Red China Tour Has U.S. Youths in State of Chaos

By MAX E. SIMON

Through a direct phone call to Moscow, Russia, The Pontiac Press has learned that American students attending the Communist-sponsored World Youth Festival are "in a state of chaos" over invitations to tour Red China.

The information came from 22-year-old Larry Schwartz of Utica, one of 40 delegates from the U. S. who says he will journey behind the Bamboo Curtain despite a State Department ban on travel there.

In an exclusive statement to the Press yesterday, Schwartz said, "I am extremely anxious to go to Red China. I'm curious about the country and the trip is free."

He denied there is a token $100 fee for the three-week stay in Red China and said he had been assured the trip would cost him nothing.

Schwartz, a 1956 graduate of the University of Michigan, said the invitations to visit Red China had not come from the Peiping government.

FROM CHINESE STUDENTS

"They were extended by Chinese students attending the festival," he said. "The students would bear the expense of our travels. I will say this — they are very friendly and really want us to come and see what life in their country is really like."

Schwartz said that he didn't know where the Chinese students were getting the money to pay for the trips. Similar offers have been made by the Chinese to many other foreign delegations, he said.

Schwartz said he had no left-wing leanings.

Asked if he were a Communist, he replied:

"Of course not. I'm not at all interested in politics. I'm here as a free agent and am just another American tourist anxious to see the world."

Schwartz said he has become acquainted with the other person from Michigan planning to go to Red China, Genevieve Lorraine Nowacki, 24, of 12099 Sobieski, Hamtramck.

"I never knew her before and don't know what her political beliefs are," he said.

Miss Nowacki is known by the Detroit police subversive squad as frequently attending Communist party gatherings.

Schwartz said he is having a "good time" in Moscow. "As far as I can see, the festival is non-political and no one is trying to fill us with propaganda," he said.

He has spent considerable time visiting with families in the Russian capitol.

NOTHING FROM EMBASSY

He and others have asked the American Embassy in Moscow and U.S. Ambassador Llewelyn Thompson about the consequences of the trip to Red China, he said, but were unable to get a "commitment" from the ambassador.

The U.S. State Department has declared itself opposed to the visit to China, but has not said what steps would be taken if some made the trip.

Lincoln White, department press chief, said over the weekend, "In the absence of specific information that one or more of these

Returning Swiss Clash With Students

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Several hundred anti-Communist students clashed with Swiss youths returning from the Moscow youth festival at the railway station here last night. Police reported several persons were injured.

The clash started when one of the returnees demolished a poster "Don't forget Hungary" which the students had been carrying.

The students surged forward and threw the baggage of the Moscow travelers back into the train. Police intervened to escort the travelers out of the station. Five were briefly taken into protective custody. Several others had fled the station leaving the baggage behind.

Says Dio Never in Union Rackets

Society Drove Him to Crime, Doria Testifies

'Know Nothing About Acid-Blinding of Writer Victor Riesel'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Gangster Johnny Dio's "chief advocate" in the labor movement denied today that the New York hoodlum engaged in union racketeering.

Anthony Doria, of Encino, Calif., charged that society drove Dio out of labor and into crime. He said Dio wanted to become "an individual respected in labor."

Doria, former secretary-treasurer of the Allied Industrial Workers of America, told the Senate Rackets Committee that Dio "never had a chance to make a contribution to the labor movement."

When Sen. Carl Curtis (R-Neb), asked about Dio's indictment as the alleged mastermind in the acid-blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel, Doria replied:

"I've talked to him about it. It's absolutely a farce, he said. He's not involved in it. He's not implicated."

Doria said he had been questioned "No less than four times" by the FBI and by a New York grand jury about whether Dio had anything to do with the Riesel case. Therefore, he said, he had asked Dio about it.

WHO DID IT

Curtis asked Doria if Dio knew who did it. Doria replied: "He said he didn't know. If he knew, he'd have told me. Maybe he wouldn't. To me it is quite evident there is no evidence against Johnny Dio."

Despite committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy's contention that Doria had given "contrary" testimony in the past, Doria stuck to his story that he did not know Dio when the old AFL-United Auto Workers issued its first charter to local 102 in New York on Sept. 18, 1950.

But he said he met Dio in the local's office and got to know him well prior to the issuance of a second charter to the local on April 23, 1951, after Dio took

Union Merger Talks Get Hot

Hoffa Clashes Angrily With Officials at Hotel in Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — A conference on merger of the AFL and CIO labor organizations threatened to blowup today when Teamsters vice president James R. Hoffa clashed angrily with CIO leaders.

Hoffa burst into the conference room at Detroit's Fort Shelby hotel this morning just as the meeting was about to get under way and accused county CIO leaders of breaking their word.

The tough little labor leader nearly came to blows with Mike Novak, president of the Wayne County CIO Council. Only a recess prevented complete collapse of the discussions.

The argument began when Hoffa stalked into the room and threw a copy of a Detroit newspaper on the table and said to Novak:

"Hi, muscles. I see you've been making statements to the press."

His reference concerned a story about the Wayne County CIO Convention Saturday in which Novak was quoted as predicting Hoffa would attempt to stop any merger.

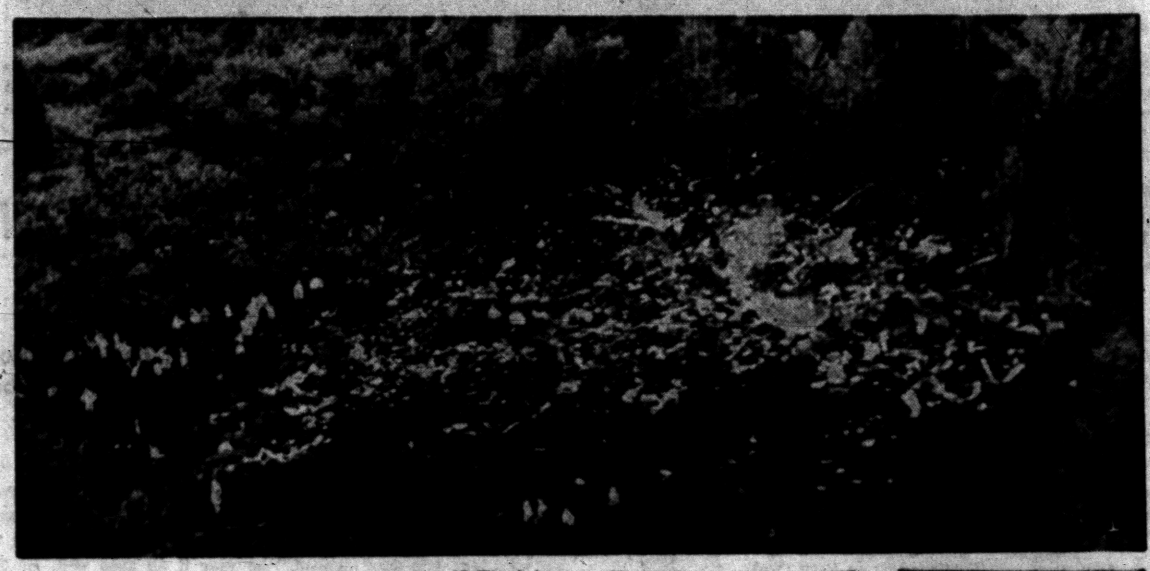

★ ★ ★

Hoffa charged Novak had broken a pledge that all reports on the talks would be made through a joint statement. As he stormed from the room, Hoffa remarked:

"This is going to be a divorce before it is a wedding."

The national AFL-CIO has warned the two groups must merge voluntarily or it will step in and dictate terms of a merger.

Where Plane Crashed and Burned Near Quebec

Search Ends for Climbers Marooned on Mountain

GRINDELWALD, Switzerland (AP)—The huge rescue operation for a group of Alpinists trapped on the north wall of the Eiger Mountain was officially abandoned today.

The only survivor among the four climbers, Claudio Corti of Lecco, Italy, arrived at the Eiger funicular station on a stretcher. He was to be taken to Interlake Hospital by special train.

The 90 volunteers from seven nations who took part in the rescue operation were ordered off the mountain by the rescue chief, Peter Frei, who said the three other members of the group were undoubtedly dead.

The four climbers had been on the mountain since Aug. 3, and became trapped on the steep face two or three days after they started the climb.

Blizzards halted rescue operations yesterday afternoon and today after Corti had been lifted 1,200 feet to the summit by a brave Alpinist swinging at the end of a winch-operated cable.

Air and telescope observations of the other Italian trapped on the wall, Stefano Longhi, 44, also of Lecco, left no doubt that he died of exhaustion and exposure during the night.

He had been injured by a rock fall earlier and remained suspended at the end of a rope some 300 feet below the other three since Thursday.

He was seen hanging face down, covered by snow and motionless all day today.

The two German members of the group, Guenther Nothdurft, 27, and Goetz Meier, 26, apparently left the ledge they shared with Corti early Sunday morning in a desperate attempt to make their own way to the top.

All trace of them has been lost.

Guides said the two men would certainly have been spotted on the vertical rock face if they were still alive, and it was assumed they fell to their deaths into an unknown crevasse lower down the cliff.

Vote for Appeal on Courthouse

Board of Supervisors Will Present Decision to State Supreme Court

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors voted unanimously today to appeal to the State Supreme Court a recent legal decision tying up construction of a new County courthouse.

If the high court does not upset the opinion by Circuit Judge Herman C. Dehnke, "the county will have to go to the people for public approval of funds," said David Levinson, Ways and Means Committee member from Royal Oak.

Levinson asked the county to make the appeal as soon as possible. The county's legal advisors have said, however, the appeal may not be heard until the end of the year.

Judge Dehnke's decision, on a suit heard in May, was that nearly $1,400,000 accumulated by the county for a new building, must, in effect, be returned to the people in the form of tax reductions.

He said it was accumulated illegally out of year-end budgetary surpluses and was in excess of a .1 mill constitutional limitation on annual accruance of building funds.

The county hopes to free the money in order to start construction of the first $2.5-$3.5 million section of the proposed $4.5 million courthouse.

The Oakland County Taxpayers League, which brought the suit against the county, says it wants a new courthouse. But the county should get public approval of courthouse funds and of its proposal to build the new building in the Telegraph Road Service Center, instead of on the present downtown Pontiac site, the league says.

County Orders Housing Report

Call for Comprehensive Welfare Board Survey of Substandard Units

At the demands of Pontiac representatives, the Oakland County Social Welfare Board was ordered today by the Board of Supervisors to make a full report on alleged sub-standard housing conditions in Pontiac.

The Welfare Board was ordered to make a comprehensive survey of its housing for welfare families and prepare a printed report for the Supervisors' next meeting.

On a motion by Pontiac Supervisor Robert Boyer, the welfare agency was told to name all of its housing units in violation of local health laws and to come up with recommendations to eliminate or clean them up.

The Pontiac representatives were aiming at 39 county-owned units on the northwest side of town, which the City Commission has asked to be removed as health hazards.

City Attorney William A. Ewart, who also serves as a supervisor, said today that the county, as a landlord, can create poor health situations as easily as any other owner of sub-standard housing.

The homes in question are small and crowded, with no indoor toilet or water facilities, Ewart and Boyer said.

Pot-O-Gold Holds $2,100 Fortune for Lucky Winner

Where but in Pot-O-Gold is losing just another way of winning? You just can't lose in this contest. The 21st $100 bill has been tossed into the pot, bringing the total to a rousing $2,100 for the winner of this week's puzzle.

And even if someone comes along with the answer to last week's Pot-O-Gold, there will still be $100 left to start the fund on its way again.

So turn to page 5 of today's Pontiac Press. You'll find a new puzzle which will provide a lot of fun and possibly a lot of money.

A little extra attention to the clues might be what's needed to take your entry out of the "almost" category and put it into the winner's spot.

Aug. 3 Guess Leads in Weather Contest

Though the thermometer tried hard yesterday when it reached 91, it still didn't pass the high of 92 for this month on August 3.

Though many came close to the correct time, Christiana Laschinsky of 882 Coughlan Drive hit it right on the nose, making her the leader in the Hottest Moment in August contest.

But 20 more days remain in August and who knows, that $200 U. S. Savings Bond still may be yours.

Gala Parade Will Help City Celebrate 50th Anniversary of Pontiac Motors

The clash of cymbals, the blare of trumpets and the skirl of Scottish bagpipes will sound through Pontiac next Monday as a gala parade swings down S. Saginaw Street starting at 6:30 p.m.

The parade, staged by the Downtown Pontiac Assn., is one of many events in the city's celebration for the 50th anniversary of the founding of Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors.

★ ★ ★

Clarence Hardenburg, parade chairman, says he has lined up a great number of stellar acts and floats of interest to youngsters and grownups alike.

Featured in the parade will be the St. Andrew's Society of Detroit's Children's Scottish Highland Pipe Band, direct from their triumph at the Edmundton, Canada, Scottish Festival.

CLARENCE HARDENBURG

The Milford High School Band will also be starred with their color uniforms and precision marches.

The Sheriff's mounted posse and the Dixie Saddle Club will add a western touch to the affair as they parade on horseback.

Pontiac Motors will contribute an historical note with a parade of antique Pontiac cars.

Among the outstanding participants in the parade will be Jackie Ray and her Ravenettes, a 30-girl drill team; the Sylvan Lake Lodge Drill Team; and the Land-O-Lakes Majorettes, 32 baton-twirling girls.

During the celebration of the Pontiac anniversary, downtown merchants will award a golden 1957 Pontiac automobile.

Canadian DC4 Sinks in Swamp; None Survives

Vets, Families Aboard Were En Route Home From Trip to Britain

ISSOUDUN, Que. (AP) — The fuselage of a wrecked Canadian airliner began sinking slowly into a deep swamp today, complicating the task for an investigating team and the searchers going after the bodies of the 79 dead.

The four-engine DC4 plunged into the swamp during a summer thunderstorm yesterday 15 miles south of Quebec City.

The death toll made it Canada's worst air disaster. There were no survivors.

Evidence pointed to lightning as a possible cause of the mid-afternoon tragedy.

The chartered airliner was carrying veterans and their families back to Canada from a vacation with their folks in Britian.

The plane's fuselage was believed stuck in a 25-foot water-filled hole. Dr. Jean-Paul Pouliot, coroner of Lotbiniere County, said the army was being asked to pump out the hole.

The boggy crash scene was sealed off today from photographers and souvenir hunters. Bits of bodies, clothing, personal papers and charred remains of the plane were spread far and wide.

FIND INFANT'S BODY

The first body found last night was that of an infant.

From the fuselage section in the water-filled hole, provincial police and Canadian Transport Department workers hoped to recover bodies of some of the six crew members, including two hostesses, and 73 passengers, who perished when the plane plowed into the earth 18 miles southwest of Quebec.

But a look at the grisley crash scene made it evident that the remains of most of those who boarded the plane in London Saturday would never be identified.

The flight had been chartered by the Imperial Veterans Organization, a branch of the Canadian Legion. In the plane were 14 couples and two small children. A number of unaccompanied women were believed to be English war brides returning from a visit to their former homeland.

★ ★ ★

The plane fell as it was nearing the end of a long leg of its transatlantic flight, a hop from Keflavik, Iceland, to Montreal, where it was to stop for a crew switch-over before continuing to Toronto, its final destination.

Many of the men passengers were former British servicemen who had moved to Ontario. They had taken their families for a month's visit to their former homes.

The pilot, 37-year-old Norman Ramsay of Montreal, whose flying license had once been suspended on a charge of negligence in a plane crash, stopped in Iceland on the way home.

★ ★ ★

He brought the plane up the St. Lawrence River valley in sunny weather, making the prescribed radio checks. At 2:07 p.m. he reported passing over Quebec.

★ ★ ★

There was no 3 p.m. radio report to Montreal, the next check point along the plane's route. For several hours the plane was listed as missing.

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts good sleeping weather for Pontiac area residents tonight. Forecast calls for clear and cool temperatures, with a low of 52-56.

Annex 48 Acres to Holly Village

Action Is Protested by Official; Says Residents Are Opposed

Over the protests of the Holly Township supervisor, the Oakland County Board of Supervisors today approved the annexation of 48 township acres to Holly Village.

Although township Supervisor Cass B. Waters protested that the dozen families living in the affected area all oppose annexation, supervisors followed a Boundaries Committee proposal that the area should belong to Holly since it is in the Holly school district.

The committee said its recommendation was based on the results of a public hearing last month, at which more than 200 township residents protested annexation of a total proposed area 284 acres in size.

The smaller area also was selected for annexation, said committee chairman William A. Ewart of Pontiac, since there apparently was no opposition.

Waters today denied this, saying he believed the wishes of the affected residents were being overridden.

Waters in turn was contradicted by Village Attorney James G. Hartrick, who claimed he could prove to the board, if necessary, that annexation was favored in the disputed area.

The village had asked for incorporation of the larger area two months ago, but action by the supervisors was delayed when residents presented petitions of protest.

★ ★ ★

The village wanted to subdivide the larger area, which included a small portion of Rose Township.

Under the annexation law involved, residents of the affected area do not vote, but instead abide by the decision of the Board of Supervisors.

Trapped 14 Hours on High Ledge in Yosemite

Boy, 6, Plays Safe After Narrow Escape

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif. (AP) — Six-year-old Terry Wayne Dunbar and his family are continuing their vacation here today—but all of them, especially Terry, are staying in the park valley.

The Portland, Ore. youngster spent 14 hours Friday night trapped on a narrow ledge precariously close to a drop of hundreds of feet down the granite face of Yosemite Falls.

★ ★ ★

The boy had been hiking with a group that included his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bevins.

Terry disappeared but the group, split into two parties, did not miss him until they rejoined.

At dawn Saturday, searchers with loudspeakers and bloodhounds began combing the area along the dangerous trail edge. Terry answered a loudspeaker call.

★ ★ ★

Rescue workers who spotted him warned: "Don't move."

While Terry's mother and stepfather watched from the valley floor far below, Ranger Dick Pack was lowered on a rope. Pack clutched the lad and both were hauled to safety.

Pack asked the boy: "Weren't you cold?"

"No—I just went to sleep," the boy replied.

And apparently he had, although on a space so narrow that had he tossed or rolled he would have plunged to his death.

★ ★ ★

Terry slipped off the trail after stepping on loose shale rock, but stopped sliding on the narrow perch. He had only a few minor scratches.

Students in State of Chaos Over Tour of Red China

students has entered Red China, I do not wish to speculate on what action might be taken."

"Because we can't get a specific statement from the government here, we're all confused," Schwartz said. "We just don't know where we stand. I want to go—and you can be sure that if I can—I'm going."

Schwartz said the delegates had spent long hours debating the Red invitations.

There may be some Communists among the 150 Americans attending the festival, Schwartz said, but "not being interested in politics I don't have anything to do with those sort of discussions. I'm an artist.

"If I get to China, I'll see whatever they let me see and learn as much about their land as I can."

When told that his mother feared he might get "hurt" if he made the trip, Schwartz said, "I'll obey their laws and will take care of myself when I get there. I'm certainly not afraid."

"It's a one-in-a-lifetime chance to go there," he said, "and I'd certainly hate to give up the wonderful chance I have here."

Schwartz said he is "really worried" over not appearing for a pre-induction draft physical on July 23. "I really had planned to be home in July," he said, "but then this trip to Russia came up." A member of his family stopped by the draft board to notify them that he is still overseas.

★ ★ ★

He is the son of Joseph Schwartz, 6226 Auburn, in Utica. His father is employed as a crane operator in Romeo. His mother is Mrs. Evelyn Van Hevel, 22413 Donald, East Detroit. His parents are divorced.

Schwartz was reached at the U. S. delegation's hotel at the Moscow Agricultural Exhibition. It was early evening in Moscow, 10:45 a.m. in Pontiac.

Schwartz said the group would travel by rail across Siberia, and would be flown to Prague, Czechoslovakia after their visit to Red China.

It was also learned by the Press that Schwartz phoned his family in Utica over the weekend and expressed surprise about the publicity given the students planning to go to Red China.

Schwartz talked with his father; a married sister, Charlotte Hagle, 18; and a brother, Joseph, 30.

ASKED HIM TO COME HOME

"We all asked him to come home and not make the trip," Mrs. Hagle said. "He said that if he thought that he might get into trouble he wouldn't go.

"Larry told us that he believes he would be helping the United States by going because he could tell the Chinese people what our way of life is like."

His sister said the family was upset about the call because "we know that Larry didn't have the money to pay for it and we wonder who did."

At the University of Michigan, Schwartz held a straight B average and was active in dramatics. He was also an editor of the campus humor magazine, the Gargoyle.

In the summer of 1956 he worked in England for the U. S. Immigration Service. He has been supporting himself in Europe by teaching and other jobs, his mother said.

U.S. Bluntly Warns Against China Trip

WASHINGTON (INS)—The State Department today bluntly warned Americans attending the youth festival in Moscow that their planned trip to Red China would "subvert" U.S. foreign policy.

The department said the U. S. Embassy in the Soviet capital is attempting to stress the fact that such a visit would undermine American policy as well as violate passport regulations.

Forty-six Americans who attended the youth festival have begun turning over their passports to Red Chinese authorities to get visas for a three-week trip to China.

Says Dio Never in Union Rackets

over leadership of a drive to organize taxicab drivers.

Doria insisted that Dio was not recommended to him initially by Chicago AFL-Waste Handlers Union leader Paul Dorfman, who has been named as a former associate of Al Capone's mob. Doria said: "He (Dio) was recommended by a lot of people in the AFL once he became active."

Asked by Curtis whether Dio was "engaged in racketeering practices in New York," Doria replied: "To my knowledge, no. Johnny Dioguardia was not interested in anything other than the building of a union.

NO RACKETEERING

"To my knowledge, I know of not one single act . . . that involved Johnny Dio in any actions with the union that even approached what could be considered racketeering."

Curtis then asked "What about the people Dio surrounded himself with, those hoodlums and thugs?" Doria quickly responded: "No one criticized him more than myself for the people he surrounded himself with."

