Seek to Renew Panama Talks

PANAMA (AP)—The Inter-American Peace Commission launched efforts today to break a deadlock between Panama and the United States on the proceedings for a settlement of the Canal Zone crisis.

The five-member commission met in closed session with Edwin M. Martin, chief negotiator for the United States, and Panama Foreign Minister Galileo Solis amid reports Panama has demanded the withdrawal of U.S. diplomats.

Talks aimed at restoring diplomatic relations, severed by Panama at the height of the crisis last week, broke down after a midnight meeting on a Panamanian demand for a U.S. pledge for full revision of the Panama Canal treaty, diplomatic sources said.

It was reported in Washington that Panama has notified the United States it intends to go through with a complete break in diplomatic relations and is calling for the U.S. diplomats to get out.

In that situation, President Johnson would appear to have no choice, under normal international procedure, but to order the departure of the ranking U.S. diplomat, Wallace Stuart, and his staff.

Solis said Panama's present position is that there will be no resumption of diplomatic relations until the United States gives an assurance that it will undertake talks immediately for a new treaty.

In the past, he said, the United States has taken the position, whenever similar situations have arisen in recurrent crises, that it will not negotiate under pressure. But when things quieted down again, he said, nothing happened.

Solis said his government would decide within 24 hours on a country to take over Panamanian affairs in Washington—the final step in severance of relations.

Zanzibar Aid by Castroites?

Island Refugees Say Some Rebels Cuban

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) — Some U.S. and British refugees from turbulent Zanzibar said today Spanish-speaking men in Castro-like uniforms were among the rebel forces that overthrew the Spice Island's Arab government.

The U.S. destroyer Manley arrived with all but two of the 63 Americans on Zanzibar and a few nationals from other countries. The Americans were ordered out because bands of African nationalists were roaming streets, shooting and looting.

Stuart Lillicoe, public affairs officer of the U.S. Embassy in Zanzibar, told reporters a Cuban-looking man led the rebels who captured the office of the Cable and Wireless Co., British communications concern.

He said the man understood English but replied in Spanish and spoke no Swahili, the most common language of Zanzibar.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Embassy in Zanzibar received a tip that trouble was ahead Saturday, Lillicoe added, but there was no confirmation.

★ ★ ★

Peter Delafose, a British refugee, said he was certain there were Cubans among the rebels. He saw two men with Castro-like jackets and thought he saw a Chinese in one rebel band.

Daniel Shaiman of Maplewood, N.J., who was in Zanzibar with his wife as a tourist, said he saw troops wearing Cuban-type uniforms.

COUNTING RETURNS — Proponents, opponents, newsmen, city officials and just interested parties gathered in the city clerk's office last night to record the vote in yesterday's special election. Among those who kept track of the votes were (from lower left, clockwise) Louis H. Schimmel Jr., Victor L. Smothers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nasstrom, Press reporter Dick Saunders and City Clerk Olga Bargeley.

8,861 to 3,375 Is Final Tally Cast on Issue

Unexpected Turnout Tops Constitution, Commission Elections

By DICK SAUNDERS

A City Charter amendment providing for nomination by district and at-large election of city commissioners was overwhelmingly approved yesterday as Pontiac voters flocked to the polls.

The amendment drew 8,861 "yes" votes against 3,375 "no" votes, for a 5,486-vote winning margin.

Officials of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce were jubilant at the outcome. They had sponsored the amendment.

An unexpected 12,289 voters turned out to decide the issue, according to preliminary tabulations by City Clerk Olga Barkeley.

★ ★ ★

The temperature never topped 19 degrees, and the day was marked by occasional snow flurries. But 41 per cent of Pontiac's 29,804 registered voters cast ballots.

CON-CON VOTE

In April 1963, the new state constitution drew less than 35 per cent to polls in Pontiac.

The total vote at the April 1962 City Commission election was nearly 2,000 lower than yesterday's total.

Preelection estimates were that about 5,000 would turn out to vote. By noon, it became evident the turnout would be higher.

★ ★ ★

Only in District 1, Commissioner Milton R. Henry's district, was the amendment defeated. The margin for "no" votes there was 1,420.

SIX APPROVE

All other districts approved the amendment, with winning margins ranging from 38 votes in District 7 to 2,078 in District 5. Voters favored the amendment in 34 of the city's 43 precincts.

Henry was the only commissioner whose home precinct voted against adoption of the amendment. Voters in Mayor Robert A. Landry's precinct approved it 98 to 63.

Commissioner Dick M. Kirby's home precinct approved it 325 to 71; Commissioner Loy L. Ledford's precinct approved it 149 to 78; and it was approved 271 to 51 in Mayor Pro Tem Winford E. Bottom's precinct.

★ ★ ★

Landry, Bottom, Kirby, Henry and Ledford had opposed the charter amendment.

HIGHER THAN '62

The percentage of votes cast was higher in every district than it was in the April 1962 commission election.

Highest was District 2, where 53.6 per cent of the registered voters turned out. The lowest district turnout was 34.6 per cent in District 4.

Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr., who supported the amendment, saw it approved 270 to 16 in his home precinct, while it was adopted 318 to 25 in Commissioner Charles H. Harmon's precinct.

Harmon did not take sides on the charter amendment.

After the final tally last night, Mayor Landry congratulated

Still Time to Register for Primary

Yesterday's special election was the first election in Pontiac this year but not the last.

If you weren't registered to vote yesterday, you have 21 days left to become an eligible voters in the spring primary.

For the Pontiac City Clerk's Office, the paper work involving elections is just beginning.

★ ★ ★

Here's a rundown on the election calendar for voters and prospective City Commission candidates.

SPRING PRIMARY

Feb. 3 — Deadline for registering to vote in the spring primary at which city commission candidates will be chosen for the ballot in April's final election.

Feb. 11 — Deadline for prospective candidates to file nominating petitions.

March 2 — Primary election.

★ ★ ★

March 23 — Deadline for registering to vote in the April City Commission election.

★ ★ ★

M59 Dispute Near Accord

Businessmen, State Seek Detour Routes

Highland Road businessmen and the State Highway Department are close to agreement in their dispute over the closing of a stretch of M59 for a widening project.

A hearing before Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore yesterday was continued until Friday to give the Oakland County Road Commission time to decide whether it can approve a couple of proposed shorter detour routes.

Eleven businessmen, backed by a newly formed M59 Businessmen's Association, seek an injunction preventing the state from closing M59 to through traffic between Elizabeth Lake and Airport roads.

★ ★ ★

A temporary restraining order blocked the scheduled Jan. 3 closing of the 3.4-mile stretch for a six- to eight-month period while the two-lane pavement was widened to five lanes.

FEAR LOSSES

Although local traffic was to be maintained, merchants said they feared disastrous business losses if access to their stores was so inconvenient even local traffic would be discouraged.

However, the businessmen withdrew a previous suggestion that a temporary bridge could be built over the Clinton River west of Crescent Lake Road.

The highway department claimed construction of a new bridge there made through traffic impossible.

The issue was narrowed down yesterday to two possible detours, both much shorter than the previously announced detour via Telegraph Road, Dixie Highway and Williams Lake Road.

Both would permit access to Highland Road business places with less inconvenience to motorists by allowing cars to proceed much further on M59 and still get through.

One of the proposed detours would swing north on Crescent Lake Road and connect with Airport Road via Tubbs.

The other, even shorter, would use residential roads south of M59. Both provide bridges over the river.

Press to Sponsor 5th Cook School

The fifth annual cooking school sponsored by The Pontiac Press starts Jan. 28. It will continue for four days at Pontiac Central High School.

Presented this year by the Susan Lowe Cooking School, the demonstration will feature a wide variety of recipes.

Doors to the high school auditorium will open at 12:30 p.m. The school will start at 1:30. This is an earlier starting time than in previous years.

★ ★ ★

During a 20-minute intermission each day, Hoffman's Pontiac Freezer Foods will present a demonstration on meat.

TICKETS AVAILABLE

Readers will be able to send for or pick up two tickets for each day's program. The coupon will be in Wednesday's paper.

Another change in this year's school will be the appearance of local home economists working with Susan Lowe.

Mary Jackson and Harriet Cannon of Consumers Power Co. will assist Miss Lowe.

Bags of groceries and food prepared during the programs will be given away as prizes each day.

In addition to this, two Tappan gas ranges and a Necchi portable sewing machine will be grand prizes on Friday. The complete prize list will be announced later.

Warm-Up Due Next 2 Days

The weatherman predicts temperatures will climb to a high of 28 tomorrow. Tonight's low will be near 16.

WARMER

Thursday is expected to be partly cloudy and slightly warmer.

Morning southwesterly winds at 8 miles per hour will become 8 to 15 m.p.h. tonight.

★ ★ ★

The low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a. m. was 4. By 2 p.m., the thermometer had warmed up to 24.

Texas City Bans Cigarette Sales

EASTLAND, Tex. (AP) — An ordinance prohibiting the sale or smoking of cigarettes within the city limits has been passed by the Eastland City Council.

★ ★ ★

The city fathers, in a meeting yesterday, provided a penalty for violation of the no-cigarette ordinance of a fine up to $1,000 and imprisonment for three years.

★ ★ ★

The city leaders stated that "the severe penalties were written into the ordinance just to make people understand that the council is serious about this thing." They added that there would be no attempt to enforce the law in people's homes.

today. Huge drifts marooned thousands of travelers overnight.

The death toll was at least 71.

The storm system that swirled into blizzard proportions in the Northeast dumped more than two feet of snow in some sections.

Gale-force winds piled the snow into drifts—some 20 feet high.

★ ★ ★

Many school systems, including those in New York City and Philadelphia, closed today.

BUSINESSES SHUT

Business and school closings were widespread yesterday and today.

About 3,000 travelers spent the night at Kennedy International Airport in New York after all flights were canceled because of drifts on the runways.

In Pennsylvania, 250 pupils were marooned overnight at a high school.

THOUSANDS STRANDED

The midwestern half of the storm battered Illinois, Indiana and Ohio yesterday, leaving thousands snowbound.

Drifts were reported 20 feet high in some Ohio areas.

Youngstown, Ohio, with 16 inches of snow, called it the worst snowstorm in 13 years.

St. Louis had 8.1 inches, the most in six years.

FLORIDA SNOW

The southern half of the storm brought Florida its first snow in six years. It melted quickly, but plunging temperatures were the main concern with below-freezing temperatures recorded in central Florida.

The storms converged and their combined punch smacked the Northeast.

Washington's nine inches was the heaviest snowfall in nearly six years. Morgantown, W. Va., had 16 inches.

New York City and environs were hit by a foot or more of snow that slowed homebound commuters last night.

The principal suburban highways on Long Island were virtually impassable for several hours.

Amendment Overwhelmingly Passed

the Jaycees for "their tremendous campaign" and said he was pleased by "the high interest of our citizens in their local government as shown by the total vote.

"I am happy about the support from people in District 7," he said, referring to a relatively heavy "no" vote.

"On the basis of the yet unanswered question as to whether or not this (amendment) was aimed at Commissioner Henry, I have decided to be a candidate for reelection from District 7," the mayor announced.

★ ★ ★

He said that "only time will tell" if the amendment would work and if it didn't work "for the betterment of all," the commission would likely propose further charter amendments in the next few years.

"I hold no personal animosity toward the Jaycees, The Pontiac Press or anyone connected with the charter change," he noted.

"I'm sure the commission will happily abide by this decision of a majority of the public."

Richard C. Fitzpatrick, Jaycee president, said, "I want to thank all those who worked and helped us in our efforts to campaign for the amendment.

★ ★ ★

"Now, our work is done. Regardless of what opponents of the amendment may think, we are through," he noted.

NO 'SLATE' PLANS

"We have no plans for any further action on the charter, nor do we have any plans for partisan support of any 'slate' of candidates in the coming election."

Henry, the lone Negro commissioner, said, "I think the amendment was a great mistake and will become a monster."

Referring to the coming spring election, Henry said "I think they're going to vote me out," but thanked the people in his district "for voting for me as a man" in his stand against the amendment.

★ ★ ★

Taylor, in a brief statement, said he was "proud of the Jaycees" and thanked the "hundreds of people who backed something that will work to benefit the city as a whole.

CONTINUE EFFORT

"I hope they will continue to keep an eye out for good government."

Kirby said, "I'm very proud of the city getting out to vote like this on a cold day. I still think this will lead to a slate-type of election campaign, but if this is what the people want, we'll go along with it."

Ledford, Bottom and Harmon were unavailable for comment.

School Survey Shows Needs

By PAT McCARTY

The Bloomfield Hills School District needs about $5.5 million worth of schools and it hasn't long to tarry, according to a Michigan State University survey team.

At a special meeting last night, the school board reviewed the steady growth of school population in the district, looked at enrollment projections for the next five years and considered the alternatives facing it.

Now educating about 5,100 youngsters, the board looked to methods of handling the anticipated 1968 enrollment of 7,357.

The number will continue to expand as it has in the past — at a rate of about 500 a year, the MSU consultants said. However, they predicted there would be a 700-student "bulge" by the end of the current school year.

IMMEDIATE NEEDS

Needed immediately are additional elementary classrooms, they said. During the next five years, a total of 53 classrooms should be built for the first six grades.

Also on the recommended agenda are a new high school, a new junior high and junior high additions.

The team suggested that 23 elementary rooms plus auxiliary space be added to existing buildings by September 1965.

★ ★

To convert each building to a triple unit with 20 classrooms, Booth School would require six more rooms, Conant six, Hickory Grove four and Pine Lake seven. Among auxiliary areas, they emphasized the need for a library at Hickory Grove.

2 NEW SCHOOLS

The rest of the elementary expansion they suggested would be in two new schools with 13 rooms each.

The best time for completion of a new high school would be the school year 1965-66, the educators agreed.

By June 1966, high school enrollment should be about 1,351. The present facility was constructed to house 1,075.

Board members discussed employing the survey team to set up qualifications for the high school.

Intensive study, possibly taking six months to two years, would be required to shape the kind of program for which the school should be constructed, they noted. In this way the building would be determined by the program, rather than being allowed to restrict the program.

The MSU team was asked to estimate its fee for the service within the next two weeks.

Recommendations for junior high school expansion involved 16 more classrooms at East Hills, four more at Bloomfield Hills and the construction of a third junior high school on Lone Pine by September 1968.

★ ★ ★

By that time, total junior high school enrollment would be in the neighborhood of 1,700.

An administration building should be constructed on the site east of the high school recently acquired by the board, the team said.

"Completion of this structure (by June 1965) would make additional classrooms available for use by the high school during the construction year of the second high school," according to the report.

★ ★ ★

With this preliminary report in hand, the board members will now study its implications, deciding whether they agree with it and, if so, how many bond issues would be necessary.

MILLAGE NEEDS

Talk last night tended toward consideration of one millage request, which Supt. Eugene Johnson said would be about $5.5 million.

★ ★ ★

Administrators are now preparing more definite estimates and bonding procedures to aid the board in its consideration of what Johnson termed "the last big push."

★ ★ ★

A bond issue vote this spring would follow by three years the approval of a $2.2 million debt by taxpayers in 1961.

ROBERT F. KENNEDY

Troubleshoots in Far East

Bob Kennedy Goes as LBJ Spokesman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy leaves today on a troubleshooting mission for President Johnson—a meeting with Indonesian President Sukarno on the Malaysian situation.

The White House said Monday that Kennedy probably will see Sukarno Thursday in Tokyo where the Indonesian leader will be vacationing.

★ ★ ★

Assistant White House press secretary Andrew Hatcher said Monday that Kennedy would be discussing the Malaysian situation with Sukarno.

Sukarno has publicly and repeatedly vowed his intention to crush "neo-colonialism" in Malaysia—meaning British support of the newly formed state.

MESSAGE TO SUKARNO

Only last week Johnson sent Sukarno a message. It is believed to have dealt with U.S. concern over the rising frequency of border incidents in North Borneo, a Malaysian state which borders Indonesia.

Another possible topic in the Kennedy-Sukarno talks is a provision in the new foreign aid bill. It would prohibit U.S. assistance to Indonesia unless Johnson makes a positive finding that it is in the best interests of the United States.

Citizen Unit to Evaluate Bloomfield Twp. Needs

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—A citizens' study committee was established last night to take a hard look at Bloomfield Township's potential and to evaluate various types of government suitable for it.

The Township Board expressed enthusiasm for the study proposed by Supervisor Homer Case.

"I hope the committee members will probe this community to its depths," Trustee Robert M. Sinclair said.

★ ★ ★

Among his suggestions on the group's organization was appointment of a "hard-driving leader."

CONSIDER NEEDS

He urged that subcommittees be established to consider the several needs of the rapidly growing community.

The subcommittees concerned with topics like recreation, roads, welfare and public safety would then survey the community to relate needs to possible solutions.

Sinclair also suggested that a timetable be established "so the study doesn't go on for two years or so."

★ ★ ★

Case said the township is now operating under "an antique form of government."

EXPANDED NEEDS

Its problems are centered in providing services to its expanding population, estimated at 27,500.

The supervisor emphasized all forms of local government would be studied.

Although he has offered arguments in favor of the township's adopting a charter, Case said the committee could very well decide some other form was more suitable.

★ ★ ★

The type must be chosen by the people to be effective, he commented.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Among the 15 members of the committee are former Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner; Tony Guyer, chairman of committees for the Oakland County Board of Supervisors; and Milo Cross, Pontiac State Bank president.

Others are Richard H. McGraw, Bloomfield Hills Board of Education trustee; Charles Wiggins, the township's civil defense representative; John King, a member of the Oakland Citizens League; and Ed M. Hill, representing United Homeowners.

Also picked were Chad Ritchie of Michigan Bell Telephone Co.; George Cousins, a local businessman; Joseph Hainline, director of public relations for Fisher Body Division; and Robert Hackett, a Pontiac attorney.

★ ★ ★

Representing the League of Women Voters will be Mrs. Robert Sinclair, Mrs. Robert Sheldon, Mrs. John Rumsey and Mrs. Robert Knight, also a member of the American Association of University Women.

Case hopes to name three or four more members and appoint a chairman at the Township Board's next meeting, Jan. 27.

The Birmingham City Commission last night rejected a proposal to rezone a single residential parcel on Lincoln Avenue to multiple dwellings but did not shut the door on other possible rezoning of the property.

★ ★ ★

While denying the change for the property owned by the Church of Christ just east of Floyd, the commission asked City Planner William Brownfield to schedule a discussion on the matter at its next joint meeting with the Planning Board.

A few commissioners said they realized the problem the church faces in selling the property as it is now zoned but would like to review the zoning of the area surrounding the property before any further action is taken.

The church purchased the property to build a new structure but later located elsewhere.

★ ★ ★

Henry Hogan, attorney for the church, told the commission that the property is "not conducive" to residential building because of the heavy traffic on Lincoln.

Most of the objectors to the change live on Floyd and their rear lot lines back up to the side lot lines of the church property.

Group to Act on Home Rule

Final Touches Due County Enabling Act

The governor's study committee is expected to put the finishing touches on its proposed county home rule enabling act Saturday at a closed-door meeting in the Oakland County Courthouse Auditorium.

Committee member Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, said the proposed act won't be revealed publicly until after it has been presented to Gov. George Romney within the next few days.

Hamlin said the committee's proposal will be different from any of those presented at public hearings by various groups interested in county home rule.

★ ★ ★

The 10-member committee headed by Horace Hodges of Bay City, chairman of the State Association of County Supervisors, held three public hearings and two previous executive sessions.

"I think our bill is one that will be looked on favorably by the State Legislature," said Hamlin.

ENABLE VOTERS

The bill in itself wouldn't give any county home rule, but would enable county voters to decide whether they want to change their form of local government.

★ ★ ★

The problem, said Hamlin, "is finding something that will work in all counties interested in some changes.

Search Seas for 5 Off Boat

Schooner Abandoned by Family, Skipper

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Air and surface vessels searched heavy seas 160 miles east of Jacksonville today for five persons forced to abandon a sinking schooner.

The Coast Guard identified them as Mr. and Mrs. John Pelton, their two children, and Capt. Christopher de Grabosski, skipper of the schooner, the Enchantress.

Ages and addresses were unavailable as were the names of the children. The vessel left Charleston, S.C., Jan. 10 for St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands.

The last word from the 58-foot schooner was a distress message that water was knee-deep in the cabin and that the passengers and skipper were going over the side in two dinghies. All had life jackets.

SINKING CONDITION

Seventeen minutes earlier, the schooner had radioed she was in sinking condition and asked assistance.

Visibility was described as fair in the area being searched. Winds were estimated at 30 knots. The water temperature was 75 degrees, indicating a good chance for survival, the Coast Guard said.

In the area were the Navy aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt; two destroyers, the Power and Perry; the freighter Alcour; the tanker Esso Baltimore, the Coast Guard cutter Sweetgum and several aircraft.

★ ★ ★

The Roosevelt arrived last night to start the search. Seas were so rough that carrier planes aiding in the hunt were unable to land on the carrier and returned to Jacksonville Naval Air Station.

SEEK LOCATION

The Coast Guard asked the schooner to continue radio transmission as long as possible so that a fix could be obtained on the schooner's location.

Someone started counting.

Later, a child was heard counting slowly to 100.

Gradually, the voice faded away.

Exec Denies Deal

'No Split With Baker'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Miami, Fla., vending machine operator denied to Senate investigators today that commissions he expected from a vending contract with a Washington area defense plant were to be shared with former Senate aide Robert G. Baker.

Eugene A. Hancock, president of Automatic Vending Services, Inc., testified that under an agreement he made in July 1963, with Interstate Vending of Chicago he was to receive a commission on gross sales from machines placed in the Falls Church, Va., plant of Melpar Inc.

Although Hancock said he never has been paid, he told the Senate Rules Committee he was to receive a 1 per cent commission on gross sales from the vending machine business at Melpar and ½ of 1 per cent on gross sales of food in the plant's cafeteria.

★ ★ ★

Referring to these commissions, Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., asked: "Isn't it true that Baker was to share in it?"

"No, sir," Hancock replied.

DOESN'T KNOW

Curtis asked why Baker was "active" in helping Interstate to obtain the contract at Melpar, an electronics firm with government defense contracts.

"I don't know," Hancock replied.

The vending contract at Melpar has become a focal point in the committee's investigation of the outside business interests of Baker, who resigned under fire on Oct. 7 as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

Testimony yesterday, before Hancock first took the witness chair, brought out that Baker had participated in a Florida land venture with Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., and Scott I. Peek, former administrative assistant to Smathers.

★ ★ ★

L. P. McLendon, the committee's special counsel, told newsmen the whole land transaction will be investigated thoroughly. He indicated Peek would be a witness later but said he didn't know yet whether Smathers would be called.

★ ★ ★

After yesterday's hearing Smathers issued a statement saying he had sold Baker and Peek a one-eighth interest each in a real estate investment in central Florida he made in 1957.

Realtors Schedule Banquet

A review of the effects of automation on our economic society will be heard by the Pontiac Board of Realtors at its annual banquet next Tuesday evening.

Paul McNamara, District Sales Manager for Burroughs Corp., will be the guest speaker at the banquet in the Pontiac Elks Temple beginning at 6:30 p. m.

Realtors will install their 1964 officers, headed by President Philip E. Rowston of 60 Cherokee.

★ ★ ★

Officers were elected in October. They include Rowston, three new members of the board of directors, and new secretary, Lewis Hileman Sr.

OTHER OFFICERS

Kenneth G. Hempstead and Thomas Bateman were reelected treasurer and vice president respectively last October.

Some 500 persons are expected to attend the banquet.

★ ★ ★

Circuit Judge William J. Beer will preside as master of ceremonies.

Tickets are available through any realtor.

Area Navy Pilot Rescued

SAN DIEGO, Calif (UPI) — A Navy pilot from Franklin, Michigan, was rescued yesterday from Pacific Ocean waters off the southern coast of Japan after his attack bomber fell 54 feet from the flight deck of the carrier Oriskany into the water, the Navy Air Force Pacific Fleet announced.

Rescued minutes after the fall and treated for minor injuries was Ens. David B. Small, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Small, of 24655 N. Cromwell.

The plane, an A4B Skyhawk jet attack bomber, was lost.

3 American Advisers Wounded in Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Three American advisers were reported wounded in South Viet Nam today. One of them, a U.S. Army sergeant, was in a Vietnamese unit that lost eight killed and 23 wounded in battle with the Viet Cong west of Saigon.

A U.S. Air Force captain suffered burns and minor scratches when his T28 fighter plane crash landed 100 yards short of Bien Hoa airfield. The other U.S. casualty was another U.S. Army sergeant shot in the leg during operations with a Vietnamese unit.

RECEIVE CLOTHING — Pontiac public schools yesterday began their seventh annual drive to collect used clothing. Herrington School students (from left) Lillian Gilbert, 1334 Mt. Clemens, Melvin Reeves, 1298 Maurer, and Brad Cremer, 1249 Featherstone, aid the week-long campaign, in which students hope to collect 20,000 pounds of wearable clothing.

Head-On Collision Hospitalizes Three

Three persons were admitted to Pontiac General Hospital yesterday following a head-on crash on Baldwin near Princeton.

In serious condition is one of the drivers, Mrs. Rowena M. Hermanson, 41, of Warren. Her daughter, Lois Ann, 12, is in satisfactory condition with facial lacerations.

The other driver, Marvin Delgado, 21, of 54 Close also is in satisfactory condition. He suffered knee injuries.

Police said the collision occurred when Delgado crossed the center line to pass another car.

'JFK, Walker Gun Is Likely the Same'

DALLAS (AP)—State Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said last night that evidence had been uncovered which made it likely the gun used to kill President Kennedy also was used in a sniper's attempt on former Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

The reported attempt on Walker's life came in April of 1963.

★ ★ ★

Carr, in a speech before the Highland Baptist Church brotherhood, did not indicate what the evidence was or how it was uncovered.

He also said the FBI report on its investigation of the President's assassination should be in the hands of Dallas District Atty. Henry Wade this week.

5-Day Surge Is Over

Back to Normal Loafing on Job

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Life is getting back to normal in the average American business office, and everybody feels better.

BOYLE

At the start of a new year, there is always a tremendous surge of efficiency.

The suggestion box is stuffed with big ideas from the hired hands on how the company can dominate its industry, ideas which a thoughtful management promptly dumps in a wastebasket.

★ ★ ★

Everyone is full of pep, and attacks his duties with the frenzy of an eager beaver who is afraid there'll be no tomorrow.

Each employe rushes through breakfast to get to work on time. The time spent on coffee breaks drops.

NEED ANY HELP?

The receptionist leaves at home the 897-page romantic novel she rented from a library, and asks if she can't do something useful like helping out with the typing.

The bunch that usually trade gossip at the water cooler now bend busily over their desks. Even the office boy quits spending half his day looking at himself in the washroom mirror while he combs his hair, and decides to take a course in night school to prepare himself for taking over the company's leadership.

★ ★ ★

At the end of five days of this extraordinary activity, Harry Quibble, the union shop steward, voices a worry: "If we keep up this pace, fellows, we'll have all the year's work done by April—and then they'll cut the office staff in half."

His concern is unnecessary. Enthusiasm for reform usually is short-winded.

SLIDERS START

By the close of the first week, backsliding begins.

The secretary who got to work five minutes early now starts arriving five minutes late, then 10, then 15.

★ ★ ★

The vice presidents who were so intent on solving their problems go back to shuffling papers, writing cloudy memos and passing the buck.

The coffee breaks get longer.

SAME GRIND

Those who couldn't find enough to do last week now are complaining if they have to do anything. Clock watching is popular again, and it seems like a long, long time until quitting time.

★ ★ ★

Yes, the annual perfection binge is over. The boss is pleased rather than displeased. Confident now that no executive on his staff will knife him out of his job, he packs his golf bags for a well-earned rest in Florida.

Fine Set in Assault of Officer

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Donald Graham, 34, was ordered to pay a total of $55 in fines and costs Monday after pleading guilty to assault and battery in the slugging of a police officer.

