Two Detroiters Injured in Plane Crash

Pontiac Press Photo

HELPLESS PILOT — Fred B. Blanchard, Detroit pilot of a crashed plane, lies helplessly back in his seat after being forced to crash land in an open field in Farmington Township when the controls locked at 1,500 feet. State Police and area residents are shown looking over the wrecked plane. Blanchard and his passenger, Harold Short, also of Detroit, were hospitalized.

Plane Crashes in County Field

Two Detroiters Injured When 'Controls Lock' at 1,500 Feet

Two victims of a Farmington Township plane crash were reported to be improving at Mt. Carmel Hospital today, following their forced landing yesterday in a hay field at 13 Mile Road and Orchard Lake Road.

Fred B. Blanchard, 55, was the most seriously injured of the pair but was said to be in fair condition today by the hospital spokesman. The owner and pilot of the downed aircraft, he received a fractured right leg, and multiple injuries of the face and chest.

Harold Short, 34, a passenger in the plane, is in satisfactory condition with a possible fractured right ankle, possible head injuries and lacerations. Both are residents of Detroit.

The fliers said locked controls caused the crash. Short was able to get out of the wrecked plane under his own power but Blanchard had to be helped by ambulance attendants.

Short said they were flying at 1,500 feet when the controls locked in a "downward position." Blanchard later related he was unable to pull the plane's nose up and had to crash land.

The plane had left Mettatal Airport at Joy and Willey Road in Plymouth at about 2:30 p.m. and was en route to Pontiac Airport.

The lowest thermometer reading preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 30 degrees. The mercury rose to 56 at 2 p.m.

Suit Halts Incorporation

A last-minute lawsuit, filed on the eve of yesterday's Oakland County Board of Supervisors meeting, effectively halted action on the proposed incorporation of Rochester as a city pending hearing on the case April 23.

The suit, filed by a group of Rochester and Avon Township residents, demands a writ of mandamus against the Board requiring them to act on the first of three incorporation petitions and then shelve the other two for two years.

Rochester attorney Roscoe Martin, who has charted legal moves for the group favoring incorporation, said yesterday the Michigan law quoted in the suit referred to annexation, not incorporation, and did not apply to the Rochester petitions.

Supervisors voted yesterday to reject the first of the three petitions and postpone action on the other two pending a court ruling on the case.

In other action, the Board postponed voting on the proposed Southeastern Michigan Water Authority until its next meeting Tuesday.

Supervisors said they wanted to read the proposed articles of incorporation of the authority, which would be a joint venture with Macomb County.

Supervisor Howard K. Kelley, of Royal Oak, who presented the report on the Authority, said both county boards would have equal representation in the proposed corporation. Neither board, he said, would have monetary liability.

Delos Hamlin, Farmington supervisor, was unanimously elected chairman of the board for the coming year. West Bloomfield Township supervisor Hiland M. Thatcher was named chairman pro tem.

A special June 5 election day was set for Birmingham, Troy and Troy Township residents to vote on three separate annexation moves. If passed, Birmingham will annex two parcels of Troy Township land, and Troy will add additional township territory to its city limits.

Supervisors voted $5,000 to hire a land use planner for the remainder of 1956, and approved new contracts with Detroit for sewage disposal from parts of Southfield Township.

The board also decided to vote Tuesday on the $9,035,485 tentative 1957 budget for tax allocation purposes. Taxation would total $7,415,253.80.

Purchase of $4,000 of the radio equipment used by the Oakland County Sheriff's department, now leased from the City of Pontiac, also was approved.

Supervisor Harold K. Schone of Oak Park, chairman of the County Building Committee, promised the board would see preliminary plans and drawings of the proposed service center at Tuesday's meeting.

As chairman of the board's legislation committee, Schone also reported that 11 of the 12 bills favored by the board during

Meet Mrs. Michigan, 1956; Grand Rapids Housewife

DETROIT (AP)—Mrs. Nila Dreger is an attractive, 36-year-old Grand Rapids housewife who can whip up a cake, decorate a house, make clothes and reupholster furniture—and do them all well.

That's why she is Mrs. Michigan of 1956 and the state's entry in the finals of the Mrs. America contest at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Dreger won out over seven other Michigan women, four from Detroit and three from outstate, in a series of competitions yesterday afternoon. A panel of five judges based their decision on her cooking, sewing, laundering and other domestic abilities.

Other contestants were Mrs. Joan Conover, 26, of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Anneliese Anderson, 29, of Traverse City; Mrs. Mary Crosby, 43, of North Muskegon; Mrs. Barbara G. Bailey, 27, of Grosse Pointe; Mrs. Melba Smith, 39, of Dearborn, and Mrs. Virginia Hauswith, 29, and Mrs. Berniece Lentz, 37, both of Detroit.

Special awards went to Mrs. Dreger for sewing, Mrs. Bailey for laundering, Mrs. Smith for meal preparation and table setting and Mrs. Crosby for the best cake.

The new Mrs. Michigan is the mother of three daughters, Diane, 9; Gretchen, 7, and Candice, 1. She and her husband, Richard, a chemical engineer, have been married 15 years.

Mrs. Dreger, a native of Ionia, attended Michigan State Normal and was a secretary before her marriage.

Active in Grand Rapids civic affairs, she performs with an amateur theatrical group, teaches Sunday School and leads a Brownie troop.

MRS. NILA DREGER

Couple Sues Bank, Forger

Ask $60,000 Settlement in Circuit Action Against Birmingham National

A suit was filed in Oakland County Circuit Court today against the Birmingham National Bank and Mamie June Smith.

It charged the bank with "gross and flagrant negligence and amazing carelessness" in the handling of the accounts of Evelyn R. and Robert W. Elder, who filed the suit.

The bank is the co-defendant in the case which is asking for a $30,000 settlement on each of two counts.

Mamie June Smith, now known as Mamie June Hooper, was sentenced to 18 months to 14 years in the Detroit House of Correction Jan. 30 for forging 157 checks totaling $23,506.50.

At the time, she worked for G. Carl Elder and Son Builders, 1810 S. Woodward Ave., Birmingham, which company was being operated by the plaintiffs in the suit filed today.

Lion's Head Asks City to Buy Stadium

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

The president of the Detroit Lions Football Team has proposed that the city buy Briggs Stadium and own and operate it as part of the Parks and Recreation system.

Lion President Edwin J. Anderson made the proposal in a letter to Mayor Albert E. Cobo.

Anderson says if the city buys the stadium, the Lions would be interested in buying the Detroit Tiger franchise and selling stock to "civic-minded Detroiters and Michiganders."

He said the stock purchase arrangement would be similar to the transaction whereby 133 Detroit and Michigan residents became owners of the Lions.

* * *

Mayor Cobo, currently vacationing in Arizona, said by telephone that he would be "happy" to confer with Anderson on the proposal upon his return to Detroit in two weeks.

Showdown Vote in House Today on Farm Issue

President Faces Defeat if GOP Modification Attempts Fail

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Eisenhower Administration faces a probable major policy defeat today in the House showdown vote on the farm bill.

The measure as reported by the Senate-House Conference Committee would restore rigid high price supports on basic crops, boost supports on others, set up the administration-requested billion-dollar soil bank and provide a two-price system for wheat and rice.

Republican leaders were involved in a feverish, last-ditch fight to return the legislation to the conference group with instructions for changes to make it more palatable to the White House.

Indications were, however, that Democrats and a bloc of farm belt Republicans would muster enough votes to push the bill through the House.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex), has promised to keep the Senate in session late today to take up the measure if it is approved by the House.

DEMS SEE PASSAGE

GOP leaders evolved a four-point substitute plan which would make the bill more acceptable to President Eisenhower, who said earlier this week he disapproves of the measure in its present form.

Democratic leaders, including Speaker Sam Raeburn of Texas, appeared sure they can win passage of the legislation. Many of them were confident the President will sign it reluctantly.

Despite the outcome of today's House vote, the steady decline in farm prices is certain to continue as the major issue of 1956.

Air Force Plane Drops Fuel Tank in Mandon Lake

An Air Force officer at Selfridge Air Force Base said today a mechanical and material failure caused an auxiliary fuel tank to drop from a jet plane and plummet into Mandon Lake yesterday.

Lt. Stephen Shafer, assistant Public Information officer, said that officials were determining whether it would be feasible to retrieve the tank to determine the exact cause.

No one was injured as the large tank splashed into the White Lake Township lake at 2 p.m., although one piece, presumed to be trim from the tank, struck a nearby house, and another fragment landed 30 feet from shore.

Township Treasurer R. D. Austin saw the tank falling, after watching the plane fly over. "At first I thought it was a plane coming toward me—it hit with an awful explosion," he said.

Calling of the special meeting authorized by directors, was announced today by Milo J. Cross, president of the bank.

The bank's capital stock has a par value of $10, and the price at which the new stock will be offered will be determined by the shareholders.

Hammarskjold Talks to Nasser for Cease-Fire

FROM AP and INS WIRES

CAIRO — Dag Hammarskjold, working with the active support of the United States, apparently made some progress today in his plea to Egypt to end the bloody border war with Israel.

The United Nations secretary general conferred for an hour and 15 minutes this morning with Egyptian Premier Gamal Nasser. He was smiling and appeared in good spirits as he sped past reporters on his way to a luncheon meeting with Egyptian and U. N. officials.

As Hammarskjold was meeting Nasser, in his quest to restore peace to the Middle East, U.S. Ambassador Henry Byroade visited Soviet Ambassador to Egypt Evgeny Kissilev. Then Byroade was visited by British Ambassador Sir Humphrey Trevelyan.

PEACE IN HOLY LAND

Peace prevailed in the Holy Land today for the first time in a week but Arab and Israeli soldiers still looked at one another through gunsights.

Hours after dawn not a single incident had been reported along the tense frontiers, including the shell-pocked Gaza Strip.

For the first time since Saturday there were no Fedayeen (suicide squad) night raids on Israeli settlements.

Tension began to slacken yesterday with the arrival in the embattled area of the U.N. Secretary General.

SOUGHT CEASE-FIRE

As a first step toward easing the danger of an all-out Middle Eastern war, the U.N. chief sought enforcement of a strict cease-fire.

Both sides expressed willingness to cooperate with Hammarskjold. But frontier outposts remained in battle readiness.

The most recent Arab-Israeli incidents took place yesterday afternoon. Three Israeli soldiers were wounded near the Gaza Strip when their truck hit a mine.

Egypt in turn charged an Israeli plane had flown over the Egyptian-held Gaza Strip and an Israeli army patrol had raided deep inside Gaza.

GRAVE SITUATION

Washington officials discounted today the likelihood of President Eisenhower's asking Congress for authority to use U.S. armed forces in the Middle East unless the Israeli-Arab conflict grows much more critical.

Florida Train in Flames

FORT GREEN, Fla. (AP)—A Seaboard Air Line railroad passenger train smashed into a gasoline transport truck here today and three of the train's coaches burst into flames.

"There was a big explosion and the whole train, except for the engine, caught fire," said Mrs. Tom Cooper, a grocery clerk who witnessed the crash.

"Several people have been burned pretty badly but we don't know yet if they got all of them off the train."

Ambulances were taking the injured into hospitals in nearby towns. First report on the crash in the isolated area came from the pilot of a Bartow Air Base plane who saw it from the air and reported it to his base.

Ike Moves Ahead of Adlai in Illinois Primary Voting

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, making a write-in bid, was left far behind in what amounted to an election year popularity contest.

The President scored spectacular gains in reports from downstate precincts while Stevenson had a big margin in Cook County—Chicago—the stronghold of his Democratic party.

Eisenhower, who took almost 55 per cent of the Illinois vote in his duel with Stevenson in the 1952 presidential election, passed Stevenson in the count of ballots in midmorning.

Returns from 8,797 of the state's 9,511 precincts in Eisenhower's race against the nominal opposition of Sen. William F. Knowland and Lar Daly on the Republican side gave Eisenhower 679,891, Knowland 30,620 and Daly 8,783.

Reports from 3,826 of the 4,511 downstate precincts gave Eisenhower 423,880.

* * *

The Democratic vote in 8,470 of 9,511 precincts was: Stevenson 671,237; 7,737 of 9,511 precincts: Kefauver 26,306.

Eisenhower was expected to have virtually all the 50 GOP delegates chosen to go to the Republican nominating convention and delegates with 10 votes to be picked later in a state convention.

The Democrats also chose delegates with 50 convention votes. Twenty-three of the delegate candidates were for Stevenson and three had declared for Kefauver, with the others open-minded or uncommitted.

The votes still were being counted in the Democratic delegate races. Delegates with 14 votes will be selected later at a state convention.

Can Affect Our Election

Middle East Worries U. S.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Politically speaking, Washington is nervous about the Middle East. The crisis could alter the entire complexion of the presidential campaign if the United States became involved in a war, big or little, anywhere.

Leaders of both houses of Congress—who have just conferred with the secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, at the request of President Eisenhower — learned that the situation in the Middle East is serious but got no indication as to whether Congress would be asked to authorize armed action by American forces.

Nor was any contingent authority discussed. It is possible, of course, for the President to request Congress to authorize in advance the use of American military forces if the United States is asked, for example, through a resolution adopted by the Security Council of the United Nations to cooperate in military steps.

But, though such a contingent authority was given by Congress in the case of the islands off the coast of Red China, the plan for the time being is not to do so with respect to the Middle East. The situation there could develop into a crisis requiring some action by the United Nations but, until the government here is confronted with such a step, the President will not go to Congress for authority.

U.S. TROOPS ALERTED

Meanwhile, American troops will not be committed to armed intervention of any kind unless, of course, there is some unforeseen attack on Americans or American establishments in the Middle East. Any military commander in the

Give Parking Lots Top Priority

Manager Eyes Condemnation

Gives Progress Report to City Commission on $600,000 Project

City Manager W. K. Willman told the City Commission last night that the $600,000 off-street parking project had been assigned the city's "number one priority this coming summer."

He also added that "in a few cases it is probably going to be necessary to resort to condemnation in the interest of a price recommended by the city's real estate people" to acquire some of the property to build the lots.

Willman presented the commissioners with an up-to-date progress report on these acquisitions.

Thirteen owners are involved in the parcels for Lot 2 at Lafayette and Jacokes, Willman said. Six have sold to the city, two are under option and five are still in negotiation, he explained.

"With respect to Lot 3, it is necessary to deal with five owners," Willman continued. "One owner has sold to the city, two are under option, and two are still in the process of negotiation."

Lot 4 running from Lawrence to Pike and east of Cass involves three owners, one of which has sold to the city while two are under option.

"Where condemnation is necessary, it might be necessary to construct what we can, building around the properties in question until such time as title can be secured," Willman stated.

The revenue bonds to finance a portion of the lots have been advertised for sale May 1. Willman expects it to take three weeks from the approved sale until the money is secured.

The parcels of land now being purchased by the city are being paid for from the capital improvement fund which will be reimbursed upon receipt of the bond money.

Parole Violator Held as Third Flint Robber

CHICAGO (AP) — A 43-year-old parole violator was held under $50,000 bond today following seizure by FBI agents as the third man in a $62,204 robbery of a Flint, Mich., bank last Friday.

* * *

Donald S. Hostetter, head of the FBI office in Chicago, said Radkay and two other Chicago men held up the Citizens Commercial and Savings Bank in Flint. Radkay's companions were captured in Flint Saturday and all of the stolen money was recovered. Radkay escaped a police trap in Flint and was quoted as saying he would not be captured alive. Held in Flint on federal warrants are John Alkes, 30, and George Ballin, 45.

Tornado Signal System Sought

Ask Civil Defense OK for Use of Sirens to Alert Areas

City Manager Walter K. Willman will seek an answer from Civil Defense officials in Lansing on whether civil defense sirens could be used to warn Pontiac residents in case of tornadoes.

The action was started last night when Commissioner John A. Dugan (District 5) requested some solution on a warning to be installed or used upon the approach of a tornado like the one that struck Grand Rapids suburbs last week.

The commissioner, along with Commissioner Floyd P. Miles (District 4), said they had received questions from residents in their districts on this matter.

"I'm beginning to wonder if tornadoes are not more dangerous and closer to Michigan than air raids are," Dugan said.

He suggested the use of the air raid siren upon the Pontiac State Bank Building or the blinking of street lights to warn citizens of the tornado's approach.

He added that many people do not have their radios or television sets on and miss warnings that come over these media.

the recent State legislative session had been passed.

William C. Hudson of Royal Oak who presided as temporary chairman during the change in permanent officials, reported to the board that the Detroit Metropolitan Aviation Authority had resumed meeting after several years of inactivity.

Supervisors voted to adopt minor changes in taxation procedures, and a move to sell the city of Pontiac a strip of land beside Stanley Avenue for street widening purposes also was adopted.

Pharmacist Internship Urged by APA Official

DETROIT (AP) — The president of the American Pharmeceutical Assn. says pharmacy students, like medical students, should be required to serve a period of internship.

John B. Heinz told some 2,000 delegates to the association's annual convention yesterday that "in-store training" would enable a student to "enter the field of professional pharmacy more nearly a professional pharmacist." He suggested such training take place during the student's last years in college.

Heinz, a Salt Lake City pharmacist, said academic training plus a working knowledge of merchandising, costs and profits, and handling of customers and complaints would "truly round out" the student's education.

Marine Dead Lie in State; Court of Inquiry Continues

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—The bodies of six Marine recruits, drowned on a forced march Sunday night, will be placed in a funeral home with a guard of honor today.

The flag-draped caskets will lie in state at funeral parlors at nearby Beaufort until shipped home for burial.

The board will recommend whether action should be brought against M. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon of Worcester, Mass., the drill sergeant who ordered the platoon of 78 recruits to make the ill-fated march.

SGT. PRAISED BY MEN

McKeon said in a statement he ordered the march to "teach the platoon discipline." Both Gen. Pate and Maj. Gen. Joseph C. Burger, the Parris Island base commander, said the night trek was unauthorized.

* * *

Survivors of the night march later told of an hour of horror as their buddies slipped and floundered and drowned in a mucky tidal stream near the base.

McKeon said, "I can't find words to express my grief."

Five of the bodies were recovered Monday. The sixth was retrieved from a hole in the stream yesterday by Marine underwater divers.

* * *

Gen. Pate said he believed regular Marine Corps procedure would be ample to cover the investigation without a congressional inquiry. He termed the accident "deplorable," but said:

"We have absolutely nothing to hide."

President OKs Colorado Dams

Signs Bill Authorizing $760 Million Power and Irrigation Projects

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed a bill authorizing construction of a 760-million - dollar system of power dams and irrigation projects in the Upper Colorado River area.

* * *

In signing the bill into law Eisenhower achieved a goal he has been plugging for a long time.

The huge project includes provision for units in Colorado, Utah, New Mexico, Wyoming and northern Arizona.

In a statement issued in connection with the signing, Secretary of the Interior McKay said "future generations will owe a debt of gratitude to the President and the Congress for their conservation foresight in enacting this legislation."

* * *

Congressional approval of the project came after years of controversy. Southern California interests opposed it on grounds the project would deprive their area of needed water. Conservation groups also fought the plan until the lawmakers eliminated provision for the Echo Park Dam in northwest Colorado which would have flooded part of the Dinosaur National Monument.

The principal structures to be built are Glen Canyon Dam, at an estimated cost of $421,270,000; Flaming Gorge Dam on the Green River in northern Utah, to cost $82,942,000; and Navajo Dam on the San Juan River in northwest New Mexico, to cost $36,592,000.

Middle East Crisis Can Affect Election

field where American troops are stationed to guard overseas bases can, of course, resist attack without waiting for authority from the President.

The consequences politically of any involvement of the United States in military action in the Middle East are not difficult to appraise. Up to now the Republicans have been pointing proudly to the fact that the United States is at peace and that the Korean armistice ended the fighting in the Far East for American troops. If there is a resumption of fighting anywhere, even on a small scale, it could mean the immediate increase in the number of boys drafted each month in this country—and that's always politically bad for the party in power.

Likewise, it seems probable that, if any military operations become necessary, the budget will go out of balance and fear of an inflationary trend will arise on the economic front.

The present hope of the administration is to avoid any involvement but, if it becomes necessary, such steps as are taken would be in cooperation with other powers. An effort first would be made through the United Nations to adopt some form of collective action. It is easier nowadays for American public opinion to be persuaded that military steps are necessary when taken with Allies for the purpose of avoiding a larger war than it would be if America decided on any course by itself. The idea seems to be that, distasteful as participation in any overseas operations might be, the people would support any recommendations the President might make if it appeared necessary to quell an outbreak of war anywhere.

The potential belligerents in the Middle East are not militarily strong, so it is quite possible that a show of firmness by America and Great Britain, in the event that the United Nations found itself unable to agree on measures to enforce peace, would be sufficient to prevent a full-scale war.

Skirmishes and small engagements on the borders could become serious but they would not involve anything as big as the intervention in Korea when the Communists moved south across the 38th parallel.

If President Eisenhower is able skillfully to steer the nation through the Middle East crisis without involving American military forces, it could turn out to be a political "break" in his favor. It would be hailed by his supporters as an example of the need for continuity in American policy abroad. Officials here are nervous and worried, however, for they know the situation in the Middle East can go in almost any direction between now and the November elections.

Former UM Psychiatrists Named to Hawthorne Posts

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams announced today the appointment of Dr. Ralph D. Robinovitch as director of Hawthorne Center, a new residential treatment facility for mentally ill children. The appointment is effective July 15.

* * *

Williams said Dr. Sara Dubo, the other member of the nationally known team of child psychiatrists, will become associate director at Hawthorne.

Dr. Rabinovitch has been head of the children's hospital of the Neuropsychiatric Institute at the University of Michigan and has been at the university since 1949.