Doria said that if Congress doesn't want ex-convicts in the labor movement, it ought to pass a law to that effect, and make "a man who has paid his penalty a second-class citizen."

Plan Completion Possible Soon

Progress on Interceptor Sewers Depends Upon Talks With Others

Final construction plans for the proposed Farmington and Evergreen interceptor sewer systems can be readied before the first of the year if all goes well, Harold K. Schone, acting director of the County Department of Public Works, said today.

★ ★ ★

Schone warned the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, however, that there might be delays in negotiating with the communities involved and with Detroit, which would be the outlet for both projects.

★ ★ ★

Without unreasonable delays, he said, the $3 million Evergreen project can be off the drawing boards by November and the $2.5 million Farmington project by December.

Both projects were officially placed under the new DPW today after Schone reported they were feasible.

The DPW head was given the go-ahead signal to begin negotiations, although it was pointed out that placing the county's full faith and credit behind the financing has not yet been authorized.

★ ★ ★

The county's ability to step into the financing is one of the revolutionary aspects of the new state law under which the DPW was organized in June.

The Farmington system would serve Farmington City, Keego Harbor and parts of West Bloomfield, Farmington and Southfield Townships. Although Waterford Township once was included in the project, it has since been dropped.

The Evergreen communities include Bloomfield Hills, Lathrup Village and parts of Birmingham, Troy, Bloomfield Township and Southfield Township.

★ ★ ★

These communities have been ordered by the state Water Resources Board to halt their pollution of the Rouge River.

In a report read to supervisors today, Schone pointed out that the Evergreen system has been planned since 1951 and the Farmington since 1954.

But because of financing complications, he indicated, both projects have been held up until the DPW was created with broad powers over bonding and enforcement of special assessment districts to pay for construction.

Police to Ticket Lake Speeders

Waterford Patrol Starts Crackdown Today on Marine Hot-Rodders

A former Waterford Township policeman was rehired for special duty to patrol township lakes on a part-time basis, according to Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

Jack Hart was sworn in Saturday morning and began work immediately.

★ ★ ★

Lake property owners have been contacted and agreed to cooperate fully with the police. According to commanding officer Capt. M. J. Pender, complaints have been coming in to the township hall from lake residents regarding reckless operation and excessive speed of motorboats on the lakes.

Pender points out that with adequate prosecution of "water cowboys" and "marine hot-rodders," water accidents can be cut to a minimum.

Waterford Township police are working in conjunction with the Oakland County Sheriff's Office and State Police in an all-out effort to make the lakes safer for everyone.

According to the law, a person is guilty of a misdemeanor if he carelessly and heedlessly disregards the rights or safety of others while driving a motorboat.

Upon conviction, a culprit can be fined up to $100 or serve 90 days in jail, according to the discretion of the court. Any law enforcement officer or conservation officer can make an arrest.

Other restrictions include the muffling of engines of water-craft and required bow lights which can be distinguished at a distance of 500 feet.

The Day in Birmingham

Slate One Public Hearing, Two Requests for Board

BIRMINGHAM—Only one public hearing is scheduled by city commissioners this evening. It will be for the discussion of the special assessment on improving the F[illegible] street sidewalks.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners will receive requests from two organizations for fund raising street sales in September. Chalmers LaFray, commander of the South Oakland chapter of Disabled American Veterans is asking permission to conduct the Forget-Me-Not sale, September 13 and 14.

E. B. Morely Jr., president of the Birmingham Kiwanis Club, is requesting a permit for their annual peanut sale September 27 and 28.

Other items coming before the commission will be the manager's report on the 1957 sidewalk construction and repair program, model airplane flying, the newly prepared personnel manuel, Nixon Pond dredging, proposed sale of city owned property on East Lincoln and salt purchases for street maintenance this coming winter.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners also will receive a communication from the Michigan Municipal League concerning their annual meeting on Mackinaw Island, September 5 to 7. This will include elections and discussions of items of interest and benefit to League members.

Nine persons, five from one family, were injured in a four-car crash yesterday afternoon on Telegraph road just south of Hickory Grove road.

Bloomfield Township Police said Clayton LaRue, 21, of Garden City, lost control of his car when the boat he was hauling on a trailer began to sway and jackknife.

His car struck vehicles driven by Emma Edmonds, 39, of River Rouge, Dorothy Denton, 23, of Detroit and Melbourne Shekell, 43, of Detroit. Shekell's wife, Beth, 41, and his children, Patricia, 3, Suzanne, 5, Mary Jo, 8, and Linda, 9, were injured.

Also hurt in the crash were LaRue, Muriel Johnson, 43, Josephine Gray, 37, of Detroit and Donald Canfield, 20, of Livonia.

Birmingham city officials are in receipt of a letter from the James I. LaPine family, 645 Woodland, commending the fire department for its work at their home a few weeks ago.

LaPine said the fire started in the basement where a painter was cleaning brushes with gasoline. The man was slightly burned and told the LaPines on their return home of the prompt arrival of firemen.

LaPine thanked the department for their promptness and stressed his appreciation of the fact that no damage was done by them to the home. "I have always been under the impression," he said, "that once the fire department came into a home, no matter how minor the fire or how isolated, the place would be a mess. I am very happy to say that our home was in as good condition after the fire department left as it was before the fire."

Supervisors Approve New Home Cottage

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors today voted approval for its building and grounds committee to proceed with construction of one additional cottage to relieve crowded conditions at the Oakland County Children's Home.

This was trimming the recommendation of Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, who sought two or three new cottages.

James W. Hunt, director of Children's Services, said he felt that one cottage would be a step in the right direction, but hoped that additional cottages would be approved soon.

In another vote, supervisors moved toward completion of a new children's home annex next month, for about 20 neglected and dependent children of elementary school age.

Following a $19,000 appropriation by the Board of Supervisors today, Hunt said the home at 52 Franklin Blvd. will probably be accommodating an overflow of youngsters from the main children's home during the first month of school.

Today's appropriation was for operating expenses during the rest of the year. The Board already has spent $20,000 to buy the building and another $3,200 to renovate it.

The youngsters entering the new home will attend Crofoot School, under an agreement with the Pontiac Board of Education, Hunt said.

★ ★ ★

Previously, all school age wards and temporary wards of the county had attended classes at the Children's Home.

A STEP FORWARD

Hunt said the new, separate facility represented a step towards segregating dependent and neglected children from the delinquent children who make up the bulk of the main Children's Home population.

"However, additional facilities are needed if this segregation—highly desirable from both a programming and an administrative point of view—is to be accomplished 100 per cent," Hunt said.

Mixing together of the various types children placed by Juvenile Court under children's home authority is one of the evils that has resulted, Hunt pointed out, from overcrowding at the main home in the Telegraph road service center.

★ ★ ★

Judge Moore recently called on the county for wide expansion of the Children's Home facilities. He indicated the home is accommodating almost twice as many youngsters as it was built to hold.

McKINLEY W. ROGERS

Pontiac Man Dies in Ft. Lauderdale

A long-time Pontiac sporting goods and hardware dealer, McKinley W. Rogers died Sunday in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. He had suffered from a heart ailment for some time and was stricken recently with a more severe attack.

Mr. Rogers, of 773 W. Huron St., was active in amateur sports in the city for many years. He started in the sporting goods business in 1923 and in 1937 he opened his own store at 16 S. Cass Ave.

His body will be returned to Pontiac for service and burial from the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home. He is survived by his wife and daughter.

No Trace of Woman Lost on Pikes Peak

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A 100-man search party continued its hunt today for an 88-year-old woman mountain climber missing on Pikes Peak for seven days.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Ripley said there is virtually no hope Mrs. Inestine B. Roberts of Colorado Springs will be found alive.

The aged woman started her 15th annual climb up the 14,100-foot peak Aug. 3. She was last seen descending the mountain two days later on her way to a lodge below timberline. She never arrived.

Searchers, including trained army mountain climbers from nearby Ft. Carson and sheriff's officers, are checking the mountain's many chasms and wooded areas by horseback, jeeps and on foot.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

What worm accurately predicts the severity of the coming winter? How can you look at it and read the forecast for the coming winter?

★ ★ ★

A number of weather experts have confirmed the belief that the caterpillar, known as the "Wooly Bear," accurately forecasts the winter every year.

This may be hard to believe but it has been found that the brown band in the center of the Wooly Bear's length relates to mild weather.

If the band is wide, then a mild winter is ahead. If narrow, a severe winter is in store.

★ ★ ★

As mentioned in an earlier treatment of unusual weather facts, tests of the Wooly Bear's accuracy have proven this caterpillar remarkably accurate. Nature, then, reveals a valuable tip about future weather for those who are interested enough to observe carefully.

Third Party Possible

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) says that if Democrats nominate Gov. Williams of Michigan for president in 1960 and the Republicans nominate Vice President Nixon "There would be a probability of a third party for the election, if not for a longer period."

'Working Him Too Long'

Wife Slugs Mate's Boss

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Here's a wife who's against overtime for her husband.

Mrs. Virginia Scales, 34, was booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

She walked into an electronics plant where her husband John was working overtime.

Police said she hit his boss Frank B. O'Brien, 41, over the head with a 2-by-4 when he turned his back on her.

"Sure, I hit O'Brien in the head," officers quoted her. "He should be hit every day. He's stealing my husband from me. My husband's working too long."

O'Brien was treated at a hospital for a head laceration.

Knowland to Drop Reins

WASHINGTON (AP)—The expected announcement of Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) that he will seek the California governorship may plunge Republicans into a battle over their Senate leadership in the next session.

Knowland has announced he will not seek re-election to the Senate next year. He has indicated he intends to hang on to his GOP leader's post, however, until his term ends.

★ ★ ★

But if he becomes a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor and is faced with a campaign fight, some of his colleagues doubt he will want to be tied down in Washington next spring.

California primary battles usually are a 60-day affair, carried on in April and May before the June test at the polls. This is about the time Congress begins to get busy considering major legislation.

★ ★ ★

If Knowland were forced to campaign against GOP Gov. Goodwin J. Knight he would have little time to spend handling his leadership duties at a critical period.

Knight has given no sign he will step out of the way for Knowland. The governor has said he doesn't want to run for the Senate.

Grandpa never had air conditioning, but neither did he have to hunt for a place to tie his horse when he came to town . . . Men no longer laugh at those 1920 hats they see in the family album. The reason, says Norm Hendricksen, is that their wives are buying 'em again.—Earl Wilson.

Attempt to Kill Wife Claims 4

She Escapes as Miner and 3 Others Die in Bomb Explosion

YREKA, Calif. (AP)—A part-time gold miner just out of jail on a wife-beating charge sought to blast his wife out of existence yesterday.

He ended, said the sheriff's office, by blowing himself to bits and killing his son, daughter and son-in-law with a homemade dynamite bomb.

★ ★ ★

Wilbur Smith, 47, died instantly as his 16-year-old son Ted, his daughter Mrs. Charlotte Sturgis, 20, and her husband Doug, 25, sought to wrest the bomb from him. They too died in the blast that rocked this mountain town and the countryside.

"We're definitely labeling it murder and suicide," said Undersheriff George Banich.

He said Smith had been released Thursday from jail, where he had served a term for disturbing the peace and wife-beating that began with his arrest July 14.

Banich said Smith had vowed to "get Clara," his wife, 45. She was inside the house and was not injured in the explosion.

A neighbor, Patricia Swickard, 15, told Siskiyou County sheriff's officers she saw Smith arrive outside the house. She said the Sturgises and young Ted went outside and argued with him, then tried to take something from him.

The blast followed, hurling pieces of Smith's body as far as 200 feet from the driveway where he had been standing. The scene was littered with broken bodies and smouldering bits of clothing when police arrived with volunteer firemen.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Smith was hospitalized for shock and hysteria.

Banich said dynamite caps and fuses were found in Smith's car and fragments of oiled paper such as that used for dynamite wrapping were found in the blast area.

NATICK, Mass. (AP)—Harold A. Littledale, 72, second man to win a Pulitzer Prize for reporting when he won the award in 1918 for articles in The New York Post on New Jersey prison conditions, died yesterday.

OKEMAH, Okla. (AP) — William Chisholm, 80, grandson of Jessie Chisholm, founder of the Chisholm Trail, who had lived in poverty and went into a coma Wednesday without learning he had been granted $76,000 as part of an inheritance from his son, died Saturday.

COMANCHE, Tex. (AP)—Jesse F. Reese, in his 50s, reputed to have made $100,000 charging admission to his "uranium ranch" which, he said, contained a minor uranium deposit with curative powers for rheumatism and other ailments, was found dead Saturday.

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—William A. Troxell, 65, columnist for the Allentown Morning Call for 30 years and president of the Pennsylvania German Society, died Saturday.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (AP) — James Grimsley (Jimmy) Thompson, 63, nationally known horse trainer who operated stables in Huntington, N. Y. and Norfolk, Va., before coming to Winston-Salem, died yesterday.

NEW YORK (AP)—Louis Schramm Jr., 55, president of Allied Van Lines and Chelsea Warehouses and chairman of the Eastern Highway Transportation Conference, died Saturday.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Joseph H. Filerman, 54, Minneapolis businessman and musical director of the first Myrt and Marge radio show in the late 1920s who toured with his own band for a time using the professional name Jay Filere, died yesterday.

Money Mounts in Pot-O-Gold to $2,100

Another $100 added to the pot puts the Pot-O-Gold prize money at the $2,100 mark. Unless you don't mind someone getting in ahead of you to collect the loot, better get started right now on the new puzzle below.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

Confidential Magazine

May Call Clark Gable to Testify in Libel Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)— A private eye says Clark Gable, Ava Gardner and Joan Crawford may be among the famous faces in the crowd of witnesses being subpoenaed by the defense for the Confidential magazine criminal libel trial.

The Superior Court trial resumes today with further cross-examination of former Confidential Editor Howard Rushmore.

Private detective Fred Otash said yesterday he has a summons for Gable.

★ ★ ★

"We're holding his subpoena back, waiting to see if the (defense) lawyers want us to serve it as things develop in the case," he said.

"We also hold subpoenas for Ava Gardner and Joan Crawford, but we don't know if we will get a chance to serve them."

Miss Gardner is reported to be in Spain and Miss Crawford to be touring Europe.

Otash said he is employed by Arthur J. Crowley, attorney for two of the defendants, Fred Meade and his wife Marjorie.

★ ★ ★

Crowley is reported to have ordered subpoenas for about 100 persons, mostly film personalities. He has said he wants to ask them whether stories about them in Confidential and its sister publication Whisper are true.

But Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritzi said the state will seek to have the celebrities' testimony ruled inadmissible.

"I doubt very much that the tesimony of such winesses is admissible, and we mean to raise many points of law to show that it is not," Ritzi declared.

★ ★ ★

"We cannot understand what the defense is trying to prove with such witnesses, all of whom have been damaged by stories in Confidential.

Ritzi said also: "The purported or alleged truth of other articles has nothing to do with the articles on which we're basing our case."

As the foundation of their case, Ritzi and Clarence Linn, assistant state attorney general, have listed articles about Maureen O'Hara, Dorothy Dandridge, Dick Powell, Robert Mitchum, Corinne Calvet, Mae West, John Carroll, Mark Stevens, Frank Sinatra and Alan Dale.

Red Boss Holds Secret Parleys

Khrushchev to Devote Day to Meeting With East German Leaders

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev switched today from public speeches to secret talks on the sixth day of his stay in East Germany.

Fresh from a three-day swing to woo the friendship of the East Germans, Khrushchev set aside the entire day for consultations on economic and political problems of this satellite state.

★ ★ ★

He arranged to meet first with Walter Ulbricht, Communist party leader, for a political discussion. Then he was to join Soviet Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko for economic talks with East German leaders.

★ ★ ★

Allied authorities said that such questions as these were likely to come up for decisions:

1. What to do about East Germany's lagging export program to the Soviet Union.

2. Measures to tighten East German cooperation with the other satellite states.

3. Steps to bolster the unpopular East German regime which is maintained solely by the presence of 22 crack Soviet divisions.

4. Soviet actions to influence the crucial West German national election Sept. 15.

Fireworks Explode Injuring 35 in Bus

KAGOSHIMA, Japan (AP) — Two packages of fireworks exploded inside a crowded bus near this southern city today and injured 35 passengers, police reported.

Police said a fireworks manufacturer boarded the bus, then asked a friend to hand him two packages of fireworks through a window. Vibration of the bus plus the heat apparently touched them off.

Police reported that another bus tumbled down a mountain pass near Kagoshima yesterday, injuring 35 passengers.

At a road speed of 60 m.p.h approximately 3,000 gallons of water are circulated through the average automobile radiator each hour.

Paper Blasts U.S. on Oman Revolt

CAIRO (AP)—The newspaper Al Gumhurriya today accused the United States of ignoring the rebel Imam of Oman's appeal for help "in order to give the British a chance to achieve a cheap victory."

★ ★ ★

The imam recently sent appeals to both the United States and the Soviet Union for intervention in support of the rebels against the Sultan of Muscat and Omam. Neither nation has been reported planning to intervene.

★ ★ ★

"Today the Arabs have discovered through the Omani battle that the (Eisenhower) doctrine is not intended to aid nationalists or secure independence or defend peace," the paper said.

The doctrine offered economic aid to Middle East nations and military help in case of Communist aggression.

It's the Time to Enjoy Fresh Vegetables

This is the time of year when fresh garden produce floods the markets. There is nothing that can surpass the tempting flavor of vegetables that have ripened fully through the action of summer's sun and rain, and that are prepared and eaten while still fresh from the farm or garden.

Sweet corn, tomatoes, melons, berries; it is difficult to pick the most tempting vegetable or fruit. All are delicious when they can be eaten freshly picked and fully ripened.

Other seasons of the year may have their attractions, from the standpoint of weather comfort, holiday time or recreational preferences, but the latter half of summer in Michigan is the time when garden produce really comes into its own.

This is the time when Golden Bantam sweet corn fairly melts in your mouth; when all the sweetness and juiciness and the fullest flavor is to be found in home grown tomatoes; and when melons move so delightfully and satisfyingly direct from vine to dining room table.

★ ★ ★

It is wonderful, to be sure, to be able to get our produce shipped in from southern areas, so that we can enjoy fresh fruits and vegetables all the year round. And the frozen foods, too, have added much to dining variety and enjoyment.

★ ★ ★

But there is nothing in the food world to equal Nature's own perfect combination of a fully ripened fruit or vegetable enjoyed while it is truly fresh from the garden. This is the time to enjoy it to the full.

More Food Needed in Communist China

To get the equipment and raw materials needed to build industry, Communist China has one main source of foreign credit—the export of food.

The big question is whether that country can grow enough food for its own population of 630 million, increasing annually at the rate of 12 million, and for export also. Rice, flour, edible oils and cotton are rationed and many people are on the verge of starvation.

★ ★ ★

For some years China has been talking enthusiastically of mechanizing agriculture and releasing people from the drudgery of farming for industrial jobs. Now Premier CHOU EN-LAI has told them that those plans will have to wait until 1967 or later. He said:

"Our main task is to increase production per acre by better use of manpower and animal power ... Labor is still much cheaper than machines in China."

★ ★ ★

More labor is being turned to farming, even secondary school and university graduates. The latter had been promised industrial jobs but there aren't any. To feed China it takes three out of every four persons; in this country, one in seven.

Food is of primary consideration not only for the Chinese people themselves but for export in order to keep the industrial wheels moving. No nation can be industrialized overnight and certainly not a hungry one.

Our Flexible Economy

Many huge projects undertaken by American engineering and business interests have been possible only through the cooperation of many companies.

These projects, says RICHARD RUTTER of the New York Times, include military bases in Spain, the St. Lawrence Seaway and in the past, Hoover Dam and the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge. None of these big developments, he contends, would have been possible without a "corporate pooling of brains, experience, money and sweat."

★ ★ ★

Each firm taking part has lower total costs, greatly reduced risks and financing is more easily arranged. Profits are distributed pro rata. When the project is completed, the combine is dissolved. Machinery and equipment are sold and the various companies go about their business singly and in competition with each other.

★ ★ ★

The success of this joint venture system is demonstrated in the huge projects completed. Despite certain restrictive laws, American enterprise again demonstrates the flexibility of our free economy.

Recreational Spots in the Pontiac Area Break Record

Snake bite: Often an excuse for taking along another quart.

Oakland County's public bathing beaches and other recreational spots are breaking all records. It already is assured that both Kent Lake and Cass Lake parks will each go away above the million mark this year.

If the warm weather continues through August, and we have good weather over the Labor Day weekend, the combined attendance for 1957 in the county will crowd five millions.

Surely in a deep quandary is

A friend who claims that he likes the colorless, odorless and tasteless stuff wants better names for Vodka concoctions than Bloody Mary, Twister, Screw Ball, Moscow Mule, Bullshot, Zany Zhukov, Purple Cow, Ox-on-Rocks, Bulldozer, Happy Apple, Devasting Dynamite, Terrible TNT or Atrocious Atom.

David Lawrence Says:

Unions Abridge Freedom of Press

WASHINGTON — The people of New England lost one of their most precious "civil rights" over the weekend and one of their most important Constitutional rights, too, when the principal daily newspapers of Boston were shut down.

The Constitution says plainly that Congress shall make no law which abridges the freedom of the press.

LAWRENCE

But using the privilege of organizing workers into labor unions as granted by the labor-management laws—passed by Congress in 1935 and 1947—several labor unions by concerted action shut down a publishing operation.

The right to strike is only an individual right. Any man can refrain from working if he pleases. Likewise, he has a right to stay on the job, even if a strike is ordered by his union. There is, however, no Constitutional right bestowed upon any labor union—acting as a group or organization—to order its own members or to conspire to influence other labor unions also, to close down a publishing property and thus deprive the press of its freedom as guaranteed by the First Amendment.

The Supreme Court of the United States lately has been zealous in protecting the rights of Communists, Communist sympathizers and their organizations when refusing to answer questions asked by investigating committees of Congress.

