County Declares War on Holiday Car Deaths

Don't Let Your Holiday Trail Lead to the Cemetery

The Press has one BIG request to make of everyone that uses the roads Friday, Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

WILL YOU PLEASE DRIVE SLOWER THAN USUAL?

The awful death toll in this country every holiday is NEEDLESS. It's a sacrilege. It's a desecration of our duty and obligation to God.

Over the Fourth of July week-end, 35 were killed in the State of Michigan, and 348 died throughout the nation.

Let's protect ourselves and each other.

Let's play safe.

Nearly every serious accident, FINDS ONE OR BOTH OF THE CARS BREAKING A LAW.

Usually it is speeding.

The Press begs everyone that climbs behind the wheel of an automobile to allow an extra ten minutes, an extra half hour—OR AN EXTRA HOUR ON LONG TRIPS—to reach a familiar destination.

"REMEMBER, the life you save may be your own."

OR, it may be that of SOMEONE ELSE.

Someone else counts, too.

McCarthy Panel Tackles Final Set of Charges

Swift-Moving Senators Sift Possible Violations of Espionage Act

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators weighing proposed censure of Sen. McCarthy swung today to the last of their five categories of charges—the allegation of "possible violation of the espionage act" by the Wisconsin senator.

The swift-paced hearing had moved quickly over the question of whether McCarthy has encouraged government employes to slip him official secrets.

On both these points, the hearing borrowed heavily from testimony before the recent McCarthy-Army hearing.

And on both counts, McCarthy's lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, protested that some of the material going into the new hearing record was being taken out of context.

Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) told Williams that in presenting his own case he would have opportunity to "read (into evidence) anything that is not clearly off the subject."

Guy G. de Furia, assistant counsel of the committee, was reading from the McCarthy-Army hearings on the espionage when a recess was taken at 11:55 a.m. for lunch.

McCarthy sat silent while his lawyer interjected his comments and protests.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) said today he will file a formal objection if most of the specific censure charges aimed at Sen. McCarthy "go by default."

There were indications for a time that that might happen in the rapid pace of a special Senate committee heading into the third day.

This investigation is based on Flanders' resolution to condemn McCarthy's official conduct. Then the picture changed a bit.

Flanders himself has filed 33 separate charges in support of his

Boost Cost to Oakland County

Outsiders Flock to Divorce Court Here

By ROBERT F. MAHER

Overcrowded dockets in Wayne County circuit courts and a state law requiring only ten days legal residence have resulted in a steady increase of divorce actions being filed here by out-county residents.

The county's three circuit court judges admit that many of the 2,128 divorce actions filed in 1952 were instituted by residents of other counties who established legal residence in this county, but they have no accurate figures on the total of such cases.

An average of 194 divorce actions per month have been filed so far this year with county taxpayers paying costs involved in tracking down husbands who become delinquent in alimony payments.

No county officials know exactly how many delinquent husbands from other counties have swelled the costs of financing operation of the Friend of the Court's office, but several have indicated there are "a great many."

Members of the Board of Supervisors' Ways and Means Committee have been aware of the problem for sometime and have been trying to devise some means of combating too high an influx of divorce requests from surrounding areas.

Operating costs of the Friend of the Courts office have been set at $100,000 annually, a gradual increase over preceding years.

The $100,000 figure is for complete operation of the office with $7,500 being spent for payment of deputies fees and expenses accrued in seeking out delinquent husbands.

About $2,000,000 was collected by the office last year in alimony payments, a high figure but by no means unusual, according to W. Cadmun Prout, Oakland County Friend of the Court.

Wives and children left in want by lax husbands are usually cared for by county or state agencies.

In such cases dependents in other counties are cared for there, even though the divorce may have been granted in Oakland County.

It is the opinion of Circuit Judges Frank L. Doty and H. Rus-

Puerto Rican Pace-Setter in National Skeet Tourney

By H. GUY MOATS

Early 100's stood up during the late-morning rounds of the National Skeet Shooting Association's 20-gauge championships today. There were three 100x100's fired during the morning.

Bombardment in the championships at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club increased in intensity, with the big field getting into the high over-all swing after three days of blasting with the little guns.

Only event today, outside of the shoot-off for the "Champion of Champions" title, is the national 20-gauge championship.

There are strong fields in all five divisions of this important event—women's, seniors, sub-seniors, juniors and 2-man teams.

Champion of this event gets possession for one year of the NSSA President Frank J. Trucks' pig trophy. He also gets a personal trophy. Class champions receive trophies and coveted brassards. Friday is the first really BIG day. All-gauge tests get under way at 9 a. m.

From early compilations in the high over-all competition, the Puerto Rican police team is still in the vanguard, although there is a present threat from Lew Gordon, the Texarkana, Ark., minnow dealer. Gordon

Mexico Claims Commies Don't Pose Problem

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Communists are not considered a government problem in this country on the southern flank of the United States, and no official action is being taken to control their activities. Nevertheless, various police organizations keep a close watch on the Reds and sometimes lock them up to head off trouble.

The official attitude of the Interior Ministry — which controls the federal police — is that there are not enough Communists in Mexico to "interfere with the normal processes of democratic government."

The Communists are not registered as a party. The Interior Ministry says they cannot muster the 75,000 members a group needs to qualify as a party. And Mexican laws ban political activity by any group which "has links with any foreign organization, if these imply subordination of the Mexican group."

While the Communist party is small — the best estimates are 30,000 members in a population of 25 million — the Popular party follows the Communist line. It polled some 60,000 votes — 6 per cent — in the 1952 presidential elections.

In applying for new registration, the Popular party claimed 120,000 members. Activity in the party is sufficient to bar a Mexican from the United States.

7 Are Arrested in Narcotics Raid

Ounce of Heroin Is Also Confiscated After Police Get Anonymous Tip

Seven persons were arrested and an ounce of heroin was confiscated by Pontiac Police vice squad in a raid here last night.

Acting on an anonymous tip, the raiders swooped down on a room at 234 Wesson St. where they arrested three occupants for investigation of illegal possession of narcotics and the other four on violation of federal narcotic laws.

Being held for investigation in Oakland County Jail are William Walker, 30, of 310 Wilson Ave., Mrs. Lucille Lewis, 32, of 234½ Wessen, Miss Lucy Hill, 22, of 9106 Russell, Detroit; and Leon Hendrix, 25, also of 234½ Wessen.

Charged with illegal possession of dope are Hensel Herbert, 30, occupant of the room; William Thomas, 30, no known address, and Thomas Jones, 29, of 127 Bagley St.

3.5 Million Without Power

Crews Working Feverishly to Repair Storm Damage

BOSTON (AP) — Repair crews and public health experts worked feverishly today to avert further perils to health and safety as the aftermaths of Hurricane Carol, which gave New England a multi-million-dollar battering Tuesday.

Other workers and volunteers searched for missing persons, many of them children.

Fifty-four persons were known to have been killed.

Nineteen were listed as missing, including a 10-month-old baby girl swept from the arms of her mother, Mrs. Robert M. Crosby, 25, of Brockton, Mass.

Mrs. Crosby said her baby, Sharon Eleanor, was torn from her arms as she tried to escape from the wind-buckled cottage on Onset Island, Mass.

No trace was found of the baby up to early today. Nor was there any trace of the three Winick children, Paula, 7, Elsie, 5, and Neal, 2, who are feared drowned in Falmouth.

Their mother, Mrs. Martha Winick, 33, and her sister, Judge Golda R. Walters, 46, of the Ayer District Court, perished when their cottage was swept into Great Pond. Their bodies were found on the beach.

Fully one third of New England was reported without electrical power early today, posing a mammoth health problem since an es-

Convict Peddler for Illegal Sales

Sol Greenwald Guilty Under New Ordinance; Verdict Appealed

Sol. W. Greenwald, 35, of 6520 Third Ave., Detroit, was convicted yesterday in Pontiac Municipal Court of violating a newly amended vending ordinance in the city.

Paul W. Harty, Detroit attorney representing Greenwald, immediately appealed the conviction to Circuit Court and Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum set a preliminary hearing on the appeal for next Tuesday morning.

Charges against a second defendant, Marvin R. Rubinstein, 18, a rabbincal student of 3025 Courtland, Detroit, were dismissed when it was pointed out that he would be unable to attend any more court proceedings because of his studies.

The two men were accused of peddling ice cream here in violation of an amended ordinance that prohibits sale of meat, fish, poultry or ice cream products from any vehicle.

City Attorney William A. Ewart claimed at the trial that the ordinance was necessary for sanitary reasons and that the city has the right to regulate business on public streets.

Harty, who claims that he forced revision of a similar ordinance in River Rouge last year, said that Pontiac's ordinance is unconstitutional because it takes away the right of a man to make a living.

National Guard Will Join Police in Road Patrol

State of Emergency to Go Into Effect at Noon Tomorrow

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

In compliance with a state-wide order issued by Gov. G. Mennen Williams to head off impending highway disaster over the Labor Day weekend, a state of emergency has been declared in Oakland County, beginning at noon tomorrow.

The war on traffic accidents and fatalities will continue through midnight Monday, with city, county and state law enforcement officers and national guardsmen waging it.

Sheriff Clare L. Hubbell and Pontiac Police Lt. Joseph Koren agree that the four days will probably see the heaviest volume of traffic in history.

In addition to all the available manpower of the Pontiac police force, the sheriff's department and the Pontiac State Police Post, at least 13 national guardsmen will patrol local roads.

Spurred by state highway slaughter over the Fourth of July weekend, Gov. Williams for the first time offered the services of the state military to law enforcement agencies across the state.

Ten of the guardsmen will ride with state policemen.

Five cars will be on the road from 8 a.m. to midnight over the weekend, according to Cpl. Emmett Bradley. After midnight, two State Police cars will be on the roads.

No military vehicles will be used. One guardsman will ride with one policeman in the state cars.

Bloomfield Township will use three guardsmen, but the sheriff's department will use none. Hubbell explained:

"The governor's offer was appreciated, but manned as we are we don't need the men. We'll probably have more men than we have radio-equipped cars available.

The sheriff's department will have 16 cars on the road, manned

Reward Is Boosted for Dog Torturer

An additional $25 has been added to the $50 reward offered yesterday for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons involved in cutting off the tongue of a tiny Chihuahua.

Mrs. Martin J. Davis, of the Michigan Animal Rescue League, said that a member of the league, incensed at the cruel act, added the $25 to the reward offered by the league.

Meanwhile, a team of Pontiac detectives is continuing to investigate the case.

At a veterinary hospital today, the five-year-old dog, Sandy, was reported improving by Dr. Kenneth W. Soncrainte.

"He's learning to drink water and eat food without using his tongue," Dr. Soncrainte said.

Sandy is owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Hodge of 121 Ogemaw Rd.

Report Adenauer Willing to Link Bonn With NATO

BONN (UP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is ready to accept West German membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization if the West is unable to find another solution that would bring German troops into western European defense plans, authoritative sources said today.

However, the 78-year-old chancellor will not make such a proposal on behalf of his government as an alternative to the European Defense Community (EDC) which was killed by the French Assembly.

The sources said that the chancellor prefers that NATO membership for West Germany be proposed by "others" — presumably the United States and Britain.

Despite two days of intensive strategy meetings of the West German cabinet and other officials, the government has not reached any decision on an alternative to EDC for rearming Germany, the sources said.

An official German spokesman said Adenauer's government believes a "little EDC" without France is a possible though "less desirable" way of building a European defense against Communism.

The spokesman said West Germany was prepared voluntarily to give up part of her rights to facilitate development of some defense system, once full and unlimited sovereignty has been granted.

However, he said effective defense of western Europe without France, which rejected the European Defense Community plan

Southfield, Lathrup Hold Up OK on Interceptor Sewer

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BRIMINGHAM — The wheels of progress were slowed temporarily yesterday at a meeting of the advisory committee of the Evergreen Interceptor District, when final approval was anticipated for the proposed $2,740,000 Detroit interceptor sewer.

All participating units but Southfield Township and the City of Lathrup Village approved the allocation of costs. Southfield would be the heaviest contributor for construction of the sewer, with a capital outlay of $1,703,557.

Meanwhile, a resolution was passed directing the clerk to have the proposal included on the agenda at the Sept. 20 meeting of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, if an affirmative answer is given by Southfield and Lathrup early next week.

The board of supervisors must create the district and start engineering studies.

Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, and Troy and Bloomfield Townships are the other four communities which make up the district.

Additional Bloomfield Hills social news on page 29.

See "Letters to Editor" column for additional Birmingham news.

Stressing the urgency of the matter, Egbert said, "We were supposed to have the interceptor built by this December. However, if we can give the State Water Resources Commission and the State Health Department definite assurance that we've shown some progress, I'm sure they'll be reasonable."

With reference to the several thousand children starting school next Tuesday, many of them for the first time, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley has asked parents to "consider your children today, tomorrow may be too late."

He suggested that parents take children to school the first day, showing the safest route and directing them to cross only at intersections where patrol boys are stationed. If they must cross at unpatrolled intersections, warn them to look carefully both ways, Moxley said.

Moxley advised bicycle-riders that they must obey all traffic control signs and signals. Parents are asked to park their cars in driveways instead of on the street, whenever possible.

Eight out of ten children are injured in traffic accidents by running into the street from between parked cars and riding their bikes past stop signs and signals, Moxley said.

To avoid any possibility of being molested, he listed several points the parent should tell his child: Never accept rides, money or treats from a stranger, or go with them when they ask directions or offer the child a job with pay.

Never play alone in alleys or isolated places, or around public rest rooms; take a pal along when going to the playgrounds, movies and stores; and take the license number of any suspicious car, reporting it to the police.

As of this week's City Commission meeting, the city will now have an emergency ambulance service at its disposal.

An agreement was made with Michael O'Hara, owner of the new Birmingham Ambulance Service and an ambulance will be available on call, with calls not to exceed $10 per patient. It was reported that since opening here a month ago, the average time taken by the service to answer calls was five minutes.

To meet the need of its growing religious education program, the First Baptist Church has called the Rev. F. Robert Wilkie to its staff as minister of Christian education. He will assist the Rev. Emil Kontz by administering the entire Christian education program for children, youth and adults.

The Rev. Mr. Wilkie recently completed two years of service as a chaplain in the U. S. Air Force while his last place of service was Neighborhood House in Washington, D. C., where he was camp director. He received his theological training at the Divinity School of Yale University.

A letter of resignation as deputy civil defense director was submitted to the City Commission this week by Roland W. Reese, who noted an apparent lack of interest in the program. Personal reasons also influenced his decision, he added.

Hitchhike Holdup Only a Hoax, Man Confesses

BIRMINGHAM — A Birmingham resident, Elmer Miller of 1171 E. Lincoln Ave., has admitted that his story of being robbed of $300 by a hitchhiker was a hoax to cover up recent financial reverses, Detroit police said today.

Detectives said the 26-year-old Miller faces a warrant for making a false felony report.

Miller, who is unemployed and the father of three children, had reported being robbed at gunpoint Tuesday night of money left from the sale of his home in Pontiac. He said the hitchhiker forced him to drive for 45 minutes around northwest Detroit before taking his wallet and making off with his car.

The car was found, abandoned, an hour after Miller made his report.

With Lollipops to Comfort Him, Patient Slips Out

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Artie Pullin, 4, had had enough of the hospital.

He underwent an emergency appendix operation at Crozer Hospital Friday. Yesterday, while his nurse was out of the room, he climbed out of his crib, slipped his bathrobe over his pajamas, stuffed lollipops, comic books, crayons, color books and a toy gun in a paper bag and sneaked out a side door. He had forgotten only his slippers.

Bus driver Herbert Fagley was among the first to spot him, at a crossing, heading for the center of town.

Police were called, and Artie, sucking a lollipop and protesting, "I want to go home," was returned to the hospital.

Outsiders Crowding Divorce Docket Here

sel Holland that the filing by residents of surrounding areas increases the work load but has no other appreciable effect.

To their way of thinking, divorce action by "floaters" is a much bigger problem since a high percentage of the county population is made up of that class citizen.

This area's great industrial concentration acts as a magnet for families, drawing them from many sections of the country, but the stability of their residency depends to a great deal on working conditions and the workers' ability to adapt himself.

No figures are available for the number of divorce actions filed on the 10-day legal residence provision since the great majority of bills of complaint are identical, merely stating that the plaintiff has been a state resident at least a year and a county resident at least 10 days.

Divorce action in itself accounts for approximately one-fourth to one-third of the work load of the county's three judges.

In 1951 1,987 persons filed for divorce in Oakland County; the figure climbed to 2,128 in 1952; 2,363 in 1953 and during the first eight months of this year a total of 1,556 suits were started.

Solutions to the problem have been suggested from many quarters — with the concensus pointing to a revision in the state law on the 10-day residence clause, boosting the length of residence to at least 90 days.

The thought that divorce action requested by persons in other counties be stalled indefinitely in an effort to discourage flooding the docket was advanced, but is unavailable as a remedy since assignment of cases is governed by court rules.

All cases are assigned hearing dates in the order in which they are filed.

Until action on amending present laws is taken by the legislature the 21 employes of the Friend of the Court's office will continue performing their duties and the circuit judges will continue to hear divorce action—regardless of ulterior motives on the part of any plaintiff.

In Pontiac, all available men, plus 35 reserve policemen, will be on duty.

"If necessary, foot policemen will be called should traffic get out of hand," said Koren, who heads the traffic and accident bureau.

Koren asked local residents to cooperate by keeping off main streets and obeying speed regulations.

Red Cross volunteers and amateur radio operators will again be on the roads as they did over the July 4th weekend.

Six radio-equipped cars will be in service to give emergency help to accident victims.

Six other cars will be placed at strategic intersections near telephones, according to Ralph Forman, Red Cross first aid chairman.

Calls will be made to them from chapter headquarters in Pontiac by telephone.

In addition, Red Cross-trained life savers will be on duty at Cass, Walled and Lakeville lakes.

Hubbell added a warning to those planning beach outings:

"Be sure to wait an hour before going into the water after eating. And watch out for power boats."

At the same time, he warned power boat operators to stay away from beaches and unpowered craft.

"I think that all experts will agree with that," he said.

German membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was "still another possibility" for bringing about a German contribution to the West, the spokesman said.

The Bonn Cabinet did not work out a detailed alternative to the now-dead EDC when it met for three hours Wednesday at Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Black Forest vacation retreat at Buehler Hoehe.

But the spokesman said that as long as France has not voiced her views on what should be done next, "all solutions are still possible."

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) chairman of the U. S. Foreign Relations Committee, met with Adenauer and informed sources said they undoubtedly would discuss the Bonn government's demand for "full sovereignty" and participation in European defense "without discrimination."

Probe Unearths Fabulous Deals

Capehart Told About $112 Million Operation Insured by FHA

LOS ANGELES (INS) — The Capehart subcommittee's West Coast investigation of FHA scandals has turned up a fabulous story of a $112,000,000 operation on federal government insured mortgages by a man involved in 200 to 300 corporations.

The super-scale transactions were told by two witnesses in the hearing by Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind) in Los Angeles yesterday.

The witnesses were Ben Weingart and Louis Boyar, two of the nation's biggest builders. But Weingart confused the investigators as much as he amazed them.

Weingart, head of Consolidated Hotels of California, said he was not certain whether his FHA mortgages totaled 50 million dollars or 200 million, or whether he was in some corporations at all.

Weingart admitted that he made a profit of $1,298,300 on a $15,000 investment in the 40-million-dollar Carson Park cooperative housing project.

But when he and Boyar tried to explain interlocking corporation buying and selling, Capehart exploded:

"Why is it necessary to have so many corporations? It'll take 40 Philadelphia lawyers and accountants to figure this thing out!"

Weingart met a number of questions on his financial dealings by saying he did not know, or that the records would, and caused Capehart to comment:

"Here we are, the federal government guaranteeing you $75,000,000 — our records show it is $112,000,000 — and you tell me you know nothing about these things. If any of these projects go sour, the government has to take them back."

Grounded Godfrey Gets Aviation Award Today

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—Arthur Godfrey, who can't fly because his pilot's license has been suspended, was scheduled to come here today to receive an award for his contributions to aviation.

The National Aviation Trades Assn.'s regional meeting was to present the radio and television performer with a diamond-studded silver punch bowl. Engraved on the bowl is a map of Virginia with a diamond marking Godfrey's home town of Leesburg.

resolution. And he said in an interview:

"I would not be satisfied to let most of them go by default. I would appeal, and send my brief to the committee, even if it had recessed."

Senators Morse (Ind-Ore) and Fulbright (D-Ark) have leveled an additional 13 charges against McCarthy. Some of the accusations overlap and the six-man committee investigating them has sifted them down into five general categories. The categories omit a number of accusations Flanders made.

At Denver, Robert Lucas, editor of the Denver Post editorial page, was asked yesterday by a lawyer for Sen. McCarthy to "confirm or deny by return collect wire" the "accuracy of the quotes" in a story about McCarthy.

The Post's March 12 story quoted Sen. Johnson (D-Colo), one of the Senate committeemen hearing censure charges against McCarthy, as saying:

"In my opinion there is not a man among the Democratic leaders of Congress who does not loathe Joe McCarthy. I do not believe there are more than a half dozen Republicans who think McCarthy is all right. Most of them are thoroughly disgusted with him."

Lucas said his reply was: "Confirmed."

Because most members will be attending the funeral of the late Sen. Burnet R. Maybank (D-SC), there will be no session tomorrow. Nor will there be a hearing Monday, Labor Day.

Zoning Halts Opening of New Parking Lots

BIRMINGHAM—Lack of a final decision on necessary set-back requirements has caused a delay in the opening date of the new Wabeek-Jacobson parking lot north of Bates street between Willets and Woodward, Harold B. Kuder, secretary of the Wabeek Corporation said today.

The lot was due to have opened yesterday.

The new lot, and existing parking lots behind Jacobson's and the Wabeek Building on West Maple are to open simultaneously all operated by National Garages. Offstreet parking facilities will be provided for some 300 cars.

Crews Working to Repair Damage

timated 3½ million persons had no means of refrigeration for foods.

Emergency repair crews were brought into New England from points as far as Pennsylvania and Michigan to restore telephone and electrical service.

Tree surgery experts also were brought here to direct the clearance of the jungle of broken and uprooted trees which cluttered most of New England's streets and parks and private properties.

Massachusetts took steps last night to avert a wholesale spoilage of food and contamination of drinking water, threatened by lack of refrigeration and powerless pumps.

A National Guard plane was put into use to establish a dry ice airlift between Boston and a big Newark, N. J., manufacturing plant.

At Logan Airport, public health officials directed the distribution of the dry ice to communities with the greatest need.

Hurricane Dolly picked up a little speed early today and headed toward the southeast tip of Newfoundland, well away from New England.

A Weather Bureau observer said continued movement in a northeasterly direction would take it into the Grand Banks. He said transatlantic shipping was in for trouble.

Nixon Warns GOP Not to Lose Election

CINCINNATI (AP)—Vice President Nixon, beaming confidence in public, has warned the Republican National Committee in private the party must come out on top in the 1954 congressional contests or face political extinction.

If the Republicans fail, "the swing is going to be completely to the left and the Republican party will be as dead as the dodo bird," Nixon said yesterday.

His pep talk to the national committee, holding a workshop conference in Cincinnati, was behind closed doors. But his remarks were overheard by reporters.

Gasoline yield from crude oil has doubled since 1918.

Moscow Hears 'Bingo' Shouted

America House Games Brighten the Lives of Foreign Colony

MOSCOW (INS) — The Greeks probably have their own word for it, but when they cover five numbers in a row they shout in plain old American — "Bingo!"

The Thursday night bingo sessions at Amerikansky Dom on the Moscow River embankment draw a Tower of Babel assortment of players.

Their native tongue can be Greek, French, Spanish, German, Dutch, Arabic, Pegsian, Hindustani or even Urdu — the official Pakistani language.

But they all know at least enough English to be able to cover the right number on their cards when a sergeant from the U. S. Embassy military attache's office sings out, "Clickety-click, O-66."

Luckiest bingo player at one recent session was a handsome young Indian. Two bingos won him a set of pink single-bed contour sheets and a crystal vase.

A Dutchman nursing a beer and three cards took a cocktail shaker and set of martini glasses. French Embassy representatives made the largest collective haul — a bright plaid car robe, a pop-up toaster and a woman's wristwatch.

A U. S. Marine guard picked up a set of peach-colored towels. An American Embassy secretary took home a fitted picnic case.

And the teenage daughter of an Italian Embassy secretary won the 200-ruble ($50) cash prize.

Cards cost 10 rubles. That's rather stiff at the official rate of four rubles to the dollar, but many of the other missions receive allowances from their governments which make rubles cheaper.

Bingo at America House is strictly a social affair. The U. S. government isn't trying to raise funds for a new building for its bachelor junior staffers — even though the present aging building probably should be replaced.

The program is an American contribution toward brightening the drab routine of Moscow living for the junior staffs of the Moscow foreign mission colony.

The club shows free movies Saturdays, Sundays and Tuesdays — the only American films shown in the Soviet Union since the war, except for some "Tarzan" pictures seized as war booty from the Germans.

And after the Saturday night movies, the chairs are pushed against the wall for dancing to records.

The club also has the only bar in town since the Soviet anti-vodka campaign closed down Koktail Hall on Moscow's Gorky street a couple of months ago.

Salmon Fishers Hauling in Huge Profits in Pacific

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — Gillnetters these days ride stationary throughout the night alongside their heaving nets as Pacific coast salmon fishermen reap a rich, squirming crop.

So vast has been the harvest that four canneries here also have gone on an around-the-clock basis to process one day's catch before the next arrives.

In Anacortes, Wash., school children have been excused to work in the canneries — main industry at that tiny point.

From north and south of the border came reports of incredible catches.

Sunday, United States boats reported a catch bordering on half a million fish — a figure repeated Monday. In Canadian waters, figures were slightly higher.

In all, boats of both countries have hauled in more than 6,000,000 salmon so far this season.

To fishermen alone, these silvery cargoes have been valued at $10,500,000.

Loyd Royal, director of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission, the body which regulates fishing in offshore Pacific waters shared by the U. S. and Canada, said the Sockeye catch this year will exceed any cycle since 1913, the last year of the great runs of the past.

The Sockeye, choice among salmon types, run on a four-year life cycle.

Fortunes were being made almost overnight during the last week. One United States boat reported in, dumped a cargo worth $20,000 to the crew, and sailed right back to the fishing grounds.

Traffic Solution

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP) — Prof. Kent T. Healy of Yale University says the most inexpensive way of easing traffic congestion in cities is by making all downtown streets one-way and eliminating curb parking. The solution isn't being adopted because of political fireworks set off by businessmen who resent the restrictions, he added.

More than half a million people have seen the heavens as portrayed by the only planetarium on a college campus—the Morehead Planetarium, at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, which was opened in May 1949.

Cancer, TB Claim Life of Bert Acosta, Pioneer Flier, Flight Instructor

DENVER (AP) — Bert Acosta, whose teen-age flights in home-made planes heralded later ventures to aerial fame, died yesterday, ravaged by cancer and tuberculosis. He was 59.

Death came to the sad-eyed birdman at Jewish Consumptives' Relief Society Sanatorium here two years after he collapsed on a New York sidewalk with what was diagnosed as an advanced case of tuberculosis.

* * *

During his fabulous lifetime, Acosta was in turn a World War I flight instructor, pathfinder for the U.S. air mail service, holder of the 1921 world speed record and coholder of a flight endurance mark.

He later became a test pilot and aviation consultant and made his last flight as a pilot in 1946.

Relatives said Acosta's body will be cremated and the ashes scattered over the Pacific Ocean near Los Angeles by Cmdr. George Neville.

* * *

Acosta, a native of San Diego, Calif., was the son of a southern California mining engineer.

He built his first plane in a small barn when only 10, worked for a time with a California aviation firm and in 1914 taught cadets in Canada for the Royal Flying Corps and the Royal Naval Air Service. He was a World War II instructor for the U.S. Army Signal Corps.

* * *

His world speed record of 174 miles an hour over a closed course was set in 1921 at Omaha, Neb., when he won the Pulitzer Speed Trophy. In 1927 he and Clarence Chamberlain surpassed the existing flight endurance record by staying aloft over Long Island 51 hours 11 minutes 20 seconds.

CHAPEAU? — Shapely Sandy Pendibey shows her latest hat fashion while soaking up the sun at Miami Beach, Fla. A few deft strokes of a razor blade turns the hat into one that can be talked through.

Males Haven't Chance in Newburgh, New York

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (UP) — Males in this downstate New York community find themselves outnumbered by females in every age except one—the 5 to 14 category.

Census figures broken down recently by a city committee show that in the so-called marrying range—21 to 35 years of age — there are 3,160 men to 3,592 women.