In the new post, he will receive $17,500 a year. Dr. Dubo's salary will be $15,600.

In addition to their duties at Northville, the two will serve as State Mental Health Department consultants on child treatment and care at other state hospitals under department supervision.

* * *

Drs. Rabinovitch and Dubo recently submitted resignations reportedly because of friction over administrative procedures. In response to questions, Gov. Williams was unable to give any figure as to how many close associates of the two at the university were planning to follow them to the new institution.

Kin of Thorpes Head for Detroit

Chicago Friend, Sister of Suspected Embezzler to Stand Trial Here

LAREDO, Tex., April 11 (AP)—The sister and brother-in-law of a woman wanted in Michigan for embezzlement of $75,000 in state funds have been ordered removed to Detroit to stand trial.

U.S. Commission Frank Hill ordered the removal yesterday of Richard Radwill, 25, and his wife, Josephine Rutsky Radwill, 32, after they signed an agreement for removal.

The Radwells were expelled from Mexico Saturday on charges they had entered the country under false names. They were immediately arrested by federal officers on a Michigan federal court charge of interstate transportation of stolen property.

* * *

Mrs. Radwill's sister, Mrs. Anna Thorpe, and her husband, Floyd Thorpe, are wanted in conenected with a shortage of about $75,000 in the branch office of the Michigan Secretary of State at St. Clair Shores.

Mexican officials believe the Thorpes and their daughter, Kathleen, are living in Mexico.

The Radwill couple was returned to the Webb County Jail pending transfer to Michigan when they failed to make a $25,000 bond. An 8-year-old son, Teddy, was held in the custody of a U.S. customs inspector.

Ike to Approve Domestic Bills; Play Some Golf

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower arranged another work session today on domestic affairs and international problems. And he hoped to play some more golf.

The President told associates he would be on hand shortly after breakfast in his small office above the pro shop at the Augusta National golf club.

TURN TO GOLF

He planned to sign some domestic bills passed by Congress, get from Washington the latest reports on efforts to halt strife in the Middle East, then turn to golf.

Eisenhower talked by telephone twice yesterday to Secretary of State Dulles. Both conversations dealt primarily with the Mid-East.

He also got in 18 holes of golf, playing with Ed Dudley, the club pro.

Nationwide Honors for Midland Church

NEW YORK (AP)—The First Methodist Church at Midland, Mich., is 1 of 18 churches, all of contemporary design, seelcted as winners in a design competition of the National Council of Churches.

* * *

The council's commission on architecture, composed of architects, editors, clergymen and church design specialists, made the choice from a group of 72 churches, all built in the past 25 years.

The churches were not selected in order of preference, but Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church of Minneapolis was named most often by the experts.

* * *

Walter A. Taylor, commission chairman and director of the department of education and research of the American Institute of Architects, said the selections showed that "preconceived ideas of what a church should look like . . . are being abandoned in favor of modern design tailored to the functional needs of each church."

BALTIMORE (AP) — "Refund due. Refund due. Refund due. Refund due. Refund due." And so on 45 times.

This bit of stream-of-consciousness writing appeared on the outside of an envelope received recently by the district director of internal revenue here. Inside—yes an income tax return.

The local office also says it received another return in an envelope edged with black, and decorated with a splotchy picture of a weepy citizen and "Please Get Lost." And at the bottom:

Cub Pack to Receive Charter at Ceremony

Cubmaster Peter Dunn said parents and families also will view a display of handicraft, starting at 7:15 p.m. George A. Sold will be in charge of the meeting.

Ground Observer Post Needs Finances, Staff

BIRMINGHAM — Funds and personnel are needed for the Ground Observer Corps Post to be located in Birmingham, according to Oakland County coordinator Mrs. Melvina Eberle of Milford.

She hopes that the post can be dedicated by May 1, although construction on the eight-foot-square building on the former Walker Gravel Pit property just east of the city limits on East Maple has just begun.

Funds for the building are needed. Mrs. Eberle has $467 now, and needs a total of $1,500, she says.

Glass all around is a prime feature of the small observer building which she, her husband and father designed. The trio have built three previously, in other Oakland County cities. A gabled roof shields the small building where one or two observers will be on duty night and day.

Mrs. Eberle has obtained a staff for one day but needs a captain and watchers for each of the other days. Mary Taylor will be assistant chief in charge on Mondays, and her fellow members of the Birmingham Junior League will staff the post that day each week.

Donations have included $100 from Piety Hill Daughters of the American Revolution, $50 from United Church Women, and individual gifts.

Two fund drives conducted at local banks were aided by Newcomers Club and Junior League members.

* * *

Birmingham Attorney Calvin N. Smith will soon resign from the Michigan Employment Security Commission, Governor Williams has announced. Williams says he plans to name John F. Young, of Flint, to the post.

Young would take the vacated post pending Senate approval. Another nominee, named by Williams when Smith's term on the three-man board ran out six years ago, has never been approved by the Senate, so Smith has remained until now.

Irate Listeners Slug Nat Cole

Singer Assaulted During Show at Birmingham; 6 Men Held in Custody

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Nat King Cole, singer and pianist, was attacked on stage last night by a group of white men at Birmingham's Municipal Auditorium.

An audience of nearly 4,000 gasped as the 37-year-old Cole was knocked to the floor.

Police, who had been alerted to watch for trouble, swarmed from the wings to grab three men on the stage. Three others were taken into custody later.

The attack came in the first of two concerts scheduled under Birmingham's rigid segregation laws. The first performance was for white patrons only. The second was given before a Negro audience.

"This thing happened so fast. The spot was in my eyes. I didn't see anything," he told newsmen later. "This fellow lunged up, below the stage, and hit the microphone and it hit me under the chin. I fell over the piano stool, on my back."

COLE GETS OVATION

After the attack the audience kept calling for Cole to come back.

Cole returned. The ovation he got lasted nearly 10 minutes.

"The audience was wonderful," he said. "They were trying to tell me in their own way that they do not condone such actions."

Conclude Hearings on Retrial of Dye

Arguments for a retrial of Clifford B. Dye, former Fenton village attorney who has been convicted of assault with intent to do great bodily harm, concluded yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Dye, 54, was found guilty of the non-fatal shooting of Fenton tenant farmer William C. Clark, 27, last August 26. He was sentenced to 2-10 years in Jackson State Prison.

His attorney, Clarence B. Smith, has attempted to prove to Judge Clark J. Adams that a retrial should be ordered. Judge Adams presided at the original trial.

Judge Adams will withhold decision until transcripts of the nine-day trial are finished.

GOP Plan to Bolster Civil Rights 'Headed Nowhere'

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It looks like a good, solid bet the Eisenhower administration's proposals for strengthening civil rights are headed nowhere. There's small chance Congress will approve any of them this year.

The only thing reall new about them is that the administration finally got around to sending them to Congress where bills already are pending to carry out much of what Atty. Gen. Brownell proposed yesterday.

Those bills are hung up in the judiciary committees of both houses. Neither committee has yet approved them. So none is now ready for floor action in either chamber of Congress.

* * *

Perhaps the House, where debate is limited, will pass some civil rights legislation. There the outnumbered Southern Democrats can not block action with a filibuster.

But in the Senate debate is unlimited. And there the Southern Democrats can, and almost certainly will, filibuster to death any civil rights bill brought up. There can be no new civil rights law unless both houses approve.

* * *

The last attempt to get the Senate to act on civil rights legislation was in 1949 when the Truman administration moved to carry out some of the civil rights promises it made in its victorious 1948 presidential campaign.

The Senate's Southern Democrats filibustered 18 days. The Truman administration then gave up. For the rest of its term, which ended in January 1953, it didn't push civil rights legislation again.

The Republicans, who controlled Congress from January 1953 to January 1955, didn't try either. Neither have the Democrats, who regained control of Congress last year, pushed for civil rights laws up to now.

* * *

Brownell asked Congress:

1. To authorize President Eisenhower to create a six-man commission to be appointed by him—with Senate approval — to study the civil rights problem, investigate civil rights abuses, and make recommendations.

* * *

This commission's life would be two years. Brownell asked that it be given power to subpoena witnesses. This would mean it could go into the South or anywhere to investigate, hold hearings, and force witnesses to talk under pain of going to jail if they refused.

2. Give the Justice Department far wider scope and a bigger staff for handling civil rights problems and investigations. Brownell asked for a civil rights division in the department, which now has a civil rights section in the criminal division.

* * *

3. A new law to prevent threats or intimidations against an individual's voting rights.

4. A law to speed up the machinery by which the Justice Department can use the federal courts for acting in civil rights cases, including the right to bring civil suits against violators.

* * *

In both House and Senate, in addition to bills covering much of what Brownell suggested, are anti-lynching measures which would permit punishment of two or more persons who committed violence upon anyone because of race or color.

President Ready to Ask Use of GIs in Middle East

Middle East war tension remains at the explosion point.

This was indicated in a statement issued at the temporary White House at Augusta, Ga., four hours after President Eisenhower arrived there. The statement emphasized that the President and Secretary Dulles regard the Middle East situation with the utmost gravity.

At the same time Mr. Eisenhower left no doubt about his continued belief that a solution of the Middle East dispute must be found through the United Nations. During his press conference last week the President told newsmen that he never would send American forces into any action which could be interpreted as war without prior approval of Congress.

Reflecting the worsening situation, the Augusta statement emphasized his readiness to ask Congress for authority to use U. S. troops if U. N. votes to quell any Middle East aggression.

Despite this latest pronouncement, however, there is nothing in sight to indicate any change in the Administration's opposition to Israel's request for $63,000,000 worth of arms. The official view is that the Israeli enjoy definite military superiority today over all their Arab adversaries combined.

It also is known that the Government fears that more arms to Israel would increase this superiority and encourage those among the Israeli who advocate preventive war. Thus, whatever critics may say of U. S. policy, it clearly isn't founded on indifference to Israel's security as a nation.

Alarming though the situation is, it isn't hopeless. Neutral military experts still believe that U. N. Secretary General Hammarskjold has a chance to save the collapsing Arab-Israeli truce.

Pan American Day

Saturday, April 14, Pan American Day, is important for most nations of this hemisphere. Because our House of Representatives will not be in session then, suitable ceremonies consisting mainly of "appropriate remarks" are to be held in the lower chamber on Thursday.

For the formal observance in Washington, Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of the President, has been chosen as the principal speaker. The choice is a happy one as he made many friends in Latin America three years ago during his tour as a representative of the Chief Executive.

Pan American Day this year marks the 66th anniversary of the formation in 1890 of what is now the Organization of American States. Until recently OAS was known as the Pan American Union and it remains the central permanent organ of OAS.

The oldest association of nations functioning in the world today, it is composed of the United States and 20 Latin American republics. Most populous of the latter countries is Brazil with an area larger than that of the United States. While our northern neighbor, Canada, is not a member, Ottawa long has followed the policy of co-operation with OAS countries.

★ ★ ★

Over the years OAS has proved its value as an obstacle to the spread of communism. Despite Russia's unceasing efforts and despite considerable Communist strength in Central and South American States, the Reds are making little or no trade progress.

Butter Surplus Gone

According to Government reports, the once lamented butter surplus has vanished.

Three years ago the huge supply in Government storage totaled 858,000,000 pounds. Today, thanks to the unceasing efforts of the Eisenhower Administration, this oversupply has been reduced to 33,500,000 pounds. Because that relatively small amount is committed under the disposal program, the Government actually can say it now has no excess butter.

★ ★ ★

Much of this stock went to U. S. agencies abroad for distribution in 30 foreign countries. Part of it went to homefront charitable institutions and to the school lunch program. The International Co-operation Administration accounted for part of it as did the Army, and 10,000,000 pounds was devoted to industrial use and research.

★ ★ ★

As everybody knows, of course, the disposition of this surplus could not be accomplished without loss. Counting the amount sold below cost, that given away and storage expense, the bill to the taxpayers came to nearly $300,000,000.

Something Wrong With Our Act?

Eisenhower Statement on Mideast Crisis Is Open to Various Interpretations

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—If the Eisenhower administration has a plan for preventing Middle Eastern war, it hasn't been stated. Nor, if war begins between Israelis and Arabs, is it clear whether this government will try to stop it with armed force or a debate in the United Nations.

* * *

This lack of clarity about U.S. policy may discourage the Israelis and Arabs from big fighting. Or it may have the opposite effect.

NO DEFINITE STAND

A careful reading of the White House statement issued this week after a conference between President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles shows this country is not saying precisely what it will do. The key sentences said:

* * *

"The United States, in accordance with its responsibilities under the charter of the United Nations, will observe its commitments within constitutional means to oppose any aggression.

"The United States is likewise determined to support and assist any nation which might be subjected to such aggression. The United States is confident that other nations will act similarly in the cause of peace."

CAN MEAN ANYTHING

Those two paragraphs could mean any of a number of things: that Eisenhower, with congressional approval, would send armed forces into the Middle East to stop a war; or send one side or the other supplies; or ask both sides for a cease-fire; or ask the U.N. for united military action.

If it just meant getting into a debate in the U.N., a quick war might be over before the debate was.

* * *

Dulles called in congressional leaders yesterday for a briefing. It's possible, although officials discount the idea now, that Eisenhower may ask Congress to do what it did for him in 1955 when Formosa was threatened by the Red Chinese; authorize him to use armed force as he saw fit to stop an aggressor.

NOT IDENTICAL

Whether that did it or not, the Red Chinese quieted down. A similar congressional authorization in the Middle East might not have the same result. The situation there is not identical.

* * *

In 1950 the United States, Britain, and France agreed on the subject of Israelis and Arabs: "The three governments, should they find that any of these states was preparing to violate frontiers or armistice lines, would, consistently with their obligations as members of the U.N., immediately take action, both within and outside the U.N., to prevent such violations."

'ACTION' IS THE WORD

That agreement, made under the Truman administration, has never been repudiated. But that doesn't mean Eisenhower will think the agreement is practical now.

The agreement didn't talk of armed force in so many words. It said "action" would be taken. Action can take many forms. The picture is different from 1950 when this country was far ahead of Russia in atomic development and the Russians were not involved in the Middle East.

So perhaps this country may not wish to carry out the 1950 agreement. Britain and France have their hands full in Cyprus and in North Africa.

* * *

What neither the United States, Britain nor France is providing now — as far as Middle East peace is concerned — is leadership.

Looking Back

Fresh Wheat, Milk Fill Baby's Nutritional Need

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

"Your pamphlet 'Wheat to Eat' inspired my wife and me to go out to find a coffee grinder, a little old-fashioned hand mill, you know. We began grinding some plain wheat every morning and started our baby on it at the age of three months. We had expected it would take some careful experimenting to get the baby to take it, but we had no trouble at all. He took it well from the very first, and he is thriving on it. We did not dare tell our relatives what we were doing. Some of them had cautioned us about the dangers of feeding a young baby anything 'rough.' We just listened respectfully, held our tongues and secretly churned the old coffee grinder every morning.

"Now that the relatives are remarking how healthy, rugged, tall, and active he is we feel that the time is approaching to confess that he has had whole wheat cereal from the start.

"We have made it a policy to give him milk first, so that he takes more milk than some babies his age who get little else." (R. S. C.)

I know of no other food or combination of foods that more adequately fulfills the nutritional requirements of a baby.

Your son is lucky. His parents have not only more than ordinary intelligence about nutrition but also the gumption to lay in a supply of plain wheat and get cracking.

To start any baby on plain wheat, grind the wheat fresh every day, or at least every other day, and keep the ground wheat in a cool place. Mix a level teaspoonful of the ground whole wheat with milk, broth or mashed ripe banana and feed it to the baby from a spoon, morning and evening. Increase the amount every week until the baby takes several spoonfuls night and morning.

One good effect of freshly ground wheat in the baby's diet is to antidote the castor oil, magnesia, cascara, and other physics so commonly inflicted on babies.

Another good effect is to tone the entire digestive tract—to keep stomach and bowel functioning normally. This is attributable to the increased intake of vitamin B, of which wheat is the best food source.

Any baby fed fresh ground wheat is lucky. Not just the baby but every member of the family should consume a reasonable amount of freshly ground, cracked, or entire wheat daily to promote vite and functional efficiency.

In the vite book I give an outline of the basic health diet—a corrective, protective, reduction, rejuvenation, regeneration diet plan. Each person uses the outline as a pattern on which to build his own diet. Say, by including one or more of the recipes given in the wheat pamphlet.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

'Complacent Nation Faces Impending Depression'

The unemployment situation is growing steadily worse. Can it be possible for a nation to survive one depression and go into another one as complacently as the American people are doing?

It took ten years for the first major disaster of this nation to occur . . . from the early twenties to the big business failure in 1929. Where is the discrepancy in our form of government?

Governor Williams has tried to straighten out the unemployment situation by raising the small pittance the unemployed get at the present time to an amount somewhat equal to the earnings of the worker. His effort during the milk strike went unappreciated and some of his political enemies used that as a weapon to weaken his stand as governor and potential president.

The American people have never fully recovered from the first depression. Had the government stepped in and kept the food and rental prices down from 1940 on, this coming disaster would never have reached maturity stage.

Inflation is upon us, and Washington magnates are still worried about Europe, and are devoting their time to getting this country into another war, which won't be cold, I assure you.

Let us hope that Governor Williams, a man of the people, for the people and by the people, will be elected for president if he runs.

Mr. Whitehead Expresses Appreciation of Family

We, the parents of Saundra Whitehead, have always been proud to be residents of Pontiac. Since the tragedy of last Monday morning, we have been made doubly so.

We have never known that friends, our neighbors, shops and church people could help so much in our greatest trial. By every possible method aid was rendered. We surely thank everyone.

To the Pontiac Police Department, a very special gratitude for their consideration of the family.

Soviet Builds Up for War While Talking Neutralism

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The Soviet Union, which seeks dismantlement of U. S. bases by appealing to "neutralist" sentiment in the West, today maintains the world's biggest army and largest submarine fleet.

Moscow also has an air force approximately equal to that of the United States in numbers, and has a total of 400 or more usable airfields in Eastern Europe alone.

Official estimates show that Soviet airfield construction has increased steadily since World War II in forward areas, including the satellite belt subjugated during and after the war.

Of the 175 Soviet ground divisions there are 65 divisions that are tank and mechanized striking forces. If one includes the satellites the total Russian and East European force totals more than 6,000,000 men under arms. Satellite divisions have almost doubled since 1947.

* * *

Western officials estimate the numerical strength of the Soviet air force at 20,000 aircraft. This total has not changed much in recent years but there is a significant factor: In 1951 only about 20 per cent of these planes were jet-powered. Today all Soviet first-line light bombers and fighters are swift jets.

CAUSING WORRY

* * *

The Soviet navy has more than 400 submarines — in service. About half of these are large or medium ocean-going types. The Russian navy used to be an orphan in the military services but now it is one of the most powerful in the world. The submarine arm is stronger than the Nazi U-boat fleet which caused such havoc.

The Soviets, by official Western estimates, also have a vast military stockpile and have developed strong capabilities in the nuclear energy, chemical, biological and guided missile fields.

Traditionally, Russian power has operated on interior lines dictated by its own land mass. It still has this advantage, plus long-armed aerial and naval abilities.

* * *

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense powers actually are holding only a Western rim of Europe. The main member, the United States, is a distant arsenal. Therefore the NATO powers in event of war will depend mainly on sea communications for supplies.

DIFFICULT QUESTION

* * *

The United States is rated the foremost military power in the world today, not because of numerical strength but because of its vast industrial ability to back up a war machine.

* * *

Even in the industrial field, however, the Soviet Union admittedly has made and is making great strides to close that gap in the East-West struggle.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Dr. Crane Says Mother's Smoking Can Be Damaging for Unborn Baby

Wives, if you are expecting a baby, then be consistent. Don't pray to God to give it healthy body and a brilliant brain, but meanwhile sabotage your prayers! The American Medical Association has told you the facts about cigaretts. So don't force your babies to become smokers even while they are in the womb!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"But we have been arguing about our forthcoming baby," her husband explained.

* * *

"In six months we expect to be parents. And we both smoke pretty heavily.

"I didn't think much about it till I heard that the Journal of the American Medical Association refuses even to accept advertisements for tobacco.

"If cigarettes are able to produce cancer in tough adult human beings, would they have any injurious effects on an unborn baby?

"For example, would Marsha's use of a package of cigarettes per day be likely to make our baby deformed or feebleminded or something?"

PREGNANCY FACTS

It is true that the American Medical Association refuses to accept tobacco advertising, for it considers cigarettes so dangerous to adult human health that it will not even, by innuendo, lend its scientific approval to such an injurious habit.

The much publicized connection between cigarettes and lung cancer is just one evidence of health damage. But that is actually minor compared to the deaths from heart attacks that are induced by tobacco.

"Then why do many doctors smoke?" young people will often inquire.

Well, most of them acquired the cigarette habit while they were also teenagers in high school. And it is difficult to break any habit, once you become addicted to it.

Cigarettes are able to irritate the lining of blood vessels until those vessels get so scarred and thickened that blood will hardly flow through them. This is Buerger's disease.

And the two vital coronary arteries that nourish the heart muscle itself, also thicken until the victims get sharp pains and cannot perform their normal duties.

* * *

A coronary thrombosis simply means the scarred "stalactite" tissue from the top finally reaches the scarred "stalagmite" tissue from the bottom, much as you have seen in caves, and then the blood flow stops.

Do you laymen think it would be wise to offer cigarettes to babies? Would you recommend teaching toddlers to smoke cigarettes?

If you say "No" then you have already answered Marsha's problem. For an unborn baby is forced to become a cigaret smoker if its mother uses cigarettes!

For a pregnant woman does the breathing and eating and excreting and smoking for her unborn baby, if she sucks on cigarettes.

