A-Blast Begins Nuclear Tests in Mid-Pacific

By BOB CONSIDINE

ABOARD U.S.S. MOUNT McKINLEY OFF ENIWETOK (INS)—An atomic bomb will be detonated today on a barren mid-Pacific island of Runit, first of a new United States series of nuclear tests.

A mighty atomic task force stood off Eniwetok atoll to await the opening shot of so-called Operation Redwing which will be climaxed Tuesday with an H-bomb explosion.

The atomic bomb "curtain-raiser"—postponed for 24 hours because of the weather—will be a so-called "surface shot."

It will be detonated on tiny Runit Isle, a bead in the necklace of coral called Eniwetok. A handful of newsmen and a selected group of federal civil defense observers were given heavy density glasses, and told to wear long-sleeved shirts, long pants, sock, shoes and a hat when viewing the atomic blast to protect them from the possibility of radioactive fallout.

An Atomic Energy Commission spokesman declined to state how far this ship will be from the first blast or what constitutes a "surface shot."

It was already announced, however, that observers will be 50 miles from the first public hydrogen bomb blast scheduled for Tuesday.

President Hints at Rosy Picture of Air Strength

Thinks U.S. Will Feel Better When the Full Story Is Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the United States will feel a lot better about its air power position when the full story has been presented.

Eisenhower told a news conference the United States has a very powerful Navy with a powerful air arm. He said that fact has been lost sight of so far in comparing this country's relative strength to that of the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower said this country does not try to match Russia in ground power.

He indicated it should not necessarily try to match the Soviet Union in the rate of output of such things as intercontinental bombers.

The President's remarks came against a background of statements earlier this week by Gen. Curtis LeMay, chief of the Strategic Air Command, and Secretary of Defense Wilson, that current U.S. production of intercontinental bombers capable of carrying hydrogen bombs is lagging behind Russian output.

CHOTINER CASE

The President also said there is no reason to believe the activities of Murray M. Chotiner violate rules of ethics.

Chotiner, Los Angeles attorney and former campaign manager for Vice President Nixon, told the Senate Investigations subcomittee yesterday that two White House staff members made telephone calls for him in some legal cases he was handling.

(See other story on this page)

Chotiner denied he ever had traded on his association with Nixon or used any influence on behalf of clients.

Eisenhower was asked about a published report that last Feb. 29, the day he announced his availability for a second term—he was heard to remark to a friend:

"I had to say yes because they told me they didn't have time to build up another candidate."

Asked whether he did say that at the time, Eisenhower shot back with a smile that he has heard so many stories regarding his candidacy that he couldn't possibly remember them all. He said that if he did make the remark mentioned it was facetiously.

Eisenhower said there is a world of Republicans available to bid for the presidency.

Eisenhower said he would want to give very careful study to the idea of a constitutional limitation on income taxes before making up his mind. He made that remark when told that Sen. Dirkson (R-Ill) wants to put a ceiling on income taxes.

In reply, Eisenhower said he was shooting from the hip, but that if you get such a limitation principle too rigidly written into law, what do you do in the event of an emergency?

Vice President Nomination Hint Voiced at Flint

'Report to the People' Coming Here Tuesday in Tour of State

Speaking at a "Report to the People" similar to one he will make here Tuesday, Gov. G. Mennen Williams said last night he is not a candidate for President, but indicated he would accept the nomination for vice president.

"I'm not prepared to say I wouldn't accept the nomination for vice president," he told a Flint audience.

The Governor's statement came on the eve of the Republican state convention in Detroit, where Mayor Albert E. Cobo still has given no definite indication he will try for the GOP nomination for governor.

Williams and top-ranking Democrats in his administration now have made their "reports" in four counties, and are scheduled to arrive here for the fifth on Tuesday.

Democrats insist the tours are non-partisan, but Republicans, who label them political propaganda, have taken advantage of forum meetings to toss the Democratic leaders awkward questions.

Republicans here reportedly are planning to repeat the performance.

During his Macomb County tour Wednesday, alleged evasive answers to questions raised at previous Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids meetings were discussed in a series of Republican spot announcements over a Detroit television station.

TOSS QUESTIONS

The questioning last night in Flint came at an open forum meeting in the Flint Sportsmen's Club. Williams did not expand on his position regarding the vice presidency and was not questioned further on it.

He appeared with four other Democratic leaders in his administration, Secretary of State James M. Hare, Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh, Treasurer Sanford Brown and Auditor General Victor Targonski.

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart is scheduled to come to Oakland County with the other four and Williams.

The Governor said Wednesday in Macomb County he has invited Republicans Charles Ziegler, highway commissioner, and Clair L. Taylor superintendent of public instruction, to accompany the Democrats on the tour.

Probers Hear Nixon's '52 Aide

West Coast Republican Cleared by White House of Impropriety

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said last night it sees "not the slightest" improper aspect in conferences Murray M. Chotiner had with two presidential aides in behalf of law clients.

Chotiner managed Vice President Nixon's 1952 campaign. An attorney in Beverly Hills, Calif., he has been active in California Republican affairs for years.

Chotiner told the Senate Investigations Subcommittee yesterday he never did "use any influence" in behalf of his clients.

He testified that two White House staff members had made telephone calls from their offices in connection with cases he was handling.

The appraisal that there was "not the slightest" impropriety came from James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary.

Hagerty said he had been able to track down just two instances in which Chotiner had contacted White House aides on clients' cases and that in each of them the eventual ruling was against Chotiner's client.

At the end of yesterday's hearing, the subcommittee released Chotiner from the witness stand, saying he may be called back later. The group's hearings were recessed until next week.

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Russell Long (D-La) appeared to have the inside track today for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee vacancy created by the death of Sen. Alben W. Barkley (D-Ky).

Chamber Honors Congressman

Dondero Receives Watch for His Years of Service

Congressman George A. Dondero has received the first expression of gratitude for his 24 years of service to Oakland County in the House of Representatives since his announcement he will not seek re-election this fall.

A Pontiac Chamber of Commerce delegation in Washington Wednesday presented an engraved gold watch to Congressman Dondero after a luncheon in Washington's Capitol Hill Club.

PCC Chairman Dr. George Petroff, presenting the watch, said it was given in appreciation of Dondero's long service to the people of Oakland County, Michigan's 18th Congressional District.

Dondero told the group that aside from newspaper editorials expressing sorrow at his retirement, this was the first time an Oakland County group had shown appreciation of his work since his announcement.

Dondero was first chairman of the committee when it was established in 1947 in the 80th Congress, and served again as chairman in the 83rd Congress. He is now ranking minority member.

The Chamber of Commerce delegation in Washington also asked the U.S. Census Bureau to consider listing Pontiac and Oakland County as an independent metropolitan area. Previously the area has been listed in Census Bureau books as part of the Detroit metropolitan area.

College Students Face Charges

Pennsylvania Group in Trouble After Setting Up Roadblock

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A springtime prank got out of hand on the University of Pennsylvania campus last night and when it was all over, there were two policemen at the hospital and an estimated 170 students crowded into City Hall cell rooms to await arraignment today on some serious charges.

A "just for fun" roadblock was set up on busy Locust Street during the after-dinner hours by a quartet of undergraduates who'd become bored with playing "stick ball."

The boys started throwing debris from a partially razed building into the street. Soon they were joined by a crowd of curious fellow students who had wandered out of neighboring buildings along Fraternity House Row.

In no time, police radio cars were converging on the scene of a reported major traffic jam. When the officers started "breaking it up," they were greeted with a chorus of boos and a barrage of eggs.

As the situation began to take on the appearance of a minor riot with some 500 milling students crowding the intersection and small household items joining the egg bombardment, the officers promptly carted off more than two dozen students to the nearest precinct.

With the aid of the hastily summoned dean of men, George B. Peters, and Gene Gisburne, vice

House Passes Soil Bank Plan

But Democrats Defeat Program for Making Advance Payments

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Eisenhower administration was expected to carry its fight for advanced soil bank payments to the Senate today in wake of yesterday's House defeat of the proposal.

While beating down the pre-payment system on an almost straight party-line vote, the House also approved the 1¼ billion dollar soil bank advocated by President Eisenhower and Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, by a vote of 314 to 78.

The bill that emerged at the end of a seven-hour session, however, was somewhat riddled with special interest amendments.

Producers of livestock and potatoes and other field crops were blanketed under acreage reserve provisions of the legislation, and will be entitled to government payments for cutting back production.

Under the 450 million dollar conservation section, farmers will get payments for shifting land from crop production to soil-building grasses.

In a corn-feed grain compromise, the House reduced supports for non-commercial corn from 85 to 82½ per cent of the support level of commercial corn.

Under the soil bank, Benson can begin making payments immediately on cutbacks of 1956 crops. He cannot, however, make advance payments this year for reduction of 1957 crops.

Scrambled Meanings

Figures on Hospital Bids to Be Ready Next Thursday

On April 26 The Pontiac Press asked the Pontiac General Hospital Board, and Mr. William P. Babcock, chairman of the board, "Where does the addition to the Pontiac General Hospital go from here?" Mr. Babcock has submitted a reply, printed below.

In answer to the questions directed to me in the recent comments by The Daily Press on the addition to Pontiac General Hospital:

We feel as you do, that the public should know all the facts in regard to cost and progress of the addition.

★ ★ ★ ★

The addition was planned to be built at $3,000,000 with 5 per cent allowance for contingencies, but a steady continuing rise in basic building costs resulted in a large difference between original estimates and actual bids.

The bids have several alternates and they are being carefully studied, the equipment to be placed in the hospital is also being carefully checked as to price and when it will be necessary to purchase it for placement.

All of this information will be given to the City Commission on May 10.

Although we cannot, without authorization, exceed the expenditure allowed us originally, we feel we must in our report make recommendations to the City Commission. The final disposition of the matter will be made by the Commission. The present bids are binding for 60 days, from April 19.

We know everyone has been patient, and we know the community needs the hospital beds desperately. We also know that the problem has an answer so may we ask everyone to bear with us until May 10.

As you said in your comment, "In the past Pontiac has acted to take care of its needs." I'm sure we shall in this instance.

Deny Federal Funds for 'Segregated' Use

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration said today it will deny federal funds for construction of airport facilities which are to be used on a racially segregated basis.

The CAA said its order provides that the government will not contribute any money for that part of a building from which persons may be barred for reasons of race, creed or color.

The agency, which parcels out money for airport purposes, said its new rule will apply to construction and remodeling and repair of existing facilities at airports.

The CAA said that in computing how much federal funds will go to the projects the entire cost of the construction or repair must be figured and a deduction made for the entire cost of any part of the structure intended for segregated use.

Eugene A. Gump, 111 Oneida Rd., has accepted a position as Oakland County Director of Purchases, the Board of Auditors announced yesterday.

EUGENE A. GUMP

John C. Austin, vice-chairman of the board, said yesterday Gertz has "formalized" the county's purchasing system and effected economies through coordination of purchases for separate county units and a central storage system.

Gump, 62, formerly was director of purchases for the State of Michigan and for Wilson Foundry and Machine Co., in Pontiac. His last position was general manager of the Lansing Co., of Lansing.

Berserk Navy Rocket Lands Near Observers

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—How does it feel to have a three-quarter-ton rocket, loaded with high-explosive propellants, plunging downward from 18,000 feet apparently pointed right down your throat.

Terrible.

It was a case of no place to go and not time enough to get there anyway.

It happened to a group at White Sands Proving Ground in southern New Mexico earlier this week. The occasion was the belated firing of the new Navy Aerobee-hi, a new research vehicle designed to set a new altitude record for single-stage rockets and connected with the U.S. earth satellite program.

The weather was perfect Wednesday afternoon.

ERROR IN REPORTS

At X-minus-4, meaning four minutes until time for the rocket to blast off, the range loud-speaker announced there was a "possible error in weather calculations" and a hold order was placed on the operation. It was called off a few minutes later and the reverse count down—10 second, 9 seconds, etc. — began.

Outside observers already had been warned that the booster mechanism might, after its automatic detachment from the rocket itself, land uncomfortably near the launching area.

When the 24½-foot, needle-nosed rocket whooshed upward, most eyes were on the booster and where it would fall.

Then the range loud-speaker system boomed forth, "The rocket is coming back. The Rocket is coming back. Everyone to the blockhouse."

MOTORS FAIL

The motors had failed, the rocket had turned and was hurtling groundward.

It was too far to the blockhouse for many. They could only stand hoping.

Several gathered into little groups, apparently on the assumption that it's better to have company if your time is up.

It seemed like years. Apparently it was only seconds.

But there was no doubt there were more than a few white faces and a lot of increased blood pressure and heartbeats when the rocket finally crashed with a thundering roar and a billowing cloud of dirty yellow smoke — not anywhere near observers — but a mile away from the launching tower it had left seconds before.

Never had a mile seemed to much like a foot or two.

Poirier awakened when the burglar made a sound in another room, at about 2 a.m., and switched on a bathroom light. Then seeing a flashlight he returned to get his trousers in the bedroom.

Eventful Sendoff Marks Roy's First Day of Trip

By ROY ROGERS

PARIS, Tex. (INS) — Our first day was an eventful and interesting one.

It started at Denison, Texas—up at 5:30 a.m. and met the Boy Scouts at 7 a.m. after loading all of our equipment for the trip.

We had a real man's breakfast put on by the Sea Scouts and Boy Scouts of Denison, then we proceeded to make our way to the boats and to start our trip through quite a crowd of local people. The high school band was out and several thousand citizens. Then we finally got on our way at 8:30 a.m.

8-HOUR STRUGGLE

For the next eight hours we spent our time prying ourselves off sand bars, dodging stumps and logs. It rained about one-fourth of the trip. It was miserable but all in all it was a wonderful trip for the first day.

Saw several large catfish and turtles, but not knowing how long it would take us to get to our first stop, we didn't take time to snag any of them.

We are now on the banks of the Red River between Hugo, Okla., and Paris, Texas, with hundreds of people crowding the bank.

The way we all feel now after using the push poles all day and straining our eyes looking for logs and stumps maybe we ought to go to bed.

See you in a day or so.

Mary P. Tinell, a slight blonde four-year-old dressed in a red skirt and brown coat with pink collar, was left with a middle-aged woman known to her parents only as "Bessie," Detroit police said today.

Mary's father, Claude, reportedly works at Alcoa Aluminum Co. Her mother, Lorena, also is employed, police said, and the baby sitter has been taking care of Mary for about three weeks.

Mary's grandmother, Mrs. Mina Bess, told detectives Mary and the baby sitter visited her Hamtramck home yesterday morning, leaving about noon.

The pair were reported seen at the Tinell's east side home about 3:30 p.m. They have not been seen since.

Unemployment in the Pontiac area is currently around 5,100 out of a total labor force of 85,000, according to the Michigan Unemployment Security Commission.

With approximately 80,000 still employed, the unemployment figure is around 6.5 per cent of the available force as compared to 2.8 per cent a year ago. This is about a 3 per cent increase in unemployment since this date a year ago.

James H. Dudley, branch manager of the commission, said 75 per cent of the employment reductions resulted from increased lay-offs in the area's motor vehicle and supplier plants.

In the last two weeks of April, 2,100 workers have been laid off in the latter industry to add to the 3,000 reduction reported since April 1955.

Because of the unemployment, the commission is busy with laid-off workers seeking unemployment benefits, Dudley said.

There were 2,799 filing claims in the week ending March 29, he said. This increased in April and this past week as close to 5,400 unemployed filed claims.

"The Pontiac branch office issued 11,020 unemployment insurance checks totaling $371,521 in April as compared to $123,457 in 4,181 checks issued in April 1955," Dudley stated.

The manufacturing force of 40,100 workers is down by 3,300, more than half of which occurred since mid-March, compared to this period last year, Dudley explained.

Non-manufacturing industries have shown an increase of 300 over April, 1955, bringing this force to 29,100 workers at present.

The service, retail trade and miscellaneous positions all indicate increased employment over last year except for the construction field which had a decrease of 200 because of adverse weather conditions.

Pontiac Township Man Receives Jail Sentence

A Pontiac Township man was sentenced to serve 30 days in Oakland County Jail for driving while his license was revoked yesterday. Trinidad T. Romo, 1326 Taylor Rd., pleaded guilty before Keego Harbor Justice James Southart.

His failure to pay fine and costs of $100 resulted in the increase in sentence from an original two days.

Charge 2 Men on Dope Counts

4-Week Investigation by City Vice Squad Brings Two Arrests

Warrants charging two men with narcotics violations were obtained today by Pontiac police.

The arrests came as a result of a four-week investigation by Vice Squad officers into narcotic traffic in the southwest side, according to Det. Herbert Cooley.

Cooley said that the sale and use of drugs in that area may be widespread and that other arrests may follow.

Charged with sale of narcotics is John T. Upshaw Jr., 21, of 198 Bondale Ave. Harold N. Howze Jr., 20, of 593 Franklin Rd. was charged with possession of narcotics, Cooley said. They are being held for investigation in Oakland County Jail.

Formal charges followed the identification yesterday by the State Police Laboratory in East Lansing of heroin capsules and marihuana, Cooley said.

The capsules and an ounce of marihuana were found on Upshaw's person, Cooley alleged, and an ounce of marihuana was found in Howze's home.

A search of Upshaw's basement apartment yesterday, Cooley said, revealed a hypodermic needle filled with a clear liquid hidden behind a bathroom partition. The liquid has not been analyzed, as yet.

Both felonies, the sale of narcotics, brings a possible sentence of 20 years to life in prison, and possession brings four to 10 years, Cooley said.

But no sooner had they departed when it started anew. First the roadblock again. Then a false fire alarm followed by another.

This time the cops came back in force. Those assigned to removing the litter from the street were pelted again.

Faced with an egg shortage, the students resorted to other missiles including some good-sized stones.

FINGERPRINTED

With the outbreak going full force, hordes of police entered the fraternity houses, handcuffed and chained students to each other and started sending them en masse to City Hall for fingerprinting, photographing and official notation on the police blotter.

All were to be arraigned on disorderly conduct, breach of peace and inciting to riot charges. Some faced charges of assault and battery.

In the confusion, one reporter was four times hustled into a waiting patrol wagon before he could identify himself.

The Day in Birmingham

Sports, Driver Training Space Reported Available

BIRMINGHAM — Enough space for all types of ball fields and winter sports runs, as well as for parking and driver training, is available across from the high school, according to three local officials.

City Planner Herbert Herzberg, Recreation Director Frank Whitney, and Assistant City Manager Dana Whitman told the recreation board last night that recreation and driver training would be entirely compatible in the 66-acre field being considered.

Their suggested plan was termed "excellent" by board members and was referred to the City Commission and the Board of Education.

The field could hold four or five baseball diamonds, several football fields, tennis courts and hand courts for summer play, and in winter the hill area could make possible a toboggan slide and a beginner's ski run, the officials agreed.

Last night's was a special meeting called to hear the plan which is being referred to the commission as a progress report. It is called a "very tentative plan" by Mrs. William Jackson, chairman of the recreation board.

"We didn't want to delay it and bottleneck plans for the field's development," she says. "There are so many student drivers that have to be trained."

"This is the start of cooperation between the various city groups such as we've been working to get for years," says Mrs. Jackson.

(Whitman Whitney, and Herzberg represent government, education, and city planning.)

Whitney and Norman Wolfe, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of building and grounds and the superintendent's deputy to the recreation board, will explain the plan at the board of education's next meeting.

Robert Girarden told the recreation officials last night that he will hire summer staff members after he takes the recreation director's post May 14. He also noted the addition of Deborah, born this week, to his family. He has two older children.

Next recreation board meeting is May 24.

The need for an associate pastor at First Congregational Church was discussed at three identical meetings at the church on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

A summary of reasons was given by Merlin Warr, church moderator, during the presentation by the board of trustees.

Growth in membership, about 600 in three years, and growth of the church school from 30 in March 1953 to over 400 now, were cited by Trustee Phil Bartlett, Jack Thatcher of the Christian Education Board, and Deacon Clint Newman.

Classes for church school teachers and parents are under way at the church, with Mrs. Carl Nielson leading group discussions.

Named Warden for Marquette

R. J. Buchkoe Must Pass Civil Service Exam for $12,000 Position

LANSING (AP) — Raymond J. Buchkoe, 46, has been appointed warden of the Marquette Branch Prison.

Buchkoe, now director of classification at the institution where he has served 20 years, replaces Emery Jacques, who died last month.

The appointment is provisional, subject to successful completion of the Civil Service examinations for the position. The position pays $12,000 a year.

His selection was announced by Gus Harrison, corrections department director, following a special meeting of the Correctings Commission last night.

Buchkoe, a native of Bessemer, graduated from Western Michigan College. Before entering the corrections system he taught school for three years.

Prior to being placed in charge of classification in 1952, Buchkoe was in charge of the institution's education program. He later was made deputy in charge of indivual treatment in 1947.

Buchkoe was named from a list of eight candidates for the position.

"He knows the prison well and has the respect of the inmates," Harrison said.

Vote on Oxford Village Charter June 11

May 11 Deadline for Registering

Proposed Plan Would Give Village Manager Type Government

OXFORD—An election to accept or reject a new village charter for Oxford will be held June 11.

Non-registered residents who wish to vote in this election must register by next Friday, May 11.

The proposed charter would give Oxford a village-manager type of government with five council members rather than the present seven.

It was recently approved by the governor and returned to the village office for acceptance by the voters. Residents are urged to inspect it there or have it discussed in club meetings by the men who wrote it—Harold Campbell, Stewart Langley, Charles Webster, Harold Pickford, or Clifford Vennard.

For the first time voting machines will be used by the electors in this election. Two machines used by the township will be rented by the village for use at the township hall.

Vennard, who has also served several terms as village council member and is a past president of Oxford offered his resignation from the council.

He said the "pressure of personal business" gave him too little time to devote to village affairs. No action has been taken to name a successor.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Bernice Baur of Milford and one son, Clare, of Detroit; also two grandchildren.

Service will be Saturday at 3:30 p. m. at the Richardson-Bird Funeral Parlors, here. Dr. Forshee was pronounced dead yesterday of suffocation due to hanging by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. C. E. Lockwood.

Mr. Hudson will lecture on the work of churches of Christ in Italy and outline plans for the future. He will have slides to illustrate the account of his work there.

Police Seek Last $6,000 of $250,000 Texas Theft

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Police today still were tracing the last few thousand dollars taken from the closet safe of a Houston baker in a $250,000-plus burglary. They say they know where the last $6,600 can be found.

Three men are charged with the burglary, worth only a few newspaper lines when first reported.

Then it took what police called a "fantastic" swing, and finally erupted as a major crime when the full sum of the loot was revealed.

Charged with burglary are Edward Roy Hamlett, 35, and Harvey Marley, 31, former convicts, and Arthur C. Eckert, 43, San Antonio automobile dealer. Marley also is from San Antonio, and Hamlett is from Houston. All are in the used car business.

