Quiz 8 in 'Stocking' Holdup for Murder Link

Pontiac Police are holding five men and three women for investigation of an armed robbery today and pursuing a possible link to the robbery-murder of Pontiac grocer Eftimias Vasiliou July 30.

The Keg Kanteen, a near East Side beer store, was held up by two men, one wearing a woman's stocking for a mask, at approximately 2 a. m. today.

Two brothers were picked up shortly after the $220 robbery, another man surrendered to police, and two others and the women were brought in later.

★ ★ ★

Held are: Rufus Wilson Jr., 29, of 44 Maple St.; brothers Joseph and George Page, 249 Orchard Lake Ave.; R. G. Stroman, of 280 Fisher St.; and W. C. Alexander, address unknown.

Police did not immediately release the names of the women being questioned.

Beside the stocking mask worn in the holdup at the Keg Kanteen, 84 Auburn Ave., police believe a 22-caliber pistol found in the home of George Page may be linked to the Vasiliou slaying.

The gun was sent to State Police Crime Laboratory for testing. Vasiliou was killed by three shots from a 22-caliber weapon.

Police have been working on the theory that the men who held up grocer Vasiliou took $1,500 and and killed him, wore women's stockings or masks. Stockings were found in an alley down which police believe the bandits fled.

Friday night two other crimes were committed by men wearing women's stockings for masks.

A service station at Voorheis and Telegraph roads was held up by bandits wearing masks. They got $75.

Earlier the same evening, a man with his face distorted by a stocking mask seized two Waterford Township women in their car, took $500 in cash and valuables and assaulted one of them.

The women were captured at gunpoint at 8:15 p. m. Friday in the municipal parking lot at Wayne and Lafayette streets.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac officials have offered a $1,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the slayers of Vasiliou, and The Pontiac Press has also posted a $1,000 reward.

Double Orbit Puts Russia Lap Ahead in Race to Moon

LT. COL. PAVEL POPOVICH

MAJ. ANDERIAN NIKOLAYEV

Two Cosmonauts Still in Space Talk Together

- Ships Show No Signs of Coming Down Today Despite Rumors

MOSCOW (AP)—Two Soviet astronauts wheeled around the earth today, one entering his third day in space and the other his second in a historic feat putting the Russians ahead in the race to the moon.

Already they had passed the point where they would have been in position to land and that meant almost certainly they would go on through at least another night and morning.

Aboard Vostok III, Maj. Andrian Nikolayev, 32, had made 37 circuits of the earth by 7 p.m. Moscow time (11 a.m. Pontiac time) since blastoff Saturday morning, Tass reported. He had covered about 966,000 miles, or four times the distance to the moon.

Aboard Vostok IV, Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich, 31, had made 21 circuits covering about 546,000 miles since his launching Sunday. He also had surpassed the 17-orbit flight of Maj. Gherman Titov a year ago.

The two exchanged radio greetings this morning after awakening and eating breakfast, but it was not clear how close their space ships were together. Tass reported they were near enough Sunday to see each other's ships.

Trackers in Japan had put the distance between them as about 75 miles Sunday. But the Sohio Research Center in Cleveland, Ohio, said they later had moved 325 miles apart.

At noon, every correspondent in Moscow braced for news that the pilots had begun their descent to Soviet soil. But rumors of a landing proved wrong. One Soviet source declared: "They are not coming down today."

Premier Khrushchev messaged them: "I again congratulate you and embrace you. I wish you successful fulfillment of the program of the flight, and happy landing."

★ ★ ★

Nikolayev replied: "I thank Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev for the warmth of his greeting. I will spare no efforts to complete fully the flight task."

Said Popovich: "Give Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev great cordial thanks. I'll spare no effort to fulfill the set task and to be healthy and unharmed. I'll do everything."

ON TV AGAIN

They were shown again on television today. Lying back in their chairs, occasionally rising to a half sitting position to work better with a log book or to keep it from shielding their faces from the television viewer in the cabin of the ship. Gestures and movements were relatively limited.

Area Fatalities Over Weekend Reach Four

2 Drown in Lakes, 2 Die in Auto Mishaps; Only 1 Lives in County

Two persons drowned and two died in auto accidents in Oakland County over the weekend.

The drowning victims were Gary A. Haskell, 19, of 9833 Shadyside Road, Livonia, and Joseph Rzegocki, 46, of Detroit.

Dead as a result of auto accidents are Mrs. Doris Higgins-Sweet, 44, of 796 Central Drive, Lake Orion, and Mrs. Edward Holstein, 67, of Detroit.

Haskell drowned while swimming with four friends at Camp Dearborn Sunday, said sheriff's deputies.

His body was recovered from 8 feet of water in Lake No. 1 at the Milford Township camp.

Rzegocki drowned Saturday while swimming in Cranberry Lake, in White Lake Township.

He had been swimming by himself. Several friends saw him go under, but were unable to locate him. His body was recovered by White Lake Township police.

Mrs. Higgins-Sweet was killed instantly Saturday when she pulled into the path of a New York Central freight train in Lake Orion.

No President Race, Declares Romney

WILLIAMSTON (AP) — George Romney, Republican nominee for governor of Michigan, declared today that if elected he will not be a candidate for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

Asked by newsmen if he would accept a draft, however, Romney said there was only a very remote possibility that such a move would take place.

The former American Motors president said at a news conference here:

"If I am elected governor of Michigan, I will not be a candidate for president in 1964.

"I expect to concentrate fully on the job here . . . I have never undertaken a job I did not finish, and I don't intend to do so (as governor)."

★ ★ ★

Romney has been mentioned by several Republican leaders as a possible presidential candidate for 1964. Those who have mentioned his name include former President Dwight Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard Nixon.

Romney met newsmen as he set off on a busy schedule of street-corner handshaking and conferences in Ingham County, home of the state capital of Lansing.

The nominee said he has been talking to several possible candidates for the state Administrative Board ticket, which will be selected at the GOP state convention Aug. 24-25 in Detroit.

NO COMMITMENTS

"I have made no personal decisions and no commitments on any of them," he said.

★ ★ ★

The convention will select nominees for secretary of state, attorney general, state treasurer and auditor general. In addition, two candidates for the state Supreme Court will be named.

Democrats now occupy all six posts.

Asked whether he would favor having Sen. Lyna Francis, R-Midland, a former member of the ultraconservative John Birch Society, on the ticket, Romney indicated he would prefer someone else. Francis has announced he would seek one of the supreme court nominations.

"I would be more favorably impressed with some of the other candidates," Romney commented.

Romney has denounced actions of the Birch Society as being "of a repressive character and an unfortunate thing."

GOP Candidate Stumps His Own Home County

On an all-day campaign swing through Oakland County Saturday Republican gubernatorial candidate George Romney leveled his strongest blast at Gov. Swainson to date.

At a noon press conference at Devon Gables Restaurant, he claimed that Swainson, in attacking the proposed new state constitution is "using half-truths trying to show it is not a sound document.

Later, at a Waterford Township rally, he labeled Swainson a "do-nothing governor" and charged that Swainson, "for his complete failure . . . attempts to blame everybody else."

The energetic candidate in the whirlwind tour of his home county left the impression that he moves faster than most politicians talk.

Romney traveled close to 200 miles, shook hundreds or perhaps thousands of hands, spent a total of at least two hours giving speeches and topped it all off with a nice, long, cold drink — at the water fountain in Hudson's Budget Store at Pontiac Mall.

★ ★ ★

Romney began his long day at 8:20 a.m. on the Rackham Golf Course in Huntington Woods where, with the eyes of several golfers glued to him, he smacked a nifty 210-yard drive down the center of the fairway.

The day ended more than 13 hours later after he concluded a speech to a GOP gathering at Waterford High School.

In his Waterford talk, Romney summed up the brief remarks he had made earlier in the day to assembled citizens in several smaller Oakland communities.

The Republican gubernatorial candidate stressed what he considers to be the basic issue of the campaign — leadership.

He claimed he can provide the leadership necessary to pull Michigan out of its financial "mess," and Gov. John B. Swainson cannot.

Romney insisted that Swainson "has denied responsibility for anything that has happened in Michigan for all the time he's been governor.

"In other words," Romney said, "Swainson has done nothing."

Romney said Michigan's greatest

JFK Congratulates Soviets; U.S. Space Officials Are Quiet

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy has congratulated the Soviet Union on its latest space accomplishment, but American space officials adopted a wait-and-see attitude and withheld official comment.

While relaxing over the weekend at Boothbay Harbor, Maine, Kennedy said in a statement:

"I congratulate the Soviet Union on this exceptional technical feat and salute the courage of her two new astronauts. The American people, I know, wish them a safe return."

In Washington, a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said: "Until we know more about the Soviet mission we can't comment intelligently about it."

★ ★ ★

Three congressional experts have agreed that there is no need to re-examine the U. S. space program because of Russia's twin orbital shot.

Instead, they feel that the U. S. program is moving ahead and will move even faster when more powerful booster rockets are developed.

The legislators — Sens. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., and Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., and Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex. — did not appear dismayed yesterday that the United States might be behind in the race.

"We have some very solid, feasible technical plans in the same field as the Russians have," Magnuson said. "The fact that one is ahead of the other doesn't necessarily mean anything."

MAYBE BY '64

In Houston, James A. Chamberlin, head of America's project Gemini, said the United States may be able to duplicate Russia's dual manned orbit in 1964.

Chamberlain, head of the U. S. project which will try to rendezvous two capsules in space, said he had meager information on the Soviet venture.

"But from what I understand, this flight is similar to one we plan," Chamberlain said. "However, we will have two men in one capsule and no one in the other."

CARPENTER THRILLED

At Palmer Lake, Colo., vacationing astronaut Scott Carpenter could not restrain his enthusiasm yesterday when he learned that the Soviet Union had put up a second manned space vehicle within sight of another.

★ ★ ★

"Wow! That's quite a feat!" he exclaimed.

Carpenter said he wished he were "that fellow up there."

Concerning the U. S. program, Carpenter said, "We're behind and we're trying our best to catch up. We've got a good plan put together by intelligent men and we're sticking to it."

JFK May Offer Peek at Plans for '63 Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy may offer an advance peek at his plans for a 1963 tax cut when he speaks to the nation tonight on taxes and the lagging economy.

Most observers in and out of government were convinced he would reject suggestions that a quick tax cut offers the best chance of averting any early recession.

Bitter Berlin Fights at Wall

BERLIN (AP)—Border guards fought a fierce tear gas battle today as massed West Berliners screamed their hatred of the Red wall on its first anniversary.

The battle erupted in the Wilhelmstrasse, opposite the former Nazi Air Ministry. It is now the seat of several East German government ministries.

★ ★ ★

East police shot a stream of water from a water cannon at West Berlin youths carrying a wooden cross along the wall.

Enraged West Berliners then hurled stones at the water cannon.

East guards then tossed tear gas grenades into the thickly massed crowd. The grenades went off with loud explosions and poured out clouds of stinging, choking gas.

West police immediately threw about 150 tear gas grenades over the wall. They fell all around two water cannon, which was enveloped in a thick cloud of gas.

The water cannon withdrew about 30 yards. The gasping, choking crews had to get out for fresh air.

West police were soaking wet, as were the youths carrying the cross.

A company of 100 West riot police was rushed to the scene. There were about 80 East police massed on the other side of the wall.

★ ★ ★

The West reinforcements were ordered up after thousands of booing, shouting persons massed along the wall.

A U.S. Army helicopter hovered over the crowd on the west side of the wall near Friedrichstrasse. People waved to the pilot, who waved back.

East Berliners tried to join in the demonstration. But Communist police kept them back. About 100 persons were seen being pushed back in the Unter den Linden and Wilhelmstrasse, in East Berlin.

Windows in buildings on the east side of the border were flung open as persons inside listened to the Western outcries of anger but Communist officials quickly shut the windows.

Workers in a big East Berlin printing plant just over the wall packed the windows and waved to demonstrators in the West.

The din along the wall was tremendous.

The Communists brought up loudspeakers blaring martial music in an attempt to drown out the shouts from the West.

★ ★ ★

Western police said they heard the rumble of tanks in East Berlin and saw truckloads of steel-helmeted troops being deployed on streets leading to the wall.

Romney Has Busy Day Campaigning in County

need is for a "genuine" citizen's party, responsive to, and supported by, individual citizens rather than organizations."

Such citizen action would eliminate "special interest government as now exists in Lansing and would result in a public administration," Romney argued.

Throughout the day, the Bloomfield Hills politician criticized Swainson for his close ties with "cronies" from organized labor.

Romney, wearing a dark blue suit for his evening appearances after a day in shirt sleeves, read partially from a prepared text at the Waterford rally.

Earlier in the day he had spoken strictly off-the-cuff.

WIFE TALKS, TOO

He was joined on the speaker's platform at Waterford by his wife Lenore, who spoke briefly to the group before her husband's speech.

Near the close of his speech, Romney tossed out two questions related to "straightening up Michigan's house."

He asked: "If not me, who?" and "If not now, when?"

Romney said the questions led him to seek the governorship and should be used by each citizen to encourage individual political participation.

* * *

In the morning, Romney concentrated on hand-shaking and ignored speech-making except for a brief talk at the Farmington Plaza Shopping Center. Other stops on the morning agenda were at the Royal Oak Farmers Market, Detroit Zoo and Oak Park Shopping Center.

The candidate's speech making got in full swing shortly after noon at the Devon Gables press conference. There, in response to questions from Oakland County newspaper editors and reporters, he outlined much of the campaign message he was about to spread throughout the county.

In Holly, the first stop after lunch, Romney toured local stores greeting customers and employes. He spoke to a crowd of about 100 persons, urging them to get their friends interested in the gubernatorial campaign.

From Holly, the Romney party — complete with "Romney Girls," county GOP officials and several campaign staff members — rolled into Clarkston for its biggest reception of the afternoon.

* * *

An estimated crowd of 200 persons turned out to hear the candidate. Special activities included a Romney cheerleading session by high school girls and a new Vote-for-Romney song sung by a local quartet, the Patriots.

* * *

In Clarkston, Romney was beseiged by autograph-hunters, the only time in the day this happened.

OXFORD NEXT STOP

Oxford was the next stop, where between 100 and 150 persons heard Romney speak in Village Park. After his speech, Romney, a non-drinker, wandered into a bar across from the park.

He later explained that he drops into bars whenever he can in order to destroy a "myth" being circulated about him.

The myth, he said, is that if he is elected he will restore prohibition. Romney voiced strong disapproval of prohibition or other attempts to "legislate morality."

When he left Oxford, Romney returned to his Bloomfield Hills home for a brief rest. His wife was with him as he hit the campaign trail again at 6:30 p.m. at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

* * *

Speaking to a group of Young Republicans, Romney said citizens — especially younger ones — have a "tremendous opportunity" to help rebuild Michigan.

* * *

"If we muff it, it will be a tragedy," he said.

* * *

Romney's final stop before the Waterford GOP rally was at Pontiac Mall where he spent 45 minutes greeting shoppers.

In the code language of spacemen, Nikolayev is "the Falcon" and Popovich is "the Golden Eagle" and they used those names in their exchange of messages after what apparently was a good night's sleep for both.

Tass reported this exchange:

Popovich: "I am Golden Eagle calling Falcon. I hear you well. The temperature is 18 degrees (64.5 degrees Fahrenheit), humidity 65 per cent. Have you understood me well?"

* * *

Nikolayev: "I am Falcon calling Golden Eagle. I have understood you. Everything is all right with me. The temperature is 15 degrees (59 degrees Fahrenheit). Humidity 65 per cent. Feeling fine. Slept well."

Popovich: "Golden Eagle calling: Am in good mood. Slept well. Feeling marvelous."

The cosmonauts' morning hours were devoted to breakfast, setting-up exercises, and then scientific observations, physiological and vestibular ear tests and psychological tests, Moscow radio said.

IMPORTANT ADVANCE

The double flight marked a fantastic feat of Soviet rocketry that the United States does not hope to match until at least next year.

* * *

The ability to send up a second space ship 24 hours after the first one had gone up, and bring it into orbit in the vicinity of the first ship marked an important advance toward the day when satellites can join in space for construction of a space platform from which a moon shot can be made.

* * *

British scientists also said the Soviet accomplishment could lead to the early development of military satellites that would home on such spy-in-the-sky satellites as the U.S. Midas and Samos and destroy them.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank radio telescope, said in London Sunday he had been advised by Moscow sources that the flights would continue "A few days."

Hearing Slated in Club Strike

Order Restrains Union From Interfering With Groundskeepers

A show cause hearing why pickets of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union shouldn't be restrained from interfering with groundkeepers at strike-bound Oakland Hills Country Club in Bloomfield Township has been scheduled for Friday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

* * *

The club is one of eight struck by the service employes in the metropolitan area in their bid for higher wages.

Orchard Lake Country Club was the latest club struck Saturday by the union which has vowed to strike at one club each day until a settlement is reached.

The union represents workers at 30 clubs in all. The clubs are represented by the Detroit Club Managers Association.

* * *

SUING UNION

The club's attorney, John P. O'Hara Jr., said the club is suing the union for damages resulting from loss of revenue during the strike.

* * *

O'Hara said the club management takes the position that the strike is illegal because no strike vote was taken.

Judge Holland set a hearing on the question for tomorrow.

* * *

About 60 employes left jobs at Orchard Lake, according to Manager William Van Lierop. Dining facilities are closed, but the golf course and beach are unaffected, he said.

Negotiations on a new contract between the union and the Club Managers Association were to be resumed today in Detroit under state mediation.

Ready Carnival Fun Day

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department will climax its summer playground program Wednesday with a Carnival Fun Day at Oakland Park, featuring booths sponsored by each of the 22 playgrounds.

* * *

The event concluding the eight-week program will take place from noon until 4 p.m.

The 22 booths will feature games and contests for the 1,500 youngsters who participated in the recreation program. Such booths as a squirt gun candle shoot, a nail drive and a wet sponge throw will be set up at the park.

In addition to the booths, the department will have five special events planned.

* * *

The playgrounds will compete for prizes in the special events with points given for placing. At the end of the program, a traveling trophy will be awarded the winning school.

To participate in Carnival Fun Day, boys and girls must register with their local playground. Joe Edwards is chairman of the fun day, with Mary Lynn Shoup, Fred Smith, Walter Gilliard and Paul Jolly serving on the staff.

If rain or bad weather cancels the event, it will be conducted the following day.

Suggest Lower County Budget

Auditors Figure of $15.4 Million Reflects Cut of $1.1 Million

A $15.4-million budget for county government in 1963 was recommended today by the Oakland County Board of Auditors to the ways and means committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

The recommendation represents better than $1.1-million pared from the tentative $16,555,202 budget for next year approved in April by the board of supervisors.

The supervisors' action came before the County Allocation Board held the line by refusing to up the county's millage share from 5.25 mills in '62 to the 16.4 mills requested in order to finance the larger, tentative budget next year. Thus, the need for paring at this time.

The actual amount being recommended by the auditors at this time is $15,412,643, to keep within the $11,090,143 that the 5.25 mills will produce from the total 15-mill tax rate for schools and township and county governments.

The remainder of the total $15.4 million would come from the county's nontax receipts, auditors estimated.

One way the proposed budget has been pared by auditors was by eliminating all but four of the 61 new employe positions originally requested by the various department heads.

The four remaining new positions being recommended are for a field service representative in the veterans affairs department, an additional assistant prosecutor, an attorney for either the corporation counsel's office or the social welfare department, and a director of protective services in the Juvenile Court Division.

* * *

These positions, if approved, would cost the county an additional $27,300 according to the auditors, who set the total cost of all county salaries in 1963 at $6,809,877.

The Day in Birmingham

To Award Contract to Build Addition to DPW Garage

BIRMINGHAM — Awarding of a contract for construction of an addition to the department of public works north garage is scheduled for tonight's City Commission meeting here.

A total of 15 bids has been received on the project. They do not include provisions for water and sewer services, plumbing, electrical, heating or painting.

Plans for the addition include space for voting machines, sewer and water storage, a sign shop and a dog pound and a slab for an outside dog run.

* * *

Interior cages and furnishings for the dog pound and sign shop also were not included in the bid proposal.

Demolition of two wooden buildings will be carried out by DPW crews before construction of the addition is begun.

Total cost of the project has been estimated at $17,500 with an estimate of $13,000 for the work included in the bid proposal.

* * *

Complete date of the addition has been set for Nov. 1.

Also at tonight's meeting, city commissioners will consider a request from the city of Troy to use Birmingham property on the north side of Maple Road for an access road from Maple Road to Delemere St.

The road will be needed for police and fire vehicles and residents of the area for two or three months during reconstruction of Big Beaver Road, according to a letter from Troy City Manager David E. Firestone.

Crosses Pacific Alone in 19-Foot Boat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Japanese youth who crossed the Pacific alone in a 19-foot sailboat on a diet of Japanese rice, beer, sake and fresh fish wants to stay in the United States two years to learn English.

* * *

The plans of Kenichi Horie, 23, of Osaka, are somewhat clouded by the fact he arrived without passport, visa, immunization record, proof of financial stability or a sponsor.

While the U.S. Immigration Service, the Public Health Service and the Japanese consulate work on the problem, Horie is staying at the home of a consulate employe in amiable protective custody.

Horie sailed into San Francisco Bay Sunday after a three-month voyage from Osaka. The surprised U.S. Coast Guard escorted him to St. Francis yacht harbor and called for the immigration service.

* * *

With the aid of his Japanese-English dictionary Horie got across to officials his plan to stay two years and learn English. Then he passed around cups of sake to curious onlookers.

The Coast Guard studied the little sailboat with small cabin forward and found only a tiny radio-direction finder, sextant and a compass. No auxiliary engine or radio communications gear encumbered Horie.

"Obviously one hell of a navigator," mused one Coast Guard man.

Horie's family in Osaka was overjoyed at the news of his arrival.

The Japanese government, which had given him up for dead, said it was astounded.

Japan had denied Horie a passport on the ground the planned trip was suicidal. His family was against it, too, but explained that Horie was a determined, adventurous youth.

Building Is $500-Million-a-Year Industry in New York

Construction Changing Face of Manhattan

NEW YORK (AP) — The ever-changing face of New York is changing faster than ever these days. It's getting the greatest face-lifting in history.

Almost anywhere one looks, particularly in Manhattan, an old building is going down or a new one is going up — or is already up.

Vanishing fast are the dingy old brownstone residences and brick business buildings which were the pride of yesteryear.

Rising in their places are gleaming steel and stone skyscrapers, altering the magnificent New York skyline minute by minute.

There is plenty of construction afoot in the other four boroughs of the city also. But here it is king-sized apartment developments which predominate. They're going up at an astonishing rate on ground once occupied by individual homes.

Construction is rated as a $500-million-a-year industry in the city but a glance at the panorama of new towers zooming skyward makes it seem much more than that.

Last April the Real Estate Board of New York reported that $2.5 billion worth of office buildings alone have been built, started or planned in the single borough of Manhattan since the end of World War II. Most of this has been in the past five years and the rate is still climbing.

HOTEL BOOM

One odd aspect of the building boom concerns hotels. Until lately there hadn't been a new one erected in the city in 30 years or so. Now, all of a sudden, the city is getting a spate of new ones.

Visitors have had some rough times in the past trying to get reservations, particularly in the winter months when many conventions and other gatherings are scheduled simultaneously. The new structures should help considerably.

Among them is the 45-story New York Hilton, now a-building on the Avenue of the Americas — a thoroughfare most New Yorkers still call Sixth Avenue. The Hilton is located on the west side of the avenue between 53rd and 54th streets.

Not far away is another hostelry of similar proportions, the American, a handsome structure of a design somewhat out of the ordinary for New York. It is shaped in a Y-style, and is nearing completeion at Seventh Avenue and 52nd Street.

The major portion of Manhattan's new construction has centered in two areas — lower Manhattan in the Wall Street financial district and the mid-town section with Rockefeller Center as the heart of it. Mid-town is the pacemaker, by about four buildings to one.

The locale around Rockefeller Center is undergoing a tremendous transformation. A happy aspect of this is that it has eliminated a number of ragtag buildings, ranging from two to six stories, which formerly made the Avenue of the Americas an eyesore in the center area.

★ ★ ★

Newly opened on the avenue opposite the center are the lofty Time & Life and Equitable Life Assurance Society edifices, with fountains playing on a plaza in front of the former.

MANY MORE

Going up to the north, and also on the west side of the street, are a 41-story office building between 52nd and 53rd streets, and then the Hilton Hotel.

On the east side, between 51st and 52nd streets, will be a 43-story headquarters for Sperry-Rand and in the next block northward a new skyscraper home for the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Other new structures already open in the vicinity are the sparkling, aluminum-faced Tishman Building at 666 Fifth Ave., situated between 52nd and 53rd streets, and a new Toots Shor restaurant on 52nd between Fifth Avenue and the Avenue of the Americas.

In the eastern and southeastern sections of midtown building are popping up like cornstalks in the spring on Park, Madison, Lexington and Third Avenues.

★ ★ ★

The eye-popper of all the new projects in the city is in this area — the 59 - story Pan American World Airways tower in preparation above New York Central Railroad tracks just behind Grnad Central Terminal.

The only other approaching it regal altitude is a 55-story office structure projected at Park Avenue and 46th Street.

Completed or scheduled for completion this year are 22 buildings, ranging from 14 to 59 stories, in Manhattan. Six others, of 21 to 50 stories, are due to be finished next year. The 50-floor building is an office structure at Park Avenue and 47th Street.

Scheduled for the future are 18 buildings, of 10 to 55 stories. Major office buildings completed in 1961 totaled 12. There were 11 in 1960, 21 in 1959, 16 in 1958 and 10 in 1956.

French Legion Tells Boys, 11, It'll Live On

BAY CITY (AP) — Billy St. Laurent, who is 11, worried that the famed French Foreign Legion might vanish.

He had read somewhere that this could happen in view of Algerian independence.

So he wrote a letter to the Foreign Legion and back from Africa, from the Legion's depot at Sidi Bel Abbes, came an answer — a package containing a battered old Legion brass bugle.

Billy had asked for a bugle. He was obliged. A note in French and English further assured him the Legion would go on.

Reds Charge Berlin Is 'Hotbed of War'

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China's official Peiping People's Daily, in a commentary coinciding with the first anniversary of the construction of the Communist wall around Berlin, said today the city is a "hotbed of war" that must be eliminated.

The commentary, quoted in part by a New China News Agency broadcast monitored here, said the Western nations are "playing with fire in West Berlin."

It asserted that the walled-in city must be turned into a demilitarized, free city.

Weather Expert Dead

BOSTON (AP)—Dr. Harry Wexler, 51, director of research for the U.S. Weather Bureau and a specialist in space-weather programs, died Saturday. He was born in Fall River, Mass.

The high moorland known as Exmoor in England's Devon and Somerset Counties is dotted with prehistoric earthworks.

Britain Rebuked by Allies

Unified Europe Hopes Seriously Hit

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI)—The ambitious plan for sweeping European unification has suffered a severe setback. But it has not been abandoned.

Britain, rebuked by her European Allies earlier this month, has swallowed her pride. The conservative government of Prime Minister Harold MacMillan has decided to resume negotiations for entry into the common market next fall.

Her intention remains to secure membership in the six-member European alignment of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, while still maintaining her special ties with the commonwealth.

The United States strongly favors an integrated Europe, with Britain as a part of it.

If the plan comes off Europe would represent a unified market of more than 200 million people — an incomparably better match for Russia than in her divided state and, together with the United States, a powerful barrier against the Reds.

But whether the plan will come off now remains a bigger question mark than ever.

France is the chief opponent, ostensibly for economic reasons, fearing that once the door is opened to commonwealth produce her own European agricultural markets would be swamped.

But political considerations seem an equally powerful reason behind France's toughening stand.

President Charles de Gaulle to all appearances dreams of a Europe led by a revitalized France, strong enough to stand on its own feet independent of the United States.

★ ★ ★

He is believed to consider Britain a dangerous challenger to French leadership, once she is a member of the European club.

U.S. TOE HOLD

With Britain in Europe he apparently feels the United States also would retain its influence on the continent. Britain is a firm backer of NATO and of the Atlantic alignment with the United States.

This is why some diplomatic observers fear Britain's chances for entry into the common market remain slender.

Negotiations will resume in October. They broke up in virtual deadlock a week ago.

★ ★ ★

In the meantime Britain will consult her commonwealth partners at a prime ministers conference in London next month.

The common market nations also will do some soul searching. The other members, notably Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg, strongly favor Britain's entry, and West Germany too is a backer of British participation.

The pause may help to clarify and smooth things. But there are those who fear that existing divisions may in fact become deeper, with France trying to sway the other club members and to raise the price for British membership beyond what Britain can afford to pay.

★ ★ ★

In Britain, too, opposition to entry into Europe may broaden. There is a strong group which has all along opposed the move.

On the fringe, Russia, intensely hostile to a unified Europe for fear it would be too strong for her liking, is keeping her fingers crossed, evidently hoping Allied rivalries will do the job for her.

Botanist, 80, Succumbs

LONDON (AP)—Reginald Ruggles Gates, 80, a well known botanist with a long career as a professor in London and in the United States, died Sunday. He was born in Nova Scotia.

The gestation period of the African elephant is 641 days, while that of the opossum is 13 days.

Corrosion of metals, alloys and other materials costs an estimated $6 billion a year in the U.S. alone.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)— the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Asks Prayers for Catholics

By The Associated Press

The Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger, presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, has appealed to Episcopalians to pray for the success of the second Vatican Council.

In a special statement, the bishop asked his constituents to pray regularly and often for the Roman Catholic session which begins in Rome Oct. 11. Many Protestant denominations will send official observers to the Vatican Council.

Dr. Leslie Weatherhead, a former president of the Methodist Conference, says in London that he would like to censor the Bible with a blue pencil. In an interview, he said his main target would be the "completely outmoded" Old Testament.

The Rev. Dr. Weatherhead said he would cut out "a lot of bloody massacres and a lot of smutty little pieces that choir boys read on the quiet."

Carl Sandburg, introduced as a man who "more than any American poet has caught the sound of America," read selections from his half-century of writings in a benefit performance at Flat Rock, N.C.

After an hour of recitation, the 84-year-old bard propped his knee on a chair, plucked his guitar and tried to sing some of the ballads for which he is famous. But he couldn't get started. His throat, he said, was not up to it.

Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy and his family, tired but pleased after four days of roughing it and salmon fishing in Washington State, arrived in Seattle. They had been guests of Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court at his beach home on the Olympic Peninsula.

Actress Judy Garland, returning to Hollywood from London, said she expected no further trouble from her estranged husband, Sid Luft, over custody of their two children.

She plans to vacation with the youngsters, Lorna, 9, and Joey, 7, at her home on Lake Tahoe in the northern California mountains, doing "nothing—no work—just rest."

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has left London for his annual 10 days of grouse-shooting in Yorkshire.

Two Kill Each Other in LA Pistol Duel

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two men killed each other in a gun duel yesterday while standing only 2½ feet apart.

★ ★ ★

Police said Andrew L. Burton, 35, stopped five 38-caliber slugs and Dennis Fox, 21, was shot four times by a 45-caliber automatic after they decided to settle a quarrel by dueling. The cause of the quarrel was not known.

★ ★ ★

Fox was the brother of Burton's common law wife and lived at the older man's home in Los Angeles.

Shirtless Men Protest Pub's Necktie Rule

Five young men walked into William Quick's pub wearing collars and neckties but no shirts. They were protesting Quick's refusal to serve any man in the saloon bar without a necktie.

★ ★ ★

"We think the rule is stupid," one of the shirtless ones, office worker David King, 23, said Sunday. "A man wants to relax in casual clothes when he goes for a drink."

★ ★ ★

Quick served the five but told them they would have to leave after one drink. They returned later with shirts and ties on.

★ ★ ★

"I found the affair amusing," said the owner, "but the rule remains.

"I want this to be a high class place. It's not proper to be without a necktie in front of the ladies."

Of 100,200 industrial workers in British Columbia in 1958, there were 27,100 employed in sawmills.

Policeman Jack Webb Finally Gets Badge 714

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Jack Webb finally got badge 714.

Webb—not the television Jack Webb—is an acting sergeant in the Lakewood juvenile division and has wanted the shield for years.

This week deputy Robert Copland, badge 714, also with the force 10 years, retires.

The badge? Webb's got it now.

Lack of Water Will Force Industry to Great Lakes Area

Several years ago, Pontiac's own FRANK W. STEERE declared that Michigan was one of the most fortunate states in the Union because we had the Great Lakes.

★ ★ ★

He asserted that the Nation's per capita consumption of water had increased so tremendously that other areas would eventually face an acute shortage. Over the years, people have started using many, many times as much water and industry has seized upon it even more avidly. This means that the Nation's watersheds and wells have been subjected to a fearful drain.

★ ★ ★

When Chief PONTIAC wanted a drink, he dispatched a squaw to the banks of the faithful, old Clinton and she filled a bag and brought it back to the Chief's wigwam.

It was that simple.

But those days are gone.

★ ★ ★

At a University of Chicago, conference, Sverre Petterssen, Chairman of Geophysical Sciences, declares that the Great Lakes possess about one-third of the total fresh water supply in the whole world. It's actually startling and it's hard to believe. He points out further that many areas in this country are finding the demand for industrial water more than they can meet right now. And this, he says, will result ultimately in a definite trend of thousands of established industries in other locales moving into the Great Lakes region.

★ ★ ★

Think of Michigan.

We're the absolute center.

Oh, we won't begrudge Ohio, Wisconsin and even Illinois and Indiana an occasional plant or at least a fairly sizeable subsidiary, but we'll take the main division, the highest salaried assembly line workers and all the administrative officials and supervisors.

★ ★ ★

This outstanding scientist envisions a belt of cities from Buffalo clear around the whole Great Lakes. This strip would be approximately 20 miles wide. Pontiac certainly qualifies for we're within 18 miles of St. Clair. And then, even beyond that, in a few years we'll have our water piped in from Lake Huron. And that's the equivalent of standing right on the shore line with the waves swishing across your personal brogans.

"This should be," says SVERRE PETTERSSEN, "simply the greatest industrial region on earth."

The good Doctor declares it's all "down the road a piece" although California is already feeling the water pinch. He suggests we start planning now for this ultimate expansion and tremendous growth.

Mr. STEERE, arise and take another bow.

You've earned plenty in your life and we're glad to salute you again.

Gossett Capable . . . .

Without any extraneous nudging, I propose WILLIAM T. GOSSETT for the U.S. Supreme Court.

