The Miracle of Easter

A young Hungarian stood before an international assemblage and quietly spoke three words. He had come through danger and tyranny. His voice had the ring of Easter as he said, "We are alive."

The miracle of Easter is this quiet recognition that mankind is meant for life.

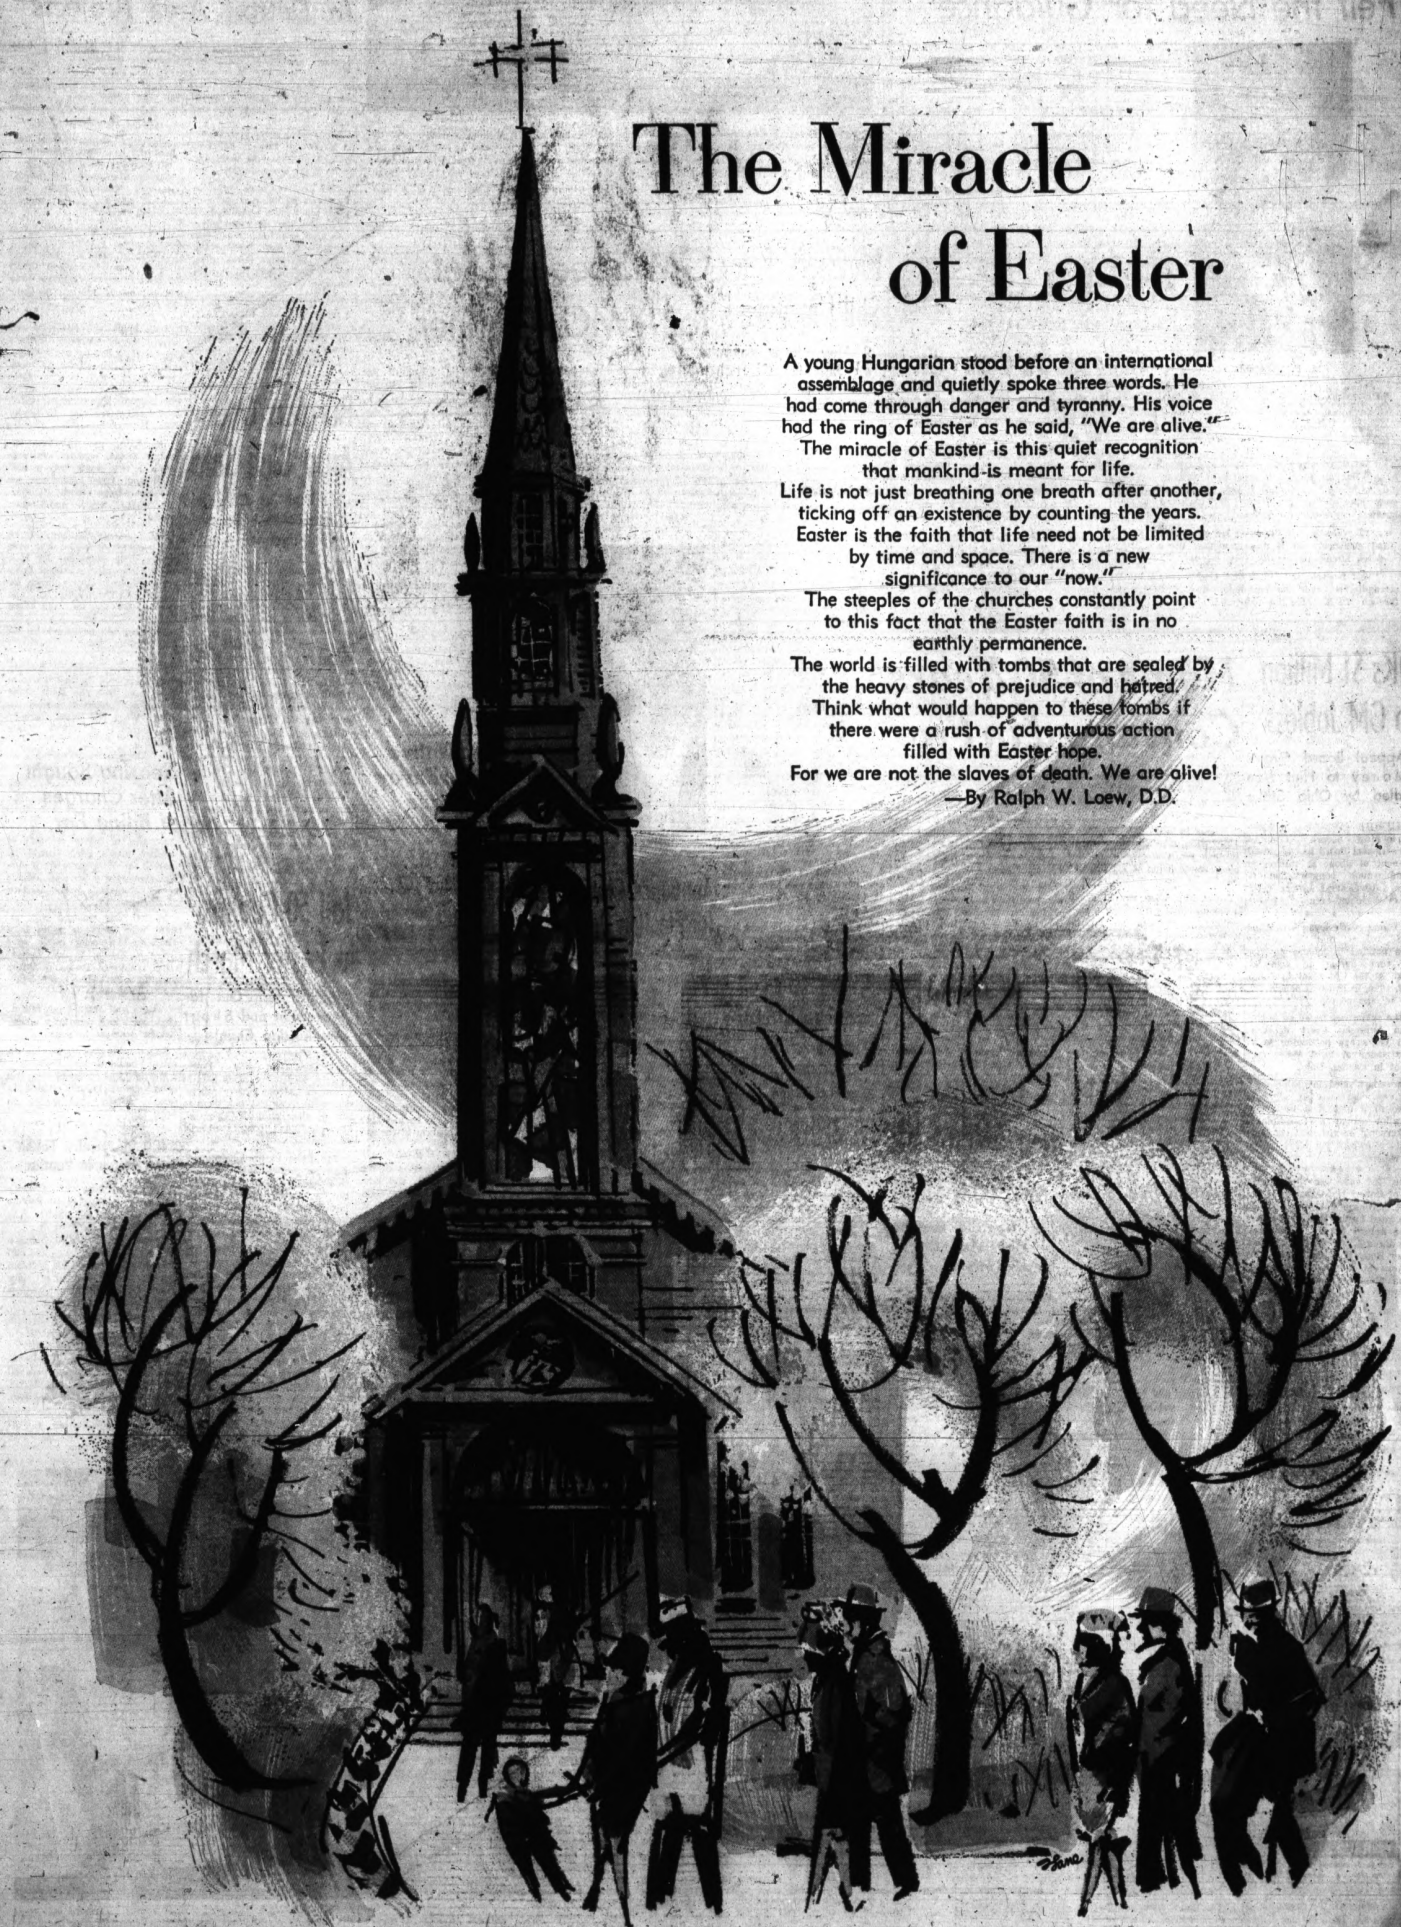

Life is not just breathing one breath after another, ticking off an existence by counting the years. Easter is the faith that life need not be limited by time and space. There is a new significance to our "now."

The steeples of the churches constantly point to this fact that the Easter faith is in no earthly permanence.

The world is filled with tombs that are sealed by the heavy stones of prejudice and hatred. Think what would happen to these tombs if there were a rush of adventurous action filled with Easter hope.

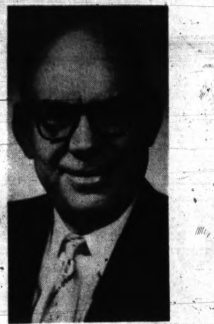

For we are not the slaves of death. We are alive!

God Is My Strength

Felt the Need for Guidance

M. F. RUMMEL

(Editor's Note: It seems appropriate during Holy Week to single out a few of the many persons who have been to Christ by their devotion to the church of their choice. The Pontiac Press asked these persons, all successful in secular pursuits, why they voluntarily give countless hours each year to religious concerns. One man's answer appears today. The last is a series of six.)

"Although I was born, baptized and reared in a Christian family, the need of religion did not come to me until I took on the responsibility of rearing a family, and until my business responsibilities increased.

"I evidently felt the need for strength and guidance, and it was then that my church attendance became very regular.

"This renewed my belief that God is my strength and ever present help, and that through His Son, He has redeemed me from my many, many sins and has given me life everlasting," said M. F. Rummel, director of purchasing at Pontiac Motor Division.

Rummel said he felt his own reason and strength were not sufficient and only through Christ could he have such things as more love for his fellowmen, more kindness, more patience, better understanding and willingness to forgive.

He went on to say he believed in a gracious and merciful God who had blessed him in many ways and he would be forever grateful; and he delighted to serve Him in whatever way He directs.

"My prayers are mostly prayers of thanks giving. The common doctrine, 'Praise God from whom all blessings flow. Praise Him all creatures here below. Praise Him above ye heavenly hosts. Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost,' is my favorite," he said.

A member of the mission board of the English District of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod, he was recently chosen with two other laymen, two pastors and a teacher to serve as a board of control of a new junior college which his denomination will build near Ann Arbor.

The church will spend approximately $6 million in the erection of the college designed to train ministers, teachers and deaconesses. Rummel has served Grace Lutheran as secretary, building committee chairman and every member visitation churchman and trustee.

"I also desire to state that I am thankful for my fine family which includes my wife Myrtle, our daughter Maribel, son Roger and his wife Dorothy, and new grandson Jeffrey," he added.

NEW TEMPEST COUPE — Pontiac Motor Division's new Tempest four-door sedan will appear in Pontiac dealerships in mid-April. Virtually identical in both interior and exterior dimensions to the four-door sedan introduced last fall, the new Tempest coupe is one-half inch lower. Its superb two-door styling gives the family-size coupe a distinctive sports car appearance. The coupe comes in two models, one featuring bucket seats and custom interior trim; the other with conventional split back, bench-type front seats and standard interior appointments. (See story on page 1.)

Ministers' Fate Still Unknown

2 Area Clergy Vanish on Flight to Church Conference in South

The families of two Pontiac area ministers prayed today that the flying pastors will be found alive somewhere between Meridian, Miss., and Paragould, Ark.

Rev. Charles C. Kirby, 71, of 1964 E. Beaver Road, Troy and Rev. Marvin B. Ellis, Royal Oak, vanished Thursday night with another minister, Rev. Robert Mapes, Fort Wayne, Ind., while flying from Meridian to Paragould in a light plane during a violent thunderstorm.

Kirby's wife Nola said the first word the family received of the disappearance was Friday when her son, the Rev. Charles G. Kirby, called Paragould and learned the single-engine plane had failed to arrive there.

The elder Rev. Kirby is pastor of Christ Church Apostolic, N. Main Street and 13-Mile Road, Royal Oak and his son is assistant pastor, Ellis, a convert of the Rev. Mr. Kirby's and formerly a pastor at Ecanaba, is now engaged in evangelistic work.

FLY TO CONFERENCE — The two Michigan men drove to Fort Wayne early this week to join Mapes, a veteran pilot, in a flight to Meridian for a church conference.

In addition to their minister son, the Kirbys also have a married daughter, Mrs. Vavie Rowe, of Berkeley.

Ellis, 68, and his wife have been living with a daughter, Mrs. Thelma Boren, in Royal Oak. They have another daughter, Mrs. Ruth Stanley of Smithfield, Tenn.

Students Oppose Loyalty Oaths for Peace Corps — WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of 282 college students has endorsed President Kennedy's Peace Corps but opposed loyalty oaths or FBI investigations of prospective members.

Most of the delegates to the National Conference on Youth Service (A-10), sponsored by the National Students Association, endorsed the proposal and said the corps should be kept out of the cold war.

A sharp split developed, however, on a resolution regarding a mandatory loyalty oath for the members. Friday, the last day of the three-day session.

Niles Editor Resigns — NILES (AP) — Dow W. Carlson, news editor of the Niles Daily Star, announced his resignation Friday to become editor of the Darien (Conn.) Review on April 17.

Dann was enjoined by U.S. District Judge Ralph M. Freeman yesterday from soliciting prexies and from voting those he already has solicited.

The judge upheld the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) of a showcause hearing and replaced a temporary restraining order issued last week with an injunction.

Judge Freeman said, however, that his order does not apply to any unsolicited proxies received by Dann.

The SEC charged that Dann had not received commission clearance of a communication he mailed to stockholders. Both the judge and the commission emphasized that Dann was accused only of not following SEC rules.

Stage Peace Walks Throughout World — Demonstrations for peace, disarmament and nuclear abandonment were staged throughout the world this Easter weekend by long marches and silent piquet vigils.

From Times Square to London, California to Iraq, Australia to South Africa, Pacific groups chose the Easter holidays to tell their message to the public.

Demonstrations were held in 37 nations, including Britain where the largest contingents — one 7,000 persons and the other 6,000 — staged "Ban the Bomb" marches on London. Coming from towns as far away as 54 miles, they were expected to reach Trafalgar Square Monday.

The dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the Elks Temple.

McFarland, who received his master of arts degree at Columbia University and doctor of philosophy degree at Stanford University, also has served as education committee chairman for the American Trucking Association.

For 24 years he served as a Kansas school executive and achieved a nationwide reputation in that field. He designed and built the McFarland Trade School at Coffeyville, Kan., which was named in his honor.

It was while superintendent of schools of Topeka that McFarland joined General Motors, about 10 years ago.

Critchfield said the citizens committee meeting program will include a presentation of facts leading up to the expansion program and the architect's conception of a proposed new addition to the building at 131 Mt. Clemens St.

59 U.S. H-Bomb Missiles Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States now has 59 missiles with hydrogen bomb warheads ready, it needed to hurt against targets in an enemy country.

The nation's combat-ready missile force soon will reach 91.

These include the 5,500-mile Atlas ICBM, equal to more than two million tons of TNT, and the submarine-fired Polaris with a 1,200-mile range and warheads equal to 400,000 tons of TNT.

By way of comparison, the World War II atom bomb which wrecked Hiroshima was rated at 20,000 tons of TNT.

COMPARISON SECRET — How U.S. missile strength stacks up against that of the Soviet Union is kept secret, but President Kennedy said in his budget message to Congress this week that "it has been publicly acknowledged for several years that this nation has not led the world in missile strength."

The latest missiles to go on the line were nine Atlases in three launching bases near Offutt Air Force Base at Omaha, Neb.

The Day in Birmingham

Church Teens to Assist in Detroit Area Projects

BIRMINGHAM — Since 1955 teenage members of the Congregational Church of Birmingham have taken trips to New York, Chicago and Cleveland to assist in needy church projects in those cities.

Tonorrow another group leaves on its annual Pilgrim Fellowship spring trip. This time their destination is downtown Detroit.

"We are even more enthusiastic about Detroit than we were about other cities considered, for we realize that the slums in our own area are certainly as needy as those in New York or Chicago," said Jude Burns, president of the church's Pilgrim Fellowship.

The current project will be held in cooperation with Plymouth Congregational Church, 514 Garfield Ave. Working alongside the young people of the host church, the Birmingham group will assist in the

Burglars Open Auto Club Safe

$10,000 in Checks, Cash Taken in Break-in in Birmingham

The second attempt in two years to crack a safe at the Automobile Club of Michigan Branch Office, 275 S. Hunter Blvd., Birmingham, resulted in more than $10,000 in checks and cash.

