U. S. and Spain Sign Master Defense Pacts

Pontiac P.O.W. Returns Home

DOWN THE HATCH—After subsisting more than two years on a diet of fried food concentrate and water while he was a prisoner of war in North Korea, Alfred Ruiz, 28, of 443 S. Jessie St., sat down to a big helping of a special Spanish-style fish dinner when he arrived home last night. With him, left to right, are a niece, Olinda, 7, his sister-inlaw, Neiota, a brother, Gusman and his father, Jose, 71. The father cheffed the spicy homecoming meal, called "Marinera" in Spanish.

Navy, Air Bases Given America for $226 Million

3 Historic Agreements, Worked On for Months, Big Aid Against Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Spain today signed a 20-year defense agreement giving this country the right to develop and use naval and air bases on Spanish soil.

Spain was assured of military equipment from the United States.

The historic action brought Franco's Spain, long shunned by the victors of World War II, into partnership with the United States in the West's defense against the danger of Soviet attack.

Ambassador James C. Dunn and Spanish Foreign Minister Alberto Martin Artajo also signed economic assistance and mutual defense assistance agreements, the latter spelling out the specific conditions under which Spain will receive military aid.

The State Department released the text of the three agreements together with a statement saying that assistance to Spain totaling 226 million dollars will be supplied under the Mutual Security program during the fiscal year ending next June 30.

The announcement said that 85 million dollars will be for defense support assistance—meaning various uses in some way contributing to the development of military strength—and 141 million dollars for actual military equipment.

A major aim of the U. S. aid to Spain is to modernize, in some degree and over a period of years, the Franco government's army and naval forces.

The army is now estimated to include 30 divisions.

The master defense agreement committed Spain to let the United States "develop, maintain and utilize for military purposes, jointly with the government of Spain, such areas and facilities in territory under Spanish jurisdiction as may be agreed upon by the competent authorities of both governments."

The specific bases, to be initally developed by the United States at a cost in addition to the 226 million dollars for Spanish aid, were not named in the defense agreement.

It was understood that they will be disclosed later.

The agreements became effective

Gulf Hurricane Sweeps Across Florida Coastline

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP)—A powerful gulf hurricane swept across the Florida coastline west of here today and raked a long but thinly populated area with roaring hurricane winds.

Harold Parr, Associated Press reporter telephoning from a Long Beach cottage settlement 15 miles west of Panama City said winds struck with "very great force."

"The wind is shaking the telephone booth so hard I am getting out of here," said Parr, breaking off his call.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster at Miami, confirmed that the storm center began to cross the coastline at 9 a.m.

One small settlement, Shalimar, near Valparaiso, reported winds of about 80 miles an hour, but this was not definitely confirmed by experienced weather reporters, said Norton.

The state highway patrol said it believed all residents had been evacuated from the Long Beach area where the storm struck.

The center of the tropical storm thundered across an area of small beach settlements on a coastline indented by bays. Inland along its course were a number of small towns, much forest land and a few creeks and rivers which may swell out of their banks with the heavy rainfall.

Rain fell in Panama City at a rate of more than an inch an

Holdup, Kidnaping Start Wild Chase Across State

Bruce McLeod, 23, Forces Neighbor to Drive Him; Chains Deputy to Tree

Bruce E. McLeod, 23, of 270 Whittemore St., an ex-convict, was killed in a gun battle with state troopers west of Niles about 8:15 this morning.

The shooting climaxed a wild chase across the state after McLeod staged an armed holdup on Seven Mile Rd. in Detroit last night.

In the intervening hours the fugitive disarmed and handcuffed a Bloomfield township officer who investigated his parked car at Squirrel Rd. and South Blvd.;

Kidnaped a Pontiac neighbor and forced him to drive towards Chicago;

Kidnaped a Cass County deputy sheriff and his car and later chained the deputy to a tree;

Commandeered another car from a motorist to continue his flight. Owner of the car found the abandoned deputy's car and used the radio to sound the alarm.

McLeod was dead when brought to the Pawating Hospital at Niles. He had been shot by Troopers Andres Muth and Patrick Lyons, near Galien (west of Niles) when he abandoned his stolen car and took off across a field. They said he was armed with two guns and ignored their order to stop.

Hospital authorities report his pockets were stuffed with money, which totalled $3,975.16.

Pontiac Police Lt. Walter Krause and Det. William Hanger today recovered $1,075 from McLeod's bedroom, in a paper sack in top drawer of a dresser.

State Police at the Pontiac Post gave the account of the youth's flight:

Late last night a man described as McLeod forced a west side Detroit store owner to drive him to his business establishment.

(Lester Thompson, 52, operator of a Big Bear Market at 13403 West Seven Mile Rd.)

McLeod took about $6,000 from the store and then drove the store owner back to his house.

Bloomfield Township Police Chief Clark Green said Officer Richard Hoffman checked McLeod's car parked at Squirrel Rd. and South Boulevard about 1:30 a. m.

According to Green a bag marked "Detroit Bank" fell out of the auto when Hoffman opened the back door and McLeod covered the officer with a revolver.

McLeod disarmed the officer, manacled him with his own handcuffs, threw Hoffman's gun and keys into the patrol car and then made the policeman stand a few feet away in a field.

After several minutes, McLeod unlocked the handcuffs, and said, "I'm going north on Squirrel Rd., you go south."

Hoffman said he drove south on Squirrel Rd., and radioed the Oakland County sheriff's department. Sheriff's deputies said Hoffman's

Public Hearing Denied Airman

Air Force Goes Ahead With Plans for Closed Session Tuesday

DETROIT (UP)—The Air Force has denied a public hearing for Lt. Milo J. Radulovich, a student at the University of Michigan, who faces expulsion from the reserve corps as a security risk.

Radulovich is accused of associating "too closely" with his father and a sister, whom the Air Force charge have Communist sympathies.

The 26-year-old reservist will go before a board of three officers at Selfridge Air Force Base next Tuesday. At the closed hearing, it will be decided whether he should be expelled.

A meteorology student at Michigan, Radulovich lives with his wife and two small daughters at Dexter. His father has denied any Communist leanings, but his married sister has refused to help.

The order for a closed hearing came from Washington. Sen. Homer Ferguson said authorities had promised him that Radulovich would get a fair hearing.

The Air Force said if Radulovich is expelled he would be given an honorable discharge "without stigma." But Radulovich contends that no government agency would hire him if he is turned out.

A World War II veteran, Radulovich is studying meteorology at Michigan and had planned to enter government service in that type of work.

McManus Given Life Sentence

19-Year-Old Confessed Killer of 5 Calm at Trial for Braverman Slaying

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y. (AP) — Fred Eugene McManus, 19-year-old confessed killer of five persons, was sentenced today to life imprisonment for the murder of William Allen Braverman.

The valley Stream, L. I., youth faced the bench camly and apparently without emotion as State Supreme Court Justice H. Douglas Van Duser followed the recommendation of the trial jury.

But he smiled as usual for news photographers as he was led quickly from the half-filled Ontario County courtroom to await transfer to the Elmira reception center for convicted criminals.

The 10 men and two women of the jury Thursday found McManus guilty of first-degree felony murder after deliberating more than 13 hours. But they recommended life imprisonment instead of death in the electric chair.

McManus, who confessed four other killings, was tried on a charge of first-degree premeditated murder in the pistol-slaying of Braverman, a 19-year-old Hobart College student from Rochester. He pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

During the trial, which began Sept. 8, the defense did not contest the state's evidence of the crime.

M. Maurice Chacchia, court-assigned attorney for the youth, portrayed McManus as dangerously insane as a result of an unhappy childhood.

Pontiac PW Says Freedom Most Precious When Lost

"Freedom is precious—you don't realize it until you lose it."

That often-repeated statement was made by Sgt. Alfred E. Ruiz, 28, of 443 S. Jessie St., as a result of 27 months imprisonment in a North Korean POW camp.

Ruiz is Pontiac's second POW to return home since Operation Big Switch. Sgt. Roderick Shelton returned home Sept. 18.

Returning home late yesterday, Ruiz was greeted by his anxious 71-year-old father, Jose; his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Guzman Ruiz and his sister, Mrs. Harold R. Fritz of Hazel Park.

Recalling the long miles of death marches and crude life in the Red prison, he said: "Only by the grace of God am I here today."

Ruiz was captured May 19, 1951, near Muggol when his platoon was cut off from the rest of the 38th regiment, 2nd Division.

"Men were dying left and right after they took us to a collecting point in North Korea," he remarked. "Most of them died of malnutrition, dysentery and inhumane treatment."

"The food we got wouldn't be recognized as food to any American. We were getting two rations of ground up powder mixed in hot water to eat."

Ruiz lost 30 pounds on the diet. He said the long continual march lasted from the day he was captured to July 3.

Ruiz confirmed other POW reports that there were Russians working in North Korea and driving trucks for the military.

Pontiac Officer Stops Suicide

City Policeman Foils Woman's Attempt to Jump From Bridge

Pontiac Patrolman Herbert C. Cooley, 27, averted a suicide attempt by a 27-year-old expectant mother early today by catching the woman in mid-air as she jumped off the Clinton River bridge behind Bagley School.

This is the second time Cooley heroically saved a life since he joined the Pontiac Police Department in 1950.

Cooley, who was riding his motorcycle in downtown Pontiac at 10:30 a.m., sped to the scene after receiving a radio call.

Patrolman James Bale, who also responded to the call, said Cooley caught the woman just as she jumped. Bale said Cooley lost his balance for a moment and almost fell into the river.

Cooley recently was cited by medical authorities at Pontiac General Hospital for saving the life of a man trapped in an overturned milk truck. He climbed into the truck and applied a tourniquet with his necktie.

Typhoon Swirls Over Japan Isle

115 Die, Including 1 GI; Thousands Homeless, Damage in Millions

TOKYO (AP)—A roaring typhoon swept over Japan's main island last night and early today, sideswiped the teeming Tokyo area and left in its wake millions of dollars in property damage and at least 115 dead, including one American soldier.

Skies cleared today as the storm swirled into the North Pacific where it began breaking up.

The American soldier drowned at Camp Maizuru in southern Japan. His name was withheld and details of the drowning were not immediately available.

Japanese national police said the big storm, with 90-mile-an-hour winds at its center, left 114 Japanese dead, 288 missing and 259 injured.

Hundreds of thousands of Japanese were left homeless.

American bases in Japan suffered damage estimated officially at millions of dollars.

A U.S. Army spokesman said damage at Camp Otsu near Tokyo will run to $1,900,000.

A landslide damaged the heating plant and an ammunition depot at Camp Misuru.

Five warehouses collapsed at the Kobe quartermaster depot.

Thirty-eight U.S. Army buildings in Tokyo were damaged, six small buildings were destroyed and three Army sedans were damaged.

Only minor damage was reported at U.S. Air Force bases. Some roofs were lost and several Quonset huts destroyed at Itami Air Base near Osaka.

Communications between Japan and Korea were disrupted by the storm. One Army teletype line was temporarily repaired Saturday afternoon, but it broke down again.

Strikes Loom on Waterfront

Ousted Dock Workers Vie With Newly Formed Union for Power

NEW YORK (AP)—The ever-turbulent New York waterfront, harboring a multi-billion dollar industry and a multitude of rackets, today seethes with even greater unrest as rival unions vie for power amid a dock strike threat to all Atlantic coast ports.

The picture is fluid and highly volatile. At stake are billions of dollars in business involving industries throughout the nation and the ultimate welfare of the dock workers themselves.

For at least a quarter of a century the miles of New York-New Jersey docks, making up the world's largest port, has been the setting for petty and grand thievery and corruption, chronic violence and even murder.

At the helm for the pier workers has been the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA), affiliated with the AFL until kicked out by that organization this week on charges that the union failed to clean its house of racketeering and corruption.

Angry Anti-Red Prisoners Hold Indian for 90 Minutes

PANMUNJOM (AP) — An Indian army major was dragged into a prisoner compound in the Korean neutral zone Friday and held hostage for 90 minutes by angry anti-Communist Chinese prisoners awaiting Red "persuasion" teams, it was announced today.

Ten members of the neutral Indian detachment guarding prisoners who refused repatriation rushed in with sticks and fought for three minutes with some 500 POWs armed with spiked tent poles. The demonstration broke out after one prisoner changed his mind and asked to be sent back to the Communists.

The flareup subsided and the hostage was released after Maj. Gen. S. P. P. Thorat, commander of the Indian troops, startled the Chinese by asking:

"What sort of Chinese are you? Where is your hospitality? You have offered my men neither tea nor cigarettes."

The surprised prisoners melted back and a few moments later brought tea, cigarettes, and finally the Indian major, identified as H. S. Grewal.

Thorat said Maj. Grewal was "manhandled and shaken a bit" but not seriously harmed.

An Indian spokesman said the Chinese had worked themselves into an emotional state in demanding the return of a fellow prisoner who had been handed over to the Communists when he reversed his decision against going home.

Prisoners involved in the incident are among some 14,700 Chinese and 7,900 North Koreans captured by the Allies who refused repatriation.

By terms of the armistice, Red interviewers have 90 days to coax them home.

But many of the captives have indicated by violent anti-Red demonstrations en route to the neutral zone and signs over their compounds that they will resist attending the interviews.

Desperado, FBI Agent Die in Movie House Gun Battle

BALTIMORE (AP) — A west coast desperado was killed and an FBI agent fatally wounded last night in a blazing gun battle at a downtown movie house.

Most of the movie audience, absorbed with the crime picture on the screen, didn't realize a squad of FBI men was shooting it out with the trapped gunman.

Another agent was seriously wounded in the battle on the mezzanine of the Town Theater here.

Shot to death in a phone booth as he tried to place a call to Los Angeles, was John Elgin Johnson, 34-year-old former bank robber wanted for parole violation and as a murder suspect.

Agent J. Brady Murphy, 36, of the local office, was shot in the lower abdomen and died about 4 a.m. today at Mercy Hospital. Agent Ray Fox, 39, was shot in the hip.

They were leading a squad of FBI men up the steps when Johnson—being stalled by a Los Angeles operator on his call until officers could get there—suddenly turned and opened fire through the glass door of the booth.

Murphy sagged to the floor and his gun rolled under a chair. Fox fell backward toward the stairs. Other agents moved up emptying their pistols into the booth.

Plans Shaping on Project to Convert Manor-Wood to Pontiac-Cadillac Agency

(From Our Birmingham Bureau)

BIRMINGHAM—Plans are nearing completion for the conversion of Manor-Wood, the spacious partially-finished North Woodward structure formerly started as a shopping center.

Harry Denyes, architect for purchasers Edward E. Wilson and Charles E. Wilson, Jr. of the local Wilson Pontiac-Cadillac agency, has revealed that bids for the job will be taken in a few weeks.

Plans call for conversion to an auto agency, while leasing one third of the building to other business.

"We're hoping to get most of the outdoor work done before cold weather sets in," Denyes stated. "Almost 90 per cent of the job actually will be completed of the present structure, with a heating plant and plumbing," he added.

At present, May 1 is being eyed as a possible completion day for the project.

Following tomorrow's Congregational Church service, a business meeting will be held to vote on the trustees' recommendation that the First Presbyterian Church building on Woodward be purchased to house the new Congregational Church.

Organized last spring, the group has been holding services at Adams School. Cornerstone dedication of the new First Presbyterian Church was held last Sunday.

Contract for painting the wood exterior of Wing Lake School was awarded to low bidder, the Diemer Co. of Birmingham, by Bloomfield Hills School Board members this week. The job will cost $195.

Tomorrow will be both Rally Day and promotion day at Embury Methodist Church. Pins for perfect attendance will be awarded at this time.

With the theme of "Come Early . . . Stay Late," Birmingham Gun Club members are being offered free bear stew at today's club class championship shoot at the clubhouse on Richardson road.

There will be A, B, C and D classes with 15 and 16-yard targets, with chevrons going to winners of each class.

Members also will vote on proposed changes in the club by-laws, to be submitted by the by-laws committee.

The Plan Board will recommend to city commissioners that City Manager Donald C. Egbert be authorized to have engineering surveys made for the extension of Fourteen Mile road from Southfield to Cranbrook.

City Engineer L. R. Gare guessed that such a study would cost from $2,000 to $3,000.

Board members felt that the seriousness of the problem, acquiring a right-of-way on that portion of Fourteen mile, warranted the expenditure. It is hoped that it can be developed as an arterial east-west highway, to take some of the load off Fifteen mile.

U. S.-Spanish Pact Provides Air Bases

upon signature and the main defense agreement stated that it would be in force "for a period of 10 years, automatically extended for two successive periods of 5 years" unless formally terminated by either party.

The signing of the documents, which State Department officials described as executive agreements not subject to Senate ratification, marked a sweeping revolution in United States relations with the Franco regime in Spain.

U. S. military planners against Russian aggression have long sought to bridge the strategic gap that resulted from the lack of Spanish participation in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The defense agreement opened with a statement to the effect that the two governments, "faced with the danger that threatens the Western world," had made their agreement in order to increase the total capacity of the West for self defense.

The negotiations for the bases began 17 months ago after a determination by the American joint chiefs of staff that Spain was of strategic importance to the defense of the United States.

Prior to that there had been a series of informal contracts between Washington and Madrid indicating a willingness on both sides to do business.

The agreements were concluded by Ambassador Dunn, a U. S. military group headed by Maj. Gen. A. W. Kissner, and an economic group headed by George F. Train of the Mutual Security agency.

"Under the terms of these agreements," the State Department said "the United States will start construction to develop certain existing Spanish military air fields for joint use by the Spanish Air Force and the United States Air Force, and will modernize certain naval facilities for use by the Spanish and United States Navies.

* * *

"The agreements also provide for the subsequent development of additional facilities as future conditions may require."

The department reported that military areas to be used jointly "remain under Spanish sovereignty and command."

The U. S. Command in each case, the statement added, will be responsible for U. S. military and technical personnel and for the operating effectiveness of the U. S. military installations.

The announcement said that a United States operations mission would be set up immediately in Spain under Ambassador Dunn to help carry out the terms of the agreements on economic assistance and a military assistance advisory group is being established to coordinate the military assistance program.

RT. REV. RICHARD S. EMRICH

Bishop to Speak at Christ Church

Mark 25th Anniversary by Special Observance at Cranbrook

Sunday will mark the 25th anniversary of the consecration of Christ Church Cranbrook. The Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of the Michigan Diocese, will be the guest speaker.

A carillon recital, also commemorating the anniversary, will be played by Dr. Maurice Garabrant at 4 p.m.

Friday evening, following the parish dinner, a service was held in the church with William M. Brown, junior warden, presiding.

Preceding the address by Dr. Theodore O. Wedel, canon of the National Cathedral at Washington D. C., brief remarks were made by Fred W. Sanders, former junior warden; Neil C. McMath, former senior warden and Henry S. Booth, former vestryman and chairman

Dr. Wedel, who also is warden of the College of Preachers at the nation's capital, was introduced by the Rt. Rev. Russell S. Hubbard, suffragan bishop of the Diocese of Michigan.

Speaking from the theme "Just What the Church Means to Us," he prefaced his talk by saying "Each church is full of memories; memories of baptisms, weddings and last rites for our loved ones. However, entrance into the church is not by our goodness, but by repentance and forgiveness."

This was his first point, namely, the church is a fellowship of repentance and forgiveness.

Then, he said that the church is a fellowship of power. "It is within the church that the power of the Holy Spirit is manifest. We talk of college spirit, community spirit, but within the church is the Christian spirit which is God himself.

"The church also is a fellowship of care." For, said Dr. Wedel, "everyone hungers for someone who cares."

"While within the church one may find power to endure what earthly afflictions may bring, it also is there that we find the fellowship of those who care, and those who need our help," he said.

He spoke of the loneliness and panic that comes as one grows older, and faces closing doors. "Within the church one does not have to pretend;" for said Dr. Wedel, "if we enter into this fellowship of forgiveness we may 'fear no evil.'" the right side of the chest and one which grazed his face, slumped against the door of the phone booth, jamming it tight.

"He didn't get out of the booth —not till we pulled him out," said Scott Alden, special agent in charge of the FBI here.

The phone booth was riddled with bullet holes, the telephone book was punctured an shattered glass lay around the floor.

Johnson was dead when he arrived at University Hospital.

Alden said Johnson had a record going back to 1935. FBI records show he drew a 15-year sentence for bank robbery in 1941 and was sent to the McNeil Island Federal Prison. A "rough prisoner," he was later transferred to Alcatraz Prison. He was conditionally released from Alcatraz last March 20.

In addition to violating that release he was wanted for questioning in the death of a Huntington Park, Calif. man found strangled in his shower Aug. 4.

Hurricane Sweeps Florida Coastline

hour, totaling 3.66 inches in three hours as the storm's center moved slowly toward the coast.

No late reports were received from Apalachicola, a fishing town midway between Panama City and the Talahassee area, which had been isolated by high water. The radio telephone in a state highway patrol car was its only means of communication with the outside world.

Hundreds of persons were reported in shelters along the coastal stretch. First reports gave information on very minor damage—beach cottage unroofed, some highway damage, telephone and power lines down. Most of these reports came before the storm center moved inland.