GOSSETT

Over many decades this omnipotent organization was sufficiently allwise and all-powerful to meet the demands of a lusty, growing republic and do so wisely, sanely and intelligently. Now it needs improvement and Mr. GOSSETT would strengthen the tribunal appreciably.

★ ★ ★

He may not be interested.

He has quietly slipped out of the active press of duties with the Ford Motor Company, but something of a more contemplative nature like the court might appeal. He is still vigorous and strong, and if you think he isn't meet him head-on in a golf match. His ability is unquestioned. Within a few short years Mr. Gossett would rank as one of the outstanding jurists on the Supreme bench and be so recognized within the profession and without.

★ ★ ★

Judging quite apart from sheer ability, and just through sentiment, you can be partial to Mr. GOSSETT in this connection, for he would be treading squarely in the footsteps of his distinguished father-in-law, CHARLES EVANS HUGHES.

Marilyn's Demise . . . .

The world has nothing but absolute contempt for the cheap, ill-mannered ghouls who desecrated MARILYN MONROE'S funeral rites. Arrest should have followed.

★ ★ ★

The unhappy victim of extreme adulation and publicity which were unfortunately beyond her ken, proves again that fame, finances and hero worship never spell out the first letter of the word "happiness."

Miss Monroe never knowingly did a wrong thing but she was the repeated victim of avarice, selfishness and bestial humans who preyed upon her good nature and lack of understanding. Whoever you are and wherever you are, thank God on bended knees tonight that you are yourself — and not a dream girl who had to slink in wearily to meet her Maker at the age of 36 when the world should have been bright, happy and promising.

And in Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

One of the most prolific painters, COROT, is estimated to have done 3,000 in his lifetime. Interestingly enough, 10,000 have been sold to gullible Americans . . . . . Don't be fooled by CRUMP'S 199-year sentence. LEOPOLD drew the same and was out in 33 years . . . . . The conservative Bookman says it's permissible to ask the blessing before meals in your own home — "providing you don't have guests." . . . . . I was probably the oldest attendant at the Lions' dress scrimmage at Wisner, and the youngest sat right in front of me. She was one (month).

★ ★ ★

I can't prove it but I'll bet a sugar cookie that if there's an income tax reduction, Kennedy will time it just ahead of the fall election. He's worried. . . . . Ed Sullivan heard in France that Chiang Kai-shek (slowly recovering from a secret operation of a year ago), may launch a reckless attack on Red China. Ed says the French are confident Ambassador Adm. Kirk will stop it. . . . . Trusted scouts advise me Karen Allshouse, deserves mention as one of the area's most attractive girls. I agree. . . . . Russia's Valerny Brumel expects to jump seven feet seven before the autumn ends. . . . . If Nixon fails in California, insiders believe a top aircraft company has an important post awaiting him.

★ ★ ★

Rumors about significant changes in Curtis Publishing Company ownership flourish unendingly. Originally it was NEWHOUSE and now it's HENRY LUCE (Time, Life, etc.) . . . . . Look: "In our youth, a perfect gift for an 18-year-old girl was a compact — and it still is, if it has four wheels." . . . . . The Gideons have put more than 50 million Bibles in sleeping rooms. Last year they passed out three million . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—the 11 per cent of Pontiac that voted; the J's—the 89 per cent that did not.

'Shouldn't Allow Children to Play in Water Holes'

I am horrified at the way mothers let their children "go wading" (and even swimming) after one of these torrential rains. The water is filled with germs that have been washed off trees, houses, sidewalks, pavements and the ground itself.

★ ★ ★

When a deep hole fills, the little tots in the neighborhoods hop in their swimsuits and splash around and lie in this filthy water. Naturally, they're laughing and shouting and they get a certain amount in their mouths in addition to the germs that are deposited all over their little bare bodies.

★ ★ ★

There are places for swimming, but the after-rain washouts are dangerous and uninviting.

I'm planning on joining the WACs and would appreciate if someone would give me any reason for not taking such a step.

My friends tell me "a girl doesn't have a very good reputation after she takes the uniform," and that "the opposite sex has little respect for her."

Every day there's another discovery to lengthen life and prolong the usefulness of mankind. Just how kind is this to men when "over 50" is an age when you can no longer obtain a job? ### 'India Buys Planes With Our Money'

Having spent millions of foreign aid dollars to befriend India, the United States is now watching Nehru pull another peaceable maneuver. India-Russian negotiations are in process for the Indian purchase and manufacture of Soviet MIG-21 jet fighter planes.

This is just one example of how our foreign aid program supposedly "benefits" us — by bolstering up India's economy so that she can purchase planes from the Communists.

Perhaps we ought to buy the fighter planes from the Soviets, and then present them to Nehru. But the American people would see the horror of that right away. It all adds up to the same thing: aiding the enemy.

'Third-Class Mail Isn't Forwarded'

How many people know the post office does not forward 3rd class mail any more?

★ ★ ★

This means that if you put a 3-cent stamp on your Christmas cards and the addressee has moved, it will just be thrown away — not forwarded or returned.

★ ★ ★

Being a postal employe I know that this means millions of Christmas cards will be disposed of as waste this year unless people use 1st class postage. If it's worth sending, use 1st class to assure delivery.

David Lawrence Says:

Court Confused Public on 'Prayer'

WASHINGTON — Justice Tom C. Clark of the Supreme Court of the United States broke precedent the other day in discussing publicly the recent decision in the famous "school prayer" case.

He said in a speech before the Commonwealth Club at San Francisco that errors in the public's interpretation of court decisions come sometimes largely because of "the haste with which news agencies are obliged to cover our announcements."

LAWRENCE

Justice Clark may not realize it, but much of the confusion and misinterpretation in this instance arose from statements by members of the court itself — the opinions written by Justice William O. Douglas, who concurred with the majority, and by Justice Potter Stewart, who dissented.

They did not prepare their opinions in haste. They had had an opportunity to examine carefully the majority opinion, written by Justice Black, before it was handed down by the court itself.

Justice Clark declared flatly that the court had not outlawed religious observance in public schools, and then added:

★ ★ ★

"The news announcements were not complete, most of them reciting the content of this 22-word prayer and the fact that the court had held it unconstitutional for a teacher to have her pupils recite it.

"The public response was immediate and critical. The mail is heaviest in years, the criticism the most pointed . . . .

"But I found that as soon as the people understood the holding the trend changed. In fact, most of my mail was favorable. This was because, I believe, that the news agencies began to interpret the decision in the light of the facts.

" 'NO' MEANS 'NO' "

"Whether the school prayer was voluntary or not was not decisive. The Constitution says that the government shall take no part in the establishment of religion. 'No' means 'no.' As soon as the people learned that this was all the court decided they understood the basis on which the court acted.

"The trouble is that so often—like the claim of the wife—the court is never understood."

But it is still a question whether the public understands the "school prayer" case. Justice Stewart in his dissent said:

"With all respect, I think the court has misapplied a great constitutional principle. I cannot see how an 'official religion' is established by letting those who want to say a prayer say it.

"On the contrary, I think that to deny the wish of these school children to join in reciting this prayer is to deny them the opportunity of sharing in the spiritual heritage of our nation. . . ."

As for Justice Douglas, who "concurred" in the majority opinion of the court, he pointed out that what New York State was doing in opening its public school sessions each day with prayer is what is also done by each house of Congress and by the Supreme Court itself.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Those Housewife Jitters Call for Change of Pace

Q — I am 37, the mother of a 13-year-old son and a 12-year-old daughter. And I hate housework. And, because I hate it, I do it badly. No one can find anything because I can't keep things in their place.

It isn't that I don't really try. I just simply can't. I just feel terrible most of the time.

Only twice in my married life have I felt well; once for 22 months, when I worked in a factory, and again last year when I worked outside my home for six months, beginning right after the New Year.

After last July, when I was laid off, I had to keep house again. And again I feel terrible even though I've taken nerve medicines and vitamins.

Now I've an urge to destroy myself — or to just let everything go. Can you help me get straightened out?

A — Since I assume that your medicines were given by your physician who must have examined you, I shall also have to assume that you are not suffering from any medical illness or mental disease. If these assumptions are correct, you may be the victim of what I call "housewifeitis."

In this condition, a woman of active mentality and a desire for the company and companionship of other workers rebels against the isolation and routine duties of a housewife.

Since you have had favorable responses to outside occupation, why don't you make a third trial? With your husband's consent and your children's cooperation, take a full-time or part-time job.

If none is available, work as a volunteer a few hours a day in your local hospital or church and see how you come out.

Perhaps if you get stimulus from rubbing shoulders with others in your community, you'll tackle your household duties with so much vim and vigor you'll get twice as much done in half the time.

Q — Our religious order is opposed to the use of vaccines. We have been given a pamphlet that is called "Diet Prevents Polio." Will this diet protect our children?

A — The United States Post Office has just proceeded against a foundation, charging that it "was receiving money through the mails as a result of false and fraudulent misrepresentations" contained in a booklet similar to the one you mention.

And the foundation, whose "health food" business "is estimated at some $3,000,000 a year" by the Food and Drug Administration, executed an affidavit of agreement with the Post Office and also agreed to discontinue these representations.

The Country Parson

"Loving your neighbor is like swimming — it does no good to pretend you do if you don't."

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

General Motors

New York Journal American

What this country needs are more General Motors.

★ ★ ★

● It pays more taxes to the Federal Government than any other industrial corporation.

● It provides jobs for more workers than any other industrial company.

● In peace time it has brought out a wide range of products that have contributed to the higher American living standard.

● In war time it has played the major role in producing the weapons of victory.

● If there were more companies like GM, there would not be the present concern over the business outlook.

★ ★ ★

General Motors has just rolled up all-time records for sales, for employment, for wages and net income.

The company pays out more in income taxes on U.S. and foreign operations than is left for dividends on the common stock and for investment in plant and equipment.

In the first six months of this year GM paid $868 million in income taxes, which probably was a record.

This compares with net income of $769.8 million, after preferred dividends of $6.4 million.

★ ★ ★

Common shareowners — the risk takers—received $883.5 million in dividends. This left $486.9 million for investment in the business, without which no business can expand and provide more jobs.

★ ★ ★

So, the tax collector—chiefly the U.S.—without risk took more out of General Motors than the common stockholders. The tax bite also exceeded the combined common dividends and the earnings left after all charges for investment in plant and equipment.

In addition to the taxes GM pays Uncle Sam directly, the employes pay taxes on their wages and salaries and the shareowners on dividends at their personal rate. There are 886,718 shareowners and 605,725 employes.

★ ★ ★

GM is a fabulous operation and it got that way as a result of the development of a management team by Alfred P. Sloan Jr., who headed the company for many years.

The price of this success is continual attack by the Anti-Trust lawyers—and this has not been restricted just to the Democratic regimes. The biggest "victory" of the Anti-Trust was to force duPont to dispose of its holdings in GM on a claim there was the possibility of monopoly in around $26 million of business GM did with the duPont company. This was ridiculous, but not in the eyes of the Supreme Court, which more recently has taken a dim view of praying by school children.

There are pending four anti-trust actions against the company.

In these actions, sight is lost of the contribution to the overall economy. In the case of the Diesel engines, GM saw the possibilities when all other companies, and railroad managements as well were pushing steam engines. One of the most forward steps by the railroad industry was its acceptance of money saving Diesels.

★ ★ ★

Instead of tagging GM with suits, the Justice Department should be pinning a medal on its management. Anyway, Uncle Sam is a major partner in the enterprise, but the little anti-trust lawyers and some senators like Kefauver, would like to break up GM.

'Who Won War?'

Decatur (Ill.) Herald

Unemployment in West Germany is four-tenths of 1 per cent. Who won the war?

The Dublin Rat

New York Herald Tribune

Now Dublin, Va., has its rat. The Dublin rat is a super-rat. The Dublin variety is four-legged, beneficial and comes in either sex. It is known as the Dublin disease-resistant rat (the DDRR), and the world of science is beating a path to the door of its breeder, Steve Shelton, because he has a better rat.

★ ★ ★

"We think we've got a major breakthrough in the DDRR," he says. "It will replace the standard rat as now known."

Shelton operates a rat factory that sells 4,000 rats and mice a month to pharmaceutical houses and medical laboratories. The precautions to keep these vermin free of disease are formidable: employes wear masks, gowns and caps and must shower before coming into the presence of the animals. A sneeze recently cost the company $18,000 in contaminated mice.

★ ★ ★

But the DDRR, achieved through 20 generations of inbreeding, has its own natural antibodies to combat the colds and croup that so often strike down research animals in the midst of experiments. So Dublin will never resent being the rat-exporting capital of the world, a distinction formerly held by the Prussian village of Hamelin. For Hamelin had to pay its Pied Piper while Steve Shelton and his rats bring dollars to Dublin.

Desegregation Spreads in Fall

33 More School Areas to Lower Racial Bars in Southern States

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—Segregation practices come tumbling down in 33 southern or border state public school districts when school doors open this fall, according to Southern School News.

★ ★ ★

The monthly publication of Southern Education Reporting Service said yesterday that 29 of these systems would be desegregating voluntarily while the other four would be doing so under the watchful eyes of the courts.

The news noted that 24 previously desegregated districts plan increased Negro enrollment this fall.

In the field of higher education there were these developments:

Negro students are set to attend classes for the first time this autumn at Arlington State College in Texas and John Hopkins Medical School in Maryland.

★ ★ ★

In Mississippi, a federal court order to admit Negro veteran James Meredith to Ole Miss remained entangled in a web of legal maneuvers.

Of the newly desegregated public school districts, Texas and Virginia each have eight; Tennessee, six; Kentucky, five; North Carolina, four; and Florida, two.

Three Maryland districts and one in Delaware were formally desegregated in policy only and whites and Negroes will attend classes there together for the first time this fall.

★ ★ ★

Prince Edward County, Va., is under federal court order to present a plan by Sept. 9 to reopen public schools closed since 1959 to avoid desegregation.

Fort Worth, Tex., also is under federal court order to desegregate its public schools this fall but is expected to wait until after its case is heard by the U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in October.

★ ★ ★

There also will be desegregation of parochial schools in New Orleans and the Atlanta archdiocese of the Roman Catholic Church in September.

Breakthrough for Alps Tunnel Expected Today

MONT BLANC, Italy (UPI) — The countdown for the final blast to open the world's longest road tunnel under Europe's highest mountain began today in the darkness of Mont Blanc tunnel.

The breakthrough blast, which will disintegrate the last 10 feet of hard granite still dividing the two halves of the tunnel, was tentatively expected to take place tomorrow when the most experienced miner in the French team will ignite about a half ton of TNT.

When the smoke and dust touched off by the explosion fade away, the tough, plastic-helmeted miners will rush from both sides to hug and shake hands.

★ ★ ★

Road communications between northern and southern Europe will find a new outlet which will save time, miles and money, and would reduce almost to nothing the dangers of motoring through the Alps in winter.

Jaycees Supporting New Constitution

MANISTIQUE (UPI) — Michigan's Junior Chamber of Commerce supports the proposed new Michigan constitution and will back it in a statewide educational campaign.

★ ★ ★

The Jaycees took the action at their convention over the weekend attended by 400 delegates.

The group adopted a resolution pledging all members to promote the proposed constitution.

★ ★ ★

A motion to postpone action until October was defeated.

Peace Corps Loses 13 of 1,123 Volunteers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Only 13 of the 1,123 Peace Corps volunteers sent overseas since last summer have dropped out and returned home, reports director Sargent Shriver.

Chevy Trucks Debut at St. Clair

New Model Ballyhoo Kicks Off Today for '63 Lines

By ROBERT IRVIN
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — The American auto industry began today a multi-million-dollar publicity campaign to introduce its 1963 model cars and trucks.

For the next two months, the public will be bombarded with information on the more than 400 new models due out this fall.

First production on 1963 cars begins this week at Chrysler and American Motors. Ford and Studebaker resume Aug. 27 and General Motors after Labor Day.

The last 1962 model cars won't roll off the assembly line until tomorrow at Ford plants in Chicago and Wayne, winding up an industry model run of 6,675,000 units, second best on record.

★ ★ ★

The buildup for 1963 models started today when Chevrolet held a press preview of its new truck line at St. Clair, Mich.

This will be followed tomorrow through Thursday by the Chrysler Corp. news preview at New York City and Tamiment, Pa., where the firm will show all its 1963 cars and trucks.

Oldsmobile gets into the act Friday with a broadway-type show in Detroit.

Next Monday, Aug. 20, Ford Division previews its models, followed on Tuesday by the Lincoln-Mercury Division and Wednesday by Chevrolet cars.

PONTIAC SEPT. 19

These will be followed next month by a Studebaker showing at Indianapolis Sept. 7; Buick at Flint, Sept. 10; another Olds show at Lansing, Sept. 11; an American Motors show at Detroit Sept. 13; Pontiac Sept. 19; and Cadillac Sept. 27 at Warren.

But don't expect to see pictures of these cars on the dates listed above. That will come later — a part of the industry's carefully thought out campaign to get maximum publicity during this period.

Here's how it works: at press previews, newsmen are shown the new cars and given pictures and specifications on the models, usually for publication several weeks away — just before the public introduction date.

★ ★ ★

At the previews, the top company executive present usually makes some announcement that is newsworthy — such as the number of cars he expects will be sold next year — giving reporters something to write about immediately.

The "tease program," as some call it, varies from company to company. Ford and Chrysler, for instance, let reporters write about the cars when they see them, but save the pictures for next month.

All this, in a sense, is free publicity for the industry. When the public introduction date arrives and the cars go on sale, the firms start spending money for radio-TV commercials and newspaper advertising.

★ ★ ★

The whole process from press previews to paid ads runs into millions of dollars. "And there's no doubt it sells cars," one executive concluded.

Seeks Monkeys, Hamsters Lost With Balloon

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (UPI) — A wide-area search was in progress today for two monkeys and four hamsters, lost over northeastern Manitoba when the giant research balloon from which they were suspended in capsules drifted away from its tracking plane.

Brad Evans, information director of the Eames research center, which directed the experiment to test radiation effects on the animals, said planes were searching a wide area for the four capsules which contained the animals and other experiments.

The balloon, part of a National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) experiment, was launched Thursday from Goose Bay, Labrador. It became lost in a storm sometime Saturday night, Evans said.

JFK Will Shut Eyes as 'Foes' Campaign

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy may have to develop some political blind spots in campaigning for Democratic candidates for the Senate and House.

While the President can go all-out in praise of the record of party office holders in several states, he will have to overlook some glaring defections from his New Frontier program in urging the election of others.

In any widespread campaigning Kennedy may find himself calling for the defeat of Republicans who at times have given him vital support on issues he considers important to the success of his administration.

As a case in point, Kennedy will have to gloss over the solid backing given to him in international crises when he campaigns against Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen in Illinois.

CRITICAL OF JFK

Dirksen has fought many of Kennedy's domestic proposals. As an opposition leader in Congress he has criticized Kennedy's handling of international as well as domestic problems.

But when the chips were down in the Berlin crisis and the sending of troops to South Viet Nam, Dirksen and his House counterpart, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, plugged the Republican guns that might have roared in protest.

★ ★ ★

Similarly, Kennedy may have some mental reservations in urging the replacement of Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits in New York who helped frame the compromise version of the administration's bill for Social Security financing of health care for the elderly.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy has predicted that medicare will be a major issue in the campaign. If so, can he condemn the record of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the deputy Senate Republican leader? Kuchel worked and voted for the compromise bill.

MUST IGNORE SOME

Kennedy will have to close his eyes to individual opposition to some of his major proposals in any campaigning he does for a number of Democrats up for re-election.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., who got Kennedy's personal help in the primary, still is explaining his vote against the administration's health care bill. However, Smathers is not likely to need any presidential aid in the general election.

★ ★ ★

The President already has been to Arizona to endorse the re-election bid of Democratic Sen. Carl Hayden. That was before Hayden voted to kill the health care bill.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., has led the fight against a communications satellite bill the President has put on his must list for passage by this Congress. Morse has threatened to vote against the international trade bill unless Kennedy acts to aid the Northwest's ailing lumber industry.

★ ★ ★

Other opponents of the satellite bill who are running this year include Democratic Sens. Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania and Ernest Gruening of Alaska. Sen. John A. Carroll, D-Colo., voted last week to delay action on the bill.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, Ohio, Democrat, voted for the health care compromise but has been critical of a number of other presidential proposals.

The guessing is that Kennedy will decide to take the bad with the good and plug with varying degrees of enthusiasm for the election of Democrats wherever he may be campaigning.

India Lost 15 in Congo

NEW DELHI (AP) — Nearly 6,000 Indian armed forces personnel were sent to the U. N. Congo command in 1961-62 and 15 were killed in action, the government said.

Guerrilla Rule Ends in Algeria

Political Bureau Acts to End Police Powers of Troops

ALGIERS (AP) — Ahmed Ben Bella's ruling political bureau today stripped guerrilla troops of their police and judicial powers in a move to bring them into a unified national army.

★ ★ ★

At the end of a two-day meeting with commanders of the guerrilla wilayas (military zones), the bureau also announced that the army from now on will draw its funds exclusively from a national military budget.

A communique said the wilaya commanders had shown "great understanding" and were in agreement with the new measures.

The six-man political bureau is dictating 'Algerian policy since Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda of the provisional regime stepped down to become a mere figurehead.

SEARCHES BANNED

Searches, confiscations and tax collecting by the guerrilla chiefs had previously been banned.

The orders brought the bureau in line with Ben Khedda's policy. He had blamed the wilayas for much of the administrative and economic chaos since independence.

The political bureau has introduced far-reaching measures to bring the loosely coordinated guerrilla units directly under central government control.

★ ★

The communique said all the new measures were based on the principle of the separation of powers.

Most of Nation Fair and Warm; Few Exceptions

By The Associated Press

There were a few wet spots and skies were cloudy in some sections but fair and warm weather prevailed in most of the nation today.

There was considerable cloud cover across the middle Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes region. Rain fell in upper Michigan and showers dampened areas in the Ohio and Tennessee valleys.

★ ★ ★

Thundershowers spread across areas in western Oklahoma, the Texas Panhandle, southwest Texas and New Mexico. Heavy rain and hail pelted the Guymon, Okla. area, with nearly two inches of rain in a six-hour period.

Other showery areas included western Washington and the Florida keys.

The armadillo is known as the "poor man's pig" in parts of Texas.

Berlin Wall Serving Purpose for Reds

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

When Joshua fought the battle of Jericho, the people shouted, the trumpets blared and the wall came tumbling down.

★ ★ ★

The modern battle of the wall, a year old today, is entering a new and sinister phase, with no modern Joshua in sight. The barrier cutting Berlin in half looks more permanent than ever.

News Analysis

When the wall went up, the Communists gambled that they could get away with it. Now, a year later, the Kremlin may consider the opportunity at hand for the next gamble for big stakes in Germany.

The wall was costly in terms of propaganda. Around the non-Communist world it was denounced as a monstrosity, a device designed to imprison people and turn East Germany into a concentration camp. Why, then, was it built?

COSTLY TO REDS

West Berlin was to the Communists, as Premier Khrushchev put it, "a bone which sticks in the throat."

Walter Ulbricht, Red boss of East Germany, claimed it had cost his regime, in 1961 alone, 40 per cent of what would have been its national income because of the steady drain of young skilled labor, specialists and intellectuals who fled West. The wall was a galling demonstration of Communist failure.

For years Berlin was the escape route for hundreds of thousands. Hundreds of refugees fled westward every day. In 1961 alone, before the wall went up, 195,000 East Germans escaped to West Germany.

Ulbricht at one time hoped to buy $500 million worth of goods on credit from West Germany. Any such deal seems unlikely while the wall remains.

★ ★ ★

But Ulbricht's problems, terrifying as they are, seem not big enough to persuade him to knock the wall down again in hopes of finding a way out of economic chaos.

The wall has to remain. It is an instrument of Soviet policy. Its appearance has increased tensions, and apparently that was one of its purposes.

Without tension, there had been little Western inclination to negotiate on Berlin. With the wall, there was a chance of using fear as a weapon to divide the Allies or force negotiations — or both.

Recently, President Kennedy told the Soviet ambassador in Washington that the presence of Allied troops in West Berlin was not negotiable. The Russians insist there is only one stumbling block to accord in Berlin: the presence of Allied troops. There is the impasse.

Suppose now tension is whipped up again, creating new hot war jitters. Suppose Khrushchev then provides the Allies with a loophole by creating some reason to retain direct Soviet control over what happens in Berlin.

In return, Khrushchev would have an asking price, perhaps just a small concession regarding recognition of the East German regime's existence.

Khrushchev could bring about a crisis by going through with his threat to sign a separate treaty with the Ulbricht regime, forcing the satellites and urging the neutrals to do likewise.

West Germany apparently suspected this was in the wind. A week after Ulbricht left for the U.S.S.R., probably to talk about the next Berlin move, West Germany warned neutral nations against signing a separate treaty. But Khrushchev can create the crisis without the neutrals, and then demand negotiations.

From the talks, Khrushchev can hope the Red position in Germany will have advanced yet another small step. Berlin then could be allowed to rest for a while, before the next step in the campaign.

Kremlin policy is notable for its tenacity. When it establishes a goal, though it may twist and wriggle and maneuver for years, it never gives up.

In this case, the goal obviously is the eventual neutralization of all Germany, with the heavy political and economic impact that will have on Europe.

The wall is likely to remain until the Kremlin sees hope of accomplishing that objective.

600 Africans Riot When Meeting Ended

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—About 600 Africans staged a stonethrowing riot Sunday when police broke up an unauthorized trade union meeting.

★ ★ ★

Police broke up the meeting of the Southern Rhodesian Trades Union Congress by arresting its general secretary, T. Maluleke, who was addressing the crowd.

The crowd started stoning police vehicles and the police countered with tear gas.

Had to Be Organized

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. Nellie Dinsmore drove her new automobile to the courthouse to testify about her older car being stolen by an alleged organized group. While inside the building her new auto was taken by thieves.

For three years after Cuba threw off Spanish rule in 1898, the island was ruled by the U.S. War Department.

Infamous Berlin Wall Marks First Anniversary

By LEWIS WILLIAMS
State Editor, Nashville (Tenn.) Banner

Today is an anniversary — an anniversary of infamy which almost no one will celebrate.

A year ago today Communists began erection of a barrier which cleaved Berlin much like a butcher knife cleaves a pie, and left the populace of Eastern Berlin isolated in the dreary society begot by Soviet-dominated socialistic government manipulation.

The infamous "wall" has been a great embarrassment to the Reds, but it has served its purpose — to halt the flow of refugees from the intellectual Valhalla of Marxism to the booming prosperity of Western "capitalism."

The "wall" plugged up the Iron Curtain gap through which hundreds of thousands of East Germans fled from the end of World War II until a year ago. Some have managed to cross the wall during the past year and escape its armed guards, but many have been killed in the attempt.

The wall, perhaps the only barrier ever erected to keep a population IN, has been strengthened constantly since its beginning Aug. 13, 1961.

The pictures on this page capture the atmosphere existing in the area of the Russian-conceived "38th Parallel" of Berlin.

Recently, two American editors invited Nikita Khrushchev to visit the wall personally to witness conditions brought about by its existence.

Walker Stone, editor-in-chief of the Scripp Howard Newspaper, and Paul Miller, president of Gannett Newspapers, sent a letter to Khrushchev urging him to make a personal visit to the wall. The letter admonished the Communist leader that he would "have to see it to believe it."

The editors, who interviewed Khrushchev earlier at the Kremlin, stated in the letter that their impression of his attitude could be summarized as follows:

- The last vestiges of the war which ended 17 years ago should be wiped out by a peace treaty.
- The Soviet Union proposes to sign such a treaty with the government of East Germany and you are hopeful that it will be signed or acquiesced to by the United States, Great Britain and France.
- Such a treaty should establish what is now known as West Berlin as what you call a "free city."
- Such a solution must, in your view, include the withdrawal of U.S., U.K., and French troops from West Berlin.
- The people of Berlin would then feel more secure, more confident of the future, and be happier.
- Unless all this occurs, West Berlin will "wither on the vine."

Maj. Gen. Abert Watson, commander of the Berlin brigade, protector of the Western powers' interest in th city, recently was asked at his headquarters why the wall was not knocked down by NATO forces when it was constructed.

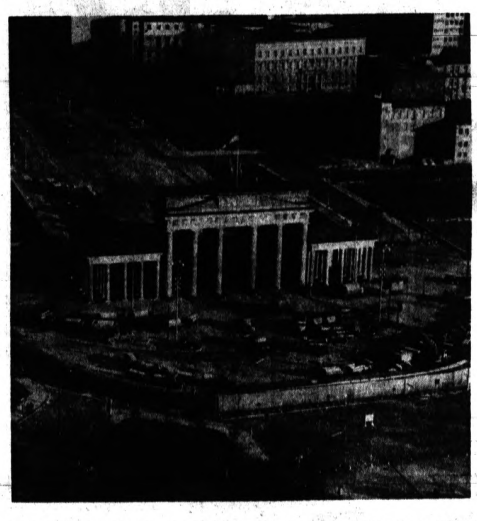
"That's an easy question to propose," the general answered. "But consider it this way: Suppose we had knocked it down, and the Communists had fallen back a few yards and built another. Then we knocked it down, and they fell back and constructed another.

"How far are we going in this matter of knocking down walls?"

Today the "wall," consisting of about seven miles of masonry supplemented by 28 mies of barb-wire, still stands. It divides a city of more than three million persons into a living monument to the benefits of democracy and the penalties of communism.

A Berlin wall guard restrains his police dog from attacking a photographer. The guards, on both sides of the wall, display serious concern for the activities of their counterparts across the barrier. Many shots have been exchanged by the guards.

The destructive hand of war still is evident in East Berlin—17 years after the end of the world's greatest conflict. Ruins like these stand as monuments to the Communist way of life, in comparison to the modern steel and glass city that is West Berlin



The Brandenburg Gate, formerly a symbol of German unity, has become a focal point of its schism, with the wall, hastily erected on Aug. 13, passing in front of it.

This lonely East Berlin guard patrols the desolate "no man's land" which extend from the East Berin side of the wall. Heavy traffic flows along the west Berlin side.

The Iron Curtain has extended even to the sea. The double broken line (A) shows a carefully guarded 60-mile coastal area of East Germany where new restrictions, including special police stamps for residents, went into effect recently in attempts to halt refugees from fleeing by sea.

Communist guards stroll past a Soviet War Memorial in East Berlin. There are strong military units of "peoples' police" and border guards in East Berlin, in addition to the Soviet Army units stationed there. The total force is approximately 70,000 troops.

The East Berlin "Police" who actually constitute a strong military army, usually display a stern countenance, but the antics of this photographer broke through the military veneer. Most of the Berlin guards hide from photographers.

Another manifestation of the Iron Curtain is shown in this schematic drawing of the border between West Germany and Czechoslovakia. The border is marked by stones. The western side is marked only by signs warning "50 meters to border." On the Communist side is a plowed strip (to reveal footprints), two fences, one of them electrified, trip flares and "dragons' teeth" tank barriers and guard towers housing machine guns.

TV Teaching a Plus Value in Classrooms

CINCINNATI (AP) — Television teaching hasn't enabled Cincinnati to cut down on the number of teachers it needs, according to a research study of TV teaching made here.

"However," says Wendell Pierce, superintendent of city schools, "we view television as a plus value in the classroom.

"Looking at the future of education and the vast amount of knowledge to be acquired, mechanical devices will have to be used if we are going to have quality education."

Pierce said the study nailed down three ways classroom TV can help teachers:

1. In some science classes, chiefly biology and chemistry, it gives the student a better view of demonstration experiments.

2. It can show classes things not readily available—like an atomic airplane.

3. TV can help show teachers how to do a better job, and how to develop certain skills in instruction.

The research started in 1956 to compare TV-taught pupils with those given regular classroom instruction in science courses and driver training.

Analysis showed a few surprises, Pierce said:

"The older pupils at higher grade levels and the most capable ones at all grade levels did better in the TV classes—but they preferred conventional instruction.

"Younger pupils and less capable ones in all grades liked television, but they achieved more in regular classes."

Pierce said television teaching was most effective in classes where pupils were grouped by ability and had telecasts designed expressly for them.

He noted, however, "Pupils generally preferred to listen than to participate when questions were asked by the television teacher during the telecast. The most capable students strongly preferred inactive viewing."

Wash-Wear Fabrics Keep Up With Kids

Activity reigns in the life of energetic youngsters —(and whose aren't a combination, or, better yet, combustion, of atoms able to explore without fear the heights of insurmountable mountains, the depths of oceans and, now, any point in outer space, easier than invading the kitchen cookie jar?)

★ ★ ★

Among these are James and Debra, who were joyous at the thought of posing for our Press photographer — if they could be snapped while at the playground.

James was outfitted in the Spartan Department Store's machine-washable school trousers with elasticized waistband and a white dress shirt, just like Dad's. His tie is striped and dyed to match the cocoa brown slacks. Shoes are butcher toe oxfords by Robinson Crusoe.

With Butterick pattern No. 2446, Debra's grandmother used 2½ yards of 45-inch Galey & Lord material from the Sew 'n' Save Fabric Shop at Tel-Huron to make her shag bark muti-stripe dress of dark green. The all-cotton wash 'n' wear (for Mom's sake, too) features a Peter Pan collar outlined in lace and off-center button shirtwaist front.

WHY Do Students Quit?

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Why do students drop out of high school?

A study by the Dade County—Miami and environs — public schools discloses these primary reasons, in order of frequency:

★ ★ ★

1. Not interested in school.
2. Discouraged by lack of success.
3. Excess of absence or turancy.

★ ★ ★

Three causes shared fourth place in the survey: entering verified employment, enlisted in the armed forces and marriage.

Next in order were "inability to adjust to school" and "needed at home."

The findings are based on the first year of a three-year survey, which is in its second year.

Every fifth 10th grader, alphabetically, was chosen for the study last year.

★ ★ ★

There was another sampling of seventh graders, but this study is concerned with "involuntary withdrawals" such as transfers.

Nearly 5,000 students are included in the two surveys.

★ ★ ★

Jonathan Gillingham, director of the dropout study, explained that officials are prying further into the causes. For example, why "not interested in school?"

The first year study showed that boys and girls were about even in giving the "not interested" reason.

★ ★ ★

But boys outnumbered girls, 15 to 3, in discouragement by lack of success. Only girls were affected by marriages. Boys predominated in the "inability to adjust" category.

★ ★ ★

The guidance department takes over when a student drops out. Many, particularly married girls, are induced to attend adult school, including vocational and other courses.