Birmingham Police said an unsuccessful attempt had been made on the safe about two years ago. Yesterday morning, officers promptly arrived at work to find the safe open with a torch and more than $10,000 gone.

Police said approximately $2,770 was in American Express Traveler's Checks. An undetermined amount in Detroit Auto Club payroll checks was also taken.

"So far we find that $554 cash was taken," said Detective Merrill Helms. "There is still $1,485 in checks and cash that haven't been separated."

Entry was gained by breaking a side window near the rear.

Jail 50 Cubans in Easter March

70,000 Turn Out for Procession and Shout Anti-Russian Chant

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI) — Police arrested 50 persons taking part in a Roman Catholic Easter procession early today and took them to jail as they shouted "Cuba Si, Russia No!" and "Long Live Christ the King."

The Fidel Castro government gave no permits this year for traditional religious processions. But a record 70,000 persons turned out for the Good Friday march last night from the Church of Our Lady of Charity.

The procession was harassed by a band of six young toughs. The procession was disbanding when two police cars arrived at the church, placed the 50 persons aboard a city bus and took them to the 100th Precinct Station where they were held without charges.

It was the second major outbreak of the sacred holiday. Yesterday afternoon a band of unidentified persons fired submachine guns while a crowd of 5,000 Catholics were attending the annual Passion Play enactment in nearby Guadalupe. Authorities blamed anti-Castro terrorists.

NEVER MISSED A DAY — The keys to a new Tempest were presented Friday to Eliza-beth St. Bernard, 138 Lincoln St., retiring club bookkeeper at M. A. Benson Lumber Co., Inc. by M. A. Benson Jr., president (left). One reason for the gift is that in 38 years with the Benson firm, Miss St. Bernard never missed a day's work because of illness. Now's the time, she said, to take it easy for a while. Looking on (right) is John A. Benson. The keys were attached to the goodluck Easter bunny that Miss St. Bernard is holding.

OKs $1 Million to GM Jobless

Appeal Board Grants Money to Flint Men Idled by Ohio Strike

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Employment Security Commission's Appeal Board has approved payment of about $1 million in unemployment compensation to some 4,700 General Motors workers in the Flint area.

A ruling by Wesleyan Voigt, an MESC referee, that the workers were entitled to jobs pay for lost time during an eight-day strike at the GM plant in Mansfield, Ohio, in 1957 was upheld Friday by the board.

The ruling was based on Michigan Supreme Court decision two years ago pertaining to a 1953 strike at Ford Motor Co. plant in Canton, Ohio.

The court ruled favorable on a MESC compensation case, saying strike in a unit of a multipoint operation should not disqualify workers not on strike at company plants elsewhere but idled due to the walkout.

The GM case was filed on behalf of Robert H. Simion and Donald R. Sorenson, Flint workers who were idled during the Mansfield strike. The appeal board's decision effects about 1,500 employees of GM's Fisher Body Plant No. 1 and 3,500 workers at the Buick Motor Division plant, both in Flint.

Home of 50 Years Consumed in Fire

A little, elderly Rochester lady was forced by flame and smoke to abandon her home of 50 years early this morning.

It was 50 years ago that Mrs. Edna Wing, then a bride, walked through the front door of a two-story frame home at 132 Griggs St.

Today, Mrs. Wing, now 74, stood in the door again, watching a half-century of dreams go up in smoke in the crisp morning air.

Rochester firemen said they had to force her to leave the house. She wanted to go back in and "get a few things."

Firemen got the call at 5:58 and battling the blaze for 1½ hours until bringing it under control.

Mrs. Wing, a widow, lived alone. She was sleeping in a bedroom on the main floor when suddenly awakened.

"I smelled smoke. It was coming from the basement, up through the heat ducts," she told firemen. "I tried to go downstairs but it was filled with smoke. I tried to put it out, I tried.

NEARLY TOTAL LOSS — Asst. Fire Chief Lyle Buchanan said Mrs. Wing had attempted frantically to put out the blaze by pouring wash basins full of water down the ducts.

The fire swept through the living room floor and between walls to the second floor. The home was nearly total loss. Rough estimates placed damages between $5,000 and $10,000.

Firemen believe the blaze was caused by either a defective light switch or wiring on the oil furnace.

Neighbors pitched in and immediately helped the aid of Mrs. Wing.

"After all," said one, "she's been here ever since the neighborhood existed."

"She lived next door with her family until she married."

Dann was enjoined by U.S. District Judge Ralph M. Freeman yesterday from soliciting prexies and from voting those he already has solicited.

New Models on Display for First Time at NY Auto Show

Pontiac Motor Division's uniquely new Tempest series has been expanded to include two smartly styled two-door coupes that are scheduled to appear in Pontiac dealer showrooms during the latter part of April. It was announced today by S. E. Knudson, GM vice president and general manager of the Division.

The new models were displayed for the first time today at the International Auto Show in the New York Coliseum. The nation's largest automobile exhibit will continue until April 9, with over 60 models representing some 30 makes from 18 nations on display.

One of the new coupes to be introduced will have front bucket seats and custom interior trim as standard. This model will have full carpeting on front and rear floor areas.

The other Tempest coupe will have conventional split back, bench-type front seats and standard interior and exterior appointments. Both will measure 64 inches less, in overall height than the Tempest four-door sedan announced last fall.

Their two-door styling gives the new coupes a distinctive sports car appearance. As with other Tempest models, exterior decor trim options may be selected by the customer.

An elderly Pontiac man was killed instantly this morning when struck by a Grand Trunk Western Railroad commuter train bound for Detroit from Durand.

Police identified the traffic victim as William H. Spohn, 84, 238 Ferry St.

Spohn was hit by the train at the Saginaw Street crossing at Wilson Street. He was walking west across Saginaw.

There are no guard rails at the crossing. Witnesses told police that Spohn apparently did not hear the warning bells or notice the blinder signals as he crossed.

The train proceeded on to Detroit after police took a statement from the engineer, Henry W. Sr. of Warren.

The accident occurred at 7:30 a.m. Spohn's body was taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

Nature Cuts Loose

April Showers... and How!

By United Press-International
Tornadoes raked Alabama and Georgia. Iowa's second largest city survived its worst flood threat, barely. More than a foot of snow was heaped on the dry Southwest.

March went out like a lion. April took over. Snow, sleet, freezing rain, heavy thundershowers and drizzle marked the beginning of the first full month of spring.

The federal government made flood-stricken eastern Iowa a disaster area today.

Most of the messy weather was concentrated around the lower Great Lakes, in the Ohio Valley and through Pennsylvania and New York State early today. Philadelphia, Pa., was blanketed with three inches of wet snow to a six-hour period during the night.

Reply to British Proposal

Soviets Ask for Talks on Laos

JFK and Rusk Get Summary of Reds' Reply

U.S. Envoy Called in by Kremlin for a Talk on Laotian Situation

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk today received a summary of the Soviet government's reply to British proposals for a cease-fire in Communist-threatened Laos.

"They do not have the actual text of the reply yet but are receiving a synopsis of it," White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said as Kennedy and Rusk were about to begin a conference here on the Laos crisis.

Rusk told reporters that the note largely concerned American Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson's talk at the Kremlin early today with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The Soviet reply to the British bid for a cease-fire was handed in Moscow today to Britain's ambassador, Sir Frank Roberts.

HEAR FROM THOMPSON
Salinger said Kennedy and Rusk were getting a summary from Thompson on the Soviet reply to the British.

The summary was relayed to Rusk by the State Department in Washington. Rusk flew to the President's vacation headquarters from the capital Friday night.

Rusk got his first word that the Russians had replied from an Associated Press reporter here at 2:30 a.m. EST, shortly after delivery of the note to the British ambassador had been announced in Moscow.

KEEP NOTE QUIET
Kennedy at that hour presumably had not received any word regarding the reply either, since the usual diplomatic procedure would be for the British to get in touch with Rusk.

Kidnapers' Target?

UNDER HEAVY GUARD — While United States Security Agents investigate reports that a group of pro-Castro Cubans have been plotting to kidnap Caroline Kennedy, the 3-year-old daughter of the President sits under a tightened guard at the Palm Beach, Fla., home of her grandparents.

Eye Cubans in 'Plot' on Kennedy Family

PALM BEACH (AP)—Pro-Castro Cubans under surveillance in a reported plot to kidnap President Kennedy's small daughter are also suspected of planning to wipe out the President's entire family, an informed source said today.

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Secret Service agents were reported to have under surveillance today a group of pro-Castro Cubans suspected of plotting to kidnap President Kennedy's bubbling little daughter.

Caroline Kennedy, 3, is under tightened security guard at the Atlantic shore home of her grandparents.

She is spending an Easter holiday here with her mother and father, the President and Mrs. Kennedy.

The hunted Cubans — four of them, it is understood — are described by a well informed source as "pro-Castro and anti-Kennedy."

He added that the Cubans had been located in the Palm Beach area, but that — as of late Friday night — "There isn't enough evidence at this point for an arrest."

Red Paratroopers Open Major Drive in Country

VIENTIANE (UPI)—Communist North Viet Nam paratroopers dropped from Soviet transport planes were reported today to have opened a major offensive in Central Laos.

Defense ministry sources said the invading Communists had captured Thon, a key government post 85 miles northeast of Vientiane, in a major breakthrough.

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union replied today to a British proposal for an immediate cease fire in Laos by calling for international negotiations, the official government newspaper Izvestia reported.

Izvestia did not mention a cease fire.

Russia delivered its reply to the British ambassador. Shortly afterwards the official afternoon newspaper said the reply called for an international conference and reactivation of the three-power control commission to solve the crisis.

Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev called in U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson for an hour and a half discussion of the Laotian crisis. But no details were forthcoming.

"The problem of Laos which has darkened the international horizon can and should be solved by peaceful negotiations," Izvestia said.

"It is, of course, assumed that for this it is necessary to have the agreement of all the interested parties in order to reach the necessary decision of mutually accepted principles."

REPLY EXPECTED
"Precisely for this reason," the Soviet Union has proposed the convocation of an international conference and a resumption of the work of the commission on Laos," Izvestia said.

The reply was much the same as that expected by observers — general acceptance of the American-backed British proposal but possible insistence on negotiations before a cease fire is achieved.

Both British and American diplomats had expressed some optimism on the Soviet position in belief any move toward a settlement of Laos was a major first step.

A Peiping broadcast declared that the first step towards settling the Laotian crisis must be "the convocation of an enlarged Geneva Conference."

A cease fire could only come, the Reds declared, after "the withdrawal of all troops and arms of the United States and its vassal countries," an end to American insistence that "the SEATO countries" for possible action in Laos and a number of other conditions.

The Peiping declaration amounted to flat rejection of British and American insistence that a cease fire must precede any negotiations on the Laotian situation.

LIKE CONFAB PLAN
The Red radio said the 14-nation conference proposed by Cambodian Prince Norodom Sihanouk "constitutes the only way to a peaceful solution of the Laotian question."

The radio quoted an editorial in the Communist "People's Daily" on the resolution adopted earlier this week by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) council in Bangkok.

The Communist conditions for a cease fire included demands that the United States:

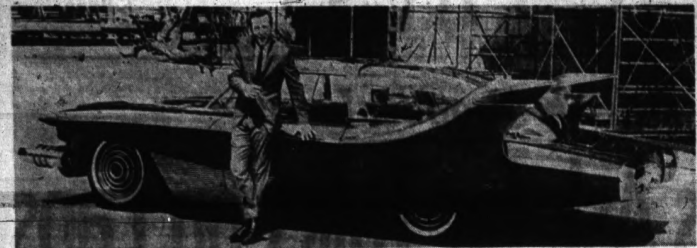

"Must first of all respect the Geneva agreements... — Stop brandishing the 'brinkmanship' policy... — Bring an end to all its activities to muster the SEATO countries and use (Nationalist Chinese) bandits... to expand the Laotian war."

Easter Sunday will dawn fair to partly cloudy with temperatures rather cold, the weatherman says. Tonight's low will drop to 25.

Tomorrow's high will register near 40 with temperatures warming up a little Monday and skies fair.

North to northwest morning winds at 15 to 25 miles per hour will diminish tonight and become variable at 9 to 15 m.p.h. Sunday. Twenty-three was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 37 at 2 p.m.

American Composer Is Badly Injured

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wallington Riegger, 75, the dean of American classical composers, was in critical condition today following a freak street accident involving a dog. Riegger, who underwent brain surgery Friday in Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center was waiting to catch a bus Thursday when two dogs which were being exercised started fighting. His daughter Miss Ruth Riegger, said, "A leash caught in his leg and he fell to the pavement, she said.

In yesterday's Pontiac Press we stated in an ad:
"White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz Opposed It" . . . Referring to Northwestern Highway
This was based upon a news story in the Milford Times, November 2, 1960, in which Mr. Cheyz did oppose the right-of-way which would cut through the Highland Recreation Area. We interpreted this to mean he was opposed to Northwestern Highway running through White Lake Township.

Expect 1.5 Million at Polls Monday
State Candidates Enter Home Stretch

LANSING (UPI)—A final burst of activity today occupied most candidates for office in Monday's election.
Democrats, aided by Gov. John B. Swainson, concentrated on the vote-heavy Detroit area while Republicans said they were winning up their statewide campaign "with a feeling of confidence and optimism."

Virtually all campaign activity will cease tomorrow in deference to the religious holiday.
An estimated 1.5-million Michigan voters are expected to cast their ballots Monday for two Supreme Court justices, a highway commissioner, superintendent of public instruction and seven members of various governing boards of higher education institutions.

Perhaps two of the most important votes which will be cast are on a pair of proposals on the ballot.
One vote will determine whether the state will have a constitutional convention this fall, and approval of the other would give the legislature permission to set up a fund to loan money for industrial development projects.

Seven incumbents are seeking re-election in the 11 races on the ballot Monday.
They are Democratic Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie; Sup't of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett, also a Democrat; Michigan State University Trustee C. Allen Harlan and Dr. Connor D. Smith; Dr. De Witt T. Burton, member of the Wayne State University Board of Governors, and Supreme Court Chief Justice John R. Dethmers and Justice Harry Kelly.

Candidates for the high court posts are nominated by the parties but run on a nonpartisan ballot.
Republican incumbents on the University of Michigan Board of Regents did not seek re-election. A GOP member of the State Board of Education also stepped down, and one Democrat decided not to try for another term.

Say Brendan Behan on Road to Recovery

TORONTO (UPI)—Irish playwright Brendan Behan appeared on the road to recovery today undergoing treatment for two alcoholic seizures, according to his friends.
However the staff of the Sunny-side Alcoholic Center said the Irish playwright's condition was "unchanged."
The unusually subdued Irishman spent most of Friday sleeping. His street car inspector-philosopher friend Eamonn Martin told United Press International "Brendan's a weak man, still quite ill, but well out of danger."

other term on the Wayne State Board.
Opposing Mackie is Charles R. Bedwell, Ford Motor Co. engineer from Harper Woods.
Bartlett faces Hugh H. Holloway, Sault Ste. Marie superintendent of schools, for the second time. Bartlett won over Holloway in 1959.
Republican hopefuls for the MSU Board are John S. Pingel and Fred England Jr. The Democrats seeking seats on the Supreme Court are Ernest C. Boehm and James H. McLaughlin.
Burton and another Democrat, Ralph E. Richman, are opposed for the Wayne State posts by Charles E. Briske and Thomas B. Adams.
Running for the U. of M. Board of Regents are Republicans Paul G. Goebel and James C. Zeder, and Democrats Theodore Sachs and Allan Sorenson.
Candidates for the State Board of Education are Charles A. Rogers, Republican, and Frank Hartman, Democrat.

Wild Chase Ends With Capture of Youth in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—A bullet-splattered chase through the city's East Side early today ended with one 16-year-old in custody and police searching for another.
The chase started when the youth stole a taxi cab and headed north on Woodward. Moments later they were spotted by a police car and the wild pursuit was on.

Explores 'Divine Destiny'

Woman Has Message for All

Nearly 350 women attended the Good Friday breakfast at First Congregational Church, sponsored by Women's Fellowship members. Among area women present for the traditional observance were (from left) Mrs. Carl Leonard of Elsinore Drive, general chairman; Mrs. Glenn Griffin, Ogemaw Road; Mrs. Sidney Olson of Spence Street, Fellowship president; and Mrs. Wilbur Ott of Oakshire Street, decorations co-chairman.

By MARGARET BROWN

There was a personal message for each of the nearly 350 women who attended First Congregational Church's traditional Good Friday breakfast.

"Divine Destiny" was the subject reverently and penetratingly explored by Mrs. Walter Teeuwissen Jr., guest speaker. Mrs. Teeuwissen's husband is pastor of the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church.

"We're certainly an ecumenical gathering today," remarked Mrs. Teeuwissen. "I see a staunch Baptist, a good Methodist and a fine Presbyterian in our midst, but we all can be one in Christ."

"Each of us has a destiny," was Mrs. Teeuwissen's opening statement. "So often we go about the process of living never pondering. 'Why am I here?' or 'Who am I?'"

"Christ knew who and why He was, and even so we, as His followers, may recognize our destiny," she continued.

AWARENESS OF SELF

To realize "Divine Destiny" Mrs. Teeuwissen deemed it necessary that one possess an awareness of self or "self-consciousness" and a sense of his own uniqueness.

"Why am I here?" she repeated. "Because God has a task and you (because you are unique) are the only one in all the world who can do it."