Rains spread out ahead of the hurricane. The weather bureau reported that raincloud were scudding into Georgia and beginning to penetrate South Carolina.

High tides and pounding waves raked a long beach area and at Panacea, 25 miles south-southwest of Tallahassee, a pier appeared to be breaking up and falling apart.

Capt. Toby Bass of the state highway patrol said waves eight to 10 feet high pounded beaches west of Panama City and seethed within 100 feet of tourist cottages.

At Panama City a dramatic struggle with wind and water ended happily when a 52-foot motorboat escaped from North Bay into sheltered water.

A bridge blocked the boat for a time, but the state highway department ordered the bridge opened and the boat passed through. The bridge was lowered again with difficulty after two attempts.

Parr, returning to Panama City, said that community apparently was missing the brunt of the storm.

"The winds don't compare with the blow at Long Beach," he said adding that signboards were torn up and large trees blown down.

The hurricane, named Florence for the sixth letter of the alphabet, was the first of the year to touch Florida. Of the other five tropical storms this year, one hit the North Carolina - Virginia - New England area, and two others sideswiped Bermuda, British Atlantic Island. One gave Bermuda 120-mile gusts.

Reflections

Stop! Meditate!

By J. Lee Voorhees

J. L. VOORHEES

Mrs. Cecilia Mednor was like millions of other persons in this speed-mad world; she ran when she could have walked, occupied every waking moment with breathless mental cerebration or strenuous physical activity; her family saw her at short intervals and then to be criticised, berated, nagged as if she were a shrew. She broke under the strain.

Her doctor told her, "Physically, you're perfect. You're minister might." He called him.

"In your mad rush you've forgotten fundamentals," he counseled.

M. E. SIPLE

"A silly contention; I'm a business woman with many social responsibilities."

"Also," he added, "you're a human being, a mother and wife." Her eyes shot sparks of contempt. "In Genesis XXIV 63, in the Old Testament you will find, 'Isaac went out to meditate in the field.' Stop this mad whirl. Meditate. Think of your little girls, husband, or read your Bible for at least 15 minutes every day." She scoffed.

When he left, Cecilia lay quietly, closed her eyes. A happy smile spread over her face. Her hands relaxed. She slept. When she woke up Cecilia Mednor was on the road to recovery.

Stop. Meditate. Enjoy your alloted time.

message didn't supply enough information for them to connect McLeod with the Detroit hold-up and no general alarm was issued.

McLeod's car was found a short time later parked on Whittemore street, with the engine still warm.

In Pontiac McLeod, having abandoned his car, noticed Charles Schreiber putting his car into his garage at 82 Wall St.

He forced Schreiber to drive him away.

Near Tekonsha, Screiber was allowed to call his wife.

He told Mrs. Schreiber, "I'm driving a man to Chicago."

Pontiac police said Mrs. Schreiber called the Pontiac State Police post.

Schreiber was released by McLeod unharmed at a diner near Three Oaks. Cass County sheriff's deputies later drove Schreiber to the Niles Hospital to idenify McLeod.

Law officials in Southwestern Michigan had been alerted for Schreiber's car.

Cass County Deputy Fred Gardner spotted Schreiber's car near Cassopolis. He overtook the car and forced it to the roadside at a diner near Three Oaks.

McLeod pulled a gun on Gardner. Then he ordered Schreiber to drive away in his car, forced Gardner into the deputy's car and the two drove away.

Gardner said McLeod then spotted a car driven by Roy Clemens, of Niles. He said McLeod ordered him to stop Clemens.

McLeod got into the Clemens' car and told Gardner to follow them.

"I'll kill this guy if you make a false move," McLeod warned Gardner.

A short distance away McLeod ordered both drivers to stop. He tied Clemens up with a rope and handcuffed Gardner to a tree.

Clemens got free called state police on the deputy's car radio.

Schreiber's car was found abandoned a short distance from the diner. Gardner was found handcuffed to a tree.

State police then set up road blocks in the area.

McLeod, ran through one of the blocks at Galien.

State police chased the Pontiac youth, firing at his speeding car.

McLeod's car went into a ditch. The youth got it back on the road.

State police forced the car to a stop near Three Oaks.

Troopers said McLeod, armed with two pistols, jumped out of the car and started to run.

Troopers opened fire when the youth refused to stop. McLeod was killed by a bullet through his chest.

Mrs. Schrieber said she first became worried about her husband when she woke up at 4 a.m. and noticed he wasn't home yet.

"I couldn't return to sleep so I stayed up until the telephone rang.

"It was Chuck and he sounded nervous," she continued.

"Listen, Madge, I'm in serious trouble," she quoted him.

"Pay close attention, because a man is standing outside the phone booth with a gun aimed at my back."

Schrieber told his wife he had parked his car in the garage and started in the house when McLeod confronted him in the yard and said:

"Pull the car back out because you and me are going to Chicago."

Schreiber was calling from the Tekonsha restaurant where he and his wife had stopped to eat last year while on vacation.

"I knew exactly where that was," said Mrs. Schrieber, "and I was able to tell the police where Chuck was calling from."

Schrieber told his wife that McLeod mentioned he was involved in a Detroit holdup earlier.

Police records show McLeod was in a state institution at Lansing at the age of 15 on order of the Probate Court in connection with a car theft.

Late in 1947 he escaped from Livingston County Jail while awaiting circuit court arraignment on another car theft. Livingston authorities say he never was returned to face this charge.

State Police records show that McLeod was convicted in Pontiac in 1944 on a charge of breaking and entering and was sentenced to 2½ to 5 years in prison.

In 1947 he was arrested in Columbus, Ohio, on two counts of auto theft. He was confined thirty days in the Lima State Mental Hospital then sentenced in Columbus early in 1948.

He was sent to the Ohio State Reformatory on two counts of auto theft and five counts of burglary. He received a five to 30 year sentence and later was paroled from there.

Capt. Frank Van Atta of the Oakland County Sheriff's force found some half-burned checks at the spot where Hoffman encountered McLeod indicating, said Van Atta, that the bandit had stopped there to destroy them.

East Zone to Free 598 German PWs

BERLIN (AP) — Taegliche Rundschau, official newspaper of the Soviet army in East Germany, said today that 598 German war prisoners homebound from Soviet camps have reached the Russian occupation zone.

They are the first German prisoners freed by the Soviets since Russia and East Germany signed a new pact last month. There was no indication of how many more will be released.

Taegliche Rundschau said "several hundred" prisoners from West Berlin were in the group. These were taken to Eisenach for tranfer to West German authorities later.

occupied a major part of the imprisonment, he said.

"They tried to impress me with lies in private propaganda meetings, but all they got from me was an argument," he added.

He said he and about 600 other POW's went on strike when they were told to use a return address with words "Against American Aggression." The Reds finally yielded and allowed them to use another return address.

Ruiz said medical treatment was rare and that they had to care for their own sick.

He recalled that a Sgt. James Schade of Utah pulled about 56 teeth in the camp. He said Schade was saving the teeth to present to the authorities at Freedom Village, but the Communists took them away.

Ruiz said the Communists learned from an informer of the exact number of teeth pulled.

Ruiz' plans now are to "relax . . . relax and relax some more." He is undecided about the future. But he said he dreamed about buying an automobile while in the POW camp.

"I may re-enlist," he said, "I like the Army, but I also like to be near the folks at home."

New U. S.-Red Word War Seen

Vishinsky Readies Talk, Lodge Prepares Answer on U. N. Floor

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—A new United States-Russian exchange was building up today as the U. N. General Assembly took a weekend recess. The fireworks were expected to explode next week with the end of the policy speeches that opened the current Assembly session.

Although the Soviet bloc already has had its five-nation say, Russia's Andrei Vishinsky was reported readying an overall answer to questions raised by more than 40 other members in their opening statements on Korean peace and other areas of world tension. Vishinsky follows the practice of asking for the floor at the end of every opening debate—and always gets it.

This time, however, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. chief U. S. delegate was reported planning to follow him under the Assembly's "right of reply" rule.

The verbal battle was expected to break next Tuesday after the nine nations still on the speaker's list have had their say.

Among speakers to be heard Monday is India's V. K. Krishna Menon. He is expected to reiterate charges by Indian Prime Minister Nehru that the Assembly is ignoring Asian opinion in dealing with Asia's problems.

Nehru also has strongly criticized the United States for opposing India's participation at the Korean peace conference.

Menon has emphasized in recent weeks that India is anxious to get the scheduled peace talks underway because it doesn't want its guard tied up indefinitely in Korea. He has given no hint, however, whether he will support Communist demands that the peace conference include Russia, India, Burma, Pakistan and Indonesia as "neutrals" in what the Reds insist should be a "round table" conference.

A U. S. spokesman said American policy on the course the parley should take after it gets underway—if it does—has not yet been decided.

Commenting on reports that U.S. government officials were planning to give the Communists a choice between an independent Korea under guarantee of neutrality and the continued maintenance of U. S. troops in South Korea, the spokesman said this was only one of a number of ideas that had been discussed.

Total Jobless Claims Here Drop Slightly

Total unemployment claims this week fell off slightly listing only 1,672 compared with 1,801 for the week ending Sept. 18, according to Luther C. Olson, manager of the local office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

The number of new claims filed however, kept pace with those of the previous week. Initial claims totaled 284 through Friday while 281 were filed in the preceding week.

The number of continued claims was down, accounting for the slight reduction, Olson pointed out.

This week's continued claims totaled 1,388 while those for last week were 1,520, Olson said.

'Shoe-Bank' Hold-Up Looks Like Inside Job

CHICAGO (AP)—The three strong arm robbers who dragged Andrew Bennett into a South Side alley last night didn't even bother to search his pockets for money.

Probe Canadian Rye Dealings

Senator Is Suspicious Manipulation Bringing Price Up for Buyers

WASHINGTON (AP)— Investigators for the Senate Judiciary Committee set out today to learn why some Canadian-grown rye is being imported at a reported loss and who in this country buys it.

Committee Chairman Langer (R-ND) ordered the inquiry, expressing "suspicion" that one explanation might be illegal commodities market manipulation costing U. S. farmers millions of dollars.

Langer made public a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Benson last night. The letter quoted a campaign declaration by President Eisenhower to U. S. growers that their rye, oats and barley "should be given the same protection as available to the major cash crops."

Langer noted that Benson already has asked the Tariff Commission to consider imposing a quota on oats imports. He urged the secretary to take similar action at once in the case of rye and barley.

Langer said rye imports between July 1 and Sept. 10 this year ran to 2,326,000 bushels, compared to 579,000 bushels imported between July 1 and Sept. 11, 1952.

A committee staff mamber said it is asking the Commodities Exchange Authority and the Agriculture Department to comment on reports that at least some of the grain imported from Canada could be laid down in Chicago or Minneapolis receiving points only "at an apparent loss."

The staffer, declining to be named, said No. 3 Canadian western rye was quoted on the market at Winnipeg, Canada, at 97⅝ cents a bushel on Sept. 23. He estimated that it would cost 19 cents a bushel in duty, currency differential, insurance, loading and unloading costs to deliver that rye in Chicago, or a total of $1.16⅝. He said that would be several cents more per bushel than it would have cost the buyer to purchase U. S. grown rye on the same day in Chicago.

Modern agricultural fairs in America date from colonial times when farmers put their products on display in market towns, primarily for sale.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1953

Don't Judge Them Hastily

If there ever was a case in which the Nation should postpone judgment it is that of the 23 American POWs who have refused repatriation.

True, the demonstration they staged on arriving at the demilitarized zone was shocking. The spectacle of healthy looking GIs singing the Internationale and shouting Communist slogans was what several of their relatives called "unbelievable."

What makes it all the more suspect is the haste with which the Communists made propaganda use of the demonstration. Our military authorities wisely had refused to reveal the names of the deluded converts. But Peiping radio lost no time in broadcasting the list.

In fairness to them, all of us should remember that the 23 who have disavowed freedom have been prisoners for many months. Until all the facts are revealed no one can know how much emotional confusion and torture they have suffered in the Communist brain washing process.

Under the truce terms our authorities have 90 days to show them the error of their choice. As Americans they deserve that much time to learn the truth. As Americans we can do no less than withhold judgment until their final decision.

Just now they deserve our pity, not our censure.

Pontiac Surgeon Honored

Well earned honor and distinction came to Dr. Robert H. Baker when the Michigan Medical Society made him its president-elect.

His election climaxes years of active work in the society which Dr. Baker has served for the past year as speaker of its House of Delegates. When he takes office next September he will be following in the footsteps of his father, the late Dr. Charles Baker of Bay City, MMS president in 1919.

A graduate of the University of Michigan Medical School, Dr. Baker has been practicing medicine and surgery here for the past 23 years. Besides his work on the staff of Pontiac General Hospital, he is an associate staff member at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

We feel sure we speak for his many friends, colleagues and patients in congratulating the society on its choice of a president-elect.

AFL Expels Dock Union

Some months ago AFL President Meany promised that the federation would handle the problem of racketeering and violence on the New York-New Jersey waterfront in "its own way."

At the organization's 72nd convention in St. Louis that way turned out to be expulsion of the International Longshoremen's Association, headed by Joseph Ryan.

The vote for expulsion was overwhelming despite a 20 minute plea by Ryan who has been indicted on a charge of misappropriating ILA funds. The resolution revoking ILA's charter said in part:

"The ILA has permitted gangsters, racketeers and thugs to fasten themselves to the body of the organization, infecting it with corruption and destroying its integrity, its effectiveness and its trade union character."

At the same time the delegates authorized creation of a new union to replace ILA. All members of the ousted group who wish to remain in the AFL will be eligible to join the new union. For the first year at least its direction will be in the hands of five AFL officials.

The federation's action in reality covers more ground than its text indicates. Though no mention was made of other unions, convention observers see in it a warning to all AFL groups that racketeering and violence will not be tolerated.

The AFL is to be commended for ridding itself of a group blamed by investigators for the shocking conditions which have prevailed on the New York waterfront for a decade.

Seaway Stupidity

During his recent Milwaukee visit Rep. George A. Dondero condensed into a few words a perfect description of what U. S. refusal to build the St. Lawrence Seaway would be.

The Royal Oak lawmaker is chairman of the House Public Works Committee in charge of waterway legislation. He also is co-author of the Wiley-Dondero Bill proposing U. S. participation in the project with Canada to the extent of $100,000,000.

As everybody knows there no longer is any argument about the need and value of the seaway. In fact Canada already has started preliminary work preparatory to completing the project if necessary without U. S. aid.

This left only one more thing to be said and Mr. Dondero said it. For the United States to sit idly by and let Canada build it, he commented, would be "the most stupid thing I can imagine."

Overheard: "If you aren't drunk, why are you trying to light your cigar with a firefly?"

Williams Faces Difficulty in Getting 2 Men Confirmed

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING (AP)—No matter what you think of Gov. Williams, you can't accuse him of walking away from trouble.

Because, if any man ever asked for trouble Williams did so Friday when he selected his new State Corrections Commission.

The trouble, if it comes and it is pretty certain to do so, will hit next January when the Senate is asked to confirm the appointments.

And the trouble will center mainly around the two men to whom Williams gave the longest terms, six years. These are Earnest C. Brooks of Holland, the retiring Corrections Department head, and Dr. Robert F. Steadman, the retiring state controller.

Brooks, as a former senator, is entitled to the age-old senatorial courtesy of confirmation without even a committee hearing.

But already there is talk that Brooks won't have easy sledding. For one thing, Brooks lobbied against the new corrections law which he now is being asked to help administer.

For another, Brooks lost a lot of his old Senate friends during the partisan bickering over the big Southern Michigan Prison riots.

So Brooks' case can be called touch-and-go.

Steadman, however, would appear to be definitely in the grease.

The Republicans don't like him and the Democrats in the Senate kind of wrinkle their nose when he passes.

The Republicans have itched for years to come along as he was crawling under a fence, but he has held, until now, a job where they could reach him only with words.

Now is the chance for revenge, and few think the GOP will miss it.

The third Democrat named by Williams, Dr. Jesse L. McNeil, Detroit Negro clergyman, has drawn initial commendations in both parties, although it is too early to tell what the official GOP line will be to his confirmation.

Both parties seem to be agreed that one member of the Corrections Commission should be a Negro since members of that race make up 40 per cent or so of the prison population.

The GOP high command is grumbling a little about the three other commissioners whom Williams named as Republicans.

Their complaint is not against the persons, apparently, but that they are not "organization Republicans," as one spokesman put it.

These three are Clarence J. Farley, Grand Rapids businessman; Miss Eleanore Hutzel, former head of Detroit policewomen, and John W. Rice, Houghton newspaper publisher.

So far there has been no question around the Capitol that these three will be confirmed as soon as the feeling evaporates that Williams should have chosen his GOP nominees from the Republican State Central Committee.

Farley reportedly is the personal nominee of Sen. Perry W. Greene, Grand Rapids Republican who has led a long fight to restore the commission form of control over the Corrections Commission.

It is known that the governor's office consulted Greene before making the appointments and some observers assume the governor expects Greene to get the whole list confirmed.

In the background lies the rumor, or maybe it's only a suspicion, that Williams has decided whom the new commission will pick as director of the agency and that enough of the new commissioners have committed themselves to hiring the man tapped by the governor.

If this is so, the governor intends to keep well in the background and let the commission at least go through the motions of making an independent choice.

Says Chicago Appearances of Truman and Stevenson Overwhelming Victories

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature).

I can't see where the Republican party had even a slight edge over the Democrats at Chicago recently. It is quite bad when their chief was going to be in Chicago, but wasn't planning to make an appearance at their convention. He was finally forced to by their constant begging.

I would consider the appearances of ex-Pres. Truman and Stevenson overwhelming victories, not to mention Russell of Georgia and Keefauver of Tennessee.

The cabinet and senate members of the Republican party had to be there to see if they could point out what the administration has been trying to do. Better yet, they were probably trying to explain why the chief's vacation has to last six weeks.

Also, to prepare them on the State of the Union address that will come when he tries to explain to the American people what he has tried to do. He can tell them that his golf game is steadily improving.

One thing this administration has done is add a new word to our dictionary. Instead of bureaucrat it is now commissioncrat.

Keeling Suggests Cut in Federal Spending

So called prosperity built on war scares and war preparation is only a blind step toward total self destruction. If it leads to war, it will be the end of civilization as we know it.

We should be ready to defend ourselves, but when we try to defend the whole world I fear we are going too far.

We should always help others to help themselves, but when we force our help on others they resent us and we make a bad situation worse.

This war spending opened the flood gates and everyone got on the merry-go-round. We have gone round until we are dizzy. It is time we returned to sanity and listened to God's teachings.

He laid down the universal laws of good and put a spark of the divine in each of us so we could understand and follow His laws if we wished. There is no other solution.

No man made laws can revoke or replace God's laws. It is up to you and me to do this. When enough people do so, we can have Heaven in place of Hell on earth.

Tuesday Honors Archangel Michael Who Led the Army of Heaven Against Lucifer

CANNON HOWARD V. HARPER

Roast goose for dinner on St. Michael's Day is as traditional in England as turkey for Thanksgiving in America.

On Michaelmas in 1688, Queen Elizabeth I was eating a roast goose dinner when she received the news of Drake's defeat of the Spanish Armada, one of the happiest and most important pieces of news ever received by a British monarch.

Every year, thereafter, she kept the anniversary of the great victory by repeating the same menu.

Sept. 29 honors the Archangel Michael who led the army of heaven against Lucifer when "there was war in heaven"—see Revelation, chapter 12, verse 7.

Michael successfully put down the rebellion of the wicked Lucifer and drove him and his legions out of their heavenly home.

The most famous church dedicated to St. Michael is the one on Mont St. Michel, just off the coast of Normandy.

The abbey there was so strategically located that twice in the Middle Ages the monks on the mountain top were able to beat off enemies who were trying to invade France from the sea.

Sept. 30 is a semi-holiday in the Jewish calendar. It is called Hoshana Rabba, which means "the great hosanna," or "the great salvation."

Every day for the first six days of the Feast of Tabernacles, which began last Thursday, the Jews have a procession inside the synagogue.

As they walk around the aisles they recite the prayer known as Hosana. In English "Hosana" means "Save, I pray thee."

On the seventh day they make seven rounds of the aisles and the prayer is said seven times. So the seventh day is the Rabba or Great Hoshana.

Although the 10 days between Rosh Hoshana and Yom Kippur have generally been considered the sinner's last chance to repent and be saved for the coming year, there is, among some Jews, a tradition that the period is really extended to Hoshana Rabba, which gives everybody another 10 days.

A reader has asked when the present way of numbering our year — B. C. and A. D. — came into use.

It is surprising to note that Christians went along for a thousand years before they began to number the years from the time of the Lord's birth.

In the Roman Empire years were counted from the time when the city of Rome was founded. More than 500 years after the birth of Jesus a learned monk in Rome, named Dionysius Exiguus, thought it would be interesting to try to fix the date of the Holy Birth.

By that time the Church was celebrating it on Dec. 25, but no one had bothered to figure out the year in which it happened.

Dionysius calculated that Jesus had been born on December 25, 753 A.U.C. and declared that the current year was the Year of Our Lord 532.