★ ★ ★

But the dropoutsurvey is a fact-finding project only, and plans have not been forulated to follow through by helping students who leave school find jobs or make adjustments. A course of action will be determined after completion of the three-year study, Gillingham said.

Problem: Find Trained Counselors

By The Associated Press

Guidance programs in the nation's schools are faced with a two-headed dilemma: Finding counselors despite an ever-present shortage of trained personnel.

Suffering from this supply-and-demand problem are thousands of youngsters whose work may slip behind because they lack individual help in getting at the root of their problems.

Where guidance programs in the past were confined mainly to high schools, principals today are requesting this help for elementary school children — if they only can find it.

Nationwide, there is a current shortage of 25,000 to 35,000 guidance counselors.

In some school systems, one guidance counselor handles the vocational, personal and academic problems of more than 1,200 students. He's lucky if he can see each student once a year.

In other systems, the guidance counselor is handed chores that no one else has time for: Arranging assembly programs, representing the school at state meetings, serving on social agency panels.

If no clerical help is available, the counselor is beside himself filling out college forms, recording grades in each student's folder, and giving tests which he probably has to score himself.

But where school superintendents and boards of education have insisted on a full-fledged guidance program, the results have paid tremendous dividends in cutting down on dropouts, helping students find and get into appropriate colleges, and guiding students toward vocational goals.

Breakfast All-Important for Children

Start Off With Eggs or Hot Dogs, but Eat!

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Summer days may mean late rising hours, dawdling over breakfast and a day free for whatever the child wants to do.

But come September — and that's only a few short weeks away — the tempo of the house changes. Rising must be at a definite hour. Breakfast is served at a certain time and the children set off for school before the day is well advanced.

A GOOD BREAKFAST

The best thing you can do for your child before school each morning is to see that he has a good breakfast. Good teachers, fine schools, the best of supplies won't mean a thing if Johnny hasn't enough energy to study.

★ ★ ★

Children burn up tremendous amounts of food in their never-ending activities. If their evening meal is around six and they skip breakfast, it may be 18 hours between meals. That doesn't make good sense, does it?

The acceptable basic breakfast pattern suggests fruit, cereal, bread or toast and milk. If your child will eat that, fine. If not, then it's up to you, Mom, to furnish some food he will eat.

NO CEREAL?

He doesn't like cereal? Perhaps you haven't found the kind he likes or your budget says that oatmeal fits in better than the more expensive sugar-flavored cold cereals.

Add some fruit to hot cereal. Serve it with a square of butter on top and pass syrup or corn syrup. Use brown sugar instead of white. Dot the top with chocolate chips.

Nutrition experts seem to agree that WHAT people eat for breakfest isn't nearly so important as THAT they eat. We heard just recently of a family who always had left-overs for breakfast. That doesn't fit into our meal planning, but who is to say it is bad—just because the hour is 7 A.M.?

If you have followed the Press food columns for any period of time, you know that we advocate giving the family whatever they will eat for breakfast. Our teen-ager will eat deviled eggs, French toast or eggnog; he will not eat eggs fixed in conventional form. What difference does it make?

LIKED COTTAGE CHEESE

We know a man who used to eat cottage cheese with dark corn syrup poured over it for his breakfast. Many mornings we use cottage cheese instead of butter or jam on our toast. Cottage cheese is a good protein food.

★ ★ ★

Keep a supply of hot dogs and/or minute steaks in your refrigerator. Perhaps the youngsters will enjoy fixing one of them. Serve breakfast sandwiches if you like.

But let's stoke the furnace first thing in the morning.

★ ★ ★

Here is an unusual fruit and cereal combination to try out this fall. If your youngster eats a dish of this applesauce with its cereal topping and drinks a glass of milk, he will be better off than if he grabbed a couple of doughnuts on the way out the front door. We think bacon would be a good go-with for this dish.

Crumbly Cereal Topped Applesauce

3 cups thick canned applesauce
1 teaspoon ground coriander
1¼ teaspoons cinnamon
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1½ cups rolled oats
¾ cup brown sugar, packed
1-3 cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup butter or margarine

Combine applesauce, coriander, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon and lemon juice. Pour into 1½-quart casserole. Combine oats, brown sugar, flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and salt. Cut in butter or margarine until mixture is crumbly, using knives or pastry blender. Sprinkle mixture over applesauce.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) until browned and bubbly, about 40 minutes. Serve warm or cold, plain with milk, cream or ice cream, as desired. Yield: 6 servings.

"I'll have two," Mike Alonzi (left) says emphatically to brother Mark, both of South Marshall Street, as they practice packing lunch. With the lunch kits come vacuum bottles, all from Simms. Mike will enter the third grade at St. Benedict School. This is the first year for Mark, a kindergartener at Longfellow.

For busy girls (this pair seems to be on a party line) who keep their mother, even busier, here's an answer from Kresge's at Tel-Huron . . . Dan River's wash 'n' wear dresses. Vicki and Karen Shotwell of Hanley Street model two varieties, one plaid, one print, with Jumping-Jacks shoes . . . one pair, nylon-velvet and calf tie oxfords, washable, and the other, black smooth calf. Vicki, about to enter the second grade at Della Lutes School, Waterford, where sister Karen is a fourth grader, holds personalized snack box, available in assorted colors.

Tempting Meal for Youngsters

Tempt small-fry appetites with this portable school lunch hot soup in a vacuum bottle, sandwich, in-a-cup salad and fruit, with milk added at school.

Especially appealing to youngsters is a combination of condensed tomato and cream of chicken soups, or chicken noodle with vegetable soups. Easy sandwich spread: Chop 2 frankfurters and blend with 2 tablespoons mustard relish. Other favorite spreads are peanut butter with mashed banana; cream cheese mixed with pureed apricots and chopped walnuts.

Put Orange or 2 in School Lunch

Remember to put a whole orange in that lunch box pack—two's even better—one for a between-times snack. Fresh whole oranges are tops for nutrition and refreshment.

To make the lunch orange easier to peel, score the peel with a sharp knife in four or six places almost, but not quite, through to the bottom. Then the peel can be slipped off easily. Wrap in foil or transparent wrap.

For the home lunches, keep refrigerator and fruit bowl well supplied with juicy oranges.

Come rain or shine, Janet Shipman of Prairie Lawn, Drayton Plains, and Mike Dorman, West Walton Boulevard, chit-chat without regard to the weather with their water repellent coats from George's-Newport's to shield them, and their new outfits. Janet and Mike both attend Waterford Kettering High School, where she is a junior, and he, among the 'mighty' seniors this fall.

School Population at All-Time High

School population, reports the National Education Association, is at an all-time high.

At present, some 56 million children, youth and adults are enrolled in our schools; almost 40 million of these are in public elementary and secondary schools.

Spinach, believed of Persian origin, was not known in Europe until the 15th century.

Ouagadougou, capital of Upper Volta, was the seat of the Mossi emperor in the 15th century.

Olives Add Meatiness to 3 Sandwich Spreads

"Three - in - one Olive Sandwich Spread" may appear to be difficult and involved; it really isn't.

The beauty of this recipe is that it yields about 4½ cups of 3 different spreads, enough for weekend sandwiches as well as weekday school lunch boxes.

And it's an appetizing, hearty way to serve up leftovers. Glossy ripe olives add richness and satisfying "meatiness" to the mixtures.

Olive Sandwich Spread

1½ cups ripe olives
3 large stalks celery
⅓ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sifted all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
2 teaspoons grated onion
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup ground ham
½ teaspoon mustard
1 cup grated American cheese
¼ cup sweep pickle relish
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup flaked tuna, salmon or crab
1 teaspoon curry powder

Cut olives into medium-sized pieces. Chop celery very fine. Melt butter, blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk slowly, cooking and stirring until thickened and smooth, about 5 to 10 minutes.

Remove from heat and blend in onion, lemon juice, olives and celery. Divide mixture into 3 parts. To one add the ham and mustard; to another cheese, pickle relish and Worcestershire sauce; and to the third the fish and curry powder.

Use either hot or cold, spread between lightly buttered or toasted bread slices, or French toast. Be sure to refrigerate when not used.

Makes about 1½ cups each variation.

Separates Meant for Each Other

Separates often form the backbone of a junior-miss wardrobe, and fall '62's offerings are newsy and tempting . . .

Most shirts are designed for an in-or-out life, with shirttails finished enough for a casual overblouse look. Sleeves are mainly three-quarter and cuffed, or roll-up like Krite's all-cotton one with embroidered shield.

Silhouettes favor natural waistlines, full skirts, and fitted bodices . . . Paired with Kriste's blouse is a 100 per cent wool stitched-down pleated skirt in red. Also in blue, gray, or green.

Frankly feminine is the Dan River all-combed cotton jumper dress with border print and blouse slip . . . attached to nylon bouffant. The little lady has her choice of green with gold and red or blue and turquoise border prints. Both outfits by Honeylane.

Homework Approved

Nearly 84 per cent of grade school teachers recently polled by the National Education Association said they thought elementary pupils should do homework regularly.

For grades 1-3, most teachers thought 2½ hours of homework a week was enough. But for grades 4-6 they thought the homework load should go up to about 4 hours a week, according to the study.

Consolidations are chiefly responsible for the reduction in number of U.S. school systems from 108,579 in 1942 to 37,438 in 1962.

Just as anxious kindergartener, snow-suited, Brian Smith of Canterbury Drive, dilly dallies, while Diane Wyrick of Atwater Street, Lake Orion, proceeds ahead in a jumper-blouse combination that will wear well right into and through those wintry months. Brian will enter kindergarten at Daniel Whitfield School, and Diane will return to Blanche Sims Elementary, Lake Orion. Both outfitted by Children's Shop, Tel-Huron.

★ ★ ★

Teacher will still stress the three Rs and the count — 1-2-3, but today's kindergartner may answer with the count-down— 10-9-8, when he's about to "blast off," (or so he claims) in the classroom.

To "suit" these would-be astronauts, some of whom have already explored our galaxy via their imaginations, the basic coverall is brought up to date with zippered pockets, space insignias and "A-OK" legend.

★ ★ ★

Brian's snow suit lined with Orlon pile by Gardner features a zip hood, also pile-lined, double knee construction. It will take an incredible beating but won't shrink out of fit, no matter how many orbits it takes through the washer.

★ ★ ★

The style pictured is offered in all-nylon in such shades as Marine Green, Air Force Blue and Army Brown.

Seemingly this is a fashion right fall for the younger set. Colors and fabrics team up to make the children well-dressed any time of day. Diane wears a Macshore Classic blouse typifying the interest evidenced in long sleeves, button cuff and Peter Pan collar. The pima cotton blouse is drip dry.

The plaid jumper shows off a drop waist . . . but best of all, Bonanza fabric can be washed and worn — and it's permanently pleated . . . for easy care, mothers . . .

The mittens are black bunny furred. Jim, a second grader at Daniel Whitfield School, will return to class wearing something like this "Newport" sweater of loden green and black, Jacquard pattern with Billy the Kid corduroy loden-shade slacks. Both the outfits from Richards Boys' and Girls' Wear.*

Does Number Count? No

BOSTON—Does the number of words you can read per minute have any importance?

"None," says Dr. Leo F. Hanley, director of Boston University's Reading Center.

Recent trends to equate effective reading with rapid reading are "puting the cart before the horse," says Dr. Hanley.

"The primary concern in teaching reading must be with development skills which will improve the rate of comprehension — not the speed of word coverage," he says.

Small Fry Don Classic Styles (but With Bows)

Tartans, Tucks High Fashion

Small fry misses back-to-school fashions for fall reflect a definite awareness of very grown-up clothes.

Moppet's drip dry dress for Sheri with pussy-cat bow and white collar accenting the neckline is easily fall's number one miniature dress fashion. Loden over loden green stripes on the bodice tops a bouffant skirt over a multitude of petticoats, also in loden green.

Some of the very new-looking smocked midriff dresses resemble the widened middle look by Balenciaga.

High fashion may influence many clothes for the wee ones, but the styles retain a decidedly classic look. Tartans are still so important, and woven cotton like the Carol Evans original jumper dress on Carla is indeed king of dresses.

Petite edging on the collar and sleeve serve only to point up the gay posies of azalias on azure blue background, a one-piece frock that, at first glance, resembles separates.

Flatted fabrics are "in" this year—swank broadcloth, the very well-behaved fabric that stays fresh through an active recess and day in day in classes comprises day in class comprises Patty's "Gilbert Brother's" brand dress.

Wide white lace accents over shoulder and lower skirt. Tiny tucks bib the bodice of the toast and turquoise combination. Back-to-school clothes all conform to a classic color scheme.

Brown ranging from beige to rust to chocolate takes precedence . . . while camel and gray combinations are big for sportswear . . . and school girl red, blue, green and all of the authentic tartans are winners.

Little waists will be cinched with wide belts, like big sis and mom's, growing ever important . . . along with fake fur "head-warmers," some with matching handbags.

Hats off . . . and its the smooth-er, sleeker, longer hairdos that look their best . . . especially with bows and headbands.

Briefly—this fall little ones will appear every bit as update and smart as their elders.

Learn How to Think, Not to Remember

What students learn isn't so important any more as how they learn—and how they think about what they learn. Facts themselves, says the National Education Association, are becoming so numerous that practically nobody can learn them all.

Ford Grants to Community

To Aid Education Innovations

By The Associated Press

Sizable grants to "support the application from kindergarten through the 12th grade of the full range of constructive innovations in American education during the past 10 years" have been made to the public schools of Newton, Mass., and Norwalk, Conn., by the Ford Foundation.

★ ★ ★

"What has heretofore been educational experimentation on a limited scale — at particular schools or grade-levels — will become in Newton and Norwalk the predominant system-wide pattern," says Clarence H. Faust, a vice president of the Foundation.

★ ★ ★

Newton will use its $266,000 grant to expand its large-group instruction, advanced placement of abler students, and cooperative projects for teacher education and curriculum improvement with the Harvard University Graduate School of Education.

UNDER FUND GRANTS

These innovations were begun in Newton under grants from the fund for the Advancement of Education, an independent organization established by the Ford Foundation.

Newton also will develop such practices as the interchange of teachers from grade to grade and school to school, team teaching, small-group instruction, individual study programs, flexible admission standards for kindergarten, expansion of offerings in the sciences, arts and foreign languages, and the formulation of continuing curricula from elementary through high school in such subjects as mathematics and social studies.

★ ★ ★

The $200,000 grant to the Norwalk public schools supplements an earlier grant from the fund for the Advancement of Education for the "Norwalk Plan" — a successful pioneer effort in the use of team teaching.

In 1958 the Norwalk Plan embraced 302 pupils and 12 teachers at two grade levels in four schools. During 1961-62, it included 2,500 pupils and 79 teachers in nine schools and all 12 grades.

Norwalk will expand its team teaching, plus such related practices as the use of nonprofessional assistants, flexible scheduling and variations in class size and type of instruction. Norwalk also plans to give greater responsibility to student-teacher interns and to expand the use of tape recorders, teaching machines and educational TV.

Foreign Language for Students Pays

RICHMOND, Va. — Richmond's first public school pupils to take nine years of foreign language find that it is paying off.

They were graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School in 1961 after nine years of French and a survey showed all of the 15 who responded to inquiries were in advanced college courses and doing well.

Coeducation to Stay in Austria, Announces Influential Socialists

VIENNA (AP) — Coeducation is here to stay, the Austrian Socialist party, junior members of the Conservative-Socialist coalition government say.

In an announcement by their press office, the Socialists rejected suggestion by the Catholic Family League to abolish coeducation introduced in Austria after World War II.

HELD HIGH POSTS

The Socialists hold a number of high education posts under the two-party system, among them the president of the Vienna Board of Education.

The education ministry is held by a Conservative, on the other hand.

The press office said a separation of the sexes in school is not possible as there are not enough schools in small towns and villages.

Then it added:

"There are more pros than contras for coeducation. Boys will lose their roughness to a certain degree through the influence of girls.

★ ★ ★

"On the other hand the tendency of girls to over-shyness will develop less strongly.

"Many pedagogues are pointing out that it is natural for boys and girls to grow up together. The best example is family life.

"Finally, there still is another important advantage of coeducation: erotic tensions between the sexes in the years of puberty are considerably reduced by coeducation."

Let Kid Walk

BOSTON—You're doing your children no good by driving them to school.

At least that's the opinion of the American Automobile Association.

★ ★ ★

The Association says that far too many child injuries and fatalities have resulted from careless practices of parents driving their children to school.

Walking to school teaches children self reliance and provides good exercise, the AAA points out.

Classroom Crush Is Big Headache

TUCSON, Ariz.—University of Arizona officials say classroom space has become a major headache and give these examples:

Russian classes are conducted in College of Mines Building, history classes in the Engineering Building, history and home economics in the Biological Science Building.

Who Spoke at Exercises?

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio —This probably-typical American community has provided what probably is typical reaction to commencement speeches.

Less than six months after the 1961 high school commencement exercises, a survey was taken of a large cross-section of the graduating class. Two questions were asked:

What was the name of the speaker?

What did he say?

None of those questioned could remember the speaker's name. Only one had a vague idea of what he had said. One girl recalled something about "how we would appreciate our parents later in life."

★ ★ ★

The man who spoke, Dr. Harold L. Yochum, president of Capital University in Columbus, wasn't the least surprised.

NEW TWIST: OFF-BEAT? NEVER, JUST "KOOKY"

Eye College With Accent on Style

Listen to the beat—This threesome toying with the "sounds of music" is just as hep on the changing patterns of clothes fads, too.

* * *

Carl Wilberg of Clarkston wears a muted check tweed sport coat coordinated with worsted flannel trousers, while Larry Gardner, also of Clarkston, pairs a multi-colored zipper ski cardigan with stained glass design and worsted flannel trousers. They have button-down oxford shirts. About to enter Western Michigan University this fall, both fellows were outfitted from Alvin's Men's Shop. Instruments from Edwards.

* * *

With the precision of a metronome, Sherry Wyrick, sophomore at Lake Orion Senior High School, keeps time with a fashion right . . . black and white refrain is synchronized in a bulky sweater with mock turtle neckline—featuring a stole which can be worn draped as a collar or as a hood. Her sheath skirt is of doeskin flannel . . . All from Alvin's.

Katie and Gary both step out for school in black leather shoes . . . she, favoring the moccasin style, and he, the side zipper loafer.

High School Togs Go to College

Notice how many high schoolers resemble collegians today . . . with a bit of foresight prospective college students can begin planning as early as their junior year in high school — and many do — with the cardigan sweater, plaid skirt combination and the Barracuda jacket and slim-cut slacks in mind.

For the gals, Katie's ensemble, the skirt of which also is available in solids, as well as plaids, paired with the cardigan sweater — is a classic favorite now . . . one that maintains a standing pace with any of the new versions, because of the variety of new fall shades it takes on each year.

A constant companion is her button tab shirt of oxford cloth, this one by Ship 'n' Shore.

The guys are likely to wear a Barracuda jacket like Gary's, more than any other one item in their wardrobe.

Rayon acetate plaid and solid colors featuring the slim cut and coupled with a Banlon knit shirt that's washable (most important) completes the look for any day . . . at any school . . . anywhere . . . .

Pontiac Press Photo

Good taste in clothes, like manners, are obvious—here the gentleman's in the know—Gary Sullivan and Katie Allen of Rochester High School stop to look over Michigan State University Oakland in clothes that take to high school and college. Katie's outfit, an all wool skirt plaided in red, black and green is paired with a red Mainliner sweater over oxford shirt, and Gary's Barracuda jacket covers a Ban-Lon knit shirt and rayon acetate slacks. Both ensembles from Federal's Department Store.

Honor Cups in Old Mold

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University has gone back to the Phoenicians for a process in designing six unique top scholarship trophies.

The trophies consist of a modernistic cup in which three holes are carved. These holes allow a view of a spindle rising from the center of the cup. The spindle design is different in each trophy, symbolizing the type of student group to be honored.

The cups were cast in the conventional green sand method and machine turned. For the spindles, a process more than 3,500 years old, the lost wax process, was used.

* * *

The process, which dates back to the Phoenicians, involves the making of a mold from a wax model and using this mold to reproduce a likeness of the model in the desired metal, in this case aluminum.

The term "lost wax," applied to the melting out of the wax once the mold has hardened.

NO OTHER METHOD

The university reported that no other method could handle the spindles' complex of spikes and interlocking loops.

The design was created by Alan French, former member of the faculty and now a research and development designer in New Richmond, Wis.

Known as the President's Scholarship trophies, the cups will be awarded to the fraternity and sorority with the highest grade average; the men's and women's dormitories with the highest upperclass grade average, and the men's and women's dormitories with the highest freshmen grade average.

Junior Colleges Increasing in U. S.

The number of junior colleges in the United States has mushroomed in the last 60 years. In 1902, there were just two junior colleges—or community colleges — in the country.

Now, there are 700, reports National Education Association.

Should Child Have Homework?

The national demand for more rigor in education, has put the bright spotlight of public attention on homework.

Generally, the demands have been for more and harder homework, particularly in the early grades.

Many educators warn, however, that there is a point of diminishing returns in heaping on out-of-class assignments, especially the type that emphasizes drill on things already learned in class.

A grade school pupil, for instance may develop a passionate dislike for arithmetic if he has to do 30 to 50 problems a night, merely repeating things he already knows well.

Another problem was noted by the Educational Policies Commission, which includes many of the nation's top educators:

NO PLACE TO STUDY

"Homework usually implies a home. But some pupils live in circumstances which do not merit that name. For them, little good can come from assignments which cannot be satisfactorily completed without a home library, seclusion, time for uninterrupted study, or parent interest and cooperation."

The "home library" needn't be extensive, and the seclusion needn't be absolute.

But, where the home environment is not conducive to effective study, the pupil not only fails to gain anything from homework, he may soon fall so far behind the rest of the class that he becomes frustrated and eager to leave school.

* * *

Robert S. Fox, director of the University of Michigan University School, says the sixth grade is early enough for children to start assigned homework.

* * *

Many might disagree with him on this point, but most authorities go along with his statement that assignments should be tailored to fit the individual child wherever possible.

"Teachers should encourage children to explore their special interests on their own initiative," Fox said. "Elementary school children have such heavy demands on their time that, by and large, it's wise for the school to restrict its formal learning activities, like arithmetic or word drill, to the the school hours.

"Light homework can be given to the sixth grade, and the amount can be increased through junior high school and senior high school."

Most educators agree that the best type of homework is that which broadens a child's interest. It is here that the parents play a vital role by encouraging a child to read by stimulating his interest with trips to the zoo or museum, and particularly by showing that they place a high value on academic learning.

TOUGH ON TEACHERS

Another facet of the homework problem is the work load it imposes on a teacher.

Most teachers agree that high school English students should write at least one theme a week. But suppose the English teacher has 150 students in five classes of 30 students each day.

If he devotes just 10 minutes to reading, correcting and grading each theme, it adds 25 hours a week to an already heavy work schedule.

* * *

And unless the homework can be read, corrected and graded, and returned to the student, there is often no use at all in assigning it.

Maybe in Future, No Report Cards

In schools of the future, there may not be either any grades or any report cards.

* * *

In the future, many educators expect learning to be continuous, with each student, young and old, working at his best speed regardless of what others in his age group are doing.

Look of Casual Importance Wanted by High Schoolers

It's no secret—today's high schoolers prefer the understated look of casual importance defined. Bill Smith of Williams Street sports a continental cut sweater. His pants by Debonaire are comfortably slim. Calf leather shoes by Barrister. Black skimmer flats by Town Fair complete Carol Severson of Florence Street's outfit—a blue and white orlon bulky knit sweater and permanently pleated wool skirt—available at Spartan Store.

Pontiac Press Photo

Study habits may take a back seat for Marjorie Justin, when Wes Schaar's around, but the two sophomores at Lake Orion Senior High never neglect to choose clothes that will look as "in" for class as for coffee dates or casual get-togethers with friends. Marjorie selected Hudson's Budget Store's own brand in this red sweater of orlon acrylic, and wool skirt with red knee socks and black flats. For Wes, it was Cranbrook Jr. cotton wash 'n' wear shirt and brown-shaded sweater, with brown slacks and buckskin shoes.

Odds-Ends Art Scores a Hit With Teachers

NEW BRUNSWICK N. J. (AP) —Works of art made from the everyday materials of modern living scored a hit at Rutgers University art education workshop.

Teachers from 16 states saw abstracts carved from Plexiglas, kangaroo figures made from rejected medical gauze and plaster, and other items drawing on everything from old wire to plastic bottles.

★ ★ ★

The idea was to impress children with the potential beauty of even the most commonplace odds and ends.

Dismantle Parts of Table Lamps

Table and hanging lamps can be dismantled and washed right where they are, using small bowls for the soap or detergent suds and rinse water. Just let all parts dry before reassembling and reconnecting the lamp.

Detroit Healing Dropout Scars

By The Associated Press

While officials in other towns across the country are just now beginning to tackle the bulging youth unemployment problem, the big industrial city of Detroit is moving smoothly into its 13th year of helping find jobs for school dropouts.

Now a regular part of the public school program the Job Upgrading Program has found work for more than 1,000 youngsters who couldn't get jobs on their own.

This new labor force, patiently trained, counseled and supervised by school guidance and vocational workers, hitherto had been the least employable.

Youngsters in it come from poor economic and social backgrounds, their education has been inadequate, and their general ability is low.

They don't even know how to start getting a job. They don't know how to fill out an application blank.

They don't know their own assets, and where these assets would fit into paid employment, if at all.

So during the first six weeks of the upgrading program, these kinds of problems are attacked. The three-hour morning session is informal. Counseling is personal to groom the student for a job.

Part of each morning is given over to studying and filling out job sheets, of which there are 50.

Some of these are personal data sheets, including the student's biography and his own analysis of his personality.

Some are fact sheets, giving information on the techniques of getting a job, what employers want, what kind of jobs are available.

Coordinators at the upgrading centers, which counsel about 30 teen-agers at a time, get down to the details of what to wear, how to look and what to say on an interview.

★ ★ ★

The center provides a shoeshine box the boys can use at any time, and a cosmetic table with fingernail polish and other cosmetics the girls may help themselves to.

Practice interviews are held. Stimulus is provided by taking the group to visit industries, so that kinds of jobs for which they may eventually qualify become a reality.

★ ★ ★

And for morale's sake, graduates of the Job upgrading center now employed come back for an occasional party.

After a youngster gets his first job, a school representative visits him at work, advises him on any problems he has and talks with his job supervisor.

Housing Need Even More Than Enrollment

NEW YORK (AP) — The demand for on-campus housing is increasing even faster than the enrollments at American colleges and universities, says the Educational Facilities Laboratories.

★ ★ ★

As many as 40 per cent of the seven million students expected to enroll in 1970 will have to be housed on campuses that traditionally provided house room for only 25 per cent.

★ ★ ★

The gap between the one million living units now available and the number needed by the end of the decade is almost two million units — enough to house the combined populations of Boston and Cleveland.

Degree Is Needed

As of this year, all states but one require high school teachers to have a college degree. All but seven states require a bachelor's degree for elementary-school teachers.

Millions for Merit

In the last five years, the National Merit scholarship program has awarded $25 million in scholarships to deserving students.

Educators Will Return Invigorated

By The Associated Press

One group of high school principals and teachers will face the educational headaches this fall refreshed in spirit and recharged in enthusiasm after a summer spent delving into the humanities.

The happy break away from their ordinary chores comes by courtesy of the John Hay Fellows Program, which set up these summer institutes "with a view to enriching teaching and stimulating creative, imaginative contributions to American education."

Seventy public school administrators and 170 public senior high school teachers discussed philosophy, listened to concerts, brushed up on their knowledge of architecture, talked in groups, and thought in private on four college campuses—Bennington, Williams, Colorado and the University of Oregon.

The dividends paid by this unusual kind of prepaid summer are enormous.

One administrator said, "The Institute had kindled in me the desire to read other modern novels, it has made me haunt secondhand book stores, and it has caused me to neglect my garden, as I now choose a Sunday in an art gallery instead of with weeds and fertilizer."

Another commented, "I am pressing for changes—and getting them; changes that seem so necessary if we are to meet our responsibilities to the young people in our schools."

While the summer students plunge into the immediate problems of their schools, a group of 75 public high school teachers are having a full year off under the same program, to pursue studies in the humanities.

Pack Lunch Box Well

Are you sure the food you pack tastes as good to the child who carries the lunch box?

Remember that a lunch box is a small airless container. It can help or hurt food.

Wrap each item separately and carefully — don't let flavors invade each other's privacy. This is especially true of such foods as sandwiches and boiled eggs.

Even fruits like apples taste better and stay fresh longer when taken from the refrigerator and wrapped in aluminum or plastic wrap.

"Canned ice" is available at hardware and variety stores. Frozen overnight, it keeps lunch box foods cold and fresh for hours, can be used over and over and costs only pennies.

It allows more variety, too. Cold salads packed in plastic containers really stay cold. Fruits like watermelon are lunch box possibilities when you use it.

Be sure to keep the lunch box fresh. Keeping it clean and sanitary is easy these days. A quick washing with a mild household cleaner makes it ready for the next lunch you pack.

Book Says Teach All ABOUT It

Youngsters Need to Know Pitfalls of Communism

By DIAL TORGERSON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Should our high school students study about communism?

"Yes," says Dr. Rodger Swearingen, University of Southern California professor who has written a new textbook about communism.

"Most Americans know dangerously little about the subject. The problem isn't diagnosis — it's communication."

Some high schools already teach about communism, some will begin this fall, others are considering it.

"You can't tell people you're teaching communism," Dr. Swearingen says. "They'd blow up. What it is is teaching ABOUT communism."

★ ★ ★

In Florida this September all high schools have been ordered to teach 30-hour courses on "Americanism vs. Communism."

A course offered by Dallas, Tex., high schools this past year was titled "The Principles of American Freedom in Contrast to the Tyranny of Communism."

Wichita, Kan., and Manchester, N. H., also offered courses.

Other states and local districts have decided to combine instruction about communism in regular history, civics and geography courses.

The Louisiana state legislature last year appropriated $30,000 annually for seminars for high school students on "tactics and strategy" of Communism.

WHY BOOMING NOW?

After 17 years of Cold War, why is communism just now booming as a suitable subject in academic circles?

"The big anti-Communist schools and rallies have done it," said one educator, who asked his name not be used. "They have showed that you can teach about communism without being for it."

★ ★ ★

If this is true, then there is a certain irony in the accomplishment.

Because many of the things covered in a scholarly study of communism are areas where fervid anti-Communists will brook little objectivity.

Dr. Swearingen, who is an associate professor of international relations at USC and director of the new Research Institute on Communist Strategy and Propaganda there, considers his book anti-Communist.

But he believes the strengths of communism should be told, as well as its weaknesses. He also believes the book must tell why communism has appealed to many people.

MAY CAUSE DEBATE

The book explains the Marxian theories of economics, including the Marx explanation that the capitalist exploits the workers by siphoning off profits — the "surplus value" above production costs.

Says the text: "Thus according to Marx, the capitalist, himself idle, 'lives off the sweat of the worker'."

Swearingen's next paragraph points out the things later economists have proven to be wrong with the Marxian interpretations. But suppose someone quoted just the paragraph above it?

(In Los Angeles a woman's group once demanded to know why Russia was shown on textbook maps as larger than the United States.)

★ ★ ★

Dr. Swearingen is a handsome, fortyish, carefully spoken man who prefers not to discuss American politics and the fact that plans to teach about communism might stir controversy.

"We don't need to fear," he says, "that too-objective or too-factual an approach will result in the contamination of some of our students.

"The truth is devastating enough. The issue is very clear. There are two tests communism can never pass: the test of truth and the test of comparison."

The weather may be a common subject for conversation, but high school seniors, Joan Mansfield (left) and Cheryl Newbigging, both of Clarkston, couldn't care less . . . for any and all weather, Joan models a smart double-breasted tackle twill coat in beige, furred with a detachable collar, belted or loose, and lined with orlon pile. Cheryl's is designed by Lassie. Her detachable raccoon collar dresses up the red wool fabric with wool plaid lining. Both are available at Peggy's, Miracle Mile.

When Indian summer is no more and winter chills the air, this coat worn by Joyce Kaleta of Troy will receive a warm welcome from milady who shopped at Arthur's. Carrying out the A-line theme, this houndstooth checked, petite style of all wool has its own fox shawl collar. The belt detaches to let the back swing free for dress-up. Black/white, or red/olive.

Should Eat at Leisure

According to the National Education Association, five states have laws requiring that teachers be allowed a lunch period in which they don't have to do anything except eat.

A few years ago, a survey showed that nearly 86 per cent of the teachers at one time or another have to eat lunch and supervise pupils in the lunchroom at the same time.

Teachers Work

One out of every five teachers has to work at another job during the year to supplement his income, reports the National Education Association.

Six Pct. of Teachers Earn Under $3,500

A little over 6 per cent of our public-school classroom teachers, says the National Education Association, earn less than $3,500 a year. Some salary schedules ranged as low as $1,200 in 1960.

However—teachers' salaries are increasing at a faster rate than average wages and salaries of all workers.

Taking time to round up ideas for school activity and simultaneously, wardrobe additions, are high schoolers (from left) Betsy Winborn of Romeo, Sue Fetter of Drayton Plains, and Barb McNeven, also of Romeo. Betsy and Barb, who attend Romeo High model "go-west" outfits by Petti Jr. and Sue, a student at Waterford Kettering High, wears a ski sweater and stitched-down skirt . . . all available at Waite's.

Corduroy Skirt, Vest Team Up

This smart trio dons the looks epitomizing the trend which will span high school and college campus alike come fall . . . As-you-like-it.

Betsy's and Barb's outfits by Petti Jr. depict the Western influence to brand daytime coordinates, as well as the familiar riding clothes. Tan corduroy teams up in this skirt and vest with buttoned-on cotton blouse.

★ ★ ★

The afternoon suit worn by Barb features a soft pleated full skirt . . . cowboy, definitely, but with accent on the silver buckle. The red flannel jacket piped in black unites the red, black and white color scheme.

★ ★ ★

To lend a note of individuality, as-she-likes-it, Sue chose this Jacquard sweater for fashion-in-action by Tersild, also in red, black and white. Her red knee-skimmer skirt with hip-stitching completes the pairable look, this one also in red, black and white.

Navy and hunter green are inseparable in Linda Griesen's plaid kilt by Garland. Linda, who lives on Canterbury Drive, and attends Washington Junior High, chose the matching hunter green sweater ensemble by Dreamspun to complete the look . . . from Nadon's at Miracle Mile.

Need More Teachers

The National Education Association says the nation needs about a quarter-million more teachers than it has now.