And if cigarettes will erode her lung tissue and produce cancer, what do you expectant mothers think it will do to your delicate unborn babies?

Moreover, the human embryo is far more sensitive than an adult human being. A tiny drop of chemical on the mother's skin will barely leave a scar.

* * *

But that same miscroscopic speck of chemical on the limb bud of a developing human embryo can cause a stunted arm or an abnormal eye or produce other monstrosity effects.

Fortunately, God Almighty made us to be fairly resistant to injury, but don't impose on God!

If you wives are expecting babies and then smoke meanwhile, don't blame us doctors or even berate God if your baby suffers.

It is bad enough for fathers to smoke but they don't influence the baby as its mother does.

Send for my booklet "How to Stop Smoking," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. Use it to help give your baby a better break in life.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Macy's Opens Despite Strike

Gotham's Biggest Store Suffers Huge Losses as Thousands Picket

NEW YORK (AP)—Executives and nonunion help of Macy's department store—the world's largest—prepared to man the sales counters again today in place of thousands of employes on strike.

* * *

The huge store opened its doors for business as usual after the strike began yesterday. Business wasn't usual but "not bad considering," a store spokesman said.

SALES TUMBLE

He said sales tumbled 30 to 40 per cent on the first two floors of the 12-floor main store in Manhattan's Herald Square. The loss was even greater on upper floors. Elevator operators are on strike but the store has escalators.

* * *

Picket lines were as crowded as a bargain basement yesterday as 2,500 strikers ringed the giant store. Jeers and boos from the swarming pickets persuaded many customers to stay away.

* * *

The strike was called by local 1-S of the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union.

OUR DAILY BREAD—The fighting in Algeria takes its toll in empty bellies and weakened bodies. With the harvesting and transport of crops hampered on Algerian farms by rebel sabotage, Algerians face dire hunger. French authorities attempt to offset the food shortage by distributing grain to Moslem men and women, as seen above.

12 Insurance Companies in Claims Suit by Ford

TORONTO (AP) — A $905,091 suit by Ford Motor Company of Canada Ltd. against 12 insurance companies is scheduled to be heard April 30 before the Supreme Court of Ontario.

The suit arises from a strike at Ford's Windsor plant in December. 1951. The motor company claims policies issued by the insurance firms covered riots and the strike was a riot within terms of insurance coverage. Ford filed the claim three years ago.

Fresh Strawberry Tops Off Bartender's Prize Drink

By FRANK CRAWFORD

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Hic! You ever been to a bartenders' contest?

* * *

Well, this is a report on the regional finals of the national bartenders' ingenuity contest.

Let's get one thing straight. This was a most decorous contest. There was no unseemly comment, no threats or duress on the judges, some 60 in number. They simply sat and drank. Three hours later the room still was a picture of sobriety.

"GRACIOUS LIVING?"

The program said this was a contest to stimulate the art of gracious living. Too often these days, it explained, a host simply opens a few cans for his guests. Even worse, he pulls the cork on a bottle of ready mixed cocktails.

* * *

As a self-appointed kibitzer, we wish to report the art of gracious living is definitely on the upgrade. Those drinks were something to look at! Forty-five recipes had been screened from some 500 submitted.

THE WINNAH!

The proud bartenders who concocted them sat with the spectators and had a few on the house for a change, while a battery of their brethren mixed the drinks.

2 ounces of ginger ale.
1 ounce of lemon juice.

The whisky, syrup and lemon juice are shaken with crushed ice and strained into a 12-ounce punch glass over ice cubes. The ginger ale is added, and the whole business garnished with a fresh strawberry.

Hasenzahl also produced an entry in the short, stout category which took ninth place and gave him a prize take of $325 for the day. He gets a chance at the $1,000 prize in the national finals at New York's Ambassador Hotel May 14.

* * *

Joseph Grippe, St. Louis, was second and Jules Friedson, St. Joseph, Mo., third. They also will go to New York.

Kiwanis Clubs Spring Session Set for Tonight

Michigan Kiwanis Governor A. C. Locke will be the principal speaker at the Spring Divisional Meeting of Division 5 Michigan District of Kiwanis International to be held this evening at 7 at Scrib's Restaurant.

The West Pontiac Club will serve as host to the event with President Floyd Baker presiding.

Kiwanians expect this will be the largest spring divisional meeting ever held with some 150 representatives planning to take part in the affair. Richard C. Scribner, Lt. Governor of Division 5, will conduct the meeting. The assembly will consist of officers of the 12 clubs in the division.

Honorable mention awards for outstanding youth service work will be presented to five clubs in the division. The clubs to be honored are Downtown Pontiac, Royal Oak, Rochester, Ferndale, and Oak Park.

Achievement reports will be made by the clubs of the division and inter-club awards will be made also during the dinner-meeting. Music for the evening will be provided by the West Pontiac Club orchestra.

Town Guarding Against Twisters

Smashed to Pieces Last Year, Village in Kansas Posts Vigil for Others

UDALL, Kan. (AP) — Smashed to pieces by a tornado while asleep last year, this revived town has posted an all-night guard to make sure an alarm is sounded if another tornado appears.

* * *

An observation tower built southwest of town is manned from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. every night, with 114 citizens taking turns on two-hour shifts.

On the black night of last May 25 a tornado slashed through the sleeping town, killing 79, injuring more than 200 and splintering nearly every building.

* * *

With the help of the Red Cross and neighboring cities, Udall began a vigorous rebuilding program that is to be completed next September.

STORM SHELTERS APLENTY

About 75 per cent of the new houses have storm shelters. More are being built. There is a big one under the new high school.

* * *

Watchers in the tower can touch a button that sets off a screeching siren. Residents then can dive into their shelters.

The town is organized thoroughly, with a captain fo revery block.

"The block captain personally will rouse any family that doesn't hear the warning siren," Keeley said.

* * *

The siren has howled twice this month as tornadoes roared across southern Kansas. The closest twister was about 30 miles away. Udall was ready for it.

Columbus Dilemma: Illegal Traffic Lights

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Columbus officials have learned to their surprise that there's no legislation in the city code to justify location of the city's 430 traffic lights.

* * *

Members of city council's safety committee and city traffic commission were told that research of legislative acts reaching back to 1924, when the first city traffic light was installed, showed no measures authorizing location of traffic signals.

* * *

City officials were asked to prepare emergency legislation to justify the lights and to require new signed locations to be approved by city council. Meanwhile, Capt. B. P. Smith, head of the police traffic bureau let it be known that "we'll continue to enforce the law whether the light is there legally or not. If a man goes through a light, he'll get a ticket."

New State Police Post

PETOSKEY (AP)—State Rep. John Kilborn (R-Petoskey) says Michigan State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs has promised a new state police post will be established this summer in the Petoskey area. Petoskey, Charlevix and Boyne City have requested a post in their area.

Uniform Graft Evidence Culled

Senate Probers Examine Clothiers to Pry Facts Around Army Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sifting through a web of alleged bond deals, investigating senators called more witnesses today in a hunt for evidence of possible graft in the buying of army uniforms.

* * *

The Senate Investigations subcommittee summoned former associates of Joseph (Joey) Abrams, a New York garment maker, for questioning about $138,000 of bonds it contends Abrams bought in their names, and millions of dollars worth of other bonds allegedly bought under phony names.

BONDS AS PAYOFFS

The subcommittee identified the witnesses as Jack Schwartz, a one time business partner of Abrams in New York, and Atillio Musto, another former associate.

The subcommittee has placed in evidence records it says show Abrams bought $20,000 worth of bonds in the name of Schwartz and $118,000 in Musto's name.

* * *

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said yesterday the subcommittee intends to show whether bonds were used as payoffs to Army Quartermaster Corps officials, or in some income tax evasion scheme.

Abrams could not be reached for comment.

USED AS 'PATSY'

* * *

He said Abrams set him up in a garment business in 1951, and put up all the money for the operation. Rosen said he never knew, when he signed checks totaling $116,442 that year, that the money was to purchase government bonds and other securities.

Grand Rapids Hikes Retail Milk Prices

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The price of milk went up 1½ cents a quart in Grand Rapids today following agreement between two dairy farmer organizations and the Grand Rapids Milk Dealers Assn.

* * *

The dealers, in a pact with the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. and the Independent Cooperative Milk Producers Assn., agreed last night to raise the price paid to dairy farmers for 100 pounds of top-grade milk from $4.50 to $5.

The dealers immediately announced retail price of milk in stores would be raised to 23½ cents a quart.

The agreement affects all producers in the Grand Rapids milk shed, extending as far as Grand Haven, Ionia and Fremont.

* * *

Detroit area milk dealers and the MMPA agreed to the $5 price after a nine-day strike by the Fair Share Bargaining Assn., a rebel group within the MMPA.

'Helper' Zooms Away in Car After Starting It

ATLANTA (AP)—An Atlanta woman had trouble getting her car started.

A man walking by volunteered to help. She got out. He climbed in, started the engine and quickly drove away.

Mrs. Charles A. Sears reported the auto stolen, police said.

Plate Glass Window Doesn't Stop This Mom

* * *

Officers said Mrs. Tomp, 42, of suburban Downey, had been called in to get her 14-year-old son, picked up for a minor infraction. Apparently, in her excitement, they said, she didn't realize she was walking into the large, closed window at the front of the lobby.

Butler Foresees Ike Dropping From Race

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler says "it is entirely possible" President Eisenhower "might not be a candidate" in November.

* * *

In an interview here late yesterday, Butler said "a lot could happen between now and August.

"It is automatically in the minds of the people what would happen if he should be stricken with another heart attack. It will be a matter of grave concern who is nominated as his running mate."

* * *

He predicted the farm bill now in Congress would go to the President in substantially its present form.

"I think he will sign it," Butler said.

He refused to comment on any Democratic presidential candidate.

Divorced Couple to Continue Dates With Each Other

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sweetness and light marked the divorce hearing of actor Tony di Milo and Joan di Milo, and although they are going their separate ways they say they're still the best of friends.

"We bring out the neurotic tendencies in each other," Mrs. di Milo told Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle. "I make Tony cranky when he wakes up in the morning."

"We do much better when we're apart," said the husband. "We have dates and I visit the baby. We really think a divorce will make things more harmonious both for us and the baby."

Di Milo said they'll continue to have dates after they're divorced.

Hal Boyle Says:

'Out Islands' Give Full Flavor of Bahamas

Did you ever hear of the old Maine farmer who yearned all his life to see Boston?

Finally, one morning he decided he simply had to satisfy his curiosity, so he caught the early milk train to the city. That same evening he returned home on another train. Plumb tuckered out, he sat down to rest by the stove in the general store of the hamlet near which he lived.

"Well, Ezra," asked one of his neighbors, "tell us — what was Boston like?"

"To tell you the truth I still don't know," replied the old farmer. "There was so much going on in the station there, I never did get out to see the city."

Tourists who come to the Bahamas and spend all their time in Nassau, the capital, remind me of that old farmer. Nassau is no more the Bahamas than New York City, Miami or Los Angeles are America.

To get the full flavor of the Bahamas, you have to go out to "the out islands," some of the 3,000 islets and cays scattered over 70,000 square miles of Turquoise seas. To them still clings the savor of the picturesque Bahamian past.

It isn't hard to do. You can sail to many of them in a few hours. You can reach others in a half hour from Nassau by air.

One of the most interesting is Eleuthera, a curving island a hundred miles long and ranging from 1 to 10 miles in width, flung like a boomerang against the Atlantic waters.

It was here that a group of London gentlemen, calling themselves "The Company of Eleutherian Adventurers," first sought to establish a brave new world (Eleuthera comes from a Greek word meaning "freedom") in 1647.

The venture was a financial flop. Since then Eleuthera has known many economic ups and downs. It has been the haunt of pirates and shipwreckers, buccaneers and cotton barons; it has survived many a hurricane and many a heartache.

'BREAD BASKET'

Today it is "the bread basket of the Bahamas," and the site of an American missile base. It has thriving dairy and growing cattle herds.

At Rock Sound Arthur Vining Davis, the American aluminum titan, is building a multi-million-dollar resort center, complete with an 18-hole golf course designed by Robert Trent Jones, the Michelangelo of the fairways.

Wild cotton from abandoned plantations flowers on roads leading to new luxurious villas rising along the pink-sanded seashore. One is owned by Rosita Forbes, the novelist.

Every island should have a queen, and the unofficial queen of Eleuthera is Enid Bethel, a bachelor lady who drives a taxicab.

"Miss Enid" — all the 6,000 inhabitants here call her that — is a living link with the island's 300-year history. She had two ancestors among the first group of settlers who landed here.

INFORMAL QUEEN

Miss Bethel is a very informal looking queen. She has short dark blonde hair and her customary costume is a pair of slacks and a light-colored blouse. She is a very busy queen, and holds down more jobs than she herself is sure of.

She runs a guest house. She acts as agent for the Bhamas Airways and meets all the planes. She is the island's biggest real estate dealer, and owns considerable acreage herself — land that has been in her family since 1647. She also uses her station wagon as a taxi for sightseers, and pilots it herself.

Except for the period she spent in schools on the mainland, Miss Enid has spent all her life on this island, and still loves it. She has a fresh, breezy personality and an energy that never seems to wear out.

"There isn't time to get bored or tired on an island," she says, "there is too much to do."

Iron Ore Shipments Begin on Great Lakes

CLEVELAND (AP) — A total of 53,729 tons of iron ore was shipped from four U.S. ports in the first two days of the season, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Association reported today.

First boat of the season was the Wilfred Sykes, which left Superior with 18,043 tons on April 7. Other shipments left Escanaba, Duluth and two harbors by yesterday morning.

Last year at this time shipments totaled only 10,103 tons.

Poultry Loss Estimate

BARRYTON (AP)—Richard Sanger estimated losses at more than $5,000 from a Sunday fire which destroyed more than 4,500 chickens and poultry equipment on his farm. The fire burned out the interior of Sanger's three-story poultry house after a gas brooder stove exploded on the first floor.

Eagle Almost Kills Cat

MANISTEE (AP) — Mrs. Julia Rosenblum of Manistee reported to the State Conservation Department that she nearly lost a pet cat to a bald eagle recently. Mrs. Rosenblum said the eagle swooped down, picked up the cat and carried it about 100 yards across a field before dropping the howling, twisting animal.

Forest Fires Tallied

LANSING (AP) — In its first forest fire report of the season, the State Conservation Department said 20 fires damaged 12 acres in Michigan during the past week.

Bob Considine Says:

There's Lots of Leisure---Except for Mom

NEW YORK (INS)—The passing show . . .

Cosmopolitan reports that the 68,000,000 working Americans are at leisure nearly one-third of the year. Today's workers average 121 days off a year, about three times as much leisure as was rampant in 1929.

None of the above statistics goes for mothers, of course.

Couple friends of mine shared a cab with a guy they had met at a party. The guy announced in a loud voice that things were real tough with him. My friends clucked sympathetically.

". "Yeah, real tough," he griped. "Bought a new Jaguar last month—a silver blue job—and I can't take it out of the garage because the weather's been so lousy.

"And then there's my apartment trouble. I rented a beaut, a duplex on Park avenue, but I can't move into it because I can't break the lease on my old penthouse on Fifth avenue, so I'm paying for both places."

At which point he got out of the cab, and the cab driver turned around to my friends and said, "That guy's really got trouble."

NEWEST CINERAMA

Lowell Thomas' "Seven Wonders of the World," the third of the adventure-travelogues in Cinerama, is a film of breathtaking grandeur.

To capture it, Thomas and his great staff flew 100,000 miles and touched down in 32 countries. It is by far the most magnificent of the Cinerama productions.

Paul Mantz, the fantastic pilot from whose refitted B25 was photographed the "America, the Beautiful" sequence in the first Cinerama production, did most of the flying in "Seven Wonders."

I seriously wonder if the stage has seen a more gifted musical than "My Fair Lady." The pros on the theatrical pages have left no stop unpulled in showering on this musical "Pygmalion" all the praise words at their command.

This is simply an echo of what has been said about Moss Hart's magnificent production. The people don't want to leave the Mark Hellinger Theater after the final curtain.

They just sit there, still enthralled, entranced, wanting only to see more and more of Rex Harrison, Julie Andrews, Stanley Holloway and the others. Order your seats now. There are still a few vacancies for 1959.

THAT SLOW PLANE

More on Jack Frye's new four-engined airplane which is making news in the industry because it flies slow. The former head of TWA calls his craft the Safari.

It is being built for rough work, to operate from small, unsurfaced airports and haul freight and passengers at very low cost. It land at 56 m.p.h., cruises at 170, can take off and land in what amounts to jungle clearings.

There was a bit of confusion among the guests at Eva Gabor's wedding to Dr. John Williams the other day.

The question was whether to stand or remained seated during the ceremony that was about to take place in the bride's handsome living room. Finally, one old friend of the Gabor family settled things.

"We always stand at Zsa Zsa's weddings, so why not at Eva's?"

Extermination—Cheap

HONG KONG (AP)—Chu Kuang, mayor of Canton, reports his people destroyed 127,276 rats and 38,457 sparrows in the first nine days of March. The Chinese Communists recently started a drive on pests. Chu predicts Canton will destroy all sparrows and rats in two years, flies in three years and mosquitoes in four.

The state convention will be May 5 in Detroit.

Iraq, Despite Obstacles, Could Emerge as the Leader of the Arab World

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—Iraq is the bright spot in the Middle East. But against the background of Middle Eastern politics the outlook is becoming increasingly gloomy.

* * *

Left to herself and her forward-looking, hopeful program for the future of her people, Iraq surely would become the leader of the Arab world. But there are tremendous obstacles — the threat of war, the threat of Soviet power to the north, the peripheral threat of Red subversion, the eternal feuds, intrigues and jealousies of the Arab world.

FEUD IS AGELESS

A Saudia Arabian feud with the Hashemite family ruling Jordan and Iraq is deep and centuries old, the Saudi Arabians fear that Iraqi leadership will lead one day to a powerful union of Iraq, Jordan and Syria.

* * *

Iraq is governed by a statesman-like premier, Gen. Nuri Said. His government seems worried. Boy King Faisal II's Hashemite cousin Hussein holds the shaky throne of Jordan, to the southwest. If a Saudi Arabian, Egyptian and Palestinian-Arab intrigue should overthrow young Faisal, Iraq would lose her steadying influence in Jordan and probably in Syria too and might be forced into a compromise with the Egyptian-Saudi-Syrian bloc which is hellbent for subverting the Baghdad Pact.

Like the fellah in Egypt, the barefoot Iraqi peasant has been unchanged over the centuries. He lives in the same mud hut with his cow, chickens or goat. Like Egypt's fellah, the average Iraqi is ridden by a variety of diseases. Like his Egyptian cousin he knows little of international politics. But he hears Cairo radio in the coffee houses or friends' huts and hears about Israel and the wounds, real or imagined, of the Arab world.

* * *

Anyone interested in making trouble for the government can buy a riot easily. He can hire selected rioters for 30 cents each to key a riot and others will join for the fun of it. Riot leaders — a combination of hard core communists and other elements — direct riots as sheepdogs direct flocks.

DANGEROUS MAN

There is danger — great danger —to the West. A charming man with a disarming manner is one of the most dangerous foes in the Middle East of Iraq and the west.

* * *

Tall, affable Khaled Bagdash, orator, writer and leader of disciplined Syrian and Lebanese communists, attended Moscow's 20th party Congress in February. Long after the noisier and more prominent Red leaders left, Bagdash still was there. He had much to talk over with the bosses and it concerned Middle East oil.

Across the territory of Syria run pipelines which carry at least 30 per cent of the Middle East oil from Iraq and the Persian Gulf, pipelines of the Iraq Petroleum Co. and American Tapline. If the Communist party could make an alliance giving it a measure of control in Syria, it could deal both Iraq and the West a heavy blow.

* * *

GOING TOO FAST

Under the 1950 Iraqi development law 70 per cent of oil royalties, now more than 250 million dollars annually, goes to public works and 30 per cent to the government-operating budget. But even this program has dangers. The program may be going ahead too fast, bringing inflationary pressures. Nuri is being advised by Westerners to complete the groundwork first. This includes first ending the threat of disastrous floods.

A Middle East war would be a serious blow to the hopes Nuri and Iraq have placed in this program.

Westerners say Nuri might be strengthened if the United States joined the Baghdad Pact. Outside the pact as an observer the United States has all the disadvantages and none of the advantages of a member. The pact now includes Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Pakistan and Britain.

* * *

But laudable aims are insufficient to insure this country's future. Unless the Israeli situation somehow is settled, Iraq is in as great danger as any other Middle Eastern country—and the West is western policies have few friends.

Seeks Fund Transfer

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — City Manager Donald M. Oakes said Monday he will ask the city commission to transfer $10,000 from the contingent fund to a special disaster fund to meet overtime of hundreds of city employes who helped in the tornado disaster cleanup last Tuesday night.

World tobacco production for 1955 reached a record high of 8,130,000,000 pounds, an increase of 2.3 per cent over 1954.

Kefauver Ends Jersey Junket

I'll Get the Nomination, Is Comment Repeated on 5-Day State Tour

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver left for Washington early today after a five-day campaign in New Jersey for the state's 36 votes in the Democratic convention.

The lanky Tennessean said he figured on winning from 16 to 20 of the possible 56 district delegates in next Tuesday's primary. He predicted he "will go to the convention as front runner and I will get the nomination."

Kefauver said he will protest to the New Jersey secretary of state about the inferior ballot positions given his slate of delegates in three counties.

The senator concluded what he termed a successful tour through Hudson County earlier in the day and then delivered talks in Perth Amboy, Freehold, Sayreville and Irvington.