It was about the year 100 A. D. before Dionysius's system was officially adopted.

Many scholars now believe that the old monk was four or five years off in his reckoning and that we today are actually living in the year 1957 or 1958 A.D.

U. S. Sales Tax Only One of Many Revenue Plans

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has said a sales tax is only one of about 40 proposals being considered by the administration in its approach to an overhaul of taxes.

When asked what the 40 proposals might be, a Treasury Department spokesman said Humphrey didn't mean literally 40 but used the figure as he might say "umpteen."

The number "40" may have been in Humphrey's mind because his staffmen and staffmen of Congress' Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation have been working on 40 proposed changes in the present tax law.

Those changes would attempt to bring the law up to date, eliminate obsolete sections, and give taxpayers, perhaps millions of them, a tax break. For example, people with dependents.

Congress probably will put some of the proposals into effect when it returns in 1954. But a sales tax is not among the proposals being considered by the two staffs working together.

By and large the proposed changes would mean a revenue loss to the government, not more revenue, such as a sales tax would bring in.

At this time any study of a proposed sales tax would have to be made by Humphrey's Treasury staff alone. No congressional committee is reported thinking of proposing it.

When the Treasury Department was asked what possible proposals for new revenue are being considered, the answer was: "That's confidential."

Yet next year, if the Eisenhower administration finds it can't balance the budget, it can do one of two things: (1) go on with a deficit, borrowing new money to meet its expenses, or (2) ask Congress for additional taxes.

If it seeks new revenue it can explore only four main sources: the income tax on individuals; the income tax on corporations; an excise tax, such as on jewelry; and a sales tax on most of the things people buy.

In the next few months, because of previous decisions of Congress four taxes are due to end or go down, with a loss to the government of about eight billion dollars annually in revenue:

On Dec. 31 the excess profits tax on corporations ends and the income tax on individuals goes down about 10 per cent; on April 1 the normal tax on corporation income drops five percentage points and some excise taxes are cut.

The administration, through Humphrey, has already said it will not try to stop what is scheduled to happen Dec. 31: the end to the excess profits tax and the 10 per cent drop in income taxes, a combined loss of about 5½ billion dollars to the government.

But President Eisenhower several months ago asked Congress to delay indefinitely the drop in the normal corporation tax (it means two billion dollars revenue a year) and in excise taxes (amounting to about a billion a year).

If squeezed in trying to balance the budget, he might renew that request. And, if really squeezed, the administration might also ask Congress to vote new or additional taxes.

But next year is a congressional election year. It's not likely members of Congress would go for an increase in individual or corporation income taxes. That would leave the administration only two other main fields in which to look for added revenue:

A general sales tax or new excise taxes. For example, Congress could vote an excise tax on services or goods not now so taxed, like hotel rooms, laundry services, or furniture.

A sales tax could take several shapes: a tax on manufacturers—a tax paid by them on what they make and sell to wholesalers; a tax on wholesalers—on what they sell to retailers; or a retail tax—on what retailers sell to consumers.

It has been estimated that a five per cent sales tax at the retail level, on all items except food and medicine, would bring the government perhaps 5½ billion dollars a year.

More than 30 states now have sales taxes, 27 of them at the retail level, and over 160 cities have. Judging from the resentment so far expressed by members of Congress against a national sales tax, the administration would have tough going getting it through.

Separated Milk Same as Skimmed, Is Only Half as Nutritious as Whole

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

THE MAIL BOX

Separator Milk

Our 17-year-old son drank only skim milk, lots of it, and rejected whole milk. He is husky and athletic. Since we moved to this village we can't get it and as a farm nearby they shake their heads and say separator milk is not fit . . . (Mrs. F. H. A.)

Answer—Separator milk (what is left after the fat is removed) is identical in every respect with skim milk (what is left after the fat or cream rises and is skimmed off.) Many healthy youths, like your son, thrive on skim milk or separator milk or buttermilk and reject whole fresh sweet milk. Those farmers who think separator milk is fit only for feeding pigs probably think what is not fit for human consumption until the boss man at the big city mill has processed, purified, refined, bleached and flabbergasted it and wrapped it in a pretty package. Skim milk or separator milk or buttermilk is just one-half as nutritious as whole milk.

Sore Calves

My calves get so sore I can hardly go. Troubled with this since I was a boy. I am now 66. Electric treatments had no effect . . . (C. W. B.)

Answer—If the calf of the leg pains when squeezed the trouble may be vitamin B-complex deficiency. It can do no harm, may bring relief, to get an optimal daily ration of vitamin B for a while. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Wheat to Eat.

Whole Flaxseeds

Thank you for suggestion to use whole flaxseeds instead of mineral oil for constipation. It enabled me not only to break the constipation habit but to gain much needed weight and vitality . . . (H. M.)

Answer—Instructions in booklet The Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene, for which send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Stupid, Eh?

Had an operation for piles in '46. Little or no trouble for about three years, then they became worse than ever . . . You have said many times that it is stupid to suffer . . . (T. H.)

Answer—Hush. I had to quit calling people stupid, or else. But send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet on Piles.

Itching

Daughter, 5, sat in poison ivy summer before last. For months the itching almost drove her and us crazy, and she still complains a good deal now after a whole year . . . (M. P.)

Answer—Uh-huh! I know. I was about crazy too. That was before the specific antigen treatment had been developed. This consists of hypodermic injections of a minute dose of ivy extract of toxin — a homeopathic treatment. This is not only the best emergency treatment for ivy poisoning — one injection daily for two or three days is usually sufficient to bring quick relief and recovery. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet on Ivy Poisoning.

Aspirin Habit

Doctor here advises aspirin for children every time they are feverish or even restless. My sister feeds her children aspirin every day and says her pediatrician told her it is all right . . . (Mrs. D. S.)

Answer—I'm sorry for your sister's children, but there's little you or I can do now that she employs a specialist instead of ordinary doctors.

Sweating Feet

Pamphlet or formula for a powder to prevent foul sweating of the feet. (H. L. P.)

Answer—Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask in writing for pamphlet Excessive Sweating.

More Than 50

Much interested in comments on how active your mother was when past 90. Would like to have a copy of the pamphlet telling what vitamins and minerals young folks and old folks need . . . (H. W. C.)

Answer—It is free, but I do not pay the freight. Inclose stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask in writing (a clipping will not suffice) for the pamphlet Young Folks and Old Folks.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to diseases, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

KINGSBURY SCHOOL REOPENS — Built nearly 100 years ago, the Kingsbury school at Metamora reopened Monday as an "independent" school. It will operate under the Isabelle Buckley Plan of Education now being conducted in several California communities. Closed several years ago, it was about to be preserved by Carlton M. Higbie, Metamora, as an historic landmark when he decided it should be a living monument to the American heritage of young children in the area. Preserving the original lines, it has a kindergarten room, a large elementary classroom, an office for the headmistress and modern heating, lighting and plumbing.

Carries on Pioneering Principle

Old Kingsbury School Back in Business With an Independent Teaching Program

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

An old bell with a new ring was heard across the countryside near Metamora from Monday through Friday this week.

The old Kingsbury School is back in the education business.

Because Carlton M. Higbie, prominent area industrialist and financier who lives at Metamora, wanted a fourth "R" (responsibility) in his children's education program, the once-closed Kingsbury school has undergone a physical and purposeful rejuvenation in the past two months.

Atop a scenic hill where Delano and Metamora Rds. meet northeast of Oxford, this stately white schoolhouse with its green shutters and formally fenced playground is "pioneering" an education program.

"It is pioneering for Michigan, but it has worked in California so well we know it will catch on here," states the blonde and comely headmistress, Mrs. Ruth Miner who hails from Los Angeles. That west coast city is the seat of the Isabelle Buckley Plan of education which is now taking root in the Metamora school.

Carlton Higbie first heard of the Buckley Plan on one of his many business jaunts around the country. He was impressed and with Mrs. Higbie went out to Los Angeles to investigate.

Mrs. Buckley, the former Isabelle Palms of Grosse Pointe, founded her school following investigative tours of other nations' educational programs. Taking the best from the English, the French and the Australian, she fostered the four-fold plan which is underway at the Kingsbury school.

Believing that the average child does not produce to his full capacity, Mrs. Buckley bases her process upon self-expression through self-discipline and puts emphasis on sound minds, manners and morals.

MRS. RUTH MINER

"Our fundamental aim," states Mrs. Miner, "is to produce an individual with a capacity for work, one who thinks for himself and who will have the vision to sustain our American heritage."

From kindergarten through the eighth grade (the grades included in the plan) American history is taught.

Established by the Buckley constitution and by-laws for all schools operating under the plan, moral and spiritual training with the history of religion to be included in the curriculum is the first part of the training. Daily prayers open and close class sessions.

Academic instruction includes the three "R's" plus history, grammar, geography, literature and early exposure to a foreign language. Enjoyment of the arts with stress on coordination and enjoyment rather than professional achievement is taught.

The Buckley school playgrounds are devoid of any entertainment equipment.

"We teach boys and girls to learn how to play together in a constructive way. The outdoors with the abundance of nature we have around us here at Metamora and a brisk game of ball along with other organized games is part of our program, said Mrs. Miner.

In taking enrollments, "no discrimination as to race, creed nor color" is to be shown.

"However, we do insist that the parents cooperate in the education of their children. They help with homework and agree to carry out the school's concentrated workhabit program at home.

The greatest teachers, in the final analysis, said Mrs. Miner, are the adults who educate by example and precept.

Tuition rates for the independent school (Higbie frowns on the word "private" for his project) depend upon the ability of the parents to pay. All Buckley Plan schools are on a non-profit basis, and according to Mrs. Miner they hope the Metamora school may become self-sustaining within a few years. Higbie will guide its financial course until it does, however.

At present the two-room school has a kindergarten room with its own teacher, another classroom with an elementary teacher, a music and arts specialist and Mrs. Miner who works with the staff and watches the individual growth pattern of each child.

Thirteen students enrolled the first week, but the goal is about 25 students, Mrs. Miner said.

"Although the program carried on in this reconverted schoolhouse embodies some of the finest of timeless principles of education," Mrs. Miner pointed out, "it is modern in the most constructive sense of the word."

Increase of 344 at Walled Lake

May Estimate by School Consultant Borne Out by Current Enrollment

WALLED LAKE — Prediction of a substantial increase in the number of students in Walled Lake schools, made last spring by Dr. Fred W. Frostic, Ann Arbor school consultant, was borne out this week by enrollment figures.

The enrollment reached a total of 3,840 students compared with 3,496 in June — an increase of 344.

The increase, which surpassed the expectations of school officials based on the school census in May, was traced to a number of new families which moved into the area during the summer.

The present enrollment totals are: Senior high, 609; junior high, 764; Walled Lake School, 832; Union Lake School, 547; Commerce, 432; Glengary, 331; and Wixom, 325.

Betty L. Wolfe, Kenneth Nichols Exchange Vows

LAPEER — Betty Lou Wolfe and Kenneth Nichols recited marriage vows last Saturday in a double-ring ceremony at Belleville Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wolfe of New Boston.

The bridegroom is the son of the late Mrs. Mary Cornwall of Lapeer. For the past few years he has lived at the home of Mrs. Mary Coulter in Lapeer.

Bety Lou wore a lace dress over white satin, fashioned with long sleeves ending in points over her hands, and two overskirts of white tulle.

Her fingertip illusion veil was held in place by a satin tiara trimmed with seed pearls. She carried rust baby chrysanthemums centered with an orchid against croton leaves.

Dolores Quakenbush of Wyandotte served as maid of honor.

Best man was William Radcliffe of Trenton. Frank Smythe of Flint and Lewis Dreyer of Ypsilanti served as ushers.

More than 100 guests attended a reception in the church parlors. Mrs. Nichols is employed in the Assistant Secretary of State Office in Detroit. The bridegroom is a student at Cleary Business College at Ypsilanti.

Royal Oak Ends TV Channel Bid

Broadcasting Company Asks FCC to Dismiss UHF Application

ROYAL OAK (UP) — The Royal Oak Broadcasting Co. asked the Federal Communications Commission today to dismiss its application for a channel 62 television station at Ferndale.

The action would leave the UAW-CIO Broadcasting Corp. unopposed for a station on the same channel at Detroit. A third applicant for the same channel, Knight Newspapers, Inc. withdrew its bid this week.

The Royal Oak company said it was convinced from a survey it just finished that prospects are "remote" for a sizable audience in the Ferndale-Royal Oak area on an ultra high frequency channel (UHF).

Present owners of very high frequency TV sets would have to convert to UHF to receive telecasts on a UHF channel, the company said.

Legion Chaplain Assumes Duties

Resigns Church Post to Take Over Veterans' Organization Job

By Religious News Service

CORDELL, Okla.—Dr. Tom B. Clark has resigned as pastor of the Christian (Disciples) Church here to devote his full time to the post of national chaplain of the American Legion. He was named to the post at the recent national convention of the veterans' organization in St Louis, Mo.

Dr. Clark said he would make his headquarters at Buffalo, Okla., where he occupied a pulpit before coming to Cordell two years ago, but will spend most of his time traveling about the country in the exercise of his new responsibilities.

The new Legion chaplain, who was ordained in the Disciples of Christ ministry at the unusual age of 16, enlisted in the Navy as a yeoman in 1943 and saw active service with the Seabees in the landing on Tarawa Island in the South Pacific. Later, he put in two years at Pearl Harbor.

He joined the Legion in 1946 following his discharge from the service and has served successively in the veterans' organization as district vice commander; post, district and state chaplain in Oklahoma, and chairman of the departmental community service.

Relief Goods Shipments Rise

Protestant Contributions to Europe, Asia Register 72 Per Cent Rise

By Religious News Service

NEW YORK—Emergency shipments to Europe and Asia of relief goods provided by American Protestant churches during the first eight months of this year were 72 per cent greater than in the same period of 1952, Church World Service said here.

Dr. Wynn C. Fairfield, executive director of the National Council of Churches' overseas relief agency, reported to a meeting of the executive committee of CWS here that the minimum dollar value of food, clothing, medicine and other supplies shipped this year totaled $3,820,180 as compared to $2,500,000 in the first eight months of last year.

A substantial part of this increase was made possible, he said, by the U. S. government's offer of surplus products for free distribution through volunteer agencies working in foreign fields. Notable among these surpluses was 14,500,000 pounds of powdered milk.

Principle areas to which supplies have been sent by CWS this year, Dr. Fairfield said, are Austria, Belgium, England, France, Germany, Greece, The Netherlands, Italy, Trieste, Turkey, Yugoslavia, Japan, Korea, Hong Kong, Lebanon, Okinawa and Pakistan.

Confident Living

Serene Faith of 23rd Psalm Combats Age of Anxiety

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

"The age of anxiety"—so a distinguished poet has described our era. Psychiatrists seem to agree with him.

Discussing "the neurotic personality of our time," Dr. Horney said, "There is one essential factor common to all neuroses, and that is anxieties." The eminent psychiatrist, Dr. Smiley Blanton, says, "Anxiety is the great modern plague."

DR. PEALE

My friend, the Rev. Dr. Charles Allen of Atlanta, Ga., has worked out an interesting technique in dealing with anxiety. Dr. Allen is a long, lanky preacher with a southern drawl, who combines wisdom with a heart full of kindness.

And the way he works with people is best illustrated by the story of a man who came to him filled with anxiety and nervous stress, sent to the minister by a physician who thought that the minister's help was needed.

"Do you take the prescriptions your doctor gives you?" Dr. Allen asked the man.

"Certainly, I do," he replied. "I take them regularly."

"Well, then, you have come to me as to a spiritual doctor. Will you take the prescription I give you?"

The man looked puzzled and then agreed.

Dr. Allen went on, "I want to write a prescription that will help to heal you of your anxiety and tension." He took a piece of paper, wrote on it and handed it to the man. It read:

Prescription

First thing in the morning read aloud to yourself the 23rd Psalm. Read it slowly, quietly, thoughtfully, prayerfully.

After breakfast, before going to work, read the 23rd Psalm again.

Read it after lunch. Read it before dinner. Read it before going to bed.

Take this prescription for one week.

The man looked at this and protested, "But I grew up in a religious home; I know the 23rd Psalm forwards and backwards."

"That doesn't matter," Dr. Allen insisted. "I want you to read it exactly as I have directed in that prescription."

In just one week, that man was much better and in due time was discharged as cured by his physician. He had mastered his tension and anxiety. He had learned, as many of us have, that there is a potent therapeutic power in the words of the Bible.

There is another important factor which must be taken into consideration in relieving anxiety. This is the effect of old sins and wrongdoings. Maybe you haven't done anything wrong in years. Yet, if your old sins aren't forgiven — and if you haven't forgiven yourself — a censor in your mind keeps insisting that you should be punished.

It doesn't matter how long ago a guilt sense developed, your conscience doesn't let you rest. Therefore, whether you are fully conscience of this or not, you are always subsconsciously expecting punishment. And, because you are expecting it, you become anxious and perhaps even neurotic.

A function of the psychiatrist is to help the patient uncover the causes of his anxiety. And, when he has done this, it becomes the function of the minister to help the patient find relief through forgiveness. That is one way in which religion and psychiatry work together to offset the unhappy effects of the "age of anxiety."

The trusting, serene faith found in the words of the 23rd Psalm points the way to release from anxiety. And examination and emptying of your conscience can set you free.

A human being, constructed as his mind is, must either be perpetually punished by guilt or released through mental catharsis and faith. When thus released, anxiety ceases. So to escape anxiety, one should find in his own way the cleansing of his soul.

The marvelous sense of forgiveness brings a serenity and mental peace which drives out anxiety.

Need for Repair Critical at Westminster Abbey

(By Religious News Service)

LONDON—A warning that Westminster Abbey is so urgently in need of repair some parts of it may have to be closed to the public was sounded here by officials of the campaign to raise $2,800,000 for restoration of the centuries-old Anglican shrine.

Some of its parapets and pinnacles are in danger of crashing to the ground at any moment, Archdeacon Adam Fox, treasurer, said in appealing especially to British women to support the campaign launched last January by Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill.

SPEAKER

this famous founder of Bob Jones University, who this year made a world revival tour, will speak. Eloquence of Apollos, zeal of Paul, boldness of Elijah, and the experience of 55 years as an outstanding evangelist. He gives the most practical help for preachers and Christian workers. Heart-searching and heart-blessing and holy encouragement come to every hungry heart who hear this indomitable anointed evangelist. You will know why there are near 3,000 students in Bob Jones University, some 1,200 ministerial students.

Dr. John R. Rice
the man who set out ten years ago to bring back great revivals to America. His fifty-five books and pamphlets have broken all records, being circulated in over 11 million copies in fifteen languages. Many think that his preaching and Bible teaching through The Sword of the Lord and his books have done more to open the door for great revivals in this generation than any other single influence. The weekly Sword of the Lord reaches some 20,000 preachers, nearly 100,000 homes in 80 countries. Hear his teaching and preaching.

Dr. D. A. (Scotchie) McCall
the Scotchman who gives—of himself! With the same buoyant personality, the same scriptural emphasis, and the same spiritual drive that set new records for 11 years among Mississippi Baptists, "Scotchie" will give a great message. He is now Minister of Revival Promotion for the SWORD OF THE LORD FOUNDATION.

UNESCO Meet Winds Up On Religious Note

By Religious News Service

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — The fourth national conference of the United States National Commission for UNESCO here ended on a strong religious note.

In summarizing the work of the conference, Dr. George N. Shuster, president of Hunter College, New York, and new chairman of the Commission, said:

"Let us note in conclusion that one of the themes of this conference which elicited particular interest was that of religious dedication.

"And indeed, as one views realistically the world which longs to breathe anew after decades of holocaust and despair, it becomes very clear that unless there be in the universe a center of goodness toward which all human history moves, one can with difficulty persuade oneself that whatever one tries to do to drain up the mighty flood of evil will in the long run prove to be much more than an illusion."

Say Catholic Laymen Not Spreading Faith

By Religious News Service

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Roman Catholic laymen in the United States are not zealous enough in spreading their faith, two Catholic bishops said here.

Bishop Carles F. Buddy of San Diego, Calif., and Coadjutor Bishop Thomas K. Gorman of Dallas, Tex. spoke at the ninth congress of the National Laywomen's Retreat Movement.

Bishop Gorman said Catholics seemed to be "either too timid or too selfish" in sharing the faith. They are, he said, "the most reticent people in the world when it comes to telling the glories of that faith. . ."

Bishop Buddy declared there were "teeming thousands" starving for the truth but that Catholics had been "too slow, too hesitant."

He noted that there was only one convert for each 274 Catholics.

Dr. Stamm Will Speak to Local Pastors Group

Dr. John S. Stamm, bishop of the Baldwin Evangelical United Brethren Church, will be guest speaker Friday at the regular meeting of the Pontiac Pastors' Association.

He was president of the Federal Council of Church of Christ in American from 1946 to 1950.

The meeting will be held as usual in the First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Stamm will conduct evangelistic meetings in the Baldwin Avenue church of the denomination next week.