Laughter filled the room at her humorous interjection, "There's only one me, and I'm him!"

Mrs. Teeuwissen spoke of reading the scriptures, commenting, "Jesus knew fulfilling God's will was His purpose, and we can't read very far in the Bible without understanding His will for us."

EVIL FOR GOOD

"We come to know His best through life's hard places," she continued. "Even what seems deliberate unkindness on the part of others may be His will." She told of Joseph's words to his brothers, "You thought evil against me, but God meant it for good."

Concluding, Mrs. Teeuwissen told the group, "Though we never may say of our misdeeds on earth, 'It is finished,' as did Christ—the challenge of His finished work can help us try harder to fulfill the purpose He has for us."

Pontiac Central High School's Senior Girls Ensemble, directed by Jerry Libby, opened the program with three moving selections, concluding a capella with the beloved spiritual "Were You There?"

Mrs. D. R. Wilson was honorary chairman for the breakfast, served by Women's Fellowship members.

Hostesses were Mrs. Solomon Kline, Mrs. L. C. Barner, Mrs. Edgar Thomsen, Mrs. William Miller and Mrs. Ross Toney.

Others participating in the program were Mrs. Howard Clegg Jr., Mrs. Sidney Olson, Mrs. George Gaches and Mrs. Malcolm K. Burton.

Mrs. Carl Leonard was general chairman. Committee heads were Mrs. Gaches, program; Mrs. Dora Dawson, music; Mrs. James Absher, food; Margaret Steward, dining room; Mrs. Wilbur Ott and Mrs. Phillip Yierbeck, decorations.

Mrs. Oscar Lundbeck, publicist; and Mrs. Dale Moats, tickets.

Two original poems were read during Mrs. Teeuwissen's talk: "I Wouldn't Go Back" and "The End of the Road." The Cross, with the emphatic closing message, "The cross has things to say to those who have ears to listen."

Dora Dawson of South Tilden Avenue and Mrs. George Gaches of Moreland Avenue, music and program, respectively; and Mrs. Howard Clegg Jr. of Pontiac Drive who offered the invocation.

Abby Says: It's Too Late

Milkmen Don't Collect Tears but Sometimes It'd Be Fun

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been a milkman for over 30 years. All he has ever been able to talk about is the women on his route. He says he knows more about some of them than their husbands do.

He's the kind of person women like to sit down with and tell their troubles to. When other milkmen have been home for hours, my husband is still out listening to those mixed-up women. He says it is all in a day's work and I should be more understanding. I'd like your views.

NOT UNDERSTANDING DEAR NOT: Clergymen and marriage counselors do not deliver milk by the quart, and milkmen shouldn't be collecting tears by the bucket.

But if this has been going on for over 30 years, it's too late to change him.

DEAR ABBY: My 14-year-old boy came home from the barber shop with a Mohawk. His head was shaved all over except for a strip in the center. Now I have had it! I put up with the DA, the Swan, the Swirl and the Bull, but this is too much. Don't you think a barber should have a note from the mother before going ahead with those foolish haircuts? I ought to make my boy wear a stocking cap until this grows out.

DISGRACED DEAR DISGRACED: Don't blame the barber. He was only following your son's instructions. If you can't rely on your boy's judgment, send a note with him, call the barber in advance, or go along and supervise.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I became a widow but I would still like my mail addressed MRS. H. W. SMITH (not my real name). I have been told that I should drop my husband's initials and use my own. Why? I still feel proud of my husband's name and want to continue to use it. Even the recipient at the doctor's office corrected me and said in the future I should use MRS. MARY SMITH. I want to do the correct thing. What is it?

CONFUSED WIDOW DEAR CONFUSED: You may continue to use your husband's name. He is STILL MRS. H. W. SMITH.

DEAR ABBY: We have a girl in our room at school (8th grade) who has all the boys after her, but she is getting a bad reputation. She wears her hair in a pony tail and we have told her that she will be bald-headed before she gets to high school because that style makes your hair fall out if you keep it that way long enough. Also, she rolls up her skirts at the waist to make them shorter, and we could mention other things, too, if we wanted to beatty. How can we let her know she is losing friends without giving her the idea we are jealous?

NOT JEALOUS DEAR NOT JEALOUS: Tell her to watch for Dear Abby.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply from Abby, send a self-addressed envelope to ABBY, Box 326, Beverly Hills, Calif.

International Costumes Modeled at Card Party

Sylvan Lake Branch, Women's National Farm and Garden Association, chose an international friendship theme for the card party and costume showing Thursday evening at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Mrs. Raymond Hysse explained native costumes worn by several of the 125 women present.

A native of Ecuador, Mrs. Charles S. Chandler, wore a plain black dress with gold cross and chain with a lace mantle.

Mrs. Walter Lange's handwoven striped woolen peasant dress with linen blouse was typically Estonian.

Mrs. J. A. Rammes wore sleeveless dark red linen embroidered, in white brought from Greece.

Mrs. Ida R. Reeves appeared in a beflowered Hawaiian muumuu. An exotic embroidered shawl, gown and slippers from India were modeled by Mrs. Ray V. Howard.

An embroidered and beaded Norwegian costume from the Hardanger region worn by red cap and red stockings.

A copy of the dress worn by Rebecca at the well, loaned by Mrs. Allen Hersey, was worn by Mrs. Donald Ringler of Drayton Plains.

Stabafas All Agog Over Fashion Fling

Stabafa Club has embarked on plans for what they believe is the first "All-Ten Fashion Show" in the area. Pontiac committee members met Thursday in the Pioneer Drive home of sponsor Mrs. R. L. Bronson. Committee chairman Nancy Ward and her helpers set up a production line for the art work that will publicize the club's "Fashion Fling" to be held May 12 at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

A ticket sales contest for the show will be conducted among ninth and tenth graders. Monica Calhoun is ninth grade sales chairman, and Sandy Shapiro is 10th grade of tenth grade sales. Losers in the contest will stage a party for the winners. A gift certificate will be awarded the girl selling the most tickets.

Guest speakers at the group's Tuesday meeting were Mrs. Douglas Drury of LaPeer, teacher at Will-O-Way Modeling School, and Mrs. William W. Merrill, dramatics teacher.

Mrs. Drury explained the essentials of good modeling, poise and stature, and demonstrated how to walk and turn on stage.

She told of professional models' characteristics and job opportunities.

Tickets for the "Fashion Fling" may be purchased from any Stabafa member. Former club members will be honored at the event.

In His Resurrection We Find Hope for Eternal Salvation

(In keeping with our policy of running current editorials from time to time, our Easter message has been written by Rev. Loyal H. Howison, pastor of First Free Methodist Church.)

By REV. Loyal H. HOWISON

The crucifixion of Jesus seemed to have been a triumph of the forces of darkness over light; of sin over righteousness; of Satan over God. Jesus had dared to oppose hypocrisy and greed in high places, and, as the encircling web of a spider closes in on a hapless victim, so the threads of intrigue closed in on the Christ. The cry of the mob, "Crucify Him! Crucify Him!" was inspired by men behind the scenes who had been reproved by the Christ; by men who had felt the influence of the Man of Galilee and the sting of His rebuke.

There seemed to have been no thought of reformation in the minds of the guilty. The passion that possessed them wholly was to do away with the one who dared to interfere with their way of life and lessen the flow of their ill-gotten gain. There was no concern with the fact that Jesus was the benefactor of mankind. Their sole ambition was to destroy him.

How little men have changed during the past two thousand years. Evil still would influence the call to righteousness; selfishness continue to rule the hearts of men. Rather than reform, men try to silence the reformer. Evil does not like any disturbing voice, and evil men prefer to be left alone to prey on society.

As the crucifixion of Jesus came to a climax and death claimed its victim, the forces of evil gloated in exultation. "Now the Voice of Conscience is dead; now we may continue in graft and greed unchecked."

Imagine the consternation as news

Retraining of Workers Concerns Both Sides

Job security in the face of automation is the subject of collective bargaining all over the country. Industrial progress brings dislocations.

In a recent conference at the University of Tennessee, JOSEPH A. BENNETT, president of the Communications Workers of America, called on employers to offer transfers and retraining.

What is of equal importance, he asked the worker to "shake himself loose of traditional concepts of immobility both geographically and with respect to job content" and to be willing and eager to accept job training.

An interesting test of retraining for new jobs is being given a trial in Oklahoma City where a meat packing plant transferred its operations to modern highly automated plants elsewhere. As a result some 300 employees lost their jobs.

Under an agreement between the company and union, a pilot retraining program was set up. As reported in the Wall Street Journal, far fewer workers than expected took advantage of it. Two out of three found jobs for themselves and only one-sixth, that is 50, enrolled for courses, many of whom already have found work in a wide variety of new jobs.

This is a small but hopeful beginning. It shows that the company is as much concerned over worker displacement as is the union.

of the resurrection of Jesus filtered back from the empty tomb, "He who was dead is alive forevermore." The cross did not silence the voice of God to men. It but opened the door for his eternal salvation.

While it is true that evil continues, yet there is promise of forgiveness for the evil doer, because of Calvary. If he will truly repent of his sins and seek that forgiveness. Not only is there hope in this life, but there is hope of eternal life in the world to come. As we celebrate another glad Easter, we rejoice in that hope.

The Man About Town

'The Arson Squad'

Title Is Applied to the Starters of Grass Fires

April Fool's Day: An event not longer observed, because most people who made fools of themselves by trying to be smart that day no longer are with us.

Several more requests have been received to run a further reminder about the danger of starting grass fires. The most unique came from of Drayton Plains, who calls such persons "members of the arson squad."

Starting a few years ago with a damp "angel worm nest" near the compost pile in his garden,

Jack Melmont of Waterford attracted only a few robins, but now they come in droves for the easy pulling, and fight over the fat worms.

One week from today is the final date for receiving entries in our baseball contest. Are you going to let that $20 get away from you?

First rattlesnake of the year is reported by Mrs. Millicent Orents of Drayton Plains, whose 10-year-old son caught it near the Clinton River. It is 18 inches long and has six rattles. He has it in a glass can and wants to sell it. Any bidders?

With these deals under way before the Michigan Legislature to have our State take over Detroit's Ambassador Bridge and Windsor Tunnel, both financial failures, the keen Berkley Overmeier of Bloomfield Hills, promises that everybody should watch how effective the lobbyists at Lansing can be in helping to make our State financially worse.

When pitching horseshoes in his yard 20 years ago,

Jack Michener of Birmingham tossed one into the crotch of a maple tree about 10 feet above the ground. The tree was recently cut down, and the shoe found, embedded four inches inside its bark.

Just as reliable as the Capistrano swallows are a pair of robins who arrive at the home at Lake Orion about the same day every spring. One of them has only one foot.

Thanks for the clipping from an anonymous source, that says on in a small Minnesota town in 1889 bought an unclaimed shipment of watches at a bargain, and started to sell them. A few needed repairs, so he took a jeweler, into partnership. And you know the rest.

Alvin C. Roebuck,

It has come to my attention that of 694 Emerson St., Pontiac, has won first place in the apprentice pattern makers' contest for the fourth successive year.

It is sponsored for Detroit and vicinity by the American Foundrymen's Society, Mr. Arnold works at a Southfield plant.

After a visit to Hamburg, Germany, of Bloomfield Hills says that devastated city has been rebuilt into the finest in the world, with every modern pesthouse facility. And it had a war casualty that has not been allowed to return — "the lake box."

Harmen Gilworth

Days of All Faiths:

Resurrection Is Historical Fact

By DR. HOWARD V. HARTPFF

Many people have found it difficult, if not impossible, to believe that a man could die, spend 40 hours in a tomb, and then come back to life. This is what Easter stands for — not symbolically, but literally and without reservation. Christianity asserts that the bodily resurrection of Jesus is a historical fact.

This is not to say that Easter does not also have its symbolic meanings. One point it makes vividly is that Christianity is a religion about God's limitless love for man, a love so indestructible that He comes back even after men have rejected and reviled and crucified Him.

But the real issue at Easter is the resurrection event itself, and although it does strain the imagination, there is no getting around the fact that the New Testament writers make more than 100 references to it as accepted history. They don't talk about whether it could happen or not. They just assume that everyone knows it did happen.

The circumstantial evidence is also convincing. The little band of Christians who preached the Resurrection brought about the greatest single upheaval in the history of mankind. If Jesus did not actually rise, then we have only two choices as to what to think of those people: either they were the victims of a mass hallucination or they were promoters of a tremendous deception. Neither of these descriptions fits the fearless little group who "turned the world upside down."

There is no command in the New Testament that Christians should commemorate the Resurrection. Paul makes it appear that it is only Christ's death which is to be remembered — Good Friday rather than Easter. The reason for this is that the first Christians were Jews, steeped in the Jewish sacrificial system. It was natural that they should at first think that the sacrifice on Good Friday should hold greater importance in their minds than the Resurrection. It took a generation or two to straighten out the comparative values.

CHRISTIANITY'S BIGGEST DAY: Easter is the biggest day in the Christian calendar as far as crowds and special events are concerned. In most churches today there will be extra services to commemorate the people who never appear on any other Sunday.

The mails this past week have been full of greeting cards in a volume second only to Christmas. There will be sunrise services in parks and on mountaintops. There will be thousands of pilgrims in the city of Jerusalem.

All of this has some religious significance. But there will be other events that have no devotional characteristics at all. The style parade on Fifth Avenue in New York City has about as much to do with the Lord's Resurrection as a Christmas office party has to do with His birth.

Children everywhere will find candy or colored eggs in baskets supposedly put there for them by the "Easter Bunny."

At the White House and at other important places there will be an "egg rolling" for the children.

What have rabbits, eggs, and women's hats to do with Lord's return from the tomb? Absolutely nothing. They may be fun and glamorous and interesting, but they are connected only with the pagan celebration of the beginning of Spring. Join them happily if you will, but do not be deceived into thinking you are observing Easter.

You Can't Absorb Anything Through Unbroken Skin

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

Someone told me a person can put on weight from absorbing grease, fat or oil through the skin. (M. T.)

Ans. — Neither grease, oil, fat, food, medicine, water, poison, iodine, gasoline, silver/mercury, nor any other substance can be absorbed through unbroken skin.

At first I thought your advice to take witch hazel and walk briskly and ride an imaginary bicycle upside down was silly — I had always avoided walking as much as I could — but I know better now. My badly swollen veins have essentially disappeared. (M. L. G.)

Ans. — Brisk walking gets the stagnant blood out of the veins. Sitting, riding, lackadaisical walking or standing favors accumulation of blood in the veins. Send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the free pamphlet "Varicose Veins and Varicose Ulcer."

I am 21 and very unhappy, because I haven't even a sign of a beard. (W. K. F.)

Ans. — It has no significance in itself. Why take it so seriously?

I have a job as gas cutter and burner in a navy yard, cutting galvanized iron with an oxyacetylene torch. The fumes make me sick, my chest aches and breathing is difficult. I have chills like the gripe and am sick at the stomach. (F. A. W.)

Ans. — Brass founders' lungs are due chiefly to acid fumes. Poor ventilation of the workshop is of course a factor. You should either have a change of work or vacation — or quit the job.

My husband eats raw onion every night at dinner because he likes it. Friends say it will ulcer his stomach. (A. A. F.)

Ans. — It is perfectly healthful for any one that likes it.

My husband has spells of extremely rapid heart action, lasting from a minute or so to half an hour. What causes it? All we can get from physicians is that it is just nerves and not dangerous. It is called "paroxysmal tachycardia." (M. S. H.)

Ans. — A paroxysm is a sudden fit, spasm, convulsion, attack, spell of something or other. "Tachy" means speed; "cardia" means heart. That's all I know about the trouble. Some readers report that belly breathing brings prompt relief. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for free booklet "Belly Breathing."

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal and medical problems, diagnosis, or treatment, will be listed by Dr. William Brady, if stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright 1961)

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Speak Correctly Before Children

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE H-448: Claude M., aged 55, is a college professor of English. "Dr. Crane, I am really shocked at the poor English employed by high school graduates."

I formed me at a university lunch-noon not long ago. Perhaps I shouldn't criticize, however, for even our college graduates often are careless in their language. They go back to their home communities and soon tend to drop back to the level of their associates.

"But high school graduates have been in school for 12 years. They should be reasonably familiar with their mother tongue by that time, don't you think?"

"Yet many of them cannot even spell correctly! And they have little knowledge of grammatical rules."

"In fact, unless they have studied Latin, they seem to absorb relatively little regarding correct usage of the subject versus the objective case."

"Dr. Crane, I grow discouraged at times. How can we improve the spoken English of our people?"

HOME TUTORS: If all parents were to speak correctly before their children in the home, the latter would then use perfect English when they entered the kindergarten.

You adults, therefore, should realize the critical need for good English in your daily conversation around the house.

I am not advocating elegant style or highbrow speech or polysyllabic "jawbreaker" words.

On the contrary, it is better to use simple, short words. But

School Cafeteria Worker Says Children Wasteful

Do parents of school children realize the bulk of the lunch they pack in throw-aways? The school garbage pails are full of milk, sandwiches, fruit, pies and cake. The candy bars, potato chips, pretzels, etc., are eaten.

At least 50 per cent of these fortunate children who are able to buy their lunches throw away the complete meal, 25 per cent throw away a portion and a wonderful 25 per cent eat the complete meal.