The fisticuffs were a sidelight to Dowagiac's steamy political controversy involving Mayor Glenn Berry, the City Council and the city board of public works.

Justice of the Peace Harold Amersdorfer ordered the fines in lieu of a 50-day jail term.

APOLOGIZES

While entering his plea, Graham also took occasion to apologize to auxiliary patrolman Clyde Rank who had two pieces of glass removed from an eye and required 22 stitches to close wounds he suffered Friday night at Dowagiac police headquarters.

Graham told newsmen he had gone to headquarters to complain because his wife, a BPW employe, was "upset by political pressure."

★ ★ ★

Police said Graham turned his anger on Berry who was present when the man entered. Officers said Rank sought to quiet Graham and the scuffle followed in which the patrolman was struck.

Meanwhile, a citizens group expected to file Tuesday the petitions it has been circulating in an attempt to recall the mayor from office.

Rioting in Wake of Coup

Yanks Rescued From Zanzibar Strife

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) — The U. S. destroyer Manley arrived in Dar Es Salaam today bringing U. S. citizens to safety from the turbulent East African island of Zanzibar.

The State Department ordered the removal of all but two of the 63 Americans on Zanzibar after bands of Africans were reported roaming the streets, shooting and looting in the wake of the overthrow of the Arab government.

State Department officials in Washington termed the situation on the spice island off the east coast of Africa "very unstable." But they said no Europeans were harmed and their property was not being looted.

Captured police trucks loaded with shouting Africans sped down streets of the island capital. The public was warned by loudspeakers to remain indoors.

State Department officials expressed concern that Zanzibar, which became independent Dec. 10 after 73 years as a British protectorate, might become a Communist base. Some of the leaders are considered leftists.

The new government of President Sheikh Abeid Karume sealed off the island nation after the revolt Sunday but some supporters of ousted Sultan Seyyid Hamshid Bin Abdulla and Prime Minister Mohammed Shamte Hamadi were reported still putting up a fight.

U.S. Consul Frederick P. Ricard, one of the two Americans remaining behind, reported in a telephone conservation with the U.S. Embassy in Dar Es Salaam there was sporadic shooting and looting. Before his connection was cut he described the situation as extremely delicate.

★ ★ ★

The new regime gave permission for the Manley, which was on a goodwill visit to nearby Kenya, to enter Zanzibar harbor and remove the Americans. Most of them are connected with a tracking station for the Project Mercury satellite program.

Zanzibar radio, taken over by the rebels, had warned all ships and aircraft to keep away from the island. A rebel "field marshal" threatened to shoot anyone who tried to land.

STERN MEASURES

The rebel command also threatened stern measures against Africans who mistreated Arab citizens, the island's traditional rulers, who dominated the ruling Zanzibar National party of ousted Prime Minister Hamadi. There were reports the homes of Arabs were searched for arms and their occupants herded into the street.

The Sultan, who was banned from the island for life, fled aboard his yacht Sunday and was reported heading for Kenya. Hamadi was reported to have fled to a liner in the harbor.

State Department officials believe the coup resulted from the dissatisfaction of the African majority with the rule of the Arab minority.

Sheik Abdul Rahman Mohamed Babu, the new foreign minister, is considered by State Department officials to be an extreme left-winger with Communist associations.

Eye-Witness Reports of Underground

Sen. Dodd Charges Cuban Military Build-Up

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Cuban refugee and undergronud sources have presented Sen. Thomas J. Dodd with "substantial evidence of a massive new military build-up in the Communist bastion 90 miles off our Florida shore.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

Dodd, vice chairman of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, told tthis correspondent that a cross-check of these eye-witness reports establishes without question that an arms build-up is in progress.

The Connecticut senator sees a strong link between these Cuban activities and the current outbreak of violence in our vital Panama Canal Zone.

Warning that the "mere existence of Castroism makes political stability impossible in Latiin America," he said:

"The eye-witness reports now coming to me are of the same type and pattern as those which disclosed the Soviet missiles build-up many months before our planes photographed the evidence at the time of the Cuban crisis in October '62. Their reports were subsequently confirmed in too."

THE EVIDENCE

According to evidence received by Dodd:

- The Soviets have built underground hangers for military planes, with reinforced concrete tops 80 inches thick.
- Soviet ships continue to arrive in Cuba with heavy armament.
- The dismantling of Soviet bases has meant no substantial reduction in Soviet forces or armaments in Cuba. Instead, they have broken up these forces into small mobile units.
- Soviet officials are directly responsible for the training of Latin American subversives, an operation that is now going on in 10 Cuban camps.

TERRORISTS WEAPONS

They are also in charge of smuggling weapons to Communists terrorists from their principal base on the Isle of Pines.

Dodd says that Francisco Rene Milera, 40, an electrical engineer who fled Cuba via Mexico and is now in the Miami area, disclosed that work is continuing day and night at the Russian base in Limonar, which was thought by Americans to have been demobilized.

He said work has also begun again on the Russian base of Madruga, "with great excavations extending over a length of 1,500 yeards leading into the hills."

This base is located in Matanzas Province east of Havana, and the Limonar base is in Pinar Del Rio Province.

NEW MISSILES

Milera further reported the movement of large convoys of trucks and trailers in late October, carrying "long cylindrical missiles," and the arrival of a new group of Russians numbering between 800 and 1,000, at tthe Port of Matanzas about Nov. 15.

He described them as "all poorly dressed, with long unkempt hair and very white skin, like previous arrivals who had not before been exposed to the Cuban sun."

Miguel Eden Hernnandez, 25, a negro truck driver who was working for the Cuban government until his recent escape from the island, said large quantities of incoming arms and munitions are taken directly to the Russian base of Siguanea on the Isle of Pines.

"I carried food for four militia camps on the Isle of Pines," he reported, "but I was not permitted to enter to the gates, Russian driver took it over and delivered it empty to me following the unloading in the base."

LATIN INFILTRATION

Hernandez said it is "common knowledge that many of these arms being sent into Cuba by the Soviets are transshipped to Central and South America under Soviet direction, through the Cuban merchant and fishing fleet."

Dodd has obtained a copy of a letter received by Aldo Alvarez of the Union of Young Communists in Havana and signed by P. Reshetov, president of the Soviet Organizing Commission in Moscow.

The letter refers to "attached directives for working up of the agenda" for the second Latin American Youth Congress to be held in Chile March 9-13.

★ ★ ★

It said the main job was to do propaganda work in the economic, social and political fields, and continued:

ELASTIC POLICY

"You will note a change in directives as compared with that we discussed in Helsinki during the VIII World Youth and Students Festival for Peace and Friendship.

These amendments respond to the necessary elasticity in the policy to be followed after Comrade Khrushchev succeeded in containing the warmongering aspirations of Yankee imperialism, thus saving the brave Cuban people from the dangers of invasion."

Unfortunately the "attached directives" have not yet fallen into U.S. hands, but Dodd says: "what we are witnessing under our very noses is military and political organization by Soviets in Cuba for the subversion of the Western Hemisphere.

★ ★ ★

CONDRADICTS CLAIM

Citing testimony by numrous other recently escaped refugees, who tell of the landing of large quantities of arms, munitions and Stalin tanks in Cuban ports in recent weeks, Dodd says this would seem to condradict U.S. claims that fewer than 5,000 Soviet troops, none of them combat personnel, remain of the Russian force that once exceeded 20,000.

America's first globe maker, James Wilson, walked 250 miles to New Haven, Conn., to learn copper engraving from Amos Doolittle, one of America's first map makers.

Future's Not Black

Coal Still Serves Modern Household

WASHINGTON — The future of coal is anything but black.

Despite depressed mining areas, the ancient fossil fuel still generates much of the nation's electricity, helps convert iron to steel, and yields an ever-increasing number of by-products.

Coal mining has come a long way from the pick-and-shovel days, the National Geographic Society says.

Giant machines that grind a coal seam and automatically load the ore into shuttle cars have replaced the separate processes of cutting, drilling, blasting, and loading.

PUSH-BUTTON MINER

Nowadays, large coal mines suggest air-conditioned factories deep inside the earth.

A West Virginia plant alongside the Monongahela River can mine, transport by conveyor belt, dry, clean, sort, and load onto barges up to 30,000 tons of coal a day — largely by electronics.

A push-button mining machine near Zanesville, Ohio, burrows 1,000 feet into a hillside seam, tears out six tons of coal a minute, and loads it onto waiting trucks with one man at the controls.

The prosaic lump of coal yields thousands of important by-products.

Familiar items containing coal include nylons, aspirin, perfume, DDT, laxatives, jet fuel, synthetic vitamins, TNT, moth balls, dyes and detergents, pencils and paints.

PREHISTORIC PYRES

Coal may be man's oldest fossil fuel. The Welsh burned coal on funeral pyres 3,000 years ago.

Chinese cooked over glowing coals 1,000 years before the Christian Era.

In the Middle Ages, however, Englishmen became convinced that coal poisoned the air.

Edward I proclaimed its use illegal, and at least one man was put to death for burning the black lumps.

WORTHLESS PRODUCT

Through mountains of coal fired the boilers of the Industrial Revolution, some doubts about it still lingered.

As late as 1862, a Col. George Shoemaker was arrested for fraud in Philadelphia for trying to sell a "worthless" product—anthracite coal.

"Of 21 notable civilizations, 19 perished not from conquest from without, but from decay from within."

Arnold Toynbee, British historian

Many Americans are concerned about the ease of life in our country today—and what it may do to our children. Will the "soft living" of our times bring a continuing decline in their physical and moral stamina? This could happen if our children aren't encouraged to develop their bodies as well as their minds. Parents should insist on a minimum of 15 minutes of vigorous activity each school day—for every boy and every girl. Tell your school officials about your concern. For information about a program that your school—any school—can put into effect promptly, write the President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington 25, D. C.

Waterway Accidents Decreasing in County

Contrary to the senseless slaughter on county highways last year, common sense and safety can prevail, at least it did on Oakland County's 450 lakes.

For the second consecutive year, a decrease in the number of drownings was recorded in 1963. Water mishaps fell from 18 in 1962 to 15 last year—well under the 31 water dead in 1961.

★ ★ ★

While drownings have been on the decline, the numbers using the lakes have been tripled in recent years.

A big reason for the reduction can be attributed to the energetic enforcement of water safety laws by the sheriff's department water safety division.

In fact, more than a few area residents no doubt can be thankful they're still around after a summer on the lakes.

★ ★ ★

Now that we've learned to swim and boat safely, perhaps a few of us can learn to drive safely, applying the safe common sense to the highways that we have to the waterways.

Fancy Phrases Used for Federal Handouts

With commendation of the accomplishments of official Washington not exactly at flood proportions, we would like to render a minority decision and direct a bow of admiration in the direction of the Capitol.

★ ★ ★

The Establishment has refined the art of euphemism far beyond the vision or hope of advocates of the delicate dodge of so expressing unpleasant truths that they sound pleasant.

For example, have you ever known the Federal Government to describe as "Federal Tax Funds" the monies it ladles out to communities for various projects?

★ ★ ★

Heavens to Betsy, no. "Tax" is a dirty word on the banks of the Potomac. The realistic description of the funds undergoes semantic transformation into "Federal aid" and "Federal grants."

The implication is that aid and grant money is not money that came from all of us in the first place and that under the guise of Federal programs we are but getting back a fractional part of it.

★ ★ ★

But our bureaucrats seem wedded to the idea that the body politic likes its tax pills sugar-coated, and avoids calling a spade a spade. They'd probably call it an implement having a functional blade with tapered end attached to an elongated, round handle that makes digging a pleasure.

Digging for more taxes, maybe.

ECM Nations Survive Tests of Self-Interest

The European Common Market, convalescing from the blow it suffered when French President CHARLES DE GAULLE a year ago vetoed Great Britain's bid for admission, has weathered another crisis.

Arising from similar inflexibility on the part of de Gaulle, the current deadlock had taken the form of an impasse between his country and West Germany over a formula for government subsidies affecting the marketing of agricultural products among the six ECM nations.

★ ★ ★

DE GAULLE had threatened to withdraw from the union unless the dispute were resolved by Dec. 31. Eleventh-hour settlement came after a week of strenuous negotiation in which concessions were made by all member governments.

The concord now re-established means that ECM nations will be able to attend the so-called KENNEDY round of tariff talks with the United States in Geneva next spring aimed at reducing worldwide tariffs.

Some of the revisionary steps taken to achieve accord within the ECM may work to the present disadvantage of the United States in certain trade areas.

★ ★ ★

But it is felt that preservation of this first move toward European unity, with its stabilizing economic effects and powerful role in the defense structure of the West, will more than compensate for any minor trade dislocation.

Panama Problem Older Than LBJ

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Johnson inherited a Panamanian mess older than he is. It started with President Theodore Roosevelt, who contemptuously called Latin Americans "dagos."

The idea of digging a canal across Panama from the Atlantic to the Pacific was at least 300 years old. After the Spanish-American War there was a demand for it in this country. Roosevelt tried to arrange it with Colombia.

MARLOW

He didn't like the terms. He called the Colombians apes. In this country, but not by Roosevelt publicly, the people in the province of Panama were encouraged to revolt. They did, and got instant American military help.

The revolt started Nov. 3, 1903; this government recognized the Republic of Panama on the 6th; and a treaty on the Canal was concluded on the 18th.

Although the Canal was not finished until 1914, long after Roosevelt was out of office, one of his biographers said his maneuvering left a "U.S. legacy of ill will" in Latin America "where the good-neighbor policies of later presidents have failed to this day to dissipiate it entirely."

★ ★ ★

The treaty granted the United States "in perpetuity the use, occupation and control of the zone of land 10 miles wide" from Atlantic to Pacific.

BECAME A CANCER

In time "perpetuity" became a cancer to Panamanians. How come the United States could move in on Latin-American countries like this? Roosevelt explained it in what is called his corollary to the Monroe Doctrine.

He altered that doctrine, which denied European countries the right to butt in on Latin-American affairs, to a new doctrine giving this country the right to butt in. And it did for years.

Latin Americans are still wary, as they have shown. One historian of Latin America, Hubert Herring, called the Panama of those early days a disorderly house run by an oligarchy.

It's still run by an oligarchy, a few powerful white families who have warred among themselves.

President Roberto Chiari, who broke off relations with this country after the riots began last week, has been called definitely unfriendly to the United States.

SOWED BITTER SEEDS

While the imperialism and nationalism of Theodore Roosevelt sowed bitter seeds, the Panamanians, like the rest of Latin America and people everywhere have become extremely nationalistic in turn.

David Lawrence Says:

Peace 'Euphoria' Comes to End

WASHINGTON — Just a few weeks ago it was being predicted that 1964 would be a year of "peace" — because the Soviet Union was in economic trouble, because Castro's Cuba was slowly "disintegrating," and because Latin-American problems were soon going to be solved by the "Alliance for Progress."

LAWRENCE

Indeed, it was widely assumed that communism was on the downgrade and that the world could look forward to an era of readjustment.

But the mood of "euphoria"—a word that emerged in the Pentagon vocabulary — has come to a sudden end.

1. Communist China has broken the truce and shelled Quemoy City and the Quemoy islands.

2. Fidel Castro has gone to Moscow by invitation and has received the usual bear hug from Premier Khrushchev.

★ ★ ★

3. Zanzibar, one of the new "independent" states off the African east coast, has been abruptly converted into a pro-Communist state by a revolution.

TOTALITARIAN SYSTEM

4. Ghana, in West Africa, another one of the ex-colonial states, has abolished the two-party system, as the president has assumed the power to remove supreme court justices at will and imitated the totalitarian system of the Communists.

5. Troubles in Viet Nam, Malaysia and Indonesia have been intensified by the Communists.

6. Any thought that Red China and the Soviet Union are at the parting of the ways seems to have been disspelled by the unity displayed by Moscow and Peking in denouncing the United States as an aggresor in the Canal Zone.

Communist China, in unison with the Soviet Union, has pledged full support of the Panamanians. The newspapers of Communist North Korea have echoed the same line.

DISSOLUTION

In the United States, United Press International reported Sunday that the New York State Communist party had called for a dissolution of the 1903 treaty between the United States and Panama.

Just what goes on behind the Iron Curtain is not too clear to the highest officials in Washington. For Premier Castro's trip to Moscow caught officials here and in other Western capitals by surprise. There is frank admission that Fidel Castro's influence extends beyond Cuba into other parts of Latin America.

There seems no doubt that the student movements in many countries are directed, if not financed, by the Communist regime in Moscow through Castro. It is significant how many demonstrations occur simultaneously in various Latin-American capitals whenever an event develops in which opposition to the United States can be expressed.

★ ★ ★

Events of the last several days have accentuated the tensions that can suddenly arise and particularly have demonstrated how the insidious hand of Moscow moves throughout the world to cause trouble, even as Western countries are unwisely assisting the Soviet economic system to grow stronger and produce more and more armament for the future.

Dempsey Explodes Myth of Champion Bout Fix

NEW YORK — With the possible exception of the Loch Ness sea monster, no myth has had more of a tumble in the newspapers over the years than the story that Jack Dempsey was able to clobber Jess Willard at Toledo and win the championship because Dempsey's fists were encased in plaster of paris.

CONSIDINE

Jack's memoirs, told to Bill Slocum and to me, refute the charge.

Here's the way Dempsey put it:

". . . The stories have said for years that I plastered my mitts until they became like two lumps of marble.

"As God is my judge, it never happened.

"It couldn't happen. First, I didn't need the plaster and it had never occurred to me that I might and, second, I couldn't have gotten away with it even if I tried.

"Willard had a man in my dressing room, and Kearns had somebody in Willard's, checking. Willard's fellow was big Walter Monaghan.

WATCHED TAPING

"He stood over me as they taped my hands — so much gauze, so much adhesive tape. We each got the same. Monaghan stuck with me, right down the aisle and into my corner.

(Kearns' memoirs state he soaked Dempsey's wrapped hands in water, then dusted on plaster of paris which he had secreted in a talcum powder can.)

"Willard kept me waiting. That can be torture when you're keyed up, as I was. And then he came into the ring like a moving mountain, dropped his robe, turned his back on me and held up his arms to the cheering crowd.

★ ★ ★

"I thought I was going to get sick to my stomach. Kearns had kept telling me what a bum Willard was — big, fat, no good. Now as I looked up the wall of his back I could see he was in terrific shape.

IN GOOD SHAPE

"The way he was holding up his arms made his fists seem twice as high in the air as I was tall. The muscle stood out on his back.

"I looked at all, six feet six and 250 pounds of him and I said to myself, 'This guy's liable to kill me.'

"During the instructions I kept looking at his belly. I hardly knew what the referee, Ollie Picard, said to us.

"Then the bell. I almost ran at him. I stuck a few long ones at his body, weaving and bobbing. He reached down with a left jab and dropped his right to get set to throw a punch with it.

"As he did, I straightened up instantly and hit him with a left hook on his cheekbone and temple. It busted his eye open and down he went, shaking the rink like an earthquake. . ."

Speech Provides 'Ammunition'

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Set President Lyndon Johnson's State of the Union message beside the 1963 message from the late John F. Kennedy and you get some curious results.

BIOSSAT

Johnson's call to Congress sounds at times almost like an amalgam of Kennedy's 1961; 1962 and 1963 messages. The new President goes well beyond asking simply for a cleanup of Kennedy's unfinished 1963 legislative business.

The Republicans, whose campaign guns have been starved for want of late model anti-Johnson ammunition, now think they have it.

J. Drake Edens, South Carolina's GOP state chairman and ardent backer of Sen. Barry Goldwater for the presidency, was sure the ammunition would appear:

"Johnson is a child of his party, the liberal Democratic party, and he is going to show it. Party will assert itself, and he'll be seen for what he is."

Edens, other staunch southern Goldwater Republicans and some in other areas insist that the more the President talks and acts, the more he will disillusion Southern conservatives who think of him today as "one of theirs."

★ ★ ★

The 1964 message to Congress surely tends to feed this notion.

Johnson repeats the late President's appeals for big individual and corporate income tax cuts, a domestic "service" corps patterned on the Peace Corps, medical care for the aged, more medical facilities, an urban mass transit program.

But, beyond these proposals, Johnson asks — in his broad-stroke message — for such specifics as more area redevelopment, more libraries, new efforts in housing and urban renewal, broader minimum wage laws, updated assaults on unemployment (including a commission on automation), special school aid funds to improve teaching and training.

Kennedy, of course, would also have asked for these things this year. The 1964 message took basic shape before he was assassinated. But the point to be made is that Johnson clutched the whole array of proposals. He might easily have ducked many.

Furthermore, he gave the first formal government expression to the late President's plan for a massive attack on poverty. And he supported in full the Kennedy civil rights legislation — developed long after the 1963 State of the Union address.

★ ★ ★

So, while Johnson's political adversaries will be scorning his speech as a "campaign document" (which any major election year effort certainly is), these same foes welcome the cannon shot it provides them.

But the President's message is basically a statement of goals. This can also be said of any following messages to Congress.

Southerners, Westerners and others reported in polls to have been drifting from Goldwater to Johnson still will be eyeing the President to see how hard a push he makes for his programs, and how well or poorly are warranted his claims that he can manage these on a budget smaller than the one Kennedy advanced a year ago.

If passed, the state, county and city income tax could cause drastic cutbacks rather than be beneficial. If taxes keep rising a plan will have to be devised to increase all paychecks of breadwinners. Taxes have been out of orbit for some time. There will have to be a happy medium.

Quick Action Is Not Likely on Cigarettes

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal report on smoking is not likely to rush Congress into action on bills dealing with cigarettes. No one seems to be in a rush, either.

The federal report issued on Saturday branded cigarettes a health hazard and called for corrective action.

★ ★ ★

Four bills on cigarettes are now before the House Commerce Committee. The oldest has been there almost a year. The newest, almost a month.

Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., the chairman of this powerful committee, said in an interview, "I have made no decision about them and have not scheduled any hearings."

STOCKS DECLINE

On the New York Stock Exchange, cigar stocks advanced Monday, but most cigarette stocks declined. Although prices were down on the cigarette issues generally, the late trading was in their favor.

It was a comparatively gentle reaction, considering the strength of the federal report condemning cigarette smoking —but brokers explained stocks were already near their lows for 1963-64, and the late recovery indicated the harshness of the report had been expected.

★ ★ ★

Somebody did something about the cigarette report. He is Dr. Leonard M. Schuman, a University of Minnesota scientist who studies the behavior of disease. He is also a member of the 10-man federal committee that made the cigarette smoking report.

Regularly a pack-plus cigarette smoker, Schuman told newsmen he hadn't had a cigarette since 6 p.m. Sunday.

FILTER DEVELOPMENT

The next research projects, he said, should try to develop a filter that would take the harmful ingredients out of smoke, leave the harmless ingredients in. He also said that social scientists should try to find out why people smoke.

It was still anybody's guess what responsible federal agencies would do, in light of the report.

There was a question whether the regulation of cigarette sales and advertising practices would come under the jurisdiction of the Federal Trade Commission or of the Food and Drug Administration.

★ ★ ★

On Capitol Hill, Rep. Bernard F. Grabowski, D-Conn., a sponsor of one of the four cigarette bills, made public a letter to Harris. He asked that the chairman schedule hearings on the bill at the earliest possible time. Grabowski's letter was dated Jan. 7, but Harris, when asked about it, said "I haven't seen it yet."

SPECIAL LABEL

Grabowski's bill, which he introduced in Congress last July 10, would require cigarette manufacturers to put a special label on all packages they sell. The label would say: "Warning—contents may be dangerous to health."

★ ★ ★

Rep. Paul Fino, R-N.Y., introduced a bill last February 25 that would require manufacturers to mark on each pack or carton the total nicotine and tar content of all the cigarettes inside. Fino has announced he intends to amend his bill to include a requirement for a label warning about the health hazards of smoking.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Vernon W. Thomsen, R-Wis., introduced a bill last Feb. 7 that would require each package to have a label detailing the nicotine content and tar content of each cigarette and the degree that this content has been reduced by any filter on the cigarette.

★ ★ ★

On Dec. 17, Rep. John J. Rhodes, R-Ariz., introduced a bill that would amend the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act to give the Food and Drug Administration authority to check on smoking products. This would include cigarettes, cigars and pipe tobacco.

★ ★ ★

Under this bill, the federal government would have the right to declare a product "adulterated" if the government found that it contained any substance that might injure a consumer.

Commission Meets Tonight

Clinton River Drain Main Business Item

City commissioners will be asked tonight to okay a right-of-way agreement with the Oakland County Drainage District No. 1 Board for construction of the Clinton River Drain.

City Attorney William A. Ewart said the agreement grants easements to install drainage pipes through the central business district.

"However, once the pipes are in, we can build over them," Ewart clarified. "The method of construction of buildings over the drain will merely be subject to approval of the drainage board."

★ ★ ★

County officials said that just about anything could be built over the drain, so long as it is built in a manner that won't interfere with future service and maintenance of the drain.

OTHER BUSINESS

Also slated on the brief agenda for the 8 p.m. meeting is a public hearing on a proposal to vacate an alley in Marimont subdivision.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners will also be asked to okay two change orders involving electrical and mechanical work on the city's new community recreation center under construction on Wessen at Walnut.

Cadillac

THERE IT GOES WINNING MORE HEARTS AGAIN!

Every time a Cadillac goes by, it seems someone falls in love with it.

Last year, for instance, more people moved up to Cadillac than ever before in history. And the way 1964 is starting off, Cadillac is going to attract more owners than even its beguiling predecessor. Why? We think the answer is easy.

Each year Cadillac simply lengthens its margin of product leadership—by introducing advancements and improvements that are entirely its own.

*An extra-cost option.

In 1964, for example, we've combined the heater and air conditioner in a single unit—with a single control. You set the thermostat just like you do at home—and the interior of the car holds it winter and summer. We call it Comfort Control*.

Then there's Cadillac's new Twilight Sentinel*. When it's time to turn on the lights, they switch on automatically . . . and then turn off when sufficient daylight returns. In the evening, headlights can be set to light your path from car to doorway and turn off automatically after you enter the house.

There's a lot more about the 1964 Cadillac just as new and just as exciting. Take performance, for example.

There's the exciting new 340 h.p. engine—the most powerful in Cadillac history—combined with the smoothness of an improved Hydra-Matic or the completely new Turbo Hydra-Matic transmission.

Give in to your heart and get behind the wheel. Let your Cadillac dealer introduce you to America's most desired motor car.

Ol' Man Winter Lands a Lusty Blow

White House Grounds Cleared

New York Stalled by 31-Hour Storm

NEW YORK (AP)—At the height of New York's near-blizzard of '64, Sylvia Martinez, a 22-year-old beautician, stepped from the Salon Les Elles to take $711 to a bank.

High winds which spun the 13-inch snowfall into billowpirouettes, lifted the hat from her head and, when she stopped to retrieve it, the bank deposit envelope from her hand.

Bedraggled and near tears, she searched on her hands and knees beneath stranded cars and in snowbanks. But it was nowhere to be found.

It had disappeared in the white paralysis which slowed the pace of New York to that of a village.

31 HOURS

The snow fell 31 hours and 3 minutes, ending shortly after 3 a.m. today—amid weather bureau warnings of more "flurries."

It was the city's worst snowstorm for a Jan. 13 and the deepest in three years.

Police logged 12 deaths attributed to the weather, mostly from heart attacks and overexertion.

Stranded travelers clogged airport, train and bus terminals. Daylight found 3,000 persons marooned at Kennedy airport, where 200 flights were canceled yesterday. Flights arriving from across the Atlantic were diverted to Montreal, Chicago, Halifax and Gander.

Some 8,000 commuters flocked to the city's hotels, rather than battle the snow in the suburbs. By 6 p.m., the 200 reserve cots at the Roosevelt Hotel, connected to Grand Central Station by a pedestrian tunnel, were all claimed.

Trains and buses ran late and private automobiles practically not at all. One 15-car chain collision on the Belt Parkway in Brooklyn stranded 100 motorists and closed that expressway.