THE WEAKER BROTHER

The chronic drunkard becomes associated with Alcoholics Anonymous. He gives up drinking; he quits going to bars; he stops spending time with his former companions. He is making every effort to walk the path of sobriety.

But he is faced with a terrible stumbling-block. His wife is no problem drinker; she always drinks in moderation; and she can see no reason why she should stop just because her husband "can't handle" alcohol.

So she continues to have liquor around the house, to serve it to her guests, and to take an occasional drink herself. Whether he admits it or not, this makes it very hard on the husband, for it continually confronts him with temptation and weakens his resolve to stay away from alcohol. And the chances are that in time he'll slip back into his old ways.

In such a case the woman has overlooked the moral duty of the strong to protect the weak. True, sometimes the weak need to be protected by the force of arms; sometimes they need to be helped by charitable institutions and social welfare laws. But when the weaker brother is his own worst enemy—when his trouble is within himself—it becomes the duty of the stronger members of the family to deny themselves so that he may not be overwhelmed by temptation. An ancient writer summed up this obligation by saying:

"Abstain from meat or wine, or indeed anything that is a stumbling-block to your brother."

REV. ROBERT FISCHER

Pastor to Talk on Asian Trip

Rev. Robert Fischer to Speak at First Baptist Sunday Evening

Home after six weeks in the Orient, the Rev. Robert Fischer will give a report of his trip Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in First Baptist Church. The Rev. Fischer is assistant minister of the church.

At the morning service Bob Pierce, who has been with Youth for Christ in Korea, will be the speaker.

The Rev. Fischer was sent to Tokyo to the sixth World Congress on Evangelism. Afterwards he spent two weeks in evangelistic meetings in a village about 200 miles from there.

He also spent some time on Okinawa with Bob and Nancy Shelton, missionaries from the local church, and at Formosa and Hong Kong.

Book Claims Christ's Tomb in Pakistan

(International News Service)

KARACHI (INS)—A book claiming that the tombs of Jesus Christ and the Virgin Mary are located in Pakistan was recently banned by the provincial government of Punjab, Pakistan.

Agence France Presse said the book was written by a missionary and published in England. Its reported title was "Jesus in Heaven or on Earth?"

Senate OKs Bill to Aid Church-Sponsored Films

WASHINGTON, D. C. — A bill to allow churches, schools, and other non-profit institutions to send educational films through the mails at the book rate was passed unanimously by the Senate and sent to the House.

The book rate is eight cents a pound, regardless of distance shipped. Chairman Frank Carlson (R-Kan.) of the Senate Post Office Committee, sponsor of the bill, said the mail subsidy given to books should be extended to audio-visual aids which serve the same educational purpose.

Bernard Hymn Picked as Tops

'Rock of Ages' Rated Most Popular by Radio Religions Survey

(By Religious News Service)

GLENDALE, Calif. — America's favorite hymn is "The Old Rugged Cross," written in 1913 by George Bernard.

So say officials of the Seventh Day Adventist Voice of Prophecy radio program who conducted a survey to determine the top ten religious songs in North America. More than 10,000 persons belonging to different denominations in all parts of the country participated in the poll, they said.

Titles of the ten favorites, in the order of their preference are: "The Old Rugged Cross," The Love of God," "In the Garden," "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," "Beyond the Sunset," "Precious Lord, Take My Hand," "Rock of Ages," "It Is No Secret," "Abide With Me," and "No One Ever Cared for Me Like Jesus."

Oldest of the ten is "Rock of Ages," written by Augustus M. Toplady 177 years ago. Newest is "It Is No Secret," composed in 1950 by Stuart Hamblen, cowboy evangelist.

Girl Caught in Middle of Squabble

Sister Is Furious Because She Said 'Hello' to Neighbor

By EMILY POST

A girl writes: "Not long ago my sister had a run-in with one of the neighbors. I was not around at the time but I hear they had quite an argument and some pretty nasty remarks were passed, and now they no longer speak to each other.

"The other day I met this neighbor while I was out with my sister and I smiled and said, Hello.

"My sister was furious and said that I was being very disloyal to her by speaking to the neighbor after the awful things the neighbor said to her. Will you please give me your opinion?"

Answer: I think you did the wise thing unless you want to further a feud that makes a very unpleasant situation in the neighborhood.

You certainly wouldn't stop and have a long conversation with her, but just saying "hello" shouldn't be criticized.

Dear Mrs. Post: My son, who is named for his father, has recently become a doctor. He thinks that it would be perfectly proper for him to drop the "Jr." from his name now since his title will distinguish him from his father. Is he right?

Answer: Even though the Dr. will distinguish him from his father on his mail and socially, he must continue to be Jr. for his signature, looking forward to his possible marriage when his wife would otherwise, have the same name as yours.

Dear Mrs. Post: I loaned a friend money many months ago. There was no written agreement to pay. At the present time I need this money very much—in fact I don't know how I am going to manage without it.

How can I go about remind my friend so as not to hurt her? I believe she is able to repay it now, and it may even be that she has actually forgotten about it.

Answer: Just say, "I hate to ask you, but at the present time I am great need of the money you borrowed, and I hope you can pay it now."

Dear Mrs. Post: When invited out to Sunday night supper and unexpected guests arrive shortly before we leave, how does one handle the situation tactfully?

Answer: Just say, "I am very sorry but we are leaving in a few minutes to have supper with the Smiths and hope you will come another evening."

Soft as a lamb and washable as a hanky are these downymere pair-offs. They are fashioned of hand-washable, cashmere-like wool jersey. Skirts feature the pleat-stitched flare and the slim bottom front.

Good Foundation Should Be Start of Fall Wardrobe

The mature woman, planning a new fall wardrobe, is likely to get best results by first making certain that her foundation garment is the proper fit and appropriate to the new silhouette.

The theory of buying foundations first applies to everyone, but particularly to the older woman whose flesh is not as firm as it was 10 or 15 years ago.

The ideal choice for the woman who needs diaphragm control as well as bosom uplift is the long line brassiere which fits to the waistline.

The four-section garment is the best type of girdle for the mature figure. Fabric sections at the side and back alternating with elastic panels afford freedom of movement with firm control.

Perfect for the slim-fitting silhouette which fashion has decreed for fall is the all-in-one garment.

Liquid Cream Fine Short-Cut Skin Cleanser

There's no look lovelier than that of perfect grooming: skin cleansed with the kind of cleanser that best suits it, stimulated with the right lotion, carefully made up with powder base, powder and lipstick in harmonizing tones!

But sometimes our busy lives require short cuts. We've got always to present a clean, fresh face, but our time is limited.

This is the occasion for a quick cleansing with an effective preparation made for busy people — like one new quick cleansing cream.

Ideal for office use, traveling and all the in-between times when a complexion needs to be cleansed, yet there isn't time for a full beauty treatment, this new liquid cleanser goes deep down to remove stale makeup and grime. At the same time it leaves the skin soft and moist.

Really a treatment in a hurry, the quick cleansing cream contains softening ingredients and an antiseptic that helps protect against blemishes of external origin.

Both Homemakers and Career Girls Make Extra Money in Cosmetic Work

By ANNE HEYWOOD

One day recently a very charming young woman came in to see me, to tell me about her company and the part-time jobs it offers to women.

She represents one of the country's leading cosmetic companies, and her own face is one of the best advertisements for it that I have seen.

"Almost any woman," she declared, "can make very good money selling cosmetics in free time. We have housewives who use the time when the children are in school.

"We have business girls who pick up from $10 to $30 a week from a few hours' work in free evening and weekend hours."

It is of course, direct selling, but one of the most pleasant and dignified kinds of selling I have heard of in some time.

The company gives the girl a one-week training period, and then provides her with a portfolio of sample cosmetics. She receives excellent tips on sales and counselling on beauty problems.

For example, one girl I know, who had been troubled with bad skin in her youth, became so intrested in what these cosmetices would do for the skin, and in the many tips the company gave her, that she became parctically a beauty consultant to all the women in her neighborhood.

"It doesn't even seem like selling," this young woman told me. "These are products that the homemakers would be buying anyway. We have soap and toothbrushes, even a household cleanser, in addition to cosmetics.

"But this way they get a chance to buy them without leaving home and also an opportunity to get advice on any beauty problems that may be bothering them."

Moreover, the woman who keeps her hand in with a sales job on the side can always, if the need arises, land a full-time job because employers hire people with that kind of extra initiative and ambition.

A lot of women who need extra income are apt to shy away from the idea of selling, but it has been my experience that if you have a product about which you are enthusiastic, it doesn't seem like selling at all.

Costume Follows Trend to Empire Line for Winter

Harvey Berin goes right along with the revival of things Napoleonic with this dress, which is very much in the Empire spirit. The Empire line in clothes is, by the way, one of the most important influences for winter.

The designer did this model in black velvet with black military braid and sparkling white satin for the separate gilet.

But here you can let your imagination go to work: Tweed with cording and a vest of velveteen like a dandy of old; a stiff silk with a contrasting color for accent.

If your waistline isn't naturally chiseled out, fit the midriff snugly so it acts like a waist pincher.

Bust	Waist	Hips	Sizes
34½	25	35½ inches	10
35½	26	37 inches	12
37	27½	38½ inches	14
38½	29	40 inches	16
50	30½	41½ inches	18

Size 12 requires 3⅞ yards of 39-inch material with nap for the dress and one-half yard of 39-inch material for the gilet.

To order Pattern 1156, address Spadea Syndicate, Inc., P. O. Box 535, Dept. 149, G. P. O., New York 1, N. Y. State size. Send $1. Airmail 25 cents extra.

IF you want slimmer—

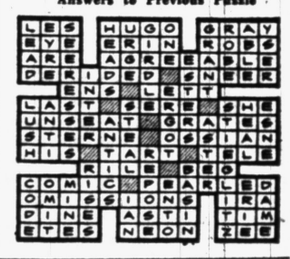

The long length coat with lining matching suit is a luxurious, rich looking slimmer. It elongates, but horizontal lines widen and shorten.

Mrs. W. S. — A continuous look from head to toe is a great slimmer. Hat and shoes matching the costume give a tall look. Dark green is one of the leading colors now and often used in combination with black—a slimming combination, too.

Plan Child's Room

Make your child's room a place where he can study, work at his hobby or entertain "the gang" when you redecorate his room this fall. Sturdy but inexpensive furnishings and a simple background will do the trick if supplemented by plenty of imagination.

Boy Stifled by Jealous Girl Friend

Her Own Attitude Brings About Rift in Their Romance

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: We had planned to be married next spring, and here we are all broken up — or almost so.

"I thought he loved me, but he dated somebody else while I was on my vacation, so I gave him his ring back because I couldn't stand to be hurt any more and didn't think he loved me.

"He wants me to keep on dating him but he doesn't want to go steady. My parents think we're too young to be serious and want us to date others. But I have no interest in other boys.

"I've told him that I won't go out with him because I love him too much to share him with any other girl. Am I being selfish? Am I being fair to myself — and more, important, to him?

"He says he still loves me but that's rather hard for me to believe. I don't want to lose him completely, but I can't date him as though he were just any boy. I am so mixed up! Please help me."

You don't want to lose him—yet you don't want to keep on any terms but your own. Your affection for him hurts you and has broken your going steady together. And all because it is so possessive.

The selfishness of it couldn't stand the shock of his having a casual date or two while you were away this summer. You were sure it was proof that his love for you had died. You hardly waited to see how the wind blew before you gave him back his ring.

Your jealous hurt has proved embarrassing to your boy friend. He found himself up to his ears in relationship that was too tight for his comfort.

Easing the halter is the only thing he knows to do. Because he still loves you, he says, and he doesn't want you out of his life completely. But that cloying sense of being possessed has got him down.

The knowledge that he can't make a move without hurting you is paralyzing. Your affection for him is smothering. He feels he must keep his distance part of the time — so he offers you part-time dating.

If you want to see him at all, it must be on those terms. It may hurt to see him with someone else, But no new girl can suddenly have the meaning for him that you do. A date with another girl is just a cooling breath of fresh air. And that's what you need, too.

Of course, you can't date him as though he were just any boy. He's a very special boy.

But you can date him happily and check your affection so it doesn't show too obviously; you can stifle the questions that would give your jealousy away; you can assume no rights and take nothing for granted. It's the only way you can be together — and get your balance back.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Pat says he still likes me, but he wants to play the field, so we've quit going steady after six months.

"How can I forget him? How can I establish the fact with other boys that I'm not going steady, when he still wants to go with me now and then?"

Forget Pat? You won't ever completely forget him. But you can resolutely put him out of the front spot in your mind, by giving someone or something else high priority in your concentration.

Pat will do his share to establish the fact that you're not going steady with him any longer. You needn't make an announcement. Pat will do it by turning up repeatedly with some other girl.

Questions will fly — the change in affairs will be obvious — the word will get around.

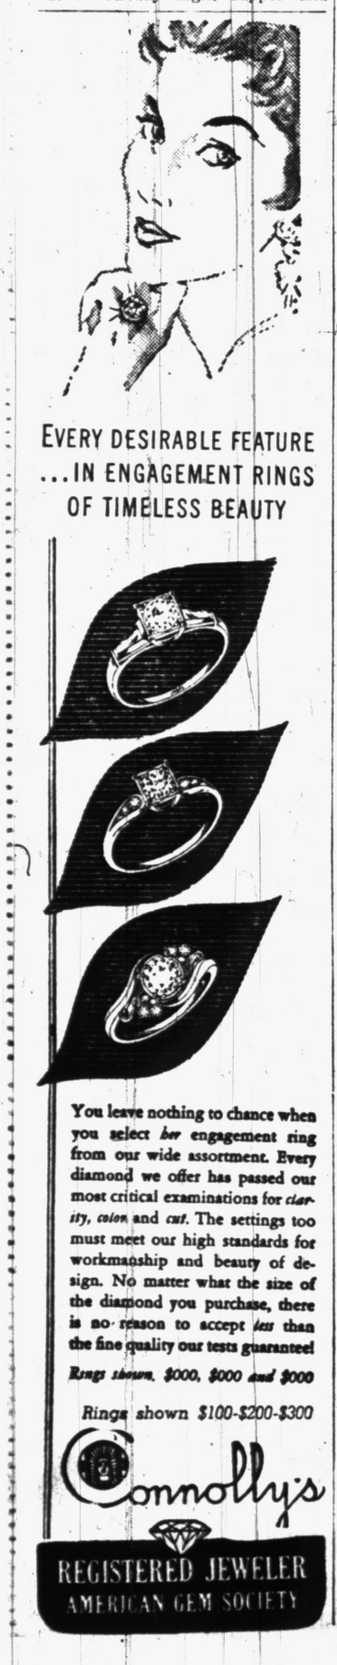

Stay away from the places you went to with Pat until you can go with some other boy. Then it won't hurt so much if Pat happens to be there with some other girl under his wing.

Mrs. Selden Tells Group of Europe

Church Fellowship Hears About Visits to England, Italy

A talk by Mrs. Arthur Selden, who recently returned from a European tour, highlighted the Friday afternoon meeting of the Woman's Fellowship of First Congregational Church.

The speaker was impressed mostly with the sense of leisure among the people of the countries she visited and with their faith, piety and devotion. She cited that a sense of humor is a good entry into relationships with them.

The countryside of London, Oxford, Stratford, the cliffs of Dover left vivid memories with Mrs. Selden along with the neatness of Brussels, the sidewalk cafes and the variety of flowers.

Lake Luzerne in Switzerland, held such beauty that she regretted having to leave it. And the art, architecture, craftsmanship and custom found in the Italian cities of Genoa, Venice, Florence and Rome will never be forgotten, Mrs. Selden said.

She was impressed most deeply with Rome and its churches and the Colosseum where many martyrs died for the Christian faith. It's magnificent ruins and statuary also impressed her.

In France, the chateau country, the cathedrals, art galleries and colonies were of special interest. She also attended two operas, "Thais" in France and "Aida" in Rome.

Mrs. John B. Nicolls Jr. sang the soprano aria "Sun of My Soul" from Gaul's oratorio, "The Ten Virgins" accompanied by Charles Wilson.

Mrs. Victoria Gaff based the devotionals on the thought of taking time for spiritual meditation and strength and of what it would mean in the life of everyone.

These courses will be held in the Westacres clubhouse from 7:30 p.m. until 10 p.m.

Troop Camp training courses will be given in the Girl Scout offices Oct. 7 and Oct. 14 from 10 a. m. until 3 p.m.

Registrants for any or all courses are asked to call the Girl Scout offices at least one week before the course begins.

A talk on her travels through Europe was given by Mrs. Frank Becker.

Mrs. Susan Hunter, Mrs. Charles Clark, Mrs. L. P. Farnham and Mrs. Ball were guests with Mrs. Lawrence Taylor, Mrs. Charles Lloyd and Mrs. Pirtle as hostesses.

Auxiliary Honors Mrs. Jerry Hould

Mrs. Jerry Hould was presented with a past president's plaque by Mrs. Thomas Devine when Huron Gardens Eagles Auxiliary 2887 met Wednesday evening.

Delegates to Hear Plans for Israeli Bond Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Delegates to the National Economic Conference for Israel gathered today to hear plans for a new bond issue to aid the young republic's economy.

David Horowitz, governor of the Central Bank of Israel, and Abba Eban, Israeli ambassador to the United States, were on hand to explain their government's plan for a new loan to be floated after May 1, 1954.

That date marks the end of the sale period for a 500-million-dollar issue first offered in 1951.

Gen. Dean Asks Clemency for ROK Betrayers

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Maj. Gen. William F. Dean is asking clemency for the two Korean civilians accused of selling him into three years of Communist captivity for $5 rewards.

Dean told newsmen just before a homecoming celebration last night that he has cabled President Syngman Rhee of South Korea, asking him to free the two.

"I don't know if they are the ones (who turned me in) but if they are they should be freed anyway," he said. "A lot of people were under a lot of pressure at that time."

Dean was captured in August, 1950, about a month after he disappeared near Taejon, South Korea, while rallying stragglers of his overwhelmed 24th Division in the action that won him the Medal of Honor.

Dean also disclosed that he was taken into Manchuria by the Reds for three days in late 1950 when the Allies had all but crushed the North Korean army.

The tall, 54-year-old soldier was welcomed back by hometown citizens who knew him here 30 years ago as auto patrolman "Wild Bill" Dean.

He was given a standing ovation by some 1,500 people at a civic reception in the Berkeley Community Theater.

Fraternizers Jailed

HONG KONG (AP) — The Chinese Communists apparently are having "fraternization" problems. The independent but pro-Nationalist newspaper Wah Kiu Yat Po said today four farmers in the Swatow area were jailed recently on charges of "fraternizing with landlords."

Changes in Revenue Service Seem OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eisenhower administration officials apparently have passed their oral examination by a congressional committee on the recent reorganization of the Internal Revenue Service.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews told the Senate-House Committee on Internal Revenue about the changes yesterday at a closed session.

Afterward, Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) declined comment except to say the administration plans remain intact. But Sen. Millikin (R-Colo) and Sen. Byrd (D-Va), both members, said they were pleased. Others who attended said no dissatisfaction was expressed.

The reorganization included reducing the number of revenue field commissioners from 17 to 9 and decentralizing some functions from Washington.

Soviets Raise Prices on Some Farm Produce

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government today upped some farm produce prices in a move to spur livestock production. It also cut quotas the state takes from the peasants' meat, dairy, poultry, and wool output.

The move, announced jointly by the Council of Ministers and the Central Committee of the Communist party, came as Premier Malenkov's government sent specialists and Communist experts into the field to push the regime's new agricultural program.

Aimed at raising Soviet living standards, the program promises a better life for the Russian people within two or three years.

Now Popular Recording Artist

Garry Wells Once Sang in Bethany Baptist Choir

GARRY WELLS

A boy who has had his eye on the show world since his early school days is suddenly being seen — and heard all over the country. He is Pontiac-born Garry Wells, recording artist for Capitol Records.

Garry, presently staying with his sister, Mrs. Mildred Sarnig at 17 Claremont St., is appearing at Club Gay Haven in Detroit.

The young recording artist is now working on an album to be released in the near future. His first records were, "I Keep Thinking of You" and "Why, Why, Why." Current platters are "Borrowed Time" and "Time Changes Everything."

Garland S. Wells attended Washington Junior High School here, moving to Clarkston with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Garland S. Wells Sr. where he attended Clarkston High. The aspiring young artist, however, finished his schooling in Jackson, Miss., where he opened his own radio program.

Later Garland entered the Army to serve two years in the European theater.

Pontiac residents who would hear their young neighbor and see him perform may do so tonight and tomorrow night at the Detroit club.

They may remember him as the young Garland Wells who first sang publicly in the choir of Bethany Baptist Church, — or who started professionally with the "Stratoliners," an orchestra once playing at the Elks Temple here.

Court Has Final Word With 'Penny-Rich' Youth

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The court had the last word, even with 18-year-old Leonard Ulinger.

Ulinger was fined $25 for driving his car with noisy exhaust pipes.

He returned with the money—all in pennies.

With City Clerk John Burke sternly looking on, Ulinger stayed long enough to count it all, and wrap the change in dollar bundles.