A compromise farm bill, worked out in a House and Senate conference, comes up in the House today and Kefauver indicated he wants to be on hand when the Senate votes on the measure.

Gleason, Como Given Peabody TV Awards

NEW YORK (INS)—Saturday night television rivals Jackie Gleason and Perry Como were honored together today with a "double" Peabody Award for distinguished achievement in TV entertainment.

The Gleason-Como award and 14 other George Foster Peabody awards and citations were announced by chairman Bennett Cerf and presented by dean John H. Drewry of the University of Georgia's Henry W. Grady school of journalism.

Cerf explained the double award by pointing out that comedian Gleason and singer Como "split the television audience on Saturday evening almost squarely down the middle," and so it was fitting that "the same pattern" be followed in handing out awards.

Underwater Watch Great Aid to Divers

BIENNE, Switzerland (INS)—A wrist watch found waterproof at conditions simulating those encountered at 600 feet below the surface, and which automatically warns by means of a pre-set danger dial when a diver should emerge, has been developed by Swiss watchmakers.

In addition to being foolproof against designated pressures, the timepiece is also self-winding and resistant to salt corrosion.

The new and revolutionary watch is considered a boon to both professional and amateur divers. It was factory-tested at depths simulating 600 feet, and in collaboration with submarine experts was checked in actual ocean performance at depths ranging from 40 to 200 feet at temperatures ranging from 54 to 82 degrees.

The latter tests were made with the winding stem pulled out to setting position to fully verify water resistancy. No evidence of humidity was found.

Grace Kelly Will Kiss Holy Relic

To Pay Homage to Saint Devote After Wedding

By OLGA CURTIS

MONTE CARLO (INS) — Grace Kelly's first duty as a princess of Monaco will be to kneel in the dust of her new country and kiss the principality's most sacred relic.

* * *

She performs that duty shortly after noon, April 19, the day of her wedding to Prince Rainier III in Monaco's cathedral.

Minutes after she leaves the cathedral, Grace will pay humble homage to St. Devote, the patron saint of Monaco.

The bridal car that will take Grace and Rainier along the processional route to the palace will stop before the little mustard-colored church of St. Devote, huddling between two steep hills and their pastel stucco villas.

There are seven pages in today's Women's Section

* * *

On the gray, flat steps of the church will stand a repository containing the precious relic of the virgin martyr saint.

SHE WILL PRAY

Grace will leave the bridal car and kneel before the repository. As her lavish bridal gown spreads around her on the rough street, she will pray.

Then she will kiss the relic and give to St. Devote the bridal bouquet every girl has dreamed of touching.

The Prince will stand to one side as Grace kneels in prayer. When she rises, the proud Rainier will help her back into the car, and the couple will ride up the crowd-lined streets to the palace overlooking Monaco.

Nothing will endear the new princess to Monacans more than her humility to St. Devote.

* * *

Centuries-old tradition says the young girl saint was martyred in Corsica when she was speared to death for refusing to give up her faith.

HURLED INTO SEA

Legend says her body was hurled into the Mediterranean and was found by fishermen who brought it to Monaco in a sailboat.

Monacans have considered Devote their patron saint for 100 years. Her shrines are present in every church.

Spring Fever Hits MSU Students

By BARBARA JOHNSON

EAST LANSING—Now that registration at MSU has commenced, students are over one of the worst dreads of each term. The enrollment increased 11.7 per cent over last term and is the largest spring enrollment ever.

* * *

Students who registered on Monday had a great advantage over those who did so on Tuesday and today because they got the greatly desired morning classes, giving them afternoons out in the nice weather.

Actual classes begin Thursday and everyone will have a good time getting acquainted with new professors and classmates.

A lot of confusion mounted in Berkey Hall this week as students discovered the new "traffic" rules. Because of the congestion, two doors were designated as "out" only and two as "in" only.

* * *

Also certain stairways are for up traffic while others are only to be used going down. Until everyone gets used to these new rules, there will be a lot of pushing and turning around in BH.

STRICT RULES

The university administration has enforced strict smoking rules on campus. The new ordinance prohibits smoking everywhere but in the union and in dormitories.

* * *

Many attractions are being featured for the entertainment of all who wish to take advantage of them.

The annual "Ice Capades" began Monday and will run every night for a week in the Ice Arena. Twenty acts and 10 production numbers compose the show.

Highlighted are "Humpty Dumpty on Ice," "Dragnet" with the actual voice of Jack Webb, "Tropicana" and "American in Paris."

A semiformal dance was held in Shaw Hall Friday night. The affair, "Lullaby of Birdland," was sponsored by the Interdorm Council.

HAPPY RIDERS

There are many signs of spring on campus other than the chirping of the birds and the splashing of the ducks in the Red Cedar River. One of these is the carloads of collegians riding around in convertibles and drawing envious glances from the less fortunate.

Another significant sign is the crowded tennis courts. Oddly enough, there has been a waiting line at the courts for the past few afternoons.

In keeping with the outdoor mood, baseball games are constantly being held on the lawns of the dorms.

PEO Group Meets With Mrs. Matson

Mrs. Charles Matson of Denby drive entertained the members of Chapter CL, PEO Sisterhood, on Monday.

Mrs. James Henderson presented the program on current events, using the quiz technique. Plans were announced for the annual party for the husbands to be held May 18 at Haven Hill.

Family Enjoys Annual Sugaring Off

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur MacFadyen and children, Gilbert, James, Susan and Mark, of Garland avenue traveled to Moline over the week-ed to the farm home of Mrs. MacFadyen's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Gilbert.

Forty members of the Gilbert family gathered there for a co-operative dinner held outdoors, following which they boiled the maple syrup gathered from the farm and made maple sugar candy. This event is enjoyed annually by the family.

St. Dunstan Guild Will Stage 'Ladies in Retirement'

Two of the unbalanced sisters in the production "Ladies in Retirement," to be presented by St. Dunstan Guild, Cranbrook, Friday and Saturday evenings and again on April 20 and 21 are "Miss Louisa" and "Miss Emily Creed." Taking the roles are (left) Mrs. William Martin of Birmingham as "Louisa" and Mrs. John H. Warner of Birmingham as "Emily." The drama will be presented in the St. Dunstan Playhouse.

"Ladies in Retirement" is a story which takes place in England in 1886. Mrs. Wherry Martin of Birmingham (left) plays the part of "Miss Fiske" and Mrs. Robert H. Porter of Birmingham is cast in the role of "Ellen Creed." Miss Creed is concerned with securing a place for her two rather unbalanced sisters, and she will gain this security whether by fair or foul means. The play opens Friday evening in St. Dunstan Playhouse, Cranbrook.

Albert and Lucy engage in a little romance in the St. Dunstan Guild production, "Ladies in Retirement." Albert is the not-so-nice nephew and Lucy is the maid. They are portrayed by Francis T. M. Loud of Birmingham and Ann Noblet of Birmingham.

Arrow Slim Frocks Are in Fashion

* * *

Lingerie and foundation designers are making up for the lack of rustle in slinkier designs by offering women the posy look — colors and trims as pretty as a flower garden.

Even bras and girdles are being embroidered nowadays with buds and intertwining vines in dainty pinks, greens and blues.

Think of a color and you're bound to find a shade of it in slips this year — including flame, yellow and violet.

In Chicago, women are taking advantage of the colorful emphasis in lingerie by using home dyes to tint faded slips and other undergarments in pastel or brilliant hues.

* * *

As the lingerie buyer for a department store put it, "this gives the lingerie or foundation garments a new life. And a lot of women are coordinating their color scheme inside and out. They're matching the color of their bras girdles and slips to their dresses."

New Straight Hats Spotlight Your Eyes

Eyes are in the fashion picture this spring. Mascara and eye shadow are beauty essentials for the smart woman who wants to look chic in the new spring fashions.

The new hats, most of which are worn straight on, call attention to the eyes. For drama with the new slim clothes and big hats, try to achieve an Oriental look for the eyes.

Asks How to Exclude Youngsters

Children Are Not Wanted at Dinner After Christening

By EMILY POST

A letter explains: "I am faced with the problem of inviting guests to a dinner following my baby's christening. When our first baby was born we also gave a large dinner after the christening.

"No mention was made of the children in the invitations but in spite of it several of the guests brought their children along and they were very disrupting. Unless an invitation includes our 3-year-old daughter we never take her with us.

"I would like to avoid another occurrence of this. Will you please tell me how I can correctly word the invitations so that they will not bring their children along?"

"Dear Mrs. Post: One of the girls in our office is going to be married in about a month. Several of us would like to go to the church service.

"We have not received an invitation to the wedding however and we are wondering if it would be proper to go to the church ceremony without one. Some of the girls feel that a church is open to everyone and that it would be quite all right to go, but we want to be sure to do the right thing."

Answer: Unless you know that the ceremony is to be private, going to the church would be entirely permissible. Of course you would not go on to the reception uninvited.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the proper way to eat spaghetti. Is is eaten with a fork alone, or does one use both a fork and spoon?"

Answer: A fork alone is correct. A few pieces are held against the plate with the end of the fork, which is then twisted to wrap the spaghetti around the fork. The spaghetti is then conveyed to the mouth.

Newest Flattop Hat for Males Sets Style Note

NEW YORK (INS) — Car styles have gone to men's heads.

Just because auto lines are getting low-slung, and auto tops are getting flatter, so are men's hats. For proof, just walk into a men's haberdashery and ask for a "flattop."

It'll turn out to be something new in men's hats — a soft felt hat, fedora-type, but with an absolutely flat crown that's a full inch lower than crease-crowns.

"Makes a difference easing into a low-topped car," says the proud inventer of the "flattop," hatmaker Harry Rolnick of Garland, Texas. Rolnick says his new hat shape doesn't look low, although it is, because it has a narrow brim and an extra wide band. The bow of the band is set in back instead of on the side as usual.

The "flattop" hat, which was designed to provide clearance when sitting in a low-topped car, is being bought even by men who don't own cars.

"It's got that porkpie dash but mature, see?"

Toastmistresses Meet

Mrs. George Gaches served as toastmistress for the Tuesday meeting of the Toastmistress Club at Hotel Waldron.

Speakers for the evening were Mrs. Gerald Mc Leod, whose topic was "My Views on Religion"; Helen Turek, who talked on "Disaster Planning," and Helen Lapisch, who discussed "Rooms I Remember".

Mrs. Ivan Wilcox, Mrs. Robert Bunce and Mrs. Robert Sutton served as critics. Mrs. Louis Davidson was grammarian.

Chief evaluator was Mrs. Clayton Rule. Mrs. Evelyn Cole was timekeeper for the evening and Mrs. Arthur Vernon was tail-twister.

An educational program was introduced by Mrs. Rule. Mrs. Sutton spoke on "The Fundamentals of Delivering a Good Speech."

Mrs. Leland A. Clemence, an honorary member of the club, gave the members highlights of her recent trip to New York City for the showing of 1956 fashions.

Mrs. Milton Freet, club president, announced that a Council Four meeting will be held Tuesday by Redford Toastmistress Club. Three area speech contest winners will vie for the honors to represent Council Four at the northwest regional conference in Columbus, Ohio, May 11 to 13.

Junior Performers Show Their Skill for Musicale

Members of the Tuesday Musicale are shown with Jerry Libby, guest pianist, at their Tuesday program held in Grace Lutheran Fellowship Hall. Shown (standing, left to right) are Mrs. Paul A. Kern of Henry Clay avenue, past president of Tuesday Musicale; Mrs. Ralph O. Allen of Cooley Lake road, coordinator of junior clubs, and Mrs. Gordon Woolcock of Mohawk road, newly elected president.

Guest Artist Jerry Libby Offers Piano Selections

By GOLDA HOGUE

Tuesday Musicale enjoyed yesterday afternoon at Grace Lutheran Fellowship Hall one of its most inspiring days of the year, when members of the four junior clubs sponsored by Tuesday Musicale presented a program of delightful variety and excellent performance.

The final selection of students heard in the concert was made by three judges from Birmingham Thursday Musicale and Rochester Musicale. At present there are four junior clubs with a membership of 125 and enough on the waiting list to require the starting of a fifth club in the near future.

Membership is open to any student in the Pontiac area from first grade through 12th, the only requisite being that he or she be a student of music.

* * *

Matinee Musicale, including all from first grade through the sixth, was well represented by Karen Bronoel, cellist, who was heard in the Thompson arrangement of "Nobody Knows the Trouble I See," and three pianists, Ann Fisher who played "Rondo" by Spindler, Joyce Livingston who presented "Sonata" by Beethoven and Carol Norvell, heard in "Castanets" by Rebe.

MOST PERFORMERS

The Student League, which includes seventh and eighth graders, produced the largest number of participants for the day: Kenneth Brown in a trombone solo, "Autumn" by Pinard; Pam and Penny Nicolls in a piano duet, "Norwegian Dance" by Grieg; Karen Hayden, soprano, in "Where My Caravan Has Rested" by Lohr, and pianists Janet Livingston in "Scene from Childhood" by Schumann and Jerry Exline in "On the Trail" by Grofe.

From the Junior League (9th and 10th graders) were three pianists: Dorothy Annas who played "Valcik" by Mokrejs, Jay Hall who presented "Contra Dance" by Beethoven and Judy Haroutunian who chose "Sonata" by Haydn.

Jack Horner and Judy Huntworth represented the Senior League (11th and 12th grades). Jack's selection was "Scotch Melody" by McDowell and Judy's was "The Maid With the Flaxen Hair" by Debussy.

Other outstanding young artists were the three accompanists of the day, Joan Grahek from the Moment Musicale Club and Linda Libby and Lynn Thompson from the Student League.

Pianist Jerry Libby, a former junior club member, now a student at the University of Michigan School of Music, warmly justified the faith of his former Pontiac teachers and counselors for he showed remarkable progress and gave a fine, artistic account of himself.

The clean-cut precision of his first Bach Prelude No. 15 was in direct contrast to the smooth phrasing and scholarly interpretation of the Beethoven Sonata, Opus 14, No. 2.

Feigned Interest Won't Win Man

By ANNE HEYWOOD

* * *

I think of this often when I read articles or hear speeches about how you should pretend to be fascinated by "his" hobbies, how you should join churches just to meet eligible men, how you should take courses in nuclear physics or whatnot just because there are lots of men in those classes.

These pieces usually go on to suggest that you get a job in a field that is full of men—any old field, as long as the boys are there.

Such advice, it seems to me, assumes men are so dumb they'll think you're truly interested in nuclear physics or in your job in the commercial solvents business, or whatever.

* * *

The men I know are not that stupid. We were discussing this the other night, and one man spoke up.

TO SNARE MAN

"I'm taking a course in technical and industrial writing," he said. "The class has about 10 men and three women in it. I'll never know why the women are there unless it's just to snare a man. "Not one of the women works in the field or seems really interested in it. They pretend to be, ask all kinds of questions, act as if it's just too fascinating. But their questions are a dead giveaway. It's really embarrassing and stupid. We all wish they'd just give up the act and get out of the class.

The point is that there's nothing wrong with a class in technical writing, or nuclear physics for that matter, if the girl is really interested in it.

If she is, she'll look interested, she'll attract men. If she isn't, she'll just look pathetic, silly and embarrassing. The same thing goes for church meetings and for jobs.

* * *

Go after what interests you and, in turn, you'll interest the men.

Men aren't stupid. If you join anything just to meet one and get married, you are going to show your hand. The boys are going to run a mile!

A new lipstick color that's redder than pink, pinker than red, is now on the market. The shade is a sure-fire formula for prettiness whether you're blonde, brunette or redhead. The hat, by Mr. John, is a face-framing straw with a widely rippled brim.

Job's Daughters Plan for Class, Friendship Night

Bethel 40, International Order of Job's Daughters, met Monday evening at Roosevelt Temple. Sharon Livingston presided at the business meeting.

* * *

Plans were made to attend a corporate church service at Kirk in the Hills on Sunday at 9:30 a.m. Members desiring transportation are to meet at the temple at 8:45 a.m.

Announcement was made of the proficiency class to be held at the home of Judy Lacy on South Ardmore avenue on April 19 at 7:00 p.m. and Friendship Night to be held at the temple on April 23 at 7:30 o'clock.

* * *

That Romantic Paris Look

PARIS (INS)—If you want to look Parisian here are some rules for 1956:

* * *

Look romantic, not provocative.

Wear tops with boat or T-shirt necklines and sweaters in sky-blue, honey or white rather than in scarlet red or black. Choose dresses with conservative polka-dot or romantic flower prints in preference to picasso-ish or "cute" patterns.

Don't look boyish.

Wear a white collar, a bow or a rose at the neckline. Go in for full skirts and show your waistline by belting it firmly.

Turn your hair into a french twist at the back if it's growing longer. Or wear it smooth on top and puffed out over both ears if it's still short.

These romantic styles call for self confidence . . . and they also give it.

Rainy Day Toybox Keeps Tots Happy

A special 'rainy-day toybox' will keep youngsters happy. Supplies of colored paper, paste and blunt edged scissors plus the added feature of oilcloth aprons will keep the young set clean and occupied on rainy afternoons.

Lucky 13 Gathers

KAREN SAMPSON

Save Those Appliance Guarantees

EAST LANSING (INS)—If you think your portable radio, refrigerator or some other appliance is jinxed, give it a second thought.

Maybe you aren't giving that appliance the proper care; perhaps you don't know where to get it serviced; and did you know that it had a guarantee?

Linda Nelson, home management instructor at Michigan State University, says much of this kind of information comes with our modern appliances.

Her solution to the problem is this: Collect all the pamphlets and papers that come with appliances. Get a loose leaf notebook, some large manila envelopes gummed labels, scissors, a paper punch and a pen and ink.

Punch holes in the left side of each envelope so that the envelope will fit in the notebook. Then cut down the front side of the envelope to form a pocket into which you can put the materials.

Miss Nelson suggests that you label the right hand side of each envelope for each piece of equipment such as freezer, vacuum, range, washer, dryer, mixer, etc.

After you have put the envelopes in alphabetical order, the notebook is ready for the shelf in your kitchen or business center.

Miss Nelson adds that you can also save laundering and dry cleaning instructions for your new clothing this way.

The bride wore a floor length gown of pleated tulle and scalloped lace for the 8 o'clock ceremony performed by the Rev. Malcolm Burton in the presence of 300 guests.

Pleated tulle and Chantilly lace outlined the portrait neckline. Panels of Chantilly lace accented the bouffant tulle skirt. The bridal bouquet was of alstroemaria, Demure roses and fern.

* * *

Jacqueline Spratt, maid of honor, was gowned in a white nylon tulle ballerina-length dress with a tulle jacket over pink taffeta. Bridesmaids Ann Gilles and Mary Mapley were gowned identically with jackets of tulle over blue taffeta. They carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations.

Weight Diets Ruin Health of Teenagers

A subject that seems to give doctors the universal willies is that of teen-agers' weight-losing diets. They are wild, out-of-proportion and damaging to the health.

This, of course, doesn't include the dotor's prescribed diets for weight, skin conditions or gland problems.

Teen-agers do need a relatively higher-caloried diet than their elders. Many of them are still growing and all of them are undergoing bodily changes that eat up the energy. All teen-agers seem to live energetic lives.

This can't go on for long without a loss of looks far more serious than the five extra pounds.

But a teener puts herself on a diet and frist cuts out milk, potatoes, all fats and bread. She loses the calcium she needs for her teeth; she lose the vegetables she needs for her skin; she lose the small amount of fat that gives her hair luster and she loses the wheat elements she needs for her reproductive system.

Saves You Work

A child's playroom can be outfitted so that it requires little housekeeping. A tile floor needs only a quick mopping using hot sudsy water and will not be damaged by play materials. The same durable surfacing is ideal for bookcase shelves and toy storage units.

Add your personal touch to a set of towels for your kitchen rack, or for a gift to that bride-to-be. These attractive designs are quickly and easily embroidered in colorful cross-stitch.

Bacterial Acid Action Causes Tooth Decay

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Recently the American Dental Association made a survey of more than 15,000 white males to determine the dental needs of different age groups. It is the rare man or woman indeed who never has to have a tooth filled. Ninety-eight per cent of the population have tooth decay at one time or another.

It is important to brush the teeth immediately after eating whenever this is possible.

The survey I mentioned showed that at 4 years of age teeth needing fillings average 3.05. This increased until the peak between the ages of 15 to 19. After this there is a regular decline until the age of 60 when there is a big drop, to less than one tooth needing filling.

Tooth decay may begin any time after the baby teeth appear and may be a real problem by the age of 3. It is important to take care of the teeth, both the primary ones of the child and the permanent ones.

Do you know just what causes decay or caries? Research has shown that the foremost cause is the action of certain bacteria which cause fermentation. This in turn produces an acid which attacks the tooth enamel and structure. This is particularly true in the case of carbohydrates, especially sugar.

* * *

Whether or not decay occurs depends on many factors, mainly how long the acid is in contact with the tooth and how strong the acid is. The dental plaque also plays a part. This plaque is a gelatin-like substance which sticks to the teeth and forms a shield for the bacteria and acid. This prevents the saliva from washing the acid and bacteria away.

BRUSH IMMEDIATELY

The greatest damage occurs within 30 minutes after eating and in some instances within a few minutes afterwards. Therefore, you can readily see why it is so important to brush the teeth immediately after eating whenever this is possible.

The parts of the tooth which are most likely to suffer decay are the crevices and fissures, and the parts which are in contact with adjoining teeth.

Tomorrow: "Brush Teeth After Meals, Visit Dentist to Deter Decay."

Use Dates for Filling Crumb Pie

Mrs. Allen Rolls Graham Crackers for Crispy Crust

By JANET ODELL

Change Looks With Hats

PARIS (INS)—This spring you can look like a princess, a nun, an oriental pasha or even a Gibson girl—anything goes, Paris says, as long as you wear a hat.

