FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

WASHINGTON — The government moved at top speed today to obtain a quick grand jury indictment of Teamsters Vice President James R. Hoffa on bribery charges.

Government attorneys, charging Hoffa with offering a New York lawyer $18,000 to feed him secret Senate Labor Committee documents, hope to complete their case tonight at the end of the second day of hearings.

Hoffa, the heir-apparent to Teamsters President Dave Beck, was arrested in a Washington hotel Wednesday night and the FBI said committee documents were found in his possession.

Frank W. Brewster, chairman of the Western Conference of Teamsters, today denounced as "absolutely fantastic and completely untrue" charges that he and other union officials conspired to control rackets in Portland, Ore.

Brewster, testifying before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, pictured himself as victim of a "smear campaign" by Portland racketeer James B. (Big Jim) Elkins and others.

Reading from a 21-page prepared statement, Brewster told the committee the evidence against him "consists mainly of hearsay, rumor, and insidious innuendo." He attacked the genuineness of voice recordings which Elkins says he secretly made.

Brewster said that "with few exceptions" his accusers in the hearings have been underworld characters whose testimony "can be and was used to create the impression that the Teamsters may have engaged in illegal practices in Portland."

'TRIVIAL EVENTS'

"I have never conspired with anyone at any time or place . . ." Brewster said.

He contended there has been testimony about "trivial events which, when linked together with the perjured testimony of Elkins," unfairly seemed to brand him.

Specifically, Brewster denied allegations that he had accepted $10,000 from Stanley Terry, a Portland tavern operator, to let

House Committee Cuts Agency Requests

Budget Pared Half Billion

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House Appropriations Committee gave a spurt to the economy drive today by whacking more than a half billion dollars from 1958 spending plans of 18 government agencies.

The committee cut a total of $516,933,200—or almost 10 per cent—from the $5,406,201,700 President Eisenhower requested for the independent offices in the executive department.

Major victims of the lawmakers' ax were the Veterans Administration, the General Services Administration and the Civil Defense Administration. They suffered cuts totaling $462,000,000.

The bill now goes to the House, which so far has solidly backed the committee in its efforts to whittle down the President's record peacetime budget of $72,807,000,000.

The committee accused the VA of keeping some of its hospitals "too plush" and urged the agency generally to be more careful in how it administers its multi-billion-dollar benefit programs.

The agency was voted $4,682,705,300, a reduction of about 4 per cent in its requests. About three-quarters of the cut came out of compensation and pensions. Readjustment benefits and hospitals also took large reductions.

Reductions in other agency spending programs averaged 30 per cent.

The General Services Administration—the government's housekeeping organization — was sliced from a request of $442,629,000 to $277,389,600.

The committee cut the civil defense supply program from $75,000,000 to $3,300,000.

It completely eliminated $8,300,000 asked for civil defense functions of federal agencies. Altogether the agency was voted $39,300,000 out of a request for $130,000,000.

Here is what other agencies asked and what the committee cut: Civil Service Commission, $22,924,000, $1,832,200; disaster relief, $10,000,000, nothing; Federal Communications Commission, $8,950,000, $650,000; Federal Power Commission, $5,900,000, $370,000.

Federal Trade Commission $6,250,000, $300,000; General Accounting Office. $37,000,000, $1,750,000; Housing and Home Finance Agency, $127,900,000, $8,255,000; Interstate Commerce Commission, $17,500,000, $1,000,000.

'Didn't Like Sitter' Is Neighbor's Report

By SYLVIA deSTEIGER

Mrs. Eileen Falls' first impression of Roberta Sue (Madeline) Allred hasn't changed.

"My impression when I first met the girl was that I did not like her," the neighbor of Mr. and Mrs. Tiernan said today.

Mrs. Falls, who lives in the upstairs apartment of the Tiernan home, 36 Florence Ave., first discovered Patricia Tiernan and her teenage baby-sitter were missing yesterday.

Mrs. Falls trembled when she told that the same confessed kidnap killer had taken care of her two-and-one-half-year-old son Gary about one hour each morning for about two weeks at the same time she was taking care of the Tiernan children.

Mrs. Falls thought Madeline was not "very affectionate" with the children and she was sure the girl never fondled the children.

Her son Gary told her recently that the babysitter had spanked him for crying, and he didn't like her.

Mrs. Falls also said that Madeline replaced her regular babysitter on one occasion, and she was dissatisfied with her handling of the children.

Her children, Gary, Patty and Kathleen were all hungry and dirty when she returned, Mrs. Falls said, and apparently had lacked attention during the day.

"I guess you would call her a rattle-brain. She always acted like everything wasn't all there," Mrs. Falls commented.

$300 in Pot-O-Gold Waiting for Winner

Another week without a Pot-O-Gold winner means that the puzzle appearing on page 31 is worth $300. That gives you several days to work on it, as the deadline for postmarking entries isn't until midnight Tuesday.

However, be sure your puzzle is definitely postmarked by then, because those that arrive too late aren't even checked. No sense spending hours to solve the puzzle (even though it is a lot of fun) and then having it disqualified.

Answers for last week's puzzle appear on page 5. If you read the explanations carefully, you may get some ideas for the current Pot-O-Gold.

Put Dems in School Posts, Williams Tells 162 Here

Gov. G. Mennen Williams this morning told a group of city and county Democrats that the future of education in Michigan hinged on the election April 1 of a six-person Democratic education slate.

"On our shoulders rides the future of a lot of young people in Michigan," Williams said in a breakfast at the Elks Temple here.

He praised the Democratic candidates for regents of the University of Michigan, Mrs. Irene E. Murphy, and Carl Brablec; superintendent of public instruction candidate Lynn M. Bartlett; Chris H. Magnusson, candidate for the State Board of Education; and Don Stevens and Jan B. Vanderploeg, running for State Board of Agriculture (governing body of Michigan State University).

Williams accused the Republicans of being "willing to forego the equitable corporation profit tax to sell our children down the river."

He said the GOP members in the Lansing Senate were fighting his recommendation that much needed supplements for education be taken from general funds. "This is the general Republican attitude on education," the Governor charged.

'HERE'S A TEAM'

"Here's a team to solve a very real problem," Williams said of the six, in the talk which kicked off a tour of Oakland County.

He told the gathering of 162 persons that "if it hadn't been for the Democrats the teachers wouldn't have received a $2,000 salary increase."

'Planned Killing for One Week,' City Girl Says

Roberta Sue Allred, 18, Held in Death of Baby, Patricia Tiernan, 2½

By PETE LOCHBILER

The brutal details of the kidnap-slaying of a 2½-year-old Pontiac girl were contained today in the confession State Police attributed to an 18-year-old baby sitter.

Found drowned in a bathtub at a Detroit hotel last night was Patricia Tiernan, daughter of Theodore W. Tiernan, 26, and his wife, Mildred, 23, of 36 Florence Ave.

The baby sitter, Roberta Sue Allred, of 33 Gingell Ct. is held in Detroit Receiving Hospital for possible psychiatric examination and charges of murder.

Miss Allred, commonly known by the nickname "Madeline," was arrested yesterday afternoon for loitering outside Jackson Prison, where her brother, Frank, is an inmate.

Her seemingly unbelievable story led to the discovery of the dead child shortly after 11 p.m. ending a seven-hour, state-wide alarm concentrating in Pontiac.

The tomboyish baby sitter, clad in blue jeans and bobby-sox, had disappeared with the child sometime yesterday morning.

State police said the girl told them she took Patricia to Detroit and after wandering around the city, went to the hotel.

She told the manager she didn't have any money, but was tired and he let her rest in a room.

DECIDES TO KILL

Police quoted her as giving this horrifying story:

"When I got to the room, I washed myself and then the baby. While I was washing her I decided to kill her.

"First I strangled her with a towel until her face turned blue. Then I held her head underwater for two hours to make sure she was dead."

The girl who obtained her job three weeks ago, added grimly: "I had been planning to kill her for about a week. I like to kill people."

The tragedy left the parents collapsed and sobbing wildly in each other's arms last night. During their long ordeal of waiting, they had learned the girl had a history of mental illness and was a habitual runaway.

Tiernan is an assembly worker at Fisher Body in Pontiac. His pretty, blonde wife is employed as a secretary at Clarke Oil Co., 659 Pershing Ave. Miss Allred had cared for Patricia and a younger child, Catherine, 11-months, five days a week.

Judge Suggests Lovin' to Keep Traffic Movin'

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Municipal Judge George N. Kiroff told a parent-teacher group at LaGrange School recently that squabbles at home cause men to become prone to traffic accidents.

On the theory that a good driver nowadays is hard to find, the judge recited a poem with a ring of plagiarism:

"Hug him every mornin',
"Kiss him every night,
"Give him plenty lovin',
"And he'll drive all right."

'Star' of TV Surgery Sits Up

Wever Recovers Rapidly

DETROIT (INS) — Harlow Wever, the Scotville farm equipment salesman who underwent heart surgery before grinding television cameras, was reported recovering somewhat ahead of schedule today.

Wever, 24, was able to sit up yesterday and also managed to stand on his feet. He says he has no pain except when he coughs.

More than a half-million TV viewers saw the operation Tuesday night. The surgery was performed to repair a damaged valve in the left chamber of Wever's heart.

Severe Storms Hit Other Michigan Cities

Area Relaxes After Tornado Alert

Jittery Oakland County residents breathed easier this morning as the tornado warning was lifted for the Southeastern Michigan area and the high winds died down.

The tornado warning for the Detroit area was issued at 9:09 last night, but was canceled at 1 a.m. this morning.

The alert, however, sent county residents scurring for home. A number of meetings adjourned hastily as members rushed from Pontiac to their homes in outlying communities.

Although no twisters developed, severe thunderstorm wracked the area and much of lower Michigan, including Bay City, Gladwin, Grand Rapids, Battle Creek, Jackson, Hillsdale and Ionia.

Gladwin reported winds up to 70 miles an hour and Ionia had storm damage with trees and power lines blown down.

Other parts of the midwest did report tornadoes. East central Illinois was struck and severe thunderstorms also occurred in sections of Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee.

The turbulent winds followed an unseasonal spell of warm weather. The high yesterday was 67 in Pontiac, just one degree below the all-time local record for this date set in 1913.

A mass of cold air from the north and west caused the storms, bringing with it lower temperatures and snow.

Minnesota, Iowa, the Dakotas and Nebraska appeared the hardest hit by the late winter icy storms yesterday.

At least six deaths were attributed to blizzard conditions, four in Minnesota and two in Iowa.

known, Tiernan was confused because the girl "had never displayed anything unusual. The kids always seemed to be content with her," he said.

His wife, praying the worst would not happen, said the girl seemed to be good with the children. Mrs. Tiernan is expecting another child in July.

Miss Allred is the daughter of Mrs. Lucille Allred. The girl attended Baldwin Elementary School and then Lincoln Junior High School. She did not graduate.

Pontiac police confirmed she had a record as a runaway, but apparently had not been in trouble the last three years. Her statement continued this way:

After the slaying, the girl took a bus to Ann Arbor, where she met friends who drove her to Jackson.

Arrested for causing a disturbance in the prison lobby, she suddenly blurted out, "I killed a baby in Detroit today."

She continued calmly that she once had tried to kill her mother and a little boy in grade school. Later, the girl reportedly shredded the mattress of the bed in her temporary prison cell, tried to climb the bars of the door and shrieked wildly.

Police said she had spent time in California and Michigan mental institutions and had once assaulted a worker at Oakland County Children's home.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said if the girl is prosecuted, it probably will be in Detroit for murder. He added an investigation would be made to determine if a charge of kidnapping here would be possible as an alternative charge.

Patricia's body was to remain in Detroit until an autopsy is performed and then be returned to Pontiac. Funeral arrangements were pending at Brace - Smith Funeral Home.

When the horrible truth was known, the hidden motives underlying the crime continued to mystify Pontiac police. The outward series of events, however, seemed fairly well established.

They appeared like this:

At 7:20 a.m. Miss Allred arrived as usual at her job. She was driven there by her mother, who continued on to Birmingham where she does house work.

Tiernan had already left for his 6 a.m. shift. Mrs. Tiernan said she noticed nothing unusual as she left the home and took a bus to work.

How soon the child and baby sitter left was not immediately known.

FIRST HINT

The first hint occured to Mrs. Eileen Falls, 28, who lives in the flat above the Tiernans.

Mrs. Fall noticed she didn't hear the customary sounds of television from downstairs. However, she was washing clothes and couldn't be sure.

At 9:30-10, Mrs. Allred telephoned her daughter from work. There was no answer. She thought perhaps her daughter had taken the children upstairs to visit Mrs. Falls.

Mrs. Falls came downstairs to check the mail at noon. "There wasn't anything for the Tiernans," she said, "so I didn't stop in. But as I went by their dor, I noticed it was quiet."

About 45 minutes later came the first realization that Miss Allred and the little girl were gone from the house. Mrs. Falls came downstairs with her washing and knocked at the Tiernan front door.

She wanted Miss Allred to babysit for her son, Gary, 2½, as she hung the clothes to dry.

The front door, as usual, was unlocked. Mrs. Fall found the front rooms empty. In the rear bedroom, the 11-month-old baby was playing unattended in its crib. Mrs. Falls took it upstairs.

When the baby sitter and child had not returned by about 1:15 p.m., Mrs. Falls became worried enough to telephone Mrs. Tiernan at work.

DECIDE TO WAIT

They decided to wait awhile. There began a series of phone calls between the two women as anxiety mounted. At 3:30 Mrs. Tiernan returned home early from work.

Mrs. Falls once again had to announce there was no change. A half-hour later, the mother nervously telephoned police.

"I wasn't sure whether anything really was wrong. But I was getting very worried. My husband wasn't home and I thought I should let the police know."

Police took the call and began routine procedure.

At 4:30, Tiernan drove as usual to the Clarke company to take his wife home. He was told she had already left.

About the time Tiernan arrived, the atmosphere at the police station had changed.

Dets. Robert Emery and Orville Johston had started work on the afternoon shift and were assigned to the case.

Emery was worried. He knew Miss Allred and her past record. "I lived next door to the Allred's in 1951," he said, "I remember Madeline was getting into trouble even then.

"She was 12 years old and already a habitual runaway. She was involved in some thefts, too — petty stuff. I don't know whether she has a police record for that.

"By the time she was 15-16, Madeline had a reputation for having travelled all over the country."

Giving the worried young couple assurances, Emery and Johnston began a check of all public places in Pontiac.

SEARCH CITY

Uniformed police joined in the search of restaurants, theaters, bars, stores and the Greyhound Bus Station. Greyhound city bus drivers were queried as well as taxi-cab drivers.

No leads turned up. At 7:38 the first state-wide teletype was sent out to all law enforcement agencies, giving a full description of Miss Allred and Patricia.

As the search continued, the Tiernans could only wait at home, comforting each other as the hours dragged out.

Less than an hour before the dreaded truth was known, the young mother was sitting up in her night clothes, bravely fighting back tears.

TELLS OF HIRING

She told of hiring the girl. "She seemed all right to me. Her mother came to the interview with her. Neither of them said anything about the girl being in trouble before or being mentally disturbed.

"If they had, we would't have trusted our children with her and this would never have happened," she related.

Tiernan explained his family had rented the home a little more than a month. "In a way," he said, "we were just really getting started."

Mrs. Tiernan, a native of Georgia, had been working 10 months to increase the family income. Tiernan, who originally is from Munising, has worked at Fisher Body approximately two years. He served seven years in the Navy.

They were married in Munising 3 years ago and lived at 355 S. East Blvd. when first in Pontiac.

Holding little Catherine in her arms, Mrs. Tiernan said with tears, "All I want is Patty back home safe and sound."

"Madeline ran away a lot of times, that's true," she admitted, "but she's never been in any real trouble. She's never suffered from amnesia or anything like that. Frankly, I just don't know what this is all about."

She defended her daughter and would not reveal many facts about the girl or her habit of running away.

"She just up and left when she wanted to—you couldn't stop her. Then when she came back she wouldn't tell much about what had happened. I guess girls nowadays are like that."

Mrs. Allred said Madeline's father had left her shortly after the girl's birth. The mother was married a second time and now is separated.

Madeline has two older sisters, neither at home, the mother said.

"I don't really want to talk about it," Mrs. Allred said.

"I've waited all night and there doesn't seem to be anything I can do. The best thing probably would be to go to bed and get a good night's sleep."

Her plans were interrupted when police arrived 1½ hours later to break the tragedy.

COMMUNITY LEADERS MEET — Fred V. Haggard (right), president of the Greater Pontiac Advisory Council greets Ronald O. Warner, president of the Flint Council of Social Agencies, who discussed the job of community council and how they get their jobs done Thursday night at the quarterly meeting of the local council.

Pontiac Advisory Council Studies Need of Paid Staff

The possibility of a need for a paid staff for the Greater Pontiac Advisory Council was raised last night when approximately 60 persons attended the quarterly meeting of the group at the city hall. After guest speaker Ronald O. Warner, president of the Flint Council of Social Agencies, a similar organization, spoke to the group on the Flint organizational structure, four members of the Pontiac Council discussed the possibilities for further improvements in the Pontiac area.

A paid staff such as organized in Flint would avoid duplications of work and funds, help tie the work of the community council together, according to Warner.

Warner, operating manager of a division of Chevrolet Motor Division in Flint, also stressed that every industrial community such as Flint and Pontiac needs leadership in areas of social welfare services which the council provides.

The panel consisted of four members of the Pontiac council who recently attended a Conference of Community Welfare Council leaders in St. Louis, Mo.

They were David E. Utley, member of the Executive Committee of the local council; Glenn H. Griffin, president of the Community Chest of Pontiac; Arthur Heaton, Red Cross and county CIO council leader and Robert Langer, assistant director of the Pontiac Area United Fund and consultant for the advisory council.

Water Proposal Brings Protests

Detroit Group Raises Objections; Hudson Is Confident of Solution

Possible passage of a bill proposed to make additional water supplies available to Oakland County, was jarred slightly yesterday by objections from two Detroit representatives.

But Pontiac Rep. Leslie H. Hudson, who introduced the bill, expressed confidence that the objections can be "overcome" when the measure comes up for final reading next Tuesday.

Objections raised by the Detroit representatives, according to Hudson, were that Detroit didn't have an adequate water supply to care for its city customers.

The bill would allow a city, such as Detroit, to extend its water facilities into outlying communities and charge more than double what it charges its own water consumers.

Hudson said these charges would still be less than the total cost of water presently paid by many Oakland County consumers.

The second objection was that the representatives wanted to know what financial guarantee Detroit had if they built a supply line and pumping station to this area, and communities, like Pontiac, might switch to another supply source.

Hudson answered the second objection by saying that the negotiable contract would make the community financially responsible.

The bill would allow for more than doubling the rates, which would cover the costs for building extension of mains and pumping stations.

Hudson believes the bill is a step towards solving the dwindling water supply in Pontiac and in surrounding communities.

Six Hospital Doctors File Suit on Rules, Regulations

Six Pontiac General Hospital doctors this morning filed a suit in Oakland County Circuit Court in an attempt to stop Miss Lauretta Paul, hospital director, from enwhich, the suit charges, "proforcing rules and regulations, hibits unrestricted use of their licenses to practice medicine and surgery."

Judge Frank L. Doty ordered that Miss Paul show cause April 8 why she shouldn't be enjoined from enforcing the hospital-established regulations.

Named as plaintiffs in the suit were Drs. Leonard Blackwell, Robert W. Albrecht, Douglass A. Haddock, Maolin Han, Rodman C. Jacobi, and Roy V. Cooley, who is also a city commissioner.

The suit charges that the "sole regulatory authority concerning rights of physicians and surgeons to practice in public hospitals is vested in the Michigan State Board of Registration in Medicine."

MET WITH BOARD

When members of the hospital's Board of Trustees heard of the suit in February, a meeting was called in an attempt to settle differences.

Trustees this week said the sextet of doctors had refused to follow normal grievance procedure, which, they said, the doctors had agreed to Feb. 18.