Public and parochial schools were closed today.

Muskegonites Used to Snow

Even Measure Depth in Feet—Not Inches

By JON LOWELL
Muskegon Chronical Writer
For The Associated Press

MUSKEGON, Mich. — Residents of this Lake Michigan port city smile condescendingly when you tell them New York is buried under 12 inches of snow.

Not that they're unsympathetic, mind you, it's just that they've almost forgotten that snow can be measured in inches. They have shoveled out from under more than 13 feet of it so far this winter. Anything less than a foot goes almost unnoticed.

★ ★ ★

Things are pretty clear now—most of it has melted away and there is only about a foot on the ground.

People are different here from early December to March.

SNOW BLOWER

Here, happiness is when the guy next door gets a mechanical snow blower.

Misery is slithering around on the roof, knocking off snow and ice so when it finally melts the water won't back up under the shingles and drop chunks of soggy plaster on the television set.

★ ★ ★

Muskegon, an industrial area of 140,000 persons, had more than 12 feet of snow last winter and more than six feet this past December alone.

The snowfall records posted in this winter's opening blast included 17.9 inches in one day, 45.5 inches in one week, and 78.8 inches during December.

SHOVEL A YEAR

Muskegon's sore-muscled residents actually wear out snow shovels in one season, people kick snow drifts frantically in search of compact cars, and the skill of city snow removal crews is a major political issue.

Muskegon long ago learned to live with its snow, and Muskegonites even take a certain masochistic pride in the clucking noises it produces among residents of cities where snow-shoveling technique isn't the chief topic of barroom conversation.

When it snows in Muskegon, schools don't close, factories operate at full tilt, people go shopping—and the boss still wants to know why you were late for work.

Airliner Skids; Nobody Hurt

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Eastern Air Lines DC7 airliner with 20 persons aboard skidded during takeoff at National Airport early today and landed in a snowdrift. There were no injuries reported.

For the 16 passengers aboard Eastern's Miami-bound flight 693 it was the second unsuccessful attempt in three hours to get out of the Washington area.

A previous flight was forced to turn back because of mechanical difficulty after about 30 minutes aloft.

★ ★ ★

Among those aboard was William Wright, a member of United Press International's Tokyo bureau staff, who had flown halfway around the world without mishap.

GOING TO PANAMA

Wright was on his way to Panama City on emergency leave. His parents live in the strife-torn Central American nation.

Though National Airport was not closed down by the storm which dropped 9 inches of snow on the capital, a number of flights north to New York and Boston were cancelled.

Stranded travelers slept on couches and in chairs in the terminal waiting rooms.

In 1947, it took 14,700 man-hours to produce 1,000 tons of steel. In 1962, 10,900 man-hours were required.

Who Wants to Eat Ice Cubes at Breakfast

NEW YORK (UPI) — A local branch of a chain restaurant today was forced to give yesterday's doughnuts to the early morning breakfast trade with the explanation that the near-blizzard snow storm had delayed food deliveries.

★ ★ ★

However, patrons leaving the restaurant noted that another truck was unloading its wares on time. The truck delivered packaged ice cubes.

Changes in Technology Eyed as Botulism Cause

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The cause of the deadly botulism outbreak in the United States late last year is still largely a mystery, public health officials agreed here yesterday.

Wesley E. Gilbertson, chief of food production for the U.S. Public Health Service, said the outbreaks might have resulted from changes in technology at the food plants.

"A particular strain (of botulism E) which is introducing some new wrinkles," might also be responsible, he added.

★ ★ ★

Gilbertson and about 200 other scientists and representatives of food packaging industries are attending a Public Health Service symposium here designed to pinpoint the cause of the poison-producing bacteria which caused 14 deaths last year.

DOZEN OR MORE

A dozen or more botulism cases usually are reported in this country in a single year — but all are usually related to imperfectly packed "home canned" foods.

Last year, for the third time in 21 years, botulism was reported in commercially packaged and processed foods.

Smoked whitefish packed by a Michigan firm, a fish paste prepared by a California company and tuna fish prepared by a Canadian firm and marketed in the U.S. were all blamed for spreading the deadly disease.

★ ★ ★

The botulism may have occurred in the Great Lakes smoked fish because of "a combination of methods of processing and packaging," Gilbertson said.

METHODS CHANGED

But he added the plants there have changed their methods and said he did not believe there was any carelessness in their packaging procedures.

Botulism bacteria are dangerous only in the absence of air. Then they produce one of the deadliest poisons known — about 14 ounces would probably be enough to destroy the earth's population.

Vacuum packing of foods has increased the chance of botulism occurring. To prevent it, the food must be cooked for one hour at 195 degrees to kill the tiny organism.

★ ★ ★

Of the six types of botulism bacteria known, three are most common in man. Types A and B are usually found in canned fruits, vegetables and in uncooked meat.

WATER ANIMALS

Type E, the killer of four persons in Michigan last year, is most common in water animals caught close to shore. Nine of the 14 botulism deaths in 1963 were attributed to type E.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Claude E. Dolman head of the University of British Columbia bacteriology department, believes the micro-organism may be carried into water by soil broken off from land.

★ ★ ★

He said samples of ocean bottom taken from areas where infected fish were caught showed no trace of the poison. This indicates the bacteria are carried from land by water currents, he said.

End Sought to Mackinac Bridge Toll

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Michigan congressional members are being urged by a group of Cheboygan businessmen to do their utmost to help eliminate tolls on the Mackinac Bridge which links Upper and Lower Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The sponsors of the movement, who have asked to remain anonymous, have expressed hope that the petition campaign will become statewide.

★ ★ ★

The petitions, some of which already have been sent to Washington, say the primary purpose behind the movement is to eliminate "the present economic bottleneck separating the two peninsulas."

CALLS TO GOVERNMENT

The petitions support a bill sponsored by Rep. Victor A. Knox, a Sault Ste. Marie Republican, which calls on the federal government to appropriate to the Mackinac Bridge Authority a sum equivalent to 90 per cent of the cost of the $100 million bridge, which is part of the I-75 freeway.

The federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of freeways that are part of the interstate system.

Arabs Fired Shots, Says Israel Army

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — An Israeli tractor driver was fired upon by Syrians as he was working near Darbashya on the Israel-Syria border Monday, the Israel Army claimed.

★ ★ ★

Israeli forces returned fire. There were no casualties, the army spokesman said. The tractor continued its work.

Israel has complained to the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission.

Salinger Sad: President Gets Up Too Early

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Pierre Salinger, press secretary for both President Kennedy and President Johnson, says the job is getting harder.

★ ★ ★

"President Johnson gets up earlier and works later than President Kennedy did and President Kennedy worked longer hours than President Eisenhower did," he told newsmen in Nashville, Tenn.

★ ★ ★

"It's a bad trend," Salinger added with a grin.

Salinger was flying from California to Washington when his plane had to land at Nashville. Heavy snow had closed airports in the Washington area.

School Fire Thought Set by Arsonist

MUSKEGON (AP)—An investigation into suspected arson was pending today after a three-alarm school building fire Monday.

The blaze, believed set in three places, swept two rooms and a corridor of Marsh School about 5 p.m., well after classes had concluded for the day. The building was empty and no one was hurt.

★ ★ ★

Because of the damage, school was called off for today for the 135 pupils. The school's grades are from kindergarten to the sixth grade.

Fire Chief Dennis B. Ward indicated he was certain the blaze had been set by an arsonist and called for investigation by police and the state fire marshal.

FIRES SET?

Ward said evidence indicated fire had been set in the two storage desks of a teacher and in a closet.

Firemen said when they got to the school a metal ceiling was so hot it "looked like a red hot grill."

★ ★ ★

Supt. Richard B. Warren said the loss was about $15,000.

A neighbor called firemen when he saw smoke coming from the building.

$4.9 Million Set for County Road Projects in 1964

Improvements on 52 miles of primary road at an estimated cost of $4.9 million and building of a new $200,000 equipment garage near Lake Orion comprise the Oakland County Road Commission's construction program for 1964.

Although some of the 29 projects in the program may not be able to be started as hoped during 1964 because of right-of-way or other problems, other projects not now scheduled may be added later, according to Commission Chairman Sol D. Lomerson.

If all the doubtful projects failed to get under way and no new ones were to be added, the program's scope could be cut back to about $3.6 million (including the garage), Lomerson indicated.

★ ★ ★

Of the $4.9-million road improvements figure, almost $4 million would come from county funds, with the rest to be furnished by federal aid ($90,000), the State Highway Department and participating cities.

The county would pay $110,000 toward the garage. Another $90,000 in federal aid — this under the Accelerated Public Works Act — will account for the balance.

Projects included in the 1964 program, with those considered uncertain for this year designated doubtful, are:

Adams Road, one mile between Crooks and Walton roads, reconstruction of old blacktop to 24-foot wide concrete, $150,000 (doubtful).

★ ★ ★

Baldwin Road, 2.94 miles between Seymour Lake Road and Oakwood Road, new 22-foot wide blacktop surfacing on existing gravel road, $70,000 with federal government paying half, contract to be let in March.

NEW BLACKTOP

Bogie Lake Road, 4 miles between Commerce Road and Highland Road (M59), new 22-foot wide blacktop surfacing on existing gravel road, $100,000.

Cooley Lake Road, 4.27 miles from Elizabeth Lake Road to Union Lake Road, reconstruction of old blacktop to 24-foot wide concrete, with possible flaring to four lanes in spots, $650,000.

Crooks Road, one mile between Long Lake Road and Wattles Road, new blacktop to replace old and widening to 22 feet, $40,000.

★ ★ ★

Crooks Road, one mile between 14 Mile and Maple roads, widening from two to four lanes, $120,000.

RELOCATION

Eight Mile Road, relocation at Novi Road, joint project with Wayne County, each county to pay half of $100,000 estimated cost.

★ ★ ★

11 Mile Road, 1.5 miles between Dequindre Road and the I-75 freeway, widening from two lanes to four, $240,000.

Farmington Road, one mile between 13 Mile and 14 Mile roads, 22-foot wide blacktop on existing gravel road, $25,000.

★ ★ ★

14 Mile Road, 2.48 miles between Dequindre and Rochester roads, widening from two to four lanes, $360,000 (doubtful for 1964).

WIDENING

14 Mile Road, 1 mile between Greenfield and Southfield roads, widening from two to four lanes, $120,000 (doubtful for 1964).

14 Mile Road and Cranbrook, 1.5 miles from Southfield Road west to Cranbrook, then north to Lincoln, new 24 - foot - wide concrete pavement, $420,000.

Greenfield Road, three miles between 11 and 14 Mile roads, widening from two to four lanes, $420,000.

★ ★ ★

Haggerty Road, one mile between 14 Mile and Maple roads, 22-foot-wide blacktop on existing gravel, $25,000, already under contract.

PAY HALF

Halstead Road, two miles from Grand River Avenue to 12 Mile Road, 22-foot-wide blacktop on existing gravel, $40,000 with federal aid paying half, contract to be let in March.

Long Lake Road, four miles between Adams and Rochester roads, new blacktop to replace old and widening to 22 feet, $160,000.

Long Lake Road - Telegraph Road intersection, widening of Long Lake Road to five lanes for left turn control, $50,000.

★ ★ ★

Maybee Road, two miles from Sashabaw Road to U.S. 10, 22-foot wide blacktop on existing gravel, $40,000.

NEW BRIDGE

Middlebelt Road, four-tenths of a mile between Eight Mile Road and Grand River Avenue, widening from two to four lanes and new bridge over river, $100,000.

Milford Road, 3.37 miles between 10 Mile Road and Grand River Avenue, 22-foot wide blacktop on existing gravel, $70,000 with federal aid to pay half, contract to be let in March.

Mount Clemens Road, about a quarter mile between the I-75 freeway and Squirrel Road, new 24-foot wide concrete payment, $50,000.

★ ★ ★

Rochester Road, 1.5 miles between 14 Mile Road and Stephenson Highway, widening from two to four lanes and new bridge over county drain, $360,000 (north half of project doubtful for 1964).

REPLACE BLACKTOP

South Boulevard, two miles between Opdyke and Adams roads, new 24-foot wide concrete to replace blacktop, $300,000.

Southfield Road, one mile between 13 and 14 Mile roads, widening from two to five lanes, $220,000 (doubtful for 1964).

10 Mile Road, 2.14 miles between Greenfield Road and Northwestern Highway, widening from two to four lanes, $300,000, (doubtful for 1964).

★ ★ ★

12 Mile Road, one mile between Southfield and Greenfield roads, widening from two to four lanes, $120,000.

CONCRETE LANES

12 Mile Road, .4 mile between Stephenson Highway and Campbell Road, reconstruction of two lane blacktop to four lanes concrete, $120,000.

Voorheis Road, three-tenths of a mile between James K and M59, reconstruction to 31-foot width, $50,000.

Ford Wins Motor Trend's "Car of the Year" Award

January 8: Motor Trend magazine's "Car of the Year" Award goes to an engineering breakthrough! It honors all the '64s from Ford "For engineering advancement in the concept of Total Performance, proven in open competition."

Thunderbird, Falcon, Super Torque Ford, Fairlane (reading counterclockwise): winners of Motor Trend's "Car of the Year" Award

Here's what the Motor Trend Award means to you...

This coveted citation salutes Ford's unique total performance—the skillful blending of power and handling, balance and cornering ability, swift acceleration, stronger, surer braking power and, above all, tireless durability. These are the things you want in your car. Now you know where to find them!

The editors of Motor Trend, America's largest general automotive magazine, watched Ford's total performance in open competition . . . saw competition-modified Fords win every 500-mile stock car race in the last year, saw Ford-built engines end an era at Indianapolis and sweep the sports car circuits.

Then they drove the 1964 Fords, Falcons, Fairlanes and Thunderbirds and discovered how the lessons of open competition have helped breed into them a new kind of total performance for the open road, for your kind of driving. And then they made their award!

The "Car of the Year" Award is an impressive testimonial, but see for yourself—take the wheel of a '64 from Ford. These cars speak for themselves with their ease of handling in a supermarket parking lot or their greater stability on a rainslick blacktop.

Before you buy any new car this year, test-drive total performance in a Solid, Silent Super Torque Ford, now hundreds of pounds more car than anything in its field. Try America's only total performance compact, the Falcon V-8, totally new, totally changed. Or, any of the '64 Cars of the Year from Ford!

TRY TOTAL PERFORMANCE FOR A CHANGE!

Don't Urge Guests to Stay Longer

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Whenever we have visitors and they are about to leave my wife always says, "Oh must you go? Can't you stay a little while longer?" and then if the visitors do stay longer she exclaims when they leave, "Well, I thought they would never go!"

When I then ask her, "Why did you urge them to stay if you didn't want them to?" she says because it is the polite thing to do and that if she didn't say anything they would think we were eager for them to go.

It makes no sense to me. What do you have to say about this?

A: To rush them to the door as soon as they get up to leave, would be very impolite, but courtesy certainly does not exact a hostess to urge guests to stay longer unless she really wants them to.

Q: Whenever I order pie a la mode in a restaurant I eat it with a spoon. I have been told that the correct implement is a fork. Which implement is correct?

A. Correctly, pie a la mode is eaten with a fork.

Q: How would I address a letter to a woman whom I know only as Mary Jones? I don't know whether she is married or single.

Is it ever correct to address a woman without prefixing a title? Someone suggested using the designation "M's." What do you think?

A: To address anyone without a title is incorrect and the designation "M's" is not good form.

When a woman's marital status is unknown, it is assumed she is Miss and addressed as such.

The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Table Rules of Importance" describes how to eat spaghetti as well as other difficult foods.

Symphony Concert Is Discussed

Edgar Billups, organist and choir director of All Saints Episcopal Church, was keynote speaker at the Monday afternoon meeting of the Women's Association of the Pontiac Symphony.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Billups discussed the music to be performed at the coming Pontiac Symphony concert, Jan. 28 at Pontiac Northern High School.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Maxwell L. Shadley opened her Ottawa Drive home for the occasion. Sharing cohostess honors were Mrs. Howard O. Powers, Mrs. Austin W. Esler, and Mrs. Everett Peterson.

Educators Talk at Teachers Exchange Club

Two area educators spoke on poetry for children at a recent meeting of the Teachers Exchange Club in the home of Mrs. Norris Smith on First Avenue.

Elizabeth Halsey, West Bloomfield teacher and Mrs. Elise Best, head of Pontiac Central High School English department, spoke on the need of poetry for children of all ages.

★ ★ ★

They stressed the necessity of reading poetry for enjoyment; and the advantages of group participation, as in choral reading. Source material was presented and recitations were given by the speakers.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ray Purcell and Mrs. Owen Wright.

State Department Men

Invade Fashion Field

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two offices of the far-flung State Department have jumped into the frothy middle of milady's spring hats.

★ ★ ★

They have a little fashion item.

It's a unique combination of unemployed Indian weavers in Ecuador and the goal of the Alliance for Progress to "help themselves."

Specifically, their item is Ecuadorian straw hats.

★ ★ ★

That's the reason there were two slightly bewildered men from the State Department at a spring hat fashion showing in New York recently.

★ ★ ★

They were Robert T. Bonham, chief of the Social and Cooperative Development Division for the Latin-American section of the Agency for International Development, and Richard H. McMahon, chief of the Industrial Development Division of the same section.

★ ★ ★

They were still excited by it all days later back in their offices.

"People who go to these things say we made a big hat impact — we really made it," Bonham said in an interview.

"I don't know a bloody thing about women's hats — some of my wife's have seemed pretty expensive — but this is the most exciting oddball thing I've done."

CREATE DEMAND

Bonham said they wanted to create a demand for the hats woven in Ecuador and thus give work to the unemployed in an industry that once flourished.

★ ★ ★

A weaver gets about 18 cents for a hat it takes 12 hours to make. Most of the weavers are women.

★ ★ ★

In its best year, in 1946, Ecuador exported $6 million in the hand-woven straw cones that are molded into hats.

But since then, year by year exports have declined. In 1961 they amounted to $416,000.

WHAT NEW STYLE?

Fashion is fickle. "Those Indians kept on making the same thing — nobody told them how fashions had changed," Bonham said.

In the Cuenca region, a center of the weaving industry, he said, there are 40,000 unemployed.

★ ★ ★

Bonham said the project to bring the hats back in fashion would not hurt American jobs — the straw cones are molded and fashioned into hats in America.

★ ★ ★

McMahon said the industry had been helping them in the project.

The Hat Institute has set up a committee to see how to make Ecuadorian hats a style item among men, he said.

★ ★ ★

What the foreign aid agency has in mind, Bonham said, is "to organize these weavers into cooperative production units for marketing — teach them how to be their own middlemen."

He said two or three men probably would be sent to Ecuador to teach them how to organize and make it a permanent thing.

"We'll probably be working with them for five years."

Save Luxury of Good Velvet

Mrs. Anne Sterling, Director of Consumer Relations for the American Institute of Laundering tells how to keep velvet looking luxurious. Place the garment on the ironing board with the pile side up. Cover with a damp cloth and steam slowly and lightly, barely making contact with the press cloth. Then brush the velvet lightly and hang so that nothing touches the surface.

Trim for Shades Accents Windows

Proposal Wasn't Funny; Woman Took It Seriously

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 23 years old (male) and need your help.

Recently, in a joking way, I gave a girl a cheap, imitation ring I picked up at a dime store.

ABBY

Now she's trying to tell me that no matter how cheap the ring is, as long as I gave it to her, we are officially engaged.

I tried to tell her it was all a gag, but she is threatening to sue me for breach of promise. Can she do this?

GETTING WORRIED

★ ★ ★

DEAR GETTING: I am no lawyer, but I can tell you that anybody can sue whomever he (or she) wants to sue and all the defendant can do is try to defend himself.

★ ★ ★

If she brings suit against you (which I think is unlikely) she will have to prove that the ring was given to her together with your promise to wed.

If she can do that, Brother, you are in trouble.

DEAR ABBY: Do you remember way back when you invited people over for a meal and they came and ate with such enthusiasm that it made you feel that it was worth every bit of trouble you went to?

What has happened to those days? I had a Thanksgiving dinner for 20 and I carried more than half the food off the table untouched.

Nobody wanted any sweet potatoes (too fattening!) and all my lovely home-made rolls were passed up. Somebody asked me if the peas had butter on them and only 5 out of 20 would even taste my pecan pie!

★ ★ ★

DISAPPOINTED HOSTESS

★ ★ ★

DEAR HOSTESS: Next time take the whole lot of 'em to a restaurant and let them order what they want.

DEAR ABBY: I just had a 30-minute argument with a boy on the phone and hope that you can settle the question: When a boy talks to a girl, who is supposed to hang up first?

I really don't think it makes much difference, but he says the girl is definitely supposed to hang up first. Is there any such rule?

BILL'S FRIEND

★ ★ ★

DEAR FRIEND: As far as I know, there is no such rule, but it really doesn't make much difference as long as SOMEBODY hangs up after thirty minutes.

Club Attends District Meet

Six members of the Waterford-Clarkston Business and Professional Women's Club attended the Sunday meeting of group's 10th district.

★ ★ ★

Hearing guest speaker, Representative Martha W. Griffiths, were Mrs. William Stamp, Mrs. Elizabeth Ronk, and Mrs. Eldon Rosegart. Also at the Sylvan Glen Country Club for the affair, were Mrs. Ralph Williams, Mrs. Harold Soper, and Mrs. Homer Tinney.

★ ★ ★

The next business meeting will be held Jan. 23 at Airway Lanes under the chairmanship of Mrs. Oliver Dunstan, bulletin committee.

At Universities

Students Win Honors

Gordon Messer, son of the Walter A. Messers of Pinegrove Avenue, has been cast as a forest ranger in the forthcoming production of "Little Mary Sunshine" at Sterling College, Sterling, Kans.

Revolving around the trials and tribulations of its heroine, "Little Mary Sunshine" is a gay, fast-moving satire about the long-past but never-forgotten days of the operetta.

STRAIGHT A's

Marcia Karen Strong, Kalamazoo College sophomore, has been named to the dean's list for the fall quarter. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. James L. Strong of South Ardmore Avenue. She earned a straight "A" or 4.0 grade point average.

James T. Baker, Albion College junior from Pontiac, has been elected recording secretary of Delta Tau Delta fraternity. A math major, Baker is the son of Mrs. Harry T. Baker of Navajo Road.

Burn Up Those Extra Calories

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UPI) — Keeping as active as your health permits will help control your appetite, says Geraldine Acker, University of Illinois food specialist.

A moderate amount of exercise releases the nervous tension which causes many persons to overeat.

Dampness Needed for Ironing Silk

Iron silk when it is quite damp — never sprinkled, because it tends to water spot. Instead, wet the entire garment and blot in a dry towel.

Karen M. Buckmann has set a May date for her marriage to C. Philip Jackson Jr., son of the senior Jacksons of Bridgewater, Mass. Her parents are Mrs. Emma Buckmann of Delrose Road and Rudolph Buckmann of Royal Oak. The bride-elect attended Western Michigan University. Her fiance is a senior at University of Michigan.

Pontiac Teacher Talks to Women's Federation

"Russia in 1963," as seen by a local teacher, gave the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs members a keener insight into life in the Soviet Union.

Mrs. Joseph Davis, instructor at Madison Junior High School, was keynote speaker at the Monday meeting in the Ottawa Drive home of Mrs. William H. Taylor Jr.

Mrs. Davis was one of 40 American teachers selected to visit the Soviet Union last summer. She illustrated her talk with colored slides.

GIFT DESIGNATED

Mrs. Merrill D. Petrie, president of the group, announced that Girl's Ranch at Camp Oakland would be the recipient of monies raised at the benefit bridge and style show.

Mrs. Paul Gorman announced that speakers on the Community College are available to any group for either five-minute or half-hour programs.

Arrangements for a speaker can be made by contacting her.

Hostess group for the January meeting was the Child Study Club, Group 3, with Mrs. Robert Shorey as chairman.

Assisting her were Mrs. Walter Godsell and Mrs. Robert Bego. Mrs. Sol Newhouse presided at the tea table.

★ ★ ★

Buffet Supper Follows Bethany Baptist Rites

The Bethany Baptist Church was the setting for the recent marriage of Janice Lee Jackson to Daniel Lee Miller.

A reception and buffet supper in the Coral Reef Room of Airway Lanes followed the candlelight ceremony performed by Rev. Chalmer Mastin.

Parents of the couple are the Claude M. Jacksons of Ledyard Street and the Paul Millers of Cass Lake Road.

★ ★ ★

A gown of the traditional white satin for the bride was styled with bodice and three-quarter length sleeves of Chantilly lace. She wore a bubble veil of French illusion with pearl tiara and carried white roses and Pittosphorum.

SCARLET GOWN

Mrs. Ronald E. Franks, her sister's matron of honor, was gowned in scarlet velvet styled with bell skirt. Red carnations rested on her white fur muff which matched her pillbox hat.

Wearing identical ensembles, were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Gary Jackson and Sue Urbonovic. Mamie Eisenhower carnations adorned their muffs.

On the esquire side, were best man Theodore Wade, and ushers Gary W. Jackson and Ronald E. Franks.

Shades Flip for Fashion

There are new directions in window shades — thanks to the increasing popularity of unusual peaked or slanted windows in high ceilinged homes.

★ ★ ★

The bottom-up shade which utilizes a pulley device to keep the shade taut in all positions is readily adaptable to such windows since top hems can be cut to conform to their irregular contours.

★ ★ ★

For overhead skylights, there's a new "horizontal installation," which moves sideways. Cord extensions are located down on the wall for convenient manipulation, or they can be electrically controlled.

Here's the warmest ski jacket you can own. There's acrylic pile on one side, reversing to quilted nylon on the other, and it's interlined with Dacron fiberfill. A hood is concealed in the detachable collar. Created by Stratojac.

Annual Club Dance Helps Hospital

More than 200 St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Boosters dined and danced Saturday evening at the Pine Lake Country Club at their fifth annual party.

Dr. James E. Henderson and Dr. Clare Johnson, directors of the club's 1964 activities, helped execute party plans drawn up by 1963 chairman, Dr. Clayton Gordon.

★ ★ ★

Members of the committee were Mrs. John S. Mahony, president of the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. James M. Hannan, chairman of the American Red Cross Gray Ladies; and Bernard R. Tresnowski, assistant administrator of the hospital.

Other hospital supporters are Judge and Mrs. Albert C. Carr; Mrs. Meyer Simon; George F. Taylor; Robert R. Sauer; Bernard Girard; and Aaron and Leonard Kershenbaum.

FOUR YEARS OLD

Organized in 1959 by Mrs. John Petrakis, the Boosters provide for non-budgeted needs of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The group through proceeds from dinner dances and theater parties, has provided funds for redecorating the emergency room, gynecology and obstetrics areas, the second and third floors and the recovery room.

The Boosters are planning further contributions to the recently launched building program.

Congratulating each other for a successful evening are Dr. James E. Henderson (left) and Dr. Clayton Gordon of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital staff. They were 1964 and 1963 chairmen respectively for the Boosters' Club annual dinner dance held last Saturday.

Botsford Inn Selected for Honeymoon

A reception in the Dublin Community Center followed the recent vows of Janet Marie Leonard and Richard Albert Burgess in the Mandon Lake Community Church.

Rev. Maurice Derett performed the candlelight ceremony for the couple who chose Botsford Inn for their honeymoon. They will live at Union Lake.

★ ★ ★

Daughter of the Alfred D. Leonards of Applewood Drive, the bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace over white silk, styled with chapel sweep.

FINGERTIP VEIL

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a pearl coronet and white carnations comprised her bouquet.

Mrs. Richard L. Leonard, matron of honor for her sister-in-law, wore forest green velvet and carried green-tipped white carnations.

