on a sharp increase in the number of people reaching age 22.

Today, Edmunds said, people want more floor area in their homes.

This follows the pattern of increased suburban living, he said, and the general changes it has made in American tastes and expenditures.

* * *

Quoting Department of Commerce figures, Edmunds said Americans today spend more on their homes, traveling and culture than they did in pre-war days.

Among items showing the largest increases over pre-war spending are airline travel, personal business, housing, foreign travel, education, and religious and welfare activity.

Among items of lessening importance by spending rate statistics are radio, TV and musical instruments, food, sports equipment, beauty care, jewelry and watches, spectator amusement and clothing.

He said this indicates that suburban living is leading to more club and social activities in the home.

"Life will be more casual in the next 10 years," Edmunds said.

Board Approves Sanitary System

Waterford Trustees OK Builder's Proposal for Septic Tanks Now

The Waterford Township Board accepted last night the proposal of builder Bert Smokler to install a sanitary system ready for connecting into a future sewer, but using septic tanks until such a sewer is available.

Approval is subject to satisfactory percolation tests for septic tanks the resolution stated.

Smokler is builder of the proposed Highlands Estate Subdivision at Airport road and May.

An injunction was served against him recently by the Crescent Lake Estates Civic Assn. in an effort to prohibit him from constructing a proposed sewage disposal plant on property near the Crescent Lake Subdivision area.

A similar sanitary system proposal made by Ward Ross for Watkins Hills No. 1, a proposed subdivision near Drayton Woods was approved. A disposal plant had been considered on Saginaw Trail to serve the subdivision, but it aroused objection from the Drayton Woods Civic Assn.

The association threatened court proceedings if final approval was given the Saginaw Trail disposal plant.

Predicts Fresh Water Distilled From Ocean

RICHMOND, Calif. (UP) — Fresh water distilled from the ocean, cheap enough and in quantities for use for drinking, industry and irrigation, will be available within 10 years, predicts Dr. Everett D. Howe, of the University of California.

Dr. Howe, director of the university's salt water conversion project at its Richmond field station, made the assertion yesterday to the state Senate Interim Committee on Salt Water Reconversion.

He reported pilot studies on one process indicate fresh water can be produced from sea water for about $100 an acre foot — enough water to cover one acre to a depth of one foot.

The cheapest conversion method so far studied evaporates warm sea water at low pressure and passes it through a turbine to produce power and fresh water.

Howe said the French already have conversion plants with a capacity of 5 million gallons daily.

Ike Veto Seen for Farm Bill

GOP in House Fight for Revisions to Concur With President's Wish

WASHINGTON (UP) —House Republican chiefs searched today for a key to victory in an uphill battle to shape the election year farm bill more to administration liking.

Republican leader Joseph M. Martin Jr. (Mass) predicted a winning formula would be found at a special conference of all House Republicans this afternoon.

But if Congress doesn't revise the bill again to meet administration wishes, Martin said in an interview, "I'm reasonaby sure" President Eisenhower will veto it—and keep Congress in session until it approves another farm measure.

Key Democrats, and some Republicans, have said Congress will not pass any alternate legislation if a veto kills the pending bill. The President can hold Congress in session, but he can only persuade it to pass legislation.

Democrats appeared confident they will muster enough votes to win House approval tomorrow of an omnibus measure which a Senate-House conference committee finished drafting last week on the basis of differing versions passed earlier by the two branches.

After Republican leaders conferred yesterday with Eisenhower, Martin said the President does not believe the measure "meets the test of a good bill."

loosed a third "night of terror" on southern Israeli settlements.

The Israelis claimed 10 settlements were attacked during the night, with one Israeli killed, three wounded and water installations and lines blown up. An army spokesman said one raider was killed and another wounded and captured in the east Judean Hills, close to the Jordan-Israel frontier.

Neutral military experts in Egypt believe Dag Hammarskjold has an 11th-hour chance to save the tottering Arab-Israeli truce if he can persuade both sides to agree to practical border moves.

They estimate that the secretary general's "peace mission" has about a 50-50 chance to succeed.

The military experts said withdrawal of frontline troops 500 meters (547 yards) on each side would be "absolutely essential" to reduce tension.

They pointed out that tension on both sides of the lines had reached such a pitch that the mere sight of enemy troops often resulted in an exchange of fire by trigger-happy defenders.

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (UP)—James Thornton, 17, of Hazel Park, who with two other Hazel Park youths is accused of the Jan. 24 murder of a tavernkeeper near here, today was ordered committed to Lima State Hospital.

Auglaize County Juvenile Judge Thomas A. Danaher made the commitment after a hearing on a delinquency charge.

The youth is scheduled for a 30-day mental and physical observation at Lima.

Thornton, with Bernard Harris, 18, and William Thomas, 20, is being held for the slaying of Charles Stolzenbach, 54, in an attempted holdup at the Hickory Villa Tavern.

President Asks Approval of Military 6-Point Plan

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UP) — President Eisenhower called today for speedy congressional approval of a six-point program to bolster "our power for peace" through attracting more U. S. youth to military careers.

* * *

"Only when we have created a military career service which can compete with the attractive opportunities available in civilian pursuits will we be able to stop the wasteful losses from our armed forces and attract individuals to those services," Eisenhower said in identical letters to Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Rayburn.

WILSON COMMENTS

From his vacation headquarters here, the President also sent along to Congress a letter to him from Secretary of Defense Wilson which said:

"The loss of trained personnel continued to be the most extravagantly expensive and disruptive obstacle to the strengthening of our armed forces today.

"This continuous replacement training process is not only extremely expensive, but it retards the combat effectiveness of our operational units."

* * *

Wilson said raising leadership and experience levels in the armed forces would result in "augmenting further our power for peace over the long haul."

Eisenhower gave Wilson's views hearty endorsement and added:

* * *

"We cannot move too soon in our efforts to increase the number and quality of volunteers for long-term military service in both enlisted and officer ranks."

Wilson noted that in response to earlier appeals by Eisenhower Congress already has taken some steps to attract more career personnel. But the defense secretary said there still is urgent need for fast action by Congress.

'Daddy' Grace Buys Prophet's 'French Castle'

DETROIT (INS) — The Detroit Times said today that Prophet Jones has sold his lavish Detroit home known as the "French Castle" for $50,000.

* * *

The paper said the buyer was Bishop C.M. "Daddy" Grace, leader of a rich and growing religious group in Washington and other eastern cities.

The sale, according to the Times, was concluded through a Detroit attorney with a "John Poag," who turned out to be an elder in Grace's church. Jones apparently was unaware the house was purchased by Grace.

The Times said revenue stamps on the deed when it was recorded yesterday indicated the price paid for the house was $50,000.

Prophet Jones has been talking about selling his house for several months. He reportedly has been in financial difficulties for quite some time.

A morals case also is pending against the Detroit religious leader.

Mrs. Rutsky is the sister of Mrs. Anna V. Thorpe, former manager of the Secretary of State's branch office in St. Clair Shores, Mich.

An audit showed $74,841 missing from the office after Mrs. Thorpe, her husband and nine-year-old daughter disappeared March 2.

Radwill and Mrs. Rutsky are believed to have accompanied the Thorpes to Mexico.

Authorities are continuing their search for the St. Clair Shores family, believed to have fled a Mexico City hotel shortly before police seized the Chicago couple.

lice headquarters and entered with Danny in his arms. The two men were told to apply for the license at city hall. On the way, a policeman nodded cheerfully at the curly-headed youngster.

Detectives were questioning neighbors if any strange cars or unknown loiterers had been seen on Sheffield that morning. Neighbors helped search a nearby woods.

Application filled out, James and his friend went back to the police station, where fingerprints and a photograph were taken. The desk sergeant, who had just ordered another car in the search, gave little Danny a big smile.

A speeding train roared down tracks near the scene of the hunt. Searchers watched it, apprehensivly.

On the way home at noon, James' car was spotted by a patrolman, who radioed the news ahead. The search was called off.

Hurried explanations between husband and wife were interrupted when the object of all the commotion began banging on the kitchen table. Little Danny was half-an-hour late for lunch and he was hungry.

Seeking Retrial of Clifford Dye

Attorney From Fenton Was Found Guilty of Assault Charge

Appeal for a retrial of Clifford B. Dye, former Fenton village attorney convicted March 1 of assault with intent to do great bodily harm, opened yesterday before Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Dye did not appear at the hearing. His attorney, Clarence B. Smith, said he would base the appeal on two points yesterday.

The hearing continued this morning.

Dye, 54, was convicted of the non-fatal shooting of Fenton tenant farmer William C. Clark, 27, last August 26 after a dispute between the two over management of a farm leased by Clark from Dye's sister.

He was sentenced to 2-10 years in Jackson state prison March 19, but a stay of execution was granted pending the hearing on his retrial appeal.

See Diminish of Dust Storms in Southwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dust storms diminished in the southern plains today, the gusty weather moving eastward and bringing rain and snow into the lower and middle Mississippi Valley.

* * *

Snow fell in eastern sections of Kansas and Oklahoma. Falls at Emporia, Kan., measured 1 inch, bringing the total on the ground to 4 inches. Drenching rains doused wide areas of Arkansas, Mississippi, eastern Texas and Missouri.

Clear to partly cloudy skies prevailed in most other parts of the country.

* * *

Cooler air from the north dipped into Texas and temperatures were from below freezing in the Panhandle to the 50s along the coast. Chilly weather continued in most of the Great Lakes region, the plains states and in the east in Pennsylvania, New York and New England.

Showers sprinkled Florida yesterday but falls were light.

Assault Examination Changed to April 25

A further adjournment was announced today in the pre-trial examination of ex-patrolman James B. Sexton, 29, of 686 E. Tennyson Ave., who was scheduled for appearance tomorrow on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

The request came from Sexton's defense lawyer, Clarence Smith, who last month had been granted extra time by Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan to show that Sexton was without malice in the shooting Jan. 27 of two companions, according to Assistant Oakland Prosecutor George F. Taylor. The trial is scheduled to resume April 25.

The people's case had been presented March 8, Taylor said, with both victims appearing as prosecution witesses. They are James R. Stephens, 30, of 208 State St., and Sexton's cousin, Archie McCowen, 24, of 180 Norton Ave.

The breaking and entering of a Royal Oak service station March 26, resulted in a 2½ to 15 years sentence in Jackson State Prison for Donald H. Ritter, 27, of Pontiac.

He was sentenced yesterday by Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Elect James Allen Mayor at Commission Meeting

BIRMINGHAM — James Allen, 37, whose father was this city's first mayor, became mayor himself last night in a unanimous Commission election.

He trades posts with Charles Renfrew, who has been mayor for two years, and who now has been elected to the mayor pro tem post Allen had been mayor pro tem for a year.

The new mayor, who is married and has four children, lives at 1008 West Maple and is an attorney with the Detroit firm of Allen Haass & Selander.

He is the son of Harry Allen, who served several terms as village president before heading the city in its first years of incorporation.

Allen was born in Detroit, graduated from Birmingham High School, and took his B.A. and law training at University of Michigan. He is a Presbyterian.

Renfrew and Carl H. Ingraham began three-year terms on the Commission, to which they were recently elected, in the annual organizational meeting of the City Commission last night.

Four were appointed to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors by the Commission, with Clarence Blenman joining three former supervisors. Blenman had served previously on the board of supervisors, but had been nosed out by seniority when the city's quota was reduced a year ago from five to four. Now, with Elmer Haack automatically giving up his supervisorship when he retired from the assessor's job April 1, Blenman fills the vacancy.

Other supervisors are Mrs. Hope Lewis, David Levinson and Luther Heacock. Their first board meeting is today.

Tie-votes have delayed action on the paving of Eton road. With 30 residents present to share in the construction plans, commissioners never reached a vote last night on the actual motion to improve the road.

Among the several amendments which brought tie-votes was one to revert to the originally planned 41 feet, suggested by some residents rather than allow "shortsightedness" to reduce expenses of construction.

A majority agreed on tabling the matter for two weeks.

An ordinance will be drawn up to govern bus company operations, commissioners ordered last night after hearing cab company officials object to the current plan for "Suburban Shopper" buses in the northeast sector of the city.

Right of the city to approve or disapprove such a business was questioned by some commissioners, so no action was taken on the bus operation plan.

The ordinance, as outlined by Dana Whitman, assistant city manager, after study of ordinances of six other cities, will restrict fees, licensing, and insurance coverage.

A paving plan for Holland Street east of Eton was approved, with a necessity hearing set for April 30. Expenditure of $1,700 for a ball diamond at Eton park, improvement of 14 Mile road, and fire hose and voting machine purchases were all approved.

High Court May Clear Stalemate

Birmingham Action Plan to Nudge Evergreen Interceptor

BIRMINGHAM — The Evergreen interceptor sewer stalemate may be eliminated by a Supreme Court decision, the Birmingham City Commission was told last night.

Commissioners pledged the city's support of immediate proceeding on the sewer, which has a May 1 deadline ordered by the state.

But lest Southfield's status of a township or a city without a charter prevent sale of bonds for the intereceptor's financing, a mandamus action is planned, according to City Manager D. C. Egbert.

The question exists, he says, of whether a township can call a special election such as the one Southfield recently held to approve a millage increase to pay for its share of the sewer.

A Supreme Court decision on the question would clear the way for bond sales. To secure this, the Water Resources Commission is being asked to take a mandamus action against Southfield requiring it to abate pollution, and this action would require the high court decision.

Robber Labeled as Dangerous

Parole Violator From Alcatraz Is Sought in Flint Bank Case

FLINT (UP) — A parol violator from Alcatraz Prison, described as "very dangerous," was sought today as the third man in Flint's $62,204 bank robbery.

* * *

Police identified the fugitive as William Radtke, 45. He was believed to be carrying a snub-nosed nickel plated .38 revolver and police said he "will not be taken alive."

The Citizens Commercial and Savings Branch Bank in Flint was robbed Friday.

Two men, wanted for the holdup, were captured here Saturday in a shooting chase after they were flushed from an apartment building. They were identified as John Alkes, 30, and George Ballin, 45, both of Chicago. Both are held on federal warrants. The loot was recovered.

* * *

A third man got away. He was believed to have holed up in the city over the weekend and then to have fled yesterday in a 1955 gray and green Buick that was stolen from a bump shop three blocks from where the two men were captured.

The Buick was reported to have been abandoned last night on M78 west of Lansing.

Radtke was described as 5-feet-11, weight 160 pounds, medium complexion and slim build.

Junior Editor Suggestion Wins Pontiac Girl $10

Eleven-year-old Charlotte Hutchcraft, 152 N. Merrimac St., was a surprised and happy girl when she received a check for $10 and the news that one of her suggestions was accepted by Junior Editors series in The Pontiac Press.

The Press will carry Charlotte's suggestion entitled "Anneke Carries Water Home" in tomorrow's paper. She said her idea came from a previous Junior Editor's entry.

A sixth grade pupil at Hawthorne School, Charlotte says she enjoys the series and does the coloring often. She says she hasn't sent in any more ideas but now might consider it.

Detroiter Sentenced

Just Pamper Your Hypothalamus

Weight Woes?-Read This

DALLAS (AP)—To control your weight, stop counting calories and take care of your hypothalamus, an authority on nutrition suggested today.

* * *

Regular exercise and wise choice of all nourishing foods are ways to do it, said Prof. Roger J. Williams, University of Texas biochemist, and president-elect of the American Chemical Society.

Your hypothalamus — hype for short — is a vital area of the brain which is apparently one seat of "bodily wisdom" and automatic control mechanisms. The mechanism controlling appetite is probably located there, Dr. Williams said.

* * *

Some scientists also find evidence your hype area is a switchboard of the emotions, translating ideas and emotions into physical effects through nerves and hormones. This complex area may also be the part of the brain that controls sleep wakefulness.

Dr. Williams told of finding new evidence indicating that if the hypothalamus area is well-nourished in every way, then your mechanism controlling appetite will work properly.

* * *

The bodily wisdoms include control mechanism over temperature, breathing, composition of the blood and "the wisdom to eat or stop eating," he told the ACS' division of agricultural and food chemistry.

The appetite control is so remarkably precise that it is not unusual for a middle-aged man to gain only 20 pounds very gradually between ages 35 and 55, never counting a single calorie, he said.

This man might eat 20 tons of food in that time, but burn up 99.85 per cent of it.

If he gained only 4 pounds in 20 years, he would have burned up or discarded 99.99 per cent of all the food.

* * *

But if his appetite control mechanism was not so efficient, and he burned up only 99.8 per cent, he would gain 80 pounds.

Regular exercise increases this bodily wisdom of appetite control, Dr. Williams said, citing studies by Dr. Jean Mayer of Harvard University.

The human body can also become foolish about eating, said Dr. Williams, discoverer of the B vitamin, pantothenic acid, which promotes growth. Examples are the child with a sweet tooth whose sugar consumption crowds out the vitamins, minerals and proteins he needs, and the adult whose craving alcohol lets alcohol substitute for food.

* * *

He indicated the well-nourished hypothalamus could avoid or help overcome the cravings.

Arabs Ambush French; 140 Die

Central Algeria Battle Broken by Helicopter Reinforcements

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—A battle touched off by an Arab rebel ambush of two truckloads of young French conscripts cost the lives of at least 140 men, French authorities reported today.

* * *

Delayed reports from east-central Algeria said the rebels caught the conscripts 2½ miles from their post at Djuerf Thursday morning.

The initial outburst of gunfire in the arid mountainous region sounded the alarm and the Djuerf headquarters rushed reinforcements by helicopter. The fight blazed for three hours before the French troops broke out of the ambush.

FADE INTO HILLS

Authorities reported 20 French soldiers killed and 30 wounded. They said French troops found the bodies of 60 rebels and estimated that the Moslems carried off another 60 dead when they faded into the desert hills.

Five helicopters were reported damaged. A sixth overturned on landing.

* * *

The French pressed their campaign against rebel bands in widespread sections of the North African territory.

CATHOLIC PRIEST KILLED

They reported 28 rebels killed in the Constantine and Bone regions and 14 rebels killed in the Oran area of western Algeria. The mop-up around Oran was carried out after the murders of a Catholic priest and a French prospector. Two hundred rebel suspects were arrested at Khemis in the Oran area.

* * *

In Paris, Premier Guy Mollet announced his support of Algeria Resident Minister Robert Lacoste's call for 200,000 more French troops.

The request will be discussed at a Cabinet meeting tomorrow.

France already has more than 200,000 soldiers in Algeria. Lacoste is pushing twin military and political campaigns to quell the 16-month rebellion and institute reforms. The rebellion has cost the lives of 5,724 French and Moslems by official estimate and more than twice that toll by unofficial count.