The suit also charges that the rules, outlining surgical privileges at Pontiac General, were in violation of a 1915 land grand deed under which the hospital was built.

The deed specifies that "all physicians and surgeons shall have the right to practice and have their patients in the hospital on equal terms and without discrimination, regardless of their several schools on practice of medicine."

SAY RULES NEEDED

Trustees insist that regulatory power is necessary and is practiced in many other area and state hospitals.

Ironically, the regulations in question, were passed by the City Commission Nov. 10, 1953, with Commissioner Cooley seconding the motion. They were amended on Feb. 16, 1954.

UNEF to Guard Truce; Urges Arabs to Aid by Constructive Work

CAIRO (INS)—The new Egyptian Governor of the Gaza Strip took up his administrative duties today and appealed to the territory's 300,000 Arabs to cooperate with United Nations forces in keeping peace and order.

For the first time since Nov. 1, the Green and White Egyptian flag flew from Gaza's government house.

The new Governor, Maj. Gen. Hassan Abdel Latif, who arrived from Cairo last night, told a news conference that the 2,600 U.N. emergency force troops in Gaza "will take positions along the truce lines very shortly."

The Egyptians have let it be known they are willing to let the UNEF keep peace in the border area for the time being. Latif told reporters the presence of the UNEF would not affect his civil administration.

He said that the Israelis "are seeking pretexts to distort the situation in the eyes of world public opinion." The Gaza Arabs, he said, could best reply by returning to "constructive work to open the way to security, tranquility and peace."

NO DEFINITE DATE

"We cannot give a definite closing date for these restrictions," Robert Kenning, assistant city manager, said, "because there is no way we can forecast how quickly the frost will leave the ground and the danger point pass. We will lift them just as soon as our street department considers it safe."

No date has been set for the erection of plaques in St. James and Booth parks, but preliminary plans for the ceremonies are under way.

Commissioners have suggested that special invitations be sent to persons, or families, of those influential in the establishment of the two parks. It was suggested, too, that both ceremonies be held the same day, spaced about an hour apart.

Roy Fred Rogers, 59, of 831 Wallace St. Birmingham, is in serious condition in William Beaumont Hospital from injuries received when his car crashed into another early this morning.

According to Southfield Township Police, "John Gary Stanley, 50, of 414 Arlington St., Birmingham was driving north on Southfield Road, south of 13 Mile road, when he saw Rogers car pull out of his lane and come toward him." Stanley said he tried to avoid Roger's car but could not.

Police say they think Rogers fell asleep at the wheel. Stanley was also taken to the hospital and later released. Police said that Stanley's car is a total wreck.

Ape Is Finger-Painting Way to Matrimony

BALTIMORE (AP) — Betsy, the Baltimore Zoo's artistic chimpanzee, needs only $150 to complete her dowry.

The now-famous 7-year-old finger-painting ape has collected $500 from her art so far. When she has collected enough to purchase a boy friend, zoo director Arthur Watson said he will take Betsy to New York for a series of meetings with eligible bachelor chimps.

No Endorsement of Fire Alarms

Waterford Firemen Say Device Sold to Homes Not City-Approved

Waterford Township Fire Chief Edward Smith said today the local fire department is not endorsing any type of home fire alarm system being sold by door-to-door salesmen.

Smith said that residents have been making inquiries and complaints about a home fire alarm company's salesmen literally swarming over the area since the last weekend's record breaking fire calls.

Some of the salesmen are dressed in uniforms similar to those worn by Waterford Township firemen, Smith said. Although so far, no resident has made a formal complaint, many calls are coming in at the three township stations daily.

Chief Smith said, "Nothing can be done about stopping these salesmen from selling their fire alarm systems. However, Waterford Township firemen are not connected in any way with promoting or selling fire equipment of any kind."

All white-collar workers are puzzled by one great mystery — how they can be so smart and yet have such stupid bosses . . . Many a husband who says his wife came crawling to him on her knees didn't explain that she said, "Come out from under the table, you rat!" — Earl Wilson.

Tranquilizers May Answer Problems of Modern Tensions, If Properly Used

DETROIT (AP) — Tranquilizing drugs says a University of Michigan psychiatrist, may be the answer to the problems of modern-day tension.

But, said Dr. James G. Miller yesterday at a meeting of the Michigan Clinical institute, much still is unknown about the way they work.

While citing studies that showed meprobamate, one of the most widely used tranquilizers, free of adverse effect on human behavior, Dr. Miller cautioned against over-enthusiasm and indiscriminate use. He said there still was "need" for more information.

Dr. Miller said tests showed that a normal dosage of meprobamate has no effect on driving ability nor on the conditioned response of animals. Other tranquilizers, however, were reported to affect behavior in these circumstances, he said.

Tranquilizers have been prescribed by doctors since mid-1954. They are dsigned to relieve mental tension and relax muscles without the ill-effects of narcotics. In more potent forms they are used in the treatment of mental disorders. (Miltown and equanil are two common brand names for meprobamate).

Two other members of the University of Michigan School of Medicine spoke on tranquilizers.

Dr. Raymond H. Waggoner, chairman of the Department of Psychiatry, said tests of 13 tranquilizers being used today, including chlorpromazine, reserpine and meprobamate, the three most widely used, showed only meprobamate has no reported "contra - indications." This, he said, indicated that is the only one o fthe leading tranquilizers that may be given in the presence of any disease or condition.

Dr. R. W. Gerard, Professor of Neurophysiology in the Department of Psychiatry, described tranquilizers of the types exemplified by chlorpromazine, reserpine, azocyclonol and hydroxyzine as most effective in the treatment of psychoses, and meprobamate of greatest value in "the larger population of neurotic and tense individuals."

Dr. Gerard said that the National Institute of Mental Health, in collaboration with the National Academy of Sciences and American Psychiatric Assn., is conducting a series of studies on the tranquilizers.

Dr. Miller said there is no evidence that tranquilizers sold for common nervousness have an adverse effect on morals or the will of a patient.

He added that "What we still don't know is whether heavy doses over a period of time will induce a laziness that is not normal."

The Michigan psychiatrist said statistics showed that last April some of every 20 Americans was taking tranquilizers. He said more than a billion tablets have been sold since they were marketed nationally 2½ years ago.

Dr. Miller said tranquilizers have no effect on persons who do not need them and they won't work for everybody.

He termed their development "one of the most important in medicine."

GOP House Support for School Aid Weak

LANSING (AP)—Chances of a Republican push in the House for a 20-million-dollar emergency appropriation for state school aid were fading rapidly today.

And if one comes, it will be wrapped up in a single package with some "nuisance" tax proposals to raise an equivalent amount of new revenue under a caucus understanding reached yesterday.

Speaker George M. Van Peursem said after the majority caucus that agreement had been reached on the principle that any proposal advanced for supplying more school cash would be accompanied by a tax measure.

Van Peursem said no specific amount and no specific companion tax proposals were discussed in the GOP House meeting.

In response to questions, however, he said that backers of more money for schools have been considering some new form of tax on whisky, and doubling the beer tax as two possibilities.

These Answers Would Have Won

The following are answers and explanatins for Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 40 which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press:

1. FREE is indicated. If a country is not FREE, almost inevitably violent action will be needed to overthrow the tyrannical government. Men may have many reasons for wishing to Flee their country, and in many instances such departures may be accomplished legally and peaceably.

2. WOW — slangily, make a great success with — is the logical word. College audiences would not be apt to take a ranting speaker seriously but would undoubtedly appreciate his verbal gymnasitics and join in the shouting. History proves that it is not easy, in any country, to Cow or intimidate an audience of young students.

3. BIRDS fits better with the present tense and with the limitation "some." Barbs were chosen because they were sweet singers to the music of the harp, and would usually be spoken of in the past tense.

4. FOOL is right because intrigue is meant to FOOL or deceive. Moreover, if diplomats allowed intrigue to FOOL them, it would also Foil or thwart them in taking the proper action.

5. TRAP, a light, two-wheeled carriage, fits better with the idea of out-of-date transportation, since it is probably used in only a few remote places, and would be used now principally for pleasure rather than actual transportation. The Tram, while it has given way in some degree to the bus, is still in use, especially in the British Isles.

6. TASTY is the more likely choice because strict diets are often salt-free or very limited in variety. Pasty food, the creamy or starchy dishes, would of course have attraction too, but TASTY food would include the best of the PASTY dishes.

7. KEG is right because if one was lost, it was undoubtedly stolen by someone who had a Key to the wine cellar. If the butler discovers that a key to the cellar is missing, he would not need to be "very upset," for he could take precautions against stealing and have a new lock installed promptly.

8. WRACK, common seaweed such as eelgrass, fits with the clue word "frequently." A Wreck or any washed up remnants of a lost ship would be seen occasinally on a beach, but hardly "frequently."

9. LOAF is more likely as an offering to the needy family. The village banker, rather than the baker, would provide the family with a Loan.

10. A HOOD, of course, is attached to a parka or to some other type of outdoor garment. One Hoop would not fill the bill so well, since a hoop skirt would usually have a series of hoops.

11. SALT is of certain value to some farmers, for it is used to preserve food such as pork, and is fed to cattle. Silt, earthy material deposited by a river, is of less certain value. It might mean an increase of fertile soil, but in the case of a flood it could also be a detriment.

12. GOALIE or goaltender in a hockey game must be frequently on the alert, every time the puck comes near the goal he is tending. A Goaler or keeper in a jail would have many daily routine duties, and only frequently — in the case of trouble among the prisoners, or the rare jail break — would have to be "on the alert."

13. A SLICK worker would probably be so called because he was clever in deception and trickery. He would get jobs fairly easily, but because of his character would find it "hard to hold a job." A Slack worker, one who is careless and negligent, would not fit so well with the phrase "may find it hard to hold a job." He would find it hard to get a job, and impossible to hold one.

14. TUCK is better, for the customer merely likes the hat and has not decided to buy it. She wants to try the effect of an ornament on it, so will ask the milliner to TUCK the feather under the band. Tack means to sew in place and this will only be done after the hat is purchased.

15. SILLY voice fits the phrase with such a delivery would be most likely to make a "big hit." The Silky voice would have its uses, but would not have the broad appeal or the potential quality leading to the big hit that the SILLY voice appears to have.

16. WADERS are definitely connected with game because they are snipe, rail birds, etc. and belong in the category of game birds. Faders, dice players who cover others' bets, would be connected with "a game" i. e. crap shooting, rather than with "game."

Debate U.S. Speed in Nuclear Power

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A congressman and a member of the Atomic Energy Commission were in disagreement today over how fast America should go in building nuclear power plants.

Rep. Carl T. Durham (D-NC), chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, warned that England and Russia are "seriously" challenging U. S. world leadership in nuclear power and suggested the federal government spend more money to build more plants, and bigger ones, faster.

But AEC Commissioner Harold S. Vance denied the United States was losing ground.

The two shared the platform last night at a session of the 1957 nuclear congress sponsored by the National Industrial Conference Board.

A Doctor Shows How To

By ANNE-MARIE FARROW, Science Feature Writer

Now, without pills or medicines, you may give yourself quick temporary relief from many agonizing aches and pains—and from nervous tension and fatigue.

A leading New York Physician has developed a way to turn an ordinary tub of hot water into a Mineral Bath.

Imagine what this may mean to millions who suffer from deep-seated bodily aches and pains like those of Arthritis, Neuritis, Rheumatism and Neuralgia!

Many who have tried this doctor's discovery can hardly contain their enthusiasm. In most glowing reports, they tell of how they now "wash away" much of the pain of knotted muscles and aching joints right in their own bathtubs—similar to bathing at one of the world's famous Mineral Springs. In fact, millions of people who have been travelling to distant Health Spas for pain relief — on the advice of their physicians — may soon be saved this bother and expense. Thanks to this new triumph in medicinal chemistry, they may soon be enjoying the often remarkable benefits of true mineral bathing in the snug comfort of their own homes.

Thanks To A Curious Doctor . . .

A doctor with an inquisitive mind was puzzled by the fact that Medical Science had never been able to tell why certain Natural Springs so often gave quick alleviation to physical suffering. He decided to analyze the waters of these springs and find out what Nature put in them to make them different.

He found that they were rich in certain carbonates, sulphates, iodides and chlorides of Lithium, Potassium, Magnesium, Iron and other medicinal minerals. Could it be, he asked himself, that the secret lies in these minerals? In order to find the answer, he had a chemist compound them into a water-soluble concentrate which patients suffering from various aches and pains could use in their baths.

I was one of many who tried it. For months I had been annoyed by nagging muscular aches and a twinging pain in my elbow. Even though skeptical, I was eager to test this doctor's new relief. I would have tried anything that offered any hope of easing my discomfort.

"It is called BATHERAPY," he told me. "You simply add a handful or more to a tub of moderately hot water, then let yourself soak in it for about 20 minutes. Mind you, this is not a cure for Arthritis or anything like that—but it may give you very welcome temporary relief from pain."

A Wonderful Experience

I'll always remember that first BATHERAPY bath! I had hardly let myself sink into the tub when something wonderful began to happen. A deep, penetrating warmth seemed to course through my body. It was as though the mineral bath heat were actually massaging away my aches and pains. In a few minutes and indescribable feeling of relaxation crept over me. It was as though my whole body were being caressed by the soaking sunshine of Spring. It was an experience I'll never forget—and one I often repeat!

To share my good fortune, I sent a package of BATHERAPY to a friend. He wrote me:

"I simply get in my tub and let a BATHERAPY bath soak my aches and pains away. It's like taking a Mineral Bath at one of those famous European Spas you read about — but I bet even they cannot match the blessed relief my own tub now gives me."

Available to Hospitals — and the Public

As this is being written, BATHERAPY is being made available to hospitals everywhere — and to the public as fast as possible, through at least one store in each city. Already thousands upon thousands are enjoying its benefits, some far more than others. If you are among the millions who suffer from painful aches in joints and muscles — or from the tensions and fatigues of modern living — ask your doctor about BATHERAPY. The chances are you'll find its soothing, cushioning, pain-softening action will give you a surprising freedom from minor discomforts and a feeling of well-being that may last for quite a little time. If, after BATHERAPY pain persists, see your doctor.

Sleep Like A Baby . . . Without Sleeping-Pill Hangover!

Even if you are fortunately free of any bodily discomforts, you'll find a bath with BATHERAPY is a delightful and rewarding experience . . . A wonderful sensation of physical freedom envelops you. Tensions unwind. Nerves are soothed. And you relax so blissfully, you sleep as though you hadn't a care in the world . . . What will Science think of next?

"We have already used it three times and feel wonderful, not achy as usual. Bless the Doctors who have worked hard to invent such a product."
—Mr. and Mrs. M. S., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"I'm 81½ years old and these baths are making me feel young again."
H. B. B.—Newark, N. J.

"I have used it in my baths . . . and feel fine the next morning."
S. K.—Newark, N. J.

"I am interested in purchasing a five lb. package of BATHERAPY. A friend gave my husband a pound to try and it was almost unbelievable the results he got from this product."
Mrs. J. McE.—Jamaica, N. Y.

"I feel I cannot be without it at any price. I found great relief in its use and have recommended it to many people."
L. D.—Brooklyn, N. Y.

"I am a dancing teacher, after teaching five or six hours a day I feel quite worn out, but after a hot bath using your BATHERAPY I feel like a new man."

Waterford Stands Pat on Dixie Safety Policy

Waterford Township refuses to back down from its safety policy along the Dixie.

We applaud this attitude.

Life and safety come first.

Probably, some stretches of the Dixie have claimed more lives than any similar highway mileage in the Middle West. The traffic is enormous. As the warmer weather approaches, this will steadily increase and get heavier.

Police Chief Frank Van Atta has been enforcing the speed limit. That's precisely what the Township expects him to do. It happens to be his sworn duty and in the light of death and destruction he would be derelict if he failed.

VAN ATTA

Hence, when some agitated speeders are hailed into court and fined, he doesn't need to grow apprehensive if they squawk subsequently. His community and his supervising officials are rightly standing with him. In fact, they are offering further encouragement, because he has been "under attack" by two or three disgruntled drivers who exceeded the speed limit and were stopped accordingly.

The entire nation is fighting automobile deaths. This area, including both Pontiac and Flint, has a much greater stake than the average. We make the cars. Hence, we should go out of our way to fight dangerous speeds. We should do this at home and wherever violations occur elsewhere.

America has witnessed unfair "speed traps" where innocent victims are hailed into court in small villages for driving twenty-two miles an hour in a well calculated area quietly marked "fifteen" so that the local constabulary can swell the village coffers by plastering tourists. It's an ancient custom and often automobile clubs post warning signs.

Nothing like that happens here.

Waterford is too well run.

No one can ever protest against saving lives and reducing traffic fatalities and accidents.

Hoffa Meets His Match in Collision With FBI

Apparently, the pitcher has gone to the well once too often.

According to reports, James R. Hoffa, vice president of the Teamsters' Union messed around with the wrong boys for he dealt with an FBI representative.

Of course, it wasn't intentional.

No one under suspicion ever deliberately courts the greatest law enforcing agency in the world, for the Federal Bureau of Investigation long since has been established as the finest protection society has on this or any other continent.

Arrest is not synonymous with guilt or conviction, but when the strong and implacable arm of the FBI drags you into court, it constitutes a very, very unhappy moment for the victim.

The G-Men rarely err.

They're devastating and deadly.

Hoffa usually delights in sounding off but this time he's silent and refuses to talk. Specifically, he is charged with bribing an investigator to secure secret information from the possession of the committee investigating labor racketeering. The FBI says he had the documents right on his person when they stepped in. The Teamsters' comely secretary was also hauled in as a material witness as was a Miami attorney.

Hoffa has ridden roughshod over many formidable and ticklish situations and has thrown his considerable weight around with reckless abandon. Emerging victorious from tight corners is nothing new to the union official, but this time he is up against the heavyweight champion. For once he has run afoul an outfit that can be tougher and harder than he ever dreamed of being, if the necessity arises.

They're super-experts.

They know all the angles.

The FBI can't be pushed around and big talk and braggadocio don't even register. It's all in a day's work.

The people of this nation are tremendously proud of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It unravels puzzles no one else can handle. It finds people no other agencies can locate. And finally, it pins guilt on parties that have long gone unpunished.

Hoffa hasn't been convicted. He's merely under arrest, and he'll get his day in court. But we'll bet a wooden nickel he's the most unhappy union vice president in the country.

The Man About Town

Came on His Day

Oakland County Was First Settled on 17th of March

Green:—What should be a popular color in Pontiac; and it is.

Sunday is St. Patrick's Day, when we always reflect on what a prominent part in the business, cultural, civic, and social life of our city and the entire Pontiac area his disciples play. for instance, the new Pontiac city directory has 33 columns of them. They average 57 names to the column, so that's 1,881 grownups whose name has that prefix.

Take the Mc's Alone—

Then there are at least three times as many more whose names have an Irish background. So, counting an average of only two children to the family, it will be seen that about 20 per cent of Pontiac's population is of Irish descent. And we're proud of them.

And March 17 has an extra significance here, peculiar only to Oakland County. It was on March 17, 1819, that arrived at the present site of the Village of Rochester, and established the first white habitation in what later was to become Oakland County. Early histories call attention to the fact that it was on St. Patrick's Day. A settlement was not started at Pontiac until the following year.

Cooler automobiles are coming—without the installation of air conditioning. It is to be brought about by insulating windshields and windows against summer heat rays, the designers tell me.

Spring flowers are beginning to bloom, as reported by

Mrs. Clyde Matthews

Mrs. Herbert Smith

Mr. and Mrs. John Waltz

of Ortonville have hyacinths budding in their garden, which contains a grapevine planted in 1895 by her father, J. Fred Wilders, Civil War veteran who died here in 1936 at 95. The vine still bears fruit.

David Lawrence Says:

Beware of 'Civil Rights' Legislation

WASHINGTON — The rgiht of trial by jury is such an integral part of the constitution of the United States that, when someone in the law-enforcement branch of the government begins to tamper with it, there is naturally grave concern.