The additional teachers are needed to replace those who are leaving, to relieve overcrowded classrooms and part-time sessions, to provide services not now available, and to replace teachers who are not as well prepared as they should be.

Shortest Term

According to an UNESCO report, Italian school children go to school just 125 days of the year, the shortest school term of any of 52 countries checked. The longest school year—252 days—is in the Republic of China.

The school year in the United States averages 180 days, says National Education Association.

Teacher Qualified to Keep Class Quiet

SAVANNAH, Ga. — High school students in Savannah don't take advantage of substitute teacher Ernest Edward Swain Jr.

Swain, 29, not only is a qualified English teacher, He's qualified to keep order, too. He is a regular member of the city's police force—serving on the riot squad.

Students Paying Loans Off Faster

College students who have borrowed money from the federal government to continue their educations have been paying the money back at a rate eight times faster than normal.

Most of the students borrowing money under the National Defense Education Act are planning to become teachers.

More than 853,087 United States passports were issued or renewed in 1960, an increase of 16.5 per cent over 1959.

Cold Winters Need Sweaters

Carl Stefanski, a junior at Rochester High School, sports the traditional, but ever-leader in young men's wear—the blue flannel "blazer" sport coat by Don Richards. The classic with patch pockets, brass buttons, and notch lapel is paired with matching flannel slacks. From McNally's.

With today's high school graduate and college man approaching higher education with a more serious, businesslike attitude than ever before—

* * *

And with the "serious" winter, heavier outerwear is essential. Thus bulky knit sweaters and lamb's wool cardigans compete with one another, for popularity as Bob and Anthony model.

For dressier news, the traditional blue blazer and slacks vie with the look of the vested suit that has swept into Midwest schools, as it has in the East. Now it's rare that a student is without one of the favorites.

The longer, harder winters demand these classics be of heavier weight, as with the "tweediest" tweeds and shetlands appearing in sports jackets.

The same reason sees flannels favored in slacks for more casual outfits.

Dress shirts (button-down and tab collars preferred) are fuller weight . . . tan, gray or olive chinos stroll across nearly all Midwest campuses.

Pontiac Press Photo

Casualness, decidedly so, is what Dan Ludwick of Rochester looks for in selecting his clothes—typical are the "Grissley gab" twill trousers modified tapered slacks in elephant gray, a dark print shirt by Shapley, and a "bearcat" poplin jacket, with wind and water-repellent foulard print lining, and storm collar—from the Lion Store. Dan is a freshman at Rochester High.

Too many sweaters? Never . . . Bob Watson of Palmer Street and Anthony Samartino of Utica, both of whom are doing graduate work, agree bulky knit sweaters like Anthony's vie with lambs-wool cardigans as Bob models—both from Dickinson's Men's Wear, for fall.

Enrollment for the 1961-62 school year at all levels in the United States totaled 47.7 million, an increase of 8.3 million over enrollment five years previous of 39.4 million.

Follow Up Child's Queries

Take Advantage of 'Why?'

By The Associated Press

He's not old enough to write his name. Reading is way beyond him. But long before he acquires these skills, he may be a whiz in the world of ideas.

You may find this out by judicious use of the word "why."

Preschoolers aren't inhibited by facts and traditional ways of thinking, sayd Mrs. Charlotte B. Winsor, who teaches teachers at the Bank Street College of Education in New York.

But parents often underestimate the ability of their youngsters in reason. Because they have no book learning, parents figure they can't think.

This cart-before-the-horse approach should be reversed, she feels.

"Young children can be given the foundations of knowledge, and fill in with the facts later. But it takes a sensitive ear to recognize that a child is uttering a profound truth."

She cites the comment of a five-year-old who had discovered a map of the United States: "It's so hard to imagine the world never ends."

This is the moment to take advantage of the child's awareness with a follow-through conversation.

She suggests finding places on the map whose names he's heard explaining that this is only the map of his country, and enlarging his awareness of space.

This way, he's learning geography long before he can read or draw maps.

THE WORD 'WHY'

Mrs. Winsor says:

Strategic use of the question "why" by a sensitized parent helps expose the kind of reasoning his youngster is doing, and keeps the parent abreast of the child.

* * *

An authoritarian parent who "knows better" can't relax enough to set up this communication, and consequently underrates his child.

Many Good Schools Begin to Grow

Colleges Full, but There's Room!

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

They have been born, they have been counted, and by the fall of 1963 the first of them will be hammering on college doors, demanding admission.

"They" are the postwar crop of country's population explosion in 1945 and 1946.

As inexorably as the sun and the tides they have progressed through kindergarten, grade school and high school, through double sessions and overcrowded classrooms.

Now, long before the colleges are ready for them, they are getting ready for college.

IT'S DEFINITE

It's like the cold war, the high cost of living, death on the highways — something to worry about, perhaps, but nothing you can really do anything about.

There is indeed a college crush and it is going to get worse before it gets better. The college population is expected to double between 1960 and 1970 — and that is a conservative estimate.

The day is long gone when any but the brightest of the bright can pick and choose their colleges.

But the situation has been grossly exaggerated.

Despite all the scare stories, the dark forebodings of college admissions officers and the complaints of parents, any reasonably qualified high school graduate can go to college this fall. The same will be true next fall, and the fall after that.

COLLEGES LIMITED

Choice of colleges available will become more and more limited.

But no responsible American educator can foresee the day when a youngster will be unable to get into some college, someplace.

The pattern of higher education, of course, is certain to change over the years.

There will be less emphasis on the select few "prestige" colleges. The lesser-known, small, private colleges will be taking up more of the burden.

State universities will expand, and establish more branch campuses. The two-year junior college, or community college as it is sometimes called, will become even more important in the educational scheme of things.

EXPANSION OF THE JC

Where in 1930 there were 178 junior colleges in the United States, today there are nearly 700. Thirty-five new junior colleges were established in 1961 alone.

California has 70 junior colleges, enrolling more than 100,000 full-time students — 75 per cent of all students in the first two years of publicly supported highed education in that state.

Officials expect the enrollment to zoom to 300,000 in about 10 years.

New York state has 16,000 junior college students and expects to have 80,000 by 1972. Florida has a state junior college setup that is spreading by leaps and bounds.

One of the basic objectives of the junior college is to provide the first two years of the usual liberal arts program.

In future years, more and more high school graduates will move from high school to junior college and then on to a four-year college or university.

The universities thus will be free to concentrate on truly higher education.

With fewer freshmen and sophomores they will have more room available for juniors, seniors and graduate students.

They will be less concerned with drop-outs, which occur primarily in the first two years of college.

The junior colleges also provide technical or semiprofessional programs to prepare students for skilled jobs two years after high school graduation, and adult education courses which are becoming increasingly important.

SMALL COLLEGES IMPORTANT

The junior colleges, of course, can't take up all the slack by themselves. The small liberal arts colleges, many of which have room to spare every fall, will enroll an increasing percentage of high school graduates.

Dr. Perry Greham, president of Bethany (W. Va.) College, said recently:

"Until young people get over the idea that only one college can fulfill their needs and desires, our youth are in for heartbreak and trouble. Any wise old educator knows that a good education is available in a wide variety of colleges."

The United States is involved in about 300 aid projects in Africa. Their total value is about $100 million.

Graduates Smart

American high school graduates are getting smarter all the time. The president of one of the nation's top colleges, the California Institute of Technology, says that some colleges are going to have to step up their offerings or they'll just be too easy for incoming freshmen.

Fun Lunch Can Perk Up Young Appetites, Spirits

School days — school days — they're here again and lunch boxes reappear. Sandwiches, vacuum soups, and cookies are back in style.

Students in the upper grades, familiar with packaged mid-day meals, will regard them with casual mien, but the small children who might be "toting" for the first time may find them either an unhappy experience or a picnic. The surprise contents of the lunch box can make the difference.

A "fun" lunch can be just as nutritious as a plain "paper bag" lunch — a surprise or a delightful theme is sure to tickle young fancies and in turn will dissolve any feelings of loneliness and timidity.

The surprise element can be different each day of the week — perhaps a crayon picture of Fido, a candy bar, gum, salted nuts or a tiny toy. It may be a face etched on a cup cake with peppermint drops, or a custard cup trimmed with tiny puffs of marshmallow.

An animal farm lunch suggests a theme for elements such as "Home on the Range Soup" (canned condensed vegetable beef), animal crackers and animal cut-out sandwiches.

★ ★ ★

If there's one available, tuck in a "trade-card" picturing a giraffe or a monkey.

Since most youngsters are fond of soup, lunch box meals will have appeal if they are established around a basic soup and sandwich, or soup and salad menu.

Some Teachers Teach Machines

One of the best things about teaching machines is that they teach teachers how to teach. Every time a new lesson is prepared for the machines, it's first checked by seeing how some students do on it.

This checking process is teaching teachers some things they didn't know about teaching, say the teachers who teach machines to teach.

Sex Crisis Inhibits 5-Year-Old

WASHINGTON—If your creative five-year-old seems to lose his creativity the moment he enters kindergarten, don't blame the teacher or the school. The cause is probably sex—his awareness of sex differences and the crisis he is facing because of it.

★

This advice from the National Education Association is based on a recent research study conducted at the University of Minnesota and reported by Dr. E. Paul Torrance, director of the university's Bureau of Education Research.

When children begin to notice sex differences—when they learn that some activities are taboo for girls and others are not appropriate for boys—that's when their ability to think creatively takes a sharp drop.

Usually that's around age five, the researchers found. The kind of behavior adults expect of a child that age represents a crisis that affects his creative abilities, the report found.

Children in other countries experience similar crises when their behavior patterns are changed, the study indicated, but the patterns are different in different cultures.

For American youngsters similar crises are reported to occur at ages 9, 13 and 17.

Schools Need to Get Busy

The country's schools are in dire need of an electric shock treatment to jar them into tackling anew their educational problems.

★

This is the opinion of Dr. William H. Bristow, director of New York City's Bureau of Curriculum Research, who constantly devised new tactics for his own school system or stirs up educational excitement at academic meetings across the country.

★ ★ ★

Here are some of his suggestions:

1. To beat the constant teacher shortage, make teacher training a continuous part of the school's job, handled within the school day. Have experienced teachers work with student teachers to improve their skills before the first job.

2. To make full use of the gifted, try something similar to the British system of subsidizing bright youngsters and their families.

3. To counteract the stark figures of youth unemployment, use more imagination in work-experience programs in schools. If the problem is too much for the school to handle solo, why not have business and the government step in to help with expenses. It will pay both agencies in the long run.

4. To train youngsters not capable of attacking the work in a vocational or technical high school, devise school programs to prepare them for jobs they can handle well.

5. To help the emotionally disturbed, whose numbers are growing, tool up all school services, particularly guidance, to help them. ("Special classes and special schools," says the educator, "leave out more children than they catch. There are more gifted and more retarded in regular classes than in special schools. Guidance experts can work with them there.")

6. To give more importance to the teacher, let him make more decisions at the local level. Decentralize top-heavy administrative duties.

7. To free the teacher for more meaningful activities, use programed material and TV more extensively. (Bristow says the management and scheduling of TV in classroom teaching has not yet become a major relief for the teacher.)

Largest of All

The education profession, says the National Education Association, now employs 2,125,000 persons. Numerically, it is the largest of all professions.

Men Average Less School

WASHINGTON—The Census Bureau says women go to school longer than men, on the average, but more men complete four years of college.

The Census Bureau said its house-to-house canvas of 1960 showed that the median amount of schooling for women at that time was 10.9 years, compared with 10.3 years for men. However, 4.6 million men had completed college, compared with 3 million women.

Teachers to Get Extra Training

Five years from now, the University of Wisconsin expects 60 per cent of all its teacher-training students to be enrolled in a five-year program.

This is because of a Ford Foundation grant of $500,000 for a statewide expansion of the university's experimental program in the preparation of teachers.

In the first four years, under the plan, the prospective teacher gets a strong liberal education and specializes in one subject field.

In the fifth year, he continues to study in his subject field and prepares for teaching through professional seminars and one semester's participation on a teaching team in a school.

* * *

This plan was started by a foundation grant in 1959.

The new grant will assist Wisconsin in establishing the fifth-year internship plan as the principal method of preparing teachers in the state.

Students at nine other state colleges and several private colleges will be able to take part — earning a joint master's degree from the university and their particular college.

Thirty-three of Wisconsin's school systems have indicated they are willing to cooperate in the internship program.

Just watching all the girls go by is a favorite pasttime with most fellows, and Tim R. Mulholland of Rochester is no exception here on MSUO's campus. Sporting the convoy coat imported from England with wooden toggle buttons, Jim also wears a charcoal herringbone vested suit by Martinelli and shoes by Taylor Made. Available at Osmun's Town & Country, the all wool suit is tailored in three button shoulder model with plain front trousers, permanently creased.

Don't Rub Sty, Wash Hands

When plagued by a common sty, avoid touching or rubbing the eyes. A noted physician advises washing hands often with soap and water because the germs which cause this eye infection spread rapidly.

Brush With Nap

A soft bristle bursh is better than a whisk broom or ordinary clothes brush for cleaning a good felt hat. And always brush with the nap . . . For cleaning rubber shoe soles, use a small brush to apply soapsuds mixed with a little amonia. Then wipe off with a clean cloth.

The 36-year-old Boy Scout world's speed knot-typing record has been broken by a Brookline, Mass., youth. John W. Sim, 13, shaved one-half a second off the 18-second record set by a Swiss Scout at the Second World Jamboree in Copenhagen in 1924.

'Man on Moon $20-Billion Plan'

NASA Expert Says Discovery of Lunar Make-Up One of Goals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A government space scientist has estimated that the U.S. effort to place a man on the moon will cost between $20 billion to $40 billion.

Dr. John A. O'Keefe of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said in an interview published today by the magazine, "U. S. News and World Report" that one of the main goals of the Apollo program would be to discover the make-up of the moon.

A British scientist, commenting in the same article, questioned whether the moon project was worth the cost and trouble.

★ ★ ★

"I have no doubt at all that if the money that is at present being put into the Apollo project, the Mercury project and the others, were put into pure scientific research, the rewards would be vastly greater as far as pure science is concerned," Dr. R. L. F. Boyd said.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., also appearing in the magazine forum, said he thought there was "great waste" in the space program and that "we're proceeding much too rapidly with it."

One Negro Succeeds in Albany Kneel-In

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — Singly or in small groups, Negroes tried to worship at segregated white churches in this racially troubled city but only one got past the doors on an otherwise relaxed Sabbath.

A Negro woman, Doris Derby, 22, was admitted to St. Paul's Episcopal church. Two other Negroes attended Mass at St. Teresa's Catholic church, but members of their race have worshipped there before.

★ ★ ★

Two churches turned Negroes away. A white New York minister, the Rev. Ralph Lord Roy, led two Negroes to Trinity Methodist church. He said they were asked to come back some other time.

Two Negroes who tried to attend Central Baptist church said a white man told them they would have to leave or he would summon a policeman.

Viet Nam Forces Fight Viet Cong, Killing 21

SAIGON, Viet Nam — South Viet Nam reported today its forces fought a heavy clash with the Viet Cong last Thursday in the deep south province of Ba Xuyen and killed 21 of the Communists.

The fight lasted about one hour until the Communist unit was surrounded and mauled. Three government soldiers were killed, the government said.

To Ask Release for Spy Soblen

Lawyers to Challenge Deportation Order of Home Secretary

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Soblen's attorneys go to Britain's high court again Tuesday for another legal attempt to save the fugitive spy from the life sentence waiting for him in the United States.

★ ★ ★

The lawyers for the 61-year-old psychiatrist said they would ask the court for Soblen's release on a writ of habeas corpus and challenge the order Home Secretary Henry Brooke issued Saturday for Soblen's deportation to the United States.

★ ★ ★

Soblen's lawyers are expected to argue that while Brooke can expel the fugitive from the country, he cannot direct that he be delivered to the United States because that would constitute illegal extradition. Soblen was convicted of wartime spying for the Soviet Union, and espionage is not an extraditable crime under the U.S.-British extradition treaty.

Soblen remained in London's Brixton Prison. He may be there for several weeks while the legal battle is fought.

★ ★ ★

Brooke issued the deportation order after repeated frustration of British government attempts to send Soblen to New York by El Al, the Israeli government-owned airline which landed Soblen in Britain July 1. The Israeli government, under severe political pressure at home, said it would take Soblen out of Britain but it would only take him to Israel, not to the United States.

Michigan Driver 1st at New Car Race

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Iggy Katona of Wills, Mich., driving a 1962 Ford won the Dayton 500 new car race at the Dayton Speedway Sunday.

The 29-year-old driver took his fifth Midwest Association for Race Cars (MARC) victory and became the only driver to ever win the Dayton 500 three times.

They'll Take You Everywhere

Select Easy-to-Pair Clothing

For students-on-the-go, easy-to-care-for wearables and pair-ables are the only solution! Match 'n' mix wells take them to school, as well as the football game, and back again.

Some like it bright . . . like the plaid wool skirt in tangy rust, striped with white and black, and teamed with all wool cardigan, modeled by Susan. (Incidentally, Susan was runner-up in the recent national "Miss Teen" contest—and no wonder!) Her dark green coat with detachable collar is pile lined for added warmth, come those late indian summer days.

And some like it light . . . Mike's wearing Robert Hall's cotton plaid trousers, paired with nylon shirt, beneath matching plaid raincoat with zip-in zip-out lining. The coat is also available in boys' sizes.

TV From Sky

Educational television in the midwest has taken to the air—literally. For the past year, the midwest program on airborne television has been beaming TV programs to 7,000 schools from an airplane circling above Indiana.

Intermural Math

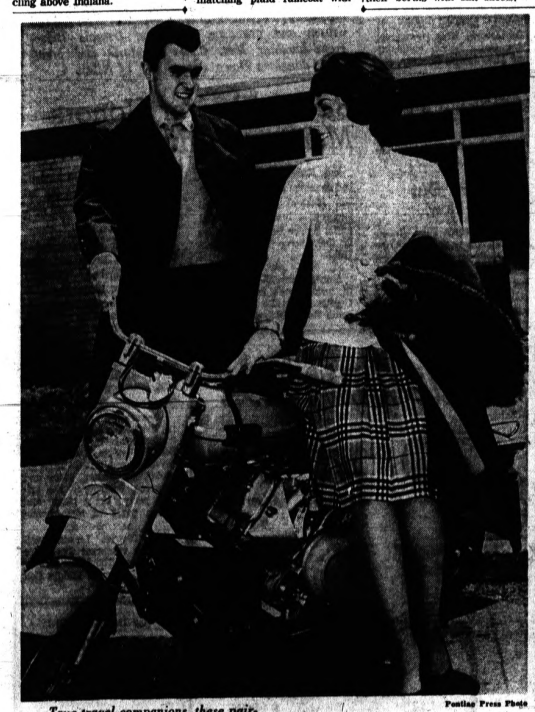
ALBANY, N. Y.—Mathematics clubs from several high schools in New York compete against each other. They have formed a group known as the Upstate Mathletic League.

In the golden days of the Orient Express, the nobility traveled with an entourage of servants, including chambermaids, who made up their berths with silk sheets.



Pontiac Press Photo

True travel companions, these pair-ables from Robert Hall are ready to scoot-along-with Mike Halfpenny of Lorena Drive, Drayton Plains, and Susan Sparks, Dexter Road, Pontiac Township. Mike attends the Pontiac Business Institute. Susan will be a senior at Pontiac Northern High this fall. The all new Silver Eagle Cushman scooter is available at Anderson Sales and Service.

Start Tots Young on Foreign Tongue

Because younger children are better than older ones at imitating sounds, many educators believe students should be started early on learning a foreign language by the conversational method.

One group studying the matter came to the conclusion that training should start at least by the third grade.

Only 75 per cent of the 114,000 college students who graduated last year with degrees in teaching actually went to work in the classroom, according to the National Education Association.

The Swiss watch industry employs about 50,000 skilled workers.

Australia's whaling quota for an average season is fixed at about 2,000 but often is less than that.

Elementary Need Greatest

The greatest need in teaching today, says the National Education Association, is for elementary school teachers. Some high-school subject areas are in oversupply while others are in undersupply.

Too few persons prepare as secondary school teachers of English, library science, general science, mathematics, physics, or some foreign languages. Shortages exist in varying degrees in all college fields.

Annual rainfall in California ranges from 100 inches in the northwest corner of the state to two inches or less in the southeast corner.

Good Grooming for Imogene Coca

Imogene Coca, often called America's funniest woman, can also take some bows for her good grooming. Since Miss Coca has oily hair, she shampoos it every single day — to maintain the fresh fluff of those famous gamin bangs.

Four Famed Artists on MSUO Concert Series

THOR JOHNSON

WILLIAM WARFIELD

BOB NEWHART

Michigan State University Oakland Community Art Council today announced the opening of season ticket sales and its 1962-63 concert-lecture series.

The sale will continue up until the evening of the first performance in September. After this date season tickets will still be available but tickets for individual performances will not be sold as last year.

Beginning with comedian Bob Newhart, Sept. 27, the program includes the following artists:

Hungarian-born pianist Gyorgy Sandor will appear Oct. 26; baritone William Warfield, March 25; and Thor Johnson will conduct the Chicago Little Symphony April 6.

★ ★ ★

Bob Newhart needs little introduction to his television, nightclub and record fans. Actor, comedy writer turned comedian, Newhart rocketed to fame after the waxing of "The Button-Down Mind," and it is this type of monologue that is so popular with his audience.

INCLUDES RECORDS

Pianist Gyorgy Sandor has appeared with major symphony orchestras and won acclaim on four continents — Europe, South America, the United States and even Australia.

His recordings include albums of Bach, Beethoven, Schumann, Brahms and Bartok among others for Columbia. Both the New York Philharmonic and the Philadelphia Orchestra have selected him to perform and record with them.

Mr. Sandor was invited to the Festival of Britain a few years ago and took part in the inauguration of the Royal Festival Hall, appearing as soloist with the London Symphony.

PLAYED PORGY

The great artistry of baritone William Warfield has taken him around the world as an emissary of the United States State Department. He has been lauded on every continent abroad and his successes at home are not less overwhelming.

★ ★ ★

His stirring performance as Porgy in the revival of "Porgy and Bess" at New York's City Center last spring was so successful that he was asked to appear in the Gershwin classic again this summer at Lewisohn Stadium.

This capped a season which found him in New York with Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic in a cycle of Copland songs, both at Carnegie Hall and on television.

★ ★ ★

Music director of the Ann Arbor May festivals since 1939, Thor Johnson has been guest-conductor with many leading symphonies of the world.

His "first love" is the small orchestra and the music written for this instrumentation. Each artist in the Chicago Little Symphony is selected by Mr. Johnson personally and the result is one of America's most honored conductors with 20 of Chicago's finest virtuosi.

Curtain time for all four performances is 8:15 p. m. in Pontiac Northern High School's auditorium on Arlene Street.

Membership tickets for the lecture-concert series also entitle the holders to attend eight MSUO on-campus events free of charge.

Dates for these activities have not yet been set, but the program will be similar to last year's. These included the University of Michigan Men's Glee Club, MSUO Chorus' "Messiah," two art exhibits, the Stanley String Quartet, poets, pianist and duo-pianists.

CAPTAINS LISTED

Officers and chairmen serving on the MSUO-Community Arts Council include Thomas Sprague of Waterford Township, campaign chairman; and area captains Margaret Ann Beattie of Waterford Township; Mrs. Ralph Norvell of Wenonah Drive; Mrs. Thomas T. Hart, Birmingham; Mrs. Donald Austin, White Lake; Donald Button, Oxford; Augustus P. McDade, Rochester; and Duncan Griffin of Lake Orion.

★ ★

Be Fair, Abby Says

'Mother' Means Well

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My mother died three years ago and my father remarried last month. Nobody could ever take my mother's place, but I was told I was getting a "new" mother.

ABBY

I not only didn't get a "new" mother, I lost my father, too. His new wife set up all sorts of rules and regulations to help me grow up "right." And my father is on her side.

So, Dear Abby, if you want to give young people helpful advice when they get a "new" mother or father, tell them the sooner they start thinking of themselves as orphans the better off they'll be.

FOURTEEN AND FED UP

DEAR FOURTEEN: Your problem is a familiar one. When a child loses a parent, the remaining parent frequently erases up on discipline out of sympathy.

When "rules and regulations" are suddenly imposed again, resentment follows. Your "new" mother will never take the place of the one you lost, but she is doing her best to raise you "right." Give her a chance.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: A nephew of mine is being married soon. My husband and I were not invited to the wedding because of a family fight that took place two years ago.

The wedding is being held in the church we belong to. I say there is no reason why we can't go to that church and see the wedding. If they don't like it, let them try to throw us out. (Of course, we wouldn't go to the reception.)

My husband says we should not go to the church. I don't see why we should stay away since it's OUR church. What do you think?

NOT INVITED

DEAR NOT: If you want to go to your church to see the wedding — go. And if your husband wants to stay home — go without him.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: While cleaning my son's room I came across a letter he had written to you, Dear Abby. He signed himself "STILL IN LOVE."

I think you should know that "STILL IN LOVE" was born December 9, 1950. What is the matter with children nowadays?

"STILL IN LOVE'S" MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Don't be alarmed. Your little boy is merely borrowing the romantic jargon of modern times. "Nowadays's" children are not much different from yesterday's. Don't ridicule him.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Your correspondent, HARRY, who would rather have a mule than a wife (because the mule would bring in a few dollars) sure bugged me. Call his bluff and send him the mule, Abby. Every jackass should have a mate.

LEO

★ ★ ★

Unload your problem on Abby. For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press.

★ ★ ★

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Officers Installed by MOMS

Members of Unit 21, MOMS of America, Inc., installed officers during their annual picnic Thursday at the home of Mrs. William Craven on Joy Road.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Clay Parrett was installed as president, Mrs. George Schepplemann, first vice president; Mrs. Howard Ervin, second vice president; and Mrs. Earl Kaul, secretary.

Other new officers are Mrs. Craven, financial secretary; Mrs. George King, treasurer; Mrs. Oscar Bouck, chaplain; and Mrs. Joseph Goedeke, historian.

★ ★ ★

Past president, Mrs. Frank Devins, officiated at the installation ceremony. Mrs. Bouck will open her home to the unit for the next meeting, Sept. 18.

'Sad Irons' Out of Style Now

In 1880, men's shirt fronts, stand up collars and cuffs were all heavily starched in each laundering. No wonder that the women who "did up" shirts called their heavy irons "sad irons."

Bridal Shower Honors Margaret Ann Drake

Mrs. Ernest Hildebrandt and her daughter Mrs. Richard Erwin honored Margaret Ann Drake at a bridal shower and buffet supper Sunday afternoon in their home in Bloomfield Hills.

★ ★ ★

Among some 30 guests were the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. George A. Drake of Klingensmith Road, Bloomfield Township and Mrs. Edward A. Heft, of Detroit, mother of the future bridegroom, Edward Heft Jr.

★ ★ ★

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Robert Erwin and Mrs. Eugene Haglund, Clawson; Mary Drake, Linda McKinley and Mrs. Thomas Davey, Ypsilanti; Karen Lueke and Mary Gregory, Lincoln Park; Therese Wrobleuski, Taylor; Rosemary Heft, Mrs. Valentine Kanikowski and Mrs. Phillip Keenan, Detroit; and Mrs. Patrick Riney, Southgate.

★ ★ ★

Among other affairs honoring Saturday's bride-elect were a luncheon by the Taylor School System, where she served as special education director. Her sisters, Mary and Maureen, entertained the bridal party at a picnic and splash party at their home.

★ ★ ★

The Charles Lawsons will host the rehearsal dinner for their niece Thursday evening in their home on Middle Belt Road.

Patricia Ann Harrington, daughter of the Burton Harringtons of First Avenue, exchanged vows with Gerald L. Hayward, son of the Orville A. Haywards, also of First Avenue, Saturday, in St. Paul Methodist Church of Pontiac.

MRS. GERALD L. HAYWARD

Miss Harrington United With Gerald Hayward

The candlelight vows of Patricia Ann Harrington to Gerald L. Hayward were repeated before Rev. James A. McClung Saturday evening in St. Paul Methodist Church of Pontiac.

After the church reception, the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in northern Michigan and will reside on Putnam Street.

White silk taffeta for the daughter of the Burton Harringtons of First Avenue featured Alencon lace applique on the basque bodice and bouffant skirt styled with chapel train. A short veil of silk illusion held by a pearl crown and a cascade of white orchids, with pink and white sweetheart roses completed the bride's ensemble.

★ ★ ★

Sharon and Cynthia Harrington attended their sister as bridesmaid and junior attendant and Rita Jo Peterson was maid of honor. They wore candy pink taffeta dresses and held cascades of white carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

Sons of the Orville A. Haywards of First Avenue, Albert O. Hayward stood as best man for his brother, while Larry and Harry Hayward were ushers.

An orange and green feather hat complemented Mrs. Harrington's beige lace sheath dress. Her flowers were yellow roses and white carnations. The mother of the bridegroom chose royal blue lace over taffeta and corsage of pink roses and white carnations.

Take a Peek at Your Feet

The next time you walk down a garden path, play on the beach, or dance under the summer stars, glance down at your feet. How do they look in the new bare-foot sandals which are appearing as round-the-clock fashion this season?

Are they beautifully groomed and pedicured? Is your skin soft and supple, or red and rough from winter weather and heavier shoes?

Summer exposure makes the same demands on your feet as it does on your hands, explains a noted beauty authority. So, whether you make appointments for a weekly professional manicure or are skilled at the art yourself, plan a pedicure at the same time.

Merchants in about 30 cities are giving customers free transit rides with a purchase of $2 to $6 or more. In some cities buying only a dollar's worth of merchandise brings a 5-cent refund toward transit fares.

Man Has Right to First Taxi

By The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening I worked late at the office and when I left it was raining very hard and so I decided to take a taxi home.

I waited under an awning of a nearby restaurant. After about ten minutes a young woman came out of the restaurant and also waited for a taxi. Finally, after 20 minutes, an empty cab came along and I got into it as I had been waiting longer than she, and rode off.

She seemed very perturbed and I am sure thought me very rude for not allowing her to take the first empty taxi. Will you please tell me what is proper in a situation of this kind?

Must a man, in order to be polite, allow a woman to take the first taxi that comes along and he wait for another?

A: It would have been very courteous, if you were not in an especial hurry, to permit her to take the first empty taxi, but you were not discourteous for not having done so. It is neither necessary nor expected of a man who has been waiting for a taxi, to relinquish it to a woman.

Type of Girl Men Wed

She's Not of the 'Herd'

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M-491: Donna N., aged 20, is a university senior.

Recently Mrs. Crane and I were riding on a train which was so crowded we didn't get seats together.

DR. CRANE

So Mrs. Crane sat down beside Donna and got acquainted. At the next stop, scores of passengers got off, so Mrs. Crane and I then got a double seat.

"Did you notice that coed sitting beside me?" Mrs. Crane asked.

"Yes, why?" I replied.

"Well, take another look at her," suggested my wife. "Do you think our younger boys might be interested?"

ATTRACTIVE GIRL

So I surveyed Donna more critically. She was a very attractive looking girl.

"She doesn't smoke," Mrs. Crane began. "And she doesn't have stained fingernails.

★ ★ ★

"Besides, she is the oldest of 5 children and the other four are brothers, so she should be able to stand the horseplay and teasing of boys.

"She is also a church member. And doesn't use slang. She is friendly, too, and a college senior. What do you think?"

ASKED TO WAIT

Well, I told Mrs. Crane to wait till the girl got off so I could size her up as to height, general physical build, etc.

When Donna left the train, Mrs. Crane was also impressed by the fact that her brother met her, who is a student at a different college.

★ ★ ★

"And he is an attractive looking boy," Mrs. Crane added, as she surveyed them through the train window. "He looks much like her and seems pleased to see his sister, so the family must be a congenial, happy one, don't you think?"

★ ★ ★

Well, I told Mrs. Crane I would be glad for one of our younger boys to meet her if we could figure out a way to set up the date.

SERIOUS PROBLEM

That's one of the serious problems parents face, for whenever they show initial fondness for a prospective mate for their son or daughter, the latter usually veers off.

This is possibly due to the natural dislike of having adults "run our lives," as young people often confess.

So we parents must lean over backward and almost act indifferent, if not actually hostile to get our children to show a romantic interest in a young person whom we adults deem "suitable."

★ ★

From Mrs. Crane's comments, you readers can guess the type of girl she figures our sons would prefer.

Such a girl must be spunky and have enough indepondence to resist the sheep-like or "herd" behavior of a lot of American youth.

NO SECOND GLANCE

Smokers are sheep-like, so obviously a girl who uses cigarets wouldn't get a second glance from either our sons or Mrs. Crane and me.

Nor would an excessively slangy, liquor swilling, affected or irreligious girl.

Tomorrow I'll discuss in more detail the ways modern coeds ruin their chances for romance, usually unknowingly.

★ ★

For most of the errors of women, both before as well as after marriage, are due to ignorance of male psychology. Things like liquor, profanity, or excessive slang, undue mascara and heavy make-up, plus bloody fingernails, usually cause girls to be written off as unsuitable by the usual smart young man.

The word "minute" refers to the 60 minute, i. e., small, parts into which the watchmakers divided the hours in the early 1700s when they started giving timekeeping devices two hands instead of one hand.

Oooh! That Titov!

LONDON (UPI) — A British woman columnist said today that orbiting Russian spacemen Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich and the previous four American and Russian astronauts are loaded with "sex appeal."

"Space heroes," said the Daily Mirror's Marjorie Proops, "can lick the lot in the sex appeal stakes." She added that film stars, dukes, athletes and singers have nothing on them.

Of the six—Andrian Nikolayev, Pavel Popovich, Scott Carpenter, John Glenn, Yuri Gagarin and Gherman Titov — her nomination for the man with the most sex appeal was Titov. Titov circled the earth 17 times a year ago.

★ ★ ★

"All six space men," said Miss Proops, "have the kind of ingredients women adore in men: Courage, good looks, physical splendor, nonchalance, modesty and marvelous teeth."

"They are definitely, as men go, out of this world."

Miss Proops said that failing a British astronaut to moon over she would "rather come down to earth with the Russians — and Titov in particular."

★ ★ ★

"The very thought of it makes me feel quite weightless."

She said she hoped she didn't offend America by saying this.

Woolknits City-Wise This Year

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Woolknit fashions are wise to city ways this year. They are also casual, superb in their simplicity and dear to the heart of the American woman.