Perhaps the age group scrutinized most closely for possible Leap Year "developments" was the 21 to 24 range. Undoubtedly the spirits of the 1,015 women in the group sagged when they learned there were only 795 males in the same age bracket.

Smugglers Find Jobs Profitable

Forbidden Materials Cross Irish Borders Every Night

DUGLIN (UP) — Smuggling—either as a spare-time hobby or as a whole-time job — pays big dividends to some people living on both sides of the 270-mile-long border between the Republic of Ireland and British-governed Northern Ireland.

Although police in both Belfast and Dublin have organized racket-busting squads to deal with smuggles, the trade still pays a pretty penny for effort expended.

Because prices are lower in the republic than across the border for such items as cigarettes, butter, fertilizers, pigs, eggs, and cloth these items form the bulk of the forbidden cargoes that cross the border nightly.

It is estimated that 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 cigarettes valued at $100,000 are smuggled into Northern Ireland every month. A year's work in cigarettes alone gives a tidy profit.

Not all the smuggling, however, is done from this side. A real old time touch was added to the game not long ago when Northern Ireland fishermen sailed their catches to Republic ports where better prices were obtainable than at home.

Fatal traffic crashes in 1953 involved 41,700 men and 4,100 women.

2 Bills Deserving Vetoes

Almost always in the adjournment rush of Congress some bills slip through to enactment which otherwise might be defeated.

We believe two such bills won approval in the last hours of the recent session. One authorizes an increase in the amount of Great Lakes water diverted into the Chicago drainage canal. The other ends Federal responsibility for and control over 177 helpless, poverty stricken, neglected Paiute Indians in western Utah.

The first measure is the fruit of Chicago's 25 year fight for more Great Lakes water. It would increase the diversion of 1,500 cubic feet a second to 2,500 and it bears the deceiving title of a bill "to help control the level of Lake Michigan."

Actually it would have little or no effect on lake levels, as Great Lakes waters now are in a high cycle. The facts seem to be that Chicago can't forget the 1929 Supreme Court decision which set the present diversion limit, and won't stop trying to upset it.

★ ★ ★

Wisconsin interests, however, offer a sound objection to the bill. They point out that all present efforts are toward deepening lake channels because of the St. Lawrence waterway. Why then, they ask, add a needless extra cent to the cost of this work.

★ ★ ★

The Association on American Indian Affairs bitterly opposes the Paiute Indian termination bill. It says these Indians, mostly day laborers, are wholly unfit to be on their own and that only six families are self-supporting.

We believe the President should veto both bills.

Welcome, Skeet Shooters!

Oakland County is happy to play host to the top skeet shooters of the United States, Canada, Mexico and Puerto Rico this week.

They are here to take part in the Fifteenth National Skeet Shooting championships at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club near Waterford.

While the total number of entries will not be known exactly until the end of the week, officials expect more than 500 shooters will take part. They range in age from nine years to better than three score, and include men, women and children.

★ ★ ★

Whereas trap shooting utilizes only one house from which the targets emerge, skeet shooters have two, a high house and a low house, so that the arcs traced by the targets vary greatly.

Some of the top shooters have scored several hundred consecutive hits, and the targets come out of those houses at 60 miles an hour!

★ ★ ★

Shooting starts at 9:30 a. m. and continues daily until 6 p. m. There is action all day long, with 20 fields available. This tournament provides an outstanding opportunity for residents of this area to see the top shotgun experts in action in a sport which has achieved widespread popularity in the past 25 years.

Worth the Money

In the first two years of its operation, the Korean GI Bill of Rights has provided educational and training opportunities for one in every five veterans of that conflict.

During that period, according to the Veterans' Administration, 660,000 of 3,000,000 GIs took advantage of these provisions in the act. Up to now this program has cost taxpayers $390,000,000.

That's a lot of education and economic and social stability for the money and is well worth the cost.

Plans Strong Reserve

Undoubtedly millions of Americans feel like the Legionnaires who cheered President EISENHOWER's promise to submit to the next Congress plans for an adequate military reserve.

The convention cheered him enthusiastically when the President said the creation of such a reserve would be the number one item on his next legislative program. They cheered him again when he promised that his program would "not unfairly burden men who have already served."

The President undeniably was right when he said we had failed miserably to maintain that strong, ready military reserve in which we have believed for 150 years. He was right, too, when he added:

"Now, at long last, we must build a reserve and we must maintain it. Wishful thinking and political timidity must no longer bar a program so absolutely essential to our defense."

★ ★ ★

No hint came from Mr. EISENHOWER as to what form his proposals would take. He made no mention of the program outlined by Assistant Secretary of Defense JOHN HANNAH. At that time, however, the White House did make known the fact that the HANNAH plan was being studied by the Security Council.

•

The need for reserve strength such as would have been provided by universal military training, grows daily. The steady increase in Soviet naval and air strength and French rejection of EDC make it imperative that no time be lost in getting down to grips with this problem.

Birmingham Property Owners Oppose Creation of a Municipal Parking Lot

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

We note with great interest the full accounts appearing in your issues concerning Birmingham affairs, both in matters of City Commission proceedings and other events. Your paper performs an important service in Birmingham through your large circulation reporting on these matters.

The local City government has tentative plans to create a Municipal parking lot between Brown and Merrill Streets just east of Pierce Street. In view of a proposed public hearing on this matter at the City Commission meeting September 7, the following memorandum opposing the proposed parking lot is submitted:

1. The proposed investment of City funds in property not now owned by the City is unwarranted because the City now owns and can use the block bounded by Henrietta, Merrill, Bates and Martin.

2. Privately owned parking areas are being developed which are not yet fully utilized and privately owned parking areas already developed are not fille

3. The proposed City owned parking area in the Brown, Pierce, Merrill area will be a blighting influence on the property adjacent. In spite of this fact it is proposed in Birmingham to assess adjacent property for funds to contribute to the cost of this project.

4. We believe the public, whose vehicles use the streets of Birmingham have contributed funds for many years and are still contributing to provide parking facilities by the City government.

We believe the benefits from parking facilities will accrue mainly to those persons driving their cars into Birmingham. We therefore oppose the proposed assessments.

'Bingo Is a Skin Game, Crooked as Can Be'

In reply to Mrs. M. regarding her version of charity Bingo, I will say that I play the game and have called it many, many times. All the visiting I ever saw was several groups playing poker, dice games, penny ante and matching coins. Is this visiting? I have never seen any church people at the game.

Bingo is a skin game, crooked as can be. The caller can hold a jackpot or let it go. There are 8 Bingo games running at present and for 21 weeks only one has lost a jackpot.

Mrs. M., take another look when you go to the next game. Who pay: for the expenses, like new halls and tellers? Callers are paid from the game, so not too much is left for charity.

Bingo is a vicious game and has not a leg to stand on. Vote "No" November 2.

Muscular Activity Helps to Relieve Nervous Tension in Emotional Crisis

Ever get "burned up" at somebody? Well, don't sit still! Channel that emotional energy into actions involving your skeleton. For, if you don't, it will shortcircuit internally and zoom your blood pressure, cause spastic colitis, peptic ulcer and many other ailments. Learn to externalize your emotional energy for your health's sake.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case M-304: Laura Q., aged 27, is afflicted with spastic colitis, indigestion and other neurotic ailments.

"Dr. Crane, when I get nervous, something happens deep inside of me," she said.

"I may feel afraid or angry, but instead of running away or fighting back or even crying, I just freeze up inside. I may feel so sick at my stomach after my boss scolds me for some trivial fault, that I actually vomit my lunch.

"Or my colitis will flare up and I may be forced to stay off work for a few days. How can I overcome this reaction?"

There are two major types of muscles in the body—the skeletal that hook on to our bones or skeleton. These produce movement.

Then we have the smooth muscles which surround the stomach and intestines, blood vessels, etc.

The latter are controlled by the autonomic nervous system, which is almost entirely separate from our brain. But it isn't entirely so, for a few connecting nerve fibers do carry impulses across.

Thus, when Laura gets scolded she becomes terrified or angry, and this mounting nervous tension in her brain shortcircuits across into her autonomic nervous system.

Then it causes her stomach to retch and her intestines to clamp down and her blood pressure to zoom and her heart to race at maybe 120 beats per minute.

For when you keep your skeleton motionless in an emotional crisis, the nervous energy of your brain erupts like a volcano and shoots across into the autonomic functions of the body.

The best way to prevent this strain on your heart and upset to your digestive system, is to reduce your nervous tension by action of muscles that move bones.

Some people thus pace up and down the floor. Others get so angry they kick a chair. Another type will burst into tears and weep loudly, sobbing hard for several minutes.

"Go on and cry," many a girl has thus been urged when some emotional shock has rendered her almost paralyzed with grief but dry eyed. And the act of crying does relax the girl emotionally. Ultimately, she feels much more soothed.

Muscular action involving the skeleton thus relieves the nervous tension and helps you avoid peptic ulcer, spastic colitis, etc.

But don't kick your auto or a chair. Snort and rage and talk to yourself till you get rid of the explosive inner tension.

Or walk up a few flights of stairs till you are puffing for breath. Or do a fast jog around the block.

If you are so burned up at somebody at bedtime that you can't sleep, get up and type a letter telling him off in complete detail. But don't mail the letter. Wait till the cold light of dawn to proofread it, for then you'll probably find it wise to tear it up.

But write it that night to dissipate your ire via muscular actions involving your bones, for that will make you more relaxed.

When you try to bottle up your emotional tension, it shortcircuits internally and upsets digestion, blood pressure, etc.

So externalize your ire or fear as by pounding the piano till you have had your emotional catharsis or by chopping wood or spading the garden or even shadow boxing.

David Lawrence Says:

New McCarthy Hearing Unlike a Judicial Inquiry

WASHINGTON—The public has been getting the wrong impression as to the nature of the hearing by the special Senate committee of six which is investigating the resolution proposing censure against Senator McCarthy. It is not by any means a judicial hearing such as takes place in a court of law.

For here the judges and the jury and the prosecutors are all the same people, and even if a "juror" — in this case a senator— has expressed an opinion beforehand, he isn't disqualified from sitting on the "jury."

The only thing that resembles a judicial inquiry in the committee of six is the manner of taking evidence. The procedure otherwise is pretty much in line with the flexibility senators have always exercised in their committee proceedings.

Thus, Senators Flanders of Vermont, Morse of Oregon and Fulbright of Arkansas filed the charges against Senator McCarthy, and yet they will sit on the senatorial jury and vote.

The Vermont senator isn't to be called as a witness, because he says he has no firsthand knowledge of the charges but nevertheless he made public this week a letter designed to influence the so-called "court." This is, of course, within his senatorial prerogative.

Yet no letters are usually sent by a prosecuting attorney demanding that the jury place emphasis on certain passages and data. These presentations are usually made in open court and not by complainants or by witnesses.

Not long ago, when the Stevens-Schine-Cohn charges were aired, the opponents of Senator McCarthy insisted that he must not sit on the committee, and he voluntarily withdrew. Also, when Samuel P. Sears, a Boston attorney, was appointed counsel, it was found he had expressed an opinion about Senator McCarthy in a newspaper interview, and his resignation was forced.

But Senator Edwin Johnson of Colorado now has been reported in the press as having expressed beforehand, in a newspaper interview, some adverse opinions about the Wisconsin senator personally. The special Senate committee, however, now says this issue is irrelevant and not pertinent and that, besides, it couldn't disqualify the Colorado senator if it wanted to do so.

He could, of course, voluntarily withdraw, but Senator Watkins says the committee members do not have to be impartial anyway, as all senators are guided by political platforms and political principles.

This tends to justify Senator McCarthy's attitude toward the Senate subcommittee on privileges and elections before which he declined to testify in 1952 on the ground that it was engaged in a political smear started by one of his political critics, Senator Benton of Connecticut.

But, while the newspapers have been filled recently with charges that the Wisconsin senator refused to testify before that committee, the truth is he merely declined an invitation to testify, though he did answer several letters from the committee and explained his viewpoint and made a categorical denial of the principal charges.

The same holds true for the oft-repeated charge that the Wisconsin senator cast aspersions on General Zwicker when the latter was testifying. This is a right of free speech which is well established.

The day that members of a congressional committee are deprived of their right to characterize any witnesses appearing before them or to make attacks on the floor of either house—as in the case of the criticism of General Marshall in a speech by Senator McCarthy—that day the Senate will cease to exist as a body of free men.

The charges against Senator McCarthy, if dealt with on a strictly legal basis, will not conform to the constitutional definition of "disorderly behavior," where the term is properly used in the precedents of censure cases.

But if the Hitler approach is to be applied, Senator McCarthy can be censured. For it will be recalled that the Nazi leader ordered the judges on the bench to decide cases, not on the basis of the law or the constitution of Germany, but on the basis of "public sentiment" in their respective localities.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

In the course of Pentagonal parlor pastimes we find the hand is Zwicker than the eye.

The general has been processed from Camp Kilmer to Zama in one easy investigation.

While remembering the pomp we forget the circumstances.

Wasn't it something about a dentist being made a major for bravery in the face of the enemy?

We want to say that General Zwicker took it like a soldier. Full pay, arrears, travel expenses, living quarters allotment and miscellaneous.

He goes to Japan to sing the Pinkerton role in Poor Butterfly. If anything else comes up in the Pentagon it will not be a meal on a dumbwaiter.

No power on the mezzanine can recall General Zwicker without a counter-investigation from Joe McCarthy. The case is beginning to take a Dior flat-look.

Both Beri Beri and Tetany Caused by Appetizing but Deficient U. S. Diet

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

To the best of my recollection I never saw or heard of a case of tetany in four years of medical school and two years of internship in a 400 bed hospital where there were always 30 to 40 infants from birth to two years of age.

Occasionally I came across allusions to the condition in my reading, but medical authors seemed to shy away from it, perhaps because earlier authors set the style for them.

I found these allusions chiefly in textbooks of pediatrics and thus acquired the impression, which I believe most doctors have, that tetany occurs always or nearly always in infants.

Well, now, this isn't the only wrong notion entertained by the rank and file of the profession. Take beri beri, for instance. Most physicians in North America assume without much consideration that it can't happen here, because our scale of living is the highest in the world, as we boastfully claim.

The truth is that beri beri (which is Singhalese for "I cannot," I'm too weak, too ill, to do anything) is widely prevalent here in children and adults, but in milder form which generally goes unrecognized even if the persons who have it seek medical advice.

The cause of beri beri in America as in Asia, is vitamin B deficiency. In the Phillippines, China, India, Ceylon the B deficiency is due mainly to deprivation, famine, restricted diet. In America it is due mainly to ignorance—the great majority of middle class and well-to-do Americans, who purport to be well educated, get most of their calories from cheat-foods—refined flour and refined white sugar.

The Yankee Wiseacre "high scale of living" is based on a diet that is rich, nourishing, appetizing, digestible and whatever other adjectives the technicolor package claims, but it is cheat-food nevertheless, for it cannot maintain good nutrition.

The replacement of polished white rice with brown, red, unmilled rice, in the orient, refined white flour, in the occident, is the best known way to prevent beri beri.

Tetany is due, I am convinced, to calcium and D deficiency. Nineteenth century medical textbooks, and current textbooks which hash over the old hokum when the authors have nothing of their own to contribute, mumbled about "disturbance" of parathyroid gland function as a hypothetical factor of tetany.

Horsefeathers. Horsefeathers is my opinion of nine out of every ten pounds of medical books I have been stuck with the past thirty years.

In my tetany file are more than 400 grateful letters from men and women of mature age who have found lasting relief from painful cramps in feet or legs, sometimes in hands or arms, cramps that sieze victims in the night.

They have supplemented their ordinary narrow Yankee nourishing, digestible appetizing, refined diet with a fair daily ration of calcium and sunshine vitamin D (the vitamin is always necessary to insure normal utilization of calcium), as described in the pamphlet Adult Tetany. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for it—but not with a clipping, if you please.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Claims Portrait Not Fit for Sons

Mrs. Woodward Says Disputed Dali Picture Was Painted for Lads

LONDON (AP)—Mrs. Ann Woodward of New York, being sued by Salvador Dali for $7,000 for a portrait she didn't like, said today the surrealist artist's picture wasn't a proper present for her children.

Dali, who once painted a picture of a girl with an exploding head, is reported to have made a portrait of Mrs. Woodward surrounded by shells and caves.

"It was something like that," said Mrs. Woodward. "But I really didn't look for the details. I had one glance and then turned away without saying anything to Mr. Dali."

The Spanish artist's reaction was to sue her for his fee in the New York State Supreme Court.

Mrs. Woodward, repeatedly pressed for her views, invited reporters to the Painted Room of Claridges Hotel today. She had three waiters serving gin and potato chips.

Mrs. Woodward, wife of William Woodward, banker and race horse owner, made it very clear that she was not finding fault with Dali as an artist. She liked one of his portraits very much, and that is why she commissioned him to make one of her.

"But what I wanted was a picture suitable to give to my two boys, William III, he's 10, and James, 7," said Mrs. Woodward. "Well, what Mr. Dali produced just wasn't fit for the purpose."

Mrs. Woodward said that posing for Dali can be a strenuous experience.

"One doesn't sit in any ordinary way. Mr. Dali just walks around getting impressions and making sketches," she said. "Then he has a rule—one cannot see the sketches until all is finished.

"When all was finished I didn't like it because I had hoped for something that would give my boys a pleasant impression of their mother."

Horticultural Robbers Receive Lucky Break

DETROIT (AP)—Burglars worked for hours over a safe in a flower shop, but couldn't break it open. Before departing, however, they reached into a flower refrigerator and took some corsages and boxes in which to put them.

Their decision to take flowers, cost the shop $347. The owned explained: "For years I've kept office supplies in the safe and money in a corsage box in the refrigerator.

Operations Duplicated

MERIDEN, Conn. (AP)—Winslow Chase, 13, was operated on for acute appendicitis. Within a few hours, his brother, Glendon, 15, became ill at a private school 100 miles away and rushed here. He too was operated on for acute appendicities by the same surgeon and the same hospital.

Sherman, Conn. is named for Roger Sherman, a shoemaker and one of the authors of the Declaration of Independence.

Geiger Counters Now Being Used to Spot Allergies

CHICAGO (UP)—Geiger counters, originally invented to measure radioactivity, now are on the trail of new allergies.

Doctors think they can find out what happens in the body of an allergy victim when he swallows or inhales or touches the substance he is sensitive to, thanks to the counter.

"It's a simple laboratory trick" said Dr. Samuel M. Feinberg, head of allergy research at Northwestern University, "to attach a radio-active iodine molecule to a protein, thus making the protein "labeled' or 'tagged.'

"Then, when the protein is injected into the system of a guinea pig or a human being, the molecule can be recognized anywhere in the body by the 'click-click' on the magic lantern of the Geiger counter machine brought near to it."

One of the puzzles in developing a treatment for allergic diseases has been to locate the tissue in the human body where the allergic reaction takes place. By using the tagged proteins and a Geiger counter, doctors hope to find this spot.

Weather Balloon Attains New Record in California

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A Weather Bureau balloon soared to a record height of 134,598 feet—about 25.5 miles—before it burst.

That was about 21,575 feet higher than the previous mark.

The balloons, which send out radio signals recording temperature, humidity and pressure, are about 6 feet in diameter when they are released.

They expand to about 20 feet at maximum height, most of them bursting at 80,000.

Harvard Teaches Irish About Erin's History

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UP)—Harvard University Widener Library and Ireland's National Library in Dublin are partners in a unique system for exchanging rare items dealing with Irish culture.

If either finds a gap in some collection in this field, it queries the other and, if available, the missing item is sent on microfilm.

More than once the Harvard Library has become owner of some rare item about Ireland that is not available in the Dublin Institution.

Face bearing 1652 date.

Colonial Coin Worth $100

Early Value Unknown; Turned Out in Boston it Dates to 1652

FALL RIVER, Mass. — Joseph Sylvia, ground keeper at the U. S. Naval War College at nearby Newport, R. I., picked up a dirty penny. He offered it to a fellow worker who refused it.

Sylvia figures that was a break because cleaning revealed the date 1652. It is one of the earliest coins in this country.

It apparently came from a mint established in Boston in 1651 or 1652 under authority of the Great and General Court of Massachusetts. (That still is the official name of the Massachusetts legislature.)

John Hull was in charge of the mint and is said to have become wealthy turning out three and six pence pieces and silver shillings like this one—receiving as pay one shilling for each 20 minted.

Sylvia, a World War II veteran, has been offered $100 for the coin and turned it down, hoping for better offers—enough to put with his present modest nest egg to make a down payment on a home under the GI bill.

One numismatist, Oscar Schilke of Beacon Falls, Conn., recommended Sylvia accept the $100.

The coin bears on its face the uneven lettering "Ano New England" around the rim. In the center is the Roman numeral "VI." and the date "1652." The reverse bears a pine tree, one of three designs common to early Massachusetts coins, and around its edge some of the letters of the words "In Massachusetts."

Either the stamp was off center or someone shaved off some of the silver, a custom that was not too unusual in those days.

Donald Gibs of the Redwood Library says the date "1652" does not necessarily mean the coin was minted then, since dies of that time were unchanged for about 30 years.

"Still," says Gibbs, "30 years doesn't mean much when you go back 300."

College Finds TV Is Big Help in Registration

CHICAGO (UP) — Television was employed at the registration of students at Chicago Teachers College in a way that saved long hours and aided in the signing up of students for classes.

By employing a closed circuit, registration clerks and school officials could see immediately which classes were closed, which had space and just how many students the classes could hold.

School authorities reported that in previous registrations, students went through the tedious process of filling out cards and in many cases learned by mail the classes were full. This necessitated substituting of classes, dropping of others and much unnecessary paper work.

In the new way, a camera is focused on a bulletin board in the library where class enrollments are tallied and flashed to TV screens in other rooms where the students fill out their programs.

The college also uses closed circuit TV in classroom work where one instructor can give a visual lecture-demonstration to several rooms at the same time.

Typist Gets $28 a Month

TOKYO (UP)—Help-wanted advertisements in Tokyo newspapers indicate the following monthly wage scales: typist with a "good knowledge of English," $28; an ordinary typist, $20; a hotel manager, $28; and accountant, $42; mechanical engineer, $42; a store clerk, $1.20 per day.

MANCHESTER, Tenn. (UP) — Effectively hidden to westbound traffic by a huge billboard advertising a competitor across the highway, a roadside restaurant here has countered with a sign a few miles up the road proclaiming its location as "Just Behind The Largest Sign In Tennessee."

Crime Expert Attributes Cause to Parent Faults

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — The old saying that "there's a little larceny in the best of us" was underscored by Edwin J. Lukas, former executive director of the National Society for the Prevention of Crime, in a speech here.

Lukas said that our children are savages, the majority of parents are not fit to be parents when their children are born and "unconsciously we don't want to prevent crime."

"Actually," he added, "we are titillated by it."

The crime expert said, "man began life as a criminal" and pointed out that a baby will refuse to give back most things that are handed to him.

"That is larceny, pure and simple," he said.

He claimed the child does not become law-abiding until exposed to civilized society, but sometimes the exposure is insufficient because the "vast majority of parents are emotionally unfit to have children."

Lucas claimed the home is the source of the crime problem and the solution is providing a feeling of "being wanted" in children.

Dem Nominee Follows in Footsteps of Parents

UNION, S.C. (UP) — Manley Greer will follow in both his father's and mother's footsteps.

He won the Democratic nomination for county supervisor, a job his father held 16 years. When his father died, his mother served the unexpired term.

Tooth Disease Almost as Common as Cold

DES MOINES (AP)—Tooth disease is more widespread than any other ailment of mankind except the common cold, Dr. Leslie M. Fitz-Gerald, Dubuque, Iowa, president of the American Dental Assn., says.

He estimates it would take 280 million fillings to fix all the cavities of children 6 to 18 years old in the United States and that 97 per cent of the population suffers from some form of tooth decay or gum disease.

Baby Christening Dress in Use for 56 Years

UTICA, N. Y. (UP) — A baby dress in the family of Mrs. Gerald N. Darling will soon be used for its 30th christening.

The dress was first worn 56 years ago at the christening of Mrs. Darling's brother.

Mrs. Darling launders the fragile, hemstitched dress by hand after every use and wraps it in blue paper to prevent it from yellowing. The dress has an Irish rosepoint lace flounce and is made with full, long skirt.

U.S. Files Kept in Giant Centers

Government Maintains Records of Ex-GIs and Federal Employes

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Have you been a government worker at any time since 1860 or been in the Army since 1912? If so, Uncle Sam has a case history of you filed in two mammoth record centers here.

A civilian center spreads over 328,000 square feet of floor space, employs 260 persons and is run by the General Services Administration.

A military center occupies 930,000 square feet and keeps 1,600 workers busy.

Combined, the two centers house more than 64,000,000 records, including one that states that William F. Cody, better known as "Buffalo Bill," was hired as a government guide at $125 a month on Oct. 5, 1886.

On top of this staggering amount of records, the civilian center expects to receive 41,000,000 more records soon from the post office and the civil service commission. And the military center is preparing to receive 5,000,000 Navy and Marine records when the unification of the defense paper empire is complete.

Although new records come into the military center at the rate of a mile-high stack each month, Col Harold H. Newman, chief of the center, says there is no such thing as a dead record.

The centers are such treasure chests of information that demands are huge and continuous. The military center receives up to 55,000 mail inquiries weekly, while the civilian counterpart takes care of more than 2,000 inquiries daily and expects 850,000 during the coming fiscal year.

Discretion in answering inquiries is the rule at both establishments. Each has its own regulations, but government agencies, naturally, have access to all files.

The civilian center has furnished congressional committees with the records of such headline figures as Alger Hiss, Harry Dexter White, and even the executed atom bomb spy, Julius Rosenberg.

The subject of a record can get available information with the exception of some medical data. Usually at the civilian center questions concentrate on employment, pay and retirement benefits.

At the military center, many inquiries are for information for social security claims, hospitalization and military funerals.

Authorities there said that there have been cases where burials have been scheduled for national cemeteries, only to result in discovery through a flip of the files that the deceased had not been in service at all.

The Great Smoky mountains maintain a 36-mile crest more than 5,000 feet high.

List 9 Death Traps Prevalent in Cities

BOSTON (UP) — Nine "community death traps" that cause hundreds of child fatalities in the United States each year have been listed by the Institute for Safer Living. They are:

1. Watter-filled holes, pits and ditches.
2. Old iceboxes.
3. Sand banks.
4. Community junk heaps.
5. Junked automobiles.
6. Unsafe outside stairways.
7. Abandonded sheds and other buildings.

Report Fewer Negroes Signing at White Schools

RICHMOND, Va. (UP)—The Richmond News Leader says a poll indicates Negroes in the state generally have lost interest in attending white schools since establishment of their legal right to do so.

The paper reports its poll of nine state - supported colleges shows fewer Negroes are seeking admission this year. The sole exception, the paper says, is Virginia Polytechnic Institute, which has accepted three Negroes compared with one last year.

NEW YORK (UP)—President Eisenhower will serve again as honorary chairman of Brotherhood Week next Feb. 20 to 27 under sponsorship of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Egypt Behind West, but Won't Sign Pact

CAIRO, Egypt (UP) — Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's military government declared today that "Egypt stands in every respect with the West" but that a defense pact with the Western Powers now would only provide the Communists with fuel to stir up "the still suspicious minds of the Arabs."

A communique from the ruling Revolution Council that deposed King Farouk two years ago said it realized the United States and Britain would never invade the Arab world and added:

"It's (Egypt's) culture, trade and economic life is linked to the West. Ideologically Egypt is outspokenly against communism. Militarily Egypt considers that the only possible global danger to the Middle East is an invasion from Russia."

Turboprop Constellation Makes Maiden Flight

BURBANK, Calif. (UP)—The Navy's new turboprop military version of the Super Constellation, the R7V2, has been successfully test flown.

Lockheed Aircraft Corp., builder of the personnel-cargo-evacuation craft, says it is the world's fastest propeller-driven transport with a cruising speed of 440 m.p.h. It is powered by four 5,500-horsepower turbine propeller engines and can fly 16-ton loads across the nation nonstop in less than six hours.

The plane's maiden flight was made here yesterday.

Imperial Crown Shown in Vienna

Symbol of Holy Roman Empire Hidden Before, Is Now Displayed

VIENNA (UP) — The 992-year-old crown of the Holy Roman Empire, Europe's most historic piece of imperial jewelry, is on view here for the first time since Adolf Hitler stole it in 1938.

The gem - studded crown, nearly lost forever when it was buried behind cement in World War II, is displayed under heavy guard at Vienna's old Hofburg Palace. Alongside it are the coronation sword, the coronation lance and silk and satin coronation robes of the Holy Roman Empire.

Scholars say the crown is easily the oldest of its kind in existence in Europe. German imperial craftsmen built it for the coronation of Emperor Otto I in 962 A.D.

