Detectives Trick Phoenix Man in State Office, Pose as Reporters

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — An embittered pipefitter, incensed by discontinuance of his disability checks, held eight men at gunpoint for 12½ hours in a state office before detectives disarmed him last night.

Charles Elmer Milligan, 52, of Tempe, was subdued by Sgt. Earl Moore and detective Don Rodriquez, who gained entry to the barricaded office by posing as newsmen.

Moments earlier, Milligan had voluntarily released five of his prisoners.

The drama began about 8 a.m. in a four-story state capitol annex housing offices of the Arizona Industrial Commission.

There for a hearing on his disability claim, Milligan whipped out a .22 caliber pistol and wounded his own attorney in a scuffle before taking command of the room.

He released his lawyer, Stephen S. Corey, 46, who scooted out of the room on the seat of his pants and was hospitalized with a flesh wound in his left leg.

LAWYER IN HOSPITAL

Later, Corey, from a hospital bed, conferred with Milligan by telephone and tried to talk him out of his gun-waving lecture to commission officials.

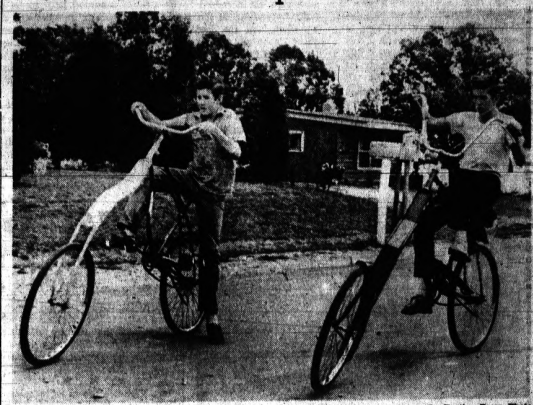

The gunpoint hearing was interrupted in its early stages by Milligan's son, Charles, 28, who was promptly thrown out by his angered father.

By telephone, Milligan told Det. Sgt. Seymour Nealis: "I damn near killed them all. He had to get past you to get in. You get him the hell out of this building."

Milligan suffered a back injury 18 months ago while working on the Glen Canyon Dam project on

Court Petition Fails to Erase 'State Senator'

3-Judge Panel Denies Kuhn's Request to Delete Designation

A petition to delete the "state senator" designation from Sen. Farrell E. Roberts', R-Pontiac, name on the primary election ballot was denied yesterday by a three-judge federal court panel in Detroit.

One of Roberts' rivals in the primary, Richard D. Kuhn contended that state law giving incumbent senators the right to use the designation on ballots is unconstitutional. Kuhn said the law was discriminatory.

In denying Kuhn's petition, the court panel said he acted too late for them to give the matter adequate consideration.

A decision to the contrary also would have required unsealing 729 voting machines throughout the county to make the deletions.

"The ballots already had been placed in the machine for Tuesday's election," County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr. stated.

The court panel was composed of Judges Theodore Levin and Wade McCree Jr. of Detroit and Clifford O'Sullivan of the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Kuhn said today it was gratifying to note that the judges realized there "is a substantial federal constitutional question to be considered." He said this was apparent because the petition was rejected by the judges only because of lack of time to consider the case.

City Neighborhood Mourns as Slain Storekeeper Buried

The Orchard Lake Avenue-Franklin Boulevard area was quiet today.

Its residents had lost a good friend.

For children, the "penny-candy man" was gone.

Today they buried Efimius Vasilliou, a humble, hard-working Greek immigrant found murdered Monday night in his grocery store at 309 Orchard Lake Ave.

Service was held at 2 p. m. at St. George Greek Orthodox Church.

"He was a very nice man," said Mrs. Sarah Tolliver of 299 Orchard Lake Ave., just two doors away from the store that Vasilliou had operated since 1948.

'ALWAYS FRIENDLY'

"He was always friendly and was genuinely interested in people," Mrs. Tolliver added. "Last winter when I was ill, he regularly inquired about how I felt."

★ ★ ★

Charles Theodore of 307 Orchard Lake Ave., the owner of the building rented by Vasilliou, said the victim was well-liked by everyone in the neighborhood.

"He was a good natured man and a hard worker," Theodore commented. "He kept the store open every day from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m."

Mrs. Charles Dinkins of 12 Walnut St., just around the corner from the store, said her grandchildren were frequent customers of the store. They would run over to the store to turn in a pop bottle or buy penny candy whenever they had some money.

"The children were outside the store Tuesday morning," Mrs. Dinkins said, "waiting for their friend to come."

Other neighborhood residents, Mrs. John Seay of 28 Walnut and Mrs. Amos Clark and Rose Dinkins, both of 12 Walnut, all agreed that the store operator would be sorely missed in the community.

Several neighbors said that the 59-year-old store owner often extended credit to those who "were a little low" before payday.

Born in Istanbul, Turkey, Vasilliou later lived in Greece. He came to this country in his late teens and has lived in the Pontiac area for over 30 years.

Before opening the store on Orchard Lake Ave. 14 years ago he operated a similar store on Oakland avenue.

★ ★ ★

"He was working most of the time," said his daughter, Mrs. Charles Nick, 607 Sunnybeach Dr., Commerce Township.

When he did find some leisure hours he enjoyed working in the garden.

"He planted several rose bushes at the new home we moved into recently," Mrs. Nick added.

Britain, Israel at Odds on Spy

Airline Says It Won't Heed English Order to Fly Soblen to U. S.

LONDON (AP)—Britain instructed El Al Airline today to fly fugitive spy Dr. Robert Soblen to the United States and prison today.

The Israeli airline said it would not do so, the Home Office announced.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the Home Office — Soblen's official guardian while he is in Britain—said the airline stated it was acting on instructions from the Israeli government.

Home Office officials were trying to resolve the situation in talks with El Al representatives at London Airport.

★ ★ ★

Attorneys for the 61-year-old psychiatrist moved at once to block any effort to fly him out on another airline.

They said such transportation by another line would require issuance of a deportation order, which could be attacked in court.

★ ★ ★

Pan American Airways said Soblen would not be on its only remaining flight to New York tonight.

"We have been given to understand that Soblen cannot be carried on anything but a direct flight to New York," a spokesman said. "Our flight tonight puts down at Shannon, Ireland."

Hint Abortion Planned in Sweden for Actress

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sherri Finkbine slipped into seclusion today amid hints that she was headed for Sweden and her planned abortion.

In Los Angeles, Scandinavian Airlines reported that the Phoenix television personality and her school teacher - husband, Robert, had reservations for a flight to Stockholm with a stop at Copenhagen, Denmark.

The Finkbines could not be found for comment but their lawyer confirmed they had decided on the where and when to abort her pregnancy of nearly three months.

The Finkbines say Sherri could give birth to a malformed child, the result of a drug she says she took to placate nausea during the early stages of her pregnancy. The drug, thalidomide, since has been blamed for deformities in thousands of babies born in Europe, Australia and Canada.

Attorney Howard Leibow admitted the decision had been made, but would reveal no more.

The only indication of their plan was the reservation out of Los Angeles today. There had been another reservation — also for

All Thalidomide Found in U.S. Now Destroyed

★ ★ ★

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government announced today that all supplies of thalidomide it has been able to locate in doctors' hands in this country have been destroyed or impounded.

★ ★ ★

However, officials have not been able yet to locate 158 of the 1,213 U.S. doctors who are reported to have received the drug for investigational purposes.

★ ★ ★

These doctors are either on vacation or have moved and efforts are being made to locate them.

★ ★ ★

The drug, a tranquilizer and sleeping pill which originated in Germany, is blamed for many deformations of babies both to women in West Germany and elsewhere who took the drug. It was never placed on the market in this country but doctors received it for experimentation.

Add 2 Boys, Some Parts — New Bikes

Folks in the Tyrone Street-Pontiac Lake Road area of Waterford Township stop and take a second look when two 13-year-old buddies go pedaling down the street on machines resembling bicycles.

★ ★ ★

Bored with the same old summer activities, Ronnie Bowen of 785 Tyrone St., and his friend Bud White of 2743 Mott St., got together one afternoon and started puttering around in an old garage.

There were all sorts of treasures. Cans of greasy nuts and bolts, old oil lanterns, time-worn tools and small drawers full of all sorts of "goodies."

Then they came upon a pile of used bicycle parts — sprockets forks, chains, pedals, handlebars and seats.

★ ★ ★

Years ago, Bud's older brother, Larry White of 2799 Mott St., had a little bicycle repair business in the garage and this was what was left.

★ ★ ★

Both boys had fairly good secondhand four-year-old bikes, but there was nothing very unusual about them. Ronnie had trouble riding his bike through the high-grassed field to get to his friend's house.

The youth reasoned that if he raised the front wheel, the entire frame would be higher, thus his chain and pedals would not become clogged with the dry bothersome weeds. And, he'd have something different.

So the two went to work. They each sawed the front fork off his bike frames, and added an improved extension.

★ ★

Slabs of one-inch-thick wood were hammer-tapped between each fork for added strength.

The only job left was to paint. Bud chose white, to go with his name, and Ronnie decided on red.

★ ★ ★

The result? Both boys claim that "once you get on it," the high-seated bicycles are more comfortable to ride and are "tricky-fun" to control. Now the two pedal over a high-grassed field as smoothly as if they were riding on a close-cropped golf course.

Fast-Working Pontiac Refuses to Stand Still

CHANGING SCENE — Pontiac's busiest intersection is the scene of major changes these days as shown by this aerial view. Both the old county courthouse and prosecutors office behind it are in the process of being torn down to make room for new growth in the downtown area. Future plans of the city call for rerouting of through traffic away from this presently busy intersection of Saginaw and Huron streets onto a fast perimeter highway. Someday the scene may change entirely with streets replaced by a large shopping mall. Some of the ample parking areas provided for today's downtown shoppers are visible in the upper left of the picture. The Riker Building, housing many of the professional offices serving the city and surrounding area, is seen at upper right. Delay Hearing Teamster Head

Data on Contributions to Political Campaigns Will Follow Primary

DETROIT (AP) — Teamster Local 337 president Robert Holmes won't appear until next Wednesday before a federal grand jury, reportedly to be asked about a union political campaign contribution among other subjects.

Holmes' scheduled appearance yesterday was postponed suddenly.

Next Wednesday is the day after primary election day. Paul Altred, special assistant U.S. Attorney General in charge of the present Teamsters investigation, refused to comment when asked if this had any bearing on the switch in dates for Holmes' appearance.

Holmes reputedly is to testify about an $11,000 Teamsters Union contribution to a campaign four years ago of Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel B. Olsen. Olsen will seek Democratic renomination Tuesday.

The Federal Grand Jury has been investigating Teamsters affairs over a period of months. There have been indictments alleging violations of labor laws.

Expect K to OK E. Reich Peace Pact, Shun Berlin War

News Analysis

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
(AP) Diplomatic Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON — Soviet Premier Khrushchev probably will sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany later this year. But it is highly unlikely he will give the German Reds the power to plunge the world into war over Berlin.

American leaders are now generally agreed that a new Berlin crisis is in the making.

They are receiving a steady flow of Soviet-inspired rumors of trouble in European capitals. They get forewarnings, too, through such acts as increased Soviet aircraft operations in the Berlin air corridors and the Red threat to shoot down an American helicopter at Berlin earlier this week.

The signs of a new flareup of crisis are growing almost every day. Yet there is also evidence that Khrushchev has not made all of his final decisions as he continues his pressures to get the United States, Britain and France to abandon West Berlin.

Problems of Berlin strategy and diplomatic and legal issues related to the peace treaty itself are assumed here to be under discussion or planned for discussion between Khrushchev and East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht somewhere on the Black Sea. Ulbricht flew from Berlin to the Soviet Union Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The latest direct account of Khrushchev's views was reported to Washington by retiring U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson just before he left Moscow last week. He spent considerable time with the Soviet leader a week ago Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev is understood to have told Thompson that he would have to make up his mind about the long-threatened peace treaty without too much further delay. He also gave Thompson to understand that he wants to develop further his case for a change in the status of West Berlin. This could mean that he intends to open up the whole issue in the United Nations General Assembly in the fall, again claiming that the continued Western occupation of the city creates a threat of war which could be eliminated if the West would bow to his demands.

U.S. STAND

Several weeks ago Kennedy called in Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin to try to get across to Khrushchev through the envoy that the United States will not withdraw from West Berlin and will if necessary use force to defend the Communist-encircled city. No one here is really sure yet that Khrushchev believes this message.

Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk are known to believe, however, that if any doubt remains in Khrushchev's mind about Western intentions, it is a fairly small one.

The best informed officials here believe that in the end Khrushchev will choose to avoid war but that he will go through with the peace treaty threat.

Official Washington is all but convinced, however, that Khrushchev will see that the treaty contains some provision specifying reserve rights for the Soviet Union on the more critical Berlin problem. Otherwise Khrushchev would be in the position of giving Ulbricht a much freer hand in determining the fateful future of the Berlin problem than it seems to be in the Soviet Union's interest.

★ ★ ★

The power to force the issue on Berlin is the power to start World War III. And no one in the government here believes that Khrushchev wants to spread that kind of power beyond the confines of the Kremlin.

Coast Guard Hearing on Montrose Closes

DETROIT (UPI) — The Coast Guard today ended its phase of the inquiry into the sinking of the British freighter Montrose by a barge in the Detroit River last Monday night.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Cmdr. Robert Chirnside, Coast Guard officer conducting the hearing, said that before wrapping things up attorneys for both sides would have an opportunity to question the last witness, Capt. Warren Fuller, skipper of the tug which was pushing the barge.

Fuller recounted events leading up to the collision. He said that two minutes before the collision he began to take "corrective action."

Fuller said he ordered the tug's engines reversed and by the time the barge hit the Montrose the engines were "backing very strong." He said he also blew the required danger signals and turned on the tug searchlight to warn the Montrose.

★ ★ ★

But he said he got no answering response until the Montrose was less than 100 yards away and approaching the tug and barge on the starboard side.

He said the Montrose blew one answering blast to his warning signal and about 10 seconds later the barge and ship collided.

Fuller said he immediately called the Belle Isle Coast Guard station to make the first report of the collision. He said he told the Coast Guard that "I didn't know our own condition" but that "the other ship was listing and seemed to be in a bad way."

He said he didn't know the identity of the ship he had struck until a few seconds later when he heard the Montrose calling Belle Isle to report it had been "in collision with some kind of barge."

The Montrose then told the Coast Guard its condition didn't appear too serious, Fuller said.

Algiers Roars Welcome as Leftist Ben Bella Lands

ALGIERS (AP) — Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, the former French army sergeant who has won a major battle in his bid to rule a leftist Algeria, received a roaring welcome on his arrival in this flag-bedecked capital today.

Crowds of wildly enthusiastic Algerians surged to greet him as he landed from a plane that brought him from his headquarters in the western city of Oran.

A compromise between the rival political factions Thursday gave Ben Bella, 45, a possibly dominant role in shaping the future of this infant country.

Under the truce, the Ben Bella-led, seven-man political bureau will set the stage for general elections Aug. 27. Power then will be turned over to the National Council of the Algerian Revolution, the old revolutionary parliament.

Two opponents of Ben Bella, deputy premiers Belkacem Krim and Mohammed Boudiaf, said they agreed to this solution to keep Algeria from collapsing into total anarchy.

Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda, moderate ex-pharmacist who led the exile regime in the last months of struggle for nationhood, remains as nominal head of the provisional government. The real power, however, will be in the hands of the political bureau.

The truce agreement dodged a basic issue—the future of the army and its general staff. The general staff, headed by Col. Houari Boumedienne, was accused of plotting dictatorship and fired by Ben Khedda on the eve of independence. It flouted the dismissal and rallied behind Ben Bella.

Officials said the problem of the 40,000-man army, equipped by Communist countries, will be faced after the elections. Some observers suspect Boumedienne has been using Ben Bella while he prepares a bid of his own to take over Algeria.

Ben Bella, son of a farmer of Moroccan origin, won French decorations for bravery in the Italian campaign in World War II. He became disgruntled in postwar Algeria and joined the underground. Captured by the French, he spent five years in prison, becoming a martyr of the revolution and a hero to rank and file Algerians.

The Day in Birmingham

New Hills Post Office to Stamp Mail Monday

BIRMINGHAM — The new Bloomfield Hills Post Office will begin operations Monday, Postmaster Herbert J. Dyble announced today.

The new facility, located next to the Bloomfield Hills Municipal Building at 71 E. Long Lake Road, is more than three times larger than the present post office which has served the area for 10 years.

Dyble said equipment from the old building at 51 W. Long Lake Road will be moved over the weekend and the new post office will be ready for business at 8:30 a.m. Monday.

A new automatic electric scale for handling parcel post packages will be added to the new post office which will greatly increase efficiency of the service, he said.

★ ★ ★

"Patrons also will benefit from the large, blacktopped parking area," he added.

"In addition, air conditioning has been installed in the building for the benefit of both employes and customers."

Other features of the new building includes a 538-square-foot lobby and a long counter with open windows, replacing the older cage-type booths.

The front exterior of the building is faced with stone on one half while the other side is constructed with tinted glass windows, stretching from the ground to the roof.

The post office, which employes 21 persons, serves a 38 square mile area, Dyble said, and just recently mail routes were increased from four to eight.

★ ★ ★

General contractor for the building was Hugh Dorris of Royal Oak. The building was started in March.

New officers of the Bloomfield Republican were elected recently at a meeting of the organization.

They are Homer Case, president; Samuel Reeve, vice president; Thelma Eoff, secretary; and Delores Little, treasurer.

Colt Allee has been re-elected chairman of the Birmingham Recreation Board of Directors. William Burgum was named vice chairman of the seven-member board.

The board is composed of two representatives from the city and the board of education and three members at large.

Marcia M. Hughes was renamed recreation board clerk and Patricia I. Husemann, deputy clerk.

'Strong to Moderate' Quakes in Argentina, Bolivia, Chile

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Observatories reported strong to moderate earth tremors today near the borders of Argentina, Chile and Bolivia.

The Chilean mining center and Pacific port city of Antofagasta, 700 miles north of Santiago, was rocked by an earthquake (at 8:33 a.m. Pontiac Time), but there were no reports of casualties or damage.

Seismographs at the national observatory in Buenos Aires and at La Plata university near the capital recorded the tremors over a period of from 30 to 50 minutes, starting at 5:59 a.m. (3:59 a.m. Pontiac time).

The La Plata Observatory placed the center of the shocks near Tarija, an important trading center in southern Bolivia.

A national observatory spokesman said the tremors had strength of proportions that "could cause heavy damage if the tremors were in populated areas."

Of Paralytic Type

2nd Polio Case Reported

A three-year-old Pontiac child has become Oakland County's second victim of paralytic polio within a week, the County Health Department announced today.

As in the case of an Oak Park man struck by the disease last week, the child was not protected by Salk vaccine.

The two cases are the first in the county in 20 months. The last time the county recorded any polio victims was in 1960. Eight cases were listed that year.

Today, County Health Director Dr. John D. Monroe again urged residents, no matter what age, to contact their physicians about obtaining immunization shots.

The coincidence of the two cases within a week is not indicative of any major outbreak, he said.

Vatican Speaks Out Against Abortion

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican radio said today that fear of giving birth to a deformed child is no justification for abortion.

The broadcast did not mention American television actress Sherri Finkbine by name.

But it was clear the Roman Catholic station was referring to Mrs. Finkbine, who is seeking an abortion because she fears her unborn child will be deformed as a result of taking the drug thalidomide.

"Homicide is never an act of good will," the radio said. "Love always selects life, not death."

Royal Oak Club 3rd Hit by Strike of Service Staff

DETROIT (UPI) — The Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders Union today extended its strike to the Red Run Golf Club in Royal Oak, the third club hit by the walkout.

The union called the strike by 80 employes at Red Run this morning and threatened to extend the walkout to as many as 30 clubs if necessary to back up demands for higher pay.

Service employes walked off the job earlier this week at the Detroit Yacht Club and the Detroit Boat Club.

Arbitration was proposed by Mrs. Myra Wolfgang, a vice president of the international union and head of Local 705 of the waiters and waitresses, in a telegram to Charles Bartlett, president of the Club Managers Association.

the Colorado River in northern Arizona. He drew disability compensation for a while, Gorey said, but the checks stopped in mid-March.

John B. Ryan, 63, a court reporter employed for the hearing and one of the hostages, said: "He just wanted to tell his story, and he did it, even though he repeated himself several times. When he finished, he finished and that was it."

At that point, Milligan released all hostages except Donald J. Morgan, 47, the commission's chief attorney, and the two pseudo-newsmen.

What he planned to do with those three wasn't explained. Whatever it was, it didn't come to pass.

Sgt. Moore got four glasses of water and the men began to talk.

"Until then," said Moore, "Don and I had been no closer to him than 25 feet."

As Milligan turned his head to pick up a glass of water, Rodriquez leaped at him and grabbed the pistol. Moore joined his fellow officer to overpower the husky pipefitter.

There was one wild shot from Milligan's gun, but Moore said, "I don't think he felt like killing anybody."

Reactions of the prisoners varied.

C. Blaine Dunford, 59, employed in the commission's records department, emerged first. He was crying.

"I'm sorry," he said, "but I just can't help it."

★ ★ ★

He described his fear as greater than what he experienced when he was employed in Honolulu the day the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor.

Next was Dr. Leo L. Tuveson, 51, attending the hearing to testify against Milligan's disability claim.

"All in a day's work," said the physician.

Also held was Loren G. Shelley, 33, a commission attorney.

Said Shelley when he telephoned his wife: "I'll be heading home shortly."

TO PROBE SANITY

Milligan said nothing as he was led away. He was booked on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and investigation of sanity.

Only four commission officials and employes, plus Dr. Tuveson, were in the hearing room as Milligan opened the proceedings with himself as the only witness.

They were joined later by James M. Witt, 55, business agent for Milligan's union and an errand boy throughout the session.

Witt came and went at Milligan's demand, bringing in such things as soft drinks and coffee.

Kill 2 Fleeing Red China

HONG KONG (AP) — Hong Kong marine police today fired on a junkload of fugitives from Communist China, killing two women and injuring a young boy.

Hight, Hirt and Smith

Three Dems Running for Sheriff

(Editor's Note — Following is the last in a series of articles published by The Pontiac Press to aid voters in the Aug. 7 primary. Only those offices in which there is a contest are being covered.)

A trio of Democrats is lined up for the race to oppose incumbent Republican sheriff Frank Irons in his bid for re-election.

Seeking the Democratic nomination in the Aug. 7 primary are Homer Hight, an Oxford auto dealer; William A. Smith, a Ferndale fuel company salesman, and Kenneth G. Hirt, public relations man for the Pontiac Businessmen's Service Bureau.

Hight, 55, of 97 Dennison St., Oxford, is taking his second shot at Irons' post. As the Democratic nominee in 1960, he lost to the sheriff by about 38,000 votes.

An Oxford councilman for three years, Hight serves on the board of directors for the chamber of commerce and is a member of several fraternal organizations.

He spent 17 years as an employe of Pontiac Motor Division, principally in plant protection work, and was a county sheriff's deputy in the early 1930s.

KENNETH G. HIRT

Hight and his wife Evelyn are the parents of one son.

HIRT IN RACE

Another former sheriff's deputy in the race, Hirt is making his first bid for public office. He has received endorsement from the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council.

★ ★ ★

The 34-year-old Ferndale man, who lives at 560 Meadowdale Ave., began his law enforcement career as an officer with the Troy Police Department. He served on the sheriff's staff as a deputy from 1954 to 1961.

★ ★ ★

A graduate of two police educational schools, Hirt was an officer of the former Oakland County Deputy Sheriff's Association and was an organizer of the White Lake Township Police Department.

★ ★ ★

He is the father of four children.

SMITH IN RUNNING

Smith, 38, also the father of four children, lives at 707 Venoy St., Madison Heights.

★ ★ ★

He is serving his second term as the Madison Heights Recreation Advisory Board and belongs to the community's Democratic Club.

WILLIAM A. SMITH

Smith was born in Ferndale and attended elementary and high school in Hazel Park before leaving for a 3½-year hitch in the Navy.

Architects Picket Razing of Spacious Penn Station

NEW YORK (AP)—Even modern architectural designers are concerned over the proposed razing of Pennsylvania Station, with its spacious nine-acre interior inspired by some of the great buildings of ancient Rome.

In a move to head off the "beheading" of the station—to be supplanted above ground by a hotel, a 34-story office building and two sports arenas—about 200 architects picketed outside the structure Thursday.

The pickets, some of whom have designed several of Manhattan's streamlined skyscrapers, carried signs saying "Save Penn Station," "Preserve Our Heritage," and "Be a Penn Pal."

In reaction to plans to tear down the station, the marchers several months ago formed the Action Group for Better Architecture in New York.

ITALIAN MARBLE

Penn Station, formally opened in 1910, was designed by the architectural firm of McKim, Mead and White, whose senior member was Stanford White.

Tons of expensive marble were imported from Italy, and its design patterned after the Roman baths of Caracalla. The station's main waiting room is comparable in size to the nave of St. Peter's Basilica in Rome.

★ ★ ★

Among the leading architects picketing were Philip Johnson, who was associated with Mies Van Der Rohe in the design of the Seagram building on Park Avenue, Charles Evans Hughes Jr., and Norval White, chairman of the action group.

Plans to demolish the building have been announced by Madison Square Garden and the Pennsylvania Railroad. The proposed new structures—between Seventh and Eighth avenues and 33rd and 31st streets—would cost about $90 million.

Some of the opponents of demolition met Mayor Robert F. Wagner at Idlewild Airport Thursday, as he returned from a European vacation, and gave him a letter urging him to call the station's plight to the attention of the Landmarks Preservation Commission that he appointed last April.

Court Upholds Dismissal of Church Suit

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals has upheld dismissal of a suit seeking to upset the already completed merger of the Congregational Christian churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

★ ★ ★

The churches merged last year into the United Church of Christ, with more than 2 million members, after two decades of negotiations.

★ ★ ★

The Appeals Court upheld a lower court dismissal of a suit by dissident members of the Congregationalists, saying that the issues had previously been settled in other courts.

The appeal had been pursued by Congregational churches in Burlington, Iowa; Pontiac, Mich.; Wauwatosa, Wis., and Toledo, Ohio, and by several ministers and members.

They claimed the merger would destroy local autonomy and asked that it be upset.

'Employe of State Didn't Break Law'

LANSING (AP)—A State employe who had his own driveway paved with asphalt ordered for the Lansing School of the Blind was not in violation of any criminal laws, an Ingham County grand juror said yesterday.

Judge Louis E. Coash, appointed the grand juror in the case, said Walter T. McVicker, chief of the site and urban planning division of the State Department of Administration, did not perform a criminal violation.

McVicker was suspended without pay from his job while the probe was being conducted.

"Although performance of the state contract was not affected," said Ira Polley, state controller, "McVicker's personal relationship with the contractor then doing work for the state was irregular and an exercise of poor judgment.

★ ★ ★

"Consequently, I ordered a 30-day suspension without pay for Mr. McVicker and he is being given a conditional service rating."

Our 4 Political Parties Play Musical Chairs

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON—The latest twist on our four-party system is adding extra zip into the zaniest congressional session in living memory.

Capitol Hill observers are well aware that we have not two, but four political parties.

The Liberal Democratic party predominates in the north and west, the Conservative Democratic party in the south.

The Conservative Republican party embraces most of the nation, but bows to the Liberal Republican party in the populous northeast states and California.

★ ★ ★

This situation occasionally leads to complications, but nothing so fascinating as the crazy-mixed-up melee that developed during the past week, when the "four parties" began playing musical chairs with each other.

To give some idea of the political chaos in this whacky election year:

WHACKY YEAR!

—The Democratic left-wingers who rage against Dixie filibusters on civil rights staged a full-fledged filibuster themselves, against President Kennedy's communications satellite bill.

—Senators like Robert Kerr, George Smathers and Everett Dirksen, who can be counted on to defend the Dixie filibusters attempted to break up the liberals' filibuster by cloture.

—These same solons who are spearheading the drive to pass JFK's satellite bill to led the fight to defeat his medicare bill.

—Quixotically, the liberal group that filibustered against Kennedy's satellite measure went all-out for his medicare program.

—Three arch conservative Republicans—Barry Goldwater, John Tower and Roman Kruska—came to the rescue of the liberals by blocking an attempt to shut off their filibuster in its fifth day.

—On the sixth day, Republicans finally stuck as close together as a Kennedy brother, and permitted the satellite bill to be referred to the Foreign Relations Committee for ten days. Then the filibuster may start all over again.

It is to laugh! Or is it?

More than a month after the legal termination date of Congress, our elected lawmakers are still snarling at each other, while appropriations, educations, farm, trade and tax reform bills go unpassed.

The leaders of the liberal filibuster were Senators Wayne Morse, Maurine Neuberger, Albert Gore, Estes Kefauver and Ralph Yarborough, with a massive assist from Senators Paul Douglas, Bob Bartlett and Ernest Gruening.

These are the same liberals who, at the beginning of every session, vainly try to alter the Senate rules to block southern filibusters.

BETTER GO HOME

With the adjournment target date fading ever further into the autumn, Republicans are renewing their needling of Democratic leaders to close up and go home. "Nothing good," they say, "can come of this Congress."

The master needler of them all is Rep. William Ayres of Ohio, a leader of the House GOP Campaign Committee, who tossed an "Old Frontier" party this week in the shadow of the Capitol dome.

As guests arrived for the festivities, they were embraced by comedian Mark Russell, who wore a dripping-wet tuxedo and tennis shoes. "Just came from the Kennedys'," he explained.

Inside the gate was a child's wading pool, with only a damp cigar inside it. A sign read: "Authentic replica of Bobby Kennedy's swimming pool after Pierre Salinger fell in." Stretched on a clothes line to dry were ties, evening coats, a petticoat and undies.

The bar offered "Kennedy cocktails," described as "Ship of state on the rocks." A banner bearing JFK's picture headlined:

"My father told me about business, why didn't he tell me about Congress?"

★ ★ ★

In view of the stalemate in Congress, where Democrats have a lopsided majority in both houses, the neatest Ayres thrust was the poster which trumpeted:

"Give JFK a Republican Congress for his own good."

Anti-Semitic Incidents Hit

U. S. Tells Argentina Events Being Criticized in This Country

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has advised Argentina on an informal basis that recent anti-Jewish incidents in the South American republic are causing unfavorable comment in this country.

Similar incidents in Uruguay also have been reported, and, like those in Argentina, have brought criticism in the U.S. Congress.

A State Department official emphasized today that the U.S. representations were made as a friendly gesture and in no sense carried any criticism of the Argentine government.

Even before the U.S. viewpoint was given to Argentine officials in Washington and in Buenos Aires, the official said, the Argentine government had publicly deplored the incidents and announced that firm action would be taken to avoid such occurrences in the future.

Informed sources here said that while anti-Semitism was not an announced policy of the government of Juan D. Peron, former dictator of Argentina, the Peronists often followed an anti-Jewish course and that recent incidents probably were the actions of a few die-hard Peron followers.

New Plant Represents Faith in Area Business

A believer in the present soundness and substantial outlook for the Pontiac - Oakland County business climate, the Chief Pontiac Photo-engraving Company optimistically suits action to the word with plans for a new building just announced. Officials are spending more than $100,000.

★ ★ ★

The new photoengraving unit, embodying the latest technology

in rapid etch engraving, will effectively complement the present unsurpassed technical and mechanical structure of the publishing enterprise.

★ ★ ★

This is the time for all business interests in this section to be forward-looking. With the urban renewal concept assuming physical shape, those now in on the ground floor may find an advantage lost and themselves trailing if they do not keep pace.

★ ★ ★

A recent uplifting announcement of $17 million had shown the investment opportunities offered in Pontiac. There was one questionable note: the interest originated mainly from outsiders. We must keep face and visualize the great potentialities here.

In any event, the City's new addition is a symbol of faith in the future of this area. Directors are confident that it has not been misplaced.

Recent Pontiac Murder Is Brutal, Shocking

One of the most brutal and shocking crimes in the history of Pontiac occurred last Monday evening when two bandits shot to death the proprietor of an Orchard Lake Avenue market and made off with upwards of $1,500. Evidence indicated he strongly resisted the robbery attempt and was killed in the struggle.

The murdered man, a respected Greek immigrant known professionally as James Williams, had operated the store for 15 years.

Two discarded women's stockings were found at the rear of the store, leading police to link this crime with three previous "stocking robberies"—so named because the holdup men used stockings as masks.

But so far meager clues have been uncovered as the police work day and night to run down the murderers. Investigation of the other robberies also is being intensified because of their tie-in with the murder and robbery of the storekeeper.

This bestial killing must be solved and the criminals punished to the full extent of the law if Pontiac is not to enter upon a wave of violence and crime from which we have in the past been comparatively free.

To the end of quick apprehension of the guilty, any citizen who might have even a scintilla of information or even conjecture bearing on the crime is urged to communicate it to the authorities. Many times, what has seemed but an unimportant triviality has, when fitted into an over-all pattern, assumed great significance.

Safety Rules Important in Transporting Boats

With boating fast becoming one of the most popular summertime recreations, craft on trailers are more and more a familiar sight.

While boating enthusiasts know — or should know — the safety rules afloat, a lot of them are neglecting an important safety item when boats are on the road. This is the "eighth wheel," or spare tire for the trailer. Overloading of trailers is one of the chief reasons for tire failure.

Tests show that overloading by 10 per cent, say, adding 120 pounds to a 1,200-pound maximum of a trailer — can reduce the life of tires by 20 per cent. A 20 per cent overload cuts off 30 per cent, and so on up.