★ ★ ★

That classic white tennis sweater with V neck that looks good enough for Prince Philip has been copied as a woolknit dress, no less. With V neck in red and blue outline, it has a slim skirt.

★ ★ ★

The woolknit coat dress goes on into fall in belted and unbelted versions. Worth its weight in 24-karat gold on any plane trip, this dress can emerge from a flight looking completely smooth and chic.

The two-piece woolknit suit is a standby in the wardrobe of many American women. This fall, it's done in a handsome gray heather cardigan style with pocket piping in a sharp carrot color. And other versions for both city and country place spare jackets over narrow skirts.

★ ★ ★

Braid is used as trim in designs that have a casual elegance. One such two-piece dress pairs a braid-trimmed, striped pullover with skirt in solid color.

★ ★ ★

Lavadus L. Aplin, Jo Ann Uligian Are Wed in Candlelight Ceremony

MRS. LAVADUS L. APLIN

Wed Saturday in the First Congregational Church were Jo Ann Uligian, daughter of the Charles Uligians of Starr Avenue to Lavadus L. Aplin of Long Beach, Calif., son of the Arnold Aplins of Crestview, Florida.

Leaving for Hawaii after their reception Saturday in Rotunda Inn were Lavadus L. Aplin of Long Beach, Calif., and his bride, the former Jo Ann Uligian. Rev. Malcolm Burton officiated at their double-ring candlelight ceremony in the First Congregational Church.

Daughter of the Charles Uligians of Starr Avenue, the bride wore a white silk organza sheath dress with three-quarter length overskirt trimmed with Venise lace, styled with brush train, French illusion veiling fell from her crown of seed pearls and sequins. She carried white gardenias and ivy.

MAID OF HONOR

Carrying yellow and white daisy chrysanthemums which matched their headpieces were Susan Uligian, her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Robert Crandall, bridesmaid. Their bell-shaped gowns were of turquoise silk chiffon over taffeta.

★ ★ ★

Earl Aplin stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Arnold Aplins of Crestview, Fla. Gregory Uligian seated guests at his sister's wedding with Louis Hagopian, Owen Middlebrook Jr. of Farmington and John Geovjian of Birmingham, the bride's uncles.

The new Mrs. Aplin was graduated from Michigan State University and her husband from Morehead (Ky.) State College. They will reside in Long Beach, Calif.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Uligian chose a coral draped chiffon dress and clipped white roses to her coral purse. The mother of the bridegroom wore champagne organza over taffeta and corsage of yellow roses.

Couple Speaks Vows in Waterford Church

A church reception followed the vows of Nancy Ruth Mosier to Joe M. Gonzalez Jr., Saturday in the Waterford Church of Christ. Fred Alexander, minister at the Michigan Christian Junior College, Rochester, performed the evening ceremony.

The Herman B. Mosiers of Drayton Road, Clarkston, are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Gonzalez of East Montcalm Street.

Preceding the bride to the altar were Louise Johncon, maid of honor, wearing lilac chiffon, and Regina Whitmire of Drayton Plains, her cousin's junior attendant, in lilac and white chiffon. Cousins of the bridal couple, Patty Whitmire of Clarkston and Charles Patterson of Walled Lake were flower girl and ring bearer, respectively.

The scoop-neck bridal gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta featured a back panel of shirred nylon chiffon piped with satin and accented with satin roses. A crown of sequined lace held her veil of silk illusion and an orchid centered the cascade bouquet of white roses and gypsophilia.

Charles Rash was best man and seating guests were Gene Mosier and Wayne Gonzalez, brothers of the bridal couple. Billy Jo Whitmire of Clarkston was junior usher.

Mrs. Mosier wore pink Sensation roses with her dress of pale emerald green and white chiffon. The mother of the bridegroom chose Mary Joe roses in complement to her sheath dress of champagne lace over taffeta.

The newlyweds will live on St. Clair Street.

PERRY PHARMACY'S MEDICAL MIRROR

Mental Alarm Clock Possible

Q. I have two friends who can just "set their mind" to get up at a certain time. Is it possible that they have some kind of built-in alarm clock?

A. Normal adults have a waking-sleeping cycle that measures time in units of 24 hours. A number of cues are associated with various times of the day and the sleeping-waking cycle. One cue associated with the sleep pattern is body temperature. It is possible that in going to sleep a person might "set" the number of hours he would like to sleep, and when a certain change in temperature occurs, would awaken. The desire to get up at a certain time might also produce a condition of anxiety which would attune him to an internal cue, such as temperature change.

Pause Is Necessary at Top of Backswing

By SANDRA HAYNIE
Written for NEA

"Entirely Inactive"

It is impossible to hit the ball well without pausing at the top of the backswing.

The instant of hesitation may be so brief it is barely perceptible, but the entire body is inactive. You'll never see a good golfer who doesn't have it, nor a bad player who pauses.

The pause keeps the swing from getting tangled up, meeting itself coming and going as it does when the downswing is started before the backswing is completed.

The length of the pause varies with the individual, but it should be natural to you. An unnatural pause breaks the swing into two parts by interrupting the smooth arc.

The pause tends to overcome a natural tendency to hurry the downswing from the top, which can be disastrous.

Retired Nurses Hold a Picnic, Elect Officers

The Pontiac State Hospital business manager, Gerald Bass greeted retired nurses and employes when they met Saturday for a cooperative picnic and election of officers at the Pontiac State Hospital's picnic grounds.

Mrs. Duncan McVean gave the blessing.

The new officers who will serve with the President Catherine McCrindle are David DuVall, vice president; Mrs. Orbin Wilkins, secretary; Orbin Wilkins, treasurer, and Mrs. McVean, publicity.

Thirty-six old timers came from Royal Oak, Utica, Detroit, Wayne, Holly and Pontiac.

The 1963 reunion will be the second Saturday in August.

Girl, 5, Struck at Crash Scene

Dashes Into Car's Path From Crowd Gathered at Rammed House

MILFORD — Although a building came tumbling down and smashed a car here yesterday, no one was hurt until almost two hours later when a 5-year-old girl in the crowd that gathered at the scene darted in front of another car.

★ ★ ★

Pamela Sue Knish, 839 Birdsong St., was reported in satisfactory condition today in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital following the accident.

Witnesses told Milford police the girl ran in front of a car driven by Joseph R. Pagen, 40, of Dearborn. Pagen was not held, police said.

The front end of the building, a two-story structure housing DeGarmo's Lumber Co. and two apartments, collapsed when a car driven by Kenneth Ostin, 18, 335 N. Main St., ran into it shortly after 4 p.m. The building is located at the corner of Main and Liberty streets.

★ ★ ★

Ostin told police his brakes failed when he tried to stop behind a car waiting to make a left turn. He cut to the right to avoid the car, went up over the curb and hit the corner of the building, police said.

★ ★ ★

The youth and his three passengers were not injured although the car was "flattened," according to police. No one was in the building at the time.

★ ★ ★

Although Ostin was not ticketed, police said they were still investigating.

In Double-Ring Rites

Miss Logie Married

KEEGO HARBOR — Wedding vows were exchanged Saturday by Janice M. Logie and A. Gary Zehnder in a double ring ceremony at Our Lady of Refuge Catholic Church, Orchard Lake, Fr. Giles Bartol officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Logie of 3187 Orchard Lake Road. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold G. Zehnder of 1823 S. Commerce Road, Walled Lake.

For her wedding the bride chose a waltz length dress of Chantilly lace over taffeta featuring a bateau neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The flared skirt was accented with a satin rose and streamers attached at the side of the waist.

★ ★ ★

Her shoulder length veil was attached to a pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Janice M. Gravenstreter of Birmingham was the maid of honor with Pamela J. Terry of Orchard Lake and Jilda B. Logie sister of the bride, attending as bridesmaids.

Best man was Patrick J. Yesh of Walled Lake. The 125 guests were seated by James Donovan of Walled Lake and John M. York of Lathrup Village.

A reception was held at Morey's Golf and Country Club, Union Lake.

Study Tax Cut in Walled Lake

Proposal Calls for Use of Surplus Monies, Accumulated in Past

WALLED LAKE — A proposal that would reduce city taxes through the use of surplus funds is being studied here.

Being reviewed by City Attorney Howard Bond is a motion by Councilman Richard Watkins to return, in one form or another, accumulated monies to taxpayers.

★ ★ ★

The city has about $11,000 in surplus funds that have accumulated over a period of years. The funds were not included in the city's operating budget for the 1962-63 year.

Usually, a surplus of funds is carried over into the next year's budget and provides revenue for special projects. This was not the case, however, when the council adopted this year's budget.

Bond is studying the proposal to learn if there has ever been any precedent set by a municipal government in returning funds to the taxpayer out of the surplus.

Property owners are now paying $15 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation. A dollar is being set aside from each $15 for a public improvement reserve, to be used for the purchase of municipal property.

Doctors Hopeful Boy Might Live After 'Drowning'

TAWAS CITY (AP) — Doctors maintained a hopeful virgil today over a 6-year-old boy who lay unconscious — but still alive — after having been submerged for at least 30 minutes beneath the surface of Lake Huron Saturday.

The condition of Kenneth Greif of Saginaw, was listed as critical, but doctors held out slim hopes he might survive against odds that seemed overwhelming.

Kenneth dove off a dock into Lake Huron while swimming Saturday afternoon and didn't come to the surface. His disappearance was reported by a small girl and a boat crew found Kenneth's body some 100 yards from where he vanished.

State Trooper William Brown of the East Tawas post estimated at least 10 minutes elapsed between the time the boy dove into the water and he was reported missing.

Southfield Man Named to High Elks Club Post

SOUTHFIELD — Alfred N. Tillin, 22309 Nancy St., has been named District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler of the Michigan Southeast District of the Elks Lodge.

Tillin, a member of Farmington Lodge No. 1986 and a past vice president of the southeast district, will leave Saturday to attend a regional conference of district deputies in Chicago.

8 Area 'Peaches' to Vie for Romeo Queen Title

ROMEO — The red carpet will be rolled out for eight area beauties when they compete for the Romeo Peach Queen crown tomorrow night.

They will appear on stage of the Romeo Junior High School auditorium first before a giant gilt picture frame then proceed down and back the carpeted ramp.

The curtain is slated to go up at 8 p.m. on the contest in which titlists from Romeo and seven neighboring communities will vie for the honor of reigning over the 30th annual Peach Festival Labor Day weekend.

For the first half of the program the girls will wear street dresses to be interviewed and give short readings selected by the contest committee.

After a brief musical interlude they will reappear on stage in formal attire to pick nosegays off a flower cart which will contain questions for them to answer extemporaneously.

★ ★ ★

Local attorney Gary Corbin will act as master of ceremonies.

The queen candidates will be rated by a panel of out-of-town judges on poise, personality, beauty, appearance and public speaking ability.

Following tradition they will be identified solely by the names of peaches during the contest. Only after the judges have chosen the queen and two maids of honor will all of the girls be introduced to the audience.

TRIO TO PUBLICIZE

The trio will immediately begin a busy round of activities to publicize the festival which will be climaxed two days before the celebration by a trip to Washington, D. C. for the queen and her chaperon.

While in the nation's capital the queen will present peaches to both state and national dignitaries. Her host will be U. S. Congressman James G. O'Hara, D-Utica.

Girls entered in tomorrow night's competition are from Romeo, Utica, Fraser, Roseville, Warren, Lake Orion, Oxford and Armada. The five title aspirants remaining after the queen and her two maids are picked will form the queen's court.

★ ★ ★

All eight girls will be guests in Romeo homes during the festival, Sept. 1-3, and all will receive the gowns they wear in the coronation ceremony which will highlight the three-day celebration.

Set Vote on Wheat Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers will vote—undoubtedly favorably—in a referendum Aug. 30 on whether to reinstate a control program in effect for wheat until this year's crop.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman set this date for the referendum in giving up hope for congressional enactment of a new program in time for the 1963 crop.

Planting time is at hand for winter wheat, which makes up about three-fourths of the total production.

The referendum offers growers little choice other than acceptance of the program. If they approve the old program, they will be offered government price supports at a base rate of $1.82 a bushel.

Should they reject it, the support rate would drop to $1.21 — and then it would be available only to those farmers who planted within acreage allotments given them under the rejected program.

★ ★ ★

The old program — enacted in 1938 — provides for a national minimum planting allotment of 55 million acres and marketing quotas based on this allotment. It was under this program that the present wheat surplus was grown and accumulated.

★ ★ ★

The old program requires the approval of at least two-thirds of those voting. It has never been rejected.

Says JFK Program Farmers' 'Best Hope'

FAIRMONT, Minn. (UPI) — Agriculture Sec. Orville L. Freeman has warned farmers that the growth of cities and reapportionment is weakening their voting strength and the administration's farm program is their best hope of survival.

★ ★ ★

"They need to face the fact that any hopes they may have for price supports without supply management will be totally shattered within a very short time, he said in an address at a picnic of the Farmers' Union.

★ ★ ★

The administration's radically new farm program, which was defeated in the House, would not only have saved the government millions of dollars, Freeman said, but would have strengthened farm income and "our system of agriculture."

NEWS OF THE AREA

Two Area Men Revive 2 Tots Who Nearly Drown

Two 2-year-old girls were saved from drowning by fast action on the part of two area men over the weekend.

Janis Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nile Russell, 1009 Lakeview Drive, Wolverine Lake, was revived by a neighbor, Joseph Ciponaer, 1018 Lakeview Drive, Saturday afternoon.

Ciponaer applied artifical respiration after discovering the child floating on the lake behind his home about 2 p.m., according to Commerce Township Fire Chief Clarence Kuttkuhn.

Kuttkuhn said the girl was breathing again by the time firemen arrived. He credited Ciponaer with saving the child's life. Janis was taken to St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital in Pontiac, where she was treated and released.

★ ★ ★

Robert Hill, 23440 Seneca St., Oak Park, revived Valerie Laughlin of Detroit with mouth-to-mouth respiration late yesterday afternoon at Horse Shoe Lake in Oxford Township.

Valerie was found floating on the lake and recovered by Edward Ryan and his daughter, Denise, of Detroit, shortly before 7 p.m., according to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

The girl was unconscious when pulled from the water and was taken to Pontiac General Hospital after she was revived by Hill. She was later released from the hospital.

Tax Unit Opens Drive on Levy

Petitions Being Made to Force Action on Income Issue

LIVONIA (AP)—The Vigilance Tax Committee decided unanimously Saturday to proceed with a petition drive to force legislative action or an election on the question of requiring voter approval for local income taxes and banning such levies on nonresidents.

Berkley Mayor George Kuhn, head of the committee, said 25,000 petitions would be ready this week. He said 250,000 signatures are needed by Nov. 15 and the committee has set a goal of 500,000 signatures.

A dispute over the petition's text delayed the start of the drive last week. The petitions now call for voter approval on city, county, village and township taxes and a ban on the application of such taxes to nonresidents.

Kuhn said petitions would be mailed to precinct delegates of both major political parties. He said the group would seek the cooperation of the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce and the League of Women Voters.

★ ★ ★

If the required signatures are gathered, the legislature must act on the proposal or put it to a statewide vote next April.

Avon Play Tryouts at 8 Tonight, Tuesday

ROCHESTER—Tryouts for "Mr. Roberts," first production in the Avon Players' ambitious program for the coming season, will be held at 8 p.m. today and tomorrow at the public library here.

"Mr. Roberts," a comedy about the Navy in World War II, will be staged Oct. 5 and 6. It will be followed by "Philadelphia Story" Nov. 30 and Dec. 1; "Dial M for Murder" in February; and "South Pacific" in May.

Cast for "Mr. Roberts" will include 31 male ship's crew members and a female Navy nurse. The play will be directed by Dick McGowan. Producer will be Clair Magoon.

Imlay Area Women Plan Clothing for Migrants

IMLAY CITY — A group of some 25 Catholic women from seven area parishes plan to distribute three tons of clothing to some 150 migrant workers and their children here Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The women also will have sandwiches for the children at the weekly church and recreation night at the Sacred Heart Parish Hall for harvest workers on farms in the Imlay City area.

Woman Dies on Hearing News of Mate's Death

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Anna Mcliugh, 62, collapsed in her home and died of an apparent heart attack Sunday when she was told of the death of her husband less than an hour earlier.

★ ★ ★

The husband, Maurice, also 62, died in a hospital after suffering a skull injury in a fall down the back steps of their home last Friday.

DiMaggio Joins Crowds to Bid Marilyn Farewell

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Joe DiMaggio was among the hundreds of mourners who returned to Marilyn Monroe's crypt after the funeral to say a last farewell.

She was entombed last Wednesday at a cemetery in Westwood.

Guy R. Hockett, managing director of the Memorial Park, said DiMaggio, second of the blonde actress' three husbands, said his goodby last Friday.

"He came to the office to check over the flower cards and read the hundreds of telegrams," said Hockett.

"When he left the office there were about 18 or 20 persons in front of the crypt. 'I guess I can't say goodby now,' he said dejectedly.

"I told him to wait a moment. I walked over to the people and explained that Mr. DiMaggio wanted a moment or two alone at his former wife's crypt," said Hockett.

WALKED AWAY

"The people were all very nice. They walked away and let Mr. DiMaggio have his moment alone in front of the crypt."

Hockett said the park was full of mourners Sunday with cars bumper to bumper, some who drove through and some who brought flowers — "people who care a little, people who loved and admired her."

★ ★ ★

Another element of mystery was added to the sleeping pill death of Miss Monroe with news she had ordered a $1,600 sequined evening gown a few days before she died.

"She was so happy when I talked with her," said Elizabeth Courtney, a fitter for designer Jean Louis.

Mrs. Courtney was to fit the dress a week ago Saturday—Marilyn's last day—but the press of business prevented it.

"Now, of course, I feel very badly that I didn't get there. She said there was nothing pressing. She wanted to have it ready for the next party she was invited to," said Mrs. Courtney.

PAVING IN PROGRESS — Pavers are shown closing another gap in the 330-mile Ohio-to-Mackinac Bridge Freeway as work progresses north of Brighton. The Michigan State Highway Bridge Freeway as work progresses north of Brighton. The Michigan State Highway Department reports that all but 60 miles of the freeway are now open to traffic. The remaining sections in the Brighton and Ann Arbor areas as well as between Gaylord and Indian River will be open to traffic by the end of this year.

Red Trawlers Off U.S. Talk to Spacemen

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y. (UPI)—Radio signals intercepted here indicate three Russian trawlers just off the east coast of Long Island have used powerful radio equipment to talk to the two Soviet spacemen orbiting the earth.

James D. Hayes, manager of the experimental MacKay Radio Tracking Station, said voice broadcasts in Russian and coded telemetry signals coincided with satellite signals as the space craft passed over the trawlers and began their trips over the United States.

Signals from space as well as from the trawlers were beamed on frequencies Moscow reported for the satellites, Hayes said.

He added that both the U.S. Intelligence Agency (CIA) and the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) are recording the radio activity.

About 30 million lobsters are caught annually from Prince Edward Island southward to Massachusetts.

Service for Marilyn Exception

Fans Often Desecrate Funerals of Stars

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — There was a sequence in "A Star Is Born" — both the Janet Gaynor and the Judy Garland versions — in which the movie actress is mobbed at the funeral of her actor-husband.

★ ★ ★

Outlandish? Overdramatic? Alas, it was not far from the truth.

THOMAS

The least attractive aspect of covering the Hollywood scene is reporting funerals. I have seen all kinds, from those marked by quiet dignity to ones that seemed right out of "A Star Is Born."

Last week's service for Marilyn Monroe was conducted in a decorous manner with little of the bad taste that can afflict such events. The small cemetery was heavily policed, on the outside by Los Angeles officers and the inside by policemen assigned from several studios.

★ ★

None of the public was admitted within the cemetery walls. Those who waited outside the gate or watched over the walls were properly subdued. Perhaps it was the heat (93 degrees) or the lack of star names or the realization of the tragedy involved.

DESCEND ON CHURCH

The all-time low was reached with rites for Tyrone Power. That day could have made a misanthrope of Dr. Schweitzer.

★ ★ ★

All the creeps were out in force, and little effort was made to keep them in check. They swooped through the cemetery to stare at the interment, stamping over graves and knocking down flowers. One bystander was pushed in a lake.

The funerals of Lionel and Ethel Barrymore, figures of massive dignity in their lifetimes, were both marred by noisy, restive crowds that drowned out the religious intonations within the church. After both occasions, the mob swept through the place like locusts and picked the floral sprays clean.

★ ★ ★

A Hollywood synagogue was the scene of a near-riot the day Al Jolson was buried. A screaming crowd, largely of middle-aged females, had to be pushed away from the doors after the place became filled.

SOME EXCEPTIONS

These have been the exceptions, I'm happy to say. In most cases the undertakers and/or the studios involved have the good sense to take precautions against the depredations of the mob. It is easily managed: by keeping the public a respectful distance from the place of mourning.

There have been many funerals of Hollywood famous in recent times and most have been conducted in a fitting manner. Those of Clark Gable, Gary Cooper, Errol Flynn and others have been without embarrassing events.

To my mind the most appropriate of final rites was conducted for Humphrey Bogart. His wasted body was buried in complete privacy. His many friends gathered for a memorial service in a Beverly Hills church. John Huston delivered a touching tribute. Bogie was represented by a replica of his much-loved boat, the Santana.

The saddest of all Hollywood funerals are for those the crowd has passed by. You don't forget the sparse mourners for onetime greats like D. W. Griffith and Mack Sennett.

To Hear Names for Study Unit

Waterford Twp. Board to Consider People for Incorporation Probe

Recommendations for appointments to a study committee to explore the feasibility of incorporation are expected at tonight's meeting of the Waterford Township Board.

★ ★ ★

Establishment of the committee was recommended by the Township Planning Commission a month ago and discussed at the following township board meeting but action was deferred.

As proposed by the planning commission, the committee should consist of 15 members who would make an extensive survey of the pros and cons of incorporation.

At the conclusion of the study a written report would be submitted for review by the planning commission and township board.

The Greater Waterford Community Council formally endorsed the initiation of a study at its meeting this week.

★ ★ ★

In other business the board will consider a bond resolution for the paving of Kempt and Preston Streets and review the plans for the proposed water service and maintenance buildings.

★

A request that clerk James Seetterlin and water department superintendent Kenneth Squiers be permitted to attend the Michigan Waterworks Conference September 12-14 in Lansing will also receive board consideration.

Refugees Live in 'House'

PARIS (AP) — Ten European families who fled Algeria after independence are living in what was once a Paris brothel. The families, including 42 children, moved into the vacant five-story building because they were unable to find other housing.

Musician Russ Morgan Undergoes Operation

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bandleader Russ Morgan awoke from the anaesthetic following a blood vessel operation, grinned, and told a nurse: "You know, it's great to be alive."

★ ★ ★

Doctors at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica say his condition is good. The operation was performed Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Morgan, 58, has been hospitalized since Aug. 2, his coordination impaired by a pinched blood vessel in his neck.

Argentina Resolves Crisis, Temporarily

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentina's military crisis, which brought the country near civil war, appeared at least temporarily resolved today. However, intense political maneuvering continued among the army officers.

★ ★ ★

Nearly all the loyalist and rebel troops who deployed for battle at the height of the four-day crisis were reported back at their bases and the country outwardly appeared calm.

But one officer involved in the dispute said, "We are in a civil war, a cold civil war, but a civil war to the end."

The latest crisis was patched up with the swearing in Saturday of Brig. Gen. Cornejo Saravia, 53, as the country's new war secretary.

Reformatory Guards Hurt in Kansas Riot

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Three guards were injured in an hour-long riot by inmates of the west cellblock at the Kansas Reformatory Saturday night.

Capt. Howard Ayers, Charles Stark and Frank Wilson suffered cuts and bruises on the head.

Ayers said he and the other two guards ran to investigate a disturbance and were attacked by about 15 inmates in an assembly room.

Sixty others of the 714 inmates joined the rioting in which windows and furniture were smashed.

City, county and state police stopped the riot with warning shots and tear gas.

Guide to White House Goes on Sale in Philly

BOOTHBAY HARBOR, Maine (AP) — Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger announced Sunday that the White House guide book will be on sale in Philadelphia starting today.

PRIZE FOR RECORD — Paul Goldsmith of St. Clair Shores drove a 1962 Pontiac to victory in yesterday's 150-mile late model stock car race at the Wisconsin State Fair in Milwaukee. Goldsmith, shown receiving the first place trophy, piloted the Pontiac to a record speed for the event of 92.9 miles an hour. He edged 1962 Indianapolis '500'' winner Roger Ward by five seconds for the $3,043 winner's share of the purse.

Chicago Winners in 300 PBA Event

The top seven finishers in the Chicago Open will move in here this week to compete in the Pontiac stop on the summer tour of the Professional Bowlers Association tour starting Thursday at 300 Bowl.

Ed Lubanski of this area clinched the Windy City crown last night by beating St. Louis star Dick Hoover 212 to 201 in the final position-round match for the $3,800 1st place prize.

In the 16-game finals, Lubanski won 11 games and lost only five while topping 3,527 pins for an average of almost 220 per game. He had a point total of 128.17.

★ ★ ★

HOOVER 2ND

Hoover had a 10-6 won and lost record, knocked down 3,494 pins and accumulated 126.14 points.

Points are figured on the basis of one for each game won plus an additional one for every 30 pins.

Following the top two were, in order, Ray Bluth of St. Louis, Joe Donato, Schenectady, N. Y., qualifying leader Earl Johnson of Minneapolis, Ed Bourdase and Vern Downing, both of Fresno, California.

★ ★ ★

The victory was the 1st PBA tournament victory for Lubanski, who had achieved so many other goals in a star-studded career.

Qualifying has been completed for the local amateur openings in the $23,400 meet. First prize here will also be $3,000.

★ ★ ★

However, men interested in entering the Pro-Amateur opening night feature have until tomorrow night to do so.

STILL QUALIFYING

Qualifying is being held at 300, North Hill Lanes, Lakewood Lanes, West Side Recreation, Howe's Lanes and Auburn Lanes. Those not wanting to qualify may become automatic entries by paying a $50 fee.

The Pro-Am will be a one-night affair made up of team play with pros and amateurs forming teams to battle for prize money. Only the amateurs will win money in this event,

Pro-Am hopefuls bowl four games following a 100 per cent handicap scoring system.

★ ★ ★

Tickets are on sale for the tournament at 300. They may be purchased for certain sessions or a book covering the entire program is available.

Yankees Spoil Good Pitching by Kline, 2-0

Bengals Hope to Break Slump at Baltimore Koplitz to Start

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit Tiger manager Bob Scheffing has one consolation as he rests his light-hitting charges for tomorrow's attack on the fifth-place citadel held by the Baltimore Orioles.

★ ★ ★

Except for the rude handling of Paul Foytack and successors in Friday's opener, the Tiger pitching staff came up with a good show in the four-game weekend series with the New York Yankees.

Newcomer Howie Koplitz is set to go in one of tomorrow's games. In his five games of record in the big leagues, the wizard from Oshkosh is yet to lose a decision.

Scheffing may have gleaned still another starter from the bullpen as a result of Ron Kline's strong performance in yesterday's series windup although he suffered the 2-0 loss.

Kline spaced seven hits and had blanked the Yankees until the eighth when a walk, a sacrifice and Roger Maris' line single scored the winning run. It was Kline's first start of the season.

He wasn't around when the Yankees scored their second run.

'SAD' SAM SAD

Sam Jones came on after the first run scored and Kline had walked Mickey Mantle intentionally. Elston Howard slashed Jones' first offering to left for a single, scoring Maris, who had taken second on the throw to the plate when Tom Tresh scored.

The Tigers, following the script, let several scoring opportunities slip by, including a bases-loaded, one out situation in the seventh.

Dick McAuliffe and Dick Brown walked to fill the bases after Vic Wertz, playing at first base for Norm Cash, singled to open the inning. But Scheffing elected to let his pitcher hit and Kline popped up in the infield. So did Don Buddin and the threat was ended.

The Tigers had only five hits to eight for the Yanks.

Brown was the last Tiger baserunner as Bill Stafford went the distance for his tenth win against seven losses. Kline's record slipped to 3-4.

A crowd of 42,986 was on hand for Detroit's last appearance at Yankee Stadium this year.

Maris Doing Job Despite Records

By The Associated Press

Roger Maris isn't going to hit 61 home runs this season. He may not even hit .269. He did both last season with the world champion New York Yankees of the American League.

★ ★ ★

Right now Roger is hitting .254. It isn't so hot for one of baseball's highest paid hitting stars. A year ago at this time his average was .278. And his current 26 homers compares to 43 on Aug. 13, 1961.

★ ★ ★

The Yankees gave the major league home run king a $70,000 contract this season not expecting he would again hit 61, but hopeful he might improve his average.

He's done neither, but may be worth the money.

EVERY RUN

Over the weekend, Maris either scored or drove in every Yankee run in three games.

Like Sunday New York edged Detroit 2-0. Roger drove in the first run and scored the second.

The victory, plus Minnesota's 5-3 conquest of second place Los Angeles, gave the Yanks a 5½ game edge as they started a two-week road trip. Streaking Chicago edged Kansas City 1-0, Boston beat Baltimore 4-1 and Cleveland defeated Washington 5-3 in the other AL action.

★ ★ ★

Bob Allison drove in two runs and scored two more himself in leading the Twins to their triumph over Los Angeles. It pulled Minnesota to within one game of the second-place Angels. The Twins, helped by two Angel errors, had built a 5-0 lead for lefty Dick Stigman (7-3) when Felix Torres' eighth inning homer accounted for all the Los Angeles runs.

FANNED NINE

Earl Wilson (9-5) spaced four hits and struck out nine Orioles in leading Boston to its fifth straight. A three run homer by Ed Bressoud was the big hit for the Red Sox.

Jim Landis' 15th homer of the season accounted for the only run in Chicago's fourth straight victory and eighth in 10 starts. The six-hit pitching of Ray Herbert (12-7), who left after walking two men in the eighth, and Juan Pizarro shut out Kansas City.

Harry Bright staked Washington to a quick 3-0 lead in the first inning, but Cleveland's Jim (Mudcat) Grant shut out the Senators the rest of the way and a pair of two-run homers by Gene Green brought the Indians from behind.

Kansas City Title to Miss Wright Despite Threat

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mickey Wright withstood a late challenge by Mary Mills Sunday and won the Kansas City Women's Open Golf Tournament by one stroke.

Miss Wright of Dallas, shot a 1-under-par 71 for a 72-hole total of 286.

Miss Mills of Gulfport, Miss., made her bid with a 4-under-par 68 after entering the final round four shots back of Miss Wright.

Mary Lena Faulk of Sea Island, Ga., started the day one stroke back of Miss Wright. But she slumped to a 74 and finished third at 290. Marilynn Smith of Jupiter, Fla., was fourth at 293.

THE PALMER METHOD
by Arnold Palmer

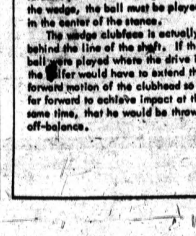
HOW TO POSITION THE BALL

Because of the construction of golf clubs, especially the clubheads, the ball must be positioned in different spots for the various clubs.

A driver clubhead, for instance, has a face well ahead of the clubshaft. Thus, the ball is impacted earlier in the swing. To counteract this, play the ball well forward — off the left instep.



To contact the ball at the same relative point of the swing are with the wedge, the ball must be played in the center of the stance.

The wedge clubface is actually behind the line of the shaft. If the ball were played where the drive is, the golfer would have to extend the forward motion of the clubhead so far forward to achieve impact at the same time, that he would be thrown off-balance.

Lions Stick to Strategy

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — The Detroit Lions weren't going to change their player strategy against the Browns even at the cost of winning. So, they didn't and thus they lost, 17-14, at Tiger Stadium Saturday night.

"Our plans were to move the various veterans around and to give all the rookies a chance," said coach George Wilson, "and that's just what we did."

The Lions played their so-called "second stringers" all of the second period and from the 5-minute mark of the third quarter to the final four minutes of the last quarter, a total of 30 minutes.

ALL THE WAY

The Browns, however, wanted to win and coach Paul Brown stayed with quarterback Jim Ninowski all the way and kept his first unit in the game most of the way.

"They'll be burned out by middle of the season if they play their first unit like that during the exhibition season," said Wilson, referring coach Brown's use of his regulars.

The Browns scored both touchdowns against the Detroit second unit. In another threat where the Browns had a chance to score, they had the ball for a first down on the seven yard line against the first Detroit defensive unit. In three plays they managed to get only to the five and thus settled for a field goal from the 12 yard with Lou Groza providing the toe.

★ ★ ★

Ninowski was impressive for the Browns as he completed 15 of 28 for 208 yards and two touchdowns.

Milt Plum, who played in 28 scrimmage plays, completed five of 11 passes for 69 yards and one touchdown, Earl Morrall took part in 36 plays from scrimmage and had 12 passes for 19 attempts for 179 yards and a touchdown. Ninowski had the ball for 64 scrimmage plays.

There were two key plays in the game which hurt the Lions. In the third quarter, when they had the ball for only five plays and the Browns leading 17-7, Cleveland had the ball on its own 17, a third down and 10 yards to go. Ninowski was smeared for a 10 yard loss and this would have necessitated a 4th down punt.

Alex Karras however was charged with piling on and thus the Browns were given a first down on the 22 instead of a 4th down on their own seven. This gave them the ball for another 11 plays.

After rookie Larry Vargo made a great catch of Morrall's 13-yard TD pass to make it 17-14 with 8 minutes to go in the final period, the Lions sent in their first offensive unit in the last four minutes and started to move. In three plays from their own 39 they moved to the Brown's 25.

★ ★ ★

Then came the crucial play which resulted in a mix up of signals. Vargo was the planned receiver for a pass play. Morrall elected to change the call and Terry Barr, the intended receiver, was in the end zone while the pass was intercepted 8 yards short, Vargo meanwhile stood all alone on the opposite side of the field.

It was the first victory for the Browns over the Lions in two years.

Palmer Breaks Marks for Earnings at Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP) —Arnold Palmer, the great one, came to the American Golf Classic with two goals in mind and achieved them both.

★ ★ ★

First, Palmer wanted to master the treacherous 7,165-yard Firstone layout with its monstrous No. 16 hole, which measures 625 yards. Then he wanted to win enough money to surpass his own earnings record, established in 1960.

The Pennsylvania pounder, who draws huge galleries, put together four magnificent rounds of 67-69-70-70 for a 276 total and four strokes under Firestone's par 35-35—70 to win top money of $9,000 on Sunday.