Some children even throw away ice cream. If you feel I have exaggerated this situation, the school doors are always open. Visit our lunchroom at meal time.

Destructive Dogs Killed Rabbits

There should be a stronger enforcement of the law to see that people keep dogs from running loose. What good are they but to destroy other people's property? If people love their dogs, why don't they keep them honest?

We bought rabbits for our children for Easter and a pack of dogs killed the mother rabbit and her six babies. We thought we had a safe hatch but a pack of dogs can be most destructive.

Dept. of Agriculture Answers Inquiry

Here is a letter I received from G. S. McIntyre, director, Michigan Department of Agriculture: "Governor Romney forwarded your letter regarding damage to birds by spray programs, along with a newspaper article discussing the bulletin issued by Cranbrook Institute of Science."

"The people who are responsible for the control of Dutch elm disease are as much concerned about the possible damage to wild life and robins as all who have expressed concern."

"In 1951 members of the department organized a committee composed of faculty members from MSU city foresters and others to review the Dutch elm disease spray program and developed a set of recommendations which are now followed by municipalities carrying such programs."

Dr. George Wallace, one of the authors of Cranbrook Institute of Science Publication, was a member. On page 40 of the Institute Report are conclusions and recommendations and they are the same as the same made by the committee. These recommendations are being followed in Dutch elm disease control programs.

"I hope this will alleviate some of your concern." Mrs. A.H.R.

Leaf Coach Predicts Comeback

Wings to Lose Three Straight Says Imlach

Play-at-Toronto Tonight as Canadiens, Hawks Battle for Edge

By The Associated Press
The Toronto Maple Leafs are down and the Montreal Canadiens are hurting but neither team views the National Hockey League semifinal playoffs as a hopeless situation.

The Leafs, returning to their home ice tonight after losing three straight to the Detroit Red Wings, must win three in a row to stay alive in the playoffs.

The league champion Canadiens, seeking to win the Stanley Cup for the sixth straight year, are tied 2-2 with the Chicago Black Hawks in their best-of-seven series.

The Canadiens learned after their return to Montreal that they'll have to get along without Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion for tonight's fifth game and probably for all remaining playoff games.

Geoffrion, who scored 30 goals during the regular NHL season, injured a knee during a long overtime game in Chicago.

"We suspect cartilage trouble," said club physiotherapist Bill Head. "There was damage to the ligaments and Geoffrion responded to treatment for this. But he still is not right."

Several other Montreal players have been battered in the rugged series which former Canadian star Maurice Richard has called "the dirtiest I've ever seen." All of them worked out Friday and are expected to play.

Black Hawk Coach Rudy Pilous had an answer to the Rocket's charges: "What's he trying to do, start a one-man campaign to clean up the Hawks? Or is he trying to protect his brother, the little Rocket? Why, we haven't touched the Canadiens since the first game, when we were hitting with hard checks."

Pilous reported that Al McDonald will get into the series for the first time tonight, replacing Stan Mikita and Ken Wharram on a Hawk line. He has been hospitalized for an infection.

The Maple Leafs also are bothered by injuries, but Coach Punch Imlach maintains they'll make a comeback akin to that of the 1942 Leafs, who won four straight from Detroit in the Stanley Cup final after losing the first three games.

"We'll win not only Saturday's game, but the following one," Imlach said. "We'll wrap up this series before our own fans on Wednesday," he said after Kelly's workout.

The Leafs and left winger Bert Olmstead, two veterans who held the Leafs together for a second-place finish, are being hampered by leg injuries. Neiland was much help in Tuesday's game at Detroit and their condition is no better.

A victory tonight would put Detroit into the Stanley Cup finals. If Toronto wins, the teams will return to Detroit for the sixth game Sunday. The "Canadiens and Black Hawks" will play their sixth game in Chicago Tuesday.

Eighty booster teams completed yesterday's 128 and set action for before regular and classic divisions move onto the firing line tomorrow. Regular and classic bowlers have been idle because of the holy weekend.

Included in today's booster field will be four Rochester teams and the Pontiac Motor booster squad. Three Eagles groups and Teague Finance will represent Rochester at 7 p.m. The auto workers follow at 8:30.

Bunning's Hurling Pleases Scheffing

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Manager Bob Scheffing has said that the Detroit Tigers today—on April fooling.

For the first time this spring, he watched one of his pitchers turn in a route-going performance last night, beating Baltimore 5-1.

A pitcher hurling nine innings in one stretch wasn't the important part to Scheffing. Spring training is at the state where the Tiger starters should have their arms prepared to go the distance.

The big thing to Scheffing was that 21st in Bunning, suffering through a poor spring, was the pitcher going the route instead of getting routed.

Bunning did his best pitching, and became a candidate for the opening game assignment along with Don Mossi, as the Tigers crushed for 11 hits against the Orioles. True, the lanky right hander couldn't control his freedom in surrendering go-ahead balls, Ron Hansen and Jim Gentile touched Bunning for home runs. But Bunning was sharp except for those two losses.

The pennant-hopeful Orioles touched him for only six hits and is at the state where the Tiger starters should have their arms prepared to go the distance.

Two walks, singles by Al Kaline, Rocky Colavito, Dick Brown and Chico Fernandez plus Steve Boras' sacrifice fly produced four runs.

FISH'S EYE VIEW—A cameraman came up with these unusual photographs during the senior women's National Indoor Synchronized Swimming championships at Balboa Park in San Francisco yesterday. Shooting through a porthole situated three feet below the water's surface, he snapped from the left: Carol Tivnan of San Francisco, Sue Brakes of Lansing and Janice Baker of San Diego. All were participating in stunt competition.

A couple of ex-major league infielders, Billy Jurgens and Chaffey Gilbert, have been signed as scouts by the New York National League baseball club.

University of Detroit, Michigan State and Western Michigan will receive citations from the United States Basketball Writers Association for their press facilities and services.

Paul Seymour is the first to admit it. He is a scheduled 15-pounder at the Paret fight.

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Three years and 24 bouts after starting a pro ring career as a rather reluctant warrior, Emile Griffith gave a chance at the world welterweight title tonight, when he meets champion Benny (Kid) Paret in a scheduled 15-pounder at Convention Hall.

Although Paret is the 7-5 favorite, some observers believe Griffith's speed and cleverness will prevail.

The bout will be televised by ABC network starting at 10 p.m. Wednesday night at Los Angeles.

When the Hawks acquired the series 3-3 with a "must" 114-113 overtime victory, two nights earlier, he had already rescued the Hawks from defeat in the fifth game with a 25-point performance.

Swimmers Set 7 Records

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Too bad the Olympic Games aren't being held this year, say America's top swimming experts here for the National AAU Indoor Swimming Championships.

They feel so good mainly because of the awesome display of power so far in the three-day meet which ends tonight.

There have been seven races and seven American records, tops in a 25-yard (short course) pool. World records can be made only in a long course tank. The way things have been going, hardly anybody will be surprised if the current standards in the eight remaining tests survive after tonight's bombardment.

Six American marks were cracked Friday night in five races, two of them in the 400-yard freestyle relay won by the New Haven Swim Club's A-team and its leadoff star, Mike Austin of Rochester, N.Y.

The quartet of Austin, Jim Louthouse, Dave Taylor and Gary Ball finished in 2:10.5, one-tenth of a second under Southern California's record. Austin, a Yale freshman, paced the exciting triumph with 47.7 split for the first 100 yards. The listed record was made here last year by Jeff Farrell, 48.2.

The other record-mashers were defending champions Charley Bittek of Southern California, 220-yard backstroke, 2:08.7, for his second title in as many days. Mike Troy of Indiana, 220-yard butterfly, 2:10.9; Steve Clark, Los Altos, Calif., High School senior, 220-yard freestyle, 2:00; and Chester Jastrzemski of Indiana, 220-yard breaststroke, 2:26.7.

On opening night, Bittek bet on the 100-yard freestyle, 1:50.9, and individual medley mark, and Murray Rose, Southern California star from Australia, lowered the record in the 1,500-meter grid.

Los Altos, the Ohio State sophomore from Hollywood, Fla., is the new 1-meter dive champion.

A feature Friday night was Clark's 2-yard triumph over the mighty Rose in the 220-yard sprint. It was the Australian gold medal winner's first setback in middle-distance race in America, and broke an eight straight N.A.A.U. indoor meet victory streak.

Announcement of the lease was made here yesterday by Donald D. MacFarlane, a Detroit attorney, and James P. Clowes, a Springfield, Mass., lawyer.

They are among the stockholders in the newly chartered Wheeling Downs Harness Raceway, Inc., which has leased the track on Wheeling Island in the Ohio River from the Hanel Park Racing Association of Detroit.

Clowes said the stockholders are as much Michigan industrialists and professional men.

Harness racing will replace flat racing soon after the half-mile track ends a meet which starts May 26 and ends July 1.

Clowes said the Michigan group had presented its plans to the Virginia State Racing Commission and would seek racing dates in the near future.

High school coaches and athletes begin their battle with two foes early this month—opposing teams and the unpredictable spring weather.

It seems that Mother Nature becomes very fickle during April and early May. She will let the sun shine brightly for two or three days, just long enough to get the athletes in the right frame of mind, and then send three days of rain, wind and temperatures that chill even the most sturdy athlete's ambitions.

Athletic directors have been trying for years to out-guess nature when it comes to scheduling spring contests. It is a hopeless task. Golf and tennis meets can be held in the rain, but not baseball and tennis.

Coaches have the big problem of trying to get team members in shape, often under the worst possible weather conditions.

"I know what the weather was going to be for the next five days, I would take a chance and send my boys outside," said Pontiac Central track coach Dean Wilson early this week.

"There is no sense letting them practice outside for a day or so and then having to pull them back in for three or four. It does more harm than good."

The Chiefs have already participated in one meet—along with Pontiac Northern, Waterford and Birmingham—with the early start of any outdoor work. Although the Huron Royals was an indoor event, the Chiefs were far from ready.

Only Bradell Pritchett placed, winning the shot with a record toss. Waterford and Birmingham throwers managed some outside work and this showed in the final team scoring.

Baseball is the sport hardest hit by spring weather. Games are often postponed two or three times, called in the middle of a contest, or never rescheduled because of rain. Some early contests are played in snow flurries or near-freezing temperatures.

Bob Minewasser, coach at Waterford, said:

Ted Predicts .320 Batting Mark for Boston Rookie

By United Press International
Praise from the "king" is praise indeed, especially if you're a 21-year-old rookie and the guy handing out the accolades is Ted Williams.

Williams, one of the all-time major league baseball super stars, never has been one to either praise or ridicule a player. He often has helped others with friendly batting tips but generally has kept his feelings about them to himself.

However, the marvelous splendor of Ted Sox, fame has found it almost impossible to describe his feelings about young Carl Yastrzemski, the kid outfielder who will be patrolling Ted's old left field post when the American League season opens in 10 days.

Williams, a special batting instructor for the Red Sox since he called it a career last fall after 19 seasons, has spent a good deal of his six weeks in the Boston spring training camp at Scottsdale, Ariz., working with Yastrzemski, and as a parting salute today, he flatly predicted Carl will hit .320 in his first major league season.

Ted admitted that while he spent a lot of time with Yastrzemski he counseled him only on what to expect from major league pitching, and he pointed out that the one change he did recommend was a shorter stride.

"You don't change the style of a potentially great hitter," Williams said frequently as he worked with the rookie.

There is no question that Yastrzemski is this spring's "phee-gum." The 24-year-old can't miss batted that pops up every spring to the delight, fancy or

Smelt Run Prospects Rated Poor This Year

By Associated Press

LANSING (AP)—Prospects are poor for the smelt-dipping season this spring, state fish experts advise. Below average snowfalls indicate low water levels, expected to cut spawning runs of the fish in tributary streams of the Great Lakes.

Major upstream migrations of smelt are expected to start around April 10 and hit their peak around April 20. The timing will vary from stream to stream. Smelt generally start their run when the water temperature rises to about 46 degrees.

Each Has Harvard Rowers

Oxford Faces Cambridge

LONDON (AP)—Oxford University's eight, including five men who competed for Britain in the Olympic games, was a strong favorite today to defeat Cambridge and win the historic boat race on the River Thames for the third straight year.

But whichever way the race goes, it will be a victory for Harvard. Two former Harvard rowing captains are in the Cambridge shell and another former Harvard man is rowing for Oxford.

Mike Hoffman, 23-year-old economics student from Oxford, Miss., is the stroke who has been trying to pull Cambridge together during practice and give it the rhythm to match the experienced Oxford crew.

Only two of Cambridge's crew took part in the race last year—one of them the cox.

Mike Christian, 22, of Framingham, Mass., who succeeded Hoffman as captain at Harvard, is one of the newcomers. He rowed at No. 7, immediately behind Hoffman. Oxford has John Sewall, 24-year-old economics student from

New Senators Pummel A's

By The Associated Press

That "new team in the old city"—the Washington Senators—have been making their presence felt in the Grapefruit League this spring with a franchise that started from scratch and picked players out of a grab bag.

The Senators clubbed the Kansas City A's 13-3 Friday for their sixth exhibition victory in their last seven starts. The triumph brought Washington's worst record 11-4.

Prep Tourney Crowds Not Hurt by TV Debut

LANSING (UPI)—Television coverage of the four final games in the Michigan High School Basketball Tournament did not hurt attendance, Charles Forsythe, state high school athletic director, said yesterday.

"But it must be remembered that most of the tickets were sold before television was announced," Forsythe said.

Some 55,732 people attended the four games. There was room for a total of 36,000 in Jensen Field House at Michigan State University where the finals were held.

Forsythe said for the first time participating high schools did not seek more tickets for the finals than allotted to them.

"TV could be a reason," he said. "The Michigan High School Athletic Association is willing to have television as long as crowds keep coming in."

About 91,000 attended quarterfinal and final games, the largest attendance in the tournament's history, Forsythe said. Quarter-final games showed the biggest increase.

Tigers Sign Two for Minor League

DETROIT (AP)—Two players have been signed to 1961 minor league contracts by the Detroit Tigers: the baseball club announced yesterday.

They are Pat George, a 200-pound pitcher who recently graduated from Detroit Western High School, and Larry Cervenka of Trenton, Ill., a first baseman. Cervenka's father Tom and uncle John both played in the Pittsburgh Pirates' system.

Both players will join the Jamestown club of the Class D New York Pennsylvania League in training at Lakeland, Fla.

second best among the 10 American League teams this spring.

The "old" Washington franchise has been moved to Minnesota's Twin Cities with the Los Angeles Angels joining the Senators in giving the American League its new look.

Catfish Dale Long, Danny O'Connell, Willie Tasby and Pete Daley provided the batting punch in Washington's 15-hit outburst against the A's. Each contributed three hits with Long and O'Connell collecting homers.

Rookie Ed Hobaugh, a 25-year-old right-hander drafted from San Diego, pitched seven effective innings for the Senators, allowing all three A's runs in five hits. Norm Siebern homered for Kansas City.

In other games on the schedule abbreviated because of Good Friday, Pittsburgh won its second game this spring from New York 4-2, Cincinnati blanked Indianapolis of the American Association 3-0, Cleveland edged Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League 4-3 and in a night game at Miami, Detroit whipped Baltimore 6-3.

The Pirates posted their 15th victory in 21 games and continued the supremacy they maintained over the Yankees in the World Series. Harvey Haddix, Pittsburgh's wailing pitcher in the seventh game of the Series, yielded three hits and an unearned run in six innings to gain the verdict.

Ralph Terry, losing hurler for New York in the final Series game, worked four perfect innings before the Pirates tagged him for four runs in the fifth frame. Haddix' two-run double was the decisive hit. Tony Kubek batted in both of the Yankees' runs.

Mickey Mantle of New York was sidelined with a pulled stomach muscle.

Gordie Coleman's three-run homer in the eighth inning accounted for all the Reds' runs. Bob Purkey held Indianapolis to nine scattered hits in turning in the first route-going performance by a Cincinnati pitcher this spring.

Tito Francona's two-run double in the seventh inning gave the Indians their verdict over Tacoma. Barry Laiman worked the first six innings for the Tribe and Steve Hamilton pitched three scoreless frames. Dick Phillips had three hits for Tacoma, including a homer.

Jim Bunning went the distance for the Tigers and limited the Orioles to 6 hits while striking out 9 and allowing only 1 walk. Detroit bunched four of its nine hits off Baltimore starter Milt Pappas for a four-run eighth inning uprising that snapped a 2-2 tie. Ron Hansen and Jim Gentile homered for Baltimore.

In a trade, the Milwaukee Braves obtained pitchers Moe Drabowsky and Seth Morehead from the Chicago Cubs in exchange for infielders Andre Rodgers and Daryl Robertson.

$25,000 Offers for Car Ferries Given Approval

LANSING — Offers of $25,000 each for the car ferries City of Munising and City of Potosky have been approved by the State Highway Department.

Commissioner John C. Mackle said he will recommend the sales to the State Administrative Board.

Charles E. LaMole of Pontiac made the offer for the City of Potosky.

of Potosky and Edward H. Anderson of Franklin Park, Ill., for the City of Munising.

"These are the best firm offers we have received to date," Mackle said. "I recommend they be accepted because the costs of watchmen are high and the ferries deteriorate rapidly when not in operation."