LAWRENCE

Sometimes, because technicalities are overlooked by the general public, the opportunity is afforded officials to pull the wool over the eyes of the people.

Thus, within the last few weeks, a strange and unprecedented action has been taken by a federal judge in Tennessee, acting at the request of the Department of Justice here.

It had the effect of denying a jury trial to 18 citizens at Clinton, Tenn., accused of acts of interference with the process of forced association in the schools.

Just after the publicity was first given to the episode in these columns, the United Press in a dispatch from Washington on March 6 reported:

"A Justice Department spokesman said 18 persons charged with interference with integration at a Clinton, Tenn., high school are entitled to trial by jury."

ASKED NAME CHANGE

But the fact is that the Department of Justice, in the middle of the recent proceedings, had petitioned the court to change the name of the case so it would be carried on in the name of the "United States," though previously the parties to the suit were local school board officials and the defendants.

By substituting the words "United States," the right to trial by jury in contempt cases was automatically lost. So the announcement is meaningless.

Knowing the law, why did the Department of Justice ask to change the names of the parties in the first place, and why did the federal judge on Feb. 25 approve that request?

And why, in view of the March 6 press announcement, hasn't the Department of Justice since asked the federal judge to withdraw its petition to make the "United States" a party to the suit and thus make sure that the right of trial by jury for the defendants will be preserved?

It is being alleged that the Department of Justice all along has not objected to jury trial in the Clinton Cases, but this never has been and is not now up to the Department of Jutsice to decide.

So the question goes back to the Federal Judge Robert Taylor in Knoxville, who approved the department's request that the "United States" be made a party to the suit. This, under existing law, automatically barred a jury trial.

In this instance, the local school board is the complaining party, and the local authorities have the responsibility of enforcing law and order. There would have been a reason for interposing the name of the "United States" as a party to the suit if the local school board had refused to obey the Supreme Court's order on forced association or a federal judge's injunction on the subject. But the school board has been complying from the start.

LEGISLATION PENDING

All this becomes pertinent because of the so-called "civil rights" legislation pending in Congress, under which it is sought to allow the "United States" to intervene in cases where negroes may have been refused an opportunity to register and vote in elections.

If such legislation is passed, the "United States" will become a party to all the suits filed, and there will be no opportunity for jury trial unless Congress repeals the present law.

Presumably the proponents of the "civil rights" legislation fear local trials by jury because of public sentiment adverse to forced association of children in schools. So the device being employed is designed to avoid trial by jury.

Its' a situation where the end is supposed to justify the means. But the "means" happens to be a denial of rights granted in the constitution itself.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Time for Ninnyhammers to Learn Value of Dentist

I didn't finish my comment on "bad teeth in Britain" yesterday. Unlike Americans, the English "bad teeth" are not so much neglected teeth, as the product of poor nutrition and an inability to pay for "new teeth."

BRADY

Here in Yankeeland a good many ninnyhammers, whether they brush their teeth every day or every Saturday night, or just on holidays, drift along with one or several teeth missing. They think a suitable denture will be too expensive or the dental work will hurt too much—or perhaps believe they can conceal their dentulous condition by holding the mouth just so.

Ninnyhammers, I say, because they fail to consider the important reason for having a suitable denture installed immediately after loss of the tooth:

It keeps the face from getting out of shape; it keeps mastication efficient; it promotes good digestion; it helps maintain vite and longevity.

TOO LATE TO PREVENT

Maybe it's a little late now for some of the British folk whose teeth appear neglected to prevent physical degeneration from nutritional deficiency through the years.

They, like a few million Americans who are not well informed about physiology, hygiene, oral digestion, nutrition, conservation of the teeth, vite and longevity, perhaps cannot hope to get back where they were before they began dunking and gumming their food.

But installation of functionally efficient dentures will at least enable them to arrest or retard degeneration.

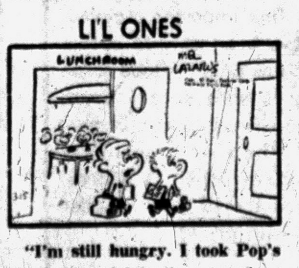

These poor geeks must learn to regard the dentist as an indispensable dispenser of health.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Build Courthouse on Present Site'

The County Board of Supervisors plans a new Courthouse on a parcel of land adjacent to the County Infirmary, outside the city limits and two and a half miles from downtown Pontiac, dated architecturally, with parking space unsheltered from the elements. This location would demand facilities for lunch or what have you. Trade incidental to Courthouse activities would go to Northland or Detroit instead of Pontiac. The present jail would become obsolete and expensive because of the remoteness.

Downtown real estate has already dipped and your home and mine must make up the tax difference. Cities have died on the vine under similar circumstances. Would that please industrial workers? Would GM continue to expand locally?

I envision on the present Courthouse site a tower building, beautiful in exterior design, each floor arranged to serve the various departments of county government. The site is adapted to a two-level drive-in basement, garage space for county officials and a downtown air raid shelter just in case. Temporary comparative costs are not of paramount importance. The long view should be the deciding consideration. Royal Oak is no place for Oakland County's Courthouse, but I agree with Mr. Wilmont that to locate it here would be less harmful than out by the Infirmary.

'City Needs Drills to Be Prepared'

I am a Michigan State student on training at a local floral company, and I agree with "Teenager" about the air raid sirens 100 per cent. I've been here a year, and I've noticed nobody seems to know what it's all about.

I hope and pray that it won't happen, but if a war should come to Pontiac or Detroit, it would be a slaughter house, and Pontiac won't be ready unless there are drills and more drills. The people will then know what to do in case of attack.

'Waterford Needs Regular Firemen'

In most cases the Waterford Township Volunteer Fire Department probably does a fine and effective job, but does that justify having them on the roads in civilian cars identified only by red lens on a spotlight? In a lot of cases the alarm may be someone's vacant lot that has burnt over. Are we courting greater disaster on the highways than we are trying to combat? Could there be a signal system arranged that would advise volunteers as to the seriousness of the fires? Perhaps the township has grown to the point that we need a full time department, properly equipped and easily recognized fire equipment.

I think "Postal Worker" wants to eat his cake and keep it, too. He is dissatisfied with a job of his own choice and yet thinks if he finds another the post office will close and the shop worker's wife won't get her mail. Don't worry, old boy, no one is indispensable. Why don't postal workers send their gripes to Congress instead of to the shopworkers?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Sins of Omission Hurt Marriage

Donna thinks she is a virtuous wife, but she is driving her marriage into the Divorce Court. For she is guilty of unfaithfulness! But hers is a sin of omission, not of commission. But sins of omission can ruin a happy marriage rapidly. Scrapbook this column. And see that all newlyweds get the non-profit booklet below which your newspaper makes available to your area.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-329: Donna D., aged 24, has been married two years.

"Dr. Crane, we are feuding and fighting most of the time," her husband admitted glumly.

"Donna wants to get a divorce, and she claims she has grounds. She charges me with mental as well as physical cruelty.

CRANE

"But I tell her she is trying to run our home under the misguided ideas of her divorced aunt, who reared her.

"This aunt thinks all men are evil and has expressed that fact, even in my own hearing before we were married.

"She tells Donna that men are beasts and can't be trusted and are all selfish. For she says marital relations should be performed only for the sake of procreating children.

"Donna and I thus have been jittery and frustrated and I'll admit I once reached the explosive point and slapped her.

"Dr. Crane, please talk to Donna and see if you can't salvage our home. We really love each other, but will be divorced in 90 days unless somebody can help us."

Most divorces are not a one-sided affair. Oh, it may often look as if the wife is wholly innocent of any wrony doing.

But unfaithfulness is two types. A virtuous wife may not have indulged in extra marital affairs or flirted with outside men.

She is virtuous as regards any sins of commission.

But she may be very guilty of sins of omission which can destroy a happy home and produce divorce almost as rapidly as sins of commission.

Donna's sins have been of omission. She hasn't run around with other men or violated her marriage vows in that manner.

But she has committed the sin of reneging on her marriage vows by refusing to love her husband. She has thus been unfaithful.

"I promise to love, honor and cherish Larry till death do us part," she said when the wedding occurred.

But marital love is not a platonic thing. If she wished to keep her love platonic and remain celibate, then she had no right to marry Larry. Her marriage has been a fraud and a deceit thus far.

Some of my most violent critics are biased wives who are in the same boat with Donna's soured aunt.

So I explained to Donna that she was in error. She was driving her marriage toward the divorce court by her sins of omission.

Men are far more passionate than women. Patriarchal Jacob showed this by his marriage to Leah and Rachel and then his taking their two maid servants as common-law wives.

So it is difficult enough for a very loving wife to serve as a one-wife harem and thus make up for the disparity in erotic hunger which modern monogamy imposes.

So I gave Donna and Larry a chart talk and showed them the true facts about modern marital procedure.

Then I offered Donna that booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage" and told her to read it together with Larry and begin to do her part to make her home a happy one.

Send for that booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. These non-profit booklets are made available by your progressive newspaper to salvage homes and prevent divorce.

For Donna meant well and when she realized her error, she rectified it. They are now happy and devoted. Larry is no longer irritated. Another divorce has been prevented.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Serum May Aid Blood Diagnosis

Fluid From Chickens Might Assist in Isolating Various Diseases

DETROIT (AP)—A serum derived from the blood of chickens may give medical science a simple and quick diagnostic tool with which to isolate human blood proteins being attacked by disease.

A spokesman for the Detroit Institute of Cancer Research and Henry Ford Hospital reported the new method, saying it "may give medicine a potent new diagnostic tool for many diseases."

Institute and hospital scientists injected a number of chickens with different specific human plasma proteins. In the following 10 days the chickens developed antibodies or protective elements to the human proteins.

A serum loaded with antibodies was then prepared from blood of the chickens and small samples of human blood plasma were added.

The antibodies forced the human plasma proteins out of the solution by precipitation—each specific chicken serum eliminating the human protein which it had antibodies against.

By use of a nephelometer, a mechanical device which measures the cloudiness of the solution, the doctors were able to tell how much of a specific protein was present in each human sample.

Extension of Taxes Approved by House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House—after listening to denunciations of high taxes and big government spending—has voted for a year's extension of present corporation and excise tax rates.

House passage of the bill yesterday sent it to the Senate, where action is expected before April 1.

On that date, corporation and excise (sales) tax rates are scheduled to drop automatically. This would cut Treasury revenues about three billion dollars and endanger prospects for a budget surplus.

The bill passed by the House on a voice vote would extend until April 1, 1958, the present 52 per cent levy on corporation profits. It also would continue for the same span the present excise rates on liquor, cigarettes, passenger automobiles and auto parts and accessories.

Say Teamsters 'Bugged' 1-Man Grand Jury Probe

DETROIT (AP)—Thomas M. Kavanagh, State Attorney General, says the International Teamsters Union recorded secret testimony of a Detroit labor rackets grand jury investigation by concealing miniature recording devices on union witnesses.

Teamsters officials and the grand juror who conducted the probe concerned both declined comment on Kavanagh's statement.

Kavanagh said yesterday that the plot was disclosed last fall before a New Jersey senate committee. He asked Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) to investigate. McClellan is chairman of a Senate committee currently probing Teamsters Union affairs.

Kavanagh said the alleged "bugging" took place in 1953 when the one-man grand jury of Circuit Judge Miles N. Culehan was investigating union activities. Recording of grand jury testimony is in violation of Michigan's grand jury secrecy laws.

Kavanagh said Teamster witnesses hid miniature microphones in tie clasps. Wires, he said, running inside witnesses' shirt were hooked to mall portable recorders concealed either in a coat pocket or strapped to a leg.

The recording device was turned on before the witness entered the grand jury chambers and then turned off and played back after the witness had emerged, Kavanagh said.

Kavanagh said the plot was described in the testimony of Benard R. Spindel before a special New Jersey legislative committee investigating wire tapping. Kavanagh described Spindel as a New York electronics expert.

He said Grover C. Richman Jr., New Jersey State Attorney General, forwarded Spindel's testimony.

Kavanagh said in his letter to McClellan that Spindel told the New Jersey lawmakers he had once been employed "by the International Teamsters Union to set up an elaborate wire tapping and 'bugging' system in Detroit, to check on various union lieutenants of a 'midwestern labor leader.'"

"Mr. Spindel informed the committee," Kavanagh wrote, "that, among other things, he was paid to strap minifones to the lieutenants before they went in to testify before 'a local grand jury.'

"Then when the witnesses emerged from the grand jury chambers the wire recordings made by the minifones were played back and that 'the labor leader was gratified to learn that all his aides were completely loyal.'"

Spindel denied in his testimony that he knew where the "bugged" witnesses were going.

Kavanagh said Spindel had been paid more than $9,000 by his "clients." Spindel's "clients" have not been identified by name.

In his letter to McClellan, Kavanagh said his investigation of the alleged "wire-tap leak" had been hampered by the lack of subpoena power "and other legal machinery."

"In addition," he wrote, "witnesses are in other states and this office is without power to compel them to testify or produce pertinent records."

Kavanagh offered to "help the (McClellan) committee in whatever way this office can."

Benny Wires Legion Toast to 'Mutual 39th'

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania state American Legion, celebrating its 39th birthday today, has received a letter of congratulation from Hollywood.

It reads: "Imagine your organization was formed when I was born and now we are celebrating our 39th birthday together. So, my sincere congratulations on all your good work and here's hoping your branch of the American Legion continues its excellent record for another 39 years.'

The letter was from comedian Jack Benny, who has never gotten around to celebrating his 40th birthday.

Lathrup Boy Hit by Car —in Serious Condition

According to Lt. Edmund Flannedy of Lathrup Police, the boy ran across Southfield against a red light in front of the school and was struck by an auto driven by Harry Monigian, 35, of 9409 Niver St., Allen Park. Monigian was not held.

Sideburns Sprout Like Shamrocks

Irish Youths Like to Rock

NEW YORK (INS) — Time was when Irish tenors had things all to themselves on the ould sod, but that was before Ireland discovered Elvis Presley.

Sideburns are growing like shamrocks now, and the Emerald Isle is rocking.

In New York on a 10-day visit—her prize for being judged Ireland's prettiest Colleen—Vivienne is a black-haired, green-eyed model. And a rock 'n' roll fan.

LOVE MUSIC

"Bill Haley's comets played in Belfast recently, and they got a wonderful reception," she reported. "All the young people love your rock and roll.

"Elvis' records are very popular, and we can hardly wait till he comes over."

Presley fans aren't called "cats" in Ireland, but are known as "teddy boys."

"The boys wear tight trousers and long sideburns frame their ears. I can't say that they've copied Elvis' because his movies haven't been shown yet. But if he should come over, he'll find that he's right in style."

Irish parents don't dig this music particularly, but Vivienne thinks it's a matter of taste. Nobody seems very worried about the music contributing to delinquency, she adds.

A new capet mill is now in production near Mexico City.

Kidnap-Killer of Girl, 14, to Pay Penalty

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Barring a last-minute stay, Burton Abbott dies today in the San Quentin gas chamber for kidnaping a bobbysoxer, stripping off her panties and brassiere, then hiding her bludgeoned body 250 miles away in a crude grave in wild, bear country.

Attorneys worked up to the last hour to save the convicted kidnap-killer of Stephanie Bryan, 14, formerly of Dartmouth, Mass.

Judge Walter L. Pope of the U. S. Court of Appeals made an overnight study of the case. He was petitioned by Atty. George T. Davis within minutes after Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman denied an 11th hour petition for a writ of habeas corpus in San Francisco late yesterday.

Gov. Goodwin Knight last night denied a last-minute request by Abbott's mother Mrs. Elsie Abbott for a stay of execution.

The Abbott case developed into one of the strangest criminal cases on record in California. It began April 28, 1955, when the brunette vanished on her way home from Berkeley. Her decomposed body was unearthed from a shallow hillside grave in northern California 84 days later.

The key links in a chain built largely on circumstantial evidence came from the laboratory of a criminology professor at the University of California, where Abbott was a student.

Dr. Paul Kirk's microscope, studying sweepings from Abbott's car, identified a strand of Stephanie's hair and tiny fibers from her clothing. That was the prime evidence of abduction.

The professor's test tube, making use of a method he devised for identifying soils by their densities, established that dirt on the heel of Abbott's mountain boot came from the nine-inch level of Stephanie's hillside grave — 335 feet up a slope from a fishing cabin where Abbott went on the fateful April 28. That was the prime evidence of murder.

The one thing which first pointed suspicion at Abbott came from Abbott's own home.

On July 15, 1955, his wife Georgia Abbott found Stephanie's purse while rummaging for a costume hat to wear to a party. She said Abbott suggested she call police. She did.

The next day, an FBI agent dug up Stephanie's brassiere, her spectacles and school books from sandy soil in Abbott's basement.

July 20, bloodhounds found the little girl's grave in Trinity County, 250 miles north of Berkeley. The body was too decomposed to determine if the girl had been raped.

Abbott, who went to the university after a tuberculosis operation brought his discharge from the Army, denied the crime.

Statue of St. Patrick Wears Orange Paint

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Sure and St. Patrick himself won't be wearing the green on his day, Sunday.

Someone, apparently an Orangeman from Northern Ireland, dumped orange paint over St. Patrick's statue in front of St. Michael's Hospital yesterday.

Actor Warfield Leaves Estate Over $5 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—David Warfield a leading American actor in the early part of the century, left a net estate of $5,223,212.

Nellie's New York Is Warmhearted

"I remember one day in the '20s when I was laid up with my broken back," the wonderful old doll recalled, "and I woke up to see a whole roomful of chiropractors. 'You look like a bunch of craps shooters to me,' I said to them.

"Not one of those squares got it: You know, they played around with bones so naturally should know something about dice.

"Well, anyway," she said, sitting in a flower-filled room on a street in which she has worked and dwelt for better than half a century, "the croakers agreed that I'd never walk again. How wrong can people be? I walked down the aisle to all their funerals. A dozen of them.

"Then there was the doctor who took the cataracts off my eyes a couple years ago. It was a rough time, including the hemorrhages. 'Nellie,' he said one day, his face down to here, 'I'm afraid you'll never see again.' Imagine that!

"I said, 'Doc, I'll read your obit in the newspapers,' and darn if I didn't, two weeks later. My wonderful present doctor is very discreet. Never makes any predictions."

SEVERAL CAREERS

Nellie Revell wrote for the Morning Telegraph, was a theatrical publicity woman for many years, ghosted excellent political speeches for at least one late golden-voiced New York statesman, had a 10-year hitch on radio that people at NBC still hear about.

She could go back to work in any of those fields tomorrow, if it would not involve her moving about. Yet as a girl she attended the funeral of Mrs. Abe Lincoln.

When Nellie writes a letter, you read it. One she wrote, in the wake of an experience she had at her district registration center last fall, had GOP National Chairman Len Hall jumping.

Seems that Nellie was assisted into the registration room, found no suitable place to sit, then was grilled about her age.

"Jus say I'm old enough," she said, and when the lady behind the desk crossly cross-examined her on that and her marital status Nellie bristled and said, "I notice you didn't ask that Democrat ahead of me how old HE was or whether he's married. I know all about the 'vive la difference' bit, but we come in here equal at voting time."

MAJOR MIXUP

Nellie arranged for an absentee ballot, because she was due to be in a hospital for a checkup on election day.

She duly made it out, only to learn later that she had been directed to the wrong table in the registration barn, and the vote that cost her so much physical effort and pain was not only null but void. So she sat down and sent a little note to Len Hall.

It must have been a beauty because a day or two later there was a call on the house phone saying that Mrs. Somebody-or-Other, a lady Republican, was downstairs and wanted to come up to explain. She may still be in the lobby.

As I left the Flanders a sightseeing bus was disgorging a group of visitors who were plainly startled by the bustle and noise of 47th Street.

They would be almost certain to say, upon reaching home, "New York's an interesting place to visit but I wouldn't live there for a million dollars. People are so cold."

Eleven stories up over them, Nellie sat with her flowers, her birthday cards, her radio (TV jumps around too much, and, besides, why miss "One Man's Family?"), her trunks and clippings and her memories—and she could have so easily talked them out of their estimate.

