Senators Voting Today on 10 Pct. Postal Pay Hike

Expect Passage in Face of Ike's Promise to Veto Raise Over 7.5 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate starts voting today on a politically touchy bill to give the 500,000 postal workers a 10 per cent pay raise—more than President Eisenhower recommended. Backers claimed they had the votes to win. Republican leaders would say only they were confident they could sustain a veto of a 10 per cent raise. Eisenhower has hinted broadly he would veto any raise over about 7½ per cent.

The Senate convenes two hours earlier than usual to debate the pay question under a time-limitation agreement.

Democrats generally were lining up in favor of the 10 per cent bill, although some Southerners were expected to support the lower figure. Most Republicans were going along with the administration.

An effort to get agreement on a compromise 8.5 per cent pay boost fell through yesterday. This had been pushed by several Republican senators. The President let it be known he had not altered his views. Also, it was understood leaders of postal employes unions, sensing victory for a 10 per cent bill, rejected any lower figure.

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.), senior Republican on the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, planned to offer a 7.5 per cent proposal backed by most administration supporters in Congress.

This would provide a 5 per cent minimum pay raise for most postal workers. The average would be higher because many supervisory employees would get much larger increases.

Early in this session, the President recommended a 6½ per cent average raise for postal workers, which included 5 per cent for most of them and a bigger increase for supervisors, and 5 per cent for the government's one million classified civil service workers.

Since then he has indicated he will accept one percentage point more than in his original proposals.

GMT Will Build 'L'Universelle'

Dream Truck Will Be Put Into Production by Local Division

Commercial production of "L'Universelle," GM's ultra-streamlined new dream truck is planned "as quickly as possible," Harlowe H. Curtice, GM president, has revealed.

Speaking in San Francisco, the General Motors head revealed that the truck, produced at GMC Truck & Coach Division here, would be on the market soon. The truck made its bow at the New York showing of the GM Motormen.

Basically a panel-delivery model, the new truck, with engine located below and behind the driver, can be adapted to many other uses, Curtice explained.

Everywhere the truck has been shown, enthusiastic spectators have suggested many uses in addition to those for which it was designed. These many possibilities have influenced GM's decision to place it into production.

Curtice also revealed that General Motors sold 217,129 passenger cars at retail during the first 20 days of March, setting a new record for the period.

He predicted GM would produce 1,175,000 passenger cars and trucks during the first three months of this year, the largest first-quarter output in the company's history.

River Ice Jams Below Niagara Falls

ENDANGERS COTTAGES — The summer cottage of Douglas Winchester forms a puny barrier against the crushing force of the ice that is jamming the Niagara River below the American Fall. The ice jam, 25 to 50 feet thick in some spots, is one of the worst in recent times along this stretch of the river. This picture was taken near Youngstown, N. Y.

Mrs. Priest, Spivak Head County Teachers' Program

United States Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest and Lawrence Spivak, Washington news correspondent, are headlining today's double session of the annual Oakland County Teachers Institute in Birmingham High School.

A special message from President Dwight D. Eisenhower for the teachers of Oakland County was read at the 1:30 session. It was received by Hazel A. Trumble of the Pontiac Press, chairman of the afternoon meeting at which Mrs. Priest spoke on "Federal Monetary Policies and Their Effect on Domestic Economy."

William Shuck, superintendent of Waterford Township schools, presided at the morning session when Spivak introduced "The Press Meets the Professors."

Moderating a panel on national and international affairs, Spivak interrogated professors of political science from the colleges and universities of Michigan.

Participating were Dr. N. M. Efimenko and Dr. George Peck of the University of Michigan, Dr. Ira Polley of Wayne University and Dr. Joseph LaPolambara of Michigan State College.

The President's telegram read: "My greetings go to the teachers of Oakland County on the occasion of this year's teachers institute at Birmingham. I am glad to know that your program speaker will be Ivy Baker Priest. She is a public servant of outstanding ability. To each and every one of you I send my best wishes for a successful meeting." Fluorine Recalls History to Dr. Monroe

Vaccination Opposed, but It Conquered Smallpox

Pontiac voters will decide whether to fluoridate the city water supply at the spring election April 4. In view of that fact the Press today publishes a statement prepared by Dr. John D. Monroe, director of public health for both the City of Pontiac and Oakland County. It follows:

"Here we are, right in the midst of fluoridation or no fluoridation. History does repeat itself. Back in 1721 the populace was similarly and violently disturbed about smallpox vaccination. People died frequently and horribly with smallpox, yet loud were the voices who proclaimed the evils of prevention.