* * *

For girls who want to look like princesses there are brimless spring hats which consist only of crowns. Claude Saint-Cyr, the Paris milliner who also creates chapeaux for Queen Elizabeth of England, has come up with a toque hat of myrtle-blue net draped to width and height. It is worn pulled well down over the ears.

Hat designer Albouy shows a pillbox headcover of white felt which is worn dead-straight. By adding a shoulder-length flounce of net veiling Albouy creates a nun-like look with a Parisian accent. This net flounce, reaching form one temple over the back to the other, leaves just the face free as does nun's veil.

FOR SPRING IT'S SIMPLE

Casual elegance is one fashion authority's prediction for spring. The hair is swept off the face in soft waves and the smooth uncomplicated lines is chic and very easy to control but as always there are some who will not look their best in this coif. Some facial features and some hair textures such as fine, fluffy or wirey hair textures will not adapt to this sleek off the face hairdo. Take Care of Your Heart by Following 6 Pointers

NEW YORK, (INS)—The American Heart Assn. recommended today six "Resolutions" to help you take care of your heart.

"Good resolutions," the Association suggested, should begin with a determination to let facts — rather than worrisome fears — govern your attitude toward the heart diseases."

It then recommended the following "resolves" for everyone's list:

1. To learn the facts about the heart and its diseases, and to avoid needless fears and worry.

2. To shun self-diagnosis in favor of regular heart and health checks by your own physician.

* * *

3. To guard against excess weight, remembering that overweight overworks your heart.

4. To get the sleep and rest you need, because rest lightens the work your heart has to do.

5. To keep fit by exercising moderately and regularly. But, remember act your age and don't try to prove that you have the physical stamina you had 10 or 20 years ago. Strenuous exercise may not harm a healthy heart, but the danger is real if your heart and circulation are not in good order.

6. To be alert to the dangers of respiratory infections which are more common during the winter months, and may place an added strain on the heart. Prompt medical treatment for such infections is important, especially for "strep" throat, which may be the forerunner of rheumatic fever and

Let Child Be Responsible for Pet

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

During World War II, Emil's parents had a house big enough to shelter them, their two children and four boarders who worked in a nearby shipyard. We were their neighbors.

* * *

When Emil got his puppy, his parents let him keep it on condition that they took pains to make very, very clear: Rags stayed only if Emil took full responsibility for his behavior.

I remember the first Monday after Rags' arrival. At about 20 minutes past noon Emil came running down our block, the paper bag of lunch he'd decided to eat with Rags clutched in his hand.

* * *

Then, before beginning the sprint back to school, he'd fill Rags' dish with fresh water and spread clean papers on the floor of the cellar room where he was struggling to teach Rags the manners that would win him social acceptance.

12 TOO YOUNG

Do I think a child of 12 is too young to take some responsibility for a pet?

* * *

The correspondent who wants to know writes, "For my grandson's 12th birthday, I gave him a Scottie pup and a book of instructions on dog-training. But instead of encouraging him to look after it, his parents have taken over its care.

"Last Sunday, I found his father washing the dog while the boy looked on. His mother feeds and cleans up after it. They say it's not fair to the youngster or the pup to give a boy of 12 these responsibilities . . ."

Emil was 10 years old.

But then his mother took to responsibility like a duck to water. She loved shopping, planning, cooking and cleaning for her big household. Since she never questioned her own capacity to meet her responsibilities, it just never occurred to her to question her child's capacity.

* * *

I'm afraid it's as simple as that.

If my correspondent wants it in other words, here are some from "The Only Child" by Norma E. Cutts and Nicholas Moseley:

"The benefit in owning a pet depends like everything else on the parents' attitude. They must be willing to let the pet be the child's; to leave him all possible care; and if he consistently neglects the care, to dispose of the pet."

Betty Joan St. Charles became the bride of William Hotchkiss Saturday morning in St. Michael Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. St. Charles of Chamberlain street. He is son of Mrs. William Morgan of Fairgrove avenue and Walter Hotchkiss of Oxford.

Betty St. Charles Speaks Her Vows in St. Michael

Baskets of white gladioli and lilies decorated the altar of St. Michael Church Saturday morning when Betty Joan St. Charles and William Hotchkiss were married in a Nuptial Mass.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. St. Charles of Chamberlain street are the parents of the bride. William is the son of Walter Hotchkiss of Oxford and Mrs. William Morgan of Fairgrove avenue.

ATTENDS SISTER

Mrs. Richard Schaeffer, sister of the bride, was gowned in a ballerina-length dress of violet nylon and silk with small cap sleeves for her duties as matron of honor. She carried a bouquet of turquoise carnations. Her headpiece was of matching nylon net.

* * *

The other bridal attendants, Ann Marie St. Charles, Maxine Dafoe and Mrs. Ted Goemere, wore gowns similar to the matron of honor's in a turquoise shade. Their flowers were violet-shaded carnations.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in Niagara Falls. On their return they will make their home on Murphy avenue.

Still-Rigid Rules Guide Males in 'Hatiquette'

CORSICANA, Tex., (INS) — Since the first knight tipped his helmet visor to the ladies watching the jousting, the do's and dont's of hat wear have been a social problem to men.

Now a Texas hat manufacturer will try to establish "hatiquette" in booklets, displays and other materials about the lore, romance and rules of wearing men's hats.

A man must tip his hat an inch from his head to show respect when greeting a lady in the street, when greeting a man who is accompanied by a lady, or when a lady being accompanied greets a passing lady or gentleman. You don't salute, or just touch the brim, Parrill warns. The hat must leave the head.

DO'S AND DONT'S

In crowded business elevators it is now considered unnecessary to remove a hat since the space is needed for extra passengers. But in an elevator with ladies in a residence, club or hotel a man is still expected to remove his fedora.

Men can wear caps in the city during leisure hours. They are fine for strolling around the city streets or in the parks on a week-end, but they are taboo for places of business.

A hat can be worn indoors if it's the lobby of a post office or other public building, but it should be removed in clubs, art galleries, residences and such.

Parke-Davis Develops New Anti-Cancer Drug

DALLAS, Tex. (INS)—Dr. Harry M. Crooks Jr., of Parke, Davis and Co. of Detroit, reported a new anti-cancer drug today to the American Chemical Society in Dallas.

The drug, nick-named D.O.N., is reported at least 50 times more effective in slowing one type of cancer in mice than azaserine, an antibiotic used in cancer research.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Wurzburg's Department Store contributed $5,000 Monday to the Red Cross "Disaster Fund" for assistance of tornado victims. Kent County Red Cross officials said checks for $1,000 already have been recieved by the fund from the Grand Rapids Herald and the Grand Rapids Press.

Wild Egyptian 'Commandos,' Fedayeen, Create Terror in Quarters of Israeli

By CHARLES P. ARNOT

* * *

All other news about Egypt's super-secret commandos, known as El Fedayeen, comes from the Israelis.

So far as Egyptian communiques are concerned the Fedayeen do not exist. Every correspondent who even has mentioned the name Fedayeen has received a curt "no comment" from official military spokesmen.

That is all the Egyptians have said, or apparently intend to say, about Israeli charges the Fedayeen staged a dozen lightning raids Saturday night while ranging 20 miles inside Israeli territory beyond the furrowed border of the sandy Gaza strip.

MIDNIGHT RAID

(Israel charged today that Egyptian commandos staged a midnight raid on an Israeli settlement that is only five miles from the border of Jordan.)

Cairo's censored newspapers published without comment the entire Israeli version of the latest Fedayeen raids even quoting an Israeli spokesman calling the attacks "murderous."

But officially the Egyptians refuse to acknowledge that there were any attacks at all.

The Egyptians gave the same silent treatment to Israeli claims the sneaker-shod Fedayeen guerrillas last September fanned across Israel, mined roads, shot up army trucks and dynamited the voice of Israel radio just 15 miles south of Tel Aviv.

Behind Egypt's spreading curtain of military security, now stretching across the whole area eastward from Alexandria to the Gulf of Aqaba, activities of the Fedayeen are the nation's best kept secret.

SELF-SACRIFICERS

Translated literally, El Fedayeen means self-sacrificers, or sort of an Egyptian version of the Japanese Kamakazi.

Some of them are recruited from Palestinian Arab refugees and thus are adventurers without a country who are said to know Israel's terrain because it once was their own.

Others are strong young Egyptians who reached the Fedayeen by volunteering after serving in the National Guard.

They are experts in ambushes, hit-run attacks and night raids. They are said to be the closest thing to Britain's famed wartime commandos and America's island-hopping Marines ever seen in the Middle East.

The British discovered how tough the Fedayeen were to suppress when the Egyptian bid for control of the Suez Zone reached a violent peak in 1952 and 1953.

ELITE CORPS

But it is known that there is an "elite corps" which was handpicked especially for the most dangerous assignments. Some of these experienced guerrilla fighters are being integrated into regular Egyptian army units.

The Fedayeen organizational set-up and their total forces are so top secret that not even a majority of these commandos themselves know much about their own units.

"They were using live grenades, real Molotov cocktails in what was called a mock attack from ambush. It scared me half to death just to watch them."

Chapter No. 5 (Condensed) . . . The Truth About Cancer

Dr. Quack Is Sly Creature Who Does Much Harm

By DR. CHARLES S. CAMERON, Medical and Scientific Director of the American Cancer Society

Since many cancer quacks conduct their business quietly, it is difficult to say how many there are, and how much harm they do.

But it also includes many who have cancer who could be cured and who throw away their chances of life.

There are three kinds of cancer quacks. First, the dum quack. He knows not, and knows not that he knows not. He is an uneducated, ignorant person who, knowing nothing at all about cancer, yet believes that it will yield to the secret formula which he alone possesses.

It may be "mind science" or, more likely, a brew of herbs. Such quacks are generally small-time operators.

Then there is the deluded quack. He often has some background of education and may even have an M. D. degree. But his knowledge of cancer is scanty, and his understanding of research methods limited.

Finally, there is the dishonest quack—far and away the commonest type. He knows not and he knows he knows not. He is a sly, shrewd character wholly without scruples and moral sense.

And by kidding the bewildered or ignorant or frightened patient with curable cancer into trusting that he can avoid the dangerous knife and the terrible burns of X-rays and still be cured, the quack takes his victim's life—not as quickly, but just as surely, as if he had used a bullet instead of his worthless pastes and pills.

If potassium iodide has any specific effect on the growth of cancer, it is one of acceleration!

Cascara sagrada is stocked in many bathrom medicine cabinets and its cathartic action is well known. It is utterly worthless as a cancer remedy.

Another cancer "treatment" is purveyed by a pair who operate a "clinic" in the basement of a church in a large eastern industrial city. The man of the team was formerly a tire salesman, and the woman, before expertising cancer, managed a cafeteria.

Their secret "medicine" was smuggled out by a newspaper reporter. On analysis by laboratory scientists, the medicine proved to contain water, vinegar, fly specks and insect wings.

A variance of the internal remedy is the injection or shot. The modern quack recognizes the respect in which intelligent people hold honest medical practice, and he cashes in on it.

One of these nostrums, "glyoxylide," repeatedly analyzed, cannot be distinguished from plain water! Yet "glyoxylide"—straight from the faucet—continues to be distributed, and it still earns the irregular practitioners who use it whatever the traffic will bear.

Other types of shots given by the cancer racketeers are supposed to be vaccines. There is no logical basis at this time for the use of any kind of vaccine in treating cancer.

A major quack in the Far West claims to have found the virus responsible for cancer, and, although his claim and his evidence are held to be fantasies by all reputable virus experts, he treats human patients with his vaccine.

GRAPES A CURE?

Several of the better-known quacks make special diets the basis of their cancer treatments. In the grape cure, the patients eats as many grapes as he has time for during his waking hours. This is about as far as once can go in the direction of simplicity and naivete.

At the other extreme is the cancer-cure diet which excludes meat, eggs, and other staples of balanced fare, and relies on lettuce, liver, fruit juice, and vitamins.

Machinery, especially electrical machinery, is mighty impressive to those who don't understand much about it. One such device was found to have nothing inside except a senseless jumble of wires.

So much for some of the treatments given by cancer quacks. There are a great many others, but we can hardly go into them here.

Many people who patronize quacks do not have cancer, never have had it and have never been told they have it. They are neurotic, fear-ridden folk who must always be worrying about something—usually their health.

Perhaps the most pathetic of the quack's clientele are to be found among the patients who could have been cured had they followed through with the original treatment planned for them, but who cut it short for the enticing mirage of quackery.

A good many of the quack's patients are the unfortunate ones who had cancer when they came to him, who still have it and who are doomed to die from it.

In desperation, they clutch at any straw, and they will spend their last cent, even beg and borrow, to do it.

It can be argued, of course, that the quack is not responsible for their deaths, and that he actually brightens their lives for a few weeks with his rosy promises.

But these dubious advantages must be weighed against the probability that their lives are shortened and their discomfort increased by the quack's ministrations, and against the certainty that their hopes will end in blight, their savings in Dr. Q's pocket.

Last in the quack's patient line-up are those who have cancer—early cancer—and who have a better than even chance of being cured by effective treatment.

Here the dishonesty of the quack appears at its ugliest. He encourages and aids such patients to abandon their only means of salvation, leading them instead down the path to certain death.

There have been proposals that fact-finding committees of doctors competent in the field of cancer be established in each state to evaluate any and all claims having to do with new or unaccepted treatments of cancer.

California is showing the way. The Cancer Commission of its State Medical Society has assumed such fact-finding responsibilities.

It has published a number of valuable reports on the lush variety of cancer treatments which blossom so richly in that sunny clime.

Education of the public must continue to be the bulwark against the tide of quackery.

First, because quackery flourishes in ignorance, fear and superstition, it cannot withstand the light of reason.

And second, legal and professional measures to check the quack menace can be effective only if the people want them to be.

Goiter Growth Negligible Among Users of Sea Salt

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

DALLAS (AP)—Someday you may sprinkle your food with ocean salt to give yourself some vital spices of life and health.

* * *

Ocean salt is rich in these and more than 30 other minerals, besides the sodium chloride of pure table salt.

ORDINARY SALT

These potentialities in sea salt were described today to the American Chemical Society in a report by Drs. Arnold E. Schaefer, Olaf Mickelsen, R. B. Ing, and the late H. R. Sandstead of the National Institute of Health and National Institute of Arthritis and Medabolic Diseases, U.S. Public Health Service, Bethesda, Md.

* * *

About 70 per cent of sea salt is sodium chloride or ordinary salt; the rest is traces of all the other minerals. Many people over the world eat only ocean salt.

GOITER UNKNOWN

Goiter, caused by lack of iodine, is virtually unknown among them. Rickets from lack of calcium is not common, even though many of these people don't get enough calcium in their foods.

Many also avoid anemia from lack of iron because of iron in sea salt, the scientists said.

People in some areas of India have far less tooth decay than children in Boston, yet their drinking water contains about the same amount of fluoride, credited with building teeth resistant to decay. The Indians may get their fluoride protection through sea salt, the report said.

The scientists cited a Rutgers University study which found that pigs receiving sea salt gained more weight and appeared superior to pigs eating regular salt.

A successful process of preparing sea salt as a white, free-flowing material containing all the sea minerals was reported by J. A. McMillan Jr., Trace Elements Corp., Kingsville, Tex., and Vernice C. Cook, Dixie Chemical Company, Houston, Tex.

After 5 Marriages and Some 51 Years

Connie Bennett Still Possesses Angel Look

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Constance Bennett was every man's dream of heaven in 1931 and, although she has not lived a strictly angelic life in the interim, she is still remarkably celestial to look at.

* * *

After five marriages, three children and roughly 51 years worth of this earth, the glamorous one need only say "Will someone give me a cigarette, please?"—to assure herself a whole carton.

"Youth?" she mused, when asked how she retains her little-lined face and skeletonesque figure. "It's being happy and enthusiastic and not bored with life.

"Aaaah!" she snorted in her basso profundo. "If I get three hours sleep I'm lucky. Not even do I have facials—which I probably need, but please don't say so."

SLACKS AND HEELS

The eldest of the three famous daughters (Connie, Joan and Barbara) of the fine Broadway actor, Richard Bennett, was sitting at a table in a bar. Drinking tea.

* * *

She wore slacks and high-heels for which she apologized ("Dreadful, I despise myself!") and on her face was what is best summed up as a whimsi-cynical expression.

"I'm not the sit-still type of woman," she said, lifting an eyebrow gracefully. "I've got to be doing something, but of course being from a stage family I like to do challenging things. I won't walk half a block down the street, but I'd climb a whole mountain in skis, is what I mean."

The latest challenge Miss Bennett has accepted is a nightclub act, which she will open tonight at Miami Beach, and on April 24 in the ultra Cotillon Room of New York's Pierre Hotel.

"The whole thing frightens me to death, me singing with my basso profundo," said Connie, looking about as scared as Ted Williams at bat. "But I couldn't find a play, and I had to do something, and I thought this would be fun."

BROADWAY TOO

As it turns out, as soon as she signed to sing for the supper club habitues, a play did turn up—a John Steinbeck trilogy called "The Best of Steinbeck." She will perform it on Broadway in September.

* * *

But "meantime, I shall be singing everything from French lullabies to rock 'n' roll in the nightclubs. Fighting every night, no doubt, with the doctors who suggest operations on my larynx."

Since the age of 15 years, when the European-educated, smoky-eyed Miss Bennett wed her first husband, life has been a series of matrimonial ventures.

She married Chester H. Moorehead, University of Virginia student; Philip Plant, mining millionaire; the Marquis de la Falaise, wealthy ex of Gloria Swanson; Gilbert Roland, movie actor; and finally—literally finally, presumably—John Coulter, jet pilot and vice commander of the 85th Division, Eastern Air Defense Command.

Of her past life, which has been fully in accordance with Connie's philosophy, she expressed no personal regrets.

"Only I tell my kids," she says nonchalantly, "I'll beat their brains in if they ever try to do what mama has done."

Bear Outlasts Man in Test of Nerves

TRENTO, Italy (AP) — Woodchopper Lionello Troggio looked up from his work in a nearby forest and saw a bear watching him.

Troggio thought it best to continue chopping. Maybe the bear would leave.

He chopped for five hours. The bear watched.

Then Troggio's nerve cracked. He dropped his axe and ran to safety.

Pastor Gets $6 for Robe Stolen 50 Years Ago

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP) — The pastor of a small country church near Millville is looking for a parishioner who lost a horse-and-buggy laprobe to a thief 50 years ago.

The Rev. Leslie Payne has six dollars which the reformed thief mailed to the Chicago Corner Christian Church with a request the money be paid to the robe victim.

Long - time - resident Oscar Adams says he remembers the incident. Adams does not recall the robe owner, but he says parishioners took turns guarding each other's buggies during church services after that.

The letter was mailed in Indianapolis. It said the pastor should put the money in a church fund if the robe owner is not found.

"Evidently he has been converted," Rev. Payne said of the thief.

Stolen: 1 Automobile; 'Thief': Finance Company

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The police radio dispatcher today instructed squad cars to disregard a previous notice of the theft of a citizen's automobile.

"The car is not stolen," he explained, "the finance company has gotten it."

Baptists Appeal for Racial Unity

Southern Group Issues Resolution for Peaceful Relations; Ike Has Copy

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A joint appeal by Southern Baptist leaders urging all Christians, white and Negro, to adopt the Christian spirit in race relations has been acknowledged by President Eisenhower.

* * *

Dr. C. C. Warren of Charlotte, N.C., president of the Southern Baptist Convention, said a copy of the resolution issued by 28 Southern Baptist leaders was sent to the President a week ago.

"The President wrote us a note of thanks for our willingness to aid and do what we could to ease the tensions in the Southland," Warren said last night.

* * *

The resolution was issued in response to a request from the Advisory Council for Work with Negroes, a group serving with various agencies in Southern Baptist life.

Signers included Dr. Theodore F. Adams of Richmond, Va., president of the Baptist World Alliance; two former convention presidents, Dr. J. D. Grey of New Orleans and Dr. Louis D. Newton of Atlanta; and presidents of eight Baptist universities and seminaries. They said they signed as individuals.

Sign of Spring: Poetic Sailor Discovers Love

LEONARDO, N. J. (AP)—The Navy has encountered spring and poetry.

* * *

Bruce Nichols, a radarman assigned to the ammunition ship Great Sitkin, tied up here, was due back April 13 from a 10-day leave.

But yesterday he sent this telegram from University Park, Pa., to the skipper:

"I like my ship and all the men,
"So when I left I took but 10.
"Well, here at home it's spring, I find.
"I've met a thing that changed my mind.
"Now I'm in love as ne'er before,
"So, please sir, grant me 20 more."

The skipper, Capt. N. D. Gage, of Newport, N. H., couldn't give him 20 but granted another 10. He replied to Nichols:

"Comprehend your yen.
"Can give you but 10,
"On the 23rd to end."

HOLLAND IN SPRINGTIME — 3
Anneke Carries Water Home

Here is Anneke, a Dutch girl from Volendam on the edge of the Zuyder Zee. She is carrying water. Behind her you can see a row of Dutch houses.

She wears a wooden yoke on her shoulders, so that she can carry two well-filled pails and still have both hands free.

Fasten a string through the left hand bucket in the hole indicated. Put it through the hole in the end of the yoke. Bring it back across her shoulders, through the other end of the yoke and into the hole in the bucket at the right side.

Make the string just the right length for the bottom of the bucket to reach about the edge of Anneke's apron. Balance them evenly, so that they will not spill their contents.

Donation Bolsters His Belief in Santa

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Robert Tice received $5,412 yesterday to pay his hospital and medical bills.