Across the street from her is a hotel where she lived and had wonderful times 50 years ago. The night bellhop in her own hotel had brought her yellow tulips for her birthday. The Chinese laundryman on the block sent his best.

The nice fellow from the Steuben Tavern down the street had called to say, off-handed, "Nellie, if you were in here tonight what would you order?"—and in short order the meal was there, piping hot, with a birthday cake to boot.

That's Nellie Revell's New York.

Centenarian Once Sat on Abe Lincoln's Knee

MERCED, Calif. (AP) — George Trimble, who claims to have sat on Abraham Lincoln's knee and later to have known Wild Bill Hickok in the Black Hills of South Dakota, observed his 100th birthday.

He expressed hope "the next 100 years are as full as the first."

Trimble said he sat on the Great Emancipator's knee after one of the famous Lincoln-Douglas debates.

Not long ago, Trimble was embroiled with a youngster of 72 over the affections of a woman of 67. Trimble indignantly denied any interest in her, exclaiming: "I won't have anything to do with them unless they're much younger than that."

TOP TO TOE

5. Shoes for a Girl

Animals are well protected on their feet and not many need shoes. Man is the real tenderfoot, for even if men go barefoot and the skin of the foot thickens, it is not enough protection.

The first shoes were sandals, simple pieces of leather or woven grass matting strapped to the foot. The sandal developed into the shoe, clumsy and ugly at first but later a thing of art. Modern shoes began in the Middle Ages and many kinds of shoes now are worn all over the world.

Here are three old time shoes for a modern girl to try on.

No. 1 is a French sandal of the seventh Century. It is made of leather stretched into shape and tied with strings of leather.

No. 2 is a slipper from India, brightly colored and richly decorated right to the tip of the curly toe.

No. 3 is a 16th Century carved wooden shoe from the Netherlands. Brightly colored flowers and leaves made this shoe very decorative as well as practical.

Paste this picture down on thin cardboard and color with crayons. Cut out all the parts carefully. Fold back the easel on the figure and it will stand up. Fold back the tabs on the shoes and fit them over the girl's foot as she tries on the shoes, one by one.

(Elizabeth R. Pavlovsky of Takoma Park, Md., submitted this idea and won $10. Send your idea in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures.)

'Not Up to Taxpayers to Pay for St. Pat Party'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Assemblyman Lee M. Backstrand, who says he's a full - blooded Swede, believes the Legislature should pay for its St. Patrick's party itself—not the taxpayers.

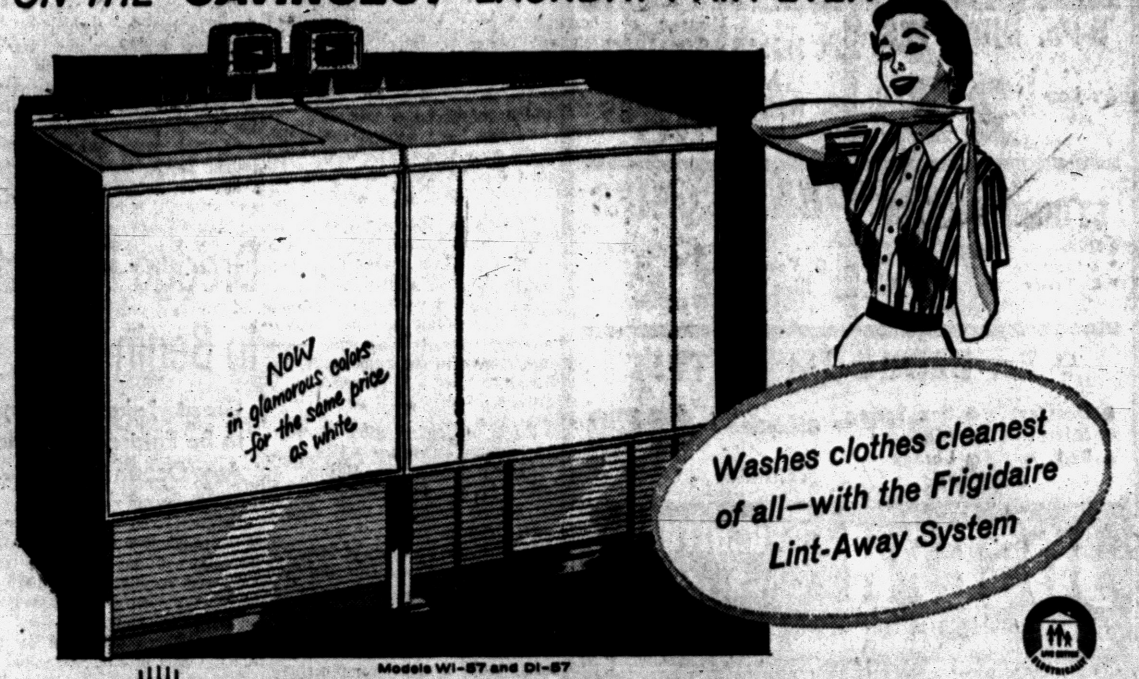

Each house has appropriated $500 for the St. Pat's program but Backstrand said he'll pay for the party himself . . . then pass the hat among the lawmakers when the bills are figured up.

The $1,000 in appropriations just wouldn't be spent.

Hal Boyle Says:

Mitchum Voices 'Ambition' to Loaf

He doesn't want to play Hamlet. He doesn't yearn to be a director or a producer. He doesn't pine to have the world of television at his feet. He simply wants to be the laziest man on earth—if you take what he says seriously, which might be a mistake.

"I just hang around the house until I go broke," he said, "and then I go to work.

"That's a dismal thought so early in the morning. (It was 11:30 a.m.) Life always looks better in the cool of the evening.

"The role I'd really like to play is a tax-exempt one in which I merely phoned the studio—and didn't have to show up on the set at all."

He is resting up after completing a 20th - Century - Fox film, "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison," in which he plays a Marine stranded behind Japanese lines with a nun—Deborah Kerr.

Despite his pretense of laziness, Mitchum has played in more than a hundred pictures in 15 years, including eight Hopalong Cassidy epics.

Before that he had been an amateur hobo, a professional fighter, a writer, and an aircraft factory worker. He said the aircraft job left him with an allergy to metal, and the Hopalong Cassidy films an allergy to horses.

Mitchum, who has been called "the unspoiled savage" and who has never let Hollywood go either to his head or his stomach, says this is why he went into the movies:

"I don't like people telling me, 'Do this or else.' This is the only business I've found where you can get by with my attitude. You can remain an individual in the movies—but the price sometimes seems high."

"I'm probably afraid of everything," he said, "but so far I haven't found time to sit down and discover it. The only thing I'm afraid of is"—he yawned—"that I'm not getting enough sleep.

"Do I exercise to keep fit? Sure. I try to breathe regularly."

But no one can say the guy isn't responsible in his own way. He's had the same wife for nearly 17 years. He's buying annuities for his three children.

"I think every kid ought to be taught in kindergarten," he said, "that it's impossible to please everybody in this world.

"Your first duty is to please yourself and those close to you—and if you have any time left, then you can try to please the others."

Dredge Project to Begin Soon

Great Lakes Channels to Be Enlarged to Allow Any Ocean Vessel

DETROIT (AP) — Col. Peter C. Hyzer says the 136 million dollar dredging project on the Great Lakes connecting channels will get under way soon and is expected to be completed in 1962.

The district engineer of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers told the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers the project is designed to accommodate the larger, faster and more economical ore and other bulk carriers now being added to the Great Lakes fleet.

"The 27-foot minimum depth, to which the channels will be dredged," Col. Hyzer said, "will accommodate ocean vessels of any size entering the lakes via the St. Lawrence Seaway, and enable lake ports west of Toledo to develop fully their opportunities for expanding foreign trade.

Without the connecting channels project, the full benefits of the 27-foot seaway project could not be extended west of Lake Erie, because of navigation bottlenecks."

Col. Hyzer said channels to be deepened are the Detroit River, Lake St. Clair and the St. Clair River, connecting Lakes Erie and Huron, and the St. Marys River, connecting Lake Huron and Superior.

Quite a Family Tree!

BOSTON, Mass. (AP) — Robert Woods recently went back to his home town of Hershey, Pa., and got engaged to Audrey Stump. His fiancee's mother's name before she married was Root. Any offspring are sure to be chips off the old block.

Question Horse Repair

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Board of Education decided to look further into an expense account that read: "Recover two horse bodies, Roosevelt Junior High School," $100." It found the bill was for repairing two leather gym horses.

No, Say MSU Researchers

Do Athletes Die Sooner?

EAST LANSING (AP)—Do athletes burn themselves out and die young? Or do they live longer than non-athletes?

They do neither, acording to findings of a research team at Michigan State University.

Athletes live just as long and die from the same causes as non-athletes, reported Drs. Henry J. Montoye and Wayne D. Vanhuss, associate professors of health, physical education and recreation.

The reseachers also reported they found no significant difference in the number of former college athletes who died from heart diseases as compared to non-athletes.

COMPARE GROUPS

The study, now in its seventh year, compared what happened to 628 lettermen in various sports after they left MSU with 563 non-athletes. All graduated before 1937.

Of those now dead, it was found that the average age of former athletes was 73.8 compared with 74.2 for the non-athletes. However, excluding accidental deaths, the average longevity of both groups was the same at 74 years.

MORE SMOKERS

The percentage of drinkers and smokers was found to be higher among former athletes than non-athletes.

Some 68 per cent of the former athletes were smokers compared to 60 per cent of the non-athletes. The percentage of drinkers was 77 per cent among the former athletes and 66 per cent for non-athletes.

Both favored marriage with about 97 per cent of each group taking the step.

Information for the survey was obtained from athletes, their relatives and various records. The researchers said this was a pilot study which they hope will be extended to a national project taking in some 25 colleges and universities.

Ships May Steam Into Lakes Early

DETROIT (AP)—U. S. Steel Corp. states that improving ice conditions on the lower Great Lakes may permit one of the earliest season openings in history for the steamships of its Bradley Transportation Line, operated by the Michigan Limestone Division.

C. F. Beukema, division president, estimated the first of Bradley's nine limestone carriers may clear its winter layup near Rogers City as early as next Wednesday.

Bradley fleet operations started March 21 last year.

An annual meeting of senior officers of the Bradley line would up at Bay City today with an inspection of the former ore carriers A. F. Harvey, being converted into a self-unloader by the Defoe Shipbuilding Co.

Uruguay's Chamber of Deputies has voted in Montevideo to subsidize frozen mutton and canned meat exports.

Eye A-Power in Packages

U. of M. Now Studying Wide Range of Sizes in Nuclear Plants

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. (AP)—The University of Michigan is developing atomic "packaged power plants" capable of continuous and nearly automatic operation for periods up to five years.

This was disclosed today in papers by Frederick G. Hammitt, associate research engineer, and Harold A. Ohlgren, professor of chemical engineering, at the second Nuclear Engineering and Science Conference.

Ohlgren said in an interview he believes that the corporation subsidizing the University's development at Willow Run laboratories could be advised in six months to proceed with production of atomic "packaged power plants."

He said the reactor could be built in sizes to provide from 5,000 to 30,000 kilowats of electricity, the largest being capable of supplying a city of 50,000 to 60,000 population.

SUITS NEEDS

"Such a multiple purpose reactor should be admirably suited to the needs of a chemical plant or petroleum refinery where it would supply chemical heat, space heat, process steam and electrical power," he said.

Ohlgren said he believed the Michigan reactor represented a radically different approach than the atomic energy commission's development of packaged power plants which could be dropped from airplanes for military use.

Hammitt is on the staff of the University's research institute.

Leukemia Victim, 13, Becomes a Fireman

GLENS FALLS, N. Y. (AP)— Cars with the police chief, the fire chief and sheriff's deputies accompanied a bright, red fire truck yesterday that carried Barry Hand, 13, home from Glens Falls Hospital. Barry is ill with lukemia.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hand of Lake George, was made an honorary volunteer fireman after the nine-mile ride.

More than a mile and a half of carpeting now covers the floors of Buckingham Palace, in London.

Former Agent Made Possible Hoffa's Arrest

WASHINGTON (AP) —John Cye Cheasty, credited with a key role in the arrest on bribery charges of Teamsters Union Vice President James R. Hoffa, is a former Secret Service and Internal Revenue agent and a former Navy officer.

Cheasty, on the payroll of the Senate committee investigating rackets, is credited with telling Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) promptly that Hoffa hired him in an effort to get data from the committee files.

Hoffa and two associates were arrested last night by the FBI, which said that Cheasty had cooperated fully. McClellan said Cheasty supplied Hoffa with papers from committee files, knowing that the FBI had the exchange under surveillance.

Cheasty, 49, was born in New York City and educated in city high schools and at Fordham University and Manhattan College.

Although McClellan did not give a date for the Hoffa-Cheasty meeting, Committee counsel Robert Kennedy told reporters that Cheasty came to the committee Feb. 17 or 18 and told of the Hoffa proposition. Kennedy said the committee then decided to hire Cheasty.

'Sleeper' Stirs West Bloomfield Political Scene

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Once tranquil, West Bloomfield Township's political scene was given a shock this week when a "sleeper" candidate announced his intention to run for the position of trustee as a write-in in the April 1 election.

Leroy H. Hull stood up at the township hall and stated that he would like to represent the suburban majority of the township.

Hull said that he has observed the present regime in action for the last few years and is "convinced that minority groups are being served better than is the suburban majority."

After the primary election in February, a group of citizens gathered to see what could be done about the apathy among the electorate of the township. Sparked by a committee from Sylvan Manor Subdivision, all of the subdivisions in the township are being contacted in an effort to stimulate interest in local government.

Dallas Produces Easy-to-Wear Fashions for Your Spring and Summer Wardrobe

Check into summer in this shirtwaist by Brogan and Jennings of Dallas. It's in a carefree cotton and nylon blend, and there's a nylon petticoat, too. The bodice has tiny tucks, pearl buttons, and a front placket for trim interest.

The elegance of re-embroidered lace over silk chiffon is enhanced by a long chiffon stole with lace applique in this Jean Thomson sheath. There's soft draping around the hipline, and the dress is mounted on a silk crepe slip. This is a Dallas fashion center photo.

The subteeners will be wearing Dallas fashions this spring and summer too. The motif in the print of the skirt complements a peasant blouse, a junior high favorite.

State Federation of Clubs Modifies Anti-Soviet Plan

Delegates to the annual convention of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs meeting in East Lansing this week defeated a four-part resolution recommending primarily Russia's expulsion from the United Nations.

The legislative committee of the Women's Club of Jackson presented the resolution which also asked that "no countries having Communist government be admitted to the U.N. and that all trade with Russia and Communist countries be discontinued."

Mrs. R.I.C. Prout of Michigan, president of the general federation, urged caution in adopting such a strongly worded document. The resolution was subsequently amended to recommend "imposing sanctions" upon Russia, rather than expelling her. It was also modified in other respects.

Delegates approved a resolution to maintain and develop recreation areas in national forests, to initiate and support programs promoting civic affairs and to establish committees in each community to carry out youth development programs. They also urged reiteration of "those freedoms set forth in the Bill of Rights."

Only other controversial issue which came up during the three-day convention which ended Thursday afternoon was on the question of U. of M. support and assistance in the Girls' Town project.

State Federation President Helen M. Harris said it was her understanding that consultive services in establishing criteria for a director and for selection of youngsters to enter Girls' Town will be available from the U. of M. staff. Psychiatric services would also be available, she said.

Mrs. William Gould Merrill of Bloomfield Hills was state federation president when the Girls Town project was launched.

Mrs. Slaughter Heads Chapter

Mrs. Ray Slaughter was presented as president of Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma sorority at the recent meeting held at Hotel Waldron. Others on the slate are Mrs. John Whitehead, vice president; Mrs. Fred Rigotte, recording secretary; Mrs. Betty Richards, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. William Killen, treasurer.

Mrs. James Burlingame is the new City Council deleate. The slate was presented by Mrs. Park Buchner, chairman of the nominating committee.

Lois Enden gave a demonstration on making ceramics preceding the meeting. A report was heard on the recent City Council meeting and a letter of thanks was read from patients at the Oakland County TB Sanatorium for birthday gifts sent from the chapter in February.

Ladies Guild Meets

Mrs. Ralph Claus, Mrs. Elmer Klemm and Mrs. Elbert Smith were cohostesses for the Tuesday evening meeting of St. Trinity Lutheran Ladies Guild held at the church. May 14 was the date set for the annual mother-daughter banquet. Following the business meeting, members viewed a film, "The Crucifixion of Christ."

Q. "How can I get rid of flabbiness on my upper arms? I am not fat. What can I do to hide little brownish spots on my face and back?"

A. There is a product which will hide the brown spots. If you wish to know its name send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it.

Do the following exercise for flabby arms: Raise the arms sideward, shoulder height, palms facing toward the ceiling. Clench the fists hard as you bend the elbows and touch the knuckles to the shoulders. Return to starting position and continue.

Q. "What is good for drying up the pimples on my face?"

A. Alcohol is as good as anything unless you get a special prescription from a dermatologist.

Q. "I have lost 10 pounds and am just the right weight now but my breasts and thighs are not as firm as they were. Are there any certain foods or vitamins I could take to remedy this?"

A. There are no certain foods but good nutrition does seem to have an effect on the firmness of the tissues. Eat a well-balanced diet. Exercise to firm the muscles of the chest and thighs.

Q. "I am 17 years old, and 5 feet 5½ inches tall. I weigh 113 pounds and my measurements are bust 34, waist 26 and hips 35 inches. Please tell me what is wrong with my figure."

A. You are underweight. You should gain about 10 pounds. Your measurements are in good proportion. The gain in weight will add some to your bust measurements and if you will take exercises for the waist the pounds will not accumulate there.

Q. "My left bust is larger than my right. Could the fact that I am left handed have anything to do with this? What can I do?"

A. Take bust-development exercises using the right hand and arm only. I doubt that being left handed has anything to do with it because those who are right handed do not have one breast which is larger than the other.

If you do some sort of work, such as factory work, which calls for constant use of one arm, then being left handed could cause the left bust to be larger.

Q. "Please tell me what can be done for curvature of the spine. Is it hereditary?"

A. Curvature of the spine usually comes from poor posture. Sometimes rickets causes it (lack of vitamin D). It can come from disease but most often poor posture is the reason.

See an orthopedic physician. Much can be done with exercise but it must be taught by a specially trained person and supervised carefully.

To eliminate flabbiness on upper arms, clench the fists hard as you bend the elbows and touch the knuckles to the shoulders. Return arms to outstretched position. Continue.

Tomorrow: "In this Season We Must Guard Our Outer Coating."

Girl Scout Course Set March 27

Repeated by popular request, the course in Pussyfoot Camping will be offered to Girl Scout leaders and co-leaders March 27.

Instruction will be given in planning of simple menus, according to Mrs. Evelyn Copeland, executive director of the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council, who will be doing the teaching. Fun and exploration of the campsite will be the highlights of this type of training.

This is not a skills course, but presents the first steps in overnighting where campers sleep in winterized buildings and where meals are prepared and served indoors using stoves for the cooking.

All who intend to take the course must register at once at the Girl Scout office. The group will meet at the lodge at Camp Sherwood, near Lapeer, at 10 a.m., with nose-bag lunches, compasses if possible, and ideas on nature skills and games to share.

The next step in troop camping is advanced training in the out-of-doors. This training will be offered in May. It will prepare leaders for various types of camping which call for skills such as outdoor cooking.

Jewish Leader Killed by Bullets

Assassin's Shots Fatal to Controversial Figure in Tel Aviv

TEL AVIV (AP)—Rudolf Kastner, controversial Hungarian Jewish leader in World War II, died today of an assassin's bullets.

Kastner was found bleeding profusely from three chest wounds in a northern Tel Aviv street early March 4. He was taken to a hospital but his condition grew progressively worse.

A number of persons were rounded up after the shooting and police said two young men among those detained would be charged with murder.