"Some voices were still being raised as late as 1820 and 1829 in spite of the fact that smallpox in the United States is practically non-existent, and vaccination has come to be accepted as a sound means of preventing the disease. Smallpox is very prevalent in other countries in which immunization is not accepted, so there must be something to this business of prevention.

Delay Big Atom Shot, Planning New Twist

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A much-postponed major atomic test shot was delayed again today.

But a strange, new sight was planned: a nonatomic detonation high in the skies above the desert testing ground.

Air force planes were scheduled to fly intricate smoke-making grids in the air above Yucca Flat, for measurement purposes while other planes dotted the sky with smoke bursts.

Plans called for a high-flying bomber to deliver the device, set to explode more than five miles above the ground.

Plan Suburban Shopping Center

150-Acre Site Bought at Square Lake and Telegraph Roads

A proposed multi-million dollar suburban shopping development to be known as Bloomfield Shopping Town was announced today to be built on 150 acres at Square Lake and Telegraph Rds.

Owners and developers, Bernard Edelman Associates, Inc., of Detroit, said that between 35 and 38 stores are planned for the project. Designed specifically for the development are a drive-in bank, a merchandise mart, post office, utility firm offices, a nationally known department store, branch airlines office and a professional building.

There will also be a large restaurant and parking areas designed for 5,000 cars.

Bernard Edelman, president, says that his corporation has purchased the land which is bounded by the Pontiac city limits, Franklin Road, and Telegraph and Square Lake Rds. It extends between Square Lake to the Pontiac Potters Co. with 2800 feet of frontage on Telegraph. (See map, page 2.)

Plans call for designing Bloomfield Shopping Town to fit the contour of the land, landscaping boulevard areas within the unit and spacing parking plots close to different types of stores.

The property formerly was owned by Walter, Curt and Edward Lauckner, owners of the Pontiac Pottery Co.

Located in Bloomfield Township, the land falls within the Pontiac School district.

Niagara River Ice Jam Tears at Homes, Docks

Damage Estimates Put at $1 Million; Blast Try Fails to Help

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) — Local residents, Army engineers and Coast Guardsmen still watched helplessly today as the ice-filled Niagara River continued on its home and dock-wrecking rampage.

The grinding mass of glacierlike ice showed no signs of washing out into Lake Ontario. Army engineers said the pressure behind the jam remained about the same.

Summer homes and boat docks along the shoreline below the falls were reduced to rubble as the ice went up over the river banks. Property estimated at nearly a million dollars was threatened.

In some spots, the pileup was as deep as 80 feet. The only open water in the rapids below the falls was a short stretch near the whirlpool.

The shoreline from Lewiston down to Fort Niagara on the U.S. side and from Queenston to Niagara-on-the-Lake on the Canadian side caught the brunt of the damage.

Above the falls, an ice jam has slowed the flow of water over the American falls considerably. Seven cottages were crushed by the ice at Lewiston.

The Queenston steamboat dock, where Toronto excursion boats dock during the summer, was destroyed yesterday and water was reported to be pouring into the Ontario hydroelectric plants near Queenston.

Army engineers reported that Lake Ontario was about 20 feet above the normal level at Rochester.

The engineers said there was no hope of being able to dynamite the jam. The slush under the ice would only act as a cushion, they said. An attempt was made Tuesday to dynamite the ice but it only succeeded in breaking up the surface ice.

Very Little Snow Expected in Area

Temperatures will be below normal for the next few days, but very little snow is expected, the U. S. Weather Bureau said today in a five-day forecast.

With the normal maximum at 45 and the normal minimum near 26, the mercury will remain about 10 degrees below normal. Although it will continue cold, no sharp temperature trends are expected.

It will be partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow with a low tonight of 22 to 26, rising to a high of 34 to 38 tomorrow. Tomorrow night brings more partly cloudy skies with a low of 24 to 28.