FIVE IN FRONT

The great effort saw him finish five strokes ahead of the field in his wire-to-wire lead and boosted his total earnings to $80,198, surpassing the mark of $75,262 he established two years ago. It was also his eighth tournament triumph this year and gave the 32-year-old Palmer a career total of 36 victories.

No. 16, which cost Palmer the PGA victory in 1960, was humbled to its knees this time. In each and every round, Palmer scored a birdie.

★ ★ ★

Palmer admitted he has played better golf but has never putted any better.

"It was the best putting I've ever had," he said, after needing only 27 putts in the opening round, 29 in the second round and 30 in each of the final rounds.

SECOND MONEY

Palmer, who will forgo action until the "World Series of Golf" at Firestone next month, defeated Mason Rudolph by five strokes.

Rudolph, putting together a 31-35—66 in the final round, finished with a 281 for second money of $4,600. Finishing in a tie for third place with 284s were U.S. Open Champion Jack Nicklaus, Don January, Al Geiberger and Billy Maxwell, all earning $2,500.

★ ★ ★

Palmer, the Masters and British open champion, will next play at the "World Series" and face Nicklaus and PGA titlist Gary Player in a 36-hole exhibition. The winner will pocket $50,000 while the runner-up gets $15,000 and the loser $10,000. The "series" is set for Sept. 8-9, but these earnings will not count in official money totals.

★ ★ ★

The closest anyone got to Palmer Sunday was Rudolph, who cut the margin to three strokes after the first 10 holes of round four.

Muriel Pace Wins State Shotgun Title

Special to the Pontiac Press

DAVISON — Muriel Pace of Pontiac ended two years of frustration here yesterday by winning the Women's Michigan Shotgun Championship at the William A. Gun Sight Company.

★ ★ ★

Runnerup the last two years, the 43-year-old shooter broke 63 clay birds over the trap, skeet and bird fields.

Fred Baucom of Lapeer, 1961 men't titlist, broke 73 of 75 but saw his championship go to Saginaw's Art Rickey who shattered 74.

Norm Dell of Pontiac and Ron Priebe of Orchard Lake, the 1960 champion, tied for third with 72s. Dell won the shootoff.

Priebe did gain one distinction. He broke all 75 birds in Saturdazs preliminaries to become the first shooter to accomplish this feat.

MURIEL PACE

STATE CHAMPION

Muriel, three-time winner of the state 16 gauge trap and handicap championships, and her husband Paul were both entered in the shoot. They live at 3713 E. South Blvd.

Paul, who has a couple of Press Pheasant Derby wins to his credit, clipped 67 birds Sunday after posting a 71 in the preliminaries.

"After being runner up for two years, I was real glad to win," said Mrs. Pace. "The wind bothered all the shooters and if it hadn't gone down, the scores wouldn't have been as good as they were."

She broke 24 of 25 on the skeet field and 23 on the trap range. In the troublesome bird field, she broke 16.

★ ★ ★

Baucom lost his championship when he missed two of his last three chances in the bird field. It was in this field that he ran 50 straight last year to win the title in a shootoff.

Mike Novesky of Adrian won junior honors with a 60.

Davey Moore Set for Bout in Finland

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traveling Davey Moore, the world featherweight boxing champion, ventures into Helsinki, Finland, Friday night for a defense of his title against Finland's Olli Maeki.

Maeki, a local favorite with only 10 pro fights and an 8-1-1 record, will be a real long shot against the consistent 29-year-old champ from Columbus, Ohio and his 55-6-1 record.

★ ★ ★

The first world title fight ever held in Scandinavia will be staged at Olympic Stadium, built for the 1952 Games, and will be seen by some 25,000 paying $160,000. Moore is supposed to get $30,000 for his end.

Barney Ross, the former lightweight and welter champ, will referee the 15-round match.

It will be Moore's fifth defense of the crown he won by knocking out Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria, March 18, 1959. He has lost only once in a 34-bout span over six years. His last previous defense was against Kazuo Takayama in Tokyo last Nov. 13.

West Virginia Keglers Win Handicap Honors

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP) — Parkersburg, W.Va., blazed from fourth place Sunday and won the National Team Handicap bowling championship and the $7,500 first prize.

Parkersburg scored 3,142 and 3,088 points in the final two sessions of the $46,200 tourney.

Syracuse, N.Y., was second with a total of 9,101 and took a $5,500 prize. Other finishers were Memphis, third, 8,956; Liberty, Mo., fourth, 8,932 and Detroit, fifth, 8,926.

Indiana Swimmers Sweep Up AAU

Hoosiers Wipe 4 World Marks From Records

Birmingham's Sintz Part of 400 Medley Relay Championship Team

CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio — The Indianapolis Athletic Club, predominately made up of Indiana University swimmers, is the New York Yankee organization of the swim world.

The IAC scored an unbelievable 124 points, with some of the greatest swimming names in the world, to win the team title of the National AAU championships here over the weekend.

Birmingham's Pete Sintz was part of the 400 medley relay quartet of the IAC which clipped 1.4 second off the mark to set a new world record of 4:01.6.

The Indianapolis team set four of the six world marks that were set, led by Tom Stock and Ted Stickles along with great performances from Chet Jastremski.

Stock set a new 200-meter backstroke mark of 2:16.9 Friday and then registered a 1:01.0 record for 100 meters on Saturday. He, Jastremski, Fred Schmidt and Sintz teamed for the 400 medley relay record.

Stickles, who set a world record of 4.55.6 in the 400 meter individual medley Saturday, also took the 200 meter medley in 2:16.2 just three-tenths of a second off his own American record. Jatremski won the 100 and 200 meter breastroke.

* * *

West German and Japanese swimmers, stunned by the record-happy Americans, may have it easier in the three-way international meet this weekend in Chicago.

Several of the top Americans will be unable to compete including Stickles, who won his events despite a bone chip and pulled tendon in his left elbow. Jim Counsilman, coach of the Indiana U. team said the elbow will be put into a cast today.

Carl Robie, Philadelphia high school boy who bettered the 200 meter butterfly world record, and Jatremski both announced they would not compete because they were "too worn out."

* * *

Olympic veteran Murry Rose, an Australian who swam under the colors of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, won the 1,500 meter and 400 meter freestyle and set two American records in doing so. He gave California schoolboy Roy Saari a sound beating in the events after Saari had defeated him three times in the National Indoor meet last spring.

Michigan Star Tops in AAU Diving Event

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bob Webster of Santa Anna, Calif., the 1960 Olympic champion, won the National AAU Platform Diving Championship Sunday and secured a spot on the U.S. team which will compete in the Pan-American games.

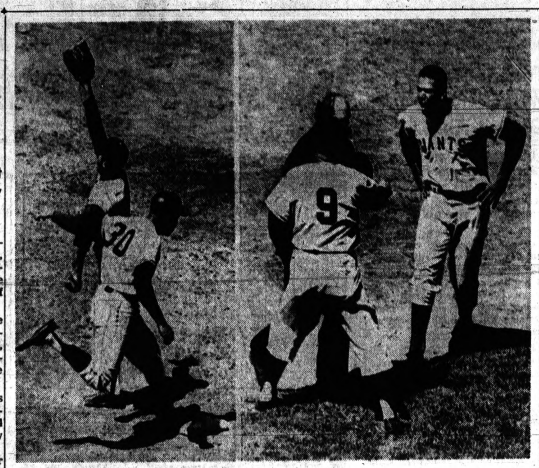
* * *

Webster, a 23-year-old student at the University of Michigan, piled up 472.75 points and took first over Lou Vitucci, who had 437.15 and also was named to the U.S. team for the Pan-American games.

Vitucci, who won the three-meter springboard title Saturday, is a student at Ohio State and comes from Hollywood, Fla.

* * *

In the women's competition, Barbara McAlister, the national champion from Madeira, Calif., won the two-day Olympic development platform women's competition which was carried out in three parts.



'OUT WITH YOU' — Orlando Cepada of the Giants thought he beat the throw to first (left) in yesterday's game against the Los Angeles Dodgers. Umpire Bill Jackowski thought otherwise and ejected the San Francisco player when he bounced his hard batting hat off the ground while protesting. Giant coach Wes Westrum also thought Cepeda was safe. The first baseman is Ron Fairly. The Giants won, 5-1.

Cut Deficit to 2½ Games

Giants Sweep L.A.

By The Associated Press

You might say the Dodgers spent a lost weekend in San Francisco.

Thanks to Felipe Alou and Friends, the San Francisco Giants have saved the National League pennant race. A three-straight sweep over Los Angeles has slashed a fat 5½ game lead to a mere 2½ games.

Instead of an early knockout in mid-August, the Dodgers have to fight it out right down to the wire. Al Dark manager of the Giants, said he needed to win five of seven from the Giants to have a chance. He already has won three.

PIGEON NO MORE

The three straight were accomplished with Felipe getting eight hits and seven runs in 12 at bats, boosting his average 10 points to .328. In the Dodger series he batted .667. Willie Mays, a pigeon for Dodger pitching in earlier games, awoke with four hits and five runs in 10 trips.

Tommy Davis and Frank Howard, who ruined the Giants in Los Angeles in late July were kept under control. Tommy had three for 12 and Howard managed only two hits in 11 at bats in the three games. However, Tommy took over the league batting lead at .345.

* * *

The sweep puts it squarely up to the Giants to win in Los Angeles. They never have won a game at Dodger Stadium, losing five there this year, plus five in a row last season at the Coliseum.

In fact, they have not won a game in Los Angeles since Aug. 2, 1961. They meet for the last four times this year in Los Angeles, Sept. 3-7.

Juan Marichal, the winner in that August game last year with a one-hitter, turned back the Dodgers with four hits Sunday while the Giants won 5-1. Felipe Alou had three singles among the 10 hits off loser Stan Williams and Larry Sherry.

GAINED REVENGE

Cincinnati's surge, interrupted last weekend by the New York Mets, has been renewed. The Reds have won eight in a row, climbing within seven games of the Dodgers. They made Freddy Hutchinson's 43rd birthday a happy one Sunday with an 8-4 victory over the Mets. Gordy Coleman, Leo Cardenas and Wally Post hit homie runs.

Pittsburgh outlasted Chicago 5-4 in the finale of their long series. The three games consumed nine hours and 53 minutes with respective times of 3:12, 3:09 and 3:32. Bob Skinner hit his 15th and 16th homer on successive at bats to win for relief man Jack Lamabe over Don Elston.

Johnny Callison drove in seven runs to lead the Philadelphia Phillies in a doubleheader sweep over St. Louis 7-3 and 9-7. Callison's two-run triple in the first game was an important blow. He won the second game with a three run homer in the eighth.

* * *

Houston broke its seven-game losing streak by beating Milwaukee 8-5 in 105-degree temperature although the Braves scored two in the ninth and had the bases loaded when the final out was made. Bob Bruce was the winner over Lew Burdette.

The only hits off Marichal at Candlestick Park were Ron Fairly's homer and singles by Tommy Davis, Frank Howard and Jim Gilliam. A season high crowd of 41,812 saw Marichal strike out eight and walk one, that one intentionally.

With the score tied at 1-1 in the fourth, F. Alou singled and raced home on Jose Pagan's triple. F. Alou's third single in the eighth started a two-run rally. It was the same Alou who produced the first run in the second when he singled, took second on a passed ball and took one base each on two fly balls.

SHAKY START

Joey Jay got off to a shaky start at Cincinnati when Charlie Neal of the Mets hit a three-run homer in the first. But the Reds bombed Roger Craig and successors for three homers. It was Jay's 18th victory and Craig's 18th defeat.

At Three Area Sites

Softball Districts Begin

District playoffs get under way tonight at three area locations as local tourneys continue.

Strohs of Waterford meets Mc. Neil Insurance of Rochester opening Class B action at Drayton Plains at 7:30. The winner meets Pontiac's Hi-Way Collision Tuesday there.

Class A gets rolling at Rochester where the host team and Elks 810 of Pontiac are the only entries.

In Class C at Ferndale, Huron Bowl of Pontiac, Bob & Larry's Bar of Waterford, Rochester and Ferndale will be battling.

Huron and Bob & Larry's just gained their berths last night with extra-inning triumphs.

HURON WINS

The bowling boys went nine innings to nip CIO 594 4-3 while being outhit 11-5. The Union nine had overcome a 5-1 deficit with two in the 7th to win 6-5 to force a 2nd game. Sub Dale Badder doubled in the run that won the title. Vern Sheldon bested Al Santelli. The latter pitched seven innings of hitless ball from 2nd through the 8th. Three CIO men had two hits. Ironically, Huron had the hitting edge in its loss when Badder and Sheldon combined for a four-hitter and bowed. A walk, Marv Holler's triple and a sacrifice fly won that one. Bill LaBose had a triple and two singles in defeat.

Bob & Larry's went 15 innings to nip A & W, 4-3. Tom Strong scored the clincher after singling and moving around on two singles and a two-out walk to Tom McMahon. Bill DeRousse hurled a six-hitter, fanning 10. Loser Aigie Black went the last 10.

The game went four hours partly due to a long delay because of rain when eight lights popped. The winners scored 1st in the 6th but A & W got its three in the 7th. Bob & Larry's got one back and had a man on with two out when the storm came. The other followed later.

* * *

CIO reached the championship finals as did G & M Construction in the lower bracket by virtue of National League wins.

CIO took an early lead and went on to whip 300 Lounge 7-2 backing Bob Fraiser's one-hitter with 11 bingles. Joe Wilson led the attack with a triple and double. 300 and 1st Presbyterian meet tonight at 8:30 at Beaudette for the right to play CIO tomorrow at 8:30 there.

G & M RALLIES

G & M came back from being down 2-0 to whip Motorcar Transport, 8-3. Sid Gregory sparked the builders with a triple, single and two walks. Jim Smith allowed four hits. State Hospital dropped Bud & Lou's 3-1 on a four-hit job by Charles Schnieder. Paul Santana had a double and single. The Hospital and Motorcar nines play tonight at 7 at Beaudette with the winner advancing against G & M tomorrow at that time and place.

St. Joseph Hospital outlasted Berry Door 19-15 and Oakland Automotive took Stadium Inn 10-7 in International games.

Bob Croasdell and Amnon Martin each had a double and single and scored three times to pace five St. Joe players with two hits. Darrell Herron got a triple and two singles heading the losers. Berry led 12-3 once. Stadium started out ahead 2-0 but a six-run 2nd topped by Don Spalla's three-run homer put Oakland in command.

Two Junior Titles Settled

Clippers Reach Final in 'A' Baseball Play

The R. T. Clippers advanced to the championship round in Class A and two more junior champions were crowned in city baseball playoffs yesterday.

Lefty Don Glowaz blanked Talbott Lumber 6-0 for the Clippers. CIO advanced to a Tuesday semi-final against Talbott at 8 p.m. at Jaycee Park by eliminating Don Nicholie, 6-3. The Clippers meet the winner Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Pontiac Boys Club upset league champ Cranbrook to win the Class D crown. Class F American honors went to the Falcons on an 11-5 thumping of the Hornets.

Glowaz scattered six hits, fanned seven and led both teams with a double and single himself. A two-run 1st put the victory on ice early. CIO came up with a run in the 7th to force overtime and then tallied four times in the 9th. Nicholie got one in the 9th and had two on and one out when Joe Basquez replaced winner Pat Barrick and ended the rally. Barrick and Larry Douglas each got his 2nd single in the big 9th which featured five errors and walks.

BOYS CLUB TOPS

In the "D" game, PBC scored in the 10th to nip Cranbrook, 3-2. Milford Hillie drew a two-out walk, stole 2nd and scored on a single by Ray Trevino. Cranbrook, which led 2-0 early, wasted two singles in its last chance after blowing a big chance in the 9th. With the bases loaded and one out, outfielder Wayne Gonzales threw a runner out at the plate after catching a fly ball. Gary Kraft won despite allowing nine hits, three by Larry Willey. The Boys Club only had four safeties.

The Falcons scored five runs without a hit and went on to romp behind Roger Miller. Steve Renda had three hits as the losers had a 7-4 edge in base knocks.

Class F title games in the NL and IL were scheduled today at Jaycee Park.

College Looms Up Quickly

High School Students Get Credits Faster

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Professor of Education, University of Southern California

High school seniors who have set their sights on going to college are faced with an important choice their parents did not have.

Should they try for advanced placement in college? Or should they choose to broaden their general educational backgrounds?

It was simpler 25 years ago. There was no such choice. High school was high school and college was college. They did not overlap.

DR. NASON

High school students carried four college preparation subjects each year. The senior year was filled with course required for college entrance.

HIGH SCHOOL SPEED-UP

But, recently, high school students have been arriving at the senior year with less than a year's work remaining to meet graduation and college entrance requirements.

Three things have brought about this change:

★ ★ ★

Able students are encouraged to carry five "solid" subjects all through high school.

Accelerated courses are offered using standard textbooks and which lead students to certain subjects a year or more earlier than normal.

An increasing number of students are attending summer schools.

★ ★ ★

With the extra room in their programs, some seniors elect to take courses for advanced placement in college.

These courses are taught from college textbooks and it is presumed that the content is at the level of college freshman work.

Advanced college placement, with or without credit, is then dependent upon the student passing tests given by the College Entrance Examination Board.

This year approximately 17,000 students took advanced placement tests.

These courses are a challenge to the better students. If standard high school work has been too easy for them, these courses help prepare them for college work.

THERE ARE HAZARDS

Parents and students, however, should be aware of the hazards.

Colleges have no obligation to give special attention to students taking these courses. Competition is keen. Grades sometimes range from A to D.

Grades are so important to college admission that some students risk their future by electing advanced college placement courses.

Recognizing this, the western regional membership of the College Entrance Examination Board recommends that when a student who has been placed in such a course fails to perform at a suitable level, his counselors consider transferring him to regular classes.

★ ★ ★

For some students, it may be more profitable to fill out their programs with standard high school courses in language, literature, history, economics, typing, art, music, etc.

This added background for the student's college freshman courses as well as those required. High school seniors should consider not only the required college freshman courses but also subjects which will round out their preparation.

Teacher Union Will Convene in Detroit Aug. 20

DETROIT (AP) — The American Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) will hold its 46th annual convention here Aug. 20-24. A thousand delegates are expected.

★ ★ ★

The schoolteachers union, whose New York local struck the New York city public schools for a day earlier this year, said in a convention program announcement that collective bargaining will be a top convention subject.

Carl J. Megel of Chicago, AFL president, said a membership increase of more than 10,000 since last September will be reported to the convention. He called this the largest one-year increase in AFT history.

★ ★ ★

The 1961 World Almanac credits the union with a 1960 membership of 54,000.

Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, will be the convention banquet speaker Aug. 23.

This week's series will discuss hands from the World Championship match between Italy and the United States last winter. This was played on International Match Points, or IMPs, in which the point differences on a hand were worth a certain number of IMPs.

Italy jumped off to a one IMP lead on the first hand. The American East-West pair reached two spades without ny interference bidding by Italy and made their contract for a score of plus 110.

At the other table the American South chose to double the one heart opening and eventually the American North became declarer at three clubs. East opened the spade ace and continued with the ace and another heart. The eventual result was down three for a loss of 150. This left a net loss to American of 40 points which is one IMP.

The strategy represented by South's double with only 12 points and a balanced hand is rather doubtful, but if North had not run into a cross ruff he would have been down only one trick and America would have shown a profit rather than a loss. Thus, the match opened with a lucky result for Italy.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

"The wise man controls his destiny. Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Kind words sounded in past come home to roost. Friends may be expected to "lean" on you. Accept with good grace. Do your best to help. You will feel much "easier" for being cooperative.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): There could be talk of a friend receiving unfair treatment. It will be up to you to utilize powers of diplomacy in emotional and professional activities. Don't be "taken in."

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Much in your favor, but you are apt to be super-sensitive. Means you "flinch" when you should laugh. Try to bring sense of humor to fore. Look beyond petty actions. Try to understand neighborly, loved ones.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Could be ideal day for making known your special abilities. Fine for giving of yourself, and for profiting from your efforts. Tonight, romance shines forth. Whether married or single, let one close to you become aware of your feelings.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 21): Cycle not high means entanglements are to be avoided. Be courteous, especially in disagreeable situations. In dealing with law enforcement officers, be girls. Hold your tongues!

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23): If you can be as charming with family members as you have been with relative strangers, this day will prove success. Be considerate. Show loved ones you DO care.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): With approach of Full Moon, you are stimulated toward creative action, including romance. Your short stories sensitive perception. Trust hunches. Your feelings about person, situation, apt to be very accurate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Tendency to make many changes and to put feelings "on paper" apt to be directed. Best to keep FUTURE SECURITY in mind. Otherwise, good day could be turned into something less.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Flirting with danger means excess speed is to be AVOIDED. Obey traffic SIGNS. This applies not only to travel but to dealings with professional associates. Check details PERSONALLY.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Start to act quickly. If you see you are being "snowed" out of opportunity, take immediate action. Not day to procrastinate. Make known your views. Enlist aid of one who shares feelings.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Enhance your position by show of taste, modesty. Favor today. You come out "winner." But be careful not to overdo it in. Tuning is very good for improving conditions at home.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Fulfill responsibility to those stricken with malady. Visits to hospitals could bring great personal satisfaction. Try to make situation easier for friends in financial straits. Helping others today also helps you.

★

IF TUESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are going to get your wish for greater freedom of action before year is over. This month take care of details. Don't fail "overboard" emotionally.

★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle up for CAPRICORN, AQUARIUS, PISCES. Day when promises are highlighted when accomplishments are tested before body of world opinion.

Volume Better Also

Mart Slow but Edging Upward

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market edged upward in continued slow trading early this afternoon.

Most of the advances were less than a point. The list opened but some small losses were erased during the morning. There was a little more activity than on Friday when total volume dipped to a 2½-month low.

★ ★ ★

The weekend news of Russia's twin orbital spaceshot failed to cause much excitement in the market. Some aerospace issues that might benefit from increased U.S. expenditures in that field gained.

★ ★ ★

Brokers said, however, that most investors were sitting tight to hear what President Kennedy would tell tonight about his tax cut plans. Most analysts are convinced there will be no cut this year.

SAVINGS FIRMS UP

Some of the savings and loan holding companies pushed upward around mid day. The group has been the subject of a number of market letter recommendations in recent days.

Financial Federation and Great Western Financial were ahead more than 1 while United Financial about ½.

★ ★ ★

McDonnel Aircraft was ahead close to 1½ while Lbckheed, General Dynamics and Boeing, ex dividend, were up about ½ among the aircrafts. Chrysler, also a big defense contractor, posted a gain of more than 1.

American Stock Exchange prices continued mixed in quiet trading with most changes narrow. Aerojet General was up more than 2 and Kirby Petroleum about 1. Off around ½ were Syntex, Mead Johnson and Gulton Industries.

Bonds Steady at Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — Bond prices were steady in quiet early trading today.

★ ★ ★

On the New York Stock Exchange, most movement by corporate bonds was within a fractional range except for convertibles.

Those few moving more widely included Chicago Rock Island Railroad 2¾s up 1⅞ at 69; Missouri-Kansas and Texas Railroad 4½s down 1¼ at 108½ and Union Oil of California 2¾s down 1.

★ ★ ★

Governments were quoted as quiet and firm in the over-the-counter market.

Welfare Rolls Investigation Unearthing Serious Waste

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Something refreshing is happening in Washington that could conceivably give heart to long-suffering taxpayers. A West Virginia senator who knew soul-searing poverty in his youth has forced an investigation of chiseling on district welfare rolls.

The waste is proving so scandalous that the Senate Appropriations Committee has ordered the Health, Education and Welfare Department to investigate its entire relief program for the nation.

★ ★ ★

A year ago the eyes of America were on Newburgh, N.Y., which had launched a crusade to rid welfare rolls of chiselers.

The plan backfired when only one employable man was found on relief, but the district investigation has hit paydirt on every hand.

The current hero of the capital is Sen. Robert C. Byrd, who as chairman of the district appropriations subcommittee, demanded the investigation.

★ ★ ★

As a result, 57 per cent of the recipients of dependent children's aid have been found to be ineligible, at a cost to taxpayers of $18,000,000 during the past five years. A spot check indicated that at least a fourth of all others on general relief are also ineligible.

A local welfare official, confronted with the evidence, conceded that a similar pattern probably exists in every city in America. This should be of interest to all, since the federal government pays more than half the welfare costs of the states.

Long-overdue checking of district rolls revealed 136 telephones in the homes of 102 relief clients.

★ ★ ★

A third of these were of the plush "princess" and colored variety, for which the user pays a stiff extra bonus.

★ ★ ★

In 155 homes investigators found 167 television sets, since some clients had two. One relief recipient, working full time, had purchased a $500 set.

★ ★ ★

District welfare officials now admit that the pattern of relief has changed from its original intent in 1934, when most of the recipients were upstanding citizens who desperately wanted jobs.

Today, officials testify, except in depressed areas the "new type of relief recipient is almost a criminal element, convinced that the government owes him a hand-out."

The district investigation tends to bear this out. Scores of welfare clients arrive in taxicabs to collect their food allotments.

Of the mothers stricken from relief rolls, a fourth had been charged with drunkenness, stealing, or assault with a deadly weapon.

Fifty-eight were living with paramours, 40 of whom had been arrested a total of 247 times. Of 53 husbands on relief, 42 had a total of 358 arrests, some as many as 30 or 40 times.

Byrd does not want innocent children to suffer by lack of relief, but he believes they would be better off in foster homes than living in an "atmosphere of fornication, adultery, swearing, stealing and cheating."

He is adamantly opposed to government hand-outs for immoral women who continually produce illegitimate children. He favors instead a rehabilitation program to train mothers for work, while their children are provided with day care.

The 44-year-old West Virginia solon is not to be confused with the wealthy and aristocratic Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia. No relation, the former was only 10 months old when his mother died in the 1918 influenza epidemic.

His foster father worked in the coal mines, and young Byrd became known as the "scrap boy," because he collected garbage from neighbors to feed the family's hogs.

His foster parents were so poor that they could not even buy candy at Christmas time, but they "never took five cents in relief money," he says proudly.

★ ★ ★

Byrd graduated as valedictorian of his high school class, and went to work at menial tasks. Sixteen years later, with a wife and two daughters to support, he worked his way through college as a butcher and grocery clerk.

After being elected to Congress in 1952, he enrolled in night law school, and next June will receive his LL.B. degree from American University.

Byrd hates chiselers, but he is a bug for free libraries and schools. An avid reader throughout his lean years, he can recite a thousand poems and practically every page of the bible by heart.

His mathematical mind works like a cash register, and he can mentally add long columns of figures which harried welfare officials misstoal with pencils.

A glutton for work, he often stays at his Senate desk until 2 a.m., and is back again at eight.

He's a Horatio Alger type in the nostalgic American tradition, and he quite frankly believes that any able-bodied person can support himself if he tries. Unquestionably, a lot of hard-pressed taxpayers agree.

City Woman Injured in One-Car Mishap

In fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital is Mrs. James Craft, of 285 Gateway St., after losing control of her car and striking two utility poles Saturday, according to Waterford Township Police.

Mrs. Craft was driving east on Voorheis Road near James K Blvd, when her car went out of control and struck two utility poles.

She was thrown to the right side of the car and her head struck the windshield.

Ex-Press Counsel Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elisha Hanson, 73, former general counsel for the American Newspaper Publishers Association, died Saturday. Hanson, a former newspaperman who became a lawyer and defended freedom of the press in cases before the Supreme Court, was the association's general counsel from 1935 until his retirement last April.

Rainfall along the Pacific Coast ranges from two inches in the California deserts to up to 100 or more inches in northern Washington.

Sign Aircraft Radio Pact

BANGKOK (AP) — Thailand and the United States have signed an agreement for joint construction and use of international communicatons facilities for civilian and military aircraft southeast of Bangkok.

Of the 16 men who have served as president of the African republic of Liberia, nine were born in the United States.

Reds Pull Away in Space

WASHINGTON (UPI)—How far behind Russia has the United States fallen in the space race?

This was the major question posed by the Soviet accomplishment this weekend of hurling two separate cosmonauts into orbit around the earth.

The United States will not be able until 1964 to attempt a flight that is as long in duration as the latest Soviet orbits.

Therefore, the Soviet advantage in this accomplishment is at least a year and a half.

Russia opened the space age by launching the world's first artificial satellite, Sputnik I, on Oct. 4, 1957. The United States launched its first satellite, the much smaller Explorer I, on Jan. 31, 1958.

The Russians thus had a lead of three months and 27 days in this feat.

★ ★ ★

The first earthling to be sent into orbit was Russia's Maj. Yuri Gagarin, on April 12, 1961. John Glenn became the first American in orbit on Feb. 20, 1962.

The Soviet advantage in this accomplishment was 10 months and eight days.

Russia's Maj. Gherman S. Titov became the first man to spend more than one day in space, orbiting for 25 hours and 18 minutes on Aug. 6, 1961.

Project Mercury plans call for a similar U.S. flight by the end of this year or early in 1963.

Russia already is ahead by one year in this mission.

Thus, the space gap appears to be widening.

★ ★ ★

American space officials say the United States is hampered by the relatively small power of its booster rockets compared to the Russian giants.

Management Course Offered at MSUO

Michigan State University Oakland is one of three Michigan colleges selected by the Small Business Administration for 21 administrative management courses that it will cosponsor for owners and managers of small businesses in Michigan.

The courses, cosponsored by the schools, are designed to assist in the improvement of management practices.

Also participating in the September-October project will be Flint Community Junior College and Delta College, serving Saginaw, Bay City and Midland.

County Youths in Oakland Jail

Four to Be in Court on Aug. 20 on Charges of Burglary

Four youths from Rochester and Troy will appear in Circuit Court Aug. 20 on burglary charges rising out of a number of recent breakins in both municipalities.

★ ★ ★

Floyd S. Rowley, 20, of 414 Alice St., Rochester, waived examination before Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green Saturday on a charge of breaking and entering at University Sinclair Service, 312 W. University Drive, Rochester, July 12. Cash totaling $153 was taken from the gas station.

Arraigned Friday before Troy Municipal Judge Charles Losey were Austin F. Rowley, 20, of 212 Alice St., Rochester; John Gaval Jr., 18, of 2150 Tucker St., Troy; and Daniel C. Hobbs, 17, of 1440 Courtland St., Rochester.

The three waived examination on a charge of burglarizing Chet's Grocery and Saddle Shop, 4835 John R Road, July 11.

★ ★ ★

All four were unable to post $500 bond and were held in Oakland County jail.

Rochester Detective William Woehl said the youths admitted a number of other recent burglaries in Rochester and Troy.

Bar Assn. Admitting Five New Members

Admission ceremonies for five new members of the Oakland County Bar Association were to be held today in Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland's court.

★ ★ ★

Attorneys being admitted to practice law in the county courts are Wilfred M. Bataille, 1295 Featherstone Ave.; I. Albert Caputo, 22501 Coolidge Highway, Oak Park; James E. Grissom, 4244 Carey Lane, Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

Also being admitted are Louis Nueman, 2435 Church St., Oak Park, and Leo Stevens, 903 E. Third St., Royal Oak.

Fire Destroys Stage at Verona Amphitheater

VERONA, Italy (AP) — Fire destroyed the mammoth opera stage at the ancient Roman amphitheater of Verona Sunday night.

Two stage hands and a fireman were injured slightly fighting the blaze.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — A sign outside an office here reads: "Dr. Ake — Dentist."

Jackie Gets Ride on 82-Foot Yacht With Industrialist

RAVELLO, Italy (AP) — Gianni Agnelli, Italy's auto king, took America's First Lady on a cruise on the blue waters of the Gulf of Salerno today.

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, on a two-week vacation in this southen Italian resort area of mountains and beaches, kicked off her sandals as soon as she boarded Agnelli's sleek 82-foot ocean-going yacht, the Agneta.

DIDN'T GET AWAY — "It was the biggest fish I ever hooked and I wasn't going to lose him," explained Mike Besnosoff, 71, of San Francisco recently after firemen fished him out of the Pacific Ocean at Dead Man's Point near Land's End by the Golden Gate Bridge. The 26½-pound fish pulled Besnosoff into the ocean and waves pounded him against the rocks. Another fisherman summoned firemen who pulled the angler from the ocean still clutching his rod and the fish.

Weigh Stations Contracts Let by Highway Dept.

A $68,000 contract has been awarded for construction of two weigh stations on the I-75 freeway north of Pontiac, the State Highway Department announced today.

★ ★ ★

A weigh station on either side of the freeway to handle north and southbound truck traffic will be built by the K. K. Marks Construction Co. of Port Huron.

The negotiated contract was one of 19 across the state reported today by the highway department. The total cost is $467,591.

★ ★ ★

The largest share, $118,714, will be spent in Kalamazoo County for construction of an overpass to carry U.S. 131 bridge over the northbound U.S. 131 freeway just west of Kalamazoo.

Named Aide in Congo

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Swedish Maj. Gen. Carl Gunnar Ferdinand, 60, has been named deputy commander of the U.N. force in the Congo. He will serve under Ethiopian Lt. Gen. Kebbede Guebre.

NOTICE FOR BIDS

The City of Pontiac will receive sealed bids for the purchase of those portions of Lots 2, 4, 5 and 6, Assessor's Plat No. 58, City of Pontiac, lying west of the Saginaw Street widening line until 2:00 P.M. Eastern Standard Time on the 28th day of August, 1962, at the office of the City Clerk, 36 S. Parke Street, Pontiac, Michigan, at which time and place, all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Plats of this site are on file at the office of the City Engineer, 25 S. Parke Street, Pontiac, Michigan, and may be obtained at a cost of 50 cents each.

Bids will be restricted to those who were owners or occupants of commercial property being acquired by the Local Public Agency as a result of Urban Renewal project Michigan R-59. The bidders will be required to submit a preliminary site development plan and elevation of buildings to be erected. A 10% Surety Bond for the amount of said proposed construction must accompany each bid as a guarantee of the completion of the project within one (1) year from date of deed. The basis for bidding will be a per front foot value of the Saginaw Street frontage. The bid may be for all or any part of the Saginaw Street frontage of Lots 3, 4, 5 and 6 of Assessor's Plat No. 58.

The bids will be reviewed by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac, and acceptance will be based on the highest and best use during the present zoning, consistent with the future development of the City of Pontiac. The City reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids or to split or allocate frontage consistent with the continuing development of the City of Pontiac.

The bid proposal must include a statement that the 10% Surety Bond shall contain a provision guaranteeing the completion of the building on the premises within one (1) year.

By Order of the City Commission.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF PAUL ALLEN, SR. who passed away August 13, 1961. Where he sat and talked with me. There is not an empty chair. And the silence now at evening. Seems more than I can bear. I never fully realized. How deeply one can care. Until I stood alone at night. Beside an empty chair. —By Mrs. Paul Allen, Sr. and children.