NEW RULE

The new rule is that the First Amendment protects the individual even against inquiry by Congress. But now when the right of individuals to publish is impaired in Boston, what will the Department of Justice do about it?

The same question arose in 1953 when a similar strike occurred in New York City. Many of the unions which were engaged in the mechanical and other branches of the publishing operation had no dispute with the employer but refrained from "crossing a picket line."

In Boston, out of the various unions involved at the newspaper plants, all but one—the mailers—signed contracts and were willing to work. The publishers offered to submit the controversy over wages to arbitration.

But those unions which were not parties to the dispute nevertheless announced that they would support the strike and did order their members not to cross picket lines. Such concerted action shut down the whole plant. Thus a strike by 250 mailers forced out of work 5,000 other employes.

THE LAW:

The existing Federal statute says in part:

"If two or more persons conspire to injure, oppress, threaten or intimidate any citizens in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him by the Constitution or laws of the United States, or because of his having exercised the same . . . they shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years or both."

The foregoing is the "law of the land" today but the Department of Justice has been hesitant heretofore to apply it. In the pending "civil rights" bill—as passed by the House—the attorney general would be empowered to seek civil injunctions wherever any Constitutional right is impaired.

This, of course, would remove all doubt as to the power of the Federal government to prosecute "conspiracies" to interfere with the freedom of the press. There is, nevertheless, even under present law, adequate authority to question in the courts the concerted action of labor unions in Boston in the last few days.

CAN'T FIGHT SYMPATHY STRIKE

A newspaper might get along somehow without the work of a mailers union, for instance, but it cannot publish if the mechanical departments and reporters engage in a strike of "sympathy." This form of "sympathetic action" is supposed to be legal in the ordinary industrial dispute but is it lawful when the end result is to abridge the freedom of the press?

That's the real question which now confronts the Department of Justice and it certainly cannot argue that it must ride herd on officials of state governments in the operation of their voting regulations but can ignore the denial of Constitutional rights to newspapers upon which the community depends for so much of its current information.

Dr. William Brady Says:

They Keep Death Watch While I Chuckle and Roll

A year ago the eminent Dr. John H. Burkhart announced, in an open letter, that "The American Medical Association after attempting to appeal to syndicates which handle this material" (that is, Personal Health Service by William Brady, M.D.) "and having met with failure in this attempt, has resigned itself to wait until Brady passes on to his just reward."

DR. BRADY

The announcement shook my morale more than I like to admit. Haven't you noticed how ladylike most of the stuff in this column has been lately? For instance, instead of calling people "poor geeks," I have taken to calling them "poor souls."

And instead of calling medical merchants "ethical quacks," I refer to them simply as "trick specialists."

On the other hand, every night when I say my prayers and thank the Lord for having let me live another day, I have to ask Him to forgive me for chuckling — just can't help chuckling about the death watch my erstwhile colleagues are keeping on me.

You see, what with my morning rolls, functionally efficient teeth (some my own, some my dentist's, three afternoons a week gamboling on the bowling green, lifelong teetotalism, and daily dietary supplement (minerals and vitamins, as described in pamphlet Young Folks And Old Folks, for which send stamped, self-addressed envelope), I'm counting, the Lord willing, on pounding away here for a good long time.

IN GOOD GRACES

For years I was a member or fellow of the AMA and as conductor of a newspaper health column I enjoyed the cordial goodwill of the officers of the association. When I visited their headquarters, I received every courtesy one could desire.

It was shortly after an obscure employee of the AMA began to elbow his way from post to post and take over first this officer's and then that one's duties, on his way toward the dictatorship, which he finally seized and held for two decades, that my relations with the AMA began to worsen.

It was just before the AMA ransomed itself by retiring the voluble one with a fabulous pension that I got out — in the only way a member or fellow can get out, by ceasing to pay dues.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

Recent talk has been about insufficient recreation for teenagers. I wonder what most of these people would think if they were like my son and hundreds of other handicapped persons who can only sit in a wheel chair and have very little recreation of any kind. My 16-year-old son has been paralyzed for over four years but never complains. My teenage daughter finds plenty of clean recreation in church activities. What do parents of other handicapped children do to entertain them?

Would Organize Alcoholic Group

I was an alcoholic, and I am firmly convinced an organization of "Converted Alcoholics" could be a great Christian force. I feel the strong call of God to lead the way in organizing such a group.

Membership would consist of men and women who have, through the grace of God, found strength to overcome alcoholism and who emerged to become Christians. This purpose would be to seek out those who need help and carry the message of our Lord to them. The organization would be non-political and non-profit.

I urgently request everyone interested in such an organization to contact me.

'Try Economizing in Conservation'

I was interested to read the State is starting an economy campaign. The Conservation Department would be a good place to start. I read they're planning to build three artificial lakes in Oakland County at a cost of thousands of dollars. That's the first I had known there's a lake shortage in the county.

Why not transfer some of the surplus funds to the Northville Hospital which recently received publicity because there were no funds to pay help needed to care for mentally upset children? I believe they now turn such cases away.

'Why Not Put Tax on All Workers?'

I read many views about our schools and taxes. We know who pays the taxes . . . the property owners . . . people who are trying to pay for a home or older, retired people who own them and have a set allowance to live on, even though prices are rising every day.

Why doesn't the State have a tax set on every working person? We could have better schools and better paid teachers and all the tax load wouldn't be left for just a few individuals to pay. It seems to me those who don't pay taxes have the most children in schools.

Christian's Letter Gets More Replies

In two days nine letters have been written by people engaged in whether or not the world is soon to end. Dogma and doctrine should be confined to the church.

The futility of such arguments is apparent and, as an agnostic, it affords me a great deal of amusement to see alleged Christians fighting over their incredible faith.

'Japanese Girl No Better Wife'

There's been much talk about how much better wives Japanese girls make than American girls. The only reason so many American boys marry Japanese girls while stationed there is that no other women are available.

The same girls here would probably not get a second glance, unless the man is looking for a "yes" woman. It's not much of a man who won't tackle and tame an American woman.

Those soldiers are selfish, anyway, because the culture and beliefs of that country are too different from ours for a Japanese girl to make a satisfactory adjustment. People should think long and hard before trying to bridge such a wide gap.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Fear Often Worse Than Ailment

Henry has millions of "twins" who live under that same Sword of Damocles. Fear is worse than cancer and other pain producers, and the best antidote for fear is to face the facts and get on God's team. So study this case carefully. Mull it over. And go to church Sunday, for that's the safest place, medically, on this entire earth.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-367: Henry P., aged 43, has a very common type of worry.

"Dr. Crane, I'm scared about my heart," he began abruptly, "for I had a mild coronary attack several months ago.

"Ever since then I have dreaded a second one. My doctor tells me not to worry, and just to take things easy.

★ ★ ★

"But I feel like ancient Damocles with that sword hanging over my head, suspended by a thread.

"How can I get over this constant fear of another heart attack?"

TRUTH SETS US FREE

"The truth shall make you free," Christ once stated.

So let's face the facts. First of all, you may suffer from as many as a dozen heart attacks and recover from all of them.

And if an attack is not so serious as to blot out your consciousness, it is not likely to be fatal.

"Yes, Dr. Crane," Henry protested, "but suppose I should suffer an attack when I was all alone in the house. What could I do?"

Lie flat, for this places the least strain on your injured heart.

Then engage in forced, rapid deep breathing. For this brings an extra supply of oxygen to your heart.

And oxygen is the major need of the heart at such a time. When we medics get to your side, we administer oxygen from a bottle or place you in an oxygen room at the hospital.

But you can do much the same thing by this forced deep breathing right where you lie!

AUTO ANALOGY

If your auto suffers a cracked spark plug and thus isn't hitting on all cylinders, its power is obviously reduced, isn't it?

★ ★ ★

So you wouldn't attempt to steer it up a mountain, would you? Well, your heart is much like that injured auto when you suffer a coronary thrombosis.

Don't attempt to go upstairs or run or do anything else which will place an extra load upon your heart.

Your deep breathing will not hamper your heart but, on the contrary, may actually save your life.

For a little surplus oxygen during the first few minutes after an attack, may tip the scales in favor of life vs. death.

TALK TO GOD

Then put your case in the hands of the Almighty. For faith in God reduces your terror and calms you better than morphine.

Remember, terror zooms your blood pressure, thus placing a much greater strain on your already laboring heart.

★ ★ ★

"Lord, I'm trying to play on your team," you should say to yourself every day, and especially when you have your attack.

"So I'll lie flat and breathe deeply. Will you please take over the rest of my needs?"

God is the best medicine we have today, not even excepting Rauwolfia and all the other sedatives of a chemical nature.

That's why you seldom see anybody have a heart attack at church! Indeed, in your entire lifetime have you ever seen a person drop over with a stroke of apoplexy at morning worship?

Or suffer a perforated peptic ulcer? Or need to guzzle "happiness pills" or other pacifiers while sitting in a church pew?

Neurotic Americans spend $58,000,000 yearly on sleeping pills. If they would team up with God, they could relax without such chemical aids, and thus salvage that $58,000,000 for YMCA, CYO, and other youth organizations.

★ ★ ★

So get on God's team. We medics, at best, are only God's assistant coaches, so don't indulge in the adolatry of worshiping an M.D. instead of the Lord.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

GI French Out of Step With Times

By HUGH MULLIGAN

PARIS (AP)—Open letter to the secretary of defense from an American in Paris—

Dear Mr. Wilson:

Thousands of old soldiers will be returning to Paris this summer to see how the old town of happy furlough memories has fared in the 13 years since the liberation.

★ ★ ★

Many of them, like myself, probably will dig through their war souvenirs for a tattered copy of Training Manual 30-602, the little French phrase book issued by what was then the War Department.

A FEW CHANGES

It was a handy little reference work in its day, but times have changed. To preserve Franco - American relations, it might not be a bad idea if your department whipped up a new phrase book specifically designed for the ex-GI tourist.

How far can a fellow get in Paris today with sentences like "donnez du fourrage a mon cheval" (feed my horse) and "les troupes creusent-elles des tranchees?" (have the troops been digging trenches)?

You will get a better idea of what I am talking about when I tell you what happened on my first morning back in Paris after an absence of more than a dozen years.

Clutching the old phrase book, I set off boldly down the Champs Elysee from my hotel on a little shopping tour, confident that its phonetic simplicity would serve me as well in my tourist present as it did in my military past. "This phrase book," the first page reassured me, "contains all the words and expressions you are likely to need . . ."

★ ★ ★

My destination was a little specialty shop in the Rue de Rivoli. My objective: a collapsible umbrella, a charm bracelet, some perfumed bath salts, a printed scarf and a few other trinkets requested by relatives.

NOT MUCH HELP

I accosted a blue-caped policeman for directions, but first hastily flipped through my Army language guide for some prefatory greetings. Several were suggested. Among pas (don't shoot), alignez-vous (line up), planquez-vous (lie down), abritez-vous (take cover), and montrez vos papiers (produce your identification).

All seemed a trifle curt so I settled for one far down on the list—bonjour — and threw in a dashing "victoire" for good measure.

It was always a conversational pick-me-up in the old days, but he only scowled.

I hurried to the business at hand How to get to Rue de Rivoli? How to find a specialty shop? The table of contents failed to cover either situation. I could have asked for directions to a foxhole (trou-abri individuel), a minefield (champs de mines), a pillbox (blockhouse) and a booby trap (piege), but unfortunately none of my relatives collects foxes, mines, pills or boobies.

★ ★ ★

A high school French teacher from Ohio with a variety of handy expressions like "le crayon de ma soeur est bleu" (my sister's pencil is blue) finally directed me to the shop but again the Army guild book deserted me at the crucial moment.

OUTMODED PRODUCTS

No mention of collapsible umfumed bath salts. Shopping tastes have changed drastically since the war. Then masks de gaz (gas masks), de talc a pied (foot powder), bonnets de police (garrison caps (and laxatis (laxatives) were all the rage.

Even the grand old expression "Le gouvernement des Etats-Unis vous paiera" (the United States government will pay you), aroused suspicion and failed to evoke Gallic huzzahs as in the days of old.

You will be glad to know, Mr. Wilson, that I did manage to get the charm bracelet. It was a real unusual trinkets that most tourists never got to buy. They included une mitrailleuse (machine gun), un cannon lourd (heavy artillery piece), un fusil (rifle) and un fusee (rocket),

★ ★ ★

To give the Army its due, at least I fared better than the Ohio teacher. Turns out his sister hates blue pencils.

1 Illicit Gallon for Every 4 Sold

U. S. Moonshiners Doing Billion-a-Year Business

NEW YORK (INS) — Moonshiners still are doing a billion dollar a year business, with one of every four gallons of spirits sold coming from illegal stills in the United States.

★ ★ ★

This is the estimate of the Licensed Beverages Industries, Inc., on the basis of a survey whose results were announced today.

★ ★ ★

Thomas J. Donovan, vice president and executive director of LBI, stated that on the basis of the survey a record of 25,608 illegal stills were seized last year by federal, state and local enforcement authorities as against 23,717 seized in 1955.

★ ★ ★

"On the basis of this survey," said Donovan, "we estimate that moonshine activity in this country last year resulted in loss of close to a billion dollars in public revenues."

★ ★ ★

Donovan declared that moonshiners are estimated to have evaded approximately $700 million in federal excise taxes and $225 million in state levies.

"These figures," he said, "are based on a conservative estimate that 76 million wine gallons of moonshine were produced last year by illicit stills — those seized as well as those that were undetected. Enforcement officials believe that for every still seized, one or more continue to operate undisturbed."

★ ★ ★

Consumption of legal, tax-paid spirits totaled 215 million wine gallons in 1956, Donovan said, adding:

"If we consider that, in addition 76 million gallons of illicit spirits were produced and distributed last year, it must be concluded that one gallon in every four consumed was moonshine."

Religion With a Flourish

1,400 Sects for South African Batus

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—There is nothing sacrilegious about the African Casteroil Dead Church.

Or the Catholic Church of South Africa King George Win the War. Or the African Correctly Apostolic Jerusalem Church in South Africa.

They are just a few of the 1,400 religious sects which have grown up among the Bantu people of South Africa since 1910, when missionaries poured in. They have deviated a bit from the more Orthodox religious represented by the missionaries.

★ ★ ★

They include much religious dancing and chanting. They baptize in the name of the Holy Trinity by total immerson and preachers claim Christ was a black man. Periodically a drowning is reported after an overenthusiastic minister has held a convert's head under water too long.

They count their memberships either in thousands or on the fingers of one hand. Their ministers are either flamboyant prophets or domestic servants who don robes on Sunday afternoons to hold religious rituals on a nearby vacant lot.

The four largest are: The Church of Christ, founded by self-styled Bishop James Limba; the Church of the Nazarene, whose prophet is J. Galilee Shembe, a university graduate; The Zion Christian Church of Edward Lekganyane; and the Nationwide Parish of Nicholas Bhengu, preacher and faith healer. Each of these four churches has an estimated membership of 50,000 and in most cases are family concerns with leadership handed down from father to son.

The sole church recognized elsewhere in the world is the African Methodist Episcopal Church, which is part of the American Negro church of the same name.

Bertha Breezes Out Over Texas

Tropical Storm Sparks Some Welcome Rains for Parched Farms

DALLAS (AP)—The remnants of tropical storm Bertha dissipated over northeast Texas yesterday after touching off welcome rains on parched farmlands in the eastern part of the state.

Some lowland flooding was expected today along the Trinity River near Liberty, Tex., 46 miles east of Houston. The Weather Bureau said the river would rise to 27.5 feet due to torrential rains upstream that totaled as much as 12 inches. Farmers were advised to move livestock to higher ground.

★ ★ ★

A strong flow of moist, southerly air from the Gulf of Mexico wafted over northeast Texas yesterday in the wake of the once-feared storm. Some scattered showers fell.

Thousands of persons fled their homes along the Louisiana and Texas coast Friday before the storm moved inland near the Louisiana-Texas border and began breaking up without causing any great damage.

The rains in east Texas were hailed by cotton and grain sorghum farmers whose crops have not matured in dry topsoil.

A. B. Jolley, former Dallas County agricultural agent, called Bertha the "finest thing that could have happened."

He said there was some crop damage in isolated areas where 6 to 10 inches of rain fell over the weekend. The heaviest downfall was reported north of Palestine in east Texas, where 12.8 inches was recorded.

★ ★ ★

There was some minor flooding of homes and business places at Trinity, 100 miles southeast of Palestine, and at Trinity, 35 miles northwest of Livingston. Livingston got 11 inches of rain Friday and Saturday and Trinity reported 10 inches.

Two weekend traffic deaths in Texas were blamed on the rains.

Reds Prod Lagging Members in Poland

WARSAW (AP)—Poland's Communist party has ended a nationwide series of pep meetings designed to prod lagging members to action in the face of mounting economic troubles.

Reports indicate many of the party's claimed 1,400,000 members have withdrawn from all political work. Only the party leadership knows what proportion remains active after the shocks of de-Stalinzation, the Poznan uprising and the Hungarian revolution. Estimates here in the capital run from 250,000 to 750,000.

The party's insistence that only a Communist-led productive drive can improve living standards and bring real freedom has run into renewed trouble with the workers it was designed to impress. Industrial production which kept up to plan during the first five months of the year has slumped seriously during the summer months and the party leadership headed by Wladyslaw Gomulka is clearly alarmed.

Invite Mayflower II to Visit Great Lakes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Mayflower II has been asked to visit the Great Lakes next summer by five midwestern congressmen because "America's shoreline no longer faces the Atlantic Ocean alone."

Reps. Vanik, Cleveland; Ashley, Toledo; Rabaut, Detroit; Reuss, Milwaukee; and Kluczynski, Chicago, all Democrats, wrote Capt. Alan J. Villiers over the weekend asking that the ship visit "America's heartland."

The Mayflower II is a replica of the ship which brought the pilgrims to America. It crossed the Atlantic this summer and now is at New York city.

He Just Bubbles Along

DETROIT (AP) — Ray Wolfe, 64, who works for suburban Ecorse as a mosquito sprayer, filled his truck and whisked down three blocks yesterday with his huge spray nozzle blowing full force, glanced up to see bubbles blowing all over the neighborhood and later discovered he had poured 50 gallons of liquid soap instead of mosquito killer into his spray tank.

Students Voiced Protests

Hungary Fight Shook Red Hold on Bulgaria

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — Although Communists rule firmly in Bulgaria it can now be told they had a scare last fall when things started to pop in Hungary.

★ ★ ★

Bulgarian students drew up petitions against compulsory attendance at courses in Marx-Leninism. This was also a prime demand of the rebellious youths of Budapest. In Sofia a few anti-Russian slogans began to be seen on university walls. Students of music and arts took the lead, pointing out in effect that the Marxist theories had no necessary relation to playing the fiddle.

Premier Anton Yugov disagreed.

"We must decisively resist any request to abolish the studies," he told the youths, "and not allow any underestimate of the immortal and victorious Marx-Leninist teachings."

★ ★ ★

About 200 students are reported to have been expelled in Sofia and Plovdiv and that was that.

Still, Durzhavna Sigurnost, the blue-capped state security police, took precautions. Pistols were issued to trusted party members and they were given practice in using them. Bulgarians considered unreliable—how many is unknown — were taken to concentration camps.

★ ★ ★

Some Communist officials received anonymous letters containing newspaper photographs showing secret policemen strung up by the heels from trees in Budapest.

As it turned out, the Communists had nothing much to worry about. Student protests never reached the demonstration stage and grumbling soon died to its normal level.

Security measures are not much in evidence now in Sofia although the police still carry tommyguns at night.

★ ★ ★

Some of those interned last fall are now beginning to emerge and there is talk of closing down concentration camps, including a big one on the Danube island of Belene, whose watch towers can be seen from excursion boats on the river.

Smells a Holdup Before It Happens

CHICAGO (INS) — Carl Eyler, office manager of a Chicago finance company, can report a holdup before it occurs.

Eyler, who has been held up three times, smelled a robbery coming when he interviewed two men Thursday and asked for police protection.

Sure enough, the two men appeared at Eyler's office Friday with a toy gun and lengths of clothes line and were arrested by detectives who had hidden in an adjoining room.

Fisher Workers Vote Strike at Grand Blanc

FLINT (AP)—United Auto Workers Local 581 has voted to seek strike authorization against the Fisher Body plant in nearby Grand Blanc from the International UAW.

Strike action was authorized if the company does not establish new seniority rules. The local announced the vote was 1,342 to strike and 115 against.

The Fisher plant was the scene of a four-day wildcat strike last month in a dispute over seniority rules. It employs 2,700 workers.

They'll Be Jolted Up

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Pranksters who like to drive cars through the lovely canna beds at Swope Park have a jolt coming. J. V. Lewis, park superintendent, noted "we cut some steel railroad tracks into 5-foot lengths and set them in concrete with about three feet sticking up above the ground. we've just been waiting for some joker to try driving through there again."