In downtown Pontiac yesterday, temperatures ranged from a high of 41 early in the day, dropping to 25 degrees shortly before midnight. At 8 a.m. today the thermometer reading stood at 24 degrees, rising to 35 at 1 p.m.

Object of Wide Search

MISSING IN DETROIT — Police continued today a street-by-street search of Detroit's east side for Barbara Gaca (above), 7, who disappeared Thursday morning on her way to school.

Police Fear Murder

Detroit's East Side Scoured for Trace of Missing Girl, 7

From Our Wire Services

DETROIT—A block-by-block search of a six-square-mile area on Detroit's densely populated East Side has failed to turn up a trace of a 7-year-old girl, missing since yesterday morning. Police feared she had been slain.

A 200-man police posse continued the hunt all night. A roundup of known sex deviates was slated for today.

Mrs. Rita Gaca, 29, reported her daughter Barbara missing when she did not return home from school for lunch yesterday.

Mrs. Gaca telephoned Assumption Grotto School, where Barbara is a second-grade pupil, but learned the child had not shown up for classes.

Fifty probationary police were called in to join the search after dark. Nearby parks were scoured and police made a door-to-door check of the neighborhood.

By early this morning police said they felt certain the girl had been taken out of their East Side precinct.

Barbara's father Frank, 31, a postal employee, came home from his job to assist police. Many of his fellow workers joined the search.

Police also checked a Macomb County filing station man's report that a girl resembling Barbara was in a car that drove into his station at 1:30 a.m. today.

Gilbert Nelson, the attendant, said the girl was wearing a blue snow suit. Barbara was dressed that way when she set out for school.

Nelson, whose station is at Gossbeck and Ten Mile Rd. in Roseville, said the car was driven by a man who bought $2 worth of gasoline.

Solons Blister Management of Department

Claim That Agriculture Officials Are Allowing Situation to Deteriorate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today accused the Agriculture Department of allowing political considerations to darken the future of American farmers.

It blistered the department's management in a report recommending $878,625,391 in cash and $88 million dollars in lending authority to finance the next fiscal year. This was a net cut of only $6,424,524 from budget requests.

The report by the committee bristled with criticism of Secretary Benson and "others about him."

It was approved in committee by voice vote.

The committee is composed of 30 members, 20 Democrats and 10 Republicans, with Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.) chairman. The report was drafted by a subcommittee of four Democrats and three Republicans under the chairmanship of Rep. Whitten (D-Miss.).

Subcommittee reports are prepared in advance of the full committee sessions and normally are tacitly approved by the entire committee when it acts on subcommittee money recommendations.

There was no immediate comment from the Agriculture Department. The Commodity Credit Corp. and its parent organization, the Commodity Stabilization Service, bore the brunt of the committee's wrath. Benson is chairman of the Board of Directors of the CCC, which handles the government's farm price support program.

Noting a steady drop in farm income and a steady rise in farm costs in recent years, the committee said, "the outlook is for still further declines in net farm income in 1955."

Since 1945, it said, the farmers' share of the consumers' food dollar has dropped from 54 to 43 per cent and "prospects are that this trend will continue."

In the South, particularly, it added, the situation is "deplorable" because of government curtailment of cotton acreage. More than 55,000 farm families in the South "have been put off their farms, with no homes and limited employment possibilities," the committee said, and 130,000 farm families (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Peress Probers Meet in Secret

Public Hearings End Pending Decision on Continuing Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate investigations subcommittee meets behind closed doors today to consider whether to pursue its studies of the Irving Peress case.

Pending that decision, it ended yesterday its public hearings into why the New York dentist was advanced from captain to major and got an honorable discharge after the Army had recorded him as a security risk.

Chairman McClellan (D - Ark.) said he thought there would be "in all probability one more public session."

Most members, however, said they were convinced that Army red tape, errors and "bungling" are the answers, and not some Communist "mastermind" in the Pentagon as Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has alleged.

They said the picture was about completed by testimony from Secretary of the Army Stevens acknowledging "mistakes" in the Army's handling of the case.

McClellan said he believes "this committee would want to recommend" that Congress or the Army take steps to revoke Peress' honorable discharge, and subject him to court-martial if that is possible.