Senate to Fight on Civil Rights

'Strictly Political Bill,' Retort Dems to New Eisenhower Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern Democrats signalled a Senate fight today against a new Eisenhower administration civil rights program whose handling also brought objections from some backers of such bills.

* * *

"It looks as though they are putting it strictly into politics," complained Rep. Barrett O'Hara (D-Ill), who contended the Justice Department had broken repeated pledges to talk over the program with interested House members before presenting it.

POLITICAL PROGRAM

O'Hara is a member of an official bipartisan steering committee for civil rights legislation. This group claims to act for 40 to 50 House members of both parties.

* * *

Sen. Hill (D-Ala) said Atty. Gen. Brownell's recommendations add up to "a political program proposed in an election year."

'I SHALL OPPOSE IT'

"The program deals with problems that can be solved only by the states and local communities," Hill added, "I shall oppose it vigorously."

* * *

One surprise in the program Brownell sent to the Capitol yesterday was for a law under which citizens who felt their civil rights had been infringed could bypass the states and go directly into a federal court. At present they must first exhaust all state remedies.

Social Welfare Unit Raises Aid to Blind

LANSING (AP)—The State Social Welfare Commission has voted to raise maximum grants for the blind and permanently disabled to $80 a month and to $90 in case of hospitalization or care in a convalescent home.

The increase, amounting to $10 will put the two programs on an even footing with old age pension awards, which were increased by the 1956 Legislature.

There were 1,782 persons on the blind rolls in February, receiving an average of $63.75 under a $70 maximum, and 2,447 disabled, who averaged $73.57.

Howard Hughes Gets Extension for Use of Dock

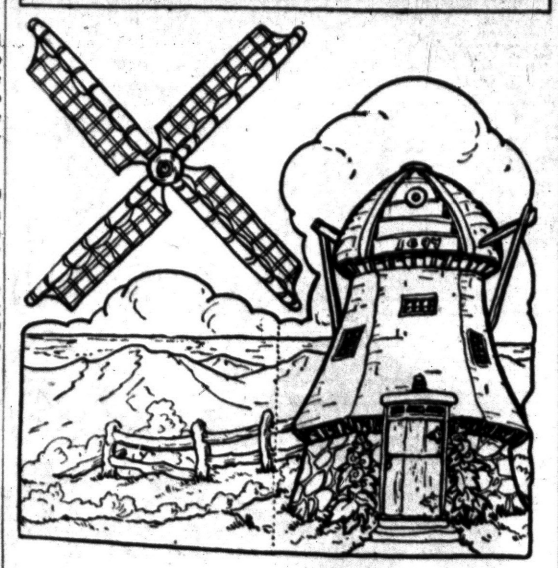

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The board of harbor commissioners has decided to give Howard Hughes a 90-day extension on use of a dock at Terminal Island for his 41 million dollar flying boat. Hughes' lease expired last year, was extended for the first quarter of 1956 and last week he was given notice to move.

Hughes has rented the site since 1946 at $18,400 a year. The 320 foot, 8-engine flying boat made one brief flight in 1947, and since then Hughes has made may adjustments and revisions. There is no indication when, if ever, it will fly again.

A Dutch Windmill That Turns for You

The windmills of Holland turn in the strong winds that blow constantly from the North Sea.

They pump away water that seeps through the dykes or flows towards the sea in streams. Also they grind corn and saw wood.

Here is a Dutch windmill you can make work for you.

Color this picture and paste it down on cardboard. Then cut out all the parts carefully. Fold forward the left hand panel which shows sand dunes bordering on the sea. Then the windmill will stand up.

To catch the wind, the wings of the windmill have a covering of canvas behind their lattice work.

Make a hole in the center of the wing part and attach it to the windmill at the spot indicated with a brass fastener or a bent pin. Then the arms of the windmill will turn, just as they do in Holland.

Lois E. Fritsch, Merritton, Ont., submitted this idea first. If you have an idea for Junior Editors send it care of this newspaper, and you may win $10. (Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures).

Eyeful with a Hoodful

(It's Buick's Big-Powered CENTURY!)

SA-A-Y! — wouldn't that go right with Spring!

Can't you see heads swing as you come sporting past in Buick's bright new colors?

Can't you picture yourself splitting the breeze with that V-Pattern prow as you point for the place where the blue sky meets the mountains?

Man, here's the one that takes you out where the zest begins. . .

Those miles reel off light and airy as pink ribbon.

At your coming, the hills head for parts unknown.

You float through traffic tangles like a prima ballerina on tiptoe.

And through it all, not once does your 1956 Buick CENTURY draw deep breath.

For here you own the enormous reserve power of the mightiest and most magnificent V8 engine Buick ever built — 322 cubic inches of steel sinew and silken silence—with all the vitality of a 9.5 to 1 compression.

And here you command the matchless vigor of Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—the airways' gift to the highways.

In all your normal driving it has the take-off of a Texas hare, and new gas savings besides.

But for climbing or passing, you simply rest the pedal on the floor and you feel a thrill-packed thrust that lets you know how a pilot feels when he switches the pitch for performance.

It's a dandy, it's a dazzler, it's a jaunty package of joy. It's a parcel of pleasure that you must open up if you aim to understand Spring.

So why not do same, soon? We're warming up such a new Buick for you, and we promise the hottest performance yet.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

Legislators Set May 10 for Windup of Session

Weary after twelve weeks' work, Michigan's Legislature has adjourned until May 10 with the idea of completing the 1956 session at that time.

In contrast with what has been viewed as a dull and uneventful session, the closing hours were marked by acrimony and dispute. When the lawmakers decided to quit after sending a controversial school aid bill to the Governor, there remained about a dozen bills to be disposed of in May.

★ ★ ★

To the Legislators' credit they succeeded in balancing the State budget at $329,976,517 without new taxes but with use of $15,000,000 of the operating surplus. This is $9,175,347 less than Gov. Williams had asked but $51,571,603 more than last year's appropriations. On the basis of these figures, Senate Tax Committee Chairman Morris foresees the need for additional taxes in the next session.

Among appropriations left for later disposition are $60,000,000 for mental health, $40,000,000 for capital outlay and $16,300,000 for public health. Other pending issues are supplemental unemployment benefits, control of the deer herd and an increase in judges' pensions.

One of the major achievements of the session, of course, was House passage of the Senate approved $220,000,000 school aid bill. The fight over this vital measure centered on its provision for diverting $9,000,000 from wealthy to poorer school districts. As finally enacted the bill included provision for aid on a basis of $190 per pupil.

★ ★ ★

Two other achievements deserve mention. One is liberalization of the workmen's compensation act benefit by an average of $4.71 per week. The other ends all doubt about the status of Michigan's Turnpike Authority. MTA is very much alive with an appropriation of $150,000 for the next fiscal year.

Argentina's New Envoy

A new and happier era in U.S.-Argentine relations should date from the appointment of a veteran career diplomat, Willard Beaulac, to represent us in Buenos Aires.

Three years ago our new ambassador to Argentina was chosen for that post, but the appointment was withheld at the instance of Gen. Peron. Incidentally, the dictator's request had the support of the President's brother, Milton Eisenhower, who then was touring South America.

★ ★ ★

There are two other pleasing aspects of this ambassadorial move. First, Cecil B. Lyon, the able Deputy Assistant Secretary of State in the Bureau of Inter-American Affairs, has been named Ambassador to Chile to succeed Mr. Beaulac. Second, with Ambassador Adolfo Vicchi representing Argentina in Washington, the way should be cleared for cordial and wholly satisfactory relations between our two countries.

★ ★ ★

Fortunately for Argentina, the discredited Peron regime is only a bitter memory. Fortunately, too, our State Department's aim is to do everything it can to make Argentina's new democratic and friendly government a success.

Tunisia's Independence

One more historic step away from colonialism was taken by France when it decided to give Tunisia virtual independence.

Basis of the concession to that area held since 1881, is similar to that on which Morocco earlier this month was granted its independence. A combination of liberal opinion and political and military realism are behind the latest French action of bowing to the rising tide of North African nationalism.

★ ★ ★

For years France's whole problem in that area has been growing increasingly complex and baffling. Each of the three dependencies—Morocco, Tunisia and Algeria—was in a different stage of social, cultural, economic and political development. Each also has a large number of French settlers.

It seemed reasonable in theory at least, that each of the units should have progressed toward independence at a different rate. But the ever stronger spirit of nationalism had the effect of eliminating such differences.

★ ★ ★

Algeria, unlike the protectorates of Morocco and Tunisia, is a part of metropolitan France.. Because of special local conditions the problem of nationalism there gives no promise of easy solution. While wise French action sufficed in the protectorates, observers say the situation in Algeria calls for continued strong administrative control.

If you have a favorite player, get busy and let him help you win $250. It costs nothing to enter.

All entries must be received in The Press office by noon on Saturday, April 14, or they'll be disqualified—and that's Saturday of THIS week.

If you haven't a favorite player, perhaps you can get a hint from the following list, all of whom already have received votes, with estimated batting averages ranging from .325 to .750, with the average around the .450 mark. Here's the list:

David Lawrence Says:

Law to Permit Policing of Elections Could Deal Death Blow to State Rights

WASHINGTON — Ever since the founding of the American Republic it has been the exclusive right of the states to maintain law and order—to exercise police powers within their own borders—and the federal government has not interfered.

But the Department of Justice now proposes that laws be enacted giving the federal government the right to police federal elections and decided whether citizens are "being subjected to unwarranted economic pressures by reason of color, race, religion, or national origin."

If Congress has a right under the Constitution to pass such laws, then the federal government can ignore state and local machinery of law enforcement and punish violence at the factory gate.

Labor unions have fought against use of federal power to punish coercion or intimidation in labor-union elections. The only penalty today is a "cease and desist" order upon a labor union. This is meaningless. If violence in strikes occurs or if workers are intimidated, the federal government keeps hands off.

SHORT STEP TO POWER

Now under the principle contained in proposed legislation, the Department of Justice could get the power to prosecute such offenders, since civil rights certainly are involved.

A few years ago some labor unions attempted to stop publication of most daily newspapers in New York City. The Department of Justice refused to prosecute though the First Amendment was involved. Labor unions had been given legal status by the Taft-Hartley Law, and their acts as labor unions were derived from federal authority.

If legislation to punish persons who exert "unwarranted economic pressure" is passed, it will be a short step to the broadening of the federal power to police all labor-union activities, especially those which have been considered exclusively the domain of local governments.

The new proposals are aimed at race friction and are designed to prevent interference with voting by Negroes in the South and deal with economic measures taken against them. What is "unwarranted economic pressure"? If the federal government assumes the right to indict and try persons who use "economic pressure," it will be a difficult thing to keep the same police powers from being exercised in labor-union elections.

'LAW OF THE LAND?'

Today a citizen loses his rights under the Constitution—the right to believe as he pleases about labor unions—if he wants to keep a job in a so-called "union shop." Compulsory unionization is the law of the land today, though the Supreme Court has never specifically ruled on the validity of such compulsion.

It is strange that the Department of Justice doesn't show any interest in protecting the right of a man to keep his job or to get a job unless he is willing to yield to economic pressure and give up the political and economic beliefs guaranteed him by the Constitution.

The proposal to regulate elections for federal offices and let the federal government exercise power to review the work of local election boards is not novel. It has been urged for some time as a means of protecting the rights of minorities. It has been advanced in northern states as a means of regulating employment.

It means that an employer who doesn't hire exactly the same number of Swedes, for example, as he does Norwegians could be punished for discrimination on the basis of "national origin." It means the same principles could be extended so that, if an employer who is himself a Protestant wants to hire only Protestants or if a Catholic employer wants to hire only Catholics, he would be subject to penalty under federal laws for discrimination in hiring.

The new proposal opens up a Pandora's box of troubles for the states and could mark the beginning of the end of state government in America and the building of a strong centralized government with complete control over all matters hitherto believed to be solely the domain of the state, city and county governments.

Milk Best Food Source for Riboflavin Deficiency

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Riboflavin is vitamin B2, formerly called vitamin G.

Best food source of riboflavin is milk.

The riboflavin deteriorates when exposed to sunlight or diffuse daylight. So milk and other foods containing riboflavin (cheese, liver, wheat germ, sardines, mackerel, egg, spinach, broccoli, beet tops, kale, mushrooms, fish roe, dried yeast) should be kept not only refrigerated or cold but out of the light.

Minimum daily requirement of riboflavin for a growing child, that is, the amount necessary to prevent manifestations of deficiency disease, is 1½ milligrams (about 1-40th grain), which would be provided by three glasses of milk daily.

* * *

Characteristic signs of riboflavin deficiency are pallor of lips at corners of mouth, maceration and fissures in corners of mouth; cracking, swelling and peeling of lips; magenta hue of tongue; itching, burning of eyelids and sensation of cinders or sand in eyes; photophobia (dislike of bright daylight).

Quickest cure for riboflavinosis is of course obtained by taking a riboflavin tablet, say 5 milligrams, twice daily, for, say, two weeks. This can do no harm, whether the trouble is purely riboflavin deficiency or not.

The soreness of lips (cheilitis or cheilosis) described may be due partly or wholly to riboflavinosis or partly to sunburn.

To prevent or relieve lip soreness due to exposure to the sun, the lips should be kept covered with a heavy coating of zinc oxide ointment or paste or at least with lipstick.

Whether riboflavin tablets are used or not, it is important to remember that every child and adult must get riboflavin every day if he or she is to keep well and fit and avoid deficiency disease.

If the daily intake of the foods mentioned is not restricted, the individual is unlikely to develop any signs of riboflavin deficiency.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Asthma Victim Praises Fire Department Rescue

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I am an asthma victim. I recently spent the night with my daughter in Pontiac Township and was awakened in the night with one of the worst attacks I have ever had.

My daughter called the Fire Department and within 10 minutes they were at the house giving me oxygen. One of the men was able to administer the adrenalin.

I wish to commend these men for their quick response to the call, for I do believe that had they not arrived when they did, I may not have been here to write this letter. I feel that they literally saved my life and I am truly grateful.

Press Reader Questions Information in Editorial

I believe some of the information contained in your editorial on compulsory automobile insurance in your April 5 issue is incorrect. Your editorial indicates New York State is the pioneer in the field of compulsory insurance. It is my understanding, as a former resident of Massachusetts, that the Commonwealth of Massachusetts is the pioneer in that field. I believe the Massachusetts statute dates back to 1928 or 1930.

While on this subject, it might be well to explore what has happened in Massachusetts as a result of compulsory insurance. Juries, knowing all vehicle owners are insured, have tended to make large claim awards. Consequently, rates have risen steadily. Rates are equally high for both good drivers and poor ones.

To eliminate such inequities, a point system was installed about two years ago. However, you'll still find that liability insurance costs in Massachusetts are two to four times higher than in Michigan. I have no knowledge of present insurance rates in New York; however, it would appear that they would be expected to rise with the new compulsory statute in effect.

Dana Whitman, Jr.
Birmingham

Editor's note: Mr. Whitman is right and we are indebted to him for correcting our unintentional misstatement that New York would be a pioneer in this field. According to our latest information the New York law may give impetus to moves to increase the Massachusetts minimum insurance requirements.

Hal Boyle Says:

Tourists in Nassau Rival the Quaint Island Scenery

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Leaves from a sunburned notebook:

Tourists arriving here by ship in the old days used to get a thrill out of tossing pennies into the sea and watching native diving boys retrieve them.

* * *

But it has graduated into a two-bit sport today.

Several boatloads of the boys, their ebony bodies glistening in the morning sun, rowed out to meet our cruise vessel, the SS Nassau. One of the passengers lining the upper deck rails flipped out a penny. The boys below watched disinterestedly as the copper coin hit the water and sank.

* * *

One of them looked up and called in tones of dignified reproach:

"Please, nothing smaller than a quarter."

TOURIST-WATCHING

It is difficult to say what is more entertaining on a cruise—to look at the sights or watch the tourists, who make quite a spectacle of themselves.

* * *

They storm ashore at the first chance, a merry mob in search of souvenirs at a bargain rate.

The surest way to tell a tourist here is by the fact that half an hour after he hits Bay Street, the main shopping thoroughfare, he will be wearing a $1.50 Nassau straw hat. The local residents go bare-headed.

* * *

Liquor prices are about half what they are in the United States. You are allowed to return with a gallon, duty-free, and most visitors avail themselves of the privilege. Oddly, half of them explain pointedly to the other half: "It's not for me. I'm taking it back for friends."

But most tourists are infected with a strange buying fever. They will buy anything from a Mickey Mouse watch to a bolt of English doeskin—just so they think it's a bargain.

* * *

One tourist I met, wearily trudging along with a native basket loaded with knicknacks, said:

"Isn't this an odd town? I've looked all day for a place where I could buy a package of Lifesavers. Couldn't find them anywheres."

He walked on, shaking his head—a doleful Robinson Crusoe in search of civilization.

CHOWDER BARGAIN

But the best bargain in Old Nassau to many a food lover is conch chowder. It has a rich, almost nut-like tang to it that makes Manhattan or Boston clam chowder pale in comparison.

Some two centuries ago 3,000 pirates hung out in the Bahamas. It couldn't have been the loot that caused so many to flock here. It must have been the conch chowder.

* * *

Nassau is a conservative community. While it welcomes all tourists, it doesn't like to see too much tourist epidermis exposed anywhere except at the beach.

AGAINST CUSTOM

"It is against Bahamian custom," says a polite note handed to all visitors, "for ladies to appear on the public streets in abbreviated sports costumes. Extremely short shorts and bra or halter ensembles are not welcomed on the streets and should not be worn while shopping."

* * *

This commonsense rule has done much to enable Nassau to retain its old world charm. It is picturesque enough as it is. It has no desire to be flooded by tourists who land looking as if they were refugees from a shipwreck.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Affection of Parents for Each Other Is Necessary to Child's Sense of Security

Lois is handicapped by her own parents. And so are millions of other children. School marks often fail when students are so anxious about home conditions that they fear their father and mother may get a divorce. So, parents, verbalize your love, not only to your youngsters, but to each other.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-326: Norma B., aged 17, is a brilliant student in Toledo, Ohio.

* * *

"Dr. Crane, may I ask some questions?" Norma inquired. "Are any marriages really happy?

"It seems to me that all those I've seen end in divorce or else the husband and wife just tolerate each other.

"Take my own parents, for example. Mother and Daddy don't get along. In fact, she may run away for a few days. And it makes her furious when he doesn't search for her.

"All Daddy says is: "If she loves me, she'll come back to me." And she comes back, but is even more sarcastic than ever.

* * *

"It worries me to live in this kind of atmosphere. I am afraid and uncertain from one day to the next. I never know what I'll find when I reach home at night.

"Oh, Dr. Crane, it's a terrible feeling to be so insecure."