Kastner had been editor of the Hungarian language newspaper UJ Kelet in Tel Aviv and was believed returning home when attacked.

Kastner headed a Budapest rescue committee of Hungarian Jews during the Nazi occupation of Hungary in 1944. After the war he was accused of being a stooge for the Nazis, and in June 1955 a Jerusalem district court found in effect that he had been a quisling.

The court's decision came after a yearlong libel trial of Malkiel Greenwald, who had charged Kastner collaborated with the Nazis and prepared the ground for mass murder of Hungarian Jewry.

Greenwald was exonerated of libel except on his charge that Kastner had "shared loot" with the Nazis. The court found that count was not substantiated and fined Greenwald one Israeli pound (56 cents).

The Israeli state attorney general appealed the judgment and the case is still pending before Israel's Supreme Court.

Kastner had maintained his innocence and vowed he would do everything possible to clear his name.

The District Court's judgment said Kastner had acted as a quisling, knowing that by his actions he was sacrificing a large number of Jews in order to save a small group of his friends and relatives.

PHS Boys and Girls Offered Letters in Fencing

By JACK HENDRICKSON

The Pontiac High School fencers have been busy recently, and they can't relax yet with six meetings scheduled. Mrs. Shirley Medrano is adviser.

The March 7 meet was forfeited by Lapeer, but the previous Waterford meet found the PHS fencers taking two bouts through the efforts of Rudy Nartker and Larry Hoyt.

Students on the fencing team are Immanuel Johnson, captain, Rudy Nartker, Carol Atkinson, Larry Hoyt, Bill Bont, Harley Hopp.

This year, fencers may receive letters for their participation. The qualifications are they must earn 150 points and keep their scholastic standings high.

The girls won their trophy last year, and the boys are expected to win theirs this year.

A limited number of new members are to be admitted to the Biology III non-credit course. Names of applicants have not yet been announced.

In conjunction with the group's Monday night study of the history of biology, some division of the subject has been appointed to each member. Three of the 12 assigned lectures have been given by Constantine Sousanis, Bill Hanson, and Jim Shaw.

Monday night, Martha Hodge spoke about Linnaeus, an early biologist who developed the method now used for naming plants.

Insect nets are the latest item being made by the group on Wednesday nights. They also learn to use identification keys for identifying animals and plants common in this area.

Members have also been designing equipment which they could make from old available materials to meet their needs.

The Future Teachers Club, under the direction of Mrs. Ann Morrow, has participated in many different activities in the past few weeks.

At a recent meeting, Lewis Larkin, Wayne State University professor, showed a movie entitled "Skippy and the Three R's."

Horton Southworth, principal of Crofoot School, has offered FTA members, during their free hours, an opportunity to work with Crofoot teachers and students.

FTA members Jackie Presby and Judy Truex, recently represented the club at the February dinner and meeting of the Pontiac Education Assn. held at the high school.

Edwin Rydell, principal of Eastern Junior High School, invited two Future Teachers to accompany Eastern students and several members of the faculty on a camping trip, May 18-25.

A girls' bowling club is now meeting every Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Pontiac Recreation Center. Badminton Club meets every Thursday at 3:30 p.m.

Dick Singleton has been chosen by the PHS Hi-Y Club as president. Ken Bogard will assist Dick as vice president; Steve Lewis, secretary; Kirk Corkingly, chaplain; Bob Hunt, sergeant at arms; and Mel White, treasurer.

Junior Highs Find Week a Busy One

Junior High classes are busily engaged in dances, teas, field trips, assemblies and dramas.

The eighth and ninth grade gym classes at Jefferson Junior High played host to a group of students from Michigan State University. The eighth grade boys showed their skills in tumbling and the ninth grade classes, both boys and girls, demonstrated their proficiency in square dancing.

A patriotic play, "This Is Our America" was presented by the seventh and eighth grade speech classes to an all-student assembly. The music was furnished by the seventh grade girls' chorus, accompanied by Elise Nelson, a ninth grade student.

The Warriors' Junior Varsity basket ball team defeated Rochester's J.V., 32 to 12. In the second game, the Varsity defeated Rochester, 29 to 26. This closed the season for the Warriors who have posted a winning streak of 10 straight victories.

Thirteen varsity players ended their Junior High School basketball careers with this game as they will be graduated from Jefferson in June.

AT EASTERN

This week's news at Eastern is highlighted by a faculty tea, a student dance, and a field trip to City Hall.

On Monday afternoon in lieu of their regular faculty meeting the teachers were guests at a St. Patrick's Day tea. Mrs. Kenneth Nagley and Mrs. Ellsworth Sturdy were hostesses. Principal Kenneth Nagley and Assistant Principal E. L. Sturdy poured.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Helen Jesse's second hour civics class enjoyed a field trip to the City Hall.

This week's assembly program was sponsored by Wilma Webb's gym classes.

AT LINCOLN

Lincolnites are holding their breaths for the arrival of the first report cards for this semester. Tests, notebooks, reports, and special projects are all due today, so that much boning and last minute activity to get things done occupies every spare moment.

President Douglas Spurlock of the Hi-Y announces that two free trips to Washington, D. C. will be awarded to a boy and a girl for their outstanding citizenship and scholarship. Money for this project has been raised by the club in candy and pencil sales, as well as checking service at school functions.

John Buchanan's Debate Club presented two assemblies for the students. Four selected students gave a demonstration of a model debate showing techniques and procedures used in this battle of wits.

The Journalism Club, which produces the school paper, The Lincoln Log, is conducting a contest for reporters to stimulate more and better articles for the paper. Sharon Mondy and Diane Flicker are contest chairmen and will announce the winning team in May. Losers will have to entertain the winners at a special party in the school gym.

The intricate lighting devices and stage settings used by the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra in its concert on Tuesday evening at Lincoln proved to be a lesson in stagecraft for the speech classes.

AT WASHINGTON

Pupils are enjoying a large collection of new books recently added to the library. These cover science, social living, vocations, guidance, social studies and fiction.

The ninth grade guidance classes enjoyed a presentation of the opportunities offered in hospital and social service work by a group from the staff of St. Joseph Hospital in a two-hour session. Other fields of work will be investigated by these classes throughout the semester.

AT MADISON

Madison Junior High will hold an assembly Friday morning, presented by Manyne English Lillotte who will dramatize poems by Jame Whitcomb Riley. Miss Lillotte is a well-known lecturer.

Today, at 3:20 p.m., the teachers meet the varsity in the first of a three game series. Proceeds will go to the Athletic Fund.

Wednesday morning, 9A students who will take a trip to Washington in May met to discuss what to wear and what to take along.

Students Keep Busy at Area High Schools

Singing events, dramas and dances highlighted the week at area high schools.

The Junior Class at Milford High School will stage the first J-Hop in the school's history tonight. The theme is "Almost Paradise."

Admission is $1.75 a couple and the freshmen and sophomore girls will act as hostesses. Elaborate decorations are being made to present the dance in night club style. The juniors hope to make it an annual event.

AT LAKE ORION

Five boys have received certification and acceptance as delegates to Boy's State from Lake Orion High School. Ed Fry, Jack Reed, John Dombrowski, Walter Cudnohfsky and David Carlson will be sponsored by the Lions, Rotarians, American Legion, Orion Bank and the Chamber of Commerce.

The committee for exchange assemblies will begin tryouts among the students next week for assemblies with Rochester and Avondale.

Lake Orion's Boys Glee Club took first rating on Tuesday in Royal Oak, and the Girl's Glee Club and the a capella were rated 2- 2- 1 by the three judges. These are the highest ratings received by Orion in recent years.

The eighth grade camp is progressing well with about half the total class in attendance. Most of them took sleeping bags and are enjoying the comparatively balmy weather.

With resource personnel from the State Conservation Dept., the Orion Gun Club and the Skin Divers, they are learning many skills that will aid them if their future pursuits include camping, ownership of hunting lands, or general outdoor activities.

AT WEST BLOOMFIELD

The big buzz around West Bloomfield High School these days is the talk of the coming talent show. Auditions were held on March 11, and the array of "home-grown" talent was fabulous. Winners will be announced soon.

Coming in March — our own school paper to be published once a month. Each copy will include student news, novelty articles, polls, crossword puzzles, and many other new and different things.

"High Ground" a drama in three acts, was presented by the "West Bloomfield Players," in the school auditorium, on March 8.

The cast did a terrific job in their parts, especially Sue Metz, who portrayed the part of Sister Mary Bonaventure, a kindly nun who solved the murder in question.

The greatest asset to the play was the terrific job of scenery, sound and lighting. Hats off to Gerald Cohen.

Plans are now being laid for a Future Nurses Club. All girls who are interested in nursing contact Shirley Miller or Carol Knapp.

WTHS Juniors Launch Drive

By SANDY WHITE

Juniors at Waterford Township High School launched their annual magazine sale last week to earn money for their senior trip. The juniors participating in the sale are members of Trip Club. On each sale made, a percentage of the money goes towards the $39 needed for each person for the trip.

Besides earning money on this project, the student selling the most subscriptions will have their choice of a wrist watch, portable radio or a record player as a prize.

G.A.A. Sports Day, originally scheduled for tomorrow, has been canceled until further notice.

The possibility of having a street dance is being discussed by Student Council. This money-making project will take place April 26.

If plans are carried through, the paved parking lot will be roped off making room for dancing. This would be the first attempt of this type of project at Waterford.

Appearing in the Inter-Lakes Talent Assembly on the Waterford stage, on March 7, was a variety of talent from Walled Lake and Van Dyke High Schools.

Lanny Younger, sophomore, acted as master of ceremonies. Waterford talent performed at the close of the program.

This month the A Capella Chior attended two music festivals. They were a solo and ensemble contest at Pontiac High and the Vocal Festival which took place at Royal Oak High Tuesday.

Representing Waterford in the solo and ensemble contest were 16 soloists and three ensembles besides 28 other participating schools.

Given special notice were: Delores Kline and Terry Walker who were rated as superior, Nancy Allen, Dick Grebeta, Carol Hass, Carol Hillman, Barbara Moriarity, Jerry Peter, Janet Terry and the Girl's Ensemble rated as outstanding.

St. Frederick Girls Near CYO Cage Title

By MARGARET DRAKE

The St. Frederick High School Giris' Varsity Basketball Team eyes the CYO championship trophy as it nears the top. The team reached runner-up spot in regional play-offs when it defeated St. Casmir, 26-17.

It will battle for first place Sunday with St. Anthony of Detroit.

The "Lambs" think that St. Anthony has held the CYO trophy for too many years and are intent on breaking the monotony. The team holds co-championship of its league with St. Mary of Mt. Clemens.

Members of the winning team are: Forwards, Maureen Drake, Marjorie McHugh, Mary Ann, Sharon Neville, and Julie Slowik and guards, Pat Doyon, Margaret Drake, Judy Ermel and Pat Smith.

The boys' team was no less proud when they defeated St. Michaels of Pontiac, 54-45. They played an exciting three minutes of overtime to outscore St. Mike's.

Students Get Day Off

Nuns Honor Patron Saint

By JUDY NIEDJELSKI

Intramurals took place Wednesday and Thursday for the boys basketball team at St. Michael High School. Baseball and track are the sports next in line.

Tuesday, which is St. Joseph's Feast Day, will be set aside as a free day in honor of the order of nuns by whom we are taught, the Sisters of Saint Joseph.

This is also a special day for the seniors who have selected St. Joseph as their patron saint and who will begin the day with Holy Mass in his honor.

Seniors are anticipating the following weeks which will be turned over to practice for their senior play.

Name 3 New 'Miss Americas'

1957 All-America Selections bring us news of the outstanding glories of the plant world. Glitters petunia, Red Satin petunia and Twinkle phlox are the new "Miss Americas" of the floral world.

Winners must be distinctly superior to others of their kind, class or color. They must be widely adapted, rather easily grown, robust and healthy. They must be desirable outdoor garden subjects.

Miss Americas are chosen for their attractiveness, grace, charm and accomplishments. The new flower winners are even more strictly judged and evaluated. They must be homemakers too. They are thoroughly tested all season long in comparison with the best of their kinds at twenty-six well chosen trial grounds in as many sections of the country, including southern Canada.

They must demonstrate their behavior in all temperature zones, in sand to clay soils, from seacoast to the mountains, in wet and dry climates. An All-America Selection may be depended upon to do well wherever such flower is successfully grown.

Petunias and phlox are good performers most everywhere, in the sand and salty air of the ocean-side to the mountains, north and south across the continent. They come in a rainbow of colors for every preference and they are long season bloomers. They are very popular because they are easily grown, healthy, colorful and satisfactory.

BICOLOR PETUNIAS

Glitters petunia is unique, the first and only red and white bicolor petunia. We've had violet and white, purple and white, even a recent crimson and white. However, Glitters is the most uniform in bicoloring and habit of low, compact bedding growth. And besides, it is a vivid scarlet red, starred or striped with pure white. This makes the most colorful display, the most desirable contrast in flower colors. Plant breeders have been striving for such a novelty for years.

It was finally developed in Japan by the originator of the first all-double petunias.

Glitters is a true first generation hybrid, 10 to 12 inches high, of rounded form and literally covered with 2½ to 3 inch blooms. It is of the free blooming, plain-petalled multiflora type, stands up well throughout the entire season and blooms from spring to killing frosts. It is brim-full of hybrid vigor, a pleasure to grow and the most strikingly colorful petunia.

Red Satin brings a new conception of beauty and dependable satisfaction to petunias and to any garden and home. Of course it is a vigorous multiflora, a first generation or true hybrid. Beautifully mounded plants of 12 to 15 inches are study, compact and covered with 2½ to 3 inch blooms all season long.

Red Satin supersedes all other red petunias—incredibly vivid with shining satiny scarlet-red flowers. Heat and sun fail to fade the marvelous color nor do difficult growing conditions prevent it from blooming freely.

Red Satin is admirably suited for low beds of dazzling color, to create a bright ribbon of color for borders and edging or for well-behaved, free-blooming pot plants. It is grand for cutting.

TURNING TO HYBRIDS

While we enthuse over these wonderful new hybrid petunias and a number of them are recent winners, we must realize that the whole big petunia family seems fast turning to hybrids. While the seeds cost much more to produce and the number of tiny seeds in a packet is small, the far superior plants and flowers are more than worth the difference. Order your seeds early because there are never enough to supply the demand for new All-Americas, and start them early.

Twinkle phlox is the first of its kind, twinkling stars of many colors and bicolors to blanket the 6 to 8 inch plants with bloom. Each petal is sharply star pointed and being on such low, compact plants the trusses seem larger and give more colorful display than on the previous tall or leggy type of about 15 inches. New colors have also been bred into this new and more useful type. Pink and salmon shades have been developed and added to the range of reds, lavenderrs, violets, puples, rose, cream and white.

This new dwarf star phlox is one of the easiest grown annuals. Seed may be planted directly in its permanent location or started indoors. The well balanced mixture of colors in this Holland creation gives a delightful cheerfulness in bed, clump, band or edging. It is a bright surprise for the garden, an old-fashioned favorite brought right up to date in gay colors of winsome appeal.

Seed stores and catalogs offer these outstanding new flower winners for the utmost in garden interest and satisfaction. For the finest also in 1957 vegetable winners: Smoothie cucumber without the old warts and spines, champion radish with the brightest cherry red color and crispy solid for weeks, Black Beauty for the earliest and longest bearing Zucchini summer squash, Greencrop giving the biggest quality snapbeans—call on any reliable seedsman. He has everything needed for greatest garden success, plus expert advice at all times. For complete assurance, look for the AAS certification mark in your seed catalog and on the seed packets.

BEGONIA BEAUTY — Mrs. Arthur McClellan of 1004 Boston St. is proudly displaying her unusual plant that has almost doubled its size in the past six months. The original plant was sent to her sister from Saskatchewan, Canada about 32 years ago. Mrs. McClellan cut a slip from that plant seven years ago. Since Christmas, it has sprouted five blooms. The leaves are covered with silver spots said to give a resemblance to angel wings.

Agricultural Expert Gives Garden Hints

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
County Extension Agent

With the first hints of spring, our thoughts turn to gardening and the beauties of flowers and growing plants.

One of the greatest joys of a spring garden is the bulb beds. Signs of tulips have already been seen and should create considerable distress. This is the result of lack of adequate mulch and can easily result in loss of blooms because of freezing. We should not distrub our leaf mulch until the tulip or daffodil shoots are at least one inch long.

On bulb beds a top dressing of fertilizer can be very beneficial, primarily to increase bulb size and flowers for the following year. Because flowers are set the previous fall we cannot hope for an increase in the numbers of flowers this season, but larger bulbs and flowers for next spring are in order.

Vigoro, a very common flower and garden fertilizer, can be broadcast at this time on top of lightly mulched or exposed beds at the rate of one pound per 12 square feet (average size of the kitchen table). Allow rains to wash it through the mulch and into the soil.

START ANNUALS

If you love to grow a large variety of annuals and have always purchased your plants at transplant size, perhaps this is the year to start your own. You should be searching your favorite seed catalogues for varieties, but also with one eye alert for new varieties which might be worth a try.

Many gardeners consider the last of May as the target date for planting out such annuals as Petunias, Ageratum, Zinneas, etc., which means they should plant the seed in pans, flats or pots about four weeks in advance.

If the seedlings can be transplanted once before planting out they can be seeded six weeks in advance. All this means selection and buying of seed should be given prompt attention.

Many may feel that this year they are going to launch an all out campaign on their lawn. If you have triumphed once your biggest obstacle (a husband who feels the welfare of the Detroit Tigers is more important than lawns) then help him in your lawn by having your mower sharpened and thoroughly oiled. For reel type mowers, a sharp mower certainly is easier to propel and the finest possible cut will result. A dull mower results in many blades, and weeds as well, remaining uncut or bent over.

Power mower owners often wind up in a ragged rough cut. This results in a lawn with a yellowish or brownish cast, because of the tearing action of a dull knife. Sharpened, well adjusted mowers will greatly reduce this effect, especially if the lawn is well fertilized.

It is still not too late to prune that grape vine to improve appearance of the vines and size of the fruit clusters. Because berries are produced on currenst season vines, the most important reason for pruning is to reduce the number of new vines, which in turn reduces the number of clusters but results in longer clusters.

A personal visit with your agricultural agent will give you considerable assistance with pruning and a helpful folder on grape production practice.

Wayne B. Siefert, an Extension Agent of Oakland County, will write a series of articles for Garden Page. Through the course of his series, which will run each week until early fall, he plans to cover most phases of gardening including pruning, spraying, diseases and others of interest.

Now Is Good Time to Thicken Lawn

Spring is time for thickening your home lawn, says Carter Harrison, Michigan State University farm crops expert. He points out that spreading a good quality seed over the lawn in the early spring will help to fill out thin, or bare, spots in a lawn.

And, it will also serve to thicken the turf of an established lawn. It helps to give a lawn that thick, healthy, richness that homeowners desire.

When you scatter new, high quality grass seed over your lawn, add with it a good lawn fertilizer.

During early spring, when grasses first start to grow, there is often an off-color, yellowish tinge that will correct itself when the soil warms up.

This off-color is due to the lack of nitrogen, a fertilizer component, in the soil. In a cold soil, soil bacteria have not yet begun to release locked-in nitrogen.

Even though this condition is temporary, and will correct itself with the coming of warmer weather, many homeowners find it satisfying to add a nitrogen containing fertilizer in the spring to help give that first spring growth of lawns a deep, rich green color.

Harrison says that sowing seed and fertilizer can be best done from now until the middle of April. It is best done before the grass starts to grow.

By starting early, he adds, homeowners can not burn the lawn with the fertilizer. By waiting until it starts to grow, lawn owners may cause a fertilizer burn.

You can't hurt the grass if you do it now, he said.

Daffodils Vary in Form and Flowering Season

Daffodils, first major flowers to blossom in the spring, while limited in color range, vary much in form and season of bloom.

By using all available types, and selecting early, midseason and late varieties, daffodils can be kept blooming during two spring months.