Wilber M. Brucker, Defense Department general counsel, told McClellan the Army itself had explored this possibility and has a formal opinion from the judge advocate general that "we cannot revoke the honorable discharge of Irving Peress," and that Congress probably could not do so either.

Voters League Endorses Evergreen Interceptor Sewer

Backs Project for Southfield

Area Will Vote April 4 on Two-Mill Tax Hike to Pay Share of Cost

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Southfield League of Women Voters emphatically endorsed the proposed Evergreen Interceptor sewer at a mass meeting and panel discussion at Southfield High School last night.

The $2,740,000 project would service six south Oakland County communities, of which Southfield would be the heaviest financial contributor with $1,603,596.

But voters must turn in enough "yes" votes at the April 4 election to put across a millage increase at the rate of two mills for 20 years.

This and other equities were discussed by Milton Adams, executive secretary of the State Water Resources Commission; Mrs. Florence Booth, assistant state attorney general; and Donald Pierce, in charge of sewage treatment for the State Department of Health.

Adams stressed that the water commission, which has found five of the municipalities in default of an order to abate Rouge River pollution, is only interested in seeing the river cleaned up, regardless of what methods are used. The Evergreen sewer would flow into Detroit's system for treatment.

Explaining that the matter has now been turned over to her office for action, Mrs. Booth said there is no alternative but to prosecute the offending areas.

To justify that stand, she cited a number of court cases tried and upheld in the Michigan Supreme Court.

Construction of individual sewage treatment plants at key points, if the proposed is turned down, was described by Pierce, who pointed out that the joint undertaking would be far less prohibitive in costs. Neither would individual plants be satisfactory, he emphasized.

Southfield Supervisor William Roemer answered questions from the audience and explained that where two proposals were voted on (and turned down) at the last election. Only one will appear on the ballot this time.

He said confusion resulted from the proposals, and one on financing the Evergreen sewer alone has been eliminated. Now the millage increase will be for that and future sewage projects.

Other speakers included Oakland County Drain Commissioner Ralph Main and Birmingham City Manager Donald G. Egbert, both backers of the Evergreen sewer.

MILFORD — The annual spring concert by the Huron Valley schools which was scheduled for Tuesday night, was postponed until next Monday night at 8 in the High School.

Invitations had been sent to other schools all over Michigan, inviting student musicians to come to the concert as guests of the Milford group, according to Phil Haddrill, band director. Fifty band members will perform Monday, playing difficult music. Mr. Haddrill said that this concert will have the finest music that he has ever programmed. Composers include Wagner, Beethoven and Tchaikowsky.

Many variety numbers also have been scheduled in the program and Huron Valley residents have been urged to attend the concert.

This will be the first program to be given since the new stage curtains and back drop were installed last Thursday.

For the first time the class is having three one-act plays instead of the single three-act play which has been the tradition of the past.

They are: "Doc Fix-It," a comedy; "The Storm," a drama; and "True In Heart," a serious drama. Director of the plays is Robert Nelson.

Walled Lake Woman Asks Boundary Change

NINA JUNTUNEN, of Walled Lake, has asked Oakland County Circuit Court to eliminate a section of land owned by her from the area incorporated last Dec. 7 as Walled Lake City.

The area is strip 200 feet deep and 1,325 long on the city's eastern outside. The petition states the action is reasonable because the land is not subdivided and its removal would not break the city into parts.

Lakefront Owners Meeting to Air Weed-Control Plan

LAKE ORION — Lake front property owners will decide after a public meeting tomorrow, whether or not a chemical spraying program to control underwater weeds in Lake Orion is to be initiated through special assessment.

Called by Ferris Clark, township supervisor, and W. C. Leipprandt, village president, the 8 p.m. public discussion will outline specific plans for the control program, which has been cut in half cost-wise, after new, more specific surveys were conducted.

Of the 681 lakeshore property owners, at least half must agree to the project before the assessment is placed on the 1955 rolls. Estimates now put costs at 25 cents for each shoreline foot, as against original estimates of 47 cents.

If approved, plans call for spraying 150 feet out from shore for 21 miles. The lake's shoreline measures 22 miles.

Architect to Be Chosen for $1,250,000 Building — Teachers Get Pay Hike

MILFORD — An architect will be selected this week to begin plans on the new $1,250,000 high school to be built near Milford, according to Harold Hansen, superintendent of the Huron Valley School System.