Paul C. Denny, the baker, and his wife went to church the night of April 22. When they returned, they found the safe stolen.

FULL TOTAL WITHHELD

Denny reported $10,000 in cash and $130,000 in bonds were in the safe. His attorney yesterday said Denny "did not see fit to give all information as to the contents of the safe," and "was hopeful the safe would be found and returned unopened."

Actually, police estimate, the safe held more than $120,000 in cash and $130,116 in bonds. This estimate yesterday was a revision of earlier police totals of about $300,000.

The strange developments did not occur until Thursday, April 25, three days later.

Dan Cook, 29, San Antonio News sports writer, later told police that on that date he and a boxing promoter friend, James B. Parks, 33, held up Hamlett at his home. They got about $800 and demanded the rest of the loot. Hamlett said it was all the money he had.

Cook and Parks forced Hamlett to drive with them to the home of Hamlett's employer, automobile dealer Jimmy Hicks, and took $2,200 from him, police quoted Cook as saying.

POLICE GIVEN MONEY

When they couldn't find any more money, they "turned" what they had over to Police Chief Jack Heard the next day.

Cook told Chief Heard a strange story. He said he received an anonymous telephone tip in San Antonio that a big burglary had occurred in Houston but that it had not been reported.

He said the tipster gave him Hamlett's home address and automobile license number.

He talked his friend Parks into accompanying him to Houston. Cook said he wanted to solve the crime without police help and write a "big story."

Police didn't believe the pair. They were charged with robbery and released on $10,000 bond each.

They're still on bond and Hicks says he is going to insist on prosecution. Chief Heard says Hicks had nothing to do with the Denny burglary.

Denny did not revise his estimate of the loss until April 28—after the safe had been found. He then said the cash was somewhere between $100,000 and $200,000.

ADMITS BURGLARY

When the safe was found, police arrested Hamlett, and after four hours questioning, he admitted the burglary and implicated, police say, Marley and Eckert.

Eckert was released yesterday on only $2,000 bond. Marley and Hamlett told police that he had no direct connection with the burglary. The two ex-cons still are being held.

Marley and Hamlett admit burning the bonds as "soon" as they opened the safe—in a little ravine west of Houston.

The ex-cons told police $160,000 in bonds were burned — $30,000 more than Denny says were in the safe. The reason for the difference hasn't been determined.

Denny, through an attorney, said yesterday that he had been putting his savings in the safe for 25 years—since, he said, he lost all his money in a 1931 bank failure.

He said the safe also held the results of some property deals and money from other sources.

More this circuit after Taed

Your PTA Is Planning:

Commerce Group to Hear Clifford Smart Monday

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Clifford H. Smart, superintendent of Walled Lake Consolidated Schools, will be the main speaker at the meeting of the Commerce Elementary School slated for 8 p.m. Monday.

He will present the latest information regarding the school budget for the coming year and the anticipated school building program of the future.

Installation of new officers will take place at the meeting. Mrs. Stig Danielson will assume the presidency of the Commerce PTA replacing Clarence Morphew.

A brief period, from 7:30 until 8 p.m., has been set to enable parents to visit teachers of the school in their respective rooms.

Refreshments will be served.

Walled Lake

Mrs. Jerome Foss, a member of the Library Planning Board, will present latest information regarding a Walled Lake library to the Elementary School PTA at its meeting at 8 p.m. Monday.

Mrs. Foss will explain the board's current problems and the plans for the future.

Lake Orion

Parents of the High School students from the entire Lake Orion district have been urged to attend the PTA meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at the Blanch Sims School whether they are PTA members or not.

A special High School Planning Committee is presenting a program for parents who will have students in the present high school building next fall.

Members of the committee will be discussion leaders in small groups so everyone will be given opportunity to express opinions and become informed on the proposed separation of this group from the present PTA.

Mrs. Lyle Bartlett will present a group of Glee Club members, and Mrs. L. Werschsky, incoming president of the Berkley PTSA, will act as a consultant to the panel.

Waterford Township

An invitation to the Kindergarten Tea to be held at 7:30 p.m. May 16, at Williams Lake School was issued last night at the PTA meeting by teachers Mrs. Myron Greenberg and Mrs. H. D. McGinley.

Parents of present kindergarten children and kindergartners for 1956-57, will be hearing orientation talks by the speech teacher, the visiting teacher, and the school nurse at that time.

Dag Preparing on Truce Report

U.N. Mediator Arrives in Rome; Gives Hint of Returning to Mideast

ROME (INS)—Tired but happy, Dag Hammarskjold worked today on a full report of his triumphant peace mission amid indications he may return to the Middle East to tackle basic Arab-Israeli problems.

Smiling sleepily, he told newsmen he had "nothing to say now," then added, "I'll say everything in my report," which will be presented to the Security Council in New York next week.

The obviously pleased diplomat's mission was hailed as a "rousing success" because of the cease-fires he negotiated despite bitter antagonisms between Israel and her four Arab neighbors—Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon.

Hammarskjold's preliminary report released at U.N. headquarters yesterday hinted at a possible request to the Council for new instructions empowering him to return to the Middle East to resume negotiations on some of the basic issues.

How to Rinse Away Your Blackheads

By CLAIRE HOFFMAN

New York, N. Y.—A leading skin doctor today showed an audience of men, women and skin-troubled teenagers how to clean oily skin and shrink enlarged pores with a 10-minute home medical treatment he has perfected. Then he demonstrated how you may rinse away externally caused blackheads, whiteheads and dry up adolescent pimply skin eruptions.

Before our very eyes the doctor selected a 36-year-old woman with typically oily skin. This woman had blackheads around her nose, enlarged pores and whiteheads visible to the naked eye. To this woman's face the doctor applied a cream. Within moments it firmed into a plastic-like mask. Next he sprinkled her face with water, and handed her an ordinary washcloth to rinse the mask from her skin. To her utter astonishment, clinging to the washcloth were not only grimy streaks of dirt... but several blackheads which had marred her beauty for years.

As we stared at the washcloth in disbelief, the doctor's assistant turned to us and said: "You have just seen what looks like a miracle. Yet, what has just been done for this woman's skin, you can do at home just as easily. But to understand how this formula acts to help clear skin troubles you must first knock out of your head some silly notions most people have about their complexions."

The Truth About Cosmetics

Has it ever occurred to you that you lavish more care on your face than any other part of your body ...yet isn't that where you find the most pimples, blackheads, blemishes and enlarged pores? So what do you do about it?

Nine out of 10 women simply don't or won't understand that if they have oily skins, blackheads, pimples or enlarged pores, they may not only have a cosmetic problem... but a medical problem as well.

Now why is this so? Shocking as it seems, if nature gave you either a normal or oily skin, your face is always dirty! Why? Because 24 hours a day your face is always exposed to soot, smoke, factory dirt, car exhaust, coal dust, noxious fumes and other germ-laden dirt that pours into the air. It clings to the natural oils of your skin.

Your pores become choked and clogged. Your natural oils are stopped up and hardened into blackheads or pimples. They try to push out, forcing your pores to open wider and wider. Once this condition starts (especially during adolescence, when glandular disturbances make your skin extra oily) the condition usually grows worse and worse as you grow older. And when this happens...isn't it obvious that it may become impossible to correct unless you start to change your complexion care immediately?

Do This For A Cleaner Skin

If you want to rid your face of ugly blackheads, enlarged pores and externally caused skin eruptions, these are the three things you must do:

First you must soften the hardened dirt and oils that may have accumulated in your pore openings! Second, you must remove that dirt. (But don't squeeze it out. Squeezing only forces part of the dirt deeper into your skin.) And third, you must try to tighten your skin with shrinking and antiseptic agents, not only for beauty, but to guard you against reinfection! And unless you are prepared to do all three things, it's likely you will go on wasting your time and your money the rest of your life looking for "miracle cures!"

What Happens When You Apply This Doctor's 3-Way Formula

First to prepare your skin for treatment we are going to soften and loosen the buried dirt cemented into your pores. The scientific pore cleanser which is Part One of this famous skin doctor's treatment is unlike any other cleanser you have ever used in your life, regardless of how much you can afford to pay. And here is how you can prove it on your skin.

Apply the doctor's scientific pore cleanser. Tissue it off! Now look at the tissue!

When you see the gray streaks of dirt that come off—even after having creamed your face with any other cleanser—then will you begin to understand why you need a drastic change in complexion care.

(2) The second part of your doctor's treatment is a medicated masque which you apply.

Apply it to your face with your fingertips as you would any cream. A little thicker around the "danger area"... namely around the nose, lips, eyes and cheeks.

The first 3 or 4 minutes you will feel a strong stimulation. This is the massaging action of the medical ingredients going to work on your skin. Your face will feel alternately hot and cold. You will like it. Your skin will feel refreshed. It is like a massage without irritation, bringing fresh, purifying blood to your face to draw off the blemish causing wastes in your pores.

After a few minutes this hot and cold action goes away and a wonderful relaxation of all your tense, over-worked facial muscles sets in. Your pulse tends to slow down and you are so relaxed you feel a great tendency to fall asleep. In another moment you will feel your skin getting tighter and tighter. What is happening is this: A wonderful medical absorbing agent doctors call ARGILLA is drying on your skin. It is turning the cream on your face into a firm, plastic-like mask. You get a pleasant, drawing feeling, a relaxing feeling, there is a corrective action, there is an astringent action and an antiseptic action. You feel the ARGILLA drawing on the blackheads. Everything it touches perspiration, pore dirt, hardened oils even blackheads and whiteheads that have resisted removal for months.

After 10 minutes rinse the mask away. Hot or cold water makes no difference. It dissolves in a second. Your skin feels clean, refreshed, sparkling, smoother! Like velvet! But wait...you haven't finished your first treatment yet!

Now Apply Step 3 of Your Treatment...The Astringent

This is not merely a perfumed alcohol that tickles your skin for a few seconds. It's medicated. It penetrates into your pore openings. Kills bacteria lurking there. And even more important, leaves an invisible germ-destroying film on your skin that kills germs for hours.

Now Look Into Your Mirror!

Some of your blackheads should be gone with the very first treatment! Look for softened pimples and whiteheads that may break or be drawn out in your next treatment or two. Look at the corners of the nose, around your mouth, your cheekbones! See how your enlarged pores have tightened! Your skin will feel alive! And you will be amazed to see minor wrinkles softened—almost ironed out! And this fresh, buoyant, youthful effect will last for hours.

Is This For Normal Skin, Too?

Certainly. Simply because this is a doctor's formula doesn't mean that you have to have a "sick skin" to use it. You may be a woman past 30 who has never had a really serious skin problem, but who suspects that your skin is not as beautiful and freshlooking as it could be... but your cosmetic creams can't give it to you. In that case...we think you'll be thrilled by the sheer, smooth, silken beauty that one or two treatments can give you.

On the other hand...if you have an adolescent, broken-out skin; if you are a man who is troubled by blemishes or a "sandpaper skin" and you are sensible enough not to be ashamed to use a so-called "woman's treatment" in the privacy of your own home...or if you are a woman who has abused her complexion with improper and inadequate cosmetic preparations... then this is vital.

We promise you dramatic improvement with your first 15-minute home treatment. Your mirror will show it to you, and we promise you further rapid improvement for the next 14 days.

After 14 days, you will discover whether you have to keep using all or part of the treatment every day, once a week, or once a month, depending on how fast your complexion begins to clear.

Try This Skin Treatment In Your Own Home Without Risking A Penny!

The name of this 3-day doctor's formula is the Queen Helene Skin Treatment. It is named in honor of the nurse who worked at the doctor's side for 15 years while this formula was being developed. Your Queen Helene 3-way formula, enough for 33 home treatments, includes your scientific cleansing cream, your medicated mask cream and your medicated pore astringent. The cost is $3.98...less than 13 cents a treatment. Yes, less than 13 cents for a skin specialist's 3-way skin and beauty treatment.

Follow your daily progress in your mirror and after each treatment, if your Queen Helene treatment does not do for your skin everything we have led you to believe it will do. If you don't see dramatic improvement after just one 15-minute treatment, if you don't see a further improvement each day for the next 14 days, return the unused portion. We'll thank you for trying it, and refund your full purchase price.

But act today! The longer you wait the worse it is bound to get. And like any other condition, the worse it gets, the longer it takes to get well. So right now, while you're determined to help yourself, send coupon today!

City Parks Ready for Record Season

If the people of Pontiac don't get greater pleasure than ever before out of their City parks this year, it won't be the fault of officials in that department of our municipal government.

For some time employes under the direction of Park Supervisor William Aho have been hard at work preparing all seven parks for opening next Tuesday. In the cleanup phase of this work they have had the enthusiastic aid of some 200 Boy Scouts from local troops.

Each year the parks grow in popularity and attract larger numbers of visitors. Last year it was estimated that 500,000 took advantage of the opportunity to enjoy picnic and recreation facilities near their homes. This year, according to David R. Ewalt, Parks and Recreation director, preparations have been made to accommodate at least 650,000, or 30 per cent more than in 1955.

Whether one wants to enjoy a pleasant outdoor meal or play tennis, horseshoes, shuffleboard, softball or baseball, he can do so in one or more of these parks. For the special benefit of children, there is an adequate supply of the usual playground equipment.

These parks are valuable community assets. They help immeasurably to make Pontiac a city in which people enjoy living and bringing up their families.

Compromise Predicted on U.S. Highway Bills

From Capitol Hill has come news that differences between the House and Senate highway bills will be compromised.

The need for such action was apparent even before the House overwhelmingly approved its $51.5 billion measure. Besides this much needed expenditure over a 13 year period, the bill provides for a total of $14.8 billion in new taxes over 16 years.

In contrast, the Senate measure as approved last May, sets up a five year $18 billion Federal-State highway building program. The chief difference between the Administration-backed House bill and the Senate version is how to apportion money to the states for the 40,000 mile interstate system.

The House apportionment is based on the needs of each state for aid in completing its portion of the interstate system. These needs were set forth in the road program President Eisenhower submitted to Congress last year.

The Senate version uses the formula in the existing Federal road law. This sets aside the relatively small sum of $175,000,000 each year for interstate roads.

It remains to be seen what kind of a compromise can be worked out. But one thing is certain, whatever is agreed upon will fall short of meeting the ever growing need if it fails to provide the states as much Federal help as proposed in the $51.5 billion House measure.

The people don't care about the details of how the compromise agreement is to be reached. They aren't worried about the new taxes they'll have to pay. They want the new roads they know must be built to handle our ever increasing traffic.

This program isn't going to solve our national highway problem permanently. But it will be a long overdue and desperately needed start.

Boy Scouts Help Launch Jaycees' Cleanup Drive

With the help of some 300 Boy Scouts in launching it, this year's "Clean Up, Fix Up, Paint Up Week" of the Junior Chamber of Commerce should be the most effective in history.

The Scouts' important contributions to the campaign, May 7 to 14, include circulation of petitions among householders. These petitions ask everyone to pledge co-operation in "making Pontiac a clean, healthy and safe city in which to live."

Junior Chamber members have been setting a good example by their pre-campaign cleanup of the Jaycee Park, Walton Blvd. at Joslyn. Financially backed by the organization, it is a welcome addition to the City's park system.

As in past years the objective of the annual campaign is community-wide participation in the effort to give Pontiac a bright and shining face for the rapidly approaching outdoor season.

The Jaycees hope that citizens not only will clean up their lawns and gardens, but make any needed home repairs and do any necessary painting.

Be sure to do your part.

The Road Back

David Lawrence Says:

Defense Funds to Boost Power of U. S. for Tomorrow's Intercontinental War

WASHINGTON—The American people are likely to get confused as a result of some of the testimony they will hear and some that they have already read about America's air power versus that of the Russians.

A man with the military experience of President Eisenhower isn't likely to let his own country down and allow it to be unprepared for sudden war.

Then why all the fuss in Congress and the special inquiry undertaken by the Senate Armed Services Committee as a result of prodding by Sen. Symington of Missouri, Democrat?

PUSHING FOR PRESIDENCY

It would be easy enough to disparage this effort by describing it as just a means of getting the limelight on the Missouri senator's supposed ambition to win the Democratic presidential nomination. But the controversy has deeper roots. Symington was secretary of the Air Force under the Truman administration. He has many reliable sources of information about America's air strength and hence about the enemy's power, too. Naturally, it would be a feather in the senator's cap if he could get national attention at a time when Sen. Kefauver and Adlai Stevenson are in the limelight.

It is, of course, not wholesome to see America's air-power secrets spilled over the front pages—as this is bound to benefit the enemy—just to advance the fortunes of a candidate or a political party.

But those who are pressing the investigation deny any such purpose and insist that it is really patriotic to bring out the facts because only in that way can the remedial steps be taken that, they are convinced, ought to be taken.

U.S. READY NOW, BUT

The issue is not too simple. The fact is that for a war that has to be fought tomorrow — as Gen. LeMay, head of the Strategic Air Command of the Air Force has testified—the United States is superior to any enemy that might attack. As for the war that might have to be fought in 1960, there is a wide difference of opinion among military men. Who knows exactly, for instance, what the enemy will do between now and then? Who knows the capabilities of the Russian air force today, even though it has a certain number of planes of a particular range or fighting capacity? Who can accurately assess those capabilities, and how many among our own military people would agree on a speculative appraisal of Russian capacity and the ability of her pilots in action?

Mere numbers do not tell the story at all, nor does the fact that one kind of plane is being built by the Russians for their purposes necessarily mean that America must match what the Russians are building. Each country has a different military problem. As one military expert put it—if the Russians have determined to build 1,000 "Bisons," which is their equivalent of America's B-53, an intercontinental long-range bomber, it would mean that war could be expected very soon.

The Russians aren't building their "Bisons" that rapidly, and maybe in a year or so this kind of plane will be considered obsolete by them. They have made only 100 thus far and the United States has produced 78 B-52's, according to testimony released by the Senate Committee. How many "Bisons" have proved satisfactory to the Russians is unknown, but only 17 B-52's have been accepted by the U.S. Air Force.

PROGRESS CRITICIZED

Much has been made in the press about the slow progress in this country in building B-52's. The inference is that America doesn't have any other bombers to use in the meantime. Actually, the B-47's are available in large quantity. These do not have as long a range as the B-52's, but they were designed to do the job of bombing in the short ranges from our overseas bases. If, however, our overseas bases are vulnerable or not likely to be available due to "neutralism," then more B-52's are needed, and so are more aircraft carriers.

In other words, if it's to be an intercontinental war tomorrow, then neither Russia nor the United States is adequately prepared. If it's to be a war from overseas bases and from mobile bases like the Navy's aircraft carriers, then America is in relatively good shape and could win.

The Congress has provided the money for tomorrow's war. What must it do about a war in 1960? That's the real question.

Brady Contends Politicians Not Fit for Office When Ill

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

At the time F. D. R. was first nominated as Democratic candidate for the presidency, the political expert and Washington correspondent of a great newspaper, chatting with me in a broadcasting studio, asked whether I believed, as a doctor, that a man who has been stricken with poliomyelitis could administer . . . I was shocked by the implications of the query. I could only say that F. D. R. had handled the next biggest job of the kind reasonably well for two terms.

At the time the late Warren G. Harding was running for president, I interviewed the senator at his Marion home and also Gov. Cox, his opponent, with the avowed intention of writing articles for my newspaper column concerning each candidate's health and fitness for the job.

Gov. Cox, at the governor's home in Columbus, submitted cheerfully to examination and went through some exercises so I could observe the effect on heart action, blood pressure, etc.

Senator Harding demurred. I had to promise him I would publish nothing about his health without his written consent. What I printed in this column about Senator Harding was the best I could say about him without violating my own conscience. Mainly I was impressed by the man's graciousness. Secretly I told my friends that I doubted the man would live out his term if elected.

Now it is my conviction that we, the American people, made a dreadful mistake when we sent a sick man to go into the ring against Joe Stalin at Yalta.

When the beloved T. R. was running for governor, I heard him speak—and I voted for him at least once in every campaign from then on.

Right now I can't for the life of me see what difference it makes whether a candidate is of or in one party or the other, and evidently there are millions of Americans in the same fix.

I didn't vote for Eisenhower in the last election. Let me see, for whom did—oh, yes, it was a man named Stevenson. But I have great respect for the President as a man, and I think he has administered his great office as well as any human being could. But whether to vote for him I can't at present decide.

It is not that I think I know more about heart disease than the President's medical advisors do, but I do think his doctors should have given him the benefit of the doubt—and who can help feeling some doubt about the wisdom of the doctors, in view of the departure of Fred Allen only hours after his physician and electrocardiographer had assured him . . .

I prayed that for his own sake and for the country's sake the President would retire to a reasonably quiet, normal life. So I was saddened by the news that he would run again.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

I wonder if the Leonard barber who says he saw a black panther is going to give the people of that community the all-clear signal and tell them to cheer up, that their worries are over, that he has seen Daniel Boone on the trail of the animal.

If Mrs. Cool had just heard that wild cat or black panther scream once in the early part of the evening, she would never again go strolling "with a salt shaker" just to see if she could get scared.

We lived on the Hosner Road near Leonard for 18 years. It was about in 1937 that a large beast really prowled near our farm. It was seen and heard and its large track measured in the snow.

Reader Discusses Pontiac, Waterford School Taxes

I was puzzled as to why all the talk about annexing Waterford had died down. I understand now for I just learned that Waterford's school tax rate is $56.10 and Pontiac's is only $19.84. That means Waterford is paying 300 per cent higher tax rate than Pontiac. That isn't hay.

Furthermore, Waterford hasn't even begun to solve her school problem or pay the whole bill as the community has grown so rapidly. I was told they have half days now for some of their pupils.

Pontiac taxpayers, guard your pocketbooks.

NATO Council Ponders New Russian Diplomacy

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Various facets of the Soviet "collective leadership" drive are on the agenda of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council discussions in Paris this week.

Premier Nikolai Bulganin and his running mate, Communist Party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev, made a big propaganda splash in last winter's junket to India, Burma and Afghanistan.

They got a chillier reception, even hostile at times, on their recent trip to Britain. But they are persevering men and their example of less rigidity in abandoning the ruthlessness of Stalinism is setting a pace among their colleagues at home and abroad.

Is a new breed of Soviet diplomat emerging since the death of Stalin? A group of would-be "charm boys?"

There has been no doubt that the death of Stalin unleashed a ferment of latent ideas among the so-called Soviet intelligentsia.

And the magazine Newsweek, for instance, in relaying reports from its correspondents in Washington, London, Paris, Bonn and Beirut, says Soviet diplomats are falling quickly into the "new front" pattern, even if at times somewhat clumsily.

SOCIABLE NOW

Valerian Zorin, the diplomat credited with directing the Red coup in Czechoslovakia in 1948, now is ambassador to West Germany.

Whereas he used to shun contacts with many other diplomats and prominent public men in the West, he now is offering up to $200,000 for a castle in the Bavarian Alps to expand his social activities. This would be to entertain German industrialists and politicians.