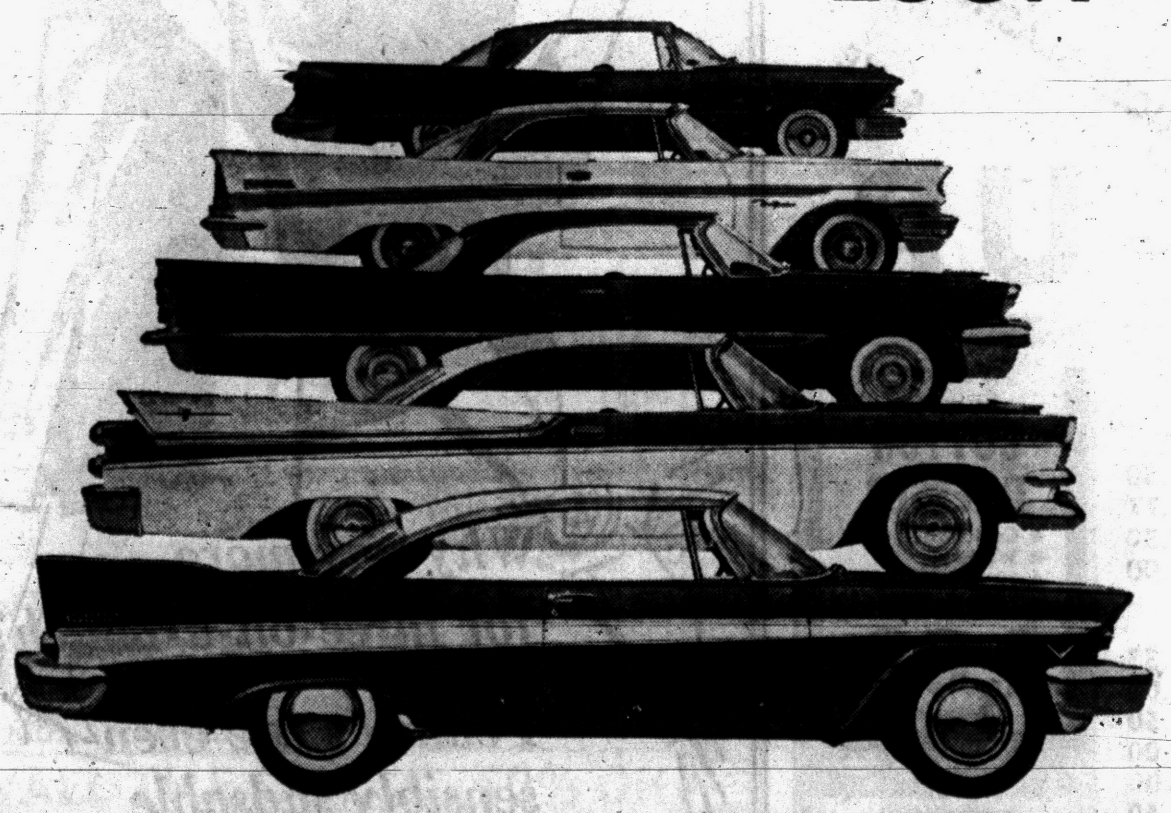

An average American family owns three beds.

Graham on Juvenile Delinquency:

Sin Produces 'Boredom, Mischief and Gang Wars'

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, opening a week-long series of sermons devoted to juvenile delinquency, said last night that sin produces "boredom, mischief, gang war—all kinds of things."

Conceding the importance of slums and family trouble in contributing to juvenile crime, Graham declared: "The trouble is deeper than environment. The trouble is deeper than parents."

★ ★ ★

Addressing an audience of 18,500 at Madison Square Garden, Graham urged youth to shun lust and dedicate themselves to Christ. About 40 per cent of the audience was estimated to be under the age of 25.

Graham has taken note of recent outbreaks of crimes of violence by teen-agers in the city.

In his sermon he drew an analogy between today's youth and the story of Samson in the Bible.

★ ★ ★

"Samson squandered his God-given strength on lust and passion," Graham said. "Many young people are yielding to the passions of the moment.

"True love is kind and long-lasting. Lust is selfish and short-lived. . . ."

Graham urged youth to dedicate their lives to Christ, and said, "There is no boredom in a life dedicated to Christ."

★ ★ ★

After the sermon, 621 persons stepped forward to make "decisions for Christ." This raised the total to 45,144. Total attendance since Graham's New York crusade started May 15 stands at 1,494,300.

In line with Graham's schedule of taking off Monday nights for rest, there will be no meeting tonight. Graham's New York crusade is scheduled to conclude with an open air meeting at Times Square Sunday night, Sept. 1.

Seek Limitation on Civil Rights

House Not in Session, So No Action Expected Before Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rival Democratic and Republican strategists jockeyed for advantage today while the civil rights bill remained in a parliamentary snarl.

With the House out of session until tomorrow, no action was expected before then.

★ ★ ★

Leading House Democrats were trying to line up support for acceptance of the Senate version of the bill, or a possible compromise that would limit the scope of a Senate jury trial amendment to voting rights cases only.

House Republican leaders, meanwhile, worked to get the bill sent to a Senate-House conference in hopes it could be strengthened and some features objectionable to the Eisenhower administration removed.

★ ★ ★

Most Southerners continued in opposition to any kind of a civil rights bill. Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) yesterday called it "purely a political bill" which he said would only inflame racial tensions.

Both Senate and House bills would give the attorney general new powers to seek federal court injunctions against violations or threatened violations of voting rights. Any person violating such an injunction could be prosecuted for contempt of court.

★ ★ ★

Under present practice, federal judges try violators of court injunctions without juries. But the Senate wrote in a requirement that anybody charged with criminal contempt should be tried by jury.

The Senate extended the jury trial requirement beyond voting rights cases to cover a broad range of other federal cases under which criminal contempt prosecutions may arise.

STOWAWAY — Hitching a ride on mother's back, this days-old cygnet gets an affectionate nudge from "Liz," a swan who lives on a lake in Wembley, England. The newcomer is one of five hatched. The others quickly took to the water, but this youngster prefers its "swan's-down couch."

Liner Sails After Fire Damaging Three Cabins

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — The 15,437-ton liner President Cleveland sailed from Yokohama on schedule today with 425 passengers bound for Manila and Hong Kong after an early-morning fire burned three of its first-class cabins.

The flames were discovered as the ship was passing the U.S. naval base of Yokosuka at the entrance to Tokyo Bay.

The ship's crew extinguished the fire in about an hour. No injuries were reported.

Hunt Typhoid Source at Indiana Convent

OLDENBURG, Ind. (AP) — Indiana health officials expected to learn today what brought typhoid fever to St. Francis Convent near this small southeastern Indiana farm community.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-five Catholic nuns are ill with the disease. State Health Commissioner A. C. Offutt positively identified the disease for the first time last night as typhoid fever.

The 25 are in isolation.

About 500 other nuns — staff members at the convent and school teachers on spiritual retreat — are quarantined and undergoing vaccinations.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Offutt said the quarantined nuns possibly could be released in about 10 days and take the final inoculation in their home convents.

Cellist, 80, in England With New Bride of 20

PLYMOUTH, England (AP)—Pablo Casals, famed 80-year-old cellist, arrived aboard the liner Antilles today, amused that his new 20-year-old bride Marta should be mistaken for his daughter.

"They haven't seen the love light in our eyes," he said.

Thieves Rob Church

SHICKSHINNY, Pa. (AP) — The Rev. Stephen Yanak left the rectory of the Roman Catholic Church of the Ascension to answer what he thought to be a sick call. That much accomplished, burglars broke into the rectory and took $750—the receipts of the annual church picnic.

Bulgaria Ties Checked Again

Administration Officials Seek Way to Restore Diplomatic Relations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some high administration officials are looking into the possibility of reestablishing diplomatic relations with Communist Bulgaria.

★ ★ ★

The last time congressional leaders were sounded out on such a move, months ago, the State Department drew a completely negative reaction and the matter was dropped. However, a new interest in taking action to end the seven-year-old break is now developing.

★ ★ ★

One of the chief arguments is that the American government should have representatives in contact with all the Soviet satellite governments in Eastern Europe and in position to observe closely developments throughout the European belt of Communist governments.

★ ★ ★

Furthermore, they argue that the conditions which originally brought the decision to break off relations in February 1950 have long ceased to exist.

Thrown From Truck Man's Leg Broken

An Auburn Heights man was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital Friday afternoon after being thrown from a truck while at work.

Allison R. Stoddard, 52, of 285 Oakmont St., told sheriff's deputies that the accident occurred while he was operating a truck at the Underwood Sand and Gravel Co., 4145 Lapeer Rd.

Stoddard was listed in satisfactory condition today with a broken leg, said hospital officials.

British Colony Balloting Today

Communism Top Issue as 200,000 Guianese Name Legislators

By LARRY ALLEN

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—More than 200,000 British Guianese vote today in general elections termed "the most fateful" in the history of Britain's possession on the shoulder of South America.

An underlying issue was communism. Demands for immediate independence from Britain sparked the battle for votes.

★ ★ ★

Guianese balloted for 14 legislative councilors for four-year terms.

Their choice of men to run the government of this underdeveloped and mostly unexplored colony rested chiefly between an avowed Communist and his bitter foe.

Self-described Marxist Dr. Cheddi Jagan, an East Indian, and his Chicago-born wife Janet Rosenberg Jagan led the Communist forces. They claimed they would win a majority of seats and defeat their onetime collaborator, Negro lawyer Linden Forbes Burnham.

On foot, by bicycle and boat Guianese flocked to 1,500 polling stations on the fringes of the jungle.

★ ★ ★

A high percentage of Guianese are illiterate. Many were confused in balloting by the symbols used.

Jagan and his Peoples Progressive party candidates were identified by an airplane. So were the Burnhamites, who call their party by the same name. Burnham split with Jagan two years ago, charging he placed communism above the welfare of the colony.

Results of balloting will be announced Tuesday night.

Of all the workers in the U.S., employed, according to census only about 19 per cent are self-reports.

GARDENA, Calif. (AP)—Birth of triplets has raised the total of David F. Schmunk children to 10—including two sets of twins.

Mrs. Eva M. Schmunk of nearby Redondo Beach, a bricklayer's wife, gave birth to a boy and a girl late Saturday night on her 34th birthday. A 6-pound, 9-ounce girl arrived at 11:40 p.m., a 6-pound boy at 11:51 p.m. The third triplet, a 5-pound, 6-ounce boy, followed at 12:19 a.m. yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The Schmunks' seven other children range up to 10 years of age.

Because both pairs of twins were born there, Gardena Hospital told Schmunk the triplets were "on the house."

Outlawed Army Destroys Barge

Irish Raiders Continue to Press Campaign by Using Violence

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Police said the outlawed Irish Republican Army blew up a government barge today after a weekend of violence in its campaign for unification of Ireland under one government.

The raiders seized a barge owned by the Northern Ireland government on Lough Neagh in County Tyrone. It was cut loose from its moorings, pushed out into deep water and blown up with a delayed action charge.

It was the fifth incident of the weekend attributed by police to members of the IRA, which has been outlawed both by the Irish Republic and Northern Ireland because of its violent methods.

The IRA is fighting to unite Protestant Northern Ireland, which is part of Britain, with the Irish Republic.

Shots were exchanged between Northern Ireland police and the raiders during an attempted attack on the police station at Newry, County Down, last night.

Police also fired on a band of men who attempted to cross into Northern Ireland early yesterday.

Last night the raiders bombed an office at Newry, causing an estimated $15,000 damage.

A post office garage at Newry was also set afire, destroying 12 government vehicles and causing damage to several others.

Police and troops of Northern Ireland were placed on the alert over the weekend after posters appeared, signed by the IRA, saying "the fight will go on."

The Record Shop

Claims Disc-Makers Cold to Unknown, Fine Voices

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA) — Here's proof positive that the record business is in its screwiest phase.

Manny Sacks, for many years the general manager of RCA-Victor, woke up early one morning not long ago. And he switched on his radio. For an hour, he listened to a disc jockey play record after record. Sacks says in all that time he didn't hear one record by an artist he'd ever heard of before.

★ ★ ★

Manny Sacks

Eddie Morgan

What's a poor guy going to do if he has a beautiful voice?

That is the problem that confronts may young singers today. Eddie Morgan is typical of this group of betwixt-and-betweeners. They have no name, hence find it tough to get night club or hotel engagements. And they have good voices, consequently aren't of interest to record companies who find that good voices are not commercial.

★ ★ ★

Morgan is an experienced singer. He's sung with Blue Barron's Orchestra, at the Roxy Theater in New York and some of the better hotels and night clubs. But when he goes to audition for a record company nothing happens.

"We don't want a singer like that," Morgan's manager is told. "He's got a fine voice, but why buys records of fine voices?"

What they want is a tricky voice, something with less quality and more quaintness. They want a voice that is easily recognizable on a juke box, something that has a unique sound to it.

Morgan says record companies have asked him to make "a good bad record," but he won't do it.

"I may never get a record contract," he says, "because I refuse to make what they call a good bad record."

He's made demonstration records which his manager has played for record reviewers and disc jockies and such. The verdict is generally the same — a great voice, a pleasure to hear, why don't the record companies sign him?

The record companies say, sure, he's good, and they like to listen to him themselves. But, they add, around three-quraters of all records are bought by kids, and kids want the crazy sounds, not the trained voices.

So Eddie Morgan — and there are dozens like him — is left out in the cold. And, even in the summer, it's uncomfortable out in the cold.

★ ★ ★

DICK'S PICKS: Gogi Grant's first RCA release, "It's a Wonderful Thing to Be Loved," is a good one. Others: "Zip Zip" (The Diamonds, Mercury); "By the Bend of the River" (Martha Lou Harp, Prep); "I Told a Stranger" (Rita Raines, Cadence); "From a Jack to a King" (Jim Lowe, Dot); "That Old Feeling" (Lena Horne, RCA); "We Belong Together" (Steve Karmen, Mercury); "Proud of You" (The Four Dolls, Capitol).

Recent movie sound track albums you might enjoy playing — Decca has the sound track of the Rita Hayworth film, "Fire Down Below," which contains some fine genuine calypso rhythms; RCA has the lush background music from Clark Gable's "Band of Angels;" Imperial's "Beau James" has the songs and music of Bop Hope's latest; Decca's "Omar Khayyam" was conducted by the late Victor Young and has his unmistakable stamp; Decca's "This Is Kim as Jeanne Eagels" is not exactly a sound track, but contains many of the songs from Kim Novak's latest film, in fine arrangements conducted by Morris Stoloff.

College Sleuths Can Win 9-Day Trip to Bermuda

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)— University of North Carolina students have a chance to win a nine-day all-expenses-paid trip to Bermuda.

All a student has to do—says the campus paper's offer—is to discover and phone in the whereabouts of three bandits who took $42,000 from the Apex branch of the Durham Bank and Trust Co. several weeks ago in a daylight hold-up.

Police are still hunting the bandits.

The student can win an extra three days in Bermuda by bringing the three bandits in person to the paper's office, the offer added.

17 Types of Dogwood Found Throughout U.S.

ATLANTA — There are about 50 varieties of dogwood, sometimes called cornel, in the world. Seventeen are found in the United States. Since dogwood was ideal for arrows, it was often known as arrowwood and Indian arrowwood.

Some of its other names are false boxwood, cornelian tree, nature's mistake, Florida dogwood, white cornel, spindle tree and bird cherry.

Four Die in Explosion of Bazooka Shell

YORK, Pa. (AP)—A playful game of "war" became real tragedy when a souvenir bazooka shell exploded near here killing four boys—two sets of brothers.

Killed in the blast Saturday were Gary, 15, and Joseph Weaver, 10; and Lynn, 10, and Stephen Baker, 9.

An investigation is under way to determine how the boys got the shell.

Police said the blast occurred when Gary climbed a tree near the Weaver home and dropped the shell to the ground. The other three youngsters were killed instantly and Gary died at a York hospital shortly afterward.

The Weaver boys are believed to have brought the shell home after a visit to their brother, Donald, at Ft. Bragg, N. C. several weeks ago.

Generator Trouble Causes Ship Delay

LIVERPOOL, England (AP)—Passengers today stayed aboard the liner Reina del Pacifico, crippled by generator trouble, while the Pacific Steam Navigation Co. made arrangements to send them to their destinations, some by plane.

★ ★ ★

The 17,872-ton liner had to put back to port yesterday after leaving here on a voyage to South America. She was already a week behind schedule after being stranded on a coral reef off Bermuda a month ago. Company officials decided to cancel the present voyage and to resume normal service in October after the generator has been repaired.

Here's Reason for Tale of Fish That 'Got Away'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The long arm of the law is reaching underwater to curb antics of divers at City Pier.

Irate anglers have been complaining of aquatic antics by spear fishermen, said Lt. Jerry Kedriersky.

"These skin divers have been cutting the fishermen's lines under water," Kedriersky said. "Other fishermen reported that their lines were jiggled and when they brought up the lines, nothing was on them.

"And some had their nets, holding fish they'd caught, cut open, while rocks had been tied to other lines."

Skin divers simply eluded uniformed policemen by swimming away.

Four spear fishermen were caught with their snorkels down, however, when police, harbor patrolmen and a life guard teamed up to track them down.

Arrested for breach of the peace was James Rushing, 18, of the Homestead Air Force Base. Three juveniles about 14 were given citations.

Outweighed 39 Pounds

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Dicky Whiteside, a 12-year-old Tampa boy who weighs 112 pounds, caught the heaviest fish during the Tampa Tarpon Tournament — 151 pounds. He won a $370 freezer.

Bob Considine Says:

Chennault's Men Educate Heroes' Children

NEW YORK (INS)—Antoinette Raponi was born Oct. 12, 1944, six months after her father was killed flying with Maj. Gen. Claire Lee Chennault's 14th Air Force in China.

Because of the tragedy, involving a man she was never to know, Antoinette will attend a university of her choice.

The 14th Air Force Association is made up of men who flew under Chennault's command during the war, and some who flew with him when he headed the Flying Tigers in the years immediately leading up to Pearl Harbor.

The association's education fund provides for the schooling of children of men who gave their lives in China and otherwise would not have the money to lay down at the registrar's office. It is doing wonderful work, needs a lift.

★ ★ ★

Chennault and his attractive wife, Anna Chan Chennault, will be in the U. S. until October, plugging the cause and reminding all within sound of their voices that free China still lives, breathes (though sometimes imperceptively) and dreams of a day when freedom will reign on the vast mainland of China, too.

We called on the warrior the other day and found him as tough and blunt as when we saw him in Kunming during the war.

A WEATHERED FACE

Chennault has the face of a fifth head carved on Mt. Rushmore, weather-streaked, sun-beaten, wind-whipped.

★ ★ ★

A legend in his own time, he has been living dangerously since his days as an Army Air Corps lieutenant when he led one of the first acrobatic teams.

His rough and tumble soldiers of fortune who fought the Jap air force in China, in fiercely painted P40s knocked down 217 Japanese planes (at $500 a head to the victor) and lost only five. His 14th did wonders with little. His Chinese Nationalist Airlines retreated from the mainland with his friend Chiang Kai-shek.

At 67, he would in all probability head up Chiang's U. S.-made air force if tomorrow brought a head-on clash with the Reds across Formosa Strait.

★ ★ ★

Here's Chennault on the Chinese situation:

"If the Chinese Nationalists hope to return to the mainland, they face a time limit. The Chinese Communists have killed between 30 million and 40 million Chinese, mainly people who knew or worked with Americans.

"The youngsters are being taught to hate us and all our friends, like the Chinese Nationalists. In 10 years, who knows how many will remain who knew us or want to?

DIE ON THE VINE

"I don't think the Red Chinese want to take Formosa, despite all the rantings and threats. They'd be content to let it die on the vine, though it won't. They'd like to get the generalissimo's people out of Quemoy and Matsu so their shipping could use the coastal ways without trouble.

★ ★ ★

"That's what they want, but they're not sure what the United States would do if they make a move. And neither is Chiang Kai-shek sure. We have not said. In Korea they knew we wouldn't move, so they poured down over the 38th parallel.

"Our aid to Nationalist China has been more realistic of late. It has now a fine little defensive air force and small-boat navy. But its F86s could easily be changed into fighter-bombers.

"Maybe that's why the Reds have stuck a half million men along a 200-mile strip of the mainland opposite Formosa, and built six new jet-length runways.

★ ★ ★

"Economically, Formosa is the soundest country in the Far East. Its schools, hospitals and housing improve daily. Its exports of rice, sugar, peanut oil, turkeys, bananas and other products are phenomenal, considering its size. It asks only to survive."

An outdoor music center to hold 250,000 people will be built at Melbourne, Australia, on the banks of the River Yarra.

Ecorse Has Clean Bugs After Bubble Bath

ECORSE (INS)—It's generally conceded today that the bugs in Ecorse are the cleanest in the world.

The city's official mosquito sprayer, 64-year-old Ray Wolfe, filled his truck with 50 gallons of liquid and went down three blocks with his huge spray nozzle blowing full force.

When he looked back and saw bubbles blowing all over the neighborhood, he checked and found he had filled the truck with soap instead of insecticide.

Youthful Scientist (18) Knows Her Atoms

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—At the age of 18, I was an accomplished ne'er do well, with little in the pocket and less in the head. Oh, I knew my "P's" all right (powder, picnics, passivity), but the "Q's" (quickness, queries, qualms) were to come much later.

★ ★ ★

Maybe that is why it was so surprising to observe Miss Joyce Myron, 18, in action. Joyce is the slender morsel of feminine frame, attached to the large chunk of professorial brain, who has just won $16,000 on "The $64,000 Question" for being an expert on atomic science.

Asked why at such an upstart age she is so smart, she was too smart to blush. She only explained.

"Let us be realistic about everything," she said, moving her hands daintily into a palms-up gesture. "I was a tomboy as a child and wanted nothing more than to be national roller derby queen, but I grew up."

That was about age 12. "On my birthday I received a chemistry set, and I suppose that was quite a catalyst. By that time, I had also run out of books to read and I was able to procure a copy of a physics textbook. I just calmly sat down and absorbed it.

OUTSTANDING ODORS

"When I was 13, I took my chemistry set to camp (A YWCA camp in Pennsylvania). It was at this time that word of my attributes began to get around—along with some outstanding odors . . . I was working with sulfur at the time.

"My parents were not alarmed when I said I wanted to be a nuclear engineer. In fact, I suppose after so many years of seeing me play football, they were rather relieved.

At any rate, I continued to study science diligently in high school and then accepted a scholarship to Drexel (Rutgers University's science and engineering school). I am currently on leave of absence from my summer job of analyzing steel alloys for Wright Aeronautical."

Miss Myron, who knows how atoms are split, also knows that hairs should not be. So she answers all questions unequivocally. Asked if she prefers science, for instance, to young men, she replied: "No, oh no!

"I go with a great many men. I have twins from Dartmouth in business, and a pre-med major in physics from Princeton, and a nuclear fellow from Drexel. And I'm getting an aeronautical engineer from M. I. T. right now."