At a special meeting of the Huron Valley School Board last night, members canvassed the ballot for the school, cast in Monday's election.

School board members planned to visit various new buildings in Rochester, Pontiac, Fowlerville and Flint by Monday, and examine the work of the two architectural firms which have submitted plans for the high school.

Beyster and Assoc. of Detroit and the Kingscott Co. of Kalamazoo are the firms under consideration.

A $200 hike in teachers' salaries, beginning next September was voted and passed unanimously by the school board.

Oakland Denied 4th Judge by GOP, Williams Claims

OXFORD — Addressing a Democratic rally at Oxford, Gov. G. Mennen Williams told Oakland County voters last night they are not getting "equal access to justice" because the State Senate held up a bill to provide the county with a fourth circuit judge.

A comparatively small number of people in the strongly Republican district turned out to hear Williams accuse Senate Republicans of beating the House-approved bill simply because the fourth judge would be appointed by himself — a Democrat.

"Justice delayed is too often denied, and the overcrowded docket in the circuit court is delaying justice for citizens of Oakland County," Williams said.

Williams was introduced to the gathering by County Democratic committee chairman Carlos Richardson of Waterford. He also introduced Lynn Bartlett of Grosse Pointe, candidate for the post of state superintendent of public instruction.

Previously the governor talked with school superintendents of Oakland County at a 6 p.m. dinner meeting in Drayton Plains.

Earlier he addressed other meetings in the Oak Park homes of two county Democrats.

Following the Oxford talk, Williams and Bartlett, with Mrs. Bartlett, were feted at a dance in Waterford Township High School. The dance was sponsored by the Waterford Township Democratic Committee.

Auction to Aid Walnut Lake Youth Groups

WEST-BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Walnut Lake Men's Club at 2 p.m. Saturday, to be held at 2065 Walnut Lake road. Purpose of the auction is to finance youth programs in the area.

Both the newly organized Walnut Lake Boys' Club and the local Cub Scout Pack will benefit. These organizations are both sponsored by the Men's Club, which last year held an auction to send a deserving Cub Scout to summer camp.

Another Cub Scout will receive an expense-free session at camp this year.

Organization of the Boys' Club in January was prompted by a desire to help the youth of the area in making an "orderly adjustment to the responsibilities of adulthood." It is comprised of boys 13 to 19 years of age.

A business and recreation meeting is held weekly in the men's clubrooms. A local gymnasium is turned over to the boys under the men's club sponsorship another evening each week for a supervised sports program.

Col. Stutz Schultz, who served as auctioneer free of charge last year, will handle the men's club sale Saturday.

Ohio State Tankers Grab Early NCAA Margin

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Two more stars of Ohio State's defending championship team tonight will try to emulate last night's successful opening title defense by Buckeye Ford Konno as the National Collegiate Athletic Assn., swimming meet churns into full speed.

Konno, 5-foot-8, 147, pound senior from Honolulu, launched Ohio State's quest for a ninth NCAA crown at Miami University by picking up seven points with his easy repeat as 1,500 meter champion.

Konno, now holding three 1,500 NCAA titles, was in the fast time of 18:16.1 by a pool's length over George Breen of Cortland (N.Y.) State.

The 1,500 meter was the only event on last night's opening program, but tonight six events will be contested with four individual champions and Michigan's 400 yard free style relay team defending their titles.

Ohio State has two title-holders in action, compact Yoshi Oyakawa, defending his 200 back stroke di-dem, and low board champion Fletcher Gilders.

The other champs in action tonight will be Michigan's aquatic gift from Scotland, Jack Wardrop, the 200 free style king, and 200 breaststroke champion Dave Hawkins, Harvard's Australian ace.

Tonight's competition, also including the 50 yard free style, will put the meet at the halfway point with the final seven events scheduled tomorrow night. Preliminaries will be held this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon.

Every event tonight rates a toss-up, even though Oyakawa is striving to become the first swimmer ever to win the same event four consecutive years.

The 5-6, 160 - pound Hawaiian's competition in the 200 backstroke includes his hard-pressing Buckeye teammate, Al Wiggins.