* * *

"I've always believed in Santa Claus and now I know that he really does exist," said Tice who is still recovering from critical injuries received in an automobile wreck shortly before Christmas.

* * *

For many years Tice has played Santa for handicapped and shut-in children. The money was contributed by residents of the area.

The weight of the fuel alone carried by a modern jet bomber weighs more than a fully loaded World War II B17 bomber.

'Can'ts,' 'Won'ts' and 'Don'ts' Top Traffic Violators

EAST LANSING (AP) — Most traffic violators can be divided into three classes, the "cant's," "dont's" and "wont's," the fourth annual Michigan traffic court conference was told Tuesday.

* * *

Edward R. Curtis, staff consultant for the American Bar Assn., described the three types before nearly 100 traffic court judges attending the session continuing today at Michigan State University.

The "cant's" should not be on the road, he said. They are not qualified either physically or mentally to be behind the wheel and should be screened out by testing.

* * *

The "don't" lack skill and judgement and don't know the rules. They need instruction and education.

The "won'ts" won't respect the law. They need stiff penalties.

* * *

"Early driver training and stiff licensing laws are the utmost importance," Curtis told the judges. "When you accept the position of judge, it's your job to screen out the violators and recommend the right treatment."

French Official Visits

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Maurice Couve de Murville, French ambassador to the United States, will be in Grand Rapids May 9 and 10 as guest of the Grand Rapids Council of World Affairs, East Congregational Church and the French Society of Michigan. He will address the Women's City Club and the Rotary Club May 10.

Lost: One Sick Pilot, Found: One Airplane

* * *

Lost—one pilot. An unidentified man says he found the pilot unconscious. When the pilot last was seen he was conscious and being taken to a hotel by a farmer.

* * *

Sheriff Russel Turpin says he wouldn't beleve the story if he had not seen the plane late yesterday. Turpin said a paper in the plane listed the name of James A. Bell, 36, Stark, Fla.

Called Home by Storm

Kentucky Prisoners Protest; Flood Jail

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — Harlan County jail may hold prisoners but it doesn't hold water.

The water seeped through the second floor, down to the first floor lobby and into the office of the circuit court clerk.

'Mental Health Bill Will Pass'—Coleman

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek) predicts final approval of his "brains instead of bricks" mental health proposal when the Legislature reconvenes May 10.

* * *

The bill got hung up in the House Ways and Means Committee during inter-chamber frictions near its scheduled April adjournment. It passed the Senate.

Coleman described the measure as that needed to give Michigan the "most forward looking mental health program of any state."

The bill, sponsored by Coleman, a half dozen other Republicans and Sen. Garland B. Lane (D-Flint), calls for stepped up training for psychiatrists and other specialists in treatment of the mentally ill.

An appropriation of $200,000 is included for a start in this work, under supervision of the University of Michigan regents.

Hudsonville Tornado Claims Eighteenth Victim

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Tornadoes which swept western Michigan eight days ago have claimed their 18th victim.

Haven Hamming, 82, of Hudsonville, died yesterday at Butterworth Hospital. He was admitted in critical condition after the twister struck his home. Twelve other persons were killed in Hudsonville, 10 miles southwest of Grand Rapids.

The Grand Rapids area counted four dead and one woman was killed in a tornado which hit her farm home near Thompsonville, southwest of Traverse City.

Buttons and Barton Give Top Cafe Performance

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Red Buttons made his Copacabana debut, and my son Slugger—who's on vacation—and I thought he was stupendous especially when he told of his good old school days in New York City "where we had recess every half hour, just to carry out the wounded."

BUTTONS

"I'll tell you how poor we were," Red said. "When we got a phone call, we had to run upstairs to the candy store."

Red and the grown-up Eileen Barton gave the Copa one of its very best shows. Eileen echoed the distress of many folks when she said: "Saturday night is the awfulest night of the week . . . choosing between Gleason and Como . . . you got to call for a bromo . . ."

Cypriot Guerrillas Kill Britisher in Ambush

FAMAGUSTA, Cyprus (AP)—Anti-British guerrillas ambushed a patrol some 10 miles west of Famagusta last night, killing a British soldier.

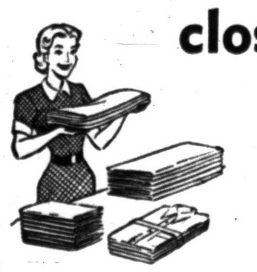

He was the 25th British serviceman killed since the Eoka underground launched its campaign of violence a year ago. Eoka and other pro-Greek Cypriots demand that the east Mediterranean island now a British colony, be united with Greece.

The troops cordoned the village and searched it for two hours.

The use of nuclear fission is based on the discovery of the movements of astronomical bodies, Prime Minister Lord Brookeborough of Northern Ireland, told a Belfast meeting.

Tel-Huron's 16 Merchants Launch Anniversary Sale

Officials of Tel-Huron's 16 stores looked back upon two years of achievement this week and announced plans to kick-off a 10-day celebration of the shopping center's second anniversary.

The event will begin today when each of the business establishments will participate in a sale which will be climaxed with the award of a trip to Disneyland for a family of three.

Outlining plans for the observance, Fred Niedelson, president of the Tel-Huron Assn., explained that the community will be invited to join the celebration via a special promotion program consisting of newspaper advertising and decorations.

Visitors will be eligible for the trip to Disneyland and other prizes by stopping in Tel-Huron stores and picking up tickets.

Pontiac City Affairs

Decision on Carnival Date Delayed by Commission

The Marine Corps League and Amvets Post 16 will have to wait another week for an answer from the City Commission on whether they can stage a 10-day carnival in the city in May.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles (District 4) last night requested a week's postponement of a second request from the veteran organization for a carnival to be held May 21 through May 30 on Montcalm street between the Grand Trunk Railroad and a bowling alley in this area.

Miles asked for the delay in order that he may investigate the area and also allow the police department to check to see if the carnival would be within the law in this vicinity.

Last month, the commission rejected a similar request for a Oakland avenue site by the group because several residents voiced objections.

Other action in the brief meeting last night included a report from the City Plan Commission approving the amending of a proposed ordinance which will prohibit automobile bumping, painting, or refinishing in Commercial 1 zones in the city.

A public hearing is scheduled for next week on the ordinance.

The commissioners also heard another report from the plan group denying a request to rezone to Commercial 1 property on the north side of Perry street between Giddings road and Galloway Creek.

Public hearings were held on the following public improvement projects with the assessor authorized to prepare assessment rolls and report to the commission April 24:

Curb, gutter, grade, gravel and related work for Cedardale and Bondale avenues from Earlmoor to Howland, Strathmore avenue from Baldwin to Carlisle, and from Prall street from State to Washington.

Further business saw the city engineer instructed to prepare an estimated cost for sidewalks for Third street from Ivy to Laurel after a petition was received last night requesting the work.

Another petition, this one for paving Gladstone Place, was offered as a public necessity by Commissioner John E. Carry (District 6).

City Clerk Ada R. Evans announced that the seventh annual regional meeting of the Michigan Municipal League will be held May 2 at the Birmingham Community House.

In final action, the commission approved the transfer request of a SDM and SDD license at 570 S. Telegraph Rd., and approved a second request of dropping two partners from the Pfeiffer Oakland Distributors' wholesale license.

Japan to Pay Dutch

TOKYO (UP)—The upper house of Japan's Parliament today approved an agreement to pay 10 million dollars in indemnities to 110,000 Dutch World War II internees.

State Jet Base Hassle Brewing

House Faces Problem of Final Site: Manistee or Kalkaska

WASHINGTON (UP) — The House today was faced with the problem of what to do about Michigan's two-year jet air base hassle.

Chairman Vinon (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee has left it to the lower chamber to decide between Manistee and Kalkaska counties, Michigan, as the site of a multi-million dollar jet base.

"From a military standpoint we (the committee) decided either one of the (sites) meets the necessary requirements, Vinson said yesterday in opening debate on a two-billion-dollar military public works bill.

"The House can make the choice," he said.

* * *

The Armed Services Committee voted almost unanimously last month to switch the site from Kalkaska to Manistee.

Originally the site of the base involved other proposed locations in Michigan—Cadillac in Benzie County and Long Lake near Traverse City.

* * *

Today the House votes on a military construction authorization bill, which contains a $2,965,000 item for the Michigan base. Two years ago Congress voted 8½ million dollars to start construction.

The Air Force has spent about $500,000 so far on the Kalkaska site. Supporters of this location maintain that changing the site, as approved by the committee, means complete loss of that sum.

The Air Force has told Congress that construction costs at Manistee would be about one million dollars more than at Kalkaska and that annual operational costs also would be higher.

Catana, second city of Sicily, is built on nine layers of lava poured out by Mount Etna. Three are prehistoric, the last as recent as 1669. Modern eruptions have not reached the city, although several flows have nearly touched it.

Chicago Test Case Draws Retrial Jury

CHICAGO (UP)—Selection of a jury continued today in the trial of two Chicagoans on a charge of possessing $12,000 worth of allegedly stolen photographic film.

* * *

Kenneth C. Gordon, 34, and Kenneth McLeod, 40, were convicted in 1951 and give 10-year sentences but the conviction was overruled in 1953 by the U. S. Supreme Court on technical grounds.

The retrial in U. S. district court had been continued from last fall when attorneys for the two men asked for and received a continuance. They claimed newspaper articles about the case precluded the selection of a fair jury.

* * *

Two prosecution witnesses were shot before the start of the first trial. Albert Schwartz, a Detroit jeweler, was assassinated in May 1951 before he could testify. James I. Marshall, Ferndale, Mich., jeweler, was wounded in late 1950 but recovered in time to testify.

Texas Politicos in Showdown

Gov. Shivers Battling Sen. Johnson for Control of '56 State Delegation

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Two of Texas' top political figures today dug in for a finish fight on who will lead t he state's 56-member national Democratic convention delegation.

* * *

They were Gov. Allan Shivers and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, both experienced and aggressive battlers who up to now had avoided an open clash.

Both Shivers and Johnson accepted their backers' proposals that they stand as candidates for leadership of the delegation to be chosen at the May 22 state convention. Each said he wasn't seeking the job, but would take it if the majority so voted.

Johnson spoke in a statewide radio and television broadcast last night. A few hours earlier, Shivers made his position known in a written statement in Austin.

SHIVERS NO; JOHNSON YES

Shivers said that he would not accept the favorite son presidential nominee role. Johnson said he would accept the favorite son spot if the convention majority wanted it that way.

Neither the senior senator nor the governor mentioned the others name. They have insisted their differences over party policy are not personal. Johnson said he was not interested in entering a "popularity contest." Shivers — who is ending his third elective term as governor — said he has "no personal ambition." He is not seeking re-election.

* * *

But Shivers took another shot at his old political foe, U.S. House Speaker Sam Rayburn, who originally suggested Johnson as delegation leader and favorite son. Shivers and Rayburn have been fighting since Rayburn headed the Adlai Stevenson campaign in Texas in 1952 while Shivers bolted to support the GOP's Dwight D. Eisenhower.

TV Allows Pals to Visit Patients in Taboo Wards

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Now it's possible to "visit" hospital patients with communicable diseases without making direct contact with the patients.

* * *

"Visit-vision"—a new electronic gadget which permits this—was displayed today at the annual convention of the Ohio Hospital Assn. It was first introduced at Morristown, N.J., earlier this month.

Here's how it works:

* * *

In the patient's room is a miniature television camera with a viewing screen and a special telephone. The hospital lobby would have the same equipment.

* * *

The visitor, from the lobby, dials the channel tuned to the paticnt's room. Visitor and patient then have a full view of each other and may carry on a telephone conversation without fear of germ transmittal.

Montreal Regains Cup With 3-1 Win

MONTREAL (AP)—Montreal Canadiens' fearsome weapon, the explosive power play, broke loose in all its fury over a stretch of less than one minute last night and the prized Stanley Cup was whisked from the hands of the Detroit Red Wings.

Two big goals in the second period and another early in the third before the Red Wings could score gave the Canadiens a 3-1 victory and the best - of - seven National Hockey League final playoff series, four games to one.

* * *

It was fitting that all the scoring for the NHL champs was done by the Canadiens' big three — Jean Beliveau, Maurice (Rocket) Richard and Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion. Alex Delvecchio, the Red Wings' playoff opportunist, scored the single Detroit goal.

* * *

It was a spectacular game before 14,152 screaming fans—a game of driving, wide-open play and a brilliant performance by goalie Jacques Plante of the Canadiens who was forced into an almost superhuman effort in shading Glenn Hall, Detroit's rookie netminder.

* * *

As the second hand of the Montreal Forum clock swung around for the final minute of the third period, the roars of the crowd became a crescendo that reached its peak when Captain Butch Bouchard came on the ice with three seconds left.

* * *

It was the first appearance in play of the veteran defenseman for the entire playoff series and for the last half of the NHL season. Everyone knew it was the swan-song appearance of the gallant Bouchard after 15 seasons of campaigning and a gesture that signalized his retirement.

When the final siren signalled the Canadiens' first Stanley Cup victory since 1953, the jubilant Canadiens slapped and hugged each other and the Red Wings to a man joined in congratulating and shaking hands with the new cup champions.

* * *

Coach Toe Blake was lifted into the air by his players and carried about before the cup-presentation ceremonies got under way at center ice.

* * *

The goal last night by Beliveau, scoring champion of the NHL season with 47 goals and 41 assists, was his 12th in the playoffs and tied a record set in the 1944 playoffs by Rocket Richard in nine games against Toronto and Chicago.

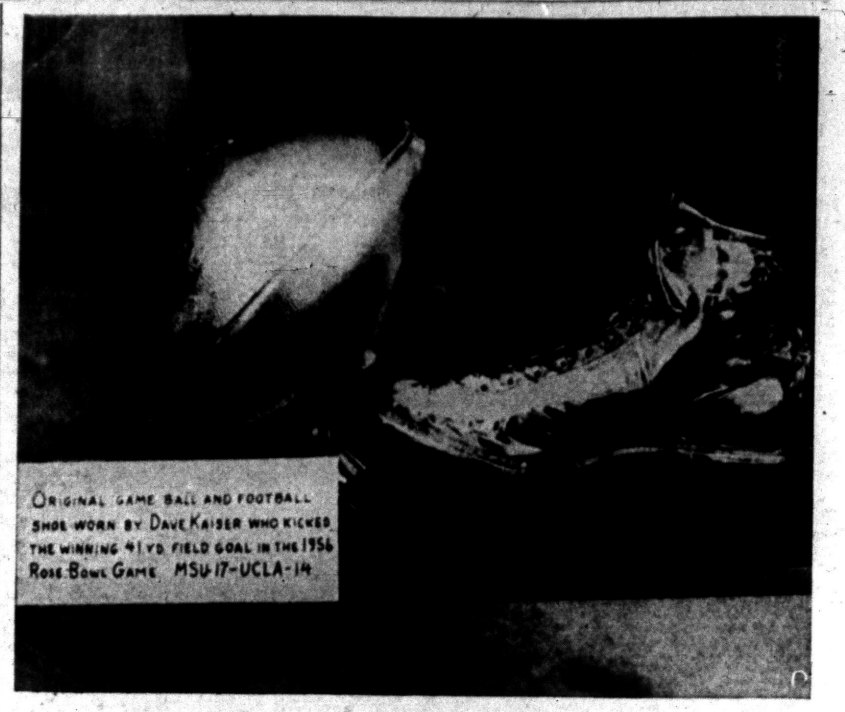

The Red Wings missed their big chance in the first half of the second period. Twice they had the manpower advantage, through Montreal penalties, and both times their own power play was stalled by the forechecking and grim defensive work of Canadiens plus Plante's standout display.

* * *

The blow that crushed the Wings was when defenseman Marcel Pronovost was penalized at 13:50 for tripping Rocket Richard.

The Wings stood up under the driving power play only 26 seconds. Floyd Curry, hard-working Montreal rightwinger, slipped into the Detroit end. He was stopped by defenseman Bob Goldham but had enough freedom to make a half-turn and drop a pass back to Beliveau, who sped in alone on Hall and beat the goalie with a clean shot.

Spieser Favored Over Rowan in Detroit Fight

DETROIT (AP) — Light-heavyweight Chuck Spieser returns to his home town tonight for the first time since hitting big time boxing's television trail.

But the local fans aren't battering down the box office and the one-time Michigan State collegian will be lucky to attract 2,000 cash customers to the vast Olympia Stadium for his 10 rounder against Joe Rowan of Phoenixville, Pa., (ABC TV-radio, 10 p.m., EST).

Spieser never has benefited from a Midwest buildup such as the one given Chuck Davey, another Michigan State boxer who turned pro. Davey became one of boxing's first television "darlings."

Spieser went into the Army and has had eight fights since being released a year ago. His last four have been national television dates, but none of them has been in the Michigan area.

He knocked out Paddy Young and Willie Troy, lost to New Orleans' Willie Pastrano and then gained a draw with Pastrano in a rematch at Miami in January. Spieser's over-all record is 17-3-1.

Rowan, the underdog, was soundly whipped by John Holman his last time out but was giving away considerable weight. Tonight he'll be the heavier, probably by five or six pounds. Spieser expects to weigh 172.

Spieser is the fourth-ranking challenger in the 175-pound class but he has never fought anybody in the top 10 and he's not apt to in the immediate future. Champion Archie Moore has weight trouble. Floyd Patterson is biding his time for a heavyweight shot. Yolande Pompey sticks pretty close to England and Gerhard Hecht is a German who prefers European bouts.

* * *

A victory tonight probably will give Spieser another shot at Pastrano although their first two bouts didn't draw many raves. Pastrano is a heavyweight.

Spieser has 12 knockouts to his credit but tends to cut. Rowan has a 27-8-1 record.

Lakers Nip Wolves on Cinders, 55-54

West Bloomfield nosed out Clarkston, 55-54, in a Wayne-Oakland League dual track meet Tuesday afternoon at Clarkston. Ray Brancheau's 2nd-place finish in the broad jump, the final event, brought victory to the Lakers.

Brancheau also won the pole vault and tied for 1st in the high jump to score 12 points, tops in the meet. Clarkston's Dick Swayne won the 100 and 220-yard runs to account for 10 points.

Spartans Start Against UD 9

Open Regular Season at Home After 4-5 Training Mark

EAST LANSING (AP) — Two positions are still up for grabs as Michigan State opens its regular baseball season here today against the University of Detroit.

Coach John Kobs will be juggling players at both first base and right field as he seeks a solid lineup prior to the start of Big Ten play.

* * *

Denny Blue of Flat Rock, Paul Bando of Berkley and Roscoe Davis of Brooklyn, N.Y., are all in the running for first base. Davis appears to have the best chance on the strength of a .292 batting average on the southern trip.

Right field candidates include Dean Moore of Fenton, Frank Franchi of Dearborn, Russ Luplow of Saginaw and John Polomsky of Cleveland.

U. of D. was able to get only five days of outdoor drills in before today.

NO LONGER LONESOME — Ken Venturi, 24-year-old amateur golfer from San Francisco who said he was the lonesomest guy in Augusta Sunday when he lost the Masters to Jackie Burke by one stroke has no reason to be lonesome anymore. Shown with his wife Connie, he reads the numerous telegrams received at home with words of congratulations from all over the country. Venturi said he was misquoted about things said about some of the pros at the Masters.

'Misunderstood' He Says

Venturi Denies Criticism in Masters

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ken Venturi, young San Francisco amateur who blew a four-stroke lead to lose the Masters Golf Tournament, says he is sorry he said anything at all when he came home because his remarks "were certainly misunderstood."

Venturi denied that he had criticized other players or officials of the tournament which ended Sunday at Augusta, Ga.

* * *

"Jackie Burke's victory was a great achievement," Venturi said in a statement to The Associated Press.

Burke shot a final 71 to total 289 while Venturi scored 80 for 290.

* * *

"I would like to deny the report that I said Mike Souchak, Burke's playing partner, was helping him reach the greens and to club him in the final round. What I did say was that Souchak's friendly, moral support undoubtedly helped Burke in the final round. That was perfectly natural."

He added:

* * *

"It was a great tournament; it was a pleasure to play in it, and I am happy that I played as well as I did."

* * *

Venturi said he still was puzzled by the switch just before the last round which paired him with Sam Snead instead of Byron Nelson, a long-time friend and mentor.

* * *

"I was nervous anyway and all the help I could get, I could use," he said. "I don't mean clubbing help or anything like that, just someone friendly to talk to.

* * *

"But," he added, "I'd like to correct the statement attributed to me that I would have won had I played with Byron Nelson. What I said was that if I had played with Byron, his moral support and friendliness might have helped me.

* * *

"I'm not peeved at anyone back there, but I wasn't getting any of the benefit of the doubt."

* * *

Another puzzle, Venturi said, is why his friend Harvie Ward, National Amateur champion, was shooed away from the 17th green and not even allowed to speak to him on the final two holes of the last round.

* * *

In Augusta, Clifford Roberts, Masters tournament director and chairman of the board of the Agusta National Golf Club, said "Bob Jones and I were most shocked" about reports of what Venturi said.

* * *

But he emphasized that no statement would be made "until all the facts are in."

* * *

Venturi said he did not plan any more big tournaments until the National Open at Rochester, N.Y., in June.

* * *

"I'll be ready then," he declared and added "some day I'll win the Masters."

Meet the Pro

FRANK SYRON, Pontiac C C

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Mention the name Frank Syron and the topic of discussion automatically turns to golf.

For 36 years Frank has been the working pro of pros. As the owner and pro of the Pontiac Country Club for the past 15 years, Syron recalls his first association with the game 45 years back.

He started caddying in Chicago about 1910 and after a long spell as caddie master and assistant pro at the South Shore Club in the Windy City, Frank came to Michigan.