NO MARRIAGE FOR A WHILE

Miss Myron didn't stop to explain how she's getting him. But she did say that she has no intention of marrying for some time, partly because she has eight or nine years more of study before she gets her doctorate. But mainly because:

"People are living longer, I don't see why they don't enjoy their freedom longer. I have nothing against marriage; in fact, I fully intend to get into it someday. But let's be realistic again, marriage does limit your activities."

YOUNG "COED" — Two-month-old Wan Hyang Jin seems to find college life a bit boring as she accompanies her mother to class at Kent State University in Kent, Ohio. Mrs. Jin, whose husband is a political science major at the university, was caught without a baby sitter so she took the youngster along when she had to do some catchup work on her architectural drawing course. The parents, both from Seoul, Korea, expect to return home when Jin completes his studies.

Junior Editors Quiz on LONGEST WALL

QUESTION: What is the longest wall in the world?

ANSWER: The Great Wall of China is the longest wall ever built. It stretches 1,500 miles along the Mongolia — China border — or equal to half the distance across the United States.

This gigantic wall is 22 feet high and tapers from a width of 20 feet at the bottom to about 15 feet at the top. Towers 30 to 40 feet high are built into the wall every 200 to 300 yards. The sides of the wall are made of bricks and blocks of granite. The top is paved with bricks set in lime and forms a pathway along which people can walk.

The Chinese started building the Great Wall about 200 B. C. to keep the northern Tartar tribes from invading. The original wall was a crude affair of clay. The present wall was completed about 1300 A. D. Thousands of Chinese toiled for 10 years to finish it, and hundreds died under the strain. The wall is considered a remarkable engineering feat because of the rough, mountainous terrain through which much of it winds.

Much of the wall is still in good condition today.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Next time you go to a beach, build a sand model of the Great Wall.

18 County Men Enlist in Marines

Area Recruits Sent to California Station; 4 From Pontiac

The U.S. Marine Substation in Pontiac announced today that 18 men from Oakland County enlisted during the month of July for periods of two and three years.

Family Finds Tornado Shelter Too Popular

LESLIE (AP) — Donald Hayes, Leslie village marshal, built his family a storm shelter after he became concerned about the rash of tornado reports in Michigan earlier this year.

But now he wonders if his family will be able to get into it in the event of any disaster.

The last time storm warnings were received in the area, Mrs. Hayes hustled her two children into the shelter, a two-car garage built of 3-foot-thick reinforced concrete and dug into a hill.

She found 15 neighbors there ahead of her.

Wacs Give Shoes Name

Litterbags to Combat Litterbugs

Highway Cleanup Slated

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department is starting at home in a campaign to clean up Michigan's highways.

Commissioner John C. Mackie said that all department employes will be asked to cooperate in a campaign to reduce litter along the state's trunklines.

The department has ordered 50,000 disposable litterbags distributed to the 23 maintenance garages throughout the state for use on the some 1,200 trucks and cars operated by department personnel.

"Every employe should assume special responsibility in an effort to reduce litter along the highways," Mackie said, noting that the department spent $300,000 during the past year for roadside cleanup.

Propose Annexation

YPSILANTI (AP) — Petitions are being circulated here proposing an annexation that would increase Ypsilanti's size by 30 per cent. The proposal would give the city 600 acres of Ypsilanti Township land. The petitions were drafted by residents of the College Heights Subdivision and will be submitted to the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors, probably within 10 days.

Planes Drink It Up

YPSILANTI (AP)—More than 107,000 gallons of aviation fuel are used daily at Detroit's Willow Run Airport, a spokesman reports. He says this is enough gasoline to keep the average car running for 125 years and "one of those little foreign cars" for 250 years.

Liberians Give Guests Exotic Fare

Ambassador, Wife Show Washington Native Customs

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Like most diplomatic hostesses, Mrs. George A. Padmore, wife of the ambassador from Liberia, is eager to acquaint Americans with the culture and customs of her country.

★ ★ ★

The handsome air-conditioned Liberian Embassy is filled with paintings and art objects brought from the African republic and for celebrations of national holidays, Mrs. Padmore, whose hobby is cooking, oversees the preparation of the native dishes that grace the buffet table.

110TH ANNIVERSARY

At a recent reception marking the 110th anniversary of the founding of the Liberian republic, the hostess offered several of her country's favorite foods to the more than one thousand guests. Some of the ingredients were sent all the way from Africa.

★ ★ ★

Many months ahead Mrs. Padmore wrote home for supplies of such items as palm butter and palava sauce.

Other delicacies included the ambassador's favorite papaya pie and a dish called jolloff rice, a concoction of chicken, spare ribs, smoked ham, shrimp, onions, tomatoes, beans, cabbage, sweet pepper and, of course, rice.

Another favorite with the Padmores and their five young sons is a peanut stew. This is also made with a stewing chicken cooked with spices, poultry seasoning, an onion, a bay leaf, a red pepper.

PEANUT BUTTER SAUCE

When the chicken is tender it is served with a sauce made of one jar of peanut butter mixed with cold water into a paste and rice.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Padmore says that Liberians like to cook with okra, as do many Southerners in this country, and they also use a lot of peanut oil.

The Padmores, who have been in the United States, little more than a year, speak English as do all Liberians. English is their national language and Liberian schools are run on the American plan.

★ ★ ★

Liberian women have the vote and, while none are serving in the national Legislature, three women hold cabinet posts.

One is undersecretary of public instruction, another is in the defense department while the third is minister of public works and utilities.

Outside Job Needn't Cost a Lot

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There is an old story about a man who was in prison for 20 years, in an old-fashioned dungeon with a heavy, locked door.

At least, he took it for granted that the door was locked. So for 20 years he stayed there, wearing his life away.

★ ★ ★

Then, one day, it occurred to him to try the door. He found it was unlocked and he walked out, free! But the tragedy is, he could have done it 20 years earlier.

TAKE FOR GRANTED

Many of us have areas of our lives that are "locked doors." These are things we take for granted are true, but which are not true.

★ ★ ★

One such thing I often encounter is the idea that it costs a lot of money for a homemaker to get a job away from home.

That is what Jeanne K thought for a long time. Jeanne first wrote me a couple of years ago.

★ ★ ★

"My children are in school now," she said, "and I've got to get something to do, partly because we need the money and partly because I've got time on my hands. Please send me some information on making money at home."

AN OUTSIDE JOB

We corresponded for a while and it became apparent to me that Jeanne should get an outside job, not a home project.

★ ★ ★

In the first place, home projects are difficult and take all kinds of self-discipline which Jeanne didn't have. Moreover, Jeanne is an extrovert who loves working with lots of people and being a member of a large team.

Then, too, her skills, which are typing, clerical and switchboard work, do not lend themselves to lucrative home projects.

★ ★ ★

"But I couldn't get an outside job," Jeanne kept saying. "It would cost a fortune for clothes, visits to the hairdresser and everything."

THEY ALL FAILED

Jeanne tried any number of home projects, against my advice, and all of them failed. Finally she knuckled down to getting an outside job and succeeded.

★ ★ ★

She has a next door neighbor who keeps an eye on the children for the hour between the time school is out and Jeanne's job is over—and for pennies.

Jeanne and I planned a wardrobe which was based on the thing she had plus two blouses, three scarves, a pair of pumps and a hat.

★ ★ ★

Then she bought a wonderful book called, "Style Your Own Hairdo," by Victor Vito, which enables her to look as chic as any career girl alive.

GIVE IT A TRY

Many women who say, "But I couldn't get an outside job. It would take very penny I make just to dress for it," are like the man in the "locked" dungeon.

★ ★ ★

If they just try, they'll find it isn't so at all. They'll also find they can add a lot of money per week to the family budget, far more than they could from a home project—unless they're exceptionally gifted.

Squash Used in Layered Casserole

Mrs. Pond Bakes Zucchini With Meat, Potatoes, Tomatoes

By JANET ODELL

Oh, how we love readers who send us recipes just because they'd like to share them! We wish our mail would include more of the same. This latest one is for a squash casserole.

Mrs. Harold V. Pond says she worked out the recipe herself. She is an active church worker and the proud grandmother of eight grandchildren. At present she is caring for four of them with their mother recuperates from an operation.

FRICKLE

By Mrs. Harold V. Pond

2 medium zucchini squash (8-10 inches)
6 large potatoes
2 pounds hamburger
2 large onions
1 quart tomatoes
Salt and pepper

Peel and slice potatoes and onions. Slice squash, leaving skin on and seeds in. Make layers of potatoes, squash, meat and onions in large baking pan or casserole.

Salt and pepper each layer. When pan is full pour tomatoes over ingredients. Bake in moderate oven (350 to 375 degrees) for 4 hours or until potatoes are thoroughly cooked.

If you are in a hurry, the potatoes may be partially cooked before making casserole. Serves 8-9 generously.

Pan makers are emphasizing a ready mix size pan—a square 8x2-inch item — that is most often mentioned in the recipes.

'How Can I Get Her to Settle Down and Face Facts?'

Wife's Battle Against Age Bothers Husband

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I have received many letters recently from men commenting on the foolish fervor with which some of their ladies fight age and about the romantic aspects of marriage. Individuals often write freely to someone like myself whom they do not know when they would not say the same things to their best friends.

★ ★ ★

I think my feminine readers might be interested in some things they say and might profit by them also. Following is one letter:

"Isn't it emotionally immature for a woman to pretend she is years younger than she is and to resent her husband's reference to her nervousness, irritability and many other symptoms such as menopause?

"She is making herself sick fighting middle age and refuses to face up to it. What is your advice to women of this type? How can I get her to settle down and face facts?"

★ ★ ★

Many women experience nervousness and irritability at this time. Before the advent of hormone therapy there was in some cases a dramatic change in a woman's personality. An easy-going out-going woman might become suddenly sensitive and irritable. This, of course, would be temporary but sometimes it lasted long enough to do real damage to her marriage.

SHOULD BE GLAD

Rather than resenting it a woman should be glad that her husband understands that she is under temporary strain. In fact it long has been the belief of most physicians that husbands should be educated about the real facts of menopause so that they will be more lenient and thoughtful at this period in the lives of their wives.

★ ★ ★

Certainly I do not think that woman should fight age or kid themselves about it or try to fool others. Concentration on age is a sure way to speed the aging processes and to appear even older than one is. The truly youthful woman is too busy living to think much about it.

Perhaps this man's wife thinks of menopause as the beginning of age or a sign of age. Or perhaps the man who wrote this letter thinks of it that way himself and that is why his wife resents his comments.

Middle age CAN be fun. Don't make yourself sick or worry because you are passing into middle age. Worry will only make the years seem worse.

Nothing could be further from the truth! Many women experience a big pickup in energy after menopause is over and many of them find sex life more satisfactory than ever before.

★ ★ ★

I can see how it would be very dreary to live with a woman who is desperately trying to appear and act younger than she is, who dovers her depression at the passing of the years with frantic attitudes and actions.

On the other hand, while most men appreciate an effort on the part of their wives to remain as youthful looking as possible, some find it more restful or convenient to think of their wives as older.

★ ★ ★

This is true if they themselves have settled down into an old age attitude and life. In some instances it is because they are contemplating a last fling.

A letter like this one is stimulating to many thoughts.

SOPRANO COMBINES TALENT AND BEAUTY

The Metropolitan Opera soprano Mary Curtis Verna has starred at many of the internationally famous opera houses here and abroad. In a short time she has won fame not only as a talented artist but also as a great beauty. Each one of these is considered a full time career so I decided to ask Mary how she does it.

★ ★ ★

Miss Verna seemed genuinely amused at the idea of being a beauty. With characteristic New England honesty, this Massachusetts-born singer said, "I'm just lucky to be living at a time when it's fashionable to be tall and fortunately I don't put on weight easily.

"I can't take credit for my good skin because I just inherited it. I often wear my hair in a chignon, pulled back and twisted in a knot, so I can't say I have even done anything interesting with that."

Mary Curtis Verna, trying to be helpful, continued: "Maybe you were thinking of fashion. That is something I HAVE spent some time thinking about. I think a good sense of style often gives the illusion of beauty."

★ ★ ★

Mary is a beautiful woman, regardless of what she said, and she had some very interesting things to say about style and the selecting of clothes. Line comes first with her.

CHOOSE WISELY

She said, "There's always more than one line in a season and it is up to the individual woman to choose the one that does most for her. Lines should follow the figure if it's good and disguise it if it isn't. A fitted sheath is lovely on a slender figure but an easier skirt is beter for someone who has a hip problem.

"A full-bosomed woman can emphasize her abundance with a simple bustline or minimize it with softness. Fullness over the bust will give a woman with a bosom which is too small a bonus of femininity."

Miss Verna's method of using a full-length mirror when selecting clothes is a splendid one which many women fail to employ. She said, "Never use a full-length mirror close up when selecting your gown and suits. And don't stand still. Stand as far back from the mirror as possible to survey yourself. See if you stand out above the color or if it submerges you.

"Ask yourself if the bodice detail intended to reveal or disguise the bust does so. Then move toward the mirror. Does the straight skirt that looked so well when standing still strain or create unbecoming lines when you walk? Does the bouffant skirt shorten you too much?"

★ ★ ★

As every woman in public life must be, Mary is keenly aware of the importance of good posture. Her comment was, "More figure and fashion problems can be solved by good posture than by diet and exercise."

SPLENDID EXERICES

It is true that just the act of holding oneself correctly can immediately improve the figure and is also a splendid exercise. Miss Verna's favorite exercise reminder to get the feeling of good posture is to back up to the wall and stand with head, shoulders, derriere and heels touching the wall.

★ ★ ★

When you leave the wall try to keep this feeling. I liked the term she used. She calls this a "muscular memory."

Slaps Don't Quell Attention-Seeker

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Early one afternoon a friend of Maida's mother whom she hadn't seen for three years dropped in for a visit.

It wasn't very successful.

Maida's baby brother behaved beautifully. He permitted himself to be thoroughly admired; then fell asleep almost as soon as he was placed in his crib.

But Maida refused to take her nap. Finally when she had to be allowed downstairs, she used every reason she could think of to divert her mother's attention from the guest.

The loose wig of her doll needed securing. She had to go to the bathroom. Where was her book with the picture of the three baby kittens?

★ ★ ★

At last, exasperated beyond endurance, Maido's mother slapped here — and took her back upstairs.

GOT RID OF GUEST

There Maida succeeded in her purpose. She got rid of the guest. She screamed so long and intrusively that the guest couldn't stand it and remembered she had some shopping to do.

★ ★ ★

Thus, slapping our attention-demanding tyrant gets nowhere. The experienced parent has learned this — and deals with him by arranging attention to him BEFORE he starts in to demand it.

You take an old pillow slip. Into it you put some of Maida's forgotten toys. On your first trip downtown, you visit the dime store where you pick up some new ones. These you mix in with the old ones and tie the bag shut.

Then you call Maida to you and say, "This is your Surprise Bag.

"It only comes out of the closet when we go to see people or people come to see me. Before I start talking to them, I'll open the Surprise Bag.

"With your eyes closed, you can reach into it — and see what you find. After that you can reach into it one more time. Now before I put it away, close your eyes, reach into it — and see what treasure you find."

HER HAPPINESS

When the Surprise Bag succeeds in reducing Maida's attention demands, don't run off with the idea that she's been soothed by the toy watch or playing cards she's pulled out of it.

★ ★ ★

What has fed her hunger for our attention is the sight of the white bag beside our chair — its visible, comforting assurance that her happiness is on our mind even while we seem to be attending to our guest.

Girl Fails to Return Silver Tray

Present Given for Engagement That's Now Broken

BY EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Three months ago the daughter of a very close friend of mine became engaged. One month later the engagement was broken. As an engagement present, I gave her a very beautiful and costly sterling silver tray. So far she has not returned any of the presents and I don't think she has any intention of doing so.

"As this tray was given to her because of her engagement, don't you think it should be returned since the engagement no longer exists? If I had this tray I could give it to another friend who is soon to be married and it would save me the expense of having to buy another present. Could I possibly ask to have it returned?"

Answer: The girl should have returned the tray unless you had it marked with her initials. You might speak to her mother about this.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have been asked to be godparents at a christening. We have never served in this capacity before. We bought the baby a very nice present and now have been informed by the baby's parents that we are to give a donation to the clergyman.

"We hadn't counted on this and I am sure I read somewhere that this is up to the baby's parents."

Answer: No fee is required for a baptism. A donation is however usually given to the clergyman by the parents of the baby, not the godparents.

'I Love My Husband, but - -' Indicates Lack of Devotion

Wife With Real Affection for Her Mate Accepts Faults Along With Virtues

By RUTH MILLETT

"I love my husband, but . . ." Whenever a reader begins a letter with those words a list of her husband's faults is sure to follow.

After years of reading such letters I am beginning to wonder if the woman who — even in her own thoughts — always adds "but" after the declaration, "I love my husband," really does love him.

Isn't it more likely that what she feels is, "I would love my husband if he weren't the way he is?"

And that, of course, isn't love at all. A woman who really loves her husband loves him as he is.

If she has been married to him for any length of time she is sure to know that he isn't perfect. She is bound to have found faults that make him less than a perfect husband.

★ ★ ★

But because she loves him she doesn't dwell on the faults or wish constantly that he would change.

Instead, she is thankful for his good qualities and makes sure that others know what they are.

★ ★ ★

And if she can see herself as clearly as she can see her husband, she knows that she isn't perfect, either, that for every fault she puts up with in her husband he is putting up with a fault of hers.

Any woman who catches herself thinking, "I love my husban but . . ." ought to examine the love she professes.

It may shock her to learn that her love isn't as great or as generous or as rewarding to her husband as she has always thought it to be.

★ ★ ★

"I love my husband, but . . ." may only mean "I would love my husband if . . ." And that, of course, isn't love at all.

No-Record Court--a Second Chance

By MAX E. SIMON

Many teenage lawbreakers in Oakland County are getting a second chance to keep their names out of police files.

Believing that "giving youngsters a criminal record is like kicking them in the teeth," members of the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office have established a Court of No Record in an attempt to protect the future of teens in trouble.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor, whose idea it was to found the court in the fall of 1955, says it is an effective way to curb crime among 17 to 20 year olds.

Before the establishment of the court, teenagers too old to fall under the jurisdiction of Juvenile Court were taken through regular court channels, thereby acquiring a criminal record.

★ ★ ★

The Armed Forces refused to accept those convicted of felonies, and many others were unable to get work when it was learned they had a police record.

HAD LITTLE CHANCE

"Youths convicted of crimes would be afraid to aim at high goals," Taylor recalled. "The fact that they had a criminal record preyed on their minds."

The Court of No Record attempts to help first offenders gain a clean bill of health with the law, but does not accept any cases involving sex or violence. Cases appearing before the court must be recommended by police officers.

What the court is interested in, Taylor said, is the reformation of first offenders.

Offenders are informed that the court has no legal jurisdiction and that they need not submit to its jurisdiction. But if a teenager agrees to appear in the "off-the-record" court, he must abide by the decision of the court and agree to the terms of probation set in his case.

GET SECOND CHANCE

No record is made of proceedings, nor is any publicity given to the cases. Youngsters do not get a criminal record but are given a "second chance," Taylor said.

"If they do violate the terms of the probation," Taylor said, "we immediately issue a warrant for their arrest for the original crime and they are sent through regular court channels."

So far, out of 425 cases appearing before the court, only eight have violated probation and become involved in more trouble with the law.

★ ★ ★

The "off the record" court meets in one of the courtrooms in the Oakland County Courthouse. Appearing in each case are the offender, his parents, police officers, and the complaining witness.

ALL TELL STORY

"Everyone has an opportunity to tell his side of the story," Taylor said. "Often parents admit that the child has lacked proper home supervision."

Teenagers are usually put on probation for six months.

Taylor said that he learned early in the work of the court that only a small percentage of the young lawbreakers went to church. Seventy per cent of the persons appearing before him had no record of church attendance.

Although no one can be forced into attending church, Taylor said that in many instances probation time is cut from six to four months if the youngster can furnish proof of church attendance.

After youths appear in court, many parents take their children to church, Taylor said, where previously the children were just sent or did not go at all.

HELPS WITH JOBS

The court also assists boys in getting jobs. Often being idle gets boys into trouble, Taylor said.

If the youths want to join the Armed Forces, Taylor said the court tries to make arrangements for entering them into the branch of their choice.

"Most of the fellows aren't afraid of law officers," said Chief Investigator Anthony F. Stiel, who assists Taylor in the court's work. "They are genuinely sorry about what they have done and are very cooperative. They don't want to bring disrespect upon their household."

KEEP CLOSE TRACK

Taylor and Stiel both work overtime trying to keep the records of young offenders clean. They personally keep check of each case, calling at their homes in the evening after working hours to make sure that they are not violating probation.

★ ★ ★

An amazing development in the history of the court is that many first offenders who have completed probation call up Taylor and tip him off about other teenagers who may get into trouble.

Parents of the children are most enthusiastic about the "off the record" court, Taylor said. "In many instances, parents ask us to take the offenders' brothers in tow because they're afraid that the other children are headed for trouble."

Most teenagers are grateful for the court's efforts in keeping their records clean. He cited the case of a Birmingham youth who had stolen a weapon and taken it into the Air Force with him. The weapon was discovered on post and the youth faced both military and civilian charges. Taylor's court intervened and the airman received a relatively light sentence.

★ ★ ★

Later Taylor received the following letter from the boy:

"Mr. Taylor:

Hoping sincerely, that this letter finds you enjoying the best in health and happiness. I am fine. Fine—because I am free once more. Yes—I have served my sentence of 30 days at the stockade here and now have the opportunity to thank you and try to express my humble appreciation and gratitude for all of your efforts in my behalf in regards to the civil charge as well as the military.

"I can't begin to tell you in words how much you have done for me and just how much it means to me. Because of you—and you alone, I'm sure, the impending sentence of six months and a bad conduct discharge was completely disregarded. And in its stead, I was sentenced to 30 days and a fine of $50.