Much of Michigan's hopes of dethroning Ohio State depends upon

Jack Wardrop and his twin brother, Bert. In the 220 freestyle tonight, Jack must conquer the man who holds the world mark of 2:04.7 for the distance, Ohio State's Konno.

In the 200 orthodox breaststroke, Hawkins faces stiff competition from Michigan's Burwell (Bumpy) Jones, North Carolina State's Bob Mattson, and Ohio State's Van Leer Hoffman.

Michigan's Jim Walters is a tremendous low board diving threat to defending champion Gilders whom the Wolverine star whipped in the Big Ten meet.

New Slate of Table Tennis Champs Named

Short, Tiffany Dethrone '54 Singles Winners in City Tourney

An entirely new list of city table tennis champions were crowned Thursday night as the annual city championships were held before a large audience at Bethany Baptist Church.

Bob Short, a former men's singles champion, regained the title by downing the defending champ, Sid Barnfather, 21-13, 21-18, 21-14.

In a thrilling women's singles matchup, 14-year-old Ellen Tiffany upset defending champ Carol Ryan with a great come-from-behind effort, 18-21, 15-21, 21-19, 21-14.

John Wettlaufer took the junior singles title by beating Carl Knack, 21-15, 17-21, 21-11, 21-11. Men's doubles winners were Jerry Saunders and Wettlaufer over Short and Adolph Magnus, 21-12, 21-19.

Short teamed with his sister, Pat Short Stoutenburg, to capture the mixed doubles event. They defeated Saunders and Miss Ryan in the finals, 21-14, 17-21, 21-16.

250 Compete in K.C. Games

Richards, Laz, Dillard, Santee Are Headliners in Cleveland Event

CLEVELAND (AP)—A field of 250 athletes moves into Cleveland Arena tonight for the 15th annual Knights of Columbus track meet, a 23-event contest.

Among the brightest names taking part are the Rev. Bob Richard, Don Laz and Jerry Weibour in the pole vault, Harrison Dillard in the 45-yard high hurdles, Wes Santee in the mile, and Vic Frittz of Philadelphia in the high jump.

Syracuse University has entered its undefeated 2-mile relay team against clubs from Ohio State, Notre Dame, Indiana and Princeton.

In the hurdles is Joe Savoldi Jr., a Michigan State student and son of the famous Notre Dame full-back. The son of "Jumping Joe" is also entered in the high jump.

Leo Concedes Title

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Manager Leo Durocher has all but conceded the 1955 National League pennant to his New York Giants. "These players know they have what's needed to win," he said. "They're determined to win and they can't see themselves doing anything else."

Big Gus Triandos Fights for Oriole's 1st Base Job

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (INS)—Moving from a club that seemingly always is in the pennant scramble to one which perennially winds up in the league's lower bracket would be a bitter pill to some players.

But to Gus Triandos, it's a chance to win a varsity job.

The genial big fellow is trying to gain his spurs as 1st baseman for the Baltimore Orioles, and through the going hasn't been easy. Gus is given a strong chance to make the grade. What's more, he's anxious to succeed as a major league regular.

Triandos, one of the many players dealt to the Orioles by the Yankees in their big trade of last winter, is getting much attention from Oriole manager Paul Richards.

"He'll be okay in the field, because he's improving all the while," Richards declares. "But it'll be a long, uphill fight for Gus. I feel, however, He'll make it. There's going to be a lot of time and effort to be put in by me as well as Gus."

The tall, handsome Oriole manager is known for his straight talk. And his frank appraisal of Triandos came as no surprise.

Orioles are banking on some heavy hitting by the six-three, 205-pounder in their 1955 drive for higher station in the American League. Richards added:

"He'll never be any Hal Chase, but he'll be all right as a fielder. I'm more concerned about his hitting."

Star Misses Banquet Rather Than Miss Class

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Because he wouldn't skip a class, Albert Wiggins, Ohio State University sophomore swimming sensation, missed a big banquet honoring him for his athletic prowess.

The 19-year-old Pittsburgh resident got tied up in heavy traffic after attending a late afternoon class and failed to make an airplane connection to the Steel City in time for the banquet.