The weight factor and the possibility of a blowout while traveling our expressways is something to seriously consider. It's a pretty tough job to hold a car after a blowout, but it would be even harder with a swaying trailer and boat.

★ ★ ★

Driving speed is also a consideration for everyone to keep in mind. For driving up to the limit (50 m.p.h. is the recommended speed for a car and a trailer), the load should be kept UNDER the maximum.

On the other hand, if the burden is too light and the trailer bounces, a reduction in tire pressure should help.

Under all considerations, just remember that you have a load behind which you are hauling.

Don't Miss the Signal to See Lions Preview

By HOWARD V. HELDENBRAND

A Pigskin Preview is scheduled for tomorrow evening at Wisner Stadium when the Detroit Lions stage their intra-squad scrimmage. This civic event, sponsored by Community National Bank in cooperation with Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, rates the support of all.

It's going to be a big show! Under the dazzling new lights, you'll have an opportunity to size up the players on whom Detroit's fortunes will ride this fall. There'll also be special events: punting, passing, sprinting contests; a fireworks spectacle and a jazz band . . . And by way of a bonus — as though one was needed—Michigan's 1962 Junior Miss will be in attendance and participate in pre-game ceremonies.

Tickets are $1.00 and $1.50 (reserved), obtainable at the sponsoring bank and at Osmun's along with many more sources listed in yesterday's issue of The Press. The curtain goes up at 7:30 p.m.

This year, two pairs decided to leave the flock as it flew northward in the spring, stay home and go into business for themselves. They did all right, coming up with broods of five and six—now about the size of the parents . . . Mother sails along majestically in front, then the goslings in formation, and the Old Gent bringing up the rear—pecking angrily at any dawdlers.

One morning—and this will kill you—with most residents still asleep and hence not tossing out on the water the usual little snacks, the geese decided it was breakfast time. JFK Condoned Tactics of Agitators

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—It isn't too clear whether President Kennedy, in his news conference on Wednesday, was trying to compliment the Negroes of Albany, Ga., by comparing them to the Communist government in Moscow, or whether he was trying to compliment the Communists. What the President said exactly was this:

"Let me say that I find it wholly inexplicable why the City Council of Albany will not sit down with the citizens of Albany, who may be Negroes, and attempt to secure them, in a peaceful way, their rights.

"The United States government is involved in sitting down at Geneva with the Soviet Union. I can't understand why the government of Albany—the city council of Albany—cannot do the same for American citizens."

Now, in the first place, the President of the United States himself doesn't sit down with all the groups of agitators who picket the White House from time to time, and enter into solemn negotiations with them concerning their "rights" or the proposals they may wish to see adopted by the government.

In the second place, the United States government isn't sitting down at Geneva with a group of dissenters in its own ranks, but with another government which has been formally recognized as such.

Nor is it clear that government inside the United States, whether it be federal or state or local, must submit to bludgeoning by spectacular demonstrators who claim to be "nonviolent" but who concede that what they do may stir up violence. They argue, however, that such tactics are justified because their cause seems to them to be just.

CITIZENS OF ALBANY

Nor is it clear either that the demonstrators are "citizens of Albany." Many of them come from other parts of the country as participants in a protest organized and financed by groups outside the city, if not the state. Mayor Kelly of Albany, commenting on President Kennedy's suggestion, is reported in the New York "Herald Tribune" as having said to the press:

"We have strictly a local problem which can and should be solved by local people only. The city commission has no intention of negotiating with outside agitators who have announced their intention to violate the city ordinances and state statutes and who have, in fact, violated city ordinances, state statutes, and a restraining order issued by a federal court.

"We will never negotiate with any persons whose announced purpose of being in our city is to turn the city upside down."

Was the President, in trying to show his sympathy with the cause of the agitators, really aware that he was at the same time condoning the tactics of the agitators?

He might more logically have called for the emergence of some mediating influence in the community, though he seems not to have known that the city commission of Albany had not been unreceptive to informal efforts of that kind before.

The New York "Times," in a dispatch from Albany, said on Thursday:

"Although individual commissioners have met with Negroes informally, there have been no formal consultations on the Negroes' demands for desegregation of public facilities."

CHOSEN BY NEGROES

But whom do the agitators represent? Have they been chosen by any formal action of the Negroes of the city? Why should any group which comes in from the outside be accorded formal recognition and a formal negotiating status when it hasn't any credentials that show it to be truly representative of the residents of the community?

Plainly democratic government either has to be conducted by formal procedures of some kind or else be swayed by the wishes of any emotional mob that gathers in front of city hall.

Progress will not be made by inflaming passions through public demonstrations.

National Institutes Center Best Medicine Can Offer

Many correspondents have asked for more details about what I consider the foremost medical establishment in the world, the Clinical Center of the National Institutes of Health.

★ ★ ★

It is situated on a 316-acre campus at Bethesda, Md., a half-hour ride from downtown Washington.

It consists of a 14-story building that houses 516 beds, 1,100 laboratories and 7 different institutes.

Each is devoted to the study of a special branch of medicine: allergy and infectious diseases, arthritis and metabolic diseases, cancer, dentistry, heart diseases, mental health, diseases of the nervous system and blindness.

Each year, study projects are undertaken. Patients are admitted when their illnesses relate to the study project under consideration.

The list of these projects is sent to those physicians who write to request this information.

★ ★ ★

This year, the institutes are studying angina pectoris, leukemia, cancers of head and neck and other tumors, rheumatoid arthritis, the "butterfly disease" (lupus erythematosus), cystic fibrosis, certain virus infections, epilepsy, schizophrenia and certain varieties of meningitis.

To gain admission, an application must be made in writing or by phone by the admitting physician.

Only the character of the disease determines acceptance. No restrictions are placed on residence, race, creed, color or citizenship.

Except for transportation costs (for which help may be given), no other fees are charged.

However, the candidate must agree to participate in the research whose progress, as well as other clinical information, will be made available to the referring physician to whom the patient will be returned after discharge.

★ ★ ★

Once admitted to the institute, the most expert and kindly care is given all patients, who have unexcelled facilities at their command for reading, recreation, occupational therapy, tutoring (especially for school children) and attendance at the church of their denomination.

'More Employes Needed at Municipal Golf Course'

I have enjoyed The Press for a number of years and especially the Voice of the People.

★ ★ ★

I offer this to the "Disgusted Golfer." Our Pontiac city course is very understaffed with only four men. We have over 100 acres of golfing area not including the buildings. Most courses have one man to maintain the tees, at least two men for the greens and five to ten men to cover all the other areas involved.

★ ★ ★

If the city could put more people to work and let a greater percentage of the revenue go back into the project our course would be one of the state's finest. This would pay for itself in more golfers and greater revenue.

'Unusual Weather Caused by Bombs'

Our unusual weather can easily be explained. It's those super powerful bombs. They've distorted nature's coordination and produced a peculiar pattern. This is another sound reason for all nations to call off any more such terrors in the air.

Waterford Mother

Of course, the weather's freakish and you can blame the war mongers for those deadly bombs so high in the air. They affect the slip streams and outer atmosphere.

If they aren't stopped immediately, things may get much worse. Suppose we had another period of 40 days and 40 nights of continuous rain like they did in Biblical times? Remember, four-fifths of the globe is water already and it won't take much more to cover all the land there is.

Taxpayer Disturbed by Valuation Hike

I don't know how many of the 35,000 taxpayers got knifed in the back with a hike in valuation to bleed $8 or more into their coffers over last year's tax. I got hooked for $8.10 and my valuation has been the same for ten years. I went to the assessor's office and was informed this was on the land. I'm fed up and disgusted.

How can any Christian justify the abortion of a human life? We have raised our levels of thinking, morality, education beyond the Dark Ages. Because a child is born blind or without some other God-given faculty, do we kill it?

Praise Choice

The Hillsdale Daily News

We wish to commend Gov. John Swainson for following the recommendation of the Hillsdale County Bar in filling the Circuit Court vacancy created by the death of Judge Charles O. Arch.

★ ★ ★

It was within the governor's power to fill the post with a qualified member of his own party from some other area. That instead he named Robert W. McIntyre, a Republican and Hillsdale County prosecutor, is evidence of his respect for the nonpartisan character of the court and an expression of confidence in Mr. McIntyre and the Bar as a whole.

The IUA

The Flint Journal

It will be interesting to watch the progress of Investors' Union of American, Inc. This organization already has signed up members in 17 states.

Chartered by the state of Oklahoma, it is a nonpartisan, nonprofit organization without membership dues, assessments or salaried officers. Membership is limited to American citizens who have an investment in the nation's economic system in the form of life insurance, savings accounts, stocks or bonds.

One of the organizers of the group estimates that 60 million citizens could qualify. The IUA's objective is to get a better return on their money for savers in the United States. One of its first activities is to get off a barrage of letters, telegrams and petitions to President Kennedy and members of Congress.

The organization's first announcement explains: "Members must pledge to write and keep on writing, demanding an end to unwarranted federal government interference and government competition with America's traditional free-enterprise system. Members also are requested to support congressional candidates, without regard to party affiliation, who believe in limited, constitutional government, and free enterprise."

IUA hopes, especially, to direct its mail campaign against all government policies likely to promote inflation. It is against proposals for tax reduction on the ground that it would increase the federal deficit and, therefore, would be sharply inflationary.

Steve Stahl, one of the organizers, said IUA's objectives would benefit all savers, but that the group's chief interest is the small investor, especially the retired and those near retirement. Stahl says these "thrifty, hard-working people have lost more than half the purchasing power of their retirement dollars through inflation caused primarily by fiscal irresponsibility in the management of our federal government."

IUA expects to spread to all 50 states.

Aid to Algeria

The Dallas Morning News

What does the United States get in return for its lavish foreign-aid handouts around the globe? Not much, sometimes, but in most cases where our help is genuinely needed and appreciated we get credit for the donation, and maybe make a few friends.

Not so in Algeria.

★ ★ ★

We've just seen a report on a U. S. shipment of tents to provide shelter for thousands of refugees. The tents cost the American taxpayer $800,000. These are being labeled as gifts from the United Nations — not the United States.

★ ★ ★

Algerian refugees have received more than $14 million worth of American aid since 1958 under the U.N. label; also the United States has contributed $2.5 million to the United Nations, earmarked for the Algerian refugee program, and none of this aid is labeled "made in the U.S.A." No wonder we are losing!

'Federal Funds'

The Cleveland Plain Dealer

Of all the lost causes none is recalled more often than the unsuccessful attempt to do away with the expression "at government expense" or "paid for by Federal funds."

★ ★ ★

Quite often a politician will explain gleefully to his constituents how he has saved them money. The new bridge or highway or municipal building will not, says the politician, cost his beloved taxpayers anything but a simple fee. "The big expense," he tells the audience, "will be taken care of by Federal funds."

★ ★ ★

When the President or the Congress approve a gift or a loan of millions or billions of dollars, inside the country or outside, the money isn't President Kennedy's any more than it was President Eisenhower's money or President Truman's money.

★ ★ ★

The money is taxpayers' money; it is your money and mine. It is time somebody put to use the known facts of financial life, the most prominent being that there are no such things as Federal funds. The government doesn't earn a dime unless you include some of the unintentional profits it makes from its intrusion into business.

The phrase "Federal funds" should be changed to "taxpayers' money."

The people who come up with the scratch, not the gents who spend it, should get proper credit.

Equal-Time Rule

The Des Moines Register

The equal-time provision to which radio and television stations are subjected during political campaigns is "impractical." The large number of minor candidates makes this requirement a cumbersome law.

In a Milwaukee election there were 60 candidates for sheriff and one office-seeker in Chicago has run 18 times without success. Because there are numerous candidates in a race a station may decide to avoid all discussion to avoid having to give equal time to a parade of nonentities.

★ ★ ★

Profitable Business From Discards 30 to 60 Years Old

Skin Diver Salvages Pig Iron From Lake Superior

MARQUETTE (AP) — An Upper Peninsula skin diver has made a profitable business out of salvaging discarded pig iron from the floor of Lake Superior.

★ ★ ★

Ken Desmarais, of Honor, recently wound up more than six weeks of leisure-time work, during which he salvaged 10 tons of pig iron from the bottom of the lake.

The pig iron was discarded in Marquette's upper harbor 30 to 60 years ago.

The pigs were smelted at the cliffs Dow blast furnace some time between April 16, 1903, when the first cast was made, and 1933, when the furnace went out of blast.

★ ★ ★

Lake Shore, Inc., bought six tons of the pig iron at $50 a ton. Desmarais sold one ton to the state of Michigan for display at Fayette Harbor, once the center of pig iron production. He hopes to sell the rest to a blast furnace in Menominee.

DROP IN WATER

Longshoremen used to drop at least four or five pigs in the water every time a boat was loaded, according to John Keast, Marquette naval historian and authority on Lake Superior shipping.

In those days the difficulty of searching for the lost bars wasn't worth the pig iron.

Desmaris, who has been diving since 1952, heard about the pig iron in the upper harbor when he was a student at Northern Michigan College in 1957.

He went to work after receiving written permission from the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad Co. to use the dock just north of the upper harbor ore dock.

He was aided in his efforts by his partner, Al Boulden, at Proksch Construction Co., and teen-age neighbors. He started diving from the dock and from his 14-foot aluminum boat.

Diving into seven or eight feet of water, Desmaris found pig iron covered with six inches of mud. Washing the bars off with his water hose was "like looking for marbles in a bowl of cake batter," Desmaris said.

NORTH SIDE

Three tons of the rusty iron bars were picked up on the north side of the dock. The 2½-foot long bars weigh from 60 to 135 pounds, with the largest weighing in at 200. The pigs were pulled on the dock after Desmaris looped a rope around them.

★ ★ ★

Working on the south side of the dock, Desmaris found about seven tons of pig ore in about 20 feet of water. The bars were under a foot of sand.

The above-water crew usually hauled up 14 or 15 pigs before they required a rest period, although they set a record of 28 pigs in 30 minutes. Desmaris later rigged up a boom that hauled four of the heavy iron pieces at one time.

After the skin diver tied four pigs to the rope, a helper on the dock drove Desmaris' car, hitched to the other end of the rope, along the dock and pulled the pigs from the water.

JFK Status Symbols 'In,' Then 'Out'

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Status symbols in the U.S. capital are constantly changing, making it difficult to keep track of what is "in" and what is "out."

About 18 months ago, I drew up a form chart showing how certain symbols, prevalent here during the Eisenhower administration, had been discarded and replaced during the first few weeks of the Kennedy administration.

I noted, for instance, that heart attacks were "out" and back ailments were "in;" Augusta, Ga., was "out" and Palm Beach, Fla., was "in;" golf was "out" and touch football was "in;" and so forth.

★ ★ ★

This chart has, of course, become obsolescent with the passage of time; new symbols have emerged and some of the old ones have crested and waned.

Fortunately for status seekers who like to keep abreast of the tide, an up-to-date version of the "ins" and "outs" on the New Frontier has just been compiled by Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen Jr. of New Jersey.

Following are some of the more poignant excerpts from his study, lumped together into general categories for easier indentification:

SOCIAL LIFE

"Pool parties in Bobby's back yard are 'in' . . . as are many of the guests.

"Touch football is going 'out' but Bobby hasn't been told yet. Water skiing is 'in' . . . for the summer.

PERSONALITIES

"Roger Blough was 'out' but he is now 'in.' Sen. Smathers was 'in' but he may now be 'out.' Bobby is so 'in' he is way 'out.' Teddy will soon be 'in,' they hope.

Chester Bowles was 'in.' Now he is 'out.' Pat Brown thinks he is 'in.' Secretary Freeman has a feeling he is 'out.' Lyndon Johnson is 'out.' He always was.

"Billie Sol almost got 'in.' Now even a mention of him is 'out.'

NEWSPAPER COLUMNISTS

"Doris Fleeson is 'out.' Roscoe Drummond doesn't care whether he is 'in' or 'out' . . . so he is 'in.' Drew Pearson is 'out.' But a Drew Pearson column is 'in.'

ORGANIZATIONS, ISSUES

"Everyone thinks the ADA is 'in' but it is really 'out.'. Needless to say, the AMA is 'out.' Talk about the stock market is 'out.' No one knows yet whether a tax cut is 'in' or 'out.' "

(As a footnote, I might add that Frelinghuysen himself is a Republican, and is therefore automatically "out.")

Todd Groenewold was born March 3, 1961 without a connection between his esophagus and his stomach. The channel through which food must flow came to a dead end.

★ ★ ★

That meant trouble at once for the infant son of a farm couple, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Groenewold. Dr. R. R. Sawtell of Worthington, Minn., gave the baby oxygen and put him in an incubator.

★ ★ ★

Todd couldn't keep any food or water down and examination showed the serious trouble. He was taken to University Hospital in Minneapolis for surgery. In a five-hour operation, surgeons connected the esophagus to the stomach.

ANOTHER OPERATION

A week later this broke down and frail Todd was rushed back for another five hours on the operating table. He was fed milk through a tube inserted directly into his stomach.

In another week a lung collapsed and Todd got bacterial pneumonia.

★ ★ ★

On April 17 last year a three-hour operation was required to correct the position of the feeding tube. By mid-May Todd had gained weight—up to nine pounds, two ounces, and went home to his parents' farm four miles from this southwestern Minnesota community.

Doctors said he had survived 100-to-1 odds to live.

BACK TO HOSPITAL

In April of this year, it was back to the hospital for three operations.

Now, Todd is back home and thriving much like a normal child. But one more operation—hopefully the last—remains, doctors say. His esophagus runs outside of Todd's breastbone. When he's about six, doctors will operate to place the tube inside the chest.

★ ★ ★

Then, say the surgeons, the blond youngster will be able to romp happily with the four other Groenewold children.

★ ★ ★

His mother, who is expecting another child, says it will take many years to pay off the medical expenses for Todd's operations. But, she adds, "We don't worry about that. We're just so glad to have him."

"LUCKY BOY" — Todd Groenewold, 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Groenewold of Rushmore, Minn., has had seven operations in his young life, five of them major. The trouble stemmed from the fact Todd had no connection between his esophagus and stomach when born. Doctors said he survived 100-to-1 odds. Now the youngster is getting along like a normal, happy boy, but surgeons say Todd must go through one more operation when he is about 6 years old.

Keeping Up With the Joneses Gets Very Involved

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Once upon a time a family named Smith bought a house in the suburbs next door to a family named Jones.

Naturally, since they moved in different circles and hadn't been properly introduced, they never spoke to one another.

Their houses to a passing eye would seem as alike as two bubbles in beer foam, but one day Mrs. Smith thought she detected a deeper green in her neighbor's grass.

BOYLE

That night she told her husband: "Our lawn is positively shabby. You'll have to do something about it. After all, we have to keep up with the Joneses."

That weekend Mr. Smith could be seen tossing grass seed from a five-pound bag. The following weekend Mr. Jones was observed heaving grass seed from a 10-pound bag.

SHINIER MOWER

Soon Mrs. Smith decided the family next door had a shinier power lawnmower.

"We can't hold our heads up in this neighborhood unless we keep up with the Joneses," she told her husband.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Smith bought her a two-seated lawnmower marked "His" and "Hers."

The following week the Joneses and their child were cutting their grass in a spanking new three-seated lawnmower marked "His," "Hers" and "Ours."

A friend of Jones gave him a used playground swing which he put in his back yard.

'WE NEED POOL'

Mrs. Smith noticed this at once and told her husband:

"Our child is underprivileged. We'll have to put a swimming pool in our back yard. We can't let the Joneses get ahead of us."

Mr. Smith, who loved his wife and had normal pride, ordered the swimming pool built.

The first day he swam in it he saw workmen next door building a larger swimming pool there and putting an addition on the garage. Mrs. Jones had ordered an extra car.

★ ★ ★

Well, Mrs. Smith ordered another car, too, and decided her cozy home was too small and had another room built to make it look more impressive.

It was shortly after that when Mrs. Jones started having a maid come in twice a week. And it was shortly after that when Mrs. Smith found life wasn't worth living unless she could have a maid in every day.

NOW BUTLER

The neighbors were never quite sure later whether it was Mrs. Jones or Mrs. Smith who hired the first butler ever seen in the community.

Neither was Mr. Smith. All he could remember was his wife's constant complaint, "After all, we have to keep up with the Joneses."

Even the delivery men got mixed up in the flood of buying. But if they delivered by mistake to the Smith home a new fur coat or new sofa that Mrs. Jones had ordered, Mrs. Smith ordered two more of a more expensive kind. And vice versa with Mrs. Jones.

★ ★ ★

Well, the whole race for equality collapsed when Mr. Smith had to go into court and declare himself bankrupt. There he was astonished to see his neighbor, Jones, also filing out bankruptcy papers.

LOOK WHO'S HERE

"What brought you here?" he inquired. And Jones, who was nearsighted and couldn't have told his neighbor from Adam, replied:

"We were getting along all right until some spendthrift smart alecs moved in next door to us, and my wife decided we couldn't let them get ahead of us. That was our whole trouble—trying to keep up with the Smiths. How about you?"

"If I told you," sighed Mr. Smith, "You wouldn't believe me."

Moral: When you try to ape the other fellow, you always make a monkey of yourself.

48-Hour Strike Fails in City of Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—A 48-hour "general strike" called by the CGT Union Federation ended in apparent failure at midnight last night.

There was no immediate indication that the government would yield to CGT demands for blanket wage increases and other economic reforms to offset the skyrocketing cost of living.

A statement issued by the federation at the end of the strike blamed it on the government.

A score of persons were injured in scattered strike violence. Most of them were passengers in strike-shunning buses which were shot up, bombed or burned.

Truman Lends Personal Touch to Library Tour

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Harry S. Truman served as a guide on an early tour of the Truman Library here Thursday.

The visitors were 30 workmen employed at a construction site near the library.

Truman stopped by the site Wednesday and chatted with the bricklayers and laborers. Foreman Roy Martin told him the men would like to visit the library and Truman invited them to call.

When the workers showed up at 7 a.m., the former president was waiting to conduct the tour.

"Our basement was hard to heat . . ."

"Electric heat helped us turn a chilly basement into a modern, useful, year-round family room," says Mrs. Horace Johns. "We have electric heat in the second-floor bedrooms and bath, too. Keeps them as warm as the rest of the house—even warmer if we want. We can raise the temperature in any of these rooms without overheating the whole house. One reason we chose electric heat in the first place was because it cost less to install. Now we like the convenience of electric heat so much that, if and when we buy another home, we'll have it throughout."

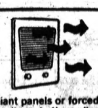

Meet the Horace Johns family of Millington, Michigan

What about your home? Do you have a hard-to-heat room? Are you adding on a room? Are you buying a new home? Is the heating system in your present home more trouble than it's worth? One of the types of electric heating units shown below may be the answer to your heating problems. One easy way to find out is to ask your electrical contractor. Another is to call your Edison office. We'll be glad to send you a copy of our free booklet "Electric Home Heating" and will answer any questions you may have about the modern, worry-free way to heat your home—electrically.

Radiant panels or forced air units go in the walls.

Electric heating units can replace baseboards.

Electric furnaces heat by forced air or hot water (Hydronics).

Heat pumps, for one room or the entire home, heat or cool as needed.

Vicious Public Has Degraded Tenderness in Virile Men

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—A few of the most attractive bachelor girls in show business appeared on a panel to give their impressions of American man as opposed to (or by) American women.

* * *

They more or less agreed on such obvious points as: 1—Married men are nice but unfaithful and sneaky; 2—It isn't right for a man to expect a goodnight kiss because the date cost money; 3—Women ask other women to join them in the powder room because they're afraid to leave the competition behind; 4—A woman needs marriage, at least once, to feel fulfilled, and 5—The most important quality a man can have is tenderness.

Betty Furness is the lady who brought up the last point, and also said it so firmly and positively that the other girls (the likes of Suzy Parker, Carol Burnett, Julie Newmar and Jane Fonda) were, I felt, a little scared to disagree. Miss Furness, so well grounded in closing refrigerator doors on television, has a way of closing doors on argument.

"Well, I have to admit," said Miss Burnett a mite sheepishly, "that the first thing I always look for in a man is a sense of humor." But she allowed as how maybe tenderness was more important than laughs in the long run.

* * *

The others affirmed. Tenderness, they decided after kicking the idea around awhile, is the quality that sets the rare man apart from the average man.

The ability to be tender with a woman means the man has inner strength; he is not uneasy and uncertain of his manliness. He is so sure of his virility that he doesn't have to act tough to prove it.

In other words, a desirable gentleman is, literally, a gentle man.

There is nothing new about this concept and yet I believe it is so far from the mass behavior of Americans today that it is perhaps the one single virtue most difficult to find in men.

ODIOUS TENDENCY

There is an odious, and increasing, tendency to look upon men who show tenderness in public as being soft. What is even worse, effeminate.

I have noticed with alarm the growing tendency to label men, indiscriminately, as sexless weaklings—merely because they are gentle and soft-spoken. Malicious gossip can, and frequently does, pin degrading reputations on men of good manners and graceful behavior.

It is constantly shocking to me to meet a nice gentleman at a gathering, to comment to someone on his niceness, and to be told, "Yes, but he's a little—strange—don't you think?"

It doesn't matter that the man has an apparently happy family, that he seems adjusted. Not at all. This leads to even more vicious suppositions.

And I think the American public would be amazed at the number of famous show business personalities, some of the most successful and therefore the gentlest-tempered, who are widely assumed — by people who know nothing but jealousy—to be less than manly.

And what can these good men do to fight the whispered slander? Of course, nothing. Headlines are more devastating than gossip; to acknowledge nasty rumors is to publicize them. The only answer is to act tough.

TOUGH GUY WINS

So more and more, in self-defense, the tough guy demeanor flourishes and the gentle manliness becomes hard to find. It threatens to become extinct. Which is why, of course, the lovely career girls desire it so much. Women always want what they can't get.

If tenderness in men ever made a comeback, what d'you bet Betty Furness would want a punch in the nose?

U.N. Quoted Praising Adventists' Service

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The world director of the Seventh-Day Adventist Welfare Service quoted United Nations officials today as saying Adventist aid in the Congo helped prevent a wide-spread war.

C. W. Bozarth, in a report prepared for delivery, said the welfare organization sent 6.5 million pounds of food and 26 tons of clothing and medicine to 60,000 Baluba tribesmen outside Elisabethville at the height of fighting in the city.

* * *

He said U.N. officers, who had arranged a special cease-fire for delivery of the goods, declared the aid prevented the tribesmen from revolting.

Britain in Trouble Over 'Market'

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

BRUSSELS — Here in Belgium's ancient capital, a handful of men are engaged in negotiations fateful to the entire western world and with a heavy penalty the price of failure.

The negotiations concern Britain's entry into the six-nation European Common Market.

If these negotiations succeed, then the Common Market, now an economic community of 170 million people, may swell to 300 million and become an economic bloc more powerful than any now in the world.

Failure could mean the fall of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government in Britain and severely shake the hard-won unity now existing within the six — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

IF WE FAIL

Time is running out and in the way are many stumbling blocks. The greatest chance for success lies in the knowledge of the consequences of failure.

At odds are Britain's determination to protect the members of the British Commonwealth, and the six's equal determination that if Britain joins the Common Market she must do so with full acceptance of all the political and economic conditions to which the six already are bound.

Agriculture is the stumbling block at the moment, but others equally difficult lie ahead.

Pressing the British is the knowledge that in September they must make a progress report to the prime ministers of the British commonwealth in London.

MACMILLAN IN TROUBLE

Should they be unable to report agreement on protection of Commonwealth goods, then opinion, throughout the Commonwealth and at home as well, easily could crystallize into hard opposition that could result in failure and the fall of the Macmillan government, either now or in elections next year.

As each side has pressed its case, irritations have arisen.

The modern building housing the Common Market headquarters here lies near a great archway commemorating Belgian independence and on a street called the Avenue de la Joyeux Entree (Street of the Joyous Entrance).

★ ★ ★

But there was more bitterness than otherwise in the words of the Common Market spokesman after a particularly unproductive negotiating session.

He accused the British of looking upon the six only as a market and not as a community. He wondered why they had sought membership and he said they would bear a heavy responsibility for failure.

A British spokesman indicated the negotiators for the six would stand firm, not only against Britain but against special conditions sought by the neutrals as well.

★ ★ ★

The neutrals, he implied, either would meet all the conditions binding the six or they could stay out, whether it be full membership they sought or association.

'Mountain Climbing for Young Men'

Sir John Hunt, leader of the British expedition which climbed Mt. Everest, says mountain climbing is a young man's activity.

Sir John, 52, returned to London Thursday after leading the British-Soviet attempt to climb Mt. Garmo in central Asia in which two British members of his team were killed.

PRESENTS PROBLEM

President Charles de Gaulle of France presented quite a problem to protocol men in Munich, Germany, where he is expected on a visit next month. The French president is 6 feet, 4 inches in height, and there didn't seem to be a bed big enough in Munich to accommodate him.

The German officials finally found a baroque bed, almost 12 feet long, in the chambers of the Munich residence of the former Bavarian kings.

Senate Spends Plenty of Time in Conversation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The two chambers of Congress are running nearly a dead heat this year in the number of bills passed, but the time they spent talking about them is another story.

★ ★ ★

Through July 31, the Congressional Record's summary showed Thursday, the Senate was in session 709 hours, eight minutes, and the House 447 hours, 13 minutes. Yet the House passed 673 bills to the Senate's 671.

★ ★ ★

Congress finished action on 196 public bills, enacting them into law, during the period. Of these, 107 had originated in the House, 71 in the Senate.

Two Nights Remain at Northville Downs

With only two nights remaining of its 42-night season, Northville Downs will present a 10-race program tonight highlighted by a handicap event that matches six of the faster trotters.

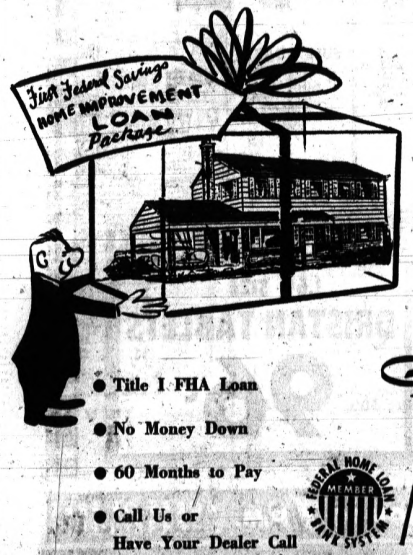

The trot matches Jan Kaye, a four-year-old mare who has won four of her last six, and the vastly improved Meander, who broke gait in his last start and then came from far back to win by a nose in a photo finish.

Meander won 19 out of 20 starts two-years ago when he was the States three-year-old champion.

2 Girls View Racial Demonstrations From Both Sides

GLORIA WARD
'I'll Die For Freedom'

By DON MCKEE

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — "I will give up my life for my freedom and for the children I hope some day to have," said Gloria Ward, 16, who has been jailed four times for marching in protest of segregation in Albany.

"I'm willing to go again," the Negro girl said.

The high school senior said she knows people wonder why Negroes go to jail.

"We really want our freedom and will sleep on concrete floors —we'll even die."

"It's no picnic," Gloria said, relating how she spent many nights crowded with other girls into small cells which she said crawled with roaches and other insects.

One of six children of Albany contractor William Ward Sr., the teen-ager said she thought out the matter before committing herself to join hundreds of others who have been jailed since December.

"I wanted to do something, too," she said.

"Why?" she repeated. "Something really hurt me once. We went to the park and my 3-year-old nephew wanted to ride at the amusement center. He can't ride and he cries.

"He wonders why.

★ ★ ★

"When mother and I go to town, there are lunch counters in the store where we spend money. We can't use them."

Gloria, who hopes to attend college and become a speech therapist, said she wasn't afraid when she first went to jail for marching with other Negroes.

"When they sent us to jail and the deputies said, 'You're not going to sing' I still wasn't afraid," she said.

She said she believes that her going to jail will prick the conscience of white people and eventually bring about an understanding "of the wrongs of segregation."

Gloria said she believes the next generation will be free of what she called color prejudice.

"It's not the color of the skin—it's the heart that counts," she said.

"I've never had color prejudice. I had some white friends when I was a little girl."

"I've never regretted that I am a Negro," she added. "I like my chocolate colored skin."

Gloria Ward, filled with youthful confidence, walked from Mount Zion Baptist Church singing, "Before I'll be a slave I'll be buried in my grave."

KAY SMITH
Demonstrations 'Useless'

By DON MCKEE

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — "I think it's useless"—that is the reaction of Kay Smith, 18, a white girl, to mass demonstrations by Negroes protesting segregation in her hometown.

The high school graduate who wants a career in journalism says she firmly believes in segregation, although she adds that "some day there will be integration."

★ ★ ★

"It's for nothing but publicity," Kay said, referring to demonstrations which have resulted in the arrest of more than 1,100 persons, mostly Negroes, since last December.

"Some of them know it's a stunt; others don't know any better," said the dark-haired daughter of a newspaperman and school teacher.

'NOT BOTHERED'

Kay said the jailing of Negro demonstrators "doesn't bother my conscience about segregation."

"I do feel sympathy for the juveniles who I believe are being used," she said, adding:

"I've never broken a law of any sort."

She explained that she believes the mass marches by integrationists violate a city ordinance requiring a permit for parades.

★ ★ ★

The teen-ager said soberly, "I'm afraid that the demonstrations may push some nonthinking white person into injuring a Negro and that would give them their desired martyrdom.