The diamonds, amethysts and other stones with which it is encrusted are in rough, unpolished form. They could pass for worthless pebbles — for the men who made the crown did not know the art of diamond cutting.

Hitler grabbed the crown when he invaded Austria in 1938 and had it taken to Nuernberg Castle in Germany with other Holy Roman treasures. To Hitler the crown was a precious symbol of Germanic might.

The coronation lance is even older than the crown and is said to date back to the coronation of Emperor Charlemagne at Rome in 800 A.D. Embedded in the lance is a nail which, according to holy records, came from Christ's cross.

The coronation sword is believed to have come from Siberia or Asia, and the coronation robes are made from Chinese, Arabian, Byzantine and Sicilian fabrics.

Experts say the precious metals and gems in the crown probably would not bring more than $30,000 at present market prices. But its history makes it and the rest of the collection precious beyond any figures.

Giving a Party? Cheapest Place Is on High Seas

NEW YORK (INS) — The best place in the world to throw a small cocktail party is aboard a trans-Atlantic steamship on the high seas and you can do it for less than 10 dollars.

The estimate comes from Fred Kocher, chief port steward for the United States Lines.

Most whiskies featured on the new wine list on both ships cost 35 to 40 cents per "shot"—one and three-quarter ounces—about twice the size portion served on land.

For first and cabin-class passengers, hors d'oeuvres and other delicacies, like all other food served aboard ship, are free for the asking, and as often as you feel like asking.

Assuming an average of four giant-sized drinks a person, the hosting passenger can make like Perle Mesta at cocktail time for five or six guests, and still get change from a 10-dollar bill.

The reason for the reasonable beverage prices aboard ship, Kocher says, is that no overhead is charged against the serving of drinks, as is done in all restaurants and retail establishments ashore.

Furthermore, since the serving, and the drinking, is done on the high seas, no federal or liquor taxes are added to the bill. Thus, the seamship passenger can enjoy himself virtually at cost price.

The world's output of butter was estimated at 3.6 million in 1950, notes a Twentieth Century report. Australia, New Zealand and Ireland use nearly two-thirds of their milk for butter, the United States only 27 per cent.

1,116 Michigan Men Face October Draft Call

LANSING (UP) — State Selective Service headquarters today announced that 1,116 men would be called for induction in the armed services during October.

Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director, said the October call can be filled with registrants 20 years old or older because of the continuing higher number of volunteers. Oakland County will furnish 67 men for the October call.

Ankle-Length Socks

CHICAGO (UP)—Four out of five men wear anklet socks as against only one in four 10 years ago, according to a survey by a hosiery company.

Also, the firm said, men don't worry much about whether the stocks stay up. Only 15 per cent wear garters now that elastic-top socks are available.

About 75 per cent of Canada's population lives along its southern frontier adjoining the United States.

California's frozen fruit pack in 1953 rose to almost 144 million pounds, a gain of 52 per cent over the pack for the previous year.

Bay City Firm Will Lay 2 Destroyer Escort Keels

BAY CITY (AP) — Keel-laying ceremonies for two destroyer escort vessels are scheduled today at the Defoe Shipbuilding Co. yards in Bay City.

The $13,792,418 contract awarded to Defoe for construction of the two ships was the largest shipbuilding contract the Navy has let in Michigan since World War II. During the war Defoe built a record 154 destroyer escorts for the Navy.

Capt. Floyd B. Schultz, a native of Bay City, will represnt the Navy department at the keel-laying ceremonies.

An average railway passenger's journey in the U. S. is about 72 miles.

Torrid Asia Conference Boasts Cool Background

WASHINGTON — The torrid issues confronting the Southeast Asia conference will be pondered in one of the coolest, most exhilarating spots in the tropical Orient.

Baguio, the Philippines' summer capital, relaxes 5,000 feet above sea level in moderate temperatures while Manila, the islands' metropolis and regular seat of government 125 miles to the south, swelters amid the heat and humidity of the lowlands.

A city to which the eyes of America will soon turn, Baguio displays strong American influence, says the National Geographic Society.

Shortly after the turn of the century it was founded by William Howard Taft, then governor of the Philippines. The city was laid out by D. H. Burnham, a Chicago landscape artist.

Baguio's Camp John Hay, named for a famed United States secretary of state, had a reputation as probably the most beautiful Army base on the islands.

Now a recreation center, it encompasses golf links, tennis and handball courts, a clubhouse, and the United States ambassador's summer residence where Gen. Yamashita formally surrendered his Japanese army nine years ago.

This month representatives of eight nations — Great Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, Pakistan, the Philippines and the United States — are holding sessions in the capacious ballroom and conference rooms of the President's mansion, originally built for the American governors-general but later turned over to the Philippine Presidents.

Baguio, city of 30,000, lures officials, tourists and honeymooners during its March-through-May resort season. Its salubrious climate varies only about four degrees a year, idling around 64.

Models of the Ark and the Dove, vessels that brought the first colonists to Maryland in 1633, have been discovered in an old English manor house.

President Signs Bill He Originally Planned to Kill

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—President Eisenhower changed his mind today and signed into law a bill he previously had announced he was killing.

"It now appears that an error was made," the President said in a prepared statement.

The bill directs the secretary of the interior to turn over to Mrs. Pearl O. Marr of Crossroads, N.M., the oil, gas and other mineral interests which were reserved by the government at the time the property involved was deeded to her husband John.

Eisenhower said he decided last Friday to "pocket-veto" the bill—kill it — because the Interior Department had advised him "there were no special equities" in the case to warrant a departure from precedent.

The President added he later was advised by Secretary of the Interior McKay that "his attention had been directed to new evidence which indicates that special equities do exist in this case."

Hospital Offers Bargain

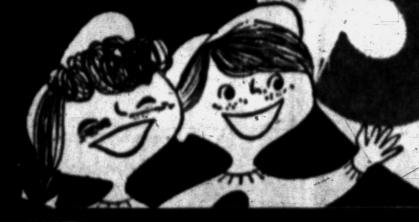

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A hospital in Kalamazoo is offering free medical care to prospective mothers if:

The child is the mother's fifth, sixth, seventh, or eighth and it is born in 1954.

The Sisters of St. Joseph, who operate the hospital, say it makes no difference where the prospective parents live as long as the child is delivered at the hospital.

Ambassador-Chef Challenges Envoys

LONDON (AP)—Argentine Ambassador Domingo Dersi flung a challenge last night into the teeth of all other ambassadors, ministers, charge d'affaires, first secretaries and cultural attaches.

He thinks he can cook better than any of them, and is willing to prove it in a contest open to all accredited diplomats.

He threw down the skillet at a party at his own embassy, and if no one steps forward to oppose him, he will demonstrate his ability anyway by presiding over an assado soon. An assado is an Argentine version of a barbecue.

Frau Deals Herself In to Save Calves, Horse

KAPPELN, Germany (INS) — The wife of a local farmer has found that direct action is the best way to deal with her husband's losing ways at the card table.

Otto Flachsendorf was engaged in his usual card game and having his usual luck — he'd lost two calves and one horse.

Frau Flachsendorf pulled up a chair and uttered the German equivalent of "deal me in." At 3 in the morning, she pushed back the chair, winner of the two calves, the horse — and another player's cow.

About 450,000 American workers were injured or killed by falls while at work during 1953.

Bear Prefers to Live in Tree Top Roost

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—A black bear was discovered in Michigan's Blaney Park making like a bird.

Unlike brother bruins hibernating in dens in the ground, this bear slept in a pine tree 53 feet above the ground. The bear came wobbling out of a hole near the top when the giant tree was felled. It lumbered off, unhurt.

Poetry's Zip Fades

zip and romantic didoes of poetry of yesteryear is sadly lacking among poets of today. The criticism came from Dr. Lawrence E. Nelson, chairman of the University of Redlands Browning poetry contest. The professor lamented: "It's been years since I've been sent butterfly wings or jaybird feathers by contestants. Poets don't send them any more. What's more, the poem entries aren't perfumed nowadays, whereas the clash of odors in my office in the old days used to be terrific."

Steel Capital Preparing for Celebration in 1958

PITTSBURGH (AP) — When this steel capital observes its bicentennial in 1958 it expects to have published one of the most complete histories of any city in the world.

Author Stefan Lorant has been retained to edit the volume which is expected to run more than 500 pages, have 250,000 or more words of textual matter and at least 750 photographic illustrations. The project is being financed by several Pittsburgh trusts and foundations.

Canvassers OK Wording of Proposed Amendments

LANSING (AP) — The wording of four constitutional amendments to be placed on the Nov. 2 ballot today was approved by the State Board of Canvassers.

The approval included wording of the proposal to legalize charity lotteries, although the Michigan Council of Churches has threatened legal action to keep it off the ballot.

The council has until Sept. 14, when the official ballot is certified to county clerks, to start the action.

The proposals as they will appear on the ballot are:

No. 1 Shall Section 1, Article III of the Constitution be amended to allow an elector who has removed to another city or township within this state during the 30 days next preceding an election, to vote at such election in the city or township where registered and from which last removed?

No. 2 Shall Section 23, Article X of the Constitution be amended to limit the sales tax levy to a maximum of 3 per cent and provide that the sales tax collected on each dollar of sales, minus collection costs, shall be distributed as follows: ½ cent to cities, villages and townships on a population basis calculated as prescribed therein, 2 cents to a restricted fund expendable for school districts as provided by law, including a mandatory restricted appropriation for school employes retirement, and the balance to the state?

No. 3 Shall Article X of the Constitution be amended by adding Section 26 to authorize borrowing not to exceed $80,000,000 for payment of bonuses, of not to exceed $500 to each person who performed military service between June 27, 1950 and Dec. 31, 1953, or if deceased, to other persons named therein?

No. 4 Shall Section 33, Article V of the Constitution which now prohibits all forms of lotteries, be amended to permit the Legislature to authorize lotteries to be conducted by and lottery tickets sold by non-profit charitable organizations as hereafter defined by law?

Bambagi Stands Mute on Fatal Stabbing Count

Antone Bambagi, 48, was returned to Oakland County Jail today after standing mute to a charge of first degree murder before Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland. A plea of not guilty was entered by the court.

Bambagi, of 161 Pingree St., is charged with the stabbing of George Spencer, 30, July 17 in Orion Township. The stabbing, according to witnesses, followed a drinking party and a quarrel over Bambagi's wife Lulie Mae, 31.

London Shoeblack Sees Demise of Ancient Trade

LONDON (INS)—Many familiar sights in London are disappearing, among them to shoeblack's pitch.

London's oldest shoe shine "boy" —70-year-old Jim Pearce—claims it is all because of changing fashions and "new-fangled shoes."

Said Jim: "Soon there'll be no shoeblacks left. There used to be a thousand of us in the city and West End and now we are down to 23. A shoeblack would starve outside the Stock Exchange, which used to be the best pitch.

"The trade is dying. Fashions are changing. There are all these new-fangled shoes, buckskin, raw hide, fabric—and even sandals. The old City would have been shocked."

Drought Brings Hardship

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—The mail brought Gov. Edward A. Arn a reminder of the drought. A letter from a friend, C. C. Evans of Russell, Kan., bore notations that the stamp was affixed and the back flap closed with pins because "no moisture is available" to seal them.

Housewife Loses Bird

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—A hen pheasant crashed through Mrs. Raymond Pare's kitchen window. She later told a Windsor Star photographer she planned to eat the bird. With that, the pheasant squawked, flapped its wings and flew out the window, breaking another pane of glass.

Woman's Traffic Fine Comes From Allowance

ST. LOUIS (UP)—The woman driver told the court she had the nickel in her hand but forgot to put it in the parking meter.

"But I was in the store only five minutes," she told City Judge Robert G. Dowd, "before I remembered and came out. There was a ticket on the car. Now is that right?"

The judge said it was right, and it showed the traffic police were alert.

"I'll go right down and pay the fine," Dowd told his wife, Marcellian. "That will be one dollar. I'll take it out of your allowance next week."

Phenix City Won't Hear Billy Graham

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—The National Guard commander in this vice-ridden city, now under martial law, has turned thumbs down on a "sin-killing" Billy Graham revival.

Graham had been urged to come here by the Phenix City Ministerial Alliance.

Adj. Gen. Walter J. Hanna of the National Guard told the ministers that crowds attracted by a Graham revival might disrupt the cleanup campaign under way here. He estimated 200 policemen would be needed to handle traffic alone.

Dalman said they were his.

National Skeet Shoot Draws Top Marksmen to Arca

HUSBAND, WIFE TEAM — Defending champions for the husband-wife team title in the National Skeet Shooting Association's 15th annual championships here this week, are the Alfords of Dallas, Tex. Mrs. Alford is also the No. 2 women's shooter, following Mrs. Leon (Carola) Mandel of Chicago last year, in line for the women's crown. Mr. Alford shoots in the high-over-all events, as well as all other NSSA features.

NSSA'S PRETTIEST — "Darling of the Skeeters" is the unofficial, but probably well-deserved title worn by pretty Mrs. Don (Thelma) Maxwell of Odessa, Tex. When the wife of the Odessa sports goods dealer took up the game three years ago, she became so proficient that she replaced her husband as the competitive shooter of the firm. She does right well in state, district and nationals, too.

SERVICE MARKSMEN—The Army is well represented in the National Skeet Shooting Association's 15th annual championships at OCSC this week. At left above is M. Sgt. Robert B. Reay, CAFB, Ft. Worth, Tex., and Mickey Michaelis, Dallas, checking in with George White, Dallas, NSSA's efficient secretary.

'SKEET ALLEY'—Here's a view of "Skeet Alley" the "main street" for the National Skeet Shooting Association championships at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, Waterford. The skeet houses, stretching back at right, hold the "bird" throwing mechanisms which release targets. Shooters stand on the several stations in front of each house to shoot their rounds. At left is a wire barrier along which leads run for the electric scoring device. "Skeet Alley" is nearly a quarter of a mile from one end to the other.

Farm Official Says Nation 'Blessed' by Over-Supply

WASHINGTON (INS)—One of the Agriculture Department's top officials says it is a blessing that America's farm problem is one "too much rather than too little."

In a personal message to the nearly 77 thousand employes of the department, Assistant Secretary Earl L. Butz explains that "our principal problem in agriculture is really a happy one."

Butz formerly headed the Department of Agricultural Economics at Purdue University in Lafayette, Ind., and assumed the post of assistant secretary on Aug. 1.

He is in charge of all marketing programs, with special emphasis on the job of expanding and regaining foreign markets for American farm commodites.

Butz says "some people maintain that because of a few current surplus situations in agriculture, we should slow down the application of science and technology to agriculture."

The assistant secretary contends, however, that "nothing can be further from the truth."

He says: "We must intensify our reports to expand consumption and develop new markets in this hungry world. Legislation adopted by the present Congress will assist materially in our efforts to do this."

Butz believes this is the time for imaginative scientists to work for a vastly improved agriculture.

He predicts that the scientific and technological advances in the next decade will be unparalleled in the history of American farming.

Butz says: "The geographic frontier in American agriculture is gone. No longer can a young man 'go west' and stake out his claim. But the scientific frontier in America is barely scratched. And the scientific frontier has no effective limit. It is limited only by the mind and the imagination of man."

He explains that organized and imaginative research both in production and distribution, is the factor which will push America's scientific frontier beyond limits the nation scarcely dares dream of today.

Butz says: "It is a great privilege the Lord has given you and me to live in this generation. It is an era of the most rapid scientific and technological change of all time."

He goes on to point out that "We have made more progress in production per worker in America in the last century than in all previous recorded history of man on this earth."

He concludes: "In this choice land of America, for people with imagination and ambition, the best decade of all lies ahead."

HOME STARTERS—A couple home state shooters are rated highly in the big field of skeet shooters at OCSC this week. At left is Hamp Curry, Caro, Mich., veteran of the big ones, talking it over with Detroit's Chet Crites, during a wait for an assignment to a shooting field.

Top English Physicist

Says Britain Near Cheap Atomic Power

OXFORD, England (INS)—One of Britain's top atomic physicists reported today that Britain is on the threshold of producing nuclear power at "a little above conventional costs."

Sir John Cockcroft said there has been "steady progress" on the three main factors involved in achieving economical nuclear power. Cockcroft, director of atomic research at the Aldermaston Station in England, said those factors are:

1. "The nuclear reactor must be able to burn up a sufficiently high proportion of its uranium fuel to achieve low fuel costs.

2. "We must be able to prepare uranium fuel cheaply . . .

3. "Good engineering design" must be achieved, "leading to reliable and safe operation and low capital costs."

"In all these fields," Cockcroft told the annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, "we have seen steady progress, more favorable than we dared to hope for in the early post-war years."

Cockcroft said that the large atomic power station now being built at Sellafield, Cumberland County, "should provide us with invaluable first experience in practical nuclear power."

He added:

"We can already see our way to great improvements in nuclear power stations of this kind and they . . should be able to produce power a little above conventional costs.

"The application of nuclear fission, wisely guided," Cockcroft said, "can ensure that for a millenium ahead mankind has all the energy needed to supply his ever-growing needs."

Anti-Red Resolutions Occupy Legionnaires

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Legion swung into the finale of its colorful 36th annual convention today, prepared to adopt a series of anti-Communist resolutions in a last rush of business.

Weary delegates also choose a new national commander and consider numerous resolutions on foreign policy and national security before adjourning sometime this afternoon.

They worked overtime yesterday, passing a flock of resolutions reaffirming their stand for preferential treatment of veterans in government employment and for other benefits, but the business built up into a heavy carryover.

* * *

The convention defeated attempts to place curbs on the legion's fun-loving subsidiary, the 40 and 8 society, after a heated floor fight with overtones of the racial segregation issue.

The convention upheld the action of its committee on constitutional amendments in rejecting a resolution that would have deprived the 40 and 8 of legion sanction until it eliminates from its constitution a restriction on membership to "white males" only.

The convention also reaffirmed the organization's stand in opposition to that of the American Medical Assn. over government medical and hospital care for veterans.

* * *

Resolutions awaiting action today include a proposal to investigate fund-raising activities of Communist front organizations, with a special look at tax-free foundations allegedly supporting communism. Others call upon the Justice Department to use wiretapping in treason and disloyalty cases, propose the deportation of criminal aliens and provide security for agents who escape from the Communists.

* * *

All of these proposals seemed likely to win approval, as did an anticipated resolution strengthening the legion's support for Universal Military Training. The convention yesterday approved a proposal to question candidates, before next November, on their UMT position among other issues.

A parade of top-ranking speakers continues today, with CIO president Walter Reuther and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. representative to the United Nations, topping the list.

* * *

Reuther urged "sound government policies' to solve "unemployment and under-employment in America" and called again for a top-level national economic conference to study the problem.

He said President Eisenhower has not acted on a previous CIO suggestion for such a conference but added "we still hope that sound common sense will prevail over what we consider obviously erroneous political advice to the President."

Pachuco Sign Only Symbol

Lone Toughies Think It Smart to Carry Mark of Mystery

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The tattooed mark of the Pachuco has swept across the nation as a symbol of modern-day youthful hoodlumism.

Its common form is a cross with a sort of halo of dots, made with a pin or knife and ink on the web between the thumb and forefinger, or on the arm or chest. It puzzles and worries civil and military authorities in many areas, but in Los Angeles it is old stuff, considered virtually passe.

Is it smart-aleck feeding of the young ego, naive copy-cat activity or a sinister secret terrorist organization?

A Los Angeles authority, Police Lt. Richard D. Whitley of the juvenile detail and former commander of the gang detail established in 1948, said today he has no evidence of any national organization of Pachucos.

On the contrary, he said, the youthful gangs of this and other large cities in which there may be Pachuco members have no formal organization; no officers, dues, bylaws or rules. The fellow who is the toughest and talks the best is the leader; the "organization" is confined to tight geographical or neighborhood boundaries.

Lt. Whitley, who flew to Chanute Air Force Base in Illinois to advise the military on the Pachuco problem, said:

"I am convinced that this recent spread is simply a symbol of unsocial youth. One boy hears about it, or sees the mark on somebody else in jail or in the military guardhouse, and thinks it would be a good idea to have his own mark to boast about. Chances are many haven't the slightest idea what 'Pachuco' means.

"We know what it means but it's impossible to translate accurately. We heard it as long ago as 1941 and it came into usage in 1943 in the riot-fights between zoot-suiters and servicemen in Los Angeles.

"The term Pachuco came to the coast from the El Paso, Tex., border country during the war. It's a Mexican slang expression originally applied in derogatory meaning to the 'zooties'—the smart-alecks, toughs, hoodlums or whatever you wish to call them of Mexican descent who wore long coats, peg-top, ankle-tight pants, duck-tail haircuts and thick-soled shoes.

Attlee Sees Estrangement of Commie China, Russia

HONG KONG (UP) — Clement Attlee said today he got the impresson during his 18-day tour of Communist China that the Peiping regime tolerates the Russians only because it needs them.

"I did not see any overt Russian control," the former British Prime Minister told a press conference.

Attlee and seven other members of the British Labor Party completed their tour of Red Chinese cities, farms and installations Wednesday and arrived in Hong Kong by rail.

Attlee remained here, but the other members of the Labor Party delegation flew to Tokyo for a visit as guests of the Japanese Socialist Party.

Left-wing Laborite leader Aneurin Bevan headed the British delegation visiting Tokyo. They were greeted at Tokyo's International Airport by about 200 Socialists.

The former Labor Prime Minister will not rejoin the other delegates. He will make a visit to Australia.

Attlee said it appeared the Chinese got rid of Russian technicians as soon as they learned all they could from them but admitted that Red China "leans fairly heavily on Russia for supplies."

The British Labor Party leader praised the Peiping government's work in behalf of the people.

He said his delegation was "impressed with certain very definite reform that marks a new departure in China's government."

"It has done a remarkable piece of work," Attlee said.

"The Chinese peasant feels the government is concerned with the prosperity of the peasant," Attlee said. "I saw such evidence that the government is based on the principle of goodwill of the peasant population."

Attlee said there was "less rigidity" in Chinese communism than in Russian communism but added that "we found China being run by Communists with whose principles we do not agree."

In commenting on his brief meeting with Red chief of state Mao Tse-Tung, Attlee covered topics that were reported by Peiping Radio following their conference.

He said Mao indicated "certain things" should be done toward realization of peaceful coexistence between East and West.

The United States, Mao said, should not rearm Germany and Japan and should take a more favorable attitude toward Red China, obviously meaning the Peiping regime should be admitted to the United Nations and its Security Council.

The Chinese "obviously" feel that Formosa must become China's, Attlee said, and he saw no split in opinion among top-ranking Reds on that point.

He said the Red Chinese leaders indicated it would be "very useful" if the Americans follow Mao's suggestions.

Attlee said he told Mao that it would be "very useful," too, if he (Mao) made a few suggestions to the Russians.

He explained that he told Mao he would like to "see the satellite states of Europe free" and the Russians should end their constant intrigues in other peoples' countries.

Hoover Cracks Ike's Fish Bowl

Says a President Used to Have Some Privacy While Angling

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—If President Eisenhower is irritated about all the attention his trout fishing attracts, he has former President Hoover in his corner.

Hoover made that clear here yesterday in declaring—with something more than a trace of irritation—that "one of the degenerations of the last 30 years" is that a president of the United States no longer has any privacy when he goes fishing.

* * *

Hoover has been Eisenhower's trout fishing guest at a Rocky Mountain ranch since Tuesday. They plan to pack their rods and fly lures and start back to Denver today.

The President will headquarter there again at the Summer White House at Lowry Air Force Base. Hoover arranged to fly back to New York in the evening. He will travel aboard Eisenhower's private plane, the Columbine.

* * *

Reporters asked both men about their luck in the trout stream. Eisenhower replied with a grin that his was pretty good, but that Hoover had caught "the biggest one yet."

A moment later Hoover—a slight smile on his face but unquestionably serious—looked at the newsmen and declared:

"Thirty years ago we used to believe that there were only two occasions on which the American people had regard for the privacy of the President—when he was praying or fishing.

* * *

"And I now detect that you have lost the second part of that.

"The press no longer has any respect for the privacy of the President in his fishing. That is one of the degenerations of the last 30 years."

The President fished for trout last Friday at Pine, Colo., and some reporters wrote at the time that he exceeded the daily legal limit of 10 fish. There was at least one published account that he hooked 15 to 25 trout.

* * *

Since then Eisenhower reportedly has told friends—Hoover among them—that he is fed up with fishing where he gets no privacy. At Pine, a big crowd of villagers, tourists and newsmen watched from a public highway close to the stream.

Hotel Gyp Gets 90 Days With No Room Service

CHICAGO (INS)—A guest at Chicago's Edgewater Beach Hotel who couldn't pay his $1,590 bill was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail.

Douglas Cooper, 27, pleaded for more time to raise the money, but Judge Sigmund J. Stefanowicz was unmoved:

"Ninety days," said the judge, "And no room service."

President to See Water Projects

Flight Across 4 States Will Pinpoint Massive Irrigation Works

DENVER (AP) — A vast land where men fought to the death for water and one where surging floods have torn apart the works of man will unfold before President Eisenhower when he makes a four-state flight Saturday.

Millions of dollars — including federal funds — have been spent to channel churning streams of the region into giant irrigation and power projects or to confine floodwaters behind dams to save farms and towns.

* * *

Billions of dollars will be needed to carry out other projects under discussion, some of which are arousing bitter controversy.

* * *

The President's flight, designed to give him a glimpse of reclamation and flood control developments, will take him across Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska and Kansas. Twice he will pass over the Continental Divide with peaks towering up to 14,000 feet, then he will fly over deserts, grazing lands and high plains which usually grow much of the nation's wheat. This year some of the plains country is in the drought disaster area.

* * *

Reclamation officials and Secretary of Agriculture Benson will be along to give Eisenhower briefings during the trip, which will cover nearly 2,000 miles.

After taking off from the Summer White House at Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, the President will see the site of the newly approved Air Force Academy north of Pike's Peak.

* * *

Other projects he'll view include:

1. The proposed Curecanti Dam site, upstream from the Black Canyon of the Gunnison River, a project the Reclamation Bureau wants to build although it would wipe out purebred cattle ranches and part of the famed trout stream.

* * *

2. Five power and irrigation reservoirs on the North Platte River — Seminoe, Kortes, Pathfinder, Alcova and Guernsey.

* * *

3. Enders Dam on Frenchman Creek.

4. Trenton Dam on the Republican River.

5. Strunk Reservoir.

6. The 18-million-dollar Cedar Bluff Reservoir on the Big Smokey River, primarily a flood control project.

7. The newly finished 15-million-dollar Bonny Dam near Wray in eastern Colorado, another flood control project.

Until about the year 1800, imprisonment was not a common method of punishment for crime.

Former Dem Chairman, Clem Shaver, Dies at 87

FAIRMONT, W.Va. (AP)—Clem L. Shaver, 87, former Democratic national chairman, died in a Fairmont hospital yesterday.

He was named chairman during the Democratic convention at Madison Square Garden in New York in 1924. He directed the unsuccessful presidential campaign of John W. Davis and his running mate, Charles W. Bryan.

Reckless Driver of 7 Takes Cue From TV

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Valda Bishop, 7, rode her bicycle into the side of a car and traffic officer Robert Stirrett asked her to tell him what happened.

She wouldn't. She said television's "Sheriff John" had warned her never to talk to strangers.

Holly Child, 4, Killed by Auto

Kenneth Smith Struck After Darting Into Street at Milford Road Home

HOLLY — Kenneth C. Smith, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Germaine, was killed instantly yesterday afternoon when he darted from the side of the road into the path of an auto.

The boy, who lives at 12230 N. Milford Rd. with his parents, two brothers and two sisters, was answering the call of a playmate across the street when he ran into the road in front of his home.

Driver of the car, Mrs. Grace Tode, of 5411 Tubbs Rd., Drayton Plains, told State Police she did not see the child until he was directly in front of her. She was released.

Dr. C. E. Lockwood of Holly, acting Oakland County Deputy Coroner, pronounced the child dead at the scene of the accident.

Funeral service will be at 2 p.m. Saturday from the Dryer Funeral Home.

Hunter Finally Blasts Tough, Old Male Duck

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (UP) —Probably one of the toughest ducks ever to grace a hunter's table was a male black duck shot recently by Alphonse LeLievre.

The duck bore a federal leg tag indicating it was banded here as an adult in 1940.

Game men say it was very unusual that a duck should survive that many hunting seasons, or that it should survive 13 or more years even without the hunting hazard.

Dial System Guards Diesels

NYC Subsidiary Uses New Way to Watch Idle Locomotives

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad is keeping a sharp watch over its idle Diesel locomotives with a dial telephone system which can start or stop an engine miles away.

The new telephone hookup enables workers at the railroad's McKees Rocks, Pa., control tower to stand guard over idle locomotives all along the 120-mile system between Youngstown, Ohio, and Brownsville, Pa.