He was honored as the outstanding athlete for 1954 in the Allegheny Mountain Assn. (western Pennsylvania) of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Wiggins holds the National AAU 100 and 200-meter backstroke championships. He's an honor student

Deer Hunters Welcomed

HELEN, Mont. (AP)—Montana is dangling a lure before out-state deer hunters. Non-Montansans, who have paid $100 each for a big game license, now may hunt deer and antelope for only a $20 state fee.

The reduction was made by the Legislature after eastern Montana farmers and ranchers complained that too many deer and pronghorns have been damaging grain fields or eating into haystacks. The $20 fee prevails only for 1955 and 1956.

Balance Beats Boston Celtics

Sharman Can't Outdo Syracuse Scorers, So Nats Take 2-0 Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics have Easy Ed Macauley, Bob Cousy and Bill Sharman. But they don't have defense and as a result the Syracuse Nationals have a 2-0 lead in their best-of-5 playoff for the Eastern championship of the National Basketball Assn.

Sharman canned 32 points for the Celtics last night, but the Nats stayed in there during a late Boston rally to pull it out 116-110. Syracuse, the defending Eastern division champ, could wrap it up Saturday afternoon at Boston.

The Western Division playoff is marking time. Fort Wayne leads Minneapolis 2-1. The fourth game is scheduled for Minneapolis Sunday.

Sons of 2 Stars Start to Work on Own Picture

BY LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — John Wayne feels that his young brother, Bob Morrison and Victor McLaglen's son, Andrew, are now ready to try their own wings in the picture business. They have had experience with William Wellman, one of the best directors in Hollywood, and with John himself in his various film endeavors.

"The Lock and the Key" is their first, with Bob as producer and Andy as director. Only natural that these two young men would choose young stars, so Lori Nelson and Bill Campbell will have the leads. Campbell was in "The High and the Mighty," and Lori's latest picture is "Underwater" with Jane Russell.

"The Lock and the Key" was scripted by Burt Kennedy from the novel by Frank Gruber.

Speaking of John Wayne, he has not yet made his deal with Warner Brothers. He's had several meetings, but so far he and Jack Warner have not been able to get together.

I am told that another major company is very interested in the Wayne-Fellows set-up and that they are ready to submit a deal once they know, according to the code, that the Warner deal is really off. I don't suppose it's really off, but as of today it's not yet signed.

Jack Webb's lecture on music at University of California at Los Angeles was one of the biggest events ever held on the Westwood campus with 500 students packed into a room normally holding 300, and 1,000 lined up outside.

What particularly interested me is the reaction of the college students to Jack's opening remark. Right off the bat he announced, "There will be no rhythm and blues records played here tonight." The place came down in a roar of whistles and applause.

The famed UCLA band played, and Jack says it's one of the best musical organizations he's ever heard. My friend Sergeant Friday held his audience for two solid hours, and now other universities are bidding for a lecture from him. The tie-up, of course, is "Pete Kelly's Blues."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Eating a hamburger, replete with onions and all the trimmings, on the strip, were James Dean and Vampira. They have been seeing each other constantly.

Mrs. Richard Todd flew in unexpectedly to see Todd, who is just finishing "Sir Walter Raleigh" at 20th. He brought her to Coburn Wright's party honoring English ambassador Sir Roger and Lady Makins.

Arthur Cameron brought Jean Lawrence, who reminds me a little of Grace Kelly. She'll be tested at Warner brothers.

Eva Gabor came with Mike Connolly, and she told me that she's having more fun on the Martin and Lewis picture. She's the Gabor with a sense of humor.

Merle Oberon came with Basil Blech of the Los Angeles British consulate. David Hearst and his pretty hope, Cobina Jr., the Charles Brackets and the Johnny Greens were in the group. I had a chance to talk with Floyd Odum and his aviatrix wife, Jacqueline Cochran. He introduces her as Miss Cochran.

Sonja Henie's mother told me Sonja couldn't get a plane to attend Cobina's party. Liberace, she said, is much better following the virus.

Lita Gray Chaplin has met Joan Collins, Sydney's girl friend, and gave her approval of her marriage.

George Burns fell asleep in the sun at Jack Benny's house in Palm Springs, which isn't so good for TV. All the local swains' interest notwithstanding, Anita Ekberg's real heart interest is a Swedish army captain named Lars Rehner. The one-shot uncensored story by Mrs. Errol Flynn about Errol, which ran in the London Graphic, was titled "Love at Last Sight."