PARENTS, WAKE UP!

We psychologists and psychiatrists regard emotional insecurity as the most devastating influence on children.

Parents, at least try to give your youngsters a sense of emotional safety!

* * *

Let them know they are wanted and loved. This stabilizes their outlook and even indirectly raises their school grades, for an anxious, uncertain teen-ager can't study as effectively as an assured student.

Yesterday I told you that the word "verbalize" is the keynote to modern happiness. Strong, silent men are no longer at a premium in marriage, for women want words!

Men should speak up and express their affection in syllables! It isn't enough that you hand your wife your weekly pay check.

"If I didn't love her, I wouldn't come home to her every night," many a husband has defended himself when his wife had charged him with lack of devotion.

So teach yourself to pay one sincere compliment per day to your mate. And this goes for you wives, too.

Verbalize your love. That means, "Say it!" Vocalize it. A ready smile and an affectionate kiss, bestowed with fervor, not in perfunctory boredom, serve as helpful compliments, too.

But don't stop even with those worthy non-verbal forms of praise.

Tell her you love her. Express delight over the pie or new tie she offers you.

Remember her on birthdays and anniversaries. And surprise her once in a blue moon with a spur-of-the-moment movie date.

WATCHFUL CHILDREN

"I wish my Daddy would take Mother to a movie," many school kids have wistfully told me.

"For then I'd know they loved each other."

Sometimes children misjudge their parents. Daddy and Mother may have a strong bond of affection for each other, even if they don't verbalize it or go to a movie occasionally.

But show off your affection a little more evidently, at least before your children. Usually we psychologists veto "show off" behavior but here is a very necessary exception.

* * *

Being a good parent not only involves showing affection for your children, but also for your mate, too, so the youngsters will have that stabilizing reassurance that "Daddy loves Mother and vice versa!"

To raise your batting average, send for my 200-point "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Straits Bridge Causes Job Loss for Gal Purser

MACKINAW CITY (AP)—The only woman purser in the Mackinac Ferry Service will be out of a job when the new Straits Bridge is completed in 1957.

And Mrs. Gwen Smith wonders what it will be like to give up the toll booth she has manned for 12 years at the Mackinaw City docks.

Mrs. Smith says she's more than a toll collector. She also serves as information clerk, bookkeeper, weather forecaster, police lookout "and just about everything."

A constant problem is trying to convince northbound travelers that they won't be in Canada when they dock at St. Ignace in Michigan's upper peninsula.

Mrs. Smith has watched ambulances, honeymooners, trucks, hearses, and pleasure cars shuttle past and recalls best the elderly man who drove up to her booth and asked the ticket price.

"Then, while a line of traffice waited," Mrs. Smith said, "the man got out, unlocked his car trunk, took out a strong box, opened it, took out a purse and paid the fare. Then he packed everything up and finally drove onto the dock."

* * *

Mrs. Smith hopes she may be able to work for the straits bridge authority but isn't sure of getting a job.

"I don't think it will be quite the same," she said. "There won't be the lineups and people won't stop to chat like they do now."

Boston Council Backs Dem Rep. McCormack

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston City Council has proposed House Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass) for the Democratic presidential nomination.

A resolution passed last night endorsed McCormack and cited him for devoting "his great talents to the economic and social improvement of his fellow man in all walks of life and being unstinting in his time and energy not only for the people of his congressional district but for all mankind."

Dems Whipping GOP in Oregon?

Democrats Taking Part in Write-In Campaign of Adlai-Kefauver

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—This may be the year that the Democrats, taking part in a spirited write-in campaign between Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver, overtake the Republicans in Oregon.

* * *

Oregon had been solidly in the Republican column in voter registration so long that it came as a shock to the GOP to learn four years ago that the Democrats had crept up to 416,589 registered voters.

The GOP still had a 5,092 margin then, but it dwindled to 2,411 in 1954.

* * *

With Stevenson and Kefauver now competing for presidential nomination write-in votes in the May 18 primary, the Democrats have hopes of edging ahead of the Republicans, who have no presidential contest. President Eisenhower is alone on the primary ballot.

Voters have until April 18 to register for the primary. They cannot cross over into another party at the polls. A Republican must stick to the Republican ballot.

* * *

Stevenson supporters here have blamed Minnesota Republicans for Kefauver's victory over Stevenson in that state's primary.

That's why Stevenson has decided, his supporters say, to compete with Kefauver for Oregon's 16 delegates to the Democratic convention. Both Kefauver and Stevenson failed to enter their names on the ballot, but supporters of both men soon decided to wage a write-in campaign.

* * *

Kefauver announced he would campaign briefly in Oregon. Stevenson at first said he would not have time. But last week he announced he would make a campaign trip to Oregon.

"Stevenson has chosen Oregon because it is the most available primary in which Democrats can make their choice without organized Republican interference," said a statement by Alfred H. Corbett and Mrs. Elmer O. Berg, co-chairman of Stevenson forces.

* * *

Stevenson is taking a calculated risk. Kefauver campaigned in Oregon in the 1952 primary and won handily when Stevenson and William O. Douglas, associated justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, insisted they were not candidates. Kefauver polled 142,440 votes; Douglas 29,532 and Stevenson 20,353.

The winner will capture Oregon's 16 delegates, who have been required by Oregon law to sign pledges they will use their best efforts to secure the nomination for the Oregon voters' choice.

Pamphlet on Crime Wanted in 17 States

BALTIMORE (AP) — State's Atty. Anselm Sodaro may have to order a few more copies of the pamphlet he composed to show Baltimore school children that crime doesn't pay.

* * *

The pamphlet, entitled "It Isn't Worth the Chance," will be ready for local distribution tomorrow. But an Associated Press dispatch last week about the hard-fisted, straightforward pamphlet has brought requests from 17 states for additional copy.

* * *

Sodaro says he does not believe young people fully realize the results of criminal acts. So he sets out in the pamphlet in plain language the punishments for various crimes and the effect crime has on the future, families and economic stability of the youngsters.

Piles No Longer A Problem

If they are the bleeding kind, suffer no longer

Medical research has developed a miracle medicine called RECTORAL. It does away with the continual use of old-fashioned ointments, suppositories, injections, etc., that give little, if any, even temporary relief. RECTORAL has a tendency to shrink the piles and usually in a few days, the bleeding, soreness, irritation and pain start to disappear and in a few days more are completely gone. Thousands of sufferers have used this remarkable medicine and have never had any further trouble, even years afterwards. Many of these people had been advised that only an expensive and painful operation would help them. Why suffer any longer? Get well NOW! Stay well! Get a bottle of RECTORAL today at

Local SPCA Unit Marks Birthday

Ninety years ago today in New York the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was born, after originating in the British Isles 42 years earlier.

By 1886, through the untiring efforts of Henry Bergh, its American founder, other groups were established in 39 states and in Canada, Brazil and Argentina.

And in 1923 the Oakland County Animal Welfare Society was admitted as a member of the American society.

To help commemorate the society's anniversary, Mrs. Marion LeFaive, president of the local group, announced its 1956 educational and legislative program.

Mrs. LeFaive, a Royal Oak attorney, has planned a continued program expected to reach 100 Oakland County schools in order to teach children how to care for their pets.

"Last year we had pet shows in 66 schools with entry blanks, ribbons, judges and the works to help children learn to appreciate animals," the president stated.

"Because we were so successful with not a single dog fight or bite, we hope to spread our educational program further into the county," Mrs. LaFaive stated.

The society also hopes the state will enact more stringent laws regarding slaughter houses, rodeos, and to prevent bull-fighting from spreading into the state.

The county group will also continue to work with the county animal shelter at 1200 Walton Blvd. in cases involving inhumane treatment of animals. The reports come from the shelter after which the society prosecutes the cases in court.

Mrs. LeFaive plans to continue a fight for strict laws on the licensing and operation of kennels within the county as part of their 1956 program.

Officers of the county organization in addition to Mrs. LeFaive are: Treasurer Mrs. Clyde Rehl of Royal Oak; Mrs. John Schock of Berkley, secretary; Mrs. Helen Ferguson, of Bloomfield Hills, humane officer of the society's board of trustees; and Mrs. William Goudie of Birmingham, entertainment chairman of the board.

All private buses in Calcutta will have been nationalized by 1960.

Government Releases 1.7 Million Salk Doses

WASHINGTON (INS) — The government has released an additional 1.7 million doses of Salk polio vaccine for use in state and local inoculation programs and by private physicians.

The vaccine, produced by the Eli Lilly and Parke, Davis companies, brings to 45 and one-half million doses the total amount of vaccine released since the program was inaugurated almost a year ago.

Arabs Turn to Nasser for Leadership Against Israel

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—In the countries surrounding Israel, bitterness, frustration and a vast mass inferiority complex have created a new hero of pan-Arabism. Millions are turning to Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser as their leader.

* * *

Why has Egypt's young and impatient dictator had so tremendous an impact? An influential, pro-American Arab leader pointed to the tiny spot on the map that is Israel.

"Do you want the truth? Do you want to know why our world may drag yours into war? The truth is," he said, "we are afraid."

The speaker has been a long-time friend of the United States. But in this part of the world no Arab says publicly he is America's friend.

* * *

"You ask about the promise of the Egyptian revolution. Do you want to save that revolution for the future of the Egyptians? Then make us so we are not afraid, so we will lose this terrible inferiority feeling of ours. Then, being unafraid, we can ignore the menace of Israel, and turn to bettering ourselves."

2 REVOLUTIONS LOOM

Two great social revolutions are getting under way in the Arab world — one in Iraq, where oil money is being plowed into development — and the other in Egypt. Brought to flower, they could go far to stabilize the Middle East. Both revolutions are menaced by the shadow of war.

Most Arab eyes are turned toward Egypt — even the eyes of the Iraqis. On the wave of indignation against the United States, the Arab world has pushed Prime Minister Nasser to a place of imposing leadership. But he is at once the leader and the captive of Arab ambitions. To Western eyes he resembles many on a bicycle who cannot stop without danger of falling.

* * *

Nasser is asserting his own and Egypt's leadership of the Arab world, but it is far from secure. A decisive defeat by Israel in an opening battle of renewed war could topple Nasser from his pinnacle. To keep his leadership Nasser has seized upon the international situation. He asserts the idea of Arab "unity" by assailing the French and aiding rebels in North Africa. He expresses Arab frustration with the West by assailing the British as colonialists and encouraging anti-Americanism.

THREAT CHANGES IDEAS

At the time of the Egyptian revolution three years ago, Nasser seemed to the world a young idealist motivated by noble intentions toward Egypt's long suffering masses. The threat of war has brought a change.

It became pronounced after February 1955, when the Israelis launched a heavy attack on Egyptians in the Gaza strip of Palestine, an attack for which the United Nations condemned Israel. It was one of many apparently punitive and warning attacks to keep the Egyptians in their place. Egypt sought arms from the United States, but didn't get them.

* * *

"Time after time," my informant said angrily, "Israel humiliated us. Hardly a day goes by that a punitive expedition of some kind is not staged. Bitterness grows on bitterness, rage on frustration.

* * *

"We suspect, with good reason, that as things stand right now Israel could throw us back again unless we have outside help. How long can we stand this when the whole existence of a Zionist state, created by the United States and Britain in our midst, outrages our sense of justice?"

U.S. DRAWS BLAME

Even the most pro-American of Arabs blames the United States for their humiliation.

"I thank God," said one of them, "for Soviet intervention in the Middle East. It has awakened the whole world to our cause."

The Arabs have a proverb: the enemy of my enemy is my friend. Nasser got arms from the Soviet bloc. The Arabs hail this with joy and cock their ears toward Cairo. Thousands of Arabs clustered about radios in their homes and coffee shops nod their heads eagerly at the words of Egypt's new leader who "stands up to the imperialists." On most issues Arab unity is a myth, but on Israel there is unity.

* * *

And suddenly Nasser is making them confident—perhaps too confident. Nasser himself has been maneuvered by circumstances to a position from which he cannot, if he wishes, retreat.

All this has changed the complexion of Nasser's rule. Three years ago top priority was given the urgent program for social reform.

* * *

Bold projects got under way. As a promise of things to come, a new province was carved in the Western desert. Water was channeled from a Nile branch and the desert bloomed. New villages were built—clean stone houses, sanitation, health facilities, filtered water, all the things the peasant never knew. Selected families populated it.

LAND REFORM UNDER WAY

Some day, the fellaheen were told, all Egypt would be like this. The revolution was and is impressive in its earnestness. Land reform is well under way. Filthy mud huts were soon to be replaced by stone houses, and for once the unwashed fellah had a stake in the future. Egypt would build a new high Aswan dam, and millions more desert acres would burst into flower. Electric power from the dam would bring new industry.

* * *

But the ferment of the Arab world concerning Israel and the division of the globe into East and West blocs militate against the promise. If Nasser is to push himself or be pushed into war, he cannot have the dam, nor can he afford to extend himself too much on costly reforms.

* * *

Now Egypt's bid for leadership is taking priority over the aims of the revolution. The price of leadership was dangerous dalliance with the Communist bloc. If war came, the Arab world might find itself swallowed by Soviet domination. World War III would be around the corner.

(Tomorrow: The Communist threat to Midestern oil.)

One Out of 140 Goes Abroad

Cherry Blossom Festival Starts Tourist Season

WASHINGTON (INS)—More than 700,000 sightseers have poured into Washington this week for the annual Cherry Blossom Festival to launch what is expected to be the biggest tourist season in U. S. history.

* * *

Included in the anticipated travel boom will be the exodus of a million or more Americans abroad. The recently - enlarged passport division at the State Department is currently handling 16,000 applications a week and officials say the peak isn't even in sight.

The volume of passport requests is 14.9 per cent greater than last year when a record number of 1,094,733 Americans made overseas visits. In addition to the foreign travel, countless millions of other Americans will see America first this summer.

One of the reasons for the boom in foreign travel, according to the experts, is that now you can go farther by laying out less money than ever before, thanks to the introduction of lower cost air travel and installment payment plains.

LEAST EXPENSIVE

Another factor is the outward thawing of the cold war. Inividuals feel less like they are living on the brink of an active volcano and are well prepared to relax and enjoy themselves.

Government recods show Canada, Mexico, Central America and the Caribbean area are the favorite tourist spots abroad—perhaps because they are the least expensive to reach.

In the year ending June 30, 1955, the West Indies were visited by 400,441 Americans.

Europe is the second favorite and in the same period, 490,722 U. S. citizens traveled there. Government figures show Asia third with 64,246.

For the peak period of April through September, the travel trend is toward air instead of ship. Last year 722,493 Americans flew to their destination overseas while only about half that many, 372,220 went by water.

This year, probably 1,250,000 Americans will travel abroad on vacation or business. This is about one out of every 140 Americans.

Romeo Teachers Granted $400 Annual Pay Hike

Raises Effective Next September

Teachers With Degrees to Get $4,000 to $5,850 Base Plus Increments

ROMEO—Teachers in the Romeo Community School District were granted a pay raise of $400 with increments of $150 per year at special meeting of the Board of Education last night.

The raise becomes effective at the beginning of the 1956-57 school year next September.

Base pay for teachers with bachelors' degrees will be $4,000 to $5,650, and for those with masters' degrees, $4,200 to $5,850.

Non-degreed teachers will receive $3,500 base pay with no experience and $3,600 with three years experience, both with increments of $150 per year.

Supplemental pay schedule will mean a net increase of $600 per year, school officials said.

The suggested custodial salary schedule proposing that all present employes advance to a three-year schedule and receive a raise from $1.40 to $1.46 per hour for a 40-hour week, and from $2.10 to $2.19 for overtime, was unanimously adopted by the board. The pay hike becomes effective July 1.

Local educators canvassed Saturday's election returns. The $750,000 bond issue passed by a two-vote margin; the eight-mill tax limitation by one vote; and the four-mill operating tax for 10 years passed by 81 votes. A resolution verifying the vote tally in each precinct was drafted by the board.

The administration was authorized to draw up specifications to take bids on five 60-passenger buses and one carry-all to be available for use at the beginning of the next school year.

Teacher Salary Hike Can Solve Problem

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The national shortage of more than 300,000 public school teachers could be alleviated by salaries ranging from $5,000 to $9,000 a year. So says Carl J. Megel of Chicago, president of the American Federation of Teachers.

The starting salary for a teacher with a bachelor's degree should be $5,000, he told a meeting of AFT local 1263, and teachers' careers should be permanent, rather than subject to annual hiring and firing "as they are now in most parts of the country."

Bob Considine Says:

Stalin's Own Words Testify to His Infamy

NEW YORK (INS)—People . . . places . . . and books . . .

If anybody needs further proof of Stalin's infamy, let him find a slim little dollar book put out a couple of years ago by Farrar, Straus and Young called "Stalin—A Self-Portrait." It is a picture book and the captions are from the man's own speeches and works. Samples:

"I joined the revolutionary movement at the age of 15, when I became connected with certain illegal groups."

"We pushed forward still more vigorously, brushing every obstacle from our path. It is true that in our course we were obliged to handle some of these comrades roughly. But you cannot help that. I must confess that I too took a hand in this business."

"You may be sure that I will not spare anyone."

"It cannot be said that the purge was not accompanied by grave mistakes. There were unfortunately more mistakes than might have been expected."

And:

"Weep not for the hair when the head is off."

"Paper will put up with anything that is written on it."

"In the U.S.S.R. there is no ground for existence of several parties. In the U.S.S.R. there is ground only for one party, the Communist party. In the U.S.S.R. only one party can exist, the Communist Party."

"Have we suppressed the reactionary clergy? Yes, we have."

"It is impossible to conquer an enemy without having learned to hate him with all the might of one's soul."

"To choose the victim, to prepare the blow with care, to slake an implacable vengeance, and then to go to bed . . . there is nothing sweeter in the world."

TALE OF MERCY

You won't be finding a much warmer story than the same book company's newest, "Deliver Us From Evil," the story of a young Navy doctor who took part in moving 600,000 Vietnamese from the Communist-controlled section of that country to the free area.

Adm. Arleigh Burke says, "A story of which the United States Navy is proud." It should be.

Lt. Thomas A. Dooley, M. D., got to Viet Nam via Notre Dame and St. Louis U. for some incredible number of sick and travel-sore refugees he was an indispensable friend and comforter.

He tells the story of these people without breast-beating, and thus makes us see more clearly this incredible tragedy that took place on the other side of the world while most of us were concerned with other things.

On his way home after achieving miracles that made him a public hero over there, Dooley was sweating out a plane at Hickam Field, Honolulu, when he heard a yell of "Chao ong bac sy my!"—Vietnamese for "Hi, American doctor."

A covey of Vietnamese air force cadets, en route to Texas, had spotted him and all but embraced him to the floor.