Elevator Operator Rescues 100 in Fire

BOSTON (AP)—An elevator operator who thought she should stay on the job "just like a captain stays with his ship" today was credited with evacuating more than 100 persons from the upper floors of a smoke-filled downtown business building.

Mrs. Mildred Brown, 35 mother of three, made 12 trips to the 11th floor yesterday to rescue persons stranded when fire broke out in a storeroom.

"I didn't know how long the (elevator) power would last and I told everybody to step lively if they wanted to ride with me," said Mrs. Brown who suffered a slight case of smoke inhalation.

Judge Vetoes Offer to Pay in Installments

CHICAGO (AP)—Joseph Womley's offer to pay his traffic fine of $682.50 on the installment plan was rejected yesterday by Judge Sigmund J. Stefanowicz.

The judge told Womley, 30, he recognized only one installment plan—working it off at $1.50 a day in jail. Womley, who had been sought for three years for 20 traffic violations, went to jail.

Stephen Foster's first composition, written when he was 14, was designed for a chorus of flutes.

Plan Election on Formosa

Nationalists Pave Way for First Presidential Voting Since '48

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China's lawmaking body yesterday paved the way for the first presidential election since 1948, before Nationalists lost the mainland. There was little doubt that President Chiang Kai-shek would be re-elected.

In a decision bound to be considered illegal by opponents of Chiang's Kuomintang party, the legislative Yuan in effect made it possible for the National Assembly to elect a president and vice president 90 days before Feb. 19, 1954, when present terms expire.

After day-longed heated debate, the Yuan voted 149-9 approval of a formula designed to assure that the Assembly will have the necessary 1,523-member quorum—which hasn't happened since the Communists in 1949 forced the Nationalist government to Formosa.

Latest figures show there are only about 1,200 members of the 3,045-seat assembly on Formosa.

The bill passed by the Yuan permits runnersup or reserve candidates in the last Assembly election to replace assemblymen who joined the Communists, are missing or were charged or sentenced to jail by the Nationalists.

Opponents felt the measure would be considered unconstitutional by overseas opponents of th Kuomintang. Supporters argued the Yuan is fully qualified to amend the election laws.

Interest in the election could center on the race for vice president, because the incumbent, Li Tsung-jen, is in the United States and certain to be dropped.

The Kuomintang choice almost certainly will be elected vice president and would become president if the 66-year-old Chiang should leave office.

Li is unpopular with the Nationalists because he was acting president at the time of unsuccessful peace talks with the Reds in 1949. He went to the United States and when Chiang resumed the presidency on Formosa in 1950 Li called him a usurper. Chiang has been president three terms, but the present one, starting in 1948, is the first under constitutional government.

Liz Taylor Suffers Nervous Collapse

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — A Danish doctor reported today that movie star Elizabeth Taylor is recovering from what was described as a nervous collapse. The actress, who fell ill yesterday, is resting in seclusion at Copenhagen's swank Hotel D'Angleterre.

Although neither Miss Taylor nor her actor huband, Michael Wilding, left their rooms, Dr. Sven Johnson said the Hollywood star was "absolutely getting better."

The doctor, who visited Miss Taylor last night, said she is suffering from a nervous ailment following overexertion.

Wilding announced last night that his wife was suffering from a "nervous collapse." He also said she was having trouble with her back.

Says Security Cards Aid Illegal Aliens

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There are three to five million aliens in this country illegally and most are able to get social security cards and use them as passports, the California State Chamber of Commerce has been told.

John V. Newman of the U.S. Labor Department's Mexican subcommittee, told the chamber yesterday that only a small proportion of the aliens illegally here are Mexicans and that agriculture is not the sole and probably not the greatest user of Mexican wetbacks.

Newman said that because of the existing domestic labor situation, the removal of three million or more workers from the national labor force would be critical, but he recommended tightening the requirements for issuing social security cards.

Social News Way Ahead of Film Work

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There may be doldrums in the film studios, but the Hollywood social season is picking up.

The week started out with a plush turnout to hear Tyrone Power, Anne Baxter and Raymond Massey in "John Brown's Body" at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

Lots of big names were there. June Allyson and Dick Powell sat raptly, he taking mental notes because he's staging the court martial scene of "The Caine Mutiny" for the same producer, Paul Gregory.

Terry Moore arrived with her mother — an effort to quell that talk that she dates dozens of guys.

Also noted: Clifton Webb, handsome in a red dye job, Shelley Winters, Michael Rennie, Norma Shearer.

Embarrassing event: Joan Caulfield and Celeste Holm showed up wearing identical gowns. Drawing the most notice from the first-night crowd was a familiar but un-Hollywood face — Sen. John Kennedy, honeymooning here with his bride.

The crowd applauded long and loud for the recital of the Civil War epic, and cheered when director Charles Laughton was brought onstage.

Perhaps the most notable part of the show is seeing again what a fine actor Ty Power can be. Too bad he doesn't get a chance to display his abilities in films.

Tuesday: Walt Disney previewed his first cartoon in Cinemascope, "Toot, Whistle, Plunk and Boom." It's an hilarious lesson in how musical sounds even-tuated, and the wide screen is a great asset.

"I think this sort of thing has a future," said Walt in the understatement of the week.

Wednesday: A bunch of gals like Debbie Reynolds, Jane Powell, Terry Moore, Mona Freeman and Jan Sterling modeled Diane's new collection of handknits. Can't think of a nicer bunch of sweater girls.

Thursday: Fox finally unveiled "The Robe" for West Coast audiences, and a stellar gathering greeted it at the Grauman's Chinese. Biggest premiere in years, said the press agents. Still, some of the bloom was off the rose because of the New York opening a week ago.

Friday: Arlene Dahl tossed a cocktail fashion show to celebrate the start of her TV show. Oh, there's lots of social news. Now if they'd only make some movies.

Chiefs Barely Edge Stubborn Cosmos, 6-0

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High's football team won its second straight victory of the season Friday night, edging a stubborn and underrated Homtramck squad, 6-0, in the home opener at Wisner Memorial Stadium.

Elsewhere on the state prep scene, Saginaw Valley Conference defending champion and favorite Bay City Central ripped Muskegon Heights, 19-0, Saginaw turned back Bay City Handy, 12-2, and Flint Central bowed to Muskegon, 20-6. Arthur Hill had an open date and Flint Northern entertains Detroit Catholic Central tonight.

Chiefs showed brief flashes of the strong running attack that last week rolled over Wyandotte for 315 yards and a 34-13 triumph. Pontiac was able to stage only one sustained drive—a 77-yard march that produced the game's only touchdown early in the fourth quarter.

PHS eleven muffed one scoring opportunity in the opening period, when end Leroy Moore recovered a Hamtramck fumble on the Cosmo's 17-yard line. Halfback Kirk Hobolth drove to the 11, but losses set the Chiefs back to the 28, where they gave up the ball.

Neither team could start a drive during the second quarter and most of the third, and action was confined to midfield.

Late in the period, halfback Homer Harrison fell on another Cosmos fumble on the Pontiac 23 and Chiefs started on their sole long offensive thrust of the game. With little Jimmy Williams bearing the brunt of the attack, Pontiac drove to the Hamtramck 5-yard stripe in 13 plays. Harrison passed to quarterback Dick Ayling for the score after 3 minutes of the 4th quarter. Extra point try failed.

Pontiac threatened once more in the period, but time ran out with Chiefs on the visitors' 17.

Williams, a 5-foot 5-inch 140-pound speedster, was Pontiac's top ground gainer with 51 yards in 10 tries. Forty-five of those yards came in the 77-yard scoring march.

Chiefs meet Lansing Sexton here next Friday.

Freds blanked Marine City Holy Cross, 18-0, to post their first victory since Sept. 30, 1950. St. Benedict bowed to St. Thomas, 26-6, in its first start.

Injuries have plagued both squads this week. Ravens lost all-conference guard Bill Longo for the season Sunday, when the star lineman fractured both cheek bones in the St. Thomas game.

Ram guard Dave Grosse broke his nose in the Holy Cross game, but will play Sunday wearing a face guard.

Orchard Lake St. Mary opens its season Sunday at Detroit St. Rita.

Hobolth carried to Cosmos' 11 on the play, but PHS eleven failed to take advantage of the scoring opportunity. Pontiac finally won, 6-0, on a 4th-quarter touchdown.

Majors' Records Fall

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

The major leagues used their last big night of the 1953 season to write a whole hatful of records and best performances into the books.

Lefty Mel Parnell of the Boston Red Sox joined the great Walter Johnon as the only pitchers to shut out the New York Yankees four times in a season. Johnson did it in 1908. In beating the New Yorkers 5-0 Parnell also became the first pitcher to whip them five times in one year since Casey Stengel took over as manager five years ago.

The Chicago White Sox scored their 87th triumph at the expense of the cellar-dwelling St. Louis Browns 7-2 and assured themselves of their best won and lost record in 33 years despite a third place finish.

The pennant-winning Brooklyn Dodgers won their 104th game, 4-3 over Philadelphia, equaling the all-time high in victories by a Dodger team.

Harvey Haddix became the first rookie on the St. Louis Cardinals to win 20 games since John Beazley in 1942. He breezed to an 11-2 victory over Chicago with the help of 19 hits, four of them by Red Schoendienst.

Bob Porterfield pitched his ninth shutout and his 22nd victory as Washington edged Philadelphia 1-0 with a ninth inning run. Porterfield is the first Washington pitcher since 1933 to win as many as 22 games.

Al Dark of the New York Giants set a National League record for home runs by shortstops when he hit his 23rd of the year in the Giants' 6-2 triumph at Pittsburgh. The old mark of 22 was set by Glenn Wright of the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1930.

Milwaukee and Cincinnati weren't scheduled.

Tigers Lose, Still Cinch Share of AL's Sixth Place

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians gave Detroit a 12-3 clubbing here last night, but the Tigers had reason to celebrate anyway today. They can't finish the American League season with worse than a tie for 6th place.

Seventh-place Philadelphia Athletics dropped a 1-0 decision to Washington. So the Tigers stayed two games in front—and there are only two more left for either team.

Cleveland's Al Rosen whammed two home runs to take over the American League leadership with 43. He also got two singles to give him 4-for-6 and lift him to within a single percentage point of Mickey Vernon in the race for batting horons. Washington's Vernon, who went 0-for-4, has a .333 average.

Steve Gromek was clobbered for four runs in the third. Rae Scarborough followed him and was slugged for two in the fifth, and one each in the sixth and seventh.

Detroit's third hurler, Dick Marlowe gave Cleveland four runs in the 8th.

Rookie Dick Tomanek went the route against the Tigers and stopped them cold, except in the 7th, when they scored their three on Ray Boone's 24th homer. Kuenn had singled ahead of hime and Hatfield had reached base on an error.

Tomanek limited Detroit to six hits.

Single games here today and tomorrow wind up the season for both clubs.

Hogan Scored for Passing Up U. S. Cup Team

Mangrum Fires Verbal Shrapnel at Star as Ryder Squad Leaves

NEW YORK (UP) — Lloyd Mangrum, the lean Texan who was wounded while fighting with the infantry in Europe in World War II, fired more verbal shrapnel at fellow Texan Ben Hogan before leaving for Britain with the rest of the U. S. Ryder Cup golfers.

Mangrum, team captain; Sam Snead and six other stars left Friday night by plane for their matches with Britain's top professionals at Wentworth, Eng., Oct. 22.

"I would say our chances are very good. But we will have to do the best we can without our best player — Mr. Hogan," Mangrum said sarcastically.

"He didn't give any reason to the players for not playing (in the Ryder Cup matches) but he may have given a reason to the PGA. I'm sure he had a good one," Mangrum added.

UCLA Trips Kansas' Tricky Split-T, 19-7

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The UCLA football team and coach Red Sanders heaved a sigh of relief today, now that they had met and defeated a determined split-T operating Kansas Jay-Hawker eleven.

The Uclans, running into surprising trickery, won, 19-7, but not before their admirers had begun to wonder if their No. 4 pre-season national ranking in the Associated Press poll was correct.

In the end, overall reserve strength, the running and punting of halfback Paul Cameron and the rushing of sophomore fullback Bob Davenport brought the winnig results.

Indoor Range Planned

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the Multi-Lakes Conservation Association's new indoor rifle and archery range will be held Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. Club President Harry Helvey will be in charge of the ceremonies, which will be folowed by a work bee.

The St. Louis Browns did not win a game in Cleveland during the 1953 baseball season. They dropped all 11 contests.

Top-Ranked Irish, Sooners Collide in No. 1 Contest

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The college football season swings into high gear today with at least one meeting of pre-season titans, a couple of long streaks on the line and the coaches still shuddering every time they think of the one-platoon system.

The big one of the day pits Notre Dame, ranked No. 1 in the pre-season poll of the Associated Press against Oklahoma at Norman. The Sooners, rated sixth in the forecast of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters, are seven-point underdogs.

Michigan State, with a 24-game winning streak, celebrates its entrance in the Big 10 race against Iowa at Iowa City. The Spartans, although weakened somewhat, still appear to have the speed and experience to drive through to the conference title. Iowa is improved, but not to the extent of seriously threatening Biggie Munn's charges.

Georgia Tech, which hasn't been beaten in 27 games, rates a six-point choice over Florida to extend its skein. Florida gave the Rambling Wrecks a good scare last year in bowing 17-14.

The first of the NCAA's "Games of The Week" national telecasts pits Dartmouth against Holy Cross at Lynn, Mass. Holy Cross has a quartet of fast-steppers in its backfield and rates an eight-point favorite.

The top intersectional clash of the program sends Minnesota of the Big 10 on a trip to Southern California.

Shamrocks Trip Fitzgerald, 27-20 for First Win

Quarterback Shindorf Scores Four Touchdowns in Pontiac Victory

Quarterback Russ Shindorf scored all four touchdowns Friday night as St. Michael won its first victory of the season, 27-20, over Fitzgerald High at Van Dyke.

The 6-foot 185-pound signal-caller registered two tallies on runs of 50 and 70 yards and added another pair on short quarterback sneaks, one of which he set up with a 50-yard sprint to the 1-yard line.

Danny Dropps kicked three conversions in four tries.

Shamrocks overcame a 13-13 halftime deadlock in the 3rd period, when a 70-yard march took them to the 1-foot line to enable Shindorf to slam over for the score. They scored again early in the finale, with Shindorf going 70 yards on the split-T give-or-keep option play.

Spartans scored single touchdowns in the 1st, 2nd and 4th periods.

Center Bob Schmidt and tackle Larry Maison turned in outstanding performances in the St. Michael line.

Four Rookies Lion Starters

Ane, Spencer, Schmidt, Carpenter Win Berths Against Steelers

DETROIT (UP) — Four rookies were listed as starters today for the Detroit Lions, who open defense of their National Football League title Sunday against the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Charley Ane and Oliver Spencer will hold down the tackle berths on the offensive platoon while Joe Schmidt will operate at linebacker and Lew Carpenter at halfback on the defensive team.

Ane, a 250-pounder, gave up a year of eligibility at Southern Cal to turn pro. Spencer, 230, was a 2-way player at Kansas. Schmidt's a rugged linebacker from Pitt, and Carpenter is a product of Arkansas.

Lions are favored by two touchdowns.

Crane Booters Lose

Cranbrook's School's soccer team lost its first game of the season Friday. Chatham High of Ontario administered the setback, 3-2, at Chatham.

Track championship hard-top race will be held Sunday afternoon at the Pontiac M-59 Speedway. The 50-lap feature race is expected to attract 50 drivers, who have competed at the track this summer.

Keego and Rochester Show Power, Holly Wins Again, Skippers, 'Jackets Lose

By JACK SAYLOR

Keego Harbor and Rochester displayed early-season power Friday in tumbling teams from the Inter-Lakes Conference.

Two Wayne - Oakland contests ended in ties, Southfield took the I-L league lead, Oxford ended a victory famine and Holly prolonged its streak in other action in the Oakland County area.

Jerry O'Shaunghnessy scored all three touchdowns as Keego shut out Walled Lake, 20-0. One came on a 35-yard pass play from his brother Lester. Rochester regulars saw limited action as the Falcons downed Farmington, 26-6.

Don Robertson went 22 yards for one tally, Max Powell, 27 and 10 for two, and Jerry LeBarre, four yards for the other.

Southfield became the Inter-Lakes leader by winning the only league game played, 6-0, over Waterford. Bill Long scored the touchdown on a four-yard run in the final quarter.

Milford and Clarenceville played a 7-7 standoff and Clarkston and Brighton were scoreless in W-O league games. Clarkston drove within the 15-yard line three times but were unable to push over.

Oxford was thwarted twice within the Clawson five, but tackle Larry Spencer broke through to block a punt and fall on it for a touchdown giving the Wildcats a 7-0 win. It was their first since the final game of the 1951 season.

Holly ran its winning streak to 12 games by routing Hartland, 40-6. Jerry Hunter and Dick Smith each tallied twice before reserves took over. Sophomores Dave Huber and Norm Valek accounted for the other TD's.

Lake Orion overcame a half-time deficit to defeat Avondale, 13-6. A blocked kick in the third period set up the winning marker, scored by Ed Leach on a 20-yard run. Avondale had one touchdown called back.

A green Lapeer team dropped its second straight, 7-0, to Howell and Romeo and Troy struggled to a 6-6 tie. Troy preserved the tie by holding Romeo on its one-yard line on the game's last play.

Utica extended its winning string to 14 straight by blanking South Lake, 28-0, and Port Huron's powerhouse rolled over Highland Park, 51-6, for the Big Reds' 21st in a row.

Berkley suffered a letdown after its big win over Ferndale and was whipped by Melvindale, 18-0, and in a meeting of two strong south county elevens, Royal Oak stopped Hazel Park, 14-0.

'M' Meets Coast 11 at Ann Arbor, MSC Rated Over Iowa

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan leaped into the college football wars here today against once-beaten University of Washington.

A crowd of about 55,000 was expected for the Wolverines' 1953 debut against the Pacific Coast team that lost both its halfbacks, Bill Albrecht and Mike Monroe, in its defeat 21-20 at the hands of Colorado a week ago.

Washington's new coach John Cherberg named 165-pound Bob Dunn, a sophomore, to replace Albrecht while regular Jack Kyllingstad started for Monroe.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan fielded practically an all veteran outfit at the start of his sixth season. Sophomore quarterback Louis Baldacci was at the helm.

SPARTANS FAVORED

IOWA CITY, Ia. (AP) — Michigan State, making its football debut in the Big Ten, ruled a 14-point favorite today over the Iowa Hawkeyes.

First meeting between the two teams was expected to attract a capacity 52,000 spectators. Spartans, coached by Biggie Munn, whose one-time assistant was Forest Evashevski, Hawkeye mentor, will be seeking their 25th consecutive victory.

Winning streak stretches back to 1950 and climaxed in 1952 when Michigan State was voted No. 1 nationally.

Iowa's hopes of pulling an upset — one which would shade the Hawkeyes 8-0 victory over Ohio State last year — rest mainly with a stout line.

OOPS! PARDON MY FOOT—Maples' Payson Chapman, carrying the ball on a first period dash in the wet Birmingham High—Cranbrook school grid tilt at Pierce Field Friday night, steps over a fallen Crane, Cranbrook's Pete Dawkins (32) failed to stop Chapman, on this play, but Maples scored a little later. Birmingham won 19-12.

Cranes Are Stubborn, but Maple Eleven Wins, 19-12

Birmingham High found Cranbrook a stubborn grid team Friday night at Pierce Field, but a short plunge in the first quarter and two long touchdown jaunts in the second half gave the Maples a 19-12 victory.

Tailback Tom Beck scored from the one-yard line in the last minute of the 1st quarter and Bill Watkinson added the extra point from placement. The 7-0 lead held to the half.

Early in the 3rd period, Payson Chapman scooted 55 yards for the Maples' second score, but Watkinson's kick was no good.

On the first play of the 4th period, fullback Dave Allen, transfer student from Pittsburgh, Pa., turned right end 80 yards for the final tally.

Both Cranbrook scores came in the final period and both were made by Joe Prendergast, who starred for the Cranes all night. He took a handoff and went 15 yards for the first one. He intercepted a pass and ran 60 yards for the other.

Maples journey to Mt. Clemens for their Eastern Michigan league opener next week, while Cranbrook entertains Lake Forest.

Titans Blast Wayne, 48-0

Tartar Backs Limited to 14 Yards Rushing Gain Friday

DETROIT (AP) — University of Detroit may be loaded for football bear this season.

At least it looked so last night as the Titans trampled the Wayne University Tartars 48-0, allowing Wayne backs a total rushing gain on only 14 yards.

That exhibition gave Detroit a total of 81 points in two games in which they have limited the opposition to six points and a grand total of 48 yards rushing. North Dakota State got six points and 34 yards a week ago.

Detroit was scheduled to take both games and the opposition certainly wasn't of Missouri Valley Conference calibre, but the Titans surprised themselves as well as their followers, just the same.

DETROIT	14	0	20	14	—48

Detroit scoring: touchdowns — Riley 2, Kline, Zambiasi, Flanagan, Burgmeier, Abel. Conversions—Zambiasi 4, Abel Gornak.