"I think they are endangering the peace. Demonstrations may be all right but not if they endanger somebody."

'CLEAN UP'

Asked what she considered a wiser course for the Negroes, Kay answered without hesitation:

"Clean up Harlem."

Harlem is the city's Negro section.

"A number of people in the colored community have not been forced to accept substandard housing and morals," she said. "They have pulled themselves up by their own bootstraps and are treated as equals by white people who know them well.

"But the people who are satisfied to live in shanties, they ought to clean up Harlem."

Kay Smith said she has this simple creed:

"There's no equality among people of any race."

South Vietnamese Kill 27, Wreck Boats

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)— South Vietnamese fighter bombers killed 27 Viet Cong guerrillas and destroyed seven communist sampans in a strafing attack yesterday 30 miles southwest of Saigon, the government reported today.

In ground operations yesterday 42 Viet Cong were reported killed.

Thirty Australian jungle fighters, veterans of the guerrilla fighting in Malaya, arrived in Saigon today to join U.S. Forces in training the South Vietnamese for the war against the communists. They are the first foreign troops to join the Americans in helping the Vietnamese.

Kovacs' Widow Fights for Girls

Divorced Wife 'Unfit' to Rear Teen Daughters, Claims Edie Adams

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The widow and the divorced wife of the late Ernie Kovacs are embroiled in a bitter custody battle over the comedian's two teen-age daughters.

Actress Edie Adams, the widow, filed an affidavit in Superior Court yesterday alleging that Mrs. Bette Kovacs, the comedian's first wife and the youngsters' mother, was unfit to rear them.

A counter affidavit denying the charges was filed by an attorney for Mrs. Kovacs.

She previously filed suit against Kovacs' estate for $500,000 as her share and has submitted a petition to gain custody of the girls.

★ ★ ★

Kovacs, killed in an auto accident in west Los Angeles last January, was awarded custody of the children, Bette Lee, 15, and Kippie, 13, by a Philadelphia court in 1952.

They have been living with Miss Adams in Beverly Hills, Calif., since their father's death.

Miss Adams claimed she loves the girls and considers them her own. She charged Mrs. Kovacs had not communicated with them in more than seven years.

Mrs. Kovacs stated in her affidavit that letters sent to the children were not answered. She contended that Kovacs abducted the girls from her Florida home in 1958.

Attorneys for Kovacs' estate, once estimated at more than $2 million, say claims against it now are greater than the estate's assets.

Water Accidents Claim 145 in State

EAST LANSING (AP)—Water accidents are taking their annual summer toll with 145 deaths reported to date, State Police said today.

★ ★ ★

Swimmers and waders accounted for the highest toll, police said. They urged caution in summer recreation, with parents reminded to watch small children at all times.

The deaths included 50 swimmers or waders, 23 who fell from bridges, docks or piers and 14 boat operators.

The toll so far this year was below the 183 water deaths reported at this date last year.

Two State Men Second in Bridge League Play

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Robert W. Baker and John W. McCabe III, both of Lansing, were in second place as men's pair competition started its second day today at the 34th annual summer nationals of the American Contract Bridge League.

They had 210½ points to the leaders' 220.

Teachers' Starting Pay

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Cheboygan public schools have raised teachers' starting salaries by $100 — to $4,300 yearly — for those with a Bachelor's Degree and by $150— to $4,600 — for those with a Master's Degree.

The schools' salary range gives year-to-year incentive increases until peaks of $6,000 and $6,300 are reached after 12 years.

Appoints New Man

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh has appointed Albert L. Warren, 45, to head the city's new income tax division. Warren, a city employe for 21 years and formerly an official of the budget bureau, will be paid $12,609 yearly.

Tennessee Dems Back Former Governor

EX-GOV. FRANK CLEMENT

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Tennessee Democrats endorsed ex-Gov. Frank Clement for a third term as governor Thursday and apparently unseated two veteran congressmen who opposed much of President Kennedy's program.

Clement scored an impressive victory over Chattanooga Mayor P. R. Olgiati and Memphis City Commissioner William W. Farris.

Rep. James B. Frazier, bidding for an eighth term, and Rep. J. Carlton Loser, trying for a fourth term, appeared to have been beaten in races so close the winners probably won't be known for certain until the official count. Their opponents endorsed Kennedy's New Frontier legislation and had heavy support of organized labor.

40 PER CENT

Nearly complete returns showed Clement, 42, swept six of Tennessee's nine congressional districts. His share of the vote stood at 40 per cent, enough for victory in this state that has no runoff primary. It virtually assured him of election in November since Republicans seldom offer serious competition.

With returns from 2,488 of the state's 2,688 precincts, the vote today was Clement 278,734, Olgiati 180,269 and Farris 194,190.

In the Third District of southeast Tennessee, Frazier was edged out by Wilkes T. Thrasher, Jr., of Cleveland, in the 11-county district that includes Chattanooga was Thrasher 35,267, Frazier 35,177, Raymond Prater had 2,685 votes.

★ ★ ★

Loser staged a nip-and-tuck battle in the Fifth (Nashville) District with former State Sen. Richard Fulton, making his third try for the congressional seat.

Final unofficial returns gave Fulton 30,870 votes, Loser 30,767 and Gordon Turner 6,739.

'BOY WONDER'

Clement, the "boy wonder" of Tennessee politics when he was first elected governor 10 years ago, called his victory a mandate for another "four years of hard work and earnest effort to make a greater Tennessee."

He appeared briefly before a crowd outside his campaign headquarters after his opponents conceded early today.

"The people spoke," he said. "They endorsed our six years of service."

Clement made his record as governor from 1953-59 the chief issue of the campaign and invited Olgiati and Farris to inspect it. He said his election would mean further advances in education, public welfare, roads and industrial expansion.

★ ★ ★

Olgiati and Farris accused Clement of misrepresenting his record and called for him to explain his association with Billie Sol Estes, the indicted Texas financier who was a colonel on Clement's staff. Clement declined to discuss Estes.

Rep. Clifford Davis, the only other incumbent congressman with opposition, easily won renomination for the Ninth (Memphis) District seat he has held for 22 years.

★ ★ ★

In the Republican First District of Upper East Tennessee, State Rep. James Quillen of Kingsport defeated four rivals in the GOP primary for the seat being vacated by Louise Goff Reece, widow of the late Rep. B. Carroll Reece.

Z. Alexander Looby, a Negro city councilman at Nashville, failed in his bid to become the first member of his race to win a seat on the Tennessee Supreme Court.

Senator Willing to Change Bill

Humphrey Would Give State Department More Say on Satellite

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Humphrey, D-Minn., said today he would favor giving the State Department a bigger voice in the administration's communications satellite program if necessary to get the sidetracked legislation through the Senate.

"I feel the present language is adequate," the assistant Democratic leader told reporters, "but if there is any doubt, the section regarding State Department responsibility can and possibly should be strengthened."

Humphrey made the statement as Chairman Newton M. Minow of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) prepared to testify before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in a review of the space satellite bill's international implications.

The Senate ordered the committee to look over the program and report back by Aug. 10 as part of a compromise to satisfy critics who had stalled the bill in a filibuster.

Acting Chairman John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., said other witnesses would present the views of half a dozen government departments and representatives of private industry also would have a chance to be heard.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk will testify Monday.

The foreign relations group voted 11-2 yesterday to limit its hearings to "international implications" of the controversial program and to questions of international law raised by the bill.

2 Boys Bicycle 2,950 Miles to California Base

TWENTYNINE PALMS, Calif. (UPI) — Two 16-year-old sons of Marine Corps majors today relaxed following a 2,950-mile bicycle trip from Camp Lejeune, N. C., which covered 11 states.

★ ★ ★

Herb Robinson, son of Maj. and Mrs. H. A. Robinson, and Ray Fuson, son of Maj. and Mrs. H. C. Fuson, both stationed at Camp Lejeune, had planned their trip for three years.

★ ★ ★

They were greeted on their arrival by Brig. Gen. Lewis J. Fields, commanding general, Marine Corps base, Twentynine Palms.

Rain, heat, wind and breakdowns made it impossible for the youths to make their scheduled 100 miles a day and they arrived three days late.

Among the various types of pelicans, the North American white pelican reaches five feet long and has a wingspread of eight to ten feet.

Hold Sit-In at Office of N. Y. School Head

MALVERNE, N.Y. (AP)—Two Negroes and a white woman have staged a 24-hour sit-in in the office of the superintendent of schools in a protest against what they call racial segregation in district schools.

★ ★ ★

Going without food from 8:30 p.m. Wednesday to the same hour Thursday night were Lincoln Lynch, head of the Long Island branch of the Congress of Racial Equality; Joyce McCray, Negro housewife with four children, and Bea Zaffe, a housewife who has two children.

The sit-in at the junior high school started after the Board of Education refused to respond to a request by Lynch that it declare that segregated education was inferior and that de facto segregation exists in Malverne.

State Business Leaders See Things Doing Well in '62

By The Associated Press

Business leaders in nine out of 11 representative Michigan cities agree business as a whole is good. And the concensus is at least 9 to 2 that it will continue good through the remainder of 1962.

★ ★ ★

Soundings regarding current business and forecasts for the third and fourth quarters of this year were taken by Associated Press member newspapers in the 11 cities. Their reports were combined and a consensus compiled in AP's Detroit bureau.

Midland reported a mixture of opinions on current business. They ranged from up to down, to holding its own.

Battle Creek reported some dissatisfaction on the part of downtown merchants, but said both Battle Creek and Calhoun County business on the whole was better than a year ago, with gains registered in most lines, particularly cars, clothes and houses.

'GOOD, STRONG'

Current over all business was described in terms such as "good, strong, better than a year ago, fair to good and very good" by these cities: Grand Rapids, Marquette, Lansing, Saginaw, Ionia, Niles, Muskegon, Flint and Jackson.

Sales tax collections show that for the state as a whole business in the first six months of this year was much better than over the similar 1961 period. They were up $23.9 million, having advanced from $209,960,509 to $233,899,753.

Kenneth L. Peterson, Flint Journal business writer, said his survey indicated business there is very good, "and is expected to continue to be good for the rest of the year."

★ ★ ★

Kenneth R. West, managing editor of the State Journal at Lansing, said that his reporters found: "With only one exception, Lansing businessmen expect no downturn in business during the next two quarters."

The one Lansing dissenter was an auto parts manufacturer, and he predicted only "a slight decline from last year, nothing very great."

Banker Fred Marin, on the other hand, was optimistic, saying: "Unemployment in Lansing is the lowest in the state at present. Borrowing is good, but not heavy."

'PROSPECTS BRIGHT'

Editor J. R. Scaraehorn of the Niles Daily Star reported he found this opinion prevailing generally: "With the first month of the third quarter already passed, and with sales showing good increases, the third quarter showing appears to be assured. And with new cars to be out in September, and with the fourth quarter traditionally showing increases, the last half of 1962 holds bright prospects."

From Muskegon, ranked in recent years among Michigan's heavily depressed areas, came this report from Bob Walker, a staff writer on the Muskegon Chronicle:

"Generally business conditions in Greater Muskegon are substantially better than a year ago, due to a sharp rise in employment . . . Chamber of Commerce staff members are of the opinion the trend in business here is on the upswing . . . Inventories are moving normally and appear to be a little understocked, if anything. Employment is about 2,000 ahead of a year ago."

★ ★ ★

Detroit Kenneth S. Lowe of the Mining Journal at Marquette reported an estimate that current business is normal was confirmed by a Marquette banker who forecast "improvement, but a slight one," in the third quarter.

The Battle Creek Enquirer and news staff, while finding some downtown dissidents, quoted a leading banker as saying:

"Compared to a year ago, all segments of business are better, and consumers are showing confidence in the future as evidenced by increased consumer loans. Delinquencies, at the same time, are down."

While some downtown merchants applied "slump" in describing first-half 1962 business, both Battle Creek and Calhoun County sales tax collections in the first four months showed increases. Over the county collections were up 4.4 per cent and were up 2.1 in the city.

Kellogg, Post and Clark Equipment, Battle Creek's largest employers, report larger work forces than a year ago. There is some uncertainty, however, on whether the city will lose in transfer of national headquarters of the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization to Washington, D.C., and the shift of other defense department installations to Battle Creek.

Wallace (Pete) DeMaag of the Grand Rapids Press found downtown and neighborhood retailers and shopping center operations in agreement first-half business was good.

Although stock market gyrations resulted in June business falling below that for the same 1961 month, July sales shot up and some Grand Rapids merchants anticipated this indicated an excellent third quarter.

CAUSED DISTRESS

The spread of shopping centers in Grand Rapids, as is the case in some other spots, has caused distress among individually owned and small specialty shops in some neighborhood districts, but DeMaag quoted a banker thus:

"Business as a whole was good for the first six months, and we feel it will continue thusly through the next quarter."

Still another Grand Rapids banker expressed the opinion that "all sections of west Michigan are enjoying a good level of business activity."

Editor Herbert W. Spendlove of the Jackson Citizen Patriot said he received conflicting reports on business conditions in a survey of Jackson firms. Spendlove's report continued.

★ ★ ★

"A leading women's clothing store and a hardware-appliance outlet both report business as being good and anticipate even better sales in the third and fourth quarters. Two department stores, on the other hand, reported retail sales off and only hope that they will pick up during the year's second half . . .

"In summary, Jackson merchants report business fair to good and predictions for second-half sales range from 'break even' to 'good.' "

Edward W. Miller of the Saginaw News' staff said that both major and small merchants in Saginaw agree that business for the first half of 1962 was generally good—"But that the bushes have had to be beaten more than they thought, from earlier soothsaying of market analysts, would be necessary."

'SLOWER QUARTER'

Miller said a Saginaw banker agreed business has been good, but added that the banker anticipated "a slower third quarter, because of automobile model changeovers and the consequent down-time."

Louis Wood, special assignment editor of the Midland Daily News, reported that "it all depends on who you talk with in trying to get a picture of business in Midland," and explained: "Some merchants say business is up, some say it's down or just holding its own with the same time last year."

"The owner of a Midland shoe store," Wood reported, "says he noticed 'relaxed feeling' among his customers during July—something that was missing in June after the excessive drop in stock prices in May.

★ ★ ★

"A Midland banker feels that business is 'spotty' and that there's no trend in trying to view the future, asking: 'How can you figure it when boat sales are up and food sales are down.' "

Reporter Joseph Broshear of the Daily Sentinel-Standard at Ionia said "the general business picture seems to be relatively strong, with automobiles again leading the sales picture" in the Ionia area. He found two bankers who backed his views and looked to the future optimistically.

Willard Hawley of the First Security Bank at Ionia said he finds "a generally confident attitude among the public" and that business in general is good. Art Scott of the Ionia County National Bank said "All the people I've talked to are optimistic that the (currently upward) cycle is bound to continue for awhile."

★ ★ ★

Broshear summed up: "Over all, the Ionia area economic situation appears to be fairly solid, with both customers and most businessmen expressing confidence in the future."

California Man Has His Own Project Mercury

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—John Bouris has his own Project Mercury. He swallowed a thermometer.

Bouris, 33, had the flu and stuck the thermometer in his mouth Wednesday while he was lying in bed.

He fell asleep and woke up twenty minutes later coughing. He jumped out of bed and started searching for the thermometer and then it dawned on him.

The doctor didn't believe him at first but an X-ray showed the thermometer nestling in his stomach.

"The doctor doesn't think surgery will be necessary to remove it," said Bouris.

The doctor told him to stay away from work until Monday.

Saskatchewan Cuts Medicare

Solons Modify Bill Per Settlement With Doctors After Boycott

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—A special session of the Saskatchewan legislature enacted last night amendments to the controversial medical care insurance act agreed upon last week by the province's Socialist government and the medical profession.

SHORT SESSION

In a one-day session—shortest in the province's history—the bill outlining the amendments was adopted without a dissent.

Opposition leader Ross Thatcher said the amendments represented a major retreat by the government.

"All the people of Saskatchewan favor medical insurance," said Thatcher, "the basic issue in this terrible dispute was a coercive type of government plan versus a scheme acceptable to all."

★ ★ ★

Premier Woodrow S. Lloyd said the plan was shaped to meet the essential needs of the people of Saskatchewan and will "enable every family and every individual to enjoy better and more complete health care."

AMENDMENTS

The amendments permit doctors to practice privately outside the act, allow voluntary nonprofit health insurance plans to operate alongside the government plan and strip the government's medical insurance commission of many regulatory powers.

Most of Saskatchewan's 625 practicing private doctors went on strike July 1 when the law became effective. The boycott ended after the government and the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons signed a 29-point agreement July 23 providing for the changes in the act.

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—Linda Renfrew Cobb, who shared one end of a double life with North Carolina Republican leader William E. Cobb, is reported absent from her home.

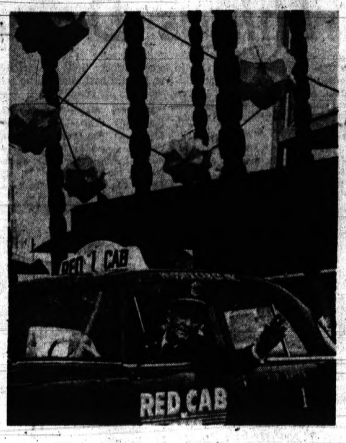

A real estate man said Thursday the lease on her rented home is still in effect and Linda Cobb has just "taken a little vacation."

Pilot's Defense: Action Saved 102

MIAMI (UPI) — "If someone hadn't pulled back the throttles everyone on board would have been dead in another 30 seconds."

That was veteran pilot William B. Poe's comment yesterday to Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) findings that his action could have caused a jet crash 18 months ago.

Poe, an Eastern Air Lines pilot, was still smarting from the CAB ruling Wednesday that "hasty action" on his part possibly caused a take-off smashup at New York's Idlewild Airport that claimed the lives of four crewmen. Five crewmen and 97 passengers survived.

The CAB said in Washington that Poe, who was check pilot aboard the Aeronaves de Mexico jet, "was distrubed by a low air speed reading on an apparently faulty instrument." The board said Poe left his seat and pulled back the engine throttles.

The CAB added that the plane crashed because of the "unnecessary discontinuance of the take-off by the check pilot."

Poe, who is called "one of the best jet pilots in the nation" by Eastern, said he will get legal counsel and protest the board's ruling.

"When it became apparent the plane was not going to become airborne and the captain was depending on me for the next move, I pulled the throttles and lowered the air brakes," Poe said.

Wedding Ring Has History

By MADELEINE DOEREN

Legend tells us that to the sultry sirens of the Nile do we attribute the custom of symbolizing the marriage ceremony with a ring and the words "With this ring, I thee wed."

In Egyptian hieroglyphics, a carved circle represented eternity as being round, hence endless. Through the ages, the circular form has been emblematic of marriage ties, signifying mutual love and affection between man and wife.

Today's bride does not expect a ring cut from a great solid emerald as did Cleopatra, but would treasure a narrow modern wedding-band symbolic of the Grecian tradition of a direct communication between the heart and ring finger.

A writer of Charles II's time said "it matters not what metal the rings be." Gold, silver, brass, steel or even leather have been used, also iron, after the fashion of the Romans. The Etruscans left a wealth of unusual designs, including rings mounted with a dove, symbolic of peace.

★ ★ ★

A temple dome adorned old Hebrew wedding rings and covered a gold plate inscribed "Mazel Tov" which means "Good Luck." Many of the early Greek rings were octagonal-shaped bands with native symbols inscribed on each facet.

The wider bands of the fifth century, found in parts of France, were inscribed with names of the bridal couple and differed as much in shape as they did in size. Some were engraved with portraitures and designs of varying significance.

Many were set with precious stones.

Fifteenth century English rings were often designed with twin hearts and old sepulchres from England have yielded an overlapping band-type or coiled ring.

German rings from the 16th century, set with stones, were often inscribed "What God hath joined together, let no man put asunder."

★ ★ ★

The diamond as an engagement ring first achieved popularity in Italy where there was a legend that its sparkle came from the fires of love. Symbol of love, it is worn on the fourth finger of the left hand because it was once believed that the vena amoris (vein of love) ran from this finger directly to the heart.

DIAMONDS CLEAR

Why does a clear, colorless diamond give off every hue in the spectrum? Because it traps light, bending the rays from all directions toward the center and reflecting them back through the top in a rainbow of color.

A round diamond solitaire in any size looks best with a narrow wedding band and is today's most popular type of betrothal ring.

★ ★ ★

Graceful in its boat shape is the marquise-cut diamond, with its pointed ends. It looks well on the hand that has long space between the knuckle and the first joint on the ring finger. Also the elongated contour of the stone follows the shape of the nails and slenderizes the look of the hand.

Over 50 per cent of wedding rings being sold for first marriages are bought for women under 20, according to a recent poll.

The bride pays for the bridegroom's wedding ring when there is a double ring ceremony.

Today's most popular betrothal ring is the round diamond, in brilliant cut, set in modified prongs like engagement rings of 50 years ago, without side stones. Worn with narrow matching wedding band, it looks well in any size and has lots of sparkle.

Interested in Present — Abby

Drop Small Town Girl?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with a girl I met at college. I graduated this June (she quit after two years) and I want to marry her. She says she loves me but refuses to leave the small town where she was raised. She's close to her family (especially her mother) and says if I get a job in her town (population 16,000) she'll marry me this Christmas.

ABBY

Abby, I have a good job with a promising future in MY home town (population 260,000), which is only 300 miles from hers. I know my future is here. My friends say I'd be foolish to marry her on her terms. An outsider's opinion is needed.

YOUNG MAN WITH A FUTURE

DEAR YOUNG MAN: Your "girl" appears to be more interested in the present and her family than in the future and you. Unless you can get the "small town" out of this girl, don't take this girl out of her small town.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I went through a red light and the most attractive man I've ever seen gave me a ticket.

I can't get that officer out of my mind. When he wrote down my name and address, I kiddingly told him to call me up some time. He smiled, but I haven't heard from him.

Could he think I am married? How can I find him again? I drive up and down that street every chance I get, but I haven't seen him.

GOT A CRUSH

DEAR GOT: Maybe HE'S married — or has a "crush" on somebody else. Forget him. It's the fascination of the "one who got away."

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I guess you can call me a nosy neighbor, but I can't stand by and see a young girl ruined without trying to help.

Several other neighbors besides myself have seen a boy slip into this girl's bedroom window after her parents have retired. He stays until almost dawn.

Should we notify the mother of the girl or should we report it to the authorities? She's a high school girl.

SIGN ME NOSY

DEAR NOSY: Notify the mother, and without delay!

Auxiliary to Chapter No. 101, DAV, held its monthly meeting Thursday at the Bemis-Olsen Amvets Hall on Oakland Avenue.

The group discussed plans for a picnic at the Sedum Glen home of the John Hutchins Aug. 15 for Junior Auxiliary members.

Breakfast Can Be Pleasant

Breakfast can be one of the best meals of the day. With the older children at school at noon, and early-to-bed the rule for the youngsters, breakfast may be the only meal the family has together.

It can be a happy time and without early morning rushing if some of the preparation is done the night before. Children enjoy their breakfast more when encouraged to share in its preparation. And they will appreciate this opportunity to make a contribution to a gay family affair.

Honored at Shower

Jo Ann Uligian was honored at a kitchen shower Thursday evening by Mrs. Robert Crandall and Mrs. Wayne L. Pyke in the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Howard C. Hess on Draper Avenue.

Sunday, Aug. 12, Mrs. Ruth Kelly of Elizabeth Lake Road, will hold open house in honor of her mother, Mrs. C. H. Myers, who will be 90 years old Wednesday. Out-of-town guests will include Mrs. Myers' other daughter, Mrs. Pauline Hatch of Royal Oak and C. Bruce Myers of Detroit.

Bouffants Out

Expert Warns: Stop Teasing Hair

NEW YORK (UPI) — A hairdresser whose customers are perennials on the best-dressed list predicts that a wave of sleeker hairdos is surging into fashion.

The new coiffures will not be plastered to the head, not that sleek, said Kenneth Battelle. But they will make the beehives and bouffants as dated as the marcel.

★ ★ ★

"It's just a natural rebellion," said Battelle. "Women soon tire of the bizarre."

The forthcoming trend, as seen by Battelle, will put the hair closer to the face than in previous seasons, but still puff out at the crown and back — "we have learned in the last five years," said Battelle, "that a little exaggeration of line does a lot for a head of hair."

USES KENNETH

Battelle is better known as Kenneth — the only name he uses in the hairdressing world where his skill with comb and brush has pushed him into a limelight few hairdressers ever enjoy.

Magazines have profiled "the boy from Syracuse" (he was born in Syracuse, N.Y. 35 years ago), customers travel from all parts of the country for a Kenneth styling, and Kenneth in turn travels to them when they need their hair done for an important occasion.

★ ★ ★

He went to Washington to dress Mrs. John F. Kennedy's hair for the inauguration festivities, he does the hair of Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Princess Radziwill, when she is in New York, he did that of Queen Sirikit of Thailand on a recent world trip, and counts both Mrs. William Paley and Mrs. Norman K. Winston as regular customers.

★ ★ ★

All five have appeared on best dressed lists in recent years.

Kenneth is reluctant to talk about his customers — "getting your hair done should be a private affair," he said.

How would you feel if everytime you got a haircut or changed the style your hairdresser shouted the news to the world?"

But someday, he added, he may write a book about some of his experiences with VIPs — "when everybody can laugh with me."

ON THE WAY

"I will say, the more important they are, the easier they are to get along with," said Kenneth. "The ones who give you trouble are the ones on the way up — or on the way down."

Kenneth's been dressing hair for 15 years, starting in Syracuse and eventually moving to New York where he worked first for Helena Rubinstein.

Six and one-half years ago he moved to Lilly Dache as chief stylist and his star has risen steadily. Now, he's moving out on his own — he resigned last week from Dache.

Kenneth said details of his next project were not worked out. He'd have an announcement after Sept. 1.

★ ★ ★

"But I envision a great house of beauty," he said. "Maybe like a ladies' club . . . a woman might spend the day . . . go from there to say the theater. There is nothing around today like what I have in mind."

★ ★ ★

"I think we're in an era of great hair dressing . . . women are benefiting with all improvements in the tools, the chemicals. Hair has never been prettier."

YEARS REWARDING

Kenneth spoke of his years with Dache as "exciting and rewarding."

Certainly they've been rewarding materially too — sufficiently for him to furnish a Manhattan apartment with Old World antiques and to acquire recently a summer home on Fire Island, N.Y.

Asked if he'd like to compare his first salary in New York with what he earned at Dache, he replied:

"Well I started with Rubinstein for less than $50 a week," he said. "About what I eventually earned . . . just say that I hope to be rich. It is my Achilles heel that everything I like costs a great deal of money."

Simplicity is the keynote to the new hair styles, so reminiscent of the 1930s. This simplicity permits the hair to be swirled and shaped to compliment women of all ages and types. It's especially suited to this season's high neckline and hugging fur pieces.

He Made Himself at Home

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Friends of ours recently bought a lovely house in the country and my husband and I were invited to spend last weekend with them. Upon our arrival we were told to "make ourselves at home" and my husband proceeded to do just that.

Whenever he felt thirsty or hungry, he went to the refrigerator and helped himself to a can of beer or made a sandwich of whatever happened to be handy. When alone, I took him to task for this and told him that I was shocked by his behavior. He said he was only making himself at home as he had been told to do.

Should such a statement be taken literally, and does a guest have the privilege of rummaging through the refrigerator?

A: Unless the hosts had shown him the refrigerator and told him he might take anything he wished from it, your husband was definitely wrong for having gone to the refrigerator and helped himself to food or drink, and you were quite right for taking him to task for having done so.

Q: Our son is going to be married shortly and I have been told that it is customary for the bridegroom-to-be's parents to entertain the bride-to-be's parents before the wedding. This is our first experience with a wedding in the immediate family and we would appreciate it if you could tell us just what we should do.

A: Beyond calling on the parents after you learn that they approved of the engagement, there is nothing more that you need do. It may of course happen that you dine with them and they with you, but this is in no way a requirement.

'Resents Modern Trend to Belittle'

Should Know U.S. History

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M483: Thelma R., aged 28, teaches American History in high school.

"Dr. Crane," she exclaimed indignantly when I had addressed her teacher's convention, "I resent the modern trend to belittle our American history.

DR. CRANE

"For example, some of our state universities are now omitting American history as a required course for freshmen and, instead, are substituting a required course on World History with emphasis on Russia and Asia.

"They argue that we shouldn't let students become too interested in their own country lest they become nationalistic and thus be opposed to a World State and the United Nations.

"But I think every American should know his own country's history fully, and I consider this downgrading of patriotism as an insult to this great Republic.

"Is it any wonder that socialism and communism seem to be flourishing, when our universities actually alter the curriculum to abet their false ideas?"

FLEE DESPOTISM

Millions of people have fled from despotic foreign powers to taste the marvelous advantages of this republic with its splendid "free enterprise" system.

★ ★ ★

Few Americans try to crawl back under the iron curtain into East Germany or other Russian satellites.

It is generally almost a one-way exodus, with the people flocking out of Russia and its communistic satellites.

So let's quit being deluded that it is provincial to laud our American patriots.

The tories in Washington's day did the very same thing concerning stalwart George Washington and his frozen-footed troops in Valley Forge.

★ ★ ★

They said George Washington was "too far to the right" and with the paranoid idea that it was better to starve for freedom than have a full belly and salute the Union Jack.

★ ★ ★

In 1964, there will be 8 million new potential voters in the U.S.A., who will have come of voting age since the presidential election of 1960.

★ ★ ★

Neither the Democrats nor Republicans are doing much to indoctrinate them with solid facts about our republic.

Remember, this is a republic and not a democracy, which is why we salute the republic in the pledge of allegiance.

CHECK BOOKLET

Can these new voters tell precisely why our shrewd Founding Fathers chose a republic instead of a democracy? If not, give them the booklet below.

SALESMEN TABOO

Do they know that salesmen and advertisers are taboo in socialism and communism?

★ ★ ★

Do they realize that they don't have to check in with police departments when they tour the U.S.A. but must carry credentials and check in under communism?

Do they know that Russia defaulted on over $11 billions of loans and is now using that money to make loans to satellite nations to coerce them into Russia's sphere of influence?

★ ★ ★

Do they know Russia also used our 11 billions to put her astronauts into space flight? Tell your kids the raw facts of life, for $8 million will be new potential voters in 1964.

And send for my booklet "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

In recent studies at a distinguished medical school of a leading midwest university, it has been shown that the omission of the morning meal may result in the lowering of the mental and physical efficiency of young women, young men and old men during the late morning hours.

Quick Luncheon Salad Made With Shrimp, Eggs

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Now that we can buy shrimp already cooked and cleaned, there is no reason for not enjoying shrimp salad —even when the weather is too hot for much cooking.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hugo White of Walled Lake shares her favorite shrimp salad recipe with us today. She is active in PTA and is choir mother for her two girls' choir. Her hobbies include a dance club with her husband, boating, water skiing and playing the piano.

SHIMP-EGG SALAD
By Mrs. Hugo White

1 pound cooked cleaned shrimp
6 hard cooked eggs
1 head lettuce

Quarter eggs and chop lettuce. Arrange lettuce on individual plates; divide eggs and shrimp. Serve with the following dressing:

¾ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 medium onion, minced

Mix and pour over salad. Makes 4-6 servings.

But Big Job Is Ahead

She CAN Lose Weight

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "Please help me. I am 15 years old, 5 feet tall, and weigh 156 pounds. I have a very small frame. My upper legs are very large and flabby. My bust measures 38 inches, waist 30 and hips 39½. Two inches below my waistline I measure 39½ inches. I really have no waist. I am all fat and blubber.

"Please tell me how much I should weigh and what exercises and diet I should use. I would like to learn to dance. Please answer in your column."

A. You should weigh from 100 to 105 pounds, so you have a big job ahead of you, but do not be discouraged. You CAN do it. I suggest that you let your family physician see about a metabolism test for you. The chances are that there is nothing wrong and that you just eat too much.

Cut out all desserts. Substitute fresh fruit. Forget all of those snacks you probably eat between meals, such as candy bars, ice cream, soda fountain mixtures, cookies and such. Eat a well-balanced diet, but do not ask for "seconds" and eat moderate amounts.

Increase your physical activity. With that much overweight, I would imagine you are inactive. Take dancing lessons and long walks. Have a picture taken of yourself and pin it up on your bedroom door. Beside it, place the picture of a movie star whose figure you admire. When you are tempted to cheat on your diet, look at these pictures.

Your measurements are in good ratio. You are just plain fat and when you lose weight you will have a good figure. AND, let me hear from you every two weeks. O. K.?

My short routine of exercise planned especially for women is an all-around good one for you. If you (or any of my readers) would like to have it send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 19 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Q. "Is it safe to have superfluous hair on the face removed by electrolysis?"

A. Yes, it is perfectly safe if you have a well-qualified operator.

Golf Club Holds Picnic

Twenty-four members of the Tuesday Tee Golf Club met Thursday for the traditional two-ball event and picnic. Mrs. A. L. Cork, North Hammond Lake Road, was hostess with Mrs. Newton Kilgore as her assistant.

The September meeting will be a banquet on the 18th.

The Fair Way

Iron Stance Needs Firmness, Balance

By SANDRA HAYNIE
Written for NEA

As you get into longer iron shots, the stance becomes even more important.

Adopt one that gives firm footing and balance.

★ ★ ★

'STANCE IMPORTANT'

Most golfers spread them too far, preventing the hips from turning. This results in the hands failing to get into proper position at the top of the swing and can cause a slice.

★ ★ ★

How wide the stance should be depends largely on your physique.