Bloomfield Hills Country Club was his first outpost as caddie master and assistant for 7 years, and for the next 14 years was the pro for Orchard Lake.

His stay at Orchard Lake was a memorable one in respect to a pupil he started on the way to stardom. It was the great Babe Didrickson Zaharias, who in 1933 received a six-week tutoring course from Frank Syron.

At Pontiac CC, Frank has given opportunity to the younger set interested in the game. An extensive building program now underway is designed to bring added life to Syron's concept for bringing golf to the junior enthuslast.

(Tomorrow we present Bill Graham, professional at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.)

Tigers Out to Test Bonus Merits of Bertoia at 2nd

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—Reno Bertoia apparently is going to open the season at second base for Detroit. If he can stick, this well may be the year of the big bonus payoff for Tigers.

* * *

Three seasons ago with the club trying anything to erase memories of its first and only last-place finish, the Tigers shelled out about $100,000 in bonuses to three untried youngsters.

* * *

Kaline became a household word last year as he boomed to the American League batting title with a .340 average.

Miller was sent down to Augusta, Ga., when his bonus term ran out last June. He blossomed in a hurry in Class A competition, came back near the end of the season to post two important victories over Cleveland and is counted on heavily this year.

* * *

Bertoia, signed three months after Kaline and Miller, has come along the slowest of the three. He avoided being farmed out when his two-year bonus service ended in August only because it was near the end of the season and the Tigers wanted an extra infielder.

This spring he was dropped to the minor league training base, only to be recalled suddenly when the second-base situation became desperate on the Tiger varsity.

another team. Certainly he is the best we have on hand, and I'm staying with him."

Bertoia has fielded flawlessly since getting a chance to play every day. He's had 40 chances without a miscue. At bat he's still a question mark. He hit a grand-slam home run in New Orleans Monday but he's 3 for 13 against major league pitching.

The youngster can hit for distance. Six of his 20 major league hits have been for extra bases. Bertoia thinks daily play will help him.

"You can't beat it," he said with a broad grin. "If you have a bad day, there's always a game the next day — a chance to redeem yourself."

8 Horses Bring 8 Victories at Tanforan Track

* * *

Threewit started his run Thursday with two winners, Colonel Vic and Challtack. His eighth was Hillside Romp in the second yesterday. The payoffs ranged from $4.90 to $21.90.

UM Nine Wins 8-5, on Homer

Sigman's 3-Run Blast Gives Wolverines 1st Victory at Home

ANN ARBOR (AP)— Al Sigman's 380-foot home run with two men aboard gave the University of Michigan an 8-5 victory over Central Michigan yesterday in the Wolverines' first home stand after a tour of the South.

Michigan used four pitchers, with Jim Clark claiming the victory although he hurled only 1 two-third innings and gave up three hits and one run.

* * *

THE POWERHOUSE

By JIMMY POWERS

We all have an understandable tendency to excuse ourselves for our failures. A golfer will gripe over rain-drenched greens or sunbaked fairways. A horse trainer will moan about a cuppy track.

★ ★ ★ ★

Certain boxers complain their footwork is restricted in small rings. Perhaps it is just as well we do not always have ideal conditions. When the alibi rug is jerked from under a sensitive soul the ego is badly bruised.

★ ★ ★ ★

Take Karl Arthur Olson. The leftfield wall in Boston's Fenway Park may have made many a career but you can take it from Karl it nearly undid his. Karl figured in the big nine-man Red Sox-Senator swap.

Aside from the young pitchers who were desperately sought to prop up the sagging staff, Washington is quite excited over the 25-year-old Olson. And the way the 6 foot 3½ inch 205-pounder is performing one can't see anything but joy in Olson's manner since he was sprung from beneath the haunting shadow of the Fenway fence.

BOSOX EXPECT RIGHTIES TO CLEAR THAT WALL

For years now, the Red Sox have expected their right-handed hitters, especially outfielders, to take full advantage of the short wall. Young Mr. Olson was no different from the others. But as often as he tried he couldn't succeed.

In fact, he became so inept he inadvertently altered his natural batting power and he was unable even to hit the ball past the shortstop.

"All my trouble started," he confided during an Orlando workout, "when I came out of the Army and tried to take advantage of the left-field wall. Maybe it helped some players, but it was poison to me."

The blond Californian continued after taking his turn in the batting cage. "I used to stand with my feet on an even line, spread apart naturally. But when I opened my stance to try to take advantage of that wall, I couldn't touch pitches on the outside corner. And it just about ruined me. I kept trying to hit pop flies over that fence but all my pops were coming down in the shortstop's glove."

★ ★ ★ ★

Olson hit all the farms in the Red Sox system during his early days. The Oakland resident moved from San Jose, through Birmingham, Scranton and Louisville before reaching the Hub. However in 1951 he went to Korea and didn't return until July 1953. Both in 1954 and last season the tall West Coaster found himself playing junior varsity to the bigger guns in the Fenway arsenal.

Crane Hurlers Hold PHS to 2 Hits, Win 9-1 Here

Pontiac High's baseball club took an opening game sock to the chin, yesterday, on Wisner Field, 9-1. Cranbrook's club, also starting its regular season's play after a southern training trip, administered the "sock", thrown on the fine, 2-hit performance of Dave Campbell and Bruce Richards.

Both Chief singles were off Campbell, who worked the 1st seven innings. He gave way to Richards, who pitched to the las' four batters of the seventh inning.

Cranes collected two runs in the 2nd frame on a squeeze, and three hits. Jim Grube and Asbury tallied. Jim on Asbury's bunt and the latter (with the winning counter on an attempted double play that failed, because of a bad throw to first on Bedford's grounder.

Chuck Grube scored in the fourth. Dave Cooper, George Gary and Jim Grube counted in the 6th Three runs in the seventy completed Crane's scoring, with Bob Pearson, Cooper and Gary crossing the plate on a series of walks (Jerry Pointer loaded the bags), a single by Cooper, and a hit batsman by Terry Zellhart).

Chiefs' only score came in the fourth when Bud Hayward walked, Art Poe singled and Clay Williams and Charley Johnson were passed to force in Bud.

Feller Marks 20th Year

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — What will the Cleveland Indians find for old Bob Feller to do this year in which he marks the 20th anniversary of his joining the Tribe?

The question probably won't have much bearing on the pennant race, but it is one of a great deal of sentimental interest to millions of baseball fans.

"Bob has been a good pitcher this sprin and I want him on the ball club," said Manager Al Lopez. "I thing he will help us in certain spots."

Six weeks ago, before spring training started, Lopez had said of the 37-year-old once rapid Robert:

* * *

On a club heavy with pitching talent, this sounded like a stiff order for the fading fireballer, a notoriously unspectacular spring-training pitcher.

But Feller was equal to the challenge. He has allowed five earned runs in 17 exhibition innings and stacks up second only to Herb Score in this respect.

Banquet at St. Frederick Honors Youthful Athletes

St. Frederick honored its elementary and junior high athletes Tuesday night at a banquet in the St. Vincent De Paul parish hall. The banquet was sponsored by the Moms and Dads Club.

Under the guidance of Robert Chapdelaine and Ernie Zubalik, St. Fred's grade school boys won the CYO football championship and finished 2nd in the basketball race.

Father Maurice Veryser, athletic director at St. Fred, presented letters and monograms to the youthful athletes from the 5th through the 8th grade. Awards were also made to coaches Chapdelaine and Zubalik.

Father Veryser announced his resignation as athletic director, a post he has held five years, to become pastor at St. Vincent. Father Fabian Weber will be the new athletic head.

Guests of honor were Niles Freeland, coach at Walled Lake, and Dorne Dibble, Detroit Lions football star. Freeland and Dibble spoke briefly as did Gene Wright, St. Fred coach. Bob Shearer was toastmaster.

PWBA Bowlers Hold Year's Final Meet

Final gathering for the season for members of the Pontiac Women's Bowling association was held over the weekend, at Knights of Pythias hall, at which time officers for 1957 were announced and awards won in the recent city tournament were presented.

* * *

Dixie Recreation was given the 1957 tournament, date for which will be announced later. Past prexies were given lovely corsages, and cash prizes totaling $3,815 went to some 81 teams, 335 all-events, 87 doubles, and 182 singles competitors.

* * *

Softball Pilots to Meet

The Waterford Township Recreation Department will hold a meeting for men's softball managers Tuesday, April 17, at 7:30 p.m., in the recreation office of the Community Activities building on Williams Lake Road.

* * *

Purposes of the meeting are to discuss this season's softball play and determine the number of teams wishing to enter the league along with other useful information.

All managers, players or sponsors in the Waterford Township area interested in participating are invited to this meeting.

* * *

Several new teams have indicated a desire to enter and the coming season shows promise of being the best yet, according to recreation director Tom Belton. Repairs and improvements are being made at the Drayton ball park in preparation for the mid-May opening.

5th Press Prep Golf Tourney May 28

By H. GUY MOATS
Pontiac Press Special Writer

Date has been set and preliminaries indicate the 5th Pontiac Press Invitational High School Golf Tournament will present one of its best fields for the May 28 event. This unique links test, only one of its kind in the state, will take place, as in other years, over the rolling, tricky Pontiac Municipal layout.

City Parks and Recreation Department and the athletic staff of Pontiac High school will assist in conduct of the only Michigan School Athletic Association—approved tourney instituted by a newspaper.

Charles E. Forsythe, director of athletics for the MHSAA has once more placed the seal of approval on the test. It operates under strict MHSAA rules as to eligibility and awards.

* * *

The field is expected to total around a score of school teams. More than a dozen have already signified intentions of taking part, as formal invitations went out today.

Play is over 18 holes, medal play. Winning school team will have possession for one year of the beautiful perpetual trophy, while gold medals go to members of the title-winning five-man team. Tourney medalist and runnerup received individual medals.

USGA rule will be observed. In case of inclement weather day of set date, tourney will be delayed until the following day (May 29).

Deadline for entries is Tuesday, May 16.

Birmingham's fine team won last year's championship, and will defend its title May 28. Maples have captured the event three straight years. They are shooting for their 4th crown. Pontiac High Chiefs were the event's 1st champions. Joe Borovick is coach of the defending squad.

Pairings and starting times will be announced immediately after the close of entries.

Heart to Heart Talk

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Paul Richards, field and front office boss of the Baltimore Orioles, paid a visit to the New York Yankees during their game at Dallas yesterday, setting off reports the two clubs were ready to talk trade.

The best bet was a Yank deal for an Oriole pitcher, either Bill Wright or Jim (no hit) Wilson, the ex-Milwaukee Brave.

NCAA Meet to Start

MSU Defends Boxing Title

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Boxers in the 19th annual National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Boxing Championships starting tomorrow will have an unseen "second" in their corners.

This "second" will be the knowledge that winners in the 10 weight classifications of the three - day tournament, at the University of Wisconsin automatically qualify for the U.S. Olympic team tryouts next October.

A total of 67 entries, including a dozen fighters who have yet to be beaten this year, from 20 universities and colleges will be firing punches in an effort to land a berth in the tryouts.

* * *

Idaho State, with four of the undefeated boxers, is favored to dethrone Michigan State for the team title. Louisiana State, Wisconsin and the Spartans are given outside chances.

* * *

The list of unbeaten will be trimmed by at least one by tomorrow night. California's George Pelonis with a record of 10-0-0 and Idaho State's Mike McMurtry with a 6-0-1 mark meet in a quarter-final match in the 178-pound division.

* * *

Another outstanding boxer competing in the light-heavyweight class will be Wisconsin's Orville Pitts, Pan - American champion. Pitts has a record of six victories and two draws. He'll oppose LSU's Macom Buhler.

* * *

American Milers Quit Too Soon Says Dodds

WHEATON, Ill. (AP)—Gil Dodds, one of America's top milers a decade ago and now a successful track coach, sees no reason why Americans can't better the 4-minute mile.

"Our fellows who are good never have a chance to reach maturity," said the one-time world record holder.

* * *

"Glenn Cunningham ran some of his greatest races after he was 30," said Dodds, "but nowadays they quit too soon."

Dodds, better known as the "Flying Parson" when he was the toast of American milers, opens his 10th season as Wheaton's track coach Saturday on a new $15,000 cinder oval which he feels "is one of the top tracks I've seen."

Dodds ran as an amateur until 1948 when he was 29 and then continued to run in exhibitions through 1953.

* * *

He set a world indoor record of 4:06.4 in 1944 and later ran a 4:06.1. Some of his feats included 23 straight mile victories and running 17 races under 4.10, a showing accomplished by no other miler at that time.

"We have some good milers in this country," continued Dodds, "and they can become better if they don't quit."

* * *

* * *

Wheeler has won seven straight miles this year and took the Bankers' Mile in the Chicago Relays in 4:07.5.

Williams Finds Range of Fence for First Time

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Ted Williams walloped his first home run of the spring training season yesterday to announce he's back in full stride as the Boston Red Sox' fence buster.

* * *

Williams also singled and drew a walk in three appearances at the plate as Boston smothered the Philadelphia Phillies 21-1 at Greenville, S.C.

* * *

Williams—moving slowly in his training program and held up several weeks by an injury—had managed only four singles in his previous 18 at bats.

Boat Launching Facilities Get Good Workout

St. Clair Beach Has Doubled Provisions for Aiding Boatmen

Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair has more than doubled its free boat launching facilities to accommodate the increasing number of boat owners eager for this service. The addition of a second launching ramp will make it possible to launch about 950 boats daily.

Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, of which the beach is a unit, said that a new ramp 50 feet wide would enable four boats to be launched at one time.

The new ramp is adjacent to the original ramp which launches two boats at one time. A paved parking lot serves both ramps, located at the north end of the 550-acre park with access to Lake St. Clair via Black Creek.

The park's 18-hole golf course is expected to open near the end of April, depending upon the firmness of the turf, and the roller-skating rink and shuffleboard courts will open about May 1, weather permitting.

Archery, court games, a supervised children's area, dancing in a new dance and show pavillion, swimming and water skiing will begin later in the season. There is parking for 6,000 cars and the park has two food bars.

Pheasants Fly Through Window, Glass and All

U.S. Hatcheries Attract Million

Yellowstone Park's Plant Proves Biggest Magnet for Visitors

WASHINGTON (AP)—A million persons visited the 90 federal fish hatcheries last year, the Fish and Wildlife Service reported Tuesday.

The most popular hatchery was the one in Yellowstone National Park, which drew more than 250,00 persons. The hatchery and aquarium at Guttenberg, Iowa, and the hatchery at Walhalla, S.C., each had more than 70,000 visitors.

Then, in order of number of visitors, came these hatcheries: Spearfish, N.D., 60,000; LaCross, Wis., 55,000; Neosha, Mo., 50,000; Northville, Mich., 35,000; and Austin Tex., 30,000. Salmon hatcheries in the Northwest drew about 25,000 persons but most of these hatcheries are located some distance from the regular tourist routes.

Smelt Now Running Along Huron Shore

Area anglers today reported good runs of smelt are now under way along the Huron shores. Over the weekend, several parties of Pontiac and Oakland County fishermen went to Port Huron for the early season sport and report good catches. One group took a washtub full in a half hour. Many of the fish were six to eight inches long.

Novice Fly Fisherman Can Reach 'Inner Circle'

By JACK PATTERSON

The novitiate in the mystic arts of fly-fishing for trout has his work cut out for him. The romantic haze which has been built up around this type of fishing all but obscures the main point of the whole business—to have fun and catch fish. The beginner can disregard the nonsence. Given reasonable co-ordination and proper equipment and a little practice, he can sneak into the inner circle while the initiates aren't looking.

We can't do anything about co-ordination but here's all the beginner needs to know about tackle for taking trout on flies in Michigan streams.

Rods: Weight of a rod doesn't mean much. It is the distribution of weight, or balance, that spells casting efficiency and comfort. Length isn't a particularly vital consideration either, except that a rod over eight feet long is a handicap to the beginner.

PATTERSON

A short, light rod is more comfortable to use all day than a long heavy one. "Size" of a rod has nothing to do with size of trout it is intended for. A 1½-ounce deal will handle the biggest trout in Michigan (or anywhere else).

Glass or bamboo?

Many fine glass rods are currently on the market. They are tough, won't take a set. A good glass rod is better than a fair bamboo.

The finest rods are still built of bamboo. These have a litheness and feel—some call it "soul" that hasn't been duplicated by manufactured materials. Cost is the only objection to a good bamboo rod. The better part of a C-note will cover it.

Lines: More important to the mechanics of casting than the rod. Level lines are practically useless for delicate work. Torpedo, rocket and other forward tapers are apt to handle dry flies clumsily. Best bet for all-around fly work is the double taper, in a weight to match the rod-maker's specifications. Nylon "floaters" for dry fly work, undressed silk or weighted nylon for sub-surface fishing.

Leaders: No point fooling with gut leaders these days. Nylon will do the job as well, or better. Tapered leaders are a must for dry fly fishing, nymph fishing and give better action to wet flies and streamers.

For any purpose, a tapered leader casts much better than a level one. Tapered leaders come in a variety of lengths, but nine feet is a fair all-purpose length.

Flies: In dry flies a variety of size is usually more important than variety of pattern. In wet flies dull patterns seem to work best on local streams. Lightly dressed flies are far better than bushy ones. Best nymph imitations are suggestive. Scragglier the better.

Chicago Team Holds 10th Place in ABC

The Chicago keglers, who won the 1954 title under the sponsorship of Tri Par Radio, rolled up a total of 2,935 pins on games of 1,085, 884 and 966.

There were no other changes in the leaders yesterday.

GRAPEFRUIT League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

* * *

Who's going to frown when his athletes pound major league pitching for 24 hits—five of them homers—and 21 runs, even in an exhibition game? And how's any manager going to hold back a grin when the two big question marks on his pitching staff look just fine for a change?

The Red Sox did all of that yesterday in a frolicking, three-touchdown romp over the Philadelphia Phillies. The final count was 21-1.

* * *

Rain again cut the schedule — cancelling the Baltimore - Chicago Cubs, St. Louis-Chicago White Sox and Brooklyn - Milwaukee games, but the hitters managed to get in their licks elsewhere, too.

Elston Howard homered and tripled as the New York Yankees swung for 15 hits and defeated Dallas of the Texas League 6-3. Whitey Ford, who sprained an ankle Sunday, went six innings for the Yanks and was tagged for seven hits and all the runs. Bog Grim mopped up.

* * *

Mickey Mantle made his first starting appearance since re-injuring a ham-string muscle March 28 and got a single in three trips for his five innings. Manager Casey Stengel says Mick will open the season in his usual centerfield post.

* * *

Pinch hits by a pair of second-line, left-handed hitting catchers won the only other games played. Joe Ginsberg delivered a two-run homer for Kansas City in the ninth off Red Munger, who's trying for a comeback, to give the A's a 4-2 decision over Pittsburgh. Lou Berberet came through with a two-run single in the ninth to bring Washington from behind in a 9-8 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs.

EARLY ACTION — Pontiac High School baseball club opened its 1956 schedule Tuesday afternoon on the home lot, with a disappointing 9-1 defeat at hands of Cranbrook. Above action, in the second inning shows Cranes' Johnny Studebaker hitting into a ground-out play as catcher Charley Johnson crouches back of the rubber. Umpire is Wes Roberts.

At Griffith Stadium

Senators on Home Field

WASHINGTON (AP)—Baseball returns to big league cities today, and—of all things—the Washington Senators lead the way.

Back from the South, the Senators are first to play an exhibition game on home grounds. They meet the Brooklyn Dodgers tonight (8 p.m. EST) at Griffith Stadium.

* * *

The game points up Washington's troubles. Manager Chuck Dressen is still trying to piece together a jigsaw of rookies collected after last season's finish in the American League cellar.

His team goes tonight against the world's champions.

Ex-Major Leaguer's Son Makes Pro Debut

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Bill Werber Jr. made an impressive debut in professional baseball last night.

* * *

Playing for Nashville in the Southern Assn. the son of the former major league third baseman, hit a triple and three singles for a perfect night in 4 times at bat. He batted in one run and scored twice himself as Nashville beat Chattanooga 9-3. Young Weber is an outfielder.

Arcaro 'High' on 2 Whitney Derby Entries

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Arcaro, the winningest Kentucky Derby jockey, said today that Needles was no cinch to win the run for the roses on May 5.

* * *

"I've looked them all over," he said, "and I'm real high on the C. V. Whitney entry of Head Man and Career Boy."

Arcaro will ride Head Man in the derby and Career Boy was the favorite in today's Gotham Stakes at Jamaica. Head Man was ineligible for the Gotham.

The only boxer to win titles in two successive Olympics was H. W. Mallin of Great Britain. He won the middleweight championship in the 1920 and 1924 games.

Landy Seeking New U.S. Mark

Miler Wants to Break 4 Minute Barrier in This Country

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — John Landy, the fastest miler of all time, hinted today he might break the 4-minute barrier when he visits the United States for two races next month.

* * *

The Australian schoolteacher, who has gone under four minutes in four of his last five races, will run in Los Angeles on May 5 and in the West Coast Relays in Fresno on May 12. His world mark is 3:58.

"If conditions are right, I might even run faster than last Saturday," he said. He was caught in 3:58.6 in that one and complained later that he felt "sluggish."

"But it's just a gamble," he added. "I dearly would love to break the 4-minute mile in the United States though."

The under-4-minute-mile has been run nine times since Roger Bannister of Great Britain finally broke the barrier two years ago. Landy has done it four times. It never has been done on American soil. Wes Santee's 4:00.5 is the closest in the United States.

Air Force Plans Nuclear Project

Will Construct Reactor Facility at Wright Air Development in Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has announced it will build a nuclear reactor facility at the Wright Air Development Center in Dayton, Ohio. It was the third move in 24 hours in a sudden speed-up of activity aimed at flying on nuclear power.