Varieties suitable for garden borders are classified as:

Large Trumpets, in which the trumpet is as large as the perianth (surrounding petals). Colors include yellow, white and bicolor, in which the trumpet is yellow and the perianth white, or the reverse.

Incomparabilis, with medium length trumpets, of yellow, white, orange, red or flushed pink, combined with perianth of white or yellow.

Leedsi, having white perianths and white or sulphur medium trumpets.

Poets, with white perianths and small red or orange cups.

Jonquils which are not suited for a cold climate, except with heavy protection. They bear fragrant flowers in clusters.

There are also small flowering varieties suitable for rock gardens, and cluster - flowered varieties called "poetaz" which are attractive in flower arrangements.

Double-flowered daffodils are more curious than beautiful, but many like them for flower arrangements.

Among all these types there are some varieties which blossom early, and others which are late, though most varieties blossom between the two extremes. To prolong the flowering season it pays to search out these early and late kinds and make sure that a few of both are included in your planting.

Daffodils can be grown in locations which are shaded after the leaves of trees and shrubs develop, because by that time daffodil blooms have gone. The so-called pink varieties should bloom in light shade, since the flush of pink which is seen faintly in their apricot trumpets fades away in sunlight.

It is important to plant new bulbs early enough so they start growth and form roots before being frozen. Freezing will destroy dormant bulbs, and they will decay during the winter; but growing bulbs are rarely injured by cold, though they may be destroyed by poor drainage.

Groundwork Key to Successful Planting of Trees

The new home owner planting trees can have his own soil bank if he puts enough money as well as effort into the ground work.

Such ground work, in reality, is the planting pit, preparation of which should cost more than the tree itself. So says D. B. Magruder, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., Kent, Ohio, who points out the reverse usually is true.

An oversized pit properly drained and generously backfilled with top soil, or even the original subsoil liberally mixed with spagnum peat moss or other humous material, will do the trick and should get the tree off to an excellent start.

For small trees, a pit some two feet wider than the maximum root spread is advisable. The more ambitious tree lover needn't be restricted by this. There is no limit to the size or depth of the pit that can be employed.

Only one precaution: In actually setting the tree, make sure it stands at approximately the same grade that it grew in the nursery. This can be determined by the obvious growth line on the trunk.

Treaty Oak Is Hearty

Florida's Treaty Oak, in Jacksonville is about 800 years of age and still hale and hearty, says the National Arborist Assn. It is estimated that 4,000 people could stand within its shade at high noon.

Interesting Fruit Fact

Some species of trees require both male and female to produce fruits, according to the National Arborist Assn. The holly is an example and two trees must be planted to produce the typical red berries. The plum tree is another example.

Senator Cries Shame!

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said today "If I lived in Portland I'd suggest that they pull the flags down to half mast in public shame."

Mundt's comment was tossed at Multnomah County Dist. Att. William M. Langley who had invoked the Fifth Amendment and refused numerous questions from the Senate committee investigating rackets.

Press Corrects Error

A March 8 article in the Pontiac Press erroneously stated that Clarence Tank, 56, of 1155 Fairfax Rd., paid $100 on a drunk driving conviction in municipal court.

Tank's charge was reduced to reckless driving, and he paid a $100 fine. The Press regrets the error.

Official's Testimony Angers Senator

Union Records 'Cleaned Out'

WASHINGTON (INS) — The teamster's union vault in Portland, Ore., would make "Fibber" McGhee's fictional closet look like a model of housekeeping orderliness.

This was the impression the secretary - treasurer of Teamsters Joint Council 37 tried to convey to Senate investigators who demanded to know why he ordered destruction of union financial records for 1954-56.

"We were crowded for space," explained red-faced Reginalf R. (Reg Mikesell. He insisted there was nothing sinister in throwing out his most recent data instead of files which had been "gathering dust" in the vault since 1937.

"Possibly I was wrong in my judgment," he said, but that was as much error as he would admit.

LET DUST PILE UP

Mikesell told disbelieving senators that he simply considered it easier to let the dust keep piling up in the storage vault than to disturb it and put the latest records away.

After all, he said, the vault is only about 15 by 20 feet in size —and more cluttered than the record of two weeks of hearings on alleged tie-ins between Mikesell's union and the underworld.

"It was full of unused stationery," he noted, but only to have Sen. Sam Ervin (D-NC), ask: "Why didn't you take out the unused stationery instead of your current records?"

"There was no place else for the unused stationery," Mikesell replied.

CAN'T ANSWER

"Blazes!" exclaimed normally mild-mannered Sen. Irving Ives (R-NY), "You can't answer it. You don't dare answer it. That's no answer at all—no answer that any reasonable person would be willing to accept."

The missing records amounted to canceled checks, bank statements, invoices, and what the flustered, white-collarish witness referred to as "irrelevant" correspondence files.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), who ran a department store in his pre-political years, said the council's journal-ledger had only 40 entries a month and "you know that is not a lot of paper."

"You were terribly crowded for space, and you didn't destroy the files for 15 past years—but for the two most recent years?" asked committee chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy.

"Probably we were taking the path of least resistance, of least "Tome, it was simply a matter of routine housekeeping of the office."

Drives for Independence Stir British Possessions

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

British possessions are lining up in their drive for independence.

Creation of the free state of Ghana from the old Gold Coast colony in Africa has spurred the drive around the world.

The twilight of the British Empire began after the exhaustion of World War II. India and the Pakistani state carved out of it, Burma, and Ceylon—long glittering jewels in the imperial crown — obtained their independence. Burma chose to stay out of the commonwealth.

This week, Singapore's chief minister, Lim Yew Hock, arrived in London to debate what are expected to be the final term of self-government in that great trading center the British developed through the years.

With its hundreds of thousands of Chinese settlers — and active Communist cells—Singapore eventually may become another serious problem for the Western alliance.

Beyond the causeway over the Straits of Johore lies the Federation of Malaya, rich in rubber because the British long ago planted the trees.

FAVORITE STAR

The little aborigines living in the heat of the Malayan jungle told visiting government film units that Tarzan is their favorite screen star.

Tarzan, they were quoted as saying, "leads such a sane, normal life."

But city-wise Malayan politicians, educated and developed under "the white man's burden," head the list of those queuing up for independence.

On Aug. 31 the federation is scheduled to become independent. The British troops will remain for a time, responsible for external defense. But London wonders how long before that British vestige is dropped.

After Malaya and Singapore the ancient West Indies possessions will combine into a federation with a capital in Trinidad. Its first federal parliament is expected to meet about a year from now. The federation will remain in the comonwealth, but in time could decide to desert.

NIGERIA, TOO

In May deputations from Nigeria are due in London to discuss a self-government scheme. It the various native groups can agree, Nigeria will have self-government a month after the conference.

After Nigeria there will be a deputation from Mauritius, the Indian Ocean island. And every person in the West African colony of Sierra Leone will be able to vote four years hence.

Greek - descended Cypriots long have been fighting to join that British colonial Island to Greece. There are surges for reform, new constitutions and independence in many other areas.

Youth a Sad Handicap

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Peggy Ann Fruehe, 19, won a divorce after testifying her chemist husband, Robert, 22, thought more of his 10 antique cars than he did of her. Superior Judge George A. Dockweiler granted the decree after commenting, "Perhaps you weren't antique enough for him.

Waterford Ministers Form Association

A group of Protestant ministers in the Waterford Township area are in the process of forming a new organization, known as the Waterford Township Ministerial Assn., according to Rev. W. J. Teeuwissen, pastor of the Community United Presbyterian Church.

Feeling the need for more interchurch cooperation and planning, the group believes that through the pooling of information and discussion of common problems, it will materially assist the participating churches in serving the community more effectively, Rev. Teeuwissen said.

Rev. Arvid Anderson, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church acted as pro-tem chairman at a recent organizational meeting. Plans for election of officers and forming a permanent organization were discussed. An April 9 meeting has been scheduled.

A preliminary contract has been awarded for the construction of a second dam on the Nile at Aswan, Egypt.

Hollywood Headlines

Baccaloni, Kaye Teamed for 'Merry Andrew' Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Danny Kaye can't have a jealous bone in his body where another comedian is concerned or he'd never have stood still for MGM signing opera star Baccaloni for a top role in his "Merry Andrew."

If you saw Baccaloni as the irate and temperamental plus highly funny Italian father in "Full of Life" with Judy Holliday, you'll know what I mean. Audiences held their sides laughing over him and the critics gave him great reviews.

Producer Sol Siegel saw Baccaloni in the Columbia comedy and made a deal with agent Wynn Rocamora to get him for the role of the circus owner in Danny's picture. It starts at MGM in June.

MacDonald Carey was very pleased, both for himself and because he felt the late Jean Hersholt would be happy that the board of education in Syracuse recommended that school children see the "Dr. Christian" TV series.

Mac tells me that he and Betty are going to Europe after he films enough of the series to permit him to take time off. They'll go to Cannes and London, and in England he will star in "Cork in the Bottle," a mystery novel by his cousin MacDonald Hastings.

The Careys are my neighbors in Beverly Hills and one of the nicest families in the picture industry.

OUT OF COMPETITION

Because she thought Cyd Charisse, Tina Elg and Leslie Caron were too many ballerinas to compete with on the MGM lot, famed ballet dancer Liliane Montevecchi asked for her release—and got it. But the lovely toe-twirler wasn't out of a job for long.

Hal Wallis signed her in a hurry to play opposite Jerry Lewis in "Sad Sack," which will have two ballet sequences plus some more modern stepping for Liliane to do.

Lately, I've seen her around Hollywood quite often with Dr. Rex Ross, long-time devoted escort of Merle Oberon. How serious it is between Liliane and Rex I wouldn't be knowing.

Romanoff's was jumping and jiving Tuesday night. I had dinner with Joseph Schenck and we had a very pleasant talk with Mrs. Kingman Douglas (Adele Astaire) who is visiting her brother, Fred Astaire.

Adele doesn't look any older than she did when she was Fred's dancing partner. They were in a party with the David Nivens and the Rouben Mamoulians.

Greek actress Irene Pappas, who stopped by our table, told me that she can hardly wait until her contract at MGM is up. She wants to work and they have had very little for her.

Corinne Griffith, escorted by Mike Connolly, came to our table. She is still battling the income tax and doing an effective job.

HAPPY FOURSOME

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: A happy foursome was Rita Hayworth, her two daughters, and Jim Hill at the Luau. Don't sell the Hayworth-Hill romance short.

Another twosome to watch is Marjorie Lord (the new Mrs. Danny Thomas on TV) and Randy Hale, of San Francisco's Alcazar Theater. She has been dating Hale at the Sportsmen's Lodge.

In the crowd at the premiere of 20th Century-Fox's "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison," I saw Anne Baxter on the arm of Robert Q. Lewis.

Tim Durant, who was with Mrs. Tim, tells me he has come back to make the acquaintance of his new granddaughter. His daughter is married to Ron Waller, football player.

Also at the premiere, Rod McKuen, beaming happily, with Corky Hale, jazz harpist, on his arm.

Linda Christian was the center of attraction at the Mocambo when she showed up for the opening night of Johnny Bach and Anne Mason. She was escorted by Denny Slater.

Budget Cut Asked by Housing Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole says he is asking Congress to trim his agency's budget request by about a third.

Announcing this yesterday, Cole indicated that other agencies, under President Eisenhower's prodding, may take a similar course.

Cole told a news conference Eisenhower "made the decision that this agency should re-examine (its budget) and try to bring it down."

Accordingly, Cole said he is suggesting that Congress cut 125 million dollars from the amount the housing agency has requested for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

EOKA Offers to End Violence

Greek Cypriot Request Hinges Upon Release of Archbishop

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Prospects for an end to guerrilla warfare on Cyprus appeared improved today after an EOKA cease-fire offer.

British Gov. Sir John Harding neither accepted nor rejected the proposal, which was hinged on the condition that the British release Archbishop Markarios from exile. But Harding said he would be the first to welcome any move toward a "genuine and permanent cessation of the present violence," and that he was certain Britain would display "no lack of imagination" in dealing with the situation.

Vias Markides, editor of the Greek Orthodox neswpaper Ethnos and a leader of Cyprus' Greek community, hailed Harding's reply as encouraging. Hopes for a halt to the prolonged underground violence rose throughout the island.

Britain has offered Cyprus more self-government but has said violence must be ended before an agreement can be negotiated.

Celebrating Irishmen Provide St. Pat Jokes

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—St. Patty's Day is on us again—and Faith, it seems time for a a few stories to commemorate "the Wearin' of the Grin."

'Twill no doubt be a wettish weekend both outdoors and in. Which reminds me of the chestnut about Mike phoning from his hotel room to the desk clerk demanding immediate medical care for his Pat, who had drunk overmuch before, during and after the parade.

"Is he seeing green monkeys and pink elephants?" inquired the clerk helpfully.

Sure, and this was the identical Mike who, ailin' from the parade, went to a doctor for a thorough examination.

"Well, Doc," he asked nervously, "how do I stand?"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

John Perona, night club owner, was handed an $849,000 tax bill by Internal Revenue which claims he must've withheld income and cabaret taxes from '45-'51 to sustain his luxury living. Two agents contend 62% of his gross should've been profit; he says this is "arbitrary" and will oppose it. Of the tax bill, about $750,000 is for penalties.

"Mom" Dorsey became very ill and Jimmy rushed here from Joplin—then she got better . . . Leo Durocher wired Toots Shor: "What do you mean—in baseball you don't guess? What do you think I did all those years?"

Earl's Pearls . . .

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Moe Browarnik of Miami Beach writes, "The season's so good that owners can now afford to stay at their own hotels."

Airliners Searched in California, Texas

The searches turned up nothing. A Trans-World Airlines Constellation, 20 minutes out of Los Angeles on an eastbound flight, was called back to Lockheed terminal and searched. The inspection was extended to seven other TWA planes about to take off.

Police and airline workers made similar hunts on four Braniff planes at Dallas. A Braniff Convair en route from Dallas to Amarillo was grounded at Wichita Falls for an hour for a check through the plane and its mail and baggage.

Pilotage fees for Cuba's Port of Batabano are doubled after sunset, under provisions of a new rate schedule.

Nonpartisan Means Any Vote Welcome?

LAPEER (AP) — A Republican and Democrat, both running for the State Supreme Court, traded political remarks over partisanship in their race.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, Democratic nominee, and Prof. Robert F. Childs, Republican nominee and Wayne State University professor, spoke before a Lapeer political rally Wednesday.

Kavanagh said he had never said he would campaign as a Democrat. Childs countered that "certainly a partisan campaign was shouted from the housetops at the Democratic convention in Grand Rapids last month."

Later, speaking from another context, Kavanagh said:

"No election is actually non-partisan."

Also attending the meeting was Supreme Court Justice Eugene F. Black, former Republican attorney general, now serving as a Democrat.

He asked Childs during a public questioning period what the Republicans had been doing to take politics out of the selection of judges.

"I don't know," said Childs.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND — Tiger manager Jack Tighe laughs at anyone who claims a ball game was won because all of the opposing team's signals were intercepted.

"I won't buy that," said Tighe, "signals change with every game and according to the prevailing circumstances, and the game would be long over before the other team finally was able to decipher the signs."

"We could use the same signals throughout the game, but it is the sequence of hand signs which vary and make them pretty tough to catch," Tighe added.

Tighe pointed out that the signals given by a catcher during his crouch are often decoys. "Sometimes the catcher gives his signal on the way down, and sometimes the pitcher gives a signal and merely gets confirmation from the catcher," said Tighe.

Even if the other team does catch some of the signals, it's pretty tough to stop them from being carried out.

Take the 1940 World Series for instance. Hank Greenberg said he had intercepted all of Cincinnati's signals, but that didn't stop the Tigers from losing the series.

Tighe told a humorous tale of an incident last year in which a little faking had the opponents completely befuddled.

It happened at Comiskey Park in Chicago where the Tigers were playing a crucial series late in the year.

Pitcher Jim Bunning walked out of the dugout and toward the bullpen with a pair of binoculars around his neck. "The eyes of the White Sox coaches almost popped out when they saw this," said Tighe.

Bunning then leaned over the bullpen fence with the binoculars focused on the catcher, and he started signaling with his hands toward the Tiger dugout.

"Actually we had no idea whatsoever what the signals of the Chicago catcher were, yet we must have had them believing it," said Tighe, "because even manager Marty Marion came running out to protest to the umpire about the guy with the binoculars signalling from the bullpen."

The umpire could see no reason for stopping him from using the glasses. "That's the day we got a bushel of runs and beat Billy Pierce," said Tighe. "And it was the funniest thing because they thought we were really picking up the catcher's signals," he laughed.

"Of course what was really funny was to see him peering over the bullpen wall and waving his hands crazily as if to give us a signal."

Chiefs Aim for Regional Finals Spot

Van Ryzin Club Given Edge but Anticipates Close, Hot Battle

By H. GUY MOATS

The Flint MHSAA Regional basketball championship line was drawn tightly today about three Saginaw Valley rivals and a former member of the state's toughest cage conference. Accorded the favorites role, in this semifinal stage, and for the eventual regional crown, is Coach Art Van Ryzin's rampaging Chiefs. Pontiac takes a 15-1 record in tonight's late contest (9:30 p.m.) against old-time rival Flint Northern.

In the other (top) bracket of tonight's semifinals are Flint Central (SVC doormat this year) against ex-Valley member Owosso, conqueror in the tourney's opener over Waterford.

"How's the squad feeling, with the pressure building up as the title round comes up?" Art was asked this morning.

"We have been under the gun all season, so it doesn't make any difference to the team now. Every game is just another ball game, and if we want to keep going, we've got to win," the PHS mentor replied.

Jim Skinner and Dick Whitmer in the front-court, long Hudson Ray at the pivot, with high-scoring Dave Diehm and playmaker Larry Peet comprise the "shock troops". To go against Pontiac, Vikings' coach Jack Marlette said he'd start Maurice Woodson and Cliff Carr at forwards, husky Jim Reese at center, Reg. Gillard and Chuck Tillman at guards.

Northern dumped Lansing Eastern easily, Wednesday night 62-44, while Chiefs were having a bit of difficulty subduing a rough Sexton five 57-51.

Tonight's game will be the 3rd meeting between PHS and Northern this season. Chiefs won the two previous tests 54-41 and 55-51. The last was a real battle with the issue undecided up to the last minute.

Central edged Port Huron Wednesday, 69-67, in a bitter scrap, while Owosso stopped Waterford in an equally tough and close argument, 56-50.

Chiefs, Vikings play at 9:30, Central and Owosso at 8 p.m.

Yankees Take 3-2 Decision

Tighe Orders More Bat Work

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Manager Jack Tighe is ordering batting drills for the Detroit Tigers—the best hitting club in the American League last season—until they pick up at the plate.

The club has had only 34 base hits in five exhibition games, and principally because of lamb-like efforts with the bat, has only one victory in those five starts.

The Tigers got only five singles Thursday as they dropped a 3-2, 10-inning decision to the New York Yankees at St. Petersburg. They were back home today to meet the Chicago White Sox at Henley field.

Of the 34 safeties, only seven have been for extra bases. And if it were not for the club's fielding and good showing of bonus outfielder Jim Small and a couple of promising pitchers, Tighe could get ulcers in a hurry.

"I don't know why we're not hitting," the manager said. "I know we should be, and I know we are going to work a lot harder if we don't start hitting."

It's true the pitchers are supposed to be ahead of the batters at this stage of spring training, but Tighe wonders if his club isn't a little too far behind. The Tigers have faced an abundance of minor league pitching, and even most of the so called big guns of the Tiger attack are floundering at the plate.

Al Cicotte, Mark Freeman and Jack Urban, three Yankee hirelings whose chances of sticking with the world champs are slim did Thursday what other pitchers have done before in the early spring training. They held the Tigers to five hits and didn't yield more than one safety in any one inning.

Don Lee, 23-year-old rookie with only one year of pro ball behind him, baffled the Yankees for three innings, yielding just one hit. Starter Duke Maas looked good although the Yankees reached him for two runs and five hits in five innings. His control was good and he didn't walk a batter.