★ ★ ★

Bridesmaids, Mrs. LeRoy Brooks and Laneeta Cutter, were gowned in red velvet. Their bouquets of white carnations were tipped in red, matching their hats and shoes.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burgess of Clintonville Road, had Richard L. Leonard for his best man. Gary Webb and LeRoy Brooks seated the guests.

Area Group Extends an Invitation

The public has been invited to attend a general meeting of the Temple Beth Jacob Nursery, Inc. Thursday at 8 p.m. in the social hall on Elizabeth Lake Road.

Mrs. Elizabeth Appleton, nursery mother and teacher of modern dance at Oakland University, will give a talk and demonstration of modern dance along with 20 of her students.

Casual clothes are recommended, as the audience will be invited to participate.

The nursery school, for three and four-year-old children, is non-profit and nonsectarian in enrollment and licensed by the Michigan State Board of Education through the Department of Social Welfare.

The school is a member of the Greater Detroit Cooperative Nursery School Association and the Cooperative Nursery School Association for the State of Michigan.

Weaker, Stronger in Teaching Talk

Did you know that women and children have a slight advantage over men — when it comes to teaching a parakeet to talk. Experts claim men's voices are of a lower pitch and the little feathered friend responds more quickly to the higher sounds of women and children.

Bright Future for White Wool

One of fashion's darlings this year is white wool and one of the homemaker's problems is how to keep it white. If you decide to tackle it at home be very careful about keeping it away from chlorine bleaches and strong soap warns Mrs. Anne Sterling, Director of Consumer Relations for the American Institute of Laundering. To prevent yellowing of wool you should wash it often before it is heavily soiled. Use mild suds and lukewarm water. If wool has yellowed from heat or from chlorine bleach, there is no way to whiten it again.

Chicago Honeymoon

The Johnnie J. Greers (Susan Jane Fulton) left for a Chicago honeymoon following recent vows and reception in Calvary Lutheran Church, Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the couple are the Vernon A. Fultons of Allen Road, Independence Township, and the John E. Greers of Melrose Avenue.

★ ★ ★

For the afternoon ceremony performed by Rev. Paul Johns, the bride chose a gown of white peau de soie appliqued with Alencon lace and styled with chapel train.

Silk illusion fashioned her bubble veil and her cascade bouquet included white orchids, roses and Stephanotis.

Wearing peacock blue velvet sheath gowns were Nancy Fulton, her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Brenda Greer and Nancy Bain.

White fur headpieces matched their muffs adorned with white roses and blue carnations.

With the best man, James Carraway, were ushers Michael A. Fulton and Lawrence Ehr of Flint.

The bride attended Michigan State University and Mr. Greer is enrolled at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Madrigal Club Offers Prize for Composition

The Madrigal Club of Detroit, Inc., announces a competition for a choral work for female voices to celebrate the club's 50th anniversary as a women's chorus.

A cash prize of $250 will be awarded the winning manuscript. Contest will close Sept. 1, 1964. The winning work will be performed by the chorus in the spring of 1965.

The competition is open to any composer born in, or now residing in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Judges include Dr. Ruth S. Wylie, professor in the music department of Wayne State University; Richard E. Klausli, associate professor in the music department of Michigan State University; and August Maekelberghe, organist, composer and director of the Madrigal Club of Detroit.

Competition rules may be obtained by writing to Ruth C. D'Arcy, competition chairman, Madrigal Club of Detroit, 25102 Annapolis, Dearborn Heights, Michigan.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

When thinking of becoming more attractive, a woman usually considers first her figure and her complexion. Certainly both are an important part of any self-improvement routine.

I have already brought you directions for weighing and measuring yourself and counting calories. Today let's think of skin care.

It is really wonderful what improvement daily care can make in the complexion. Our outer coating responds with beauty when it is given a chance, and ages prematurely when it is neglected.

When reducing a woman should give her complexion special care. Fats are cut low in the diet and the skin must shrink to meet new proportions. For this reason I also recommend the use of a body lotion at this time even if you do not always use one.

DRY COMPLEXION

First let us consider the woman who has a dry complexion. Daily lubrication is an essential. Be sure to let a good cream soak into your face and neck for at least 30 minutes a day. Even better, leave a cream or oil on all night. Some of these have very little residue of grease.

The woman who has a dry skin should use a cleansing cream instead of soap and water. It is also well to remember that even though you may have a normal skin its natural oils decrease as you grow older.

Even if the woman with a dry complexion does not leave her lubricating cream on all night, she should pat an eye cream about her eyes each night before going to sleep.

Suppose you have an oily complexion! It's lots of soap and water for you! If your skin is extremely oily, you should treat it with suds several times a day. You can also use an astringent regularly.

The hair responds just about as happily as the complexion does to daily care. It does not matter whether your hair is oily or dry, daily brushing or scalp massage is important. This stimulates and tends to normalize the little oil glands in the scalp.

If your hair is dry, do not shampoo it so often. Every 12 days may be sufficient. If your hair is oily, shampoo it frequently. Twice a week may be best.

Those of you who are following my Eight - Week Beauty Improvement Plan will find that the exercises you are doing, the care you are giving to planning scientific menus and the lack of heavy rich foods, will be beneficial to your complexion and your hair.

Want to join thousands of other women in an exciting adventure, an exciting eight weeks to see how much you can improve your appearance and health during that time?

Bringing Up Baby.
HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Forcing or coaxing are probably the methods most unlikely to succeed when it comes to feeding a baby. For these "persuaders" often stifle a baby's natural desire for food. They may well turn a normally amiable eater into a rambunctious rebel. They may even instill a lasting distaste for foods so administered. Your baby, like all babies, instinctively knows his food needs and will eat enough if he's left to eat, not made to eat.

Pertinent pointer. An unhurried, unworried mother and a smiling mealtime atmosphere are still the best ways to teach your little one that eating is one of the truly pleasant experiences of life.

Pleasure personified. Seconds are usually in order when you treat your sweet to Gerber Strained Oatmeal or Mixed Cereal with Applesauce and Bananas. The fruit is cooked right with the cereal for out-of-this-world flavor. The texture is smooth and wonderfully moist to pamper a delicate palate. As for nutrition, these delicious combination dishes are enriched with iron and important B-vitamins. All ready to serve "as is."

Position isn't everything. When it comes to a sleeping baby, that is. Tummy position or flat-aback are both o.k. unless your doctor specifies a preference. By alternating positions, you'll soon discover your baby's preference. Plusses for the tummy position: covers stay put better . . . diaper will absorb more moisture.

Naturally yours from good old Mother Nature, that's the good word on Gerber Strained and Junior Fruits. Know why? It's because they're flash-cooked in a matter of seconds to preserve the true colors and flavors the warm sun gave them. What's more, this special quick-cook method helps preserve the precious vitamins the good earth gave them. The happy result? Fruits with exceptional meal-appeal. Gerber® Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Michigan.

PTA's in Action

Fathers will take over the meeting for a discussion of juvenile and adult delinquents in the home and school at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the gymnasium.

George Caronis, coordinator of the youth assistance program for the city of Pontiac, and Mrs. Shirley Du Mont, visiting teacher for Pontiac public schools, will lead the program.

BETHUNE

An individual room level meeting will be held at 1:45 p.m. Thursday. Teachers will demonstrate, with pupils, the techniques and procedures used in teaching.

Hostesses for the occasion are the homerooms of Mrs. Clarence Barrow and Mrs. David Muxworthy.

The regular board meeting will be held at 9 a.m. Monday in the conference room.

HAWTHORNE

Parents and teachers will tour Cranbrook planetarium and museum at 8 p.m. Thursday.

MALKIM

The film, "Angry Boy," will be presented by Mrs. Edith Gilmore, teacher vice president, at the 2 p.m. Thursday meeting.

Showing the personality conflicts within the home, the movie demonstrates how unrecognized tension can be produced in children. This tension can in turn cause unusual behavior.

OWEN

Tom Chanez will give an illustrated talk on Mexico at the 7:30 p.m. Thursday meeting.

★ ★ ★

Chanez is currently doing youth work for Oakland County and the First Presbyterian Church.

MARK TWAIN

Dr. Myles Platt, director of social studies for the Oakland County Schools, will speak at the 3 p.m. Thursday meeting.

★ ★ ★

"Looking into the New Social Studies" is the subject for the member of the Oakland County Board. The presentation will be given by Mrs. Harvey Gold's first grade class.

WEBSTER

Representatives of local churches, schools, and community will discuss education in the home at the 7:30 p.m. meeting Thursday.

Speaking on "What Are We Teaching?" will be Leroy Brock, Arthur Little and Christian Roth.

Whimsical Fur for Wintertime

Winter furs are as varied as the weather is whimsical. The animal instinct is strong this season as fur-like fabrics gain popularity. Synthetic blends are used almost exclusively. Most of these furs such as pony, leopard, ocelot, seal, and lamb are washable.

However, furs should be laundered with as little mechanical action as possible. For best results, it is suggested that the fur-like fabrics be washed in warm, sudsy water and brushed while still damp with a stiff brush to loosen pile and restore soft appearance.

Women and Cars

Auto experts report that interior fabrics, carpeting, trim schemes and exterior colors of new cars have been influenced by women.

Soft Sugar Cookies Stay in High Favor

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Old time cooks used all lard and cream that had soured naturally. Today's cook who makes soft sugar cookies uses a mixture of shortenings and culturally soured cream.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Clarence Barnes, a newcomer to Pontiac, is our cook today. She enjoys being a homemaker and mother to three active youngsters.

SOFT SUGAR COOKIES
By Mrs. Clarence Barnes

4 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
¾ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup soft butter or ½ cup EACH margarine, lard and vegetable shortening
1½ cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 eggs
¾ cup sour cream

Sift dry ingredients. Cream butter and sugar with vanilla. Beat in eggs.

Add dry ingredients alternately with cream. Mix smooth after each addition. Chill at least an hour.

Roll out a third of the dough at a time to ¼-inch thickness. Cut with floured cutter.

Sprinkle with sugar and bake 9-10 minutes at 375 degrees. Store in airtight box with waxed paper between layers. Makes 40 cookies.

How Much Board Should Children Pay?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: My daughter is working and living at home, and would like to pay board. Her take-home pay is about $200 a month. She helps a lot around the house, cleaning and doing dishes, and she irons her own clothes.

MARY FEELEY

I do her laundry and cook the meals. I feel her help around the house should count toward her board. What do you think would be a fair amount for her to pay?

Also, my married son has separated from his wife and is now living at home, along with his 2-year-old daughter.

What would be fair for room and board for the two of them? I do the washing and ironing. His take-home pay is $100 a week.

Mrs. E. C., San Diego, Calif.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. E. C.: You're one mother who'll never have to worry about a lonely old age. And as for retirement plans, it looks as if you'll never need any!

About this room and board question—I agree that your daughter's help with the housework should be counted in her favor, financially.

I should think $40 a month would seem reasonable from her point of view, and adequate to cover the actual monthly expenses of food, utilities, occasional use of the car, etc.

Since care of your two-year-old granddaughter goes far beyond any money calculations, you'd never be able to figure out what time and love amounted to in dollars and cents.

So figure instead on the practical expenses. Say $140-$145 as payment for your son's monthly share.

This should buy their food and help cover such items as laundry, utilities, incidental needs for the child.

Since your family relationships seem harmonious, why not try running your household on the combined suggested payments—$175 to $180 a month. See how you come out over a period of 60 days.

★ ★ ★

I believe you, as well as your children, will want to arrange your finances so that everybody concerned has something to save and enough for clothing.

Certainly your son should be able to carry life insurance for his little daughter. Only by experimenting can you be sure you've made a workable plan.

Count Waste Too

When comparing meat prices, be sure to consider the amount of inedible parts, the weight that will be lost in cooking and the protein content of the ready-to-eat meat.

Every State Has Them

Thousands of Laws Regulate Nearly Every Activity

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The nation's legal explosion shows no signs of slowing down and the avalanche of new laws fills more and more books in the legal libraries. This second article in a three-part series reports on where the laws come from and what they do.)

By BARNEY SEIBERT
United Press International

In 1951, the legislatures of the 48 states considered 69,919 proposed laws and adopted 23,894 of them.

In 1961, the legislatures of the 50 states considered 89,669 proposed laws and adopted 30,396 of them.

Between 1951 and 1961, the number of states in the union increased 4 per cent, but the legal output per state legislative session went up 25 per cent.

This, in statistical terms, is how the nation has come to be flooded by a tide of statutes which can put you in danger of breaking the law with almost every breath you take.

The Illinois and New York state bar associations, in prepared lectures for school assemblies, pointed out that the content of the clothes you wear, the food you eat, the light by which you read, the building in which you live, the car you drive, the work you do, all are regulated to some degree by laws.

"Laws affect you in all of your waking — not sleeping — hours," the associations said.

What is this outpouring of regulation and restriction about?

In 24 representative states, a United Press International survey showed that education, the automobile, liquor and financial problems accounted for the biggest body of legislation.

LED ALL OTHERS

In five states, education led all other subjects as a lawmakers' favorite and ranked among the top three in six others.

Liquor and autos both led the list in two states, and automobiles were among the top three law-provoking subjects in seven others. Liquor was among the top three in four other states.

Financial problems most preoccupied the lawmakers of three states and ranked among the three subjects for lawmaking in five others.

★ ★ ★

MORE AUTOS

The number of autos in use grows annually, and the need for regulation rises with it. There are more persons in school each year, and they are demanding more schooling, so it follows there will be more law on the subject.

In some Southwest states, such as Texas, water is the most popular subject for lawmaking, probably because there isn't enough of it to go around.

Four states—Georgia, Nevada, and Washington—reported that laws regulating local governmental agencies were the most frequent concerns of their state legislation.

★ ★ ★

There's a popular saying in Georgia that a city "cannot open or close an alley, or put up a traffic light" without a special state law. Georgia also holds the constitutional amendment championship. Its constitution has been altered 381 times in the past 18 years. Some 322 of the amendments concerned city charters.

(Tomorrow: Unique Laws.)

Still Getting Mail

LANSING (AP) — G. Donald Kennedy, who served as highway commissioner from 1940 to 1942, is still getting mail at the State Highway Department. A card recently was received from Cleveland, Ohio, asking Kennedy for a highway map. Kennedy is now president of the Portland Cement Association in Chicago.

Plans Suddenly Changed

Time, Illness Forcing Nehru to Retire

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Time, as it does to all men eventually, is forcing the hand of Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

NEWSOM

On Jan. 1, the 74 - year - old Nehru received UPI correspondent Michael T. Malloy for the first and only interview he has granted in the new year.

'I suppose that I'll retire some day," Nehru said. "But I have no plans for that now."

It was scarcely a week later, at his Congress party's convention in Bhubaneswar, India, that an event occurred that is of vast concern to India and may change drastically Nehru's own plans. At Bhubaneswar, Nehru suddenly fell ill.

To an original diagnosis of high blood pressure, the doctors added references to a "weakness of the left limbs." The general interpretation was that he had suffered a paralytic stroke.

★ ★ ★

Now the word is that he has ben urged to take a complete rest for at least three months.

STRANGE NAMES

New names, many of them strange to the West, will be emerging from an India which since independence in 1950 has been dominated by only one name — Nehru's.

Nehru inherited his mantle of leadership from the assassinated Mohandas Gandhi, and with it came also the mystic hero worship which enabled Nehru alone to dominate a nation of half a billion people, ranging from the primitive to the most sophsiticated, divided by 845 different languages and major dialects.

In India's remotest areas there are even some who never have heard of Nehru.

Nehru has dictated his country's economic policies, a curious mixture of capitalism and state socialism. And he has dictated its foreign policy which still, despite Red China's threat, is based on non-alignment.

NO RIVALS

Nehru's strong personality has brooked no rivals for leadership and this is a matter of chief concern now.

Even under Nehru's strong hand, members of the Indian Parliament, sharply divided between right and left, staged walkouts and noisy uproars accompanied by exchanges of mutual insults. Indian politics, rowdy before, now will become more so.

As a temporary measure, leaders of the Congress party's quarrelling right and left wings have reached a compromise by which they hope to run the government in Nehru's absence.

★ ★ ★

Neither is a name known to the West.

On the right is Tiruvallur Thattai Krishnamachari, an on-again, off-again cabinet minister since 1952 and now a sharp-tongued minister of finance. Nehru sent him to Washington last winter to negotiate U.S. military aid.

On the left is Home Minister Guzarilal Nanda. He is 65 and a fervent believer in planned economy. He has been associated with the government's five-year plans since 1951.

Still more names will emerge before India's power struggle is over. One powerful voice may be that of Nehru's daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi. A possibility for the foreign ministry post is Nehru's sister, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit.

★ ★ ★

Touted as a possible successor to Nehru is former Home Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, a friend of Nehru, colorless but one of the few aceptable to both left and right.

Group Seeks to Restore Lost Beauty of Paint Creek

"Restore Paint Creek to its original state of natural purity and beauty."

"Give the kids back their ole swimmin' hole in Avon Township Park."

"Restock the stream with fish so that it will again be the mecca for area fishermen of all ages."

★ ★ ★

These are the main aims of a new committee being formed by representatives of the communities that border the brook.

LABOR LEADER

Walter Reuther, UAW-CIO president whose home is on the stream, recently called the community leaders together at the Oakland Township Hall to start work on the restoration project.

Formed under the name of Paint Creek Citizens Conservation Committee, the group is planning initial action to prevent further pollution of the picturesque stream, to control erosion and flow of water and to replant its banks with evergreens.

Reuther has stressed that this group is not a political organization nor will legal action be taken at the start.

A steering committee will be formed with a chairman to head the over-all project and vice chairmen from each community to work on the various phases.

ALL CONCENTRATING

"All will be concentrating their efforts on the one basic premise — working on a community-wide level to restore Paint Creek to its original state of natural beauty," said John O'Donnell, Rochester councilman who was one of the representatives of the village at the initial session.

He said additional help is being sought from the Water Resources Commission in Lansing and the National Game and Wildlife Department of the Department of the Interior in Washington D.C.

Pollution of the creek caused the closing of the pond in Avon Township Park about two years ago and since that time Lake Orion has worked out a solution with the county to construct a sewage plant which will be a sizeable contribution to solution of the problem.

★ ★ ★

Another aspect of pollution being considered is the detergents being dumped into the stream.

SOAP SOLUTION

The federal government currently is conducting a study which would substitute petroleum-based detergents with fatty or animal bases that nature could handle in the flow of water.

★ ★ ★

The next meeting of the new committee, to be held at Lake Orion High School, will be announced in the near future. Some 50 area representatives attended the first session.

Soil Meeting to Feature Election, Contest Awards

Election of officers and presentation of 1963 corn contest awards will highlight the annual banquet meeting of the Oakland County Soil Conservation District Jan. 21.

The event is slated to take place at 7 p.m. in the Community Activities Building in Waterford Township.

Lyle Abel, county extension director, will have charge of the program and will double as toastmaster.

The election of two county directors will be conducted by Keith Middleton, 2610 Stony Creek, Oakland Township.

EXPIRED TERMS

The terms of Robert McCrory 26867 Pontiac, Lyon Township, and Samuel Miller, 8391 Bridge Lake, Springfield Township, have expired.

The two recent incumbents and two other area farmers have been nominated by the nominating committee for the three-year terms.

Besides McCrory and Miller, the names of Howard Balko, 52730 W. Eight Mile, Lyon Township, and Glenn Mills, 610 Ortonville, Groveland Township, will be presented to run for the directorships.

Nominations also will be accepted from the floor.

ELIGIBLE VOTERS

Any landowner of three or more acres of land in the Oakland County Soil Conservation District is eligible to vote.

Everyone is urged to attend whether or not they are eligible to vote, according to Jay Poffenberger, county agriculture agent.

Of current interest to landowners will be the report on rural recreation to be presented by Ellis G. (Bill) Humphrey, local work unit agent with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service.

★ ★ ★

In the past few months, Humphrey has been distributing booklets and giving out information on the conversion of soil bank land and other nonproductive areas into recreation facilities.

BEING PROMOTED

This project is being promoted by the government and U.S. Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman in particular who has predicted that "the prosperous farmer of tomorrow is going to raise recreation (land) just as he is raising corn now."

On the subject of corn, winners of the 1963 corn contest will receive their awards at the banquet. Poffenberger will make the presentations.

The program also will include a district report by James Reid, 5400 Cedar Island, White Lake Township.

★ ★ ★

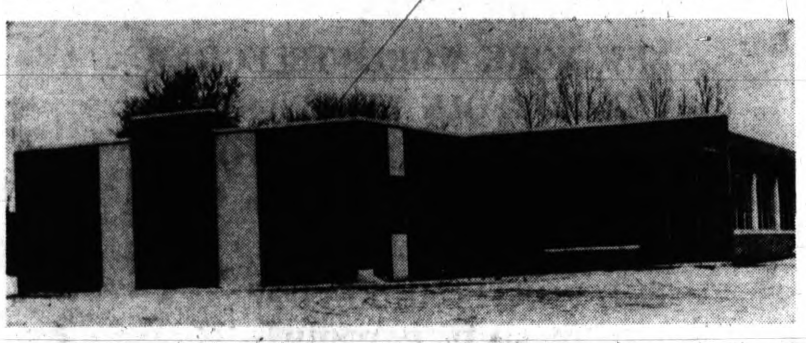
Entertainment for the evening will be provided by Robert Brouwer of Grand Rapids. He will show colored slides of National Parks in the Western United States.

TO BE UNIQUE

The film presentation will be unique because Brouwer will use three large screens much the same as Cinerama, with a background of hi-fidelity stereo music to lend dimension to his narration.

Tickets to the banquet can be obtained from McCrory, Miller, Middleton, Reid and Harold Mitchell, 10542 McWain, Holly Township.

They also are available from the Soil Conservation District office, 35 E. Huron, Pontiac; at the Cooperative Extension office, 155 N. Saginaw, Pontiac; or at the door.



Cedar Crest Lutheran School Unit Awaits Dedication

2 Services to Mark Lutheran School Unit

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Two services have been planned to mark the dedication of the new $85,000 Christian day school unit at Cedar Crest Lutheran Church Sunday.

Dr. Paul A. Zimmerman, president of Concordia Lutheran Junior College, Ann Arbor, will speak at the 10:30 a.m. dedication service.

A festival service of thanksgiving is scheduled for 4 p.m. Rev. Edwin C. Weber, vice president of the Michigan District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, will deliver the sermon.

★ ★ ★

The new school consists of four classrooms and a principal's office. Present enrollment is 83. On the staff are Robert Litherland, principal; Lois Engelmann; and Jean Gobrogge.

BOTH SERVICES

For both services Sunday Rev. Ronald A. Michel, pastor of Cedar Crest Lutheran Church, will be liturgist. He will be assisted by the school choir and adult choir under the direction of Jean Gobrogge. Organists are Mrs. Erwin Hofmeister and Linda Hofmeister.

A luncheon will be served by the congregation's Martha Society after the festival services. It in turn will be followed by an open house.

★ ★ ★

Planning committee for the school unit was headed by Leslie Henry. Other members were Russell Sadler, James Howard, Robert Wallace, Arnold Sonnenberg, Fred Weihe, Litherland and John Rematta Jr., former principal.

Troy Units to Meet in Joint Session

TROY — A joint meeting of the Troy City Commission and School Board is scheduled for Monday at 8 p.m. in the City Hall.

★ ★ ★

The commission last night resolved to stage the special session in order to take an overall look at growth problems confronting both administrative bodies.

Sewage fees and sidewalks were two of the items mentioned which will come up for joint consideration at Monday's meeting.

Father Assists at Rites

Evelyn Adams Is Married

ORION TOWNSHIP — Rev. J. Gilbert Adams, pastor of Mount Olive Baptist Church, Pontiac, assisted at the wedding of his daughter Evelyn Myra and Edward DeForest Gehres Jr. Saturday at Erin United Presbyterian Church, Roseville.

Rev. Adams joined Rev. Joseph MacDonald, pastor of the Roseville Church, at the altar after giving his daughter in marriage.

The bride's parents lived at 798 Miller. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Gehres Sr. of Roseville.

★ ★ ★

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length gown of white peau satin featuring Alencon lace appliques on the bodice and front panel of the skirt that ended in a short cathedral train.

LONG STEM ROSE

She carried a white long stem rose on a white satin Bible.

Mrs. Dalton Priest of Pontiac was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Frances Austin of Pontiac, Susan Grissom of Detroit and Mary Ann Gehres, sister of the bridegroom.

Serving as best man was Jack Fuhrmann of Fremont. The guests were seated by Jeff Nickora of Bloomfield Hills, Jerry Korte of New Baltimore and John Adams, brother of the bride.

Mark Adams and Mark Gehres, brothers of the bride and bridegroom respectively, carried the rings.

Caucus Set in Clarkston

CLARKSTON—The Clarkston Village Council last night set Feb. 17 as the date of the annual Citizens Party caucus.

Party members will nominate a slate of candidates at the 8:30 p. m. caucus for the March 9 election.

The terms are expiring of the president, treasurer, clerk and assessor as well as three of the six council members.

Traffic Deaths at 69

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic accidents have killed 69 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The highway death toll at this date last year was 44.

Troy Vote Set on Civil Service

TROY — Voters here will decide the question of civil service status for Troy's police and firemen in the April 6 election.

The City Commission last night voted unanimously to rescind an earlier motion putting the issue to a vote in the primary election, if there is one.

The original resolution was made last September. After rescinding it, the commission voted, again unanimously, to put the issue on the April 6 ballot.

★ ★ ★

City Manager David E. Firestone today said the reason behind the commission's decision was that the 15-man committee which was set up to analyze "both sides" of civil service has not yet reached any decisions.

Firestone also pointed out that many Troy residents were concerned about when the issue would appear on the ballot.

Farmington Buys New School Site

FARMINGTON — The board of education here last night completed purchase of a new elementary school site near a proposed subdivision.

The 13-acre parcel carried a total cost of $37,500. It is in the center of Farmington Township's section one, which is bordered by 14 Mile, Middlebelt, 13 Mile and Inkster.

Maintaining its policy, the board denied a request of hourly employes for Nov. 25 wages. School was closed that day in memory of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Board policy dictates that salaried employes but not those paid by the hour can receive wages for days not worked.

PERSONS INCLUDED

About 90 persons, including bus drivers, cafeteria employes, some custodians and noon aides, are paid by the hour.

The report of a staff and board committee last night indicated there are 10 suitable sites for a new service building for the district.

Board members decided to confine consideration to the six parcels owned by the board.

They referred the matter to school architects J. McDonald Jacob Associates of Royal Oak.

Hamlin PTA to Hear Ex-School Official

AVON TOWNSHIP — R. A. Ambrose, former Oxford Schools superintendent and past president of the Michigan PTA Congress, will be guest speaker at the Hamlin Elementary PTA meeting at 8 p.m. Monday.

The session will take place at the school, 270 W. Hamlin.

Second Hearing Set for Store

Rezoning Issue Rises Again in Troy

By ROGER SRIGLEY

TROY — The City Commission last night decided to give developers of the proposed K-Mart Center here, as well as the Du Pont Co., another chance.

Both are requesting rezoning — the developers to build and Du Pont Co. to expand in the "far future."

A Feb. 3 public hearing was set to bring to a head the pros and cons surrounding Frazer-Werbe Co.'s plans to build a shopping complex featuring a K-Mart discount store, at 15 Mile and Stephenson.

Last night representatives of two home owners' associations expressed approval of the plans. A letter from AMT Corp., which had earlier objected to the center, told of the company's reconsideration and change of opinion.

PROBLEMS CORRECTED

The firm's reversal was due, according to the letter, to plans of the developer to correct potential traffic problems by widening roads around the center.

Donald W. Sommer, president of the Troy Panhandle Homeowners Association, said he represented 378 home owners who were in favor of the development. Frazer - Werbe Co. has promised the association a three-acre park.

On the other side of the fence, letters from three companies objecting to the center were read. The firms are the Jim Robbins Co., Western Coating Co., and the Judson Miller Co.

In general their correspondence indicated agreement with city planning consultants Villcan - Leman & Associates of Southfield.