FAMILIAR SCARS

He had no trouble remembering them:

"Each of them had a big scar where an ear should have been. I remembered that in the Roman Catholic provinces of Bao Lac, near the frontier of China, the Communist Viet Minh often would tear an ear partially off with a pair of pliers and leave the ear dangling.

"That was one of the penalties for the crime of listening to evil words. The evil words were 'Our Father, Who art in heaven, hallowed by Thy name . . . give us this day our daily bread . . . and deliver us from evil . . .'

"I had amputated the stumps of those ears. Would a boy hear again from that ear? Never. Only from the other ear would he ever hear words, evil or holy."

In "Captain of the Queens," the autobiography of Capt. Harry Grattidge, former commodore of the Cunard line, which E. P. Dutton has just published, the author achieves the miracle of writing 300 pages without a single reference to the man under whom he once served—the great Capt. Charles Ford.

Ford, of "The Queen Elizabeth," transported more American servicemen across the Atlantic than any master in history, and before and after World War II was the line's best-known representative on this side of the ocean.

Capt. Grattidge's colossal oversight of his old friend smacks of pressures we're unable to comprehend.

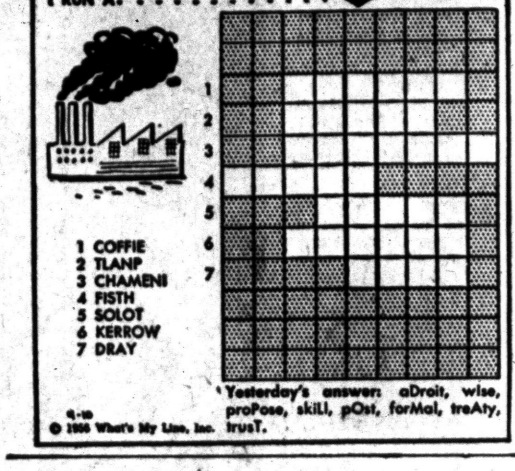

Easy Fishing, Folks

TURIN, Italy (AP)—When the Po River was diverted through a canal to feed an important new hydroelectric plant, three miles of the river bed went dry. It was a simple matter to walk out and pick up the thousands of stranded fish.

WHAT MAKES "THE ROCKET" ROCKET?

Here's why the engine that started the high-compression era still tops the field today!

WHEN THE TALK TURNS to automobile engines, you're pretty sure to hear about Oldsmobile's Rocket. And that's as it should be! The Rocket brought true high-compression performance to motoring. The Rocket set the standards . . . broke the records.

Today the same thing is going on. With a high in compression of 9.25 to 1 and a displacement of 324 cubic inches, the Rocket packs a potent new wallop.

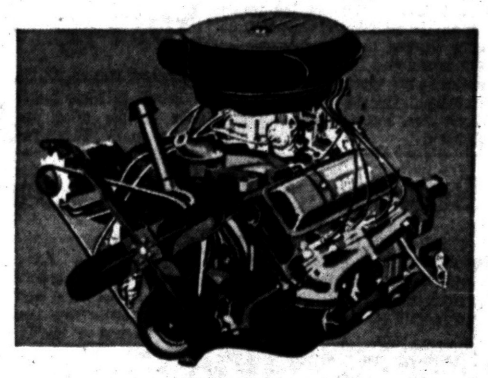

THERE'S AN EFFORTLESS SMOOTHNESS, a freedom from vibration that tells you this one is a masterpiece of balance and precision. Then, too, this power plant is "big-bore, short-stroke" design. That means shorter piston travel for less friction, less wear and longer, economical engine life.

You'll rarely use the full 230 horsepower† under the hood, but you'll certainly know it's there! And, in all your driving, you'll go for the Rocket's high torque—that's the force that makes the wheels go 'round! Your toe can call a hefty 340 pound-feet of torque into play—to move you away from a light, to conquer a hill or pass by any emergency.

You'll meet Rocket Engine action at its finest and smoothest when you try it with Jetaway Hydra-Matic*. Gear transitions are liquid-smooth—take-off is immediate and positive.

VISIT OUR SHOWROOM today! Take your choice of Oldsmobile's 13 exciting models — a luxurious Ninety-Eight, dazzling Super 88 or low-price "88". Find your favorite! Then we invite you to "Rate the Rocket" . . . on the road!

†240 h. p. and 350 lb.-ft. of torque in Super 88 and Ninety-Eight models.
*Standard on Series Ninety-Eight; optional at extra cost on all other series.

ROCKET SCORES DOUBLE VICTORY IN '56 MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN!

Tops for economy, too! In the famous Mobilgas competition, two Oldsmobiles were entered, two won! Both the 88 and Ninety-Eight took first place in their fields! Here's more convincing proof that Oldsmobile brings you top value today . . . top resale tomorrow!

Stanley, principal of Hawthorne School; Mrs. Donald North, finance chairman of the council; Francis Staley, principal of Pontiac High School, and Mrs. William Wright, president of the Pontiac PTA Council.

Two future teachers who are now in college on scholarships provided by the PTA Council of Pontiac are Virginia Baker (left), a student at Michigan State Normal College, and Charlene Deeg who attends Albion College. The scholarships assist qualified students who wish to become teachers and who might not be able to attend college otherwise. The Pontiac PTA Council hopes to alleviate the teacher shortage by providing more qualified teachers.

PHS Grad to Be Sent to College

Program Designed to Provide Aid for Future Teachers

April has been designated as PTA Teacher Scholarship Month by the Pontiac PTA. All Pontiac PTA locals, through the Pontiac PTA Council, will send a third student to college this fall.

Applications for the four-year scholarship may be made through the Pontiac High School office.

This scholarship is for any accredited college in Michigan Two future teachers are now in college on PTA scholarships, at Albion College and one at Michigan State Normal College.

The boy or girl selected must be a Pontiac High School graduate of either the mid-term or June class of 1956. This student must have an average or better academic record and must plan on entering the teaching profession.

* * *

Other requirements are they must like children, be socially well adjusted, have a good personality, initiative, resourcefulness, and be morally and spiritually sound and in good physical condition. The student must also be in need of financial assistance in order to attend college.

GRANT, NOT LOAN

This scholarship, which is nonsectarian with race, creed or color making no difference in the final selection, totals $1,250 over a four-year period and will be a grant, not a loan. The amount of $500 will be given the first year and $250 annually for the next three years.

Recommendations for this student are to be made by the principal of the Pontiac High School and the senior counselors. A spiritual adviser and two other persons are to give personal references.

The final selection of this student will be decided by Francis Staley, principal of Pontiac High School; Mrs. William Wright, president of the Pontiac PTA Council; Lester Stanley, elementary school principal, and Mrs. Donald North, finance chairman of the council, advised by the Pontiac High School senior counselors.

The committee will review the progress of the students at the end of each year.

Each school PTA will decide how it will raise its funds for this scholarship. Some have included it as an item in their budgets, with others planning fund-raising projects.

Dick Packs Up Woes, Quits Filmdom

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Tax-laden, alimony-hounded Dick Haymes is packing up his troubles and moving bag and baggage to New York. He says he's "fed up" with Hollywood.

* * *

Dick also is stony broke, despite the fact that he earned over $250,000 last year.

"Everybody knows I'm broke," he sighed, "everything I make goes to the government and to my ex-wives, but I'm not complaining. I think everything that happens to a person is caused by himself, and I guess I had quite a lot to do with the situation I'm in now."

Since his marital breakup with glamorous Rita Hayworth eight months ago, Dick has made a number of nightclub and television appearances, waxed two record albums and continued to live in solitary splendor in the Malibu Beach cottage that once served as a cozy Hayworth-Haymes love-nest.

* * *

But the singer now complains that he "can't take it any more."

"I'm packing my books and records and my few personal belongings and I've sold both my cars. I won't need them back East."

He admitted he owes his ex-wife Joanne Dru three months support payments and is in debt to a grocery store, but he said, "It'll all be paid."

Miss Dru haled him into court again last Friday and complained bitterly to the judge that he is continually overdue on his payments. The judge continued the case to next October.

* * *

Shortly after the crackup with Rita, Dick insisted he had never been "happier," but now—months later—he openly mourns the loss of "the only woman I loved in this life."

Dick said he has talked to his beautiful ex-wife several times (by telephone) since she arrived in Paris.

"She took a trunk full of my clothes by mistake," he grinned, "and I asked her to return them.

"The trunk had some of my slacks in it and three or four of my favorite sports jackets."

* * *

Haymes said he and his brother, Bob, have formed "The Haymes Brothers Film Co., Inc.," and they plan to produce motion pictures in New York and the Virgin Islands.

STRAIGHT ROLE

"I'll probably star in the first one myself—in a straight role," he said, "and then use other players in later films."

* * *

Although Rita and Dick are maintaining friendly Transatlantic telephone relations, the singer says there is no chance of a reconciliation—"even if Rita wanted it." He explained:

"I would be afraid she would leave me again and I could never live through that!"

He insists he will "never marry again."

* * *

Recently, Rita ironed out her difficulties with her studio, and is set to do two final films under the Columbia flag at a salary of $150,000 per picture.

The first will be "Fire Down Below," with Robert Mitchum, to be filmed in Europe. And the second "Pal Joey" with Frank Sinatra.

A fitted cloche headpiece of lace and pearlized sequins held her fingertip veil of imported silk. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink and white roses with an orchid center.

* * *

For the reception held in the church parlors Mrs. Bemis greeted her guests wearing a blue lace dress with light blue accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

New YW Classes Start Tomorrow

Mrs. Leonard Buzz and Mrs. John Streit, who will teach swimming and exercise classes, respectively, for the YWCA beginning Wednesday morning, already are looking for ways and means to stretch the time allotted the YWCA by the YMCA, since the classes now scheduled have reservations to capacity.

Two 45-minute classes each in swimming and in exercise are planned, between 9:30 and 11:15 a.m.

In the gym work, Mrs. Streit plans a warmup period of calisthenics followed by a sport such as volleyball or badminton.

In swimming, Mrs. Buzz predicts that even the greenest beginners will learn to swim the width of the pool in six weeks, while better swimmers will gain speed and dexterity in swimming the length of the pool.

* * *

The YWCA will operate a nursery for pre-school children on Wednesday mornings for the swim and slim-ers, as well as for other young mothers enrolled in the Ladies Day Out program of crafts, sewing and bridge.

Coffee is served at the YW before and after class, and occasional noontime programs are scheduled, although the most popular after-class activity among the girls is to congregate and chat over a sandwich and coffee luncheon.

Details concerning the program may be learned by calling at the YWCA, in person or by phone.

Permanent Waves Get Better All the Time

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Thank heavens permanents are here to stay! I do not know what women used to do without them. As a matter of fact permanents are improving constantly even now.

* * *

In the early days of the permanent women sometimes had the most unfortunate experiences and often paid for their beauty with real discomfort, when they were sometimes burned or their hair was pulled to a painful degree. No more of that today!

The most important thing when getting a permanent is to select an expert operator. She or he will know what kind of a permanent is best for your type hair and how much curl it will require. Today it is possible to get a permanent so soft that it looks like naturally curly hair.

If you wear your hair short and want it to look natural you will have to expect to repeat your permanents more often. Hair grows out rapidly and the bloom will be off your permanent, if you wear your hair short, in a few months time.

PHYSICAL CONDITION

There is a general belief among women and operators that the temporary physical condition of the customer has a great effect on the success of the permanent. However, there seems to be no scientific basis for this.

Poor health, illness and pregnancy can affect the hair under the skin of the scalp, the part which is growing in the follicle. However, there is no circulation in the erupted part, the part you see, and it is exempt from general physical condition. Therefore, unless the illness or prior condition is of such long standing that the hair has grown out again, the permanent will not be affected.

An expert beauty operator will know what kind of a permanent is best for your type hair and how much curl it will require.

There are temporary conditions which will have an effect. Do not get a permanent when your hair is dried out from the sun. If you have been using certain bleaches this may affect your permanent. Your beauty operator will be able to tell you about this.

Also, if you have permanents too often, putting one over the other, you may not get the result you crave. Remember this, too—always insist on a test curl.

Pair Asks That Visit Be Delayed

Couple Had Made Previous Plans to Take Vacation

By EMILY POST

A reader writes me as follows: "Some friends of ours wrote and told us that they were planning to visit us at a certain time. It so happened that my husband and I had planned on going away on a short vacation at that same time."

"I immediately wrote back and said that we were going to be away and that we would be glad to have them come at any other time. I haven't heard from these friends since and have found out that they are peeved. Was it wrong to write and tell them they could not come?"

Answer: Certainly you should not have been expected to change the plans you had made. To have expected you to do so was not only incorrect but unreasonable.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Since my fiancee's favorite flowers are red ones and she has requested them, I planned on having her bridal bouquet consist of American Beauty roses along with appropriate white flowers.

"My family insists that any flowers other than white ones are not only wrong for a bridal bouquet but in the poorest taste.

Answer: I have to agree with your family. The bride's bouquet must be white. The red roses can be beautiful in a small corsage for her to "wear away."

"Dear Mrs. Post: My son will be graduating from a naval air academy shortly and will receive his wings at that time. I will attend the graduation exercises and I am told that I am to pin his wings on. I would like to know if I should remove my gloves to do this?"

Answer: Yes, as it will be easier to manage the pin of the wings if you are not hampered with gloves.

This clever little cobbler-type apron is a special half-size design. Easy to sew and it doubles as a cover-up for beach wear.

No. 8267 is in sizes 14½, 16½, 18½, 20½, 22½, 24½. Size 16½, 2¼ yards of 35-inch.

Designer Brings Lace Bridal Gown for Margaret

NEW YORK (AP) — An Italian dress designer arrived at Idlewild Airport yesterday with Margaret Truman's wedding gown. It's of old Venetian biege lace.

Miss Nicol Fontana had to pay duty on the gown and other items of Miss Truman's trousseau. Neither she nor customs officials would give the value.

Miss Fontana said she had been under the impression there would be no duty on the 200-year-old lace. Customs officials, however, handled it as a dress.

* * *

The former President's daughter is to marry Clifton Daniel in Independence, Mo., April 21.

"Miss Truman has a beautiful figure and personality," Miss Fontana said. "She has very nice proportions and is a very refined person. We call her wedding gown 'Romantic Aroma'."

* * *

The designer disclosed the dress has three-quarter length sleeves and is ankle length, but she would not describe the neckline.

The headdress, to be finished in New York, will be a small tiara of lace, Miss Fontana said. There will be a beige veil to the shoulders, beige envelope bag, and beige leaf decorations on the shoes.

Here's an Idea!

You can keep baby's stuffed toys clean, soft and fluffy if you dry them in the clothes dryer. No child need ever play with dirty toys when you own a dryer. Wash and dry frequently, and for best results, line the bottom of the dryer with a turkish towel before putting the toys in.

Most exports on cleaning soft floor coverings recommend that you go over the carpet with a sweeper or vacuum daily and then vacuum throughly at least once a week.

Expect Success and You Succeed

BY ANNE HEYWOOD

Once I met a young man who had written six books in eight years. All of them had been published. I asked how in the world he had managed to get so much written.

He looked at me blandly and said, "Nobody ever told me it was supposed to be hard!"

He was probably overstating the case. Still, I always think of him when I see someone who accomplishes easily something that others will agonize over unsuccessfully.

Mrs. J. is very much like that. She wrote me recently, asking job data for her husband.

* * *

She ended by saying: "Since the children married, I have had more fun working. I take temporary jobs, by the week.

AGE NO BARRIER

"I'm 53 but I'm a good worker. I read often of women who get snubbed or treated as unemployable because they're over 40. It has never happened to me, however."

* * *

Needless to say, I wrote immediately and asked how she handled it, how she behaved at the agencies, if she had any pointers for others who were not having the good success she enjoys.

Her response is typical of what I think of as the success-minded, it's-not-supposed-to-be-hard type.

"I know I can type pretty well, file accurately and get along with people," she wrote. "I indicate this on the application card. I fill in everything they ask for—it's only good manners. I see that I look neat and well-groomed.

* * *

"I tell them I'm 53, that I know some places won't hire me, that I'm open-minded and will try anything they suggest and that I'm sure of such skills I have. I say I'll take a temporary, by-the-week job. I leave the salary up to them.

SHE EXPECTS JOB

"I expect to get a job, and so I do!"

* * *

If you're not as successful as Mrs. J., and would like to be, send me a stamped self-addressed envelope in care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my pamphlet, "The Older Housewife Goes to Business."

Ike Asks More Defense Funds

Possibly Killed Chance for Election-Year Cut in Income Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower may have killed any chance for an election - year income tax cut by requesting a $547,100,000 increase in defense funds.

* * *

Sen. George (D-Ga), one of the chief congressional advocates of reducing income taxes, said today that if the request is met by Congress "it looks dubious and doubtful we can cut taxes unless economies are made in some other appropriations."

Eisenhower asked the additional funds yesterday to increase and speed up production of B52 long range jet bombers, for construction of additional Strategic Air Air Command bases and for accelerating work on the Distant Early Warning radar line (Dewline in the far north. Secretary of Defense Wilson said 248½ millions of the total would be devoted to B52 production.

* * *

The request met a generally approving reception on Capitol Hill, but some legislators questioned whether it would be enough. Sen. Stennis (D-Miss), a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said output of B52's and missiles has been "far too slow." He advocated a billion dollar increase in funds for these purposes. Sens. Kefauver (D-Tenn) and Hill (D-Ala) also indicated doubts the new request is big enough.

* * *

The President's request appeared likely to take much of the steam out of a forthcoming investigation by a Senate Armed Services subcommittee of reports that the United States is lagging behind Russia in the development and production of high speed intercontinental bombers and missiles.

2 Lovers Leap Into Volcano, Land in Hospital

OSHIMA, Japan (AP)—Two young lovers embraced and leaped into the mouth of Mt. Mihara, famous suicide volcano of prewar days.

* * *

Instead of dying in each other's arms, they wound up today in a hospital, severely burned and bruised.

Fumisuke Onodera, 27, and Chieko Numakura, 21, both of Tokyo, decided on suicide when they learned Miss Numakura was suffering from bone tuberculosis.

* * *

They jumped into the volcano but landed about 30 feet below, on the edge of the molten lava. The suicide desire faded then, and the boy put the girl on his back and tried to find a way out of the gas-filled, 100-degree-plus crater. Three hours later he managed to scramble to the top. Rescuers brought out the girl.

RADAR PROVES

WITHOUT TCP At the San Antonio Proving Grounds, several cars were fueled with competitive premium-grade gasolines. The 200-plus H.P. car you see was driven about 3,000 miles, under normal driving conditions. Then the rate of acceleration was checked by radar. Performance was below par, due to deposits which caused the spark plugs to misfire.