The P&LE has installed telephone jacks at all sidings so the idle locomotives can be plugged into the railroad's telephone system.

Temperature controls and a mouthpiece installed in the Diesel's cabs do the rest.

Other warning devices will warn the tower if an unauthorized person is tampering with the idle Diesel. Another series of dial numbers can be used to stop all movement of the locomotive.

P&LE officials say they are the first in the business to begin the system.

P&LE, subsidiary of the New York Central System, said the dial watch system will undoubtedly be picked up by the parent organization before long.

Find Nothing Peculiar About an Old $3 Bill

WARE, Mass. (UP) — Here's an exception to the expression "phony as a three-dollar bill."

A genuine $3 bill was found in the vaults of the Ware Trust Co. Just prior to the Civil War, the bank, then known as the Hampshire Manufactures Bank printed and issued these bills at its discretion, records revealed.

Poker Face Needed by Exchange Student

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP) — Pacharabul Pibulsonggram likes to play poker but bemoans the fact that she hasn't got a poker face.

A first year student at the Rhode Island School of Design, she is the daughter of the Prime Minister of Thailand. She is 20 years old. Almost everybody calls her Noy.

On the subject of poker, she says:

"I do not make the right face. With my face when I have something, right away they know. Or when I don't get, that they can tell."

Use of Silicones Grows Rapidly

Many Industries Now Employ Chemical; Auto, Clothing Are Included

NEW YORK (NEA) — The next time you get sand in your eyes or shoes, don't cuss. For this uppercrust substance of Mother Earth is the basic ingredient of a new chemical that's making life easier and better for you these days.

From the sand comes silicon and from the silicon—mixed with coal and oil — comes the newcomer, "silicone."

SILICONE AT HOME: Housewife's party dress, treated with silicone water-repellent, sheds splash from kitchen sink.

Silicones are being used with remarkable success in 30 major areas producing industrial and consumer items. For instance, this versatile material is helping to reduce vibration in automobiles, and it is also being used in completely unrelated products such as skin creams, which have worked wonders on things like diaper rash.

Once regarded as a post-war curiosity, silicones are fast moving into a vast new industrial and consumer end-use pattern. In fact, the industry has expanded 25 times in the past nine years, and forecasts predict it will treble in the next five years alone.

Several major companies are experimenting with silicone. General Electric, for example, began research on organic compounds of the material back in 1932.

Why is an electric company in the chemical business? Well, G. E. has been producing chemicals for their own use for many years, and occasionally they come up with a product that looks good for the consumer market. They figure silicone is a cinch to help the public get their money's worth when they make a purchase.

Take textiles. Fabrics treated with silicones shed beverages and many food-stuffs without being stained. They are also provided with a durable water-repellancy, often for the life of the garment, and have an excellent wrinkle recovery.

Recently, the Cravanette Co., of Hoboken, N. J., completed intensive tests on silicone-treated garments. Officials there say non-oily spots may easily be removed from a suit by simply sponging with a damp cloth. And oily spots can be eradicated by regular dry cleaning or laundering.

Even though it will cost approximately five or six cents to treat a garment with three yards of cloth, textile manufacturers are enthusiastic about the new process.

Dr. Charles Reed, general manager of the silicone products department of G. E., puts it this way: "The textile manufacturers feel they can increase their sales by giving the consumers a superior garment. We estimate one out of every four persons will buy a garment treated with silicone in 1954."

The glassware industry is reaping fine benefits from the use of silicone. Bottles treated with the chemical have shown a remarkably low breakage percentage during packing and shipping.

The Brockway Glass Co., producers of ketchup bottles, baby food jars, fruit juice bottles and liquor and soft drink containers, recently reported a drop from the normal 0.3 per cent breakage to 0.014 per cent after a six-month test with siliconized bottles.

London Police Sensitive About 'Gelignite Joe'

LONDON (INS) — Any mention of "gelignite" to a London cop is liable to make him blow up.

London's "bobbies" are usually well-known for their good temper, but not since the advent of "Gelignite Joe." He has Scotland Yard officials tearing their hair out over his ability to plant sticks of gelignite around London and get away with it.

"Joe" has been sprinkling sticks of gelignite in London mailboxes, buses and even a department store.

Good-natured "Joe" then telephones Scotland Yard and says: "This is Joe-Joe, there's a stick of gelignite at . . . ."

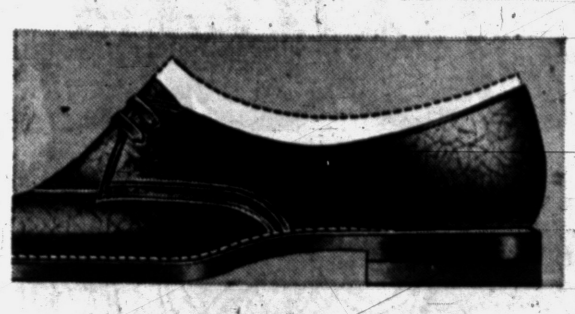

The alarm is given and explosive experts and part of London's depleted police force is sent chasing off to the spot named to douse the gelignite in water.

Reading of "Joe's" exploits, some Londoners have joined in the "bomb plot" game by telephoning Scotland Yard reporting "explosives" at various places.

One such report sent a squad of police into a main London subway station where a frantic search produced only weary, redfaced and irate policemen.

To police consternation it seems that the "bomb" planting has spread beyond London.

Police reported that a "time bomb" had been fixed to the pylon of a high-voltage power line in Devonshire. After the "bomb" had been disconnected detectives kept a night-long watch on the pylon.

Games Kit Is Invented for Children on Trips

CHICAGO (UP) — Instead of leaving youngsters to their own annoying devices on long auto trips, a new games kit has been devised to keep them busy.

The kit was designed to fill the needs of 66,000,000 Americans who will take a 10 days trip this year.

The kit contains six tested games to distract Junior from "somersaulting from back to front seat while Daddy is trying to pass a truck in the rain."

Bible Lost 36 Years Returned to Policeman

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP) — Police Capt. Namon Dimitroff lost a pocket New Teatament 36 years ago while in Greek Macedonia visiting his home town of Dumbeny.

The other day the book arrived at his home by mail. An enclosed note from a Greek soldier said he had found it on a street in Volos, Greece, which Dimitroff did not visit. Capt. Dimitroff had written his Hammond address inside the Bible.

Crew Has Wavy Sleep

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)— The Tar Queen, a 60-foot yacht, was rolling in 40-foot waves 80 miles out with guests of 65 miles per hour lashing the seas. A passing steamer notified the Coast Guard. But the crewe said the ship was never in trouble, they had just set the sails and gone to sleep.

More than 6 million persons visited the Great Smoky mountains national park and Blue Ridge parkway in 1953.

Scorned Beauty Returns to Scene of Contention

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Five years ago pretty Anna Marie Gergel created a mild furore in a beauty contest at Daytona Beach, Fla. The judges said she couldn't compete because she was not a southerner.

Finally, the judges relented just a little and awarded her the title "Miss Yankee."

"Miss Yankee' came back north and this summer became the bride of A. D. Gruesser. Just to show there were no hard feelings, the Gruessers chose Florida for their honeymoon.

Professional Musicians Rebel Against Repairs

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Many professional musicians play horns and woodwinds that are about to fall apart and they don't want them touched, says Harvey Larose. He's a repair man for all types of orchestra instruments except violins, and has discovered he is wiser not to make any repairs the professionals do not specify.

His is an interesting and complicated job because some woodwinds have as many as 400 parts, including tiny screws, he says. Also a good repair man cannot do an adequate job unless he can play the instrument, he reports.

Rubber Plant Turns Out Mammoth New Belt

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — A quantity of conveyor belting, stretching nearly four miles in length and representing the largest belting shipment in 15 years at the Hewitt-Robins Inc. Rubber Division plant here, is to be used in a vast underground copper mine being developed in northwestern Michigan.

The belting, weighing 150 tons and requiring eight railroad cars to transport, will be spliced together at the mine site of the White Pine Copper Co. at White Pine, Mich., by Hewitt-Robins technicians.

Coffee consumption in the U. S. amounts to 2.6 cups every day of the year for every man, woman and child.

Doctor Donates 123 Pints

BLOOMSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Dr. D. W. Beckley is active in all this town's blood donor drives, telling his patients and friends of the need for it in saving lives. And he estimates he has given 123 pints of blood over a period of years.

Twin Sergeants Give Marines Double Trouble

KANEOHE MARINE CORPS AIR STATION, T. H. (UP) — The men in personnel section of Marine air base squadron 13 are beginning to smile. Even the squadron sergeant major is in better humor.

The reason is that the squadron is getting rid of a 370-pound problem — the McKaskle twins, Olan and Nolan of Winnsboro, La. They're being transferred to the Marine training center at Twenty-Nine Palms, Calif., where—as one of them put it—"we'll spend a couple of years in someone else's hair."

It's been double trouble since the McKaskle boys arrived at this station in June, 1952. The confusion they have caused is understandable. They look alike, each weighs 185 pounds and they have the same measurements. There's only one difference—Olan's a master sergeant, Nolan a technical sergeant.

Olan joined the Marines in 1938. Nolan enlisted in 1940. Except for one five-year period, they've served together all the time. They saw action together in World War II and the Korean war. And by now they're quite used to being the victims of circumstances.

Officers have accused Nolan of impersonating a master sergeant. It always turns out they've mistaken him for his brother. Once in Korea, Olan drew three months' advance pay, which had to be reimbursed in a set time. The disbursing section mistakenly charged it to his brother's pay account. It took two years to straighten it out.

At the moment, Nolan is looking forward to becoming a master sergeant like his brother. Olan doesn't think it's such a bad idea either.

"When he starts wearing six stripes, I'll be able to borrow his uniforms," said Olan.

Show Business

Dancer Doris Day Leaves Hospital to Become Popular Singing Star

By EDDIE CANTOR

It takes a special kind of fortitude in a gal to have a promising dancing career interrupted by an automobile accident—spend two years in bed—and then become one of the country's most popular singing stars. I'm referring to Doris Kappelhoff—Doris Day to you.

That name switch was the result of her first singing engagement with Barney Rapp's orchestra. Barney told her she'd have to do something about "Kappelhoff" and after hearing her first number—"Day after Day"—suggested the two "D's" would go well together.

I would have been in a fix if they'd changed my name to the title of the first song I ever sang—"Harrigan!" I don't think it fits. Can you imagine my wife signing her name, "Ida Harrigan"? The butcher would never believe it.

This Day dream is a student of the Bible, and she's bringing up her young son the same way. Doris told me that when Terry was several years younger, she taught him that his prayers would be understood if he just said what was in his heart.

One night, she peeked into his room—saw the little figure on his knees by the bed—eyes closed—and going into the longest lingo she'd ever heard. Doris interrupted him. "Son," she said, "I think you misunderstood me.

Success stories in show business usually include years of hard work. Doris is no exception. She struggled to get to the top, and is on the job every minute to stay there.

One afternoon at Warner Brothers Studios, where Doris was starting a new picture, I heard one of her friends say: "Doris, you work too hard. Why worry so much about the future?" Doris laughted—"Im interested in the future because I figure that's where I'll spend the rest of my life."

Bids Will Be Opened on Marquette Cellblock

LANSING (UP) — Michigan's prison building program moved a step forward today with announcement that bids would be opened Sept. 28 for a new 162-man cellblock at Marquette Branch Prison.

Corrections Director Gus Harris said that the three-tier building has been designed with a steel framework and masonry walls.

Estimated cost of the new building is $950,000. The 1953 Legislature appropriated $400,00 to start the project. The 1955 Legislature will be asked to approriate another $450,000.

New AP News Circuit Links Seattle, Alaska

SZTTLE (UP) — The first 24-hour leased news circuit connecting five widely scattered cities of Alaska with the United States was started by the Associated Press today.

The two-way circuit, nearly 2,800 miles long, provides a continuous news link between the AP nearest-to-Alsaka bureau in Seatle and 15 newspapers and radio stations at Anchorance, Fairbanks, Juneau, Ketchikan and Sitka.

The 60-word-a-minute circuit will enable Alaska points to send their news direct to Seattle on the same wire.

The new circuit utilizes radio circuits between Seattle, Ketchikan, Juneau and Sitka and land lines from Skagway north and west to Anchorage and Fairbanks.

Tipacon Unit Starts Year Wednesday

September ends the summertime pause in club activities. One of the first groups to start off with a flourish was Tipacon Chapter of the American Business Women's Association.

Hotel Waldron was the setting for the dinner meeting Wednesday evening. Lillian Laska, chapter president, gave the invocation.

Eight members of the newly installed Flint chapter were special guests for the occasion accompanied by Mrs. Nellie Voelker of the Kansas City office.

Guests from Flint included Alice Woods, Florence Lammiman, Gail Wirth, Margaret Hunt, Gertrude Trevarrow, Marian Chabot and Shirley Moose.

Mrs. Earl Holliday introduced Raymond C. McDonald, past president of the League of the Blind, who told of his experiences with league activities. He demonstrated the braille writer and watch which were especially built for use by the blind.

Baby Understands

Long before he is a year old, baby is able to grasp the meaning of what you say about him. If you discuss his fears, likes or dislikes, he'll know it. So talking about his not liking to take a nap or not wanting to eat certain foods may only strengthen his determination to go on with this behavior. When you do talk about baby in front of him, be sure that you confine yourself to praising his good behavior.

The annual meeting and election of officers was announced for Oct. 6. In charge of the social hour for the Wednesday meeting were Mrs. Fred Crossman, Mrs. Richard Parsons and Mrs. Grace Huff.

Mrs. C. R. Grosvenor of Roswell, first mighty chosen one, was a special guest at the meeting.

An iron that sticks probably should be cleaned or waxed. To wax it, rub the bottom with a cloth that's been dipped in dry-cleaning fluid. Do this when the iron is cold.

Collegians Need Good Suitcases

Few other necessities on a student's list for college last as long or add as much to prestige as good luggage. In many dormitories, students practically live out of a suitcase or trunk; frequent visits home or overnight jaunts make luggage bought for student use an investment which should be carefully considered.

Boys most frequently come out on the short end of things when well-meaning friends or relatives present them with family discards—and too often the unmatched, unfashionable cases are actually designed to be used by a woman.

The average fellow with an eye towards being in fashion will want a masculine-styled suiter bag and companion for accessories. A briefcase or attache case will carry papers as well as a change of linen for an overnight trip. Popular colors are ginger and suntan, in that order.

A girl needs a basic set which may begin with either a pullman or hanger (wardrobe) case, depending on her packing preferences. A train box or fitted case for cosmetics and a weekender bag to match will see her through most of her travels.

Also useful are hat-and-shoe cases or separate bags for each, and the all-purpose duffle bag which doubles for sports.

Fashionwise, there is an almost unlimited choice of color, material and style from which to choose. Gay plaids, eye-catching stripes or elegant solid tones are available.

Keloa Klub Gathers With Barbara Hess

No Candle Smoking

If you dine outside, prevent your candles from smoking by coating them with a paste of thick soapsuds. Avoiding the wick, roll each candle back and forth between the well-soaped palms of your hands. Wipe off excess soap, let the candles dry, and they will burn evenly without dripping or smoking.

Brent Harts Jr. Travel to Illinois, North Michigan

Honeymooning in northern Michigan and Illinois are Yvonne Laurin and Brent Lee Hart Jr., who were married Saturday in St. Michael Church before 200 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Laurin of East Kennett road and Mr. and Mrs. Brent Lee Hart of Dixie highway are their parents.

The bride approached the altar wearing a gown of white satin fashioned with a yoke of Chantilly lace and long fitted sleeves. The floor-length skirt swept into a chapel-length train and a Juliet cap of illusion and pearls secured her fingertip veil of illusion.

She carried a white lace prayer-book topped with an orchid surrounded by stephanotis and love-knot streamers.

Lucille Yapo attended the bride as maid of honor.

A reception was held at 8 o'clock in Knights of Columbus Hall.

When the couple left for their honeymoon the new Mrs. Hart was wearing a red sheer wool dress with black accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Baby May Prefer Fruits to Cereals

Your doctor may recommend fruit as the first solid food for baby. Baby may have a better reaction to it than he'd have to cereals at the very first. It doesn't really matter with which you start but it does matter that baby like his food.

Either stewed or canned fruit is acceptable, but any fruit you stew must be put through a food mill or sieve. You might start with well-mashed ripe banana or applesauce. Both are mild and baby is quite likely to find them enjoyable.

Ideal Cabinet Top

Heavy inlaid linoleum makes a good working top for wooden cabinets. It should be large enough to fit the top without piecing and should be glued or cemented to the top, then shellacked and waxed.

Don't Force Baby to Make Friends

Don't force baby to make friends with adults. Actually, adults should be adult enough not to expect baby to come to them at once. He should be allowed time enough to look people over and decide if he wants to be friendly or not.

Once baby gets over his natural timidity, he's likely to make friends much faster if he's never been forced to do so.

Here's How to Put Paint Over Paper

By HUBBARD COBB

Very few people, if any, enjoy removing old wallpaper from walls. In view of this fact our piece for today deals with how to prepare a papered wall for paint without having to first remove the paper.

Needless to say, you don't want to paint over a papered wall unless the paper for the most part is in good condition and is securely attached to the wall.

If it seems to give any indication of wanting to come off, better take it off because the weight of the paint may be all that's needed to pull it off.

If the paper seems in pretty fair shape, repaste any loose corners or edges. Don't tear the loose paper off for this will leave an area that will show up poorly after the paint has been applied.

If the paper has torn along the corners, and this is a common occurrence, remove an inch or so from each wall and cover this seam with tape.

Should there be any spots where some of the wallpaper has been torn off, patch these with a piece of wallpaper. This patch should be torn to size—not cut—so it will have a feathered or tapered edge.

Holes and cracks in the wall should be filled with spackle and when the spackle is dry, sanded smooth and primed.

If the paper has a very pronounced pattern, it will probably take two coats of paint to hide. This is especially true with water-thinned paints.

On the other hand, some very interesting effects have been achieved with one coat of paint which allows just a suggestion of the pattern to show through.

When a water-thinned paint is used, try some in a small out-of-the-way spot to be sure that the dye used in the paper does not bleed through the paint. Should this occur, a wall primer and sealer will have to be applied.

Husband Beset by Fear of Invalidism

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Here are some questions from wives who are worried about their husbands.

"My husband faces retirement in five years, when he will be 60. He is in good health now and his doctor is pleased, but he is always worrying about getting older and possibly being an invalid.

"This happened to an uncle of his, and he never forgot it. He's growing more worried and irritable all the time, and won't make any real plans with me about what to do when he retires.

"Can you suggest a book which would encourage him, and keep him from believing that it doesn't matter what he does when he retires because he'll probably be an invalid anyway?"

"Add Life to Your Years," by Dr. Ernst Boas, is a very good such book. It discusses the precautions which can make the later years as healthy and productive as ever.

And do continue trying to persuade your husband to think over retirement projects. Keeping his mind occupied is the best way to keep his body healthy

Second Question: "My husband was in the Army longer than most men his age, with the result that he is not nearly as far ahead now in business as most of our friends.

"This embarrasses him a lot, since he is still sort of a glorified clerk, while his friends are all junior or senior executives.

"At parties, it is very awkward when everybody talks shop, because he just sort of sits there with nothing to say.

"To make matters worse, I have a wonderful job which I love, and I think this irritates him.

"What can I do to make matters less embarrassing all around?"

It seems to me that much of this problem is your fault. Men don't feel ashamed of themselves, really, unless they feel that their wives are ashamed of them.

If I were you, I'd start letting him know that you do value much that he does, and amphasize, in your thinking as well as your talking, his good accomplishments.

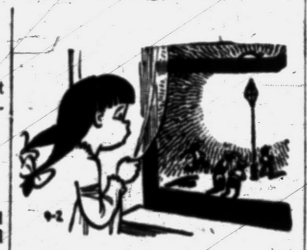

And I'd stop talking so enthusiastically about my own job. Somehow, women shop-talkers are always a bore and a thorn in the side of men.

Probably without even knowing it, you contribute to the whole trouble by remarking on his friends' accomplishments, listening to the executives' shop talk with dewy eyes, and, in general, making your husband feel that you do consider him "just a glorified clerk."

Wrap Outsize Gifts

If your gift is outsize, odd-shaped or just difficult to wrap—a card table, golf club, etc.—either leave the gift unwrapped and attach a big bow fashioned from gift paper or wrap first in corrugated board, then cover with gift paper and ribbon for the best effect.

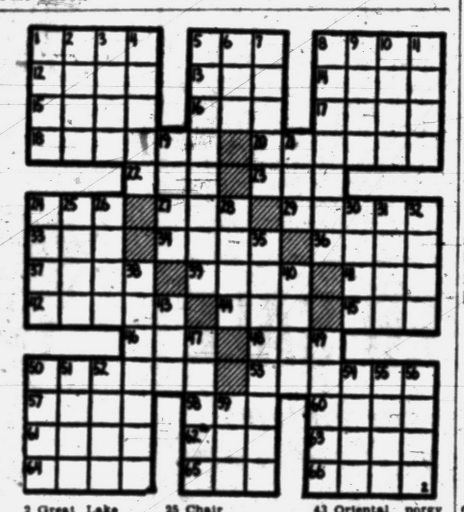

Maybe the reason there are so many kids on the streets at night is they're afraid to stay home alone.

Mom Wants Girl to Vary Her Dating

Best Beau Objects to Sharing Sally's Time With Others

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 17 and have been going steady with Sally since last spring. Now we're told that we're too young to be getting serious.

"We like each other very much. But I'm faced with the problem that Sally's mother doesn't approve of her going out with me.

"Sally and I have talked to her, but we don't seem to be able to make her see our side. She just remarks, 'Variety is the spice of life,' and says that Sally should see as much of life as she can while she's young. Neither Sally nor I feel that way at all!

"Not wanting to aggravate the situation, I told Sally to go out with someone else every once in a long while. But it hurts when she does. And her mother wants it to happen more often.

"I myself can't go out with anyone else, because I don't think it would be fair either to the girl or to myself, knowing how I feel toward Sally.

"Her mother approves of me, and I think highly of her also. But am I wrong, or should I try to convince her that we ought to be able to go out with just each other?"

There seems to be no room in your thinking for anything but the wondrous fact of your romance with Sally. She is the center of your universe. But you're just a touch selfish in wanting to keep her all to yourself.

You know what influence Sally has on you. You know how much you care how she feels, what she thinks. Your own reactions are keyed to hers. And her personality is similarly influenced by what you think and feel.

At your age, one's personality shouldn't be subjected so exclusively to just one other personality. Sally's experiences are limited. She has no knowledge on which to base comparisons.

You are virtually the only boy she knows well. And though you both think you're content to have it so, there's much to be said for her mother's broader perspective.

Her mother is not asking that you stop seeing each other entirely. She wants you to vary the routine, that's all She's willing that you should be together often, because you like each other best. But she wants Sally to shift her sights a bit.

To have occasional dates with other girls would not play false to your affection for Sally. Not when you both understand how casual such dates can be.

An evening at the movies with another attractive girl won't put the blight on your real love. It's just a pleasant evening, that's all. No question of being fair to the girl, or disloyal to Sally. Try it and see.

Should your romance stand up under these "pinches of spice," perhaps mother can be convinced.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

It is quite all right to call a waiter's attention to the fact that he has made a mistake in your order. But don't act upset about it. If you bawl him out you'll ruin your own meal and that of anyone eating with you, and you'll get the waiter in a bad mood.

Getting ham instead of roast beef isn't that important, is it?

Engagement Gifts Aren't Customary

There Is No Rule Governing What to Give Bride-Elect

By EMILY POST

A girl writes: "A friend of mine is going to announce her engagement next month and I am told there will be an engagement party to which I will be invited.

"Several other friends and I have discussed what kind of present it is proper to give on this occasion. I think something for her own personal use is proper, but they seem to think engagement presents should be something for the bride's future home.

"Will you please tell me who is right? I would like to know if it is ever proper to give costume jewelry for an engagement present."

Answer: There is no rule about engagement presents because it is very unusual to give them at all and they are almost never taken to engagement parties.

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be married next month and I have just bought a very pretty blue dress to wear for the occasion. I have just learned that the bride-to-be's mother has also bought a blue dress the same shade as mine.

I understand she is very much upset over this and thinks that I should have consulted her as to the color she was going to wear before buying my dress.

Was I wrong not to consult her, and would it be improper for both mothers to wear the same color? I certainly don't feel like going out and buying another dress, but will do so if you think I should.

Answer: It would have been nicer for you to have consulted the bride-to-be's mother but now that you have bought your dress, I think that you can wear it. It shouldn't make any difference as you rarely sit or stand together.

Dear Mrs. Post: Somewhere in the back of my mind I seem to have the idea that candle tips should be blackened—the wick, that is—before they are put on display in the house. Am I correct in my assumption?

Answer: No, they are much nicer left white.

Piano Teamed With Chair Duet

CHICAGO (INS) — It takes two to tango so why not two to play a piano?

The Ohio Chapter of the American Institute of Decorators furnished a luxurious music room bound to inspire fanciful roving of the keys.

But, just in case the pianist needs an expert to watch his technique, the decorators provided twin antique regency chairs in place of a bench at the ebony grand piano.

The music room, featured at the AID exhibition in Chicago, had a striking background of blueberry silk walls and "gold" floor tiles to set off the piano and a cream-colored sofa.

The room's modern touch was disguised to fit right into the decor — it was a parchment-colored, brass nail-studded cabinet for high-fidelity record-playing equipment.

Button Designs Spark Screens

Take a tip from Pacific Northwest decorators if you want to try something new in home sewing and "do-it-yourself."

At the recent exhibition of the American Institute of Decorators in Chicago, the Pacific Northwest AID Chapter showed off a spectacular red silk screen — embroidered in plain white pearl buttons.

The buttons, sewn on in a big whale pattern, were just stitched to the screen according to the design outline.

Any similar pattern, traced with pencil first on fabric, could be sewn with buttons for a gleaming pearly design on a screen, panel facing or other types of home furnishings.

IF small, slender—

...sleeveless sheath top trumps tiny body. Retain figure-contoured lines, narrow silhouette, godet fullness smart.

Mrs. S. S.—Elongated waistline look is advisable for the tall person. The small woman gets height in the princess, beltless or high-waisted cuts. The new casual, easy look can still show off your slender figure.

Find Million-Year-Old Elephant in Washington

BELLINGHAM, Wash (UP) — Geology students from Western Washington College of Education have uncovered the remains of what is thought to be a million-year-old Pleistocene cousin of the elephant.

Bones found near Sunnyside, Wash., appear to be those of the Columbia mammoth, a hairless Ice Age behemoth. The find includes several vertebrae, a leg bone, pelvic bone, and a five-foot section of tusk.

Convict Gets Vacation, Must Go Back to Prison

FLINT (UP) — Robert Weber, 27, a convict at Southern Michigan Prison, told newsmen he was certain his petition would be denied when he appeared in court to ask the judge to set aside his guilty plea.

"This motion will be denied anyway," he said. "But I do get a little vacation this way. I get a chance to see the boys and girls."

Weber's prediction came true. Circuit Judge Philip Elliott denied his motion and ruled that he must serve a 4-to-14-year term for burglary.

On-the-job accidents in 1953 cost $3,150 million in wage losses, medical and hospital expenses, insurance and other indirect costs.

Gunman Requests Cash, Settles for Groceries

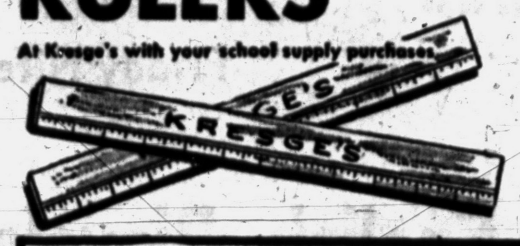

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A man carefully selected an assortment of groceries at George Parker's store. The bill came to more than $10.

Instead of handing over the money, the man asked Parker — at gun point — to open the cash register.

Give Sparkle to Labor Day

LABOR DAY MENU—For the back yard, for a tray on the back porch or an inside buffet, here's a refreshing cranberry gelatin salad. It's crunchy, tangy and goes with any meal. Use it for your Labor Day party, that last fling before summer officially ends.

Serve Tangy, Crunchy Salad

Lend Flavor Appeal to Gelatin Treat Cranberries and Nuts

One more holiday before school starts and fall begins. Celebrate it with a party in your back yard or on a cool porch. Here's a suggested menu:

Baked Macaroni Casserole
Cranberry Waldorf Salad
Tunafish Stuffed Rolls Radish Roses
Chocolate Ice Cream
Iced Tea

First, bring to the table a casserole dish of your favorite macaroni and cheese or macaroni and tomato sauce. . .make, bake and serve right in the same dish.