Big 'Melon' Big TV Audience for Game

LYNN, Mass. (AP) — Holy Cross and Dartmouth faced the happy prospect of dividing a $120,000 share of a national television revenue today as they waged their 22nd football clash here in Manning Bowl.

Those New England intercollegiate rivals moved into this manufacturing city because it was convenient to the NBC's video facilities. The game will have an 84-station TV hookup and, according to its sponsors, will be viewed by the largest television audience in intercollegiate football history.

Buckeye Mentor Gives OSU Edge Over Indiana

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Wayne (Woody) Hayes, Ohio State grid coach, admitted today he thought his Bucks "had a little edge' over Indiana's invaders in their Western Confernece inaugural.

"We feel that Indiana is improved over last year,' Hayes said, "but I believe we have just a little too much for 'em."

The Hoosiers and Bucks were slated to crack open the Big Ten more than 75,000 fans in the Ohio stadium.

Win Streak Broken

ADDISON (AP)—Little Morenci High School's 44-game winning streak, longest in Michigan football history, came to an end last night. Addison held Morenci to a 6-6 tie and all but won the game. Morenci, however, played without halfback Marcus Cisco, running star who gained 181 of its 283 yards a week ago. He was sidelined by a sprained ankle.

ROCHESTER HILLTOP HOME — On a hilltop at 6400 North Rochester Rd., Dale and Nina Martin planned and built their contemporary country home. Natural slope of the surrounding acreage gave them the opportunity to locate their home so as to get the most in view out of the scenic countryside. Fenced in, the front field provides pasture for their Morgan horses. The beige brick home measures about 67 by 50 feet and has three fireplaces. Built into the hill, the first floor contains two-car garage, recreation room, party kitchen, laundry and deep freeze rooms. A children's additional playroom is on this floor. Garage doors raise by radio control when cars approach the exterior.

background for LIVING

PINE BEAMS ACTIVITY LIVING ROOM — A slightly curved fireplace wall of Roman brick has a raised hearth for fireside "sitting" and for potted plants in the Martin activity living room. Floor of this perfect room for Sunday night entertaining and family fun is of soft blue and rose slate. Pine paneling covers the small wall section and forms the beams in the slightly sloped ceiling. Conversation note of this room is the indoor garden which runs on the south end and has luxuriant green plants. A small brick walk divides the indoor garden and provides access. Full-wall windows give this room a rolling hillside outdoor picture in all four-season splendor.

"Your Neighbor's House" . . . Just Outside Rochester

Dale and Nina Martin's Distinctive Home, Perched on a Hilltop, Reflects Beauty of Contemporary Styling

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

High on a five-acre hilltop site overlooking the Rochester village limits, Dale and Nina Martin chose to locate their new country home where Mother Nature and her four seasons could be watched at all times.

Standing at the peak of the long slope at 6400 North Rochester road, the Martins' 12-room contemporary home has wide windows facing in all directions.

Constructed of beige Roman brick, the two-car garage and first floor of the house are built into the hill. Entrance to the second floor is either from the grade entrance or up a series of terraces and walks to the outdoor patio.

Entering from the back, the activity living room has a curved wall fireplace of red Roman brick. A raised hearth provides sitting space and also serves to hold green plantings. Ceilinged in pine beams, the same wood is used for complete wall paneling in this room.

Two full walls are spacious windows, one facing the exterior of the house and the other forming a partition between this and the formal living room.

The floor of this activity room is soft-hued blue and pink slate. At one end a long indoor garden has luxuriant green plantings. It is accessible by a center brick walk.

In the living room, a fireplace wall of Tennessee ledge-rock serves as a foil for the natural birch wood paneling used in the rest of the large room. One small wall section is in turquoise and cocoa brown print wallpaper.

Silk shantung draperies in turquoise were selected by Mrs. Martin and the cotton carpetign is in cocoa brown.

The Martins, commenting on their choice of wood paneling for most of the rooms said it is one way of taking care of your decorating problem for life.

"All it needs is an occasional waxing," said Mrs. Martin. The den, floored in cork tile, has cherry wood for paneling and a walltex ceiling. Adjacent to this is a satin-finished brown tiled bathroom.

The bedroom wing of the house has a master bedroom, young Andrea's bedroom and a strictly-for-a-boy bedroom for son Paul. Paul's room has California redwood for wall paneling and walltex ceiling.

The master bedroom is in turquoise, Andrea's room is decorated in gold and French blue.

Master bathroom adjacent to this is finished in burgundy and yellow tile with sliding frosted glass doors on the bath wing.

Facing one wall in the bedroom section is a full-length cedar closet and all rooms have floor-to-ceiling wardrobes.

No painted walls are used in the colorful kitchen. Marolite wall sections provide the yellow and blue color scheme, with all counters and work areas in stainless steel. One end of the kitchen, separated by a cupboard bar, is a dining area with full window view of the rolling countryside. Maple cupboards highlight this room.

First floor, besides the garage, has a large L-shaped recreation room with native fieldstone fireplace. Floor of this room is tiled with inserted patterns for shuffleboard and other floor games.

Forming a complete entertaining unit with the recreation room is a party kitchen which also is paneled in pine. This has a stove, refrigerator and storage cabinets. Adjacent to this is the laundry room and the cold storage room.

Ceiling radiant heat is used in this 50 by 67½ foot house.

In selecting materials for their home, the Martins chose durable, easily cared for tile, stone, brick and wood paneling.

"Our home was planned for our two children, their friends and our friends. Part of the enjoyment of a house is in being able to share it with other people. This style home provides such varied recreation possibilities, entertaining is fun for us," said Mrs. Martin.

Saturday and Sunday night suppers are regular events in the Martin home with the activity living room their favorite "company" spot.

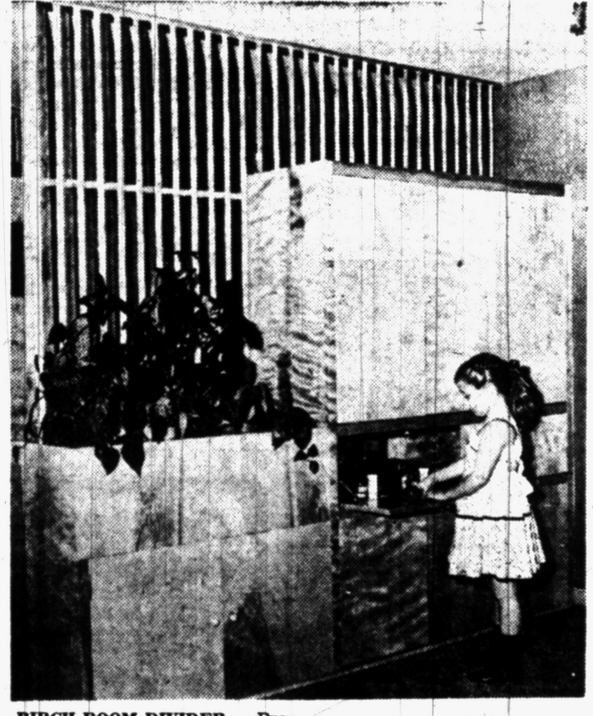

By locating their house at the head of their hill, the Martins are able to use their fenced in slopes for their Morgan horses. A red barn at the back of their property completes their country living unit.

LIVING ROOM—One complete wall of Tennessee ledgerock contains the fireplace in the Martin living room. The other wall is of natural birch paneling and tones of cocoa brown and turquoise provide color highlights for this interesting room. Glass windows form the partition between the activity living room and this formal living room, giving an added illusion of spaciousness.

BIRCH ROOM DIVIDER — Providing a partition cutting up floor space is the birch room divider used in the Martin living room. A louvered screen of the birch wood tops the built-in cabinet which is actually a linen drawer and desk combination. Built-ins claim the Martins, require less furniture and allow more free floor area.

RECREATION ROOM — Native field stone provides the fireplace for this large L-shaped recreation room. Floor is in beige and brown tile with shuffleboard tiles inserted in the design. The pool table which had been in the Martin family for years dictated the recreation room design, said the Martins. Adjacent to this is the party kitchen complete with stove, refrigerator and cupboards. Pine paneling is used in this room.

FAMILY VIEWS COUNTRYSIDE — Family scene around a front window-grouping sees Nina Martin, daughter Andrea and son Paul, and Dale Martin enjoying an across-the-road wooded view from their hilltop home north of Rochester. This, said the Martins, is their favorite reading spot.

Place Shelves in Unused Old Doorway

If your remodeling plans call for the elimination of a doorway, you can put that saved space to good use by building in recessed shelves may be obtained by letting them project slightly and rounding the corners.

They will be sufficiently deep to hold books and other small articles and to display decorative articles.

Standard ¾-inch thick hardwood plywood with a solid lumber core is excellent for shelving. It can be edge banded or stained to match the plywood face, or left natural for a contrasting stripe. A sliding door to enclose the lower portion of the area will create storage space and add to the finished appearance.

Weatherstripping Will Cut Heating Costs by 24 Per Cent

How to get your house ready for next winter is going to be a problem. So many advertising men are going to be figuratively standing around kibitzing. This is because new products are being introduced—and reintroduced.

The home handyman is certain to put the local hardware dealer or building supply house on the spot by asking what product is the most important.

New heating plants are rated as X per cent efficient. Insulation is supposed to save you X dollars.

Weatherstripping, according to the University if Minnesota's Instiuture of Technolohy, Engineering Experiment Station, should cut your fuel bills by 24 per cent.

So weatherstripping is something you are going to pay for every month before you get it. You will pay for it in your fuel bills without realizing what you are doing.

If you like to pay fuel bills, you can save time for writing your checks by not reading this column.

But if your house already is weatherstripped, don't be too quick to smirk. When a stiff wind is blowing, hold a match or candle up to the edges or corners of your windows and doors to see how much your house leaks air. A need for renewed weatherstripping is not unusual.

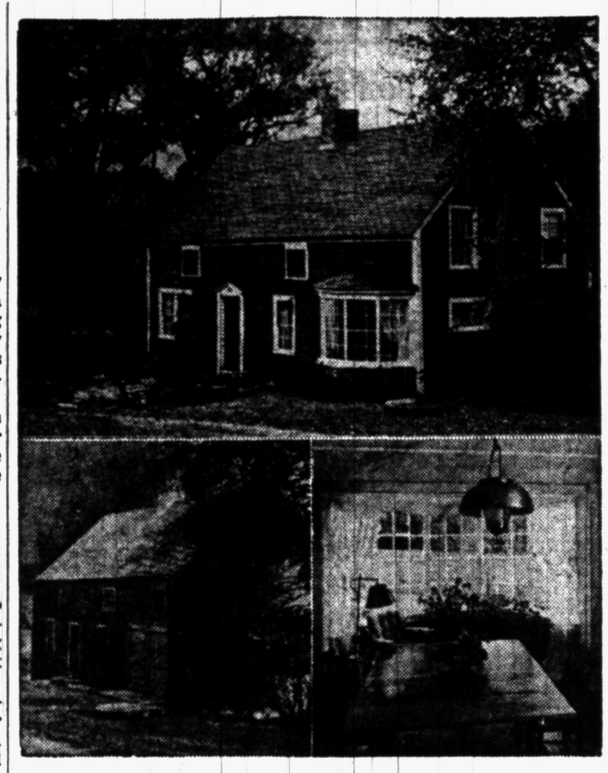

Interlocking metal weatherstripping—a costly installation—is generally conceded to be the best—when it's put in right.

In one case, this type was installed in a new house a few years ago. The job was done by professionals. Yet, the breeze that blows in at lower corners of the front door is enough to put goose flesh on your ankles.

The idea of weatherstripping, is to reduce air leakage around windows and doors. It's not a matter of hermetically sealing a house. It's just getting things down to who's boss—you, or the weather.

When you want ventilation you can get it, but you don't want to spend the winter with one window half open all the time time.

The Weatherstrip Research Institute says that ordinary windows are so loosely fitted that the clearance around the sashes is equal to a hole 4 inches square.

Sturdy Old Barn, Garage Can Become Fine Home

Sturdy old barns, garages — buildings of any kind, in fact — make comfortable homes if remodeling is intelligently planned and carried out.

The basic requirement is that the old structure be fundamentally sound in construction. When that is the case, skilled use of modern materials can convert the building into a fully satisfactory dwelling—often with the rich charm of age that cannot be acquired in any other way.

The old gristmill shown on this page is a prime example of how successful remodeling can be.

As featured the home has two bedrooms and bathroom on the second floor, living room and dining room on the ground floor, and studio-workshop, laundry, and storage area in the basement.

The exterior now has a roof of fire-resistant asphalt shingles, widely used for remodeling because they can be applied on top of most old materials, red paint on the walls and white trim.

A bow window took the place of the big barn-size doors of the old mill.

Much of the home's charm is due to its environment, and colors were chosen in character with the tree-shaded, streamside location.

With paint, colorful siding materials, and the wide range of solid and blended asphalt roofing colors, including pastel blends, color-styling in keeping with environment is possible with a house in any location.

Fall Inspection of Roof Gutters Recommended

During the autumn months, the experienced homeowner inspects his roof gutters frequently to make sure that they aren't in danger of being clogged by falling leaves.

If runoff water stands in gutters when cold weather comes, it can freeze and the ice can act as a dam, backing water up under shingle tabs to leak through the roof deck.

Chances of a leak of this kind will be minimized if gutters are kept clean and if the roofing material has been properly applied.

Recommendations for application of asphalt shingles, the most widely used roofing for houses, call for three extra layers of material — an "eaves flashing strip," a "metal drip edge" and a "starter course" — under the roofing at the eaves to give additional protection.

Consider First Use of a Chair

Individual Tastes Also to Be Considered When Selecting Style

The primary consideration in selection of a chair for the home or office is its use.

The dining chair needs one thing to fulfill its job, the office chair something else. The lounge chair has its qualities, the reception room chair its own.

Styling of each of these chairs varies with individual tastes, of course. But the chair's use dictates the design and furniture manufacturers constantly are seeking new ways to make each chair fit its particular assignment.

That's why one Chicago metal furniture manufacturer recently changed the styling of its office and reception room chairs by flaring the rear legs, making them extend beyond the back of the chair.

One of the important factors in the use of such chairs is their closeness to room walls, which frequently may be marred when the chair backs are pushed against them.

But the problem is solved and the arm and side chairs used in offices and reception rooms are made more useful by the flaring of the rear legs.

It's known as "wall saver" design because the rear legs touch the baseboard and prevent the chair back from coming in contact with the wall.

Painted or papered surfaces and plaster thus are protected against damage in business areas where the slightest wall mars may reflect upon the company itself.

But in addition to being utilitarian, flaring of the chairs' rear legs actually is in keeping with the modern, streamlined office furniture trend. It lends even more graceful lines to the square tubular steel designs employed in the latest metal furniture.

A one-car driveway should be at least 8 feet wide. Minimum width for a two-car drive is 15 feet.

Home Building Falls Below '52

With Mortgage Credits Short, This Year Is Due to Slow Up

An unusual summertime lull in home building, caused mainly by nationwide shortages of mortgage credit, is preventing 1953 from becoming another record housing year.

But the latest government reports make it a sure bet that this will be the third or possibly fourth best housing year in history with more than a million new dwellings in production.

A Federal Reserve Board survey early this year showed that Americans planned to buy 1,800,000 new homes in 1953, about 400,000 more units than were built in the record year of 1950.

This prediction will not materialize on the basis of the August home building report of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Tight credit policies adopted by major lending institutions and uncertainty over housing prospects are mainly responsible for the change.

BLS reports another two per cent decline in home building in August, the fourth straight month of moderate production decreases. The 94,000 units started last month compare with 96,000 in July and 103,000 in June.

So far this year, builders have started 769,800 new houses and apartments, just slightly more than the 767,500 reported for the first eight months of 1952.

However, it seems doubtful that output the rest of this year will match the same four months in 1952 when the industry experienced a sharp upturn in building due to the lifting of government controls.

For this reason, total volume this year is expected to fall below the 1,127,000 units started in 1952 and total between the 1,025,100 unit reported for 1949 and the 1,091,300 in 1951.

While further decreases in production are in prospect, officials believe they will be moderate since Federal Housing Administration and GI loan operations are still running at high rates.

Last month, more than 31,000 home loan applications poured into Veterans Administration offices, 5,800 more filings than the number recorded for July.

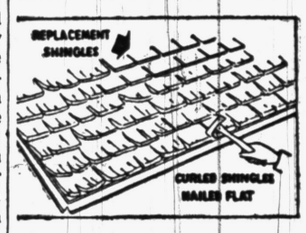

FHA new construction applications jumped from 20,660 in July to 23,900 in August. This included 8,700 co-operative housing units.

Officials caution that these increases probably are temporary due to the expiration of certain sections of the housing law. However, they are hoping they will foreshadow an easing of the credit situation.

Put New Roof Over Old One for Economy

If your house needs a new roof, consider the economical method of laying a new roof on top of the old one.

Asphalt shingles, a colorful material which enhances the attractiveness of older dwellings, are customarily used for this purpose.

The method saves the expense of tearing the wornout roofing off and retains the insulation value of the old material.

The old surface, however, must first be smoothed to serve as a firm nailing base. To do this, it is necessary to replace missing and rotted shingles with new ones, split curled shingles and nail the segments down, and renail loose shingles in new nail locations.

Most fruits have better flavor and texture if allowed to mature on the tree.

Paneling Is Made to Match Doors

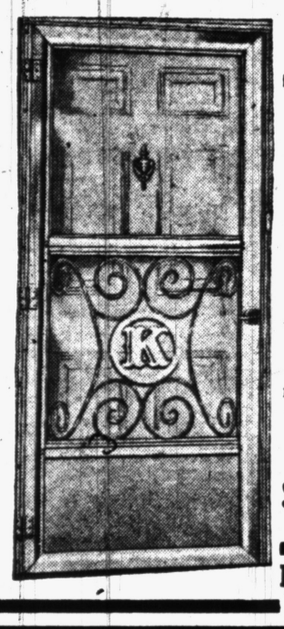

The current popularity of flush doors, more than eight million of which are being sold each year, has influenced many home builders to finish interior walls with hardwood plywood paneling, home stylists report.

The paneling can be obtained to match the doors, thus making possible a continuos sweep of attractive wood area.

Maintain Your Plantings

Years of Care in Nursery Gave Them Proper Start

Nurserymen have heatbreak when homeowners purchase plants that have been nurtured in the nursery for two to ten years, and then neglect to care for them after they plant them on their grounds.

"When plant purchasers do this it is just like buying any living thing and then giving it nothing to eat or drink," says Dr. Richard P. White, executive secretary of the American Association of Nurserymen; "or buying a beautiful piece of decorative furniture and not maintaining it."

According to Dr. White, the first essential for healthy plants on the home property is to plant them according to instructions of your local nurseryman as soon after purchase as possible.

If you can't plant them immediately keep them in a cool, moist place where they will not dry out.

Drying out is the worst thing that can happen to plants before they are set in the ground.

If you cannot plant them upon receipt, or within 24 hours after delivery, the safest way to keep them healthy is to "heel" them in the ground. To do this simply dig a small trench, lay the roots in it, and cover the root system with soil. Next water them.

They will keep this way without harm for several weeks, until you are ready to plant.

Watering is extremely important after plants are set in the ground. Water copiously when first setting them out, and for a month thereafter. After the first month, water as often as the soil becomes dry, at least once every week or two, unless there is plenty of natural rainfall. During any period of drouth, regular and thorough soaking of the soil at the roots is necessary if the plant is to remain healthy.

"Often when plants die in the colder months of the year," Dr. White says, "it is because they have not been watered sufficiently during the previous hot weather months, especialy if there have been extended dry periods.

Many varieties of plants usually set their buds in the summertime.

Lack of water as well as fertilizer at that time may cause them to flower less profusely or not at all the following season."

Ceiling 'Visibility' Depends on Color

Too-low ceilings can be made to seem higher by painting them in white or a very light tint.

Too-high ceilings can be "visually lowered" by painting them in a darker color. Often, the selection of the same color that is used on the walls will do the trick.

Still another decorative device for "lowering" a ceiling is to carry the ceiling color down the walls for several inches. The eye accepts the dividing line as the ceiling height.

Teeners Affect House Planning

Informal, Multi-Purpose Rooms Made to Order for Youngsters' Romp

Teenagers are now doing things to architecture and our houses. To believe this (except for wear and tear) may be difficult for some of the youngsters' critics. But there is plenty of evidence. And this evidence may be of value to you if you are planning a new house or a remodeling job.

Consider the number of house plans you see nowadays with so-called multi-purpose rooms. These rooms are virtually second living rooms. Often they include a fireplace.

Frequently they are paved with asphalt tile for heavy usage. Informality is their keynote—something like the rumpus room of prohibition days.

Well, authorities blame — or credit — the rambunctious teenagers for bringing about the multi-purpose room, for spurring the demand for finished basements and finished attics, for indirectly selling a lot of tough-wearing floor coverings and acoustical ceiling materials.