WITH TCP The same car, after a few tankfuls of Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP*, showed 10% faster acceleration when checked by radar. Results on the other cars, when switched to Shell Premium with TCP, varied. Most cars showed a 6 to 18% increase in pickup. In each case, TCP additive had neutralized power wasting deposits, stopped spark plug "miss."

Shell Premium with TCP leaves Competitive Gasolines behind in identical acceleration tests!

Modern cars are beautiful performers. Yet, within less than 3500 miles of driving, even a new car can fall victim to engine deposits.

These deposits cause pre-firing of the gasoline or spark plug "miss"—denying you the power you paid for, the acceleration you occasionally need no matter how careful a driver you are.

Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP, the greatest gasoline development in 31 years, neutralizes engine deposits. TCP additive restores power to your car that pre-firing and spark plug "miss" take away.

Switch to Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP and get back lost power as you drive.

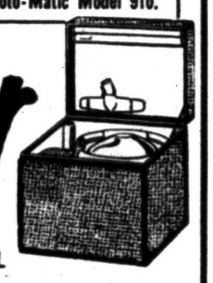

See your neighborhood Shell Dealer.

A well informed source reported from Moscow today that publication of the 38th volume of the encyclopedia—the one which is to include Stalin and his period—has been postponed for three months so corrections can be made in certain articles.

Hollywood Headlines

Julie Finds New Career After Splitting With Webb

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For seven years, Julie London played the role of wife of TV star Jack Webb and mother of his children. Then suddenly her world fell apart.

* * *

Jack and Julie were divorced, and she ended up with a large share of his "Dragnet" millions. But money wasn't everything.

HER LIFE UPSET

"I was unsettled," she recalls. "I think anybody would be if the way they had been living for seven years was suddenly upset."

She complained of her restlessness to Bobby Troup, leader of a jazz combo and her constant companion since the divorce.

* * *

"You need to go to work," he replied. He tried to persuade her to try a singing career. She resisted. Before her marriage to Webb, she had been a contract player with various studios, but she hadn't sung since she had been a teen-ager.

* * *

One night she and Troup were in an intimate Sunset Strip nitery. "If I ever do sing in a club, I'd like a place like this," she commented. He forced the issue by booking her into the place, opening eight weeks later.

CAREER BLOOMS

She had to hurry, but she made the opening date. And a whole new career started to blossom for her.

* * *

Out of the engagement came an offer to record for Liberty records. She put the budding company on the map with her "Cry Me A River," which sold 800,000 records. Her album, "Julie Is Her Name," was the No. 1 seller for five weeks and has been among the top 10 for months.

* * *

Several other night club engagements followed, and now Julie is resuming her film career. She is playing an important sequence in "The Great Man." She portrays an alcoholic singer who is interviewed for a memorial program to a top radio emcee who had been killed in an auto crash. Director-star Jose Ferrer reported she was doing great work.

* * *

What does the future hold for her?

"No more night clubs," she said. "They were great for getting my career started. But now I want to stick to records and pictures."

City Parking Lot Sites on Commission Agenda

The newly-elected Pontiac City Commission is expected to hear a report tonight from City Manager W. K. Willman on the progress of acquiring the sites for the $600,000 municipal parking program.

* * *

This will be part of a brief 14-point agenda facing the commission as they meet for their first regular Tuesday night session.

Also scheduled are two reports from the City Plan Commission. One involves amending part of an ordinance which will prohibit automobile bumping, painting and refinishing in Commercial 1 zones in the city.

The second is a denial from the plan group of a request to rezone to Commercial 1 the property on the north side of Perry street between Giddings road and Galloway Creek.

In other action, a communication will be aired from the Marine Corps League and Amvets Post 16 requesting a carnival to be held in May on the south side of Montcalm street between the Grand Trunk Railroad and a bowling alley.

Two petitions, one for sidewalks for Third street from Ivy to Laurel, the the other for paving Gladstone Place, are expected to be acted on by the commission.

The Seventh Annual Regional meeting of the Michigan Municipal League to be held at the Birmingham Community House May 2, will be announced from a communication received.

A public hearing will be conducted on the intention to construct a sanitary sewer on the southeast side of Oakland avenue from Cass to 518 feet southeast.

Other hearings will include four on intention to construct curb, gutter, and related work on the following streets:

Cedardale avenue from Earlmoore to Howland; Strathmore avenue from Baldwin to Carlisle; Bondale avenue from Earlmoor to Howland; and Prall street from State to Washington.

* * *

The commission is expected to authorize the city assessor to prepare assessment rolls for the projects.

Got Any Odd Teeth Around? He Wants 'Em

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Dr. Joe Daugherty of Lexington stole the show at a hobby exhibition of the Kentucky State Dental Assn.

Dr. Daugherty, an oral surgeon, collects teeth.

He told his colleagues he would put the bite on anyone for an animal tooth or an unusual human one.

His exhibit included a prehistoric shark's tooth and the tusk of a wild boar from Oahu Island. His ambition is to get an elephant's tusk.

They're Friendly Again

LONDON (AP)—Relations between Yugoslavia and the Soviet Union are on the mend. Moscow radio reports the Belgrade papers Politka and Borba now are on sale within two days after publication and in great demand, too.

Reds Sentence 122

BERLIN (AP)—Communist East Germany sentenced 122 persons to prison for political crimes in the first three months of this year, the League of Free Jurists reports. This West Berlin anti-Communist organization with contacts in the East said the crimes ranged from "spying and sabotage" to encouraging persons to flee to West Germany.

Average Family Income $4,500

Wayne Researcher Sees U.S. Population in 1960 at 175,000,000

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A Wayne University researcher believes the U. S. population will grow to 175,000,000 by 1960 with smaller households creating more spending units than exist now.

* * *

Robert B. Smock, research associate, told the National Consumer Credit Conference at the University of Michigan about the American family's relation to consumer credit.

He told 200 finance company executives the typical family lives in a city, has two children of school age and an income of about $4,500 a year.

The wife works in one-third of these families. He said there is a growing tendency for young adults and grandparents to maintain households apart from this "typical family" rather than living with them in one large household as they might have done earlier in the century.

This makes the number of spending units increase faster than the number of families, Smock said.

THE WORKING WIFE

He said the working wife, who brings extra spending money to 57 per cent of the families with no young children, is an important factor in the economic picture. Twenty one per cent of the wives with children under 5 and 40 per cent of the wives whose youngest child is over 5, also work, Smock said.

He added the rising divorce rate isn't as bad as it sounds. First, he said, in prosperous times divorce takes the place of desertion. Secondly, the percentage of married persons has risen steadily.

●For instance, in 1950 two-thirds of the adults were married compared to little more than half of the adults of 1890.

In the Detroit area, Smock said, 89 per cent of the families were related to other families in the area and 66 per cent of these visit their relatives at least once or twice a week.

MAKE SENSIBLE PRACTICE

He said the credit industry must assume additional responsibility to make credit practices sensible for the individual family and the economy as a whole.

The family, Smock said, will pay the credit industry well for its services, but cannot regulate them. He said direct government regulation is bound to be rigid and restrictive and industrywide policy is also bound to be infinitely complex.

* * *

The credit exchange of the future, he said, would serve every division from mortgage to revolving credit and its electronically filed card system would represent every credit using family in town.

Cool and Self-Possessed at 20

English Girl Becomes Toast of Broadway

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—The hottest property on Broadway today is a cool young girl only six months removed from her teens and an ocean apart from her home.

* * *

She is the placid, porcelain-cheeked, very British and slightly homesick Miss Julie Andrews, star of "My Fair Lady." To obtain a ticket to see Miss Andrews' performance as Miss Doolittle in the musical version of "Pygmalion," souls are being sold daily in New York.

All of which leaves Julie remarkably unappalled.

"When one gets a splash like this," she says, diligently studying her long, graceful hands, "one has to be very careful that it doesn't go to her head, you know what I mean? Losing one's values should be a terrible thing.

"I don't want to stop loving the countryside, or being grateful for gifts, or wanting to go home. Oh, I'm putting this very, very badly . . ."

* * *

Miss Andrews, of course, has scarecely ever put anything badly in her 20 years aboard this earth. Born to an elite, delightful family in Walton-on-Thames, she admits to having been rather self-possessed since she first took to the stage at age 3.

BABY PEEP SHOW

On that occasion, the flap on her Dr. Denton-type pajama costume came unbottoned. Other 3-year-olds might have panicked, but not Miss Andrews. She felt it was "only natural" that the show go on.

* * *

A tall girl (5-feet-7) with striking features and a lovely singing voice, Miss Andrews lives alone in a slightly shabby Manhattan hotel apartment, where she makes her 4 o'clock tea in a tiny cubicle.

* * *

It is understandable that she is not particularly impressed with this atmosphere, "having always lived in the coungry." But even when she expounds that old cliche about its being a nice place to visit, she dose it with distinction.

New York is a truly lovely place to visit," says Miss A., "but I shouldn't, I think, like to reside here all my life."

* * *

Before her fantastic success in "My Fair Lady," Julie was enthusiastically received in last season's imported British musical "The Boy Friend." A home-loving girl, she would accept the new role only after talking to her mother in England.

MASSES OF TIME

"Mommy said, There'll be masses and masses of time afterward darling, for you to be home so why don't you do it?' "

* * *

Unlike career-destined American girls just out of their teens, Julie Andrews has no particular desire to go on and on, to bigger and more lucrative things.

"I would like to sort of get everything professional done and out of the way," she says, smiling serenely. "Because I'm sure I shall not be strong enough to get along with my career if the right person comes along, you know what I mean?"

About this "right person," Julie is not particularly looking—not in America, anyway. "I have an awful lot of friends here, and some of them happen to be boys. But there is nothing special because, you see, I have a sort of boy back in England."

* * *

This sort of boy will sort of come over to see her pretty soon, Julie Andrews sort of hopes.

Odds Are Fantastic —but It Did Happen

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — Two 1955 two-tone green Chevrolets parked bumper to bumper outside an Indianapolis restaurant caused a once-in-a-million mixup.

* * *

Frank Long got into his car and drove away only to discover it had gained two doors. His was a two-door, this car a four-door.

Harry C. Collins walked out of the restaurant minutes later and drove away. His car had lost two doors. His had four to begin, but now had two.

* * *

Both men called police and reported their cars stolen. Police quickly solved the mixup but said the odds are fantastic against it happening, especially having two look alikes with interchangable ignition keys parked bumper to bumper.

Soviets Told to Work to Impress Capitalists

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government has told its people they must work harder in order to convince owrkers in capitalist countries of the superiority of the Communist system.

An appeal for greater effort published over the weekend by the Soviet Council of Ministers and the Communist party Central Committee reported a substantial increase in last year's grain harvest, but said it is imperative that everybody work still harder.

Twenty-five per cent of the nation's television audience accounts for more than 40 per cent of the country's total viewing.

Worry Over Star's Insistence to Remain U. S. Citizen

Legal Status of Grace Kelly Cloaked in Mystery

MONTE CARLO (INS)—The mystery surrounding Grace Kelly's eventual legal status continues to deepen with her marriage to Prince Rainier only eight days away.

Those Monegasque officials acquainted with international law are worried over the film star's insistence that she will retain her American citizenship. Their chief concern centers around the vital question of a future heir to the principality.

The U. S. Immigration Nationality Act passed by the 82nd Congress in 1952 states that any child born outside the United States whose one parent is an alien while the other is an American citizen, has the right to dual nationality.

This stipulation states that the American parent must have been physically present in the United States for 10 years after the age of 14, prior to the birth of the child. This law would certainly apply to any child Grace and the prince might have.

American law provides that such a child would forfeit his right to American citizenship only if the mother lost her citizenship prior to the birth of the child.

This could come about in three ways:

1. Miss Kelly could make a formal renunciation of her American nationality before the American diplomat or consular officer in Monaco.

MAY HAVE AGREED

2. There are reports in Monaco today—and the belief is certainly held by many Monegasques—that Grace may have already agreed to renounce her U.S. citizenship "in due course."

3. U.S. citizenship may also be forfeited by "accepting, servicing or performing duties of any office or employment under the government of a foreign state."

Monegasque officials are unable to decide whether Grace's duties as a princess might come under the latter category.

The U.S. film queen could also lose her citizenship by "taking an oath or making an affirmation or other formal declaration of allegiance to a foreign state."

The form and content of the civil marriage on April 18 would not seem to endanger Grace's status as an American.

This simple ceremony is as follows:

Marcel Portalier, who will perform the marriage first addresses the prince. The question in French is "do you Rainier Henri Maxence Bertran, Prince of Monaco, consent to your marriage to Grace Patricia Kelly?"

The prince will reply "I do."

Portalier then turns to Grace's father and says "do you John Brandon Kelly consent to the marriage of your daughter to Rainier Henri Maxence, Prince of Monaco?"

The father of the bride replies: "I do."

Portalier then reads three articles from the Monacan Civil Code and then repeats his earlier question to the prince. After Rainier replies "I do" for a second time, he turns to Grace and asks if she will take the Prince as her husband.

After she answers I do, Portalier then says to the assembled multitude in the throneroom "We declare Rainier, Henri Maxence Bertran, Prince of Monaco, and Grace Patricia Kelly are united in marriage."

* * *

There does not appear to be any swearing of allegiance to Monaco contained in this simple ceremony, but many officials continue to believe Grace may have already promised her fiance to renounce her citizenship at a later date.

Synagogue Awaits Dust Storm Results

DALLAS (AP)—The plastered walls of the new Temple Emanu-El will have the anxious scrutiny of the congregation during the next few weeks.

* * *

Worried as to what yesterday's dust storm would do to the fresh plaster, congregation leaders conferred with the contractor.

* * *

He said he wasn't sure what might happen but several years ago a dust storm rolled in while they were plastering a school in El Paso. About 10 days later weeds sprouting from tiny wind borne seeds, started growing out of the walls and ceilings.

Garver Shines in Tigers' 10-0 Victory

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Veteran Ned Garver may have nailed down the opening day pitching assignment with his six-inning exhibition against the New Orleans Pelicans of the Southern Assn. here yesterday.

Garver faced only 18 men in six innings of work. The only man to nick Ned for a hit was caught in a double play.

Along the way, Garver struck out six and didn't walk anyone.

There also was good pitching news from Detroit. Lefty Billy Hoeft's ailing flipper is attributable, the doctor says, only to an inflamed muscle that should come around quickly.

"He told me," Hoeft said, "that if all goes the way he expects, I should be able to take my regular turn when he season starts next week."

Dr. Richard Thompson ordered x-ray therapy and cortisone injections as treatment for the inflamed muscle in the back of Hoeft's left shoulder, and said he might be able to rejoin the Tigers and start throwing again this weekend.

Hoeft, Detroit's winningest pitcher with a 16-7 record last season, normally would get the opening day nomination, but manager Bucky Harris isn't expected to take any chances with his valuable flipper until it definitely is proved sound again.

Young Reno Bertoia continued to look like he has the answer to the Tigers' 2nd base problem as Detroit whipped New Orleans, 10-0, to run its exhibition victory streak to four straight.

Bertoia, a bonus baby from Windsor, Ont., smashed a bases-loaded home run in the 3rd inning to set the Tigers on their way. Afield, he handled six chances perfectly and was the pivot man in one of Detroit's two double plays.

Ray Boone also hit for the circuit for the Tigers, his, coming in the 7th with no one aboard.

Catcher Joe Erautt spoiled what might have been a perfect six innings for Garver, getting a single in the sixth. But Whammy Douglas, who was the losing pitcher, bounced into a double play behind Erautt and Garver thus faced the minimum 18 in his stint.

Paul Foytack worked the last three innings for Detroit and allowed only two hits, giving the Pelicans a total of three for the day.

In all, Detroit collected nine hits, including a two-run double by Harvey Kuenn, as well as the homers by Bertoia and Boone. Catcher Red Wilson drove in two runs with two singles.

Today the Tigers are en route to Terre Haute, Ind., where they renew major league competition tomorrow against the Milwaukee Braves of the National League.

The Tigers and Braves move to Columbus, Ohio, Thursday. From there the Tigers go to Pittsburgh, where games with the Pirates Saturday and Sunday close out the spring training season.

Tigers arrive home Monday and open the American League season against the Kansas City Athletics Tuesday.

Dodgers Picked for Another NL Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — The unbeatable combination of the most powerful batting order in the post-war era and a pitching staff deep in starters and rich in bullpen strength should bring another National League pennant to the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1956 with just about as much ease as last year.

* * *

After first place—well, anything can happen. Any one of five teams can take over the runner-up spot—Milwaukee, New York, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Philadelphia. Last year only 10 games separated second place Milwaukee and fifth place Cincinnati.

* * *

Despite the uncertain condition of pitching ace Gene Conley and weaknesses at second base and left field, the Braves may be the best of the also-rans. The Cards, called the best seventh-place club ever to play in the National League, could conceivably climb three notches with improved pitching.

The Giants, a difficult team to analyze because of the presence of Willie Mays, Alvin Dark and Don Mueller to counterbalance weaknesses at second, third, left field and behind the plate with a questionable pitching staff to boot, don't figure higher than third.

The Redlegs, with power at the plate exceeded only by the Dodgers, could force their way into the first division only if their pitching outdoes itself.

Despite the presence of Robin Roberts, the best pitcher in baseball, the punchless Phillies don't figure to finish in the first division and may not go higher than sixth.

The Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates are obviously improved but appear doomed to battle it out for seventh place.

The writer picks the teams to finish in the following order:

1. Brooklyn
2. Milwaukee
3. New York
4. St. Louis
5. Cincinnati
6. Philadelphia
7. Chicago
8. Pittsburgh

Like most needy folks, the Dodger-chasers are grabbing at straws. This year there's a young phenom named Charley Neal at second, a strong pitching prospect named Ken Drysdale and a stylish lefthander named Ken Lehman to replace the sore-armed Billy Loes, Karl Spooner and the departed Johnny Podres.

Pontiac High's rampaging track squad seeks new laurels and the 1956 baseball team will be unwrapped in athletic endeavors today and tomorrow.

The Chief thinclads open their Saginaw Valley Conference dual meet season Wednesday at Flint against Central.

The Pontiac-Flint Central meet was originally scheduled today, but has been postponed until tomorrow due to the poor condition of the Flint track.

Wally Schlaerke's cindermen will be overwhelming favorites in view of last Friday's results in the Saginaw-Saginaw Arthur Hill Invitational track meet at Mt. Pleasant.

* * *

While the Chiefs were racing to 61 points for a lopsided triumph, the Indians were managing to muster only 3½ for an 11th place finish in a field of 12 teams. Central's track ace is football star Charley Thrasher.