"Not long ago a favorite sport of young Western diplomats in Middle East capitals," Newsweek says, "was to corner a lone Soviet attache and block his efforts to wriggle his way out.

"Russian diplomats huddled in packs at parties and were at pains to avoid being drawn into confersations with non-Russians. Now Westerners can't get the Red diplomats out of their hair . . ."

A familiar complaint of Western diplomats in the Stalin era used to be that they were certain that Soviet diplomats feared relaying accurate reports, that they reported only what they thought Stalin and the shifting party line demanded.

RED CONFIDENCE

The magazine's conclusion is that the new look in Soviet diplomacy "proclaims Moscow's confidence that she has drawn even in the nuclear weapons race and has overcome her fears of the outside world.

"And above all Russia's return to conventional diplomacy means that the Soviets are ready and determined to challenge the political predominance of the Western powers."

Children Must Learn Young to Earn Their Way; Don't Overindulge Them

Jerry's father was a poor boy who worked up to the top rung of the ladder to success. Then he refused to let his son learn the same vital lessons; yet now wonders why Jerry is a ne'er-do-well. You can't deprive a child of music lessons and expect him to be a Paderewski. Why do the same regarding money matters?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-347: Jerry O., aged 24, is a typical prodigal son, though he has graduated from a leading college.

"Dr. Crane, I don't know what will become of Jerry," his devoted mother confessed.

"He has had all the advantages we could give him. We sent him to a private school so he could mingle with the best type of children.

"His Daddy always gave him a liberal allowance even in grammar school. And he paid all his expenses to college and gave him $100 per month for spending money.

"Then he sent him to Europe and has indulged him in travel all over America.

"But Jerry has no financial gumption. He is constantly in debt. And recently he has started writing worthless checks. My husband has made financial restitution for them, but he is about at his wits' end."

PARENTS, BEWARE

Suppose a man were a great pianist like the late Paderewski and expected his son to become equally talented.

Should he keep him away from pianos all through childhood and prevent his taking piano lessons?

"Certainly not," you will exclaim.

Well, the skill in the use of money comes only from experience. A child must earn his own spending money in order to realize that it takes toil and sweat and sometimes tears to gain a financial toe-hold in our current economic system.

Neither piano playing skill nor ability to budget money wisely, can be inherited, regardless of how talented a musician or business genius the father may be.

Yet thousands of successful, self-made parents make the same error as Jerry's dad and then deprive their children of those very same practical experiences which are so vital for success.

NO ROYAL ROAD

There is no royal road to acquiring a knowledge of mathematics, music or of sound business methods.

You must memorize the basic rules and then practice on the real object. In music, this means you must go through the same laborious finger exercises that Paderewski underwent.

You must likewise undergo the same basic training in the business world and begin working for pay jobs even when you are of kindergarten age.

Don't give children an allowance! For that is like making your child wear waterwings every time he goes swimming.

Allowances weaken your child, for he must learn to keep afloat financially by his own efforts, and do the same as regards swimming.

Life makes no allowances for anybody, so why teach him to expect favors (allowances) and something-for-nothing while he is in your home as a child?

As soon as he is pushed out upon his own, life will furnish him no allowances for anything, and he'll be that much more handicapped when competing with typical American youth who know how to earn their own way.

So set up pay jobs in your home. Encourage your child to carry a newspaper route, even if you parents are millionaires, since no other work prepares him so successfully for earning his own way in our American economy.

And if your adult children are still as juvenile as Jerry, have a straight talk with them. Remind them they must stand alone hereafter. Don't make up for their rubber checks, for you further weaken them by so doing.

And send for my "Budget Booklet," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 20 cents in coin. It helps married folks, too, in operating their home on a budget.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

They Won't Let Machine Outdo Them

'Directomat' Makes New Yorkers Helpful

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Visitors to New York City, who used to be scared because they might get lost in a maze of hard concrete and harder people, now can brush away their fears.

• • •

You will not get lost these days, friends.

New York City is just dying to tell you exactly where to go.

It all came about this week when a neat little machine, called the "Directomat," was installed in a Times Square subway station.

The electro-mechanical whatsit has suddenly put the spotlight on the lost and strayed of the city, and now you can hardly wear an aimless look on your face without having 10 men and a dog barking helpful directions at you.

"It's this way," said a subway attendant who has been standing by, watching the "directomat" punch out directions for getting around town.

"The machine itself isn't so amazing—it's just one of those push-button things. What's amazing is how, since they put it up, everybody you see wants to be helpful.

EVERYBODY'S WISE

"Used to be, when a guy from the sticks would ask how to get to the Astor, nobody'd help him. Now, everybody wants to be a wise guy and tell him directions. . .

The "hunk of steel" that has caused human nature to do a samaritan-type flip in our city is actually a magnificent gesture to alleviate the bewilderment of millions of local citizens, as well as tourists. It was developed after 10 years of experimentation by Dr. Max Tamir. Who said:

"I came here from France 11 years ago and I was lost. I was miserable, and then I found a funny thing . . . even New York people were lost too. 'They don't know how to get around any better than me,' I said to myself And so I thought of the idea for the machine."

Dr. Tamir, a Ph. D. in engineering from the Sorbonne, is modest enough about himself. But he concedes the "directomat" is somewhat of a genius.

It is a 4-by-5-foot board, against the wall of the subway station mezzanine. It lists all the subway system's 476 stations across the city, as well as scores of hotels, restaurants, nightclubs, public places, etc.

PUSHES BUTTON

If a man wants to ask how to get somewhere, he simply pushes a button on a panel—indicating where he wants to go.

The machine whirs like an angry buzzer, pauses as if cogitating the matter, then spits out a 3¼-by-3½-inch card. On the card are explicit directions on how to get there and, frequently, information on prices, visiting hours, and so forth of the place you are heading for.

"You can even ask the machine how to go to the moon, and it will give you a card telling where to write and sign up for a future trip," said Dr. Tamir smugly.

The Directomat is polite, too. It will not advise you how to go in the other direction.

Space Satellite Plans Revealed

Missile to Circle Earth for 2 Weeks; Launching Set for '57 or '58

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's first space satellite probably will circle the earth for two weeks—and maybe you can see it if you can spot a golf ball 30,000 feet up in the air.

Dr. John P. Hagen says the time for seeing the satellite will be limited to about an hour before sunrise and another hour after sunset — when the earth is dark and the upper sky still sun-bathed.

"At these times the satellite will be visible, but I believe you will need field glasses in order to see it," he added.

Dr. Hagen is director of Project Vanguard, set up to build and launch the satellite during the International Geophysical Year. He told of the planning in an address yesterday before the Armed Forces Communications and Electronics Assn.

TO BE ON SCHEDULE

He told questioners the satellite program is on schedule and will meet its deadlines. He mentioned no specific launching date, but it is planned sometime between July 1957 and December 1958.

The time the satellite will stay aloft will depend on its orbit, which in turn will depend largely on how accurately it can be launched, Dr. Hagen said. As planned now, it should stay up about two weeks before slowing down in the atmosphere and disintegrating high above the earth, he added.

The satellite itself will be a sphere of thin metal 20 inches in diameter and weighing 21½ pounds. Traced by radio and telescopes, it will circle the earth every 90 minutes at heights ranging from 200 to perhaps as much as 1,500 miles above the earth but with an average of 300 miles.

Fire Losses Increase

LANSING (AP)—Forest and grassland fire losses are pushing toward the 2,000-acre mark in Michigan. The State Conservation Department reported today that 34 fires last week which swept 279 acres boosted the total acreage burned over during the year to 1,776 acres.

State Employes Meet

LANSING (AP) — More than 500 members of the Michigan State Employes Association will attend the association's sixth annual assembly at Lansing Saturday. The group will elect officers and consider numerous resolutions including one recommending improved medical benefits.

City Parks Ready for Record Season

If the people of Pontiac don't get greater pleasure than ever before out of their City parks this year, it won't be the fault of officials in that department of our municipal government.

For some time employes under the direction of Park Supervisor William Aho have been hard at work preparing all seven parks for opening next Tuesday. In the cleanup phase of this work they have had the enthusiastic aid of some 200 Boy Scouts from local troops.

Each year the parks grow in popularity and attract larger numbers of visitors. Last year it was estimated that 500,000 took advantage of the opportunity to enjoy picnic and recreation facilities near their homes. This year, according to David R. Ewalt, Parks and Recreation director, preparations have been made to accommodate at least 650,000, or 30 per cent more than in 1955.

Whether one wants to enjoy a pleasant outdoor meal or play tennis, horseshoes, shuffleboard, softball or baseball, he can do so in one or more of these parks. For the special benefit of children, there is an adequate supply of the usual playground equipment.

These parks are valuable community assets. They help immeasurably to make Pontiac a city in which people enjoy living and bringing up their families.

Compromise Predicted on U.S. Highway Bills

From Capitol Hill has come news that differences between the House and Senate highway bills will be compromised.

The need for such action was apparent even before the House overwhelmingly approved its $51.5 billion measure. Besides this much needed expenditure over a 13 year period, the bill provides for a total of $14.8 billion in new taxes over 16 years.

In contrast, the Senate measure as approved last May, sets up a five year $18 billion Federal-State highway building program. The chief difference between the Administration-backed House bill and the Senate version is how to apportion money to the states for the 40,000 mile interstate system.

The House apportionment is based on the needs of each state for aid in completing its portion of the interstate system. These needs were set forth in the road program President Eisenhower submitted to Congress last year.

The Senate version uses the formula in the existing Federal road law. This sets aside the relatively small sum of $175,000,000 each year for interstate roads.

It remains to be seen what kind of a compromise can be worked out. But one thing is certain, whatever is agreed upon will fall short of meeting the ever growing need if it fails to provide the states as much Federal help as proposed in the $51.5 billion House measure.

The people don't care about the details of how the compromise agreement is to be reached. They aren't worried about the new taxes they'll have to pay. They want the new roads they know must be built to handle our ever increasing traffic.

This program isn't going to solve our national highway problem permanently. But it will be a long overdue and desperately needed start.

Boy Scouts Help Launch Jaycees' Cleanup Drive

With the help of some 300 Boy Scouts in launching it, this year's "Clean Up, Fix Up, Paint Up Week" of the Junior Chamber of Commerce should be the most effective in history.

The Scouts' important contributions to the campaign, May 7 to 14, include circulation of petitions among householders. These petitions ask everyone to pledge co-operation in "making Pontiac a clean, healthy and safe city in which to live."

Junior Chamber members have been setting a good example by their pre-campaign cleanup of the Jaycee Park, Walton Blvd. at Joslyn. Financially backed by the organization, it is a welcome addition to the City's park system.

As in past years the objective of the annual campaign is community-wide participation in the effort to give Pontiac a bright and shining face for the rapidly approaching outdoor season.

The Jaycees hope that citizens not only will clean up their lawns and gardens, but make any needed home repairs and do any necessary painting.

Be sure to do your part.

The Road Back

David Lawrence Says:

Defense Funds to Boost Power of U. S. for Tomorrow's Intercontinental War

WASHINGTON—The American people are likely to get confused as a result of some of the testimony they will hear and some that they have already read about America's air power versus that of the Russians.

A man with the military experience of President Eisenhower isn't likely to let his own country down and allow it to be unprepared for sudden war.

Then why all the fuss in Congress and the special inquiry undertaken by the Senate Armed Services Committee as a result of prodding by Sen. Symington of Missouri, Democrat?

PUSHING FOR PRESIDENCY

It would be easy enough to disparage this effort by describing it as just a means of getting the limelight on the Missouri senator's supposed ambition to win the Democratic presidential nomination. But the controversy has deeper roots. Symington was secretary of the Air Force under the Truman administration. He has many reliable sources of information about America's air strength and hence about the enemy's power, too. Naturally it would be a feather in the senator's cap if he could get national attention at a time when Sen. Kefauver and Adlai Stevenson are in the limelight.

It is, of course, not wholesome to see America's air-power secrets spilled over the front pages—as this is bound to benefit the enemy—just to advance the fortunes of a candidate or a political party.

But those who are pressing the investigation deny any such purpose and insist that it is really patriotic to bring out the facts because only in that way can the remedial steps be taken that, they are convinced, ought to be taken.

U.S. READY NOW, BUT

The issue is not too simple. The fact is that for a war that has to be fought tomorrow — as Gen. LeMay, head of the Strategic Air Command of the Air Force has testified—the United States is superior to any enemy that might attack. As for the war that might have to be fought in 1960, there is a wide difference of opinion among military men. Who knows exactly, for instance, what the enemy will do between now and then? Who knows the capabilities of the Russian air force today, even though it has a certain number of planes of a particular range or fighting capacity? Who can accurately assess those capabilities, and how many among our own military people would agree on a speculative appraisal of Russian capacity and the ability of her pilots in action?

Mere numbers do not tell the story at all, nor does the fact that one kind of plane is being built by the Russians for their purposes necessarily mean that America must match what the Russians are building. Each country has a different military problem. As one military expert put it—if the Russians have determined to build 1,000 "Bisons," which is their equivalent of America's B-53, an intercontinental long-range bomber, it would mean that war could be expected very soon.

The Russians aren't building their "Bisons" that rapidly, and maybe in a year or so this kind of plane will be considered obsolete by them. They have made only 100 thus far and the United States has produced 78 B-52's, according to testimony released by the Senate Committee. How many "Bisons" have proved satisfactory to the Russians is unknown, but only 47 B-52's have been accepted by the U.S. Air Force.

PROGRESS CRITICIZED

Much has been made in the press about the slow progress in this country in building B-52's. The infgrence is that America doesn't have any other bombers to use in the meantime. Actually, the B-47's are available in large quantity. These do not have as long a range as the B-52's, but they were designed to do the job of bombing in the short ranges from our overseas bases. If, however, our overseas bases are vulnerable or not likely to be available due to "neutralism," then more B-52's are needed, and so are more aircraft carriers.

In other words, if it's to be an intercontinental war tomorrow, then neither Russia nor the United States is adequately prepared. If it's to be a war from overseas bases and from mobile bases like the Navy's aircraft carriers, then America is in relatively good shape and could win.

The Congress has provided the money for tomorrow's war. What must it do about a war in 1960? That's the real question.

Brady Contends Politicians Not Fit for Office When Ill

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

At the time F. D. R. was first nominated as Democratic candidate for the presidency, the political expert and Washington correspondent of a great newspaper, chatting with me in a broadcasting studio, asked whether I believed as a doctor that a man who has been stricken with poliomyelitis could administer . . . It is not that I think I know more about heart disease than the President's medical advisors do, but I do think his doctors should have given him the benefit of the doubt—and who can help feeling some doubt about the wisdom of the doctors, in view of the departure of Fred Allen only hours after his physician and electrocardiographer had assured him . . .

I prayed that for his own sake and for the country's sake the President would retire to a reasonably quiet, normal life. So I was saddened by the news that he would run again.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 200 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I wonder if the Leonard barber who says he saw a black panther is going to give the people of that community the all-clear signal and tell them to cheer up, that their worries are over, that he has seen Daniel Boone on the trail of the animal.

If Mrs. Cool had just heard that wild cat or black panther scream once in the early part of the evening, she would never again go strolling "with a salt shaker" just to see if she could get scared.

We lived on the Hosner Road near Leonard for 18 years. It was about in 1937 that a large beast really prowled near our farm. It was seen and heard and its large track measured in the snow.

Reader Discusses Pontiac, Waterford School Taxes

I was puzzled as to why all the talk about annexing Waterford had died down. I understand now for I just learned that Waterford's school tax rate is $56.10 and Pontiac's is only $19.84. That means Waterford is paying 300 per cent higher tax rate than Pontiac. That isn't hay.

Furthermore, Waterford hasn't even begun to solve her school problem or pay the whole bill as the community has grown so rapidly. I was told they have half days now for some of their pupils.

Pontiac taxpayers, guard your pocketbooks.

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Various facets of the Soviet "collective leadership" drive are on the agenda of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council discussions in Paris this week.

Premier Nikolai Bulganin and his running mate, Communist Party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev, made a big propaganda splash in last winter's junket to India, Burma and Afghanistan.

They got a chillier reception, even hostile at times, on their recent trip to Britain. But they are persevering men and their example of less rigidity in abandoning the ruthlessness of Stalinism is setting a pace among their colleagues at home and abroad.

Is a new breed of Soviet diplomat emerging since the death of Stalin? A group of would-be "charm boys?"

There has been no doubt that the death of Stalin unleashed a ferment of latent ideas among the so-called Soviet intelligentsia.

And the magazine Newsweek, for instance, in relaying reports from its correspondents in Washington, London, Paris, Bonn and Beirut, says Soviet diplomats are falling quickly into the "new front" pattern, even if at times somewhat clumsily.

SOCIABLE NOW

Valerian Zorin, the diplomat credited with directing the Red coup in Czechoslovakia in 1948, now is ambassador to West Germany.

Whereas he used to shun contacts with many other diplomats and prominent public men in the West, he now is offering up to $200,000 for a castle in the Bavarian Alps to expand his social activities. This would be to entertain German industrialists and politicians.

"Not long ago a favorite sport of young Western diplomats in Middle East capitals," Newsweek says, "was to corner a lone Soviet attache and block his efforts to wriggle his way out.

"Russian diplomats huddled in packs at parties and were at pains to avoid being drawn into conversations with non-Russians. Now Westerners can't get the Red diplomats out of their hair . . ."

A familiar complaint of Western diplomats in the Stalin era used to be that they were certain that Soviet diplomats feared relaying accurate reports, that they reported only what they thought Stalin and the shifting party line demanded.

RED CONFIDENCE

The magazine's conclusion is that the new look in Soviet diplomacy "proclaims Moscow's confidence that she has drawn even in the nuclear weapons race and has overcome her fears of the outside world."

"And above all Russia's return to conventional diplomacy means that the Soviets are ready and determined to challenge the political predominance of the Western powers."

Case Records of a Psychologist

Jerry's father was a poor boy who worked up to the top rung of the ladder to success. Then he refused to let his son learn the same vital lessons; yet now wonders why Jerry is a ne'er-do-well. You can't deprive a child of music lessons and expect him to be a Paderewski. Why do the same regarding money matters?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-347: Jerry O., aged 24, is a typical prodigal son, though he has graduated from a leading college.

"Dr. Crane, I don't know what will become of Jerry," his devoted mother confessed.

"He has had all the advantages we could give him. We sent him to a private school so he could mingle with the best type of children.

"His Daddy always gave him a liberal allowance even in grammar school. And he paid all his expenses to college and gave him $100 per month for spending money.

"Then he sent him to Europe and has indulged him in travel all over America.

"But Jerry has no financial gumption. He is constantly in debt. And recently he has started writing worthless checks. My husband has made financial restitution for them, but he is about at his wits' end."

PARENTS, BEWARE

Suppose a man were a great pianist like the late Paderewski and expected his son to become equally talented.

Should he keep him away from pianos all through childhood and prevent his taking piano lessons?

"Certainly not," you will exclaim.

Well, the skill in the use of money comes only from experience. A child must earn his own spending money in order to realize that it takes toil and sweat and sometimes tears to gain a financial toe-hold in our current economic system.

Neither piano playing skill nor ability to budget money wisely can be inherited, regardless of how talented a musician or business genius the father may be.

Yet thousands of successful, self-made parents make the same error as Jerry's dad and then deprive their children of those very same practical experiences which are so vital for success.

NO ROYAL ROAD

There is no royal road to acquiring a knowledge of mathematics, music or of sound business methods.

You must memorize the basic rules and then practice on the real object. In music, this means you must go through the same laborious finger exercises that Paderewski underwent.

You must likewise undergo the same basic training in the business world and begin working for pay jobs even when you are of kindergarten age.

Don't give children an allowance! For that is like making your child wear waterwings every time he goes swimming.

Allowances weaken your child, for he must learn to keep afloat financially by his own efforts, and do the same as regards swimming.

Life makes no allowances for anybody, so why teach him to expect favors (allowances) and something-for-nothing while he is in your home as a child?

As soon as he is pushed out upon his own, life will furnish him no allowances for anything, and he'll be that much more handicapped when competing with typical American youth who know how to earn their own way.

So set up pay jobs in your home. Encourage your child to carry a newspaper route, even if you parents are millionaires, since no other work prepares him so successfully for earning his own way in our American economy.

And if your adult children are still as juvenile as Jerry, have a straight talk with them. Remind them they must stand alone hereafter. Don't make up for their rubber checks, for you further weaken them by so doing.

And send for my "Budget Booklet," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 20 cents in coin. It helps married folks, too, in operating their home on a budget.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

They Won't Let Machine Outdo Them

'Directomat' Makes New Yorkers Helpful

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Visitors to New York City, who used to be scared because they might get lost in a maze of hard concrete and harder people, now can brush away their fears.

• • •

You will not get lost these days, friends.

New York City is just dying to tell you exactly where to go.

It all came about this week when a neat little machine, called the "Directomat," was installed in a Times Square subway station.

The electro-mechanical whatsit has suddenly put the spotlight on the lost and strayed of the city, and now you can hardly wear an aimless look on your face without having 10 men and a dog barking helpful directions at you.

"It's this way," said a subway attendant who has been standing by, watching the "directomat" punch out directions for getting around town.

"The machine itself isn't so amazing—it's just one of those push-button things. What's amazing is how, since they put it up, everybody you see wants to be helpful.

EVERYBODY'S WISE

"Used to be, when a guy from the sticks would ask how to get to the Astor, nobody'd help him. Now, everybody wants to be a wise guy and tell him directions. . .

The "hunk of steel" that has caused human nature to do a samaritan-type flip in our city is actually a magnificent gesture to alleviate the bewilderment of millions of local citizens, as well as tourists. It was developed after 10 years of experimentation by Dr. Max Tamir. Who said:

"I came here from France 11 years ago and I was lost. I was miserable, and then I found a funny thing . . . even New York people were lost too. 'They don't know how to get around any better than me,' I said to myself And so I thought of the idea for the machine."

Dr. Tamir, a Ph. D. in engineering from the Sorbonne, is modest enough about himself. But he concedes the "directomat" is somewhat of a genius.

It is a 4-by-5-foot board, against the wall of the subway station mezzanine. It lists all the subway system's 476 stations across the city, as well as scores of hotels, restaurants, nightclubs, public places, etc.

PUSHES BUTTON

If a man wants to ask how to get somewhere, he simply pushes a button on a panel—indicating where he wants to go.

The machine whirs like an angry buzzer, pauses as if cogitating the matter, then spits out a 3-by-3½-inch card. On the card are explicit directions on how to get there and, frequently, information on prices, visiting hours, and so forth of the place you are heading for.

"You can even ask the machine how to go to the moon, and it will give you a card telling where to write and sign up for a future trip," said Dr. Tamir smugly.

The Directomat is polite, too. It will not advise you how to go in the other direction.