The two ferries have been idle since the Mackinac Bridge was opened on Nov. 1, 1957.

In 1953 New Hampshire put a 10-cent bounty on the ground hog, calling it "detrimental" to any interesting qualities.

'Sleeper' Realty Bill Set for Senate Vote

LANSING — A "sleeper" bill which would overthrow a controversial rule barring discrimination in real estate dealings has been moved up for a final vote in the Senate.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Charles E. Feenstra, R-Grand Rapids, replaces the words "unfair dealing" in the present law pertaining to real estate transactions with the word "discrimination."

Discrimination in housing was defined as "unfair dealings" by former corporation and securities commissioner Lawrence Gubow, now a U.S. district attorney.

Easter Music at Alliance

Thirty-four members of the St. Paul Bible College Choral Club will sing at the Alliance Church, Cass Lake Road at M-59, at 7 p.m. Sunday.

The traveling choir is directed by Dr. Gordon P. Howell, associate professor of music at the St. Paul Bible College. This appearance is one of a 24-concert tour ranging from Minnesota to Pennsylvania.

Departing from the usual choir program, the choral club seeks to create an "international atmosphere through the presentation of Stephen Ping Kin Tsui and missionary pagentry."

Mr. Tsui is from Hong Kong and is presently a theological student at the college.

Traveling with the club is the president of the college, Rev. Harry T. Hardwick.

The schedule for Easter Sunday services includes Sunday School, 9:45 a.m.; morning worship, 11 a.m.; Alliance Youth Fellowship, 6 p.m.; and the concert at 7 p.m.

The pastor of the church, Rev. G. J. Berneche cordially invites the public to attend all services on Sunday.

TO PRESENT PAGEANT
 The Missionary Crusaders from Nyack Missionary College, Nyack, N.Y., will visit the Alliance Church, to present a missionary pageant depicting world missions.

The program will be given in the sanctuary at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Rev. T. Robert Brewer, director of admissions and counseling at Nyack, is director of the missionary crusaders, most of whom are sons and daughters of missionaries.

Many of these young people were born on the mission field and spent much of their childhood with their parents in various parts of the world.

Special music by the group will highlight the evening.

Those who witness the program will see the Crusaders dressed in colorful native costumes peculiar to the land in which they were raised.

Some of the features will be given in foreign languages and some will be interpreted on the spot.

The program is reported to be one of the finest missionary presentations and has evoked favorable comments wherever given, the pastor said.

The Crusaders represent the oldest Bible college in America.

More than 11,000 of Nyack's alumni have served some 35 Protestant denominations in more than 42 countries in the world as pastors and missionaries. The college is in the Eastern regional school of the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

Mrs. Eleanor Driver will be soloist at the Easter Sunday service at 11 a.m. at Pine Hill Congregational Church.

Services are currently being held in the Pine Lake Elementary School on West Long Lake Road, one mile west of Middle Belt. Sunday School classes are held at the same hour.

Dr. Alfred D. Grey will preach on "The Christian Hope."

To Observe Anniversaries

Sunday will have double significance for members of the Bloomfield Hills Baptist Church. In addition to being the church's first anniversary.

The church's initial public service was held on the first Sunday in April with the Rev. Wallace A. Alcorn of Grand Rapids as speaker. Shortly after this the church called him as pastor.

Under the direction of John N. Veneman, the choir will sing "When the Lord Is Near" and "The Sunrise of Easter."

Mr. Veneman will lead congregational singing in the 6 o'clock evening worship service with special music by the Redeemer Baptist Church of Warren. Communion will also be observed and Herbert Barnham, John N. Veneman, and Clarion Cooke will assist the pastor.

All public services are held in the Hickory Grove School on Lakeside Road. The church has purchased 4½ acres on Long Lake Road on which they expect to begin construction in the immediate future.

They are currently in a $100,000 bond campaign while the architect is completing plans.

Missionaries from Mali, Congo, Liberia, Cameroun in Africa and from Haiti have visited the congregation.

The Missionary Conference is scheduled at Sunny Vale from April 30 through May 7 with returned missionaries from the Congo, Viet Nam and The Netherlands speaking.

Your Neighbor's House

Post World War I House Built in Wrong Spot

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

November 1918 was a time of mixed emotions in Pontiac. The war was over, but casualty lists were still coming in and the influenza epidemic was killing many citizens. Schools and churches were closed.

The population had more than doubled since 1910; it was to be over 34,000 in 1920.

Boys' suits were advertised for $3.45. Coffee and hamburger were both 25 cents a pound. Bazley's Market listed Porterhouse steak in their ad for 28 cents a pound.

Surprisingly enough, two foods sold for just about the price they do today. Fresh-dressed chickens brought 35 cents a pound, while sugar was 4 pounds for 45 cents.

The Pontiac Press Gazette ran occasional house plans. One was for a two-story bungalow. A large house on Norton Avenue was for sale for $7,000, although most houses sold for less.

What was to be important to one returned soldier was that the ban on building was removed, now that the war was over.

But that soldier, M. S. Taylor, was to get a shock when he returned from service. He had gone off to war, leaving plans for a new house to be built on his $2x30-foot lot on Mt. Clemens Street. When he got home, he discovered the house had been built all right—but not where he had specfied. It had been put away over on the east lot line, whereas he wanted it centered.

But the damage was done and Taylor lived in the house many years. Some time ago he gave the house to his son and the present owners bought it from the younger Taylor.

NEW OWNERS

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ferrell moved into this house last June. They have two teen-age sons and two smaller children. Their modern house was too small. The Taylor home has four bedrooms upstairs and four rooms downstairs.

The glassed-in front porch is just the place for 5-year-old Steven and his baby sister, Barrie, to play in inclement weather.

There are two living rooms, one of which the Ferrells use for a television room. French doors separate the two. All the woodwork and the downstairs floors are oak. Upstairs there are pine floors.

The Ferrells have painted all the rooms in light colors. In the living room they used gray. Their sofa and lounge chairs are green. Tables are blonde. Curtains are aqua and white.

In the television room the walls are sandalwood. Two lounge chairs, a bookcase and a dropped table make up the furnishings. The lighting fixture is an attractive crystal chandelier.

In the dining room there is a bay window on the west. The stairs go up from this room. Future plans call for carpeting the whole downstairs.

Mrs. Ferrell's kitchen is long and narrow. Linoleum is blue and gray checked. Walls are blue and woodwork white. Pink dotted Swiss curtains hang at the small-paned windows that open outward. The younger Taylor put in a long narrow counter under these windows for work space.

The sink is typical of the period. Drain boards are covered with small white ceramic tile, while the area above has larger tiles with a decorative insert. There is new hardware on the cupboards.

This house was built before the time when architects thought the homemaker should have a view while she washed the dishes. We've lived with that kind of sink all our married life.

At the rear is a breakfast room which the Ferrells think was added on to the original house. Walls are blue in here with large white panels on each side wall. Corner cupboards hold dishes. The drop ceiling fixture is fancy, with birds painted on the shade.

The stairs go halfway up, turn at a landing where there are two big windows and continue up to the second floor. Three of the bedrooms open off the large square hall.

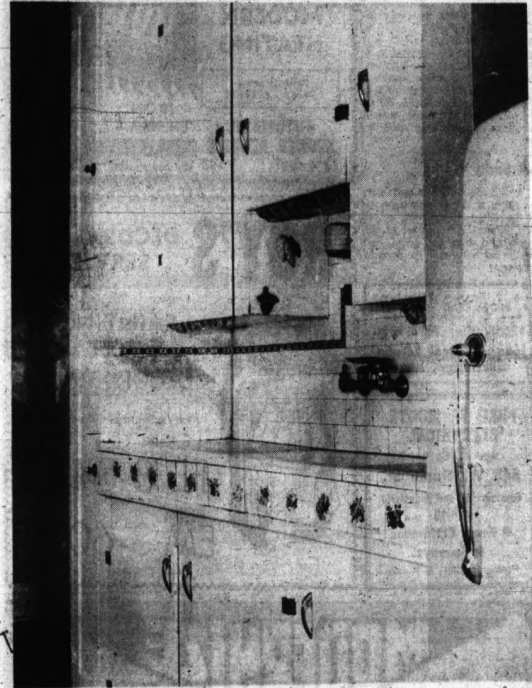

Almost immediately after moving in, the Ferrells did over the bathroom. It now has pink wall tile with gold and white paper above. Pictures are white. The floor is gray with pink and green lines.

The fourth bedroom opens from the bathroom and is the upstairs part of the breakfast room. Seventeen-year-old Leonard bunks here. The room is gay with red curtains and pillows which Mrs. Ferrell painted with Pontiac Northern pennants. The spread is white.

Thirteen-year-old Charles has a tiny bedroom just big enough for a single bed and chest of drawers. The younger children share a yellow bedroom.

In the Ferrells' room the walls are orchid. Shag rugs are gray. The furniture is bleached walnut with brass hardware. Curtains are white with a candlewick design.

Once again we have people delighting in an older home because it gives them ample room for a growing family. Their large lot is unusual also in a town where thousands of lots are only 40 feet wide. It's useful; it's kept up its appearance. Maybe life begins at 40 for houses as well as people.

TILED AREA—Forty years have made little or no effect on the ceramic tile around the sink. The cupboards have been modernized with paint and new hardware. Note the narrow closet at the left of the sink.

Food Disposer Will Stand Rugged Wear

The food waste disposer is designed to relieve the homemaker of all the inconvenience associated with the disposing of the family food waste. It's a quality product, precision built and engineered to withstand years of rugged use.

The machine will shred most kinds of food waste into a fine pulp and flush it quickly down the drain. This includes scrapings, parings, bones, fruit rinds, vegetable tops, pea pods, and corn cobs.

Bulky food waste similar to melons or citrus fruit rinds and corn cobs are also more quickly ground if broken into smaller pieces.

It is always good practice to mix soft food waste with harder particles to assure satisfactory grinding. No disposer is designed to grind such rubbish as metal, glass, rubber, bottle caps, cloth tea bags, china, etc.

Cold water should be allowed to run when the disposer is in operation. It is important to use enough cold water. A stream of at least two gallons a minute should be used. This is enough to fill a quart bottle in about 8 seconds.

LOTS OF STAIRS—In contrast to modern light level homes with their shallow steps, these stairs are formidable. A great deal of oak went into their construction. There is a small Buddha on the newel post at the halfway point with a lamp fixture mounted on top of his head. The younger Ferrell children delight in climbing the stairs.

POST WORLD WAR I—The Glen Ferrell home on Mt. Clemens Street was built at the close of World War I. There's a decided change in the architecture of the first part of the 19th century.

FRENCH DOORS—French doors matching the oak woodwork were common in houses of the era shown in today's pictures. These doors separate the two living rooms in the Ferrell home, one of which is used as a television room. The crystal light fixture is an interesting feature.

The U.N. moved into its current 30-story Secretariat Building on New York's East Side in the spring of 1951.

Fire Retardant Paints Should Be Used More

Fire retardant paints might have saved many of the 11,350 lives lost in fires in 1959 and prevented many of the 70,000 serious injuries suffered in fires.

This is particularly true of home fires which, according to the National Fire Protection Association, accounted for half of the deaths. About 20 per cent of the fatalities were children.

The first thing to know about fire retardant paints is that they do not prevent fires from breaking out. What they do is to slow down the spread of a fire and, in some instances, put the fire out.

By slowing the spread of a fire, these paints permit the occupants to escape from the building and give the fire department the precious minutes it needs.

"The first five minutes after a blaze starts mean everything to a fire fighter," according to Fire Marshall Michael Quinn of Chatham, N.J. "After only eight or ten minutes a fire is usually 50 times its original size. Anything that slows down this spread can make the difference between a minor blaze and a total loss."

It should be remembered that any conventional paint — oil-based, alkyl-based or latex — is slower to catch fire and spread flame than unprotected wood or paper.

A cured painted surface does not spread fire. For one thing, the self-ignition temperature of paint films ranges from 550 to 1000 degrees, while that of wood and paper ranges from only 450 degrees to 550 degrees.

For proof, saw a piece of wood.

Why Camouflage Height?

The usual advice to home owners with a high ceiling is to paint it darker than the walls in order to make it look lower. But if you are lucky enough to live in an old fashioned home or apartment with ceilings of long ago, why camouflage them? Emphasize the height by painting them white or a color lighter than the walls and you will make them look even higher.

In half; paint one half and leave the other alone. Then throw both pieces into a bonfire. You'll see that the unpainted piece will catch fire much sooner.

Conventional paints, however, do not have the fire-fighting qualities of fire retardant paints. The latter works in one of three ways, and many of them operate in more than one way.

When the temperature reaches a certain point, some of these paints release vapors such as carbon dioxide and nitrogen which not only do not support combustion but actually put fires out. For example, carbon dioxide extinguishers have long been used.

PAINTS SWELL
Most fire retardant paints work by intumescent or swelling to form a fire-proof honeycombed, foam-like layer that insulates the surface below, preventing it from reaching the temperature at which it will burn or release harmful gases. The intumescent also insulates iron and steel structural members and prevents them from becoming so hot that they buckle.

A third type forms a glassy surface which also insulates the surface and keeps the water surface from reaching the point of ignition.

To qualify as a fire retardant paint, the formulation must have two other properties: 1) it must not contribute more than a certain amount of additional fuel to a fire, and 2) it must not develop more than a minimum amount of smoke.

The fire retardant paints now being sold are available in both flat and gloss finishes and come in a variety of colors. They can be applied over any surface and generally do not require a special primer. Some are latexes, i.e., water-thinned, while others are solvent- or thinned. The solvent-thinned type must cure completely before it reaches its maximum of fire retardancy.

It is generally not necessary to paint the entire house with fire retardant paints. They are strongly recommended for bedrooms of infants, children and the elderly, for halls and stairwells.

If you use a fire retardant paint, do not use any other material in the same area. Remember, these paints only slow down fires, they do not prevent them from breaking out elsewhere.

Woman Is Responsible for Results
It's best to make sure that what finally goes into your home is really what you want. If you have any doubts about your own judgment, better consult an architect or an interior decorator. This can mean many registers and 10-fold pay-off later on.

Meanwhile, here are a few things to keep in mind: Most professionals agree it is acceptable to mix furniture styles in a single room provided balance is maintained. The important point here, they say, is scale of furnishings rather than arbitrary limitations of style.

Choose quality materials. This is most important because the tone of your home is not by what you put into it—and "class does tell." Professionals often suggest use of jewelry materials such as ceramic tile, a truly distinctive surfacing which offers a wide variety of tasteful colors and designs to fit any decor.

Pay special attention to this thing called color. It is often the key to the really attractive home. The best rule is: "don't overdo." Dazzling colors may attract attention but they can be a strain and give a flavor of ostentation. Choose a color scheme that is relaxing and, above all, one that is appropriate to your surroundings—and to you.

Let the Cook Sit Down

Lower kitchen counters (32" or less) are a helpful trend. When they're coupled with adequate knee room under sink and range, there's that ideal situation for the housewife where she can work sitting down.

Water System May Need Remodeling

Extra baths and such water handling appliances as softeners, dishwashers, automatic washers, and sprinkling systems make an abundance of water and adequate pressure a necessity in the contemporary suburban and farm home.

It is estimated by the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau that one water system in five, installed as long as seven years ago, is no longer meeting the owner's needs for capacity or pressure, or both.

To encourage the replacement of water systems with new equipment, dealers are offering a free planning service and easy terms. These are available for new as well as old installations, or retrofittings, jet, and submersible models.

There is a "right" pump for every well, the Bureau points out. It is the qualified water system dealer who can best match the pump with the particular water source.

With his years of experience, the water system dealer knows how to assemble the equipment that will provide ample water inexpensively and with all the efficiency of a municipal water system.

Copper Is Flexible
An advantage of replacing rusted-out plumbing in an old house with rustproof copper tube, according to Anaconda plumbing specialists, is that copper tube, when furnished in coils, is flexible enough to be "dropped" from upper floors to basement, inside partitions — almost like electrical wiring.

Housing Has Improved, Census Takers Find

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The quality of housing in the United States improved considerably in the 1940's but there still are millions of families living in substandard houses and apartments.

Nonwhites, mainly Negroes, occupy a disproportionately large share of substandard dwellings in relation to their share of the population.

These three points are the chief conclusions of the Census Bureau in recent reports on the 1960 census of housing. It was conducted concurrently with the population count.

Census takers checked dwellings to see what condition they were in and whether they had "all plumbing facilities." By that the Bureau meant flush toilet, running hot and cold water, and a bath—each private, not shared with another family.

Dwellings were rated as sound, deteriorating or dilapidated. In the 1950 census of housing they were rated only as dilapidated or not dilapidated.

The bureau also broke down its figures by owner and tenant. Here is what the census takers found: Of the 56,323,000 units in the nation, five out of six were not dilapidated and had full plumbing. Conversely, one out of six was in dilapidated condition or lacked full plumbing. Bad as that may seem, in 1950 it was more than one out of three.

Nonwhite households occupied 5.2 million housing units, about 10 per cent of the total number of occupied dwellings. But nonwhites occupied 30 per cent of owned units in substandard condition and more than 30 per cent of substandard rented units.

The greatest improvement in housing quality was in homes occupied by the owners, the Bureau said. This resulted from the home building boom of the 1950's which saw millions of new houses turn open country into thickly populated suburbs.