Then comes the favorite Cranberry Waldorf Salad. Make it ahead of time, cut in squares and place each serving on that very green garden lettuce.

There's so much flavor and all in one salad. . .tart cranberry sauce, crunchy nuts and celery and finally the sparkle of gingerale.

Cranberry Waldorf Salad

1 pound can jellied cranberry sauce, crushed
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup gingerale
½ cup unpeeled, diced apple
½ cup diced celery
¼ cup chopped nutmeats

Crush cranberry sauce with a fork. Soften gelatin in cold water in pyrex cup; place cup with gelatin in pan of boiling water and heat until gelatin is dissolved. Stir into crushed cranberry sauce. Cool slightly.

Add lemon juice and gingerale and mix well. Chill in refrigerator until mixture begins to congeal. Fold in apple, celery and nutmeats.

Turn into six individual molds or a 1-quart mold and chill until firm. Unmold and serve on lettuce. Serve with mayonnaise.

Children, Grownups Greet Tangy, Healthful Apricots

It is the season to welcome apricots from Washington state. They are now on the market in all their golden beauty for enjoyment in salads, desserts, and for out-of-hand eating.

Plan to enrich summer menus with this most delicious fruit with its rich store of vitamin A and other important nutrients. Children will love to find a cellophane bag of tangy yet sweet apricots tucked into picnic lunch sacks.

Because of their natural sweetness, apricots afford an excellent pick-up for play-weary youngsters or oldsters.

Besides having the highest Vitamin A content of any fruit, they also contain calcium, phosphorus, iron. Nutrition-minded homemakers will want to include apricots as often as possible in the three family meals, besides providing brimming bowlfuls for snack times.

Apricots combine well with other fruits, pineapple, apples, peaches, for delicious jams and jellies. Golden jars of apricots, well preserved with sugar, will brighten many fall and winter days. While the fruit is at its peak in markets all over the country, preserve a goodly supply.

Apricot Grape Jam

3½ cups apricots, finely chopped
1 cup seedless grapes, halved
¼ cup lemon juice
6½ cups sugar
1 box powdered pectin

Wash and pit apricots. Chop very fine and measure into saucepan. Add seedless grapes and lemon juice. Bring to a boil and cook for 3-4 minutes mashing the fruit. Add powdered pectin and stir to dissolve. Stir in sugar and bring to a full rolling boil, stirring constantly. Boil hard for one minute. Remove from heat and skim. Ladle into hot, sterilized glasses and seal. Yield is 6 half pint glasses.

Apricot Waffle Topping

4 cups mashed ripe apricots
1 cup cut-up pineapple
4 cups sugar
8 kernels from the apricot seeds

Boil for 10 minutes. Stir constantly. Seal at once in hot sterilized glasses. Yield is 5 half pint glasses.

Beat Sherbet Once After Refrigeration

Summertime and the sherbet is easy — if you make it with sweetened condensed milk. This smooth Pineapple Sherbet makes for cool refreshment on a hot day and you need only beat it once after you put it into the freezing compartment of your refrigerator.

Pineapple Sherbet

2½ cup sweetened condensed milk
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons melted butter
½ cup pineapple juice
1 cup crushed pineapple
2 egg whites

Blend sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice, melted butter and pineapple juice thoroughly. Add crushed pineapple. Chill. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into chilled mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit. After mixture is about half frozen remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth, but not until melted. Smooth out and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving. Serves 6.

For Spicy Dressing

For a French dressing with a different tang, heat your vinegar. Add a tablespoon of mixed pickling spice, neatly tied in a cheesecloth bag. Let stand until the vinegar is cold. Remove the spices and proceed with your dressing in the usual manner. Wonderful on potato salad!

What is the acidity of vinegar sold in stores? Commercial vinegars are stabilized at 4, 4½ and 5 per cent acidity.

For Weight-Watchers

For weight-watchers: Moisten hard-cooked egg sandwiches with buttermilk instead of mayonnaise or some other rich salad dressing. Mash the eggs fine, add salt, pepper and a little finely grated onion to taste, then the buttermilk.

If you are marinating thick slices of tomato in a vinegar-and-sugar dressing, cover the dish in which you put them before storing in the refrigerator.

Flavor-Boiled Cabbage

The humble boiled cabbage can be made as flavorful and toothsome as any of its more aristocratic relatives by the addition of a tablespoon of mixed pickling spices to the water in which it is cooked.

Tie the spices in a small square of cheesecloth so they can be removed with no fuss or bother. The flavor they impart is truly a gourmet one. Listen to your men folk rave!

Man Won Fame With Sandwich

Sandwich tastes vary from place to place, and sometimes a regional favorite "hits the spot" nationally. The "Denver" or "Western" sandwich is the outstanding example.

The Denver sandwich—composed of braised diced onion, green pepper and ham, seasoned and fried with an egg—is perhaps listed on more restaurant menus than any other "name" sandwich. It may be served open-face, or closed, on toast or plain bread.

Its price ranges from low to medium—depending on the restaurant where it is ordered, the garnishment and the number of other foods included.

At any price, the "Denver" justifies its popularity.

The late Albert A. McVittie "invented" the Denver sandwich. McVittie was a native of Hamilton, Ont., who was orphaned at an early age and grew up in Brooklyn. He followed a theatrical career for a short time. Perhaps the theatef gave him his flair with food.

McVittie arrived in Denver in 1907, broke and hungry. He got his first job in the old Grand Central restaurant near the Union Station.

Travelers always in a hurry kept asking for some new kind of sandwich to tempt their appetites. The Denver Sandwich was McVittie's inspired answer. It won its creator fame and fortune and a place for the city's name on menus across the nation.

GARDEN STEW—Garden stew glorifies fresh vegetables in a main course dish. Here's a mixture of green peppers, potatoes, carrots, celery, green onions, peas, tomatoes and parsley. Serve it alone, as a lunch dish or with meat for dinner.

Garden-Fresh Vegetables Make a Wonderful Stew

Like vegetables fresh from the garden or garden-fresh from your vegetable store? If you do, this recipe for Garden Stew from California will delight you.

Sure signs of freshness: stalk vegetables (such as celery) should have tender but firm stems, with good color. Pod vegetables (such as snap beans) should be free of bruises, firm and crisp. Root vegetables (carrots) should have good color and be smooth, crisp, clean-looking and bright in color. Flower vegetables (broccoli) should have clusters that are tight and close together, and should be firm and crisp.

Western Garden Stew

12 small new potatoes
1 bunch or 1 pound carrots
1 medium stalk celery
1 bunch green onions
2 pounds fresh peas (2 cups shelled)
1 green pepper
1 large or 2 small tomatoes
Parsley or celery leaves
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 cups water
1 bouillon cube or 1 tablespoon concentrated meat extract
Salt and pepper

Scrape or pare the potatoes and carrots. Break celery into branches, wash and remove tops. Clean and wash onions. Shell peas.

Cut tomatoes into quarters, and green pepper into sixths. Leave potatoes, carrots and onions whole. Boil potatoes about 5 minutes in salted water. Drain. Place in large skillet with remaining vegetables.

In a saucepan, melt butter or margarine. Blend in cornstarch. Gradually stir in water. Dissolve bouillon cube or meat extract in sauce.

Pour over vegetables. Cover. Simmer for 20 minutes. Season to taste.

Serve piping hot with garlic French bread, tossed green salad with cottage cheese dressing, chilled custard with crushed fresh fruit, beverage.

Get Goodies Ready Now for Fall and Yule Bazaars

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

It's later than you think! Why, in only 113 days it will be Christmas. And what always precedes Christmas? Church bazaars, of course, and fall festivals.

Now is the time to prepare part of your donation to the food booth. When you are making jams, jellies and pickles, why not plan on some for these bazaars? If you have been saving unusual jars, fill them up and put them away in readiness.

So many of you have your pet recipe for specialty foods that giving you more may be superfluous. But good cooks always like a new recipe, so here are some original ideas.

How about spiced apricots? They should be a welcome addition to the spiced fruit family.

When you serve them to the family, use them as an accompaniment to roast meat, baked beans or macaroni dishes. They provide just the right, tangy addition.

Spiced Apricots

6 pounds apricots
6 cups sugar
2 cups water
1 cup vinegar
2 teaspoons whole cloves
2 sticks cinnamon

Bring sugar, water and vinegar to a boil. Boil five minutes with spices. Add whole apricots and cook until tender.

Place apricots in sterilized jars. Cover with boiling syrup. Seal. Makes eight pints.

* * *

Fresh pear butter, made spicy with cinnamon and accentuated with tart lemon juice, is a welcome spread for any meal. Furthermore, it's different.

Pear Butter

5 pounds ripe Bartlett pears
3 pounds sugar (approximately)
Juice and grated rind of one lemon
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Wash, peel and core pears. Crush pears into large saucepan and cook in own juice until fruit is soft. Stir frequently.

Put through fine sieve or food mill and measure. Add one-half as much sugar as pulp, lemon juice and grated rind.

Place over heat and cook rapidly with constant stirring. When "butter" is of a desired consistency, remove from heat and stir in cinnamon.

Ttest by pouring a small quantity on a cold plate. When no liquid appears around edges of "butter," cooking is complete.

Ladle boiling hot into hot sterilized jars. Seal at once. Yield—about nine half-pint jars.

Whole anise seed added to pear and pineapple jam lends a special touch to an already delicious sweet.

* * *

Crisp, sweet, transparent cucumber chunks will spark up mid-winter stews and pot roasts and will add flavor to many a lunch box.

Sweet Cucumber Chunks

10 medium cucumbers
8 cups sugar
2 tablespoons mixed pickling spices
8 teaspoons salt
4 cups cider vinegar

Cover whole cucumbers with water. Allow to stand till next morning; drain. Repeat this procedure on next three mornings.

On the fifth day, drain and slice in ½-inch pieces. Combine sugar, spices, salt and vinegar. Bring to boiling and pour over cucumbers.

Let stand two days. On third day, bring to boiling and seal in hot, sterilized jars. Makes seven pints.

Use 1½ to 3 tablespoons of quick-cooking tapioca for thickening the fruit filling for an 8-to 9-inch pie. If you are using the tapioca to thicken a soup, you will need 1½ to 3 tablespoons for a quart of liquid.

Bake Fish Steaks in Barbecue Sauce

The ready-bought crisp crust on these fish sticks is delicious with this homemade sauce.

Barbecued Fish Steaks

2 tablespoons salad oil
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
½ cup tomato catchup
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 package frozen fish steaks

Brown onion lightly in oil; add vinegar, sugar, catchup, lemon juice, salt and pepper; simmer 10 minutes. Place unthawed fish steaks in shallow baking pan. Pour sauce over and bake according to package directions until crisp and bubbly — about 12 minutes in hot 425 oven. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Don't over-bake chocolate brownies if you want a fudgelike cookie. The brownies should look uncooked when you take them from the oven.

HAM-YAM SKEWBOBS — Have Ham-Yam Skewbobs for an easy broiler meal—or for a late season's back yard barbecue. String up canned sweet potatoes, pineapple chunks and ham wedges for an extra good combination. Serve with corn on the cob and a green salad.

Lemonade Adds Tang to Candy

Fruit candies are light and fresh tasting, different from the heavier, richer chocolate creams that taste so good later in the year.

This Lemonade Fruit Candy is good to have on hand. It will satisfy the children's craving for something sweet, yet be good for them. It makes use of that truly modern food, frozen lemonade concentrate.

Lemonade Fruit Candy

1 cup pitted dates
¼ cup raisins
1 cup walnut meats
1 cup raw prunes, pitted and chopped
½ cup dried apricots
½ cup shredded coconut
2 tablespoons frozen concentrate for lemonade

In electric blender or food chopper, blend and chop dates to a very fine pulp. Add other ingredients a little at a time. Continue to add ingredients and blend and chop. You may have to empty container several times.

When all ingredients have been chopped and blended, mix thoroughly with the concentrate for lemonade, either with a spoon or with your hands.

Form into balls and roll in coconut which also has been finely chopped. Makes 40 pieces of candy.

Two Good Ways to Tell When Cake Is Cooked

Butter-type cakes are ready to come out of the oven when a fingertip pressed lightly on the surface of the cake leaves no imprint.

Another way to tell whether the cake is done is to insert a wire cake tester or toothpick in the center; if the tester comes out without any cake particles sticking to it, your dessert is ready to be cooled.

Why Rinse Spaghetti?

The reason for rinsing spaghetti or macaroni as soon as it is finished cooking is so that it won't stick together. If sauce is to be added to it, as soon as it is drained, rinsing isn't necessary.

Whipped Cream Can Be Frozen, MSC Discovers

EAST LANSING—Home economists at Michigan State College report that whipped cream can be frozen.

In tests conducted in the MSC food service laboratory, sweetened and unsweetened, whipped and unwhipped, leftover 40 per cent cream was frozen and stored for future use. Results were satisfactory when it was used later for topping salads and desserts, says Dr. Pearl J. Aldrich, head of the food service laboratory.

Drainage from the frozen whipped cream was very slight and freezing left the quality unchanged. The sweetened whipped cream held up particularly well.

Frozen unwhipped cream should be completely defrosted (but still cold) for whipping, advises Dr. Aldrich. Remember—don't leave unwhipped cream in the bottle to freeze it, she cautions. Put it in a container which allows for some expansion during freezing.

In pointing up the economy value of freezing leftover heavy cream, Dr. Aldrich says that whipping cream allowed to sour for use in cakes adds approximately 22 cents to the total cost of a two-layer cake. Salad dressings of sour whipping cream are extremely expensive, too.

How can we afford not to freeze leftover whipping cream?

Add Spice to Shrimp

When next you plan to boil shrimp—either for a salad or to be speared with toothpicks and dunked in a sharply flavored sauce as a canape—add a couple of tablespoons of mixed pickling spice to the water in which they are to be cooked. Makes them oh, so delicious.

Sprinkle orange slices with brown sugar and cinnamon; top with a soft custard sauce for a delightful dessert.

Serve Porch Snacks

If you have an electric outlet on your porch use it for snacks during nice weather. Bring out your toaster and spread hot buttered toast with cream cheese mixed with strawberry jam. Good!

● Cleans dishes in less time, makes glassware, china sparkle.
DOUBLE THE STRENGTH OF REGULAR SAL SODA

Ham Skewbobs Are Fun to Fix

Out-of-doors cooking is fun, but you don't need a back yard barbecue to enjoy a festive dinner-on-a-stick. Serve Ham-Yam Skewbobs anywhere, anytime . . . outdoors on a nice day, in the yard or on the porch.

All you need for an indoor barbecue is a set of skewers and your broiler to produce an attractive treat.

You'll rate the skewbobs high for ease and speed of preparation, too. It's no trick to spear wedges of canned ham, pineapple chunks and whole sweet potatoes on the skewers, brush with a tasty sauce and broil.

Complete this fun-to-serve dinner with plenty of corn on the cob and a tossed green salad.

Ham-Yam Skewbobs

1 No. 2 can syrup pack sweet potatoes
1 16-oz. can pineapple chunks
1 1½-pound can ham
¼ cup butter, or margarine
¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ teaspoon dry mustard

String sweet potatoes, pineapple and ham, cut in chunks, on skewers. Melt butter and stir in sugar and mustard. Brush sauce on skewered foods. Cook in broiler, or on an outdoor grill, until lightly browned. Turn occasionally while cooking. Four servings.

Spinach Glorified by Sauce, Almonds

Spinach Deluxe

1 pound spinach
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
¾ cup milk
½ cup grated American cheese
Few drops Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ cup buttered diced roasted almonds

Wash spinach well; cook covered, in water that clings to leaves; drain and keep hot.

Meanwhile prepare sauce. Melt butter over low heat; blend in flour, salt and mustard. Add milk and cook and stir until thickened and bubbly.

Add cheese, Worcestershire and lemon juice; stir until cheese melts. Pour over spinach; top with almonds. Makes four servings.

Quick Pickling Is Insured by Distilled White Vinegar

For pickles pert and pretty, use the quick pickling method. Key to this easy-does-it way of turning out crisp, piquant pickles and relishes is the use of distilled white vinegar both as a preservative and flavoring agent. Brining is eliminated; preparation is swift and simple.

The quick pickling method is a boon to the housewife with a small kitchen. Most recipes can be completed in a few short hours, thus eliminating the necessity of cluttering work surfaces with endless crocks and pans.

"Quick" method means that chopped or sliced vegetables or fruits are simmered briefly in a solution of distilled white vinegar, water, sugar and spice; then they are packed quickly in hot, sterilized, easy-to-seal jars.

The more fragile fruits or whole cucumbers, on the other hand, are packed picture-pretty in jars, covered with a hot vinegar solution, then processed in a boiling water bath for anywhere from 10 to 30 minutes. Either process is quite simple and can be used even in an apartment kitchen.

Of primary importance is the vinegar you use for pickling. A high-grade distilled white, stabilized to an acidity of 5 per cent, is best. Its crystal clarity preserves the original garden color of the vegetables and fruits. Its mellow flavor never masks the food but rather carries through the original flavors with sweet-sour brilliance.

In addition to a good vinegar, you should be sure the vegetable and fruits you are pickling are clean. Wash them gently but thoroughly; trim and throw away any bruised or overripe portions. Fruits may be slightly underripe for pickling.

Use fresh spices — whole ones unless otherwise designated.

Use water as free from minerals as possible. If you live in an area where water is hard and chemically treated, boil it, let it cool, then remove the scum before incorporating it in your recipe.

Be sure you use equipment in tip-top shape. Select only perfect jars—no chipped or cracked ones—for packing pickles. Glass tops or zinc caps can be used most satisfactorily; however, "self-sealing" jars are becoming more and more popular. They seal by the cooling of the contents, which creates a vacuum within the jar.

When the food in the jar is hot, the air is expanded and as it cools, it contracts, forming a vacuum. The lid is, therefore, held in place by atmospheric pressure. No rubber rings are needed with this type of seal; instead a sealing composition flowed into the lid forms an airtight contact between the metal and the glass, thus retaining the vacuum.

Read your recipe carefully. If it calls for hot, sterilized jars, wash jars, lids and sealing equipment in hot soapy water; rinse well. Then place the clean equipment in a deep kettle; cover with warm water. Boil, covered, 20 minutes. Remove from boiling water one at a time when ready to fill.

If pickles are to be processed in a boiling water bath, it is not necessary to boil this equipment. Just be sure they are clean and hot.

Another hint: Before sealing, run a clean knife blade around the inside of the jar to release the air bubbles. Add more liquid if needed. Wipe the sealing edges of the jars free of food or liquid with a clean paper towel or cloth before putting on the lids.

Drop Cookies Made With Chocolate, Nuts

Nuggets of semi-sweet chocolate and pecans give this rich little vanilla cookie special flavor.

Vanilla Cookies De Luxe

1¼ cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
1 egg
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
Whole small pecans

Sift together flour and salt. Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg and vanilla well. Stir in flour until smooth, then chocolate pieces.

Drop from tip of teaspoon onto greased baking sheet about 1½ inches apart. Flatten slightly with spatula dipped often in water; press a pecan on top of each cookie.

Bake in 375 oven about 10 minutes or until edges are lightly browned. Cool on wire rack; store in tightly covered container.

Makes about 3 dozen cookies.

Stack Sandwich Pyramid-Style

Your cooking expert friend, Betty Crocker, suggests this luncheon or party sandwich for late summer eating.

It's a novel open-faced sandwich which is really sandwich and salad all in one. It is an excellent way to use those sweet, red tomatoes now ripening in everyone's garden.

Pyramid Sandwich

2 slices bread (white, rye or whole wheat)
1 slice ham
Slices of chicken
1 slice cheese
Sliced tomato
Lettuce
Olive-mayonnaise dressing (fold chopped ripe olives into mayonnaise)

Toast bread. Trim crust from one slice. Place slice of ham on buttered untrimmed slice of toast. Cover with slice of cheese and sliced chicken.

Place trimmed slice of toast on top. Then add lettuce and sliced tomato. Top with dressing and serve with potato chips. Makes one sandwich.

Modernize Fig Bars With Walnuts and Wine

Walnuts and wine make a new dessert from a long-time favorite—fig bars.

Crumble fig bars to make 1 quart. Add one-half cup chopped walnuts and one-fourth cup muscatel wine. Fold in 1 cup heavy cream, whipped. Pour into a square pan; chill for several hours. Serve in squares.

Michigan Knows Beans--- It's the Leading Producer

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

"Soupy, soupy, soupy,
Come and get your beans . . ."

It is no wonder that such words have been written for the bugle "Mess Call". Wherever there are civilized human beings and in many places where there are only savages, beans of some kind are eaten. In many lands they rank next to maize as a staple food.

This is the time of year when the Michigan bean harvest begins. Michigan leads the country in the amount of dried beans produced—although it has long been Boston with which we associate baked beans. But among other distinctions the one of "knowing our beans" is Michigan's.

Because they store easily, keep indefinitely and furnish essential nourishment, beans have become the staple food of sailors, explorers, prospectors and just plain Joes. No food has ever yet been found or manufactured which takes the place of beans.

An amusing story is told about beans during early 20th Century lumberjack days. Beans were baked with molasses. A rope was inserted into the pot of beans and the whole thing frozen in the frigid temperature outside.

When solidly frozen, the beans were slung over a tree branch and pieces were baked off and fried as needed. We'll settle for present day quick frozen beans or preferably fresh home-baked beans.

Have you ever tried using baked beans in a salad? The Michigan Bean Shippers Association suggests this recipe.

Bean and Cabbage Salad

Soak caraway seeds in water.

¼ teaspoon caraway seeds
2 tablespoons water
2 cups finely shredded cabbage
1 cup canned baked beans
1 tablespoon grated onion
½ cup thick sour cream
1 tablespoon vinegar
½ teaspoon sugar
Salt and pepper

Chill cabbage and beans; mix, and add onion. Combine sour cream, vinegar and sugar and pour over cabbage and beans. Season to taste and toss lightly. Sprinkle with drained and dried caraway seeds.

Beans can become the basis of a sandwich filling, good for days when meat is not on the menu, for instance.

Schoolboy Sandwich

1 cup baked beans with tomato sauce
¼ teaspoon salt
2 sweet gherkins, chopped
4 stuffed green olives, chopped
Mayonnaise
Bread or hamburger buns

Press beans through sieve or ricer. Add salt, gherkins, olives and mayonnaise to moisten. Spread between buttered slices of bread. Makes eight sandwiches.

Variation: Omit gherkins, olives and mayonnaise and add two tablespoons tomato catsup or chili sauce.

Pineapple Glamorizes Brown 'n' Serve Rolls

Want to turn a simple roll into a glamor item? Try Pineapple Crunch Rolls. Start with a package of eight brown 'n' serve dinner rolls.

Combine one-fourth cup drained, crushed pineapple, 3 tablespoons brown sugar and 1 tablespoon each of pineapple juice and melted butter or margarine. Spread mixture over bottom of a loaf pan to fit rolls.

Place rolls, tops down, over mixture and bake at 400 degrees for 15 minutes. Cool for a minute, turn out and serve, fruit side up.

For Sunday Supper

Wondering what to serve for Sunday night supper? How about Welsh Rabbit topped with broiled tomato halves and anchovy fillets? A tossed green salad and fresh pears for dessert will round out the menu delightfully.

Italian Type Squash Simmers in Butter

Panned Squash

1 pound (about 6) small zucchini squash
2 table spoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons water
¼ teaspoon salt, pepper

Cut ends from squash. Scrub in cold water with stiff vegetable brush; do not peel. Slice into rounds about ½-inch thick.

Melt butter in 10-inch skillet, add squash, water, salt and a dash of pepper. Cover and cook over moderately low heat, shaking pan and watching so as not to scorch until squash is just tender — about 5 minutes.

Let squash stand in covered skillet off heat about 3 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Light cream is sometimes called coffee or table cream and usually contains about 20 per cent milk fat.

Delicious Apples Will Be Scarce

If the only apples that will satisfy your taste are the Delicious variety, you'll probably find fewer apples and higher prices in Michigan, says George Motts, Michigan State College marketing specialist.

Though the total state apple crop will be 14 per cent below average, Delicious will be much below that. Imports from supplies in other states may take up the slack here, though.

The Michigan apple crop is forecast at about 5.7 million bushels, 30 per cent below 1953. There will be a moderate supply of Jonathans and McIntosh. However, if your favorite is Northern Spy, they will be a good buy this year.

Motts emphasizes that the price is tied to the overall U. S. crop and the consumer purchasing power, rather than the Michigan production only; and the U. S. crop will be plentiful.

"Another way for an Apple a Day", Extension Bulletin 301, is available from your home demonstration agent, Mrs. Frida Bennett, 1260 West Blvd., Pontiac. In it are hits for selecting and buying apples as well as recipes for using apples in many different ways.

Homemaker Given Hints for Picture-Pretty Pickles

A national food-processing company has come out with a number of good recipes for home preparation of pickles. The new quick method cuts the preparation time.

Following are some recipes for taste-tempting pickles and relishes which can be prepared right in your own kitchen:

Corn Relish

2½ quarts (20 ears) young, tender corn
1 cup (2 medium) chopped green pepper
1 cup chopped sweet red peppef
1½ cup (4 medium) chopped onions
1 cup chopped celery
1½ cups granulated sugar
1½ tablespoons mustard seed
1 tablespoon salt
1 teaspoon celery seed
½ teaspoon turmeric
2-2/3 cups distilled white vinegar
3 cups water

Boil corn five minutes. Dip into cold water. Cut kernels from cob; measure. Combine all ingredients; simmer 20 minutes. Pack into clean, hot jars, leaving 1-inch head space. Be sure vinegar solution covers vegetables.

Adjust covers as jar manufacturer directs. Set jars on wire rack in covered, deep kettle with boiling water to cover top of jars 1 inch. Process (boil) 15 minutes counting time from moment active boiling resumes.

Remove; adjust seal as manufacturer directs. Makes 6 to 7 pints.

If you have no wire rack to fit your large kettle, you can easily substitute folded chicken wire, wooden clothes pins or several thicknesses of used jar rubbers tied together.

Heat for Simmering

Tip for new cooks: When a recipe directs you to simmer (not boil) a ham or a smoked tongue remember to keep the heat adjusted so that bubbles form slowly and collapse below the surface of the cooking liquid.

After processed pickles have been sealed, place the jars upright, well apart, on a cake rack or several thicknesses of cloth to cool. Keep them out of a draft.

The next day, test the seal on the jars. If it is not perfect, refrigerate the pickles immediately and serve them within the next several weeks. With the new type jars and lids now on the market, it is seldom that a seal is not complete if you follow the directions given by the manufacturer.

Green Tomato Pickle

2 pounds (5) 5-inch cucumbers, pared, sliced
1½ pounds (1 quart) green tomatoes, cored, thinly sliced
1½ pounds (1 quart) onions, sliced
4 green peppers, chopped
1 sweet red pepper, chopped
3 cups distilled white vinegar
3 cups granulated sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon celery seed
1 tablespoon mustard seed

Wash, prepare vegetables. Combine vinegar and next four ingredients. Bring to boil; add vegetables; simmer 10 minutes. Continue simmering while quickly packing one hot, sterilized jar at a time. Fill to one-eighth inch from top.

Be sure vinegar solution covers vegetables. Seal each jar at once. Makes 4 to 5 pints.

Apple Chutney

2 pounds (10 to 12 medium) green tomatoes
1½ pounds (4 medium) red apples, unpeeled
3 medium sweet red peppers, quartered, seeded
4 medium onions, peeled, quartered
1½ tablespoons salt
1½ teaspoon pepper
1½ teaspoons ground cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground cloves
2¼ cups granulated sugar
2 cups distilled white vinegar

Wash fruit and vegetables. Trim, quarter tomatoes. Core, quarter apples. Put vegetables through coarse blade of food grinder. Combine salt, remaining ingredients; heat to boiling. Add vegetables.

Simmer, stirring occasionally, 30 minutes. Continue simmering while quickly packing one hot, sterilized jar at a time. Fill to one-eighth inch from top. Seal each jar at once. Makes 6 points.

Shrimp Appetizing Even on Wilting Day

Shrimp is an ideal hot-weather food. Low in calories, high in protein, this shellfish with its delicate pink color even looks cool.

In fact, the Shrimp Association of the Americas reminds us that shrimp tempts even the most jaded appetite on even the most wilting day. If you wish, you can clean the shrimp, either before or after cooking (which is done by boiling it in salted water 3 to 5 minutes), before serving it.

Or you can, as some hostesses like to do, pile boiled, chilled shrimp in a bowl and let your family and guests peel their own. In either case, provide plenty of sauce for dunking. Here are two sauce suggestions:

Spicy Sauce

Mix together 2 tablespoons prepared horse-radish, ¾ cup tomato catsup, 3 tablespoons chili sauce, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, dash of Tabasco and salt to taste. Makes about 1 cup of sauce.