* * *

Pontiac's baseball squad, with outfielder Bob Murphy the lone returning letterman, takes on Cranbrook today in its season opener at Wisner Field. Starting time is 4 p.m.

Jim Jones will start on the hill for the Chiefs and southpaw Bruce Richards of the Cranes will oppose him.

Cranbrook returned from its annual Dixie tour Sunday. The Cranes lost five and took one decision in the southern trip.

Tennis fans who watched Jack Kramer's professional tennis troupe in action Saturday night at the U. of D. Memorial building discovered why Pancho Gonzales is whipping Tony Trabert with almost monotonous regularity.

Gonzales is too strong and wears Trabert down with his powerful serve. After losing the 1st set, 6-8, Pancho came back with 6-4 and 12-10 victories for his 52nd win over Tony against only 15 losses. Trabert has the shots but he can't handle Gonzales' strong-armed game.

'Switch' of Golf Partner Bothered Ken Venturi

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ken Venturi, unhappy after dropping the Masters golf tournament to Jackie Burke, says he's going to "work my fingers to the bone to beat those pros."

The 24-year-old San Francisco amateur said he was put at a disadvantage on the final round at Augusta, Ga., Sunday when "the officials suddenly made a switch and paired me with Sam Snead" instead of Byron Nelson as scheduled.

"They said they made the change because they were afraid a controversy might develop," Venturi said. "Everybody knows Nelson and I are good friends. He guided and tutored me into a championship golfer."

Venturi led the tournament the 1st three days and appeared almost certain to win but Burke caught him on the last day making up an eight-stroke deficit. Jackie had a final 71 for 289; Ken required 80 to wind up at 290.

* * *

"Burke was paired with Mike Souchak," Venturi told newsmen on his arrival home last night.

"They played in a twosome right in front of me and Souchak helped Burke choose his clubs for the various shots and also helped him read the greens. There's nothing wrong with that but it put me at a disadvantage."

In Augusta Sunday Venturi had said the pros had not tried to needle him into cracking. He added he "wasn't a bit nervous but just couldn't get the ball in the cup."

Calhoun Ready for 'Big Game'

Humez Target After Rory Rips Labua in Monday Outing

NEW YORK (AP)—Undefeated Herman (Rory) Calhoun today served notice on the middleweight contenders today that he is ready to move against fast company. Manager Frank Bachman singled out France's Charley Humez as the next target.

Calhoun has scored 10 knockouts, six of them in his last eight fights. The youngster was cut slightly over the left eye and was nicked on the right eyelid.

A crowd of 1,421 paid $3,652 for matchmaker Teddy Brenner's first promotion.

Marty Marion Blasts Chisox for Poor Play

Indifference of Star Players Stirs Wrath of Hose Manager

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Marty Marion, one of baseball's "nice guy" managers was anything but nice yesterday when he ripped into the Chicago White Sox for indifferent play.

* * *

Seething over his team's performance against the St. Louis Cardinals in the present exhibition swing north, Marion stormed he wouldn't tolerate "indifference" among his star players.

* * *

"I know that this spring training won-and-lost record doesn't mean a thing," said Marion. "But that doesn't mean we have to tolerate indifference among our 'stars' when we play these exhibitions.

* * *

"I tell you one thing," continued the manager to a group of reporters, "we might lose some ball games this summer, but it won't be with players that don't want to play."

* * *

Marion's wrath reached a peak Sunday when the Sox lost to St. Louis, 8-6. It was their 13th defeat in 25 games and their fourth in the last five games with the Cardinals wo have found Sox opposition little better than the minor league variety.

Righthander Dick Donovan was chastised by Marion for a sloppy pitching performance Sunday and big Jim Rivera, the hot-and-cold outfielder, is being benched. Rivera's average has dwindled to .229.

* * *

Bob Nieman will take over for Rivera. Nieman has been troubled with sore feet but he's now ready to play.

* * *

Marion held a meeting of his pitchers and catchers and intimated he had given the boys a going over.

"I laid down the law," said Marion. "There is more ability in our pitchers than we've been seeing and I mean to bring it out."

'Hot' Crews for Navy

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States has five eight-oared crews superior to Russia's 1955 European champions and may have a sixth in Navy's returning 1952 Olympic titlists says Clifford (Tippy) Goes.

The chairman of the U.S. Olympic Rowing Committee, who travels around the world to see and officiate at reggattas, said today he believes Cornell's Intercollegiate Rowing Assn. champions, Pennsyvania's spring kings, Yale, Navy and Washington have better eights than the one the Russians displayed at Ghent, Belgium.

* * *

Nobody knows just how good Navy's great, unbeaten crew of four years ago will be. The "Admirals," as they are called at their naval academy training quarters, will get their first public test Saturday at Annapolis in the Navy-Princeton Cup race.

The "old grads" also will compete against Navy, Harvard and Penn at Annapolis May 5 and in the Eastern spring championships on the Potomac at Washington, May 12.

* * *

"The Admirals are about 10-12 pounds' overweight a man," reported John Cox, Navy sports information director at a rowing luncheon Monday. "That's because of the miserable rainy weather we've been having. Coach Rusty Callow says that will come off as soon as the weather gets warmer.

"Rusty says the Admirals have come up to his expectations so far. Every day from now on will be a little less tough on them."

Cup Tilt on TV, Radio

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit-area hockey fans will be able to view tonight's 5th Stanley Cup playoff game between the Red Wings and Montreal Canadiens at 9 p.m.

The contest will be picked up by CKLW-TV. The complete radio broadcast, starting at 8:30, will be carried over station WXYZ.

The 1952 Navy eight beat out a strong Russian boatload in the Helsinki Olympics to give the U.S. its seventh straight triumph in that event. The Middies were led by Ed Stevens, who stroked the shell to 29 straight victories over a three-year span and who was one of the driving forces in bringing back the storied crew.

* * *

No eight ever has won the Olympics twice. Navy's Olympic kings of 1920 tried a comeback in 1924 but were beaten by 5 feet by Yale in the trial finals.

Detroiter Title Prospect

BOSTON (AP)—Osee Groom, a durable Detroit heavyweight, with both power and ring skill, loomed as a top favorite today to capture a title as the 68th National AAU Boxing Championships moved into the second day at the Boston Garden.

* * *

The big boy from Joe Louis' old hometown displayed a punishing attack to both the head and the body and the ability to take a punch while stopping capable Abie Olds of Cleveland in 1:40 of the third round last night.

* * *

Groom had much the better of a brisk exchange of punches in the opening round and then softened Olds with a jolting right under the heart in the second. Osee continued shifting his attack between the head and body and the referee finally halted the action with Olds virtually helpless on the ropes.

Other outstanding battlers in the opening round included Dick Hall of Buffalo, N.Y., a member of a fighting family; Phil Moyer of Portland, Ore.; Charlie Branch of Philadelphia and Harry Smith of New York and the U.S. Air Force.

Meet the Pro

TOMMY SHANNON, Orchard Lake C C

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

About the age when some boys just starting caddying, Tom Shannon, Orchard Lake Country Club's outstanding pro, was already graduated to the professional ranks.

Shannon began carrying clubs at the age of 7 and at 17 he was the youngest member of the National PGA in the country.

This was at the Delaware Country Club in Muncie, Indiana, where he became pro at this tender age.

* * *

Tom came to Michigan in 1927. He had never played amateur golf. "I guess I turned pro the first day I carried the golf bag," he said.

Before taking over the post at Orchard Lake 16 seasons ago, he was the teaching assistant at Red Run for four years and for six seasons he was head pro at Glen Oaks.

Tom has been quite active in the Michigan section of the PGA, retiring last year after serving three years as president.

One of Tom's proud associations with the PGA was in 1947 when as chairman of the state's film project committee he fostered the filming of the National PGA Championship at Plum Hollow entitled "Behind the Scenes."

His teaching assistant at Orchard Lake for three years has been Bill Kennedy who once was caddying under Shannon. New caddie master added this season is Joe Fouts.

Father Gabalski Back as OL St. Mary Hosts Brighton Cindermen

With Father John Gabalski back at the helm, Orchard Lake St. Mary's track team opens its 1956 season Wednesday at home against Brighton of the Wayne-Oakland League.

Selenske, Madelans and Strucinski will also compete in the high jump and Majewski, Leszcznski and Chet Wajda are slated for duty in the broad jump. Wajda is the No. 1 pole vaulter and Joe Waluk and Leszcznski will put the shot.

Nations in Olympic Games Total Record

MELBOURNE (INS) —The Olympic organizing committee announced today that a record number of countries is assured for the games beginning Nov. 22.

The acceptance of North Borneo raised the number of competing countries to 70, one more than were represented at Helsinki in 1952.

Top Yankee salaries were Joe DiMaggio's $100,000; Babe Ruth's $80,000; and Yogi Berra's reported salary of $50,000 for the forthcoming season.

Duffy 'Real Cheerful' Over Outlook

EAST LANSING (AP)—"I'm going to be real cheerful this spring," said "coach of the year" Duffy Daugherty. "There won't be any crying until the fall."

Daugherty, who took the runner-up spot in the Big Ten and ended his 2nd season as head coach with a Rose Bowl victory, appeared to have plenty to smile about as the talent reported for spring football practice at Michigan State.

There were a lot of players reporting for the 1st whistle Monday afternoon—more than 120—and they were big, dwarfing the coaches as they milled around tearing up the soft turf.

Returnees included 25 lettermen led by a pair of great halfbacks in Walt Kowalczyk and Clarence Peaks. Both had put on more than 10 pounds from last season and admitted weighing around 205.

"Would you call those the best halfbacks State has had since you've been here?" Daugherty was asked.

"They can do more things," Daugherty said. "And they've got more speed and power than any other combination we've had."

The sophomores, counted on to help fill in the gaps left by a dozen departing lettermen, are a heftier lot than has been the case in recent years at MSU—this the result of a planned recruiting policy with the emphasis on durable two-way players.

"They're the biggest bunch physically we've had," Daugherty said. "But that could be good or bad. We've always had the emphasis on speed and don't want a cumbersome team. Now if we could combine that size with speed . . ."

Sammy Williams, a 225-pound 6-5 sophomore end from Dansville, Mich., attracted a lot of attention from the photographers. Williams, a freshman at Michigan State briefly in 1950, was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams on the strength of his play with the Pensacola Air Base team while in the service but has elected to try college ball first.

Pat Wilson, who understudied All-American quarterback Earl Morrall last year, was picked to run the team when the squad started romping through signal drill.

At one shift, Joel Jones, bruisingly effective as a defensive end last season, has been shifted to tackle. Jones will play tackle on the short side—the position where Don Coleman drew the praise of coaches at the greatest tackle they had ever coached.

Daugherty also said he would experiment with Peaks at fullback in at attempt to find a replacement for Planutis.

"We have the greatest offense in football," Daugherty told his 1st practice session, aiming his talk particularly at the sophomores. "And if you're skeptical, wait for a few days until you go on defense in scrimmage."

OBSERVING BASEBALL WEEK — Director of the Michigan Babe Ruth League, Inc., Albert W. Bates, of Birmingham, presents Governor G. Coast Loop Opens Its '56 Season With Six Contests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was opening day in the Pacific Coast League today as the first circuit in organized baseball launched a streamlined 168-game schedule.

Openers in the eight-team league which stretches from Vancouver, B. C., to San Diego, Calif., were concentrated in the southern end where sunny skies were forecast. The northern teams will go home later this month to give fans their initial look.

The first day scheduled in the "open classification" league, for the first time in its history primarily a major league farm circuit, called for six games. Doubleheaders were on tap at San Diego, with Los Angeles the visitors, and at Hollywood with Seattle in the gray road flannels. Single games had Vancouver, which replaced Oakland in the team lineup, at San Francisco and Portland at Sacramento.

* * *

Major league affiliations—and every team has one with the exception of Sacramento—seemed to assure fans of brighter baseball this season than they've seen in years. All rosters were laced heavily with youngsters farmed out by the majors for extra experience, but each team had a handful of grizzled veterans for a backbone.

Yankees' Shortstop Problem Is Reduced

DALLAS (AP)—The once crowded field in the running for the New York Yankees' shortstop berth is down to two players, says manager Casey Stengel—rookie Jerry Lumpe and Phil (who else?) Rizzuto.

Stengel, naturally, regards Rizzuto as the one "I know I can go with. He finished last season for me and played the World Series. He seems to be better now than through the last two springs —no aches, no pains.

* * *

"Still, Lumpe has looked good. He does everything a shortstop's supposed to do. His hitting is as good as expected. And, what's more, he's a very determined young feller."

Guerin, Arcaro in Derby for Whitney

NEW YORK (AP) — In the 73rd Kentucky Derby on May 3, 1947, Eric Guerin booted Jet Pilot out of the gate and the Maine Chance Farm colt led all the way to win the 3-year-old classic by a head over Phalanx, ridden by Eddie Arcaro.

When the band gives out with "My Old Kentucky Home" on the first Saturday in May as the horses parade postward, Guerin and Arcaro are expected to be more or less partners, Guerin rides Career Boy while Arcaro probably will be aboard Head Man. Both are owned by C. V. (Sonny) Whitney of New York.

Career Boy is a dark brown son of Phalanx, who closed steadily but couldn't quite make it for Arcaro nine years ago. Head Man, a grey son of Eight Thirty, won the Experimental Handicap at Jamaica April 3. Both colts were among the top 2-year-olds of 1955.

Both are bred similarly, and while Trainer Sylvester Veitch may lean a bit toward Career Boy, he won't say the colt will be a better 3-year-old than Head Man. Phalanx and Eight Thirty both are sons of Pilate. The dam of Career Boy is Swanky, while Head Man is out of Snowfall. Both are daughters of Mahmoud, who won the 1936 English Derby. Swanky is a full sister of First Flight, a Belmont Futurity winner and only filly to ever top the Experimental Handicap ratings.

"Career Boy is big and rough, and has a rugged constitution — just like his daddy. He's getting more like Phalanx every day. He's not mean, just a big tough playboy," said Veitch.

Career Boy and Head Man wintered with other Whitney horses at Camden, S.C. and Veitch said that if Head Man showed even a 10-per-cent improvement over last season he could be as hard to beat as Career Boy.

LOOK, NO POLE! — C. M. Porter seems to be vaulting without a pole in Melbourne. Actually, he's clearing 6 feet 6 inches to retain the high jumping title in the Australian Amateur Athletic Championships at Olympic Park.

2 Carry U.S. Hopes

TOKYO (AP)—Erwin Klein of Los Angeles and Leah Neuberger carried U.S. hopes into the semi-final round of the mixed doubles event in the World Table Tennis Championships tonight.

Wings Pin Hopes on Win Today

MONTREAL (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings go into the fifth game of the Stanley Cup final against the Montreal Canadiens tonight needing a victory to keep the series alive.

* * *

"There's no tomorrow," said General Manager Jack Adams of the Wings. "Our boys know what we're up against."

* * *

The Canadiens hold a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven final and are prohibitive favorites to wind it up tonight on their home ice.

* * *

Coach Toe Blake of the Canadiens said the Red Wings tried to "get" Bernie (Zoom Boom) Geoffrion in the opening minute of Sunday's game, knowing that Geoffrion had an injured knee.

* * *

Adams and Coach Jimmy Skinner of the Wings both said Montreal's Tom Johnson deliberately struck Metro Prystai with his stick, sending the Detroit right-winger to the hospital with an eye injury.

* * *

Johnson flatly denied the allegation and talked vaguely of suing Adams.

* * *

"It was entirely an accident," said Johnson. "There wasn't even a penalty on the play."

Coach Blake said it seemed obvious to him the Wings were out to "get" Geoffrion.

* * *

"They knew he had been injured in practice and that there was some doubt for a while about him being able to play Sunday," said Blake.

* * *

"So what happened? Prystai sent Geoffrion flying after only 50 seconds of play and was penalized for tripping. We were fortunate that Geoffrion wasn't badly hurt."

* * *

The only Montreal casualty from Sunday's game, won 3-0 by the Canadiens, was little Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard, who sprained his thumb while fighting with Norm Ullman of the Wings. Henri wore a bandage about the thumb on the trip home.

GRAPEFRUIT League

Roor Herb Score. He won 16 games and struck out 245 as the American League rookie of the year with the Cleveland Indians last season, and all the time his "cousins" were in the other league.

* * *

The guys he calls "cousins" are the New York Giants, and he's been treating them like po' relations this spring. In 22 innings against them the 22-year-old fireballin' lefthander has permitted only 3 runs, 12 hits and 10 walks while fanning 21.

He's looked so good the Giants' Don Mueller, a pretty fair hitter, ranks him No. 1 on the Cleveland staff—ahead of Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia.

* * *

Herb was at his usual best yesterday as Cleveland beat the Giants 6-4. Mueller got an infield single and Gail Harris followed with a home run to the opposite field off a low outside fast ball in the first inning, but then Score became almost untouchable. He walked just two and fanned five while giving only one more hit in his five innings—a smash to the mound that went for a single by Whitey Lockman.

Bob Feller mopped up for the Tribe with four hits—one a two-run homer by Hank Thompson, who was purposely held back until Score departed. Giant manager Bill Rigney figured Hank might further injure his stiff shoulder swinging at Score's fast one.

Cleveland got its licks in early, belting Al Worthington for six hits and five runs in the first three frames. Hoot Evers and Jim Hegan homered off the righthander.

* * *

Cold and rain checked the exhibition schedule to five games—and pitching dominated each one.

Robin Roberts was in complete charge as the Philadelphia Phils beat Boston's Red Sox 2-1. Robin, going nine innings, tossed a six-hitter and didn't walk a man.

Milwaukee got eight scattered hits and two runs from Brooklyn rookie Don Drysdale for six frames, then jumped on Dave Cole for four runs in the eighth and won 8-4. Bob Buhl was solved for only three hits before being chased in the eighth. Bob Trowbridge cut off the Brook rally at one run, but was evicted himself in the ninth when Randy Jackson homered. Johnny Logan homered off Drysdale, a 19-year-old right-hander.

State Centennial Farms Remain With Older Folk

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan's older farms are in the hands of its older citizens, a Michigan State University survey released today has revealed.

Albert Levak, MSU researcher, interviewed the present owners of Michigan's 234 centennial farms—those that have been in the same family for 100 years or more.

Here are some of his findings:

A large number of the centennial farms are owned by people who don't operate them... Only 23 per cent of the owners are operating their farms.

Nearly four-fifths of the centennial farmers are older than 55. More than three-fifths are beyond 65. The average age of the owner-operators is 54. For owner for farming, the average age is 71.

Fifty-five per cent of the transfers of the farms have gone to the oldest child. Thirty-two per cent have gone to children who have been neither the youngest nor the oldest.

Seventy-eight per cent of the heirs have been sons, 17 per cent daughters.