★ ★ ★

A rule-of-thumb is to spread the feet to the width of the shoulders, but a wider foot spread usually is found best for players who rely mainly on shoulder turn and very little weight shift.

UNLOCK KNEES

Once you have found the proper, comfortable position for the feet, flex the knees a bit. Unlock them to give you freedom of movement.

For shots with the medium irons (4, 5 and 6), I stand with my feet closer together than for longer shots.

I play the ball from a position approximately midway between my feet in a slightly open stance. My body is fairly erect, with a slight bend at the waist.

This is my basic stance. It narrows for shorter shots and widens for longer ones.

Urges End of Aid to Latin America

Alaskan Senator Cites Peru as Country Where No Goals Reached

EDGAR H. DIXON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, yesterday urged an end of all U.S. military aid to Latin America. He said it had been a tragic mistake and was "unsuitable and fruitless."

He cited Peru as an example of countries where he declared none of the goals of such aid had been attained, but emphasized Peru is not alone in Latin America.

Gruening, a long-time student of Latin American affairs, expressed his viewpoints in a prepared Senate speech.

★ ★ ★

The Alaska Democrat said one of the leaders of the Peruvian Military Junta was trained two years in the United States and received last year a decoration from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara with a citation praising, among other things, his "consistent support of Democratic principles."

Three of the four military commanders "who staged the Peruvian coup had tours of duty in the United States," A U.S. tank was used to force an entry in the presidential palace to oust President Manuel Prado, and four of the 13 military men in the cabinet "were even given the legion of merit by the United States," Gruening said.

Last week Gruening commended President John F. Kennedy for withholding foreign aid from Peru, and recommended then that the United States "take a second look at our alliance for progress programs in such countries as Argentina and Brazil whose governments have likewise given evidence of instability." Today he added Ecuador to that list.

GM Presents Check to Flint Development

FLINT (AP)—General Motors Corp. yesterday presented a $1 million check to Flint College and Cultural Development.

The development group is trying to raise $6 million. More than $3 million has been raised thus far.

The campaign goal is aimed at building a new museum of automotive history and a general purpose theater and is the culmination of a $25 million campaign which began in 1954.

★ ★ ★

The fund assists Flint Junior College, Longway Planetarium, DeWaters Art Center and the Bower Theater, a Little Theater group.

Utilities Exec Dies of Stroke

Figured in Controversy Over Power Contract During Ike's Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edgar H. Dixon, a utilities executive who figured in the big Dixon-Yates controversy during the Eisenhower Administration, died of a stroke yesterday at the age of 57.

★ ★ ★

Dixon, who was president and director of Middle South Utilities, Inc., was stricken yesterday afternoon while staying at the Shoreham Hotel. Taken to Washington Hospital Center, he never regained consciousness.

He gained national attention in 1955 because of a row over the Dixon-Yates Power contract, which started out as a pet project of the Eisenhower Administration, but was later repudiated by it.

After years of controversy, the U.S. Court of Claims upheld the contract in 1959, although it had been canceled and was never carried out.

★ ★ ★

However, the U.S. Supreme Court in 1961 reversed the Court of Claims and decided the government need not pay damages to Dixon-Yates for canceling the contract.

The $107-million contract arose from the need of more power for the Atomic Energy Commission in the Tennessee Valley Authority area.

★ ★ ★

The Eisenhower Administration hit upon a plan for having private industry provide it rather than building a new TVA steam plant.

A contract was signed with Dixon's Middle South Utilities and the Southern Utility Co., headed by the late Eugene Yates. The proposed new plant at West Memphis, Ark., was to supply power to the TVA system to compensate for electricity TVA fed into the Atomic Energy Commission plants.

The contract set off a great hue and cry on Capitol Hill, and became a major issue in the running debate over public vs. private power.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., and other public power champions alleged it was a scheme to cripple the TVA.

Roadside Sales Change

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio State University extension specialist says selling fruits and vegetables in packages of various sizes and packaging materials has increased rapidly at roadside markets in recent years.

A trout weighing 43 pounds was caught recently by a Norwegian railway worker in Lake Tyrifjord, East Norway.

2,000 Exhibits at 4-H Fair Tuesday

A year's work in 4H projects will reach a climax for some 1,500 boys and girls throughout the county next week at the Oakland County 4-H Fair.

★ ★ ★

Almost 2,000 entries in a number of project areas have already been received for the fair, which will start Tuesday and last through Aug. 11 at the 4-H fairgrounds on N. Perry Street just south of Walton Boulevard.

Projects on exhibit will range from entomology (study of insects) to knitting. Fifty exhibits in entomology have been entered already, 93 in knitting.

Most entries so far have been in horses — 160. A total of 125 exhibits in vegetable gardening are already slated.

Others are photography with 45, sheep 44 and dairy animals 29.

OUTSTANDING 4-H'er

More than 50 junior leaders in 4-H club work will be interviewed for selection as the outstanding 4-H'er in junior leadership.

The fair is sponsored by the 4-H Club Leaders Association headed by Keith Middleton in cooperation with the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

Sixteen exhibits by extension clubs also will be on display.

The fair will open at 10 a.m. Tuesday with exhibits in tents and three quonset huts on the grounds.

Wednesday will be highlighted by a parade through Pontiac including some 20 floats. To leave the fairgrounds at 1:30 p.m., the parade is expected to arrive in downtown Pontiac about 2 p.m.

CROWNING RITE

Crowning of the 4-H club king and queen, Lyle McLachlan, 19, and Ricki Ann Hoxie, 15, will be featured Tuesday night, along with judging of flowers and vegetables.

★ ★ ★

Other traditional highlights will be a freckles contest, an auction of prize livestock, pie eating contest, horse showmanship events, dress review by 4-H girls, leader dog demonstration and nightly variety shows.

★ ★ ★

Three dormitory tents — two for girls and one for boys — will be erected for 4-H'ers, with animals, who want to stay overnight at the fairgrounds.

Seating capacity in the bleachers surrounding the show ring is about 1,200.

Ask Voter OK of Assessments

To Decide Proposals to Finance Construction of Water Mains in Utica

UTICA — Voters will be asked to approve two proposals to permit special assessment financing of water main construction in the recently annexed area on city's East Side in a special election here Sept. 11.

One proposal, if approved, would authorize the city to borrow up to $300,000 to pay for mains to be installed when Detroit water becomes available next spring.

The other proposal will concern a charter amendment required before the borrowing can be authorized. The amendment must be approved by the governor and the state attorney general before the election can be held, according to city attorney George F. Roberts.

The mains would be built in the Shelby Manor Subdivision, which was annexed to the city following approval by voters June 4.

A charter amendment is needed, Roberts said, because the charter is not clear concerning special assesments.

It would be the first special assessment since Utica incorporated as a city 25 years ago.

Accessibility to Detroit water at the same time as the rest of Utica and sooner than would be possible in Shelby Township was one of the promises made by city officials to residents of the annexed area before the annexation vote.

Last day for registration for the special election will be Aug. 13.

To Meet on Dispute Halting Construction of School in Shelby

A dispute over a drainage issue that has halted construction of an elementary school in Shelby Township is scheduled for discussion at a special meeting of the Utica Board of Education at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

But Shelby Township Supervisor Lorin E. Evans, with whom school board members hope to resolve the problem, said this morning he had not yet been invited to the meeting.

Supt. Fred M. Atkinson said this morning the special meeting was scheduled tentatively pending Evans' agreement to attend. Atkinson added he planned to contact Evans today.

The dispute has stopped construction of the $408,000 Switzer Elementary School on Shelby Road near 24-Mile Road for the past two weeks.

Evans stopped work on the school because the school board had not obtained a building permit from the township. When Atkinson then applied for a permit, he was turned down until the controversy over drainage was resolved.

Evans said today he informed the school board in April that fill operations on the school site were closing up a natural waterway used as a drain. But the matter was ignored, Evans said.

Atkinson and school board members disagree, saying the area was not a natural waterway or a registered drain, but only a low spot.

Evans contends that, with the natural waterway filled, a situation of improper drainage has been created. His reason for denying the building permit, he explained, was that construction plans did not provide for proper drainage.

Township and Macomb County officials have asked the school board either to open the water course or install a closed drain on the property.

Seek to Incorporate Union Lake Village

Pontiac Press Photo

NO SWIMMING — Last year at this time there was much splashing and swimming in this water in Avon Township Park in Rochester. This year, however, all is serene. The swimming area has been closed by the Oakland County Health Department because of pollution in Paint Creek, which flows into the Clinton River just before it reaches the park. If the gates that form the swimming area were in place under the bridge, the water would be higher. Despite efforts by the Avon Township Board to get the pollution problem solved, the swimming hole is not expected to be opened again this summer.

16-Sq. Mile City Eyed in Petitions

Residents, Businessmen in Group Opposed by Backers of Status Quo

The incorporation of Union Lake Village into a 16-square-mile city has been proposed by a group of area residents and businessmen.

Petitions were presented at the Oakland County Clerk's office late yesterday afternoon to set in motion the chain of events required to make possible a vote on the incorporation.

Seeking the incorporation is a group known as the Union Lake Citizens Committee for Progressive Government and headed by John Clark, a Union Lake pharmacist.

The move towards incorporation is not going unchallenged, however.

Other groups of citizens already have made known their opposition to the incorporation plan and their intent to keep the now-unincorporated community under the government of four townships.

★ ★ ★

Union Lake, which is at the crossroads of Cooley Lake and Union Lake roads, spreads into the townships of Waterford, White Lake, West Bloomfield and Commerce without any actual boundary lines except those of the Union Lake postal zone.

The citizens committee plan for incorporation is to include nearly equal sections of the four townships in the proposed new city.

This area has been estimated to have a population between 15 and 16,000.

The Committee for Progressive Government explains the purpose of incorporation is to keep intact the identity of Union Lake.

WATERFORD PLANNING

The organization pointed out that Waterford has discussed incorporation and if this should occur Union Lake would lose about one-quarter of the area considered to be part of the village.

The committee's argument for incorporation on the grounds that Commerce and West Bloomfield have considered incorporation is protested, however, by the supervisors of both of those townships.

Thomas Tiley, Commerce Township supervisor, said Commerce does not have the population to become a city in the near future and West Bloomfield Township Supervisor John C. Rehard said the matter has not been discussed since he took office three years ago.

The next step in the proposed incorporation move will be the checking of the described boundary areas by county engineers.

Swainson to Visit Gingellville, Cite 2 'Oldest' Voters

GINGELLVILLE—Gov. John B. Swainson, during a busy weekend of campaigning for re-election, will visit the Gingellville business district at 5 p.m. tomorrow.

The governor's stop here will be to acquaint area residents with Democratic candidates and to honor two persons who are believed to be northern Oakland County's oldest voters.

The long-time voters are Mrs. Ella Gingell, 80, founder of the Gingellville Subdivision in the Baldwin-Gregory Road area; and Grover Shimmons, 75, former Lake Orion village president and justice of the peace. Both are life-long Democrats.

Ralph D. Hudson, chairman of the Orion Township Democratic Club, sponsor of the visit, said a large turnout is expected to meet the governor and honor the two Orion Township residents.

Flower, Vegetable Show Slated by Oxford Club

OXFORD — The 28th annual Flower and Vegetable Show of the Oxford Garden Club has been set for Aug. 11 and 12 at the junior high school auditorium here.

To Lead Services in Ortonville Church

ORTONVILLE — Two musical evangelists from Spring City, Pa., will lead morning and evening services Sunday at Ortonville Baptist Church.

Both 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services will open with an inspirational song session led by Lester C. Place accompanied by his wife, Grace, at the piano. Place will close each service with a sermon.

The couple, graduates of Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, Ill., have visited churches throughout the nation and in Canada. They also have been active in radio and television and are staff evangelists for Christian Life Magazine.

Romney Back Stumping, Gets Tough on Swainson

FLINT (UPI) — Republican George Romney re-entered the campaign for governor with vigor yesterday after a day's absence to clean up affairs at the constitutional convention.

★ ★ ★

Romney concentrated on Genesee County and leveled a bitter attack against his Democratic opponent, Gov. John B. Swainson at a testimonial dinner here last night for Genesee County's con-con delegates.

Romney charged that the governor's role in the current apportionment crisis was "a flagrant example of special interest domination of state government that is pushing Michigan downhill."

The former president of American Motors Corp. also attacked Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, saying, "Kelley abdicated his duties in the Michigan apportionment suit by joining with Gus Scholle and arguing against the state."

NO LEGAL COUNSEL

He added, "This left the state without legal counsel in the matter."

The three GOP senators who intervened in the case, Romney said, "should send the attorney general th bill for private legal counsel they hired to make sure that Michigan had some spokesman in the matter."

★ ★ ★

Romney's campaign schedule called for policy meetings in Detroit today and no public appearances were on tap.

Battle Harmful Insects With Proper Pesticides

By WILLIAM AHO
Park Supervisor

Insect population, as most people realize, vary from year to year. Their prevalence is dependent upon temperature, rainfall, humidity, soil condition, natural parasites, etc. Fortunately only a few pests become sufficiently abundant in any one area to warrant special measures of control. Let's examine a few areas where insects can cause trouble and see what control measures can be exercised.

White grubs, which in the larvae stage of beetles, can ruin a lawn which is overlooked by many home owners. Grubs are found in the soil and feed on the roots of the grasses. If present in large numbers the turf becomes loose, stunted in brown scorched patches and eventually dies. If this condition exists pull back the sod and you may expose the feeding grubs.

The white grubs and other soil insects, which feed on grass roots, can be controlled by working the pesticide into the soil. Pesticides recommended for soil insects consist of DDT, Lindane, Chlordane, Heptachlor and Dieldrin.

Insects also attack a great variety of ornamental shrubs and trees. Some are very minute insects which are hardly noticeable if the naked eye. A sample of these are the mites. They attack such species as Arborvitae, Blue Spruce, Azalea, Boxwood, Hemlock, lawns, etc. Mites can be controlled by spraying during the spring and summer as required. Malathion, Systox, Parathion and Ovex will control the active mites.

GET IN HOUSE

If mites get into the house, use your vacuum cleaner along with a household fly spray. Once the mites get into the house they begin to lay eggs. You can expect to see them from time to time when the eggs hatch, so use your vacuum cleaner.

Clover mites are moving in the spring and fall seasons. To keep them out of the house, do not allow the grass to grow up to the foundation of the house. Keep the grass about 18 inches away from the house particularly on the sunny side.

Due to the increase of home owners, the demand for ornamental shrubs and trees has also increased. This has caused an increase of our insect pests. Some of the prevalent insects are the various Borers, Oystershell and Euonymous scale, Birch Leaf Miner and aphids.

The Oystershell and Euonymus Scale are two of the most persistent and injurious of all the Scale insects. The former feeds on all parts of infested plants, except the roots and leaves. The Euonymus Scale infests both deciduous and evergreen euonymus and is also found on pachysandra and bittersweet. When the insects are numerous, they can completely coat the leaves and stems. To control these two scale insects, use DDT, Parathion, Malathion, Nicotine Sulfate or Diazinon.

Borers are found to be more prevalent in weak trees than healthy ones. Obviously then it is wise to keep them in a healthy condition with proper care. Borers usually attack Lilacs, Peach, Apple and Birch trees. It is best to control them in the area in May by spraying or painting a strong solution of DDT on the trunks and branches.

The Birch Leaf Miner usually makes its appearance on Birches in early June. There are two broods of these insects per year. The second brood appears during the latter part of July. The larvae of this insect penetrates into the inner tissue of the leaves which causes the browning of the leaf surface.

SPRAY

Control measures consists of a sanitation program first to prevent the over-wintering of the sawflies in the fallen leaves. If you notice the brown blotches in the leaves, spray with either Malathion or Lindane. If you use Malathion repeat the spray in 5 days.

There are several species of aphids which cause damage to many plants. They stunt the plant's growth by sucking out the juices. They also secrete a sticky honeydew which accumulates on the foliage. Aphids on plants can be controlled by the use of Malathion, Parathion, Diazinon, Nicotine Sulfate, Systox or Lindane.

Other examples of insects attacking plants and trees are the Thrips, Leaf Hoppers, Leaf Beetles, Leaf Miners, Rose Chafers, Sawflies, Tent Caterpillars, etc. The list is practically endless. Whatever your insect problem is, make certain you apply the correct chemical and follow the manufacturer's directions on the label. The latter is extremely important.

One last caution, always keep any spray material away from children, behind lock and key.

Healing Use of Plants Still Important

Some examples of the healing wonders that grow in nature discovered by our ancestors and still being used for medicinal purposes, as well as for decor, by modern society are:

Hollyhock, and all its relatives from the Mallow to the Rose-of-Sharon, bear the ancient and honorable title of "Althea," meaning "to heal." Its leaves, seed and roots were to Roman apothecaries what penicillin is to the modern physician. Concoctions were made to cure the seven-year itch, psoriasis and even to relieve the common cold.

Dandelion, brought to the U. S. from the sunny Mediterranean hills, was hailed as a "physik" for the sick in Biblical times. Wine is made from its leaves and flowers and its roots and those of its close relative, Chicory, are roasted and sold as a coffee substitute.

Delphinium, one of the most respected of garden perennials because of its tall blue flower spikes, is a celebrated rogue. There was a time when its seed was more prized than its blooms. The seed contains a sedative, poisonous to man in large quantities, which fishermen mixed with bread dough and tossed into trout streams. After swallowing a few dough balls containing delphinium seed the stupefied trout could be caught by hand.

Spring Crocus, was famous as the bicarbonate of soda of medieval times. The tiny bulb from which the flower sprouts in early spring, as the base for Tincture Croci, a cure for colic and dyspepsia.

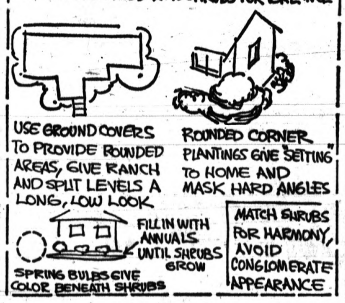

★ ★ ★

Fall Crocus, or Colchicum, not to be confused with the Spring Crocus, keeps popping up in the pages of history. It won recognition first as a death-dealing poison, a sort of staple agent of the legendary poisoner, Medea. Many centuries later, in American colonial times, Colchicum was proclaimed as a cure for gout.

★ ★ ★

Then in 1936, the Fall Crocus created a sensation by upsetting a comfortable theory of genetics, which held that the chromosomes—the elements in sex cells which bear the genes of heredity—could not be changed except by natural breeding. Horticulturists found that plants sprayed with a substance taken from the Fall Crocus split the chromosomes and plants which bore flowers of single petals would thereafter bear flowers with double or multiple petals.

Forsythia, the Golden Bell shrub among the first to bloom in spring may be a friend indeed to the aged. It was recently found to be the source of Rutin, used in kidney ailments common in declining years.

Plan Your Landscaping on Paper First, Then Buy

Fewer, better and smaller shrubs and trees in a foundation planting are the order of the day for making modern, low houses attractive. But for big or small, two-story or ranch houses, you can scale the height and the width of plantings to make a beautiful setting.

The first rule of attractive landscaping is: Don't let all the advice confuse you. Get a piece of graph paper, so you can easily lay out house and plantings to scale.

Things to remember: use shrubs, trees and low, green ground covers such as myrtle, pachysandra, ivy and ajuga. Keep plants in proportion to the size and height of the house.

To make a house look longer, plant well out from the ends as well as in front. If the foundation is high, mask it well with shrubs. If it is low, let the foundation show in some spots, above the ground cover.

Use evergreens liberally. They look good both in winter and summer. Include some plants, especially trees, that drop their leaves in winter. You'll get more shade in summer, more winter sun.

Use larger accent shrubs at corners and by the doorway. Plant low shrubs beneath windows, and make sure they won't grow too tall. Your state college or local nursery can give you a chart of plant heights, widths and preferred planting distances.

When you are tempted to plant "just a few more" remember that a huge mass of shrubs will overpower anything but a large house.

Remember: you aren't starting a botanical garden. It isn't practical, or pleasing to the eye, to set one plant each of 20 or 40 different sizes colors and shapes. Pick several kinds that you like — judiciously. Mark all plants on your graph paper chart, if you like, and move them around on the chart, before making your final decision.

When you have selected the plants you want, you have four choices. Plant full size shrubs right where they belong — plants that won't grow much bigger. This is ideal; also the most costly.

Or you can pick these same shrubs in smaller sizes, and fill in between with flowers, until the shrubs grow. Or you can plant more small shrubs, and move out some of them as they grow. Also you can fill in spots with temporary quick-growing shrubs.

Be Kind to Trees Especially Now

Enjoy your trees in the summer but don't subject them to unnecessary dangers.

They should not be exposed to heat from your outdoor grill, or suffer trampling above their roots, or be roped for clotheslines or wires may girdle and damage trunks or limbs. Hot lights can burn close foliage.

Trampling packs earth around tree roots, cutting off air in the soil and contributes to run-off of rainfall that should seep into the earth.

Tradition Honored

There was a 15-foot sugar maple tree in New York City's skyline recently. The tree was used in ceremonies marking completion of the 50th and top floor of the new Americana Hotel. Hotel officials explained that a tree or branch has long been a symbol for completion of high construction.

Pamper Flowers

Keep flower arrangements away from draughts, direct sunshine and hot radiators, and from air conditioners in the summer, the Society of American Florists says. Resting them in a cool, dark place at night will refresh them and prolong their beauty, SAF adds.

Digitalis, the common Foxglove of the perennials garden, is still after centuries a source of the drug of the same name, used in heart disease.

You can be free of crabgrass —with one hour's work!

Getting rid of crabgrass used to be a hopeless, back-breaking job. Now — as thousands of people have discovered to their great relief — it's almost as easy as taking a walk.

You simply fill a spreader with CLOUT®, set the dial and go. Pretty soon the crabgrass turns brown. The second application, a week later, knocks it out completely. Each treatment takes about a half-hour for the average 5,000 sq. ft. lawn.

'Social Recognition' Sought by Nudists

HANNOVER, Germany (AP) — The nudists of the world are seeking recognition.

The eighth world congress of the international naturalists federation opened here yesterday attended by 3,000 devotees.

Erik Holm, of Denmark, president of the federation, told the assembly: "Our chief aim is to be finally recognized by society."

From Cemeteries to Stage--- Comedienne Kay Really Digs

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Kay Stevens was always really trying, but she never learned how to succeed in business until she turned to show business.

She is succeeding now. A wild, wild comedienne who can also sing, she is a big new draw on the night club circuit. She is now making her mark in movies. She registers strongly in "The Interns" and now is appearing with Danny Kaye in "The Man from the Diner's Club."

THOMAS

Kay's previous excursions into business were marked by varying degrees of failure. She started out as a cemetery plot salesgirl, and there she was too successful.

★ ★ ★

"Oh, I was making $200 to $300 a week selling door-to-door when I was 19," recalled the Cleveland girl. "I had a regular routine that was irresistible. Trouble is, I was so successful that I sold out the entire cemetery. The owner offered to open another one for me, but I decided I'd had it with selling plots."

NEXT: NUTS, BOLTS

Next came a turn with a nuts-bolts-and-screws firm. Kay was file clerk, but with her own particular system.

"I have a photogenic (sic) memory, you see," she explained. "I knew where everything was, but nobody else did."

She moved on to a commercial soap company, but confinement to the shipping room bugged her.

Kay also tried modeling. She did well until the day she went to get "the cashews in the snow just before a big fashion show and tumbled into the dirty snow.

NEXT: HOUSEWIFE

Thereafter Kay married a musician and tried three years as a housewife — "but the bills were coming in and the money wasn't." She booked herself, husband and others into a Buffalo night spot with an act she didn't have, hastily learned eight numbers. The act succeeded. When Kay discovered she couldn't sing eight hours nightly, she started talking between numbers, discovered she was a comedienne.

She found success but lost the husband en route. In the divorce settlement he received the results of her first venture into business: eight cemetery lots.

The new-case rate of tuberculosis in the United States is nearly 31 per 100,000 people a year.

Drug Victim Asks British Aid

Thalidomide Mother Tells Plans on Legal Fight for Compensation

LONDON (AP)—A thalidomide mother announced plans today to fight a legal battle for compensation for hundreds of British babies deformed by the drug.

Pat Lane's 8-month-old daughter Julie escaped gross malformation.

"I must be the luckiest of all the affected mothers," she said at her Bristol home.

EAR, EYES DEFORMED

Julie was born with a small, twisted right ear, no left ear, and a skin over her eyes. Surgery has given the baby her sight and she can hear partly on the right side.

Many thalidomide babies are born without arms and legs. The drug was withdrawn from the British market last year.

★ ★ ★

"I want other thalidomide mothers to write to me and to raise a fund to fight a test case against the firm marketing this drug, or the authorities, to get compensation for the worst-hit babies and their parents," Mrs. Lane said.

She wrote to Health Minister Enoch Powell appealing for government help for the worst cases. Powell in reply offered deep concern and advised on available medical care. There was no word about compensation, and the House of Commons was told later none would be given.

TOOK 2 PILLS

Mrs. Lane, 28, took two thalidomide tablets when she was five weeks pregnant.

Doctors meanwhile issued a warning about another pill—an oral contraceptive.

After taking the synthetic hormone tablet, a young woman was reported to have developed phlebitis in the leg, with thrombosis. She died a week later from a clot in the lung.

★ ★ ★

The British Medical Journal reported she was one of four British cases known to have incurred thrombosis while taking the pill.

The British journal reported that in the United States there have been a number of thrombosis deaths among women taking the same contraceptive pill.

Eagle Secretary Named Chairman of Competition

The secretary of Waterford Aerie No. 2887, Fraternal Order of Eagles, has been named chairman of the Ritual-Quartet Competition of the Grand Aerie Convention being held in Pittsburgh, Pa., this week.

Grand Worthy President Paul Hoffman today announced the appointment to that post of Duane O. Johnson, 346 E. Pike St.

Here's Latest World Data on Shunned Thalidomide

By The Associated Press

Here are the latest developments on the drug thalidomide, believed to cause deformitis in infants when taken by mothers in early pregnancy:

WASHINGTON—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said the laws and regulations concerning the experimental use of new drugs are so loose that people become involuntary human guinea pigs.

★ ★ ★

WASHINGTON—Secretary of Welfare Anthony Celebrezze promised new regulations soon to govern distribution of drugs to physicians for investigational purposes.

MONTREAL—The registrar of the Quebec College of Physicians and Surgeons urged that control of drugs be turned over to the World Health Organization of the United Nations, so that international standards could be set.

LOS ANGELES—Television actress Sherri Finkbine of Phoenix, Ariz., denied a legal abortion in an appeal to an Arizona court, may leave for Stockholm, Sweden, today. Sweden grants legal abortions for social, family or health reasons.

★ ★ ★

KANSAS CITY—A U.S. Food and Drug Administration spokesman said hundreds of persons in Kansas City—including a few pregnant women—were given thalidomide. He added that reports so far show all the expectant mothers but one gave birth to normal babies. The remaining woman is eight months pregnant.

DES MOINES, Iowa—Doctors in Cedar Rapids and Iowa City received samples of thalidomide, but those contacted said they did not prescribe it for women of child-bearing age, according to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

★ ★ ★

WINDSOR, Ont.—A couple whose twins were born with deformities will seek government assistance. The mother took pills containing thalidomide. And the twins, a boy and a girl, were born last January with deformed forearms and thumbs. Said the mother: "We don't know how much medical treatment will cost us, but if aid is available we will apply for it."

★ ★ ★

HEIDELBERG, Germany—U.S. Army doctors, reporting at least three deformed infants born, warned soldiers' wives against use of thalidomide. The Army said the drug had not been used in its medical facilities or pharmacies but that nonmilitary doctors had prescribed the drug to some Army wives.

★ ★ ★

NEW YORK—The City Health Department said it had traced a woman who had 374 pills containing thalidomide. Department investigators have recovered 539 doses of the compound.

★ ★ ★

BOSTON—State public health officials said they would ask all Massachusetts hospitals and doctors to make voluntary reports of babies born with congenital defects.

★ ★ ★

KEY WEST, Fla.—Havana Radio told its Cuban listeners that thalidomide is a "tranquilizer of Yankee manufacture." The drug was developed in Germany.

★ ★ ★

NEW YORK—The drug, medicine and chemical company of Richardson-Merrell Inc. reported record high sales and earnings for the year ended June 30. The company's William S. Merrell Co. division is the United States licensee for thalidomide, but none of the drug was sold by the division.

Dearborn Man Missing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paul A. Waterhouse, son of Benjamin E. Waterhouse of Chicago and Mrs. Evelyn M. Farell of Dearborn was among 13 men listed by the Navy Thursday as missing aboard a twin-engine Navy patrol plane off the Philippines.

Palembang in Indonesia was the leading city of a strong Hindu state in the eighth century.

Get Radio Station OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Music Camp at Interlochen, received a permit from the communications commission Thursday for construction of an educational FM radio station.

U.S.-Soviet Gap Holds Key to Thant Candidacy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U Thant said his decision on becoming a candidate for a full five-year term for U.N. secretary general depends on whether he feels he can help bridge the gap between the Soviet Union and the United States.

★ ★ ★

"I want to be pretty sure," the acting secretary general told a news conference, "whether I really will be able to play my little part in trying to bridge the gulf between the two giants."

He disclosed he will visit in the Soviet Union Aug. 24, and confer with Premier Khrushchev on "several issues" confronting the United Nations. He declined to go into detail.

Thant's term as acting secretary general expires next April 10. His successor will be chosen by the next General Assembly which opens Sept. 18.

Former Priest Asks Divorce

Last March, Wife Sued Catholic Church Trying to Locate Him

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Defrocked priest Walter Ryan, 57, whose departure from his New York state home seven years ago prompted a $2.3-million suit brought by his wife, Alice, against the Catholic Church, sued her for divorce Thursday.

★ ★ ★

He accused his attractive, 41-year-old wife of adultery, desertion and cruelty. Ryan married her in Baptist rites in Maryland 12 years ago under the assumed occupation of free lance writer. Shortly thereafter he left the church and became a real estate salesman.

★ ★ ★

Her suit in March of this year started a nationwide search that lasted two days. Ryan revealed his whereabouts in San Francisco then to deny her charges.

She claimed he fathered her fourth daughter while on a brief visit to their Glen Head, N.Y., home in 1956, but a San Francisco Superior Court rejected her assertion in a June hearing.

★ ★ ★

She said in her suit against the church that Ryan was abducted, given liquor and shifted around to various monasteries in different states. This was denied by both Ryan and church officials.

★ ★ ★

Ryan said in the divorce suit that he left his wife in 1955 because his wife "inflicted a course of extreme cruelty which necessitated his departure from the family dwelling place."

★ ★ ★

Ryan claims in the suit that Mrs. Ryan's fourth daughter was a result of adultery with an unnamed and unknown man.

Two Men, 70, Battle; One Stabbed to Death

HIGHLAND PARK, Mich. (AP) —A 70-year-old man hobbling on a wooden leg battled fiercely with a cane against another 70-year-old Thursday and when he began losing, witnesses told police, swiped at him with a paper bag.

★ ★ ★

Moses Gyorgy Lorinc collapsed and died of a stab wound. Police said the paper bag wielded by Salvatore Parrinello contained a sharp tool Parrinello used to punch holes in the leather harness of his wooden leg.

★ ★ ★

After the fight, Parrinello walked a block and a half to a police station and said he had been taunted by Lorinc for two years and, "I just couldn't take it any longer."

★ ★ ★

Police said he will be charged with first degree murder.

Commuting Pays; Has Whole Train at His Disposal

NEW YORK (AP) — After 25 years of being an ordinary Long Island Rail Road commuter, John K. Mountford is going to get a whole train for himself and friends —along with free food and liquid refreshments.

★ ★ ★

Mountford was told Thursday his name was selected from among 50,000 daily commuters who belong to the "Legion of Influential Rail Riders" (initials which match the railroad's).

★ ★ ★

Mountford, 44, an insurance lawyer, will have at his disposal—for one day—a diesel locomotive, two deluxe parlor cars and white coated attendants to serve himself and 25 friends on an outing to Montauk, on the eastern tip of Long Island.

U.S. Millionaire Ordered to Get Out of Philippines

MANILA (UPI) — President Diosdado Macapagal today ordered the arrest and deportation from the Philippines of American millionaire Harry S. Stonehill and his business associate, Robert Brooks.

ARMY VETERAN

Stonehill, is a U.S. Army veteran who stayed on in the Philippines after World War II and built up a financial empire, mainly in tobacco.

He has been accused of involvement in bribery of public officials, tax evasion and illegal financial transactions.

The good government committee of the Philippine House of Representatives had summoned him just today to answer questions about reports that 11 representatives were on his "secret payroll."

Justice Secretary Juan R. Liwag charged last month that numerous government officials had been paid off by Stonehill.

The charges caused a shakeup in President Macapagal's cabinet last Monday.

ANNOUNCES ORDER

The president announced his deportation order at his weekly press conference. He said it would be carried through "at the earliest time possible."

Two other Stonehill associates —John T. Brooks, an American, and Karl Beck, a German—were given a two-year probationary period by the president, subject to certain conditions.

Macapagal upheld findings by a three-member deportation board that there were "sufficient evidences" substantiating a nine-point charge against Stonehill and his aides.

Macapagal said there was evidence that Stonehill and Robert Brooks, among other things, established "a network of corruption reaching into every high government office" and engaged in "conspiracy to gain business ascendancy through economic sabotage."

Bridge Tourney Second Round Opening Today

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Second round play in men's and women's pairs competition will begin today at the American Contract Bridge League's summer national tournament.