Milk output in the U.S. during June 1954 reached 12.7 billion pounds. It marked the second highest production for that month in 25 years.

Making Own Sauce Helps to Cook Goose

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I've recently become a restaurant pest—a guy who makes the chef mad and messes up the place concocting his own sauce at the table.

These fellows are lucky they don't get poisoned. Because they are implying that the chef's a lousy sauce-maker.

It was at El Rancho Vegas in Las Vegas that I made my mistake.

"What's in this delicious meat sauce?" I asked foolishly. Sheldon Kaitman, the proprietor, not only told me; he brought me a recipe handsomely typed up by Albert Miranda, the maitre d'hotel.

I sent my wife around N. Y. looking for the ingredients for his "Sauce Diable." It took her two weeks of shopping, during which she bought 5 dresses and 6 pairs of shoes.

"Give the idea up," she advised. "That sauce would cost $30."

For four people, you need a full bottle of Escoffier Sauce Diable, 1/2 bottle Escoffier Sauce Robert, one teaspoon English mustard, two tablespoons of chives, 1/2 teaspoon of fresh ground pepper, 1 demitasse cup of heavy cream, 1/4 pound melted butter. Mix in chafing dish, stir well, serve very hot.

WILSON

"This is for millionaires and although I know many millionaires, they don't know me," I said—and gave that up. I went hunting for a cheaper sauce. One night I heard Don Ameche ask for "that hot box sauce."

You know how reticent chefs are about telling you their recipes... well, I found out that this one is:

"Half catsup, the rest divided between English mustard, Worcestershire sauce, beef sauce and butter. Let the butter sizzle, then dump in the rest—serve very hot."

My mother-in-law avoided the kitchen while I was creating. She couldn't stand to see the havoc in the kitchen—me surrounded by a dozen dripping bottles.

"And I can't eat that sauce, and you shouldn't either," my wife informed me. "Because of the butter—I'm on a diet. And I thought you were, too."

"Couldn't we forget the diet for one day?"

"But you forgot it all last week, too!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL...

Martha Raye'll get a $1,000,000 bonus—payable over 10 yrs.—for 5 yrs. exclusively with NBC in her new TV deal... Nancy Kelly got the ring from Warren (Theater Guild) Caro.

Gloria Vanderbilt ordered a dozen girdles. (Snappy gal!)... Abbe Lane (Mrs. X. Cugat) lost a pearl-and-diamond teardrop earring doing a USO show and asks finder to please return—for a reward.

Joe E. Lewis gave pretty Kitty Koppett a watch inscribed, "With all my love"... Polly Bergen, starring in the forthcoming play, "Champagne Complex," can't pose with champagne—cause she has a contract with Pepsi-Cola.

The gal John Jacob Astor tells his troubles to is Amazonish Lois de Fee... Marie MacDonald bought a $1,000-a-month co-op apartment in Riverdale... Daily Double: Peggy Ann Garner and Frank Slatenstein at Chez Vito.

Earl's Pearls...

It's Russell Ellis' cynical belief: "You can get anything you want out of life—if you'll just wait until you can't use it."

Murray Goldstein tells of his friend, a hospital orderly, who joined the Army as a semi-private. That's earl, brother.

Home A-Power Long Way Off

Scientist Says Autos
With Atomic Drive
Not Practical

DETROIT (AP)—Atomic cars and power plants for home use are a long way away, a panel of peacetime uses of the atom said yesterday.

Walker L. Ciesler, president of the Detroit Edison Co., said, "I see nothing in the foreseeable future that will bring atomic energy directly into the home except as piped-in electricity."

Dr. Michael Ference Jr., associate director of the Ford Motor Co. scientific laboratory, had a wet blanket for hopes for an atomic-powered automobile.

Such a car engine, he said, would require 60,000 pounds of shielding to protect driver, passengers and others from dangerous radiation.

The panel discussion was recorded for broadcast on a radio program Sunday.

E. Blythe Stason, dean of the University of Michigan law school, said the government may have to underwrite private companies for insurance covering atomic disasters. He said insurance companies are reluctant to write such policies because they lack statistical information on radiation.