Remoulade

Mix together 2 cups mayonnaise, ½ cup finely chopped sour pickles, 2 tablespoons finely chopped capers, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon each chopped parsley, tarragon and chives. Makes about 2 2-3 cups of sauce.

Eat Casserole Made of Meat

For a substantial luncheon or dinner main dish, casseroles made with canned meats offer great variety. These combinations are quick of preparation, easy to serve, require only a salad or vegetable to round out a complete menu.

A casserole that features the spicy zest of chili con carne with beans and corn can be ready in about 25 minutes.

For six servings butter a shallow baking dish and rub with garlic. Empty into it a one-pound can of chili con carne with beans and a 12-ounce can of whole kernel corn. Cover with a layer of canned tamales. Top with grated sharp cheese and bake in a moderate oven about 25 minutes.

Luncheon meat, so adaptable to potato, rice or noodle combinations, makes a fine addition to a vegetable casserole.

For this meat-vegetable dish, put the contents of one 12-ounce can of luncheon meat, 3 stalks of celery, 1 medium green pepper, 1 medium onion and 2 medium carrots through the food chopper. Add 1 cup of soft bread crumbs and 2 eggs; mix thoroughly. Turn into a greased 1½-quart casserole and bake in a moderate oven 45 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

The 2½-ounce jar of dried beef lends meat goodness and its cured and smoky flavor to scalloped potatoes. Shred dried beef. To prepare enough scalloped potatoes for four servings, peel 4 large cooked potatoes, slice thin and layer with shredded dried beef in buttered casserole. Mix 1 can cream of mushroom soup with ½ cup milk and pour over potatoes. Bake in moderate oven 30 minutes.

Store Butter-Flour Mix to Use in Cream Sauce

If you serve cream sauce often, you'll find it convenient to keep a butter-flour mixture in the refrigerator to use in it. Just blend a half cup of butter or margarine with a half cup of flour and store in a tightly covered jar.

For a thin sauce, stir 1½ tablespoons of the paste into 1 cup of scalded milk, then stir constantly until bubbly and thickened. For a medium sauce, use 3 tablespoons paste and 1 cup milk.

To Keep Meat Fresh

When you have meat left over that you plan to use in hash, do not cut, grind or slice it until you are ready to use it. Cooked meat keeps best in the whole piece; store it in the coldest part of the refrigerator.

Cornbread With Bacon

Try adding about a third cup of crumbled crisply cooked bacon to a cornbread recipe. Serve with a vegetable plate featuring broiled tomatoes, green peas or snap beans, egg-plant and sweet potatoes.

'Doone' District Set Aside as British National Park

WASHINGTON — England has a new national park familiar to many Americans who have never set foot in the land across the sea.

It covers the "Lorna Doone" country of Exmoor, where wild heath and gorse-clad moors provided the setting for Richard Blackmore's famous novel of high-minded romance and aristocratic banditry in 17th century England.

The park area includes 265 square miles of northern Devonshire and western Somerset, with highlands that roll down to the Bristol Channel, says the National Geographic Society.

Lynmouth, on the channel, is the gateway to the region. A popular seaside resort, it made disaster headlines two summers ago when flood waters of the Lyn River, fed by heavy rains on the upper moors, broke their banks and raged through the town.

Lorna Doone fanciers visiting the modern park can see for themselves the purple, hill-framed moors, the wooded valleys and rocky glens just as Blackmore described them.

Only Doone Valley, hideout of the titled Doone outlaws who relieved lonely seafarers of purse and goods, seems less weird and remote than pictured by the author. The valley lies off Badgworthy Water, the stream that adds its force, as Blackmore noted long ago, to the turbulence of the Lyn.

Exmoor's simple villages, like Brendon, Simonsbath and Oare, carry on much as they did in the story told by the hero—honest yeoman-farmer John Ridd.

Oare, near the Ridd family place, was the focal point of the tale. Its medieval church was the scene of one of the most dramatic incidents of the book, Carver Doone's attempted shooting of the heroine, Lorna, during her wedding to John Ridd.

Southward over the moor the villain fled, to meet his death in the black bog of Cloven Rocks, after a hand-to-hand battle there with the giant Ridd.

2 Muddled Mexicans Make Mail Mistake

LANSING (AP) — Two newly-arrived Mexicans tried to mail a letter. They pulled and tugged on the box. Nothing happened—for about a minute.

Then sirens wailed and half of Lansing's fire apparatus screamed up to the down intersection.

One of the men, who spoke only Spanish, smiled and handed the letter to one of the horde of firemen and policemen who surrounded them. A policeman gently led him to a mail box, showed him the slot, and watched him drop in the letter.

Size 42 Shoe in Holland Equivalent to 7½ in U. S.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The skating rink attendant asked John-Herman Bartelink what size shoe he wore when Bartelink asked for skates.

"A 41 or 42," he told the startled attendant.

While American companions laughed it was determined that Bartelink didn't have big feet—a size 7½ was the equivalent of a 41 or 42 in his native Holland.

Of American eyeglass wearers, 61.2 percent use single vision lenses, 38.8 percent use bifocals or trifocals.

Rector Plays Organ

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Illness of the organist had little effect on services at Episcopal Church of Holy Communion here. The Rev. Eric Greenwood, church rector, just stepped over to the organ, and the assistant rector, the Rev. David Botts, gave the sermon. Greenwood is a fine organist.

About 95 percent of Montana's coal output is cut and loaded mechanically.

Rich Shoplifters Also Criminals

Kleptomaniacs Found Among Poor, Wealthy, Says Expert

LOS ANGELES (INS) — A university criminologist is getting tired of hearing wealthy shoplifters referred to politely as "kleptomaniacs" while poor shoplifters are labeled common thieves.

The fact is, says Dr. Donald Cressey of the University of California at Los Angeles, that there is little scientific basis for the distinction between rich and poor in the shoplifting trade.

Dr. Crassey believes the vast majority of those classified as kleptomaniacs are incorrectly labeled, and he doubts that there really is an irresistible inner compulsion to steal in most cases of "kleptomania."

What's more, he says:

"If there is an irrestible inner compulsion to steal, there is no reason to believe that it should be found only among the wealthy."

Most shoplifters, says the criminologist, are clearly motivated and plan their forays with all the care of seasoned second-story men.

The only thing that distinguishes the so-called kleptomaniac from the ordinary thief is that the former has no apparent need for the articles he steals.

But, he adds, the so-called kleptomaniac may rationalize his act in this way:

"I am a kleptomaniac. Therefore, it is not wrong for me to take the articles."

The only shoplifters properly classified as kleptomaniacs, according to the scientist, are those whose behavior is automatic.

They walk into a store with no thought of stealing anything and suddenly, for reasons they cannot be conscious of, steal articles with no attempt to conceal their acts.

Says Failure to Adjust May Cause Accidents

ANN ARBOR (UP)—A University of Michigan professor blames many home accidents on the failure of individuals to adjust themselves to their own protection.

Dr. Leonard E. Himler, associate professor of mental health, said a recent survey by the university revealed that the phychological factors were evident in 48 per cent of 386 major home accidents.

He said a new emphasis in safety training will be demanded if statistics prove that in industrial accidents external circumstances are less at fault than changes in inner psychololigal response.

Hand Slips Into Grinder

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Doctors and mechanics at Long Prairie, Minn., were unable to free Duane Motzko, 17, when his hand slipped into the grinder while he was making ground beef at a market. Motzko and the grinder were loaded into a car and driven 100 miles to the University of Minnesota Hospital. There, eight hours after the accident, the grinder was sawed apart, but two mangled fingers had to be amputated.

At the end of 1953 men owned three-fourths of all the life insurance in the U. S.

No. 9 in a series of RARE CREATURES:

THE ENDLESS EASE

— he likes hard work...as long as he doesn't have to do any!

The ENDLESS EASE is an advertising man who likes an ad program that "runs itself" — no matter what direction it runs in.

He'll never climb a sales peak . . . he'd rather flow quietly down hill.

He'll never make a quick move . . . he'd rather take a slow loss.

Fortunately he's a rare creature — almost extinct in today's tough market.

Most good ad men today are probing deep. They're carefully weighing one market against the other — for product sales possibilities . . . for competitive opportunities. And they're finding sales plums they never knew existed.

And they're concentrating their advertising locally in the markets that show the most promise.

Naturally they're turning to newspapers to cover those markets fast and fully. Because just about all the people in each market read the newspaper . . . every day, day in and day out. Without doubt . . . without fail.

Local retailers know this, too. That's why they feature so strongly the products of manufacturers who advertise importantly in the local newspaper.

It's an active partnership that moves merchandise in volume — and in a hurry! It's easy to see why national advertisers stepped up their investment in newspaper advertising 14.3% last year!

All business is local . . . and so are all newspapers!

Too Young at 65

NEW YORK (INS) — Most sixty-five year olds are too young to retire according to an article in Parade, syndicated Sunday magazine. "Middle-aged or younger" is the way 65 per cent of sixty-four year olds think of themselves, says the magazine, reporting on the results of a "pre-retirement" survey of 4,000 men and women in U. S. industrial plants carried out by Doctors Milton L. Barron and Gordon F. Streib of Cornell University's Department of Sociology and Anthropology.

Although water is made of hydrogen and oxygen, fish do not use the oxygen in the chemical combination for breathing but only oxygen dissolved in the water.

Airman Repays Scholarship Loan to Aid Students

BEAUMONT, Tex. (UP) — A young airman, who struggled to get an education for himself, is allotting $10 per month out of his meager Air Force pay to help some other deserving student to attend Lamar College here.

He is Airman 1-C Lee James (Buddy) Betar, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Betar, of Port Arthur, Tex. The scholarship award — named in honor of young Betar's brother, Autry, who was killed in action in Korea — was handed to its first recipient at the college May 20.

The first person to receive the award was Miss Charlesene Hudson, a talented flutist and music-education major. Betar's only stipulation regarding the memorial scholarship, which will continue for 16 months, is that it go to a deserving student in art or music.

Airman Betar currently is stationed at Camp Parks, Calif. He was graduated from Lamar College before enlisting. He worked before and after classes to earn his way through college.

Penny Saved—or Lost

OXFORD, Me. (UP)—Two factions battled at a town meeting over whether to reduce the annual appropriation to pay town officers. One group favored "a substantial reduction" while the other plumped for the same appropriation as last year. The compromise approved was for $3,009.99. Last year's appropriation was $4,000.

Perfected for Movies Invisible Seam Screen

NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y.—(UP)—A new invisible seam projection screen that is optically engineered has been developed by the world's largest producer of wide screens.

The invisible seam involves a welding principle perfected by the research staff after 2½ years of work. The new technique also increases the strength of the washable screen, company officials say.

The producer makes screen fabrics from plastic, silver and cotton which are sandwiched together into thin sheets in rolls 1,000 feet long.

Municipal Survey Shows

CHICAGO (UP)—The International City Managers' Association reports that a check of 53 cities, most of them under 100,000 population, showed 29 gave general pay raises to all employes in 1953.

Ten cities, the association said, raised the pay of certain classes of workers only. Three cities adopted new pay schedules that increased salaries for most employes.

Less than one-fifth of the 53 cities failed to make some wage increases the association said.

California's industrial output is estimated to be three times greater than the products of the soil.

Sitters Taught at High School

Health Teacher Heads Program for Teenage Girls at Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UP)—A man solved the baby-sitting problem for Syracuse mothers.

Barraged by telephone calls from women seeking help in finding sitters, Stanley Zamory, principal of East Syracuse High school, called a conference of members of the school Mothers' Club. The result was the founding of the "School for Sitters."

"Anyone can be a baby sitter, but not everyone can be a good sitter" is the theory behind the school. The school health teacher heads the program, assisted by guidance and home economics experts and three club members.

They emphasize that no attempt is made to set wage standards for sitters, that the only motive of the school is to prepare the "students", mostly teenagers, for the job. A directory of trained sitters, with addresses and telephone numbers, is maintained for parents.

The "school" has developed a list of "do's" and "don'ts" for sitters and parents, too.

Some of the "do's" for sitters: Know the name, address and telephone number of your employer; arrive on time, know where parents can be reached when you are sitting; ask where you will find things you need; pay attention to your job; treat the house you work in as if it were your own; charge reasonable fees, and report unusual happenings and telephone messages to the parents.

The most important "taboos" for sitters:

Don't get into your employers' belongings; don't compare unfavorable notes about the children; don't raid the ice box; don't make a social affair of the job by inviting friends in.

Southbound Letter Travels Lengthy Route

LA HABRA, Calif. (UP) — Roland Martone mailed a letter to Dewey Linze, an adventure-bound journalist, last July 28. It was addressed to South America. Somehow the letter went to South Pasadena to South Gate to South San Francisco and then to Iquotos, Peru. Last week the letter was returned to the sender.

Martone put it in an envelope to Linze, readdressed it, added note: "Don't want to open your mail. Please let me know what I said. I forgot."

Robin Defies Enemies

DES MOINES (UP)—For the past four years, a rare albino robin has spent the spring and summer months in the same residential neighborhood of Des Moines. Wild life experts say it is unusual for an albino wild bird to survive for long as its white coloring makes it easy prey for natural enemies.

Jap H-Victim Might Recover

U.S. Doctor Hints That Radiation Not to Blame for Critical Condition

TOKYO (INS) — An American doctor who treats A-bomb victims in Hiroshima admitted Wednesday that fisherman Aikichi Kuboyama was critically ill but hinted it may not be directly due to radiation from last spring's U. S. hydrogen test blast.

Dr. Robert H. Holmes, director of the American Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission at Hiroshima, told International News Service he had "hopes" for Kuboyama's "eventual recovery" despite the statement of Japanese doctors that the man was dying.

The 39-year-old Kuboyama was the radio operator aboard the Lucky Dragon when the fishing vessel and its 23 crewmen were showered last March 1 with the fall-out from a nuclear dust cloud in the mid-Pacific. All 23 are hospitalized in Tokyo.

Kuboyama lapsed into a deep coma last Sunday and Japanese doctors diagnosed his condition as acute yellow jaundice. Dr. Homes, who came to Tokyo from Hiroshima Monday night and examined Kuboyama, said:

"There are many causes of yellow jaundice. One of them is serum hepatitis which occasionally follows blood transfusions.

Reports from Washington had quoted medical authorities there as saying Kuboyama might have been stricken with infectious hepatitis due to transfusions of contaminated blood.

But these reports were disputed by the Japanese physicians treating the fisherman. They insisted his critical jaundice condition was caused by a drop in the patient's resistance due to his exposure to radioactive dust from the H-bomb blast.

Welfare Officials Welcome Probe of 'Hostage' Tot

PAW PAW (UP) — Chairman Merle H. Young of the Van Buren County Welfare Commission said today he would "welcome" an investigation into the case of 16-month-old Larry Maddox whose parents charged was held in the county hospital because they couldn't pay their $40 hospital bill.

The child was turned over to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Maddox, of Joplin, Mo., Wednesday in a dramatic scene in Circuit Court here.

Attorneys for the parents had filed a writ of habeas corpus to obtain the baby's release, but no action was taken on it when hospital officials turned the baby over to the parents in the courtroom.

Sheldon Rupert, Paw Paw, one of the attorneys for the young couple, told Circuit Judge Carl T. Mosier he thought "it might be a good idea to look into the practices of the welfare commission."

"We'd be very happy to have any official agency look into this case or investigate all activities of the social welfare department," Young said.

"We feel there was nothing wrong with our handling of this case. We did not refuse to turn the child over to its father.

"He left the hospital when someone mentioned the bill and apparently thought he had to pay the bill or he couldn't get his child."

Police Fill Garage With Suspect Books

PORT HURON (UP) — A city garage full of varied assortment of magazines, books, pamphlets, slides, novelties and other items today awaited a grand juror's study.

City police and St. Clair County deputies rounded up the articles yesterday in the prelude of a grand jury probe of illicit sales of obscene literature in the county.

The countywide crackdown resulted in 41 subpoenas being served on wholesalers, distributors and retailers.

"There is no need to go any further," said Prosecutor Delmar L. Cleland. "We have all the evidence we need."

Circuit Judge Eugene F. Black, the grand juror, will examine the confiscated literature next week.

2 Local Women to Attend Meet

Janice R. Antona and Karen Hoff Named for Capital Conference

Miss Janice R. Antona of 193 W. Ann Arbor Ave. and Miss Karen Hoff of 270½ S. East Blvd. will represent Pontiac at the annual National Conference on Citizenship in Washington, D.C., Sept. 15 through 17, Mayor William W. Donaldson announced today.

Pontiac was asked to send delegates by the Department of Justice which sponsors the event in cooperation with the National Education Assn. and the Board of Directors of the convention, a federally chartered organization.

Theme of the conference will be, "The Three Branches of the Federal Government—Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow."

The group of delegates, selected for displaying outstanding citizenship in local communities, will hear talks by leading educators and government officials.

Miss Antona has been teaching citizenship and English for foreign born classes at Pontiac High School since 1936. She has prepared over 2,000 persons from 36 nations for U.S. citizenship.

She is president of the New Citizens League of Pontiac, a group of her former class members who wanted to continue studying government and civic affairs after becoming naturalized.

Miss Hoff, a senior at Pontiac High School, recently won the Miss Pontiac and Romeo Peach Queen titles.

The Pontiac School Board will finance Miss Antona's trip and the Kiwanis Club Miss Hoff's.

Holly Police Chief Resigns Position

Holly Police Chief Harry Jones handed his resignation to the village council yesterday, following an intense 5-month argument with Village Manager Anders O. Hustvedt.

In a letter of resignation, the former Oakland County sheriff's deputy said he took the job April 1, with the understanding that he would run the police force, "on a sound, nonpolitical basis." He said Manager Hustvedt had blocked him in efforts to this end.

In tendering the resignation, he added, "during the past weeks I have felt that I do not have the confidence of the council and Police Committee which is necessary to harmonious operation of this department.

Although refined and greatly improved, the principle of the modern cotton gin is basically the same as that developed by Eli Whitney

Fathers Increase Interest in Parent-Teacher Groups

DES MOINES (AP) — Parent-Teacher Assn. groups used to be almost exclusively composed of women. But all that's changed, Mrs. E. O. Tweet of Cedar Falls, Iowa, exhibits chairman of the Iowa PTA, says.

"For a long time," Mrs. Tweet says, "it seemed as though there was only one parent for each child. Now fathers are becoming more interested all the time."

Hal Boyle Says:

How Many Adults Fear Teenage Kids on Streets?

NEW YORK (AP)—How many people in America today are afraid of teen-agers? Physically afraid, I mean.

Teen-agers in every generation have annoyed or amused their elders, and generally been written off as pretty worthless (unless there happened to be a war on, and they were needed to carry guns).

Of course, this never was really true and few really believed it. If every crop of teen-agers was worse than the one before, the human race would have lost out long ago.

• • •

But it does seem some strange kind of mental bug is infecting our young. Parental authority is crumbling. Juvenile delinquency is growing. The kid gangs of yore used to think they were pretty daring when they joined in mass fist fights or made a midnight raid on a watermelon patch; the kid gangs today have gone a long step farther. They want to rob a grocery store, steal a car, carry a shiv, ambush a grownup and kick him into a pulp.

The other night I was walking with my wife on a Manhattan street. A group of teen-age boys approached in full uniform—T-shirts and blue jeans. They were laughing, mauling each other and shouting boisterously, as cubs have done since time began.

"Don't say anything to them," said Frances, clutching my arm nervously.

"Say anything to them? I don't even know those kids."

"Well, don't say anything anyway," she said. "It might start trouble."

• • •

The kids passed by without even noticing us. They kept right on mauling each other and making those boisterous teen-age sounds that put the nerves of some forgetful adults on edge. But I remember being that age very well myself—the wilderness when you are half-boy, half-man, and feeling pretty much at sea inside. And so I knew why they were so noisy—because in their hearts they felt insecure, just as a child whistles passing a lonely graveyard in the dark.

But I also knew what my wife was thinking. She was thinking of the rash of headlines about teen-age gangs beating up and killing casual passersby, or muscling down a woman for the change in her purse.

• • •

Since then I have heard several women say they were afraid to go out unescorted in the evening, and men complain "nobodys really safe on the street at night anymore because of those crazy kids."

If that is the situation here, then the same feeling must exist—to a smaller or greater extent—in dozens of other cities across the United States. For New York has no monopoly on kid gangs or juvenile delinquency.

How many adult Americans right now are actually physically afraid of teen-agers? Undoubtedly more than at any previous period.

But it is a bitter commentary on our civilization that so many of us should regard in fear today the generation that is our only hope of tomorrow.

• • •

You can't condemn all teen-agers because a few learn the art of mayhem before they learn a trade, and get their laughs by clobbering strangers unconscious and dumping them into a river. The frightening thing is these examples of brutality aren't isolated.

Juvenile delinquency no longer is an adolescent pimple on our society. It is a spreading adolescent cancer.

By the time these kill-for-thrills teen-agers explode, it is too late. Neither the storm shelter of psychiatry nor the electric chair offers much of a real solution then.

It isn't a repair job. It's a problem of prevention. Some folks feel that if you switch a child often enough when it is young you won't have to pull an electric switch on it later, but that makes it altogether too simple. Science must find a way to detect early in life the children with dynamite caps in their brains, and society must share with their parents the responsibility of seeing they are helped to go right at a time when they can still be helped—before they explode and blow their own lives, and perhaps other lives, to pieces.

Who wants to go on being half-afraid of his neighbor's teen-age kids—and, often, his own?

Ancient Auto Breezes Through Inspection

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Thomas E. Moody appeared in traffic court to answer a summons for failure to have an inspection sticker on his automobile. Moody told the judge that after he received the summons the car passed the inspection with flying colors.

The judge imposed a $5 fine but suspended payment.

Moody's car is a 1914 model.

Dubuque Man Compiles 50 Years as Chorister

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP)—After 50 years, J. Earl Bott of Dubuque is still going strong as a choir singer. He started his choir career as a boy soprano here and later sang in St. James Protestant Episcopal choir in Chicago. While in the Navy he was a member of other choirs at New London, Conn.; Hamilton, Bermuda; Gibraltar; Valetta, Malta; Spalato, Yugoslavia; and Rome.

Offers Drivers Holiday Advice

'Stay Near Home Over Labor Day,' National Safety Chief Warns

CHICAGO (AP)—Eight life-saving rules of driving were offered American motorists today—in advance of the Labor Day weekend traffic crush.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, observed that they might keep many a motorist from becoming a statistic during the holiday period. Council engineers estimated 390 persons will be killed next weekend in traffic.

• • •

At the head of the list is this suggestion: stay close to home if you can. Extensive trips on high speed rural roads increase your risk. The others:

2. If you go somewhere, start in plenty of time so you won't be tempted to hurry and take chances.

3. Keep your speed about the same as that of other cars on the road. Passing and being passed is one of the most dangerous highway maneuvers.

4. Don't try to pass a line of cars all at once. Stay behind until each car ahead has passed and you are directly behind the slower moving vehicle.

• • •

5. Avoid sudden stops and lane changing. Signal your intentions and make your moves smoothly.

6. Don't follow too closely. Give yourself plenty of room to avoid a crash if the car ahead should stop or turn unexpectedly.

7. If you are returning from a vacation or resort with a heavily loaded car, remember that the extra weight may require more acceleration time and stopping distance. The car's stability on curves may be different too.

8. Use extreme care if you are pulling a boat trailer. Drive slowly enough to keep it from whipping, avoid fast stops, and don't pass unless you have plenty of room.

Legs Amputated, Girl, 12, Happily Awaits Release

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Golden-haired Nancy Hamilton is just 12 and she has lost both legs. But she's looking forward happily to that day in two or three weeks when she'll leave for home.

"I don't look down. I just look up. And God helps me," the little girl tells fellow patients at St. John's Hospital.

• • •

Nancy's legs were amputated because of a rare congenital defect of the blood vessels known medically as lymphohemangioma. She lost her left leg more than a year ago and her right one last July 13 in what was her 39th operation.

"Soon I will have two new shoes," Nancy tells her friends. "Maybe I can even learn to dance."

• • •

The first time she had ever worn a shoe was when she was fitted with her first artificial limb.

"It was my biggest thrill," she said, "walking across the hardwood floors and hearing the sound of my own footstep."

Mrs. Marguerite Hamilton, widowed when her husband was killed in a traffic accident two months before Nancy's birth, hopes to purchase a trailer in which to make the new home for her daughter. They've already been promised trailer space near a pool where Nancy can swim daily and receive free lessons.

"I'll walk around the hospital just to show everyone I can. Then we'll go right home."

Welcome Kansas Rain Cause for Celebration

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Banners, displayed for a statewide meeting, got caught in a heavy rain. The convention over, curious residents wonder why they weren't removed.

"We're so tickled with this three-inch rain, we decided to leave the flags up for it," grinned Ray Faubion, Chamber of Commerce manager.

Under questioning, he admitted there was another reason. The rain caused the flagpoles to swell firmly in their sockets and they couldn't be removed immediately.

Expert Calls Icebergs 'Friend' of Polar Pilots

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (INS) — A Coast Guard Arctic expert says that icebergs are the "friend of the polar navigator and not to be feared."

Capt. Charles W. Thomas, a veteran Arctic seaman, says that since seven-eighths of an iceberg is submerged the huge ice mass is propelled by sea currents and not wind.

Eighty Noisy Teeners Welcome at Hospital

SACRAMENTO (AP)—There's one place where a bunch of noisy adolescents is a welcome sight. That is in the special unit for mentally ill adolescents at Napa State Hospital.

The new unit was set up to give about 80 mentally ill teenagers specialized treatment.

"It is much too early for any judgment," said the Mental Hygiene Department in a report, "but at least they are now showing the healthy sign of being noisy on their own wards where they used to just sit and stare on the adult wards."

Prospective Policemen Use Novel Applications

COMPTON, Calif. (AP) — Applying for a policeman's job here amounts to an offense.

An economy-minded police department uses regular booking forms for applicants, since the facts required are pretty much the same as those needed for law violators.

Laptocoris Trivittatus Invade Battle Creek

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—Laptocoris Trivittatus is plaguing Battle Creek. The harmless little bugs don't bite, undermine houses, create offensive odors or carry disease. But they're bugs — and unwelcome.

Less formally known as box elder bugs, they are members of the sap-sucking family of insects. Their favorite to the box elder tree.

Gendarmes Called Out for Inebriated Woman

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP)—A telephone operator called the police and said there was a woman on the line calling for help. Officers listened in, agreed it sounded bad. Four patrolmen sped to the address and found all doors locked. Entrance was gained with a pass key.

They found a drunk woman in bed with the telephone receiver off the hook. She said she was all right but wondered if the officers would get her a glass of water.

Western Pioneer Sees Grandson on Celluloid

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (UP) — A pioneer Hyann's County rancher, hospitalized for two years, took to his wheelchair recently to see his grandson in motion pictures.

R. N. Hayward, 88, who helped build the real "Wild West" now portrayed on celluloid, watched his grandson, Charles Bert Hayward, do trick horseback riding as a stand-in for John Wayne in the film, "Hondo."

"He better quit before he gets his neck broken," the elder Hayward commented.

To Depart 3,000 Chinese

MANILA (AP)—The Philippines Cabinet has decided to deport to Formosa an estimated 3,000 Chinese nationals who have overstayed their visas. It denied a petition of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce to consider them as refugees from communism.

About 35 percent of all homes in the U. S. are heated by coal, the census figures reveal.

Car Stalls on Corncobs, Things Start Popping

RULO, Neb. (UP) — Don Ferron found his troubles had only begun when his new car stalled on a pile of corn cobs on a farm near here.

Ferron left the engine running while he went in search of a tractor to tow out the car. While he was away, the exhaust ignited the cobs which set fire to the car.

The car's gas tank exploded, spraying flames on a nearby hog house which also caught fire.

Zealous Maid Dumps Ammonia—and Diamond

CONCORD, N. C. (AP)—The maid dumped a glassful of ammonia solution down the kitchen sink and Mrs. John O'Dell frantically called in a crew of plumbers.

Her $2,500 diamond ring was in the glass.

The plumbers placed a screen over the sewer feeder line from the block in which Mrs. O'Dell lives and cooperative neighbors turned on their water taps to flush the line.

During the American Revolution muskets were so scarce that Benjamine Franklin advised the use of bows and arrows and New York militiamen were told to arm themselves with shovels, pickaxes and scythes.

Baronet to Keep Decrepit Estate

Ex-Handyman Decides to Hold Title, Rebuild Crumbling Manor

WIGTOWN, Scotland (INS)—Adrian Ivor Dunbar—"Sir Adrian" now—has made up his mind. He's going to try to be a Scottish baronet and like it.

After much soul-searching and many discussions with his wife, Lady Naomi, the former upper Fairmont, Md., handyman who last year became the 12th Baronet of Mochrum, a 259-year-old baronetcy, is sticking it out, at least for awhile.