KEEP IN FAMILY

Most of the present owners said they wanted to keep the farm in the family. But most tend to delay making the arrangements as only a few have prepared wills.

In the history of the farms, 56 per cent of the transfers have resulted in breaking up units because two or more heirs shared the estate. Yet one of the heirs has always taken over the home farm and continued its operation.

In many cases, at the death of the parents, the farm was equally divided among heirs and the one who took the most active interest in the farm virtually had to start all over again.

* * *

Most of the centennial farm owners view their land as something more than a capital investment. Although 77 per cent of the owners were not operating their farms, 86 per cent still live on the land.

Levak found that centennial farm owners have one philosophy in common. They believe that:

1. Farming is hard work.

* * *

2. There is an independence in farming not found elsewhere.

* * *

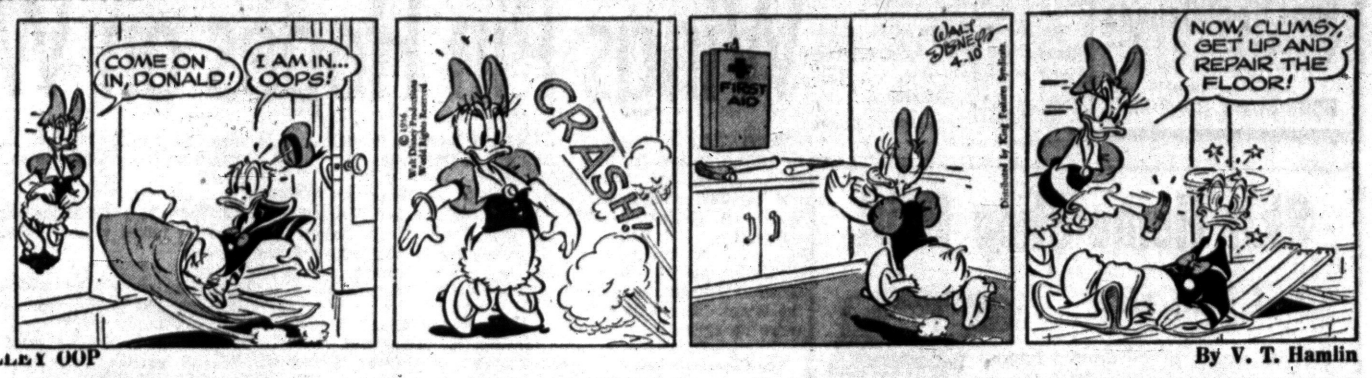

3. A farm is the best place to raise a family.

* * *

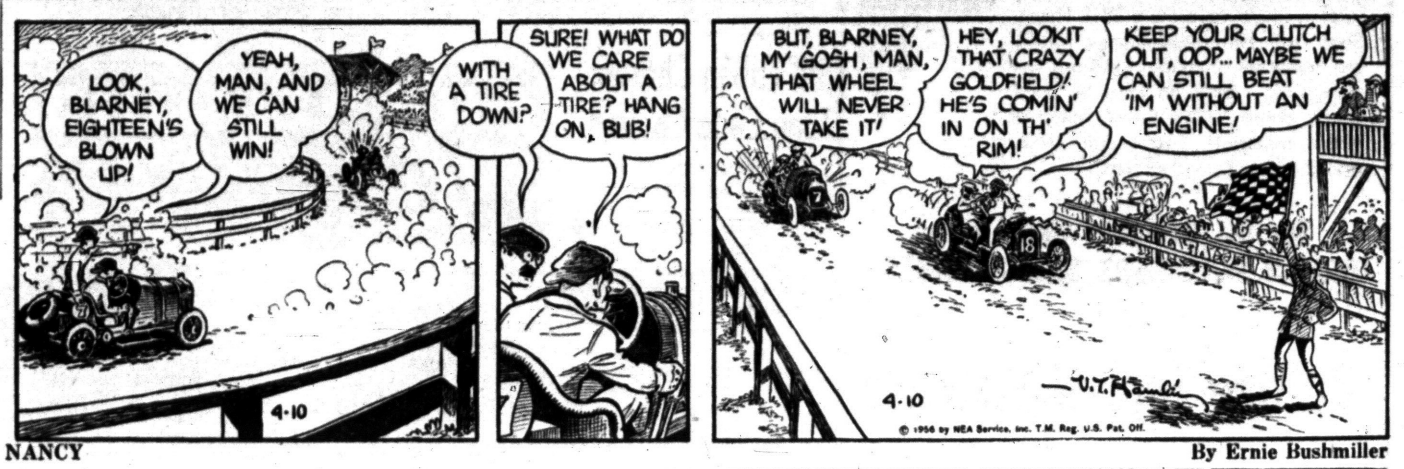

4. Farming is God's way of life.

Grains Sell Off in Active Deals

CHICAGO (AP) — All grains sold off in active dealings on the Board of Trade today. Losses ran to several cents in wheat, soybeans and rye before the decline was halted.

* * *

Touching off the selling was such items as moisture in parts of the Southwest and uncertainty regarding the final outcome of farm bill legislation. There also was a continuation of the profit-taking noted in yesterday's market.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¾ to 1½ lower, May $2.33⅜; corn ¼ to 1 cent lower, May 1.45⅝; oats ⅜ to ½ lower, May 65½; rye 1¼ to 1½ lower, May $1.33½; soybeans 1¼ to 2¼ lower, May $2.80¾; lard 8 cents lower to 2 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $12.60.

'Tired' Postman Just 'Stored' All Mail

DETROIT (AP)—Elwyn A. Hughes, 19, a former mail carrier who "got too tired to complete my route," was on two years probation today.

Hughes, who pleaded guilty to obstructing the mails, was sentenced by Federal Judge Theodore Levin.

The young mail man was arrested last February after a series of complaints. People on his route said they weren't getting any mail. Inspectors found 10,000 pieces of mail in Hughes' attic. All of it finally got delivered.

Hughes explained he "got too tired." Postal inspectors said he must have got tired every day as he stepped out of the post office. He had been a carrier only two weeks.

War 'Will Be Averted'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Marshal Tito's Yugoslav ambassador confidently predicted today that the outbreak of war "not only can, but will be averted" in the dyanmite-laden Middle East.

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Steel Corp. reports its first quarter net sales this year were $22,561,597, up approximately one-third from a similar period last year. M. J. Zivian, president, told the annual meeting of stockholders that earnings for the period may double last year's $1,015,000 for the first three Crowley Milner & Co. yesterday reported earnings of $339,602, or $1 a share, for the year ended Jan. 31. The 1956 figure compared with $188,060, or 55 cents a share, for the similar period in 1955.

Some Stocks Lose Greatly

NEW YORK (AP) — Some deep losses were suffered by high-priced stocks today in a generally declining market.

* * *

In the early afternoon, losses of 1 to 3 points were numerous in many major sections of the list. Gains went to a point at the best, but there were few of them.

Trading was not particularly pronounced, and the pace kept in the neighborhood of yesterday's 2,760,000 shares.

* * *

The market reached a new record high last Friday, and it declined yesterday and today. Prices turned lower right after the opening bell, and they continued down during the first hour. There was some measure of recovery in the second hour, and the market held above its lows in the third hour.

Aircrafts pretty well withstood the selling with Lockheed and General Dynamics higher on the news of contracts from the Air Force for development of an atomic warplane.

Chemicals, particularly the higher-priced issues, were hardest of the major divisions. Oils had some major losses. Also lower with a showing of activity were the steels, coppers, aluminums, motors and railroads. Other sections also were down.

At noon, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down $1.60. It closed yesterday at $190.60 off 90 cents. It established a new record high mark on Friday.

Report Deliveries Up

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler's DeSoto Division reports its retail deliveries in March totaled 12,959 units, the highest March figure in company history. Deliveries for the first quarter of 1956 were 30,977, compared with 32,369 in a like 1955 period.

MIDDLE EAST — AND WEST — There's an awful lot of potential trouble packed into the comparatively small area of the Middle East. Map shows size of the area in relation to the United States. Note that Arab countries comprise about half the area of the United States.

Slates Foreign Policy Address

Ike Will Speak to Nation

AUGUSTA, Ga. (INS)—President Eisenhower followed his stern warning to potential aggressors in the middle East today by scheduling a major foreign policy address to the nation.

* * *

The speech will be delivered before the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington April 21, after his return from a Georgia golfing holiday.

It will be his first major foreign policy speech in nine months—since his report to the American people on the Big Four Geneva Conference last July:

Eisenhower is expected to spell out the principles guiding the administration in its efforts to keep the Middle East powderkeg from exploding into war.

He served blunt notice yesterday that the U. S. stands ready to aid any victim of aggression in the area which poses the gravest threat to the peace of the world.

Official sources said the statement was designed to dramatize this country's determination to oppose aggression by either Egypt or Israel in the border squabble which has erupted in repeated violence.

It is the second time the chief executive has chosen the editors meeting for a major foreign policy pronouncement. He addressed the same group in April, 1953, a few months after taking office.

Parking Meter Test Finds Faulty Units

LANSING (AP) — As the result of a motorist's fast count from a Houghton parking meter, the Upper Peninsula city is junking a batch of the penny and nickel gobblers and replacing them with more accurate devices.

* * *

Miles A. Nelson, chief of the Agriculture Department's division of foods and standards, said investigators who checked motorist's complaint found, among other things:

One meter gave a total of only three minutes parking after insertion of five consecutive pennies. A single penny, instead of the usual 12 minutes, gave 4 minutes apiece in two meters, 10 minutes apiece in three meters, 16 minutes in another and 18 in another.

* * *

A penny in one meter was good for 60 minutes.

Nelson drew no conclusions.

Cobo Assailed on Airport Mess

Bendix Official Accuses Detroit for 'Senseless' Handling of Facility

DETROIT (AP)—William A. Mara, a Bendix Aviation Corp. Executive and Board of Commerce aviation committee chairman, has accused public officials of "senseless" handling of Detroit airport problems.

* * *

Mara's accusation came yesterday before the Detroit Economic Club in a speech in which he called upon Mayor Albert E. Cobo to "straighten out the Detroit airport mess."

Mara and Robert J. Wilson, a vice president of Capital Airlines, opposed Cobo's recommended move of airline operations from Willow Run Airport to Detroit-Wayne Major, 12½ miles nearer Detroit.

The city-county viewpoint was presented by Glenn C. Richards, Detroit commissioner of public works, who said travelers annually waste $1,250,000 in transportation costs and half a million hours in time through the use of Willow Run instead of Detroit-Wayne Major.

Both Wilson and Mara estimated it would cost 28 to 32 million dollars to complete Detroit-Wayne Major Airport, and Mara said "practical considerations demand these funds be spent for development of the northeast airport."

Mayor Cobo, in addition to advocating a switch to Detroit-Wayne Major from Willow Run, has recommended construction of an airport in suburban Warren Township to serve northeastern residents of the metropolitan area.

Add More Charges Against 2 Youths

Two Pontiac youths, held in Oakland County Jail on charges resulting from a series of gang burglaries, yesterday were charged in addition with stealing parts from a car at the Fisher Body parking lot last month.

Pontiac police claimed two tires and two wheels were stolen March 3 by Robert A. Marsino, 17, of 370 E. Tennyson Ave. and by Richard C. Flansburgh, 22, of 46 E. Cornell St.

Marsino also is charged with receiving stolen property and Flansburgh for breaking and entering after nine arrests made in a round-up last week. The pair allegedly were part of a gang which stole beer for parties, police said.

The office of Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said the two men questioned last night were Edward Revere and George Feeney Sr., both of East Meadow and Long Island.

Another member of the local, now attending a union convention in Chicago, will be questioned when he returns, Hogan's office said.

Defend Buying on Installment

Speakers Cite Evidence at National Consumer Credit Conference

ANN ARBOR (INS) — Installment buying was defended yesterday at the National Consumer Credit Conference in Ann Arbor.

* * *

Speakers cited evidence of expanding economy to prove that prosperity would continue to curve upward despite possible short dips.

However, Robert B. Smock, Wayne University research associate, said the credit industry must assume additional responsibility to make credit practices sensible for the individual family and the economy as a whole. Otherwise, Smock added, direct government regulation would be bound to be rigid and restrictive.

The Wayne University specialist predicted a 15 million population increase by 1960. He said the number of spending units will increase even faster than the number of families.

Working wives were cited as an important economic factor. In 50 per cent of households with an income of $7,500 or over, there is a working wife, Smock said.

* * *

Smock defended the modern American household as "undoubtedly the healthiest, happiest, most efficient institution ever devised for rearing the independent kind of person on which a Democracy depends."

Auto Parts Supplier to Halt Production

DETROIT (AP)—Vinco Corp., of Detroit, says it will cease production of auto parts at the end of the current model year because it is unable to make a profit at current prices.

Motors Products Corp., also of Detroit, made a similar announcement last week, saying the move was brought on by a "squeeze in automotive parts prices."

The company said it would continue its Vinco Division, which operates two Detroit plants, primarily for defense work.

HOW I TALKED MYSELF INTO $14,000

By a Wall Street Journal Subscriber

In meetings with business associates and customers I used to be the silent one. I used to "clam up" when the talk turned to politics or economics. All I could talk about was sports.

Then I started reading The Wall Street Journal. It gave me an understanding of what goes on in the world. I learned about the changes taking place in America—new inventions, new industries, new ways to earn money. In conversations with other men I found I could interpret business and government trends a little better than they could. They wondered where I got my "inside dope."

As a result, I gained confidence in talking with people. My boss gave me more important assignments. And my income increased. Last year I earned $14,000.

This story is typical. If you think The Wall Street Journal is just for millionaires, you are wrong. The Journal helps salaried men making $7,000 to $20,000 a year. It is valuable to small businessmen. It can be of enormous benefit to the ambitious young man who wants to win advancement.

The Wall Street Journal is the complete business DAILY. Has largest staff of writers on business and finance. The only business paper served by all four big press associations. It costs $20 a year, but you can get a Trial Subscription for three months for $6. Just tear out this ad and attach check for $6 and mail. Or tell us to bill you.

Defends Illegal Driver Licensing

Sheriff Says He Broke Law After Applicants 'Begged Him'

LANSING (AP)—An upper peninsula sheriff says he broke driver licensing regulations after some applicants "begged me" and threatened to drive without a license unless he issued one.

Sheriff Russell W. Hild of Luce County made the statements at a hearing Monday before Secretary of State James M. Hare, who suspended his licensing powers last month.

Hare acted after investigators reported Hild was issuing licenses to persons outside his county. With certain exceptions, state regulations provide that a sheriff can license persons only within his county.

At the conclusion of the two-hour hearing, Hild said he would follow regulations if the suspension is withdrawn. Hare said a decision on whether to lift the suspension or make it permanent will be announced later.

Hild and C.W. Coates of Sault Ste. Marie, his attorney, emphasized considrations of distance in defending the sheriff's conduct. They said he only did what the people wanted, and exhibited petitions to support their contention.

* * *

George Newman, head of drivers services under Hare, said a "survey" indicated that nearly one of three licenses issued by Hild was to residents of neighboring counties. The applications falsely bore the address of the sheriff's post office box when they were forwarded to Lansing, there by concealing from state officials what was happening.

Convention Hall Cost Increases $5 Million

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit's convention hall and exhibits building will cost more than $5 million over estimates made 16 months ago according to revised figures.

Memorial Hall Commission Director Weld S. Maybee said boosts in the price of structural steel and other increased building costs forced the architects to raise their estimates.

The building will cost $42,789,000, an increase of $5,723,000 over the earlier estimate.

The convention hall and exhibits building will be the last structure in the city's current civic center development. It is designed to give Detroit the nation's finest meeting facility.

Second Twin, 2, 'Failing Rapidly' From Leukemia

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Kathleen Van Lopik, 2, was "failing rapidly" today from the same dread disease that took the life of her twin sister, Eileen, last Feb. 26.

* * *

It wasn't until two weeks before Eileen died that it was discovered Kathleen also was suffering from leukemia, an incurable cancer blood disease. Doctors said it was a rarity of something like "a million to one" that two within the same family would be stricken by leukemia.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Van Lopik, parents of the twins, said Kathleen's condition was "critical" and doctors had told them she was "failing rapidly."

The young parents have no other children, but Mrs. Van Lopik is expecting another child in June.

* * *

Kathleen, in and out of the hospital since her case was diagnosed, was readmitted the day after Easter and took a sudden turn for the worse last weekend.

Three Bone Fractures Force Brady to Leave National Tournament

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Former national champ Bob Brady, forced out for the 2nd straight year by an injury, was one of two seeded players who failed to reach the uarter-finals of the U. S. Handball Assn. national tournament.

Brady was forced to withdraw yesterday when X-rays showed he had broken three small bones in the middle finger of his left hand on the 20th point of the last game in his second round victory over Sig Goffstein of St. Louis.

Art Thornwall of Salt Lake City thus won by default over Brady, a San Francisco policeman who won the crown in 1953, was 2nd in '54 and missed the tourney last year with a shoulder injury. He was seeded 7th.

* * *

Top seeded defending titlist, Jim Jacobs of Los Angeles, outclassed Chicago's Bud Christiansen, 21-1, 21-11. Vic Herhkowitz, Brooklyn fireman seeded 2nd, beat Art Stickle of St. Louis, 21-18, 21-12.

Benson Decries Surplus Growth

Claims Overproduction Smothers Farm Prices and Income

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Agriculture is not sharing adequately in prosperity, Secretary of Agriculture Benson told the American Warehousemen's Assn. today.

* * *

"Most Americans are at work, earning more, producing more, investing more and building more than ever before in our history," he said, "but many of our families who own farms and ranches are in trouble. Their costs are too high. Their prices are too low. Surpluses are smothering farm prices and income."

The secretary said a warehouse is not a market and a grain bin not a customer, "and it is markets that agriculture needs and customers that agriculture must have."

"About 10,000 commercial warehouses are storing government-owned grain under the uniform grain storage agreements," said Secretary Benson. "Almost two billion bushels of storage capacity is represented by these warehouses."

He said storage bins owned by the Commodity Credit Corp. have a capacity of 884 million bushels and that purchase of an additional 100 million bushels was authorized recently.

* * *

"We were reluctant to put the government into the warehouse business," he said. "We want to reverse this trend of government to take over business."

FBI Chief Says Too Many 'Rotten Apples' Are Freed

WASHINGTON (INS) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover bluntly told a gathering of parole officials today they are turning loose too many "rotten apples" — prisoners who should be kept behind bars.

The FBI Chief coupled this with sharp blasts at judges who "coddle hardened criminals" and at authorities who run "country club prisons."

Hoover's free-swinging speech was delivered to more than 600 parole officials meeting in Washington. He told them: "That errors have been made and are being made in the selections of persons to benefit from parole is a proven fact and a matter of grave concern."