Space Satellite Plans Revealed

Missile to Circle Earth for 2 Weeks; Launching Set for '57 or '58

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's first space satellite probably will circle the earth for two weeks—and maybe you can see it if you can spot a golf ball 30,000 feet up in the air.

Dr. John P. Hagen says the time for seeing the satellite will be limited to about an hour before sunrise and another hour after sunset — when the earth is dark and the upper sky still sun-bathed.

"At these times the satellite will be visible, but I believe you will need field glasses in order to see it," he added.

Dr. Hagen is director of Project Vanguard, set up to build and launch the satellite during the International Geophysical Year. He told of the planning in an address yesterday before the Armed Forces Communications and Electronics Assn.

TO BE ON SCHEDULE

He told questioners the satellite program is on schedule and will meet its deadlines. He mentioned no specific launching date, but it is planned sometime between July 1957 and December 1958.

The time the satellite will stay aloft will depend on its orbit, which in turn will depend largely on how accurately it can be launched, Dr. Hagen said. As planned now, it should stay up about two weeks before slowing down in the atmosphere and disintegrating high above the earth, he added.

The satellite itself will be a sphere of thin metal 20 inches in diameter and weighing 21½ pounds. Traced by radio and telescopes, it will circle the earth every 90 minutes at heights ranging from 200 to perhaps an much as 1,500 miles above the earth but with an average of 300 miles.

Fire Losses Increase

LANSING (AP)—Forest and grassland fire losses are pushing toward the 2,000-acre mark in Michigan. The State Conservation Department reported today that 34 fires last week which swept 279 acres boosted the total acreage burned over during the year to 1,776 acres.

State Employes Meet

LANSING (AP) — More than 500 members of the Michigan State Employes Association will attend the association's sixth annual assembly at Lansing Saturday. The group will elect officers and consider numerous resolutions including one recommending improved medical benefits.

State Gas Buyers to Receive Refunds

LANSING (AP)— Machinery has been set up to refund nearly seven million dollars to Michigan natural gas customers, the State Public Service Commission reported today.

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. will refund $3,900,000 to its customers and Consumers Power Co. will return slightly more than three million dollars, commissioner William B. Elmer said.

This is in addition to $3,665,574 previously refunded to more than 800,000 customers by Michigan Consolidated.

The new refunds will come from monies paid to Michigan Consolidated and Consumers Power by the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co.

The Order of the Purple Heart was established Aug. 7, 1782.

Wisconsin Indian Stabs 4 to Death

WAUSAU, Wis. (AP) — A 37-year-old American Indian, who maintained "I don't know why I did it," stabbed four person to death with a homemade hunting knife yesterday.

The victims were his wife and mother-in-law, and the two small children of a neighbor family.

Sheriff Myron Mueller of Marathon County identified the man as Russell Monegar. He said Monegar also attacked two other persons in a tavern.

Dist. Atty. Ronald Keberle quoted Monegar as saying in a signed statement:

"I don't know why I did it. I hadn't been sleeping for six nights. I had not been drinking for seven days. I had no argument with my wife today."

In 1794, Congress voted to construct six frigates for the protection of commerce and to fight the Barbary pirates.

State GOP to Stage Weekly TV Show

LANSING (AP)—Michigan Republicans are considering early launching of an organized effort to help get their message to voters via a weekly television program over a statewide network, it was learned today.

If the plans jell, the star of the show will be Joseph Hainline, a veteran Detroit radio news broadcaster who recently was hired by the Republican State Central Committee through the Maxon advertising agency.

Hainline has been the state committee's voice in a series of needling questions beamed over television on "spot" time to touring Democratic state officials on four "reports to the people," the most recent Thursday in Flint.

The first television program was reported to be ready for presentation either this weekend or next.

New Red Peril Confronts West

NATO Leaders Agree on Economic, Cultural Threat of Soviets

PARIS (AP)—NATO's foreign ministers agreed today the Western world is facing a new and dangerously agile Soviet foreign policy based on economic and cultural penetration.

Reliable sources disclosed the Ministerial Council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization reached this conclusion after a full two hours in NATO headquarters.

The discussion opened with a detailed report on the recent visit to Britain of Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

Ministers gave their interpretations of Russian moves and advice on how the West must meet the Kremlin's new look. NATO officials maintained silence on the ministerial appraisal of Russia's actions and Western reaction to them.

EXPANSION IS THE TOPIC

Expansion of the 15-nation alliance into political and economic fields is a topic in the sessions, which will continue through tomorrow. It appeared final decisions on such proposals will be postponed at least until December.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, two of the leading council members, were reported to have agreed that all proposals for broadening NATO should be referred to a special committee of foreign ministers, probably five in number. The committee would report to the next full council session—in December.

Dulles was said to be ready to serve on the committee, if asked.

The company's outstanding sales person was Norma Jones, who was awarded a certificate for her achievement. The charter was received on behalf of the group by Secretary Sharon Knickerbocker.

Postaba manufactures, markets and sells copper-enameled jewelry, although its original product was a Christmas door chime. Other officers of the firm are President Thomas Harding, Vice President Peter Clark and Treasurer Margery Seeley.

Included in the April figures were permits for 55 new family dwellings amounting to $434,000, and four permits for commercial buildings totaling $222,000.

Persons wishing rsesidential alterations and repairs were issued 82 permits worth $71,633. Commercial alterations and repair permits totaled $35,600.

Proposed new residential garages in the city required 37 permits at $32,304.

Three Found Dead in Spacious New York Home

HASTINGS - ON - HUDSON, N.Y. (AP)—Police broke into a comfortable dwelling here last night and found a house of death.

There were three bodies—of a man, his wife and his wife's mother. A cocker spaniel lay sprawled lifeless on the living room floor. At least 50 tropical birds were dead in their cages.

Hastings Police Chief Joseph Trojak said Mrs. Andrea Kaufman, 47, in apparently committing suicide, had taken with her to their deaths her husband Frank 50, and her mother Mrs. Anna Retteg, 70.

Police entered the seven - room home at the urging of a neighbor, who said the family had not been seen for more than a week. From mail piled up on the porch, authorities believe the deaths occurred about April 24.

Trojak said the body of Mrs. Kaufman, clad in nightgown and robe, was found in the front seat of the family car in the attached garage. The auto's ignition key was turned on. The gas tank was empty. Canvas had been stuffed into the cracks of the garage door.

Carbon monoxide fumes had filtered through the entire house, killing every living thing, Trojak said.

The body of Kaufman, a bakery supply salesman, lay in his bedroom. His mother-in-law's body lay in bed in another room. Both were in night clothes.

Police were told that Mrs. Kaufman had been despondent after a serious operation about a month ago. No note was found.

Ike May Make Visit to Panama in June

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower may make a good neighbor visit to Panama City June 25-26.

Panama has invited the presidents of the other 20 American republics to attend ceremonies marking the 130th anniversary of the 1826 Congress of Panama called by Simon Bolivar to forge a bond among Latin-American nations then only recently freed from Spanish rule.

Hagerty said Eisenhower is studying his prospective business schedule to determine whether he can make the trip. He probably would travel by plane.

Troops Subdue Morocco Riots

40 People Already Die in Mob Furor Against Pro-French Supporters

MARRAKECH, Morocco (AP) — Troops in full battle dress today guarded this city in the Atlas foothills where 40 persons died in a vengeful bloodbath directed at friends of the late Thami el Glaoui.

A tight curfew appeared to have curbed the mob fury against supporters of the Glaoui, pro-French pasha of Marrakech who died in January of cancer.

The Glaoui, an old Berber chieftain, was a long-time backer of French rule in Morocco. He became a special target of hatred for nationalists when he took the lead in the ouster of Sultan Mohammed ben Youssef. After nationalist violence forced France to return the Sultan to power, a few months before his death, the Glaoui begged Ben Youssef's forgiveness and pledged allegiance to him. The pasha's years of pro-French activity were not forgotten.

• • •

Ben Youssef took strong measures to restore order, dispatching troop reinforcements to the scene and ordering security forces to fire on the rioters if necessary.

Policeman Hunting Bikes for Youngsters

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Patrolman John Beatty, the police department's stolen bicycle recovery specialist, is busy outwitting the biggest thief he has known.

Hundreds of youngsters—most of them in outlying areas where they need bicycles—were left "without wheels" by the April 3 tornado and Beatty is doing something about it.

"I've been rounding bicycles where I can find them," he says and to date he' doing well. There's nothing you can do to restore a bike crushed by the tornado," said Beatty.

Calling on anyone has an old bicycle they will part with, Beatty has collected 25 so far and distributed them to needy youngsters.

A Grand Rapids American Legion post has given him $500 to buy new bikes to distribute and Beatty figures this will bring about 15 more.

"One lady who gave me a bike notice the tires were 'kind of soft' and offered to have them replaced before I took it," He says. "Another woman wanted to give me 50 cents for a license to go with her bike, but I told her they didn't use licenses in the suburbs."

But finding bicycles in the among Beaty is hunting them isn't easy.

"It may take a while," He says, "but I'm going to try to take care of all the youngsters."

Roll of Thread Leads to Capture of Prowler

He fastened one end of a long thread to a stone underneath a bedroom window, trailed the thread into the house and set the spool on the floor. When the spool began sliding across the floor he called a neighbor and the two of them ran outside, nabbed a youth and turned him over to police.

Bob Considine Says:

Ah, the Memories of That Bikini Journey

H-BOMB BOUND (INS) — It stirs a memory or two to be headed again for the far Pacific to watch an atomic test. There was that trip of a decade ago to Bikini. Not until the recent matrimonial fracas in Monte Carlo has a story been so overwhelmed by the story tellers, or so badly reported.

We had about 300 in the press party for the Bikini tests, most of them on the SS Appalachian, an attack transport provided by the Navy. The method of selecting the accredited observers remains a jealously guarded military secret to this day.

Suffice it to say that there was a representative aboard from Charm magazine as well as the attorney for a picture magazine.

Norman Cousins, brilliant young editor of the Saturday Review of Literature, brought along his personal physician. There was a man, too, who affected shorts and a black homburg, and then there was Dr. Thone.

Dr. Thone was a kindly scientist attached to one of the news services. He has since passed on to the Greater Laboratory.

But there were times during the endless Bikini trip when it seemed the good doctor would hasten his trip to the beyond with his own hand — or head. Dr. Thone was not built for the Appalachian and vice versa. He was a very tall, very detached man with a head almost wholly unencumbered by hair.

He must have rapped his head against every lowslung pipe, vent, fire extinguisher and door on that ship, so lost was he in the realm of scientific thought. Finally a non-scientific type reporter took him to sick bay to have mercurochrome and plasters put on a skull on which by now the game of tick-tack-toe could readily be played.

STOOP ADVISED

Dr. Thone seated himself submissively before the Navy croaker and let himself be attended to. When the patches were in place the croaker said, "Doctor Thorne, our ceilings and the pipes that run along them were not built for a man of your height. Please be careful after this. Walk with a stoop."

Dr. Thone shook hands warmly and stood up. His festooned head came in violent contact with a pipe opening up a new cut that required three stitches.

We were, as a group, regarded as a major pestilence by the executive officer of the Appalachian, a man of training and utter discipline who was understandably horrified by the sight of ill-dressed reporters and cameramen flicking cigarettes about the decks and holding laugh-filled cocktail parties in their rooms.

Powerless to throw us in chains, he seemed to vent his wrath on innocent members of the crew. 'Clean sweepdown, fore and aft!" became the principal order of the day in the suffocating heat.

On the day before the bomb was dropped over the chained fleet, one of the free lancers aboard handed me four neatly typed pages giving graphic description of what it had been like.

He wrote of being slapped to the deck by the shock wave, of staggering about blindly from the atomic flash, and of the great wave that bid fair to swamp us. "Pretty lively," I said. "What are you going to do with it?"

FORESIGHT PAYS

"Sent it to the office an hour ago," he said, buffing his nails on his Hawaiian shirt. As it turned out, there was a sodden communications snarl the next day and his malarkey was one of the few stories that got through intact.

Ah, yes, that was a trip! The fellow who won the right to go in the B29 that flew near the drop plane, and was supposed to cover for all of us, looked out the wrong window and missed what he had come 9,000 miles to see.

The man from Tass became seasick while taking a shower before we sailed from Oakland and lay pitiably in his bunk for days mumbling, "Havayee . . . vimmen." He saw neither.

Hours before the bomb fell we were taken to Bikini for a drink at a service club named Crossroads. Fifteen cents a shot. "Tomorrow," intoned the best-known authority on the bomb, "this place will be leveled. Not a palm tree will stand. This bar will be splinters, its potions scattered." There wasn't a dry eye in the bar.

But the day after the great blast, there we were back again at the same rail. Not a blade of grass had been harmed. You could have knocked some of us over with a feather, and others with Three Feathers.

Army Wants to Keep Animals

'Save the Horse' Clarion Resounds in Washington

WASHINGTON (INS) — The clarion call of "Save the Horse" has been sounded in the halls of Congress.

At issue in recent hearings was one of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's economy measures. He wants to cut down on the Army and Air Force Veterinary Corps.

He called it a holdover from the old cavalry days, and the investigators of the House Military Appropriations subcommittee found out it was more than merely a holdover.

After Wilson told the congressmen there are now 773 officers and 2,100 enlisted men in the animals's medical corps, the subcommittee discovered on its own that there were only 167 horses and 314 mules still feeding off Uncle Sam.

THEY INSPECT FOOD

That figures out to approximately six men to an animal.

When the puzzled legislators looked into it a little further, they found that most of the vets have little to do with live animals anyway. Mostly, they inspect food.

But Wilson explained it was a little difficult to do away with the Veterinary Corps. They "have a nice lobby down there," he said, that is dedicated to bringing the profession to the level of doctors and dentists.

The "lobby" showed its strength when Rep. Daniel Flood (D-Pa.) told the normally economy-minded group that he believes "there is a place under certain circumstances in certain parts of the world and in certain types of operations for cavalry instead of helicopters and mobile troop carriers and so on."

He even suggested reactivating Ft. Riley, Kan., "and to put some regimental combat teams of horse cavalry into the field in case we need them."

Water Supply Sites Must Be Enlarged

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Commerce Department said today the country needs to spend nearly a billion dollars a year for the next 20 years on its public water supply systems to meet rapidly expanding needs and ease shortages.

The department said adequate supplies and reserve capacities "will be an important factor in our ability to support a national emergency."

• • •

A study of the water requirements by the department was based on an estimated population of 206,600,000 by 1975.

Concert, Banquet Loom at PHS

BY VICKY MICU

Music fills the air at Pontiac High School this week as members of the vocal department, 800 strong, finish off rehearsals for "Say It With Music," the annual vocal concert.

The concert, under the direction of George Putnam assisted by Mrs. Doreen Voltmann and Merlin Asplin, will be presented May 8, 10, 11 and dedicated to the Golden Anniversary celebration of Music Educators.

The 13th annual magazine drive at PHS has ended and has proved to be the most successful at PHS. Students sold more than $15,634 in subscritions (the second highest total in the nation). Don Cole copped top individual honors by selling $347.75 in subscriptions.

And 25 students joined the One Hundred Dollar Club, selling over $100 worth of subscriptions. Students are now sending word through Student Council representatives suggestions for things that might be purchased with the money the school obtains from the drive.

Retailers turn their eyes toward Spring, choosing a May Pole as the central theme for their banquet honoring employers-employes.

This annual banquet highlights the school year for students on the Retailing co-op course, and is a "thank-you" affair for employers. The banquet will be held May 16 at Devon Gables.

PHS students did their part to observe Mental Health Week April 28—May 6 attending the Pontiac State Hospital open house and workshops.

Students went representing Mrs. Edna Forman's American problems classes. Reports were made to the classes and comments were made on mental health.

PHS this week was the scene of much activity for area teachers—and provided a half-day vaction for students Wednesday. Thursday teachers visited classrooms and observed actual PHS classes.

Seniors are buckling down to work as the second marking period ends and senior preliminary exams loom near. May 14, 15, 16 seniors will take exams from 7:45 to 9:15 a.m. and 2:15 to 3:45 p.m

Schedule is as follows:

Seniors with surnames A through K will take exams in room 316

Seniors with surnames L through Z will take exams in room 216

1st period—Monday, May 14- 7:45—9:15

2nd period—Monday, May 14- 2:15—3:45

3rd period—Tuesday, May 15- 7:45—9:15

Sidelights at PHS this week—Bill Hansen, PHS sophomore was given an award of merit for outstanding work in the PHS biology club and laboratory work at the Annual State Science Fair of the Junior Academy of Science, Arts, and Letters.

Art students are entering original posters in the annual Poster Contest May 9. Cash prizes will be awarded—girls gym classes have been competing in badminton, shuffleboard and table tennis tournaments recently.

'Harvey' Ready for Production

Waterford Students Await Prom, 'La Lune Reverie'

By JEAN LIMATTA

The numbered days left this year at Waterford Township High School are keeping students fully occupied.

"Harvey," one of the final dramatic productions, will be presented tonight and Saturday evening in the high school auditorium at 8. The three-act comedy, directed by Patty Looman, has an almost all-senior cast.

Anxiety is growing in both seniors and underclassmen as just one week remains before the 1956 prom, "La Lune Reverie."

Seniors are spending the majority of their evenings finishing decorations for the big annual event, which takes place a week from tomorrow from 9 to 1 at the high school.

Seniors working on the co-op program and their bosses enjoyed the annual co-op banquet Tuesday evening at a local restaurant.

DANCE PLANNED

Saturday evening's Barn Dance, a football-lights benefit, will highlight this week-end's activities. The benefit dance, hayride, and weiner roast, sponsored by the White Brothers Real Estate, will be held at 8 in the big barn on Waterford Hill.

In co-operation with the Student Council, everyone is putting forth effort to make the event a success. Tickets have been sold throughout the community. Square and modern dance music will be provided by the Pontiac Federation of Music.

WTHS band and A cappella choir members and directors are making preparations for their combined Spring Concert to be May 16.

Who's Davy Crockett!

Davy Crockett fans have promised to line both shores Sunday when Avondale boys race their keel boats on the Clinton River in Auburn Heights. Sources say this will be a colorful sight.

Busy Springtime Keeps Area Students Hopping

Business galore kept area high school students busy this week. Dances, elections, vocal concerts and spring sports are but a few of the newsmakers reported.

AT WALLED LAKE

The Inter-Lakes Student Council held their all-council dance Wednesday at Farmington.

The student body heard campaign speeches Wednesday from John Walker and Laurie Passmore, nominees for president; and Bill Brown and George Havermahl who are running for vice president. Elections will take place Tuesday during homeroom.

Report cards were issued Tuesday. Included on the honor roll are 62 seniors, 26 juniors, and 45 sophomores. One sophomore, Peggy Emmert, and two seniors, Carolyn Bonser and Art Howland received all A's.

AT LAPEER

Seven Lapeer Junior boys will attend Wolverine Boys' State at Michigan State University in June. The boys are Jerry O'Connor, Dennis Troy, Lee Brewer, Chuck Rich, Michael Carter, Larry Thiemkey and Thomas Wilson.

AT AVONDALE

The annual vocal concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday night at Avondale High. Under the direction of Jean Woodworth, the concert will contain numbers by the Boys and Girls Glee Clubs and the mixed choir. Vocalists are preparing for the concert in night rehearsals.

All the classes will select king and queen candidates next week for spring carnival. The carnival is sponsored by the PTSA.

St. Michael High Seniors Observe Mental Health Week With Class Tour

By JANET ENGLISH

In keeping with the purpose of Mental Health Week, the senior class was given the opportunity of touring the Pontiac State Hospital.

The tour was completed on Tuesday and resulted in an education for the seniors on the causes and cures of mental illness.

A more thorough understanding of the conditions of these sick people will result in their receiving just treatment from the average person upon their rehabilitation and the students' circuit fostered this vital understanding.

All agree that it was a worthwhile experience.

After the Michaelite Staff held a meeting to organize the publication of this year's final issue of the paper, funds were found to be inadequate. So — the "Bermuda Bounce" was added to the student body's list of extra-curricula weekend activities.

The dance was a record hop held on Friday from 8:30 to 11:30. It afforded a two fold return. All who attended took part in an evening of fun and at the same time their admission replenished the Michaelite's monetary reserve.

At the present time the graduation issue — which will feature only articles concerning the seniors—is being prepared.

Representatives from the Comptometer School here in Pontiac spoke to the Typing II students on Thursday. Explanation of the machine and of the course of study offered was given. Comptometer ability tests tests were administered, the results of which are now being awaited.

Economics students have been clamoring for library permits the last few weeks in order to complete their research themes. Tuesday was the deadline for this assignment required of all the senior student economists.

The high school assembled on Wednesday for a student council meeting. Corridor and classroom behavior were the foremost topics of discussion.

Chosen recently by their classmates as outstanding senior girl and boy were Carole Vanitvelt and Jack Erb.

Basis for the election was primarily their character, then the cooperation they have displayed in school projects, adaptability to all activities, and their all round pleasing personalities.

The Michaelite will feature articles on both of these representative teenagers.

RONALD JOHNSON

Valedictorian of the 1956 Clarkston class is Ron Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Johnson of Flemings Lake road. Ron has been president of the Student Council, a member of Future Teachers Club, and CHS Debate team. Ron placed first in District Extempore contest. His scholastic rating was 3.77. He plans to attend Michigan State University.

GARY ROBERTSON

Clarkston salutatorian for this year is Gary Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gray Robertson of Robertson court. Gary was co-captain of the football team, president of his freshman class, president of Hi-Y, vice president of the senior class, and a member of the Student Council. His scholastic rating was 3.71. He plans to attend Albion College in the fall.

Ray Lowry's 7th and 9th graders are working on projects for this year.

George Emmans Latin classes are giving a Roman Banquet today. Class members will characterize gods and goddesses and their slaves from Roman times. Students hope to make this an annual affair.

The Kickball tournament is on in Wilma Webb's gym classes.

Henry Elling and the Boy's Glee Club went to Keego Harbor and sang for the PTA. Soloists were Michael Walker, Bob Burns, Ronnie Miller and Ed Haroutunian.

The annual May Dance was Tuesday presented by Homeroom 307.

AT LINCOLN

Cora Duke and Gary MacDowell represented Lincoln Junior High School on a panel of speakers who presented a program for the Junior Child Study Club of Pontiac.

Senior Activities Draw Attention as Graduation Nears

By ANN SCHACHERN

Junior class members have been working hard on what they claim will be "the best prom ever at St. Freds." Busiest person has been decoration chairman Ardith Green and her committee. Theme of the decorations is being kept a big secret.

Prom will take place next Wednesday, May 9 from 9 to 12.

Juniors are also busy making plans for the Junior — Senior Banquet which will be held Wednesday, May 16.

Cast members of "Our Town" reluctantly put away greasepaint and returned costumes at the end of two very successful presentations of their senior play last weekend.