Armed with hammer and paintbrush, the 60-year-old head of the Clan Dunbar is setting to work on the monumental task of rebuilding single-handedly the ramshackle 3,600-acres estate he inherited last year when two baronets ahead of him died in rapid succession.

"It will take a lifetime," Dunbar conceded.

The 40-room stone and brick manor house hasn't been occupied for 20 years except for a brief period in World War II when it was used for commando training.

Many of the cottages on the estate's 15 dairy farms are in what Dunbar concedes is a "shocking state of repair."

"I have only a few tools," Dunbar said, "but I'll see what I can do."

Dunbar's first repair job is in the 11-room stone house on one of the tenant farms which he and his wife are occupying.

Sir Adrian and Lady Naomi moved to the Mochrum Park estate near Wigtown in April and will have a go at doing what they can to put at least a habitable veneer on their inheritance.

Rent from the dairy farms produces about $5,000 a year but after payment of taxes and other costs there is only a few hundred dollars a year left for Dunbar.

He still isn't certain he and Lady Naomi will remain in Scotland, but adds:

"I hope we can work it out."

The Dunbars' two sons, Rowland, 26, and Donald, 18, may join them at Mochrum Park after leaving the Army in about two years.

Life hasn't been all drudgery for Sir Adrian.

As chief of the Clan Dunbar he has presided at bazaars and fetes, given out trophies at a regatta—"I even judged a beauty contest."

Money is Dunbar's big problem. He said he "cannot afford" to buy the Dunbar tartan kilt he should wear as a chieftain on clan occasions.

"But," he said, "I do have a tartan tie."

A normal human eye oscillates about .2 mm. every half second.

HOBBY KEEPS YOU YOUNG—"You've got to have a hobby, it keeps you young." That's the philosophy of Theodore A. Fogler, 80, left, oldest competitor at the National Rifle and Pistol Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio. He's a retired Cincinnati mailman. At 90, Harley H. Lyons, right, still puts in a 48-hour work week and doesn't plan to retire until he's 100. For the past five years Harley's been working at a Grand Rapids, Mich., service station, and says he'd be lost if it weren't for constant working.

Truman Documents Will Be on Display

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania Committee for the Harry S. Truman Library said today the first public showing of documents slated as part of the collection to be housed in the library will be held tomorrow.

Margaret Truman, daughter of the former President, will be guest of honor.

The committee is engaged in a fund-raising drive for the 1¾-million-dollar library in Missouri.

Documents to be displayed tomorrow include Truman's speech at the signing of the U.N. Charter in San Francisco June 26, 1945; the Truman Doctrine; the former President's message to Congress on aid to Greece and Turkey, March 12, 1947; and his Point Four inaugural address of Jan. 20, 1949.

Canada is the third largest country in area in the world, following the Soviet Union and China.

Pennsylvania Has 264 Caves

Caverns Discovered in South Section Where Limestone Is Found

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — If you ever feel the need of visiting a good cave, there's a fine choice of underground havens in Pennsylvania.

Only you'll need permission from the owner before you can prowl about in most of them. And you'll have to pay admission as a visitor in the plush ones with electric lights.

Pennsylvania now has 264 caves listed by the National Speleological Society and almost 200 of them were discovered in the past 20 years. Eleven boast electric lights and are open to the public.

The society, through its volume of "Caves of Pennsylvania," lists the 264 caverns and their location. Most are in the southern section of the state where there are large limestone deposits.

About 90 per cent are "wild," or happy hunting grounds for spelunkers and naturalists. Most of them are on private ground, and you must get permission to go underground.

The Pennsylvania caves have yielded world-renowned specimens of the remains of saber-toothed cats, mammomoths, tapirs and ground sloths. The first bat-banding was done in Pennsylvania caves.

Spelunkers and naturalists find cave crickets and other tiny forms of cave life in the Pennsylvania caverns.

Farmers of the U. S. use twice as much petroleum driven power as the total consumed by all of the nation's factories and industries.

Falls accounted for half the 29,000 persons killed in home accidents in 1953.

Per capita coffee consumption in the U. S. amounts to 19 pounds per year.

U.S. Scientist Studies Sea 1,700 Feet Below Surface

WASHINGTON — An American scientist has observed first-hand one of the sea's mysterious phenomena, the "deep scattering layer," from the French Navy's bathyscaphe submerged 1,700 feet below the Mediterranean's surface.

Ten miles off Toulon, France, Dr. Harold E. Edgerton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Commandant Georges Houot of France's Marine Nationale guided the diving submarine into the "phantom" stratum that rises by night and sinks by day between the surface and the sea floor.

It was the first time the bathyscaphe, which took Comdt. Houot to a world record depth of 13,287 feet last February in the Atlantic, was stationed at a fixed distance above the bottom, says the National Geographic Society.

Dr. Edgerton has not yet assessed all the data gleaned during the nearly three hours he was submerged in the dark abyss. But he had reported seeing many argyropelecae, tiny fish that "danced around like little mirrors."

On his way past the 1,150 feet level he observed "a great many dead shrimps or discarded shrimp skins" hanging in the water. Solitary jellyfish and hundreds of transparent creatures were seen at many depths.

The scientist said, "The bathyscaphe is one of the most significant developments in underwater research. Up to now the number of photographs taken in the oceans below 3,000 feet could be counted on your fingers. With the bathyscaphe thousands of depth photos can be made under direct control of the observer."

The deep scattering layer, occurring in all seas, has puzzled oceanographers since the 1930s when echo sounders discovered it. Some scientists think the stratum results from markedly different temperatures or salinity. Others theorize it is a layer of ocean creatures reflecting echo sound beams.

However, Dr. Edgerton, lowering his cameras from the surface craft in the Mediterranean, has already found that animal population is as thick above and below the zone as in it.

Potash-Crop Growth Relation a Mystery

OMAHA (INS) — Potash, recognized for hundreds of years as vital to the growth of crops, is still a mystery chemical.

Agronomists know that a 100 bushel per acre yield of corn requires at least 125 pounds of potassium. But the exact use of potash by the plant is unknown since it does not become a part of the plant structure and readily washes out of the tissue after the plant is cut or dies.

Scientists also have found that some top soil contains as much as 40,000 pounds of potassium per acre — enough to nourish the field for more than 300 years. But they have not been able to release the potash from the soil in a form that can be used by plants.

Efficient Judge Honored

DEARBORN—Dearborn Municipal Judge George T. Martin was given first place award yesterday by the American Bar Assn. for operating the most efficient traffic court for cities of 50,000 to 100,000 population. During the past year, Judge Martin's court handled 6,121 traffic violations. He handles criminal cases in the morning, traffic cases in the afternoon.

Hail seldom falls at night, for the same reason that it seldom falls in cool weather. The earth, being cooler at night, does not then furnish enough rising air currents to force raindrops to a sufficient height to freeze them.

Prince Wins Battle Over 'Silly' Bonnet

LONDON (INS)—Prince Charles has no love for the jaunty little round hat that sets off his new sailor suit.

The long pants are fine and the manly jumper sets off a feller's shoulders — but that hat is "out."

Palace informants said the first time it was placed on the tousled young royal head, Charles immediately threw it on the floor and told his nurse scornfully that it was "a silly hat."

The battle of wills between Prince and nurse lasted until the royal yacht Britannia put into Gibraltar on the homeward voyage of the Royal Commonwealth tour. Charles was photographed everywhere in his natty sailor suit — but his nurse, defeated, carried the little round hat.

Announce Completion of Kennett Road Recap

The recap of Kennett road from Baldwin to Oakland avenue was completed yesterday, according to Assistant City Engineer James N. Carlisle.

The crew today is preparing to recap Paddock street from the Michigan Airline Railroad to South Jessie street, he said.

The United Nations Children's Fund estimates that two-thirds of the 900 million children in the world do not have adequate food, clothing, shelter, sanitation or medical protection.

Welder Explodes; Royal Oak Man Dies of Burns

DETROIT (UP) — Harold Coulter, 46, a construction foreman from Royal Oak, died at Saratoga General Hospital early today of burns he suffered when welding equipment exploded.

Coulter and a woman passer-by, Mrs. Mary Auty, were showered with hot lead as a result of the blast. Both were hospitalized in critical condition Wednesday afternoon and Coulter died today at 2:45 a. m.

The welding equipment was being used by two workmen repairing a water line in suburban Harper Woods.

Debbie Resents Being Pushed in Her Romance

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Actress Debbie Reynolds arrived back in Hollywood today in a resentful mood over "people trying to push" her and singer Eddie Fisher into marriage.

When asked about her ballyhooed romance with the popular television star, Debbie pouted:

"We just want people to leave us alone! If you were going with someone, you wouldn't want to be pushed around all the time."

She added:

"If anything happens, it's going to happen naturally. We've got plenty of time."

Debie bounced off a TWA plane wearing a tight-fitting black dress and white jeweled sweater but no engagement ring.

During her brief New York visit, Debbie met Eddie's seven brothers and sisters and appeared on two television shows.

She said she expects Fisher in Hollywood in about three weeks.

Irving Berlin Hasn't Had Hit in Last 3 Years

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Irving Berlin hasn't had a new hit song in 3½ years, but he isn't complaining.

Some songwriters are. They claim that their established talents are passed up by the record companies and disc jockeys in favor of unknown writers of novelty songs. The issue has even reached the courts. But Berlin is staying out of it.

"Sure, I haven't had a hit since I did 'Call Me Madam,'" said the veteran songsmith. "I put out a couple of songs that I thought were pretty good. One of them, 'For the Very First Time,' was recorded by Tony Martin, and I thought it was a good ballad. But it never got off the ground.

"For the past 3½ years, I have been living off my ASCAP fees (payment when a song is performed). They tell me there are more pianos being sold than ever before, but people don't buy sheet music.

"But I don't think you can knock the songs you hear today. I think songs like 'Tennessee Waltz' and "Goodnight Irene' are as good as any you can find. Sure, there are a lot of crazy songs, but we had 'em in the old days too.

"I wrote things like 'Sadie Salome, Go Home' and 'When Yiddle Plays His Fiddle.' A guy comes along with a trick title like 'Yes, We Have No Bananas' and it's a hit. It's cute. Why knock it?"

Berlin will doubtless get back in the hit column this fall when his new film "White Christmas" is released. He has several new songs in the show. He believes three—"Count Your Blessings," "Love, You Didn't Do Right by Me," "The Best Things Happen While You're Dancing"—have hit possibilities.

"But how can you tell?" he sighed. "You never know what the public will go for. I had a song in 'Annie Get Your Gun' which was meant to be only an introduction to another song, 'You Can't Get a Man With a Gun.'

"I needed something for Frank Butler to sing to Annie Oakley, telling her the kind of a woman he wanted. I called it 'The Girl That I Marry.' Nothing much happened to it at first.

"Then Frank Sinatra did a record of it. Before anybody knew it, the record had sold a million copies and the song was a big hit."

High Guns Blaze Way to Titles in NSSA Meet

By H. GUY MOATS

Score sheets looked more like a national championship yesterday, in the 15th annual National Skeet Shooting Association's big shoot at OCSC's spot at Waterford.

Under nearly ideal conditions, the scattergun experts went after the "hundred straights" with a vengeance. Before the day was done — both literally and from a shooting viewpoint, the first 100x100 count was shot by a magnificent marksman from San Juan, Puerto Rico. Later in the day, in another event, eight more "hundreds" were recorded.

However, Col. Salvadore T. Roig, Puerto Rico's Olympic pistol and rifle champion, and leader of the Carribean country's team of six members here for the NSSA championships stayed alone on the "100" pinnacle to emerge as the new National Small Gauge champion. This is his first year in NSSA competition, and he is already being mentioned as one of the favorites for the coveted high-over-all title.

Because of the late finish of the Champion of Champions rounds, there was no time left to shoot off the multiple tie for top spot. Eight were tied, all with perfect scores for the 100 targets. Shootoff was set for early today.

Another shootoff was averted when Carl Helton of Niagara Falls, N. Y., an entry after all others had finished the small gauge (28's) round, turned in a 99 to take second place behind Col. Roig, and with Ben DiIorio of Utica New York, to capture the two-man event.

This pair combined for 98-99—197 to edge Capt. Alberto Guerrero and Jamie Loyola of Puerto Rico, with 98-91—194, and Lew Gordon of Texarkana and Russ Marks of El Dorado Ark., who had 97-97—194. The latter pairs waited around for more than an hour before Helton's total was posted.

Considerable argument arose over the lateness of Helton's entry, but Secretary George White of Dallas, Tex., pointed out there was no regulation that set specific times for such a condition. There probably will be, in the future.

Other leaders in the small gauge championship included four at 98x100; Charles J. Stevens of Chicago; Henry Adler of Dallas, Tex.; Jamie Loyola, Puerto Rico; Ben DiIorio, Utica, N. Y.; at 97x100—Alex Kerr, one of the country's top skeeters, of Beverly Hills, Calif.; Titus Harris Jr. of Galveston, Tex.; Lew Gordon, Russ Marks, and William A. Brown of Birmingham.

Championships were also determined for the women's small gauge division in which Mrs. Ethel Balch of Tulsa, Okla., is the new champion. She fired 94x100 to lead Mrs. Florence Schmidt of Hazel Park by two targets.

* * *

Small gauge seniors crown went to Carl B. Stutzman of Peoria, Ill., with 95x100. Ed Docherty of Holyoke, Mass., was runnerup with 93x100.

Sub-senior title was taken by Ed Mable of Evanston, Ill., with 94x100. Second spot was shared by Fred Alford of Dallas and George Docherty of Holyoke, Mass., with 93s.

Fred Missildine of Sea Island, Ga., won the industry crown with 97x100.

Juniors championship was taken by Ed Harris of Galveston, on a 97x100 count. Ed is 15 years old. Charlie Prentiss Jr., Fabens, Tex. was runner up with 94.

Hamp Curry of Caro was one of the eight 100x100 shooters in the champions' event who will battle in a shootoff today.

* * *

Start of the "big stuff" today is the 20-gauge championships, with plenty of high guns in sight, say observers. That is if wind and weather conditions are comparable to yesterday, when scores improved speedily over the previous two days.

This is the halfway mark in the championships.

An official conference of NSSA directors has been set for tonight at OCSC and it is possible that some discussion will be had at this time over suggestions that the big nationals will be sought by the Oakland County club for 1955.

Training Spot Shifted When Fans Get Rough

BANGKOK (AP)—Because of the large number and sometimes unruly spectators at his present training camp in downtown Bangkok, Robert Cohen of France may shift workouts for his Sept. 19 world bantamweight championship fight to a more secluded area.

It was reliably reported that Cohen's manager, Gaston Raymond, decided on the shift when crowds watching the training Monday rushed into the ring after Europe's champion hurt two Thai sparring partners.

Raymond reportedly feared his fighter might be injured accidentally.

Cohen's opponent, Thailand's Chamrern Songkitrat, is training in a farming area about 20 miles from here.

First Contact Drills Scheduled for Chiefs

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High's football squad will "graduate" from work on fundamentals tomorrow afternoon, when coach Ed Graybiel has scheduled the season's first contact drills.

Graybiel hasn't planned a full-scale scrimmage, but he will put his linemen and backs through strenuous blocking and tackling workouts in separate groups. Up to now, emphasis has been on basic fundamentals, dummy blocking and plays.

One hundred 20 candidates—the largest number in recent years—have been working in 2-a-day sessions since Monday. The twice-daily drills will continue until classes start next Tuesday. Chiefs' opening game is scheduled for Sept. 17 at Wyandotte.

With only six lettermen returning from the 1953 squad, Graybiel will be forced to rely on inexperienced men in at least five positions.

Willie Wilson, a regular last year and the fastest man on the squad, has the left end post. Willie has added some heft to his 5-foot 8½-inch frame since last year and weighs in at 172. Marvin Smith, a junior, backs him up.

A pair of veterans, Colle Hunt and George Thrasher, have first call on the tackle berths. Others seeking the spots are Bob Davis, a rugged 6-foot 3-inch 245-pound junior who was ineligible last season, and ex-reserves Ron Cutler and Karl Walker.

Jim Neavis, a 165-pound junior who came up from the reserves in time to win a letter last year, is the No. 1 right guard. Pressing him, however, is Dick Kors, a 165-pounder from Lincoln who is looking exceptionally good for a sophomore. Bruce Baker and Jim Pulis, both up from the '53 reserve eleven, are fighting for the left guard job.

Four huskies, including letterman Wayne Pike, are battling for the center berth. Jack Brown and Marshall Katchka, seniors, and junior Don Hardy are the other pivot-slot candidates.

Fullback and right half appear to be in capable hands, with veterans Coley Gracey and Walter Poe returning. Poe, one of the squad's top runners and passers last season, should develop into one of the Saginaw Valley League's leading backs this year.

Bob Casteel, a 6-foot 180-pounder up from the reserves, is top choice for the quarterback post. Art Poe, Walt's sophomore brother and a standout at Washington last year, and Bill French, from Lincoln, also are working as signal-callers.

Slade, Katchka and Hayward are working on extra-point kicking, while Walt Poe and Russ Attwater will probably handle punting chores.

Tigers Slip Back Into 2nd Division After 4-0 Licking

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit Tigers slipped into the 2nd division last night by dropping a 4-0 decision to the Washington Senators.

Detroit failed to find the range on Washington hurler Johnny Schmitz. Schmitz held the Bengals to seven scattered hits.

Senators piled on starter Al Aber for four runs in the 3rd inning. Wayne Terwilliger singled with one out. Aber fumbled a bunt by Schmitz. Eddie Yost sacrificed and Terwilliger scored on an infield out.

Mickey Vernon singled to score Schmitz and Aber was chased when Clyde Vollmer walked and Tom Umphlett and Ed Fitz Gerald singled, scoring Vernon and Vollmer.

Ray Herbert and Bob Miller finished for the Tigers holding the Senators scoreless.

Loss dropped Detroit a half-game behind Boston which split a day-night doubleheader with Chicago.

Detroit closes out its final Eastern tour of the 1954 campaign against the Senators today. Ned Garver (12-8) will oppose Bob Porterfield (11-12).

Bengals return to Briggs Stadium for a night game against Baltimore Friday.

After a Labor Day junket to Chicago Monday for a holiday double header Detroit opens its last home stand of the season. All Eastern clubs will make their final appearances in Briggs Stadium during the 11-day stand.

Ted Atkinson Joins Select Circle of 3,000 Winners

NEW YORK (AP)—A little 38-year-old man, who paid $1.50 to ride his first horse, today was in the 3,000 winner class along with such turf greats as England's Sir Gordon Richards, Eddie Arcaro and Johnny Longden.

Ted Atkinson, a native of Canada, rode his 3,000th winner when he booted the Greentree Stable's Devastation to victory in the third race at Aqueduct yesterday.

Sir Gordon's world record of 4,870 probably is beyond his reach as is Longden's American standard of about 4,400 but Ted is within striking distance of Arcaro, who has passed the 3,300 mark.

Ted recalled that in 1936, after he got a job as a stableboy with Greentree for $20 a month and keep he went to a riding academy in the Bronx and paid $1.50 a ride for three or four outings.

"Just wanted to see how it felt to ride a horse," he said.

Since then he has been up on 18,114, not counting the many he took out for exercise in the morning hours. In addition to his 3,000 winners, he has been second 2,546 times and third on 2,263 other occasions.

His mounts have won close to 13 million dollars and he has been paid more than a million dollars for his riding. He has been in the $100,000 class since 1946.

Ted said he wasn't especially nervous going to the post in yesterday's third race even though he knew it might be the one.

International Test Opens

Useful Wedge May Be Deciding Factor in Curtis Cup Matches Starting Today

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.

ARDMRE, Pa. (AP)—If Britain's feminine golfers can learn to play a wedge—a club they seldom can use at home—they stand a good chance of retaining the Curtis Cup, which they won two years ago when the Americans weren't smart enough to leave their wedges behind.

* * *

That useful club, designed to hoist a golf ball out of sand traps and other troublesome spots, may be the deciding factor in the two-day international series which opened today at the Merion Golf Club.

* * *

The eighth Curtis Cup series opened today with three alternates—stroke "Scotch" foursome matches.

The rival captains, Mrs. John Beck of Britain, whose husband captained the 1938 and 1947 British Walker Cup teams, and Mrs. Harrison Flippin of Ardmore, used different strategy in picking their teams for today's foursomes.

Mrs. Beck, with a solid team of experienced players, paired up veterans for her No. 1 and No. 2 combinations and then put Mrs. Marjorie Peel and 19-year-old Janette Robertson together. Neither has had any previous Curtis Cup experience.

Frances (Bunty) Stephens, winner of the British Women's championship in 1949 and again this year, and the 1954 runner-up, Elizabeth Price, form the first British pair.

Mrs. Flippin, whose team is evenly divided between veterans of previous cup matches and newcomers, chose to give each new player the support of an experienced member. She paired them this way, with the newcomers named first:

Mary Lena Fualk of Thomasville, Ga., 1953 American Women's amateur champion, and pert little Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Texas; bespectacled 21-year-old Pat Lesser of Seattle, and schoolteacher Claire Doran of Cleveland; pretty, blonde Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., and Atlanta's Dorothy Kirby, a member of the last three American teams.

CHAMPION—On his first try in the National Skeet Shooting Association's championships, Col. Salvadore T. Roig, San Juan, Puerto Rico police official, yesterday walked off with the coveted small (28) gauge championship. His 100 straight score stood up all day under a hot bombardment, climaxed by Carl Helton's late entry 99. The colonel also is one of the 10 champion of champions shooting off a tie for that title, today.

University of Detroit Loses Pair of Centers

DETROIT (AP) — University of Detroit football team, whose greatest need is linemen, has lost the services of two centers. Ron Potocki, a sophomore, informed head coach Wally Fromhart that he was passing up drills under doctor's orders following an operation.

Marion Balcerzak, meanwhile, said he was quitting football to devote full time to his engineering studies.

Irish Offer Sports

DUBLIN (AP)—American tourists visiting Ireland this year find more than 200 golf courses open to them, as well as invitations to ride with 32 fox hound and 40 harrier packs. Scores of salmon and trout streams as well as many free shooting areas are open to visitors.

Redlegs Better Street's Stunt

Catch Balls Dropped From Helicopter 575 Feet Over Field

CINCINNATI (UP) — Gabby Street's famous old-time feat of catching a baseball dropped from the top of the Washington Monument has been beaten by two Cincinnati Redlegs catchers — by 20 feet.

Street, old-time St. Louis Cardinal player and manager, missed the 1st 12 balls dropped to him from the monument, according to records, and caught the 13th. The monument is 555 feet, 5⅛ inches high.

Wednesday night, balls were dropped from a helicopter hovering 575 feet over Crosley Field. Catcher Hobie Landrith and batting practice catcher John (Dutch) Dotterer of the Redlegs each caught one ball dropped to them.

Redleg catchers Andy Seminick and Ed Bailey failed to catch any of six balls dropped to them. The stunt was held before the start of Wednesday night's Redlegs-Giants game.

Aragon Beats Trigo on Disputed Decision

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Art Aragon, carrying the fight most of the way, erupted with savage fury in the fifth round of his welterweight fight with Mario Trigo tonight to win a disputed TKO victory.

Aragon, fighting out of Los Angeles, weighed 148. Trigo, from Caudillo, Mexico, stepped in at 142.

'Studio-Home Audience' Nationally-Televised Fight Show Last Night Makes Boxing History

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Boxing history was made last night with the first "studio-home audience" nationally televised fight show, but the only happy faces were those of four unheralded preliminary fighters.

* * *

Kid Gavilan came down with the mumps Tuesday, 24 hours before he was scheduled to make his eighth title defense against Johnny Saxton. The promoters — Herman Taylor and the International Boxing Club of New York—were faced with the prospect of no show at all.

* * *

Rather than break the uninterrupted four-year Wednesday TV fight show series, Taylor and the IBC put together a double windup program of six rounders. No admission was charged for the show at the Met, a small club with a seating capacity of about 5,000.

Some 2,000 fans—about the size of a large studio audience—turned out, most of them from the neighborhood surrounding the Met. The fighters, George Justine and Ellwood Davis, Philadelphia welterweights, and Bobby Bell, Youngstown, Ohio, and Ike Chestnut of New York, each received $1,500 for their appearance, just like what a guest on a TV comedy, dramatic or quiz show might get.

* * *

The fighters were happy. They each got a nice chunk of TV money. But everyone else connected with the last minute affair looked as if he had lost his best friend or last dollar.

Gavilan was home in bed with the mumps.

Saxton was down in the mouth at losing his opportunity—for the time being at least—to fight for the 147-pound crown.

* * *

Promoter Taylor and IBC representatives were busy counting up their financial losses because of the postponement and the expense of putting on the substitute show.

* * *

About the fight. Justine, 140, suffered cuts over both eyes and a bruise under his left eye, but emerged a surprising winner on the votes of the two judges, Jimmy Mina and Nate Lapinson. Referee Pete Pantaleo and the AP thought Davis won.

* * *

Chestnut, 127, a former Golden Gloves champion, and Bell, recently out of the Army fought to a draw.

2-Position Man

MSC Coaches Wish Matsock Were Twins

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—You can't blame Michigan State college football coaches for wishing that Johnny Matsock were twins.

When the 1st team was lined up to turn through signal drills at the start of practice, Matsock was bounced from position to position on succeeding plays like the leading character in "Charlie's Aunt."

On one play Matsock would be operating at quarterback. On the next he would be running from right halfback.

It isn't that the coaches aren't sure what position they'd like him in. They want him in both.

Matsock, a five foot eleven inch, 170 pound senior from Detroit, is just naturally a versatile fellow. He also is a shortstop with the MSC baseball team and is regarded as a good pro prospect.

Matsock was one of the stars of the Rose Bowl game. He ground out some good yardage while at quarterback and on the defensive broke up a number of pass plays and intercepted two passes.

Muskegon's Earl Morrall, a solid passer, is regarded as the No. 1 quarterback prospect. But coaches would like Matsock to spell him, mostly as a running quarterback on Split T plays.

They also want to use his power at right halfback, planning to team him with Flint's LeRoy Bolden at left half.

Matsock is the main candidate for right half. When he's at quarterback either Ray Eggleston of Jackson, Travis Buggs of East Chicago, Ind., or Bert Zagers of Cadillac are the other choices.

In the other backfield position, fullback, Jerry Planutis of West Hazelton, Pa., has the edge. Vic Postula of Marshall is pushing him, however.

Although there was no scrimmage session yesterday, 1st day of regular practice, one injury resulted from the workout.

National Auto Speed Trials in Fourth Day

Drivers Hoping Strong Wind Will Diminish in Today's Runs

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP)—The National Speed trials enter their fourth day today with the speed-minded drivers hoping that a strong wind which has hampered the trials the past two days will diminish.

But the afternoon wind Thursday did do some good. It was a 30 mile per hour tail wind for cars going through the speed traps. Meet directors would not allow cars which could reach 180 m.p.h. or better run. The tail wind gave the slower cars a speed boost.

Since the car is required to go through the speed traps twice, once in each direction, the wind does not disqualify the speeds.

The first threat to Bill Kenz and Roy Leslie, both of Denver, who have had the best speed mark in the trials the last three years, was the LeBlanc twin engine Chrysler Streamliner. It coasted through the quarter mile speed traps yesterday at 219 m.p.h. This is the fastest ever timed through the short trap. It was driven by Californian Gene LeBlanc.

The trials fastest time in an open wheel C class Lakester was turned in by another Californian Leroy Neumeyer, at 215 m.p.h.

Art Chrisman of Compton, Calif., requalified yesterday in his car that had blown a motor Wednesday morning. He hit 174, which is 10 miles over the record for the Class C roadster.

During the morning yesterday the streamliner of Billy Kenz hit 245 m.p.h., but was still 11 m.p.h. short of reaching a new record. The car has won the National Speed Trials for the past three years. Kenz and Leslie, are taking turns driving the car.

During the first three days of the trials there have been two accidents to mar the events. Both drivers escaped without serious injury.

Champ on Opening Day

Wes Ferrell was a star right-hander in the thirties for such major league clubs as the Cleveland Indians, Boston Red Sox and the Washington Senators. For these three teams he had opening day mound assignments on six different occasions. The fastballer won all six games.

NY Giants May Have Lost Flag in Crosley Field

Durocher's Club Drops 6th Loss at Cincinnati Last Night, 9-7

CINCINNATI (AP) — If the New York Giants lose the National League pennant, they may have dropped it in Crosley Field.

* * *

They played their last contest of the season in the Cincinnati Redleg park last night. The Reds ruffled seven Giant pitchers—one off a league record—for 13 hits and 10 walks in gaining a 9-7 triumph.

The Giants have lost six of 11 games to the Reds in Crosley Field while the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers, still 3½ games behind, have copped nine of the 11 played here.