Small got two singles for the second day in a row. If he keeps hitting at his present pace, Tighe says he'll probably use the 20-year-old Small in center field in place of Bill Tuttle despite Small's defensive weaknesses.

New York broke a 2-2 deadlock on Gil McDougald's long triple over Small's head and Tony Kubek's single off Jack Crimian, who was charged with the defeat.

The Nashville Vols of the Southern Assn. whipped the Tiger B team Thursday 10-6. Jim Brady, the Tigers' bonus left hander, again ran into a batch of trouble with wildness.

Arizin Leads NBA Scorers

Warrior Tallies 1,817 Points, Beating Pettit by 62

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Arizin, the old Villanova star who led the National Basketball Assn. in scoring in 1952, brought the individual point honors back to Philadelphia this season.

Final figures released today on the regular season which ended Wednesday showed that Arizin scored 1,817 points for an average of 25.6 points per game. In 1952, as a second year man, Arizin tallied 1,674 points for an average of 25.4 as he dethroned George Mikan of Minneapolis — leader three seasons in a row.

This is the sixth time in 11 years that a Warrior has topped the scorers. Joe Fulks led in 1947, and Neil Johnston in 1953-54-55.

Wings Nip Hawks, Need One More Win for Title

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings need but a single victory more to clinch their 11th National Hockey League title.

The Detroiters moved to within one game of the crown with a 3-2 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks last night.

The victory kept the Wings five points ahead of the second-place Montreal Canadiens in the NHL standings. The Canadiens kept even last night with an 8-4 victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs. Detroit now has 82 points to 77 for the Habs.

The Black Hawk defeat put the Chicago club in last place in the final standings for the ninth time in the last 11 years.

Despite the promise of manager-coach Tommy Ivan that his Hawks wouldn't be "pushovers for anyone" it looked like easy going for the Wings in the opening minutes.

Johnny Bucyk opened the scoring for the Detroiters after 5:31 of the first period. Gordie Howe followed less than two minutes later and Lorne Ferguson poked in the goal that proved to be the winner at 19:25 of the second frame.

It wasn't until the final period that the Hawks came to life.

Jack McIntyre got the Chicago rally going by beating Glenn Hall with a high 35-footer just eight seconds after the period opened. Eddie Litzenberger flashed another goal at 16:07.

Ivan pressured first by replacing a defenseman with a forward. Then he yanked goalie Al Rollins for an extra attacker at 19:26.

Ted Lindsay hit the empty cage for Detroit from 100-feet out just a single second after the final siren.

Cellar-Dweller NAIA Threat

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Eastern Illinois College, which finished in a tie for last place in its conference, stood today among the best four teams of the NAIA Basketball Tournament.

Eastern's crew of deadly accurate long shot artists trimmed three-time tournament champion Hamline University of St. Paul 88-83 in last night's quarter-finals to gain a berth in semifinals tonight.

Another unseeded entry, Tennessee State, edged Western Illinois 90-88 in the quarter-finals.

Hazel Park's Bill Blackwell is considered among the leading prospects for starting roles among the host of hurling candidates at Western Michigan College this season. He is a sophmore. Broncos open against Iowa April 5-6.

Spartans Meet Notre Dame

NCAA Play Resumes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Virtually all the scoring records for the NCAA major college basketball tournament were set in the past three years, but the big question today, as 16 NCAA contenders moved into four regional tournaments, was whether this scoring trend might be reversed.

There have been a couple of signs. The San Francisco Dons, 1955-56 champions, got their best results by playing solid defensive basketball and holding their shots until they counted. Two of this year's first-round winners, Canisius and Idaho State, did virtually the same thing as they beat West Virginia and Hardin-Simmons with scores in the 60's.

Canisius likely will try to keep control when it meets unbeaten North Carolina tonight, rather than take chances on letting All-America Lennis Rosenbluth and his mates get their shots. Some of the others may use similar tactics if they decide its futile to run against such teams as Kansas, Kentucky, St. Louis and Notre Dame.

The results could be just the opposite, since all 16 teams have shown that on occasion they can collect large gobs of points.

Here's the lineup for the four regional major college NCAA playoffs tonight that will qualify four teams for the final rounds at Kansas City March 22-23.

At Philadelphia, North Carolina, the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press ranking poll and the only one that went through the season unbeaten, opposes Canisius, while Syracuse, winner over Connecticut, plays Lafayette.

At Lexington, Ky., Kentucky, ranked third in the AP poll, faces Pittsburgh and Big Ten co-champion Michigan State meets Notre Dame. Pitt edged Morehead, Ky. 86-85 in the opening round and Notre Dame routed Miami, Ohio, 89-77. Kentucky, a three-time winner of the NCAA title, is starting its ninth tournament.

At Dallas, Kansas, ranked second this season, plays the No. 4 team, Southern Methodist, and Oklahoma City, No. 9, meets St. Louis, No. 10. The Kansas-SMU game could be a dilly of a scoring match with seven-foot Wilt Chamberlain opposing SMU's tall, clever Jim Krebs but it also could turn into a cautious affair in which each team tries to stifle the opposing star.

At Corvallis, Ore., San Francisco opens its title defense against Idaho State and California Pacific Coast Conference champs, meet Brigham Young.

Over 40 schools from every part of the state will be battling for the coveted team trophy. Medals will be awarded the champions and other top finishers in each event.

Heiss, Jenkins Seek National Figure Crowns

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Two youngsters who already have captured world crowns, Carol Heiss and Dave Jenkins, seek today to add national figure skating titles to their laurels.

Jenkins, 20-year-old Colorado College pre-medical student, and seven others in the men's division skate the precise compulsory figures. They'll finish up with the free skating tomorrow.

Swim Class on Saturday

A "learn to swim" program for 5th and 6th grade boys and boys of junior high age will begin Saturday morning in the Pontiac High School swimming pool.

Demaret Leads at St. Pete

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Aging, ageless Jimmy Demaret stepped up to his ball, stroked it firmly and gave a little leap of joy as it fell into the cup 12 feet away for an eagle.

Still sporting the broad smile and the brightly colored golfing garb that have been Demaret trademarks for years, he then turned in his first round score in the St. Petersburg Open—a 67.

Two lads young enough to be Demaret's sons were out front with 5-under-par 66s—Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., 26, and Bill Casper Jr. of Bonita, Calif., 25.

Tied with Demaret behind Littler and Casper were Jackie Burke Jr. of Kiamesha Lake, and Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La. Hebert was runner-up here last year, losing to Mike Fetchick of Mahopac, N.Y., in a playoff. Fetchick started the second round round tied with 12 others at 70.

Four golfers were deadlocked at 68—Don Addington of Tecumseh, Mich., Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla., Bob Inman of Detroit, and George Bayer of Los Angeles. The 69 shooters included Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., and Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa.

Two strokes behind was Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills with a 70.

Littler has been having trouble with his swing for about eight months and he said he hopes he is coming out of his slump.

Casper, who grew up with Littler in San Diego, credited part of his fine showing to fishing. He said he had been tired for two or three weeks and decided to pass up practice and to fish instead. His 66 attests to the relaxing qualities of fishing and a freezer full of fish attest to his prowess with rod and reel.

Title Contenders in 2nd Meeting

NEW YORK (AP)—Having fought almost to a draw the first time, featherweight contender Gil Cadilli and Ike Chestnut are rated even for their return bout at Madison Square Garden tonight.

It's 6-5 and take your pick for the radio-television, NBC, 10 p.m., EST, 10-rounder.

Cadilli, a 25-year-old ex-GI from Los Angeles, finished strong to nose out the 26-year-old New Yorker by one point at Houston, Tex., last Oct. 30.

"That was a big point for me," said Cadilli. "I wasn't going too good and was even thinking of quitting the ring. The fight with Chestnut was the test. It was one of the toughest of my career. He hit me with a hook in the first round and buckled my knees, but I fought it off and won. That fight showed I still belonged with the leading featherweights.

JOLIET, Ill (AP) — Vincennes, Ind., defeated Moline, (Ill.) 88-65 and Joliet (Ill.) trounced Flint (Mich.) 100-69 last night to advance to the finals of the region 12 junior college basketball tournament.

East Detroit in 'A' Finals

Turning on all their power after trailing in the opening minutes, the Shamrocks of East Detroit scored as they pleased the rest of the contest to wallop Mt. Clemens by a 73-50 count in the only game of the "A" Regional at Birmingham last night.

The victory sent the Eastern Michigan League champions into the finals of the tourney tomorrow night against the winner of tonight's Berkley - Detroit Catholic Central scrap. The latter game, which is rated a tossup, gets underway at 7:30.

Last night's final score was indicative of the way East Detroit dominated the play once it got rolling.

The Shamrocks had to battle back to gain an 8-8 tie midway through the initial period but from then on kept hitting from all angles. The scoreboard read 21-10 after the quarter and had jumped all the way to 67-37 in the final before the Losers managed a slight rally.

Hard-working center Ron Emerick topped all the point-getters with 10 field goals and a foul for 21 giving him 44 in two tournament starts. Dick Kehrer followed for EDHS with 15 as the victors extended their record to 16-1.

Mt. Clemens was led by lanky Ed Noe with 18 and Charley Nicolai contributed 14.

Course Record 62 Gives Metz Lead in Golf Tourney

GULFPORT, Miss. (UP) — Nerveless Dick Metz shrugged off mounting pressure today as he carried a three-stroke lead into the second round of the $5,000 Gulf Coast Invitational, the "National Open" for golf's home professionals.

The ever-smiling Metz, a headliner on the PGA tournament circuit a few years ago, wrecked the Great Southern Country Club's tree-lined course yesterday with a nine-under-par 62. His almost incredible round shattered the 63 course record and was three strokes better than any competitive score ever posted on the course.

Tigers Send Hadley, Paschal to Tigertown

LAKELAND, Fla. (UP)—The Detroit Tigers announced Thursday that rookie infielders Kent Hadley and Al Paschal have been cut from the squad and sent back to Tigertown for assignment to minor league clubs.

Both are second - year players signed last summer after they completed brilliant college careers, Paschal at Texas Christian and Hadley at Southern California. Hadley is a first baseman while Paschal plays both shortstop and second base.

It was the first squad cut announced by the Tigers.

By BILL CORNWELL

A howling pack of Wolves from Clarkston didn't make as much noise Thursday night as they did last week, but they still howled loud enough to reach the final round of the Class B regional tournament.

Clarkston was the scrouge of last week's district tourney at Pontiac High. Coach Dom Mauti's cagers ousted Avondale and Rochester in sparkling fashion to win the district crown.

Last night's performance in the PHS gym was not quite so sparkling. But the Wolves still managed to grind out a 52-41 victory over Orchard Lake St. Mary to qualify for Saturday's championship game.

The Wolves will meet the winner of tonight's Walled Lake-St. Clair game for the 'B' regional title.

St. Cecilia advanced to the Class C regional final last night with a 54-34 triumph over St. Charles. The Irish will face the survivor of tonight's All Saints-Grosse Pte. St. Paul contest.

Clarkston maintained a steady lead, but the Eaglets were always in contention. They crept within five points on two occasions and the 11-point difference at the end was Clarkston's widest margin. The halftime score was 23-18.

Orchard Lake moved the ball well, but couldn't locate the basket. The Wolves shot a dazzling 43 per cent. They made fewer attempts than normal, however, and adopted slow-down tactics in the 4th quarter.

George Lang sparked the Clarkston attack with 21 points. Larry Parks connected for 11 and Jim Jensen added 10. Art Giosdzinski and Pete Madelans scored 13 and 12 respectively for St. Mary.

It was Clarkston's 15th win in 18 starts. The Eaglets wound up their season with a gaudy 17-3 record.

St. Cecilia had no trouble eliminating St. Charles. The Irish led at halftime, 28-10, and coasted the rest of the way. Ed Urban and John Cooney of St. Cecilia and the loser's Richie Saigh all tallied 12 points.

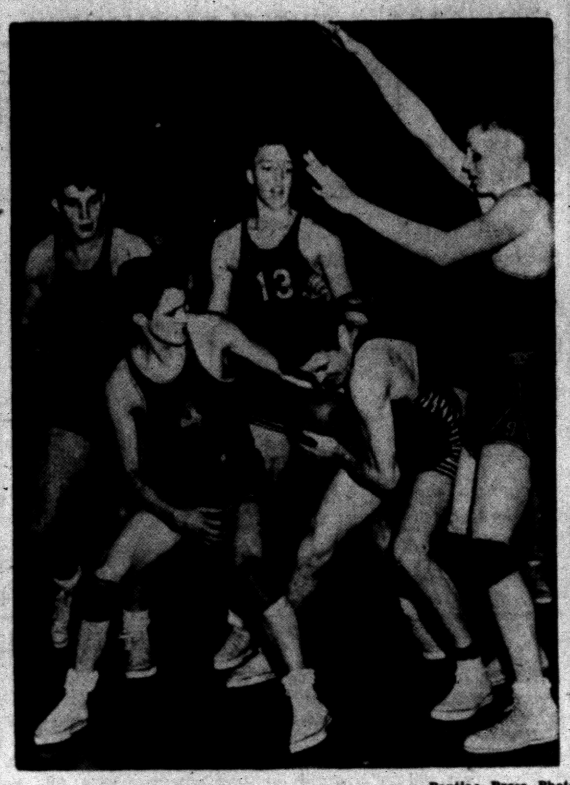

The Walled Lake-St. Clair battle tonight promises to be a sizzler for more reasons than one. First off, the Vikings are looking for revenge.

St. Clair returns here under the guidance of Chuck Cotton, Ullenbruch's assistant for three years. Ullenbruch and Cotton were high school classmates at Port Huron and both are 30 years old.

Walled Lake boasts a sensational 18-1 record while St. Clair has won 15 and lost three. Right there you have all the makings of a 1st class dogfight.

SURROUNDED — St. Mary's stocky guard Paul Franckowiak, fighting to hold to the ball above, was surrounded by most of Clarkston's team. Action was a late period flurry in the Pontiac Class B Regional, last night, won by the Wolves. Clarkston players are (12) Bill Noles, (4) LeRoy Parks, (13) Dick Lippert and (9) at right Jim Jenson.

Michigan, Harvard in NCAA Ice Duel

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UP) —Michigan's defending national champions and Harvard will battle tonight for the right to contest a tough Colorado College crew for the NCAA hockey crown.

CC's Tigers bounded past Clarkson, N.Y., 5-3, last night in the opening game of the 10th annual playoffs. Wing Bob McCusker set the pace for the Western Intercollegiate League titlists with three goals after Clarkson grabbed a 1-0 edge in the first period.

Tonight's loser will play Clarkson tomorrow afternoon.

Boys Club Bows Out of Tourney

Pontiac Boys Club bowed out of the Class D Inter-City Recreation basketball tournament last night at Lasky Community Center in Detroit.

The local quintet was sidelined by Dearborn's entry, 52-45, in the semifinal round.

Dearborn forged into a 27-20 halftime edge and led the rest of the way.

Another Double Win for OCSC Shooters

Oakland County Sportsmen's Club riflemen are hanging up a slightly spectacular string of double-dual victories this winter. To add to the already neat string of wins was the 934-1029 to 931-1001 count against Lincoln Park.

Fired at Lincoln Park, top shooters were—for OCSC, John Treeful (189-201), H. Collins (185), D. Marvel (209 act.), B. Henry (188-208), M. LaPorte (187), Kiel Danielson (185), W. Olson (208 act.). Small School Final Today

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — The NCAA's newest tournament champion will be crowned tonight at Municipal Stadium with a pair of hot-shooting basketball teams, Wheaton College of Illinois and Kentucky Wesleyan, meeting for the small college championship.

The NCAA college meet, inaugurated this year along the lines of the university division, has been termed a success by officials. Plans already are being set up for the second annual tournament next year, probably again in Evansville.

This city's new stadium, called the Sports Center, seats 11,234, but the tourney so far has drawn only about 2,500 fans per night. Evansville College was defeated just before the quarter-final round shifted to its home base and thus the local attraction was missing.

However, Kentucky Wesleyan of Owensboro, is just down the road 40 miles, and has a large following, as does Wheaton, a Chicago suburb.

Kearsley Ousts Lapeer in Hot Overtime Scrap

By H. GUY MOATS

An all-Flint finale was assured last night for the Class "B" MHSAA regional cage tournament in Flint IMA, Saturday at 8 p.m.

Lapeer led all the first period against Kearsley, but never by more than a couple points. Third period was a give and take affair. Kearsley tied the count at 52-all with 1:15 to go. It was tied up twice more, at 54 and 58 before Phipps grabbed the ball to break up a Lapeer stall. He fired from the corner and Larry Adams steered the ball into the basket for the tie with 15 seconds left.

Bud Earl got a quick basket at 1:45 of overtime, but Tom Wilson, who had another great night at the twines with 34, knotted it at 60-all, with a fine driving pass to Dennis Troy under the hoop. Then Tom Phipps took the ball the length of the floor to sink a corner shot for the win.

Few Ski Areas Still Operate in Soft Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Grass was more prevalent than snow on most Michigan ski slopes going into this weekend's activity.

But four areas reported skiing.

Boyne Mountain, where a snow-making machine has laid down five feet of base, still operating.

Sylvan Knob and Hidden Valley, both near Gaylord, reported 4-6 inches of base with skiing fair to good.

And the Manistee ski area at Manistee reported limited skiing on two runs.

Report State Deer Starving to Death

HOUGHTON (AP) — Deer, particularly the young, are dying of starvation by the score in the Keweenaw Peninsula at the very northern tip of Michigan's Upper Peninsula, State Conservation Department officers report.

Robert Rafferty, a district game supervisor, and Jules Pann, department game biologist, said they visited various areas in and surrounding the Keweenaw area and, at one spot, observed 50 deer in four hours.

The deer all appeared thin and were not scampering around as usual, they said. Autopsies were performed on four dead deer and all had died of starvation, the officers said.

In eight days the men said they ran across 16 starved deer and many others had been reported by woodsmen and automobile travelers.

TOURNEY OFFICIALS — The brains behind the 24th annual Women's City Bowling tournament are the officers of the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association shown above. They are: standing, left to right, Rose Stratton, treasurer; Eve Miller, sergeant-at-arms; Doris Lanktree, 2nd vice president, and Margaret Weber, 1st vice president. Keg Meet in 2nd Week

Forty-two teams, doubles and singles entries from Pontiac and 12 surrounding communities swing into action here Saturday and Sunday in the 2nd weekend of the annual tournament sponsored by the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association.

The major event of the women's keg season is being held at the Dixie Recreation alleys in Drayton Plains with contestants all members of the Association.

Britten's Service of Pontiac set an early pace in team play last weekend with a 2919 total with the Daffodils rolling the high actual score of 2194.

The score to beat in doubles is 1259 hit by Mary Ann Toles-Greta Swanson of Pontiac. Nancy Buffmyer-Tressie Ramsey of Walled Lake and Wixom combined for the high game of 451.

In singles, Pontiac's Mary Shepherd tops the list with 643. Opal Ward has the best series scores of 663 and 525 and heads both all-events departments with 1827 and 1502. Catherine Victor rolled the top singles of 252.

The tournament has its all-time high in entries this year so those leads are expected to be jumbled around considerably before the champions are determined. Several cash awards and trophies will be presented the top finishers at the conclusion of the event.

Saturday's competition gets under way for teams at 7 p.m. and continues throughout the evening. Doubles and singles will be held Sunday afternoon starting at noon. More team action is slated to round out the weekend Sunday night at 6:45.

The month-long tournament comes to a close March 31.

Highland Golf Club Opens This Weekend

Whether its an urge created by the current spring-like weather about Oakland county, or just a previously planned move, Highland Golf Club will open this weekend for the 1957 season.

"The clubhouse will definitely be open" says co-owner Frank Dursek of Highland." And if weather is okeh, we'll have the course playing, too," he added.

Dursek and his associates, Carl J. Walter of Birmingham and Leslie Oberlin of Highland annuonce that no changes have been made in ownership, and that course fees will remain as in 1956.