INDUSTRY ZONE

The planners argue the site is better suited for industry, for which it is now zoned, and that a center would cause a traffic problem.

Turning to the issue of rezoning 12 lots north of Du Pont Co. to industrial use, the council informally agreed on a compromise.

Dick Reynolds, secretary of the firm, said the owner wants to have the lots rezoned to prevent residences from closing in on the plant.

Du Pont Co. is located north of Long Lake Road just east of the I-75 expressway.

★ ★ ★

After hearing lengthy discussion of the issue, which included objections raised by several area home owners, the commission asked Reynolds to check with Du Pont and see whether the owner would purchase the 12-lot block if the commission would rezone half of it to industrial.

★ ★ ★

The topic is scheduled to be aired again at next Monday's meeting.

Rochester School Board Fills Vacated Position

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Community School Board has a new trustee, Mrs. Donald (Gail) Kemler. She was appointed at last night's special board meeting to serve out the unexpired term of former member John H. Patterson.

Patterson resigned at last week's meeting, after chastizing the board and stating that his action was prompted by "a planned conspiracy to belittle me."

Mrs. Kemler, a mother of three who lives at 5900 Cobb Creek Court, Oakland Township, will serve until Patterson's term expires on July 1.

★ ★ ★

Announcing the appointment, School Board President James Ludwick spoke of Mrs. Kemler's "concern and vital interest in education," and her "unusual grasp of school problems."

34-YEAR RESIDENT

The new trustee is a 34-year resident of the school district. She has participated on several citizen's school committees, and is a 1935 graduate of Rochester High School.

In 1946 Mrs. Kemler was elected president of the Rochester Schools' first Mother's Club, a forerunner to the PTA here. She was also active on the schools' citizens' committees in 1952 and 1963.

Prior to her appointment, Mrs. Kemler was serving as chairman of the Building committee on this year's Citizens' School Study Committee.

★ ★ ★

She is also president of the Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational Church, a member of the League of Women Voters and the Oakland County Extension Service.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business last night, the board accepted the resignation of the schools' director of transportation, Mrs. Doris Lowery.

Mrs. Lowery's resignation will become effective Feb. 21. She plans to be married in April.

★ ★ ★

The director of transportation has been an employe of the school district since 1951 and has seen the school's transportation fleet grow from five buses to 34 buses and 11 other vehicles.

Concert to Feature Southfield Pianist

SOUTHFIELD — Nancy Wilson, a 17-year-old beauty with brains and talent, will be featured soloist at the ninth concert of the Southfield Junior Symphony Monday night.

The young pianist will play the first movement of Beethoven's "Piano Concerto No. 3, Op. 37, Allegro con brio" during the concert in the Southfield High School auditorium.

Nancy, daughter of the W. A. Wilsons of 27073 Belmont, has studied for 8½ years under Mischa Kottler, official pianist for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

FINALIST

One of the five finalists in the 1963 Detroit Junior Miss pageant, Nancy is a senior at Southfield High School where she is a member of the National Honor Society, the madrigal choir and the concert choir. She also is president of the Tuesday Musicale Student League.

Nancy plays viola in the Southfield High School Orchestra.

The junior symphony is composed of 60 teen-agers from Southfield, Pontiac, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Detroit, Lathrup Village, Royal Oak and Oak Park.

Tickets for the 8 p.m. concert can be purchased from any orchestra member or at the door Monday night.

Captains, Skippers Clash Tonight

The area basketball spotlight will be on Waterford Kettering High School's gymnasium tonight as the Captains attempt to extend their unbeaten string against arch-rival Waterford.

Kettering has won five straight and for the first time in a short history has a basketball team that is rated in the top 20 of the Associated Press weekly state Class A prep poll.

Coach Joe Duby has an obstacle to surmount tonight on the home floor, though, for in the two previous seasons of the township series, Kettering has not won the first game.

Only by virtue of victories in the second games each season have the Captains managed to remain even with Waterford.

In addition, the visiting Skippers need a victory badly to cut Kettering's 200-0 edge in the battle this year for the All Sports Trophy.

★ ★ ★

WKHS won both the football and cross country points this past fall.

The Skippers have only won one of five games and the defeats have come in succession. Both teams tallied 62 points against Lapeer, the only mutual foe.

Kettering triumphed by 10 points while Waterford took a six-point loss.

Duby is expected to remain with his starting five of Bill Graham, Jim Nyberg, Bob Bogert, Earl Hook and Rick Pankey, the playmaker.

Township head coach Bob Taylor — in his first season at the helm — has shuttled players in and out of the lineup frequently this season.

★ ★ ★

The Skippers starting array is subject to rapid change. Sophomore shooting star Rick Ziem and senior Rick Russ appear the only certainties.

★ ★ ★

Bill Lemaux is another regular and Dick Miller and Chuck Swenson are the remaining two probables.

A 6:30 p.m. junior varsity game will precede the featured contest.

BILL LEMAUX

PNH Involved in Friendly Rivalry

Huskies Travel to Detroit CC; 2 Big Games

A friendly rivalry between coaches resumes tonight when Pontiac Northern travels to Detroit Catholic Central for a non-league basketball game.

And there is a double showdown in the Eastern Michigan League that could result in a five-way tie for first place.

★ ★ ★

Ferndale (3-2) plays at Hazel Park (4-1) and Birmingham Seaholm (3-2) travels to Royal Oak Kimball (4-1). East Detroit (3-2) is at Roseville (0-5) in the other league encounter.

If the visiting teams all win a real log jam will take place.

Coach Dick Hall of Pontiac Northern and Catholic Central's Bill Foley are close friends.

The teams last met in the 1963 regional at PNH. The Huskies come out on the long end of a 79-65 score and went on to cop the school's first regional championship.

Northern players will have to regain their shooting eyes if they are to be successful in the Catholic Central gym. It is regulation size, but very close on the ends and sides and the fans are reported to be quite noisy.

LOSING STREAK

The Detroit school is in the throes of a mediocre season and the Huskies are favored to snap a two-game losing streak.

Poor shooting, 23 of 84, more than anything else led to PNH's downfall at Farmington in its last outing.

Hall is also experimenting in an attempt to find a replacement for Dick DeWeese who suffered a double fracture of the leg at Farmington. The injury was reduced by surgery and Hall reports DeWeese is "doing very well."

The coach said he would start either John Bailey, Dave Sudbury or Jim DeFlorio in DeWeese's place.

The visiting Spartans were down last year while Capac rode high. The Chieftains are again rated high (5th) in the state's AP Class C poll and are favored to overwhelm their close neighbors.

The West Bloomfield at Walled Lake contest scheduled for tonight has been postponed.

Pontiac Central 3rd in Class A Ratings

Pontiac Central moved up a notch to third place in this week's Class A rating of state high school basketball teams by the Associated Press.

A convincing 86-69 win over Flint Northern coupled with Muskegon's loss to Muskegon Heights paved the way for the Chiefs rise. Muskegon was third last week.

The middle of the Class A second 10 has a definite Oakland County flavor.

Clarkston, Birmingham Brother Rice, Royal Oak Kimball and Waterford Kettering are 15th through 18th in that order.

Cranbrook is well down in the Class B list, led by River Rouge but perennial Class C contender Capac is fifth in its division. New Haven, heir apparent to the Southern Thumb title — if the Rockets can get past Capac — is seventh.

Port Huron St. Stephen and Bloomingdale each grabbed a share of the No. 1 spot in Class D.

Grosse Pointe St. Paul took over first place in Class C, while Lansing Sexton continued as the Class A ruler.

GAINED GROUND

Lansing Sexton gained added support in the poll of the AP's panel of sports writers and sportscasters and collected 151 points. Second place Benton Harbor and third place Pontiac Central also polled more than 100 points.

The only newcomer to crash the elite group among the state's biggest schools was Detroit Northern, which replaced Holland Christian in the No. 10 spot.

Upper Peninsula schools made a big showing, with five of the nine new schools that made the rankings coming from north of the straits.

Rudyard and Escanaba Holy Name made it in Class B, Wakefield in Class C and Mass and Carney in Class D.

County Ace Picked for All-America

JOHN THOMAS

Five Michigan High School football players were listed among All-America selections this week by Scholastic magazine.

John Thomas, Walled Lake High school quarterback, was the lone Oakland County choice.

Others chosen were Mel Summers of Flint Central, Paul Johnson of Bay City Central, Joe Dayton of Detroit and Joe Przybycki of Detroit.

Thomas was picked on the All-County team by the coaches, and received All-State honors.

Bathgate Deal Is Called Off

TORONTO (AP)—The New York Rangers will not trade star right winger Andy Bathgate this year, Coach Red Sullivan said Monday.

"Any and all deals we had pending have fallen through," Sullivan said after the Rangers practiced at Maple Leaf Gardens for Wednesday's National Hockey League game against Toronto.

★ ★ ★

He said Bathgate, in addition to scoring the first goal, played one of his best games of the season Sunday night when New York lost 5-2 to the Red Wings in Detroit.

Published reports last week said Bathgate was heading for the Maple Leafs for two NHL players and one from Rochester of the American League. The reports were denied by the Rangers.

Value Must Wait

Tigers Issue Promissory Note

By JERE CRAIG

FLINT — The Detroit Tigers left a promissory note here yesterday, but no cash value can be attributed to it until summer.

The occasion was the annual Tiger winter tour through state cities to bring fans minds back to baseball, drum up ticket sales and introduce team personnel to the newspaper, radio and television officials.

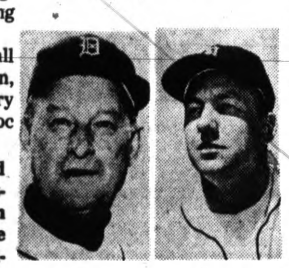
The tour also stopped in Saginaw yesterday and is moving westward today.

Included among the baseball entourage are Charlie Dressen, Al Kaline, Ed Katalinas, Jerry Lumpe, Jim Campbell, Doc Fenkell and Bob Swift.

As usual, optimism and hope were rampant. Reporters and commentators from Flint and Pontiac had the chance to ask questions following brief opening statements.

Tiger publicist Hal Middlesworth made one announcement prior to the beginning of the program. That concerned the acquiring of waivers and subsequent release to Syracuse of left-handed pitcher Tom Fletcher.

Fletcher is a bonus player (reportedly $60,000) who had a promising first year and then developed a circulatory problem in his arm and sat out all last season.



DRESSEN KALINE

COMMENTS MADE

Among the more notable comments by the Tigers yesterday include:

Third base coach Swift — The trades the Tigers made were good ones. Jerry Lumpe is the best second baseman in the major leagues.

If the team fails to improve, it is the fault of the coaching staff since it knows the players a little better than Dressen.

Manager Dressen — "If the ship goes down, we all go down together. There is no excuse for not doing a good job since I know the players now and will be with the team from the beginning of the season.

(Dressen replaced Bob Scheffing as manager in June last year.)

★ ★ ★

"The Tigers should be the most improved team in the American League because of trades and several young players who appear to be ready. Norm Cash is the first baseman all the way. No back-up man will be needed."

All-star right fielder Kaline—"I'm never satisfied with my accomplishments of the preceding season. I want to do better. I would like to play the entire season this year and avoid the injuries that have hit me the past few seasons."

New second baseman Lumpe—"I'm very happy about coming to Detroit.

East Coach Plots Strategy

Wilt Won't Start NBA Game

BOSTON (AP)—East Coach Red Auerbach hopes the West keeps Walt Bellamy at center in the 14th National Basketball Association All-Star game tonight. Wilt Chamberlain gives Bill Russell more trouble:

The classic, preceded by an old timers event, is expected to be played without a hitch despite a howling blizzard Monday night which stranded some of the athletes en route. A party of 18 was hung up in Chicago and eight more delayed in St. Louis.

NBA officials felt all personnel would arrive in plenty of time.

★ ★ ★

If serious doubt arose by early afternoon the board of governors would meet to consider a course of action.

West center Bellamy of Baltimore, like the Celtics' pivot Russell, was a unanimous choice for his team in the balloting conducted by sports writers.

GETS NOD

The player getting the most votes for his position starts, so Bellamy gets the nod over San Francisco's Chamberlain, who will not answer the opening whistle for the first time in five appearances.

"Chamberlain gives Russell more trouble than Bellamy," Auerbach said concerning his rebounding-shot blocking star.

Russell and Cincinnati's great all-around Oscar Robertson hub the East plans to slow down the West club whose five starters have an aggregate per-game scoring average of 121 points.

★ ★ ★

Celtic Tommy Heinsohn and Sam Jones plus Cincinnati rookie Jerry Lucas complete the East five. Wayne Embry, Hal Greer, Len Chappell, Chet Walker and Tom Gola complete the squad.

Los Angeles Coach Fred Schaus will counter with his own Elgin Baylor and Jerry West along with Guy Rodgers of the Warriors and the elder all-star, Bob Pettit of St. Louis. Behind them will be Chamberlain, Bailey Howell, Don Ohl, Terry Dischinger and Lenny Wilkens.

"We're going to win," predicted Auerbach, coaching his eighth straight Eastern crew.

"But it's absolutely ridiculous to make anybody the favorite," Auerbach added in reply to a remark that the odds-makers had put the East as a four-point favorite. "In a game like this there's no way of measuring.

"You don't know what kind of mental attitude and cohesion you're going to get. And you don't know what the other team will do.

"If the West puts Chamberlain at center, moves Bellamy to a corner and sends Baylor to the backcourt—see you later.

"Russell? I don't know how long he'll play. I'll have to play that by ear. It could be 40 minutes."

Waterford Skiers Win

Waterford's girls ski team and Royal Oak Kimball's boys team took victories yesterday in the Mt. Holly Prep Ski League meet.

A Saturday morning five-team battle found Walled Lake's boys and Kettering's girls taking wins.

Individual leaders included Debbie McNair of Waterford with a combined time of 45.1 and D. Clark (39.9) of Kimball's boys squad yesterday.

Saturday Scott Gilbreath (67.5) of Walled Lake and Kettering's Stephanie McKenna (62.0) were the individual leaders.

Waterford placed third (boys) and fourth (girls) Saturday morning. Kettering was fifth in the boys battle, and Walled Lake third in the girls race.

Yesterday's four-team meet found West Bloomfield taking a second (girls) and third (boys). Kimball was third among the girls and Utica fourth in both classes.

The schedule for tomorrow's league meet has Bloomfield Hills, Thurston, Waterford Kettering and Dearborn competing.

Thomas in Line for Lions' Job

DETROIT (UPI)—It looks like William Clay Ford's first major move as sole owner of the Detroit Lions will be to create the post of director of player personnel.

And the top man in line for the job seems to be former Lion Russ Thomas, who worked with Van Patrick on the team's telecasts last season.

★ ★ ★

Thomas would act as a liaison between general manager Edwin J. Anderson and head coach George Wilson. Both are expected to retain their posts under Ford's regime.

But if Anderson should resign—voluntarily or involuntarily — Thomas would probably be first in line to replace him.

Anderson has been in trouble the last three seasons for failing to sign top draft choices and in 1961 was hanged in effigy by the players.

LOSE PLAYERS

It didn't help that this season while the National Football League was clobbering the American Football League in the battle for top draft choices, the Lions lost their first two selections—Pete Beathard of Southern California and Matt Snorton of Michigan State.

★ ★ ★

Ford refused to confirm or deny reports that Thomas will get the job.

"I haven't offered it to him," Ford said. "Russ is a candidate and it could turn out that he will be the man."

"But I do have several other people in mind, too."

Ford said he hoped to fill the post before the National Football League meeting in Miami starting on Jan. 26.

★ ★ ★

Thomas was an All-League lineman during his playing days and has been a semi-official member of the club since his retirement from the field in 1953. He now resides in Walled Lake.

It was also reported that Patrick, a personal friend of Ford, may be added to the board of directors of the newly formed Detroit Lions, Inc.

The new corporation replaced the Detroit Football Co., which went out of business when Ford bought the club for $6 million.

The official purchase of the club was made last Friday although it was approved by the stockholders last November.

Court Order Ends Plan to Move PGA Cup Meet

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Circuit Court has ordered the Professional Golfers' Association to hold its National Gold Club match play tournament starting Wednesday at Palm Beach Gardens.

The PGA announced last Thursday it had transferred the tournament and four other events on its winter program to Port St. Lucie, 42 miles north of Palm Beach Gardens.

Wednesday's tournament, with $10,000 in prize money, drew 278 players.

INJUNCTION

Judge Russell O. Morrow granted an injunction Monday to John D. MacArthur, president of Bankers Life & Casualty Co., to keep the tournament at his development where he spent $3 million to build a clubhouse and two golf courses.

Sponsors of the tournament, and the $25,000 PGA National Golf Club championship scheduled to start Jan. 28, said their companies would not have sponsored them had they known the site would be moved.

PGA representatives at the court hearing said they had the right to change the playing site and there was no written contract to tie it to Palm Beach Gardens. They said facilities were not ready but MacArthur said 143 pros played the courses Saturday and 167 Sunday before rain interfered.

MacArthur met with PGA officials Jan. 6 and said the club would be ready by Jan. 15. He said the first he knew of the move to Port St. Lucie was when he read it in the paper.

It was not announced immediately if the PGA would appeal the ruling.

UCLA Pads No. 1 Rank

By The Associated Press

The unbeaten UCLA Bruins have increased their lead in The Associated Press' weekly major college basketball poll on the strength of back-to-back victories over Southern California and Kentucky's second loss of the season.

The Bruins beat USC 79-59 and 78-71 last week and lifted their record to 13-0. Kentucky, runner-up a week ago, was defeated by Vanderbilt in its first of three games last week and tumbled to fourth.

YMCA Swimmers Defeat Rochester

Pontiac YMCA swimmers scored victories in all three divisions against the Rochester YMCA team last weekend.

The Pontiac Midgets won 40-39, the Preps 77-23 and the Junior 59-30.

Bruce Featherstone, Rochester midget event swimmer set a pool record in the 20-yard butterfly with a time of 12.3 and he also set the midget time of 1:05.5 in the 80-yard individual.

Steve Yedlin, who held the midget event individual time, set a mark in the prep division in 53.4.

John Mason, of the Pontiac YMCA, took junior division honors by winning the 200 freestyle in 2:07.7 and tied the 40-yard butterfly mark in 21.9.

The Pontiac Preps won all events but the 20-yard freestyle with Jim Black scoring a double victory as diver and in 40-yard butterfly.

Braves Sign Bailey

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Veteran catcher Ed Bailey, acquired by Milwaukee in a seven-player deal with the San Francisco Giants last month, signed for the 1964 baseball season Monday during a visit to the Braves' front office.

Player Contracts Reach $800,000

Yankee Payroll Shows Infield Worth $105,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph Houk's $5 million infield is worth $105,000.

The recession began the day Houk stepped up from manager to general manager of the New York Yankees.

And the market hit bottom Monday when Houk and the Yankees decided to mail out contracts to the American League baseball champions. The entire payroll figures to come to an estimated $800,000.

SALARIES

As for the four men Houk valued at $5 million in a word battle with Baltimore Manager Billy Hitchcock last year, here's the way the salaries go, from first to third:

1b—Joe Pepitone, $15,000.

2b—Bobby Richardson, $30,000.

ss—Tony Kubek, $35,000.

3b—Clete Boyer, $25,000.

The left side — Kubek and Boyer—stands about the same as last year.

★ ★ ★

The gains were made on the right side. Pepitone gets a hefty raise from $8,000 after hitting .271 with 27 homers and a club high 89 runs batted in. Richardson, a .265 hitter and a team leader, gets about a $5,000 hike to $30,000.

The big hunk of the $800,000 payroll—one-eighth of it to be exact—goes to Mickey Mantle, who played in only 65 games last season because of a broken left foot and a damaged left knee cartilage that had to be operated on this winter.

Mantle had said he would have accepted a cut, but Houk said:

★ ★ ★

"You don't penalize a man because of injuries sustained in the line of duty. He means a great deal to this club and I expect him to bounce back and have a great year."

TWO SIGN

Houk already has signed two players—outfielder Roger Maris and pitcher Whitey Ford. Maris took a cut of about $5,000 to $65,000 while Ford signed for a $12,000 raise to the $60,000 neighborhood for his 24 victories and added stature as a pitching coach.

Also in for a hefty raise is catcher Elston Howard, the American League's Most Valuable Player, expected to get a contract calling for close to $60,000. Most of the other increase go to the young players.

★ ★ ★

Jim Bouton, a 20-game winner in his second season, and young pitching partner Al Downing should move up to $15,000 and $11,000 respectively, but one of the pitchers—Bill Stafford—is in line for what could be the biggest cut after a 4-8 record and a 6.00 ERA.

Top Recreation Scorer

Waterford Cager Hits 37

The Five R's Construction team romped past Bill's Towing Service, 78-58, last night in a Waterford Township recreation basketball game behind John Keller's 37 points.

Another game found Frushour & Struble Realty holding on for a 75-71 verdict over Wardrobe Cleaners after losing a 13-point halftime lead.

In Pontiac Class D play, the Neopolitan Club topped Cotton Billiards, 80-64, and Minute Lunch beat the Auburn Heights Boys Club, 54-47.

The 6-3 Keller, the township league scoring leader, raised his season average to 34.5 with his outburst. Teammate Tom Derocher hit 14 points.

Little Mike Reed contributed 21 of his 31 points in the second half but it wasn't enough to bring Wardrobe Cleaners a victory in the other game.

Frushour & Struble was led by Dick Hobson with 27 and Jerry Lewis with 24. Hobson clinched the verdict with a basket with 30 seconds to play.

Minute Lunch defeated Auburn Heights BC with a last period surge that broke a 35-all deadlock. Neopolitan took an 18-10 lead in the first quarter and never was headed against Cotton Billiards.

Two Sorrows Wrestlers Boost Winning Skeins

Mike LaFond and Stan Secosky protected their unbeaten strings despite moving up a weight class Monday as Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows dropped Northville's wrestlers, 27-17.

Secosky pinned his opponent in the 165-pounders match for his 28th straight win in dual meets; while LaFond took a decision at 180 pounds for his 18th win in a row.

FOLS sophomore Mike Solar surprised Northville's veteran Russ Nichols with a pin within two minutes of their 120-pound battle. The winners are now 3-2 in dual meets.

FOLS (27)	Northville (17)
95—Tom Wright (N) dec. Clark; 103—Dick Ratcliff (N) by forfeit; 112—Rick Reda (F) dec. Cook; 120—Mike Solar (F) pinned R. Nichols; 127—Jerry Wroblewski (F) pinned Ritter; 133—Rick Korte (F) dec. D. Free Throws Count

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Bob Pecotte's two free throws in the final seconds preserved an 87-85 victory last night for Northern Michigan over St. Norbert in a college basketball game.

Waterford Wrestlers Defeat Utica, 39-8

Waterford's wrestling team won its third match in five starts this season by downing Utica, 39-8 last night. Dale Jones the Skippers' 180 pound wrestler remained unbeaten in five matches by defeating Utica's Leppek.

New NFL Players' Prexy Is 'Other End' for Colts

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (NEA) — If you ask him, Ordell Braase is a social worker for the Lutheran church in Baltimore, Md. But not in the usual sense.

You might find a cigar clenched in his teeth, and his feet are size 16 at the bottom of a 6-4, 245-pound walking ad for high protein living.

He is also the newly elected president of the National Football League Players Association, and if that's the first reason you ever had for hearing of Ordell Braase, join the club.

Ordell, in a working way, is the "other" defensive end for the Baltimore Colts. He has been in professional football since 1957, when he enrolled as a mature rookie of 25.

Now he heads the organization of men who populate the most explosively popular sport in America.

★ ★ ★

Some people think his name is Danish. It's really German and in its pure Teutonic form comes out suspiciously like the first two syllables of a popular piece of woman's apparel, upper torso.

In Baltimore it's "bray-zee," "braze" for informal shortness.

★ ★ ★

The most obvious qualification Braase has for leading the NFLPA is that he comes out of South Dakota, like his predecessor, Pete Retzlaff, the handsome end of the Philadelphia Eagles, also of Germanic descent.

Mitchell is the town in the center of the state which sent Ordell to the University of South Dakota on a basketball scholarship and also features a remarkable edifice known as the Corn Palace.

ORDELL BRAASE
"The other end"

Ordell minored in social studies and football. In 1954 he was drafted on the 14th round by Baltimore.

"I haven't been shocked like that again until they elected me president here," said Braase, relaxing at the Hollywood Beach Hotel, site of the player meetings.

★ ★ ★

The shock didn't affect his sensibilities because after an initial look by the Colts as a 215-pound defensive end, he went into the Army for the next three seasons and emerged on GI rations as a full-size pro of 245.

The big Dakotan was a swing man on the Colt defensive line a couple of years while they won two world championships. In 1960 he stepped into a regular job on the right flank.

On the Baltimore left side for the last 10 years has been Gino Marchetti, the greatest defensive end in football history.

That's why Ordell is known as the "other" end, much like a guy named Bear Bryant was in the shadow of Don Hutson at Alabama.

The Colt defender was the team player representative only two years before selection to the No. 1 spot in the entire association. It needs a big man of his natural dignity for what has become big business.

★ ★ ★

Ordell finds himself up to his ample ears in a million-dollar pension plan (it would take an estimated $50,000 for a 21-year-old to set it up on his own), extensive medical care and the quest for tax depletion allowance on the career life of pro footballers.

Sports Stars Gather

Sports night at Miracle Lounge at 8:00 p.m. tonight will feature the guest appearances of Chuck Davey, Hayes Jones, Hal Newhouser, Charley Gehringer, Mort Neff, Terry Sawchuk, Tom Tracy and Larry Chene. The gathering is in conjunction with the March of Dimes.

Chamberlain Ups Margin

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain fired at a 43-points-per-game clip in National Basketball Association play last week to trigger a San Francisco winning streak and increase his league-leading margin in the individual scoring race.

The Big Dipper scored 175 points as the Warriors won all four games during the week and hit for 50 in a key Western Division victory over first-place Los Angeles.

Chamberlain has 1,426 points for a 35.7 average at the NBA's annual All-Star break. He also leads in field goal accuracy with a .528 percentage and in total rebounds with 913.

The leading scorers:

Chicago's Hull Starts Annual Scoring Binge

MONTREAL (AP) — National Hockey League observers are shaking their heads in agreement today. It looks as if Bobby Hull's annual second-half spurt has started.

The Chicago Black Hawks' bombshell fired five goals last week to run his season's total to 28 and his spurt started talk of a 40 or 50 goal season. And if he really gets hot 60 goals might even be within Hull's reach.

★ ★ ★

Two seasons ago, Hull scored 34 goals in the second half to complete a 50-goal year and tie the NHL record. His 28 goals are 10 better than he had at the same time during his record year.

AFTER 60

Hull is generally conceded the best chance to top the 50-goal plateau but he'd need some fancy shooting to reach 60. The Black Hawks have 29 games remaining so the All-Star left winger would have too average better than a goal a game for 60.

Wolverines Prepare for Ohio State

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — "I think that (Gary) Bradds is one of the country's great basketball players.

"But I think Bill Buntin can stand up to him."

Those were the words from Michigan coach Dave Strack yesterday as his team started preparing for the invasion Saturday by Ohio State.

Ohio State still has quite a basketball tradition lingering from the days of Jerry Lucas and Co. and is shooting for its fifth straight Big Ten title.

Michigan, boasting the finest crop of sophomores the league has seen since Lucas and John Havlicek arrived at OSU five years ago, is determined to build a dynasty of its own.

Michigan and Ohio State go into the battle tied for first place in the Big Ten at 2-0 with Illinois, which shared the crown with the Buckeyes last year.

RATED THIRD

Michigan is 11-1 over-all and rated third in the nation behind UCLA and defending national champion Loyola of Chicago.

OSU, which is 7-5 over-all, isn't rated because of its slow start but has come on strong.

The clash Saturday should go a long way to determine the fate of both teams — and both teams know it'll probably rest on the result of the clash between Gary Bradds and Buntin.