Nearly 90 per cent of owner-occupied houses were not dilapidated and had all plumbing, as against 70 per cent in 1950. There were 20 million such units in 1950, an increase of 78 per cent from 1950.

At the same time there was a decline in the number of units lacking full plumbing or in dilapidated condition from 17.1 million to 8.8 million.

Substandard housing continued to be more prevalent among renters than home owners and in rural as opposed to urban areas.

Copy Romans, Sink Bathtub

You no longer have to be a millionaire to enjoy the style and grace of Roman living—at least as far as the sunken bath is concerned.

This so-called luxury item, for some time now an efficient detail in high-priced, custom homes, may soon sweep the country as a new find in large developments of medium-priced homes.

During the past year more than 1,000 homes built in the Western states alone featured sunken baths, according to Owen McComas, chairman of the home building committee of the Tile Council of America. McComas' report, issued during the recent NAHB convention in Chicago, pointed out that "one California builder is putting not one but two sunken baths in each home, and a Florida builder is planning to offer them as an optional feature in homes under $35,000."

"Home buyers have been so enthusiastic about the sunken bath in areas where they've been installed that the idea could spread throughout the country as rapidly as the picture window and the patio," McComas predicted.

One reason for the new trend is as little as $75 to $100 more than a standard tub, according to McComas. Another reason given by McComas was that today's buyer "wants something different," and the versatility of the ceramic tile used to surface the sunken tub opens up an endless array of shapes and colors for expressive individuality.

Initial kick-off for the trend was credited to American architect Ed Stone by McComas. In a mere several years ago to return "beauty and elegance" to the bathroom, Stone, now recognized as one of the great architectural innovators of modern times, designed the first sunken bath to receive wide public recognition.

Gun Fancier Apt to Know Fine Woods

If the man of the house is a gun fancier—the sportsman type who enjoys hunting and rifle shooting—chances are he has good taste in selection of furniture.

What's the connection? It lies in his recognition of fine wood, says the American Walnut Manufacturers' Association.

An association spokesman explains that sportsmen prize highly their gunstocks of beautifully grained walnut, a wood used almost universally today for gunstocks of sporting and military firearms and traditionally favored for quality furniture and wall paneling.

"So the sportsman who treasures his exquisite hand-rubbed walnut gunstocks, is likely to have a connoisseur's appreciation for fine furniture wood."

REPAIRING TORN SCREEN

- 1 CUT PATCH TO COVER
- 2 BEND EDGES AT 90° ANGLES
- 3 PLACE OVER RIP AND CRIMP WIRES TIGHTLY

Get Out Those Screens Do All Repair Jobs

There are lots of insecticides in today's market. But none has come along that eliminates the need for screens.

Before you come to grips with the very necessary job of putting up screening, better check to make sure that they're in condition for mounting. There's little comfort to learn that screens are falling apart just when a flight of mosquitoes is aiming for your bedroom window.

RENEWING FRAMES
Wood screen frames that are a few years old can become loose after lengthy exposure to the weather. Drying out in storage makes the gaps in joints more apparent.

Tap the frame back together with a mallet. Joints can be reinforced with angle iron held in place with screws. These will outlast the rest of the window screen.

For a neat and almost invisible job drill a hole, at the edge of the frame so that it goes through both parts of the joint. Make the hole 1/8 in. and get a dowel rod the same size. Coat the rod with glue and drive into the joint. Make the rod slightly shorter than the depth of the hole.

A quick method is to use a corrugated fastener, driving it in across the mitered joint. Be careful to avoid splitting the wood.

PATCHING RIPS
Another likely bit of trouble you might run into is the matter of the unattended rips and holes in the screen wire. Ready-cut patches are available at most hardware stores. Make certain that patch and screen wire are the same material. Don't mix bronze and aluminum for example. The wire ends on the patch are at right angles to the patch, fit

Heating, Cooling Booklet Available

A typical 1,200-square-foot home can be heated and cooled for an average cost of less than $12 a month—if it is well insulated, according to A. M. Watkins, author of "How To Judge A House," a booklet of practical advice to families planning to buy either new or not-so-new houses.

Writing about long term savings and better performances from quality products, Watkins advises: "Don't skimp on insulation. In general, the kind most recommended is mineral wool."

The booklet is available for $1 from the publisher, All About Home, Inc., 28 Ritts St., Piermont, N.Y.

Keep Them Close

If your remodeling calls for adding a small-space bathroom, the closer the new fixtures are to existing water supply, drainage lines, and vents, the less it will cost you. A half-bath in the children's sleeping area usually takes the pressure off an existing bathroom.

Simple Way to Prove White Roof Reflects

With snow on the ground you're not likely to be thinking about painting your roof white next summer to keep your house cooler. But the snow gives you an opportunity to prove to yourself how white surfaces reflect heat.

Lay a piece of dark cloth, preferably black, on the snow and alongside it a piece of white cloth. Notice how the black cloth absorbs the heat of the sun and sinks down in the snow beneath it melts. The snow under the white cloth will not be affected. In the same way, a dark roof absorbs sun heat; a white one reflects it.

Cabin Usable All Year

If you have a summer cabin that's boarded up and useless from late autumn until early spring, your family may be needlessly missing part of the growing winter sports parade. Modern gas wall furnaces can make such a place usable the year-round. These heating appliances are designed to use liquefied petroleum (bottled gas), or manufactured or natural gas.

MSU Planning New Type Dorm

Living and Learning to Be Combined in Single $5.7-Million Unit

EAST LANSING (AP) — Plans for a new dormitory combining living and learning in one unit have been announced at Michigan State University.

The MSU Board of Trustees approved plans for the $5.7-million unit at their meeting here Friday.

Two six-story dormitory wings will accommodate 1,128 students.

A central, three-story building will contain classrooms and another wing will have a 400-seat capacity lecture hall and library.

Also included in the unit will be kitchen, dining room and recreation facilities and offices for the faculty.

The living-learning unit is planned primarily to accommodate freshmen and sophomore basic college students. President John A. Hannah said it had not yet been decided whether the one unit would house both male students and females.

"If we mix the two together, they'll be in separate wings," he said.

FEDERAL LOAN

The board was told it is planned to finance the facility, to be paid for on a self-liquidating basis, through a federal loan. It is hoped bids can be taken on the unit by June 1 and that it will be completed in time for the start of the 1962 fall term.

Hannah said this was part of the hope to get more use out of all the MSU facilities.

"We will get a lot more mileage out of a dollar through a setup, like this," he said.

The board approved a seven-point program to help MSU meet the growing problems of financing and rising enrollments.

The points include more independent learning by students, larger blocks of subject matter, better coordination of teaching and learning facilities, creation of a learning resources center, use of residence halls for learning, long range planning for improved use of facilities and better use of all resources.

Denies Calling Eisenhower a Communist

BELMONT, Mass. (AP)—Robert Welch, 61, founder of the controversial John Birch Society, says he never called former President Dwight D. Eisenhower a "card-carrying Communist."

His denial came Friday night as criticism mounted against the rightist organization after a disclosure Welch once wrote that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was a "dedicated, conscious agent of the Communist conspiracy."

In a privately-published book, Welch also criticized Milton Eisenhower, the former president's brother, and described former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Franklin D. Roosevelt and the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles as "tools of communism."

Welch said he never viewed Eisenhower as a "Red agent." "I never had that opinion," he said. "I never thought it then with firmness enough to publish it or to say it in public and I don't today."

Taxes on Business Still Lag Behind '60

LANSING (AP) — State sales and use tax collections in March on February business continued to show a slump from last year, the State Revenue Department reports.

Collections for the month totaled $31,787,513, this at a 4 per cent rate. Collections at the 3 per cent rate for the same month a year ago were $25,325,640.

Just to keep even with last year, $33.42 million should have been collected.

Comfortable Car Seats Hard Job for Designers

By BEN FIELEGAR
AP Automotive Writer
DETROIT — When you drive or ride in an automobile do you slump into the shape of a question mark or lean an elbow out the window?

Can you find a comfortable spot for your feet? If the pedals are within easy reach does the top of the steering-wheel cut your vision? Does your back ache after a long drive?

These and many other problems confront the men who design seats for modern cars. Their task is complicated because people come in so many shapes and sizes.

An Air Force survey of 4,083 men found 1,000 of them to be an approximate average size, but only 302 with both approximate average height and chest measurements.

Further classification on torso length and leg-length found just two men who qualified as absolute average in all respects.

THAT SITTING POSTURE!

Dr. John Versace, human factors specialist for Chrysler Corp., said:

"The structure of the bones and the disposition of muscles, nerves and blood vessels and their relationship to comfort and fatigue must be the prime consideration when the car seat is developed."

Far West Better Than Near East

BANGKOK, Thailand (U — U. Alexia Johnson, the new U.S. undersecretary of state for political affairs, suggested today Americans call the Far East the "Near West."

Johnson, who has been ambassador to Thailand, told the Foreign Correspondents Club here that a look at the map shows that the United States is a Pacific power.

Although the new Pontiac Public Library is circulating more books than ever, the branches and bookmobile continue to contribute to a large share of Pontiac's reading enjoyment.

Of 24,054 volumes circulated in Pontiac in February, for instance, 14,027 went out from the new Civic Center library but 8,777 were circulated elsewhere, according to Phyllis Pope, city librarian.

The latter, she said, were circulated from the Sanford Street branch, the Adah Shelly Branch Library, the stations at Franklin and Wilson schools and from the traveling bookmobile.

"The jump in circulation at the new main library is significant only when viewed as part of the total library picture," Miss Pope commented.

Circulation at the main library is about 4,000 volumes a month heavier than a year ago.

say comfort and freedom from fatigue are directly related to sitting posture.

"And this sitting posture," he said, "is determined to a great extent by the contour and dimensions of the car seat and its relation to floor, pedals and the steering wheel."

"The structure of the bones and the disposition of muscles, nerves and blood vessels and their relationship to comfort and fatigue must be the prime consideration when the car seat is developed."

For years the bench or sofa type seat has been standard in most American cars. Suddenly, individual units called bucket seats have become the rage.

NOW IT'S BUCKET SEATS

Bucket seats, used on airplanes, race and sport cars, usually have a rounded back, offering additional support, with a cushion shaped to hold the body more in one place than conventional bench styles.

Bench seats have been passenger capacity because only two of the bucket seats can be used abreast.

The Corvette and Thunderbird, both originally sports type cars, used bucket seats and the T-Bird continued them even when it went to a four-passenger model.

The biggest volume use came

$10,000 Diamond Taken in Detroit

Thieves Break Window and Flee Into Crowd; Other Gems Stolen

DETROIT (UPI) — Police searched today for two thieves who smashed a hole in a downtown jewelry store window during the evening rush hour Friday and fled with a "flawless" $100,000 blue diamond.

John F. Hering, manager of the Charles W. Warren Co., said the robbers also took other jewelry "unidentified at this time."

Before 40 employees and 15 customers realized what had happened, the thieves shattered the plate glass window with a rock wrapped in a handkerchief and fled on foot through the evening crowds with the loot.

The diamond was described as a "flawless blue diamond of 4 1/2 carats." Hering said it was loose in a display of other stones and rings worth about $100,000 dollars.

One of the two young men was grabbed by a bystander but released when he appeared to reach for a knife or gun.

Coal generators almost halt the nation's electricity.

Search Ocean for Titan Wreck

Divers Scan Bottom for Missile to Answer Mystery of Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—Skin divers searched the ocean floor 12 miles off the tip of Cape Canaveral today, hoping to find the wreckage of a Titan missile which was intended to land a dummy warhead a record 10,000 miles.

The wreckage may help pinpoint the malfunction that killed Friday's planned milestone shot.

The silvery rocket, aimed at a target in the Indian Ocean about 1,000 miles southeast of Madagascar Island, instead plunged back into the ocean about 12 miles east of here when its engines quit a little more than one minute after blast-off.

The booster stage, designed to operate for two minutes and four seconds, apparently shut down after only 68 seconds. Contact with the rocket's radio telemetry system also was lost at that point.

There were several possibilities, including that of a high-altitude explosion. The Titan was lost from the view of ground tracking cameras less than a minute after launch when it disappeared behind heavy clouds.

Search crews went after the debris shortly after the mid-afternoon firing. Scientists poked the pieces, fitted with the 68 seconds of telemetry information, might provide an answer—or, at least, eliminate some of the possibilities.

April Draft to Be Least Since Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department Friday cut the April draft call to 1,500 men, the smallest since the Korean War started.

Assistant Defense Secretary Carlisle P. Runge said the cut was made possible by higher than usual army enlistments and reenlistments.

The Army will get all the men to be drafted in April.

A key factor was that the Army has been running several thousand men over its authorized limit and has to get down to its legal strength of 570,000 by June 30.

The smallest previous monthly draft call was the 5,000-man March quota.

It was based "on bringing the Army strength levels in line with fiscal year 1961 programs," Runge said. The Army had 881,000 men at the end of January and was down to 875,000 as March began.

Poland to Ask for Eichmann

To Demand Extradition If German Not Killed by Israeli Government

PARIS (UPI)—Poland plans to demand the extradition of Adolf Eichmann if he is not executed by the Israeli government, an informed diplomatic source said today.

The source said the Polish government would claim the right to bring Eichmann to trial for the mass murder of an estimated 3.5 million Jews, mainly in extermination camps in Poland.

The Polish claim would be based on the fact that the murders took place on Polish soil and that Poland thus has the right to try him.

Eichmann is scheduled to go on trial April 11 before an Israeli court in Jerusalem on charges which would make him perhaps the greatest mass murderer in history if they are proved.

Cancel Flights From the Congo

U.N. Aircraft Ordered Held in Readiness, but No Reason Given

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (UPI)—The United Nations command today canceled all regular U.N. flights from the airport here and ordered all available U.N. aircraft kept in readiness.

No reason for the orders were given.

U.N. Gen. Sean McKewen of Ireland said no decision had been taken to send U.N. reinforcements to Katanga after Katanga President Moise Tshombe's forces recaptured Manono.

Katanga troops, spearheaded by a white unit, were reported to have chased out Lumumbist troops who had proclaimed the tin-mining center as the capital of an "independent" Province of Katanga.

Government sources in Katanga said seven Lumumbists had been killed in skirmishes before Manono was reached and the Lumumbists gave up without a fight.

An interior ministry communique issued in Elisabethville said the 200-man Nigerian U.N. garrison in Manono was sheltering several Baluba leaders.

Hundreds of tribesmen fled the city when the Katanga forces approached. The local population cheered the Katangese as liberators, according to some reports.

Two hundred Katanga policemen have been flown to Manono to take over the administration of the town from the troops, a Katanga government spokesman said.

Other U.N. troops in Katanga include Irish and Swedish forces at Kamina, 210 miles southwest of Manono, and Ethiopians at Kabalo, about 100 miles to the north.

In 12 years Karachi has grown from 300,000 to 1.5 million population.

Furniture Man's Son Sells

Stewart-Glenn Interest Bought Out by Company

The president of one of the city's oldest furniture companies announced today the purchase of interests held by Robert Glenn.

John F. Stewart, president of the Stewart-Glenn Co., organized in 1917, said the company this week acquired the interests held by Glenn, son of one of the founders of the company.

The name of the firm will remain the same.

At the same time, Stewart announced that the transaction will result in the closing of the S-G Warehouse Furniture Sales, 20 Franklin Road. An inventory sale will begin April 6.

No purchase price was disclosed. The company will center all its business in its store located at 1680 S. Telegraph Road, and hopes to increase the floor space of the two-year-old building by at least 50 per cent, according to Addison K. Oakley, manager and secretary of the company.

Glenn said he sold his interests in the company in order to expand the operations of the Automat Corp. of which he is president.

Ex-Treasurer's Daughter Gets Film Contract OK

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A former U.S. Treasurer's daughter says she won't be able to leave anything from her $113.33-a-week movie salary.

Her mother, Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, was U.S. Treasurer in the Eisenhower administration. The contract, with six-month options for the studio, graduates in seven years to a salary of $750 a week.

Lift Ancient Clay From the Sea

Study Raised Samples for Signs of Life Long Ago After Record Feat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Scientists, who know less about what lies beneath the ocean floor than they do about the surface of the moon, have raised ancient clay buried hundreds of feet under two miles of water.

The greenish-gray samples, now under study for fossil evidence of life which flourished on earth millions of years ago, were recovered from a hole drilled 234 feet into the earth under 11,700 feet of water — more than two miles.

The 61-hour operation was carried out this week in 35-mile winds that whipped up 12-foot seas off Guadalupe Island, near the east coast of Mexico.

Scientists said the feat, which broke by 5,700 feet the record for deep sea drilling, proved the feasibility of plans to drill a hole into the mysterious bowels of the earth.

The announcement was made Friday by the National Academy of Sciences and the National Science Foundation.

Dr. Allan T. Waterman, director of the science foundation, said the success gives man a new means of discovering the "secrets of the earth and the history of the ocean."

About 25 miles off the coast of Sweden are the Aland Islands, located in a strategic position at the entrance to the Gulf of Bothn. II draft records.

Try to Locate Pair in Cuba

Swiss Officials Seek Michigan Man, Flier Forced Down in Plane

WASHINGTON (AP)—Swiss Embassy officials in Havana were attempting to confirm that a Fremont, Mich., man and his companion were being held by Cuban authorities.