A record-breaking 1147 tickets were sold for the two performances. Seniors, Juniors of 308, both Sophomore rooms, both 8th grade rooms and the 1st and 2nd graders of 102 will receive a free day as a reward for their ticket salesmanship.

The Senior class visited the Pontiac State Hospital during its open house last Wednesday afternoon.

Yesterday, Senior Review tests were given. These tests, which are really a review of all grade school English, arithmetic, geography, and spelling had to be passed with a "B" before final exams will be given to prospective graduates.

The Junior class has started the ball rolling for next fall already. Tuesday morning, class rings were ordered and will arrive in early October.

Sophomore officers reported that they made enough money on their bake sale to pay for the Senior breakfast on graduation morning.

All yearbook copy has been proofread for the final time. Delivery date for "The Ramrod" is May 15th.

Class presidents have started making plans for their individual class picnics. A free day on next Thursday will provide the time for the affair.

Map Data Aided Allies in WW II

Army Says Estimate of Earth's Size Helped in European Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the data used by the Army in making a new estimate of the earth's size also helped allied forces win World War II

An Army map service official disclosed this in giving details of how the Army acquired some of the European geodetic material it used to compute the new finding, recently announced. The map service said the new computation shows the earth to be about half a mile smaller around the equator than was thought heretofore.

Floyd W. Hough, who headed a special Army intelligence team in Germany in the closing year of World War II, said most of this material was found in captured German towns "and then turned over immediately to our own artillery" for guidance in gunfire as the Allies advanced toward Berlin.

Hough said the mapping material contained geodetic information on the whole area of Europe from Greece to Finland—much of it having been captured by the German army earlier.

"Prior to the war," Hough told a reporter, "the United States had only negligible amounts of such European geodetic material. It was seriously needed by our artillery.

"We got the material through interrogation of captured personnel and through our own searching.

"Some of it was buried in the ground, some of it hidden behind walls that were blacked over with lamp-black to disguise the wall-breaks."

Dictionaries to Help Spelling of Dixie Police

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Jefferson County Police Department will get three dictionaries to help officers in their spelling.

Because of bad spelling, he said, reports from district offices are hard to read.

A member of the court first suggested providing the officers with county maps listing streets and roads.

County Road Engineer W. Price Lane said that wouldn't do because "some of the roads are spelled wrong there too."

Traffic Engineer Explains:

Failure to Stop Brought 'Yield' Signs

Tendency of some motorists to ignore stop signs posted at intersections with light traffic brought about the installation of "yield right of way" signs in Pontiac, Theodore M. Vanderstempel, city traffic engineer said.

He said many inquiries asking an explanation of these signs have recently been directed to his office.

"When stop signs are erected at street intersections with light traffic, the public soon becomes accustomed to crossing the intersection when slowing up, but not coming to a complete stop," Vanderstempel explained.

"Under these circumstances a collision is bound ot occur," he said.

The United States Bureau of Public Roads, the National Committee on Uniform Laws and Ordinances, the Institute of Traffic Engineers, and the American Association of State Highway Officials set up standards to determine how much traffic warrants installation of stop signs.

If 250 vehicles use an intersection per hour for any six hour span, stop signs are warranted.

There are 552 stop sign intersections in Pontiac and 145 with the "yield" signs, since they were adopted two years ago.

"If the number of vehicles passing through an intersection does not meet these requirements, stop signs are not recommended," Vanderstempel pointed out.

The law requires that drivers confronted with the new "yield right of way" signs slow down to a speed that their car is under control and can be stopped at the approach of a vehicle from either.

Last year the Michigan Legislature included these signs in the "Michigan Manual of Uniform Traffic Control Devices."

Ike Receives Colorado's No. 1 Fishing License

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower today received Colorado's No. 1 fishing license for 1956 and remarked smilingly: "I hope I get to use it."

The license was presented by by Gov. Edwin C. Johnson and Denver Mayor Will Nicholson.

It was in Denver that Eisenhower suffered a heart attack last Sept. 24 and was hospitalized for seven weeks. He has vacationed in Colorado for the last four summers, but there has been speculation that his doctors might advise against a return to that altitude.

Denver is a mile high and the President's favorite Rocky Mountain fishing camp at Fraser, Colo., is more than 9,000 feet up in the Rocky Mountains.

Eisenhower yesterday told another friend, Denver golfing companion L. M. Pexton, that he had not decided whether to vacation in Colorado again.

Johnson, a Democrat, told newsmen after visiting with Eisenhower that he is hopeful the President will return to the state.

"He's our No. 1 man," the governor said.

Land in the Michigan 'Mitten' Slowly Moving Upward

The following story describing a little known aspect of Michigan's geography was written for the Associated Press by Gilbert Goodwin of the Michigan State University geology department staff).

EAST LANSING — The whole northern portion of the Michigan "mitten" and adjoining area is moving slowly upward almost like a right hand beginning to clench into a fist.

Most of the lifting movement can be traced from a "hinge line" which runs across the entire face of Michigan roughly between Arcadia in Manistee County and Forestville in Sanilac County, according to Mrs. Jane E. Smith, assistant professor of geology at Michigan State University.

'REBOUNDING' LAND

The uplift is progressively greater in regions north from the hinge line. In Labrador, uplift of as much as 1,000 feet has occurred.

Logical explanation for the uplift phenomenon, according to geologists, is that the land mass is "rebounding" after being depressed under the huge glaciers which moved down to cover Michigan and much of the United States as far south as the Ohio River Valley.

The same thing is believed to have happened in the Scandinavian Peninsula where old shorelines are found well up on mountain sides.

Geologists estimate that the ice sheet may have stood at least a mile thick over much of Michigan. The tremendous weight of rock-laden ice apparently was sufficient to depress large land areas.

SLOW PROCESS

"When the ice began to recede through melting — perhaps 11,000 years ago—the depressed area apparently began to spring back to its original position like a sofa cushion on which somebody had been sitting," Mrs. Smith explained.

Like most earth movements, the uplift is a slow process. It is measured in inches during the course of a century.

Study of the phenomenon caused Dr. Stanard G. Bergquist, late head of the MSU geology department, to make an interesting calculation.

If the uplift continues long enough at anything like its present rate, Niagara Falls will become dry in about 7,000 years, he said.

SOUTHWARD TILT

The reason would be that the Great Lakes basin had lifted enough to tilt southward. Drainage would forsake the St. Lawrence and go instead out the old Chicago canal and Mississippi watershed as it apparently did in former times.

Another remote but interesting possibility is the return of the glacial ice sheet which created so many geographical changes in the first place.

Glaciers accumulate and begin their plastic spread out over the earth surface when summer temperatures are not high enough to melt the annual snowfall.

"If our summers were to drop only a few degrees in average temperature—as little as 11 to 15 degrees perhaps — the glaciers might begin to grow again," Mrs. Smith said.

Williams Sanctions School Code Changes

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams signed a bill amending the School Code to require, among other items, publication of financial reports by all school districts.

Respresentatives of the State Department of Public Instruction explained the publication requirement was inadvertently left out of the School Code when it was recodified in 1955.

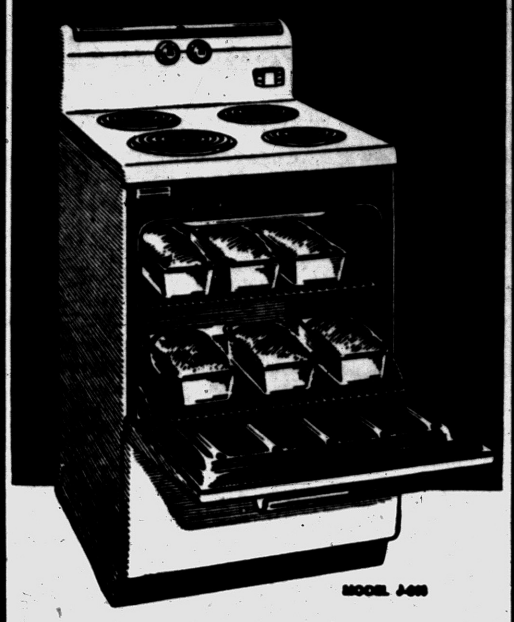

The measure leaves the exact form for the financial report up to the state superintendent of public instruction.

Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent, has been consulting with superintendents and an education committee of the Michigan Press Association prior to drawing up requirements for the form of publication of the financial report.

Sure starts a lot of Torque—

even before you Switch the Pitch

TORQUE is for take-off—and there's plenty of it here.

You just apply a puny bit of pressure on the pedal—and you're off and away. Never has such quick acceleration been so smooth.

It's the newest step-up in Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—and it gives a double-barreled thrill.

First, it delivers a record amount of torque to turn those rear wheels—even before you switch the pitch. You splurge on pickup while saving on gas.

The second is for real zoom service. Just put your foot down—and there you have it. You switch the pitch and Dynaflow serves up a dazzling burst of extra power to cut seconds off your passing—and add new safety to it.

But there's a lot more than torque to talk about.

There's Buick styling. Its flair and sweep alone have started many a conversation. On lines that are daring, but not reckless. On colors and interiors that are gay and stunning, but never garish.

And there's the Buick ride. Unlike any other. Softer, yet steadier. Cradling you in rubber-bubble comfort—leveling with you on every twist and turn.

A whole group of unseen marvels screen you from the harsh realities of the road. Including a new front-end geometry—new deep-oil-cushioned shock absorbers—new deep-coil springs on all four wheels. And there are new stabilizers and a new torque tube, to snub out any swing or sway.

In short, there's so much excitement from stem to stern—in any Buick you can buy—that Buick owners have a whale of a lot to talk about.

So why not take a Buick out on the road yourself, so you'll know what all the talk's about? Don't say you can't afford it until you hear us talk price. We're ready whenever you are.

Predict 53,000 to Die on Roads

Ike's Traffic Safety Unit Meets to Discuss Ways to Prevent Fatalities

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A member of the President's committee for traffic safety has predicted that 53,000 Americans will die in highway accidents this year if the present fatality rate continues.

Mrs. Raymond Sayre of Ackworth, Iowa, made the prediction Wednesday as the eastern regional conference of the committee concluded a two-day session.

In a summary report to more than 1,000 representatives from 11 eastern states, Mrs. Sayre called for improvement of state, county and local safety organizations to combat highway accidents.

"We don't want the federal government to do this job for us," she said.

The "weakest link" in the accident prevention program in the East, she said, is a lack of citizen safety organizations in most communities and states.

The conference was designed to stimulate the organization of citizens groups in support of official traffic safety programs. It was the first of four called throughout the country at President Eisenhower's request.

Lt. Gov. Roy E. Furman of Pennsylvania earlier told a meeting of delegates from the state that deaths on rural highways have increased because of speed.

Your Skin Tells Your Thoughts to Psychiatrists

CHICAGO (INS)—Our skins, a Cleveland psychiatrist says, clearly mirrors our inner-most mental life—provided the observer knows the tell-tale signs.

And many times, he adds, people flash these signs across their skins "instead of saying in words what they feel, and perhaps without even knowing they do feel."

Dr. Brian Bird, Western Reserve University psychiatrist, told the American Psychiatric Association annual meeting in Chicago how both normal and abnormal people use their skin to express psychological meaning.

He said "everyone to some extent uses his skin to supplement his conscious feeling," and cited these normal examples:

Disgust—blanching of the skin; Embarrassment — blushing; Excitement — dry skin; Fright—breaking out in a sweat; Dread—chills; Hidden Love—warmth.

Tornado Warnings, Rain Highlight April Weather

Two tornado scares highlighted area weather news throughout the month of April.

The month of April began with the usual April showers but by April 4 a series of tornadoes and destructive windstorms struck across 10 states killing at least 45 persons. Twenty-two of the reported dead were from Michigan. More than 300 were injured and 2,000 were left homeless.

It was Michigan's worst tornado since the disastrous June 8, 1953, twister that killed 130 in Flint.

Many Pontiac area residents got nervous jitters after hearing of the tornado that struck the Grand Rapids area. And when the Pontiac area was alerted on April 4 for a tornado until 12:30 a.m. the law enforcement agencies were kept busy by worried citizens.

But jitters were about all the Pontiac area residents got.

The following 15 days the Pontiac area was much calmer, with the usual April showers and a few cool days.

On the 15th, 16th, 17th and 22nd there were traces of snow in the Pontiac area.

April 26 the weather was again upset by tornado threats, but on the 27th the tornado threats turned into thundershowers. The all-clear in the second alert this month was sounded at 10 p.m.

A weekend siege of rain on April 27-29 caused thousands of dollars in damage throughout the county, as close to four inches of rain soaked the area. The rains poured into hundreds of basements and made many roads impassable.

The temperatures in Pontiac dropped sharply from a high April 27 of 75 degrees to a low of 43 degrees at 7:30 a.m. the 28th.

The weather statistics show that the average high temperature for the month of April was 55.9. The average low was 55.5.

Prejudice Retards Girl's Career

BY ANNE HEYWOOD

I had a great-aunt who died from racial and religious intolerance.

When she was quite old her tendency to be prejudiced had so engulfed her that she disliked and suspected everybody who wasn't Episcopal, of English background and Midwestern.

When she got sick, in the country, the only available doctor was Irish, Presbyterian and from New England.

She wouldn't call him and she died. They put "pneumonia" on the death certificate, but they should have put "prejudice."

OFFERED PROMOTION

A few months ago she was offered a job as secretary to one of the vice presidents at the same agency.

It meant more money and more prestige, but she turned it down because of the man's religion. Another girl took the job.

Last week, my friend learned that in spite of his "horrible" religion, this vice president is marvelous at promoting people, teaching them and giving them breaks.

The girl who took the job had a chance to write a good deal of copy under his auspices and last week was made a full-fledged copywriter.

Meantime, my friend is still a secretary. Had she been a little more tolerant, she would have the dream job—and its salary.

CONSIDER COST

The next time you find yourself engaging in intolerance, for no matter how seemingly good a reason pause and consider how very much it might cost you.

Remember, too, that prejudice is considerable proof of ignorance, really. The Latin meaning of the word is "to judge in advance." You wouldn't decide in advance whether a dress was becoming if you hadn't even seen it. Why decide in advance that a person is no good?

The best way to overcome a tendency to prejudice is to get out and meet lots of different kinds of people. It can be done, in any community in America.

If you keep an open mind you may learn a good deal from people of very different backgrounds from your own.

Shyness May Cause Girl's Unpopularity

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I think I am overweight but am not sure. I weigh 112 pounds and am 5 feet 1½ inches tall. My measurements are bust 32, waist 25 and hips 37 inches. The other girls are popular and I would like to be, too. When I am around boys with other girls they pay attention to the other girls. I hope you can help me. If you think I should lose weight please tell me how."

A. You certainly are not fat. Your weight is just perfect. Your hips are a little large. If you would like to take hip-reducing exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3 to me in care of The Pontiac Press.

There must be some other reason for not being popular. Perhaps you are shy and self-conscious. try to forget yourself and concentrate on others. Take a real interest in what they are saying and join in with the group.

Sometimes a shy person gets the reputation of being snobbish. Talk with others even if you are shy and soon you will no longer feel that way. Also be certain that you are well groomed.

Q. "I am 5 feet, 8½ inches tall.

To reduce bulge on thighs . . . keep your toes on the floor while you roll from side to side, slapping the thighs on the floor at the end of each roll.

I weigh 130 pounds, bust 36, waist 26, hips 39. My problem is a bulge on my upper thighs. Please tell me what to do about it."

A. Do exercises. This is a good one. Lie on the floor on your back. Bend your knees and place your feet on the floor fairly close to your hips. Lift your heels from the floor. Keep your toes on the floor while you roll from side to side, slapping the thighs on the floor at the end of each roll.

Q. "I would like to know how much I should weigh. I am 5 feet, 6 inches tall. I am 16 years old. Right now I weigh 116 pounds. My measurements are bust 33, waist 24, hips 35½ inches. I think I should weigh more but when I gain it all goes to my stomach. Please give me some exercises to keep my abdomen flat and make my hips larger."

A. You are about 10 pounds underweight and should gain. If you will do abdominal exercises while you gain I do not think you will have trouble with that measurement. Your hips would be out of proportion if they were any larger.

Do the following exercise: Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor at your sides. Bend both knees up close to your abdomen. Straighten the legs toward the ceiling. Slowly lower legs to floor. Continue.

Girl Asked for Bouquet She Caught

Flowers Reclaimed by Bride's Mother for Memento

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "At a recent wedding, the bride threw her bouquet and my 17-year-old daughter caught it. She was very excited over it

"Shortly afterwards, however, the mother of the bride came over to my daughter and asked her for the bouquet, saying that she wanted to press it for the bride so that she could keep it as a remembrance. My daughter gave up the bouquet of course, but very reluctantly.

"Wasn't the bride's mother wrong to ask my daughter to give up the bouquet? I always thought that the person who caught the bouquet was entitled to keep it. I would very much appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: The one who catches the bouquet is entitled to keep it if she wants to. Personally, I can't imagine anyone wanting to keep anything so perishable. If the bride wants a remembrance she should take a flower from the bouquet before throwing it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend and I have been invited to an afternoon wedding. This friend has a maid who is going to look after her young child while she is at the wedding.

"As I have no one to look after my young baby she suggested that I bring him over to her house and her maid would look after both children. I would like to know if it would be proper for me to tip the maid for doing this after we return from the wedding."

Answer: Although it is not necessary to give a tip on this occasion, I have rarely heard of anyone who is not pleased to receive it. For that matter, she might be disappointed if she doesn't.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know if it would be proper to send flowers to my fiance's mother on Mother's Day?"

Answer: Of course! That is, if you know her at all well and feel that she wants to look upon you as a daughter. For best advice consult her son.

Material Attitude Spoils Children

BY MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. R. is a divorced mother. Last week she and her 7-year-old son had Sunday dinner with her parents. Also invited were her sister and brother-in-law, who drove them to the party.

After dinner, Don got out of hand. He became so aggressive about the size of the candy his Grandma had given his cousin that she gave him the box to take home with him.

This angered his uncle. Calling Don a "spoiled brat," he turned on his sister-in-law, shouting, "The trouble is, you're scared to say 'No' to him. Instead of giving him to you, the judge should have given him to his father who'd know how to control him."

Mrs. R. left her relatives in tears, so depressed she didn't sleep all night.

I don't wonder. They had badly impoverished her. For though they had given her a delicious meal, comfortable automobile transportation, a box of expensive candy, they had denied her understanding and respect. And so made their material giving worthless.

If we have a "spoiled" child, we may need just this kind of experience to shock us out of our respect for material gifts. The respect for them is our problem.

We still imagine that they represent love-to-be-trusted and so can't deny them to the child. We can't say "No" to the candy, the late movie or loan of the car because we have still to question the worth of material favors to us.

Like Mrs. R., we may need an experience so harsh that our values suddenly shift—and on us dawns the new thought: "Why, of course! The things I most want from other people are not material but intangible ones — repspect, understanding, love. If this is true for me, it must be true for my child as well."

In a new book, "The Happy Child," Dr. Irene Josselyn of the Chicago Institute for Psychoanalysis says that the "spoiled" child's demand for material possessions is meaningless "except as the mask of a fundamental emotional vacuum."

To know this is true, we have to face the vacuum that lies behind our own expectation of material possessions.

Generations ago, when religious discipline kept reminding us that love of material things was the "root of all evil," we had fewer spoiled children. Nobody expected material things to make youngsters happy, so nobody felt guilt at having to deny them.

First Philathea Holds Meeting

Mrs. Ida Bryan of South Parke street was hostess to the First Philathea Class of First Baptist Church Tuesday evening. Florence Harcourt led hymn singing accompanied by Mrs. Howard Barnett.

Prayers were offered by Mrs. Joe Haviland and Mrs. William Dunkeld. Two solos were presented by Mrs. Herbert Glenn accompanied by Mrs. Barnett.

The message for the evening was given by Mrs. Orval Dunkeld, home on furlough from her missionary duties in South Rhodesia.

Pull up your easy chair to the television set tomorrow afternoon, mix up a traditional glass of mint julep and enjoy the 82nd running of one of the world's greatest classics of horse racing, the Kentucky Derby.

If you're sticking with the favorite, you'll put your money on Needles. If you want the strongest challenger put your wager across the board on Career Boy.

Rain is a possibility and for a slower field you could probably forget about Career Boy or Pintor Lea and try a risk on Come On Red and if you have any confidence in time trials you could pick Fabius.

Here's an interesting note in favor of Fabius. Prior to 1955 six of the seven previous runnings of the Derby were won by horses who were either first or second in the trials.

★ ★ ★ ★

In fact, in 1954 the first two horses in the trial Hasty Road and Determine were the first two in the Derby except in reverse order.

Last year Swaps won the Derby but he didn't run in the trial. So if you're going by the trials it's Fabius and Countermand.

From way up here in the Press Box with our telescope focused on the starting gate we see Head Man as a good possibility.

There are a lot of interesting records that go along with the Derby since Aristides won a net of $2,850 on May 17, 1875. This was quite a difference in net winnings compared to the record $108,400 won by Swaps last year.

Just like the Landys, Santees and Bannisters, the horses have picked up speed in recent years and one may come along someday with a two-minute victory.

Six of the eight fastest races for the mile and a quarter were run by horses since 1950. The record still belongs to Whirlaway whose winning time was 2:01 2/5.

★ ★ ★ ★

Every horse since 1950, Middleground, Count Turf, Hill Gail, Dark Star, Determine and Swaps, all had times of 2:03 or shorter. Only "oldtimer" with less than a 2:03 time outside of Whirlaway is Twenty Grand, the 1931 winner.

THE WINNERS:

73 colts, 7 geldings and one filly have won the Derby. (Only filly was Regret in 1915.)

BIRTHPLACE:

65 winners were Kentucky-foaled horses. Only winner not foaled in the U. S. was Omar Khayyam in 1917.

OWNERS:

TRAINERS:

JOCKEYS:

Eddie Arcaro rode five winners, and Isaac Murphy rode three winners.

MOST JOCKEY APPEARANCES:

DERBY FIELDS:

Largest field to start in Derby was 22 in 1928. Smallest fields were in 1892 and 1905 with three starters each.

So, there you have it. The Kentucky Derby in a nutshell.

Chiefs Favorites to Keep SVC Crown

By H. GUY MOATS

A confident, and very capable Pontiac High School track squad expected to depart early this afternoon for Saginaw to defend its 1955 Saginaw Valley Conference championship.

Wally Schloerke's flashing Chief thinclads are almost prohibitive favorites to retain the crown won on the same field a year ago. Pontiac's fine young athletes compiled a 69 and 7-10 total to completely overpower the field of five other Valley schools.

It may not be as easy this time. The manner in which Flint Northern's team forced Chiefs to come from behind in a dual meet here this week, may be a reflection of possible tough opposition this afternoon and tonight. PHS won the dual by a convincing margin, but only after a worrisome period that extended past the halfway mark.