WON'T BREAK FAITH

"I should imagine that the best way to thank you, to show you how grateful I am, would be to let you know that your judgment of me and your faith in me was not misplaced. And—please—rest assured that I shall never break this trust you've showed in me.

"No — from now on — I shall always endeavor to be the sort of person you judged I was.

"I am, at present . . . waiting transfer to some other outfit. I don't know what sort of work I'll be doing—but whatever—I'm going to do my best at it. . . .

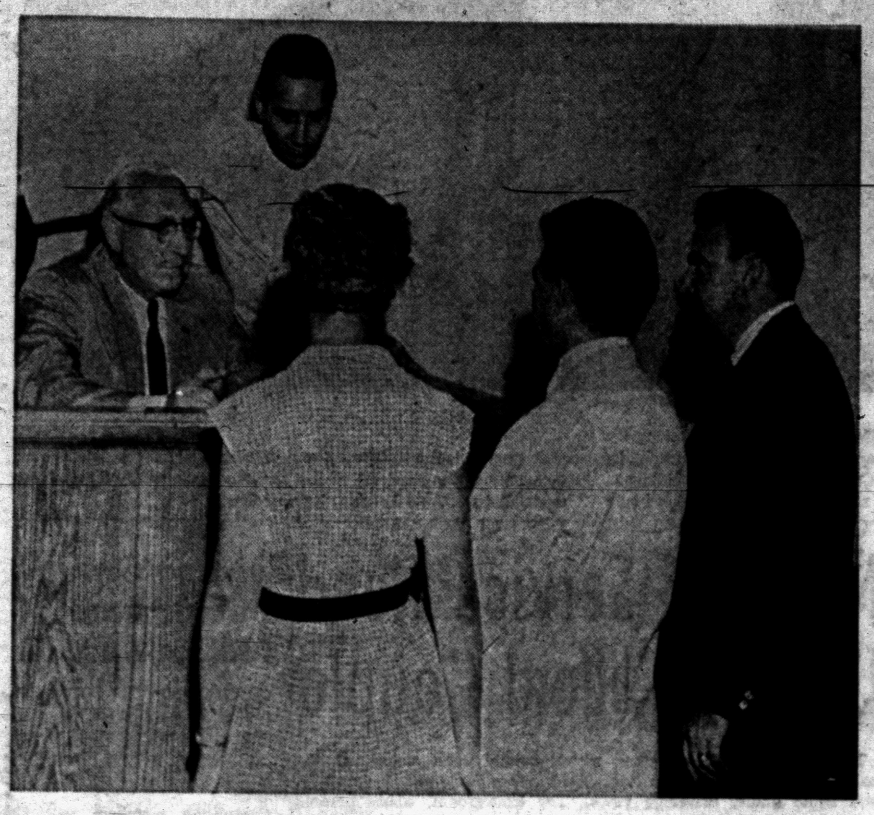

★ ★ ★

"I will close now and leave you for now—with my

Eternal Gratitude,

★ ★ ★

"It's that sort of sincerity that makes the court worthwhile," Taylor said.

YMCA Plans Canoe Trip in Canada

Every boy's dream, a canoe trip into the virgin wilderness of northern Canada, is being planned for Pontiac area youths by the Pontiac YMCA.

The group will leave Aug. 25 and return Aug. 31, spending five days paddling and camping along the rivers and lakes of Ontario, about 150 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie.

The trip is open to any boy in the 10th through 12th grade, if he is a good swimmer.

Cost is $50 per boy which includes all expenses. The actual canoe trip is arranged through Wilderness Outpost, a trip service specializing in older boys groups.

★ ★ ★

The service is headed by Jerry T. Gambill, a former Saginaw YMCA camp director.

ITEMS FURNISHED

The firm will furnish tents, canoes, ponchos and other camping gear, while the YMCA handles the food, licenses, insurance and transportation.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac group will be subdivided into units of five, each under a trained leader. Over-all leader will be Morrie Tubergen, youth secretary, who is organizing the expedition.

★ ★ ★

Tubergen said the Pontiac group will plan its own route, and added that there is excellent fishing in the area for walleyes, great northern pike and speckled trout.

French Up Rate on U.S. Money

Begin Giving 70 Francs More for Dollar to Get Foreign Currency

PARIS (AP)—Lines of American tourists went to French banks to exchange their dollars for francs today and came away with pleased looks.

★ ★ ★

The French government, needy of foreign currency, was giving 70 francs more for the American dollar. Over the weekend, Finance Minister Felix Gaillard put a 20 per cent premium on the rate of exchange for foreign tourists.

Last week, the American legally could get only 350 francs for his dollar. Today he could get 420. Before this he could have gotten better than the offical 350 on the black market.

The increase in the rate of exchange for tourists came Saturday when Gaillard announced a program to put more foreign currencies in French hands. The 20 per cent premium also applies to most foreign exchange operations.

To discourage adverse trade balances, Gaillard levied a 20 per cent tax on nonessential imports.

The youthful, new finance minister has put this program into effect to help preserve France from economic collapse. He hopes to quickly increase the nation's foreign trade deficit.

Gaillard's next step is to keep domestic prices down. He contends that since essential imports are exempt from the 20 per cent tax on foreign produce, there is no excuse for speculative boosts in the cost of basic items in the family budget.

Fast Water Skier Goes 230 Miles Without a Spill

KANSAS CITY (AP)—John Musser, a 28-year-old railroad switchman from St. Joseph, Mo., rode his water skis 230 miles down the Missouri River yesterday from Omaha to Kansas City.

★ ★ ★

He said river people had warned him he couldn't negotiate the river's tricky currents but he made the trip in 9 hours 10 minutes.

Musser didn't have any spills. One of the boats which towed him developed motor trouble and another hit something in the water and had to check out.

★ ★ ★

Musser last month skied 23 hours and 23 minutes and covered 715 miles on Missouri's Lake of the Ozarks.

Residents of Waterford Discuss Incorporation

The controversial issue of whether Waterford Township should become a city or remain in its present status, is being discussed by residents throughout the area.

Sponsored by the Taxpayers Study Committee, petitions are being circulated to bring to a head the issue, which will be voted on by township residents, according to chairman David Hertler.

In a survey of 'the man on the street,' residents gave a variety of reasons for and against incorporation. Lack of knowledge on the proceedings hindered many from expressing themselves.

Mrs. Allen Hawke, 2890 Dixie Highway, is a mother - housekeeper concerned about school facilities for her two boys. Two questions dominate her mind.

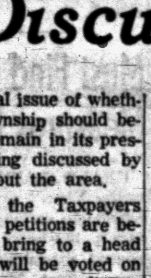

MRS. HAWKE

She said, "The first appearance of incorporation looks good, but I would like to know more about the advantages and disadvantages involved.

"Although we live in Waterford Township, we are in the Pontiac school district. Would our children be compelled to attend school in the township? What would this mean to us as Waterford City residents?"

A Waterford Township fireman for 16 years, Captain Clayton Soncrainte, 3143 Seebolt Ave., is concerned about fragmentation in the township, unless incorporation is approved.

SONCRAINTE

He said, "I think it's high time that we get incorporated. Waterford Village now wants to incorporate, Huron Gardens would probably be annexed to Pontiac, and with each section becoming independent, it would leave a few taxpayers—no place!"

DON'T UNDERSTAND

Real Estate broker Lester Arie, 6741 Highland road, thinks most of the people do not understand incorporation proceedings and what is involved.

ARIE

He said, "Residents should explore all avenues, pros and cons of such a project. I don't think that we are quite ready to vote on incorporation, due to lack of education on city-type government.

He added that if public meetings were held where a taxpayer could learn more about the project, he could then make up his mind whether to vote yes or no.

Another real estate salesman, John Hepler, 101 Marion St., is definitely against incorporation at this time. He said, "I don't think we are ready for it yet because the average property owner is loaded down with school taxes.

HEPLER

"Until some of the balance still oweing on the school bond issue is reduced, it is not possible to assume more taxation," he added. Helper has lived in Waterford Township his entire life and thinks incorporation at a later date is inevitable.

W. C. Robertson, who is a property owner, and plans to build soon on Lakewood drive, also fears fragmentation in the township.

ROBERTSON

He said, "I feel that something has got to be done to hold the township together. If incorporation is the answer, then I'm all for it."

Robertson is a member of the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce, one of the organizations that has been studying incorporation proceedings.

At a public meeting held last week, William Shunck, 6582 Longworth Ave., told the group studies prove that within the next 15 years, instead of 40,000 population, Waterford Township will have grown to 80,000.

He said that in his opinion, the township would be one of three things: It would be part of the city of Pontiac, would be broken up into several individual municipalities or the total area would be a city.

Shunck, superintendent of Waterford schools, concluded with "Frankly, a city is the best possibility for a population such as is anticipated."

Pending Further Talks

Milk Strike Is Postponed by Dairy Farmers Assn.

DETROIT (AP) — The Dairy Farmers Co-Operative Assn. of Michigan has postponed its threatened milk strike.

The association has said it would cut off milk supplies to Southeastern Michigan dairies Wednesday if creameries refused demands for an increase paid for drinking milk.

★ ★ ★

Over the weekend, however, dairy farmers from 20 Michigan counties who make up the DFC agreed to postpone strike action pending a meeting today with federal and state officials in Lansing and subsequent talks with the creameries.

"We want to do everything we can to reach our objective without a strike," said Homer Martin, DFC organization director. "We are not strike-happy."

"We won't strike before getting final refusal from the creameries," Martin said. No date has been set for meetings with the creameries.

The Lansing meeting will include representatives of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the State Labor Mediation Board.

The DFC seeks an immediate price increase to $5.50 a hundredweight (46½ quarts) for drinking milk and $6 beginning Oct. 1. The current price paid to farmers who supply the Detroit area is $5 a hundredweight.

The DFC is an insurgent group of dairy farmers attempting to supplant the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., as bargaining agent with the big Detroit creameries.

The group claims a backing of a majority of the 10,250 area dairy farmers who are members of the producers association.

The MMPA obtained a 35 cent increase in the price of drinking milk last Aug. 1 after threatening a strike. The increase brought the price paid to farmers to $5 per hundredweight.

The MMPA has said it will keep the Detroit market supplied should the DFC strike. "Our members will deliver the milk," he said. "We don't intend to let anyone stop them."

Martin, however, claims his organization could control "much more" than 75 per cent of the milk shipments to the Detroit area.

Future College Needs Studied

Federal Aid for State Surveys, Tax Relief Among Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP)— Secretary of Welfare Folsom has appointed a special task force to review the recommendations of the Presidential Committee on Education Beyond the High School.

The committee, in a report to President Eisenhower, proposed among other things that parents of college students be given income tax relief through deductions or credits, that the federal government back a work-study program for students, and that college teachers' salaries be doubled in 5 or 10 years.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ), meanwhile, said he planned to introduce a bill calling for 2½ million dollars for a state-by-state survey of what colleges will need to meet an enrollment which the committee estimated will double by 1970.

Case said the bill would allot money to states on the basis of school-age population, with the states matching the federal contributions. No state would get less than $10,000 in federal money.

Case said also that "before the Senate completes its business for the year I plan to introduce another bill to provide a program of assistance for the establishment and expansion of public community (junior) colleges."

The presidential committee, headed by Devereux C. Josephs, New York insurance executive, recommended in general that existing colleges and universities be expanded before new institutions are built to meet increased enrollment. However, the group urged that two-year community schools be given serious consideration where need for them is established.

Pilot Who Lived 54 Days in Wilds May Lose Wife

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — Lt. David Steeves, who survived 54 days in a California wilderness after bailing out of his plane, may be divorced by his wife, a lawyer says.

Paul Cullinan, a Bridgeport lawyer, told a reporter Mrs. Rita Steeves consulted him "about a problem of long-standing which conceivably could end in divorce."

"I have to analyze the problem and make a recommendation to her," he said. "Then it will be up to her."

Mrs. Steeves, 21, would neither confirm nor deny the report.

"I don't want to say anything until I can give a complete statement," she said at her mother's home here.

Lt. Steeves, 23, bailed out May 9 into the frozen wastes of the High Sierras. He trudged back to civilization 54 days later, after he had been officially declared dead and all but his family had given up hope.

When she heard he was alive, Rita commented: "I don't think a wife, deep down, ever really gives up hope."

Steeves and Rita were united in New York before newspaper and television cameras.

A week later, the couple went to California, leaving their 15-month-old daughter, Leisa, with Rita's mother. Two weeks after that, Rita returned here. She would not say why she left Steeves.

Plane Crash Claims Two Lives

TROY — Two men were killed yesterday morning when their single engine plane crashed at the Big Beaver Airport, 16 Mile and John R roads here.

Dead was the pilot Freddie J. Strength, 35, of 26210 W. Chicago, Redford Township and his passenger Paul D. Hodges, 42, of 446 Pine Crest Ferndale.

Strength was with the mechanical department of Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Hodges, a welder, operated a small shop in Ferndale and also was employed by General Motors.

★ ★ ★

Jack Edison, of 13956 Ohio, Detroit, told police he had just driven to the airport when he saw the plane land. He said it turned and taxied to the end of the runway and was airborn in a takeoff when he subconsciously noted there was no engine sound.

Edison added that he looked up in time to see the plane crash in a field at the end of the runway. He had come to the airport to get in some flying time with his own plane. CAA officials investigated the crash and according to Troy Police Chief David Gattop, the motor failed on the takeoff.

Strength survived by his wife and three children was, according to Mrs. Strength, planning to sell the plane next week and buy a new one. He was co-owner of the craft with Quentin E. Ray of Dearborn. She said he and Hodges went out yesterday morning for "one last ride."

Control Methods to Be Explained

Expect 500 to Attend Meeting for Discussion of Nematodes

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Many Michigan farmers have learned first-hand through damaged crops about nematodes—tiny ground worms whose presence ruins agricultural soil.

Not too many have the first-hand opportunity to learn about control methods, such as scheduled to be explained Aug. 15 at the Don Cation farm near Shelby in Oceana County.

About 500 fruit growers are expected at the Cation farm for the state fruit growers' tour to hear Dr. Gerald Thorne, University of Wisconsin faculty member and nationally prominent nematologist, as principal speaker.

★ ★ ★

Demonstrations of various soil treatment methods also are scheduled as features of the tour. Tests for soil nematodes and exhibits under microcopes will be set up.

Dr. John Davidson of Dow Chemical Co., has been experimenting several years on the Cation farm in nematode control work and will display results of his work.

William J. MacLean, Shelby County Agricultural Agent in charge of the tour, says Michigan State University entomology, horticulture and plant pathology also are listed on the program to discuss orchard problems with individual growers.

He shoved his arm up the chute where the popcorn was supposed to come out. He couldn't get his arm loose.

Twenty minutes later a gathering crowd saw two policemen free Billy's arm from the machine. Billy, holding a bruised arm, ran back to his dad—without the popcorn.

Mulches of Straw, Alfalfa Up Sour Cherry Yields

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—An outline of studies in the Grand Traverse County area by A. L. Kenworthy, Michigan State University researcher, shows mulches of straw or alfalfa have tripled Montmorency sour cherry yields with no other fertilizer applied.

The outline, reported by MSU Horticulturist Paul Larsen, the mulches also resulted in increased nitrogen and potassium in the leaves and increased available phosphorus, potassium and magnesium in the soil.

Larsen declares that mulches could be used to advantage on more Michigan orchards.

Grass or legume sods are used in more than 75 per cent of Michigan's apple orchards and in about 35 per cent of the cherry and peach orchards.

★ ★ ★

Legumes or grass sods, unless properly handled, may reduce tree growth and production with the sod using a portion of the available soil moisture. Mulches, according to the report, appear to eliminate competition between trees and sod for the required soil moisture.

Larsen says mulching with such materials as straw or alfalfa nearly always brings improvement in the absorption of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium and other nutrients.

Application of good mulch materials obtained from well-fertiled fields often will supply all the nutrients a tree needs, eliminating a need for additional fertilizer, according to Larsen.

4,007 Couples Wed in Mass Rite at Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (INS) — In the largest mass civil wedding ceremony ever held in Mexico, 4,007 couples legalized their unions yesterday.

Some 20,000 people crowded into the huge national auditorium to watch the couples join hands as Civil Judge Zeferino Maldonado read the legal provisions and pronounced them man and site.

Immediately after the couples shouted a loud "I do," the crowd exploded into wild celebration while an orchestra played Mendelsohn's wedding march.

Hundreds of pounds of rice and thousands of flowers were showered over the newlyweds who could not hide their deep emotion. Many faces were wet with the customary tears.

Popular Mexican singers, with their violins and their guitars added their voices to the celebration.

The mass marriage was part of a program carried out by the Social Security Institute to improve social standards among its members.

This was the ninth mass wedding promoted by the Institute.

Many couples were accompanied by their children who have now acquired legal status as their sons and daughters.

The newlyweds were mostly factory workers, including many middle aged men and women who had been living together for many years.

Moles, Weasels, Skunks, Coyotes Find a Friend

ANN ARBOR (INS) — Moles, weasels, skunks, foxes, coyotes, wolves and woodchucks are not the most esteemed animals but William H. Burt of the University of Michigan says there is a little bit of good in each one of them.

Professor Burt, curator of mammals at the U. of M. Zoology museum, discusses the much-maligned creatures in his book, "Mammals of the Great Lakes Region."

Moles, he says, are beneficial in tilling the soil and consuming insects, except when they decide to hunt insects in gardens or lawns.

He claims weasels are condemned for their occasional raids on poultry which are "small payment for the hordes of mice kept under control by these energetic little carnivores

★ ★ ★

Burt says skunks help farmers by killing mice, which should balance their occasional raids on poultry and habit of discharging scent near farm buildings.

Foxes are lauded by the professor as mousers, although he concedes an occasional renegade fox will wreak havoc on a farm yard.

Curator Burt states recent studies in various parts of the country show coyotes probably do more good than harm as scavengers and mousers

He says wolves kill a few deer, "but there are usually too many deer for available winter food."

Must Find Control Measures for Virus

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — "Shoestring Virus" promises to be an extremely serious hazard to Michigan's blueberry industry unless control measures are found soon, says Jerry Mandigo, extension service horticultural specialist for southwestern Michigan.

He says it was first discovered in a Michigan planting last year near Holland. It has struck in several locations of Berrien, Van Buren and other counties this season.

The disease has been a threat for several years in the New Jersey blueberry industry.

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — The Damascus weekly magazine Al Rai said today a secret arms deal between Jordan's arms chief and Russia was the direct motive for King Hussein's coup last April that ousted the leftist regime of Premier Suleiman Nabulsi.

The usually well-informed magazine said Jordan would have paid a "symbolic price for huge amounts of Soviet arms without any strings or commitments."

Now the researchers say they have nearly solved the problem and the aim of 100 per cent is being approached.

Goldfish Hobby Gains Popularity in Ireland

BELFAST — Goldfish sales are going up and up in Northern Ireland. Pet shops are selling thousands every week, as the goldfish hobby spreads. One thing that recommends it is the price—two in a jam-pot cost only 14 cents. However, prices vary with size and large ones for outdoor ponds can cost up to $1.40. Nowadays goldfish come from Italy, being flown to England and then sent to Ireland by boat.

This means that a goldfish can get from Italy to a parlor up Antrim Road in less than three days. They used to come from Japan but the war ended all that.

Prof Criticizes Modern Students

Sees Youths Freeloading

STILLWATER, Okla. (INS)—An educator warned today too many American youths are "freeloading" and moving into adulthood believing that the world owes them a living.

★ ★ ★

This, in the opinion of Professor-Counselor Henry Johnston of Oklahoma State University at Stillwater, is making the American principle of basic honesty in business and politics "rapidly disappear."

Johnston, who has counseled about 2,000 students a year for the past 10 years, said today he "honestly feels that it is a rare student indeed who cannot succeed in college if he is willing to work" but "too many of them come to college to loaf.

"All they want is an injection of knowledge sufficient to pass a course, the same as approaching a doctor for a shot of something."

★ ★ ★

Johnston blames the situation on a "25-year giveaway program by the federal and state government and the fact that "flapper-age people did not make good parents."

SERIOUS MISTAKES

He believes that some "very serious mistakes" in basic psychology were "swallowed whole" by parents and professional educators in the '20s and '30s when "discipline of the body and mind was no longer proper."

In a test run last year on some 600-odd students at Oklahoma State, Johnston said "all except seven of the failing students identified their keys to success as being a smart operator, obtaining advantage through influence and dependence on federal Social Security for old age."

He said the attitude of most failing students called in for personal interviews is that "I paid my fees and attended classes, why should I fail?"

The solution to the problem lies in parents, according to Johnston, who says mothers and fathers "must teach discipline, courtesy and respect for others."

"It is impossible to learn all that is essential during school hours," he stressed, and "unless parents provide home study, home incentive and backing for the teachers our educational system will continue to lose ground."

"Too many parents regard school as a glorified kind of free and convenient babysitting, when they should realize that they are the first, the best and the most important teachers of all."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Predicts Both Sides Would Use 'Dirty' Bombs

TOKYO (INS)—A British scientist predicts that both sides in a thermonuclear world war would employ "dirty" bombs even if they possessed "clean" ones.

Dr. Joseph Rotblat, vice president of the British Atomic Scientists Society, said that in case of such an intercontinental struggle "many millions of people would be killed instantly."

Crawford-Rodgers Victor Challenged

Lane Wants Pontiac Winner

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The dream match for Michigan fight fans is in the making and it all depends on what happens at Pontiac's Wisner stadium tomorrow night.

The Press learned today that the winner of the Mickey Crawford-Sammy Rodgers bout at Wisner Tuesday night will get the chance to meet Kenny Lane, who is the number one challenger for the world's lightweight title.

Promoter Julius Piazza said that Lane's manager Jack Kearns has agreed to have the Muskegon fighter meet either Crawford or Rodgers at a site to be selected.

Both Lane and Crawford have been getting wide attention in their respective divisions, Lane a lightweight and Crawford a welterweight.