The State Department said Friday that the Swiss had been asked to determine the whereabouts of the two Americans, who reportedly were forced down in a civilian plane last weekend in Cuba.

Swiss diplomats so far have been unable to confirm the capture of the Americans, said State Department officials, who added, however, that "we have no reason to doubt they are there."

The Americans were identified as Donald Swenson, 35, an executive of the Gerber Products Co. of Fremont and Linden Blue, about 26, formerly of Meeker, Colo.

In Havana, the government-controlled newspaper Combate said the two were being held by Cuban police for flying over a government-held petroleum refinery.

It was understood here that Blue's twin-engine plane was intercepted over Cuba by a Cuban fighter aircraft and forced to land.

CARRYING PARTS
At Fremont, a Gerber spokesman said the two were flying from Miami to Managua, Nicaragua, where Blue, his brother and Tilden Evans of New York own a banana plantation.

The Cuban newspaper said the plane was carrying 50,000 worth of machine parts which the fliers said was for the plantation. The paper said they planned a stop over at Swan Island, site of a powerful anti-Castro radio station.

The Swiss embassy said the two had obtained proper clearance to fly over Cuba, but added that the clearance was canceled after the plane was in flight.

The Blues were trying to interest the Gerber firm, which makes baby food, in buying their bananas, the Gerber spokesman said, and Swenson was to look over the plantation.

Swenson, general manager of technical services for Gerber's international operation, planned to fly from the plantation to Mexico City for a company meeting, the spokesman said.

X15 Pilot Actually Flew to 32 Miles

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—Joe Walker piloted the rocketship X15 169,600 feet or 32 miles above the earth—almost a mile higher than originally believed — on his record altitude flight.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) Friday announced the corrected altitude figure for Walker's flight Thursday, originally set at 165,000 feet.

Marriage Plea: 'Tax Collector's Gettin' Closer'

LONDON (UPI)—Hundreds of couples got married here today in a last minute rush to beat the tax collector.

Clergymen, already busy with Holy Week services, reported they were overwhelmed with wedding work.

Under the British income tax law, a man earning $5,000 a year can get a rebate of $150 on his taxes by getting married before the tax year ends April 5.

Under this system, the tax man pays for many a honeymoon by getting with the four-day Easter weekend.

Says Tuition Hike Unlikely at MSU

EAST LANSING (UPI)—A tuition hike is unlikely at Michigan State University regardless of the legislature's action on the institution's budget request, officials said Friday.

Jacwer Breslin, secretary to the MSU Board of Trustees, said an increase in student tuition had not been "even thought of" this year.

Members of the State Senate committee considering the university budget request indicated they would trim the $5.2 million asked above the $29-million appropriation granted for this year.

Some said the budgets would be held close to the current level and if the state-supported institutions wanted to expand programs, as indicated in the budget requests, the money would have to come from tuition.

Nixon, Eisenhower Visit, Dine Friday

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Ex-Vice President Richard M. Nixon met here Friday for the second time since leaving office.

Details of the men's talk were not disclosed, but an Eisenhower spokesman said it was an informal visit and that they dined together in the afternoon.

The meeting occurred at the Eldorado Country Club cottage where Eisenhower and his wife, Mamie, have been vacationing.

Eisenhower's secretary Mary Jojo McCaffery said the Eisenhower had to special plans for Easter.

Nixon and his wife Pat were expected to attend Easter morning services.

Arrest Priest in Angola, Suspect He Led Riot

LUANDA, Angola (UPI)—A mulatto priest has been arrested here on suspicion of being the ringleader in recent anti-government demonstrations in Angola, the Lusitania news agency said today.

He was identified as Roman Catholic Father Manuel Mendes das Neves. The agency said his "extra-curricular" activities had been under police observation for some time.

Signs Long Lake Reclamation
Lansing Firm to Tackle Task of Cleaning Out 155 Acres of Water

A Lansing firm has announced signing a contract for "the only and last" reclamation project of its kind in history.

The Waterways Control and Development Corp. announced in Lansing Friday it signed a contract to clean out the 155-acre Long Lake in Commerce Township, increasing its average depth from 2 1/2 feet to 10 feet.

Donald D. Rutter, vice president and project consultant, said the work will be completed in 180 days to dredge out the pond (muck) clogged lake to a depth of 14 or 18 feet (depending on money available) at the deepest point.

The project will take from four to six months to complete, he said.

"As near as we, the State Conservation Department, or anyone else can determine, nothing like this has ever been attempted before," Rutter said. Conservation officials are watching the project as a possible answer to a growing shortage of Southern Michigan recreational facilities.

The peat will be piled up at the shore of the lake (low quality) private land more than a mile away, Rutter said. The operation will attempt to clear the lake to the original sand bottom dredged by glacial action.

Money was raised on a voluntary subscription basis by the Long Lake General Council, Inc., representing all associations on the lake.

A bill now in the House Conservation Committee would permit the establishment of special assessment districts for lake improvement and reclamation projects.

The lake, Rutter said, has been filling in gradually for the last 15-20,000 years.

State Solon Can't Be on County Tax Board
LANSING (UPI)—Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams held today that the office of state representative is incompatible with membership on a county tax allocation board.

The opinion was issued in reply to a query by Prosecutors James Stuart D. Hubbell of Traverse City.

Hubbell pointed out that Rep. Arthur Engstrom, R-Traverse City, has been appointed to the county tax allocation board in the past year or two.

Adams said that since the constitution to the members of the board is the subject of legislative control, the two offices are incompatible and one man cannot serve in both positions.

Marine Deserter 'Lives High' on Bogus Checks
GARDEN GROVE, Calif. (AP)—FBI agents who arrested Staff Sgt. Carl Witten said the Marine deserter told them, "I've been living high and spending freely."

The basis for Witten's affidavit, the agents said, was an estimated $100,000 in bad checks.

Witten, 35, was taken into custody Friday on a complaint issued in Brooklyn, N.Y. March 24 accusing him of the theft of 56 blank U.S. treasury checks from a Marine Corps depot at Garden City, N.Y.

The FBI said $15,000 in cash was recovered and that Witten, who has a wife and six children in East Meadow, N.Y., wrote checks on the government forms and cashed them in Boston, Las Vegas, Nev., and Santa Ana, Calif.

The officer told Atty. Prosecutor Max Silverman, "I walked up to the cashier's desk and said, 'Put my hand on the door and said, 'I'm a police officer. What are you doing here.'"

With that, McDowell said, a man in the car pushed the door open and, hunched McDowell backwards.

"The man then reached in the back seat, got something and started out after me," McDowell said. "I saw something flashing in his hand."

McDowell said he pulled his gun and fired six shots at the man. Police said they later found an open pocket knife beside the car.

"I didn't know until it was all over that the other party was a woman," McDowell said.

Officer Slays Pair in Garage
DETROIT (AP)—A policeman returning home from duty shot and killed a man and woman early today when he interrupted the driver's side of the sports car and the man attacked him with a knife.

Sgt. Geoffrey McDowell, 42, said the woman was shot accidentally as he emptied his gun at her companion.

Killed were Melvin Brantley, 31, a factory worker, and Mrs. Rose O'Neal, 37, a grandmother.

The scene of the shooting was a three-car garage at the rear of McDowell's home.

McDowell said when he drove up the alley he saw through the open garage door a new sports car with two occupants.

The officer told Atty. Prosecutor Max Silverman, "I walked up to the cashier's desk and said, 'Put my hand on the door and said, 'I'm a police officer. What are you doing here.'"

With that, McDowell said, a man in the car pushed the door open and, hunched McDowell backwards.

1,550 Pontiac Workers Are Eligible To Take Oblivious Pay Extension Claims
The Michigan Employment Security Commission office in Pontiac will start taking claims for temporary extended unemployment compensation April 10, according to Paul Kimball, branch manager.

Kimball also released figures to show a jump in unemployment claims filed in Pontiac this week.

There were 15,485 claims filed for compensation this week in Pontiac as compared to 11,660 last week.

Of this week's total, 15,106 were continuing claims and 379 were new. During the week of March 24, 9,533 were continuing and 1,827 initial; Kimball said.

The extension payments come from funds recently appropriated by the federal government to ease economic conditions.

TO BEGIN PAYMENT
The MESCC will begin paying claims during the week of April 17 for unemployment occurring and filed for during the week beginning April 10.

About 1,550 workers in the Pontiac area whose benefits have been exhausted since June 30, 1960, will be eligible immediately for benefits under the new program.

They are part of some 70,000 such workers in Michigan.

Also eligible for the extended benefits will be an estimated 230,000 additional covered workers who may exhaust their benefits during the next year—before April 1, 1962.

Laid off federal employees and ex-servicemen are also eligible for these benefits if they have no state or federal benefit entitlement, and have exhausted their benefits since last June 30.

OUT-OF-STATE WORK
Workers who have earned their benefits in other states may file in Michigan for temporary unemployment compensation benefits if their home states have agreed to participate in this program.

Workers who think they may be eligible for additional benefits should go to the local MESCC office on or after April 10 and file a claim.

The temporary extended unemployment compensation program expires on June 30, 1962.

EASTER, APRIL 2ND

By far, the most beautiful of all the seasons is Easter. It is a time when the sun is shining, the birds are singing, and the flowers are blooming. It is a time of joy and hope, and a time when we can all feel the warmth of the sun and the love of our family and friends.

Children search for eggs. They seek them for food and as a reward for industry. But the eggs are symbols of fertility. Easter is the beginning of new life—birds are swelling, buds are budding, and the earth is green. It is a beautiful time.

Easter is a happy occasion. We watch our five billion year old planet change from austerity to beauty and plenty. It is a joyous time.

P.S. We salute the deeds of man in a funeral service. His soul will rise in Heaven's glory.

French to Hold Talks Anyway

Planning to Appear for Peace Parley Despite Rebel Boycott Threats

PARIS (UPI) — France is going ahead with plans to open peace talks with the Algerian rebels at Evian next Friday despite the insurgents' threat to boycott the negotiations, informed government sources said today.

French officials were quoted as saying that even if the rebels do not show up, the French negotiators will be on hand to publish a communiqué taking formal notice of their absence.

Algerian Affairs Minister Louis Ertze, the chief French negotiator, and President Charles de Gaulle kept strict silence on reports that the Algerian refugee government in Tunis might boycott the talks.

Jose returned Friday night from a two-day trip to the frontier territory across the Mediterranean, where he had been sounding out local public opinion.

The spokesman said Tunisian negotiators will be on hand to publish a communiqué taking formal notice of their absence.

The rebel delegation had planned to stay in Switzerland and commute by helicopter across Lake Geneva to the French lakeside resort of Evian.

A LILY FOR AUNT EMMA — Selecting a lily for her Aunt Emma, known to friends as Mrs. Frank M. Kirby of 106 Cherokee Road, is Cindy Rogers of 216 Fernberry Drive. With hundreds of blossoms to choose from, Cindy selects a tall, pure white Madonna lily, a symbol of the Easter season. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob F. Rogers.

'Christ Is Risen' to Sound in City

By MARY ANGLEMIER

The story of Christ's resurrection will ring out across the city Sunday—in music, in sermons, pageants, plays and in the showing of films of the Holy Land.

Many celebrations will begin before dawn with young people in charge of the sunrise service. Breakfasts will follow. Flowers given in memory of loved ones will bank altars of churches, chapels and great cathedrals.

Tempest Coupes to Debut Soon

New Models on Display for First Time at NY Auto Show

Pontiac Motor Division's uniquely new Tempest series has been expanded to include two smartly styled two-door coupes that are scheduled to appear in Pontiac dealer showrooms during the latter part of April. It was announced today by S. E. Knudsen, GM vice president and general manager of the Division.

The new models were displayed for the first time today at the International Auto Show in the New York Coliseum. The sedan's largest automobile exhibit will continue until April 5, with over 400 models representing some 30 makes from 16 nations on display.

One of the new coupes to be introduced will have front bucket seats and custom interior trim as standard. This model will have full carpeting on front and rear floor plates.

The other Tempest coupe will have conventional split back, bench-type front seats and standard interior and exterior appointments. Both will measure 64 inches in overall height, less than the Tempest four-door sedan announced last fall.

Their two-door styling gives the new coupes a distinctive sports car appearance. As with other Tempest models, exterior decal trim options may be selected by the customer.

The standard trim two-door coupe interiors are offered in four color combinations in check, woad, or solid Pontiac colors with Jewel-tone Mercedese leather.

The custom trim two-door coupe interiors are offered in five color combinations. A wide range of glowing exterior colors are available in tough and durable Magic-Mirror acrylic lacquer.

Pontiac Man Killed by Train

Struck at Saginaw St. Crossing by Commuter Bound for Detroit

An elderly Pontiac man was killed instantly this morning when struck by a Grand Trunk Western Railroad commuter train bound for Detroit from Durand.

Police identified the traffic victim as William H. Spohn, 84, 230 Ferry St.

Spohn was hit by the train at the Saginaw Street crossing at Wilson Street. He was walking west across Saginaw.

There are no guard rails at the crossing. Witnesses told police that Spohn apparently did not hear the warning bells or notice the blinding signals as he crossed.

The train proceeded on to Detroit after police took a statement from the engineer, Henry Wix Sr. of Warren.

The accident occurred at 7:30 a.m. Spohn's body was taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

Nature Cuts Loose

April Showers... and How!

By United Press International

Tornadoes raked Alabama and Georgia. Iowa's second largest city survived its worst flood threat, barely. More than a foot of snow was heaped on the dry Southwest.

March went out like a lion. April took over.

Snow, sleet, freezing rain, heavy thundershowers and drizzle marked the beginning of the first full month of spring.

Most of the messy weather was concentrated around the lower Great Lakes, in the Ohio Valley and through Pennsylvania and New York State early today. Philadelphia, Pa., was blanketed with three inches of wet snow in a six-hour period during the night.

The heavy thundershowers—all that was left of the tornadoes—bearing down on Friday—floated over Southeast Georgia and Florida. Nearly

Reply to British Proposal

JFK and Rusk Get Summary of Reds' Reply

U.S. Envoy Called in by Kremlin for a Talk on Laotian Situation

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk today received a summary of the Soviet government's reply to British proposals for a cease-fire in Communist-threatened Laos.

"They do not have the actual text of the reply yet but are receiving a synopsis of it," White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said as Kennedy and Rusk were about to begin a conference here on the Laos crisis.

Salinger said he had no immediate information on even the general tenor of the note. He added that he probably would not be able to discuss it when and if he got such information.

The Soviet reply to the British bid for a cease-fire was handed in Moscow today to Britain's ambassador, Sir Frank Roberts.

An hour later the Kremlin called in U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson for a discussion of the situation in Laos.

HEAR FROM THOMPSON Salinger said Kennedy and Rusk were getting a summary from Thompson on the Soviet reply to the British.

The summary was relayed to Rusk by the State Department in Washington. Rusk flew to the President's vacation headquarters from the capital Friday night.

Rusk got his first word that the Russians had replied from an Associated Press dispatch here at 3:30 a.m. EST, shortly after delivery of the note to the British ambassador had been announced in Moscow.

KEEP NOTE QUIET Kennedy at that hour presumably had not received any word regarding the reply either, since the usual diplomatic procedure would be for the British to get in touch with Rusk.

The Soviet government did not immediately make its reply public. Rusk said the British probably would notify the State Department quite promptly regarding the contents.

Kidnapers' Target?

UNDER HEAVY GUARD — While United States Security Agents investigate reports that a group of pro-Castro Cubans have been plotting to kidnap Caroline Kennedy, the 3-year-old daughter of the President sits under a tightened guard at the Palm Beach, Fla., home of her grandparents.

Eye Cubans in 'Plot' on Caroline Kennedy

PALM BEACH (AP)—Pro-Castro Cubans under surveillance in a reported plot to kidnap President Kennedy's small daughter are also suspected of planning to wipe out the President's entire family, an informed source said today.

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Secret Service agents were reported to have under surveillance today a group of pro-Castro Cubans suspected of plotting to kidnap President Kennedy's bubbling little daughter.

Caroline Kennedy, 3, is under tightened security guard at the Atlantic shore home of her grandparents. She is spending an Easter holiday here with her mother and father, the President and Mrs. Kennedy.

The hunted Cubans — four of them, it is understood — are described by a well informed source as "pro-Castro and anti-Kennedy."

He added that the Cubans had been located in the Palm Beach area, but that — as of late Friday night — "There isn't enough evidence at this point for an arrest."

Red Paratroopers Open Major Drive in Country

VIENTIANE (UPI)—Communist North Viet Nam paratroops dropped from Soviet transport planes were reported today to have opened a major offensive in Central Laos.

Defense ministry sources said the invading Communists had captured Tha Thom, a key government post 85 miles northeast of Vientiane, in a major breakthrough.

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union replied today to a British proposal for an immediate cease fire in Laos by calling for international negotiations, the official government newspaper Ivestia reported.

Ivestia did not mention a cease fire.

Russia delivered its reply to the British ambassador. Shortly afterwards the official afternoon newspaper said the reply called for an international conference and reactivation of the three-power control commission to solve the crisis.

Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev called in U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson for an hour and a half discussion of the Laotian crisis. But no details were forthcoming.

"The problem of Laos which has darkened the international horizon can and should be solved by peaceful negotiations," Ivestia said.

"It is, of course, assumed that for this it is necessary to have the agreement of all the interested parties in order to reach the necessary decision of mutually accepted principles."