In Monday's draw for heat positions, Chiefs placed Hayes Jones (high hurdles champion and co-holder of the SVC rfecord at 14.9) and Jimmy (Sonny) Taylor as heat leaders in both obstacle events.

Hayes has run the high sticks consistently all this spring, under the SVC mark, and with a good day may set a new one. He has hit 14.3 (in a dual at Flint), clipped 14.4 and 14.5 in others. He is also a fine possibility to set a new mark in the low barriers. He has been consistently under 20 seconds and set a new mark of 19.7 in the Mansfield relays.

Freeman Watkins is a heat leader in 100 and 220, Jimmy Shorter in one 440 race, and Bill Douglas in one of the two 880 races.

Jones, Douglas, high jumper, Hudson (Goose) Ray, quartermiler Charley Robinson, and the Chiefs' half mile and medley relay teams will defend titles won last spring.

Where Chiefs lack strength in field events (vault and shot) Jones has become a big point threat in the broad jump (he has hit better than 22 feet in several meets this spring). Perry Williams also has cut his mile time and is a favorite for this run.

Aragon Slashes Out Decision Over Carter

Trio in Lead of Texas Meet

Golfing Youngsters Tied With 69's Ahead of 3 Oldtimers

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Three of golf's rising young men—Dow Finsterwald, Paul Harney and Peter Thomson—led the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Tournament into its second round today but three members of the old guard were making threatening gestures.

Finsterwald, who plays out of Bedford Heights, Ohio; Harney, who comes from Bolton, Mass., and Thomson, the 26-year-old British Open champion from Melbourne, Australia, shot one-under-par 69's yesterday to take the first-round lead.

One stroke back were three noted shotmakers from Texas—Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson and Tommy Bolt.

All three of the leaders are 26 years old and Finsterwald and Thomson both have been consistent winners. Harney, less than two years on the PGA tour, has yet to take a major tournament. He did win the Egyptian match play championship last month, receiving $1,200 for it.

Skipper Thinclads Trim Walled Lake

Waterford's track team captured nine 1st places and seven runner-up spots to overpower Walled Lake, 73½-35½, in a dual meet Thursday at Walled Lake.

Gary Meeker led the Skippers with 12 points. Meeker won the pole vault, tied for 1st in the high jump, and took 2nd in the high hurdles. Stan Jones followed Meeker with 9¼ points.

Lose to Boston, 5-2

Tigers in Same Stage as '55

DETROIT (AP) — With 13 games gone in the 1956 American League pennant race the Detroit Tigers are a game out of last place. At the same stage a year ago they were tied for the lead.

The net difference is only three games. But the breaks the Tigers were hoping for so far haven't shown up.

Going into today's game with the Boston Red Sox the Tigers had won five and lost eight. In 1955 they won eight and lost five of their first 13 games and were in the midst of a seven-game winning streak that carried them to the top of the standings for a brief period.

One of the bad spots in last year's overall record was the Tigers' record here in Boston. They won only 3 of their 11 games here against the team they hoped to knock out of the first division.

Yesterday, Boston manager Pinky Higgins played the percentages to the hilt and threw his giant righthander, Frank Sullivan, against the Tigers. Sully tamed the Bengals four times without a setback a year ago and he picked up just where he left off.

Detroit managed only six hits and went down to a 5-2 deefat. The Tigers' only runs came on a homer by Earl Torgeson with Bill Tuttle on base in the 8th.

The Tigers staged just two other serious threats and both fizzled. In the second, when a big inning might have sent Sullivan to the showers, Harvey Kuenn opened with a single. Fleet-footed Jim Piersall managed to catch up with Ray Boone's long fly but Frank House singled and Charlie Maxwell walked on four pitches.

Up came young Reno Bertoia, who had collected three hits in New York the day before. But Reno slapped on the ground to rookie Frank Malzone at third and it was a simple maneuver for Malzone to touch third and toss to Norm Zauchin at first in time for a double play.

Then in the 9th with the Tigers trailing by three runs Jim Delsing pinch hit for Bertoia and drew a walk. Wayne Belardi, up for his fifth official time this season as a pinch hitter, delivered a single—his third hit.

But Sullivan bore down hard and Tuttle, a hitting star only the day before, struck out to end the game.

Four of Boston's five runs came on homers. Dick Gernert found the seats with a man aboard in the first against loser Duke Maas and Malzone hit his first major league home run with one on in the 7th when Maas was batted out. Al Aber finished up with a hitless relief performance.

Illini Lead as Big Ten Teams Swing Into Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four unbeaten Big Ten baseball teams, headed by Illinois with a 3-0 record, swing into action this weekend hoping for a break in the weather.

Illinois jumped into the conference lead last week with three victories over Purdue as inclement weather caused five postponements.

The Illini take on Minnesota (2-1) today and are home again for a doubleheader against Iowa Saturday.

Wisconsin (2-0) is host to Michigan State (0-1) today while Indiana (1-0) is at Ohio State (1-0). Michigan (0-1) battles at Northwestern and Iowa (0-2) is at Purdue (0-3).

Another three-game sweep could give Illinois a commanding lead but the Illini will have to get by Minnesota, rated a definite contender for the title held by Ohio State.

Illinois coach Lee Eilbracht will start Jim Bickhaus against Minnesota and Frank Schwartz and Dick Vorreyer against Iowa. Eilbracht's ace, however, is relief pitcher Bill Frentz.

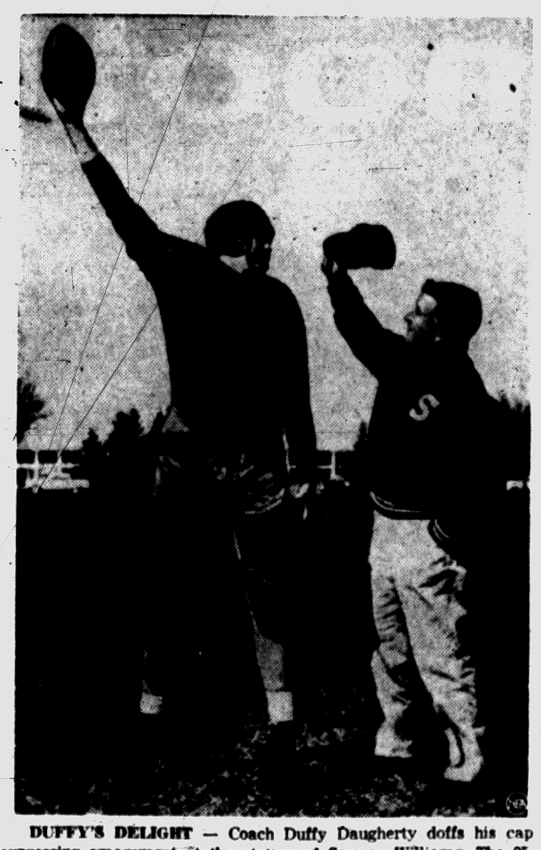

Frentz relieved and finished in all three Illinois games last week, retiring 17 straight batters before yielding a scratch single.

Wisconsin, hoping to go ahead or keep pace with Illinois, will toss John Aehl against Michigan State today. Aehl beat Iowa with a three-hitter Saturday.

Michigan, rated one of the stronger teams in the conference, will gun for its initial victory by working righthander Don Poloskey against Northwestern. The Wolves have Bill Thurston and southpaw Glenn Girardin ready for Wisconsin.

DUFFY'S DELIGHT — Coach Duffy Daugherty doffs his cap expressing amazement at the stature of Sammy Williams. The 25-year-old end working with the Michigan State squad in spring practice did not play college football, yet already has been drafted by the professional Los Angeles Rams. The young man from Dansville, Mich., played while in the service.

Birmingham, Clarkston, Oxford Nines Win

Birmingham sent 24 players into action, used four pitchers, and banged out a dozen hits while crushing East Detroit, 12-3, in an Eastern Michigan League baseball game Thursday at Birmingham. It was Birmingham's 2nd league victory.

Captain Bill Deer led the Maple assault with four hits in four trips to the plate. Don Pieman started on the mound for the Maples and worked four innings to get credit for the win. Dick Cloonan, Fred Bleakley and freshman John Dixon each hurled one inning after Pieman's departure.

Clarkston's battery was too much for West Bloomfield as the Wolves downed the Lakers, 3-0, in a Wayne-Oakland League tussle at Clarkston.

The pitching-catching combination of Leroy Parks and Gary Nelson contrived to toss a three-hit shutout. Parks hurled the 1st three innings, then the pair exchanged positions and Nelson blanked the Lakers the rest of the way.

Chuck Passage collected two safeties in three times at bat for the Wolves, who tallied once in the 2nd and twice in the 3rd. Clarkston's runs were unearned as the Lakers committed five errors. Clarkston's loop record now reads 3-2.

Oxford collected nine hits to trounce North Branch, 11-1, in a night game at North Branch. The Wildcats wrapped up the decision in the 4th inning with a six-run outburst.

Don Atwood pitched for Oxford and permitted only one hit, a single in the 4th stanza. Atwood struck out 14.

Cranbrook posted its 3rd victory in eight starts with a convincing 10-4 decision over Dearborn. Southpaw Bruce Richards hurled the route for the Cranes and fanned eight while yielding five hits.

George Gary drove in three runs with a pair of singles and Bob Pearson accounted for two more with a triple and single to spark Cranbrook's seven-hit attack. Chuck Grube and Dave Cooper each rapped out a triple.

Romeo trimmed Lapeer, 7-4, for its 8th win in nine games, and Clarenceville nipped Milford, 2-1, in a Wayne-Oakland tilt. A triple in the final stanza handed Frankenmuth a 2-1 verdict over Ortonville.

Comeback Question

Rocky Leaves Way Open

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) — Did Rocky Marciano leave the door slightly ajar for a possible return to the ring in the midst of the home town fanfare for his retirement from the heavyweight championship?

Some of the huge throng who listened to Brockton's favorite son speak at the fair grounds yesterday after a 200-car motorcade had traveled a 5½-mile parade route pondered the question.

"I'm happy the way everything has worked out," Rocky told his listeners. "My family is happy and everybody in Brockton is happy. My plans don't call for a comeback.

"But of course, I can't see too deep into the future. That will come later.

"I'm going to give it a good try. I'm going to do my best to stick with it, although I know the urge will be there to try it again."

Rocky got some newsmen curious at a press conference, too, when he said:

"Should I return, I would want Al Weill as my manager."

Weill, of course, has managed Rocky through much of his 49-bout professional career in which Marciano became the only heavyweight in history to go undefeated.

Georgia Tech Ace Leads Collegians

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Tommy Mathews, tall Georgia Tech junior who wasn't good enough to represent his team in a dual meet two weeks ago, led the 144-player field with a four-under-par 68 going into today's second round of the 72-hole Southern Intercollegiate Golf Tournament.

One stroke behind Mathews was Earl Bowden of the University of Georgia, another junior who wasn't expected to do much. Dave Ragan, steady entry from Florida, posted a 70 for third place.

Then came Jim Hiskey of the University of Houston, Dick Doetsch of Georgia, and Lewis Culley of the University of Mississippi with 71s.

Positions Drawn for 82nd Derby Classic

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The winner of the 82nd and richest Kentucky Derby could be decided tomorrow in the first quarter mile when the field of 3-year-olds battle for racing room in the early stages of the mile and one-quarter classic at Churchill Downs.

Not one of the favorites among the 18 entered yesterday fared well in the draw for positions—an important factor when a field of such size is battling for so much money and the prestige that goes with winning the Derby.

Needles, the 2-1 favorite from the Florida D&H Stable, drew the No. 1 post position on the rail. For a speed horse that would be ideal. But the son of Ponder, like his daddy, prefers to drop back in the first part of a race, then storm from behind in the home stretch.

C. V. Whitney's Career Boy, who with Head Man, is quoted at 4-1, is the same type of a runner. He drew No. 2. Head Man, who likes to race closer to the early pace, came out much better. He'll start from No. 5, generally considered one of the better post positions.

Countermand, the 8-1 choice from Don Ross' Brandywine Stable of Delaware who moved into the favorite group with his great stretch finish back of Fabius in the Derby Trial Tuesday, is on the end of the starting gate in the 18th stall. Again this wouldn't be too bad for even a stretch runner like the son of Greek Song.

But Countermand has shown a tendency to bear out and it'll take all of jockey Arnold Kirkman's horsemanship to keep him in contention during the first part of the race so he'll be in position to move when Needles and Career Boy cut loose—that is if they do.

It could well be that the two most talked about horses might go out of the gate last in an effort to escape getting caught in a jam and thus lose some of the sting from their late bids.

Only Fabius, who along with Pintor Lea is seeking a sixth Derby triumph for Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm, came out of the post position draw with the best break of the choices. He drew No. 13.

Pintor Lea, who drew No. 4, could be the surprise of the race if he has recovered sufficiently from a wrenched knee that retarded his training. Trainer Jimmy Jones said no decision will be made on the son of Goya II until the last minute. But if he is ready the Calumet pair could be dangerous at 3-1 with Fabius running with the early leaders or setting the pace and Pintor Lea saving his kick from the home stretch. Willie Hartack has his choice of the pair and Bobby Baird probably will ride the other.

The weatherman, who 24 hours ago figured to play an important role in the race stepped to the background today. It looks like the 100,000 or so fans and the horses, at least those who prefer a fast track, will get a break for the race starting at 4:30 p.m. (EST). Television and radio time is 4:15 to 4:45 by CBS. The prospects are for fair and cool weather.

Although 18 were named, there is a possibility that no more than 17 will start since T. A. Grissom's Reaping Right injured a leg in a workout shortly after the Detroit owner planked down the $250 entry fee. On the basis of 17 starters the race will gross $167,550 with a net of $123,450 to the winner. Both will be record figures.

From out of the stable area came reports that Mrs. Helen Kellogg's Come On Red, a confirmed mudder, would not start if the racing strip is fast. That would reduce the gross and net by $1,250—the amount that must be paid to get your horse in the post parade.

Weather Discourages Trout

By JACK PATTERSON
Pontiac Press Outdoors Writer

MUNISING — Thursday was as misspent a day as we've put in for some time. Weather was the viper in the wood pile. Crossed the Straits in the morning in weather worse than some we've seen off the Aleutians in Dcember. The rain we mentioned yesterday stopped. The warm weather

PATTERSON

Moved along the south shore for a look into rainbow activities. Streams emptying into Lake Michigan have never, to our mind, compared with north shore streams, but some good fish come out of them from time to time.

This time, however, very little was doing in the way of rainbows, big or little.

Oh, there are reports of local heroes who have taken some nice ones in the last day or so, but if our suspicions are correct the big ones were tagged in the gazooker with a four-tined wet fly. It would not be the 1st time that such things have come to our attention.

Along about Rapid River it began to rain again. Trout fishing falls off in the western U. P. so there seemed little point in pursuing a westward course. Another factor that may or may not have influenced us is that western u. p. eating spots are not of Guide Michelin caliber.

Yesterday's hot peppers are still very much alive today, if you follow us.

Along the Lake Superior shore it was a little warmer. Oddly enough, the fishing, however, is as cool as elsewhere. Monday, the one warm day this week, saw some pretty fair activity on streams along the north shore. Not much has happened since.

U. P. streams are generally rather high and more than a little dark. If our guess is worth anything, mid-May will be about the earliest that real stream fishing can be looked for.

that even the sea lampreys have not yet started running in the streams hereabouts. Rainbow runs are in pretty much the same shape. Plenty of fish off shore but low stream temperatures discourage upstream travel.

OUT OF DERBY — Reaping Right, the well-regarded candidate for tomorrow's Kentucky Derby was scratched from the list yesterday when he suffered an injured leg in a workout shortly after Detroit owner T. A. Grissom entered him. Another Grissom horse, Invalidate, is on the list of 17 hopeful candidates.

Chief Linksmen Win Close One

Catch Vikings 'Cold' on Tricky FCC Course for 8½-6½ Victory

According to Coach Johnny Maturo, his Pontiac High School golf team was just "lucky" yesterday afternoon at Flint Country Club. Chiefs' club swingers managed to edge Flint Northern 8½-6½ in one of the toughest matches of the season. Victory gives Pontiac a 2-1 SVC mark and a 3-2 season's record. "We weren't so good—Northern had a bad day," Maturo explained.

Medalist Tom Bunsie shut out PHS ace Tom Gross with his 40-39—79 round to 42-41—83 for Gross. Dick Singleton also was blanked, by John Martine with 43-44—87 to 47-46—93.

Two Chiefs returned the compliment, as Sammy Coleman zeroed Mike Goode and Dick Whitmer blanked Jim Newell. Nick Shorter won from George Loeffler, 2½ to one-half point. Coleman had 45-40—85, Goode 48-45 — 93, Whitmer 47-48 — 95, Newell 50-52—102, Shorter 55-53—108, and Loeffler 58-52—110.

Softball Sponsor Needed

An organized softball team needs a sponsoring organization in order to play in the Waterford Township Recreation League this season. Anyone interested in sponsoring this team contact Carl Lyon at ORlando 3-4861.

Maple Thinclads Remain Unbeaten in 18 Duals

Still unbeaten after 18 straight dual track meets since 1953, Birmingham continued its winning ways yesterday by trouncing the Southfield Thinclads 83⅓ to 25⅔ at Pierce field.

Double winners for the Maples were Joe Kidwell in both the high and low hurdles and Frank Michaelson in the 100 and 220 dashes.

Chuck Gibson and Doub O'Camb each tossed the shot put, over 48 feet to nail down 1-2 positions in this event.

Tim Sellner won the broad jump with a jump of 19¾ and Wayne Geggie took the pole vault at 9 feet 6 inches.

Southfield managed only two firsts in the meet. The Jay half mile relay team of Jim Blackburn, Bob Zurla, Fred Rankin and Ed Foster won when the Maples dropped the baton. The other win was in the 440 by Jay Mike Larson.

Doug Wuggazer who has not been beaten in dual competition for Birmingham took the mile in 4:46.4.

Secrets of Better Golf

By Patty Berg

16th of a Series

Sand traps present one of the most frightening shots to the average golfer. From this point, the high handicaper is sure he is going to bogey the hole or that the results will be even more disastrous.

I feel most sand trap problems of the average player are a result of lack of confidence. Learn the fundamentals of the shot and you will soon feel confident of recovering from the sand trap.

Use a sand iron or wedge. As you look over your shot from the trap, size up any obstacles that are between you and the hole, you must loft the ball in order to clear the bunker.

In most cases, one of the safest ways to recover from a trap is to explode the ball.

Place your feet firmly in the texture of the sand and also gain a firm footing. Your stance will be open, and your feet will be farther apart than with a chip or pitch shot. The important thing is to have a firm stance so you will not slip during your swing.

Play the ball about the center of your stance. Aim to the left of the hole. Your shoulders also will be open and facing the green. From this position you can get a clearer view of your target.

Do not sole your club in the sand, for it will cost you a penalty. Aim your clubhead about an inch behind the ball.

The next important point in addressing your sand trap shot is to open the blade of your club. Then you will be able to cut the ball up and out of the trap.

Yankees, White Sox Lose But Still Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Is this the year Jim Lemon, a Minor League whiz and Major League bust for six years, finally is going to make it in the big time?

Big Jim, a 6 feet 4, 200 pounder, always hit well in the pre-season training camps, and sometimes his slugging event continued as the teams started their homeward swings. Once the season started, however, Jim generally stopped hitting. First Cleveland and then Washington sadly shipped him back to the minors.

But this is a new year for Lemon, one of the most surprising of the startling Washington Senators. He is bruising the ball at a .381 clip, fifth best in the league, and stands third in runs-batted-in with 13.

Manager Marty Marion of the Chicago White Sox apparently thought it was the "old" Jim Lemon his team was meeting last night. Marty ordered Roy Sievers passed with a two-on, first-base-open situation in the seventh inning of a 4-4 tie game.

What happened? Lemon blasted a home run which carried an estimated 475 feet into Griffith Stadium's distant left field bleachers and also knocked the White Sox right out of first place in the American League.

The 7-4 defeat suffered by Chicago enabled the New York Yankees to take over first, even though the New Yorkers themselves dropped an 8-7 decision to Kansas City. The Yanks had been ahead on games won and lost right along, but Chicago previously had enjoyed a better percentage because of playing fewer games.

Cleveland, which whipped Baltimore 7-1 behind Mike Garcia's 6-hit pitching, still trails Chicago in percentage, although ahead in games won and lost.

Two streaks were halted as the National League race developed a tremendous traffic jam with six teams bunched within one game of each other.

Brooklyn's defending world champions looked like the runaway team of 1955 as they bombed the St. Louis Cardinals 7-3 for their first victory in five starts, while Pittsburgh's Bob Friend ended a 6-game victory string for Cincinnati as he pitched the Pirates to a 5-hit, 5-1 victory. The New York Giants game at Milwaukee was rained out, and both Philadelphia and Chicago had an open date.

Enos Slaughter, a Yankee discard, tormented his old mates as he doubled and scored the winning run for Kansas City in the 9th inning.

What made it worse for the Yanks was that they had battled back from a 7-2 deficit earlier on home runs by Mickey Mantle, Hank Bauer and Yogi Berra. But they could do nothing with relief pitcher Ed Burtschy, who allowed just one hit in the last 4⅓ innings.

Jim Busby and Al Rosen drove in three runs apiece in helping Garcia gain his first victory. Busby got his with a home run, double and single, while Rosen did it with a solitary single. The blow came with two out, the bases loaded and a 3-2 count in the first inning.

Chestnut Underdog in Bout With Hamia

The nationally televised (NBC) bout from Capitol Arena gives Chestnut his first go at a top-flight main event. He's at best a 1-3 underdog to the baby-faced Hamia, third-ranking contender for Sandy Saddler's featherweight (120-pound) crown.

Bald Mountain Host for WMGA Opener

First full day of golf for the Metropolitan Golf Association's feminine contingent will be next Wednesday. The WMGA tried to get its 1956 campaign under way yesterday at Maple Lane, but was washed out after only nine holes of play.

Bald Mountain club will be host for next Wednesday's round, with about 100 of the area's best fee-course feminine shotmakers expected to play.

Mile Run on TV

7 Compete Against Landy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Seven runners, headed by world record holder John Landy, compete in a classic mile race in Memorial Coliseum and before a national television audience tomorrow, with the Aussie champ bent on demonstrating to American fans how a 4-minute or better mile is run.

Landy is the star of the afternoon. His specialty is set for 2:52 p.m. (PDT). But local interest centers also on a dual Pacific Coast Conference battle between two crosstown rivals, Southern California's national champion Trojan track and field team and the challenging Bruins of UCLA.

This could be for the mythical dual meet championship of the nation and UCLA is hoping to do something it never has done before—defeat the Trojans. The prospects are better than usual but probably not good enough.

Landy, the 26-year-old schoolteacher from Melbourne, set the world mark of 3:58.0 at Turku, Finland, in 1954, and four times has shaded the once invincible 4-minute standard.