Robert Chow, of Toronto, Ont., and W. G. Burns, of Post Credit, Ont., led in men's pair standings. Mrs. Harold Schenken, of New York, and Terry Michaels, of Washington, D.C., were the women's pairs leaders.

In competition for the knock-out teams championship and the Spingold trophy, 64 teams remained in the running.

Last night's Spingold play saw the seeded team of John Crawford, New York, Sidney Silodor, Philadelphia; Norman Kay, Merchantville, N.J., and Bill Grieve, San Antonio, Tex., recover from the previous day's upset loss.

Scion Tells Backing

ALLEGAN (UPI) — Leo W. Hoffman, son of retiring Republican congressman Clare E. Hoffman, said yesterday he is supporting the candidacy of former state Senator Edward Hutchinson as the Republican nominee for the Fourth District House seat.

Billie Farnum Names Lansing Man to Job

LANSING (UPI) — Appointment of Robert S. D'Amelio of Lansing as administrative officer of his state agency has been announced by Auditor General Billie S. Farnum.

The responsibilities of the new appointee will include supervision of administrative functions plus a new methods and procedures unit, Farnum said.

Lion Blues Take 'Offense' Against Defensive Boasts

SMILING PACKERS — Green Bay coach Curly Lambeau appears to be in a jovial mood as he points out something to star halfback Paul Hornung. The Packers aren't expected to be smiling tonight when they take on the College All-Stars in Chicago's Soldier Field.

Green Bay Picked by 23 Over All-Stars

CHICAGO (AP) — The Green Bay Packers, hale, hearty and apparently hungry, figure to give the College All-Stars a going over tonight and the odds favoring them—up to 23 points—are the biggest in the classic football series.

* * *

It's not that the All-Stars are that bad, for they have one of the most talented squads of the last 28 years. But it's that the Packers, winner of the 1961 National Football League championship with a crushing 37-0 victory over the New York Giants, are that good.

* * *

A crowd upwards of 65,000 will be in Soldiers Field for the 29th game in the rivalry sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc. It will be televised and broadcast (ABC) starting at 8:45 p.m. EST. The weather outlook is for cloudiness after showers during the day.

The Packers limbered up under Soldier Field lights Thursday night and coach Vince Lombardi said: "we're ready."

Lombardi has his squad intact —no injuries, and Paul Hornung, Boyd Dowler, Ray Nitschke and Elija Pitts rejoining it after military service.

* * *

Such a complement makes the Packers a favorite to repeat in the NFL race this season. And if that's so, how can the All-Stars, who have been in training only three weeks, be given any kind of chance?

Only a complete let-down by the Packers, combined with a high-spirited, machine-like performance by the All-Stars would dump the oddsmakers.

* * *

Lombardi is ready to throw his big guns at the start—Quarterback Bart Starr, ground-smashers Hornung and Jim Taylor, and pass receivers Max McGee, Dowler and Ron Kramer.

Probable starting backfield for the All-Stars are — quarterback John Hadl of Kansas, captain of the attacking unit; Angelo Dabiero, Notre Dame; Jim Saxton, Texas, and Curtis McClinton, Kansas.

* * *

They are backed by such passers as Roman Gabriel, North Carolina State and Bobby Ply, Baylor; and such turf pounders as Bob Ferguson of Ohio State, Ronnie Bull of Baylor and Lance Alworth of Arkansas.

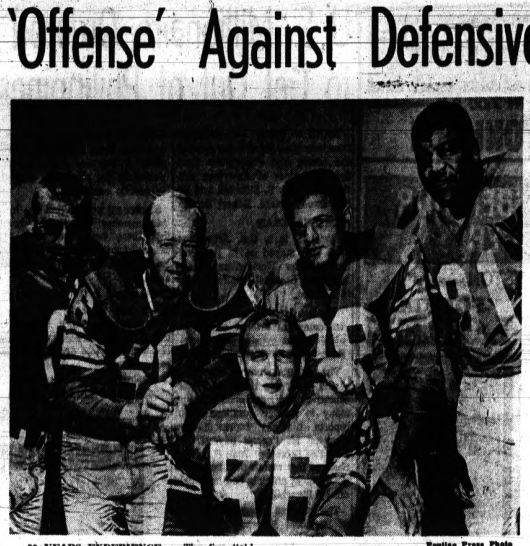

*

"Physically, the Packers will find us pretty much of a match," said head coach Otto Graham. "If we can just avoid making too many mistakes, I'm sure the Packers, great as they are, will never get out of sight of these kids."

Only two players are missing from the original squad. All-America halfback Ernie Davis of Syracuse is out with a blood disorder and Jim Skaggs, 230-pound guard from Washington, fractured a leg in the opening days of training.

* * *

The All-Stars haven't won since Graham's first year as head coach, 1958. They trimmed the Detroit Lions 35-19. The Pros have an 18-8 edge in the series with two games being tied.

50 YEARS EXPERIENCE — The five "old men" of the Detroit Lions can put 50 years of experience together in their years in pro football. From left to right, John "O" Olszewski, Harley Sewell and Joe Schmidt (56) have 10 years each. Yale Lary has nine years and Dick "Night Train" Lane (81) has 11 years. The veterans will appear in the annual Blue-White scrimmage at Wisner Stadium Saturday night.

Offensive Unit Bolstered by Rookie Linemen

Defensive Line Looks for Glass' Replacement Among 3 Candidates

The Lions Blue squad, the offensive unit, has taken offense against constant boasting of the defensive unit, and will be out to prove their strength in the annual scrimmage game at Wisner Stadium Saturday night.

* * *

Aldo Forte, who coaches the offensive line, says the front line will give Milt Plum, the Lions' new quarterback plenty of help this year, "starting Saturday night."

"People criticized our offensive line quite a bit last year," said Forte, "but of the 14 teams in the league, statistics showed we were 6th."

"This puts eight teams behind us, so all that criticism certainly wasn't warranted," he added.

* * *

Forte called guard Dick Mills and center Bob Whitlow the two most improved players in camp. The other coaches agreed with him adding that Whitlow is the best bet to start at center, a spot vacated when Bob Scholz was called into the service.

OFFENSE SHUT OUT

Last year in the intra-squad game at Wisner, the White defensive unit shutout the offense, 15-0, as quarterbacks Jim Ninowski, Earl Morrall and Warren Raab managed only one completion in 13 attempts under terrible weather conditions.

* * *

This year, the defensive unit will get only one point, instead of two, for stopping an offensive drive.

"We figure it takes six first downs to complete an offensive march to get six points, so if the defensive unit stops six drives it will gain six points," coach George Wilson said in listing his two units.

During the past few seasons, the defensive team of the Lions has been one of the best in the league. It has been given much of the credit for finishing second two straight years. Gone however from the "Fearless Foursome" which made up the sturdy defensive line is Bill Glass, now with Cleveland. Darris McCord, Roger Brown and Alex Karras remain with Dave Lloyd, Paul Ward and Sam Williams are trying to fill Glass' vacancy.

* * *

Lloyd, obtained from the Browns in the deal with Plum and Tommy Watkins for Glass, Hopalong Cassady and Ninowski, is currently the top contender for the job.

The offense is expected to be much improved with Plum, Watkins and the help of rookie linemen John Lomakoski of Romeo, Todd Grant of Southfield and 270 pound tackle Karl Anderson.

Preliminary activities of dashes for linemen and backs, passing, field goal kicking and punting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Game time is 8:00 p.m. The intra-squad scrimmage is sponsored by the Community National Bank with cooperation of the Pontiac Jaycees.

Ticket windows will open at 6:00 p.m., but advance tickets are available at numerous locations throughout the Pontiac area.

Braves Keep Surprising

Two Lead Clippers Win

Chuck Honchell slammed a double and two singles and walked to spark the attack and Don Glowaz turned in a strong pitching job in relief pacing the R. T. Clippers to a 6-2 triumph over Don Nicholie. A four-run 1st decided the issue. Jerry Vallad had a single and double for the losers.

The upstart Braves nipped the Giants 6-5 and the 1st place Pirates took the Colts 3-1 in Pontiac Boys Club National League games. A two-out homer with a man on by Bob Traylor won it for the Braves in the 7th. Kevin Dushane, who took the defeat, fanned 13 and matched mate Mike Ewald with three hits. John Gilliam pitched well in relief and had two Pirate hits.

In an AL tilt in the 1st Federal Savings program, the Red Sox dumped the Yanks 5-4 on the hurling of newcomer Alex Tasha. Rich Jimenez had a double and single for the Sox.

TOURNEY FORFEIT

Eastern Hi-Y eliminated itself by using an ineligible player in a Class E tourney game. The violation was discovered with Eastern ahead 5-2 led by the "wrong" boy.

In Wild 5-4 Setback; Hit Umpire Criticized

Ladies and Tigers Scream

DETROIT (AP) — Kill the umpire . . .

The screeching ladies' day crowd of 25,117 screamed this traditional greeting for the men in blue during the pre-game announcements yesterday. And the steaming Tigers screamed it up during and after the game.

Bill Kinnamon, who has been umpiring in the American League for two years, was struck by a batted ball and accidentally killed a Tiger rally in their 5-4 loss to Kansas City.

But the Tigers themselves made the Kinnamon incident a vital factor with their inability to carry out fundamentals. Poor baserunning and a popup lost in the sun hurt more than Kinnamon.

The Tigers were behind 4-2 when they started threatening in the seventh. Don Buddin was on second and Bill Bruton on first when Al Kaline drilled a bounder down the third base line. It looked like a double into the corner and Buddin and Bruton were off.

Kinnamon, stationed behind third base on the line, signalled fair ball. As he did, the ball hit his left leg and ricocheted to shortstop Billy Consolo. Buddin stopped at third. But Bruton, head down, rounded second. Buddin tried for home and Bruton got back to second but Buddin was tagged for the second out. The Athletics squirmed out of the inning.

CHANGED COURSE

"I had to stay in position and watch the ball," said Kinnamon, who displayed a raw bruise on his left leg. "It was a fair baseball. It hit the bag and that made it straighten its course instead of bouncing into foul territory as it looked like it would. I was already in position and couldn't shift back."

Kinnamon's explanation evoked little sympathy from the Tigers.

"There's no excuse for an umpire to get hit 115 feet away from the plate," barked manager Bob Scheffing. "He just wasn't bearing down on it."

Scheffing went out to talk to Kinnamon when the play occurred. But there was little he could do about it.

"No, I couldn't appeal on that," said Scheffing. "The ball's in play when it hits an umpire after it passes an infielder. That's in the rules. But I told him he should have gotten out of the way. There was no reason why he was hit. He had plenty of time to move.

"He said the ball changed course? Well, it never changed direction until it hit him."

"It absolutely did not hit the base," said third base coach George Myatt.

Another rally was nipped in the ninth when the Tigers threatened to tie the score on three singles with one out. Steve Boros singled to left with Norm Cash and Larry Osborne on base. Cash representing the tying run, was forced to hold at third. But Osborne rounded second and was cut down while crawling back. Again the A's escaped.

* * *

"There was no excuse for Bruton running around second when the umpire was hit," fumed Scheffing. "The play was in front of him and he should have been watching.

LEG INJURED

"Osborne had an excuse. His leg went out on him, he hurt his tendon. Otherwise he would have gotten back."

Earlier Cash lost Bobby Del Greco's low pop in the sun and opened the way for the Athletics' three-run stink. Norm Siebern drove in the three runs with a homer off loser Hank Aguirre. Kaline had sent the Tigers ahead 2-1 in the third with a homer.

Detroit opens a four-game series tonight at Tiger Stadium with the Minnesota Twins. Jim Bunning will pitch for Detroit against Jack Kralick.

THE PALMER METHOD
by Arnold Palmer

LADIES, HANDS AHEAD!

Women golfers often fail to do one thing in the golf swing. They do not lead the clubhead into the ball with their hands and legs.

They are too eager to get "at" the ball, uncock the wrists too early in the downswing and let the clubhead get into the impact zone even with the hands, as illustrated.

This usually results in a scuffed shot, with the clubhead hitting the ground behind the ball.

Ladies, start the downswing slowly, thus keeping the wrists cocked. This encourages a good weight shift to the left, and brings the hands into the impact zone well ahead of the clubhead. Surer, longer shots result.

Frank Howard's Bat Is Key to LA 4-Game Lead in NL

By The Associated Press

Frank Howard again!

That's been almost the entire story for the Los Angeles Dodgers recently and, although the script underwent minor changes Thursday night, the result was the same as Howard struck the key blow for a 5-3 victory over Pittsburgh for the National League leaders.

★ ★ ★

Howard, who slammed three homers and drove in 12 runs while the Dodgers swept a three-game series from second-place San Francisco last weekend, went 0-for-3 against the Pirates Wednesday.

Howard went back to work Thursday, but used a two-run single, instead of a homer, to win it for the Dodgers. The seventh inning hit off relief ace Elroy Face snapped a 3-3 tie and gave Howard 21 runs batted in the last 10 games.

HOLD LEAD

The triumph maintained the Dodgers' four-game lead over the second-place Giants, who edged the Chicago Cubs 4-3 to end a four-game losing streak.

Meanwhile, Cincinnati got the cooling off treatment from St. Louis as Ernie Broglio pitched a four-hitter and handed the defending champion Reds only their second defeat in the last 15 games, 5-1. Dick Farrell's five-hit shutout gave Houston a 3-0 triumph over Milwaukee and Philadelphia again outslugged the New York Mets, this time 9-4 for Art Mahaffey's 15th victory.

Two home runs by Pirate catcher Smoky Burgess built a 3-0 lead for Vern Law, but the Dodgers closed within a run on Tommy Davis' two-run homer in the sixth. In the seventh, pinch hitter Lee Walls singled and stole second before Maury Wills walked. Face replaced Joe Gibbon (2-2) and made a wild throw on Jim Gilliam's bunt, allowing one run to score. He then walked Willie Davis, got Tommy Davis on a double play and walked Ron Fairly before Howard connected. Johnny Podres (8-7) picked up his fourth consecutive victory with Larry Sherry's relief help.

★ ★ ★

Veteran left-hander Billy Pierce (9-3), posting his first victory in two months, needed Don Larsen's one-out relief help in the ninth to subdue the Cubs after Billy Williams and Andre Rodgers hit consecutive homers. Larsen struck out pinch hitter Bob Will to end it. Pierce, sidelined for a month with a gashed heel that required 12 stitches, hadn't won since June 1 when his record was 8-0. Orlando Cepeda paced the San Francisco attack, scoring the first run and knocking in another with a third inning single off Dick Ellsworth (6-15).

PURKEY ROUTED

Broglio (8-4), a 20-game winner two years ago who has been trying to regain his form, had the Reds blanked on three singles by Don Blasingame until the ninth when Jerry Lynch doubled and came home on a wild pitch. The Cards made the most of an ineffective evening by Bob Purkey (16-4), who allowed 10 hits, hit two batters, threw a wild pitch and committed an error that sent St. Louis ahead to stay with a second inning run. The error on a pickoff attempt followed singles by Ken Boyer and Carl Sawatski.

The Colts jumped on Braves' starter Lew Burdette (8-7) for their three runs in the first inning on singles by Bob Lillis and Al Spangler, a walk to Norm Larker and singles by Bob Aspromonte and Jim Campbell. That finished Burdette. Tony Cloninger, Don Nottebart and Carl Willey held Houston to three hits the rest of the say. But the Braves were unable to touch former relief specialist Farrell (8-13), who allowed only one man to reach second base.

Mahaffey hit a grand slam homer to support his five-hit pitching and he needed it. Four of the Met hits were homers, with Marv Throneberry and Frank Thomas —who hit a pair Wednesday — each getting two. Mahaffey (15-9) struck out 12 in registering his first triumph against New York after three losses. The Phils tagged Craig Anderson (3-12) with the loss, his 11th straight, as Tony Gonzalez also homered and Roy Sievers stroked three hits.

Pros Influence Stronger

Palmer Sees Golf Getting Much Bigger

NEW YORK (AP)—Arnold Palmer thinks there's no way for golf to go except up but he feels the climb would be faster if play weren't so slow.

★ ★ ★

"There's no question that professionals set the tempo for the way golf is played," the Masters and British Open champion said Thursday night during a brief stopover in New York.

"More people are watching us all the time—the galleries are bigger each year and through television everyone can watch the major tournaments and some of the others. And after they see us, they go back to their clubs or their courses and a lot of them try to copy our styles and mannerisms.

"Somehow, many have the idea that you must be slow and deliberate about the game. They think five hours is the right time to take playing 18 holes. Yet, I'll bet if somebody played a winning round in three hours in a tournament, you'd find the average golfer soon would be playing a lot faster while scoring just as well if not better.

PREFERS CHANGE

Ask Arnold if he believes the pros should play faster and he'll say, diplomatically, that he "prefers a faster pace, but some others don't."

Palmer, of course, is a walking testimonial to those who feel winning golf can be played with dispatch. He isn't a sprinter, but he likes to keep moving. The reason he was here, along with South Africa's Gary Player, was to appear at a press reception tossed by sponsors and producers of the World Series of Golf at Akron, Ohio, Sept. 8-9.

★ ★ ★

Palmer, Player and Jack Nicklaus will compete for a $75,000 purse in 36 holes of medal play with the winner to receive $50,000, the runner-up $15,000 and the trailer $10,000.

Walter Schwimmer, a Chicago television executive, will produce the series for nationwide viewing (NBC) each of the two days and for showing via TV film in 18 foreign countries.

Bartley 'Mr. Horseshoes' of Pontiac Rec League

Floyd Bartley is becoming "Mr. Horseshoes" of Pontiac. For the second straight year, Bartley has won the Tuesday night league championship of the Pontiac Recreation Dept. league and for the third year in a row he has been the member of the winning doubles team.

★ ★ ★

This year he teamed with Rex Oakley. In two previous years, his twin brother Lloyd was his partner.

In singles Bartley lost only one game during the entire season and that was to Al Schubach who finished in third place in the league.

Maximum number of points which could have been scored for the season was 99, based on the scoring system. Bartley scored 97. In second place was Herc Renda with 87.

Playoffs in singles of the league will begin August 16th, and in doubles, August 18th.

★ ★ ★

The Thursday night league completed play last night and the winners will meet the Tuesday nighters in the playoffs.

Four Sports Dropped in U. of D. Cutdown

DETROIT (UPI) — The University of Detroit has announced it has discontinued participation in the varsity sports of track, tennis, golf and sailing.

Spokesmen for the Catholic school said yesterday school administrators will continue the program in football, basketball, baseball and fencing.

The spokesmen said the decision to drop the other four sports was based on the fact that the university had only limited funds for its athletic program. They also cited the lack of adequate facilities for the portion of the program that was dropped.

It was hoped, the spokesmen said, lack of student interest in the sports, that were dropped, could perhaps be stepped up by an upswing in the intramural program.

Mexico Davis Cuppers Favored to Beat U.S.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The U.S. Davis Cup team hopes to lick the Mexicans this week-end with conventional weapons—tennis rackets.

No special oxygen equipment, no ear-plugs, no gimmicks of any sort.

★ ★ ★

The non-playing American captain, Bob Kelleher, made this pronouncement today as he prepared for the draw for the best-of-four match series, beginning Saturday at the Chapultepec Sports Center.

"We seriously considered the use of an extra oxygen supply," Kelleher said. "Then, after checking it out thoroughly with medical men, I abandoned the whole idea. I'm afraid we'll be left to our own devices."

UNDERDOGS

Because of the mile-high altitude, affecting both the flight of the ball and the breathing of the players, the Mexicans have been installed as favorites to hand the United States its first defeat in American Zone competition.

In the opening singles Saturday, hard-slugging Chuck McKinley the Americans plan to use the and steady ground-stroker, Jon Douglas. The Mexicans are expected to call on Rafael Osuna, who attends the University of Southern California, and Antonio Palafox, an undergraduate at Corpus Christi (Tex.) University.

★ ★ ★

These two Mexicans also will play doubles Sunday against the U.S. champions, McKinley and 20-year-old Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif. Ralston is a teammate of Osuna at Southern California but a knee operation earlier this year has made it too risky to use him in both singles and doubles.

★ ★ ★

In the past, Americans and Australians playing here have used oxygen equipment in the dressing rooms to replenish the players' supply before the matches and during breaks.

NOISY CROWDS

Some supporters of the U.S. team have recommended, half in jest, use of ear-plugs to protect them against the noisiness of the crowds.

"We realize we are up against a different type of gallery," the U.S. captain said. "Mexican fans are said to be much like bull fight fans. They cheer wildly for their favorite sons and demonstrate on close line calls.

"But the boys will just have to shut themselves off from these outside distractions. If we can concentrate on tennis and not get rattled, I think we should win."

Junior Netters Score Triumph

Members of the Pontiac Junior Tennis club competed against the East Detroit Junior Racquet club over the weekend and scored an over-all 7-6 victory with the local girls sweeping four events.

Winners in girls singles were Sue Cox, Jean Dawson, Marilyn Brown and Dianne Brown.

In Boys singles the winners were Gary Rogers, Tom Hunt and Bruce Biegler.

In losing matches, Larry Bacow, Kevin Wenzel, Roger Bargo, Jerry Murphy and Bill Mair and Tom Smith fell to East Detroiters.

In another match against the Livonia Junior Tennis Club, Pontiac netters were defeated in nine matches where winning seven.

The senior members of the Pontiac Tennis Club have a match scheduled at Flint Sunday against the Flint Tennis Club.

Competing for the PTC in singles will be Leon Hibbs, Ron Beckman, Sid Britton, Dale Andrews, Gerry Bunce, Gerry Andrews, Bruno Kearns and Bill Goff.

Art Lee and Norm Mallory will be added to doubles competition.

Smith and Faulk 1st Day Leaders in Golf Meet

WATERLOO, Iowa (AP)—Marilynn Smith and Mary Lena Faulk took charge of first day proceedings in the 72-hole Waterloo Women's Open Golf Tournament Thursday and were the only sub-par shooters, tying for the lead with one-under 71s.

Marilynn and Miss Faulk, two of the 29 professionals in a field of 45 players, shared a five-stroke edge over the defending champion Mickey Wright, current queen of the women's circuit.

★ ★ ★

Miss Smith of Jupiter, Fla., carded a 34-37—71 and Miss Faulk of Sea Island, Ga., moved to the top by holing a 175-yard shot for an eagle 2 on No. 10. She shot the first 18 holes in 35-36—71.

Runners-up in the race for $7,200 in prize money were Sandra Haynie of Fort Worth, Tex., and Shirley Englehorn of Spokane, Wash., who tied with 72s.

Miss Wright, seeking her second straight title in the fifth annual tournament, barely made the top 20 with a 76.

Pete Green Medalist in GAM Qualifying

Pete Green of Birmingham and Fred Ewald of Bloomfield Hills took sub-par honors in the qualifying round for the Golf Association of Michigan championship at Grosse Ile.

Green of Orchard Lake, took medal honors with a 2-under par 69 while Ewald fired a 70.

Glenn Johnson, Grosse Ile's top amateur qualified with a 76, while former Michigan amateur champions Tom Draper and Don Stevens failed to qualify.

Defending champion C. A. Smith of Jackson will join 63 qualifiers for match play which started this morning. Double rounds are scheduled for today, Saturday and Sunday.

In a featured driving contest, Bud Stevens of Western took the honors with a 315 yard drive.

DAVE'S UPSET — Dave Hill of Jackson walks angrily away from the hole yesterday in the Insurance City Open after missing a birdie by inches. A few seconds later he straightened his bent putter and posted a par. He fired a 70.

Troubled Art Wall May Regain Winning Form

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Three years ago, Art Wall Jr. was professional golf's player-of-the-year.

★ ★ ★

He was the leading money winner and the Master's champion, among others. The 38-year-old Wall took the cash and the honors modestly.

But during the past two and a half years, Art has been plagued by kidney trouble, back and ear ailments, and knee and rib injuries.

Without any walling by him, the fact is that since his tremendous year of 1959, Wall has won only one tournament, the Canadian Open in 1960.

★ ★ ★

His colleagues on the play-for-pay circuit call him the PGA's hard-luck golfer, a tag he brushes off with a smile and a denial.

And on his last two rounds — a 66 last Sunday in the Canadian Open and a 65 here Thursday in the opening round of the $35,000 Insurance City open — maybe Wall's luck has changed.

★ ★ ★

The six-under-par 65 over the Withersfield Country Club's 6,515-yard course paced a field of some 150. It was one stroke better than the 66s posted by Paul Harney and Frank Boynton.

Crampton Hits 29-41 in 'Disgusting' Round

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Australia's Bruce Crampton probably will never forget his opening round in the Insurance City open.

He excited the crowd of 5,000 by going out in a 6-under-par 29, a medal play tourney record for the par 35-36—71, 6,515-yard Wethersfield Country Club course.

★ ★ ★

But the skill with which he carded six birdies in nine holes, including a 60-foot putt on the ninth, deserted him on his way back. He went over par on four holes, among them a double bogey on the par-5 14th where his shot went out of bounds. He ended up with 29-41—70.

★ ★ ★

"I'm disgusted," said a disgusted looking Crampton.

Loss of Davis Not Title Killer

Cleveland Still Hopeful of Being in Contention for NFL Flag

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — The loss of All-America halfback Ernie Davis, although a serious, heart-breaking blow, will not be fatal to the title hopes of the Cleveland Browns.

★ ★ ★

That was the reaction of Coach Paul Brown Thursday after he had discussed with his squad the fact Davis would not play this year due to a blood disorder.

"It is a peculiar quirk of fate," Brown said, "that we have to lose a back of Davis' caliber. We've been looking for years for a big, fast man like him to move in beside Jim Brown.

"We gave up plenty of talent to get Ernie, who with his speed, power and shuffling motion into the line, had the makings of a really great one. He was here for our quarterback school, and ran the 40-yard sprint in 4.6 seconds. That's fast! Inside or outside, he had the stuff to help our team.

"But that's just one of the breaks of the game. Our big concern right now is for Ernie's health.

AREN'T DEAD

"We talked it over in our squad meeting today and decided that the loss of Ernie, much as it is regretted, does not mean that the Browns are dead. We'll go on just the same, and I believe we'll still have a great team."

Davis, definitely out of Friday night's All-Star game in Chicago due to the unexpected ailment, was to be brought to Cleveland as soon as possible for further checks and treatment. Physicians said he would see no football action this season.

Texan Surprise of Net Nationals at Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Lamar Roemer of Houston, Tex., portrayed the role of an uninvited guest today in the quarterfinals of boys singles in the National Junior and Boys Tennis Championship.

★ ★ ★

Roemer, who was not given a tournament ranking, upset defending champion Bill Harris of West Palm Beach, Fla., 6-2, 8-6, yesterday. The top-seeded Harris hadn't dropped a set prior to his elimination.

Today Roemer meets George Seewagen of Bayside, N.Y., who defeated Chuck Brainard of Hamtramck, 6-4, 6-3 in the fourth round.

There were fewer Browns to confuse the spectators after yesterday's boys singles matches and there will be even fewer after today's action.

Eighth-seeded Chris Brown of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., defeated Jerry Brown of Seagirt, N.J., 6-3, 6-3 and will play second-seeded Jeff Brown of Carmichael, Calif., in the quarterfinals. Jeff eliminated Bob Speicher of Delray Beach, Fla., 6-1, 6-1.

Colt Fan Club Can't Get Out of Corral

BALTIMORE (AP) — You'd think a football fan club with more than 1,500 members would arrange to attend a game once in awhile.

★ ★ ★

But the entire membership of Colts Corral No. 954 will be absent when the Baltimore Colts stage their annual intrasquad game at Memorial Stadium Monday night.

The rabid fans would like to be there—make no mistake about that. But, as inmates of the Maryland Penitentiary, it's not their night out.

However, that hasn't stopped the inmates from supporting the Baltimore Police Boys' Clubs, which benefits from the pre-season game.

PURCHASE TICKETS

Officials of the fan club today turned over to police $214 in cash, donated by inmates who earn from 20 to 50 cents a day. They also purchased 217 tickets, at $1 each, for the game they can't attend. Of these, 168 will be sent home for use by relatives and 49 will be donated for use by unedprivileged children.

At the Colts' camp in Westminster, Md., Coach Weeb Ewbank touched off some speculation when veteran defensive tackle Art Donovan was left off the starting lineup for Monday's game.

Ewbank insisted no inference was to be drawn but it was the second time this week that Donovan, now 37, was on the sidelines. Donovan has started every Colt game at defensive left tackle in his 10 years with the club.

In other NFL camp developments: Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys named four rookies—offensive lineman Lorenzo Stanford, defensive end George Andrie and defensive backs John Chaisson and Mike Gaechter — as probable starters in Saturday night's "controlled scrimmage" with the Minnesota Vikings at Bemidji, Minn. The New York Giants cut to 47 players by putting offensive end Pete Hall on waivers . . . Bob Waterfield named a starting backfield of Zeke Bratkowski, Jon Arnett, Ollie Matson and Dick Bass for the Los Angeles Rams for Saturday's practice game against the Eagle Rock Athletic Club.

OVER IN AFL

And in the American Football League:

The Dallas Texans announced 49 players would make the trip to Atlanta for Saturday night's exhibition game against the Oakland Raiders. Defensive tackle Sid Youngelman, acquired from the New York Titans in a trade, took part in his first workout with the Buffalo Bills . . . and Coach Bulldog Turner of the Titans said he would start Jim Tiller, a 165-pound recruit from Toledo of the United League, at halfback against Houston's Oilers in Houston Saturday night.

Does Bob Kennedy's Labrador Meet Test of Official Duty?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Has Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy violated a federal regulation by bringing his dog to work with him?

★ ★ ★

No one has called the nation's chief law enforcement official on it yet. He appears to be in little danger of being convicted and serving the 30-day jail sentence that could be imposed for breaking the rule.

But the question comes up because a sad-eyed Labrador named Brumus has been accompanying Kennedy to his office at the Justice Department lately.

Brumus is no ordinary dog. At the age of 14 months he is almost as big as a pony and not nearly as graceful.

★ ★ ★

"He usually stays at home with the children," the attorney general recently explained to visitors.

★ ★ ★

"But the children are away on vacation and he gets very lonely. So I bring him down here and get pretty girls to take him for walks."

REGULATIONS

Government building regulations issued by the General Service Administration have this to say on the subject:

"Dogs and other animals, except for Seeing Eye dogs, shall not be brought upon (government) property for other than official purposes."

Anyone found guilty faces a maximum penalty of $50 fine and 30 days in jail.

Brumus, whose shambling gait and mournful appearance invariably bring surprised smiles from Kennedy's callers, is considered well-behaved — most of the time.

STAR OF FILM

Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio seemed highly amused at the black dog's antics during a picture-taking session with Kennedy. An aide finally led Brumus out of camera range.

Brumus was the animal star of a film made in Kennedy's office by the U. S. Information Agency during a question-and-answer session with students from Brazil.

The South American visitors seemed delighted when the attorney general solemnly poured his pet a drink of water from a silver pitcher into an ash tray.

Kennedy's aides have jokingly suggested that Brumus might qualify as a goodwill envoy, a bodyguard or watchdog to meet the GSA test of being on official duty.

5 Maternity Sections on Provisional Status

LANSING (AP) — All but five of Michigan's 219 hospitals with maternity departments hold a full license, the State Health Commission reports.

The remaining five hospitals, with a total of only 15 beds, are operating with provisional licenses.

The department said the licensing of the hospitals was a 10-year program started in 1951, when only 143 hospitals in the state could meet minimum requirements.

Vets May Get Insurance Deal

Committee OKs Bill to Permit New Policies or Reinstatement

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Veterans Committee has approved a bill that would allow millions of World War II and Korean veterans to reinstate or apply initially for National Service Life Insurance.

The ex-GIs would have one year in which to take action. Veterans Administration officials have estimated that up to 14 million veterans would be eligible to reinstate lapsed policies or take out policies if they did not apply for the low rate coverage while in service.

Additionally, others, with coverage less than the new top level of $10,000 would be eligible to increase to that maximum.

The policies would be of the permanent type and could be either straight life or endowments.

Veterans of the two wars still in service during the 12-month reinstatement period, however, would not be eligible to renew.

The unanimous action by the House committee broke a long-standing deadlock between the House and Senate.

It opened the way for quick passage of the insurance legislation, along with a bill to give veterans disabled in service a long-delayed cost-of-living increase in their compensations.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Ever since contract experts began to evolve from the earlier day auction players there has been a tendency to treat the forcing two bid as a sort of sacred cow. One group of experts used to insist on a certain game in their own hand before they would open with that bid.

★ ★ ★

More sensible ones would use the bid with a hand that was within one trick of game by itself.

In any case expert South did not think that his fine hand was worth a force bid and contented himself with a mere one spade opening.

Fortunately for him his partner was able to raise to two spades whereupon expert South decided to "take a position." This is expert language for taking complete control of the bidding and trusting that you will be right.

Both vulnerable

South	West	North	East

4 N.T.	Pass	5♦	Pass
6♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♦K

So expert South bid four no-trump and went to the spade slam when North showed one ace.

★ ★ ★

It would be nice to show that expert South went down at the slam, but I must report actual results and as you can see the slam was a lay down. All he had to do was to win the diamond lead with dummy's ace, play a couple of trumps to pull the opponents' teeth, knock out the ace of clubs, discard one of dummy's hearts on his long club and claim the rest of the tricks on a cross-ruff.

♥♠CARD Sense♦♣

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1♥	Pass	1♠	Pass
2♣	Pass	3♦	Pass

You, South, hold:
♠4 ♥AKJ5 ♦Q103 ♣KJ765
What do you do?