The two opposing all-Big Ten centers — Bradds a senior and Buntin a junior — met twice last year for the first time. Bradds won both duels decisively and went on to win All-America honors.

Strack hopes that Buntin will win the duel this time — and he's planning no special defense to stop Bradds.

"The way it looks now we'll be going with our usual man-to-man defense and counting on Bill to stop Bradds," Stack said.

"Despite all their losses, Ohio has a fine team, our scouts said they're really improved and played a great game against Minnesota. And we have to play them right now, not last month."

Strack will go with his usual starting lineup of Buntin, Larry Tregoning, Oliver Darden, Cazzie Russell and Bob Cantrell.

★ ★ ★

But he also praised his bench for the fine work against Northwestern. Junior forward George Pomey came off the bench to replace Tregoning and scored 15 points.

"Tregoning had one of those bad days that happen every once in a while when you just don't have the touch and Pomey came off the bench and saved the bacon for us," Strack said.

Jinx Snapped by U-D Quintet at Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—The University of Detroit basketball team finally solved the Notre Dame home court jinx last night.

It took an overtime to do it but the Titans edged the Irish, 114-104, for their first victory here in 19 games.

Larry Sheffield scored four baskets for Notre Dame in the last two minutes to turn a 97-92 deficit into a 100-100 deadlock at the end of regulation time.

Dick Dzik scored a three-point for U-D to offset Sheffield's splurge.

Dzik led U-D with 26 points.

Olympic Village Opens Wednesday

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—The first event of the ninth Winter Olympics will be only two weeks away when the newly built Olympics village officially opens Wednesday.

But at the moment there is every chance that the ceremony will be welcomed by a village bare of inhabitants, cleaning staff and the vital commodity for winter sports—snow.

Only 17 North Koreans, who arrived over the weekend, are certain spectators. There is the possibility that small German, Austrian and Japanese contingents may move in, but nothing is positive.

If I Go, You Go, Too—Finley

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Charles O. Finley said if he goes down, the American League will go with him, and baseball wonders about his next move at a league meeting in New York Thursday on his attempt to move the Athletics to Louisville.

★ ★ ★

The fiery A's owner says he has been "backed into a corner by all that has happened." But his latest statements would indicate he feels he has the American League in a corner, instead.

Finley charged Monday the league owners and Joe Cronin, league president, helped arrange his trips to Dallas in 1961 and Oakland last year to discuss possible franchise shifts, and gave him their blessing.

"This is why I say there isn't the slightest chance the league can make me sell my franchise," Finley told Ernie Mehl, Kansas City Star sports editor, by telephone from Chicago Monday.

"The league is as involved in this as I am," he said, then added, "this isn't all but I'm saving some things to spring at the meeting."

The baseball world wonders what weapons Finley might have in mind.

DENIES REPORT

Finley has denied reports he might consider a lawsuit against the other owners if they turned down his request to move to Louisville.

★ ★ ★

Several U. S. Senators will be present at the league meeting in New York. Their presence might renew the spectre of anti-trust legislation for club owners. Finley, 45, a Chicago-based insurance executive, has said repeatedly he considers baseball a business, not a sport.

The business affairs of all other professional team sports are subject to anti-trust regulations—but not baseball's. Some members of Congress would like to see baseball regulated and taxed as a business, not a sport.

★ ★ ★

The Senate Anti-Trust and Monopoly Subcommittee plans another look soon at baseball's exempt status under the anti-trust laws. In 1953, the U.S. Supreme Court said baseball was a sport, not a business, in a ruling upholding the game's reserve clause, which puts each player under absolute control of the club that owns his contract.

★ ★ ★

The owners don't want the Kansas City franchise to become a political football, with its status debated in Congress.

Howie Young on Carpet Over Penalty Box Caper

MONTREAL (AP) — Howie Young's checkered National Hockey League career faces its sternest test today—not on the ice, but in the offices of NHL President Clarance Campbell.

Campbell plans to announce his decision on Young's latest escapade — an alleged penalty box popoff in Toronto. The Chicago Black Hawk defenseman was accused of spitting and using intemperate language while in the box and was suspended indefinitely following the incident on Jan. 4.

MAY BE BARRED

Campbell said he had talked to witnesses as well as Young and Chicago's Reg Fleming, who was also involved. He said last week before launching his investigation that Young might be barred from the league for life.

For Young, it was the latest in a series of incidents which have plagued him since he reached the NHL with the Detroit Red Wings in 1961.

In one full season and parts of two others, he was suspended four times by the Detroit club for various infractions. He also was banned for short periods by the league for his involvement in brawls on the ice.

Last year he set an NHL record spending 273 minutes—more than 4½ hours — in the penalty box. He was traded last summer to Chicago for goalie Roger Crozier and although playing only part-time, led the league in penalty minutes for much of this season.

★ ★ ★

Young has also had trouble off the ice. He was arrested in Edmonton, Alta. two years ago after getting into a fight with a spectator at a Western Hockey League game and spent a night in jail. Last summer he was fined after creating a disturbance in a Detroit bar.

Nicklaus Set for '64 Debut

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —Jack Nicklaus looks for an early birthday present and a way to break veterans' early monopoly of 1964 professional golf titles when he makes his year's debut this week in the $60,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Amateur Championship.

He'll join a star-studded field of 174 pros in an event branded as unofficial this year because of its concurrent pro-am scramble.

★ ★ ★

Nicklaus, the U.S. Open king in 1962, earned $100,000 last year and won the Masters and PGA titles. But where he sat on the sidelines in early 1964, veterans Paul Harney and Art Wall won the Los Angeles and San Diego Opens.

The tournament opens Thursday over three long, windswept, ocean-bordering courses: Pebble Beach, Cypress Point and Monterey Peninsula.

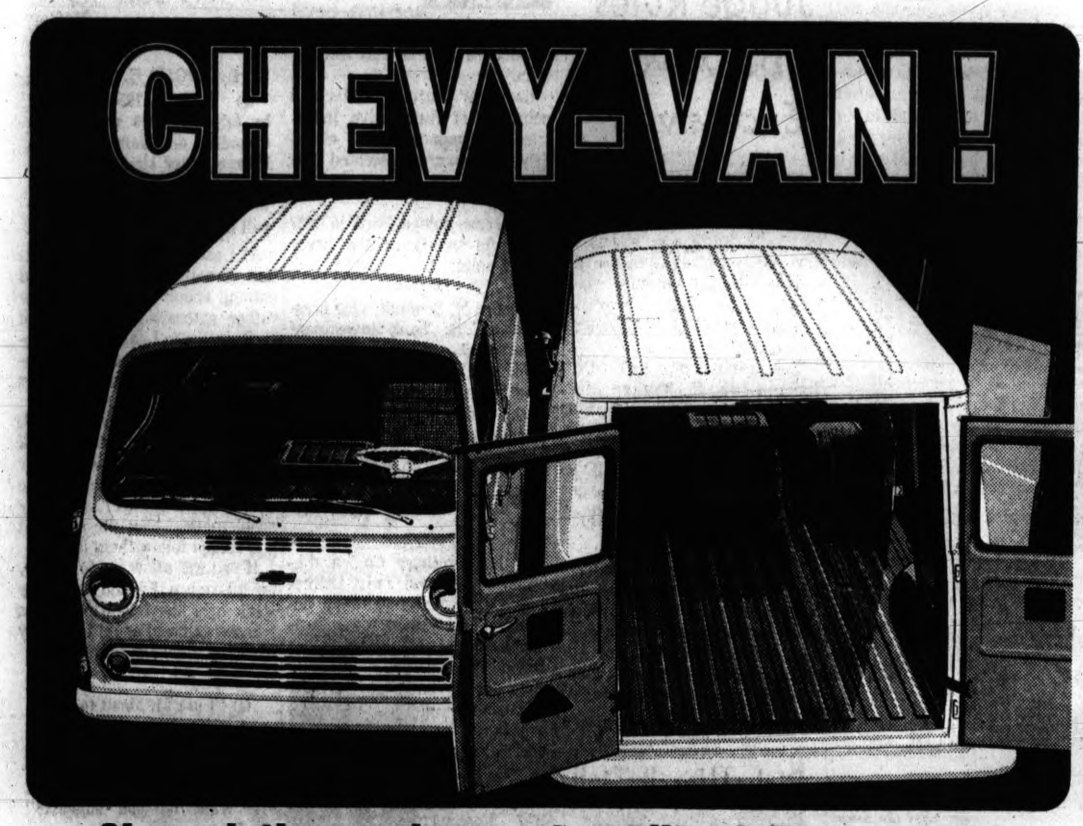
CHEVY-VAN!



Chevrolet's new low-cost quality delivery truck!

This introduces you to Chevy-Van—our new economy delivery truck.

It has a low price tag, over 40 sq. ft. of completely usable flat floor 7½ ft. long, the engine up front, and a lot of quality features which make it a better buy. The body and frame-floor are welded together. The truck is strong, rigid, stable. Doors are double-wall construction.

Chevy-Van has unusual resistance to rust and corrosion. Especially vulnerable areas such as front stepwells are galvanized. Sealers are used at all critical joints inside and out. Certain sections are treated with high-zinc-content primers; others with an aluminum-wax preservative.

The windshield is a big flat practical one-piece unit.

The big 90-hp 4-cylinder standard engine is more powerful than some 6s, yet is remarkably economical. If you need more power, Chevy-Van offers a 120-hp six at extra cost. Side doors and rear windows also cost extra.

Last but not least, it's a Chevrolet. Which means that it is built to work for you a long time at minimum cost.

Steels, Airlines, Rails Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels, airlines and rails advanced in an irregularly higher stock market early this afternoon. Trading was active.

The cigarette stocks were mixed, showing fractional changes, in a second-day reaction to the Surgeon General's report on smoking and health.

★ ★ ★

Stocks of cigar manufacturers continued to move a bit higher, but were not as strong as yesterday when they responded to the mild treatment accorded cigar smoking in the government report.

Aluminums continued to gain in the wake of price-boost news.

BIG PERFORMERS

The steels were outstanding performers. Wall Street was impressed by the rebound in weekly steel production to the highest level since late June.

Airlines continued to be inspired by reports of gains in passenger traffic and forecasts of further improvement.

The Associated Press Average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 289.4 with industrials up .4, rails up .7 and utilities up .1.

Gains of a point or better were made by such top steelmakers as U.S. Steel, Republic, Jones & Laughlin and Youngstown Sheet. Bethlehem added a fraction. Detroit Steel rose ⅜ to 14½ on 19,300 shares.

American and continental Airlines rose about a point. Pan American and Eastern gained more than a point each.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were irregularly higher in moderately active trading. Syntex ran into a spate of selling and sank more than a point. Anelex gained 3 as did Data-Control Systems. Coleman Co. added 2. Gains of a point or so were made by Astrodata, Lease Plan International, New Jersey Zinc and Philips Electronics. Dennison Manufacturing "A" rose more than 2. Down about a point were Aerojet-General and Aqua-Chem. Mackey Airlines, TWA warrants and General Foam were among fractional gainers.

Barry Praises NATO Power

Trust in Our Allies, Says GOP Candidate

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., says the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is a far more practical tool for forging peace than the United Nations...

Goldwater said in a Life magazine article spelling out his foreign policy the United States should include its Western allies in "the planning and deployment of the most modern weapons systems, including appropriate nuclear weapons."

★ ★ ★

He said the nation's nuclear policies seem to put more trust in enemies than in friends.

"Our allies may be wrong about a number of things," Goldwater wrote, "but they are quite right to mistrust our tendency to seek accommodations with communism through bilateral negotiations.

FRANCE HAS REASON

"France had some reason to look upon the test-ban treaty as an agreement arrived at between the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. at her expense.

"A determined enemy, faced with this jumbled array, knows that he can nibble away at one point and then another without risk."

Goldwater, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, proposed fighting communism through economic warfare, saying present policy "is supporting rather than eroding Communist power," and through psychological warfare, including continued discussion of such issues as the "Hungarian blood-letting."

REDUCE COMMUNISTS

He said "the major objective of U.S. foreign policy should be the reduction of Communist power to a level from which it cannot threaten the security of our nation or the peace of the world."

★ ★ ★

"This does not mean war," he added. "It means the alternative to war: a way to win peace—to end threats to the nation—without war."

Monk Burns to Death to Show Gratitude

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — A 20-year-old Buddhist monk burned himself to death 100 miles east of Saigon Sunday in gratitude for the success of the Buddhist movement, Saigon newspapers reported today.

The reports said the Rev. Thich Giac Nguyen left a note saying he was committing suicide to keep a promise he made during the Buddhist campaign against the late President Ngo Dinh Diem. Diem was overthrown in a military coup Nov. 1.

The unknown soldier killed in France in World War I was buried in Arlington, Va., National Cemetery Nov. 11, 1921.

Woman Hurt in Auto Crash

Mrs. Nell Leinhart, 49, of 18 Romona Terrace is in fair condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital with injuries suffered when her car went off a road in Waterford Township last night.

Mrs. Leinhart, who was driving east on Payton at 11:29 p.m., suffered lacerations and a possible concussion when her car hit a mailbox post at Forest.

She told police she didn't know how the accident occurred.

Detroiter Gets Jail for Stealing Skis

A Detroit veterinarian was sentenced to 30 days in the Oakland County Jail yesterday for stealing a pair of skis at the Mount Holly Ski Club.

James Voeks, 26, pleaded guilty to the charge at his arraignment before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Lieb.

Sheriff's department detectives Fred Pender and Harry Jones arrested Voeks Sunday while they were at the lodge checking serial numbers for stolen skis.

★ ★ ★

They observed Voeks take a pair of skis from a rack and head for the parking lot. Police said they knew the skis did not belong to Voeks because they had taken his to inspect chisled serial numbers.

Waterford Eyes Split in Street Light District

Waterford Township Board members last night deferred action on the proposed Andersonville Road street light district to investigate the possibility of splitting the district.

Most of the approximate 37 per cent of land owners opposing the assessment live at the west end of the proposed district, between Foley and Windiate.

The majority favoring the assessment are concentrated at the east end between Foley and Airport Road.

Following last night's public hearing, the board decided to adjourn the hearing a week to determine the feasibility of proposing a district between Foley and Airport.

The original district included 95 lots at an average frontage of 67-feet. The total annual assessment would have been $507.86 for the entire district.

In other business the board approved a water system agreement between the township and Houseman-Spitzley Corp. calling for the development firm to construct a water system for its proposed Pleasant Lake Shores subdivision.

Upon completion the system serving a proposed 179 houses would be deeded over to the township.

A final plat on the development will be presented for board approval next Monday.

Aiso last night the board opened bids on a trailer and compressor unit for the water department and referred them to the water department superintendent for study.

The seven bids ranged from a low of $1,336.38 submitted by high of $6,298.03 turned in by the W. F. Phillips Co. to a the Detroit Construction and Equipment Co.

The board also authorized that a lot adjacent to the Christian Alliance Church owned by the church be exempt from property tax payment.

Also approved was a proposal to purchase an IBM typewriter for the clerk's office at a cost of $441.

Police Arrest 2 More Men in Robbery

Pontiac police yesterday arrested two men and charged them with the armed robbery of a police officer. A third had been arrested at the scene.

The are Major Finnley, 19, of 59 Chapman, and James Gibson, 23, of 520 Franklin.

Finnley demanded an examination at his arraignment and Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCallum scheduled it for Jan. 22. Gibson was to be arraigned today.

Robert Miles, 23, of 506 S. Paddock, waived examination and was bound over to Circuit Court for a hearing Monday. Miles was taken into custody Saturday.

Patrolman Norman Kilmer, 23, was stopped by three men, one armed with a knife, while driving in the Bagley Wesson area. The trio fled with Kilmer's wallet but Miles stopped when Kilmer drew his revolver and ordered him to halt.

Fail to Find Cause of Fire in Apartment

Pontiac Fire Marshal Charles Metz said the cause of the fire in the Parkside Apartment that killed one man yesterday probably would never be determined.

"We shoveled through debris for hours," said Metz, "but we found nothing definite that we could say started it."

Some 100 persons fled the apartment, 101 Mechanic, into 16-degree weather at 3 a.m. One tenant Russell Nacarato, 51, died of smoke inhalation.

★ ★ ★

The fire started in the basement, according to Metz, where storage lockers are provided for each of the 49 units in the apartment.

Damage to the building is estimated at $50,000.

Plant Fire Caused $100,000 Damage

Fire damage to the vacant factory formerly occupied by the American Forging and Socket Co. has been estimated by the Pontiac Fire Department at $100,000.

Vandals are believed to have caused the blaze, which destroyed the center section of the building on Branch Street.

Pontiac realtor, Bruce Annett, present owner of the factory, said today he will not know the future of the property until he receives an official appraisal of the damage from insurance adjustors.

Annett was to have met with officials of a Detroit manufacturing firm 12 hours after the Saturday night fire. The firm had expressed interest in purchasing the factory.

Annett said the firm would employ 200 workers but would not identify the company.

Harder Work for Firemen

Increased Activity in Waterford Twp.

Waterford Township's fire department experienced a marked upswing in activity during 1963 compared to the previous year.

The department answered a total of 846 alarms last year compared to 729 in 1962. Loss resulting from fires amounted to $305,555 in 1963 against $170,475 the previous year.

Four persons perished in fires last year and five suffered injuries compared to no deaths in 1962 and just two injuries.

The department answered 195 alarms for fires in houses and other buildings during 1963, 60 more than the 135 total in 1962.

EMERGENCIES

Last year 181 rescue and emergency runs were made compared to 170 the previous year.

False alarms rose to 27 last year from just seven during 1962 and in 1963 there were 21 fire investigations against only 12 in 1962.

Motor vehicle fires numbered 78 and there were 15 rubbish fires last year compared to 55 and two respectively during 1962.

Only in the categories of brush and grass fires and accidental alarms did the 1962 totals exceed those of 1963.

In 1962 there were 255 grass fires compared to 228 last year. Two accidental alarms were reported in 1962. There were none in 1963.

23,000 Open Convention of Automotive Engineers

By CHARLES C. CAIN
Associated Press Auto Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Some 23,000 engineers, watchdogs of the world automotive scene, opened a five-day convention Monday with topics ranging from futuristic items such as fuel cells and turbine cars to the more elementary topic of truck refrigeration.

★ ★ ★

Members of the Society of Automotive Engineers will hear more than 160 technical reports in 63 sessions over the next few days.

Actually the word "automotive" is a misnomer, for the SAE goes far beyond the automobile field and concerns itself with any self-propelled vehicle designed for land, air, sea and space.

GETS EMPHASIS

The space angle got considerable emphasis in Monday's sessions, with Ernest M. Cohn of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration predicting that fuel cells, which have been tried as power units in some of the nation's space vehicles since 1959, may become a reality in automotive application.

Cohn told a news conference considerable progress has been made in perfecting fuel cells which convert chemical energy directly to electrical energy. He said that in addition to the early fuel cells which used an oxygen-hydrogen base, current modifications include such diverse items as hydrocarbons, alcohol, and gasification of coal and ammonia.

Cohn and other members of a panel on fuel cells cautioned that development of a fuel cell which would power an auto is still a long way off—probably 10 years or more.

Raymond Jasinski of Tyco Lab, Inc., of Waltham, Mass., said a fuel cell has been tried successfully by Allis Chalmers, a pioneer in the fuel cell effort, in a golf-cart type vehicle.

Cohn said the romantic phase of fuel cells is over and that they now will begin the long push uphill towards everyday use.

DISCUSSES TURBINE CARS

George Huebner Jr., executive engineer-research of Chrysler, spoke about Chrysler's turbine car program. The company has five of the turbine powered cars in the hands of U. S. motorists as part of a program to see how the public likes the radically different type of power plant.

Recalling that Chrysler has been experimenting with turbine powered vehicles since 1945, Huebner scoffed at cynics and pessimists who predicted the car never would become a reality on the highway.

Car Death Charge Is Manslaughter

Charged with manslaughter in the Thanksgiving Day auto accident death of a passenger in his car, Thomas Rapson, 27, of 41 S. Merrimac yesterday stood mute at his Circuit Court arraignment.

Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem entered a plea of innocent for Rapson ordered him to stand trial on the charge. No trial date was set.

Rapson is accused in the death of 25-year-old Gerald D. Cartier, of 8477 Clinton River Drive, Utica, who was fatally injured while riding in Rapson's car when the auto rammed into the rear of another car at Opdyke and Auburn roads.

Rapson was released on $1,500 bond pending trial.

5 County Doctors Elected to Group

Five Oakland County physicians have been honored by the American College of Physicians — an organization representing specialists in internal medicine and related fields.

Among those elected as fellows to the organization was Dr. Douglas Chandler, 1890 Southfield, Birmingham.

Elected as associates were: Drs. Alexander S. Anderson and Murray B. Levin, also of Birmingham; Dr. Charles I. Patrick of Waterford Township and Dr. Robert T. Lyons, of Pontiac.

Tablet Helps Calm Stage Fright Nerves

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

"About a year ago," writes a Pittsburgh man (not a smudge of smog or soot on his letter), I was notified that I'd be asked to address a convention of about 1,000 delegates. I never want to go through such stage fright again. Kept clearing my throat every time I thought about the ordeal. I don't know how I ever got through it.

"Since then I have had several parts in church programs, and I have suffered the same stage fright each time, and when the time came for me to do my stuff I kept constantly clearing my throat, which made it very embarrassing for all around me, as well as for myself.

"About a month before I was to speak at a banquet of the ——— ——— I found in your column a remedy to prevent stage fright or examination jitters. I have long read your column and often profited from your good advice.

"I sent for the stuff and used it for not quite 3 weeks before the banquet. I had no trouble at all, didn't clear my throat once and was calm and collected throughout the speech, which went off beautifully.

STEADY USE?

"What I would like to know now is whether I can use this right along, as I have to speak somewhere every week." (Signed .....

The answer is yes.

Nothing harmful or habit-forming in it.

★ ★ ★

But please try this experiment to determine whether you are cured of your trouble: Instead of taking quinine and thiamine three weeks before the examination or performance, take it just 2½ weeks, preferably stopping it three days before the ordeal.

JUST 2 WEEKS

If this works satisfactorily, next time take it just two weeks, stopping it as before three days before the performance. Then the third time take it only a week and stop it four or five days before the ordeal.

If all goes well you'll realize you are reconditioned and no longer need the help of q. and t. We'll be eager to learn how the experiment works.

Each quinine and thiamine tablet contains one grain of quinine and one milligram of thiamine (B1).

★ ★ ★

Remember, please, this remedy is merely a prophylactic. It is not a sedative, not a stimulant, but it may fairly be called a general tonic.

★ ★ ★

For detailed instructions send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my free pamphlet, "Examination Jitters and Stage Fright."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Enough Farmland

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — There's little chance of America running short of farmland for the next 50 years, says an Auburn University economist, Foy Helms. He thinks that agricultural technology will keep ahead of population growth for centuries to come.

By OSWALD JACOBY

One of the first things a budding bridge player learns is that even a fair five card suit is rebiddable. Somewhere else in whatever bridge book he is studying there will be a statement along the lines that there is no reason to rebid a suit merely because it is rebiddable.

JACOBY

Somehow or other the student seldom learns the corollary and it may be years, perhaps forever, before bitter experience will teach this latter point to him.

South was right pleased with his 17 high card points, strong spade suit and generally good distribution. The fact that his partner was unkind enough to pass his one spade opener hardly dampened his ardor.

True, a slam was impossible and game was unlikely, but in case East were silly enough to reopen South was ready to bid again.

Sure enough East did reopen with two hearts. This gave South a slight problem. Should he rebid his nice spade suit or try a three-diamond bid on four to the king-jack? He decided on the spade rebid and was promptly doubled.

North had nowhere to go except home and he wished he had gone there before starting the rubber.

South toyed with the idea of running to three diamonds, but that could and would have been a case of jumping right out of the frying pan into the fire.

West opened the six of hearts and when the smoke of battle had cleared away South had paid an 800-point penalty. Of course, it wasn't a total loss.

Had South passed, as he should have, East might have played and made two hearts or East and West might actually have worked their way to a three no-trump game, which they would have made.

What do you do?

A—Bid six spades! Your partner should have two aces and the king of the third suit plus additional high cards for this bid. At worst the slam will be on a finesse.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding five spades your partner bids four no-trump and rebids to five no-trump after your five diamond bid shows one ace. What do you do now?

LBJ to Greet Italy President

Speech to Congress Planned During Visit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Italy's President Antonio Segni comes to Washington today for a three-day visit that will include talks with President Johnson and an address to a joint meeting of Congress.

The Italian leader, whose plans to visit Philadelphia yesterday were stymied by the snowstorm which blanketed the Northeast, arrives by train at Union Station at noon, EST. He will be met by President and Mrs. Johnson and other U.S. officials.

Segni's plane trip was halted at Montreal yesterday. He planned to fly to Baltimore today, then proceed to Washington by train.

★ ★ ★

The 72-year-old Italian president will address a joint meeting of Congress tomorrow. He'll confer with Johnson at the White House this afternoon and again tomorrow afternoon.

MAINLY CEREMONIAL

As chief of state in a parliamentary government, Segni's role here will be mainly ceremonial. But Giuseppe Saragat, foreign minister in the new left-of-center government is accompanying Segni and is expected to delve deeply into U.S.-Italian problems in talks with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Among them are expected to be Italy's role in the proposed multilateral nuclear force and a closer examination of U.S. proposals for the forthcoming Geneva disarmament talks.

Segni, a former law professor who twice served as prime minister before being elected president in 1962, was to be guest of honor today at a luncheon given by Rusk. Tonight the Johnsons will tender an official state dinner at the White House.

★ ★ ★

Violence Ebbs in India City

Only Two Incidents in Hindu-Moslem Rift

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Only two incidents of communal violence were reported today as the Indian Army kept one seventh of Calcutta, India's largest city, under military control.

One Moslem was stabbed to death and one building was set afire, a police source reported. Police fired twice to disperse crowds.

The army extended its control to four more areas of the city yesterday as Hindus and Moslems set fire to slum huts. Hundreds were left homeless.

★ ★ ★

Hindus began attacking Moslems in Calcutta last Thursday after reports that Moslems in neighboring East Pakistan were killing Hindus.

THEFT

Theft in Kashmir or a hair believed to have come from the beard of the prophet Mohammed set off the violence. The hair has been recovered.

★ ★ ★

At least 100 persons, most of them Moslems, have been reported killed in Calcutta and at least 29 Hindus in East Pakistan.

It has been the worst communal fighting since the 1947 partition of Hindu India and Moslem Pakistan, when hundreds of thousands were massacred.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Ray Walston says he was mauled by a chimpanzee last Sept. 9 and he wants the animal's owner to pay him $150,000.

Walston filed suit in Los Angeles against the owner, Ralph Helfner. The suit said Walston was bitten about the face, head and neck while he and the chimp were filming a scene for a television show.

Owns but One Pair of Shoes for New Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — When President Johnson talks with Postmaster General John A. Gronouski about frugality in the nation's postal system, he's talking with a man who owns only one pair of shoes.

The Cabinet officer didn't bother to buy a tuxedo until he had been in Washington for several weeks.

★ ★ ★

As for cocktail parties he says, "They're the supreme form of self-torture and a waste of time besides."

He is very happy working for Johnson and being postmaster general, a task he regards as "the best job I ever had."

JFK APPOINTMENT

Gronouski, 44, has been in office since Sept. 30, when he became President John F. Kennedy's last Cabinet appointment.

The former Wisconsin tax commissioner tilted his green leather chair as far back as it could go and stretched his feet, in the one and only pair of black, scuffed shoes—onto the top of his desk.

★ ★ ★

He filled his pipe with tobacco from a commercial pouch and tamped it with a thumb. Sucking on a cough drop in anticipation of laryngitis, John Gronouski reflected on his new life.

"I'm having a lot of fun. I've enjoyed this job tremendously. There have been no serious headaches—and I wouldn't have taken the job if there weren't a few small ones. They could have given it to a clerk if there were no headaches at all.