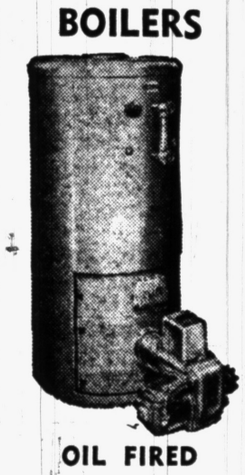

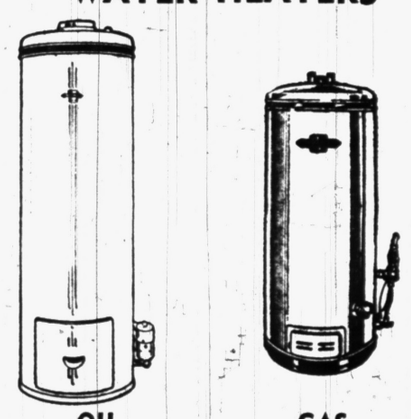

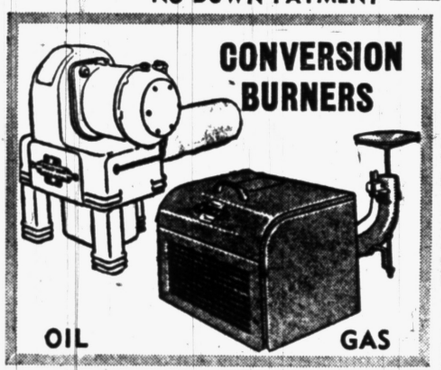

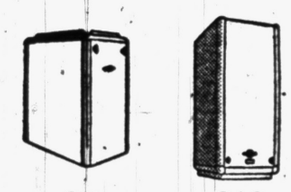

For instance, one expert contends that teenagers "will gather wherever they're made welcome —to sing, dance, hear music, talk and generally express their health and high spirits—whether it's a roadhouse or your own home."

Wood, Copper Shown for '54

Next Year's Kitchens Will Feature Natural Theme, Show Indicates

The stylish '54 kitchen will have natural wood cabinets, brass or copper accessories and a cocoa or yellow color scheme.

It will also have room for baby.

At least, that's the main theme of the kitchen ideas being displayed at the current fifth annual National Home-furnishings Show in New York.

The move toward natural wood cabinets, with the wood grain clearly displayed, was almost unanimous among kitchen exhibitors. In most cases, the cabinets featured black wrought iron hardware in early American designs instead of the usual shiny chrome knobs.

Brass and copper gleamed in every kitchen setting, even if only in a pot hung on the wall. Several exhibitors used stoves or set-in ovens in "antique copper" finish. Brass was seen most as the edging and back-splash trim to work counters.

The counters themselves, like floor linoleum, wall paint or paper and drapes, were mostly cocoa—a light, cheerful cocoa—or bright jonquil yellow.

And most of the kitchens shown had space for family living—with emphasis on the younger members of the family. All provided room for children's chairs and playthings. Some had built-in extension gates to keep toddlers under the eye but away from the stove.

Record Fire Year: 1951

Large-loss fires are defined by the National Fire Protection Association as fires that cause damage in excess of $250,000. The record year for large-loss fires was in 1951 when there were 302, closely followed by 275 in 1952 with an aggregate loss of $182,243,000.

From This . . .

City trucks enter a slum-area street to move 50 families from this squalor to a new life . . .

. . . to This

. . . in the new Llorens Torres Housing Development, a group of low-rent apartments.

SLUMS ON THE WAY OUT — Slums are on their way out in Puerto Rico, as the Commonwealth sets an example with municipally owned housing. Fifty families from the blighted areas of San Juan have already moved into the huge, ultra-modern, low-cost Llorens Torres housing project. They are the first of more than 10,000 low-income persons who shortly occupy the 80-acre, 2640-apartment development. Each unit has a living room, kitchen, bathroom and one to four bedrooms. Rents range from $4-$20 a month, with the average around $9 per unit. Applicants are screened by public housing officials and tenants are selected on the basis of income and need. Play areas, shopping facilities, schools, churches, a nursery and transportation plan have been included in the housing project.

Utility Is Primary Goal in Landscape Plantings

Modern landscaping is designed for utility, family comfort and beauty, by contrast to the formality and stiffness of landscaping in the early part of the century.

Practically extinct are the grotesque forms of hedges, statuary, and similar adornments of former years, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

Today the emphasis is on use, with more enjoyable outdoor living, natural plantings that create the illusion of more spacious grounds than actually may exist.

Even a small property of 50x125 feet, can be planted to create the feeling of open vista, privacy and comfortable use and extraordinary pains are taken by landscape nurserymen to achieve that effect.

Hedges screen clothes lines and work areas. Lawn space with border plantings hide neighboring houses and the creation of park-like areas for play and entertaining are much in vogue.

Here are a few pointers on landscaping:

1. Consider the whole property to be landscaped as a problem in art and design, rather than the purchase of so many plants.

2. Obtain advice from your landscape nurseryman on what you hope to accomplish, as well as how to go about reaching your goal.

3. Seek variety in the color and form of your plantings, both of foliage and flower.

4. If you do not find it convenient to plant all at once, plant one area at a time in finished form, rather than scattering your plantings so the property never looks finished. Expert advice at the start is cheaper in the long run, may save considerable sums in later years.

Plant for beauty and use to make your property a source of family pleasure and pride, with plenty of flowers like roses and other perennials, for home cut flowers.

The ultimate test of expert landscaping is the feeling, "What a lovely home setting!"

No Snagged Hose

Metal furniture has proved a clothing saver to the secretary. That's because the smooth surfaces of square or smooth surmetal furniture won't chip or splinter, thus eliminating the danger of snagging expensive stockings and dresses on office chairs or desks.

Insulated Fabrics Hung at Window Hold Back Cold

Insulated decorative prints for draperies are now available to homes and public buildings.

Called weatherfoil, an aluminum backing is applied directly to the colorful printed chintz. When drawn as curtains, either pleated or plain across glass areas, they serve as storm windows to keep out cold and by reflecting back the sun reduce interior daytime summer heat.

Hitherto, this means of "air conditioning" rooms by window curtains has been possible only through use of a separate weatherfoil lining. These had to be stitched to prints before they were hung at the windows.

New Stripping Strong, Flexible

Wool Pile Embedded in Plastic Gives Wearing Qualities

Now a new kind of flexible, easy-to-apply weatherstripping is being distributed through retail stores. Designed along the lines of the window seals used on modern automobiles, it relies on a wool pile to keep the weather out.

Instead of this wool pile—like a dense brush—being embedded in a metal strip as it is in automobiles and airplanes, it is sealed in a flexible, narrow plastic strip. Ivory colored, this plastic strip is indented for tack holes at regular intervals and tacks of a matching color are supplied.

In the past, the main objection to flexible versus metal weatherstripping has been that flexible forms are bound to wear out in time. The handyman undoubtedly is prepared for this. Knowing the most of metal types and the difficulty of proper installation, he is likely to settle for an efficient flexible job for as long as it lasts.

EXTRA STORAGE—If there are 12 lazy inches between the end of the studio couch and the wall, there's room for this piece of furniture. It's an end table with a bookshelf and a bedding bin that really puts that waste space to work, and you can make it yourself. A lumber dealer can cut the parts of the end-table storage bin for you of ¾-inch plywood, and his accurate cutting makes the rest easy. But first you must determine the exact measurements of the pieces you need by measuring the studio couch—the top of the bin should be at couch level and the shelf above it should be as high as the bolsters, or chair arm high. Since couches and bolsters vary in height, no measurements except your own can be right. Take this drawing, with the measurements, to the lumber dealer. Plan to hinge the front of the bin so it opens outward and down.

Winter Comfort Means Combating Indoor Foes

Making a house comfortable in winter would seem to be simply a matter of waging war against the outside weather. Cold, dampness, wind, snow and ice outdoors are enemies to be combatted by heating the house.

Winter comfort, however, depends on much more than a large heat output from furnace or boiler. It means, also, combating the indoor enemies of comfort as well as those outdoors.

(1) Usually it is a room or two, not the whole house, that tend to get overheated. Thermostats that regulate the heat supply are sometimes located in a drafty front hall or in a cold corner and so demand more heat constantly. When this is added to the sun heat pouring into rooms on the south and west sides of the house, overheating is inevitable.

Locate your thermostat in a more neutral position. A frequent reason for overheating in older houses is a lack of insulation in walls and roof, weather-stripping or storm sash on windows and doors.

The heat loss is so continual that the heating system has to keep going because the house would turn chilly if it didn't. A system which can be thermostaically regulated to turn on frequently but only for short runs will avoid overheating.

(2) Drafts are caused by warm air currents meeting cool air. The solution is use of new registers, convectors and baseboard heating equipment which diffuse warm air gently, often providing a blanket of warm air across windows and outside walls.

Low-temperature radiant heating panels minimize drafts, too. Wall and window insulation, calking of cracks and joints, and the use of weather-stripping also help.

(3) For the interior that is too dry, a humidifying device which adds moisture to the heating system and a humidistat control can be installed. New forced warm air heating systems and year-round air conditioning systems include means for humidifying the air.

(4) Cleanliness is an increasingly important factor in winter comfort. One of the chief appeals of year-round air conditioning is its elimination of dirt and soot through a dust-catching filter.

An electronic air filter, attached to a heating system, does an even more complete housekeeping job. Proper insulation of exterior walls and roof will also help to some extent by preventing the passage of dust-laded air currents through walls and ceiling.

(5) When rooms seem chilly, the cause is seldom the heater itself since it is usually selected with a capacity to meet the coldest weather. But cold, uninsulated walls, windows and floors draw warmth from you even if the air temperature is high.

New baseboard heating, warm air perimeter heating and radiant panel heating of walls, ceilings or floors warm these surfaces directly so they don't cool you or the air around you.

(6) In a house that has spotty heating, several rooms usually face cold north winds while other rooms on the south and west get sun heat. It is difficult for a single thermostat to balance the opposite demands from such rooms. The solution is zone control.

Warm or cool parts of the house become separate branches of the heating system with individual thermostats to deliver heat according to different needs. Zone heating can also save fuel. Heat can be reduced in a bedroom wing which is unused during the day while the rest of the house maintains normal temperature.

(7) Outmoded, space-wasting equipment, found in older houses, makes a more indirect but no less personal assault on comfort. Outmoded, space-consuming furnaces and boilers, dust-catching, old-fashioned radiators and heating pipes need constant care, steal floor and wall space.

Use Ingenuity to Dress Up Front Entrance

Even the most modest entrance offers the ingenious individual his chance for his own "signature."

A bare stoop can be dressed up with a wooden lattice screen on one side, or a light-weight wooden arch as a backdrop for climbing roses or greenery.

A planter, made of the same siding as the home, can be used effectively on two sides of an unroofed porch entrance. Some designers get the full warmth of wood by finishing the siding in the entranceway in natural color with any of the clear varnishes.

This contrasts beautifully with the painted Douglas fir, West Coast hemlock, or western red cedar siding of the rest of the house.

Concern Grows in Lending Field

U. S., Industry Expected to Tackle Problem of Less Home Building

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower's Advisory Committee on Housing meets next week amid signs that government and industry soon will make a concerted effort to stem the drop in home production.

Housing chief Albert M. Cole planned to call the committee to Washington after bluntly warning private lenders to expect federal action to ease credit unless they show a greater interest in the problem.

Cole's statement to the American Bankers Association won the approval of the National Association of Home Builders which has blamed a four-month drop in housing output on tight credit policies.

The reaction of bankers was more subdued. Most claimed the supply of money is adequate to meet present demands. But there was evidence Cole hit a responsive note and the lenders will try to be more cooperative.

A housing expert said he thought there was "a real recognition of the problem" by the lending fraternity. He commented: "I would say over the long pull the housing situation will gradually improve but I can't say with certainty that it is indisputedly happening now."

ABA members said they were concerned over Cole's threat of direct government action and indicated they will take a fresh look at their own operations in the housing field.

Some said higher interest rates might help but NAHB officials said they are firmly opposed to such a move on the grounds that it would force builders to concentrate on higher-priced homes.

There seemed to be some agreement that housing production will remain at low levels at least until early 1954. Even if there were favorable building weather, heavy business demands for credit would block any sizable increase in financing for housing.

After Christmas, bankers said they honestly believed the situation would show great improvement. About this same time Cole's 20-man committee is expected to report to the president.

Most experts see in Cole's ABA speech an implied threat of pumping more millions of dollars into a program of direct government lending or the Federal National Mortgage Association (Fanny Mae).

For a number of years, Fanny Mae acted as a primary source of mortgage funds for GI and Federal Housing Administration loans, although its mission was to supplement and not command the mortgage market.

Since it has stopped buying home loans at the tremendous rates of the early Korean periods, there has been a continuous shortage of financing throughout the country.

Officials point out that a decision to revive Fanny Mae would certainly affect the Eisenhower administration's plan to balance the budget. But builders feel that a rise in unemployment caused by lower housing output would get over-riding consideration.

Imperfect Flashing Often Causes Leaks

Leaks around windows and doors may often be traced to improperly applied or deteriorated flashing — or to poorly fitted boards in the area surrounding the trim.

Flashing, preferably of a nonferrous metal, should be included at the top of windows and doors. It should extend from the sheathing under the building paper out to — and over — the drip cap of the door or window. Flashing at the bottom offers an added amount of protection.

Covering of Hardboard Restores Old Shutters

When old wooden shutters start creaking and falling apart, they may be salvaged for many years' service by covering them with hardboard.

Square up the framework and leave the louvers. Cut tempered pressed wood one-quarter inch Masonite to the exact size of the framework.

Bevel the edges lightly and attach the panels with brass screws applied through drilled holes. The hardboard will keep the framework square.

Either cut a design, such as a squirrel, bird, deer or ship, in the upper third of the panel, or fashion your design from a spare piece of hardboard for gluing on the panel with waterproof glue. Designs are easily cut with a jig saw or scroll saw.

Apply a prime coat to both sides of the shutter panels and decorations, then add a finish coat or two.

If the decoration is to be superimposed on the panel, paint it a contrasting color.

Square Tubular Steel Styling Suited to Office

One reason metal furniture is used more widely in business and institutional interiors nowadays is the introduction of square tubular steel styling.

Interior designers say square tubing, with its satin chrome or plastelle enamel finish, fits more readily into virtually any surroundings than does round tubing with bright chrome finish. Round tubing still is in good style, however, if used in the proper atmosphere.

Trees are used on the home property for shade, to frame views, to provide points of interst, as screens, and to provide backgrounds and windbreaks.

Swan Rocker Simple to Make

Just Follow Pattern to Create Beautiful Toy for Small Fry

With modern materials and tools it is far easier to make beautiful toys at home than it was in Grandfather's day. Just trace this actual-size pattern on plywood and cut out the graceful lines of the pair of swans.

If you do not have a band saw or a jig saw, mark the outlines on the material and take it to your nearest woodworker who will saw it out while you wait.

It is a quick and easy job to put the rocker together with screws after all the parts are cut out.

Every step is shown on pattern 219, and the price is only 25 cents postpaid.

If you are in a hurry to make this swan rocker, include 2 cents for first-class mail, or 5 cents for airmail. Pattern will be mailed the day order is received.

Decorative Variety Adds to Friendly Atmosphere

Another device used by the imaginative designer or home owner to catch that friendly atmosphere around the entrance is in decorative variety. White walls blend into soft pastels in the entryway.

Striking effects can be attained with variation in paint colors on trim, ceiling and inner walls of the entrance.

Store Inflammable Fluids in Fireproof Cupboard

Burns and explosions account for one out of every three deaths of children under five years of age in the United States.

Wise householders store matches, cleaning fluids, and other inflammables in fireproofed cupboards well out of the reach of youngsters.

EASY TO LOOK AT — Here's a room as easy to look after as to look at—for everything in it requires only quick and easy soap-and-water care. Organdy at window, dressing table, and dust ruffle is permanently crisped so it needs no starch. A special shirring tape permits ruffles to be spread out for washing and ironing "on the flat." Embossed glazed chintz, and the ball fringe which sets it off, are both naturals for the wash tub. The cotton carpet is shampooable—and even the white shantung-textured window shade can be sponged with warm soapsuds.

Tile Limits Fires

Authorities in the construction field are generally agreed that the finished basement, with walls and floors surfaced in fireproof material like tile, is the least likely to be a source of destructive blazes.

Paint Illusions Make Rooms' Looks Vary

The right colored paint in the right place will do wonders for a room.

If a room seems too long, in proportion to its width, you can make the end walls come closer by painting them in a color that's darker than the side walls.

On the other hand, if a room is too nearly square to be visually interesting, you can apparently lengthen it by painting the end walls in a lighter color than the other two.

Because of Its Lines

Fine furniture is ageless, and American Traditional, because of its pure lines and the intermediate tones of the finish, can be blended with furniture you already have, providing a touch of fresh interest for your home.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q.—How should paint be mixed for use in a spray gun?

A.—Paint for a spray gun should be thinner than paint to be applied by brush. Generally, paint that has the consistency of thin oil is about right for a gun.

Uniform consistency is important, too. Unmixed pigment will stick in a fine nozzle tip.

After thorough stirring, continue the mixing process by pouring the paint back and forth from one can to another.

Q.—I heat my house with gas and, consequently, my chimney doesn't shoot out sparks. Is fire-resistant roofing still necessary for safety?

A—Yes. Sparks from outside sources are as much a threat as ever. Brush fires and bonfires shoot up sparks which can be carried long distances by the wind.

Fire-resistant asphalt shingles are suggested for protection from the flying-spark hazard.

Q.—The electrical circuits in my house are of 15-ampere capacity. How can I determine the amperage of appliances and electric light bulbs in order not to overload the circuit?

A.—To find the ampere-consumption of an electrical device, divide watts by volts. For example, a 660-watt appliance on a 110-volt circuit will use 6 amperes.

A 100-watt bulb will consume slightly less than 1 ampere. For a 15-ampere circuit, total ampere-consumption can't be more than 15.

Q.—How can calcimine be removed?

A.—Calcimime will wash off if warm water is used. A weak solution of household ammonia usually will make the job go faster. On particularly stubborn spots, scrub with a wire brush.

Q.—If cement has been spilled on wood, how can it be removed?

A.—Cement will not adhere to wood. It can usually be scraped off with a putty knife or a similar tool. If care is taken, the surface of the wood will not be harmed.

Check Your Fireplace for Fire Hazards

A fireplace brings the family joy only when the fire it holds is not dangerous.

Be sure that the chimney is well insulated from wood supports of the house; that the hearth of fireproof clay tile extends far enough into the room to protect furnishings from sparks; and that there is a shield over the chimney to prevent the roof from igniting.

Wood Entrance Shouts 'Hello'

Doorway to Dwelling Given 'Smile Appeal' and Warmth

The warm friendliness of wood is being exploited today by architects and designers to create home entrances with a "smile appeal." The natural beauty of wood makes it the ideal material to project the personality and individuality of the home.

We've come a long way from the bearskin hung over the cave entrance, one leading home designer suggests, but too many people still are just putting hinges on the tepee flap.

The entrance should set the pace for the rest of the home, these designers believe. It should breathe a welcome to the visitor. It should be light, cheerful and give off warmth of character, and it can have "smile appeal" when designed of wood.

It is easy to get the feeling of cherful living and genuine welcome because wood is so flexible and easily handled it lends itself to hundreds of original designs, treatments and finishes.

The trend towards the personal home, with the individuality of the family developed in many pleasing and unique ways, begins with the entrance.

A good entrance can actually save the owner money. The glass on either side of the charming, three-panel entrance door not only says "Hello" in a friendly sort of way, but lights up the inner hall.

Western red cedar exterior walls blend beautifully into the glass of the entrance area, illustrating the adaptability and flexibility of wood.

There is an easy grace about this entrance design which points up some of the finer features of wood. This is a home one never forgets.

Wood Is Trimmed With Stainless Steel

Stainless steel is the newest metallic trim. So far, it is used chiefly to accent the color and grain of wood, and its silvery glitter is particularly effective against the new honey-toned light woods. One new cabinet has set-in panels of stainless steel sheeting tooled for design accent.

There is a bright side to this metallic trend in more ways than one. Women buying a brass-tipped table or even a copper stove don't have to worry about the polishing job.

Manufacturers are covering the metals with lacquer, enamel and other protective coatings which guarantee a perpetual gleam that doesn't need polishing.

Easy-to-Clean Furniture Gains in Popularity

Increasing popularity of metal furniture is due in part to its ease of maintenance.

The new square tubular steel furniture, with its satin chrome or plastelle enamel finish, needs only dusting or occasional polishing with a damp rag and dry, soft cloth to keep it looking new for years.

Treasury Halts Series B Sales

Sec. Humphrey Orders Lower Interest Rates on Savings Notes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury has ordered lower interest payments on one type of government security, setting the stage for a demonstration that its "flexible" money policy can lead to cuts as well as boosts in interest rates.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey last night halted sale of two-year Treasury savings notes, which since May 11 have been carrying an interest rate of 2.47 per cent.

This "Series B" will be replaced on Oct. 1, Humphrey said, by a new series "with interest rates revised downward to reflect recent changes in the government securities market."