Twice this year in Australia he has done 3:58.6. If all things are in order, he figures to be the first to get below 4 minutes on American soil.

With Los Angeles blacked out, tomorrow's spectacle will be televised by CBS from 2:45 to 3 p.m. (PDT).

Arrayed against him will be Lon Spurrier, the half-mile world record holder, who should burn the track for at least three quarters of a mile.

Ron Delany, the Dublin Irishman from Villanova, unbeaten this year and holder of a best time of 4:04.9.

Jim Bailey, from Sidney, Australia, now a student at the University of Oregon and the 1955 national college champion, with a best time of 4:05.6 last year and 4:10 this spring.

Bill Dellinger, another Oregon University miler, the 1954 NCAA champion, from Springfield, Ore., with a best of 4:04.6.

Lands 3-Pound Trout

Fishing alone on Union Lake Wednesday afternoon, Gregory Stevens, PHS student, landed a nice fat rainbow trout. The fish, taken on a night-crawler rig, was 19 inches long and weighed three pounds, Stevens reported.

• • •

Stevens says he saw a number of other trout in the same spot, one which was a "real big one." Union lake is one of the many county waters stocked by the Conservation Department. Gregory is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Stevens, 65 Elinor avenue.

St. Mikes Beat Bens, 5-4; Rams Lose, 9-3

St. Michael finally won a baseball game Thursday afternoon, but over on the south side of town St. Frederick is still swallowing the pills of defeat.

A three-run rally in the 5th inning enabled the Shamrocks to nose out St. Benedict, 5-4, in a Suburban Catholic League game at Highland Park. It was the 1st victory of the 1956 season for St. Mike.

Royal Oak St. Mary, making a strong bid for the SCL title, bombarded Bob Ashby and Dick Doyon for a dozen hits to chalk up an easy 9-3 triumph at Royal Oak.

Trailing by a 3-2 margin entering the 5th frame, the Mikes ended their four-game losing skein with a base on balls and four hits off starting pitcher Art Clark. The Mikes collected six hits in all with Ken Rogers and Dan Dropps each making two.

Bill Hall started on the mound for the Shamrocks, but gave way to Joe Schultz after pitching only one-third of an inning as the Ravens tallied three times at the start. Schultz shackled St. Ben the rest of the way and received credit for the win.

Dave Lequier, a 15-year-old freshman, hurled a two-hitter and Phil Brzezinski banged out a pair of triples to feature Royal Oak's drubbing of the Rams. The Irish wrapped up the decision early, scoring four runs in the 1st inning and two in the 2nd.

St. James tallied only one earned run, but still managed to defeat Orchard Lake St. Mary, 5-2, in an SCL contest at Ferndale. It was the 3rd setback in four starts for the Eaglets.

The Eaglets outhit the Dales, 5 to 3, but three unearned counters in the 4th inning proved fatal. St. Mary's Paul Franckowiak and Bob MacDonald of St. James both went the distance on the hill.

Aged Virginian Prizes Mementos of 1st Derby

To 77-year-old Richard A. McGrath Jr., a retired trapshooter, the Kentucky Derby is more than America's most famous horse race. "It's like life itself," he says.

McGrath, a native Kentuckian, comes by his love for horses naturally. His great uncle, the late H. Price McGrath, Kentucky and New York bookmaker, owned the chestnut Aristides, winner of the now-celebrated first Kentucky Derby May 17, 1875.

Since Price McGrath, a bachelor, had no children, other relatives shared in his estate. Richard McGrath has among his cherished possessions what are believed to be the only authentic paintings of Aristides and Calvin, winner of the 1875 Belmont Stakes, and a beautiful, heavy gold stopwatch Price McGrath held in his hands at the finish line to clock the winning time of his outstanding thoroughbred. Aristides' time was 2:37¾ over a fast 1½-mile track. The race was shortened to a mile and a quarter in 1896.

Shy Southerner Gets Top Role

Wanda Sanches Ousts Veteran to Gain Semi-Final at Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Shy Wanda Sanches of Baton Rouge, La., today stepped into the role of favorite to win the 41st Southern Women's Amateur golf tournament.

Miss Sanches, competing in the tourney for the 1st time, was deadly with her long shots against Mrs. Byrd. She putted for a birdie on eight of the 12 holes and carded eight pars.

Her semifinal match today with Mrs. Maurice Glick was her 1st against the Baltimore ace, who advanced by edging long-time star Dorothy Kirby on the 20th hole, 1 up. Mrs. Glick sank a 25-foot putt on the 394-yarder for a par 4 that won the long battle over the 6,312-yard, par 74 Cascades course.

Mary Patton Janseen of Charlottesville, Va., and Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore clashed in the other semifinals get-together.

Delay Is Indicated for IBC Case Ruling

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan indicated today he might not hand down a decision on the government's antitrust suit against the International Boxing Club, Madison Square Garden and two big IBC officials until late summer.

The defendants were charged with conspiring to monopolize championship boxing contests through the use of exclusive contracts with fighters and managers and through interlocking directorships as well as television control.

Arcaro, 40, Seeks 6th Win as King of Derby's Riders

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Life began at 40 this year for the king of Kentucky Derby jockeys, Eddie Arcaro. But he started his spectacular string with a victory aboard Lawrin just 18 years ago.

Four of the riders with mounts in the 82nd Derby tomorrow have brought their colts back to the horseshoe of red roses amid the cheers of a massed mob of some 100,000. Arcaro, now 40 years old, has done it five times, and will try for No. 6 with Head Man.

The others are Eric Guerin, who won with Jet Pilot in 1947 and defeated Arcaro and Phalanx by a head; Steve Brooks, 1949 winner with Ponder; and Willie Shoemaker, who scored last May as Swaps finished first and Arcaro and Nashua had to settle for the second spot.

Guerin rode the great Native Dancer in 1953, but the big grey suffered the only defeat of his brilliant career when Dark Star won a head decision. This time Eric, the Louisana Bayou booter, is teamed with Arcaro, and rides Career Boy, coupled with Head Man as the C. V. Whitney entry.

"If there is anything like riding your first Derby winner, it's your fifth," Arcaro shouted gleefully as he entered the winner's circle with Hill Gail in 1952—his last taste of the roses. As Hill Gail trotted triumphantly back to the charmed circle, the Cincinnati-born jockey stood up in his stirrups and waved his cap gaily at the thundering crowd.

Arcaro has ridden in 16 Derbies, a record, and in addition to Lawrin and Hill Gail, won the classic with Whirlaway (1941), Hoop Jr. (1945), and Citation (1948).

This will be the fifth Derby for Shoemaker, who was fifth with Count Flame in 1952, and third on Invigorator in 1953. Shoemaker, the 25-year-old native of El Paso, Tex., finished sixth in 1954 with the favored Correlation after a rough trip.

Lions' Coaches Attend Clinic, Watch Spartans

EAST LANSING (INS)—A group of Detroit Lions coaches and club officials were in East Lansing today attending the coaching clinic at Michigan State University.

Coaches Buster Ramsey and Ed Cochran, together with general manager Nick Kerbawy and publicity director Bud Erickson will also watch tomorrow's final spring football game.

The Lions' group is one of several touring various universities throughout the country. The policy of the Lions in the past few years has been to send coaches to colleges for a look at the latest coaching methods.

Frozen Trout Fishermen Revive Dispute of Opening Date

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's trout fishermen had a cold, wet run-in with the weather last weekend and the meeting revived an old dispute over the opening date for the trout season.

Many an angler, cooped up in an office or factory all winter, is all in favor of opening the season as soon as he can get around the countryside without snowshoes.

But is the present opening (the last Saturday in April) biologically sound?

Fish experts in the State Conservation Department favor opening the season two weeks later, sometime around the middle of May.

"The best argument for this is that trout appear to put on most of their growth between mid-April and mid-June. And an opening two weeks later in this period can make a lot of difference in their size," says Dr. Justin W. Leonard, chief of research for the department.

A study by the department's institute for fisheries research at Ann Arbor showed that postponing the opener until the second Saturday in May would find catches about .7 of an inch longer and 60 per cent heavier.

Here's what a report on the study says:

"Since the natural crop is limited and since trout planted in lakes should also be taken while in good condition the opening of the general trout season should be the second Saturday in May.

"Also, since the brook trout (and presumably brown trout) fall off in condition rapidly in late summer, consideration should be given to cutting off the last week of the present general trout season."

Here's what L. R. Anderson, Newberry district fisheries supervisor, had to say about the opener:

"The scene witnessed on Youngstown Lake was serious. I would estimate that over half of the fish population was removed the opening day. Unless kept under complete control, the people would either waste or make complete gluttons of themselves.

"Actually, the trout swam out onto the ice after the bait. We might as well allow the fishermen a limit catch from the hatchery pond and save the cost of planting.

"It is funny the few sportsmen that go fishing wouldn't be clamoring for better management. We could give it to them with a later opening date. Scenes like this are duplicated on other lakes—I have seen it before."

"Actually," Anderson said, "the only good part of the opening is the fact that a lot of people get out in the fresh air after being pent up all winter."

The pay-off is in the payload! New Ford T-800 tandem-axle model lets you carry up to 3,000 lbs. more payload than most other 6-wheelers. GCW 65,000 lbs.

More loadspace than any other ½-ton pickup —up to 19 cu. ft. more! New Ford F-100, GVW 5,000 lbs., now offers full 8-ft. box. 6½-ft. box is standard.

Ford costs start low— Ford costs stay low...

Certified studies show Ford Trucks last longer than any of the other four leading makes

Compare Ford model for model with any other truck line and you'll find that, based on factory-suggested list prices, Ford has more models priced under competition than any other line.

But low initial cost is only one of the reasons why Fords cost less. Take resale value—it stays high, thanks to the demand for used Ford Trucks. Take operating costs—no other trucks give you the dependability of Ford's rugged chassis design with the gas and oil economy of a modern Short Stroke engine. Only Ford gives you a Short Stroke engine, V-8 or Six, in every truck—and at no extra cost.

Ford Trucks cost less to maintain because they last longer. This is a fact certified by independent life insurance experts. There are plenty of reasons why. Ford Pickups, for example, have the highest combined front and rear axle capacity in the half-ton field. Ford Heavy Duty engines have sodium-cooled valves that last up to five times longer because they run up to 225 degrees cooler.

When you take everything into consideration, you'll agree it costs less to own a FORD Truck. Before you buy any truck, see your Ford Dealer.

Forester Gives Advice on Evergreen Planting

BY DONALD E. NAGEL
City Forester

Spring is evergreen planting time. But before starting to plant, consider the growing habits and future size of the plant. There are hundreds of varieties of evergreens. Some creep and others reach a height of 100 feet.

When people speak of evergreens it is commonly thought that the reference is to pines, spruces, taxus, juniper, etc. However, there are many other plants that are evergreen and will keep their leaves all winter.

Such plants include pachistima canbyi, evergreen bittersweet, evergreen honeysuckle, holly, creeping evergreen myrtle, and of course the beautiful live oaks of the South. Unfortunately, the state of Michigan is too far north to plant the live or evergreen oak.

In planting evergreens such as pines, spruces, taxus, and juniper, the most improtant thing to remembes is that the plant must be dug with a ball of earth and wrapped in burlap. This is necessary because drying out of the roots of evergreens is fatal. A large enough hole should be dug and, the ball still wrapped in burlap, should be planted about the same depth as it grew in the nursery.

After the trees is in the hole, some dirt should be thrown in the hole around the ball. The burlap should be loosened from the top of the ball and pushed into the hole. The ball and the loose soil should be thoroughly watered.

After transplanting, the tree should be sprayed with water twice a day for a few days. This helps to check the rapid loss of moisture from the plant. It is not necessary to water the soil around the tree too frequently, unless the ball of soil was very dry when planted, but the spraying of the foliage is very improtant.

Insects most commonly found on evergreens are aphids, red spiders, mites, tip weevils, scale and saw flys. Aphids and mites will usually cause a browning of the evergreens, although browning in the spring may be due to winter burn.

Control of aphids and mites is by the use of Aramite, Dimite, Ovotran, or Malathion. These new chemicals are also low in toxicity to humans and pets. Tip weeviling is characterized by the tip of the tree bent over or distorted. Control measures is a spring application of three per cent DDT emulsion.

Saw fly damage on pine trees can be controled by the application of chlordane or DDT. The saw fly larvae can be observed feeding on the needles.

There are several types of scale that infect evergreens. They are juniper scale, pine needle scale, hemlock scale and euonymus scale. Scales can be controlled by an application of a dormant strength miscible oil or a dormant lime-sulphur.

During the summer a summer white-oil emulsion or a summer strength lime-sulphur may be used. There are two common types of scale found on spruce. They are the Eastern spruce gall aphid and Cooleys spruce gall aphid.

Treatment is by an application of a 40 per cent Nicotine Sulphate solution. Pprethrum and derris compounds are good as well as dormant spray oil.

It should be clearly kept in mind that most of the chemical sprays recommended are poisonous. Therefore, the recommendations of the manufacturers should be followed to the letter.

From the Garden Editor

It's nice that a few of the hardier spring flowers are defying climatic conditions and blooming anyway. The bright dashes of color liven up even the dreariest of days and make you feel at least semi-cheerful.

Your peonies will benefit from an application of liquid manure or easily converted chemical fertilizer as they move toward bloom.

Put calendars on the wall of the garage or tool shed to keep records of insecticide and weed spraying and what you planted when.

Lyle Abel, county agricultural agent says it's time to feed shrubs and perennials. One tablespoon of good, complete fertilizer such as 12 12-12 analysis should do the trick for roses, chrysanthemums and peonies. Put it in a ring about six inches around the plant and work into the soil.

Keep newly planted material thoroughly watered until it has become established. Reduce weeding by applying mulches where possible. Peat moss is good and so are extra grass clippings when mowing time comes.

In the next 10 days sow semi-hardy annual flowers and ge poppy, calendula, candy tuft, basket flower, cleome, gaillardia, mignonette, phlox drummondi, salvia, scabiosa and stock. The vegetables are snap beans and sweet corn, but watch the weather.

When buying new trees or shrubs, spend extra money for specimens which are balled and burlapped. They generally are more satisfactory.

Weather doesn't always oblige the weekend gardener. When possible, transplant on a dull, overcast —even rainy—day. If you can't provide shade and plenty of water for the transplants.

Tree Disease Stems From Lack of Iron

In many localities, chlorosis of trees, detected by yellowing of leaves between the veins, may be caused by lack of iron, according to the National Arborist Association. Best treatment is to call in a tree expert to apply chelated iron.

Iron generally is present in the soil except under certain conditions. Especially in very alkaline soils, the iron may be unavailable for growth.

Chelated iron used at the rate of a pound for each four inches of trunk diameter of tree, applied to the root area in solution by means of a sprayer and a soil "spear," is effective. The treatment is effective for several years or more.

Greener Vegetables Mean More Vitamins

In general, the greener the vegetable, the richer it is in vitamins and minerals. Deep green leaves may carry several times as much of some nutrients as green stalks, green pods of green immature seeds.

That's why nutritionists stress use of "leafy greens."

Month of May Brings Spring

City Parks Supervisor Urges Residents to See Wild Flowers

By WILLIAM AHO
Parks Supervisor
Parks and Recreation Department

April, 1956 is past history and lovers of spring beauty have welcomed the true month of spring . . . May.

* * *

This time of year gives us an opportunity to observe the wonderful color that nature gives us. This year our spring season is late and we'll have to wait a while for nature's spring flowers and shrubs to come out.

When they do, I would suggest a drive through the country to see nature at her best.

Some of the wild flowers that may be seen in this area in the woods are the wild geraniums, field daisy, Solomon seals, dog-tooth violet, Mayapple, bloodroot, and trailing arbutus. The latter is quite scarce because of careless picking.

In open field and along roadsides you can observe clover, yarrow, blazing stars and violets. Chicory is especially common here in Pontiac in vacant lots.

Along lakeshores, rivers and marshy lands, you can see March marigolds, pickerelweed, arrowheads, water lilies and toothworth. There are too many varieties of wild flowers to mention here. Wild flowers don't make good cut flowers don't make good cut flowers so leave them in their natural setting for others to enjoy.

Nature has given us flowering shrubs to enjoy along with the flower. The dogwood is especially beautiful when in bloom on woodland hillsides. The service berry, chokecherry, elderberry and wild thornapple may be seen along roadsides and wooded sections.

The firs, spruces and pines will be putting out their new spring growth shortly, which certainly adds to nature's landscapes.

With all this natural beauty around us, we should enjoy it more. It's a good idea to take colored pictures to the woodland beauty when you do take the drive in the country.

'Orchid' Cactus Blooms

Mrs. Percy Merritt of 1036 Seyburn, has a beauty on her hands but doesn't know the name of it.

Her large cactus plant has nine saucer-sized blooms which appeared this week. The blooms are of a deep orange. The center is white and feathery looking topped with a dash of lavender. The flower measures about five or six inches in diameter when fully opened.

Mrs. Merritt says she started the plant from one she found in New York State in 1941. The plant has had blooms before, but never quite so many, she said.

Mrs. Merritt, a nurse at the Tuberculosis Sanatorium, has quite a hobby with her house plants.

Another cactus, a large Christmas cactus, has bloomed twice within the last year. Her gardenia plant (one hard to maintain over the years) has many buds ready to open.

* * *

"I'd really like to know what the name of this particular cactus is," Mrs. Merritt said. "We've heard it called Orchid Cactus but don't know if that's the real name."

Be Careful Setting Out Tender Seedlings

Don't try to hurry the season by setting out tender seedlings while there is still a chance for a killing frost.

Many gardeners wait a couple of weeks after the date considered safe in the area and maintain that the delay makes no difference as to ultimate bloom or harvest.

Garden Tools Basic Expense

Beginner's Kit Costs Little, but Is Necessity for Proper Care

Garden tools are an inevitable expense to any homeowner, whether he has caught the gardening virus or not. He needs them just to keep the place from looking abandoned. What they cost may come as a surprise.

The basic garden-tool outfit is primarily a beginner's kit. With a lawn, a few shrubs and some flower beds to care for, a man can make do with these tools alone. But he needs them all.

He would buy a 16-inch hand mower, 50-foot plastic hose, adjustable brass nozzle, ring sprinkler, pruning shears, steel rake, D-grip spade, steel leaf broom, hand trowel, hand cultivator, garden cart, weed digger, and grass shears. The cost? About $54.

As your gardening skills grow, inciting new and professional ambitions, you'll find the need of fancier equipment. Included in an all-round outfit would be some items from your basic kit.

You'll also need a 31-inch rotary power mower, 1 gallon gasoline filler can, 50-foot soaker hose, back-and-fourth sprinkler, house-mount hose reel, electric hedge trimmer, grass whip, electric edge trimmer, pruning saw, pole pruner, long-handled shovel, hoe, wheelbarrow, lawn roller, spreader, lawn sweeper, 3-spike aerator, 3½ gallong tank sprayer, cultivator, digging fork.

No true devotee of garden grubbing would call it fancy—but it runs to $300.

Good-quality tools, if used with reasonable care and kept clean and rust-free, will last indefinitely. In the long run they will prove more economical than lower-priced tools. The difference in durability is tremendous.

Do Summer Pruning, Says Cherry Grower

An Eau Claire sour cherry grower sees no reason why summer pruning of the trees can't replace the traditional winter activity. Forrest Steimle has been summer pruning sour cherries for 10 years without adverse effects.

Steimle cautions, however that there is slight tendency to overprune trees in foliage especially by inexperienced workers.

If grass flatly refuses to gow in some shady corners, given up trying to coax it and fill the space with ground covers like pachysandra, myrtle and ivy.

Follow Instructions

Many plants and rootstocks shipped by mail are treated protectively so they do not dry out and die.

Read carefully all instruction material supplied and follow directions carefully. If bare-rooted material arrives and cannot be planted for several days, it should be placed in water or heeled into the ground until it can be set in permanent positon.

Do preserve wooden stakes and poles used for tying up tomatoes, or for growing pole beans by treating the wood with creosote or a formaldehyde solution. Consult your garden supply man on the material to use.

Planting & Planning Time

Now is the time to plan and plant to assure a beautiful home grounds for summer and fall . . .

Highlight of Demonstration Work

Achievement Day Draws 350 Here

By JANICE HAYHOW

Achievement Day, the highlight of the year's activities in home demonstration work in Oakland County attracted more than 350 women to the First Congregational Church of Pontiac yesterday.

Speaker for the afternoon session was David B. Treat, director of the Clara Elizabeth Fund for Maternal Health in Flint. Treat's topic was "What Women Should Expect of Themselves as Wives and Mothers."

Other activities taking place in the day-long session included a demonstration talk by Mrs. Hazel Dunlop, author and lecturer, speaking on "Decorative Tables for the Home." She stressed versatility in table arrangements and functional designs in decoration.

Special recognition was given to Mrs. Florence Hubbard of Clarkston. Mrs. Hubbard founded the first home demonstration group in Oakland County 35 years ago and was first county chairman of the organization.

Forty-eight home demonstration groups were given certificates of merit for "faithfully carrying out the extension program in their homes and communities." Mrs. Mary Hixon, home demonstration agent made the awards.

Memos of the year's activities in the individual groups were exhibited during the day. Sewing and handicraft projects were on display for visitors.

The sanctuary of the church was filled to overflowing to hear Treat discuss family relationships—from that of husband and wife to children and grandparents.

Pertinent examples peppered his discussion of what husbands and wives expect of each other and themselves. "For the past 25 years, the emphasis in homes has been so much on the child that the husbands and wives are forgotten," Treat said.

He compared duties of wives today and in years past and marveled at the scope of duties the wife of today is concerned with.

"The business of being a wife and mother today is a challenge and a job," he said. "It takes love, tenderness, consideration, and courage to bring about the assurance that tells you you can do a good job."

Home demonstration agents, Mrs. Hixon and Mrs. Frieda Bennett, had charge of the day's activities, assisted by many workers.

Revolt Reported in Eastern Tibet

Sources Say Thousands Have Rebelled Against Chinese Red Rulers

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Reports reaching here from neighboring Tibet say thousands of Tibetans — perhaps as many as 8,000 — have revolted against their Chinese Communist rulers.

Informants describing the reports as "very reliable" said the uprisings occurred in the eastern districts of Tibet. Eastern Tibet is the home of the Khamba tribesmen, many of whom call banditry their profession.

After the Chinese Reds occupied Tibet more than five years ago, some 2,000 mule-riding Khamba riflemen reportedly marched on Lhasa, Tibet's capital, to protest the action of the Chinese in taking the Dalai Lama to Peiping. The Chinese were said to have halted the Khambas at the outskirts of the city.