May Give Reds Vital Military Edge

Doubleheader in Space Awes Nations of World

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union's latest pioneering space feat was hailed abroad today as fantastic and vivid new proof of Soviet scientific prowess.

British scientists said the launching of two manned space ships into close orbits may give the Russians an important military edge as well as a large lead in the race with the United States to land a man on the moon.

Pope John XXIII said he hoped the new space experiment "would assume the significance of an homage to God."

"These historical events, as they are inscribed in the annals of scientific knowledge of space, could then become expressions of the true and peaceful progress, with a solid foundation, of the human fraternity," said the 80-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church.

"MOST REMARKABLE"

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank Radio Astronomy Observatory which tracked the Soviet space vehicles, called the Soviet feat "the most remarkable development man has ever seen—a striking demonstration of the depth of Russian resources—quite fantastic."

British scientists generally viewed the twin space vehicles in close orbit as giving the Soviet Union an impressive lead over the United States in space research.

Some said the Russians might land a man on the moon years ahead of the first American astronaut.

★ ★ ★

They added it could lead to an early development of anti-satellite satellites that could destroy spying space vehicles such as the U.S. Midas and Samos satellites.

★ ★ ★

"It is fantastic shooting to get a second spaceman into orbit within a few miles of the other after 24 hours," said Leonard Carter, secretary of the British Interplanetary Society.

Prof. Takeo Hatanaka of Tokyo University said: "It would worsen the international tension if the Soviet Union used these successful launchings" as a cold war tool.

'BETTER THAN BOMBS'

The Manila Times said: "If the Soviets have to prove their scientific edge over the Americans, this is where they should do it, not in the endless succession of nuclear bomb tests that pollute the atmosphere with every explosion."

Kuo Mao-jao, president of the Communist Chinese Academy of Sciences, congratulated the Russians and said their accomplishment "testifies anew to the advanced, outstanding achievements of Soviet science and technology."

New Zealand Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake said in a statement the twin space flights "must command the admiration of all people."

Many European newspapers said the new Soviet achievement emphasized its lead over the United States in space research.

But London's Daily Telegraph said it was "still too early to speculate whether the Russians will maintain their lead, or whether the lunar conquest may be made by Americans."

West Germany's largest newspaper, the Frankfurt Bildzeitung, termed the accomplishment an attempt to steer world opinion away from today's first anniversary of the Communist wall dividing Berlin.

MERRY MOSCOVITES — Pictures of Russian space heroes are carried by happy Muscovites during a celebration in Red Square Sunday following the news of the successful orbiting of a second successive cosmonaut. The pictures, supplied by the Soviet news agency Tass, bear a likeness to Lt. Col. Popovich and Maj. Nikolayev the space companions.

Reds Check Ability of One U. S. Chemist

NORWALK, Calif. (AP)—Five men from the Russian ministry of higher and secondary specialized education toured Cerritos College here, concentrating on science facilities and curriculum.

Chief of the delegation Boris Kuzmin, asked chemistry instructor Ev Baker to weigh a Russian coin. Baker measured it on an automatic balance and gave an answer of 1.0001 gram.

"Very good," said Kuzmin. "You are within 1/10,000th of a gram."

'Prove' Business Better

FORT MADISON, Iowa (AP) — Here's proof that U. S. business was better last year than the year before: Shaeffer Pen Co. reports

Bedouins Moving Into Stone Houses

WASHINGTON — The centuries-old desert life of the Bedouins is undergoing a basic change — a few are folding their tents and moving to new stone houses.

But the change is slow. Most nomadic tribesmen still drive their flocks of goats, sheep and camels from one remote water hole to the next.

★ ★ ★

The estimated five million desert dwellers who make their home in the windy and sun-blasted wastelands of the Near East and North Africa demonstrate man's ability to adapt to almost impossible living conditions.

CAMEL IS INDISPENSABLE

During the desert's furnace-hot days, whole families and tribes trek across a land whose heaven is "as iron" and whose earth is "as brass."

Camels have been the transport of Bedouins and a measure of desert wealth since pre-Biblical times.

Bedouin tribes once fought on camelback. The "ship of the desert" is famed for carrying heavy loads many waterless miles, the National Geographic Society reports.

A Bedouin drinks the camel's thick, sweet milk, spins its hair into tents and clothing, turns the hide into water pouches and saddles, and uses the dung for fuel.

Occasionally, when the rules of hospitality demand, the humped animal may render his last service on the tribal feast platter.

Bedouins are intensely proud people. At night before retiring to their smoke-blackened tents, tribesmen gather around campfires to recite handed-down Arab verse recalling the tribe's past glories.

★

Most Bedouins can afford only one wife, though polygamy is practiced. By Moslem tradition, wives show their faces only to their husbands and close relatives.

The women don black garments and veils in public, though some wear bright-colored jewelry in their nostrils and decorate their faces with intricate blue tatooing.

DESERT DETECTIVES

But the winds of civilization are blowing into the desert.

Oil companies drilling in the always changing sandscape of Saudia Arabia employ Bedouins as guides. The wandering lords of the desert read the shifting sands to locate an occasional lost party.

Tribesmen drive trucks and are trained to operate complicated rigging equipment. Children attend oil company schools. Doctors train Bedouin assistants.

Black Muslims Asks for Land

Leader Says Part of United States Should Be Given to Negroes

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Elijah Muhammed, leader of the Black Muslim movement, said Sunday God might have mercy on white people if Negroes are given part of the United States as their own.

The 64-year-old Negro said white people should not "keep us just to beat on us."

In repeating his request part of the country be set aside for Negroes Muhammed said, "If you want us to stay here with you, separate us, let us live in one part of the country."

He said, "We can't overthrow the government by force, we have no arms. It is foolishness to say we are trying to overthrow the government."

Muhammed said the United States should say, "I'll give you a nice place to live and I will help you get started."

He spoke to a crowd estimated by police Capt. John McGovern at 3,500, including 100 whites. The auditorium will seat 14,000.

Muhammed, who spoke for two hours, spent most of his time giving his interpretation of the Bible and the Islamic religion.

Ex-College Head Expires

APPLETON, Wis. (AP) — Dr. Thomas Barrows, 62, former president of Lawrence College of Appleton, died Saturday of a heart attack while playing golf. Barrows served as president of Lawrence from 1937 until he resigned in 1943. In recent years he had been counseling director at the Robert Lewis Stevenson School in Pebble Beach, Calif.

Frequencies Being Used

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet cosmonauts are using the following radio megacycle frequencies: 19.900, 20.006 and 143.625.

Shah of Iran Takes Son Off Government Payroll

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The Shah has taken his son, Crown Prince Reza, off the government payroll and from now on will supply his salary out of his own pocket.

In a letter to Prime Minister Assadullah Alam the minister of the royal court said the Shah had decided on this to free the government reduce an estimated budget deficit of $70 million.

The government had previously decided to impose a 15 per cent cut on the budgets of all ministeries.

To Show 7 MM Films

CAIRO (AP)—Seven Marilyn Monroe films are to be shown next week in one of Cairo's most luxurious movie houses in a "Marilyn Monroe festival week."

Who'll Be New Marilyn? Nobody — for Long Time

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Who'll be the new Marilyn Monroe?

Is Elizabeth Taylor—or some now unknown starlet—to emerge as the sex symbol of the sexy Sixties and Seventies?

No! Not in our time. Marilyn idolized—and copied—Jean Harlow. Before Jean, there was Clara Bow, and now there isn't anybody any more.

WILSON

Looking back now on a friend who is gone, I'd say Marilyn had a daring, a flair. A friend remembers once when Marilyn was in a littered hotel room here—she always littered them—making up to go to an opening of "Some Like It Hot."

"Marilyn," the friend said, "that makeup is not only exaggerated, it's absolutely vulgar."

Marilyn was silent. The friend said, "You're in New York now—not Hollywood. New York people you're going to see tonight have some taste."

★ ★ ★

"I want to teach you something," Marilyn replied. "I'm not making up for those people. I'm making up for those people across the street who'll not get close to me. But when I wave to them, they'll see me."

When Marilyn merely walked across the stage at Madison Square Garden, they went crazy.

"Where did you get that walk?" they asked her once. "Honest," she said, "I never took a lesson in my life." The truth is that Groucho Marx, in one of her first movies, told her, "Here, walk like this."

He did an exaggerated, comical wiggle, with emphasis on the tossing of the derriere. Marilyn did that bounce for the rest of her life.

★ ★ ★

Liz Taylor'll have more money but she'll never have the allure MM had. There's only one born every generation. How sad it is that she always felt alone.

Once Marilyn found who her father was and went to see him. He was a California farmer, well-off. He brushed her off.

"I was looking for a friend, and he thought I had come to borrow money," Marilyn reported later. Life, and death, seemed always like that for the girl whose wiggle and words so eloquently symbolized this crazy era.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "A woman who lanided a husband just as she was about to turn 40 describes her husband as a 'shoestring catch'."—Irving J. Bottner.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A human being is a fellow who'll laugh over the family album, then look in the mirror and never crack a smile."—Powers Moulton.

EARL'S PEARLS: "The best way for a housewife to have a few minutes completely to herself at the end of the day is to start doing the dishes."—Santa Fe Magazine.

"She has everything a singer should have," Henny Youngman said, introducing a new vocalist, "and a good voice, too." . . . That's earl, brother.

HELD IN JAIL — Suzanne Coipel-Vandeput, 23, has been ordered held in a Liege, Belgium, jail pending trial on charges she killed her baby. The infant was born malformed after the mother had taken thalidomide during pregnancy. Her husband, doctor and two others were charged with complicity. The baby was born May 21 with no arms. Its hands were attached directly to its shoulders.

Jet Lands at Wrong Airport

Pilot Picks Wrong Strip

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A DC8 jet plane with 88 persons aboard came in for a landing at Portland and bumped along to an abrupt halt at 4 a.m. Sunday.

A voice came over the plane's loudspeaker: "Ladies and gentlemen, we have inadvertently landed at the Troutdale Field.

Troutdale Field's single runway, which is used by light aircraft, is only 4,641 feet long. The big plane, en route from Chicago to Seattle, Wash., was supposed to have landed 10 miles west on International Airport's 8,800-foot runway.

A United Airlines spokesman said the pilot, Capt. S. R. Whipple of Chicago, apparently got the airports mixed up.

Eight hours later, a United crew flew the plane, empty, off the short runway.

Foreign News Notes

Expect Reds to Create New Berlin Crisis

By MURRAY J. BROWN
United Press International

Notes from the foreign news cables:

SHARPENING CRISIS

Communists are expected to step up Berlin "war of nerves" in an effort to create a crisis atmosphere before the United Nations General Assembly meets in September. Then, by offering a peace treaty to deflate tensions, the Russians hope to win support from neutrals and uncommitted nations as well as from the lukewarm NATO members.

Expect Russia to try and play a more active role in the still-troubled Congo. Sudden appointment of new Soviet ambassador to Leopoldville could spell more trouble.

★ ★ ★

Moscow recently resumed attacks on the so-called "imperialist policies" in the Congo and it looks like a new major propaganda campaign is in the making.

SUBMARINE WATCH

The U.S 7th Fleet is getting more help from the Japanese in keeping watch on Soviet submarine activities in northwest Pacific area. Japan is quietly — but rapidly — increasing its antisubmarine warfare capabilities.

The Japanese recently commissioned their first postwar submarine squadron, which will be used mostly for antisubmarine operations.

But the most significant development has been in the air arm, which is being expanded by the purchase of U.S. planes specially designed for such purposes.

FOREIGN LEGION

French army authorities are seriously concerned about the future of the famed Foreign Legion since headquarters were moved from Algeria to Corsica. Desertions are reported to be at the rate of two to three daily and recruiting is almost at a standstill.

EMPTY COFFERS

Indonesia is facing one of the most serious foreign exchange shortages since independence.

An American aid official says reserves were down to a record low of $10 million in early July —or just about one-fifth of what U.S. intelligence agencies estimate that one high Indonesian official has in bank accounts abroad.

The exchange rate for the Rupiah legally is 45 to the dollar. In early July, the blackmarket rate was about 1,200 to 1.

STORM SIGNALS

President Charles de Gaulle has ordered his ministers to stand by to return to Paris in a hurry if need be throughout the August vacation recess.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle is concerned about the possibility of a new crisis in Algeria or some subversive attempt by the diehards of the extremist Secret Army in France itself.

Breaks Own Record

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)— Mary Ann De Forrest of Dallas broke her own Water Ski National Women's jumping record with a leap of 64 feet in the south central regional tournament here Sunday.

Mrs. De Forrest set the old record of 62 feet at the national tournament in 1961.

Probe 'Stocking' Holdup for Link to Murder

5 Men, 3 Women Held Following Robbery Today

Find Pistol at Home of Suspect; May Be One Used in Killing

Pontiac Police are holding five men and three women for investigation of an armed robbery today and pursing a possible link to the robbery-murder of Pontiac grocer Eftimias Vasiliou July 30.

The Keg Kanteen, a near East-Side beer store, was held up by two men, one wearing a woman's stocking for a mask, at approximately 2 a.m. today.

Two brothers were picked up shortly after the $220 robbery, another man surrendered to police, and two others and the women were brought in later.

★ ★ ★

Held are: Rufus Wilson Jr., 29, of 44 Maple St.; brothers Joseph and George Page, 249 Orchard Lake Ave.; R. G. Stroman, of 280 Fisher St., and W. C. Alexander, address unknown.

Police did not immediately release the names of the women being questioned.

★ ★ ★

Beside the stocking mask worn in the Keg Kanteen, 84 Auburn Ave. holdup, police believe a .22-caliber pistol found in the home of George Page may be linked to the Vasiliou slaying.

★ ★ ★

The gun was sent to State Police Crime Laboratory for testing. Vasiliou was killed by three shots from a .22 caliber weapon.

Police have been working on the theory that the men who held up killed him, wore women's stockings or masks. Stockings were found in an alley down which police believe the bandit fled.

★ ★ ★

OTHER CRIMES

Friday night two other crimes were committed by men wearing women's stockings for masks.

★ ★ ★

A service station at Voorheis and Telegraph roads was held up masks. They got $75.

Earlier the same evening, a man with his face distorted by the stocking mask seized two Waterford Township women in their car, took $500 in cash and valuables and assaulted one of them.

The pair were captured at gunpoint at 8:15 p.m. Friday in the municipal parking lot at Wayne and Lafayette streets.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac officials have offered a $1,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the slayers of Vasiliou, and The Pontiac Press has also posted a $1,000 reward.

Russ Leap Ahead in Moon Race

'Your Autograph, Please?'

CAMPAIGNING IN CLARKSTON — Republican gubernatorial candidate George Romney got one of the biggest receptions of his tour of Oakland County Saturday at Clarkston. He is shown here surrounded by some of the 200 persons who turned out to greet him at the North Oakland community. Some came to shake hands, others to get autographs. Romney obliged both.

Swings at Swainson

Romney Stumps Oakland

On an all-day campaign swing through Oakland County Saturday, Republican gubernatorial candidate George Romney leveled his strongest blast at Gov. Swainson to date.

At a noon press conference at Devon Gables Restaurant, he claimed that Swainson, in attacking the proposed new state constitution is "using half-truths trying to show it is not a sound document."

Later, at a Waterford Township rally, he labeled Swainson a "do-nothing governor" and charged that Swainson, "for his complete failure . . . attempts to blame everybody else."

The energetic candidate in the whirlwind tour of his home county left the impression that he moves faster than most politicians talk.

NEARLY 200 MILES

Romney traveled close to 200 miles, shook hundreds or perhaps thousands of hands, spent a total of at least two hours giving speeches and topped it all off with a nice, long, cold drink — at the water fountain in Hudson's Budget Store at Pontiac Mall.

★ ★ ★

Romney began his long day at 8:20 a.m. on the Rackham Golf Course in Huntington Woods where, with the eyes of several golfers glued to him, he smacked a nifty 210-yard drive down the center of the fairway.

The day ended more than 13 hours later after he concluded a speech to a GOP gathering at Waterford High School.

In his Waterford talk, Romney summed up the brief remarks he had made earlier in the day to assembled citizens in several smaller Oakland communities.

STRESSES LEADERSHIP

The Republican gubernatorial candidate stressed what he considers to be the basic issue of the campaign — leadership.

He claimed he can provide the leadership necessary to pull Michigan out of its financial "mess," and Gov. John B. Swainson cannot.

Romney insisted that Swainson "has denied responsibility for anything that has happened in Michigan for all the time he's been governor.

★ ★ ★

"In other words," Romney said, "Swainson has done nothing."

Romney said Michigan's greatest need is for a "genuine" citizen's party, responsive to, and support-

2 Drown in County Lakes; Oakland Traffic Kills 2

Two persons drowned and two died in auto accidents in Oakland County over the weekend.

The drowning victims were Gary A. Haskell, 19, of 9833 Shadyside Road, Livonia, and Joseph Rzegocki, 46, of Detroit.

Dead as a result of auto accidents are Mrs. Doris Higgins-Sweet, 44, of 786 Central Drive, Lake Orion, and Mrs. Edward Holstein, 67, of Detroit.

Haskell drowned while swimming with four friends at Camp Dearborn Sunday, said sheriff's deputies.

His body was recovered from 8 feet of water in Lake No. 1 at the Milford Township camp.

Rzegocki drowned Saturday while swimming in Cranberry Lake, in White Lake Township.

He had been swimming by himself. Several friends saw him go under, but were unable to locate him. His body was recovered by White Lake Township police.

Mrs. Higgins Sweet was killed Saturday when she pulled into the path of a New York Central freight train in Lake Orion.

A secretary for the Oakland County Road Commission, she evidently had been shopping at a supermarket near the railroad crossing on West Flint Street, said Neal Leonard, Lake Orion police chief.

She pulled out of the parking lot and into the path of the train. The warning lights were working at the crossing, police said.

Frank Laken of Detroit, engineer of the train, said that he tried to stop, but the train was too close to avoid the accident.

The secretary's car was dragged 108 feet and she was killed instantly. She has a son John, 17.

Mrs. Holstein, died Saturday night at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital of injuries suffered in a two-car accident four hours earlier in Rochester.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, that was struck while making a U-turn on Main Street at Second Street, according to Rochester police.

Driver of the other car, Ellsworth Phillips, 26, of Madison Heights, was not held.

Holstein was reported in satisfactory condition at the hospital today.

Watta Ya Know! Tuesday to Be Fair and Sunny

Skies will clear tonight, the weatherman reports. A low of 60 is expected.

Tuesday should be fair and sunny with temperature around 80 degrees.

From 10 a.m. Friday to 10 a.m. today 1.20th of an inch of rain fell in Pontiac.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 63 degrees. At 1 p.m. the reading was 71 degrees.

Double Orbit to Last Another Day at Least

2 Cosmonauts Exchange Greeting After Eating Breakfast

MOSCOW (AP)—Two Soviet astronauts wheeled around the earth today, one entering his third day in space and the other his second in a historic feat putting the Russians ahead in the race to the moon.

Already they had passed the point where they would have been in position to land and that meant almost certainly they would go on through at least another night and morning.

Aboard Vostok III, Maj. Andrian Nikolayev, 32, had made 35 circuits of the earth by 4 p.m. Moscow time (8 a.m. Pontiac time), since his blastoff Saturday morning, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Aboard Vostok IV, Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich, 31, had made 19 circuits since his launching Sunday morning. He thus also had surpassed the 17-orbit flight of Maj. Gherman S. Titov a year ago.

The two exchanged radio greetings this morning after awakening and eating breakfast, but it was not clear how close their space ships were together. Tass reported they were near enough Sunday to see each other's ships.

Related Stories, Pages 32, 51

Trackers in Japan had put the distance between them as about 75 miles Sunday. But the Sohio Research Center in Cleveland, Ohio, said they later had moved 385 miles apart.

At noon, every correspondent in Moscow braced for news that the pilots had begun their descent to Soviet soil. But rumors of a landing proved wrong. One Soviet source declared: "They are not coming down today."

Premier Khrushchev messaged them: "I again congratulate you and embrace you. I wish you successful fulfillment of the program of the flight, and happy landing."

Nikolayev replied: "I thank Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev for the warmth of his greeting. I will spare no efforts to complete fully the flight task."

Said Popovich: "Give Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev great cordial thanks. I'll spare no effort to fulfill the set task and to be healthy and unharmed. I'll do everything."

They were shown again on television today, lying back in their chairs, occasionally rising to a half-sitting position to work better with a log book or to keep it from shielding their faces from

JFK Congratulates Soviets; U.S. Space Officials Are Quiet

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy has congratulated the Soviet Union on its latest space accomplishment, but American space officials adopted a wait-and-see attitude and withheld official comment.

While relaxing over the weekend at Boothbay Harbor, Maine, Kennedy said in a statement:

"I congratulate the Soviet Union on this exceptional technical feat and salute the courage of her two new astronauts. The American people, I know, wish them a safe return."

In Washington, a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said: "Until we know more about the Soviet mission we can't comment intelligently about it."

★ ★ ★

Three congressional experts have agreed that there is no need to re-examine the U. S. space program because of Russia's twin orbital shot.

Instead, they feel that the U. S. program is moving ahead and will move even faster when more powerful booster rockets are developed.

The legislators — Sens. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., and Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., and Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex. — did not appear dismayed yesterday that the United States might be behind in the race.

"We have some very solid, feasible technical plans in the same field as the Russians have," Magnuson said. "The fact that one is ahead of the other doesn't necessarily mean anything."

MAYBE BY '64

In Houston, James A. Chamberlin, head of America's project Gemini, said the United States may be able to duplicate Russia's dual manned orbit in 1964.

Chamberlain, head of the U. S. project which will try to rendezvous two capsules in space, said he had meager information on the Soviet venture.

"But from what I understand, this flight is similar to one we plan," Chamberlain said. "However, we will have two men in one capsule and no one in the other."

CARPENTER THRILLED

At Palmer Lake, Colo., vacationing astronaut Scott Carpenter could not restrain his enthusiasm yesterday when he learned that the Soviet Union had put up a second manned space vehicle within sight of another.

"Wow! That's quite a feat!" he exclaimed.

Carpenter said he wished he were "that fellow up there."

Concerning the U. S. program, Carpenter said, "We're behind and we're trying our best to catch up. We've got a good plan put together by intelligent men and we're sticking to it."

'If Elected, No President Race'

Governorship 1st: Romney

WILLIAMSTON (AP) — George Romney, Republican nominee for governor of Michigan, declared today that if elected he will not be a candidate for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

Asked by newsmen if he would accept a draft, however, Romney said there was only a very remote possibility that such a move would take place.

The former American Motors president said at a news conference here:

"If I am elected governor of Michigan, I will not be a candidate for president in 1964.

"I expect to concentrate fully on the job here . . . I have never undertaken a job I did not finish, and I don't intend to do so (as governor)."

★ ★ ★

Romney has been mentioned by several Republican leaders as a possible presidential candidate for 1964. Those who have mentioned his name include former President Dwight Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard Nixon.

Romney met newsmen as he set off on a busy schedule of street-corner handshaking and conferences in Ingham County.

JFK May Offer Peek at Plans for '63 Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy may offer an advance peek at his plans for a 1963 tax cut when he speaks to the nation tonight on taxes and the lagging economy.

Most observers in and out of government were convinced he would reject suggestions that a quick tax cut offers the best chance of averting any early recession.

President Kennedy's economic address to the nation will be televised tonight at 6 on channel 2 and at 7 p.m. on channels 4 and 7.

If Congress should approve these proposals, the door would be kept open for a possible tax cut later this year.

Bitter Berlin Fights at Wall

BERLIN (AP)—Border guards fought a fierce tear gas battle today as massed West Berliners screamed their hatred of the Red wall on its first anniversary.

The battle erupted in the Wil. helmstrasse, opposite the former Nazi Air Ministry. It is now the seat of several East German government ministries.

★ ★ ★

East police shot a stream of water from a water cannon at West Berlin youths carrying a wooden cross along the wall.

Enraged West Berliners then hurled stones at the water cannon.

East guards then tossed tear gas grenades into the thickly massed crowd. The grenades went off with loud explosions and poured out clouds of stinging, choking gas.

West police immediately threw about 150 tear gas grenades over the wall. They fell all around two water cannon, which was enveloped in a thick cloud of gas.

The water cannon withdrew about 30 yards. The gasping, choking crews had to get out for fresh air.

West police were soaking wet, as were the youths carrying the cross.

A company of 100 West riot police was rushed to the scene. There were about 80 East police massed on the other side of the wall.

★ ★ ★

The West reinforcements were ordered up after thousands of booing, shouting persons massed along the wall.

A U.S. Army helicopter hovered over the crowd on the west side of the wall near Friedrichstrasse. People waved to the pilot, who waved back.

East Berliners tried to join in the demopstration. But Communist police kept them back. About 100 persons were seen being pushed back in the Unter den Linden and Wilhelmstrasse, in East Berlin.

Windows in buildings on the east side of the border were flung open as persons inside listened to the Western outcries of anger but Communist officials quickly shut the windows.

Workers in a big East Berlin printing plant just over the wall packed the windows and waved to demonstrators in the West.

The din along the wall was tremendous.

★ ★ ★

The Communists brought up loudspeakers blaring martial music in an attempt to drown out the shouts from the West.

★ ★ ★

Western police said they heard the rumble of tanks in East Berlin and saw truckloads of steel-helmeted troops being deployed on streets leading to the wall.

ed by, individual citizens rather than organizations."

Such citizen action would eliminate "special interest government as now exists in Lansing and would result in a public administration," Romney argued.

Throughout the day, the Bloomfield Hills politician criticized Swainson for his close ties with "cronies" from organized labor.

Romney, wearing a dark blue suit for his evening appearances after a day in shirt sleeves, read partially from a prepared text at the Waterford rally.

Earlier in the day he had spoken strictly off-the-cuff.

WIFE TALKS, TOO

He was joined on the speaker's platform at Waterford by his wife Lenore, who spoke briefly to the group before her husband's speech.

Near the close of his speech, Romney tossed out two questions related to "straightening up Michigan's house."

He asked: "If not me, who?" and "If not now, when?"

Romney said the questions led him to seek the governorship and should be used by each citizen to encourage individual political participation.

In the morning, Romney concentrated on hand-shaking and ignored speech-making except for a brief talk at the Farmington Plaza Shopping Center. Other stops on the morning agenda were at the Royal Oak Farmers Market, Detroit Zoo and Oak Park Shopping Center.

The candidate's speech making got in full swing shortly after noon at the Devon Gables press conference. There, in response to questions from Oakland County newspaper editors and reporters, he outlined much of the campaign message he was about to spread throughout the county.

In Holly, the first stop after lunch, Romney toured local stores greeting customers and employees. He spoke to a crowd of about 100 persons, urging them to get their friends interested in the gubernatorial campaign.

From Holly, the Romney party — complete with "Romney Girls," county GOP officials and several campaign staff members — rolled into Clarkston for its biggest reception of the afternoon.

★ ★ ★

An estimated crowd of 200 persons turned out to hear the candidate. Special activities included a Romney cheerleading session by high school girls and a new Vote-for-Romney song sung by a local quartet, the Patriots.

★ ★ ★

In Clarkston, Romney was besieged by autograph-hunters, the only time in the day this happened.

OXFORD NEXT STOP

Oxford was the next stop, where between 100 and 150 persons heard Romney speak in Village Park. After his speech, Romney, a non-drinker, wandered into a bar across from the park.

He later explained that he drops into bars whenever he can in order to destroy a "myth" being circulated about him.

The myth, he said, is that if he is elected he will restore prohibition. Romney voiced strong disapproval of prohibition or other attempts to "legislate morality."

When he left Oxford, Romney returned to his Bloomfield Hills home for a brief rest. His wife was with him as he hit the campaign trail again at 6:30 p.m. at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

★ ★ ★

Speaking to a group of Young Republicans, Romney said citizens — especially younger ones — have a "tremendous opportunity" to help rebuild Michigan.

"If we muff it, it will be a tragedy," he said.

★ ★ ★

Romney's final stop before the Waterford GOP rally was at Pontiac Mall where he spent 45 minutes greeting shoppers.

Rusk, Dobrynin Meet Briefly

Talk German Problem, Picking Up Trend of Geneva Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin discussed the German problem in a 20-minute meeting today.

★ ★ ★

"We continued to discuss the question of a German peace settlement, picking up where it was left in Geneva by Minister Grymyko and Secretary Rusk," Dobrynin told newsmen after the unusually brief meeting with the secretary.

He said that no notes were exchanged at the meeting, but declined to answer a question as to whether any new proposals were submitted.

Dobrynin asked for the interview with Rusk, only five days after the last meeting between the two, last Wednesday, when Rusk asked the diplomat to call on him to discuss the new U.S. nuclear test ban proposals.

ANNIVERSARY OF WALL

It was the first anniversary of the date the Communists began putting up the wall dividing East and West Berlin.

Dobrynin was accompanied to the State Department by Embassy Counselor Georgi M. Kornienko.

Martin Hillenbrand, special assistant to Rusk on German affairs, sat in on the meeting.

Dobrynin also was asked whether the simultaneous orbiting of two Russian cosmonauts came up in his conversation with Rusk.

"We talked about it, there was no discussion, only an exchange of views," the diplomat said.

He replied, "definitively" when asked whether he thought that the flights would contribute to the peaceful exploration of outer space.

The Day in Birmingham

To Award Contract to Build Addition to DPW Garage

BIRMINGHAM — Awarding of a contract for construction of an addition to the department of public works north garage is scheduled for tonight's City Commission meeting here.

A total of 15 bids has been received on the project. They do not include provisions for water and sewer services, plumbing, electrical, heating or painting.

Plans for the addition include space for voting machines, sewer and water storage, a sign shop and a dog pound and a slab for an outside dog run.

★ ★

Interior cages and furnishings for the dog pound and sign shop also were not included in the bid proposal.

Demolition of two wooden buildings will be carried out by DPW crews before construction of the addition is begun.

Total cost of the project has been estimated at $17,500 with an estimate of $13,000 for the work included in the bid proposal.

NEW SEWER

DPW crews also are expected to install a new sewer and water service and the necessary floor drains in the addition.

Complete date of the addition has been set for Nov. 1.

Also at tonight's meeting, city commissioners will consider a request from the city of Troy to use Birmingham property on the north side of Maple Road for an access road from Maple Road to Delemere St.

The road will be needed for police and fire vehicles and residents of the area for two or three months during reconstruction of Big Beaver Road, according to a letter from Troy City Manager David E. Firestone.

Motorists are parking their cars longer, according to a report by Birmingham Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley on a quarterly parking meter survey taken July 21-27.

The report showed an increase in meter revenue over the July, 1961 survey in all meter zones except the 30-minute spots. Biggest increases were in the one- and two-hour zones.

Moxley recommended raising the number of two-hour spaces for the sharp demand of the coming shopping season.

the television viewer in the cabin of the ship. Gestures and movements were relatively limited.

Tass reported that millions of televiewers saw Popovich rise from his seat, look through the porthole, smile and drink something, then take his seat again.

Both had traveled far enough to reach the moon and back but both reported they felt fine, instruments were functioning perfectly, and cabin temperature and other conditions normal, Tass reported.

A midday bulletin said: "The necessary medical and hygienic conditions in the cabins of the cosmonauts are fully maintained."

In the code language of spacemen, Nikolayev is "the Falcon" and Popovich is "the Golden Eagle" and they used those names in their exchange of messages after what apparently was a good night's sleep for both.

Tass reported this exchange:

Popovich: "I am Golden Eagle calling Falcon. I hear you well. The temperature is 18 degrees (64.5 degrees Fahrenheit), humidity 65 per cent. How you understood me well?"

Nikolayev: "I am Falcon calling Golden Eagle. I have understood you. Everything is all right with me. The temperature is 19 degrees (59 degrees Fahrenheit). Humidity 65 per cent. Feeling fine. Slept well."

Popovich: "Golden Eagle calling: Am in good mood. Slept well. Feeling marvelous."

The cosmonauts' morning hours were devoted to breakfast, setting-up exercises, and then scientific observations, physiological and vestibular ear tests and psychological tests, Moscow radio said.

IMPORTANT ADVANCE

The double flight marked a fantastic feat of Soviet rocketry that the United States does not hope to match until at least next year.

The ability to send up a second space ship 24 hours after the first one had gone up, and bring it into orbit in the vicinity of the first ship marked an important advance toward the day when satellites can join in space for construction of a space platform from which a moon shot can be made.

★ ★ ★

British scientists also said the Soviet accomplishment could lead to the early development of military satellites that would home on such spy-in-the-sky satellites as the U.S. Midas and Samos and destroy them.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank radio telescope, said in London Sunday he had been advised by Moscow sources that the flights would continue "A few days."

Crane Falls on Train, Critically Injuring 5

NEW YORK (UPI) — A highway construction crane toppled from an overpass onto Long Island Railroad tracks today, badly damaging the first car of a five-car train and injuring six passengers, five of them critically, police reported.

The injured were taken to St. John's Hospital by police and hospital disaster units that were called to the scene in the woodside section of Queens.

All power was cut off on a major portion of the Long Island's Queens line at the order of fire officials, but there was no fire.

Order Restrains Union From Interfering With Groundskeepers

A show cause hearing why pickets of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union shouldn't be restrained from interfering with groundkeepers at strike-bound Oakland Hills Country Club in Bloomfield Township has been scheduled for Friday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

★ ★ ★

The club is one of eight struck by the service employes in the metropolitan area in their bid for higher wages.

Orchard Lake Country Club was the latest club struck Saturday by the union which has vowed to strike at one club each day until a settlement is reached.

The union represents workers at 30 clubs in all. The clubs are represented by the Detroit Club Managers Association.

Pickets were withdrawn from the groundkeepers' gate at Oakland Hills Saturday in response to Judge Holland's restraining order.

SUING UNION

The club's attorney, John P. O'Hara Jr., said the club is suing the union for damages resulting from loss of revenue during the strike.

O'Hara said the club management takes the position that the strike is illegal because no strike vote was taken.

Judge Holland set a hearing on the question for tomorrow.

About 60 employes left jobs at Orchard Lake, according to Manager William Van Lierop. Dining facilities are closed, but the golf course and beach are unaffected, he said.

★ ★ ★

Negotiations on a new contract between the union and the Club Managers Association were to be resumed today in Detroit under state mediation.

To Cap Playground Program

Ready Carnival Fun Day

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department will climax its summer playground program Wednesday with a Carnival Fun Day at Oakland Park, featuring booths sponsored by each of the 22 playgrounds.