The FBI Chief said that no one is helped by "fuzzy and shallow thinking which contributes to maudlin sentimentality."

"We frequently hear," he said, "about the plight of some criminal, but little or nothing about his victims or the anguish and disgrace he has brought to his own loved ones."

As an example of his feelings on "ill advised parole and probation," Hoover noted that members of the 11-man gang alleged to have carried out the Boston Brink robbery received 20 paroles and 17 probations, plus one deportation pardon.

He gave numerous other examples of "fiendish" crimes traced to prisoners on probation and parole, and declared, "Society suffers when any unit of the vast machinery of criminal justice places the interests of the wrongdoer above the protection of society."

The FBI Chief emphasized that he was not attacking the principle of probation and parole but was criticizing the way those principles are sometimes applied.

Adlai Faces Test of Illini Today

Write-In for Kefauver May Stifle His Future as Dem Nominee

CHICAGO (AP)—There was light early voting today in the Illinois primary elections.

Lack of spirited clashes between candidates and rain were apparent reasons for a sparse turnout.

The Illinios ballots were headed by presidential preference tests for Persident Eisenhower and former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, his 1952 Democratic opponent.

Stevenson voted at a fire station in the hamlet of Half Day, near his suburban Libertyville form home at 9:30 a.m.

Asked by an election judge whether he wanted a Republican or Democratic party ballot, Stevenson replied: "Democratic. They haven't convinced me that I should change yet."

Stevenson's name is alone on the Democratic presidential ballot but Sen. Estes Kefauver, another aspirant, is expected to figure in the vote. Backers of the Tennessee senator have urged write-in votes.

Eisenhower has only token opposition in the Republican primary.

HOLDS SPOTLIGHT

The presidential preference primary took the spotlight away from the state and local races. There were only four major state contests and political experts predicted a turnout of about two million of the state's nearly five million registered voters.

Stevenson, in his final bid for support in a television broadcast last night, said: "This one means a great deal to me." He added that the "whole nation" will be watching the Illinois results.

City Resident Injured in Morning Smashup

Face injuries and a possible concussion were suffered by Paul W. Branca, 31, of 71 East Montcalm St. in a two car crash at Kennett Rd., East of Oakland Avenue at 1:45 a.m. today, it was reported by Pontiac General Hospital. He was said to be in fair condition.

The Branca vehicle struck the rear of a stopped car operated by Charles J. Rhines, 31, 1290 Stanley Avenue, police said. Rhines admitted he was stalled in the traffic lane with all lights out when struck, they added.

Neuropsychiatrist Attacks Peace Drugs

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Howard D. Fabing, a Cincinnati Neuropsychiatrist, told the American College of Apothecaries yesterday that newly developed so-called tranquilizing drugs don't necessarily produce "serene peace of mind and tranquility" among all mental patients.

* * *

"Let's not kid ourselves," he said, that these drugs will "empty out the mental hospitals. There still are many forms of mental illness which we know nothing about."

The mental health authority said tranquilizers "have limited uses and different indications.

"They are not immediate in action and as a group some have small effect while others have no effect on the so-called 'normal' segments of the population," he said.

The College of Apothecaries is meeting in conjunction with the convention of the American Pharmaceutical Assn.

Waterford Man Mute on Indecency Count

John William Cutcher, of 2627 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township, stood mute to charges of gross indecency at his arraignment yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Judge Frank L. Doty entered a plea of innocent for Cutcher. No trial date has been set.

Senate Probers Promise to Reveal 'Illegalities' Running to Millions

WASHINGTON (INS) — Senate investigators promised today to expose "illegal, unethical and immoral business activities" involving millions of dollars in Army clothing contracts.

* * *

The promise was made by Investigations subcommittee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark), as his group prepared to resume public hearings on textile procurement practices in the Army's Quartermaster Corps.

New York Clothing Manufacturer Nathan Berger was called as the first witness in what McClellan called the subcommittee's "attempt to develop the circumstances surrounding the purchase" of more than a million dollars in government and municipal bonds.

He said there is evidence these bonds were bought by "two of the largest government contractors using fictitious names or names of third parties who knew nothing of these purchases."

* * *

The Senator said his subcommittee expects to show "the existence of a group of contractors who succeeded in getting contracts from the government under highly questionable circumstances."

She Can't Lose When It Comes to Winning Cars

LOS ANGELES (AP) — You could have knocked Mrs. Ellen Kenney over with a feather when she won that 1951 Cadillac in a church drawing.

"Surprised? why I'd never won anything before," she said at the time.

Today, she is speechless. She has just won a 1956 Buick at another drawing at the same church, and she got her ticket from the same person—her boss, Irving Glasser, who bought both tickets from Superior Judge George A. Dockweiler.

Eight Michigan Towns Declared Disaster Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Small Business Administration has named eight more Michigan counties disaster areas resulting from last week's devastating tornadoes.

They are Leelanau, Benzie, Manistee, Grand Traverse, Montcalm, Allegan, Van Buren and Barry. Ottawa and Kent Counties previously had been declared disaster areas.

Home owners and businessmen in the counties are eligible for 3 per cent loans to repair damage caused by tornadoes. Loan applications may be filed at the Detroit office.

Detroit Made BOAC Co-Terminal in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board today authorized British Overseas Airways Corp. to serve Detroit and San Francisco, and to operate a shuttle service between New York and Nassau, Bahamas.

Detroit was made a co-terminal with BOAC's prsesent terminals of Chicago and New York, on the Transatlantic route which also serves Boston and includes such intermediate points as Gander, Nfld., Montreal, the Azores and Bermuda.

The new authorization permits local flights between New York and the Bahamas capital of Nassau. Except for those flights, however, the Bahamas or Jamaica may be served only on flights starting or ending in England or Scotland, thus prohobiting direct Caribbean service by BOAC from Chicago, Boston or Detroit.

NOTICE OF SALE
SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 7 OF THE TOWNSHIP OF WHITE LAKE OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN SCHOOL DISTRICT BONDS

Sealed bids for the purchase of School District Bonds to be issued by School District No. 7 of the Township of White Lake, Oakland County, Michigan, of the par value of $150,000 will be received by the undersigned, at the Dublin School Building, No. 9260 Sandyside, in said school district (Post Office Address: Route No. 6, Pontiac, Michigan), until 8:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on Tuesday, the 24th day of April, 1956, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

Said bonds will be dated May 1, 1956, will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $1,000 each, will be numbered consecutively in the direct order of their maturities from 1 to 150, both inclusive, and will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding 4% per annum, payable on December 1, 1956, and thereafter semi-annually on June 1 and December 1. Each bid shall state the annual interest rate or rates upon which it is submitted, expressed in multiples of ¼ of 1%. The interest rate for each coupon period on any one bond shall be at one rate only. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

Said bonds will mature serially on the first day of June in each year as follows: $4,000 in each of the years 1957 thru 1962; $5,000 in each of the years 1963 thru 1967, $6,000 in each of the years 1968 thru 1972, $7,000 in each of the years 1973 thru 1975, $8,000 in each of the years 1976 thru 1979, and $2,000 in each of the years 1980 and 1981. Bonds maturing in the years 1976 thru 1981 are subject to redemption by the school district prior to maturity, in inverse numerical order, on any one or more interest payment dates on and after June 1, 1966, at par and accrued interest plus a premium on each bond in accordance with the following schedule:

$20 if called to be redeemed on or after June 1, 1966 but prior to June 1, 1969
$15 if called to be redeemed on or after June 1, 1969 but prior to June 1, 1972
$10 if called to be redeemed on or after June 1, 1972 but prior to June 1, 1975
$5 if called to be redeemed on or after June 1, 1975

Notice of redemption shall be published not less than 30 days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the City of Detroit, Michigan, which carries as a part of its regular service, notices of the sale of municipal bonds. The remaining bonds will not be subject to redemption prior to maturity. Both principal and interest will be payable at such bank or trust company in the State of Michigan as shall be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds.

The bonds are to be issued for the purpose of defraying a part of the cost of erecting and furnishing an addition to the Dublin School building in said school district, and will be the general obligations of the school district which is authorized and required by law to levy upon all the taxable property therein such ad valorem taxes as may be necessary to pay said bonds and the interest thereon, without limitation as to rate or amount.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from May 1, 1956 to their respective maturities and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the school district. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $3,000 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the school district must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Berry, Stevens & Moorman, attorneys, Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds. The cost of said legal opinion, and of the printing of the bonds will be paid by the school district. Bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Richard H. Vine who passed away suddenly April 10, 1936.
Twenty lonely years have passed away,
Since our great sorrow fell.
The shock that we received that day
We still remember well.
We little thought when leaving home
You would no more return.
That you in death so soon would sleep,
And leave us here to mourn.
God gave us strength to bear it,
Courage to fight the blow,
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.
Still sadly missed by his loving wife Lizzie and daughter Josephine

Noel Coward Shoots Some Barbs at American Video

Zsa Zsa's Engagement Still Goes, Mama Says

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Zsa Zsa Gabor's engagement to Hollywood builder Hal Hayes is reported to be off already — although Mama Jolie Gabor denies it and told me that Zsa Zsa's small daughter is crazy about Hayes.

"Vy, just today," Jolie said, "I talked to my granddaughter who had been veesited in Hollyvood by Meester Hayes who brought her presents. She said to me, "I am so happee now because I am expecting another veesit from my future father."

BETTY GEORGE

The Latin Quarter's Lou Walters want to bet that Bette George, who opens there in June will out-do any Italian movie gal. (She's Greek.)

I got chichied up in a dinner jacket for the Ringling Circus opening — where everybody talked about the absence of famous clown Emmett Kelly due to a labor battle between the circus and AGVA.

"Do you miss him?" I asked Pat Valdo, the famous circus boss.

"Yes, but the circus'll go on without him," said Valdo. "The circus went on," he added, philosophically, "without Barnum & Bailey."

Herb Shriner was laughing about the overconfidence of youth. A few summers ago he was called about subbing for Arthur Godfrey on TV. "They want you to replace Arthur Godfrey," he was told. "Sure, I'll do it," he said, "but what did they fire him for?"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Frank Sinatra and Patti Page toured the Las Vegas spots causing talk . . . Linda Christian came in—is Ed Purdom hiding here, too? . . . Jack Paar's father's very ill in the midwest; Orson Bean was asked to sub on his TVer . . .

Bob Harrison—whose "Confidential" magazine frequently raps Sammy Davis Jr.—invited Sammy to lunch and asked him to record the song, "Sh, It's Confidential". . . Temple Texas is featured in "Pipe Dream."

TEMPLE TEXAS

Jaye P. Morgan, a hot gal at RCA-Victor, will be Eddie Fisher's TV summer sub . . .

Maurice Chevalier will get six G's for ten minutes on a Montreal TVer . . . Walter Reuther will tour India for the State Department . . . Burl Ives wants the Walter Slezak role in the London version of "Fanny" . . . Billy Daniels' ex, Martha Braun, is taking music lessons and may have another fling at show biz.

Earl's Pearls . . . Taffy Tuttle agrees that changing her name may help a girl become successful—depending on whose name she changes it to, and how wealthy he is.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A modern employer is one who is looking for men between the ages of 25 and 30, with 40 years' experience.—Quote.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: No doubt about it — the loudest noise in the world is the first rattle in your new car.—Lucia Wallace.

We hear that Conrad Hilton will build a hotel in Walla Walla. He'll call it the Hilton Hilton. That's earl, brother.

Delivers Blast at Censorship

Playwright Considers Taboo Against Cussing 'Fairly Ridiculous'

By ATRA BAER

NEW YORK (INS) — Noel Coward, of the carefully barbered flannels and accent, took 15 minutes out from rehearsals of his upcoming spectacular to tell us exactly what's wrong with American TV.

Rapid-fired Noel, whose TV career has been stormy so far:

"Frankly, I haven't watched too much TV, but a person doesn't have to look at it to be on it.

"Speaking as a writer, I'm not sorely tempted to write for television.

"What you need is a new code of censorship. Some of your taboos are fairly ridiculous.

"I am terrified of nothing in this world, especially not of TV executives.

"People in TV pay too much attention to money, though I'm devoted to it myself." (Noel earned $30,000 a week in a Las Vegas nightclub).

"The American public's taste is impeccable. They like me."

Couple of months back, Noel didn't see bumper-to-bumper with his sponsors—his material was termed "too sophisticated" but a compromise was reached and he'll star, direct and adapt a 90-minute version of his book "This Happy Breed" on "Ford Star Jubilee" May 5 (CBS-TV).

Originally, Noel's play "Present Laughter" was scheduled for "Jubilee," but network and sponsors canceled plans saying ratings on Noel's previous telecasts were "too low to sell the product."

He concluded our interview during his New York visit with a blast at censorship:

"If an actor wants to utter small expletives—you know the everyday kind that everybody says—I see no reason why he shouldn't be allowed to.

"May I voice my dismay at what really needs censorship? Those sly innuendos and implications which are really in bad taste to be found on any number of quiz shows for example."

'BLONDIE' ON TV

"Blondie," famed comic strip, will bow as a teleseries next fall. Vitapix will produce and release the comedy starring Arthur Lake as "Dagwood," Pam Britton as "Blondie" and Harold Peary (Great Gildersleeve) as Herb Woodley . . .

Crooner Guy Mitchell will co-star with his ex-wife, Jackie Loughery, in a series titled "Mystery Harbor," slated for shooting this summer.

Jack Benny has Kim Novak set to co-star in the telecast he'll do shortly from London . . .

Vanessa Brown wants to do William Saroyan's "Slaughter of The Innocents" as a spectacular . . .

Ann Sothern would like to do "Maisie" as a TV series but MGM isn't ready to release the rights . . .

CLAUDETTE INTERESTED

Claudette Colbert, who didn't like TV at first, would like to do a weekly show patterned along the lines of Jane Wyman's . . .

Rin Tin Tin of the Screen Gems' series just put his pawprint to a contract for the third year. The pup makes $150,000 per annum, which is nothing to growl at . . .

"Dragnet" and a prospective new sponsor are talking things over . . .

June Havoc readying another teleseries . . .

Slapsy Maxie Rosenbloom is now a "technical adviser" on the Damon Runyon Theater series.

There is enough ice on Greenland to cover the whole earth to a depth of 17 feet.

Ninety Tons Dropped in Arctic

Supplies Pour Into 'Dewline' Bases

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Reporter

AT AN ARCTIC RADAR SITE (AP)—Ninety tons of airplane and cargo ease down to the ice runway of a lake, 1,000 miles from civilization.

* * *

Another load of freight is delivered in the race to build the Distant Early Warning Line, called the "Dewline."

By military and commercial aircraft, by ship, by tractor-drawn sled trains, close to 200,000 tons of material has been toted in the last year to build the warning line along the 3,000 miles at the top of the American continent.

SENTRY SYSTEM

When Dewline is ready, perhaps as much as two years from now, it may provide a plane-proof electronic sentry system standing watch for air invaders.

The eastern end of Dewline will be on Baffin Island, across from Greenland.

* * *

The western end is at Cape Lisburne, Alaska, about 200 miles southwest of Point Barrow. The cape is only about 200 miles from an eastern tip of Siberia, only 100 miles from the international boundary which extends out into the Arctic Ocean from Bering Strait.

CAN BE JAMMED

Newsmen who traveled the 3,000 mile stretch of Dewline asked if it would be possible for an aggressor to jam the system with electronic equipment.

Maj. Gen. James E. Briggs, a deputy chief of staff of the U.S. Air Force which is building the line, says "there is no electronic emanation put out in space which can't be jammed." He says everything possible is being done to prevent jamming.

* * *

There were those who wondered if Dewline, equipped now to detect manned planes, such as jet bombers, could cope with ballistic missiles fired over the polar area. Briggs' reply was that "when ballistic missiles become an immediate threat, we'll have to design to meet them."

The C124 Globemasters are probably the most impressive cargo carriers of the whole fantastic transportation system. Globemasters of the 18th Air Force, assigned the job of hauling heavy equipment, have accumulated thousands of flying hours shuttling between the United States and Dewline.

DIFFICULT TO BUILD

The arctic cold is both a hindrance and help. It imposes almost intolerable pressures on crews who must maintain and operate aircraft. But it also congeals lake surfaces to ice more than five feet thick and blankets barrens with snow which can be compacted into airstrips.

Burma Road and the Great Wall of China were comparatively easy to build. The materials were at hand. The builders of Dewline must bring a vast variety of equipment from points thousands of miles distant.

What the Western Electric Co. and its subcontractors need for this Dewline job is enormous in quantity and variety — huge bulldozers, tons of steel and cement, prefabricated buildings, wire and cable by the hundreds of miles, food to feed thousands of hungry workmen.

SENT BY CONTRAST

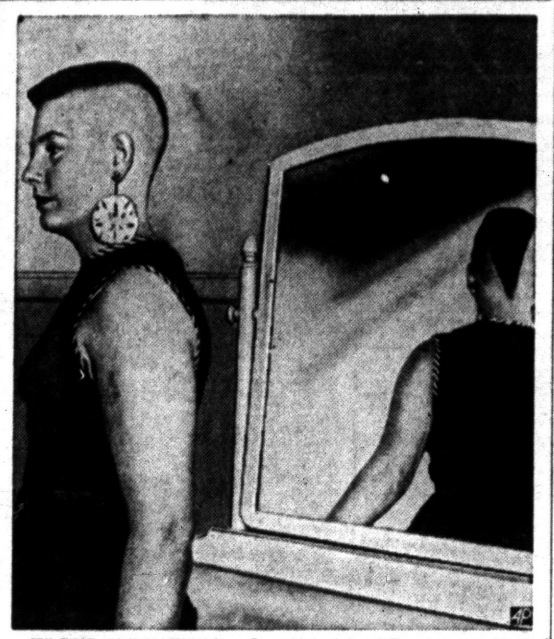

The transportation item will figure heavily in whatever Dewline finally costs—perhaps a billion dollars or more. The greater percentage of the winter shipment now moves by contract commercial aircraft.

In the commercial airlift have been 81 U.S. and Canadian planes. Day and night, they come winging in from the south, leave their loads, head back home for more.

Aircraft wrecks add to the transportation cost. The commercial carriers have lost 18 planes and two lives.

* * *

Maj. Gen. Chester McCarty, commander of the 18th Air Force, reports that of the 106 aircraft his outfit has used in the airlift three have been in accidents. One was minor; another crash landed but many of its parts were salvageable; the third was a total loss. No lives were lost.

TO END ALL HAIRDOS — Joan Heinrich, of Spencerport, N. Y., an art school student in Sarasota, Fla., came up with this hairdo called the Mohawk, after the Indian Style.