A—Bid either two or three no-trump. The correct bid would be 2½ no-trump, but you aren't allowed half trick bids.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two diamonds your partner has raised you to three clubs. What do you do now?

For Saturday

"The wise man controls his destiny. Astrology points the way."

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Overactivity could be distilutating. Key word is PACING. Take time to know where you want to go. Otherwise, there could be dead end at tail of the road. Tendency to daydream should be overcome.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Go full steam ahead. There is every indication that you can make views known and receive FAVORABLE reaction. All in your favor. Those who attempt to "shaft" you learn their lesson!

Motors Are Mixed

Gains Seen in Selected Issues

NEW YORK (AP)—Selected issues produced some pretty good gains in an otherwise mixed stock market early this afternoon. The average was up slightly. Trading was moderate.

★ ★ ★

Gains and losses of most key stocks were fractional. Advances of a point or 2 were scored by miscellaneous stocks.

★ ★ ★

Nonferrous metals were up on balance, helped somewhat by an earnings jump by American Smelting whose 1-point gain bolstered the average.

The usual preweekend caution was heightened by further doubts expressed regarding the possibility of a tax cut. A rebound in department store sales added to recent news of a big drop in unemployment served to remove some of the arguments favoring income tax reduction.

★ ★ ★

Homestake added more than a point. Kennecott and Phelps Dodge were fractional gainers. International Nickel dropped a point.

Most of the leading steels dropped small fractions. Motors were mixed with Ford and American Motors fractionally lower while General Motors held steady and Chrysler rose a bit.

★ ★ ★

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange in quiet trading. Gains of about a point were made by Rowland Products, Michigan Chemical, Westbury Fashions, and Capital City Broadcasting. Thriftimart "A" fell more than a point. Other losers included Occidental Petroleum, Tampa Electric, Allied Paper, Filmways, and Hollinger. Small gains were made by BSF Co., Inland Homes, Shawinigan Water & Power, Pacific Petroleum, and Majestic Specialties.

Corporate Bonds Mixed

NEW YORK (AP)—Corporate bonds were mixed and government issues slightly lower in moderate opening trading today.

An over the counter dealer in government securities quoted distant maturities off 2/32 and intermediates slightly lower in spots.

The new 4¼ per cent bonds, due 1987—1992, were off 4/32, based on quotations of the same dealer, in when-issued trading.

Most corporate price changes on the New York Stock Exchange were less than a point. Pacific Gas & Electri 4½s at 100 and Great Northern Railways 4½s at 100, however, dropped a full point.

Denies Seaway Is Dangerous

President of Authority Takes Issue With British Ship Owner

OTTAWA (UPI) — The president of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority disagrees with the contention of a British ship owner that the seaway is dangerous for shipping.

★ ★ ★

Authority President R. J. Rankin said the accident ratio of 3 inland vessels per 1,000 and 11 ocean vessels per 1,000 in 1961 "would not bear out the existence of the dangerous conditions" suggested by Peter Dalgleish, president of Dalgleish Shipping Lines of England.

Dalgleish said recently in Winnipeg that the large number of locks in the seaway made passage very difficult for ships.

Rankin conceded a hazard for some salt-water ships in the seaway because their flaring bows and high superstructures tend to catch the wind, particularly when ships are sailing empty and riding high on the water.

★ ★ ★

In contrast, he said, lake vessels are sleek and low, with the bridge up forward so that the skipper has a clear view of a lock the ship is approaching.

★ ★ ★

Rankin said, however, that the accident ratio has dropped from 34 per 1,000 in 1959 to 11 per 1,000 in 1961 — and shows signs of maintaining a lower record this year.

Prices Change Little in Grain Dealings

CHICAGO (UPI)—Prices generally were little changed in early grain futures dealings today although there were some scattered spots of both firmness and weakness.

★ ★ ★

Wheat and rye posted some gains barely reaching a major fractional range while August soybeans continued under strong pressure and lost about two cents within the first several minutes of transactions.

The feed grains held within small fractions of previous closes in a light and mixed trade.

★ ★ ★

Brokers said there was a little commercial demand for wheat, probably toward replacing flour mill stock. The pressure in soybeans was understood to be further liquidation, related to reports of further government selling of surplus stocks.

Unions Growing Uneasy, May Ask Shorter Week

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said today a major source of potential labor unrest is that unions will step up their drive for a shorter work week if unemployment continues high.

Goldberg expressed concern that labor unions seem to be getting more insistent in efforts to shorten work hours in order to share employment opportunity in the face of automation and a growing work force.

The labor secretary confirmed views expressed in an interview published today in the New York Times.

Goldberg said the fact that unemployment is continuing at a high level is a matter of continuing concern to President Kennedy's administration.

The President told his news conference Wednesday that while there has been considerable economic improvement he is not satisfied with the degree of improvement.

Goldberg's fears of a renewed drive for a cut in the present 40-hour week seemed to anticipate a new policy declaration by organized labor to that end.

A NEW DRIVE?

AFL-CIO President George Meany has said the federation's executive council, at its next meeting in Chicago beginning Aug. 13, will consider launching a new drive by the AFL-CIO's 140 unions to cut working hours.

Kennedy and his administration, including Goldberg, have been strongly opposed to a general cutting of the 40-hour work week either through legislation or via collective bargaining.

Kennedy has said this not only would increase business costs but also would cut into the capacity needed for full national production.

Unions make no claim that a work week of less than 40 hours is needed from the standpoint of giving workers more leisure. They do not consider the 40-hour week onerous.

But many union leaders contend that if employers and the government cannot provide enough jobs for Americans wanting to work, then the answer must be to share the available work opportunities.

SMALL CHANCE

Unions concede they have little chance to get Congress, as presently constituted, to reduce the 40-hour week standard now fixed in the Fair Labor Standards Act before premium overtime rates apply. That leaves the negotiation of contracts with employers as the more promising route.

If the unions become willing to take strike action to back up shorter hour demands it will mean more trouble on the industrial relations front, plus more wage cost pressure on employers.

Hence, the administration is pushing its various remedies in Congress aimed at reducing the present unemployment level. This was approximately 4 million in July, or 5.3 per cent of the work force on a seasonally adjusted basis.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I bought Dow Chemical at 81 and got some more at 64. This stock, along with G. D. Searle, was bought for the future of five small children. I am not worried because the price is down, but I don't know much about the quality of the stocks. If they are high grade, would you advise me to average down the price of my holdings by buying more at present depressed prices?" C. M.

A. I congratulate you warmly, not for the stocks you own — which are of excellent quality — but because of your five small children, which are your most important possession.

I do not advise you to buy more Dow Chemical or G. D. Searle at present. The former has shown no real earnings growth since 1955; and the latter — while growing splendidly — sells at 34 times this year's estimated earnings, which seems high enough.

Instead, I suggest you add a good growth utility, such as Northern Indiana Public Service.

Q. "Will you please tell me the lowest and highest selling price of Warner & Swasey common Tuesday, May 29, 1962?" W. W.

A. I would do so gladly, but it is an impossibility.

Warner & Swasey is unlisted, not publicly recorded. Such trades are a matter of private negotiation between you and your broker.

The National Assocaitiaon of Security Dealers publishes bid and asked quotations on a great many unlisted issues, but these do not represent actual transactions. They are a guide to the range within which these stocks could have been bought or sold at the time the list was compiled.

On the May 29, 1962 list, which was made up before the market closed, Warner & Swasey's indicated range was 33 bid— 36¾ asked. Since the stock was then moving up, it is entirely possible that trades made that day after the list was compiled took place at somewhat higher prices.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally, but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Trailer Trucks Strike Underpass at Orchard Lake

Two trailer trucks struck the Grand Trunk Railroad underpass on Orchard Lake Avenue near Cass Avenue yesterday within six hours of each other.

★ ★ ★

Both trucks were going east on Orchard Lake and hit the same part of the overpass. Both drivers said they did not see the low-clearance sign on the overpass, Pontiac Police reported.

The impact took the top off a truck driven by Samuel Vesich, 30, of Detroit who approached the overpass at 25 miles-an-hour at 1 p.m. The truck belongs to the Ida Products Co. of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The second truck came along at 6:53 and sustained damage to its front, roof, and fifth wheel. It was driven at 20 miles an hour by Howard W. Lego, 36, of Akron, Ohio, and belongs to the Cardinal Leasing Inc., of Cleveland, Ohio, police said.

Only three weeks ago, another truck peeled off its top on the railroad overpass.

All three trucks were higher than the 10-foot-6-inch clearance.

Stealth, Stupidity or Frailty?

Senator Demands Answer on Billie Sol

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., demanded today that the agriculture department explain whether "stealth, stupidity or human frailty" held up a report to the FBI on alleged law violations by Billie Sol Estes.

★ ★ ★

Mundt spoke out as the Senate investigations subcommittee heard testimony that the department waited until last May 31 to write up minutes of a meeting held more than six months earlier to discuss Estes' allegedly illegal manipulations in cotton acreage planting allotments.

The subcommittee is exploring whether political influence helped Estes build a multimillion dollar business empire based on farm aid deals. The Pecos, Tex., financier recently was adjudged bankrupt, and awaits trial on fraud and theft charges.

Mundt, the subcommittee's senior Republican, contended yesterday that Estes "secretly had a man Friday doing his bidding in the department."

★ ★ ★

He said that was shown by a memo recommending permanent validation of Estes' cotton allotments, the legality of which had been questioned. The subcommittee has asked the FBI to trace the origin of the memo.

NEVER SIGNED

Joseph A. Moss, head of the Agriculture Department's cotton division, said the memo was prepared but never signed or made effective.

William H. Duggan, an investigator for the Agriculture Department's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Service, testified today that high officials of the agency discussed on Nov. 14, 1961, a report of his investigation of Estes' deals.

★ ★ ★

He said he recalled no mention by anybody at the meeting of referring the case to the Justice Department for FBI investigation and possible prosecution.

FROM SKETCHY NOTES

Horace D. Godfrey, ASC administrator, testified that it was not until last May 31 that the department, under his supervision, got around to writing up a statement from some sketchy notes and the memories of those concerned, as minutes of the Nov. 14 meeting.

Mundt noted, however, that the Justice Department had received on April 12 its first report from the Agriculture Department recommending an investigation of the Estes deals.

★ ★ ★

"I just don't believe the Justice Department should be short circuited when evidence comes up that the law has been violated," Mundt said.

JFK Will Start Power Project in South Dakota

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House announced today that President Kennedy will participate in ceremonies opening a power project in South Dakota and an irrigation system in California on the weekend of Aug. 17-19.

Kennedy will be present for the ground breaking on the San Luis project near Los Banos, Calif., on Aug. 18.

On the way to California by plane the President will stop at Pierre, S.D., and turn a switch starting off the circulation of power from the Oahe Dam on Aug. 17.

★ ★ ★

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said the President is likely to stop at other places, either going or coming. He said these would be announced as the engagements are made firm.

Busy Globe Still Turning--Both Around and Over

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — It's hardly a quiet world even though there's no war at the moment except in South Viet Nam.

People around the earth have been fighting, rioting, marching, protesting, picketing, demonstrating and even filibustering for something or against something.

★ ★ ★

Russia itself complained it got some of the protest treatment from Americans visiting the Soviet Union. And demonstrators who lie down are as much of a handful for police as demonstrators who stand up and march.

★ ★ ★

Some of the ideas at stake in these struggles will melt away; some, like the desire for peace and fair treatment, never will. Not all the ideas for which these people protest will prevail.

TO STIR CONSCIENCE

Some will. And in some cases the desired impact on the public and governmental mind will be made. Some of the demonstrators fight what they look on as a hateful thought. Some want to stir the conscience of mankind.

★ ★ ★

Some are concerned only with what's in it for them.

Moscow Radio reported 11 Americans at a youth camp in the Crimea were reprimanded for passing out anti-Soviet pamphlets.

In Finland there were four nights of riots against the Communist-sponsored World Youth Festival in Helsinki. Mounted police, perhaps sympathetic with those they were trying to disperse, used clubs.

YOUNG FARMERS

In France young farmers, behind a slogan of farm land for farmers, blocked roads and attacked property of nonfarmer investors moving in to buy land.

There were three brawling nights in London's East End where rioters broke up meetings of Sir Oswald Moseley, the prewar fascist leader. He was knocked down and got his face marked up.

In a Birmingham suburb of England there were more race riots.

STRIKE IN ARGENTINA

And in Argentina there were riots in a 48-hour antigovernment strike called by the labor federation which is dominated by followers of the exiled dictator, Juan Peron.

Earlier this year Japanese students demonstrated against the American decision to resume nuclear tests. And in London 25,000 ban-the-bomb marchers protested against it.

Their leader was 90-year-old British philosopher Sir Bertrand Russell, still spry and as full of indignation as when he opposed World War I.

Over the weekend 50 pickets marched outside the White House to protest the arrest in Albany, Ga., of The Rev. Martin Luther King, leader there of a peaceful Negro protest against segregation.

ARRESTED IN PROTEST

In that Georgia city hundreds of Negroes have been arrested in their demonstrations to get city officials to listen to their plea for integration of public facilities.

Their prolonged efforts didn't go unnoticed. The attention of the nation was fastened on them.

And this week President Kennedy said he thought it "inexplicable" that the city commissioners refused to sit down with the citizens of Albany.

★ ★ ★

And even in the U.S. Senate a group of liberals put on their own demonstration—called a filibuster —to stop passage of a bill they didn't like.

★ ★ ★

Their complaint: That the measure would hand over control of the newly developed space communications system to private monopoly. They won their point, if only temporarily. Action on the bill was delayed a while.

Dean Carrying Data to Geneva

Has New Information on N-Testing to Bolster Disarmament Talks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nuclear negotiator Arthur H. Dean leaves for Geneva today armed with new arguments for presentation to the 17-nation disarmament conference.

The arguments, Dean said, will be based on new U.S. data on nuclear test detection and President Kennedy's test ban statement.

Dean came here yesterday from Washington after closed-door briefings with the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee and the Senate Disarmament subcommittee.

Present at the atomic committee session were officials of the newly-developed "Vela" system for detecting nuclear blasts.

Kennedy told his news conference this week that "important new technical assessments" promised a "simpler and more economical" means of detecting underground explosions.

The President said this offered possibly easier terms for Russia in talks on policing a test ban. But he added that Russia must accept in principle on-site inspections on Soviet soil.

Dean said yesterday the President's statement "will enable us to sound out with the Soviets to see if they are interested in effective internationas control" of nuclear testing and "in the general principle of on-site inspection."

He is expected to spell out the new proposals to the nuclear test ban subcommittee of the general conference probably early next week.

Dean and William C. Foster, director of the disarmament agency, told reporters that the free world Allies had been briefed "in part" on the new U.S. test detection findings and would be informed fully before the test ban talks resume.

'To Meet Competition'

Waterford Hikes Teacher Pay

In a move to bring teacher salaries to a competitive level with other county school districts, the Waterford Township Board of Education last night approved a pay hike package that will cost the district an additional $179,887 during 1962-62.

The teacher wage hike will be financed from the $319,000 in state aid granted the district over and above the amount expected. No tax boost is involved.

The action came at a special meeting of the board and was approved unanimously.

Also approved was a hike in pay and fringe benefits to non-teaching personnel amounting to $20,080.

Eldon C. Rosegart, chairman of the personnel committee, said the group felt the pay boost was needed to acquire and keep good teachers in the system.

Beginning teachers with four years of training will now receive $4,750 compared to $4,500 during 1961-62 and those with five years training will be granted $4,950, also a $250 increase over the previous rate.

"We feel the new schedule puts us near the county average," Rosegart commented. "We had been near the bottom in starting salaries."

The Pontiac School District last May raised starting rates from $4,710 to $4,830 for those teachers with four years training and from $4,920 to $5,040 for five year personnel.

The maximum teacher rate approved last night amounted to $7,243 for four year trainer personnel with 11 years experience and $7,536 for those with five years training and 11 years of teaching. This compares with the former rate of $6,851 and $7,156 respectively.

In addition to the added cost during the coming school year, the new rate schedule will amount to an increased instructional expenditure of $93,000 during the 1963-64 school year due to the added increments.

Approximately 78.8 per cent of the Waterford Township schools' budget is earmarked for instructional expenses now compared to a county average of 75.6, according to acting superintendent James DenHerder.

The school system will function with a teaching staff of 546, the same as last year, despite an expected enrollment increase of 549 pupils.

★ ★ ★

In other business last night the board voted to borrow $500,000 against 1962-63 State Aid to meet obligations. A year ago the district borrowed $850,000 at this time.

The board also approved 11 new teaching contracts.

Three More Indicted in Estes Case Probe

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)— Three men were indicted by the Potter County grand jury yesterday on charges growing out of the Billie Sol Estes case.

Names of the defendants will be withheld until they are arrested.

Two of those indicted were charged with two counts each of conspiring to fix prices of anhydrous ammonia, a liquid fertilizer. Estes, bankrupt Texas financier, dealt extensively with the fertilizer prior to his arrest on federal fraud charges last march.

There are two felony theft counts in the indictment naming the third man.

Find Drayton Man Dead in Parked Car

Leslie Weatherholt, 36, 5515 Dons Dr., Drayton Plains, was found dead yesterday by police in his parked car near Huntoon Lake, Waterford Township. The death was called a suicide.

A rifle and a scrambled note were found in the car of the Pontiac Motor Company employe.

Zorin Demands West Modify Arms Stand

GENEVA (AP)—Valerian Zorin demanded today modification of the Western position for a gradual reduction, rather than immediate destruction, of nuclear weapons delivery systems in world disarmament.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet deputy foreign minister told the 17-nation disarmament conference "there simply will be no progress" on this aspect of the negotiations while the United States, Britain and Canada stand put.

Zorin insisted on adoption of the Kremlin's proposal that all means for the delivery of nuclear weapons be destroyed in the first phase of disarmament.

Under the American plan, he said, 70 per cent of the rockets, submarines and planes capable of carrying atomic warheads would still be left at the end of the first stage "and could become an instrument of aggressive military circles."

Zorin accused U.S. Ambassador Charles O. Stelle of seeking to "confuse the issue before the conference."

In a previous meeting Stelle had pointed to the difficulty of clearly defining all possible means of delivering atomic explosives.

Arthur H. Dean, the United States' chief negotiator, was scheduled to return to Geneva Saturday from Washington consultations with President Kennedy and State Department officials.

Believe Sukarno Got His Wishes on New Guinea

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno emerged smiling after hearing a report from Foreign Minister Subandrio today on a proposed compromise settlement of Indonesia's dispute with the Netherlands over West New Guinea.

But Sukarno declined comment to newsmen.

★ ★ ★

Indications were Indonesia would accept.

The settlement, reached in negotiations in the United States, would transfer the disputed territory from the Dutch to United Nations control next May 1. Indonesia would take over administration later and grant the Papuan inhabitants a self-determination plebiscite by 1969.

Father of Four Held in Wife's Slaying

MONROE (AP) — Michael S. Geddis, 32-year-old father of four children, was returned to Toledo, Ohio, yesterday to face murder charges in the fatal strangling of his wife Marcia, 28, Wednesday.

Police said Geddis admitted strangling his wife in what apparently was a quarrel about a reconciliation.

Officers said Mrs. Geddis took the four children from the couple's Florida home and went to her mother's home in Toledo about five weeks ago. Geddis followed her Monday, police said.

★ ★ ★

Police said after the murder, Geddis slit his throat and wrists and then drove his car into the side of a freight train at a crossing three miles north of the Ohio border. He was treated at Monroe General Hospital.

Pilot Checks Gear of X15 at 147,000 Feet

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif (AP) — X15 pilot Joseph A. Walker zipped to an altitude of 147,000 feet to test electronic gear aimed at stabilizing the supersonic rocket plane.

He deliberately simulated an uncontrolled swing of the nose — called yaw — to determine if the plane's electronic brain would stop the movement at one degree. At high speeds, yawing could throw the X15 into a dangerous sideslip.

After the brief flight yesterday, Walker said he would have to study flight data to learn how close the plane — the newest model of the X15 — came to its goal.

★ ★ ★

"I'm going to have to get a little better acquainted with this plane before I can say positively that we can take it to new altitudes," he said. The new model is expected to reach 400,00 feet later this year.

★ ★ ★

Walker added that the craft responds faster than two earlier models and "requires more attention."

Walker's plane, dropped from a B52 bomber over Mud Lake, Nev., landed nine minutes later at Edwards. He hit a speed of 3,443 miles an hour.

Goldfine Granted Living Expenses by Court Order

BOSTON (AP)—Bernard Goldfine, 71, a millionaire former industrialist, has been granted $200 a week for living expenses by court order.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Dist. Judge George C. Sweeney granted a petition Thursday in which Goldfine asked that court-appointed receivers of his textile mill and real estate properties pay him that sum weekly.

Goldfine, whose fondness for lavish gifts to powerful friends made him the center of a congressional investigation a few years back, told the court all his assets are tied up by the federal government, which seeks to collect $9 million in back taxes.

He testified all the funds in his possession were the $33 he said he had in his pocket. He said he has applied for Social Security benefits of $123 a month.

The forest industries in the United States employ 1,375,000 full-time workers with an annual payroll of more than $5 billion.

Durant's Former Co-Worker

Romney Gains New Ally

GROSSE POINTE (UPI) — Republican gubernatorial candidate George Romney today gained an influential ally in his battle to oust Richard Durant as 14th District GOP boss.

Coming to Romney's aide in the knock-down struggle with John Birch Society leader Durant was Robert Waldron, Durant's former ally.

Waldron, a four-term veteran of the Michigan House, missed winning a congressional seat in a special election early this year by fewer than 300 votes.

Although Waldron considers himself a conservative like Durant, the two men broke on the Birch issue. Now Waldron wants to take on Durant for control of the district organization.

★ ★ ★

Waldron sent out letters this week to fellow precinct delegate candidates. He pledged that if elected, he would bring about the changes in leadership that Romney has said he wants and needs.

★ ★ ★

Romney and Durant clashed face to face last Saturday. At that time, Romney asked district leaders to oust Durant and said re-election of Durant would be a repudiation of Romney's leadership.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY dear wife and mother, Gladys Mills, who passed away 2 years ago today, August 2, 1962.
Days when we are lonely,
Nights when we are blue,
We say a prayer in silence,
While God watches over you.
For you are in his keeping,
There's no more we can do.
But we'll always remember
The good times that we knew.

MOMENTS AFTER COLLISION — Stuntman Lyle Cameron begins his fall to earth over Ventura, Calif., on Tuesday after his attempted midair transfer from one light plane to another during the filming of a TV show called "Rip-cord" halted abruptly when the planes collided at 5,000 feet. Arrows point to damage on the wings of the two light planes used in the stunt. Cameron and the pilots parachuted to earth safely.

JFK Albany Comment Called Political Move

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—U.S. Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia branded today as a political move President John F. Kennedy's comments about this city's racial problems.

Russell said the President's "stamp of approval upon the constant violation of the city laws is certain to encourage the importation of many other professionals and notoriety seekers and worsen an already bad situation."

* * *

The Democratic senator wired his criticism to Albany Herald editor James H. Gray, who also is state Democratic Party chairman.

The President said at his news conference that it was "wholly inexplicable" to him why Albany officials wouldn't sit down with Negro leaders to iron out problems.

ONLY ONE OF SEVERAL

Russell's telegram criticizing the President was only one of several coming into or going out of Albany in reference to the racial situation.

New York's Sen. Jacob Javits, a Republican, sent a wire to a Negro leader promising to come to Albany "without a moment's hesitation" if needed. Javits commended Kennedy for his comments in support of the integration effort.

* * *

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta, in jail as a result of his Albany integration activities, and Dr. W. G. Anderson, president of the Albany Movement, both sent telegrams to the President thanking him for his comments and urging him to continue his support.

* * *

In his message, Russell said it was "regrettable that the President permitted himself to be drawn into passing judgment on the situation in Albany."

'AFTER HELPING TED'

"I trust that after the President gets all possible political advantage for his brother in the Massachusetts election, he will assume the traditional position more befitting the chief magistrate of these United States," Russell said.

The President's youngest brother, Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator in Massachusetts.

* * *

City officials have refused to negotiate with Negro leaders until King and other out-of-town integrationists leave Albany.

As the telegrams flew, a federal court hearing continued Thursday on the city's request for an injunction against mass demonstrations.

Anderson testified he believed decisions on obeying or disobeying what he called unjust laws are a matter of conscience. He said under questioning that he felt no compulsion to obey unjust laws.

N. Y. N-Reactor Starts to Operate

BUCHANAN, N.Y. (AP) — A nuclear reactor was put into operation Thursday night by Consolidated Edison Co., promising fission-generated electricity for millions of New Yorkers in about three weeks.

The company has been working on the Westchester County plant for 10 years and has spent $120 million in developing it.

* * *

The station can generate 163,000 kilowatts of electricity. Oil-fired superheaters will boost this capacity to 275,000 kilowatts—enough for the needs of one million New York City homes.

The plant is said to be the only atomic power station in the world to use the element thorium as a source of fuel to split uranium atoms.

Join German Families

BERLIN (AP) — The German Red Cross reported Thursday that in cooperation with the East German Red Cross it brought 158 people through the Berlin wall in July to join their families and friends in the West. Most were elderly and unable to work. The June total was 99 and the grand total since the wall went up nearly a year ago was 401.

Reopen Congress Hall After 2 Years of Work

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Congress Hall, where the U.S. House and Senate met from 1790 to 1800, has been reopened following two years of restoration work.

* * *

The red brick building, reopened at ceremonies Thursday, has quill pens at each of the 105 congressmen's desks, heavy green draperies and 50 wooden "spitting boxes."

Film Producer Levine Admits Insulting Guest

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"Quiet Joe" Levine, the wild bull of the movie producers, who gave three parties in three cities in three nights for Sophia Loren, at a cost of $50,000, will now tell you, "I'm no Perle Mesta."

Because at the Hollywood party, "a certain incident" occured.

"I was very disappointed in -----" (Joe mentioned a big TV name) "whom I invited."

"What did he do?" I asked.

"He showed up," Joe grinned chubbily.

WILSON

"This creep," Joe continued, "sat down beside Sophia and said, 'I hate American women.' I said, 'Look here, I married an American woman.' He was my guest but I'm afraid I insulted him."

"What makes you thing so?" I said.

"I grabbed him by the throat," replied Joe.

Candid, that's Joe. Brushing off his success with "Boccaccio '70," "Boys' Night Out" and other seductive masterpieces, he says, "We had some flops, too, you know.

"Yeah, we flopped with 'Jack the Ripper,' 'Aladdin,' and some others. You can't impose your will on people. They don't want something, they won't buy it."

A plump Barnum from Boston, a Mike Todd with money, Joe's a former drive-in movie operator and saloonkeeper who zips around the world arranging pictures with Anita Ekberg, Romy Schneider, Claudia Cardinale —also occasionally some men.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Dan Dailey infuriated Zsa Zsa before going on the "Tonight" show. He remarked, right in front of her beau, Bob Stralle, "Remember, dear, when we used to go together? . . . WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Anybody who says Jayne Mansfield had a nose for news, probably funked anatomy" — Red Kane.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Now that 'I Can Get It For You Wholesale' is on discount prices, guys are saying to gals, 'I Can Take You To It Wholesale" (The Sardi's Set).

EARL'S PEARLS: "One cave man to another: 'Say what you will, we never had this crazy weather till they started using those bows and arrows' "—Trish Digest.

Big celebrated the other day at a Madison Ave. office. The staff learned that the Boss, on vacation, missed his boat back from Europe . . . That's earl, brother.

Senator Blasts Policy in Congo

Dodd of Connecticut Calls for Change or Sees 'Disaster'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., said today the United States "courts disaster" unless it alters its policy in the Congo.

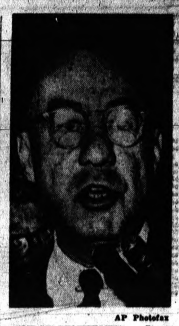

In a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate, Dodd said the United States had attempted to use the United Nationas a substitute for a foreign policy of her own in the Congo.

He said he believes in the need for a U.N. operation in the Congo, but added that "the use of force and threats of force against Katanga has made the prospect of unity more remote."

"We must choose between two alternatives: force and conciliation," he continued. "If we choose force then let us have no illusions about the dangers or the cost. At the worst, the use of force to crush Katanga may very well destroy the Congo. At the best, it will require maintaining a U.N. army of occupation in Katanga for many years to come.

* * *

"If we are not prepared to maintain a U.N. army of occupation in Katanga for the next decade or more, then we must turn toward conciliation as the only realistic alternative. There is no third alternative."

DEAF MAN PERFECTS SMALLEST HEARING AID
A remarkable midget Hearing Aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years.
This small aid has no dangling cords or separate transmission units and represents a most unusual idea and design in a product for the hard of hearing.
It is especially made for those people who can hear but not understand. This new Hearing Instrument provides "Ear Level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech sounds, television and radio at his ear rather than of a transmitter located in the wearer's clothing.
Due to the use of new type transistors, the cost is extremely low and the instrument weighs approximately ½ ounce. It is about the size of a sewing thimble.

Judy Garland Plans Rest After Foreign Film

LONDON (AP) — Looking thinner than she has in years, Judy Garland finished work today on her first foreign-made movie.

"I'm going to head for a much needed rest," she said, "and I'm not sure where it's going to be."

Judy, who turned 40 last June, said that in the future she would like to divide her time between three cities.

"I want to settle in New York for the winter," she explained. "Then the children can go to school there."

She referred to Lorna, 9, Joey, 7, and Lisa, 16.

* * *

"I'd like to spend my summers in San Francisco and London," she added.

* * *

Filming here since spring, Miss Garland has had her children with her. In dispute over their custody with her estranged husband, Sydney Luft, two of the children were made wards of the British court.

Gold was first discovered near Johannesburg, South Africa, in 1886. A year later, 3,000 prospectors had moved to the area.

Court Petition Fails to Erase 'State Senator'

3-Judge Panel Denies Kuhn's Request to Delete Designation

A petition to delete the "state senator" designation from Sen. Farrell E. Roberts', R - Pontiac, name on the primary election ballot was denied yesterday by a three - judge federal court panel in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

One of Roberts' rivals in the primary, Richard D. Kuhn contended that state law giving incumbent senators the right to use the designation on ballots is unconstitutional. Kuhn said the law was discriminatory.

In denying the petition, the court panel said Kuhn acted too late for them to give the matter adequate consideration.

A decision to the contrary also would have required unsealing 729 voting machines throughout the county to make the deletions.

"The ballots already had been placed in the machine for Tuesday's election," County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr. stated.

★ ★ ★

The court panel was composed of Judges Theodore Levin and Wade McCree Jr. of Detroit and Clifford O'Sullivan of the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Arizona Worker Finally Subdued After 12½ Hours

Two Officials Pose as Reporters and Get Into State Office

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — An embittered pipefitter, incensed by discontinuance of his disability checks, held eight men at gunpoint for 12½ hours in a state office before detectives disarmed him last night.

Charles Elmer Milligan, 52, of Tempe, was subdued by Sgt. Earl Moore and detective Don Rodriquez, who gained entry to the barricaded office by posing as newsmen.

Moments earlier, Milligan had voluntarily released five of his prisoners.

The drama began about 8 a.m. in a four-story state capitol annex housing offices of the Arizona Industrial Commission.

There for a hearing on his disability claim, Milligan whipped out a .22 caliber pistol and wounded his own attorney in a scuffle before taking command of the room.

He released his lawyer, Stephen S. Gorey, 46, who scooted out of the room on the seat of his pants and was hospitalized with a flesh wound in his left leg.

LAWYER IN HOSPITAL

Later, Gorey, from a hospital bed, conferred with Milligan by telephone and tried to talk him out of his gun-waving lecture to commission officials.

The gunpoint hearing was interrupted in its early stages by Milligan's son, Charles, 28, who was promptly thrown out by his angered father.

By telephone, Milligan told Det. Sgt. Seymour Nealist: "I damn near killed them all. He had to get past you to get in. You get him the hell out of this building."

Milligan suffered a back injury 18 months ago while working on the Glen Canyon Dam project on the Colorado River in northern Arizona. He drew disability compensation for a while, Gorey said, but the checks stopped in mid-March.

John B. Ryan, 63, a court reporter employed for the hearing and one of the hostages, said: "He just wanted to tell his story.

Add 2 Boys, Some Parts — New Bikes

Folks in the Tyrone Street-Pontiac Lake Road area of Waterford Township stop and take a second look when two 13-year-old buddies go pedaling down the street on machines resembling bicycles.

★ ★ ★

Bored with the same old summer activities, Ronnie Bowen of 785 Tyrone St., and his friend Bud White of 2743 Mott St., got together one afternoon and started puttering around in an old garage.

There were all sorts of treasures. Cans of greasy nuts and bolts, old oil lanterns, time-worn tools and small drawers full of all sorts of "goodies."

Then they came upon a pile of used bicycle parts — sprockets, forks, chains, pedals, handlebars and seats.

Years ago, Bud's older brother, Larry White of 2799 Mott St., had a little bicycle repair business in the garage and this was what was left.

★ ★ ★

Both boys had fairly good second-hand four-year-old bikes, but there was nothing very unusual about them. Ronnie had trouble riding his bike through the high-grassed field to get to his friend's house.

The youth reasoned that if he raised the front wheel, the entire frame would be higher, thus his chain and pedals would not become clogged with the dry bothersome weeds. And, he'd have something different.

So the two went to work. They each sawed the front fork off his bike frames, and added an improved extension.