★ ★ ★

The event concluding the eight-week program will take place from noon until 4 p.m.

The 22 booths will feature games and contests for the 1,500 youngsters who participated in the recreation program. Such booths as a squirt gun candle shoot, a nail drive and a wet sponge throw will be set up at the park.

In addition to the booths, the department will have five special events planned.

★ ★ ★

Japanese Youth Wants to Learn English in U.S.

Crosses Pacific Alone in 19-Foot Boat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Japanese youth who crossed the Pacific alone in a 19-foot sailboat on a diet of Japanese rice, beer, sake and fresh fish wants to stay in the United States two years to learn English.

★ ★ ★

The plans of Kenichi Horie, 23, of Osaka, are somewhat clouded by the fact he arrived without passport, visa, immunization record, proof of financial stability or a sponsor.

While the U.S. Immigration Service, the Public Health Service and the Japanese consulate work on the problem, Horie is staying at the home of a consulate employe in amiable protective custody.

Horie sailed into San Francisco Bay Sunday after a three-month voyage from Osaka. The surprised U.S. Coast Guard escorted him to St. Francis yacht harbor and called for the immigration service.

★ ★ ★

With the aid of his Japanese-English dictionary Horie got across to officials his plan to stay two years and learn English. Then he passed around cups of sake to curious onlookers.

The Coast Guard studied the little sailboat with small cabin forward and found only a tiny radio-direction finder, sextant and a compass. No auxiliary engine or radio communications gear encumbered Horie.

"Obviously one hell of a navigator," mused one Coast Guard man.

Horie's family in Osaka was overjoyed at the news of his arrival.

★ ★ ★

The Japanese government, which had given him up for dead, said it was astounded.

Japan had denied Horie a passport on the ground the planned trip was suicidal. His family was against it, too, but explained that Horie was a determined, adventurous youth.

Building Is $500-Million-a-Year Industry in New York

Construction Changing Face of Manhattan

NEW YORK (AP) — The ever-changing face of New York is changing faster than ever these days. It's getting the greatest face-lifting in history.

Almost anywhere one looks, particularly in Manhattan, an old building is going down or a new one is going up — or is already up.

Vanishing fast are the dingy old brownstone residences and brick business buildings which were the pride of yesteryear.

Rising in their places are gleaming steel and stone skyscrapers, altering the magnificent New York skyline minute by minute.

★ ★ ★

There is plenty of construction afoot in the other four boroughs of the city also. But here it is king-sized apartment developments which predominate. They're going up at an astonishing rate on ground once occupied by individual homes.

Construction is rated as a $500-million-a-year industry in the city but a glance at the panorama of new towers zooming skyward makes it seem much more than that.

Last April the Real Estate Board of New York reported that $2.5 billion worth of office buildings alone have been built, started or planned in the single borough of Manhattan since the end of World War II. Most of this has been in the past five years and the rate is still climbing.

HOTEL BOOM

One odd aspect of the building boom concerns hotels. Until lately there hadn't been a new one erected in the city in 30 years or so. Now, all of a sudden, the city is getting a spate of new ones.

Visitors have had some rough times in the past trying to get reservations, particularly in the winter months when many conventions and other gatherings are scheduled simultaneously. The new structures should help considerably.

Among them is the 45-story New York Hilton, now a-building on the Avenue of the Americas — a thoroughfare most New Yorkers still call Sixth Avenue. The Hilton is located on the west side of the avenue between 53rd and 54th streets.

Not far away is another nostalgia — the 59 - story Pan American World Airways tower in preparation above New York Central Railroad tracks just behind Grnad Central Terminal.

The only other approaching its regal altitude is a 55-story office structure projected at Park Avenue and 49th Street.

Completed or scheduled for completion this year are 22 buildings, ranging from 14 to 59 stories, in Manhattan. Six others, of 21 to 50 stories, are due to be finished next year. The 50-floor building is an office structure at Park Avenue and 47th Street.

Scheduled for the future are 18 buildings, of 10 to 55 stories. Major office buildings completed in 1961 totaled 12. There were 11 in 1960, 21 in 1959, 16 in 1958 and 10 in 1956.

The high moorland known as Exmoor in England's Devon and Somerset Counties is dotted with prehistoric earthworks.

French Legion Tells Boys, 11, It'll Live On

BAY CITY (AP) — Billy St. Laurent, who is 11, worried that the famed French Foreign Legion might vanish.

He had read somewhere that this could happen in view of Algerian independence.

So he wrote a letter to the Foreign Legion and back from Africa, from the Legion's depot at Sidi Bel Abbes, came an answer — a package containing a battered old Legion brass bugle.

Billy had asked for a bugle. He was obliged. A note in French and English further assured him the Legion would go on.

Reds Charge Berlin Is 'Hotbed of War'

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China's official Peiping People's Daily, in a commentary coinciding with the first anniversary of the construction of the Communist wall around Berlin, said today the city is a "hotbed of war" that must be eliminated.

The commentary, quoted in part by a New China News Agency broadcast monitored here, said the Western nations are "playing with fire in West Berlin."

It asserted that the walled-in city must be turned into a demilitarized, free city.

Lack of Water Will Force Industry to Great Lakes Area

Several years ago, Pontiac's own FRANK W. STEERE declared that Michigan was one of the most fortunate states in the Union because we had the Great Lakes.

★ ★ ★

He asserted that the Nation's per capita consumption of water had increased so tremendously that other areas would eventually face an acute shortage. Over the years, people have started using many, many times as much water and industry has seized upon it even more avidly. This means that the Nation's watersheds and wells have been subjected to a fearful drain.

★ ★ ★

When Chief PONTIAC wanted a drink, he dispatched a squaw to the banks of the faithful, old Clinton and she filled a bag and brought it back to the Chief's wigwam.

It was that simple.

But those days are gone.

★ ★ ★

At a University of Chicago, conference, Sverre Petterssen, Chairman of Geophysical Sciences, declares that the Great Lakes possess about one-third of the total fresh water supply in the whole world. It's actually startling and it's hard to believe. He points out further that many areas in this country are finding the demand for industrial water more than they can meet right now. And this, he says, will result ultimately in a definite trend of thousands of established industries in other locale moving into the Great Lakes region.

★ ★ ★

Think of Michigan.

We're the absolute center.

Oh, we won't begrudge Ohio, Wisconsin and even Illinois and Indiana an occasional plant or at least a fairly sizeable subsidiary, but we'll take the main division, the highest salaried assembly line workers and all the administrative officials and supervisors.

★ ★ ★

This outstanding scientist envisions a belt of cities from Buffalo clear around the whole Great Lakes. This strip would be approximately 20 miles wide. Pontiac certainly qualifies for we're within 18 miles of St. Clair. And then, even beyond that, in a few years we'll have our water piped in from Lake Huron. And that's the equivalent of standing right on the shore line with the waves swishing across your personal brogans.

"This should be," says SVERRE PETTERSSEN, "simply the greatest industrial region on earth."

★ ★ ★

The good Doctor declares it's all "down the road a piece" although California is already feeling the water pinch. He suggests we start planning now for this ultimate expansion and tremendous growth.

Mr. STEERE, arise and take another bow.

You've earned plenty in your life and we're glad to salute you again.

Gossett Capable . . . .

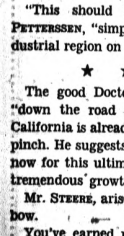
Without any extraneous nudging, I propose WILLIAM T. GOSSETT for the U.S. Supreme Court.



GOSSETT

Over many decades this omnipotent organization was sufficiently allwise and all-powerful to meet the demands of a lusty, growing republic and do so wisely, sanely and intelligently. Now it needs improvement and Mr. GOSSETT would strengthen the tribunal appreciably.

★ ★ ★

He may not be interested.

He has quietly slipped out of the active press of duties with the Ford Motor Company, but something of a more contemplative nature like the court might appeal. He is still vigorous and strong, and if you think he isn't meet him head-on in a golf match. His ability is unquestioned. Within a few short years Mr. Gossett would rank as one of the outstanding jurists on the Supreme bench and be so recognized within the profession and without.

★ ★ ★

Judging quite apart from sheer ability, and just through sentiment, you can be partial to Mr. GOSSETT in this connection, for he would be treading squarely in the footsteps of his distinguished father-in-law, CHARLES EVANS HUGHES.

Marilyn's Demise . . . .

The world has nothing but absolute contempt for the cheap, ill-mannered ghouls who desecrated MARILYN MONROE'S funeral rites. Arrest should have followed.

★ ★ ★

The unhappy victim of extreme adulation and publicity which were unfortunately beyond her ken, proves again that fame, finances and hero worship never spell out the first letter of the word "happiness."

Miss Monroe never knowingly did a wrong thing but she was the repeated victim of avarice, selfishness and bestial humans who preyed upon her good nature and lack of understanding. Whoever you are and wherever you are, thank God on bended knees tonight that you are yourself — and not a dream girl who had to slink in wearily to meet her Maker at the age of 36 when the world should have been bright, happy and promising.

And in Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

One of the most prolific painters, COROT, is estimated to have done 3,000 in his lifetime. Interestingly enough, 10,000 have been sold to gullible Americans . . . . . Don't be fooled by CRUMP'S 199-year sentence. LEOPOLD drew the same and was out in 33 years . . . . . The conservative Bookman says it's permissible to ask the blessing before meals in your own home — "providing you don't have guests." . . . . . I was probably the oldest attendant at the Lions' dress scrimmage at Wisner, and the youngest sat right in front of me. She was one (month).

★ ★ ★

I can't prove it but I'll bet a sugar cookie that if there's an income tax reduction, Kennedy will time it just ahead of the fall election. He's worried. . . . . Ed Sullivan heard in France that Chiang Kai-shek (slowly recovering from a secret operation of a year ago), may launch a reckless attack on Red China. Ed says the French are confident Ambassador Adm. Kirk will stop it. . . . . Trusted scouts advise me Karen Allshouse deserves mention as one of the area's most attractive girls. I agree. . . . . Russia's Valeriy Brumel expects to jump seven feet seven before the autumn ends. . . . . If Nixon fails in California, insiders believe a top aircraft company has an important post awaiting him.

★ ★ ★

Rumors about significant changes in Curtis Publishing Company ownership flourish unendingly. Originally it was NEWHOUSE and now it's HENRY LUCE (Time, Life, etc.) . . . . . Look: "In our youth, a perfect gift for an 18-year-old girl was a compact — and it still is, if it has four wheels." . . . . . The Gideons have put more than 50 million Bibles in sleeping rooms. Last year they passed out three million . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—the 11 per cent of Pontiac that voted; the J's—the 89 per cent that did not.

David Lawrence Says:

Court Confused Public on 'Prayer'

WASHINGTON — Justice Tom C. Clark of the Supreme Court of the United States broke precedent the other day in discussing publicly the recent decision in the famous "school prayer" case.

He said in a speech before the Commonwealth Club at San Francisco that errors in the public's interpretation of court decisions come sometimes largely because of "the haste with which news agencies are obliged to cover our announcements."

LAWRENCE

Justice Clark may not realize it, but much of the confusion and misinterpretation in this instance arose from statements by members of the court itself — the opinions written by Justice William O. Douglas, who concurred with the majority, and by Justice Potter Stewart, who dissented.

They did not prepare their opinions in haste. They had had an opportunity to examine carefully the majority opinion, written by Justice Black, before it was handed down by the court itself.

Justice Clark declared flatly that the court had not outlawed religious observance in public schools, and then added:

★ ★ ★

"The news announcements were not complete, most of them reciting the content of this 22-word prayer and the fact that the court had held it unconstitutional for a teacher to have her pupils recite it.

"The public response was immediate and critical. The mail is heaviest in years, the criticism the most pointed . . .

"But I found that as soon as the people understood the holding the trend changed. In fact, most of my mail was favorable. This was because, I believe, that the news agencies began to interpret the decision in the light of the facts . . .

" 'NO' MEANS 'NO' "

"Whether the school prayer was voluntary or not was not decisive. The Constitution says that the government shall take no part in the establishment of religion. 'No' means 'no.' As soon as the people learned that this was all the court decided they understood the basis on which the court acted.

"The trouble is that so often—like the claim of the wife—the court is never understood."

But it is still a question whether the public understands the "school prayer" case. Justice Stewart in his dissent said:

"With all respect, I think the court has misapplied a great constitutional principle. I cannot see how an 'official religion' is established by letting those who want to say a prayer say it.

"On the contrary, I think that to deny the wish of these school children to join in reciting this prayer is to deny them the opportunity of sharing in the spiritual heritage of our nation. . . ."

As for Justice Douglas, who "concurred" in the majority opinion of the court, he pointed out that what New York State was doing in opening its public school sessions each day with prayer is what is also done by each house of Congress and by the Supreme Court itself.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Those Housewife Jitters Call for Change of Pace

Q — I am 37, the mother of a 13-year-old son and a 12-year-old daughter. And I hate housework. And, because I hate it, I do it badly. No one can find anything because I can't keep things in their place.

It isn't that I don't really try. I just simply can't. I just feel terrible most of the time.

Only twice in my married life have I felt well; once for 22 months, when I worked in a factory, and again last year when I worked outside my home for six months, beginning right after the New Year.

After last July, when I was laid off, I had to keep house again. And again I feel terrible even though I've taken nerve medicines and vitamins.

Now I've an urge to destroy myself — or to just let everything go. Can you help me get straightened out?

A — Since I assume that your medicines were given by your physician who must have examined you, I shall also have to assume that you are not suffering from any medical illness or mental disease. If these assumptions are correct, you may be the victim of what I call "housewifitis."

In this condition, a woman of active mentality and a desire for the company and companionship of other workers rebels against the isolation and routine duties of a housewife.

Since you have had favorable responses to outside occupation, why don't you make a third trial? With your husband's consent and your children's cooperation, take a full-time or part-time job.

If none is available, work as a volunteer a few hours a day in your local hospital or church and see how you come out.

Perhaps if you get stimulus from rubbing shoulders with others in your community, you'll tackle your household duties with so much vim and vigor you'll get twice as much done in half the time.

Q — Our religious order is opposed to the use of vaccines. We have been given a pamphlet that is called "Diet Prevents Polio." Will this diet protect our children?

A — The United States Post Office has just proceeded against a foundation, charging that it "was receiving money through the mails as a result of false and fraudulent misrepresentations" contained in a booklet similar to the one you mention.

And the foundation, whose "health food" business "is estimated at some $3,000,000 a year" by the Food and Drug Administration, executed an affidavit of agreement with the Post Office and also agreed to discontinue these representations.

The Country Parson

"Loving your neighbor is like swimming — it does no good to pretend you do it, you don't."

Voice of the People:

'Shouldn't Allow Children to Play in Water Holes'

I am horrified at the way mothers let their children "go wading" (and even swimming) after one of these torrential rains. The water is filled with germs that have been washed off trees, houses, sidewalks, pavements and the ground itself.

★ ★ ★

When a deep hole fills, the little tots in the neighborhood hop in their swimsuits and splash around and lie in this filthy water. Naturally, they're laughing and shouting and they get a certain amount in their mouths in addition to the germs that are deposited all over their little bare bodies.

★ ★ ★

There are places for swimming, but the after-rain washouts are dangerous and uninviting.

I'm planning on joining the WACs and would appreciate if someone would give me any reason for not taking such a step.

My friends tell me "a girl doesn't have a very good reputation after she takes the uniform," and that "the opposite sex has little respect for her."

I don't want to believe what I hear but I don't know anyone who has actually been a WAC. I write this plea for someone to help me decide on my future. I am 19.

'India Buys Planes With Our Money'

Having spent millions of foreign aid dollars to befriend India, the United States is now watching Nehru pull another peaceable maneuver. India-Russian negotiations are in process for the Indian purchase and manufacture of Soviet MIG-21 jet fighter planes.

This is just one example of how our foreign aid program supposedly "benefits" us — by bolstering up India's economy so that she can purchase planes from the Communists.

Perhaps we ought to buy the fighter planes from the Soviets, and then present them to Nehru. But the American people would see the horror of that right away. It all adds up to the same thing: aiding the enemy.

Being a postal employe I know that this means millions of Christmas cards will be disposed of as waste this year unless people use 1st class postage. If it's worth sending, use 1st class to assure delivery.

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

General Motors

New York Journal American

What this country needs are more General Motors.

★ ★ ★

● It pays more taxes to the Federal Government than any other industrial corporation.

● It provides jobs for more workers than any other industrial company.

● In peace time it has brought out a wide range of products that have contributed to the higher American living standard.

● In war time it has played the major role in producing the weapons of victory.

● If there were more companies like GM, there would not be the present concern over the business outlook.

★ ★ ★

General Motors has just rolled up all-time records for sales, for employment, for wages and net income.

The company pays out more in income taxes on U.S. and foreign operations than is left for dividends on the common stock and for investment in plant and equipment.

In the first six months of this year GM paid $868 million in income taxes, which probably was a record.

This compares with net income of $769.8 million, after preferred dividends of $6.4 million.

★ ★ ★

Common shareowners — the risk takers—received $235.5 million in dividends. This left $685.5 million for investment in the business, without which no business can expand and provide more jobs.

★ ★ ★

So, the tax collector—chiefly the U.S.—without risk took more out of General Motors than the common stockholders. The tax bite also exceeded the combined common dividends and the earnings left after all charges for investment in plant and equipment.

In addition to the taxes GM pays Uncle Sam directly, the employes pay taxes on their wages and salaries and the shareowners on dividends at their personal rate. There are 386,718 shareowners and 605,725 employes.

★ ★ ★

GM is a fabulous operation and it got that way as a result of the development of a management team by Alfred P. Sloan Jr., who headed the company for many years.

The price of this success is continual attack by the Anti-Trust lawyers—and this has not been restricted just to the Democratic regimes. The biggest "victory" of the Anti-Trust was to force duPont to dispose of its holdings in GM on a claim there was the possibility of monopoly in around $26 million of business GM did with the duPont company. This was ridiculous, but not in the eyes of the Supreme Court, which more recently has taken a dim view of praying by school children.

There are pending four anti-trust actions against the company.

In these actions, sight is lost of the contribution to the overall economy. In the case of the Diesel engines, GM saw the possibilities when all other companies, and railroad managements as well were pushing steam engines. One of the most forward steps by the railroad industry was its acceptance of money saving Diesels.

★ ★ ★

Instead of tagging GM with suits, the Justice Department should be pinning a medal on its management. Anyway, Uncle Sam is a major partner in the enterprise, but the little anti-trust lawyers and some senators like Kefauver, would like to break up GM.

'Who Won War?'

Decatur (Ill.) Herald

Unemployment in West Germany is four-tenths of 1 per cent. Who won the war?

The Dublin Rat

New York Herald Tribune

Now Dublin, Va., has its rat. The Dublin rat is a super-rat. The Dublin variety is four-legged, beneficial and comes in either sex. It is known as the Dublin disease-resistant rat (the DDRR), and the world of science is beating a path to the door of its breeder, Steve Shelton, because he has a better rat.

★ ★ ★

"We think we've got a major breakthrough in the DDRR," he says. "It will replace the standard rat as now known."

Shelton operates a rat factory that sells 4,000 rats and mice a month to pharmaceutical houses and medical laboratories. The precautions to keep these vermin free of disease are formidable: employes wear masks, gowns and caps and must shower before coming into the presence of the animals. A sneeze recently cost the company $18,000 in contaminated mice.

★ ★ ★

But the DDRR, achieved through 20 generations of inbreeding, has its own natural antibodies to combat the colds and croup that so often strike down research animals in the Dublin of experiments. So Dublin will never resent being the rat-exporting capital of the world, a distinction formerly held by the Prussian village of Hamelin. For Hamelin had to pay its Pied Piper while Steve Shelton and his rats bring dollars to Dublin.

Infamous Berlin Wall Marks First Anniversary

By LEWIS WILLIAMS
State Editor, Nashville (Tenn.) Banner

Today is an anniversary — an anniversary of infamy which almost no one will celebrate.

A year ago today Communists began erection of a barrier which cleaved Berlin much like a butcher knife cleaves a pie, and left the populace of Eastern Berlin isolated in the dreary society begot by Soviet-dominated socialistic government manipulation.

The infamous "wall" has been a great embarrassment to the Reds, but it has served its purpose — to halt the flow of refugees from the intellectual Valhalla of Marxism to the booming prosperity of Western "capitalism."

The "wall" plugged up the Iron Curtain gap through which hundreds of thousands of East Germans fled from the end of World War II until a year ago. Some have managed to cross the wall during the past year and escape its armed guards, but many have been killed in the attempt.

The wall, perhaps the only barrier ever erected to keep a population IN, has been strengthened constantly since its beginning Aug. 13, 1961.

The pictures on this page capture the atmosphere existing in the area of the Russian-conceived "38th Parallel" of Berlin.

Recently, two American editors invited Nikita Khrushchev to visit the wall personally to witness conditions brought about by its existence.

Walker Stone, editor-in-chief of the Scripp Howard Newspaper, and Paul Miller, president of Gannett Newspapers, sent a letter to Khrushchev urging him to make a personal visit to the wall. The letter admonished the Communist leader that he would "have to see it to believe it."

The editors, who interviewed Khrushchev earlier at the Kremlin, stated in the letter that their impression of his attitude could be summarized as follows:

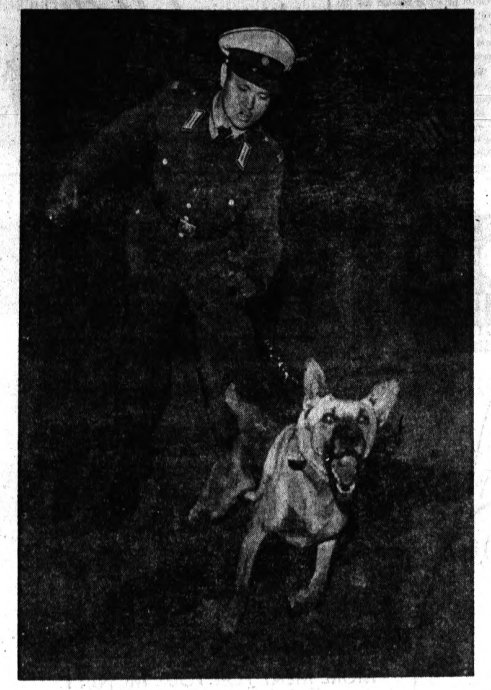
- The last vestiges of the war which ended 17 years ago should be wiped out by a peace treaty.
- The Soviet Union proposes to sign such a treaty with the government of East Germany and you are hopeful that it will be signed or acquiesced to by the United States, Great Britain and France.
- Such a treaty should establish what is now known as West Berlin as what you call a "free city."
- Such a solution must, in your view, include the withdrawal of U.S., U.K., and French troops from West Berlin.
- The people of Berlin would then feel more secure, more confident of the future, and be happier.
- Unless all this occurs, West Berlin will "wither on the vine."

Maj. Gen. Abert Watson, commander of the Berlin brigade, protector of the Western powers' interest in th city, recently was asked at his headquarters why the wall was not knocked down by NATO forces when it was constructed.

"That's an easy question to propose," the general answered. "But consider it this way: Suppose we had knocked it down, and the Communists had fallen back a few yards and built another. Then we knocked it down, and they fell back and constructed another.

"How far are we going in this matter of knocking down walls?"

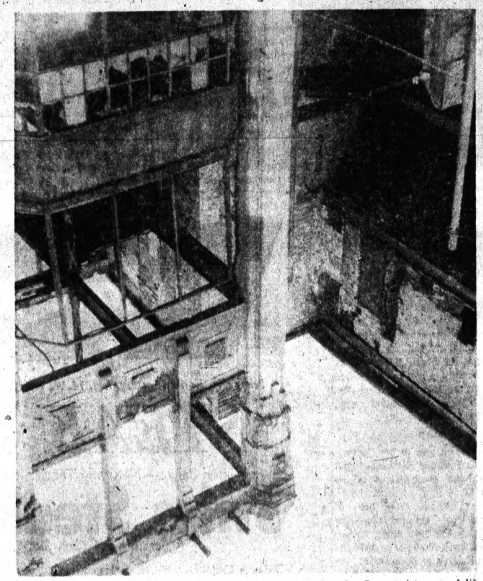
Today the "wall," consisting of about seven miles of masonry supplemented by 28 mies of barb-wire, still stands. It divides a city of more than three million persons into a living monument to the benefits of democracy and the penalties of communism.



A Berlin wall guard restrains his police dog from attacking a photographer. The guards, on both sides of the wall, display serious concern for the activities of their counterparts across the barrier. Many shots have been exchanged by the guards.

The Brandenburg Gate, formerly a symbol of German unity, has become a focal point of its schism, with the wall, hastily erected on Aug. 13, passing in front of it.

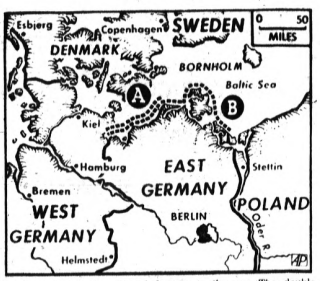
The East Berlin "Police" who actually constitute a strong military army, usually display a stern countenance, but the antics of this photographer broke through the military veneer. Most of the Berlin guards hide from photographers.



The destructive hand of war still is evident in East Berlin—17 years after the end of the world's greatest conflict. Ruins like these stand as monuments to the Communist way of life, in comparison to the modern steel and glass city that is West Berlin

This lonely East Berlin guard patrols the desolate "no man's land" which extend from the East Berin side of the wall. Heavy traffic flows along the west Berlin side.

Communist guards stroll past a Soviet War Memorial in East Berlin. There are strong military units of "peoples' police" and border guards in East Berlin, in addition to the Soviet Army units stationed there. The total force is approximately 70,000 troops.



The Iron Curtain has extended even to the sea. The double broken line (A) shows a carefully guarded 60-mile coastal area of East Germany where new restrictions, including special police stamps for residents, went into effect recently in attempts to halt refugees from fleeing by sea.

Another manifestation of the Iron Curtain is shown in this schematic drawing of the border between West Germany and Czechoslovakia. The border is marked by stones. The western side is marked only by signs warning "50 meters to border." On the Communist side is a plowed strip (to reveal footprints), two fences, one of them electrified, trip flares and "dragons' teeth" tank barriers and guard towers housing machine guns.

May Give Reds Vital Military Edge

Doubleheader in Space Awes Nations of World

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union's latest pioneering space feat was hailed abroad today as fantastic and vivid new proof of Soviet scientific prowess.

British scientists said the launching of two manned space ships into close orbits may give the Russians an important military edge as well as a large lead in the race with the United States to land a man on the moon.

Pope John XXIII said he hoped the new space experiment "would assume the significance of an homage to God."

"These historical events, as they are inscribed in the annals of scientific knowledge of space, could then become expressions of the true and peaceful progress, with a solid foundation, of the human fraternity," said the 80-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church.

'MOST REMARKABLE'

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank Radio Astronomy Observatory which tracked the Soviet space vehicles, called the Soviet feat "the most remarkable development man has ever seen—a striking demonstration of the depth of Russian resources—quite fantastic."

British scientists generally viewed the twin space vehicles in close orbit as giving the Soviet Union an impressive lead over the United States in space research.

Some said the Russians might land a man on the moon years ahead of the first American astronaut.

★ ★ ★

They added it could lead to an early development of anti-satellite satellites that could destroy spying space vehicles such as the U.S. Midas and Samos satellites.

★ ★ ★

"It is fantastic shooting to get a second spaceman into orbit within a few miles of the other after 24 hours," said Leonard Carpenter, secretary of the British Interplanetary Society.

Prof. Takeo Hatanaka of Tokyo University said: "It would worsen the international tension if the Soviet Union used these successful launchings" as a cold war tool.

'BETTER THAN BOMBS'

The Manila Times said: "If the Soviets have to prove their scientific edge over the Americans, this is where they should do it, not in the endless succession of nuclear bomb tests that pollute the atmosphere with every explosion."

Kuo Mao-jao, president of the Communist Chinese Academy of Sciences, congratulated the Russians and said their accomplishment "testifies anew to the advanced, outstanding achievements of Soviet science and technology."

New Zealand Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake said in a statement the twin space flights "must command the admiration of all people."

Many European newspapers said the new Soviet achievement emphasized its lead over the United States in space research.

But London's Daily Telegraph said it was "still too early to speculate whether the Russians will maintain their lead, or whether the lunar conquest may be made by Americans."

West Germany's largest newspaper, the Frankfurt Bildzeitung, termed the accomplishment an attempt to steer world opinion away from today's first anniversary of the Communist wall dividing Berlin.

MERRY MOSCOVITES — Pictures of Russian space heroes are carried by happy Moscovites during a celebration in Red Square Sunday following the news of the successful orbiting of a second successive cosmonaut. The pictures, supplied by the Soviet news agency Tass, bear a likeness to Lt. Col. Popovich and Maj. Nikolayev the space companions.

Reds Check Ability of One U. S. Chemist

NORWALK, Calif. (AP)—Five men from the Russian ministry of higher and secondary specialized education toured Cerritos College here, concentrating on science facilities and curriculum.

Chief of the delegation Boris Kuzmin, asked chemistry instructor Ev Baker to weigh a Russian coin. Baker measured it on an automatic balance and gave an answer of 1.0001 gram.

"Very good," said Kuzmin. "You are within 1/10,000th of a gram."

Bedouins Moving Into Stone Houses

WASHINGTON — The centuries-old desert life of the Bedouins is undergoing a basic change — a few are folding their tents and moving to new stone houses.

But the change is slow. Most nomadic tribesmen still drive their flocks of goats, sheep and camels from one remote water hole to the next.

★ ★ ★

The estimated five million desert dwellers who make their home in the windy and sun-blasted wastelands of the Near East and North Africa demonstrate man's ability to adapt to almost impossible living conditions.

CAMEL IS INDISPENSABLE

During the desert's furnace-hot days, whole families and tribes trek across a land whose heaven is "as iron" and whose earth is "as brass."

Camels have been the transport of Bedouins and a measure of desert wealth since pre-Biblical times.

Bedouin tribes once fought on camelback. The "ship of the desert" is famed for carrying heavy loads many waterless miles, the National Geographic Society reports.

A Bedouin drinks the camel's thick, sweet milk, spins its hair into tents and clothing, turns the hide into water pouches and saddles, and uses the dung for fuel.

Occasionally, when the rules of hospitality demand, the humped animal may render his last service on the tribal feast platter.

Bedouins are intensely proud people. At night before retiring to their smoke-blackened tents, tribesmen gather around campfires to recite handed-down Arab verse recalling the tribe's past glories.

★ ★ ★

Most Bedouins can afford only one wife, though polygamy is practiced. By Moslem tradition, wives show their faces only to their husbands and close relatives.

The women don black garments and veils in public, though some wear bright-colored jewelry in their nostrils and decorate their faces with intricate blue tatooing.

DESERT DETECTIVES

But the winds of civilization are blowing into the desert.

Oil companies drilling in the always changing sandscape of Saudia Arabia employ Bedouins as guides. The wandering lords of the desert read the shifting sands to locate an occasional lost party.

Tribesmen drive trucks and are trained to operate complicated rigging equipment. Children attend oil company schools. Doctors train Bedouin assistants.

Shah of Iran Takes Son Off Government Payroll

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The Shah has taken his son, Crown Prince Reza, off the government payroll and from now on will supply his salary out of his own pocket.

In a letter to Prime Minister Assadullah Alam the minister of the royal court said the Shah had decided on this to help the government reduce an estimated budget deficit of $70 million.

The government had previously decided to impose a 15 per cent cut on the budgets of all ministeries.

To Show 7 MM Films

CAIRO (AP)—Seven Marilyn Monroe films are to be shown next week in one of Cairo's most luxurious movie houses in a "Marilyn Monroe festival week."

Who'll Be New Marilyn? Nobody — for Long Time

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Who'll be the new Marilyn Monroe?

Is Elizabeth Taylor—or some now unknown starlet—to emerge as the sex symbol of the sexy Sixties and Seventies?

No! Not in our time. Marilyn idolized—and copied—Jean Harlow. Before Jean, there was Clara Bow, and now there isn't anybody any more.

WILSON

Looking back now on a friend who is gone, I'd say Marilyn had a daring, a flair. A friend remembers once when Marilyn was in a littered hotel room here —she always littered them—making up to go to an opening of "Some Like It Hot."

"Marilyn," the friend said, "that makeup is not only exaggerated, it's absolutely vulgar."

Marilyn was silent. The friend said, "You're in New York now—not Hollywood. New York people you're going to see tonight have some taste."

★ ★ ★

"I want to teach you something," Marilyn replied. "I'm not making up for those people. I'm making up for those people across the street who'll not get close to me. But when I wave to them, they'll see me."

When Marilyn merely walked across the stage at Madison Square Garden, they went crazy.

"Where did you get that walk?" they asked her once. "Honest," she said, "I never took a lesson in my life." The truth is that Groucho Marx, in one of her first movies, told her, "Here, walk like this."

He did an exaggerated, comical wiggle, with emphasis on the tossing of the derriere. Marilyn did that bounce for the rest of her life.

★ ★ ★

Liz Taylor'll have more money but she'll never have the allure MM had. There's only one born every generation. How sad it is that she always felt alone.

Once Marilyn found who her father was and went to see him. He was a California farmer, well-off. He brushed her off.

"I was looking for a friend, and he thought I had come to borrow money," Marilyn reported later. Life, and death, seemed always like that for the girl whose wiggle and words so eloquently symbolized this crazy era.

EARL'S PEARLS: "The best way for a housewife to have a few minutes completely to herself at the end of the day is to start doing the dishes."—Santa Fe Magazine.

"She has everything a singer should have," Henny Youngman said, introducing a new vocalist, "and a good voice, too." . . . That's earl, brother.

Leader Says Part of United States Should Be Given to Negroes

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Elijah Muhammed, leader of the Black Muslim movement, said Sunday God might have mercy on white people if Negroes are given part of the United States as their own.

The 64-year-old Negro said white people should not "keep us just to beat on."

In repeating his request part of the country be set aside for Negroes Muhammed said, "If you want us to stay here with you, separate us, let us live in one part of the country."

He said: "We can't overthrow the gove force, we have no arr siness to say we c overthrow the gover

Muh d the United States s y. "I'll give you a nice place to live and I will help you get started."

He spoke to a crowd estimated by police Capt. John McGovern at 3,500, including 100 whites. The auditorium will seat 14,000.

Muhammed, who spoke for two hours, spent most of his time giving his interpretation of the Bible and the Islamic religion.