* * *

Monday's actions were the award of two contracts for development of an airframe to carry an atomic engine.

The Dayton installation will be started in June. It is scheduled for completion by January, 1958, at a cost of 7½ million dollars.

It will be used to test materials, parts and systems that are being developed for airplanes using atomic power.

* * *

Thus it ties in with the airframe projects and the atomic power plant developmen work by private firms which has gone along with them.

One of the airframe projects is new business as far as the government is concerned and is expected to be the largest facility of the sort in the country. The contract went to Lockheed Aircraft Co. of Burbank, Calif., for a multi-million dollar laboratory at Dawsonville, Ga. It will be owned by the government but operated by Lockheed on a 10,000 acre tract which the company bought and deeded to the government for $1.

The other airframe contract continues a project which the Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp. has been carrying on for more than four years at its Fort Worth, Tex., plant.

Brashear, a former city attorney, returned from political exile last week with a victory over incumbent Mayor Elbert M. Hartom.

School Bus Hits Tree; Six Hurt

Twelve Others Escape Injury as Vehicle Goes Out of Control

Six children were slightly injured yesterday afternoon when a school bus loaded with 18 kindergartners went out of control and rammed a tree on Greer road in West Bloomfield Township.

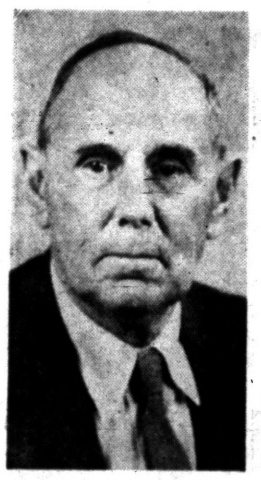

According to State Police, the steering mechanism failed west of Hiller road while the children were on the way to afternoon classes at Four Towns School in Waterford Township.

Suffering minor cuts and bruises were: Jennifer Strassburg, 6, of 6151 Cooley Lake Rd.; David Mayer, 6, of 1933 Sarona Lane; Deborah David, 5, of 2345 Lockhaven Rd.; Lynn Dewar, 5, of 6362 Greer Rd.; Nancy Ross, 5, of 6310 Greer Rd., and Joseph Talbot, 5, of 1370 Oregon Rd.

Three of the children were treated at Pontiac General Hospital and others were taken to private physicians, troopers at the Pontiac post said.

The driver, Robert Rich, 35, of Drayton Plains said a drag link in the steering mechanism broke, leaving him unable to steer the bus. He slammed on the brakes, Rich said, and the bus went off the right side of the road and ran into the tree.

Moak was involved in an auto accident March 28 while on his way to Memphis, Tenn. to visit his parents. He turned to avoid hitting another car, skidded, lost control of his auto and went over a 35 foot embankment. At the Memphis Hospital, X-rays showed a crushed chest, broken back, ribs and neck. He will be hositalized at least six months there, authorities said.

Great Lakes Commission Moves Into UM Location

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Great Lakes Commission, fully settled in new offices at the University of Michigan, has hopes of adding three more states and two Canadian provinces to its 5-state membership.

* * *

The commission completed the move from Chicago yesterday. Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, chairman, said the commission would begin study of lake levels, beach erosion, pollution, navigation, fisheries and the direction of additional waters to the Great Lakes basin.

Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota and Wisconsin are represented on the commission. Kavanagh said Pennsylvania is considering joining and Ohio and New York may follow. Enabling legislation in the U.S. Senate would permit the Canadian provinces of Ontario and Quebec to join.

The commission was organized in 1954 and operates under a compact with the five states. It has no regulatory powers.

Kavanagh said the chief reason for the move was active interest here by the Great Lakes Research Institute, The Lakes Hydraulics Laboratory, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the School of Natural Resources.

* * *

Besides the study of lake problems, Kavanagh said the commission hopes to "advertise the lakes basin in some fashion."

Each state contributes support by legislative grant.

Mayor Is Re-elected

Greta Garbo Loses Out in Allegan Oil Well $$

ALLEGAN (INS)—An elderly recluse's bequest to Greta Garbo—the movie star he worshipped but never saw—has proven far more valuable than the British-born hermit ever dreamed.

Louis Zellman, Allegan oil man who purchased Edgar Donne's 300-acre farm in Dorr Township from Miss Garbo, said recently that his most recent oil well drilled on the site of Donne's cabin, flowed at the rate of 165 barrels in the first 24 hours after acidization was completed.

* * *

Zellman called it "the best well ever brought in this section of the country." Oil men who witnessed the event said it was the "closest thing to a gusher Allegan County has ever had." Gas pressure snapped a pipe fitting off the line which led from the well to the storage tanks.

THIRD PRODUCING WELL

The well taps the Detroit River formation which is providing area oil men with hopes for a re-birth of the oil industry in this area. The "pay" extends from a depth of 2,090 to 2,102 feet. It is the third producing well in Dorr Township to tap this hitherto undiscovered formation in this area.

* * *

The well, located on the site of the cabin in which Donne lived for more than 20 years until his death in 1949, is 1 of 6 wells in progress in Dorr Township.

Donne, born in England and a descendant of the British poet, John Donne, lived out his days as a recluse in a tiny 2-room cabin located in the center of some 300 acres of scrub timber and sub-marginal farmland.

First estimates of the value of the bequest put it at more than $25,000. The estate actually netted less than $6,000, but recent oil activity makes it evident that had Miss Garbo retained the land Donne left her, it might have netted her far more than her movie career.

Hollywood Headlines:

Maurice Chevalier Plays Audrey Hepburn's Papa

17—MAURICE CHEVROLET

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—That charmer Maurice Chevalier, who proved that he has all his old fire when he appeared at the Academy Awards, has just signed to play Audrey Hepburn's father in "Adriane."

Billy Wilder, the producer-director, who signed Chevalier, has set the last of August as the starting date. That's when Audrey, her co-star Gary Cooper, and Maurice will report for work in Paris.

Very smart of Kirk Douglas to buy "Deliver Us From Evil" just five days ahead of the arrival of its author, Lt. Thomas Dooley, in Hollywood.

Tomorrow Kirk is giving a press luncheon for Dooley, a Navy doctor who has written an inspirational book of his work in aiding half a million refugees escaping from behind the Iron Curtain in Indochina. The book is intended for Kirk's Bryna Company, and in it he plays the Dooley role.

The book is just on the stands, and a strong point of the story is the religious angle of how Dooley, a staunch Catholic, worked to preserve the Christian religion from the brainwashing of the Commies.

SENSATIONAL ELVIS

"Take a look at Elvis Presley," said an RCA spokesman. "The 21-year-old singer has just signed with Hal Wallis, as well as for a nightclub engagement in Las Vegas. He's a sensation!"

Well, you can't very well read a newspaper or watch TV without seeing Presley, who is the Frank Sinatra-Johnnie Ray swoon king of today.

Personally, when I saw him on a TV show out of San Diego, I wondered what there was about Elvis to make teenagers act like maniacs. He seemed just like any other boy with a pleasing voice.

But, when mail starts pouring in mentioning Elvis so often, I guess I'll have to try and look at him from the viewpoint of these juvenile enthusiasts. And, boy, do they go crazy over him!

Birthday greetings, cake and all, were a part of Walter Winchell's farewell dinner at Chasen's. June (Mrs. Winchell), who has been in Phoenix, came in to celebrate with him.

Walter left after his Sunday broadcast for New York on a call from NBC about a TV show. He says he is greatly intrigued with 20th Century-Fox's idea for him to do a TV series based on "Deadline, U. S. A."

There also was talk that Walter might narrate a crime series for MGM, but this he vetoed as not being his cup of tea.

BIT OF NOSTALGIA

The appearance of Frank Capra on the Columbia lot is nostalgic. It was while he was associated with Columbia that Frank won several Academy Awards.

He will probably direct "The Great Sebastian," the Alfred Lunt-Lynn Fontanne play which Harry Cohn recently bought. Then there's talk that Frank may do "Lady for a Day," the Damon Runyon story which was charming.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: The very pretty woman with Jimmy Roosevelt at Ciro's was Irene Owens. Wasn't she formerly his secretary?

Bonita and Jack Wrather hosted a bridal dinner for 24 for Sy Bartlett and his bride at the Racquet Club in Palm Springs. The Greg Pecks, the Kirk Douglases and the Willie Wylers were among those who toasted Sy and Patricia.

Big Steel Slab Mill Built by Australians

SYDNEY—Construction is progressing on the new $19,000,000 slabbing mill at Port Kembla of Australian Iron and Steel Ltd., scheduled for completition late next year and said to be the largest steel mill of its type in the world.

* * *

The mill will provide steel slabs weighing up to 17 tons as feed for a hot strip and plate mill recently opened in the area.

It will be operated by the latest remote controls, according to a company spokesman.

* * *

The mill building will be 100 feet high and 500 feet long. An overhead crane serving the reheating furnaces will have a span of 112½ feet.

Traveling at an average speed of 30 miles an hour, an automobile would run more than 11 years to cover the 3,012,520 miles of rural roads in the nation.

Old Soybeans Hit New High

CHICAGO (AP) — Old crop soybeans futures bounced up into new seasonal high ground on the Board of Trade today gaining several cents at one time in active dealings.

* * *

Buying in these futures was based on an Agriculture Department crop report, issued after the close yesterday, showing much smaller soybean stocks on farms than at this time a year ago.

Other cereals had a very erratic trend. New crop soybeans were firm. Corn firmed early and then lost its gains. May wheat was very strong at one time, backing down later. New crop wheat weakened. Rye held steady while oats eased.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to 1 cent lower, May $2.35¼ corn ⅝ lower to ⅛ higher, May $1.46; oats ⅛ to ¼ lower, May .65; rye ¼ to ½ higher, May $1.34½; soybeans 1¼ to 3¼ higher, May $2.87½; lard 17 to 25 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $13.02.

Cloud Experts Cautioned on Weather Data

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — "Weather control is not something to be played around with," the chief of the U.S. Weather Bureau advised a group of world experts on clouds.

Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer, spoke yesterday at a conference on weather at the university of Arizona.

He said a nuclear bomb set off at the right place might produce a cloud of dust that would temporarily warm the arctic air and cause some of the polar ice cap to melt.

"One group is of the opinion this could raise the level of the Atlantic Ocean by 10 to 15 feet and put many dock installations under water," Reichelderfer reported.

Justice Douglas Urges U.S. Arms Aid to Israel

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas says the "only assurance" for peace in the jittery, troubled Middle East is "to make Israel stronger" by sending American arms.

"We must advertise to the world that Israel is one of us," Douglas told a Jewish Federation rally last night. "If Israel is obliterated, democracy in the Middle East will vanish."

Douglas charged "feudal overlords" in Arab countries have joined with Russia in "a very, very unholy alliance."

Market Makes Modest Upturn

NEW YORK (AP)—Business slackened today as the stock market made a modest recovery.

* * *

The rally from yesterday's sharp fall was not extensive, but it was well distributed. There were gains of 1 to 3 points in a few sections of the list. Declines were fractional.

Trading was fast right at the start, but overnight orders soon were worked off and the tape idled. The pace in the early afternoon was well below yesterday's 2,590,000 shares. That total was one of the smallest of the past month.

* * *

Higher divisions included the aircrafts, steels, motors, utilities, non-ferrous metals, chemicals, railroads, oils, airlines and building materials.

Farm implement issues were down slightly on news of production cutbacks in the industry.

Favor Laws Against New Car Bootlegging

WASHINGTON, D. C. (INS)—The General Motors Corp., told a House subcommittee today it is in favor of a bill designed to stop new car "bootlegging."

The proposed measure would prevent the sale of new cars by dealers to used car dealers by permitting the company to get a contractual agreement restricting the dealers from reselling autos to "certain unauthorized persons."

W. F. Hufstader, GM vice president in charge of the distribution staff, and E. W. Ivey, administrative assistant to the general manager of GM's Chevrolet Motor Division, told a House commerce subcommittee the company would have liked to put such an agreement in franchises before this, but anti-trust laws prevented such an action.

Ford Engineer Visits Soviet Industries; Advocates U. S. Uptake in Automation

EAST LANSING (AP) — A Detroit engineer who visited Russia in December says that within 15 years Russian "production facilities and techniques may be superior to ours unless a new emphasis is placed on automated production designing in this country."

* * *

This appraisal, based on a 16-day inspection of Soviet industrial plants, was presented at a meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers by Nevin L. Bean.

Bean is technical assistant to the head of Ford's automatic transmission division. He was one of three Americans chosen on an exchange basis worked out at Russia's suggestion.

Bean said that while plants he saw were generally not as productive as those in the United States many adverse conditions responsible were in the process of being changed.

NEW MACHINERY

"New automatic production machines are being designed and built, and the engineering on some of these lines would be a credit to any engineering group anywhere," he said.

He said manual production machines no longer were being built if automated lines could be made.

"If plans we saw are carried out," Bean said, "Russian factories will have the machinery and techniques to make giant production strides within the next five years.

* * *

"Within 10 years, many of their production facilities will be comparable to ours, and within 15 years their production facilities and techniques may be superior."

Bean said he was speaking in terms of advances in machine tools, production techniques and engineering know-how.

It is for others to evaluate, he said, such factors in national production as the supply of such basics as steel, coal, electric power, productive labor and a good transportation system.

However, he said he had read the Soviets were making rapid progress in these fields, too.

Bean said Russians are training engineers and technicians at a fast rate and "within a few years the Soviets will have a much larger pool of trained engineers and technicians than we, and they can put them to work solving the riddles of industrial expansion."

"Russian students appeared to er than American students." he be more serious and to work hard-said.

Business Boom May Miss U.S. Farmers, Car Dealers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Farmers, an Associated Press business roundup shows, will not share fully in the bounding prosperity that now seems to await most Americans in 1956. The indications are that auto dealers will not either.

* * *

These people constitute two major "soft spots" in the current great business boom. You can find other soft spots here and there — in carpet weaving, hosiery manufacturing aid textiles.

Number one complaint of many farmers is the continuing decline in the prices they get for crops and livestock, while costs of gasoline, tractors, machinery and fertilizer climb higher and higher. The weather, as always, is also a target of criticism.

In the drought-plagued Kansas farm belt, Raymond Dell, Agricultural Economist for the 10th Federal Reserve District, says farmers' income right now is the poorest it's been since the Depression days of the early 1930's.

In Nebraska, an industrial boom in Omaha contrasts sharply with stagnant business conditions throughout the great farming areas. A Denver economist says 54 out of 100 farmers in Colorado aren't showing a profit and the livestock growers face "disaster."

* * *

The survey points up one big difference between the current farm slump and the cruel farm Depression of the '30's — prices of farm real estate are holding up. Some say it's because farm land is being sought increasingly for industrial development.

The loudest beefs of the auto dealers concern the great outpouring of new cars from the factory gates, and skimpy dealer profit margins. Now that production has been throttled down, some dealers are breathing easier although inventories of unsold new passenger cars are still close to the 900,000 mark.

In St. Louis, big volume dealers are reported quite pleased with the present heavy turnover and dealers are shouting "Uncle." An Evanston, Ill., dealer, Earl Zweifel, says unit sales are ahead of last year "but profits per car are not what they should be."

Dealers in 19 of 28 cities checked said they expected sales as well as profits to show a drop this year.

* * *

Home building is sometimes described as a "softspot" in the economic picture. The AP survey shows home construction on the upbeat in 7 of the 28 cities checked and definitely on the downtrend in 19 others. Some contractors complain that building loans are hard to get; a Philadelphia analyst observes that "it's not so easy for the builders to borrow money."

U. S. Government statisticians reported that 78,000 new homes were started in February as compared to 89,900 in the same month last year. Activity has picked up sharply since then.

Nobody seems to know for sure how home building will go in 1956. One thing is certain, however; contracts awarded for future construction indicate that any drop in housing starts will be more than offset by a continuing boom in constriction of dams, bridges, roads, schools, churches, and shopping centers.

Business Notes

Harold W. Kruger, of 4180 Midland Rd., Drayton Plains, ranked eighth among agents of the Columbus Mutual Life Insurance Co. in sales volume for March, spokesmen for the firm announced today.

Kruger, who is associated with Pontiac's Durrant Agency, sold nearly $95,000 worth of policies during the month. The company has over 1,200 agents in the U.S.

American Airlines carried 7,300,000 U.S. passengers in 1955, stockholders were told yesterday by President C.R. Smith. The airline was the first in the world to pass the 7 million mark in a single year, he said.

American's record of 69,483,000 freight miles was also a new high for the industry, the official said. Net earnings for the year totaled $18,609,000.

From 1950 to 1955, the airline carried more than 32,500,000 passengers some 18,500,000,000 miles, the annual report showed. The 1955 figures were more than double those in 1950.

Curtis E. Patton, of 314 S. Tilden St., has been awarded membership in The Great-West Life Assurance Co.'s "Quarter Million Section" of the President's Club, firm officials announced today.

Patton is associated with the company's Pontiac district office. The President's Club is composed of agents who have distinguished themselves in outstanding sales accomplishments and maintenance of high business standards.

To Build New Plant

NEW YORK (AP) — International Paper Co. announced plans for the immediate construction of a Newsprint and Bleached Kraft Board Mill near Pine Bluff, Ark. The plant will cost around 57 million dollars, John H. Hinman, chairman, said.

Earnings

NEW YORK (INS) — American Telephone and Telegraph Co. reported today net income for the quarter ended March 31 of $148,170,000, equal to $2.70 a common share. This compared with $128,618,653, or $2.58 a common shore, in the same period last year. Operating revenues increased to $105,020,000 from $93,560,674 in the initial three months of 1955. Cleo F. Craig, president, said the Bell companies added 800,000 telephones in the first quarter of 1956, compared with 640,000 a year ago. The total number of Bell telephones now in service exceeds 47 million. This is some 25 million more than at the end of World War II, according to Craig.

NEW YORK (INS)—Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey announced net income for the year ended Dec. 31 of $709,309,902, equal to $2.61 a common share. This compared with $584,793,158, or $2.98 a common share, in the preceding year. Revenues increased to $6,414,885,017 from $5,805,722,967 in 1954. Eugene Holman, chairman, and M. J. Rathbone, president, in the annual report urged both government and business to adopt "prudent" actions to avoid the danger of inflation. The report estimated that during 1956, the demand for oil will rise by 4 per cent in the United States, and by 8 per cent in the rest of the free world.

The revenue service said there was no such address in Chicago.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK OUR friends and neighbors, Father Edward Baumgartner, and the William R. Potere Funeral Home for their many acts of kindness during our recent bereavement. George Gresh and Family, and Anthony Gresh and Family.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ETHEL Hallenback, who passed away one year ago today April 11th. They say time heals all sorrow, and helps us to forget. But time so far has only proved, How much we miss you yet. Sadly missed by Robert Hallenbeck and family

WE WISH TO EXPRESS OUR deep gratitude to our many friends and neighbors of the Pontiac Motor company and the fellow workers for the assistance, sympathy and floral offerings during the loss of our wife and mother, Albert Casper family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF RICHard H. Vine who passed away suddenly April 10, 1936. Twenty lonely years have passed away. Since your great sorrow fell. The shock that we received that day We still remember well. We little thought when leaving home You would no more return. That you in death so soon would sleep And leave us here to mourn. God gave us strength to bear it. Courage to fight the blow. But what it meant to lose you No one will ever know. Still sadly missed by his loving wife Lizzie and daughter Josephine.

Dirty Hands and Faces Trap Young Burglars

Cathy, 16, Sings for Father Bob

She Rejects College, Aims for Career in TV and Movies

By CHARLES MERCER

* * *

DOUBTS NERVE

"It was wonderful," she said the morning after. "I thought Barbara Bel Geddes was terrific. But the one thing that worried me, if I were to become an actress would I have the nerve to stand in front of an audience in my slip the way she does?"

Cathy currently is studying singing and dancing under a schooling program instituted by CBS. She has no desire to attend college, unlike her mother, who attended Sarah Lawrence College.

"I'm interested in movies and television," she said. "I'm interested in singing, dancing and acting—all three. But I haven't even started to study acting yet."

IN HER BLOOD

"I guess it's in my blood."

* * *

Her first public appearance was with her father and his band in Houston, Tex., when she was 14. The occasion was the annual horse show charity ball—and it came as a complete surprise to her. Her father called her to the stand and asked her to sing. She did—and the audience loved it. And now, naturally, she loves Texans.

* * *

"I like the mail I get when I'm on dad's show," she says, "because housewives who watch daytime television take the trouble to write and criticize what they don't like. It's one way I can improve myself."

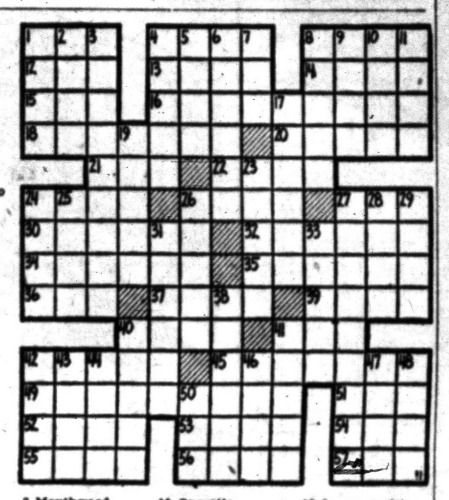

Water Flow Restored

DETROIT (AP)—Water service was restored to normal Tuesday in the southern section of Clinton Township. A broken water main caused a nine-hour drought Monday, leaving 2,000 township homes without water and closing three elementary schools.

The YMCA was founded by a group of apprentices in a London drapery firm in 1844.