That was the entire official explanation of a Treasury move which reverses a steady seven-month rise of interest rates to the highest level in about 20 years. The climb has affected the cost of private borrowing.

Administration aides said the decision implies no basic shift to an "easier money" policy. They said it simply demonstrates the treasury's "flexible" program, under which interest rates will be kept just high enough to attract buyers for its securities.

Jaguar Cars Ltd., of Coventry, Eng., announced today price reductions in sports cars of as much as $889.00. Models effected immediately by the new U. S. price schedules are the open sports car, sport convertible and hard-top coupe.

Livestock

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO (AP)—Salable hogs 200, total 3,000; compared week ago: Barrows and gilts 25-50 higher, most advance on weights under 200 lbs; sows 25-50 higher, most advance on weights over 325 lbs. The crop of barrows and gilts again comprised a very large proportion of light-weights scaling mostly 180-230 lbs with the week's average weight or barrows and gilts at a light 211 lbs. However, there was relatively little in the run below 190 lbs and very few butchers over 240 lbs. Percentage of sows in receipts also showed a seasonal decrease. At the close the market top stood at 25.75, highest price paid here in a month. The price was paid today for several loads choice butchers weighing from 220 to as heavy as 270 lbs by both order buyers and packers. Most choice 190-250 lb barrows and gilts closed at 25.25-25.75, mainly 25.40 and above on weights over 220 lbs. Reduced numbers of choice 160-180 lb lights closed at 23.50-25.25 according to weight. Most sows in larger lots weighing 400 lbs down closed at 23.00-24.00, a few 300 lbs and lighter to 24.25 and bulk 400-550 lb weights 22.00-23.25.

Trapped Miners Escape Through Adjoining Shaft

TIMMINS, Ont. (AP)—Thirty gold miners trapped underground more than six hours by a surface explosion at the Coniarum mine near here reached ground level safely today on the elevator of an adjoining mine.

Some of them were caught nearly a mile underground when a blast of two compressed air tanks destroyed their own elevator and damaged the upper part of the mine shaft.

Unhurt by the explosion, the miners climbed slowly up a ladder from the lower depths to the 3,000-foot level underground, where a passageway connects with the adjoining McIntyre mine. They came up the rest of the way on the McIntyre's elevator.

The McIntyre is one of the gold mines closed down by a strike of 5,000 miners that has tied up seven major gold producers in the area. But a non-union maintenance man was on hand to operate the elevator that brought the trapped miners to safety. The Coniaurum mine is not affected by the strike.

Secretary Humphrey Sued for $112,500

CLEVELAND (AP)—A personal injury suit asking $112,500 damages from Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey was filed in Common Pleas Court yesterday by Mrs. Thelma Pierce of suburban Moreland Hills.

Mrs. Pierce was injured in an auto accident involving her station wagon and Humphrey's car in Hunting Valley April 19, last year. Humphrey's home is in Kirtland Hills, another Cleveland suburb.

The woman's petition said her right leg was amputated when it developed a bone disease after the accident. The leg and her right arm were broken in the collision.

She contended Humphrey's car was in the center of the road as he drove over the crest of a hill and declared he was traveling at an excessive speed and failed to exercise ordinary care.

Oldest Human Sculptures Discovered Near Jericho

JERUSALEM (UP) — As if arranged by a Hollywood producer; the final phase of two years of excavations in Jericho was climaxed by a discovery whose implications extend far beyond the confines of Near Eastern archeology.

The oldest known specimens of human sculpture was unearthed between two walls under the floor of a house. They were found about 10 yards beneath the present surface of a mound composed of successive layers of different sites of human habitation not far from Jericho.

The sculpture discovered by members of a joint excavating team from the American School of Oriental Research in Jerusalem and the British School of Archeology dates back 7,000 years and consists of seven modeled heads.

Although specimens of older modeling exist, this is the first discovery leaving no doubt as to artistic distinction.

The heads show a great deal of technical skill. Each head possesses its own living individual expression. The heads were colored with some sort of pigment and the eyes fashioned of mother of pearl.

Although some older forms of sculpture were found near Lake Tiberias, these in no way approach the artistry of the Jericho heads.

The features on these heads are definitely not Semitic. The nose is straight and the firmly closed lips, thin. Archeologists have no idea yet as to the racial identity of the models from which these heads were fashioned.

Several miles to the west, on a jagged plateau crossed by ravines northwest of the Dead Sea, an ancient cemetery containing about 1,000 tombs has been uncovered by archeologists of the Palestine Archeological Museum, the French Archeological School of Jerusalem and the Jordan Department of Antiquities.

The skeletons discovered in a number of tombs already excavated have been judged by Prof. H. V. Vallois, director of the Musee de l'Homme in Paris, to have been those of persons representing the same racial element as that of the native Arabs of the region today.

Of eight skeltons first examined, two had died at the ages of 20 and 24, respectively, four around the age of 40 and others at around the age of 50.

According to Father R. de Vaux of the French Archeological School of Jerusalem, the ruined brick building, cisterns, pottery and the cemetery testify to the existence of a large Jewish community in the area just about the time of the birth of Christ.

In a valley about 11 miles south of this plateau and the ruined brick structure known as Khirbet Kumran, a number of scrolls and fragments of parchment and leather have come to light which the Jordan Department of Antiquities, regards of first rate importance.

Thousands of parchment fragments either in old jugs or covered by a film of the dust of 20 centuries already have been collected by archeologists and wandering nomands aware of the high prices such discoveries bring.

The most recent discoveries consist of fragments in Greek of the Gospels of Mark, and John and the Acts of the Apostles dating back to the fifth and seventh centuries.

A similar treasure for Bible scholars consists of fragments of scrolls in the Syriac language spoken by Jesus and the Apostles, of the books of John, Luke, the Acts of the Apostles and the Epistle of Paul to the Colossians.

Together with the latter are parts of the book of Joshua and a letter written by a monk — both also in the Syriac tongue.

Of the scrolls discovered, 77 have been identified as Old Testament books, 39 of which are complete.

The rest are religious commentaries and theological studies in Aramaic and Hebrew.

New York Senator Opposes Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ives (R-NY) said today he opposes a proposal by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) to enlarge the Senate Republican Policy Committee by including chairmen of all standing committees.

President Eisenhower's Senate backers regard Capehart's proposal as calculated not only to clip the wings of Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, but also give more power to a Senate group which generally wasn't in the President's corner at the 1952 nominating convention.

Ives said he believed any such change would make the policy group unwieldy.

The New Yorker, who has been picked as one of an unofficial team of pre-nomination Eisenhower supporters to push administration proposals in the next session of Congress, made it clear he was speaking only for himself. But his views apparently are reflected among many Republican senators who, like Ives, do not hold standing committee chairmanships.

Unselfishness Reaped From Mature Qualities

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — A mature person, according to Dr. John Romano of the University of Rochester, is one with the following characteristics:

1. A high degree of adaptability.
2. A knowledge of reserves that can be utilized in need.
3. Ability to permit himself adult satisfactions, and deny those which might prove harmful to himself and others.
4. Ability to be guided by reality rather than fantasy.
5. Ability to plan his life for long-term values.

"Such a person can love someone other than himself," Romano concluded.

Magnet Unlocks Boy

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP) — When seven-year-old Stephen Struffolino swallowed a padlock, doctors at Ellis Hospital weren't stumped at all.

With the aid of a small but powerful magnet the lock was extracted from the boy's stomach. Forty-eight hours later Stephen was sitting at the dinner table.

Skunks Tax Patience of Southern Cafeman

PONESBORO, Tenn. (AP) — Cafe owner Harry Byrd aims to find out how the federal Internal Revenue Department stands on skunks.

Some of the critters set up housekeeping under the floor of Byrd's cafe. He called police who routed them with gas grenades. But the cafe was closed for more than a week and customers were reluctant to return for longer than that.

Now it's all written down for presentation to the tax collector as a deduction.

In Memoriam 1

IN LOVING MEMORY OF PERRY Van Wagoner, who passed away Sept. 26, 1952.
You're not forgotten, Father, dear,
Nor ever shall you be;
As long as life and memory last
We shall remember thee.
Sadly missed by Mr. and Mr. — Paul Gallaher and Children.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Blanche A. Bell, who passed away 1 year ago, September 26.
We do not forget her, we love her too dearly,
For her memory to fade from our lives like a dream;
Our lips need not speak when our hearts mourn sincerely,
For grief often dwells where it seldom is seen.
Sadly missed by husband, David W. & daughter Sharon Lee.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF, George Smith, who passed away Sept. 27, 1939.
No pen can write, no tongue can tell
Our sad and bitter loss,
But God alone has helped us well
To bear our heavy cross.
Loving wife, daughter and granddaughter.

Card of Thanks 2

WE WOULD LIKE TO THANK THE friends, neighbors of Lakeville for their kindness in our recent bereavement in the loss of our son Roland Burny. Mr. and Mrs. Burny and family.

KINSEY DID IT! SO DO WE

We dare to reveal the most intimate secrets from the past lives of these young lovelies . . .

Milly Mercury
Born in 1951 and married to one affectionate owner until just last week. She is shiny black, has four doors, with very low mileage. Where else can you get a companion like this for the low, low price we'll be glad to tell you about.

Fanny Ford
She's had some hard knocks in her years of traveling around, but she looks like a million and has lots of life left. Her marriage license doesn't cost much. Drop in and see us.

Marilyn Mercury
She started out in 1946 and is still going strong. Clean living and good care have left her in good shape. You'll be proud to be seen anywhere with her.

Lulu Lincoln
This gal's name is a perfect fit. She has been around since 1952, living a life of ease and would give many happy miles to her new owner—that could be YOU. Why not?

Hildy Hudson
Very faithful to her first love, she was well treated, led a sheltered life. Since her owner has a new car she will do her best to be as good as she was when new in 1950.

Sal Studebaker
This red-head is as peaceful and quiet as you'd ever want. Let her be your "gal Sal"—We'll arrange the details.

Charlotte Chevy
This kid is always dressed in blue, blows her top occasionally (but only at your command). She is a great summer sport, but warm and cozy in the winter too. We'd like you to meet her.

The above is just a brief survey, there's more. Drop in at our lot, anyday, we are open 'til 9 every night, and we'll be glad to introduce you to the many other beauties on the lot.

Reno Rumbles in Sharp Quake

Gamblers Shake Dice Again as no Damage Is Evident

RENO, Nev. (AP)—A sharp earthquake shook Reno last night and police were flooded with calls reporting crashing sounds, explosions and rumbling.

But gamblers only paused, and then continued their games.

The desk officer at Reno's new central police station said he thought the roof was coming down, but checks later showed little damage occurred anywhere in the immediate Reno area.

The quake was felt in Sacramento, Calif., about 150 miles west over the Sierra Nevada. Police there received reports of rattling dishes and swaying lamp cords.

A dealer at Harold's Club in Reno described the shake as similar to the tense moment at a ball game when somebody hits the ball—and everybody draws in his breath and waits.

The dealer said the club grew strangely quiet for a moment — some customers grabbed hold of tables to steady themselves—but when nothing further happened, the roullette wheels began to spin again and the crap shooters went back to work.

Buildings of four and five stories swayed and several fans watching hardtop races at the Reno rodeo grounds left their seats as the flimsy wooden grandstands danced violently.

Cub Scout master George Lohse, who herded 100 boys out of Central Junior High School Auditorium said, "It felt like a freight train hit the building."

One lane of U.S. 40 was blocked briefly about four miles east of town by a rock slide, but was quickly cleared.

University of Nevada seismologists reported the quake was of an intensity of about 6 on the Wood-Neumann scale of 12.

The center of the quake was not immediately determined.

McGuire Sisters Happy on 'Little Godfreys' Show

NEW YORK—December 1, 1952 is a date that three girls—Christine, Phyllis and Dorothy McGuire—will never forget.

On that night the McGuire Sisters took top honors on Arthur Godfrey's "Talent Scouts" and launched themselves as three of the "little Godfreys" on the jovial redhead's television and radio programs.

The morning after their "Talent Scouts" victory, the girls visited "Arthur Godfrey Time," as is customary for "Talent Scout" winners.

Their second morning was climaxed when Godfrey invited them to appear on that night's "Arthur Godfrey and His Friends" television program. That successful performance drew an invitation to the girls to become "little Godfreys."

The excited sisters could barely manage enough breath among them to accept.

Back home they went to Miamisburg, Ohio, to spend four weeks preparing for their move to New York.

But when the call came on Jan. 1, 1953 for them to report for the Jan. 5 "Arthur Godfrey Time" program, they left Ohio in such a rush that they left most of their belongings behind them.

The McGuire Sisters are really sisters, but not triplets as many people believe.

They were born in Middletown, Ohio and studied at Garfield Grade School, McKinley Junior High School and Middletown High School. In 1949 the family moved to Miamisburg.

The Army Entertainers Association gave them their first real break when it signed them for a nine-month tour of Army camps in 1950 and 1951.

Then they joined Karl Taylor's orchestra and began broadcasting in Dayton. During their 39 weeks with a program called "Live It Again," they made personal appearances at the Mayfair Room of the Van Cleve Hotel and did another program, "Hit the Road."

Christine, oldest of the McGuire Sisters, was born July 30, 1928. Dorothy was born Feb. 13, 1930 and Phyllis Feb. 14, 1931.

Christine does most of the cooking for the girls and selects their clothes. They dress alike on and off stage.

Dorothy describes the girls as ranging between 128 and 132 pounds, all size tens, 5'8" tall, with brown hair and brown eyes.

They observe one daily ritual: "Just before we leave home, we take off one piece of jewelry so we're sure we're not overdressed."

Triangle Jet to Try for Speed Record

EDWARDS, Calif. (AP)—A triangle-winged jet will roar over the Edwards Air Force Base proving grounds today in an attempt to wrest from Great Britain the speed record for combat planes.

Douglas Aircraft Co. in Santa Monica, which built the Navy F4D Skyray interceptor, said last night it will make four passes, two in each direction, over a three-kilometer course. Lt. Cmdr. James Verdin will pilot the combat-equipped craft. It is designed for aircraft carrier operation.

A Hawker Hunter jet took the record for Britain earlier this month by flying 727.6 miles an hour. At Tripoli, Libya, Lt. Mike Lithgow of Britain claimed a new unofficial record of 737.3 m.p.h. in a Super-Marine jet fighter yesterday.

Some Programs Change Time Starting Sunday

On Sunday many areas of the nation will leave daylight saving time and return to the standard time for their time belt. Michigan did not change time during t he summer, so clocks in this state will not be changed.

However, many TV and radio programs, originating in the East, will be heard and seen here on a different schedule than during the summer. Consult your daily TV and radio programs for new times on your favorite programs.

35-Hour Week Is Union Aim

AFL Convention Lists Bargaining Targets as Session Ends

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The AFL, saying wage boosts may be harder to get in coming months, indicated today that its unions may strive for shorter working hours.

This summary of AFL bargaining aims came from resolutions approved at the organization's annual convention which concluded week-long sessions yesterday.

One resolution pledged AFL unions to plug for a 35-hour work week and another said the "economic climate" for negotiating pay increases in the next few months is "likely to be less favorable."

* * *

"If business activity should turn downward," the convention said, "employer resistance to wage increases will stiffen."

The AFL delegates resolved to study economic conditions within their industries to be prepared to get the best wage terms possible from employers and then said, in another resolution:

"When the total amount of goods purchased by the American people begins to decline, there are two courses of actions which may be followed.

"American business has usually taken the path of laying off the work force which simply means that more unemployment results as spending power decreases.

"The most logical and wisest course would be to reduce the hours of work which spread employment and maintains purchasing power at a high level. This must be done without a loss of 'take home' pay so that the work force can buy the food, clothing and shelter so sorely needed."

The resolution, authored by a committee headed by Lee Minton, president of the AFL Glass Bottle Blowers Union, expressed the intent of pressing for a 35-hour work week in Congress.

In a quick-moving windup session the AFL approved a "no raiding" agreement with the CIO, outlawing union drives to get already-organized workers to switch allegiance from one union to another.

The pact still must be ratified at the CIO convention in November, and a number of CIO and AFL unions have indicated they won't go along with the agreement. It will apply only to unions endorsing the agreement.

In a companion move, the AFL directed its top officials to draft a plan for peaceful settlement of disputes betwee rival unions within the AFL.

10 Nationalists Desert Isle, Peiping Radio Says

TOKYO (AP)—Peiping radio said today that 10 Chinese Nationalist soldiers deserted a garrison defending a Nationalist-held island off the China coast and reached the mainland safely.

The Communist broadcast said the 10 deserters were warmly welcomed and would soon join their families.

The Chinese Nationalists hold more than 30 islands off the China coast.

Rumor MIG Held at Okinawa Base

SEOUL (AP) — Rumors circulated here today that a Communist MIG15 jet turned over to the Allies by a North Korean flier last Monday is being held at the big U. S. base on Okinawa.

The reports could not be confirmed. U. S. Army and Air Force officers here and in Tokyo would say only that the MIG is "being held under security conditions pending establishment of its rightful owner."

The MIG was dismantled, crated and put aboard a C124 transport Tuesday. Destination of the transport never was announced.

The North Korean pilot who flew the MIG to South Korea won a $100,000 reward. But Gen. Mark Clark has withdrawn his offer of $50,000 for subsequent MIGs and announced that the first plane would be returned to its "rightful owner" when ownership was established.

Oklahoma Adults Feel 'Back to School' Urge

Cocktail Party Good Place to Study Wild Animal Life

NEW YORK (AP) — The fall hunting and trapping season is now on in Manhattan.

The denizens of the great concrete jungle foregather at a thousand water holes at dusk — in a dimming light they look better to each other — and began the night pattern of life and death in the big city forest.

They call these watering places cocktail parties, but if they water the cocktails very much the creatures present roar about it in resentment for days afterward.

Many people claim cocktail parties bore them. The truth is the reason they go to them is they are already bored. I love cocktail parties.

You can see in two hours the whole story of evolution unwind — backwards. The guests arrive as people. Three Martinis later they are children, and from then on you can watch them turn from children into animals. Why, it beats Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

There usualy is a new author present, the social lion of the evening. But after he has made only two trips to the watering trough, some guests already don't think much of him as a lion, doubt whether he can write his name, and are certain he is acting like a jackass.

As to the other birds and beasties —

A middle-aged dowager who strutted like a peacock when someone praised her dress gets mad as a wet hen when she sees her mousey husband has turned into a wolf who paws without pause at a sweet young girl, who is acting like a coy mink in search of a new coat.

The distinguished elderly politician is now a tired old buffalo, lowing sadly about how he lost the herd in the last election. Three brokers in a corner have become a bear and two bulls, growling and bellowing about the business future.

The young man from Princeton who would like to work for any or all of them has attached himself quite a shark is being played and breaks out in hyena laughter.

The fat lady on a diet who wasn't going to nip a calorie is wrist deep in the imitation caviar canapes, a dear, friendly hog resigned to her fate.

The playboy who thought himself uite a shark is being played for a sucker by a fading actress, whose made-up face has fallen into cow shape except for the tiger glint in her eyes.

The plain, frightened housewife whom nobody talked to is now a barnacle on her husband, and the way he shrugs her off you can tell he's a rat.

An ex-matinee idol, secretly fretting over whether his toupee is slipping, looks worriedly around like a wrinkled monkey. An elephant-sized banker complains his feet are dog-tired.

A music composer peers through thick-lensed glasses—an owl confused. A ballet dancer springs about like a muscle-bound gazelle.

Yes, they are all here at the watering trough, the whole animal kingdom. From the book critic with the long nose—an ant eater looking for a target—to the fashion designer in the zebra skirt.

And moving warily amidst the grunting, whining, whinnying, roaring, bellowing, stamping, barking chaos of jungle are the keepers of this menagerie — the waiters, holding out a tidbit to a claw here, a drink to an eager muzzle there.

It's a great place to study animal life, a Manhattan cocktail party. When you get home, you can't help glancing in the mirror and wondering:

"What resident of the zoo did I look like?"

But you'd just as soon not know.

Senator Doubts Hydrogen Bomb Will Be Used

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Cordon (R-Ore), a member of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said today he doubts that the hydrogen bomb will ever be used in warfare.

"I don't expect to see an H-bomb exploded in my lifetime," Cordon told an interviewer. "In the course of time, you are going to get an agreement in that field."

The United States has advanced a plan in the United Nations for bannig atomic weapons, under a rigid system of international inspection and control. But its approval has been blocked by Russia, which has urged A-bomb prohibitions minus checkups.

Cordon said, however, he thought the Soviet would take "a second look" if a war appeared close.

He recalled that poison gas was outlawed after World War I and was not used in World War II. Neither side wanted to be the first to use it, he said, because of fear of retaliation in kind.

"Reasonable" defense preparations are necessary, Cordon said, but he declared there was no need for embarking on a vastly enlarged continental defense system.

A decision to launch such a program, it was reported last night, has been reached by the National Security Council, the top strategy-policy group headed by President Eisenhower.

However, well informed sources said the council believes early expansion should be on a modest financial scale.

The decision unquestionably was spurred by the growing strength of Russia's air and atomic power, notably the Soviet claim of mastery over the hydrogen bomb.