REPLY EXPECTED "Precisely for this reason, the Soviet Union has proposed the convocation of an international conference and a resumption of the work of the commission on Laos," Ivestia said.

The reply was much the same as that expected by observers — general acceptance of the American-backed British proposal but possible insistence on negotiations before a cease fire is achieved.

Both British and American diplomats had expressed some optimism on the Soviet position in belief any move toward a settlement of Laos was a major first step.

The Peiping declaration amounted to flat rejection of British and American insistence that a cease fire must precede any negotiations on the Laotian situation.

LIKE CONFAB PLAN The Red radio said the 14-nation conference proposed by Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson "constitutes the only way to a peaceful solution of the Laotian question."

The radio quoted an editorial in the Communist "People's Daily" on the resolution adopted earlier this week by the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) council in Bangkok.

The Communist conditions for a cease fire included demands that the United States:

- "Must first of all respect the Geneva agreements..."
- "Stop brandishing the 'brinkmanship policy'..."
- "Bring an end to all its activities to master the SEATO countries and use (Nationalist Chinese) bandits... to expand the Laotian war..."

"Evacuate from Laos all troops and arms of the United States and its vassal countries."

Chilly Easter Parade NEW YORK (UPI) — The weatherman predicted a fair but chilly day for the famous Fifth Avenue Easter Parade Sunday. The sun was expected to be out for most of the day for the marchers but temperatures in the low 40s will be whipped around by a stiff breeze, according to the forecaster.

Easter Sunday Will Be a Bit on Chilly Side Easter Sunday will dawn fair to partly cloudy with temperatures rather cold, the weatherman says. Tonight's low will drop to 23.

Tomorrow's high will register near 70 with temperatures warming up a little Monday and skies fair.

North to northwest morning winds at 15 to 25 miles per hour will diminish tonight and become variable at 8 to 15 m.p.h. Sunday.

Twenty-three was the lowest recording — in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 40 at 1 p.m.

NATURE'S FRANK — Today is April Fool's Day and Old Mamma Nature knows it. This roof, impaled on a power pole, was ripped from a shed by 60-mile-an-hour winds in Jacksonville, Fla. The winds did considerable damage around the city but other towns in Florida and Alabama suffered even more as tornadoes knifed across the states.

Explores 'Divine Destiny'

By MARGARET BROWN

There was a personal message for each of the nearly 350 women who attended First Congregational Church's traditional Good Friday breakfast, "Divine Destiny," was the subject reverently and penetratingly explored by Mrs. Walter Teeuwissen Jr., guest speaker. Mrs. Teeuwissen's husband is pastor of the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church.

"We're certainly an ecclesiastical gathering today," remarked Mrs. Teeuwissen. "I see a staunch Baptist, a good Methodist and a fine Presbyterian in our midst, but we all can be one in Christ."

"Each of us has a destiny," was Mrs. Teeuwissen's opening statement. "So often we go about the process of living never pondering, 'Why am I here?' or 'Who am I?'"

"Christ knew who and why He was, and even so we, as His followers, may recognize our destiny," she continued.

AWARENESS OF SELF

To realize "Divine Destiny" Mrs. Teeuwissen deemed it necessary that one possess an awareness of self or "self-consciousness" and a sense of his own uniqueness.

"Why am I here?" she repeated. "Because God has a task and you (because you are unique) are the only one in all the world who can do it." Laughter filled the room at her humorous interjection. "There's only one me, and I'm him!"

Mrs. Teeuwissen spoke of reading the scriptures, commenting, "Jesus knew fulfilling God's will was HIS purpose, and this came into the world, to bear witness unto the truth."

She referred to eternal life as a "quality of life" which we possess now. "We're not saved for future security alone, but to be meeting our destiny today," she said, adding that we have to cultivate surrender and a determination to do God's will. She related how Jesus "...steadfastly set His face toward Jerusalem," to fulfill His destiny.

EVIL FOR GOOD

"We come to know His best through life's hard places," she continued. "Even what we consider our sicknesses on the part of others may be His will." She told of Joseph's words to his brothers, "You thought evil against me, but God meant it for good."

Concluding, Mrs. Teeuwissen told the group, "Though we never may say of our mission on earth, 'It is finished,' as did Christ—the challenge of His finished work can help us try harder to fulfill the purpose He has for us."

Pontiac Central High School's Senior Girls Ensemble, directed by Jerry Libby, opened the program with three moving selections, concluding a capella with the beloved spiritual "Were You There?"

Mrs. D. E. Wilson was honorary chairman for the breakfast, served by Women's Fellowship members.

Hostesses were Mrs. Solomon Kline, Mrs. L. C. Zornes, Mrs. Edgar Thomas, Mrs. William Miller and Mrs. Ross Tenny.

Others participating in the program were Mrs. Howard Clegg Jr., Mrs. Sidney Olson, Mrs. George Gaches and Mrs. Malcolm K. Burton.

Mrs. Carl Leonard was general chairman. Committee heads were Mrs. Gaches, program; Mrs. Dora Dawson, music; Mrs. James Absher, food; Margaret Steward, dining room; Mrs. Wilbur Olson and Mrs. Phillip Vierlich, decorations.

Two original poems were read during Mrs. Teeuwissen's talk, "I Wouldn't Go Back" and her final reading, "The Cross," with the emphatic closing message, "The cross has things to say to those who have ears to listen."

Abby Says: It's Too Late

Milkmen Don't Collect Tears but Sometimes It'd Be Fun

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been a milkman for over 30 years. All he has ever been able to talk about are the women on his route. He says he knows more about them than their husbands do. He's the kind of person women like to sit down with and tell their troubles to. When other milkmen have been home for hours, my husband is still out listening to those mixed-up women. He says it is all in a day's work and I should be more understanding. I'd like your views.

NOT UNDERSTANDING: DEAR NOT: Clergymen and marriage counselors do not deliver milk by the quart, and milkmen shouldn't be collecting tears by the bucket. But if this has been going on for over 30 years, it's too late to change him.

DEAR ABBY: My 14-year-old boy came home from the barber shop with a Mohawk. His head was shaved all over except for a strip in the center. Now I have had it: I put up with the DA, the Swan, the Swirl and the Bull, but this is too much. Don't you think a barber should have a note from the mother before going ahead with those foolish haircuts? I ought to make my boy wear a stocking cap until this grows out.

DISGRACED: DEAR DISGRACED: Don't blame the barber. He was only following your son's instructions. If you can't rely on your boy's judgment, send a note with him, call the barber in advance, or go along and supervise.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I would still like my mail addressed MRS. H. W. SMITH (not my real name). I have been told that I should drop my husband's initials and use my own. Why? I still feel proud of my husband's name and want to continue to use it. Even the recipient at the doctor's office corrected me and said in the future I should use MRS. MAREY SMITH. I want to do the correct thing. What is it?

CONFUSED WIDOW: DEAR CONFUSED: You still may continue to use your husband's name. You are Yella Mrs. H. W. Smith.

DEAR ABBY: We have a girl in our room at school (8th grade) who has all the boys after her, but she is getting a bad reputation. She wears her hair in a pony tail and we have told her that she will be bald-headed before she gets to high school because that style makes your hair fall out if you keep it that way long enough. Also, she rolls up her skirts at the waist to make them shorter, and we could mention other things, too, if we wanted to be catty. How can we let her know she is losing friends without giving her the idea we are jealous?

NOT JEALOUS: Tell her to watch for Dear Abby. "What's your problem?" For a personal reply from Abby, send a self-addressed envelope to ABBY, Box 336, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Stabafas All Agog Over Fashion Fling

Stabafa Club has embarked on plans for what they believe is the first "All-Teen Fashion Show" in the area. Poster committee members met Thursday in the Pioneer Drive home of sponsor Mrs. R. L. Brunel. Committee chairman Nancy Ward and her helpers set up a production line for the art work that will publicize the club's "Fashion Fling" to be held May 12 at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

A ticket sales contest for the show will be conducted among ninth and tenth graders. Monica Calhoun is ninth grade sales chairman, and Sandy Shapiro is in charge of tenth grade sales. Losers in the contest will stage a party for the winners. A gift certificate will be awarded the girl selling the most tickets.

Guest speakers at the group's Tuesday meeting were Mrs. Douglas Drury of Lapeer, teacher at Will-O-Way Modeling School, and Mrs. William W. Merrill, dramatics teacher.

Mrs. Drury explained the essentials of good modeling, poise and stature, and demonstrated how to walk and to turn on stage.

She told of professional models' characteristics and job opportunities for modeling in the Detroit area. Following her talk Mrs. Drury selected 12 girls who will model in the May 12 show. They are Jane Bigler, Gretchen Gaensbauer, Joan Grahk, Cindy Hill, Nancy Jack, Kathy LaCorte, Susan Rogers, Donna Sharette, Miss Shapiro, Lucy Smith, Rosie Tripp and Nancy Ward.

Mrs. Merrill listed voice qualities and attributes of a good fashion commentator. After several members practiced commenting, Mrs. Merrill selected Marilyn Morris and Cheryl Wilton to describe fashions for the show. The girls will work with Alvin's, Inc., in writing the show's commentary.

Janet Taylor, talent show chairman, called a meeting of her committee workers at the Illinois Avenue home of Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer.

Nancy Nichelle, decorations committee chairman, told members that decorations for the show will be made at the next Stabafa meeting April 11 in the Ottawa Drive home of Marilyn Morris.

Tickets for the "Fashion Fling" may be purchased from any Stabafa member. Former club members will be honored at the event.

Easter Music at Alliance

Thirty-four members of the St. Paul Bible College Choral Club will sing at the Alliance Church, Cass Lake Road at M-39, Sunday, April 9, at 7 p.m. Sunday.

The traveling choir is directed by Dr. Gordon P. Howell, assistant professor of music at the St. Paul Bible College. This appearance is one of a 24-concert tour ranging from Minnesota to Pennsylvania.

Departing from the usual choir program, the choral club seeks to create an international atmosphere through the presentation of Stephen Ping Kin Tsui and missionary pagentry.

Mr. Tsui is from Hong Kong and is presently a theological student at the college.

Traveling with the club is the president of the college, Rev. Harry T. Hardwick.

The schedule for Easter Sunday services includes Sunday School, 9:45 a.m.; morning worship, 11 a.m.; Alliance Youth Fellowship, 6 p.m. and the concert at 7 p.m. The pastor of the church, Rev. G. J. Bersche cordially invites the public to attend all services on Sunday.

TO PRESENT PAGEANT
 The Missionary Crusaders from Nyack Missionary College, Nyack, N.Y., will visit the Alliance Church, to present a missionary pageant depicting world missions. The program will be given in the sanctuary at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Rev. T. Robert Brewer, director of admissions and counseling at Nyack, is director of the missionary crusaders, most all of whom are sons and daughters of missionaries.

Many of these young people were born on the mission field and spent much of their childhood with their parents in various parts of the world.

Special music by the group will highlight the evening.

Those who witness the program will see the Crusaders dressed in colorful native costumes peculiar to the land in which they were raised.

Some of the features will be given in foreign languages and some will be interpreted on the spot.

The Crusaders represent the oldest Bible college in America.

More than 11,000 of Nyack's alumni now serve some 35 Protestant denominations in more than 42 countries in the world as pastors and missionaries. The college is the Eastern regional school of the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

To Observe Anniversary

During the first year, the Bloomfield Hills Church has held three baptismal services (using the facilities of the First Baptist Church), added families to the charter membership, begun a community canvass, and instituted a full schedule of services.

In addition to Sunday School, morning and evening worship services on Sunday, the church has a "family night" on Wednesdays. This consists of separate prayer meetings and Bible study for adults, young people, and children as well as youth choir practice.

All public services are held in the Hickory Grove School on Lahar Road. The church has purchased 4½ acres on Telegraph Road just north of Long Lake Road on which they expect to begin construction in the immediate future.

They are currently in a $100,000 bond campaign while the architect is completing plans.

Missionaries from Mali, Congo, Liberia, Camerons in Africa and from Haiti have visited the congregation.

Rev. Veneman will lead congregational singing in the 6 o'clock evening worship service with special music by the Redeemer Baptist Church of Warren, Communion will also be observed and Herbert Barsuhn, John N. Veneman, and Clarion Cooke will assist the pastor.

Copy Romans, Sink Bathtub

You no longer have to be a millionaire to enjoy the style and grace of Roman living—at least as far as the sunken bath is concerned.

This so-called luxury item, for some time now an enticing detail in high-priced, custom homes, may soon sweep the country as a new fad in large developments of medium-priced homes.

During the past year more than 1,000 homes built in the Western states alone featured sunken tubs, according to Owen McComas, chairman of the home building committee of the Tile Council of America. McComas' report, issued during the recent NABH convention in Chicago, pointed out that "one California builder is putting not one but two sunken baths in each home, and a Florida builder is planning to offer them as an optional feature in homes under $15,000."

"Home buyers have been so enthusiastic about the sunken bath in areas where they've been installed that the idea could spread throughout the country as rapidly as the picture window and the patio," McComas predicted.

One reason for the new trend is price. The sunken bath can cost as little as $75 to $100 more than a standard tub, according to McComas. Another reason given by McComas was that today's buyer "wants something different," and the versatility of the ceramic-tile used to surface the sunken tub opens up an endless array of shapes and colors for expressive individuality.

Initial kicking off the trend was credited to American architect Ed Stone by McComas.

In a move several years ago to return "beauty and elegance" to the bathroom, Stone now recognizes as one of the great architectural innovators of modern times, designed the first sunken bath to receive wide public recognition.

Gun Fancier Apt to Know Fine Woods

If the man of the house is a gun fancier — the sportsman type who enjoys hunting and rifle shooting — chances are he has good taste in selection of furniture.

What's the connection? It lies in his recognition of fine wood, says the American Walnut Manufacturers' Association.

An association spokesman explains that sportsmen prize highly their gunstocks of beautifully grained walnut, a wood used almost universally today for gunstocks of sporting and military firearms and traditionally favored for quality furniture and wall paneling.

"Many of the same properties which make walnut the ideal wood for gunstocks," the spokesman declares, "also account for its envied reputation as the 'premier furniture and cabinet wood.'"

Usually hard, strong and durable, and resistant to shock and warping, walnut is noted for its matchless natural beauty of grain and figure. Some of the finest gunstocks are cut from handsome, crych walnut and stumwood walnut of the same type utilized for fine furniture and paneling.

"So the sportsman who treasures his exquisite hand-rubbed walnut gunstocks is likely to have a connoisseur's appreciation for fine furniture wood."

REPAIRING TORN SCREEN

Get Out Those Screens Do All Repair Jobs

There are lots of insecticides in today's market. But none has come along that eliminates the need for screens.

Before you come to grips with the very necessary job of putting up screening, better check to make sure that they're in condition for mounting. There's little comfort to learn that screens are falling apart just when a flight of mosquitoes is aiming for your bedroom window.

RENEWING FRAMES

Wood screen frames that are a few years old can become loosened after lengthy exposure to the weather. Drying out in storage makes the gaps in joints more apparent.

Tap the frame back together with a mallet. Joints can be reinforced with angle irons held in place with screws. These will outline the rest of the window screen.

For a neat, almost invisible job drill a hole at the edge of the frame so that it goes through both parts of the joint. Make the hole in and get a dowel rod the same size. Coat the rod with glue and drive into the joint. Make the rod slightly shorter than the depth of the hole.

A quick method to use a corrugated fastener, driving it in across the mitered joint. Be careful to avoid splitting the wood.

PATCHING RIPS

Another likely bit of trouble you might run into is the matter of sunkened rips and holes in the screen wire. Ready-cut patches are available at most hardware stores. Make certain that patch and screen wire are the same material. Don't mix bronze and aluminum for example. The wire ends on the patch are at right angles to the patch, fit

Simple Way to Prove White Roof Reflects

With snow on the ground you're not likely to be thinking about painting your roof white next summer to keep your house cooler. But the snow gives you an opportunity to prove to yourself how white surfaces reflect heat.

Lay a piece of dark cloth, preferably black, on the snow and alongside it a piece of white cloth. Notice how the black cloth absorbs the heat of the sun and sinks down as the snow beneath it melts. The snow under the white cloth will not be affected. In the same way, a dark roof absorbs sun heat; a white one reflects it.

Cabin Usable All Year

If you have a summer cabin that's boarded up and useless from late autumn until early spring, your family may be needlessly missing part of the growing winter sports parade. Modern gas wall furnaces can make such a place usable the year-round. These heating appliances are designed to use liquefied petroleum (bottled gas), or manufactured or natural gas.

Heating, Cooling Booklet Available

A typical 1,200-square-foot home can be heated and cooled for an average cost of less than $12 a month—if it is well insulated, according to A. M. Watkins, author of "How To Judge A House," a booklet of practical advice to families planning to buy either new or not-so-new houses.

Writing about long term savings and better performances from quality products, Watkins advises: "Don't skimp on insulation. In general, the kind most recommended is mineral wool."

The booklet is available for $1 from the publisher, All About House, Inc., 28 Rite St., Piermont, N.Y.

Keep Them Close

If your remodeling calls for adding a small-space bathroom, the closer the new fixtures are to existing water supply, drainage lines, and vents, the less it will cost you. A half-bath in the children's sleeping area usually takes the pressure off an existing bathroom.