LEARNING ROPES

Gronouski—master of nearly 590,000 employes, commanding a payroll of nearly $10 million a day—said he is getting the knack of it now.

He had unstinting praise for President Johnson.

"I've had wonderful relations with him and respect him very much," Gronouski said of the President. "He's made himself completely accessible to me when I have something I feel I should discuss with him."

Gronouski said Johnson shows an acute awareness of details of the postal operation.

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The State Highway Department Testing Laboratory at the University of Michigan reports it conducted nearly 29,000 tests on various highway construction materials and soils last year, up from the some 26,000 conducted in 1962.

STATE OF MICHIGAN—In the Probate Court for the County of Oakland, Juvenile Division.

In the matter of the petition concerning Michael Allen McFarlane, alias DeCapo, minor. Cause No. 19890.

To Robert McFarlane, father of said minor child.

Petition having been filed in this Court alleging that the present whereabouts of the father of said minor child are unknown and said child has violated a law of the State and that said child should be placed under the jurisdiction of this Court.

In the name of the people of the State of Michigan, you are hereby notified that the hearing on said petition will be held at the Court House, Oakland County Service Center, in the City of Pontiac in said County, on the 23rd day of January, A.D. 1964, at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and you are hereby commanded to appear personally at said hearing.

If being impractical to make personal service hereof, this summons and notice shall be served by publication of a copy one week previous to said hearing in The Pontiac Press, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county.

Witness, the Honorable Norman R. Barnard, Judge of said Court, in the City of Pontiac in said County, this 13th day of January, A.D. 1964.

Singer Tells Secret of Age

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Veteran singer Sophie Tucker disclosed her secret of longevity Monday night as she celebrated her 76th birthday.

The secret was simple and brief: "Keep breathing."

Miss Tucker, billed as the "Last of the Red-Hot Mammas" was surprised with a birthday party. Although the cake had an unlucky 13 candles, seven were on one side and six on another to represent 76.

BONNET IN THE RING — Mrs. Freda Cavandish, 58, a former Charleston area schoolteacher, is running for governor of West Virginia. She filed for the Republican nomination with Joe F. Burdett, secretary of state, yesterday. By paying a $175 fee, Mrs. Cavandish became West Virginia's first woman candidate for governor in over 30 years.

Jet Plane Overflights

Booming Test in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—Think your nerves could stand eight sonic booms a day for the next six months? Residents here are going to find out.

Gordon Bain, deputy Federal Aviation Agency administrator, says public reaction to the disturbances will have a great deal to do with the future of overland flights in supersonic transport planes.

★ ★ ★

The FAA, beginning in February, will conduct a program during which eight flights daily pass over residential areas at speeds greater than the speed of sound.

Air Force F104 fighter planes will create the booms on flights at 30,000 to 40,000 feet over Oklahoma City.

COMMERCIAL PLANE

Bain said Monday night the FAA believes the supersonic transport plane may be the finest commercial transport that has ever flown.

"But it is necessary to find out how people feel about this phenomenon," he said. "The only true judge of acceptability has to be the people who live below in these sonic boom paths.

★ ★ ★

"We can have the finest and safest aircraft, but if it is disturbing to those below, it may not be practical."

He said the first of 1,212 scheduled flights will be made Feb. 3. Bain stressed that the sonic booms will be controlled and will not equal some of the brain-rattling booms of the past.

CAN'T BE ELIMINATED

Sonic booms cannot be eliminated, Bain said, so people will either have to live with them or an alternate solution must be considered.

He said the alternative could be avoiding flights over residential areas or just scrapping the supersonic transport plane program.

★ ★ ★

"People might well, even if it's objectionable, tolerate it for two or three weeks," Bain said. "But we hope to find out by longer study their true reaction."

Bain said acceptability of the booms will be determined by a public opinion survey.

He said "we have found that after people hear a few booms at this level, they hardly pay attention."

Junior Editors Quiz on HUMMINGBIRDS

QUESTION: Where do hummingbirds go in the winter?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The hummingbird is truly a tiny creature. An ordinary teaspoon will hold four newly hatched hummers, each about the size of a bee.

If you look closely at the bottom of the picture you will see a hummingbird sitting on a blade of timothy grass, proving how light they are.

With all their lightness, however, they are among the most remarkable fliers in the bird world. They not only hover in the air, they can actually fly backward (3) being the only birds which can do so.

The most familiar American hummingbird is the Ruby Throat. These jewel-like little creatures breed from Labrador down to the southern states.

In autumn, they perform their greatest flying trick.

Working down through the South to Florida, these mighty mites strike out boldly across the Gulf of Mexico. Without rest or food they fly some 500 miles directly to Yucatan or Central America.

There they travel to their winter homes, which are in various parts of Mexico and Central or South America. For such tiny birds to make a sustained 500 mile flight is truly astonishing.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Study the large hummingbird head and bill in (4). Most people think of these birds as living entirely on flower nectar. They do feed on this, but the long tongue coming from the bill has a sticky tip, with which the little bird catches small insects.

Ceremony Planned by Sons of Norway

Officers of the recently formed Pontiac organization, Sons of Norway, Nordlyset (Northern Lights) Lodge No. 473, will be installed Jan. 25 at 8 p.m. ceremonies at the Detroit Elks Temple, Grand River and Lahser.

The organization is for Pontiac area residents of Norwegian birth, descent or affiliation.

The officers include Per Moss, president; Chester Hanson, vice president; Mrs. Rex Cummings, secretary; and Mrs. Henry Haaseth, assistant secretary.

Others are Carl Hoff, counselor; Jan Grefstadt, treasurer; and Kaare Haaseth, financial secretary.

Sponsor of the 40 member lodge is the Fremad Lodge No. 385, Flint.

Pedestrian Is Killed

MUSKEGON (AP) — Gordon Lofstron, 66, a partly blind Laketon Township resident, was killed in downtown Muskegon Monday when struck by a truck. Police said truck driver Charles Bush, 35, of Muskegon, was not held.

Burton's 'Ex' Glamorous, Stars in New Solo Role

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Sybil Burton's been looking so glamorous these nights that everybody's talking about it. She was wearing sort of a velvet-collared black cape, with black stockings and black patent leather shoes, at Sardi's the other morning with Sexy Rexy Harrison and his wife Rachel Roberts, when they celebrated the opening of the new edition of "Beyond the Fringe." A spectator noticing her platinum blonde hair and her sexy shimmer said, "A guy like Richard Burton could really go for her."

WILSON

"Baby" Pignatari, the Brazilian playboy, hired the Las Vegas Desert Inn's 25-piece orchestra to come over to the Hotel Riviera and parade through the lobby playing "Anchors Aweigh" to salute Comedian Shecky Green's return to work after an illness. Then the band, in three elevators, went upstairs to play at a party. "Baby," who likes to spend $10,000 a night, just to keep money in circulation, is spending six weeks in Nevada for a divorce. His tab could come close to $600,000 for "incidentals."

★ ★ ★

Some girls, like Jane Morgan and Jane Russell sell songs with the help of a beautiful chest. Juliet Prowse, Frank Sinatra's ex-fiancee, who opened last week at the Plaza Persian Room, seemed to be emphasizing the reverse side of her personality. Not that she sang "That London Dierriere," or whatever it is; she just happens to be so provocatively constructed that when she began her act, she had her rear view to the audience.

("A well-rounded beginning," somebody said.)

From then on, Juliet usually managed to be "very backward," physically. Among the screamers for her new act were Jane Wyman and Mrs. Dave Chasen of her Los Angeles fan club. Juliet even dared do a "Camille" death scene on a supper club floor—"the lady was hung with a bad lung," is the way she told it, amid coughing. I happen to think she's so attractive and spirited, she can do anything. Anyway: BACKWARD, HO!

Arab Summit Progresses; Plan Definite Resolutions

CAIRO (AP)—The Arab summit conference buckled down today to the hard facts of what the Arab states can—and can't—do about Israel's plans to divert waters of the Jordan River.

The chiefs of state and government leaders of the 13-nation Arab League were to hear reports from the league's permanent joint military committee and from the Arab Technical Commission for Jordan Waters.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic said after the opening conference session Monday the leaders unanimously agreed the meeting must adopt "definite resolutions."

Nasser, moving spirit behind the conference, indicated to the opening session that the meeting would be asked to implement recommendations made in 1961 by the Arab Defense Council. These never were put into force because the other Arab states feared they would give Nasser control of the Arab world.

JOINT COMMAND

The 1961 recommendations include establishment of a joint Arab general command, a survey of each nation's fighting forces and the ultimate placing of these armies "at the disposal of a supreme command."

Before the conference Nasser said the Arabs could not use force against Israel "because our circumstances do not enable us to do so." But he told the conference Monday the 1961 recommendations look toward unified military action, with the Arab world using "all its forces together with foreign aid."

★ ★ ★

"This means Arab countries must be ready to destroy Israel's military preparations," Nasser declared.

The conference was being accompanied by moves to end quarrels between individual Arab states.

TRYING TO EASE

Nasser apparently was trying to ease the border dispute between Algeria and Morocco. After the opening summit session, he met for 90 minutes with King Hassan II of Morocco and then met with Algerian President Ahmed Ben Bella. Nasser arranged another meeting with Hassan today.

Informed sources said a meeting also had been arranged today between King Hussein of Jordan and President Abdullah Sallal of Yemen.

★ ★ ★

When Sallal and his rebel forces deposed Imam Mohammed Al-Badr in September 1962, Hussein and King Saud of Saudi Arabia gave support to the imam while Nasser rushed thousands of troops to Yemen to aid Sallal's Republicans.

CONTROL FLATLANDS

Sallal's forces, still bolstered by Egyptian troops, control only the flatlands of the Arabian Peninsula country. The monarchists retain the highlands, about a third of the country.

The deposed imam cabled the conference Monday demanding self-determination for the Yemeni people. He charged that Sallal "represents only himself and the Egyptian aggressor forces."

Murder Trial Opens

JACKSON (AP)—The murder trial of Cecil LaRoe, 36, in the strangling last November of his landlord, William A. Behling, 80, opens today. Behling's body was found under a pile of brush east of Albion Nov. 15. Police charge LaRoe killed him in a robbery.

Pontiac Approves Charter Change

Panama Talks at an Impasse

PANAMA (AP) — Negotiations between the United States and Panama were deadlocked today after the United States rejected a Panamanian demand that it promise to review the Panama Canal treaty as a condition for resuming relations.

Diplomatic sources said the United States refused to make such a pledge under pressure.

The peace committee of the Organization of American States scheduled another meeting today with the U.S. and Panamanian negotiators.

The committee postponed its departure for Washington in an effort to help restore diplomatic relations.

But Panamanian Foreign Minister Galileo Solis said his government would decide within 24 hours on a country to take over Panamanian affairs in Washington—the final step in severance of diplomatic relations.

★ ★ ★

In Washington, the White House said the United States has an obligation to operate the Panama Canal "efficiently and securely" and "cannot allow the security of the Panama Canal to be imperiled."

TALKS IN ORDER

"The United States continues to believe that when order is fully restored it should be possible to have direct and candid discussions between the two governments," said the statement, issued after Assistant Secretary of State Thomas C. Mann returned from Panama and conferred with President Johnson for 2 hours and 20 minutes.

There were no outbreaks of violence yesterday, although anti-U.S. sentiment was still apparent.

Signs reading "Avenue of the Martyrs" appeared on President Kennedy Avenue, the street dividing the Canal Zone from Panama City, where some of the fiercest rioting occurred last week.

In Panama City, business houses reopened and American personnel returned to the U.S. Embassy for the first time since they evacuated the building Friday.

U.S. military authorities at Balboa announced that an evacuation would probably begin today of dependents of U.S. military and civilian personnel desiring to return to the United States rather than return to their houses in the Panama republic.

At Balboa High School and other schools in the Canal Zone, workers began erecting twin flagpoles Sunday in line with the U.S.-Panamanian agreement to fly flags of both nations side by side in the zone.

Zanzibar Aid by Castroites?

Island Refugees Say Some Rebels Cuban

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) — Some U.S. and British refugees from turbulent Zanzibar said today Spanish-speaking men in Castro-like uniforms were among the rebel forces that overthrew the Spice Island's Arab government.

The U.S. destroyer Manley arrived with all but two of the 63 Americans on Zanzibar and a few nationals from other countries. The Americans were ordered out because bands of African nationalists were roaming streets, shooting and looting.

Stuart Lillicoe, public affairs officer of the U.S. Embassy in Zanzibar, told reporters a Cuban-looking man led the rebels who captured the office of the Cable and Wireless Co., British communications concern.

He said the man understood English but replied in Spanish and spoke no Swahili, the most common language of Zanzibar.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Embassy in Zanzibar received a tip that trouble was ahead Saturday, Lillicoe added, but there was no confirmation.

Peter Delafose, a British refugee, said he was certain there were Cubans among the rebels. He saw two men with Castro-like jackets and thought he saw a Chinese in one rebel band.

LBJ Puts Aid at $3.4 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has told congressional leaders he plans to earmark $3.4 billion for foreign aid spending in the new $97.9-billion budget he will submit next week.

The figure, confirmed by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, would represent a modest $269-million cut under the actual amount available to the Agency for International Development in the current year ending next July 1.

Such a reduction seemed likely to prove disappointing to many members of Congress who have been insisting that steps be taken toward bringing the program to an end.

★ ★ ★

A presidential committee reviewing overseas assistance is expected to recommend sweeping changes in the AID setup as a result of growing congressional reluctance to vote funds for the program.

Without professing to know any details of these recommendations, Mansfield—in an interview—called for a division of responsibility among the non-Communist powers that would permit the United States to concentrate economic assistance in Latin America.

★ ★ ★

He said Britain, France and West Germany should be charged with providing necessary economic and military help to fledgling nations in Africa.

SLOW GOING—Cars inch their way through 4-foot drifts in downtown Decatur, Ill., after one of the season's worst snowstorms to strike the Midwest. Most streets were open to only one lane of traffic.

Thousands Snowbound

Storm Leaves 71 Dead in East

NEW YORK (AP)—The howling snowstorm that blasted much of the eastern United States—worst in years in spots—left scores dead in its wake today. Huge drifts marooned thousands of travelers overnight.

The death toll was at least 71.

The storm system that swirled into blizzard proportions in the Northeast dumped more than two feet of snow in some sections.

Gale force winds piled the snow into drifts—some 20 feet high.

★ ★ ★

Many school systems, including those in New York City and Philadelphia, closed today.

BUSINESSES SHUT

Business and school closings were widespread Monday and today.

About 3,000 travelers spent the night at Kennedy International Airport in New York after all flights were canceled because of drifts on the runways.

In Pennsylvania, 250 pupils were marooned overnight at a high school.

★ ★ ★

THOUSANDS STRANDED

The midwestern half of the storm battered Illinois, Indiana and Ohio Monday, leaving thousands snowbound Sunday night and yesterday.

Drifts were reported 20 feet high in some Ohio areas.

Youngstown, Ohio, with 16 inches of snow, called it the worst snowsoorm in 13 years. St. Louis had 8.1 inches, the most in six years.

FLORIDA SNOW

The southern half of the storm brought Florida its first snow in six years. It melted quickly, but plunging temperatures were the main concern with below-freezing temperatures recorded in central Folrida.

The storms converged and their combined punch smacked the Northeast.

Washington's nine inches was the heaviest snowfall in nearly six years. Morgantown, W. Va., had 16 inches.

New York City and environs were hit by a foot or more of snow that slowed homebound commuters Monday night.

The principal suburban highways on Long Island were virtually impassable for several hours.

Slightly Warmer Seen for Pontiac in Next 2 Days

The weatherman predicts temperatures will climb to a high of 28 tomorrow. Tonight's low will dip to near 16.

Thursday is expected to be partly cloudy and slightly warmer.

Morning southwesterly winds at 8 miles per hour will become 8 to 15 m.p.h. tonight.

★ ★ ★

The low recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a. m. was 4. By 1 p. m., the thermometer had warmed up to 21.

Press to Sponsor 5th Cook School

The fifth annual cooking school sponsored by The Pontiac Press starts Jan. 28. It will continue for four days at Pontiac Central High School.

Presented this year by the Susan Lowe Cooking School, the demonstration will feature a wide variety of recipes.

Doors to the high school auditorium will open at 12:30 p.m. The school will start at 1:30. This is an earlier starting time than in previous years.

★ ★ ★

During a 20-minute intermission each day, Hoffman's Pontiac Freezer Foods will present a demonstration on meat.

TICKETS AVAILABLE

Readers will be able to send for or pick up two tickets for each day's program. The coupon will be in Wednesday's paper.

Another change in this year's school will be the appearance of local home economists working with Susan Lowe.

Mary Jackson and Harriet Cannon of Consumers Power Co. will assist Miss Lowe.

★ ★ ★

Bags of groceries and food prepared during the programs will be given away as prizes each day.

In addition to this, two Tappan gas ranges and a Necchi portable sewing machine will be grand prizes on Friday. The complete prize list will be announced later.

M59 Dispute Near Accord

Businessmen, State Seek Detour Routes

Highland Road businessmen and the State Highway Department are close to agreement in their dispute over the closing of a stretch of M59 for a widening project.

A hearing before Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore yesterday was continued until Friday to give the Oakland County Road Commission time to decide whether it can approve a couple of proposed shorter detour routes.

Eleven businessmen, backed by a newly formed M59 Businessmen's Association, seek an injunction preventing the state from closing M59 to through traffic between Elizabeth Lake and Airport roads.

★ ★ ★

A temporary restraining order blocked the scheduled Jan. 3 closing of the 3.4-mile stretch for a six- to eight-month period while the two-lane pavement was widened to five lanes.

FEAR LOSSES

Although local traffic was to be maintained, merchants said they feared disastrous business losses if access to their stores was so inconvenient even local traffic would be discouraged.

However, the businessmen withdrew a previous suggestion that a temporary bridge could be built over the Clinton River west of Crescent Lake Road.

The highway department claimed construction of a new bridge there made through traffic impossible.

★ ★ ★

The issue was narrowed down yesterday to two possible detours, both much shorter than the previously announced detour via Telegraph Road, Dixie Highway and Williams Lake Road.

Both would permit access to Highland Road business places with less inconvenience to motorists by allowing cars to proceed much further on M59 and still get through.

One of the proposed detours would swing north on Crescent Lake Road and connect with Airport Road via Tubbs.

The other, even shorter, would use residential roads south of M59. Both provide bridges over the river.

8,861 to 3,375 Is Final Vote Cast on Issue

Jaycees Are Jubilant as Election Change Wins City Approval

By DICK SAUNDERS

A City Charter amendment providing for nomination by district and at-large election of city commissioners was overwhelmingly approved yesterday as Pontiac voters flocked to the polls.

The amendment drew 8,861 "yes" votes against 3,375 "no" votes, for a 5,486 vote-winning margin.

Officials of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce were jubilant at the outcome. They had sponsored the amendment.

An unexpected 12,289 voters turned out to decide the issue, according to preliminary tabulations by City Clerk Olga Barkeley.

★ ★ ★

The temperature never topped 19 degrees, and the day was marked by occasional snow flurries. But 41 per cent of Pontiac's 29,804 registered voters cast ballots.

CON-CON VOTE

In April 1963, the new state constitution drew less than 35 per cent to polls in Pontiac.

The total vote at the April 1962 City Commission election was nearly 2,000 lower than yesterday's total.

Preelection estimates were that about 5,000 would turn out to vote. By noon, it became evident the turnout would be higher.

★ ★ ★

Only in District 1, Commissioner Milton R. Henry's district, was the amendment defeated. The margin for "no" votes there was 1,420.

SIX APPROVE

All other districts approved the amendment, with winning margins ranging from 38 votes in District 7 to 2,078 in District 5. Voters favored the amendment in 34 of the city's 43 precincts.

Henry was the only commissioner whose home precinct voted against adoption of the amendment. Voters in Mayor Robert P. Landry's precinct approved it 98 to 63.

Commissioner Dick M. Kirby's home precinct approved it 325 to 71; Commissioner Loy L. Ledford's precinct approved it 149 to 78; and it was approved 271 to 51 in Mayor Pro Tem Winford E. Bottom's precinct.

★ ★ ★

Landry, Bottom, Kirby, Henry and Ledford had opposed the charter amendment.

HIGHER THAN '62

The percentage of votes cast was higher in every district than it was in the April 1962 commission election.

Highest was District 2, where 53.6 per cent of the registered voters turned out. The lowest district turnout

Still Time to Register for Election

Yesterday's special election was the first election in Pontiac this year but not the last.

If you weren't registered to vote yesterday, you have 21 days left to become an eligible voter in the next election.

For the Pontiac City Clerk's Office, the paper work involving elections is just beginning.

Here's a rundown on the election calendar for voters and prospective City Commission candidates.

SPRING PRIMARY

Feb. 3 — Deadline for registering to vote in the spring primary at which city commission candidates will be chosen for the ballot in April's final election.

Feb. 11 — Deadline for prospective candidates to file nominating petitions.

March 2 — Primary election.

3 American Advisers Wounded in Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Three American advisers were reported wounded in South Viet Nam today. One of them, a U.S. Army sergeant, was in a Vietnamese unit that lost eight killed and 23 wounded in battle with the Viet Cong west of Saigon.

A U.S. Air Force captain suffered burns and minor scratches when his T28 fighter plane crash landed 100 yards short of Bien Hoa airfield. The other U.S. casualty was another U.S. Army sergeant shot in the leg during operations with a Vietnamese unit.

School Survey Shows Needs

MSU Team Reports on Bloomfield Hills

By PAT McCARTY

The Bloomfield Hills School District needs about $5.5 million worth of schools and it hasn't long to tarry, according to a Michigan State University survey team.

At a special meeting last night, the school board reviewed the steady growth of school population in the district, looked at enrollment projections for the next five years and considered the alternatives facing it.

Now educating about 5,100 youngsters, the board looked to methods of handling the anticipated 1968 enrollment of 7,357.

★ ★ ★

The number will continue to expand as it has in the past — at a rate of about 500 a year, the MSU consultants said. However, they predicted there would be a 700-student "bulge" by the end of the current school year.

IMMEDIATE NEEDS

Needed immediately are additional elementary classrooms, they said. During the next five years, a total of 53 classrooms should be built for the first six grades.

Also on the recommended agenda are a new high school, a new junior high and junior high additions.

The team suggested that 23 elementary rooms plus auxiliary space be added to existing buildings by September 1965.

★ ★

To convert each building to a triple unit with 20 classrooms, Booth School would require six more rooms, Conant six, Hickory Grove four and Pine Lake seven. Among auxiliary areas, they emphasized the need for a library at Hickory Grove.

2 NEW SCHOOLS

The rest of the elementary expansion they suggested would be in two new schools with 13 rooms each.

The best time for completion of a new high school would be the school year 1965-66, the educators agreed.

By June 1966, high school enrollment should be about 1,351. The present facility was constructed to house 1,075.

SURVE YTEAM

Board members discussed employing the survey team to set up qualifications for the high school.

Intensive study, possibly taking six months to two years, would be required to shape the kind of program for which the school should be constructed, they noted. In

COUNTING RETURNS — Proponents, opponents, newsmen, city officials and just interested parties gathered in the city clerk's office last night to record the vote in yesterday's special election. Among those who kept track of the votes were (from lower left, clockwise) Louis H. Schimmel Jr., Victor L. Smothers, Mr. and Mrs. Lois Nasstrom, Press reporter Dick Saunders and City Clerk Olga Barkeley.

Amendment Overwhelmingly Passed

was 34.6 per cent in District 4.

Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr., who supported the amendment, saw it approved 270 to 16 in his home precinct, while it was adopted 318 to 25 in Commissioner Charles H. Harmon's precinct.

Harmon did not take sides on the charter amendment.

PLEASED AT INTEREST

After the final tally last night, Mayor Landry congratulated the Jaycees for "their tremendous campaign" and said he was pleased by "the high interest of our citizens in their local government as shown by the total vote.

"I am happy about the support from people in District 7," he said, referring to a reltively heavy "no" vote.

"On the basis of the yet unanswered question as to whether or not this (amendment) was aimed at Commissioner Henry, I have decided to be a candidate for reelection from District 7," the mayor announced.

★ ★ ★

He said that "only time will tell" if the amendment would work and if it didn't work "for the betterment of all," the commission would likely propose further charter amendments in the next few years.

"I hold no personal animosity toward the Jaycees, The Pontiac Press or anyone connected with the charter change," he noted.

"I'm sure the commission will happily abide by this decision of a majority of the public."

Richard C. Fitzpatrick, Jaycee president, said, "I want to thank all those who worked and helped us in our efforts to campaign for the amendment."

★ ★ ★

"Now, our work is done. Regardless of what opponents of the amendment may think, we are through," he noted.

NO 'SLATE' PLANS

"We have no plans for any further action on the charter, nor do we have any plans for partisan support of any 'slate' of candidates in the coming election."

Henry, the lone Negro commissioner, said, "I think the amendment was a great mistake and will become a monster."

Referring to the coming spring election, Henry said "I think they're going to vote me out," but thanked the people in his district "for voting for me as a man" in his stand against the amendment.

★ ★ ★

Taylor, in a brief statement, said he was "proud of the Jaycees" and thanked the "hundreds of people who backed something that will work to benefit the city as a whole."

CONTINUE EFFORT

"I hope they will continue to keep an eye out for good government."

Kirby said, "I'm very proud of the city getting out to vote like this on a cold day. I still think this will lead to a slate-type of election campaign, but if this is what the people want, we'll go along with it."

Ledford, Bottom and Harmon were unavailable for comment.

Area Navy Pilot Rescued

SAN DIEGO, Calif (UPI) — A Navy pilot from Franklin, Michigan, was rescued yesterday from Pacific Ocean waters off the southern coast of Japan after his attack bomber fell 54 feet from the flight deck of the carrier Oriskany into the water, the Navy Air Force Pacific Fleet announced.

Rescued minutes after the fall and treated for minor injuries was Ens. David B. Small, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Small, of 24655 N. Cromwell.

The plane, an A4B Skyhawk jet attack bomber, was lost.

Search Seas for 5 Off Boat

Schooner Abandoned by Family, Skipper

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)— Air and surface vessels searched heavy seas 160 miles east of Jacksonville today for five persons forced to abandon a sinking schooner.

The Coast Guard identified them as Mr. and Mrs. John Pelton, their two children, and Capt. Christopher de Grabos-ski, skipper of the schooner, the Enchantress.

Ages and addresses were unavailable as were the names of the children. The vessel left Charleston, S.C., Jan. 10 for St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands.

★ ★ ★

The last word from the 58-foot schooner was a distress message that water was knee-deep in the cabin and that the passengers and skipper were going over the side in two dinghies. All had life jackets.

SINKING CONDITION

Seventeen minutes earlier, the schooner had radioed she was in sinking condition and asked assistance.

Visibility was described as fair in the area being searched. Winds were estimated at 30 knots. The water temperature was 75 degrees, indicating a good chance for survival, the Coast Guard said.

In the area were the Navy aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt; two destroyers, the Power and Perry; the freighter Alcour; the tanker Esso Baltimore, the Coast Guard cutter Sweetgum and several aircraft.

★ ★ ★

The Roosevelt arrived last night to start the search. Seas were so rough that carrier planes aiding in the hunt were unable to land on the carrier and returned to Jacksonville Naval Air Station.

SEEK LOCATION

The Coast Guard asked the schooner to continue radio transmission as long as possible so that a fix could be obtained on the schooner's location.

Someone started counting.

Later, a child was heard counting slowly to 100.

Gradually, the voice faded away.

Russia Ship Survivors Brought Into Gibraltar

GIBRALTAR (UPI) — The German ship Byblos arrived here last night with 24 survivors of the Russian freighter Uman, which sank in the Atlantic Ocean Sunday about 110 miles west of the Straits of Gibraltar.

Four bodies were reported picked up, and 10 men were still missing.