★ ★ ★

Slabs of one-inch-thick wood were hammer-tapped between each fork for added strength.

The only job left was to paint. Bud chose white, to go with his name, and Ronnie decided on red.

★ ★ ★

The result? Both boys claim that "once you get on it," the high-seated bicycles are more comfortable to ride and are "tricky-fun" to control. Now the two pedal over a high-grassed field as smoothly as if they were riding on a close-cropped golf course.

Hint Abortion Planned in Sweden for Actress

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sherri Finkbine slipped into seclusion today amid hints that she was headed for Sweden and her planned abortion.

In Los Angeles, Scandinavian Airlines reported that the Phoenix television personality and her school teacher - husband, Robert, had reservations for a flight to Stockholm with a stop at Copenhagen, Denmark.

The Finkbines could not be found for comment but their lawyer confirmed they had decided on the where and when to abort her pregnancy of nearly three months.

The Finkbines say Sherri could give birth to a malformed child, the result of a drug she says she took to placate nausea during the early stages of her pregnancy. The drug, thalidomide, since has been blamed for deformities in thousands of babies born in Europe, Australia and Canada.

DECISION MADE

Attorney Howard Leibow, admitted the decision had been made, but would reveal no more.

The only indication of their plan was the reservation out of Los Angeles today. There had been another reservation — also for Stockholm with departure from New York — but that was canceled.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Finkbine, 30, star of "Romper Room," a children's television program and mother of four healthy youngsters, originally had sought to have the abortion here.

Arizona law permits abortion only when the expectant mother's life is in peril. A Superior Court judge refused to give her any guarantee against prosecution.

A Swedish official has indicated that government permission for an abortion for women who have taken thalidomide would be easily obtained.

Mrs. Finkbine wants the abortion as soon as possible because her doctor says a caesarean section might be necessary if she carries the child beyond Sunday, end of her third month.

Vatican Speaks Out Against Abortion

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican radio said today that fear of giving birth to a deformed child is no justification for abortion.

The broadcast did not mention American television actress Sherri Finkbine by name.

But it was clear the Roman Catholic station was referring to Mrs. Finkbine, who is seeking an abortion because she fears her unborn child will be deformed as a result of taking the drug thalidomide.

"Homicide is never an act of good will," the radio said. "Love always selects life, not death."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government announced today that all supplies of thalidomide it has been able to locate in doctors' hands in this country have been destroyed or impounded.

However, officials have not been able yet to locate 138 of the 1,213 U.S. doctors who are reported to have received the drug for investigational purposes. These doctors are either on vacation or have moved and efforts are being made to locate them.

The drug, a tranquilizer and sleeping pill which originated in Germany, is blamed for many deformations of babies both to women in West Germany and elsewhere who took the drug. It was never placed on the market in this country but doctors received it for experimentation.

'Penny-Candy Man' Laid to Rest

The Orchard Lake Avenue-Franklin Boulevard area was quiet today.

Its residents had lost a good friend.

For children, the "penny-candy man" was gone.

Today they buried Efthimlas Vasiliou, a humble, hard-working Greek immigrant found murdered Monday night in his grocery store at 309 Orchard Lake Ave.

Service was held at 2 p. m. at St. George Greek Orthodox Church.

"He was a very nice man," said Mrs. Sarah Tolliver of 299 Orchard Lake Ave., just two doors away from the store that Vasiliou had operated since 1948.

'ALWAYS FRIENDLY'

"He was always friendly and was genuinely interested in people," Mrs. Tolliver added. "Last winter when I was ill, he regularly inquired about how I felt."

★ ★ ★

Charles Theodore of 307 Orchard Lake Ave., the owner of the building rented by Vasiliou, said the victim was well liked by everyone in the neighborhood.

"He was a good natured man and a hard worker," Theodore commented. "He kept the store open every day from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m."

Mrs. Charles Dinkins of 12 Walnut St., just around the corner from the store, said her grandchildren were frequent customers of the store. They would run over to the store to turn in a pop bottle or buy penny candy whenever they had some money.

"The children were outside the store Tuesday morning, Mrs. Dinkins said, waiting for their friend to come."

TO BE MISSED

Other neighborhood residents, Mrs. John Seay of 28 Walnut and Mrs. Amos Clark and Rose Dinkins, both of 12 Walnut, all agreed that the store operator would be sorely missed in the community.

★ ★ ★

Several neighbors said that the 59-year-old store owner often extended credit to those who "were a little low" before payday.

Born in Istanbul, Turkey, Vasiliou later lived in Greece. He came to this country in his late teens and has lived in the Pontiac area for over 30 years.

Before opening the store on Orchard Lake Ave. 14 years ago, he operated a similar store on Oakland avenue.

★ ★ ★

"He was working most of the time," said his daughter, Mrs. Charles Nick, 607 Sunnybeach Dr., Commerce Township.

When he did find some leisure hours he enjoyed working in the garden.

"He planted several rose bushes at the new home we moved into recently," Mrs. Nick added.

U. of M. Hunts Homes for Its Animals

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Need a couple of black bears or some foxes, racoons or a deodorized skunk?

Or how about some turtles — eight different kinds?

The University of Michigan Museum has three months to find homes for these animals, or have them destroyed, said Dr. Irving G. Reimann, director.

The animal cage and reptile pit at the rear of the museum building must go to make way for a new $1 million building that will serve as a national center for research in animal biosystematics.

Fast-Working Pontiac Refuses to Stand Still

CHANGING SCENE — Pontiac's busiest intersection is the scene of major changes these days as shown by this aerial view. Both the old county courthouse and prosecutors office behind it are in the process of being torn down to make room for new growth in the downtown area. Future plans of the city call for rerouting of through traffic away from this presently busy intersection of Saginaw and Huron streets onto a fast perimeter highway. Someday the scene may change entirely with streets replaced by a large shopping mall. Some of the ample parking areas provided for today's downtown shoppers are visible in the upper left of the picture. The Riker Building, housing many of the professional offices serving the city and surrounding area, is seen at upper right. The aerial photo was snapped for The Press by Homer Tinney, of Waterford Township.

Britain, Israel Feud Over Spy

Jerusalem Turns Down London Demand to Fly Soblen to U. S.

From Our News Wires

LONDON — A developing diplomatic battle between Israel and Britain threatened today to delay the return of convicted Soviet spy Dr. Robert Soblen to the United States.

The British government formally notified El Al Israel Airlines to place Soblen, who lost his appeal for political asylum yesterday, aboard a U.S.-bound plane.

But an Israeli government spokesman in Jerusalem said the cabinet protested that the British government "has no right to tell El Al where it ought to fly and who it ought to fly."

A note to this effect was handed to the British ambassador in Jerusalem and to the foreign office here.

★ ★ ★

Tel Aviv sources said the Israeli cabinet was still maintaining its opposition to having the government-owned El Al Line return the runaway spy to the United States where he is under sentence of life imprisonment for wartime spying for Russia.

An Israeli transport ministry source said no orders had been sent to London to comply with the British Home Office ruling.

Informed government sources said earlier the British govern-

Expect K to OK E. Reich Peace Pact, Shun Berlin War

News Analysis

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

(AP) Diplomatic Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON — Soviet Premier Khrushchev probably will sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany later this year. But it is highly unlikely he will give the German Reds the power to plunge the world into war over Berlin.

American leaders are now generally agreed that a new Berlin crisis is in the making.

They are receiving a steady flow of Soviet-inspired rumors of trouble in European capitals. They get forewarnings, too, through such acts as increased Soviet aircraft operations in the Berlin air corridors and the Red threat to shoot down an American helicopter at Berlin earlier this week.

The signs of a new flareup of crisis are growing almost every day. Yet there is also evidence that Khrushchev has not made all of his final decisions as he continues his pressures to get the United States, Britain and France to abandon West Berlin.

Problems of Berlin strategy and diplomatic and legal issues related to the peace treaty itself are assumed here to be under discussion or planned for discussion between Khrushchev and East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht somewhere on the Black Sea. Ulbricht flew from Berlin to the Soviet Union Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The latest direct account of Khrushchev's views was reported to Washington by retiring U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson just before he left Moscow last week. He spent considerable time with the Soviet leader a week ago Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev is understood to have told Thompson that he would have to make up his mind about the long-threatened peace treaty without too much further delay. He also gave Thompson to understand that he wants to develop further his case for a change in the status of West Berlin. This could mean that he intends to open up the whole issue in the United Nations General Assembly in the fall, again claiming that the continued Western occupation of the city creates a threat of war which could be eliminated if the West would bow to his demands.

U.S. STAND

Several weeks ago Kennedy called in Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin to try to get across to Khrushchev through the envoy that the United States will not withdraw from West Berlin and will if necessary use force to defend the Communist-encircled city. No one here is really sure yet that Khrushchev believes this message.

Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk are known to believe, however, that if any doubt remains in Khrushchev's mind about Western intentions, it is a fairly small one.

The best informed officials here believe that in the end Khrushchev will choose to avoid war but that he will go through with the peace treaty threat.

Official Washington is all but convinced, however, that Khrushchev will see that the treaty contains some provision specifying reserve rights for the Soviet Union on the more critical Berlin problem. Otherwise Khrushchev would be in the position of giving Ulbricht a much freer hand in determining the fateful future of the Berlin problem than it seems to be in the Soviet Union's interest.

★ ★ ★

The power to force the issue on Berlin is the power to start World War III. And no one in the government here believes that Khrushchev wants to spread that kind of power beyond the confines of the Kremlin.

Of Paralytic Type

2nd Polio Case Reported

A three-year-old Pontiac child has become Oakland County's second victim of paralytic polio within a week, the County Health Department announced today.

As in the case of an Oak Park man struck by the disease last week, the child was not protected by Salk vaccine.

The two cases are the first in the county in 20 months. The last time the county recorded any polio victims was in 1960. Eight cases were listed that year.

Today, County Health Director Dr. John D. Monroe again urged residents, no matter what age, to contact their physicians about obtaining immunization shots.

The coincidence of the two cases within a week is not indicative of any major outbreak, he said.

Coast Guard Hearing on Montrose Closes

DETROIT (UPI) — The Coast Guard today ended its phase of the inquiry into the sinking of the British freighter Montrose by a barge in the Detroit River last Monday night.

★ ★

Lt. Cmdr. Robert Chirnside, Coast Guard officer conducting the hearing, said that before wrapping things up attorneys for both sides would have an opportunity to question the last witness, Capt. Warren Fuller, skipper of the tug which was pushing the barge.

Fuller recounted events leading up to the collision. He said that two minutes before the collision he began to take "corrective action."

Fuller said he ordered the tug's engines reversed and by the time the barge hit the Montrose the engines were "backing very strong." He said he also blew the required danger signals and turned on the tug searchlight to warn the Montrose.

★ ★ ★

But he said he got no answering response until the Montrose was less than 100 yards away and approaching the tug and barge on the starboard side.

He said the Montrose blew one answering blast to his warning signal and about 10 seconds later the barge and ship collided.

Fuller said he immediately called the Belle Isle Coast Guard station to make the first report of the collision. He said he told the Coast Guard that "I didn't know our own condition" but that "the other ship was listing and seemed to be in a bad way."

He said he didn't know the identity of the ship he had struck until a few seconds later when he heard the Montrose calling Belle Isle to report it had been "in collision with some kind of barge."

The Montrose then told the Coast Guard its condition didn't appear too serious, Fuller said.

ment hoped Soblen would be on the Israeli airline's next flight for New York scheduled to leave London at 8 p.m. (2 p.m. Pontiac time).

NO SWITCH MADE

An El Al spokesman in London said no arrangement had been made to switch Soblen's ticket to another airline and added he did not foresee any being made later in the day.

Two U.S. marshals were assigned to accompany Soblen on the flight to the United States.

Soblen, whose plea for political asylum was denied by the British government yesterday, waited in Brixton Prison while lawyers made urgent efforts to prevent his return to the United States.

Solomon Kaufman, Soblen's chief defense attorney here, said he had information the British government had become "very threatening" to El Al.

Triumphant Ben Bella Due in Algiers for Takeover

ALGIERS (AP) — Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, victor of a major battle in his bid to rule a sweepingly leftist Algeria, is due to enter Algiers in triumph today to take over leadership of the government.

★ ★ ★

A compromise between the rival political factions Thursday gave Ben Bella, 45, a possibly dominant role in shaping the future of this infant country.

★ ★ ★

Under the truce, the Ben Bella-led, seven-man political bureau will set the stage for general elections Aug. 27. Power then will be turned over to the National Council of the Algerian Revolution, the old revolutionary parliament.

Two opponents of Ben Bella, deputy premiers Belkacem Krim and Mohammed Boudiaf, said they agreed to this solution to keep Algeria from collapsing into total anarchy.

NOMINAL HEAD

Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda, moderate ex-pharmacist who led the exile regime in the last months of struggle for nationhood, remains as nominal head of the provisional government. The real power, however, will be in the hands of the political bureau.

The truce agreement dodged a basic issue—the future of the army and its general staff. The general staff, headed by Col. Houari Boumedienne, was accused of plotting dictatorship and fired by Ben Khedda on the eve of independence. It flouted the dismissal and rallied behind Ben Bella.

★ ★ ★

Officials said the problem of the 40,000-man army, equipped by Communist countries, will be faced after the elections. Some observers suspect Boumedienne has been using Ben Bella while he prepares a bid of his own to take over Algeria.

Ben Bella, son of a farmer of Moroccan origin, won French decorations for bravery in the Italian campaign in World War II. He became disgruntled in postwar Algeria and joined the underground. Captured by the French, he spent five years in prison, becoming a martyr of the revolution and a hero to rank and file Algerians.

Ben Bella has called for a drastic leftist revolution. He would break up the big French holdings but has told Europeans they would have a place in the new Moslem-ruled Algeria.

Boy Dead; Shot Self With Police Pistol

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — After apparently shooting himself accidentally with the pistol of a vacationing St. Louis, Mo., policeman, Richard D. Carroll, 13, of South Haven, died yesterday.

St. Louis Police Sergeant Vincent Syron was staying at Carroll Beach Resort, owned by the victim's father, John Carroll, but was away at the time of the shooting.

State police said Syron's son, James, 15, told them he had unloaded the gun and was showing it to the Carroll boy but then left the gun and cartridges on a table and left the room.

James told police he returned when he heard a shot and found the Carroll boy apparently had shot himself accidentally.

and he did it, even though he repeated himself several times. When he finished, he finished and that was it."

At that point, Milligan released all hostages except Donald J. Morgan, 47, the commission's chief attorney, and the two pseudo-newsmen.

What he planned to do with those three wasn't explained. Whatever it was, it didn't come to pass.

Sgt. Moore got four glasses of water and the men began to talk.

"Until then," said Moore, "Don and I had been no closer to him than 25 feet."

As Milligan turned his head to pick up a glass of water, Rodriquez leaped at him and grabbed the pistol. Moore joined his fellow officer to overpower the husky pipefitter.

There was one wild shot from Milligan's gun, but Moore said, "I don't think he felt like killing anybody."

★ ★ ★

Reactions of the prisoners varied.

C. Blaine Dunford, 59, employed in the commission's records department, emerged first. He was crying.

"I'm sorry," he said, "but I just can't help it."

★ ★

He described his fear as greater than what he experienced when he was employed in Honolulu the day the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor.

Next was Dr. Leo L. Tuyeson, 51, attending the hearing to testify against Milligan's disability claim.

"All in a day's work," said the physician.

Also held was Loren G. Shelley, 33, a commission attorney.

Said Shelley when he telephoned his wife: "I'll be heading home shortly."

TO PROBE SANITY

Milligan said nothing as he was led away. He was booked on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and investigation of sanity.

Only four commission officials and employes, plus Dr. Tuveson, were in the hearing room as Milligan opened the proceedings with himself as the only witness.

They were joined later by James M. Witt, 55, business agent for Milligan's union and an errand boy throughout the session. Witt came and went at Milligan's demand, bringing in such things as soft drinks and coffee.

Police quickly cleared other employes from halls and nearby offices on the third floor.

The Day in Birmingham

New Hills Post Office to Stamp Mail Monday

BIRMINGHAM — The new Bloomfield Hills Post Office will begin operations Monday, Postmaster Herbert J. Dyble announced today.

★ ★ ★

The new facility, located next to the Bloomfield Hills Municipal Building at 71 E. Long Lake Road, is more than three times larger than the present post office which has served the area for 10 years.

Dyble said equipment from the old building at 51 W. Long Lake Road will be moved over the weekend and the new post office will be ready for business at 8:30 a.m. Monday.

A new automatic electric scale for handling parcel post packages will be added to the new post office which will greatly increase efficiency of the service, he said.

★ ★ ★

"Patrons also will benefit from the large, blacktopped parking area," he added.

"In addition, air conditioning has been installed in the building for the benefit of both employes and customers."

Other features of the new building includes a 538-square-foot lobby and a long counter with open windows, replacing the older cage-type booths.

The front exterior of the building is faced with stone on one half while the other side is constructed with tinted glass windows, stretching from the ground to the roof.

The post office, which employes 21 persons, serves a 38 square mile area, Dyble said, and just recently mail routes were increased from four to eight.

★ ★ ★

General contractor for the building was Hugh Dorris of Royal Oak. The building was started in March.

New officers of the Bloomfield Republican were elected recently at a meeting of the organization.

They are Homer Case, president; Samuel Reeve, vice president; Thelma Eoff, secretary; and Delores Little, treasurer.

Colt Allee has been re-elected chairman of the Birmingham Recreation Board of Directors. William Burgum was named vice chairman of the seven-member board.

The board is composed of two representatives from the city and the board of education and three members at large.

Marcia M. Hughes was renamed recreation board clerk and Patricia I. Husemann, deputy clerk.

Report Tremors in S. America

'Strong to Moderate' Quakes in Argentina, Bolivia, Chile

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Observatories reported strong to moderate earth tremors today near the borders of Argentina, Chile and Bolivia.

The Chilean mining center and Pacific port city of Antofagasta, 705 miles north of Santiago, was rocked by an earthquake (at 8:53 a.m. Pontiac time, but there were no reports of casualties or damage.

Seismographs at the national observatory in Buenos Aires and at La Plata university near the capital recorded the tremors over a period of from 30 to 50 minutes, starting at 5:59 a.m. (3:59 a.m. Pontiac time).

★ ★ ★

The La Plata Observatory placed the center of the shocks near Tarija, an important trading center in southern Bolivia.

★ ★ ★

A national observatory spokesman said the tremors had strength of proportions that "could cause heavy damage if the tremors were in populated areas."

Report Panel Seeks Union Conferences

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Globe and Mail says a panel appointed by U.S Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg to investigate union conflict on the Great Lakes has recommended government-sponsored international conferences of all disputing factions in an effort to resolve differences.

★ ★ ★

The report was received by Goldberg Wednesday but its contents have not been made public officially.

★ ★ ★

The Globe and Mail said the three-man panel proposed that Goldberg and Canadian Labor Minister Michael Starr sponsor the conferences in the hope they might narrow some areas of misunderstanding and perhaps lead "to some approach far more desirable than resumption of the war of attrition."

Hight, Hirt and Smith

Three Dems Running for Sheriff

(Editor's Note — Following is the last in a series of articles published by The Pontiac Press to aid voters in the Aug. 7 primary. Only those offices in which there is a contest are being covered.)

A trio of Democrats is lined up for the race to oppose incumbent Republican sheriff Frank Irons in his bid for re-election.

Seeking the Democratic nomination in the Aug. 7 primary are Homer Hight, an Oxford auto dealer; William A. Smith, a Ferndale fuel company salesman, and Kenneth G. Hirt, public relations man for the Pontiac Businessmen's Service Bureau.

Hight, 55, of 97 Dennison St., Oxford, is taking his second shot at Irons' post. As the Democratic nominee in 1960, he lost to the sheriff by about 38,000 votes.

An Oxford councilman for three years, Hight serves on the board of directors for the chamber of commerce and is a member of several fraternal organizations.

He spent 17 years as an employe of Pontiac Motor Division, principally in plant protection work, and was a county sheriff's deputy in the early 1930s.

KENNETH G. HIRT

Hight and his wife Evelyn are the parents of one son.

HIRT IN RACE

Another former sheriff's deputy in the race, Hirt is making his first bid for public office. He has received endorsement from the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council.

★ ★ ★

The 34-year-old Ferndale man, who lives at 560 Meadowdale Ave., began his law enforcement career as an officer with the Troy Police Department. He served on the sheriff's staff as a deputy from 1954 to 1961.

★ ★ ★

A graduate of two police educational schools, Hirt was an officer of the former Oakland County Deputy Sheriff's Association and was an organizer of the White Lake Township Police Department.

★ ★ ★

He is the father of four children.

SMITH IN RUNNING

Smith, 35, also the father of four children, lives at 707 Venoy St., Madison Heights.

★ ★ ★

He is serving his second term on the Madison Heights Recreation Advisory Board and belongs to the community's Democratic Club.

Keeping Up With the Jonese Gets Very Involved

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Once upon a time a family named Smith bought a house in the suburbs next door to a family named Jones.

Naturally, since they moved in different circles and hadn't been properly introduced, they never spoke to one another.

Their houses to a passing eye would seem as alike as two bubbles in beer foam, but one day Mrs. Smith thought she detected a deeper green in her neighbor's grass.

BOYLE

That night she told her husband: "Our lawn is positively shabby. You'll have to do something about it. After all, we have to keep up with the Joneses."

That weekend Mr. Smith could be seen tossing grass seed from a five-pound bag. The following weekend Mr. Jones was observed heaving grass seed from a 10-pound bag.

SHINIER MOWER

Soon Mrs. Smith decided the family next door had a shinier power lawnmower.

"We can't hold our heads up in this neighborhood unless we keep up with the Joneses," she told her husband.

* * *

Mr. Smith bought her a two-seated lawnmower marked "His" and "Hers."

The following week the Joneses and their child were cutting their grass in a spanking new three-seated lawnmower marked "His," "Hers" and "Ours."

A friend of Jones gave him a used playground swing which he put in his back yard.

'WE NEED POOL'

Mrs. Smith noticed this at once and told her husband:

"Our child is underprivileged. We'll have to put a swimming pool in our back yard. We can't let the Joneses get ahead of us."

Mr. Smith, who loved his wife and had normal pride, ordered the swimming pool built.

The first day he swam in it he saw workmen next door building a larger swimming pool there and putting an addition on the garage. Mrs. Jones had ordered an extra car.

* * *

Well, Mrs. Smith ordered another car, too, and decided her cozy home was too small and had another room built to make it look more impressive.

It was shortly after that when Mrs. Jones started having a maid come in twice a week. And it was shortly after that when Mrs. Smith found life wasn't worth living unless she could have a maid in every day.

NOW BUTLER

The neighbors were never quite sure later whether it was Mrs. Jones or Mrs. Smith who hired the first butler ever seen in the community.

Neither was Mr. Smith. All he could remember was his wife's constant complaint, "After all, we have to keep up with the Joneses."

Even the delivery men got mixed up in the flood of buying. But if they delivered by mistake to the Smith home a new fur coat or new sofa that Mrs. Jones had ordered, Mrs. Smith ordered two more of a more expensive kind. And vice versa with Mrs. Jones.

* * *

Well, the whole race for equality collapsed when Mr. Smith had to go into court and declare himself bankrupt. There he was astonished to see his neighbor, Jones, also filling out bankruptcy papers.

LOOK WHO'S HERE

"What brought you here?" he inquired. And Jones, who was nearsighted and couldn't have told his neighbor from Adam, replied:

"We were getting along all right until some spendthrift smart alecs moved in next door to us, and my wife decided we couldn't let them get ahead of us. That was our whole trouble—trying to keep up with the Smiths. How about you?"

"If I told you," sighed Mr. Smith, "You wouldn't believe me."

Moral: When you try to ape the other fellow, you always make a monkey of yourself.

48-Hour Strike Fails in City of Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—A 48-hour "general strike" called by the CGT Union Federation ended in apparent failure at midnight last night.

There was no immediate indication that the government would yield to CGT demands for blanket wage increases and other economic reforms to offset the skyrocketing cost of living.

A statement issued by the federation at the end of the strike blamed it on the government.

A score of persons were injured in scattered strike violence. Most of them were passengers in strike-shunning buses which were shot up, bombed or burned.

Truman Lends Personal Touch to Library Tour

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Harry S. Truman served as a guide on an early tour of the Truman Library here Thursday.

The visitors were 30 workmen employed at a construction site near the library.

Truman stopped by the site Wednesday and chatted with the bricklayers and laborers. Foreman Roy Martin told him the men would like to visit the library and Truman invited them to call.

When the workers showed up at 7 a.m., the former president was waiting to conduct the tour.

"Our basement was hard to heat..."

"Electric heat helped us turn a chilly basement into a modern, useful, year-round family room," says Mrs. Horace Johns. "We have electric heat in the second-floor bedrooms and bath, too. Keeps them as warm as the rest of the house—even warmer if we want. We can raise the temperature in any of these rooms without overheating the whole house. One reason we chose electric heat in the first place was because it cost less to install. Now we like the convenience of electric heat so much that, if and when we buy another home, we'll have it throughout."

Meet the Horace Johns family of Millington, Michigan

What about your home? Do you have a hard-to-heat room? Are you adding on a room? Are you buying a new home? Is the heating system in your present home more trouble than it's worth? One of the types of electric heating units shown below may be the answer to your heating problems. One easy way to find out is to ask your electrical contractor. Another is to call your Edison office. We'll be glad to send you a copy of our free booklet "Electric Home Heating" and will answer any questions you may have about the modern, worry-free way to heat your home—electrically.

Radiant electric heating cable usually goes in ceilings.

Radiant panels or forced air units go in the walls.

Electric heating units can replace baseboards.

Electric furnaces heat by forced air or hot water (Hydronics).

Heat pumps, for one room or the entire home, heat or cool as needed.

Vicious Public Has Degraded Tenderness in Virile Men

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—A few of the most attractive bachelor girls in show business appeared on a panel to give their impressions of American men as opposed to (or by) American women.

★ ★ ★

They more or less agreed on such obvious points as: 1—Married men are nice but unfaithful and sneaky; 2—It isn't right for a man to expect a goodnight kiss because the date cost money; 3—Women ask other women to join them in the powder room because they're afraid to leave the competition behind; 4—A woman needs marriage, at least once, to feel fulfilled, and 5—The most important quality a man can have is tenderness.

Betty Furness is the lady who brought up the last point, and she said it so firmly and positively that the other girls (the likes of Suzy Parker, Carol Burnett, Julie Newmar and Jane Fonda) were, I felt, a little scared to disagree. Miss Furness, so well grounded in closing refrigerator doors on television, has a way of closing doors on argument.

"Well, I have to admit," said Miss Burnett a mite sheepishly, "that the first thing I always look for in a man is a sense of humor." But she allowed as how maybe tenderness was more important than laughs in the long run.

The others affirmed. Tenderness, they decided after kicking the idea around awhile, is the quality that sets the rare man apart from the average man.

The ability to be tender with a woman means the man has inner strength; he is not uneasy and uncertain of his manliness. He is so sure of his virility that he doesn't have to act tough to prove it.

In other words, a desirable gentleman is, literally, a gentle man.

There is nothing new about this concept and yet I believe it is so far from the mass behavior of Americans today that it is perhaps the one single virtue most difficult to find in men.

ODIOUS TENDENCY

There is an odious, and increasing, tendency to look upon men who show tenderness in public as being soft. What is even worse, effeminate.

I have noticed with alarm the growing tendency to label men, indiscriminately, as sexless weaklings—merely because they are gentle and soft-spoken. Malicious gossip can, and frequently does, pin degrading reputations on men of good manners and graceful behavior.

It is constantly shocking to me to meet a nice gentleman at a gathering, to comment to someone on his niceness, and to be told, "Yes, but he's a little—strange—don't you think?"

It doesn't matter that the man has an apparently happy family, that he seems adjusted. Not at all. This leads to even more vicious suppositions.

And I think the American public would be amazed at the number of famous show business personalities, some of the most successful and therefore the greatest-tempered, who are widely assumed — by people who know nothing but jealousy—to be less than manly.

And what can these good men do to fight the whispered slander? Of course, nothing. Headlines are more devastating than gossip; to acknowledge nasty rumors is to publicize them. The only answer is to act tough.

TOUGH GUY WINS

So more and more, in self-defense, the tough guy demeanor flourishes and the gentle manliness becomes hard to find. It threatens to become extinct. Which is why, of course, the lovely career girls desire it so much. Women always want what they can't get.

If tenderness in men ever made a comeback, what d'you bet Betty Furness would want a punch in the nose?

U.N. Quoted Praising Adventists' Service

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The world director of the Seventh-Day Adventist Welfare Service quoted United Nations officials today as saying Adventist aid in the Congo helped prevent a wide-spread war.

C. W. Bozarth, in a report prepared for delivery, said the welfare organization sent 6.5 million pounds of food and 26 tons of clothing and medicine to 60,000 Baluba tribesmen outside Elisabethville at the height of fighting in the city.

★ ★ ★

He said U.N. officers, who had arranged a special cease-fire for delivery of the goods, declared the aid prevented the tribesmen from revolting.

Girl Hit, Killed by Car

CHASSELL (AP) — A car struck and killed Martha Avery, 14, as she was riding a bicycle across a highway near this upper Michigan community Thursday. Her father, the Rev. William Avery, is assistant to the president of Suomi College in nearby Hancock.

Noted Architect Dies

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) — T. Markoe Robertson, 84, noted architect, died Thursday of a heart attack. Robertson founded the architectural firm of Sloan and Robertson and contributed his talents to the building of a number of earlier Manhattan skyscrapers.

Nourishing Lunch

The packed lunch for school children should be a solid meal, not just something to stave off hunger between two meals at home, nutritionists advocate.

Active, growing bodies and minds need one-third, perhaps more, of the day's total nourishment at noon.

He Made Himself at Home

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Friends of ours recently bought a lovely house in the country and my husband and I were invited to spend last weekend with them. Upon our arrival we were told to "make ourselves at home" and my husband proceeded to do just that.

Whenever he felt thirsty or hungry, he went to the refrigerator and helped himself to a can of beer or made a sandwich of whatever happened to be handy. When alone, I took him to task for this and told him that I was shocked by his behavior. He said he was only making himself at home as he had been told to do.

Should such a statement be taken literally, and does a guest have the privilege of rummaging through the refrigerator?

A: Unless the hosts had shown him the refrigerator and told him he might take anything he wished from it, your husband was definitely wrong for having gone to the refrigerator and helped himself to food or drink, and you were quite right for taking him to task for having done so.

★ ★ ★

Q: Our son is going to be married shortly and I have been told that it is customary for the bridegroom-to-be's parents to entertain the bride-to-be's parents before the wedding. This is our first experience with a wedding in the immediate family and we would appreciate it if you could tell us just what we should do.

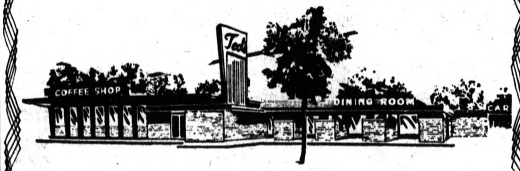

A: Beyond calling on the parents after you learn that they approved of the engagement, there is nothing more that you need do. It may of course happen that you dine with them and they with you, but this is in no way a requirement.

'Resents Modern Trend to Belittle'

Should Know U.S. History

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M483: Thelma R., aged 28, teaches American History in high school.

"Dr. Crane," she exclaimed indignantly when I had addressed her teacher's convention, "I resent the modern trend to belittle our American history.

"For example, some of our state universities are now omitting American history as a required course for freshmen and, instead, are substituting a required course on World History with emphasis on Russia and Asia.

DR. CRANE

"They argue that we shouldn't let students become too interested in their own country lest they become nationalistic and thus be opposed to a World State and the United Nations.

"But I think every American should know his own country's history fully, and I consider this downgrading of patriotism as an insult to this great Republic.

"Is it any wonder that socialism and communism seem to be flourishing, when our universities actually alter the curriculum to abet their false ideas?"

FLEE DESPOTISM

Millions of people have fled from despotic foreign powers to taste the marvelous advantages of this republic with its splendid "free enterprise" system.

★ ★ ★

Few Americans try to crawl back under the iron curtain into East Germany or other Russian satellites.

It is generally almost a one-way exodus, with the people flocking out of Russia and its communistic satellites.

So let's quit being deluded that it is provincial to laud our American patriots.

The tories in Washington's day did the very same thing concerning stalwart George Washington and his frozen-footed troops in Valley Forge.

★ ★ ★

They said George Washington was "too far to the right" and with the paranoid idea that it was better to starve for freedom than have a full belly and salute the Union Jack.

★ ★ ★

In 1964, there will be 8 million new potential voters in the U.S.A., who will have come of voting age since the presidential election of 1960.

★ ★ ★

Neither the Democrats nor Republicans are doing much to indoctrinate them with solid facts about our republic.

Remember, this is a republic and not a democracy, which is why we salute the republic in the pledge of allegiance.

CHECK BOOKLET

Can these new voters tell precisely why our shrewd Founding Fathers chose a republic instead of a democracy? If not, give them the booklet below.

SALESMEN TABOO

Do they know that salesmen and advertisers are taboo in socialism and communism?

★ ★ ★

Do they realize that they don't have to check in with police departments when they tour the U.S.A. but must carry credentials and check in under communism?

Do they know that Russia defaulted on over $11 billions of loans and is now using that money to make loans to satellite nations to coerce them into Russia's sphere of influence?