LAMA APPEASES PEOPLE

Since then the Dalai Lama, the spiritual ruler of Tibet, has returned to Lhasa. Peiping radio last week quoted him as saying opposition to Communist China's occupation of his country ended after he saw the "love and concern of the central authorities for Tibet." Red China has announced that Tibet is taking the first steps toward local self-rule, which it had for centuries before the Communists took over.

The reports heard here said the current revolt started about seven weeks ago, with east Tibetans charging Lhasa officials were stooges of the Chinese Communists and no longer were the true representatives of the Dalai Lama.

Judge Rules Informally on Courtroom's Colors

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP) —A judge here holds that the decor of his courtroom should be "a little subdued, not bright and gaudy like a barroom."

Justice Daniel J. McAvoy of State Supreme Court, in a strictly informal opinion, chose dark green and black tile for the floor with dark oak or walnut benches, in preference to light green and gray, suggested by a Board of Supervisors committee.

Charles A. Root, committee chairman, said the jurist's opinion had been sought because "he's the one who has to live with it."

Pontiac to Show Plant Facilities

Open House Visitation Will Pay Tribute to New Technical Center

Pontiac Motor Division will pay tribute to the new General Motors Technical Center by holding open house at its plants here, on May 16, day of the official Technical Center dedication, R. M. Critchfield, Pontiac general manager and GM vice president announced today.

Planned to show the close relationship between Pontiac and the services offered by facilities at the Technical Center, the open house will include tours of manufacturing areas and engineering exhibits. Refreshments will be served to the plant visitors expected to number around 20,000.

Critchfield said Pontiac's interest in the Technical Center was closely connected to the four GM facilities located at the new site. "Our work with the GM Research staff has resulted in developing some important metallurgical innovations such as Pontiac's aluminized valves.

The GM engineering staff frequently assists Pontiac engineering in working out advanced mechanical features. The GM styling staff constantly works with our engineering in the matters of body design. Many Pontiac manufacturing techniques and processes have been improved and made more efficient through our cooperation with the GM process development staff."

Pontiac will open its plants at 1 p.m. Wednesday, May 16, and remain open to the public until 9 p.m., allowing all employes to bring their families to the open house. Routes through the manufacturing areas will be staffed by plant guides.

Pontiac dealers throughout the county will also join in observing the Technical Center dedication, Critchfield said. Many of them will hold open house and display special posters commemorating the event.

O'Brien Drops Counts Against Vote Frauders

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien says he will not issue warrants against four suburban Taylor Township employes accused of fraud in voter registration.

O'Brien said the law under which the alleged offenses were committed was repealed in a June 1955 revision of the state election code.

IONIA—(AP)—The Ionia city council has voted to ease restrictions on use of city water this summer. A new ordinance will permit limited use of water for lawns and washing cars but the mayor is authorized to tighten the restrictions in case of an emergency. The city added an additional well to the water system last year and plans to add five or six new wells this year.

Hollywood Headlines:

Jayne Mansfield and Fox Sign Up for Seven Years

BY LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — After weeks of trying to make up her mind, Jayne Mansfield told me today over the long distance telephone that she has signed a seven-year exclusive contract with 20th Century-Fox, the former home of Marilyn Monroe. She moves there at the termination of her Broadway play, "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter."

It's exactly what I want to do," Jayne said. "I've talked with a number of the people at 20th and I like what they promised me."

The studio is expected to buy "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter," but Jayne believes her first picture will be John Steinbeck's "Wayward Bus."

She is now going to the Actors Studio where Marilyn studies. She said that she has been working with Karl Malden. "I'm studying dancing, singing and dramatic acting," she said. "Twentieth has promised to build me as one of their important stars."

Anita Ekberg is finishing "Hollywood or Bust" with Martin and Lewis before she takes off for Florence to marry Anthony Steel. In early 1957, Anita and Robert Ryan will be costarred in "Portofina," an original story by Bernie Giller, with John Farrow producing and directing.

John, who has "The Lady and the Prowler" to do first, will take the "Portofino" company to Italy, not far from Monaco, for locations. Portofino is a charming place on the Italian Riviera, and some of the scenes will be filmed there.

SHOCK TO FONDA

The suden death of Edward Arnold was a big shock to Henry Fonda, who had put Eddie in one of the top roles in "12 Angry Men"& Hank's first independent picture.

The picture goes in June and Hank says he has sent the script to Ed Begley, who is doing one of the leads in "Inherit the Wind" in New York, to see if he will take the Arnold role. Eddie, too, was very enthusiastic about "12 Angry Men."

Gloria and Jimmy Stewart are back in town, and Gloria tells me she feels wonderful after her surgery in Chicago. It was a very minor operation.

I asked her when Jimmy, who is in his eighth month of shooting "The Spirit of St. Louis," the Lindbergh story, will finish the picture.

"I stopped asking him last August," Gloria said. "We have no idea."

NEVADA DIVORCE

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Jane Froman will divorce Capt. John Burns in Las Vegas. She'll establish residence when she appears there at the Desert Inn. He was the one who saved her life in the tragic Lisbon plane crash.

Greg Bautzer is home from New York and Dana Wynter has gone to Rhodesia to visit her family. She hopes to bring them back when returns in about a week.

GMC to Display Vehicle Products

Truck Division to Honor Dedication of Technical Center May 16

Nine advanced commercial and military vehicles, many appearing for the first time publicly in Michigan, will be shown May 16 at a GMC Truck and Coach Division "Open House" program marking the dedication of the General Motors Technical Center, it was announced today by Philip J. Monaghan, GM vice president and general manager.

The display, the largest of its kind in Pontiac's history, will feature GMC's unique air-ride suspension truck, the "dream" truck, L'Universelle, the Army "Ontos" bristling with 11 guns, and the 8-ton amphibious "Drake."

These and a "super-duck," an M-59 personnel carrier, a T-51 cargo carrier, a model "Y" 1925 bus and a modern inter . city coach will be exhibited in and near the garage behind GMC's Administration Building on South Boulevard.

The display also includes a huge 6 x 18½-foot backlighted portable color transparency that is the largest of its kind in the world, and an animated air-ride suspension exhibit.

Other features of the "Open House" will include plant tours showing a cross - section of truck and coach manufacturing operations, refreshments and the distribution of souvenir folders.

The program will be held at three GMC plants, Plant No. 1 at Rapid Street and Franklin Road, Plant No. 2 at 660 South Boulevard, East, and Plant No. 4 at 600 South Saginaw Street. Hours are 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., and the public is invited to the admission-free program.

Parking areas accommodating 7,000 cars at one time will be open to visitors, and arrows will direct them to gates and main entrances.

Pontiac City Lines, Inc., will give free bus rides to persons traveling to and from the GMC plants.

Some 400 guides will usher guests along tour routes and answer questions. Nurseries providing baby-sitting service will be set up in each plant.

Gothamite Elected at MSU Conference

EAST LANSING (AP) — Creation of a continuing conference on metropolitan problems was voted Wednesday at the windup of the first National Conference on Metropolitan Problems at Michigan State University.

Frank C. Moore, president of Governmental Affairs Foundation, Inc., New York City, the major sponsoring agency, was named chairman of the new group.

• • •

Delegates approved a resolution calling for the continuing conference to serve as a cooperating agency for groups concerned with metropolitan problems. It also will encourage and cooperate in research, prepare publications and hold meetings on metropolitan problems.

Detroit Schools Leader Accepts College Position

Appointment of the 46-year-old Scully, a native of Missouri and a graduate of the college there, was announced yesterday. He will succeed Dr. W. W. Parker, president for 23 years, who has resigned.

Hal Boyle Says:

Booming Market Produces Odd Investors

NEW YORK (AP)—There are nearly eight million Americans in the stock market now.

A stockholder is known as "a partner in industry," and when you meet a guy who owns a share in the same company you do, you give him the greeting cry of the old West, "Howdy, pardner."

The New York Stock Exchange hopefully predicts that eventually there will be between 40 and 50 million stockholders in this country.

The prediction may well come true. Already buying stock is important for other reasons than possible financial gain. It's becoming a matter of social prestige.

In some circles if you don't own at least a few shares of stock you're regarded as one of civilization's wallflowers. They think maybe you still ride to work on a bicycle and that your idea of fun is to read the poems of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow aloud in mixed company.

COMMON TYPES

The average business office today—from boss to shipping clerk—has more stock market investors than it did horse players 10 years ago.

They break down into several common types, and you probably can recognize some of the following in your own office:

The wandering investor — like an impatient prospector, he always is looking for gold over the next hill. Today he buys Du Pont. Tomorrow he sells and goes in for General Motors, the next day he is browsing in AT&T.

The form sheet player — he spends $30 a month buying stock market advisory service on how he can best place the $15 a month he can actually invest.

The big operator — this fellow hints mysteriously of his tremendous ventures. But at least once a week he borrows lunch money from you, explaining, "I'm short of ready cash—up to the hilt in Consolidated Moonbeams."

NEW KIND OF BRAG

The name-dropper — in the old days he used to brag he once had shaken hands with Marilyn Monroe at a charity ball. Now he brags, "Guess who I sat next to on the subway this morning—the chairman of the board of Cosmic Glue, Inc."

The in-and-outer—this is the office gambler. He puts his whole wad on International Popcorn, Ltd. When it fails after a week to declare a 50 per cent dividend, he pulls out his money, grumbling, "I want some real action. I can do better on the ponies."

The insider — "I've got a tip from my cousin who works for Laminated Steel that their stock will go up 10 points day after tomorrow," he whispers to everyone who will listen. "Better get in it today."

Two days later Laminated Steel falls four points, and the insider becomes an outsider to everyone in the office who acted on his tip.

The hermit crab—he holds his stock close to his chest, won't talk about the market at all. He even beds in a separate room from his wife for fear that during his sleep he will give away his investing secrets.

The dreamer—he puts his last $500 in Skyblue Uranium Unlimited (two share for a penny) and goes around the office in a daze, murmuring, "One million . . . two million . . . three million . . ."

The Hamlet investor — he consults astrology charts, comic books and Ouija boards. If he sees an old lady feeding crumbs to pigeons in the street, he asks her:

"What would you do if you were me? Last week I bought 10 shares of Universal Marmalade at 33½ and now it's down to 33¼. Should I stay in or get out?"

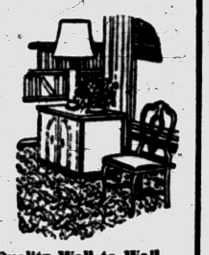

Of course, there is the ordinary investor, too, the follow who puts the money he can afford into the best stocks he can find and then sensibly sits backs and waits for his investment to mature.

But you don't hear much from him. He is merely looking for more bread on earth—not pie in the sky.

Meanwhile,

back at the ranch . . .

That caption from the old silent movies prompts us to ask this question:

How much of your precious time is tied up "back at the ranch" while you wait for your husband (or you, sir, wait for your wife) to return home with the car so that you can put your plans into action?

Maybe what your "ranch" needs is a dependable, thrifty second car from our wide selection of used cars of all makes and models—any one of which represents a top value at bottom prices.

These well-groomed OK Used Cars, sold only by authorized Chevrolet dealers, have been carefully inspected; reconditioned for safety, performance and value.

You can expect to find exceptional bargains in OK Used Cars now, because they must be sold to make room for more trade-ins on the fast-selling new model Chevrolets. So, to maintain volume turnover, we're passing volume savings on to you.

If you're a one-car family, see us for a choice of late model cars. They're fit for a Texas land baron, but they'll keep your investment and maintenance costs at a minimum.

50 Million Children to Get Salk Shots

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 50 million children should be inoculated against polio by Oct. 30, Surgeon General Leonard Scheele says.

He told a news conference yesterday sufficient Salk vaccine should be available for that program. Addressing a closed meeting of doctors and health officers, he urged that immunization be continued during the summer months.

Scheele said promised increases in vaccine production will be sufficient to provide two or three shots for all the 53 million children under 15 and for pregnant women who want them. Officials estimate that about 20 million of the women and children already have received one or more shots.

Oils Dominate Higher Market

In the early afternoon, prices were up between 1 and 2 points in key areas while losses seldom were greater than a point.

Trading hit a pace around 2,600,000 shares for the day as compared with 2,640,000 shares traded yesterday when the trend was also higher.

Higher with the oils were the steels motors, coppers, railroads and chemicals. The aircrafts, which were a strong feature yesterday, were mixed and quiet today. Most other divisions of the market also were mixed.

Higher stocks included Royal Dutch Petroleum, Texas Co., Baltimore & Ohio, New York Central, Phelps Dodge, Minnesota Mining, Union Carbide, Long-Bell Lumber, General Motors and United Aircraft.

The new Standard Oil of California "when issued" stock began trading today at 58 on 10,000 shares, and 6,000 shares of the old stock changed hands at 115½ up 5 points. A block of 13,000 shares of Standard Oil of Indiana traded up ¼ at 61¾.

Three Tires, Wheels Stolen From New Cars

About $150 loss resulted from the theft of three tires and wheels from two new cars parked in an auto dealer's storage lot at 631 Oakland ave., according to Pontiac police.

Mrs. Choler told Pontiac police she failed to see a yield-the-right-of-way sign before a collision with Maurice K. Rife, 47, of 261 Dick Ave.

House Action Spurs Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains moved higher on the Board of Trade today, aided in part by House passage of a new farm bill which traders thought might be acceptable to the administration.

Even old crop soybeans, which have suffered a very sharp break in the past two days, managed to forge ahead in early dealings. Brokers said the market's technical condition appeared to be very much improved.

Among other cereals May wheat was up three cents at one time and even the new crop months, quite weak in recent days, attracted some demand. Feed grains firmed from the start.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1⅛ to 3½ higher, May $2.30; corn 1¼ to 1⅞ higher, May $1.54⅝; oats ⅝ to 1 cent higher, May 67¼; rye 1¼ to 2¼ higher, May $1.29; soybeans ¼ to 3 cents higher, May $13.15⅝, and lard 20 to 25 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $13.65.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

Fight the Weeds

If you want flowers to grow well you must hoe out the troublesome weeds. Hoeing gives the flowers room to grow and also keeps the soil loose and helps plants to grow healthily.

This is Junior Editor Dick going out armed with his hoe to do battle with the weeds.

After pasting this picture down on cardboard, color it with crayons, and cut out the parts carefully. To strengthen the hoe, paste a toothpick on the back of it from the blade end to Dick's waist. Put the blouse over the shorts and fasten the halves of the body together with a brass fastener or a bent pin through the indicated holes. Then Dick can bend over and use the hoe.

Fold back the end panels on the dotted line and Dick will stand up. Cut the dotted slot on his hat, slip his head into it and fold down the tab at the top.

(Mrs. Andrew Pupa, Chattanooga, Tenn., first submitted this idea. If you have an idea for Junior Editors send it in care of this newspaper and if it is usable it will win a $10 award. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Shortest Railroad Is Also Roughest, in Scientific Way

It doesn't go anywhere, but in an hour's time it can duplicate all the shaking, bumping and jarring of a freight car highballing 1,000 miles cross-country.

Engineers at Fisher Body Division Plant 40 of General Motors Corp. also have built a replica of a freight car which they use on the railroad to study problems of material handling in shipping auto parts.

Dubbed the TABW for "There's Always a Better Way," the GM railroad can vibrate models of car roofs, decklids and other components upward, downward and sideways.

Using delicate, electronic instruments, engineers record the vibrations to determine where different parts take the most punishment in transit from fabricating plant to assembly point.

Then they may redesign loading and packing aids to assure safer arrival of glass and other automotive components.

The TABW is run by Edward K. Tazzle, research and development engineer for Fisher Body's material handling section. Without leaving the plant he can study every bounce, sway and jolt of a freight car on any roadbed in the country.

AA Schedules Sunday 'Open Door Meeting'

FENTON — Alcoholics Anonymous is a familiar name to most Americans. Few have not heard of some person addicted to the use of alcohol who has not found a new, rich meaning to life because of help received from this group.

But how an AA meeting is conducted — how the "one-help-another" plan has restored human respect and dignity to persons whose lives were being undermined through drink—what is the magnetic working force within this group that has the power to strengthen the will and restore the wellbeing of many "hopeless" alcoholics—these are questions that have puzzled many outside the group.

These questions will be answered for the general public at the fifth annual "Open Door Meeting" of Alcoholics Anonymous, to be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Fenton Community Center.

All persons throughout the area are invited to learn more about the organization at this open meeting, sponsored jointly by the Central Michigan Intra-area Council and the Fenton group of AA.

Principal speaker will be Mac M——, an AA member from Alma whose identity is not disclosed, but who will tell his personal experiences before joining AA and after.

Other featured speakers will be the Rev. Hartley H. Stockham of Fenton Presbyterian Church, and Father Van Lun of St. John Catholic Church, Fenton.

A business meeting at 12:30 p.m. will precede the public assembly.

"We urge everyone to attend this once-a-year event," an AA spokesman said.

* * *

"The purpose of the meeting is to open the door to the community and give the public factual information concerning Alcoholics Anonymous— the menders of men and women."

Will Let Contracts on Dixie Widening

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler recently announced that contracts for widening and resurfacing of the Dixie Highway between Maybee and Hatchery Roads in Waterford Township will be let Wednesday.

The road will be widened four feet to a total width of 44 feet and resurfaced with bituminous concrete from Maybee road to Waterford Road, and from a point north of Walton Boulevard to Hatchery Road.

The affected area would include the Waterford Hill and traffic lanes through Drayton Plains.

A completion date of Sept. 15 has been set.

$64,000 Creator Cooks Up Ideas

Goodson and Todman Reign as the Kings of Quizzes, Panels

(This is the fifth of six articles providing a revealing behind-the-scenes report on television's first 10 years).

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Writer

Three men—whose work goes on behind the scenes—are doing as much to mold the character of TV today as any of the famous name performers.

They are Louis G. Cowan, creator of "The $64,000 Question" and other shows, and the team of Mark Goodson and Bill Todman, pioneers of quiz shows including "What's My Line?"

Goodson and Todman, who work together like two peas in a pod, are generally acknowledged as the pioneers and kingpins of the audience participation show in TV.

With "What's My Line" now in its seventh year, "I've Got a Secret" and "Two for the Money" each in its fourth, and "Beat the Clock" rounding its fifth year—not to mention several other properties in contention — Goodson-Todman have established themselves as producers of quiz, panel and audience type shows.

I asked Cowan what made "The $64,000 Question" click in such a big way. He made it sound easy. He took the old "Take It or Leave It" formula—which flourished so well for so many years—and revamped it. The gimmick in that show was "The $64 Question."

3 ZEROS ADDED

All that was necessary was to remodel the old show "and add three meaningful zeros to a number already in the American language."

Cowan explained that "The $64,000 Question" has "a psychological appeal" because very viewer is in a sense a contestant, a participant. The viewer matches wits and thinks along with the contestant.

Another reason the show is a big success, he said, is that the people like to see "the triumph of the individual"—that is, see some unknown person click for the big money.

Cowan is a slim, energetic man of 46. He is studious looking and wears born-rimmed glasses. Last August he joined CBS-TV as a producer and idea man. Since then he has been responsible for the new Will Rogers Jr. "Good Morning" show and "Captain Kangaroo."

For more than 15 years, his radio productions helped set new programing trends. Last season he won a Peabody Award for his radio series—"Conversation."

INTEESTING IDEAS

Bill Todman of Goodson-Todman gave INS some interesting ideas on the production of quiz and panel shows—his firm's specialty.

A tall, slender fellow about 40, Todman declared, "you've got to sense what will appeal to the public." He implied that "putting on good shows" has been the secret of his and his partner's success.

"There are no lucky ratings," he asserted. "A show stays up near the top because it's good. Don't forget: The viewers have selectivity. We have a real democracy operating in this country when a man can turn the dial if he doesn't like the show."

The basic idea for "What's My Line," he said, was developed by him and Goodson. Six years or so ago their friends were playing the game privately in homes.

• • •

"We decided the public would be interested in the game, and they certainly were," he added. "It caught on—big."

STAYS POPULAR

Todman commented that although "What's My Line" started away back in 1950 it still maintains its popularity and that the show has been emulated in other countries, notably England.

Goodson has had a wide background of showmanship, including announcing, directing and other phases of production in radio and TV. Todman, who studied law, made his way as a writer in advertising and radio channels, going on to producing and directing in radio and TV.

Goodson-Todman are not resting on their laurels. They are now preparing to introduce an adventure series for children.

They are filming Random House "Landmark" books into half-hour and one-hour shows which will feature great historical events such as "Custer's last stand." In Todman's opinion this series will be educational as well as entertaining.

In addition to their fame as "Paneluminaries," Goodson and Todman have established themselves as builders of such live dramatic properties on network TV as "The Web," which ran on CBS for four years and is currently being filmed for television in conjunction with "Screen Gems."

Paper Ads Increase in '55 by $100 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—National advertisers invested a record 695 million dollars in newspapers in 1955, more than 100 million above the previous year, the bureau of advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. reported today.

The total represents an increase of 17 per cent over 1954's $594,120,000. The bureau noted that these figures include only amounts spent for newspaper space; they do not include production costs.

Among the various classifications of national advertising, automotive was the leader. It was up almost 60 million dollars to a 1955 total of $199,438,000, a gain of 42.6 per cent over the previous year.

Groceries, second to automotive among the major classifications, rose 4.9 per cent to a 1955 total of $135,824,000.

Close Carleton Court

Carlton court will be closed to traffic for the next 10 days effective tomorrow at 7 a.m. due to paving by the city, Theodore M. Vanderstempel, city traffic engineer, announced.

Natural gas is now the sixth largest U.S. industry, says the National Geographic Society.

Highway Network Needed for Landlocked Paraguay

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP) — Imagine a landlocked California virtually without highways or railroads. That's the republic of Paraguay today.

Like the California of 100 years ago, Paraguay has a tremendous potential. The land is fertile, virgin timber awaits the ax and there are grazing lands that could support millions of head of cattle.

But Paraguay, the size of California, has only 78 miles of paved highways, 720 miles of roads all told, and a population of 1,530,000.

The primary job of Paraguay's new economic czar, Gustavo Storm, president of the government's Central Bank of Paraguay is to improve the situation.

"It's depressing," he declares, literally throwing up his hands. "With things the way they are now, we can't move. We can't develop our land and that is exactly what we must do."

4-YEAR PLAN INITIATED

Storm, son of a German immigrant, has initiated — on paper — a four-year plan for increasing the highway network to 1,800 miles. It calls for completion of four major highways.

The most important highway under construction runs from Asuncion to Foz do Iguacu, Brazil, on the border. The total length of 207 miles, 123 still must be built and there has been little construction since 1943. A Brazilian road now extends from Foz do Iguacu to Paranagua on the Brazilian coast. This would be a free port for Paraguay and would give this landlocked country a second outlet to the sea.

Now Paraguay's goods must travel 1,000 miles down the Paraguay River to Buenos Aires to reach international markets. Goods are shipped at about $25 per ton. This compares with $5 per ton for the same distance down the Mississippi River in the United States.