Last night's encounter was a weird one. Manager Leo (The Lip) Durocher officially protested the contest in the third inning after what he thought was the third out.

Second-baseman Johnny Temple, whose 17 stolen bases top the whole Cincinnati production of 1953, tried to steal home while the ball was on the ground between the pitcher and the first baseman. He was called out by Plate Umpire Lon Warneke. But the official on third, Frank Secory, said he had previously called "time" and thus Temple was still on third.

Durocher bellowed: "Who asked you to call time? A Cincinnati player?"

Secory replied, "I called time."

* * *

The decision did no damage to the Giant cause as the next batter grounded out to retire the side.

There was another misunderstanding in the seventh. With a rally in progress, pinch-hitter Bill Taylor socked the ball past the pitcher to Roy McMillan, who tagged Dusty Rhodes on Dusty's way to second. Rhodes claimed vigorously he was safe but he was out—and out. Frank Dascoli, the second-base ump, thumbed him out of the park.

Top-Notch Field in Akron Open

Ed Furgol, Harbert and Thompson Among Stars in Rubber City Test

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — National Open champion Ed Furgol, PGA champion Chick Harbert and British Open champion Peter Thompson today led a field of 56 golfers into the opening round of the $15,000 Rubber City Open.

Twenty-one of the 29 leading PGA money winners are in the four-day, 72-hole competition over the 6,600-yard, par 72-Firestone Country Club course. Top prize is $2,400.

Jerr Barber, diminutive La Canada, Calif., swinger who has taken in $17,045 so far this year, fired a 65 for the best score in yesterday's practice round.

Two of the nation's leading amateurs, Arnold Palmer of Cleveland and Frank Stranahan of Toledo also were entered.

Wolverine Hopes Lie With Sophomores

By JOHN BARBOUR

ANN ARBOR (AP)—If Coach Bennie Oosterbaan has any hopes for his 1954 Michigan Wolverines, they undoubtedly lie with a pair of rugged, but untested, sophomores.

"It's a little early to tell," he says. But never the less he thinks the team will be ready for scrimmage by tomorrow or Saturday—right on schedule.

These are two sophomores who stand out in a good sophomore crop.

Barr shows speed and a good arm in the key pin position of the single wing. Kramer has speed, gets where the ball is thrown, and hangs on to it. Oosterbaan has to find replacements for end Bob Topp, who led Big 10 pass catchers last year, and Ted Kress, Michigan's 1st-string left half. They both graduated.

In Michigan's single-wing, Barr could be Mr. Pitch and Kramer Mr. Catch.

That was the most conventional lineup, but the Michigan backfield was continually shifted as players were handed new assignments.

Branoff was spelled at seatback by Ed Hickey, a speedy senior from Anaconda, Mont. Barr moved in at left half and was alternated with Hendricks, Dan Cline and Dave Hill.

Earl Johnson, brother of former Michigan tackle Tom Johnson, worked from the fullback post with Baer and Baldacci. Johnson is from Muskegon Heights.

Michigan Staff to Guide Iowa Against Wolverines

ANN ARBR (AP) — There should be plenty of mixed emotions when Michigan meets Iowa's Hawkeyes at Michigan Stadium, Oct. 9.

The comptition should be tight. Michigan barely squeezed by Iowa's sophomore team last year, 14-13. This year, the sophomores are more experienced.

* * *

What moves the Hawkeye team this season is something familiar to Michigan. It's sound, capable guidance. But the source it comes from is even more familiar to Michigan.

Stemming from Forest Evashevski, Michigan ace who led the way for Tom Harmon, the list reads like a Michigan alumni roster.

Evashevski, who opened up the opposition's defense for Harmon's dazzling runs, is Iowa's head coach. When he moved to Iowa from the University of Washington, Evy brought along another Michigan man.

He's Robert Flora, a graduate in 1942 and a native of Muskegon. He played tackle for the Wolverines from 1939 until he graduated and then coached Niles, Mich., High School football, after a tour in the Navy.

* * *

Michigan's mad magicians, who destroyed Southern California 49-0 in the 1948 Rose Bowl game, contributed another Iowa assistant. He's Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, a native of Detroit, who led the Big 10 in scoring and pass receiving in the 1948 season.

Archie Kodros, another Michigan man assists Evy. Kodros graduated from Michigan in 1940.

* * *

Latest addition is Jerry Burns, a Michigan grad from 1951. Burns, a Detroiter, weighed a slight 158 pounds at Michigan. But he still won a reserve letter in football and played 150-pound competition.

Bruins Seek Forward to Replace Peirson

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Bruins National Hockey League team today is looking for forward-line strength after the announcement that right-wing Johnny Peirson is retiring.

General Manager Lynn Patrick said yesterday Peirson may not be available this year. Peirson indicated he plans to work in a furniture store owned by his father-in-law in Cambridge. He scored 21 goals last year.

Detroiter Is Leader in U.S. Pistol Test

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP) — Defending champion Larry Reeves of Detroit reached the two-thirds mark in the National Pistol championships today with a fat 13-point advantage over his nearest competitor. He had 1,731 of a possible 1,800 points.

His margin virtually assures him of his sixth championship when the third and final round is fired tomorrow. He would be the first person ever to win the pistol crown that many times.

Raymond Berlo of Boston is in second place with 1718 points.

Women's League Winds Up Slate at Silver Lake

Silver Lake Women's Golf League held its final round of play for the season Tuesday at the Silver Lake course. Mrs. Fred Stimpert of Watkins Lake won the McDonald trophy, presented by retiring president Mrs. Grant McDonald of Clintonville road.

Winners for the day were Mrs. Earl Weber of Watrford, low gross, and Mrs. William Potter of Pontiac, low net, in Flight A; Mrs. William Katish, Pontiac, low gross, and Mrs. John McCallam, Lake Oakland, low net, in Flight B.

Newly-elected president for next year is Mrs. Earl Weber. A Silver Lake Golf Club membership was presented to the retiring president, Mrs. McDonald.

Olds Will Send Band on 3 MSC Road Trips

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State College marching band will make three out-of-town trips with the football team this fall, the college announced today.

Cost of the trips will be paid by the Oldsmobile Division of General Motors, which also sent the band to the Rose Bowl.

The band will play for the opener at Iowa Sept. 25 at Iowa City, the Notre Dame game Oct. 16 at South Bend and the Michigan game Nov. 13 at Ann Arbor.

2-a-Day Drills Open Practices Around Big 10

Coaches Juggle Vets in Effort to Plug Vacancies

CHICAGO (AP)—Big 10 football coaches are eyeing sophomores and juggling their seasoned players in efforts to plug the gaps left by graduation of 1953 mainstays.

For instance, as pre-season practice began with 2-a-day drills around the conference yesterday, Illinois coach Ray Eliot could count only four regulars returning from his co-championship squad.

Illinois' 1st workouts were marred as Jim Minor, 2nd string center, suffered a recurrence of a shoulder injury that will sideline him for 10 days to two weeks.

Minnesota's new head coach, Murray Warmath, moved Co-Captain Jerry Helgeson from center to guard in line with his policy of "getting our best 11 men in there." Chuck Stamschoror apparently won the nod at center with his performance in spring practice.

Two key position changes were made at Iowa. Lou Matykiewicz was moved from quarterback, where he lettered last year, to end. William Reichow was switched from the backfgield to a tackle slot.

Return of quarterback Jim Haluskab brightened the opening day picture at Wisconsin.

Bob Voigts, whose Northwestern Wildcats didn't win a Big 10 game last fall, was happy about one thing as he assembled the group of 60 who'll try to do better this year. He said the squad was in excellent physical condition.

At Indiana, a back injury suffered on a summer job sent Bill Tacacs, sophomore halfback from Joliet, Ill., to the sidelines during the morning workout. Fullback Bill Mistak, Mount Pleasant, Pa., sophomore, was excused from both drills because of tonsilitis.

Purdue's Boilermakers spent their 1st day working in groups on fundamentals.

Twenty-three lettermen were among the 63 candidates turning out at Ohio State.

It's Time Out!

"I want him to grow up to be a Dodger fan too, Ed, but aren't you overdoing it?"

Name Stewart Coach

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The Buffalo Bisons in the American Hockey League have named their ace lineman, Gaye Stewart, playing coach to succeed Frankie Eddolls. Eddolls resigned two weeks ago to accept a similar berth with the Chicago Black Hawks of the NHL.

Future Triple Crown

Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons Pins Hopes on Belair's Stud's Fine 2-Year-Old Colt

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YRK (AP) — Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, the 80-year-old dean of American trainers, is getting about the Aqueduct stable area with a spring in his step these mornings as he and his assistants attend to the care and feeding of some 50 thoroughbreds entrusted to their special talents.

The reason is, say his associates, that "Mr. Fitz" has come back from the Saratoga meeting more than a little convinced that he has next year's triple crown winner in Nashua, Belair Stud's crack 2-year-old who won last week's Hopeful Stakes at the upstate track for his fourth triumph in five starts.

Another sweep of the 3-year-old classics — the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes — would supply a fitting climax to one of the most notable careers in the history of the American turf. They say there isn't a man in the business who wouldn't be happy—well, fairly so — to see the kindly sage of Sheepshead Bay rack it up as his valedictory.

The veteran trainer, who still drives his own car to work before daylight and puts in a full 12-hour day, already has a pair of triple crowners to his credit — Gallant Fox in 1930 and Omaha in 1935. Both, like Nashua, were Belair horses.

Although Nashua, a big animal who already looks like a 3-year-old, still has some distance to go to prove it, both Fitz and jockey Eddie Arcaro already are convinced he's the year's juvenile champion. Arcaro told Fitz after the Hopeful that his mount "wasn't doing his best," yet one expert wrote that he believed it was the best race he ever saw run by a 2-year-old at Saratoga.

Hawkeyes Lead in Ducat Sales

Iowa Ticket Figures Show Increase of 200 Per Cent

CHICAGO (AP)—With season book sales up 250 per cent and overall sales up 200 per cent, Iowa today topped a pre-season survey of football ticket demands in the Big 10.

Seven of 10 conference schools report ticket sales equalling or exceeding those of a comparable date last year, when nearly three million fans saw 59 conference games.

Iowa's extraordinary response from ticket seekers probably can be traced to predictions of an excellent 1954 season under coach Forest Evashevski that could make the Hawkeyes a strong title contender.

Illinois reports season sales up 35 per cent. Ohio State, Michigan State, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan report sales about the same or up as much as 5 per cent. Northwestern and Purdue are off slightly. Indiana is down about 6 per cent.

MACKINAC ISLAND (UP)—Phi Delta Theta announced today the establishment of a Lou Gehrig award which will go each year to a young major leaguer who "best exemplifies the sportsmanship qualities" of the former New York Yankee star.

Ex-Chief Is Honored With Army Achievement Award

CAMP KILMER, N. J.—First Lt. Harold A. Shoup, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Shoup, 55 Mohawk Rd., Pontiac, Mich., was presented the 1st Army's "Certificate of Achievement" for taking first place in the 100-yard and 200-yard backstroke events in the recent 1st Army swimming and diving championship meet at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, Camp Kilmer's commanding general, made the presentation to Shoup prior to his departure to participate in the All-Army swimming meet at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Lt. Shoup is assistant group adjutant of the 2225th Personnel Processing Group, an Air Force unit attached to Camp Kilmer. He received a commission in the Air Force upon completion of ROTC training at Michigan State College when he graduated in 1952. After serving with the 5th Air Force in Korea from March '53 to February '54, he came to his present assignment.

Among his decorations are the Army Commendation Ribbon and the Korean Presidential Unit Citation.

Braves' Spahn Beats Pittsburgh for 17th Victory

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

Warren Spahn, whose sensational return to form in midseason made the National League pennant race a three-team affair, still is firing away with amazing precision although time probably has run out for his Milwaukee Braves.

* * *

After a mediocre spring and early summer during which he lost 10 games, Spahn hit his winning stride July 18. He won his ninth game that day, beating Pittsburgh. Last night, again against Pittsburgh, he won his 17th. In between he's gone unbeaten.

* * *

With 25 games left, a minimum of five more starts for the 32-year-old left-hander, Spahn stands a good chance of winning at least 20 games for the sixth time.

Spahn's 3-1 victory over the Pirates moved the Braves within 6½ lenghts of the first-place New York Giants and within 2½ of second-place Brooklyn, both losers yesterday.

* * *

Cincinnati beat the Giants 9-7 in a game played under protest from the third inning on by the New Yorkers. Chicago defeated Brooklyn 9-5 for its seventh straight triumph.

* * *

Philadelphia replaced St. Louis in fifth place with a 5-2 victory over the Cardinals.

* * *

The New York Yankees kept their pennant hopes alive with a 4-1 conquest of Cleveland, cutting the Indians' first-place margin to 4½ games. The Chicago White Sox split at Boston, losing the day game 7-2 and winning the night game 6-3. Washington defeated Detroit 4-1. Baltimore and Philadelphia weren't scheduled.

The Braves scored one run on three hits and two runs on one hit in beating Pittsburgh. Three first-inning singles produced the first run. The other two came on Andy Pafko's single, a two-base error by Curt Roberts, a sacrifice and a wild pitch.

The Giants used seven pitchers in a vain effort to halt the Redlegs. Ted Kluszewski led the 13-hit Cincinnati assault with four singles and drove in three runs.

Third base umpire Frank Secory called back what appeared to be a Giant run in the third when he said he had called time before the play. Manager Leo Durocher immediately declared he would finish the game under protest. Its doubtful the protest will stand up.

* * *

A grand-slam home run by Del Ennis in the first inning paved the way for the Phillies' victory in St. Louis.

* * *

Reserve outfielder Karl Olson and rookie pitcher Tom Hurd were the standouts in Boston's daylight victory over Chicago. Olson drove in two runs and scored a third. Hurd, who pitched the last 4 1-3 innings and allowed only two men to reach base, received credit for his first major league victory.

Johnny Groth hit a two-run homer and walked with the bases loaded to force home a third run in Chicago's night-game triumph.

Yanks 'Back in Business' After Beating Indians

New Yorkers Win 4-1 'Must' Victory Over Cleveland

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — "Yesterday we were out of business; today we're back in it."

* * *

Manager Casey Stengel was in an expansive mood after the New York Yankees' 4-1 "must" victory over Cleveland yesterday that sliced the Indians' first-place margin over the defending champions to 4½ games.

* * *

"It was a game we had to win," said Stengel, "and just as we've been doing for six years, we won it. That's why you can't count us out yet. Never sell the Yankees short until they are mathematically eliminated.

"The other guys don't have it wrapped up yet. They just think they have. Don't forget they haven't had a slump all season. But if we can beat them again tomorrow and keep the pressure on them, we might scare them into one.

"I'm not saying they'll choke. They never have. But they could slow up a little. I know one thing, we better not choke. We can't afford to lose any more."

As expected, the Cleveland clubhouse was quiet but no one appeared dejected. Manager Al Lopez accepted the defeat philosophically.

* * *

"I feel the same way about it now as I did Tuesday night," he said. "I still think that was the big one for us. No matter what happens tomorrow, we'll still leave here with a pretty comfortable lead. After all, it's too much to expect us to sweep all three games here. This is still a pretty good club we're playing."

* * *

The Yankee battery of southpaw Ed Lopat and catcher Yogi Berra was the "whole" club yesterday. Lopat spaced nine hits for his 12th victory of the year and his 40th lifetime win over the Indians. Berra laced three of the Yanks hits, including his 18th home run, scored twice and drove in two runs.

Bright Outlook Stirs Hawks' Title Hopes

By L. E. SKELLEY

IOWA CITY (AP)—Many enthusiastic Iowa football fans are planning December-January vacations in and around Pasadena, Calif.

Escape from the wintry blasts isn't the No. 1 reason for a Western jaunt. These excited folk, afflicted with far more than the normal pre-vacation exuberance, are counting upon Iowa to be the Big Ten representative in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1

• • •

The fingering of travel brochures started late last November after Iowa came out of the pack to crush Purdue, 26-0, and Minnesota, 27-0, and forced Notre Dame, ranked No. 2 in the nation, to desperate clock-stopping measures to salvage a 14-14 tie.

Those performances zoomed Iowa into the No. 9 spot in the final Associated Press Poll. They also fanned the football winds in the tall corn country to record velocities.

The 1954 Notre Dame-Iowa game at Iowa City was sold out July 6 with the first mail delivery of orders—a truckload. Later some $225,000 was refunded to those who won't be among the 53,000 fortunate enough to get into the stadium.

All this Rose Bowl talk is a bit puzzling to Coach Forest Evashevski whose first two years of Iowa were so appreciated he was given a 10-year contract last December.

As of now, Evy thinks Iowa's title chances are "mighty slim." He puts it this way:

"We have lost 8 of our first 14 linemen from last year. Ten of our top 22 players are gone. But it is up front that we will be hurting. It would take something of a miracle as far as injuries are concerned to get Iowa where we want her to be."

Although Iowa is virtually certain of having a No. 1 line, led by guard Calvin Jones, close to the 1953 product, reserves are the main and pressing problem.

There are few worries about the backfield—it is "loaded" as they say in the trade.

Capt. Binkey Broeder, top ground gainer for Iowa and the leading conference punter in 1953, will be back for his fourth year at fullback. He figures to head a potent offense, particularly if Jerry Reichow, sophomore quarterback last fall, resumes the pace he set in spring practice.

But Evashevski shudders when he thinks of Michigan State, Montana, Michigan, Ohio State, Indiana, Wisconsin, Purdue, Minnesota and Notre Dame coming up in that order.

NL's Batting Lead Up for Grabs Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The National League batting lead was up for grabs today with only three points separating pace-setter Duke Snider and Willie Mays, in third place.

Snider, Brooklyn's hard-hitting outfielder, produced one hit in three trips yesterday and maintained his .346 average.

Runner-up Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals held his ground at .343 with one safety in four at bats.

The Giants' Mays closed in with three-for-four for a four-point gain to .342.

Putting is where they pay off. A good putter is, normally, a tough golfer to beat.

There are many things about putting which teaching professionals preach, but it all adds up to lining the putt up correctly and sinking it.

The stance should be a comfortable one.

The type of putter to use runs, again, to individual preference. I prefer a semi-blade putter, one of the heavier types.

I use a brass putter. It has a softer touch. I feel closer to the ball with it.

The ball doesn't jump off a brass putter so fast. This is important because the putter gives you forward roll.

An aluminum putter gives you a fast jump, a steel one the next fastest.

Skillful putting is strictly a matter of practice.

In my younger days, I was known to occasionally snap a putter over my knee. This left me using a 2 iron because of its straight face. Some golfers like a driver if their putter "accidentally" breaks.

Quiet Baby in Restaurant Belongs to Happy Parents

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

TOWNER, North Dakota (INS)—The baby in the highchair was what every woman in the world would instantly call "a good baby," perfectly at peace in that strange restaurant world vaguely dabbling in mashed potatoes and demanding no attention beyond an occasional mop-up operation.

The night before, at Glasgow, my sons and I had seen an entire restaurant at the mercy of a screaming kicking brat, its parents helpless, infuriated with it and with each other.

"I'll bet this little job in the highchair," I said, with a quick glance at her pretty mother quietly finishing her own lunch at the table—"I'll bet her parents like their life, like each other, like their baby."

Out came my notebook—babies make interviews a cinch. "Vicki Lynn Earhart — 14 months," her mother said. "And I'm Shirley, that is, Mrs. Hap Farhart." She was 21, and her husband 24. They'd both been born in North Dakota and lived at Grand Forks, in the Red River Valley.

"What's 'Hap' a nickname for?"

"Just 'Hap,'" she answered. "He's taking a snooze out in the car; he had a touch of indigestion, so I told him to lie down while I fed the baby."

Were they "just touring" like us? Surely not, with a 14-month infant?

"Oh, this was a business trip to Stanley," Mrs. Farhart said. "We do it about every other week—Hap likes us to go along with him. It's about 275 miles, but we stay overnight at Stanley, and when Hap's through with his business affairs, we turn around and start home."

"What's Hap so busy about that far from home?"

"He's an oil and gas broker," she said casually, and reminded me of the 1951 oil-rush around Tioga, not far from Stanley. "Hap's also in real estate—he'll either buy for a quick profit, or he'll buy to hold, for income."

"That's sort of unusual," I said, "for a man of 24. Is Hap making out pretty well, with all this oil and gas and land and houses?"

"Way over average, I guess," she said. They owned their own house, "not anything too big," she added quickly, "just a two-bedroom house, and everything's automatic, so I do all my own work. Oh, except for Yvonne — Yvonne Fetig her name is—she's 16, and sometimes I get her in to help out at 50 cents an hour."

I wanted to know more about Hap. He'd had "only two years at the university in Grand Forks—he wants to go back and finish. Hap wants to be a lawyer, so he has to go back."

"From what I hear," I said, "Hap'll get to be state senator if he wants to."

"That's just what he does want to be," she said, perfectly seriously.

Was he much interested in government? Did he talk politics all the time? "I don't know if he's a Republican," Shirley said slowly, "or a Democrat. I don't know who he voted for—he didn't tell me, and I didn't ask. 'Us women—we go to the kitchen when the men get going on politics."

Soon she had taken Vicki Lynn out to the parked car, and was waking Hap up. My one glimpse showed a tall, good-looking, dark-haired man. He had just been waked up, of course, but I remembered Shirley's words about his touch of indigestion.

Army Jails, Busts Cook for Spiking Bread Dough

KAISERLAUTERN, Germany (AP)—A U.S. Army baker has been convicted here of adding nails, bolts, bottles and a light bulb to bread dough.

Sgt. Leslie C. Keith of Rt. 3, Dalton, Ga., was sentenced to six months in jail and reduced to the rank of private by a general court-martial Monday.

Two loaves containing glass got as far as the GI consumers and were submitted as evidence.

Defense counsel contended that Keith acted to spite his superior, Sgt. J. G. Spicer of Hopewell, Va., and never intended that the bread leave the bakery.

Babies Stand Strain of Complete Transfusion

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Drs. Bruce G. Graham and Ruth M. Hayn of the University of Michigan say babies can overcome "almost incredible" physical handicaps in blood transfusions. Case studies, they say, show infants undergoing treatment to cure Rh ailments often have complete changes of blood.

An adult would not survive a complete blood transfusion, they say.

Ford May Sell Stock to Public

Magazine Article Called 'Pretty Reliable' by Firm Official

DETROIT (AP)—A spokesman for the Ford Motor Co. last night said speculation by Fortune magazine that Ford soon would offer its family-owned stock for public sale was "a pretty reliable story."

The Fortune story said the multi-billion-dollar auto firm will sell the stock to the public in an attempt to gain financial strength and nose out General Motors Corp. for leadership in production and sales in the industry.

* * *

The spokesman, who declined identification, said he had been told neither to deny or confirm that the company was planning the move. "The Fortune article is just speculation," he said, "and not too bad at that."

* * *

Industry experts said the sale in the near future would find Ford at its strongest financial peak since the 1920s, when Ford's Model T's rolled off assembly line to begin a new mechanical era.

Ford' gross sales have been estimated at four billion dollars a year. Its profits—after taxes—are said to run about 15 million a month.

* * *

Ford has been second to General Motors in the highly competitive auto industry since 1946, when it overtook Chrysler.

* * *

The first step toward the public sale, the Free Press said, would originate with the Ford Foundation, a philanthropic tax exempt organization which owns three million shares — 94.1 per cent—of the total amount of Ford's nonvoting Class A stock. The remainder of this stock is owned by the family and company.

The Class B, or voting stock, which numbers 172,000 shares, would not be offered for sale although it has the same money value as the Class A stock, the Free Press said. The Ford family own all Class B stock.

The 5 at Home Get Foreign Kin

Already Foster Parent of Two War Orphans, He Adopts a Greek Girl

By ALEC KITROEFF

ATHENS (INS)—One American tourist who isn't loading himself down with souvenirs and knick-knacks while on a world tour is Art Linkletter.

He's just bent on increasing his family and giving it an international flavor in the bargain. Supplementing his five kids back home, Art already has adopted one war orphan in Italy and another in France.

In Athens, he added a little girl to his collection and now he's the proud father of eight.

The language difficulty doesn't seem to worry Linkletter, who squatted down, stared earnestly into 8-year-old Stella Pambakis' blue eyes and asked her, in perfect Greek:

"Are you married?"

Linkletter toured the Athens area with his wife and visited several war orphans who are being cared for by foster parents in the U.S. through the foster parents plan for war children.

Then he saw shy, blonde little Stella and took an immediate liking to her.

Stella was 2 when her father was killed by the Communists in 1948. Fleeing the armed Reds who were terrorizing the Greek countryside, Stella's mother brought the baby and two other children to Athens.

With three children to support as well as her aged mother, Mrs. Pambakis just couldn't make ends meet on the pittance from the Greek Welfare Ministry and the little she managed to earn working as a cleaning woman—a total of $12.66 per month.

Stella's elder sister, aged 11, had to go into an orphanage and Stella would have had to do the same.

Linkletter found the family living in a district called Amphithea.

Stella's home is a tiny shack built of old planks covered with tarred paper. There is no running water or electricity in the entire region.

Stella never has seen or heard a radio—much less TV. But from now on, the same Art Linkletter will be No. 1 on her personal hit parade.

Washington Man Killed as Car Crashes Truck

MT. CLEMENS (UP) — Paul J. Hadella, 28, of Washington, Mich., was killed Wednesday night when his car collided with a truck driven by a hot-rod race driver.

Macomb County sheriff's officers said the race driver, Edward Shaughnessy, 20, of St. Clair Shores, was towing his hot-rod behind the truck while returning from Pontiac. He had planned to race at Pontiac but his hot-rod developed mechanical trouble during the qualifications.

Hadella, who was driving alone, was pinned under the truck at the intersection of 15 Mile and M53 in Sterling Township. Shaughnessy and a passenger in the truck were given first aid and released from Mt. Clemens General Hospital.

CKLW-TV Broadcasts to Begin September 16

WINDSOR, Ont. (INS) — CKLW-TV announced today that it will begin daily broadcasts beginning Sept. 16 on Channel 9, giving Detroiters their fourth TV outlet.

Station President Ted Campeau said a test pattern is presently being transmitted at irregular intervals. It will be sent out on a 10-hour basis beginning Friday, but Campeau advised viewers not to have their sets adjusted for reception until after Labor Day.

Programming will begin at 2 p.m. Sept. 16 with an opening show featuring American and Canadian officials, entertainment stars and other personalities.

Kelly Greets 21 Vets

MT. PLEASANT (UP) — Head coach Bill Kelly, who will be seeking his 3rd straight interstate conference championship this fall, had his hopes bolstered when 21 lettermen turned out for pre-season practice. The Chips are undefeated in their last 12 straight conference games.

Dems Rip Congress in Reply to President

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) Wednesday night sharply disputed President Eisenhower's rosy evaluation of the 83rd Congress and said his administration has been marked by "weakness, timidity and vacillation."

Instead of the "bold, dynamic program" promised by Eisenhower, Gore said, "the pattern has been one of discord and confusion . . . the plain fact is we are drifting — just drifting — both at home and abroad."

The Tennessee Democrat pounded away at the administration and the record of the recently adjourned Congress in a nationwide radio address billed as the Democratic answer to the President's report on Congress last week. Eisenhower had praised the Republican - controlled 83rd Congress and urged the voters to continue Republican control in the November elections.

Devices that can "read" a printed page automatically will be needed before translations from one language to another by electronic "brains" will be of practical value.

City Bats at Trucks, Strikes Out Autos

SAN MARINO, Calif. (AP)—The Council in this municipality, one of the wealthiest communities per capita in the nation, overdid itself in trying to keep heavy trucks off residential streets.

An ordinance scheduled to go into effect in 20 days would bar vehicles over 4,000 pounds from most thoroughfares.

That would keep the trucks off, all right. But it also would ban most luxury automobiles owned by the townspeople.

The Council is expected to boost the limit to 6,000 pounds in the very near future.

This plane is designed to carry a heavy load of troops, weapons and material on assault landings into hastily prepared or unsurfaced airfields. Its two-hour flight was described as "entirely satisfactory."

GIs Scatter Far, Wide When Major Appears

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP)—The men of Battery B, 73rd Field Artillery Battalion—forming for reveille—suddenly took off in assorted directions yesterday.

A friendly skunk had showed up in ranks.

Somewhat sheepishly, however, the GI's discovered the "intruder" was their own deodorized pet, Major. He strolled in for breakfast after an AWOL night outing.

Peoples Daily Blames Experts for Cotton Pests

HONG KONG (AP) — Who is to blame because the cotton areas of Red China ran short of insecticides and antiblight equipment this summer? People's Daily of Peiping puts it this way:

"The main fault was the failure of the agricultural leadership at all levels to predict correctly the weather, and hence the development of cotton pests."