★ ★ ★

Do they know Russia also used our 11 billions to put her astronauts into space flight? Tell your kids the raw facts of life, for 8 million will be new potential voters in 1964.

And send for my booklet "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

★ ★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

2,000 Exhibits at 4-H Fair Tuesday

A year's work in 4-H projects will reach a climax for some 1,500 boys and girls throughout the county next week at the Oakland County 4-H Fair.

★ ★ ★

Almost 2,000 entries in a number of project areas have already been received for the fair, which will start Tuesday and last through Aug. 11 at the 4-H fairgrounds on N. Perry Street just south of Walton Boulevard.

Projects on exhibit will range from entomology (study of insects) to knitting. Fifty exhibits in entomology have been entered already, 93 in knitting.

Most entries so far have been in horses — 160. A total of 135 exhibits in vegetable gardening are already slated.

Others are photography with 45, sheep 44 and dairy animals 29.

OUTSTANDING 4-H'er

More than 50 junior leaders in 4-H club work will be interviewed for selection as the outstanding 4-H'er in junior leadership.

The fair is sponsored by the 4-H Club Leaders Association headed by Keith Middleton in cooperation with the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

Sixteen exhibits by extension clubs also will be on display.

The fair will open at 10 a.m. Tuesday with exhibits in tents and three quonset huts on the grounds.

Wednesday will be highlighted by a parade through Pontiac including some 20 floats. To leave the fairgrounds at 1:30 p.m., the parade is expected to arrive in downtown Pontiac about 2 p.m.

CROWNING RITE

Crowning of the 4-H club king and queen, Lyle McLachlan, 19, and Ricki Ann Hoxie, 15, will be featured Tuesday night, along with judging of flowers and vegetables.

★ ★ ★

Other traditional highlights will be a freckles contest, an auction of prize livestock, pie eating contest, horse showmanship events, dress review by 4-H girls, leader dog demonstration and nightly variety shows.

★ ★ ★

Three dormitory tents — two for girls and one for boys — will be erected for 4-H'ers, with animals, who want to stay overnight at the fairgrounds.

Seating capacity in the bleachers surrounding the show ring is about 1,200.

Ask Voter OK of Assesments

To Decide Proposals to Finance Construction of Water Mains in Utica

UTICA — Voters will be asked to approve two proposals to permit special assessment financing of water main construction in the recently annexed "area on city's East Side in a special election here Sept. 11.

★ ★ ★

One proposal, if approved, would authorize the city to borrow up to $300,000 to pay for mains to be installed when Detroit water becomes available next spring.

The other proposal will concern a charter amendment required before the borrowing can be authorized. The amendment must be approved by the governor and the state attorney general before the election can be held, according to city attorney George F. Roberts.

The mains would be built in the Shelby Manor, Subdivision, which was annexed to the city following approval by voters June 4.

A charter amendment is needed, Roberts said, because the charter is not clear concerning special assessments.

It would be the first special assessment since Utica incorporated as a city 25 years ago.

Accessibility to Detroit water at the same time as the rest of Utica and sooner than would be possible in Shelby Township was one of the promises made by city officials to residents of the annexed area before the annexation vote.

Last day for registration for the special election will be Aug. 13.

To Meet on Dispute Halting Construction of School in Shelby

A dispute over a drainage issue that has halted construction of an elementary school in Shelby Township is scheduled for discussion at a special meeting of the Utica Board of Education at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

But Shelby Township Supervisor Lorin E. Evans, with whom school board members hope to resolve the problem, said this morning he had not yet been invited to the meeting.

Supt. Fred M. Atkinson said this morning the special meeting was scheduled tentatively pending Evans' agreement to attend. Atkinson added he planned to contact Evans today.

The dispute has stopped construction of the $400,000 Switzer Elementary School on Shelby Road near 24-Mile Road for the past two weeks.

Evans stopped work on the school because the school board had not obtained a building permit from the township. When Atkinson then applied for a permit, he was turned down until the controversy over drainage was resolved.

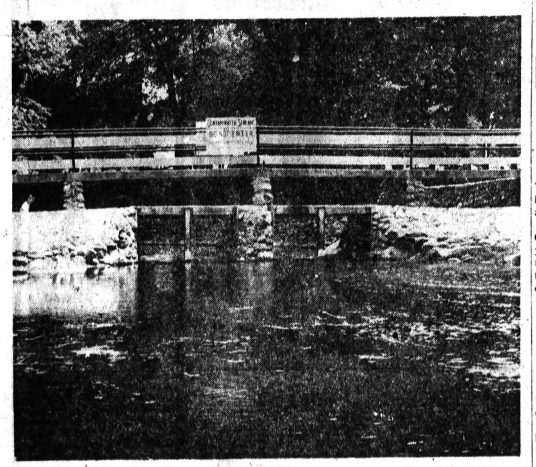

Evans said today he informed the school board in April that fill operations on the school site were closing up a natural waterway used as a drain. But the matter was ignored, Evans said.

Atkinson and school board members disagree, saying the area was not a natural waterway or a registered drain, but only a low spot.

Evans contends that, with the natural waterway filled, a situation of improper drainage has been created. His reason for denying the building permit, he explained, was that construction plans did not provide for proper drainage.

Township and Macomb County officials have asked the school board either to open the water course or install a closed drain on the property.

Pontiac Press Photo

NO SWIMMING — Last year at this time, there was much splashing and swimming in this water in Avon Township Park in Rochester. This year, however, all is serene. The swimming area has been closed by the Oakland County Health Department because of pollution in Paint Creek, which flows into the Clinton River just before it reaches the park. If the gates that form the swimming area were in place under the bridge, the water would be higher. Despite efforts by the Avon Township Board to get the pollution problem solved, the swimming hole is not expected to be opened again this summer.

16-Sq. Mile City Eyed in Petitions

Residents, Businessmen in Group Opposed by Backers of Status Quo

The incorporation of Union Lake Village into a 16-square-mile city has been proposed by a group of area residents and businessmen.

Petitions were presented at the Oakland County Clerk's office late yesterday afternoon to set in motion the chain of events required to make possible a vote on the incorporation.

Seeking the incorporation is a group known as the Union Lake Citizens Committee for Progressive Government and headed by John Clark, a Union Lake pharmacist.

The move towards incorporation is not going unchallenged, however.

Other groups of citizens already have made known their opposition to the incorporation plan and their intent to keep the now-unincorporated community under the government of four townships.

★ ★ ★

Union Lake, which is at the crossroads of Cooley Lake and Union Lake roads, spreads into the townships of Waterford, White Lake, West Bloomfield and Commerce without any actual boundary lines except those of the Union Lake postal zone.

The citizens committee plan for incorporation is to include nearly equal sections of the four townships in the proposed new city.

This area has been estimated to have a population between 15 and 16,000.

The Committee for Progressive Government explains the purpose of incorporation is to keep intact the identity of Union Lake.

WATERFORD PLANNING

The organization pointed out that Waterford has discussed incorporation and if this should occur Union Lake would lose about one-quarter of the area considered to be part of the village.

The committee's argument for incorporation on the grounds that Commerce and West Bloomfield have considered incorporation is protested, however, by the supervisors of both of those townships.

Thomas Tiley, Commerce Township supervisor, said Commerce does not have the population to become a city in the near future and West Bloomfield Township Supervisor John C. Rehard said the matter has not been discussed since he took office three years ago.

The next step in the proposed incorporation move will be the checking of the described boundary areas by county engineers.

Swainson to Visit Gingellville, Cite 2 'Oldest' Voters

GINGELLVILLE—Gov. John B. Swainson, during a busy weekend of campaigning for re-election, will visit the Gingellville business district at 5 p.m. tomorrow.

The governor's stop here will be to acquaint area residents with Democratic candidates and to honor two persons who are believed to be northern Oakland County's oldest voters.

The long-time voters are Mrs. Ella Gingell, 80, founder of the Gingellville Subdivision in the Baldwin-Gregory Road area; and Grover Shimmons, 75, former Lake Orion village president and justice of the peace. Both are life-long Democrats.

Ralph D. Hudson, chairman of the Orion Township Democratic Club, sponsor of the visit, said a large turnout is expected to meet the governor and honor the two Orion Township residents.

Flower, Vegetable Show Slated by Oxford Club

OXFORD — The 28th annual Flower and Vegetable Show of the Oxford Garden Club has been set for Aug. 11 and 12 at the junior high school auditorium here.

To Lead Services in Ortonville Church

ORTONVILLE — Two musical evangelists from Spring City, Pa., will lead morning and evening services Sunday at Ortonville Baptist Church.

Both 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services will open with an inspirational song session led by Lester C. Place accompanied by his wife, Grace, at the piano. Place will close each service with a sermon.

The couple, graduates of Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, Ill., have visited churches throughout the nation and in Canada. They also have been active in radio and television and are staff evangelists for Christian Life Magazine.

Romney Back Stumping, Gets Tough on Swainson

FLINT (UPI) — Republican George Romney re-entered the campaign for governor with vigor yesterday after a day's absence to clean up affairs at the constitutional convention.

★ ★ ★ ★

Romney concentrated on Genesee County and leveled a bitter attack against his Democratic opponent, Gov. John B. Swainson at a testimonial dinner here last night for Genesee County's con-con delegates.

Romney charged that the governor's role in the current apportionment crisis was "a flagrant example of special interest domination of state government that is pushing Michigan downhill."

The former president of American Motors Corp. also attacked Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, saying, "Kelley abdicated his duties in the Michigan apportionment suit by joining with Gus Scholle and arguing against the state."

NO LEGAL COUNSEL

He added, "This left the state without legal counsel in the matter."

The three GOP senators who intervened in the case, Romney said, "should send the attorney general's bill for private legal counsel they hired to make sure that Michigan had some spokesman in the matter."

★ ★ ★

Romney's campaign schedule called for policy meetings in Detroit today and no public appearances were on tap.

Chrysler Gets Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has awarded a $1,622,123 contract to Chrysler Corp. for missile modification kits, Sens. Pat McNamara and Philip A. Hart, Michigan Democrats, reported today. The work is to be done at Chrysler's missile plant near Utica.

For her wedding the bride chose a bombazene gown defined with peau d'ange lace and highlighted with pearls and sequins.

'Social Recognition' Sought by Nudists

HANNOVER, Germany (AP) — The nudists of the world are seeking recognition.

The eighth world congress of the international naturalists federation opened here yesterday attended by 3,000 devotees.

Erik Holm, of Denmark, president of the federation, told the assembly: "Our chief aim is to be finally recognized by society."

From Cemeteries to Stage--- Comedienne Kay Really Digs

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Kay Stevens was always really trying, but she never learned how to succeed in business until she turned to show business.

She is succeeding now. A wild, wild comedienne who can also sing, she is a big new draw on the night club circuit. She is now making her mark in movies. She registers strongly in "The Interns" and now is appearing with Danny Kaye in "The Man from the Diner's Club."

THOMAS

Kay's previous excursions into business were marked by varying degrees of failure. She started out as a cemetery plot salesgirl, and there she was too successful.

★ ★ ★

"Oh, I was making $200 to $300 a week selling door-to-door when I was 19," recalled the Cleveland girl. "I had a regular routine that was irresistible. Trouble is, I was so successful that I sold out the entire cemetery. The owner offered to open another one for me, but I decided I'd had it with selling plots."

NEXT: NUTS, BOLTS

Next came a turn with a nuts-bolts-and-screws firm. Kay was file clerk, but with her own particular system.

"I have a photogenic (sic) memory, you see," she explained. "I knew where everything was, but nobody else did."

She moved on to a commercial soap company, but confinement to the shipping room bugged her.

Kay also tried modeling. She did well until the day she went to get the cashews in the snow just before a big fashion show and tumbled into the dirty snow.

NEXT: HOUSEWIFE

Thereafter Kay married a musician and tried three years as a housewife — "but the bills were coming in and the money wasn't." She booked herself, husband and others into a Buffalo night spot with an act she didn't have, hastily learned eight numbers. The act succeeded. When Kay discovered she couldn't sing eight hours nightly, she started talking between numbers, discovered she was a comedienne.

She found success but lost the husband en route. In the divorce settlement he received the results of her first venture into business: eight cemetery lots.

The new case rate of tuberculosis in the United States is nearly 31 per 100,000 people a year.

Drug Victim Asks British Aid

Thalidomide Mother Tells Plans on Legal Fight for Compensation

LONDON (AP)—A thalidomide mother announced plans today to fight a legal battle for compensation for hundreds of British babies deformed by the drug.

Pat Lane's 8-month-old daughter Julie escaped gross malformation.

"I must be the luckiest of all the affected mothers," she said at her Bristol home.

EAR, EYES DEFORMED

Julie was born with a small, twisted right ear, no left ear, and a skin over her eyes. Surgery has given the baby her sight and she can hear partly on the right side.

Many thalidomide babies are born without arms and legs. The drug was withdrawn from the British market last year.

★ ★ ★

"I want other thalidomide mothers to write to me and to raise a fund to fight a test case against the firm marketing this drug, or the authorities, to get compensation for the worst-hit babies and their parents," Mrs. Lane said.

She wrote to Health Minister Enoch Powell appealing for government help for the worst cases. Powell in reply offered deep concern and advised on available medical care. There was no word about compensation, and the House of Commons was told later none would be given.

TOOK 2 PILLS

Mrs. Lane, 28, took two thalidomide tablets when she was five weeks pregnant.

Doctors meanwhile issued a warning about another pill—an oral contraceptive.

After taking the synthetic hormone tablet, a young woman was reported to have developed phlebitis in the leg, with thrombosis. She died a week later from a clot in the lung.

★ ★ ★

The British Medical Journal reported she was one of four British cases known to have incurred thrombosis while taking the pill.

The British journal reported that in the United States there have been a number of thrombosis deaths among women taking the same contraceptive pill.

Ask Voter OK of Assesments

To Decide Proposals to Finance Construction of Water Mains in Utica

UTICA — Voters will be asked to approve two proposals to permit special assessment financing of water main construction in the recently annexed area on city's East Side in a special election here Sept. 11.

★ ★ ★

One proposal, if approved, would authorize the city to borrow up to $300,000 to pay for mains to be installed when Detroit water becomes available next spring.

The other proposal will concern a charter amendment required before the borrowing can be authorized. The amendment must be approved by the governor and the state attorney general before the election can be held, according to city attorney George F. Roberts.

The mains would be built in the Shelby Manor, Subdivision, which was annexed to the city following approval by voters June 4.

A charter amendment is needed, Roberts said, because the charter is not clear concerning special assessments.

It would be the first special assessment since Utica incorporated as a city 25 years ago.

Accessibility to Detroit water at the same time as the rest of Utica and sooner than would be possible in Shelby Township was one of the promises made by city officials to residents of the annexed area before the annexation vote.

Last day for registration for the special election will be Aug. 13.

To Meet on Dispute Halting Construction of School in Shelby

A dispute over a drainage issue that has halted construction of an elementary school in Shelby Township is scheduled for discussion at a special meeting of the Utica Board of Education at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

But Shelby Township Supervisor Lorin E. Evans, with whom school board members hope to resolve the problem, said this morning he had not yet been invited to the meeting.

Supt. Fred M. Atkinson said this morning the special meeting was scheduled tentatively pending Evans' agreement to attend. Atkinson added he planned to contact Evans today.

The dispute has stopped construction of the $400,000 Switzer Elementary School on Shelby Road near 24-Mile Road for the past two weeks.

Evans stopped work on the school because the school board had not obtained a building permit from the township. When Atkinson then applied for a permit, he was turned down until the controversy over drainage was resolved.

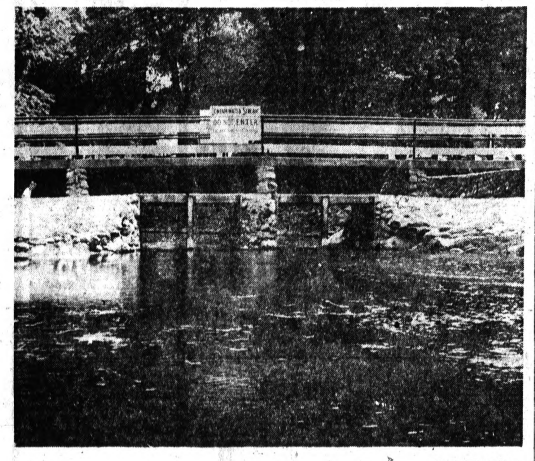

Evans said today he informed the school board in April that fill operations on the school site were closing up a natural waterway used as a drain. But the matter was ignored, Evans said.

Atkinson and school board members disagree, saying the area was not a natural waterway or a registered drain, but only a low spot.

Evans contends that, with the natural waterway filled, a situation of improper drainage has been created. His reason for denying the building permit, he explained, was that construction plans did not provide for proper drainage.

Township and Macomb County officials have asked the school board either to open the water course or install a closed drain on the property.

Pontiac Press Photo

NO SWIMMING — Last year at this time there was much splashing and swimming in this water in Avon Township Park in Rochester. This year, however, all is serene. The swimming area has been closed by the Oakland County Health Department because of pollution in Paint Creek, which flows into the Clinton River just before it reaches the park. Ti the gates that form the swimming area were in place under the bridge, the water would be higher. Despite efforts by the Avon Township Board to get the pollution problem solved, the swimming hole is not expected to be opened again this summer.

16-Sq. Mile City Eyed in Petitions

Residents, Businessmen in Group Opposed by Backers of Status Quo

The incorporation of Union Lake Village into a 16-square-mile city has been proposed by a group of area residents and businessmen.

Petitions were presented at the Oakland County Clerk's office late yesterday afternoon to set in motion the chain of events required to make possible a vote on the incorporation.

Seeking the incorporation is a group known as the Union Lake Citizens Committee for Progressive Government and headed by John Clark, a Union Lake pharmacist.

The move towards incorporation is not going unchallenged, however.

Other groups of citizens already have made known their opposition to the incorporation plan and their intent to keep the now-unincorporated community under the government of four townships.

★ ★ ★

Union Lake, which is at the crossroads of Cooley Lake and Union Lake roads, spreads into the townships of Waterford, White Lake, West Bloomfield and Commerce without any actual boundary lines except those of the Union Lake postal zone.

The citizens committee plan for incorporation is to include nearly equal sections of the four townships in the proposed new city.

This area has been estimated to have a population between 15 and 16,000.

The Committee for Progressive Government explains the purpose of incorporation is to keep intact the identity of Union Lake.

WATERFORD PLANNING

The organization pointed out that Waterford has discussed incorporation and if this should occur Union Lake would lose about one-quarter of the area considered to be part of the village.

The committee's argument for incorporation on the grounds that Commerce and West Bloomfield have considered incorporation is protested, however, by the supervisors of both of those townships.

Thomas Tiley, Commerce Township supervisor, said Commerce does not have the population to become a city in the near future and West Bloomfield Township Supervisor John C. Rehard said the matter has not been discussed since he took office three years ago.

The next step in the proposed incorporation move will be the checking of the described boundary areas by county engineers.

Swainson to Visit Gingellville, Cite 2 'Oldest' Voters

GINGELLVILLE—Gov. John B. Swainson, during a busy weekend of campaigning for re-election, will visit the Gingellville business district at 5 p.m. tomorrow.

The governor's stop here will be to acquaint area residents with Democratic candidates and to honor two persons who are believed to be northern Oakland County's oldest voters.

The long-time voters are Mrs. Ella Gingell, 80, founder of the Gingellville Subdivision in the Baldwin-Gregory Road area; and Grover Shimmons, 75, former Lake Orion village president and justice of the peace. Both are life-long Democrats.

Ralph D. Hudson, chairman of the Orion Township Democratic Club, sponsor of the visit, said a large turnout is expected to meet the governor and honor the two Orion Township residents.

Romney Back Stumping, Gets Tough on Swainson

FLINT (UPI) — Republican George Romney re-entered the campaign for governor with vigor yesterday after a day's absence to clean up affairs at the constitutional convention.

★ ★ ★

Romney concentrated on Genesee County and leveled a bitter attack against his Democratic opponent, Gov. John B. Swainson at a testimonial dinner here last night for Genesee County's con-con delegates.

Romney charged that the governor's role in the current apportionment crisis was "a flagrant example of special interest domination of state government that is pushing Michigan downhill."

The former president of American Motors Corp. also attacked Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, saying, "Kelley abdicated his duties in the Michigan apportionment suit by joining with Gus Scholle and arguing against the state."

NO LEGAL COUNSEL

He added, "This left the state without legal counsel in the matter."

The three GOP senators who intervened in the case, Romney said, "should send the attorney general a bill for private legal counsel they hired to make sure that Michigan had some spokesman in the matter."

★ ★ ★

Romney's campaign schedule called for policy meetings in Detroit today and no public appearances were on tap.

DES MOINES, Iowa—Doctors in Cedar Rapids and Iowa City received samples of thalidomide, but those contacted said they did not prescribe it for women of child-bearing age, according to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

★ ★ ★

WINDSOR, Ont.—A couple whose twins were born with deformities will seek government assistance. The mother took pills containing thalidomide. And the twins, a boy and a girl, were born last January with deformed forearms and thumbs. Said the mother: "We don't know how much medical treatment will cost us, but if aid is available we will apply for it."

★ ★ ★

HEIDELBERG, Germany—U.S. Army doctors, reporting at least three deformed infants born, warned soldiers' wives against use of thalidomide. The Army said the drug had not been used in its medical facilities or pharmacies but that nonmilitary doctors had prescribed the drug to some Army wives.

BOSTON—State public health officials said they would ask all Massachusetts hospitals and doctors to make voluntary reports of babies born with congenital defects.

★ ★ ★

KEY WEST, Fla.—Havana Radio told its Cuban listeners that thalidomide is a "tranquilizer of Yankee manufacture." The drug was developed in Germany.

★ ★ ★

NEW YORK—The drug, medicine and chemical company of Richardson-Merrell Inc. reported record high sales and earnings for the year ended June 30. The company's William S. Merrell Co. division is the United States licensee for thalidomide, but none of the drug was sold by the division.

U.S.-Soviet Gap Holds Key to Thant Candidacy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U Thant said his decision on becoming a candidate for a full five-year term for U.N. secretary general depends on whether he feels he can help bridge the gap between the Soviet Union and the United States.

★ ★ ★

He disclosed he will visit in the Soviet Union Aug. 24, and confer with Premier Khrushchev on "several issues" confronting the United Nations. He declined to go into detail.

Thant's term as acting secretary general expires next April 10. His successor will be chosen by the next General Assembly which opens Sept. 18.

Former Priest Asks Divorce

Last March, Wife Sued Catholic Church Trying to Locate Him

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Defrocked priest Walter Ryan, 57, whose departure from his New York state home seven years ago prompted a $2.3-million suit brought by his wife, Alice, against the Catholic Church, sued her for divorce Thursday.

★ ★ ★

He accused his attractive, 41-year-old wife of adultery, desertion and cruelty. Ryan married her in Baptist rites in Maryland 12 years ago under the assumed occupation of free lance writer. Shortly thereafter he left the church and became a real estate salesman.

★ ★ ★

Her suit in March of this year started a nationwide search that lasted two days. Ryan revealed his whereabouts in San Francisco then to deny her charges.

She claimed he fathered her fourth daughter while on a brief visit to their Glen Head, N.Y., home in 1956, but a San Francisco Superior Court rejected her assertion in a June hearing.

★ ★ ★

She said in her suit against the church that Ryan was abducted, given liquor and shifted around to various monasteries in different states. This was denied by both Ryan and church officials.

★ ★ ★

Ryan said in the divorce suit that he left his wife in 1955 because his wife "inflicted a course of extreme cruelty which necessitated his departure from the family dwelling place."

★ ★ ★

Ryan claims in the suit that Mrs. Ryan's fourth daughter was a result of adultery with an unnamed and unknown man.

Two Men, 70, Battle; One Stabbed to Death

★ ★ ★

Moses Gyorgy Lorinc collapsed and died of a stab wound. Police said the paper bag wielded by Salvatore Parrinello contained a sharp tool Parrinello used to punch holes in the leather harness of his wooden leg.

★ ★ ★

After the fight, Parrinello walked a block and a half to a police station and said he had been taunted by Lorinc for two years and, "I just couldn't take it any longer."

★ ★ ★

Police said he will be charged with first degree murder.

Motors Slightly Higher

Mart in Usual Preweekend Quiet

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market pursued an uneven course in moderate trading early today.

Movements of most key stocks were fractional.

After a parade of some sizable blocks at the opening, the market settled down to a series of routine movements.

Typical preweekend caution was apparent. This was heightened by further doubt expressed about the imminence of a tax cut.

A rebound in department store sales last month to the second highest level on record served to cast further doubt on the basis for seeking a reduction in income taxes.

The nonferrous metals section was moderately higher, apparently drawing some inspiration from a rise in profits by American smelting which advanced a point to 49¾ at the opening and held the gain in later dealings.

* * *

Fractional gains were scored by Kennecott, Homestake and Phelps Dodge.

The major steels were unchanged to narrowly mixed but Carpenter Steel slumped 1⅞ to 32 on a block of 7,800 shares.

Motors were unchanged to slightly lower, with Ford and Chrysler dipping fractionally.

Richardson-Merrell, in the spotlight lately because of the drug thalidomide, was off ¼ at 57 on a 10,000-share transaction.

Thiokol, Champlin Oil, and Certain-Teed were fairly active and up slightly.

U.S. Gypsum recouped a point of recent losses.

American Stock exchange prices were mixed and most changes were small. Gainers included Aerojet-General, Technicolor, Kawecki Chemical, and EDO Corp. "A." Among losers were Barnes Engineering, Anhen Chemical, O'Okiep Copper, and Sherwin-Williams.

Corporate Bonds Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — Corporate bonds were mixed and government issues slightly lower in moderate opening trading today.

An over the counter dealer in government securities quoted distant maturities off 2/32 and intermediates slightly lower in spots.

The new 4¼ per cent bonds, due 1987—1992, were off 4/32, based on quotations of the same dealer, in when-issued trading.

Denies Seaway Is Dangerous

President of Authority Takes Issue With British Ship Owner

OTTAWA (AP) — The president of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority disagrees with the contention of a British ship owner that the seaway is dangerous for shipping.

* * *

Authority President R. J. Rankin said the accident ratio of 3 inland vessels per 1,000 and 11 ocean vessels per 1,000 in 1961 "would not bear out the existence of the dangerous conditions" suggested by Peter Dalgleish, president of Dalgleish Shipping Lines of England.

Dalgleish said recently in Winnipeg that the large number of locks in the seaway made passage very difficult for ships.

Rankin conceded a hazard for some salt-water ships in the seaway because their flaring bows and high superstructures tend to catch the wind, particularly when ships are sailing empty and riding high on the water.

* * *

In contrast, he said, lake vessels are sleek and low, with the bridge up forward so that the skipper has a clear view of a lock the ship is approaching.

* * *

Rankin said, however, that the accident ratio has dropped from 34 per 1,000 in 1959 to 11 per 1,000 in 1961 — and shows signs of maintaining a lower record this year.

Prices Change Little in Grain Dealings

CHICAGO (AP)—Prices generally were little changed in early grain futures dealings today although there were some scattered spots of both firmness and weakness.

* * *

Wheat and rye posted some gains barely reaching a major fractional range while August soybeans continued under strong pressure and lost about two cents within the first several minutes of transactions.

The feed grains held within small fractions of previous closes in a light and mixed trade.

* * *

Brokers said there was a little commercial demand for wheat, probably toward replacing flour mill stock. The pressure in soybeans was understood to be further liquidation, related to reports of further government selling of surplus stocks.

Unions Growing Uneasy, May Ask Shorter Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said today a major source of potential labor unrest is that unions will step up their drive for a shorter work week if unemployment continues high.

* * *

Goldberg expressed concern that labor unions seem to be getting more insistent in efforts to shorten work hours in order to share employment opportunity in the face of automation and a growing work force.

The labor secretary confirmed views expressed in an interview published today in the New York Times.

Goldberg said the fact that unemployment is continuing at a high level is a matter of continuing concern to President Kennedy's administration.

The President told his news conference Wednesday that while there has been considerable economic improvement he is not satisfied with the degree of improvement.

Goldberg's fears of a renewed drive for a cut in the present 40-hour week seemed to anticipate a new policy declaration by organized labor to that end.

A NEW DRIVE?

AFL-CIO President George Meany has said the federation's executive council, at its next meeting in Chicago beginning Aug. 13, will consider launching a new drive by the AFL-CIO's 140 unions to cut working hours.

Kennedy and his administration, including Goldberg, have been strongly opposed to a general cutting of the 40-hour work week either through legislation or via collective bargaining.

Kennedy has said this not only would increase business costs but also would cut into the capacity needed for full national production.

Unions make no claim that a work week of less than 40 hours is needed from the standpoint of giving workers more leisure. They do not consider the 40-hour week onerous.

But many union leaders contend that if employers and the government cannot provide enough jobs for Americans wanting to work, then the answer must be to share the available work opportunities.

SMALL CHANCE

Unions concede they have little chance to get Congress, as presently constituted, to reduce the 40-hour week standard now fixed in the Fair Labor Standards Act before premium overtime rates apply. That leaves the negotiation of contracts with employers as the more promising route.

* * *

If the unions become willing to take strike action to back up shorter hour demands it will mean more trouble on the industrial relations front, plus more wage cost pressure on employers.

Hence, the administration is pushing its various remedies in Congress aimed at reducing the present unemployment level. This was approximately 4 million in July, or 5.3 per cent of the work force on a seasonally adjusted basis.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I bought Dow Chemical at 81 and got some more at 64. This stock, along with G. D. Searle, was bought for the future of five small children. I am not worried because the price is down, but I don't know much about the quality of the stocks. If they are high grade, would you advise me to average down the price of my holdings by buying more at present depressed prices?" C. M.

A. I congratulate you warmly, not for the stocks you own — which are of excellent quality — but because of your five small children, which are your most important possession.

I do not advise you to buy more Dow Chemical or G. D. Searle at present. The former has shown no real earnings growth since 1955; and the latter — while growing splendidly — sells at 34 times this year's estimated earnings, which seems high enough.

Instead, I suggest you add a good growth utility, such as Northern Indiana Public Service.

Q. "Will you please tell me the lowest and highest selling price of Warner & Swasey common Tuesday, May 29, 1962?" W. W.

A. I would do so gladly, but it is an impossibility.

Warner & Swasey is unlisted, not publicly recorded. Such trades are a matter of private negotiation between you and your broker. The National Assocaitiaon of Security Dealers publishes bid and asked quotations on a great many unlisted issues, but these do not represent actual transactions. They are a guide to the range within which these stocks could have been bought or sold at the time the list was compiled.

On the May 29, 1962 list, which was made up before the market closed, Warner & Swasey's indicated range was 33 bid— 36¾ asked. Since the stock was then moving up, it is entirely possible that trades made that day after the list was compiled took place at somewhat higher prices.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally, but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Trailer Trucks Strike Underpass at Orchard Lake

Two trailer trucks struck the Grand Trunk Railroad underpass on Orchard Lake Avenue near Cass Avenue yesterday within six hours of each other.

* * *

Both trucks were going east on Orchard Lake and hit the same part of the overpass. Both drivers said they did not see the low-clearance sign on the overpass, Pontiac Police reported.

The impact took the top off a truck driven by Samuel Vesich, 30, of Detroit who approached the overpass at 25 miles-an-hour at 1 p.m. The truck belongs to the Ida Products Co. of Detroit.

* * *

The second truck came along at 6:53 and sustained damage to its front, roof, and fifth wheel. It was driven at 20 miles an hour by Howard W. Lego, 36, of Akron, Ohio, and belongs to the Cardinal Leasing Inc., of Cleveland, Ohio, police said.

Only three weeks ago, another truck peeled off its top on the railroad overpass.

All three trucks were higher than the 10-foot-6-inch clearance.

But JFK Plan May Be Revived

Federal Pay Bill Liked by House Group

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An effort may be made in the House to revive President Kennedy's proposal to tie federal pay to wage scales in private industry, congressional sources said today.

* * *

The administration's proposal was rejected yesterday by the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee in favor of a pay raise bill only slightly more expensive but vastly different in effect.

The bill approved, 18-3, by the committee would give 1.5 million federal workers a pay increase of $1.2 billion in two one-year steps beginning July 1, 1962.

Sponsored by Rep. James Morrison, D-La., the bill had the strong support of federal employe organizations, particularly postal workers.

* * *

Before approving the Morrison bill, the committee rejected, 17-5, a last-minute administration compromise offered by Chairman Tom Murray, D-Tenn. It would have cost the treasury $1.1 billion, but the cost would have been spread over three years.

TWO OTHER POINTS

The difference in cost and timing accounted for some of the fierce undercover battling over the pay raise legislation, but the real conflict came on two other points.

First, the administration wanted for the first time to link the postal and civil service pay schedules to a Labor Department index of private industry salaries.

The Murray bill would have provided automatic pay changes — similar to cost-of-living wage adjustments in some industries.

Second, the White House wanted to raise the pay of top-level federal workers more than those in lower brackets. The argument for this was that there would be more incentive for excellence in government service if the higher-ranking posts paid relatively more.

TOP AND BOTTOM

The administration bill would have given workers in the bottom ranks pay raises as low as 3.4 per cent, and increased the pay of top-ranked career workers as much as 35 per cent.

* * *

The Morrison bill made no change in Kennedy's proposals for increasing high-level pay, but added substantially to the increases for workers in the first four pay grades — which cover nearly all postal field workers and most of the civil servants in other agencies.

* * *

"Morrison's bill would provide a 13 per cent hike in the most heavily populated postal pay grade and about 7 per cent for the lower ranking civil service workers."