* * *

Thursday night Lane is fighting in Oakland, California, where he will meet Johnny Gonsalvez. After that fight, in which Lane is heavily favored, a date is expected to be arranged for him to meet Joe Brown, currently the world's lightweight champion.

Ever since Lane and Crawford have been moving up the fight ladder, fans and writers alike have been suggesting a match between the two.

Crawford is favored tomorrow night, but the Lane announcement will be added incentive for Rodgers, who once lost a close 10-round decision to the Muskegon glover.

* * *

Rodgers won 140 of 144 amateur fights including 112 knockouts, and was climbing in the pro ranks until he was stopped by Lane.

Should Crawford win however, the decision to meet Lane must come from the Saginaw fighter's manager Art Greenwald. Greenwald said recently he would like to get one more outdoor fight for Crawford in Michigan and then head for New York for a crack at one of the leading welterweight contenders.

Crawford will enter the ring at about 147 pounds compared to 142 for Rodgers. The fighters finished their workouts yesterday in a ring at the Cass Avenue parking lot near Wisner and tomorrow afternoon the official weigh-in will take place in Detroit.

Big Osee Groom, who was named in a current boxing publication as the newcomer to watch in heavyweight ranks, also went through the workouts near Wisner field under the hot sun in an effort to shed six pounds.

He wants to take the ring against New York's Bill Pickett at 202 which he claims is his best weight. He was 208 when he started training.

One of the best cards of the Michigan outdoor fight season will be seen at Wisner tomorrow night.

Other top names on the program are light heavy Ducky Dietz against Huey Rader of Dayton, and unbeaten Johnny Palmer against Edgar Gregory.

The program will start at 8:30 p.m. and not at 7:00 as erroneously printed in Saturday's Press. Tickets are available at business establishments around Pontiac and at Wisner.

Andonian, Reynolds Bow in Playoff

Bada City Golf King

Paul Bada won the City Medal Play golf championship Sunday afternoon in a drama-filled playoff at Pontiac Municipal course.

Bada withstood the challenges of Mike Andonian, two-time state publinx king, and youthful Jack Reynolds of MSU to win the city crown for the 2nd time in his career.

It took three holes of sudden death overtime for Bada to pocket the title after he, Andonian and Reynolds finished in a three-way tie for 1st place at the end of the regulation 36 holes with three-over-par 141's.

Bada, who led after Saturday's opening 18-hole round with a two-under-par 67, slipped to a 39 going out Sunday and the lapse was almost fatal. His 36-hole card read 34-33-39-35.

Andonian, a former city champ, fired a steady 35-36-34-36.

It was Reynolds, ex-Waterford High golfing star, who nearly stole the show. After skidding to a 38 at the turn yesterday, Reynolds blazed in with a 32 to share the lead.

Reynolds bowed out on the 1st hole of the overtime by taking a bogey five while Bada and Andonian were matching pars. Paul and Mike matched pars on the 2nd hole, then Bada grabbed the honors with a birdie three on the 3rd as Andonian bogied.

Bill Pembroke shot 34-35-41-32—142 to take 4th place while Ed Wasik, another past city champ, was 5th with 36-35-38-34—143.

Chuck Barker came next with 146 while defending champion Ron Rothbarth and Dick Robertson were tied at 147. Walt Latozas, top qualifier a week ago, had 148.

Pembroke's front nine 41 ruined his chances of grabbing the laurels since he equalled Reynolds' 32 coming home, leaving him one stroke behind.

The Bada-Andonian scrap revived an old feud between two long-time rivals. The largest gallery in recent years watched yesterday's finals.

Miss Thriftway Scores Again

Muncey Gold Cup Winner

SEATTLE (AP) — Bill Muncey, a small man with a heavy foot on the throttle, drove Miss Thriftway to her second successive Gold Cup victory yesterday in the 50th running of the speedboat classic—and set a record in the process.

Winning two of the 30-mile heats and finishing second in the final ear-shattering dash around the three-mile course, Mucey averaged 101.983 m.p.h. for the full 90 miles.

* * *

The former Gold Cup record, set on this Lake Washington course in 1955, was the 99.552 m.p.h. logged by the Gale V of Detroit. The Gale, entirely rebuilt, finished sixth yesterday.

Police estimated half a million people watched from shoreline and pleasure boats.

Two other records tumbled in the first heat when little Jack Regas pushed Hawaii Kai III to a lap speed of 114 m.p.h. and a heat average of 109.823. The old lap mark of 108.663 was set by Lou Fageol in the Slo-Mo-Shun IV in 1951. A year later Chuck Thompson drove Miss Pepsi to the heat record of 101.024.

* * *

But Regas and the coral-mist-and-tropical-rose Kai were not around at the finish, bowing out with engine trouble both in the second and final heats.

Shanty I, winner of the Harmsworth Trophy and national championship last year, took second. Maverick, her sister in the speedboat barns of cattleman William Waggoner, placed third. Breathless II of Lake Tahoe was fourth and Short Circuit of Detroit fifth.

* * *

Engine trouble knocked out Gale VI, sister of the Gale V, and the second heat was run in two sections. Thriftway took one half of it and Shanty I the other as their two most dangerous opponents, the Kai and the Wahoo, were balked by mechanical trouble.

The last 30-mile run for the trophy shaped up as a two-boat battle between Thrifty and Shanty. The issue was decided when Col. Russell Schleeh miscalculated a buoy and had to circle back around it.

WINS CUP — Bill Muncey, driver of Miss Thriftway of Seattle, holds the coveted Gold Cup he won in Seattle yesterday for the second year in a row.

Detroit Team Wins in Polo

CHICAGO (AP) — The C.C.C. polo team of Detroit yesterday defeated Aiken, S. C., 8-5, in an exhibition polo match that was substituted for the Oakbrook-Aiken game.

The Oakbrook - Aiken match was postponed because of the illness of Cecil Smith, 10-goal player with Oakbrook. Smith developed a virus infection.

The C.C.C. team will meet Circle F of Dallas and Oakbrook will play Aiken Tuesday.

Griff's Routs Union, 20-4

Griff's Grill got off to a rip-roaring start Sunday in the annual City Baseball League playoffs at Wisner Field.

Assaulting five CIO pitchers for a total of 18 hits, the Grill squad scored a runaway 20-4 victory over the Local 594 club in the opening game of a best-of-three series.

Ted Wharry led the attack with four safeties while Dave Zittel, Marv Caswell and Ken Stanick each collected three. One of Wharry's hits was a home run and John Shanks also connected for a homer. Dick Ayling was the top RBI man with five.

Jim Jones yielded four CIO runs in the 1st inning, then pitched shutout ball the rest of the way. Jim Wagner was the starter and loser for the CIO.

The same two teams meet again today on the Wisner diamond at 5:30 p.m. The winner faces Shaw's Jewelers in a best-of-five playoff for the city title.

Browns-Lions Deal Near

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns has confirmed that he and coach Buddy Parker of the Detroit Lions are working on a trade which would send halfback Lew Carpenter to the Browns in exchange for linebacker Roger Zatkoff.

Brown told the Cleveland Touchdown Club this weekend that he and Parker have discussed such a trade in the past and probably will discuss it some more this week when the Browns arrive in Detroit for a Wednesday exhibition game with the Lions.

Brown said his club has been offered Carpenter, now in the service, in exchange for Zatkoff "but we have done nothing about it as yet."

* * *

"Carpenter is a rugged, running back, and we could use him. However, he still is in service and may not be out until the end of next month. Buddy Parker and I probably will discuss it some more in Detroit," he said.

Cleveland obtained Zatkoff earlier this year in a trade with Green Bay, but Zatkoff refuses to play for any National Football League club but Detroit, his home city.

Carpenter was Detroit's leading ground gainer in 1954 and 1955. He traveled 1,043 yards on the ground and caught passes for another 457 yards.

Ohio Cyclist Zooms to Muskegon Victory

MUSKEGON (AP)—Duane Nealen of Bedford, Ohio, zoomed up a 340-foot sand dune in 7.83 seconds yesterday to win the national motorcycle hill climbing contest.

Howard Mitzel of York, Pa., came in second with a time of 7.87 and Joe Hemmis of Cumberland, Md., was third with 7.93.

The three were competing in the 74 cubic inch professional class.

Series With A's Tests Value of Tighe's Blast

Tongue-Lashing May Have Helped Weekend 'Two-in-Three'

CHICAGO (AP)—The Detroit Tigers get a chance to break a season long jinx and prove Manager Jack Tighe wrong tomorrow when they open a three-game series at Kansas City.

The Tigers, who were verbally raked over the coals by Tighe and the Detroit sportswriters over the weekend for their recent poor performances, haven't won a game in Kansas City this season.

Tighe lectured his players for the second time in recent weeks Saturday and the verbal clobbering seemed to make its mark as the Bengals whipped Chicago 6-4 Saturday night and then split a doubleheader with the White Sox yesterday, taking the first game 8-5 and losing the second 11-2.

The split moved Detroit out of sixth place in the American League standings into a fourth place tie with Baltimore but 18½ games behind the front-running New York Yankees.

The Athletics are the lowliest club in the league. They have won only 41 of their 110 games this season and lag 31 games behind the Yankees. Despite this the Tigers, who have won 53 while losing 56, haven't been able to win one on the A's home field.

J. W. Porter, Al Kaline and Jim Bunning were the big guns in this contest.

Porter hit a timely pair of singles to drive in three Detroit runs and Kaline did his bit by bringing in two more with a sacrifice fly and his ninth home run of the season.

Bunning gained his 14th victory in 18 decisions although he gave up 12 hits and had to get an assist from Duke Maas in the ninth.

Policemen Win Class D Crown

Behind Bob Garrett's one-hit hurling, the Pontiac Police won the city Class D junior league baseball title Saturday with a 3-1 victory over Cranbrook at Jaycee Park.

Pitchers Andy Billisdon and John York of Cranbrook matched Garrett, but three costly errors in the 4th inning enabled the Policemen to score two runs and break a 1-1 tie. Billisdon was tagged with the loss.

Mike Minton made the lone safety off Garrett while Dave Simmons got the Police team's only hit.

The Policemen now join three other city teams in state tournament action. Class D, F and Midget squads play at Dearborn while the Class E club goes to Saginaw.

PLENTY OF POWER — Detroit heavyweight Osee Groom, who meets New Yorker Bill Pickett in one of the preliminary fights at Wisner Stadium tomorrow night does his road work the hard way. He keeps his bulging muscles in shape by pulling manager Al DeNapoli and his foreign make auto around the training lot. Groom, who went to finals of National Golden Gloves last year will be fighting his 5th pro fight.

'Magic Number' Is 40, for Both Yanks, Braves

NEW YORK (INS)—New York Yankees and the Milwaukee Braves, racing toward an October World Series clash, are in identical positions today—leading their leagues by 5½ lengths with 44 games to play.

Though it's a little early to discuss magic numbers seriously, the important number for each team is precisely "40." That means, for example, that any combination of Yankee wins and opponents losses totaling 40 would eliminate that rival from the race.

Braves opened up the biggest margin of the National League season yesterday when they won their seventh straight by beating St. Louis, 5-1. The slumping Cards lost their sixth in a row.

Long Gene Conley won his fifth in succession by scattering seven hits. He lost his shutout on Ken Boyer's ninth-inning homer. Ed Mathews homered and singled to drive in two runs for the Braves. Sam Jones took the loss for the Redbirds.

It was Milwaukee's 21st win in the last 26 games.

Elsewhere in the National League, Pittsburgh beat Brooklyn twice, 4-3 and 6-2. Paul Smith homered in the ninth to tie the opener and the Bucs won in the tenth. Charles (Whammy) Douglas, a one-eyed rookie righthander, won the second.

The New York Giants and Philadelphia took turns exchanging three-hit shutouts. The Giants and Curt Barclay took the first, 5-0, 2-0. A twin bill between the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati was rained out.

In the American League, the Yankees slammed out 14 hits to crush Baltimore, 7-2.

Ted Williams set a major league record when he received his 27th intentional walk this season. The Boston Red Sox also celebrated as they took two from Washington, 8-5 and 4-3, with the second win coming in 11 innings.

Kansas City won two from Cleveland, 7-0 and 9-8, as Ned Garver pitched a two-hit shutout and Gus Zernial's two homers helped the A's win a home-run battle in the nightcap.

Third-string Yankee catcher Darrell Johnson and substitute infielder Andy Carey collected three hits each and Bill Skowron homered to help Johnny Kucks to an easy triumph. Ken Lehman lost.

PKC Lists 273 for 1957 Show

Great Danes Leading Breed With 51; 166 in Working Group

By H. GUY MOATS

Headed by a surprisingly large entry of Great Danes, the 1957 Pontiac Kennel Club's all-breed dog show has 273 entries. There are 51 of the big, sleek Danes. Show date is next Sunday, Aug. 18.

Boxers, always a popular entry, are represented by 33, with the German shepherds third, with 26 dogs. Overall totals, say club officials, are down 22 from the 1956 lists.

Club prexy E. A. Kraft reports 166 dogs in the working group, largest for the show, which is an unbenched affair. Sporting group also is large, with 155. Other groups are—hounds, with 74, terriers with 43, toys with 57 and non-sporting group with 61.

* * *

Altogether there are 62 breeds represented among the entries.

Highlighted award for this fine annual show is the big best-in-show trophy presented by The Pontiac Press.

Mayer Seizes 'World' Jackpot

CHICAGO (AP) — Handsome Dick Mayer, who became the year's richest golfer by winning just two tournaments—the National Open and the $101,000 "World"—had a chance to become even richer today by the stroke of the pen.

Onetime Wall Street investment broker, Mayer, 33, of La Jolla, Calif., made a $50,000 "killing" yesterday in the "World" with the same sort of sleeper finish which gave him the prestige-loaded U. S. Open title in June.

Today, Mayer decides whether to sign an exhibition contract with "World" tourney promoter, George S. May, which could produce an additional $50,000 — by making a maximum of 50 appearances at $1,000 each.

★ ★ ★

Mayer, now leading the play-for-pay fairway nomads with $66,145, captured golf's biggest cash prize yesterday by a one-stroke margin over the two men who were expected to make the "World" a private scrap—veteran Sammy Snead and Canadian Al Balding.

★ ★ ★

Snead, who held a 54-hole lead of one stroke over Balding, staggered to a final 74, while Balding took a 73, being hamstrung by a double bogey six on the 67th hole. Snead and Balding each received $7,500 for sharing second.

★ ★ ★

Mayer started the final round at the crowded Tam O'Shanter course five strokes behind Snead.

With all attention focused on Snead and Balding, Mayer embroidered a 68 and sewed up the meet with his fourth birdie of the round by sinking a nine-footer on the 71st hole.

Mayer wound up with rounds of 72-69-70-68 for a nine-under-par total of 279.

Fourth place was shared by Gene Littler and big George Bayer, each with 281 for $5,500 apiece.

Mike Souchak had a windup 74 and 282 for sixth place and $2,000. Knotted at 284 and sharing $1,800 each were Bob Rosburg, Dow Finsterwald and Art Wall Jr.

The concurrent "World" women's pro tourney had a photo finish between Patty Berg and Fay Crocker, each with 302.

They will playoff at 18 holes today for the $6,000 first prize. Second money is $2,000. Miss Berg forced the playoff when she sank a 25-foot birdie putt on the 72nd hole.

Walter Burkemo of Franklin Hills was the only Michigan golfer to finish in the money yesterday in the $101,000 "world" golf tournament at Tam O'Shanter country club. Burkemo's 72-hole score of 289 was good enough for $400.

Michigan golfers who finished out of the money were Jack Fleck, Rochester, 296; Mike Dietz, Lake Orion, 300; Tom Talkington, Ypsilanti, 301, and Chick Harbert, Northville, 302. Rudy Horvath of Windsor, Ont., scored a 308.

★ ★ ★

The men's amateur crown went to professional singer Don Cherry in a wierd finish which saw defending champion Ward Wettlaufer of Buffalo, N. Y., knocked out of an apparent first-place tie by a score card error.

Cherry and Wettlaufer finished with 296s. Meet officials ruled Wettlaufer erred in okaying a card crediting him with a 76 instead of a proper 77. Wettlaufer was penalized two strokes and finished third with 298. Second at 297 was Howard Everitt, Northfield, N. J.

The women's amateur crown went to Clifford Ann Creed, 18, of Opelousas, La., who won by 10 strokes with 317.

Wiffi Smith of St. Clair, Mich., finished out of the money with a 72 hole score of 323 in the women's tourney.

MEET IN PLAYOFF — A couple of veterans, Patty Berg (left) and Faye Crocker do a solo at Tam O'Shanter today when they meet to decide the women's championship in the "World Tourney." They were tied at 302 after regulation for the $6,000 first prize.

Off-Season Run

Walleyes Providing Sport

ALL OUTDOORS (INS)—A very odd, off-season run of walleyes in the Detroit River is producing some of the best fishing in recent history.

★ ★ ★

Veteran boat livery operators and anglers say the present pickerel run "is the strangest thing we have ever seen."

Slim Coe, operator of a livery at the foot of Southfield in Ecorse said: "In my 15 years in the business this is the best I have ever seen it. I can't explain this walleye run, but the fishermen are sure enjoying it.

"It is much better now than it was this spring—or any spring."

Another Detroit River livery operator said simply: "It's crazy, they're biting like mad, and on anything you throw to them!"

Coe said anglers chugging and trolling are taking home two, three and four pounders on an average of 15 to 18 inches long. Chuggers are winning slightly over the trollers.

Wallace Wins Speedway Race

Johnny Wallace won the 30-lap feature race Sunday night in the modified hardtop auto racing program at Pontiac Speedway. Bob Valentine finished 2nd and Dorris Sanders came home 3rd.

Don Smith took the 15-lap semifinal, with Ray Fraley coming in 2nd and Norm Rust 3rd. Chuck Partello won both the dash and pursuit races while heat winners were Wallace, Smith, Fraley and Don Batter.

Don Graham crashed into the retaining wall during the feature run and was hospitalized for treatment. His injuries were not serious. Partello and Gary Goodman flipped their cars in the main event.

Last night's show marked the debut of "Easy" Ed Jones as manager-promoter of the M59 track.

Californians Edge State Skeet Squad

(Special to Pontiac Press)

RENO, Nev.—For the lack of a single point to tie, or two to win, Michigan's skeet team in the National Skeet association's championships lost out to the California delegation Sunday, in the all-gauge event.

★ ★ ★

Several Birmingham and Pontiac (Mich.) shooters were members of the Michigan delegation shooting in the big tourney. Robert J. (Bob) Thiefels of Pontiac was a member of the five-man all-gauge team, along with Ains Norsum (Baldwin), Chet Crites and Howard Confer (Detroit) and Ken Sedeckly (Baldwin).

Michigan scores—W. A. Brown Sr. 237, Leland Brown 245, Eddie Brown 243 (Birmingham), W. T. Ellis (Mt. Clemens) 228, Joe Sedlecky (Baldwin) 203, Norsium 248, Confer 246, Ken Sedlecky 244, Thiefels 239 and Crites 246.

Milford Sweeps Double-Header

Parker's Triple Wins First in Extra Frame—Nightcap Is Easy

Milford took both ends of the season's only double-header for Junior American Legion baseball league, Sunday, 8-7 and 9-2. Clawson was the loser, but put up a great battle in the opener, to force Huron Valley BC into an extra inning before bowing. Nightcap was an easy one.

Rochester blanked Berkley in the other contest 3-0, with all three counters coming in the 5th inning. Win gives Rochester it's 6th straight in 2nd half play, but leaves it tied with Berkley in overall totals, 13-4. Milford still leads overall, with 14-3.

Tied up at end of regulation seven innings, Milford had two down when the deciding run scored in the bottom of the 8th. Stan Sadowin walked, went home later on Al Parker's triple that ended the tilt.

Parker hit 4 for 5. John Zeman blasted a terrific homer in the 4th, duplicated the feat in the second game.

A 5-run 4th-inning blast settled the nightcap, with Zeman, first up, clearing the fence with his homer for the winning tally. Dave Gaddis, Huron Valley pitcher, had 4 for 5, fanned 12.

Howe doubled, Roy Walked and Hill tripled them home to start Rochester scoring. Hill was out trying to score, but Dixon, who was on by an error, scored later with the 3rd tally. Berkley had men on several times, never got its hits together to send them home.

Twin bill:

Clawson	103	001	20—7	5	4
Milford	003	400	01—8	8	7

Anderson, Gaddis (7th), Sadowin Boenning, Figley (4th), O'Dell

Clawson	000	200	0—2	5	5
Milford	110	502	x—9	12	2

LaQuier, Boenning (4th), Alcewski; Dave Gaddis, Blakeley.

Aces 9-Iron Shot

Birmingham Country Club's 11th hole yesterday gave up another ace, when member Frank Liebert holed out his tee shot. The 9-iron blow hit the green on the 140-yard hole, bounced and trickled into the cup.

Pontiac Racer Sweeps Meet at Ohio Track

Pontiac's Rusty Kelly, automobile race driver, has hung up another great weekend of competition. Rusty swept the events at the Toledo Raceway Park, Sunday for the 2nd straight week. He also drove off with the track championship Friday night, setting a record for the 75-lap event.

Both successes were sandwiched about a 2nd place finish in the Jackson feature on Saturday night.

In Sunday's sweep the Pontiac racer won the feature, the heat event, the pursuit and the four-car dash.

Rusty drives a modified, fuel-injection 1956 Buick.

Ruling on Land Hits State National Guard

GRAYLING (AP) — The Michigan National Guard has been stymied again in its efforts to gain an 80-acre tract near Camp Grayling.

Circuit Judge John C. Shaffer turned down the Guard's request for a new trial in its condemnation suit.

The land is owned by Fred C. Weber. Last month a Grayling jury fixed a price of $43,200 on the property. The Guard said that was about twice the actual value of the land.

Besides, the Guard said it didn't have that much money to spend. The Guard wanted the land because it is in range of the new 90 mm. cannon used at Camp Grayling.

In addition to refusing to grant a new trial, Judge Shaffer also ruled that the Guard must pay $4,000 in court costs.