Full Probe Set in Baker Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators pledged today a full inquiry into a joint land venture by former Senate aide Robert G. Baker and Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla.

Today's open hearing was focused on the vending machine aspects of Baker's business dealings.

★ ★ ★

The Senate Rules Committee is investigating whether Baker, who resigned under fire last Oct. 7 as Senate Democratic secretary, engaged in business dealings that conflicted with his duties or involved other improprieties.

Called back for more testimony was Eugene A. Hancock of Miami, Fla., president of Automatic Vending Services, Inc., and former president of another vending machine company, known as Serv-U Corp.

GOT PAYOFF

The committee was told Monday by another witness that Baker received $650 a month for helping land a defense plant franchise for another vending machine company.

Smathers' name came up in the testimony late Monday of Milton Hauft, a veteran of 15 years in the Internal Revenue Service, who said he had assisted Baker in preparing his federal income tax returns.

Asked if Baker had reported about $4,000 in income on his 1962 return from a land operation in Florida, Hauft replied he was not quite sure of the amount. He said the income represented Baker's share of a joint Florida land venture with Smathers and the senator's former administrative assistant, Scott I. Peek.

In a statement issued after the hearing, Smathers said that early in 1957 he took a one-fifth interest in a real estate transaction in central Florida. He didn't give any dollar figure or identify the land venture further.

INVITED TO JOIN

Smathers said that a few months later at his invitation Peek and Baker each bought one-eighth interests in his share for $1,500 each.

The undeveloped acreage has been sold in small lots and Peek and Baker each has received "a return of slightly over $1,000 a year on his investment over the past seven years," Smathers said.

★ ★ ★

Peek said in Miami that he had not been in business with Baker and did not want to comment while the investigation is under way.

L. P. McLendon, the committee's special counsel, said in answer to newsmen's questions the whole land transaction will be investigated thoroughly.

VENDING CONTRACT

Most of Monday's hearing related to a vending machine franchise at the Falls Church, Va., plant of Melpar, Inc., a defense contractor.

Ralph L. Hill, former president of the Capitol Vending Co. Inc., of Washington, swore that Baker arranged for him to take over the vending franchise at Melpar in March 1962, and then demanded he be paid $1,000 a month.

★ ★ ★

Hill said that when he protested Baker settled for $250 a month. Later, Hill said, the payments were raised to $650 a month.

MSU Survey Points Out School Needs

this way the building would be determined by the program, rather than being allowed to restrict the program.

The MSU team was asked to estimate its fee for the service within the next two weeks.

Recommendations for junior high school expansion involved 16 more classrooms at East Hills, four more at Bloomfield Hills and the construction of a third junior high school on Lone Pine by September 1968.

By that time, total junior high school enrollment would be in the neighborhood of 1,700.

An administration building should be constructed on the site east of the high school recently acquired by the board, the team said.

"Completion of this structure (by June 1965) would make additional classrooms available for use by the high school during the construction year of the second high school," according to the report.

★ ★ ★

With this preliminary report in hand, the board members will now study its implications, deciding whether they agree with it and, if so, how many bond issues would be necessary.

MILLAGE NEEDS

Talk last night tended toward consideration of one millage request, which Supt. Eugene Johnson said would be about $5.5 million.

Administrators are now preparing more definite estimates and bonding procedures to aid the board in its consideration of what Johnson termed "the last big push."

A bond issue vote this spring would follow by three years the approval of a $2.2 million debt by taxpayers in 1961.

ROBERT F. KENNEDY

Troubleshoots in Far East

Bob Kennedy Goes as LBJ Spokesman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy leaves today on a troubleshooting mission for President Johnson—a meeting with Indonesian President Sukarno on the Malaysian situation.

The White House said Monday that Kennedy probably will see Sukarno Thursday in Tokyo where the Indonesian leader will be vacationing.

★ ★ ★

Assistant White House press secretary Andrew Hatcher said Monday that Kennedy would be discussing the Malaysian situation with Sukarno.

Sukarno has publicly and repeatedly vowed his intention to crush "neo-colonialism" in Malaysia—meaning British support of the newly formed state.

MESSAGE TO SUKARNO

Only last week Johnson sent Sukarno a message. It is believed to have dealt with U.S. concern over the rising frequency of border incidents in North Borneo, a Malaysian state which borders Indonesia.

Another possible topic in the Kennedy-Sukarno talks is a provision in the new foreign aid bill. It would prohibit U.S. assistance to Indonesia unless Johnson makes a positive finding that it is in the best interests of the United States.

Search for Crew

B52 Mystery Grows

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)— Snow and secrecy deepened today on the blizzard-swept mountain where an Air Force jet bomber with a nuclear payload crashed in flames.

The commander of the big B-52, Maj. Thomas W. McCormick of Yawkey, W. Va., bailed out before the eight-engine plane smashed into a slope on the Appalchian range about 20 miles west of Cumberland.

★ ★ ★

Still missing more than 24 hours after Monday's predawn crash were the other four crewmen aboard the plane on a flight from Westover Air Force Base, Mass., to Turner Air Force Base, Ga.

McCormick, turning up at a farmhouse near Grantsville, Md., about three miles from where the plane went down, said he believed they also had parachuted before the crash.

IDENTIFIED

They were identified as Capt. Parker C. Peeden, 29, copilot, Smithfield, N. C.; Maj. Robert L. Payne, 41, navigator, Tulsa, Okla.; Maj. Robert E. Townley, 42, radar bombardier, Gadsden, Ala., and T. Sgt. Melvin Wooten, 27, tail gunner, Tohatchi, N.M.

High-level military authorities swarmed into the Western Maryland hill country during the night to take control of the search and the investigation of the crash.

★ ★ ★

They said there was no danger of explosion from two nuclear weapons aboard the plane because the bombs had not been primed.

They ordered the crash area sealed off for a radius of about 1,500 yards and declined to discuss the exact nature or disposition of the weapons.

BOMBS RECOVERED

A spokesman for Strategic Air Command headquarters at Omaha, Neb., said both nuclear devices had been recovered.

Waiting for an end to the blizzard conditions which stymied ground and air searches for the other crew members all day Monday were Civil Air Patrol pilots, volunteers and state police from Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

★ ★ ★

More than two feet of snow had fallen in the area earlier this winter and nearly that much again was dumped onto the forested mountainside during the new 24-hour snowstorm.

Citizen Unit to Evaluate Bloomfield Twp. Needs

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP— A citizens' study committee was established last night to take a hard look at Bloomfield Township's potential and to evaluate various types of government suitable for it.

The Township Board expressed enthusiasm for the study proposed by Supervisor Homer Case.

"I hope the committee members will probe this community to its depths," Trustee Robert M. Sinclair said.

★ ★ ★

Among his suggestions on the group's organization was appointment of a "hard-driving leader."

CONSIDER NEEDS

He urged that subcommittees be established to consider the several needs of the rapidly growing community.

The subcommittees concerned with topics like recreation, roads, welfare and public safety would then survey the community to relate needs to possible solutions.

Sinclair also suggested that a timetable be established "so the study doesn't go on for two years or so."

★ ★ ★

Case said the township is now operating under "an antique form of government."

EXPANDED NEEDS

Its problems are centered in providing services to its expanding population, estimated at 27,500.

The supervisor emphasized all forms of local government would be studied.

Although he has offered arguments in favor of the township's adopting a charter, Case said the committee could very well decide some other form was more suitable.

★ ★ ★

The type must be chosen by the people to be effective, he commented.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Among the 15 members of the committee are former Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner; Tony Guyer, chairman of committees for the Oakland County Board of Supervisors; and Milo Cross, Pontiac State Bank president.

Others are Richard H. McGraw, Bloomfield Hills Board of Education trustee; Charles Wiggins, the township's civil defense representative; John King, a member of the Oakland Citizens League; and Ed M. Hill, representing United Homeowners.

Also picked were Chad Ritchie of Michigan Bell Telephone Co.; George Cousins, a local businessman; Joseph Hainline, director of public relations for Fisher Body Division; and Robert Hackett, a Pontiac attorney.

★ ★ ★

Representing the League of Women Voters will be Mrs. Robdon, Mrs. John Rumsey and ert Sinclair, Mrs. Robert Shel-

Mrs. Robert Knight, also a member of the American Association of University Women.

Case hopes to name three or four more members and appoint a chairman at the Township Board's next meeting, Jan. 27.

The Birmingham City Commission last night rejected a proposal to rezone a single residential parcel on Lincoln Avenue to multiple dwellings but did not shut the door on other possible rezoning of the property.

★ ★ ★

While denying the change for the property owned by the Church of Christ just east of Floyd, the commission asked City Planner William Brownfield to schedule a discussion on the matter at its next joint meeting with the Planning Board.

A few commissioners said they realized the problem the church faces in selling the property as it is now zoned but would like to review the zoning of the area surrounding the property before any further action is taken.

The church purchased the property to build a new structure but later located elsewhere.

★ ★ ★

Henry Hogan, attorney for the church, told the commission that the property is "not conductive" to residential building because of the heavy traffic on Lincoln.

Most of the objectors to the change live on Floyd and their rear lot lines back up to the side lot lines of the church property.

Realtors Schedule Banquet

A review of the effects of automation on our economic society will be heard by the Pontiac Board of Realtors at its annual banquet next Tuesday evening.

Paul McNamara, District Sales Manager for Burroughs Corp., will be the guest speaker at the banquet in the Pontiac Elks Temple beginning at 6:30 p. m.

Realtors will install their 1964 officers, headed by President Philip E. Rowston of 60 Cherokee.

★ ★ ★

Officers were elected in October. They include Rowston, three new members of the board of directors, and new secretary, Lewis Hileman Sr.

OTHER OFFICERS

Kenneth G. Hempstead and Thomas Bateman were reelected treasurer and vice president respectively last October.

Some 500 persons are expected to attend the banquet.

★ ★ ★

Circuit Judge William J. Beer will preside as master of ceremonies.

Tickets are available through any realtor.

Group to Act on Home Rule

Final Touches Due County Enabling Act

The governor's study committee is expected to put the finishing touches on its proposed county home rule enabling act Saturday at a closed-door meeting in the Oakland County Courthouse Auditorium.

Committee member Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, said the proposed act won't be revealed publicly until after it has been presented to Gov. George Romney within the next few days.

Hamlin said the committee's proposal will be different from any of those presented at public hearings by various groups interested in county home rule.

★ ★ ★

The 10-member committee headed by Horace Hodges of Bay City, chairman of the State Association of County Supervisors, held three public hearings and two previous executive sessions.

"I think our bill is one that will be looked on favorably by the State Legislature," said Hamlin.

ENABLE VOTERS

The bill in itself wouldn't give any county home rule, but would enable county voters to decide whether they want to change their form of local government.

★ ★ ★

The problem, said Hamlin, "is finding something that will work in all counties interested in some changes.

'JFK, Walker Gun Is Likely the Same'

DALLAS (AP)—State Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said last night that evidence had been uncovered which made it likely the gun used to kill President Kennedy also was used in a sniper's attempt on former Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

The reported attempt on Walker's life came in April of 1963.

★ ★ ★

Carr, in a speech before the Highland Baptist Church brotherhood, did not indicate what the evidence was or how it was uncovered.

He also said the FBI report on its investigation of the President's assassination should be in the hands of Dallas District Atty. Henry Wade this week.

Fine Set in Assault of Officer

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Donald Graham, 34, was ordered to pay a total of $55 in fines and costs Monday after pleading guilty to assault and battery in the slugging of a police officer.

The fisticuffs were a sidelight to Dowagiac's steamy political controversy involving Mayor Glenn Berry, the City Council and the city board of public works.

Justice of the Peace Harold Amersdorfer ordered the fines in lieu of a 50-day jail term.

APOLOGIZES

While entering his plea, Graham also took occasion to apologize to auxiliary patrolman Clyde Rank who had two pieces of glass removed from an eye and required 22 stitches to close wounds he suffered Friday night at Dowagiac police headquarters.

Graham told newsmen he had gone to headquarters to complain because his wife, a BPW employe, was "upset by political pressure."

★ ★ ★

Police said Graham turned his anger on Berry who was present when the man entered. Officers said Rank sought to quiet Graham and the scuffle followed in which the patrolman was struck.

Meanwhile, a citizens group expected to file Tuesday the petitions it has been circulating in an attempt to recall the mayor from office.

Rioting in Wake of Coup

Yanks Rescued From Zanzibar Strife

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) — The U. S. destroyer Manley arrived in Dar Es Salaam today bringing U. S. citizens to safety from the turbulent East African island of Zanzibar.

The State Department ordered the removal of all but two of the 63 Americans on Zanzibar after bands of Africans were reported roaming the streets, shooting and looting in the wake of the overthrow of the Arab government.

State Department officials in Washington termed the situation on the spice island off the east coast of Africa "very unstable." But they said no Europeans were harmed and their property was not being looted.

Captured police trucks loaded with shouting Africans sped down streets of the island capital. The public was warned by loudspeakers to remain indoors.

State Department officials expressed concern that Zanzibar, which became independent Dec. 10 after 73 years as a British protectorate, might become a Communist base. Some of the leaders are considered leftists.

The new government of President Sheikh Abeid Karume sealed off the island nation after the revolt Sunday but some supporters of ousted Sultan Seyyid Hamshid Bin Abdulla and Prime Minister Mohammed Shamte Hamadi were reported still putting up a fight.

U.S. Consul Frederick P. Ricard, one of the two Americans remaining behind, reported in a telephone conservation with the U.S. Embassy in Dar Es Salaam there was sporadic shooting and looting. Before his connection was cut he described the situation as extremely delicate.

★ ★ ★

The new regime gave permission for the Manley, which was on a goodwill visit to nearby Kenya, to enter Zanzibar harbor and remove the Americans. Most of them are connected with a tracking station for the Project Mercury satellite program.

Zanzibar radio, taken over by the rebels, had warned all ships and aircraft to keep away from the island. A rebel "field marshal" threatened to shoot anyone who tried to land.

STERN MEASURES

The rebel command also threatened stern measures against Africans who mistreated Arab citizens, the island's traditional rulers, who dominated the ruling Zanzibar National party of ousted Prime Minister Hamadi. There were reports the homes of Arabs were searched for arms and their occupants herded into the street.

The Sultan, who was banned from the island for life, fled aboard his yacht Sunday and was reported heading for Kenya. Hamadi was reported to have fled to a liner in the harbor.

State Department officials believe the coup resulted from the dissatisfaction of the African majority with the rule of the Arab minority.

Sheik Abdul Rahman Mohamed Babu, the new foreign minister, is considered by State Department officials to be an extreme left-winger with Communist associations.

Thousands of Laws Regululate Nearly Every Activity

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The nation's legal explosion shows no signs of slowing down and the avalanche of new laws fills more and more books in the legal libraries. This second article in a three-part series reports on where the laws come from and what they do.)

By BARNEY SEIBERT
United Press International

In 1951, the legislatures of the 48 states considered 69,919 proposed laws and adopted 23,894 of them.

In 1961, the legislatures of the 50 states considered 89,669 proposed laws and adopted 30,396 of them.

Between 1951 and 1961, the number of states in the union increased 4 per cent, but the legal output per state legislative session went up 25 per cent.

This, in statistical terms, is how the nation has come to be flooded by a tide of statutes which can put you in danger of breaking the law with almost every breath you take.

The Illinois and New York state bar associations, in prepared lectures for school assemblies, pointed out that the content of the clothes you wear, the food you eat, the light by which you read, the building in which you live, the car you drive, the work you do, all are regulated to some degree by laws.

"Laws affect you in all of your waking — not sleeping — hours," the associations said.

What is this outpouring of regulation and restriction about?

In 24 representative states, a United Press International survey showed that education, the automobile, liquor and financial problems accounted for the biggest body of legislation.

LED ALL OTHERS

In five states, education led all other subjects as a lawmakers' favorite and ranked among the top three in six others.

Liquor and autos both led the list in two states, and automobiles were among the top three law-provoking subjects in seven others. Liquor was among the top three in four other states.

Financial problems most preoccupied the lawmakers of three states and ranked among the three subjects for lawmaking in five others.

★ ★ ★

MORE AUTOS

The number of autos in use grows annually, and the need for regulation rises with it. There are more persons in school each year, and they are demanding more schooling, so it follows there will be more law on the subject.

In some Southwest states, such as Texas, water is the most popular subject for lawmaking, probably because there isn't enough of it to go around.

Four states—Georgia, Nevada, and Washington—reported that laws regulating local governmental agencies were the most frequent concerns of their state legislation.

★ ★ ★

There's a popular saying in Georgia that a city "cannot open or close an alley, or put up a traffic light" without a special state law. Georgia also holds the constitutional amendment championship. Its constitution has been altered 381 times in the past 18 years. Some 322 of the amendments concerned city charters.

Plans Suddenly Changed

Time, Illness Forcing Nehru to Retire

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Time, as it does to all men eventually, is forcing the hand of Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

NEWSOM

On Jan. 1, the 74 - year - old Nehru received UPI correspondent Michael T. Malloy for the first and only interview he has granted in the new year.

'I suppose that I'll retire some day," Nehru said. "But I have no plans for that now."

It was scarcely a week later, at his Congress party's convention in Bhubaneswar, India, that an event occurred that is of vast concern to India and may change drastically Nehru's own plans. At Bhubaneswar, Nehru suddenly fell ill.

To an original diagnosis of high blood pressure, the doctors added references to a "weakness of the left limbs." The general interpretation was that he had suffered a paralytic stroke.

★ ★ ★

Now the word is that he has ben urged to take a complete rest for at least three months.

STRANGE NAMES

New names, many of them strange to the West, will be emerging from an India which since independence in 1950 has been dominated by only one name — Nehru's.

Nehru inherited his mantle of leadership from the assassinated Mohandas Gandhi, and with it came also the mystic hero worship which enabled Nehru alone to dominate a nation of half a billion people, ranging from the primitive to the most sophsiticated, divided by 845 different languages and major dialects.

In India's remotest areas there are even some who never have heard of Nehru.

Nehru has dictated his country's economic policies, a curious mixture of capitalism and state socialism. And he has dictated its foreign policy which still, despite Red China's threat, is based on non-alignment.

NO RIVALS

Nehru's strong personality has brooked no rivals for leadership and this is a matter of chief concern now.

Even under Nehru's strong hand, members of the Indian Parliament, sharply divided between right and left, staged walkouts and noisy uproars accompanied by exchanges of mutual insults. Indian politics, rowdy before, now will become more so.

As a temporary measure, leaders of the Congress party's quarrelling right and left wings have reached a compromise by which they hope to run the government in Nehru's absence.

★ ★ ★

Neither is a name known to the West.

On the right is Tiruvallur Thattai Krishnamachari, an on-again, off-again cabinet minister since 1952 and now a sharp-tongued minister of finance. Nehru sent him to Washington last winter to negotiate U.S. military aid.

On the left is Home Minister Guzarilal Nanda. He is 65 and a fervent believer in planned economy. He has been associated with the government's five-year plans since 1951.

Still more names will emerge before India's power struggle is over. One powerful voice may be that of Nehru's daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi. A possibility for the foreign ministry post is Nehru's sister, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit.

★ ★ ★

Touted as a possible successor to Nehru is former Home Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri, a friend of Nehru, colorless but one of the few aceptable to both left and right.

Wolverines Prepare for Ohio State

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — "I think that (Gary) Bradds is one of the country's great basketball players.

"But I think Bill Buntin can stand up to him."

Those were the words from Michigan coach Dave Strack yesterday as his team started preparing for the invasion Saturday by Ohio State.

Ohio State still has quite a basketball tradition lingering from the days of Jerry Lucas and Co. and is shooting for its fifth straight Big Ten title.

Michigan, boasting the finest crop of sophomores the league has seen since Lucas and John Havlicek arrived at OSU five years ago, is determined to build a dynasty of its own.

Michigan and Ohio State go into the battle tied for first place in the Big Ten at 2-0 with Illinois, which shared the crown with the Buckeyes last year.

RATED THIRD

Michigan is 11-1 over-all and rated third in the nation behind UCLA and defending national champion Loyola of Chicago.

OSU, which is 7-5 over-all, isn't rated because of its slow start but has come on strong.

The clash Saturday should go a long way to determine the fate of both teams — and both teams know it'll probably rest on the result of the clash between Gary Bradds and Buntin.

★ ★ ★

The two opposing all-Big Ten centers — Bradds a senior and Buntin a junior — met twice last year for the first time. Bradds won both duels decisively and went on to win All-America honors.

Strack hopes that Buntin will win the duel this time — and he's planning no special defense to stop Bradds.

"The way it looks now we'll be going with our usual man-to-man defense and counting on Bill to stop Bradds," Stack said.

"Despite all their losses, Ohio has a fine team, our scouts said they're really improved and played a great game against Minnesota. And we have to play them right now, not last month."

★ ★ ★

Strack will go with his usual starting lineup of Buntin, Larry Tregoning, Oliver Darden, Cazzie Russell and Bob Cantrell.

But he also praised his bench for the fine work against Northwestern. Junior forward George Pomey came off the bench to replace Tregoning and scored 15 points.

"Tregoning had one of those bad days that happen every once in a while when you just don't have the touch and Pomey came off the bench and saved the bacon for us," Strack said.

Jinx Snapped by U-D Quintet at Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—The University of Detroit basketball team finally solved the Notre Dame home court jinx last night.

★ ★ ★

It took an overtime to do it but the Titans edged the Irish, 114-104, for their first victory here in 19 games.

Larry Sheffield scored four baskets for Notre Dame in the last two minutes to turn a 97-92 deficit into a 100-100 deadlock at the end of regulation time.

Dick Dzik scored a three-point for U-D to offset Sheffield's splurge.

Dzik led U-D with 26 points.

Olympic Village Opens Wednesday

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—The first event of the ninth Winter Olympics will be only two weeks away when the newly built Olympics village officially opens Wednesday.

But at the moment there is every chance that the ceremony will be welcomed by a village bare of inhabitants, cleaning staff and the vital commodity for winter sports—snow.

Only 17 North Koreans, who arrived over the weekend, are certain spectators. There is the possibility that small German, Austrian and Japanese contingents may move in, but nothing is positive.

If I Go, You Go, Too—Finley

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Charles O. Finley said if he goes down, the American League will go with him, and baseball wonders about his next move at a league meeting in New York Thursday on his attempt to move the Athletics to Louisville.

★ ★ ★

The fiery A's owner says he has been "backed into a corner by all that has happened." But his latest statements would indicate he feels he has the American League in a corner, instead.

Finley charged Monday the league owners and Joe Cronin, league president, helped arrange his trips to Dallas in 1961 and Oakland last year to discuss possible franchise shifts, and gave him their blessing.

"This is why I say there isn't the slightest chance the league can make me sell my franchise," Finley told Ernie Mehl, Kansas City Star sports editor, by telephone from Chicago Monday.

"The league is as involved in this as I am," he said, then added, "this isn't all but I'm saving some things to spring at the meeting."

The baseball world wonders what weapons Finley might have in mind.

DENIES REPORT

Finley has denied reports he might consider a lawsuit against the other owners if they turned down his request to move to Louisville.

★ ★ ★

Several U. S. Senators will be present at the league meeting in New York. Their presence might renew the spectre of anti-trust legislation for club owners. Finley, 45, a Chicago-based insurance executive, has said repeatedly he considers baseball a business, not a sport.

The business affairs of all other professional team sports are subject to anti-trust regulations —but not baseball's. Some members of Congress would like to see baseball regulated and taxed as a business, not a sport.

★ ★ ★

The Senate Anti-Trust and Monopoly Subcommittee plans another look soon at baseball's exempt status under the anti-trust laws. In 1953, the U.S. Supreme Court said baseball was a sport, not a business, in a ruling upholding the game's reserve clause, which puts each player under absolute control of the club that owns his contract.

★ ★ ★

The owners don't want the Kansas City franchise to become a political football, with its status debated in Congress.

Howie Young on Carpet Over Penalty Box Caper

MONTREAL (AP) — Howie Young's checkered National Hockey League career faces its sternest test today—not on the ice, but in the offices of NHL President Clarance Campbell.

Campbell plans to announce his decision on Young's latest escapade — an alleged penalty box popoff in Toronto. The Chicago Black Hawk defenseman was accused of spitting and using intemperate language while in the box and was suspended indefinitely following the incident on Jan. 4.

MAY BE BARRED

Campbell said he had talked to witnesses as well as Young and Chicago's Reg Fleming, who was also involved. He said last week before launching his investigation that Young might be barred from the league for life.

For Young, it was the latest in a series of incidents which have plagued him since he reached the NHL with the Detroit Red Wings in 1961.

In one full season and parts of two others, he was suspended four times by the Detroit club for various infractions. He also was banned for short periods by the league for his involvement in brawls on the ice.

Last year he set an NHL record spending 273 minutes—more than 4½ hours — in the penalty box. He was traded last summer to Chicago for goalie Roger Crozier and although playing only part-time, led the league in penalty minutes for much of this season.

★ ★ ★

Young has also had trouble off the ice. He was arrested in Edmonton, Alta. two years ago after getting into a fight with a spectator at a Western Hockey League game and spent a night in jail. Last summer he was fined after creating a disturbance in a Detroit bar.

Nicklaus Set for '64 Debut

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —Jack Nicklaus looks for an early birthday present and a way to break veterans' early monopoly of 1964 professional golf titles when he makes his year's debut this week in the $60,000 Bing Crosby National Pro-Amateur Championship.

He'll join a star-studded field of 174 pros in an event branded as unofficial this year because of its concurrent pro-am scramble.

★ ★ ★

Nicklaus, the U.S. Open king in 1962, earned $100,000 last year and won the Masters and PGA titles. But where he sat on the sidelines in early 1964, veterans Paul Harney and Art Wall won the Los Angeles and San Diego Opens.

The tournament opens Thursday over three long, wind-swept, ocean-bordering courses: Pebble Beach, Cypress Point and Monterey Peninsula.

CHEVY-VAN!

Chevrolet's new low-cost quality delivery truck!

This introduces you to Chevy-Van—our new economy delivery truck.

It has a low price tag, over 40 sq. ft. of completely usable flat floor 7½ ft. long, the engine up front, and a lot of quality features which make it a better buy. The body and frame-floor are welded together. The truck is strong, rigid, stable. Doors are double-wall construction.

Chevy-Van has unusual resistance to rust and corrosion. Especially vulnerable areas such as front stepwells are galvanized. Sealers are used at all critical joints inside and out. Certain sections are treated with high-zinc-content primers; others with an aluminum-wax preservative.

The windshield is a big flat practical one-piece unit.

The big 90-hp 4-cylinder standard engine is more powerful than some 6s, yet is remarkably economical. If you need more power, Chevy-Van offers a 120-hp six at extra cost. Side doors and rear windows also cost extra.

Last but not least, it's a Chevrolet. Which means that it is built to work for you a long time at minimum cost.

Market Trading Moderate

Steels, Airlines Inch Forward

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel and airline stocks moved ahead in a mixed market early today.

Changes of key issues were limited to less than a point in almost all cases. Trading was moderately active.

★ ★ ★

Cigarette company issues, which fell rapidly early Monday and then steadied, showed an irregular pattern. Stocks of cigar manufacturers, which enjoyed widespread gains Monday, were slow to trade.

The business news background included a published report that American business paid out a record $3 billion in dividends in December and that dividend disbursements for the entire year or 1963 set a record.

REPORT REACTION

Steels apparently reacted to a weekly production report which indicated output had climbed to a six-month peak in the latest week. U. S. Steel gained about a point and Youngstown Sheet and Tube was ahead around 1½. Jones and Laughlin was up almost 1 and Bethlehem and Republic were ahead by major fractions.

★ ★ ★

Monday, the Associated Press 60-stock average declined .4 at 289.

American Stock Exfchange prices were irregularly higher at the start. Data Control lost more than 1. Up fractions were Barnes Engineering, Kaiser Industries, New Jersey Zinc and Ogden Corp.