Among improvements are new showers, betterment of locker room facilities inside, and discing and fertilization fairways.

Holds Perfect Hand

One of those rare "once-in-a-lifetime" cribbage hands fell to Joe Nolan the other night at Oakland County Boat Club. Joe was engaged in a little "crib" with fellow-OCBC member Maurice Wilcox when he drew the 4-5 and Jack of diamonds, the "perfect 29" hand.

Bestows Order on Cmdr. Parker

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II personally bestowed the Royal Victorian Order today on Cmdr. Michael Parker, close friend and former secretary to Prince Philip.

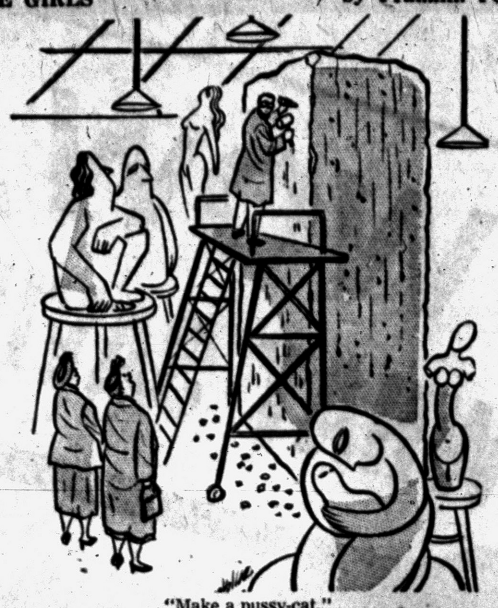

Parker was secretary to the Queen's husband for nine years. He resigned earlier this year when the news got out that he and his wife had separated.

Parker at the time was accompanying Philip on his round-the-world tour. The secretary said he did not want to embarrass the crown, which traditionally opposes divorce.

The resignation was followed by publication of rumors current for some time that there was trouble between the Queen and Prince Philip.

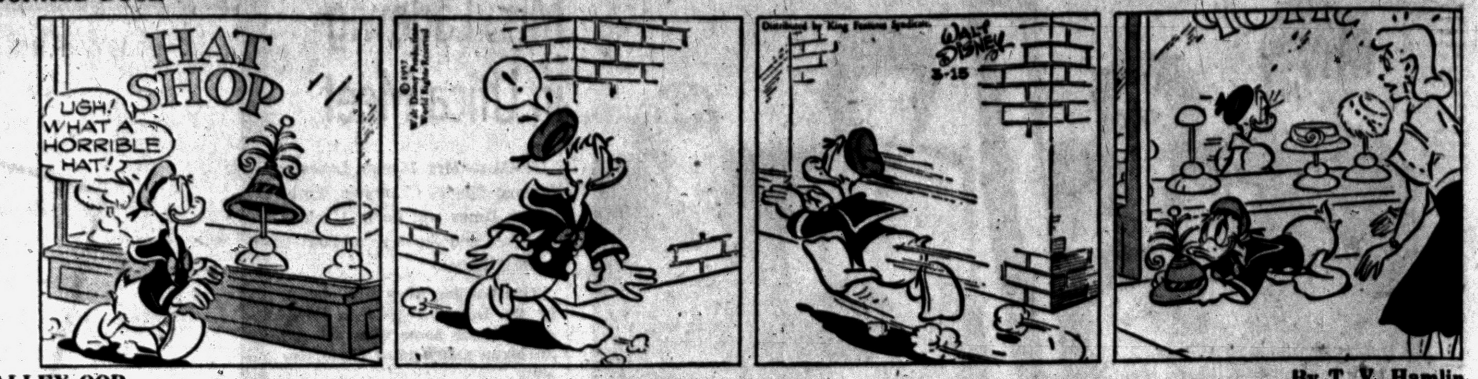

These were denied, and the Queen flew to Portugal for a state visit. Philip met her there and the visit turned into something akin to a second honeymoon.

Three hundred dollars are waiting for some lucky winner who figures out the right solution to this week's puzzle (that is, if there's no winner for last week's Pot-O-Gold). And subscribers get a bonus of $25. Check the clue words, solution clues and rules carefully. Then send us your answer. The money may be yours.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

March Wheat Pushed Lower

CHICAGO (AP) — Liquidation pushed the March wheat contract down more than a cent a bushel at times on the Board of Trade today, and other wheat contracts also were easy.

Corn and oats were about steady in early trade, while soybeans were firm.

Longs in March wheat appeared to be liquidating because of disappointment over the fact that the fairly large export sales are not being covered by hedges in the futures market. The sales are meeting little demand.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅛ to ⅝ lower, March $2.29⅛; corn unchanged to ⅛ higher, May $1.34; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, March 73⅞; rye ⅛ higher to ¼ lower, March $1.34¾; soybeans 1⅛ higher to ¼ lower, March $2.43, and lard 7 to 13 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $14.55.

Artists Protest Monkey Work in Local Exhibit

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Berkeley artists battled to a clamorous draw last night on the issue of exhibiting the artistic creations of Betsy, Baltimore's finger-painting chimpanzee.

The only thing settled was a decision to take a look at the ape's handiwork, or footwork. A painting will be flown out from the Baltimore Zoo for critical inspection at a meeting next Wednesday.

The idea of exhibiting Betsy's painting was broached Monday by Nora Hampton, director of the annual sidewalk art show just outside the University of California campus June 28. Miss Hampton had read that Betsy's paintings have been selling for $25 to $50 per canvas.

Charles Modecke, San Francisco Bay area abstractionist, expressed indignation and said he wouldn't exhibit if Betsy did.

"No chimpanzee," he added, "is going to make a monkey out of me."

Last night, before a standing-room - only crowd at Berkeley Women's City Club, artist Lorraine Crawford sized it up this way:

"We are unalterably opposed to, and cannot tolerate, and owe the public an apology for the idea of putting local artists in competition with a chimpanzee which is what Betsy is."

Others said well, what the heck, it was the American way to give Betsy her chance.

Mutual Funds Stable

NEW YORK (INS)—Mutual fund shareholders, it appeared today, stood the February stock market slump well. A report by the National Association of Investment Companies showed redemption of shares in 136 open-end investment firms dropped to $33.2 million last month, compared to $37.2 million in January and $39.3 million in February, 1956. Purchases, however, also declined. Sales totaled $105.7 million against nearly $150 million a month and $117 million a year earlier.

TRIPOLI (AP) — Vice President Nixon went handshaking through Tripoli today and attracted up to 10,000 persons.

Stocks Continue to Lose Ground

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to lose ground sleepily early this afternoon but a few issues moved to the upside.

Aside from these, the general range of losses went from fractions to around a point with coppers exceeding this.

News that Phelps Dodge, the country's second biggest copper producer, is cutting production further was depressing to stocks of the industry.

Turnover on the market was at a dwadling pace. The first hour's volume was the smallest of the week.

Budget cuts announced by the administration and a continued feeling that the Middle East situation is not yet resolved were dampening factors, brokers said. In addition, the usual reluctance of traders to extend positions prior to a weekend was noted.

Kennecott Copper dropped around 2 and Phelps Dodge more than a point. Anaconda and American Smelting lost fractions. International Nickel fell around a point.

Signs of a possible reversal of trend were seen in the motors division as Chrysler and Ford were both in active demand and fractionally higher. Allied Chemical improved an early fractional gain to beyond a point.

Bedtime Story Has Royal Touch, French Accent

PARIS (INS) — Prosident Rene Coty of France walked into the royal suite in the Elysee Palace, bounced up and down on an elegant royal bed and pronounced it "too hard, too short."

He ordered the director general of national property to find another one, finally giving his approval to an 18th Century bed nearly 7 feet long.

Thus was made another decision of state, for the bed is the one in which Prince Philip will sleep when he and Queen Elizabeth visit France April 8.

Coty also objected to the bed that had been chosen for Elizabeth because he thought it would be indelicate to have her sleep in a bed formerly belonging to Madame Pompadour, mistress of Louis XV.

She will sleep in the bed of Louis XVI.

Dairy Farmers Threaten Strike

800 Meet in Lansing, Give State Co-op Assn. Right to Bargain

By LEE WINBORN

Threat of a possible milk strike loomed greater today as a result of action taken yesterday by some 800 dairy farmers meeting in East Lansing.

At a session called by the Dairy Farmers Cooperative Assn. of Michigan, the farmers unanimously adopted a "strike action" resolution.

In it, approval was given to the DFC to "fight for a collective bargaining contract with the dairies," as outlined by organizational Director Homer Martin.

In their demands, presented to the Borden Co., the dairy farmers co-op asked recognition as the bargaining agent for shippers.

FAVOR STATE FARMERS

The delegation further asked that, if handlers needed more milk, they not go out of state to get it, but give present shippers the opportunity to supply it first.

They further asked the company to restore the $5.35 price per hundredweight for class I drinking milk.

Farmers are getting $4.90 per hundredweight for bottled milk as a result of agreements made March 1 between the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. and the creameries. On May 1 the price will drop to $4.65 per CWT according to the present agreement.

State Senate Gets Police Hours Bill

LANSING (AP)—The Senate today took over a bill to let policemen initiate a public vote on putting them under a 40-hour work week.

The measure won 60-35 approval in the House yesterday over objections that it tended to usurp "home rule" rights of local governments.

Somewhat watered down from its original version, the bill would authorize policemen in cities of over 10,000 population to initiate a referendum on the 40-hour week if at least 51 per cent of department employes request a vote.

If the proposal failed to win public favor, it could not be voted on again for four years.

Retired Professor Poor Dies at Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (INS) — Funeral arrangements were being completed today for 81-year-old Vincent C. Poor, former mathematics professor at the University of Michigan.

Professor Poor taught at the U. of M. for 41 years before his retirement in 1948. He died of a heart attack yesterday while walking on the campus.

MEMO TO CAESAR

Jesus' Success Mystifies Pilate

(Ninth in a Lenten Series)

Tiberius Caesar had interrupted the reading of his latest report from Pilate in order to go with his friend and counsellor Aelius to the public baths where they frequently relaxed and discussed minor matters of state.

Toward evening, they returned through the hot streets of Rome, just beginning to awaken to leisurely activity as people came out of their homes to enjoy the livening breeze and the lengthening shadows.

Tiberius went into the palace garden to finish reading the advices from Pilate:

Now, August Caesar, if you do not deem it dangerous that an itinerant teacher should glean followers from among a group of fishermen, I will tell you more of what Junius has reported.

This man could have literally thousands of followers. Instead he has a select few. He chooses them carefully.

The other day he was coming along the road from Nazareth when he noticed a tax collector named Matthew at the customs post. This Matthew is an educated man, Junius tells me. As a government official he had a lucrative post.

But what happened? Why, this: The Nazarene simply came up to the customs barrier and said: "Follow me."

Matthew, a man of learning who certainly could not be taken in by a mere stripling who had been inspired by contemplation of his own lot in the wilderness — Matthew, I say, got up and followed Jesus. Becoming one of his most devoted and able apostles.

Frankly, this begins to alarm me.

Do not suppose, either, that I am merely taking the word of one agent. At one point, I began to suspect that Junius himself had been bewitched by the power of this man. So I had other agents check on Junius. He is as loyal and alert as ever. He is simply reporting a phenomenon, the like of which we have not encountered before.

Moreover, I have gone into the market places in disguise, my own self, and heard the people talking of this man, this carpenter's son who heals both minds and bodies.

August Caesar, I suspect the beginnings of treason. How do you advise me to proceed?

(Signed) Pilate

100 Inquire on Real Taxes

City's Five-Man Board Talks to 350 in First Week of Session

Approximately 100 persons appeared before the Pontiac Board of Tax Review this week to inquire about 1957 real estate assessments.

Members of the board today "are in the field" checking on the property questioned.

Around 350 persons went before the five-man board in the first week of its annual three-week session. They were seeking tax exemptions or reductions for reasons of diminished incomes.

Mrs. Charles Boshears, clerk of the board, said this week's 100 persons was "a little heavy for real estate hearings, but not exceptionally heavy."

PROPERTY QUESTIONS

In its final week, March 18-20, questions on personal property assessments will be covered. Citizens are requested to bring property books to the hearings, Mrs. Boshears asked.

She said those persons who have missed previous scheduled hearings may still come before the board.

Area Protographer Wins Global Honor

A Waterford Township photographer has been awarded one of the highest international honors accorded people in that profession.

Harold W. Sayles, 4431 Dixie Highway, was notified that his national award winning photograph will be among the 1,410 pictures accepted for display at the International Professional Photographers Convention to be held in Washington D. C., March 24-29.

The selection was made from more than 5,000 entries.

Sayles contribution to the exhibit is titled "The Girl", and is a portrait study of Jean Serravalle, 106 Augusta St., Waterford Township.

Ground Search Ordered for Missing Bruce Cope

DETROIT (INS) — Redford Township Police Chief Christopher Nielsen today ordered complete ground search near the home of Bruce Cope, 2½, who has been missing since Tuesday.

Nielsen said he was not "entirely satisfied" that the boy drowned in the Rouge River, as first believed.

Bruce disappeared from the backyard of his home, which is located near the river.

A small set of footprints were found near the river's edge and dragging operations were launched, but they have failed to uncover the body.

To Open Dublin's Wing for Inspection Monday

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The new wing which has been added to Doblin school will be open to the public for inspection Monday evening. An "open house" period will begin at 7 p.m., an hour prior to the start of the regular monthly PTA program.

In issuing an invitation to interested persons, Supt. William VanderVen said the wing includes five classrooms, Arts and Crafts room, a boys' locker and shower room, a lounge for teachers, an office for the school principal, a conference room and general administrative offices.

The addition, third since 1949, was completed at a total cost of $161,337.61. It will house 180 junior high school students.

Located at 9260 Sandyside, just a few blocks from Union Lake Village, Dublin school has experienced growing pains with the ever-increasing population in White Lake Township.

There are now 825 elementary and junior high school pupils enrolled at the school. The new addition satisfies current requirements, VanderVen said.

VanderVen pointed out that the school has never been forced to adopt a half-day schedule.

The new addition was erected by the Wallace Construction Company of Farmington. Walter Anicka of Ann Arbor was the architect.

Planned in conjunction with the opening of the new wing to the public, the PTA meeting will feature a panel discussion on the topic, "What We Expect From Our Schools." The panel will be comprised of PTA members.

Refreshments will be served.

Chums to Elect at Party Tonight

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The Cheery Chums, 14-year-old club here, will have a "revealing" party at 6 tonight, at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Giddings, 6180 Vansickle Ave.

Mrs. Murdo McDonald is chairman for the affair. Each member has been asked to bring a gift and there will be election of officers during business meeting.

Slate Town Board Date

WEST BLOOMFIELD— Because of a change in the state law during the past year, the annual township meeting will be held Saturday, March 30, at 2 p.m. in West Bloomfield Town Hall, 4460 Orchard Lake Rd. Frank Hallett, township clerk, has announced the meeting date.

False Tranquility

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit Juvenile Judge Nathan J. Kaufman says extensive present day use of tranquilizer drugs will produce a large new group of emotionally unstable children.

Marcel Poupon of Paris has developed a way to age and petrify wood artificially by impregnating it with magnesium cement.

Buzzing Bees Rival Jet Plane Breaking Barrier

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A concussion, apparently due to a jet military plane going through the sound barrier, caused the home of Mrs. Theresa Fiorentino to be covered by bees. She and a neighbor who was visiting her became prisoners in the house.

With the windows black with bees, Mrs. Fiorentino called police. By the time the police bee expert had arrived the bees had swarmed to a berry bush and it wasn't too much trouble capturing them.

The bee specialist, William J. Fox, said that the bees came from a hive in the hills and that the sonic boom apparently jarred the queen. When she took off her adherents followed.

President Sails Along the Coast Toward Florida

EN ROUTE WITH EISENHOWER (AP)—President Eisenhower, relaxing and seeking to spruce up his health, cruised south along the Atlantic coast today toward the warm waters off Florida.

The President sailed from Norfolk, Va., aboard the Navy guided missile cruiser Canberra last night on a leisurely six-day voyage to Bermuda. He will arrive there Wednesday afternoon for talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

He decided on the sea trip in a move to shake a stubborn cough, a head cold and an ear ailment which have been bothering him for some time.

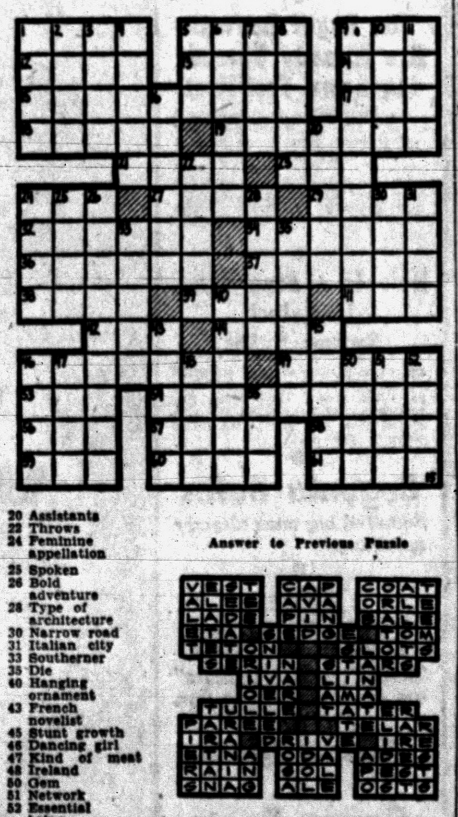

Hagerty said the President was "feeling fine" and that the Canberra's course for today would be due south along the Atlantic coast.

Buffalo for Sale, but Not for Use as Buffaloburger

PITTSBURGH (AP)—If you're in the market for a buffalo, can give him plenty of space to roam and guarantee he won't wind up as buffaloburger it might be wise to get your bid in immediately with officials of Allegheny County.

The county has a herd of 19 buffalo and has set aside 20 acres of South Park for them. But four young buffalo are expected soon and officials have decided to cut down the herd by selling a few.

Parks Director George B. McDonough says he isn't sure how much to charge but he believes the going price for a buffalo is about $500.

Doctor Says Quacks Treat Up to Half of Cancer Cases

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. L. Henry Garland, an authority on cancer diagnosis from Stanford University, said yesterday that "between a quarter and a half of all advanced cancer cases go to quacks."

"Quackery never ceases," Dr. Garland told the 11th Michigan Clinical Institute. "Quacks may die today," but sometimes their followers carry on with the old remedy or new cure claims come along tomorrow.

"The main tragedy of cancer quackery," he continued, "is that persons who might be treated successfully by the only effective means—surgery and radiation—lose time by going to quacks until it is too late."

Dr. Garland estimated there are 4,000 purveyors of worthless cancer remedies.

OFFER TEST

The California Cancer Commission, of which he is a member, has offered since 1950 to test any proposed cancer treatment or medicine, Dr. Garland said, adding:

"We do this partly because we are conscious that some day some unknown may find something better for treating cancer. We are trying to give the potential Louis Pasteur his chance. Newspaper science writers have been a big help to us in our public education efforts."

Dr. John H. Garlock, Columbia University clinical professor of surgery, reported that ulcerative colitis, a disease which may be pre-cancerous, apparently is on the increase, especially among urban people.

"The disease," Dr. Garlock said, "is supposed to be related to emotional difficulties, but whether emotional stress is cause or effect is unknown. It is uncommon among farm groups where life is at a slower pace than in large cities."

He reported 80 per cent of ulcerative colitis cases are mild and can be treated medically, but surgical treatment involves complete removal of the large intestine.

Missouri Court Gives Damages to Daughter

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A Circuit Court jury awarded Marian Wurth $7,500 damages against her father for spinal injuries suffered four years ago when he was 19.

It was believed to be the first time in Missouri that damages were awarded a minor against a member of his immediate family. The verdict was returned yesterday.

John S. Wurth, a brewery foreman, was driving his daughter to work when the car skidded on ice and she was thrown out. Miss Wurth, a telephone operator, had sued for $25,000.