Franciosa and Newman Agree to Faulkner Movie

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—When Anthony Franciosa was here in conference with Buddy Adler and Jerry Wald, he didn't bow out of a 20th Century-Fox picture by any means.

He agreed to do "The Long Hot Summer" based on a trilogy by William Faulkner. Irving Ratvich and Harriet Frank Jr. adapted the stories.

Wait a minute—that isn't all! Paul Newman, who also owes 20th a picture, has the other top role and, believe me, these are gusty parts that call for real he-men. There is a strong dramatic conflict between these two.

Martin Ritt, who made everybody at 20th happy with his direction of "No Down Payment," gets the directorial assignment.

Howard Hughes, who never does things halfway, believe me, has set aside a million dollars to exploit "Jet Pilot," made six years ago.

He himself supervised the flying sequences and I am told the picture isn't a bit dated and that John Wayne and Janet Leigh, the stars, look just wonderful.

In a meeting held between RKO officials and Universal-International's top brass (which is releasing the RKO output) it was decided to go all-out in advertising and publicity.

RKO still owes Howard eight million dollars on the sale of the company, but he isn't taking the RKO studio back for motion picture production.

BROTHERS PLAY BROTHERS

The Baer Brothers, Maxie and Buddy, play brothers in "Once Upon a Horse," the Rowan and Martin comedy at U-I. In the picture the two boys try to get their sister, played by Ingrid Goude (Miss Sweden), a husband. Should not be too difficult.

I can't remember the Baers ever playing together in the same picture. In fact, I haven't seen Maxie on the screen in years, not since he won the heavyweight boxing championship of the world and made a picture called "The Prize Fighter and the Lady" on the MGM lot.

Maybe he has done some films in the interim and I just didn't happen to see them.

Don't ever say a woman can't keep a secret! I've known for four weeks that Irene Dunne received a letter from Washington apprising her of her pending appointment as U. S. delegate to the United Nations. I was sworn to secrecy and didn't even hint the big news.

No, Irene didn't tell me, although she is one of my dearest and closest friends. She will serve her country well. She is intelligent, conscientious, and not a professional politician.

When the Senate confirms President Eisenhower's nomination of Irene, she will go to Washington to accept the honor given her. I wish I could go with her, and I may do just that.

IS HE THE COLONEL?

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Is Col. Paul D. Meyers, vice president and treasurer of Airwick Corporation, the officer Mrs. Edward G. Robinson meant when she said she will marry a colonel? Gladys and the Colonel were at the Harwyn Club in New York.

'Tis said Swiss millionaire Hans de Schultiss, who bought the General Film Lab, will marry Connie Travers, Los Angeles girl, next month.

Killed Fleeing Bees

SELINGSGROVE, Pa. — Terry Schemck, 10, of Middleburg, Pa., and three friends were playing near a road 15 miles west of here when they turned over a bees' nest. Young Schemck, in trying to escape the bees, ran into the street and was struck and killed by a car.

Boston Newspapers Still Hit by Strike

BOSTON (AP) — Bostonians went hungry again today for printed news as Boston newspapers failed to publish for the third day because of a strike.

Six of the city's seven daily newspapers suspended publication Friday night when 300 mailers, subordinate members of the International Typographical Union, struck for a pay raise.

★ ★ ★

Affected by the walkout are the morning and evening Globe, the morning Herald, the afternoon Traveler, the morning Daily Record and the afternoon American. Their combined circulation is 1¼ million.

Only the Christian Science Monitor is not affected by the strike. That paper is distributed nationally from Boston.

★ ★ ★

Mayor John B. Hynes called the news famine "a tragedy," adding that "a daily paper is like bread and butter—you can't get along without it."

He said representatives of the publishers and the union would meet sometime today in an effort to reach accord in the disagreement. Both sides indicated strong desires for a quick return to work and republication.

13 Plead Innocent to Egyptian Charges

CAIRO (AP)—All 13 defendants pleaded innocent today at the opening of their military trial on charges of plotting to assassinate President Nasser and overthrow his regime.

The case against five civilians, including two former Cabinet ministers, and eight army officers has been reported to link them with both the United States and Communists.

★ ★ ★

The defendants include onetime Foreign Minister Mohamed Salah el Din and Defense and Social Affairs Minister Abdel Fattah Hassan. Both held office in a Wafdist party government before Nasser's rise to power.

Retired Brig. Ahmed Atef Nasser is among the army officers accused of plotting to install Salah el Din as prime minister and Hassan as interior minister.

★ ★ ★

The group allegedly planned to install as president Gen. Mohamed Naguib, who has been under house arrest since 1954 after serving as president following the 1952 revolution that ousted King Farouk.

5,000 Meet to Protest Nuclear Weapons Use

TOKYO (AP)—More than 5,000 delegates jammed steamy Metropolitan Gymnasium today for the third World Convention Against Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs.

The delegates, including 96 foreigners from 22 countries, heard a long list of speakers—including an American Unitarian minister—appeal for a ban on the manufacture and testing of nuclear weapons.

Homer A. Jack, a Unitarian pastor from Evanston, Ill., told the convention Americans attending the session were "extremely ashamed" that America dropped atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Wasn't Quite Enough

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — Faced with a big budget problem the mayor and city council here eliminated their own salaries—$900 for the mayor, $600 each for councilmen. Budget is still $114,692 higher than last year.

Oman Rebels Flee to Hills After Sultan Takes Nizwa

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) — Supporters of the Sultan of Muscat and Oman searched the barren mountains behind Nizwa for holdout rebels today after capturing the mud village.

The goal of British-led native forces was achieved peacefully yesterday when they swept into Nizwa, for four weeks capital of the rebellious Imam of Oman.

Imam Ghaleb ben Ali, religious leader of the mountain people who sought an independent state, was believed to have fled to the Izki area east of Nizwa.

★ ★ ★

Sam Pope Brewer, New York Times correspondent reporting for the American press from the column that took Nizwa, radioed that the imam and his firebrand younger brother Taleb were believed to be with Chief Suleiman bin Hayma, another leader of the revolt.

After being held up two days at Firq on the approaches to Nizwa, Trucial Oman scouts and British troops under Brig. J. A. R. Robertson captured Firq at dawy yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Brewer said what appeared to be American-style hand grenades were found in rebel strongpoints at Firq. The find strengthened suspicions that the imam has been supported by Saudi Arabia, which receives American military aid.

Nizwa leaders surrendered to the advancing troops. Brewer said in each village occupied so far leaders have assured the Sultan's forces that inhabitants were completely loyal but were intimidated by small bands of armed tribesmen.

The imam's Cairo representative, Mohamed el Harsy, claimed rebels killed 150 of the Sultan's troops near Fahoud. This was the first report of a major battle at Fahoud, site of oil exploration west of Nizwa and reportedly a British base of operations.

Harsy also said Britain extracted concessions from the Sultan before going to his aid. One was that the United States not be permitted to reopen a consulate in Muscar closed many years ago, Harsy said.

★ ★ ★

The other concessions were for oil operations, Harsy said. The U.S. State Department has denied any conflict between American and British oil interests in the area was involved in the rebellion.

Metals Compete to Capture Important New Markets

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Dull days in the metals trades right now are quickening the competition to capture new markets. And this could benefit all the rest of us.

★ ★ ★

This is not only because competition holds prices down but because the research boys are hot on the scent of new products and new processes. They know they'd better be, or else.

Already the race among the metals is changing the look of things.

Strange new office and factory buildings are rising. Their sides are clad in aluminum, steel, copper, zinc, nickel, tin—alone or in combination.

Changes in home construction are getting beyond the merely talking stage. The use of metal in frames, sidings, doors, windows, awnings grows.

Auto makers try new metal combinations, both inside and outside their new models and talk of more changes to come.

★ ★ ★

Metals have pushed into the apparel field at the high fashion level and are an increasing factor in home furnishings and decoration.

The big post Korean War bonanza when metals were in short supply and sellers were courted by buyers has come to a halt for the time being.

For example, those great competitors, copper and aluminum, are now within kissing distance in price. Copper at just over 28 cents a pound and aluminum at 26 cents a pound have to fight for markets.

Aluminum has been fighting it out with stainless steel as skin material for skyscrapers. But bronze (copper and tin) is the covering for one New York office building. And steel panels faced with vermillion colored porcelain and gold tinted windows edged with gold finished aluminum is planned for another. Pre-oxidized sheet copper clads an office building in Oklahoma.

Nickel, a little surprised at its sudden change in status, is hunting new markets. As a part of stainless steel it sees many possibilities. Research into other alloys is now being stepped up.

New alloys are sure to play an increasing role in the coming missile and super-jet age, where aluminum fears it is slipping, unless it can pierce the heat barrier.

★ ★ ★

Aluminum is talking big of muscling in on the lucrative can industry, where some 40 billion cans are sold for 1½ billion dollars every year.

Almost every field that metals serve are alive with research scientists thinking up new marvels for tomorrow.

Crop Estimate Soars Soybeans

CHICAGO (AP)— Soybean futures shot up as much as eight cents a bushel on the Board of Trade today on buying brought about by a government crop estimate that was much lower than expected.

After the heavy opening flurry, soybeans settled down somewhat for gains of around two to four cents. Soybean oil and meal also were up sharply right at the start.

Wheat also showed gains of more than a cent in some cases due to a winter wheat production forecast which was considered somewhat bullish. A similar forecast for corn moved prices up somewhat in that pit. Oats were higher with corn.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was ½ to 1⅛ higher, September $2.16⅛; corn was ¼ higher to ⅝ lower, September $1.30¾; oats were ⅛ higher to ⅛ lower, September 64⅝; rye was 1⅝ to 2¾ higher, September $1.37¾; soybeans were 3 to 5⅛ cents higher, September $2.47¼; and lard was 10 to 23 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $13.05.

Man Murders Wife With Knife in Ohio

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A 41-year-old man, home on a trial visit from a mental institution, stabbed his wife to death in nearby Swanton today while their three children tried to stop him.

After the stabbing, Preston Fisher put the body of his wife in his car and drove to Mercy Hospital here where she was pronounced dead.

Fisher had been on a 30-day trial visit from a Veterans Administration Hospital in Battle Creek, and was due to return there next week.

Sheriff's deputies James Beightol and Paul O'Connor said Fisher's wife, Geneva, 39, arose early this morning to get him a drink of water. A few minutes later, the children—Millicent, 18, Phillip, 16, and Sandra, 13, were awakened by screams.

The deputies said the children found Fisher scuffling with his wife on the back porch and tried to stop them.

Coroner Paul Hohly said there were 11 knife wounds in the woman's body, most of them in the chest and abdomen.

The deputies said Fisher told them he tossed the knife out of the car window on the way to the hospital. He was held in jail without bond.

Former Congressman From Texas Dies at 85

ALBANY, Tex. (AP)—Former U.S. Rep. Thomas L. Blanton Sr. died yesterday. He was 85.

Blanton served in Congress from 1917 to 1936 and practiced law in Washington until 1938.

Matthews Blanton, a son, said his father had been confined to his home since completing a law case 15 weeks ago. He said he died in his sleep during the night.

Communist Hungarian Asks West for Asylum

LONDON (AP)—The British Home Office said last night Istvan Adam, personal secretary to the Communist Hungarian charge d' affaires in London, has asked for political asylum in Britain. No decision has yet been taken on his plea.

The fact that Adam had vanished from the Hungarian legation became known a week ago. Although not officially a diplomat himself, his position presumably gave him access to confidential documents.

Tot Dies While Doctors Stitch Cut in His Arm

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Three-year-old James Murray died on a treatment table at St. Joseph's Hospital last night as doctors were taking stitches in a four-inch gash on his left arm.

★ ★ ★

One of the physicians opened the boy's chest quickly and started massaging his heart when it stopped beating, but Jimmy did not respond.

The doctors reported they were at a loss to explain the death. They had given a local anesthetic.

★ ★ ★

Jimmy cut his arm when he broke a window pane while playing at home. Neighbors helped Mrs. Joseph Murray curb the bleeding with towels. Howard P. Dickover drove Jimmy and his mother to the hospital.

"He didn't seem to be crying much," Dickover said. "After he got to the hospital, though, he started screaming quite a bit like he was scared."

'Zorro' Slated to Start in Fall

TV Show Will Feature Fictional Robin Hood of Old California

By CHARLES MAHER

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You've been warned by now, no doubt, that if you don't like Westerns you may as well have your TV picture tube converted into a sun lamp next season.

Well, fellow squinters, there may be an out.

If cowboys are your idea of nothing to watch, if shoot-'em-ups leave you bilious, you can skip the Westerns and watch a Spanish.

The one we have in mind is "Zorro," a series about the "Robin Hood of old California," to be introduced on ABC-TV in October by Walt Disney productions.

It'll be full of frantic fencing and loaded with breakneck horseback chases and related jazz. And the Disney men think enough of its potential to assign it a spot opposite Groucho Marx (who's on NBC) Thursday nights.

A lot of vile personalities are going to get knocked off in this latest Disney effort, and at least one player is going to have a big "Z" cut into his forehead by the righteous sword of Zorro—a daytime Spanish playboy who turns into a formidable do-gooder at night.

★ ★ ★

But the whole thing is aimed at the family-type audience, and the Disney people assure us the blood will be spilled in judicious quantities.

The source of the series is a fictional piece about old Los Angeles by Johnston McCulley. The book twice has been made into a movie.

★ ★ ★

To play the TV role, Disney has picked Guy Williams, a 6-foot-3, 185 pounder who's been trying to get in the act around here about five years.

Williams, now 29, played a few small roles on TV in New York City, married a Powers model, came to Hollywood in 1952 on a Universal - International contract, and stayed with U-I about a year, doing very little.

Williams remained in relative obscurity kicking around between small TV and movie parts. Then, a few months back, he and about 15 other actors dropped in at Disney's to test for the new series. Williams knew how to fence and he resembled a Zorro.

★ ★ ★

Now, with any luck at all, he should be able to lick obscurity. The Zorro role is a plump plum in the adventure-mined TV game.

Executive Council Meets Today in Chicago

AFL-CIO Faces Unsolved Problems

CHICAGO (AP) — The AFL-CIO Executive Council meets today in an atmosphere freighted with unsolved problems.

George Meany, president of the 29-man policy group, was expected to announce a shift in setting for the December AFL-CIO convention. Arrangements for a meeting, Dec. 4-10 at Miami Beach were canceled last week. No reason was given.

★ ★ ★

One of the Executive Council's major tasks was formulation of a policy for settlement of jurisdictional disputes between former AFL craft unions and the shop unions of the old CIO.

Some action on corruption accusations involving leadership of individual unions was expected. Of five such cases, only one was apparently ripe for council action, the others being under consideration by the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee.

Although matters involving leadership of the 850,000-member Carpenters Union are still awaiting outcome of a grand jury investigation in Indiana, Meany indicated that he may push for the ouster of Carpenters President Maurice A. Hutcheson from the Executive Council.

Hutcheson and two other Carpenter chiefs, Vice President O. William Blaier and Treasurer Frank Chapman, were charged with participating in a five-way split of $81,500 in quick profits made on the sale of land earmarked for Indiana highway construction.

The Executive Council was expected to act upon a recommendation of the Ethical Practices Committee with respect to President James G. Cross of the 160,000-member Bakery and Confectionery Workers.

★ ★ ★

Cross was accused before the Senate Rackets Committee of having negotiated a substandard contract for members of his union employed at the Zion (Ill.) Industries, after having borrowed $97,600 from Martin Philipsborn Sr., a heavy investor in the Zion bakery enterprise.

The Bakers' president was accused of other irregularities, including failure to account for $32,000 of the union funds he spent last year.

The Executive Council was expected to hear first reports on Senate committee testimony that President Anthony Valente and Secretary-Treasurer Lloyd Klenert of the 90,000-member United Textile Workers misused some $100,000 in union funds.

No action was expected at the current session on the Teamsters Union, whose president, Dave Beck, has been accused of misapplying $400,000 in union funds. The Ethical Practices Committee has set a hearing for the Teamsters for Aug. 28.

Nevertheless, the 1½-million-member Teamsters Union, biggest in the AFL-CIO family, was expected to come up for some discussion.

The U. S. auto industry uses 20 per cent of the total domestic steel output.

Families in Hollywood Get Bigger and Bigger

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD — Kids are coming back.

Even in Hollywood, people are now having big families. Actor MacDonald Carey says so. He should know. He's the father of six. He lives near Maureen O'Sullivan and John Farrow, the blissful parents of seven. They're friends of Steve McNally, who has eight.

"Maybe it's the vitamins," Mrs. Carey says.

Suprised not to be expecting this year, Mrs. Carey thought of calling a press conference to announce it.

We were at their big home in Beverly Hills—with a whole fleet of kids' bicycles in the garage and a "jungle zoo" out back which resembled Central Park.

"You should see the Carey Safari when we take off for the east," she said. "We take up the whole tail section of a DC-7," Papa Carey said.

Once it was the poor who had big families — But Carey was a banker's son in Iowa. His wife, Betty Hecksher, came from Philadelphia's snooty Main Line. She has a sister there, Mrs. Joseph Harrison, Jr.

CAREY

"My sister is the head of Planned Parenthood in Philadelphia," she said. "She has five children."

★ ★ ★

"This particular generation out here seems to be going in for big families and it's a good sign," Carey said. "Of course it gets sort of expensive."

There is always a propitious moment not to have a baby — always something else you ought to spend the money for," Mrs. Carey shrugged.

Anyway, they have Lynn, 11; Lisa, 8; Steve, 6; Teresa, 5; Mac, 3, and Paul, 18 months.

"I met Mac in an acting school in New York," Mrs. Carey recalled.

"I was going to be an actress then. Just imagine what would have happened if I'd continued.

★ ★ ★

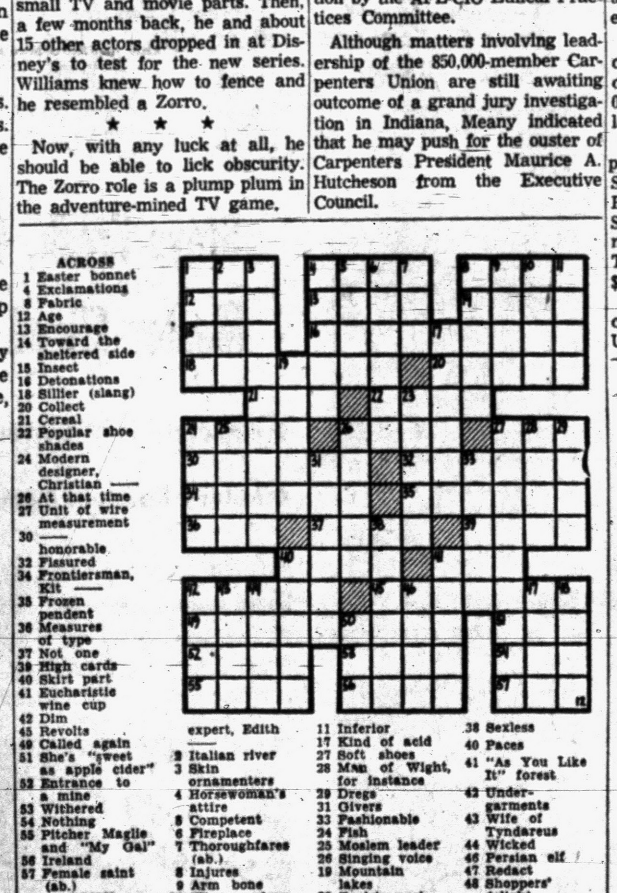

"I would have had six husbands instead of six children."

The Dave Garroways are expecting . . . Frank Sinatra and Bing Crosby'll get $100,000 each for the one-hour TV spectacular introducing the Edsel . . .Collectors are paying $25 for Rainer-Grace Kelly wedding invitations . . . Bob Hope signing Gary Crosby for his TV'er, said, "I know Bing always watches my show — but why take chances?"

Contract May Be McElroy Obstacle

WASHINGTON (INS) — A $12,500,000 Army contract to a subsidiary of Procter and Gamble was viewed today as a possible barrier to Neil H. McElroy's confirmation as defense secretary.

★ ★ ★

However, the potential "conflict of interest" for the soap company president was discounted by senators who felt the situation could be "ironed out" even if he retains his Procter and Gamble stock.

President Eisenhower has nominated McElroy to succeed Charles E. Wilson as Pentagon chief.

★ ★ ★

Plastic production in 1954 averaged about 83 pounds for an average U.S. family.

2 State Firms Sue Ohio Turnpike Body

TOLEDO (AP)— Two Michigan construction firms have filed suit in U.S. District Court here seeking $2,025,560 damages from the Ohio Turnpike Commission.

The Sargent Construction Co. of Saginaw and the Johnson-Greene Co. of Ann Arbor, claimed the commission gave them "inadequate" information about sub-surface soil in 11.9 miles of the turnpike which the firms built in Lucas County west of here.

The plaintiffs said they would have presented a higher bid for the road work had they known of the blue clay on part of the stretch which caused construction complications.

A bid of $10,636,646 was presented by the two firms, but the petition said a bid of $12,661,672 would have been given if the soil condition had been described adequately.

The toll road, which crosses northern Ohio, was opened to traffic Oct. 1, 1955.

Pere Marquette Fleet Flagship Going for Scrap

DETROIT (AP)—Carferry No. 18, one-time flagship of the Pere Marquette Lake Michigan Fleet, has been sold for scrap by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad.

No. 18 has been tied up at Ludington where it has been used for storage since it was retired from service in 1952.

The craft, which sailed between Ludington and Milwaukee was built in 1910 by the American Shipbuilding Corp. in Chicago in what was then a record 100 days. It made its maiden voyage Jan. 29, 1911.

The Pere Marquette, for which it was built, later was acquired by the C & O.

The railroad also announced yesterday the sale of Carferry No. 14 based at Detroit. Both craft were sold to Luria Bros. of Chicago.

Arizona's population is growing at a rate of 50,000 new residents annually.
